OU Sets Plan for Expansion

$2.8 Million Program
Due in Legislature

A $2.8-million proposal for expansion and improvements at Oakland University will be submitted to the State Legislature at the next regular session, Robert Swanson, OU business affairs director, disclosed yesterday.

Swanson said a new $2.5-million classroom building made up most of the capital outlay package, which also includes remodeling of the university's water system and extension of the main campus thoroughfare.

The OU package was authorized last week by the Michigan State University board of trustees.

The proposed three-story classroom facility would provide 39 to 40 more classrooms and some faculty offices. A large lecture hall with room for 300-400 persons would be included.

NO PLANS MADE

The business director said no definite plans have been made, but indicated that construction could begin next summer with completion set for the fall of 1965, if the legislature approves.

Swanson said no site has been selected for the building.

The university will also ask the legislature to allow OU to increase student housing facilities by 500.

Swanson said this would mean two more dormitories. He explained that state funds would not be involved here. The dormitories are self-supporting.

Landry to Give 'Our Side of It'

Mayor Robert A. Landry will give the City Commission's side of the suspension and dismissal of former City Manager Robert A. Stier in an address to the public next week. The speech, according to Landry, will include a statement on the commission's position concerning the dismissal of Police Chief Joseph Koren.

Landry announced his intention to "address the people" at last night's City Commission meeting.

After the meeting he indicated he would also appoint a citizens' committee to screen applicants for the city manager's position at next Tuesday's commission meeting.

House Speaker Raps Romney's Fiscal Reform

GOP's Allison Green Calls Plan 'Unfair,' Hits Income Tax

From Our News Wires
CASS CITY — House Speaker Allison Green of Kingston crumbled Republican hopes for a show of unanimity on fiscal reform last night by calling for a major revision of Gov. Romney's proposed tax program.

Green, conceded to be the most powerful man in the Republican-controlled legislature, urged school districts and residents of "poor" areas like The Thumb to band together and demand a change in the governor's proposed property tax relief.

He made his opposition to the governor's program at a Cass City meeting of the House Taxation Committee.

An individual and corporate income tax forms the base on which Romney proposes to reshuffle the sources of $306 million a year in state revenue.

Called 'UNFAIR'

Green termed as "unfair" Romney's rebate plan under which the state would pay 20 per cent of local school taxes levied against property, and said that as proposed by the governor the relief might last only a year.

"As for income tax," Green said, "I couldn't support one unless there were substantial relief for the property taxpayer."

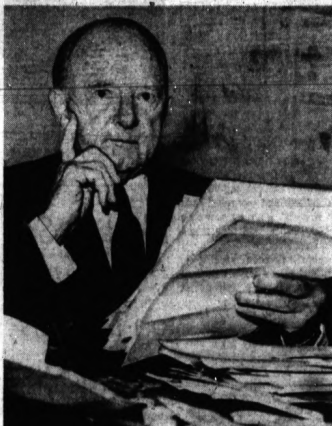

About 100 of Green's Tuscola County constituents were on hand when he walked into the Cass High School gymnasium and was called forward by Rep. James H. Folks, R-Horton, committee chairman.

IS ALARMED
Green expressed "alarm" over Romney's 20 per cent school tax rebate and termed it a poor plan for distributing the money.

He said Tuscola County would get only $32.54 a student in rebate, while Washtenaw (Ann Arbor) County would get $72.97, Oakland (Pontiac) $57.30 and Wayne (Detroit) $62.54.

"This," he added, "is not a fair distribution of state funds."

Sen. Byrd May Start Tax Talk

Civil Rights Pushing Tax Cut Bill Aside

WASHINGTON (AP) — Chairman Harry F. Byrd of the Senate Finance Committee says he may open public hearings next week on President Kennedy's tax-cut bill. Indications are, however, that lengthy committee deliberations and a decision to seek Senate action first on controversial civil rights legislation will delay final congressional action until early next year.

Senate Democratic leaders made plain yesterday they planned to bring the civil rights bill up for a Senate vote before the tax-cut measure, which was passed last week in the House.

The civil rights bill is expected to touch off a battle that almost certainly will include a lengthy Southern filibuster against the bill. That's even if the Senate Finance Committee moves quickly on the tax bill, the Senate would be unable to consider it until it disposes of civil rights.

Byrd, a Virginia Democrat, said Secretary of the Treasury Douglas Dillon would be leadoff witness at the tax bill hearings. His announcement came yesterday after his committee voted 11 to 4 against a move by Sen. Paul Douglas, D-Ill., to speed up hearings.

"It's a very unfortunate decision," he said.

It'll Be Sunny and Warm

Mostly sunny and warm with the high near 74 is the prediction for tomorrow. Tonight's low will dip to about 52.

For the next five days, temperatures will average near to slightly above the normal highs of 59 to 65 and normal lows of 38 to 45.

Precipitation will total one-quarter inch or less in a few days of showers near the end of the week or during the weekend.

Today's lowest recording in downtown Pontiac prior to 8 a.m. was 54. By 2 p.m. the thermometer reading was 75.

Dominican Coup Is Described

JON FRUYTIER

(EDITOR'S NOTE — Jon "Skip" Fruytier of 3137 Wagon, Auburn Heights, is one of 160 Peace Corps volunteers in the Dominican Republic. He wrote the following letter to The Press on Wednesday last week.)

I am writing to you my home town newspaper to inform you of the present happenings here in the Dominican Republic where I am stationed as a Peace Corps volunteer. Thought you might be interested in some first-hand information on today's government overthrow.

By the time you received this letter, you probably had all the latest news releases, but I will try and give you a different viewpoint of this situation.

This morning about 6 a.m.,

President Juan Bosch was removed from his post as leader and put in jail by the armed forces.

Why the overthrow? Well, there are many rumors as to why, but here are a few of the most outstanding ones.

TO CONSORT

First, Bosch had begun to consort with the International Communist party on his recent trip to Mexico.

Secondly, he had made some serious accusations against the Catholic (this is predominantly Catholic country) church and its officials.

Finally, he has removed many government officials for apparent

City Approves $4 Million in Property Tax

Tax Rate Now Stands at $16.10 Per $1,000 of Assessed Valuation

The City Commission last night approved a $4,477,184 tax levy to finance a total $6,768,886 city budget for 1963.

The move means that Pontiac taxpayers will finally get their 1963 city and Pontiac School District tax bills the last week of October.

The city tax levy will require a tax rate of $16.10 per $1,000 of assessed property value as equalized.

This is a $2.34 rate increase over last year's $13.76 per $1,000 tax rate.

The school tax rate is $25.34 per $1,000 of assessed property as equalized.

UNANIMOUS VOTE

Commissioners voted 5-0 in favor of the amendment to the annual appropriation ordinance, which establishes final budget appropriations and revenues to finance the budget.

Commissioners Charles H. Harrison and Dick M. Kirby were absent.

The balance of the $5.7-million budget will be financed by an estimated $2,291,703 in revenue from other agencies, fees, sales and services.

The levy includes $103,944 which will be used toward eliminating reappropriated surplus as an estimated income item.

Previously, it was estimated there would be $200,000 in surplus from last year to help finance the 1963 budget.

NO SURPLUS
The annual audit showed no surplus was left.

Commissioner William H. Taylor, in voting for the budget amendment, said he opposed a $5,000 hike in the appropriation for the mayor and commission, a $7,000 hike in the finance department budget and $5,000 cut in the Police Department budget.

Taylor said the $3,000 increase, added since last June, was for a personal secretary for the commission, "who is in reality a personal secretary for the mayor."

The expenditure was strongly defended by Mayor Robert A. Landry and Commissioner Milton R. Henry.

Landry to Present Commission Story

Landry said that he felt "it's only fair to give the commission's side of the story... now that it's becoming apparent that some people are back from orbit."

He said that he and the commission "felt a tremendous impact of adverse publicity, particularly in press notices."

"There is no doubt in my mind that the people of this community will understand... how important it is (for commissioners) to respect principles and not personalities."

Landry didn't specify any date or place for the address, but said Reineck would inform the press and radio where and when it will be given.

In respect to a new manager, Landry said the screening committee would be made up of representatives of industry, labor, teachers, businessmen and other significant groups in the community.

"We are advertising in the American Municipal League and International City Managers Association publications," he said.

Thieves have got Donald E. Newman's number. In fact, about 32,000 of his numbers.

That is the total Newman estimates was in the 40 cases of plastic house numbers stolen from where they were stored in a building at 915 Orchard Lake.

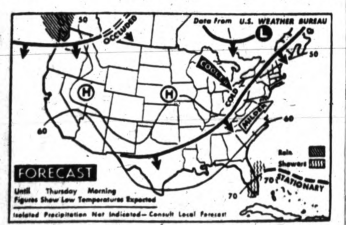

Newman, 55, of 421 N. Perry reported the theft to Pontiac police yesterday afternoon.

In addition to the cases, equipment used in making the numbers also was taken. He placed a value on the stolen goods at $4,000.

Election Set for January on Districts

A special election on a charter amendment to change voting procedures in April Pontiac City Commission elections has been set for Jan. 13, 1964.

City Commissioners adopted a resolution last night which establishes the special election date.

The resolution was unanimously approved by the five commissioners present. (Commissioners Dick M. Kirby and Charles H. Harmon were absent.)

However, Commissioner Milton R. Henry said after the meeting that a suit "will definitely be filed in Circuit Court challenging the legality of petitions which requested the special election."

The commissioner claimed last week that a majority of the petitions, circulated and filed by the Pontiac Area Junior Chamber of Commerce, were not legally notarized under state law.

The petitions had been certified by City Clerk Olga Barkley.

The amendment to be put to a vote Jan. 13 proposes that electors vote for seven commissioners, one from each district, instead of just one — from the voter's own district — in the April election.

Commission candidates would still be nominated by district at the March primary.

Dynamite Trial Starts Today

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP) — Three white men were scheduled for trial in Recorder's Court this afternoon on charges connected with racial bombings.

Meanwhile, state investigators reported finding more than 100 sticks of dynamite in a wooded area just north of the city limits.

The three men, all charged with illegally possessing dynamite, are John W. Hall, 36, Robert E. Chambliss, 39, and Charles Cagle, 22, all of the Birmingham area.

They are free on $300 bond, the usual amount in misdemeanor cases.

Hall was arrested late yesterday; the others were taken into custody Sunday.

A habeas corpus hearing scheduled at 10 a.m. for Cagle was dismissed by Circuit Court Judge Ala. King on request of Cagle's attorney. The judge noted that the hearing was no longer of use since Cagle had already been granted bond.

Gangland Bosses Killed in 1931 Valachi Links Genovese With Murders

WASHINGTON (AP) — Joseph Valachi today linked Vito Genovese — the man he says now runs a criminal syndicate from a prison cell — to the 1931 violent deaths of two gangland bosses.

Valachi did not name Genovese as the actual killer, but told the Senate Investigations subcommittee:

"The shooting of Giuseppe Massaria in a Coney Island restaurant in April 1931 was set up by 'Charles Lucky, Vito Genovese and Ciro Terranova.'"

Salvatore Maranzano, gunned down the following September, had been in a meeting that day with Genovese and Charles Lucky.

Massaria and Maranzano at the time were leaders of rival gangs in the New York area. Valachi said Genovese and Charles Lucky, as the mob called Lucky Luciano, were lieutenants of Massaria.

Genovese, convicted on a narcotics charge, is in Leavenworth federal prison, but, according to Valachi, still bosses the crime syndicate.

MADE LIST — Valachi was serving under Maranzano in 1931, and he related that his boss made a list of rival hoodlums that "we got to kill."

Bandit Is Sentenced for Market Robbery

A bandit who specialized in markets, weddings and aliases was given a 20- to 40-year prison term yesterday for holding up a Birmingham supermarket shortly after his phony wedding June 1.

William R. Bevins, 46, of Detroit was sentenced by Circuit Court Judge Frederick C. Clegg, before whom he had pleaded guilty Sept. 11 to assault with intent to commit armed robbery.

Bevins originally was charged with armed robbery of a supermarket on Woodward near 14 Mile Road where he held up store manager James Gysin and took $1,495.

Bevins, in admitting the crime to police, said he found he was short of money after a wedding ceremony with a 30-year-old Birmingham woman who thought she had married Robert Chalfonte of Richmond, Va.

ONE OF ALIASES — Chalfonte was one of Bevins' aliases. He was already married; under another of his aliases, Shawn Alvane, he admitted his wife, Mrs. Loretta Alvane, lives in Detroit.

Bevins said he went to the market while his "bride" was changing clothes for the honeymoon trip they never took.

He was arrested after Gysin, who followed Bevins out of the store, phoned his car license number to police.

Bevins was sentenced to 10-15 years in prison in 1954 for robbery of a Highland Park market.

Classes for Adults, Youth Set in Bloomfield Hills

BLOOMFIELD HILLS — From a fast game of basketball to a course in rapid reading, Bloomfield Hills youth will be offered a variety of activities this fall.

Meanwhile, the newly formed Recreation Department also has scheduled a number of evening classes for adults.

The majority of courses for young people has been planned for Saturday mornings, and most of them will begin this week.

Listed as creative courses for elementary school children are art, drama, dance, French and needlecraft.

Other Saturday morning offerings include basketball, dancing, drama, vocal music, fencing, wrestling and weight lifting.

During the week, high school students can enroll in evening courses dealing with rapid reading, the slide rule and first aid.

Teen clubs have been scheduled for junior high school youngsters on Friday nights.

Featured among the 24 courses for adults is one entitled "Antiques — and how you know them."

Recognition of period and style characteristics and techniques of pottery of the Early American furniture, sources and origins are some of the topics to be covered.

WORLD TOPIC — "The World Is Yours" is the title of a session being planned by Mr. and Mrs. Don Dennis, who just returned from a trip around the world.

The list for adults also contains art, bridge, badminton, dog obedience, draperies, French, interior decorating, German, "gimnastics" and knitting.

Other courses are oil painting, millinery, office machines, social dancing, investment principles, tailoring, typing, volleyball, woodwork and metalwork and group shortness.

Most of the adult classes will begin later this month. Registration may be made by mail or in person through Oct. 11. The recreation office is open from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. weekdays at Bloomfield Hills High School, 4200 Anderson.

He Joins Delegation to Inspect Asia Spots — Oakland County's Republican Congressman, William S. Broomfield, and seven other congressmen will embark tomorrow on a two-week inspection tour of South Viet Nam and other spots, eastern Asia trouble spots.

"A great many of us are disturbed by what is happening in Southeast Asia and we want to see for ourselves the reasons tensions are increasing and the threat of war is growing in this important part of the world," Broomfield said today.

There is confusion on the part of our government as to the policies we should pursue in Southeast Asia," he said.

Besides inspecting positions against Communist guerrillas and looking into the political situation in the main, spot on their tour, South Viet Nam, the congressmen will visit Laos, Singapore, Kuala Lumpur in the nation of Malaysia and the city of Manila in the Philippines.

All the group are members of the House Foreign Affairs Committee's Far East subcommittee, of which Broomfield is ranking Republican member.

They will be briefed before leaving by Sec. of Defense Robert S. McNamara, who was to report to President Kennedy today on his just concluded fact-finding tour of South Viet Nam with Gen. Maxwell Taylor.

For Law Enforcement Messages

Ohio Police Coordinate National Network

COLUMBUS, Ohio (UPI)—One of these days, someone may commit a major crime in the United States that the Ohio State Highway Patrol doesn't know about.

But don't count on it.

Because from its headquarters here, the patrol acts as a clearing house for virtually all messages sent to and from all of the major law enforcement agencies in the country.

It's probably the least known phase of the patrol's work, and yet it is among the most important.

Patrol officials say that if some technical problem should knock the message communications center here out of commission, police departments throughout the United States would be virtually isolated from each other.

The OSP's communications set-up is a complicated, interlaced mass of telephone, telegraph and radio equipment that connects all points in Ohio, and also links the East Coast with the rest of the nation.

Most people are aware that law enforcement agencies within the state are equipped to communicate with each other.

That is handled by radio and teletype through the general headquarters here.

The figures on intrastate messages are staggering. In 1962, for example, the patrol sent and received 2,415,000 messages by radio. Teletype messages that year accounted for 797,977 more.

MOST IMPORTANT

The third method of communications, telegraph is the link that makes the patrol's headquarters here the most important communications link in the nation's law enforcement system.

Basically, it works like this: Seventeen states of the East Coast are tied in on the Eastern States Teletype Network, which has its western terminus here.

That leaves 33 states without means of communicating with the East. And that is where the message center here comes in.

Say, for example, New York police are hunting a bank robber, and have reason to believe he may be headed for Los Angeles.

They will teletype a message to Columbus, and the Ohio patrol will relay that message via telegraph to Los Angeles authorities.

Without the link here, the only means of communications would be telephone, which is too costly, and the U.S. Mail, which is far too slow for this type of work.

The system also works the other way around. Patrol operators receive telegraph messages from western and southern points and relay them by teletype to the East Coast.

1,000 A WEEK

In 1962, 55,551 such messages were relayed through Columbus. That comes to over 1,000 messages moving across the country through the patrol's offices every week.

Within Ohio, the OSP's communications network is so extensive that it requires a staff of 79 trained operators and technicians to keep it running.

The patrol maintains a separate department to supervise planning, installation and repair of radio installations.

The headquarters post here has direct radio and teletype connections with the patrol's 11 district headquarters, and with the larger city and county law enforcement agencies in the state.

The district posts, in turn, can contact by radio any of the patrol posts within their jurisdiction.

In addition, the patrol handles messages to and from various state departments, the Ohio Bureau of Criminal Investigation, the FBI and others. With all of those departments included, the total message load in 1962 came to 3,178,418.

To handle teletype messages, the patrol leases sending and receiving equipment from Western Union.

Messages come in from the East on perforated tape, and are forwarded to the telegraph room immediately for transmission west.

ALL AUTOMATIC

To send a message, operators put the message on a tape, feed it through a machine, push a button to get it on its way, then sit back and watch. From there on, it's all automatic.

Radio communications are handled in a radio center, which is tied in vocally with law enforcement agencies throughout the state.

Seven different frequencies are channeled into the center at all times.

Once a message has been received, it is copied and filed into a system that provides quick access to hundreds of types of information.

All information is filed several times, providing a double check and often even a triple check to insure accuracy.

In addition, the patrol issues a daily summary of messages received in the communications center.

Copies of the summary are distributed to over 750 law enforcement agencies throughout the state and the nation.

Avon Supervisor Fires Back in Open Letter to Township

AVON TOWNSHIP — Fighting recent formation of a township "grievance committee," Township Supervisor Cyril Miller has returned with an "open letter" to the people he serves.

In it, he points out "serious implications of the current disagreement between myself and a majority of the Avon Township Board over recent changes in the handling of building inspections."

On July 22, Miller transferred Lawrence Porter from his position as building inspector, which paid $6,800 annually, to the job of handling maintenance duties at the township cemetery.

Four weeks later, a majority of the board voted to reinstate Porter.

HEATED DEBATE

After a heated debate on the matter, Miller and the board agreed to follow the decision offered by either Township Attorney Lewis R. Bebout, or the state attorney general's office if needed.

At the board's last regular meeting, a motion by Trustee William E. McCullough passed, with Miller dissenting, which established a grievance committee entitled the "Employment Board of Review."

Miller called the recent board action a threat to "the integrity of local government."

"DIFFERENCE OF OPINION"

Clerk Mrs. Theima Spencer said today that their isn't really a difference of opinion between Miller and the board. "We have our minor differences of opinion but I think the board is getting along very well."

Commenting on the establishment of the four-man committee, she said it consists of herself and trustees Wayne Holm, Lyle R. Knapp and McCullough.

Miller claims that state law gives him the right to remove the inspector, or any other employees whom he feels are not fulfilling the requirements of their job, or are not needed.

HYMN SINGERS — Among activities scheduled for the 125th anniversary celebration at Milford Presbyterian Church in an old-fashioned hymn sing Sunday night. In outfits befitting the occasion, three congregation members practice always-popular songs. They are (from left) Mrs. Donald Colgrove, 502 Bellevue; Mrs. Arthur Berisley, 722 Panorama; and Mrs. Russell Colton, 330 W. Summit.

In Miller's statement, he says the recent board action "challenged my authority to make personnel changes."

"Now, it is difficult for a duly elected supervisor to criticize his duly elected board," Miller continues.

"UNTHINKABLE"

But, on the other hand, it is unthinkable that a supervisor should be required to support polices that are patently detrimental to the best interests of township residents.

Miller said the recent board action is a threat to "the integrity of local government."

"DIFFERENCE OF OPINION"

Clerk Mrs. Theima Spencer said today that their isn't really a difference of opinion between Miller and the board. "We have our minor differences of opinion but I think the board is getting along very well."

Milford Presbyterian Church to Celebrate 125th Birthday

By PAT MCCARTY

MILFORD — Three days of special activities have been planned to commemorate the 125th anniversary of the Milford Presbyterian Church.

