Pontiac to Approve Police Probe

Friday the 13th Oh Happy Day!

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK (INS) — Today in America — because of primeval legends and an ancient fear of witches — $250-million in business will be lost by people too superstitious to buy or sell on a Friday the 13th.

"Even the N. Y. Stock Exchange, which you'd think rather smarter than all that, will be affected," said Claudia De Lys, the world's leading expert on superstitions. "And isn't it ridiculous?

GET BY WELL

"Why, any real student of superstition knows that you can get by beautifully on Friday the 13th if you carry a four-leaf clover. And in case you've run short of the real thing, they're making clover in fabric versions now, which will do just fine . . ."

Miss De Lys, a woman so securely confident that she intentionally walks under ladders — stepping on cracks as she strides — doesn't laugh at people who are superstitious (and nearly 100 per cent are, in one way or another). In fact, she thinks some of most rabid charm and token-collectors are most fortunate.

★ ★ ★

"I might call good luck charms the 'poor man's tranquilizer.' In fact, I think I will."

FINDS FACTS

Leafing through her file index of more than 80,000 superstitions, their causes and effects, Miss De Lys came up with the facts, real and imagined, on "Friday the 13ths."

"The origins of Friday superstitions are many," she said. "Eve is supposed to have tempted Adam with the fatal apple on Friday; the flood in the Bible, the confusion in the Tower of Babel, and the death of Christ all took place on that day.

"Friday was also the Sabbath of many primitive peoples — it still is for the Mohammedans — but later it became a custom of the Jews and early Christians to fast and feel humility on that day."

NAMED FOR GODDESS

The day Friday was named after Frigg (or Frigga), the Norse goddess of marriage, who became "confused" with Freya, the goddess of love. When the Norsemen and Germanic tribes became Christians, Freya was supposed to have been banished to the mountains as a witch.

"And then —" Miss De Lys continued, "Friday came to be called 'witches' Sabbath,' for it was believed that on this day each week, 13 witches and the Devil met—13 spirits up to no good!"

The taboo of the number, 13, is traced back to the days when man was first learning to count. "By using his 10 fingers, and counting his feet as two units, he came up with the number 12. Beyond that lay the unknown — and that meant fear."

A great many Americans simply stay in bed on Friday the 13th, as a precaution against trouble. But the man with a medal, a clover or a bunny's foot that he believes in, considers himself safe.

Miss De Lys chuckled genially. "Of course, the superstition says that the rabbit's foot should be a back paw, and most of the commercial variety are taken from the front, since the back foot is too big to carry in your pocket.

"But people don't realize that. And I always say — differing with the old finger-and-foot counters — what you don't know won't hurt you!"

Police Evacuate City High School After Bomb 'Tip'

Students Sent Home Without Coats, Books; Call Proves Hoax

A time-bomb hoax caused evacuation of the Pontiac High School this morning and dismissal of all classes for the day.

The bomb scare resulted from a call to police headquarters at 9:17 a.m. A voice described by the police switchboard operator as "probably a boy's," said, "There is a time-bomb planted at the high school. It's set to go off in one hour."

The caller then hung up.

At 9:24, squads of uniformed and plainclothes officers and the fire department rescue squad dashed into the school and ordered Principal Francis Staley to evacuate the building.

The newly refurbished fire alarm system at the school was not working because someone had set it off last night. So Staley took to the public address system to order the evacuation.

In less than two minutes all 2,900 students, except those on crutches or in wheel chairs, were outside. Ten minutes later it was decided to send the students home for the day. They left without their coats, books or supplies.

Police and firemen searched the entire building, but found no trace of a bomb. At 10:17, an hour after the call, they departed.

The hoax was not appreciated by either the police or school officals.

"If we catch anyone pulling a stunt like this, they will go straight to court, regardless of their age," Lt. John DePauw, of the detective bureau, said.

"It was a low down trick," snapped Principal Staley. His sentiments were echoed by Superintendent Dana Whitmer who pointed out the economic cost of evacuating the school.

"This incident has cost us 17,400 pupil - hours of instruction, enough hours to give one student 16 years of education. Economically, we have lost $4,000 in wages paid to teachers and others for services they cannot render today.

Staley added ruefully, "Not to mention hundreds of hot lunches we have prepared and must now throw out."

The bomb scare is one of a number sweeping the state, apparently prompted by the Nashville, Tenn. explosion which destroyed a portion of an elementary school Tuesday.

Similar bomb hoaxes occured in Lansing both yesterday and this morning. Both Lansing junior high schools were evacuated today because of telephoned threats, and the high school was closed yesterday.

According to Police Inspector Charles W. Wheaton, false calls by pranksters and unbalanced persons commonly follow news reports of explosions and other disasters.

Press Columnist Greets Theatergoers

Columnist and Wife Spend Evening With Pontiac Press Group

Wilson Meets Tourists at Supper

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK CITY — The beautiful wife and I stayed out till all hours this morning meeting some leading folks from Pontiac.

About eleven o'clock last night we dropped into Leone's famous restaurant, hangout of Caruso and Will Rogers in the old days, to see the 154 members of the Pontiac Press theater-plane party . . . but they weren't there yet.

★ ★ ★

They soon arrived with a rush from "My Fair Lady" and "Bells Are Ringing."

I met the whole passel of them including pretty Peggy Wilson, daughter-in-law of Charles E. Wilson, as well as an old Ohio schoolmate of mine, Mrs. Frank Syron.

"There's a woman here from your home town who has your private phone number," was what John Riley of The Press told me in advance.

She turned out to be the former Elizabeth Lloyd of Rockford, Ohio, who was in the seventh grade when I was in the eighth grade.

VERY DISCREET

She was very discreet in front of Robert Oliver, former school board president, and Glenn Griffin, present head of the board, and did not disclose my shameful grades.

The Syrons invited me to visit their farm which, they said, has a golf course on it.

I hope to get there too because that's not the kind of scientific farming I learned in Ohio.

Peggy Wilson was just as charming as I'd expected.

Concerning her father-in-law, she said "His retirement didn't come soon enough for any of us." She added though that his vacation hasn't started yet. Mrs. Wilson is ill in Washington and he is there with her.

★ ★ ★

"He's quite a man," Peggy said.

"The Wilsons are," I reminded her.

We brought along with us the French singer Lilo, star of the one-time Broadway show "Cancan" and we discussed the extraordinary number of hits the Pontiac crowd got to see.

"We were very lucky to catch 'Bells Are Ringing' with Judy Holiday in it tonight — she was out of one performance with laryngitis," somebody told me.

The women liked Rex Harrison and Sidney Chaplin too. Attorney William H. Hartman and contractor G. Palmer Bundy didn't say very much about the shows. They were hard at work on the Italian antipasto at Leone's.

ACTRESS AMAZED

A curious thing happened at supper.

A woman member of the Pontiac group, on discovering that we had brought along a French actress and her husband, revealed to them that she was taking care of a French war orphan as well as other orphans from abroad in Pontiac or near by.

Lilo, the French actress, was amazed.

"The American people are so much more charitable than the French," spoke up her husband, the Marquis de la Pasiardere. "The French just wouldn't do that sort of thing."

The kindly Pontiac woman asked me not to mention her name; a proof, I felt, of her sincerity.

"I'm just another human being," she said.

Proving that about anything can happen at a supper party when the theater-plane gang gets together.

Press Travelers Near Final Hours of Tour

By GEORGE T. TRUMBULL JR.

NEW YORK CITY — To snitch a little bit from a famous New York columnist, we might say: That's not quite all brother, but it's getting close.

This was the general feeling of a bunch of 154 weary Pontiac Press theater special nightclubbers as they concluded their fourth night under the big lights in this metropolis.

And the gentleman who ends his popular columns in The Press with "That's Earl, Brother," none other than Earl Wilson, was the special guest Thursday night at an after-theater supper at the magnificent Leone's Restaurant.

All our junketing playgoers gathered there after seeing their fifth and final Broadway hit of the 1957 theater special tour.

With Wilson came many of the performers of the hits the Michiganders had seen since Monday night. There was beautiful Maribel Hammer, Phillipa Bevans and Bill Craft from "My Fair Lady," and Jeannine Masterson, Paul Mitchael and Dort Clark from "Bells Are Ringing."

The stars circulated amongst the visitors who popped question upon question concerning their Broadway appearances.

Cornering Wilson for some time at his table to renew old memories was Mrs. Frank G. Syron, of 4335 Elizabeth Lake Rd. She and the columnist worked hand in hand some years back on their Rockford, Ohio, High School paper.

Thursday here was just like the past three for the group—busy. The day began when all boarded buses at the Paramount Hotel to go to Pier 81 to view the Mayflower II. After this it

Hoffa Seeking Hearing Delay

Asks Senators to Wait Till After Convention in Miami, Oct. 10

WASHINGTON (INS) — James R. Hoffa sought a postponement today of further Senate hearings in his case until after the Teamsters convention in Miami where he will be a candidate for president.

The Senate Rackets Committee confirmed reports that the delay was requested in a letter from the union vice president's attorney, George S. Fitzgerald of Detroit.

Fitzgerald argued that Hoffa will be extremely busy this month, and that any further hearing at which his attendance is required should be held before next Wednesday or after Oct. 10.

This in effect would mean postponement of any further questioning of Hoffa about his activities until after the Teamsters' conven-

Commissioners Asked to OK Outside Study

Hope Impartial Agency Can Clear Atmosphere in Strife-Torn Force

The City Commission will approve an outside study of the strife-torn Pontiac Police Department.

This appeared likely today after commissioners enthusiastically heard City Manager Walter K. Willman recommend a study at an informal meeting last night.

The study anticipated, he said, should take between three to six months and cost from $5,000 to $9,000. By acting on its conclusions, Willman hoped, the city should be able "to clear the atmosphere" at the police department.

He said the study would cover phases of administration and morale not under the jurisdiction of the six-months-old Civil Service Commission.

Willman recommended the city retain the Public Administration Service, a non-profit Chicago firm internationally-known for its governmental studies.

A nine-part program of study was suggested in a written recommendation prepared by Willman. The section on morale was:

"To study and examine the morale of the Police Department to make recommendations for its improvement in the general interest of increasing the efficiency of the entire operation and the development of efficient and courteous service for the citizens of Pontiac."

Willman was asked to present his recommendations formally to the City Commission at its public meeting Tuesday night. Commissioners indicated they would adopt his proposal without qualification then.

NO FORMAL ACTION

Formal action was impossible last night because the meeting was an informal one.

Willman said that it was "high

Pot-O-Gold Outcome Coming Up Saturday

Again our judges have found it impossible to check all the Pot-O-Gold entries in time to announce results today. However, they expect to complete the search for a winner among more than 20,000 puzzles by late this afternoon, and the outcome will be published in Saturday's paper.

You may check your own answers by turning to page 30 of today's Press. The explanations may help you in arriving at a solution for this week's puzzle, which you still have time to mail.

You have until Tuesday midnight to have your entry postmarked. The puzzle itself appears on page 14.

Farmington Youth Killed on Cutoff

A Farmington youth became the first traffic fatality on the new Grand River cut-off when his car hit a tree early this morning.

Dennis R. Mahoney, 19, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Roderick Mahoney, of 33216 Thomas St., Farmington, was dead at the scene of the accident, state troopers said.

He was just exiting from the new section of highway onto U.S. 16 when his car left the road.

Mahoney, a student at Farmington High School, was alone in the car.

Detroit Mayor Albert Cobo Dies After Heart Attack

DETROIT (AP) — Mayor Albert E. Cobo of Detroit, titular head of the Republican Party in Michigan, died last night 11 hours after suffering a heart attack. He was 63.

Cobo, Mayor of this industrial city of 2½ million persons since 1950, collapsed at his home yesterday morning, a few hours after he had returned from Washington where he testified in a hearing before the Federal Power Commission.

He was hospitalized at noon and his condition was described as critical. A few hours later he took a turn for the worse and a doctor said the mayor was "quite desperate." He died at 8:18 P.M. (EST).

MAYOR ALBERT E. COBO

It was Cobo's second severe heart attack. He was away from his office several weeks after an attack in April 1952.

Cobo was a former president of the American Municipal Assn., and a trustee of the U. S. Conference of Mayors.

As a Republican nominee for governor in 1956, Cobo was beaten soundly when Democrat G. Mennen Williams marched to his fifth straight two-year term.

NEVER LOSER

But Cobo never was a loser in a Detroit municipal election. Running as an independent as all candidates do in Detroit's non-partisan municipal elections, he won seven terms as city treasurer, starting in 1935, before he first ran for mayor in 1949.

