“BULLY”

Saturday – March 16, 2013

Noon—4:30 p.m.

Oakland Center, Gold Rooms

A critically acclaimed documentary film that explores the violence experienced by young people. The film tells the stories of several of these children and explores how we as a society should deal with bullying. Besides the viewing, the audience will also be able to participate in an active discussion with a panel of experts from the educational, legislative and medical fields who will focus on the gender and sexuality dimensions of bullying.
