

'Please Spare My Girl,' Dad Pleads

My daughter, who is 7 years old, is now back in school as usual. Yesterday she wore a dark blue dress and a white collar. She had on black shoes and wore blue gloves. Her cocker spaniel, whose name is Coot, sat on the front porch and whined his canine belief in the folly of education as she waved good-bye and started off to the hall of learning.

Tonight we talked about school.

She told me about the girl who sits in front of her, the girl with yellow curls, and the boy across the aisle who makes funny faces. She told me about her teacher, who has eyes in the back of her head, and the trees in the school yard, and about the big girl who doesn't believe in Santa Claus.

We talked about a lot of things—tremendously vital, unimportant things, and then we studied spelling, reading, arithmetic—and then to bed.

She's back there now—back in the nursery sound asleep, with "Princess Elizabeth" (that's her doll) cuddled in her right arm.

YOU GUYS WOULDN'T HURT HER, WOULD YOU?

You see, I'm her daddy.

When her doll is broken or her finger is cut or her head gets bumped, I can fix it—but when she starts to school, when she walks across the street, THEN SHE'S IN YOUR HANDS.

She's a nice kid.

She can run like a deer and dart about like a chipmunk. She likes to ride horses and swim and hike with me on Sunday afternoons. But I can't be with her all the time. I have to work to pay for her clothes and her education. So please help me look out for her. Please drive slowly past the schools and intersections—and please remember that children run from behind parked cars.

Please don't run over my little girl.

Waterford Loses Sewer Appeal

City's Ban on Connection Upheld

The Michigan Supreme Court yesterday upheld a lower court decision that a proposed shopping center at Elizabeth Lake and Telegraph Roads in Waterford Township cannot connect to Pontiac's sewer system.

Pontiac City Attorney William A. Ewart told The Press he received this information this morning from the clerk of the high court. He said that he had not read the opinion.

On Nov. 9, 1955, former Port Huron Circuit Judge Eugene F. Black, now a member of the high tribunal, ruled that the shopping center was violating a 1935 agreement between Pontiac and Waterford Township by linking to the city's sewers.

Pontiac filed a suit in August of last year claiming the violation. Judge Black heard the case October 24 through 26 before handing down his decision.

The city claimed all plans constituting an enlargement, expansion or addition to the city system must be approved by the City Commission and said approval was not given in the disputed instance.

In November of last year, soon after Judge Black's ruling, Waterford Township Attorney John W. Bell appealed the decision.

Waterford alleged the line was not an enlargement, but a connection legal under the contract.

One supermarket in the $2,500,000 center was allowed by Judge Black to hook up with the sewer system pending the outcome of the appeal.

Ewart said today the 1935 agreement would have to be re-written and the temporary hookup by the store terminated.

City Manager W. K. Willman expressed delight with the decision and said he "foresees that the 1935 agreement would have to be re-written in after the commission has time to study the opinion."

Comedy Fare for Travelers

Pitfalls of Success Theme of Top Train Trip Shows

Temptation in a humorous vein is an aftermath of success, whether it hits a baseball team or a matinee idol, in two of the Broadway shows which riders on The Pontiac Press Theater Special will see during their trip to New York City next week.

In one, "Damn Yankees," a rabid fan of the Washington Senators options his soul to the Devil to win a pennant for his team—the other, "Will Success Spoil Rock Hunter?" tells the story of a young man and his struggle against succumbing to the charms of glamour girl Jayne Mansfield.

Both of the shows have been acclaimed by critics as two of the 1956 season's best.

"Damn Yankees," which train members will see at the 46th Street Theater next Thursday, portrays dancer Gwen Verdon in the role of the temptress who dazzles the Senators' pitching star, Stephen Douglas.

Directed by George Abbott, the show features such top musical hits as "Whatever Lola Wants," "Heart," "Two Lost Souls," and "Near to You."

Orson Bean, in the title role of "Will Success Spoil Rock Hunter?" has the struggle of his newly successful career when he is confronted with the come-hither look of blonde Jayne Mansfield (40-21-35%).

The last play train-travelers will see, the show will appear Friday night at the Shubert Theater. It will be climaxed by another excursion highlight, an after-theater party at Leoni's Restaurant where Pontiac's "Junketing 100" will meet some of the stars who have appeared in the week's plays.

Death Hits Dad, Nixon at Bedside

77-Year-Old Grocer Loses 2-Week Struggle; Arranged Own Funeral

WHITTIER, Calif. (AP)—Frank A. Nixon has lost his long fight to vote once more for his son, Vice President Richard Nixon.

Death came quietly last night to the 77-year-old former grocer. He struggled nearly two weeks against a combination of crucial ailments, and then, realizing the end was near, calmly arranged his own funeral service.

Earlier he had hoped to vote again. "I'm going to make it," he told his physician last week. "I want to be around to vote in November."

The vice president, his two brothers, Edward and F. Donald, and their mother, Mrs. Hannah Nixon, 71, were at the elder Nixon's side when he died. Mrs. Nixon held his hand until the end.

Dr. I. N. Kraushaar said a pulmonary congestion was the immediate cause of death. Ill since a stomach ulcer hemorrhaged in July, he became critical Aug. 22, when an abdominal artery ruptured. His physical stamina amazed his physician.

"He's a tough member of a tough generation," Dr. Kraushaar said.

The vice president took his father's death "pretty badly," friends said. He remained in seclusion in the big, two-story home in nearby La Habra.

