

Planes Bomb Viet Village; 83 Killed

ONE COLOR

SAIGON (AP) — Bombers which one U.S. spokesman said are presumed to have been allied, struck a South Vietnamese village near the Laotian border last night, killing 83 civilians and wounding another 200, the U.S. command announced today.

A U.S. spokesman, announcing the toll of the bombing, said it still was not determined whether the planes were American, South Vietnamese or enemy.

However, another spokesman in the northernmost 1st Corps area where the attack occurred said the bombs presumably were dropped in error by allied aircraft on the government village, which is protected by a U.S. Special Forces camp.

If it was an accidental bombing it would be the worst such tragedy announced so far in the war.

The bombing took place five hours after a U.S. helicopter was shot down in the area and was carried out virtually under the noses of the Special Forces men stationed on a hill above the village, which is named Lang Vel.

The village is filled with refugees who had fled from the Vietcong for government security.

The airstrike just at sunset presumably was also witnessed by U.S. Marines stationed at Khe Son, some five miles from the village, which sits astride Route 9, the natural invasion route from Communist-controlled areas of Laos.

About 150 of the most seriously wounded villagers were taken to government and U.S. hospitals near the coast.

The worst previous accidental bombing of a government village occurred in the Mekong Delta when 63 civilians were killed and 83 wounded in Phuoc Dinh Province last Aug. 9.

JAMES R. HOFFA

Federal Judge Denies Hoffa Additional Time

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn. (AP) — A federal judge today denied a request for Teamster union President James R. Hoffa to be allowed additional time to get his affairs in order before entering prison.

U.S. Dist. Court Judge Frank W. Wilson issued a memorandum saying Hoffa did not give sufficient cause to delay his commitment to prison March 7.

Hoffa sought a delay until April 1—the day after the Teamsters contract with the 11,000-member national trucking industry expires.

Wilson, in his opinion, took cognizance of the pending negotiations, but said the court did not believe Hoffa's continued freedom would "materially alter the situation."

Wilson said a formal order would be entered in accordance with his opinion today.

RESPONSIBILITIES

"It is apparent that the defendant is a person presently having large responsibilities in many areas," Wilson wrote.

"However in the opinion of the court the greatest of these is his responsibility unto the law and unto the orderly process of justice."

David Previa, general counsel for the Teamsters Union, had no comment on Wilson's ruling.

At an informal hearing yesterday, attorneys for Hoffa said he needed "at least two weeks" to transfer union leadership to Frank E. Fitzsimmons of Detroit, Hoffa's hand-picked successor.

At the same time, they said, Hoffa's presence at contract talks with the trucking industry would serve to spur negotiations to a successful conclusion.

NEGOTIATORS REFUSED TO TALK

However, a Teamsters spokesman said in Washington that trucking industry negotiators had refused to resume talks until Tuesday, the day Judge Wilson has ordered Hoffa, 54, to report here to begin his sentence.

Trucking Employers Inc., whose member firms employ most of the 500,000 workers involved, had no comment on the union accusation.

NAMED DIRECTOR

In St. Louis, a Teamster spokesman said Hoffa had named Harold J. Gibbons, director of the central conference of Teamsters, to serve while Hoffa is imprisoned.

Attorney for Powell Favors Court Action

BIMINI, Bahamas, March 2 (AP)—Adam Clayton Powell announced today that he will fight to regain his seat in Congress. Powell told a news conference that the matter of his re-instatement was being taken to court. He predicted a quick victory.

NEW YORK (AP) — One of Adam Clayton Powell's attorneys said today he thinks federal court action should be taken in efforts to get the Harlem congressman seated in the house.

Attorneys planned to meet with Powell soon to decide on how to fight his exclusion from the House.

"Court action would straighten out the whole matter on whether he had a right to his seat," said Henry Williams, an attorney.

Williams won an appeal yesterday for Powell in the Court of Appeals, New York State's highest court. The state court reduced damages against Powell by $100,000 and gave him a new opportunity to wipe out the remainder of his libel debt stemming from a seven-year-old suit by a Harlem widow.

It was this legal battle which led in part to Powell's troubles in Congress. The verdict virtually frees Powell from the prospect of being jailed in New York on contempt charges.

HAVENT DECIDED

"We haven't decided whether we're going into court next week or the week after," said Williams, referring to Powell's congressional troubles.

"As I understand the matter, some of the attorneys will confer with Mr. Powell either this week or next week in Bimini (Bahamas) or someplace else in the United States. We haven't finalized any particular course of action. There are various alternatives."

Reached in Washington by telephone, Jean Camper Cahn, an attorney who is coordinator of Powell's legal team, said: "I don't believe in speculating on a course of action until we talk with our client. I think it is a dangerous thing. We will lay every possibility before him and wait and see what he wants. It is his decision, not mine."

Contempt of Court Charges by Pratt Ordered Dropped

Oakland County one-man grand juror Philip Pratt said today he will request an opinion from the Michigan Court of Appeals to clarify its dismissal of contempt charges against four men.

The appellate court yesterday ordered the charges dropped after hearing arguments of defense attorney James Renfrew of Royal Oak and special prosecutor Charles J. Porter.

Those charged with contempt for refusing to answer questions of Pratt were Democratic State Rep. Bill S. Huffman, Roman Nowicki and Ross Skinner, all former Madison Heights councilmen, and Emili Pavlovics, a druggist in Madison Heights.

In quashing the charges the appellate court said that they did not relate to the original investigation.

The order, written by the presiding judge, Thomas G. Kavanagh, went on to say that the "order granting the petition to extend the scope of the judicial investigation failed to be specific to the common intent of the scope of the inquiry to be conducted."

RACE TRACK PROBE

The Pratt grand jury was originally called to investigate alleged crimes surrounding the Hazel Park race track.

The petition setting up the grand jury was later amended to take in any crime whatsoever.

Pratt said that he was uncertain what the appellate court meant since Huffman was asked a question about the Hazel Park race track when he was called to testify.

The appeals court decision reversed previous rulings by three Oakland County circuit judges.

HUD Is Mum on Challenge to Taubman Plan

Housing and Urban Development (HUD) officials in Chicago have received a formal challenge to the Taubman Plan, but declined today to comment on validity of the protest.

The objections were filed with city officials this week by Donald H. Prayer, chairman of the Citizens Committee for Pontiac's Positive Progress.

Dean Swartzel, a ranking HUD official, said, however, "This contract was never placed before me for approval and there is no record of its ever having been approved."

Swartzel, assistant regional administrator for renewal assistance, further described HUD's previous objections to the Taubman agreement as "a procedural safeguard."

A letter from Swartzel last month notified city officials that Pontiac's downtown redevelopment plan was "contrasted" to be "a violation" of urban renewal procedures.

'NO QUARREL'

Mayor William H. Taylor partially rebutted Swartzel's statement, but emphasized the city has "no quarrel" with HUD and remains confident its agreement with A. Alfred Taubman is "fully legal."

"We conferred with HUD's loan and grants contract experts last fall," Taylor said. "They recommended some changes in our proposed agreement with Taubman and we made them."

"When the time comes for us to submit a formal contract, we had the assurances of Taubman and our attorneys that it will be in full compliance with urban renewal regulations."

Picket Lines Extended

DETROIT (AP) — Striking members of the Automobile Salesmen's Association extended their picket lines to the Detroit offices of American Motors Corp. today, and the company branded the move "improper."

Gerald Tattersall, ASA vice president, said the pickets were protesting because American Motors has told its dealers operating factory-invested dealerships not to negotiate with the organization.

Factory-invested arrangements are dealerships in which the dealer and the factory share in the investment.

Rules for Low-Cholesterol Diet Listed

What are low cholesterol foods?

This is the question that has popped up most frequently in the encouraging response to my recent series on heart disease.

I don't claim to be a dietitian. I'm a dunc in the kitchen.

But I've learned how to feed my heart rather than starve it. A diet low in cholesterol and saturated fats is a must for anyone who has suffered a heart attack.

It should be mandatory for everyone because research indicates that a high

'FATALITY' ON I-75 — Examining a pine tree on I-75 south of the Clarkston turnoff is Lyle Abel, director of the county cooperative extension service. In his opinion, about 35 per cent of the trees died during the winter and many of the other, 1,112 planted in a 21-mile stretch north of Pontiac have a poor chance of survival.

$16,000 Worth of Trees Die Along I-75 in Oakland County

By ED BLUNDEN

Federal highway beautification — inspired by Lady Bird Johnson — has taken a $16,000 setback in Oakland County.

About half of the 1,112 evergreen trees planted on I-75 north of Pontiac last fall have not survived the winter. The trees cost approximately $32 each.

The fatalities became apparent recently as warming rays of the sun cleared away much of the heavy snow along sides of the double strip of highway that bisects the county.

State highway officials blame the high death rate on the rough winter.

W. R. Browell, state district forester, said yesterday "We're going to lose about half of them." Browell observed the trees during a recent trip on the road.

'35 PCT. DEAD'

Lyle B. Abel, director of the county cooperative extension service, inspected some of the trees Tuesday and said in his opinion about 35 per cent were dead and many of the others, turning yellow, had only a 50 per cent chance of survival.

Cold, Flurries on Weekend

Partly cloudy, cold with snow flurries is the prediction for the weekend with no accumulation of snow expected for the Pontiac area.

The official U.S. Weather Bureau forecast looks like this:

TODAY — Increasing cloudiness and colder. High 34 to 38. Mostly cloudy tonight with a chance of snow flurries.

Northwest winds at 8 to 16 miles per hour.

TOMORROW — Considerable cloudiness and colder with a chance of snow flurries.

SUNDAY — Snow flurries and cold. Precipitation probability for the period is 20 per cent today, tonight and tomorrow.

DA Probe Focus on Mystery Man

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP) — Clay Bertrand evolved today as the mystery man in Dist. Atty. James Garrison's probe of the Kennedy assassination.

Clay Bertrand, says Garrison, was an alias used by Clay Shaw, the prominent New Orleans resident the district attorney arrested and booked on conspiracy to commit murder.

"I have never used the name 'Clay Bertrand' in my life. I never use it. I never heard of it," said Shaw, free on $10,000 bond, at a 10-minute news conference Thursday.

Clay Bertrand "is mostly a voice on the phone," said attorney Dean Andrews Jr., an attorney and a Warren commission witness summoned to Garrison's office Thursday.

Garrison's office, in applying for a warrant to search Shaw's French Quarter residence, said in an affidavit that at meetings held in September 1963 "there was an agreement and combination among Clay Shaw, (alias Clay Bertrand), Lee Harvey Oswald, and David W. Ferrie and others to kill John F. Kennedy."

The document says the evidence about the meetings came from an unnamed informant, whose statements were corroborated while he was under the influence of sodium pentothal, or truth serum.

Oswald, a New Orleans native who was in this city from late April 1963 until Sept. 25, 1963, was named as the assassin of President Kennedy by the Warren commission, which said "the possibility of others being involved with either Oswald (Jack) Ruby cannot be established categorically, but if there is any such evidence it has been beyond the reach of all the investigative agencies and reliable sources of the United States and has not come to the attention of this commission."

Ferrie, a pilot and part-time investigator, died last week while under investigation by Garrison's office. Coroner Michael Chetta says Ferrie's death was due to natural causes, Garrison said it was suicide.

ISN'T TELLING

Garrison isn't telling what he knows about Clay Bertrand. The last public appearance by the district attorney was Wednesday night, shortly after the dramatic announcement of the arrest of Shaw. He said Shaw "will be charged with participation in a conspiracy to murder John F. Kennedy."

Shaw, a decorated Army officer in World War II who retired Oct. 1, 1965, after 18 years as managing director of the International Trade Mart here, calmly called his arrest "fantastic" at his news conference.

Earlier in the day, Ramsey Clark, the new U.S. attorney general, said the FBI had arrested Shaw late in 1963 and cleared him of any link with the assassination.

The FBI would not say what prompted its investigation of Shaw and Shaw himself said he had no knowledge of an investigation of that time. Shaw was in San Francisco on Nov. 22, 1963 — the day Kennedy was shot in Dallas.

SHAW STATES

"I have not conspired with anyone at any time or any place to murder our late and esteemed president, John F. Kennedy, or any other individual," Shaw said.

"I've always had one of the highest and utmost respect and admiration for Mr. Kennedy."

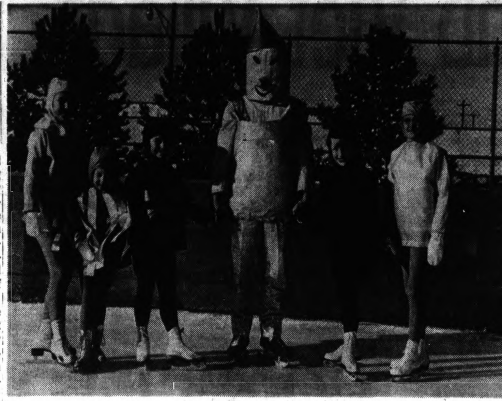

Shaw said he never met Ferrie "as far as I know. I was never in his apartment."

Garrison's office searched Shaw's luxurious French Quarter apartment the night of his arrest and took out a collection of items in cardboard boxes.

ITEMS TAKEN

Among them — according to the return on the search warrant filed in the clerk of court's office — were five whips, a black hood and cape, a black gown, three ropes, one chain, pieces of chain, a shotgun and a book entitled "A Holiday for Murder."

New York radio station WINS, in a copyright broadcast, said Thursday night it had learned from reliable sources that Garrison believes President Kennedy was assassinated by "a group of plotters directed from Cuba."

Speck Judge Seeks Speedup

PEORIA, Ill. (UPI) — Judge Herbert C. Paschen today attempted to speed up the murder trial of Richard Speck, while insisting that the Illinois Supreme Court rule on the constitutionality of his news coverage restrictions.

Paschen stepped into the questioning of prospective jurors yesterday as the trial neared the end of its second week.

Only four jurors have been impaneled and sequestered and three others have been seated tentatively.

The judge began asking preliminary questions — names, marital status, family situation, place of employment and whether they had formed fixed opinions.

It was apparent Paschen hoped this questioning would reduce the number of times assuming objections from attorneys who did not like the way an opposing attorney phrased a question.

Other beginners perform as trees, bees, cornstalks, poppies and butterflies. Intermediate girl skaters do more intricate patterns as daisies and crows.

GRAND FINALE

The grand finale features the entire cast.

Tickets will be on sale the night of the show at the rink. Spectators are urged to dress warmly. In case of inclement weather, the show will be rescheduled.

Four Dogs That Attacked Boy 'Will Definitely Be Destroyed'

Dr. Frank R. Bates, director of the Oakland County Animal Shelter, said today that the four dogs that mauled an independent Township boy Saturday "definitely" will be destroyed.

Bates said he was informed by the owner last night that he would not claim the dogs when their quarantine period ends Monday.

The dogs are owned by Clyde Bierwirth, 75, of 4600 Indianwood, the next-door neighbor of the youngster who was attacked, Peter Kohlen III, 7, son of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Kohlen Jr., 4630 Indianwood.

"The father and Bierwirth have come to an agreement that the dogs would be put to sleep," said Bates.

If Bierwirth changed his mind, Kohlen will probably request a court order to have the dogs destroyed, according to Bates.

CONDITION GOOD

A spokesman at Pontiac General Hospital said today the boy's condition is good, but when he will be released is unknown.

The youngster underwent emergency surgery to repair a badly lacerated scalp and wound to the hands, leg and body. He was attacked in his backyard.

The dogs have shown no signs of rabies, according to officials at the animal shelter.

Bates emphasized that he would not honor any requests from persons wanting to place the dogs in new homes.

Mennonites and Amish, the latter an offshoot sect named for its founder, Jacob Amman, began coming from Switzerland and Germany and settled in Pennsylvania about 1700, later spreading west.

Gas Fumes Fill Hold of Burning Ship

HONOLULU (AP) — A smoldering fire turned the forward hold of the Greek freighter Gardania into a fume-filled oven last night at Honolulu's pier 41.

The alarm was sounded at 9:30 p.m. and firefighters quickly sealed the hatch because the nature of the cargo was not known, and chlorine fumes would not permit fire fighters to enter the hold.

The cause of the blaze was not immediately determined.

Foam and carbon dioxide were pumped into the sealed hold by Honolulu, Air Force and Navy fire department trucks. A fire boat and other equipment also was pressed into service.

Firemen said the hold was thought to contain electrical cable en route to Vietnam and battery acid or bottled chlorine gas.

After Hot House-Senate Fight State Bill Deadline Extended

LANSING (AP) — The House and Senate fought down to the wire Thursday night and finally reached a grudging agreement on a one-week extension of the deadline for bill introduction.

With only five minutes to spare, the introduction deadline was extended from midnight on Thursday after a 3½-hour House-Senate battle that resembled more common battles between Republicans and Democrats.

His remark drew bipartisan applause from House members.

Rep. Dominic Jacobetti, D-Nagawanna, accused the Senate of "dilly-dallying while the House sat and took it," adding that it was time the House let the Senate know it was not going to be dictated to.

Some Democrats took advantage of the GOP-dominated conference committee's failure to agree as an indication of what lies in store for Republican Gov. George Romney's tax reform bills.

"If the Republicans can't agree on a simple thing like extending the deadline, how will they ever agree on a tax program?" asked one Democratic House member.

At 11:20 p.m., Sen. Robert Vander Laan, R-Grand Rapids introduced a resolution in the Senate to extend the deadline to March 9.

MIDNIGHT DEADLINE

However, the senators waited until 10 minutes before the midnight deadline before taking the resolution to the House where it was approved.

While the battle went on, the House received 229 new bills to add to 540 previously introduced. In the Senate, 204 bills were added to a stack of 359.

Both houses adjourned at 11:55 p.m. and were called back into session at one minute after midnight to begin today's session.

The only business conducted in the brief session was adoption by both houses of a conference committee report agreeing on amendments to a bill to permit public access to traffic accident reports.

MEASURE IS ADOPTED

The measure had been adopted and given immediate effect by both houses.

The Senate then adjourned until Monday night to allow Detroit area senators to attend a joint House-Senate Taxation Committee hearing today in Detroit.

Then she donned her robe and went back to work — as a judge in Detroit's Circuit Court.

Jury Duty Comes Too Late for Her

DETROIT (AP) — Mrs. Cornea G. Kennedy read her summons for jury duty in recorder's Court and sadly sent her regrets.

"Why did this invitation have to come now?" she asked. "I have always wanted to sit on a jury. I would love to see what goes on in a jury room, to see how jurors deliberate."

Then she donned her robe and went back to work — as a judge in Detroit's Circuit Court.

LBJ-Kennedy Gap Widens

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson's icy repudiation of Sen. Robert F. Kennedy's call for a peace-seeking halt to bombing of North Vietnam emphasizes their escalating differences.

Johnson twice defended the bombing almost as Kennedy spoke Thursday, but the White House said he would not comment on the Kennedy proposals.

Within hours, however, Secretary of State Dean Rusk and Gen. William C. Westmoreland, U.S. military commander in Vietnam, rejected the New York Democrat's proposal that the United States stop bombing the Communist North and announce: "We are ready to negotiate within the week."

Rusk said the Communists already have spurned such a formula. Westmoreland said in Saigon that any pause in bombing "will cost many additional lives and probably prolong the conflict."

SENATE ALLY

Johnson forewarned a Senate ally with a letter declaring the air attacks imperative and saying they will persist until the Hanoi government makes a serious move toward peace.

It bore Wednesday's date and provided an instant rebuttal when Kennedy stood in the Senate to deliver his well-advanced speech on peace moves in Vietnam.

Shortly before, Johnson had discussed the bombing at a surprise news conference.

Kennedy sent an advance copy of his proposals to the White House — which said the manuscript had been passed on to the State Department.

Call for Bombing Halt Is Repudiated

George Christian, press secretary, said Johnson did not read the text.

While Kennedy began his speech by saying Johnson is "entitled to our hopeful sympathy, our understanding and our support in the search for peace," the 12 pages that followed were dotted with harsh words about American tactics in the Southeast Asian war.

It added up to a major expansion of the gap between the President and the senator, political heir to his brother, President John F. Kennedy.

"We should reach for the moment of promise which may have come," Kennedy told two dozen Senate colleagues and a audience that crowded the galleries. "The fact of the matter is that the bombing of the North can be stopped as a step toward peace without effectively weakening our position in the South."

Sen. Henry M. Jackson, D-Wash., was Johnson's spokesman on the Senate floor. It was Jackson who made public minutes after the Kennedy speech began, the President's letter praising, defending and standing firm on the air war in North Vietnam.

Bombing Ban Rejected, War Funds OK'd

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House has rejected an anti-bombing declaration and voted $4.5 billion to finance Vietnam fighting.

After a sometimes fiery 4½-hour debate, the House approved by voice vote yesterday the military authorization bill asked by President Johnson. The Senate passed a similar measure Wednesday.

Minutes before the show-down vote, the House defeated 272 to 15 an amendment by Rep. George E. Brown Jr., D-Calif., that would have banned use of the funds to finance military activities "in or over" North Vietnam.

Chairman L. Mendel Rivers, D-S.C., of the House Armed Services Committee, led opposition to the amendment banning use of the $4.5 billion for bombing North Vietnam.

While House debate swirled around Vietnam, the Senate unanimously approved the nomination of Ramsey Clark as attorney general.

INVASION FORCE?

Meanwhile, informed sources in Saigon report the North Vietnamese army has built up a possible invasion force of some 35,000 men along the 17th parallel separating North and South Vietnam.

Trees Worth $16,000 Die

The state forester said a normal death rate would be only about 7 per cent.

The plantings were made under two contracts issued to two firms last fall. Along with the overgrown shrubs, an equal amount of shade trees have been planted as well as about 2,700 shrubs.

The contracts are guaranteed as far as the state is concerned and losses will have to be replaced by the contractor, according to Noel S. Walker, district construction engineer.

PLANTING PRICES

Planting the 8.65 miles of Baldwin northward to U.S. 10 was J.O. Armstrong Co. of Fraser whose total contract called for $91,490 in planting work. Price was $45.60 per for 173 red pines and $38 for 312 scotch pines.

From U.S. 10 to M54 — about 12½ miles — planting was done by Marine City Nursery Co. of Marine City on a $64,608 contract for planting. Price for 335 scotch and 279 red pines was $25 each.

Planting of evergreens can be done either in the fall or spring, according to the experts. Forster Brownell said he prefers the spring planting, but does not blame the heavy losses on the planting time.

As for the other plantings made last fall, Brownell said it would be much later in the year before it could be determined if they survived.

He pointed out the project is part of the "Lady Bird" highway Beautification program. "And we will have beautiful highways, one of these days," Howell said.

Kuhn Bill Asks 1-Cent Hike in Sales Tax

State Sen. George Kuhn of Oakland County yesterday proposed a one-cent increase in the state sales tax as an alternative in case fiscal reform fails to pass the Legislature.

The proposal would require a revision in the State Constitution and would have to be submitted to a vote of the people in the next general election.

"While I do feel that there is a need for fiscal reform not only on the state level but also on the national level, I am proposing the sales tax amendment as an insurance measure," the West Bloomfield Township Republican said.

"Sales tax machinery is already set up and administration of their cost and needs for facilities to collect the tax, as opposed to the income tax," he said.

Several income tax bills, including proposals by Gov. Romney, are pending before the Legislature.

MUCH REVENUE

The sales tax, said Kuhn, would not bring in anything from visitors.

