SLICK TRICK — "Hey, maybe it'll work," 15-year-old TV actor John Provost of Hollywood, Calif., seems to be saying. He asked his father for a razor to shave his fuzz off and was given the old answer, "Rub some cream on your face and let the cat lick it off." John, who was Lassie's costar, still wants a razor because he doesn't know what to do if the cat's not hungry.

NORTH VIETNAMESE GUARDED — A U. S. 1st Cavalry Division soldier closely guards three blindfolded North Vietnamese soldiers during the fierce fighting in the Ia Drang Valley this week. The battle has entered its sixth day.

Government Troops Meet Stiff Resistance

Quiet Day for Yank Cavalrymen After 4 Night Strikes by Reds

PLEIKU, South Viet Nam (AP) — Vietnamese government paratroopers rushing to link up with battle-worn U.S. cavalrymen in the Ia Drang Valley ran into a fight tonight near the Cambodian frontier.

A U.S. spokesman said Communist North Vietnamese troops put up stiff resistance to a southward march of the paratroopers near the frontier and inflicted light casualties.

Heavy fire held up the paratroopers, part of a South Vietnamese regiment being committed to the valley battle.

The American cavalrymen who beat off four Communists' assaults during the night, reported a relatively quiet day.

Moving out from a position just outside the valley in the remote highlands near the Cambodian border, the bloodied but still battling Americans reported 21 of the enemy had been killed and one captured during the night and today.

The troops of the 1st Cavalry, Airmobile Division suffered light casualties, a U.S. spokesman reported.

He said the latest enemy toll brought to 1,207 the number of North Vietnamese dead since the battle began in the Ia Drang Valley Sunday.

B52 bombers from Guam made two more raids on suspected North Vietnamese positions west of the 1st Cavalry forces.

FIRED MORTARS

During the night the North Vietnamese fired mortars and small arms into the three main American positions and stormed them in platoon to company strength.

The Americans, entrenched in deep foxholes, fought them off.

Mortar fragments damaged a large, troop-carrying Chinook helicopter and a light spotter helicopter.

U.S. and South Vietnamese forces were engaged in a major buildup to reinforce the hard-pressed cavalrymen.

NEAR SCENE

A South Vietnamese force of regimental size was moved into the battle area about 35 miles south of Pleiku and 6 miles east of the Cambodian border.

At Pleiku airport, 1st Cavalry details were trying to identify dozens of American bodies brought in yesterday

The Communists had removed all identification from the soldiers slain in an ambush Wednesday.

U.S. officers believe that the Communists badly need a major victory over U.S. forces to bolster their morale.

President Pays Honor to Wallace

DANBURY, Conn. (AP) — President Johnson led the tributes to Henry A. Wallace, whose controversial views he said came from "a deep sense of social justice."

The former New Deal Cabinet member, vice president and third party candidate for president died Thursday of lateral sclerosis. He was 77.

NO IMPROVEMENT

Despite Communist China's explosion of a second nuclear device last May, "there has been no marked improvement in China's strategic potential during the past year," the institute said.

★ ★ ★

Until China develops a better delivery system, the institute added, "a small number of obsolescent TU4 medium bombers are the only strategic means of delivery she possesses, and she might choose to build up a stockpile of fission weapons for these."

With him at the time of his death were Mrs. Wallace, the former Ilo Browne, and his sister, Mary Bruggmann of Switzerland.

In addition to the widow, he is survived by three children, Mrs. Leslie Douglas of Washington, Henry B. Wallace of Des Moines, Iowa, and Robert B. Wallace of Doylestown, Pa.; 12 grandchildren; three sisters, Mrs. Bruggmann, Ruth Wijkmann of Des Moines, and Annabell McLay of Birmingham, Mich.; and two brothers, John B. Wallace of St. Petersburg, Fla., and James W. Wallace of Des Moines.

A funeral service will be held at 2 p.m. tomorrow at St. Stephen's Episcopal Church at Ridgefield, Conn. Cremation will be at Mountain Grove Cemetery, Bridgeport, Conn., and the ashes will be interred Monday at Woodland Cemetery in Des Maines, Iowa.

EULOGIZE WALLACE

From across the country national figures eulogized Wallace, whose sense of crusade and controversial ideas helped block him from the White House.

President Johnson said: "The death of Henry A. Wallace stills an original American voice.

He always spoke his mind — and always from a deep sense of social justice. His views may not always have been popular, but they were always sincere.

"I consider him a good man and a good public servant. His country will miss him."

Former President Harry S. Truman said, "I'm sorry as I can be. Henry was an asset to the country."

U.S. Missile Lead Cut, Says British Institute

Report Margin Over Soviets Fell 25 Pct. in Less Than a Year

LONDON (AP)—The Soviet Union has cut the American lead in numbers of nuclear missiles 25 per cent and have warheads more than 50 per cent bigger than America's biggest, a British research organization said today.

The Institute of Strategic Studies, a private international organization, reported that the U. S. margin over the Soviet Union in number of missiles had dropped from 4-1 in early 1965 to 3-1 now.

The institute said the margin was cut when the United States scrapped such obsolute missiles as the Atlas, while the Soviets boosted by 40 per cent the number of their operational intercontinental ballistic missles.

In its annual review of world military power, the institute said the Soviet Union now has an ICBM with an estimated nuclear warhead power of more than 30 megatons. A megaton is equal to the explosive force of one million tons of TNT.

America's main strategic missiles, the Minuteman 1 and the Polaris, have a capacity of about one megaton each.

★ ★

The U. S. arsenal also has 54 Titan 2's with warheads estimated at from 5 to 18 megatons.

CERTAIN POINT

Many Western military experts say the size of a nuclear weapon is important only up to a certain point, and beyond that any additional increase yields diminishing returns.

When the Soviet Union detonated a 50-megaton superbomb Oct. 30, 1961, U. S. strategists said a number of smaller bombs would be easier to deliver and could still add up to the same destructive effect.

The institute is a private international center for research on defense, world security and disarmament.

★ ★ ★

It has an international council drawn from 13 countries, with research associates in Britain, Canada, West Germany, India and the United States.

Extra Police Called in Lansing Picketing

LANSING (AP) — Extra police were called into Lansing today as an estimated 500 union pickets damaged and set fire to portions of a Lansing construction project.

More than 130 policemen and sheriff's deputies were rushed to the scene where the mob threw rocks and roamed through the nonunion project for nearly two hours.

The pickets from the AFL-CIO Lansing Building Trades Council broke windows in the apartment house project, overturned an office trailer and set fire to some lumber, police said.

Damage totaled several hundred dollars, said Lansing Police Capt. Donald Jackson.

He said nobody was arrested in the disturbance. There was no clash between police and pickets, he said.

Gov. George Romney, acting on request of Mayor Max Murninghan, authorized notification of officers from the National Guard headquarters detachment that their help might be needed.

State Police sent troopers to the scene and brought in a back-up force from outlying posts. The troopers were assembled at a central location "in case of possible trouble."

After two hours, the estimated 500 pickets left en masse, apparently to report to work at their own jobs. Thirteen pickets remained at the project.

The disturbance marked the third day of demonstrations by building trades unionists.

On Wednesday, the tradesmen took a work holiday to picket two nonunion construction sites in Lansing, one in East Lansing and one in Ovid.

Showers Possible for Pontiac Area

There's a chance of a few afternoon showers late tomorrow but Sunday will be fair and slightly warmer.

★ ★ ★

Fair and colder is the forecast for tonight with lows falling again into 20s. Highs will shoot for 38 to 44 tomorrow.

★ ★ ★

West to southwesterly morning winds at 5 to 15 miles per hour will continue.

A brisk 34 was the low in downtown Pontiac at 4 a.m. today. The mercury had climbed to 44 at 2 p.m.

Princess, Earl View N. Y. From Skyscraper

Injuries Fatal to 2 Area Men

Crash Victims Die in 24-Hour Period

Two area men, injured in separate automobile accidents earlier this month, died within a 24-hour period lifting Oakland County's traffic death toll to 132 this year.

Dead are Albert B. Corbin Jr., 38, of 2557 North Trail Ct., Commerce Township, and John A. Strange, 78, of 6195 Cooley Lake, Waterford Township.

Corbin died this morning and Strange died last night, both at Pontiac General Hospital.

Corbin was involved in a crash last Saturday at Johnson and Elizabeth Lake Road when he failed to negotiate a curve and his car rammed into a fence and tree.

★ ★ ★

Strange died of injuries received in a two-car collision Nov. 9 at Middle Belt and Maple in West Bloomfield Township.

He was a passenger in a car driven by his son William J. Strange, same address. Driver of the other car, Barton W. Bodell Jr., 57, of 7241 Colony, West Bloomfield Township, was uninjured.

Strange's son and wife, Viola, 76, were taken to the hospital and later released.

State Police said the accident is still under investigation.

Volcano Erupts Today on Japanese Island

KAGOSHIMA, Japan (UPI) — A volcano erupted today on Sakurajima Island in Kagoshima Bay, according to the Kagoshima Weather Station.

It was the 27th eruption of the volcano this year and the second strongest. No casualties have been reported.

Republicans Offer New Districting Plan

LANSING (UPI) — The Republican members of the State Apportionment Commission got in the first licks in the newest redistricting hassle today when they submitted a Senate plan closer in population than the present "one man, one vote" one.

The new Republican plan, which has a population difference of just 1,678 between the smallest and the largest of the 38 districts, also sticks closer to local boundary lines as requested by the state Supreme Court.

"It looks very good to me as I first look at it," admitted Democrat A. Robert Kleiner of Grand Rapids, who coauthored the plan now in effect. It has a population disparity of 2,027.

The Republicans presented the plan at the second meeting of the just reactivated commission which has been ordered by the state's highest court to come up with new districts by Jan. 1.

The new districts must conform both to federal "equal population" standards and anti-gerrymandering guidelines in the state constitution.

The group then recessed to study the plan and was scheduled to discuss it at another meeting later today.

NO OTHER PLANS

No other plans were scheduled to be submitted today, although Republicans said they would have a House districting plan ready by next week.

Although both sides agreed no election statistics would be used in drawing new districts, the new Republican plan is the one now in effect.

GOP party leaders charged the present plan was drawn by Kleiner and Commission co-chairman Richard Austin of Detroit with the help of election data to insure top-heavy Democratic majorities.

Last year's election, the only one held under the Austin-Kleiner plan, saw Democrats take control of the 110-member House of Representatives 73-37 and the Senate by 23-15.

Republican Commissioner Alfred O. LaPorte of Standish said that two of the proposed districts — the 37th and 38th in the northern Lower Peninsula and the Upper Peninsula—were identical to those in the current Austin-Kleiner plan.

Negro Concedes Loss

Bronson Battles Toughest Foe—No Money

By JOE MULLEN

Money — far from being the root of all evil—could be the source of all good as far as Oakland County Prosecutor S. Jerome Bronson is concerned.

Bronson wanted an additional $50,000 in the county's 1966 budget to hire eight more people in his department.

He didn't get it.

Bronson and members of his staff presented pleas in September to the Oakland County Board of Supervisors' Ways and Means and Salaries committees as the 1966 budget was being formulated.

They cited the increased work load of the Prosecutor's Office, due to increased crime and population more detailed administrative procedures and changing concepts resulting from Supreme Court decisions.

CASES BROUGHT

Other county departments also brought their cases before the two committees.

After hearing from all departments, the committee recommended that 15 new employes be allowed from a total of 88 sought by the various departments.

Only one of the 15, a stenographer, was approved for the prosecutor's office.

But, Bronson was not beaten yet.

FINAL AUTHORITY

He appeared at the Oct. 4 meeting of the full board of supervisors which is the final authority on a proposed budget.

Bronson repeated the plea for more funds to hire more people.

Philip O. Mastin Jr., supervisor from Hazel Park, was sufficiently impressed to offer a resolution that $48,000 be appropriated to bolster Bronson's staff by the desired eight people.

The motion was watered down by amendments and a proposal to approve $16,000 for two more assistant prosecutors then was introduced. It came to a vote and was beaten 40 to 39.

MORAL VICTORY

This probably was a moral victory for Bronson, a Democrat, simply because he almost won a budget amendment from the Republican-dominated board of supervisors.

If the political aspect of the close vote pleased him, it didn't show as he stalked from the auditorium followed by several of his grim-faced aides.

Seven weeks have passed since the new budget was adopted but Bronson hasn't forgotten that his specified requirements were not met.

Bronson pointed out that it is not the reponsibility of his office to search for funds to meet budget requirements but he offered a suggestion: That the county get away from its "cash on the barrel" approach to capital improvements.

'NOT SINFUL'

"Borrowing to build needed capital improvements is not sinful," Bronson asserted.

"The industrial giants do it, commercial enterprises do it and families borrow to build a home. There is nothing un-American about borrowing."

Bronson said that departmental budgets suffered because county officials selected the pay-as-you-go method of financing the proposed courthouse wing.

He agrees the added courthouse space is needed but questions why borrowing was not utilized.

Bronson was questioned in depth about requirements for operating his department, procedures of the Prosecutor's Office, its personnel and his needs.

Colonial Secretary Tells British Guiana Independence Date

LONDON (AP) — British Colonial Secretary Anthony Greenwood announced today that British Guiana will become independent next May 26.

Greenwood made the announcement as chairman of the British Guiana Constitutional Conference which opened on Nov. 2 and ended at Lancaster House today.

The conference agreed on a new constitution calling for a sovereign Democratic state with a governor general representing Queen Elizabeth II as its titular head, British support for the new country to seek commonwealth membership and assurances that Britain will sponsor Guiana's entry into the United Nations.

Greenwood also announced that the present electoral system of proportional representation which brought the present coalition government into power and ousted the leftist regime of Cheddi Jagan will remain unchanged.

★ ★ ★

He said, however, that provision has been made in the constitution for the legislature to change the present electoral law if this is called for.

FORMER NAME

The South American country will revert to its former name of Guyana.

British Guiana was represented at the conference by a delegation led by L. Forbes Burnham, the prime minister and chairman of the People's National Congress (PNC). It included Deputy Prime Minister Peter D'Aguiar, the leader of the United Force (UF); the PNC's coalition partner.

The conference was held without the participation of Guiana's biggest party, the People's Progressive Party (PPP), led by Jagan. He boycotted the London talks.

British Guiana is on the northeast coast of South America, with Surinam (Dutch Guiana) to the East, Venezuela to the west and Brazil to the south.

650,000 POPULATION

The country has an area of 83,000 square miles and an estimated population of 650,000, including 300,000 of East Indian descent and 200,000 Negroes.

The Dutch settled there first in 1620 but Britain captured it in 1796.

Jagan boycotted the talks after charging the British with political despotism in the rum and molasses colony.

Cost Estimate Up for Wing

'$330,000 More for Courthouse Work'

Another estimated cost hike, this time $330,000, for the proposed new Oakland County courthouse wing was predicted today by the project's architects.

This would boost the total cost of the planned east wing and remodeling of the courthouse tower to $2.6 million.

When the project was first discussed last May, cost estimates were $1.6 million. Some added features and rising construction costs boosted the figure to $2.25 million in September.

With building costs in a continued upward spiral, architects today set the square-foot cost at between $34 and $35, from $31 per square foot estimated in September.

★ ★ ★

Despite the high cost estimates, the building and grounds committee of the County Board of Supervisors today authorized architects to proceed with working drawings.

The supervisors' ways and means committee must face the problem of determining how the project will be financed.

'Many Praying'

Survivor Recalls Ship Fire

PLEASANT RIDGE (AP)— "People were praying. I never heard so many prayers in all my life."

Mrs. Marie Schimmel, 50, sat in her Pleasant Ridge home recounting the fiery tragedy of the Yarmouth Castle which sank with a loss of 84 lives last week in the Atlantic.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Schimmel and Mrs. Edna Newman, 45, of Royal Oak, were among the survivors. The two South Oakland County women, fellow employes at a Detroit bank, had boarded the cruise ship at Miami for a holiday trip to Nassau, the Bahamas.

Mrs. Schimmel said there was no inkling of a fire when she returned to the cabin she shared with Mrs. Newman about 1 a.m.

SOUND ASLEEP

"Eddie was sound asleep—when suddenly there was a knock on the door," she said. "Just one knock and somebody said, 'Get on deck.'

MUST BE BAD

"I grabbed Eddie and I said, 'Get your life jacket and get on deck, there's a fire.'"

★ ★ ★

The two women reached the deck and found a badly burned man, covered with blood, lying on the deck.

"It hit me then," said Mrs. Schimmel. "I said, 'Oh, my God, it must be bad, we've got to stay together.'"

The ships lights were out but the two women made their way to the rail by firelight.

★ ★ ★

"We could see the Bahama Star (rescue ship) headed full speed toward us," Mrs. Schimmel said. "There was no shouting, very little noise. People were praying.

"I never said so many 'Hail Marys' in all my life, even though I'm not a Catholic."

LIFEBOATS AFIRE

Mrs. Newman, noting the lifeboats were afire, told Mrs. Schimmel: "Marie, we're going to have to go over the side. Follow me."

Mrs. Newman slid down a rope to the water.

★ ★ ★

"I got part way down and I fell," said Mrs. Schimmel.

A crew member tossed her a rope and she and Mrs. Newman were picked up by a Bahama Star lifeboat.

★ ★ ★

The two women said they had originally intended to take the Bahama Star but were talked out of it by a travel agency employe.

Armed Bandits Rob Financier at Detroit Home

DETROIT (AP) — Financier Benjamin Levinson was ambushed by two bandits Thursday night.

Levinson currently is under indictment for allegedly obtaining government insured loans illegally.

Birmingham Area News

Teachers' Salaries Over Norm

BIRMINGHAM—The average teacher's salary in the Birmingham School District now is some $591 above the average for the state.

Kenneth F. Nagley, director of personnel, reported that the local average has risen from $7,362 in 1964-65 to $7,591 this year.

The state average, he noted, is $7,000.

The figures were included in a statistical report on professional staff members which Nagley presented to the board of education this week.

Nagley also reported that the average salary of the total professional staff, including administrators, is $8,007.

He noted there are 12 vacancies yet to be filled, including four elementary and four secondary teaching positions.

OTHERS NEEDED

The system also is seeking a language arts coordinator, research coordinator, librarian and diagnostician.

One of Nagley's charts indicated that 40.8 per cent of the system's 840 professional members live in the district, which includes Birmingham, Bloomfield Hills, Franklin and Southfield addresses.

Last year, 44.5 per cent lived here.

"This decrease is a continuation of the trend that developed following the 1963-64 school year and may be attributed to the difficulty that the members of our staff are having in finding housing within the district," Nagley said.

MEDIAN EXPERIENCE

The teachers record median teaching experience in Birmingham at 3.21 years, with the mean at 4.69 years.

The median years of total teaching experience is 6.9, and the mean is 8.98.

Average age of the total Birmingham professional staff is 35.6 years, one-half year below the average last year.

The largest age group is that 25-29 years old, with 172 persons or 20.48 per cent of the total staff.

★ ★ ★

The personnel director also noted that 72 staff members will be reaching the compulsory retirement age of 65 within the next 10 years.

Will Transfer Ike to D.C. Next Week

FT. GORDON, Ga. (AP)— Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower will be transferred from the hospital here to Walter Reed Army Hospital in Washington sometime early next week for convalescence from his heart attack.

★ ★ ★

A medical bulletin said that "while no definite date for the departure has been announced, doctors did say he will not leave earlier than Monday."

Meanwhile, Lt. Gen. Leonard D. Heaton, Army surgeon general who arrived here Thursday night, has returned to Walter Reed.

★ ★ ★

Heaton was quoted by Capt. Wallace Hitchcock, Ft. Gordon press officer, as saying he is "well pleased" with the five-star general's present condition and progress to date.

THANKS FOR JOB

Heaton, a long-time friend of Eisenhower's was quoted also as expressing "great appreciation for the tremendous job that has been done."

It had been rather generally expected that Heaton's visit would bring a definite decision on just when the 75-year-old patient would be transferred to Washington.

★ ★ ★

The doctors already had reported they were planning for Eisenhower to make the trip by train. But the timing was left dependent on his condition.

Newsmen were sure before today that he would not go before Saturday because they had been advised they would get 24 hours' notice.

Actor Tom Neal Found Guilty

May Get 10 Years for Slaying of Wife

INDIO, Calif. (AP) — Former actor Tom Neal, onetime Hollywood hero in low-budget movies, has been convicted of involuntary manslaughter in the shooting of his young, pretty wife.

Neal's conviction carries a possible sentence of up to 10 years in prison. It is also possible he could serve a minimum sentence in Riverside County Jail and be released in a year.

★ ★ ★

Judge Hilton McCabe referred the case to the probation department for an investigation and sentence recommendation to be returned Dec. 7. The court is not required to follow the recommendation.

During the four-week trial the prosecution charged that Neal shot his estranged wife in the head while she slept.

CLAIMS ACCIDENT

But Neal, now 51 and graying, contended tearfully that Gail Neal, 29, was shot accidentally last April 1 after a "soul-baring" attempt at reconciliation.

The jury took two days to reach a verdict. Neal appeared near tears when it was announced Thursday night. Then he and his attorney, Leon Rosenberg appeared smiling and happy, spectators in this desert community said.

★ ★ ★

"We wanted acquittal, however," Rosenberg said. "We started this trial with presumption of guilt rather than innocence, so we had a long way to come. I thought the most likely verdict would be voluntary manslaughter."

Asks Detroit Yule Crime Curb

DETROIT (AP)—Mayor Jerome Cavanagh Thursday asked City Council for a new law and overtime pay to put 500 added policemen on the streets during the holiday period in an effort to stem street crime.

The proposed law would permit a policeman to "stop and search a citizen under reasonable grounds of suspicion."

* * *

The overtime, costing an estimated $25,000 a day, would be a temporary measure to help curb "the usual crime upsurge during the holiday season," Cavanagh said.

Last week, 60 East Side housewives complained of street crimes at a public hearing. Two young housewives have been raped and a 77-year-old woman tortured and robbed in the area since the meeting. Extra police and the crack Police Tactical Mobil Unit were moved into the area after the latest attack, a rape of a 22-year-old housewife.

SUSPICIOUS MANNER

Cavanagh said the proposed new law, patterned after a New York State statute, would allow a policeman to stop any citizen acting in a suspicious manner and require the citizen to give his name, address and an explanation of his actions.

"Today, such an action constitutes an arrest under present laws," said Cavanagh. "I have met with police authorities and (Wayne County) Circuit Judge Horace W. Gilmore, and we believe such a law is constitutional."

* * *

He said he would seek the support of Republican Gov. George Romney to have the proposal enacted by the Michigan Legislature. Cavanagh is a Democrat.

Cavanagh said the New York law provides for seizure of weapons found on any person questioned. The weapon would be returned if legally possessed, he said.

"It would permit a police officer to perform the duties he is precluded from doing now," said Cavanagh, "and greatly aid in deterring crime."

Cavanagh pointed out that New York statute had been upheld by the New York State Supreme Court.

* * *

The mayor said he did not expect opposition to the proposed law from civil rights groups "because I feel they are as interested as any citizen in prevention of crime."

Detroit crime has been on the increase, the mayor said, but the city's rate still is lower than for other cities of comparable size.

INDICATED SUPPORT

Cavanagh said the City Council has indicated support of the overtime pay for added police during the holidays.

Police Commissioner Ray Girardin said he would interupt a 12-week police academy school in mid-December and have police cadets accompany veteran officers on their patrols during the holidays. They would complete their course afterwards, he said.

* * *

"This will give us another 50 officers on the streets," Girardin said.

Councilman James H. Brickley said the "heart of the problem is juvenile crime. There is no question about it. We simply must make a breakthrough on this."

* * *

The 22-year-old housewife raped Wednesday night told police she was going to pick her husband up from work when two men jumped into her car at a stop light, forced her at knifepoint to drive to a nearby playground and then raped her.

On Tuesday, a woman was surprised by two men in her home and taken outside to a car and raped by one of the men.

4 Policemen Cut by Woman

DETROIT (AP) — Four Detroit police officers were cut with a knife Thursday night during their efforts to subdue a woman.

None of the officers was injured seriously. The woman was held for questioning.

* * *

Patrolmen Robert Jarois, 42, Eugene Houston, 39, Daniel Ellis, 24, and Gerald Baumgart, said they went to the woman's house at the request of her children, Henry, 26, and Joyce, 21, who said a shot had been fired at them.

Jarois and Houston said a shot was fired when they entered the house and that they threw in a can of tear gas.

The officers said they were cut as they grappled with the woman.

Bronson Battling Lack of Funds

the total county budget) compared to $257,965 in the 1965 budget (1.5 per cent). Isn't this a sufficient increase?

A—Millions of dollars are spent yearly for law enforcement in Oakland County, not only by cities and townships, but by industry and commerce; for example, private police at shopping centers.

These areas of law enforcement have been expanding in the last three years due to rising population, industrial activity, commercial activity and the rising crime rate.

* * *

"As the chief law enforcement office in the county, the Prosecuter's Office must keep pace with other areas of law enforcement or there will be a breakdown, or at least a slowdown in the entire machinery.

"The law violator must not only be detected and arrested, he must be tried.

"It is necessary to have a prosecutor at every stage of the arrest and trial procedure.

INCREASE DECEPTIVE

"Parenthetically, the percentage increase in our budget is deceptive when compared to the increase in law enforcement generally and the Circuit Court budget over the years.

"We have more police, more judges and now we need more prosecuters."

Q—What is the relationship of your office with law enforcement agencies in the county?

A—It is a direct personal and daily relationship. We are the legal advisers to every police department and law enforcement agency in the county from the pre-arrest through the post-trial and appeal stage.

"There are about 50 such agencies in the county excluding federal and state agencies which we also serve and advise."

Q—You have one prosecutor now per 50,466 population and Wayne County has one per 47,193 people. In view of this minor differential and the probably higher crime rate in Wayne County, aren't you well off by comparison?

A—"No. Oakland County is worse off.

"The great bulk of criminal cases heard in Wayne County are heard in Recorders Court, a court that has exclusive criminal jurisdiction for the City of Detroit and a court that is physically located one block from the Wayne County prosecutor's office.

* * *

"With 57 assistant prosecutors in Wayne County, specialization of labor is more effective than in our smaller office.

MORE INVESTIGATORS

"Another example of where the Wayne County Prosecutor's Office has substantial staff is in the field of investigators. They have 23, including 15 on loan from the Detroit Police Department's Detective Bureau.

"In Oakland County we have one investigator in our budget.

"A county similar to Oakland in area and population distribution is Macomb which has one prosecutor for each 33,000 population—a more realistic and workable figure."

Q—What is the crime rate percentage of increase in Oakland County?

A—"General crime rate figures are not available for counties but we estimate, based on figures compiled by the city and township police departments plus statistical records of our office, that the increase is about 20 per cent per year.

"At the present rate of growth it will be up 100 per cent between now and 1970, the same percentage increase as in the last five years."

Q—How many additional employes did you seek in the 1966 budget?

A—"A total of eight including three assistant prosecutors, two investigators, two stenographers and a court reporter."

Q — Do you feel your department has more pressing needs for new personnel than other departments in view of the fact that a total of 88 new people were requested by all departments and only 15 were allowed in the approved budget?

A — "As prosecutor, I am vitally concerned about public safety and the administration of justice and it is only right that I speak strongly and clearly for law enforcement.

* * *

"This office is not and should not be in competition with other departments for funds.

NEEDS DEFERRED

"The needs of the prosecutor's office have been deferred for years. These needs can not and should not be deferred any longer."

Q — Do you feel politics is involved to any extent in handling of departmental requests by the salaries and ways and means committees or the County Board of Auditors?

A — "The members of these two committees and the board of auditors all are distinguished gentlemen. I cannot believe that, in matters affecting public safety, political affiliations would be the catalyst that determines the vote.

* * *

"However, it is difficult for me to see how they couldn't find more funds for my office from an $18 million budget.

* * *

"It is apparent that a bonding program is needed so that funds can be released for operating budgets.

"Possibly, I have not been persuasive enough. I promise to be more persuasive in the future."

Q — Is your present staff able to handle the work load of the office adequately?

A — "The work load is not being adequately handled according to standards we have set for the office.

* * *

"The increased work in appeals, brought on by the new Supreme Court rulings; increasing caseload, additional advice being given police departments resulting also from high court rulings and new interpretations all make for more work for already overworked personnel.

* * *

"Professional personnel in the office are keeping up but only due to extreme devotion to duty.

"Most trial preparation is done at home by the assistant prosecutors evenings or on Saturday.

"Nothing is really adequate as to office facilities, library facilities and, especially, secretarial help. Office facilities in Royal Oak are overcrowded and those at the courthouse barely meet our needs.

* * *

"We have a ragged, skimpy library with limited sets of criminal law books available in the courthouse for nine lawyers.

* * *

"As for secretaries, we have only two stenographers for the chief trial lawyer, the chief of the warrants and information, the chief of court detail, the chief assistant prosecuting attorney and myself.

* * *

"Again, almost an impossible situation."

Q — Under the present 15-mill limitation for tax allocation to the county, townships and school districts, Oakland County received 5.3 mills for 1966. Do you feel that this limitation should be raised to 18 mills as often suggested by Daniel T. Murphy, chairman of the County Board of Auditors, with the thought that the county would get one of the added three mills which would yield about $2.5 million in new revenue?

A — "The board of supervisors has talented and resourceful people available and I am sure the board can find the answers to these financial problems.

* * *

"My main concern is that my office is not receiving adequate operating funds."

Q — Did your predecessors seek more personnel in view of the rising demands of the office in recent years?

A — "The real work load explosion in the office occurred in the last three years and my predecessors most certainly urged the strengthening of the staff.

* * *

"In fact, the staff did grow under my predecessors but not as fast as the work load increased."

