

Primaries Are Slated in 6 of 7 Pontiac Districts

Primary balloting will be carried out in six of Pontiac's seven voting districts March 7 when district nominees are selected for the City Commission.

Only District 3 will be without a primary election.

Twenty-five candidates submitted nominating petitions prior to yesterday's filing deadline. Twenty-three candidates will be involved in the primaries.

A primary is necessary only in districts where three or more persons have filed nominating petitions.

Only two candidates, incumbent William H. Taylor Jr. and William J. Winters, filed in District 3. Thus, they will automatically vie for the District 3 commission post on the April 18 general city election ballot.

SIX INCUMBENTS

Six incumbent commissioners are among the 23 seeking their respective district nominations in the primaries.

Districts 1, 5 and 7 have attracted the most candidates. District 1 has four commission hopefuls, while districts 5 and seven have five candidates each.

In the primary election, voters in each district will select two candidates to represent their district in the general election.

One from each district will be elected in the general election by the city at large.

1 are T. Warren Fowler Sr., William A. Garling, Charles M. Tucker Jr. and Samuel J. Whithers.

Incumbent Fowler, 59, of 58 Lake, president and founder of the Warren Fowler Electric Co. and founder of Fowler Heating and Cooling Co., is seeking his second commission term.

Garling, 40, of 502 Bloomfield, is sales manager of the Marshall Realty Co. of Pontiac.

Also in the real estate business, Tucker, 33, of 161 Earle-moor, is president of Tucker Realty Co. and Mark Mortgage Co. of Pontiac.

FIRM OWNER

Whithers, 53, of 453 Harvey, owns Sam's Electric. He served on the City Commission by appointment in 1964.

Three candidates in District 2 seek nomination in the primary election. These are incumbent Robert C. Irwin, Kenneth H. Cumberworth and Stanley Swierczynski.

Irwin, 36, of 345 W. Iroquois, seeking his second commission term, is associated with the real estate and insurance firm of John K. Irwin & Sons.

FORMER POSITIONS

A former city employee in the planning department, Swierczynski, 37, of 335 Dick, is now urban renewal director for the city of Utica.

In District 2, the City Commission last night formally designated Taylor, 59, of 247 Ottawa, and Winters, 39, of 293 Ottawa, as nominees and ordered their names to be put on the ballot for the general election.

Taylor, assistant advertising manager at Pontiac Motor Division, will be seeking his fourth term as City Commissioner, while Winters, district manager of the Michigan Universal CIT Corp., is seeking election for the first time.

Three candidates will vie for nomination in District 4. These are Leslie H. Hudson, George Grba and Clifford A. McGinnis.

SEEKS REELECTION

Incumbent Hudson, 43, of 361 Gargoy, owner of Hudson's Hardware and a real estate salesman, is bidding for his second two-year stint on the commission.

Grba, 35, of 28 Kimball, an employee of the Oakland County Department of Public Works, is making his second try for the City Commission.

Making his first attempt for an elected public office, McGinnis, 38, of 112 Adelaide, is employed at GMC Truck & Coach Division.

In District 5, incumbent John A. Dugan will vie with Loy L. Ledford, Roland W. Folk, William Hine and Gerald W. Kehoe for space on general election ballots.

FORMER MEMBER

A 10-year veteran on the commission, Dugan, 57, of 363 Nelson, is employed at Pontiac Motor Division.

A former commissioner, Ledford, 42, of 682 Linda Vista, is general manager of McCandless Carpets of Pontiac.

Employed at Fisher Body Division, Ypsilanti Plant, Folk, 36, of 628 Joslyn, is another candidate making his first bid for public office.

Hine, 31, of 490 DeSoto, a former union official, is employed at GMC Truck & Coach Division.

FORMER OFFICE

Kehoe, 54, of 599 Lenox, employed in the maintenance department at a local office of Wayne State University, is former president of Fisher Body UAW Local 596.

Three candidates have filed for nomination in District 6. These are incumbent Wesley J. Wood, Jack F. Prasil and Mrs. Charles W. Neldrett.

Wood, 59, of 11 N. Sanford, employed at GMC Truck & Coach Division, will be seeking his fourth two-year term on the commission.

PTA WORKER

Mrs. Neldrett, 54, of 62 Mariva, a teacher and manager of a local office of Wayne State University, is former president of the Michigan Congress of Parents and Teachers.

Five candidates will be on District 7 primary ballots. These are incumbent James H. Marshall, James B. Davis, Robert A. Landry, Joseph Singleton and Curtis L. Webb.

Marshall, 63, of 185 S. Jessie, retired from GMC Truck & Coach Division, was appointed to the commission in 1964 to fill the vacancy left by the death of Emmett S. Welbaum.

Davis, 46, of 288 S. Paddock, employed in GMC Truck & Coach Division, has also been a supervisor in the McConnell Community School program.

FORMER MAYOR

Former mayor Landry, 51, of 47 Center, will be seeking his fourth term on the City Commission.

Associated with Saunders & Wyatt Realty Co., Singleton, 38, of 365 S. Marshall, is another candidate seeking his first public office.

RICHARD WISNIETZKY

Gun Wound Kills Rabbi Assailant

DETROIT (AP) — Richard Wisnietzky, 23, whose brooding about the hypocrisy and inhumanity he thought he saw in the world led him to shoot down his rabbi before 600 witnesses is dead of a self-inflicted wound.

Wisnietzky, brilliant, honest, and one of the most thoughtful of his generation, shot himself in the head Saturday after twice shooting Rabbi Morris Adler, internationally known Jewish leader, as the rabbi conducted Sabbath services Saturday.

Wisnietzky died in Detroit's Providence Hospital today.

Rabbi Adler, in the intensive care unit of Sinai Hospital, remained in grave condition.

Doctors who performed brain surgery on the rabbi for the second time today, said yesterday they noted "a few small gains which suggest an improving trend."

FORMER SCHOLAR

Wisnietzky, a former Woodrow Wilson Scholar at the University of Michigan before being committed to a Michigan mental institution, had been receiving counseling from Rabbi Adler.

Near the end of Saturday's service at Shaarey Zedek Synagogue in suburban Southfield, appeared before the congregation, fired a shot into the

Romney Urges State Plan to Aid Young Lawbreakers

LANSING (AP) — Gov. George Romney called today for a state-supervised juvenile program aimed at helping rehabilitate young lawbreakers.

The recommendation came in a special message to the Legislature on crime and delinquency, in which Romney said major crime in 1965 ran at least 10 per cent ahead of 1964.

The governor repeated many of his previous proposals for fighting crime, ranging from subpoena power for the attorney general to less stringent residence requirements for deputy sheriffs.

Romney said the state must give lawbreakers under 17 years of age probation services comparable to those given older persons through circuit courts by the probation department.

"This problem has been complicated by the fact that some of our wealthier counties have been willing and able to establish strong and qualified probation staffs, while other counties have not had sufficient finances to develop a strong program," he declared.

"In the latter counties our children suffer because the probation judge cannot obtain pre-hearing investigations or sound plans of treatment or sufficient supervision if probation is required."

PROBATION PROGRAM

Romney said a juvenile probation program should be established as a career service, attractive enough to obtain competent social service and probation personnel.

It should be supervised by the state "but responsive to the needs and wishes of the judge or judge in each county," he said.

Romney suggested the Department of Social Services as the best overseer of such a program. He said the State Supreme Court and Corrections Department are other possibilities.

ready sun darkened from his Puerto Rican baseball tour.

Dressen begins his third training camp with the Tigers with more optimism than any of the seven club managers in the past 10 years.

He pulled into Lakeland after a banquet tour which carried him from Los Angeles to New York and from Boston to Puerto Rico.

The Puerto Rican visit, however, was all business, Dressen says. The Tigers have a working agreement with a team in the Puerto Rican League and the big reason for Dressen's visit was to see Mickey Stanley with the Mayaguez team.

Also with Mayaguez and leading the league in hitting is another top Tiger prospect Jim Northrup.

He expects Stanley and Northrup to be in camp next week when the pitchers and catchers report and then the remainder of the players on the major roster.

'Racial Line Divides City'

State Rights Official Explains Office Role

State civil rights officials told 50 Pontiac area civic leaders today that in their opinion Pontiac is a community divided along color lines with an economic gap between white and Negro families.

At a breakfast meeting, state officials explained the role of the Michigan Civil Rights Commission (CRC) and Pontiac's new CRC office.

Burton I. Gordin, CRC executive director, said that the 22 formal complaints from aggrieved citizens was one reason why Pontiac was selected for a part-time CRC office.

"We did not choose Pontiac because we felt or knew race relations were markedly worse here than in other Michigan communities," said Gordin.

PROBLEMS KNOWN

He pointed out that bringing problems to the surface need not be a negative interpretation that things are irreparable.

Gordin said the 22 complaints had been filed from the Pontiac area since April 1964 through January 11, 1966. Five more have been added since then.

He estimated only a third of the complaints would be justified.

Also speaking to the community leaders were Mayor Pro Tem Leslie H. Hudson and Rev. A. A. Banks Jr., Detroit pastor and a civil rights commissioner.

Act of Justice Frees City Expectant Mother

Prisoner, 18, Says He Was Drugged in Jail

Thanks to the efforts of two veteran policemen, an assistant prosecutor and a circuit judge, a young Pontiac mother won't have her baby in prison.

Due to give birth soon, Mrs. Dianne Goff was released yesterday after serving three and a half months of a 1½-year sentence in the Detroit House of Correction.

She was sentenced in October by Circuit Judge William J. Beer after pleading guilty to stealing a car.

During the trial of her husband, Dallas, last week on the same offense, new evidence came to light that she was not involved in the theft.

"She was just trying to protect her husband," said Pontiac detective William Davis. "We couldn't let her stay in jail."

FOUND GUILTY

Despite her attempt to save her husband, Goff was found guilty by a jury of unlawfully driving away an automobile and will be sentenced Feb. 23.

Following Goff's conviction, Davis and his partner James F. Fritz, went to assistant prosecutor Thomas Plunkett and told him the story. Plunkett prepared the necessary papers.

"She really wasn't a participant in the crime in the legal sense of the word," Plunkett told Beer.

In freeing Mrs. Goff, the mother of three other children ranging in age from 1 to 5 years, Judge Beer said, "A mother sets the moral tone for her children. Think about it."

TEARS FLOW

Uncontrolled tears ran down Mrs. Goff's cheeks as she left the courtroom with Davis and Fritz. They drove her to the home of her mother, Mrs. Robert R. Fisher, 405 Boyd.

"At least we set the scales of justice right today," said Beer.

County Inmate Details Assault

Prisoner, 18, Says He Was Drugged in Jail

An 18-year-old inmate at the Oakland County Jail testified in Municipal Court today he was "drugged with 'goof balls'" and then sexually assaulted by an older prisoner Feb. 3.

Marvin Taylor made the statements at the preliminary examination of James Sykes, 35, who faces charges of sodomy and assault with intent to commit sodomy.

Asst. Oakland County Prosecutor Michael Pantell then moved to bind the case over to Circuit Court for arraignment, but Judge Cecil B. McCullum granted a defense motion for adjournment pending testimony from a second prisoner.

McCullum adjourned the examination until Feb. 23, when it is expected the court will hear testimony from Versailles Rouelle, 23, presently on trial in Detroit for armed robbery.

Taylor told a crowded courtroom the attack had taken place in the early-morning hours following a night of "chaos" among inmates, who he said, were "drowny, laughing and falling out of their bunks" after taking pills passed out by Sykes.

An investigation into the incident, prompted by the beating of Sykes by other inmates, disclosed that "goofballs"—barbiturate capsules—had been smuggled into the jail in a carton of cigarettes.

"Say, who's that out there?" he interrupted suddenly. "Well, I'll be — that Lolic. He jumped right in line with the rookies."

Lolich, with a 15-9 record last season, is one of three white-kid pitchers along with Denny McLain and Joe Sparma, who Dressen feels will give the Tigers that youthful spirit and pitching for the 1966 pennant chase.

One long-familiar name was missing from the start of early camp, that of trainer Jack Home.

Home, who has been with the Tigers for 20 years, let the club know he could not report to the Lakeland camp. He was at home near Redwood City, Calif., and serious illness in his family warranted his staying on the coast indefinitely.

There's a chance of snow late this afternoon becoming mixed with rain in the extreme south portion of the state. Some hail may hit the Pontiac area tonight.

Temperatures falling to lows of 8 to 15 tonight will rise to 15 to 25 tomorrow.

Skies partly cloudy tomorrow will become generally fair Friday.

East to southeasterly morning winds at 10 to 15 miles per hour will shift to southwest to west 12 to 18 miles tonight and tomorrow.

A chilly 24 was the low reading in downtown Pontiac prior to 8 a.m. The mercury had moved up to 35 by 2 p.m.

Felons Stir Death Ban Debate

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP)—Five Tennessee convicts have caused much legislative comment but apparently no legislative change of heart with their stories of crime, remorse and redemption.

Minutes before the convicts were to address a joint meeting of the Kentucky Legislature Tuesday, the House voted down by two votes an attempt to kill a bill that would abolish the death penalty in the state.

The bill, which is considered in trouble in the House, was to come up again today. Its disposition will decide the fate of nine condemned men in Kentucky.

Included in the testimony was one convict's description of his agony as they measured his

"CALCULATED PLAY"
Rep. Phillip King, D-Covington, denounced the testimony as "a carefully calculated play on the emotions of the legislature. Joseph Cannon labeled the performance as "good showman, but indulged in rank sensationalism." It was King's tabling motion that was voted down prior to the convicts' appearance. But Gov. Edward T. Breathitt, who also favors abolition, pronounced the testimony a success and said he hoped Kentucky would imitate Operation Crime Prevention. A resolution to do so was offered almost immediately in the House.

Rep. James Bondurant, D-Hodgenville, said, "One fellow was proof that the death penalty has good use. He didn't change until he was hours away from the electric chair."

The convicts, participants in Tennessee's Operation Crime Prevention, had been invited by abolitionist legislators to show the benefits of rehabilitation and the horrors of capital punishment.

Farmington JCs Push for Pools, Auditoriums

FARMINGTON — The Jaycees are spearheading a drive to add swimming pools and auditoriums to Farmington district high schools.

The proposed construction, expected to cost some $3.5 million, would include additions at both of the district's existing high schools and the one to be completed in 1968.

Jaycees soon will begin circulating petitions to have the pool-auditorium proposition placed on the June 13 school ballot.

They are confident they will have little trouble obtaining the required 2,000 signatures from registered voters, according to Jaycee Dr. John Richardson, 34069 Alta Loma.

As chairman of the Jaycees' community development committee, Richardson has been coordinating the preliminary work on the campaign.

ATTITUDE SURVEY

The group began its drive after analyzing results of a community attitude survey it conducted last fall.

While the Jaycees received only about 300 replies, they noted a clear indication that swimming pools and auditoriums are wanted in the community.

News of the Area

Further sampling by telephone convinced the Jaycees they should back the project, Richardson said.

They picked registered voters at random and divided them into three groups.

MOST IN FAVOR

The first was asked how it felt about adding auditoriums to the schools. Among the 58 per cent of the idea outnumber those opposed three to one.

A nine-to-one favorable majority resulted from asking a group of 32 how it felt about a pool.

A question which combined both pools and auditoriums got a four-to-one favorable reaction from 90 persons queried.

While the construction could be financed with no increase in taxes, a 1-mill boost in operating taxes would have to be approved to maintain the facilities.

COST ESTIMATED

Cost estimates were calculated by architects at Linn Smith and Associates of Birmingham.

The three pools would cost an estimated $2 million and the three auditoriums about $1.5 million.

The district could borrow money to build the facilities from the state at a low interest rate. While the debt retirement levy then could be retained at its present rate, the pay-off period would be extended over a greater number of years.

Each of the 800-seat auditoriums could be divided into three teaching stations for classes by the community, board members have maintained.

UP TO PAR

"We would like to bring our schools up to a par with others in neighboring districts," Richardson said.

The facilities would allow expansion in academic areas as well as in school sports, he said, noting physical education no longer is considered an educational frill.

Jaycees believe the facilities would be widely used by the community at large, he noted.

"In the community, the median age is 18 years," Richardson said. "One-third of the population attends the public schools."

BACKS DRIVE

The board of education has informally endorsed the Jaycees campaign.

School trustees traditionally have excluded pools and auditoriums from school building bond issues, contending that the need for classrooms should be primary.

A proposal to build pools and auditoriums should be initiated by the community, board members have maintained.

The Jaycees will begin circulating petitions as soon as they are prepared by schools attorney Robert Kelly.

Bearing the signatures of 10 per cent of the voters registered in the last school election, the petitions are to be returned to the board early in April.

3 Children Escape Injury in Home Fire

WEST BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP — Three children of Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Huntley narrowly escaped serious injury yesterday afternoon when fire swept through their single-story frame home at 4346 Forbush.

The blaze started in a back bedroom and spread quickly throughout the house, destroying the family's belongings and leaving the structure a gutted-out shell.

Three of the Huntleys' six children, 10 months, 2½ and four years old, were asleep in the bedroom when the fire began. Mrs. Huntley was able to pull the baby and the 4-year-old out of the room, but the flames prevented her from reaching the third child.

"I ran back through the flames and pulled Melinda from the room," said Huntley. "It was a close call and her hair was badly singed."

Mrs. Huntley ran to a nearby home to summon help. Fire-fighting units from five departments, West Bloomfield Township, Union Lake, Commerce Township, Walled Lake and Waterford Township were called to the scene.

Reading Program in Works

Utica Schools to Seek U.S. Aid Funds

UTICA — School officials here are in the process of mapping out a remedial reading program which will net them $62,000 in federal aid funds.

The funds are made available under Title I of the Elementary and Secondary Education Act and are aimed at assisting educationally deprived children.

The amount of money granted to a district is based on the number of children from economically distressed families within its boundaries. An economically distressed family is defined as one earning less than $2,000 a year.

School officials point out that the funds are distributed on the basis of the 1960 census, at which time Utica had few economically distressed families.

They note that the district would receive more money if based on the number of families now in the district. The area's population has more than doubled since 1960.

Possible programs to be established with the money include elementary counselors and special reading programs.

RESUBMIT APPLICATION

The district has also resubmitted its application for a $30,000 grant under Title III, which grants funds for planning projects.

Utica, Romeo, Warren Consolidated and Chippewa Valley schools combined to apply for the grant to meet the stipulation that a district have 30,000 students enrolled to be eligible.

Only two applications from the state were accepted by the State Department of Education. The Utica application was returned for further details.

March 17 and March 22 have been designated as hearing dates before the State Labor Mediation Board for the district's secretaries and teachers.

ELECTION DATES

Dates for an election to determine a sole bargaining agent for each group are to be determined at the hearing.

The Utica Education Association and the Utica Federation of Teachers are each seeking to act as sole bargaining agent for the teachers.

The Utica Community Schools Educational Secretaries Association has also asked for the right to represent the secretaries.

The request was contested by the International Union of American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees, which wants exclusive representation of maintenance workers and other non-teaching personnel.

American consumption of hamburgers, frankfurters and the like has been growing at the rate of 5 per cent a year.

'66 Feed Grain Program Offers New Bases—County Official

Farmers will be permitted to establish new feed grain bases under the 1966 Feed Grain Program, according to Marshall L. Mohney, director of the Oakland County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service (ASCS).

Farmers who did not plant feed grains in 1959 and 1960 can establish a new base if they meet eligibility requirements, Mohney said.

To be eligible for a new feed grain base, Mohney said the operator must expect to receive 50 per cent or more of his livelihood in the current year from the production of agricultural commodities on the farm, must have had at least two years' experience in the production of feed grain in the last five years and must have adequate equipment for the production of feed grains.

The land must be suitable for the production of feed grains and neither the owner nor the operator may have an interest in any other farm for which a feed grain base has been established.

Interested producers who can meet these requirements should contact the County ASCS Office not later than March 1 and file an application, Mohney said.

PRICE SUPPORT

A farm for which a new farm base is established may earn price support by diverting the minimum, but can earn no diversion payment. Farmers must divert the minimum to be eligible for price support loans or purchases.

The Oakland County ASCS Office is now located at 4515 Highland, one mile east of the airport on M59. Office hours are Monday-Friday, 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. and 6 to 9 Wednesdays.

Imlay City Teachers to Vote March 10

IMLAY CITY—Teachers here will cast their ballots March 10 for one organization to represent them in future negotiations with the board of education.

The Imlay City Federation of Teachers and the Imlay City Education Association are both seeking the right to act as sole bargaining agent for the teachers.

Voting will be from 3:15 to 5 p.m. at Imlay City Elementary School.

Band Director at EMU to Be Guest Conductor

TROY — Thomas Tyra, director of bands at Eastern Michigan University, will be guest conductor at Baker Junior High School's annual Winter Band Concert at 8 this evening.

Tyra will conduct one of his own arrangements, "Two Gaelic Folk Songs." Both the seventh grade and concert bands will perform.

TO HEAD DEMOLAY — Steven D. Wright, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert D. Wright of 105 Wabash, Avon Township, will be installed Friday as master counselor of Rochester chapter, International Order of DeMolay for Boys, at 7:30 p.m. at the Rochester Masonic Temple.

WELCOME ADDITION — One-month-old Tamara Jo holds an honored position in the Thomas family. The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roger Thomas of 1306 Miller, Orion Township, she is the first girl born in the family in 62 years. She was born Jan. 15 in St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, Pontiac.

Troy Lighting Bid Tabled

TROY — The City Commission Monday night tabled a request from the Biltmore Development Co. for street lighting in Somerset Park until it can set up a general policy on street lighting.

City Manager Paul York said there have been several requests for street lighting and that the Commission feels it should have a policy covering the lighting.

The Commission also awarded a contract to Norwest Lumber and Salvage Co. of Farmington for the demolition of seven condemned buildings.

Norwest submitted the low bid of $3,310 to tear down dwellings at 1010 Birchwood, 5146 Daniels, 189 Evaline, 1891 Millerton, 3388 Rochester, 1123 Vermont and 83 Woodside.

Slate Pancake Supper

LAKE ORION—The custom of eating pancakes on the Tuesday before Lent will be observed with a pancake supper from 5:30 to 7:30 p.m. Feb. 22 at St. Mary's-in-the-Hills Episcopal Church, 2512 Joslyn.

The supper will be held in cooperation with St. Alfred's Episcopal Church. The public is invited to attend.

Depends on Precipitation

'Groundwater Unpredictable'

LANSING (AP) — While the Great Lakes levels are climbing, Michigan's groundwater tables do not necessarily have to follow suit, the U.S. Geological Survey said yesterday.

The U.S. Army Corps of Engineers' lake survey expects that by July, the Great Lakes levels will be above the average for the past 10 years.

But A. D. Ash, district chief of the Geological Survey's water resources division, said groundwater levels are unpredictable, record at Roscommon — and late freeze.

The Great Lakes, he said, draw on a large area for their water and past experience gives a basis for predicting their levels.

LOCAL PRECIPITATION

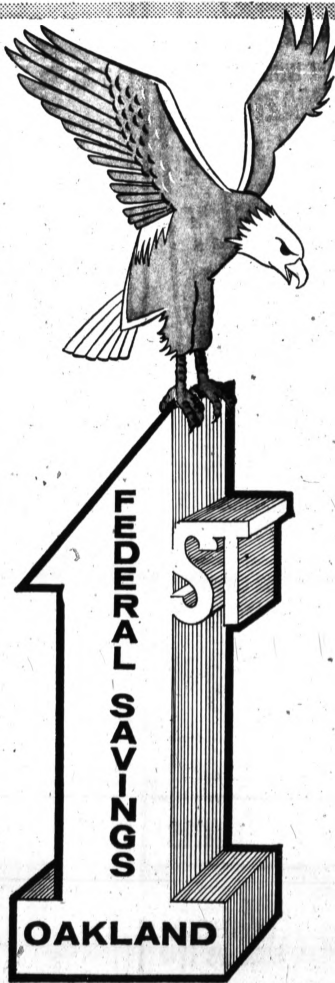

But, he said, local groundwater levels depend on local precipitation.

In January, Upper Peninsula levels were about average, northern Lower Peninsula levels were high — hitting a January five, primarily because of the late freeze.

southern Lower Peninsula levels were low, except in Gratiot and Kalamazoo counties.

Inland lake levels were at about the median in all except the southeastern portion of Michigan, where they were about one half inch below the 200-year median.

Stream flow in northern Lower Michigan and in the Upper Peninsula was described as excessive, primarily because of the late freeze.

High School Grads Will Need Expert Job Advice

By LESLIE J. NASON, Ed.D.
High school graduates planning to start their careers this summer face many problems. Most of them need the advice of experts.

Since the fathers of these teen-agers graduated from high school, some 6,000 new kinds of occupations and professions have been added. And some of the occupations available to the fathers have disappeared. It takes a specialist to keep up with the changes in job information. The office of your State Employment Service offers free vocational testing and employment counseling. A growing number of private agencies provide this service on a fee basis.

Granted that it takes careful planning for a high school senior to get into the college of his choice, certainly an entry into today's complex work world deserves as much planning and effort.

The initiative belongs with the student. March and April are not too early to discover abilities and interests and match them with available job opportunities. Counselors can give advice and guidance.

But counselors themselves often find it difficult to keep up-to-date on this information.

The Bureau of Labor Statistics, U.S. Department of Labor, at Washington, D.C., recognizing this need, publishes an Occupational Outlook Handbook and an Occupational Outlook Quarterly. In these, counselors can find job descriptions and necessary qualifications.

Added to these is a new source of information from the U.S. Dept. of Labor's Office of Manpower, Automation and Training. One hundred different items are available in mimeographed form under the title,

"Abstracts of Sociological Literature on Occupations."

Each summary covers a different occupation. Jobs range from actors to watch makers. Each contains "Implications for Counseling" written by an experienced counseling psychologist.