The increase would provide an additional $80 million for education, instead of the $15 million in the governor's program, and $20 million more for local government, according to Kuhn.

Missile-Limit Talks Start Next Week

MOSCOW (UPI) — Preliminary Soviet-American talks on missile limitations will begin next week, American sources said today.

The first stage of the talks — mostly aimed at setting "ground rules" for later, more detailed negotiations — will be carried out by U.S. ambassador Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko, the sources said.

It was considered likely that, as the talks become more involved, experts will fly here from Washington to join the Thompson team.

What Lent Means to Me

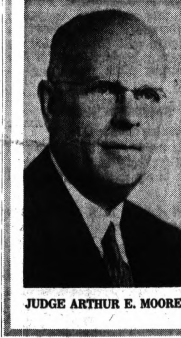

(EDITOR'S NOTE—This is the 20th in a series of articles through Lent written by prominent Pontiac area citizens.)

By JUDGE ARTHUR E. MOORE
Oakland County Circuit Court

Lent is a reminder of "basic poverty." Over half of our children and youth of Oakland County, and more nationally, have no religious training. This is the greatest poverty—that of character and the soul.

Christianity and other religious beliefs are the basic proponents of morality. Thus, if we wish to prevent crime and delinquency, we must somehow give these underprivileged youngsters religious moral training at home and in our churches.

So, at Lent, I fervently hope and pray our churches will serve these needy nonreligious children. Psychologically, too, the deprived child also needs the warm association of good church people.

JUDGE ARTHUR E. MOORE

With beef you must limit your cuts to eye of round, top and bottom round, flank steak, lean ground round, lean ramp and tenderloin.

Lamb must be limited to the leg only.

You may use breads and cereals as usual, as well as grain products such as rice, macaroni, noodles, spaghetti and flour, with the following exceptions:

• Biscuits, muffins, griddle-cakes and cornbread or corn muffins must be homemade with an allowed fat or oil and limited somewhat in quantity since these foods contain more fat than other bread products.

• Most crackers contain a significant amount of saturated fat and are therefore not recommended.

BEST KINDS

What are "allowed fats and oils?"

Safflower and sunflower seed oils are best. Corn, cottonseed, soybean and peanut oils are also acceptable polyunsaturated vegetable oils.

Special margarines and shortening are allowed, but don't overdo it.

DIFFICULT TO KNOW

Because of confusing advertisements and incomplete information on package labels, it is difficult to know which ones to buy.

When buying special margarines or shortenings, it is not enough for the shopper to know that a product is made with a particular oil, or even that part of this remains liquid.

The important thing to know is how much of the total oil remains polyunsaturated.

The best advice I can give you here is to ask your doctor or dietitian to recommend a good margarine or shortening for a low-cholesterol diet.

Crash Kills 11

BOMBAY (UPI) — Eleven persons were killed today and one seriously injured when a auto carrying a wedding party to ceremonies in Sangli, 150 miles east of here, crashed on a mountain road, police said.

Now to the bad guys.

The following are food items you should drop from your diet if you want to give your heart a boost.

MEATS

Pork, bacon, salt pork, spareribs, frankfurters, sausage, cold cuts, canned meats, organ meats such as kidney, brain, sweetbread and liver.

POULTRY AND FISH

DAIRY FOODS

Whole milk, homogenized and canned milk; sweet cream, powdered cream, ice cream (unless homogenized with nonfat dry milk), sour cream; whole milk, buttermilk and whole milk yogurt; butter; cheese.

FATS AND OILS

Ordinary margarines and solid shortenings; lard; chicken fat; coconut oil; olive oil; chocolate.

BREADS AND BAKERY GOODS

BREADS, BAKERY GOODS DESSERTS

whipped cream desserts; pies, cakes and cookies unless homemade with allowed fat or oil.

4 Detroiters Arrested in Walled Lake

Four Detroit men, arrested in Walled Lake early this morning, are being held in Oakland County Jail today for investigation of carrying concealed weapons.

They were picked up for speeding on Pontiac Trail about 2:30 a.m. after officers noticed their car driving out from behind the Lakeside Packing House, according to Walled Lake Police Chief Leland Pratt.

Found in the car were a loaded 22-caliber revolver with the serial numbers ground off and a 32-caliber automatic, also loaded, Pratt said.

Sammy W. Bateman, 20, William A. Krenko, 17, Dennis F. Sarnowsky, 21, and William F. Mosher, 23, are to be arraigned this afternoon in Walled Lake Municipal Court by Judge Gene Schneitz.

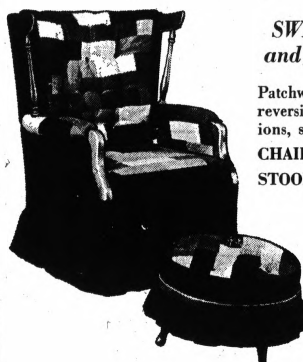

They were arrested by Sgt. Wilfred Hook, Officer Joseph Hoffrichter and Officer Harold Small, all of Walled Lake, Officer Richard Voorhies of Wixom and Officer William Korthas of Wolverine Lake.

'66 Plates On --but It's Legal

WYOMING (AP) — Patrolman Michael Straub spotted it on a car driving along I-196 through Wyoming — a 1966 license plate two days after the deadline for displaying the 1967 tags.

Straub stopped the vehicle but had to put his ticket book away. The driver was Sen. Harold J. Volkema, R - Holland, and he was heading for a Thursday afternoon session of the Legislature.

By law, legislators going to and from sessions can't be detained for misdemeanors or other minor infractions. Straub said Volkema told him he hadn't been able to find his certificate of insurance needed to buy the plates and also hadn't had the time.

18 School Districts to Ask Bigger Share of State Aid

GARDEN CITY (UPI) — Officials of 18 Detroit area school districts have called a meeting in Lansing Saturday to voice their belief that Gov. George Romney's education budget proposals give too small a slice of the financial pie to poorer districts.

"The governor has given only lip service to equalization of education opportunity for children in the low valuation school districts," Edwin J. O'Leary, Garden City school superintendent, said.

The complaint is not new. The formula by which the state parcels out money to school districts stems partially from the tax base of the district involved.

The poorer districts complain that their wealthier neighbors, with bigger tax bases, easily raise more local tax money for schools, and that state formula then sweetens their pot at the expense of poorer districts.

The 18 districts, organized into the Metropolitan Association for Improved School Legislation, urged the Legislature to change the formula so they get more money per pupil. All 18 are in Wayne County.

EQUALIZE
"Unless the State Legislature sees fit to better equalize state aid, along with adopting fiscal reform, the poor school districts are going to be hard pressed to find a solution to the salary demands and other increased expenditures they are

State Police Car Inspectors Being Trained

EAST LANSING (AP)—State Police are training men to start a new car check program in mid-March.

A training school for 36 inspecting officers will start next week at the East Lansing headquarters.

CHANCE SPOTS
Inspecting officers will work out highway areas in the various districts, changing the inspection spots from time to time.

Police hope to be able to check out a car in seven minutes.

Items inspected will include brakes, steering, tires, lights, turn signals, horn, exhaust system, windshield wipers and washers and glass areas.

The license and vehicle registration also will be checked.

APPROVAL STICKER
Drivers passing inspection will be given an approval sticker.

When defects are detected, drivers will be given a list of those to be corrected.

Then they are required to report for a recheck to qualify for the sticker.

German Charged in 700,000 Murders Held in Brazil

BRASILIA, Brazil (AP) — Brazilian authorities gave no indication today whether West Germany or Austria will get Franz-Josef Stangl, wanted by both nations on charges of murdering hundreds of thousands of concentration camp prisoners during World War II.

mat in Rio de Janeiro said Vienna tipped off Brazilian authorities to Stangl's whereabouts.

West German officials said under international practice the country holding a suspect can decide where to send him if several countries want him.

A West German arrest warrant issued in 1964 said Stangl was suspected of having had a part in the murder of about 700,000 Jewish prisoners at the Treblinka death camp near Warsaw, which he headed for a year until August 1943. NO. 3 ON LIST

The Jewish Documentation Center in Vienna said Stangl, once a captain of the SS Elite Guard, was No. 3 on the list of war criminals still at large. The top two are Martin Bormann, Hitler's long-missing aide, and Heinrich Mueller, the last of Hitler's Gestapo chiefs.

There have been frequent rumors of Bormann being in Argentina but none have been confirmed. Mueller has been reported working in Albania as an intelligence agent.

French Elections Hold Future Import

Elections in France always have a kind of opera bouffe atmosphere, and those scheduled for the next two Sundays are no exceptions. If public opinion can be trusted, CHARLES DE GAULLE's power and prestige will be only slightly reduced.

In the outgoing National Assembly, the Gaullist Union for the New Republic (UNR) holds 230 seats. This is 15 less than a majority, but UNR has a firm alliance with the Independent Republicans, the party of 40-year-old GISCARD D'ESTAING, DE GAULLE's former minister of finance. The Independents hold 35 seats.

Under the Constitution of the Fifth Republic, what happens on the next two Sundays is probably only psychologically important. If de Gaulle and his allies are defeated, a most improbable event, he could dismiss the Assembly and ask for a new mandate. Or, under Article 16, he could assume full powers of government.

The reverse side of the coin, of course, is that a man of DE GAULLE's supreme egotism would find it difficult to serve on if the French people said no.

The elections are expected to have little effect on French policy toward the United States. DE GAULLE on Feb. 9 warned that a victory of opposition parties would destroy the "independence" of France and make the country subservient either to the Soviet Union or the "American hegemony."

DE GAULLE's nationalism is as illogical as it is emotional. AS RAYMOND ARON puts it: "Gen. DE GAULLE would not accept the atomic monopoly of the United States, even if someone managed to convince him that it constitutes the most effective guarantee for France and for the entire Continent. He refuses the status of a protegee state, which in his eyes is equivalent to satellite status."

But who comes after de Gaulle, and what will he urge and do? The constitution of the Fifth Republic has no provision for a Dauphin. That's why the elections look not so much to the present of France as to her future.

Have Our Holidays Become Out of Date?

Agitation to reschedule the Country's national holidays is growing. There is nothing new about the idea, however, since it has been banded about for many moons.

Proponents of the "Uniform Holiday Plan" would fix all holidays (except, Christmas and New Year's) to fall on Monday.

They argue that it would give the populace five extra three-day weekends and avoid splitting the week with a day off, and the resulting high rate of job absenteeism.

In support of the Plan is the fact that the dates established for many of our holidays are unrealistic. Thus, Washington's birthday, which we observed Feb. 22, was actually Feb. 11. Since the Resolution of Independence was approved by Congress on July 2, 1776, and it took another 17 days before all members agreed to it, why does the July 4 date have special significance?

Tradition, of course, has been a stumbling block to an overhaul of our holiday dates. But even this loses force in light of experience.

Thanksgiving Day is established for observance on the fourth Thursday of November, yet over the years the date has been changed several times. And both the date of Veterans Day and the concept of Memorial Day have been subject to tampering. Labor Day presents no problem, since it was wisely set to fall on a Monday.

With both business interests and presumably the generality of citizens favoring a shakeup of our holiday schedule, the portents are good for such action in the near future.

Expo '67 Seen Topping All World's Fairs

If advance planning and grandiose preparation mean anything, Montreal is readying the greatest World's Fair our planet has yet known.

Scheduled to open April 28 for a six-month run, EXPO '67 is but the third "World's Fair" fully sanctioned by the International Bureau of Expositions since its creation in Paris in 1928. The other two were the Paris production in 1937 and that of Brussels in 1958.

Seventy nations will be represented in the Canadian exposition, topping by 15 the previous record for international participation set by Brussels' exhibition.

Of special interest to state residents, Expo '67 will highlight "Michigan Rendezvous" for the May 12-15 weekend as a prelude to the upcoming 14th Annual Michigan Week.

The setting for the Montreal fair is a pair of islands in the St. Lawrence River that provides a combined area of 700 acres. To meet the space requirement, one island was enlarged and the other created.

We congratulate our border neighbors on their stupendous undertaking, with the hope that the turnstiles click a cheery tune of success.

Supreme Court Likely to Stay Liberal

By JAMES MARLOW

AP News Analyst

WASHINGTON — Liberal justices dominate this Supreme Court and even if some of them retire in the next few years, so long as Lyndon B. Johnson remains President the court probably will remain liberal.

With his far-reaching liberal programs, some involving welfare in many ways, Johnson seems unlikely to jeopardize them by appointing conservatives to the high bench.

Justice Tom C. Clark said this week he would step down by the end of June. At age 67 he is very close to the average retirement age of justices — 67½ years — down through American history.

But there are four other justices 67 or older; Chief Justice Earl Warren, 75; Chief Justices Hugo Black, 81; William O. Douglas, 68; and John Marshall Harlan, 67.

If Warren, Black and Douglas were guided by the average retirement age, they'd be gone now. Their average age is 74. But there have been some notable exceptions to the average.

HOLMES WAS 90

The best example is Justice Oliver Wendell Holmes who didn't quit until he was 90.

As the history of the 95 men who have sat on the court shows, the age of a justice doesn't necessarily mean he is not a good justice simply because he is up in years.

Some justices, including some of the best, weren't appointed until they were in their 60s. Holmes was 61, Louis D. Brandeis, 60, and Benjamin N. Cardozo, 62.

And these three chief justices were in their 60s when they were appointed to take charge. Warren, 62, William Howard Taft, 64, and Charles Evans Hughes, 68.

NO PREJUDICING

All these bits of arithmetic prove is that there is no mathematical formula for predicting when any justice figures he has had enough. Justice William Brennan is 60. Only three justices are under that age: Abe Fortas, 56, Potter Stewart, 52, and Byron R. White, 49.

Thus, while the average age of the present members is 67½ years, this court has had a continuity of outlook, starting with the 1854 decision outlawing public school segregation, that has made it the strongest in history and the most liberal.

Yet, only four of the present justices — Warren, Black, Douglas and Clark — were on the court at the time of the 1954 ruling. All four of them approved it.

Youth — or comparative youth — is no guarantee that a justice will be more liberal than his elders.

Education Doesn't Answer All Problems

Powell Felt Country's Wrath

WASHINGTON — Public opinion in America can act swiftly and decisively when it is aroused, and that's what happened when the House of Representatives "heard from the country" and then decided to ex-communicate Adam Clayton Powell from membership.

Naturally, there has been a bitter reaction from some of the Negro leaders in various cities. However, the civil rights movement can experience an unfortunate downturn in the number of its supporters if Negro leaders plainly overlook the misdeeds of Adam Clayton Powell and insist that he is being punished just because of his race.

There are plenty of court cases in which white persons of prominence have been tried and convicted in recent months, including Bobby Baker and James Hoffa.

To fail to punish Negroes who misappropriate public funds is to discriminate in favor of one race as against another. This is the point that members of Congress weighed when they read the mail from back home.

News reports state that lawyers for Adam Clayton Powell will appeal to the courts on constitutional grounds and ask for an annulment of the vote of the House of Representatives.

SOME POINTS

A few of the members think there are some points on his side. But the precedents are against him. For each house is, under the Constitution, judge of the "qualifications" of its members.

It has also been pointed out by some of the defenders of Adam Clayton Powell that in the special election forthcoming, he will run for the office and doubtless will be elected once more.

But the House of Representatives is under no obligation to accept anybody who, by his record, has convinced a majority of the members that he is unfit to be a part of the legislative branch of the government.

If Congress is told by the courts that it must accept anybody who is, according to the findings of a select committee, lacking in integrity and whose improper influence could be exerted upon other members and the employees of Congress itself, then the courts would be taking upon themselves a jurisdiction which has no precedent in the judicial history of America.

Verbal Orchids

Mrs. Annie McGoldrick of Auburn Heights;

88th birthday.

As for the Harlem district, it will be a sad day for those people in the South and elsewhere who have been antagonistic to Negro voting now will be able to point to the New York district and claim that the Negroes have misused their voting rights.

For they will be accused of insisting upon the election of a candidate for the House of Representatives who, by overwhelming vote of the members, has been formally declared to be unqualified for admission.

Bob Considine Says:

Yanks Get Their Irish Up Over British 'Oppression'

NEW YORK — It is not usual to see half a dozen Americans of Irish extraction sitting around a table in an athletic club without so much as a smile or a least a beer.

I happened upon such a meeting of the other day.

The men were discussing a certain nation which they declared operates concentration camps in Rhodesia, sends supplies to North Vietnam through the port of Haiphong, occupies a portion of an otherwise free country, suppresses human rights in the occupied area, and has thwarted all efforts on the part of the majority in the occupied area to hold a plebiscite.

Soviet Union? Nope.

Red China? Nope.

TEMPERS COOL

The talk was free of table-thumping. The passage of time since the Easter Uprising, and the cruel suppression of the Black and Tans has tempered tempers.

"Using force is a waste of time," spoke up an earnest Buffalo attorney, James C. Heaney.

"As an extreme last resort, perhaps, but that's farthest from our minds. Right now we want to let the American people, the Congress and the United Nations know a little more about what has been happening in Northern Ireland."

"In British-occupied Ireland today, as has been the case since the Special Powers Act of 1922, persons can be jailed and held without access to attorneys or the outside world for not weeks or months but years."

OTHER BURDENS

"Any police officer can condemn a man to a detention camp and the man would have no right to counsel or a trial."

"On what charge?" I asked.

"For being an Irishman."

Heaney, who is a Protestant, replied steadily. "The Irish of Ulster have other burdens. They cannot vote as readily as can their better-placed countrymen who have the means and determination to continue union with Britain."

"How can we explain things like that to the South Vietnamese, let's say, or the other nations we're protecting from the same tyranny we blithely condone in occupied Ireland?"

"We bring no bombs. We're not anarchists. We're Americans fed up with the hypocrisy of the whole sordid affair."

Courts' Concern

St. Louis Post-Dispatch

Regardless of what Congress does within its constitutional obligations and limitations in the case of Representative Adam Clayton Powell, the charges against him also are of concern to the administrative and judicial branches of the Government.

President for this was firmly established by the indictment, conviction and sentencing of former Representative J. Parnell Thomas of New Jersey in the United States District Court of the District of Columbia on charges of payroll padding.

In November, 1949, the once overbearing, spy-busting chairman of the House Un-American Activities Committee appeared for two and a half days in the courtroom of Judge Alexander Holtzoff while devastating evidence, collected by the FBI, was presented.

He then threw himself on the mercy of the court and was sentenced to a prison term of 18 months and a fine of $10,000. At the same time, he resigned.

Thomas might have been sentenced to a term as long as 32 years and a fine as heavy as $40,000. Judge Holtzoff explained that since the Government had shown that he had obtained more than $3,000 by payroll padding, he had levied a fine which would assure re-

'Foreign Aid Billions Fail to Prevent Wars'

Qualified observers hold that had the Korean war been won decisively, there would have been no Vietnam. Foreign aid billions for Korea, Vietnam, India and Pakistan failed to prevent wars in those countries. During the recent cease fire in Vietnam, the Haiphong harbor was crowded with supply ships, some from Communist lands but others from our own allies, recipients of many billions in U.S. foreign aid. What is the basis for the President's claim that foreign aid would "reduce the chances of future Vietnams?"

Two Support Suggestions of Commissioner

There may be hope for our country yet. A man in public office stood up and suggested what he thought was right even though he knew it was controversial and would cost him many votes. Three cheers for Mr. Hudson. A lot of working men who are forced to pay the bills for the undeserving will back him up where it counts—at the polls.

LAWRENCE L. CHAMBERS

To people condemning Commissioner Hudson, that is the trouble with the country—when someone tries to tell the truth and help the poor and the working man, they call you everything in the book.

Express Views on Need for Name Change

Concerning the changing of the name of the Avondale school district, the school's lack of pride, spirit and enthusiasm cannot lie simply within the realms of an eight-letter word, but must be accompanied by some other problem. If there existed within the student body a personal pride, a pride in the faculty and a pride in the education system as a whole, there would be no need to change the name. The word "Avondale" is not a dirty word, check your dictionary.

ROBERT H. CHRISMAN
8 SENTINEL

If students of Avondale were as ambitious as the classes of 1964 and 1965, they wouldn't need to change the school name. Why can't students live up to the history of Avondale and put more about the school in the paper. Maybe the students would take more interest and have more school spirit.

covery of the amount improperly obtained.

Because of his health, Thomas was paroled after nine months in Danbury.

In his case as in that of Powell there may be a question whether the authority of the House extends to criminal punishment. Obviously, such cases also raise considerations of political expediency.

And there is the feeling that but for the low ethical standard on Capitol Hill, others might stand where Powell stands today. All the more reason for making his case for the courts.

Makes Sense

The Ann Arbor News

The House in Lansing has under consideration bills which would shove back Michigan's primary election date from early in August to just after Labor Day.

The Senate has approved one such measure, and the House would do well to do likewise.

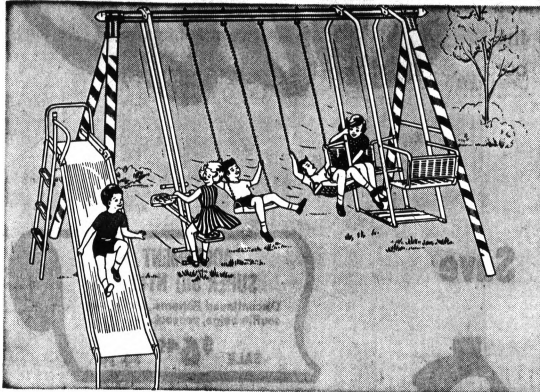

A later primary makes sense in more ways than one. The two reasons most frequently cited for a September primary date will, no doubt, be heard again when the House holds hearings on the proposed election date change.

The Tuesday after the first Monday in August is the date fixed by law as state primary election day. It is in the period of sum-

Junior Editors Quiz on WAX

QUESTION: Where does wax come from?

ANSWER: The idea of a glossy wax coating is one borrowed from nature.

Most plants, fruits and flowers are covered with a waxy shield, which keeps moisture from escaping. Wax is not easily affected by either water or air and so protects things as well as giving luster. Wax shines your shoes and also makes them more lasting.

Nature gives us a number of sources of this valuable material, some of which we show. From the wool of sheep comes lanolin, or wool wax, which is used as a basic material in many shoe polishes, and as a dressing for leather goods.

Beeswax, paraffin from petroleum, and the wax coating from palm leaves are other important sources of commercial waxes.

Of these, palm wax is the hardest and most brilliant, the wax from the carnauba palm of Brazil generally considered the best of all; it is often used in shoe polish.

Dye is also put in shoe polish to prevent scuff marks from showing. After application, the "vehicle" in which wax is mixed evaporates. The friction of polishing then gives the shine.

New One Developed

Camera Aids Diagnoses

By Science Service
BRISBANE, Australia — A new camera that could open up a new era in "movie" diagnosis and treatment, especially of heart ailments, has been reported here.

Cineradiology, the photographic recording of X-ray pictures, usually involves the use of an X-ray beam pulsed to synchronize with a 35-millimeter camera shutter to produce a picture on a fluoroscopic screen through an image intensifier.

Dr. James Hood of the University of Queensland's department of surgery, who conceived the idea of the new camera, points out that the standard technique now in use captures only 25 per cent of the actual movement, compared with 50 per cent of the movement captured in conventional cinematography (with a movie projector).

Ron Jones, a precision engineer, helped Dr. Hood design the new camera which, with a novel shutter design, has achieved with X-rays the 50 per cent recording of the movie projector without any increase in radiation dosage to the patient.

