Gas Station Attendant Slain

Man Found Shot While on Job at Birmingham

Patron Early Sunday
Discovers Dale Howe,
Critically Wounded

A 24-year-old Birmingham filling station attendant was slain in a $60 hold-up early Sunday morning.

Birmingham Police said the victim, Doyle Howe, of 971 Bennaville St., died of a 12 gauge shotgun blast in the head.

Police Chief Ralph W. Moxley, who said about 12 persons have been questioned in connection with the holdup-slaying, said several tips and other apparent clues "proved of no value so far."

Police first learned of the incident at 2:11 a. m. when a motorist stopped at the station for minor repairs.

Antoine LeFavre, 22, of 294 N. Rembrandt St., Royal Oak, told police he entered the station after waiting a few minutes for an attendant. LeFavre said he entered the station and found Howe still gasping in the washroom. He summoned police over the station's telephone.

Detectors said that Howe, father of a 7-month old daughter, apparently had been ordered to kneel or crouch down when the slayer pushed the 12-gauge barrel to the back of his head and pulled the trigger.

About 15 inches above Howe's head, the blast tore a half-inch hole into the asphalt tile wall and scattered pellets as high as the ceiling.

Moxley said police are partially of the theory that the murder may have been a grudge killing. A blackeye and other bruises on Howe's face seem to indicate that he also may have been beaten, according to other employees at the station and police. He may have sustained the marks when he fell to the concrete floor, added Moxley.

Moxley said that the grudge motive for the killing has not been ruled out. He also theorized that Howe could have been killed after refusing to open the station's safe which contained little cash.

Howe had been living with his brother-in-law, Norman Pearson. His estranged wife, and their daughter, Sharon Kay, live with Mrs. Howe's parents at 2421 Guthrie, Royal Oak.

Police said Howe had been seen about 20 minutes previously by his brother, Morris, 17, of the Bennaville. (Continued on Page 2, Col. 3)

The death toll was the same as over the long Labor Day holiday when National Guard units helped patrol state highways.

A home fire near Sault Ste. Marie claimed two other victims. No drownings were reported over the cool weekend.

Darley Ritchie, 17, of Flat Rock was fatally injured Sunday when his car went out of control on a townsite road near Flat Rock and overturned in a ditch.

Other fatalities were: John Bryne, 17, of Battle Creek, killed Saturday night when a car in which he was riding went out of control and overturned on a road near the Battle Creek city limits.

Showers Give Some Relief but Heavy Rain Is Needed

Showers came to Oakland County this morning but agricultural authorities held out little hope that they would help drought-ridden fall crops materially.

John K. Bray, assistant Oakland County agricultural agent said a day-long soaker is needed immediately to relieve fields which have been turned into dust bowl proportions by the six-week dry spell.

Although he said today's rain would be of some help to late potatoes and corn, at least an inch is needed to germinate newly-planted wheat.

"Next year's wheat crop will be awfully slim if we don't get substantial rainfall and soon," Bray predicted. He also said pastures are in critical need of rainfall.

The rainfall, which registered at about .10 of an inch started at about 6 a.m. and is expected to continue intermittently through tonight and tomorrow, according to the U. S. Weather Bureau.

Temperatures are expected to hit a 60-65 degree low tonight with a predicted high Tuesday of between 74 and 79.

At 8 a.m. today the thermometer in downtown Pontiac registered 58 degrees and rose to a damp 61 by 2 a.m.

Zwicker Denies Making Crack About McCarthy

General Tells Censure Probers He Followed Orders in Peress Case

WASHINGTON (U-P)—Brig. Gen. Ralph W. Zwicker swore today he had no recollection of muttering at a public hearing in New York City that Sen. McCarthy was an "S.O.B."

And Zwicker, testifying before the Senate committee considering censure charges against McCarthy, insisted he was acting under explicit orders when he handled an honorable discharge for Maj. Irving Peress.

Peress is the Army dentist McCarthy has described as a Fifth Amendment Communist.

One of the censure charges against McCarthy is that he abused Zwicker in questioning the general last Feb. 18 in New York City about the Peress case. McCarthy was acting then as chairman of the Senate Investigations subcommittee.

His conflict with Zwicker has been headlined throughout the censure hearings and was one of the fuses which set off the McCarthy-Army dispute and the recent hearings on that controversy.

William J. Harding of New York City told the censure hearings last week he was a spectator at the February hearing by McCarthy into the Peress case. Harding swore that during an open morning session, he heard Zwicker mutter that the senator was an "S.O.B."

Zwicker also was a spectator during that morning session. He was questioned by McCarthy behind closed doors that afternoon.

Asked about this today, as the committee began what may be its final day of public hearings, Zwicker said that after hearing Harding's testimony "I searched my memory carefully and I have no recollection of making any such remark."

Before Zwicker took the witness chair, an Army medical officer, Capt. William J. Woodward, testified that during the February hearing he heard McCarthy say in an aside that Zwicker was the "first Fifth Amendment general we've had before us."

Zwicker began his testimony by reading into the record the order he received from the Arlington directing him to give Peress an honorable discharge.

The letter containing the order to Zwicker to discharge Peress was dated Jan. 18, 1954. Zwicker said he received it Jan. 23.

Detroit Woman Dies After Crash

Patricia Basting Victim of Two-Car Collision on M 59 Sunday

A Detroit woman was fatally injured early Sunday morning in a two-car head-on crash at Williams Lake Road and M 59 in Waterford Township.

Miss Patricia C. Basting, 22, of 2517 W. Chicago, died at Pontiac General Hospital at 12:25 p.m. about nine hours after the accident which injured two others.

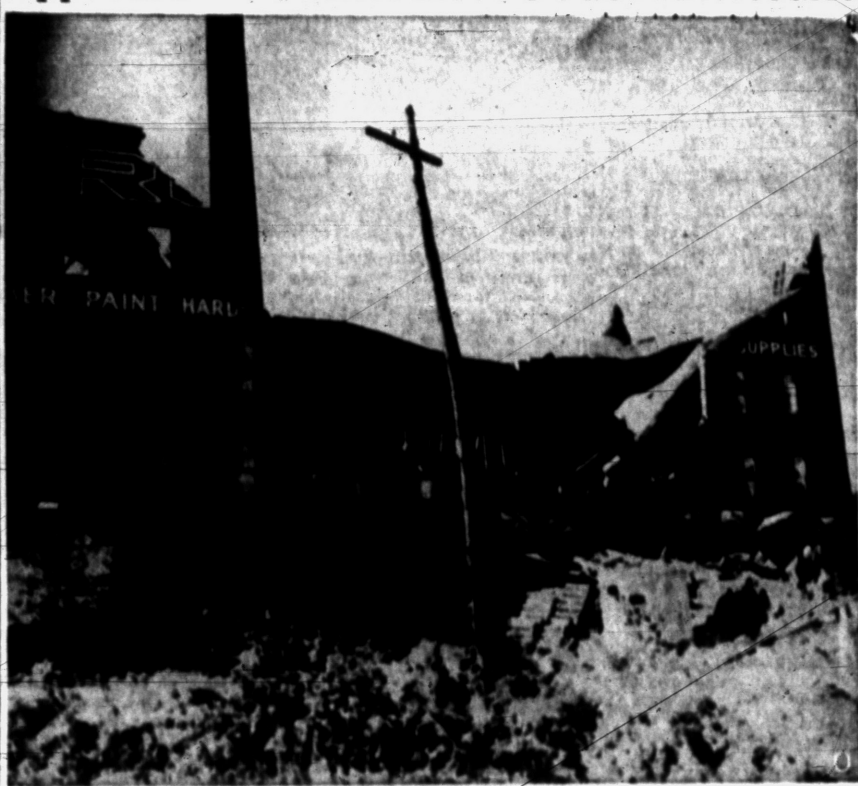

Gordon M. Mitchell, 37, of 18057 Poinciana, Detroit, driver of the car in which Miss Basting was riding, told Oakland County Sheriff's Deputies Herbert Cross and Harry Jones that an auto driven by James Scott, 29, of 436 W. Beachdale, Milford, swung into his lane.

Scott, driving west on M 59, told deputies that a car ahead of Mitchell appeared to be making a left turn so he swung out to avoid the car and collided with Scott's auto.

Scott is listed in good condition today at Pontiac General Hospital with rib fractures, face cuts and chest injuries. Mitchell, with fractured ribs and elbow, was discharged from the hospital yesterday.

Adlai Celebrates Future Status of Father-in-Law

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (U-P)—Adlai Stevenson Sr. stepped into the middle of a gay swing of social festivities today, celebrating the coming event that will make him a father-in-law.

The pretty Miss Anderson had a kiss waiting when her future father-in-law stepped from the plane.

Adlai Jr. and Miss Anderson met here in June, 1953, when he was a second lieutenant in the Marine Corps stationed at Fort Knox.

Picketing Heads for Showdown

400 March at Square D as Circuit Court Awaits UE Leaders

DETROIT (U-P)—An estimated 400 pickets marched at the struck Square D Co. plant today as the issue of mass picketing headed for a showdown in Circuit Court.

Some 125 persons crossed the picket lines in answer to a company-sponsored back-to-work campaign. It was started 12 days ago in an attempt to end a strike of Square D's 1,200 workers-members of the Independent United Electrical Workers.

There were 140 police on hand. Police Commissioner Edward Piggins was on the scene.

A majority of the pickets today, as last week, appeared to be from locals of the CIO United Auto Workers sympathetic to the UE. The CIO ousted the UE in 1949, charging it was Communist-dominated, and since has formed a rival international United Electrical Workers Union.

UE strike leaders were scheduled to appear today before Circuit Judge Frank B. Ferguson to show cause why they should not be held in contempt of court because of mass picketing.

Judge Ferguson enjoined the UE Sept. 3 from having more than five pickets at any entrance to the plant. The injunction followed three picket line skirmishes in which at least four persons were injured, none seriously.

UAW pickets have insisted the injunction does not apply to them. And "flying squadrons" were promised by some UAW locals today to buttress UE pickets opposing the company's back-to-work campaign.

New England States, Nova Scotia Count 20 Dead After Hurricane

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

At least 36 persons have perished in raging Atlantic and Pacific windstorms. In the Far East, Japan braced for more destruction from typhoon June, and in New England and Nova Scotia residents began the task of clearing up in the wake of hurricane Edna.

Meanwhile, hurricane Florence, sixth tropical storm of the year, broke up as it moved inland on the Mexican coast Sunday.

Violent Typhoon June cut a 300-mile path of death and destruction across the southern Japanese mainland today.

At least 16 persons were dead, 55 injured, 11 missing and 11,000 homeless, Kyodo News Service reported.

The storm slammed into teeming Kyushu Island with winds up to 110 m.p.h. Winds slackened to 90 m.p.h. as the typhoon roared inland.

Three southern Kyushu cities, lashed by an 88 m.p.h. wind, tidal waves and cloudburst rains, were evacuated. They are Miyazaki, Kagoshima and Nobeoka.

Utilities Rush Help to Hurricane Area

DETROIT (U-P)—More than 355 technicians and 300 vehicles were enroute to Portland, Maine, today as the Michigan Bell Telephone Co. joined other Bell system agencies in moving to the aid of the hurricane-stricken New England coast.

With 120,000 residents; Miyakonojo, 75,000; and Nobeoka 88,000.

The newspaper Yomiuri said a flash flood may have virtually wiped out Miyakonojo. The storm paralyzed communications in the area.

The U.S. Air Force said the storm center, lumbering northeastward at 17 m.p.h., would move across western Honshu and into the Sea of Japan tomorrow.

Its present course would carry the storm through Hiroshima, but it would miss the populous centers of Osaka and Tokyo.

Miss Bignood, a member of the British Curtis Cup team which lost to the United States less than two weeks ago, had an easy victory. She shot a one-over-par 37 on the front nine of the Allegheny Country Club course to lead four up at the turn and then won the next three holes to end the match.

Schleswig - Holstein Vote

State's Socialist Victory Imperils Adenauer's Hold

KIEL, Germany (U-P)—A political rifted menaced Chancellor Konrad Adenauer and his pro-American foreign policy today as his Socialist foes merged as the strongest party in a key state election.

Although the coalition headed by Adenauer's Christian Democratic Union appeared sure of holding control of the government in the Soviet zone frontier state of Schleswig-Holstein, the Socialists' 12,000 vote lead in yesterday's balloting was seen as a clearcut exposure of the old leader's suddenly dwindling popularity.

The rural state—called the "poor house of the Bonn Republic"—rebuffed the 78-year-old Chancellor's plea for a vote of confidence in electing its new Lantag State Parliament.

Campaigning for overtures to Russia to unify East and West Germany, the Socialists outscored the Christian Democrats in the same state that accorded the CDU a 2-1 margin over its arch rival last year when Adenauer was re-elected Chancellor.

In today's final count, the CDU trailed the Socialists 284,570 to 206,795.

City to Consider Allocation of Interceptor Sewer Costs

From Our Birmingham Bureau
BIRMINGHAM — Allocation of costs in an agreement whereby Birmingham's sewage treatment plant would treat sewage from Bloomfield Township until a proposed interceptor sewer is constructed, will receive the attention of lawmakers at tonight's City Commission meeting.

The overall contract will be under consideration, and a township representative is expected to attend the meeting.

Under the same subject, commissioners will hear a manager's recommendation that a lease for the city's Walker Gravel Pit property be extended, allowing the Southeastern Oakland County Garbage and Rubbish Authority to continue sanitary land-fill operations there until Dec. 1. The present lease expires Nov. 1.

Another authority, the Southeastern Oakland County Water Authority, will be discussed in connection with the contracts necessary before Birmingham and other municipalities can start receiving Detroit water.

Concluding that the monthly general meeting of the League of Women Voters has grown too unwieldy to stimulate participation in membership discussion, the board of directors sought to solve the problem and will introduce the unit meeting system this fall.

At present six units have been set up. These will be held in various sections of the community and league members may attend any one of their choice.

tracks and crops lay like a jagged wound today across territory raked by death-dealing hurricane Edna from Massachusetts to Nova Scotia.

The death toll reached 20-13 in New England including 8 in Maine where autos were trapped in road and bridge washouts by streams that went wild under a record eight inches rain.

Maine Gov. Burton M. Cross after an air survey set loss there at more than seven million dollars—on top of 10 million wrought 12 days before by hurricane Carol. Cross asked President Eisenhower to declare Maine a major disaster area.

Two-thirds of Nova Scotia's four million dollar apple crop was counted lost.

All of Maine's dead were drowning victims. Four persons perished in Massachusetts, one in Connecticut, another in Nova Scotia. Six highway fatalities in New York State were attributed to the hurricane.

Southern New England, braced for devastation reminiscent of the 1938 hurricane, was spared heavy property damage and even in the areas hardest hit water, not wind, was blamed for much of the destruction.

Telephone lines went out of service on a scale that once again saw repair crews head from southern New England into Maine, where their task was complicated by road washouts that caused a temporary ban on travel by all but emergency vehicles.

Late last night state police said the main routes again were open.

Additional Self Employed to Be Under Social Security

(Editor's Note: This is the sixth in a series of eight articles dealing with 1954 changes in the Social Security Act. Reprints are available by contacting the Pontiac Social Security Office, 322 Hubbard Bldg.)

Many employees in work covered by state and local pension plans can now come under social security.

Also, more self-employed persons will be eligible for social security starting Jan. 1, 1955.

In 1950, amendments to the Social Security Act permitted states to bring local and state employees under social security.

The law then required an agreement between the state and the federal government as to who should be covered and specified that policemen, firemen and employees under pension plans could not come under social security.

This year's changes still leave out policemen and firemen. But many employees with state and local pension plans are eligible.

There are certain restrictions:

1. Employees whose jobs are under a retirement system may also get social security if a majority of the members in the system vote for it.