He made no immediate announcement of his plans for tomorrow, when he is scheduled to speak before the American Legion Convention in Los Angeles.

Dr. Kraushaar said the elder Nixon told his oldest son earlier "to go ahead with his obligated plans for today and Friday."

The vice president canceled plans for today and Friday. But made no disclosure of the program for tomorrow.

The vice president's father arranged the funeral service with an oldtime friend, Dr. George Jenkins, who will officiate. The service will be held at 2 p.m. PDT Friday in the family's church, the East Whittier Friends Church.

A Disappointing Month

Cool Days, Extra Rain in August

August was a disappointing month to many, as 5.34 inches of rain poured down on the Pontiac area.

The normal amount of rain is 2.62 inches for the month. Many streets were flooded as Wires and trees were struck down by frequent thunderbolts on the city's west side on Aug. 30 in a severe electrical storm.

Last year while residents were sweating out 90 degree temperatures 10 of the 31 days in the month, they received 2.36 inches of rain.

This year the mercury reached 90 degrees on only two days, the 16th and the 17th, and last year's total rainfall was more than doubled. The average high temperature for the month was 80 degrees. The low averaged 61 degrees.

Extra Vacations Set for Two Schools

There will be extra-long vacations for students who will attend the new Linda Vista and Cora Bailey Elementary Schools this fall.

Pupils will enroll and start classes Monday at the Linda Vista School, officials announced. The delay is to finish up the drinking water system, they said.

Kindergartners and first graders at Cora Bailey School will enroll and start classes on Sept. 17. Construction of classrooms is still being completed, officials said. The first and second grades will meet at the school tomorrow morning to be taken by bus to Wines School for enrollment and temporary classes.

Order Examination for William Wyatts

Oakland County Probate Judge Arthur E. Moore today ordered psychiatric examinations of Mr. and Mrs. William Wyatts of Keego Harbor to determine whether they are fit to raise their 12 children.

A juvenile court hearing to assign custody of the children was postponed for a week pending the examinations.

The couple face criminal charges of neglect and cruelty. Pre-trial examination is set for Sept. 11.

Ten of the 12 children were found by neighbors alone in the house Aug. 23. Two had run away, and one, seven-year-old Sherry, was tied to her bed and will require two years of surgical treatment to restore use of her severely burned right hand.

Integration Tensions High

By INS

Tension over the integration of Negro and white students in public schools ran high last night in Tennessee, Texas and Maryland with national guardsmen, state troopers and police on the scene to preserve law and order.

Most of the high schools where integration was ordered, in compliance with the United States Supreme Court's decision banning school segregation, were half empty when the opening bell rang.

The main disturbance was centered at Clinton in the Cumberland Mountain region of Tennessee north of Knoxville.

At Clinton armed mobs terrorized the town for several days when Negro students prepared to enroll in the high school, and Gov. Frank Clement was forced to call out the National Guard to restore order.

PATROLS OUT

Escorted by tanks, the guardsmen patrolled the streets of Clinton and other Anderson County towns last night. Outwardly Clinton remained calm, but authorities were prepared for possible outbreaks of violence.

Earlier in the day nine of the 12 Negro students enrolled actually entered the school under the protection of the guardsmen.

In Texas, schools where integration had been ordered opened at Mansfield in Tarrant County and at Alvarado in Johnson County, both south of Fort Worth. Crowds gathered at the schools, but no Negro students applied for admission. Here Texas rangers were on the scene to keep order.

Parking Meter Time Extended

Street Spaces to Cost Until 9 P. M. Now, Instead of 6 P. M.

The Pontiac City Commission adopted a new ordinance last night making the new hours for 400 on-street parking meters 8 a. m. until 9 p. m.

City Manager W. K. Willman explained the move was to provide for more turnover at night in the use of the metered stalls and to provide additional finances. He estimated the new hours might add $30,000 yearly.

Prior to enactment of the law, metered time terminated at 6 p. m. "This will bring the street meter in line with municipal parking lot times," Willman said.

He said the money would be put in the municipal parking lot fund to "meet the requirement of the revenue bond act."

Signs will soon be attached to the meters reminding motorists of the new times, Willman told the commissioners.

The additional three-hour law becomes effective Sept. 14 and excludes Sundays and seven legal holidays.

No Major Clues on Kidnaping

Four-Day Search Fails to Give Trace of 6-Week Infant Ruotolo

HAMDEN, Conn. (INS) — No trace of six-week-old Cynthia Ruotolo or her kidnaper was evident today despite a relentless four-day search by the FBI and State and local police.

Reporters still were unable to penetrate the uncompromising news blackout lowered by the FBI, but police conceded privately no major clues had been uncovered in a methodical rundown of "hundreds of reports."

Police continued, however, to express optimism that the baby will be found unharmed despite the absence of leads and the growing interval since her abduction last Saturday from her carriage in a Hamden store lobby.

In the absence of a ransom note most investigators clung to the personal conviction that the kidnaper is a love-hungry woman who would be inclined to lavish care upon the child.

Police also scotched a new rumor that the abductor might be a man instead of the stocky dark-complexioned woman originally sought for the crime.

"The best lead," said Abraham S. Ullman, state attorney for New Haven County, "is still the dark-haired woman."

Racial Integration Tension Still High

quest by the Mansfield School Board that a federal court order requiring immediate school integration be stayed.