The abstracts can be consulted at 87 depository libraries throughout the country. To check on whether one of these libraries is in his area, a counselor can write directly to the Office of Research, Office of Manpower, Automation and Training, U.S. Dept. of Labor, Washington, D.C. 20212, or write to the Library of Congress, Washington, D.C. 20540.

He also can check with his public library to see if it has a copy of Manpower Research and Training Under the Manpower Development and Training Act of 1962. The list of depositories is on Pages 209, 210, of that publication.

The graduating senior should not discard the possibility of entering a job area merely because he finds himself unqualified because of a lack of technical and specialized training. He should face the issue early and make plans for entry into a training program that will lead to jobs that are available.

Radio Wave Travel Studied

By Science Service

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. — A microwave method for studying the way radio waves travel through the synthetic atmospheres of other planets is under development here.

Microwave power at frequencies as high as 21 trillion cycles per second has been obtained by scientists at Martin Co.'s Orlando Division, working under a contract directed by the National Aeronautics and Space Administration's Electronics Research Center, Cambridge, Mass.

The technique used was to mix two finely tuned microwave signals by means of a silicon crystal and tungsten whisker.

The development holds out the possibility of telecommunications at 21 trillion cycles, with possible extension of even higher frequencies.

This power will be used to study the propagation characteristics of artificial planetary atmospheres. The studies are part of NASA's long-range research program in deep space communications.

Federal Power Would Short-Circuit States

Another Federal attempt to reach into the jurisdictional area of states is expected soon.

Now on a low burner in the House Ways and Means Committee, the Administration's H. R. bill 8282 may soon come to a boil.

The bill would overhaul the unemployment system that has well served the Country for three decades. Under it, the states had virtual autonomy in formulating the ground rules and administration of them, with the Federal government acting as a limited silent partner.

But the legislation now proposed, while theoretically continuing the partnership, would in effect make it one of lions and antelopes.

Every significant regulation and requirement henceforth would be prescribed on a national basis. For the first time, the Federal government would make direct payments of unemployment compensation benefits—another political gimmick, maybe, to bring into the national fold a sizable bloc of dependent voters? It would also end permissible state experimentation and employer rate-differential based on unemployment experience.

Among other specious implications of the bill is the one that states have failed to keep pace with economic changes in the past 30 years.

But the statistics adduced are essentially phony, because it is meaningless to compare gross average weekly wages of 1935 with comparable wages today without taking into account the enormous increase in payroll deduction for income tax and social security. A comparison of average take-home pay would show a far different picture.

As has been so often proved, half truths are one of the most potent weapons of demagogues.

The many friends and business associates of GELSTON V. POOLE were shocked and saddened to learn of his death in Pittsburgh.

A native of Pontiac, Mr. POOLE graduated from Pontiac High School and attended Michigan Agricultural College (MSU) before joining and eventually heading J. Poole Co. founded by his father.

Mr. POOLE was an active participant in the civic affairs of the City whose engaging personality found expression as a member of various service, fraternal and character-building organizations. He was a past president of the YMCA board of directors.

The community can ill afford the loss of such estimable characters as GELSTON POOLE and he will be profoundly missed by all who were privileged to know him.

U.S. Food Prices Low in Relation to Income

Rising prices bedevil great numbers of American families. Inflation has cut deeply into the dollar's purchasing power and continues to cut. Yet, there are essentials that all of us buy which can be regarded as bargains today. And one of them is food.

A publication of an eastern food chain system tells the story. In 1912, the average family had an income of $11 a week and spent 40 per cent of it for food. Today, that average income exceeds $125 and only $25 of it goes for food—and it is more and better food.

Comparisons with other countries are revealing, too. The American worker's food bill runs to about 19 per cent of his earnings. In England, the figure is 29 per cent; in France 31 per cent; in Italy 45 per cent—and in Russia, a staggering 53 per cent.

The productive power and efficiency of the American farmer must be given much of the credit for this. But other factors play a major role as well.

The system of American retailing is one of them. Working on the mass distribution principle, typical retailers operate at a profit that is almost unbelievably low. In the case of food, the chain store publication points out that the average family spends $1,170 a year for it—and the average retail profit on that sum is just $15.

Yes indeed—food is really a bargain.

By SPENCER DAVIS

WASHINGTON (AP)—Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey's assurances of support to Thailand's leadership underscores the deep U.S. concern for an area handicapped by Peking for subversion—the northeast plateau on the Mekong River border with Laos.

It is an area of Thailand where living standards are lower, crops less plentiful and the livelihood for its 10 million much more difficult than in the rest of the country.

It is a region where the United States says that Communist China is directly instigating and supporting a movement designed to overthrow the existing government.

In a speech on U.S.-China policy last weekend, Assistant Secretary of State William P. Bundy said the Peking strategy is to replace the present government with a regime responsive to Peking's will.

"This is what we are seeing today in the form of a so-called Thai Patriotic Front established and supported from mainland China," Bundy said. "This is the direct form of Communist Chinese tactic that must be met."

Means of meeting the threat through concerted economic and military action are reflected in the American bases and supply depots and the expanded aid effort being made in the Northeast.

In November 1964, Peking announced the formation of a Thai independence movement intended to spark a war of national liberation. In January 1965, a second group called the Thai Patriotic Front was formed.

The headquarters of both organizations seemed to spring out of a clandestine radio operating from the Mekong River border region in Communist-held northern Laos.

Last November, the two groups combined. Their purpose: to depose the royal government, abolish treaties with the United States, oust U.S. troops from Thailand, encourage agricultural production and distribute land to the peasants.

Foreign Minister Chen Yi of Red China had predicted there would be a liberation war in Thailand by the end of 1965.

This timetable was upset. But U.S. expert analysts found evidence last fall that Peking ordered an intensification of the struggle through terrorist activity in northeast Thailand.

The bombing of North Viet Nam and steadily increasing numbers of American troops sent to Southeast Asia in the last half of 1965 may have jarred the Red timetable for Thailand.

Makes A Difference Who's Being Defended!

David Lawrence Says:

Communication Is Top Problem

WASHINGTON—A headline one day tells of 40 to 50 Americans killed in Viet Nam, and a headline not many days later tells of 1,400 Viet Cong Communists slain as a result of air strikes, ambushes, and counterattacks by troops of the United States and South Viet Nam.

Do the leaders of the North Viet Nam government realize the true meaning of these tragedies? Do they know that in America the people are saddened by the casualties suffered on both sides in a war which brushes aside the age-old commandment that man shall not kill his fellow man?

Communication is today's biggest single problem. Billions are being spent to get to the moon and survey other planets, but communication between the peoples of the earth is still inadequate.

It can hardly be doubted that, if the people of North Viet Nam could reveal what is in their hearts, they would express their grief over the deaths of their fellow countrymen in the South, just as the South Vietnamese would manifest the same sorrow over the losses of their own nationals in the North.

But how is the spirit of humanity to be conveyed and made a potent influence in shaping the destiny of countries large and small?

NO CONTACT

Unfortunately, many of the churches of today have not found a means of really reaching other peoples with spiritual messages.

There have been, to be sure, some wonderful achievements by missionaries from America and other countries. They began many decades ago to make sacrifices to aid fellow human beings in jungles and primitive areas in far-away lands. But the work is still too limited in its scope.

In all nations, including Red China and the Soviet Union, millions of persons know in their hearts that wars of aggression are plainly unjustified.

What has not yet been accomplished is the mobilization of moral force among all peoples so that ways and means of settling disputes by nonmilitary methods may be put into effect.

MUTUAL CONFIDENCE

To accept mediation or any other form of peace-making requires mutual confidence. The motives of other peoples, however peace-loving they may be, are too often misrepresented, and these distortions produce widespread resentments.

The answer lies in better communication. Other peoples must learn that the American people are instinctively in favor of saving human lives.

Cannot individual Catholics,

Protestants, Buddhists, Confucianists and members of local sects in Viet Nam carry the spiritual messages of truth to one another?

The inclination has been to rely on the abstract techniques of diplomacy between governments, when actually public opinion at the grass roots can more readily mold the acts of the governments themselves.

IMMEDIATE NEED

The immediate need, however, is to reach the hearts and minds of the leaders of North Viet Nam. This can be done

Underprivileged Teens Object of Big Gamble

By RUTH MONTGOMERY WASHINGTON—Twenty thousand "disadvantaged" high school kids will be upward bound next summer, with their sights newly set on a college education, if a $20 million federal gamble pays off.

"Upward Bound" is the name of one of the shiniest projects in Sargent Shriver's bag of tricks for lifting poverty.

A sort of Head Start program for teenagers, it is aimed chiefly at 10th and 11th graders in the lower scholastic levels, who because of poor environment had never lifted their horizons enough even to consider going on to college.

Its director is Richard T. Fost, who has just relinquished the vice presidency of Reed College in Oregon to test his hunch that "edgy, feisty kids" from slums and downtrodden rural areas can develop into community leaders if opportunity knocks hard enough.

Project Upward Bound began as a pilot program last summer, with about 2,100 teen-agers from underprivileged Negro and white homes.

UNDERWRITING TUTORING

On 18 college campuses they underwent some "extensively beefed-up" tutoring in reading, writing and arithmetic.

Fifteen hundred of them are now freshmen in college, and Fost freely admits that "I wake up at night wondering how they're doing."

Recruiting will begin in April for the 20,000 high school students who will get Upward Bound training on college campuses next summer. Their expenses will be paid, plus a $10 weekly stipend.

If they later go on to college, as hoped, they must rely on other groups which Uncle Sam is providing through the poverty program. These include federal scholarships, federal loans and the work-study program.

'Children Are Confused by Examples of Adults'

It is no wonder our children are confused as to the standards of right and wrong. I have seen scores of adults cross a street on the "wait" sign while children obediently wait at the curb. I have barely missed being hit broadside by a car whizzing through a just-turned-red light when the yellow light should have been the cue for braking. The children watch my speedometer and know I'm going the speed limit, then wonder why another car passes us. My seven-year-old asks why people are smoking at PTA when the sign says "no smoking."

These are little things, yet our children watch and imitate the little things. Soon the little inconsistencies carry over into the big decisions. NOT GOING ALONG WITH THE CROWD

Comments on Lawsuits in Hospital Deaths

After reading the accounts of the deaths at Pontiac Osteopathic Hospital, I can see where the plaintiffs feel there was neglect and carelessness attributable to the staff, as charged in the lawsuits. There is more than one defendant named which should dispel any thought of a single act of carelessness causing the unfortunate deaths. The deaths were a regrettable accident but many feel they were avoidable.

Readers Discuss Writing of Scriptures

In answer to "Reader of History" true, the Bible wasn't all written during the life of Jesus Christ, but some of the writers were eyewitnesses of the happenings, such as Matthew and John. However, all the writers were inspired by God so we can count on it all being the truth.

ONE WHO IS STUDYING AND LEARNING

Why should the "Reader of History" be disturbed because none of the "gospels" were written during the life of Jesus? Very few college textbooks were written during the lifetime of the great men about whom they tell and yet he doesn't doubt them.

Although the four Gospels were not written while Jesus was on earth, they were written by two of his closest companions and two others who wrote after careful research into the matter. The apostle Matthew's account is believed by most authorities to have been written in A.D. 41, or less than eight years after Jesus' death. We can put faith in what these "Gospel" Books say because they are in complete agreement, and because Timothy assures us that they are "inspired of God."

Incidentally, Jesus himself wrote the last book of the Bible using the apostle John as his amanuensis. ONE OF JEHOVAH'S WITNESSES

Comments on Sentences of Lawbreakers

James Bryant is placed on probation and fined $100. Here is another case of a soft with the crook and victimize the victim. The ten-year-old girl got away after one-half mile of fear and wasn't harmed. But what was his intention? Rape? Ransom? Now he's loose and spring is almost upon us when we must caution children against strangers and cross our fingers.

Representatives in Lansing should leave driving records and point standings available to insurance companies and the public and they should pass the implied consent drunken driving bill. Social pressure didn't force Senator Brown to consent and it won't the guilty ones we want to catch. If the insurance companies don't have access to driving records none of us will be able to get insurance or all our rates will go even higher.

A Tired American

The Rock County (Minn.) Herald

I am a tired American. I'm tired of being called the ugly American.

I'm tired of having the world panhandlers use my country as a whipping boy 365 days a year.

I am a tired American weary of having American embassies and information centers stoned, burned, and sacked by mobs under orders from dictators.

I am a tired American weary of Nasser and all the other blood-sucking leeches who bleed Uncle Sam white and who kick him on the shin and yank his beard if he falls faster.

I am a tired American weary of the beatniks who say they should have the right to determine what laws of the land they are willing to obey.

I am a tired American fed up with mobs of scabby-faced, long-haired youths and short-haired girls who claim they represent the "new wave" of America and who sneer at the old-fashioned virtues of honesty, integrity and morality on which America grew to greatness.

I am a tired American who is tired of supporting families who haven't known any other source of income other than government relief checks for three generations.

I am a tired American who is getting madder by the minute at the fifth peddlers who have launched Americans in an obscenity race.

I am a tired American weary of the bearded monks who tramp the picket lines and the sit-ins—who prefer Chinese communism to capitalism—who see no evil in Castro, but sneer at President Johnson as a threat to peace. I am a tired American who has lost all patience with civil rights groups which are showing propaganda movies on college campuses from coast to coast. Movies denouncing the United States and made in Communist China.

I am a tired American who resents those who try to peddle the belief in schools and colleges that capitalism is a dirty word and that free enterprise and private initiative are only synonyms for greed. They say the hate capitalism but they are always right at the head of the line demanding their share of the American way of life.

I am an American who gets a jump in his throat when he hears a "Star Spangled Banner" and who holds back tears when he hears those chilling high notes of the brass trumpets when Old Glory reaches the top of the flag pole.

I am a tired American who shares a certain kind of pride that he was lucky to be born an American citizen—a nation under God, with truly mercy and justice for all.

Africans Are First to Suffer From Curbs on Rhodesia

SALISBURY, Rhodesia (AP)—"These sanctions are terrible, boss," the African taxi driver said.

He was driving into Salisbury from the airport. Red flowering flamboyant trees and the pale, pastel blossoms of frangipani trees idled past the windows. In the distance was the skyline of Salisbury, glistening in the warm sun.

"I have six kids, boss," the taxi driver went on. "Four boys and two girls. If they go to school they all have to have school uniforms and money for fees. I want them to go to school."

The African wasn't whining or complaining. To him the problem of Rhodesia's independence was stripped of constitutional significance and all questions of racial equality or "one man, one vote."

OIL EMBARGO

The oil embargo and gasoline rationing had come along suddenly and endangered what is a respectable job for an African. He is working only three days a week now instead of six.

His reaction was: "What is this Mr. Wilson trying to do to us?"

He was talking about Prime Minister Harold Wilson of Britain, who has cut off trade with Rhodesia.

"I come home from work. We eat and the kids say they are still hungry. I won't want any more kids. I should have only four—two boys and two girls," the driver continued.

STOPPED EATING

The African said he had stopped eating during the day so there would be more food for all in the evening. His six children still complained.

"A European lady told me we were going to get gasoline from South Africa," he said. "Where is it?"

The taxi driver was confirming what almost everybody has seen from the beginning of Britain's economic war against the rebellious colony. The first to suffer is the African.

Unemployment figures are not published now, but Africans are losing their jobs as industries slow down and business houses retrench. There are more signs saying "Hapana basa"—no work.

WILL SUFFER MOST

"The Africans in the cities will suffer most," said Chad Chipunza, an African member of the Rhodesian Parliament who has challenged the legality of Prime Minister Ian Smith's government.

"They have nothing to fall back on when they lose their jobs," he said. "The Africans in the reserves will go on living as before, growing their own food. African farm workers may have their pay cut, but they will go on eating."

Apart from the gasoline rationing, the 25,000 Europeans in Rhodesia have scarcely been touched by sanctions so far. A shortage of cereal breakfast foods has developed, and imported cookies are disappearing from grocery shelves.

Imported canned goods probably will be disappearing soon, but Rhodesia produces most of its basic foodstuffs, including meat. Most fruits and vegetables are grown and canned here and locally produced frozen vegetables also are available.

WHISKY ABUNDANT

The supply of Scotch whisky is so abundant the dealers have been able to indulge in a price war. It has been selling for $4.50 a quart, American bourbon, at $4.90.

To conserve gasoline, the post office is reducing the number of mailboxes in the city. Mail will no longer be cleared from most boxes on Sundays and holidays.

6 Hours Before Slaying

Powers Is Placed Near Mossler Home

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — State testimony has placed Melvin Lane Powers near the home of his uncle less than six hours before the multimillionaire was slain.

The state currently is directing its efforts toward a complicated but fascinating phase of the first-degree murder trial. It is attempting to prove the element of opportunity — which involves the painstaking re-tracing of the defendant's footsteps in an effort to show that he was in the vicinity of the crime and therefore could have committed it.

Powers is on trial for his life after her nephew was jailed on a murder charge.

In an affidavit submitted in Judge George Schulz' courtroom Tuesday in the absence of the jury, Measmer was quoted as saying that during a sexual interlude in September 1964, Mrs. Mossler remarked that "it wasn't fair for Mel and she hated to think of him being in jail."

Measmer in his affidavit said Mrs. Mossler asked him to tell a Miami grand jury that her husband, less than three months dead, was a homosexual. The defense has contended that Mossler could have been slain by a fellow member in an underworld of sexual perversion.

State witnesses said Tuesday that Powers placed a telephone call to Miami from Houston, Tex., the day before the slaying. He rushed aboard a flight to the Florida city and ended up near Mossler's Key Biscayne apartment with an empty soda bottle — a possible death weapon.

Complicating the case against Mrs. Mossler and her nephew was an unsummoned witness, potentially reluctant to serve as a state's witness. He is William Measmer of Sanford, N.C., who said he became Mrs. Mossler's lover after her nephew was jailed on a murder charge.

Another state witness, Paul O'Neil, a mechanic at the firm, said that Powers was anxious to get away from the trailer firm that day because "he had to go on a trip."

At 2:10 p.m. June 29, Mary Mossler was dead — with the grand jury failed to call him.

He rushed up to the ticket office breathless and said I have to get on this flight," she recounted.

One of the flight stewardesses, Barbara Ann Barrer, said the plane landed at Miami International Airport at 5:30 p.m. with Powers aboard.

The day's last witness, Marshall Kline, 40, was tending bar at Miami's Stuff Shirt lounge near the causeway, leading to his apartment. He testified Powers was in the cocktail lounge about 8 or 8:30, had a drink and left after asking for an empty Coca-Cola bottle.

Less than six hours later, Mossler was dead — with the grand jury failed to call him.

Powers appeared at the Houston airport. He was not homosexual. The state asked that Measmer be called as a witness of the court.

Byron T. Ransdell, a telephone company manager in Texas, testified Tuesday that his office recorded a call at 11:16 a.m. June 29, 1964 — the day before the slaying — from Powers' trailer sales firm near Houston. It was made to Miami but the witness did not know who was calling whom.

Another state witness, Paul O'Neil, a mechanic at the firm, said that Powers was anxious to get away from the trailer firm that day because "he had to go on a trip."

At 2:10 p.m. June 29, Mary Mossler was dead — with the grand jury failed to call him.

Viet Cong Using Terrorism as Persuasive Weapon

(EDITOR'S NOTE — The failure to put together a nationwide working political system is a big reason for Communist control of large areas of South Viet Nam. An outstanding cause has been Viet Cong terror tactics.)

By HUGH MULLIGAN

PHU THANH, South Viet Nam (AP) — Just before moon rise on a sultry, star-bright night, the Communist cadre slipped into the village. They moved silently down the long swaying shadows cast by the tall coconut palms and set upon their loudspeakers outside the house of Le Van Tien.

The message that they broadcast was curt and clear enough for all Le's neighbors to hear: Unless Le resigned his appointment as platoon leader of the new government outpost on the banks of the Cai Sao Canal, his wife would be kidnapped and his aging parents murdered.

GRAB CARBINE

Le Van Tien grabbed his carbine and fired out the window into the darkness, but his visitors had fled. It already was an old story at the new outpost.

The Cai Sao outpost had been completed a few months before by the South Viet Nam government, with the help of American funds and building materials, to protect this key rice growing village in the Mekong Delta from being overrun by the Viet Cong. It had sturdy, four-foot thick walls, a tall metal roofed tower for the machine gun crew, and was manned by a well-trained, well-equipped popular force platoon, a sort of 27-April 2 as Future Home local home guard recruited from among the villagers. The Michigan and April as Mobile little barbed-wire enclosed fort month.

was considered a model defense against guerrilla attack. But it had trouble keeping a platoon leader.

The first was Le's father-in-law, who had fought the Japanese, the French and the Communists. Two days after taking over, his body was found floating in the canal. Le's older brother assumed command. Next night the loudspeakers blared. Nothing happened for a month. Two months, then Le's brother drove to Vinh Long, the province capital, on his motor scooter and was never seen again.

Viet Cong terror. The Cai Sao

Methods Analyst Used His Noodle

SEATTLE, Wash. (AP) — A. W. Hallberg took a job with the Boeing Co. last month as a methods analyst.

Soon after he started the job, he found it took him 45 minutes to drive to or from work. He could see the Boeing plant from his home, just a short distance across Lake Washington. So Hallberg, who was a commercial fisherman during his college days and served in the Coast Guard, took to the water. Each trip now takes 10 minutes of rowing and 10 of walking.

Special Times Slated

LANSING (AP) — Gov. George Romney has proclaimed March 27-April 2 as Future Home local home guard recruited from among the villagers. The Michigan and April as Mobile little barbed-wire enclosed fort month.

outpost couldn't be overrun, but it could be undermined. Two hundred miles farther north, on the morning after Le Van Tien got his warning, Dang Huu Hong, chief of the jungle province of Quang Duc, went for a ride in his jeep.

Dang Huu Hong was a gracious, urbane man, brave too. He had been a high school principal in Tay Son, 65 miles from Hanoi, before the Communists took over and he fled south to fight against them.

The jungle people loved him, even the Montagnards, the aboriginal mountain people who usually had no love for the Vietnamese. He built them schools and hospitals, visited in their villages, even among the lepers, always had time for the children, perhaps because he had no of his own.

One burst of a 50-caliber machine gun cut him down. It was hidden in the depression of a hill, where the road wound out of the 100-foot high trees into a clearing.

QUIET LEADERS

Viet Cong terror. Eliminate the leaders.

On another day in another village, Dak Pek, on the border of Laos high in the Annamite Mountains, 50 rounds of mortar bombs fell on the little red school house built by the American special forces team. The school teachers fled. Then the little roofed church was set on fire. The priests fled. At Song Be, another special forces camp, guerrilla infiltrators broke into the dispensary and shot up the wounded. The doctors and nurses fled.

Viet Cong terror. Eliminate those in authority, anyone whom the people respect: Doctors, nurses, priests, teachers.

January of this year was supposed to be a quiet month in which both the government and the Viet Cong stopped the war to celebrate Tet, the Vietnamese new year.

EDITORIAL WRITER

Early in January, Tu Chung, an anti-Communist editorial writer on a pro-government Saigon newspaper, was gunned down after repeated threats against his life. On Jan. 8, John Haywood, a missionary with the Worldwide Evangelization Crusade, was machine gunned to death as he stepped from his stationwagon on the highway between Da Nang and Hue. As the month ended, six members of a government psychological warfare team, returning from an inspection of village and hamlet information programs, were ambushed on a road 25 miles northwest of Saigon by gunmen wearing khaki uniforms.

Viet Cong terror. Eliminate the opinion makers.

In a single week in January, the quiet month, the South Vietnamese government logged 1,000 incidents of terror: Sabotage, village raids, kidnappings, bombs hurled at police barracks, bridges blown, village hamlets and district leaders shot, buried alive or burned to death, death as he stepped from his stationwagon on the highway between Da Nang and Hue. As the month ended, six members of a government psychological go: The leaders in every walk of influence and leadership had a terribly vitiating effect on the attempts of the government in Saigon to put together a viable political system throughout the country.

TOTALS HIGH

Since the Americans began pouring into South Viet Nam, incidents of violence against local officials have dropped sharply, even significantly, but the totals still are appalling. From July 1 to Nov. 30, the last month for which figures are available, there were 183 hamlets, village and district chiefs killed and another 180 kidnapped. In all, in 1965, there were 28,000 incidents of terror, resulting in more than 12,000 recorded kidnappings and killings. The toll in terms of people of Finland was the first country in Europe to grant women the right to vote in 1906.

Mrs. Risoldi Holds Letter From Japanese

Japanese Aid Grieving Family

ISELIN, N.J. (AP) — Until a few days ago, Mr. and Mrs. Gregory Risoldi had few material things to remind them of their 18-year-old Marine son killed in Viet Nam.

There was the large American flag that had draped his coffin, the spent rifle shells given them by the honor guard that fired a volley over his grave and a $25 U.S. defense bond purchased with money the son had sent home just before his death.

Then an article about the parents and the death of their son, Pfc. Vincent Risoldi, appeared in a Japanese newspaper — Yomiuri Shimbun.

Since then things have not been the same at the Risoldi household. "We have received over 100 letters from Japanese children, teen-agers and adults telling us how much they sympathize with us and how they have offered prayers for our boy, Chipper," Mrs. Risoldi said.

Most of the letters are beautiful in the simplicity of their wording — youngsters using Japanese-to-English dictionaries to express themselves.

"I knew by newspaper that your son died in Viet Nam," wrote one 16-year-old Tokyo girl. "I think you are very sad for comfortable reason."

Said another teen-ager: "As I am poor in English, I cannot express my thought very well. But I venture to say that I extend my heart-felt sympathy to you."

5 CHILDREN Mrs. Risoldi said she and her husband and five children have been included in many of the letters.

"Some of the letters were addressed to the whole family," she said. "And some mentioned our baby — Lisa Ann — who recited that his parents buy him something for the baby Mrs. Risoldi expected."

Most of the letters contained defense bond," she said. "I know Chipper would agree with years old," said one letter. "I know in today's paper that your son has died in Viet Nam. I do not know war but my father and mother know the World War II. My grandfather knows the First World War and second World War too. They are bad."