2. Employees whose jobs are under a retirement system, but who cannot themselves become eligible for membership in the pension plan, can obtain social security without voting.

3. In either of the above cases, there must also be an agreement between the state and federal government.

Congress, in making these changes, recognized that many state pension plans are designed for career employees and those entering state or local employment only temporarily lose both the pension plan and social security.

Michigan state and local employees may get information on their status by contacting Donald O'Hara, Lewis Cass Bldg., Lansing. O'Hara is chairman of the state employees retirement system.

Up to 1955, most self-employed professional people are excluded from social security coverage.

New changes in the law make it possible, beginning in 1955, for most of these persons to be covered if their net earnings are $400 or more a year.

Included in the group who will earn social security benefits for the first time are self-employed engineers, accountants, architects and funeral directors.

These persons will make their first reports early in 1956, covering 1955 earnings. The report will be part of the regular income tax return. The tax rate will be three per cent of net earnings, not counting earnings over $4,200.

Some professional self-employed persons are still specifically excluded from social security coverage. These are chiropractors, dentists, physicians, surgeons, optometrists, osteopaths, naturopaths, veterinarians and lawyers.

Ministers, members of religious orders (excluding those who have taken a vow of poverty) and Christian Science practitioners may elect coverage as self-employed persons by filing a certificate with the Internal Revenue Service within two years after Jan. 1953.

If you are in one of these newly covered groups, you will need a social security account number when reporting yearly earnings.

Those needing a card can apply at the nearest social security office. If you have lost your card, apply for a duplicate. Application blanks are available at post offices.

available for comment, twice refused to answer questions of the Senate Banking Committee which conducted public hearings on the housing scandals. His case now is being studied by the Justice Department.

McKenna said "a number" of FHA employees have been removed as a result of his inquiry and others against whom "serious charges appear to have been substantiated" are or soon will be put on "involuntary annual leave" until formal disciplinary action can be taken. A housing agency spokesman said 25 FHA employees have been removed since the investigation began.

McKenna said details of cases of "gratuities, bribery and conflict of interest" found during the investigation have been turned over to the housing agency's new compliance division. Many cases "are still in process," he added.

He recommended a number of ways to tighten up housing laws and regulations to prevent future violations and abuses. Many of these already have been enacted by Congress or put into new rules by the government.

California Beauty Starts Reign as Miss America

By JAMES F. TOMLINSON

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. — A long-stemmed beauty from California, in the crown and robes of a queen, embarks today on a year-long whirlwind tour as the 1955 Miss America.

Nineteen-year-old Lee Ann Meriwether of San Francisco, who wants to be an actress and says there's no special boy friend in her life right now, is modest about her figure.

But the pageant judges, who selected her from among 49 other chameleons Saturday night, were more enthusiastic over Lee's measurements — which shape up this way: Bust 34½, waist 22 and hips 35.

In her first interview with newsmen yesterday, Lee confided that she didn't think she'd give Marilyn Monroe much competition and that the new "flat" look by Dior "came just in time to save me."

As for romance, Lee said "there's no one special" and that she only had "some very good friends."

Across the world, in Tokyo, one of her "good friends," Army Pvt. John R. Riveroll of San Jose, Calif., was excited when he heard that Lee won the Miss America title.

Riveroll said he was the "only guy she went steady with" that they weren't engaged, but that he was "working on it."

Lee's mother, Mrs. Ethel Meriwether, said Riveroll was just "a very nice friend, but there's certainly no engagement."

Lee, sunburned and stately, wept freely as she donned the Miss America robe and crown before a national television audience and a Convention Hall crowd of 15,000 Saturday night.

One of her first thoughts was of her late father, Gregg Meriwether, who died last July. In a tearful speech of thanks, Lee glanced toward the high ceiling of the hall and said quietly: "Daddy, I hope you know and I hope you're proud."

She said her father "wanted me to go to Stanford and be an actress."

But in the eastern area of strength, we have (1) prevented Japan from rearming, (2) isolated the government of the Republic of China and (3) immobilized our power in Korea by an armistice.

"So now Red China, with complete immunity in the north and east, is free to (1) consolidate within, (2) move south against weakness and (3) talk tough at any and all conferences."

Denouncing the armistice in Korea as one of political expediency, Van Fleet said the loss of Korea and Indochina to the Communists would mean that they would "irresistibly overflow" Japan, Formosa, Thailand, Burma and the Philippines "probably without firing a mortar," and he added:

"Once the free world is shut off from these priceless raw materials what hope remains for the Middle East, for Africa or for Europe or for us: As a soldier I can only admire the brilliant simplicity of their battle chart."

Van Fleet Warns of Asian Peril

Says We Have Failed to Utilize Strength of Free World

WASHINGTON — Gen. James A. Van Fleet says the United States has failed to capitalize on free world strength in the Far East and faces the strong possibility of a catastrophe in Asia.

"Our real strength in the Far East rests in Korea, Formosa, the Philippines and Japan," Van Fleet said in a copyrighted article in the magazine U.S. News and World Report. "Southeast Asia has little to offer in either military or moral strength."

Eden Finishes Talk With Bonn Premier

BONN, Germany — British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden concluded his two-day talks with West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer shortly before noon today.

The statesmen spent most of yesterday and last night wrestling with the problem of how to fit a sovereign West Germany into the North Atlantic Treaty Organization. Eden is sounding out all the partners of the defunct European defense machinery on how far to go with rearming Germans.

U.S. Plans to Reimburse Korean War POWs Soon

WASHINGTON (UP) — The government will soon set in motion a program to pay millions of dollars in compensation to Korean War prisoners—or their next of kin—who suffered hardships at the hands of the Reds.

Commissioner Pearl Carter Pace of the Foreign Claims Settlement Commission said applications for the payments will start going out within the next few weeks. The applications will go to the former prisoners or to the next of kin if the prisoner has died.

But it will probably be months before the payments will be made. Congress, in passing legislation authorizing the compensation payments, failed to provide money to carry out the program.

Mrs. Pace said in an interview the commission is going ahead in getting claims in order so it can start making payments when Congress appropriates the money next year.

The program is similar to one provided for military personnel who were imprisoned during World War II. Korean War prisoners will receive $1 for each day they received inadequate food according to standards of the Geneva Convention. They will receive an additional $1.50 for each day they were subjected to inhumane treatment or forced labor at the hands of their Communist captors.

Under the World War II program, payments were made from seized foreign assets. But there were no foreign assets seized during the Korean struggle and payments must come from funds appropriated by Congress.

Mrs. Pace estimated that some 8,300 persons will be entitled to receive the payments. This will include the 3,747 prisoners who were repatriated, plus next of kin of Americans who died in Communist prison camps.

Advance estimates, Mrs. Pace said, put total payments at about $12,000,000. For soldiers captured in the early days of the Korean War, the individual payments could go as high as $2,700.

Of the 2,000 known kinds of germs and bacteria, only about 100 are believed to be harmful. The other 1900 varieties are necessary to life in one manner or another.

MEMBER OF AUDIT BUREAU OF CIRCULATIONS

MONDAY, SEPTEMBER 13, 1954

Sept. 17 Dondero Day

Graceful and we think deserved tribute was paid a veteran Congressman when Pontiac City Commission designated September 17 GEORGE A. DONDERO Day.

The Commission's resolution specifically states that its action was taken in recognition of the Royal Oak lawmaker's long and outstanding efforts in behalf of the St. Lawrence waterway.

Rep. DONDERO's position as chairman of the House Public Works Committee made his work for the seaway additionally effective. As chairman he introduced the first St. Lawrence legislation in the House. He also was co-author with Wisconsin's Sen. WILEY of the House and Senate bills which made the United States a partner of Canada in the actual construction.

Besides his work for the seaway, Rep. DONDERO is one of the Republican party's staunchest foes of Government in business and a long time fighter against Communism. He also is an authority on the life and achievements of ABRAHAM LINCOLN.

Now rounding out his 11th term in the House, ten of them as a member of the old 17th district, he is a candidate for re-election in the 18th this Fall.

Water Plan Progressing

Important steps toward the solution of their water problem were taken in Royal Oak at a meeting of the South-eastern Oakland County Water Authority with local communities.

Royal Oak City Commission already has agreed tentatively to join in a 30 year, $6,000,000 contract under which the City of Detroit would provide urgently needed water. Similar action by Birmingham, Clawson, Pleasant Ridge, Huntington Woods, Berkley and Southfield Township is expected in the near future.

Terms of the contract provide for necessary extensions to existing mains. Also planned is a 10,000,000 gallon storage reservoir to be built on the Beaumont Hospital property Woodward Avenue at Coolidge.

Detroit is expanding its facilities to meet the additional demand for water. Present indications are that this sorely needed service could be in operation by July, 1956.

If approved by all communities, the project would be financed by the sale of revenue bonds. These would be retired by water users in extra charges on their water bills.

Here is an excellent example of communities acting together to solve a problem so large none of them could have coped with it alone.

Needless Expense

A letter to the New York Times renders useful service by calling attention to the waste of the President's time and expense of the EISENHOWERS' New York registration flight.

The letter contained the following estimate of cost of that quick trip to the Nation's largest city so the EISENHOWERS could vote in November:

For 4,500 man hours of N. Y. police, $10,000; gas and oil for police vehicles, $100; 300 man hours of time for the Secret Service, $1,000; 100 man hours for the crew of the plane, $300; gas and oil for plane, $300; 50 man hours at the N. Y. Board of Elections when all work stopped before and during the President's visit as a security measure, $250. Total, $11,950.

Continuing, the writer pointed out that the cost of the President's wasted time is incalculable. The truth is that both that and the other expenses could have been avoided except for two things. One is New York State's lack of a permanent voter registration law. The other, which long has stood out as a blot on our democratic escutcheon, is that residents of the District of Columbia have no vote.

Only the people of New York State through their Legislature can remedy the defect in their registration law. Under the Constitution the matter of enfranchising residents of the District of Columbia is up to Congress. But all efforts in that direction so far have failed largely due to the opposition of Southern Legislators.

ONE reason for the high incidence of employment in this country is that millions of people are working to support automobiles.

Deer on the Dixie

Getting Quite Domesticated Along Main Traveled Road

Daffynition

Middle age: When we reflect on the time when we thought we knew everything.

Deer are holding up traffic on the Dixie Highway in Oakland County. They become confused in the glare of the auto headlights, and some have been killed, and several injured. Two bucks and a pair of does are hanging around the intersection of the Dixie and Highway M-87 in Springfield Township, near the home of Howard Loomis, spending the days in a nearby woods and roaming at large at night. The bucks both have good horn racks.

In answer to several inquiries, Pontiac Press delivery boys are eligible to compete in the football contest, since they do not work directly for the paper, but for their distributor.

Back from an eastern trip.
 Archie Barnett
 tells of the display of the traffic slogan, "Children should be seen and not hurt."

Cranberries once grew in large quantities around Oakland County's lakes, but now are nearly extinct. However, of Lake Orion has a bush that yields a good crop every year. It is over 10 feet high.

Coach of the Pontiac High School team,
 Ed. Graybiel, considers our football contest an excellent means for stimulating interest in the game. He hopes for a large entry list, and says that $300 prize is a top donation for the promotion of better athletics on all levels.

After living in Pontiac for many years,
 Ralph Bellington,
 who recently moved to Flint, writes: "Guess I'll move back to a city where they have sane traffic regulations. In Flint, the city fathers cannot make up their minds about one-way streets and change them so often (both minds and streets) that it seems everybody's crazy."

So many forsythia bushes are doing a second blooming stunt this year that they are not news. Thanks, however, to those who have reported them.

Now going strong is the "Panacea," monthly publication put out by the patients at the Oakland County Tuberculosis Sanatorium. Under the direction of it abounds in newsy items about the institution and the people regaining their health there.

City's Labor Day Parade One-Sided Political Affair, Believes an Observer

(Letters will be condensed when necessary because of lack of space. Full name, address and telephone number of the writer must accompany letters but these will not be published if the writer so requests, unless the letter is critical to the nature.)

Labor Day is over and a beautiful one for both the State Fair and the parade of parades. Having witnessed the Pontiac parade in the a.m. and then the Romeo parade in the afternoon, it really made a person stop and think.

The first was a one-sided political affair, making an American born citizen wonder if this is still America. The afternoon parade was so beautiful, everyone free to take a part regardless of politics or unions.

Why can't Pontiac have such parades? We love our city and we don't like it so one-sided.

"Just a Good American"

Dog May Have Cut Tongue on Tin Can

There has been a lot in the paper recently about the dog who got his tongue cut off. I don't believe that anyone could do such a thing, yet I am not saying anyone is wrong in thinking so.

I had quite an experience in getting a can off a dog's tongue.

In fact I could not do it alone. A neighbor held the dog while I removed the can. It took about an hour.

The can was opened with about 1/2 inch left on the lid. The lid was pushed inside. The dog licked the inside of the can and pulled the lid shut on the tongue. I was very lucky to have seen the dog when it happened as I would have thought that it was cut out. Most cans are opened with a very clean edge, thus are quite sharp when pushed in and then pulled out. They make a clean cut, not a ragged one.

This could have happened to that little dog also. The dog could have pawed at the can and cut its tongue. If the people interested in this little dog realized this, it might take a load off their minds. An accident is not as hard to take as a thing done deliberately.

Mr. H. Mixed Up About Bingo Game

Mr. H., I think you are very much mixed up. Someone must straighten you out. Your letter was false from start to finish. Who gave you the right to speak for all the groups who play Bingo?

That is what you do when you say the help is paid. Maybe you called for a carnival.

I can tell you, Mr. H., I have called for years and I have never been paid a dime and neither have any of the other workers. Your charge that a jackpot can be held is almost too silly to notice. Don't you know, Mr. H., a lost jackpot is the best advertisement a Bingo can get?

You sure don't get around much, Mr. H., if you only know of eight games. I know of at least 7 jackpots lost in a lot less time than you mentioned.

Now tell me how you tell a church member by sight? You say you have never seen one at Bingo. Ask me sometime and I'll show you lots of them that I know go to the church.

I think you better take a closer look at what you think is Poker, too. I think you are wrong there also. What puzzles me the most is why such a smart man plays a game he is so sure is crooked. You can't fool the public, Mr. H., so you may as well join them and vote "Yes" on November 2.

Case Records of a Psychologist

Wives Who Are Expecting 1st Baby Should Not Be Medical Specimens

Elsie's husband doesn't know why he got drunk and went out with a girl from the neighboring tavern. And Elsie didn't realize that she was unwittingly at fault, too, for such disasters are often a 50-50 proposition. But after you read this Case Record, you young wives can avoid such a tragedy.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE
 Case M-313: Elsie B., aged 24, is expecting a baby soon. "But, Dr. Crane, I am heart-broken," she announced, "for my husband has had an affair with a girl he met at a tavern."

"How could a man be so cruel to his wife? And especially just before we are to have our first baby. He had looked forward with so much delight to the baby, so how could he be so disloyal to me?"

"Oh, he says it was because he was drunk and he begs me to forgive him and forget, but I can never trust him again. Dr. Crane, what would make a man do such a thing?"

Wives, when you are expecting your first baby, beware lest you create the impression that you are a medical "specimen" instead of a sweetheart.

Aunt Het

Men ain't very bright. They despise a grocer who sides with everybody to get business, but they cheer a politician who does it to get votes.

This tragedy confronting Elsie is not uncommon. And it is usually as much the wife's fault as it is the husband's, yet neither one of them knows just why such a situation occurs.

But we psychologists can give you a precise analysis of its development. For most husbands have a squeamish attitude about hospitals, medical orders, etc.

It may go back to their childhood when they had their tonsils removed or to a dental office when a tooth was extracted under gas anesthesia.

Anyway, the idea of "medicine" may kill their appetite and even render them slightly nauseated. Thus, many young people can't relish food at a hospital, for the latter has become a symbol of sickness and chemical odors.