The celebration begins Saturday with a 6:30 p.m. banquet for members in the fellowship hall of the church.

Mrs. Victor Munson, Mrs. Harold Burley and Mrs. Paul Hocking are in charge of the dinner, which will be served by members of the Woman's Society for Christian Service, of the First Methodist Church.

Mrs. Harold Veon will present an historical pageant following the banquet.

Two services will be held Sunday, one at 9:30 a.m. and the other at 11 a.m.

At the latter service the congregation will honor 15 persons who have been members of the church for 50 years.

LONG MEMBERS

Among them are Mr. and Mrs. Theron Arms, Chester W. Arms, Mrs. Porter Bennett, Kathleen Black, Mrs. Fred Hill, Albert Johnson, Mrs. Frank Ladd and Ruth Lovejoy.

Others are Clifford McCurdy, Mrs. Edith Morrow, Mrs. William Porter, Mrs. Fred Richman, Clarence Travis and Mrs.

Detroit Police Official Eyed for U.S. Post

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy's nomination of Detroit Police Commissioner George Edwards to a federal judgeship is under a Senate group's consideration after a three-hour hearing yesterday.

The hearing, by a Senate Judiciary subcommittee, traced Edwards' record from his younger years in politics and on labor's picket lines to his service on Michigan's Supreme Court.

President Kennedy has nominated the 48-year-old Detroit police civilian boss to the 6th Circuit Court of Appeals at Cincinnati. The Senate just needs to confirm the nomination.

Edwards, a subcommittee witness, said he disagreed now with an article he wrote on peace in the 1930's as an "isolationist."

When a subcommittee member compared this to Edwards' war service record, Edwards took the position he should be judged "on my average."

Sen. Philip A. Hart, D-Mich., a member of the subcommittee, said he had known Edwards for 17 years and envied his ability to analyze and express matters of law.

SOME CRITICISM

Sen. Sam J. Ervin, D-N.C., subcommittee chairman, was critical of some of Edwards' activities while he was at Harvard from which he received his master's degree in 1934.

Ervin questioned him about his activities at Harvard with the League for Industrial Democracy which later became the American Student Union, subsequently designated by the House Committee on Un-American Activities as a Communist front organization.

In the 1930's, Edwards said, the country was in the midst of a depression and there was concern with the question of whether peace would be maintained.

Edwards said that as field representative for the League of Industrial Democracy from 1934 to 1936 he traveled from college campus to college campus.

Parent Talks Solicited

As part of a recently developed social studies improvement program for Avondale elementary schools, a questionnaire seeking services of resource people for classroom participation, is being sent to grade school parents this week.

The questionnaire asks parents about their training and experiences. More specifically, it requests them to check and describe the field in which they would be willing to serve as a speaker.

Information requested includes job professions, public office, industry, travels, skills, membership in service organizations and public service departments (firemen, policemen, etc.), hobbies and foreign country residence.

The returned questionnaire will be filed by subject matter for use by teachers when needed.

This program was initiated by Charles L. Johnson, Elmwood School principal, who was appointed by Schools Supt. George E. Shackelford last year to study the social studies textbook being used in the elementary schools.

A social studies curriculum committee, consisting of elementary teachers, was organized to study the curriculum for weaknesses and to recommend necessary improvements.

As a result of this study, new textbooks were adopted in every class from grades three through six.

The kindergarten, first and second grades do not have formal social studies curriculum, but stress is given to that field, introduction to maps and use of visual aids, Johnson said.

The third grade will study the community; fourth will study Michigan for one semester and "Regions Near and Far" for the second; and fifth grade, American history.

A study of Canada and South America will be in the sixth grade.

Johnson said that by offering students first-hand experiences of area residents, the pupils' interest in these subjects will be stimulated and their learning made more meaningful.

"We feel that through use of community resource people we can build a better relationship between our schools and the community," he said.

MPSC to Give Rail Verdict

The decision on whether to discontinue daily Beeline rail passenger runs between Detroit and Bay City will be announced within the month, a Michigan Public Service Commission spokesman said yesterday.

At Monday's third and final hearing on the issue, the only persons registering opposition to the discontinuance were representatives of Saginaw, Bay City and railroad unions.

New York Central Railroad again presented its case. It claimed operating the self-propelled car between Detroit and Bay City in competition with private autos and buses would cause an annual loss of at least $49,000.

No objections by Oakland County towns have been presented.

Farmington Twp. Girl Dies Following Auto Accident

FARMINGTON TOWNSHIP — A 16-year-old Farmington Township girl died yesterday afternoon following an automobile accident in Plymouth Township.

Officials at St. Mary's Hospital in Livonia said Katherine M. Sevin, 2622 Westmeath, sustained multiple injuries. She died in the hospital shortly after the 12:34 p.m. accident.

The girl, a North Farmington High School student, was a passenger in a car driven by Donna C. Rader, 17, of Wood Creek Farms.

"BRAKES FAILED"

Donna told Wayne County Sheriff's deputies the brakes on her car failed as she approached Ann Arbor Road while traveling south on Sheldon. The car crashed into a semitruck in the intersection.

Neither driver was injured, police said.

Service for the accident victim will be 2 p.m. tomorrow at Trinity Episcopal Church with burial in North Farmington Cemetery.

Her body is at the Spencer J. Heeney Funeral Home, Farmington.

Surviving are her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frederick R. Sevin; a brother Peter; sister Carolyn; and grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur A. Bull and Mrs. Ethel Sevin.

Miss Troxtell Says Vows in Keego Harbor

WALLED LAKE — Sandra Lee Troxtell of Wallied Lake and Gerald Crabtree of Commerce exchanged wedding vows recently at Trinity Methodist Church in Keego Harbor.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray H. Troxtell of 2266 Menone are parents of the bride.

The bride wore a street-length sheath of white tulle. Her fingertip veil was held by a pair tulle. She carried white carnations.

Attending the couple were Donna Rhen of Wallied Lake and Larry Crabtree of Commerce, brother of the bridegroom.

Users were James Troxtell, brother of the bride and Ralph Jaynes, both of Wallied Lake.

Would-Be U.S. Project India's Woe

NEW DELHI (UPI) — What might have been the biggest American project in India is now merely a big problem.

India has withdrawn its request to the United States to help build its fourth government-run steel mill, at Bokaro in northeastern India.

The announcement followed (Advertisement)

One Savings St. 2:30 P.M. 222-1113

18 months of negotiations between India and the United States.

The multimillion-dollar mill would have been Asia's largest.

Despite President Kennedy's best efforts to justify the massive aid, it failed to secure congressional backing.

U.S. assistance to India is not reduced. India is still the biggest single recipient of American foreign aid.

But to many political observers, America has dropped the chisel and thereby the chance of hewing out a perfect Indian image.

NEEDS MORE STEEL

India, especially following last autumn's Chinese offensive, desperately needs more steel. Even before, India's third five-year development plan sought to triple its steel ingot production to 9.2 million tons.

"Only Bokaro could have filled our dreams," one Indian economist said.

Lacknow's influential, pro-government National Herald said: "The importance of Bokaro is not in question. It is an essential part of the third plan; and since a steel plant of this size—four million tons—takes at least seven years to complete, work on it should have started as early as possible in the first year of the plan."

The Times of India said: "Continuing dependence on others not merely for credits but design and technology implies the presence of a possibly friendly but none the less foreign foot on the Indian accelerator which must ultimately affect the pace of economic progress."

While the average Indian looks indifferently at India's determination to go ahead with the ambitious project, the press has unanimously endorsed the government's decision to withdraw its request to America for financing the mill.

'SAGACIOUS DECISION'

The Indian Express said: "India's withdrawal of Bokaro from the list of projects for which American aid was sought should be viewed as a sagacious decision which should avoid any further embarrassment to the Kennedy administration which has hailed India as the test case for economic growth in underdeveloped areas through democratic means."

"It is not in anger but in sympathetic understanding of the difficulties of the friendly Kennedy administration that India has decided to withdraw its request."

"It would have been helpful if President Kennedy had succeeded in carrying Congress with him in his desire to assist this (Bokaro) project to vital to our development. But a democratic government cannot ignore the political climate in the country just as it happened in regard to the Voice of America deal in India."

The pro-Congress Hindustan Times hoped "several countries can be persuaded to form a consortium to take up assistance to Bokaro."

Although India has the vast resources of public and private capital needed for local financing of big projects, leading Indian economists doubt whether the so-called public sector could bear the expenditure of building Bokaro.

Expert Asks CCC Could Aid Dropouts

DETROIT (AP) — The Cook County (Chicago), Ill., director of public aid yesterday called for a "return to the Civilian Conservation Corps (CCC) to rid America of its school dropout problem."

Raymond M. Hilliard, speaking in a panel discussion at the American Public Works Association Congress, said that only a national work program, such as the one instituted during the Depression of the 1930s, can keep the nation's youth from wasting their lives.

In Detroit and Chicago, he said "There are thousands of these teen-agers idle, unemployed, roving the streets, getting into trouble, becoming delinquent."

Special Meeting Called on Russian Farm Yields

MOSCOW (AP) — Premier Khrushchev announced Tuesday there will be a special plenary meeting of the Central Committee of the Communist party late in November. It will discuss the role of the chemical industry in manufacturing fertilizers to increase agricultural yield and also raising synthetic fiber production.

"Why don't you go to Osmun's?"

Sure, lots of barbers know Osmun's. And so do plumbers, bankers, bakers, lathe operators, lawyers and almost everyone else. When you've been in business for over 32 years you really can't help building up a following.

That's why recommending Osmun's to the man under the towel comes so naturally to our barber friend. He knows what we stand for: The best names in men's clothing (like famous Eagle Suits)... people who really care about serving him... a charge plan tailored to his exact needs... free alterations. Things like that.

How does he know? He's been coming here himself for a long time. You might almost say since he was a little shaver.

Why don't you go to Osmun's for! The brilliant new COLORESCENT SHARKSKIN SUITS by Eagle. Luxurious sharkskins fired with rich undercurrents of colors, specially imported and superbly tailored by Eagle Clothes. $95

30 Days to Better Grades—XV

You Can Speed That Textbook Reading

By The Reading Laboratory
Written for Newspaper Enterprise Association

For the last several articles we've been talking about the "survey and reserve" method of handling a textbook.

First of all, you read the large bold type and study the maps and graphs to find the main idea; then the rest of the bold print; third, the first sentence of each paragraph for the secondary ideas; then a fast reading of the entire chapter, ignoring the details, and, finally, another skimming to pick out the major details that may require memorization.

We've talked about the first surveys and the memorization at some length. We'll spend this article on the fourth step in the "survey and reserve" method—the "fast reading of the entire chapter."

Students often have trouble with this step, simply because they read so slowly that a "fast reading" is impossible. They bog down in the print.

And the longer you have to spend on the text, the more chance there is of losing track of the main idea, of becoming uninvolved and passive and of going right back to memorizing a lot of facts you don't understand.

You won't become a "speed reader" just by reading this, but if you feel your reading is entirely too slow, a little attention to a few common faults will go a long way toward clearing up your troubles.

Most slow readers are slow because they "come down too hard" on every word.

An illustration should make this clear.

There is one day in every October when millions of baseball fans are waiting to hear the outcome of the World Series. When the first headlines come out, they usually read: "YANKES WIN THE WORLD SERIES." A short message that says a lot.

But it might also read: "YANKS TAKE SERIES"—which is even shorter, but says the same thing. But wouldn't it be just as meaningful to say simply: "YANKS"?

The third headline is only one-fifth as long as the first but it says just as much.

The point is that the reader who reads each word with equal emphasis is wasting a great deal of time.

In the average textbook, less than 50 per cent of the words will really mean anything.

The trick is to concentrate on the key words—in most cases, the verbs and nouns—and let your eyes move lightly over the unimportant print. Or, to put it another way, read for thoughts rather than for words.

Reading for thoughts will be easier if you use your eyes in the right way, too.

Rather than focusing directly into the print, lift your eyes ever so lightly above the line of print, let your eyes relax—and you'll be able to see more in a single eyestop and speed up accordingly. Finally, you might catch yourself moving your lips as you read. Stick a pencil in your mouth and chew on it as you read to stop this.

Remember, it's always thoughts that you're going after, never just words. Reading for thoughts will keep you from bogging down in print.

Pontiac City Affairs

Low Bid Heard on Lot Job

Louis D'Hondt & Son Wrecking Co. of Mount Clemens has submitted the low bid for clearing 12 lots for an employee parking lot adjacent to Pontiac General Hospital.

In a preliminary tabulation

Chrysler Gets Share of Spain Car Company

DETROIT (AP) — Chrysler Corp. has acquired a major interest in an automobile company in Spain and is to begin immediate export of Dodge Dart cars and Dodge trucks to that country.

Chrysler, first American car manufacturer to be given Spanish government permission to enter Spain's rapidly expanding car market, announced its action yesterday.

A 35 per cent interest was purchased in the Barreiros Company of Spain. Chrysler's international division said $17 million was paid for stock in the company.

ALL CAMPAIGNING

The Chrysler announcement followed reports from Madrid that Chrysler, Ford and General Motors all had been campaigning for a share in the Spanish market.

A Ford spokesman said the firm has no specific proposals under consideration but is "following everything with interest." General Motors made no comment.

Chrysler said it plans construction as soon as possible of an assembly plant in Madrid to produce Chrysler cars.

accepted by the City Commission last night, D'Hondt's bid was listed as $9,200, only $70 lower than the second largest bid. Three bids were submitted for the job.

D'Hondt currently holds demolition contracts in both the R20 and R44 urban renewal projects.

The contract calls for demolition of most of the structures. A few will be moved. The city engineer's original cost estimate for the demolition was $12,000. The contract will be officially awarded at a future meeting.

APPRAISAL CONTRACT

In other business, commissioners okayed a $970 contract with Nichol and Harger Co., 53½ W. Huron, for appraisal of properties to be added to the R20 urban renewal project acquisition list.

There are some 20 homes involved. They are being added to the project as "hardship cases" which urban renewal officials feel are too costly to rehabilitate.

In another matter, commissioners voted unanimously against a proposal to sell a small parcel of urban renewal land to William and Marjorie Grace of 169 Whittemore.

The small lot lies adjacent to the Graces' home. They had offered $250 for it. Commissioners refused to sell it because it had been appraised at $300.

Town Fried in Own Fat

DAVENTRY, England (UPI)—A magistrate's court yesterday ordered the entire Daventry Town Council to stand trial on charges of allowing a local potato chip firm to pollute a river.

Dean Sets Episcopal Speech

John J. Weaver, dean of the Cathedral Church of St. Paul, will speak to the Episcopal Churchwomen of Christ Church, Cranbrook Tuesday morning.

Dean Weaver, a native of Dayton, Ohio, attended the Episcopal Theological Seminary in Cambridge, Mass.

As a member of the Inner City Group, composed of some 40 Episcopal clergymen, Dean Weaver appeared before the Tri-Episcopal Convention of the Episcopate and was instrumental in raising a $300,000 grant for experimentation in urban problems.

Dean Weaver has just returned from a five day study and conference in Mississippi.

To Shine Floors

When an asphalt tile floor won't shine after being waxed, incomplete rinsing may be the culprit.

Always follow suds-scrubbing with thorough rinsing, then let the floor get completely dry—both before and after waxing.

Card Party Set by Auxiliary

Metropolitan Club Auxiliary will hold a card party 8 p.m. Thursday at the Federal Savings and Loan of Oakland with door prizes and refreshments.

Mrs. David Gilpin is general chairman. Committee chairmen are Mrs. Ralph Dean, prizes; Mrs. John De Pauw, food; Mrs. Park Nique, door prizes; Mrs. Harold Wright, publicity; and Mrs. Evi Allen, candy.

Restaurateurs Tell Story

Teens Leave Big Mess

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN
DEAR ABBY: I am one waitress who always waits on teen-agers right away because I want to get rid of them. They are surly, and all they leave behind is a messy table.

DOESN'T LIKE TEENS

DEAR ABBY: Put me down as a waitress who enjoys waiting on teen-agers.

I find that, like any other minority group, they behave extra nice because they do not want to reflect unfavorably on the group they represent. Give me teen-agers any time!

LIKES TEEN AGERS

DEAR ABBY: My partner and I own a small diner near a high school. We had so much trouble with the kids stealing things and breaking up the place that we put a sign in our window. "We do not solicit teen-age business."

A committee of parents came in and told us we were breaking the law to discriminate that way. We took down the sign and invited a few of the committee to come in and switch through the kitchen door, which had a glass window in it.

After they saw what went on they told us to go ahead and put the sign back up.

PREFERS ADULTS

DEAR ABBY: For my part I hope I never have to wait on the teen-age crowd again.

For one year I waited on tables where a lot of teen-agers hung out and I have had enough of them, thank you.

They order a cup of coffee and expect you to keep it filled for an hour. They hold on to one booth no matter how many people are waiting to sit down.

And when they leave, their table and the floor around it are a disgrace. Dozens of paper napkins, cigarette butts and spilled sugar.

And they leave only an empty bottle of ketchup on the table.

SICK OF KIDS

DEAR ABBY: I don't mind having one or even two teen-agers in my drug store. But when three or more come in together, they spell trouble, and I never take my eye off them until they are out the door.

PROPRIETOR

DEAR ABBY: I run a hamburger joint and I couldn't stay in business without the kids I love them. There are good and bad, but I found out if you treat them right they will treat you right, too. So what if they do make a little noise!

I'd rather have them in here yelling and screaming than to have some old pussies who open their mouths only to complain about something.

Kids don't gripe if the service is a little slow. And I've never known a teen-ager to send anything back to the kitchen.

NO COMPLAINTS

DEAR ABBY: It is strange that when teen-agers come into my place during the day-time, dressed in Bermudas and jeans, they act rowdy and eat like pigs!

But these same teen-agers will come in at night, dressed up in suits and pretty dresses, and they behave like ladies and gentlemen.

I like to serve them in the evenings, but not during the day!

Drama Will Open Town Hall Series

Familiar portraits of seven historical characters, will step from their frames at the opening of the 10th anniversary of the Birmingham Town Hall series when Cornelia Otis Skinner presents her six-scene dramatic play, "The Wives of Henry VIII," which will be preceded by a group of original modern character sketches.

Miss Skinner will open the 10th anniversary series October 10 and 11 at the Birmingham Theatre at 11 a.m. She opened the first Birmingham Town Hall series in 1954. First performed in England, "The Wives of Henry VIII" was an instantaneous success and has remained popular as an item of Miss Skinner's repertory ever since.

PORTRAITS EACH

In it she portrays each of the six queens of that disturbed monarch.

In addition to her acting career, Miss Skinner is also an author. She recently co-starred with Cyril Ritchard in "The Pleasure of His Company," a play written by Samuel Taylor and herself.

Her current best seller is "Elegant Wills and Grand Horizons," a book about the blithe, frivolous world of Paris in the 1890s.

Following Miss Skinner in the Birmingham Town Hall series will be Dr. Max Lerner on November 7 and 8.

EXTENSIVE TOUR

Dr. Lerner, political analyst and columnist who is currently on an extensive tour abroad, will bring an up-to-date lecture on "America and World Politics."

Fr. Joseph Dustin and his combo will be featured December 12 and 13. Fr. Dustin intersperses his performance with comments on the banjo and the influence of jazz in our time.

January 9 and 10 will see a drama critic and director of stage, screen and TV, Joe Callaway, lecture on "Broadway Play by Play."

Pauline Fredericks, outstanding official reporter of John Review, will discuss "What Good is a Poem" February 20 and 21.

John Ciardi, editor of the Saturday Review, will discuss "What Good is a Poem" February 20 and 21.

Maybe you're the one cook who never has any leftovers; you cook just the right amount. Most of us have little dabs of this and that in the refrigerator most of the time.

Mrs. Robert Kleinhardt of Wall Lake considers leftovers a challenge. Here's what she does when cold boiled potatoes confront her.

THE K'S CASSEROLE

By Mrs. Robert Kleinhardt

6 medium boiled potatoes
1 can condensed cheddar cheese soup
1 can luncheon meat or corned beef
Six potatoes and meat. Mix potatoes with undiluted soup (save 2 tablespoons for topping) in casserole. Put slices of meat on top. Spread reserved soup. Bake 30 minutes at 350 degrees. Serves 3.

Grapes are now hanging ripe and fragrant on the vines. This is the season for making jelly and conserve and grape butter.

Some months ago Mrs. Orville Woodworth sent us a number of recipes suitable for this time of year. We're giving you her grape butter and her pickled beet recipes.

Many of the stalls at the farmers' market last Saturday had piles of fresh beets. Pickle some for serving on relish trays this winter.

GRAPE BUTTER
By Mrs. Orville Woodworth
5 cups Concord grapes
4 cups granulated sugar
Mix in large saucepan and simmer 20 minutes. Put through a sieve or food mill. Reheat, but do not boil. Seal in sterilized jars.