Cobo took office in January 1950, won another two-year term in 1951 and was re-elected to a four-year term in 1953, after voters changed the tenure.

City Council President Louis Miriani took over as acting mayor. Miriani himself won nomination Tuesday for mayor. He will oppose

Sunny and Cool Is Weather Outlook

The U. S. Weather Bureau has forecast clearing and cooler temperatures for this area tonight. The mercury will drop to a low near 55.

Mostly sunny and cool is the report for tomorrow. The high will be from 72 to 76 degrees.

The outlook for Sunday is generally fair and a little warmer.

Downtown Pontiac's lowest temperature prior to 8 a.m. was 62. At 2 p.m. the mercury stood at 72.

Press Offers Reward

A $1,000 reward was posted today by The Pontiac Press for information leading to the arrest and conviction of the person or persons who perpetrated the bomb scare at Pontiac High School this morning. Anyone with pertinent information is urged to contact the Pontiac police. Decision on the award will be in the hands of the Pontiac city manager.

Late School-Integration Picture at a Glance

BY INTERNATIONAL NEWS

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. — Gov. Orval Faubus of Arkansas departs from Little Rock aboard a chartered plane today for a meeting with President Eisenhower concerning the federal-state deadlock over integration at the city's Central High School. Included in the governor's party is Rep. Brooks Hays (D-Ark.) credited with bringing the head of the state together with the head of the country. Meanwhile, National Guard troops still prohibit Negroes from the school.

★ ★ ★

NEWPORT, R. I. — President Eisenhower awaits a conference tomorrow with Gov. Faubus in a "Don't Upset the Applecart" mood. The President's advisors are still simmering over a radio-television report that the Arkansas Governor's trip to the President's summer White House means Faubus is "throwing in the sponge."

NASHVILLE, Tenn. — Police relax their emergency vigil following the issuance of a temporary Federal Court order forbidding interference with officials carrying out orders to desegregate Nashville schools. It injoined segregationist John Kasper and 11 of his followers "and all others" from interfering with integration of first grade classes.

★ ★ ★

KANSAS CITY, Mo. — Former President Harry S. Truman says that it is President Eisenhower's "sworn duty" to enforce "federal laws and decisions" on racial integration of schools in embattled Little Rock.

★ ★ ★

CHARLOTTE, N. C. — Dorothy Counts, 15, one of four Negro pupils admitted last week to Charlotte schools, said last night she is withdrawing from Harding High School. Her father explained that white students have hounded her, spat at her and hurled stones at her. Yesterday, an eraser and a sharp pointed piece of tin were hurled at her back.

★ ★ ★

FOREST, Miss. — "Dixie" will replace "The Star Spangled Banner" prior to the kickoff at all home football games at Forest High School this season because of current school segregation disputes. The announcement was issued by L. O. Atkins, superintendent and Hal Polk, band director.

Nashville Police to 'Get Tough'

Plan to Deal Harshly With Racial Flareups at Officials' Request

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—City officials armed Nashville police today with copies of a broad federal court order prohibiting any interference with school integration here.

★ ★ ★

Besides banning acts intended to keep Negroes out of racially mixed first-grade classes, the order specifically forbids boycotts of the newly integrated grammar schools. Six schools end their first week of integration today, after two days of surface calm.

★ ★ ★

U.S. Dist. Judge William E. Miller issued the temporary order yesterday at the request of city and school officials. They asked for it to bolster a police get-tough policy in dealing with racial flareups since 15 Negroes reported for classes along with about 2,000 white first-graders Monday. Miller ordered the integration.

★ ★ ★

The order is similar to one under which Northern segregationist John Kasper was twice convicted in last year's integration disturbances at Clinton, Tenn.

It also names Kasper, the Rev. John McCurio, itinerant preacher from Albuquerque, N.M.; and 10 Nashville area residents as defendants. In addition, it strikes out broadly at "other persons now or hereafter in active concert with them"—that is, others who conspire with the named defendants.

★ ★ ★

Judge Miller has ordered a hearing Monday on whether to replace the stop-gap restrainer with a temporary injunction.

★ ★ ★

Mayor Ben West said city policemen will read the order to any crowds gathering "in front of or near the schools."

Know the Weather

By E. H. SIMS

When does fall arrive this year? Are there any weather signs in fall which tell whether the coming winter will be severe?

Fall comes in on the 23rd of September this year, rather late. From the 23rd on, until Dec. 21, the days will continue to grow shorter and there will be more darkness than daylight every 24 hours.

Nature provides a few clues as to the winter ahead. Birds usually pull out for the South with an uncanny knowledge of approaching cold weather. The caterpillar known as the Wooly Bear is a clue believed in by many.

If one will take a look at him in the fall and note the width of his brown band in the center, that will forecast the winter, it is said. A wide brown band means a mild winter. Others say animals tend to grow a thicker coat before a severe winter, especially outdoor farm animals. See if you can prove one or more of these theories.

Faubus Leaves for Newport

Ike Hoping for Solution

★ ★ ★

The meeting between Faubus, who has used National Guardsmen to keep Negroes out of Little Rock's Central High School, and Eisenhower will take place at 9 a.m. (EDT) tomorrow at the President's vacation headquarters in Newport, R.I.

President Eisenhower is profoundly hopeful that out of his meeting with Gov. Faubus may come a pattern for quieter solution of school integration troubles.

★ ★ ★

That doesn't mean the President intends to set forth any new or startling formula when he and Faubus confer at Eisenhower's vacation headquarters here at the U. S. naval base.

★ ★ ★

For that matter, Eisenhower is understood to be planning to do a great deal of listening to the governor, whose suggestion it was that they "counsel together" in an effort to resolve a momentous federal-state impasse over the halting of court-ordered school integration in Little Rock, Ark.

★ ★ ★

But the President's swift acceptance of the proposal that he and Faubus meet face-to-face served to underscore how eager Eisenhower is to work out a solution and perhaps open the way for easing of Southern resistance to integration.

★ ★ ★

The President attaches so much importance to tomorrow's session that he has instructed two top aides—Atty. Gen. Brownell and chief White House assistant Sherman Adams—to fly from Washington for the meeting.

Movie Industry Rapped for 'War' on Confidential

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The defense in the Confidential magazine criminal libel trial, claiming that the movie industry raised a $350,000 "war chest" to attack the magazine, says the money should be used instead to clean house in Hollywood.

★ ★ ★

Atty. Arthur J. Crowley, making his final argument to the jury, said the Hollywood studios should spend the money in a campaign to "clean out your homosexuals and nymphomaniacs and dope fiends."

He said that "for 30 years Hollywood has winked at homosexuality."

And the defense attorney accused the prosecution of "sacrificing freedom of the press on the altar of expediency to cover up people who walk around this town like they wear the purple of ancient Rome."

Crowley has charged repeatedly through the long trial that the movie industry raised $350,000 "and joined in a conspiracy" to put Confidential out of business.

★ ★ ★

Crowley leveled the heaviest attack of his argument against producer Paul Gregory, a prosecution witness who testified that Mrs. Marjorie Meade, a defendant, tried to blackmail him to keep a story out of Confidential.

★ ★ ★

Crowley called Gregory "a liar" who was out to get revenge because Confidential published a story titled "The Lowdown on Paul Gregory."

★ ★ ★

The defense attorney expects to complete his summation today. A closing statement by Rep. Dist. Atty. William L. Ritzi will follow. The case will be given to the jurors, probably Monday.

On trial along with Confidential and Mrs. Meade are her husband Fred; Whisper magazine; Hollywood Research, Inc.; and Publisher's Distributing Corp.

Bloomfield Township Police Chief Resigns

After nearly 11 years with the Bloomfield Township police, Chief Clark J. Green Sr. has submitted his resignation, effective Sept. 15.

★ ★ ★

Green, who has been a police officer for 30 years, gave personal and physical reasons for his regignation.

★ ★ ★

"It has been a pleasure to work with the people of the township for the past 10 years," the retiring chief said. "They have been most cooperative and most appreciative of the service I and my department have been able to give."

★ ★ ★

Green said his immediate plans were for a good long rest period. After that, Green admitted, he plans to get another post in the field of law enforcement.

Steal Money, Jewels From King Saud's Son

BADEN BADEN, Germany (AP)—Police said today $22,000 in travelers' checks and six pearl necklaces worth $5,000 were stolen here yesterday from one of the sons of King Saud of Saudi Arabia. The money and jewels were removed from the son's hotel suite, police said.

Mayor Albert Cobo Dies in Detroit

John Beck, who ran a poor second, in the Nov. 5 general election.

Cobo did not seek re-election.

The outstanding marks of Cobo's seven and a half years as mayor were a long economy battle that yielded this year and a successful stand against striking bus and streetcar operators in 1951.

For seven consecutive budgets Cobo kept the city's tax rate from advancing while he lowered the municipal debt. But the 1957-58 budget carried a tax advance of $2.14 per $1,000 of assessed valuation.

He used a state act prohibiting public employes to strike when bus and streetcar operators walked off their jobs in this highly unionized city. The strike lasted 59 days but in the end Cobo won. The union drivers dropped their contract demands and returned to work under rules laid down by the city.

About 800 million dollars in capital improvements was completed or put under construction during Cobo's tenure. The list of projects includes a $103,381,000 civic center. He was a driving force in construction of a multimillion-dollar network of expressways.

HAD CANDY STORE

Cobo started in business in Detroit with a candy store. When World War I restrictions cut off his candy supply he took a job as junior salesman with Burroughs Corp., selling business machines. He worked briefly as a salesman for three other business machine firms before returning to Burroughs in 1928.

His connection with Burroughs led to his first taste of public life. He was "loaned" to the city by Burroughs to act as a financial adviser in 1933.

Because of a respiratory ailment, Cobo vacationed in recent years in Tucson, Ariz. In April 1956 he and his wife Ethel formed Cobo Catalina Hills Co. to deveop 960 acres northwest of Tucson into country estates.

Cobo won the Republican nomination for governor with little trouble, defeating Donald S. Leonard, his former police commissioner and the GOP nominee against Williams in 1954.

Before making the race he said he would not run for mayor again.

Cobo was a member of the Congregational Church and a Mason.

Survivors include his wife and two daughters, Mrs. Jean Collman and Mrs. Ealine Hurst, both of Detroit.

Cobo's body will lie in state in the lobby of the City-County building this afternoon.

Funeral service will be held Monday afternoon.

Leaders in government, business and politics expressed their sympathies.

President Eisenhower is sending a personal message of sympathy to Cobo's family.

Gov. G. Mennen Williams said Cobo will be remembered for many genuine civic achievements.

Postmaster General Arthur A. Summerfield commented, "I feel Michigan suffered a great loss as did the city of Detroit. He has made a record that will be matched by few."

Semifinalists Even in National Amateur

BROOKLINE, Mass. (AP)—Both semifinal matches in the national amateur golf championships were even today as the four rivals, all members of the U.S. 1957 Walker cup team, went to lunch after the morning round of their 36-hole duels.

Youthful Mason Rudolph, an Army private from Clarksville, Tenn., and Dr. Frank (Bud) Taylor, a 40-year-old dentist from Pomona, Calif., wound up on even terms by shooting rather ordinary golf—scores of 37-37-74, two over par—on a hot morning at the Country Club. Each held the lead once as only six of the 18 holes were won or lost.

Honor Doctor for Fine Service in Medical Field

The 1957 winner of the award for distinquished service to medicine presented annually by the Oakland County Medical Society is Dr. John S. Lambie, health coordinator of the Oakland County Health Department.

★ ★ ★

Previously, Dr. Lambie of 280 Aspen Rd., Birmingham, was an industrial physician for the Fisher Body Company in Pontiac from 1928 through 1949 where he pioneered in the field of industrial medicine.

The eighth person to receive the annual award, Lambie also is in charge of all medical aspects of civilian defense in Oakland County.

The 75-year-old doctor was graduated from the Jefferson Medical College in Philadelphia in 1906.

Before resigning as a colonel in 1923, Dr. Lambie was a member of the U. S. Army for 15 years.

Deputies Follow Auto at Speeds Exceeding 100 M.P.H.

Two Oakland County sheriff's deputies, en route home from work in an unmarked car, were led on a 100 mile per hour chase, last night, by a man driving a stolen car.

★ ★ ★

Deputies Donald Kratt and Willis Gelow, in Kratt's car, said the man hit another car from the rear on U. S. 10 near Williams Lake road. They put the lights on inside their car so he could see their uniforms as they attempted to pull him over.