So when a young wife is expecting her first baby, a subtle change may come over the husband, unless the wife is on guard. For he may become respectful and considerate and look on her as being a medical "specimen."

Maybe her doting parents help create this impression by urging her to be careful and to have a medical check-up every couple of weeks. So, without fully realizing what takes place in his own emotions, the husband begins to lose his physical ardor for her.

As this persists and even increases, he grows doubly worried. For he not only is apprehensive lest his wife might have trouble with the birth of their baby, but he secretly frets about his own apparent impotence.

In his desperate anxiety, he soon feels much like the male of 50 who grows panicky lest he be prematurely senile.

The "Ponce de Leon" males of 50, as well as Elsie's husband, finally may take to liquor to drown their fears and gain a little relief from the persistent dread that has been gnawing at their ego.

And while drunk, both men may become embroiled in an affair with the typical female tavern habitue.

Since they are drunk and since this strange girl does not have that adverse "medical specimen" effect, Elsie's husband thus found his erotic vigor unimpaired with the tavern girl.

Later, when he sobered up, he couldn't explain what had made him desert his wife. For most husbands in such a dilemma haven't analyzed all the factors that have led to their downfall.

So you wives better realize that you should remain sweethearts despite pregnancy, for the latter is a normal condition.

Physical Education at Public School Should Prepare Youngsters for Life

By WILLIAM BRADY, M.D.

Our public schools are training a nation of flabby-muscled and dull-witted youngsters who grow up to find "relaxation" through alcohol and "recreation" in paying to watch sporting events instead of playing the games themselves.

That part of education which should take priority over the three R's, — physical education, is shunted aside and ignored by school administrators and taxpayers alike. Have you any idea what kind of physical training our children get?

Problems afflicting school athletics reach their most acute stage in the senior high school. Over-emphasis on the few and neglect of the many is more

David Lawrence Says:

Victory for Mrs. Smith Forecast by GOP Leader

WASHINGTON — Maine's election for United States senator and governor will be talked about this week nationally not so much because of the saying—"as goes Maine so goes the nation"—but because it is the only state holding a congressional election in September, and it's therefore the first national test of the strength of the two major parties. It is always worthwhile examining each of the party percentages to see whether it is above or below other years.

What is said by the partisan leaders after an election is usually an alibi if there's a defeat, just as an exaggerated emphasis is given if there's a victory. So this time a pre-election forecast is presented which this correspondent obtained from a private conversation with an important Republican leader who naturally didn't want to have his name used.

It will be interesting after all the votes have been counted to compare his pre-election analysis with the actual totals, for each party. Here is a man who has held high office himself, and who might be described as a Taft Republican and hence not politically friendly in the past to Sen. Margaret Chase Smith, who was on the Eisenhower side in the 1952 pre-convention fight.

Mrs. Smith won the senatorial race in 1948 by a majority of 96,000 and it was just about twice as big as the majority by which Dewey carried the state in November. It was twice as big a majority, too, as the successful Republican nominee for senator had received two years before.

"Mrs. Smith will win again," said the anonymous prophet. "But by a reduced majority, perhaps 25,000 to 30,000 less than she did in 1948. That's because she will not get some of the Democratic votes she got in 1948 when she didn't hammer the Democrats as hard as she is doing this year. She has been making eight or ten speeches a day—good Republican speeches—and if the Republican candidate for governor pulls through she will be entitled to much of the credit for bringing out the party vote—especially the votes of disaffected Republicans."

"Is the governorship in doubt?" I asked.

"Yes, it is close, and you must remember that two years ago the Republican governor who is running for re-election this time won the state by only 8,000 actual majority, though he had a larger plurality in the three-cornered race. Remember also, that about every 20 years, Maine elects a Democratic governor. It happened in 1934 and it happened in 1914. It might be said to be due in 1954 from the standpoint of a cycle, and if we win it will be very close."

"Has McCarthy been an issue in the campaign for senator?" was the next question, inasmuch as Mrs. Smith is known as a critic of the Wisconsin senator.

"It has hardly been mentioned at all. The Democrats have kept quiet about it, presuming of course that they might get disaffected Republicans that way, and the Republicans have said nothing in order not to lose votes. But it is interesting that it hasn't been an issue so far as the campaign itself is concerned."

"Do you think there'll be a big stay-at-home among the Republicans, particularly the Taft wing of the party?"

"I don't think we'll be able to tell the reason if there's any falling off in the Republican vote, because, you see, we have just had a hurricane here in Maine and the roads are still pretty bad."

"But will not the Democrats have the same trouble getting to the polls as the Republicans?"

"No" was the reply. "Most of the Democratic votes are concentrated in the cities, while the heaviest Republican vote is in the rural areas."

"So you look for a Republican victory for senator and a close race for governor?"

"That's it, but whether or not you will be able to construe it as a national trend is something else. For remember that Mrs. Smith is a popular candidate, and while the gossip is that she is provoked because Mrs. Roosevelt endorsed her Democratic opponent, she may still get many Democratic votes."

"Has the Democratic party put up a strong campaign?"

"Yes, they have had plenty of money for television, radio and so on."

"Where did they get it?"

"The gossip is that Averill Harriman has been helping, and some of his supporters hope to get Maine's delegates for him to the 1956 National Democratic Convention."

So that was the confidential preview on Maine by a well-posted Republican leader after he had made a private canvass of the situation in talks with local leaders before the election.

Why is it that our favorite songs... Are those of long ago... And they become more wonderful... The older that we grow?... The melodies of modern times... Attract our ear today... But as the calendar moves on... The music fades away... The only answer is the fact... That we associate... Each singing composition with... A very special date... And every date of happiness... Is one that meets the dawn... As love endures forever... The sentiment is gone... The older any song becomes... The sweeter it may be... According to the picture of... Our heart-felt memory.

THOUGHTS FOR TODAY

And I was afraid, and went and hid thy talent in the earth: lo there thou hast that is thine.—Matthew 25:25.

Why what should be the fear? I do not set my life at a pin's fee; and, for my soul, what can it do to that, being a thing immortal.—Shakespeare.

characteristic of senior high school than of earlier grades.

This picture of pelegit is all the more to be regretted because high school is, for many teenagers, the last opportunity the school has to develop lasting interests, skills and attitudes. How adults use their leisure time, for example, and what they do to maintain physical fitness reflect to a considerable degree their early experience as participants in physical activities.

A good intramural program should not content itself with three or four seasonal sports.

Emphasis should be placed upon sports that not only are of interest during the school years, but may also be played in adulthood. Sometimes the school's so-called intramural program for boys is little more than an elimination tournament held early in each "major" sport season. Large numbers are encouraged to take part at first; but after the more promising athletes have been selected for the varsity squad, the rest receive scant attention. If false values are attached to the significance of varsity status, the boy who fails to make the squad may acquire feelings of failure and rejection that will color his whole high-school career.

Wake up, America, and attend to the crucial job of our children's health and welfare.

Show Business

Actors, Actresses in Need of Rest Find Hollywood Has Gone Hawaii

By EDDIE CANTOR

Every year, the doctor winds up his annual check-up with the advice: "You ought to get away from show business and show people for a few weeks—relax!" Last year, I decided to do just that, and went to Honolulu.

On the boat going over, I was happy to see Van Johnson and his wife, Evie—Tony Curtis and wife, Janet Leigh—Don Quinn, the fellow who wrote the Fibber McGee and Molly show for so many years—and various other Hollywood people who certainly were not in the pineapple business!

I realized that the phrase "gone Hollywood," is very much out of date. Hollywood has "gone Hawaii!"

My first day on Waikiki Beach, I tripped over Fred MacMurray and looked up to see Lauren Bacall chasing her baby son, Stevie. All the men on the beach were watching like they'd like to be chasing Lauren, if Bogey and his "all right, Louie" expression hadn't been on hand.

At the Royal Hawaiian Hotel buffet luncheon, pretty Janet Leigh was the envy of all the women. Every day, she downed enough food to balance the hotel budget, and two or three desserts on top of that. I don't know where she put it, but on her it looked good!

She's the kind of girl I could grab, hug, and kiss, and hug—of course, I don't mean it, but at my age, it doesn't hurt to give my arteries a pep talk!

Bill Bendix was there, too—basking in the sun and living the life of Riley. In the afternoons, he took his hula lesson, looking very much like a truck backing into a space just big enough for a Jaguar.

Comparing notes on the beach one day, I found everybody was having a marvelous time except for one thing: At 5 a. m. every morning, they were awakened by the chattering of the mynah birds.

I was having the same trouble until I thought of a way to fix those birds—but good! On the third morning, I got up before they did—sang two choruses of "If You Knew Susie," and woke them up!

After that, they didn't bother me—probably passed the word around: "Lay off this guy! He fights back!"

I don't know where I'll spend my vacation this year to "get away from show business." Say! Maybe Lindy's Restaurant!

AF Rushes Aid to Crash Injured

Flies Medical Supplies to 5 Survivors of Thule Smashup; 10 Killed

WESTOVER AIR FORCE BASE, Mass. (AP)—A plane today headed from this base to Thule Air Base, Greenland, with medical supplies for the five survivors of a plane which crashed yesterday with the loss of 10 lives.

Air Force officials here identified the plane which crashed and burned as an Air Force, four-engine C124 Globemaster. It crashed about a half mile from Thule base, 900 miles south of the North Pole, while making an emergency landing.

Maj. Huly Bray of the Atlantic division Military Transport Service reported 10 of the 15 persons aboard were killed. Their names were withheld pending notification of next of kin.

RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil (AP)—Rescue boats searched the waters of Rio's scenic Guanabara Bay today for seven persons missing following the crash of a crippled Brazilian airliner.

The plane's crew of four and 15 passengers were rescued by a launch after the plane plunged into the bay yesterday with 26 persons aboard. The seven missing were passengers.

The airline said it believed all aboard the plane were Brazilians.

Big Blow Deposits Boat on Airfield

BOSTON (AP)—Logan International Airport officials smiled today as they recalled a plea made by an unidentified telephone caller during Saturday's hurricane.

The alarmed gentleman asked permission to go on the field and lash down his boat.

"Boat?" Don't you mean airplane?" queried the control tower.

"No, no, my boat—it's been swept on the field from the shore."

Former Nazi Official Reported Near Death

HAMBURG, Germany (AP)—Former Nazi Foreign Minister Konstantin von Neurath was reported near death today in West Berlin's Spandau Prison. Now 81, he is suffering from heart trouble and is nearly blind with cataracts.

Von Neurath suffered a heart attack in his cell last week. Von Neurath, who was also Hitler's "protector" of occupied Czech provinces, was sentenced eight years ago at the Nuremberg war crimes trial to 15 years imprisonment.

Probe Rare Disease in Filipino Children

MANILA (AP)—Investigation into a reported outbreak of hemorrhagic fever—a disease found among American troops in Korea in 1950—was ordered today by Philippine Health Secretary Paulino Garcia.

The Manila Children's Hospital reported 16 cases; 3 of them fatal, over the weekend. All were children.

Garcia described the disease as high fever followed by shock and bleeding, usually in the gastrointestinal tract and the skin.

Death Car Yields Brother's Advice on Safe Driving

OMAHA (AP)—A letter containing a brotherly sermon on safe driving was found in the wreckage following a head-on collision near Denison, Iowa, yesterday. Six persons died in the crash.

The letter was addressed to Wayne Alleman, 17, of Omaha, one of the victims, and owner of one of the automobiles involved in the crash.

It was written last March 28 by his brother, Gary D. Alleman, then an Army private at Ft. Leonard Wood, Mo. Wayne at the time was living in Des Moines.

The letter read in part:

"Dear Wayne:
"How do you like your car by now? I'll bet it really is a rod the way you describe it. Could you send me a picture of it?"

"I hope you are driving your car slow and carefully, because if you should happen to have an accident, you would not only be hurting yourself but the whole family."

Anti-Segregation Tolerance Will Come as Seen in Town on 'Wide' Ohio River

By BEN PRICE

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (U)—The Ohio River flows past here and some say it is 100 years wide.

On this, the southern side, is a tradition of white supremacy and racial segregation.

On the northern side the tradition essentially is one of equality and freedom, though discrimination often exists, stemming from community pressures rather than the law.

The farther South you go from the Ohio, the wider the river appears. You meet people who declare it would take 100 years more to bridge the gap.

There are people however, here who do not hold with the 100-year theory.

Mrs. Robert B. Hinklebein is one. Mrs. William E. Yeager is another.

Each has seven children, six of whom are school age. Mrs. Hinklebein is white. Mrs. Yeager is Negro. They believe that, given time and patience, any problems arising from the ending of segregation, especially in the public schools, can be worked out with a minimum of trouble.

Last May the U.S. Supreme Court ruled unanimously that legal segregation in the public schools was discriminatory and hence unconstitutional.

Since then the question for the South has been how and when to end segregation.

Everyone to whom I talked believed the most orderly way would be the admission of white and Negro children to the same school on the grammar school level "before they have a chance to pick up prejudices."

Louisville has an estimated population of 401,280 and roughly 16 per cent of the total is Negro—largely concentrated around the heart of the city.

There is no segregation on public transportation. The city's libraries are open to all. So is the University of Louisville, which draws 15 per cent of its operating revenue from the city.

Negro firemen work and live in the same stations as white firemen. The city's hospital is open to Negro nurse trainees. The city employs Negro policemen.

This summer Mayor Andrew Broaddus announced henceforth all city jobs would be open to Negroes.

Louisville has never had any major racial trouble. It has a long record of interracial cooperation.

Two powerful voices in the community—the Louisville Courier Journal and the Louisville Times—have long spoken for what they believe is simple justice for the Negroes.

Everyone I interviewed in Louisville attributed the city's progress in race relations to the leadership of the two newspapers.

While Louisville is a town in which the racial barriers are much lower than in most Southern cities, there are apparently latent currents of anti-Negro feeling. This was brought into focus this summer by the case of Andrew Wade IV, a Negro electrical contractor.

Wade bought a home in a white neighborhood through a white friend acting as a blind. The house was fired upon and bombed almost immediately. A cross was burned nearby. Wade has insisted he will remain and police have provided guards.

If integration is to be worked out peacefully at the grass roots it will be through the initiative of such women as Mrs. Hinklebein and Mrs. Yeager. Both are active church and parent-teacher members.

Mrs. Hinklebein lives in a spacious, nine room house on a pleasant, tree-lined street with her dentist husband. Their income is substantial and they own two cars.

Mrs. Yeager lives in an apartment with five small rooms in a federal housing project. Her husband is manager of a dry cleaning plant and has two white men under him. The Yeager income does not permit a car.

Ages of the Hinklebein children range from 1 1/4 to 16. In the Yeager

Boy, 12, Confesses He Killed Father

ZANESVILLE, Ohio (U)—Police said sixth grader David Larry Ingles, 12, admitted shooting his father to death yesterday after coming home from Sunday school.

Chief George Hodgson and Muskingum County Prosecutor Joseph McNeerney said David in a signed statement admitted he had planned for two or three weeks to kill his father, John Ingles, 36-year-old handyman, because "Dad was mean to me."

"He threatened me and mother a thousand times."

Coins Can Count

DES MOINES (U)—When Mrs. Betty Keasling of Fremont, Iowa, bought a sewing machine here, she paid for it 72 Liberty Bell half dollars, 700 Roosevelt dimes and 2,558 pennies. She said she had been saving for the machine for three years.

Nickle Barrage Hits State Wife After TV Show

MT. PLEASANT, Mich. (U)—A remark Mrs. Margaret Deibel made on a nationwide program last Friday has paid off like a slot machine—in nickels.

So far 43,000 letters have turned up at the Deibel home—most jingling with coins but some crinkly like they have bills stuffed inside.

Postmaster James Hooker expects another 50,000 letters for the Deibels in today's first delivery. And he estimates they'll keep coming for a couple of weeks.