PICKLED BEETS
Sliced cooked beets
4 cups vinegar
2 cups granulated sugar
Boil vinegar and sugar 5 minutes. Fill 6 pint jars with sliced beets. Add 2 whole cloves to each jar. Pour hot liquid over beets. Seal at once.

Wash Away Creases for Fall Storage

If your toddlers have been wearing "expandable" duds, it's a good idea before storing these clothes for the winter, to rip the stitches that release more fabric where it will be needed.

Then wash these let-out fashions by machine, to remove those creases which you won't want next summer. That way, the clothes will be clean and ready to wear when warm weather comes again.

On Wedding Albums

Lesson in Economy

By POLLY CRAMER

DEAR POLLY — Our daughter's wedding had to be arranged on a very strict budget. For her album of wedding pictures, I covered a cloth-covered notebook with leftover pieces of her brocade wedding dress.

First a layer of old cotton flannel sheeting was put around the outside cover for padding. Pieces of the brocade were cut so they lapped generously over the outside to the inside and held in place with that popular, all-purpose, milky looking glue that dries clear.

As a finish, cardboard pieces, also covered with the dress fabric, were fitted to the inside of the covers and it concealed the raw edges that lapped over from the outside. We bought the usual acetate jacket cover for protection. Filler sheets were bought at an office supply store and the total cost was $3 in comparison to ones we saw that started at $12.

Old leather and suede jackets also make luxurious looking scrapbook covers. Rubber cement should be used to hold these instead of the glue.

MRS. F. M. K.

DEAR POLLY — When taking a group picture of small children who are not the least bit interested in having their picture taken, I have sometimes creep up behind me and pretend to be putting something on top of my head like a small toy dog or cat.

Immediately there are quiet children with smiling, expectant faces waiting to see my reaction. All my pictures are a success.

MRS. H. K. B.

DEAR POLLY — My husband thought up what we call a Hat Hanger. Take a wire coat hanger and cut off the hook and coil. Bend the wire portion into the shape of a U and loop each end so that it can be nailed to the inside of a closet door. A man's hat can be easily slipped into the loop so the wire supports the crown.

MRS. R. S.

DEAR POLLY — Instead of lining kitchen gadget drawers with paper, use turkish toweling. It will keep the gadgets from slipping to the back of the drawers when they are opened and closed.

They are certainly much easier to keep in order. The toweling can be laundered when soiled so it is a saving. Fasten the toweling at each corner with a thumb tack to keep it in place.

MRS. R. S. T.

Share your favorite homemaking ideas . . . send them to Polly in care of The Pontiac Press. You'll receive a bright, new silver dollar if Polly uses your ideas in Polly's Pointers.

Stop Shrinkage

It pays to take the time to launder and dry braid and fringe trimmings before stitching them to washable fabrics. This will prevent any shrinkage problems when laundering the finished items.

You Can't Force Child to Show Affection

By MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE
Dear Mrs. Lawrence: My fiancée is a widower, the father of a 3-year-old girl who lives with his sister. Though we are deeply in love, he says he can't set a marriage date until the child has accepted me.

Well, she hasn't done this. I have been as understanding as I can, sending her clothes I think she will like, even giving her a home permanent.

But she never calls me by my name and pushes past me to grab the seat next to her father in the car.

Sometimes I think I should call the whole thing off . . .

ANSWER: When you resent being pushed and prodded to gain this child's acceptance?

O. K. How do you think she likes being pushed and prodded to deliver it to you?

If you love this man, pull yourself and his child free of his anxious manipulations to compel your trust of each other. Stop putting her under obligation to you by buying her clothes.

Stop doing her favors that demand her recognition of your "understanding."

Relieve her of the need to assert her place in her father's life by asking her if she wants to sit next to him in the car, before she has a chance to grab the seat herself.

As I've hinted, her affection for him must be mixed with a good deal of resentment at this point. Why shouldn't it be?

The only parent she's got cannot leave her feelings alone, and is forcing the woman who may become her mother to pull and push at them, too.

It's a marvel to me that she's willing to ride with either of you in that car. A less lonely, less frightened little girl would refuse to.

She would find reasons to stay at home in preference to sitting squeezed between two grownups joined in the same anxious and selfish insistence on making her feel what she isn't ready to feel.

Before you call the whole thing off, I urge you to try to begin to make yourself real to this child — or you'll call it off with a most uncomfortable and depressing sense of failure.

At present you are not real to her. You're just an extension of papa's anxious impatience — a lady puppet who pushes at her for her acceptance as he pulls the strings.

What is needed here is your own identity. The moment you can separate yours from her father's, you will be given that name she now withholds from you.

The love you claim to feel for this man doesn't require you to see with his blinded eyes and feel with his anxious aggressive-ness.

Sorority Unit Hears Talk

The Elk's Sashay Quadrille Square Dance club held its annual picnic Sunday at the Farmington home of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Bond.

Guests were Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Walls and Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Hamilton. The first dance of the season will be Oct. 25 at the Elk's Temple.

Manicure Often

Never let a week pass by without filing your nails, soaking your hands in warm soapsuds, scrubbing them thoroughly with a well-lathered nail brush, and tending to the cuticles.

The sashed and longer pullover for the new season is in a vicuna-colored dress in the collection by Bruno. The fabric, soft as the color, is, doeskin.

Bath With Book Without Bother

Love to read in the tub, but hesitate for fear of damaging your books? A new device solves that problem by holding books or magazines while you enjoy a good soak in the soapsuds.

A long metal arm attached to a floor stand secures the material at eye level, and a tip-it arrangement turns the pages. This is one means to get both educated and clean simultaneously.

Red China Boasting Own Grandma Moses

TOKYO (UPI) — Communist China has come up with its own counterpart of Grandma Moses. But 62-year-old Kao Miao-Lan is a youngster compared to Anna Mary Robertson Moses, who died last year at 101.

Mrs. Kao, according to the New China News Agency, is an "elderly peasant woman" in East China who has "done more than 200 paintings since liberation." Like Grandma Moses, Mrs. Kao belongs to the "traditional school," according to New China.

Like Grandma Moses' Christmas cards, Mrs. Kao's paintings "breathe a freshness and gaiety characteristic of folk art."

And like Grandma Moses, Mrs. Kao is "bold in using color and her composition is strongly decorative."

Grandma Moses liked to paint down-on-the-farm scenes around

LATE IN LIFE
Both women started to paint late in life.

And now, according to New China, Mrs. Kao is well on her way to acquiring the kind of fame which came to Grandma Moses after her paintings were first discovered in a drug store in 1938.

Last July, Mrs. Kao held her first "one-man exhibition" in Hangchow and is now preparing for two "nation-wide art exhibitions to be held in July and October."

"More than 80 of her works have been reproduced by pictorial journals and newspapers," New China said. "Her 'Exploiting Treasure Mountain' was included in the 'Selection of Modern Chinese Paintings' published by the Shanghai People's Publishing House."

Grandma Moses was inspired by the beautiful New England countryside, Mrs. Kao, according to New China, by the "rapid changes taking place" under communism.

Russ Buys French Flour

PARIS (UPI)—Trade sources said today France has signed an agreement for the delivery of 80,000 tons of flour to the Soviet Union. No other details of the contract were reported.

Mystery Donor in County

Oakland County government has a new benefactor today.

Mysterious envelopes, each containing a one dollar bill, have been arriving at the county board of auditors.

So far, two of the packets have arrived by regular mail. The envelopes are simply addressed by typewriter:

Oakland County Courthouse
Pontiac, Michigan

The auditors are baffled, but hoping the dollar bills will continue to pour in from the mystery donor.

MISSING FUNDS

"Someone's conscience might be prompting the return of stolen funds, although we have no record of any missing money," said the board chairman, John Austin.

He said no efforts are being made to track down the mystery donor. "We don't want to scare off our angel," he added.

Austin said the dollar bills pose one problem, however. "We don't know which fund to put them in."

Plane Passengers OK; Forced Down in Cuba

MANAGUA, Nicaragua (UPI)—Passengers from the Costa Rican light plane forced down and seized in Cuba recently, arrived here last night.

Teodoro Picado Jr., son and namesake of an ousted Costa Rican ex-president who piloted the plane, is being held in Havana for questioning about possible participation in anti-Castro activities.

Nine of every 10 cars stolen in this country last year were left unlocked, reports Ray M. King, secretary of the National Automobile Theft Bureau.

Congo to Lose U. N. Forces?

Budget Issues Cause Talk of Withdrawal

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—Plans to keep a U.N. force in the Congo were endangered today as some Western powers balked at footing the major part of the bill if poorer countries demand a further cut in their share.

The General Assembly's budgetary committee scheduled debate this afternoon on proposals to raise $19.2 million, which Secretary-General U. Thant estimates is needed to keep a protective force of 5,350 men in the field until June 30.

"We are prepared to assume our share of the cost," a Western delegate said, "if it based on the formula developed at the special assembly last spring."

"But if there is any idea of raising the 55 per cent forgiveness for some smaller nations to 80 per cent, then we are going to have to reconsider our position."

The spring assembly authorized appropriation of $33 million to finance the force until Dec. 31. All nations were assessed on the basis of their regular U.N. assessments for the first $3 million, but 85 "economically less developed" nations were allowed to settle for 45 per cent of their normal rate on the $30 million balance.

With the Soviet bloc, France, Belgium and South Africa refusing to pay anything, this meant 17 nations had to make up the balance. The United States covered 37 per cent of that.

A number of African and Latin-American nations are pleading poverty and are hinting that they should pay only 20 per cent of their normal assessment rate toward the proposed additional cost.

"We won't listen to the poverty plea," said an American source. "Let them all come in and pay a fair share based on the formula agreed on last spring."

Los Angeles Intersection Is Covered With Boxes

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—A downtown intersection was boxed up yesterday when a truck overturned, spilling 37,000 paper cartons.

State Traffic Kills 1,302

EAST LANSING (UPI)—State police provisional reports today showed 1,302 persons died in traffic accidents this year through yesterday as compared with 1,177 in the same period last year.

Kentucky to Dedicate Statue of Alben Barkley

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP)—A bronze statue of former Vice President and U.S. Senator Alben W. Barkley will be dedicated Thursday in the state Capitol rotunda. Barkley's widow and his son, 20, hours.

David, of Paducah, Ky., will attend the unveiling of the 7-foot, 4-inch monument.

Florida Editor Expires

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Cleveland Van Dresser, 59, editor of the Palm Beach Post and Times editorial pages, died Monday. Van Dresser, who formerly worked for newspapers in Washington, D.C., before coming to Florida 15 years ago, was born in New York City.

Reds Waiting to Take Advantage of Italy's Deterioration

ROME (AP)—Italy is traveling a rocky road, both politically and economically. A resurgent Communist party is waiting patiently on the sidelines to take advantage of the situation.

For the present, the party and its experienced leaders seem content to watch deteriorating conditions and save their big guns—strikes and riots—for the future. With summer vacations over, the so-called stopgap government of Premier Giuseppe Leone has announced a semiausterity program, providing for cutbacks in government spending, reduction of imports, higher taxes on luxury items and other measures.

Said Leone in a recent speech: "We do not deny, or ignore, that current problems are heavy and serious." He went on to exhort the Italians not to lose faith in the government or the economy.

Italian politics was left in a turmoil by the 14-month, left-leaning Riforma. She was born in the Russian-Polish city of Bialystok and made her operatic debut in 1913.

Retired Opera Singer Expires After Illness

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Rosa Raisa, 70, internationally known dramatic soprano for many years, died Saturday after a long illness.

During the same 14 months, Italy's economic boom began to falter. Prices have been spiraling upward for months.

Some Italians, and foreign observers, blame circumstances as much as Fanfani for these price rises and other problems. Full employment, for the first time in Italy's history, and general prosperity have had inflationary effects.

Ex-Chief of Lawyers Expires After Stroke

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Carl B. Rix, 84, a former president of the American Bar Association and one of Milwaukee's most prominent attorneys, died Tuesday after suffering a stroke. Rix still was active in his practice and in the House of Delegates of the ABA, policy making body for the nation's lawyers.

BACKGROUND OF THE NEWS

SPECIAL REPORT

This has been going on during the same period in which U.S. stocks have reached record highs.

Other signs of the country's growing economic plight:

- A steady rise in the cost of living index.
- A flight of investment capital. Nobody has figures on this, but businessmen agree that capital is fleeing.

Negro Named Judge in District of Columbia

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Kennedy yesterday named a Negro civil rights leader to be a federal judge for the District of Columbia.

tious investors, both foreign and Italian, have been shifting capital out of the country.

Budget Minister Giuseppe Medici announced recently that Italy's balance of payments deficit reached 454 billion lire—$750 million—in 1963's first seven months.

Tourism will help offset this deficit, but there are signs this is beginning to slack off as a result of high prices.

New Senators Named for Iran Senate Seats

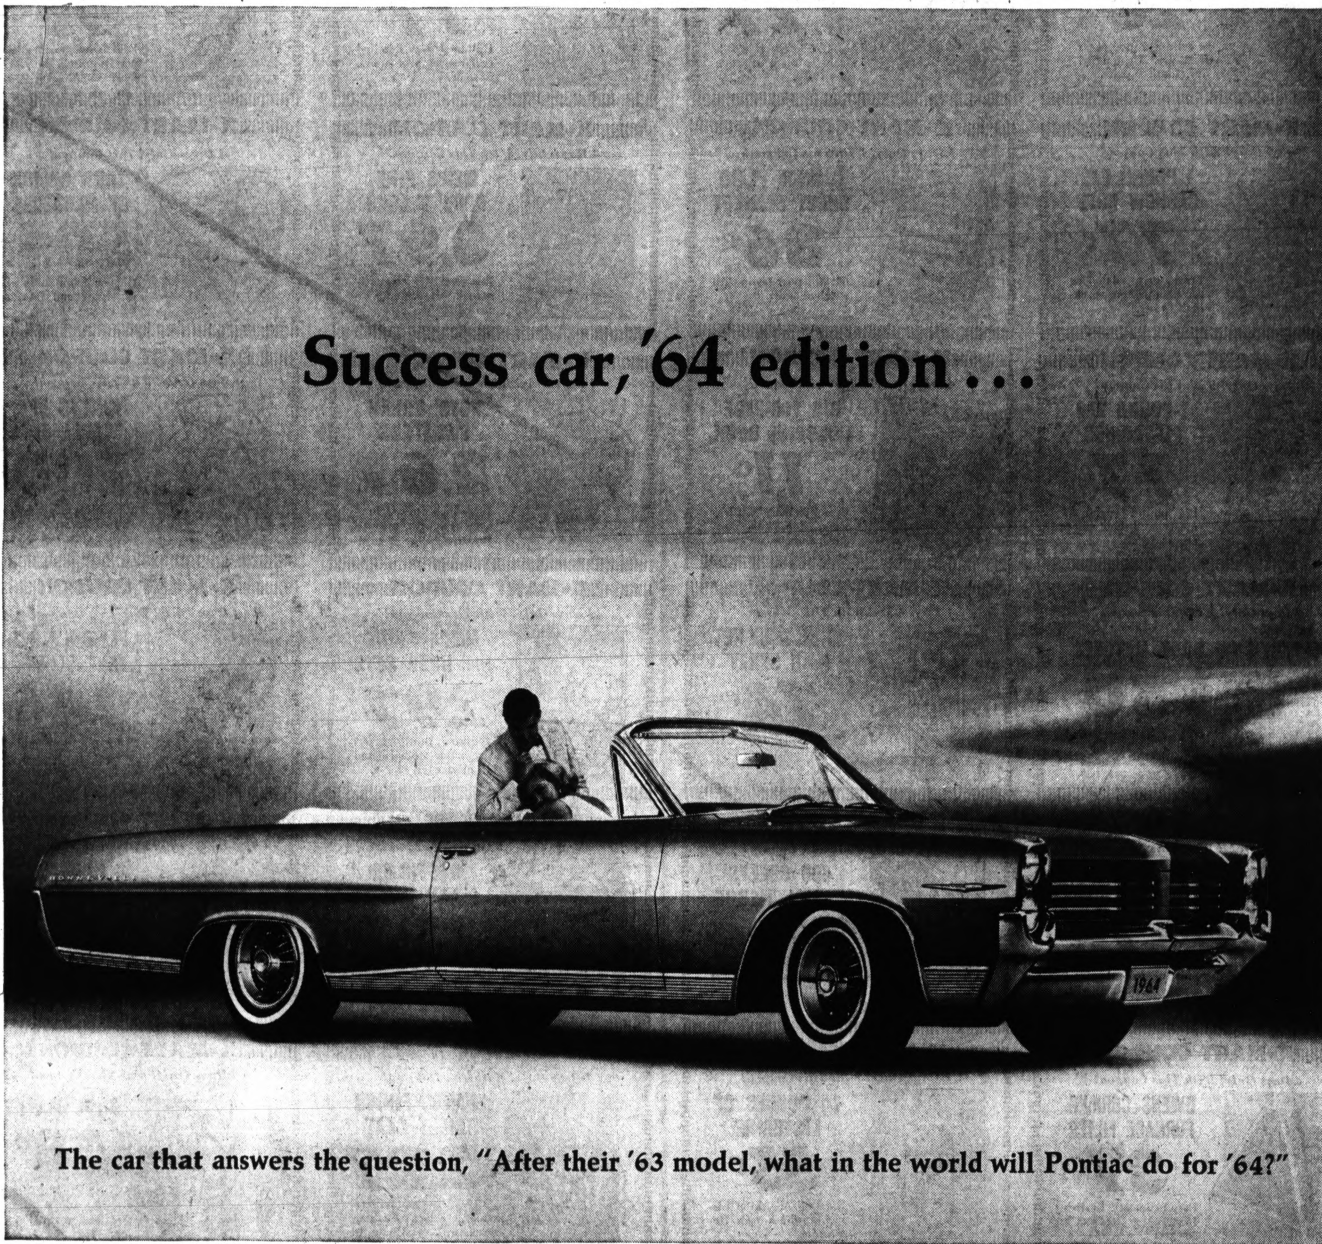

TEHRAN, Iran (UPI) — The Shah of Iran today appointed 30 new senators, including two women and the former premier, Hossein Ala.

It stands solidly behind veteran Palmiro Togliatti, undivided by the Chinese-Soviet feud, and ready to make the most of the growing crisis.

Success car, '64 edition...

The car that answers the question, "After their '63 model, what in the world will Pontiac do for '64?"

Let's face it: it wasn't easy coming up with a worthy successor to our super-successful '63. But we did it, as you can plainly see. Evidence? Trim new styling, with interiors just as clean and handsome as the exterior. A smoother, quieter ride—which is something we seem to deliver every year. Wide-Track for curve-straightening and 389 cubic inches worth of Trophy V-8 power in every model. All in all, every

'64 Pontiac looks and feels and acts like competitive cars wish they did and don't. Are we right in assuming you'd rather be down at your dealer's than sitting there reading? We thought so. Be our guest!

Unit Expanded in Alcohol Fight

The reorganization of Oakland County Alano Center, Inc., a non-profit corporation to aid alcoholics, was announced today.

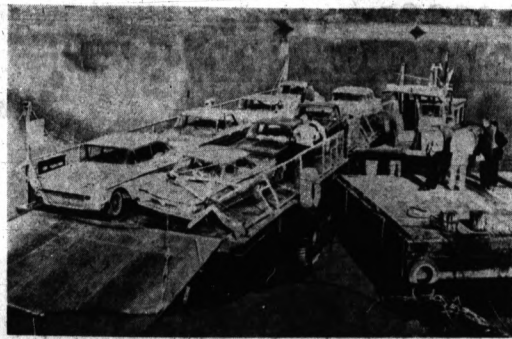

A major revision in the unit's charter now allows any person interested in assisting alcoholics to become a member.

Under the former constitution, Alano membership was open only to those connected with Alcoholics Anonymous.

The organization, which has 90 members, meets at 3 p.m. on the fourth Sunday of each month at its headquarters at 1143 Joslyn.

On the first Saturday of every month, dances are held there for members and their families at 9 p.m. Oct. 7 is the date of the next scheduled dance. Other activities are planned from time to time.

Russ OK Reactor Control

VIENNA, Austria (AP) — The charge d'affaires of one of the West and the Soviet bloc have joined in authorizing the International Atomic Energy Agency to begin a program of control over nuclear reactors in countries receiving aid from the agency.

Purpose of the inspection plan is to prevent nations from using nuclear plants developed with the agency's assistance from producing military materials.

The idea was approved by a 37-4 vote Tuesday at the concluding session of the agency's seventh general conference.

A senior U.S. official said it was the first time the Soviet Union had voted for the principle of international inspection.

COPENHAGEN, Denmark (AP) — A foreign diplomat was accused Tuesday night of procuring prostitutes at a price for guests of his embassy.

military strongman Chung Hee Park.

