

For Blueprints, Estimates Sewer Contract Gets Nod

Unrehearsed Dive Marks OU Building Dedication

Several hundred spectators witnessed a colorful swimming and diving exhibition at last night's dedication of the new $1.5-million Intramural Sports and Recreation Building at Oakland University.

A no less sensational "dive" was executed by the school's fully-dressed athletic director, Hollie Lepley.

He was formally accepting a key to the building from the "Phantoms of the Pool" when they suddenly shoved him into the water.

The phantoms are students who managed to sneak into the intramural building before it was completed and used the pool almost nightly.

ONE OF HAZARDS
"That's one of the hazards of being athletic director," he remarked stoically after pulling himself out.

His spirit undampened, Lepley went on to describe the many features of the new building.

Warming Trend Sunny Skies for Tomorrow

The weatherman said temperatures will be near normal for the next five days. Tonight will be partly cloudy, the low will be about 25.

Sunny skies with a high of 36 is the forecast for tomorrow. Warmer with a chance of rain or snow is the outlook for Friday.

High temperatures over the weekend will be in the low 40s, and the low recordings will range from 20 to 27.

Thirty was the low recording in downtown Pontiac preceding 8 a.m. The mercury registered 33 at 2 p.m.

INEVITABLE — Still clutching the key, Oakland University's athletic director Hollie Lepley wrings out his shoe after a dunking in the new pool.

II Cor. 13:9

We each should strive toward perfection... said Jesus and in this connection... We are inclined to feel that we... Can never live life perfectly...

First Olympics Bill Cleared; 2nd Stalled

LANSING AP — The first of two bills clearing the way for a $25-million Olympic stadium in Detroit has been cut loose by a somewhat-reluctant House State Affairs Committee, but the second has run smack into a last-minute roadblock.

Acting under hastily applied pressure from Gov. George Romney and the attorney general's office, the committee yesterday released the bill setting up a special recreation building authority and saw it referred to ways and means.

Millage Hike Sought Here?

School Levy Renewal
Vote Seen by Whitmer

Pontiac School District voters will be asked to renew and possibly increase an existing 8.75 special millage for education next year, School Superintendent Dr. Dana Whitmer indicated yesterday.

He was addressing the Pontiac Kiwanis Club at the Waldron Hotel.

The additional money will be needed to attract and retain good teachers in a highly competitive market for their services, Whitmer said.

The extra millage was approved at the polls for 10 years in 1954. The money was earmarked by voters for new school construction and additions to existing schools to meet a rapid increase in pupils over the decade.

Only two new schools remain to be built under the program—one on Cottage Street and the other on Baldwin Avenue at the city limits.

Commission Meets With City Police

The Pontiac Police Officer Association was to meet with the City Commission today to present four requests including the resumption of overtime pay.

Sgt. Herbert C. Cooley, PPOA president, said an organizational chart, permanent shifts and seniority rights will also be under discussion.

"If we get the things we ask, we believe it will both benefit the city and the police department," Cooley said.

The association is the official bargaining agent of the 107-member department. Its membership totals 84.

CLOSED TO PUBLIC

The joint meeting begins at 2 p.m. and is closed to the public, the police chief and the city manager, according to Mayor Robert A. Landry.

Another meeting between the commission, Police Chief Joseph Koren and City Manager Robert Stierer is planned for later, the mayor said.

Cooley said that the recent curtailment of overtime pay for policemen was not responsible for scheduling the meeting with commission.

"It was a combination of things that the association believes is imperative to the morale of the entire department," said Cooley.

"There are a lot of officers who would be willing to be compensated for an hour overtime with an hour and a half free time," Cooley said. "These things, however, have to be discussed."

Under pressure of time, the governor today was expected to look to House Speaker Allison Green, R-Kingston, and other GOP leaders for help in trying the second bill loose from the committee, against the adamant objections of its chairman.

In one tactical move, Romney asked Ways and Means Committee Chairman Arael Engstrom, R-Traverse City, not to consider the authority bill until the parliament measure was reported out to the floor of the House.

The bill would put $1.6 million from an increase in state taxes on race track parimutuels into the general fund as a guarantee that the Olympic stadium bond payments could be met.

TO WAIT

Green said he expected the bill would emerge, but State Affairs Chairman Lloyd Gibbs, R-Portland, told a different story. "We're not going to move on that one until we see how the first one gets along," said Gibbs. "It won't come out until Romney lands the Olympics."

The final decision on the Olympic site will be made in October, but only one U.S. city can apply. Detroit earlier was selected as U.S. bidder, then lost its place as the result of a high-pressure campaign waged by Los Angeles.

The fee for field engineering, general supervision, inspections and final on-site testing is 1.4 per cent.

Thus, the contract agreement carries a total fee of 4.7 per cent plus expenses and payroll costs of resident engineers required for field work.

Commission OKs Action on East Side Plans

Estimates Put Cost of Project at $1.5 Million;
Toledo Firm Hired

City Commissioners last night approved a contract for plans and final cost estimates of a proposed sanitary sewer project on Pontiac's East Side.

Preliminary estimates place cost of the project at $1.5 million.

It calls for construction of a Murphy Park relief sewer and a Galloway Creek trunk sewer.

The two are expected to spur a development boom in the city's northeast and southeast sections, where there is no sewer system, as well as relieve an overload on existing lines.

The contract with Jones, Henry and Williams of Toledo, Pontiac's consulting engineers, was approved by a 4-1 vote.

Voting for the contract were Mayor Robert A. Landry and Commissioners William H. Taylor Jr., Winford E. Bottom and Loy L. Ledford.

Commissioners Milton R. Henry and Dick M. Kirby are in New York on city business and were not present to vote.

Commissioner Charles H. Harmon voted against the contract. He said he was not against the project itself, but contended that "the total engineering contract will eventually amount to 10 per cent of the cost and that is too much."

Harmon said he thought the city's engineering department could do the job for less in the long run.

The contract calls for plans, drawings, final estimates and related items to be prepared for a fee equal to 3.3 per cent of the total cost of work on which bids are submitted.

The fee for field engineering, general supervision, inspections and final on-site testing is 1.4 per cent.

Thus, the contract agreement carries a total fee of 4.7 per cent plus expenses and payroll costs of resident engineers required for field work.

City Manager Robert A. Stierer called the agreement "a standard contract for engineering services, the same as our contract with the firm for its work on the new sewage treatment plant."

"If this is inconvenient for you, the central committee of the Communist party of the Soviet Union could send to Peking a delegation headed by another responsible comrade, or we could send our delegation to Moscow," Tass quoted the Chinese note as saying.

The exchange of notes was published both in Moscow and in Peking.

The Communist New China news agency, in a broadcast heard in Tokyo, announced earlier that the Soviet Union had accepted Peking's proposal for a showdown meeting of all the world's Communist parties on the ideological dispute between the two countries.

The Peking broadcast carried the text of the announcement made in a letter from the Chinese Communist Central Committee to its Soviet counterpart.

Flood Rubble Piles Into Cumberland River (Ky.) Bridge

30,000 Homeless in South; Town Starts Water Rationing

By The Associated Press

Water rationing begins in Harlan, Ky., today as devastating floods and deadly tornadoes left more than 30,000 persons homeless in the South and property damage in the millions.

Seventeen persons were dead and six others missing. Twelve of the deaths were attributed to floods, and five to tornadoes.

A flash flood—one of several caused by torrential rain—knocked out the pumping station at Harlan about noon Tuesday, leaving the city and outlying communities without water.

Civil defense director Bill Haight made arrangements to truck water from fresh wells on a hillside and from a soft drink plant at nearby Baxter if the plant could distill river water for drinking.

Schools were closed in Harlan County, and gasoline was limited to emergency vehicles. Many persons were trying to clean up the slime and mud.

An elderly miner said the flood water came as a surprise. "Lordy, we didn't hear no noise but here we are back in this mess again."

He was one of those who went through the 1957 flood which caused five deaths and more than $50 million in damages.

The American Red Cross opened disaster headquarters in Huntington, W. Va., to direct work in flood-stricken sections of Kentucky, West Virginia and Virginia.

Southeastern area Red Cross workers helped cope with conditions created by widely scattered tornadoes and some flooding in portions of Mississippi, Alabama and Tennessee.

Tornadoes have pounded Alabama for two successive days and flood waters are adding to the damage in some of the storm-stricken areas.

A tornado struck yesterday in Tallapoosa County, wrecking homes, barns, churches and utility lines. Damage was estimated at $50,000 by the highway patrol. No injuries were reported.

Distress Call Turns Out to Be a Phony

A bogus distress call, heard by many ham radio operators in the Pontiac area set off a chain reaction among police and military agencies over a three-county area last night.

The voice heard on citizens' band receivers identified himself as a pilot of a Navy PBV seaplane in trouble over Pontiac. He said five crew members were bailing out and he would try to land the crippled aircraft on Lake St. Clair.

Amateur radio operators began calling state police to report the distress call around 9:30.

Sheriff's deputies and state police were alerted in Oakland, Macomb and St. Clair counties. Selridge Air Force Base was notified.

LOOKOUT URGED
Area radio stations asked residents to be on the lookout for any navy fliers carrying parachutes. Detroit area television stations interrupted programs with bulletins that the plane had "gone down" in Lake St. Clair.

A "final" call reported the plane's altitude at 2,500 feet over Mount Clemens. Then nothing.

After two hours of nothing, the state police called off their forces and declared the incident a hoax.

State police today planned to call in the Federal Communications Commission and launch an investigation of the distress broadcast reported over Channel 11 of the citizens' short wave band.

Leisurely Reds Have 2 Days to Clear Cuba

Pravda Claims Training's Over

Says Four Ships Gone and Fifth is Loading

By The Associated Press

U.S. sources said today Soviet troops are leaving Cuba at a relatively slow pace with only two days to go for Premier Khrushchev to honor his pledge to President Kennedy that "several thousand" would depart by mid-March.

In Moscow, the Communist party newspaper Pravda said four ships carrying troops had sailed and a fifth was loading.

It said the fourth, the 11,000-ton Black Sea cruise ship Gruzia (Georgia), left Sunday carrying specialists who had been training Cubans in "powerful, up-to-date Soviet military techniques."

The New York Times news service said in a Washington dispatch that the Gruzia carried 560 Soviet servicemen.

Pravda said the 15,000-ton Nakhimov, the former Berlin, taken over from Germany after World War II, was in Havana loading troops. It might take as many as 4,500.

PROPAGANDA BUILD-UP

This is the first time any such departure story has appeared in the Soviet press, indicating a new propaganda build-up.

Pravda's dispatch from Havana said that the jobs of the specialists who sailed Sunday were finished, and that Prime Minister Alexei Kosygin's government had agreed that the Soviet experts could go home.

U.S. experts in Washington estimated there were 17,000 Soviet military personnel in Cuba when the withdrawals began. This was 5,000 fewer than believed stationed there at the height of the Cuban crisis last October.

The Soviet liner Baltika, which brought Khrushchev to New York in 1960, sailed Feb. 21 with an unspecified number of soldiers and airmen aboard.

SKEPTICAL OF TOTALS

Havana dispatches said 2,000 sailed on a ship which reporters were forbidden to identify March 1. Washington was skeptical of the figure, but U.S. officials said it is difficult to count men aboard by aerial reconnaissance. This ship probably was the Kalinin, another cruise vessel.

President Kennedy told his news conference March 6 he was not satisfied with the withdrawal rate, but it apparently has been stepped up.

White House Pool Tops Bob's for Those in the Social Swim

By MERRIMAN SMITH
UPI White House Reporter

WASHINGTON—Backstairs at the White House:
Reports circulating in chichi circles of Washington and New York say the party President and Mrs. Kennedy gave the White House last Friday night was festive, indeed.

In fact, Washington society or certain little pockets thereof no poolhopping the idea of achieving glory by falling in the swimming pool of Atty. Gen. and Mrs. Robert F. Kennedy.

The down-grading of the attorney general's pool stems from the fact that the President's Friday night party, several guests report they visited the White House pool in the rather late evening hours.

Lester Lanin's band was boogieing in the East Room, while some of the daring guests sped downstairs, and out of the main residence to the pool.

Naturally, the White House prefers not to hear about it, but some of the excited folks who went swimming—or claim they did—have not been quite as reluctant as their hosts in talking about it.

According to at least one self-styled participant, the President decided to bring the dancing party of the party to an end at about 4 a.m.

ESCORTEO TO POOL
Apparently mindful that some of their guests were still full of energy, the First Lady is supposed to have escorted party friends down to the swimming pool where several of them went splashing.

Whether they switched to bathing suits or jumped in fully clothed as is the style in certain Washington circles, remains a historic secret for the present.

Earlier in the evening the dance music started about 10 p.m., the President thought the orchestra might be particularly interesting for his two children, John Jr., and Caroline.

Whereupon he went to the residential quarters on the second floor, got the two children and brought them down to the East Room where they delightedly catered and gestured in front of the musicians as they have seen handleaders do at other White House functions.

GUESTS A MIXTURE

The guests at the party were a mixture of friends of the Kennedys from New York, several members of the Cabinet, including Treasury Secretary Douglas Dillon, and Secretary of State Dean Rusk who dropped by during the evening but did not stay for the windup.

The party ran on until close to 5 a.m., but the President showed stamina. The next night, Saturday, he was full of bounce and served at the annual dinner of the Gridiron Club and didn't get home until around midnight.

Down in the Virginia hunt country, stories persist that the Kennedys, particularly the President, are not happy about the costs of their new home out on Rattlesnake Hill, about 5 miles from Middleburg.

As the house nears completion, the Chief Executive seems to take an increasing interest in costs. The contractor is telephone frequently about seemingly minor details of the construction project.

Meantime, there seems to be no foundation for a recently printed story that the plans had included a special house on the property for Secret Service agents.

According to this version, Mrs. Kennedy ruled out this dwelling on grounds it would not be needed after 1968. Thus at least the First Lady seemed rather confident of her husband's re-election.

Office quarters for the Secret Service will be incorporated in the barn. It would seem a little needless to install living quarters for them. They draw a per diem living allowance (if the government when they are in Middleburg and can pay for quarters in the town.

DO YOU TAKE VITAMINS AND STILL FEEL TIRED?

If you take vitamins and still feel tired, your trouble may be due to iron-poor blood. Vitamins alone can't build up iron-poor blood. But GERATON can! Because just two GERATON tablets, or two tablespoons of liquid GERATON, contain 7 vitamins plus twice the iron in 1 lb. of calves' liver.

In only one day GERATON-iron is in your bloodstream carrying strength and energy to every part of your body. Check with your doctor. And if you're feeling tired because of iron-poor blood, take GERATON, liquid or tablets, every day. You'll feel stronger fast in just seven days or money back from the GERATON folks.

Tempers Flare in Walled Lake

Protest City Hall Purchase

WALLED LAKE—Some 50 local citizens crowded into the tiny lobby of the city hall last night to protest the proposed purchase of a larger city hall, the Ramsey Building, for $20,000.

Tempers flared early in the proceedings to set the mood for what was to follow.

Main arguments against buying the building involved the lack of adequate parking and drainage facilities.

Some felt the council should have gone more slowly and investigated other available locations before announcing its intent to purchase the Ramsey Building.

Forrest Hubbell, a local builder, charged that the council did not make "an intelligent study" of the problem.

URGES WAITING

Ralston W. Calvert, 3700 W. 14th St., seemed to express the consensus of opinion when he urged the council to "wait until a full report is turned in."

"We want to be informed—we want to know about parking,"

The idea of spending $20,000 on a Saturday morning doesn't set well with us."

Mayor Louis James explained that he called the special meeting to answer "a lot of questions people want to discuss."

He noted that he had received many telephone calls, and had been stopped on the street by people who wanted more information on the proposed city hall.

He termed the Council's March decision to make the purchase a "rush deal."

Milton Parrish, chairman of the City Planning Commission, doubted that the drainage facilities would satisfy state health authorities.

MENTIONS PLANNING

He noted that the first place to start a purchase of this type was with the planning commission. Then the council might have some of the answers they are lacking, he suggested.

Mrs. Milton Parrish said the council "definitely made a faux pas."

As chairman of the Mayor's Land Committee she said, "we looked into property and were never told what was needed."

"We were never asked to make suggestions and never heard a word from the council," she noted, "was not on our list of properties."

After being notified of the council's intentions on this matter, an informal poll of committee members revealed only one vote in favor of the purchase, she said.

By bypassing the Mayor's Land Committee, the council "disregarded the voice of the people," she added.

Arnold L. Wilcox, 1754 Ashton St., requested that council refer the matter to the planning commission to get "a good technical report" on which to base its decision.

ONLY 2 SUPPORT

Only two of the 50 present voiced support for the council's action.

Mrs. Alma Wagner, owner of the property, defended her building.

She ridiculed arguments that parking and drainage were inadequate.

Councilman Richard Watkins said that the Ramsey Building would "provide considerably more room" than the present city hall.

He explained that the council was faced with two alternatives. Either purchase a building of adequate size with adequate facilities for $20,000 or purchase a lot and erect a building with the same facilities for $60,000.

Councilman Harold Ackley observed that the building would serve our purposes for the next five or 10 years and serve very adequately."

The committee of three, appointed by the mayor to work out details of the purchase, is still investigating the building's liabilities and assets, Councilman Wendell Kellogg said.

It will have a report ready for the next council meeting March 19, he noted.

"We can still back out," he observed.

The mayor added Hubbell and Parrish to the committee to investigate the purchase. A Saturday meeting was scheduled.

FARMINGTON—Action on a school district-proposed $4.9-million budget has been postponed by the board of education to allow more time to study the document in detail.

Supt. of Schools Gerald V. Harrison noted that he had given the board "a considerable amount of data."

The board has slated a special session to study the budget on March 21.

REPORTS ON PLANS

In other action, board members heard a report by architect J. MacDonald Jacobs of J. MacDonald Associates, designer of an addition to Eagle Elementary School.

The proposed addition will contain five classrooms, a kindergarten and a library.

The board heard a progress report on the construction of East Junior High School and Highmewood School.

Despite bad weather, the scheduled still calls for completion of both schools by Aug. 1, Harrison said.

The board also approved the purchase of $100,000 of equipment for the two schools.

ACTING POSTMASTER — Mrs. Albert Kishauer, 1439 Shankin Drive, Walled Lake.

She has been appointed acting postmaster at the Walled Lake Post Office. She received her appointment from Postmaster General J. Edward Day upon the recommendation of Sen. Patrick McNamara. Mrs. Kishauer has been manager of Parkway Federal Credit Union for the past eight and one-half years.

Avon Collision Injures Five This Morning

Five persons were injured, two of them seriously, in a two-car crash in Avon Township early this morning.

In a satisfactory condition at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital are Phyllis L. Brincat, 25, of 485 Wilcox Road, and Gladys P. Moran, 24, of 484 John R. Road, both of Rochester.

The extent of their injuries was not known immediately.

The car driven by Miss Brincat collided with another driven by Patrick M. Sullivan, 21, of Warren, at John R. and Avon Roads, Avon Township, at 2:35 a.m.

Miss Moran and Martin P. Lollar, 43, of 1120 Parkland St., Birmingham, were passengers in the woman's car.

Lollar, Sullivan and his passenger, John R. Paluda, 21, were treated and released after receiving medical aid.

Sheriff deputy Robert E. Taylor who witnessed the accident said that Miss Brincat stopped for a traffic sign on Avon Road and then pulled into the path of Sullivan's car, which, he said, was traveling at a high rate of speed.

Not Allowed to Spend Taxes

School Unit Restrained by Court Order

DETROIT UP—The Utica Community School District and Sterling Township were barred by a federal court order yesterday from spending nearly $250,000 in school taxes collected from Chrysler Corp.

U. S. District Judge Ralph M. Freeman handed down a temporary restraining order against the school district and the township yesterday on a petition from Chrysler.

Chrysler said a $2,767,000 tax assessment levied against the Michigan Ordnance Missile Plant in Utica was excessive, discriminatory and fraudulent.

Chrysler pointed out the plant is owned by the government and operated by the Army with Chrysler acting only as an agent of the government.

Chrysler previously protested in vain to the township board of review and the State Tax Commission, both times in 1962.

Church Fellowship to Hold Luncheon

ROCHESTER — The Women's Fellowship of the First Congregational Church will sponsor a "Luncheon Is Served" program at noon tomorrow at the church.

An hour before the meal, the Mayflower Guild will stage a hat party offering a selection of spring bonnets and accessories for pre-Easter shoppers to choose from.

Luncheon tickets can be purchased from Mrs. Donald Kemmer, 5600 Cobb Creek Court, Mrs. Laurence Kirkton, 409 Wesley St., or at the church.

Sitter service will be provided.

Dublin Board Hikes Instructors' Salaries

WHITE LAKE TOWNSHIP—The Dublin Board of Education has approved a top-to-bottom revision of teachers' salaries, according to Superintendent of Schools Nelson G. O'Shaughnessy.

Starting pay for teachers with increased salaries was $4,600 annually.

Maximum salary for a BA degree teacher was increased to $9,500, attainable after eight years' service instead of the 10 previously required.

Pay raises over the eight-year period were set at $300 for each of the first three years and $200 for each of the remaining five.

In addition starting salaries of teachers with master of arts degrees were increased $400 to $5,200. Maximum pay is $7,100 after eight years' service.

The previous salary schedule called for a maximum pay of $6,800 for M.A. degree teachers having served 10 years.

Baked Ham Dinner Set

LAKE ORION — The Women's Department of the Reorganized Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints will hold a baked ham dinner tomorrow at the church, 331 E. Flint St. The meal will be served family style from 5 to 7 p.m.

Southfield Mayor Answers Charges

SOUTHFIELD — Mayor S. James Clarkson said today that Council President C. Hugh Dohany's tirade about reassessment of land values and the duties of the city assessor is nothing more than "political hogwash."

He said that if Dohany took the trouble to read the state statutes he would find that there are only two ways that the city assessor can be given office.

One is to be appointed by the mayor and the other to be elected.

Dohany, who is opposing Clarkson for mayor in the April 1 election, has gone on record as saying that if he is elected mayor, he will abolish the present assessing department, replacing it with another.

He also proposed that the head of that department be a nonpay honorary member, reporting to the city administrator as is presently the procedure of all other city departments.

Dohany further stated that this set-up would eliminate control of the assessor by the mayor. Under the Southfield charter the mayor appoints the city assessor.

The furor started when home owners began receiving statements on the reassessment of their property. Hundreds of calls were received by members of the council protesting the additional charges.

COUNTERCHARGES

Dohany said the increases were the result of a Clemenshaw Report on the reassessment of all land in Southfield. He has charged that it was Clarkson who demanded the report.

Clarkson denied this saying that

Collision Causes Injuries to Two Area Motorists

WASHINGTON TOWNSHIP—Cars driven by a 46-year-old woman and an Oakland Township man collided almost head-on yesterday on Romeo Road, causing multiple injuries to both motorists.

Mrs. Christen Holmes, 6771 Mt. Vernon Road, was driving west about 7:30 a.m. when her car went off the road.

Attempting to control it, police said, she swerved into the path of an oncoming car driven by Lanny O. Thompson, 47, of 4291 Collins Road, Oakland Township.

Thompson suffered a broken collarbone, fractured ribs and knee and facial cuts, police said.

Mrs. Holmes received a fractured knee and cuts on the face. Both parties were taken to Community Hospital, 400 E. Algonquin. They are reported in good condition today.

NEWS OF THE AREA

To Award Contracts for New Area School

WALLED LAKE — The board of education has slated a special meeting Monday to award contracts on the construction of the new elementary school on Keith Road.

Although some 23 bids on electrical, mechanical and general construction work have already been opened, the board has been waiting until bidding on other phases of the construction is completed before making the official awards.