Mrs. Deibel, 26, and her husband, an appliance salesman, began to become people of means at 9 a.m. Friday. That was when Garry Moore picked Mrs. Deibel from the audience at his network television show in New York where the couple was vacationing. He asked if Mrs. Deibel wanted anything. Mrs. Deibel said:

"We have everything we need. We're very happy and getting along fine."

Moore, understandably startled, suggested that his television audience reward the couple by sending her nickels—just for fun.

The couple hasn't had a chance to count the money yet. And police aren't taking any chances. They've assigned a guard to the Deibel home and have transferred the money to the city jail. A certified public accountant will begin counting it today.

Honest Man Returns Wallet Lost 11 Years Ago

NEW CASTLE, Pa. (U)—Back in 1943, Joseph DeFelice sold his auto to a friend. This summer the friend sold the car to Peter Sterbi.

Sterbi, cleaning the car, found a wallet DeFelice had lost 11 years ago. He promptly sent it back with the $21 and valuable personal cards and receipts that DeFelice long ago had given up hope of recovering.

on Sleeping BearCHEBOYGAN (AP) — The tramping of tourists' feet and the ever-blowing wind are rapidly erasing a well known Michigan landmark.Prof. Frank C. Gates of Kansas State College has been studying the Sleeping Bear Sand Dune in the West end of Leelanau County since 1928.Every year he takes his University of Michigan summer class from the university's biology station at nearby Douglas Lake to the dune.They sketch the dune's profile and then compare it with drawings from the previous year to record the erosion.Prof. Bates says that the great dune "might be level in 20 or 30 years, depending on how fast vegetation grows or is destroyed on its sides."He says that much of the erosion is caused by tourists, clambering up the sides of the dune and breaking loose the scant vegetation. The wind then can sweep the sand from the dune.Prof. Bates says that the dune was once 150 feet high. It is "now only about 85 feet," he says. He adds:"This famous dune, dating ahead of the white man's history in the region, is by the white man's apparently innocent activity, doomed to extinction."A little oatmeal adds richness

First Try for Date Is Failure

Try, Try Again
Writer Advised but
Pick New Girl

By ELIZABETH WOODWARD
"Dear Miss Woodward: I'm 17, and I recently met a girl at the park who is 14. From her friends I learned that she goes to a certain dance once a week, so I went too and had one dance with her.
Last week I went again, but she wouldn't dance with me and when I asked her for a date she turned me down. She told me she doesn't like to go out on dates with anyone. But I heard she likes a boy who is 18 but who doesn't like her. How can I get a date with her without being a pest? This is my first try at dating girls."

If you don't succeed on your first try, try again. But pick a different girl this time. Pick a girl you already know, one who is nearer your age, one who has already done some dating on her own.

The girl you tried to date is just young enough to be leery of a strange boy she meets by chance. She's just young enough not to date at all. She's just young enough to turn down dates with other boys because she's carrying a torch for somebody who pays her no attention. You couldn't know all of that, of course, until you tried to date her. And it's not your fault you failed either. Take a fresh start in a different direction—you'll do better.

"Dear Miss Woodward: My girl friend and I have been going with two boys off and on. They will pick us up after the show or on our way home. They act as though they like us and their friends say they do. But they never ask us for dates, and don't like it when we go with other boys. How can we get them to date us?"

Brush the fog of wishful thinking out of your eyes and face the fact that you're not really going with those two boys—you're only getting rides home.

Their acting as though they like you doesn't go deep enough for real dates. They don't want that responsibility. So they shouldn't have the reward of your loyalty either. They can't afford to get mad if you date other boys when they don't ask for dates themselves.

"Dear Miss Woodward: I'm 15 and I've been going steady for six months. I still like him, but I've found other boys I'd like to date instead of him all the time.

I'd like to tell him I don't want to go steady any more, but it would be all right if we had a few dates. How can I do it without hurting his feelings?"

You can't tell a boy who likes you that much that you don't want to go steady any more without hurting his feelings. Nor can you blithely say it will be okay to have a few dates. He won't take that. He'll consider you're through. And that will be that. Though you've seen boys you'd like to date, it doesn't mean they've seen you! Think it over, and watch you don't cut off your nose by accident.

'Autumn Splendor' Title for Club Show

By WILMA GREENWAY
"Spectacular!" "A really well-planned exhibit." "Colorful... well-organized."

These were a few of the comments overheard Friday afternoon and evening as a steady stream of visitors filed into Roosevelt Temple to view "Autumn Splendor," a flower show presented by the Better Home and Garden Club of Pontiac.

At the entrance, a formal French garden scene, the work of a local florist, captured attention. Focal point of this exhibit was a table, elaborately set with an orchid taffeta spread and lavender candles and centerpiece, which held the refreshments served to the guests.

Equally impressive was another florist's display, "Outdoor Living," at the far end of the room. Against a wall banked with green cedar, a tiled barbecue table and a red-wood picnic table displayed gleaming copper utensils and an autumn centerpiece of fruits, vegetables and fall flowers. The autumn effect was further carried out in brick-lined flower beds of yellow chrysanthemums and caladium.

Four rows of tables, the length of the 60x40 foot display space, held the exhibits and 98 individual entries were listed. Blue ribbon "firsts" were plentiful, since entries were judged by points and more than one first prize was permitted for a class.

Of the six table settings, three won blue ribbons. Mrs. Walter Seaks and Mrs. Alfred Rothweiler took a "first" with an Early American setting, centered with lavender asters.

The autumn browns, golds and greens of an "After the Game Snack" setting won a top prize for the exhibitors Mrs. H. C. Armstrong and Mrs. W. E. Campbell. And Mrs. John Cowe and Mrs. Henry Wolgemuth were proud of their blue ribbon, received for the "Bride's Breakfast" setting with its delicate Queen Anne's lace and white asters.

Second place winner in table setting classification was "Outdoor Breakfast" with its deep blue crystal on sky-blue place mats, the work of Mrs. Howard Simmons.

White ribbons went to the "Birth-day" setting of Mrs. Fred Bohman with its crimson roses and white candles; and to the "Christmas Family Dinner" setting of Mrs. C. A. Beamer with its reindeer centerpiece and hand-painted china, the latter the work of Crista-Leen Ross of Keego Harbor.

Mrs. Beamer also won a blue ribbon with a unique arrangement in the "Living and Dried Material" class. This consisted of a dragon-shaped piece of driftwood artfully arranged with toothpicks, silver fungus, Queen Anne's lace vines.

A Well-Run Home Put Her Back in Business

By ANNE HEYWOOD

"Sometimes things work out in the most peculiar way," Mrs. N. N. wrote me recently. "When Bill and I were first married, I swore I would keep my job forever, because I love the business world, and I don't like keeping house."

"But then, when our first baby came, I learned how very expensive full-time maids are, and it became pretty clear that we'd lose money, but a lot, if I kept working and we paid a maid. When the second baby came, I just gave up entirely, and stayed home."

"I love the children and I love Bill, but I still couldn't stand housekeeping, and I used to sit and look out the window and dream of the day I could get a job again. But that day looked awfully far away and I realized I was wasting too much time in self-pity."

"At first," she went on, "I saw no way out. My kind of work is not the kind that can be done at home, and I couldn't think of anything at all."

A group of shadow boxes, or autumn niches, won favorable comment from the viewers. So did the blue-ribbon-winning gladioli dahlias of Mrs. Floyd Beardslee.

The individual arrangements contained many interesting and unusual ensembles, and judges were hard put to it to choose the best. A section of potted plants drew many blue ribbons.

"Chief Pontiac," an ensemble with Indian war bonnet, and white and red flowers in a log container, attracted attention for its color and originality. A book display of forced reading material for gardeners.

Finally, the conservation display, a miniature scene of devastation with stark twigs and withered leaves, drew attention to what can be the result of carelessness with fire.

Mrs. Walter Seaks, exhibition chairman, expressed herself as well pleased with the reception the show received, and warmly commended the members of committees for their work in preparing the exhibition.

Mrs. Howard F. Simmons, entry chairman; Mrs. Alfred Rothweiler, conservation chairman; Mrs. John Armstrong, staging chairman; and Mrs. Guy L. Tubbs, judges chairman, also were praised for their efforts.

Man Not the Only One Animals Have to Confer Bears and Beavers Meet

By MARY MARGARET MCBRIDE

The Beavers suggested the four-power conference the day after Bears were seen along the river. Monsieur Mink, although a vote of confidence was pending in his assembly, agreed to attend but demanded that the pow-wow be held in Mink language. Mr. Buck accepted and then went racing around the mountainside explaining to every Deer he met that he didn't think it would amount to much but that it was his group's responsibility as a leader in the animal world to cooperate. He said he was just planning to listen and decide whether the Bears showed any evidence of good faith.

Comrade Bruin waited a few days after receiving his invitation and then, as suspense built up among the Friendly Three, finally consented to be present—provided the conference could be held in the White Leghorn chickenyard. The Friendly Three turned this down on the ground that White Leghorns were satellites of the Bears. They finally compromised on neutral Lower Meadows which was small, had no trees, and was inhabited by independent, industrious bees whose honey was only of mild interest to all four powers.

Lord Beaver, M. Mink and Mr. Buck held preliminary talks to clarify their positions. "The point of this conference," said Lord Beaver as they gathered for an intimate luncheon well attended by press and photographers, "is to make another attempt to establish some sort of working relationship with Bears. We feel that Bears and Beavers can exist peacefully together."

M. Mink, with deep emotion, explained again that Mink had been decimated by Doberman-Pincers in two great conflicts. Now they were faced with internal troubles, largely economic, and if Beavers and Deer expected Mink to stick with them in an alliance, they'd have to pledge, first, that Dobermans would have their teeth pulled.

Mr. Buck observed that if Bears were infiltrating the woodlands below his hillside, it was obvious that the policy for the containment of Bears wasn't working. He added that he was revolving an idea of massive retaliation if a single tree showed claw marks.

Then Bruin, accompanied by a Leghorn delegation, arrived. He looked bland and said nothing. Beaver remarked that this in itself showed a conciliatory mood.

For days the conference went on. Nothing happened. Finally Buck got bored and decided to go home. Then Bruin made a proposal: Bears would take over half the woodlands and leave the rest—at least for the time being.

Beaver grabbed the compromise. M. Mink shrugged and went home for the vote of confidence. Buck explained to his patriots that, although it looked as if an important part of their winter food supplies and two vital lakes were gone, it was really a victory because Bears wouldn't dare bite off another hunk lest the outraged Deer take to the warpath.

Bruin smiled. And then, two weeks later, when a small dam was smashed and marks of claws were spotted on the wreckage, Lord Beaver called for another emergency meeting of the Four Powers.

It Is Right to Invite a Widow

Hostess Wants to Ask Widow to Big Annual Affair

By EMILY POST

A hostess writes: "Every year I give a very large buffet party. About six weeks ago the husband of a very dear friend of mine passed away. Both she and her husband came to this buffet party every year. I would like to know if it would be proper to send her an invitation this year as usual."

I really don't know what to do, Mrs. Post, as I'm afraid she might be hurt if I don't invite her and, on the other hand, she might think me heartless if I do?

To ignore her would be heartless, but it would be very nice to telephone her that if she could possibly feel like coming, you would love to have her, but that if she can't, you understand and want her to know that you are going to miss her very much this year at your party.

Dear Mrs. Post: I would appreciate your help in answering two questions that have come up in connection with my forthcoming wedding. (1) Instead of sending engraved invitations, we plan to write personal notes to relatives and friends and are undecided as to whose name should be signed to these notes—my parents', mine or my fiancé's and mine together. (2) There is a possibility that the ceremony will be performed by the father of a close friend of mine. Should we offer to pay him, or would this be an affront.

Answer: (1) You would write to your friends and your mother to your friends and either of you to your and his relatives. The groom's name is never signed. (2) You would offer to pay him.

Air Problem Tolerantly at Home

Children Discuss Shortcomings With Those They Trust

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

Betty F., 15, has developed an annoying habit. She runs to her Aunt Clare with every argument she has with her mother. Then, when her niece has arrived at her house, Aunt Clare calls her mother to say she's "safe."

Always, Aunt Clare seizes her chance on these occasions to criticize her sister-in-law's "overstrictness" toward Betty and contrast it with her own sympathetic "understanding."

"My husband says and does nothing about this situation," writes Mrs. F. "I am seriously thinking of forbidding the girl to see her aunt. What do you think of this idea? This woman's influence . . ."

Wise animals pursued by a hunter do not charge him. The wiser they are, the more skillful they are in evading him and his traps. Can't Mrs. F. see that forbidding Betty to see her aunt is to fall into the trap that spite has prepared for her?

Let's not go for any silly action like that.

Instead, let Mrs. F. look at herself. Why is she disturbed by Aunt Clare's accusation? If she knew herself not to be overstrict toward Betty, would it bother her? She'd laugh at it. Why can't she laugh at it? Is she afraid that she is overstrict with Betty?

I think she is.

Always, overseverity toward children is overseverity toward ourselves. The possibility that we have made a mistake in our treatment of them is intolerable to us.

This unnatural and cruel demand we make upon ourselves accounts for the panic we feel when we are criticized. If we do not suffer from this need to appear an Always Right Person, we don't get too angry at people like Aunt Clare.

When they accuse us of mistreating our children, we just say, "So Betty has told you that I am overstrict? That is interesting to me. It is so interesting that I suggest you send her right home so that she can tell me about it, too."

Children only make a habit of discussing our shortcomings with other people when they know they can't discuss them with us. Thus, the other people are not our problem. Our problem is our refusal to acknowledge shortcomings. Somehow we have convinced our youngsters that in any discussion of our mutual grievances, we must be the Always Right Person and he the Always Wrong one.

Colin Tenant Now 'Prince Charming,' but Has Margaret Dropped Townsend

By ROSETTE HARGROVE
LONDON (NEA) — Once again the question of the marriage of Margaret, England's princess who goes her own way, is the subject of conversation at home and abroad.

Her faithful people were convinced that with the celebration of her 24th birthday recently at Balmoral Castle, where the Royal Family are spending their annual vacation, there would be an official announcement. But the great day came and went and nothing happened. Even the rain prevented the traditional Royal picnic in the highlands.

Last year the British wondered, not whether she could, but when she would marry brilliant Group Captain Peter Woodbridge Townsend. The average Englishman was all in favor of the marriage if it meant the happiness of their madcap Princess.

This year another candidate's name has crept into the news. It is that of 28-year-old Colin Christopher Paget Tenant, elder son and heir of Lord Glenconner.

Tenant is a relatively recent addition to what is known as the "Margaret set" in London. He lives in a luxurious "mews" apartment off fashionable Grosvenor Square.

It has been reported that Margaret and her friends have often gone there after the theater, with the Princess taking possession of the ultra-modern kitchen and cooking Welsh rarebit or bacon and eggs for the crowd.

Rumors of the new attachment gained ground when Margaret went to spend five days at Innerleithen, the Glenconner seat in Scotland. Then Colin was invited to Balmoral for Margaret's birthday party and tongues wagged even faster.

Tenant has been called the Social Set's cover-boy. Tall, slender, handsome, elegant, he posed last year with a Dior mannequin on the banks of the Thames for a magazine cover. He is an expert on international nobility and is said to know his Gotha. (The aristocrat's Who's Who) by heart.

His most recent title is "Prince Charming of Balmoral." One of his hobbies is acting. He took part in the charity performance of "The Frog" which was put on by London's smart set and in which Elsa Maxwell also appeared. Stage manager and producer was Princess Margaret.

The title of baron which Colin will inherit is only two generations old, but the family fortune dates back to 1798. In that year Charles Tenant took out a patent for a bleaching powder formula for cotton which was to save 90 per cent of costs then involved.

The Tenant fortune grew with the great industrial expansion in England. Lord Glenconner is now at the head of some 25 companies. Colin has had the education of all young English lords — Eton, Oxford and a commission in the swanky Irish Guards.