Another important difference in the new technique is a change in the depth of each frame. The frames are square instead of oblong, thereby enlarging the filmed image available for later screening and resulting in finer detail than previously.

The two researchers are currently working on a simultaneous data-recording project whereby the electrical activity of the heart and the sound the heart makes would be recorded together.

PNH Has New Board

By DEBBIE KILLEN

Pontiac Northern has just installed an activities board on Ariene Street. It will announce coming activities of the school in general, as well as sports events.

The board was paid for by funds left from graduating senior classes from 1950-1955. It will soon be lighted to be seen at night.

The staff of Northern's yearbook, "Avalanche," is busy tying up all loose ends before the final deadline prior to Easter vacation.

Carol Persinger, copy editor, has created the story line throughout the whole book, following a secret theme.

The A Capella Choir, Girls' Choir, and Northern Male Choir will enter the spring festival at Northern March 10.

WILL PARTICIPATE

The annual district festival is held by the Michigan School Vocal Association. All of Oakland County north of Grand River will participate in this festival.

Groups competing will be judged on sight reading and later judged on the expression and rhythm kept during the two numbers performed. They will then be rated on a point scale of 1 through 5.

The festival will be held all day into the evening.

The Student Council recently passed a measure to direct the direction of Barbara Burkhardt and Sandra Wallace of the art department, may be entered by any student at Walled Lake.

UNCONVENTIONAL

For entertainment there will be an unconventional French can-can, a Macedonian folk dance, and a Mariachi band.

Also at the Cafe Blanca Torres, assistant principal, Carmen Satorni and Joe Sousa, exchange students; will sing Spanish folk songs.

The art competition, under the direction of Barbara Burkhardt and Sandra Wallace of the art department, may be entered by any student at Walled Lake.

The Stage Band, under the direction of Helmut Holland-Moritz, will perform in the main lobby.

Stirs Lake Orion

By TERRY SOLAN

Lake Orion High School students are enthused about an art contest being sponsored by the Howard T. Keating Co.

Richard Morris, a Keating representative came to Orion High last week to explain the rules.

Students are to make original advertisements in three different categories: emblems, billboards and newspaper ads.

There will be five finalists in each category who will win $10 each. The first place winner in each division will be awarded a $50 bond and runners-up will receive a $25 bond.

Reigning over the homecoming festivities last week for the 1967 year were Queen Diana Mirikian and King Jerry Swett.

At the District Four of the Michigan School Band and Orchestra Association, the LOH band, directed by Roger Faulmann of the faculty, was awarded Class B first division.

Oxford

By CATHY OBERG

The speech classes of Oxford High have been conducting interviews this past week.

As part of an assignment, the students were to bring in some person and conduct an interview in front of the class.

Charles Loubert, speech teacher, said he was amazed at the response.

Among the people who have been interviewed are Mrs. Bruce Beemer, wife of late the late of the "Lone Ranger" as portrayed on radio; Jack Lee, assistant director of Camp Oakland; and Jerry Neflinger, athletic director of Oxford High.

one other student who has not yet been chosen.

The A Capella Choir, under the direction of faculty member John Tonsley, is in the process of interpreting a poem set to music.

The poem, "Choose Something

Like a Star," by Robert Frost, was set to music by Randal Thompson.

Three members of the choir Nancy Sumpter, Marsha Tebeau and Nancy Watkins — were assigned the task of interpreting this poem.

Female Faculty, Club

in WTHS Basketball

By CONNIE PHILLIPS

Waterford Township High School's Girls' Letter Club members will clash with faculty women in basketball tomorrow night at 7 p.m.

The game in the gym is sponsored by the Girls' Letter Club to raise funds for uniforms and equipment for girls' athletics.

Tickets have been sold since Wednesday and will be available at the door.

Sue Richert, club faculty sponsor, said, "We have a good faculty and a good Letter Club, and we encourage everyone to come."

Senior Sharon Murphy

EXCHANGE CLUB

Foreign Exchange Club is holding a recreation night this evening from 7 to 10 at the school.

Included in the evening's activities are volleyball, basketball, dancing and badminton. Casual sportswear is appropriate dress.

Patricia Lyons and Mrs. Emerson White, both WTHS faculty members, are club sponsors. Senior Janet Rowston is president.

Funds raised from the event will help send students abroad this summer.

ROUNDUP

Emmanuel

By LYNN WRIGHT

Girls of Emmanuel Christian School proved last Friday that they can be quiet when they put their minds to it.

The Pep Club sponsored "The Sounds of Silence" in order to promote spirit for the evening game against New Baltimore's St. Mary.

Pep Club members sold lancers pins to every girl for a nickel. The idea was that each time one of the girls talked to a boy she lost her pin and she was then required to purchase another.

At the end of the day all of the pins were collected and counted to see who won the title of Mr. Irresistible and Miss Gobby.

Mr. Irresistible was Larry Vergis who managed to accumulate more than 20 lancers and Bonnie Seib won the title of Miss Gobby after having lost 32.

FOR CHEERLEADERS

The profit went to help the cheerleaders pay for their uniforms.

The "Conqueror" yearbook staff would like to impress the students with the need to order early because there will be only 125 copies available.

Failure to order a book could mean that a student would not receive a book.

There will only be books for outright purchase if the staff fails to receive the required amount of orders.

West Bloomfield

By MARGIT MISANGYI

A group of Student Council members at West Bloomfield High School attended a meeting at Troy Wednesday.

Chairman of the trip was junior Larry Anding. The purpose was to discuss high school curriculum for the future years.

Rehearsals for the talent show began Tuesday. The rehearsals will be held two to three nights every week.

All the prize-winning entries will be sent to New York for national competition in a contest sponsored by the Eastman Kodak Company.

The induction ceremony for the National Honor Society will be held Monday morning in a special assembly.

Waterford's band received a 2 rating at the recent band festival held in Southfield.

Bands from area schools were graded on a 1-5 basis, 1 being the best.

The band, directed by David Lindsay, instrumental music instructor, rated a 1 on its "In Prospect Park." Two were given the band for sight reading, required number and selected "Overture for Band."

TUNING UP

Not taking the recent festival competition ratings of three ones and one two for granted, senior members of the Troy High School Symphony Band Dave Wakely (left) and Terry Skop rehearse for the April state competition. The band is under the direction of Larry Dickerson of the music faculty.

3 From Groves to Attend

Junior Science Meeting

By KIM SEROTA

Outstanding science students will represent Groves High School in conferences and state and national competition in coming weeks.

Three Groves students were selected to attend the Third Annual Junior Science and Humanities Symposium at Wayne State University this weekend.

Theme of the symposium is "Human Values and Science." The program will stress the importance of science and mathematics to the humanities, and will feature presentation of students' research papers.

One-hundred-sixty high school juniors and seniors from 90 Southeastern Michigan schools will be attending the conference.

GAIN CONFIDENCE

Loubert feels this type of interviewing will help the students gain a confidence in conversation with others.

This year for the first time at Oxford, the National Honor Society is organizing an after-school tutoring system.

A list of tutors and their subjects in which they wish to tutor will be posted.

St. Mike's

By LYNN BAUER

A number of little girls' dresses could be seen hanging outside the sophomore homerooms at St. Michael's High School this week.

The dresses were made and donated by Mrs. William Lehman to be used as part of a Lenten mission project by the sophomores.

A dress may be bought for the price shown on it; then it will be mailed to a poor child in the missions of Peru as a gift from the purchaser.

The money collected from the sale will also be sent to a Peruvian mission. Each buyer also receives a raffle ticket on a record album.

16 AWARDS

Sixteen other awards were received in photographic categories by Doug Cass, Ron Hillier, Bruce Brown, Chester Hard, and Mike Fitzgibbon.

Groves' total of 38 awards in photography was the highest for any single high school in the state.

All the prize-winning entries will be sent to New York for national competition in a contest sponsored by the Eastman Kodak Company.

The induction ceremony for the National Honor Society will be held Monday morning in a special assembly.

Receiving three number 1 ratings (excellent) and one number 2 rating (very good), the band is now eligible for state competition.

The symphony Band has high hopes of achieving a number 2 rating, as they did last year, or better.

3 Plays Set at Dominican

By KATHIE DERYCKE

Performances of Dominican Academy's spring play will take place at Oxford High School, tomorrow and Sunday at 1:30 p.m. and 7 p.m. respectively.

"Fear, Fantasy, and Force," three one-act plays, breaks away from the traditional all-girl musical.

The first play, "Early Frost," is by Douglas Parkhurst.

Actresses are Claudia Meyer, Kathie DeRycke, Janet O'Brien, Maureen McKown, and Margaret Daly.

"The Princess Marries the Page" by Edna St. Vincent Millay is the second.

In the cast are Robin Zakrzenski, Sidney Mitchell, Gail Zwick, Kathleen Gonder, Mary Lynn Meyer, Linda DeRycke, and Gussie Griggs.

DIRECTION

These two plays were directed by Sister Anne Vincent, head of the English department.

The third play, "Final Dress Rehearsal" by Jack Fraakes, is being directed by Kathy Renzetti, a student at Dominican College.

Taking part are Della O'Shea, Theresa Collins, Mary Sararuf, Mary Beth Wilkie, Carol Foley, Margaret Steinbach, and Shell Connor, Sharon Yezielick and Patricia Gordon.

"Cinderella" characters are Catherine, Kathleen, Ursula Smith, Teresa Neeson, and Georgina Pietrak and Rebecca Bibiush.

WHERE'S THE FIRE?—Practicing for the Walled Lake High School's production of "The Still Alarm" are (from left) senior Gary Easty and juniors Jim Monroe and Ray Champe. The play is part of the school's annual Art Festival which will take place March 10 and 11 from 7-9 p.m.

Walled Lake Art Festival Drawing Near

By ANNE PERSSON

Walled Lake High School's annual Art Festival will be held March 10 and 11.

The festival, which was planned under the general direction of Marilyn Kirk, English teacher, will be held from 7-9 p.m.

One of the main attractions will be two one-act plays produced by the drama class and club.

"High Window," a dramatic mystery, will be presented by the drama class under the direction of Jacquelyn Bowers, speech and drama teacher.

COMEDY PLANNED

Under the direction of Jacquelyn Bowers and Alexander Zerban, the Drama Club will present a comedy, "The Still Alarm."

Gary Easty, Ray Champe, Linda Hooper, Jim Monroe and Priscilla Yuchart will portray the main characters.

Zerban's assistant director will be Dianne Huska with Fay Ferris, stage manager.

Another favorite attraction will be the Coffee House where the Bohemian atmosphere will be set by dim lighting, art, and folk music.

FOLK MUSIC

The four shows, to be introduced by Michael Piper, English teacher, will include folk music by Ric and Karen Cotter, The Group, Carol Vreeland and Harold Miles.

Novel music will be provided by the Jug Bands.

For the literary fans there will be interpretive poetic readings by Mary Skora, Larry Short, and Dev Unick.

On sale at the Coffee House will be the annual literary magazine, "Touche," which is a selection of outstanding literary works by students.

St. Fred's Seniors

Preparing for Play

By TIM HALL

Seniors at St. Frederick High held a class meeting this week to discuss the Senior Play. Committees were set up to handle all business.

Chairmen for these committees are as follows: Joe Murphy, set crew; Collette Landry and Sharon Osbourn, make-up; and Saura Doyan and Paula Roselli, programs.

Others are Karen Mercier, tickets; Janusz Bora and Margaret Ewald, props; Helena Cisk, refreshments; Tim Hall and Linda Landry, advertisement; and Memo Medina, usher.

The home economics department, under the direction of faculty member Virginia Stoinoff, will present a fashion show following the theme, "The Lazy, Hazy, Crazy Days of Fashion."

Diane Bunker, Bonnie Prichett and Sandy Stewart will present the fashions which will feature styles varying from casuals to tailored looks and after-5 outfits.

Avondale

Science Is on Display

By HELEN LOWERY

Some 190 science projects of students of Avondale Senior High School will be on display to the public from 1:30 to 9 p.m. Monday at the school.

The best entries, as selected by a panel of judges, will be eligible for entry in a district fair in Birmingham and finally at Cobo Hall in Detroit.

Tuesday, Avondale administered the annual National Scholarship Qualification Tests to interested juniors.

Girls in the homemaking department, will be "busy beavers" during the next few weeks, while they serve guests of the high school.

This week the girls hosted several local superintendents who were observing the school.

SERVE LUNCH

March 6, they will serve lunches to the judges of the Science Fair.

The meals were prepared by the cafeteria staff.

Next Tuesday and Wednesday their work will be extended a bit, for they will be also prepare the food.

Members of the North Central Evaluation Committee will evaluate Avondale for our rating in the North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools.

The students will wait tables for the committee which is made up of teachers, superintendents and principals from other schools.

ATTENDED OPERA

Claude Wiseman, choir instructor, and members of his classes attended an opera presentation at Pontiac Northern High School yesterday.

Caroline Stone and Del Halstead, students, with Mrs. Janet Kilmer and Rose Bowman teachers, are to participate in the Junior Science and Humanities Symposium at Wayne State University today and tomorrow.

These four were selected from the school for their excellent work in the field of science.

Athens: Balkan. Squaresville

Beatniks Strictly 'Greek' to the Greeks

BY OWEN EDWARDS
ATHENS (NEA) — The girl took a sip from her tiny cup of thick Greek coffee and squinted into the warm sunlight.

She was English: improbably long-legged and impossibly short-skirted, with a haircut a la mod and something on top called a minisweater.

In London, she might have blended into the crowd, but in Athens she was a root beer stand on the desert.

The girl was talking about a movie she had worked on wardrobe mistress earlier in the year.

"It was wild. For three days, I was dressing about 300 people — the entire beatnik population of Athens!"

ON HIGH SIDE

Though she was joking, her estimate was, if anything, on the high side. Perhaps more than any other major European city, Athens is short on beatniks.

In one way, this seems odd since the city has features that make living easy for the semi-indigent. Summer lasts about 10 months, winter only a couple of weeks, and the rest is spring.

The cost of living is still among the lowest in Europe. Any beat can eat on a dollar a day without risking malnutrition, and another dollar buys a gallon of drinkable wine.

And anyone worth his (or her) mod boots and sixth-hand army jacket can manage a room for $25 a month or less.

RARE TO SEE

Yet, except in June, July and August, when the population of beatniks (and of tourists and archeologists and everyone else) explodes, the guitar-toting band so much a part of the scene in Paris and London and Rome is a rara avis in Greece's capital.

The reason, though somewhat complex, can be stated simply: If beatniks are society's round pegs, Athens is the squarkest hole imaginable.

Unlike most large cities, Athens retards the unusual rather than nurturing it. Paris has so long been Mecca for artists and writers that it easily embraces the wildest aberrations.

New York permits everything but breathing. London epitomizes the traditional English tolerance for eccentricity. Tanager is such a mass of contradictions that anything goes.

CONSERVATISM

But Athens is a conservative bastion, just dipping its toes into the mainstream of the '60s, and it does not yet suffer the non-conformist gladly.

The home-grown Greek beatnik simply doesn't exist. Young people here are wary about straying too far from the norm.

Boys keep their hair far short of the Beatle bobs accepted without a blink from Liverpool to Larchmont, and beards, long the badge of youthful rebellion elsewhere, are seldom seen on any Athenians other than Orthodox priests.

Clothes are pre-Quant and Carnaby, and most of the local girls still think a miniskirt ends a few inches above the knees.

ROCK 'N' ROLL

Western musical phenomena, such as rock 'n' roll and folk-rock, haven't made much of a dent in the popularity of the blood-curdling Eastern sound of traditional Greek kazooka music.

And though the word psychadelic has Greek roots, few young people here have any idea what it means.

A general shortage of money and leisure severely limits the independence of the Greek young generation, and independence is the name of the beat game.

Foreign beats, what few there are of them, tend to have a besieged look. Their chins thrust out a bit too defiantly and three or four together take on the look of a protective huddle.

With their longish hair, bell-bottom trousers, boots and other mod regalia, they draw the kind of attention that they couldn't get in London if they rollerskated naked through Piccadilly.

Suharto in Dilemma Over Sukarno Status

By T. JEFF WILLIAMS
JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP) — Gen. Suharto has worked himself into a corner over the crisis surrounding President Sukarno. It could vitally affect Suharto's future.

Suharto, strong man of the military forces which in effect rule the country, seems increasingly to be caught between the dangers of having Sukarno dismissed from office or letting him hang on as president in name only.

Informed sources say Suharto believes it would be better to keep Sukarno in office as a stabilizing factor in this divided and troubled land. But powerful forces in the military, in Congress and student groups are pressing to see that Congress dismisses Sukarno when it meets Tuesday.

If Suharto forces his will on Congress he will risk alienating sizable political groups. If he goes along with letting Congress dismiss Sukarno, he risks an explosion from increasingly restless pro-Sukarno elements.

'NEAR-GOD'
The 65-year-old Sukarno ruled for 21 years as a near-god. His words, if ever issued, could call literally millions of peasants to his defense.

Suharto faces a continued split over Sukarno's future among the military ranks.

Marines and police elements in east and central Java, heartland of support for the embattled president, still lean toward Sukarno.

Some elements are hoping Sukarno will leave the country. But cabinet sources say he has made it clear he won't.

UNPREDICTABLE
"He is totally unpredictable. He could say that today he will stay and tomorrow change his mind," one source close to the ministers said.

Several high-level political sources here believe Suharto has already given Sukarno a promise that he will not be dismissed by Congress, possibly because a dismissal could disrupt the delicate balance of power.

Or a dismissal could lead to a trial of Sukarno on charges of Communist conspiracies. Military and Congress hawks are pushing hard for this.

After 46 AF Cadets Resign

Cribbing Probe Ends

AIR FORCE ACADEMY, Colo. (UPI) — The Air Force Academy ended yesterday its week-long cribbing investigation, during which its ranks were thinned by 46 cadets.

The 46, most of them juniors, resigned after admitting they were involved in the second mass cheating incident in the years at the nation's youngest military school.

In the first cribbing incident in 1965, 109 cadets were forced to leave. It was the worst cheating scandal in the annals of military academy history.

Unlike the first cheating incident which involved the theft and sale of tests, the latest concerned cadets who took tests, and there were three each in basketball and track. No resigned cadet was identified.

Apparent Low Bids on Projects Listed

Th apparent low base bids for construction projects at Waterford Village and Stringham elementary schools totaled $540,249 at last night's meeting of the Waterford Township Board of Education.

Submitting the apparent low base proposals were Julian Wilson and Sons of Birmingham, architectural, $54,749; C. R. Anderson Plumbing and Heating Co. of Independence Township, mechanical, $123,000; and T. L. Jacobson Electric, Inc., electrical, $62,500.

Altogether, 18 firms turned in bids for the projects.

The board referred all bids to architects Denyes and Freeman Associates, Inc., of Pontiac for further study and recommendations.

Waterford Village School is to be provided with a gymnasium-multipurpose room complex, four classrooms and a conference room.

WILL BE ENCLOSED

Also, the school's library-instructional materials center will be enclosed and three existing classrooms will be converted into a new classroom, a kindergarten and a connecting corridor.

Earmarked for Stringham School are a gymnasium-multurpose room complex, conference room, general office, principal's office, teachers' lounge, interior remodeling and a boiler room.

In addition, two classrooms will be converted into a library-instructional materials center.

In other business, the board approved final plans for construction projects at Adams and Donelson elementary schools.

TO SECURE BIDS

Architects Denyes and Freeman Associates were directed to secure bids to be opened at the board's March 23 special meeting.

A gymnasium-multipurpose room complex, two classrooms, a library-instructional materials center, parking lot improvements and other alterations are earmarked for Adams School.

Donelson School is to receive five new classrooms, two conference rooms, parking lot improvements, new offices, a teachers' lounge, a new lobby and a library-instructional materials center.

Total estimated construction costs are $197,500 for Adams School and $153,500 for Donelson School. An extra $17,000 is estimated for parking lot improvements at each school.

Also last night, the board authorized purchase of two pieces of property for a combined $51,443.

To be acquired are a 16-acre site off Crescent Boulevard for $43,500 to accommodate the proposed new Crescent Lake Elementary School and a 3,973-acre parcel adjacent to Manley School for $7,943.

The board announced last night that a special meeting will be held at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday at Pierce Junior High School to organize a citizens' school finance study committee.

The committee will be charged to study the district's current financial condition and to consider a long-term plan for reasonable local support.

TENTATIVE OFFER

A tentative offer has been made by school officials to finance construction of a sidewalk in front of Riverside School if residents will initiate sidewalk projects alongside other streets in the immediate area of the school.

The board also okayed purchase of 64 two-student science tables for Cray Junior High School for $3,744. Fifty-five per cent of the cost will be financed through federal aid.

Court Forbids Vaccine Use

Cancer Drug Firm Will Comply on FDA Rules

CLEVELAND (UPI) — H. James Rand, developer of the Rand cancer vaccine, said yesterday he will make any changes the government suggests in manufacture of the drug.

Rand's statement came shortly after Federal Judge James C. Connell issued a permanent injunction against the vaccine.

"Perhaps it will take a year to comply," Rand said. "I learned more of what the Food and Drug Administration and the National Institute of Health wanted during this hearing than in all the visits I had with them. It was very constructive."

Connell's ruling means: Rand and the Rand Development Corp. are "restrained and enjoined" from the manufacture and distribution of the vaccine, and even from experiments with it, until they comply with Food and Drug Administration regulation for new drugs.

Time Act Spawns Chaos Across U. S.

By DAVID R. HOLDEN
Associated Press Writer

CHICAGO (AP) — In Georgia, a legislator protested that going on Daylight Time would disconcert the chickens.

In Iowa, a rural type declared that pushing the clock ahead would soften up the younger generation for communism.

The governor of Kentucky doesn't dare venture out of the state. If he does, the lieutenant governor has promised to call a special legislative session to put Kentucky on Standard Time by law.

In Indiana, the Legislature decreed that in each public building one clock — designated "official" — must be on Daylight Time. Otherwise every Indiana community can decide for itself what kind of time it wants.

TIME ZONES

And then there's Alaska, where the situation is too confused to bear thinking of. Why? Because Alaska has no fewer than four time zones, that's why.

Such is the chaos brought about by the Uniform Time Act which Congress passed last year.

Under the act, all parts of every state must observe Daylight Time from the last Sunday in April until the last Sunday in October — unless the State Legislature passes a law decreasing the statewide use of Standard Time.

Local option in some states in the past often resulted in a situation like that along an eastern Ohio road where the clock swung back and forth as one passed through the various towns.

MANIPULATIONS FORBIDDEN

In states divided by two time zones it was often the practice to let the eastern part remain unchanged while the western zone adopted DST to give the state a uniform summer time.

Such manipulations are forbidden by the new federal statute. States lying in two zones — such as Indiana, Kansas, Idaho, Nevada, Nebraska, Florida, Texas, Tennessee, Michigan, Kentucky, North and South Dakota — may have difficulty adjusting their time policies.

Opposition to compliance in Iowa, Arkansas and Minnesota does not appear likely to prevail. The bills in Hawaii and Texas appear sure of passage.

The strength of forces for and against DST in the other legislatures cannot be determined since they have not convened or the bills are still in the initial stages.

A major battle seems certain in Georgia where the time controversy could reach fever pitch.