100 M.P.H.

He made a U turn and sped toward Pontiac at speeds often exceeding 100 miles per hour, they said. During the chase, he ran at least six stop lights and as many stop signs, they said.

Crossing the railroad tracks on Johnson street, his car flew at least eight feet in the air, they reported, coming to earth on two wheels and nearly striking another car headon. He then proceeded to Huron street, where he lost control, bouncing over the sidewalk and coming to a stop under a street light.

The deputies jumped from Kratt's car, ordering him to stop. As he again started up, Kratt fired four shots into the air and Gelow shot three times over the car. He sped away, leading them through Pontiac to a point on Henry Clay avenue, they said.

★ ★ ★

There, he abandoned the auto as it struck a parked car. Police combed the area and picked up a suspect walking nearby who fit the description. The man is being held for questioning. The car was stolen from a Flint man, Alfred D. Scott.

Asks Postponement of Senate Hearings

tion, which opens on Sept. 30 and will run through Oct. 4.

Senate Committee Chairman John L. McClellan (D-Ark), and other committee members are absent from Washington. The result, it is explained, is that it would be impracticable to try to hold further hearings before next Wednesday.

When Hoffa completed his recent testimony before the Senate committee, he was placed under a new subpoena with the expectation that he would be recalled for further questioning shortly. The committee has made it clear that its investigation of Hoffa has some distance to go.

LINKED TO HOOD

At the recent hearings, Hoffa was questioned among other things about dealings with New York labor racketeer Johnny Dio. He was accused of having a weak memory concerning his relations with Dio.

As a result of the Senate inquiry, the AFL-CIO has filed charges against Hoffa in connection with its drive to clean up the Teamsters. The federation accuses the Teamsters of being dominated by corrupt influences, and is expected to insist that they clean house or face expulsion.

Hoffa is rated as an odds-on choice for Teamster president, although there is a slow swell of opposition rising against him. The Miami convention will elect a successor to Dave Beck, who is retiring as president, as well as other union officers.

In Tacoma, Wash., Beck has told a federal judge that he hopes he can convince a jury next spring—that he is innocent of a charge of defrauding the government of $184,000 in income taxes.

★ ★ ★

The slightly nervous Teamsters Union president entered the formal plea yesterday before Federal Judge George Boldt. In it he denied charges recently returned in a seven-count indictment by a federal grand jury concerning his income for the years 1951-53.

Prefer to Place Ads in Newspapers

SUN VALLEY, Idaho (AP)—Richard L. Jones Jr., board chairman of the American Newspaper Publishers Assn. Bureau of Advertising, says advertisers spent more on newspaper advertising last year than on radio, television, magazines and outdoor advertising combined.

Jones, president of the Newspaper Printing Corp. at Tulsa, Okla., told the board's meeting yesterday that more than $3,235,600,000 was spent on newspaper advertising last year.

"This is a striking vote of confidence in the matchless efficiency of newspapers as an advertising medium by the advertisers themselves," he said.

Baptists to Aid Catholic Pupils

Mt. Clemens Church to Serve as School for Burned-Out Students

MOUNT CLEMENS (AP) — About 250 Catholic children, their parochial school damaged by fire, are going to attend classes held in a nearby Baptist Church.

The unusual arrangement was made yesterday after flames destroyed St. Peter's Catholic Church and damaged the adjacent school building.

The Rev. Wilbert Gough, pastor of Gilbert Memorial First Baptist Church, made the offer and the Rev. Paul C. Heenan, pastor of St. Peter's, accepted.

The two pastors rushed together into the blazing church with several others yesterday to save valuable altar furnishings and a ciborium containing the Eucharist.

Minutes after they left the burning church the flaming 60-foot steeple crashed to the ground.

More than 1,000 children in the four-story brick school building were evacuated when the blaze broke out.

Fire Chief Clayton E. DuBay said the fire apparently started with workers burning paint with a torch in part of a $100,000 redecoration program.

The fire chief estimated damage at half a million dollars. Father Heenan said most of the loss was covered by insurance.

Father Heenan said Sunday Masses will be sung in a nearby theater.

was a three-hour cruise circling Manhattan Island.

Members found out first hand what the Pilgrims went through on their maiden voyage to America, as well as what the 32 men who landed at Plymouth, Mass., in June experienced as they duplicated their ancestors' trip some 300 years ago.

Our adventurers themselves enjoyed a chat with 16-year-old Graham Nunn, the cabin boy who made the 1957 journey along with his mates in 54 days. One lady asked him if he would ever do it again. Looking up from swabbing the wooden decks, Nunn unhesitantly answered, "I sure would, madame."

After examining the famous ship from poop deck forward, the sightseers progressed to a somewhat more modern (some questioned this) ship to take a look at Manhattan, Brooklyn, Queens and the other boroughs that comprise New York.

Everyone was awed to see our first lady of the land, whether a Democrat or a Republican — the Statue of Liberty. Her towering 151-foot figure was the target of many cameras as the ship passed by.

LECTURED TRIP

Skyscraper after skyscraper was pointed out during the lectured trip. Many said they brushed up on their history a little during the trip. Ellis Island, Governors Island and Welfare Island were just a speck of the landmarks viewed.

We can't forget the many bridges crossed under, especially the George Washington Memorial. All looked to the right at Yankee Stadium and then to the left at the Polo Grounds, described by our guide as home of the San Francisco Giants.

When yesterday drew to a close in the early hours of Friday, the group looked back on four exciting days and ahead to the last day of their tour.

Friday will include possibly a trip through the Italian liner Vulcania, tickets to Radio City Music Hall to view the high strutting Rockettes and Doris Day in "Pajama Game."

The night has been set aside free for all, as early the next day it will be out to the airport and home.

Plans ranging from additional stage shows to the "Icecapades" at Madison Square Garden have been made despite the pending early departure. The concensus is that all want to take in everything possible during the stay. And this is being done.

The Day in Birmingham

Accepting Registrations for Area Adult Education

BIRMINGHAM — The Board of Education here is accepting registrations at the Board offices until Sept. 27 for adult education classes.

Four two hour classes starting at 8 p.m., will begin Sept. 26 or 30, at the Birmingham High School.

Registration may be made Monday through Friday, from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Wednesday sessions will feature basic economics. This is a "no fee" class. Two classes, beginning and advance, are scheduled for cake decorations and will meet Tuesdays and Thursdays.

Contract bridge groups are scheduled for Monday; conversational Spanish for Wednesday; French impressionism and its effect on present day painting, for Tuesdays.

Investment guidance and stock market procedure, Tuesday; millinery, Tuesday; oil painting, Monday and Wednesday and reading skills, Thursday.

Sewing, Thursday; shorthand, Monday; typing, Wednesday; upholstering, Thursday and woodworking, Wednesday.

The classes will carry a nominal fee to cover expenses of instructors and material. This information may be obtained at the Adult Education Department, in the old Hills School.

A board spokesman said that, beginning attempts at adult education programs had proven very popular. It is expected that this year's enrollment will surpass those of previous years.

A former warehouse, located at 136 Brownell St., will soon become the first permanent center in midwestern U.S. for the display of home building products.

Operated by George and Mildred Puddington, the "Showcase" will display more than 300 items of home construction and decoration.

It will be conducted strictly as a display headquarters, to allow home owners to view the various types of equipment they wish to install. The Puddingtons emphasize that there will be no sales made through their organization.

A trained staff will be on hand to discuss the products displayed. Special space will be made available to architects and builders for conferences with their clients.

Pontiac Approves Police Probe

time that the city step into the controversy" at the police department. He said his proposal called for more than "just a mere investigation of certain elements in the department." It will be a thorough, over-all study, similar to one made at Pontiac General Hospital, he said.

The study will not infringe on the civil service, he said, since it will not cover the hiring, promoting, firing and discipline of employes — civil service duties under state law.

Controversy at the police department has flared into the open since Pontiac voted last April to adopt civil service for police.

★ ★ ★

Since then, the Pontiac Police Officers Assn., a group that represents more than 90 per cent of the department, has called for an investigation of the department and Chief Herbert W. Straley.

The association charges Straley is undermining morale, mainly by arbitrary decisions about promotions, vacations, working hours, days off and other personnel matters.

Straley has welcomed an investigation, charging in turn that the association is led by "disgruntled" officers who want "to stir up trouble and dictate the department."

OUT OF LINE

Willman indicated last night he believes both sides probably "have been out of line." He backed up Straley's administration, however, saying the chief is "doing a good job."

Willman expressed his belief the city is "clean" as far as any police corruption is concerned. "If anything really were wrong at the department, outside of personnel grievances, I'm sure it would have been brought out by now," he said.

"Many problems have posed themselves within the department (since the adoption of civil service)," Willman said in his report.

★ ★ ★

"They are largely matters of personnel affected by personal likes and dislikes and the need for proper rules by the Civil Service Commission covering its operation. The publicity that the department has received has left a feeling in many minds that all is not what it should be within the department."

Willman said the Chicago firm is "very well rated." It has operated since 1933 and performs its services at cost, he said.

An outside, non-partisan study, such as the PAS offers, is best for Pontiac, Willman believed.

★ ★ ★

The PAS recently concluded a study of the police department in Rome, Italy, and has given similar technical assistance to communities throughout the nation and in many foreign countries, Willman said.

The probability that the city will order a study, left doubt in the commissioners' minds whether the Civil Service Commission will proceed with a separate investigation.

Civil service commissioners have disagreed over the adopting of a set of rules and regulations. A set of rules drawn up by the police association and introduced by commission chairman Theodore Carlson has remained tabled for several months.

★ ★ ★

Commissioners Stuart Austin and Gerald Guinan have stalled action on the matter. City Attorney William A. Ewart has said the proposed rules are "impossible," since they represent an attempt to extend the civil service authority past its legal limits.

The police association, however, argues that its proposed rules are "valid and necessary" for a strong civil service commission.

Meanwhile, one of the association's leaders, Det. Sgt. Raymond Meggitt, suspended recently for dereliction and neglect of duty, is scheduled to appear before the commission in an appeal next Monday.

★ ★ ★

Meggitt's partner, Det. Robert Emery, suspended on the same charges, will appear at the same hearing in an attempt to get back on the force.

They are charged with unwittingly allowing a suspect to escape and failure to report the escape immediately to police headquarters.

Meggitt is a member of the association's liaison committee with Chief Straley and aided in the preparation of the association's recommended rules for the Civil Service Commission.

Hotrod Group Passes Bylaws

County Timing Assn. Also OKs Constitution, Plans Fund Dance

More than 150 members of the Oakland County Timing Assn., Inc., who have hopes of building a local drag strip, last night approved of a 14 page constitution and bylaws drawn up by a Pontiac attorney, in preparation for their promotion drive.

The constitution was written by attorney Anthony Renne.

First on the group's agenda to raise funds for the drag strip is a dance, to be held Oct. 4 at Madison Junior High School.

Further organizing the association, Armond Fitzpatrick, of 1230 Merry St., Waterford, was elected provost marshall. His duty will be to administer police powers and obligations imposed upon members of the group, enforce rules and regulations, and carry out any necessary investigations.

Elected sergeant-at-arms were Jim Wohlfield, 325 Lexington, Waterford and Jack Morris, of 12 Park Place.

★ ★ ★

Don Lechner, of Drayton Plains was elected treasurer following the resignation of Dave Birchmeier, of 417 E. Montcalm St., elected in August at the first meeting.

The next meeting will be held at 8 p.m. Sept. 26, in the Pontiac High School auditorium.

University of Michigan Plans Student Insurance

ANN ARBOR (AP) — The University of Michigan is offering accident, health and medical insurance to its students for the first time this semester.

Undergraduate and graduate students taking at least four hours of credit are eligible. The plan provides year-round coverage on and off campus.

Turncoat's Wife Will Join Him in United States

HONG KONG (AP)—The young Russian wife of Korean War turncoat Samuel David Hawkins will sail tonight to join her husband in Oklahoma City.

★ ★ ★

U. S. consulate officials said Tanya Hawkins was issued a visa for the United States after waiting in Hong Kong for three months. She emerged from Red China four months after Hawkins left for home Feb. 27.

★ ★ ★

Hawkins, the youngest of 21 Korean War prisoners who chose to stay in Red China, was the seventh turncoat to return to the United States. He said he left China in disgust over the "wanton killing by Russia in Hungary."

Tanya, at 24 a year older than Hawkins, was delayed here for medical checkups. Hawkins said his bride was being examined for possible tuberculosis.

★ ★ ★

She was born in the Manchurian city of Harbin of Russian parents and was reared in a French convent in China. The English-speaking woman was working in a government office in Peiping when she married Hawkins last fall.