On the other hand, people who lay claim to inside information say that it is quite possible that Margaret has not given up all hope of marrying Peter Townsend, still "in exile" as British air attaches in Belgium. There are, they say, a few loose ends to be tied up — including that of a peerage which would then make it easier for Townsend to become a member of the Royal Family.

7 New Senators Seen in January

Outcome of Elections May Increase Number Before Next Session

WASHINGTON (AP)—Deaths and political decisions assure there will be at least seven new faces among the 96 senators who will assemble for the next Congress in January.

The turnover, which has averaged at least 16 in recent biennial periods, may increase well beyond seven. Several incumbents still face opposition in primaries, and there are a number of Senate races regarded now as toss-ups.

The seven present senators who will not be back include four serving by appointment who did not run for election, two elected senators who decided not to try for new terms, and one incumbent defeated in a primary—Sen. Lennon (D-NC), also serving by appointment.

Sen. Edwin C. Johnson (D-Colo.) and Hendrickson (R-NJ), serving their third and first terms respectively, did not seek re-election. Johnson is seeking the governorship of Colorado. Hendrickson stepped aside after once announcing his candidacy; there has been speculation he may be named a federal judge.

Of the eight senators now serving by appointment to replace predecessors who died in office, four chose not to seek election: Sen. Bowring (R-Neb.), Reynolds (R-Neb.), Crippa (R-Wyo.) and Charles E. Daniel (D-SC), just named to fill out the term of the late Sen. Burnett R. Maybank.

The decision of Sen. Ives (R-NY) to seek the governorship of New York raises a possibility of another new face early next year. Ives need not resign his Senate seat to campaign. If elected governor, he could appoint his own successor.

Four former senators are competing in this year's campaigns. Former Vice President Alben C. Barkley, who quit the Senate when elected vice president in 1948, is trying to unseat Sen. Cooper (R-KY).

Former Sen. Joseph C. O'Mahoney (D-Wyo.), defeated by Sen. Barrett (R-Wyo.) two years ago, is trying for the seat now held by Crippa.

Former Sen. Glen Taylor, Idaho Democrat, who was vice presidential running mate for Henry A. Wallace on the Progressive party ticket in 1948, is trying for a comeback against Sen. Dworshak (R-Idaho).

In Kansas former Sen. George McGill is opposing Sen. Schoepfel (R-Kan.).

Juvenile Is Held in Stepfather's Death

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A 14-year-old boy is held at Juvenile Hall today on suspicion of murdering his stepfather.

Police said Larry Imier, a Scout patrol leader, fired five shots from a .22 rifle at Irvin Woodrow Loucks, 40, a truckdriver, after a quarrel between Loucks and Larry's mother. The mother said Loucks pulled her out of a truck by her hair. He had been drinking, she said.

"I didn't mean to kill him," officers quoted the boy. "I only wanted to scare him."
Mrs. Loucks, mother of 13—including three by Loucks—said the argument was over who was going to pick up nine children at a birthday party.

LANDS IN ENGLAND—Eugene Hart, 11, of Brooklyn, sits on the rail of the liner United States in Southampton, England, this week. The youngster, visiting aboard the ship in New York Sept. 3, found himself at sea—all this after his mother warned him not to "go too far, and be back for lunch." "I guess I'm going to get into trouble," he said as he told newsmen his mom would be at the pier in New York to meet him Sept. 14.

Delay Return of Red Captives

Richard Applegate, 3 Others Fail to Appear at Hong Kong Border

HONG KONG (AP)—A United States Consulate official said today three Americans, ordered deported from Red China after more than a year in Communist captivity, would not arrive here today.

The three are Richard Applegate, 37, of Medford, Ore., a National Broadcasting Co. correspondent; Donald Dixon, 25, New York International News Service correspondent and Benjamin Krasser, 30, a sea captain, of Brooklyn.

The U.S. official telephoned from the Hong Kong-Red China border that there was no indication when the trio would arrive. He did not elaborate but said the border watch was suspended until tomorrow. Peiping Radio said yesterday the trio were ordered deported from Kwangtung Province, Hong Kong borders Kwangtung.

Peiping Radio also said Hugh Francis Redmond, former New York business man, had been convicted of espionage in Shanghai and sentenced to life in prison.

Burglary Victims Say Thug Used Chloroform

CHICAGO (AP)—Three victims told police Sunday they believe they were chloroformed while they slept by a burglar who got nearly $2,500 of loot.

Rudolph Stopa, 49, said he, his wife, Elizabeth, 49, and his mother Mrs. Josephine Spinka, 68, awakened groggy and with headaches Saturday morning to find their north side home looted.

He said the apartment reeked of a strange odor despite windows left open by the intruder who had removed three diamond rings from Mrs. Stopa's fingers.

His Luck Just Ran Out

WILLIMANTIC, Conn. (UP)—Charles J. Insalaco, 23, escaped injury when his automobile skidded and overturned. While getting out of the car, he fell and sprained his wrist.

Franklin Residents Hold Annual Barbecue Saturday

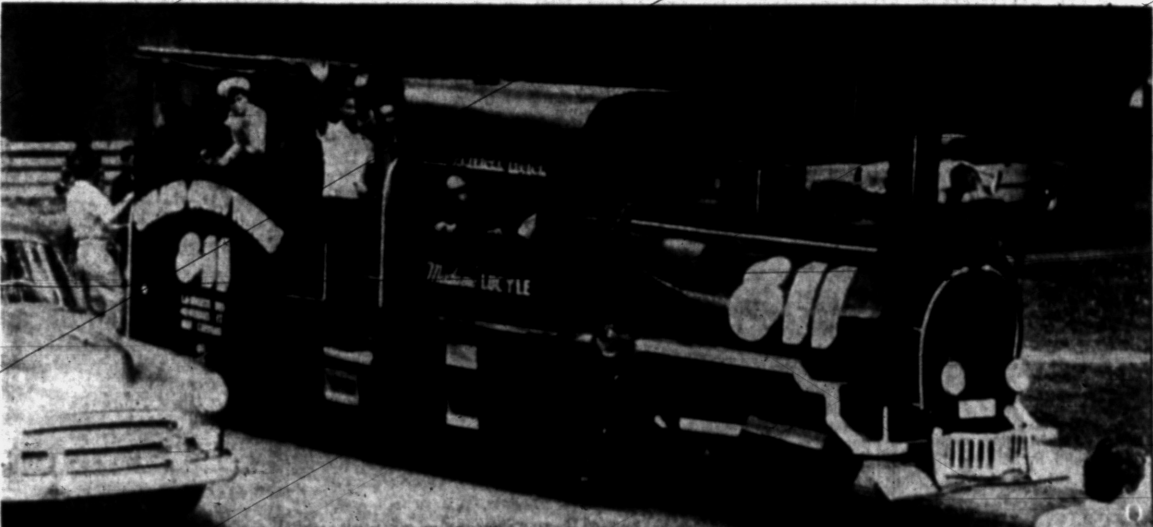

HEIGH-HO—Attractive members of the Saddle Club provide equestrian sparkle to the parade preceding the Franklin third annual barbecue held Saturday. The call to "Dismount" found this group scrambling into the corn husking contest, and taking part in the feast that followed.

SAWDUST SCRAMBLE—Intent on finding coins buried in a sawdust pile are several younger members of the Franklin area attending the annual Bar-B-Q held Saturday. Events like this followed the parade to the Village Green, where the crowd of 1,000 gathered to husk corn and eat their fill of barbecued meat.

TOOTER—Highlight of the Franklin Village Barbecue Parade for many children Saturday was this American Legion "engine" which carried merry-makers along the parade route. The hungry

Franklin residents and their friends consumed 600 pounds of beef, 270 dozen ears of corn, and large quantities of buns and milk.

Parade, Rodeo, Field Events Feature Event

Franklin Village residents and their friends turned out en masse Saturday for the third annual Bar-B-Q and Roundup.

Starting with the traditional parade, the event got underway at 1 p. m. at the Village Green. Fire engines from neighboring communities, and antique cars, led the parade.

Following the parade, there were field events, a rodeo, trained animal act, and all-important corn husking contest.

Corn cleaned in this contest was used in the feast, which began at 4:30, and continued until 7:30.

The event is sponsored by the Franklin Community Assn., and money raised is placed in a fund for a community building.

More than 1,000 residents and friends attended the ceremony, consuming 600 pounds of beef, 270 dozen ears of corn, and a mountain of buns and milk.

Advice for Heart Sufferers --- Work

WASHINGTON (UP) — Medical scientists advised today that if you come down with heart disease — don't take it easy.

Most persons with heart ailments, they said, may safely do a full day's work—"except for extremely heavy labor"—and "actually feel the better for it."

This was reported to the second World Congress of Cardiology, which also heard that:

1. Peoples who eat a lot of fat — this applies particularly to Americans — suffer more from heart disease than peoples who don't.

2. Cutting down consumption of salt helps tired heart muscles to "do more work" and is "directly helpful in cases of cardiac failure."

3. Tiny packets of wonder-working chemicals—so small they must be magnified 50,000 to 80,000 times to be seen—give the heart the nourishment which enables it to "go on beating tirelessly for a lifetime."

4. The dreadful pain of angina pectoris — a malady that occurs when the heart muscle does not get enough oxygen—can be alleviated by an artery-transplanting operation.

The Cardiology Congress, first in this country, is the largest and most comprehensive conference on heart and circulatory diseases ever to be convened in the western hemisphere.

Some 2,000 physicians from 48 countries, including Russia, are attending. More than 250 highly technical papers will be presented during the five-day meeting. On the program also are special panels and lectures.

In convening the congress Sunday its president, Dr. Paul D. White of Boston, expressed the hope of medical science that the day will come when those who serve it "can all go freely back and forth everywhere with no more curtains to divide us."

President Eisenhower said in a welcoming message from Denver that the search for medical knowledge "to be most effective . . . must be shared by dedicated men and women in many lands."

Vice President Richard M. Nixon, in a talk, cited the death of six senators in the last 18 months as evidence of the heart disease menace. And he said the ability of a presidential secretary, Brig. Gen. Paul Carroll, to continue working in spite of a heart attack demonstrates the progress that has been made in treating the disease.

Two physicians from behind the iron curtain, both Russians, are attending the congress. They are Prof. B. V. Petrovsky, director of the surgical clinic of the second Moscow J. V. Stalin Medical Institute, and Prof. E. M. Tariev, director of the Therapeutic clinic of the first Moscow Order of Lenin Medical Institute.

Mexico City Becoming Hotbed of Latin Revolutionists

By CHARLES M. McCANN
United Press Staff Correspondent
Mexico City is becoming quite a center for Latin American political exiles who are plotting to overthrow their governments. Exiled Cubans and Costa Ricans have long been established there, seeking actively to organize revolt. There are less active colonies of men from other countries who dream of returning home some day in triumph. Now Col. Jacobo Arbenz Guzman, ousted pro-Communist president of Guatemala, has arrived in the Mexican capital as a refugee.

Arbenz may be expected to lose no time in setting up a headquarters to work against President Carlos Castillo Armas, who overthrew him on June 27.

Arbenz will have the aid of Jose Manuel Fortuny, secretary general of the outlawed Guatemalan Communist party, who arrived in Mexico City with him.

Arbenz and Fortuny undoubtedly will seek as soon as possible to effect contact with the many Communists and fellow travelers who remained in Guatemala, to work underground.

Mexico City sources report that there may be an attempt soon, engineered from there, to overthrow the government of President Jose Figueres of Costa Rica.

Former President Rafael Angel Calderon Guardia is the leader of the Costa Rican revolutionary colony. He was involved in one revolt in 1948.

Navy Building Guided Missile Warship

WASHINGTON (UP)—The Navy is drawing up plans for construction of a revolutionary new warship designed for firing guided missiles; Vice Adm. Robert P. Briscoe disclosed today.

The deputy chief of naval operations for fleet operations and readiness said construction of a guided missile ship from the keel up is under active consideration within the Navy. How soon actual work might begin, however, depends in large measure on a "stabilization" of the rapidly moving missile development program.

Briscoe said in an interview that the advent of guided missiles requires faster modernization of the Navy's present fleet. He warned that unless the Navy embarks upon an accelerated ship construction program, it faces "blue obsolescence" of its fleet, starting in another four years.

"The hard cold fact," Briscoe said, "is that as technological developments move on, the present fleet becomes obsolescent."

Also emphasizing the need for modernization of the fleet, Briscoe said, is the "sizeable" shipbuilding program of the Russians, who appear intent on wresting control of the seas away from the United States. Tonnage-wise, Briscoe estimated the Russian navy is now outbuilding the U. S. Navy, which has not had a large scale shipbuilding program since World War II.

To keep up with the "competition" and to meet its world-wide commitments, Briscoe said the Navy should spend $2,500,000,000 a year on shipbuilding for the next 10 years. That's nearly triple the program authorized for this year.

Briscoe, giving a glimpse of the guided missile fleet of the future, said the emphasis will be on mobility, with the Navy relying on a number of smaller ships firing missiles; rather than a few of the battle ship size.

The guided missile ships will revolutionize warships just as the carrier supplanted the battleship. Firing missiles armed with atomic warheads, a guided missile ship could strike hundreds of miles within enemy territory.

Fire—The Microscope—Now Nuclear Power

Atoms for Peace Open Vast Vistas for Human Life

BY EDWIN DIAMOND
CHICAGO (INS) — American scientists and engineers have succeeded in making peacetime applications of atomic energy which will lengthen, lighten and make more productive man's life. Industry is adapting the atom to the everyday needs of man. Hospitals and farms already have. Benefitted by the know-how of some of the same men who helped open the "atomic age" in 1942, the United States has moved beyond research into practical applications of this tremendous force.

How important is the atom for peace? Dr. Arthur H. Compton, famed physicist, likens the harnessing of nuclear energy to the discovery of fire in importance.

Dr. Enrico Fermi, Nobel prize winner and known as the "architect of the atomic age," says atom furnace-produced radioisotopes have given science a tool comparable to the invention of the microscope.

How far off is atomic energy for peace? Atomic energy is big business today—bigger than the nation's largest enterprise—U.S. steel.

There are at least five private investment groups throughout the country which have been organized to promote peaceful uses of nuclear power—only one part of the atomic field.

"Perhaps no one has summed up the atom's for peace story better than President Eisenhower. In his historic speech to the United Nations Dec. 8, 1953, Mr. Eisenhower said:

"The United States knows that peaceful power from atomic energy is no dream of the future. That capability — already proved — is here now, today."

The proven capability of the harnessed atom, as the President told the U.N., is demonstrated by the record of what scientific research and individual initiative have accomplished:

1. Atomic reactors and breeders (furnaces) are producing electricity, heat, and economically efficient power for propul-tion unequalled by conventional motors.

2. Forms of cancer — man's dreaded enemy — are being beaten by atom-furnace produced radioactive materials. Other scourges — tumors of the brain, Hodgkins disease, goiters, are being directly attacked by nuclear by-products.

3. In agriculture, costs of planting crops are being reduced. New and better food varieties are being developed through ingenious use of the atom.

In the food processing line, radioactive waste products are being used in experiments to sterilize and preserve food for long periods of time at little cost. Even more dramatic is the picture of the future emerging from discussions with scientists and research men at work on the frontier of atoms for peace.

Dr. Samuel K. Allison, director of the Institute for Nuclear Studies at the University of Chicago, predicts:

"We are not far from the day when atomic heat will be used to turn salt into fresh water and thus provide irrigation for large semi-arid regions like lower California."

Medical men visualize the day of the "atomic hospital"—complete with its own "baby" atomic reactor capable of supplying a hospital with light, heat, electric power and, in the manner of the stockyards firm which marketed everything from pigs but the squeal, important medical curative sources from the radioactive waste of the reactor.