Q — What are the main functions of your office?

A — "Listed not necessarily in the order of importance or time demand, they are: Issuing warrant orders, conducting preliminary examinations and misdemeanor trials at Justice and Municipal courts, Circuit Court felony trials, statutory domestic relations activity, legal advice to police departments on a 24-hour basis, extradition activities, fugitive from justice warrants, mental commitments and many others."

Q—How does your office handle a major crime committed in the middle of the night?

A—"There is always a "duty prosecutor" on call. Each assistant prosecutor takes night and weekend duty a week at a time.

* * *

"During his duty week, an assistant prosecutor still carries on his normal office load with no compensation or other time off.

* * *

"In Wayne County, the night duty prosecutors do no work on days following their night tour of duty."

Q—Do you consider the caliber of the present 15 assistant prosecutors comparable to staff members of the past?

A—"It has been said by distinguished judges and lawyers that this staff, as a group and as individuals, is the finest in the state and the finest ever in Oakland County."

Q—Has morale suffered because of shortage of staff and limited office space?

A—"No. The spirit in the office is, 'Let's get the job done and done right'

* * *

"But simply because we have devoted men and women performing well under disadvantages does not mean that we should let this continue. I have more concern about my staff's health than their morale."

Q—Do you expect to meet your personnel needs?

A—"I cannot meet these needs The board of supervisors can."

Another All-Time Mark Made by Automakers

For several years, automakers have been so consistently breaking one industry record after another, that they've almost become "so what?" items.

The latest accomplishment, however, well rates a 21-gun salute, as we hold our breath until it is surpassed in the immediate years ahead.

★ ★ ★

Tuesday, production figures for 1965 passenger cars hit the 8 million mark, the first time ever. The previous record was the 7.9 million units assembled for the entire year of 1955.

Now, with about seven more weeks to go, industry leaders see this year's total output easily hitting 9 million cars.

Not to be outdone, the truck makers are in the record-breaking business, too. By week's end, truck production is expected to pass the present record of 1,559,515 vehicles set last year.

Although a bit early, we know of no better Christmas present than this fine news from the automotive sector of the national economy. It holds much cheer for the State of Michigan and particularly for our area, which has so vital an interest in the auto industry.

★ ★ ★

We warmly congratulate the leaders of motordom on their superb achievement.

Grandma Once Showed 'Em a Thing or Two

Those—uh—garments that are the latest fad among teen-age girls are definitely misnamed.

"Grannies," they're called. But if they would stop to think about it, the girls would realize that grandma would never have been caught dead in anything like that.

★ ★ ★

The grandmothers of today's teen-agers were, in fact, members of the "flaming youth" generation of the 1920s, when ultrashort skirts, which modern girls think they invented, were really the "bee's knees." (Translation: "In," "crazy," "the greatest.")

Grandma a flapper?
It gives one sober pause.

Fire at Sea Reflects Unseen Hand of Fate

Death comes to man in many guises. But none can be more terrifying than the specter that stalks amid the raging flames of a passenger-laden vessel.

A grim, ironic concomitant of the death throes of many so trapped is that in many cases other human beings bent on rescue are themselves physically secure and involuntary witnesses of the agony of spirit and body so close at hand.

★ ★ ★

Such would have been the ghastly climate of mixed terror and compassion in which the cruise ship Yarmouth Castle was ravaged and sunk by fire.

Disaster brings to the fore inherent character of mankind—be it noble or ignoble. The behavior of the six hundred beings aboard the Yarmouth was no exception.

Bravery, fortitude, self-sacrifice were seen on one hand; cowardice and inhumanity on the other.

The rescue efforts by two vessels, Coast Guard and individual passengers that saved all but 81 of the 550 voyagers were heroic and inspiring.

★ ★ ★

There will of course be inquiries into the cause of the fire and the conduct of the ship's personnel following its discovery.

Charges are heard and denied that the Yarmouth Castle was not properly conditioned in all respects for sailing, that ineffective action was taken in combating the blaze, that removal of passengers was haphazard and inefficient.

Whatever the findings may be there is strong probability that the elements of human carelessness and shirk of responsibility contributed to the cause of the tragedy and its consequences.

★ ★ ★

Until those negative qualities in human nature can somehow be sublimated, man-made catastrophes will continue to shock and sadden us.

No Bluff by LBJ With Business

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON — Same technique, but faster this time. And President Johnson has made his point: He means business with business. He wants prices steady. If he has to play rough to keep them that way, he will.

MARLOW

He did this last week with the aluminum industry and now this week with the copper industry. In both cases he never said a word. He didn't have to. His technique was simple.

He stayed in the background and let his top aides do the talking and the rough stuff. But business could never have any doubt who was pulling the strings.

Although he had previously made clear he wants business to avoid price increases to prevent inflation, the aluminum industry ignored him and raised prices.

He must have hoped the industry would reconsider, because for several days his aides hemmed and hawed and stumbled around with vague hints of what they might do.

★ ★ ★

Then the ax fell. On Nov. 6, Robert S. McNamara, secretary of defense announced the government would get rid of 200,000 tons of aluminum.

GOT THE MESSAGE

The industry got the message and cut prices.

Meanwhile, the copper industry had raised its prices shortly before Johnson's showdown with aluminum and it kept them there.

Then Wednesday night, McNamara came back into the picture suddenly by calling a news conference.

★ ★ ★

McNamara disclosed that the government, which also has more copper than it needs, would release 200,000 tons of it and would take other steps to put a brake on rising copper prices.

ACCUSED OF FUMBLING

Johnson had been criticized after his victory over the aluminum industry. His administration, which had mumbled for days before forcing the showdown, had been accused of fumbling and indecision and other things.

This kind of criticism seemed ridiculous for it was clear enough, when the administration finally decided to turn loose 200,000 tons of aluminum, what had been behind the delay.

All this should provide a good insight — particularly for American business — into Johnson: That he's highly flexible, that he's determined, and that he will stick to what he wants with a minimum of shouting.

★ ★ ★

Now it's up to the copper industry to backdown, as aluminum did, or try its luck by defying Johnson. Since he is a very resourceful man, this might not in the end be good business.

David Lawrence Says:

Johnson Price-Fixing Is Illegal

WASHINGTON — President Johnson doesn't have any legal power to fix copper prices, but he is doing so anyway.

LAWRENCE

He didn't have the power to roll back aluminum prices either, but he accomplished that objective just the same by threatening to dump on the market aluminum from the government's stockpile.

There are, of course, valid reasons why prices should be restrained and wage-and-price stability maintained. But the power to do all this is not vested in one man just because he happens to be President of the United States. Constitutionally, Congress alone can impose wage-and-price control.

Rep. Thomas B. Curtis of Missouri, ranking House Republican on the joint economic committee, and Rep. William B. Widnall of New Jersey, ranking House Republican on the joint committee on defense production, have just recommended that their two committees undertake an exhaustive investigation as soon as Congress meets.

The two congressmen issued a comprehensive statement declaring that the administration's recent activity in relating the stockpile to the price situation "was clearly in violation of the intent of the Defense Production Act of 1951 and raised the crucial issue of the rights of management to make decisions about the use of privately owned resources."

★ ★ ★

The statement points out that the joint defense production committee in its 1959 annual report declared that "the stockpile should be limited to defense needs, and that it is not the purpose of these programs to regulate prices or to solve economic problems."

WITHOUT EFFECT

Even as recently as Oct. 4, 1965, the deputy director of the Office of Economic Planning, Franklin B. Dryden, in testifying before the joint congressional committee on defense production, restated his agency's position that large disposal of stockpile items should be made "without adversely affecting market conditions."

What President Johnson has done is, of course, just the opposite of these declarations.

If governmental action is necessary, the feeling is growing that Congress should spell it out in a statute and that arbitrary steps should not be taken which could shake confidence in the whole economic system.

★ ★ ★

The big mystery here is why the administration has been operating in such a curious way in the last two weeks with respect to both aluminum and copper prices.

At first, it was announced that the government would sell in the next year 300,000 tons of aluminum. When the companies went to Washington to urge restraint, they were told that the administration was going ahead anyhow. As soon, however, as the aluminum companies rolled back their prices, the administration reversed its position and cut down the amount of aluminum to be sold to something between 100,000 and 200,000 tons a year, which is what the industry all along has been in favor of doing.

But during the controversy over aluminum, criticism was voiced that nothing had been done by the administration about the recent rise in copper prices.

So Secretary McNamara was selected again by the President to make public announcement of the government's intention to sell 200,000 tons of copper from the national stockpile.

There are, of course, various reasons why prices should be fixed in the midst of a war crisis.

While the objective is to prevent inflation, the method being used today by the administration is not likely to accomplish stability, but will produce an uneasy feeling among businessmen and perhaps even disturb international trade by invading the field of prices abroad.

U.S. Weighing Start-Up of Wheat Sales to Egypt

By RUTH MONTGOMERY

WASHINGTON — A top State Department spokesman discloses that "extremely high-level consideration is being given to the resumption of surplus wheat sales to the United Arab Republic.

Ruth Montgomery

Congress wrote into the foreign aid appropriations bill last session a stipulation that surplus foods be denied the U.A.R., unless President Johnson deems it in our national interest to resume the shipments which ended last summer.

At the time this amendment was written, Congress regarded President Gamal Abdel Nasser as a troublemaker who had been stirring up muddy waters in Yemen and the Congo.

Ironically, as the recuperating president now surveys world trouble spots with foreign affairs advisers, the long-bubbling Middle East caldron is about the only major area that is providing no new headaches.

★ ★ ★

Only in the Middle East, which for so many years has occupied the attention of U.N. peace-keeping missions, does a relative calm exist.

KEY TO TRUCE

The key to that shaky truce is held by Nasser, who in recent months has proved to be surprisingly cooperative.

Following several high-level conferences with U. S. officials, President Nasser agreed to stop helping Congo rebels . . . and did stop.

As a result of other negotiations he signed a pact with Saudi Arabia, under which he would withdraw all Egyptian troops from war-torn Yemen by November 1966. This evacuation is now taking place according to the agreed upon timetable.

President Nasser has gone out of his way to be cooperative in the case of rioting African students who burned down our USIA library in Cairo late last fall.

He not only deported the student ringleaders and compensated us for the loss, but donated a thousand new volumes and provided USIA with a large house on the Nile at $1-a-year, to be used until another library can be constructed.

Despite his new policy of sweetness-and-light, he has been unable since the summer to purchase badly needed wheat from our surplus stocks.

Why should our young men have to fight a war we should have no part in, to keep communism out of our country, while President Johnson is letting them in the back door by the thousands, housing and feeding them and providing them $100 a month support? This is more than some of our own people get.

No Bill-Power

The Minneapolis Star

With passage of the highway beautification bill the American public is now told that billboards are, at last, being "controlled."

Well, perhaps.

Most of the people who watched the long series of amendments chipping away at the original intent of the bill seem to have come away with the feeling that the final bill is something like nailing up a two-foot picket fence to "control" an elephant.

★ ★ ★

One of the key struggles—over the question of putting up off-premises advertising in unzoned areas along the open highway—has been resolved by leaving the decision on each specific road to be worked out jointly by "the states" and "the secretary of commerce." It is a proceeding in which the billboard is likely to be much better represented than the interests of the general motoring public.

★ ★ ★

Still, the new law is a start, and has—at a minimum—contributed enormously to the public's growing understanding that its investment in new highways need not be automatically turned over for exploitation by all sorts of commercial interests.

The question we ought to ask now is "What more can we do, locally?"

★ ★ ★

Minneapolis ought to start worrying about what will happen when the Stevens Ave. freeway opens to traffic in a year. It will attract an enormous volume of cars—and the billboards will not be far behind.

Minneapolis has a fine tradition to maintain: After the roadside clutter through many of the suburbs it is still a pleasure to drive across the city limits and find oneself on a green and landscaped roadway. The new freeways, beginning with 35W, can provide the same sort of entrance to the city, if properly developed.

★ ★ ★

A review of the present zoning controls is clearly in order.

The New York Daily News

Sen. Everett M. Dirksen (R-Ill.) engineered defeat of the proposed repealer of the Taft-Hartley Act's Sec. 14-B in the recent session of Congress — with startling results.

★ ★ ★

Sec. 14-B permits the states to outlaw compulsory union membership by enacting right-to-work statutes — which 19 states have done. Encouraged by the Dirksen victory, the National Right-to-Work Committee is steaming up its campaign for such laws in all states. The group reports a 25 per cent membership increase in one year, with many members of labor unions joining up. It is full of zip and zingo — and full of hope to defeat the 14-B repealer again, and again, and again. Maybe Big Labor already is passing its power-peak.

★ ★ ★

We wish the right-to-workers well. We believe the labor movement would be far better off if labor leaders in all the states had to work to sell and resell unionism to workers, rather than rake in automatically checked-off dues and assessments in the 31 union-shop states.

Kidnaped Boy Describes Details of 9-Hour Ordeal

TACOMA, Wash. (AP) — Thirteen-year-old Charles Hyde III planned to help authorities piece together likenesses today of the two men who kidnaped him for $45,000 ransom.

The youngster, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hyde Jr., was abducted early Thursday by two men and released unharmed after the father, head of a wholesale grocery company, paid the ransom.

After the boy was kidnaped while on the way to school, the father was notified by telephone to round up the money in $5, $10, $20, $100 and $1,000 bills.

Hyde drove to a supermarket parking lot as he was ordered, to wait for a call at a pay telephone booth, and while he was there the valise holding the bills was removed from his car.

9-HOUR NIGHTMARE

Recalling the nine-hour nightmare, Charles said when his captors left him in the concrete waterfront building where he had been hidden, they told him they'd shoot him if he didn't stay at least 20 minutes.

Then he worked his hands loose from the tape which bound them and climbed about a half mile up a hill above the waterfront to the home of family friends.

* * *

Late Thursday at the sheriff's office, he and Pete Schultz, an officer who specializes in composing portraits of wanted men from a set of plastic pieces, tried to work out the visages of the two kidnapers. They planned to go on with their work today.

In addition, the state patrol planned to provide a slide set showing late model autos to see if Charles could point out the kind of small white compact car his abductors used.

AFTER RELEASE — Charles Hyde III, 13-year-old kidnaping victim, sits with his mother at a news conference in Tacoma, Wash., yesterday, after being released unharmed by his abductors earlier on payment of $45,000 ransom money by his father, Charles Hyde Jr., president of a Tacoma grocery company. The boy was held nine hours.

Snow Heavy in Northeast

Pacific Storm Pounds Coast

By The Associated Press

A storm brewing off the north Pacific Coast sent rain, snow and strong winds to the coastal area today.

Winds up to 60 miles per hour lashed Cape Blanco on the southwestern Oregon Coast as one-half inch of rain fell in a six hour period.

* * *

The storm sent showers and strong winds to the north and central Pacific Coast. Snows extended inland to the northern Rockies.

The heavy rains which have swamped southern California for five days tapered off, but light showers continued. Winds reaching up to 30 m.p.h. swept through Oregon.

SUN APPEARS

Bright sunshine bathed sections of foggy southern California Thursday, but the Weather Bureau predicted that rain could fall intermittently until the middle of next week.

Los Angeles has recorded 5.25 inches of rain, and up to 15 inches has fallen in the mountains since Saturday night. Thousands of homes have been flooded, isolated or threatened by mud slides. Many roads remained closed.

One foot of snow was recorded at the 9,500-foot level on Mt. Baldy in Los Angeles County.

More than 3,000 miles away in the northeastern United States, residents took a breather after a day of battering winds and snow.

LASHING WIND

Gusts up to 70 m.p.h. were measured at White Plains, N.Y., at midday.

At Malone, N.Y., a 2-foot snowfall was piled into drifts 5 and 6 feet high, closing schools and secondary roads.

A foot of snow accumulated in the Lake Placid-Saranac Lake area. Elsewhere, the snow ranged from 6 inches in western New York to 2 inches in Mohawk Valley and a trace in the Hudson Valley.

Winds measured at 50 m.p.h. wrecked a church in Harrisburg, Pa., and ripped out power lines, leaving 3,000 to 4,000 homes without power in uptown Harrisburg for two hours Thursday.

WIND DAMAGE

Many homes reported trees and television antennas blown down.

Near Stroudsburg, Pa., winds blew a trailer from a flat-bed truck into a field.

* * *

Meadville, Pa., had 10 inches of snow, Blairsville 3 and Bradford 1.

Egypt's pyramids are estimated to be about 5,000 years old.

Says Court 'Softness' Aids Crime

DETROIT (AP)—The president of the American Bar Association said Thursday "sentimentalist" decisions by American courts have helped create a wave of unprecedented lawlessness in the U. S.

Such people advocate "more and more sympathy and less and lighter punishment for criminals," said Edward W. Kuhn. He spoke before a group of insurancemen in Detroit.

★ ★ ★

The rising tide of crime in the United States is "the greatest problem...ever faced by any nation...in the history of mankind," said Kuhn. "Over 7,000 major crimes are committed in this country every day... Sunday's included."

Kuhn predicted that by 1975, the current trend will produce one major crime for every 32 persons. He quoted the FBI as estimating crime costs Americans $27 billion a year.

CITES STATISTICS

"For every dollar spent on education, $1.15 goes to crime; for every dollar given to churches, $9 goes to crime," he said.

He cited public apathy, sentimentalism, court decisions which "have strengthened...the rights of accused persons...and rendered the task of law enforcement more difficult" for the rise in lawlessness.

★ ★ ★

"One can only conclude that the various court decisions... are an important factor in these ...unfortunate trends," said Kuhn.

To combat the crime increase, Kuhn said the public must be aroused, stricter judges must be put on the bench, parole systems tightened and police forces upgraded.

★ ★ ★

He also suggested enactment of modern criminal laws to outlaw crime syndicates, prohibit the obstruction of criminal investigation, outlaw private wiretapping and compel testimony and grand immunity.

Latin Aid Plan Major Topic

RIO DE JANEIRO (AP) — U.S. sources anticipated today that extension of aid to Latin America beyond the 10-year Alliance for Progress program will be one of the major economic themes in the special inter-American conference now under way here.

Under the program of large-scale aid for economic and social reforms, the United States has been contributing roughly $1 billion a year since 1961.

★ ★ ★

Proponents of the program say it has spurred aid-receiving countries to put up much larger sums of their own for their development, and a number of Latin-American states should be able to proceed without outside help by the end of the decade.

But it is generally expected the U.S. sources said, that all pockets of poverty will not be wiped out by 1971. Hence the idea of extending the Alliance for Progress beyond the current "decade of development."

No hard-and-fast dollar commitments are expected out of the current foreign ministers' parley. This special inter-American conference is reviewing the hemisphere system in a broad way and so far has tended to avoid detailed projects.

The Latin-American delegates here are well aware that Congress controls the U.S. government's purse and the U.S. delegation headed by Secretary of State Dean Rusk cannot bind the United States to spending in future years.

SHOULD JOIN IN

In the U.S. view, other American republics should join in dispensing aid when they reach an economic takeoff point themselves. One example cited was Mexico — receiver of nearly $500 million in the first four years of the Alliance for Progress. Mexico is now prospering and extending help to Central America.

Jose A. Mora, secretary general of the Organization of American States, declared Thursday that the Alliance for Progress should become a permanent part of the inter-American system.

★ ★ ★

Addressing the foreign ministers and delegates from 19 countries at the conference's first plenary session, Mora joined those who are urging greater powers for the OAS and its secretary general.

Mora reported the Caribbean area remains "very sensitive" but said the "great imaginative and creative effort" by the OAS in the Dominican Republic is leading toward democratization there.

4 COMMITTEES

The conference set up four working committees, named host Foreign Minister Vasco Leitao da Cunha of Brazil conference president, and agreed to close Nov. 30.

A rebel Dominican Republic faction headed by Jostin Cury, foreign minister under ousted President Juan Bosch, arrived to protest OAS intervention in their country.

★ ★ ★

Cury said he would seek admission as the Dominican representative. Ramon Rodriguez is here as foreign minister of the OAS-sponsored Dominican government. U.S. officials doubted that Cury's group, which is associated with the leader of the Dominican rebels, Col. Francisco Caamano Deno, would get much support from the Latin-American delegates here.

Fire Near Petoskey

PETOSKEY (AP)—A fire at a Penn-Dixie Cement Corp. plant near Petoskey Thursday damaged electrical cables and a heating kiln. No one was injured. Cause of the blaze and damage estimates were not immediately known.

'Santas' to Fly Gifts to Viet

WASHINGTON (AP)—Hundreds of Air National Guardsmen — most of them weekend fliers — have a 10-day trip in their future. They're going to fly Christmas gifts to American soldiers in South Viet Nam.

Volunteer National Guard crews of nine men each will fly an estimated 75 missions to Viet Nam in the next month, carrying cookies, cakes, candy and mail.

★ ★ ★

The first of the flights left Nashville, Tenn., Thursday with 4,500 pounds of home-baked cookies. A few hours later, the plane picked up another 5,000 pounds of Christmas gifts at Carswell Air Base in Fort Worth, Tex. Then it headed west for the 11,000-mile trip to South Viet Nam.

The cookie-laden transport was the first plane of "Operation Christmas Star," a program designed to make sure that Christmas gets to Viet Nam this year.

TOO MANY GIFTS

The airlift was devised after officials realized that Americans — anxious to show their support for U.S. servicemen overseas — were volunteering more Christmas gifts than normal Air Force transportation could handle.

At the urge of several congressmen, including Rep. Richard S. Schweiker, R-Pa., Defense Department officials gave approval to the operation.

★ ★ ★

The call then went out for volunteers to man the huge C97 stratocruisers needed to haul the staggering array of Christmas goods. In Pennsylvania alone, more than 75 tons of baked goods are being prepared for overseas distribution.

And from California to New York, the volunteers came.

SPONTANEOUS HELP

"We had a spontaneous reaction to this thing," said Col. Paul Hughes of Pleasantville, N.Y., executive officer of New York's Air National Guard.

★ ★ ★

When It's Rubbed In

Left Cold by Winter Vacation

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Winter vacations used to be for t birds. Now they are for some people, too.

BOYLE

And the biggest bores in the office from November until next April are the winter vacationists.

Taking a winter vacation has become a form of social upmanship. The fellow who goes on vacations used to be for the rest of us paycheck prisoners who, because of family reasons, can only get away during the mobbed months of June, July and August, the factory season for most resorts.

But going on a vacation during the cold months isn't necessarily a sign of wealth. Many people live on bean soup the rest of the year so they can afford to splurge on one.

* * *

It may be possible that in the history of the world, a man had an ulcer operation and didn't brag about it. But no man ever took a winter vacation and kept it quiet. He bends every ear in reach both before and after.

Weeks before the event he tours the office showing glamorous travel folders. He actually is trying to make everyone else envious, but he pretends to be seeking advice.

"Where do you think I should go?" he asks.

You have a definite idea, but you're too polite to make the suggestion.

* * *

There are two types of winter vacationists: Those who go to sunny places and those who go to snowy places.

Those who go to snowy places suffer from a lifelong trauma as a result of having seen the film "Nanook of the North" during their childhood. They trudge out of the office wearing heavy boots and carrying a pair of rented skis across their shoulders.

THEY RETURN

A week or two later they return on crutches with a foot swathed in bandages and their eyes hidden behind a pair of dark, dark sunglasses.

"Broke my ankle doing a slalom down the most dangerous slope," a typical victim explains. "The ski surgeon says it's the worst break he's seen in 30 years."

* * *

You give a few sympathetic clucks, and then make the mistake of inquiring, "Why the sunglasses?" That gives him just the opening he has been looking for.

"Just a touch of snow blindness," he remarks with casual heroism. "I had to lie there untended all day before they found me. Then it took four men all that night and the next day to carry me down the mountain during a raging blizzard."

Actually, you know in your heart that the liar probably never even got out in the snow, and probably broke his ankle and got a black eye falling off a bar stool back in the ski lodge. But how can you prove it?

Just as wearing to listen to are the adventures of one who cruised to sunny climes.

* * *

"What do you think of my tan?" is his beginning line.

"Great," you reply. "You look brown as a nut."

That doesn't stop him. He tells you how he ate at the captain's table every night, how he calmed the other passengers as the ship wallowed through the howlingest storm ever known at sea, how during a stop at the Island of Yama Yama he became the first white man ever to attend a native Voodoo rite.

Long after the first robin of spring has come, he is still babbling to you about all the fun he had while you were busy in the office doing his job as well as your own.

There is only one way to get even with the winter vacationist. That is to take a vacation next winter yourself; Then grab him by his lapels — and tell him all about it until his ears turn blue.

ONE COLOR

Wiring Blamed for Power Loss

LANSING (AP) — Improper wiring of a back-up relay switch caused the power failure which blacked out sections of Lansing for up to nearly two hours Tuesday night, officials say.

A disturbance in an underground cable sent a power surge into one of the city's power plants and the improperly wired relay cut off power, they said.

* * *

Otto E. Eckert, general manager of the board of water and light, said the board would make changes in its control equipment in efforts to prevent any recurrence.

He said the power failure did not damage any of the board's equipment.

* * *

"Our main concern was the inconvenience it caused our customers," he said.

Some sections of Lansing had their power restored almost immediately, while lights were out in other areas for up to one hour, 48 minutes.

25-Story Apartment

DETROIT (AP)—The Detroit Housing Commission approved plans for an $8 million, 25 story apartment building in an urban renewal tract in downtown Detroit Thursday. The building would include 300 apartments, stores, a swimming pool and a garage for 550 cars, said developer Irving Stollman.

Rough Task for Ambassador Bowles

Anti-American Sentiment Sweeps India

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — U.S. Ambassador Chester Bowles is trying to sweep back a tide of anti-American feeling in India.

Being Washington's man on the broom in India these days probably is the toughest job Bowles has taken in his 35 years of public life.

* * *

He has been governor, Connecticut, 1949-51; congressman, undersecretary of state, and twice ambassador to India. But he's really on the spot now.

The United States, its policies, its leaders and even Bowles himself are being criticized. The Soviet Union is making inroads in prestige here.

BITTER ATTACK

On Tuesday, there was a bitter attack on the United States by Indian officials. Premier Lal Bahadur Shastri praised the Soviet Union highly. Still, in Bombay, the railway minister was pointing out that India's starving masses must get U.S. wheat.

Frank Anthony, leader of India's quarter-million citizens of mixed British-Indian parentage and formerly a firm supporter of the United states, blamed America and Britain for Pakistan's "aggressive and intransigent" stance toward India. He told Parliament the United States was naive in thinking arms given Pakistan would be used to contain communism.

Hare Krushna Mehtab, a member of Shastri's Congress party, also told Parliament that the United States was morally responsible for destruction of men and material by arming Pakistan.

Shastri, in his talk to Parliament, was outspoken in his praise of the Soviet Union. He said he hoped India's bonds of friendship with the Soviet Union were strengthened.

SOFT DEFENSE

There was no significant defense of the United States.

Bowles has had to contend primarily with two hot problems:

* * *

● Anger aroused by past American military aid to neighboring Pakistan, whose troops went into action against India in American-made tanks and planes.

● Bitterness that has spread into the government's highest levels over reports that U.S. economic aid and the "food for peace" program, $3 billion, are being used by Washington to pressure India into a Kashmir settlement which India wouldn't accept.

KNOWN DIPLOMAT

Bowles has a great fund of good will in India and is known throughout the nation better than any other diplomat. Top members of the government consider him a good friend of India.

Bowles has drawn deeply on this good will in recent weeks in countless public and private meetings during which he has explained the American case.

Now the ambassador confronts another problem.

He apparently feels there is misunderstanding back home over India's mood and the danger that indelicate handling of the present tense situation could drive 480 million Indians into Moscow's arms.

FOND INTEREST

Soviet designs in India long have been of intense interest to Bowles, and warnings against Moscow run through his collection of writings and speeches.

He consequently has been fighting on two fronts in recent months. He has been working to sway Indian opinion — and at the same time trying to influence thinking in Washington.

* * *

In a letter last month to Rep. Clarence D. Long of Maryland, Democratic member of the House Appropriations Committee, Bowles declared if America could "quickly adjust our policies to suit our long-range interests in India, the basis for a between India and the United close and beneficial relationship States could emerge in the next few months."

Bowles doesn't disguise his feeling that India is extremely important in democracy's struggle with communism, and that without a strong, stable India, the United States can make no permanent headway in Asia.

VOICE CRITICISM

The fervor with which he pleads India's importance has brought some criticism from fellow Americans. His recommendations of increased aid to India led the New York Daily News to comment in an editorial in July:

"Why don't we just adopt India by making it the 51st state? Nothing short of that, it seems, will satisfy Bowles — whose title, we've long thought, should be changed to Indian ambassador to the U.S. Treasury."

* * *

As a diplomat, Bowles won't go on record with his personal feelings.

But aides report a cooling off of what once was known in New Delhi as Bowles' "eternal optimism"—optimism over India's economic growth, its friendship with America, its alertness to Soviet motives.

The first organization for archers in the U. S. was "The United Bowmen of Philadelphia," organized in 1828 and continued until 1859.

Grant to Aid Study of Cells

By Science Service

PHILADELPHIA — An unusual grant by the U.S. Public Health Service for the support of an entire program of research as opposed to a specific project will support five years of work on living cell structure at a cost of $1.2 million.

The funds will be administered by Dr. Seymour S. Cohen, chairman of the department of therapeutic research of the University of Pennsylvania School of Medicine.

Dr. Luther L. Terry, until Oct. 1, 1965, Surgeon General of the U.S. Public Health Service, is vice president in charge of medical affairs at the University.

Significance of the research, which will be directed to the structure and physiology of the cell in animals and bacteria, lies in the fact that all human tissue is made up of cells, and that the complete understanding of the body, its processes and disease states is linked largely to cell comprehension.