Although Chung's withdrawal leaves five opposition candidates, his action virtually turns the race into a two-man contest between former President Yun Po-sun and Park, chief of the junta that has ruled South Korea since 1961. Park retired as an army general to make the race.

French Port Crash Sinks Norway Ship

LeHAVRE, France (AP) — The 4,600-ton Norwegian freighter Ronda sank in port today after a collision with the 6,100-ton American freighter Lucille Bloomfield. The crew was rescued.

The American vessel was only slightly damaged and continued on her voyage to Antwerp. The Ronda was arriving from New York with 490 tons of merchandise. Circumstances of the collision were being investigated.

Jackie's Plane Stops in Rome on Way to Greece

ROME (AP) — Jacqueline Kennedy stopped for an hour at Rome's Leonardo da Vinci Airport today on her flight to Athens for a two-week holiday in Greece.

The TWA jetliner that brought the U.S. First Lady from New York was due in Athens at 3:30 p.m. (7:25 a.m. Pacific time.)

A special berth was set up for Mrs. Kennedy for the transatlantic flight. It was the first time TWA had provided a berth for a passenger on one of its superjets, which make the flight in about seven hours.

Officials said special permission had to be obtained from the Federal Agency (FAA) in Washington.

A stewardess said Mrs. Kennedy went to bed right after boarding the plane in New York and was not seen again by the seven other first-class passengers until breakfast time.

plus a whole new kind of Pontiac.

If you've been buying the same low-priced car time after time, get ready to break the habit.

And this is the habit-breaker—the '64 Pontiac Tempest. (If it were any more of a Pontiac, you couldn't tell it from our other one.) Anything new? Practically everything, that's all.

A thrifty new in-line 6 cylinder engine, a longer, roomier body topping a wider Wide-Track, bigger brakes, a smoother and quieter ride, precise new steering, a new frame and assorted mechanical marvels. There's even an extra-cost 4-speed gearbox for the 6 or extra-cost V-8's. And most of all, very, very handsome Pontiac-style styling, inside and out. There are nine new Tempest and Le Mans models for 1964. So now your only problem is, which one to choose? And that shouldn't be much of a problem, really. Not with your Pontiac dealer so willing to help.

Bank Thief Gets Term of 25 Years

DETROIT (AP) — The man who staged Michigan's largest bank robbery ever, and then gave himself up at the Arizona Mexico border, was sentenced to 25 years in prison yesterday.

William L. Maus, 28, robbed a Bank of Livonia branch of $153,000 last Jan. 29, several hours after he was declared bankrupt in federal court. He pleaded guilty to robbery last August.

Albert J. DeHette, 21, accused of taking some of the bank loot to care for Maus' wife and four children, received an indeterminate sentence for possessing stolen funds.

FBI agents recovered $130,000 of the Livonia bank loot.

Maus, who was a machine operator for 10 years before losing his job at the General Motors transmission plant in Livonia, told authorities he staged two other holdups before his record-breaking robbery.

He said he held up the Dearborn Branch of the National Bank of Detroit March 8, 1962, and escaped with $20,000. He fled with $700 from a Livonia loan company Jan. 16, 1963, he said.

U.S. District Court Judge Ralph E. Beaman stipulated that if the attorney general feels that he needs this authority, then I am willing to give it to him, provided that it is restricted to specific cases and is not used as a blunderbuss.

To Win GOP Nomination

Goldwater: 'Not Hedging Conservatism'

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Barry Goldwater said today those who contend he is hedging his conservatism to angle for the 1964 GOP presidential nomination have not listened to what he is saying.

Goldwater, Arizona Republican who is considered a front runner for a nomination he still insists he isn't seeking, said in an interview that he hasn't changed his position on any fundamental issue in recent speeches he has made in all sections of the country.

"Some of the people who are saying that I am modifying my conservative position just haven't been reading what I have been saying," he said.

"SOMETHING WRONG"

"Of course, I think there would be something wrong with any man in public life who didn't change some of his ideas to meet the developments of the time," he added. "Consistency is not necessarily a virtue. But I haven't changed my stand on any fundamental issue and I don't intend to."

About the only concrete example of a shift in position that Goldwater could think of off hand was his conversion to support of the Kennedy administration's proposal to clothe the attorney general with authority to file suits to enforce school integration.

"I opposed that in the past but if the attorney general feels that he needs this authority, then I am willing to give it to him, provided that it is restricted to specific cases and is not used as a blunderbuss."

But Goldwater said he continues to be opposed to the use of federal forces to enforce desegregation except as the President's authority in this field is outlined in the Constitution.

CAN SEND TROOPS

He said this means that the President can send troops where a governor or state legislature request them, to put down an insurrection or rebellion and to enforce a federal court's edict.

But he said he doesn't agree with the Kennedy administration contention that the federal government has authority to intervene in the absence of these constitutional provisions—to enforce the general civil rights of any individual.

Racketeer Cohen Gets New 'Home'

ATLANTA (UPI) — Mickey Cohen, who once bossed the California gambling rackets, has been transferred from the federal prison here to Missouri for further treatment of injuries he received when another convict attacked him six weeks ago.

David M. Heritage, warden at the prison, confirmed last night Cohen had been transferred to the medical center for federal prisoners at Springfield.

Heritage said Cohen, 49, had requested the prison not to release information on his condition, but the warden said Cohen was "not paralyzed."

He said Cohen was "doing as well as could be expected."

Police said the youths admitted breaking into five business places the night before the arrest at 3:10 a.m. while exchanging coins for bills at a service station at 382 Orchard Lake.

Charges against Gerald F. Strandall, 18, of 357 W. Huron were dropped because he already is in state prison on a burglary conviction.

The fifth was turned over to juvenile court authorities.

Thomas T. Tierman, 17, of 73 Stout, pleaded guilty to a Sept. 29 break-in of Ralph's Cities Service, 435 Auburn. He will be sentenced Oct. 29.

Larry W. Tyler, 21, of 357 W. Huron and David R. Charboneau, 19, of 19 Lincoln stood mute. Both were jailed to await trial when Tyler was unable to furnish $5,000 bond and Charboneau failed to furnish $500 bond.

Charges against Gerald F. Strandall, 18, of 357 W. Huron were dropped. Strandall last week was sentenced to 2 to 15 years in prison for his part in an April 29 burglary of the Coca-Cola Bottling Co., 85 N. Cass.

Michigan Men Get 18 Years in Baltimore

BALTIMORE (AP) — Two Michigan men were sentenced to 18 years in the Maryland penitentiary yesterday despite their pleas to be sent home to serve life sentences.

The sentencing judge indicated he would reconsider if Michigan were sure to keep the pair behind bars.

The men, Patrick G. Gregory, 28, of Detroit and Kenneth Lee Wesley, 36, of Jackson, both pleaded guilty to the $1,000 armed robbery of the St. Paul Pharmacy in North Baltimore last Aug. 1.

Judge Charles D. Harris, who imposed the sentences in criminal court, said he would consider suspending them "if we receive appropriate assurances from Michigan that you're not only wanted there, but that you are certain to serve a life term."

Both men are fugitives from Michigan.

Rocky Won't Take 2nd Place to Barry

BRUSSELS, Belgium (AP)—Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York said today he will not be Sen. Barry Goldwater's running mate if the Arizona senator gets the Republican presidential nomination.

Asked whether he would refuse the vice presidential nomination if the party chose Goldwater to head the ticket, Rockefeller replied:

"That is correct."

Rockefeller, near the end of a brief European tour with his second wife, paid an early morning visit today to Walter Hallstein, chief executive officer of the European Common Market.

Indians Stay Away From Chinese Party

NEW DELHI (AP)—Prime Minister Nehru and all other top Indian officials boycotted the Chinese Embassy's party Tuesday celebrating the 14th anniversary of the Communist take-over.

The Chinese sent out over 5,000 invitations, but only a handful of persons showed up. The rest were showing their anger over Chinese attacks on the border.

Nikita: High in Power, Low in Luck

An AP News Analysis
By PRESTON GROVER
MOSCOW (AP) — Premier Khrushchev, well along in his 70th year, finds himself today probably at the peak of his power and at the bottom of his luck.

Two major catastrophes in one year would mean the end of a chief executive in many another country.

He has seen his cherished Communist camp break in two, with the biggest population on the other side.

He is faced with perhaps the worst crop year in his Soviet Union since World War II, despite glowing promises that things were getting better and the outlook was secure.

Soviet readers knew today how bad their wheat crop was. Khrushchev told them in a speech published five days after it was delivered.

For the first time, he told his people he had to buy 6.8 million tons of wheat from Canada and another 1.8 million tons from Australia. He didn't say how much it had cost in that Soviet commodity even more scarce than wheat—foreign money. But abroad it was calculated at more than $500 million, and probably nearer $700 million.

Tons of Soviet gold have been dumped on the Western market to raise the money. Those details were not published here.

'Russians Must Economize'

K Tells of Grain Failure

MOSCOW (UPI) — Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev frankly told the nation yesterday about the extent of this year's harvest failure, but assured his citizens they will have enough bread this winter if they do not waste it.

"On the condition that we economize on bread, we will have enough to normally supply the population," he said in a Sept. 26 speech published for the first time yesterday in Izvestia, the government newspaper.

"If we spend break thriftily," he added, "the available resources will be sufficient for the normal supply of the population."

Some speculation that this meant Khrushchev was turning down further grain deals with the West, including a $300-million purchase from the United States, was rejected by authoritative sources here.

TELLS OF PURCHASES

In disclosing for the first time

That the two crises have caused much head-shaking among the Soviet people can be surmised from the amount of press effort expended to defend the government's position.

BLAME CHINA

Daily articles blame the Chinese for the break in the Communist camp. The shock is felt throughout the country. It traces back to a greater shock, the denunciation of Stalin. That shock is still felt here, and is still reflected in the press and in speeches by party leaders.

Out of destitution grew the Chinese crisis that clearly has shaken the confidence of many a Soviet citizen who had been led to believe that Soviet Communist party leadership was always right. The Chinese have said it isn't all right, and these accusations have been published in the Soviet press because they could hardly be hidden any longer.

Then came the wheat crisis. Just how bad it is may not be known for some time. In his speech Khrushchev went to great pains to explain that it was dirty weather that did it—a bad winter, followed by a late spring and a dry summer.

He told what remedies had been decided upon—a massive increase in fertilizer production and more money spent on irrigation. To Soviet citizens long waiting for more money to be spent on a better life, the revelation of a cruel crop shortage comes as a painful shock.

In addition to the grain that has to be bought, the premier said another three or four billion rubles must be spent building fertilizer plants during the next several years.

A report is going about that an increase in the price of bread may come next. In the Soviet Union bread is half of each meal. A price boost won't go down well.

Freeman to Visit Dutch

to Talk on Farm Trade

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Agriculture Secretary Orville L. Freeman will go to Amsterdam next month in an effort to spur increased farm commodity trade with Western Europe.

His aides said yesterday that Freeman would be in the Dutch city Nov. 14 and Nov. 15 to speak at a European-American symposium on agricultural trade. Freeman will go to Rome Nov. 18 or Nov. 19 to attend a meeting of the U.N. Food and Agriculture Organization.

British Planes Fly Malaysia Evacuation

KUALA LUMPUR, Malaysia (UPI) — Britain sent four Royal Air Force planes to Jakarta today to remove 160 women and children of 10 nationalities amid reports of new clashes between Indonesia and the British-backed federation of Malaysia.

The women and children, dependents of Shell Oil Co. employees in Indonesian Borneo, were rounded up by British Consul Dr. Grace Thornton in an operation that began at dawn last Saturday.

British Ambassador to Indonesia Andrew Gilchrist said it was "one of the most difficult jobs any foreign service woman has been assigned." Embassy spokesmen described her as the heroine of the evacuation.

The evacuees included English-

Cityhood Group Sponsors Panel

"The Home and Home Rule City" will be discussed by a panel at tonight's public meeting sponsored by the Waterford Citizens Action Committee for Incorporation (WCAC).

Designed to provide information on the proposal to incorporate the township as a city, the meeting is slated for 8 p.m. at St. Benedict Church basement, West Huron and Voorhees.

WCAC chairman Dr. John Naz will moderate the discussion. Panelists will include Mrs. Donald Ryden, Frank Richardson and Calvin Patterson.

Mrs. Ryden is a former city clerk of Walied Lake and also has been associated with the Birmingham municipal government.

SERVED AS MEMBER

Patterson, an attorney, served as a member of the township's incorporation study committee and Richardson, former president of the township Junior Chamber of Commerce and state Jaycee officer, is WCAC publicity chairman.

Voters will decide the cityhood issue in a special election Nov. 5.

Expect Funds From Jokester

DALLAS (AP) — Comedian Bob Hope is expected to disclose a $1-million gift to Southern Methodist University while visiting the school this weekend, the Dallas News reported today.

It said the money would finance a Bob Hope Theater to provide facilities for study and training in all phases of the performing arts. The theater would be part of an art center already under construction.

Hope is due here Saturday for the SMU-Air Force football game and will appear in a show that night on the SMU campus.

Town Officials Go to Denver

Planner Heads Group
at Renewal Confab

James L. Bates, Pontiac planning and urban renewal director, is participating in the 29th annual conference of the National Association of Housing and Redevelopment Officers in Denver, Colo.

As a result of Pontiac's urban renewal home remodeling workshop conducted under his direction last year, Bates was named to a panel of nationally recognized community organization experts to discuss the subject, "Citizen Participation in Urban Renewal Decision-Making."

The conference opened Sunday and closes tomorrow.

Bates is one of seven local officials representing Pontiac.

Others are City Commissioner Dick M. Kirby; E. Eugene Russell, chairman of the Civic Improvement Advisory Committee; Roy B. MacKee, Pontiac Housing Commission executive director; Vernon M. Page and Karl A. Walter, housing commissioners; and Daniel B. Skeen, assistant urban renewal director.

Add New Recipes to Old Ones for Stuffed Cabbage

Cabbage rolls like mamma maken may be any of a dozen different kinds depending on mamma's background.

Some food historians say that stuffed cabbage rolls date back to Greek Dolmades which are stuffed grape leaves. In time, cabbage leaves replaced the grape leaves and became popular throughout South and Central Europe, and eventually all over the world.

The Russians call stuffed cabbage leaves Golubtsi, a word that means pigeons, perhaps because the rolls themselves are rounded or pigeon shaped.

In Sweden they are called Kaldolmar, which means cabbage clocks. It is said that the Swedes borrowed the dish from the Russians who in turn got it from the Turks.

Whatever you call them and however you make them, this is an ideal time of the year for light hearted cabbage rolls made with fresh new cabbage.

Rice Stuffed Cabbage Rolls
1 (2½ to 3-pound) head cabbage
1-3 cup margarine
1 cup finely chopped onion

3 cups cooked rice (do not use quick cooking variety)
2 eggs, slightly beaten
½ cup seedless raisins (optional)
1 teaspoon salt
¼ to ½ tablespoons Mazola margarine
½ cup finely chopped onion
2 (8-ounce) cans tomato sauce
¾ cup water

2 tomatoes, peeled and cut into large pieces.

Discard outer leaves of cabbage; remove core. Hold head under cold running water and gently remove 12 large leaves. (Allow water to run between leaf and head for easy removal).

Put leaves and remainder of head into 2 to 3 inches boiling salted water in kettle. Cover and cook until almost tender, about 7 minutes. Drain and cool.

Melt 1-3 cup margarine in small skillet. Add 1 cup chopped onion; cook over low heat, stirring frequently, until tender. Combine rice, eggs, raisins, salt, pepper and onion-margarine mixture in large bowl.

Chop remainder of cabbage head (will get about 4 cups); toss with rice mixture. Place about ½ cup mixture at stem end of each cabbage leaf. Fold stem end over filling; fold sides over and roll up. Fasten with wooden picks if necessary.

Melt about 4 tablespoons margarine in large skillet. Add several cabbage rolls and cook over medium-low heat, turning as needed, until lightly browned on all sides. Repeat with remaining rolls, adding additional margarine if needed.

When last cabbage rolls have been browned and removed from skillet, add ½ cup chopped onion to mixture in skillet and cook over low heat, stirring frequently, until tender. Stir in tomato sauce, water and tomatoes.

USE DUTCH OVEN

Add cabbage rolls or put rolls and sauce into Dutch oven; cover. Bring sauce to boil; reduce heat and simmer until cabbage veins are tender, about 1 to 1½ hours. Makes 12 rolls.

Kasha Stuffed Cabbage Rolls
Prepare cabbage as directed for Rice Stuffed Cabbage Rolls, cooking 12 leaves and about ¼ of the remainder of head (will need 1 cup finely chopped, cooked cabbage).

Using large skillet, cook 1 cup chopped onion in 1-3 cup margarine until tender. Combine 2 slightly beaten eggs, 1½ cups groats, 1 teaspoon salt and ¼ teaspoon pepper; stir into onion mixture, then pour in 3 cups boiling water.

Cover; cook over low heat until all liquid is absorbed, about 15 minutes. Turn into large mixing bowl and fluff with fork. Mix in 1 cup chopped cooked cabbage and ½ cup raisins.

Place mixture on cabbage leaves and continue as directed for Rice Stuffed version.

Note: 2 (2-pound) heads cabbage may be used if needed to obtain 12 large leaves; cook and chop enough of remainder for desired filling.

It's the Shell Game

Ever broil shrimp with shells on? Bring plenty of melted butter to the table and let eaters shell and dunk! Have lots of paper napkins on hand and, if you like, serve the shrimp on paper plates.

Nothing Ordinary in This Recipe Amateurs Can Enjoy Gardens

Delight your guests with these surprising meatball hors d'oeuvres. They appear to be just tiny meatballs simmered in a little liquid, but one bite will disclose an exciting difference. The ground meat, combined with zesty deviled ham, is molded around small pieces of blue cheese, then simmered in the surprise liquid—a flavorful sherry.

Small glasses of dry sherry served along with these hors d'oeuvres are an excellent prelude to dinner. For a large party, the sherry is available in economical half or full gallons.

Surprise Meatballs

1 (4½-oz.) can deviled ham

1 egg
¼ cup dry bread crumbs
¼ pound blue cheese, coarsely crumbled
2 tablespoons olive oil or other shortening
1-3 cup sherry

Mix ground beef, deviled ham, egg and bread crumbs thoroughly. Form into small balls about the size of a walnut. Push a small piece of cheese into the center of each ball, being careful to cover it completely with the next mixture.

Brown balls lightly in shortening over moderate heat; add sherry and simmer for five minutes more, stirring gently. Serve hot on cocktail picks for an hors d'oeuvre. Makes about 80.

Pineapple 'n' Cranberry

Add drained crushed pineapple to ready-prepared whole cranberry sauce and serve with poultry or meat. Good way to stretch the cranberry sauce when unexpected company comes.

Conclave Recipes Really New

By JANET ODELL

Pontiac Press Food Editor

You're reading these recipes in Pontiac and your food editor has been eating the food at Food Editors' Conference in Chicago. This is the halfway point of the conference.

Most of the recipes have been developed specially for this week. They are the last word.

Take for instance, the ham served at one of our breakfasts. It was one of the new canned smoked hams given an interesting touch with a crunchy topping. Don't limit its use to breakfast.

Honey Crunch Ham

1/4 cup honey
2 tablespoons lemon juice
1/2 cup chopped nuts
1/4 cup crushed cornflakes

Bake ham according to instructions on can. One half hour before cooking time is completed, spread mixture of remaining ingredients over ham. Makes 10 servings.

Definitely on the glamor side is a cocktail omelette. This unusual first course can be served in the living room. But beware, it's expensive!

Cocktail Omelette with Caviar

3 tablespoons sour cream
Salt
8 ounces red caviar
1 pint sour cream
Chives

Beat eggs with sour cream and salt to taste. Heat a 5-inch frying pan, brush with melted butter, and pour in enough egg batter to cover pan generously. Cook like an omelette, pulling the cooked portion into the center. When the omelette is not runny, but still creamy and moist, roll it quickly and transfer to a plate to keep warm.

Repeat to make 6 tiny omelettes. Serve with mounds of red caviar and sour cream sprinkled with chives.

At the opposite end of the price scale is a new spaghetti dish. Made with a spaghetti sauce mix, it is the sort of thing you'll serve to a bunch of teen agers.

For dessert give them cookies that make them feel like "big wheels."

Spaghetti-Beef Hub-

4 cubed steaks (1 1/4 lbs.)
1 teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons shortening
2 cups water
1 can (4 oz.) sliced mushrooms
1 can (6 oz.) tomato paste
1 envelope spaghetti sauce mix
3/4 pound uncooked spaghetti
1 bay leaf
1 tablespoon butter
8 scallions for garnish

Cut steak pieces into 2-inch squares. Sprinkle with salt. Lightly brown in hot shortening. When browned add 1/2 cup of the water; cover; cook over low heat 10 minutes.