At Argonne National Laboratory in Lemont, Ill., near Chicago, teams of biologists under Dr. Norbert Scully, senior plant physiologist, are pursuing agricultural experiments which they believe will lead to radically new plants and new areas of cultivation in subarctic and desert regions.

Dr. Allison and his famed colleague, Dr. Fermi, report that peacetime use of the atom has ceased to be a matter of debate. Dr. Allison explains:

"Atoms are 'old stuff' to us, in a sense. We have accepted the fact that there are peacetime applications of atomic energy and have left the field to practical designers. There is little that we do not know about chain reactions. It is a worked-out yarn. As far as we are concerned, there is richer ore in the sub-nuclear field of mesons."

Mesons are high-energy particles with a mass less than that of a proton and higher than that of an electron. They have a velocity approaching that of the speed of light—186,000 miles per second.)

While mesons and other new particles occupy the attention of physicists, the atom has moved out of the laboratory and is on its way into the home, the factory, the hospital and the farm.

And the "supply" is inexhaustible. There is more energy in the few uranium atoms found in a handful of ordinary dirt than there is in a shovelful of processed coal of the highest grade.

(This is the first in a series of five articles.)

AT THE HEAD OF THE CLASS—Statuesque Ginger Stein, 19-year-old blue-eyed junior at Temple University in Philadelphia, is crowned National College Queen at Asbury Park, N. Y., Sunday by Mayor George Smock. At the right is runnerup Carolyn Strupe, 21, of

Palm Beach, Fla., a University of Florida senior. Left are two tied for third place, Beverly Janssen, 19, junior at Bryant College, and Rosemary McDougall, 19, a freshman at University of Houston in Texas.

Grandfather's 'Ghost' on TV Screen Baffles Authorities

INDIANAPOLIS (UP) — Hundreds of detectives, amateur and professional, tried today to explain why Mrs. John Mackey's television set shows a "ghost image" which she says is that of her dead grandfather.

Mrs. Mackey and her husband said the image "froze" on the screen of their TV set during the weekend. It shows whether the set is on or off and it has resisted all efforts to wipe it away.

The "apparition," Mrs. Mackey insists, is that of her grandfather, George S. Shots, who died four months ago.

Mrs. Mackey said the image is even wearing the suit in which Grandpa Shots was enshrined for his burial.

"I'm going crazy," said Mrs. Mackey. Mackey called police into the case Sunday. He said he was "afraid to leave my wife alone in the house with the television set."

But police could do little more than confirm the existence of the image. They said the shadowy figure shows clearly even with the set off. They said it's a close-up view of an elderly man shown from the chest up.

Electronics experts who viewed the phenomenon advanced the theory the image was possibly a figure from a TV network show "burned" into the phosphorescent back of the picture tube. The engineers said the TV performer might have resembled Mrs. Mackey's grandfather.

But the coincidence would have to go even further, Mrs. Mackey said, because of the suit the image is wearing.

Police said about 400 outsiders viewed the picture Sunday, besides nearly every officer who reported to headquarters for duty. Authorities said they would seek permission from the Mackeys to return the set to the manufacturer for further examination.

Don Knauth, co-captain of the Michigan State football team, is saluted as "Dr. Don" by his teammates. He had a straight "A" average in all his classes last term.

Wheelchair Wedding Unites Pair in West

LOS ANGELES — A wheelchair wedding has united a paralyzed insurance broker and his sweetheart, who lost both legs as the result of a blood ailment.

When James L. Madigan and Socorro Gomez were wed Saturday at the Church of the Immaculate Heart of Mary, both rolled to the altar in wheelchairs. Both are 27. Madigan's brother, Joseph, 34, the best man, was also in a wheelchair, as was the maid of honor, Miss Rita Vigil, 30. Joseph was paralyzed by the same nerve disease as James, and Miss Vigil has been paralyzed since birth.

Martha Wright on Run; Rips Holes in Stockings

By EARL WILSON
NEW YORK — Martha Wright is ready to lead American womanhood in the great Stocking Rebellion on wherever nylons come from.

Three years ago, the pretty blonde actress and TV star from out on the West Coast—in an interview with me—was one of the first voices to speak out against defective nylons. Now women from Missouri and Boston and Texas and Ohio have joined the chorus, but, says Martha, "the time has come for us to advertise like the stocking manufacturers do."

"The only way we can advertise is by wearing our stockings with runs in them and by pointing out the runs and telling everybody, 'You see what poor stockings we get nowadays!'"

Miss Wright went on to say, "I think many girls have taken to not caring about the runs any more. They realize it's impossible to get stockings that will last."

When I said, "I'm from Missouri, show me," Martha hauled up her dress and displayed a big run.

"Why, I did better with rayons that I bought in the dime store," continued the Duval, Wash., gal who took Mary Martin's place in "South Pacific" and now has her own show on ABC TV.

"They always say, 'You wear the sheerest nylons.'"

"But I don't. I wear 51-15, whatever that is."

"What does 'denier' mean?" I asked her. "I keep reading that."

"It must be Pennsylvania Dutch for these stockings won't last," retorted Martha heatedly. "I've tried with seams and without seams and with all the different gauges except Ben Gage."

"You've seen these automobiles that have signs plastered on them saying, 'This car is a lemon? That's what we should do with our stockings—only where can a girl wear a sign on her stockings?'"

Miss Wright is aware of liquid treatments, etc., that you can put on stockings to give them more endurance, but she takes the old-fashioned attitude that the stockings should be better to begin with—since you pay pretty well for them.

"If we wear our necklines lower and lower, nobody'll notice the stockings anyway, and then the runs won't matter. And we can also go barelegged," Martha said.

"I'm going to give you a couple of silkworms for Christmas," a man spoke up.

"That's the only thing that'll keep me from leading the great Stocking Rebellion," Martha replied. "Unless I get weak-kneed . . . like all my stockings are."

Toby Dean'll do the commercials on the Betty Hutton color TV . . . Prophet Jones, the Detroit religious leader, took over three Waldorf suites for his valets, bodyguards, hairdresser, secretaries and dietician. Arrived Sunday.

Chata Wayne, John Wayne's ex, fell down a flight of stairs in Hollywood . . . Jimmy Durante's dates are with pretty Betty Tyler . . . Dori Brooks' sexy record, "More," has been banned from many radio stations.

Today's Best Laugh: Jack Paar feels that the international situation must be getting tense again: "I notice soldiers are starting to win on quiz shows again."

Wish I'd Said That: Jimmie Komack's description of a bachelor: "A guy who doesn't mind burning the toast himself."

"To some movie actresses," claims George Shearing, "the difference between farm and fame is form." . . . That's earl, brother.

Projector Helps in X-Ray Studies

Machine Slows Film Speeds to Six Frames Per Second

ROCHESTER, N. Y. (UP) — A new slow-motion, stop-action movie projector designed primarily to aid in the interpretation of X-ray motion picture studies of the human heart has been developed at the University of Rochester School of Medicine and Dentistry.

The projector, designed by radiology experts, has a remote push-button control, can be instantly reversed, and permits projection at film speeds as low as six frames per second without flicker, almost three times slower than the normal projection speed of 16 frames per second.

Advantages of the projector include better light intensity and longer projection without danger of burning the film.

The projector makes it possible to take ordinary motion pictures and project them in slow motion.

Although slow motion pictures can be made by shooting at speeds greater than the normal camera speed, this is not always possible because of poor light conditions. The new projector overcomes this difficulty in X-ray motion picture photography where not only must X-rays be used sparingly because of apparatus limitations, but where it is desirable to hold the patient dose as low as possible.

Although designed primarily for medical research, the projector is expected to have wide applications in other fields where slow-motion study is used, particularly in sports.

Pair in Subway Rob Deaf Mute as He Sleeps
PHILADELPHIA — A deaf mute was robbed as he dozed on a midcity subway station platform yesterday.

The deaf mute, Frank Molinaro, 37, was awakened by two men going through his pockets. He chased the men, who jumped to the tracks and fled through the tunnel.

Molinaro scribbled on a piece of paper: "I've been robbed. Call for police," and handed it to a cashier.

By the time police arrived, Molinaro had jotted down on a pad details of the robbery and a description of the two men.

Police picked up two men, identified as John P. Johnson, 34, and Leonard Lecato 22, both of Philadelphia.

The two were ordered held in $300 bail each for the grand jury on charges of larceny and conspiracy.

Japanese Leaders Cool to Russia's Peace Offer
TOKYO — Japanese government leaders were cool today to a statement by Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov that "the time is ripe" for resumption of normal relations between Japan and Russia.

A foreign office spokesman said Japan "has always been prepared to establish normal diplomatic relations with the U.S.S.R. on the basis of the San Francisco Peace Treaty or on the basis of substantially the same principles that are set forth in that treaty."

Death Claims Daughter of Lincoln's Secretary
WASHINGTON — Helen Nicolay, 88, biographer and daughter of Abraham Lincoln's personal secretary, died yesterday in her Washington apartment.

Miss Nicolay's books included "The Boy's Life of Abraham Lincoln" and a postwar biography of Gen. Eisenhower, "Born To Command."

Assuming he could live and remain solid at the high temperature prevailing there, a 200-pound man would weigh about 5,500 pounds at the surface of the sun. On the moon, his weight would be about 34 pounds.

Saudi Arabia Is Becoming Antagonistic Toward U.S.

By WILTON WYNN
BEIRUT, Lebanon — Once an island of American friendship in a hostile Arab world, Saudi Arabia is fast becoming this region's No. 1 critic of the United States.

In the past year, the Saudis have expelled America's Point Four program, have publicly rejected America's offer of military aid, and have signed the famous "Onassis deal" discriminating against American tankers. And in Arab League circles, the Saudis have urged Arab states to follow a neutralist policy in the cold war.

This is a far cry from the days when the late King Ibn Saud built his country's foreign policy on the basis of American friendship and was willing to give America bases on any strip of his desert sands.

Ever since the old king's death last fall, a rift has been widening between the United States and the country which has become fabulously rich from oil exploited by Americans.

Among the reasons, qualified observers here list the following as important:

1. American indifference during the Saudi dispute with Britain over the Buraimi Oasis. This territorial dispute looked like a little thing to outsiders, but it became the big international issue to the Saudis. They expected American diplomatic support and were embittered when they failed to get it.

2. American military aid for Iraq. The Hashemite royal family of Iraq and the house of Saud have had a long family feud, dating back to the 20s when Ibn Saud drove the Hashemites out of the Hejaz in Arabia. The Saudis consider aid to Iraq as aid to their enemy.

3. America's attitude toward Palestine. This has made a particularly strong impression on Prince Feisal, brother of King Saud and foreign minister. Prince Feisal led Arab delegations to the United Nations during the crucial days of 1946 and 1947, when the United States backed the General Assembly decision to create the state of Israel. It was the Arabs' most crushing diplomatic defeat.

4. A group of anti-Western advisers around King Saud. This group includes such Arab nationalists as Rashid Ali Gailani, an Iraqi exile who led a pro-Axis rebellion in Baghdad during World War II. Rashid Ali has devoted his life to fighting foreign influence in the Arab world. His influence reportedly has grown since the death of Ibn Saud. Another adviser whose power is growing is Jamal Hussein, a Palestinian. Hussein blames the United States for the loss of his homeland to Israel, and he is determined to keep the Arabs out of any pro-American bloc.

Nation Eyeing Maine Election

Outcome May Influence Make-Up of the Next Congress

PORTLAND, Maine, (U)—Hurricane-battered Maine ballots today in an election watched nationally for possible influences on the make-up of the next Congress. At stake, in Republican eyes, is continuation of 20 years' control of all top offices in Maine, and a chance to point the way to GOP victories in the 47 states voting in November.

Democrats insist the issue isn't the election's effects elsewhere but "what's best for Maine." They've called for an end to "stop years of one-party government."

Generally fair weather was forecast, but hurricane Edna, which raked the state's most populous areas Saturday, is expected to cut the total vote. In 1950, the last "off year," 240,127 ballots were cast.

A smaller vote may benefit Democrats whose most spirited campaign in 20 years has been concentrated against reelection of Republican Gov. Burton M. Cross. The Democratic candidate is National Committeeman Edmund S. Muskie.

Also asking reelection are Republican Sen. Margaret Chase Smith, whose 95,000 victory margin six years ago is a record, and three GOP congressmen. Opposing Mrs. Smith, who never has been defeated for public office, is Paul A. Fullam, who never sought one before. Fullam teaches history at Colby College.

755 Thousand Saw Michigan State Fair

DETROIT (U)—A total of 755,572 people attended the Michigan State Fair before it ended its 10-day run in Detroit last night.

Fair officials said the attendance figures set a new four-year record. The total topped last year's attendance by 1,394 people.

General manager James M. Hare said that for the second straight year the exposition would end up in the black. He predicted a profit of $7,500.

Ex-Miss America to Wed

MINNEAPOLIS (INS)—A "Miss America" of the past made news today on the heels of the crowning of "Miss America of 1955" at Atlantic City.

Bebe Shopp, "Miss America of 1948," has announced that she will be married in Minneapolis Saturday to Air Force Lt. Bayard D. Waring of Melrose, Mass.

The couple plans to live in Texas where Waring is stationed.

U. S., Canada Fight Lamprey Together

WASHINGTON (U)—The United States and Canada now have joined in a campaign designed to stamp out the sea lamprey in the Great Lakes.

The eel-like parasite preys on fish and virtually has ruined Great Lakes fishing for lake trout and white fish.

The U.S. and Canada created a joint Great Lakes Fishery Commission Friday through the signing of a convention by acting Secretary of State Walter Bedell Smith and Canadian Ambassador Arnold Heeney.

The convention, still subject to ratification by lawmakers of both countries, is for 10 years.

The commission of three members from each country will have no regulatory powers but may recommend steps based on research findings to eliminate the lamprey.

Flees Escape-Proof Jail in Mt. Clemens

MT. CLEMENS (INS)—Eugene Crowder, 27-year-old Detroit burglar suspect, escaped last night from the new million dollar Macomb County Jail which had been acclaimed as escape proof.

Crowder simply cut out an 18-inch section from a steel window in a second floor corridor and dropped 15 feet to the ground.

Sheriff's deputies said Crowder had stepped from a shower room into the corridor and removed the section of the window, apparently with a hacksaw blade.

A check of Crowder's record after he was arrested while burglarizing an East Detroit store showed that he had escaped from a North Carolina chain gang.

Says Raid Warning System Almost Done

WASHINGTON (INS)—Air Force Secretary Harold Talbott reports that the U. S. early warning network is almost completed and that the country is "much less vulnerable" to a surprise aerial attack than it was a year ago. The civil air chief said yesterday on the "Meet the Press" television program that the U. S. has more than an hour's advance notice of any impending Russian air attack across the northern frontier.

Talbott said the only gaps are in the Hudson Bay area, which are being filled. He added that the warning system is being geared to cope with larger planes of the intercontinental type.

If you use aluminum foil during baking, use a section only slightly larger than the baking utensil. If the entire bottom of the oven is covered with foil, it will cut off circulation of heat and prevent correct cooking.

Lopez Hails Twin Win Over Yanks 'Finest Day'

CLEVELAND, Sept. 13 (AP) — In the Cleveland Indians' dressing room, Manager Al Lopez called yesterday "my finest day in baseball," and he's been in the game 30 years.

Around the curve of Municipal Stadium, Casey Stengel locked the clubhouse door of the New York Yankees whose five-year reign as American League champs is near an end. No interviews.

Major league baseball's biggest crowd — the 86,363 who saw the Tribe humble the Yanks 4-1 and 3-2 in the stadium sunshine and shadow — probably would agree today that the reactions of Senior Lopez and Old Case were about right.

Mathematically, the Yanks can't be eliminated before Wednesday afternoon, and it's more likely to happen Friday or Saturday. But only a miracle could prevent it—a miracle such as the Indians losing eight of their remaining 10 games, while the Yanks win all 11 they have left.