Drs. Leonard Warren, professor of therapeutic research, Margit Nass, assistant professor, and Mary C. Glick, assistant professor, will collaborate with Dr. Cohen in the research to learn more about how cells and parts of cells multiply, and how this multiplication can be controlled.

U. S. Economic Office Will Be in Detroit

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Midwest office of the Economic Development Administration (EDA) will be in Detroit, Sen. Pat McNamara, D-Mich., announced Thursday.

The Detroit office will handle EDA operations in Michigan, Missouri, Indiana, Illinois and Western Ohio. It will open in January with a regional director. Eventually, there will be a staff of 50.

PNH Seniors Pick Officers; DAR Good Citizen Named

By ALICE TURNER

The election of senior class officers at Pontiac Northern was held Tuesday.

Allan Benson was elected president; Boyd Cryer, vice president; Cathy Norberg, secretary; and Ron Rayner, treasurer.

On the slate were Allan Benson, Chris Bexell, Diane Coin, Sue Cook, Boyd Cryer, Carol Harris, Cathy Norberg, Ron Rayner and Don Tinson.

The candidate receiving the most votes in the election became the president, second high became vice president and so on until the four offices were filled.

★ ★ ★

It will be the responsibility of the senior officers to plan the senior trip, the senior prom and the senior all-school dance.

Barbara Nelson, a PNH senior, was recently chosen by PNH's faculty and administration to represent the school in the General Richardson Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution's program for recognizing good citizens in local high schools.

Barbara met the many qualifications necessary to become a representative in this program which included: Dependabiltity, service, leadership and patriotism.

She will be honored at a tea along with other girls chosen from this area.

Northern is expecting the arrival of two new foreign exchange students from Brazil in January.

WITH SENIORS

The girls will be staying at the homes of Carolyn Bell and Kathy Schweitzer, both seniors at PNH.

It is also hoped that Northern will be able to send at least five students abroad this summer.

The number, however, depends on the amount of contributions received and the number of sponsors.

As of now the applicants are Mary DeClute, Pat Leonard, Dan McQueen, Lana Sparks, Gil Tuttle, Ron Fritz and Barbara Nelson.

At Kettering

'November Nocturne' Set

By JAMIE SCHUTT

Autumn melodies will fill the gymnasium tomorrow night at 8 as Waterford Kettering's Vocal Music Department presents the annual fall concert, "November Nocturne."

The department is divided into five sections. Beginning the concert will be the girls' chorus, directed by student teacher Sharon Greanya. Accompanying the group will be Shirley Freeman.

Next, the Girls' Ensemble, a special group consisting of 10 girls, will perform.

Members of the group are Caroline Bass, Dawn Blackstone, Linda Carey, Rawleen Colonna, Sally Hunter, Lynn Johnson, Brenda Newton, Demaris Portwood, Janet Rivers and Loretta Smith.

Pianist Gail Straiter will accompany the ensemble.

Accompanied by Sonia Martin, the mixed chorus will sing three Brahms' folk songs and "To Thee We Sing."

The entire vocal music department will join in singing "Amen" with soloist Linda Wharton.

The a cappela choir will then sing a Bach choral, "Beside That Cradle Here I Stand"; the German version of "All of My Heart's Deep Yearnings"; and the Norman Luboff arrangement of "All Through the Night."

★ ★ ★

Ellen Warnock will play the flute for the final number.

During the second half of the concert, the stage setting will suggest an autumn season.

The Gleemen, a select group of the a cappela choir, will sing.

Joined by the rest of the a cappela choir and the combined groups they will sing "This Is a Great Country," "Way Back Home," and "Smoke Gets in Your Eyes."

Parents Get Law Briefing

By LINDA WRIGHT

Students of Emmanuel Christian School sent their parents to school Tuesday night to attend the monthly meeting of the Parent-Teachers Fellowship.

Roger Sykes, the school principal, discussed the new Elementary and Secondary Education Act, which grants school financial assistance.

Preceding this month's meeting, the senior class sponsored a spaghetti dinner.

Class Colors Worn by Holly Students

By LINDA LONGSTRETH

Monday was Senior Day at Holly High School.

All seniors wore their class colors of pink and cranberry. A Senior Day is scheduled to be held the first Monday of each month.

Next week is a short one at HHS. School will let out at 11 a.m. Wednesday for the Thanksgiving vacation.

JAPANESE MASKS — Dressed in a Japanese kimono, Susan Beaudry of 5800 Strathdonway, Waterford Township, displays two of the mementos she collected during her three-month visit in Japan. Under the Youth for Understanding program, Susan lived with a Tokyo family throughout her stay.

For WTHS Student

2nd Home in Japan

By CAROL PETAR

Oriental sights and customs impressed Susan Beaudry, Waterford Township High School senior, during the three months she spent living in Tokyo, Japan.

Under the Youth for Understanding program, Susan was placed in a Japanese home to learn about customs and family life of the Japanese.

Her family consisted of her "father," who is the manager of the Soviet ship department for a large Japanese ship building company, her "mother" and two "sisters," Toko, 14, and Hako, 20.

Susan learned a portion of the three Japanese alphabets. She said most Japanese can translate and write English, but have a difficult time speaking it.

★ ★ ★

Other WTHS students who went abroad were Tom Rohrer, Sue Oyet, Diana Voydanoff and Barbara Stock, who lived in Germany; Mark Haddow and Linda Berry, Sweden; Janice Means and Andy Hunt, Holland; Bob Bawden and Carol Nye, Finland; and Carolyn Rudlaff, Ireland.

PARKING RULES

The Waterford Township School Board has passed a new ruling regarding the Waterford Township parking lot situation.

Designed to help eliminate some of the vandalism, the new policy will go into effect sometime between Thanksgiving and Christmas.

Students who drive to school must register their cars and buy a 50-cent sticker for identification purposes.

★ ★ ★

In addition, they are to buy a 10-cent ticket for each day they wish to use parking facilities. The ticket must be given to the attendant stationed in the parking lot.

LOT ATTENDED

The attendant will stay in the parking lot during the day to protect the cars. The 10-cent fee will cover his salary.

Senior Mary Ott has been chosen for the Daughters of the American Revolution award.

★ ★ ★

Selected by the faculty, Mary was judged on her dependability, service, leadership and patriotism.

Mary is senior class secretary and a member of the National Honor Society.

PCH Debaters Win Tourney

By HELEN COLLIAS

Pontiac Central's debate team recently won their second conference tournament held at Flint.

★ ★ ★

Repeating its first tournament victory, the team won 11 out of 12 debates.

At midseason, the team now leads the Saginaw Valley competition by 11 points, having compiled 22 wins and 2 defeats.

Varsity debaters were Thomas Hahn, Roberta Wine, Ned Barker and Margy Rosner.

★ ★ ★

Second and third team debaters were Cynthia Bryant, Valerie Bunce, Ted Fisher and Carol Johnston.

★ ★ ★

Rounding out the list were Marianne Rollo, Charles Smith, Veta Smith and Wendy Wold.

Central has won the Valley debate championship seven out of the last eight years and hopes to repeat this year. Walter Smith is debate coach.

Active all year, the biology club under the sponsorship of Judith Ungvary, is taking in new members and planning several trips.

★ ★ ★

Purpose of the club is to enable students interested in biology and science to participate in numerous field trips and excursions.

AMONG TRIPS

So far this year, the trips have included a visit to the Detroit Zoo and a tour at Oakland University where they viewed an electron microscope. The microscope is the only one of its kind in this area.

Working together with the sponsor to plan and organize trips are the newly elected officers.

They are Charles Wilkison, president; Carol Bacak, vice president; and Richard Isgrigg, secretary; Christine Emerson, treasurer; and Barbara Warren sergeant-at-arms.

★ ★ ★

The first volleyball tournament was recently held between a senior and junior team. The winner will compete against the top sophomore team later.

★ ★ ★

As a climax of the activities, the champions of the second tournament will play in a faculty-student game. Frances Casey and a student, Kay Madsen, will serve as referees.

Scholarship Club posted the honor roll this week for the first marking period.

With a B average or better, 21.2 per cent of the seniors, 17 per cent of the juniors and 15 per cent of the sophomores are eligible for honors.

St. Fred's

By ERNESTINE MOORE

This week may very well be dubbed "The Week That Was" by the students of St. Frederick High School.

It all began last Sunday afternoon when the girls played a football game against St. Michael's girls.

The Rams won the game 6-0 with a touchdown by Louise Featherman on their first play of the game.

Next on the activity list is the selling by the Student Council of "Stop" sign badges with the inscription "You can't stop St. Fred's Rams".

★ ★ ★

This sale serves a double purpose.

It promotes student spirit for the upcoming basketball season, and is a way for Student Council to raise revenue without a "direct taxation" of students.

Avondale

By CHERYL BECKER

Musical Youth International has chosen three Avondale High School Students to participate in a five-week European tour this summer.

Seniors Phylis Grisham and Paul Underwood and Junior Helen Jancik will join in the program along with 70 other Midwestern students.

★ ★ ★

Phylis and Paul will tour as members of the choir and Helen will play the flute in a student orchestra.

National Honor Society Club officers for the 1965-66 school year have been elected. New officers are Danny Miller, president; Phylis Grisham, vice-president; Mary Ann Hackett, secretary; Linda Armstrong, treasurer.

Brandon

By ROSE THERIOT

Brandon High School for the past few weeks has been the center of various fund raising activities.

Brandon's Ski Club is going to raffle off a portable television on Nov. 29 to raise money toward the ski weekend at Boyne Highlands.

The junior class is now well on it's way in the annual candy sales. They are hoping to reach a goal of $600 to help them financially.

A relatively new club, Brandon High School Library Assistants, has been enrolling new members into the RCA Victor Club as a means of bettering the library's music department.

Milford

By RICHARD WIXOM

Milford High School's Sadie Hawkins dance this evening will feature "Marryin' Sams" James Drue, principal; and Denver Dunn, shop instructor.

The annual event is sponsored by the Student Council.

MHS varsity and junior varsity football players and cross-country runners will be honored at an athletic department program Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. in the Little Theater.

James Clark, Linda Derewanko, Terry Lovejoy and Craig Monroe represented Milford in a Knowledge Bowl meet last Tuesday afternoon at Clarenceville.

Bloomfield Hills

By LINDA McNEILL

This year the Bloomfield Hills High School Vocal Music Department will present an Autumn-Thanksgiving Concert on Nov. 18 and 19 at 8:15.

The new a capella choir as well as the Jacks and Jills will be featured in this two-night performance.

Dr. Jerome Fink, noted psychiatrist recently spoke to BHHS psychology students. Topic of his lecture was Child-Parent Relationships.

A practicing psychiatrist, Dr. Fink is on the board at Pontiac State Hospital and The Haven. He also is a part-time professor at the University of Michigan.

★ ★ ★

Fun night for seniors at BHHS will be Nov. 20 at Oakland University. The activities include swimming, basketball and volleyball.

Troy

By RICK SHAVER

Why can't I wear my granny" dress? That's the question the girls at Troy High School are asking, in the biggest controversy ever to hit THS.

For some time the Student Council last week had a heated debate concerning this issue and whether or not the "granny" meets the dress code.

★ ★ ★

The administration has outlawed the fad in spite of what seems to be the majority student opinion.

The library was closed this week to undergo major improvements. More shelves were added and the old ones moved to make more space and provide room for 10,000 books.

Announcements Ordered by Seniors at Clarkston

By CATHY RICHARDSON

Clarkston High School senior class met Wednesday to order announcements for their graduation.

Class President Rod Allen, and sponsors Robert Casteel and Lawrence Thibault described the various types of announcements.

The class members then chose their favorite and orders were taken.

Also, at this time, plans for the annual senior trip were introduced. Seniors must decide whether they will travel to Washington, D.C., New York City or both cities, next June.

★ ★ ★

A skit, presented earlier this week by Sue Powell, yearbook editor, and Karen Caldwell, assistant editor, kicked off Clarkston's yearbook sale.

AD GIMMICK

Advertising gimmick used by the yearbook staff for promotion of the sale is the word "oddwadd."

Created by a member of the staff, the word stands for anyone who doesn't buy a yearbook. They will be on sale for one week.

Clarkston's production of Thornton Wilder's Pulitzer Prize-winning "The Skin of Our Teeth" will be shown tonight and Saturday at 8 p.m. in the Little Theater.

★ ★ ★

Cast in major roles of the comedy are Penny Cook, Frances Locher, Charles Pearson, Sue Putnam, Neil Stalker and Jody Strother. Twenty-seven other students will also appear in the all-school play.

TWO CONCERTS

Western Michigan University's vocal department will present two concerts in the Clarkston area on Tuesday.

The singing group, under the direction of Thomas Hardie, director of music, will be featured at an afternoon assembly for the high school student body.

At 8 p.m. they will appear at a public performance in the Little Theater.

Both assemblies are sponsored by the Student Government.

Clarkston's Varsity Club will sponsor an all-school play night on Wednesday.

THE WINNERS — Proud of the Catholic League, Macomb Division, football trophy are (from left) Our Lady of the Lakes High School cocaptains Dennis Gardner of 2977 Onagon and Carl Matzelle of 6636 Northview, Independence Township, and cheerleader captain Elvie Mauro of 5920 Jerose. Dennis and Elvie are residents of Waterford Township. This is the first time that the school has earned the coveted trophy.

Students, Faculty in Basketball Tilt

By RON MOORHEAD

Tonight at 8, Walled Lake High School's annual student-faculty basketball game will be held.

Seven teams of senior boys, led by Richard King and Tim McKibben, will try to break the faculty's long winning streak and regain the "little brown jug."

★ ★ ★

Spirits are high on both teams and posters supporting both sides have been evident in the halls and cafeteria.

Ten senior girls have been selected by the varsity cheerleaders to lead the cheers in the student section.

Trophy Received

OLL Takes Grid Title

By CECELIA PARKER

For the first time in the history of Our Lady of the Lakes High School, the football team has earned the Catholic League's Macomb division championship.

School spirit has been racing at a feverish pace, thanks to the undefeated season.

Formal presentation of the trophy to the student body was made yesterday at a Student Council assembly.

Students were given a stiff workout as they recently competed in the Michigan Mathematics Prize Competition Test.

FURTHER COMPETITION

Those who score well on this initial test are eligible to go on in the competition for various scholarship awards. Supervising the exam was Ann Sarul, math teacher.

Results of the recent Air Force Aptitude Tests were received.

Tonight the juniors are sponsoring the annual ring dance.

★ ★ ★

"Ring-A-Go-Go" will be held in the school gym from 8-11:30. Music will be provided by the Diablos.

Shadow of JFK Killing Still on Texas Families 2 Years Later

By MIKE COCHRAN

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Marina Oswald Porter snubbed out her ninth cigarette of the morning and lighted another.

"Have you ever tried to analyze yourself?" she asked. "It's very hard to do. I think about it a lot. I try to forget. It is very difficult. It is like a nightmare. Sometimes I have nightmares."

The former Mrs. Lee Harvey Oswald was speaking of the assassination of President John F. Kennedy two years ago. Seated at the dining table in her modern brick home in northeast Dallas, she fussed with her blonde hair and drank coffee.

At first reluctant to admit a reporter — "I am no longer news," she said at the door — she later relaxed and talked easily, with a definite Russian accent. An attractive, slender woman of medium height, she has arresting blue eyes, of an intense turquoise shade. Denied cigarettes by Oswald during their marriage, she now is a chain smoker.

Now the wife of an electronics technician, Kenneth Porter, she is one of several Texans whose lives were wrenched apart when Oswald killed the president in Dallas on Nov. 22, 1963.

About five miles away, Jack Ruby, the man condemned to death for killing Oswald, waits in his jail cell in downtown Dallas for exoneration.

In Fort Worth, 30 miles away by turnpike, Marguerite Oswald, gray-haired mother of the assassin, continues trying to clear Oswald's name.

A recent pilgrimage took her to Dallas to photograph a wax image of her slain son.

SHUNS WEALTH

Across the Trinity River, in the section of Dallas known as Oak Cliff, Marie Tippit, quiet widow of the policeman shot by Oswald, strives to give her children a normal life without using the wealth showered upon her by a sympathetic nation.

In Austin, in central Texas, Gov. John B. Connally, long since recovered from the physical wounds he suffered during the assassination but plagued by memories, prepares to campaign for a third term.

* * *

Marina Oswald Porter's house is in the $20,000 range, clean and comfortable. She spoke with disarming candor. When told her daughter, Rachel, 2, was a lovely little girl, Marina said, "No, she is not lovely. It is something one must say to a mother, I suppose. Pretty maybe, but she is not a lovely girl."

She displayed a recent magazine article which, interpreting the Warren Report, said the Russian-born Marina appeared shallow, adaptable, materialistic and self-centered.

'CLOSE TO TRUTH'

"It is pretty close to the truth, I guess," she said casually. "It made me angry at first — about 10 seconds — but when I cooled off I decided the author has analyzed as best he could. And he did a good job, I think. He was not against me nor was he for me. I think he came pretty close. But I am not materialistic."

Her life has not been serene lately. Two months after her June marriage to Kenneth Jess Porter, an employe of Texas Instruments, Inc., she charged in a peace bond affidavit that Porter slapped her, frightened her with a gun and threatened to kill himself. Porter said he slapped his wife because she became hysterical. He took the gun to keep it away from her, he said.

Porter spent several hours in jail before the peace bond was dismissed. Then the couple left the courtroom together, and the marital discord diminished.

* * *

Marina and her mother-in-law have not seen each other since Nov. 28, 1963. "Tell Marguerite hello," Marina said icily when the name was mentioned. "I hear she intends to go to Russia. Well, they'll never let her go."

A few days earlier, Marguerite Oswald, a plump grandmotherly woman of 58, had chattered excitedly as she drove to Dallas from Fort Worth to see her son's image at the Southwestern Historical Wax Museum.

WANTS TO KNOW

"I must know everything there is to know of the assassination," she said as she arrived at the museum. "It is something I must do."

Delighted by a small but attentive audience, she made her way through the semidarkened building toward the eerie wax image of her son.

She paused to photograph pirate Jean Lafitte, "since I'm from New Orleans." Next came a shot of the Apache chief, Geronimo, "because my boys said 'Geronimo' when they were young."

And on to the discomforting sight of Oswald, poised with rifle in hand.

WRONG HAIRLINE

"That doesn't look like him too much," she told the museum director. "I know you tried to be as authentic as possible, but the hairline is not so perfect.

"They caught his mouth real well. I think it was said that Ruby killed him because of the sneer on his face. The police said he acted arrogant, that he sneered. But this was not his way. This is his normal mouth. They have caught his mouth completely."

* * *

The mother turned from the image of her son to lecture a cluster of people standing nearby about the "contradictions in the Warren Report."

Speaking to a reporter, she said: "You can quote me also as saying this case will be reopened. It may take five years, but this case will be reopened. If Lee killed President Kennedy, I'm very sorry. But I didn't teach him to kill.

SON TOO PROUD?

"I want history to know the facts. If he killed the president, Lee would say: 'Sure, I killed the President.' He never told a lie. If he killed the president, he would have admitted it. He was too proud."

Jack Ruby disagrees with those who would label him a mental case.

* * *

"Do I look insane?" he asked reporters at one of his recent courtroom appearances. "If I'm a person who sounds insane at this moment, then the whole world is crazy."

Twice in the last year, Ruby overruled his lawyers and arose in court to talk of the assassination and subsequent events.

WAS GOODNESS

"It was the goodness in me and the love for our great president that put me in a position to be used for the purpose," he said once before his voice trailed off.

On another occasion he blurted: "Don't ask me what took place in my mind. I don't know."

* * *

He later wailed: "I am the greatest scapegoat in the history of this world."

Former operator of a striptease club in Dallas, Ruby has been under a death sentence since March 14, 1964. The verdict was appealed but numerous legal actions have delayed a ruling by the Texas Court of Criminal Appeals.

REDUCE SENTENCE

Just this month, Dist. Atty. Henry Wade, who prosecuted Ruby, proposed that the death sentence be reduced to life imprisonment.

Ruby's cell is just a stone's throw from the assassination site. The two years he has spent there apparently have not caused much physical deterioration.

* * *

"He plays dominoes, he plays checkers, he plays cards and he has puzzles and other diversions," Sheriff Bill Decker said recently. "His weight is normal and his appetite is good. He hasn't had an aspirin tablet in the last year. He's the picture of perfect health."

More importantly, perhaps, Decker said Ruby has not complained lately of hearing voices or the screams of persecuted Jews as he once did. And he has made no attempts to harm himself since three crude suicide efforts failed more than a year ago.

The widow and children of J. D. Tippit remain in the familiar surroundings where they lived modestly but comfortably prior to Nov. 22, 1963.

Tippit was shot to death when he stopped Oswald on a Dallas street shortly after the assassination.

* * *

Donations poured in for the Tippit family. Even now, two years later, a sprinkling of letters and an occasional dollar still arrive at the house.

Instant and substantial wealth — nearly $650,000 — apparently has had little effect on Marie Tippit; sons Curtis, 6, and Allen, 15; and daughter, Brenda, 9. The only tangible evidence of wealth is a new car and a color television set.

'STILL WITH US'

"I wanted the children to grow up just like they would have if J. D. were still with us," explained Mrs. Tippit, a reserved and soft-spoken woman. "I wanted them to learn to earn their way in the world just the way their father had to do. I'm not going to spoil them with unnecessary luxuries that they wouldn't have had otherwise."

The slim brunette widow takes an active part in PTA and church work. She tries to discourage people from linking her family to the assassination. "People don't realize that we are grateful for their help but want to go on living our life and to be left out of all the publicity."

There is little evidence today that two years ago an assassin's bullet ripped through the body of John B. Connally, leaving the Texas governor near death on a horrifying afternoon in November.

WON REELECTION

Connally won reelection easily last year, and will seek another term in 1966. Speaking to newsmen about the assassination, Connally said: "It is still something I think about quite often. Unconsciously, there are too many places, too many things, too many incidents that constantly remind me of it."

He says that his wrist, which was shattered by the bullet, still is stiff and that he cannot turn it to bring a fork or spoon to his mouth. "I'm reminded every meal," he says.

* * *

The bullet also coursed through his body.

His wife, Nellie, says he still flinches at sudden noises.

"After it had been a year," she said, "we sort of put it in the back of our heads and stored it with the things that you never forget but don't want to belabor."

Hare Discusses Claims Fund

Says Forced Insurance Law Not as Good

LANSING (AP) — The question asked most by motorists purchasing auto license plates under the state's new accident claims fund law is why Michigan did not instead require compulsory insurance, says secretary of State James Hare.

★ ★ ★

Hare said today a compulsory insurance law would not achieve the purpose of protecting innocent motorists against financial ruin resulting from accidents caused by persons who can't pay the bill.

★ ★ ★

He said Massachusetts, New York and North Carolina—the three states with compulsory insurance—have found many drivers still operate without insurance, out-of-state drivers may be uninsured and no protection is offered in hit-run cases.

The accident claims fund provides financial protection for victims of uninsured motorists or hit-run drivers. It is financed with a $35 annual fee from the owner of each uninsured vehicle and a $1 fee from the owner of each insured vehicle.

★ ★ ★

Hare said insurance costs have risen in states with compulsory insurance.

DR. SABIN

Dr. Albert H. Sabin, who developed the successful oral polio vaccine, says that poverty, hunger and despair are greater enemies to mankind than disease.

"I nurture and trust that Communist and non-Communist nations alike will come to recognize that the ever-increasing poverty among the hundreds of millions of educationally and economically deprived people is their real common enemy," Dr. Sabin said.

He spoke yesterday at the annual awards luncheon of the Albert and Mary Lasker Foundation in New York, where he was given a $10,000 Lasker medical research award.

French Film Star Faints on Athens Set

French film star Jeanne Moreau fainted yesterday while filming her latest motion picture in Athens, Greece.

A spokesman for the film company said the 37-year-old actress was suffering from exhaustion. A doctor prescribed complete rest for several days.

Says Cong Seeking to Avenge Defeats

William Stanton, R-Ohio, says after a visit to world trouble spots that he believes the Viet Cong have been fighting back because of humiliating defeats.

Stanton, Reps. Tim Lee Carter, R-Ky., and John J. Duncan, R-Tenn., made a 13-day tour at a cost of about $2,000 each out of their own pockets.

Duncan said he felt that by paying their own way they "could look at the situation more objectively."

Stanton said he found the morale of American troops in Viet Nam to be high.

Faces Hearing in LBJ Threat

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — A Summerville, Ga., house painter, accused of threatening the life of President Johnson, faces a preliminary hearing before a U.S. commissioner today.

Billy Ray Pursley, 31, was charged under a federal warrant after witnesses identified him in photographs and said he threatened to use a 65mm rifle on the President.

★ ★ ★

Secret Service Agent A. G. Vial said Pursley bought the rifle at a Charlotte discount house Nov. 11.

Pursley was arrested last Sunday. He was held in lieu of $15,000 bond.

Vial said Pursley admitted buying the rifle but denied making any threats.

For Farmington Area

Rights Group Sought

Formation of a joint city-township human rights commission is being sought by the Farmington Human Relations Council.

The council "believes that it is an appropriate time for Farmington governmental agencies to express responsibility for the health and welfare of the community citizens in the area of human rights," council President Robert M. Leidlein said in a letter to governmental officials.

The Farmington City Council, Farmington Township Board and Farmington and Clarenceville boards of education have been invited to a meeting of the human relations council Dec. 2.

The 8:30 p.m. session will be held at Farmington High School.

Under the council proposal, a 13-member commission would be established with two members each from the city, township, the Farmington Clergy Fellowship and local service clubs collectively.

CHOOSE MEMBERS

One member each would be named by the two school districts, the board of commerce, the junior chamber of commerce and the high schools' student council.

The council suggests that the commission act as a counseling, conciliation and mediation board for complaints in the area of human rights.

It also could serve an educational function, seek solutions for the problems of the socially and economically deprived and encourage equal opportunities in the fields of housing and employment, the council noted.

* * *

Another proposed purpose listed by the council was the establishment of "a favorable communitywide climate for welcoming all persons regardless of race, creed or color."

Utica, Shelby Incorporation Moves Begun

UTICA — Two incorporation moves are under way in the city of Utica and in Shelby Township.

Utica councilman Charles W. Stone filed petitions with the Macomb County Clerk last Saturday seeking to incorporate a portion of Shelby Township and the city into a new home rule city.

In a countermove, petitions were filed yesterday by Shelby residents seeking an election to form the whole township into a home rule city called Shelbydale.

Louis Kreiter, Macomb County chief elections clerk, said today that the petitions will be given to legal counsel who in turn will present them to the Macomb County Board of Supervisors for a recommendation.

* * *

He said action will first have to be taken on the Utica election petitions. He said that if incorporation were turned down by Utica voters, then a vote requested by Shelby could be held. If the Utica proposal passed, any incorporation by Shelby Township would have to exclude the portion incorporated by Utica, Kreiter said.

Under Stone's plan, the new city of Utica would be extended to include an area of Shelby Township bounded by Hall Road, Hayes Road, 21 Mile and the New York Central Railroad tracks.

WMU Prof to Speak at St. Mary's Hall

ORCHARD LAKE — "The Crisis of Authority in the Church" will be discussed by Rev. John A. Hardon during an essai Sunday sponsored by the Aquinas Academy of St. Mary's College.

The formal lecture is scheduled for 7:30 p.m. in the campus assembly hall.

* * *

Rev. Hardon, associate professor of comparative religion at Western Michigan University, has written several books and numerous articles on religious history and current problems arising from the pluralistic society in America.

Will Open Dec. 1

Retirement Home Nears Completion

SOUTHFIELD — The dream of two area church groups now is becoming a reality as workmen put the finishing touches on St. Anne's Mead.

The retirement residence at 16102 12 Mile is the first Episcopal facility of its kind to be erected in the area.

Sponsored by the Episcopal Diocese of Michigan, the building was the inspiration of the Episcopal Churchwomen of Christ Church Cranbrook, Bloomfield Hills, and St. Anne's Guild of St. James Church, Birmingham.

Located on a five-acre site just east of St. David's Episcopal Church, the facility will be opened Dec. 1.

* * *

LARGER AREAS

Although planned primarily as a residence for single men and women, St. Anne's has a limited number of connecting rooms for married couples, relatives or friends who prefer to be together.

Two living rooms and a lounge will be provided, the former complete with areas where residents can prepare snacks.

Three meals will be served daily in the central dining room, with attention given to special diets when required.

* * *

Near the center of the building is a chapel for private communion, prayer and meditation.

* * *

Two hobby rooms will be equipped for residents to pursue their favorite hobbies or join in group activities.

Members of St. Anne's Mead Auxiliary plan to conduct classes in weaving, needlework, ceramics and painting.

St. Anne's Mead is a nonprofit and nonsectarian retirement residence.

Drama Group Staging Play

AVON TOWNSHIP — The Drama Club of Michigan Christian College will present Oscar Wilde's "The Importance of Being Earnest" at 8 tonight and Saturday in the cafetorium of the college at 800 W. Avon.

* * *

The play is a satire on the foibles of Victorian England's upper class.

* * *

Tickets may be purchased at Morley's Drugs, 340 Main, Rochester, or at the door.

Union Service Is Planned for Thanksgiving

CLARKSTON — Rev. Owen Haifley of Owosso will be the guest speaker at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday when the annual Independence Township Union Thanksgiving Service is held at Clarkston First Baptist Church.

Rev. Haifley is the Michigan representative of the Bible Meditation League, an interdenominational organization whose primary function is to distribute gospel literature and Bibles in mission fields throughout the world.

The offering from the service, sponsored by the Independence Township Pastors' Association, will be given to the league.