The handmade casks in which Spain ages its sherry wine are mostly made from oak brought from the United States.

Errant Student Back at Oxford University

LONDON (AP) — Shelby Tucker, 22, returned yesterday from an unauthorized visit to Communist China and left his passport at the U.S. Embassy.

★ ★ ★

The Oxford law student from Pass Christian, Miss., slipped into London 13 days after Red China kicked him out for refusing to show his passport. He went to China with 41 other young Americans in defiance of a State Department ban.

★ ★ ★

His passport will be stamped valid only for a return to the United States but he will be allowed to continue his studies at Oxford.

Chaplin's New Film Gets Mixed Reaction

LONDON (AP) — The world premiere of Charlie Chaplin's new movie "A King in New York" got a mixed reception last night.

The film tells of a European monarch who runs afoul of the House Committee on Un-American Activities in trying to use atomic secrets for peace.

Some in the packed theater cheered the film when Chaplin turned a fire hose on the committee. Some only stared at Chaplin seated in the front row of the royal circle.

★ ★ ★

The movie was described by some critics as showing bitterness toward the United States. Chaplain himself told reporters:

★ ★ ★

"The film does not say unkind things about America. But it takes the mickey out of McCarthyism and satirizes the U.S. way of life."

U.S. Joint Chiefs Encounter Busy Day

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. (AP) —The U.S. Joint Chiefs of Staff had quite a day yesterday.

They inspected the Strategic Air Command at Offutt Air Force Base in Omaha, took a ride to Colorado Springs in a KC135 jet tanker, took turns piloting the jet on the flight, toured the Air Force Academy site here and inspected the North American Air Defense Command.

During the jet tanker flight from Omaha, the Joint Chiefs viewed the refueling of a B47 bomber in flight. It was the first time they had traveled together on a jet.

Until yesterday, the North American Air Defense Command was known as the Continental Air Defense Command. The change in names resulted from the integration of all U.S. and Canadian air defense forces into a single operational command with headquarters in Colorado Springs.

Between Ike, Faubus
Admiral 'Hosts' Battle

By INTERNATIONAL NEWS

A Naval officer used to armed conflict will serve as non-participating "host" Saturday to a political battle—between President Eisenhower and Arkansas Gov. Orval Faubus.

Rear Adm. Henry Crommelin, 53-year-old Newport Naval Base commander, directed assault troops against Japanese-held islands in the Pacific during World War II.

TOOK COMMAND

Last June 25, he took command of the mammoth base which was thrust into the day-to-day headlines when the President chose it as his summer vacation headquarters.

There, Faubus and Eisenhower will hold their politically explosive school integration conference in Crommelin's headquarters buildings Saturday.

The bemedaled admiral is one of five sons—all of whom were graduated from the Naval Academy at Annapolis. All but the Newport commander were Navy fliers.

★ ★ ★

One of them, Rear Adm. John G. Crommelin Jr., retired from the service after leading the heated interservice B52-vs.-aircraft carrier battle several years ago. Two others, Cmdr. Charles I. Crommelin and Lt. Cmdr. Richard G. Crommelin are dead.

Crommelin was graduated from Annapolis in 1923, 18th in a class of 453. He was a collegiate boxer and also played class football.

Crommelin and his wife have four children. Two daughters live with them on the base, a third is in college. Their only son, Henry Jr., is a student at the officer candidate school on the base.

After 37 years in the Navy and the South Pacific action against the Japanese, it is doubtful that Crommelin is easily impressed. Therefore, the political battle that will be raging in his front yard probably will not disturb him.

Airman From State Dies in Plane Crash

WILLIAMS AIR FORCE BASE, Ariz. (UP)— A 24-year-old student pilot from Calumet, Mich., was killed yesterday when his F86 Sabrejet crashed on the Gila Bend gunnery range in Central Arizona.

Williams AFB spokesmen identified the dead pilot as 1st Lt. Clyde A. Peterson. Cause of the crash has not been determined.

Group to Study School Financing

LANSING (UP) — Money problems facing public education came under attack today from a 36-member study commission set up by Dr. Lynn M. Bartlett, state superintendent of public instruction.

★ ★ ★

The group met for the first time yesterday and were asked by Bartlett to meet three specific goals:

Coordination of previous studies on school finance problems, development of a program of state aid for consideration by the 1958 legislature and preparation of a long-term financing program.

★ ★ ★

Disclosure that the commission lacked funds for research and other activities brought a $500 personal donation from Richard S. Schreiber of Kalamazoo, a commission member. A trustee will be appointed later to accept other donations.

Ten Men Cleared of Price Fixing

FLINT (UP)—Ten Flint area businessmen accused of conspiring to fix prices of ready-mix cement are free today.

Municipal Judge Robert A. Grimes dismissed the charges against them yesterday for lack of evidence. He said the prosecution failed to prove "unreasonable restraint of trade."

The 10 were accused of attempting to control prices of 95 per cent of the ready-mix cement sold and delivered in Genesee County. They were indicted after a one-man grand jury investigation conducted by Judge Michael Carland of Owosso.

Indicted were:

Samuel M. Katsman and his brother, Raymond M. Katsman of Katsman Coal Co., Flint; Charles A. Fellows, Roy Horning and James F. Smith of J. P. Burroughs and Son Co., Flint; Clayton W. Kurtz and Howard G. Bigelow of Kurtz Gravel Co., Flint; Lawrence Diehl of Ferguson Block Co., Davison; Sherwin Palmer, formerly of Atlas Concrete Products Inc., Flint; Carl E. Creger, Atlas, Frankenmuth.

England to Equip Russian Factory

LONDON (INS) — Britain has won a $21,000,000 order for machinery to equip a Russian tire factory at Dnepropetrousk in the Ukraine in the face of keen competition from West Germany, France and Belgium.

It may become the largest single trade deal between Britain and Russia since the war.

A spokesman for the consortium of five British firms said today a delegation had just returned from Moscow with an order which covers the main basic plant and includes machinery for mixing extruding compounds and tire preparation and vulcanization.

List Drinking Drivers in 2 Pedestrian Deaths

DETROIT (UP)— Two Detroit area pedestrians were killed last night in separate automobile accidents. Police said both drivers had been drinking.

Mrs. Matilde Reyes, 43, of Detroit, was fatally injured as she crossed an interseciton with her husband, Benigno, 41. Russell R. Barton, 52, Detroit, was jailed for investigation of manslaughter.

Ralph L. Parish, 58, of Dearborn Township, was killed in Dearborn as he attempted to cross a street. James E. Parham, 29, of Wayne, was held for investigation of manslaughter.

Russian Clothing Faults Checked by Anthropology

MOSCOW (UP)—Teams of anthropologists from Moscow University began running the measuring tape over thousands of Russians today to find out why they look so terrible in their clothes.

The average Russian wears his sleeves long, and no sailor ever had such bell-bottom trousers as can be seen in Moscow.

★ ★ ★

"All this must change," said Pravda, the voice of the Communist party. "The selection is small, styles are bad and the finishing is not good."

The measuring teams will try to determine the physical peculiarities of various Soviet groups and hand the figures over to clothing manufacturers.

★ ★ ★

"Clothes in the Soviet Union are good in their original models," Pravda insisted. But the few fashion observers here note that by the time the original models are copied and mass produced they lose their original quality.

★ ★ ★

The troublespots fingered by Pravda are obsolete machinery, outmoded techniques, improper use of synthetic glues, lack of knowledge about the latest type sewing machines and finally the fact that the State Planning Board has not considered the problem properly.

★ ★ ★

The clothing industry is not studying popular demand carefully and is not satisfying the requirements of people of various ages and regions, Pravda said.

Underwater Mountain Discovered in Pacific

HONOLULU (UP) — An underwater mountain rising 11,000 feet from the Pacific floor—but still a mile under water—has been discovered about 800 miles northeast of Hawaii.

Engineers aboard the liberty ship Arthur M. Huddell, plotting the route for a new telephone cable between Hawaii and California, found it. The ship's crew named it "Mount Huddell."

Attribute Death of Man in Ionia to Heart Attack

IONIA (UP)—The death of a 68-year-old man whose body was found yesterday has been attributed to a heart attack.

Dr. Charles Black, state pathologist, made the ruling yesterday shortly after Bert Nedrow was found dead in his home.

State Police said Nedrow had a puncture wound on the back of his head. Dr. Black said he apparently got the wound when he fell against kitchen furniture.

Negro Discovers Dynamite on Lawn

EASTON, Md. (UP)— A Negro father, whose two children are attending a formerly all-white elementary school, found 10 sticks of dynamite on his front lawn this morning.

★ ★ ★

The father, Sessions Boyd, saw a plastic picnic bag in front of his house. When he pulled the zipper, he saw the dynamite. He called police who dunked the explosiv in a bucket of water.

Thomas Messick, a dealer in dynamite, said the explosives would have destroyed or severely damaged three or four of the frame row houses nearby.

★ ★ ★

Messick said the dynamite probably failed to go off because of a faulty fuse. The inside of the bag was scorched, indicating the fuse had been lighted.

St. Lawrence Rates to Be Set Next Month

Next month as directed by law, the Seaway Development Corporation will hold hearings on toll rates for the St. Lawrence waterway.

In anticipation of this, East Coast shipping interests met at Baltimore recently and organized a "National Committee for an Unsubsidized Seaway." They were addressed by the chairman of another newly formed group, "New York-New Jersey Committee for a Self-Supporting Seaway."

The purpose of these organizations is to try to force the fixing of high tolls — so high, in fact, that shippers will find it to their advantage to use Atlantic seaports and eastern railways.

★ ★ ★

The case for an entirely free seaway can be supported by the fact that the taxpayers of the whole country already have paid $419 million to help develop seaports along the Atlantic coast. In a 1956 report by the Chief of Army Engineers this amount is listed for capital improvements over the years in New England, New York, Philadelphia and Baltimore. To this must be added some $200 million for maintenance.

★ ★ ★

In the September issue of Harper's Magazine, MARVIN J. BARLOON, transportation authority and professor of economics at Western Reserve, writes that "the hinterland of the Seaway Coast represents close to half of the American economy . . . The Seaway will stimulate still greater industrial growth bringing in raw materials from abroad and opening the door to foreign markets.

"It will stimulate commercial activities peculiar to seaports-specialized warehousing, open market trading, marine insurance, foreign exchange financing, documentation, customs, admiralty law and consulates—on which the North Atlantic region built its pre-eminence of wealth and financial power."

★ ★ ★

If high toll interests have their way and rates are unreasonable, this whole vast development would be stifled.

Wild Claims by Russia Give Way to Real Ones

For years, it was customary for us to scoff at Russia and discount most of her claims. As a matter of fact, the bulk of them warranted this, as they were pure fabrications without truth or foundation. She had to lie as bravely and convincingly as possible to guarantee her fading place in the sun.

Now this is changing.

The Reds are improving.

Painful though these admissions may be, they are justified by the current developments. The Reds' guided missile program has progressed far faster than anyone over here believed possible.

Also, their current flight to this country was an awakening of sorts. Whether we like it or not, the Russians are definitely "on the move." Another development which we now accept as a reality is Russia's position with respect to oil. For a time, she didn't have enough to heat a modest bungalow.

But those days are over.

In 1945, she produced about 20 million tons of oil. Five years later, this had doubled. Last year, her totals leaped to more than 80 million and this year she is expected to approach 100.

This is tremendous progress. It's truly impressive.

The Man About Town

The Prize Is $300

Our 1957 Football Contest Gets Under Way Today

Buck: A male deer, also a monetary denomination, 300 of which may come your way if you follow the instructions below.

The annual Man About Town Football Contest opens today, with $300 in U.S. Savings Bonds as the prize.

This goes to the person who comes closest to forecasting the outcome of the 14 games listed below.

Every member of your family is eligible to compete. Each entry must be on a separate piece of paper, but all can be submitted in one envelope.

There is no entry charge. You do not have to buy anything, clip a coupon, attach a trading stamp, write an essay, splurge on a TV program or do anything but make your prediction.

It is not necessary that you even be a football fan. Past contests have shown that the so-called "experts" often are wrong.

It will be OK if you just clip out the list and check the team which you predict will win. If you think the game will be a tie, do not check either team. Then attach it to a piece of paper bearing your name and address. You can write out the list for other members of your family.