RURAL OPPOSITION

The primary opposition comes from rural areas, where residents claim late sunrises hamper farm work; outdoor theater owners, who contend late sunsets hurt their business, and parents, who say DST will result in additional days on which their children will leave for school in the dark.

Proponents of DST are usually from urban areas where pushing the clock ahead gives industrial workers and 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. office workers an extra hour of sunshine for after-work recreation.

Businessmen in rural states argue fast time would put them out of phase with the farming community.

Brokerage firms, businesses with nationwide operations or connections and radio and television network affiliates want DST to keep pace with New York, Los Angeles and other major cities.

CHICKENS CITED

"I don't think our legislators will vote to go on Daylight time," said William Williams, a member of the Georgia Legislature. "Our chickens are accustomed to Standard Time and we don't want to confuse the chickens."

"We don't raise the level of the thermometer in the winter time to feel more comfortable or change the altimeter in a plane to feel that we are flying high," argued Iowan Albert Van Donselaar in an audience with Gov. Harold E. Hughes. "Why don't we leave our clocks where they belong?"

Hugh Vail, another member of the anti-Daylight Savings delegation, told Hughes:

"A child gets up in the morning under Daylight Time and cries because he has lost an hour of sleep. These school children are so worn out and their nerves are so busted they have to have drugs. Then when communism comes along, what are we going to do?"

SIDESTEPPING

The Indiana Senate did some legislative sidestepping, passing a law to allow local communities to set their own policies on DST while public buildings would keep one clock marked "official" for token adherence to the federal law.

Gov. Edward T. Breathitt of Kentucky seeks exemption from the law until 1968 when the Legislature meets in its next regular session.

A proponent of DST, Dr. D. E. pine Supreme Court has commuted the death sentence to 90 years in prison. The death sentence to 90 years in prison. The death sentence to 90 years in prison. The death sentence to 90 years in prison.

such as mowing the lawn, golf, etc."

"It is reasonable to speculate," said Dr. Eberle, "that Daylight Saving Time may save the lives of as many as 100 young men a year in Nebraska."

Nebraska's Legislature fought off an attempt to kill the DST bill, by a vote of 29 to 18, but the fate of the measure remains clouded. The 29 votes were four short of the 33 necessary for final passage of the measure, including an emergency clause which would make it effective immediately.

Alaska now has four zones, but put the Pacific Zone on DST to keep in line with Pacific Coast States.

Death Sentences for 3 Commuted

MANILA (AP) — The Philippine Supreme Court has commuted the death sentences of three headhunters who shot a man and his two sons, beheaded them and dismembered the bodies.

The Supreme Court commuted the death sentence to 90 years in prison. The death sentence to 90 years in prison. The death sentence to 90 years in prison.

Meeting of Thant, N. Viets Predicted

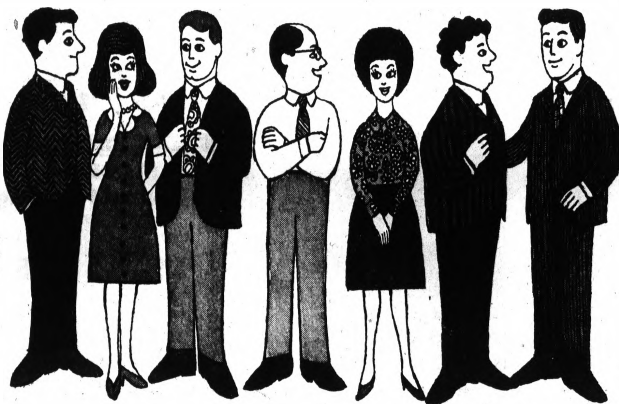

RANGOON, Burma (AP)—Usually reliable sources predicted a meeting today between U.N. Secretary General U Thant and the North Vietnamese delegation that arrived in Rangoon last week. Thant was reported resting at the state guest house and could not be reached for comment. There was no immediate way to confirm any contacts between the Secretary General and the North Vietnamese, who are led by Col. Ha Van Lau, check of Hanoi's embassy in as big as a squirrel.

Rangoon. A U.N. spokesman repeated Thant's statement that he would comment, if that was warranted, on leaving for New York tomorrow night.

The pygmy anteater is hardly as big as a squirrel.

Why the big switch to electric heat?

Good news travels fast

The word's out on our new money-back electric heat guarantee. It's the first guarantee of its kind ever offered in this area.

Here's how it works: We'll give you a to-the-penny estimate of operating costs. Your monthly heating bills may be less, but they won't be one penny higher than we say. We guarantee it. And the guarantee is good for three complete, consecutive heating seasons.

Add that to the many other advantages of electric heat—how it reduces housework, wall washing and drapery cleaning; how it gives you even heat, head to feet; how easily and economically air conditioning can be added on—and you can see why more people are choosing electric heat.

For more information, call us. We'll send out one of our Heating Specialists or ask a qualified electric heat contractor to call on you. No obligation, of course.

Scars of Tragedy on Firm, Families

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (AP)—It was a gay party that gathered at Tokyo's Hanaeda Airport that clear crisp morning of March 5, 1966.

The only ominous note was the still smoldering wreckage at the end of the field—the remains of a jetliner that crashed the evening before, killing 64 people.

But for the 75 men and women now waiting for BOAC jet to take them home, it was the end of a happy holiday, a reward from Thermo-King Corp. to its key executives and ace dealers throughout the United States.

Minutes later, their plane crashed on the slopes of Mt. Fuji, and everyone aboard was killed. Notified about the crash, a company executive in Minneapolis said:

"This has got to be the most disastrous thing a company could experience."

CARRY ON BUSINESS

Yet today—a year later, the company and its some 180 scattered, independent dealerships are carrying on an estimated $50-million business as if the accident had never happened.

But it was a different, more poignant story for the nearly 100 children—most of them school age—orphans by the crash.

"They try to adjust but it's impossible immediately," said a New England attorney who befriended three of the orphans. "They live a life of nightmares."

Some families were broken up. Children without close relatives were made wards of a court or of a trustee of the estate. Some teen-agers declined outside assistance and determined to go it alone.

CASE IN POINT

The three children of Ralph Kerwin, the company controller, and Mrs. Kerwin—Jimmy, 19; Barbara, 17; and Katherine, 14—are a case in point.

They elected to remain in the family's $45,000 two-story home at 6817 Point Drive in Edina, a fashionable Minneapolis suburb. Jimmy attends nearby Carleton College and comes home only on weekends. Barbara is preparing to enter St. Olaf's College, which would throw Katherine pretty much on her own.

The Ralph W. Porters—he was the company's executive vice president—left three grown children of their own—but they had adopted five of their 15 grandchildren. It was these who were hurt the most.

"The family was broken up," said Dan Porter, a brother and Western Division sales manager of Thermo-King. "The oldest adopted boy, 17, went to live with a friend and got a job in a car wash. One of the girls moved in with an aunt and the other three girls stayed in the old home with a housekeeper."

Another family that had to separate was that of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Chamberlain, who had the dealership of Wichita, Kan.

PREVIOUS MARRIAGE

Chamberlain had two boys by a previous marriage. One of them married and the other became the ward of an aunt in Fort Worth, Tex. Mrs. Chamberlain's sister, in Fort Worth took the other two children, aged 10 and 12.

It was far easier to pick up the traces of broken businesses than it was the emotions of broken families.

In Wichita, Chamberlain's dealership was jointly owned by his partner, Dave Moore. Moore said he and Chamberlain had a buy-and-sell agreement, and each held $25,000 insurance on the other's life.

"After the tragedy, I exercised my privilege and bought the other share of the company for $13,000," Moore said. "Now I am sole owner."

TYPICAL AGREEMENT

These prior agreements were typical and provided for the continued operation of the company in all but one of the affected dealerships of Thermo-King, a subsidiary of Westinghouse.

"The only one of the 27 dealerships that didn't carry on was that at New Bedford, Mass.," a company spokesman said. "Karol Kawa was a one-man operation at New Bedford."

Thermo-King manufactures refrigeration equipment for truck trailers and air-conditioning units for cars and truck cabs. The various franchised dealers serve as distributors and service agents.

In his plush, carpeted office at the sprawling Thermo-King headquarters in suburban Minneapolis, Marketing Director V. W. Snyder displayed charts which showed that the affected dealerships almost all showed a gain over the previous years.

In many instances, the family kept the businesses going. At Atlanta, H. C. Sellers Sr., the father, assumed control for his son, H. C. Jr., and adopted the younger Seller's two children—Mark, 9, and Tracy, 11. It was the same at Milwaukee, where L. E. Lubbers took over for his victim son, Robert, also adopting the latter's five children, aged two to 10 years.

The situation was reversed at Indianapolis. Fred Ross, 32, the son, became owner and president with the death of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Ross.

For many of the orphaned children, there may be recourse in the courts for financial compensation.

One 2-year-old boy—orphaned in the crash—has already been awarded a $200,000 settlement. Suits are pending in behalf of other orphans and other family members against Boeing, manufacturer of the plane, and British Overseas Airways Corp., the airline.

Thermo-King has not abandoned its incentive trips for enlisting dealers. This year the group took a boat trip to the Caribbean.

Preview of a Sculpture Show

Women's Section

First prize of $400 in the Michigan Sculpture Show opening Sunday at 2 p.m. in the Birmingham Art Center goes to George Ettl of Detroit, a graduate student at Wayne State University. Titled "Apollo," the plastic, steel, stone and wood sculpture is completely modern in feeling.

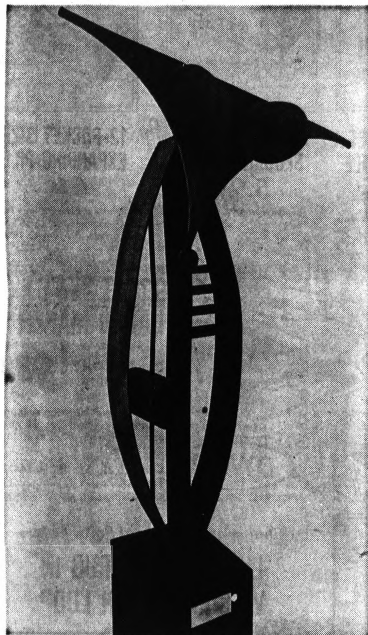

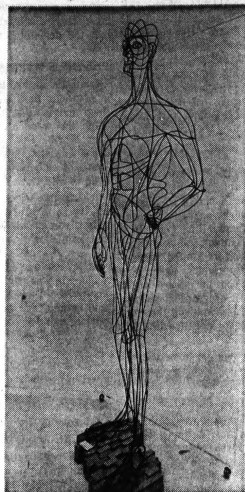

"Orpheus," a fabricated bronze sculpture, is the work of Earl Krentzin of Livonia. It was chosen from more than 300 pieces of sculpture by Michigan artists by juror, G. Alden Smith, chairman of the department of art at WSU.

Mrs. Jerome Fink, Quarton Road, shows her glass sculpture, "The Symbol." Mrs. Fink is cochairman of the show with Mrs. Lewis G. Dibble of Birmingham. They believe this all-sculpture show featuring only state artists is a first of its kind.

"Man," a six-foot welded steel figure by Larry Kazyak of Livonia towers over the other exhibits. Although Kazyak has had no study of anatomy except what he gets in the Bloomfield Art Association welding class, his sense of proportion is phenomenal.

Welded sculpture named "Scavenger" by Robert Antolak of Wyandotte is a compelling work. With the other 58 chosen pieces, it will be on exhibit daily, 2-5 p.m. through March 25. Admission is free.

Pegasus, a small bronze, was done by Mrs. Theo Satersmoen (Veronica) of Birmingham. The sculptor formerly worked as a psychiatrist at Pontiac State Hospital.

Rules Made to Break at Times

By ELIZABETH L. POST

Dear Mrs. Post: Recently, my husband and I drove to Connecticut to attend the wedding of my cousin. The bride was married in her parish church, and consequently most of her friends and relatives were able to attend.

The bridegroom's mother, his sisters, nieces and brother-in-law drove from the Washington, D.C. area, but the rest of his family live in the deep south and were unable to come.

There were perhaps 100 guests of the bride and 10 from the groom. The imbalance in the two sides of the church was very noticeable and my aunt was hurt. It seems to me that generally the ushers should be informed about the number of guests who will attend.

In the case of such great disparity, they might be able to say to the later arrivals, "Would you be so kind as to help us fill the seats on this (pointing to the under-populated) side?"

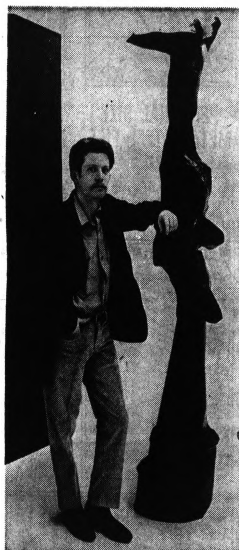

I wonder if wedding etiquette can sometimes be changed so that true good manners will prevail and feelings not be hurt—Constance Bradley

Dear Mrs. Bradley: Yes, yes, yes. An excellent point and a proof of the fact that every rule has its exception. The ushers should be instructed to urge the bride's guests, just as you suggest, to sit on the other side.

They can even make it more appealing by saying, "I can give you a much better seat on that side if you would be so kind as to sit there."

Cooperative Dinner

The International Club of the YWCA will have a cooperative dinner today at 6:30 p.m. in the "Y". All foreign born residents are invited to participate.

Stan Mock of Birmingham is winner of second prize of $250 for his bronze. His "Memorial to Theodore Roethke," a Michigan poet, was executed for a contest in Saginaw which seeks a suitable sculpture to be placed in a civic center.

Sponsor Fashion Show

Club Auxiliary Schedules Gala

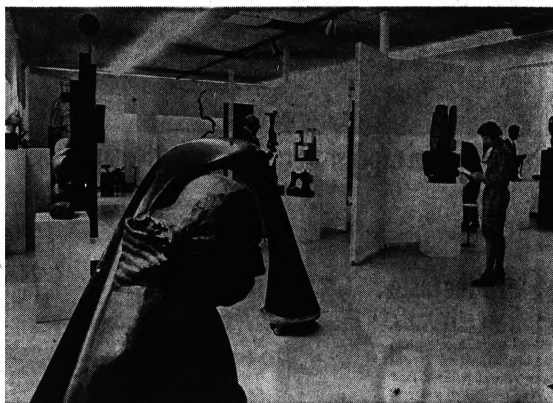

The 16th Anniversary gala of the Italian American Club Auxiliary have a St. Patrick's Day theme March 18 at 8:30 p.m. in the clubhouse.

Mrs. John Parmenter is chairman, assisted by Mesdames: Carl Grassi, Rudy Fortino, Joseph Spadafore, Gerry Traynor, Frank Soda and Joseph Pollina.

Plans were organized at a recent meeting with Mrs. Paul Felice and Mrs. Sam Calabuso as hostesses.

"Troll," a humorous wood piece, is the work of Marvin Anderson of Ypsilanti. It received an honorable mention in the judging.

The brooding clay figure of Sergio De Giusti's "The Cardinal" is a rather somber note in the Michigan Sculpture Show at the Birmingham Art Center. It received honorable mention in the judging. Third prize of $150 was won by James Surls of Detroit for his untitled composition of wood bores. John Stephenson of Ann Arbor also received an honorable mention.

Plan Kick-Off Meeting for Detroit Orchestra

By SIGNE KARLSTROM

This evening, at Oakland Hills Country Club, members of the special activities committee for Detroit Symphony Orchestra are meeting.

It is — so to say — a "kick-off" to discuss and promote plans for the benefit concert by the orchestra April 3, in Ford Auditorium to aid the orchestra's pension-maintenance fund.

Peter Nero, pianist, will be the soloist. Sitten Ehrling will conduct the orchestra.

The committee is a husband-and-wife team. Mrs. John Prepolice and Mrs. Norman Holfey share the chairman duties for this area. Mrs. Joseph Vance of Grosse Pointe is the general chairman assisted by Mrs. R. Alexander Wrigley and Mrs. Hugh G. Harness.

Among those who will be attending tonight are: Mrs. Sitten Ehrling, the Howard Harringtons who formerly lived in Bloomfield Hills, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Sladovich, Dr. and Mrs. John S. Meyers, Dr. and Mrs. Warren Goodwin, the James Vernors, the John Fourniers and the Ernest Moshers.

Another energetic group is the Women's Association for Detroit Symphony Orchestra whose Fashionscope Committee met on Wednesday in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Alan E. Schwartz.

Through the courtesy of the J. L. Hudson Company, it has, for many years, become an annual event to sponsor the Fashionscope thereby enabling the Women's Association to profit $10,000 or more. This money is earmarked for the symphony's maintenance fund.

Ticket chairman, Mrs. James T. Howell of Cranbrook Road reported that all tickets for next Tuesday's performance are sold but some tickets are available for the March 8 performance.

Many have made reservations for luncheon prior to the performances.

Mrs. Phillip R. Flanders will host a table for 14 at the Detroit Athletic Club. Included will be Mrs. Denman, Mrs. Howell, Mrs. John H. Ganschow, Mrs. George Mitten, Mrs. Marvin J. Morris and Mrs. Mary Ellen Mead.

Mrs. Robert B. Winter, area chairman for petron tickets will entertain for luncheons both days also at the club. Among her guests will be Mesdames: Harvey Kresge, Robert B. Thom, Thomas Restrict, Harry Nelderlander and Maxwell E. Fead.

Case B-563

What's Humor About?

By GEORGE W. CRANE
CASE B-563: Harlan B. asked 31, is the speech professor who is interested in the psychology of humor.

DR. CRANE

Introverts differ from extroverts in this realm of humor.

You Bible scholars may thus recall the story of the Prodigal Son.

Do you suppose he or his meticulous older brother was more likely to laugh loudly at jokes?

When two children of the same sex are close together in age, the older is usually the introvert while the younger is the extrovert.

And extroverts mingle with people more easily, so they soon develop a wider social experience.

And this is basic to a rich sense of humor!

A miser like Scrooge or Silas Marner or an isolated Robinson Crusoe would not be as alert to jokes as socially minded folks are.

Beware, however, in thinking that the mere fact of being surrounded by people will produce an extroverted, social minded person.

For you can live in a large city and still be almost as much of an introvert as Robinson Crusoe if you work at inanimate, ledger sheets or mechanical tools, chemicals, etc.

Now as for the basic rules of humor:

A pun is regarded as the lowest form of wit, but many of our best jokes are puns.

For a pun is a word that can be taken in two ways, one of which is rather incongruous to the situation. Puns are thus auditory verbal upsets.

And humor depends in part on an upset of the routine or expected result.

Physical upsets also cause laughter, as in the case of the stodgy banker with a silk plug hat who slips on a banana peel.

Or the absent-minded professor who comes to class dressed in his shorts, having forgotten to put on his trousers!

Or the slapstick comedy of major interest to children and those with a lower mental age, where the villain keeps getting smacked in the face with a custard pie or a slammed door!

Abbot and Costello wowed Saturday matinee audiences of children with their muscular (visual) humor.

(Always write to Dr. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, enclosing a long stamped, addressed envelope and 20¢ to cover typing and printing costs when you send for one of his booklets.)

Age Is Not the Answer

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Arthritis can also strike the young, and when it does "the results can be more devastating than in adults," reports one doctor.

Dr. William S. Kiyasu of the University of California Medical Center says that "in children, if rheumatoid arthritis goes untreated, severe deformities may result."

Some 50,000 children in the United States suffer from rheumatoid arthritis.

Skitch Henderson Subs for Singer

By BEA SWORDS

Skitch Henderson, NBC's Music Director and noted musician-arranger was the surprise guest of a Birmingham Town Hall luncheon and will be today. He is probably still a little surprised himself.

Thanks to a piano tuner named Stan and the grace of Mr. Henderson, the series survived beautifully its first cancellation since its beginning some 13 years ago. Scheduled lecturer Rise Stevens became ill and her appearance was cancelled.

The former and frequent star of NBC's "Tonight Show" apologized to us because he didn't know "Carman" and then proceeded to bring down the house with an unrehearsed repertoire of show business stories.

He relived some of the livelier happenings in a world that knows instant success and instant disaster.

DISASTROUS TOUR

His obvious favorite was the sponsor who decided to take the "Tonight" principals on a tour of his company facilities.

After spending an afternoon in his wax factory with Steve Allen, Louie Nye, Skitch Henderson, Tom Poston and Don Knotts and surviving a country club dinner—he cancelled the show, "Retreating to the Midwest."

Then there was the night Steve Allen tapped the famous "unbreakable chair" with a stage hammer and the impossible happened. It shattered on live TV, creating a lawsuit that is special in its hugeness.

Henderson is brief about his show business beginnings but says he was a Hollywood rehearsal pianist and orchestra leader. He scored music for the Andy Hardy series and Judy Garland.

ENGLISH

Skitch was born in Birmingham, England and came to this country as a child. He is American now.

His music days didn't really begin, he says, until he was 16 or 17 years old, but his music lessons came long before that.

Look Refreshing as Spring

Dark-haired little Kathy Dewey, whose parents are the Laverne Deweys of Clarkson, emphasizes white piping on her bright red knit coat with white accessories.

The turquoise and white basketweave suit worn by Barbara Freeman, daughter of the Gerald Freemans of Sylvester Court, sports pretend pockets and a contrasting shell beneath.

The girls will model at today's 8 p.m. and Saturday's 3 p.m. fashion shows in Spartan Store. Jackie Crampton, TV fashion coordinator will narrate the spring showings for the whole family.

Mom's Fetish Laughable— Ask About Own Family Tree

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN
DEAR ABBY: I have just about had it. My mother won't let me date anyone but AMERICANS. No Spanish, no Italians, no nothing. Just Americans.

One time I asked her if I could invite this real nice guy over and she said, "He's CATHOLIC!" I try to tell her they aren't any lower than we are. What's wrong with Italians, Spanish, and Catholics?

One time she ABBY said to me, "Haven't you got any AMERICAN friends? But I just can't wait for a Smith or a Jones to walk up and ask me for a date."

I always end up arguing with my mother and crying my eyes out. Can you help me?

AN AMERICAN
DEAR AMERICAN: Most "Americans" are composites of many ethnic, nationality, and religious backgrounds. Had your mother's forebears pursued her philosophy, both of you might have been Indians, — or Asiatics, which might have been

O.K., too. But courtesy, decency, and kindness are what count. So try that on your "Buy American Only" Mom.

DEAR ABBY: I am 29 and have a three-year-old son. I am not married and never was, and I don't pretend otherwise. I anticipate some questions soon from my son about his "Daddy." And I intend to handle them in an absolutely honest manner. I refuse to make up a lot of lies as most unwed mothers do. ("Your Daddy was killed in the war — or he died in an accident before you were born.")

I want my son to grow up knowing the truth so he can learn to live with it as he matures. His father was a no good bum and I am not sorry now that he refused to marry me.

The engagement of Donna Jean Commins to Raymond Anthony Plouhar is announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bert E. Commins of Hopefield Road, Orion Township. His parents are the Raymond Plouhars of Kinmount Road, Orion Township. August 26 has been chosen as a wedding date.

I have a friend who says I am dead wrong. I would like your opinion.

UNWED MOTHER
DEAR UNWED: I vote with your friend. Are you sure you are not more intent on punishing your son for the "sins" of his father than in being "absolutely honest"? A fatherless child suffers enough without knowing that his father was a "no good bum" who refused to marry his mother. Think it over. Then change your mind.