"They want to see the total picture," School Supt. Clifford H. Smart said.

Completion of the new school is scheduled for this September.

TO ASK BUS BIDS

In other action, the board agreed to solicit bids on five bus chassis "from all interested bidders."

There has been some dissatisfaction on the part of outside bidders in the past because their low bids were turned down by the board in favor of somewhat higher bids submitted by local dealers.

The board again retained the right to select the bid that members think is in the best interest of the district.

Smart explained that where service is involved, the board considers a local bid close to the low bid submitted.

HELEN E. TIMMERMAN

Mrs. and Mr. Raymond G. Timmerman of Wilmette, Ill., announce the engagement of their daughter Helen Elizabeth of Robert E. Britton, 225 S. Bellevue Road, Lake Orion. The prospective bridegroom is the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Fred L. Britton of Brainerd, Minn. An April 27 wedding is planned in Wilmette.

Area Cubs Working on Easter Baskets

UNION LAKE—The cub scout pack of Pack 36, Ottawa District, Clinton Valley Council, are busy working to bring the joy to Easter of those less fortunate than themselves.

They are preparing Easter baskets for the boys and girls of the Oakland County Youth Center.

The Cub Scout Pack was reactivated last year.

Assets Up $85 Million

LANSING UP — The savings and loan division of the Secretary of State's Office reports the 34 associations chartered by the department showed total assets of $779.5 million as of Jan. 31, up $85.2 million from the same date a year ago.

15,330 Sign Up in State

EAST LANSING (AP) — The U. S. Department of Agriculture's 1963 feed grain program attracted 15,330 growers in Michigan during the first 29 days of the sign-up period.

The growers, with a base of 437,533 acres, agreed to divert 251,227 acres from feed grain production, reports Carl Shumway, chairman of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service in Michigan.

After 29 days last year, 13,676 growers with a base of 418,848 acres had agreed to divert 251,783 acres, the chairman said.

Shumway said he hopes for a larger sign-up this year. He said the department would make its biggest effort to recruit growers in the next two weeks. The deadline for signing up is March 22. The chairman estimated the total diversion payment pledged so far at about $7.3 million.

The primary goal of the voluntary program, Shumway said, is the reduction of some 50 million tons of surplus feed grains now stored by the federal government in the U. S.

The department also wants "to maintain a fair profit for agriculture," Shumway added.

Lansing County has the highest percentage of farmers participating in the program so far, with 25 per cent. Next are Jackson County, with 24 per cent; Ingham, 23 per cent; Monroe, 20 per cent; and Hillsdale, 18 per cent.

FOR SALE—This eight-sided farmhouse, a long-time landmark in Washington Township, is being sold by its owner, Wayne State University. Included in the home's unique features is a 55-step spiral stairway in the center of the structure. The Macomb County Board of Supervisors is considering buying the 103-year-old house and its 330-acre site for use as a historical shrine.

Will WSU's Octagon House Become Historical Shrine?

WASHINGTON TOWNSHIP — Deciding which wall to hang a picture on in their eight-sided house here will no longer be a problem for representatives of Wayne State University.

They're selling it.

Maintaining the structure in its near-perfect condition has proved to be too expensive for the university landlady.

Mrs. Hazel VanValkenburg, 1727 29-Mile Road, Romeo, has her own ideas about who should purchase the house and the 330-acre site on which it is located.

She thinks that Macomb County should establish a permanent tourist attraction on the property on Van Dyke Road just north of 26-Mile Road.

Mrs. VanValkenburg, a member of the Romeo Historical Society, suggested the construction of a "Pioneer Street" on the premises.

This would include moving other county landmarks to the site such as a country school and a log cabin.

Such a facility would pay its way through small admission charges, she maintains.

WILL PRESENT PLEA

Bernard A. Kalahar, chairman of the county's board of supervisors will present her plea at Monday's meeting of the board.

Wayne's Dean Arthur Neef, vice president and provost, is acting as agent in this case.

"If there were a serious move on the part of any group to finance this as a historical museum we would be more cooperative and do the best to keep the cost at a minimum," he says.

Neef said he would be happy to meet with a committee of supervisors to discuss the matter.

In 1945, the farm was purchased by WSU with funds donated for that purpose.

Since then, it has served for everything from breakfast for the faculty to a place for a barbecue for students of the university.

eggs from the farm were sold in green and gold (school colors) cartons with the slogan "Educated Eggs from the Wayne State University Farm."

The history of the octagonal house dates back to 1860, when Loren Andrus, original owner, almost went broke trying to outdo three other township residents in building a unique home.

Andrus made the bricks for the house with clay taken from the property.

After seven changes in ownership and conversion to and from a restaurant, the house was given to Wayne State University.

In 1961, operating on a self-financing basis, the farm maintained 75 head of cattle and 2,000 laying hens.

Wayne's students, as well as students from throughout Wayne, Macomb and Oakland counties, often made field trips to the farm.

The fate of the historical home could be decided at Monday's meeting. The property is scheduled to be bisected by the proposed Van Dyke bypass, to be built from 16-Mile Road to just north of Romeo.

"Many people feel that it will ultimately become a housing development," Neef says.

The decision as to its future now rests with the Macomb County Board of Supervisors.

Con-Con Delegates Due at Discussion

WALLED LAKE — A discussion of the proposed constitution scheduled for 8 p.m. tomorrow at the Clifford Smart Junior High School.

Speaking will be con-con delegates J. Don Lawrence, R-Ypsilanti; and Katherine Kishauer, Dearborn. Both favor adoption of the document in the April 1 election.

The program is sponsored solely by the Oakland County Non-Partisan Committee for the New Constitution.

HILL-NAILE Vows Spoken

HIGHLAND TOWNSHIP—Blue and white gladioli and chrysanthemums graced the altar of Highland Nazarene Church for the recent wedding of Vickie L. Naile and Seaman Appren. Russell G. Hill.

Rev. Ronald Moss performed the double-ring ceremony.

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. Richard Naile, 2818 Davista Drive. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Hill of Howell.

The bride made her own street-length wedding dress of white satin brocade. It featured a bell skirt, scoop neckline and long pointed sleeves.

With it she wore a matching pill box that held a shoulder-length veil of silk illusion. She carried a cascade of blue and white carnations and chrysanthemums.

Mrs. David Walker of Howell was matron of honor.

On the esquire side, David Walker served as best man while Bruce Naile, brother of the bride, and Joseph Cook of Highland, served guests.

After the evening rites, a reception was held in Nick's Restaurant in East Highland.

255 Killed in Traffic

EAST LANSING UP — Traffic accidents have killed 255 persons in Michigan so far this year, provisional figures compiled by state police showed today. The toll at this date last year was 207.

CAR FERRIES ICED IN—Three stranded car ferries bide their time, stuck in the ice outside Muskegon harbor. The light, ship-shaped object at the right is the icebreaker Mackinaw on its way to free the vessels. Great Lakes shippers have been plagued with unusually thick ice this winter.

Ice Plagues Lakes Skippers

CHICAGO (AP)—It has been eerie out on the Great Lakes this long, hard winter.

"When you're on a ship you expect to see water," explained Richard J. Laffin, skipper of the Coast Guard Cutter Arundel. "But you might work two weeks and never see blue water. Just white ice."

And "the worst is yet to come," in the opinion of a captain whose car ferry backs the heavy crusts.

Weather Bureau records show that this is the third coldest winter since the turn of the century on the world's largest cluster of fresh-water lakes.

A recent survey found ice 2 to 48 inches thick. Early this month, the bureau reported, about 36 per cent of Lakes Superior, Huron and Michigan were covered with ice, some narrow stretches were open on Lake Erie and flocks coated much of Lake Ontario.

Laffin's cutter, equipped with an ice-breaking prow, maneuvers to the aid of all-season tankers that get stuck in Lake Michigan. Just how tough the going may be depends, in large part, on directions of the winds.

Laffin said they blew mostly from the west this season and piled up ice on the eastern shore. The formations there ranged up to 20 feet thick, he said, with three or four feet visible and the bulk beneath the surface.

"It doesn't look so tough until you hit it," he said. "Near Grand Haven (Mich.) a couple of weeks ago it took us 13 hours to go a mile and a quarter." There is little traffic on the lakes in the coldest months. But some tankers, cross-lake car ferries and coal-hauling vessels kept going despite the arctic marathon that froze over Lake Michigan from Milwaukee, Wis., to Muskegon, Mich., for the first time since 1938.

Capt. Henry M. Gates of the 412-foot car ferry City of Midland termed ice conditions the worst in 22 years.

"We slow down so much sometimes," Gates reported, "that you could probably walk faster than we're traveling."

FISHING

The big trouble for commercial fishermen is snagging nets in the ice. Leleond La Fond, head of the La Fond Fisheries in Milwaukee, said fishing boats based there have been able to go out only about 10 per cent of the time this winter.

THE SADDEST THING ABOUT NEW YORK CITY

Think of it, crossroads of the world, yet nowhere, but nowhere in the city of bright lights, can you indulge yourself with even a drop of delightful, superb-tasting Cask Wines. Sad, very sad. But perk up, dear friend, with the happy thought you live in Michigan where enjoyable Cask Wines are as near to you as your favorite supermarket, liquor store, or tavern.

But the harsh weather has been a boon to the islanders in the Port Clinton, Ohio, sector of Lake Erie because of the pickup in ice fishing.

The 600 residents of Drummond Island in Lake Huron get all their supplies from the mainland. They usually are brought over by the Chippewa County ferry. The ferry became icebound.

But, by the providence of nature, the mile-wide gap between the island and Upper Michigan froze solid. So every morning a caravan of automobiles moved across the thick ice, carrying commuters and high school students. They returned each evening.

Residents of other islands depend on planes to fetch food and supplies. When the ice is thick enough, they drive their cars to the shore.

CONCERN GROWS

Ashore, there is some concern over how long the ice will keep freighters off the huge inland waterway. The heavy ice, plus the official outlook for subnormal temperatures, threaten to delay the resumption of general shipping.

The usual target date for reopening traffic on the Great Lakes is April 1. But northern ports may not open until mid-April or later.

The St. Lawrence Seaway will open April 15—ice permitting—for ocean vessels.

The cargo volume has been rising on this link between the nation's broad interior and the sea lanes, but it hasn't measured up to advance expectations.

And the length of the season, of course, is a factor in determining how much tonnage moves through the lake-river course.

Through the years shippers on the Great Lakes have learned to operate within the framework of the weather. Steel mills, for instance, ship in a 12 month supply of iron ore from Minnesota, Upper Michigan and Ontario during the 8 months the lakes are free of ice.

Capt. Clark Henning, who pilots a Trans-Canada Airlines plane on the Chicago-Toronto-Montreal run, reported encouraging news. "This year there has been a solid sheet of ice (on the lakes)," he said. "But it's beginning to break up. It looks almost as if an icebreaker has been cutting paths."

Cash Carriers Get No Credit From Man Who Knows

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK — Couple of weeks ago this column — fearless, valiant — stated that credit cards will never replace cash.

We recommended that everybody try money today. It's colorful, as compared with the drab black-and-white of credit cards. It works under water. It dries. It's simple and handy. Even a child can use it. It's even cheaper than credit cards, because people who have to use cash don't tend to go to as costly places as people who use credit cards.

The Diners' Club takes exception to these theories. The Diners' Club's vice president, Matty Simmons, insists on telling us his views:

"What's so sacred about cash? 'Among other things, cash rips, fades, gets loaned to people you really don't want to lend money to, just because you happen to have it."

"It is stolen, counterfeited, and is filched from men's pockets by inquisitive wives.

"It gets short changed when being negotiated, can be too large for a cab ride and too small for a dinner. It can be impetuously gambled away, carries all sorts of germs, creates a large bulge in one's pocket when one has too much of it and a saddening depression when one has too little of it.

"It is absolutely irreplaceable when accidentally dropped into the family incinerator and, in general, it is something you have to worry about having too much of when walking down a dark street and too little of when walking into a dark night club.

"Cash is dead!

"Cash is obsolete!

"Cash will never make a comeback because cash just doesn't make nearly as much sense as credit."

Mr. Simmons may be quite right.

Cash may one day become obsolete, and the entire U. S. will operate by credit card. Never worrying about that dirty, faded ure out what makes her husband tick, she's better off.

The happiest couples had great difficulty in judging the character of the persons they loved. The unhappier couples could analyze their spouses' personalities all too clearly.

This proves that love is not only blind. It is also deaf, dumb and like a fox.

Here's What They Can't

HOUSTON (UPI) — The first police manual issued by the Houston Police Department tells officers they can't accept rewards, cannot lie or gripe, must keep their shoes shined and must not fire warning shots at suspects.

Finish DJ Case With Fine of $300

NEW YORK (AP)—The case against Alan Freed, disc jockey who pleaded guilty to taking pay from record companies, was closed yesterday.

His representative paid the $300 fine assessed against Freed on his guilty plea. Judge Manuel A. Gomez then dismissed a bench warrant for Freed's arrest. The warrant was issued Jan. 29 when Freed failed to pay the fine.

Freed pleaded guilty Dec. 17 to accepting $2,000 from the Cosmat

Distributing Co. and $700 from the Superior Record Sales Co. for favoring their records on his radio show.

Junior Editors Quiz on THE UNDERWATER WORLD

QUESTION: What's new under the sea?

ANSWER: Experts say the ocean is filled with an immense amount of food and minerals useful to man. These riches, of course, have been there all the time.

What's new is that in the last few years man has made tremendous strides in learning how to dive safely under the surface to study what's there and to begin work toward harvesting the products of the sea in a really big way. We illustrate some of the exciting developments (1, 2, 3, 4).

Our deep water pioneers are probing the depths and laying plans for larger installations which will no doubt be lowered into the sea later on.

What can we expect from this kind of development? It may be possible to set up fish farms underwater. Whales may be branded the way cattle are in the west—only the whaleboys will be carried by submarines!

Small subs may be used to haul huge nets below the surface. Permanent research stations to study marine life will probably be established. Minerals will be sucked off the ocean floor by vacuum cleaner-like machines, and oil rigs will work underwater.

These are just a few ways in which we will benefit from the new frontier under the sea.

FOR YOU TO DO: It's fun to dream up inventions and good for the imagination. Make a sketch of some new underwater idea and pin it up on your wall. Who knows, you might read about it being tried out some day!

George Washington was only 16 years old when he made a surveying trip with a friend through the lower Shenandoah Valley of Virginia.

Takes Stand on Ford-Canton

LANSING (UPI) — A statement from Leonard Woodcock, international vice president of the United Auto Workers, to a House committee said today modification of the Ford-Canton decision would give the big three auto makers a significant advantage over single factory manufacturers.

Woodcock's statement was read to the House Labor Committee by Nat Weinberg, director of special projects for the union, after had weather prevented the UAW vice president from flying to the capital.

The statement said: "The Ford-Canton issue is essentially a big business issue and affects only a negligible proportion of the state's employees. The big three have taken the lead in this matter because only multipoint corporations such as they have anything to gain."

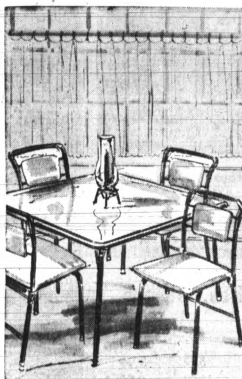

The hearing was to help legislate the Supreme Court ruling which allows payment of unemployment benefits to workers laid off by a strike of fellow unionists at a supplier plant should be legislatively modified.

Woodcock claimed the change recommended by Gov. George Romney would relieve multipoint corporations of their financial obligation in strikes where a supplier plant was part of the same corporate structure. "But the small employer relies on plants owned by others to supply him with materials and components. Should a strike occur at a plant of one of his suppliers there would be no question of the right of the workers, whom he was compelled to lay off, to obtain their unemployment compensation benefits, which he would be required to finance," Woodcock said.

Data Computer Zeros In on Traffic Trouble

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Miami's Metro police force intends to continue using its electronic computer in traffic control.

The machine was crammed with accident data Saturday. After it produced its analysis of where the most accidents were likely to occur, 10 motorcycle policemen went to the area and patrolled it for eight hours.

"We don't know if we actually prevented any accidents," said Lt. Quentin Weaver. "All we know is that we had 10 accidents a year ago and none Saturday."

U.S. Lends $56 Million to India for Power Unit

NEW DELHI (AP) — The United States is lending India $56 million to build a 300,000-kilowatt coal power station at Satpura, in the hills of central India.

Under terms announced yesterday, about $25 million will be in dollars, repayable in 40 years at annual interest of three-quarters of 1 per cent. The rest is in rupees from the sale of surplus American foods.

Project Aims at Road Code

WASHINGTON (AP) — An 11-state pilot program aimed at devising uniform traffic laws and control devices for the United States was announced yesterday by the U.S. Junior Chamber of Commerce.

The project is financed by a grant from the Insurance Institute for Highway Safety and will center around the newly revised uniform vehicle code and manual on uniform traffic control devices.

It will operate in Georgia, North Carolina, Oregon, Florida, Missouri, California, Arizona, Massachusetts, Michigan, Wisconsin and Nebraska.

LOVING CARE — Dotty Cook, 2, of Savannah, Ga., consoles Amber, her pet cat, who now has her jaw wired and is on a baby food diet, after a slight altercation with an automobile.

Dr. Wayne G. Brandstadt Says:

Symptoms, Care Vary for Menopause

All life is change, but the change of life that occurs in most women in their middle 40s is a special kind of change.

It is characterized by a gradual cessation of the function of the ovaries. As a result, there is a lengthening of the time between menstrual periods and a shortening of duration of periods.

Aside from that, many women have no symptoms. Others may have intermittent hot flashes involving the head, neck, and chest, with or without profuse sweating.

I am frequently asked how long these spells continue, and can only say that woman is a law unto herself.

In some, they disappear in two or three years, while in others they persist into the late 60s.

BRANDSTADT

Such other symptoms as headache, dizziness, fatigue, joint pains, irritability, and nervous tension are not due to the menopause.

In some they may be a natural part of aging, but the cause should be sought.

When found, it should be treated. Many a woman who has shrugged off one or more of these symptoms are due to the menopause has cheated herself of relief.

DOES FERTILITY END? I am often asked: "When, in the menopause period, does the possibility of childbearing actually end?"

This is very hard to determine. There are occasional freakish exceptions to the usual rule that, when menstruation ceases completely, childbearing is no longer possible.

In most women in whom menopause symptoms are fairly mild, a sedative and sympathetic reassurance by her doctor after a thorough examination is all the treatment required.

A few women whose symptoms are extremely unpleasant may require some replacement of the female hormones for a while.

This form of treatment should be given only if symptoms complained of are definitely due to ovarian deficiency, and should not be given until menstruation has stopped completely.

Furthermore, it should not be given to any woman who has uterine fibroids or endometriosis, although in such a woman male hormone may be beneficial.

DON'T DELAY TREATMENT Treatment with female hormones should not be continued indefinitely.

This only postpones the inevitable adjustment the body must make and prolongs duration of unpleasant symptoms.

Although course of the menopause is fairly smooth in most women, the symptoms are likely to be more troublesome when the ovarian function is interrupted suddenly, as in those women who have both ovaries removed—usually at the time the uterus is taken out.

Such women definitely need a period of treatment with female hormones.

It is most important to accept change of life calmly. Most women can achieve a greater serenity after the menopause than they have ever known.

Just because the body is aging is no reason not to stay young in heart.

LANSING (UPI) — The State Democratic Party will sponsor an all-day conference on the proposed constitution next Saturday at the American Legion Club in Grayling, it was announced yesterday.

Egyptians Scouting for English Accents

INVERNESS, Scotland (AP)—The Egyptian Ministry of Education has sent scouts to Inverness to find men and women with "clear, pure English accents" suitable for setting an example for Egyptians.

In a drive to improve the pronunciations of English, phrases will be made of simple phrases for primary schools, grammar lessons for secondary schools, and novels and plays for university students in Egypt.

Inverness has a reputation for the purity of its English, attributed to the presence of Cromwell's soldiers in the town about 300 years ago.

FALSE TEETH That Loosen Need Not Embarrass

Many wearers of false teeth have suffered real embarrassment because their plate dropped, slipped or wobbled as just the wrong time. Do not live in fear of this happening to you. Just sprinkle a little PARTICOR, the alkaline (non-acid) powder, on your plates. Your false teeth more firmly, so they feel more comfortable. (Does not hurt. Checks "false color" breath). Get PARTICOR at drug counters everywhere.

Alexander Bell Group Does Work for Deaf

WASHINGTON — A pioneering organization established by Alexander Graham Bell today carries on the work dearest to the great inventor's heart. The Alexander Graham Bell Association for the Deaf, founded in 1890, continues to lead deaf children from bewildering silence into the world of hearing people.

At a time when most authorities held that deaf children were doomed to mutism, Dr. Bell firmly believed that they could be taught to speak and, by lip reading, learn to understand others.

WORLDWIDE MEMBERSHIP Dr. Bell's association has 4,000 members in every state and in 46 countries. Its headquarters is in the Volta Bureau, housed in a Grecian-style building in Washington, D.C.

Founded by Dr. Bell in 1887, the Volta Bureau is the world's leading information center about deafness. The bureau's library on deafness and speech, based on Dr. Bell's personal collection, is probably the largest in the world, containing books in more than 20 languages.

England modeled its National Institute for the Deaf along the lines of the Volta Bureau, and Japan followed the precepts of Dr. Bell in revising its method of teaching the deaf.

Through the bureau, the association answers requests for information and guidance from parents, librarians, hospitals, physicians, nurses, teachers in training, government bureaus, soci-

Young Bell mastered the system, and one of his earliest journals, dated 1868, describes how he taught speech to four deaf children.

After the Bell family moved from their native Scotland, Alexander Graham Bell opened a "school of vocal physiology" in Boston.

Through his work, he met his future wife Mabel Hubbard, who had been deaf since an attack of scarlet fever as a small child, but had learned to read lips and speak with facility.

Inspired by his wife's achievement, Dr. Bell determined that "no deaf child in America shall be allowed to grow up mute without earnest and persistent efforts having been made to teach him to speak and read lips.

TELEPHONE HELPS DEAF In 1880, France awarded Dr. Bell its Volta Prize of 50,000 francs, about $10,000, for his invention of the telephone. He used the money to set up the Volta Laboratory Association in the carriage house of his father's home in the Georgetown section of Washington.

The new laboratory developed the graphophone, the first commercially successful recording machine. Dr. Bell used his share from the sale of the graphophone patents to endow the Volta Bureau and build a home for it across the street from the Bell house.

In 1890, Dr. Bell founded the Volta Speech Association for the Deaf, which later was renamed in his honor.

Go on Green! Or Is It Blue?

LANSING (AP)—You are wrong if you think the green traffic light is really green, reports the State Highway Department.

State Highway Department engineers found that a blue-green combination was easier to see than pure green and have added a noticeable amount of blue.

This makes for easier spotting against a confusing background, such as a jumble of neon signs or the setting sun. It also helps color blind drivers to better identify the green light.

Villagers Nix Cityhood

PERRY (AP)—Perry voters rejected Monday 124 to 109 a proposal for this Shawnee County community to become a city. Perry will remain a village. It has a population of approximately 1,100.

Kill 'Bonus' Bill on Expert Help

LANSING (AP)—A measure seeking to broaden the clause awarding counties a $5,000 yearly bonus in state highway funds if they retain a registered highway engineer has been killed in the Senate.

The vote against the amendment qualifying counties for the bonus if they hired a competent highway engineer was 17-16.

Backers of the bill contended some of the smaller counties are penalized because they cannot afford to hire a registered engineer. Opponents successfully objected there were no standards for deciding just who would be considered a qualified engineer. They also said this would lower engineering standards in the counties.