Only one entry is allowed for each person, and employes of The Press and members of their immediate families are not eligible to compete. He is the list of games:

Sept. 28—Southern Methodist vs. Georgia Tech.
Oct. 5—Maryland vs. Duke.
Oct. 6—Detroit Lions vs. Green Bay Packers.
Oct. 12—Michigan State vs. Michigan.
Oct. 18—Saginaw vs. Pontiac.
Oct. 26—Boston College vs. Detroit.
Nov. 2—California vs. UCLA.
Nov. 9—Georgia vs. Florida.
Nov. 16—Notre Dame vs. Oklahoma.
Nov. 23—Ohio State vs. Michigan
Nov. 28—Cornell vs. Penn.
Nov. 30—Army vs. Navy.
Dec. 7—Pitt vs. Miami.
Dec. 15—Detroit Lions vs. Chicago Bears.

This is a straight elimination contest. You are in the running only as long as you forecast correctly. All entrants agree to abide by the rules, and the decision of the judges is final.

Before the first game all entries will be divided into three piles: those who pick Southern Methodist to win, those who pick Georgia Tech., and the contestants who predict a tie game.

For the second game those who picked the winner on the opening game will again be divided the same way, the others being eliminated. This will be continued on each game until only the winner is left. In case of a tie the prize will be divided.

All entries must be received in The Pontiac Press office by Friday noon, Sept. 27. Last year 73 late comers were disqualified. Better make your entry NOW.

Last year the prize was divided five ways, a generous front office boosting the $300 to $375, so each got $75 in bonds. Usually in former years the $300 has gone to one person. Will it be YOU this time?

On the Spot — Again

David Lawrence Says:

Mixed Schools Issue Hurts GOP

WASHINGTON — If the Federal government is to take over state responsibilities, including the management and control of the public schools, then why shouldn't the taxpayers of the different states be relieved of the expense, too?

LAWRENCE

This is a question involving some $11 billion spent annually by the states and cities on public schools. The oldest principle in the American creed is that "taxation without representation is tyranny."

If the people of the states hereafter are not to have the final say as to how their money shall be spent for schools and Federal government is to be supreme in regulating attendance at the schools, then the citizens of the states may come to feel that the responsibility for raising the money needed should be a 100 per cent federal function.

Some states already have laws which provide that if Negroes are ordered into white schools, then appropriations shall cease for the schools they attend and the schools from which they are transferred.

No court order can make a state legislature spend money it doesn't want to spend. So the Federal government will have to take over.

BUDGET HIGHER

All this might add $11 billion to the Federal budget, but the smaller states would benefit, because they would not be required to contribute proportionately. All Federal taxes nowadays are based on the capacity of the citizen to pay the specified rates, irrespective of his geographical location.

This question could become a big issue politically. For if the Federal government now is going to take over state functions —and the Little Rock controversy shows the way the wind is blowing — then there will be less and less interest in recent statements by the administration that local governmental units should remain independent of Federal help so far as practicable.

The administration has claimed that it is trying to encourage a trend toward local responsibility. Vice President Nixon the other day expressed that sentiment to a conference of mayors, and a few weeks ago President Eisenhower said the same thing to the conference of governors.

SOUND HOLLOW

These statements sound hollow now as the Federal government undertakes to question the motives of a governor when he tries to preserve order. In fact, the Department of Justice is assisting in preparing injunctions at Little Rock and elsewhere in the South transferring to the Federal courts the responsibility for handling school problems arising out of segregation issues. This is bound to discourage any trend toward autonomy by the states.

There has been for years a tendency to lean on the federal government for financial aid, but the states have insisted on retaining their independence.

Congress recently has been debating Federal participation in a school program to be financed both by the states and by the national government. Economy - minded members of Congress, however, from the northern districts and many southerners have formed a majority to block such legislation.

★ ★ ★

But if the Federal government now succeeds in squelching a governor and hamstringing him in the discharge of his normal functions, it is possible for the tide to turn the other way as the people may say, "Since you take the responsibility for education, why not pay for it all?"

Many Republicans, enraged by what has happened, will vote for the oppostie party in protest and many will stay at home.

The Country Parson

"It would be hard to sell anyone a product you've never used —or a religion you've never lived."

Dr. William Brady Says:

Blood Pressure Off Par? Important to Find Cause

Some poor souls who have been shamefully exploited by fast buck practitioners with blood pressure "tests" can't see anything but sarcasm in my statement that the blood pressure is too high or too low in consequence of what ails you or your way of living.

DR. BRADY

They remind me of the victims of physical degeneration of joint tissues who spend so much time and money with the medical merchants who give 'em all the new miracle medicines for "arthritis."

Have you ever heard of anyone with rheumatiz who got any lasting benefit from a wonder drug? I haven't. Nor have I ever known anyone who derived any real benefit from the drugs, old or new, which the medical merchants give for "high blood pressure."

Mind, I do not mean to imply that it is wrong for the doctor to reduce blood pressure in certain emergencies by whatever means he deems best. These remarks apply only to the blood pressure of persons who are not under medical care, that is, not seriously ill.

'GADGET' IMPRESSIVE

Using the gadget (sphygmomanometer) to measure the blood pressure impresses unsophisticated customers with the doctor's "scientific" knowledge or training. Although they say I am singularly lacking in sympathy, I feel sorry for the poor misguided ones who report to the doctor or near-doctor for a blood pressure "test" which, the charlatan pretends, shows how effective the treatment is.

I'm sorry for anyone who "watches" his blood pressure, his bowels, his heart or other organ or function.

★ ★ ★

I'm sorry for all the misguided folks who write to me, and I imagine to other doctors in this newspaper health column racket, to ask what is the normal blood pressure for a person aged 30, 60 or whatever.

★ ★ ★

I'm sorry for every one with CVD (Cardiourascular degeneration) who wastes time and money monkeying with medicine or diet that purports to reduce or keep down the blood pressure.

I'm sorry for people with heart trouble who deny themselves everyday physical activities because they imagine it is bad for the heart.

I'm especially sorry for the timid creatures who have been taught that they must have their daily dose of digitalis in order to remain alive.

Send me 35c and a stamped, self-addressed envelope for the CVD booklet. When you finish reading it, you probably will know more about heart and artery troubles than you do now — even if you happen to be a physician.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not disease, diagnosis, or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped, self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

As the wife of a Pontiac police officer, I am writing my first letter to answer Questioning in Tuesday's paper.

My husband has been a police officer for over 30 years, and I have learned what being a good police officer means, and I challenge the use of the words, "petty mistake" in allowing a prisoner to escape.

Questioning makes the statement, "Surely this isn't the first time a prisoner has escaped from the police." My answer is, "No, it is not." Remember the costly price of allowing a prisoner to escape many years ago, when one of our fine officers, Frank Powley, was shot down by an escaping prisoner who outwitted the arresting officer by concealing a gun in a newspaper. My husband gave a direct blood transfusion to this officer in a futile attempt to save his life, and it was an experience that cannot be forgotten.

Police officers must carry out their strict duty at all times as prescribed by the rules of the department, and they are taught that one mistake may mean the loss of their life, or the life of an innocent bystander, and when these officers allowed this man to go into another room alone, how were they to know he would not return with a gun in his hand or concealed on his person?

I wonder just how long these two officers, and many other present officers, would have remained on the police department during the "good old days" when there was no trial board, civil service commission or police officers' association to protect them — only the results of their good work, strict adherence to the police department rules and loyalty to the citizens of the City of Pontiac to guarantee their remaining on the police department.

Answering

Regarding the recent suspension of the two policemen, in my opinion this is a petty matter. Loss of a couple of leave days would have taken care of the situation. Everyone has made a mistake or used poor judgment at some time or another. Let's get behind these men and attend the public hearing and find out what's going on in our police department.

Birdwatcher Has Plan for Starlings

The only real charge against our starling is his habit of congregating around cities. He gets noisy while chatting with his friends, and he may be a bit indiscreet in other ways, too. But starlings are very beneficial birds. When you see them busily marching across your lawn, they are searching for man's greatest enemy — the slug.

Being a birdwatcher, I would prefer to leave the birds alone, but if I chose to get rid of them, here's the way I'd do it. I'd call the president of Oakland County Sportsmen's Club and ask him to recommend 20 responsible bird hunters.

Then I'd call each one and ask him to choose four others to work with him. Each of these groups of five men, with approval of proper authorities, could take a station and at a given signal shoot at the birds. A hundred pump guns into the flock would soon discourage any further notions of having a convention.

'Let Our Children Have Benefits'

I read for the 100th time that new discoveries prove again fluoridation is a blessing in tooth preservation. Why don't those that fought it and beat it in Pontiac acknowledge they're wrong and launch the campaign to let Pontiac children have the wonderful benefits.

10th Grader States Need for Training

I'm starting the 10th grade and when I asked about driver training, I was told I'd get it before I get out of school. Because students must live more than a mile and a half from school before they are eligible to ride school buses, some of us have a problem getting transportation.

If teenagers aren't able to get a license without driver training, the police department should have a day to give it. It's also foolish to have an age limit. Younger teenagers hate to ask parents to drive them all over, too.

'Can't They Stop Crimes on TV?'

Can't they stop this awful crime wave of murder, killing, rape, arson and double-crossing on TV programs? Is there a single individual who doesn't believe these contribute directly and swiftly to our juvenile delinquency?

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Use Horse Sense About Schools

Howard has a million-dollar school in a town of 15,000 that is far superior to our South Shore YMCA Building here in Chicago. But his school, despite a wonderful gymnasium and swimming pool, is dark almost every night and on weekends. Let's adopt the "Lighted Schoolhouse" plan and utilize such aids for combating juvenile delinquency.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case V-389: Howard J., aged 37, is principal of a new $1,000,000 school building.

DR. CRANE

"Dr. Crane," he began, as he conducted me on a tour of the building just before I addressed his 1,200 students, "we have tried to incorporate all the latest ideas.

"Don't you think we have done a pretty good job of giving our youth an ideal setting in which to glean their education?"

And I gladly assented. It is wonderful to see so many million-dollar school buildings arising.

But we must temper our idolatry of fancy buildings with a little old-fashioned "horse sense."

"HORSE SENSE"

Consider the sobering advice of Dr. K. C. M. Sills, former president of Bowdoin College:

"Excellent teaching in wooden halls," said Dr. Sills, "is better than wooden teaching in marble halls."

Which reminds us of the old definition of an ideal university, which was summarized tersely as:

"Mark Hopkins on one end of a log and a boy on the other."

Now please don't criticize me for being an educational iconoclast. I enjoy these beautiful new buildings.

But I have also been a lifelong teacher and I realize that million-dollar halls can't substitute for consecrated teaching by men and women who love youngsters and have missionary fervor to enthuse them about knowledge.

Alas, the modern clamor is for swanky gymnasiums so every teeny high school can strut its stuff in basketball and boast of its big gym.

★ ★ ★

Athletics is a fine inclusion in our modern schools. But track, swimming, baseball and tennis offer teenagers more lasting enjoyment and better health insurance than basketball.

Yet few high schools pay much attention to those wonderful sports.

LIGHTED SCHOOLHOUSE

Furthermore, those million-dollar school buildings are usually dark at night, as well as on Saturday and Sunday.

So that heavy investment of taxpayers' money is idle and drawing little dividends in the community.

To combat the lack of recreation facilities, we stable taxpayers then are coaxed to donate money for YMCA buildings.

We are urged to erect rival gymnasiums or swimming pools to compete with the idle athletic quarters locked up every night and over the weekends in our public schools.

That isn't "Horse Sense," do you think?

A few leading cities, such as Chicago, have recently opened a few of their million-dollar schools at night and on weekends, so the youth of the area can take advantage of such excellent gyms and pools.

Actually, every public school is public property. So, with proper chaperones and with the payment of a nominal rental fee for heat and upkeep, every school should be a recreational center every night and all day Saturday.

★ ★ ★

For example, my children grew up in Chicago without the advantage of a YMCA building, yet we had a dozen big school plants in our area that were closed every night and over weekends. Yet they had dandy gyms and swimming pools!

Churches and men's service clubs should be allowed to rent the recreational facilities of our public schools in order to help combat juvenile delinquency by organized sports and competitive athletic leagues.

We are still wasting billions in idle school facilities and letting thousands of kids grow delinquent because we stupidly shut up our school gyms and pools.

Let's get hep to a little "horse sense" at long last, for we parents and taxpayers own those school buildings. See that our kids get more use from them!

Truman Scores Faubus' Actions

Says No Governor Has Power to Nullify Laws, Constitution

KANSAS CITY (AP)—"No governor can nullify the federal Constitution or the laws passed by Congress and approved by the Supreme Court under it," Harry S. Truman said yesterday.

"When a governor cannot enforce these laws and decisions it is the sworn duty of the President of the United States to enforce them," he added.