High racial tension also prevailed at Fort Worth where Negro students were reported preparing to enroll in all-white schools, claiming that Negro schools in the vicinity did not offer equal facilities.

TENSE FEELING also has been mounting in Fort Worth since a Negro family moved into a home in an all-white neighborhood and resisted all efforts by a howling mob to dislodge them.

The head of the family, Lloyd G. Austin, who said he bought the home for $8,000, fired a rifle shot over the crowd last Sunday night when a mob hanged an effigy from a tree in his front yard, but no one was injured.

In Maryland, too, an angry crowd gathered at the high school in Poolesville where 14 Negro students were admitted for the first time. No violence occurred, but school authorities reported that attendance was down 50 per cent. Police were on the scene.

It was the only incident in Montgomery County where integration went into effect at four schools for the first time.

VIOLENCE SPREADS
The violence at Clinton, Tenn., spread to other nearby towns and sent National Guardsmen scurrying to Oliver Springs and Dayton.

At Oliver Springs, a white man was shot Monday by a Negro who had been surrounded by a shotgun-armed mob. Guardsmen broke up the mob and arrested 15 men who refused to leave.

At Dayton five men were charged with attacking two National Guardsmen whom they believed were en route to Clinton for patrol duty.

Principal D. J. Brittain of the Clinton High School announced that about 75 per cent of the school's enrollment of 806 did not report to-day. He said that some of the pupils had been "threatened and intimidated."

Farmington Youngster Is Struck by Auto

A Farmington child suffered a fractured right leg and lacerations when he was struck down by a car in front of his home at 33023 Thomas Street Tuesday afternoon.

Timothy Hatch, 4, was in good condition at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital today. He was taken there yesterday after he was struck by a vehicle operated by Mrs. Ruth J. May, 39, of 23094 Warner St., Farmington.

Mrs. May told investigating Farmington police she was driving slowly out of the driveway of a nearby residence when the Hatch boy darted out into the path of her car from between some parked cars.

I REMEMBER LLAMA — Getting a step ahead of the shaggy dog story, three-year-old Christine Bayford renews her acquaintance with a woolly llama in the pet's corner of the London Zoo. Although Christine was not adverse to necking in public, the lofty llama seems to have nothing but disdain for the whole procedure.

Waterford Mother Thanks Those Who Sought Dog

Recently The Press published a story about a little boy, and his lost dog, Piason. Most lost dogs are handled in the lost and found classified columns, but this one was an exception.

Little Johnny Matas, 4, was losing weight in mourning for his lost canine pal, a 100-pound black German shepherd. But now Johnny, the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Matas of 1175 Jay Rd., Waterford Township has switched his attention to a new cocker spaniel. Here is a letter from Mrs. Matas:

I want to thank all the wonderful people that took their own time and trouble to help me locate Piason, my little boy's dog. The Press published an article on the lost dog and the response was tremendous. Unfortunately when we did find out what happened to the dog, it wasn't good news. We were informed that a "neighbor" shot the dog and buried him without ever letting us know. I want to say to this person that you should get on your knees and pray to God for help. If you had any complaint, all you had to do was come to my husband or myself and it would have been taken care of.

My little boy wants to know "if it hurt when you shot him." You answer that for me, as I can't. The law protects you in what you have done, but the Lord will punish you.

Please, all you dog lovers, keep your dogs at home. Call the prosecutor's office and find out how the law reads about dogs running at large. It should be amended, as it does not protect the dog or dog owner.

Thanks again to The Press, and all of you wonderful people that helped.

Mrs. John Matas

Four Persons Injured in 2-Car Collision

Four persons were slightly injured in a two-car collision yesterday afternoon at the corner of Joslyn avenue and Lowell street, Pontiac police said.

All were released after treatment at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital. Injured were Norma H. Head, 20, of 23 Midland Rd. and her passengers, Vern Hartung, 62, of the same address and Gaetano Tunisi, 67, of 31 School St., and the other driver, Lucy Wilson, 35, of 650 Franklin road.

The cars collided at right angles, forcing Miss Head's auto into a stop sign, police said.

Fuse Box Cash Cache Looted in City Bar

About $100, hidden in a fuse box, was reported stolen Monday night from a tavern at 30 S. Saginaw St., Pontiac police said.

Glass in a rear door was broken to gain entry, police said, and the basement door forced open to reach the fuse box on the lower stairs. The owner, Leo Gabriel, of Rochester also reported some keys were taken from the upstairs cash register, which was unlocked, police added.

Hazel Park Teacher Awaits Court Hearing

Miss Marveta Hine, 51, a Hazel Park teacher who drew full pay last year but was not allowed to teach any classes, reported for work yesterday and was told her status is unchanged.

Miss Hine, who drew $5,900 last year and will get $6,200 this year, is called "unfit" to teach by school superintendent George R. Robinson. But Robinson says her contract prevents the school board firing her.

Oakland County Circuit Judge Frank L. Doty has set a Sept. 18 hearing date on an injunctive suit filed by Miss Hine to prevent a mental and physical examination she has been asked to take.

According to Robinson, the school board obtained a court order for the examination, which would open the way for consideration of the case by the State Tenure Board.

Circuit Judges to Meet

DETROIT — The annual meeting of Michigan circuit judges will be held Thursday in suburban Dearborn.

Marilyn Lonely, 'Not Pregnant,' Claims Friend

LONDON — A close friend of Marilyn Monroe said today a gynecologist had called on the blonde American film star, but he added, "she is certainly not pregnant."