A resolution aimed at strengthening Detroit's bid for the 1968 Olympics was approved and sent to the House.

It declared that if Detroit wins the Olympics, it is the intent of the legislature to legalize a state recreation and exhibits building authority authorized to issue revenue bonds and build an Olympic stadium on the Detroit Fair Grounds.

CUBANS QUARREL — Andreu Ordone, who audited books at the Cuban ministry of industries before fleeing to Florida, says there was a rift between Fidel Castro and Che Guevara, his economic czar. "Guevara is getting up in importance and Fidel is losing importance in the Communist party," said Ordone.

U.S. Cuts N-Inspection Area

GENEVA (AP) — The United States substantially reduced today the area it said each on-site inspection would cover to police a ban on underground nuclear tests.

U.S. Ambassador Charles C. Stelle put before the 17-nation disarmament conference the first detailed Western Plan for inspection procedures.

The plan provides that any on-site inspection would cover a maximum of 500 square kilometers—193 square miles. Previously, the United States demanded inspection of an area of 700 to 800 square kilometers—270 to 308 square miles—to determine whether a suspicious underground disturbance was an earthquake or a banned nuclear explosion.

SCIENTIFIC REVIEW

"A careful review of the scientific problems concerned in determining the location of an epicenter—the center of the disturbance—led the United States to offer the reduced inspection area," Stelle said.

Stelle told the conference the Soviet Union was given advance notice of the detailed proposal in the hope of obtaining some Russian response.

"Thus far there has been no reply," he said.

Housewives Do as JFK Does, Not as He Says

KEY WEST, Fla. (AP)—Some Key West housewives prefer President Kennedy's rocking chair example rather than his 50-mile hike idea.

REDS FOR TEAMATES

Inspection teams in the U.S.S.R. would include at least 14 American and British nationals with additional team members drawn from neutral nations. The Russians could accompany the team with an equal number of Soviet observers.

Inspections in the United States and Britain would be carried out by at least 14 Russians and additional neutral technicians.

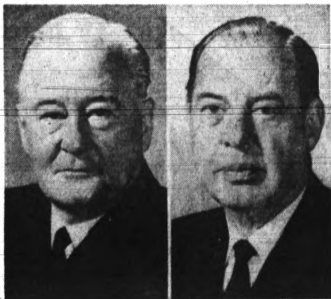

Each nation could exclude "sensitive defense installations" from areas subject to inspection, Stelle said. But any abuse of this provision "would be considered grounds on which treaty withdrawal could take place."

This meant that if the Soviet Union consistently refused inspections on the grounds that they would touch defense installations, the United States and Britain

No News Conference

Chocolate Sauce Good to Have

Molasses adds an unusual tang to chocolate sauce.

Chocolate Sauce

1 package (6 ounces or 1 cup) semi-sweet chocolate pieces
1 small can (½ cup) evaporated milk
½ cup dark molasses
½ teaspoon vanilla

In the top of a double boiler over hot, not boiling, water stir together the chocolate and undiluted evaporated milk until the chocolate melts. Stir in the molasses and vanilla. Serve hot or warm over ice cream. If sauce is stored in a tightly covered jar in the refrigerator, it may be heated by setting the jar in simmering water and stirring a few times. Makes 1½ cups.

PEACH DELIGHT—Whether entertaining the family or the ladies for party or club Peach Delight is just the new and elegant dessert to serve. Bright peach slices top a melt-in-the-mouth rum flavored whipped cream and macaroon blend. It's sheer eating pleasure.

Danes Use Fruit to Fill Spareribs

Fruit stuffing makes these fresh pork spareribs irresistible.

Danish Stuffed Spareribs

2 sides (about 3 pounds each)
1 cup prunes (water-soaked overnight)
4 medium or large apples
2 tablespoons sugar
2 tablespoons flour
¼ teaspoon cinnamon
1 cup drained canned pineapple chunks
Salt, pepper and extra flour
Choose matching fleshy sparerib sides. Drain prunes; pit and quarter. Pare and core apples; cut each into eighths; mix with sugar, flour and cinnamon, then with prunes and pineapple.

Sprinkle one sparerib side with salt and pepper; spread fruit mixture over meat; cover with other sparerib side; skewer together all edges. Sprinkle top of meat with salt, pepper and 2 or 3 teaspoons flour.
On a rack in a roasting pan, brown meat in a very hot (450 degrees) oven for 20 to 30 minutes. Cover pan with foil; continue to roast in a moderate (375 degrees) oven 1 hour or until tender.

About 15 minutes before end of roasting time, gravy in pan may be removed and fat skimmed off, and the ribs returned—uncovered—to a hot (425 degrees) oven to brown. Reheat gravy to serve with ribs. Makes 6 servings.

Elegant Appetizer

Saute 30 large fresh mushroom caps in butter or margarine. Combine a 5-ounce can chicken spread with ¼ cup chopped almonds and ¼ teaspoon curry powder; fill hot mushroom caps with mixture. Broil until filling bubbles.

Peachy Dessert Contains Rum

A dessert to serve with pride for a special occasion or to the family is Peach Delight. The light and fluffy blend of whipped cream and crumbled crisp macaroon cookies flavored with rum is the perfect mate for canned sliced peaches which crown the top. It is a fine meal dessert and is an especially good choice for a dessert party.

Be very elegant and team the dessert with demitasse coffee. And, for the bridge party or evening dessert add a plate of fancy cookies.

Peach Delight

1 cup whipping cream
2 tablespoons sugar
1 cup crumbled crisp macaroon cookies
¼ cup dark rum
1 can (1 lb.) sliced peaches
Whip cream until stiff. Fold in sugar, crumbled cookies and rum. Put a scoop in each dessert dish. Arrange drained peach slices around the macaroon and cream mixture. Chill 1 to 2 hours to blend flavors. Makes six servings.

Freezing bacon is not recommended because this type of storage usually increases the meat's saltiness.

Brown Your Croustons

Perfectly toasted croustons make salads and soups more delicious. Sautéing croustons in butter in a skillet over medium heat keeps them crisp and flavorful. Toss the cubes lightly over the heat for about 10 minutes. Sprinkle with onion or celery salt.

New Cookbooks Offer Variety of Recipes

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Food Editor

It's been about 10 years since a new edition of "Favorite Recipes from Famous Restaurants," (Golden Press, Poughkeepsie, N.Y.), put out by the Ford Company, has been published. The 1963 edition contains 820 recipes.

Unlike the earlier editions, this book is large. But the general format is the same. Each recipe is accompanied by a description of the restaurant from which it came and a painting of the restaurant. The recipes originally appeared in the Ford Times.

Here's a recipe from the Mayflower Hotel, Corpus Christi, Texas that will do well on Lenten menus.

HUEVOS RANCHEROS

Breakfast Eggs

3 eggs, scrambled or fried
1 whole fresh tomato chopped fine

2 green onions, chopped fine
3 hot peppers, chopped
½ cup tomato puree
½ cup hot water
¼ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon black pepper
¼ teaspoon powdered garlic

Saute tomato and onions together in hot greased skillet. Add hot peppers and saute together. Stir in tomato puree and water, adding salt, pepper and garlic powder. Simmer for 8 minutes. Pour over eggs. Serves 4.

Part travel story and part cookbook, Betty Watson's "The Art of Spanish Cooking" (Doubleday & Co., Inc., Garden City, New York, $3.95) is a fine addition to the list of foreign cookbooks available.

Mrs. Watson went to Spain for a month to see the restaurants and to find out for herself some of the secrets of Spanish cooking. While she has kept her recipe ingredients authentic, she has suggested the use of convenience foods wherever possible.

New Dessert Sauce Made With Juice

Here's a delicious sauce to make with plum syrup that's left over when the fruit is used in salads or in puddings.

Plum Sauce

2 tablespoons cornstarch
¼ cup orange juice
¼ teaspoon grated orange rind
2 cups syrup from a can (1 pound, 14 ounces) of purple plums

In a saucepan stir together the cornstarch and orange juice until smooth. Add orange rind and plum syrup. Cook and stir constantly over moderate heat until clear and thickened. Serve hot or warm over Cottage Pudding.

— says she knows American women will use them anyway.

(Chicken with Oranges)

13-pound chicken, cut up
1 cup chicken broth
2 tablespoons flour
1 teaspoon salt
4½ tablespoons olive oil
1 small onion, chopped
1 cup orange juice
1 cup chicken broth
¼ cup raisins
¼ cup ground almonds
¼ teaspoon cinnamon
¼ teaspoon cloves

Use neck, wing tips, back and giblets to make chicken broth, cooking in 1½ cups water with ¼ teaspoon salt, reducing to 1 cup.

Dust remaining pieces of chicken with flour blended with salt; fry in olive oil with chopped onion. When chicken is browned, add remaining ingredients, including strained broth. Cook gently, covered, about 40 minutes until chicken is very tender. Serve with rice. Makes 4 servings.

"Be a Wife - Saver" is the title of a helpful paper bound book authored by Elizabeth Hedgecock Sparks (Menu Maker, Box 413, Kernersville, N.C., $2.65). Mrs. Sparks who is a food editor colleague of ours has a book full of good advice for the homemaker, be she new or experienced.

The first part of the book is taken up by chapters on managing your time, budgeting, wardrobe planning, practical advice on homemaking, moving, etc. The last part of the book contains recipes.

This book would make an excellent gift for a new bride, especially one who will be working and keeping house at the same time.

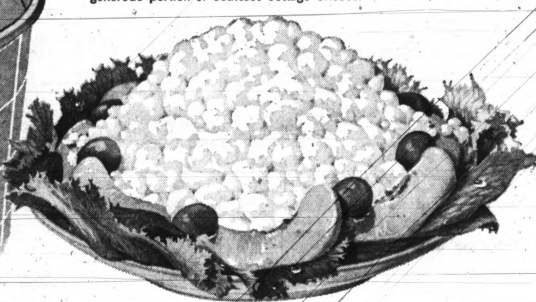

Don't be fooled...

by claims of "Durum" or "100% Durum" when you buy macaroni. Durum wheat, just like the beef you buy, has many grades of quality—with the top grades costing 30% more! I buy nothing but Creamette macaroni because it's made only from Semolina, the choice grind, milled from No. 3 Hard Amber Durum... the best!

FINDING CAUSE—Two Civil Aeronautics Board specialists reconstruct a Viscount airliner that crashed in Kansas City, Mo., in January, killing five passengers and three crew members, in an effort to determine cause of the crash.

28 County Drivers Taken Off Highways

Twenty-eight Oakland County drivers recently had their licenses suspended or revoked by the Michigan Department of State.

Ordered to show proof of financial responsibility after convictions of drunken driving were:

Eldelonso Alvarado, 466 Central Ave.; Lloyd J. Sparks, 2023 Windy Hill Lane; and Paul Petrisko, 9701 Norman Road, Clarkston.

Unsatisfactory driving records caused the following to lose their licenses:

Dale A. LaFlure, 185 N. Perry St.; Alfred L. Bradshaw, 31220 Fromm Drive, Birmingham; Zoltan Csejari, 728 E. Ruffner Road, Birmingham; Dennis M. Hyek, 592 E. Kalama Ave., Madison Heights; Eugene J. Kalish, 17637 Westland St., Southfield; and Michael T. Kinney, 775 Ann St., Birmingham.

Others are Milton E. Kress, 17335 Roseland St., Southfield; Lester Lipsitz, 14178 Vernon St., Oak Park; Elgin C. Norris, 1720 Dorchester Road, Birmingham; Ronald A. Perry, 1376 Humphrey St., Birmingham; Ronald E. Sheridan, 2429 E. 10-Mile Road, Ferndale; and James D. Shipley, 22203 Bonnet Hill Road, Farmington.

Still others are Robert H. Smith Jr., 191 University St., Ferndale; Larry B. Stiller, 13800 Pasadena

Tag Driver Is Tagged

PORT HURON (UPI)—An elderly St. Clair County man beat the Feb. 28 deadline for purchasing 1963 auto license tags, but it did him little good.

St. Clair County sheriff's deputies said they stopped the man, whom they did not identify, and gave him a ticket for not having a license.

The man had the tags attached to the front and rear of the car, but had no license plates. He said he was told the tags replaced the plates and had thrown them away.

French Terrorists Convinced De Gaulle's Traitor

By RICHARD K. O'MALLEY
PARIS (AP)—The terrorist Secret Army Organization of France is a product of humiliation, frustration and defeat.

Its seeds were sown in the rice paddies of Indochina, where the little brown men of the Communist Viet Minh triumphed. It was nurtured in the humiliating disaster of the Suez venture. It flowered bloodily in the red soil of Algeria.

These items of history are responsible, too, for attracting to its ranks names once venerable in the proud military history of France. These men believe that they are the patriots and President Charles de Gaulle the traitor.

For them, Algeria was the last straw. They had seen their armies defeated and thwarted elsewhere and they were determined to keep Algeria French by any means. History had passed them by, but in their fanatic determination they wanted to make it stand still. They could not realize that when the first hand of rebels raced out of the Aurès Mountains in 1954 Algeria already was lost.

De Gaulle, with his eye sharply upon the march of events, realized the hard fact of Algerian independence and said so. The men who created the secret army heard him with astonishment and rage.

So, in April 1961, the secret army became an organization with a name and an aim.

DISASTROUS

It was in that month that Gen. Raoul Salan, France's most decorated soldier, led the disastrous putsch of the generals in Algiers which crumbled in four days. Two generals became prisoners. Air Force Gen. Maurice Challe quickly gave himself up. On May 6, Gen. Andre Zeller surrendered. Salan and Gen. Edmond Jouhaud fled Algiers in a truck loaded with paratroopers.

From then until independence came to Algeria the secret army and its killers swarmed bloodily through that land. They established networks in France and the roar of plastic bombs shattered the calm of Paris and of other cities. They were exploded in warning, in retribution and in savage blackmail to obtain funds.

In Algeria it was easier to get money. Borrowing from the tactics of the old Bolsheviks in Russia, they robbed Algerian banks recklessly.

It was not the first strategy borrowed from the Communists. Some secret army veterans of Indochina adapted Viet Minh methods in their own cause: terrorism and propaganda, liberally mixed, were served up to the public.

THE INDEPENDENCE OF Algeria forced a change in their strategy. So did the arrests of Salan and Jouhaud. Headquarters were set up elsewhere. It has been rumored that they have administrative cells in Belgium, Austria, Germany, Switzerland, Spain and in France.

Spain is cleaning them out. Belgium swooped down on a handful of plotters some time ago. The Swiss reportedly are keeping an eye on men believed involved with the secret army. In France police are swift, vigilant and tough.

One by one the secret army leaders are being picked off. Gen. Paul Gardy, the last secret army high officer, is still a fugitive. Tough, wiry Col. Yves Godard, former intelligence chief of Algiers, has not been heard of for months. Some say he is dead. Col. Antoine Argoud was netted in a bizarre operation less than two weeks ago.

Today the two men whose names appear most as secret army chieftains are Col. Pierre Chateau-Jobert, who deserted the army in January last year, and Capt. Rene Sergeant. It is said that Sergeant has taken over as terrorist director for France.

MYSTERY MAN
The mystery man among those who head the resistance group is Jacques Soustelle, brilliant former Gaullist minister. His name has almost dropped from the news but he may well be helping to direct activities from some nearby country.

The secret army has its political arm, called the Council of National Resistance (CNR). It is headed by former Premier Georges Bidault, who was detained in Munich over the weekend. It appeared unlikely the West Germans would hand him over to the French government.

The CNR's aim, like that of the secret army operational wing, is removal of President de Gaulle from the scene. Attempts have been made on his life and the secret army still is pledged to get him.

Despite the announced program to remove de Gaulle from office, there has been no explanation of what the political aims would be if this ever were achieved. Some secret army men brutally declare that de Gaulle "morally deserves" to be assassinated. Beyond that, they offer no program, no goal, no plans for government.

This lack of objective would indicate that the plottings, the frustrated desire to strike down the president of France springs from savage vengeance, immediately born of the loss of Algeria but all part of a pattern that began at Dien Bien Phu in Indochina.

YOUR CHILD MAY HAVE PIN-WORMS 1 OUT OF 3 DOES

Fidgeting, nose-picking, a tormented child are often telltale signs of Pin-Worms... only parasites that medical experts may insist. Out of every 3 persons examined, 1 active infestation may be victims and not know it. To get rid of Pin-Worms, they must be killed in the large intestine where they live and multiply. That's exactly what Jayco's P-W Tablets do... and here's how they do it: First—a scientific coating carries the tablets into the bowels before they dissolve. Then—Jayco's modern, medically-approved ingredient goes right to work—kills Pin-Worms quickly and easily.

Don't take chances with dangerous, highly contagious Pin-Worms which infect entire families. Get genuine Jayco's P-W Vermifuge... small, easy-to-take tablets... special sizes for children and adults.

Committees Hash Over Ford-Canton Proposal

LANSING (AP)—The bill proposed by Gov. George Romney aimed at solving the controversy over the so-called Ford-Canton decision is still being hashed over by both Senate and House labor committees.

Romney agreed his proposed bill probably would not be completely acceptable to both management and labor.

The State Supreme Court ruling holds that workers held by strikes in other states are entitled to unemployment compensation benefits.

Basic issue is whether employers, by paying into the unemployment compensation fund, are forced in effect to finance strikes against themselves.

The Senate Labor Committee scheduled a hearing this afternoon, to be attended mostly by attorneys for all concerned and to concentrate on legal technicalities of the bill.

The House Labor Committee yesterday heard Nat Weinberg, UAW-UMW spokesman, declare that the decision did nothing more than bring Michigan in line with the practice in the great majority of other states.

Weinberg said although the union does not believe legislation is necessary, it is not opposed to such legislation.

"We have outlined the kind of legislation we would support in terms that are completely in accord with the objectives set forth by Gov. Romney," he said.

The union spokesman then proposed a series of amendments to Romney's proposal. Key points in the Romney bill

Text Statement 'Politics'—Bartlett Rival

LANSING (AP)—Raymond Hatch, Republican candidate for state superintendent of public instruction, today said "political gain" was involved in a statement on school textbook policy.

Hatch referred to a policy statement of the Committee for Better Human Relations of the Michigan Curriculum Program, urging equality in textbooks. It was released by Lynn Bartlett, his opponent in the April 1 election.

"I, too, oppose any reference which would cast Negroes, Orientals or any other minority group in uncompensated roles," Hatch said.

"However," he said, "I am greatly disappointed that the present Democratic officeholder would release this policy statement in the middle of a political campaign. I can only surmise this was done for political gain. I consider such action to be improper."

Bartlett replied there was no such consideration in release of the policy statement.

What have we done for you lately?

They Bring Children's Laughter to Hospital

Mrs. Roberta Tripp is shown in the play room of the pediatrics ward of Pontiac General Hospital. She is a coordinator of pediatrics volunteers. Her "Play Ladies" supervise recreation for children confined to the hospital.

It's the hospital with a heart—the heart of Mrs. Roberta Tripp and her group of "Play Ladies." These dedicated women devote their time to children in the pediatrics ward at Pontiac General Hospital.

As coordinator of pediatrics volunteers, Mrs. Tripp attempts to have two women on duty in the morning, two in the afternoon and two in the evening, with four candy strippers (high school volunteers).

Mrs. Tripp has been associated with the volunteer program since its beginning in 1953. For the past 10 years she has put in at least four hours a day for a six-day week at the hospital, aside from work done at home.

A modest woman who prefers to keep herself in the background and the Play Ladies in the spotlight, she explains "I don't run a one-man show here."

SPECIAL ROOM

Bringing pleasure to the children of the hospital is the main concern of Mrs. Tripp and the Play Ladies. In their special room, children may pass the hours in play under excellent supervision, or with their parents. A large toy train brings games and cheer to those children who may not leave their beds.

Nearly every holiday is observed with special decorations and projects. Birthdays are celebrated at parties complete with paper hats, ice cream and cake and specially made and wrapped gifts. Children are taught how to make presents for their parents on Mothers Day and Fathers Day and often make special gifts for other hospital patients.

Christmas sees babies delivered to their mothers in bright red stockings, while on New Year's Day they come in with stocking caps. These projects and many more were begun by Mrs. Tripp and the Play Ladies.

The Women's Auxiliary to the Pontiac General Hospital contributes money each month with which Mrs. Tripp buys supplies and toys for the playroom. Many dolls, clothing, coloring books and other toys are donated, as are ribbons for gift wrapping.

CLOSET FULL

For those who wish to help in some way but do not have materials, Mrs. Tripp has a storage closet of things just waiting to be made at home.

With typical hospital cleanliness, each toy is disinfected after use so there is no danger of germs spreading. Play Ladies wash toys and do clothing themselves.

What is a Play Lady? A Play Lady is someone who loves life, cheer and happiness to a child who is often frightened and confused by the unknown and strange world of a hospital.

Tells Club of Travels

Mrs. John Garrison of Detroit spoke of her recent travels in Africa, India and Australia before the Junior Pontiac Women's Club Monday in the First Federal Savings of Oakland club rooms.

Nancy Ball Honored at Shower

Nancy Louise Ball was honored at a bridal shower Monday evening in the Dill Road home of Mrs. Richard Lund. Mrs. William Meyers was cohostess.

Mrs. Henry W. Ball of Edgewater Court entertained for her niece at a Saturday evening shower. Mrs. Leonard Phiese of North Perry Street gave a recent linen shower, with Mrs. Russell Grango sharing hostess honors.

The bride-elect is the daughter of the Charles N. Balls of Island Park Drive. Her fiancé is Clayton D. DeLorge of Lake Angelus.

Don't Take Plates Until Diners Done

By The Emily Post Institute

Q: Isn't it improper for a hostess to begin removing plates at the end of a course before all at table have finished eating? Several hostesses I know begin removing the plates as soon as two or three guests have finished eating.

I think this is very rude to the guests who eat more slowly and that it either forces them to gulp their food or to leave it uneaten in order not to hold up the service.

Will you please give me your opinion?

A: It is neither kind nor polite to those who eat slowly, for a hostess to remove the plates before all have finished eating.

Q: I am the head of a textile company. Very soon we will be moving to larger quarters in a brand new building. I thought it would be a nice idea to have a sort of open house the day before we officially move in.

Will this be proper, and if so, what type of invitation should be sent?

A: It will be entirely proper and not at all unusual to open your new offices with a reception. A typical invitation would be:

"The John Blank Company requests the pleasure of your company at the opening of its new offices 24 Main Street from two to five o'clock."

Q: My daughter is going to be married here at home the latter part of May. I would like to know if it is necessary to have chairs arranged for the guests to sit down during the ceremony, or do they stand?

A: Unless your house is very large and chairs can be arranged as in a church, guests are seldom seated at a house wedding, although a few chairs always are left standing nearby for elderly members of the family or others who cannot stand for a very short time.

The clothes of the bride and groom's parents as well as those of the wedding guests are described in the new Emily Post Institute booklet entitled, "Correct Clothes for a Wedding Reception." To obtain a copy, send 10 cents in coin and a self-addressed, stamped envelope to the Emily Post Institute, in care of The Pontiac Press.

The Emily Post Institute cannot answer personal mail, but all questions of general interest are answered in this column.

Pontiac Musicales Stages Concert

By BERNICE ROSENTHAL

Pontiac Tuesday Musicales has every reason to be proud of its 30-vocal chorus. At Tuesday afternoon's concert at Grace Lutheran Church, shared with scholarship pianist, Miss Joan Grahek, the women's chorus, under direction of Mrs. F. Gaensbauer, presented a varied program. It was inspiring to hear the beautifully blended voices, yet sensitive direction, go from 17th century madrigal to East Indian Veddy music, to musical comedy.