Add remaining water, mushrooms with liquid, tomato paste, and spaghetti sauce mix. Blend together. Bring to a boil; reduce heat and simmer 5 to 10 minutes.

Meanwhile cook spaghetti in boiling salted water with bay leaf added. Cook 8 or 10 minutes or as package directs. Drain. Remove bay leaf. Add butter.

Circle a large chop plate with spaghetti. Center with beef in sauce. Garnish with scallions, spoke fashion. Sprinkle with Parmesan cheese if desired. 6 generous servings.

Ginger Carr Wheels

1 cup dark molasses
1 cup brown sugar, firmly packed
1 cup vegetable shortening
1 egg, well beaten
5/8 cups sifted flour
1 teaspoon baking powder
1 teaspoon baking soda
1 teaspoon ginger
1 teaspoon cinnamon
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon nutmeg

Combine molasses, sugar and shortening in a saucepan. Bring to a boil, stirring constantly. When shortening is melted and all is thoroughly blended, remove from heat and cool. Then add egg.

Meanwhile sift and measure flour; sift again with soda, ginger, cinnamon, salt, and nutmeg. Add to molasses-shortening mixture. Chill an hour or two.

Roll 1/4 portion at a time; roll to thickness of about 1/4-inch. Cut big rounds with top of coffee tin or other large cutter. Place on greased baking sheet an inch or more apart. Bake in a 375 degree oven, 8 to 10 minutes.

Remove from pan and cool on rack. When cool, frost. Use a cake decorator and tube to fashion outline of wheel on cookie.

Frosting

Blend together until smooth 3 cups sifted confectioners' sugar, 2 tablespoons vegetable shortening, 1 teaspoon vanilla and 4 to 5 tablespoons warm water or as needed for mixture of right consistency. Yield: 2 1/2 dozen cookies (4 1/2 inches in diameter).

Toasting Necessary

Toasting sesame seeds brings out their flavor. Just spread out 1/4 cup of the seeds in a pie plate and brown, stirring or shaking plate a few times, in a slow (325 degrees) oven.

YOU MAY HAVE PIN-WORMS AND NOT KNOW IT

Frightening, nose-itching, a tormenting itchy skin are often telltale signs of Pin-Worms. Only parasites that medical experts may find 1 out of every 8 persons examined. Entire families may be victims and not know it. To get rid of Pin-Worms, they must be killed in the large intestine where they live and multiply. That's exactly what Jayne's P-W Tablets do... and here's how they do it: First—a scientific coating carries the tablets into the bowels before they dissolve. Then—Jayne's modern, medically-approved ingredient goes right to work—kills Pin-Worms quickly and safely.

Don't take chances with dangerous, highly contagious Pin-Worms, which infect entire families. Get Jayne's P-W Vermifuge. Small, easy-to-take tablets... special sizes for children and adults.

BIG WHEEL — For that celebration dinner party when your teen has obtained his license to drive, make him feel like a big wheel and let him act as host. Serve this spaghetti-beef hub with lots of crispy relishes and ginger carrots for dessert.

Prune Whip Made Swiftly

A perennial family favorite is prune whip. This simple version, developed with processed prunes and whipped instant nonfat dry milk crystals, eliminates most of the work but none of the flavor and nourishment of this fine dessert.

To make 4 servings: Mix 1 cup instant crystals with 3 chilled jars (4 1/2 ounces each) strained prunes. Whip until soft peaks form (3 to 4 minutes). Add 1/4 cup lemon juice. Continue whipping until stiff peaks form (3 to 4 minutes longer).

Gradually add 2 tablespoons sugar and 1/2 teaspoon grated lemon rind. Turn into serving dishes. Chill.

Heat in a Bag

This old trick may be new to beginning cooks: heat leftover rolls by putting them in a paper bag, twisting the top closed, and leaving them in a hot oven for about 10 minutes.

Coffee Adds Nice Touch to Pudding

You'll appreciate this chocolate pudding with its special flavor.

Mabel Mercer's Chocolate Pudding

1 package (8 ounces) chocolate pudding and fat filling 1 teaspoon instant coffee
Milk
1 teaspoon grated orange rind

Stir the instant coffee into the dry chocolate pudding mix. Make up, using the necessary amount of milk, according to package directions; stir in grated orange rind. Turn into individual serving dishes. Cover and cool; chill. Makes 4 servings. Nice topped with whipped cream.

Prevent Skin Breaks

One way to keep apple skins from bursting when the fruit is baked is to cut a slit in the skin all the way around the apples at right angles to the core.

Frozen Shrimp Cocktail Is Easiest Made in Blender

A new kind of shrimp cocktail which really sharpens the appetite is half frozen like a frappe, as fresh tasting as a tomato, and as inviting as a glass of wine. No wonder it starts a meal with distinction.

The easiest way to make this Tomato Shrimp Frost is to start with the canned consommé that is flavored with tomato—consommé Madriene is labeled. If plain consommé is used, add a little extra tomato paste. This is a recipe for the blender.

Rose, the popular pink dinner wine produced in California, is exactly right in body, lightness and flavor to complement the other ingredients in this delicate first course.

Such a cocktail should be served dramatically in stemmed sherbet glasses or all-purpose wine glasses. Top each cocktail with a whole shrimp and serve with a lemon wedge.

Tomato Shrimp Frost

1 (12 1/2-oz.) can consommé Madriene
6 medium-sized cooked shrimp
1/4 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
1/4 cup tomato juice
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup California Rose wine
Shrimp and lemon wedges for garnish

Measure consommé, shrimp and Worcestershire sauce into a blender. Cover and blend well at high speed. Add tomato juice, salt and wine. Pour into refrigerator tray.

Place in freezing compartment with controls set high. Stir several times while mixture is freezing. When almost firm whip with a rotary beater.

Spoon into sherbet or all-purpose wine glasses. Garnish each serving with a cooked shrimp and lemon wedge. Serve at once.

Veal Paprikash, a noteworthy main entrée originating in Hungary, elegantly joins veal cubes, sausage, paprika, onion and green pepper in a delicious sour cream sauce.

12 Hopefuls Tell Views in Waterford

An even dozen of the 22 candidates for Waterford Township's charter commission spoke briefly at last night's meeting of the Greater Waterford Community Council, (GWCC).

Two other candidates who could not be present submitted statements on their candidacy.

The regular monthly GWCC meeting also featured a talk by attorney Calvin E. Patterson on issues in the Nov. 5 cityhood election and a discussion of the Oct. 7 school millage election by school board member Norman Cheal.

Patterson compared the township and city forms of government and pointed out many similarities in the two.
He also stressed the ever-present threat of annexation facing an unincorporated area and pointed out that a city holds an advantage over a township in the area of borrowing funds.

Cheal stressed the point that the special school election issue by Crystal Lake, the witnesses to

Man Sought in Shooting

Pontiac Resident, 40, Linked to Gunning

A Pontiac man was being sought by police today in connection with the shooting of a Detroit early this morning.

The object of the search is Willie Clay, 40, of 34 Iowa.

Clay has been identified by witnesses as the one who shot John Wolkerson Jr., 29, five times in a Pontiac home at 1 a.m.

Wolkerson is in fair condition at Pontiac General Hospital with wounds in the chest, side and arm.

Eugene Jones, 16, told Pontiac police that Wolkerson was asked to leave the home of Jones' aunt, Christine Jones, 36, at 33 Iowa. The youth said Clay pulled a gun and fired until it clicked empty.

Police said the weapon was a 22-caliber pistol. Three bullets held in the 8-round pistol went astray in the house, according to police.

Clay fled immediately after the shooting in the direction of near-by Crystal Lake, the witnesses told police.

Arraignment Faces Trio in Area Break-In

Two men and a woman charged with breaking into a Waterford Township drug store Sept. 23, will be arraigned Monday in Circuit Court.

The three were bound over to the higher court after a preliminary examination yesterday before Waterford Township Justice John E. McGrath on charges of safe burglary and breaking and entering in the night time.

Held in the Oakland County Jail awaiting arraignment are John Gipson, 39, of 241 W. Wilson; Joseph Johnson, 28, of 449½ Highland; and Sarah Amps, 32, of 330 Franklin.

Bond of $2,500 was set for Gipson and Johnson, and $1,000 bond was established for Mrs. Amps.

Gipson's son and daughter, both juveniles, were in the car with the three adults when police made the arrest. They are held in the Oakland County Jail while home pending a court hearing Oct. 26.

Police said $27.50 in cash and about $200 in merchandise was stolen from Thrifty Drugs, 408½ Dixie, and an unsuccessful attempt was made to open the safe.

Royal Oak Man Is Sentenced

A Royal Oak man who told police he became a bandit in order to make his support payments was sentenced yesterday to 7 to 20 years in prison for armed robbery of a Southfield market.

R. J. Brook, 27, of 2343 Garden was sentenced by Circuit Court Judge Frederick C. Ziem. Brook's brother - in - law, Curtis Hazel Park, who admitted helping in the robbery, was given a 1½ to 15-year term.

Brook pleaded guilty Sept. 11 to armed robbery. McTurner pleaded guilty to unarmed robbery.

They were accused of the May 13 holdup of the Hayes Market, 22580 Telegraph.

Police said Brook admitted holding up several retail stores in a three-county area during a period of several weeks, netting some $2,500.

He told police he was behind in support payments to his former wife and two children.

McTurner said he helped Brook catch up on his payments, but never shared in the loot.

Wheelbarrows with broad wheels or pneumatic tires are recommended for gardeners to prevent damage to the lawn.

County Resident Jailed for Knifing Man in Squabble

A 3½ to 4-year prison term was ordered yesterday for a 24-year-old White Lake Township man who pleaded guilty Sept. 11 to felonious assault in the stabbing of an Independence Township man during an argument Aug. 14.

Spencer Padgett of 9350 Highland was sentenced by Circuit Court Judge Frederick C. Ziem.

Padgett had been charged with assault with intent to murder in the knifing of Marion B. Terry, 22, but was permitted to plead guilty to the lesser charge.

Padgett has a record of previous felony and misdemeanor convictions. He was on parole from the state prison at Jackson when the stabbing incident occurred outside a home at 1016 Kettering where a party was in progress.

Teen-Agers Get Jail for Taking Automobile

Two Pontiac teen-agers were sentenced yesterday to 15 days in jail and three-years' probation for unlawfully taking and using a car parked at the Glenwood Plaza Shopping Center May 18.
David Couture, 17, of 75 Court, and Ricardo Martinez, 18, of 253 E. Wilson, also were ordered by Circuit Court Judge Frederick C. Ziem to pay $100 costs each. The two youths pleaded guilty Sept. 5.

In GM Tax Advance

School District to Get $1 Million

The Pontiac School District will receive a $1-million advance on school taxes from the General Motors Corp., Supt. Dana P. Whitmer said today.

Whitmer said GM had notified him of the tax advance. The advance is necessitated by the late collection of taxes this year due to appeals of assessed valuation.

Whitmer said the money would be used to meet two $400,000 payrolls this month. The school district did not expect to start receiving tax monies until early next month.

This is the first time in at least nine years that the school district has had to seek an advance on taxes.

GLAZED COFFEE RING

(A Robin Hood Pre-sifted Flour recipe)

½ cup GRAPE-NUTS ½ cup shortening
2 tbs. hot water ½ cup milk
1½ cups ROBIN HOOD All-Purpose Flour ¼ cup brown sugar, firmly packed
2 tbs. sugar 2 tbs. soft butter
3 tbs. baking powder 2 tbs. salt
1 tsp. salt ½ tsp. cinnamon

SPRINKLE ... Grape-Nuts with hot water in small bowl. Stir and set aside while preparing dough.

SPOON ... flour (not sifted) into dry measuring cup. Level off and pour measured flour into mixing bowl.

ADD ... sugar, baking powder, salt and mace to flour (not sifted) and stir well to blend.

CUT IN ... shortening with pastry blender until mixture looks like coarse meal.

TURN OUT ... onto lightly floured cloth-covered board and knead 20 times.

ROLL ... dough to a 7x16-inch rectangle, ½ inch thick.

COMBINE ... softened Grape-Nuts, brown sugar, butter and cinnamon and spread on dough.

ROLL UP ... lengthwise. Seal edges and place sealed-side down in a circle on greased baking sheet. Seal ends together.

CUT ... ½ of way into ring with scissors at 1-inch intervals. Twist each section on its side.

BAKE ... at 425° for 15-20 minutes. FROST ... while warm with powdered sugar icing and garnish with cherries, if desired.

SERVE ... WARM with butter.
If you use ROBIN HOOD Pre-sifted All-Rising Flour (sold in some sections of the country) omit baking powder and salt.

Albert Dimes offers

7¢ off on Tetley Tea and an exciting new way to enjoy it!

"Liven up your autumn afternoons with piping hot mugs of Honey-Spice Tetley Tea," suggests the Tetley Tea Taster.

"A nip in the air, a touch of color in leaves—perfect weather for an autumn get-together. Perfect weather for Tetley Tea, too," says Albert Dimes. "Tetley Tea is a marvelous year-round beverage—delicious hot or iced, plain or 'fancied-up.' That's because Tetley Tea is the one tea with that tiny little tea leaf flavor!"

It takes tiny little tea leaves from over twenty-two tea plantations to make the full-bodied Tetley blend. It's these tiny little tea leaves that give Tetley Tea its rich, amber color—its deep, comforting flavor.

Enjoy Tetley Tea every day and, for bright variety try this tangy fall favorite—Honey-Spice Tetley Tea. And take advantage of the money-saving coupon above.

Albert Dimes, the Tetley Tea Taster, treats his neighbors to steaming mugs of Honey-Spice Tetley Tea.

Honey-Spice Tetley Tea

4 tablespoons loose Tetley Tea (or 12 Tetley Tea bags or 12 level teaspoons Tetley Instant Tea) 2 quarts water
½ teaspoon whole cloves ½ cup honey
1 cup orange juice ½ cup lemon juice

Combine tea and cloves in mixing bowl. Bring water to a full rolling boil. Pour half of water over tea mixture. Cover; brew 3-5 minutes (omit this step if using Tetley Instant Tea). Strain tea into teapot. Add remaining water. Add honey and fruit juices. Serve hot immediately in mugs or cups. Makes about 10-12 servings.

Reds Stopped in Venezuela

Officer Halts Attack on U.S. Information Unit

CARACAS (UPI) — A fast-shooting policeman broke up a Castro-Communist attack on the U.S. Information Service branch in Maracaibo yesterday — the first Red reaction to the government crackdown Monday on its leftist foes.

The policeman wound two of three terrorist gunmen who tried to shoot their way into "American house," the USIS building in the oil capital. The policeman was seriously wounded, but the attack failed.

One, seriously wounded attacker, captured by police, was identified as a student from Caracas' Central University, one of the nation's principal centers of terrorism. The other two gunmen escaped.

The government flew two plane-loads of paratroopers into Caracas late yesterday to reinforce the city's garrison against "any possible Castro-Communist counter-attacks," but there was no immediate outbreak of violence in the capital.

The only terrorist act reported yesterday, apart from the frustrated attack in Maracaibo, was the dynamiting of a power station in the northwest coastal city of Coro. Police arrested a known Communist in connection with the bombing.

A search of the suspected dynamiter's home uncovered another bomb of the type used to blow up the power station.

The interior (police) ministry announced last night that Monday's roundup netted 150 Communist "activists" — 63 here and 87 elsewhere in the country — and "large quantities of subversive materials."

Bolivian President to Bid Tito Goodbye

COCHABAMBA, Bolivia — President Victor Paz Estenssoro returns here today to take part in ceremonies winding up Yugoslav President Tito's visit to Bolivia.

The two men will sign a joint communique expressing their views on international affairs.

Trade agreements covering an $8 million exchange of goods also will be signed.

Paz flew to La Paz yesterday to celebrate his 57th birthday. Tito did not accompany him because he had been advised not to visit the two-mile-high de facto capital of Bolivia for reasons of health.

Man Over Machine

LONDON (UPI) — Two men in a crowd watching a demonstration of a money-checking machine at an efficiency exhibition yesterday made off with 100 pounds ($280) in notes which were in the process of being checked.

On 'Empty' Grave

Remove Headstone

BERLIN (UPI) — The headstone over the empty grave reads, "Our beloved father, Heinrich Mueller. Killed in action in Berlin, May 1945."

Cemetery workers were expected to remove the headstone today.

The grave was not Heinrich Mueller's. And no one knows whether the last chief of Hitler's Gestapo died in the death throes of Nazi Berlin — or may be alive today.

Official pathologists, chasing reports that Mueller escaped retribution for his war crimes, opened the grave last week. On Monday, they went back and took three bones from the grave.

Yesterday, they reported that the remains of three persons — none of them apparently Mueller — were found in the grave. If Mueller is dead, they said, his body is elsewhere.

According to records, Mueller would have been 45 when he was killed a few days after his Fuehrer committed suicide in the Red Army's final conquest of Berlin.

YOUNGER MAN

But the pathologists who exhumed the remains last week on orders of the West Berlin Justice Department reported the skull they found was that of a man no more than 35 years old.

Even the jawbone came from someone else.

There were few clues except two photographs to work on, authoritative sources revealed. Mueller's Nazi party "racial identification book" has disappeared mysteriously.

It held his complete physical and medical record, including dental work and broken bones.

The disappearance of the book was just one more ridge in the mystery of Mueller.

die in the mystery of Mueller.

Some reports said the book had been turned over to the West German government records office in Bonn by U. S. officers several years ago and has since disappeared without a trace.

Other sources say it is doubtful the allies ever recovered the identification book, since those of many of the top Nazis were kept in a special bureau in Berlin and were destroyed in the final chaos of the city's capture.

The findings of the Institute of Forensic Medicine were summarized in today's newspapers. Although officials say they will probably never be published in full.

The report added new fuel to rumors that the burly Bavarian detective who m Heinrich Himmler picked to lead his secret police section was still alive.

The last positive identification of "Gestapo Mueller" which allied officials have been able to uncover came from eyewitnesses who saw him leave Hitler's bunker on April 29, 1945.

But no one has ever come forward to say they saw Mueller die.

Commercial Code Subject of Classes

A four-week course on the Uniform Commercial Code will be offered Oakland County lawyers this fall at the county courthouse, it was announced today.

To begin Oct. 10 and continue with one 7-10 p.m. sessions every week, the course will be sponsored by the University of Michigan Law School's Institute of Continuing Legal Education, the Wayne State University Law School and the State Bar of Michigan.

A second course on the new code, which will put sweeping legal changes concerning commercial transactions into effect Jan. 1, is slated to be presented later at Ann Arbor, Detroit, Grand Rapids and Lansing.

The local course, part of a statewide program to familiarize lawyers with the changes, will be

Backing Given to Labor Party

Members Approve Economic Policies

SCARBOROUGH, England (U)—Leaders of the British Labor party today won overwhelming rank and file backing for their economic policies after pledging to regulate profits and dividends as well as wages if they win power.

The annual conference of the opposition party voted by 6,000 to 4,000 in favor of a resolution setting forth guidelines for a planned economy which a labor government would be morally bound to follow.

The resolution — reflecting an agreement between the trade union and political wings of the labor movement — binds the party leadership among other things to:

- Apply a national income policy to "include salaries, wages, dividends and profits (including speculative profits) and social security benefits."

- Associate workers more closely with employers in the management of key industries.
- Inject "an element of public participation in the ownership and direction of companies" receiving state aid.

CLEAN BREAK
James Callaghan, the party's spokesman on fiscal affairs, told the conference a labor government would base its economic program on a national plan which would represent "a clean break with Tory policies followed" since 1952.

He stressed that a Labor government would be able to fulfill its aim of transforming the social and industrial structure of Britain only if the nation uses all its resources and doubles its existing rate of productive growth.

Several powerful labor union bosses offered assurances of support for the party program, but they cautioned that workers would not accept wage restraint if profits and dividends are not similarly curbed.

Bishop Advises Contraceptives May Be Used

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Episcopal Bishop of California James A. Pike says unmarried couples who have sexual relations should consider using contraceptives to prevent child birth.

Pike, in a talk at the University of California Extension in San Francisco, said last night he does not condone pre-marital sex.

But he declared: "If one is going to engage in pre-marital intercourse, one should be conscientious about contraceptives."

The Bishop added that he feels use of contraceptives by married couples is entirely up to the individuals involved. He spoke in his capacity as chairman of the Clergyman's Advisory Committee of the Planned Parenthood Federation.

Quint's Family Soon to Bring the Babies Home

ABERDEEN, S.D. (AP)—The Andrew Fischer family is looking forward to bringing the famed quintuplets home in the near future, their family doctor says.

Dr. James Berbo, who delivered the premature babies on Sept. 14, said Tuesday night he expects the four girls and a boy to leave St. Luke's hospital one at a time as their weights improve.