Young Risoldi died last June in Saigon after undergoing surgery for internal injuries suffered in an accident.

"They never said anything more than that he was involved in an accident while returning from guard duty," Mrs. Risoldi said. "I never pressed for an explanation. He's dead and nothing they tell me about his death will ever bring him back."

In the last letter he wrote to his parents before he died, the young Marine sent $20 and dinner baby — Lisa Ann — who recited that his parents buy him something for the baby Mrs. Risoldi expected.

"We bought the baby a $25 defense bond," she said. "I know Chipper would agree with SAIGON (UPI) — American pilots stepped up the air war on both sides of the 17th parallel today and heavy fighting was reported on four fronts in the South. U.S. Army troops added to the massive toll of Communist dead in the An Lao Valley sector.

Viet Cong guerrillas briefly overran a government outpost about 10 miles south of the U.S. Marine base at Da Nang, but were driven off by reinforcements.

It was disclosed meanwhile that 91 Americans were killed and 423 wounded in action last week, another record casualty toll for 1966. The previous high this year was 89 U.S. servicemen killed in the week ending Feb. 5.

The latest report was the highest since Nov. 24, 1965, when 249 Americans were killed in the Ia Drang Valley and Chu Pong Mountain campaign.

Allied forces killed 684 Communists in the week ending Feb. 12, a U.S. spokesman said. Vietnamese losses were 249 killed and 104 missing in action.

223 SORTIES U.S. Air Force, Navy and Marine pilots flew 323 sorties over Communist targets in South Viet Nam, including a strike by Strategic Air Command (SAC) B52 bombers against a Viet Cong control point and headquarters along the Cambodian border 100 miles northwest of Saigon.

Navy and Air Force planes again ranged over Communist North Viet Nam, striking roads, bridges, storage areas and a radar site.

Among the 35 missions reported was an attack on the Dien Bien Phu military barracks and airfield 145 miles west of Hanoi. Other planes hit the Vinh region along the coast 70 miles south of the North Vietnamese capital.

The heaviest ground fighting involving American units during the past 24 hours occurred in Operation White Wing-Masher in the Bong Son-An Lao Valley region 300 miles north-northeast of Saigon.

60 ENEMY KILLED Troops of the 1st Air Cavalry Division pounced on a company of Viet Cong about 12 miles southwest of Bong Son and counted 60 enemy dead after the Viet Cong fled.

This is the region where allied forces have killed more than 1,400 Communist troops in wide sweeps which began Jan. 25.

Government troops engaged in heavy fighting with a battalion of Viet Cong today 13 miles north of Ban Me Thout, 100 miles northeast of Saigon in the central highlands. The Vietnamese troops sustained light casualties. There were no reports on Viet Cong losses.

In another battle today, Viet Cong guerrillas attacked a regional force company defending Hill 28 in remote Tam Ky, 347 miles northeast of Saigon.

Heavy losses were incurred by the defenders and a relief force was unable to locate the attackers.

OUTPOST ABANDONED The Communists abandoned the outpost south of Da Nang when a government battalion approached the area. The Reds left 10 bodies behind and a number of weapons, including a sub-machine gun, rifles and an M79 grenade launcher.

Troops of the First Brigade, U.S. 101st Airborne Division, who have been protecting rice harvesters in Phu Yen province 230 miles northeast of Saigon, yesterday uncovered a cache of 30,000 rounds of small arms ammunition hidden by the Viet Cong southwest of Tuy Hoa.

BLOOMFIELD MIRACLE MILE SHOPPING CENTER

Dr. Wayne G. Brandstadt Says:

Enema Use Is Generally Much Abused

Q—Is it harmful to take an enema every morning for constipation?

A—This should not be necessary if you regulate your daily intake of vegetables and fruit.

Some persons need almost none and others need 5 or 6 large helpings a day to produce a formed stool.

Enemas have their legitimate use but are generally much abused.

For the relief of true constipation (hard dry, difficult stools) an enema of more than 6 or 7 ounces should never be taken because what you want to accomplish is to empty the rectum — not the entire colon.

Nothing should be added to the water used for the enema. Soap or turpentine will irritate the bowel and are not needed.

SMALL ENEMA

I advise that a small enema of plain warm water be taken only after 48 hours have elapsed following a formed stool or 72 hours following a soft, formless stool.

The secret of success with such an enema is to hold it for 5 or 10 minutes before passing it.

If this doesn't work, try adult size glycerin suppositories. These too must be held for 5 or 10 minutes to allow your body temperature to melt them.

Q—My mother paid me a visit and saw me using cracked eggs. She said I should never use them. What would they do to me?

A—Never is a long time! Eggs that have cracked may harbor Salmonella organisms, the cause of one type of bacterial food poisoning.

For this reason many people discard them to be on the safe side.

They should never be used raw.

Heat will destroy the germs but if the eggs are fried or soft-boiled there is a good chance that all the organisms will not be killed.

If you must use them, hard-boil them.

Q—When the weather is cold my fingers turn white and numb.

Hot water doesn't help. Only massaging my hands will get the blood back in my fingers.

What causes this and what can I do?

A—You probably have Raynaud's disease, a condition in which there is a spasm in the arteries of the fingers.

Exposure to cold may trigger an attack but in some persons an emotional upset will do it.

Although placing your hands in hot water does not relieve your attack, taking a hot bath or hot drink may do so.

This condition is a nuisance — not a threat to life.

Furthermore there is no danger of gangrene, with loss of your fingers.

You should wear fur-lined gloves in cold weather. Some women with this disease are benefited by female hormones or tolazoline.

Since smoking aggravates the condition, don't smoke. On the other hand the judicious use of alcohol sometimes helps.

If all else fails you might consider moving to some tropical paradise.

PIN-WORMS

AND NOT KNOW IT

Pidgiting, nose-picking, a tormenting rectal itch are often telltale signs of Pin-Worms — ugly parasites that medical experts say infect 1 out of every 10 persons examined. Entire families may be victims and not know it.

To get rid of Pin-Worms, they must be killed in the large intestine where they live and multiply. That's exactly what Jayne's P-W Tablets do... and here's how they do it:

First — a scientific coating carries the tablets into the bowels where they dissolve. Then — Jayne's modern, medically-approved ingredient goes right to work — kills Pin-Worms quickly and easily.

Don't take chances with dangerous, highly contagious Pin-Worms which infect entire families. Get genuine Jayne's P-W Vermifuge — small, easy-to-swallow tablets... special sizes for children and adults.

Venice Selling Fabled Palaces to Relieve Economic Pressure

VENICE, Italy (UPI)—The city of Canals is putting some of its most fabled palaces up for sale.

Buyers are being sought among international artistic or cultural foundations in the hope of bringing fresh cash into the city's flagging economy.

While Venice may be one of the most beautiful cities in the world, its administrators are finding it almost impossible to run a vigorous 20th century economy in a city that remains unchanged as a monument to art and culture.

The city administration hopes "operation palaces" will give Venice an economic boost while preserving the glories of the past.

For about 150 million lire ($240,000) there's the Cappello Palace on the Grand Canal — four stories, frescoes and central heating.

The 16th century Barbarigo Palace is going for $128,000. There are 11 palaces officially up for sale at the moment and another 20 whose owners would be delighted to have an offer.

But in the sale of palaces the foundations or cultural institutions, many Venetians see the passing of "the good old days" when no self-respecting millionaire would be without his own "pink palazzo" on the canals of Venice.

The new breed of millionaires, however, seems to prefer contemporary plumbing and air conditioning to the stately pleasures of a palace sagging on its watery foundations.

That glamorous era appeared to have come to an end with the sale in 1964 of the Lelia Palace. There, Mexican millionaire Carlos de Beistegui had lived in the grand manner from 1940 onward, giving lavish, celebrity-packed parties the Venetians still remember with pride.

New York's Loss Becomes Auto City's Gain

AP Wirephoto

When she's not modeling, Mrs. Richard J. Williams Jr., wife of a University of Michigan Law School senior, keeps house in the couple's Ann Arbor apartment. Her natural blonde good looks and slender figure made her a top model in New York where she lived before her marriage. She now does modeling through two Detroit agencies and has graced all the big names in the automobile industry.

ANN ARBOR (AP) — The girl in the new car beside a still lake dappled by soft sunlight looks bright-eyed, fresh and lovely. She's a model for a new car advertisement.

To be exact, she is Mrs. Richard J. Williams Jr., wife of a University of Michigan Law School senior.

"The picture for that ad was taken at the crack of dawn with the sun coming up and it was freezing cold," she recalls.

The day the picture was taken she probably had to arise at 4 a.m. to drive from Ann Arbor into Detroit for the shooting session at sunrise, a time when photographers consider the light and shadows at their best.

Helene (Missy) Williams moved from New York to Ann Arbor after her marriage a year and a half ago. Her natural blonde good looks made her one of New York's top models, earning $50 an hour with the Eileen Ford Agency.

POSES WITH CARS

She now works through two modeling agencies in Detroit. Mrs. Williams finds modeling hard work.

"You're on your feet all the time, and it's exhausting. I wouldn't recommend it to anyone who didn't have a lot of patience, stamina and some money saved up to live on while you wait for a break," she said.

Mrs. Williams' mother also was a model and tried to discourage her daughter, but "the more I wanted it," she said.

Missy had done some modeling for illustrators and after graduating from Endicott Junior College at Beverly, Mass., decided to give it a whirl.

"I checked into the agency and was immediately told I would have to lose weight, have the freckle removed from the end of my nose and get some false eyelashes," she said.

"I never even owned a hair roller then and just used an old lead pencil to outline my eyebrows. I had always had to fight to keep weight on and was proud of what I had gained. I figured I had gotten along before with the way I looked, and was darned if I was going to change for anyone."

So she took a secretarial job with a publisher until she got a chance to model for a travel brochure for Trans World Airlines.

NEW OUTLOOK

"We were in Europe for seven weeks," she said. "Well, after that I decided I was crazy to stay behind a typewriter, so I lost some weight, bought false eyelashes—which you really do need for the camera—and went after it."

Her schedule of modeling in Detroit a few days a week gives her plenty of time to devote to her husband. They met years ago when they were both vacationing in the Bahamas while in prep school.

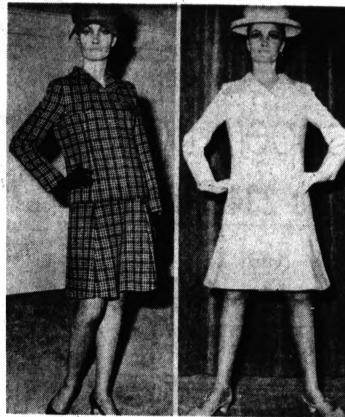

Missy is from Westport, Conn., and her husband's home is in Birmingham. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. R. Jamison Williams.

Butler Book Is Subject

"The Way of All Flesh" by Samuel Butler will be reviewed by Mrs. E. A. Lowry at the Waterford Book Review Group meeting.

Mrs. Lester Blagg of Dixie Highway will open her home for the Monday event at 1 p.m.

Assisting the hostess will be Mrs. Clair Johnson and Mrs. Francis Kinkle.

Hills Folk Eager to See Famed Symphony Unit

By SIGNE KARLSTROM
Marshall Fredericks, chairman of the Norwegian Festival orchestra committee, together with members of the Scandinavian Symphony Orchestra, and Norwegian Consul William Henry Caswell are making final plans for the orchestra's visit in Detroit this coming weekend.

It is the first time a Norwegian orchestra has visited America. This is a special tour arranged in commemoration of the orchestra's 200th anniversary, which was celebrated in October.

The program will feature works of Edward Grieg, Norway's foremost composer and former conductor of this orchestra.

Among those who are patrons or who will be attending the concert are Mr. and Mrs. Denton Anderson, the G. T. Christensen, Mr. and Mrs. Vaughan W. Greene, Mrs. J. Robert F. Swanson, and Mr. and Mrs. Ernest A. Jones.

Others are Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Lundin, Mr. and Mrs. Gustav von Reis, the Robert C. VanderKloot, Mr. and Mrs. Paul McKenney, Dr. and Mrs. John Meyer and Mr. and Mrs. Alfred E. Grann.

Concluding the list are Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Marker, the Henry C. Johnsons and Consul and Mrs. Edward Johansson.

KENNEL CLUB SHOW

Twelve dog specialty clubs from the Midwest will have their animals at the Detroit Kennel Club Show in Cobo Hall on March 6. This is one of the biggest shows in the United States, according to president Chris Teeter. Mrs. Fred Gasow is trophy committee chairman.

Mr. and Mrs. Bengt Wallgren will show their Scottish terriers, and daughter Lisa is looking forward to the day; she has assembled three stuffed Scotties for her amusement.

RICE REUNION

Recently there was a Rice reunion at the Ferd Brooks' home in Naples, Fla. Mrs. Brooks' sister, Dr. Carol Rice, came from Sweet Briar, Va. The Martin Rices who now live in Stuart, Fla. did not have so long to travel, but Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Rice came from Detroit.

In March Mr. and Mrs. Wallgren and daughter Lisa will spend a couple weeks with Mrs. Wallgren's parents Mr. and Mrs. Martin Rice at Stuart.

This Is Unhappy Boy

Builds Wall of Fat

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN
DEAR ABBY: Our son is our problem. He has always been a good boy and a bright boy, but he is an introvert.

He has no friends and claims he doesn't want any. He is sarcastic and arrogant, shows no affection and asks for none.

He could be handsome, but over the years he has gained so much weight it pains me to look at him. Yet he pretends he doesn't care, and he continues to eat everything and anything while he grows fatter.

We have begged him and bribed him, but nothing has worked. Where do we go from here?

Only a psychotherapist can unearth his problems. Why wait?

DEAR ABBY: I am 26, have been married six years and have two children. I really love my husband, Abby, but my problem is that I'm terribly attracted to a married policeman in town.

Every time our eyes meet it's like a magnet is dragging us together. It's never gone any further than that, but I'm afraid it might. I keep promising myself I will avoid him, but I just have to see him again.

This has been going on for a year and it hasn't helped my marriage any. Should I ask him please to ignore me because I haven't the will power to ignore him?

DEAR WEAK: No! If you are ever going to demagnetize yourself, you'll have to do it with no help from him. Go out of your way to stay out of his sight.

Continue this treatment for about 20 years and I'll guarantee you a complete cure.

Marilyn Ann Noeker chose a colonial gown of French lace over white taffeta for her recent marriage to Ronald Edward Rexer, in St. Andrew's Catholic Church, Rochester.

A tiara of pearls and iridescent crystals cradled her bouffant veil of illusion for the morning rite performed by Rev. Thomas Sauter. Her bouquet was white roses, carnations and ivy.

Joining the couple at the reception in The Ballroom, Fraser, were their parents, the Albert A. Noekers of Rochester and the Edward C. Rexers of Detroit.

Joanne Noeker was her sister's honor maid. Patricia Rexer, Rita Kehrig and Judith Swank were bridesmaids.

With Thomas Rexer, his brother's best man, were the ushers Arlo Baker, Melvin Noeker, Gerald Noeker, Jerry Ellison and Larry Wilkins.

Sessions Open to Public

Will Study Marriage

An important aspect of family living education is concerned with relationships among family members.

To provide information about husband-wife relationships, a lesson on "Achieving Adjustment in Marriage" will be held for local volunteer leaders of the Cooperative Extension Service, according to Mrs. Carol C. Kurth, extension home economist.

Two sections of this training school will be held. Leaders and those others interested may attend the lesson at the Pontiac Mall Tuesday from 9:30 a.m. to noon.

A repeat meeting at the Southfield Parks and Recreation Building, 10 1/2 Mile Road and Evergreen, Southfield, Feb. 24 from 7:30 p.m. to 10:00 p.m. will be held.

Both meetings are open to the public.

TO TEACH

Mrs. June Sears, extension home economist for the Michigan State University Cooperative Extension Service, will conduct the lesson. Mrs. Sears, a graduate of Wayne State University with a Master's Degree in child development and family relationships, will cover several aspects of marital adjustment. Topics she will cover are: Early marriage, differences in marriage partners, quarreling, tension relievers, working wives, changing masculine and feminine roles, in-law relationships and remodeling the spouse.

A bibliography of suggested reading for this particular topic will be available to those attending.

Throughout the state, the need to learn more about marriage to provide stability in our society is important. Through this short lesson, homemakers, husbands, and others at least will become more aware of general research done in the area of marital adjustment.

School Bus Is Answer for Travel

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP) — There have been only two vacation crises since the "Cruisin' Drews" outfitted a 1956 school bus to meet their traveling needs.

The bus itself is named "Cruisin' Drews," but it gets its name from the family that owns it... Mr. and Mrs. Edward Drew and their six daughters.

The first camping crisis came when 2-year-old Trish swallowed an entire box of baby aspirin and had to be taken to the hospital.

LOST AT CAMP

The other crisis came when daughter Molly got lost in a strange camp. Each member of the family was hunting her when she was found waiting quietly on the bus.

The bus became a reality to the family because of necessity. "Did you ever try to take a vacation with eight people in an ordinary car?" asks Edward Drew.

OU's Continuum Center Is BPW's Talk Subject

The Continuum Center at Oakland University, its specifics and the activities which fostered it, were presented at the Tuesday meeting of the Pontiac Business and Professional Women's Club.

Helen Zdeba, employment adviser for the center, spoke on employment opportunities for the mature woman at the meeting in Devon Gables.

"It is felt that the mature woman can achieve new goals if she is given an opportunity to do so and of concern to the Center are the unique contributions that the personal qualities of women can make to various professional fields," she said.

Mrs. George Brinkman, career advancement committee chairman introduced the speaker.

Assisting with the program were Jo Ellen Crawford, Helen Kinney and Mrs. John Spears.

Wanting a New Hobby?

Making hats gives you a chance to create, to do something with your hands. Once you start, you'll find that designing and creating your own hats is fascinating and practical.

Perhaps you have admired custom designed and custom made hats in shops and after checking the price, decided you had to be satisfied with one less expensive. Were you ever completely satisfied with it? Did it lack that certain something desired by every woman?

Hatmaking is no secret but it does require interest and some skill. You must study qualities taught by the experts before you pick up your needle and thread. Acquire an understanding of the fundamentals of hatmaking: tools used, basic styles, working with feathers, felt, and straw by studying at home.

You supply the interest and a home study course offered by The Pennsylvania State University, will teach you the necessary skills.

Newlyweds Take Train to Orleans

New Orleans was in a Mardi Gras mood when the newlywed Arthur Lyle Robinsons (Carolyn Julia Kraus of Sylvan Lake) arrived by train for their honeymoon this week.

Capt. James A. Kraus of Kinchloe AFB, escorted his sister at the nuptial high Mass offered by Rev. Richard Thomas Monday in St. Benedict's Catholic Church. Their parents are the late Mr. and Mrs. John A. Kraus.

SATIN VELVET

For the ceremony and church reception, the bride chose an A-line gown of white satin with bodice of embossed white velvet studded with iridescent teardrop rhinestones and pearls.

She wore an elbow-length illusion veil and carried white carnations and Stephanotis.

Lynn Bennett of Detroit attended the bride and George Conner of Lapeer was best man for the bridegroom, son of the late John Robinsons. Walter Duguay and Daniel Dunaj ushered.

The couple will reside at Barnes Lake. She is a graduate of the University of Detroit.

Wild Week for Mother

CHARLOTTE, N. C. (UP)—What does it cost to put one child in elementary school, another in college, and arrange a wedding for the third—all in a week's time?

"I have no idea. I just go down and charge things," laughs Mrs. F. Eugene Crockett Jr., who just had the experience.

In a week's time, Mr. and Mrs. Crockett enrolled the 17-year-old son, Fess, in the first grade at Myers Park Elementary School, took their daughter, Rebekah, to Rock Hill where she enrolled as a freshman at Winthrop College and engaged in wedding activities for their daughter, Diane, who became Mrs. Don A. Gabriel.

SEW SIMPLE By Eunice Farmer

Dear Eunice Farmer:

I am making a blouse with a cowl neckline. This is made of lightweight silk and is an overblouse rather than a tuck-in blouse. I remember that you suggest underlining. How will this affect the soft cowl neckline?

Mrs. W. W. H.

Dear Mrs. W. W. H.:

A garment with a cowl neckline usually is cut on the bias in order to achieve that soft draped look. You will cut the underlining exactly the same (bias). It will drape just as beautifully, in fact the extra weight of the two layers will give it more body and it should be even more attractive.

KNIT NOTES

Is there any way to make a cardigan out of a slipover? I have found a beautiful silk print that matches an old sweater perfectly. I would like to make a jacket type sweater to go over a dress. I have seen these ready made.

Mrs. V. G.

Dear Mrs. V. G.:

This isn't too difficult—and it is an excellent way to use your old sweaters. Often they are as good-as-new, but just don't go with anything.

● Baste a piece of lightweight firm interfacing on the wrong side of the sweater from neck to lower edge at the center front. ● Machine stitch two rows of stitching about ½ inch apart. I would suggest using a small stitch and it wouldn't be a bad idea to stitch each line twice. Be sure your sweater doesn't stretch out of shape. It may be necessary to place a piece of tissue paper over the sweater and stitch through the paper. ● Carefully cut the sweater between the two rows of stitching. The interfacing will help keep the edges from becoming too limp. If you wish to change the length of the sweater, or the sleeve length, use the same procedure.

● There are many ways of finishing the cut edges. You may bind the outer edges with a bias strip of your dress fabric. Finished braid or grosgrain ribbon is also used and is most attractive. Usually these jacket sweaters are lined. If you decide to line yours, remember to keep the lining slightly larger than the sweater so that it will "give." Use a very lightweight fabric for lining. Hope this gives many of you an idea for making something out of nothing.

TAKE A TUCK

"I just had to pass on this information about shortening 'stay-press' slacks. Instead of cutting off the trouser leg, just take a tuck under the cuff. In this way, you can let out the tuck when more length is needed without a mark showing."

This is easier than cutting the slacks and replacing the cuff. I asked a tailor about this and he thought it was a great idea—so, naturally, I am awarding this week's Tailor Trix pressing board to the lady who sent it, Mrs. R. M. Wippold, St. Louis, Mo.

Many of you will be making suits and coats in the near future. Sleeves seem to be the one detail that gives you the most trouble. You'll find my leaflet, "All About Sleeves," in valuable because of its easy-to-follow, step-by-step instructions. Send 10 cents and a self-addressed, stamped envelope to Eunice Farmer, in care of The Pontiac Press and request this helpful leaflet.

Brandenburgs Are Wed

New residents of Garden City will be the David Warren Brandenburgs (Diana Lynn Newlin) who greeted guests in the First Baptist Church of Wayne following a recent evening ceremony.

Their parents are the Wallace D. Newlins of Wayne and the Arthur L. Brandenburgs of Berwick Boulevard.

A gown and train of white slipper satin for the bride was designed with long sleeves banded with white fur, matching a pillow box for her finger veil. She carried cascading white roses.

Attending their sister were Virginia Newlin, maid of honor, with Linda and Geraldine Newlin, junior maid and flower girl, respectively.

Bridesmaids were Virginia Baker and Carol Shepherd of Wayne, with Katie Sweeney of Cleveland Heights.

On the esquire side were Melvin Toby, best man, with ushers Mark Foster, Wallace Newlin, and William Parker of Northville.

MRS. P. L. LUND

Wedding Party Includes Four of Lund Brothers

Four brothers attended Paul Lewis Lund who claimed Ruth Ann Jantz as his bride at a recent ceremony in St. Benedict's Catholic Church.

Charles Lund was best man, with Thomas, Dennis and Gene seating guests at the morning rite, followed by reception in the First Federal Savings of Oakland club rooms.

They are the sons of the Paul E. Lunds of Boston Avenue. The bride, daughter of Mr.

and Mrs. Stephen M. Jantz of Davisburg Road, Independence Township, appeared in a chapel-length gown of white Chantilly lace over taffeta.

JEWELLED TIARA

Her veil, worn with jeweled tiara, was silk illusion, and her bouquet was white Fuji chrysanthemums.

Mrs. Stanley Furman attended her sister as honor matron with another sister, Linda Jantz, and Amy Barber who were bridesmaids.

727 Jetliner Object of Talks

Considering Changes
on Ill-Fated Plane

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Federal Aviation Agency (FAA) has summoned the 14 U.S. and foreign airlines operating the disaster-plagued Boeing 727 jetliner to a conference on possible changes in training and flying procedures.

The closed meeting, which the FAA described as part of the government's "thorough and exhaustive" investigation of recent 727 crashes, will be held here tomorrow.

Four fatal accidents involving the three-engine jet have occurred in the past seven months, with a total of 264 fatalities. The FAA announcement indicated strong belief that pilot technique may have been a common factor in all four crashes.

The agency said the meeting would "discuss service and operating experiences with the 727" and also would include a review of training procedures and "recovery from maximum sink rate."

A spokesman said recommended changes in cockpit procedures might result from the conference.

DISCLOSED

The FAA-industry meeting was disclosed after Rep. Henry Gonzalez, D-Tex., demanded that the 727 be grounded because of the four crashes. Gonzalez said the grounding was "imperative" in view of the fact that the accidents all occurred "under similar circumstances as the planes were preparing to land."

Flint Gambling Raid Leads to 33 Arrests

FLINT (UPI) — Police early today made a gambling raid at a private home here, arresting 33 persons and seizing dice, cards and $15.10 in cash.

Police refused to identify those arrested. They all were released on bond after arraignment.

BRIDGE DEMOLISHED — A 190-ton span of the old Washington Avenue Bridge is dumped into the Mississippi River in Minneapolis yesterday. The 81-year-old bridge, succeeded by the new span in the background, is being demolished at a cost of about $100,000. The bridge connected east and west bank campuses of the University of Minnesota.