The choir of the host church will sing. The Clarkston Jaycees will supply ushers for the service. Nursery services will be available.

Participating churches are Calvary Lutheran, Church of the Resurrection, Episcopal, Drayton Heights Free Methodist, First Baptist, First Methodist and Sashabaw Presbyterian.

Now on World Tour

RICHARD L. LIPSEY

INDEPENDENCE TOWNSHIP — A young man who taught students at Miri, Sarawak, the past two years is presently getting an education himself, touring the world.

Richard L. Lipsey, 26, son of Mr. and Mrs. James O. Lawrence of 7015 Felix, completed a two-year Peace Corps assignment in the Northern Borneo site Oct. 20.

While there, he taught biology in the Chung Hwa Middle School and assisted with youth, social, sport and cultural activities.

He was honorary secretary of a youth council, lectured at the Miri Red Cross Society regularly and held many other voluntary positions.

Lipsey, who will assume a position as professor of entomology at the University of Arkansas Jan. 25, is visiting the Holy Land this week, according to his mother.

TO VISIT BROTHER

"He's enjoying his trip very much and is looking forward to a trip to Rabat, Morocco, where his brother is an air attache to the U. S. Embassy," said Mrs. Lawrence.

Richard and his brother, Capt. Victor H. Lipsey of the U. S. Air Force, plan to have Thanksgiving dinner together.

Lipsey served with the Air Force four years himself and was graduated from Eastern Michigan University prior to embarking on the Peace Corps jaunt.

He was trained for the Peace Corps post at the University of Hawaii, where he was exposed to the Malayan language as well as the area's culture, history and traditions.

TRAVEL IN EUROPE

After visiting his brother, Lipsey will travel in several European countries.

He is scheduled to arrive home Dec. 20 to spend the holidays with his family.

Funeral Service for Magician Set at Michigan City

COLON (AP)—The ashes of magician Harry Blackstone will be returned to this southwestern Michigan community for funeral service.

Blackstone died Tuesday in Hollywood, Calif. For many years, he spent summers at Colon and founded the Blackstone Magic Co. during the 1920s.

He made his final professional appearance here in 1961 during the annual Magicians convention.

Case Against U.S. Communist Party Goes to Jury

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government's case against the U.S. Communist party goes to a jury of working-class men and women today.

The panel must decide if the party violated the 1950 internal security law — the McCarran Act — by failing to register with the government as a Communist-action organization, controlled and dominated by the Soviet Union.

★ ★ ★

Judge William B. Jones may assess fines up to $230,000 if the jury convicts the party on all 23 counts in the two indictments against it. The appeal that would certainly follow such a conviction would be the final major constitutional test of the 15-year-old Communist control law.

The last such test was resolved Monday, when the Supreme Court ruled individual party members may not constitutionally be forced to register because they would incriminate themselves if they admit they are Communists.

Three years ago, faced with far less complicated legal issues and the testimony of only one witness, a jury deliberated only 35 minutes before finding the party guilty of identical charges.

But the Court of Appeals reversed the finding and ordered a new trial. That opinion set the stage for a far more complicated trial that, through today, will have consumed 11 days over a three-week period. The 1962 trial was over in four days.

Asst. U.S. Atty. Joseph A. Lowther has attempted to prove what the Appeals Court said the government failed to prove in 1962: that a volunteer was available to party officers to sign the registration forms. The court ruled the party officers themselves could not be required to forego their constitutional right against self-incrimination by completing the forms.

All 12 counts of the old indictment, as well as 11 counts of a new indictment, were before the jury today. Twenty-two counts charge the party with failing to register on 22 different, specified days. The final count charges it with failing to file the accompanying registration statement. Each count carries a maximum $10,000 fine on conviction.

MAJOR DIFFERENCE

But there is a major difference between the prosecution strategy under the two indictments, and Jones was expected to stress that difference in his instructions to the jury today.

The government called as witnesses two former party members who were actually FBI informants planted within the party. Both Lulu Mae Thompson, a California housewife, and Henry Oscar Mariott, 74, an ex-longshoreman, said they were "of a state of mind" to have registered for the party in 1961 had they been asked to.

Defense Counsel John J. Abt and Joseph Forer objected strenuously to their testimony and unsuccessfully asked Jones Thursday to order an acquittal because of it.

Saying that the alleged "state of mind" of the witnesses was never communicated to anyone — not even to a spouse or to the FBI — Forer argued: "It seems incredible that a conviction can be based on that kind of evidence. Such evidence is easy to contrive, impossible to rebut, and it is synthetic."

President Is Taking Precautions to Insulate Himself Against Any Copper Backlash

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP) — Just as he did in the aluminum price rollback, President Johnson is taking precautions to insulate himself from any political business backlash on copper.

★

The President appeared belatedly Thursday in the government's release of 200,000 tons of copper from the strategic stockpile. It was necessary for him to make the declaration which would legalize the action announced previously by Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara.

★ ★ ★

To a news conference held by press secretary Bill D. Moyers

News Analysis

came Joseph Califano, a presidential assistant, to play down the idea that the government acted to counter rising copper prices.

This amounted almost to a replay of the decision to release 300,000 tons of aluminum from the national stockpile. While the White House said this had nothing to do with a price increase, the manufacturers got the message last week and rescinded the price advances they had posted.

Califano stressed there was a world scarcity of copper that threatened to get worse. He said producers were rationing their regular customers and that defense requirements for the metal would double in the next year because of the Viet Nam conflict.

Although McNamara said in his original announcement that the world situation on copper threatened a disruption that could bring strong inflationary pressures, Califano seemed to wave aside any thought that the price increases announced by all except one major U.S. producer had anything to do with the matter.

★ ★ ★

In a statement, Johnson put himself in the position of accepting — rather than initiating — the decision to sell from the stockpile.

He said he accepted the recommendation made by Buford Ellington, director of the Office of Emergency Planning, and concurred in by the secretaries of state, treasury, defense and commerce and the Council of Economic Advisers.

'DEFENSE RISKS'

Ellington made a national defense matter of it, saying that the present market situation and the future outlook posed "serious risks to the common defense."

With the administration focusing on this approach, many observers took the view that the industry leaders — who might feel as their aluminum colleagues did that the government was laying a heavy hand on business — would hesitate to criticize publicly a decision the President said was based on defense needs.

★ ★ ★

But there remained some doubt that all of the maneuvering would be entirely successful in sustaining the cozy political climate with business Johnson is striving to maintain.

Surgery Eases Lung Disease

Should Be Saved for Troublesome Cases

By SCIENCE SERVICE

LONDON — Surgical treatment of some 125 cases of the lung disease called bronchiectasis has relieved long-standing distress.

Symptoms of the disease include dilation and infection within the lungs, often appearing in teen-age youngsters, New Zealand researchers said.

Surgery should be reserved for relief of troublesome symptoms rather than used any time the disease appears.

With the wide range of antibiotics available, the researchers said, the serious complications of untreated bronchiectasis such as brain abscess are now so rare that surgery is seldom required.

★ ★ ★

Many patients, however, have never known comfort, and do not realize how good life can be when relieved of the symptoms of cough and sputum, the researchers said.

TWO CASES

Surgery may be either unilateral or bilateral. Unilateral cases are confined to only one segment of the lobe, and 97 per cent of these operations are successful. In 84 per cent of bilateral operations excellent results also are obtained.

It is even possible to remove up to 13 destroyed segments provided the remaining lung tissue appears normal in X ray, or bronchography.

A review of bronchograms, or X rays of the bronchial tubes, usually confirmed that "bronchitis" usually appeared in the late teens, but surgery should not be delayed too long even if symptoms seem less at puberty.

Soft Whiskey doesn't pack a wallop. It packs a love tap.

If you so much as bat an eyelash when you take a drink of Soft Whiskey you're a lightweight.

Soft Whiskey's very gentle going down. It sort of carries you for a few rounds. But not for too many rounds. It's 86 proof and does anything any 86 proof does. It just does it softer.

How do we soften it? All we can tell you is that we do distill some in small batches as opposed to large. And not another word more.

Other distillers have been dreaming of a Soft Whiskey for a long time. And it was a long long time before we even had it. After all our work, we take a kind of selfish pride in being the only Soft Whiskey.

We're not about to give anyone a crack at the title.

Detroit Picket Clash Mistake

Africans Attacked as Being Anti-Viet

DETROIT (AP) — Mistaking an anti-British demonstration for one opposing the U. S. stand in Viet Nam, an American youth clashed briefly with a group of African students Thursday.

Lester Gibson Jr., 18, pulled signs from the hands of two Africans, police said. The Africans, joined by a few Americans, were protesting the lack of force by Great Britain to put down the Rhodesian rebellion.

★ ★ ★

Gibson told police he was angry over being turned down by the U. S. military draft and had mistaken the anti-Rhodesian demonstration for one opposing U. S. foreign policy in Viet Nam. The demonstrators did not retaliate when Gibson tried to break up their march outside the British consulate. Police did not hold Gibson.

Sir James Easton, the British consul general, talked at length to five leaders of the demonstration. They said they represented the African Students Union in Michigan.

EIGHT SCHOOLS

They claimed student members from eight universities and colleges, including the University of Michigan and Michigan State University.

None of the students was from Rhodesia.

End Medicare Mix-Up--Nedzi

Says Elderly Getting No Federal Guidance

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Rep. Lucien N. Nedzi, D-Mich., Thursday called upon the Health, Education and Welfare Department (HEW) to dispel confusion over the meshing of the new federal medical care program with private insurance plans.

Nedzi said in a statement that many of his elderly constituents now enrolled in Blue Cross or other private plans, were getting no guidance from HEW about how to ascertain maximum benefits.

"The problem arises because many persons presently are covered by Blue Cross or other private insurance programs which they consider more comprehensive than the proposed government plans," Nedzi said.

He said these persons hoped private companies would announce plans supplementing Medicare, but were being told they must enroll for the federal program by March 15, 1966, or wait until October 1967.

★ ★ ★

Obviously, Blue Cross and private plans, as well as company-union contracts, must make adjustments with HEW guidance, so that all elderly citizens can share equally in the benefits intended for them by Congress," he said. "Time is running out, with HEW so far having distributed little or no meaningful advice on what individuals should do regarding private plans."

Big Argentine Welcome for Bob Kennedy, Wife

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (AP) —"Bo-bee! Bo-bee!" thousands chanted Thursday night as Sen. Robert F. Kennedy and his wife arrived in Buenos Aires on their tour of South America.

The enthusiastic crowd disrupted the senator's motorcade and swarmed around the residence of U.S. Ambassador Edwin Martin.

At one point, Kennedy halted the motorcade for photographers, and the crowd surged up to shake his hand.

Kennedy's wife, Ethel, told the Argentines: "I am really impressed by this welcome. In my country there is great sympathy for the Argentine people, a feeling that President Kennedy always shared."

TALKS TO CROWD

Kennedy told the crowd he hoped to meet many of them today.

The New York Democrat and his wife arrived two hours behind schedule after a warm greeting in the Andean city of Mendoza, 640 miles to the northwest.

★ ★ ★

During his 5½-hour visit to Mendoza, the senator dropped in on the John F. Kennedy workers housing project, named after his late brother.

One housewife told him: "I am deeply moved to have shaken your hand and to have been able to talk to the future president of the United States."

Kennedy laughed and replied: "It seems that in this beautiful city of Mendoza you have already launched my election campaign. I hope that when the moment comes you will be able to take a plane and come to the United States to vote for me."

Seaway Jam Stirs Concern

MONTREAL (AP)—A spokesman for the St. Lawrence Seaway Authority said Thursday night the authority is getting anxious about the number of ships waiting to get through the lock at suburban St. Lambert before the seaway closes Dec. 3 for the winter.

★ ★ ★

The spokesman said there are 198 vessels in the seaway system above the St. Lambert entrance and only 15 days for them to get through.

This is 59 more than were waiting at the same time last year.

★ ★ ★

Last year four ships were trapped when the system closed.

Air France Strike Due

PARIS (UPI) — Air France pilots said yesterday they will strike for higher wages for four days beginning next Wednesday. The strike was announced by delegates of the nationalized company's pilots association after the collapse of wage talks at the public works ministry.

Blaze in Akron Engulfs Block

AKRON, Ohio (UPI) — One person was killed and two firemen have been reported missing in a fire that engulfed an entire city block on Akron's East Side early today.

Police said an elderly woman was dead on arrival at city hospital. The firemen reported missing were fighting the blaze discovered at 2:42 a.m. by a police cruiser. It was reported still out of control at 5:30 a.m.

The area in flames contained a complex of stores, offices and apartment buildings. It is about a block from the Goodyear Tire and Rubber Co. plant and across the street from a nursing home.

Police said residents of the nursing home have not been evacuated because there was no threat of the blaze being carried across the street by winds.

All available fire-fighting equipment was dispatched to the

To Open Clare Plant

CLARE (AP)—Trilex Corp. of Detroit plans to open a plant here next spring to manufacture zinc die castings, John Airey Jr., firm president, said Thursday. The new firm will employ 20 people, he said.

Butcher OK After Hands Are Sewn On

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A 47-year-old meat cutter was reported in satisfactory condition today with both his hands sewed back on after being severed in an accident Thursday.

The victim, Joseph Weisz of nearby Hyattsville, Md., lost both hands when he triggered the starting mechanism of a meat chopping machine he was repairing.

★ ★ ★

Fellow workers immediately applied tourniquets to stop the bleeding and Weisz was rushed to the hospital in an ambulance. His severed hands were taken along in a paper bag.

Surgeons at the national orthopedic and rehibilitation hospital replaced the hands in a delicate hours-long operation They reported initial success at restoring circulation.

TOO EARLY

While physicians said it was too early to predict success or failure for the surgery, a hospital spokesman reported today that Weisz had a restful night and circulation appeared to have been restored.

"We are very optimistic," the spokesman said.

The hours were struck resoundingly by bells on primitive clocks of the 13th century. They had neither hands nor faces.

Woman 'Satisfactory' After Orion Twp. Crash

A 66-year-old woman was reported in satisfactory condition this morning in Pontiac General crash yesterday afternoon at Hospital following a two-car Lapeer Road and I-75 in Orion Township.

Mrs. Henry A. Arsen of 888 N. Longlake, Orion Township, was injured when a car driven by her husband collided with another vehicle driven by Clarence E. Burmeister of 994 Schuyler, White Lake Township.

Benton Harbor Area Suffers a Blackout

BENTON HARBOR (UPI) — Several hundred home owners in Benton Harbor and Benton Township were without power for about an hour early today after a car struck a utility pole.

Police said the power failure occurred when Mrs. Loretta Ezell, 26, of rural Watervliet, struck the pole on a Benton Harbor street. She was not seriously injured.

Trucks Hit Head-On

VALENCE, France (UPI) — A truck carrying 15 tons of dynamite crashed head-on yesterday with another truck on a national highway near here. Both vehicles were badly damaged, but there was no explosion and nobody was injured.

Gov. Brown Promises Help to Oakland

Coast Protest March to Draw 20,000

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP) — Gov. Edmund G. Brown says he will use his police powers to preserve order during a Viet nam Day Committee march Saturday protesting U.S. involvement in the Viet Nam war.

Gov. Brown offered that assurance Thursday after the city of Oakland declared itself in a state of emergency and requested aid to insure protection for parade participants and spectators.

Some 15,000 demonstrators and 5,000 bystanders are expected to turn out for the five-mile marched into Oakland from the University of California at Berkeley. Oakland and Berkeley are adjacent.

A federal judge Wednesday overruled refusals by Oakland officials to grant a permit for the parade to enter the city.

REASONABLE STEPS

In response to a telegram from Oakland Vice Mayor Fred Maggiora, Gov. Brown said in Sacramento: "All reasonable and necessary steps will be taken to protect life and property in your area should the efforts of local police prove inadequate to the task."

The governor did not specify what his preparations would be. But it was assumed that he would follow the same plan as in the Vietnam Day Committee's two thwarted attempts to march into Oakland on Oct. 15 and 16.

In those instances, Gov. Brown placed some 2,000 National Guardsmen on ready reserve to backstop an Oakland police contingent of 300 men. Auxiliary law officers stood by in other parts of the San Francisco Bay area.

The reinforcements were not needed, however. A wedge of helmeted policemen halted the marchers on the Oakland city limits.

ONLY TROUBLE

The only trouble came after a member of the Hell's Angels motorcycle club tore down a VDC sign. During the ensuing uproar, an officer's leg was broken, a cyclist was clubbed and arrests made.

The Vietnam Day Committee gave word that its latest protest march would be orderly and peaceful.

* * *

The demonstrators were to organize at Sproul Hall on the university campus for premarch speeches. The parade was to begin at 10 a.m. and disperse by 5 p.m. at Oakland's De-Fremery Park.

The selection of the park as the terminus of the march and the site of a postparade rally was criticized by Oakland city officials. They said the park was not large enough.

STICKS TO ORDER

But U.S. District Judge William T. Sweigert stuck to his original order that the parade and rally should be allowed in the city under certain restrictions.

One of the limitations is that the marchers may not proceed to the Oakland Army Terminal and picket the site.

The Army terminal was the goal of the Vietnam Day Committee's two earlier marches.

Wins Teacher Election

GROSSE POINTE (AP)—The Grosse Pointe Education Association won the right to represent the district's 530 teachers in bargaining with the school board Thursday. The association polled 318 votes to 195 for the local Grosse Pointe Federation of Teachers unit.

Romney Reply 'Shocks' Group

Controversy Is Over Child Welfare Issue

LANSING (AP)—The director of a citizens group to help emotionally disturbed children said Thursday he was shocked by Gov. George Romney's statement that the group had pictured Romney as dishonest.

Romney said that in a petition by the group, he was pictured as a hypocrite, a breaker of promises and therefore dishonest.

"This is as unprincipled an attack on an individual as I've ever seen in my public experience here," Romney said.

The governor made his displeasure known at a news conference and at a meeting with Sam Davis, director of the Michigan Association for Emotionally Disturbed Children, and Chester Popp, chairman of the Hawthorn-Northville chapter.

DISTRESSED

Davis said later, "I personally am shocked and distressed at the governor's reaction to our efforts on behalf of the emotionally disturbed children at Northville State Hospital.

"Our board of directors will meet shortly and undoubtedly will comment on the governor's statements and attempt to clarify the issues that have concerned us for some time."

* * *

Davis said shortly meant within a few days. He would not comment further on the governor's statements.

Romney met Oct. 15 with representatives of the Hawthorn-Northville chapter who were concerned about facilities and recent escapes from the Northville hospital.

ALLOCATION

The governor allocated some funds for improvements, referred the group to Robert Kimmich, state mental health director, and said he would meet with the group again if it were not satisfied with progress.

Four days later, he left for a tour of the Orient.

* * *

Monday, two days after his return, the organization released to news media a petition declaring "we feel deeply that it is the time to offer direct help not only to the children of Viet Nam, but the children of Michigan."

The petition listed five promises it said Romney made, and said only one had been accomplished.

Romney disputed item-by-item the promises the organization said he had made but not kept.

Romney declared: "This is more of an attack on me personally than to help the children of Michigan. It attacks my integrity. Here's a group I brought in, gave time to, sent to the proper staff people, said if you're not satisfied then come back. And the next thing I read is an attack on me personally."

Says Political, Governmental Systems in Danger

GOP to Gain at Least 30 Congressional Seats in '66—Ford

CHICAGO (AP) — House Minority Leader Gerald Ford predicts Republican candidates will gain a minimum of 30 seats in the 1966 congressional elections.

Ford said he based his "optimism" on the records of Republicans in the current Congress, on the historical precedent that the party out of power picks up seats in a off-year election, and on what he called "the revulsion of voters with one man and one party domination."

* * *

He explained to newsmen that a change of as little as one per cent in the party division in the House in favor of the Republicans, would restore much influence to the GOP in shaping of vital bills. A five per cent shift toward the Republicans, he said, would enable them to defeat or to influence significantly a large number of administration bills.

Ford told the annual convention of the National Association of Real Estate Boards Thursday night that the traditional system of American politics and government was in "some jeopardy" in four major areas.

IN DANGER

The system of checks and balances is in danger, he said, because "of the concentration of too much power in the executive branch. . . because the judicial branch is moving in areas not foreseen in the Constitution," and because the legislative branch is being "squeezed down."

The minority leader called the relation between the federal government and the states "shaky," and said the two party system is in danger because the pendulum has swung too far to one side."

* * *

Ford cited what he called the misuse of the freedom of speech and assembly.

Referring to recent demonstrations against administration policy concerning the war in Viet Nam, he said: "Many of these demonstrators are misusing freedom thru irresponsible action. Burning your draft card or attempting to halt the flow of strategic materiel is serious and could lead to a drastic miscalculation by the enemy on our will to stay and fight."

LINE OF DISTINCTION

"There is a line of distinction, however," Ford said. "As long as they (the demonstrators) keep these protests in an educational channel and not in violation of the law, they should be protected to the end."

Earlier, in a wide ranging press conference, Ford called for fuller use of air and sea power in North Viet Nam. "We must do this," he said, before we become bogged down in a land war on the mainland of Southeast Asia.

When asked if the United States should bomb Hanoi, (the States should bomb Hanoi, (the North Viet Nam capital) Ford replied: "We should use our air power to bomb significent military targets, some of which are on the perimeter of Hanoi, but I would be very careful not to bomb the civilian population."

He recommended a "Cuban type quarantine" of the North Vietnamese coast to "prevent the flow of water materiel."

State Coastguardmen Get Commendations

TRAVERSE CITY (AP) — Three officers and four enlisted men of the U.S. Coast Guard air station here received unit commendations today for meritorious service with the Coast Guard disaster control group.

Air crew members, they took part in flood relief operations on the upper Mississippi River last April 8 through May 5. Cmdr. James Harrison, air base commander, made the presentations.

The Galapagos Islands are a group of 14 main islands and many small ones, scattered over 23,000 square miles of equatorial Pacific ocean, according to the Encyclopaedia Britannica.

Peking's Prestige at Low Ebb—Danger Ahead

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Special Correspondent

Red China has been shut out of the United Nations for another year, but it was not much of a victory for the United States and not much of a loss, from Peking's standpoint, for the Red Chinese.

What is more important and more meaningful is that Peking may be in a dangerous mood. In this eventful year, a rain of blows has fallen on Red China's prestige. It may be looking for ways to restore lost face.

* * *

—Red China picked up some U.N. votes in Africa, but this by no means indicates that Chinese policy has prospered there. The pro-China votes in many cases are dictated by fear of continued exclusion of a powerful and potentially dangerous nation from the world community. Actually, China blundered in Africa this year by preaching the doctrine of revolution in new nations already free of colonialism. A number of them lowered the boom on Chinese activities.

—Peking lost face, too, in connection with the Asian-African summit meeting. It had long campaigned for that conference, but on its eve found it necessary to demand postponement because the time was "unfavorable." It was — for China, in the light of her setbacks.

EMBARRASSED

—Peking was embarrassed by the cease-fire in the India-Pakistan war over Kashmir. It backed away lamely from an ultimatum to India to dismantle border bases.

—Events in Indonesia were a blow. The ardently pro-Chinese party there is on the run. The Chinese join the Indonesian Communists as targets of public revulsion after a murderous coup attempt failed. Until Oct. 1, China had enjoyed a dominating influence in that potentially rich, strategic nation.

* * *

What's left now? Where else is there a heavy investment of Peking prestige? The answer is: Viet Nam. Should that investment also seem to turn sour, the Red Chinese might feel impelled to abandon their customary caution.

Peking has been railing at the Russians, accusing them of plotting with the Americans to end the Viet Nam fighting. It has insisted that war and violence are the only means to Communist triumph, that the Russians have treacherously abandoned revolution for the sake of their own safety and comfort.

LITTLE SATISFACTION

They have had little satisfaction from Moscow. They are left out on their own limb. If war is the only way to revolutionary triumph, what are they doing about it themselves, in Viet Nam?

The Chinese have been cautious in their support of the war, but lately there have been reports, still lacking confirmation, of Chinese advisers coming into South Viet Nam with fighting units from the North. Is this a token of things to come?

* * *

The United States is reported now to be relying primarily on military successes to induce North Viet Nam to talk peace, and there have been successes. North Viet Nam, its economy hurting from American bombing, is reported in some quarters to be edging toward the Soviet viewpoint that there is some merit in unconditional negotiations at this time.

Even if North Viet Nam were not yet persuaded, however, there is always the possibility that the Americans will knock out or blockade Haiphong, a port vital to the Viet Cong effort in the South, or perhaps even attack industries in the area of Hanoi itself.

In that case the Chinese, isolated from much of the Communist world and smarting from a series of reverses, might see the worst reverse of all in prospect unless it took some sort of action to rescue the situation. Whether the Viet Nam Communists wanted it or not — and the chances are that Hanoi would shudder at the idea — Peking might decide to risk a more overt involvement.

A growing danger in Southeast Asia seems to be that, from Peking's point of view, what has been laid on the line in Viet Nam in terms of Red Chinese prestige must be far more important than what rode on the India-Pakistan affair, the Asian-African summit, the Indonesian upheaval, or the vote on U.N. membership.

Union, Struck Firm Announce Accord

GREENVILLE (AP) — Tentative agreement between striking Local 137 of the United Auto Workers and the Gibson Refrigerator Division of Hupp Corp. was announced Thursday by union and company bargainers.

* * *

C.G. Gibson Jr, president of Gibson, and Ray Cuttle, local president, said details of the three-year agreement would be withheld pending a ratification vote by the union's 2,500 members. No date for the ratification vote was set, but both sides said it may be held Monday.

Michigan Briefs

By Esther Van Wagoner Tufty

WASHINGTON—Could an electric blackout happen in Michigan? Probably not, the electric power supplied by Consumers Power Company and the Detroit Edison Company is not dependent on a multistate complex, except as an emergency protection if the local power is not sufficient.

The reverse is true in the Northeast where the local communities directly are served by a widespread electric network.

A Federal Power commission spokesman admitted the situation is "different" in Michigan, but only would add, "Until we know exactly what caused the Northeast blackout, we can not officially comment."

Congressman James Harvey, R-Saginaw, must enjoy reading that the administration is considering a drastic scaling down of its controversial rent subsidy program which generated one of President Johnson's few legislative defeats in Congress this year.

The cutback could reduce the program to little more than a pilot project. It was the Michigan Republican who did the "generating."

Senator Pat McNamara, D-Mich., got his 19th pen when President Johnson signed the McNamara-O'Hara service contract act.

Incidentally, those pens cost too much (about $1.11) so the man who turns the lights out to cut down the electric light bill in the White House found some which will do for 17 cents each.

Congressman Charles E. Chamberlain, R-East Lansing, a member of the armed services committee who visited Viet Nam: "The American people should know that last year 401 free world ships sailed to North Viet Nam, a far greater number than all the Communist-bloc ships combined."

If antitrust laws can't be used effectively to counter what he calls "lockstep pricing" Sen. Philip A. Hart, D-Mich., may explore legislation to contain the inflationary threat from concentrated industries.

This is the gist of a letter in which Hart urged the Attorney General Nicholas deB. Katzenbach to probe the aluminum and other "concentrated industries with a history of similar pricing patterns" to determine if the antitrust laws apply.

President of U. S. Chamber of Commerce Robert P. Gerholz of Flint: "Already 72 per cent of our people live in urban areas and the great need is for local programs based on broad surveys of needs and local resources, sparked by local business leaders in cooperation with local governments, supported by all types of voluntary local organizations, and tackled on a priority basis which puts first things first."

He added, "We must not be lulled into believing that federal intervention is necessary."

Auto Output Hits 1965 Weekly High

DETROIT (AP)—U. S. auto production reached a new 1965 weekly high this week as an estimated 225,095 cars were built. This bettered last week's 219,566 and the year-ago week's 159,042 output.

Production for the calendar to date reached 8,222,618 units compared with 6,688,867 in the corresponding period a year ago.

U. S. truck makers built an estimated 36,566 vehicles this week compared with 36,154 last week and 30,092 in the year-ago week. It brought the commercial vehicle production for the year to date to 1,574,219 vehicles compared with 1,559,515 in the like period last year.

Sorority Gals Are Busy, Busy

IBM cards, nylon hosiery, clothes pins, paper cups and glitter paint set the theme for a creative artistry meeting for members of Alpha Alpha chapter, Epsilon Sigma Alpha sorority.

★ ★ ★

The gathering took place Thursday evening in the 300 Bowl.

★ ★ ★

Christmas novelties were made for the group's service project, The Children's Village.

★ ★ ★

Kingsley Inn will be the setting for the annual Christmas dinner on Dec. 16.

The group also plans a husband-and-wife bowling party Saturday evening at Airway Lanes.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Richard Falls was hostess at the meeting where Mrs. Bruce Ritchie was a guest.

Beta Theta Phi

A fake "Trunk Showing" of early American clothing was the highlight of the Thursday evening meeting of Beta chapter, Beta Theta Phi sorority. Mrs. Myles Trozos of Lincolnshire Street was the hostess, assisted by Mrs. John Piechowiak.

★ ★ ★

Items of food and clothing were collected for a Thanksgiving basket for a needy family.

Beta Sigma Phi

Xi Gamma Alpha chapter, Beta Sigma Phi sorority, conferred the pledge ritual on Mrs. Joseph Duran at Tuesday's meeting in the home of Mrs. Richard Paschke, Union Lake Road.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Robert Schmidt and Mrs. Russell Perkins reported on the recent state convention in Jackson.

Guests included Mrs. C. H. Kitson and Mrs. John Nord, mother and sister of Mrs. Duran and Mrs. Schmidt the chapter president.

★ ★ ★

Zeta Eta chapter honored Mrs. Ferdinand Strohmeyer and Mrs. T. R. Cowdry at the ritual of jewels ceremony and dinner, Tuesday, in Alban's Country Cousin on Moon Road.