Lopez, pilot of three Indian runners-up to the world champion Yankees, had more to say about his "finest day."

"Guess I'll have to admit now that things are looking pretty good," he understated with a chuckle.

"You'll have to go a long way to see two better ball games—and what a crowd."

The great throng of 84,567 paid almost 2,000 on spectator passes totaled 275 more than the 86,288 all-paid gate on the Oct. 10, 1948 World Series game here.

It exceeded also the regular major season record of 82,781 paid admissions. That mark, too, was set in the Indians' last pennant year of 1948—in a doubleheader with Philadelphia June 20.

The huge crowd — not as noisy as some half the size — watched a display of topnotch pitching by Cleveland's Bob Lemon and Early Wynn. Together, Lemon and Wynn gave the once-mighty Bombers only nine hits in 18 innings, including two bunts and an infield scratch.

Lemon crushed the Yanks' hopes of gaining on the Tribe by winning the opener 4-1 on a six-hitter that increased his major league leading victory total to 22, against six losses.

Wynn poured it on the New Yorkers with the 3-2 three-hitter in the second game and struck out 12, whiffing the side in order in the ninth. Wynn now has won 21 and lost 11.

Yogi Berra spoiled Wynn's hope of a shutout with a homer into the upper right field deck in the first inning of the nightcap.

Outfielder Mickey Mantle, who struck out three times in each game, ruined Lemon's shutout bid in the sixth of the opener. He doubled and completed the round on Berra's single and Irv Noren's sacrifice fly.

Two-run doubles by Al Rosen and Wally Westlake were the game-winning hits among 15 the Indians collected against lefty Whitely Ford; his reliever over the last two innings, Alie Reynolds and Tommy Byrne who went all the way in the nightcap.

City 11's Scrimmage

By BILL MARTIN

Pontiac's three high school football squads held their 1st scrimmages against "outside" opposition last week, and all three coaches expressed satisfaction with the progress shown in the workouts.

Coach Ed Graybiel took his PHS crew to Detroit Saturday for a scrimmage with Catholic Central. Chiefs displayed a great deal of team spirit against the Shamrocks. Weak points, Graybiel said, were in pass protection and ball-handling.

St. Michael's Shamrocks traveled to Clarkston on Friday for a workout with the Wolves.

Standout performers for the Mike were backs Mike Lainger and Ron Elmy, guards Mike Lyons and Jerry Stenheiser and tackle Larry Nelson on offense and linebackers Bud Schwartz and Bob Anderson and 5th-grade tackle Louis Palace on defense.

Pass protection and downfield blocking were to be stressed by coach Bob Mineveaser in this week's drills.

Coach Ken Hulslander appeared optimistic after seeing his St. Frederick gridders work against Mt. Clemens St. Mary Rams' passing game clicked for yardage, with quarterback Larry Morrow pegging to ends Dick Doyon and Don Cox. Halfback Del Chavez, guard Mike Wells and tackle Mark Peck also looked good.

Chiefs and St. Michael open their schedules with road games Friday. PHS is at Wyandotte and the Shamrocks play at Avondale on Friday afternoon. St. Frederick goes to Marine City to meet Holy Cross in its opener on Sunday afternoon.

Orchard Lake St. Mary held an intra-squad scrimmage yesterday, with end Tom Kallias scoring three touchdowns and kicking three conversions as the regulars routed the reserves, 52-0. Halfback Jerry Leszczynski and fullback Ed Pilsarski scored two TD's apiece for the regulars.

Giants Lose, Brooks Win, Braves Split in NL Race

By JOE REICHLER

Associated Press Sports Writer

While Cleveland's Indians were basking in glory today, all was not rosy for the Tribe's springtime sparring partners, the New York Giants.

Continuing the lack-lustre play that has marked their recent performances, the Giants were beaten, 4-3, by St. Louis and had their National League lead sliced to 3 games when the rebounding Brooklyn Dodgers came through with a 4-2 and 4-3 doubleheader sweep over the Chicago Cubs.

Milwaukee's Braves, still in the running despite two recent losses to the Dodgers, drew to within 4½ games of the top by earning a split with the Phillies in Philadelphia.

Low Burdette outpitched Robin Roberts for a 2-1 Braves' victory after the Phillies had snapped Warren Spahn's 11-game victory string 5-2. Cincinnati's Redlegs climbed into fourth place, drubbing the Pittsburgh Pirates twice 11-5 and 13-2 as Ted Kuszewski drove in nine runs and smashed homers Nos. 47 and 48.

The Chicago White Sox, paced by Nellie Fox and Minnie Minoso, vanquished the Boston Red Sox twice 5-3 and 7-5 to reach, and pass, the 90 victory mark for the first time since 1920.

The battle for last place in the American League resulted a stalemate as basement-fight Baltimore Orioles won the opener 4-3, and Philadelphia divided a pair. The Athletics took the second 5-4, scoring all their runs in the seventh for Bob Turley's 12th win, scoring the winning run in the ninth when Howie Fox walked Spook Jacobs with the bases loaded.

Stan Musial and Harvey Haddix combined to beat the Giants. Musial batted in three runs with a single and his 35th homer. Haddix gained his 17th victory although he needed help in the ninth.

Carl Furillo drove in the winning runs in both Brooklyn victories. He doubled in two runs in the opener; and broke up the second game with a bases-loaded, two-out single off Warren Hacker in the 14th inning.

Jack Dittmer's double off Roberts in the fifth produced the winning Brave run in the second game after Granny Hamner's double had broken up a 2-2 tie in the opener to give Murry Dickson his 10th triumph.

Pontiac Horse Cuts Own Time for Mile

When Marcella Spencer, six-year-old trotter won the sixth race at Wolverine Raceway last Thursday she lowered her own time for the mile. Besides trotting the distance in 2:08 on the half-mile track, Marcella also collected $1,000 for the victory, her third in her last six starts.

Marcella Spencer is owned by Edward M. Stout, Pontiac realtor. Tommy Winn was in the driver's seat.

Betty Hicks of Durham, N.C., was third with 227 and Louise Suggs of Atlanta was fourth with 228.

Biggest Question on Title Bout—Can Ez Last Route?

By MURRAY ROSE
NEW YORK (AP)—Plenty of backing for heavyweight champion Rocky Marciano has sent the odds soaring to 4-1 and better for his return title bout with Ezzard Charles at Yankee Stadium Wednesday night.

For a long time the odds favoring Marciano held at 15-5. With the approach of the return bout the support for the 30-year-old, all-conquering champion has increased considerably. Most of the wagering is on whether the 33-year old Charles will be able to go the full 15 rounds like he did June 17th. Rocky is a 12-5 choice to stop Ezzy this time.

Win or lose, though, Charles will be getting a record when the bell sounds at 10:30 p.m., EDT (9:30 p.m., EST) for their 15-rounder.

The broad-shouldered Charles will be the first ex-champion to get three cracks at regaining the heavyweight crown. Jim Corbett got two tries and failed both times. Charles has lost to Jersey Joe Walcott and Marciano in two previous tries.

There is every indication that the return could be even more thrilling than the exciting first fight. Charles, who has stopped 53 of 98 opponents, may try for a knockout himself. If he comes out swinging from the opening bell, the explosion could come early. Rocky has no intentions of backing off. He wants to win by a kayo.

The Brockton Blaster has won 40 of his 46 fights by kayos. Charles was the first to go the full route with Rocky since Red Applegate went 10 with him on April 30, 1951. He ran up 10 kayos in a row until Ezzy snapped the streak.

Ez Has Mental Block

Psychiatrist Says Charles Must Forget Dreaming If He Is to Regain Ring Title

By DR. J. L. MORENO

MONTICELLO, N. Y. (AP) — If Ezzard Charles could do as well in the ring as he does in his dreams, he could be the greatest pugilist of all time.

Charles is a dreamer. In his dreams he is a mighty, invincible fighter who sweeps all before him in a reckless, savage, destructive fashion. In the ring, however, he loses the spontaneity he has in his dreams.

A dreamer of his type rarely achieves such results as winning the heavyweight championship of the world as Charles did. It was almost a miracle that he did succeed — thus his dreams came to fruition. A dreamer usually satisfies himself with his dreams. He does not need any reality. If he succeeds in reality it is generally not for long and he soon returns to the natural state of the dreamer.

Now he dreams of becoming the first man ever to regain the heavyweight title. He has had two failures. Can a "miracle" happen again?

Yes, if Charles can wipe out his inhibitions in a frenzy — for just 30 seconds — if he is as spontaneous as he is in his dreams, he might knock out Marciano or anyone else. He would be irresistible. He would be like a tiger fighting for his mate. If the dream man can let loose the tiger from within him, then Marciano had better watch out.

There are several mental blocks, however, that have held back the tiger. Charles is an intelligent, cultured, well-mannered, sensitive person. He intuitively resents that part of his primitiveness which he loathes at times in other fighters.

The death of Sam Baroud after being knocked out by Charles in 1948 undoubtedly is another one of the blocks of his unconscious. This may have kept him from punching at the bleeding cut over the eye which Marciano sustained early in their first fight.

Hoosier Pilot Wins 250-Mile Stock Event

DETROIT (AP) — Herschel White, 37, of Indianapolis, won the 250-mile Detroit open new car stock race at the Michigan State Fair yesterday before a record crowd of 19,251 fans.

White won $2,000 in first prize money. He was clocked at four hours and four minutes.

Driving a red and white 1953 Oldsmobile, White took over the lead on the 20th lap when Pat Kirkwood of Ft. Worth, Tex., suffered a broken steering apparatus. Kirkwood, who had led from the sixth lap, was forced to withdraw from the race. He held a five-lap (five mile) lead at the time.

Fitch Top Winner in Old-Model Races

Chuck Fitch of Pontiac swept the lion's share of honors in the old-model stock car racing program at Lake Angelus Speedway yesterday afternoon.

Fitch won the feature and the 2nd and 3rd heats. Other winners were Don Sutton, 4-car dash, and R. D. Marsh, 1st heat. A total of eight cars were demolished in smashups.

Detroit Skipper Third in National Sail Test

NEW ORLEANS (UP) — A Detroit skipper, Hank Cawthra, finished 3rd Sunday in the North American Sailing Championship at the Gulf Yachting Association course.

Gene Walet, a 19-year-old New Orleans Loyola freshman, won the championship for the 2nd straight year by piling up 50½ points, five more than runner-up William Cox of New York.

Cawthra, representing the Crescent Yacht Club and the 1953 international lightning champion, had 4½ points.

Chick Harbert Honored Guest at Testimonial

New PGA King Feted at Meadowbrook Club Saturday Night

National PGA champion Melvin "Chick" Harbert was honored at a testimonial dinner at Meadowbrook Country Club Saturday night.

Among the 170 guests attending were Tommy Shannon, president of the Michigan section of the PGA and pro at Orchard Lake; Warren Orlick of Tam O'Shanter; Faust Blanco, Dearborn CC pro; Dave Griffith of the PGA advisory staff; Northville Mayor Connie Longfield; Heather Downs, national PGA official of Toledo; and PGA president Horton Smith, Detroit.

Harbert introduced his new assistant pro at Meadowbrook, Tony Andrus. Nick Bersan was presented as the new associate pro at Meadowbrook.

Harbert, in speaking of the PGA tournament, said, "This was one of the most important, most impressive, the one event that will stay in my memory — always." Asked if he planned a leave of absence to take advantage of his status as PGA king, Chick replied, "Absolutely not. I may be the PGA champion for one year. I would like to be the pro at Meadowbrook for many, many years."

Harbert will play several matches throughout the country this winter, however, the 1st being a match with the World's Armed Forces in Florida, Oct. 19-23. He has turned down an opportunity to go to Australia because it would inconvenience his family.

UM Stays Clear of Grid Injuries

Branoff Only Player on Sideline and He'll Be Back Soon

ANN ARBOR (AP) — Michigan's Wolverines opened their 3rd week of football practice on a somewhat cheering note today with an absence of major injuries, despite some grueling scrimmage sessions and with signs of marked improvement in several positions.

Only Tony Branoff was absent from last Saturday's long scrimmage session, but no great concern was expressed by coach Benito Oosterbaan regarding him. A bruised knee kept the Flint halfback out of scrimmage, but he is expected back for heavy duty before the weekend.

Any doubts regarding a potential running attack was erased as the 1st stringers moved up and down the field with machine-like regularity.

The quarterbacks, Duncan McDonald, Jim Maddock and Ray Kenagan, struck largely to the running game.

Publix Team Wins Match With DDGA

Publix players of the Metropolitan Golf Association won a close 38-34 victory over the Detroit District private club golfers yesterday in a 16-man team match at Forest Lake Country Club.

Lloyd Martz of Red Run fired a 66 for the DDGA team to break a course record for amateurs. Pontiac's Mike Andonian, representing Sylvan Glen, had come in with a 67 five minutes earlier to tie the previous mark set by Forest Lake president Blaine Eynon.

Noble, Duffield, Zannoth Win at Watkins Lake

John Noble's Yellow Dragon won Sunday's Lightning class race of the Watkins Lake Yachting Association after a close contest with Jack Berlier's Rambler. Rascal and Brown Williams' Red Devil.

Guy Duffield was an easy winner in the small boats with H. Covel second and Dave Hoskins, third, while Don Zannoth's Sea Weed nosed out Jim Parrish's Tar Baby for his 2nd sailoff victory. Ted Schaad's Dreamboat was 3rd.

Mighty Master, a plater, won over $100,000 in purses without ever having run in a stakes race.

Aston Smiling as NL Schedule Favors Brooks

Giants Have Tough Way to Go Despite Three Game Lead

BROOKLYN (AP) — Manager Walt Alston of the Brooklyn Dodgers took one look at the remaining schedule today and couldn't help smiling. "I haven't made any predictions all year and this isn't the time to start."

Trailing the league-leading New York Giants by three games the schedule favors the Brooks all the way. Of their 11 remaining games, nine are at home. Five of the 11 are with the last-place Pittsburgh Pirates, three with the Cincinnati Redlegs and three with the Giants.

Leo Durocher's men, on the other hand, have 13 games left — a half-dozen with Philadelphia, three with Milwaukee and one with St. Louis. Seven are at home, six away.

No wonder Alston admitted things were, indeed, looking up. The club has won five straight, including yesterday's 4-2 and 4-3 triumphs over the Chicago Cubs, to gain three games on the Giants in less than a week.

It took the Dodgers 23 innings an five hours and 35 minutes to turn the trick, but Alston said it was well worth the effort. He also was high in his praise of Billy Loes who relieved in the seventh inning of the 14-inning nightcap which was finished under the lights, and choked the Cubs on three hits the rest of the way.

Carl Erskine, who won No. 17 in the opener, went the distance for the first time since Aug. 13. "I needed that game," said Erskine. "It helped me a lot. I haven't felt good lately. My control was good and I had a good curve. I'll get three more starts and I'd sure like to win 20."

It's Time Out!

"You hoo, Jane! Ed's about to sink the first birdie he ever shot!"

MSC Gets Prep Star From Irish

EAST LANSING (AP) — Dave Kaiser, an all-state fullback from Alpena, has switched from Notre Dame to Michigan State.

Kaiser, a freshman at Notre Dame last year, was to report for classes at MSC today.

Bob Devaney, MSC end coach, said Kaiser had been torn between attending Notre Dame and Michigan State, had gone to Notre Dame and reported he was "not happy" there.

Duffy Daugherty, MSC head coach, said that when Kaiser came to East Lansing last summer to register, he (Daugherty) immediately notified coach Terry Brennan at Notre Dame.

Putting All Important in Women's Amateur Test

By HUGH FULLERTON JR.
SEWICKLEY, Pa., Sept. 13 (AP)—The U.S. Women's Amateur golf championships opened today at the plush Allegheny Country Club. The predictions were that any sound, steady player who could putt exceptionally well for an entire week could walk off with the title.