★ ★ ★

The former President made it clear he was referring to racial segregation strife in Arkansas, but he did not name any governor in his statement to a news conference.

Truman said he volunteered the statement because he thought it should be made. He said it took a week to prepare it.

★ ★ ★

During President Andrew Jackson's term, Truman recalled, South Carolina decided to nullify certain federal tariff laws.

"The President informed the nullifiers that if they attempted to interfere with the enforcement of the laws of the United States, he would make a trip to South Carolina and hang all of them for treason. The nullifiers believed him, and the laws . . . . stood the test."

★ ★ ★

Truman issued the statement before leaving for New York to rejoin Mrs. Truman on a visit to their daughter Mrs. Clifton Daniel.

He came here yesterday to help dedicate a new shopping center on the old Truman farm.

Thai Strong Man Quits Government

BANGKOK, Thailand (AP) — The second of Thailand's three strong men resigned from the government yesterday.

★ ★ ★

Gen. Phao Sriyanond stepped down from the post of interior minister but said he would retain the important ob of state police chief.

The resignation followed by three weeks another resignation, of Marshal Sarit Thanarat as defense minister, in the Cabinet of the third strong man, Premier Pibulsonggram. Sarit is still commander in chief of the army.

★ ★ ★

They quit after Pibulsonggram ordered Cabinet officials to sever all outside business connections or resign. The order was believed prompted by foreign criticism of governmental corruption.

★ ★ ★

Sarit and 61 military men who are appointive members of Parliament resigned from the government party Wednesday. Most of them said they still intend to support the Premier in the National Assembly.

Hurricane Carrie No Threat to U.S.

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—The Weather Bureau was ready today to write off Hurricane Carrie as a threat to the eastern United States as the season's third tropical storm continued northward in the Atlantic.

★ ★ ★

Carrie packed winds up to 110 miles per hour around the center but was expected to stay on its northward course. The Weather Bureau said, "It appears unlikely that this hurricane will endanger the coastal areas of the United States."

★ ★ ★

At 5 a.m., EST, the storm center was about 875 miles southeast of Bermuda and 1,750 miles east of Miami.

The storm was moving north at 10 miles per hour.

Won't Soften Condemnation

Burma Try to Modify Resolution on Hungary Headed for Defeat

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — An attempt by Burma to soften a new resolution condemning Russia for the bloody intervention in Hungary appeared headed for defeat today.

U.S. sources said the United States and the other 36 sponsors of the resolution now before the U.N. General Assembly could not accept amendments offered by Burma yesterday.

★ ★ ★

One Burmese amendment, for example, would change the word "condemns" to "deplores."

Since the sponsors make up nearly half the 81 U.N. members, the general expectation is that the amendments will be defeated and the resolution will pass unchanged tonight or tomorrow.

★ ★ ★

Besides condemning the Soviet suppression of last fall's anti-Russian revolt in Hungary, the resolution would endorse the report of the Assembly's five-nation special committee on Hungary. The committee found that Soviet armed force had been used to put down a spontaneous national uprising.

★ ★ ★

The resolution also would ask the Assembly's president, Prince Wan Waithayakon of Thailand, to become special representative on the Hungarian problem and "take such steps as he deems appropriate" to get Soviet troops withdrawn from Hungary and free elections held there.

Burmese Delegate U Thant told his colleagues in the Assembly, "Our objective is the welfare of the Hungarian people."

★ ★ ★

"Let us not," he said, "inject extraneous issues which can only serve to heighten international tension and even do harm to the cause of the Hungarian people."

He said to change "condemns" to "deplores" would produce a better atmosphere in which the special representative might work.

Tension Licks Only Colored Student

Negro Girl Quits School

CHARLOTTE, N.C. (AP)—"I got tense when I walked in the corridors because then I was all alone and I never knew what they were going to do.

"They never came in front of me. They always stood in back. "If I turned around, there were 20 or 30 of them. How could I say which one did something?"

★ ★ ★

That, in a few sentences, is why Dorothy Counts, 15-year-old Negro, says she isn't going back to all-white Harding High School.

Her father, the Rev. H. L. Counts, an instructor in religion at Johnson C. Smith University here, made the withdrawal announcement last night.

"It is with compassion for our native land and love for our daughter that we withdraw her as a student at Harding High School," he said.

★ ★ ★

"As long as we felt that she could be protected from bodily injury and insults within the school walls and upon the school premises, we were willing to grant her desire to study at Harding.

"Contrary to this optimistic view, her experiences at school Wednesday disillusioned our faith and left us no alternative."

Dorothy started classes last week at previously all-white Harding, with 1,160 white students.

Three other young Negroes in three other white schools here have met with little difficulty. But Dorothy was greeted on the first day by spitting and stone-throwing.

Wednesday, boys threw a sharp-cornered piece of tin at her head, she said, and then smashed in the rear window of her family's car as her brother waited to take her home for lunch.

"I was afraid then for the first time," Dorothy said yesterday as she remained at home. "I didn't mind the names. But I was afraid what they might do to me physically.

★ ★ ★

"I'd just die if they ever hurt my parents. I just didn't know what they might do. Somebody kicked me Monday. I didn't know what these little things might lead to.

"But I just don't want them to think they've won a victory. I think it will be easier for other Negroes to go to Harding someday because I did go . . . even if I didn't go back."

★ ★ ★

Dorothy said she had had hundreds of phone calls and letters from white people who wanted to tell her how sorry they were about her difficulties.

★ ★ ★

But then, as Dorothy put it, "I have to walk by myself. There's nobody to walk with me."

Find Missing Father Who Sought Children

ARLINGTON, Tex. (AP) A. J. Blumenthal, 39, who vanished Wednesday while searching for two of his children, was found yesterday, sprawled unconscious near a creekbed.

★ ★ ★

The two children, aged 3 and 4, disappeared in a heavily wooded area but returned later in the day.

'Routine' of Canines Finally Takes Toll

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP) — The irresistible fascination of dogs for lamp posts threw half of Johannesburg's Hill Extension suburb into confusion one afternoon this summer.

During a high wind which swept along Third Avenue — the main thoroughfare of the suburb — nine electric lamp posts thudded down across the street like Grenadier Guardsmen fainting at a colors parade.

Traffic was blocked, bird nests scattered and dinners were ruined as years of "irresistible fascination" made its final assault on poles supporting over 400 yards of high tension wires.

Engineers who investigated the mystery said later that the "irresistible fascination" of dogs for poles caused acidity in the soil which weakened the steel posts at the point where they went into the earth.

Five Sailors Set Leisurely Course Across Pacific

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Five young men sailed toward the South Pacific yesterday on a 36-foot schooner to do what "we have always wanted."

The five, from 26 to 33, tossed aside jobs and claim to leave no girls — not even to write to. They are going "just to get away."

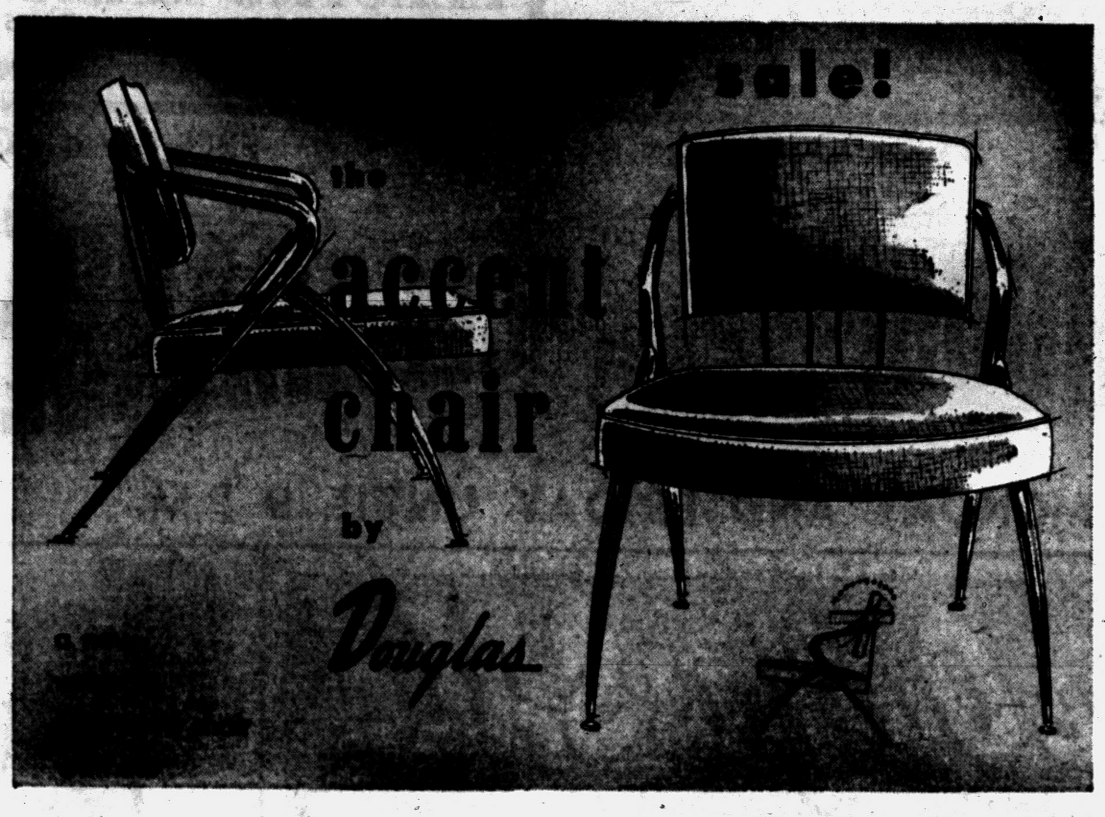

Crew members are Reg Blake, Fred Shepperd, Herbert Knapf, John Lewis and Bob Drude. Blake and Shepperd, who spent two years refitting the green and white craft, sailed her from British Columbia to San Francisco with the help of Herbert and two others.

★ ★ ★

The five plan to follow a 2,800-mile course to the Marquesas Islands and then leisurely go on to Tahiti, Fiji and Australia.

Hungry Burglar Cooks Himself Hamburgers

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M. (AP) — Being a burglar takes lots of energy, Robert W. Ford, owner of the Clock Drive Inn, has decided.

Ford told police a burglar broke into his drive-in, stole undetermined amounts of change from two cigarette machines and then cooked himself some hamburgers. Before the burglar departed, Ford said, he even cleaned off the stove.

Ghost Town to Become State Park

LANSING (AP)—The former Upper Peninsula boom town of Fayette, now a ghost town, finally seems well on its way to becoming a state park.

When the state does acquire the scenic spot on the Garden peninsula in Delta County, it also will take over title to a legendary fortune in gold coins.

★ ★ ★

The State Conservation Department has long wanted to develop the area as a state park.

But the last Legislature refused to appropriate money for park land purchase and the Internal Revenue Service was forced to sell the land involved for delinquent taxes.

Gerald E. Eddy, State Conservation Director, reported that an "informal understanding" had been reached with the Escanaba Paper Co.

The paper company put in the high bid of $11,000 for the site and will offer it to the department in exchange for state-owned forest lands.

"It was a public service gesture by the company," Eddy said. "Both the company and the public will benefit from the exchange."

The company also will have to pay off a mortgage of $19,711 on the 95 acres of land, much of it lake frontage, and about $168 in delinquent taxes.

★ ★ ★

The federal government forced the sale to collect on some $182,000 in income taxes owed by Miss Gladys Edwards of Detroit, the former owner.

Miss Edwards at one time had hoped to develop it as resort property.

The legend of the buried treasure dates back to the late 1800's, when Fayette was a boom town.

The once extensive hardwood forests on the Garden peninsula provided the basis for the brief period of prosperity between 1870 and 1890.

The hardwood was charred into charcoal and this was burned beneath blast furnaces to smelt high grade iron ores from the Marquette range of the Upper Peninsula. At one time, a blast furnace at Fayette was the second largest producer of pig iron in Michigan.

★ ★ ★

The reputed treasure was an incidental but logical by-product of this property. The Jackson Iron Co., owner of the town and all the buildings, had a strict rule that no liquor could be sold in Fayette.

This led to the establishment of early day speakeasies and the most prosperous appropriately was named "Hole in the Ground," located on a beach about three miles south of Fayette.

One of the early operators, Alphonse Berlanguette, reportedly made a fortune from the drink dispensing, according to local legend.

★ ★ ★

The legend has it that Berlanguette converted his fortune into gold coins, placed it in a tarred chest and either buried it in the sand along the shore or hid it in one of the many shallow caves in the limestone cliffs.