Sherricks Celebrate

Mr. and Mrs. O. E. Sherrick of Orchard Lake celebrated their 61st wedding anniversary Wednesday.

They have two children, Everett of Orchard Lake and Mrs. Mark Stewart of Williams Lake.

A family dinner Friday in Mrs. Stewart's home will honor the couple who has two grandchildren.

★ ★ ★

On hand for the event will be Mrs. Ethel John of Elida, Ohio who is Mrs. Sherrick's former schoolmate.

Oldsters Plan Thanksgiving

The Golden Age Group of the Pontiac YWCA will hold its Thanksgiving observance Tuesday at noon in the "Y."

★ ★ ★

Following dessert, served by Mrs. Marcus Scott and her committee, Dr. Emil Kontz of Bethany Baptist Church will give the Thanksgiving message.

★ ★ ★

Phyllis Smith Harris will sing, accompanied by Charles Wilson. A group sing will be led by Mrs. Joseph L. Bennett.

★ ★ ★

Chairman of the event is Mrs. Arthur Sweet and her cochairman is Mrs. Everett C. Russell.

Clubs Plan to Promote Our State

State-wide women's groups will be led by Mrs. James A. Quinn of Rogers City in the promotion of Michigan in 1966. Mrs. Quinn is president of the Michigan State Federation of Women's Clubs.

★ ★ ★

Her appointment as chairman of the Michigan Week Council of Women's Organizations is announced by Mrs. John B. Martin, Grand Rapids, chairman of the organization's board for the annual state celebration.

BEGIN PLANNING

The 1966 council's first meeting was Thursday in Detroit. Representatives of some 30 women's organizations adopted a state promotion program for women's groups which will be launched after the new year.

★ ★ ★

Activities will culminate during the 13th annual Michigan Week May 15-21.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Quinn is in her second year as head of the state federation whose 350 member clubs include more than 20,000 women.

Don't Let Her Needle You

Relates Seamy Story

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: First, let me say that I am a better-than-average seamstress. I don't sew to save money, because considering the kind of fabrics I buy, and the time I put into my work, I actually spend more on my clothes than I would pay to get ready-made clothes. I sew to get exactly what I want when I want it, and I get a better fit, too. But my problem is a certain woman in this town who makes me feel that there is a "stigma" attached to "home-made" clothes.

ABBY

Whenever I see her, which is often, she makes remarks like, "I can tell you didn't buy THAT!" and, "You sew so well it's hard to tell when you are wearing something store-bought or home-made." She pretends she's complimenting me, but the way she says it, I know it's a dig.

Once I wore a new $35 hat and she said, "Don't tell me you make HATS, too?" I never enjoyed wearing the hat after that. How can I fight this situation?

LOVES TO SEW

DEAR LOVES: Not with needles. Accept her remarks with grace and keep your composure. When she sees that you're not coming apart at the seams, she'll lay off.

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY: What do you think of a woman who lost her husband a few months ago and is raising her three children, ages 2, 4, and 6, to believe that their Daddy is an "angel" up in heaven and is looking down watching everything they do?

She has pictures of her dead husband all over the place and when the kids pass the pictures, they say, "Hi, Daddy!" Honestly, I think someone should tell that young mother to tell these kids the truth about their father because, when they find out their mother has been lying to them, they'll never believe another word she says. If you put this in the newspaper, it might help her.

FRIENDLY NEIGHBOR

DEAR NEIGHBOR: I see no reason to disturb the children's present beliefs. It's comforting, and apparently has satisfied their childish curiosity for the moment.

While the mother isn't able to prove her theory, neither is anyone able to disprove it. So if the mother is happy, and the children are satisfied, what's the harm?

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY: We have a 20-year-old son. He is an only child, and in many ways he is spoiled, selfish and thoughtless. He is away at college now.

My problem is that he has never remembered me on Mother's Day, or his father on Father's Day. And on special occasions, such as our birthdays and Christmas, we are completely ignored. I have even reminded him in advance to send his father a card on his birthday and Father's Day, but it hasn't helped.

Yet this boy starts telling US what HE wants for his birthday and Christmas months beforehand.

Should we ignore him on his birthday and special occasions as he does us?

MRS. J.

DEAR MRS J.: No. It would hurt you more than it would hurt him. It is easy for a child who has been indulged to become selfish and thoughtless. Especially an "only child" who has never had to "share."

Don't try to punish him by reciprocating his thoughtlessness. Perhaps it's still not too late to teach him the joy of giving.

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY: My son is a fine young man, but when he writes to me he never addresses me as "Mother" — he just writes, "Hey!" Should I tell him in my next letter that I do not like this type of salutation? Or, should I remain silent and accept it as a result of my failure as a mother?

FAILURE

DEAR "FAILURE": Write and tell the boy how you feel about his salutation, but don't regard it as an indication that you have "failed" as a mother.

It's not the salutation, but the sign-off that counts. If he ends with "love" and means it, consider yourself a success.

Troubled? Write to ABBY, in care of The Pontiac Press. For a personal reply, enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

May Refuse Certain Dishes

By The Emily Post Institute

A question frequently asked is whether it is good manners, when invited to dine in someone's house, to refuse certain dishes, or whether courtesy exacts that one take a little of everything that is served.

In answer: It is good manners to take at least a little of every dish that is offered to you, but if it is a food you especially dislike and if you are among friends, you may refuse with a polite "No, thank you."

In fact, because it is definitely impolite not to finish the food on your plate, it is better to refuse it; that which remains on the platter can be used again, while that which remains on your plate must be thrown away.

★ ★ ★

You need not give your reason for refusing a dish, but if it is because of an allergy, diet, or other physical cause, you may avoid hurting your hostess's feelings if you quietly tell her your problem without drawing the attention of the entire table.

NOT TO SEND PRESENTS

Q: My husband and I will soon be celebrating our golden wedding anniversary with a small dinner party for our family and a few close friends.

I plan to call the guests on the telephone and invite them verbally. I do not want them to send us presents. Will you please tell me how I can let this fact be known?

A: When you telephone your friends and relatives simply say that you would love to have them come to dinner on such and such a date to help you and your husband celebrate your golden wedding anniversary, and add that you are requesting everyone please not to send presents.

THE OYSTER FORK

Q: Will you please tell me where the oyster fork is placed when setting the table?

Some of my friends say it belongs on the left with the rest of the forks and others say it belongs on the right. Which is correct?

A: The oyster fork is put at the extreme right.

The Emily Post Institute booklet entitled "Formal Wedding Procedure" includes details on the wedding procession, the receiving line and other helpful information.

To obtain a copy, send 10 cents in coin and a stamped, self-addressed envelope to Emily Post Institute at The Pontiac Press.

Lake Gardeners Have Workshop at Boat Club

A workshop was held Thursday in the Oakland County Boat Club for members of the Sylvan Lake branch, Woman's National Farm and Garden Association.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. P. N. Askounes conducted the meeting on flower arrangements.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Ralph Beebe was chairman of hostesses; her committee consisted of Mrs. Edith Thomas, Mrs. A. O. Carmer and Mrs. Paul Antilla.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Glenn Bedell showed slides of the Philippines and gave a report on the council meeting held at St. Clair, Mich.

Faculty Wives Schedule Party

Faculty wives of Waterford Schools plan a card party from 7 to 10 p.m. Tuesday in Waterford Township High School.

★ ★ ★

Plans also are under way for the group's Dec. 4 luncheon honoring new wives of the Waterford school system's faculty. The affair will be at 12:30 p.m. in the CAI Building with Mrs. Murlin Vaughn as luncheon chairman.

Choral Groups at OU Begin Programs

Oakland University choral groups are moving into a busy pre-holiday schedule which, according to director George V. Cripps, will be climaxed by the University Chorus' presentation of Bach's "Christmas Oratorio" on Dec. 12.

★ ★ ★

The Oakland Singers, made up of 40 voices, will present a benefit concert in St. Luke's Methodist Church, Rochester, on Sunday at 3:30 p.m.

★ ★ ★

The Collegium Musicum, an ensemble of voices and instruments specializing in Renaissance and Baroque music, will perform at Cranbrook House in Bloomfield Hills for the Village Women's Club on Dec. 1 and at the In and About Detroit Music Club on Dec. 4, at the Pontchartrain Hotel.

On this same evening, Dec. 4 the 180-voice University Chorus will sing in the Wayne State McGregor Auditorium at 8 p.m. as part of the Sibelius Centennial celebration.

Pontiac Press Photo

Two members of the Waterford branch, Woman's National Farm and Garden Association, Mrs. William Baer, Winkleman Drive (left) and Mrs. Gordon Parker, Meinrad Street, work on Christmas decorations. The Waterford group, along with Sylvan Lake, Lake Angelus and Holiday Farms branches will have all kinds of Yule decorations and gifts for sale at the annual greens market on Dec. 10 in the CAI Building. Hours are 10 a.m. until 6 p.m.

Club Hears Two Women

Two representatives from the Planned Parenthood League, Inc. spoke to members of the Child Culture Club Thursday evening in the East Iroquois Road home of Mrs. Donald Rofe.

Mrs. Clare Carlstein, program committee member, introduced the speakers, Mrs. Fraser Pomeroy and Mrs. Glen Wilson.

★ ★ ★

The group's next meeting Dec. 2 at Consumers Power Company will feature a holiday food preparations demonstration.

JOY BOOTH HUDSON

Justice Scales Tipped, Plead Women Lawyers

WASHINGTON SIDELIGHTS
Esther Van Wagoner Tufty

WASHINGTON — Justice is always portrayed as a woman. She is blindfolded and in one hand she holds scales in perfect balance.

But women lawyers argue those scales are tipped 98 percent male on the bench and 96½ percent male in law practice.

The women-oriented last two administrations have appointed only one woman to a federal judgeship: Sarah T. Hughes to the District Court of Texas, by appointment of President Kennedy.

TRAGIC ROLE

It was Judge Hughes who administered the Presidential Oath of Office to President Johnson the day President Kennedy was assassinated.

No woman has ever served on the United States Supreme Court. It is known three women were strongly endorsed for the seat vacated by Arthur Goldberg, but Abe Fortas got it.

The women might say "there ought to be a law."

★ ★

Probably no American woman can speak with more authority on "Women and Wages" than Esther Peterson, who wears two official hats: assistant secretary of labor and special assistant to the president for consumer affairs.

She's both pessimistic and optimistic.

"Even though some husbands and employers may complain women have taken over the country nobody can claim they have taken over Utopia as wage earners," said Mrs. Peterson quoting the latest official comparison of $3,668 for women in 1963 as compared to $6,103 the median wage for men.

DO OUR PART

Rattling off a long list of new labor laws favoring women workers, she told me, "opportunities were never better for women . . . now women must do their part by setting their sights high, preparing themselves for better pay, for more rewarding employment and proving by performance they can and will make a valuable contribution to our national life."

Your Silver Can Remain Joy Forever

ONEIDA, N.Y.—Five basic rules bearing the authority of a well-known silversmith company will make your silverware a thing of beauty forever—whether it is sterling or silverplate.

- Wash silver after every use in hot, soapy water. Don't hesitate to put any good quality silverware in the automatic dishwasher.
- If washing by hand, rinse in hot clean water and while the silver is still warm dry each piece carefully.
- Keep silverware not in daily use in special tarnish-prevention bags or tarnish preventive chests.

Set Cleaning Week

DEAR GIRLS — The week of Nov. 15 is a good time to set aside for that general cleaning that puts the house in apple-pie order for both Thanksgiving and Christmas.

Of course, the windows may have to be redone (as least on the inside) before Christmas and a bit of waxing and polishing repeated here and there but the basic semiannual cleaning will be out of the way.

During this week catalogue shoppers will realize that their orders must be mailed if deliveries are to be made in time for Christmas. One reader says she always includes a couple of name and address labels to hurry things up a bit.

Our own Christmas cards should have arrived and this weekend might be a good time to get some masculine help with the addressing and some younger assistance with licking envelopes and stamps.

* * *

Divide those for local delivery from those going out of town, put rubber bands or string around each package and mark with the printed slips available at the post office. These bundles can be put aside until time to drop them in the mail box — out-of-town ones to start on their way no later than Dec. 10 and those for local and nearby delivery not later than Dec. 15.

The first part of the week of Nov. 22 will probably be given over to marketing, cooking and general preparations for the Thanksgiving dinner.

Those who do not plan to have this big dinner at home might get ahead of the Christmas planning by doing some shopping and baking fruit cake. Friday and Saturday should be good days to buy holiday clothes as there are usually many after-Thanksgiving sales.

Thanksgiving weekend is not one whit too soon to start making menus and lists of supplies needed for holiday meals and baking that has not been done.

On the very next shopping trip start laying in some of those staples, canned goods and nonperishables on that list. This will not only cut down on the number of later trips to market but also spread out the cost. Snatch a pretty day for marketing so everything is on hand for cooking and baking on a bad day. — POLLY

Vest Suits Come Back

By United Press International

What next? Watch fobs?

Vests anyway are coming back especially on campus. Panelists participating in a leading magazine's annual conference on back-to-college men's fashions said that by next season the vested suit will be almost mandatory.

One retailer, Edwin Mosher of San Jose, Calif., said that vested suits already account for more than 90 per cent of his sales to college students.

Why Grow Old?

By Josephine Lowman

Many questions like these come to my desk:

"I am going to have a baby and I want the baby very much, but do I have to lose my figure? So many of my friends have.

"Some of them have been just big fat women since the first child."

"Do I really have to eat for two? If so how can I remain slim?"

"I don't want to be left with a figure problem after my child arrives. Some women seem to have just as good a figure after they have a child. How do they manage this?"

* * *

In the first place you do not have to lose your figure. A few stretched abdominal muscles should be the only aftermath and you can recondition these with exercise as soon as your physician gives you the go-ahead.

In a way, you will be eating for two. You will need a more generous diet because of the developing baby. However, this is no reason for becoming overweight yourself.

Junior does not require pastries, milk shakes, candy bars and layer cake. Neither do you!

NEED ESSENTIALS

Both of you should have a diet which gives you all of the essentials for fine nutrition. You will probably be advised to drink more milk and your diet should include meat, fish, eggs, whole grain products, cheese, baked potatoes and lots of fruits and vegetables. In other words, a well-balanced diet.

This is just as important for you as for your child. The growing baby will take what he needs and you will get what is left over.

Pregnancy and delivery are more hazardous when overweight is present, to say nothing of the figure problems which will linger on after the baby arrives.

EXERCISE IMPORTANT

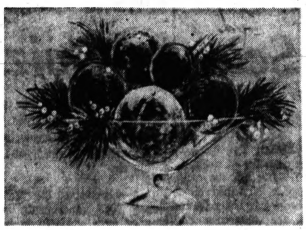
Exercise is extremely important during those vital nine months. Most doctors advise walking. Some permit more strenuous exercise in certain instances. Follow your physician's advice about this since every case is different.

This is an easy abdominal exercise which will be one of the first ones allowed, after the baby arrives. Lie on your back with your arms at your sides and your legs straight.

Bend your right knee up close to your tummy. Straighten the right leg toward the ceiling. Lower leg with a stiff knee. Do the same with your left leg and alternate.

* * *

If you would like to have my free leaflet "Care During Pregnancy and Reconditioning After Childbirth" (gives you lots of hints about the figure) send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for it to Josephine Lowman in care of The Pontiac Press.



Another colorful card being used this year is this one by the Oakland County Society for Crippled Children and Adults. The cost of these cards is 15 cents, each imprinted with your name. They are now on sale at the county agency on Telegraph Road.

Give Special Consideration to Selection of Yule Toys

With Christmas just around the corner, it's time to start making up that gift list again.

* * *

A well-known toy maker suggests you give special thought to your toy list by following a few do's and don'ts and toy shopping will be less confusing.

Here are the do's you should keep in mind:

* * *

- First, remember that toys are not meaningless trinkets, but tools for learning.
- Next, keep the age, sex, stage of development and interests of the child in mind.
- Remember that what fascinates you, may not fascinate the child.
- Look for safety in a toy.
- Buy durable toys.
- Remember that the toys must be fun if they're to be used at all.

* * *

Now, on to the don'ts.

- Don't buy on impulse alone.
- Don't buy showy toys just to impress other adults.
- Don't wait until the last minute to shop.
- Don't overload the child with toys at Christmas and then neglect to add anything new during the year.

* * *

With these thoughts in mind and list in hand, Christmas toys will not only be more fun for the little boy or girl receiving them, but toy shopping will be more fun for you.

MRS. R. W. MILLER

Miss Loucks Speaks Vows on Thursday

The Memorial Baptist Church was the setting for the marriage on Thursday of Marlene Sharon Loucks to Ralph William Miller of Oakland Avenue.

A reception in Waltz Hall followed the evening rite performed by Rev. Gerald H. Rapelje.

* * *

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. William M. Loucks of West Rundell Street, Mrs. Muriel Chapman, Waterford Township and Arthur Miller of Pontiac.

* * *

The bride chose a street-length gown of white Chantilly lace over satin and a short illusion veil with lace headpiece. Yellow roses centered her bouquet of white carnations.

* * *

Judy Miller attended the bride and Elmer Miller was best man for his nephew.

The couple will reside on Oakland Avenue.

Prepare Gifts for Early Mailing

Getting gifts ready for mailing? Here are some tips for making sure everything arrives intact.

Before wrapping, be sure the gift is well cushioned in the box. If it's small, wrap it in several tissues. Then stuff more tissues in all spaces within the box.

* * *

When wrapping gifts for mailing, use a heavy box slightly larger than the gift box. Before sealing the box, insert an extra address label to assure delivery if the outer wrapper is mutilated in shipment.

Seal all edges and tie the box. Put cellophane tape over the address label, so it won't smudge or come loose in damp, wintry weather.

Freshman Senators—5

Mondale Follows Hubert's Ideology

(EDITOR'S NOTE—This is the fifth in a 10-part series on freshmen senators. Today's dispatch is based on an interview with Sen. Walter F. Mondale of Minnesota.)

By MARGUERITE DAVIS
United Press International

WASHINGTON — Sen. Walter F. Mondale, D-Minn., follows closely the political philosophy of the man he succeeded in the Senate, Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey.

But Mondale made it clear in an interview that his vote is not necessarily pledged to the administration.

"I consider myself pro-administration, and I think we've got a great president," he said. "But there's a difference between being an ally and being a servant.

"I consider myself an ally."

* * *

At 37, Mondale is one of the youngest members of the Senate's freshman class, but he is no political neophyte. When he was a 20-year-old college student, he served as a district campaign manager in Humphrey's first and successful Senate campaign.

NATIONAL ATTENTION

As Minnesota attorney general from 1960-64, Mondale's efforts in behalf of consumer protection, civil rights and civil liberties gained national attention.

But Mondale views his Senate service as by far the greatest challenge of his political career.

He conceded there are minor frustrations.

* * *

"When it rains in Washington, my raincoat is in Minnesota."

$100 ROUND TRIP

The distance between him and his constituents is another. Despite the cost — more than $100 round trip by jet air coach — he returns to Minnesota about every other weekend when Congress is in session.

But of inestimably greater importance is the satisfaction of being part of a Congress which adopted a host of social and economic measures he believes have been needed for a long time, Mondale said.

"I grew up in a liberal family that has never had any money, and I think I know what they mean to the average family.

* * *

"My dad was a liberal (Methodist) minister, and as long as I can remember my family lectured on human rights.

'THOUSANDS LIKE ME'

"I couldn't have completed college if it hadn't been for the GI Bill, and there are thousands like me.

"And I grew up in a rural area where farmers sell at controlled prices and buy at free market prices. I was happy to do something about that, too."

An 18-hour day has been standard during his freshman year, Mondale said. He had to familiarize himself with Senate procedure, as well as "learn in depth" the issues before the three committees on which he serves — agriculture, banking, and space.

He learned also that the Senate is an intensely personal body.

RELATIONSHIP

"A freshman could rise or fall, perhaps, on his relationship with other senators," Mondale said.

But this did not deter Mondale from speaking aginst the administration requirement that half the wheat sold to Communist nations be shipped in U.S. vessels, for a proposed prohibition on poll taxes, or in support of a foreign aid bill amendment to cut off funds for Egypt unless the President sepcifically ruled otherwise.

"I don't think I've made any enemies. Although "this is something I'll know, certainly, later," he said with a grin.

Mondale said the biggest surprise in his Senate service was the first hand experience he gained with a wide variety of legislation.

SCOPE OF SUBJECTS

"The scope of subjects that the Senate deals with has perhaps awed me more than anything else," he said. "There is an enormous area of knowledge a responsible senator must accumulate."

Humphrey's term, which Mondale was appointed to serve out, ends next year. The junior senator from Minnesota has made no formal announcement that he will seek election in his own right, but this comment is revealing:

"I love the job. I can't think of anything I'd rather do."

(Tomorrow: Sen. Fred R. Harris of Oklahoma.)

Science Quiz

By BOB BROWN

PROBLEM: Sound conduction.

NEEDED: Two rocks and a large container of water.

DO THIS: Hit the rocks together in air, then hit them the same way under the water. Note the difference in the sounds. Place your ear to the side of the pan of water and listen as the rocks are struck together under the surface of the water. Note the difference.

HERE'S WHY: The sounds are different because the physical characteristics of air and water are different. First, the rocks cannot be hit together as easily in the water. Second, even though sound travels more than four times as fast through water as through air, some of it is absorbed in the water.

When the ear is placed against the side of the container, the sound of the rocks being struck together is louder.

The water conducts the sound vibrations from the rocks to the pan and the pan vibrates. This vibration is then conducted to the ear without much intervening air.

* * *

A collection of the "Science for You" experiments is in book form and sold in better bookstores. It is called Science Circus.

Budget Issue Tough–Ferency

FLAT ROCK (AP) — Democratic State Chairman Zoltott Ferency said today Republican Gov. George Romney faces three politically thorny budget choices next year and that Romney's January budget message "will be the first round fired in next year's election campaign."

* * *

Ferency, in remarks prepared for the Huron Valley Democratic Club, listed these as the governor's choices:

—Hold state spending at current levels and meet costs by depleting the surplus.

—Cut state services to balance the budget without cutting into the surplus.

—Recommend new programs and pay for them with new taxes.

BACKS THIRD CHOICE

Ferency said the first alternative would rob Romney of "fiscal responsibility" as a campaign issue, the second would deny needed state services and the third would force the governor to "tell us where he stands and what he wants for the people of Michigan."

Ferency advocated the third choice.

* * *

Romney called for tax reform all year and finally reached agreement with a bipartisan legislative committee on a program including an income tax. The Democratic-controlled legislature declined to consider tax-

Debbie's Dressing Trailer Stirring Stars' Discontent

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD—It all started with that long walk that Debbie Reynolds took in the rain. It has ended with a splendiferous dressing-room trailer that threatens to cause major discontent among her fellow stars.

Between scenes of "The Singing Nun," Miss Reynolds repairs to the most elegant trailer for a star since Marion Davies dwelt in a colonial mansion on wheels. It is lush, plush and glittering, and the former cheerleader from Burbank (Calif.) High School enjoys it unashamedly.

* * *

"And why shouldn't I?" she argues. "I spend almost as much time in this dressing room as I do in my own home. If you're going to be a star, you should live like a star."

It was different during her 14 years of servitude at MGM. Then her between-scenes time was spent in a series of shanties. When she was back on the lot for her first film there as a free-lancer, "The Unsinkable Molly Brown," she cracked.

"The day that it happened, the rain was coming down like mad," she recalled. "I had to walk four blocks to the bathroom (actors' dressing rooms traditionally have no plumbing), then four blocks back.

"I was out for a week with a cold. That meant $30,000 a day loss to the studio, which seems like a ridiculous thing to have happen because there was no bathroom nearby."

Debbie decided to splurge on a trailer for herself, since the studio wasn't about to do it for her. She ordered a 34-footer and had it especially designed, inside and out. The trailer is divided into three sections: A sitting area with cushiony chairs and couch; the dressing-makeup section, surrounded by full-length mirrors; storage and bath.

"I wanted it done with utter elegance," she explained. "This is what the public expects of movie stars: White mink rugs and champagne."

RED FOX

I noted that the rug was in reality red fox. But the champagne was in the refrigerator. "Would you like some '52, or do you prefer '54?" she inquired airily.

Debbie reported rather gleefully that her dressing room is stirring up trouble between her fellow stars and their studios. It hasn't reached the point of a mass uprising, but pockets of discontent are in evidence.

"When Glenn Ford saw my trailer, he had to have one of his own like it," she said. "He got it, too."

Then there was Robert Horton, who dropped by to see Debbie from his own set, "The Man Called Shenandoah." He admitted the dressing room was a far cry from his. She described his room to him: "It's got spots on the rugs, a torn couch, dressing table with cracked glass."

"That's right," said Horton. "How did you know?"

"I had the same kind of room for 14 years," she replied. Horton is now grumbling to the MGM bosses about his quarters.

Genesee Fire Is Fatal

FLINT (AP) — Doyle Hoag, 26, was killed Thursday night in a fire at his Genesee Township home. Hoag's two sons, aged 2 and 4, escaped injury.

U. S. to Query Reds on Orbiting N-Arms

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The United States has asked Russia whether, in the light of its display Nov. 7 of an "orbital" rocket, it plans to abide by its pledge not to put such weapons into space.

State Department press officer Robert J. McCloskey said yesterday the United States had been in contact with the Soviet government on the subject.

The rocket, described by the Soviet Tass news agency as capable of maintaining a nuclear weapon in orbit, was displayed at a parade in Moscow. Tass said the nuclear missile could be recalled to hit any target earth.

SCUM at MSU Fights 'Dirty' Laundry Deal

EAST LANSING (AP)—Leaders of a new group called SCUM say their purposes are entirely clean.

SCUM stands for student Committee to Undermine Machines and was organized to protest a price increase from 35 to 50 cents for use of washing machines in Michigan State University dormitories.

It announced plans at a rally Thursday to boycott the machines and send laundry to a company that would sort, wash and fold a bigger load — and provide soap, too—for the same price.

Leaders said they hoped SCUM would spread to all MSU's dormitories. "SCUM is stronger than dirt," they proclaimed to student audiences of up to 50 persons at the one-hour rally.

Refugee-Aid Group

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Johnson set up a task force yesterday to help Cuban refugees in Miami and to assist them in resettling outside the area.

17,000 Strike Aircraft Plant

Effect May Hamper Gemini Launchings

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (AP) — More than 17,000 machinists struck the McDonnell Aircraft Corp. at midnight Thursday stopping production on jet fighters used in Viet Nam and threatening to delay the launching of two Gemini flights from Cape Kennedy, Fla.

About 200 machinists set up a picket line at one of five gates at Cape Kennedy, where Geminis 6 and 7 are to be launched Dec. 4 and Dec. 13.

Another 17,000 machinists, almost half of the McDonnell employes, walked out at the huge aerospace plant in St. Louis, halting work on 50 Phantom jets, the type used by United States forces in Viet Nam.

Eugene Glover, vice president of District 9 of the International Association of Machinists, and company officials flew to Washington for a meeting today with federal mediators.

DANGER SEEN

Spokesmen for the company and the National Aeronautics and Space Administration said a prolonged strike could upset the Gemini launchings.

The strike also will affect McDonnell aircraft and testing operations at Edwards Air Force Base, Calif., and Holloman Air Force Base, Alamogordo, N.M.

* * *

However, other work at Cape Kennedy is not expected to be affected. By picketing only one gate, the machinists allowed some 3,000 union construction employes working on space projects with other aerospace firms to enter without crossing picket lines.

McDonnell machinists had staged a four-day wildcat strike in St. Louis one week earlier when union leaders would not authorize a walkout.

They returned to work after union officials promised to authorize a strike if the latest company offer was rejected. More than 11,000 machinists jammed into a downtown auditorium to overwhelmingly vote down the offer Wednesday.

There was some doubt that union members at the Cape, who already had approved the company proposal, would follow suit, but they voted Thursday to join the walkout.

Jacoby on Bridge

By JACOBY AND SON

The bidding as shown in the box was the same at both tables in the match between Belbium and The Netherlands in the European bridge championship tourney. So was the opening lead of the spade queen which was ducked by both declarers.

JACOBY

They had to win the next spade and struggle with a very tough contract. Each declarer made it but strangely enough, the lines of play were radically different.

One South lead a diamond to dummy's ace and returned a diamond toward his own hand. Then he held back his queen and watched West take his king. West cleared the spade suit but South had nine top tricks at his disposal.

The other South went right after hearts by leading ace and jack. East won with the queen and led a third spade.

Declarer won and entered dummy with the ace of diamonds in order to cash his three remaining hearts.

He discarded down to the queen-eight of diamonds and the ace-nine of clubs. West had to discard in back of him and finally came down to the king of diamonds, one spade and the king-ten of clubs.

South wasn't sure exactly which four cards West held since West had false-carded with the ten of clubs in order to hang on to the king-deuce, but East had thrown away his last spade so that West was marked with one spade only. Eventually, South read the club false-card and played a diamond, whereupon West could take one spade and one diamond only.

State Murder Trial Now Set for March

CASSOPOLIS (AP)—The murder trial of Billy G. Sickler, 36, of Niles, accused in the beating death of truck driver Eugene Light, 40, has been postponed until March. It had been scheduled Nov. 29.

Jerry O'Connor, Cass County prosecutor, said Thursday the delay grants a request by defense council. Sickler is accused in the fatal beating of Light last July. The victim's estranged wife, Mrs. Clara Light, 29, of Niles, pleaded guilty to second-degree murder in the case and has been sentenced to 25 to 50 years in Detroit House of Correction.