Fall From Motel Balcony Injures County Executive

JOPLIN, Mo. (AP) — J. E. Savage, 42, of 32905 Bingham Road, Bingham Farms, director of operations for Kelvinton International, was in serious condition at St. John's Hospital here Tuesday with severe head injuries suffered in a fall.

A. L. Mescham, Joplin police chief, said Savage fell from the second floor balcony of a motel on U.S. 71 at the east edge of town Sunday afternoon.

Mescham said Savage had registered at the motel under the name of J. E. Saweyoff of Detroit and first gave this name with a Chicago address at the hospital. He said Savage later gave his true name to hospital officials in asking them to contact his doctor in Detroit.

County Official Opposes Proposed Merit System

Oakland County Clerk-Register John D. Murphy said yesterday that he was opposed to a merit system, or civil service program, proposed for county employees.

Murphy made the comment at one of a series of meetings yesterday in which County Personnel Director John Withersop explained the proposed program.

Reaction toward establishment of a merit system generally was favorable by the employees and department heads attending the meetings.

Murphy's objection was based on the belief that civil service would result in a breakdown of the quality of service to the public.

He said that employees under civil service would tend to be less efficient and less courteous in dealing with the public.

CITES WAYNE COUNTY

Murphy cited Wayne County as an example of how the quality of service can deteriorate under civil service.

In answer to a question, Withersop said that the county could have both a merit system and union representation for employees.

A special merit system study created by the board of supervisors will weigh employee reaction when it resumes its series of meetings later this month.

Detroit Police Hunt Clues in Slaying

DETROIT (UPI) — Police were searching for clues today to the slaying of a 45-year-old woman, found beaten, stabbed and left unconscious in a brewery parking lot.

Joyce Wilson died in a local hospital several hours after she was found by Stroh Brewery guard Rudolph Lekorczyk, 46, early yesterday.

Police say the woman, who had been stabbed in the chest and beaten about the head, died without regaining consciousness.

OKLAHOMA CITY (UPI) — A county assessor named Henry Ford has announced as a candidate for governor of Oklahoma.

Ford, one of nine persons seeking the Democratic nomination, said his platform would include a program for better highways.

Pipe Breaks Loose, Kills Driver of Car

POCATELLO, Idaho (AP) — An 18-foot pipe broke loose from a passing truck and swung into the window of a car Tuesday. The driver of the auto was killed.

Police identified the victim as Robert Gebard, 21, of Selah, Wash. His father, Denver Gebard, 56, and an aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Harley Gardner of Edwards, Mo., received minor injuries.

Police Arrest Huk Chieftain

MANILA (AP) — Two weeks after he entered the Philippine General Hospital in Manila for treatment, one of the last top leaders of the once-powerful Huk insurgents was arrested today by the Philippine constabulary.

He is Pedro Taruc, who succeeded his brother, Luis, as the Huk's commander when government forces captured Luis in 1954.

The ailing Taruc had been a patient in the hospital since Jan. 31. Somebody tipped off the constabulary that he was there.

The Huk's, the military arm of the outlawed Philippine Communist party, waged a full-scale rebellion against the Philippine government immediately after World War II.

ROAMED MANILA

At the height of their power in 1950, Huk terrorists roamed Manila at will and officials of the Communist Politburo openly boasted that the capitulation of the capital city was only a matter of time.

Surviving is one brother, Edward of Holly.

SAYS DON'T FORGET EXTENSION SERVICE

The cooperative extension service committee of the Oakland County Board of Supervisors yesterday asked that extension service facilities be included in future county construction plans.

Presently, extension service employees are housed at 1 Lafayette.

Lyle B. Abel, director of the county's cooperative extension program, suggested the committee action in view of the recent establishment of a building authority by the county.

Daniel T. Murphy, chairman of the County Board of Auditors, previously stated that a master plan for the county service center probably would be completed in a year.

Senior Citizens Back to School

To Act as Informants
in Medicare Program

Some 70 Oakland County senior citizens returned to school this week to learn the basics of Medicare so they can advise others of the new federal program.

After a one-week training period, the 70 persons with their six team captains will work in the field informing the elderly of the Medicare program.

The information effort, a program of the Oakland County Commission on Economic Opportunity (OEO), will continue through March 31, the deadline for Medicare enrollment.

Joining the temporary staff of OEO Medicare Alert Employees now in training will be an anticipated 1,000 unpaid workers.

A door-to-door canvass to locate persons 65 and older who are eligible for Medicare will begin Monday.

George W. Cherry is Operation Medicare Alert project director. Leann Harrelson is assistant director.

Scheduled 3rd Try for French Rocket

PARIS (UPI) — A third attempt to launch the first all-French scientific satellite has been scheduled for tomorrow from the desert base at Hammaguir, Algeria.

The gold-plated D-1-A satellite has been designed to map the exact shape of the earth—more pear-shaped than round—and to measure the effect of Van Allen radiation belts on its solar cells.

Two attempts to put the satellite into orbit last week failed, one of them at the exact moment of launch.

Scientists pushed the button to launch the rocket but nothing happened because of a faulty ignition unit.

Chrysler Corp., Union in Accord to Avert Strike

DETROIT (UPI) — Negotiators for the United Auto Workers Union and Chrysler Corp. settled a work standards dispute today five minutes before a strike deadline, averting a strike of 1,500 employees.

There was no work stoppage at the plant, a stamping factory, less than half the size of the Chrysler stamping plant in suburban Sterling Township which was closed seven days by a strike two weeks ago.

Negotiators talked through the night and reached agreement at 9:55 a.m.

The union had set a 10 a.m. strike deadline. The agreement is subject to ratification by the workers.

Retired Newsmen Dies in Florida

ORLANDO, Fla. (AP) — Alexander F. Jones, a former president of the American Society of Newspaper Editors, died in a hospital here Tuesday. He was the retired executive editor of the Syracuse (N.Y.) Herald-Journal and former managing editor of the Washington Post.

Jones, 74, was stricken with an apparent heart attack while visiting his son, Richard. He had been in ill health.

Soy A-Plants to Supply 20 Pct. of Power by '80

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — By 1980, about 20 per cent of the nation's electrical power will be supplied by atomic generating plants, according to F. Stewart Brown, of the Federal Power Commission.

Brown said 13 atomic plants are now producing a million kilowatts of power and seven more facilities are under construction.

NY Reservoir Supply Still Below Normal

NEW YORK (AP) — Heavy rains last weekend added 4.7 billion gallons to the city's reservoirs.

But water levels remained below normal—only 4.8 per cent of capacity. The normal level for the date is 75.5 per cent of capacity, water officials said.

Pleads to See Her Majesty's Knee

LONDON (AP) — Britain's biggest daily newspaper took a critical look at royal skirts today and suggested that Queen Elizabeth II raise hers a bit.

"The royal legs," wrote Daily Mirror fashion columnist Felicity Green, "along with the royal eyes, complexion and general coloring are reckoned to be among the most admired of our first family's characteristics."

"Would it be unsuitable," Miss Green asked, "for the royal skirt to be raised, say, a modest inch?"

Not at all, she suggests.

The Mirror, which has a circulation of 5 million, took up the cause of higher hemlines at a time when many British girls are raising their four inches above the knee.

The columnist pointed out that the queen

Margaret (center) has a hemline on the knee, Miss Green points out, while the Duchess of Kent (right) is "very with it" as her hemline is "really above" the knee.

"has several examples near to home to indicate where the hemline ought to be."

Princess Margaret, the queen's sister, has a hemline "on the knee," Miss Green said.

Princess Alexandra, the queen's cousin, and Princess Anne, the queen's daughter, wear theirs "above the knee but only just."

The Duchess of Kent, the queen's cousin by marriage, has a hemline "really above" the knee and is "very with-it," Miss Green said.

SHORTEN EVERYTHING

"It would be a pity if, when she gets back home (from her Caribbean tour), the queen doesn't do what we're all doing... shortening everything a little or a lot," the columnist said.

CHEESE HIDE-A-WAYS — A savory ground meat mixture is shaped around cubes of cheese to make surprise meat balls.

Food and Emotions Are Related

OTTAWA, Canada (P) — Food can be important to your emotional life, says nutritionist Suzanne Saint-Hilaire.

A consultant for Canada's health department, Miss Saint-Hilaire sums it up this way:

Feelings influence appetite; good food habits influence health; health influences emotional stability.

Miss Saint-Hilaire says parents should remember that development of the child is more important than acquiring good table manners.

She offers this advice:

• Don't force food on a child. A healthy youngster usually wants food. The parent's role is to let a child eat, not make him eat.

• Allow for individual preferences. If these are denied, a child may cry and refuse to eat. Just as adults prefer certain foods, so a child starts at about 21 months to be discriminating in his choices.

• Don't be irritated when a youngster of 15 to 18 months finds fingers more convenient than utensils for eating or gets apple sauce in his hair when learning to feed himself.

Miss Saint-Hilaire says parents worry because they may not be aware of the normal steps in child development.

At 20 to 24 months, a child may become disinterested in food because he is distracted by growing awareness of his surroundings.

Between 2 and 3 he may have a finicky appetite.

At 3 he becomes independent. He will eat more readily if he does things for himself, such as pouring his own milk.

By 4 the child needs a reason to eat — to get big and strong or to win a race with another child.

Another phase is reached at 5 and 6 when the food choices may be influenced by members of his own family, by television and by neighbors.

Parents should accept radical changes without concern and regulate feeding to the child's individual pattern of growth and development, says Miss Saint-Hilaire.

Insert Cubes of Cheese in Meat Ball Mixture

Ground beef is the basis for a number of savory and economic dishes from meat loaf to beef goulash. Perhaps the most prosaic of all ground beef dishes are meat balls. Make them large or make them small — they're still meat balls.

Now here's a recipe that turns meat balls into an unusual fall supper dish. A savory mixture of ground beef, crumbled saltines, and marmalade is shaped around tiny cubes of pasteurized, process cheese spread.

The meat balls are browned and served with a sour cream-tarragon sauce.

Cheese Cubes Dot Bean Salad

Treat your palate to "Cheese 'n' Bean Salad." The cheese is American, cut into small cubes, the beans cut Blue Lake green beans straight from the can. Combined with celery, onion and pimiento in a zipped-up mayonnaise dressing, both cheese and beans are in mighty tasty company.

Cheese 'n' Bean Salad

1 can (1 lb.) cut green beans
¼ lb. American cheese, unsliced
½ cup celery
½ cup finely chopped onion
1 tablespoon diced pimiento
¼ cup mayonnaise or salad dressing

2 tablespoons milk
1 to 2 teaspoons vinegar
¼ teaspoon salt

Dash pepper
Drain beans; place in bowl. Cut cheese into small cubes. Add to beans with celery, onion and pimiento. Blend remaining ingredients. Pour over bean mixture. Toss lightly. Chill. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

Line Cake Pans

Butter-type cakes will come out of their pans better if the bottom of the pan is greased, then lined with brown, waxed or parchment paper that has also been greased.

Bake Beef-Stuffed Onions in Casserole for Dinner

Cold, winter days just naturally call for hearty, "stick-to-the-ribs" meals. Stuffed chops and vegetables, hearty roasts and piping hot soups often grace the family dinner table during this blustery season.

More often than not, a casserole dish will be favored. Here is a delectable casserole that combines the tasty merits of a stuffed vegetable.

Large white onions are stuffed with budget-priced ground beef and flavored with grated cheese. A speck of chili powder gives pep to the stuffing and a flavorful, easy-to-prepare sauce regales the Stuffed Onions.

Appropriately served in a casserole with the Blue Meissen pattern, the casserole can be made ahead of time, baked and served in the enameled porcelain-on-steel casserole.

The sprightly utensil, made by United States Stamping Co., will add a glamorous touch to your kitchen and dining room service. It will wash easily with just a little soaking in warm sudsy water. The design will not wear off, even with years of use.

Stuffed Onions

6 medium onions
¾ pound ground lean beef
½ cup chopped mushrooms
¼ teaspoon chili powder
Salt

Filling Pans

When you bake cupcakes, fill the pans no more than two-thirds full. If the pans are too full, the batter will spread out over the top of the pan and the cakes will be difficult to remove and unattractive.

Pepper
Pinch of sugar
½ cup grated cheese
1 can condensed cheese soup
½ soup can water
¼ teaspoon chili powder

Peel onions and parboil about 30 minutes or until almost tender. Slice off end of onion and remove all but ¼ of outside shell. Chop pulp of onion.

Saute chopped onion with beef, mushrooms and seasoning until lightly browned. Mix cheese with beef mixture. Fill onion cases with beef and cheese mixture.

Place stuffed onions in casserole. Add a little water to prevent scorching. Bake at 350 degrees for 35 minutes or until tender. Pour soup mixture over onions and bake until heated through. Makes 6 servings.

ONION CASSEROLE — Hearty Stuffed Onions, served in a pretty Blue Meissen casserole, will become one of your family's favorite winter meals. The Stuffed Onions are a delectable combination of ground beef, cheese and a dash of chili powder for accent. Cheese soup makes the easy sauce.

Powdered Mustard Is Fine With Eggs, Fish

Good, lively mustard flavor has been a taste-tingler for many centuries and today so many people all over the world use mustard that it takes a global crop of over 400 million pounds to meet the demand.

Two main types of mustard are grown as a spice. White or yellow mustard, Brassica hirta Moench and Brassica juncea L. There are two types of the latter, one brown mustard and one Oriental.

White or yellow mustard is the kind most frequently used in America and Europe. The brownish Oriental mustard is the kind which is served with egg rolls in Chinese restaurants.

Mustard is available as powdered mustard, whole mustard seeds and in the prepared form — salad or "hot dog mustard."

Powdered mustard, known also as "ground mustard" and "mustard flour," depending on the cookbook consulted, has almost unlimited uses in the preparation of good meat dishes, fish, fowl, sauces and salad dressings. It's especially good in cheese and egg dishes.

To get the finest flavor from powdered mustard, mix it with an equal amount of lukewarm water and let stand 10 to 15 minutes. Once the aroma has been aroused it is ready to serve as a condiment.

Or, at this point, it may be mixed with vinegar, or lemon juice and refrigerated to protect its strength. Acid liquids will not bring out powdered mustard's flavor effectively, but will preserve it once developed.

Mustard aroma cannot develop if added dry to a hot or boiling mixture, therefore, in most cooking situations it should be mixed with water before it is used as an ingredient.

This recipe from the test kitchens of the American Spice Trade Association tells us how powdered mustard should be used in good cooking.

CRABMEAT MUSTARD

1 teaspoon powdered mustard
1 teaspoon water
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
2 cups crabmeat
¼ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon ground black pepper

1/16 teaspoon cayenne
1 teaspoon flour
3 tablespoons heavy cream
½ teaspoon fresh lemon juice
Mustard Omelet

Combine powdered mustard and water; let stand 10 minutes for flavor to develop. In a saucepan melt butter or margarine. Add crabmeat and toss gently to blend. Blend in mustard, salt, ground black pepper, cayenne and flour. Add heavy cream and lemon juice.

Cook over low heat, tossing occasionally until blended and heated throughout. Use as filling for Mustard Omelet.

Mustard Omelet

½ teaspoon tarragon leaves
¼ teaspoon powdered mustard
1 tablespoon water
6 large eggs
¼ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon ground black pepper
¼ cup milk

Combine first 3 ingredients. Let stand 10 minutes for flavor to develop. Add to remaining ingredients; proceed to make omelet following your favorite method. Yield: 4 servings.

Grated Chocolate

Old-fashioned recipes sometimes call for grated chocolate. You can usually depend on one square (one ounce) of chocolate yielding one-quarter cup after grating.

CRABMEAT MUSTARD OMELET — There's just the nippest bit of powdered mustard to give savor to both the crabmeat filling and the omelet which enfolds it.

Booklet Is Full of Beans

Bean recipes from the LBJ ranch — Gen. Eisenhower — the Romneys — and from good cooks everywhere — all are in a free booklet printed by the Michigan bean growers. It is a revised edition of a former book.

To keep milk from sticking to the bottom of the saucepan while heating it, rinse the saucepan with hot water before using

Apples and Yams Are Topper for Ham

Yams, ham and apple make a good combination for a one-dish supper. Place a fully-cooked ham steak, about 1½ inches thick, in lightly oiled shallow baking dish. Top with 4 medium yams, cooked, peeled and sliced, and 1 medium apple, thinly sliced.

Combine ½ cup of molasses and ¼ teaspoon of cloves. Pour over apple, yams and ham. Bake 30 minutes in preheated 325-degree oven. Makes four servings.

Don't grease pie pans. The pastry dough is rich enough to be placed in an ungreased pan.

Flaky Pie Crust Encases Apples

Too good to keep under wraps, yet such a wonderful dessert you'll want to bake them this way often are updated apple dumplings served with spicy cinnamon cream syrup. They've been dessert-time favorites since Johnny Appleseed's day but the old-fashioned ways of preparing them are very much passe.

Instead of the boiled, steamed — and sometimes soggy — biscuit covering grandmother made, these beauties come to the table completely enclosed in glazed and golden pastry that flakes at the touch of a fork.

APPLE DUMPLINGS

Pastry mix for a 2-crust pie
6 small apples
¼ cup seedless raisins
2 tablespoons red hot cinnamon candies
2 tablespoons butter
Evaporated milk for glaze

Prepare pastry mix according to package directions. Roll into a rectangle ¼-inch thick. Cut into six 6-inch squares. Pare and core apples. Place apple in center of each pastry square. Fill cavity of each with raisins and cinnamon red hots. Dot each with a teaspoon of butter.

Moisten edges of pastry; bring points together over apple and seal sides well. Roll remaining scraps of pastry and cut into streamers to lay across tops of dumplings. Brush with evaporated milk.

Place uncovered in preheated hot oven (400 degrees) 40 to 45 minutes or until apples are tender and pastry nicely browned. Serve with Cinnamon Cream Syrup. Makes 6 servings.

1 cup evaporated milk
1 Mix corn syrup, sugar, water and cinnamon in a saucepan. Bring to a full boil over medium heat, stirring constantly. Continue stirring and boiling 2 minutes. Let cool 5 minutes. Stir in evaporated milk.

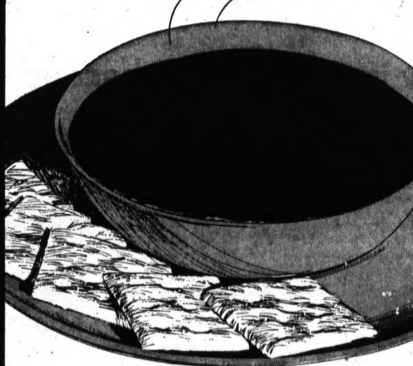

APPLE DUMPLINGS—At dessert time, do it up right with apple dumplings. And while you're about it, add an extra bit of sparkle with that spiciest spicy sauces, cinnamon cream syrup. It adds extra flavor to any fruit dessert.

VP Flies to India After Promising Pakistan $50-Million Loan

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey flew to India today after promising Pakistan a $50-million loan to purchase American food and commodities.

En route from Karachi to New Delhi, Humphrey's plane stopped at Ludhiana, India, in the north Punjab.

Humphrey's schedule in the capital included a reunion with his wife, who flew from Washington to join him here, a call on President Sarvepalli Radhakrishnan and dinner with U.S. Ambassador Chester Bowles.

Humphrey will confer Thursday with India's ministers of food, finance and planning. They will discuss India's economic ills with special reference to the acute food shortage. Later the vice president was to talk with Foreign Minister Swaran Singh and then confer with Prime Minister Indira

Gandhi, who will also give a state dinner for him.

JOINT WARNING

Indian Communist and Socialist leaders sent Mrs. Gandhi a joint warning charging that the main aim of Humphrey's visit is to lure India into the Viet Nam war. They urged Mrs. Gandhi to resist "American blackmail," saying the belief was mounting in India's ruling Congress party that India must aid the United States if it wants to continue receiving huge American food shipments and economic aid.

Humphrey announced the $50-million loan to Pakistan Tuesday night after a day of talks in Karachi with President Mohammed Ayub Khan. The amount disappointed Pakistanis who had expected Humphrey to announce resumption of general economic and military aid to their country. It had amounted to about $350 million a year.

The United States cut off all but emergency aid to both India and Pakistan last September when war erupted between the two nations. Washington had begun to cool on its aid program to Karachi earlier when Pakistan formed closer, diplomatic and economic ties with Red China.

Humphrey also announced that the U.S. and Pakistani governments have agreed to negotiate an interim agreement for food and wheat shipments to Pakistan, which like India is suffering food shortages due to the drought.

AID ANNOUNCEMENTS

The aid announcements appeared to be the only concrete developments emerging from Humphrey's visit to Pakistan, but they indicated a further thaw in relations between the United States and Pakistan.

In his four-hour talk with

Ayub, the vice-president said, he outlined the efforts planned at Honolulu by President Johnson and South Vietnamese Premier Nguyen Cao Ky to open the way to peace in Viet Nam.

Pastor Fights for Son's Freedom

WAYNESBORO, Ga. (AP) — Young Fite, after five years thrust into an unfamiliar world of embassies, diplomats and red tape, a soft-spoken Georgia minister is working diligently to obtain his son's release from a Cuban prison.

The elder Fite feels no bitterness towards anyone connected with the arrest. "My only interest is in the release of my son," he says.

SEEKS MEETING

He is attempting to arrange a face-to-face meeting with Prime Minister Fidel Castro.

Efforts to free his son put him in contact with Georgia Sens. Herman Talmadge and Richard B. Russell and several officials of the State Department. His application for a visa has been sent to Castro through the Czechoslovakian Embassy. So far he has heard nothing.

The State Department and the Home Mission Board of the Southern Baptist Convention worked without success for six months to obtain David's release.

U-M Signs Contract for Dentistry School

ANN ARBOR (AP) — The University of Michigan signed a contract Tuesday to build a $17.3 million school of dentistry, one of the largest construction projects in the school's 149-year history.

Also signed were pacts for a $3.4 million, 944-car parking structure adjacent to the dental school building and $395,000 to remodel the graduate and post-graduate dentistry facilities in U-M's Kellogg Institute.

U.S. Arms Sold to Middle East

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A top State Department official said today the United States has been forced to sell defensive weapons to some Middle East nations to counter the arms flow into the area from other countries.

Douglas MacArthur II, assistant secretary of state for congressional relations, said the sales have been made on a selective basis after it was determined they would not be an unbalancing factor in the delicate political situation there.

MacArthur's statement came in a letter to Sen. Hugh Scott, R-Pa., who had written President Johnson asking that the United States provide defensive armaments for Israel.

But it also seemed to answer a Senate delegation's warning that the United States might be accused again of arming both sides in a conflict if fighting breaks out between Israel and her Arab neighbors.

The Senate group, led by Sen. Wayne L. Morse, D-Ore., made the statement in a 22-page report, issued yesterday, on a month-long tour abroad late last year.

'DEEP DISTRESS'

The delegation reported "deep distress" at finding India and Pakistan both used U.S. military hardware in their battle over Kashmir last fall.

MacArthur told Scott, "over the past years, the United States has met what it assessed as legitimate defense requirements by sales of limited amounts of military equipment to some Arab countries as well as to Israel."

The senators said that if Israel and her Arab neighbors clashed again, the United States would again be open to the "serious charge of supplying weapons of war to both sides."

About 48.5 million pupils were enrolled this year in U.S. elementary and secondary schools.

House Bill Splits Hearing Aid Dealers

By AL SANDNER
LANSING (AP) — Michigan hearing aid dealers split Monday over a house bill that would require them to carry state licenses.

Appearing at a House Judiciary Committee hearing, they put on a display of internal politics and dissension.

Committee members sat back mused while members of the Michigan Hearing Aid Dealers Association disagreed among themselves whether the group favored or opposed licensing, whether or not they had a president and when or if he had resigned.

R. H. Brenaman of Detroit said he resigned as president last week in a dispute that involved the group's position on the bill and what he called a "big city-outstate" split among its 65 members.

BILL PROVISIONS
The bill sets up a Board of Hearing Aid Sellers to handle the day-to-day regulation of hearing aid sales, and an advisory council made up of three hearing specialists, three audiologists (college educated specialists in speech and hearing) and three public members.

To receive a state license, hearing aid sellers would have to pass an examination after taking a 45-day course to be instituted by the board.

Korean scientists developed a rainfall gauge and made other weather observations as early as the 15th century. In the same era scholars published a Korean encyclopedia of 266 volumes.

DAR Guards 'Family Tree'

LOVELAND, Colo. (UPI) — The Daughters of the American Revolution have begun a battle to save a direct descendant of an elm tree under which George Washington took command of the Continental Army July 3, 1775.

The DAR said builders of a supermarket plan to chop down the tree to make room for a parking lot.

Warns of State Road Scandal

LANSING (UPI) — Michigan may be rocked by a major "road scandal" unless the Highway Department is brought under control of an elected official, according to State Sen. S. Don Potter, R-Lansing.

Potter, former executive director of the Michigan Good Roads Federation, told the Senate Judiciary Committee yesterday that he has detected some activity that "if not criminal, certainly borders on it."

"All the little symptoms which resulted in the downfall of various road commissions — cliques and personal problems — are already apparent in the department," Potter said. "If we delay we are going to have a package we can't handle."

"You can't separate politics from road building," Potter said.

Potter, a member of the Senate Highway Committee, was testifying on his proposed constitutional amendment to replace the four-member Highway

FALL BALLOT
If approved by the legislature the proposal could go on the November ballot, providing for election of a commissioner in 1968.

"There is no question an elected official is more efficient," he said. Unit costs — the yardstick for road construction expenses — have risen 35 per cent since the commission took over last year, he said.

Potter said that on one occasion he had taken a problem to the commission and was told the commission "wasn't interested."

"When a public official — senator, governor or what have you — isn't interested it's time for a change," he said.

Potter asked for a public hearing on his proposal, and Committee Chairman Basil Brown, D-Highland Park, took the request under advisement.