The doctor said premature infants usually are released from the hospital when they reach 5½ pounds. This would mean, he indicated, that James Andrew, the only boy, would be the first to join his four other sisters and a brother in the nine-room rural home the Fischers occupy.

James Andrew weighed in Sunday at 4 pounds, 9 ounces, a gain of 12 ounces in nine days. His four sisters all weigh less but are reported thriving.

Too Many Frogs Close Road in California

RIEGO, Calif. (UPI)—A mass migration of small frogs caused temporary closure of Highway 24 yesterday near the California community of Riego in Sutter County.

Farmers and game wardens said they had never seen such a migration, which involved thousands of frogs.

'100 Grand' Series Canceled by ABC

NEW YORK (U)—The "100 Grand" television quiz show, which offered a top prize of $100,000 in cash, has been canceled by the American Broadcasting Co. after three performances.

Executive producer Robert Silvers said after the cancellation yesterday:

"The public looked, they weren't interested and they voted no."

"I think the only viewers we had last Sunday were relatives of Freddy Kushin (a contestant). The network did what was right by canceling the show."

Detroit Stotter-Hilton Buys Parking Garage

DETROIT (AP)—The Stotter-Hilton Hotel has purchased an eight-story parking garage for an undisclosed sum, the Detroit Mortgage and Realty Co. announced yesterday.

The mortgage firm bought the garage and another six-story parking structure a month ago in a deal involving about $1 million.

As Seen by Teachers of Both Races

Picture of Negro Student Inconsistent

EAST LANSING (U)—A study of seven Michigan schools each with a Negro enrollment of 85 per cent or more, showed contradictory evaluations of the students by white and Negro teachers, reports a Michigan State University professor.

"It turns out we really know very little about the Negro student," said Dr. David Gottlieb, an associate professor of sociology, anthropology and education. "Unfortunately, most of the research into the Negro student has been on delinquency."

Negro teachers described the Negro pupil as "happy, energetic and fun-loving." White teachers in the schools — who made up slightly more than 90 per cent of the teaching staffs — termed the students "talkative, lazy and rebellious," Gottlieb said.

"These teachers were talking about the same kids," Gottlieb said. "Now the question is, are they both right — or who is right?"

"It may be possible," he said, "that a Negro student responds differently to a Negro teacher than a white teacher, just as adults respond differently to those of other races." Studies in the Michigan schools, Gottlieb reported, also showed Negro teachers had greater job satisfaction, more favorable attitudes toward the pupils and parents and tended to come from lower economic backgrounds.

Most of the Negro teachers, he said, came from urban areas while large numbers of the white teachers were raised in small towns.

FELT INFERIOR

Many of the Negro teachers interviewed, he reported, felt that white teachers placed in Negro schools were inferior teachers and were there because they couldn't qualify for white schools.

Gottlieb also reported on a study he made as a member of a nine member committee of the U. S. Office of Education, comparing Negroes in segregated schools in a Texas community with their counterparts in integrated schools in northern urban areas.

In both studies, he said, it was agreed not to identify the schools.

Negroes in the segregated schools studied had higher goals and occupational aspirations than those in integrated schools of the North, he said. He said in schools where Negroes made up less than 25 per cent of the student population, their aspirations were "clearly lower" than those in segregated schools.

It was found that Negro students work better with Negro teachers because the Negro teacher can single them out and prod them into the right direction, he said.

"It could be that Negro teachers can interact and work with Negro students in a more productive fashion than the white teachers," he said, adding: "Of course, I'm only speculating on that."

RESEARCH INCOMPLETE

Gottlieb said although the studies so far indicate the Negro fares better in segregated schools than in the integrated units studied, the research is still incomplete and no conclusion may be made about which is better.

Gottlieb noted that 30 per cent of the school children in the nation come from economically or culturally deprived homes while universities and colleges continually aim their teacher programs at the middle class and above.

"As long as we train teachers as if they're going out to teach in suburbia," he warned, "we are making a mistake."

Teachers should be trained to face realities, he said. Gottlieb originated a student education corps at MSU that sends education major and others out as teacher aides at schools located in the lower economic areas.

The corps is being copied by the University of Detroit, Wayne State University, Washington, D.C. University and the University of California.

Panic Is a Major Cause of Air Crash Casualties

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Twenty near a workable emergency win- passengers died a few years ago down exit that no one even tried when an airliner crashed on take-off.

The impact force was relatively mild. Fire broke out but the flames did not spread so quickly that evacuation was possible—in fact, there were 81 survivors. And the cabin itself remained intact.

Yet investigators discovered that of the 20 who died from burns and smoke inhalation, six were found still strapped in their seats and nine more were sitting.

ture to a stewardess safety meeting in Chicago.

REAL PANIC

"In actual testimony given at civil aeronautics board hearings on accidents of the survivable type," Burggraf said, "you will hear time after time that there was no panic. They are wrong. There was panic, a real deadly type of panic."

Burggraf said reaction to a sudden, frightening emergency frequently results in a passenger being completely immobilized by fear. In their own stewardess training course, United's instructors refer to this as "negative panic."

Burggraf said United has evidence that about 85 per cent of the passengers involved in an emergency, such as a crash landing, will react negatively and will do nothing to insure their own safety. He emphasized that this was not a matter of cowardice.

"It's hard for many crew members to comprehend, for they find it hard to believe that the human desire for survival does not drive these people to a more positive type of panic," he said.

"But remember that passengers for the most part are in completely unfamiliar and strange surroundings in a vehicle where exit doors and windows do not operate in the conventional way and in most cases they are aware of only one way out—the way they came in!"

NEED TRAINING

Burggraf's lecture was delivered to about 20 stewardesses from various airlines—delegates to the annual safety forum of the airline pilots association (ALPA). The point he was making was that the need for strict, thorough and even ruthless emergency training for cabin attendants is greater today than ever before.

United, for example, spends nearly five full days on emergency procedures during a stewardess course—and requires a grade of at least 80 to be achieved in three daily quizzes plus one final examination. Airlines like TWA, American, Delta and others have similar requirements.

There are three reasons for the airlines' concern over cabin safety. One is the "negative panic."

The second is the high-density seating on modern airliners where aisles are narrower, seats closer together and swift evacuation can involve as many as 100 persons. The third is that there is advance warning of trouble in only one out of seven survivable accidents.

The airlines are engaged also in research aimed at making the cabin itself more survivable in a low-speed crash. This involves better lighting of emergency exits, decentralization of certain equipment like meal trays, and improved evacuation equipment—such as a new type of collapsible escape pole that resembles a fireman's pole when it unfolds.

The greatest safety breakthrough, of course, will come when some way is found to prevent fire on impact. Fire still is responsible for about 90 per cent of the fatalities in commercial aviation accidents.

By Taunting Schoolmates

Polio Victim Burned

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—An 8-year-old girl, crippled by polio, was hospitalized today with painful burns over 40 percent of her body—the victim of malicious teasing by two schoolmates because she wore braces on her legs.

The victim, Cathryn Reeves, had been the target of taunts from two young boys for several weeks because of the braces. The taunts reached a climax yesterday when one of the boys tossed a book of flaming matches at her and reduced her flower-print dress to ashes.

"She couldn't do anything but stand there and burn," said an ambulance attendant who rushed her to Mission Emergency Hospital.

Cathryn was reported in fair condition today while police searched for the two boys, believed to be schoolmates of the injured girl.

The girl was out playing when the harassment started again. She told investigators the boys started flicking one match at a time at her. But, she said, she was unable to run away because of her braces.

Finally one of the boys tossed a book of matches and turned her into a human torch.

Ex-School Head Dies

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP)—The Rev. Thomas James Donnelly, 78, former president of John Carroll University at Cleveland, died Tuesday. He was born in Cincinnati and was ordained in 1920.

Princeton Jeers Greet Barnett

PRINCETON, N. J. (UPI)—Gov. Ross Barnett of Mississippi told an unfriendly crowd at Princeton University last night that the Kennedy administration was using a "policeman's club" to force civil rights legislation on the nation.

A jeering, shoving mob of about 2,500 persons greeted Barnett with boos as he arrived for his speech to the Whig-Clio Society, the undergraduate debating group.

Many of those on hand for his arrival had just attended a protest rally at the university gymnasium. Organizers of the rally said it was held to protest Barnett's views against racial integration, rather than his presence at Princeton.

In his speech, Barnett charged that President Kennedy's civil rights proposals "seek to use the policeman's club and the armed might of the federal government to force certain people into the society of others who do not want them and to whom their presence is repugnant."

He said the only thing separating Americans from dictatorship was the Constitution "as it was written and not as it is being interpreted" by judicial decree and executive order.

Water Deaths 222 in State

LANSING (UPI)—State police said 503 Michigan water accidents in the first nine months of this year claimed 222 lives and injured 210.

The drownings included 95 swimmers or waders, 41 who fell from bridges, banks, docks, or piers, 38 boat operators, 38 boat passengers, four who were attempting to rescue others, three who fell through ice, one who fell into a tank and one skin or scuba diver.

Court Backs Site for School in Area

A Circuit Court jury Monday returned a condemnation case verdict enabling the Waterford Township School District to acquire an elementary school site in the southeast area of the district.

A price of $27,500 was established for the 18-acre parcel north of Elizabeth Lake Road and east of Scott Lake Road.

Plans call for construction of a building on the site within the five-year school building program now in progress.

The school system presented a statement to the court citing need for an elementary school

Colombia Delegates Eye Unity in Metropolitan Counties

By DICK HANSON
Intercounty cooperation in solving some of the metropolitan area problems here has favorably impressed an Alliance for Progress delegation from Cali, Colombia.

The delegates hope to achieve similar cooperation in tackling water and sewer problems when they return to their own growing metropolitan region.

They are visiting here to study methods of local government and social and economic development about 700,000 people.

ment that might improve living conditions in their area.

Gov. Gustavo Balcazar of the Valle de Cauca said a lack of unity among neighboring municipalities has greatly hindered progress in the Cali region.

CAPITAL CITY

Cali is the capital city of the Valle de Cauca Department (state) which contains 42 municipalities. The capital city is adjuncted by several other cities comprising a total population of about 700,000 people.

Many of the people are without adequate water and sewage facilities.

Gov. Balcazar said he will seek to serve the common needs of his region.

This can only be accomplished by amending the national constitution because of Colombia's federal government setup, he said.

INADEQUATE TAXATION

Another problem plaguing the region, according to Cali businessman Jorge Herrera, is an inadequate system of taxation.

The delegation hoped to find an answer to this problem today when the group was to study Oakland County government operations at the County Service Center.

Herrera said he also hopes to learn what business enterprises here are doing to promote the orderly development of the growing urban area.

"The Supervisors Inter-County Committee seems to play a major role in accomplishing the common progress of the area," noted Hernan Borrero, Cali's public utilities director.

AMAZED AT COOPERATION

He said he was amazed at how representatives from six counties in the metropolitan area are able to work together.

Cesar Delgado, president of the Cali municipal council, said,

"The desire of your county people to work with us is improving our local methods of progress is the sort of thing that makes the Alliance for Progress really constructive."

Segregation Prohibited

Laws of 16 of the states, from New Hampshire and New Jersey in the east, to Idaho and Washington in the west, have laws which prohibit school segregation.

He said the Alliance is the only real hope to improve living conditions in Latin America.

The fifth member of the group, Pedro Caycedo, Cali's planning director, is concentrating his efforts on studying planning methods at both the county and regional level.

"I would like you to include in your story our invitation for all the people of Oakland County to visit Cali," said Herrera. "The best time is during our fiesta when we have the bullfights from Dec. 26 to Jan. 6," he added.

She Caught the Clock Right in the Face

WICHITA, Kan. (AP) — Writing to a local columnist for information about someone to repair her cuckoo clock, a woman added, "It fell from the wall and considerable damage was done, especially to my nose which happened to be under it."

County GOP Delegates Committed to Romney

By JIM DYGERT

As it stands now, Oakland County's delegates to the 1964 Republican national convention will take a delicately balanced loyalties with them to San Francisco next summer.

While considering themselves committed to Gov. George

Romney, they will be hoping he does not emerge as a candidate for their party's presidential nomination.

From all indications, they will join the rest of the state's delegates in playing it by ear, waiting to see what Romney does. In a contest between U.S. Sen. Barry Goldwater and New York Gov. Nelson Rockefeller, county Republicans would favor Goldwater, according to present readings.

Considerable Goldwater support exists among county Republicans, although much of it appears predicated on a belief that Romney will not become a dark horse candidate.

FOR LEADERSHIP

"Our county is committed to Romney," says County GOP Chairman Charles L. Lyle. "We will look to him for leadership at the convention just as we have in the state."

Feeling committed to the governor while wishing no chance to back his candidacy is, Lyle admits, "a peculiar situation." He says, "We don't want Romney to go on the national level because we want him to stay in Michigan now."

Republicans throughout the state shudder at the thought of trying to keep the governorship without Romney, their first chief executive in 14 years. They have no "name" replacement.

But if national duty beckons, "we'll have to give him up," Lyle says. "If he becomes an active candidate, we would support him, even though a lot of people here would be unhappy about it."

Romney, of Bloomfield Hills, and Gov. William Scranton of Pennsylvania consistently are billed in the nation's press as the leading darkhorse candidates if a Rockefeller-Goldwater deadlock develops.

Lyle hesitates to guess how many or how strong Goldwater backers are in the county, but he does say, "We know there's a good deal of staunch conservative support for Goldwater. I know a lot of people in our organization who are for him."

County Prosecutor George F. Taylor has assumed the leadership of the local Goldwater movement.

BEATING DRUMS

The Oakland Conservative Club headed by Arthur Brandt Jr. of Birmingham is also beating the drums for the senator, the nation's standard-bearer for GOP conservatism and currently the front-runner for the nomination.

Although only three tickets have been sold so far in the county for a $100-a-plate affair featuring a Goldwater speech Nov. 23 in Grand Rapids, Lyle says this does not accurately reflect the strong support for Goldwater in the county.

On the other hand, there's no evidence of any significant backsliding among county Republicans for Rockefeller, the liberal Republican whose divorce and remarriage cost him his one-time position as leading candidate for nomination.

WOULD DO SAME

A good many other county Republicans presently for Goldwater presumably would do the same. Lyle reportedly has been busy among Goldwater supporters trying to keep them in line for Romney first, and willing to follow the governor's lead at the convention. So far, Romney has disclosed no preference for any mentioned possibility.

Sponsor Sparkles on Lanes

One man doesn't usually have too much effect on the outcome of a team bowling match, but Joe Bonfiglio certainly was the key man in Huron Bowl's win Sunday in the Travelling Classic League.

The Sylvan Lanes match with Cooley Lanes team saw Huron trailing, 9-5, entering the late stages when the team sponsor Bonfiglio made his move.

He stroked a 296 game—good for seven points—and Huron made off with a 12-10 triumph. Other close scores Sunday had Montcalm Bowling Centre edging Fairgrounds Bowl, 8-4, Dixie Bowl nipping Sylvan Lanes, 12-11, and Airway Lanes slipped by Howe's Lanes, 8-7.

The 300 Bowl team—which has vowed not to lose a match in the circuit this season—impressively, won its second straight 15-3, over Wonderland Lanes.

Next to Bonfiglio, Pat Treacy of Sylvan made the top individual contribution with 237-230 games for eight of his team's 11 points.

Dixie's Chuck Messer bowled 217-218-603; Larry Angott had a 235 for Cooley; "Chin" Chensky rolled a 224 for "300," Al Swaney had 214 for Howe's; and all three Wonderland points were posted by Jim Sherwood, aided by a 214.

OTHER LEAGUES

Terry Odell hit 224-233-620 and Bill Crawford 235-204-624 in the Ivy Bowling League last Thursday at Lakewood Lanes. Bob Weinberger rolled a 245-612 combo and Herbert Harroun had the top series with 234-230-208-672.

At West Side Lanes, the Pontiac Housewives League Thursday reported Opal Solomon with a 298-598 and the WKC entry had a 2,585 team series.

The new wood at Auburn Lanes has been consistent for Fran Ginter in the Wednesday Coffee League. She had 506 and 502 series on consecutive Wednesdays, including a 207 game. Dorothy Peel (200-527) and Joyce Susalla (515) took honors, also.

Pontiac Motor's Inter-Office League at 300 Bowl last week had a 225 by Charles McMonagle, a 220 by Andy Heimbringer, a 223 by William Summers, a 232 by William Covarrubias and 225-220-946 by Nelson Fields.

The first triplicate reported this season had Maxine Render throwing three 133's in the Wednesday Nite Ladies Classic at "300" and in the American Legion Mixed Loop Sunday, Al Guida had a 200 and Dallas Delingham a 201.

PCH Harriers Top Kettering

Pontiac Central's cross-country team will be looking to boost its Saginaw Valley Conference mark above .500 tomorrow after lifting its overall record to 3-2-1 yesterday at Kettering.

The Chiefs toppled their hosts, 24-31, despite a new course mark by Bruce Bodmer of Kettering. He covered the two miles in 10:49, two seconds ahead of PCH's Bob Lawrence.

A good Flint Southwestern team will invade Beaudette Park at 4 p.m. Thursday to run against the Chiefs, who have a 2-2 log in the league.

Kettering's Mark Pankner took third place in the dual meet yesterday, but Mike Mumby, Bill Hollis, Hugh Seay and Martin Acosta grabbed the next four positions to give PCH the edge.

The other three scorers for the Captains were Dick James, John Dunham and Len McPherson. The Captains won the reserve meet, 22-35.

Browns, Steelers Match 'Big Toes'

CLEVELAND (AP)—The more than 70,000 fans expected for Saturday night's key game between Cleveland and Pittsburgh also will have a chance to argue over who is pro football's best place kicker—left-footed Lou Michaels or Lou the Toe Groza.

Lou Michaels, who kicks from the left side for the Steelers and also plays a bruising game as a defensive left end, is the solid challenger to Cleveland's 39-year-old Lou Groza, the National Football League's all-time scorer with 928 points.

The 26-year-old Michaels set a record with 26 field goals one year ago when he was the league's second highest scorer with 110 points. Groza had 75.

Cleveland fullback Jim Brown is topping the scoring this season with 36 points on six touchdowns. Michaels is second with 27 points on six extra points and seven field goals out of 10 attempts. Groza has 26 points on 11 extra points and five three-pointers in eight attempts.

MAD AT BROWN

Michals always has played exceptionally well against the Browns. He was mad at former Coach Paul Brown, who released material was scarce at Kentucky, Collier said Tuesday. "Good as we made full use of Lou."

Michals may not have that same incentive now that Blanton Collier is the Cleveland coach. He played under Collier at Kentucky and the coach knows all about the 6-foot-2, 255-pounder. "He was a great college football player and now is a great pro," Collier said Tuesday. "Good as we made full use of Lou."

The opposition would try to run plays away from him, so we used him on either side at tackle. I remember one game against Tennessee when Lou was used as a middle linebacker. He really racked 'em up, too."

The Browns, 3-4 this season compared to Pittsburgh's 2-1-1, were the last team to beat the Steelers, 35-14, last Nov. 25 at Cleveland. Since then, the Pittsburgh team has won five and tied one in league competition.

Mart Falls as Trading Slows

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market moved irregularly lower early this afternoon as trading slackened. Losses of key stocks went from fractions to a point or so.

Weakness of Pennsylvania Railroad and New York Central followed news that the U. S. attorney general's office opposed the projected merger of the two roads.

New York Central was down 2 points, Pennsylvania more than 2 points. Both stocks were under heavy selling pressure from the start. Pennsy opening on a delayed basis.

Mayor Says, 'We'll Have to Start Again'

CAMBRIDGE, Md. (AP)—"We will have to start all over again so to speak," said Mayor Calvin W. Mowbray after a referendum on a town charter amendment to open restaurants, motels and hotels to Negroes was defeated.

The equal public accommodations amendment lost 1,994 to 1,720 in Tuesday's referendum, with 60 percent of the town's Negro voters staying away from the polls.

U. S. Not Alone

Deficit 'Is Worldwide

(EDITOR'S NOTE — The U. S. balance of payments deficit is unique in many respects. But Sam Dawson, AP business news analyst, in this third of a series of articles on the problem, says that other nations can get into the same trouble, and have.)

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK — You bear a lot today about red-ink book-keeping in U. S. accounts with the rest of the world. And you ask why just the United States? Why aren't other nations also having deficit problems affecting their credit standing?

The answer is: some nations do have balance of payments problems, and have them bad; others, like Britain, have them off and on; and most of the rest suffered after World War II even though the United States is today but have pulled from deficit to surplus as the United States slipped.

TRADE DEFICIT

Canada has a commercial trade deficit of $1.4 billion with the United States, largely offset by $1.2 billion in a year in investment by Americans. It now is proposing to curb U. S. imports while protesting U. S. efforts to stem the investment outflow.