DEAR ABBY: When I am baby sitting and a stranger comes to the door, how should I handle the situation? The lights are on, so the person knows that someone is home. Please answer soon as some of my girlfriends have the same problem, and they would also like to know I am 18 SITTER.

DEAR SITTER: NEVER — and I repeat — NEVER open the door for a stranger. If he asks to use the telephone, tell him you are sorry but you can't let him in. If he says he wants to "deliver" something, ask him to please leave it on the porch. Under NO circumstances should you open the door to a stranger.

Troubled? Write to Abby, care of The Pontiac Press. For a personal reply, inclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Easter Gala Is Planned

Plans were formulated Wednesday evening for an Easter party to be given in the children's wards at Pontiac State Hospital by the Pontiac Jaycee Auxiliary on March 21.

Mrs. John Salow and Mrs. Louis Schimmel Jr. gave reports at the meeting hosted by Mrs. David Ogg of Lynndale Road, Avon Township.

The Auxiliary is hosting the spring district meeting on March 27 at the First Federal Savings of Oakland Building where Mrs. Ronald Lance, state president, will be speaker. Mrs. Joseph Pospichal is chairman of the event.

ORDEAL OVER—Coed Eleanor Dart, 20, and her fiancé, Oden Kellogg Jr. (center), walk arm-in-arm with his father after their rescue from the side of a mountain where they had been stranded two weeks in northern Mexico. The two are students at a Claremont, Calif., college. The father was part of the search team.

Daring Copter Ride Brings Two off Peak

SAN FELIPE, Mexico (AP)—A college student and his bride-to-be, rescued after a two-week ordeal of hunger and cold Feb. 3, to spend a college vacation climbing the 10,150-foot peak, attribute their survival to skill, determination — and a mountain rescue specialist.

"We never panicked. We've both had lots of mountain climbing experience," Miss Eleanor Dart, 20, said Thursday.

And she said that she and Oden Kellogg Jr., 21, plan to be married.

"We had been talking about it before, but he asked me to marry him while we were on the mountain and I agreed. We didn't know when it will be, but we have marriage plans," she said.

Kellogg was brought down from the 7,200-foot level of Mt. Diablo late Thursday in a daring helicopter rescue in semi-darkness.

The helicopter took him to the base camp near the foot of the peak, about 160 miles south of San Diego, Calif., where he had an emotional reunion with Miss Dart.

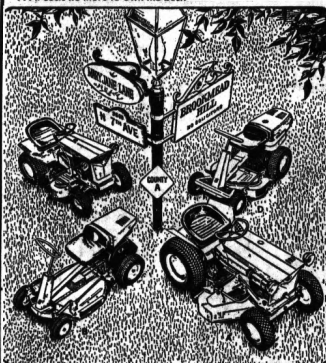

She was found Wednesday in a canyon on the mountain Thursday morning, trapped on slopes, and said she last heard the ledge.

Wants to Play on Pennant Winner

Kaline Finally Smiles After Two Blasts Over Fence

By BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press
LAKELAND, Fla. — It took two straight blasts over the left field wall in batting practice yesterday to bring a long-due smile to Al Kaline's face.

"I was wondering when I was going to get a hold of one," Kaline commented in the batting cage after the first ball cleared the 375-foot mark toward left center.

After the second shot cleared and third blast hit the concrete wall, Kaline trotted around the bases happier than he noticeably has been for the past week.

"Who's the kid on the mound," someone asked as Kaline made the turn at third.

"I don't know," he is in from the rookie squad at Tiger town," Kaline noted.

Bob Scheffing, former Tiger manager who is now doing personnel work for the New York

Mets, was an observer at Tiger drills yesterday and he remarked that the pitcher was just about everything that Foytack, who was on the mound staff when Scheffing was the manager five years back.

GOPHER BALL

"That explains it," tested an observer, "Kaline just needed that Foytack touch, the old gopher ball, to get him in the swing of things."

Kaline, who hasn't missed a

Tiger training camp since he broke into the majors as an 18-year-old in 1953, has accomplished just about everything there is to gain as a major leaguer, except to play on a pennant winner.

He's now 32 years old, hardy ready for the pastures or the rocking chair, but his years for playing on a pennant winner are dwindling.

Kaline's accomplishments take on a full page of the Tigers' player book, but the statistical column missing is one which usually lists the player's record in a world series.

"This has got to be the year," Kaline said. "We've got the personnel and we've got to put it all together."

It's obvious that Kaline is tired of the same comments every spring — "We think we can do it," or "We have a chance," or "We hope to make it a good year."

It was during Scheffing's year in 1961 that the Tigers came the closest to winning the flag.

Kaline hit .324, played the entire season without serious injury and had his best year since the 1955 campaign when he won the batting title as a 29-year-old with a .340 mark.

Injuries of various sorts have plagued Kaline since then, and everything else from manager changes to pitching flops have plagued the Tigers.

"Our younger guys have a Mickey Stanley give the Tigers couple years experience under the best bench and outfield their belts now, and there are depth probably in history of the club."

Manager Smith noted that Kaline hasn't won the full season since 1961 and Norm Cash may need an occasional rest at first as result of a hernia surgery last winter.

"This would give us a chance to get Brown or Stanley into the lineup," said Smith.

SEMA Quintets Divide Contests

Two Southeast Michigan Association members had contrasting success in their own Class A District basketball meets Thursday night.

Royal Oak Kimball reached the finals of its district by holding off Madison, 58-54. Host Southfield, however, ran out of time and lost to Detroit Catholic Central, 67-50, in another tuesday.

At Warren Fitzgerald, the Spartans trimmed Warren Lincoln, 60-47, and will meet Cousin for that Class A title this Saturday night.

The Fitzgerald "B" tourney will pair Warren Mott and Royal Oak Shrine in Saturday's final twinbill opener.

Shrine edged past Madison Heights Lamphere, 69-45, last night. Clarenceville and Dearborn Riverside advanced to the Northville "B" finals with wins Thursday, also.

Clarenceville whipped Luthers, 65-53; and Riverside averaged two regular season losses with a 75-55 conquest of Dearborn Westwood.

At Marlette, Imlay City slipped past Millington, 58-57, and will meet Crowell-Lexington (a 72-61 winner over Sandusky) for that Class B district crown Saturday night.

Mount Clemens St. Mary tripped New Haven, 56-48, for a Class C title at Roseville, and Marysville thumped Anson Bay for Port Huron Northern, 84-53, to gain that "B" final against Marine City.

Kimball led all the way against Madison, but the Eagles cut the lead to 55-54 with 30 seconds to play. Jay Brown then sank a free throw for Kimball with 10 seconds remaining, and Larry Lancaster added two more after the final buzzer.

The win evened Kimball's record at 9-9 and put it in Saturday night's tie game with cross-town rival Dondoro. The winner will play in the Birmingham Seaholm regional.

BIG LEAD

Catholic Central led Southfield by 22 points in the third quarter, then saw a 17-point fourth-quarter bulge trimmed to three before foul shots padded it to the final margin of seven.

Nick Perri's 29 points and Ron Gutkowski's 22 paced the CC (15-1), who hadn't played in two weeks. Southfield was paced by Dave Kontry's 22 and Glen Lenhoff's 21.

Catholic Central's Irish now play Detroit Thurston in the final Saturday. Thurston dumped Oak Park, 63-56, in last night's opener at Southfield.

Oakland A League champion Fitzgerald can average its only loss by beating Cousin, the O-A runner-up for the Warren "A" district crown. John Pashoff is 19 in Fitzgerald last night.

John Thompson's 29, including 11 field goals, and Ron Ray's 17 paced Clarenceville to its sixth win in a row.

Biddle Sailing Film Slated March 21

The American Youth Hostels presents its fifth annual showing of John Biddle, yachting photographer-lecturer, at the Ford Auditorium in Detroit.

Biddle's latest sail film, "Those Magnificent Sailing Machines," is scheduled for March 21 at 8:30 p.m. This film features the 1966 Yacht Race to Bermuda.

Further information may be obtained from the American Youth Hostels, 14335 W. Mc Nichols, Detroit.

Imlay City's 15th victory was a slim one over a Millington crew the Spartans had defeated by five and eight points earlier this season. John Tople's two free throws with 11 seconds to play clinched the victory despite a final bucket by the Cardinals' Don Sergeant, who notched 23 points in the contest.

Royal Oak Shrine was paced by guards Mickey Brzezinski (18 markers) and Dave Yeager (15).

Lamphere rallied for a 26-11 final period bulge but couldn't overtake the Knights. Shrine (who reached the "B" state semifinals last March) couldn't handle Dan Leskiewicz.

The Lamphere guard followed up his 34-point performance earlier in the district tourney with 31.

Adrian '5' Bowls

ADRIAN (AP)—Adrian's Bulldogs finished one of their worst basketball seasons Thursday night, bowing to Defiance of Ohio, 83-71, for their 18th setback against three victories. Dan Terhune of Defiance topped individual scoring with 27 points. Paul Martini led Adrian with 13.

By JERE CRAIG

The defending Big Ten All Event bowling champion, John Bennett of 4500 Kemp in Waterford Township, hasn't lost his touch.

The 19-year-old Michigan State University sophomore qualified for the American Bowling Congress college division nationals next month at Miami Beach last weekend on the Central Michigan University campus.

He led the all-events phase of the Region VII bowling eliminations in the Association of College Unions' competition. He totaled 1817 actual pins for his nine games.

He bowled consistently well, with a 236 high game. Needing a 200 to gain the berth, he completed his qualifying with a 215 game.

Bennett aided an MSU team to victory and placed third in the singles, too. In all, 18 colleges from Ohio and Michigan participated. Bennett carries a 196 average on the Michigan State campus.

The Dublin Doubles Tournament at Cowley Lanes has been won by Bill Steed of Pontiac and Leon Doyon of Union Lake. Their 1342 total held up through the final weekend of the competition that drew a record number of entries this year.

Union Lake's Dick Viles and Dick Dewey hit 1319 last weekend to tie for third with early leaders Charles Barnett and Guy Coleman (both Pontiac) and Ron Lundy (Pontiac) and Jesse Hart Davisburg.

Second place went to Primo Allagreen Jr. (Union Lake) and Al Schupbach (Waterford Township). They had 1323 the same weekend Steed and Doyon grabbed first place, which was worth $500. The runners-up will split $250.

All prize checks will be mailed after final verification of the averages.

Tournament officials "Doc" Moore, Joe Lesar and Lowell Foster attributed the increased turnout to hard work by committee members Morris Karner, Yvonne Seppamaki, Robert Campbell, Hugh Findlay and Paul Wittes.

Schupbach also teamed with his son Al, Jr., last weekend to lead the major division of Airway Lanes' annual Father-and-Son Tournament. They had a 1294 handicap total.

In the preps event, Lee Luenberger and son Danny tied Mike and Ror Otella for first place with 1282.

Bob Sines and his son Kelly had 1311 to lead the juniors; and the adult division was paced by the 1358 of Robert and Mike Krosiue. In all, 23 trophies were presented.

Record Scores in Mixed Loops

Mixed leagues seem to be bringing out the best in the Pontiac area men bowlers this season.

Dick Bayer's record-setting 735 at Mavis Lanes in the Friday night mixed circuit last week was followed Sunday at Sylvan Lanes with a house record 759 by Pat Treacy.

Treacy's 264-274-221 trio in the Sylvan Mixed League is the highest for the area this season, supplanting the 753 bowled in December by Ed Marsh in a North Hill Lanes "reed" loop.

Sylvan circuit secretary Arlene Lupino is claiming an all-time mixed league high for Treacy until his 759 is disputed.

Tuesday's Airway Lanes, Classic had a 696 by Bill Crawford (269-217), a 249-222-676 by Guido Infante and a 257-225-668 by Howard Dietzel.

Four 'Ex-Inmates' Reminisce

White House Life Recalled

By FRANCES LEWINE
WASHINGTON (AP) — As four former "ex-inmates" — as Margaret Truman dubbed them — sat in the White House and discussed life there as they knew it: The pranks, the pressures and the "pinch-me" feelings.

Their memories spanned 62 years of life with father — the President.

And they ranged from the antics of "Quentin's gang" — enraging his father, President Theodore Roosevelt, by firing spitballs at a famous painting, to the revelations of Bess Truman as a ping pong whiz.

The historic soiree took place Thursday night at the last of a series of six reception-buffet suppers President and Mrs. Truman have been giving for members of Congress.

BRIEFING FOR CONGRESSMEN

Downstairs, the President and top officials briefed some 70 congressmen on serious political matters.

Upstairs, in the second-floor rose and white queen's bedroom, the tales of yesteryear were spun before Mrs. Johnson, daughter Lynda and the congressmen's wives.

"Living in this house is fascinating, but it's not what you'd call lots of fun," concluded Harry Truman's daughter, Margaret, now the wife of New York newspaperman Clifton Daniel.

"I always had that pinch-me feeling," said Barbara Eisenhower, daughter-in-law of President Dwight D. Eisenhower.

YOUTHFUL PRANKS

Charles Phelps Taft, now 69 and a Cincinnati resident, could remember lots of youthful pranks when his father, William Howard Taft, was president. They included jamming the elevator and playing a game of charades with brother Bob, the late Sen. Robert A. Taft, dressed in his mother's clothes.

And, he remembered being stopped for speeding at 30 miles an hour in the Taft family's Pierce-Arrow by a policeman — riding a bicycle.

"Sislie" Dall, beloved granddaughter of Franklin D. Roosevelt and now Mrs. Van H. Seagaves of Washington, had fond memories of visiting "Poppa" Roosevelt while he breakfasted in bed and of "Grandmère" Eleanor teaching her grandchildren manners with such advice as "never make yourself disagreeable in public."

BUSY BATHTUBS

Once when grandson "Buzzie" (Curtis) Dall was making himself disagreeable by crying loudly in the hall, "Sislie" recalled Mrs. Roosevelt admonishing him to find a bathtub to cry in. An hour later, when she found Buzzie still crying — this time in a pillow — he explained: "I tried to find one — but all our bathtubs are full," an indication of the busy presidential home-life.

"Sislie," who spent youthful years in the White House, said the teen years were the hardest. "It made me withdraw from the world" because, she explained, living in that grand atmosphere made one feel so unimportant. Margaret Truman's remembrances included her discovery of a secret wartime map room at the White House. "Never tell anyone until I tell you you can," Truman warned his daughter when he found she had located the secret operation.

MOTHER A 'WHIZ'

Margaret also recalled "mother and I played ping pong on the third floor — mother was a whiz" and they lost numerous balls batted through a skylight. Life with father Truman had its tests moments, Margaret revealed. He came by and knocked on her door every morning because he "never had any confidence in my getting up — and he was right."

The three years they lived across the street in Blair House during a White House renovation "was heaven," said Margaret. But Truman organized family expeditions every Sunday to inspect the White House work.

"Daddy was a great one for checking up on everyone," she noted. "He was always checking on me to see if I was in."

Barbara Eisenhower, who didn't actually live in the White House, told how she and her family stayed there frequently to keep the President company while first lady Mamie visited her mother in Denver.

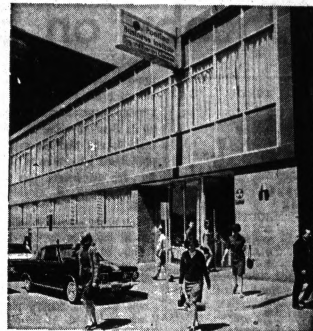

"It was a great vacation for me," said Barbara, but hard to adjust to her modest home afterwards.

On their last night in the White House, Barbara recalled the last Secret Service man coming to say goodbye. "This is the end of something beautiful," she said as she watched him depart down the path.

"Don't worry, mother," son David consoled her, "I put notes behind all the pictures and they say 'I shall return.'" pressed. He pointed out that the six heart contract was a very good one and that it was up to South to play safe to make it and that the safety play would have been to play the ace of hearts just to guard against a singleton king.

South could not guard against four to the king by any line of play, so all the finesse did was to give some chance to make seven.

How bad was South's play? It was really bad. At the other table North and South did make three no-trump and did make

This James Jacoby cost a National Championship back in the '30s. It was board-a-match team of four in which your score is compared only with the score of the pair playing the hand against your partners.

South was one of a group of experts who like to outguess themselves. He looked over dummy carefully and decided that North at the other table would be playing in six no-trump.

He saw that six no-trump would pick up four card tricks and the only way to do that would be to find East with specifically the king and one heart.

So this unlucky expert won the spade lead in dummy and led a heart to his queen. He was going to make seven hearts if he could find that king-small with East, and would still make six hearts against any 3-2 heart break.

South wasn't dismayed when West produced the king but he was rather upset when West showed out on the second heart lead. South had to go down one trick.

He did explain to his partner, "It shouldn't make any difference. Our opponents will be in six no-trump and will go down two."

NASA Brass Gathering to Fight Cuts in Budget

By Science Service

WASHINGTON — The real battle hasn't started yet, but the troops are already out in force. The top brass of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration gathered on mass this week to defend their $5.05-billion budget against a siege by the House Science Committee that could last for weeks.

Even in the calm of the first encounter, NASA chief James E. Webb fired volley after volley, using both the Russians and the U.S. aerospace industry as his weapons.

The Russians have been active with very large rockets for four years, Webb said. "I believe they are clearly ahead of the U.S. and will stay ahead."

Included in NASA's proposed budget is a nuclear-powered upper-stage rocket which could produce a quarter of a million pounds of thrust and could double the payload capability of the huge Saturn V booster that will send the Apollo astronauts to the moon.

As Webb was digging in on Capitol Hill, President Johnson joined the fray on the side of the nuclear rocket by sending Congress a request for $91 million for Project Rover.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 - Nov. 21): Fall through on hunch, intuition apt to prove accurate. Some friends may act in greater freedom of expression due to but don't force issues.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 - Dec. 21): Fine time for taking inventory. Get rid of non-essentials. Stress ability to make best use of possessions. Be versatile. Have compliment could be received later.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 - Jan. 19): Some circumstances sail in your favor. You can safely take initiative. State needs. You're apt to get what you request. Key is CHOOSE WISELY.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20 - Feb. 18): Question of who owns what could arise. Draw upon experience. Remember you are not without allies. If you hold your ground . . . odds are that you get it.

PISCES (Feb. 19 - Mar. 20): If you put off adjustments there are apt to be painful breaks. Apply especially to home, domestic situation. Make effort to correct past errors. Then events flow smoothly.

IF SATURDAY IS YOUR BIRTHDAY . . . you have greater chance now for material success. Your natural curiosity leads you into interesting, unique places and projects.

He Didn't Succeed . . . the First Time

MEXICO CITY (UPI)—Manuel Orozco, 18, apparently despondent because of his mother's illness, jumped from the third floor window of his home yesterday.

He landed unhurt, and was helped back to the apartment.

Once inside, police said, he shot himself to death with a shotgun.

WHY THE BIG BRAIN WAVES, MAJOR? I'VE SEEN YOU SURFIN' ON SOME ROUGH WATER, BUT YOU'VE NEVER BEEN WIPE OUT LIKE THIS BEFORE!

THOSE DRATTED BOARDERS TRICKED ME INTO SAYING I COULD CONQUER SMOG TWIGGS! BUT AFTER CLOSER ANALYSIS OF THE QUESTION I FIND IT'S RATHER COMPLEX!

DO YOU THINK GIANT FANS ON OUR TALLEST BUILDINGS WOULD WORK?

OUT OUR WAY

OH, I STILL DO IT, EVEN AFTER TWENTY YEARS UP AND DOWN HERE!

THE FATHEAD! AIN'T HE GOT NO PRIDE? IT'S THE ONLY THING HE'S BETTER AT THAN A GUY LIKE TH' BULL—WHY DON'T HE TAKE A LITTLE ADVANTAGE OF IT?

YOU HAVE TO THINK A LITTLE! YOU SHOULD MAKE EVEN A WHEEL-BARROW JOB LOOK AS IMPORTANT AS POSSIBLE!

THE BERRYS

JUST REMEMBER THESE PEOPLE ARE VERY GOOD FRIENDS OF THE COOPER-ROBERTSONS.

THE BORN LOSER

OF COURSE, YOU KNEW WHOM I WAS REFERRING TO, MARTHA, AND I KNEW THAT YOU KNEW, BUT THEN THERE WAS JOSEPHINE AND YOU KNOW THAT SHE DIDN'T KNOW THAT I KNEW THAT YOU KNEW WHOM I WAS REFERRING TO WHEN I REFERRED TO—

EEK & MEEK

...AND SO THAT CONCLUDES OUR PROGRAMMING FOR TODAY! GNITE ALL!

NO! NO! IT'S ONLY 3 A.M.

OH, WELL, LET'S SEE WHAT'S ON AT 3 IN THE MORNING!

HERE'S SOMETHING... A 1931 DOCUMENTARY FILM ABOUT INDUSTRIAL WALNUTS!

(SIGH) ONE OF THESE DAYS I'M GONNA HAVE TO KICK THIS HABIT!

NANCY

THAT WAS A NICE MEAL, BUT I HAVEN'T ANY MONEY

WELL THEN YOU'LL HAVE TO GO TO THE KITCHEN AND WASH DISHES

THAT SOUNDS FAIR ENOUGH

I HAVEN'T ANY MONEY—I GUESS I'LL JUST HAVE TO WASH THE GLASSES

ALLEY OOP

WE CAN'T JUST LET THEM MOVE IN ON US!

HOW DO WE KEEP 'EM OUT IF YOU CAN FIND REPLACEMENTS FOR OUR BEAT-UP MOVIE IN ON US!

WELL, THERE'S THOSE KOOKY PRISONERS WE GOT IN TV CLUNK!

WHEN Y'GET DOWN TO RECRUITING PRISONERS, YOU'RE IN BAD TROUBLE!

THAT'S RIGHT.

...SO LET'S GO HAVE A LOOK AT 'EM!

WHAT CAN WE LOSE?

Golden Opportunity Results in Wild Goose Chase for 9

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Warren Davidson held the three-page manuscript of a contract labeled "Mara Laboratories, Inc."

It contained three signatures including his and promised him two years of lucrative employment.

But Davidson can't find his employer. Nor can seven other aerospace workers who, with contracts in their pockets, severed roots in Florida and drove to Los Angeles.

The men were told they would be working for $200 to $300 a week producing a revolutionary nuclear engine under a $5-million advance on a 14-year federal contract. Most of them are not working anywhere.

SLEEPS ON FLOOR
One family sleeps on an apartment floor because movers won't release their furniture.

One man made a down payment on a house reportedly worth $40,000 and has no salary to make the payments. Another found the house he had bought was owned by somebody else.

Two have borrowed jobs but all are living on borrowed money. They — and the FBI — won't say why. If it was a fraud scheme, it was hardly worth the trouble. Two men say they gave $1,215 to a man to make down payments on Southern California houses. No other money changed hands.

10-YEAR VETERAN
Davidson, 28, a slender, crewcut veteran of 10 years as an Army electronics technician, sat Thursday in his small apartment in Canoga Park, one of several suburbs dotted with aerospace company plants.

Fingering his contract, he described how a large advertisement in an Orlando newspaper attracted him, his wife and two daughters — and 19 other persons — from jobs near Cape Kennedy.

"We went through a regular interview. I was hired the first time. Everything was absolutely believable. All of us were hired as production supervisors."

Davidson and the others were signed the contract the 26th of October.