★ ★ ★

Berlanguette took the secret of his supposed treasure trove with him when he died and his wife died penniless, according to the story.

Treasure hunters are still attracted by the tale and some have even come to search the area with electronic metal detectors.

An assistant attorney general was asked for an off-the-cuff opinion on who would own the treasure if it actually were turned up by one of the persistent seekers.

"It would belong to the state," was his opinion, "just like any tree on the property or anything else."

So if any future park visitors do find the treasure in gold coins they can expect to donate to help out the state deficit.

Either that or come back some moonlight night. . .

Toads Eat 'Up Bugs

NORMAN, Okla. (AP)—Oklahoma's unusually heavy spring rains resulted in an abnormal number of insects and toads. However, nature appears to be balancing the situation, reported Dr. Arthur N. Bragg, University of Oklahoma zoologist. The toads now are busy eating the bugs.

Order Palance to Pay $4,600 Monthly Support

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Actor Jack Palance, 37, has been ordered to pay $4,600 a month toward living expenses of his estranged wife and three children.

★ ★ ★

The actor's wife, former New York actress Virginia Baker, 32, has filed suit for separate maintenance. Palance filed a cross complaint for divorce, charging cruelty.

★ ★ ★

They married April 21, 1949, in New York City and separated last Aug. 21.

London's famed Tivoli Theater, lately a cinema, will become a women's fashion store in 1958.

Contests Slurring of Her 'Sexiness'

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Julie Gibson, a cabaret cutie who makes a piece de resistance of peeling off parts of her dancing costume, is asking $25,000 from a summer playhouse producer because he said she was "not sexy enough" for a sultry role.

★ ★ ★

That statement was slander, Miss Gibson contended in a suit filed in U.S. District Court here.

Michael Ellis, producer at the neighboring Bucks County Playhouse, admitted saying it, but added: "I don't think it is slanderous to say somebody isn't sexy. My mother isn't sexy."

Miss Gibson was hired to play the Jayne Mansfield part in a production of "Will Success Spoil Rock Hunter?" and was replaced a few days before the play opened Monday night.

College Offering Class on Fishing; Anglers Sign Up

CLEVELAND (INS) — John Carroll University is offering a course in "How to Fish Better" on its suburban University Heights campus.

★ ★ ★

More than 100 would-be fishermen are availing themselves of the opportunity to learn how to fish better, although the course is held in strictly "dry surroundings" — there's no water.

Practice in casting is held on the lawn of the university and as darkness falls, the anglers move indoors to the school's auditorium for a question-answer session.

Students are shown the latest movies on fishing.

Instructor for the unique course is Sib Liotta, nationally-recognized fishing authority.

Book Back in Library After 30-Year Absence

BANGOR, Maine (AP)—For 11,009 days "Walter of Tiverton," a novel of knighthood, has been missing from the Bangor Public Library.

Then the book was returned anonymously after a 30-year absence.

Librarian L. Felix Ranlett figured the fine at $220.18. But the sum could not be collected because the fine must not exceed the original cost of the book—$1.95.

But Politicians Know Better

All Favor German Unity

By HOWARD HANDLEMAN

BONN (INS)—West German politicians are setting some kind of a record for beating a dead horse.

Everybody running for office in Sunday's election for the Bundestag (parliament) is plumping for German reunification. That's the first requirement for anybody chasing German votes.

HAS LAST WORD

The only trouble is that Nikita Khrushchev hasn't entered his name as a candidate. And there isn't going to be any reunification until Khrushchev or his successor either wants it or is obliged to accept it.

Neither of these happy days is in sight at the moment.

But Chancellor Konrad Adenauer, Social Democratic leader Erich Ollenhauer and all the rest fighting for public favor have put reunification high on their list of aims, if not promises.

FAVORED BY ALL

It's like dogs and mothers, something all good politicians must come out in favor of.

The Social Democrats are faced with the discouraging task of persuading the prosperous Germans they would be better off with a change in leaders. Traditional Socialist promises to provide better wages and living conditions mean little to Germans who already are better off than any other Europeans.

Therefore, they make much of the reunification issue.

At the same time, the Social Democrats put some fine print under their talks about ending the policy of military blocs (NATO and the Warsaw Pact) which now divides Germany. The Socialists' campaign manager and official spokesman Fritz Heine told me: "We are not foolish dreamers. We are not going to give up what security Germany has for a piece of paper. And just as in an insurance policy it's the fine print of our platform that is important."

★ ★ ★

The fine print says in effect: The Social Democrats would stick with NATO until something better came along. To them, that would be a European security pact, including Russia and the U.S., that would leave a unified Germany somewhat, but not completely, neutral.

Both Adenauer's and Ollenhauer's parties have refused for seven years to countenance any official doubts that Berlin would soon be the capital of a united Germany.

The Christian Democratic and the Social Democratic headquarters in Bonn are in "temporary" buildings.

But since Khrushchev visited East Berlin last month it's been crystal clear to both that there won't be any reunification for a long time, not until there is a relaxation of international tensions which neither party really expects in the foreseeable future. The reasons are obvious.

★ ★ ★

East Germany gives Russia a salient into Western Europe which now is manned by about 400,000 Soviet troops. Russia also gets uranium from East German mines and machinery to spread throughout the Mideast and Asia as part of its gigantic economic offensive.

And nobody really expects Khrushchev to permit true, peaceful competition between booming West Germany and the shoddy East German economy.

Students Enter Cover Design Competition

Artistic and imaginative Pontiac High School students will have a chance to demonstrate their talents when they enter a cover design contest for the High Fever Follies program book.

★ ★ ★

The contest is sponsored by the Women's Auxiliary to the Pontiac General Hospital. The show is slated for November 6 and 7.

A $25 U. S. Savings bond goes to the winner of the grand award. The winning cover should be black on white sized 13 by 9 inches.

October 1 is the deadline for all entries which are to be turned in to the high school office.

More Flexibility for British Pound

London Financial Editor Suggests Wider Margin for Fluctuation

LONDON (INS) — The British pound may soon be given more flexibility.

The financial editor of the London Daily Mail said today he understands the pound may be given wider margins in which to float, if other European countries agree at the international monetary fund meetings beginning in Washington next Monday.

★ ★ ★

It's "more than possible," he wrote.

The newspaper said the British cabinet had completed a thorough review of Britain's monetary policies and had ruled out a straight devaluation of the pound.

Presently, the pound can shift only between $2.78 and $2.82 in U. S. exchange, because at the lower limit Britain must support it with gold.

But wider margins between $2.65 and $2.95 would give it much greater flexibility.

It is recognized that initially the pound might lose value against the dollar and Deutsch (West German) mark. But experts predict after the first flurry, the pound would remain at about its present level with the dollar, but probably would go lower in terms of the mark, the newspaper said.

Tobacco Heir Weds Prominent 1951 Deb

NEW YORK (AP)—Anthony Drexel Duke, 39, tobacco heir, and Diane Douglas, 24, socially prominent 1951 debutante, were married yesterday at the fashionable River Club in midtown Manhattan.

★ ★ ★

The Rev. Walter Donald Kring of the Unitarian Church of All Souls officiated at the ceremony, which was attended by members of the families and a few close friends.

The bride worked for Conde Nast Publications as a secretary.

Hal Boyle Says:

Doris Day Crosses Continent on Ice Cream

NEW YORK (AP)—Did anyone in history except Doris Day set out by railroad from Los Angeles to New York with a husband, a fine son, and only five gallons of ice cream?

★ ★ ★

Probably not. But Doris—born Doris Kappelhoff in Cincinnati—arrived here with her family intact. But most of the ice cream was gone. Her big favorite en route: Chocolate mixed with hunks of marshmallows and almonds.

Doris, a former dance band singer, now a movie actress, is a breezy girl with freckles. She has vitality, charm, and stirs an air of friendliness.

She is fun to interview, from the standpoint of a reporter who had never met her before.

★ ★ ★

It was my idea to ask her, since she seems so untroubled in a troubled world, what was her recipe on how to live better.

"Most people think that living is racing the clock. I don't.

"I think maybe people should live a little easier, as people seem to do in Paris. Every country has a hint to offer on how to live.

"Such as the idea of taking a nap after lunch. Or like in Japan, where they take off their shoes before they eat and rest their feet."

Doris, who is the uncrowned ice cream eating champion of Hollywood continued:

"I like to sleep 10 hours a night. In our field there are many people with insomnia who worry and worry and still have to get up at 5:30 in the morning.

"I think Frank Sinatra is right in the idea that they shouldn't start shooting until noon — but work later into the evening."

★ ★ ★

Asked why she herself is so happily vibrant, Doris said:

"I like to walk. I also exercise six or seven minutes morning and night. Some people say that it is a bore to exercise. But I have found it takes very little time—and it makes me feel good."

Doris, who says she cries more often at unexpected beauty rather than at sadness, is a reservoir of health hints.

★ ★ ★

She is frank in acknowledging she likes fine clothes but would rather wear than design them, would rather eat a good meal than cook it.

In her childhood a long illness gave her many months in which to brood or build. She made her choice and built her career from a sick bed.

Doris Day's prescription for insomnia:

"Buy a cat and sleep whenever it does."

Teenagers Defy Law in Courtroom

NEW YORK (AP) — A Brooklyn judge says teen-age defendants have been brazenly defying the law in Children's Court—hurling chairs and inkwells and threatening the lives of presiding justices.

★ ★ ★

Kings County Judge Samuel S. Leibowitz cited examples of juvenile disrespect yesterday as he charged two grand juries on methods of dealing with youthful offenders.

Leibowitz said the chair-throwing occurred in Queens a few months ago. He said the chair struck the judge on the head and "nobody ever heard a word about it."

★ ★ ★

"I've had them stand before me in court and spit at me," Leibowitz added. "I don't believe in brutality or club-swinging, but I think it's the height of insanity to treat them with creampuffs."

Parents to Be Deprived

MEDIA, Pa. (AP)— The senior judge of Delaware County has served notice that the parents of persistently reckless teen-age drivers may lose their own driving privileges. Judge Henry G. Sweney said such action could be taken by invoking a section of the State Motor Vehicle Code involving contributory negligence.

Members of India's Parliament will get cheap air rates, paying only the difference between the air rate and the rail rate for the distance covered.

Knows His Muskies

Michigan Man Lands 218

Rated among the state's top (if not THE top) muskie fisherman is Otto Lebendig, St. Clair Shores resident who has taken 38 this year, and 218 in the last 3½ years. How does he do it?

Here are the facts Otto says: "First of all, start out with the best muskie lure I can find. That would be the "pikie minnow." Most muskies I've caught have been on this bait. Whenever I get a strike on a pikie, it's a good one!" And Otto's phrase "it's a good one" is a masterpiece of understatement. His log book shows catches that run from 8 to 33 pounds each, and up to 49¼ inches in length!

His latest muskie haul ran 30¼ pounds, and measured 49¼ inches. The bait? A jointed pike minnow. This catch upped his ante to 38 muskies caught so far this year . . . that is only part of the story. His fishing log for the past 3½ years reads more like a national record book: In 1956, 66 muskies; 1955, 58 muskies; 1954, 56 muskies . . . total for the 3½ years (and this fishing season isn't over by a long ways)—218 muskies.

$50,000 Fire Strikes Colorado Atom Plant

GOLDEN, Colo. (AP) — Spontaneous combustion was blamed for a fire which early yesterday did more than $50,000 damage at the Rocky Flats atomic plant north of Golden.

★ ★ ★

A spokesman for the Atomic Energy Commission said no one was injured and there was no radioactive contamination of personnel. He added that radioactive materials were located in the building.

Automation to Mean Business Changes

NEW YORK (INS) — Wider use of automation in industry will require a new style in management as well as changes on the labor scene, according to a newly published volume on "Practical Automation."

★ ★ ★

Authors Lester Bittel Morley Melden and Robert Rice explain that to get the most from automation the people who now manage, or will manage, must adopt management practices that reflect the changes in production and human relations problems that lie ahead.

The 364-page volume, published by McGraw-Hill, explains and illustrates the fundamental methods and thinking essential to planning and setting up for effective automation.

★ ★ ★

Tulip Festival in Holland Seeks Old World Items

HOLLAND (AP)—This west Michigan city's annual tulip time festival expects to feature additional Old World attractions next year as the result of its manager's scheduled five-week tour of Europe.

Festival manager Sipp H. Houtman, a native of the Netherlands, leaves Holland Saturday on the first leg of the trip.

Houtman expects to visit relatives in the Netherlands during the last two weeks of his stay overseas, but plans to devote much of his time to a search for new features for the now-traditional Holland spectacle.