Says That's the Ticket

NEW YORK (UPI) — Despite the hand-printed sign saying, "Official Car, Mayor-elect John V. Lindsay," patrolman Thomas Mara Wednesday tagged the illegally parked auto with a $15 ticket.

Yesterday, Mara got a letter of commendation from Lindsay.

★ ★

"Your ticket was deserved and of course it shall be paid immediately," the mayor-elect said.

"There will be no special privilege in my administration in city hall and if there are any requests for the same I want them reported to me."

Trading Turns Active

Stock Mart Perks Up Slightly

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market perked up slightly and logged a gain early this afternoon.

Trading, relatively moderate at the start, turned active.

Changes in key issues were mostly fractional but gains of a point or more dotted the list.

Copper stocks firmed somewhat in a second-day reaction to Government moves to release copper from the Federal stockpile. Anaconda gained a point and American Smelting, off about 2 at the start, turned fractionally lower. Phelps Dodge was up afraction.

Time Inc., up about 6 points yesterday, was off 2 and General Electric was down a fraction.

The two companies today announced a joint $37.5 million venture to market educational services and systems in this country and abroad.

The Associated Press 60-stock average at noon was unchanged at 353.9. Industrials were up .2, rails off .1 and utilities unchanged.

The Dow Jones average of 30 industrials advanced 2.33 at noon to 952.83.

GM RISES

General Motors was up a fraction in a narrowly mixed motors group. Steels were unchanged. Aircraft makers gained with Boeing up more than a point.

* * *

Prices on the American Stock Exchange were irregularly higher in heavy trading. O'Okiep Copper advanced about 2 points, Electro-Voice ran up about 2 while Syntex dropped a point or so. Chromal gained a point.

* * *

U.S. Treasury bonds were slightly lower. Corporate bond prices were mostly unchanged.

Publisher Sees Bigger Boom

Says Next 15 Years to Be Fastest Growing

ST. JOSEPH (AP) — The publisher of Business Week magazine said Thursday that the American economy will grow faster over the next 15 years than at any time in our history.

Bayard E. Sawyer made the remarks at a talk before the Economic Club of Southwestern Michigan.

* * *

"Business in 1966 will be good—probably as good as this year," he said, adding that there is no reason why "business and government and labor and the consumer cannot work together in such a way as to keep the present prosperity going indefinitely."

He emphasized that he was not predicting that the business cycle will be repealed, "that there will be only ups and no downs." But he said he believed the U.S. is learning how to "better sustain the upswings and moderate the downswings" in the national economy and in individual firms.

* * *

Sawyer said by 1980 the Gross National Product will top $1.2 trillion and that 30 per cent of the U.S. families will be in the $10,000-a-year-and-over bracket (in 1965 dollars). He also predicted an 83 per cent rise in consumer spending and a 76 per cent rise in business investment.

Business Dismay With U.S. Growing

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

DAWSON

NEW YORK — Are business and the federal government heading for an open conflict over policy?

Most observers in and out of Washington doubt it. But discontent among businessmen with the recent trends in government's relations with business are growing.

Many grumbled when steel labor and management negotiators were brought to the White House to hammer out a contract that presumably met administration approval. Many businessmen were dismayed when the government stockpile of strategic metals for defense was used as a club to force aluminum producers to rescind a price rise. Many are alarmed that the same stockpile is being used after copper prices also rose.

The disagreement goes far afield from the policy of holding prices stable in an expanding economy. Government controls over most forms of business activity usually arouse both fear and resentment.

BANKERS FRET

Bankers fret that interest rates aren't being allowed to rise as the increased demand for loans suggests.

A number of the nation's top industrialists have expressed discontent with the government's restrictions on foreign investments through the medium of ceilings dubbed as voluntary.

* * *

And the administration has just announced that a jump in the U.S. deficit in its international payments will lead to new rules, still called voluntary, but applying to individual cases instead of total investments.

A number of corporate leaders have asked that the curbs be dropped soon, rather than strengthened as now proposed.

MORE COSTLY

Bankers also feel that the ceilings on the number of foreign loans they are supposed to make is more costly to them than beneficial to the U.S. balance of payments.

Labor leaders have fretted when the government pressed hard for holding wage increases within the guidelines it set up as noninflationary.

* * *

Businessmen, on the other hand, have charged that the government didn't press hard enough in the case of generous wage boosts — too hard in the case of price increases that companies thought justified by rising costs.

Some businessmen also have thought they saw the handwriting on the wall of future stricter government controls in the proposal of the Federal Communications Commission for an investigation of interstate phone rates. The American Telephone & Telegraph Co. says its rates are justified, and so are its record profits.

RAISES DIVIDEND

To reassure its 2.6 million stockholders, the largest corporate family in the nation, the company has raised its quarterly dividend a nickel to 55 cents a share. The company holds that the government agency is wrong, and that the company is right, both in needing high profits to meet large expansion programs and in rewarding shareholders so that it won't have trouble raising more funds in the investment markets.

All of these signs of business unrest with the trend of government to take more of an interest in business affairs adds up to considerable turmoil.

But the administration holds some high cards — stockpiles, Viet Nam war needs, public fear of more inflation, the need to keep the dollar as good as gold. And businessmen may fret, but they're unlikely to put up much resistance — at least not yet, and not openly.

Successful Investing

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q) "I have $1,200 in the bank, 392 shares Rockwell-Standard and 56 shares Anaconda. I was thinking of taking a profit on part of my Anaconda and putting the money into more Rockwell-Standard. I am single and haven't worked since 1938 because of a back operation. What do you advise?" C.R.

A) I like Rockwell-Standard, which is an excellently managed company. Operations have been diversified, but the bulk of Rockwell's company has managed to show considerable cyclical growth and the shares recently sold at an all-time high.

I believe, however, that your representation in Rockwell is already too high, if the two stocks you mention are all you own. Anaconda is subject to wide fluctuations and I would not object to selling this stock at present relatively high levels. I would put the proceeds into Standard Oil of Indiana and seriously consider switching part of the Rockwell holding into other strong stocks for diversification.

* * *

Q) "I've heard people say that a stock is selling for fifteen times earnings or twenty times earnings. Could you tell me how these figures are arrived at?" T.J.

A) You simply take the market price of a stock and divide by what the company earns on a per share basis. Sometimes the earnings for the most recently completed year are used. However, since the market always looks to the future, a price earnings figure based on expected results for the current year is usually the most accurate guide.

Right now — since in most instances 1965 results are pretty well anticipated — analysts are predicting next year's results. In the case of the fast moving swingers — such as Polaroid and Xerox — the earnings multiple is definitely based on expected returns a long way ahead.

18 Companies Are Fined in Price-Fixing

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (UPI)—Eighteen oil and asphalt companies were fined up to $15,000 each and 17 individuals drew fines up to $7,500 each in connection with a $15 million price-fixing scheme.

Each individual also drew prison sentences of six months which were suspended and replaced with one year's probations.

The companies and individuals had pleaded no contest to charges of conspiracy to fix the price on the sale of about $15 million worth of road oil to the state of Missouri.

The fines were for federal antitrust violations and did not involve state charges, which were settled out of court.

* * *

U. S. District Court Judge John K. Regan levied the maximum $50,000 fines against seven of the defendant corporations. These were the American Oil Co., Chicago; Phillips Petroleum Co., Bartlesville, Okla.; Socony Mobil Co., Inc., New York; Skelly Oil Co., Tulsa, Okla.; Shell Oil Co., New York; Sinclair Refining Co., New York, and the Kerr-McGee Corp., Oklahoma City, Okla.

Other fines ranged from $30,000 down to a minimum of $2,500, which was imposed against Hydrocarbon Specialties of Joplin, Mo.

Business Notes

The appointments of John A. Glaser of Detroit as industrial relations manager and Irving B. Reiff as industrial engineering manager at Ford's Utica Trim Plant were announced recently.

Glaser has been supervisor of hourly personnel and labor relations at the company's Wayne assembly plant. Reiff of Oak Park has held industrial engineering posts with Ford in Dearborn and Wixom.

The Bloomfield Hills advertising firm of MacManus, John & Adams has appointed Vernon W. Isbell of Royal Oak as group art director for its Cadillac Motor Car Account. He was formerly art director on the account.

John J. Riccardo, 41, of 2243 Tottenham, Brimingham, has been appointed assistant general manager of the Chrysler-Plymouth Division of the Chrysler Corp.

Riccardo, a CPA had been assistant general manager of Dodge since 1964. He joined Chrysler in 1959 and became vice president of Chrysler of Canada in 1961.

King: Need to Enforce Our Gains

DETROIT (AP) — The Rev. Martin Luther King said Thursday night that the main effort in the civil rights struggle should be directed toward "enforcing what we already have."

The Nobel Prize-winning civil rights leader talked with newsmen shortly before he spoke at a testimonial dinner for U.S. Rep. Charles C. Diggs Jr., D-Detroit. Proceeds of the dinner were to go to King's Southern Christian Leadership Conference.

* * *

"The Negro is far from the promised land in civil rights and we intend to work harder," King said. "The heat cannot be turned off. We've got to put on more heat but it must be nonviolent.

"I think there is still a need for more enforcement (of civil rights laws)," King added, saying: "I feel much more can be done."

WAS PICKETED

The dinner was picketed by about 35 members of an organization called "Breakthrough," which carried placards describing King as "an enemy of America" and a "Parrot of Communism."

A spokesman for the pickets, Donald Lobsinger of Detroit, said the demonstration was to protest statements he attributed to King calling for an end to U.S. involvement in Viet Nam.

* * *

King saw the pickets but did not comment. There were no incidents. A dozen policemen were on hand.

At the dinner were former Michigan Gov. G. Mennen Williams, now U.S. undersecretary of state for African affairs, and the Rev. Nicholas Hood, a Negro recently elected Detroit city councilman.

"You're making us all proud," King said to Hood when the two men were introduced.

"It even surprised me," said Hood of his election.

Teen Will Face Grand Jury in Hijack Attempt

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — U. S. Commissioner Fritz Windhorst ordered a teen-aged honor student held for grand jury action today for allegedly attempting to hijack a jetliner with 91 persons aboard and force it to fly him to Cuba.

He refused a defense attorney's request that bond for the youth, Thomas Robinson, 16, of Brownsville, Tex., be reduced.

Robinson's father, William Robinson, a mathematics instructor at a Texas Junior College, was in the courtroom during the brief preliminary hearing.

The youth is accused of attempting to take over the National Airlines plane Wednesday night shortly after it left New Orleans on a flight to Melbourne and Miami, Fla. Using two pistols, he fired several shots harmlessly into the plane's floor and was subdued by passengers.

FBI Agent Warren C. DeBrueys testified at the hearing that he questioned Robinson shortly after the plane returned here.

News in Brief

A $1,500 fire erupted this morning at the Wiley Harris home, 58 Wall. Sylvia Berney of 62 Wall, who was in the house at the time of the fire, suffered a cut wrist, according to Pontiac firefighters.

Guevara Seems Object of Cuba Martyr Treatment

HAVANA (AP) — Ernesto Guevara seems gradually to be getting a martyr's place in the new Cuban history.

The official line is that the Argentine-born guerrilla expert left Cuba and is carrying on his revolutionary activities elsewhere. Prime Minister Fidel Castro told a group of foreign newsmen recently that Guevara "is enjoying magnificent health."

★ ★ ★

But more and more, Guevara is being treated in terms heretofore reserved for another disappeared hero — Camilo Cienfuegos.

At the time of the revolution's triumph in 1959, Cienfuegos was probably the most popular rebel figure after Castro himself. He disappeared. The official explanation was that his plane fell into the sea and no trace was ever found.

SIDE BY SIDE

Guevara's picture and name appear frequently side by side with those of Cienfuegos in the government-controlled press. Articles are printed and reprinted extolling Guevara's virtues during the revolutionary struggle.

Little is said about Guevara's actions in the revolutionary government, which reportedly threw him into conflict with Castro in the months prior to his disappearance from the public scene.

★ ★ ★

The open lauding of Guevara is in contrast with the months of virtual silence which shrouded him from the time he returned from a controversial tour early this year until Castro's enigmatic announcement last month that he had left Cuba.

★ ★ ★

Castro said that the announcement "explains everything." But he seems to be one of the few who might think that way. Speculation over Guevara's fate still is rife here and elsewhere. The idolizing of his memory has added coals to the fire.

The controlled press here makes no mention of speculation outside Cuba involving reports that Guevara was killed in Santo Domingo, or that he was seen in various Latin-American countries, and elsewhere.

Cubans can only guess at what's going on, and they do so almost gleefully, basing theories on bits and pieces of information gleaned from listening to U.S. radio broadcasts.

FBI Nabs Witness in Bank Heist

FLINT (UPI) — The star witness in the coming kill-for-pay trial of a once-convicted attempted killer was arrested yesterday with his mistress, an unemployed stripper, on bank robbery charges.

Federal Bureau of Investigation agents arrested Donald J. Sundberg, 38, sometime salesman whose testimony sent a contractor to prison eight years ago for firing a fusillade of shots at Garden City, Mich., Mayor James Tierney during a city council meeting.

Tierney was badly wounded but survived and now is a member of the Michigan Legislature.

He wore a pistol in the legislative chambers at Lansing last May 26 when it was rumored the same man, Lester Ellerhorst, 60, was en route there to kill him.

★ ★ ★

Sundberg is scheduled to testify against Ellerhorst again Nov. 24 when the wealthy suburban Detroit contractor goes on trial on charges of trying to hire two men to kill a Detroit lawyer.

GO-BETWEEN MAN

Police said Sundberg was the go-between man who hired two Florida thugs, one a prison escapee, to kill the lawyer, Tierney and a judge.

Ellerhorst's alleged motive was revenge for financial finagling, police said.

FBI agents and police routed Sundberg and his paramour, Penney Grinkey, 20, Flint, from their apartment here today.

★ ★ ★

The FBI said Sundberg was the gunman who held up a bank in nearby Otisville, Mich., Nov. 8 and escaped with $6,232.

DROVE THE CAR

Miss Grinkey, once a stripper in a Detroit night spot, drove his getaway car, agents said.

Both were jailed. Sundberg was charged with bank robbery and Miss Grinkey with aiding him. The FBI said it recovered $650 of the bank loot.

CMU Leaders Are Supported

MOUNT PLEASANT (AP)— The Mount Pleasant Chamber of Commerce voted to support the Central Michigan University administration faculty Thursday.

The administration is under fire in a legislative investigation over a row with faculty members.

★ ★ ★

"This hearing could, if it has not already done so, cause serious curtailment of Central Michigan University's expansion, resulting in a slowdown of employment, possible curtailment of a building program, a lessening of enrollment one way or another, all of which could cause a serious economic blow to the area," the chamber's resolution said in part.

Irish Mourn 1st President

DUBLIN, Ireland (AP) — Irish government leaders attended a state funeral Thursday for William Cosgrave, the first president of the Irish Free State. He died Tuesday at age 85.

The Dail (Parliament) called a one-day recess.

In the cortege were President Eamon De Valera and Prime Minister Sean Lemass.

Entry Deadline Draws Near

'601' First Target Score in Pontiac Open Bowling Tourney

Are you a 140 or 150 average bowler and capable of hitting a "hot" game of 160 or 175 or better?

If so, then as an entry in the Pontiac Open Bowling Championship, you can count yourself half-way to reaching the finals of the tournament which will have some great prizes starting at $800 for first place.

The first target score for all bowlers to shoot for, based on 70 per cent handicap, is a 601 total. This score will put the bowler into the semifinals of the tournament and increase his chances of getting into the finals.

★ ★ ★

There are two deadline dates for entries, the first of which is next Thursday night at midnight and this is the format of the tournament.

Qualifying will take place at Huron Bowl and 300 Bowl on Sundays, Nov. 28 and December 5th.

Squads will run from 10:00 a.m. to 6:45 p.m. at intervals of one hour and 15 minutes, but there will be a limitation as the number of bowlers on each squad.

A bowler who has rolled a total of 601 or better with his handicap included will be eligible to go into the semi-finals, Sunday morning, December 12th at Huron Bowl.

The finals of the handicap tournament will thus take at least 10 per cent or better of the total bowlers of the tournament from each house, and they will roll the final three games at 300 Bowl, in the afternoon of Sunday December 12th.

ACTUAL'S INVITATIONAL

Also part of the finals' session will be the Actual's Invitational. These bowlers will be invited on the basis of qualifying and on the basis of their average submitted on their entry blanks.

All bowlers who reach the finals are assured of a prize, which will be at least $10 and even more as based on the number of entries.

★ ★ ★

The tournament, sponsored by the Pontiac Recreation Department, will carry the title of Pontiac City Champion and Pontiac Actual's Champion for the winners. Trophy awards will also go to the winners and runnersup.

Mike Samardzija and Monroe Moore, two of Pontiac's outstanding tour bowlers and teachers, lauded the format of the tournament. "Shooting for a score is sure to take the pressure off the handicap and actual bowlers as well," said Samardzija. In past tournaments of this kind, bowlers would shoot a total of 630 and 640 and they would still have doubt as to making the percentage of the cut."

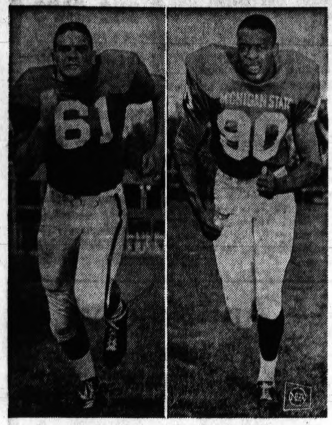
"We can get a true city champion out of a tournament like this," noted Moore, "it doesn't take a lot of pressure to qualify, and then makes the bowler roll a few extra games to prove he earned his title as champion in the semifinals and finals."

There are no additional entry fees for those who get past the "601 target" except to pay for their bowling costs at the respective houses.

★ ★ ★

Entry blanks with fees should be turned in to Huron Bowl or 300 Bowl and bowlers assigned to squad times. Once a squad is filled, bowlers will have to take times available.

Spartans After Perfect Grid Mark



DEFENDERS — Two of Michigan State's standouts this season have been linebacker Ron Goovert (left) of Hazel Park and roving defensive back George Webster from Anderson, S. C. They will have a big task in stopping the Notre Dame running game tomorrow.

MSU Eleven Underdog in Meeting With Irish

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (AP) — Top-ranked Michigan State, driving to seal its first perfect football season in 13 years, is a surprising one-point underdog against once-defeated Notre Dame in a battle for national collegiate supremacy Saturday.

★ ★ ★

Rain or snow was predicted.

Rose Bowl-bound Michigan State, already established as the school's first undisputed Big Ten champion, seeks to end its regular season with its 10th successive victory.

The last perfect MSU season was 9-0 in 1952, a year before the Spartans joined the Big Ten.

Notre Dame is No. 4 in the Associated Press national poll with a 7-1 record, marred only by a loss to Purdue in its second game of the season. The Irish close at Miami of Florida a week from Saturday.

EYE NO. 1

Although Arkansas and Nebraska separate pace-setting Michigan State and Notre Dame in the AP poll, Irish partisans feel a conquest of the Spartans will merit the climb into the top spot.

★ ★ ★

The game, a sellout since August in Notre Dame's 59,000-seat stadium, will not be televised, except locally and on closed-circuit TV to Irish alumni in 21 cities in the East and Midwest.

Emotions ran high on campuses of both schools this week — and so did the scalpers' prices for tickets, reportedly ranging to $50 for a $6 ducat.

★ ★ ★

Nightly pep rallies have been held on the Irisih campus, but the "Hate State" theme of last season, when Notre Dame walloped MSU 34-7, is somewhat moderated after warnings against unbridled enthusiasm by Rev. Theodore M. Hesburgh, president of the school.

After last season's game, marking the first Irish victory over Michigan State in nine contests and only their fourth in their last five meetings, the Spartan band was mauled while marching away from the Notre Dame Stadium.

The MSU band will be here again, although it first was announced after the incident that the musical group would not return this year.

Against two common foes, Michigan State has fared better. The Spartans rallied for a 14-10 victory over Purdue in a key Big Ten game and smothered Northwestern 49-7.

Bowl Ducats on Sale

EAST LANSING (UPI) — Michigan State University officials, declaring they have about half the tickets desired, plan to begin taking orders for the Rose Bowl trip from students and faculty Monday.

Officials said MSU plans to offer four separate package deals, ranging from $275 to $185, for an eight-day trip to California. The cost includes meals enroute, hotel accommodations, tickets to both the Rose Bowl Parade and the Jan. 1 football game plus a New Year's Eve dinner-dance.

Michigan State will play an as-yet-to-be-selected West Coast team in the Rose Bowl classic. Leading West Coast candidates are Southern California, UCLA and Washington State.

John A. Fuzak, vice president of student affairs and head of the MSU Rose Bowl Committee, said Thursday the Big Ten has been allotted 16,747 tickets for the game. He said about 14,500 of these will be left after tickets are laddled out to other Big Ten schools and the official MSU team party.

"We could probably use 30,000 at least," Fuzak said. "We are trying in every way we know how to get more tickets but the outlook is not optimistic."

He said about 8,000 student and faculty are expected to request tickets plus about 1,200 alumni, leaving only about 5,300 left over to satisfy all other demands.

The range in price on the student-faculty package deal depends on the mode of transportation selected. Those traveling by jet will pay $275; those on prop planes $245; rail travel will cost $230; and bus, $185.

Local Gridder MSU Star

EAST LANSING (AP) — Ken Heft, a sophomore from Birmingham Seaholm, carried the Michigan State varsity's reserves to a 28-6 victory over the frosh in an annual football clash Thursday.

Heft carried the ball 13 times for 117 yards and one touchdown. He set up another score on a 38-yard run.

John Grogan scored on a four-yard run for the winners, and Jim Hoye tallied on a 59-yard scamper. The final TD came on a pass from freshman quarterback Bob Super to Pete Dotich. Super was on loan from the frosh.

The freshmen's lone score came on Bill Seraco's 22-yard pass to Al Brenner.

Injury Benches Tackle

PHILADELPHIA (UPI) — Floyd Peters, Philadelphia Eagles' tackle, was recuperating today at Graduate Hospital where he underwent surgery to mend a torn knee ligament.

Peters will wear a cast for at least a month and will miss the Eagles' remaining five games.

PCH, Northern Duel Tonight

Chiefs Favored in Sixth Game

Huskies Pin Hopes on Tight Defense

The Huskies of Pontiac Northern can't wind up with a winning record in the 1965 campaign, but the season will be one of the best in the team's short history if it comes up with a victory over city rival Central tonight at Wisner Stadium.

★ ★ ★

The Chiefs of PCH are ranked seventh among the state's Class A teams, and they wound up with a 6-1-1 record and second place in the rough Saginaw Valley Conference race.

PNH isn't ranked, is assured of a losing season and is a two-touchdown underdog against the Chiefs in the sixth meeting between the two. PCH leads the series, 4-1.

The Huskies own a 3-5 mark, a not too impressive performance, but they have won their last three in a row after a rocky start and they believe they can beat PCH.

★ ★ ★

The Chiefs' lofty ranking and position in the SVC won't affect the Huskies, insists PNH coach Dave Schmidt.

DOESN'T MATTER

"It doesn't much matter what the ratings are," said Schmidt. "These kids are going to hit hard no matter what."

★ ★ ★

At PCH, coach Paul Dellerba scoffs at the suggestion that the Chiefs might be 'down' after losing the 14-12 decision to Bay City Central last week, which also cost the team the SVC championship.

"We're never down," said Dellerba. "We're going to try to do a workmanlike job. We'll have to be alert for anything.

"Their running has improved and their throwing game is dangerous."

★ ★ ★

The Huskies have had little to offer in the way of offense this season, scoring only 56 points, but their defense has been sharp in the last three outings in which they permitted only 12 points and posted two shutouts.

And although the Huskies have a losing record, few fans will remember it if they manage to knock off the Chiefs.

Ex-Catcher Westrum Inherits Tough Task

NEW YORK (AP) — Wes Westrum, who once was told to pass up a managing job because it was too easy to fire him, has slipped into possibily the toughest managerial job in the majors by becoming Casey Stengel's successor with the New York Mets.

Not only does Westrum have to follow the popular Stengel but he also will have the mammoth task of getting the Mets out of the National League cellar, a position they have held virtually without challenge in their four years' existence.

INTERIM MANAGER

Westrum, the Mets' interim manager since Stengel fractured his left hip last July 25, seemed unconcerned Thursday about his twin challenges as he recalled how he almost became a manager once before.

"It was either in 1961 or 1962," he said. "My name was brought up as manager of the San Francisco Giants' farm club at Tacoma.

But Horace Stoneham (Giants' owner) told me it would be too easy to fire me in that job. So I stayed with the Giants as a coach."

In all Westrum, spent six years with the Giants, then moved over to the Mets and became interim manager in his second year with the club.

★ ★ ★

Then, Thursday, it was announced that the 43-year-old former major league catcher with the Giants, had been selected unanimously by the Mets' board of directors as Stengel's successor.

Given a one-year contract at an estimated $30,000, Westrum became the third new manager in the majors since the season ended.

★ ★ ★

Don Heffner, a coaching colleague of Westrum's on the Mets, has replaced Dick Sisler at Cincinnati, and Leo Durocher was named manager of the Chicago Cubs. The Chicago White Sox job remains open following the resignation of Al Lopez.

College Soccer Teams Playoff

St. Louis, MSU Get Seeded Spots

ST. LOUIS (AP) — St. Louis University, seeded No. 1 in the Midwest regional National Collegiate Athletic Association Soccer Tournament, prepared Thursday for its first round meeting with Ohio University.

The unbeaten, untied Billikens, who have won nine games, meet the Bobcats, 6-4-1, Saturday at 2 p.m., CST, in St. Louis.

Second-seeded Michigan State, 8-1-0, will play the number two team of the South, either Baltimore University or the University of Maryland. A date has not been set.

The winners of the first round games will advance to the quarter-finals Nov. 27. The St. Louis-Ohio winner will play the winner of the San Francisco-Air Force contest on the West Coast. The Michigan State-South victor meets the winner of the greater Philadelphia area.

Bret Hanover Favored

WESTBURY, N.Y. (AP) — Bret Hanover, winner of 44 of his 47 races, is a 1-9 favorite to sweep pacing's triple crown tonight by taking the $151,252 Messenger Stakes at one mile at Roosevelt Raceway.

California Ring Official Seeking Ban for Terrell

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — California's Athletic Commission wants Ernie Terrell barred from boxing until he can show he is free from undesirable influences. Terrell is the World Boxing Association heavyweight champ.

Terrell, answering the charge Thursday from a Toronto night club where he is appearing with a rock 'n' roll act, said California Commission Chairman Dr. Dan P. Kilroy "doesn't know a thing about me."

"He's just guessing," said Terrell. "His statement is uncalled for and unprovoked and he has no reason to make it."

★ ★ ★

Kilroy, in a statement, said Bernard Glickman is Terrell's manager. Kilroy said Glickman was the manager of former welterweight champ Virgil Akins who lost his title to Don Jordan in 1959.

Rickey Clings to Life in Missouri Hospital

COLUMBIA, Mo. (UPI)— Baseball's Branch Rickey clung to life today but doctors showed no signs of optimism in his fight to survive a heart attack.

Rickey, 83, was felled last Saturday night while being inducted into the Missouri Sports Hall of Fame.

Rangers Seal Issue

Lindsay Remains Retired

DETROIT (AP) — The New York Rangers Thursday refused to allow Ted Lindsay to play with the Detroit Red Wings this season.

"It's a dead issue," said Manager-Coach Sid Abel of the Red Wings.

He said Toronto, which had voted earlier against allowing Linday to be reactivated, had said it would reconsider if the other four National Hockey League clubs approved. Boston, Chicago and Montreal, agreed, said Lindsay, but New York opposed.

★ ★ ★

The Red Wings needed the unanimous approval of the other NHL teams to reactivate Lindsay.

Lindsay came out of retirement to play for Detroit last year and had been placed on the voluntarily retired list after the season. He has been working out with Detroit this year, "looking better than he did a year ago," said Abel.

Key Games Dot Weekend College Scene

By The Associated Press

The clash between Michigan State and Notre Dame, a game that undoubtedly will have a key bearing on the national championship, is one of four big ones that dominate the last full weekend of the college football season.

The games between Arkansas and Texas Tech, Southern California and UCLA, and Princeton and Dartmouth share top billing on a Saturday schedule replete with traditional games, conference championships and struggles for bowl bids.

Of the four, only Texas Tech at Arkansas is scheduled for regional television coverage.

The other regionally televised games are Missouri-Kansas, Harvard-Yale and Ohio State-Michigan.

The traditional games include Kentucky and Tenneseee, each hoping for a bowl bid, and Washington-Washington State, with State still technically in the running for a Rose Bowl berth but an outsider to UCLA and Southern California.

★ ★ ★

Others, with pride, prestige and tradition the principal factors at stake, are Duke and North Carolina, Indiana and Purdue, Northwestern and Illinois, Oregon and Oregon State, Pitt and Penn State.

★ ★ ★

TEXAS TECH AT ARKANSAS — Arkansas is ranked second in the nation with a 9-0 record this season and a string of 21 straight. Texas Tech is No. 9 with an 8-1 mark. The winner gets the host spot in the Cotton Bowl against an opponent to be determined.

All-America Donny Anderson is the key to Tech's attack, while Jon Brittenum leads Arkansas' versatile offense.

Arkansas is a two-touchdown favorite.

UCLA AT SOUTHERN CAL — Southern Cal is ranked sixth in the nation, UCLA seventh. Each has a 6-1-1 record going into the traditional cross-town clash.

The winner almost certainly will gain the Rose Bowl berth opposite Michigan State. Conference rules prohibit participation in any other bowl. Each has one more game remaining.

Southern Cal, possessing one of the country's most outstanding runners in Mike Garrett, is a one touchdown favorite.