"She has definitely let her studio understand she's not expecting a baby," the friend said.

Miss Monroe has been away from her film studios five days. She is making a picture with Sir Laurence Olivier called "The Sleeping Prince." The tabloid Daily Sketch earlier reported the visit of the gynecologist and speculated the actress might be expecting.

"I think Marilyn is going to be a lot better when she sees her husband again," said the friend.

The actress' husband, playwright Arthur Miller, yesterday cut short a visit in the United States to fly back to Britain.

"Marilyn telephoned him," said her friend. "She misses him that much, and Arthur thought it best to get back over here."

Detroit Hassles on Fluoridation

Water Board Releases Discouraging Report on Use of Fluorides

DETROIT — The Detroit Board of Water Commissioners is against fluoridation of the Motor City's water supply as a possible means of preventing tooth decay.

The four-member board told City Council yesterday: "We cannot recommend the addition of fluorides to the water system." It said there have been conflicting reports on both effectiveness and possible danger to health.

Council advocates of fluoridation immediately charged the board was "out of order."

Councilman Edward Connor said the board was asked to check on two questions only: Could the fluoridation system be handled from an engineering standpoint, and what would be the financial outlay required to install and operate.

The board's report, prepared by Gerald Remus, water department general manager, said there were conflicting reports on possible danger to health from fluoridation.

Dr. Joseph G. Molner, city health commissioner, said he had not seen the report but believes the addition of fluorides to a water supply can be made with no danger to health.

Councilwoman Mary V. Beck said of the board's report: "It is not their place to give a recommendation on the health and safety aspects of the program. That is a policy decision that will be made by council."

The board estimated it would cost between 11 and 13 cents a year per consumer to fluoridate the water system, depending upon whether a powder or liquid additive was used. It estimated equipment would cost $125,000 to $500,000, again depending upon what method was used.

Grand Rapids was the first sizeable American city to fluoridate its water supply. Others have followed in recent years.

Fluoridation has been endorsed by the American Medical Assn., The American Dental Assn., and, in the past, by the Wayne (Detroit) County Medical Society, the Detroit Board of Health and the Detroit District Dental Assn. It also has been endorsed by the U.S. Public Health Service.

Peak Number of Jobs Hits 66,800,000 Level

WASHINGTON — The government is expected to announce, probably next Monday, that during August the number of Americans holding jobs rose to a record 66,800,000 while the total unemployed dipped by several hundred thousand to the lowest point in nearly a year.

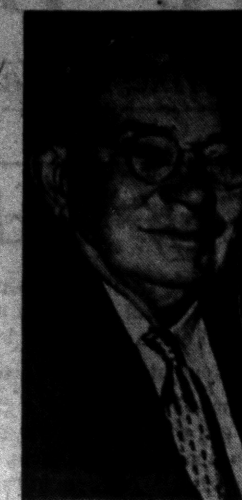

Secretary of Labor Mitchell reported to President Eisenhower yesterday that employment would reach 66,800,000 for August. This would be 149,000 more than the peak of 66,650,000 reached in July.

It would be the third straight month in which a record has been set and the third month in history in which employment has topped 66 million. The first time came in June when there were 66,503,000 jobholders.

One source said the number of jobless declined more than seasonally in August from the July total of 2,833,000. He predicted the drop would be "a few hundred thousand."

A decline of close to half a million would make the number of unemployed the lowest since last October when there were 2,151,000 persons out of work, the lowest total for 1955.

The number rose last November to 2,398,000 and it was indicated the August total will be below that.

The city manager's job here will continue to include personnel and public relations duties, according to Schone.

Dr. Brownell Starts in Detroit Schools

DETROIT — Dr. Samuel N. Brownell and some 280,000 other folks got started in the Detroit public school system yesterday.

Brownell, a brother of U.S. Atty. Gen. Herbert Brownell, took over as superintendent, succeeding Arthur Donineau, who retired.

The 280,000-pupil registration was a record. Among the 13,000 teachers required were 950 new ones.

Detroit area Roman Catholic schools were scheduled to open tomorrow with an anticipated record enrollment of 163,000 pupils.

Sale of Lots for Industry Culminates City Talks

BIRMINGHAM — Sale of two Lincoln and Commerce lots to two industries last night followed several week's discussion of the growing manufacturing section at the south of Birmingham.

No restrictions were placed on the sale, and commissioners told residents present, objecting to loud noises from factory work "we have ordinances to take care of that."

The sale of the lots to bidders, from R. E. Dalley Co. of $18,000 for parcel 6 and from Steel Door Corp. of $25,000 for parcel 5. Their bids were taken from the table after several weeks when representatives of both firms asked a decision.

They had both advised city officials that the property would not be readily acceptable in event restrictions would be placed against the property.

L. R. Gare, director of public works, told the commission he and Mrs. Florence Willett, a commissioner, had joined representatives of the property owners association at the plant of the Steel Door Corp. where he believed there was agreement that noise had been abated due to work done by the company.

R. E. Dalley told the officials, "We have no intention of violating any of the ordinances concerning zoning on the present or future use of this property."

"We feel that the property would not be readily accepted by mortgage companies in the event of restrictions," he said.

His firm plans an addition of about 20,000 square feet to Birmingham Plastics Company.

City Manager Harold Schone was named to take D. C. Egbert's place on the North Evergreen Sewage Disposal Authority at the commission meeting last night.