Davidson and the others were told they would set up a production line Feb. 1 in a 2,000-man plant near Newhall, 30 miles northwest of Los Angeles. When Davidson arrived here he drove to the Van Nuys address listed on his contract. It was an empty suite in a building housing an FBI office.

OTHER CONTRACT-HOLDERS
He learned who the other contract-holders were from the company that moved their furniture. There were nine then.

Gov. Paul Laxalt recently appointed Hocker to the warden's post with instructions to toughen up prison discipline.

Hocker said he wanted to replace gambling with "more constructive activities."

Of the Inmate Advisory Council action, the warden said, "I think that's healthy."

The prison newspaper "The Sagebrush" said recreation also will be improved with addition of handball, softball, volleyball and new basketball courts.

Abandoned solitary confinement quarters called "the cave" will be converted into a woodworking and leatherworking shop.

The casino, called "the bull-pen," will be replaced by a new mess hall and guard tower.

Paper Is Sold in Cleveland

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Samuel I. Newhouse has purchased the Cleveland Plain Dealer — reportedly for $50 million, the highest price paid for a single newspaper in the history of American journalism.

The short and peppery 72-year-old Newhouse now has 22 newspapers coast to coast, counting morning and evening papers in the same city separately but not counting Sunday editions. Their total circulation is about 3.3 million.

The Plain Dealer — Ohio's largest morning paper with a circulation of 377,000 on weekdays and 526,401 on Sundays — is now the largest in the Newhouse newspaper group.

Newhouse, eldest of eight children of Russian immigrant parents, also owns television and radio stations and magazines.

NOTICE TO RESIDENTS OF THE CITY OF PONTIAC

All residents of the City of Pontiac are advised of two new provisions of City Ordinance No. 860 which regulates dogs within the City Limits.

- Effective at once, any dog picked up within the City of Pontiac and confined to the Oakland County Animal Shelter may not be released until the owner has paid the sum of five dollars ($5.00) to the City Treasurer in City Hall. The receipt for this payment must be presented at the animal shelter. This charge is in addition to the impounding fee and boarding charge levied by Oakland County at the animal shelter. (The City Treasurer's Office is open from 8 A.M. to 5 P.M., Monday through Friday, Oakland County Animal Shelter at the County Service Center is open from 8 A.M. to 5 P.M., Monday through Friday, and from 8 A.M. to 3 P.M. on Saturday.) Before the County Animal Shelter attendant will release the dog, the owner must show that the dog has been licensed for the current year and has been vaccinated against rabies.
- Effective March 1, 1968, no person shall keep more than three (3) dogs of the age of six (6) months or over on any one property in the City of Pontiac. The only exception is those who keep dogs for sale, boarding, breeding or training purposes, and have obtained a kennel license from the State of Michigan.

Coin Dealers' Show Sunday

The West Pontiac Area Coin Show will be held from 10:30 a.m. to 6 p.m. Sunday at the Italian-American Club, 80 N. Tilden, Waterford Township.

Twenty coin dealers from Michigan and Canada are expected to present displays at the show.

To be exhibited are old and rare coins, including silver, mint sets, proof sets, uncirculated rolls, foreign and domestic coins and bills.

Coins will be appraised at no cost.

Door prizes will be awarded each half hour, according to James L. Ockerman Sr., show chairman. Main prize is a $5 gold piece.

3 Complain of 'Sharing' Hotel Suite

SAN JUAN, P.R. (UPI)—The Better Business Bureau in San Juan has received a two-inch cockroach in the mail from Detroit along with a complaint that it was one of hundreds killed by tourists in a San Juan hotel.

The letter, signed by three Detroit women, complained they rented what was advertised as a "suite deluxe" only to find that the bed had to be pulled out of the closet, and it was infested with cockroaches.

"The enclosed specimen is not the biggest of the roach life that ran rampant in our 'suite deluxe,'" the letter said. "The one which we could not catch was half again as big."

"For our peace of mind, the multitude was only average."

"By actual count we killed 15 the first night and 50 the second night after spraying the bathroom."

The letter was signed by M. F. Ester, Mary M. Taylor and Almada R. Nurray.

The Better Business Bureau did not disclose the name of the hotel.

Boy, 14, Lectures 6th Graders on Science

By JEAN SAILE
A 14-year-old giving science lectures to a group of sixth graders?

About copper plating and electrolysis and chemical elements and all that kind of dirty remembered things that most of "us older generation" weren't exposed to until a 12th grade chemistry course?

And making it interesting? And maintaining order? And being unfailingly polite and self-possessed?

A junior high schooler? You bet!

PART OF TEAM

He's part of a team from junior high, available for science demonstrations at the elementary and parochial schools in the district east of Pontiac.

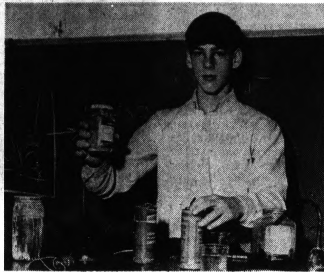

"It's good public speaking experience," the dark-haired youngster confided before the lecture. He has hopes of becoming a mechanical engineer.

From a big white shopping bag he produced old jam and pickle jars filled with interesting looking material and set about explaining their contents.

"This blue stuff," he said, "is copper sulfate," and he wrote the words on the blackboard. "You use two teaspoonful in a glass of water for this experiment. You can get it at the drug store."

ORDINARY BATTERY
John produced two one-and-a-half volt batteries, but told his watchers that for home experiments an ordinary flashlight battery would do as well.

Wires followed and John ran one from the positive pole — "the one with the nubbin on the end" — and one from the negative pole — "the bottom" — into the solution.

John Alioto Knows His Science

"Now you've got to have some copper," he said and a penny was produced.

"The copper is connected to the positive pole," he affirmed and immediately asked "Which pole?"

COPPER TO POSITIVE

"The copper to the positive" the class affirmed in unison.

A smiling little girl with long straight hair offered a ring to be copper-plated and then spent a good bit of time afterwards wondering whether the copper could be taken off.

John finally did it by reversing the electrolysis process along toward the close of the lecture.

Meantime he'd fascinated the students with his translation of the experiment as a practical means of extracting pure ore in mining, the use of the process in silver-plating cutlery and dishes, and the coppering of copper-bottom pans.

'CURVE' QUESTION

He'd handled the "curve" question of just how the process takes place and it was obvious he knew what he was talking about.

Of prime interest to some of the boys in the audience was John's use of sulphuric acid in cleaning the ring, a dime, and a Boy Scout medal which all became copper-plated.

And though he said and repeated that the students at home find that steel wool did equally as well in cleaning he was besieged with questions regarding the dangerous acid.

S. LYON PICKS

It wound up in a safety talk on John's part with him telling how the acid had bent a spoon used to stir it in an earlier demonstration at Stiles School.

BURNT A KEY

One child questioned the use of too much electricity was informed that John had burnt a key he was plating by using a 6-volt battery.

The audience watched the penny grow thinner and a dime grow fatter.

"You have to be careful not to get it too thick," said John. "Otherwise you can't use it in a slot machine."

SOUTH LYON

Under the city charter, all City Council offices on the ballot must have opposition candidates. Only Noel had filed nominating petitions for the position by the deadline two weeks ago.

Schuster, 52, of 382 Whipple ran for mayor in 1965 and lost.

The council also appointed former member Robert Pollock to fill a justice of the peace post vacated recently by Mary Ann Miller.

A recent attorney general's opinion stated that council appointment eliminates the need to fill the vacancy by election.

Official Asked to Repay $200

WOLVERINE LAKE — Village President Oscar Fritz is being asked to reimburse the council $200 which it paid him, upon his request, for an airplane trip here from Florida in January.

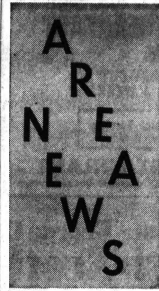

Fritz flew up here when the council appointed Clifford Cottrell as chief administrative officer, an action which it later rescinded. Cottrell resigned when the council did away with the newly created position.

Several citizens reportedly complained about the council's action in reimbursing Fritz and sought a legal opinion from Village Attorney Gene Schelz.

Schelz said that a section of the charter calls for reimbursement of councilmen for expenses incurred on village business.

In his opinion, he said, Fritz's trip did not come under the heading of village business.

His ruling that Fritz should reimburse the council has been sent to him in Florida, Schelz said. He said Fritz is expected to return this month.

S. Lyon Picks Mayoral foe

SOUTH LYON — Henry Schuster, former unsuccessful candidate for mayor, has been named to oppose Mayor John E. Noel in the April 3 city election.

Under the city charter, all City Council offices on the ballot must have opposition candidates. Only Noel had filed nominating petitions for the position by the deadline two weeks ago.

Schuster, 52, of 382 Whipple ran for mayor in 1965 and lost.

The council also appointed former member Robert Pollock to fill a justice of the peace post vacated recently by Mary Ann Miller.

A recent attorney general's opinion stated that council appointment eliminates the need to fill the vacancy by election.

Troy Workers Vote for Union

TROY — Contract negotiations between the city and its workers are expected to begin in about a week, according to Paul York, city manager.

Hourly rated nonsupervisory personnel voted 28 to 6 Tuesday in a State Mediation Board election to have the American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees represent them.

Ham Dinner at Thomas

THOMAS — The Community Association will serve a ham dinner at 5:30 p.m. Tuesday at the Thomas Community Hall, 487 First.

School Sets In-Service Meeting

WALLED LAKE — "How to Improve Instruction in the Content Areas" will be discussed at a day-long meeting for teachers at the Clifford Smart Junior High School. Students will be dismissed for the day.

Main speaker at the meeting will be Dr. Byron Chapman, director of the Most Foundation's Adult Literacy Program.

Other speakers will be Robert Paine, social studies consultant for the Oakland Schools, and Albert Schulte, mathematics instructor with Oakland Schools.

Dr. Virginia Swager, director of the Oakland County Reading Clinic, will discuss "The Intellectually Inhibited Child" with the school's remedial teachers.

Department meetings on student motivation, instructional procedures, and vocabulary growth are also scheduled for the in-service session.

Wolverine Lake Filing Deadline Is Tomorrow

WOLVERINE LAKE — The deadline for filing nominating petitions for the April 3 election is 6 p.m. tomorrow.

Three four-year council terms and two two-year terms will be filled at the election.

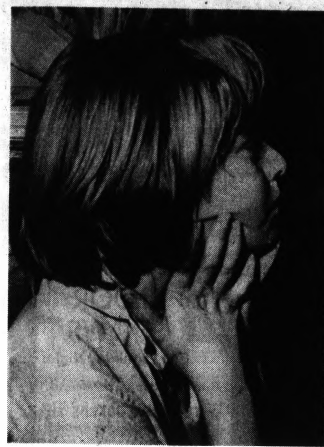

Two proposals will also be on the ballot. One seeks approval for councilmen to receive up to $150 a year for attending council meetings.

They would have to attend to be paid $12.50 per meeting. The second proposal would do away with the charter requirement that two candidates must file for each vacant post.

Under the present charter, if less than two persons file for a vacant office, someone must be appointed to run for election.

PTA on Scouting

WALLED LAKE — Girl Scouting will be featured at the 8 p.m. meeting Monday of the Wall Lake Elementary School PTA. The state of nominees for the annual April election of officers will also be presented.

Agape And Curious

Utica Voters to Decide Pay Increases for Officials

UTICA — Voters in the city will be asked Monday to approve pay increases for the mayor, assessor and councilmen.

The suggested increases are from $1,000 to $2,500 a year for the mayor and assessor and from $10 to $25 per meeting for councilmen.

Utica's spring election for positions of mayor, treasurer, assessor and councilmen will take place April 3.

Clerk Mrs. Eunice Kopietz explained that the raise in salaries requires a charter amendment and that, as such, it must receive the approval of the governor.

At the time the charter change request was submitted, it was felt that a primary election would be needed, so a March 6 date was set to handle both the change and the primary.

As it turned out, according to Mrs. Kopietz, there was little opposition to incumbents — not enough to warrant a primary — but the date for the salary raise vote had already been fixed.

Program in Milford

'Helping Hand' for Children

By JANICE KLOUSER
MILFORD — Children who run into trouble on their way to or from school will soon find that help is as near as the nearest "helping hand" symbol.

The Helping Hand Program will be initiated on an experimental basis in the village next month. If it proves successful, it will be extended to cover the rest of the Huron Valley School District.

Sponsored by the Milford Jayettes, the unique program is designed to provide safety and protection for children on their way to and from school.

Each block of their route they will be watched by "block watchers" who will display a picture of a hand as a symbol to children of help and safety.

Children will be educated to know that this wordless sign means help in case of injury, bullying by other children, if they become lost or if they are threatened by a child molester.

The program, being coordinated by Mrs. John E. Fought, 735 Squire Lane, already has the approval of the Village Council, the police department and the board of education.

The next step for the Jayettes is to contact school principals and PTAs to explain the program to them. Explanatory material will be sent home through the schools, and teachers will be asked to emphasize the program to their students.

They are also attempting to recruit volunteers upon the recommendations of area ministers and the police department.

So far 10 persons have volunteered. Mrs. Fought said that 2,000 signs are being printed.

"NEED HELP"
"We need all the help we can get," she said. "This program has been successful where it has been tried."

A complete list of volunteers will be kept on file at the police department.

The goal, according to Mrs. Fought is to have a "watcher" at each end of the block and in the middle if the block is exceptionally long.

Responsibilities of the volunteers will include:

• Call the police immediately in any case involving a crime of an adult against a child or a malicious act of one child against another.

• Fill in and mail a special postcard to the Jayettes coordinators when the hand is used.

• Call police if the presence of a molester is suspected.

RESTRICTIONS

The volunteers are not to administer first aid, transport the child in their car or give food or beverages because the child may be allergic.

They are not expected to break up fights or give medical attention, only to bring the situation to the attention of the proper authorities and the parents.

Mrs. Fought said the program was instituted by the Jayettes at the suggestion of one of its members, Mrs. Mike McDermitt, 737 Duxess.

"We have great hopes for the program," she said, "because there are definite hazards in town, such as the railroad, blind spots, sharp corners and no sidewalks."

Pontiac Press Photo

SYMBOL OF SAFETY: "If you ever need help, look for this sign in somebody's window," Mrs. John E. Fought, 735 Squire Lane, Milford, tells her daughter, Jennifer (left), and Kimberly Barr, 767 Friar, Milford. Mrs. Fought is coordinator of the Helping Hand Program which will be started next month in Milford.

Last of Latin Lovers
Is Ramon Novarro

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer
HOLLYWOOD — Once there were three Latin lovers of the silent screen. Now only one remains: Ramon Novarro.

The greatest of them all was Rudolph Valentino, the Italian who swept damsels off their high-button shoes in such films as "Blood and Sand," "The Eagle," "The Sheik" and "Son of the Sheik." His death at 31 in 1926 was followed by one of the most riotous funerals in American history.

Another member of the triumvirate was Madrid-born Antonio Moreno, who died Feb. 15 at the age of 80. He provided romantic support for many of the screen's high-powered actresses: Gloria Swanson, Dorothy Gish, etc. He was relegated to supporting roles with the advent of sound.

The remaining Latin is Novarro, born Ramon Samaniego in Durango, Mexico, 68 years ago. The star of the silent "Ben Hur," "The Prisoner of Zenda," "Scaramouche," etc., his stardom lasted well into the sound era.

CHARACTER WORK

Until recently Novarro continued his career as a character actor in movies and television.

The death of Moreno prompted me to seek out Novarro at his San Fernando Valley home.

"I met Valentino only once," he recalled. "It was through Natasha Rambova (his actress wife) when I was ushering at the Philharmonic Auditorium here. I was also playing extra in films at the time. Natasha introduced me to Valentino, who was a big star then."

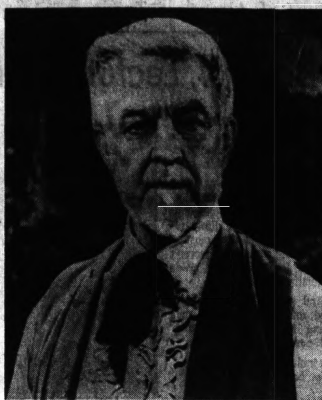

"Antonio I knew, but not too well. We used to meet every year at a dinner party given on Dec. 15 by some friends of ours. We always had a good time together, but we were never close friends."

VARYING STYLES

The varying styles of the three Latinos? "I'd say Valentino was more of the sexy type," Novarro analyzed. "Antonio was always very much the gentleman. As for myself, my style was romantic comedy."

Novarro, gray-haired but still handsome, left no doubt that he favored his own era in films over the present one.

"I was just talking about that the other night with a friend," he remarked. "We were discussing the old days in Hollywood, and I said that it is too bad there is no glamour left in movies any more. They're not trying in the studios any more; everything is in too much of a hurry."

LAST OF BREED—Ramon Novarro, now 68, is the last of Hollywood's triumvirate of silent-screen Latin lovers. Rudolph Valentino died in 1926 and Antonio Moreno last month. Novarro has continued work in films and television until recently.

300 From City to Play at Event

Some 300 junior high school musicians from Pontiac will participate in the District IV Michigan School Band and Orchestra Festival tomorrow in Southfield.

Members of five instrumental organizations will play and have an opportunity to evaluate other orchestras and bands from southeastern Michigan.

Representing the Pontiac Music Department will be a Washington Junior High School orchestra under the direction of Robert Peterson. It will perform at 9:20 a.m. at Southfield High School.

The four participating bands include Madison's, directed by Thomas Course, and Washington's, directed by Jerry Irish. These are scheduled to play at Birney Junior High School at 8:40 a.m. and 2:15 p.m. respectively.

The Lincoln Band, directed by Terry O'Neill, and Jefferson Band, directed by Fred Smith, are scheduled to play at Levy Junior High School at 10:10 a.m. and 3:50 respectively.

Members of the Jefferson and Madison bands will be wearing their new blazers recently purchased by the respective student councils and band members.

Performances are open to the public.

Coveted Recording Honors

Sinatra Wins Three Grammys

starting gate last night when he walked off with three top Grammy awards.

His "Strangers in the Night" was voted the best vocal performance of the year for male singers and also was named the top record of the year. In addition, his album "Sinatra: A Man and His Music" was voted the best album of the year.

The Grammy awards, the recording industry's most coveted honors, are awarded annually.

Best female vocal performance went to Eydie Gorme for her recording of "If He Walked Into My Life."

Other winners included: Song of the year (a songwriters' award): "Michelle" by John Lennon and Paul McCartney, a couple of Beatles.

INSTRUMENTAL
Best instrumental performance: "What Now, My Love," Herb Alpert and the Tijuana Brass.

Best contemporary group performance: "Monday, Monday," The Mamas and the Papas.

Best performance by a vocal group: "A Man and a Woman," Anita Kerr Singers.

MOVIE SCORE
Best original score written for a motion picture: "Dr. Zhivago," by Maurice Jarre.
Best score from an original cast show album: "Mame," by Jerry Herman.

Best contemporary recording: "Winchester Cathedral," New Vaudeville Band.

Best contemporary solo vocal performance: "Eleanor Rigby," Paul McCartney.

FOLK RECORDING
Best folk recording: "Blues in the Street," Corella Clark.

Best country and western recording: "Almost Persuaded," David Houston.

Album of the year (classical): "Ives: Symphony No. 1 in D Minor," Mervyn Guldner and the Chicago Symphony Orchestra.

Best opera recording: "Wagner: Die Walkure," George Solti and the Vienna Philharmonic Orchestra. Principal soloists: Nilsson, Crespini, Ludwig, King, Hostler.

Best vocal solo performance (classical): "Prima Donna," Leontyne Price with the RCA Italiana Opera Orchestra, Francesco Molinari-Pradelli conducting.

ARSON SUSPECTED—Arson experts from the Trenton police and fire departments are sifting through the gutted interior of the Beth Isaac Synagogue, which was believed set afire by an arsonist Tuesday night.

Found at the scene was an empty gallon can of paint remover. A burned scroll hangs on the charred remains of the Star of David, and hate symbols are scrawled on a basement blackboard.

Other Faiths Offer Jews Aid

Start Fund to Restore Destroyed Synagogue

TRENTON (AP)—Sympathizers of other faiths offered aid today to fire-damaged Beth Isaac Synagogue, desecrated by a suspected arsonist Wednesday night.

A ministerial group began a collection to provide funds for restoration of a loss estimated by firemen well over $10,000.

Police continued a search for the man who apparently set the blaze in a stack of prayer books and scrolls he had placed on the altar. Apparently the same man chalked a swastika on a synagogue school blackboard.

The culprit was believed the same one who defaced the synagogue's exterior with swastikas and anti-Jewish obscenities last Oct. 3.

AID OFFERED
The Rev. Jay Coulton, rector of St. Thomas Episcopal Church, was among the clergymen in this industrial city downriver from Detroit who offered aid.

"We want to show our concern and penance for what was done and do whatever we can in a material way to assist the synagogue," Mr. Coulton said.

Mrs. Isadore Mullias, whose husband helped to build the synagogue three years ago, was an onlooker as firemen brought out charred remnants of objects of worship.

"I was just sick. I cried," Mrs. Mullias said.

Chou En-lai Adds Power in Struggle

TOKYO (AP) — Premier Chou En-lai's star rose higher over turbulent Red China today with an indication from Peking that Mao Tse-tung has given him some of the military authority of Defense Minister Lin Biao.

The Maoist-controlled New China News Agency reported that Chou spoke at a Red Guard rally Feb. 22 on behalf of Mao, Lin and the Communist party central committee's military affairs commission, the country's supreme military body.

Chou has not been listed as a member of the commission, which Mao heads with Lin as its active director. Continuing reports of agitation against units of the 2.5-million-man Chinese army may have prompted Mao to name Chou to the military commission. As a vice chairman of it, he would be empowered to issue orders to the army, which Lin presumably has not been able to do for some unexplained reason.

STILL NO 2

However, the Peking report made clear that Lin is still No. 2 to Mao, referring to him as Mao's "close comrade-in-arms," a distinction accorded no one else.

Lin, who suffers periodically from tuberculosis, has not been reported seen in Peking since last November.

There have been unconfirmed, but persistent reports of army rebellion against Mao in Tibet, Sinkiang, Inner Mongolia and Szechuan Province.

MORE TROUBLE

Domestic radio broadcasts made available in Tokyo today told of agitation against and resistance to the army—presumably by supporters of President Liu Shao-chi—in the Manchurian city of Changchun and the city of Tsinan, in Shantung Province.

MORE TROUBLE

The Kweichow revolutionary committee and the Kweichow Kweichow command on Feb. 29 issued an urgent notice charging that "bad elements" had incited peasants to rebel in the cities and had sown "discord between the peasants and the revolutionary workers."

The Yunnan situation was revealed in an order to "suppress counterrevolutionaries" issued following a rally in Kunming Feb. 22.

U.S. Combat Deaths in Viet Surge Up

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. combat deaths in Vietnam are surging upward at a percentage rate nearly matching Communist losses.

Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara said Wednesday that enemy casualties have increased 50 to 60 percent in the last three months. He did not mention U.S. losses.

But Defense Department figures show today that the rate of U.S. deaths for the last two weeks of stepped-up military action and for the first eight weeks of 1967, when compared to last year, are approaching the rates of Communist increase for the same periods.