★ ★ ★

DARTMOUTH AT PRINCETON — Neither is ranked nationally, although each has an 8-0 record and Princeton has won 17 straight. The winner is the Ivy League champion — nothing more.

★ ★ ★

League rules prohibit postseason games, which may make this the first time two teams with perfect records have met in the final game of the season and neither had bowl hopes.

Missouri and Florida are the only other ranked teams in action. Missouri, No. 8, takes a 6-2-1 record against Nebraska, while No. 10 Florida has a 6-2 mark going into a night game with Miami, Fla.

★ ★ ★

Third ranked Nebraska, 9-0, and fifth-ranked Alabama, 7-1-1, expected to oppose each other in the Orange Bowl, are idle.

Skippers Pick '66 Captains

Tackle Steve Main and fullback Steve Rogers were elected cocaptains of Waterford Township's 1966 football team at the school's athletic banquet Thursday.

The team's Most Valuable Player award for 1965 went to linebacker and guard Mike Lewis. The Optimist Award went to Dennis Sundwall, an award based on football ability and academic endeavor.

Coaches initiated a new award — the Golden Shovel — given to the player creating the most humor on the field. The award went to halfback Mike McDowell.

Canadian Rider Scores in Show Without Fault

TORONTO (AP) — Jim Elder, Canada's team captain, rode Pieces of Eight to victory Thursday night in the Maple Leaf Stakes in the International Horse Show at the Royal Agricultural Winter Fair.

★ ★ ★

In this event, 18 riders toured a 10-jump course and only Elder completed the round without a fault.

Kathy Kusner of Arlington, Va., had her best night of the show, riding Unusual around the course without knocking a fence down. However, her horse refused the fifth jump. She placed second.

Gail Ross of Edmonton, riding The Hood; Elissa Fernandez of Mexico, on Tapatio, and Frank Chapot of Wallpack, N.J., riding San Lucas, tied for third place with four faults each.

CROWD CHEERS

Elder, a 31-year-old air conditioning executive, pushed his mount around with a partisan crowd cheering wildly as he finished clean.

Miss Kusner, who has not won an event so far this year, cleared all the fences. However, on the second part of number five her mount refused to jump. Miss Kusner gave the horse a few sharp raps with her crop and Unusual soared over the fence on the next try.

Chapot, the U.S. team captain, rode San Lucas in the event and the huge 10-year-old chestnut gelding knocked down the last part of the ninth jump.

This was the last of the qualifying events for the North American Championship. The 10 highest placed riders in the three events qualify.

Wins Feature Race

JACKSON (AP) — Thessa Lonians won the featured Marquette Mile Thursday at Jackson Harness Raceway before 1,786 fans, returning $26.00, $13.40 and $7.00. The daily double paid $100.00 and the quinella paid $8.00.

State Minor Elevens Close '65 Campaign

By The Associated Press

With but three games remaining on the regular schedule, Michigan college football teams are assured of posting a better combined record than they did in 1964.

Michigan State (9-0), Northern Michigan (7-2) and Michigan (4-5) close out their campaigns Saturday.

The state's 17 football playing schools have a combined record of 77-67-3, compared with a 72-5 record for last year when the University of Detroit fielded a team.

Ferris State finished the season with an 0-8 record, marking the second straight year that the Bulldogs failed to win a game. They tied two games last year.

★ ★ ★

Bob Benjamin of Northwood, with two touchdowns last Saturday, took over the individual scoring leadership with 72 points. Clint Jones of Michigan State is next with 68, followed by Bob Apisa of MSU and Bruce McLenna of Hillsdale with 56 points each.

Lone NHL Game

Leafs Trim Montreal

By The Associated Press

If the Toronto Maple Leafs are having a hard time getting started this season, it certainly hasn't been the fault of Bob Pulford.

★ ★ ★

The veteran center, in his 10th national hockey league season, figured in all three goals as the Leafs turned back the Canadiens 3-1 in Montreal in the only game played Thursday night.

Pulford and linemates Eddie Shack and Larry Jeffrey collected a goal apiece, all in the third period. Pulford also contributed a pair of assists.

★ ★ ★

Ralph Backstrom was the Canadiens' lone marksman, scoring his fourth goal of the season midway in the opening period.

The victory boosted the fourth-place Leafs to within one point of the third-place New York Rangers. Montreal is tied for first place with the Chicago Black Hawks, each with 15 points, five points more than Toronto has.

The World's Championship of professional bowling will be determined next week within an hour's drive of Pontiac.

Only Don Carter among the elite of bowling will not be in the field of 192 professionals who begin rolling for the $65,000 prize money Monday at Continental Lanes in Roseville.

Bowling's all-time great is recuperating in St. Louis from a pneumonia attack last week and probably won't compete on the Professional Bowlers' Association tour again until January.

The PBA National Championships are in Michigan for the first time although there have been other PBA tournament stops in the state — even in Pontiac.

★ ★ ★

Continental Lanes is located at 13 Mile and Gratiot and has a 2,000-seat capacity. The establishment will have practice and autograph sessions tomorrow, and a Pro-Am tourney Sunday. The actual championships will start Monday.

There will be five days of eliminations — two sessions per day at $2 per fan per session — before the two finalists square of Saturday afternoon on national, color television for the $10,000 first prize.

★ ★ ★

Pontiac will be well represented: Monroe Moore, Mike Samardzija, Jr., Joe Bonfiglio and Al Pietz. "Skip" Seavoy of Bloomfield Hills also is entered.

SPARE PINS

Billy Golembiewski, who was appearing at 300 Bowl prior to competing next week at Continental Lanes, was forced to cancel his final three days at "300" due to his wife's very close date with the stork.

Shirley Pointer, a popular member on the Huron Bowl staff, has returned to work after recuperating at home for several weeks.

She worked extensively on the Michigan State Invitational Singles championships and now is helping organize next week's open bowling championship qualifying.

★ ★ ★

Ed Guzik is the first league qualifier to challenge George Chicovsky in the Cooley Lanes "Beat The Pro" event. Guzik will pit his 164 average plus handicap against "Chico" Sunday afternoon, followed by an instructional clinic open to the public.

The 700 series and a near miss have been reported this week as the scores continue to mount at local bowling sites.

Joe Foster hit his second 700 in the West Side Classic this season Monday night with games of 224-246—246.

The day before at Lakewood Lanes, Joe Fisher posted a handsome 708 in the Moose League. Just missing the mark last Friday at Huron Bowl was Ted Smith who had 698 in the Classic League.

Aerial-Minded U-M Awaits Ohio State

ANN ARBOR (AP)—Michigan, which raced to the Big Ten football title with a fine running attack a year ago, enters its final game of the season against Ohio State Saturday as the league's best passing team.

★ ★ ★

A crowd of some 85,000 is expected to be on hand for the 62nd game of the series which will also be televised regionally as the NCAA game of the week.

Perhaps the fact that the Wolverines have developed a passing attack is not so surprising. Coach Bump Elliott said before the season started that he expected his team to throw more despite the loss of four ends and All-America quarterback Bob Timberlake.

LEADS RECEIVERS

One of the reasons for the Wolverines' success through the air has been the play of end Jack Clancy, a converted halfback. Clancy leads the Big Ten with 31 receptions for 468 yards and four touchdowns.

He has already set Michigan records for receptions and yards gained.

★ ★ ★

Adding to this success is the fact that quarterback Wally Gabler has shown a steady hand at passing. He's fifth in the league over-all but leads all passers in that only two of his tosses have been intercepted in 105 attempts.

But while the passing game has developed, Michigan's running game is not lagging. Witn Carl Ward and Dave Fisher doing most of the work, the Wolverines have averaged 194.5 yards on the ground in six league contests.

★ ★ ★

Ohio State is expected to present a stiff challenge to the Michigan passing attack. The Buckeyes lead the league in pass defense.

Michigan also faces another challenge to its defense against rushing after being ripped by Northwestern last week.

Tom Barrington and Willard Sander are among the league's top rushers and Barrington has averaged 32.2 yards in kickoff returns to lead the conference in that department.

The Wolverines' 10-0 triumph last season was their first over the Buckeyes in five years. Michigan holds a 36-21-4 edge in the series.

U.S. Net Pair in Aussie Win

SYDNEY, Australia (AP) — Marty Riessen and Clark Graebner of the United States won the men's doubles title of the New South Wales Tennis Championships Friday but Graebner was eliminated in the men's singles semifinals.

Nancy Richey of Dallas also gave the Americans a big boost by reaching the finals of the women's singles.

Riessen, of Evanston, Ill., and Graebner, of Beechwood, Ohio, upset the Australian defending champions, Roy Emerson and Fred Stolle, in the doubles final 6-3, 12-10, 3-6, 6-3.

Graebner, who had defeated Emerson, the Wimbledon champion, in the men's singles quarter-finals, bowed to John Newcombe, Australia's third-ranked player, in the semifinals.

Pistons After First Win in 8 Games

DETROIT (AP)—The Detroit Pistons, 3-3 at home so far this season, will be trying to snap a seven-game losing streak when they play host to New York tonight.

The Pistons have won but one of 10 games on the road and the extended losing streak has pushed them into the National Basketball Association's Western Division cellar.

Before beating Detroit last Tuesday in New York, the Knicks had dropped four straight games.

Guard Dick Barnett, recently acquired from Los Angeles, scored 40 points against the Pistons last Tuesday and has been averaging 31 points in his last eight games.

State's Turkeys No Clay Pigeons for Bird Hunters

LANSING (AP) — Michigan turkey hunters found this month that shooting the wild birds is no easy matter.

★ ★ ★

The conservation department said 400 hunters in a nine-day special season in Allegan County bagged only 82 turkeys—52 of them the first day of the season.

The kill was nine the second day, then 2, 3, 2, 4, 3, 5 and 2 as the birds seemingly became wary.

Biggest of the turkeys was a 20-pound tom. Average weight of adult males was 16 pounds 5 ounces and about half that for adult females.

★ ★ ★

Department officials said the 20 per cent success ratio of hunters indicates more licenses can be issued next year without danger to the turkey flock. Beaver Island also may be opened for a turkey season and some consideration is being given to seasons in the Lake-Newaygo County area, Oscoda County and northern Ogemaw County.

Aussie Golfers Share Lead in New Zealand

AUCKLAND, New Zealand (AP) — Kel Nagle and Peter Thomson, both of Australia, fired first round scores of 70 Friday to share the lead in the New Zealand Open Golf Championship.

★ ★ ★

Australian John Sullivan was one stroke back in third place with a 71. Included among five players with 74s was left-hander Bob Charles of New Zealand.

Waterford Study Made

'School Additions Feasible'

An architectural feasibility study, regarding the possibility of adding facilities to Waterford Township's two high schools, was submitted to the board of education last night.

The report pointed out that a swimming pool, auditorium and shops could be built at both Waterford Township and Waterford Kettering high schools without the acquisition of more land.

Wakely-Kushner Associates conducted the study, However, no action was taken.

The board gave the go-ahead for the school district to renew its membership with the Detroit Metropolitan Bureau of Cooperative School Studies.

* * *

Membership fee is $610 a year, according to Dr. Don O. Tatroe, superintendent of Waterford Township Schools.

Tatroe said the organization conducts studies — principally in the area of finance, budgets and salaries.— sponsors institutes and publishes materials.

In other business, a contract with a wrecking firm was approved for a land-fill site on Crary Junior High School property bordering M59.

Under the agreement, the swampy 3½-acre site will be leased to the company for $1 a year over a three-year period.

* * *

Russell J. Buller and Mrs. Norma S. Crawford were reappointed to the board of canvassers for a four-year term from 1966 to 1969.

SNOW EQUIPMENT

Also last night, the board approved purchase of a dump truck and snowplow equipment for $5,150.

Beattie Motor Sales submitted the low bid of $3,236 for the chassis, while Daybrook Truck Equipment turned in a low bid of $921 for the dump box.

R. G. Moeller Co. submitted a low bid of $993 for a snowplow, truck mount and blade.

* * *

The board authorized the administration to write a letter of intent to the Detroit Edison Co., assuming the cost of $790 for removing guy wires and installing an electric pole on the Frank J. Manley School site.

OTHER BUSINESS

In still other business, the board hired two teachers and okayed the resignations of two others.

Reports were given on the summer in-service teachers' workshop program.

* * *

Gerald Lewis spoke on the home visitation study, Nicholas Menghini on data processing, Donald Aikins on English, James Amell on social studies, Donald Maxwell on applied science and Julia Patterson on united studies.

IF YOU OWN OR MANAGE A COMPANY WITH GOOD GROWTH AND PROFIT POTENTIAL . . .

'CHILD BRIDE' — William P. Holt, who will be 102 Nov. 27, enjoys a joke with his bride of a week, the former Mrs. Karen Monrad, 77, at a home for senior citizens in Seattle. Holt jokingly refers to the new Mrs. Holt as his "child bride."

Dead Baby Found in Shopping Bag

A newborn baby boy, wrapped in a woman's robe, was found dead yesterday afternoon by two youths in the city's northeast sector.

The body had been placed inside a shopping bag near the Cameron-Featherstone intersection, according to Pontiac police.

The two youths took the bag across the street before they noticed the dead baby.

An autopsy was scheduled to be performed today.

Predicts Defense Budget for '67 to Pass $55 Billion

CHARLESTON, S.C. (AP) — Rep. L. Mendel Rivers, D-S.C., chairman of the House Armed Services Committee, says the 1967 defense budget will probably exceed $55 billion.

Rivers made the prediction Thursday after meeting in Charleston with Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara.

Rivers said they exchanged views on the 1967 defense budget and on the 1966 supplementary budget which will be put before Congress in January.

The regular 1966 defense budget, approved by Congress two months ago, totaled $46.8 billion.

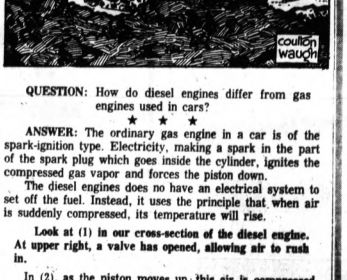
Junior Editors Quiz on DIESELS



QUESTION: How do diesel engines differ from gas engines used in cars?

* * *

ANSWER: The ordinary gas engine in a car is of the spark-ignition type. Electricity, making a spark in the part of the spark plug which goes inside the cylinder, ignites the compressed gas vapor and forces the piston down.

The diesel engines does no have an electrical system to set off the fuel. Instead, it uses the principle that when air is suddenly compressed, its temperature will rise.

Look at (1) in our cross-section of the diesel engine. At upper right, a valve has opened, allowing air to rush in.

In (2), as the piston moves up, this air is compressed, becoming as hot as 900 degrees. In (3), fuel from the fuel jet at left is injected and burns in an explosion as the hot air sets it afire. (4) shows the piston, having gone down, rising again.

The valve at upper left has opened to allow the burned exhaust vapors to move out.

The diesel engine uses fuel oil, which is cheaper than gasoline.

It can give a greater return of mechanical energy produced for fuel consumed than can a gasoline engine, which is why it is used for so many heavy duty jobs.

Diesel engines power a great many tractors, trucks, trains and pieces of equipment used in building roads.

* * *

FOR YOU TO DO: Give yourself half-a-minute to answer why diesels are not used in cars, since they are cheaper to operate. The answer is that the diesel is too heavily built for the lightness of the automobile. It is more expensive and does not run as smoothly.

PROPOSED CHAPEL — Designer's conception of a proposed outdoor chapel to be constructed at the Camp Ossewa Boy Scout facility of Lapeer. The chapel planned by Richard Figgins of Bloomfield Township, is included in a $4,000 construction and improvement program.

Scout Site Director Seeking Contractor for Building Plan

Earl P. Long, director of the Camp Ossewa Boy Scout site north of Lapeer, is a man with a problem.

Embarking on a construction and improvement program which will cost some $4,000, Long has obtained generous financial assistance from Pontiac area firms and individuals as well as plans for a new chapel from a Bloomfield Township designer.

"Now all I need is a contractor," Long said, "and they're hard to come by right now with all the pressure on building."

Long said he has received over $1,100 in cash contributions. Trusses and columns for wall structures on the new chapel have been donated.

The chapel was designed by Richard W. Figgins of 1960 West Bend.

SPLIT-LOG SLABS

Figgins' conception calls for split-log slabs on the exterior of the chapel with a fireplace and domed chimney in the center of the open-air structure.

Long said the design will permit eventual closed construction of the chapel.

The 20-acre campsite, located on Fisher Lake Road, is available on a year-round basis to some 40 area Boy Scout troops as well as Girl Scout, Cub Scout and church-affiliated organizations.

Rebuff Firemen on Talks

Pontiac firemen have been told their request for a meeting to negotiate a signed agreement with the city has been turned down.

City Manager Joseph A. Warren said such a meeting would not be held until mediation has been terminated.

The meeting had been requested by the Pontiac Firefighters Association (PFA).

Jack Douglas, PFA president, said today that the working agreement, which would govern wages, hours and working conditions for firemen, had been sought prior to mediation.

* * *

"Mediation doesn't have anything in it about the working agreement," said Douglas.

'BEEN TRYING'

"We've been trying to get a working agreement since before it was legal," he added.

The PFA president referred to changes in the state's Hutchinson Act, which now permits signed contracts for public employes.

Replying to the PFA meeting request, Warren said, "It was a surprise to receive such a request. I have not been advised that you have dropped mediation."

* * *

Warren said today that he felt the firemen, since they had been the moving party in mediation, should terminate mediation action.

ALL REQUESTS

He felt the mediation had covered all the requests by the firemen.

* * *

In mediation sessions with Warren and the City Commission, the PFA wage and benefit demands had been turned down.

* * *

Douglas said he was slated to meet with the state mediator next week and would then decide on a course of action.

Eye for Details Brings Arrest

Waterford Policeman Spots Suspect at Mall

The alertness of a Waterford Township policeman resulted in the arrest this morning of an armed robbery suspect.

The suspect, Harold Dillon, 24, of 6050 Long Point, Springfield Township, was apprehended at his home by township police, following a robbery last night at Lucille's Magic Mirror Beauty Salon, 5380 M59.

Patrolman Daniel Coakley, who was investigating another complaint at Pontiac Mall shortly after the robbery, spotted a man fitting the description of the intruder and took down his car's license number.

The suspect brandishing a revolver, allegedly held up the owner of the shop at approximately 7:30 last night, fleeing with $10.

Dillon was scheduled to be arraigned today.

More Area Drivers Buy Plates Early

Pontiac area motorists are picking up their new license plates earlier than ever this year, according to Willis M. Brewer, manager of the branch office of the secretary of state.

Brewer cited the faster early pace of registrations along with greater ease in paperwork involved in Michigan's new Motor Vehicle Accident Claims Fund.

* * *

"We're getting a lot of help from insurance agents as well as the general public," Brewer said. "Even with the added work, we're running well ahead of last year."

He also reminded motorists who have yet to pick up their plates not to forget to fill in the space on the back of the registration specifying name of the driver's insurance agent.

School Meeting Set on Use of Machines

The Pontiac School District and the National Association of Power Engineers will sponsor a meeting Monday at 10:45 a.m. in the audio-visual room at Pontiac Central High School.

* * *

A representative of the Armstrong Steam Trap Co. (machine works) will present a demonstration on the operation and maintenance of traps of various kinds.

Cabbie Robbed, West Bloomfield Man Held Up

Pontiac police report $165 was taken in two separate robberies the past two nights.

Last night, a man robbed Howard C. Ball, of 136 Calvert, of $54 after showing a rifle through a window of his taxicab on Howard McNeil Street.

Wednesday night, $111 was taken from Donald Bennett, 31, of 3236 Edgemere, West Bloomfield Township.

Bennett was accosted by a lone gunman on the 500 block of Franklin, according to Pontiac police.

Company Pays Doctor's Bill

EAST PATERSON, N. J. (AP) — Dr. Mortimer Cassel cured his ailing electric bill but he had to make a house call to do it. And yesterday the patient paid up.

Since April, Cassel, an East Paterson physician, had been receiving notices from Public Service Electric and Gas Co. that he was $10 in arrears. He wasn't, and he had a canceled check to prove it.

So last week he drove to Paterson to straighten out the matter. Public Service found the error and corrected it.

But when the doctor got home, he realized he had spent an hour of his time, 35 cents for parking and some gasoline. He billed Public Service "for assisting you in bookkeeping and time lost."

Yesterday Cassel's electric bill contained a $10 credit.

Say U.S. Wouldn't Block Confab on Disarmament

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — U.N. delegates predicted today that the United States would not oppose moves to set up a preparatory committee for a world disarmament conference despite U.S. refusal to agree to such a conference until convinced it will be more than a propaganda exercise.

William C. Foster, the chief U.S. disarmament negotiator, told the General Assembly's Main Political Committee Thursday that his government will withhold its decision on participation in the proposed conference until specific arrangements are worked out.

Foster said the United States is "far from convinced" that a global disarmament conference to which Red China would be invited — would advance the cause of disarmament.

Soviet Ambassador Nikolai T. Fedorenko had proposed that a conference be convened by mid-1966 with Red China participating.

Foster said U.S. reluctance was not based on a desire to keep Peking out of such talks, but he made plain that the United States would want proof that Communist China was prepared to make a contribution to peace.

The General Assembly decision to bar Peking from the United Nations for another year provided the Communists ammunition in the arms debate.

* * *

Polish delegate Bohdan Lewandowski said Red China's absence from the United Nations made a world disarmament conference all the more vital. Without agreement of all nuclear powers, he declared, any arms agreement would have little meaning.

* * *

The debate was on a proposal submitted by 41 Asian and African nations to set up a preparatory committee for a world conference to be held not later than 1967.

Foster said that a world arms conference might hamper the work of the 17-nation disarmament committee in Geneva.

County Unit Is Honored for Its Folder

Family Service of Oakland County was presented with a first place award at the recent Family Service Association of America Biennial Meeting in Detroit. Competing against 327 other agencies, the Oakland County group was honored for its folder interpreting the agency.

It pinpoints the individuals who live within the family unit and illustrates the problems which each faces.

Circuit Judge Sentences Six

Pontiac Man Draws 4-to-5-Year Jail Term

Six area men were sentenced yesterday by Circuit Judge Jame S. Thorburn for various crimes. All had pleaded guilty to the charges in October.

* * *

The stiffest sentence 4 to 5 years in the state prison at Jackson, was ordered for Howard D. Garrison, 33, of 750 Slocum for attempted armed robbery.

Garrison was arrested by sheriff's deputies Aug. 18 several hours after jumping in a car at Huron and Telegraph and ordering the driver, Paul G. Walker, to take him to the area of Featherstone and I-75.

Garrison robbed Walker of $2.50 and stole his car.

Sentenced for burglarizing Indianwood Auto Parts, 545 Lapeer, Orion Township, on July 16, and stealing $402 from a safe were John A. Raymond, 21, of 520 S. Broadway, Lake Orion, and Lawrence Collier, 19, of 20½ E. Burdick, Oxford.

GETS PROBATION

Raymond was sentenced to 2 to 10 years in prison and Collier was placed on three years probation and ordered to pay $200 court costs.

Lewis Freeman, 18, of 280 Osmun was sentenced to 2 to 4 years in prison for stealing $3 or $4 from coin machines in the Quick Service Laundry, 371 Auburn, on Aug. 12.

An accomplice, Jim A. Wolfe, 21, of 7 Grant was placed on two years probation for simple larceny and ordered to pay $100 court costs and restitution for damaging the machines.

* * *

Ronald G. Bray, 21, of 5111 Maybee, Independence Township, was sentenced to 1 to 2½ years in prison for attempted grand larceny of two boats and a motor in West Bloomfield Township.

2 in Plane Hurt in Bomb Hoax

Injured Scrambling Out After Landing

WILLOW RUN (AP) — Two passengers of a United Air Lines DC-8 jet were injured Thursday when they scrambled from the plane's emergency exits after a bomb threat, police said.

No bomb was found.

* * *

The threat was made by a passenger about 10 minutes before the plane, carrying 94 passengers and a crew of 7, was scheduled to land at Willow Run airport, a UAL spokesman said. The passenger said he carried a bomb in his suitcase, the spokesman added. Police questioned the passenger and released him, Trooper Bob Gleason said.

He said the airline had not signed a complaint. Gleason said the FBI may still investigate. Threatening interstate commerce is against federal law.

* * *

The plane came from Philadelphia and was bound for Los Angeles.

The airlines spokesman identified the injured as Robert Schmidt of Glassbro, N.J., and G. T. Marsh, who refused to give his address. Both were treated at hospitals.

7-15 Years Given in Fatal Stabbing

A Royal Oak Township man was sentenced yesterday to 7-15 years in the state prison at Jackson for a fatal stabbing.

Clifford Freeman, 51, of 21418 Wyoming had pleaded guilty to manslaughter last month in the July 10 killing of Ira Oldham, 30, of 21697 Glenfield, Royal Oak Township.

* * *

Oldham was stabbed seven times by Freeman during an argument in the township.

Local Red Cross Head Gets National Honor

Carleton C. Patterson Jr., 783 Pilgrim, Birmingham, was honored this week with the Certificate of Recognition of the national Red Cross, for his services as chairman of the Oakland County chapter from 1961 to 1965.

The certificate was presented at the executive committee meeting of the southeastern Michigan Chapter at its Oakland regional office, 118 Franklin Blvd.

NOTICE OF HEARING ON ESTABLISHING NORMAL HEIGHT AND LEVEL OF WATER IN WHITE LAKE IN HIGHLAND AND WHITE LAKE TOWNSHIPS OAKLAND COUNTY, MICHIGAN

To Whom It May Concern, PARTICULARLY

All owners of property fronting on, abutting or having access to rights in White Lake, or who are interested in having fixed and maintained the normal height and level of said lake pursuant to the provisions of Act 146 of the Public Acts of 1961, as amended, said lake being located in Sections 12 and 13 of Highland Township and Sections 7 and 18 of White Lake Township, Oakland County, Michigan.

You Are Hereby Notified That the Oakland County Board of Supervisors has caused to be filed in this Court a Complaint praying for the establishment by this Court of the normal height and level of White Lake, said lake being located in Sections 12 and 13 of Highland Township and Sections 7 and 18 of White Lake Township, Oakland County, Michigan;

You Are Further Notified that a hearing on the matter will be held in the Circuit Court for the County of Oakland at the Oakland County Court House Tower, 1200 North Telegraph Road, Pontiac, Michigan, on Tuesday, the 7th day of December, A.D. 1965, at the opening of Court on that day at 9 a.m., before the Honorable William John Beer, Circuit Judge, or as soon thereafter as Counsel can be heard.

You Are Further Notified that on said date the Complainant intends to ask this Court to establish the normal height and level of said lake at 1019.10 feet above sea level and if you desire to oppose the establishment of the level at 1019.10 feet above sea level you should then and there appear and show cause, if any you have, why:

(a) The normal height and level of said lake should not be established;

(b) Why 1019.10 feet above sea level should not be the level fixed as the normal height and level of said lake;

(c) Why such other and further relief as the Court seems fitting and proper should not be granted to Complainant.

ORDINANCE NO. 1537

An Ordinance to Prohibit Loitering Disturbances or Damaging Property in Public and Parochial Schools in the City of Pontiac

Adopted: November 16, 1965
Effective: November 26, 1965

An ordinance to prohibit loitering, disturbances or damaging property in public and parochial schools in the City of Pontiac.

The City of Pontiac Ordains:

Section 1. No person shall damage, destroy or deface any public, private or parochial school building, or any building occupied by any public, private or parochial school or the grounds, outbuildings, fences, trees or other appurtenances or fixtures belonging thereto.

Section 2. No person shall wilfully or maliciously make, or assist in making, any noise, disturbances or improper diversions, by which the peace, quietude or good order of any public, private or parochial school is disturbed.

Section 3. No person shall use profane, indecent or immoral language or indulge in indecent or immoral conduct in any building or on any property adjacent to any building in the City occupied as a public, private or parochial school.

Section 4. Any person found to be creating a disturbance in any private, public or parochial school or on the surrounding school grounds shall leave immediately when so directed by the principal or by any other person designated by the principal.

Section 5. No person who is not a regularly enrolled student, teacher, parent or other employee, school supply salesman or any person engaged in legitimate school business or pursuits, shall enter and remain in any school building, whether public, private or parochial, in the City, for any reason whatever unless such person has received written permission from the principal, or other person designated by the principal, to be in any such public, private or parochial school building.

Section 6. It shall be unlawful for any person to borrow or attempt to borrow any money or thing of value from any student in any public, private or parochial school or on any public, private or parochial school property in the City or during any time when any such student is going to or returning from any regularly scheduled session of any such school without first obtaining the written approval of the principal of such school or other person designated by the principal to issue such written approval.

Section 7. Any person or persons who shall violate any of the provisions of this ordinance, on conviction hereof, shall be punished by a fine not to exceed one hundred dollars ($100.00) or imprisonment in the Oakland County Jail not to exceed ninety (90) days, or both such fine and imprisonment in the discretion of the court.

Section 8. All ordinances or parts of ordinances in conflict herewith are hereby repealed to the extent necessary to give full force and effect to the provisions of this ordinance.

Section 9. This ordinance shall take effect ten (10) days after the date of its passage by the City Commission of the City of Pontiac.

Made and passed this 16th day of November, A.D. 1965, by the City Commission of the City of Pontiac.

'Zhivago' Movie May Move Chaplain to Laud Daughter

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — That peripatetic Egyptian, Omar Sharif, who hasn't been back to Cairo in two years ("The bellydancers wear veils over their navels now, so why go home?" forecasts that "Doctor Zhivago" will make Julie Christie the world's biggest film star and exhibit Geraldine Chaplin so delightfully that she may elicit her first word of approval from her father Charles Chaplin.