Cheesecake, Known to Ancient Cooks, Remains Popular

CREAMY CHEESECAKE

CREAMY CHEESE CAKE

Crust
26 crisp rye crackers, ground into very fine crumbs
1½ teaspoons ginger
¼ cup granulated sugar
¼ cup melted butter or margarine
Combine thoroughly. Place on sides and bottom of heavily buttered deep dish, 9 inches square, or 9-inch spring mold. Chill thoroughly.

Filling
3 eggs
3 cups smooth cottage cheese

¾ cup thick cream
3 tablespoons melted butter
¼ cup sugar
1 tablespoon lemon juice
¼ teaspoon grated lemon peel
¼ cup chopped blanched almonds
2 tablespoons confectioners sugar
½ teaspoon ginger
Heat oven to 350 degrees. Beat eggs until thick and lemon colored. Add cottage cheese. Mix thoroughly. Add cream, butter, sugar, lemon juice, lemon peel and almonds. Blend well. Pour into crust. Bake for 50 minutes or until filling is firm. Mix together confectioners sugar and ginger. Sprinkle on cheese cake while hot. Yield: 9 servings.

SLIM JANE CHEESECAKE

Even Dieters Can Eat It

This Slim Jane Cheese Cake is an excellent example of how whipped instant crystals can be put to use to make a dessert that's well within a dieter's calorie limit.

SLIM JANE CHEESE CAKE
1 cup graham cracker crumbs (16 2½ x 2½-inch cups)
1 tablespoon melted butter
¼ cup sugar
½ teaspoon salt
1 tablespoon (1 envelope) unflavored gelatin
1 cup relictified instant non-fat dry milk
2 eggs, beaten
2 cups cottage cheese
¼ cup lemon juice
1½ teaspoons grated lemon rind
1 teaspoon vanilla
2½ cups whipped instant non-fat dry milk
Combine graham crackers and butter; mix well. Spread ¾ cup crumb mixture over bottom of 8-inch spring form pan.

Mix sugar, salt and gelatin together in saucepan. Stir in relictified dry milk and eggs. Stir over medium heat until mixture begins to boil (5-6 minutes). Chill until mixture thickens and mounds when dropped from spoon.

Force cheese through sieve or food mill. Add cheese, lemon juice, lemon rind and vanilla to gelatin mixture; mix well. Fold in whipped dry milk.

Turn into pan over crumb mixture. Chill until firm (2-3 hours). Unmold. Garnish with remaining ¼ cup crumb mixture.

To whip instant nonfat dry milk crystals (Makes about 2½ cups)
• Mix ½ cup instant nonfat dry milk crystals with ½ cup ice water.

• Whip until soft peaks form (3-4 minutes). Add 2 tablespoons lemon juice.

• Continue beating, until stiff peaks form (3-4 minutes longer). Total calories: 1787.5
Calories per serving: 148.7.

Differ Slightly

Valencia and Navel orange varieties dominate the market. The Valencia orange is a round or slightly oval fruit of medium to large size, colored a deep golden orange, with smooth or somewhat pebbly skin. There are usually six to eight seeds.

The Navel orange is round, tapering at the apex, and is deep orange in color. Its skin is smooth and thick, with the characteristic second fruit, or navel. It has no seed, is easy to peel and section.

Peppermint Is Made With Cheddar Main Flavoring

Peppermint Cheese Cake

1½ cups graham cracker crumbs
3 tablespoons sugar
¼ teaspoon ground mace
¼ cup butter or margarine, softened
2 (8-ounce) packages cream cheese, softened
1 cup sugar
4 eggs, separated
1 cup marshmallow topping
2 tablespoons sifted all-purpose flour
1 cup commercial sour cream
¼ teaspoon peppermint extract
¼ teaspoon salt

Blend together first 4 ingredients. Reserve ¼ cup mixture. Press remainder firmly on bottom and sides of greased 8-inch spring form pan.

Beat cream cheese on low speed of electric mixer. Gradually blend in ¾ cup sugar. Add egg yolks and marshmallow topping. Fold in flour, sour cream and peppermint extract.

Beat egg whites and salt until foamy. Gradually beat in remaining ¼ cup sugar. Continue beating until stiff not dry. Fold into cheese mixture. Pour into lined pan. Sprinkle top with remaining crumbs.

Bake in a slow oven (300 degrees) 1½ hours. Turn off oven; leave cake in oven ½ hour longer. Remove from oven. Cool away from drafts. Chill thoroughly. Remove sides of pan. Makes 8 to 10 servings.

Soup and Burgers

Hungry teens will agree: a hearty soup made with new canned noodle with real beef stock dry soup mix and plenty of hamburgers total up to good eating. Serve this easy-to-fix combo the next time a group of practice-weary ball players gathers around your kitchen table.

Sometimes recipes call for a "dash" of seasoning. In this case add less than one-eighth of a teaspoon.

Beer Cheddar Cheese Cake

4 packages (8 ounces each) cream cheese
¼ cup (2 ounces) lightly packed finely grated Cheddar cheese
1½ cups sugar
¼ teaspoon vanilla extract
¼ teaspoon grated orange rind
¼ teaspoon grated lemon rind
4 eggs
2 egg yolks
¼ cup beer or ale
¼ cup heavy cream
Use electric mixer on low speed and scrape bowl and beaters often.

Beat cream cheese until fluffy. Add grated Cheddar cheese and beat until thoroughly blended and smooth. Combine sugar, vanilla and grated rinds; add very gradually to cheese mixture, beating on low speed after each addition until smooth.

Add egg and egg yolks, one at a time, beating well after each addition. Add beer and heavy cream and mix until just blended. Pour batter into Cookie Crust lined 8-inch springform pan.

Bake in 400-degree 15 to 20 minutes until side crust first begins to brown. Reduce heat to 300 degrees and continue baking 1 hour and 35 minutes until cheese cake top is golden. (Center will look wet and not completely baked.)

Turn heat off and let cake remain in oven 15 minutes. Remove from oven; cool on rack away from drafts 2 hours. Chill in refrigerator several hours or overnight. Remove side of pan when ready to cut.

NOTE: To catch the small amount of fat which seeps from pan, place a piece of aluminum foil cut 1-inch larger than pan off rack below cheese cake.

Cookie Crust

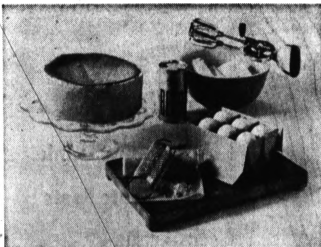

1 cup sifted all purpose flour
¼ cup sugar
1 teaspoon lemon rind
¼ teaspoon vanilla extract
¼ cup soft butter
1 egg yolk

Mix flour, sugar, lemon rind and vanilla. Cut in butter and egg yolk. Shape into ball; knead a few times until smooth. Dough will be very stiff and heavy. Press ½ of dough with fingers into bottom of 8-inch springform pan, spreading evenly. Bake in hot oven (400 degrees) 10 minutes or until golden. Cool slightly. Press remaining dough around sides of pan up to within ¼-inch of the top.

Searing Meat Isn't the Way to Roast It

The searing method of roasting meat is not recommended by the American Meat Institute because cooking losses are increased when the meat is roasted at a high temperature (450 degrees) for a long period of time. Searing also causes spattering in the oven and is less convenient than roasting at a constant low to moderate oven temperature.

The searing method requires extra watching and extra effort in cleaning roasting pans and ovens. However, if searing is desired, the oven temperature should be reduced to 250 degrees to finish the roasting.

BEER CHEDDAR CHEESECAKE

Chocolate Cheesecake Is a Special Treat

CHOCOLATE CHEESECAKE

1½ cups fine zwieback crumbs
1 tablespoon granulated sugar
¼ cup butter, melted
2 cups (12 ounces) glazed semi-sweet chocolate chips
½ cup hot coffee
2 packages (8 ounces each) cream cheese, softened
1 cup granulated sugar
4 eggs
2 teaspoons vanilla extract
¼ teaspoon salt
½ cup whipping cream
Chocolate curls (optional)

Combine zwieback crumbs and 1 tablespoon sugar. Add melted butter and mix until all crumbs are coated. Press into bottom of 9-inch springform pan. Partially melt chocolate chips in coffee over very low heat. Remove from heat and stir rapidly until smooth and blended.

Meanwhile, beat cream cheese until light and fluffy. Gradually add 1 cup sugar. Then add eggs, one at a time, beating well after each addition.

Gradually add cooled chocolate mixture, vanilla, and salt, beating until thoroughly mixed. Pour into crumb-lined pan and bake in a moderate oven (375 degrees) 1 hour. Cool.

Whip cream and spread on cake. Garnish with Chocolate Curls.

Chocolate Curls. Let a square of unsweetened chocolate (wrapped or unwrapped) stand in a warm place (90 degrees to 100 degrees) about 20 minutes until square is very slightly softened, or hold chocolate square in hand.

Shave into curls with vegetable peeler or small sharp knife, using long strokes (the longer the strokes, the longer the curls).

NOTICE TO CITY OF PONTIAC DOG OWNERS

1966 Dog Licenses are now due and payable at the City Clerk's Office, First Floor, City Hall, 450 Wide Track Drive East, Pontiac, Michigan.

FE: Up to and including March 1st $2.00
After March 1st $3.00

It is necessary that all dog owners in the City of Pontiac produce a certificate that their dog has been vaccinated against rabies, in order to secure a 1966 dog license. If such owners do not possess such a certificate, one may be obtained from their local veterinarian, or at the County operated clinic, located at 1200 N. Telegraph Road.

What's more, a single slice of Taystee has as much protein as a strip of bacon... much more niacin and iron than an 8-oz. glass of chocolate milk. Pretty reassuring, isn't it, to know that you're giving the family such good nourishment in the bread you serve them? Not to mention the good fresh-baked flavor and soft, tender texture of Taystee. Next time you're at the store, take home some Taystee... the bread that enriches kids.

Loan Note Sale Approved by State

OK Demolition Bid on Project Land Buildings

A low bid of $4,825 was accepted last night by the City Commission for the demolition of 10 small buildings in the urban renewal R20 project.

The bid of Southland Wrecking Co. of Byron was accepted as the lowest of 10 bids.

Demolition of the former Cy Owens building, the Wolverine Lumber Yard, three houses, three barns and two garages is called for in the contract.

Regional urban renewal officials now must approve the bid acceptance.

In other business last night, the commission received a report that the State Municipal Finance Commission has approved the sale of $2 million in tax-anticipation notes.

The City Commission set next Monday as the date to open bids. The loan notes are to be sold to give the city operating monies until tax receipts are received after July 1.

night approved a 20-year lease for land at Pontiac Municipal Airport to be used as the site of a new ten-unit airplane hangar.

The lease calls for an annual rental fee of $1,500. The land, located in the northeast section of the airport, is being leased by the Northern Flying Service.

In other airport business, the commission approved the sale of a former farmhouse at the airport.

City Manager Joseph A. Warren reported that the house at 2085 Airport, Waterford Township, is in a very poor state of repair.

He recommended the house be sold and then either be moved and rehabilitated or demolished.

The commission approved a ten-year lease to the Pontiac Creative Arts Center, Inc., for use of the old library building at 47 Williams.

LAND OFFER

A revised offer for the purchase of R44 urban renewal property on the west side of West Wide Track by R.E.R.L. Enterprises was given tentative approval.

Last week the commission granted similar approval on an offer of $8,151, but the revised offer was submitted and accepted due to an error in the legal description of the property.

The new offer took in more land. Thus, the price was upped to $9,500.

The commission approved vacating of the alley in the block bounded by Montcalm, Blaine, Stanley and Lounsbury. Home owners there had petitioned for the vacation because the alley is not feasible to improve.

PUBLIC HEARING

A public hearing was ordered for March 8 on a special assessment roll assessing the cost of demolishing nine substandard houses at city expense. The roll totals $4,539.

An application for a second-hand store license was denied by the commission because of the arrest record of the applicant. The store was proposed for 375 Auburn.

Two related matters — rezoning to residential-3 (R-3) of a parcel on the south side of Kennett and the vacating of a portion of Dewey — were referred to the City Planning Commission.

The requests were submitted by the Belaire Home Builders of Detroit.

10-ACRE PARCEL

A petition for zoning a 10-acre parcel south of Columbia and east of the Alcott School to R-3 was also referred to the city planners.

City Attorney Philip E. Rowston reported last night that he would be a participant in a panel discussion at 8 p.m. tomorrow at the regional meeting of the Michigan Municipal League.

Seven Persons Named to Civic Advisory Group

Seven persons, one from each city district, were appointed to three-year terms last night on the Civic Improvement Advisory Committee.

Two of the appointments, Miss JoAnn VanTassell, 51 E. Iroquois, and Clarence Barnes, 98 Center, were the reappointment of existing committee members to longer terms.

Previously, Miss VanTassell and Barnes had been named to one-year terms on the civic group.

Others named to three-year terms last night were Rev. William Teague, 587 California; Mrs. James Aldrich, 55 Mohawk; Walter Schmitz, 109 W. Kennett; Reginald LaMont, 77 Hammond, and John Munro, 172 N. Mill.

The Civic Improvement Advisory Committee is a 21-member group appointed to act in an advisory capacity to the City Commission.

CNB Is Low Bidder on R20 Loan Notes

The low bid of Community National Bank of Pontiac was accepted last night for the sale of $3.6 million in temporary loan notes for the R20 urban renewal project.

The City Commission accepted the CNB bid of 2.97 percent interest on the one-year notes. Four bids were received.

Proceeds from the loan notes will be used to pay off outstanding loans and finance project operations for the next 12 months.

Cloud Wage Floor Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — An effort in the House to raise the present $1.25 an hour minimum wage to $1.60 by next year reportedly has been blocked by the administration's wage-price policy.

House sources say President Johnson's economic advisers want to hold the measure to $1.40 this year and delay boost to $1.60 until 1970. The decision has angered members of the House Education and Labor Committee, who thought they had administration backing a few weeks ago for the increase to $1.60 in 1967.

They argue that even at $1.60 an hour a person would have to work a full year — a rarity in the House floor — to reach the $3,000 annual income level that the administration has set for some of its antipoverty and education programs.

Minimum wage legislation has been in trouble for a year because the Education and Labor Committee supports bigger increases in coverage and pay levels than the administration wants.

The committee produced a bill last year calling for a three-step increase to $1.75 an hour and additional coverage of 7.9 million workers, including farm workers. It was never brought to the House floor.

Chairman Adam Clayton Powell, D-N.Y., after conferences with Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz last month, was prepared to support a bill calling for an increase to $1.50 but found most committee Democrats wanted to go at least to $1.60.

Negotiations with the administration were conducted on that basis and committee members thought an agreement had been reached, only to have it torpedoed at the last minute by the President's economic advisers.

Police Probe City Break-Ins

Pontiac police are investigating three break-ins reported yesterday in the city.

Michael Pysarenko said some $250 worth of tools were taken from a building at 252 Norton some time early yesterday. Police said the building was not locked.

Preston Miles, 40, of 261 E. Wilson told police his house was ransacked and a television worth $170 taken in a break-in.

Miles said a rear door window had been broken to gain entry to the home.

Larceny of a television valued at $270 was reported by Gus Walker, 44, of 207 W. South Blvd.

Walker said the set was taken by someone who entered his unlocked home early yesterday or late Tuesday.

CUT ALONG DOTTED LINE

Cites Lag in Hiring the Handicapped

LANSING (AP)—Rep. James Bradley, D-Detroit, said Tuesday that with the exception of a few isolated cases, major Michigan employers have been lagging in hiring the physical handicapped.

Bradley said he found evidence of this in a hearing yesterday of the automotive industry, major utilities, hotel and motel groups and the Wayne County Civil Service Commission testified before the hearing.

Prof Feels GOP Senate Bid Now Between Griffin, Himself

DETROIT (AP)—Prof. Leroy Augenstein, one of three potential Republican candidates for the U.S. Senate nomination, said yesterday the field appears to have been narrowed down to Congressman Robert Griffin and himself.

Speaking at a press conference at the Detroit Press Club, Augenstein said informal telephone polls have indicated he has enough strength to prevent a GOP contender from getting 75 per cent of the votes at Saturday's Republican State Central Committee meeting in Lansing.

Republican Gov. Romney has said he would like to see 75 per cent support for the candidate selected to run for the seat now held by Democrat Pat McNamara.

Griffin, Augenstein and freshman State Sen. Guy R. Vagstad of Cadillac were selected as potential candidates two weeks ago at a meeting of party leaders in St. Clair.

Augenstein, chairman of the biophysics department at Michigan State University, and a newcomer to politics, said he did not mean to imply that he had 75 per cent of the voting strength. But he added that he felt he had enough support to prevent nomination of any candidate on the first ballot.

FIRST BALLOT

Augenstein estimated he could poll between 30 and 35 per cent on the first ballot in the upcoming meeting.

Augenstein said if nobody gets 75 per cent of official party support, "chances are about 100 per cent that I would run.

"I had assumed all along that there would be an open primary," he said.

Asked whether he would bow out if the party decides on one candidate with a great degree of unanimity, he smiled and quipped "I'll tell you on Feb. 19."

HOPES FOR CHANGE

Augenstein said he hoped Griffin—who declared his candidacy for the Senate nomination last Tuesday—"would change his mind" about running.

"He is a competent, good man in the House who has done a good job, and I would hate to see him lose all that seniority," he said.

Augenstein said his support was concentrated roughly in Kent, Calhoun and Kalamazoo counties and in St. Johns, Midland and the Flint-Bay City-Saginaw area.

But before N, a synthetic rubber, is said to be superior to natural rubber, in some respects, especially in resistance to grease and petroleum oil.

He rated Detroit as an "uncertain spot" which would not go to any one candidate.

Asked whether he would prefer to run against Detroit Mayor Jerome Cavanagh or G. Mennen Williams in the Senate race—assuming incumbent McNamara gives up his seat—Augenstein rated both as "tough candidates."

Should Wounded Enemy Be Helped?

GIs Find It Hard to Be Kind to Enemy

By TOM TIEDE

PLEIKU PROVINCE, Viet Nam (NEA) — Staff Sgt. Les Staley of Pikeville, Ky., had begun the conflict with nine men. When it ended he had four.

Each of the remaining had a friend gone now. And each had seen his friend fall.

On the morning following the fight, Staley's people were assigned to probe the war area for life.

In the windless air, the men wandered from body to body, poking, turning.

"Sarge!" somebody called out. "What'd ya find?" Staley answered.

"A live one, I think."
"Ours?"
"No, theirs."

N. VIETNAMESE

The man was a North Vietnamese soldier, wounded in the head and stomach. He was propped awkwardly against a mound of earth and the fluid he had leaked was long dried and cracking.

Small things swarmed on the shredded ends of bullet holes.

"He's out cold, but alive," the sergeant determined.

"An ugly one, ain't he?"
"What we gonna do with him anyway, Sarge?"

"Take him back, what else?" The sergeant felt his men stiffen at the suggestion. Their faces set. They looked at the victim and then at Staley and then at each other.

"Take him back?"
"We can't leave him here, can we?"

"Why not?"
"Yeah, why not? The guy's about dead anyway."
"Forget it."

"Now, wait a minute. We're at least a mile from the C.P. I ain't about to lug this little rat all that way."
"Me neither."

HE KNEW

The sergeant grew silent. He knew how they felt. Three wars, 21 years of service and a thousand fears on the front lines had taught him that war demands no greater sacrifice from a man than for him to be unmerciful during battle but tolerant after.

Hate, he knew, can't be turned on and off as a switch.

"We lost five guys in our squad," a man said.

"Yeah, and maybe this guy killed one of them."

"I ain't above shooting him right now."

"None of that talk, soldier." DO IT TO ME

"Well, he'd do it to me if he had the chance."

"I said, cut it."

It was true, of course.

The wounded man uttered no sound. It was clear a mile over rough terrain would kill him. And then there was the risk, the men slowed down in open movement.

"Well, Sarge," somebody asked, "what's say?"

"You know damn well what I say," Staley growled.

And then he walked off. His four men looked after him briefly, and then they picked up the wounded man and followed.

Charge Plan Not Working

South School Integration Failure Eyed

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The U. S. Office of Education is taking a closer look at Southern "freedom of choice" school desegregation plans which look great on paper but actually are perpetuating discrimination against Negroes.

The Education office said yesterday it was considering recommendations offered by the U. S. Civil Rights Commission that these plans not be accepted in school districts receiving federal aid.

Such plans, which are in use by most Southern school districts, allow a student to attend any school in his district or geographical area. This theoretically throws previously all-white schools open to Negro students.

The commission charged in a report to President Johnson yesterday, however, that the free choice system is reinforcing the dual school system rather than benefitting the Negro.

The report was critical of Office of Education methods of checking on desegregation plans.

FEAR FACTOR

Fear of physical violence and economic retaliation are "a substantial factor in the reluctance of Negro parents and children to select white schools," the report stated.

To back this up, it said that although there was a "large increase" in the number of school districts which legally began desegregation last year, more than one Negro child out of every thirteen in the Deep South attends school with white children.

The commission urged that the Office of Education conduct on-the-spot investigations as part of its evaluation process to determine whether school districts are eligible for federal aid under the provisions of the Civil Rights Act of 1964.

It also urged Congress to enact legislation to prevent the harassment of Negroes who try to take advantage of desegregation plans.

STEP FURTHER

Education Commissioner Harold Howe II said in a statement that the report's "constructive criticism" will "encourage the Office of Education to move further in directions in which it has already embarked."

He added the report contained a valuable review of the development of the law related to school desegregation and said the recommendations of the commission are being given a careful consideration for inclusion of the Office of Education's school desegregation guideline for the coming school year.

In some cases, the report said, school districts have filed desegregation plans with the Office of Education but are not complying with them.

In other cases, the commission said the Office of Education asserted compliance plans that do not meet the requirements set up by the agency to enforce Title VI of the Civil Rights Act.

This section of the law allows the Office of Education to withhold federal funds to schools not complying with desegregation orders.

Grass Shack Holiday

South Sea Saga Relived

TOKYO (UPI) — It was just like in the movies. Fourteen Japanese tuna fishermen who landed on a South Pacific island last October liked the wine, women and song so much they stayed until last week.

The saga of the 14 intrepid seamen was brought to light today by the Asahi Evening News.

The Tokyo newspaper reported that the crew and captain of the 38-ton vessel Koei Maru put in on Kanyang Island of the Palau group in mid-October, hoping to trade with the island chieftain for bananas.

The chief, as is customary, ordered up a grass skirt a-go-go featuring island maidens. All 14 seamen attended, leaving no one behind to mind the boat.

During the merrymaking, the boat washed away by strong winds and the sailors were overcome by strong drink.

BOAT FOUND

U.S. authorities later found the tuna vessel aground off the island and detained the fishermen for unlawful landing.

Japanese fishery agency officials sent another ship to pick up the stranded crew and they arrived back in the port of Yaitzu last Saturday. The Asahi Evening News identified the skipper as Shizuo Yuasa.

FBI Captures Hunted Robber

WASHINGTON (AP) — The FBI announced early today the arrest in New Orleans of a convicted robber who along with a companion was due to go on the list of 10 most wanted fugitives later today.

The FBI said that Charles Lorin Gove, 40, was arrested late Tuesday night by FBI agents on Bourbon Street in the New Orleans French Quarter.

Still at large is Ralph Dwayne Owen, 24, who escaped with Gove last Halloween from the California Medical Facility at Vacaville by prying open a steel frame window and cutting through three chain-link fences.

The announcement said Gove was unarmed when arrested and offered no resistance.

OVERPOWERED DEPUTIES

In their escape, the FBI said, the fugitives overpowered two deputies who caught up with them, and made off in the deputies' jeep.

Owen and Gove were serving sentences of five years to life on armed robbery convictions. Five days after their escape, the FBI said, the pair looted a Napa County, Calif., ranch while holding three women and a young boy hostage for two hours.

The FBI said the pair robbed the Cold Spring-Highland Heights branch bank in Cold Spring, Ky., Nov. 23, taking $6,800, and returned to the same bank Dec. 13 to seize $14,500 more.

Claims Cooperation

Needed in Car Safety

DEARBORN (AP) — The director of the National Safety Council said Tuesday night the traffic fatality rate can be reduced with greater cooperation between government and the voluntary safety movement.

Howard Pyle, speaking at Ford Motor Co.'s National Dealer Traffic Safety Award program, said the 1965 rate of 5.8 fatalities per 100 million miles traveled was down slightly from the rate of 5.7 in 1964.

Dieters' Ranks Are Fat, but Their Personal Esteem Is Thin

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP) — What is worse than falling in love? A person in love is usually only a nuisance to himself — or perhaps to one other person, his beloved. But anyone on a diet is a nuisance to nearly everyone.
That's why all the world may love a dieter, but no one in history has ever been stirred to build a monument to a dieter.
Food is all he can think about or talk about. Instead of greeting you with "What's new?" he asks: "What did you have for breakfast this morning?"

They say misery loves company, and many think dieters should be isolated from the rest of humanity during their ordeal — perhaps to a lonely mountain top or a desert.
IMPRACTICAL IDEA
But since at any given time about a fourth of all Americans over 30 are dieting, or pretending to be, this idea is impractical. It might be simpler to exile the nondieters. In our present abundant, affluent society it would appear that they are the ones who are abnormal.

In any case, lumping the dieters together is no answer.
For example, I have been nearly seven weeks on the annual diet I start at the beginning of each year. It wrecks my day to meet another dieter for he is sure to inquire how much I lost last week.
"Six and one-eighth ounces," I reply.
POMEGRANATE JUICE
"Well, I lost 3 1/2 pounds," he chortles. "You want to know how I did it?"
"No."
"Well, I did it by having nothing but pomegranate juice and raw sauerkraut. Why don't you try it?"

Each guy has a different success story, an easy remedy. One melts his avoirdupois off by eating nothing but radishes and fried squash. Another does it with goat cheese and broiled duck eggs. Still another thins down with a mixture of mineral oil and mashed mangoes.
Most of these "easy way" artists are hopeful braggers at best, downright liars at worst. But the diets they prescribe invariably seem designed more for a chipmunk or a confused pelican than an ordinary human being.