Twenty-one players, selected from one of the strongest international fields ever assembled for the event, were "distributed" evenly through eight sections of the draw.

The "distributed" players—the U.S. Golf Assn. favors on the word "seeded"—included the 16 members of the United States and

British Walker Cup teams, one former U.S. champion who wasn't among that group, Grace Lenczyk of Newington, Conn.; Belgian champion Arlette Jaquet; Mexican Open champion Margaret (Wiff) Smith of Guadalajara; Canadian champion Marlene Stewart of Fonthill, Ont.; and Mickey Wright of La Jolla, Calif., low amateur in this year's Women's Open championship.

Although the chances are that the winner will come from this select group, there were plenty of others in the field of 145 who might come through on the short but sweet Allegheny course.

Allegany, sitting on the Ohio River hills some 18 miles from Pittsburgh and surrounded by luxurious estates, is a course tailored to measure for women's golf. It measures only 6,034 yards, with a tournament par of 36-37-73. Only two holes are longer than 450 yards. But its a different matter once they're on the tricky, breaking greens. Putting likely will be all-important.

Off the results of the Curtis Cup matches at Merion, Pa., putting is a factor in favor of the British players. And British champion Frances (Bunt) Stephens immediately was installed as one of the top favorites.

This wispy, blue-eyed, 31-year-old caterer from Lancashire showed outstanding putting skill at Merion. And she neatly took the measure of defending champion Mary Faulk of Thomasville, Ga., in their Curtis Cup singles match.

By the same token, Claire Dwyer, the slim Cleveland schoolteacher, was given top rating over Miss Faulk and ex-champion Dot Kirby of Atlanta among the American Curtis Cuppers.

Fair Sets Mark in Winning '59' Feature Event

Pontiac's Joy Fair never gets tired of driving—or winning.

After serving as a relief pilot in the 250-mile stock car race Sunday at the Fair Grounds, Fair hustled out to the Pontiac M-50 Speedway and won 3 races on the hardtop program, including a record-setting victory in the 25-lap feature.

He warmed up by winning the trophy dash and the Australian pursuit, then buzzed the 25 laps in the feature in 8 minutes, 18.48 seconds to beat Rusty Kelly and Elmer Ferstle to the wire.

Jack Scott also set a track mark in winning the semi-final, doing the 15 laps in 5 minutes, 14.7 seconds. Heat winners for the night included Scott, Gerald Lafner, Fred Sutherland, Joe Doyle and Chuck Allen.

Tigers Regain Fourth Place

By JOE FALLS
DETROIT (AP)—Detroit Tigers have a triple goal as the season fades into the final two weeks:
1. To clinch fourth place.
2. Harvey Kuenn to make 200 hits.
3. Steve Gromek to win 20 games.

Lengthy strides were made toward all three yesterday as the Tigers swept a doubleheader from the Washington Senators, 5-0 and 8-3.

The twin wins moved the Tigers back in 4th place, a half game ahead of the Boston Red Sox, who stumbled twice in Chicago.

Gromek scattered six hits in the 1st game and 4th shutout. He is due for three more starts and a victory in each will place him in the select 20-game category for he 1st time in his 12-year career in the majors.

Kuenn, meanwhile, collected five hits in his bid to become the 1st player in Detroit history to make 200 hits in each of his 1st two seasons. Kuenn has 186 hits.

Tigers have 11 games to play—two with the Yankees, six with Cleveland and three with Baltimore.

Gromek probably will start twice against the Indians and once against Baltimore. Those two games against Cleveland ordinarily could be rugged ones but it's possible that the Indians will have clinched the pennant by then, and will be playing the subs.

Detroit's two wins also moved the team three full games ahead of the 6th-place Senators. So unless the Tigers collapse it looks as though they'll at least finish fifth.

All the Braves Still Confident They'll Win Out

Grimm Optimistic, but Figures Show Club Is in Tough Spot

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Time is running out on the Milwaukee Braves but from Manager Charley Grimm down to the batboy, the National League's infant member still believes the 1934 World Series will be a battle of Indians.

"We can't stop now," says Grimm. "This team has come a long way. They're not dejected. They're not out. As long as we have games to play we're still very much in the race."

Informed that the magic number as far as the Braves are concerned, is now 10 (any combination of 10 New York Giants' victories or Braves' defeats would eliminate Milwaukee), Grimm said, "We're playing this game with bats, balls and gloves, not slide rules."

But despite Grimm's optimism, the Braves are in a tough spot. They can't afford to lose games like the first one of yesterday's doubleheader to the Philadelphia Phillies. There was a chance for Milwaukee to pick up some real ground and they flubbed it.

The Giants lost to St. Louis. Had the Braves been able to add the first game against the Phils to their nightcap victory, they'd be 3 1/2 games off the pace today instead of 4 1/2. The Phils took the opener 3-2. The Braves the second game 2-1.

Four teams were ousted in the double elimination tourney after losing for the second time. They were Oates (S.C.), Cuba, Waukegan (Wis.) and Portsmouth (Ohio).

Charles Not Out to Show He Can Absorb Punishment

By ED CORRIGAN
MONTICELLO, N.Y. (AP)—Ezzard Charles, the 33-year-old ex-heavyweight champion, who will try for the third time to regain the crown Wednesday night, does not aim to prove he can take one of Rocky Marciano's punches.

"No, sir," he said today before going through his final full-scale workout, "I'm not aiming to prove I can take a punch. In fact, I'm going to try not to get hit."

Ezz makes his own analysis of Marciano, who licked him by unanimous decision last June 17: "A Giants got their last touchdown in the final quarter on a 35-yard pass, Chuck Conerly, to Dick Wilkins.

Ability of Reserves Is Key to Successful Iowa Season

By JERRY LINKA
IOWA CITY, Ia. (AP)—Iowa's Hawkeyes, highly-rated off their blazing windup tie with Notre Dame last season, will try to get there "fastest" with the fewest in an expected red-hot Big Ten football race.

Coach Forest Evashevski, has a fine 1st team but has such a dropoff in reserves that three quarterbacks have been shifted to 2nd string line positions.

Missing from the 1933 Iowa team which won five, lost three and played a dramatic 14-14 tie with Notre Dame, are such bruising linemen as end Bill Fenton, tackles Don Chelf, Andy Houg and Jerry Clark and brilliant center Jerry Hilgenberg.

Iowa's surprising strength last season was contained mainly in the twin line units Evashevski used interchangeably for one of the nation's best defenses against rushing.

But while depth is lacking from tackle to tackle, Hawkeyes have an improved backfield and are to do 50 per cent more passing than last season.

Jerry Reichow will be the trigger-man in Iowa's accelerated aerial game, quarterbacking for an all-lettermen starting lineup which probably will have Eidean Matheson and Eddie Vincent at halfbacks and Capt. Binke Broeder at fullback.

Likely starting line when the Hawkeyes find out the worst—or best—in the Sept. 25 opener with Michigan State will be: Frank Gilliam and Jim Freeman, ends;

Chicago Olympian Edges Detroit Rider

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Alfred Stiller, 1948 Olympic star from Chicago, yesterday won the ninth annual George Wucher Memorial 50-mile bicycle race.

Stiller edged past Detroit's Tom O'Rourke, a member of the 1932 Olympic team, to grab the title. Bob Pfarr, 1930 national champion from Kenosha, Wis., was third.

Rangers Top Columbus

Ivory Rangers edged the Columbus, O., Harbor Hills polo team, 5-3, Sunday at the Ivory Polo Grounds. Capt. Jack Ivory paced the victory with four goals. Win was the Rangers' 20th of the season against one loss and one tie.

Eight Farmers Set to Appear

Charged With Justice Obstruction in Struggle at Widow's Farm

CHARLOTTE (UP)—What might be the last act in the drawn-out drama of an insurance company failure opened on a strange stage here today as eight farmers went on trial for obstructing justice.

The eight are accused of mauling Lapeer County Sheriff Clark Gregory and a deputy in June, 1932, during an eviction attempt on the Elizabeth Stevens farm near Mariette in Lapeer County.

That eviction, and some 30 years of legal and physical battling, grew out of the failure of the Lapeer Farmers Mutual Fire Insurance Association in the depression days of 1934.

When the association failed, its members—most of them struggling to eke out a living from the land when food prices were tumbling—were assessed on a percentage basis to cover costs.

They refused to pay and took their case to court. By the time the legal fight reached the Michigan Supreme Court most of the farmers had settled the claims against them.

But a hard core held out, including Mrs. Stevens, the Ziegenhardt brothers, Chris and Paul, and the "legal aid" for the embattled farmers, Clayton C. Gilliland of Detroit.

Most of the other farmers in the area were sympathetic with their fight and it led to the battle at the Stevens' farm.

Sheriff Gregory, a strapping ex-Marine who stands well over six feet and weighs more than 200 pounds, was mauled and carried bodily from the farm by a group of angry neighbors who resented the eviction.

The sheriff was carrying out a Lapeer Circuit Court order backing up the sale at auction of the Stevens' farm to Mrs. Grace White, a Lapeer attorney. Mrs. White bought the now prosperous farm when Mrs. Stevens refused to pay a $175 assessment.

The 62-year-old widow eventually was evicted in a second pitched battle and later died at a daughter's home at Bad Axe.

Gilliland was convicted last December of conspiring to obstruct justice for his part in the fracas and sentenced to 4½ to 5 years in prison. He is free on bond pending an appeal.

Floyd Scriber and Erwin Russell were convicted earlier of resisting the sheriff and drew jail terms.

The eight who went on trial today—W. Lee Mathews and William Howard, Clifford; Henry Traylor and John Donovan, Imlay City; Lawrence Weston, North Branch; Ray Warner, Almont; Howard Jarvis, Lapeer, and Howard Abbott, Columbiaville—had originally been scheduled to be tried at Lapeer but a change of venue to Eaton County Circuit Court here was ordered.

Strategy moves were highlighted by the flying visit of Maj. Gen. William C. Chase to Quemooy, Chase, head of the U.S. military advisory group on Formosa, went into a conference with Nationalist leaders as soon as he returned to Taipei, and observers predicted a sharp increase in the flow of supplies to Quemooy.

Communist fighters entered the battle yesterday for the first time since the Reds began shelling Quemooy on Sept. 3. A nationalist report said a lone reconnaissance pilot was intercepted over the Chusan Islands about 500 miles north of Quemooy, but raced homeward before Red fighters could engage him.

Peddler Denies Violating Law

Vendor of Ice Cream in Municipal Court for Fifth Time

A member of a Detroit ice cream vending association entered Municipal Court the fifth time within three months Saturday when he pleaded innocent to a charge of peddling ice cream in the city.

Sol Greenwald, 35, of Detroit, whose appeal to a recent conviction is pending in Oakland Circuit Court, was ordered to trial by Judge Cecil McCallum after furnishing a $50 bond.

He was arraigned in circuit court Tuesday when his attorney appealed the conviction stemming from Pontiac's new vending ordinance which bans peddling of ice cream here. Court date hasn't been set for the appeal trial.

Greenwald's attorney contends the new ordinance is in violation of basic rights, and adds that his client possesses a license under the Michigan Vending and Hawking Act for vendors, "which permits him to peddle anywhere in the state."

The city recently passed the ordinance to safeguard children from darting into streets and to prevent ice cream wrappers from littering the streets, said City Attorney William Ewart.

Group Launches Crusade Against Trash Throwers

By PHYLIS BATTLE
NEW YORK (INS)—America is a beautiful land but she's getting to look like Helen of Troy in a tattle-tale toga, if you can picture that. She just ain't neat.

What's more, the refuse and litter which is soiling her face is costing the taxpayer $30,000,000 a year.

"This is adding insult to injury. And who's to blame?" asks John C. Rose, a man who knows. "It's you. And me. And everybody else but the jatted and the dead. We are all litterers!"

Mr. Rose is a reformed man who frankly admits he stored his exhausted bubble gum under chair seats at one time. Since then, his conscience has nagged to the point where he won't so much as drop a popstick stick onto the clean side of a trash can.

Recently he dedicated himself to directing the vast new "Keep America Beautiful, Inc." crusade in which he is backed by millions of other citizens from civic groups, societies and big, wealthy corporations.

"We're going to spread the word," says Rose, "that this litter problem which is costing us all plenty of money and plenty more civic pride is a comparatively easy thing to clean up. It's the well-mannered people who are to blame in the largest numbers — the well-mannered people who don't think.

"For instance," he charged, "how many times have you crumpled a cigarette pack and tossed it away, into a gutter or out a car window—anywhere, just to get it out of sight?"

Rose waited patiently, the writer being short on mathematics.

"See?" he said. "But don't be embarrassed. The fact that you crumpled it up showed probably a basic instinct for neatness. People, even while they're being thoughtless, subconsciously want their litter to be as small as possible."

Rose breaks down U. S. litterers into three basic groups:

First are the casual ones who toss newspapers from cars, leave peanut shells under benches, etc., without thinking; second, the aware, curious (or playful) type who throw beer cans in rivers to see how they float, or roll bottles down steps to see if they'll break; and last, the "mass disposal people" who deliberately stow garbage behind bushes or pile up backyard dump heaps, either to fight society or because they're too lazy to seek other measures.

"The first two types are really harmless," says Rose, "and should improve with a little education, public opinion and law enforcement . . . also," he conceded, "more incinerators in some cases."

"Keep America Beautiful, Inc." which sprang out of nowhere less than a year ago and now has backing from every national cleanliness-conscious outfit from Procter & Gamble to the Garden Clubs of America, hopes to cure all these ills.

Circulars on national neatness are being circulated right now in most states. Posters are going up warning: "Don't throw it—slow it." "Litter bags" are being marketed for more picturesque garbage disposal, and thousands of small fry wearing the badge of the "litter-bug watcher." The public, gradually, may develop itself a civic conscience.

"And then," says Rose dreamily, setting back over coffee and reaching for a fresh smoke, "we may live in a slicked up Shangri-La. And look at all the money we might save in taxes." He opened a cigarette pack, crumpled the wrapper and stowed it neatly in an ash tray.

I pledged my support, picked up a cookie that was still littering the luncheon table and walked away, dedicated.

Elephant Walks; Town Talks Wildlife

DANBURY, N. H. (AP)—A circus, travelling through New Hampshire, took a short cut over a back road in this town.

As the elephant truck went up a long hill, the tailgate slid open and one of the pachyderms got out.

Motorists on the road later received quite a shock to see the huge animal calmly standing by the roadside, apparently enjoying the woody countryside.

About 40 miles further on, the circus crew stopped for a rest and discovered the loss. A search party was sent back and the elephant was discovered surrounded by admirers some with cameras, others just wondering at "New Hampshire wildlife."

Truck Driver Solves Dilemma of Bluejays

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich. (P) — Rush hour traffic was tied up for several blocks because a baby bluejay was fluttering helplessly in the center of the street, two adult bluejays noisily hovering over it. Finally the driver of the big truck which had stopped in front of the jays got out and carried the young bird safely off the street. Then the long lines of cars began to move again.

Good Heavens!

ROANOKE, Va. (P) — Officer J. C. Duncan, investigating an opened police call box, found a letter inside it. It was written 26 years before by Ellis L. Wright of Roanoke to Thomas Scott of Natural Bridge, thanking him for a barrel of apples. Wright had been dead about 15 years. Fifty-six counties in 17 states of the Union have blast furnaces. Eighty-seven per cent are located in six states: Alabama, Illinois, Indiana, New York, Ohio, and Pennsylvania.

Power of Suggestion

BARTLESVILLE, Okla. (P) — A youngster riding his bike past a clock-thermometer sign downtown, keeled over, bicycle and all, yelling "Wow, 140, how hot can it get!" The youth had been looking at the wrong part of the sign — it was 1:40 p.m. Calypso originally were sung at carnivals in Trinidad, British West Indies. The words, usually impromptu and satirical, were sung to the accompaniment of a guitar.