WILSON

"Chaplin's very blunt with Geraldine," Sharif was saying at the Americana.

"He's such a perfectionist himself, he went to see her in a ballet, in which she was very good, and told her, 'You didn't work hard enough. You were terrible. In fact, you were lousy.'"

Geraldine, who's 21, "is always getting crushes on guys," Sharif said. "On me? Oh, I suppose so, at one time, but the next week it was a Spanish cameraman, then a bullfighter."

As "Dr. Zhivago," Sharif's married to Geraldine with Julie Christie as his extramarital intellectual hobby. Sharif just visited Sophia Loren and Carlo Ponti at their huge new home outside Rome. Now that they're French citizens, they've no legal problems in Italy.

"The Italian attitude," said Sharif, "is that we don't mind immoral citizens as long as they're French."

Official at WSU Is Given New Post

DETROIT (AP)—Dr. James P. McCormick was named to the newly created post of vice president of student affairs Thursday by the Wayne State University Board of Governors.

The board also approved construction of a $5.53 million student center to house student activities, religious affairs and food services.

McCormick, 54, served as secretary of the board since 1960. He first came to WSU in 1938, serving as an instructor, and English professor and finally as assistant to the vice president for academic administration. He was appointed to the later post in 1957.

Student Editors Resign at MSU

Dispute Paper Not Printing Statement

EAST LANSING (UPI)—Four student editors at the Michigan State University News resigned yesterday in a dispute with an adviser and the newspaper's editor-in-chief.

The student editors, who make up fourth-fifths of the editorial board for the paper, claimed the administration adviser to the News refused to print a graduate student trying to regain admittance to the university.

The graduate student, Paul Schiff, filed charges against Michigan State, claiming it refused to allow him to register because of his activities with the Committee for Student Rights (CSR), a campus group.

A federal district court in Grand Rapids sent the case back to the university to be decided by a faculty committee.

★ ★ ★

The editors claimed Louis Berman, general manager for the News, who has final word on all news printed in the paper, refused to print Schiff's statement after publishing the university's view written by a vice president at MSU.

EDITORS INCLUDED

The editors included managing editor Richard Schwartz, campus editor Jim Sterba, sports editor Larry Mogg and editorial director Linda Rockey.

Charles E. Wells, editor-in-chief of the News, said Berman told him he could not print Schiff's statement until a decision was reached by the faculty because it may "prejudice" the outcome of the hearing.

Lady Bird Accepts Japan Gift of Trees

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson yesterday accepted a gift from Japan of 3,800 cherry trees. But unlike the trees presented in the first such ceremony in 1912, these bore a "Made in U.S.A." label.

After Japanese Ambassador Ryuji Takeuchi announced the gift last April he discovered there was an Agriculture Department quarantine on Japanese cherry trees.

★ ★ ★

His solution was to find trees of the Japanese variety in a U.S. nursery.

"Although they have been nourished by American earth," he said, "they are nonetheless full-blooded Japanese . . . epitomizing the vital exchange and mutual enrichment that have developed between our two countries.

Metropolitan Airport to Get Federal Grant

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Federal Aviation Agency announced yesterday it has authorized a $1,016,875 federal grant for expansion at Detroit Metropolitan Airport in the suburb of Romulus.

The grant comes under the provisions of the Federal Airport Act of 1946 and will be used for extension of runways and installation of high-intensity landing lights.

Romeo Teens Hurt When Car Hits Tree

WASHINGTON TOWNSHIP—Two Romeo youths are in good condition at Almont Community Hospital today following an accident last night in which their car ran off the road and hit a tree.

The youths, Richard Batzer, 16, of 12030 Barbara Ann, and Stuart Carter, 16, 6755 Van Dyke, were admitted to the hospital after their car hit a tree on 28 Mile Road west of Mount Vernon.

Police said the boys could not give a reason for the accident.

Sedentary Life Said a Danger

CHICAGO (AP) — Dr. Thomas K. Cureton of the University of Illinois, a consultant to the President's Physical Fitness Council says, "The average middle age man is flirting with death because of his sedentary, push-button life."

"He may be only one emotional shock or sudden exertion away from a serious heart attack," Dr. Cureton told a meeting of businessmen Thursday.

★ ★ ★

"He complains more and more of chronic ailments, arthritic tendencies, headaches and digestive upsets. And he resorts usually to heavy smoking and overeating for relaxation."

The way to reverse this overaging process, Dr. Cureton said, is to start running, do it every day and do it "to the point of a good sweat."

SAGINAW (AP) — Clarence Smith, 75, of Saginaw was killed Thursday when struck by a car while crossing a Saginaw street.

Peace Probe Disclosures Hide Truth

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
AP Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON — Diplomatic authorities believe recent disclosures of peace probes in the Vietnamese war focus too much attention on the number and form of the moves and not enough on their substance.

Depending on the fortunes of war, each side in the conflict has been probing the other's intentions for more than a year.

* * *

Each has been trying to find out whether the other was prepared to abandon the war.

How many peace probes have there been in recent months?

CAN'T ESTIMATE

Some diplomatic sources say

News Analysis

it is impossible to estimate — that peace probing is a continuing effort. Others estimate there have been at least two probes a month from one side or the other.

But in most cases there has been a considerable degree of uncertainty all around as to whether a probe was seriously intended or more or less casual or accidental.

* * *

And despite all of the probing, neither side has given any indication that it is prepared to abandon the war.

The current mission to Moscow by Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield appears to be one of the most obvious of the peace initiatives on the part of the United States. It seems to be aimed at urging the Soviet leadership to press for a Vietnamese settlement and also at finding out whether that is a practical possibility.

FORMER MOVE

The U.S. initiatives in this field go back to last April when President Johnson announced American readiness for "unconditional discussions" with the Communists on peaceful settlement. Up to that time the United States was in too weak a position in South Viet Nam to approach peace negotiations with any feeling of confidence that the talks would do more good than harm.

The major peace probes before the turning point in the conflict early this year seem, therefore, to have come from the Communist side. Until the United States began to build up its own power in the conflict last February, the Communists thought Washington would tire of the war and the main question for them was how soon that would come about.

* * *

The issue of peace talk maneuvers has attracted considerable attention recently because of disclosure that U.N. Secretary General U Thant had played a very active middleman role more than a year ago in trying to arrange direct U.S.-North Vietnamese talks at Rangoon, Burma, and had suffered a rebuff at American hands.

In spite of this, Thant has been busy on various occasions since that time, according to diplomatic informants here, and apparently remained hopeful of providing the channels for peaceful contact whenever the war has reached that stage.

MANEUVERS

What seems to have been happening in the diplomatic maneuvering is this:

* * *

First, when the North Vietnamese and the Viet Cong guerrilla leaders inside South Viet Nam thought they were winning the war last year it was natural for them to sound out opinion from time to time as to whether the United States was ready to withdraw and abandon South Viet Nam. Thus last autumn, Thant reportedly arranged for Hanoi to send a representative to secret talks at Rangoon, but he could not get the United States to agree to do so.

* * *

Second, after the big U.S. buildup began, following the start of air attacks on North Viet Nam Feb. 7, the United States developed an interest in finding out whether the North Vietnamese were ready to give up in view of the huge power being progressively brought against the Communist side in Viet Nam. Since then it has been the North Vietnamese turn to evade talks unless, of course, they could be arranged on Communist terms.

Behind these shifting diplomatic tactics lies a fact of profound importance to the peace seekers and one of which top U. S. officials are keenly aware. This is that there is no obvious room for compromise in the Vietnamese struggle.

SOMEONE WINS

Essentially, either the Communist forces will win and South Viet Nam will progressively come into Communist control, or the United States and South Viet Nam will win and the Communists will be excluded from the South.

The United States is reported on excellent authority to have approved, inspired or itself initiated various peace probe moves since it began to operate from a position of strength in South Viet Nam.

Report on Auto Use in Grand Rapids Area

LANSING (AP) — Grand Rapids area automobiles average about 10,000 miles of travel a year regardless of how many cars are in the family, a Highway Department study shows.

The department interviews 6,689 householders to learn about driving habits in the area. Computers will analyze results of the $225,000 study to help determine land use and transportation needs of the area.

Battling GIs on Offensive

'Soviets Narrow Missile Gap'

LONDON (AP)—The Soviet Union has cut the American lead in numbers of nuclear missiles 25 per cent and have warheads more than 50 per cent bigger than America's biggest, a British research organization said today.

The Institute of Strategic Studies, a private international organization, reported that the U.S. margin over the Soviet Union in number of missiles had dropped from 4-1 in early 1965 to 3-1 now.

The institute said the margin was cut when the United States scrapped such obsolute missiles as the Atlas, while the Soviets boosted by 40 per cent the number of their operational intercontinental ballistic missles.

In its annual review of world military power, the institute said the Soviet Union now has an ICBM with an estimated nuclear warhead power of more than 30 megatons. A megaton is equal to the explosive force of one million tons of TNT.

America's main strategic missiles, the Minuteman 1 and the Polaris, have a capacity of about one megaton each.

★ ★ ★

The U. S. arsenal also has 54 Titan 2's with warheads estimated at from 5 to 18 megatons.

CERTAIN POINT

Many Western military experts say the size of a nuclear weapon is important only up to a certain point, and beyond that any additional increase yields diminishing returns.

When the Soviet Union detonated a 56-megaton superbomb Oct. 30, 1961, U.S. strategists said a number of smaller bombs would be easier to deliver and could still add up to the same destructive effect.

The institute is a private international center for research on defense, world security and disarmament.

★ ★ ★

It has an international council drawn from 13 countries, with research associates in Britain, Canada, West Germany, India and the United States.

NO IMPROVEMENT

Despite Communist China's explosion of a second nuclear device last May, "there has been no marked improvement in China's strategic potential during the past year," the institute said.

★ ★ ★

Until China develops a better delivery system, the institute added, "a small number of obsolescent TU4 medium bombers are the only strategic means of delivery she possesses, and she might choose to build up a stockpile of fission weapons for these."

Lansing Strife Brings Standby

Guard Is Alerted as Project Is Damaged

LANSING (AP)—Officials put a National Guard unit on standby and called extra police into Lansing today as an estimated 500 union building trades workers damaged and set fire to portions of a Lansing construction project.

More than 100 city policemen were rushed to the scene where the mob threw rocks and roamed through the project for nearly two hours.

Police Capt. Donald Jackson said Mayor Max Murninghan got permission from Gov. George Romney today to place some National Guardsmen on standby. A busload of Guardsmen was taken to the Lansing Armory.

State Police brought in a backup force of troopers from outlying posts. They assembled the men at a central location "in case of possible trouble."

Jackson said nobody was arrested in the disturbance at the large apartment house project. He said there apparently was no clash between police and pickets.

PROPERTY DAMAGE

Windows in the project were broken, a tool shanty was set afire and a trailer was overturned, police said.

After two hours the estimated 500 pickets left en masse, apparently to report to work at their own jobs. Fourteen pickets from the AFL-CIO Lansing Building Trades Council remained at the apartment house project.

On Wednesday, more than 2,000 members of the trades council took a day off from work on some 50 construction projects to protest nonunion building projects.

SLICK TRICK — "Hey, maybe it'll work," 15-year-old TV actor John Provost of Hollywood, Calif., seems to be saying. He asked his father for a razor to shave his fuzz off and was given the old answer, "Rub some cream on your face and let the cat lick it off." John, who was Lassie's costar, still wants a razor because he doesn't know what to do if the cat's not hungry.

President Leads Tributes Paid to Ex-Veep Wallace

DANBURY, Conn. (AP) — President Johnson led the tributes to Henry A. Wallace, whose controversial views he said came from "a deep sense of social justice."

The former New Deal Cabinet member, vice president and third party candidate for president died Thursday of lateral sclerosis. He was 77.

With him at the time of his death were Mrs. Wallace, the former Ilo Browne, and his sister, Mary Bruggmann of Switzerland.

In addition to the widow, he is survived by three children, Mrs. Leslie Douglas of Washington, Henry B. Wallace of Des Moines, Iowa, and Robert B. Wallace of Doylestown, Pa.; 12 grandchildren; three sisters, Mrs. Bruggmann, Ruth Wijkmann of Des Moines, and Annabell McLay of Birmingham, Mich.; and two brothers, John B. Wallace of St. Petersburg, Fla., and James W. Wallace of Des Moines.

A funeral service will be held at 11 a.m. tomorrow at St. Stephen's Episcopal Church at Ridgefield, Conn. Cremation will be at Grace Cemetery, Bridgeport, Conn., and the ashes will be interred Monday at Woodland Cemetery in Des Moines, Iowa.

EULOGIZE WALLACE

From across the country national figures eulogized Wallace, whose sense of crusade and controversial ideas helped block him from the White House.

President Johnson said: "The death of Henry A. Wallace stills an original American voice.

He always spoke his mind — and always from a deep sense of social justice. His views may not always have been popular, but they were always sincere.

★ ★ ★

"I consider him a good man and a good public servant. His country will miss him."

WAS AN ASSET

Former President Harry S. Truman said, "I'm sorry as I can be. Henry was an asset to the country."

Wallace had been President Franklin D. Roosevelt's vice president, but in 1944 his renomination was blocked by old line Democratic chiefs, Southerners and others.

Truman was nominated and, when Roosevelt died in 1945, he became president.

★ ★ ★

At the time of Roosevelt's death Wallace was Secretary of Commerce, but his ventures into foreign policy led to a clash with Secretary of State James F. Byrnes. Truman backed Byrnes and fired Wallace.

SOFTER LINE

Wallace advocated a softer line with the Soviet Union, while Byrnes' policy was one of firmness.

★ ★ ★

Later, however, Wallace changed his mind about Soviet communism, and was to warn of the danger of Red China to both the United States and the Soviet Union.

Showers Possible for Pontiac Area

There's a chance of a few afternoon showers late tomorrow but Sunday will be fair and slightly warmer.

Fair and colder is the forecast for tonight with lows falling again into 20s. Highs will shoot for 38 to 44 tomorrow.

★ ★ ★

West to southwesterly morning winds at 5 to 15 miles per hour will continue.

A brisk 34 was the low in downtown Pontiac at 4 a.m. today. The mercury had climbed to 46 at 1 p.m.

Sub Hunter Plane Crashes Near Keys

KEY WEST, Fla. (UPI)—A Navy submarine hunter patrol plane crashed in the Florida Straits between Key West and Cuba last night, killing all four crewmen.

Navy officials said the S2F antisubmarine warfare plane went down about 21 miles south of this island city while on a routine training flight.

★ ★ ★

The names of the crewmen were withheld pending notification of next of kin.

Hunt Out Reds After Beating Off 4 Assaults

21 N. Viets Reported Killed, 1 Captured; U. S. Casualties Light

PLEIKU, South Viet Nam (AP) — U.S. air cavalrymen on the Ia Drang Valley front pushed out today in search of their Communist attackers after beating off four North Vietnamese assaults during the night.

Moving out from a position just outside the valley in the remote highlands near the Cambodian border, the bloodied but still battling Americans reported 21 of the enemy had been killed and one captured during the night and today.

The troops of the 1st Cavalry, Airmobile Division suffered light casualties, a U.S. spokesman reported.

He said the latest enemy toll brought to 1,207 the number of North Vietnamese dead since the battle began in the Ia Drang Valley Sunday.

B52 bombers from Guam made two more raids on suspected North Vietnamese positions west of the 1st Cavalry forces.

FIRED MORTARS

During the night the North Vietnamese fired mortars and small arms into the three main American positions and stormed them in platoon to company strength.

The Americans, entrenched in deep foxholes, fought them off.

Mortar fragments damaged a large, troop-carrying Chinook helicopter and a light spotter helicopter.

★ ★ ★

U.S. and South Vietnamese forces were engaged in a major buildup to reinforce the hard-pressed cavalrymen.

NEAR SCENE

A South Vietnamese force of regimental size was moved into the battle area about 35 miles south of Pleiku and 6 miles east of the Cambodian border.

At Pleiku airport, 1st Cavalry details were trying to identify dozens of American bodies brought in yesterday.

The Communists had removed all identification from the soldiers slain in an ambush Wednesday.

U.S. officers believe that the Communists badly need a major victory over U.S. forces to bolster their morale, feed their propaganda mills and move toward a position of strength from which to bargain in any peace negotiations which might develop.

The Americans also showed no sign of retreating. Their losses were not known because American losses in specific actions are not announced.

Jackie 1st NY Guest for the Royal Couple

NEW YORK (AP)—Britain's Princess Margaret and her husband received Mrs. John F. Kennedy as their first guest last night after arriving here on the last leg of a whirlwind U.S. tour to sight-see "in the most vibrant city there is."

"This is not the end of a glorious visit," said the princess, "but the beginning." Her six-day itinerary includes a ball, dinner parties, country outings, shopping and enough tourist hopping to stagger a hiker.

The princess and her husband, The Earl of Snowdon, made a speedy start toward warming up New York.

Barely had they stepped off their plane late in the cold afternoon when photographers yelled at the princess to turn her head. "I can't," she shouted, "my hair will blow."

Laughing, she and her husband climbed into a gray-green Rolls Royce.

★ ★ ★

A motorcade sped through Manhattan to the Waldorf-Astoria hotel where several hundred more people gathered along the sidewalks in the chilling wind to watch the royal couple rush inside to meet the press.

FRESHENS UP

After freshening up in a private room, the princess was introduced to 400 newspaper, radio and television representatives in a suite.

She wore a bright orange wool dress by Hartnell, a double strand of pearls and diamond rose broach.

During the official welcome, the princess wrapped one leg around her chair, fingered a bracelet and watched her husband instead of the audience.

★ ★

Then she spoke, glancing at her notes often: "During the last 14 days we have seen so much that we have not only enjoyed, but greatly admired. I do hope that we can come back again soon. In fact, you will be hard put to keep us away."

Injuries Fatal to 2 Area Men

County Highway Toll Now Stands at 132

Two area men, injured in separate automobile accidents earlier this month, died within a 24-hour period lifting Oakland County's traffic death toll to 132 this year.

Dead are Albert B. Corbin Jr., 38, of 2557 North Trail Ct., Commerce Township, and John A. Strange, 78, of 6195 Cooley Lake, Waterford Township.

Corbin died this morning and Strange died last night, both at Pontiac General Hospital.

Corbin was involved in a crash last Saturday at Johnson and Elizabeth Lake Road when he failed to negotiate a curve and his car rammed into a fence and tree.

Strange died of injuries received in a two-car collision Nov. 9 at Middle Belt and Maple in West Bloomfield Township.

He was a passenger in a car driven by his son William J. Strange, same address. Driver of the other car, Barton W. Bodell Jr., 57, of 7241 Colony, West Bloomfield Township, was uninjured.

Strange's son and wife, Viola, 76, were taken to the hospital and later released.

State Police said the accident is still under investigation.

Bronson Battles Toughest Foe—No Money

By JOE MULLEN

Money — far from being the root of all evil—could be the source of all good as far as Oakland County Prosecutor S. Jerome Bronson is concerned.

Bronson wanted an additional $50,000 in the county's 1966 budget to hire eight more people in his department.

He didn't get it.

Bronson and members of his staff presented pleas last fall to the Oakland County Board of Supervisors' Ways and Means and Salaries committees as the 1966 budget was being formulated.

They cited the increased work load of the Prosecutor's Office, due to increased crime and population more detailed administrative procedures and changing concepts resulting from Supreme Court decisions.

CASES BROUGHT

Other county departments also brought their cases before the two committees.

After hearing from all departments, the committee recommended that 15 new employes be allowed from a total of 88 sought by the various departments.

Only one of the 15, a stenographer, was approved for the prosecutor's office.

But, Bronson was not beaten yet.

FINAL AUTHORITY

He appeared at the Oct. 4 meeting of the full board of supervisors which is the final authority on a proposed budget.

Bronson repeated the plea for more funds to hire more people.

Philip O. Mastin Jr., supervisor from Hazel Park, was sufficiently impressed to offer a resolution that $48,000 be appropriated to bolster Bronson's staff by the desired eight people.

The motion was watered down by amendments and a proposal to approve $16,000 for two more assistant prosecutors. It came to a vote and was beaten 40 to 39.

MORAL VICTORY

This probably was a moral victory for Bronson, a Democrat, simply because he almost won a budget amendment from the Republican-dominated board of supervisors.

If the political aspect of the close vote pleased him, it didn't show as he stalked from the auditorium followed by several of his grim-faced aides.

Seven weeks have passed since the new budget was adopted but Bronson hasn't forgotten that his specified requirements were not met.

Bronson pointed out that it is not the reponsibility of his office to search for funds to meet budget requirements but he offered a suggestion: That the county get away from its "cash on the barrel" approach to capital improvements.

'NOT SINFUL'

"Borrowing to build needed capital improvements is not sinful," Bronson asserted.

"The industrial giants do it, commercial enterprises do it and families borrow to build a home. There is nothing un-American about borrowing."

Bronson said that departmental budgets suffered because county officials selected the pay-as-you-go method of financing the proposed courthouse tower.

He agrees the added courthouse space is needed but questions why borrowing was not utilized.

Bronson was questioned in depth about requirements for operating his department, procedures of the Prosecutor's Office, its personnel and his needs.

Colonial Secretary Tells British Guiana Independence Date

LONDON (AP) — British Colonial Secretary Anthony Greenwood announced today that British Guiana will become independent next May 26.

Greenwood made the announcement as chairman of the British Guiana Constitutional Conference which opened on Nov. 2 and ended at Lancaster House today.

The conference agreed on a new constitution calling for a sovereign Democratic state with a governor general representing Queen Elizabeth II as its titular head, British support for the new country to seek commonwealth membership and assurances that Britain will sponsor Guiana's entry into the United Nations.

Greenwood also announced that the present electoral system of proportional representation which brought the present coalition government into power and ousted the leftist regime of Cheddi Jagan will remain unchanged.

* * *

He said, however, that provision has been made in the constitution for the legislature to change the present electoral law if this is called for.

FORMER NAME

The South American country will revert to its former name of Guyana.

British Guiana was represented at the conference by a delegation led by L. Forbes Burnham, the prime minister and chairman of the People's National Congress (PNC). It included Deputy Prime Minister Peter D'Aguiar, the leader of the United Force (UF), the PNC's coalition partner.

The conference was held without the participation of Guiana's biggest party, the People's Progressive Party (PPP), led by Jagan. He boycotted the London talks.

British Guiana is on the northeast coast of South America, with Surinam (Dutch Guiana) to the East, Venezuela to the west and Brazil to the south.

650,000 POPULATION

The country has an area of 83,000 square miles and an estimated population of 650,000, including 300,000 of East Indian descent and 200,000 Negroes.

The Dutch settled there first in 1620 but Britain captured it in 1796.

Jagan boycotted the talks after charging the British with political despotism in the rum and molasses colony.

Five Senators See Kosygin

Viet Nam Expected to Be Main Subject

MOSCOW (AP)—Five American senators met today with Soviet Premier Alexei N. Kosygin. Viet Nam is expected to be a main topic of their talks. The group is headed by Senate Majority Leader Mike Mansfield.

* * *

The senators met for 2½ hours Thursday with Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko, and Mansfield said Viet Nam was discussed. There has been much speculation that the group's mission is to look into the possibility of peace negotiations.

Mansfield has said only that they are looking, listening, asking questions and will report back to the Senate.

* * *

Mansfield is accompanied by Sens. George Aiken, R-Vt., J. Caleb Boggs, R-Del., Daniel K. Inouye, D-Hawaii, and Edmund S. Muskie, D-Maine.

'Many Praying'

Survivor Recalls Ship Fire

PLEASANT RIDGE (AP)—"People were praying. I never heard so many prayers in all my life."

Mrs. Marie Schimmel, 50, sat in her Pleasant Ridge home recounting the fiery tragedy of the Yarmouth Castle which sank with a loss of 84 lives last week in the Atlantic.

* * *

Mrs. Schimmel and Mrs. Edna Newman, 45, of Royal Oak, were among the survivors. The two South Oakland County women, fellow employes at a Detroit bank, had boarded the cruise ship at Miami for a holiday trip to Nassau, the Bahamas.

Mrs. Schimmel said there was no inkling of a fire when she returned to the cabin she shared with Mrs. Newman about 1 a.m.

SOUND ASLEEP

"Eddie was sound asleep—when suddenly there was a knock on the door," she said. "Just one knock and somebody said, 'Get on deck.'

MUST BE BAD

"I grabbed Eddie and I said, 'Get your life jacket and get on deck, there's a fire.'"

The two women reached the deck and found a badly burned man, covered with blood, lying on the deck.

"It hit me then," said Mrs. Schimmel. "I said, 'Oh, my God, it must be bad, we've got to stay together.'"

The ships lights were out but the two women made their way to the rail by firelight.

* * *

"We could see the Bahama Star (rescue ship) headed full speed toward us," Mrs. Schimmel said. "There was no shouting, very little noise. People were praying.

"I never said so many 'Hail Marys' in all my life, even though I'm not a Catholic."

LIFEBOATS AFIRE

Mrs. Newman, noting the lifeboats were afire, told Mrs. Schimmel: "Marie, we're going to have to go over the side. Follow me."

Mrs. Newman slid down a rope to the water.

* * *

"I got part way down and I fell," said Mrs. Schimmel.

A crew member tossed her a rope and she and Mrs. Newman were picked up by a Bahama Star lifeboat.

* * *

The two women said they had originally intended to take the Bahama Star but were talked out of it by a travel agency employe.

Armed Bandits Rob Financier at Detroit Home

DETROIT (AP) — Financier Benjamin Levinson was ambushed by two bandits Thursday night.

* * *

Police said Levinson was attacked outside his garage. The thieves tied up Levinson, his wife, Clare, and their housekeeper, Sally Day, and left them in the library of his northwest Detroit home.

* * *

The thieves, wearing masks and carrying automatic pistols, fled with $150 in cash, four fur pieces and jewelry of undetermined value.

* * *

Levinson currently is under indictment for allegedly obtaining government insured loans illegally.

Birmingham Area News

Teachers' Salaries Over Norm

BIRMINGHAM—The average teacher's salary in the Birmingham School District now is some $591 above the average for the state.

Kenneth F. Nagley, director of personnel, reported that the local average has risen from $7,362 in 1964-65 to $7,591 this year.

The state average, he noted, is $7,000.

The figures were included in a statistical report on professional staff members which Nagley presented to the board of education this week.

Nagley also reported that the average salary of the total professional staff, including administrators, is $8,007.

* * *

He noted there are 12 vacancies yet to be filled, including four elementary and four secondary teaching positions.

OTHERS NEEDED

The system also is seeking a language arts coordinator, research coordinator, librarian and diagnostician.

One of Nagley's charts indicated that 40.8 per cent of the system's 840 professional members live in the district, which includes Birmingham, Bloomfield Hills, Franklin and Southfield addresses.

Last year, 44.5 per cent lived here.

"This decrease is a continuation of the trend that developed following the 1963-64 school year and may be attributed to the difficulty that the members of our staff are having in finding housing within the district," Nagley said.

MEDIAN EXPERIENCE

The teachers record median teaching experience in Birmingham at 3.21 years, with the mean at 4.69 years.

The median years of total teaching experience is 6.9, and the mean is 8.98.

Average age of the total Birmingham professional staff is 36.5 years, one-half year below the average last year.

* * *

The largest age group is that 25-29 years old, with 172 persons or 20.48 per cent of the total staff.

* * *

The personnel director also noted that 72 staff members will be reaching the compulsory retirement age of 65 within the next 10 years.

Expect OK to Move Ike to Capital

FT. GORDON, Ga. (AP) — Dwight D. Eisenhower's doctors are expected to give the green light today for the former president to be moved to Washington to complete the mending of his damaged heart.

With Army Surgeon Gen. Leonard Heaton helping with the arrangements, the physicians plan to disclose just when and how the 75-year-old general will be transferred to Walter Reed Army Hospital in the capital.

* * *

The doctors already have reported they are planning for Eisenhower to make the journey by train. But the timing has depended on the condition of the famous patient millions know as "Ike."

There was only one clue. Newsmen were told they would receive 24 hours notice before the move. That would make Saturday the earliest day for the transfer.

Eisenhower also has a tentative date with the press on Saturday — to have his picture taken for the first time since he entered the hospital 11 days ago.

And Eisenhower passed word through his aides that he intended to wear for the occasion a get-well gift, from the newsmen, photographers and technicians gathered here.

* * *

His wife, Mamie, presented him with the gift Thursday — a sky blue robe with the five-star circlet of his rank embroidered in white over his heart with the legend:

"Feeling great again."

Actor Tom Neal Found Guilty

May Get 10 Years for Slaying of Wife

INDIO, Calif. (AP) — Former actor Tom Neal, onetime Hollywood hero in low-budget movies, has been convicted of involuntary manslaughter in the shooting of his young, pretty wife.

Neal's conviction carries a possible sentence of up to 10 years in prison. It is also possible he could serve a minimum sentence in Riverside County Jail and be released in a year.

* * *

Judge Hilton McCabe referred the case to the probation department for an investigation and sentence recommendation to be returned Dec. 7. The court is not required to follow the recommendation.

During the four-week trial, the prosecution charged that Neal shot his estranged wife in the head while she slept.

CLAIMS ACCIDENT

But Neal, now 51 and graying, contended tearfully that Gail Neal, 29, was shot accidentally last April 1 after a "soul-baring" attempt at reconciliation.

The jury took two days to reach a verdict. Neal appeared near tears when it was announced Thursday night. Then he and his attorney, Leon Rosenberg appeared smiling and happy, spectators in this desert community said.

* * *

"We wanted acquittal, however," Rosenberg said. "We started this trial with presumption of guilt rather than innocence, so we had a long way to come. I thought the most likely verdict would be voluntary manslaughter."