What quickly thaws fat off one man may just as well pile it on the next one.
There is a scientific theory that eating food high in calories is what tends to make you chubby. But this is only partly true.
As a veteran of scores of diets, I think there are only two general rules that are really helpful in trying to slim down:
1. Never eat at all when hungry.
2. When not hungry, eat only foods you genuinely despise.
If this program doesn't work, you might as well relax and enjoy your fat.

INSTANT PROCESSING—This machine develops a roll of Verichrome Pan film and produces a set of black and white prints at the same time in one minute. Both developed film and finished prints emerge from a slot atop the machine, ready to be peeled apart.

Camera Angles New Equipment Nearing

By IRVING DESFOR
AP Newstudies
You can expect a host of new photographic equipment this year as the industry prepares for three major meetings in 1966. Leading off is the Master Photo Dealers and Finishers Association trade show in Cleveland March 6-10.
Then there's the New York International Photo April 13-17. Finally the big climax comes with Photokina, world's largest photographic fair, in Cologne, Germany, from Oct. 1-9.

Each of these occasions is chosen to mark the debut of new items—often prototypes not yet in production—that manufacturers have been working on.
IN ADVANCE
Sometimes announcements are made in advance of a photo show to focus attention on an item that might be "lost in the rush."
Such an item was unveiled in a New York press review recently. It is a device that processes a roll of 120 or 620

Kodak Verichrome Pan film in one minute... that is, develops the negatives and prints the pictures simultaneously.
The strong plastic machine, 12 inches long by 7 inches wide and 6 inches high, is called "Photo Magic processor."
It has a slot at one side which hold the exposed roll of black-and-white film.
ANOTHER SLOT
A sensitized roll or printing paper goes into another slot at the other side of the machine. The interior is lightproof.
When the button is pushed, the film and paper are transported through a one-shot developer solution.
This develops the negatives on the roll of film and transfers their image in reverse onto the sensitized paper, through a diffusion transfer technique.
In one minute, the roll of developed film and finished prints emerge from a slot atop the machine, face to face, ready to be peeled apart.

FINISHED PRINTS
The finished prints require no special coating for permanency, according to Photo Magic Inc., of East Orange, N.J., developers of the process.
They will be completely dry in moments and merely have to be cut apart.
However, the negatives require immediate further attention if they are to be preserved for further use. They must be put into a regular hypo bath for complete fixing, then washed and dried in normal darkroom procedure.
After that, they can be used to make duplicate prints and enlargements as wanted by the regular methods now in use.

SOON FOGGED
If the roll of film negatives isn't hypoed at once, it will become fogged and useless for making any further prints.
The special developer used in the processor must be drained after its one-time use and a new solution put in for the next roll of film.
A "photo-pak" of both developed film and the special printing paper for the 120 and 620 film size will cost 79 cents.

The machine, which operates on standard household current, will be available in April and will cost for under $30, according to its makers.
INSTANT WORK
They have in mind the millions of box camera snapshots throughout the country who might like to try instant home processing with inexpensive equipment.
However, the machine will be adapted to other types and sizes of films in the future, according to company officials as well as battery-operated units so that camera fans can process their film anywhere.

There are presently no provisions for compensating for over or underexposure.
It is presumed the low-cost camera users made proper exposures or used automatic cameras under good lighting conditions.
P.S. And don't forget provisions for the hypo bath... and washing and drying the roll of negatives. I'm of the school that believes negatives are extremely valuable.

4 Firms Have Aspirin With 8-Hour Effect

By Science Service
WASHINGTON — At least four blends of aspirin tablets have been developed to give eight-hour relief to sufferers from arthritis and other painful ailments.

Measurin started an $8-million regional advertising campaign in Los Angeles, Calif., last September, and will soon begin an East Coast campaign.
The new long-lasting tablets were developed by Chesebrough-Pond's, Inc., using a National Cash Register Co. process that does not require breakdown of the drug in the intestines.

The other long-acting aspirin tablets include Stendin, which was launched last May by Abbott Laboratories and the hitherto unpublished Lever Brothers' Drug Products Division.
MARKET TESTED
Stendin is being test-marketed to see how it sells in such key cities as San Francisco, Buffalo and Syracuse, N.Y., Louisville, Ky., and Tulsa, Okla.

Earlier in February, the U.S. Food and Drug Administration approved Duramax, a long-acting aspirin tablet put out by Grove of St. Louis, but there are no immediate plans for marketing it.
The Drug News Weekly, published in New York City, which announced these drugs, also reported the development of a long-acting aspirin tablet called Relay, by the Vick Chemical Co.

Ask Higher Driver Age
LANSING (AP) — The minimum driving age would go from 16 to 18 under terms of a Senate bill introduced Tuesday by Dearborn Democrat Edward Robinson. Gov. George Romney has favored an increase to 17.

Library of Congress Keeps Old Comic Book Collection

WASHINGTON (AP) — Bat- man, Superman and other her- oes of the golden age of comic books are being kept behind locked doors in the Library of Congress.

But, as Batman's sidekick Robin would put it, Italy These!

They're off limits to the kids and are for scholarly research only in the sedate library where the "quiet" signs mean no laughing as well as no talking.

Unless you're a sociologist, a reporter or a graduate student writing a dissertation, you can't get near the library's 12,000 or so comic books.

LIBRARY STACKS

The comics, dating from the late 1930s to the present, are kept in gray boxes on dusty shelves in two locked corridors of the library's stacks. The collection includes about 2,500 titles and may be the world's largest.

"We don't know of any other library that collects them," says John H. Thaxter, assistant chief of the library's serial division.

They are still coming in — 136 different titles at present — under copyright laws that require that the library receive two copies of every copyright periodical published.

Unlike magazines, there are no bound volumes available, so the library has to take special care of the yellowing, cracking old comics. In addition their value is growing — a copy of the first comic in which Superman appeared sold last year for $100.

SERIOUS THOUGHT

"We're giving serious thought to microfilming some of the earlier editions," Thaxter said.

The oldest comic book listed in the library's files is a January 1938 edition of Detective Comics. Although earlier comic books had reprinted newspaper funnies. Detective Comics be- came the first one with original material when it was first is- sued in 1937.

A year later, Action Comics came along and gave birth to Superman, followed by Batman who started in Detective Comics but got his own book in 1940.

There seems little difference between the Batman of 25 years ago and the masked figure who darts twice weekly across tele- vision screens.

SAME CRIMINALS

Even the criminals are the same — one 1942 issue featured Batman's adventures against the Joker and the Penguin.

They recently made television appearances — and ended up back in jail.

But if such comics try to show crime doesn't pay, fortunately for their publishers the message hasn't gotten across.

"If everyone realized that,"

Batman told Robin nearly a quarter-century ago, "there wouldn't be any need for the Batman and Robin in the world."

It has the greatest supply of fresh water of any state.

It has 11,037 inland lakes and 36,350 miles of streams.

It has the world's blishest waterway, the Detroit River. Enough fresh water for every manufacturing plant in every city in America flows by De- troit each afternoon.

Its famous locks at Sault Ste. Marie constitute the sec- ond busiest waterway in the world. More tonnage passes through these locks in an eight-month Great Lakes na- vigation season than through either the Panama or the Suez Canal in a full year.

It has no spot farther than 85 miles from the Great Lakes.

It has no community more than six miles from an inland lake or stream.

Tourism Workers Sent to Cane Fields

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Havana radio says the Cuban govern- ment has eliminated 141 jobs in the National Institute of Tour- ism industry.

The Miami-monitored broad- cast said the employees would be sent to the sugar fields to cut cane.

Tourism once was Cuba's sec- ond biggest source of dollar in- come.

The world's first match was invented in 1680 but it was cost- ly, dangerous and impractical. The first really useful matches were known as friction matches; these were first made by an Englishman.

Preminger Back on Job, None the Worse for Battle

By BOB THOMAS

AP Movie-Television Writer HOLLYWOOD — Gladiator Otto Preminger is back at his job of producing movies and he looks none worse for his wounds in the Battle of 21.

Preminger was the victim in last month's encounter in New York's fancy 21 C's where a glass was thrown by literary agent Irving Swifty Lazar.

"I knew I wasn't hurt badly," Preminger recalled, "even though they couldn't stop the flow of blood with eight towels."

The facial scars are virtually gone now. He jests to a friend who telephoned his Paramount office. "Those surgeons at perpetuated by unscrupulous Doctors' Hospital did such a magnificent job that now I'm considering having my face lift- ed."

COMMENTS

Preminger commented on the altercation and other matters between phone calls; he is not a man to waste a minute. The reason for the battle is interested in the South. His next government policemen and er made slighting remarks to film will be an adaptation of the novel "Hurry Sundown," which Balderdash! replies Preminger. The dispute centered on Frank Sinatra.

How did Sinatra enter into message picture," he empha- sized. "It will also portray an era, and I plan to show why the Lazar was agent for Truman year 1946 was so important? Capote's new best seller, "In relation to what has followed in Cold Blood," which he sold for a South.

Lazar had promised to offer the Because that was when a lot of book to Sinatra. Lazar denies Negro soldiers came home from this, and "round and round they the war. Many of them had never been out of the South before. Preminger has long been por- and they didn't realize that con- tracted as a contentious type; di- tions could be better for Ne- but he claimed this is a canard gross."

California Hit With Disease Similar to Flu

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A widespread attack of a disease resembling the flu is sweeping Southern California.

Schools report that absen- teism is averaging 30 per cent. Businesses were equally hard hit.

Similar outbreaks of the ail- ment were reported in areas ranging as far north as the San Francisco area.

In Los Angeles alone, school officials said absenteeism had hit 15 per cent — with about 115,000 of the city's 780,000 school- children sick at home and about 2,000 teachers out of 30,000 ab- sent.

FLUCTUATING FIGURES

A county health official said the figures fluctuated from dis- trict to district within the coun- ty, but that the illness was a common one — "a major out- break of influenza-like illness of near-epidemic proportions."

The illness also has taken its toll among the famous, includ- ing film stars Lana Turner, Bing Crosby, Bob Hope and tele- vision's "Batman," Adam West, and California Gov. Ed- ward G. Brown.

Dutch Royal Wedding Festival to Start

AMSTERDAM, the Netherlands — The queen with a German who was assure Beatrix of her rights of lands (H. Crown Princess Beatrix and German-born Claus forces, Parliament last Decem- ber, 1959, will give notice of their intention to marry before Mayor F. J. Van Beek Calkoen in the Town Hall of Baarn. The royal Soestdyk Palace is located in Baarn.

In a simple ceremony lasting no more than 10 minutes, they will sign the registers. This will be followed by festivities in the Hague, the seat of government.

FESTIVAL PROGRAM

These will include a program in the 14th century Hall of Knights, a tour of the city, and a performance of Shakespeare's "Midsummer Night's Dream."

Foreign royal and other guests begin arriving March 7 for the marriage.

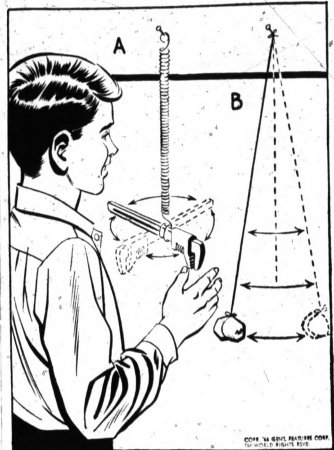

The wedding ceremony will be two-fold. First there will be a ceremony before Amsterdam's Mayor Gys Van Hall in City Hall. Then a Protestant Dutch Reformed Church ceremony will be held in Westerkirk.

About 2,000 guests, including three reigning European couples, are to attend.

The couple will ride in a gold- en coach in a procession half a mile long from the Amsterdam Royal Palace to City Hall and to the church.

About 4,000 local and central government policemen and er about 8,000 soldiers will form a guard of honor along the route.

Science Quiz

By BOB BROWN

PROBLEM: Pendulums.

NEEDED: A spring from an old window shade roller, some nails or other weight, some string.

DO THIS: Suspend the spring and the string. Attach weights to each. The weight on the string will swing back and forth in the manner of a pendulum.

Its path is not always in one dimension but the out- line of the swing is a long, narrow ellipse.

Two collections of the Science For You drawings, with photo- graphs, are in book form under the titles "Science Circus" and "Science Circus No. 2." They are available in the bookstores or from the author in care of The Pontiac Press.

Markets, Business and Finance ♦ Boom, War, Stymie Dollar Drain Efforts

Trading Is Active

Stock Mart Irregularly Lower

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market edged irregularly lower early this afternoon in active trading.

Some fairly sharp losses showed among aerospace is, color television stocks and airlines.

At the same time, selected issues showed strength, both among blue chips and second issues.

The market was mixed at the start following yesterday's decline and there was little in the news to impel it either way.

As the session progressed, utilities and other stocks which are bought by big investors on a yield basis seemed to be adversely affected by news that President Johnson said he is raising the interest rate on U.S. Savings bonds to 4.15 per cent from the present 3.75 per cent.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was off 2 at 366.8 with industrials up 8, rails off 4 and utilities off 6.

The Dow Jones Industrial average at noon was up .61 at 962.18, thanks to gains by some bonds held mostly unchanged.

of its component blue chips such as General Electric, which advanced about 1/4, Woolworth, Goodyear and Chrysler, which added fractions.

Slidabaker showed a burst of strength, advancing nearly 3 points in a scrambled action. General Motors lost a fraction and General Motors was unchanged.

Prices were mixed in heavy trading on the American Stock Exchange.

Corporate and U.S. Treasury bonds held mostly unchanged.

See 'Pressure' in Racial Suit

Builders' Union Eyes Case as Wage Tool

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—AFL-CIO construction union leaders say that the government may be using racial discrimination charges to pressure them into holding down wage demands.

President C. J. Haggerty of the AFL-CIO Construction and Building Trades Department "broached the charge in saying 'It is a possibility' that the first civil rights suit against a labor organization was part of the Johnson administration's campaign to bring pressure against what it considers inflationary wage increases."

Construction union spokesmen concede there has been trouble in the past in persuading some local unions to accept Negroes, but said that a Justice Department civil rights suit in St. Louis was not justified.

A high government source said that the suit against the St. Louis AFL-CIO Building Trades Council came "like a bolt out of the blue" while attempts were being made to settle the case amicably.

However, there was no immediate official reaction from the Labor or Justice departments on Haggerty's statement that the St. Louis suit might be connected with a Labor Department effort to impose a national wage settlement plan on the construction unions.

He made the statement at a news conference after hearing a detailed report from St. Louis AFL-CIO officials, who were charged with racial discrimination under the 1964 Civil Rights Act for walking off the job of constructing the St. Louis arch when three Negro plumbers were hired.

The AFL-CIO officials say the dispute is purely a jurisdictional matter because the Negroes belonged to another union.

By SAM DAWSON

AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK — Prosperity and war are teaming up to throw roadblocks in the uphill struggle to balance the U.S. federal budget.

War in South Asia is draining some dollars and is likely to draw still more overseas when the U.S. administration would like to keep as many Yankee dollars at home as it can.

Prosperity is causing U.S. imports to rise much faster than exports. We have more money to buy foreign goods, need more raw materials from abroad to satisfy consumer demands at home.

Boom times also are putting a strain on the administration's guidelines on wages and prices. And holding down the price of American products is important for two reasons: 1. It keeps them within the ability of less affluent nations to buy. 2. It helps keep American goods competitive with those produced in other industrialized lands where production costs, though rising, are still lower than here.

GOOD STRIDES

The United States made good strides in 1965 in cutting the balance of payments deficit that has plagued it since 1957. The net drain of dollars overseas was cut to $1.3 billion, from $2.8 billion in 1964. The biggest loss had been $3.9 billion in 1960 and this has inspired the drive to balance the payments and try to halt the outflow of gold.

The administration has been hoping that 1966 will see the deficit either shrivel or cut to less than $1 billion. Now it is taking a second look at its earlier forecasts.

Last year, American activity in all overseas areas cost $1.6 billion. Officials say when three Negro plumbers were hired.

The AFL-CIO officials say the dispute is purely a jurisdictional matter because the Negroes belonged to another union.

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Johnson announced today an increase of slightly more than one-fourth of 1 per cent in the interest rate on Series E and H U.S. savings bonds.

Johnson said the new rate, which will apply both to bonds already outstanding and to new issues, will be 4.15 per cent. The present rate is 3.75 per cent.

The President could have raised the rate as high as 4.25 per cent without additional congressional action.

The increase is intended not only to make savings bonds a more attractive investment but by stimulating bond sales — as the administration hopes it will — to help avert inflation.

In announcing the increase, Johnson said the savings bond program is "both prudent and patriotic" and expressed hope the new interest rate will encourage millions of Americans to join in the program.

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Ellipton, an anticonvulsant drug used to control epilepsy, was removed from the market yesterday at the request of the Food and Drug Administration (FDA).

The FDA said it requested the action because of side effects on test animals which were not reported before or after sales were approved.

The FDA also said "there is a question as to the effectiveness of this drug in treatment of convulsions."

Ellipton, one of 15 drugs prescribed for convulsions, is manufactured by the Ciba Pharmaceutical Co. of Summit, N.J., and has been on the market since May 1960.

Ciba, in a statement issued in New York, said it had agreed to recall the drug, although it denied withholding any information.

RESULTS SECRET

FDA Commissioner James S. Goddard said Ciba had withheld from the agency results of studies made on rats in 1960—before the FDA approved Ciba's application to market Ellipton.

The studies, discovered later by an FDA inspection of Ciba's factory and records, was said to have shown that Ellipton produced "serious toxic effects to the thyroid, ovaries, adrenals, and uteri of female rats and atrophy (shrinking) and mottling of the adrenals of some male rats."

The court order has been lifted.

Amount Seems Small

When It's Spread Out

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—The Bank of America last year lost $300,000 to bandits, Rudolph A. Peterson, its president, reported yesterday.

Peterson called the robbery "relatively small"—averaging out to about $330 per branch of the 900-branch institution.

'Stilt' Era Fame May Spur Kansas

By The Associated Press

For the first time since Will (The Stilt) Chamberlain was a sophomore in 1957, the Kansas Jayhawks may win an undisputed Big Eight Conference basketball championship this season.

Seventh-ranked in this week's Associated Press poll, the Jayhawks impressed Tuesday night with a 96-54 home court thumping of Missouri. Walt Wesley's 25 points and 13 rebounds paced the Jayhawks to their 17th triumph in 20 games, including 6-1 in league play.

All three defeats were suffered on the road to UCLA, Southern California and Nebraska, and the Jayhawks are favored to turn the tables on Nebraska late this month. Nebraska currently leads the Big Eight at 8-0.

The eighth-ranked St. Joseph's Hawks of Philadelphia, the only other team in the AP Top Ten to see action, also impressed with an 83-79 road victory over Davidson at Charlotte. Cliff Anderson's lay-up and two free throws by Matt Guokas provided the winning margin for the Hawks in the closing minutes after Davidson had taken a 77-75 lead.

HIGH SCORER

Anderson and Guokas each got 23 points to boost the Hawks' record to 18-4. Rod Knowles, with 23, and Dick Snyder, with 22, led Davidson.

BROTHERS STAR

Paced by the Kobayashi brothers, Albert and Robert, Capac rolled to a 35-28 lead at halftime and fought off the determined Tigers in the closing quarter to preserve the win.

Albert wound up with 27 points and Robert 12, and the two pushed in nine points from the free throw line in the fourth quarter to keep Armada in check.

Lee Thompson picked up 23 points for Armada and Dave Shaw added 15.

Dryden won its third game in a row in stopping Brown City.

Ken Kitchenmaster turned in his finest performance of the season as he poured in 38 points to spark the Dryden attack. Arden Fisher topped Brown City with 15.

Waterford Ski Team Wins 2 in Quad Meet

Waterford scored two more victories in Mount Holly Prep Ski League competition yesterday, a quadrangular meet advertised from Saturday.

Walled Lake was second in both the boys and girls fields. Detroit Benedictine was third both times and Kettering rounded out the field.

Kettering's Bob Trepp led the boys' individual races but didn't have enough teammates finish to qualify a team score.

Julie Crary of Waterford paced the girls' results.

Capac Quintet Near Title in Thumb Loop

It's just a two-team race in the Southern Thumb League.

Capac (11-1) wrapped up at least a share of the title last night with a 64-59 win over Armada (3-8) and Dryden (9-3) remained the only one with a chance to catch the leader by downing Brown City (1-11), 64-38.

In other games, Almost (8-4) knocked Anchor Bay (8-4) out of the race, 69-59, and Memphis (4-8) squeezed past New Haven (4-8), 59-37.

With only two games remaining, Capac needs just one victory to sew up the title. If Capac drops the last two and Dryden posts victories in its final two outings, the two will wind up in a tie for the title.

Three Advance in Cage Action

City League Playoff
Double Elimination

The Packers, UAW 653 and the All-Stars each advanced to the third round of the winners' bracket in the Class B city men's recreation basketball playoffs last night.

UAW topped the Unbeatables 73-72. The Packers nipped The Champs, 79-75, and the All-Stars blasted Stanfill's Sinclair, 76-43.

Auburn Heights Community College was eliminated from the double-elimination action when Tasty Bakery triumphed 44-39, in the losers' bracket.

Five free throws by Ray Sturdivant and three field goals by Andy Roach were the keys as the union quintet rallied in the last period to drop the Unbeatables into the losers' bracket.

Jim Mathis scored 25 and Henry Robertson 21 but it wasn't enough for the Champs to offset the Packers' balanced attack. Carl Arnold's 20 and Willie Harston's 17 led the All-Stars win.

Tasty Bakery won only its second game of the season by building a seven-point lead in the first three quarters behind the shooting of Jerry Hill (15) and Gerry Hennig (12).

LAND STUDY — Conservation Commissioner Gus Scholle (left) of Royal Oak is shown a map of the Holly recreation area by district parks supervisor Alfred Masini. Scholle was primarily interested in looking over lands involved in a proposed trade between the Holly and the Conservation Department during Monday's visit. He also toured other recreational facilities in the area.

Westminster Champ Heads for Retirement

NEW YORK (AP) — Jimmy Butler, a Yorkshireman who wears a plaid cap to let everyone know he is from Merry Old England, promised today there would be no turning back in his decision to retire his Westminster Dog Show champion. "When you reach the top," observed Butler, who now resides in Temple City, Calif., "you're a fool to go back down to the bottom and start all over again."

Fish Biting, but Weather Weakens Ice

A few patches of unsafe ice and some missing shanties greet fishermen on area lakes, but the fishing has been above average.

The recent spring-like weather weakened ice on a few lakes to the danger point, ended driving of cars on the ice and caused a handful of shanties to sink.

State law requires that these shanties be recovered. Walled Lake is producing good catches of pike on tip-ups. A few northerners are being taken at Pontiac and White St. Clair is not up to par.

Wigglers are proving effective for perch on Walled, Union, Osborn, Stringy and Van Norman. A few good catches have been made on St. Clair with Russian hooks baited with small minnows.

On Cass Lake's Guntercrest Bay, bluegills and crappies have been producing a good sport. Other bluegills spots have been Elizabeth, Upper Straits, Kent and Stringy. Kent remains good for crappies.

Rabbit and fox hunters are having fair success. Fox pelts are bringing a good price on the fur market, some as high as $7.

So his decision to retire Ch. Zely Mooremaides Magic, the first wire-haired Fox Terrier to go Best-In-Show at Westminster in two decades, is final.

"She has done everything we've asked of her," said Butler. "Now let's see what she can do in the breeding field."

Magic, who will be five years old on May 31, was imported to the United States three years ago, and has been trying to win Westminster since. She captured the terrier specialty, which precedes Westminster, the past two years, and last year went Best-Of-Breed in Westminster.

With such credentials, her triumph could hardly be called completely unexpected. Yet, it was surprising that James A. Farrell, Jr., of Darien, Conn., the judge, took only 13 minutes to make his decision.

Red Hot Idea Backfires Near Mio

People who might think it's a "red hot" idea to set fires to improve range conditions for deer are cautioned by the Conservation Department that such actions would be "sparking up the wrong trees."

The warning comes out after a recent incident in the Mio district which saw a well-meaning, but ill-advised person lough off a blaze with the right get fired up about the situation and do the same thing.

Department leaders stress that intentionally set fires would do much more harm than good by sending thousands of dollars worth of forest values up in smoke.

Also, uncontrolled burns would actually backfire by depriving homes for wildlife.

Deer Management Big Issue

Senate May Not Okay Commissioner

LANSING (AP) — Conservation Commissioner E. M. (Matt) Laitala faces confirmation trouble in the Senate over deer management policies.

Laitala, a Hancock Democrat, was grilled by the Senate Business Committee Tuesday and conceded, "in the long pull we are going to have a smaller deer herd."

He has been a commissioner since 1961 and was reappointed in December by Gov. George Romney to a term ending Dec. 31, 1966.

One business committee member said privately he probably would not vote for Laitala and added, "a lot of others feel the same way."

A committee decision is expected within about two weeks. Then the nomination would go to the Senate.

Senators accused the Conservation Commission of tail-wagging - the dog operation whereby department functionaries tell the commission what policies should be set.

ON BANDWAGON

Laitala said he has been over deer management policies "would have died down as it does every year. But my good senator (Joseph Mack, D-Ironwood) jumped on the bandwagon. People said, 'hurray, we have a legislator on our side,' and it grew."

Many hunters and some legislators say the department should declare a moratorium on shooting of antlerless deer as a means of allowing the deer herd to grow. The department says antlerless hunting is not a factor in the herd size.

Two Field Trips Slated by PAC During Month

Two additional field trips have been scheduled this month by the Pontiac Audubon Club.

A review of waterfowl patterns will highlight this Saturday's trip to the VanKirk game farm at the end of Kearsley Street on Goodrich's south side. On the return trip a stop is planned at the Ortonville recreation area. Wes Hall will be the leader for the field trip.