The unusual program began with "Which is the Proper Day to Sing" by the 18th century composer Arne. "Sing We and Chant It," Thomas Morley's 16th-century madrigal, was presented with lightness and simplicity, which belied difficult contrapuntal lines all voices carry. "Sing We and Chant It," written by contemporary composer Randall Thompson in imitation of a 16th century motet, the simple prayer achieves deep religious stature which was gently delineated by the many parts.

The group closed with two excerpts from Handel's "L'Allegro." In these selections, Mrs. Gaensbauer joined the chorus' accompanist, Mrs. W. A. Schmitz, in the fourhand accompaniment.

PIANO PERFORMANCE: Joan Grahek, Pontiac Central High School senior, played two piano compositions, the "G Minor Rhapsody" by Brahms, and the Rondo from the "Pathétique Sonata" by Beethoven.

Miss Grahek grows constantly in mastery of her instrument and is already a performer to be reckoned among concert pianists.

She plays with great fire and depth and has resonance and a singing tone. She performed the Brahms rhapsody with passion and ecstacy. Her attacks were brusque and masculine, as the composition demands, and the contrasting passages were lyrical and pleasing.

She has clean-cut technique which is under control at all times. The Beethoven rondo was done in fine taste, with infinite thought and care to the exact turn of a phrase and to interpretation of each return of the main theme.

The chorus' concluding group consisted of Debussy's gentle and gossamer "The Rain Falls On My Heart" in which the voices of Mrs. V. Lindquist and Mrs. L. G. Cox were heard as soloists. "Hymn to the Waters" and "Hymn to Agni" from "The Rig Veda"—Indian religious music by Gustav Holst—and selections from "My Fair Lady," which featured an arrangement with solos by Mrs. J. H. Helvey, Mrs. J. F. Radenbaugh and Mrs. L. J. Radenbaugh were also heard.

OFFICERS ELECTED

Officers elected for the coming year at the business meeting were Mrs. George Putnam, president; Mrs. Victor Lindquist and Mrs. James Rosenthal, vice presidents; Mrs. W. A. Schmitz and Mrs. N. W. Todd, secretaries; Mrs. R. H. Austin, and Mrs. George Shearer, treasurers; and Mrs. Philip Vierende, historian.

The hostess committee for the day was comprised of Mrs. Todd, Mrs. Marvin Alward, Mrs. Allan Monroe, Mrs. Gelston Poole, Mrs. Charles Harmon and Mrs. S. J. Dailey.

Others were Mrs. William Donaldson, Mrs. E. G. Winn, Mrs. H. C. Marsh, Mrs. L. J. Enos, Mrs. L. R. Sampson, Mrs. Cecil McCallum and Mrs. U. C. Meeker.

Cranbrook Music Guild Presents Young Pianist

By SIGNE KARLSTROM Tuesday night at Cranbrook House, the Cranbrook Music Guild presented the young accomplished pianist, Lee Lavist. Mrs. Martin Archangel was chairman of the house committee and in charge of hostesses was Mrs. Orville L. Beardley, who was assisted by: Mesdames William L. Kemp; William Graham; John W. Sanders; Benjamin Brewster; Max Fruhauf, and George W. Davis.

Last weekend, Mrs. McKnight Parker of Colonial Court had as house guests her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Harold J. McKnight of Coldwater. Mrs. McKnight is well known throughout the state as a judge in flower shows and viewed the flower show at Cobo Hall.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Whiting Jr., who recently moved to their new home on Half Moon Road have invited friends to be with them on Sunday from 5 to 8 p.m.

Mrs. Henry Whiting of Lake Park and her mother, Mrs. Alvan Macauley of Grosse Pointe, are in Sarasota, Fla.

During spring vacation at Kingswood School, Peggy and Libbett Darrah and their friend, Joan Emmett, will travel to Naples, Fla., with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Darrah of Ardmore Road.

Say Vows in Area Ceremony

The Orchard Lake Community Church, Presbyterian, was the setting for the marriage of Patricia Suzanne Lazin and Dennis Lynn Brown. Rev. Edward D. Auchard performed the March 5 ceremony.

Mrs. Marie Lazin of Orchard Lake and Charles Lazin of White Lake are parents of the bride. The bridegroom is the son of the Clarence E. Browns of Orchard Lake. The newlyweds are at home in Pontiac.

Mr. and Mrs. Judge W. Bearden with daughters Sue and Patricia, will be at Camelback Inn in Arizona for spring vacation.

Mrs. T. F. W. Myers is back from an extended stay at DelRay Beach, Fla., and Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy W. Dahlberg of Lone Pine Road have returned to their home after several weeks of skiing in Aspen, Colo.

Katherine Williams, young American soprano, will appear March 20 at 10:30 a.m. at the Huron Theater under the auspices of the Pontiac-Oakland Town Hall.

Gifted in operatic, concert and oratorio performance, Miss Williams confides that her first vocal efforts were confined to yodeling.

She has performed on the Arthur Godfrey Talent Scouts program and the Firestone Hour. She toured with the Fred Waring Chorale and sang in the Broadway hit "Li'l Abner." She has worked with the Pacific Opera Company of San Francisco and the Pittsburgh Opera Company.

A celebrity luncheon at Devon Gables will follow the program.

Won't Admit Mistake

He Needs Mule Doctor

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: My husband is stubborn as a mule. He had a large callous on the bottom of his foot and he tried to "trim" it with a razor blade. He cut more than he should have and it isn't healing.

He's limping around but finally refuses to see a doctor because he's afraid the doctor will ask him how it happened and he's ashamed to tell him. My husband is in his forties and is acting like a baby.

Could I call our doctor and ask him to come by the house and order my husband to take his shoe and sock off? Or, would that be too humiliating?

I'm afraid it might turn into something serious.

WIFE OF A MULE

DEAR WIFE: Call your doctor, tell him the story, and ask him to come to your home. But don't expect him to "order" your husband to submit to an examination.

Doctors have gentler ways of handling full-grown babies. Don't let this go on. Better to have a humiliated husband than a sick one.

DEAR ABBY: My ex-husband has started to date me again, and there is a good chance that we will remarry. The problem is: When I introduce him to people who did not know of our former relationship, how should I introduce him?

Should I refer to him as my "ex-husband"? I can't say, "This is my fiancé" because we are not yet officially engaged.

Please set me straight, but don't use my right name.

PUZZLED DEAR PUZZLED: It is not necessary to mention your past relationship. Simply introduce him as your friend, John Jones.

DEAR ABBY: We men in the Marines on Okinawa read your column every day, and want to thank you for recognizing how much it means to get mail over here.

Please tell the folks back home who think they can get first-hand information on the world situation from a man in uniform that we aren't allowed to write about all the activities in which we are engaged because of security reasons.

Also, tell them to write us GOOD news, not the depressing news we can't do anything but feel bad about. Thanks a million.

MEN OF THE LIMA BATTERY DEAR MEN: We folks at home have a responsibility to our men in uniform.

They are keeping us free and safe, so if you know a man away in the service, write to him.

Send him cartoons and clippings from his hometown paper. Make it happy. And make it snappy.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "OLD-FASHIONED MOTHER": Since when is it "old-fashioned" for a mother to insist on moral behavior? Tell your daughter that you don't care what the other mothers allow. No daughter of yours is going on a weekend ski trip with her boy friend. And if HE doesn't like it, the boy friend can go jump.

CONFIDENTIAL TO BUZZ: Let me put it this way, I have yet to meet the first person who told me that he was GLAD he quit high school. But those who have told me that they regretted quitting are without number. The "job" can wait. Graduate.

What's on your mind? For a personal reply, send a self-addressed, stamped envelope to Abby, in care of The Pontiac Press.

Beta Sigs Schedule Style Show, Party

Beta Sigma Phi City Council will sponsor its second annual card party and fashion show at 8 p.m. March 20 in the "300 Lounge." Styles will be presented by Peggy's. A donation from the proceeds for much needed books will be presented to Mrs. Howard Armstrong, school librarian at Oakland County Children's Center on Founders' Day (April 24).

Mrs. Clyde Haskill, of Zeta Eta Chapter, will be chairman for the event and Mrs. Elma C. Jones, Epsilon Rho chapter, co-chairman. They are president and vice president, respectively, of City Council.

OTHER CHAIRMEN Other chairmen are Barbara Frasa, Phi Alpha Kappa, publicity; Mrs. James Anthony, Zeta Eta, tables; Mrs. Robert Lyon, Xi Beta Theta, door prizes; Mrs. Robert Terry, Alpha Omega, tickets; Mrs. Ralph Price, Xi Pi, cards and tallies; Mrs. Elwyn Hall, Xi Alpha Nu, refreshments; Mrs. John Whitehead, Xi Beta Beta, table favors.

Judith Brown, Phi Gamma Eta, will decorate the refreshment table and Carol Clark, Phi Gamma Zeta, will provide china.

Two members and an alternate from each of 10 Pontiac chapters of Beta Sigma Phi comprise City Council. Tickets may be purchased at Peggy's, from members or at the door.

Beta Sigma Phi members who will be models at the fashion show and card party March 20 are (from left) Mrs. Elmo C. Jones, Lorberta Lane; Mrs. James E. Anthony, Ross Drive.

The population of the Union of South Africa is now more than 1 million persons. When the British came about 150 years ago it was about 50,000.

Mrs. William Brown, Mrs. Edwin Backes, Rose Griffin, Mrs. Dennis Daugherty and Mrs. Michael Harbert comprise the committee. There will be door prizes and refreshments.

Shoes Show Less Feet for Spring

The "less shoe" look this Spring will be more feminine and alluring, more delicate in design, according to Gerald Gellady, Vice President in charge of design for the A. S. Beck Shoe Corporation.

"The outstanding change in women's shoe design for 1963," he said, "is the more feminine, more revealing, shelled-out, cut-out, open-sided, lower-backed look."

"Women's shoes will be decidedly lighter, airier, more alluring and designed to enhance the attractiveness of the average woman's legs."

Mr. Gellady said that there is a great deal of interest for Spring in the set-back low heel. However, this also will receive the "less shoe" treatment. He described the new Spring colors as carrying out the "open" look with beautiful new citrus tones of yellow to orange and a "milk and honey" feeling in the bones and beiges.

Before You Move Out: Will It Be Cheaper?

By MARY FEELEY
Consultant in Money Management

Dear Miss Feeley:

We are a couple, age 56, and my husband will retire in nine years from the postal service with a pension of $275 a month.

His annual net pay is $4,619. We owe $1,794 on our house, plus $1,750 FHA for remodeling. The house is old and still needs a great deal of work, including a new roof. Our total payments are $104.87 a month. Utilities run about $46 a month. Our car is seven years old and paid for.

We have no dependents or close relatives. I feel we should sell the house and move into an apartment. My husband does not want to pay rent; he feels that the house is an investment.

He is not a handyman and any work must include labor costs. We have no savings to speak of, and if we continue to put the money into the house, we will not be able to save anything because we live in a good neighborhood where appearances must be kept up.

Can you advise us?

Mrs. D. C., St. Paul, Minn.

Dear Mrs. C.:

A little action is usually good medicine when you're suffering from indecision. Do this: go out and look around at apartments in a $50 to $70 a month range—$70 the very tops, since you should think in terms of living on that $275 a month pension. Estimate the cost of utilities if you rent. Then jot down the estimated annual cost of apartment-living, on the basis of your survey.

Now put down on paper the estimated cost of that new roof hood could increase in value. But your house needs, and all other repairs you can reasonably foresee, with labor costs included. Talk to a contractor or other expert on repairs, rather than just guessing on upcoming expenses. Add to this total real estate taxes you pay annually, and the insurance costs after the house is all yours.

How do those two sums—apartment versus home—compare, on a yearly basis?

When your mortgage and your FHA loan are paid off, you'll be figuring only in terms of maintenance, insurance, taxes, utilities. If that sum amounts to more than the yearly rental of an apartment, plus utilities, the apartment would seem to be the better bargain.

Of course, if your husband could or would do part of the repairs on your home, that would bring down maintenance costs considerably. It's entirely possible, too, that a home in a good neighborhood could increase in value. But then real estate taxes may well increase, too. And who can say how much rents may go up? You're bound to take something of a gamble whether you sell and rent, or stay where you are. But at least, if you take a good look at the figures I've suggested, you'll be able to weigh the savings you could expect to build up by the time your husband is retired.

Sometimes this matter of selling or not selling the home is as much a psychological problem as a financial one. If your husband is dead set against it, it may be his heart rather than his head that's doing the arguing. Better give that due consideration. No apartment is going to be much of a home if unhappiness moves in with the furniture. It may be, too, that after retirement your husband will develop unsuspected handyman talents. It has happened.

If you will send a self-addressed, stamped envelope to Mary Feeley in care of The Pontiac Press, she will try to answer your question personally.

Strong Yet Safe—Gives Hours of Continuous Relief from Minor ARTHRITIS PAINS

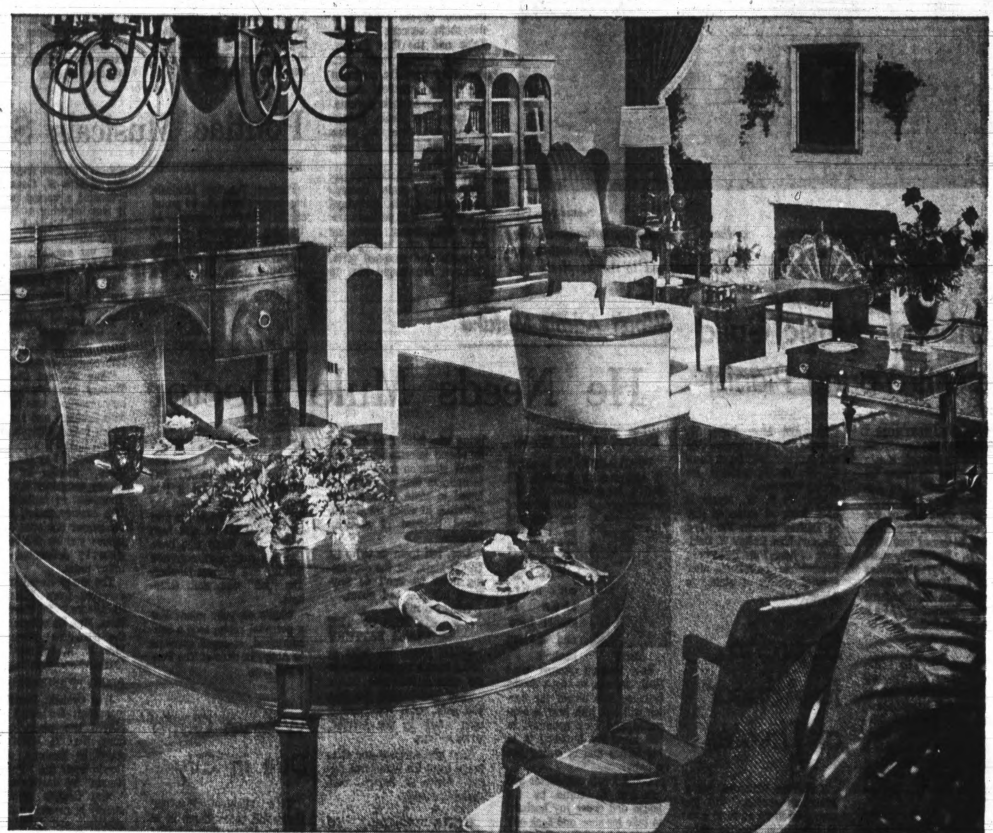

Reduces swelling and inflammation so it's easier to move afflicted limbs again

No cure as yet has been found for arthritis. But medical research has established that the strong yet safe medication in Anacin® gives hours of relief from arthritic aches— even such chronic pain arising from deep in joints. It has also been found an ingredient in Anacin has a special anti-inflammatory action that helps reduce swelling and inflammation—a basic cause of arthritis suffering. In minutes—pain is relieved so it's easier to move around and this helps keep joints from "locking" or "stiffening."

Anacin Tablets are like a doctor's prescription. That is, a combination of ingredients. Anacin contains the pain reliever doctors recommend the most, plus an extra ingredient not found in leading aspirins or buffered aspirins. Take as directed.

Nurses Hear Announces Renewal Red Cross of Music Scholarship Leaders

Two nationally-known Red Cross women spoke Tuesday evening to area nurses in the Community Services Building.

Helen Flanagan, R.N., disaster nursing consultant from midwestern-regional-headquarters of the American Red Cross in St. Louis, Mo., discussed the nurse's role in time of disaster.

Miss Flanagan has served as a public health nurse in both urban and rural communities and has a background of twenty years experience in nursing during all types of natural disasters.

The other visitor was Mrs. Marguerite Dubois, national director of nursing, Panama City, C.Z.

Mrs. Dubois is touring the United States to become better acquainted with various nursing programs, especially the Red Cross Gray Ladies program.

Last week she attended a Gray Ladies meeting at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital. She also talked with Dr. Walter Obenaus, Pontiac State Hospital, about the Gray Ladies program there.

Gray Ladies service was introduced in the Panama Red Cross last fall by American Red Cross personnel going there to teach

Beach Caps Offer Style

The assortment of beach cap styles rapidly is getting as wide as the number of bathing suit fashions. Even the pillowbox, in high fashion colors, is new for '63 bathing beauties. It's flat on top with a band of waterproof flowers. Other cap styles include the aloha, with pineapple motif; the gamin, a modified shaggy boy-cut look; and the ondine, copied from the water sylph.

Nail polish stored in the refrigerator dries less rapidly.

PTAs in Action

Waterford PTA groups will be capped at their 8 p.m. meeting. Movies and a tape recording made in Waterford Township school classes for mentally handicapped will be presented. The school chorus will sing.

DAVID GRAYSON PTA will meet at 8 p.m. Officers will be elected. Dr. Shelton L. Root Jr., associate professor of children's literature at Wayne State University, will speak on "Let's Let Them Read."

HAVILAND PTA will feature a program on the mentally handi-

PTA publicity chairmen are again reminded that all notices must be at The Pontiac Press Monday of the week they are to be published.

DRAYTON PLAINS PTA will feature two film presentations, "Sociable Six to Noisy Nine" and "From Ten to Twelve," at their 7:45 p.m. meeting. A discussion period will follow.

LAMBERT PTA will elect officers at their 8 p.m. meeting. Following the business meeting the Lambert Chorus under the direction of Mrs. Marjorie Wiley will present several selections.

MONTEITH PTA will hold an open house at 8 p.m. There will be a short business meeting and election of officers.

Women outnumber men, 52 to 48, as shareholders in public corporations in the United States.

Dryer Hoods Turn Stylish

The last word in shampoo-beauty and luxury is the dryer hood which resembles a chic bonnet! Styles include all-over multi-colored flowers, lace with flower trim, and stylized artichoke-like petals.

It seems that women are not content just to look beautiful after their weekly shampoos, but also during the wash-set-and-dry process. Incidentally, the dryer hoods are made of plastic which can be sudsed safely to wash away wave set lotion.

Only the Amount!

No Food Is Fattening

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

In the strict sense of the word, there is no such thing as a "fattening" or a "slimming" food. If you eat enough of any food, it will make you fat, and if you eat little enough, you will lose weight. It is not what you eat but how much.

We think of some foods as "fattening" because they have such a high calorie count. For instance, one chocolate cream has 110 calories; three-fourth cup of macaroni, baked with cheese, gives you 348 calories. Usually, high-calorie foods are not essential to health and there is seldom room for them on a reducing diet if you are to get all the essentials for good nutrition.

Some perfectly innocent foods have gotten the reputation of being fattening because of the way they are prepared. Nothing is better qualified to be on a slimming diet than a baked potato.

One gives you about 100 calories. Add salt and pepper, and even a dot of butter, and it is still a splendid low-calorie item for your dinner.

But, if you cream or scallop that potato, one-half cup gives you 100 calories. If you make it into salad, one-fourth cup gives you 100 calories and if you make french fries, just eight of them count up to 157 calories.

HARMLESS NIBBLING

Whenever a woman says: "I do not eat potatoes and never put sugar in my coffee," I know that she doesn't know much about a reducing diet or calorie counting.

Most likely she is nibbling on all sorts of seemingly harmless little items while she faithfully leaves off potatoes and drinks her coffee black.

If you drink a lot of coffee, it's wise not to use sugar and cream, but there is no reason why you cannot have a teaspoonful of each in your morning cup.

Remember it is the amount, not the kind, of food which dictates what your weight will be. It's the kind of food you eat, however, which influences your health.

If you would like to have my calorie chart, send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for leaflet No. 36 to Josephine Lowman in care of The Pontiac Press.

SEW SIMPLE

By Eunice Farmer

Neckties that are dated because they are too wide, can be brought back into use. Simply remove the hand stitching on the back of the tie, cut the interfacing of the tie the width of the new ties, then press the tie to fit over the narrower interfacing, cutting away the excess material.

When pressing, insert a piece of cardboard the exact size of your new tie and the pressing will look more professional. Restitch by hand, as done originally and you will have a new tie!

Mrs. W. W. Frank, Tulsa, Okla., wins a Tailor Trix pressing board for having finally solved the problem of what to make of old neckties.

Dear Eunice: It seems that at one time I read in your column about an easy way to shorten children's coat sleeves. Could you please repeat this for many of us who may not have saved it?

MRS. W. J. Dear Mrs. W. J.: With spring coming and new coats purchased to last for more than one season, I will be happy to repeat this easy tip.

Simply make a tuck in the sleeve lining, the size would depend upon the finished length the sleeve should be. Press the coat sleeve on the new hemline.

It only takes a few minutes of your time, and best of all, next season when the sleeves need lengthening, you only have to rip out the tuck in the lining and the job is finished.

Dear Eunice: What is the cause of wrinkles in a sleeve, to the front, at the armhole? They extend horizontally, more like ripples than wrinkles. Thanks for any help you can give me.

MRS. J. B. Dear Mrs. J. B.: The way you describe the wrinkles, it sounds as if you are pulling up too much ease when you shape your sleeve before placing it into the armhole. Remember, the sleeve should always be slightly larger than the armhole.

This will be absorbed when you pin the sleeve in, easing this extra fabric over your fingers.

I am sure you will enjoy my step-by-step leaflet on sleeves which you may obtain by sending a self-addressed, stamped envelope and 10 cents to Sew Simple in care of The Pontiac Press.

EASY BUCKLE COVERING

Mrs. S. G. says: Cover an old belt buckle with your new fabric by using double-coated adhesive tape. It works perfect and can even be used to cover old buttons.

Dear Eunice: Has anyone ever put a slide fastener in a sweater. Mrs. D. A.

Dear Mrs. D. A.: They can be inserted into slip-over sweaters if you follow these instructions carefully. First, be sure to get a fastener that matches the color of the sweater perfectly because the small slide will show a little.

1. Baste a piece of hem tape on the wrong side of the sweater, the length of the fastener you are inserting.

2. Machine stitch 1/4 inch each side of the center of the hem tape with a small stitch. Now cut the sweater between the 2 rows of stitching.

3. Machine stitch the sweater to the tape of the fastener, stitching 1/4 inch from the cut edge of the sweater.

This is done from the inside and the machine stitching should not show from the right side of the sweater.

4. Hand whip the outer edge of the fastener tape to the sweater with tiny invisible stitches. Your results should be very professional if done carefully.

SEWING GLOSSARY

Waistline-stay—this is either seam binding, a strip of the selvedge of your fabric, or grosgrain ribbon which is either machine stitched or hand whipped to the waistline seam.

This prevents the waistline from stretching and should be done on all dresses.

What are your problems and the parts of sewing that are puzzling you? Send them to Sew Simple in care of The Pontiac Press and I will answer them as soon as the space permits.

Clean Can Opener

Run a paper napkin through the wall can opener after each meal. It cleans the opener by absorbing grease and moisture.

Patching Material

Use material from under a pocket to patch a patterned shirt or skirt. Replace fabric you have removed with any other fabric.