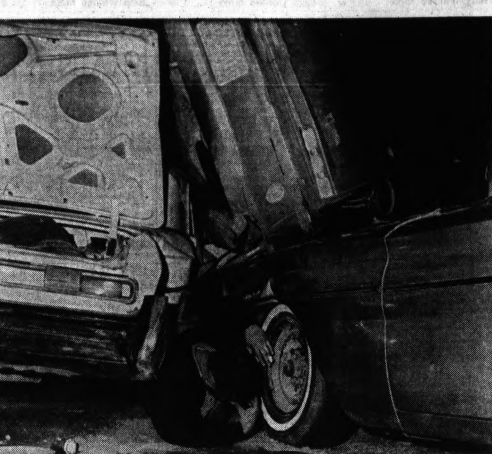

Record Communist losses the last two weeks — 3,332 and 2,083 for a 2.12 average — were 106 percent above the enemy's 1966 weekly combat loss average of 1,060.

U.S. COMBAT DEAD
Defense Department figures show 163 and 122 U.S. combat dead during the same two weeks — 74 per cent above last year's 96 per cent weekly fatality rate.

So far in 1967, U.S. combat losses are running 33 per cent higher than last year at 128 a week.

This is almost even with the North Vietnamese, whose weekly death total for the first eight weeks this year is up 35 per cent — 1,435 per week this year compared with 1,060 per week in 1966.

Early this year, U.S. Ambassador to Vietnam Henry Cabot

2 Men Rob City Attendant

Two men, one armed with a small black pistol, took between $75 and $100 from a gas station attendant late yesterday.

Edward Ray, 52, attendant at Eskridge Gulf Station, 360 Orchard Lake, said the two men came into the station about 4:30 p.m. and said they needed assistance in fixing a flat tire.

Ray said one of the men then drew an automatic pistol from his pocket and said, "Give me the money."

The two then fled, Ray said. Ray described both men as slender Negroes in their 20s, one weighing about 165 pounds and the other about 140.

Man Is Sentenced in Death of Dog

John L. Speese, 30, of 602 N. Pontiac Trail, Wall Lake, was fined $100 and ordered to spend two weekends in jail in the death of a dog.

Judge Gene Schnetz of Wall Lake said he based the sentence on an autopsy performed on the dog which showed death due to starvation and dehydration.

Investigation of the case was carried out by Marshall London of the Oakland County Animal Rescue League.

Recorder, Cash, Cameras Stolen

Burglars took a tape recorder, three cameras and $22 cash from a Pontiac home yesterday, city police were told.

John Walters, 25, of 574 Henderson said the goods were stolen between 4:30 and 6:30 p.m. He valued the recorder and cameras at a total of $265.

Teen Cousins Are Murdered

Boys Forced to Kneel Against Wall in Park

ROCKFORD, Ill. (AP) — Two teen-age cousins were forced to kneel against the stone wall of an isolated park pavilion Thursday night and then were shot to death at point-blank range, police said.

Police squads rushed to the area after an anonymous tipster, believed to be a woman, called the Winnebago County sheriff's office and told deputies where to find the bodies.

"To hell with them," the woman shouted over the phone. "Just let them lay there and die."

The bodies of the two boys were found lying on the pavilion's cement slab floor. Each boy had been shot in the stomach and the back of the head with a small-caliber weapon.

MOTIVE A MYSTERY

Wayne Mullendore, 14, was dead on arrival at Rockford Memorial Hospital. His first cousin, Ronald Johnson, 14, died in the operating room two hours later. He never regained consciousness.

"These were a clean-cut, charming pair," said Sheriff Herb Brown. "They had never been in any trouble. We have no idea why this happened."

The boys, both seventh-graders at Wilson Junior High School, apparently carried no money or wallets. They called a girlfriend at 7:15 p.m., Sheriff Brown said, "and had to cash in five soft drink bottles to raise a dime."

Minutes later the boys went to one of their homes to pick up some photograph records. Then they left, saying they were going to the home of a friend. They never arrived. An hour later their bodies were found.

The Fieldstone Summer Pavilion where the bodies were found is located on a tree-shrouded hill in Levings Park overlooking a lake. The structure is about 500 feet from the nearest house or traveled road.

Mrs. Joseph Mullendore, Wayne's mother, said she and her husband were watching television when the program was interrupted by a news bulletin that two bodies had been found in the park.

"I just knew it was them," she sobbed. "I just had a feeling."

Ronald's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Victor Johnson, arrived at the hospital's crowded emergency room minutes later. They also had heard the news bulletin and had been unable to locate their son.

State to Aid Belize

Partners-for-Alliance Fund Drive On

A membership and fund drive now is being conducted for a people-to-people aid program that started in Oakland County and now is spreading across the United States and Central and South America.

Michigan's role in Partners for the Alliance is to help in development of British Honduras, a British colony in Central America which soon will become an independent nation with the name Belize.

The spark for the Partners for the Alliance was a project started in 1963 in which Oakland County pledged itself to aid in the development of Cali, Colombia.

D. B. Varner, Oakland University chancellor and vice chairman of the Michigan organization, reports contributions from area service clubs are spurring the Oakland-Macomb campaign toward its goal of $3,000.

He gives much of the credit for the local success to Mrs. George Mosher, secretary of the state group, who has spoken before area service clubs.

UNDER AUSPICES

The organization operates under the auspices of the Alliance for Progress of the Agency for International Development, which is administered by the U. S. State Department.

Michigan residents have found in British Honduras a number of opportunities of an emerging nation, with numerous investment possibilities and potential for tourism, Varner said.

The nationwide Partners of the Alliance, which now involves about 30 states and many nations, was established a year ago. It is based on a pilot program conducted in Oakland County upon the instigation of Congressman William S. Broomfield, R-18th District.

In addition to Varner and Mrs. Mosher, elected state officers include Alvin M. Bentley of Owosso, state chairman, and Carlos Toro of Detroit, treasurer.

TACKLED PROBLEMS

While keeping its eyes on long-range needs in Belize, the Michigan organization has tackled some immediate problems.

Members have gathered band instruments for a youth hostel, made sewing machines for community work centers, books and funds to establish or improve school libraries and seeds to encourage the planting of home vegetable gardens.

18 SCHOLARSHIPS

Among the institutional support that has grown in Michigan for the program was the establishment of about 18 scholarships at various colleges and universities here for Belize students. One of these will be at the Oakland University.

State Employees Reject Advisory Group's Report

LANSING (AP)—The 16,000-member Michigan State Employees Association said today it has rejected recommendations included in a report by Gov. George Romney's Advisory Committee on Public Employment.

Larry Hildore, association president, said that "Because of the predominantly industrial labor background of the committee members, the report does not give true consideration to the difference between public and private employment."

In a report submitted to Romney two weeks ago, the committee recommended the State Civil Service Commission require the principles of exclusive recognition and collective bargaining in the state classified service.

"The Michigan State Employees Association has always opposed to industrial type collective bargaining by state employees," Hildore said.

MERIT SYSTEM

"The organized labor movement has for years—in every way possible—tried to force collective bargaining on state employees," he added. "The Michigan State Employees Association has always supported the Civil Service merit system provided for in our State Constitution."

"The people of the state of Michigan cannot afford to lose the services, through strikes, of state employees, the majority of which are employed in critical areas..." he said. "This could very well happen if the committee's recommendations were followed."

White Lake Twp. Board Purchases New Fire Truck

WHITE LAKE TOWNSHIP — The Township Board has purchased a new fire truck, bringing the total number of fire fighting vehicles owned by the township to four.

The total cost of the pumpier, $21,284, is the combination of two low bids, a chassis bid for $6,303 from GMC Truck and Coach Division and an equipment bid for $14,981 from John Bean.

Township Supervisor Edward Cheyz said additional equipment for the pumpier will amount to about $2,000.

The vehicle, the third purchased in the last six years, replaces a 1948 Ford.

Garbage Burned on Sidewalks in Rome Strike

ROME (UPI) — Piles of garbage were burned on the sidewalks of fashionable Rome shopping streets today as store clerks dismissed of refuse backed by a 48-hour strike of street cleaners and garbage collectors.

The walkout, which followed three crippling bus and streetcar strikes, was widely effective.

Bombing Kills 83 S. Viet Civilians

SAIGON (AP) — Bombers which one U.S. spokesman said are presumed to have been allied, struck a South Vietnamese village near the Laotian border last night, killing 83 civilians and wounding another 200, the U.S. command announced today.

A U.S. spokesman, announcing the toll of the bombing, said it still was not determined whether the planes were American, South Vietnamese or enemy.

However, another spokesman in the northernmost 1st Corps area where the attack occurred said the bombs presumably were dropped in error by allied aircraft on the government village, which is protected by a U.S. Special Forces camp.

If it was an accidental bombing it would be the worst such tragedy announced so far in the war.

The bombing took place five hours after a U.S. helicopter was shot down in the area and was carried out virtually under the noses of the Special Forces men stationed on a hill above the village, which is named Lang Vei.

had fled from the Vietcong for government security.

The airstrike just at sunset presumably was also witnessed by U.S. Marines stationed at Khe Sanh, some five miles from the village, which sits astride Route 9, the natural invasion route from Communist-controlled areas of Laos.

About 150 of the most seriously wounded villagers were taken to government and U.S. hospitals near the coast.

The worst previous accidental bombing of a government village occurred in the Mekong Delta when 63 civilians were killed and 83 wounded in Phuoc Dinh Province last Aug. 9.

PLANE CRASH

The worst reported disaster involving civilians happened on Christmas eve when a chartered four-engine cargo plane crashed into a civilian residential section near the Da Nang runway and killed 21 civilians.

The U.S. command also announced that U.S. warships in the Gulf of Tonkin have begun launching surface-to-air missile sites in North Vietnam.

Attorney for Powell Favors Court Action

NEW YORK (AP) — One of Adam Clayton Powell's attorneys said today he thinks federal court action should be taken in efforts to get the Harlem congressman seated in the House.

Attorneys planned to meet with Powell soon to decide on how to fight his exclusion from the House.

"Court action would straighten out the whole matter on whether he had a right to his seat," said Henry Williams, an attorney.

Williams won an appeal yesterday for Powell in the Court of Appeals, New York State's highest court. The state court reduced damages against Powell by $100,000 and gave him a new opportunity to wipe out the remainder of his libel debt stemming from a seven-year-old suit by a Harlem widow.

It was this legal battle which led in part to Powell's troubles in Congress. The verdict virtually frees Powell from the prospect of being jailed in New York on contempt charges.

HAVEN'T DECIDED

"We haven't decided whether we're going into court next week or the week after," said Williams, referring to Powell's congressional troubles.

"As I understand the matter, some of the attorneys will confer with Mr. Powell either this week or next week in Bimini (Bahamas) or somewhere else in the United States. We haven't finalized any particular course of action. There are various alternatives."

Reached in Washington by telephone, Jean Camper Cahn, an attorney who is coordinator of Powell's legal team, said: "I don't believe in speculating on a course of action until we talk with our client. I think it is a dangerous thing. We will lay every possibility before him and wait and see what he wants. It is his decision, not mine."

Mrs. Cahn said the meeting between the attorneys and Powell probably would be in Bimini, where Powell is relaxing.

Federal Judge Will Decide Today on Delay for Hoffa

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn. (AP) — A federal judge decides today if James R. Hoffa, Teamsters union president, will be allowed three additional weeks to get his affairs in order before entering prison.

Hoffa, scheduled to report here Tuesday morning, to begin an eight-year sentence for jury tampering, is seeking a delay until April 1 — the day after the Teamsters' contract with the 11,000-member national trucking industry expires.

U. S. Dist. Judge Frank W. Wilson said last night that he would rule today on Hoffa's request for more time.

At an informal hearing yesterday, attorneys for Hoffa said he needed "at least two weeks" to transfer union leadership to Frank E. Fitzsimmons of Detroit, Hoffa's hand-picked successor.

At the same time, they said, Hoffa's presence at contract talks with the trucking industry would serve to spur negotiations to a successful conclusion.

NEGOTIATIONS REFUSE TO TALK However, a Teamsters spokesman said in Washington that trucking industry negotiators had refused to resume talks until Tuesday, the day Judge Wilson has ordered Hoffa, 54, to report here to begin his sentence.

Trucking Employers Inc., whose member firms employ most of the 500,000 workers involved, had no comment on the union accusation.

NAMED DIRECTOR

In St. Louis, a Teamster spokesman said Hoffa had named Harold J. Gibbons, director of the central conference of Teamsters, to serve while Hoffa is imprisoned.

Probe Charges Dismissed

Oakland County one-man grand juror Philip Pratt said today he will request an opinion from the Michigan Court of Appeals to clarify its dismissal of contempt charges against four men.

The appellate court yesterday ordered the charges dropped after hearing arguments of defense attorney James R. Frew of Royal Oak and special prosecutor Charles J. Porter.

Those charged with contempt for refusing to answer questions of Pratt were Democratic State Rep. Bill S. Huffman, Roman Nowicki and Ross Skinner, all former Madison Heights councilmen, and Emil Pavlovics, a druggist in Madison Heights.

In quashing the charges the appellate court said that they did not relate to the original investigation.

The order, written by the presiding judge, Thomas G. Kavanagh, went on to say that the "order granting the petition to extend the scope of the judicial investigation failed to be specific to the common intent of the scope of the inquiry to be conducted."

RACE TRACK PROBE

The Pratt grand jury was originally called to investigate alleged crimes surrounding the Hazel Park race track.

The petition setting up the grand jury was later amended to take in any crime whatsoever.

HUD Is Mum on Challenge to Taubman Plan

Housing and Urban Development (HUD) officials in Chicago have received a formal challenge to the Taubman Plan, but declined today to comment on validity of the protest.

The objections were filed with city officials this week by Donald H. Frayer, chairman of the Citizens Committee for Pontiac's Positive Progress.

Dean Swartzel, a ranking HUD official, said, however, "This contract was never placed before me for approval and there is no record of its ever having been approved."

Swartzel, assistant regional administrator for renewal assistance, further described HUD's previous objections to the Taubman agreement as "a procedural safeguard."

A letter from Swartzel last month notified city officials that Pontiac's downtown redevelopment plan was "constructed" to be "a violation" of urban renewal procedures.

'NO QUARREL'

Mayor William H. Taylor partially rebutted Swartzel's statement, but emphasized the city has "no quarrel" with HUD and remains confident of its agreement with A. Alfred Taubman is "fully legal."

"We conferred with HUD's loan and grants contract experts last fall," Taylor said. "They recommended some changes in our proposed agreement with Taubman and we made them."

"When the time comes for us to submit a formal contract, we have the assurances of Taubman and our attorneys that it will be in full compliance with urban renewal regulations."

'FATALITY' ON I-75 — Examining a pine tree on I-75 south of the Clarkston turnoff is Lyle Abel, director of the county cooperative extension service. In his opinion, about 35 per cent of the trees died during the winter and many of the other 1,112 planted in a 21-mile stretch north of Pontiac have a poor chance of survival.

$16,000 Worth of Trees Die Along I-75 in Oakland County

By ED BLUNDEN

Federal highway beautification — inspired by Lady Bird Johnson — has taken a $16,000 setback in Oakland County.

About half of the 1,112 evergreen trees planted on I-75 north of Pontiac last fall have not survived the winter. The trees cost approximately $32 each.

The fatalities became apparent recently as warming rays of the sun cleared away much of the heavy snow along sides of the double strip of highway that bisects the county.

State highway officials blame the high death rate on the rough winter.

W. R. Brownell, state district forester, said yesterday "We're going to lose about half of them." Brownell observed the trees during a recent trip on the road.

'35 PCT. DEAD'

Lyle B. Abel, director of the county cooperative extension service, inspected some of the trees Tuesday and said in his opinion about 35 per cent were dead and many of the others, turning yellow, had only a 50 per cent chance of survival.

House Rejects Bombing Ban, OKs War Funds

WASHINGTON (AP)—The House has rejected an antibombing declaration and voted $1.5 billion to finance Vietnam fighting.

After a sometimes fiery 4½-hour debate, the House approved by voice vote yesterday the military authorization bill asked by President Johnson. The Senate passed a similar measure Wednesday.

Minutes before the showdown vote, the House defeated 372 to 18 an amendment by Rep. George E. Brown Jr., D-Calif., that would have banned use of the funds to finance military activities "in or over" North Vietnam.

Chairman L. Mendel Rivers, D-S.C., of the House Armed Services Committee, led opposition to the amendment banning use of the $1.5 billion for bombing North Vietnam.

While House debate swirled around Vietnam, the Senate unanimously approved the nomination of Ramsey Clark as attorney general.

INVASION FORCE?

Meanwhile, informed sources in Saigon report the North Vietnamese army has built up a possible invasion force of some 35,000 men along the 17th parallel separating North and South Vietnam.

The sources said three Communist divisions are in the area—one immediately north of the demilitarized zone dividing Vietnam and two operating from the six-mile zone or the adjoining South Vietnamese province of Quang Tri.

The North Vietnamese have maintained two divisions in this area for several months, intelligence officers say.

The additional division apparently moved to within striking distance of the border within the past 30 days, the sources said.

Although the U.S. command doesn't know what plans the North Vietnamese have for their troops along the 17th parallel, informed military sources said the force once again has the capability of attacking across the demilitarized zone.

Cold and Flurries Seen for Weekend

Partly cloudy, cold with snow flurries is the prediction for the weekend with no accumulation of snow expected for the Pontiac area.

The official U.S. Weather Bureau forecast looks like this:

TODAY — Increasing cloudiness and colder. High 34 to 38. Mostly cloudy to night with a chance of snow flurries.

Northwest winds at 8 to 16 miles per hour.

TOMORROW — Considerable cloudiness and colder with a chance of snow flurries.

SUNDAY — Snow flurries and cold. Precipitation probability for the period is 20 per cent today, tonight and tomorrow.

Rules for Low-Cholesterol Diet Listed

(EDITOR'S NOTE—This addition to the series on the personal recounting of a heart attack suffered by a 32-year-old Press staffer was requested by many subscribers. The six-part heart attack series will be reprinted by The Press in booklet form for free distribution after numerous requests.)

By DICK SAUNDERS

What are low cholesterol foods? This is the question that has popped up most frequently in the encouraging response to my recent series on heart disease.

I don't claim to be a dietitian I'm a dunce in the kitchen.

But I've learned how to feed my heart rather than starve it. A diet low in cholesterol and saturated fats is a must for anyone who has suffered a heart attack.

It should be mandatory for everyone because research indicates that a high cholesterol level in the blood is a major risk factor increasing a person's chances of suffering a heart attack.

SOME GUIDELINES

Therefore, I'll attempt to give you some guidelines in planning low cholesterol meals.

To begin on a positive note, let's take a look at things you CAN eat.

The following foods are not limited; use as much of them as you wish:

All fruits and vegetables; skim milk, nonfat dry milk or buttermilk made from skim milk; chicken, turkey, fish, shellfish and veal; sugars, jams and jellies; coffee, tea, carbonated beverages, cocoa powder, egg whites, fat-free cornmeal or bouillon, pickles, relishes, vinegar, mustard, catsup and seasonings.

Here, a word should be injected about food preparation.

AT A MINIMUM

The idea is to keep the saturated fats to a minimum, with emphasis on the use of polyunsaturated fats. This means avoiding fried foods because the amount of fat in fried foods cannot be measured.

For example, I eat as many potatoes as I did before my heart attack, but I eat them baked or mashed; not fried.

The same applies to meats, and use a rack when broiling, roasting or baking so that the fat can drain off.

Now let's look at other food items which can be used on a low-cholesterol diet, but must be limited in quantity or form.

BEEF OR LAMB

Generally, any kind of VERY LEAN meat is allowed. I eat beef or lamb three or four times a week.

DA Probe Focus on Mystery Man

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP) — Clay Bertrand evolved today as the mystery man in Dist. Atty. James Garrison's probe of the Kennedy assassination.

Clay Bertrand, says Garrison, was an alias used by Clay Shaw, the prominent New Orleans resident the district attorney arrested and booked on conspiracy to commit murder.

"I have never used the name 'Clay Bertrand' in my life. I never use it. I never heard of it," said Shaw, free on $100,000 bond, at a 10-minute news conference Thursday.

Clay Bertrand "is mostly a voice on the phone," said attorney Dean Andrews Jr., an attorney and a Warren commission witness summoned to Garrison's office Thursday.

Four Dogs That Attacked Boy 'Will Definitely Be Destroyed'

Dr. Frank R. Bates, director of the Oakland County Animal Shelter, said today that the four dogs that mauled an Independence Township boy Saturday "definitely" will be destroyed.

Bates said he was informed by the owner last night that he

Bronson Will Push Fight to Bar Judge

Oakland County Prosecutor S. Jerome Bronson will continue his fight to have Circuit Judge James S. Thorburn disqualified from hearing a burglary case.

Turned down this week by the Michigan Court of Appeals, Bronson will now go to the State Supreme Court for a decision.

The appellate court ruled 3-2 Tuesday in upholding a decision of Circuit Judge Frederick C. Ziem that Judge Thorburn acted properly when he declared a mistrial for Harvey Allen of Oak Park and Charles Field of Detroit.

The pair are charged with breaking and entering a Huntington Woods home in July 1965.

The feud began when Thorburn criticized Bronson's office for committing errors in drafting charges against the two men, and Bronson countered that Thorburn had made incorrect rulings and statements prejudicial to the prosecution of the case.

NATIONAL WEATHER — Snow and snow flurries are forecast tonight in the northern and central Rockies and the lower Lakes region. Showers are expected in southern Florida. It will be colder in the northern tier of states from the Lakes region to New England.

Garrison's office, in applying for a warrant to search Shaw's French Quarter residence, said in an affidavit that at meetings held in September 1963 "there was an agreement and combination among Clay Shaw, (alias Clay Bertrand), Lee Harvey Oswald, and David W. Ferrie and others to kill John F. Kennedy."

The document says the evidence about the meetings came from an unnamed informant, whose statements were corroborated while he was under the influence of sodium pentothal, or truth serum.

Oswald, a New Orleans native who was in this city from late April 1963 until Sept. 25, 1963, was named as the assassin of President Kennedy by the Warren commission, which said "the possibility of others being involved with either Oswald or (Jack) Ruby cannot be established categorically, but it has been beyond the reach of all the investigative agencies and resources of the United States and has not come to the attention of this commission."

Ferrie, a pilot and part-time investigator, died last week while under investigation by Garrison's office. Coroner Nicholas Chetta says Ferrie's death was due to natural causes. Garrison said it was suicide.

ISNT TELLING Garrison isn't telling what he knows about Clay Bertrand. The last public appearance by the district attorney was Wednesday night, shortly after the dramatic announcement of the arrest of Shaw. He said Shaw "will be charged with participation in a conspiracy to murder John F. Kennedy."

Shaw, a decorated Army officer in World War II who retired Oct. 1, 1965, after 18 years as managing director of the International Trade Mart here, calmly called his arrest "fantastic" at his news conference.

Earlier in the day, Ramsey Clark, the new U.S. attorney general, said the FBI had investigated Shaw late in 1963 and cleared him of any link with the assassination.

The FBI would not say what prompted its investigation of Shaw and Shaw himself said he had no knowledge of an investigation at that time. Shaw was in San Francisco on Nov. 22, 1963 — the day Kennedy was shot in Dallas.

SHAW STATES "I have not conspired with anyone at any time or any place to murder any late and esteemed president, John F. Kennedy, or any other individual," said Shaw.