Al Madden will be the leader Feb. 26 for the trip to Kensington Park. Members and guests will convene at the sites for both field trips at 9 a. m.

Laitala said the herd has been on a 20-year decline since wartime logging operations "despite anything we can do."

Laitala said the problem was to educate hunters to the department's reasons for its program.

"What drastic moves we could take to build the herd," he said, "would still be a drop in the bucket and the cost would be terrific."

MORE POSITIVE

Laitala said he has been a hunter for 51 years. Hunters, he said, "are more positive about their sport than any other rec-reationists. It just seems to be difficult to convince them that certain facts are facts."

"Hunters," he continued, "don't learn enough about deer habits in two weekends (of the hunting season) but they won't take the word of those who make a lifetime study of it. We have to find out how to reach these people."

Sen. John Bowman, D-Roseville, the committee chairman, asked Laitala if a diminishing herd did not mean the hunters might be right in their criticisms.

"These matters have been studied and restudied to point where there shouldn't be after the demonstration."

Department Ranks Need Fire Officers

Forest fire officers are needed by the Department of Conservation.

The department is taking applications for this position. The filing deadline for applications is Feb. 28. The written examinations will be held on April 2.

A high school education is required, along with experience on heavy equipment operation. Other related experience may also qualify.

Those interested should contact the Civil Service Commission, any Conservation Department office, state police post or their local county clerk for application for civil service examination and specifics.

Must Obtain Free Permit to Keep Deer

Michigan residents are reminded that possession permits must be obtained from the Conservation Department for them to legally keep deer that they strike down on the state's highways.

This point, stressed by department law enforcement officials, is prompted by the fact that some motorists involved in vehicle-deer collisions have taken the animals they have killed without applying for these free permits.

Failure to obtain a permit amounts to illegal possession of venison, according to the Department.

Styles and driving have changed in the last 50 years and the Automobile Club is still Michigan's leader in Motoring services and promotion.

IN A BIND — Rock 'n' roll singer Chubby Checker sits in a Chicago police station yesterday after being arrested and charged with contributing to the delinquency of a minor on a complaint signed by the mother of a 17-year-old college student. He was freed on $500 bond.

Opposed Halting Live TV of Viet Hearings

NEW YORK (UPI)—Fred W. Friendly resigned yesterday as president of the Columbia Broadcasting System (CBS) news division because of the network's decision to suspend live television coverage of U.S. Senate hearings on Viet Nam.

In announcing Friendly's resignation, CBS President Frank Stanton said: "Mr. Friendly feels that he is unable to continue in his post as a result of a decision made by the recently appointed group vice president, (of) broadcasting, John F. Schneider, not to schedule live television coverage of the testimony of George F. Kennan before the Senate Foreign Relations Committee last week."

"Fred Friendly has been an outstanding leader of broadcast journalism. His contributions to the public, to his profession and to CBS have been great indeed. My associates, his colleagues and I will miss him."

Until last week's decision, both CBS and the National Broadcasting Co. (NBC) had been televising the committee hearings on administration policy in the Viet Nam war.

FIRST MOVE
One of Schneider's first moves following his appointment as group vice president — which gave him jurisdiction over all broadcasting policies — was to suspend the coverage.

The 56-year-old Friendly, who has been with CBS for 16 years and had been president of the network's news division for the past two years, is known to believe that news coverage is one of television's prime responsibilities.

Until Schneider's appointment, he had been given a considerable amount of autonomy in the handling of CBS news coverage.

'Brain Drain' to East Is Termed a Fallacy
PRINCETON, N.J. (AP) — The so-called "brain drain" of top students from all parts of the nation to the East is a fallacy according to a leading educator.

Dr. Hans Rosenbaum, director of the Woodrow Wilson National Fellowship Foundation, said a study based on 2,500 Woodrow Wilson fellows showed most of them returned home after completing graduate study.

The house in Springfield, Ill., which Abraham Lincoln purchased in 1844 and from which he left for Washington to assume the presidency, is visited annually by more than a half million persons.

JUDGE MOORE

Camp Oakland Story Outlined

Judge Details How Program Aids Many

By CORENNA ALDRICH

"Courts must do more for children than the surgery of judgments, decrees and mandates. They must step down from the bench to the small hand of the child and the turned shoulder of the parent and find a new start for parent-child relationship."

Upon this premise Camp Oakland at Oxford was founded and fostered. Through the years it

'The New Justice for Children and Families and the Story of Camp Oakland'

By Arthur E. Moore has meant the difference between human success and failure for hundreds of Oakland County youngsters.

The story of this relatively new concept of treatment for disadvantaged and delinquent children is told by the Honorable Arthur E. Moore, now on the bench of Oakland County Circuit Court and a former judge of Juvenile and Probate Courts.

Judge Moore attributes the bulk of its success to the late Walter Gehrk, for many years president of Camp Oakland and the facts are that the Gehrk-Moore duo raised more money without the fanfare of a single community drive than anyone else in local history. To date the total is $1,020,893 which sets a record.

Originally intended to provide summer camp experience for underprivileged children, this farm has now grown to include five separate projects: Boys' Ranch, a home for needy boys; Girls' Ranch, for girls needing a home; Summer Camp, which accommodates 100 youngsters at a time; Work Education Camp, for educationally and socially deprived older boys; and Family Camp Clinic, conducted summers for underprivileged families as a whole.

The "New Justice" Judge Moore propounds is one of prevention and protection rather than punishment. He feels we are producing criminals by neglecting predelinquents and contrasts our apathy in preventing delinquency to our concern for communicable disease.

COMMUNITY'S CONSCIENCE
"Delinquency is equally as contagious and dangerous, yet we permit its contagion to flourish and treat its victims too late. We must insist that delinquency be prevented 100 per cent, its contagion prevented at its source. . . . Prevention begins in a community's conscience and willingness to establish and support a preventive agency to correlate all resources to do the job."

The program will probably stimulate some controversy, and many of his suggested innovations may seem revolutionary to some. However, his ideas on social responsibility for this "New Justice" provide provocative insight into the challenge of delinquency and crime prevention through the eyes of a man long experienced with the problem.

N. J. Senate Increases Funds for Rutgers U.

TRENTON, N.J. (AP) — The New Jersey Senate has agreed to give an additional $100,000 to Rutgers University to help the school celebrate its 200th anniversary.

The new appropriation must be approved by the assembly.

Coaches Roar as Tigers Begin

By BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

LAKELAND, Fla. — Tote that glove! Swing that bat! Smack that ball! Throw that curve! Bunt that pitch! Run those paths! Field that grounder! Chase that fly!

These were the shouts at four baseball diamonds from the coaches of the Detroit Tigers and managers of the farm teams as 37 rookies and 11 veterans opened drills in early camp at Lakeland.

State Blocks School Merger

Walled Lake, Dublin
Annexation Is Nixed

The proposed annexation of the Dublin School District by the Walled Lake School system has been disallowed by the State Reorganization Committee, according to officials in Lansing.

The ruling reversed a recommendation made in December by the Oakland County School Reorganization Committee which favored the merger by a 10-2 margin.

Dressen was attributed to a 400-acre area, in the southeastern corner of White Lake Township, which lies in the Waterford Township School District.

This area would have been transferred to the Walled Lake district, according to terms of the proposal.

The state committee ruled that inclusion of the area, located west of Williams Lake Road and south of Elizabeth Lake Road, in the plan would be illegal.

A section of Public Act 289 states "the plan shall not cause an existing school district to be divided between two proposed local districts within the intermediate unit."

The issue was referred back to the county body which will be asked to reconvene by Oakland Schools Superintendent William J. Emerson.

Walled Lake school officials have requested the boundary extension into the Waterford Township district chiefly to unify the Union Lake area, currently divided by the two districts.

The estimated 38 families living in the subdivision have fought to stay in the Waterford Township district and last month gained the support of the board of education and Greater Waterford Community Council.

Supporting letters were dispatched to Lansing, but their influence on the state committee is undetermined.

Say Pontiac Divided on Racial Line

State civil rights officials told 50 Pontiac area civic leaders today that they saw Pontiac as a community divided along color lines with a wide economic gap between white and Negro families.

At a breakfast meeting, state officials explained the role of the Michigan Civil Rights Commission (CRC) and Pontiac's new CRC office.

Burton I. Gordin, CRC executive director, said that the 20 formal complaints from aggrieved citizens was one reason why Pontiac was selected for a part-time CRC office.

"We did not choose Pontiac because we felt or knew race relations were markedly worse here than in other Michigan Communities," said Gordin.

No community in the state is absolutely perfect, according to the CRC director.

He pointed out that bringing problems to the surface need not be a negative interpretation that things are ready to explode.

Gordin said the 22 complaints had been filed from the Pontiac area since April 1964 through January 11, 1966. Five more have been added since then.

He estimated only a third of the complaints would be justified.

Gordin said 1960 statistics show a wide economic gap between white and Negro families in Pontiac.

LOW INCOME

For example, he said 29 percent of the Negro families had an income under $3,000—the poverty level, compared to less than half that in the white population.

The median family income for Negro families was $4,678 per year, while the white population was earning $6,287 per year.

In addition to the economic gap, Gordin also cited housing discrimination, de facto school segregation and police treatment, as areas where complaints have been filed.

Also speaking to the community leaders were Mayor Pro Tem Leslie H. Hudson and Rev. A. A. Banks Jr., Detroit pastor and a civil rights commissioner.

Police Fines 'Arresting'

NEW IBERIA, La. (UPI)—It looked to motorists as if galloping inflation had arrived.

Police mailed out notices saying parking fines were thereby raised from 25 cents to $1.00. It was a typographical error. The notices should have said $1.00.

Robbi Adler Assault Dies

17 Workers Die of Suffocation in Switzerland

Poison Gas Blamed;
15 Italians Among
Power Plant Victims

LOCARNO, Switzerland (AP)—Seventeen workmen were suffocated last night by a cloud of poisonous gas at a remote Swiss mountain power station.

An official at the power plant said the gas was of carbonic origin.

Fifteen of the workmen were Italian. An Italian investigation commission arrived today, and details of the inquiry were withheld until its completion.

The tragedy occurred in a tunnel at the Robbi hydroelectric station being built in a barren, uninhabited mountain area north of this scenic resort in central Switzerland. The tunnel was one of several waterways built to feed the station's artificial lake.

Police said the gas spread from the southern part of the tunnel after three men opened a ventilation shaft that had been closed for the winter.

HANDFUL AT SITE

Except for the small crew working in the tunnel's northern part only a handful of engineers and workers was at the station site.

Full construction work was to be resumed in the next few weeks with the return of seasonal workers from Italy who make up part of Switzerland's labor force but spend the winter months at home.

Police said the three men who opened the ventilation shaft—two Swiss fire guards and an Italian foreman—were equipped with gas masks when they set out through the tunnel more than four miles long. The ventilation shaft is about two-thirds of the way from Roulet to the southern entrance.

A small crew of workers found them dead hours later, a few hundred yards from the shaft. Two were lying on the ground and the third was leaning against the rock. All three were without gas masks.

The other 14 Italian workers apparently suffocated when an air current drove the gas through the tunnel.

The tunnel runs under Basodino Mountain where the Robbi power station is being built. It links the two small Alpine valleys of Di Maggio and Bedretto.

The power station is in a remote area south of the Saint-Gothard Mountain group in central Switzerland. The entire area is deep in snow and almost inaccessible at this time of year.

IDLE DOCKS—Coils of wire and wooden crates lie in piles on the docks in Santo Domingo as a general strike that has gripped the capital city entered its seventh day today. There is no sign of a break in the work stoppage.

2 Americans Wounded

SANTO DOMINGO (UPI)—The total U.S. casualty toll of Terrorist gunmen fired on two U.S. Army Jeeps here last night and there were indications that one of them was bombed as well. Two American paratroopers were wounded.

The latest attacks increased At least 23 Dominicans have been killed and more than 70 wounded in a week of intermittent mob violence by day and terrorist activity by night.

A military spokesman said last night's American casualties occurred when a burst of heavy fire pinned down four U.S. soldiers who were patrolling downtown Santo Domingo in a Jeep.

Act of Justice Frees City Expectant Mother

Thanks to the efforts of two veteran policemen, an assistant prosecutor and a circuit judge, a young Pontiac mother won't have her baby in prison.

Due to give birth soon, Mrs. Diane Goff was released yesterday after serving three and a half months of a 14-5 year sentence in the Detroit House of Correction.

She was sentenced in October by Circuit Judge William J. Beer after pleading guilty to stealing a car.

During the trial of her husband, Dallas, last week on the same offense, new evidence came to light that she was not involved in the theft.

"She was just trying to protect her husband," said Pontiac detective William Davis. "We couldn't let her stay in jail."

FOUND GUILTY

Despite her attempt to save her husband, Goff was found guilty by a jury of unlawfully driving away an automobile and will be sentenced Feb. 23.

Following Goff's conviction, Davis and his partner James F. Fritz, went to assistant prosecutor Thomas Plunkett and told him the story. Plunkett prepared the necessary papers.

"She really wasn't a participant in the crime in the legal sense of the word," Plunkett told Beer.

In freeing Mrs. Goff, the mother of three other children ranging in age from 1 to 5 years, Judge Beer said, "A mother sets the moral tone for her children. Think about it."

TEARS FLOW

Uncontrolled tears ran down Mrs. Goff's cheeks as she left the courtroom with Davis and Fritz. They drove her to the home of her mother, Mrs. Robert R. Fisher, 405 Boyd.

"At least we set the scales of justice right today," said Beer.

Jewish Leader Continues to Fight for Life

Self-Inflicted Wound in Head Is Fatal for Richard Wishnetsky

DETROIT (AP)—Richard Wishnetsky, 23, whose brooding about the hypocrisy and inhumanity he thought he saw in the world led him to shoot down his rabbi before 600 witnesses, is dead of a self-inflicted wound.

Wishnetsky, brilliant honors student and one time mental patient, shot himself in the head Saturday after twice shooting Rabbi Morris Adler, internationally known Jewish leader, as the rabbi conducted Sabbath services.

Wishnetsky died in Detroit's Providence Hospital today.

Rabbi Adler, in the intensive care unit of Sinai Hospital, remained in grave condition.

Doctors who performed brain surgery on the rabbi for the second time Monday, said yesterday they noted "a few small gains which suggest an improving trend."

Wishnetsky, a former Woodrow Wilson Scholar at the University of Michigan before being committed to a Michigan mental institution, had been receiving counseling from Rabbi Adler.

Near the end of Saturday's service at Shaare Zedek Synagogue in suburban Southfield, appeared before the congregation, fired a shot into the ceiling, and began to denounce the congregation for hypocrisy.

He staggered and stopped. Then he fired his 32-caliber pistol twice, hitting Rabbi Adler in the arm and head.

Wishnetsky then turned the pistol on himself. The shot, doctors said, destroyed most of his brain.

Rabbi Adler, 59, has not regained consciousness since the shooting.

Wishnetsky's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Wishnetsky, prominent members of Shaare Zedek, remained by the young man's bedside until his death.

When informed of Wishnetsky's death, Mrs. Goldie Adler, wife of the rabbi, said:

"The natural expression we use at a time like this is 'blessed be the righteous judge.' It is beyond our understanding. We only know what we feel. We feel sympathy for them the Wishnetskys and I with them, I would press their hands."

Food shortages resulting from the strike's paralysis of transportation have been described as "critical" in some parts of Santo Domingo.

Less extensive strike activity, accompanied in some cases by violence, was reported in at least eight other cities.

Driver Dies After Crash in Waterford

A 55-year-old Waterford man died in Pontiac General Hospital this morning, three and one-half hours after his car rammed into a tree at the Cass Lake-Cass-Elizabeth intersection.

Alfred Friedenstein, 55, of 1114 Peltam was alone in the car.

Traveling east on Cass-Elizabeth, Friedenstein ran a stop sign at the intersection, according to Waterford Township police.

Cass-Elizabeth deadends at Cass Lake Road.

The accident occurred at 3:05 a.m. The victim was pronounced dead at 6:34.

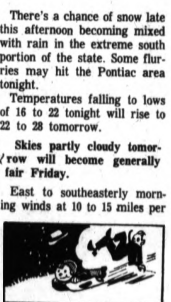

Chance of Snow Late This Afternoon

There's a chance of snow late this afternoon becoming mixed with rain in the extreme south portion of the state. Some flurries may hit the Pontiac area tonight.

Temperatures falling to lows of 18 to 22 tonight will rise to 28 tomorrow.

Skies partly cloudy tomorrow will become generally fair Friday.

East to southeasterly morning winds at 10 to 15 miles per hour.

Primaries Slated in 6 of 7 Pontiac Districts

Primary balloting will be carried out in six of Pontiac's seven voting districts March 7 when district nominees are selected for the City Commission.

Only District 3 will be without a primary election.

Twenty-five candidates submitted nominating petitions deadline to yesterday's filing deadline. Twenty-three candidates will be involved in the primaries.

A primary is necessary only in districts where three or four persons have filed nominating petitions.

Only two candidates, incumbent William H. Taylor Jr. and William J. Winters, filed in District 3. Thus, they will automatically be in the District 3 commission post on the April 18 general city election ballot.

SIX INCUMBENTS

Six incumbent commissioners are among the 23 seeking their respective district nominations in the primaries.

Districts 1, 5 and 7 have attracted the most candidates.

District 1 has four commission hopefuls, while districts 5 and seven have five candidates each.

In the primary election, voters in each district will select two candidates to represent their district in the general election.

One from each district will be elected in the general election by the city at large.

Seeking nomination in District 1 are T. Warren Fowler Sr., Stanley Swierczynski, 37, of 335 Dick.

District 3 (No Primary)

William H. Taylor Jr., 50, of 247 Ottawa.

William J. Winters, 39, of 293 Ottawa.

District 2

Leslie H. Hudson, 43, of 361 Gallagher.

George Grba, 35, of 28 Kimball.

Clifford A. McGinnis, 36, of 112 Adelaide.

District 5

John A. Dugan, 57, of 363 Nelson.

Loy L. Ledford, 43, of 662 Linda Vista.

Roland W. Folk, 36, of 628 Joslyn.

William Hine, 31, of 490 De Sota.

Gerald W. Kehoe, 54, of 599 Lenox.

District 6

Wesley J. Wood, 59, of 11 N. Sanford.

Mrs. Charles W. Neidreid, 54, of 62 Mariva.

James H. Marshall, 63, of 185 S. Jessie.

James B. Davis, 40, of 268 S. Paddock.

Robert A. Landry, 51, of 47 Center.

Joseph Singleton, 30, of 365 S. Marshall.

Curtis L. Webb, 32, of 294 Judson.

Heating and Cooling Co., is seeking his second commission term.

Garling, 40, of 502 Bloomfield, is sales manager of the Marshall Realty Co. of Pontiac.

Also in the real estate business is Stanley Swierczynski.

Whiters, 53, of 453 Harvey, owns Sam's Electric. He served on the City Commission by appointment in 1964.

Three candidates in District 2 seek nomination in the primary election. These are incumbent Robert C. Irwin, Kenneth H. Cumberworth and Stanley Swierczynski.

Irwin, 36, of 345 W. Iroquois, seeking his second commission term, is associated with the real estate and insurance firm of John K. Irwin & Sons.

Five More File for City Primary Race

Filing were William J. Winters, Stanley Swierczynski, Gerald W. Kehoe, Clifford A. McGinnis and Loy L. Ledford.

Winters, 39, of 293 Ottawa, filed nominating petitions for the District 3 nomination, while Swierczynski, 37, of 335 Dick filed for District 2 nomination.

Kehoe, 54, of 599 Lenox and Ledford, 45, of 662 Linda Vista filed for nomination in District 5. McGinnis, 36, of 112 Adelaide will seek nomination in District 4.

A lifelong resident of Pontiac, Winters has served three years on the City Planning Commission. He was first appointed in 1962.

JOB RECORD

He has been district manager of the Michigan Universal CIT Credit Corp. of Pontiac for 13 years. He has been with the firm for 18 years.

Winters, one of the sponsors of the Pontiac Arrows professional football team, has been active in various fraternal organizations.

He has been active in Elks Lodge 810, the American Legion, Eagle Aerie 2887 and the Knights of Columbus. He also has been a member of St. Benedict's Catholic Church.

Winters is married and has one child.

He is a graduate of St. Frederick High School and attended the University of Detroit.

Making a bid for a District 2 nomination, Swierczynski is a former city employee. He worked nine years for the city, including two years as assistant planning director.

urban renewal director for the city of Utica.

In District 3, the City Commission last night formally designated Taylor, 50, of 247 Ottawa, and Winters, 39, of 293 Ottawa, as nominees and ordered their names to be put on the ballot for the general election.

Taylor, assistant advertising manager at Pontiac Motor Division, will be seeking his fourth term as City Commissioner, while Winters, district manager of the Michigan Universal CIT Corp., is seeking election for the first time.

Three candidates will vie for nomination in District 4. These are Leslie H. Hudson, George Grba and Clifford A. McGinnis.

SEEKS REELECTION

Incumbent Hudson, 43, of 361 Galloway, owner of Hudson's Hardware and a real estate salesman, is bidding for his second two-year stint on the commission.

Grba, 35, of 28 Kimball, an employee of the Oakland County Department of Public Works, is making his second try for the City Commission.

Making his first attempt for an elected public office, McGinnis, 36, of 112 Adelaide, is employed at GMC Truck & Coach Division.

In District 5, incumbent John A. Dugan will vie with Loy L. Ledford, Roland W. Loh, William Hine and Gerald W. Kehoe for space on general election ballot.

FORMER MEMBER

A 10-year veteran on the commission, Dugan, 57, of 363 Nelson, is employed at Pontiac Motor Division.

A former commissioner, Ledford, 45, of 662 Linda Vista, is general manager of Pontiac's Carparts of Pontiac.

Employed at Fisher Body Division, Psiplant Plant, Folk 36, of 628 Joslyn, is another candidate making his first bid for public office.

Hine, 31, of 490 DeSoto, a former union official, is employed at GMC Truck & Coach Division.

FORMER OFFICE

Kehoe, 54, of 599 Lenox, employed in the maintenance department at Fisher Body plant, is a former three-term president of Fisher Body UAW Local 596.

Three candidates have filed for nomination in District 6. These are incumbent Wesley J. Wood, Jack F. Prasil and Mrs. Charles W. Nelred.

Wood, 59, of 11 N. Sanford, employed at GMC Truck & Coach Division, will be seeking his fourth two-year term on the commission.

PTA WORK

Mrs. Nelred, 54, of 62 Mariva, a teacher and manager of a local office of Wayne State University, is former president of the Michigan Congress of Parents and Teachers.

Five candidates will be on District 7 primary ballots. These are incumbent James H. Marshall, James B. Davis, Robert A. Landry, Joseph Singleton and Curtis L. Webb.

Marshall, 63, of 185 S. Jessie, retired from GMC Truck & Coach Division, was appointed to the commission in 1964 to fill the vacancy left by the death of Emmett S. Wellbaum.

Davis, 40, of 268 S. Paddock, employed at GMC Truck & Coach Division, has also been a supervisor in the McConnell Community School program.

FORMER MAYOR

Former mayor Landry, 51, of 47 Center, will be seeking his fourth term on the City Commission.

Associated with Saunders & Wyatt Realty Co., Singleton, 30, of 365 S. Marshall, is another candidate seeking his first public office.

Webb, 32, of 294 Judson, a real estate salesman for the Washington National Insurance Co., made an unsuccessful bid for the commission two years ago.

In addition to selecting from the survivors of the March 7 primary, voters in the April 18 general election also will elect five municipal judges.

NO OPPOSITION

The commission last night designated both incumbents, Cecil B. McCallum and Maurice E. Finnegan, as nominees. No other candidates filed.

McCallum, 65, of 266 Cherokee, was first elected to the local bench in 1964, while Finnegan, 60, of 38 Delaware, began on the court in 1961, first as a justice and later as a judge.

Soviet Ship Watched

Near California Coast

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The Navy kept a close watch today on a Soviet fishing trawler moving southward along the California coast.

The trawler, the 125-foot De Flektor, is well beyond the three-mile limit and in international waters. "She has every right to be where she is," a Navy spokesman said.

He has worked for Geer Associates, planning consultants, and has been assistant urban renewal director of St. Clair.

A 50-year resident of Pontiac, Kehoe served three terms as president of Fisher Body UAW Local 596. He was defeated in a bid for a fourth two-year term in 1964.

Kehoe, who has served 15 years on the Local 596 shop committee, served eight years on the city's Board of Tax Review, 1951-58.

He is employed in the maintenance department at Fisher Body Plant, where he has worked 31 years.

Kehoe is married and has one child.

He attended St. Frederick High School and Assumption College, Windsor. He is a member of St. Michael's Catholic Church and the Fraternal Order of Eagles.

Defeated in a bid for reelection in 1964, Ledford will be seeking his second term on the City Commission.

In 1962, Ledford pulled the biggest upset of the election by defeating then District 5 incumbent John A. Dugan.

SAME INCUMBENT

Dugan again is the incumbent.

Ledford is general manager of McCanness Carpets of Pontiac and is the owner of Harrison Grill. A Pontiac resident since 1929 he has served as father vice president and treasurer of the Mark Twain School Parent-Teacher Association.

A Navy veteran, he is married and has five children.

Ledford is a graduate of Pontiac Central High School, Central Michigan College, Ohio Wesleyan University and the Pensacola Naval Pilots School.

FIRST OFFICE

Seeking the District 4 nomination, McGinnis is bidding for his first public office. He is a welder at GMC Truck & Coach Division.

McGinnis is married and has lived in the city 10 years and in District 4 seven years.

A high school graduate, he is a trustee of Moose Lodge 182 and Eagles Aerie 1230. McGinnis is a Korean War veteran.

Reported by Kresge

DETROIT (AP) — S. S. Kresge Co. reported Tuesday record 1965 profits of $23,460,632, or $4.24 per share, 35 per cent higher than 1964.