Make Plans for Dinner

Easter Court No. 13, Order of the Amaranth, will sponsor a chop suey dinner March 22 in Roosevelt Temple on State Street.

Royal Matron Mrs. Laura Wait appointed committees for the year at Friday's meeting in the temple. Hostesses for the evening were Mrs. Maude Vaccaro, Mrs. Wallace Morgan and Mrs. Albert Kugler.

Easter Hats Now Freudian

NEW YORK (UPI)—British milliners have come up with a kind of Freudian guide to Easter bonnets, the Insider's Newsletter said today.

Hats with bold, uncluttered crowns are picked by a woman who is wildly generous and sexually aggressive.

Fanciers of wide brims tend to be frigid, calculating and narrow minded; and feather-topped females tend to be frivolous, trivial and feather-brained, the Britons said.

If a cookie cutter is first dipped in slightly warm salad oil, it will cut cleanly.

A small piece of crushed aluminum foil can substitute as a brush for cleaning the cage.

Frosted cakes will retain their moisture better when stored in a cake safe or under a large inverted bowl.

New pep for tired husbands!

No wonder so many women complain that their husbands come home "too tired out to sleep!" The churning tensions millions of men face on their jobs constantly drain them of the energy and vitality they might otherwise have.

- That's why many doctors recommend supplementing the daily diet with Kretschmer Wheat Germ, nature's great "bounce-back" food. Made from the germinating heart of the wheat kernel, wheat germ is the most healthful food known, according to official U.S. Department of Agriculture studies of the nutritive values of foods.
- Kretschmer Wheat Germ actually provides a total of 80 naturally balanced nutrients essential to good health, vigor and stamina! In addition, it acts like a spark plug to help the body use other high-energy foods more fully.
- Serve your husband this remarkable natural food every day for breakfast and see for yourself how much more zip and vitality he has!
- Use these delicious, tiny toasted flakes as a cereal, on cereals, or add to pancakes and scrambled eggs.
- Kretschmer Wheat Germ is great for the entire family, no be sure to get some. Look for it in vacuum-sealed glass jars in the cereal section of your food store. Choose either regular or Sugar 'N Honey.

Lyndon Puts Teddy in Chair While GOP Is Crying 'Politics'

RUTH MONTGOMERY
WASHINGTON — Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson forced youthful Sen. Teddy Kennedy to become a captive audience to her day for some enraged Republican senators, who had discovered that Kennedy's bumptious campaign slogan, "He can do more for Massachusetts," was seemingly paying off.

The four GOP solons had just learned about Treasury Secretary Douglas Dillon's order to consolidate all Internal Revenue Service district and regional offices in New York and New England under one regional office in Boston. Boston is, of course, the home ballpark of Teddy and the Kennedy clan.

First man up to sound his protest was Williams, the soft-spoken chicken farmer from the eastern shore who has been nicknamed "The Whispering Dynamite" because of his sensational exposes of internal revenue shenanigans.

Chiding Dillon for announcing to newspapers the precedent shattering shift without even consulting members of the Senate Finance Committee, he insisted: "There is a suspicion that political consideration may have been a factor in making these decisions."

GIANS FLOOR
A few minutes later Aiken, dean of Senate Republicans, gained the floor and purred: "I intend to disregard the political aspects of this latest maneuver of the Internal Revenue Service. I do not intend to discuss the assurance which they have given the employees that they will not be demoted until after the 1964 election.

"As for moving the regional offices from New York to Boston... if Gov. Rockefeller does not yet know that the campaign of 1964 is well under way, I think he should be discouraged from becoming a candidate for office."

"However, I feel that perhaps he does realize that the campaign of 1964 is under way. Why should a system which has worked so well over the years now be upset in favor of one which is dubious?"

Up to this point, Vice President Johnson had occupied his own presidential office's chair. However, as Keating of New York rose to blast the administration's surprise action, Johnson beckoned freshman Sen. Kennedy to take over the chair.

This pishick move not only forced Kennedy to face the entire Senate during the heated debate, but also denied him the right to speak in defense of his office.

Keating, addressing presiding officer Teddy K. declared: "Mr. President, I do not have to spell out the dollars and cents of the situation to state in all candor that this proposal makes no sense whatever to me. It would be a case of the tail wagging the dog."

"If consolidation is needed, the place to consolidate is in New York City," not Boston.

3 TIMES AS MUCH
Keating went on to point out that the taxpayers of New York State "pour into the coffers of the tax collectors' nearly three times as much money as that collected in Boston and all of New England combined."

Next up was Jacob Javits, who caustically criticized "the removal of the regional office" from New York to Boston, and added: "New York is the highest tax-paying unit in the United States. It is inconceivable that removal to Boston of a regional office can be justified."

As presiding officer, Teddy sat mute. What he might have pointed out, however, is that although New York may have the mostest—including a Republican governor and two GOP senators—Massachusetts has the bestest.

These include such stellar Democrats as President Kennedy, who is up for re-election next year; Atty. Gen. Bobby Kennedy, his campaign master-minder; Teddy Kennedy, who must run again next year for the Senate; and House Speaker John McCormack, also up for re-election in '64.

Despite four such logical reasons for a shift from New York to Boston, Dillon hastily announced that "in view of the objections," he would "reconsider" the entire consolidation plans.

U.S. Trimming Book Pirates' Sails

By G. K. HODENFIELD
AP Education Writer
WASHINGTON—Those book pirates in Formosa and Hong Kong are walking the economic plank. Slowly but—bump—surely, the U.S. Bureau of Customs is chomping off a once-flourishing trade in college textbooks, copyrightable in this country but reproduced abroad and sold here at a fraction of the regular price.

As recently as last June, the trade in pirated books posed a major threat to the multimillion-dollar U.S. publishing industry. Authors were losing thousands of dollars in potential royalties.

"Gray's Anatomy," a standard reference work for American medical students, could be purchased for $2.50, instead of the regular $17.50. Fern's "Nuclear Physics," regularly $3.50 in college bookstores, was available for $1.25. Encyclopedias normally costing several hundred dollars could be purchased for less than $60.

On one Midwestern campus alone, the pirated books sold at a rate of $400 a week.

UNKNIT AT MIT
Perhaps the unkindest cut of all was administered on the campus of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

Student agents for a Formosa publisher took orders for the textbook, "Electromagnetic Theory" by Julius Adams Stratton. The quoted price was $2.50, compared with the bookstore price of $12.

Dr. Stratton also happens to be the president of MIT.
Now, through a little known law, the Customs Bureau is blocking importation of such books.

The law says that books copyrighted by an American citizen, or a person domiciled in the United States, may not be imported from abroad.

Customs agents, particularly on the West Coast, are concentrating on packages from Formosa and Hong Kong which appear to contain books. Any books seized under the law are destroyed.

"We think we have this thing choked off," said George Long of the Customs Bureau in an interview.

"We won't know for sure until spring, when the college students place their orders for fall delivery. And we can't be sure the books aren't being sent to some other country first, for transshipment here."

Until the government cracked down, the trade in pirated books was most profitable.

The book pirates keep their production costs to a minimum by photographing the pages of the original work and printing them on high-speed offset presses. They publisher from reproducing any use an inferior grade of locally-produced paper. Their labor costs are as low as $10 per employee per month.

Nationalist China on Formosa does not belong to the Universal Copyright Convention. Thus, there is nothing to prevent a Formosa pirate book.

It is the novel, "The Leopard," by Giuseppe di Lampedusa. The Formosan publisher reproduced it exactly, including the notation that it was "printed in the United States." And—delicious irony—"All rights reserved, including the right to reproduce this book or portions thereof, in any form."

One of the exhibits on Long's desk provides a good example of a pirated book.

Probe Planned of News Policy

WASHINGTON (AP)—The administration's public information program—criticized as sometimes becoming an effort to manage news—will go under the probe of a congressional subcommittee March 19 and 21.

Announcement of the hearing dates caused cancellation of another conference on the issue which had been set up by White House press secretary Pierre Salinger.

He had arranged for a give-and-take session with spokesmen of major news media for April 5 and 6 at Warrenton, Va. Tuesday night he sent telegrams to those invited that his conference now seemed unnecessary since the same people are to participate in the hearings of the House Government operations subcommittee on government information.

Group Tours, Meets Jackie

WASHINGTON (AP)—The White House was the setting Tuesday for a tour of delegates to the conference of the American National Theater and Academy.

The group, interested in promoting the living theater in the United States, went to the executive mansion and found that the First Lady is among their boosters.

Mrs. Kennedy shook hands with about 130 of the delegates in the East Ballroom and then chatted with them after their tour.

Fighters Will Patrol Presidential Route

WASHINGTON (AP)—American fighter planes will patrol President Kennedy's air route to Costa Rica next week. Presidential press secretary Pierre Salinger said Tuesday night that similar protection had been given the President before on his trips to Venezuela and Colombia.

Salinger said he wouldn't call the fighters an escort for they will be out of sight of the President's plane and various squadrons will take over the patrol duties along the way.

Noted Author Slaps College on 'Race Issue'

GREENSBORO, N.C. (UPI)—Noted anthropologist and author Dr. Margaret Mead, announced yesterday she will not return to Greensboro College as guest lecturer until the small Methodist school is integrated.

Miss Mead, a Columbia University professor, told the students it was "sheer, unadulterated hypocrisy" to claim the school was not segregated simply because its charter does not mention race.

In her final lecture, Dr. Mead told students "any institution that does not go forward goes backward."
"This is the last time I'm coming here unless you have the sense to pay attention to the Constitution of the United States and the principles of Christianity," she added.

Dr. Harold Hutson, president of Greensboro, said there are no Negroes in the school but "to my knowledge no Negroes have applied."

To Reorganize State Guard

LANSING (AP)—The Michigan Army National Guard will be reorganized under the Reorganization Objective Army Division (ROAD) concept as of this week-end, guard headquarters announced.

Maj. Gen. Ronald McDonald, state adjutant general, said although the reorganization will be effective now it will take several weeks to clear up the problems involved.

McDonald emphasized there will be no forced loss of officers and enlisted men and declared that no armories will be abandoned.

The guard force will be reduced from 112 to 100 company-size units. Strength of the units will be 9,750 officers and men. Current actual guard strength is 9,600 officers and men although a higher total has been authorized.

The reorganization is aimed at providing increased flexibility, battle field mobility and firepower.

GOP Eyes Senate OK of Aid for Children of Unemployed

LANSING (U-P)—Republican Senate leaders, trying to assure passage of the federal Aid to Dependent Children of the Unemployed (ADC-U) Bill asked by Gov. George Romney, started nervously counting noses today.

Although there were pledges of support, there was no assurance the measure would slide through as easily as it did in the House.

A Republican majority was lacking, and Democrats promised a series of nagging amendments. The Democrats also were thinking of sitting on their hands when the bill was recommended for passage. First floor debate is not expected until Thursday.

Sen. Stanley Thayer, R-Ann Arbor, Senate majority leader, said after a huddle that a consensus of a Republican caucus was in favor of the bill.

The measure met only token resistance in the House before it was passed by a 89-14 vote.

It would bring Michigan under the federal program for aid to dependent children of the jobless. Romney has estimated it would save the state and counties some $9 million in the next year.

BILL RECOMMENDED

The Senate Appropriations Committee yesterday reported out the bill with a recommendation for passage. First floor debate is not expected until Thursday.

Sen. Stanley Thayer, R-Ann Arbor, Senate majority leader, said after a huddle that a consensus of a Republican caucus was in favor of the bill.

"I think we have enough votes to put it through," he said.

Thayer said "very close to 18 members" of his party were in favor of the bill.

Some, he added, "had reservations."

A check of the Republicans could find only 15 ready to vote for the measure at this time, short of the needed 18 majority of 34 senators.

Democrats, meanwhile, planned another fight to liberalize the bill. They were bitter because the ADC-U proposals were rejected by the Republican-controlled legislature when offered by a Democratic administration.

Romney has named the measure as one of his top priority legislative aims of the current session.

Democrats figure Republican failure to pass it would embarrass Romney. Although most Democrats are in favor of the bill in principle, they also could use their votes for passage as strong trading material for other legislation.

Sen. Charles Blondy, D-Detroit, Senate Democratic leader, thanked the committee for making the bill available for debate.

Blondy promised a series of amendments to attempt liberalization.

These, he said, would include aid for children of the unemployed who had never been employed.

Republicans are expected to have enough strength to beat down such amendments but then would be in trouble wooing final passage votes from the Democrats.

The Appropriations Committee recommended that the bill pass without amendment in the form it came from the House.

The measure now provides that the aid would apply to children under 18 who live with jobless parents not in foster or relatives' homes. It would include persons who have been on welfare since 1958 and who have not worked for more than 32 hours in any consecutive weeks.

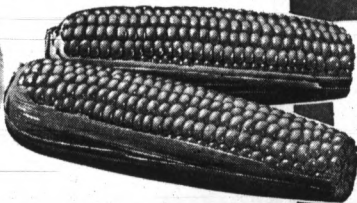

Rep. Arnell Engstrom, R-Troy, author of the ADC-U bill, told the appropriations committee it should take about 10,000 persons from state and county direct relief rolls. It would save the state money during periods of high unemployment, he said.

Engstrom warned against attempts to tack on amendments beaten down in the House. One proposal would require mandatory birth control instruction for those receiving ADC-U aid and the other would have used the measure as a vehicle for reorganizing the Detroit and Wayne County welfare departments.

Khrushchev Gets Tougher on Doctrine

LONDON (UPI) —Premier Nikita Khrushchev, under mounting fire from Red China, apparently is out to set his Marxist record straight.

The Soviet leader's latest strategy emerged in a series of recent moves, all pointing strongly to a calculated tightening of the Kremlin's line over a wide field of Soviet activity.

Whether in readiness for some form of truce with Peking or for a public showdown with his ally, Khrushchev is to all appearances trying to prove that he is a tough Communist.

The most striking of moves has been his surprise weekend attempt to soft-pedal his attacks on Stalin and his notice to tighten the reins in the sphere of ideological coexistence in the arts.

The hardening of the Soviet line has become increasingly noticeable over the past few weeks. It showed clearly at the current Geneva talks for a nuclear test ban and disarmament.

On both issues, Russia has been tougher than for some time past, with no apparent desire to negotiate at present.

DRAGS ON CUBA

The Kremlin also has been dragging its feet on implementing its pledges for a withdrawal from Cuba. It was Khrushchev's withdrawal of rockets from Cuba which drew the sharpest attacks from Peking against the Soviet leader for his "adventurism and cowardice."

Tough talk has come from Khrushchev's military chiefs, who have once again started calling for a Soviet belt-tightening in the interest of a continued strong Russian military posture.

Moscow has furthermore begun soft-pedaling on the supply of jet MIG fighters for India which it had promised earlier against Red Chinese protests.

Four MIG 21's have been delivered, but latest reports suggest that the remaining 8 which have been promised apparently will not be supplied for another 18 months.

Khrushchev further has revived the old demand for an immediate settlement of the German problem. This apparently is a shift of priorities, with disarmament coming second only after an East-West arrangement in Germany is reached.

At the weekend, Moscow released a Khrushchev speech, which surprisingly had some kind words to say about Stalin, whose image he had sought to destroy with his de-Stalinization policy.

He gave him the benefit of the doubt of being a good Communist after all and excused his crimes with the explanation that the dictator had been a "deeply sick person."

The rejection of the Stalinist cult of personality, he warned, did not mean that the reins of government, have been weakened.

Khrushchev, ostensibly with an eye to Peking and to setting his Marxist record straight, added this significant warning: "The party will continue to oppose any ideological wavering of efforts to disturb the way of life of our society."

Senator Has Special Interest

OLYMPIA, Wash. (AP) — State Sen. Al Henry of White Salmon declined to vote on a House bill Tuesday, citing the state constitution which forbids a member from voting on legislation in which he has a special interest.

The bill repeals an unenforced 1899 law prohibiting women from holding public office.

Sen. Henry's special interest is his wife, Mildred. She is a state representative.

The bill approved earlier by the House, passed unanimously.

New Virus Strain-Lack of Vaccine-Caused Winter Woe

By FRANK CAREY
AP Science Writer
WASHINGTON — Discovery of two new strains of influenza virus—with all indications that one of them was largely responsible for this winter's widespread flu epidemics—was disclosed today.

The new strains were identified too late for this season's vaccine to include extra guards against them, it was learned.

One is a new and potent form of the Asian flu virus which first appeared in 1957. This new strain is the one held mainly responsible for this year's outbreak of flu— the new virus, they said. Preliminary evidence from human studies is that this winter the vaccine showed "appreciably less" than its usual 75 per cent efficiency— presumably because of the new virus.

Influenza cases have been unusually high among the elderly in some communities.

The other newcomer to the elusive brigade of viruses is a new strain of type B influenza virus. Type B and type A are the two major types of flu virus. Each has several sub-strains.

It wasn't until last June, when samples of the virus were obtained from abroad by NIH's Division of Biologic Standards, that first strong evidence was obtained that this was a new strain of Asian flu. It wasn't confirmed until November.

It was too late to include the new virus in the vaccine to be used in preparation for the winter of 1962-1963.

Millions of doses of vaccine had already been manufactured and distributed. It would have taken up to six months to tool up for inclusion of the new strain.

UNSURE OF SPREAD

Also, scientists still couldn't be sure the new strain would hit the United States, although there was evidence it had cropped up in For-

Weather Forecasting Center

Tornado Team on Alert for Twisters

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (UP)—Tornado season—when black, twisting clouds bombard the earth—is poised over North America today.

The nation's Severe Weather Forecasting Center, located here, is on constant alert for signs of tornadoes. The 18-man crew usually expects twisters between March and June.

Mid-America is known as "Tornado Alley," but twisters have hit most parts of the country. Most frequently, they occur where the great masses of cold north and warm south air collide on the Great Plains.

The most tragic tornado, March 18, 1925, killed almost 700 persons in Missouri, Illinois and Indiana. Another twister once cut a 22½-mile swath of destruction through the same states without leaving the ground.

INFORMATION SKETCHY

Donald C. House, head of the Severe Weather Forecasting Center, said meteorologists hope to learn more about tornadoes so that "maybe in 20 or 25 years" a means of preventing them may be devised. But information today is sketchy.

"We really don't know how to forecast a tornado," he said, "just intense thunderstorms which usually accompany them."

"But our score sheet looked pretty good after the tornadoes Monday," he added. "We issued tornado forecasts for middle Tennessee and northern portions of Mississippi and Alabama."

The tornadoes struck widely scattered portions of Alabama, Mississippi and Tennessee, and another also touched down in Texas.

Radar unit cloud surveys, coupled with other weather data, determine possible twister-bearing clouds. By next year, the Severe Weather Center hopes to be hooked with a Tires weather satellite to add to the information.

Tires messages now are received here too late to play an active part in individual forecasts. The pictures are transmitted to other stations, then decoded information is sent here. The satellite's message now is only compared on a post-mortem basis.

"How good that up-to-the-minute

House, a graduate engineer from South Dakota Tech, who did graduate work in meteorology at UCLA in 1941, said his 18-man forecasting team includes six of the best in the business.

House believes the warnings have helped citizens protect themselves from the ravages of the storms. An average of 200 persons a year were killed by tornadoes up to a decade ago.

Citizen Vote Not Totally for Churchill

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The House yesterday voted overwhelmingly — but not unanimously — to bestow honorary citizenship on Sir Winston Churchill.

The 21 "no" votes cast came as a sharp disappointment to backers of the resolution, who had hoped for unanimous approval.

The measure, which directs President Kennedy to "declare" honorary citizenship for the 88-year-old British statesman, now goes to the Senate for expected approval.

Those who opposed the resolution joined in praising Churchill as one of history's outstanding statesmen and leaders, and as an author, historian, artist, philosopher and war correspondent.

But they said they voted against the resolution because they feared it might dilute the prestige of normal citizenship and set an undesirable precedent.

About 70 per cent of the milk produced in the U.S. is used for manufacture of various dairy products.

Political Poetry

Rhymes for Constitution

LANSING (UPI)—Herbert M. Turner, Saginaw, who was a Republican delegate to the constitution convention, is using verse to urge voters to adopt the proposed new constitution April 1.

A sampling of Turner's latest pitch goes like this:

"Get yourself a copy
And learn the facts as shown,
Don't let a 'no' vote take you
Into the deep and dark unknown."

Let's get ahead for progress
With a constitution new.
It will put our house in order
Payless pay days will be through."

Weather Forecasting Center

The twisting winds claimed on average number of lives in 1962, although an average number of tornadoes occurred.

He will not estimate the number of tornadoes which may hit this year.

"It is difficult enough to predict one six hours in advance," House said. He noted the forecast for March was a "normal distribution of thunderstorms."

Scientists of the National Institutes of Health say it has the potential for spreading through the world next winter.

An example of this swift spreading is the new strain of Asian flu virus which NIH researchers said first appeared in Tokyo in January 1962.

Harriman Successor Is Roger Hillsman

WASHINGTON (AP)—Informal sources say President Kennedy has decided on Roger Hillsman as successor to Averell Harriman as assistant secretary of state for Far Eastern affairs. An announcement is expected today.

Hillsman, 43, is chief of intelligence and research for the State Department.

A West Point graduate who served with Merrill's Marauders in Burma in World War II, he has been on three presidential missions to the Far East, particularly to study the guerrilla war in South Viet Nam. The post became vacant last week when Kennedy named Harriman deputy undersecretary of state for political affairs.

2 Bank Bandits in Same Boat: 25 Years in Jail

MARINE CITY (UPI)—Two bank bandits who rowed away from police found themselves "up the river" yesterday. The men, Jerry G. Swinford, 21, of Oklahoma and Albert D. Brendle, 33, of Marine City, pleaded guilty to robbing the Marine City Savings Bank last July.

16. The two escaped to the water front and rowed away from pursuers on the St. Clair River. Yesterday, Federal Judge Thomas F. Thornton sentenced them both to 25 years in prison.

Soybeans Really Grow
COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Only a minor crop in the United States a half century ago, soybeans now are the nation's fifth most important cash crop and its most important source of vegetable oil.

Law Backs Grandparents

SANTA ANA, Calif. (UPI)—Grandparents tired of getting stuck with baby-sitting chores have the law on their side in California.

Robert Fraser, president of the Orange County Bar Association, noted recently that a little known state law provides a maximum one-year jail term for an unlicensed person to care for a child under 16 unless the person is a parent or guardian of the child.

Named President of Community Club

Floyd Miles, 160 Columbia Ave., has been elected president of the Wever-Owen-Hawthorne - Alcott Community Club.

Other new officers are Arthur Lightcap, vice president; Mrs. Ford Drumm, secretary; and Mrs. Gordon Allison, treasurer.

Mrs. Arnold Simpson was appointed program chairman.

The organization will sponsor a public pancake supper at Hawthorne School March 22. Proceeds from the 5:30 p.m. event will go to the Northside Boys Club.

Huskies Advance To Regional Title Game

Recreation Quintets Eye 2 Titles Tonight

Finals in the Class A and B recreation basketball playoffs for Pontiac teams are slated for tonight, while Class C and Waterford Township's Class B continue play.

Last night in Pontiac Class C basketball, Local 593 and Michigan Bell posted victories to advance in the playoffs. The union took the Pontiac Police team, 66-38, while Town & Country Lounge was eliminated by Michigan Bell, 57-41.

Bad Hayward paced Michigan Bell with 20 points while Bill Campbell's 17 led Local 594.

Southwest Community Club will attempt to wrap up the Class A playoffs tonight at 7 p.m. in PCI's gym with a repeat win over Westside Recreation.

In Class B McDonald's Drive In will be struggling to stay alive in the playoffs with a victory in the 8:30 nightcap at PCI against the Bachelors' Club.