The city commission agreed to hear an analysis of their traffic activities on Tuesday at 2:30 p. m. in the municipal building. Sgt. Michael Sibbel of the Detroit Michigan State Police post will give the details.

State officials, who will be represented, are a part of the Michigan State Safety Commission which has studied last year's inventory of the city's traffic control measures.

The city picked up the option to purchase land for the alley for parking lot No. 4 and deferred one week the option for buying a part of lot 43, A. P. 21.

Also deferred one week was the sale of the well-site lots on the former Peabody farm, until a new appraisal can be obtained.

Go-ahead to the state highway department for construction of the Hamilton Crossover and the Oak Street Extension, both at Hunter Boulevard, was given as the city advanced funds.

Also, progress was marked as sewer bids were given for the Parking Lots 3-A and HH.

A school crossing guard is to be placed at Hunter and Oakland, for which funds were approved last night.

The Board of Education will meet in special session tomorrow at 8 p. m. to accept bids on the Valley Woods Elementary School. Also on the agenda are receiving of bids for the drilling of a well and the faculty, with no classrooms left for additional teachers.

Cox said the average size of classes at the other schools will be about 30.

There are 60 new teaching positions this year, he said, bringing the total public school faculty up to 717. Many of the new teachers hired this fall are specialists, such as visiting teachers and orthopedic experts, he said.

ELEMENTARY INCREASE
Most of the increase in the school population is on the elementary level, Cox said, and there are three new schools to provide classrooms.

Delays in their opening, however, will result in some temporary measures he said. The pupils affected are those who attend the Linda Vista, Cora Bailey and Walton Boulevard Schools.

First graders will have an extra day off Friday, Cox said, when first grade teachers meet for a reading conference. They will resume classes at the regular time Monday.

Kindergartners will attend one and a half hour long sessions next week and then go on the full half-day schedule.

In addition to postponed classes at the Cora Bailey and Linda Vista Schools, the school system will have these temporary measures this fall:

Pupils slated to attend the Walton Boulevard School will have bus transportation to temporary classes at other schools until the new building opens; six classes at Crofoot School will attend half-day sessions until new classrooms are completed there; and two elementary classes at Whittier School will be transported by bus to McCann School all semester.

Exceptions Can Strengthen Rules

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

Ralph's bedtime came at the same time as the climax of the TV movie he was watching.

It was about a little boy pioneering West in a wagon train. He greatly admired its chief scout. But as the scout was rumored to be a notorious bandit, the little boy's pretty sister strongly disapproved of him.

She was telling him to stop corrupting her little brother with gun lessons when an arrow struck the tree beside her—and warwhooping Indians burst down the hill to begin their circling massacre of the wagon train.

"Bedtime, son," called Ralph's mother from upstairs.

Agonized for the scout and little boy, Ralph pretended not to hear. But his older sister who wanted his place on the sofa gave him a push, saying, "Go on. You heard Mother."

FATHER JOINS IN

Desperately returning her shove, he shouted, "Leave me alone!"

This attracted the attention of his father who looked up from his paper and said, "That'll do. Do as you're told. Go up to bed."

Weeping with rage, Ralph went. In the upstairs hall, he pushed so violently past his mother that she turned to stare after him. Then she followed him.

At the door of his room, she said, "If you're allowed to stay up for the end of this movie, you must not expect to stay up for the ends of other movies."

Ralph said he wouldn't. She said, "Come downstairs with me and say to Daddy, 'If you let me finish seeing this movie, I'll remember it was just for this time.'"

Ralph obeyed with such gratitude that he stopped fussing about bedtime for some days.

MAKE EXCEPTIONS

The rules by which we control children are only as good as their exceptions.

The problem is, we don't have the moral certainty that it's right to break a rule. So when we're asked to break one, we get upset, not daring to say "No" lest we be unfair; not daring to say "Yes" lest the favor be abused.

We can make sure that it won't be abused if we ask Ralph to say, "Yes, I understand that this is a special privilege."

Once he's committed to this, we have all the moral certainty we need to feel happy about granting it to him. For we have encouraged, not the disobedience we fear but the responsibility we want.

In Ralph's joy over his special bedtime is a new acceptance of ordinary bedtime. Making an exception to the rule wins better respect for the rule itself.

Horse Shows Occupy Spotlight in Hills

By DOROTHY JEAN EACK

BLOOMFIELD HILLS — Horse shows, back-to-school excursions, and season's end parties highlighted the week's news here.

"Triple Shot" and "Country Gentlemen," two of Mrs. Graham John Graham's horses, will be going along when that resident of the Hills travels to Gates Mills Horse Show near Cleveland, Ohio, in two weeks.

They showed signs of good form this weekend when Mrs. Graham and many other horse enthusiasts spent the weekend at Metamora. Her section of the Metamora Hunt Club stables has three new blue ribbons.

Also back from a Metamora weekend are the James H. Beresfords of Lone Pine drive. They returned home from their farm, Tyrore, Monday night, to make plans for fall events, including Dan Beresford's leaving for Providence, R.I., for Brown University studies.

His grandparents, the W. E. Beresfords, and the Edwin Beresfords returned Friday night to their Goodhue road and Cottontail lane homes, respectively.

They had vacationed for two weeks at Lost Lake Woods Club near Alpena, where golfing was main sport for the father and son.