Underdeveloped countries usually are dependent on loans and the unique thing about the U. S. deficit of payments today grants from others to balance their payments with the rest of the world. This is especially true of those with big ambitions—the ones who want to grow industrially at jet speed. Aiding them has helped push the United States further into the red.

Industrial countries like Britain have periodic payment problems when their exports slump or consumer taste for imports gets too rich.

France, West Germany and other European countries went through rough years after the war. Even Germany built up to present affluence by austerity. France benefited from its inflationary spree that caused the franc to be devalued more than once when the rest of the world lost confidence in it. Now a new inflation is starting and France is taking sharp corrective measures.

Bad internal financing practices have caused many a balance of payments deficit. Brazil is being accused of that today because it hasn't curbed inflation by clamping austerity on consumer and industrial demands for outside goods and materials. When domestic financing is bad, outsiders dump their holding of the local currency. They switch to other currencies or to gold.

Today the Yankee dollar, for all its problems, isn't shunned.

It doesn't buy as much in goods and services as it once did. But most foreigners are willing to hold onto most of the dollars they get-up to a point. And it's that point American and other's financial authorities worry about.

If the U. S. balance of payments stays out of kilter too long and others get the idea the dollar might become shaky, most countries would switch from dollar reserves to demanding gold.

That could upset the arrangements under which much of the world's trade and financial dealings operate. Or it could lead to a breakdown of the dollar. And that would upset the apple cart both at home and abroad.

General Motors' share of September auto production in the United States was 244,873, up over 22,000 from the same period in 1962.

TRUCKS, COACHES

Another 46,211 GMC trucks and coaches were produced during the month, up about 17,000 units from a year ago.

Ford Motor Co., however, was an exception to the glowing picture. Citing change-over problems, Ford reports auto production in September at 129,891, about 24,000 units less than 1962.

Chrysler Corp. output hit 88,135 last month, exceeding the comparable 1962 period by 20,000. Over 1,000 more trucks were turned out, for 7,709.

By ROGER E. SPEAR

"I am $1, married, with an income of $25,000 per year. I have commercial real estate worth $75,000 and $125,000 in cash. How should I invest this?" E.K.

A. It is obvious that you are in a high income bracket — perhaps as high as 50 per cent. I believe in your place that I would put a substantial part of my money into tax-exempt securities, a moderate amount in stocks for growth, leaving an adequate balance in savings.

For tax-exempts, I recommend Savannah, Georgia Public Housing Authority 3 1/4% (when issued) due in 2003 and offered to yield 4.30. These are triple-A bonds. Also State of California various issues of 1969 on a 3.25 basis (when issued) rated double-A by Moody.

If you are in the bracket I have suggested, you can double these yields to arrive at a tax-able equivalent.

For growth, I suggest Texaco, Corn Products, and Merck which offer inflation protection.

Q. "I figure on retiring in March at the age, 62. I own General Motors, American Can, Niagara Mohawk Power, Consumers Power, and two 1-a contracts that pay $120 monthly. I have $30,000 in building and loans and local banks. Should I invest my cash to improve my income on retirement?" R.B.

A. It is a little difficult for me to answer your question, since you have not told me the return you are now getting from your building & loans and local banks. If this return is 4 per cent or less, you might invest in some stocks which have a better income and some prospects for future gains. In this class I would include Alcoa, Peapack, Santa Fe, yielding 4.5 per cent; Maytag, 4.5 per cent; Libby-Owens-Ford, 4.5 per cent and Air Reduction, 4.6 per cent. Your average yield on this group would be 4.6 per cent.

Mr. Spear cannot answer all personal questions but will answer all questions possible in his column. Write General Features Corp., 250 Park Ave., New York 17, N.Y.

Pontiac shifts to 6 Days; Approaching New Marks

This is the earliest that figure has been reached in any model year.

Pontiac Motor Division has scheduled its first six-day production week to keep pace with an industry-wide push toward a record new-model output.

An estimated 14,200 new Pontiacs and Tempests will roll off production lines by Saturday.

PROTEST MARCHES

Mrs. Richardson, who led night protest marches to the county courthouse that ended twice in violence, said she and her committee will give the city an ultimatum in which to implement any alternative plans.

"We regret that there was no affirmative white majority in the voting," she said. "Obviously, we won't be out on the streets tomorrow, but we could demonstrate eventually on any number of things."

Grain Futures Dip in Active Trading

CHICAGO (AP)—Grain futures dipped sharply lower in active trading early today on profit-taking and liquidation.

Extreme losses in wheat rang up to more than three cents a bushel at the opening of the board of trade, were trimmed somewhat later as selling decreased.

Grain Prices

A report that Russia may not be in the market for U. S. wheat after all spurred selling of other grains and soybeans as well as wheat.

Extremes losses in wheat rang up to more than three cents a bushel at the opening of the board of trade, were trimmed somewhat later as selling decreased.

Grain Prices

C. E. Briggs, Chrysler-Plymouth division general manager, said the price adjustments are due to equipment changes.

Continental has posted no price variations on its $5,746 sedan and $6,347 four-door convertible.

Business Notes

Manager of the Montgomery Ward Pontiac Mall store, L. M. Gillain, has announced the appointment of James Van Hulle as advertising manager.

Van Hulle, a Detroit resident, replaces Tom Myers who has been assigned as Ward's assistant district advertising and promotion manager in Detroit.

Potential College Student Needs a Push

● The Plans that students

some will not voice their goals, others will work half-heartedly

In every case I've dealt with, when the student improved his learning skills, he was able to prove his ability was great or greater than aptitude tests indicated. When he is assured of this, he'll be able to adopt college goals.

Don't give up on financing an education until you've tried. Parents who honestly cannot afford college should encourage the student to seek out exact costs and scholarship possibilities. Often precise information will allay fears and open unthought-of doors.

Bushman Were Artists

Paintings Adorn Caves

WASHINGTON — Next on hunting, primitive Bushmen liked painting. The shy little tribesmen, who once roamed most of southern Africa, decorated the walls of their cave shelters with murals.

The drawings, ranging from life-size to inch-high figures, portray the dances, ceremonies, battles, and all-important hunts of the Bushmen.

In the June issue of the National Geographic Magazine, Alfred Friendly, managing editor of the Washington Post, describes "Africa's Bushman Art Treasures." The author, has long been interested in primitive cave art.

Mr. Friendly with his wife and Berry D. Malan, former director of the Archaeological Survey of the Union of South Africa, examined and photographed a dozen of the more than 2,000 cave sites located in the Republic of South Africa.

Climbing high in the green Drakensberg (the Dragon) Range, Mr. Friendly saw his first and most exciting rock shelter, or abri nestled beneath a great overhang.

ART TEXTBOOK

"There, on one rock wall, in an area not more than ten feet square, was a textbook of Bushman art; illustrations of the most central aspects of his life, times, and temperament; revelations of his arsenal, his religion, his economics."

A fresco depicted three Bushmen hunters fleeing from a surprise encounter with a leopard. Two others had been knocked head over heels by the charging beast; below were beautifully drawn down and buff-colored elands.

"And now, on the same rock wall," writes Mr. Friendly, "was something very different, something as mysterious and enigmatic as the leopard and running Bushmen were self-evident. Here was magic: two figures with human bodies but antelope heads."

Bushman authorities believe the antelope-headed figures represent sorcerers. They are somewhat reminiscent of Egyptian mythological representations.

Bushman artists painted with brushes made from the hairs of the tail or mane of the black wildebeest. Fine detail was done with pointed pieces of bone.

Horns of small antelope served as paint pots. The paint was made from mineral oxides ground fine, possibly roasted, and then mixed with a binding material of perhaps animal fat, milk, blood, or honey.

Mr. Friendly estimates Bushmen paintings to be 300 to 800 years old since the paint, exposed to natural light, would not last much longer. Bushmen may have been painting for millenniums, but nothing older survives.

Bushmen, who were probably the first residents of South Africa, lived like the classic Old Stone Age man. Nomadic hunters, they had no agriculture, spun cloth, made almost no pottery, and domesticated no animals.

Today's Bushmen paint no more. The last of the primitive tribesmen, an estimated 30,000 to 50,000, hunt and roam in the harsh Kalahari Desert.

Tivoli Is Hub of Copenhagen

Fun, Food, Culture Mark Danish Capital

WASHINGTON — "Copenhagen," a French wit once wrote, "is a country of the Far North with a capital named Tivoli."

Tivoli is the Danish capital, world-famous hub of fun, food, and culture. Some 150 million people have passed through its gates.

Tivoli offers theater, symphony, music and light opera, ballet, cabarets, dance halls for both twisters and sedate fox-trotters, children's playground, boat rides, Ferris wheel, roller coaster, Fun House, and flower-decked bowers for just sitting.

The 20-acre park has stood in the heart of the Danish capital for more than a century. Tivoli's creator, George Carlsens, was a newspaper editor and showman who staged fireworks displays on the grounds of Rosenborg Castle.

When political unrest threatened Denmark in 1843, Carlsens reportedly told King Christian VIII, "The people, sire, are grumbling. They clamor for a constitution. Why not give them a good amusement park instead?" The King did.

If Tivoli is the gay heart of Copenhagen, the harbor is its soul. Founded as a tiny fishing village 800 years ago, the city of almost a million people has become first port in Scandinavia and eighth in Europe.

Copenhagen means "Merchant's Harbor" and its 25 miles of quays can berth 350 ships at once. Shipyards turn out passenger liners, ferries, freighters, and tankers, which are powered by locally produced diesels.

Built on islands, Copenhagen has a maze of waterways thronged by traffic. Youngsters race tiny sailboats in a city-sponsored program designed to produce sea-minded citizens in a country sustained by maritime commerce.

Teen-agers compete in annual regattas. An 85-year-old multimillionaire, Arnold Peter Moller, commutes to work every day, rain or shine, in his sailboat.

Copenhagen products not only delight the eye; they please the palate. Danish beer is quaffed around the world. A farm just outside the city raises edible snails, 500,000 per crop, and exports many to France.

Wins as U.S. Entry in Polish Songfest

Singer Gets Backing, Is Now Out in Front

By BOB THOMAS

AP Movie-Television Writer

HOLLYWOOD — Lulu's back in town, and what a difference! She left earlier this summer as Lulu Porter, a fairly obscure girl singer. Now she's back as an international celebrity.

Who's responsible? Contrary to printed reports and indignant congressmen, it wasn't Pierre Salinger.

The legend was that the presidential press secretary caught Lulu's act at the Little Club in Beverly Hills and recommended her to represent the United States at the Polish International Song Festival.

Lulu exonerated former piano prodigy Salinger on her return from Poland.

"He came to see me perform and later said some nice things about my performance," she declared. "Also in the party was Pat McGovern (sister Marilyn Monroe's press agent and companion) who went to work for the U.S. Information Agency."

"I understand that later efforts had failed to get such names as Polly Bergen, Anna Maria Alberghetti, Sandra Church and Joan Baez to go to the festival. Pat McGovern suggested that we might send an unknown, and she mentioned me."

Lulu, a 23-year-old song belter who was working her way up to

A SENSATION

Competing against the natives of 25 other countries, she was a sensation. She socked her way through "Everything's Coming Up Roses" and it did.

She won the title of best singer at the festival — only because of the defection of Polish judges.

"There were 16 judges from the Eastern bloc and only 12 from the West," she explained. "Everything was stacked against us, but I heard later from a Belgian judge why I won. The four Polish judges broke away from the party line and voted for me."

Lulu was seen all over Eastern and Western Europe by television and returned to appear on the Johnny Carson and Steve Allen shows. Now she has her pick of recording contracts, television and super club engagements. Not a bad girl whose previous claim to fame was doing a belly dance in an upcoming film, "The Brass Bottle."

Does she recommend continued American participation in the festival? "Certainly," she said. "It is a tremendous propaganda break for us, having all that exposure on television. Military Eyes Off-Base Bias

By FRED S. HOFFMAN

Associated Press Military Writer

WASHINGTON — The Defense Department has ordered the armed services to take an exhaustive inventory of any racial discrimination in transportation, education, public accommodations, housing and other facets of life near military bases.

The Associated Press learned today that Assistant Secretary of Defense Norman Paul sent the order for an "off-base equal opportunity inventory" on Sept. 24. He set a Nov. 8 deadline for replies.

"The basic objective is to obtain necessary information for the formulation of future policy," the Pentagon said.

It declined to make public Paul's memorandum to the services on grounds it is an "official working paper."

3-PAGE FORM

However, the department did furnish a copy of a three-page inventory form to be filled out by each base command.

The form listed 17 separate major questions and topics Paul wants covered.

This newest action in a series of Pentagon moves aimed at easing discrimination against Negro servicemen appeared likely to meet strong criticism from Southern members of Congress.

The questionnaire delves, among other things, into local customs and laws and local law enforcement questions.

Two of the instructions are phrased this way:

1. "Briefly describe any local customs or laws which prevent or are enforced in a manner which discourages voluntary off-base association by white and Negro military personnel and their dependents when traveling in private automobiles, using public sidewalks or visiting each other's residences."

2. "Is the treatment accorded Negro military personnel by the local police in any way different from that accorded white military personnel? If so, specify."

Under public transportation heading, Paul told base commanders to:

—Describe the kind of commercial transportation service to base, whether or where integrated, whether bus service in town is integrated, whether seating policy for military personnel and their dependents differs from that applicable to other riders, plus other factors necessary to a full understanding of actual practices."

—Describe seating arrangement in bus, airline and railroad terminals, and where separate waiting rooms are maintained, actual practices followed with respect to (1) military groups and (2) individual military members and their dependents."

In exploring education around bases, the Pentagon directive asks commanders to describe facilities used by military personnel, indicating which are integrated.

ON-BASE CLASSES

Other questions:

—Are local educational institutions willing to conduct on-base integrated classes for service personnel?

Briefly describe the extent of integration in the public schools attended by dependent children. State whether those who live off base are subject to the same school assignment policies applicable to those living on base but attending off-base schools."

Commanders were asked to describe segregation practices, if any affecting military personnel and their families in use of such publicly owned or controlled properties as parks, libraries, golf courses and tennis courts.

Similar information was asked in connection with private recreation facilities such as theaters, bowling alleys and taverns.

A separate instruction covered restaurants, lunch counters, hotels and motels.

HAVANA, Cuba (AP)—A sawmill on the northwest coast of Oriente Province was destroyed early Tuesday in an attack from the sea, the Cuban Armed Forces Ministry announced today.

A communicable said a pirate ship slipped into the area under cover of darkness and destroyed the mill at Cayo Guin, near the town of Baracoa.

The vessel then escaped to the north, the communicable said.

The nature of the attack was not disclosed.

Prime Minister Fidel Castro's government has beefed up its forces on Cuba's long north coast with tanks, troops and anti-aircraft weapons following increased hit-and-run activity by Cuban exiles.

In August, there were three such raids in four days, ending with the shelling of a metal plant.

The government said then the exiles and the United States had a new plan of aggression against Cuba, and measures would be taken to insure the country's defense.

President Kennedy has banned raids on Cuba by exile groups launched from U.S. territory.

Woman Succumbs to Traffic Injury

LAPEER—A 63-year-old Washington Township woman died in a two-car crash at the intersection of Dryden and Rochester roads here.

Victim was Mrs. Olga Schultz, 60867 Waschull, who was a passenger in the car driven by her husband, Edward, Mrs. Marie McAllister, 46, of Applegate was the other driver.

Third Reich Amassed 3,700 Items

Germans Sift Hitler's Art Collections

MUNICH, Germany (UPI)—Adolf Hitler's artistic legacy is the subject of a "treasure hunt" in the chilly cellars of the former Nazi party's national headquarters.

The heir to the treasure — the West German Government — is still undecided what to do with the 3,700 paintings, drawings, prints, sculptures and old books and coins which Hitler and his aides, Hermann Goering, amassed for themselves and the glory of the Third Reich.

Only Chancellor Konrad Adenauer has suggested a solution. He proposed to exhibit the objects in Bonn, but this has found little support from his ministers.

Treasury Minister Werner Dollinger, who is directly responsible for the art collection, said art experts conduct the "treasure hunt" to separate the valuable from the worthless.

"We will probably make the valuable objects available to the public," he said.

800 PAINTINGS

Dollinger referred to nearly 800 paintings considered valuable by the treasury, including works by Rembrandt, Raphael, Botticelli, Rubens, Titian, Watteau and Cranach the elder.

A treasury spokesman said the paintings might be exhibited as a group in West German art galleries or be distributed as loans to museums.

Some 200 less valuable paintings are destined for "representative purposes," the spokesman said, and may wind up decorating embassies and government offices.

What causes all the head-aching for the art inspectors, however, is a section of some 700 "blut und bodes" (blood and soul) paintings by Nazi artists patronized by Hitler and Goering.

The West German government has obviously no interest in publicizing these works or the many mediocre paintings by minor 19th Century Germans who struck a response in Hitler.

DEALERS BOAST

Some business-minded art dealers who investigated the collection who have bought them could be assured they once belonged to Hitler.

This is exactly what the government wants to avoid.

To sound out the market for "blut und bodes" paintings and other mediocre art, the government has made some test sales without mentioning where the pieces came from, the spokesman said.

Tentative plans call for gradual and inconspicuous transfer of the paintings to art dealers.

Many of the paintings first have to be restored, however, because they suffered in the post-war period when they passed through countless hands before arriving in the basement of the former Nazi party headquarters.

The upper stories of the building now house the Bavarian State Gallery. But the Nazi collections lie in racks, row upon row, next to other Third Reich remnants such as Hitler's 10-foot-long writing desk — which he never used.

The cellar collection was transferred to the treasury Jan. 1 of this year by the expiring Trustee Center for Artistic Property, itself a successor organization of the Allied Central Collection Agency, which was created in 1945 to round up and return works of art illegally confiscated by the Nazis.

Police Block

Riot Scene

COLUMBUS, Neb. (UPI)—Police roped off the Bible Baptist Church today to prevent neo-nazis or a minister who has been charged with child stealing.

City, county and school officials pleaded with parents and teenagers to prevent more gatherings such as that police used fire hoses to break a night ago.

Officials said they could not explain the sudden outbreak of ill feeling against the close-knit congregation. The minister, the Rev. George Swiney, and his son were charged a month ago with child stealing along with a parishioner who left home with four of his wife's children from a previous marriage.

A crowd, composed mostly of teenagers formed Sunday night in front of the church, shouting and singing. Eggs and rocks were thrown.

The next night, about 1,000 persons milled about the red brick church and the modern parsonage. Police used fire hoses and at least one tear gas bomb to break up the crowd.

All streets and alleys a block away from the church were blocked off last night by officers stationed at intersections. About 24 extra men were deployed.

Mayor Cleo Kuntzmann issued an order in which he said any further gatherings in Columbus streets would not be tolerated by police.

He also said he had talked with the governor's office about the possibility of using National Guardsmen to handle any more demonstrations. None was used last night, although the city was almost jammed with curiosity seekers.

Noncommercial TV
Gets $6-Million Gift

NEW YORK (UPI)—The Ford Foundation has awarded a $6-million grant to the National Educational Television and Radio Center for "strengthening of programs on noncommercial television stations," it was announced yesterday.

The center termed the grant the "beginning of a major new phase" in its history. It said that some of the old functions of educational television will be replaced by new ones which will supply "high-quality informational and cultural program" services for noncommercial television.

The foundation said it no longer will make any large-scale grants in instructional television. It explained the term "instructional" was used in referring to direct programming for school and college credit.

The department announced that charges had been filed last week, but did not make them public.

Three of the accusations charged Otepa with conduct "unbecoming an officer of the department of state" by giving classified documents concerning "the loyalty of employees or prospective employees" to J. G. Sourwine, chief counsel of the Senate Internal Security subcommittee.

The letter said this violated a March 13, 1948, directive of former President Harry S. Truman which ordered that files of the government's loyalty programs be kept confidential—even from Congress—to protect individuals.

The Truman order is still in effect, State Department officials said.

Eight of the charges accused Otepa of "declassifying" and "mutilating" four government documents by snipping off the classified labels without following declassification procedures.

U.S. Aide

WASHINGTON (UPI)—A State Department security officer faces dismissal because he supposedly gave classified information on current East-West discussions.

A copy of a State Department letter listing 13 charges against Otto P. Otepa, head of the evaluation division of the department's security office, was made public yesterday by Otepa's lawyer.

The department announced that charges had been filed last week, but did not make them public.

Rusk, Gromyko Discuss
Cold War Issues Tonight

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—Secretary of State Dean Rusk talks over possible deals with Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko tonight in the only strictly U.S.-Soviet meeting scheduled in current East-West discussions.

Western sources again cautioned against expecting any hard-and-fast agreement to emerge from present discussions. They said neither side is prepared to move fast, but the continuation of talks is good in itself and may show where the best prospects for agreement lie.