Michigan Bell and Police will battle for survival in the "C" journey at 8:30 p.m. in the Lincoln JHS gym following a 7 p.m. clash between Columbia Avenue Baptist and Local 594.

Waterford's Class B playoffs will have O'Neil Realty playing Hoyt Realty at 7:15 p.m. and Drayton Inn will meet A&W Root Beer at 8:30 p.m. in the Pierce JHS gym.

Two Waterford Township Recreation Department basketball teams — Class A champion Lakeland Pharmacy and "B" tidest O'Neil Realty — will engage in tournament play next week.

Lakeland, with an 11-4 overall mark this winter, will travel to East Detroit High School on Monday to meet the Roosevelt representative in a first-round Recreation Assn. of Michigan Class A District game. Game time is 8:45 p.m.

The same evening, at 7:30, O'Neil (11-3) will meet Pontiac's Class B representative in a first-round tilt in the Inter-City Recreation Assn. tournament at Detroit's Lasky Center, 13200 Fenelon.

Both tournaments are one-game knockout affairs. A win for either team Monday would mean Wednesday contests. Four teams are entered in the "A" District, while 10 squads are competing in the Inter-City.

Bruins Bounce Back in Race for NCAA Title

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The resurgent U.S. Bruins, at last routed out of the Big Six conference race two weeks ago, have become the final entrant in the 16-team NCAA regional basketball tournament field.

UCLA eliminated the Stanford Indians 51-45 in a play-to-win game at Santa Monica, Calif., Tuesday night. The victory qualified the Bruins for a berth in the far west regional semifinals at Provo, Utah, Friday night.

The UCLA's, in gaining their second straight league crown, will meet Arizona State University in the far west bracket. UCLA finished fourth in the NCAA championships last season after losing a last-second game to the eventual champion, Cincinnati, in the national semifinals.

NCAA regional semifinals at four sites will be held Friday night with the regional finals to take place Saturday evening. The four survivors then advance to the national semifinals and championship game at Louisville, Ky., March 22-23.

The Garden's first sellout crowd in 13 years — 18,732 spectators occupying all seats and standing room — will watch unbeaten young Clay's attempt to fulfill his daring fourth-round prediction. The gate will approximate $105,000.

NEW YORK (UPI) — Cocky Cassius Clay will try tonight to put his fast fists where his loud mouth is for a fourth-round knockout over dangerous Doug Jones in jammed Madison Square Garden.

The Garden's first sellout crowd in 13 years — 18,732 spectators occupying all seats and standing room — will watch unbeaten young Clay's attempt to fulfill his daring fourth-round prediction. The gate will approximate $105,000.

Twenty-year-old Cassius of Louisville, Ky., the world's second ranking heavyweight, has loudly but successfully pinpointed in advance the exact rounds for 12 of his previous 14 knockouts.

And if the "Louisville Lip" can overcome the double Jonah of shooting for his 13th predicted knock on March 13, he'll certainly be in line for a September

SOMEbody HELP ME—Bill MacInnis of Detroit Central Catholic appears to have something (the basketball) that he doesn't want, but he isn't ready to turn it over to either Wayne Daniels (44) or Gary Hayward (50) of Northern in last night's regional semifinal at the Huskies' gym. MacInnis normally knew exactly what to do with the ball as he led all Shamrock scorers with 23 points.

Haywards Star in 79-65 Win Over CC Five

Clarkston in Debut at Northern Tonight Against Bentley

By JERRY CRAIG
Pontiac's Northern Huskies loaded another big hope on their basketball tournament last night and the ice held.

The ice had some rough spots and a very early warning crack appeared, but they had the speed and with the two Hayward stalwarts leading the way, the Huskies moved into the Region 10 finals with a 79-65 triumph.

The winner of tonight's 8 o'clock clash between Clarkston and Livonia Bentley will oppose PNH Friday at 8 p.m. for the regional trophy, and a spot in the state quarterfinals.

Northern, looking somewhat weaker than previously in the tournament on its all-around court play, received a tremendous boost from the offensive fireworks of Gary and Roger Hayward.

BROTHER PUNCH
Gary continued his outstanding tournament play with 25 points to pace all scorers. Brother Roger reached his top point total for PNH with 22 markers.

It was these two 6-2½ forwards who sparked a Northern rally in the second quarter that completely changed the complexion of the contest.

They each hit eight points as the Huskies overcame an 18-13 deficit to go ahead 33-33 at halftime. It was a short jump shot by Wayne Daniels with five seconds remaining in the half that put PNH in front to stay.

Catholic Central caught the Huskies with their poise packed away and spurred to 15-4 and 16-5 advantages in the first quarter. A time out and regrouping of forces by the winners stemmed the tide.

Two major changes actually occurred. The guards began bringing the ball into the front court with less trouble to feed Gary Hayward who bombed in three field goals as PNH chopped into the lead in the last two minutes.

CHANGE TACTICS
A defensive alteration saw the Huskies begin tipping rebounds away from the taller Shamrocks to the converging PNH backliners. Then when Central Catholics guards began converging toward the offensive board, the Haywards managed to rife loose passes to either Mike Burklow or Jerry Reese for a couple fast-break buckets.

With Gary Hayward having seven field goals in their first half, the visitors decided to put one man on him as the third period began with their other four remaining in a zone.

This move spelled their eventual doom. Roger Hayward was left open on the right side and he connected on three out of three 20-foot jumpers, tipped in a missed foul shot and hit another from the side.

The sophomore added two foul shots for 12 markers in the third quarter. This also brought Reese and Burklow to life for 11 points between them and the Huskies scored 25 in the quarter for a 60-44 lead.

Once leading only 41-40, the winners connected for five of the next 12 bullets in that quarter.

The visitors Bill MacInnis hit nine of their 11 points in the third quarter en route to a 23-point performance.

A five basket surge by the Shamrocks reduced the deficit to 70-58 with approximately four minutes left to play in the game but Burklow and Reese both connected on a pair of foul shots as Northern regained its poise and weathered the comeback attempt.

The more than 2,000 cage fans saw PNH win its seventh straight game while the Shamrocks finished the year with a 14-5 loss.

GP St. Paul Will Be Foe for Capac 5

Slated to play the winner of last night's regional basketball game between Grosse Pointe St. Paul and Mt. Clemens St. Mary, Capac's Chiefs watched the result with only one thought—revenge.

And the result — St. Paul 67, St. Mary 49 — will provide the Chiefs with the opportunity to carry out their vendetta Thursday night at 8:20 in the second half of a Class C doubleheader.

St. Paul easily subdued St. Ferndale. Four players reached double figures on behalf of the Grosse Pointe quintet.

Gary Ghesquiere took top scoring honors with 19, while Bob Martin and Jim Higham netted 16 points apiece and Brian Schick 12.

Tom Denwith paced the losers with 19 points.

The Chiefs will be seeking revenge for two straight regional defeats at the hands of St. Paul. An earlier game will pit Detroit St. Thomas against St. Theresa, also of Detroit.

ST. THOMAS WINS
St. Thomas earned the shot at St. Theresa by edging St. Charles 67-60 last night. Dennis Bankey (23), Dan Dziuk (19) and Charles Kurrie (13) provided the scoring punch.

St. Charles received double figure scoring from Terry Gay (16), George Parry (15) and Nate Caskley (14) in a losing cause.

Class A action takes over the Ferndale gym tonight. Warren opposes Ferndale at 7:00 while Highland Park tackles Detroit Northern.

Elsewhere, Farmington begins Class A regional play against Adrian tonight at 7:00. In the second game, Dearborn Fordon will take on Ann Arbor.

Mt. Clemens soundly trounced Detroit Derby 75-54 last night in Class A regional at East Detroit. Mt. Clemens will play the winner of tonight's battle between Grosse Pointe and East Detroit.

Set NBA Playoff Dates at St. Louis

DETROIT UP — The Detroit Pistons will open their first round western division playoffs in the National Basketball Association next Wednesday at St. Louis.

The best-of-five playoff will continue March 22 at St. Louis before moving to Detroit's Cobo Arena March 24. If more games are necessary, they'll be played at Detroit March 26 and St. Louis March 27.

Lakers Play Fenton

Romeo 'Handed' Win

By DON VOGEL
Three hands used at the right moment in the right way kept Romeo going in the state Class B regional basketball tournament at Clarkston last night.

Mark Johnson switched the ball from his right to his left hand to make a left layup with 40 seconds left to break a 55-50 deadlock.

Butch Peraino got a hand on a Clintondale pass 20 seconds later to steal the ball and dribble the length of the floor for the clinching basket in the Bulldogs 61-50 victory.

Mike Verellen put the icing on the cake when he fouled at the buzzer and made both free throws.

Romeo plays Marysville in the regional semifinal Thursday. The winner will meet the victor of last night's 7:30 game between Fenton and West Bloomfield for the regional title.

Johnson led the Romeo attack with 18 points. Verellen followed with 16, including eight of nine free throws, and Peraino added 15.

Murdoch Williams—Clintondale's 6-5 center, led all scorers with 20. Tony Hicks netted 17 for the Dragons.

COACH SURPRISED
"Johnson always shoots right handed," said Romeo coach Ed Battani. "I was really surprised when he shot left handed. It was a very nice shot."

Until Johnson turned southpaw and Peraino became a bandit, Romeo was in danger of being eliminated.

The Bulldogs had blown a 50-42 lead and the onrushing Dragons were fired up.

After Peraino's basket Williams fouled out and Clintondale was finished for the season. The lanky center was the big threat and the Bulldogs concentrated on him.

This allowed Hicks to get loose for eight easy short-range jumpers from the side of the basket.

For the first three quarters the game was so closely contested that neither team could get more than four points in front.

Going into the last eight minutes the score had been tied five times and the lead had changed hands on 11 occasions. It was tied once again, 55-55, on a one-handed shot by Clintondale's Hershel El with 32 seconds to play in the game.

Colts' Owner 'Big Bettor'?

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Carroll D. Rosenbloom, owner of the Baltimore Colts, has been accused in federal court of betting $55,000 against his own team in a 1952 National Football League game.

Rosenbloom's own lawyer put the accusation on the record Tuesday in an attempt to have gambler Mike McLaney, of Miami Beach, who made the bet, discredited.

But Judge George C. Young said in his affidavit, "I distinctly remember that during one professional season he made nine straight winning bets on professional football games."

Larry E. Murphy, onetime NFL chairman, swore, "I particularly remember that in 1953 when his team was playing against the 49ers at San Francisco, Rosenbloom bet a large amount of money against his own team, and because of the point spread, won the bet."

The affidavits, made in connection with a stock deal suit in 1960, were sealed and the suit was dismissed by Federal Judge Joseph Lieb Jan. 5, 1961.

REMOVE HALO
Last winter, a Miami Beach private investigator, Sam Benton, turned the depositions over to NFL Commissioner Pete Rozelle.

On the witness stand, Benton said he wanted "to remove the halo" from Rosenbloom.

When Rozelle took no action, Benton testified, he made 40 copies of the affidavits and distributed them among NFL club owners.

That was Jones' 21st victory and 13th knockout in his 25 fights, which included one draw.

Clay's long-range left jab and straight rights, from his fast-stepping side-to-side maneuvers, are expected to do well against Jones' straight-line pressing attack of close-quarter straight punches to body and head.

In his latest bout on Jan. 24, Cassius drew a gate of $55,782 at Pittsburgh, where he flattened undefeated Charlie Powell of San Francisco, former pro football player, in the third round — as forecast.

Tonight's scheduled 10-rounder at 10 p.m. (EST) will not be televised nor broadcast to homes. But it will be on closed-circuit television.

Some POETRY
The Kentucky contender, who garnishes his pugilism with poetry, then stated:

"Jones thinks he'll fight some more."

"But he's got to go in four."

The belting hard is buoyantly riding a string of nine straight knockouts. And he is favored at 175 to beat 26-year-old Jones, who produced the biggest upset of 1962 on last Dec. 15 when he knocked out third-ranked Zora Folley in the seventh round at the garden.

Why U.S. Savings Bonds make such good gifts for your grandchildren

(or children or nieces or nephews)

The U.S. Savings Bond you give to a loved one carries two important messages with it.

First it says that here's a gift that will grow in value and some day go toward college tuition or a home or keep on growing as a nest egg for the future.

Even more important, it says to a grandchild or niece: Here's a gift that makes you a saver. That helps you take your place among a nation of savers. That starts you off on the road to financial strength which is really the strength of your country.

And while your gift is growing, the dollars are working hard for freedom in a world where the enemies of freedom grow tougher and more determined every day.

Few other gifts accomplish as much as Savings Bonds. Why not start giving them today? (If you're a grandfather several times, you'll probably be most interested in the $25 variety which sells for $18.75 at any bank.)

Quick facts about U.S. Savings Bonds

- You get $4 for every $3 at maturity
- You can get your money anytime
- Your Bonds are replaced free if lost, destroyed, or stolen.

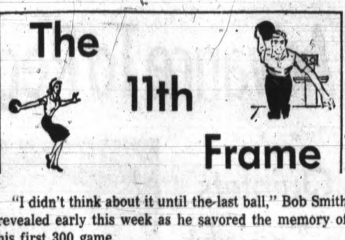

Keep freedom in your future with

The 11th Frame

"I didn't think about it until the last ball." Bob Smith revealed early this week as he savored the memory of his first 300 game.

"I'd had strings of strikes before but always missed one somewhere along the line, so I figured I'd never bowl one," the veteran Pontiac legkie added.

Smith's perfect game came last Friday in the Huron Bowl Classic and is the first such sanctioned game reported in the area this year.

It isn't the first at Huron Bowl, however, as the house has had one bowled in each of the last three years.

He followed his 300 with a 218 before admittedly relaxing in his third game to finish with a 692 actual series. Smith averages 202 for the runnerup Eamon Electric Company team.

DAUGHTER'S FEAT

Only a few days before his memorable feat, Smith's daughter Cathy had rolled the highest game of her brief bowling career with a 167 in the Madison Junior High School League at Huron Bowl.

Ironically, one of his opponents

Friday was Al Pietz who recently bowled 299, leaving the five pin on the 12th ball despite a good hit. Smith's last ball came on the Brooklyn side after 11 straight solid "pocket" hits, but it swept the 10 pins off the lane cleanly.

His game, naturally, and series were the league's top efforts last week. The team, however, could not cut any games off the Pontiac Western Cleaning team's lead of 23 games.

In other Huron Bowl action, Lynn Spees rolled 254-445 in the Wednesday Nite "A" League for the night's top figures as Huron Airways slipped in front of C&E Marathon in the local race.

The Rolling Pin loop at Huron Bowl last week had a 231-568 series by Gay Larkin of the Huron Theater squad and the Ladies Matinee last Friday reported a 209-530 for Jerry Rawley.

At 300 Bowl Glen Kitcher rolled 218-509 in the Goodfellow circuit Friday and Morris Weidman bowled a 226 in the Twilight League. The Tuesday House League had a 254 by Jim Pileman and Frank Puddy rolled 224-506. Al Borkack scored with a 245.

The Royal Bowlerettes loop at 300 was led Friday by Maggie McGowan's 218 - 552. A June Ball came up with a 268-546 in the Wednesday Nite Ladies Classic and Betty Bastian had 263-511.

The 300 Bowlerettes had a 207-580 combination by Lorraine Cluser for its top effort last week. Donna Verhey rolled 564, Marvel Stot's 201 paced the 300 Bowlers League.

Action at Cooley Lanes saw Madeline Gannon roll a 232-577 duo in the Multi-Lakes Ladies circuit last week. The Kings and Queens of Cooley Lanes played a 207 game by Howard Compton and Jack Ashton had a pair of 203's.

At Howe's Lanes the Clarkston Women's circuit still is lead by Aluma-Vue by two points over Beattie Motor Sales as each won four points last week. Vivian Sapsford of Beattie took individual honors with 219-532.

REMATCH

The Aluma-Vue didn't have such fortunate luck when they had a return match with the Aluma-Vue men's team Saturday at Airway Lanes. After defeating the men in a match earlier, the distaff side had the tables turned on them by the men, 2,690-2,653, although they did capture one of the three games by 49 pins.

In league action at Airway, the Lutheran Mixed circuit saw Virginia Sage roll 225-567 and the Hot Shots captured first place from the 20ats. Airway's first Bowling League recorded a 208-561 for Betzi Waisanen as Carling's Darlings took three points.

Margaret Luttman rolled 534 for J & M Hardware which still leads the loop by seven-and-a-half points.

Two high totals from Fairgrounds Bowl were Short Pennells 255-233-681 in the Tuesday House League and Beverly Knusel's 223-234-672 in the Thursday Nite Ladies League.

Sweden Still Tops Hockey

STOCKHOLM (P) — Sweden meets West Germany in the world ice hockey championships tonight and there's little doubt that it will result in another victory for the defending champions.

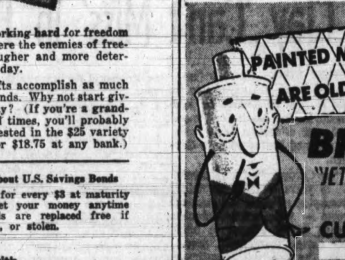

The Swedes are the only one of the top four teams to play today and they are in top form.

They trounced the United States 17-2 Tuesday for their fourth straight victory and a one-point lead over Canada and Czechoslovakia.

Revenge in Volleyball

The Lotus Lake Blues volleyball team won the second half title in the Waterford Township Recreation Department's league Tuesday night by defeating the first half champion Buterfingers 16-14, 13-15 and 15-5.

Kaline Blasts 2-Run Homer Against Orioles

Yankees Held to One Hit

Trade Helps Chisox, Baltimore

By The Associated Press

Everything's coming up roses for the Baltimore Orioles and Chicago White Sox, but as always the world champion New York Yankees are finding the exhibition baseball trail lined with thorns.

The Orioles and White Sox, who completed one of the biggest trades of the winter, received maximum performances from some of their newcomers Tuesday while the world champion Yankees were held to a lone scratch single in a 5-0 loss to Milwaukee at West Palm Beach, Fla.

Only Tom Tresh's infield single in the seventh inning prevented the Yankees from complete humiliation as Frank Pisk, acquired in a trade with Cleveland, Claude Raymond and rookie Larry Maxie combined to pitch the Braves to their first victory in four games.

The Orioles whipped Detroit 7-2 in a night game at Miami, boosting their record to 4-0 and becoming the lone undefeated team in either league, while the White Sox defeated the New York Mets 4-1 at Saratoga for their third triumph in four games.

Former Orioles Dave Nicholson and Pete Ward drove in all the White Sox runs in the first inning against the Mets, Nicholson lashing a two-run double and ward a run-scoring single. The Chicagoans received an added boost when comeback pitcher Herb Score allowed only one hit in three innings.

OTHER GAMES

In other Florida games, the Los Angeles Dodgers edged St. Louis 4-3 at St. Petersburg, Philadelphia beat Cincinnati 12-6 at St. Louis, Pittsburgh nipped the Washington 7-6 in 10 innings at Washington.

Fort Myers and Kansas City beat Minnesota 7-4 at Orlando.

On the Arizona front, the National League champion San Francisco Giants downed Boston 6-1 at Scottsdale, the Los Angeles Angels walloped Cleveland 6-1 at Tucson and Houston rallied for a 6-5 decision over the Chicago Cubs at Apache Junction.

While the Orioles and White Sox were showing power, the Yankees were unable to mount anything resembling an offense against the firm of Punk, Raymond and Maxie, getting only two walks in addition to Tresh's single.

Tresh's hit was a slow roller to the right of first baseman Norm Larker. Larker fielded it, Louie 4-3 at St. Petersburg, Philadelphia beat Cincinnati 12-6 at St. Louis, Pittsburgh nipped the Washington 7-6 in 10 innings at Washington.

STRIKING LADIES

WRIST BREAK

Another fault common to children and a great many women is not keeping a firm straight wrist from the starting position through the delivery and follow through.

Holding the ball in broken wrist fashion causes the hand to move in the wrong direction and prevents the problems of back-up balls. As with many other faults, blame for this mistake falls on the election of a ball that is too heavy.

With the right weight ball and use of the left hand to support the ball during the stance, it shouldn't be too hard to keep the wrist straight.

"Firm, straight wrist"

Minnesota Squad in Second Round

KANSAS CITY (P)—Augsburg, Minn., seeded No. 2, joined top-ranked Grambling, La., in today's second round of the NAIA basketball tournament, surviving upsets which eliminated four of the first seven seeded teams in the first round.

Augsburg defeated West Virginia State 67-57 Tuesday night for its 25th victory in 27 games. Dan Anderson, 6-foot-9 sophomore, scored 30 points.

But Western Illinois, seeded No. 7, was ousted by Miles, Ala., 84-81 and third-seeded Winston Salem, N.C., was knocked out by Transylvania, Ky., 64-40.

Augsburg will meet tough Fort Hays.

In the daylight session, Northern Michigan faces Central State; Indiana State, seeded No. 8, takes on Carson-Newman, Tenn.; Pan American, Tex. faces Stetson, and Transylvania meets Lewis & Clark, Ore.

World Doesn't Change For Michigan Beavers

LANSING (P) — Those who feel the world is changing too much and too fast can take comfort from one small item showing the continuity of Michigan history and tradition.

In another week or so, the beaver trappers will be out setting their traps. This hardy breed will be hiking through swamps and sloshing around in the icy waters of ponds just as did the first white men to explore Michigan and the Indians before them.

The search for beaver—the pelts then were used mostly to provide beaver hats for London dandies — was one of the reasons the first explorers came to Michigan.

Most of Michigan's beaver now are used to manufacture fur coats for the ladies. But trapping is still a dirty, uncomfortable job.

The beaver and other seasons open March 20 in the Lower Peninsula with the first closing date March 31 and the last April 10, depending on the regions. The Upper Peninsula trapping season opens March 30 with the first closing date April 11 and the last April 18.

LIMIT SET

The limit for any one trapper is eight beaver pelts or three other furs in a season. Some regions have a smaller limit. Families with one or more members running the trap line can increase their take.

Still, none get rich at it. During the 1940's, when the price of beaver soared to $65 for a prime pelt, some trappers made a good thing of it. The price this year is expected to be $16 to $20 for a prime pelt. A good otter pelt will bring $22 to $26.

Last year, there were 8,005 beaver and 625 other taken during the season.

Increased labor costs, mostly, have forced the price of the furs down since there is a limit to what the lady—or her husband—want to pay for a fur coat.

"For most of the trappers, it is a semi-hobby sort of thing," said Dave Jenkins, state Conservation Department game specialist. "The beaver are fairly easy to trap but its still cold, dirty, hard work.

A lot of the success of the season depends on the weather since half of the effort is just getting there. Cold weather and snowed-in roads can hurt the season.

The number of mink and muskrat trappers buying licenses each year is steadily falling off. But the number of beaver and other trapping licenses remains about the same, at about 4,000 a year.

Jenkins sees this as a little surprising and thinks the hobby angle of it—the sport of just getting out and trying to outsmart and trap the beaver—is responsible for the continuing interest.

The trappers are out already, figuring where they'll place the traps when the season opens.

The restrictions on the areas and the number of animals allowed are a little more conservative this season. There are more closed areas as the emphasis is on protecting the beaver where their ponds and dams result in flooding to benefit waterfowl.

Off Coast of Florida

Dive For Sunken Loot

MIAMI (UPI) — The boat seemed to ride at anchor as restlessly as the four men squatting on the broad deck littered with diving equipment.

"Treasure hunting," said Olin Frick, a tanned Carolinian who resembles a miniature Clark Gable, "gets under your skin so bad you have a hard time tending to your regular job."

The three others nodded.

"Yes," agreed Capt. Tim Watkins, a lean, black-haired man who admits grinningly that he is descended from Bahama ship wreckers. "We probably spend too much time thinking about searching out lost Spanish galleons."