SCHOOL DAYS AGAIN

The Everell Fishers of Lone Pine road are readying their sons for school days again. Mr. Fisher will accompany son Peter Saturday to New York where he'll start as a freshman at LaSalle Military Academy at Oakdale, L. I.

Going away for his second year, on the following Sunday, Ev Jr. goes to Phelps School at Melbourne, Pa. Mike Girard, son of the A. C. Girards of North Woodward avenue, will be going too.

Slight rivalry arose when the Saturday Junior Equestrian Show at Bloomfield Open Hunt Club was for watchers of the jumping events with the Metamora Horse Show.

A Monday afternoon entertainment at the J. P. Moses home opposite the Hunt Club was a climax to the busy weekend.

Forecasting an annual fall event, the Denin Dance, Mrs. James Q. Goudie will entertain at luncheon at her North Woodward avenue home, Thursday.

The Oct. 6 event will benefit the St. Joseph Mercy Hospital Clinic, a favorite spot for funds being earned by the dance's sponsoring group, the Women's Auxiliary of the hospital.

A well known orchestra has been signed for the dance at the Hunt Club, Mrs. Goudie reports.

GOING TO JAPAN

Looking forward to joining her husband in Yakushka, Japan, is Mrs. Bruce Douglas, who is spending the interim with her in-laws, the Benjamin Douglases of Squirrel road, and her parents, the John Zerfases of Eaton Rapids.

She and their baby flew back to Eaton Rapids two weeks ago after Ensign Douglas left for Japan. He will be assistant director of construction at the naval base there.

A graduate of Avondale High School and University of Michigan Engineering School, he took officer's training in Newport, R.I., last year.

Two sets of parents attended his graduation Aug. 17 from a naval course in civil engineering in California.

New to the family is son Peter Douglas, born at Oxnard, Calif., in the Naval Base Hospital Aug. 9.

Add Curry to Soup

Here's an easy and unusual way to add a bit of curry to a meal. To one can condensed beef broth add one can tomato soup and one can of water. Blend 1/2 teaspoon curry powder in 1/4 cup water and stir into soup. Let simmer on the top burner of your gas range. Serve hot.

Any meal will be more appetizing if members of the family feel relaxed and cheerful when they sit down to the table. That's why a wise homemaker plans to take a warm bath before starting to prepare dinner—and tries to arrange the meal schedule so that her husband can have time for a relaxing warm tub bath when he comes home from work.

Anne Williams Repeats Her Vows in Birmingham

BIRMINGHAM — A bridal veil made in Brussels for her maternal grandmother's wedding felt the full length of Anne Loring Williams' gown as she walked to the St. James Episcopal Church altar to speak vows with Gilbert Aubrey Bogley Saturday.

The cathedral-length veil was fastened to a small cap and accented the Italian silk tulle gown of princess style.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Wright Williams of Hawthorne road, and her bridegroom, also a Birmingham resident, is son of the late Roland A. Bogley of Washington, D. C., and Mrs. Fred L. Houck of Warren, Ohio.

The double-ring rite was solemnized by the Rev. Harold E. Towne before about 100 guests. A reception at Orchard Lake Country Club followed the ceremony.

The bride's honor attendant was her sister, Mrs. Chandler E. Swallow Jr. of Arlington, Va., who wore a tulle ballerina gown of changeable blue-green. It was fashioned with a portrait neckline, three-quarter sleeves, and a draped bustle giving unusual back interest.

Her bouquet was of shattered white chrysanthemums, pink carnations and ivy, and she wore an ivory headress.

BRIDAL FLOWERS

The bride's flowers were Fuji chrysanthemums, ivy and white orchids, formed into a crescent bouquet.

Her niece, Anne Carpenter Swallow, as flower girl, wore a pale blue dress in fine glazed cotton and carried pink roses.

Best man was James H. Selbert of Somerville, N. J., and ushers were Gardner S. Williams, the bride's brother, and John M. Frizer, both of Birmingham, and LCDR Chandler E. Swallow Jr. of Arlington, Va.

Deep red paint is becoming popular for house color. It's a good idea before deciding on red or another color to size up the surrounding houses and make sure that it will not clash with colors used on neighboring homes. Ask yourself also, whether "barn red" will suit the architecture of your house.

Higgins, White Lose Arguments

BOSTON (U)—Boston Red Sox catcher Sammy White has been fined $50 and Manager Mike Higgins has lost his protest of the celebrated ball-throwing incident last week against Detroit.

Higgins played the game under protest after White, enraged at a call by the umpire, threw the ball into centerfield in disgust.

While the argument continued and the arbiter tossed White out of the contest Tiger runner Red Wilson came all the way around from first to score. Higgins argued time was out the instant White was heaved.

East Detroit Favored to Win '56 Crown

Birmingham Seen Relinquishing EML Grid Title

This is the first of a series of articles dealing with area high school football league prospects. Tomorrow we start the story in the Oakland-B league.

It took Birmingham 10 long years to win the Eastern Michigan League football title, won in 1955, but now the 1-year reign of the Maples appears at an end as another title hungry school, East Detroit, makes its strongest bid for the crown.

Despite three key losses due to summer injuries, the Shamrocks of coach Alva Asbury are solid favorites to annex their first title since joining the EML in 1946.

"We've finished second so much, it's beginning to look like a habit," said Asbury.

The Shamrocks had the entire starting backfield returning among the 19 lettermen until two days before the opening of practice when regular quarterback Jim Balkwill suffered a baseball injury and is now considered lost for the season.