The dinner meeting at the headquarters of the Soviet U.N. mission gives Rusk his first opportunity here to raise a host of Washington-Moscow issues, including the presence of Soviet troops in Cuba.

Rusk also is expected to inquire into: (1) a variety of possible Soviet-American accords, ranging from trade to space cooperation, and (2) the Soviet position on disarmament and political questions posed in the wake of the limited nuclear test-ban treaty.

British Foreign Secretary Lord Home conducted the West's first deep probe into the second group of questions in a two-hour lunch at Gromyko's quarters Tuesday.

British sources said neither side gave any ground, though the atmosphere was cordial and Gromyko seemed to want to continue East-West contacts.

RESTATE POSITION
Gromyko was said to have rejected Soviet proposals for a non-aggression pact, observer posts to guard against surprise attack, a reduction of forces in Germany, a ban on atomic weapons in central Europe and cutbacks in defense budgets.

Lord Home was reported to have presented familiar Western positions on these questions. On Berlin, the two were as far apart as usual.

Kennedy OKs Pay Boost for Armed Forces

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy signed today, with "great pleasure," a bill granting an average 14.4 per cent pay increase to most of the 27 million men and women in the armed forces.

In a Cabinet Room ceremony, Kennedy used more than a dozen fountain pens to sign the measure, which will cost the government $1.2 billion a year. It is the biggest military pay boost in history.

Kennedy said Americans in uniform serve with sacrifice and dedication, and that, on them, "the peace of this world of ours depends for the full term, or 336 more than last year."

The President said his administration promised to use its best efforts to keep military pay in line with living costs. He pointed to the new pay law as a move to redeem that pledge.

Video Viewers Revolt—
They Air Slugs of Plugs

BY EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—Television viewers, arise! This may be the year of the Great TV Rebellion. Individual views in Canada are working up blacklists and boycotts of sponsors whose commercials are irritating, distasteful, too long or too badly timed that they become punch-line killers.

Compilers of these blacklists are sending their nominations to the newspapers, mentioning specific headache medicines, pills, brassieres, coffee, cigarettes and soap. . . . The sales resistance is so violent, reports Dennis Brathwaite in the Toronto Globe and Mail, that the ad agencies are alarmed. Viewers who once voted for their pet shows now are listing their pet hates among the commercials.

The National Laugh Party runs a campaign to get funnier men elected to Congress. (You're not satisfied with Adam Clayton Powell?) . . . Rita Hayworth's off to Spain to play her first mother role. . . . Joe E. Lewis says Show Business is asking for young blood: "I've got young blood—but it's in an old container."

Once, beautiful girls inspired poetry. Now Stella Stevens' figure allegedly inspired a designer to create a new line of bras and girdles. . . . Reportorial reflection: Celebrities only want to give interviews about their new shows or movies; when they're in a big jam, they duck. Pools? They only want to talk when they have nothing to talk about.

A blast at Europe for "grogginess." U.S. tourists (by Jimmy Auer of the Monitors) led Travel Agent Aaron Krumbien to report that European waiters at least don't rush you through meals or run away while you're ordering.

Busty Rossana Schifano of "The Victors" is 'tonguing up a feud with Sophia Loren, saying, "She is another generation. I am younger. . . . Janet Leigh's singing and dancing on the Andy Williams TV set got her a batch of offers. . . . Alan Arkin and Barbara Dana who played sweethearts in "Enter Laughing," are playing it offstage too. (He went to Philadelphia to see her, so it MUST be love).

TODAY'S BEST LAUGH: A fellow complained that his wife isn't very handy in the kitchen: "She can't even get the light to go out when she shuts the refrigerator door."

A miracle drug, says the harassed housewife, is any medicine you can get the kids to take without screaming. . . . That's a car, brother.

Husband
"too tired" for good

If your husband keeps coming home too "beat" to be gay and stimulating, too "tired" to take you out, remember—the hectic "rat race" of today's business requires men to perform like human dynamos day after day, which builds up churning tensions that rob literally millions of husbands of energy and vigor they might otherwise enjoy!

What can you do to help counteract this tension-caused loss of vitality?

Many doctors recommend augmenting the daily diet with nature's remarkable "bounce-back" food, famous Kretschmer Wheat Germ. Made from the germinating heart of the kernel, wheat germ has been established by official U. S. Dept. of Agriculture studies to be the most healthful food known!

KRETSCHMER

Kretschmer Wheat Germ actually supplies a whopping 50 nutrients important to good health, vigor and stamina!

Serve your husband this remarkable food every day and see how much more pep and vitality he has! Use these delicious, easy-to-prepare mixes as a cereal, on cereal, or add to pancakes, waffles, scrambled eggs, etc.

Thriftily, tasty Kretschmer Wheat Germ is great for the entire family, so be sure to get some. Look for it in vacuum-sealed glass jars in the cereal section of your food store. Choose either regular or Sugar 'N Honey.

GUARANTEE—(1) Kretschmer Wheat Germ is the most healthful food known; (2) Your family will like to eat it. Refund if you are not satisfied. Just write your name, address, and price paid on back of label and mail to Kretschmer, Carleton, Michigan. Refund full.

GOP House Speaker Raps Tax Plan

TO THE VICTOR (AND THE LOSER) . . .

Allison Green Says Romney Rebate 'Unfair'

He Appeals to 'Poor Districts' to Oppose School Distribution

From Our News Wires
CASS CITY — House Speaker Allison Green of Kingston crumbled Republican hopes for a show of unanimity on fiscal reform last night by calling for a major revision of Gov. Romney's proposed tax program.

Green, conceded to be the most powerful man in the Republican-controlled legislature, urged school districts and residents of "poor" areas like The Thumb to band together and demand a change in the governor's proposed property tax relief.

He made his opposition to the governor's program at a Cass City meeting of the House Taxation Committee.

An individual and corporate income tax forms the base on which Romney proposes to reshuffle the sources of $300 million a year in state revenue.

Green termed as "unfair" Romney's rebate plan under which the state would pay 20 per cent of local school taxes levied against property, and said that as proposed by the governor the relief might last only a year.

"As for income tax," Green said, "I couldn't support an unless there were substantial relief for the property taxpayer."

About 100 of Green's Tuscola County constituents were on hand when he walked into the Cass High School gymnasium and was called forward by Rep. James H. Folks, R-Horton, committee chairman.

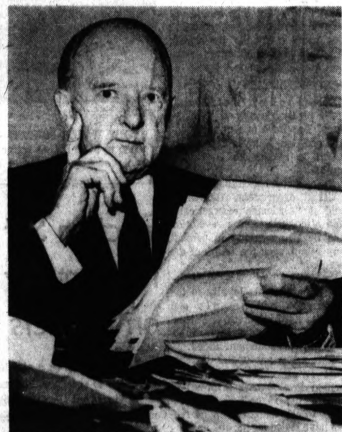

Green expressed "alarm" over Romney's 20 per cent school tax rebate and termed it a "poor plan for distributing the money."

He said Tuscola County would get only $32.95 a student in rebate, while Washtenaw (Ann Arbor) County would get $72.97, Oakland (Pontiac) $57.39 and Wayne (Detroit) $68.56.

"This," he added, "is not a fair distribution of state funds."

Then the speaker proposed that

Sen. Byrd May Start Tax Talk

Civil Rights Pushing Tax Cut Bill Aside

WASHINGTON (AP)—Chairman Harry F. Byrd of the Senate Finance Committee says he may open public hearings next week on President Kennedy's tax-cut bill.

Indications are, however, that lengthy committee deliberations and a decision to seek Senate action first on controversial civil rights legislation will delay final congressional action until early next year.

Senate Democratic leaders made plain yesterday they planned to bring the civil rights bill up for a Senate vote before the tax-cut measure, which was passed last night in the House.

The civil rights bill is expected to touch off a battle that almost certainly will include a lengthy Southern filibuster against the bill. Thus, even if the Senate Finance Committee moves quickly on the tax bill, the Senate would be unable to consider it until it disposes of civil rights.

Byrd, a Virginia Democrat, said Secretary of the Treasury Douglas Dillon would be lead witness at the tax bill hearings. His announcement came yesterday after his committee voted 11 to 4 against a move by Sen. Paul Douglas, D-Ill., to speed up hearings.

"It's a very unfortunate decision," Byrd said.

City Approves $4 Million in Property Tax

Tax Rate Now Stands at $16.10 Per $1,000 of Assessed Valuation

The City Commission last night approved a $4,477,184 tax levy to finance a total $6,768,886 city budget for 1963.

The move means that Pontiac taxpayers will finally get their 1963 city and Pontiac School District tax bills the last week of October.

The city tax levy will require a tax rate of $16.10 per $1,000 of assessed property value as equalized.

This is a $2.24 rate increase over last year's $13.86 per $1,000 tax rate.

The school tax rate is $24.34 per $1,000 of assessed property as equalized.

UNANIMOUS VOTE

Commissioners voted 5-0 in favor of the amendment to the annual appropriation ordinance, which establishes final budget appropriations and revenues to finance the budget.

Commissioners Charles H. Harmon and Dick M. Kirby were absent.

The balance of the $7.7-million budget will be financed by an estimated $2,291,702 in revenue from other agencies, fees, sales and services.

The levy includes $162,944 which will be used toward eliminating reappropriated surplus as an estimated income item.

Previously, it was estimated there would be $200,000 in surplus from last year to help finance the 1963 budget.

NO SURPLUS

The annual audit showed no surplus was left.

Commissioner William H. Taylor, in voting for the budget amendment, said he opposed a $3,600 hike in the appropriation for the mayor and commission, a $7,000 hike in the finance department budget and $5,000 cut in the Police Department budget.

Taylor said the $3,600 increase added since last June, was for a personal secretary for the commission "who is in reality a personal secretary for the mayor."

The expenditure was strongly defended by Mayor Robert A. Landry and Commissioner Milton R. Henry.

OU Sets Plan for Expansion

$2.8 Million Program Due in Legislature

A $2.8-million proposal for expansion and improvements at Oakland University will be submitted to the State Legislature at the next regular session, Robert Swanson, OU business affairs director, disclosed yesterday.

Swanson said a new $2.5-million classroom building would use most of the capital outlay package, which also includes remodeling of the university's water system and extension of the main campus thoroughfare.

The OU package was authorized last week by the Michigan State University board of trustees.

The proposed three-story classroom building would provide 30 to 40 more classrooms and some faculty offices. A large lecture hall with room for 300-400 persons would be included.

NO PLANS MADE

The business director said no definite plans have been made, but indicated that construction could begin next summer with completion set for the fall of 1965, if the legislature approves.

Swanson said no site has been selected for the building.

The university will also ask the legislature to allow OU to increase student housing facilities by 500.

Swanson said this would mean two more dormitories. He explained that state funds would not be involved here. The dormitories are self-supporting.

2 Top Lefties Hurl as World Series Rolls

NEW YORK (UPI)—Two of baseball's top southpaws, Whitey Ford of the Yankees and Sandy Koufax of the Dodgers, matched their pitching wizardry today as the first game of the World Series began in ideal weather. With a hot sun beating down from a cloudless sky, a capacity crowd of nearly 70,000 was estimated at vast Yankee Stadium by game time.

A light haze enveloped the stadium, but the sun was clearing it away as first the Yankees and then the Dodgers held their batting practice.

Koufax, a 25-game winner and the Major League strikeout king, said before the game he was "raring to go" and that all traces of the flu which hit him last week "were gone."

Ford, a 24-game winner who has made winning World Series games a specialty, also said he was "in shape."

Despite the fact Koufax has a more imposing season's record than Ford, the Yankees were 6-5 favorites to win the first game and 13-10 to take the best four out of seven series.

The odds makers were taking into account Ford's past series performances. The clutch hurler for the American League champions has won 10 series games more than any other pitcher — and has won five of his six previous series first game starts.

Landry to Give 'Our Side of It'

Mayor Robert A. Landry will "give the City Commission's side" of the suspension and dismissal of former City Manager Robert A. Slierer in an address to the public next week.

The speech, according to Landry, will include a statement on the commission's position concerning the dismissal of Police Chief Joseph Koren.

Landry announced his intention to "address the people" at last night's City Commission meeting.

After the meeting he indicated he would also appoint a citizens' committee to screen applicants for the city manager's position at next Tuesday's commission meeting.

He said the commission hoped to hire a full-time city manager "as fast as possible."

Newly appointed Assistant City Manager John F. Reineck has been acting as city manager since Slierer was suspended.

Landry said that he felt "it's only fair to give the commission's side of this . . . now that it's becoming apparent that some people are back from orbit."

Storm Perils Indies Isle

PORT OF SPAIN, Trinidad (AP)—Hurricane Flora, showing signs of increased intensity and size, churned over central Caribbean shipping lanes north of Venezuela today and threatened southernmost sections of Hispaniola with gale winds.

The U.S. Weather Bureau at San Juan, Puerto Rico, said the dangerous storm would pass about 120 miles south of the peninsula of Barahona, a section of the Dominican Republic jutting to the south, early tonight.

By Thursday morning, the hurricane will be less than 100 miles south of the Haitian peninsula of Presque Isle de Saoudeste, the Weather Bureau said. The Dominican Republic and Haiti share the island of Hispaniola.

Persons in these areas were warned to prepare for heavy rains and winds up to 55 miles an hour. Gale warnings were hoisted.

The reaction of the general public has been one of joy but restraint, and there have been no public disturbances yet (10 hours after the overthrow).

ARE HAPPY

Here in the country where I am living at present, the local farmers and families are happy and hoping for a quick transition to the new government.

Even in Santiago (the second largest city) things are very quiet and well ordered. There are numerous armed soldiers on the streets, but all appear to be continuing as usual.

Dean Sets Episcopal Speech

John J. Weaver, dean of the Cathedral Church of St. Paul, will speak to the Episcopal Churchwomen of Christ Church Cranbrook Tuesday morning.

Dean Weaver, a native of Dayton, Ohio, attended the Episcopal Theological Seminary in Cambridge, Mass.

As a member of the Inner City Group, composed of some 40 Episcopal clergymen, Dean Weaver appeared before the Tri-Rennial Convention of the Episcopate and was instrumental in raising a $300,000 grant for experimentation in urban problems.

Dean Weaver has just returned from a five day study and a conference in Mississippi.

Teens Leave Big Mess

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN
DEAR ABBY: I am one waitress who always waits on teen-agers right away because I want to get rid of them. They are surly, and all they leave behind is a messy table.

DOESN'T LIKE TEENS

DEAR ABBY: Put me down as a waitress who enjoys waiting on teen-agers. I find that, like any other minority group, they behave extra nice because they do not want to reflect unfavorably on the group they represent. Give me teen-agers any time!

LIKES TEEN AGERS

DEAR ABBY: My partner and I own a small diner near a high school. We had so much trouble with the kids stealing things and breaking up the place that we put a sign in our window, "We do not solicit teenage business." A committee of parents came in and told us we were breaking the law to discriminate that way. We took down the sign and invited a few of the committee to come in and watch through the kitchen door, which had a glass window in it.

After they saw what went on they told us to go ahead and put the sign back up.

PREFERS ADULTS

DEAR ABBY: For my part I hope I never have to wait on the teen-age crowd again. For one year I waited on tables where a lot of teen-agers hung out and I have had enough of them, thank you.

They order a cup of coffee and expect you to keep it filled for an hour. They hold on to one booth no matter how many people are waiting to sit down.

And when they leave, their table and the floor around it are a disgrace. Dozens of paper napkins, cigarette butts and spilled sugar.

And they leave only an empty bottle of ketchup on the table.

SICK OF KIDS

DEAR ABBY: I don't mind having one or even two teen-agers in my drug store. But when three or more come in together, they spell trouble, and I never take my eye off them until they are out the door.

PROPRIETOR

DEAR ABBY: I run a hamburger joint and I couldn't stay in business without the kids I love them. There are good and bad, but I found out if you treat them right they will treat you right, too. So what if they make a little noise?

I'd rather have them in here yelling and screaming than to have some old pussies who open their mouths only to complain about something. Kids don't gripe if the service is a little slow. And I've never known a teen-ager to send anything back to the kitchen.

NO COMPLAINTS

DEAR ABBY: It is strange that when teen-agers come into my place during the daytime dressed in Bermudas and jeans, they act rowdy and eat like pigs!

But these same teen-agers will come in at night, dressed up in suits and pretty dresses, and they behave like ladies and gentlemen.

I like to serve them in the evenings, but not during the day!

Maybe you're the one cook who never has any leftovers; you cook just the right amount. Most of us have little dabs of this and that in the refrigerator most of the time.

Mrs. Robert Kleinhardt of Wallied Lake considers leftovers a challenge. Here's what she does when cold boiled potatoes confront her.

THE K'S CASSEROLE

By Mrs. Robert Kleinhardt
6 medium boiled potatoes
1 can condensed cheddar cheese soup
1 can luncheon meat or corned beef
Slice potatoes and meat. Mix potatoes with undiluted soup (save 2 table-spoons for topping) in casserole. Put slices of meat on top. Spread reserved soup. Bake 20 minutes at 350 degrees. Serves 5.

Working Wives' Numbers Rise

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The total number of working wives is approaching 13.5 million, or one-third of all married women with husband present.

New Department of Labor findings about the economic contribution of working wives to family income show that they supply about $5 to $6 per cent of their family's total income when they work full time and about 15 to 20 per cent when they work part time.

Teen Accidents Rise

Life insurance statisticians report the past decade has witnessed a marked rise in the death rate from motor vehicle accidents among teen-agers and young adults.

Autumn Recipes Are Bonus for Winter

Pontiac Press Food Editor
Grapes are now hanging ripe and fragrant on the vines. This is the season for making jelly and conserve and grape butter.
Some months ago Mrs.
Orville Woodworth sent us a number of recipes suitable for this time of year.
We're giving you her grape butter and her pickled beet recipes.

Many of the stalls at the farmers' market last Saturday had piles of fresh beets. Pickle some for serving on relish trays this winter.

GRAPE BUTTER
By Mrs. Orville Woodworth
5 cups Concord grapes
4 cups granulated sugar
Mix in large saucepan and simmer 20 minutes.
Put through a sieve or food mill. Reheat, but do not boil. Seal in sterilized jars.

PICKLED BEETS
Sliced cooked beets
4 cups vinegar
2 cups granulated sugar
Boil vinegar and sugar 5 minutes. Fill 6 pint jars with sliced beets. Add 2 whole cloves to each jar.
Pour hot liquid over beets.
Seal at once.

SEW SIMPLE By Eunice Farmer

Dear Eunice: If one's skirt is 2 inches shorter in front than back, how can stripes or plaids be used to the look even?

Dear Mrs. C. E. P.: If your figure is not fairly symmetrical, you should avoid stripes or plaids unless you can make the changes at the waistline. The plaid must form an even line at the hem of all

TAILOR TRIX WINNER

"If you haven't anyone to help you with marking the hem of a dress, I have found a way that works perfectly for me. Place the dress you are hemming on a clothes hanger.

New place a dress that has been hemmed correctly OVER the other dress, on the same hanger. Pin the shoulders together so they can't slip or hang unevenly.

You can now pin your new dress at the exact hemline of your finished garment. Hope it works for you as well as it has for me.

Carol Berg, Sewville, Washington, is this week's winner

skirts, dresses or coats. With any pattern adjustments, such as one hip higher than the other, it is best to use plain fabrics.

Dear Eunice: If you want a soft effect on the bodice of a sheer wool or crepe dress, as you often find in store-bought numbers, is it permissible to place the bodice on the bias rather than the straight of goods? If so, should the bodice back be cut the same way? Should these pieces be lined?

Dear Mrs. N. D.: You are very observant! The clothes this year have a very soft and feminine look, especially when a soft crepe or wool is used. You will also usually find a blouson effect in the bodice, instead of a bodice fitted with darts.

It is perfectly all right to cut both the front and the back of the bodice on the bias. In other words, the arrow on your pattern which indicates the straight of goods, should be layed on the true bias.

I wouldn't advise using darts under the bust-line, but instead, add a little extra length and also a little extra width to the lower bodice and put in two rows of gathering threads that can be garnered up to fit the skirt.

You will find this type of bodice is most becoming with a skirt that has been darted. If there is fullness above and below the waist, it will usually make you look thick through the middle.

A bodice that has been cut on the bias is very seldom lined;
you would spoil the effect you wish to achieve.

Mrs. J. S. Says: To remove loose threads after ripping a seam, place a large piece of freezer, (or other) tape around four fingers, sticky side up. Place the tape around your hand or on a small piece of board and press lightly. Removes loose threads like magic.

Dear Eunice: Is it possible for a beginner to sew a straight coat for fall?

Wash Away Creases for Fall Storage

If your toddlers have been wearing "expandable" duds, it's a good idea before storing these clothes for the winter, to rip the stitches that release more fabric where it will be needed.

Then wash these let-off fashions by machine, to remove those creases which you don't want next summer.
That way, the clothes will be clean and ready to wear when warm weather comes again.