The two others, Jim Green, a former Iowan, and Paul Nixon, a muscular man out of Chattanooga, bobbed their heads in unison. The four are partners in treasure hunting trips off the Florida coast on their 48-foot "Buccaneer" and 97-foot "Privateer." They have worked over hundreds of wrecks but only gleaned two thoroughly.

What they brought back was enough to whet any treasure hunter's appetite, even if he is of the arm chair variety.

Bounty Hunter Steals, Coyote, Falls Into Trap

Fraudulent practices are sometimes hard to spot under the bounty system, but conservation officers from Wisconsin and Michigan teamed up recently to uncover one such case involving an Upper Peninsula resident.

The man, Anthony J. Petroff, Caspian, was arrested and fined last month for trying to collect a $15 bounty at Crystal Falls for a male coyote he had taken from Wisconsin.

The case started when a Wisconsin trapper complained to officers that someone had killed a coyote in one of his traps and had taken both trap and coyote. Petroff reportedly had been hunting in the area that day, and Wisconsin officers alerted Michigan officers of the offense.

After Petroff applied for the bounty payment at Crystal Falls, he was questioned and admitted his guilt.

Michigan sportsmen undoubtedly pay for some "non-resident" foxes and coyotes each year under the bounty system, according to Department officials.

OFF JAMAICA — D. B. Eames (left), 43 Cherokee Rd., and Glenn H. Griffin, 106 Ogehaw, caught these marlin recently while fishing off Jamaica with Capt. Bobby Holder (front). Eames' fish was an eight-footer. The one taken by Griffin weighed 149 pounds and was eight feet three inches long.

Film on Eagles at PAC Fete

"The Bald Eagle — Our National Bird" will be the film shown at the fifth anniversary banquet of the Pontiac Audubon Club Saturday at Oakland University.

Sergei Postupalsky will show the film and lecture on the eagle after the 6 p.m. banquet in the Oakland Center.

Slides will be shown from 3:30 to 4:30 p.m. and a social hour is scheduled from 5 to 6 p.m.

Postupalsky, of Warren, is chairman of the Michigan bald eagle survey.

Conservation Board Ask to Take Stand

LANSING (P) — The Michigan Conservation Commission has been asked to take a position favoring a U.S. Department of Interior move to add 15,000 acres of land on North Manitowish Island to the proposed Sleeping Bear dunes national recreation area.

The commission twice previously has expressed itself as favoring a federal recreation area provided state hunting and fishing laws remain in effect, timber management is continued, and property rights are protected.

The commission, however, has never taken a stand on what acreage should be included in the federal park development.

State Seeks More P-R Funds

A new attempt to obtain more federal money for Michigan wildlife projects is being made by Conservation Director Gerald E. Eddy.

After much litigation, his contention was upheld in federal court.

In a letter to Secretary of the Interior Stewart Udall he asks that Michigan's 38,575 square miles of Great Lakes waters be included in the formula for apportioning Pittman-Robertson funds among the states.

Since 1959 some $450,000 had been withheld from Michigan as the result of an interpretation by the Solicitor General who ruled that this sale and others which issue multiple hunting licenses must make their claims on boundary as established in 1836 in the Act of Admission to the Union be included in the formula. This would add 38,575 square miles of Great Lakes waters.

He pointed out that much of this water is of greater significance to wildlife than many of the inland waters now included in the formula.

Michigan's allotment of Pittman-Robertson money for this year will be about $110,000 short of what it would have been under the old system. If the Great Lakes area is included, however, this figure will be cut to about $32,000.

Pike Season Ends on Inland Waters

Fishermen will have to turn their attention away from northern pike, walleyed pike and muskellunge in nearly all of Michigan's inland waters during the March 15-April 26 spawning period.

Except for a section on the Muskegon River downstream from Rogers dam in Mecosta County, the state's inland lakes and streams will be closed to the taking of pike and muskies between these two dates.

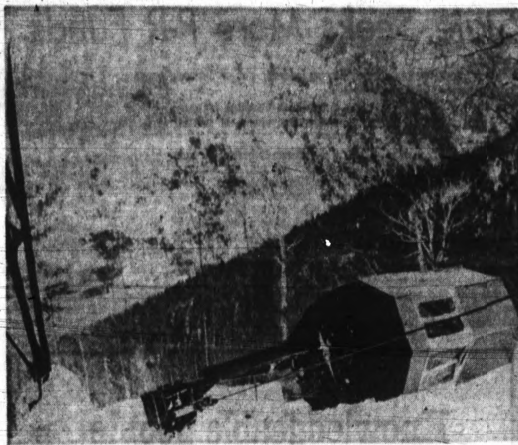

Purpose of the closing is to protect these fish during their spring spawning season, particularly in waters where high populations of stunted panfish are a problem.

Great Lakes fishermen are reminded that lakes Superior, Michigan and Huron will be off limits to hook and line fishing for muskies and pike from March 31 through May 20. The same restriction is already in effect in Saginaw Bay where it will continue until April 11.

CABLE CAR FALLS — Car rests on its side after dropping 90 feet from cable as it started to top of Cannon Mountain near Franconia, N.H. A lift attendant, Ronald C. Broderick, 20, aboard the car when it fell, was said to be in serious condition at hospital after the accident. The mishap occurred as a blinding snowstorm raked the mountain with wind gusts as high as 80 miles per hour.

Can't-Drive-Till-18 Proposal Draws the Fire of Critics

LANSING (AP)—A measure to change the minimum age for a driver's license from 16 to 18 drew criticism from a dozen citizens yesterday at a public hearing — and only one critic was under 20.

The teen-ager, Roger Cooley, was joined by State Police Commissioner Joseph Childs, Capt. Sinclair Shippy, traffic division chief at Grand Rapids, and Gordon Sheehy, head of Michigan

Don't be fooled... by claims of "Durus" or "100% Durus" when you buy macaroni. Durus wheat, just like the best you buy, has many grades of quality—with the top grades costing 30% more! I buy nothing but Durus macaroni because it's made only from Semolina, the choice grind, milled from No. 1 Hard Amber Durus... the best!

State University's traffic center program.
The trio of officials agreed that the age change — proposed by Reps. Paul Chandler, R-Livonia, and Bill Hoffman, D-Madison Heights — would tend to undermine Michigan's driver education program.

Shippy presented a letter from Grand Rapids Police Chief William Johnson which called the law "completely unrealistic" and cited statistics gleaned from a Grand Rapids accident study showing 16- and 17-year-olds were involved in less accidents, as age groups, than drivers 18 through 24.

Childs said statewide statistics would support the Grand Rapids sample.
The commissioner cited, however, a need for discussing a change in present laws to bring 16- and 17-year-old drivers under the state's point system for traffic violations.

FORSEES TROUBLES
Sheehy, who said he was appearing as a traffic official and as the father of five children, said the bill's effect would be more teen-agers driving without a license and without proper training.

He said it would produce "a flood of hardship cases" appealing to local police departments for early licenses and would work a hardship on parents in suburban and rural areas.

The sponsors of the bill plus a State Senate page, Mark Thompson of Lansing, made an appeal for the measure.

Chandler's proposal was based on three factors — the inconsistency of the point system, studies showing a high correlation between driving privilege and poor scholarship, and statistics showing 68 per cent of all juvenile arrest had something to do with cars.
Rep. Harry DeMaso, R-Battle Creek, indicated after the hearing that more study seemed to be necessary on the bill and said the bill might remain in committee this session.

School Fad Must Fade, Decrees Headmaster

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — The teen-age fad of hair-dyeing has been banned at Lussane School for Girls.
Walter R. Coppedge, headmaster of the private school, laid down the law Tuesday: get the end of the hair the same color as the roots or don't show up at school.

Pennsylvania's lamb crop this year totaled 159,000 head, 5 per cent above the 10-year average.

Racial Tension Grips California College Town

BERKELEY, Calif. (AP) — Berkeley is trying to be calm about Ordinance 3915.

But Berkeley knows the Capitol in Sacramento will be looking over its shoulder April 2 when the city votes on whether to let Negroes who can afford it move up into the hills.

The nation may be watching.

The ordinance would make it a crime—punishable by a maximum penalty of six months in jail and $500 fine—to refuse to comply with a legal order to cease housing discrimination.

Berkeley's fight is echoing in Sacramento. Jesse M. Unruh, D-California, assembly speaker and author of state antidiscrimination laws, recently urged a go-slow approach to civil rights legislation until Berkeley votes.

Failure of the Berkeley measure, he said, "could be a warning signal that we ought to re-evaluate our position in this field."

Gov. Edmund G. Brown, who calls housing discrimination one of California's "most visible social problems," replied that this civil rights program doesn't depend "on what any one locality in California might do."

PROS, CONS

Nobel Prize winner Dr. Owen Chamberlain, a university physicist, is cochairman for the ordinance.

The Berkeley Real Estate Board opposes it as an unwelcome measure that "has become a divisive factor" in Berkeley creating "great tension—emotional feeling running high."

Geographically in the center of the university, which requires owners listing rentals with it to sign a nondiscrimination pledge. More than a third of the landlords refuse to sign and remain unlisted.

proponents say, and perhaps the world, for hundreds of the 23,000 University of California students at Berkeley are dark-skinned visitors from other lands.

Ordinance 3915 is an attempt to eliminate admitted discrimination in housing in this college city of 111,168 on San Francisco Bay.

It is the first such ordinance to be adopted by a city council in California. But a referendum petition bearing 10,555 signatures took it out of the council's hands and sent it to a popular vote.

Last year the city council appointed an 18-member committee to study the problem.

In October, the committee reported unanimously that discrimination in both rentals and sale of housing "is widespread and general." By a split vote, it recommended an ordinance with teeth.

The council brushed aside a Chamber of Commerce request in mid-December to wait 90 days and went ahead with two over-flow public hearings.

Ignoring an opinion of City Atty. Robert Anderson that the ordinance was probably unconstitutional, the council on Jan. 15 adopted it 5-2. Two opponents were absent.

The ordinance would apply to all housing except a duplex where an owner occupies one unit or to religious, fraternal or similar organizations.

"We were not particularly against the ordinance," said Otis Marston, retired stockbroker and member of Berkeley Citizens United, an organization formed to check on city spending. He has since been elected chairman of "The Committee Against Ordinance 3915."

DEFEAT FORECAST
"The strong point we were trying to make was that it should be submitted to the people."

"The way people rushed in and wanted to sign the petition I'm inclined to think there isn't much chance that it will carry."

Councilman Wilmont Sweeney, Negro attorney who guided the ordinance through the council, conceded that since 20,000 votes probably will decide the issue, "10,000 signatures does give the opposition a running start but it doesn't appear overwhelming."

Dr. James G. Whitney, psychiatrist who is finance chairman of "Citizens For Fair Housing," predicted: "I think we are going to win by 60 per cent."

Wallace J. S. Johnson, a manufacturer and candidate for mayor, has been the major spokesman against the ordinance.

Johnson said he believes in the "free opportunity to buy and free opportunity to rent" but "the equally fundamental human rights of personal privacy of a home owner should not be subject to housing discrimination legislation."

Dr. Fred S. Stripp, University of California debate coach, minister and Johnson's opponent for mayor, said: "Our side is attempting to explain the ordinance so people won't be emotional about it. It is aimed at friendly and private conciliation."

MCA and Desilu on Sam Goldwyn's lawn.

"Can't you hear the starlets waving their pompons and cheering? All the way with MCA!"

"No, I can't, Clyde," I said and he slunk away muttering, "no imagining left in this town."

Clyde Could Teach 'Em a Thing or Two

By BOB THOMAS

AP Movie-Television Writer

HOLLYWOOD — One of the hazards of my job is an occasional visit from Clyde Mack, the cynical flack.

His cynicism is the source of Mack's chronic unemployment as a press agent. Hence he has time to make the newspaper rounds and deliver his acid comments on the Hollywood scene.

"I see 20th Century-Fox has announced a program to train young executives for a career in the movie business," he said.

"Mmm-huh," I commented.

"Makes sense," he added. "All the other industries do it. Fox has fired all its old executives, the ones whose initials don't start with Z. So why not train some new ones?"

I started typing my expense account.

ALL PLANNED OUT
"I've given this some thought," he continued, "and I think Fox ought to hire me as dean of undergraduates for its new school. I could work out a series of courses that would teach young men everything they need to know to be movie executives."

"For instance:

"Agent Relations 36A. How to keep an agent in his place. How to keep an agent from getting your job."

"Press Relations 3D. Are columnists people? Making a turkey seem like a hit through publicity. How to announce your severance from the studio and make it seem like a promotion."

"Story Conference 145. How to make suggestions to improve the script. How to avoid blame when your suggestions turn out bad."

"Budget Economics 84B. Relations on the payroll and how to manage it. Areas of blame when production goes over budget: script trouble. Acts of God. Acts of Brando, etc."

"Academy 346 (graduate course). Can an Oscar be bought? How much does it cost? How to make an acceptance speech and include everyone connected with the picture.

LOOK, BUT . . .
"But, Clyde, I've got to get this expense account—"

Navy Secretary Explains His Choice for Jet Contractor

(EDITOR'S NOTE — A Senate investigation into the awarding of a potential $6.5-billion contract for the TFX Navy-Air Force fighter plane has been making headlines for days. In this exclusive interview, Secretary of the Navy Fred Korth tells why he made his recommendations on the contract.)

The Navy chief said McNamara had indicated no leanings to him before he took the matter under consideration.

"None whatsoever," the Texan replied when asked whether—as had been suggested in a Senate investigation—political considerations tilted the award of the potential $6.5-billion project to General Dynamics. Korth was the first of the top Pentagon leaders to discuss publicly the background of the contract which now is under investigation by the Senate Investigations subcommittee.

The subcommittee has developed testimony that military evaluation boards were overruled four times before the award was given last summer to General Dynamics, of Fort Worth, Tex., with Grumman Aircraft Corp. as an associate.

Testimony also has indicated that the proposal by Boeing, a Seattle, Wash., firm, cost from

Korth said the Navy rejected the first three proposals by both General Dynamics and Boeing because they called for too heavy and too big a plane, unsuited for carrier operations.

On the fourth go-around, Korth said, the Navy-Air Force evaluation board of experts recommended the Boeing model, although it held that both firms' revamped blueprints met the first requirement—that the new plane would result in a substantial increase in fighter capability.

Korth said he favored the General Dynamics version—and so while Boeing proposed two similar planes, one for the Air Force and one for the Navy.

The Navy secretary said he foresaw additional costs in the Boeing proposal because of the added test and development work that would have to be done by Boeing in perfecting two models. These costs would be telescoped in a single plane.

WASHINGTON — Secretary of the Navy Fred Korth said today he recommended the General Dynamics Corp. version of the TFX fighter plane without any dictation from Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara or any political or industrial influence.

Korth told The Associated Press he decided against the rival Boeing Co. proposal for an advanced all-purpose Navy-Air Force fighter because that proposal fell short on two basic points, one of them realistic cost estimates.

"It was not dictated," Korth said in an interview. "It was a decision that Secretary of the Air Force Eugene Zuckert and I made jointly and independently and then made our recommendation to McNamara."

Chemical Spills in Truck Mishap

FLINT (U) — A tractor-trailer loaded with 7,100 gallons of volatile benzol overturned on the U.S. 13 Expressway under the Grand Blanc overpass last night, spilling 3,000 gallons of the chemical on the northbound lane.

Because of the flammable quality of the chemical state police blocked off both south- and north-bound lanes of the expressway until 5:30 a.m. when the danger subsided. State police said north-bound traffic would be interrupted later in the morning to allow removal of the truck.

Chemists were sent from Flint to spray the pavement with a catalyst to deactivate the chemical.

A blowout caused the tanker to smash through guard rails for 350 feet, run against an abutment and roll over. The tanker was bound for Midland.

The driver, William Richard Jones, 46, of Bay City, suffered cuts on the head.

Reds Plan Five-Year Program

MOSCOW (UPI) — The Soviet Union today announced it is drawing up a new five-year plan aimed at strengthening the nation's military and industrial might in the years 1966 to 1970.

The official news agency Tass said Kremlin leaders created a new high-level agency to direct the program and "ensure fulfillment of production plans."

Tass said the moves were made today at a joint meeting of the Council of Ministers (cabinet) and the Presidium (ruling body) of the Communist party under the chairmanship of Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev.

The agency said the directing body — called the "supreme council of the people's economy under the council of ministers of the U.S.S.R." — would have "all necessary rights and powers" to direct industry and construction to meet production goals.

No head for the new organization was announced, but there have been rumors in Moscow that the job may go to first deputy Premier Alexei Kosygin.

He generally is considered the key figure in the Soviet economic program.

Tass said the state planning committee and other bodies had been instructed to prepare a draft plan for 1966-1970 aimed at "proportional development of the nation's economy, the most efficient utilization of materials, labor and financial resources, enhancement of living standards, and further strengthening of national defense."

The Soviet Union's current seven-year plan ends in 1965.

All Kinds Pack Their Lunches

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP)—The custom of bringing one's lunch to work is no longer confined to the blue collar class.

As a matter of fact the average blue collar worker is so busy earning overtime, he can hardly afford to waste his youth in eating.

The white collar employee is quite another matter. He can hardly afford to live unless he brings his lunch to work. There was a time when his white collar was a status symbol. Now it is just a badge of indoor serfdom.

Anyway, for one reason or another, the average office worker is crowded now at lunch time with foddier chombers. Among them you are sure to find these typical characters:

The Interior—He ever has to eat is what is left over in the refrigerator from the day before. If it's a lamb stew he warms it up by carrying it to work in a plastic bag in his pocket.

THE CLASSICIST

The Classicist—On Monday, Wednesday and Friday he brings in bologna sandwiches; on Tuesday and Thursday he brings in liverwurst sandwiches. The male members of his family have submitted on this midday farce since the invention of bread.

The Intellectual—He nips on canapes his wife saved from the last literary to-do, and sips from a small carafe of cheap but adequate red wine from a small but sensitive vineyard on the north slope of a name vineyard in Burgundy where an unknown poet once died climbing uphill. Between bites and sips he reads from a volume of Proust in the original French.

The Trader—This normal of the locker room wanders the area of fering to exchange an extra slab of his mother-in-law's meat loaf for any dessert you have, particularly if it is cheese cake.

The Mechanical Gourmet—He has a slot machine appetite. He eats whatever his nickels and dimes will fetch—chocolate milk, canned soup, candy bars. At the end of the lunch hour he is begging everyone in sight to give him change for a half buck so he can play the machines some more.

The Waitress—If he can't eat what comes out, he lights it up and smokes it.

LITTLE OF EVERYTHING
The Sanitary Aristocrat—He brings a lunch in a picnic hamper that would feed a starving troop of Girl Scouts. After finishing the Girl Scout, he dips his hands in the water fountain before going on to the fried chicken.

The Stern Dieter—From his pocket he plucks a concentrated food wafer, munches it dry as tenance, then faints from hunger and envy when he sees a neighboring employe gulping down a big juicy chunk of apple pie.

OU Dedication Held for New Building

Several hundred spectators witnessed a colorful swimming and diving exhibition at last night's dedication of the new $1.5-million Intramural Sports and Recreation Building at Oakland University.

Informal competition was staged by swimmers from Birmingham School, Pontiac Central and Pontiac Northern high schools.

Girls from the two Pontiac high schools presented a demonstration of synchronized swimming in water ballet.

Main speaker of the evening, Michigan State University Trustee Don Stevens, called for creation of more four-year colleges in Michigan "to meet the ever-increasing demand for higher education."

He was introduced by Oakland University Chancellor D. B. Varner.

Stevens predicted that the number of high schools graduates seeking admission to college will double in the next 10 years.

LAUDS WILSON GIFT

"It is for this reason that the gift of Mr. and Mrs. Wilson, which made possible Oakland University, was such a fortunate one, not only for this area but for all higher education in Michigan," he said.

Stevens praised the OU Foundation and other financial support.

Flood-Stricken Dixie City Must Ration Water

30,000 Homeless in South as Tornadoes Add to Disaster

By The Associated Press
Water rationing begins in Harlan, Ky., today as devastating floods and deadly tornadoes left more than 30,000 persons homeless in the South and property damage in the millions.

Seventeen persons were dead and six others missing. Twelve of the deaths were attributed to floods, and five to tornadoes.

A flash flood—one of several caused by torrential rain—knocked out the pumping station at Harlan about noon Tuesday, leaving the city and outlying communities without water.

Civil defense director Bill Haight made arrangements to truck water from fresh wells on a hillside and from a soft drink plant at nearby Baxter if the plant could distill river water for drinking.

Schools were closed in Harlan County, and gasoline was limited to emergency vehicles. Many persons were trying to clean up the slime and mud.

An elderly miner said the flood water came as a surprise. "Lordy, we didn't hear no noise but here we are back in this mess again."

He was one of those who went through the 1957 flood which caused five deaths and more than $50 million in damages.

The American Red Cross opened disaster headquarters in Huntington, W. Va., to direct work in flood-stricken sections of Kentucky, West Virginia and Virginia.

Southeastern area Red Cross workers helped cope with conditions created by widely scattered tornadoes and some flooding in portions of Mississippi, Alabama and Tennessee.

Tornadoes have pounded Alabama for two successive days and flood waters are adding to the damage in some of the storm-stricken areas.

A tornado struck yesterday in Tallapoosa County, wrecking homes, barns, churches and utility lines. Damage was estimated at $50,000 by the highway patrol. No injuries were reported.

The Red Cross said the twisters affected at least 58 families in Mississippi, 510 in Alabama and 472 in Tennessee. The tornado deaths occurred in those states Monday.

Major damage in Kentucky was caused by the flooding Big Sandy, Cumberland and Kentucky rivers. The swirling waters forced more than 25,000 persons to flee their homes.

Lt. Gov. Wilson W. Wyatt asked President Kennedy to designate 20 mountain counties as disaster areas. Helicopters were used to ferry food into isolated communities while refugees were quartered in public buildings, schools, court-houses or moved in with relatives.

Water was four feet deep in the business district of Pikeville but was receding. Big Sandy crested there at 59 feet, 15 feet above flood stage.

Five persons died as the result of severe flooding in southern West Virginia. Two of the victims drowned, and three others.

Olympic Bill Moves; 2nd Stalled

LANSING (AP)—The first of two bills clearing the way for a $25-million Olympic stadium in Detroit has been cut loose by a somewhat-reluctant House State Affairs Committee, but the second has run smack into a last-minute roadblock.

Acting under hastily applied pressure from Gov. George Romney and the attorney general's office, the committee yesterday released the bill setting up a special recreation building authority and saw it referred to ways and means.

The agreement was reached in the climax to a hectic day during which Romney and Walter A. Goodman, general manager of the Michigan State Fair, clashed verbally on one issue and accused each other of attempting to "obstruct" the Olympics bid.

Romney, Mayor Jerome P. Cavanagh and Detroit Olympic officials conferred in the Motor City yesterday on strategy in their campaign to land the 1968 Olympic Games for Detroit.

Cavanagh said he was encouraged by Detroit's plans which will be presented to the U.S. Olympic Committee in New York Monday.

Under pressure of time, the governor today was expected to look to House Speaker Allison Green, R-Kingston, and other GOP leaders for help in prying the second bill loose from the committee, against the adamant objections of its chairman.

In one tactical move, Romney asked Ways and Means Committee Chairman A. R. Ernst, R-Traverse City, not to consider the authority bill until the paramount measure was reported out to the floor of the House.

The bill would put $1.6 million from an increase in state taxes on race track pari-mutuels into the general fund as a guarantee that the Olympic stadium bond payments could be met.

TO WAIT

Green said he expected the bill would emerge, but State Affairs Committee resident engineers required for field work.