Center Bill Mariette is also out indefinitely after an operation and prospect Ron Eberick was lost with a hip fracture. End Gary Ballman has made the switch to quarterback.

Defending champ Birmingham under coach Carl Lemle has lost 23 lettermen including the entire starting backfield.

A couple transfers will help six returnees among whom is speedster Tony Evangelista—a 155-pound senior who is one of the fastest backs in the circuit.

Dale Burrows, understudy to Bill Swaney last year, is at quarterback with returning guard and captain Jim Fry and 6-3 end Bob Isbell in line posts.

Mike Nordstrom, who played behind all-state Darrell Harper at Royal Oak last season, and Dick Miller a 190-pound center from Boston are transfers on the team.

Port Huron will give East Detroit a rough time for the title. The Big Red of coach Bob Hayes are well stocked with 14 lettermen including quarterback Rich Robbin, a 6-2, 185-pound senior, and Ken Martin a 210-pounder now moving from end to fullback.

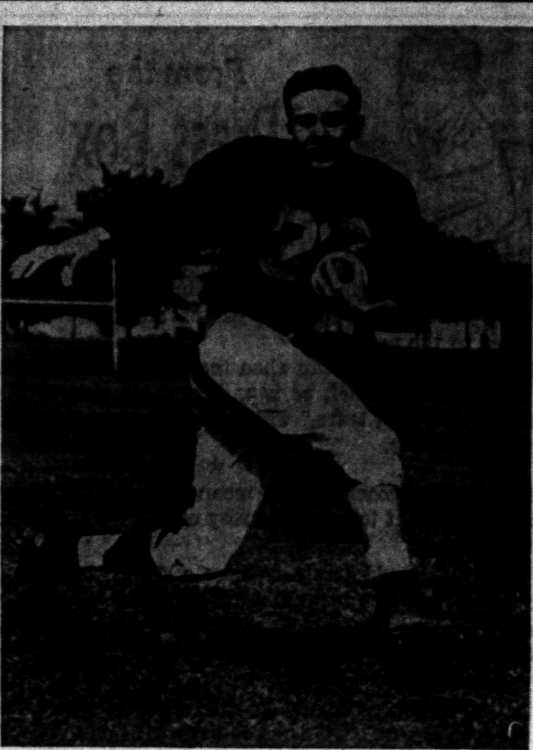

Ferdale expects a better season with three of its speedy backs, Larry Brown, Larry Wepling and Dick Sherwood returning.

End Ken Schultz is most likely candidate at quarterback with tackles Jim Sance and Dick Wyatt leading the line attack.

Hazel Park and Mt. Clemens start the season with new coaches. Chuck Skinner figures lack of size but a little more speed for the Parkers and Bill Mowry is presently changing the Parkers' system from the T to the Wing with 12 lettermen available.

Newest addition to the EML is Royal Oak's new Kimball High School which will start competition in athletics next spring.

Asbury has another reason for wanting the title this year. He figures this will be his last season as head coach at East Detroit.

PLENTY OF SPEED — Birmingham will have one of the fastest backs in the EML with letterman Tony Evangelista, a 155 pound senior, who lettered last year. All of the four regulars of the starting Maple backfield are gone.

Nightmare Football Race Seen in Missouri Valley

The football title chase in the far-flung Missouri Valley Conference promises to be an odds-maker's nightmare this fall with Detroit, Wichita and Houston running shoulder-to-shoulder.

Wichita and Detroit divided the championship in last year's confusing race. Only Tulsa's upset of Houston prevented a three-way tie. Coaches, normally gloomy fellows, predict improvement at all three schools.

But the top trio will be running scared. Both ambitious Tulsa and Oklahoma A&M, stocked with fleet sophomores, are given a chance to emerge on top.

Wichita Coach Pete Tillman, a former Oklahoma center, says: "I think we have as good a chance as anyone to win the Valley title but this will be the conference's best year and anyone can win it. The Valley winner definitely will be a team that deserves national ranking."

Detroit's silver-haired Wally Fromhart, 43-year-old former Notre Dame quarterback voted Valley coach of the year last season, said he's counting on quarterback Steve Piskach, an ex-Marine, to give Detroit the accurate forward passing it lacked in 1955. The biggest problem is rebuilding the line from tackle to tackle. He admits the Titans are strong at end. Bill Meek of Houston, the former Tennessee blocking back who rebuilt Kansas State football, predicts the Cougar offense will be improved.

"We have bigger, faster backs and may play a more wide-open game," he said. "Our passing should be improved. Don Flynn was throwing the ball all over the lot in the spring."

The Valley, now in its 50th year and stretching from the Gulf of Mexico to the Canadian border, has a lot of good veterans and highly rated sophomores on the rosters.

BACK AT END — Bob Isbell, 6-3 senior, is one of six lettermen coach Carl Lemle has on hand at Birmingham as the Maples try to defend their EML title they won last year for the first time in 10 years.

Senators Recall Two

WASHINGTON (U)—The Washington Senators today recalled 2 players from the minors for duty this season.

Harmon Killebrew, Charlotte third baseman, will report to the parent club this weekend in New York. Lyle Luttrell, Chattanooga shortstop, will join the Senators at Detroit Sept. 11.

Tough for Amateurs

Tourney Site Toughened

CHICAGO (U)—Months of a toughening-up process have left the Knollwood Club course a severe, exacting test for the 56th National Amateur golf tournament starting Monday.