H. B. Cunningham, Kresge president, said the firm's K Mart department store program was a main factor in the increase over Kresge's 1964 profits of $17,374,452, or $3.16 a share.

30 Ask Time to Give Views

Anticipate No Delays on War Spending Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate plunges into fresh argument today over Viet Nam with days of cracking debate in prospect before its expected overwhelming passage of a military supply bill.

Nearly 30 senators have notified the leadership they want an opportunity to discuss President Johnson's Southeast Asia policies before they vote on a $4.8-billion authorization measure. It covers part of the $12.3-billion emergency money request for Viet Nam outlays.

Acting Democratic leader Russell B. Long of Louisiana declined a request by Sen. Wayne Morse, D-Ore., a critic of Johnson's Viet Nam policies, to delay consideration of the bill until next week.

"Frankly," he said, "the funds to support our men who are fighting in Viet Nam are a critical matter and I very much doubt the wisdom of further delay."

DELAY DEBATE?

Morse, in a telegram Tuesday to Democratic leader Mike Mansfield, recuperating in Florida from a respiratory illness, said that debate should be delayed until after the appearance of administration witnesses before the Senate Foreign Relations Committee.

Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor, former ambassador to Saigon and a presidential adviser, is scheduled to appear Thursday. Secretary of State Dean Rusk will be Feb. 17's witness.

Sen. Richard B. Russell, D-Ga., chairman of the Senate Armed Services Committee, asked for speedy action. He said it is "not that this bill clear the Congress by the latter part of this month."

Russell said in an interview he will oppose any effort to attach to the measure any policy riders. Critics of Johnson's policy have been talking about offering language which would admonish the President against expanding the Viet Nam war.

PREDICTS VOTE

Russell predicted overwhelming approval of the bill when a vote is reached.

"We have around 300,000 Americans in Viet Nam, or in the waters adjacent to it," he said. "They did not order themselves there."

"Without regard to a divergence of views, practically every senior fellow we should support with equipment, food, medical services and other necessities those who are fighting under our flag in that tortured land."

Nevertheless, Sen. Vance Hartke, D-Ind., spokesman for a group which protested the resumption of air strikes against North Viet Nam targets, said critical issues are involved and "this legislation should not be hurried through."

Collied; Ten Are Killed

SPLIT, Yugoslavia (AP) — At least 10 persons were killed and a large number injured today in the collision of a passenger train and a freight train near this Dalmatian port.

The cause of the accident appeared to be faulty brakes on the freight train, which suddenly picked up speed on a slope and crashed into the passenger train.

According to Dr. Daniel Horn, director of the service's newly created national clearinghouse for smoking and health, a special San Diego smoking council will plan the program to test methods of community action in changing cigarette habits.

Included will be research into why people smoke and help for those who want to cut down or quit.

New Exhibition Opens at Cranbrook Galleries

BLOOMFIELD HILLS — Ever-er students, one of whom donated an ingenious noise-making exhibition, "Amusements Is," which opened at the Cranbrook Academy of Art Galleries yesterday and will remain through March 6.

Some 65 objects of fantasy were selected to illustrate the ingenuity and imagination which can be brought to toys as demonstrated in the show.

Some of the objects are self-activated while others are game-type pieces that require manipulation.

Many of the objects represented reflect the artist's sense of fun as he worked. "This is one of the most exciting exhibits I've seen," said John Peterson, the exhibition designer. "The nature of the objects themselves causes excitement."

Pick San Diego for Test to Curb Cigarette Use

WASHINGTON (UPI) — San Diego, Calif., has been chosen as the site of a five-year $1-million U.S. Public Health Service test program aimed at trying to reduce cigarette smoking by area residents.

A second community in the East will be selected later for a similar intensive, long-range test, the Public Health Service said yesterday.

According to Dr. Daniel Horn, director of the service's newly created national clearinghouse for smoking and health, a special San Diego smoking council will plan the program to test methods of community action in changing cigarette habits.

Included will be research into why people smoke and help for those who want to cut down or quit.

MAKE OVER PAGES Farmington JCs Push for Pools, Auditorium

FARMINGTON — The Jaycees are spearheading a drive to add swimming pools and auditoriums to Farmington district high schools.

The proposed construction, expected to cost some $3.5 million, would include additions at both of the district's existing high schools and the one to be completed in 1968.

Jaycees soon will begin circulating petitions to have the pool-auditorium proposition placed on the June 13 school ballot.

They are confident they will have little trouble obtaining the required 2,000 signatures from registered voters, according to Jaycee Dr. John Richardson, 34069 Alta Loma.

As chairman of the Jaycees' community development committee, Richardson has been coordinating the preliminary work on the campaign.

ATTITUDE SURVEY
The group began its drive after analyzing results of a community attitude survey it conducted last fall.

While the Jaycees received only about 300 replies, they noted a clear indication that swimming pools and auditoriums are wanted in the community.

News of the Area

Further sampling by telephone convinced the Jaycees they should back the project, Richardson said.

They picked registered voters at random and divided them into three groups.

MOST IN FAVOR
The first was asked how he felt about adding auditoriums to the schools. Among the 68 persons contacted, those in favor of the idea outnumbered those opposed three to one.

A nine-to-one favorable majority resulted from asking a group of 63 how it felt about pools.

A question which combined both pools and auditoriums got a four-to-one favorable reaction from 90 persons queried.

While the construction could be financed with no increase in taxes, a 1-mill boost in operating taxes would have to be approved to maintain the facilities.

COST ESTIMATED
Cost estimates were calculated by architects at Linn-Smith and Associates of Birmingham.

The three pools would cost an estimated $2 million and the three auditoriums about $1.5 million.

The district could borrow money to build the facilities from the state at a low interest rate. While the debt retirement levy then could be retained at its present rate, the pay-off period would be extended over a greater number of years.

Each of the 800-seat auditoriums could be divided into three teaching stations for classes like drama and debate, Richardson said.

UP TO PAR
"We would like to bring our schools up to a par with others in neighboring districts," Richardson said.

The facilities would allow expansion in academic areas as well as in school sports, he said, noting physical education no longer is considered an educational frill.

Jaycees believe the facilities would be widely used by the community at large, he noted.

"In the community, the median age is 18 years," Richardson said. "One-third of the population attends the public schools."

BACKS DRIVE
The board of education has informally endorsed the Jaycees campaign.

School trustees traditionally have excluded pools and auditoriums from school building bond issues, contending that the need for classrooms should be primary.

A proposal to build pools and auditoriums should be initiated by the community, board members have maintained.

The Jaycees will begin circulating petitions as soon as they are prepared by schools attorney Robert Kelly.

Bearing the signatures of 10 per cent of the voters registered in the last school election, the petitions are to be returned to the board early in April.

3 Children Escape Injury in Home Fire

WEST BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP — Three children of Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Huntley narrowly escaped serious injury yesterday afternoon when fire swept through their single-story frame home at 4346 Forbush. The blaze started in a back bedroom and spread quickly throughout the house, destroying the family's belongings and leaving the structure a gutted-out shell.

Three of the Huntleys' six children, 10 months, 2½ and four years old, were asleep in the bedroom when the fire began. Mrs. Huntley was able to pull the baby and the 4-year-old out of the room, but the flames prevented her from reaching the third child.

I ran back through the flames and pulled Melinda from the room," said Huntley. "It was a close call and her hair was badly singed."

Mrs. Huntley ran to a nearby home to summon help. Fire-fighting units from five departments, West Bloomfield Township, Union Lake, Commerce Township, Walled Lake and Waterford Township were called to the scene.

FIRE'S AFTERMATH — Firemen begin their cleanup after fire gutted this home at 4346 Forbush in West Bloomfield Township. The belongings of the Melvin Huntley family were destroyed in the blaze, from which three children narrowly escaped injury.

Readying Program in Works

Utica Schools to Seek U.S. Aid Funds

UTICA — School officials here are in the process of mapping out a remedial reading program which will net them $62,000 in federal aid funds.

The funds are made available under Title I of the Elementary and Secondary Education Act and are aimed at assisting economically deprived children.

The amount of money granted to a district is based on the number of children from economically distressed families within its boundaries. An economically distressed family is defined as one earning less than $2,000 a year.

School officials point out that the funds are distributed on the basis of the 1960 census, at which time Utica had few economically distressed families.

They note that the district would receive more money if based on the number of families now in the district. The area's population has more than doubled since 1960.

Possible programs to be established with the money include elementary counselors and special reading programs.

RESUBMIT APPLICATION
The district has also resubmitted its application for a $30,000 grant under Title III, which grants funds for planning projects.

Utica, Romeo, Warren Consolidated and Chippewa Valley schools combined to apply for the grant to meet the stipulation that a district have 20,000 students enrolled to be eligible.

Only two applications from the state were accepted by the State Department of Education. The Utica application was returned for further details.

March 17 and March 22 have been designated as hearing dates before the State Labor Mediation Board for the district's secretaries and teachers.

ELECTION DATES
Dates for an election to determine a sole bargaining agent for each group are to be determined at the hearing.

The Utica Education Association and the Utica Federation of Teachers are each seeking to act as sole bargaining agent for the teachers.

The Utica Community Schools Educational Secretaries Association has also asked for the right to represent the secretaries.

The request was contested by the International Union of the American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees, which wants exclusive representation of maintenance workers and other nonteaching personnel.

American consumption of hamburgers, frankfurters and the like has been growing at the rate of 5 per cent a year.

'66 Feed Grain Program Offers New Bases—County Official

Farmers will be permitted to establish new feed grain bases under the 1966 Feed Grain Program, according to Marshall L. Mohney, director of the Oakland County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service (ASCS).

Farmers who did not plant feed grains in 1959 and or 1960 can establish a new base if they meet eligibility requirements, Mohney said.

To be eligible for a new feed grain base, Mohney said the operator must expect to receive 50 per cent or more of his livelihood in the current year from the production of agricultural commodities on the farm, must have had at least two years' experience in the production of feed grain in the last five years and must have adequate equipment for the production of feed grains.

The land must be suitable for the production of feed grains and neither the owner nor the operator may have an interest in any other farm for which a feed grain base has been established.

Interested producers who can meet these requirements should contact the County ASCS Office not later than March 1 and file an application, Mohney said.

PRICE SUPPORT
A farm for which a new farm base is established may earn price support by diverting the minimum, but can earn no diversion payment. Farmers must divert the minimum to be eligible for price support loans or purchases.

The Oakland County ASCS Office is now located at 4515 Highland, one mile east of the airport on M59. Office hours are Monday-Friday, 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. and 6 to 9 Wednesdays.

Imlay City Teachers to Vote March 10

IMLAY CITY—Teachers here will cast their ballots March 10 for one organization to represent them in future negotiations with the board of education. The Imlay City Federation of Teachers and the Imlay City Education Association are both seeking the right to act as sole bargaining agent for the teachers.

Voting will be from 3:15 to 5 p.m. at Imlay City Elementary School.

Band Director at EMU to Be Guest Conductor

TROY — Thomas Tyra, director of bands at Eastern Michigan University, will be guest conductor at Baker Junior High School's annual Winter Band Concert at 8 p.m. tomorrow.

Tyra will conduct one of his own arrangements, "Two Gaelic Folk Songs." Both the seventh grade and concert bands will perform.

TO HEAD DEMOLAY — Steven D. Wright, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert D. Wright of 105 Wabash, Avon Township, will be installed Friday as master counselor of Rochester chapter, International Order of DeMolay for Boys, at 7:30 p.m. at the Rochester Masonic Temple.

Troy Lighting Bid Tabled

TROY — The City Commission Monday night tabled a request from the Biltmore Development Co. for street lighting in Somerset Park until it can set up a general policy on street lights.

City Manager Paul York said there have been several requests for street lighting and that the Commission feels it should have a policy covering the lighting.

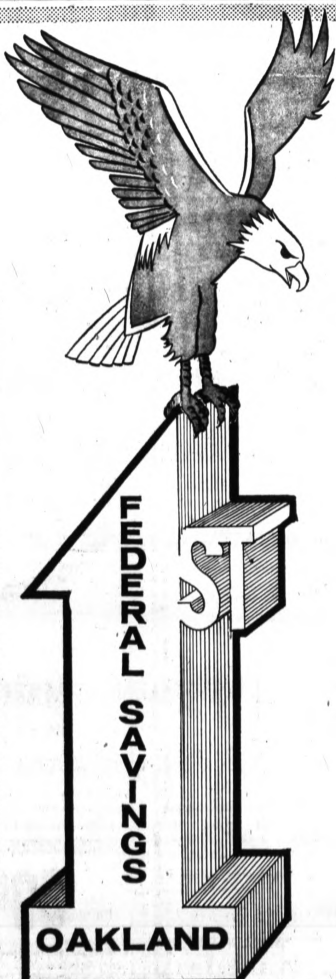

The Commission also awarded a contract to Norwest Lumber and Salvage Co. of Farmington for the demolition of seven condemned buildings.

Norwest submitted the low bid of $3,310 to tear down dwellings at 1010 Birchwood, 5140 Daniels, 180 Evaline, 1891 Milverton, 3388 Rochester, 1123 Vermont and 83 Woodslee.

Depends on Precipitation

'Groundwater Unpredictable'

LANSING (AP) — While the Great Lakes levels are climbing, Michigan's groundwater tables do not necessarily have to follow suit, the U.S. Geological Survey said yesterday.

The U.S. Army Corps of Engineers' lake survey expects that by July, the Great Lakes levels will be above the average for the past 10 years.

But A. D. Ash, district chief of the Geological Survey's water resources division, said groundwater levels are unpredictable.

The Great Lakes, he said, draw on a large area for their water and past experience gives a basis for predicting their levels.

LOCAL PRECIPITATION
But, he said, local ground water levels depend on local precipitation.

In January, Upper Peninsula levels were about average, while Lower Peninsula levels were high — hitting a January record at Roscommon — and late freeze.

southern Lower Peninsula levels were low, except in Gratiot and Kalamazoo counties.

Inland lake levels were about the median in all except the southeastern portion of Michigan, where they were about one half inch below the 200-year median.

Stream flow in northern Lower Michigan and in the Upper Peninsula was described as excessive, primarily because of the late freeze.

Federal Power Would Short-Circuit States

Another Federal attempt to reach into the jurisdictional area of states is expected soon.

Now, on a low burner in the House Ways and Means Committee, the Administration's H. R. bill 8282 may soon come to a boil.

The bill would overhaul the unemployment system that has well served the Country for three decades. Under it, the states had virtual autonomy in formulating the ground rules and administration of them, with the Federal government acting as a limited silent partner.

But the legislation now proposed, while theoretically continuing the partnership, would in effect make it one of lions and antelopes.

Every significant regulation and requirement henceforth would be prescribed on a national basis. For the first time, the Federal government would make direct payments of unemployment compensation benefits—another political gimmick, maybe, to bring into the national fold a sizable bloc of dependent voters? It would also end permissible state experimentation and employer rate-differential based on unemployment experience.

Among other specious implications of the bill is the one that states have failed to keep pace with economic changes in the past 30 years.

But the statistics adduced are essentially phony, because it is meaningless to compare gross average weekly wages of 1935 with comparable wages today without taking into account the enormous increase in payroll deduction for income tax and social security. A comparison of average take-home pay would show a far different picture.

As has been so often proved, half truths are one of the most potent weapons of demagogues.

Gelston V. Poole

The many friends and business associates of GELSTON V. POOLE were shocked and saddened to learn of his death in Pittsburgh.

A native on Pontiac, Mr. POOLE graduated from Pontiac High School and attended Michigan Agricultural College (MSU) before joining and eventually heading the F. J. Poole Co. founded by his father.

Mr. Poole was an active participant in the civic affairs of the City whose engaging personality found expression as a member of various service, fraternal and character-building organizations. He was a past president of the YMCA board of directors.

The community can ill afford the loss of such estimable characters as GELSTON POOLE and he will be profoundly missed by all who were privileged to know him.

U.S. Food Prices Low in Relation to Income

Rising prices bedevil great numbers of American families. Inflation has cut deeply into the dollar's purchasing power and continues to cut. Yet, there are essentials that all of us buy which can be regarded as bargains today. And one of them is food.

A publication of an eastern food chain system tells the story. In 1912, the average family had an income of $11 a week and spent 40 per cent of it for food. Today, that average income exceeds $125 and only $25 of it goes for food—and it is more and better food.

Comparisons with other countries are revealing, too. The American worker's food bill runs to about 19 per cent of his earnings. In England, the figure is 29 per cent; in France 31 per cent; in Italy 45 per cent—and in Russia, a staggering 53 per cent.

The productive power and efficiency of the American farmer must be given much of the credit for this. But other factors play a major role as well.

The system of American retailing is one of them. Working on the mass distribution principle, typical retailers operate at a profit that is almost unbelievably low. In the case of food, the chain store publication points out that the average family spends $1,170 a year for it—and the average retail profit on that sum is just $15.

Yes indeed—food is really a bargain.

Poor Thai Area Next Red Target

WASHINGTON (AP) — Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey's assurances of support to Thailand's leadership underscores the deep U.S. concern for an area hand-picked by Peking for subversion — the northeast plateau on the Mekong River border with Laos.

It is an area of Thailand where living standards are lower, crops less plentiful and the livelihood for its 10 million much more difficult than in the rest of the country.

It is a region where the United States says that Communist China is directly instigating and supporting a movement designed to overthrow the existing government.

In a speech on U.S.-China policy last weekend, Assistant Secretary of State William P. Bundy said the Peking strategy is to replace the present government with a regime responsive to Peking's will.

"This is what we are seeing today in the form of a so-called Thai Patriotic Front established and supported from mainland China," Bundy said. "This is the direct form of Communist Chinese tactic that must be met."

Means of meeting the threat through concerted economic and military action are reflected in the American bases and supply depots and the expanded aid effort being made in the Northeast.

In November 1964, Peking announced the formation of a Thai independence movement intended to spark a war of national liberation. In January 1965, a second group called the Thai Patriotic Front was formed.

The headquarters of both organizations seemed to spring out of a clandestine radio operating from the Mekong River border region in Communist-held northern Laos. Last November, the two groups combined. Their purpose: to depose the royal government, abolish treaties with the United States, oust U.S. troops from Thailand, encourage agricultural production and distribute land to the peasants.

Foreign Minister Chen Yi of Red China had predicted there would be a liberation war in Thailand by the end of 1965.

This timetable was upset. But U.S. expert analysts found evidence last fall that Peking ordered an intensification of the struggle through terrorist activity in northeast Thailand.

The bombing of North Viet Nam and steadily increasing numbers of American troops sent to Southeast Asia in the last half of 1965 may have jarred the Red timetable for Thailand.

Makes A Difference Who's Being Defended!

David Lawrence Says:

Communication Is Top Problem

WASHINGTON — A headline one day tells of 40 to 50 Americans killed in Viet Nam, and a headline not many days later tells of 1,400 Viet Cong Communists slain as a result of air strikes, ambushes and counterattacks by troops of the United States and South Viet Nam.

Do the leaders of the North Viet Nam government realize the true meaning of these tragedies? Do they know that in America the people are saddened by the casualties suffered on both sides in a war which brushes aside the age-old commandment that man shall not kill his fellow man?

Communication is today's biggest single problem. Billions are being spent to get to the moon and survey other planets, but communication between the peoples of the earth is still inadequate.

It can hardly be doubted that, if the people of North Viet Nam could reveal what is in their hearts, they would express their grief over the deaths of their fellow countrymen in the South, just as the South Vietnamese would manifest the same sorrow over the losses of other human beings of their own nationality in the North.

But how is the spirit of humanity to be conveyed and made a potent influence in shaping the destiny of countries large and small?

NO CONTACT
Unfortunately, many of the churches of today have not found a means of really reaching other peoples with spiritual messages.

There have been, to be sure, some wonderful achievements by missionaries from America and other countries. They began many decades ago to make sacrifices to aid fellow human beings in jungles and primitive areas in far-away lands. But the work is still too limited in its scope.

In all nations, including Red China and the Soviet Union, millions of persons know in their hearts that wars of aggression are plainly unjustified.

What has not yet been accomplished is the mobilization of moral force among all peoples so that ways and means of settling disputes by nonmilitary methods may be put into effect.

MUTUAL CONFIDENCE
To accept mediation or any other form of peace-making requires mutual confidence. The motives of other peoples, however peace-loving they may be, are too often misrepresented, and these distortions produce widespread resentments.

The answer lies in better communication. Other peoples must learn that the American people are instinctively in favor of saving human lives.

Cannot individual Catholics,

Protestants, Buddhists, Confucianists and members of local sects in Viet Nam carry the spiritual messages of truth to one another?

The inclination has been to rely on the abstract techniques of diplomacy between governments, when actually public opinion at the grass roots can more readily mold the acts of the governments themselves.

IMMEDIATE NEED

The immediate need, however, is to reach the hearts and minds of the leaders of North Viet Nam. This can be done through their own people if spiritual forces everywhere would join together to stimulate such efforts.

The missionaries of peace can open the way to a negotiation that recognizes but one objective — how to assure the social welfare and safety of a people reunited in a small country.

They can then put aside the tools of war, which history has proved can never achieve human betterment what can be accomplished by the tools of peace.

Underprivileged Teens Object of Big Gamble

By RUTH MONTGOMERY
WASHINGTON—Twenty thousand "disadvantaged" high school kids will be upward bound next summer, with their sights newly set on a college education, if a $20-million gamble pays off.

"Upward Bound" is the name of one of the newest projects in Sargent Shriver's bag of tricks for Montgomery.

A sort of Head Start program for teen-agers, it is aimed chiefly at 10th and 11th graders in the lower scholastic levels, who because of poor environment had never lifted their horizons enough even to consider going on to college.

Its director is Richard T. Frost, who has just relinquished the vice presidency of Reed College in Oregon to test his hunch that "edgy, feisty kids" from slums and downtrodden rural areas can develop into community leaders if opportunity knocks hard enough.

Project Upward Bound began as a pilot program last summer, with about 2,100 teen-agers from underprivileged Negro and white homes.

UNDERWRITING TUTORING
On 18 college campuses they underwent some "extensively beefed-up" tutoring in reading, writing and arithmetic.

Fifteen hundred of them are now freshmen in college, and Frost ruefully admits that "I wake up at night wondering how they're doing."

Recruiting will begin in April for the 20,000 high school students who will get Upward Bound training on college campuses next summer. Their expenses will be paid, plus a $10 weekly stipend.

If they later go on to college, as hoped, they must rely on other props which Uncle Sam is providing through the poverty program. These include federal scholarships, federal loans and the work-study program.

Frost said that all three projects—jobs, loans and grants—are being tapped simultaneously by most students from poor families who go to college.

Frost hopes that the program, "by giving kids a taste of college campus life," will help other high school students to realize that the road to higher paying jobs is a university education.

He thinks the sight of once-indifferent students carrying books home to study may even inspire others to realize that there's something to be gained by book learning.

At an early Uncle Sam is now up to his elbows in the high school education field, which was until recently considered the exclusive province of communities.

Voice of the People:

'Children Are Confused by Examples of Adults'

It is no wonder our children are confused as to the standards of right and wrong. I have seen scores of adults cross a street on the "wait" sign while children obediently wait at the curb. I have barely missed being hit broadside by a car whizzing through a just-turned-red light when the yellow light should have been the cue for braking. The children watch my speedometer and know I'm going the speed limit, then wonder why another car passes us. My seven-year-old asks why people are smoking at PTA when the sign says "no smoking."

These are little things, yet our children watch and imitate the little things. Soon the little inconsistencies carry over into the big decisions. NOT GOING ALONG WITH THE CROWD

Comments on Lawsuits in Hospital Deaths

After reading the accounts of the deaths at Pontiac Osteopathic Hospital, I can see where the plaintiffs feel there was neglect and carelessness attributable to the staff, as charged in the lawsuits. There is more than one defendant named which should dispel any thought of a single act of carelessness causing the unfortunate deaths. The deaths were a regrettable accident but many feel they were avoidable.

Readers Discuss Writing of Scriptures

In answer to "Reader of History" true, the Bible wasn't all written during the life of Jesus Christ, but some of the writers were eyewitnesses of the happenings, such as Matthew and John. However, all the writers were inspired by God so we can count on it all being the truth.

ONE WHO IS STUDYING AND LEARNING

Why should the "Reader of History" be disturbed because none of the "gospels" were written during the lifetime of Jesus? Very few college textbooks were written during the lifetime of the great man about whom they tell and yet he doesn't doubt them.

Although the four Gospels were written while Jesus was on earth, they were written by two of his closest companions and two others who wrote after careful research into the matters. The apostle Matthew's account is believed by most authorities to have been written in A.D. 41, or less than eight years after Jesus' death. We can put faith in what these "Gospel" Books say because they are in complete agreement, and because Timothy assures us that they are "inspired of God."

Incidentally, Jesus himself wrote the last book of the Bible using the apostle John as his stenographer. "ONE OF JEHOVAH'S WITNESSES"

'Pontiac Area Needs Drag Strip for Racers'

What happened to the Drag Car Racing Association? They were to build a drag strip in the Pontiac area almost two years ago and we haven't got the strip yet. High performance cars now go to other cities. Let's get something done to get a strip in Pontiac and let drag racers enjoy racing under supervision. There's a lot of land not being put to profitable use and it would help Pontiac financially as well as giving it a name with respect. A DRAG RACER OF FIVE YEARS

Comments on Sentences of Lawbreakers

James Bryant is placed on probation and fined $100. Here is another case of the soft with the crook and the victim. The ten-year-old girl got away after one-half mile of race and wasn't harmed. But what was his intention? Rape? Hansom? Now he's loose and spring is almost upon us when we must caution children against strangers and cross our fingers.

Representatives in Lansing should leave driving records and point standings available to insurance companies and the public and they should pass the implied consent drunken driver bill. Social pressure didn't force Senator Brown to consent and it won't the guilty ones we want to catch. If the insurance companies don't have access to driving records none of us will be able to get insurance or all our rates will go even higher.