City Manager Robert A. Stierer called the agreement "a standard contract for engineering services, the same as our contract with the firm for its work on the new sewage treatment plant."

The final decision on the Olympic site will be made in October, but only one U.S. city can apply. Detroit earlier was selected as U.S. bidder, then lost its place as the result of a high-pressure campaign waged by Los Angeles.

The two Olympics bills have passed the Senate under a "rush" schedule laid down by Romney, but bogged down in the House Committee when questions of constitutionality and legality arose.

Estimate Cost at $1.5 Million

City Commissioners last night approved a contract calling for plans and final cost estimates of a proposed sanitary sewer on Pontiac's East Side.

Preliminary estimates place cost of the project at about $1.5 million.

It calls for construction of a Murphy Park relief sewer and a Galloway Creek trunk sewer.

The two are expected to spur a development boom in the city's northeast and southeast sections, where there is no sewer system, as well as relieve an overload on existing lines.

The contract with Jones, Henry and Williams of Toledo, Pontiac's consulting engineers, was approved by a 4-1 vote.

Voting for the contract were Mayor Robert A. Landry and Commissioners William H. Taylor Jr., Winford E. Bottom and Loy L. Ledford.

Commissioners Milton R. Henry and Dick M. Kirby are in New York on city business and were not present to vote.

Commissioner Charles H. Harmon voted against the contract. He said he was not against the project itself, but contended that the total engineering contract will eventually amount to 10 per cent of the cost and that is too much.

Harmon said he thought the city's engineering department could do the job for less in the long run.

3.3 PER CENT FEE

The contract calls for plans, drawings, final estimates and related items to be prepared for a fee equal to 3.3 per cent of the total cost of work on which bids are submitted.

The fee for field engineering, general supervision, inspections and final on-site testing is 1.4 per cent.

Thus, the contract agreement carries a total fee of 4.7 per cent plus expenses and payroll costs of resident engineers required for field work.

City Manager Robert A. Stierer called the agreement "a standard contract for engineering services, the same as our contract with the firm for its work on the new sewage treatment plant."

The note said the first volleys were fired at 12:15 p.m., but did not specify what time was being used.

The American ships then moved to within one kilometer from the Soviet vessel and fired two more dummy warhead volleys that landed 60 meters from the trawler, the note claimed.

"By such actions American warships endangered the Soviet trawler and its crew," the note said.

The Soviet government looks upon the shooting at the fishing trawler of the Soviet Union by American navy ships as a rude violation of generally accepted norms of international law, of principles of freedom of navigation on the open sea and as an act of arbitrary rule which can lead to serious consequences."

"If we get the things we ask, we believe it will both benefit the city and the police department," Cooley said.

The association is the official bargaining agent of the 107-member department. It's membership totals 84.

CLOSED TO PUBLIC

The joint meeting begins at 7 p.m. and is closed to the public, the police chief and the city manager, according to Mayor Robert A. Landry.

Another meeting between the commission, Police Chief Joseph Koren and City Manager Robert Stierer is planned for later, the mayor said.

Cooley said that the recent curtailment of overtime pay for policemen was not responsible for scheduling the meeting with commission.

"It was a combination of things that the association believes is imperative to the morale of the entire department," said Cooley. "There are a lot of officers who would be willing to be compensated for an hour overtime with an hour and a half free time," Cooley said. "These things, however, have to be discussed."

Russ Say U.S. Shot at Trawler

Note Claims Vessels Used Dummy Shells

MOSCOW (UPI)—The Soviet Union charged today that a group of three United States Navy warships fired on a Soviet fishing trawler with dummy warheads about 70 miles east of Norfolk, Va., five days ago.

The charge was made in a Soviet note to the United States published tonight in the Soviet government newspaper Izvestia.

The note said the incident took place March 8, last Friday. It said the ships involved were two "Boston" type and one "Franks" type destroyer.

The Izvestia version of the note says the American ships approached within five miles of the Soviet vessel, which was identified as "SRTR 0007," and fired two volleys from their guns, using dummy warheads.

DETAIL VOLLEYS

The note said the volleys landed approximately 130 meters (426 feet) from the Soviet vessel, which the Russians claimed was fishing in the open sea.

The note said the first volleys were fired at 12:15 p.m., but did not specify what time was being used.

The American ships then moved to within one kilometer from the Soviet vessel and fired two more dummy warhead volleys that landed 60 meters from the trawler, the note claimed.

"By such actions American warships endangered the Soviet trawler and its crew," the note said.

Leisurely Reds Have 2 Days to Clear Cuba

Pravda Claims Training's Over

Soys Four Ships Gone and Fifth Is Loading

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

U.S. sources said today Soviet troops are leaving Cuba at a relatively slow pace with only two days to go for Premier Khrushchev to honor his pledge to President Kennedy that "several thousand" would depart by mid-March.

In Moscow, the Communist party newspaper Pravda said four ships carrying troops had sailed and a fifth was loading.

It said the fourth, the 11,000-ton Black Sea cruise ship Gruzia (Georgia), left Sunday carrying specialists who had been training Cubans in "powerful, up-to-date Soviet military techniques."

The New York Times news service said in a Washington dispatch that the Gruzia carried 500 Soviet servicemen.

Pravda said the 15,000-ton Nakhimov, the former Berlin, taken over from Germany after World War II, was in Havana loading troops. It might take as many as 1,500.

PROPAGANDA BUILD-UP

This is the first time any such departure story has appeared in the Soviet press, indicating a new propaganda build-up.

Pravda's dispatch from Havana said that the jobs of the specialists who sailed Sunday were finished, and that Prime Minister Fidel Castro's government had agreed that the Soviet experts could go home.

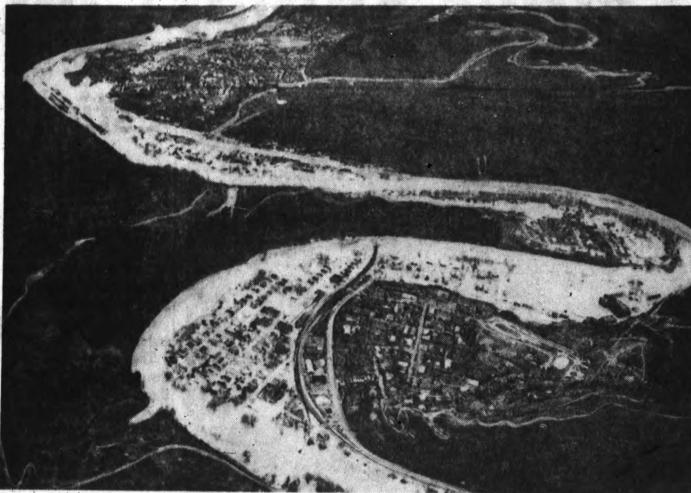

U.S. experts in Washington estimated there were 17,500 Soviet military personnel in Cuba when the withdrawal began. This was 5,000 fewer than believed stationed there at the height of the Cuban crisis last October.

The Soviet liner Baltika, which brought Khrushchev to New York in 1960, sailed Feb. 21 with an unspecified number of soldiers and airmen aboard.

SKEPTICAL OF TOTALS

Havana dispatches said 2,000 sailed on a ship which reporters were forbidden to identify March 1. Washington was skeptical of the figure, but U.S. officials said it is difficult to count men aboard a vessel.

President Kennedy told his news conference March 6 he was not satisfied with the withdrawal rate, but it apparently has been stepped up.

Gov. W. W. Barron asked the President to declare if hard-hit West Virginia counties a disaster area as residents attempted to salvage household possessions.

Wet weather in the form of snow, rain, sleet, showers and fog, covered broad areas from the Rockies into New England.

Although heavy amounts hit some areas in Colorado, Wyoming and northern Minnesota, snow tapered off during the night. Light snow also fell in sections of Maine while drizzle and light freezing rain dampened many sections of New England.

Snow spread from the central and northern Rockies into the Plains and the northern middle Mississippi Valley.

Drizzle and fog shrouded many areas in the central part of the country, the Great Lakes region, and the Ohio Valley. Skies were cloudy over the Atlantic Coast states.

Economy Will Face Disaster if Tax Cuts Rejected---JFK

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy said today the country will face "downturn and disaster" if Congress rejects proposed tax cuts, slashes the budget and puts a tight lid on the national debt.

In a significant attempt to broaden current debate over economic policy, Kennedy argued that tax cuts alone cannot insure the success of his administration's economic program. He said it also is important to avoid "an unrealistic debt ceiling or budget cut."

Wrong decisions in these three policy areas would, he said, "spell downturn and disaster for the American economy as a whole."

In remarks prepared for the annual Washington conference of the Advertising Council, Kennedy said wrong decisions on all three points were made in 1957-1960 by a Republican administration and a Democratic Congress.

HIGH PRICE

As a result, he contended, the nation has been paying a high price ever since by slopping along with a below-par economy.

"I am hopeful," Kennedy said, "that the lessons of history will be remembered by us all—by those of us in the administration and the Congress, and those in this audience who are leaders of opinion in the business community."

The scope of Kennedy's argument, in what originally was expected to be a brief and rather routine appearance, seemed a measure of presidential concern over congressional criticism of the administration's record $98.8-billion budget and the request for a continuation of the record temporary debt ceiling of $308 billion. The White House is expected to ask a higher debt ceiling later.

By linking both these items with the attention-getting tax cut issue, the President seemed bent on seeking broader support for a more boldly stated plan of attack on the ills of the economy.

Would Provoke Strikers

OAS Plot Is Discovered

PARIS (UPI) — French police reported today they have learned of a Secret Army Organization (OAS) plot to provoke peaceful strikers into raging mobs.

The report came as a 300-car motorcade wheeled up to the gates of Paris bringing 2,000 Lorraine iron miners determined to try to discuss their pay raise demands directly with the government.

President Charles de Gaulle, who has been confronted with his most serious domestic crisis by the strike of 200,000 coal miners throughout France.

Police sources said OAS men planned to dress as state security police (CRS), armed with submachine guns, and goad striking coal miners into clashes with the law.

So far, only one brief encounter between coal miners and police in the eastern community of Melbach has occurred in 15 days.

The iron miners, demanding the same 11 per cent increase as the nation's striking coal miners, left Gaulle, who has been confronted with his most serious domestic crisis by the strike of 200,000 coal miners throughout France.

Begin Inquiry of News Media

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Republican Emanuel Celler, D-N.Y., today opened an inquiry into the news industry with a pledge to seek way "to protect, and if need be, expand our free market place for the exchange of news and ideas."

He said new antitrust exemptions for newspapers might be one such step.

Celler, chairman of the House Judiciary Committee and its antitrust subcommittee, called Chairman Newton N. Minow of the Federal Communications Commission as the first witness.

Celler said while he believed "there is simply no substitute for the printed word" to inform and comment on current events, radio and television "form a part of our market place of news and views."

"Where local newspaper monopolies exist, broadcast stations can offer some variety of voices within a community," he said.

"All the more reason, therefore, for the subcommittee to consider the extent and effect of cross-ownership by newspapers of broadcast stations."

Birmingham Area News:

Bloomfield Hills to Mull Controversial Zoning

BLOOMFIELD HILLS — Would passage of a proposed zoning ordinance tripling the space allotted to commercial use materially change the fundamental character of this city?

This is one of the questions to be discussed at a public hearing at 8 p.m. tomorrow in the Cranbrook auditorium.

The ordinance, which is supported by Villan-Leman & Associates, Inc. of Southfield who have made a two-year study of the city's problems, the City Planning Commission and two city commissioners, would increase to 77 the number of acres available for commercial use.

In addition, it increases the number of dwellings per acre from three to 4.7 and allows the construction of three-story buildings.

Opponents of these sections of the ordinance, Commissioners Lyman J. Craig, Robert A. Frye and Henry L. Woolfenden claim that passage "would fundamentally change the character of this city."

In a report to the citizens of Bloomfield Hills, the three charge that the recommended changes would "benefit only nonresident speculators in real estate."

They note the city has been basically a "single residential rural community."

Proponents of the measure could not be reached for comment.

Traffic accidents in Birmingham increased some 30 per cent in February over the same month last year, according to an accident survey taken by Birmingham police.

Failure to yield the right of way was indicated as the most frequent cause of accidents. Over one-third of the accidents were caused by this violation, the report states.

"Hundreds of Birmingham drivers are making 'rolling stops,'" the report continues.

This not only violates the traffic law, but endangers the life of the driver, other drivers and pedestrians, the report warns.

As a part of the driver education program, signs reading "Stop Signs Also Mean LOOK" are being installed throughout the Birmingham area.

Millage Hike Sought Here?

In order to draw good teachers from today's market, the city school system pays teachers a starting salary of $4,530 with an $8,010 maximum after 10 years, Whitmer pointed out.

The demand for these teachers will continue to increase over the next 10 years, he said.

Whitmer noted that teachers' salaries here now rank 29th for minimum wages and 24th for maximum among 60 school districts in the metropolitan area.

"We would like to be in the upper quarter," he added.

Whether the district will attain such a goal and even be able to maintain its present standing will depend on voter reaction, according to Whitmer.

He described his talk as "a stockholders' report . . . and in a very real sense the people of this community are stockholders in their schools."

"The decision whether they want quality education for their children is up to them."

Many fail to appreciate the role schools play in the American way of life," he said. "They should think of it as an investment in youth, developing their talents, teaching them to lead more successful lives and to contribute more to society."

"A higher level of education in the community results in higher standards of living."

Whitmer said the quality of education is improving in Pontiac every day.

U.S. Cuts N-Inspection Area

GENEVA (AP) — The United States substantially reduced today the area it said each on-site inspection would cover to police a ban on underground nuclear tests.

U.S. Ambassador Charles C. Stelle put before the 17-nation disarmament conference the first detailed Western Plan for inspection procedures.

The plan provides that any on-site inspection would cover a maximum of 500 square kilometers—193 square miles. Previously, the United States demanded inspection of an area of 700 to 800 square kilometers—270 to 308 square miles—to determine whether a suspicious underground disturbance was an earthquake or a banned nuclear explosion.

SCIENTIFIC REVIEW

"A careful review of the scientific problems concerned in determining the location of an epicenter"—the center of the disturbance—led the United States to offer the reduced inspection area, Stelle said.

Stelle told the conference the Soviet Union was given advance

notice of the detailed proposal in the hope of obtaining some Russian response.

"Thus far there has been no reply," he said.

The test ban talks are deadlocked by the Soviet refusal to discuss any inspection procedures until the West accepts the Soviet offer of an annual maximum of three on-site inspections.

Stelle said the American suggestions were worked out on the assumption that there would be seven inspections a year on the territory of each of the nuclear powers.

REDS FOR TEAMATES

Inspection teams in the U.S.S.R. would include at least 14 American and British nationals with additional team members drawn from neutral nations. The Russians could accompany the team with an equal number of Soviet observers.

Inspections in the United States and Britain would be carried out by at least 14 Russians and additional neutral technicians.

Each nation could exclude "sensitive defense installations" from areas subject to inspection, Stelle said. But any abuse of this provision "would be considered grounds on which treaty withdrawal could take place."

This meant that if the Soviet Union consistently refused inspections on the grounds that they would touch defense installations, the United States and Britain could regard themselves as no longer bound by the treaty and could resume nuclear testing.

Housewives Do as JFK Does, Not as He Says

KEY, WEST, Fla. (AP)—Some Key West housewives prefer President Kennedy's rocking chair example rather than his 50-mile hike idea.

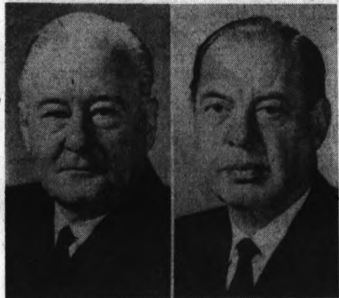

Numerous women have signed up for a rocking chair marathon starting today. There'll be a contest a week for a month with rocking daily during business hours. Finalists will hold a run-off with the contest to continue day and night until all have dropped out but one.

The women will be competing for five rooms of furniture and other prizes put up by a furniture store.

No News Conference

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Kennedy will not hold a news conference this week. He will hold one next week on Thursday at 4 p. m. EST.

In the United States, the number of glass blowers has dwindled to about 900.

How to give a $25 Christmas Gift for $18.75

If you let Uncle Sam help you do some Christmas shopping this year, you'll discover you can give a third more than you thought you could.

That's because your gift of a U.S. Savings Bond grows 33 1/3% to return $4 for every $3 you give!

Bonds brighten many Christmases. Any youngster who gets a Bond this Christmas gets a gift that will grow up with him, for Christmas to come. And while Bonds are earning interest for college and career expenses, they help youngsters learn good savings habits.

Safety and growth guaranteed. Bonds are an absolutely riskless investment. The money is available any time you need it. It can't be lost; if anything happens to a Bond, the Government will replace it free.

Meanwhile, Uncle Sam uses the money to help pay the costs of peace. What better time than Christmas—the traditional time of "peace on earth"—to give or get U.S. Savings Bonds?

"I didn't think about it until the last ball," Bob Smith revealed early this week as he savored the memory of his first 300 game.

"I'd had strings of strikes before but always missed one somewhere along the line, so I figured I'd never bowl one," the veteran Pontiac kegger added.

Smith's perfect game came last Friday in the Huron Bowl Classic and is the first such sanctioned game reported in the area this year.

It isn't the first at Huron Bowl, however, as the house has had one bowled in each of the last three years.

He followed his 300 with a 218 before admittedly relaxing in his third game to finish with a 682 actual series. Smith averages 202 for the rumpus Eagan Electric Company team.

DAUGHTER'S FEAT

Ironically, one of his opponents

Sweden Still Tops Hockey

STOCKHOLM (AP)—Sweden meets West Germany in the world ice hockey championships tonight and there's little doubt that the Swedes are the only one of the top four teams to play today and they are in top form.

They trounced the United States 17-2 Tuesday for their fourth straight victory and a one-point lead over Canada and Czechoslovakia.

Revenge in Volleyball

The Lotus Lake Blues volleyball team won the second half title in the Waterford Township Recreation Department's league Tuesday night by defeating the first half champion Butterfingers 16-14, 15-15 and 15-5.

Friday was Al Pietz who recently bowled 299, leaving the five pin on the 12th ball despite a good hit. Smith's last ball came on the Brooklyn side after 11 straight solid "pocket" hits, but it swept the 10 pins off the lane clearly.

His game, naturally, and series were the league's top efforts last week. The team, however, could not cut any games off the Pontiac Window Cleaning team's lead of 23 games.

In other Huron Bowl action, Lynn Spees rolled 254-445 in the Wednesday Night "A" League for the night's top figures as Huron Airways slipped in front of C&E Marathon in the loop race.

The Rolling Pin loop at Huron Bowl last week had a 231-566 series by Gay Larkin of the Huron Theater squad and the Ladies Matinee last Friday reported a 292-530 for Jerry Rawley.

At 300 Bowl Glen Kitcher rolled 216-409 in the Goodfellows circuit Friday and Morris Weidman bowled a 226 in the Twilight League. The Tuesday House League had a 254 by Jim Phipps and Frank Puddy rolled 294.

The Royal Bowlerettes loop at "300" was led Friday by Madge McGowan's 218 — 552. June Blum came up with a 206-544 in the Wednesday Night Ladies Classic and Betty Bastien had 203-511.

The 300 Bowlerettes had a 207-580 combination by Lorraine Ciolek for its top effort last week. Donna Verhey rolled 564. Marvel Scott's 201 paced the 300 Bowlerettes.

Action at Cooley Lanes saw Madeline Gannon roll a 232-577 in the Multi-Lanes Ladies circuit last week. The Kings and Queens of Cooley Lanes reported a 207 game by Howard Compton and Jack Ashton had a pair of 203's.

At Howe's Lanes the Clarkson Women's circuit still is led by Aluma-Vue by two points over Seattle Motor Sales as each won four points last week. Vivian Sapford of Seattle took individual honors with 219-532.

REMATCH

The Aluma-Vue didn't have such fortunate luck when they had a return match with the Aluma-Vue men's team Saturday at Airway Lanes. After defeating the men in a match earlier, the distaff side had the tables turned on them by the men, 2,690-2,653, although they did capture one of the three games by 49 pins.

In league action at Airway, the Lutheran Mixed circuit saw Virginia Sage roll 228-547 and the Hot Shots captured first place from the Zoats. Airway's first Bowling League recorded a 203-541 for Betzi Waisanen as Carlington's Darlings took three points.

Margaret Luttman rolled 534 for J & M Hardware which still leads the loop by seven-and-a-half points.

Two high totals from Fairgrounds Bowl were Skeet Penells 253-291 in the Tuesday House League and Beverly Kuschel's 223-234-672 in the Thursday Night Ladies League.

Tigers Suffer Third Straight Loss

Kaline Blasts 2-Run Homer Against Orioles

Detroit To Tackle New York Today at Ft. Lauderdale

LAKELEIGH, Fla. (UPI)—The Detroit Tigers aren't exactly getting off to a red-hot start this spring.

After winning their opening game, the Tigers dropped their third straight game last night, 7-2, losing at the hands of the Baltimore Orioles.

Al Kaline's two-run homer in the first inning was about all the Tigers had to cheer about during the game.

The Tigers lost the 2-0 lead in the last half of the first inning when Baltimore pushed across three runs to go ahead for good.

The only other Tiger threat came in the eighth inning when they led the bases with two out. But Stu Miller got Dick McAuliffe to pop out to end that threat.

Baltimore, which is sure that its winter trades will spark the club this year, has now reeled off four straight wins.

FOX SHARP

The best performance for the Tigers was turned in by their reliever Terry Fox. Plunged by a sore arm the last two seasons, Fox went two innings and retired six straight batters.

Howie Koplitz was the most disappointing Tiger. Manager Bob Scheffing let him start and he was raked for six hits and six runs — five of them earned — in a three-inning stint.

After Koplitz walked the bases loaded in the first inning, Al Smith and Jerry Adair, cleared them with singles.

Jackie Brandt's single boosted the Baltimore lead to 4-2 in the second inning and a homer by Adair, double by Noble Landrith and triple by pinch-hitter B. B. Severine chased across two more runs.

Dick Hall went the first three innings for Baltimore and got credit for the victory while rookie left-hander Steve Dalkowski went the middle three and pitched his last ball.

Miller finished up for the Orioles who are the only unbeaten club in the grapefruit league.

The Tigers have another distinction. They're tied for last place in the American League exhibition standings.

The Tigers play the New York Yankees today at Ft. Lauderdale.

Trade Helps Chisox, Baltimore

By The Associated Press

Everything's coming up roses for the Baltimore Orioles and Chicago White Sox, but as always the world champion New York Yankees are finding the exhibition baseball trail lined with thorns.

The Orioles and White Sox, who are picked one of the biggest trades of the winter, received maximum performances from some of their newcomers Tuesday while the world champion Yankees were held to a lone scratch single in a 5-0 loss to Milwaukee at West Palm Beach, Fla.

Only Tom Tresh's infield single in the seventh inning prevented the Yankees from complete humiliation as Frank Funk, acquired in a trade with Cleveland, Claude Raymond and Larry Manier, Milwaukee acquired an added boost when comeback pitcher Herb Score allowed only one hit in three innings.

OTHER GAMES

In other Florida games, the Los Angeles Dodgers edged St. Louis 4-3 at St. Petersburg, Philadelphia beat Cincinnati 12-6 at Clearwater, Pittsburgh nipped Washington 7-4 in 10 innings at Yankees.

Cincinnati 5 Top College Team in Poll

CINCINNATI (AP)—Coach Ed Jucker says he isn't a bit worried because his Cincinnati Bearcats won the final Associated Press basketball poll—and that in spite of the fact that Ohio State won the same honor in 1961 and 1962 only to be beaten by Cincinnati in the NCAA finals.

"I'd rather be No. 1 than any