In fact, the 6,750-yard circuit, carrying a par 35-38-71, is so demanding, as of now, that the U.S. Golf Assn. should be prepared to receive a number of beads from players who think the course is rigged unfairly.

But such beads—if they be forthcoming—would be nothing new to the USGA and Executive Director Joseph C. Dey Jr. It is their business to suggest how a course can be toughened for USGA title play. And they do an excellent job.

Knollwood's rough has been allowed to grow. With an unusual amount of rain recently, it has become a thickly matted nightmare of grass. The USGA, following usual procedure, may order some barbering work before tourney time.

As it stands now, the rough is so deep and shaggy that a player will have difficulty finding his ball, let alone playing it out. Using a No. 4 or 5 wood would be mere folly from most parts of the rough. A No. 9 or 8 iron, or wedge, may be required to dig the ball out.

The rough has been allowed to encroach upon the fairways, narrowing them to 33-38 yards in width on most holes. And the thick grass also makes a frightening

Doctoring Your Golf Game

By DR. CARY MIDDLECOFF
PATIENT'S COMPLAINT: No clubhead speed

DIAGNOSIS: Relaxed left arm
TREATMENT: When I am hitting the ball real well I feel the left arm in full control of the swing—back, down, and through the ball. I feel particularly its firmness as the swing reaches the hitting area, about 14 inches from the ball with the wooden clubs and about a foot from the ball with the medium irons.

The sketch illustrates what I mean—what the left arm does. You've got to feel the arm pulling through, leading the way. To get that feeling the left arm must be straight at impact, as you see in the sketch. It's the answer to club-head speed.

Get into this hitting position by pulling down from the top of the swing with the left arm—as straight down a pull as you can make—and you'll shift the weight automatically to the left leg against a braced left side.

The right side, you notice, is already relaxed and following into the shot readily and smoothly. No tightness whatever. The body is unwinding—the left hip is moving out of the way to allow the arms to swing through and out after the ball.

Power comes from staying with the shot—following through low to a full extension of the arms, which I'll explain in the next article.

Germany to Buy Arms From U.S.

$1.5 Billion Contract Over 4-Year Period Expected Soon

BONN, Germany (U-P)—West Germany plans to buy 1½ billion dollars' worth of arms from the United States, Defense Ministry officials said today. The first order valued at $5½ million will be placed shortly.

The purchases will be spaced over a 4-year period ending in 1960. Substantial arms purchases in Britain also are being considered.

These weapons will supplement the $33 million dollars worth of heavy equipment the United States has promised to supply free to Germany's new armed forces.

The U. S. government will place the orders with American firms. West Germany will pay cash.

The arms purchases in the United States are expected to include large numbers of day fighters, fighter-bombers and reconnaissance planes.

The United States also may receive substantial orders for telecommunications and electronics equipment, ammunition and tanks.

Ecuador will have a $1,500,000 tire factory in Cuenca, with American capital involved.

Richard Widmark to Play the Dauphin in 'St. Joan'

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS
HOLLYWOOD (INS) — The first casting in George Bernard Shaw's "St. Joan" goes to Richard Widmark who plays the Dauphin. Richard, flanked by his attorney, planned to meet Otto Preminger who flew in that very day to complete the deal.

I last saw Otto in London where he told me of his plan to choose an unknown to star in "St. Joan." He'll send scouts to 15 U. S. cities and five European towns to find his Maid of Orleans. I'm betting an actress wins.

Incidentally, this is the first time this Shaw play has been put on the screen although we have had many versions of Joan of Arc.

Just full of the lure of the South Seas, his mother's home, Jon Hall returned a few days ago with 30,000 feet of film. "I took it in color for 'Trader's Bay,'" he told me. He also told me that Paul Giamatti is also wanted by gin's son is married to a native woman, has five children and makes his living as a fisherman in Tahiti.

Gauguin, the artist who was immortalized in Somerset Maugham's "The Moon and Sixpence," married a native woman after he left his wife and children and fled to Tahiti.

Jon says he plans to go to the South Seas once a year. I asked him if he and Linda Danson, who went with him to Tahiti as his lead lady, are marrying. "We are waiting to know each other better," he replied.

CALLS FOR AUDREY

Cables and long-distance calls have gone to Audrey Hepburn in Paris. William Goetz wants her to star in James Michener's "Sayonara." When I was told this I said, "But Audrey has definitely said there will be no more separations from Mel Ferrer."

After "L'aiglon" she wants to do a picture with Mel. Possibly, "Sayonara" would be made before "L'aiglon" and I am told that there is a part for Mel if they can get Audrey. She is also wanted by Henry Ephron for "A Certain Smile" by Francoise Sagon.

The much publicized Diana Dory, who received credit, or shall we say discredit, for a lot of things her ghost-writer wrote in her London newspaper column, has as many offers in Hollywood as Marilyn Monroe.

One picture Diana is terrifically interested in is a remake of "Blonde Bombshell," in which she would co-star with Bob Hope. Bob has discussed with her the possibility of her playing the Jean Harlow type of role in this picture, originally made by our platinum blonde girl at MGM.

MEXICO DELIGHTED

The spiritual and religious quality of "The Brave One" has delighted both the Mexican consul and President Adolfo Ruiz Cortines of Mexico. Said the President:

Irving Rapper directed the picture as if he were really a Mexican himself.

Irving has gone to Mexico City