"I've always had only the highest and utmost respect and admiration for Mr. Kennedy," said Shaw.

Shaw said he never met Ferrie "as far as I know. I was never in his apartment."

Garrison's aides searched Shaw's luxurious French Quarter apartment the night of his arrest and took out a collection of items in cardboard boxes.

ITEMS TAKEN Among them — according to the return — the search warrant filled in the clerk of court's office — were five whips, a black hood and cape, a black gown, three ropes, one chain, pieces of chain, a shotgun and a book entitled "A Holiday for Murder."

New York radio station WINS, in a copyright broadcast, said Thursday night it had learned from reliable sources that Garrison believes President Kennedy was assassinated by "a group of plotters directed from Cuba."

Garrison could not be reached for comment on the WINS report but he repeatedly has said "no" when asked if he believed any foreign country or official was involved in the assassination.

WINS reporter Doug Edelson, who, a WINS spokesman said, had visited New Orleans, said "This is the information obtained by this reporter from a responsible, unimpeachable source who has access to Garrison's files."

CASTRO'S ORDER Edelson said that according to the files, "after an abortive CIA invasion of Cuba, Castro put out an execution order on the President."

"Four Cuban assassination teams were put together in the United States, made up of Cuban sympathizers and Cuban nationals who had infiltrated the borders."

One of the teams, Edelson said, was picked up in New York by immigration officials "and interrogated by the FBI. From this team the FBI got details of the plot. The Secret Service and the President were notified and put on the alert. The execution teams remained."

Edelson said one of the teams was in New Orleans.

STATEMENT Shaw, in a statement he read at his news conference, insisted that he had no part in any plot to kill Kennedy.

"I did not know Harvey Lee Oswald (correct) nor to the best of my knowledge do I know anyone who knew him," Shaw said. "I have never seen or spoken to Oswald."

After Hot House-Senate Fight

State Bill Deadline Extended

LANSING (AP) — The House and Senate fought down to the wire Thursday night and finally reached a grudging agreement on a one-week extension of the deadline for bill introduction.

With only five minutes to spare, the introduction deadline was extended from midnight until 11:55 p.m. on Thursday after a 3 1/2-hour House-Senate battle that resembled more combat battles between Republicans and Democrats.

With a reported 800 bills still remaining to be drafted by the Legislative Service Bureau, the Senate agreed to extend the deadline to Monday and then Tuesday.

Some senators maintained only "garbage" bills remained to be drafted.

REJECTED BY HOUSE The offers were rejected by House members who held out for a March 16 deadline and accused the Senate of trying to dictate to them how to run their House.

A Republican-dominated joint conference committee argued over the introduction date. Both houses were flooded with bill introductions.

Rep. Joe Snyder, D-St. Clair Shores, called the senators "a pompous group of individuals who are concerned only about themselves."

His remark drew bipartisan applause from House members.

SENATE 'DILLY DALLIES' Rep. Dominic Jacobetti, D-Negaunee, accused the Senate of "dilly-dallying while the House sat and took it," adding that it was time the House let the Senate know it was not going to be dictated to.

SOME DEMOCRATS TOOK ADVANTAGE of the GOP-dominated conference committee's failure to agree as an indication of what lies in store for Republican Gov. George Romney's tax reform bills.

"If the Republicans can't agree on a simple thing like extending the deadline, how will they ever agree on a tax program?" asked one Democratic House member.

At 11:30 p.m., Sen. Robert Vander Laan, R-Grand Rapids, introduced a resolution in the Senate to extend the deadline to March 9.

MIDNIGHT DEADLINE However, the senators waited until 10 minutes before the midnight deadline before taking the resolution to the House where it was approved.

While the battle went on, the House received 229 new bills to add to 540 previously introduced. In the Senate, 204 bills were added to a stack of 359.

Both houses adjourned at 11:55 p.m. and were called back into session at one minute after midnight to begin today's session.

The measure was adopted in the brief session, with the House by a vote of 100-0 and the Senate by a vote of 60-0.

Speck Judge Seeks Speedup

PEORIA, Ill. (UPI) — Judge Herbert C. Paschen today attempted to speed up the murder trial of Richard Speck, while insisting that the Illinois Supreme Court rule on the constitutionality of his new coverage restrictions.

Paschen stepped into the questioning of prospective jurors yesterday as the trial neared the end of its second week.

With beef you must limit your cuts to eye of round, top and bottom round, flank steak, lean ground round, lean pump and tenderloin.

Lamb must be limited to the leg only.

You may use breads and cereals as usual, as well as grain products such as rice, macaroni, noodles, spaghetti and flour, with the following exceptions:

• Biscuits, muffins, griddle-cakes and cornbread or corn

muffins must be homemade with an allowed fat or oil and limited somewhat in quantity since these foods contain more fat than other bread products.

• Most crackers contain a significant amount of saturated fat and are therefore not recommended.

BEST KINDS

What are "allowed fats and oils?"

Safflower and sunflower seed oils are best. Corn, cottonseed, soybean and peanut oils are also acceptable polyunsaturated vegetable oils.

Special margarines and shortenings are allowed, but don't overdo it.

Special margarines and shortenings are those that contain a large amount of liquid vegetable oil.

DIFFICULT TO KNOW

Because of confusing advertisements and incomplete information on package labels, it is difficult to know which ones to buy.

When buying special margarines or shortenings, it is not enough for the shopper to find that a product is made with a particular oil, or even that part of this remains liquid.

The important thing to know is how much of the total oil remains polyunsaturated.

The best advice I can give you here is to ask your doctor or dietitian to recommend a good margarine or shortening for a low-cholesterol diet.

Crash Kills 11

BOMBAY (UPI) — Eleven persons were killed today and one seriously injured when an auto carrying a wedding party to ceremonies in Sangli, 150 miles east of here, crashed on a mountain road, police said.

They were arrested by Sgt. Wilfred Hook, Officer Joseph Hoffrichter and Officer Harold Small, all of Walled Lake. Officer Richard Voorhies of Wixom and Officer William Korthas of Wolverine Lake.

Now to the bad guys

The following are food items you should drop from your diet if you want to give your heart a boost.

'66 Plates On --but It's Legal

WYOMING (AP) — Patrolman Michael Straub spotted it on a car driving along I-196 through Wyoming — a 1966 license plate two days after the deadline for displaying the 1967 tags.

Straub stopped the vehicle but had to put his ticket book away. The driver was Sen, Harold J. Volkema, R. - Holland, and he was heading for a Thursday afternoon session of the Legislature.

By law, legislators going to and from sessions can't be detained for misdemeanors or other minor infractions. Straub said Volkema told him he hadn't been able to find his certificate of insurance needed to buy the plates and also hadn't had the time.

id shortenings; lard; chicken fat; coconut oil; olive oil; chocolate.

BREADS AND BAKERY

GOODS

BREADS, BAKERY GOODS

DESSERTS

MAKE OVER Apparent Low Bids on Projects Listed

Th apparent low base bids for construction projects at Waterford Village and Stringham elementary schools totaled $540,249 at last night's meeting of the Waterford Township Board of Education.

Submitting the apparent low base proposals were Julian Wilson and Sons of Birmingham, architectural, $354,749; C. R. Anderson Plumbing and Heating Co. of Independence Township, mechanical, $123,000; and T. L. Jackson Electric, Inc., electrical, $62,500.

Altogether, 18 firms turned in bids for the projects.

The board referred all bids to architects Denyes and Freeman Associates, Inc., of Pontiac for further study and recommendations.

Waterford Village School is to be provided with a gymnasium-multipurpose room complex, four classrooms and a conference room.

WILL BE ENCLOSED

Also, the school's library-instructional materials center will be enclosed and three existing classrooms will be converted into a new classroom, a kindergarten and a connecting corridor.

Earmarked for Stringham School is a gymnasium-multurpose room complex, conference room, general office, principal's office, teachers' lounge, interior remodeling and a boiler room.

In addition, two classrooms will be converted into a library-instructional materials center.

In other business, the board approved final plans for construction projects at Adams and Donelson elementary schools.

TO SECURE BIDS

Architects Denyes and Freeman Associates were directed to secure bids to be opened at the board's March 23 special meeting.

A gymnasium-multipurpose room complex, two classrooms, a library-instructional materials center, parking lot improvements and other alterations are earmarked for Adams School.

Donelson School is to receive five new classrooms, two conference rooms, parking lot improvements, new offices, a teachers' lounge, a new lobby and a library-instructional materials center.

Total estimated construction costs are $197,500 for Adams School and $153,500 for Donelson School. An extra $17,000 is estimated for parking lot improvements at each school.

Also last night, the board authorized purchase of two pieces of property for a combined $51,443.

To be acquired are a 16-acre site off Crescent Boulevard for $43,500 to accommodate the proposed new Crescent Lake Elementary School and a 3.973-acre parcel adjacent to Manley School for $7,943.

The board announced last night that a special meeting will be held at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday at Pierce Junior High School to organize a citizens' school finance study committee.

The committee will be charged to study the district's current financial condition and to consider a long-term plan for reasonable local support.

TENTATIVE OFFER

A tentative offer has been made by school officials to finance construction of a sidewalk in front of Riverside School if residents will initiate sidewalk projects alongside other streets in the immediate area of the school.

The board also okayed purchase of 64 two-student science tables for Cray Junior High School for $3,744. Fifty-five percent of the cost will be financed through federal aid.

Court Forbids Vaccine Use

Cancer Drug Firm Will
Comply on FDA Rules

CLEVELAND (UPI) — H. James Rand, developer of the Rand cancer vaccine, said yesterday he will make any changes the government suggests in manufacture of the drug.

Rand's statement came shortly after Federal Judge James C. Connell issued a permanent injunction against the vaccine.

"Perhaps it will take a year to comply," Rand said. "I learned more of what the Food and Drug Administration and the National Institute of Health wanted during this hearing than in all the visits I had with them. It was very constructive."

Connell's ruling means: Rand and the Rand Development Corp. are "restrained and enjoined" from the manufacture and distribution of the vaccine, and even from experiments with it, until they comply with Food and Drug Administration regulation for new drugs.

Scars of Tragedy on Firm, Families

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (AP)—It was a gay party that gathered at Tokyo's Handed Airport that clear, crisp morning of March 5, 1966.

The only ominous note was the still smoldering wreckage at the end of the field—the remains of a jetliner that crashed the evening before, killing 61 people.

But for the 75 men and women now waiting for BOAC jet to take them home, it was the end of a happy holiday, a reward from Thermo-King Corp. to its key executives and ace dealers throughout the United States.

Minutes later, their plane crashed on the slopes of Mt. Fuji, and everyone aboard was killed. Notified about the crash, a company executive in Minneapolis said:

"This has got to be the most disastrous thing a company could experience."

CARRY ON BUSINESS

Yet today—a year later, the company and its some 180 scattered, independent dealerships are carrying on an estimated $50-million business as if the accident had never happened.

But it was a different, more poignant story for the nearly 100 children—most of them school age—orphans by the crash.

"They try to adjust but it's impossible immediately," said a New England attorney who befriended three of the orphans. "They live a life of nightmares."

Some families were broken up. Children without close relatives were made wards of a court or of a trustee of the estate. Some teenagers declined outside assistance and determined to go it alone.

CASE IN POINT

The three children of Ralph Kerwin, the company controller, and Mrs. Kerwin—Jimmy, 19; Barbara, 17; and Katherine, 14—are a case in point.

They elected to remain in the family's $45,000 two-story home at 6817 Point Drive in Edina, a fashionable Minneapolis suburb. Jimmy attends nearby Carlton College and comes home only on weekends. Barbara is preparing to enter St. Olaf's College, which would throw Katherine pretty much on her own.

The Ralph W. Porters—he was the company's executive vice president—left three grown children of their own—but they had adopted five of their 15 grandchildren. It was these who were hurt the most.

"The family was broken up," said Dan Porter, a brother and Western Division sales manager of Thermo-King. "The oldest adopted boy, 17, went to live with a friend and got a job in a car wash. One of the girls moved in with an aunt and the other three girls stayed in the old home with a housekeeper." Another family that had to separate was that of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Chamberlain, who had the dealership of Wichita, Kan.

PREVIOUS MARRIAGE

Chamberlain had two boys by a previous marriage. One of them married and the other became the ward of an aunt in Fort Worth, Tex. Mrs. Chamberlain's sister, in Fort Worth, took the other two children, aged 10 and 12.

It was far easier to pick up the traces of broken businesses than it was the emotions of broken families.

In Wichita, Chamberlain's dealership was jointly owned by his partner, Dave Moore. Moore said he and Chamberlain had a buy-and-sell agreement, and each held $25,000 insurance on the other's life.

"After the tragedy, I exercised my privilege and bought the other share of the company for $13,000," Moore said. "Now I am sole owner."

TYPICAL AGREEMENT

These prior agreements were typical and provided for the continued operation of the company in all but one of the affected dealerships of Thermo-King, a subsidiary of Westinghouse.

"The only one of the 27 dealerships that didn't carry on was that at New Bedford, Mass.," the company spokesman said. "Karl Kawa was a one-man operation at New Bedford."

Thermo-King manufactures refrigeration equipment for truck trailers and air-conditioning units for cars and truck cabs. The various franchised dealers serve as distributors and service agents.

In his plush, carpeted office at the sprawling Thermo-King headquarters in suburban Minneapolis, Marketing Director V. W. Snyder displayed charts which showed that the affected dealerships almost all showed a gain over the previous years.

In many instances, the family kept the businesses going. At Atlanta, H. C. Sellers Sr., the father, assumed control for his son, H. C. Jr., and adopted the younger Seller's two children—Mark, 9, and Tracy, 11. It was the same at Milwaukee, where L. E. Lubbers took over for his victim son, Robert, also adopting the latter's five children, aged two to 10 years.

The situation was reversed at Indianapolis. Fred Ross, 32, the son, became owner and president with the death of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Ross.

For many of the orphaned children, there may be recourse in the courts for financial compensation.

One 2-year-old boy— orphaned in the crash—has already been awarded a $300,000 settlement. Suits are pending in behalf of other orphans and other family members against Boeing, manufacturer of the plane, and British Overseas Airways Corp., the airline.

Thermo-King has not abandoned its incentive trips for enterprising dealers. This year the group took a boat trip to the Caribbean.

Boy, 14, Lectures 6th Graders on Science

By JEAN SAILLE
A 14-year-old giving science lectures to a group of sixth graders?

About copper plating and electrolysis and chemical elements and all that kind of dimly remembered things that most of "us older generation" weren't exposed to until a 12th grade chemistry course?

And making it interesting? And maintaining order? And being unflinchingly polite and self-possessed?

A junior high schooler? You bet!

PART OF TEAM

He's part of a team from junior high, available for science demonstrations at the elementary and parochial schools in the district east of Pontiac.

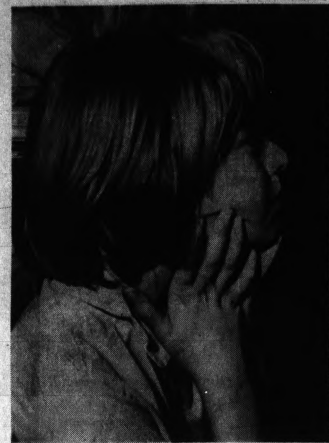

"It's good public speaking experience," the dark-haired youngster confided before the lecture. He has hopes of becoming a mechanical engineer.

Utica's spring election for positions of mayor, treasurer, assessor and councilmen will take place April 3.

Clerk Mrs. Eunice Koplitz explained that the raise in salaries requires a charter amendment and that, as such, it must receive the approval of the governor.

At the time the charter change request was submitted, it was felt that a primary election would be needed, so a March 6 date was set to handle both the change and the primary.

As it turned out, according to Mrs. Koplitz, there was little opposition to incumbents — not enough to warrant a primary — but the date for the salary raise vote had already been fixed.

Event for Unit on Retarded

LAPEER — The Lapeer Parents Association for Retarded Children will meet at 2 p.m. Sunday in the recreation center of the Lapeer State Home and Training School.

A movie entitled "Selling One Guy Named Larry" will be shown in promotion of the employment of mentally retarded persons. A panel discussion on "Community Placement and Its Status" will follow, with Harold Bergum, 7300 W. Greenwich, Birmingham, as moderator.

Program in Milford

'Helping Hand' for Children

By JANICE KLOUSER
MILFORD — Children who run into trouble on their way to or from school will soon find that help is as near as the nearest "helping hand" symbol.

The Helping Hand Program will be initiated on an experimental basis in the village next month. If it proves successful, it will be extended to cover the rest of the Huron Valley School District.

Sponsored by the Milford Jaycettes, the unique program is designed to provide safety and protection for children on their way to and from school.

Each block of their route they will be watched by "block watchers" who will display a picture of a hand as a symbol to children of help and safety.

Children will be educated to know that this wordless sign means help in case of injury, bullying by other children, if they become lost or if they are threatened by a child molester.

SYMBOL OF SAFETY—"If you ever need help, look for this sign in somebody's window," Mrs. John B. Fought, 725 Squire Lane, Milford, tells her daughter, Jennifer (left), and Kimberly Barr, 767 Friar, Milford. Mrs. Fought is coordinator of the Helping Hand Program which will be started next month in Milford.

The program, being coordinated by Mrs. John E. Fought, 725 Squire Lane, already has the approval of the Village Council, the police department and the board of education.

The next step for the Jaycettes is to contact school principals and PTAs to explain the program to them. Explanatory material will be sent home through the schools, and teachers will be asked to emphasize the program to their students.

They are also attempting to recruit volunteers upon the recommendations of area ministers and the police department.

So far 10 persons have volunteered. Mrs. Fought said that 2,000 signs are being printed.

'NEED HELP'

"We need all the help we can get," she said. "This program has been successful where it has been tried."

A complete list of volunteers will be kept on file at the police department.

The goal, according to Mrs. Fought is to have a "watcher" at each end of the block and in the middle if the block is exceptionally long.

Responsibilities of the volunteers will include:

- Call the police immediately in any case involving a crime of an adult against a child or a malicious act of one child against another.

- Fill in and mail a special postcard to the Jaycettes coordinators when the hand is used.

- Call police if the presence of a molester is suspected.

RESTRICTIONS

The volunteers are not to administer first aid, transport the child in their car or give food or beverages because the child may be allergic.

They are not expected to break up fights or give medical attention, only to bring the situation to the attention of the proper authorities and the parents.

Mrs. Fought said the program was instituted by the Jaycettes at the suggestion of one of its members, Mrs. Mike McDermitt, 737 Duchess.

"We have great hopes for the program," she said, "because there are definite hazards in town, such as the railroad, blind spots, sharp corners and no sidewalks."

John Alioto Knows His Science

"Now you've got to have some copper," he said and a penny was produced.

"The copper is connected to the positive pole," he affirmed and immediately asked "Which pole?"

COPPER TO POSITIVE

"The copper to the positive" the class affirmed in unison.

A smiling little girl with long straight hair offered a ring to be copper-plated and then spent a good bit of time afterwards wondering whether the copper could be taken off.

John finally did it by reversing the electrolysis process along toward the close of the lecture.

Deserted House Burns to Ground

OREGON TOWNSHIP — An abandoned two-story frame house at 3236 N. Washburn burned to the ground early this morning.

Lapeer State Police said the cause of the blaze, fought by Davison Fire Department, was still under investigation.

The home is registered to a Cassius Johnson, police said.

More than half of the present United States population is less than 30 years old.

Of prime interest to some of the boys in the audience was John's use of sulphuric acid in cleaning the ring, a dime, and a Boy Scout medal which all became copper-plated.

And though he said and repeated that the students at home find that steel wool did equally as well in cleaning, he was besieged with questions regarding the dangerous acid.

BURNT A KEY

It wound up in a safety talk on John's part with him telling how the acid had bent a spoon used to stir it in an earlier demonstration at Stiles School.

One child questioned the use of too much electricity was informed that John had burnt a key he was plating by using a 6-volt battery.

The audience watched the penny grow thinner and a dime grow fatter.

"You have to be careful not to get it too thick," said John, "otherwise you can't use it in a slot machine."

THE KIDS KNEW WHAT HE MEANT

The kids knew what he meant, and if parents in the Avondale district are besieged with requests for copper sulfate, it's nice to think that some other youngsters, too, will one day display the knowledge and assurance that John Alioto has at 14.

Official Asked to Repay $200

WOLVERINE LAKE — Village President Oscar Fritz is being asked to reimburse the council $200 which it paid him, upon his request, for an airplane trip here from Florida in January.

Fritz flew up here when the council appointed Clifford Cottrell as chief administrative officer, an action which it later rescinded. Cottrell resigned when the council did away with the newly created position.

Several citizens reportedly complained about the council's action in reimbursing Fritz and sought a legal opinion from Village Attorney Gene Schelz.

Schelz said that a section of the charter calls for reimbursement of councilmen for expenses incurred on village business.

In his opinion, he said, Fritz's trip did not come under the heading of village business.

His ruling that Fritz should reimburse the council has been sent to him in Florida, Schelz said. He said Fritz is expected to return this month.

MAKE OVER PAGES Schoolers In-Service Meeting

WALLED LAKE — "How to Improve Instruction in the Content Areas" will be discussed at a day-long meeting for teachers at the Clifford Smart Junior High School.

Students will be dismissed for the day.

Main speaker at the meeting will be Dr. Byron Chapman, director of the Mead Foundation's Adult Literacy Program.

Other speakers will be Robert Paine, social studies consultant for the Oakland Schools, and Albert Schulte, mathematics intern with Oakland Schools.

Dr. Virginia Svagr, director of the Oakland County Reading Clinic, will discuss "The Intellectually Impaired Child" with the school's remedial teachers. Department meetings on student motivation, instructional procedures and vocabulary growth are also scheduled for the in-service session.

S. Lyon Picks Mayoral foe

SOUTH LYON — Henry Schuster, former unsuccessful candidate for mayor, has been named to oppose Mayor John E. Noel in the April 3 city election.

Under the city charter, all City Council offices on the ballot must have opposition candidates. Only Noel had filed nominating petitions for the position by the deadline two weeks ago.

Schuster, 52, of 382 Whipple ran for mayor in 1963 and lost.

The council also appointed former member Robert Follock to fill a justice of the peace post vacated recently by Mary Ann Miller.

A recent attorney general's opinion stated that council appointment eliminates the need to fill the vacancy by election.

Troy Workers Vote for Union

TROY — Contract negotiations between the city and its workers are expected to begin in about a week, according to Paul York, city manager.

Hourly rated nonsupervisory personnel voted 28 to 6 Tuesday in a State Mediation Board election to have the American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees represent them.

Ham Dinner at Thomas

THOMAS — The Community Association will serve a ham dinner at 5:30 p.m. Tuesday at the Thomas Community Hall, 407 First.

Wolverine Lake Filing Deadline Is Tomorrow

WOLVERINE LAKE — The deadline for filing nominating petitions for the April 3 election is 6 p.m. tomorrow.

Three four-year council terms and two two-year terms will be filed at the election.

Two proposals will also be on the ballot. One seeks approval for councilmen to receive up to $150 a year for attending council meetings.

They would have to attend to be paid $12.50 per meeting.

The second proposal would do away with the charter requirement that two candidates must file for each vacant post.

PTA on Scouting

WALLED LAKE — Girl Scouting will be featured at the 8 p.m. meeting Monday of the Wall Lake Elementary School PTA.

The slate of nominees for the annual April election of officers will also be presented.