Tulip time at Holland pays tribute to its Old World Dutch background.

Houtman has particular interest in the outdoor museum at Arnhem, where the Netherlands government displays samples of windmills and other items of its early days.

He has plans for a Dutch village at Holland as a year-around attraction for visitors to Michigan's tulip time city.

Hunt for Flood Victims

ANKARA, Turkey (AP) — Rescue crews are searching the debris in seven villages for more flood victims. The known death toll stands at 87. Mayor Orhan Eren of Ankara said the final toll might top 100. Eren estimated total damage at more than 18 million dollars.

Nominates Economist

SANTIAGO, Chile (AP) — The strong Liberal party, of rightist tendencies, last night nominated Sen. Jorge Alessandri, 61, for the presidency. He is a politically independent economist. The election will be held in September 1958.

FALSE TEETH That Loosen Need Not Embarrass

Many wearers of false teeth have suffered real embarrassment because their plate dropped, slipped or wobbled at just the wrong time. Do not live in fear of this happening to you. Just sprinkle a little FASTEETH, the alkaline (non-acid) powder, on your plates. Hold false teeth more firmly, so they feel more comfortable. Does not sour. Checks "plate odor" (denture breath). Get FASTEETH at any drug counter.

Winner to Get $2,500 Prize in Pot-O-Gold

How long can this go on? Another $100 has been added to the Pot-O-Gold coffers, bringing the total to $2,500. With 20,000 entries being mailed weekly, you'd better get busy and give it all you've got. Whoever wins the puzzle now will be well rewarded for his time and efforts.

The new puzzle contains a series of squares which are alphabetically lettered and a corresponding list of sentences with two clue words. Each of the words is numbered. The object is to select the word which you think best fits the clue sentence. You then place the number of that word in the square which has the same letter as the clue sentence.

In other words, you will read the clue labeled A and decide which of the two words makes the most sense in the sentence. You then write the number of that word in the puzzle square marked A.

Do the same with all other squares. Read all the clues carefully and be sure the right numbers are in the right squares.

OFFICIAL CONTEST RULES

1. Anyone is eligible to enter the POT-O-GOLD contest with the exception of Pontiac Press employes or their immediate families.

2. Entries must be on official entry blanks printed in this newspaper.

3. To submit an entry the contestant must print his numbers in the proper spaces, cut out the area enclosed by dotted lines and attach it securely to a 2-cent postcard. No entries will be accepted if they are in envelopes. Entries for Puzzle No. 67 must bear a Tuesday, Sept. 17 postmark (or before). No entries received after that time whether mailed or delivered by hand, will be declared eligible. The Press is not responsible for entries lost or delayed in the mail.

4. Sorry, telephone calls or mail concerning details of the contest cannot be answered or acknowledged.

5. The Pontiac Press will award a cash prize of $100 a week to the winner of each weekly POT-O-GOLD contest. If more than one winning answer is received the prize will be divided equally among the winners. If any week or weeks should pass without any winners, the prize will be added weekly until a winning solution is submitted.

6. Winners will be awarded an extra cash bonus of $25 each if they are Pontiac Press subscribers of record on the day winners are announced. Only one such bonus can be awarded to each prize-winner no matter how many weekly prizes may accumulate.

7. Each week's puzzle will be published Monday, Wednesday and Friday until the contest's end. Either or all will be considered as official entry blanks.

8. Winners and correct solutions will be announced each Friday of the week following individual contests. Official keeper of answers will be Frederick C. Ziem, prosecutor for Oakland County. Only the General Features Corp., originators of the puzzles, will know the solutions until after each contest is over. Answers will be delivered to the Press Judges by Mr. Ziem after the final deadline.

9. There is only one correct solution to the POT-O-GOLD puzzle, and only that correct answer can win. The decision of the judges is final and all contestants agree to abide by the judges' decision. All entries becoming the property of The Pontiac Press and none can be returned.

10. Completed puzzles must be addressed to POT-O-GOLD, POST OFFICE BOX 58, Pontiac, Michigan. Winners will be notified either by telephone or in the mails.

U.S. Nearing Debt Ceiling

Treasury to Borrow Three Billion Dollars in Variety of Securities

WASHINGTON (AP)—For the next couple of months, the government will be skating very close to the 275-billion-dollar legal limit of the national debt. It may get as close as several hundred million dollars.

★ ★ ★

To meet heavy government expenses in the next few months—a period when tax revenues are traditionally low — the Treasury said yesterday it will borrow three billion dollars in a variety of securities with maturity periods ranging from 1 to 12 years. The issues all will carry interest rate of 4 per cent.

★ ★ ★

By the end of this month, a Treasury spokesman said, the government will be within half a billion dollars of the debt ceiling. That tight situation is expected to last for several months, at least.

The debt now stands at about 273 billion dollars, of which 1½ billions will be paid off when a series of 119-day tax anticipation bills mature Sept. 23. Another half billion dollars comes due Oct. 1.

The new securities which the Treasury will offer for sale next Monday are 500 million dollars in 12-year bonds, 1¾ billions in five-year notes and 750 millions in one-year certificates.

The five-year notes may be cashed in at the end of 2½ years at the holder's option, provided he gives the Treasury three months advance notice.

★ ★ ★

The 4 per cent interest rate, although high, it is still under the 4.173 per cent rate which the government paid on an issue of 1¾ billions in 237-day Treasury bills last month.

Congressman Hays Acts as Go-Between

Emissary Gets Ike, Faubus Together

If that's true, the powder-keg with sparks flying between the races and between the federal and state governments, were pointing from the first toward a gentle, widely admired Arkansas congressman.

He is Rep. Brooks Hays.

Hays emerged as the mysterious emissary who helped bring Gov. Orval E. Faubus to the conference tomorrow with President Eisenhower.

Only two days ago, Faubus and the U.S. government appeared to be caught in a hopeless and dangerous deadlock. Faubus had ordered National Guardsmen to keep Negroes from enrolling in a Little Rock high school. A federal judge had ordered the school to be integrated.

★ ★ ★

Neither side seemed prepared to budge an inch.

Suddenly, the news came that Faubus had asked for a meeting with the President at Newport, R.I.—a meeting that carries the prayerful hopes of people in Little Rock to end the ugly situation.

Hays says the meeting was his idea.

Further, he says, "I have been transmitting information on the situation to the White House almost from the beginning. I felt it was my duty to keep the White House informed."

He was in a strategic position for the role of go-between. He is a close friend of Eisenhower's key assistant Sherman Adams. He stood by Eisenhower's foreign aid program and foreign policy when other Democratic congressmen were opposing it.

He can and does stand as a kind of interpreter of the views of the South and the North on integration, pleading for understanding.

Hays does not claim to be a personal friend of Faubus. "But," he says with a twinkle, "he's a Baptist too."

★ ★ ★

Brooks Hays, 59, a lawyer and long-time member of Congress, is a man of many facets.

Reports have been current for some time that Hays may be named federal judge in eastern Arkansas — and, his role as mediator in the Little Rock integration struggle may lend greater probability to the report.

When that struggle first developed, Hays pleaded for "re-establishing the spirit of calmness in which solutions can be sought."

That, no doubt, will be the same plea he makes tomorrow when he joins the conference between the President and the governor.

Typhoon Whisks Past Northern Philippines

MANILA (AP) — Typhoon Carmen hit the northern tip of the Philippines today. Winds of 110 miles an hour and heavy seas struck the sparsely populated Batanes Islands.

The typhoon should miss Formosa and slam into the China mainland north of Hong Kong on its present course, the Manila Weather Bureau said.

A new typhoon named Della was reported standing still about 300 miles northwest of Wake Island.

Answer False Alarm at Firm Making Them

NEW YORK (AP)—Eight policemen in four radio cars rushed today in response to a burglar alarm from the offices of the New York Merchants Protective Co.

There was no sign of an attempt to break into the place. Irving Glass, son of the owner, said the device apparently went off as a result of faulty mechanism.

The firm installs and services burglar alarms.

An old coach inn, the Royal Hop Pole at Tewkesbury, England, mentioned in the Pickwick papers, will be sold at auction.

Convict Loses Another Round

Hawaiian Judge Denies a Stay of Extradition to State Woman's Mate

HONOLULU (AP)—George LeRoy Page, escaped convict who was the bridegroom of a Michigan woman, has lost another round in his battle against extradition to South Carolina.

Circuit Judge Albert M. Felix yesterday rejected a last-minute attempt by Page to avoid returning to serve a life sentence for murder.

★ ★ ★

He refused the plea of Page's attorney, Bernard K. Trask, to stay extradition because of what Trask called technical flaws in the extradition papers.

Trask immediately announced intention to appeal.

He also said he would ask Michigan Gov. Williams to intercede in Page's behalf.

Page, 28, escaped from the penitentiary at Columbia, S.C., May 14, 1954, while serving life for the murder of a cab driver.

He went to Port Huron, Mich., took the name Eugene Kuhn, got a job with a refrigeration firm, and recently married the former Betty Lou Fitzner of Port Huron.

It was while they were on their honeymoon in California that he left her, went to Hawaii, and confessed to a priest that he was an escaped convict.

Once Trask's appeal is perfected, it automatically will stop Judge Felix' order to surrender Page into the custody of South Carolina officers. Page will stay in jail.

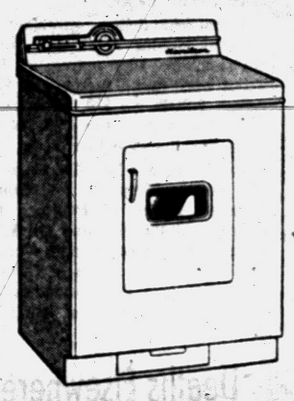

Trask said he was wiring the governors of Michigan, where Page worked three years, and South Carolina. He said that if the governor of South Carolina would recall his arrest warrant, Page can go free.

4 Groups to Get Vaccine Priority

State Health Board Lists Top Preference for Asian Flu Shots

LANSING (AP) — Four groups of persons who should be given top priority in receiving Asian flu vaccine were listed today by the State Health Department.

★ ★ ★

Dr. Albert E. Heustis, state health commisioner, said the priorities were based on information received during conferences with the surgeon general in Washington and at conferences with local health officials.

Suggested priority groups are:

1. Those whose services are necessary for the health of the community and care of the sick.

2. Those who provide other basic community services.

3. Those who, in the opinion of their private physicians, constitute a special medical risk.

4. Persons housed together in concentrated groups.

The report said there is a possibility that between 10 and 20 per cent of Michigan's population may become ill with influenza within a four or six week period this fall or winter.

★ ★ ★

Most of the patients are not expected to become seriously ill and a vast majority of them can be treated at home rather than in hospitals, the report said.

This form of Influenza, the report said, in no way resembles the epidemic flu that swept the country at the close of World War One.

To be effective, the report said, the vaccine must be administered at least 10 to 14 days before exposure. Most persons receiving the vaccine may develop a local tenderness at the site of the shot and young children are most likely to react to the vaccine.

★ ★ ★

The report recommended that children under 13 receive the vaccine in two shots rather than the one recommended for adults.

Workers Find Relic

LAWTON, Okla. (AP) — Workers digging in a gravel pit near here struck something hard. Examination turned up a huge tooth, believed to be a mastodon tusk, almost eight feet long. It was in one piece but cracked when pulled from the gravel pit.

Bob Considine Says:

John Kasper Is Jerk of One Trade—Hate

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (INS)—John Kasper, jerk of one trade—hate, was arrested three times here the other day. If he were a tennis trophy, this would give the vigilant Nashville police permanent possession of him. They don't want him.

★ ★ ★

Kasper was arrested on such preposterous charges as illegal parking, loitering, vagrancy and disorderly conduct. This is something like convicting Al Capone and Lucky Luciano for income tax indifference and for traffic in molls, respectively, rather than for their major crimes.

RABBLE-ROUSER

Kasper is this country's best known racial rabble-rouser. A year ago he arrived in Clinton, Tenn., first town in the state—other than the federal atomic reserve at Oak Ridge—to attempt integration, and almost single-handedly mesmerized a resigned group of former segregationists into a clan more rabid than ever.

Since that conviction Kasper has busied himself spreading his peculiar virus through this fundamentally susceptible part of the nation, while he appealed the case.

However, most of the honest segregationists have long since turned their backs on him. The breaking point was his admission under oath at a Tallahassee, Fla., legislative hearing that he once lived with successive Negro girls in Greenwich Village, N.Y.

FOLLOWERS DEVOTED

But the lunatic fringe in the South and elsewhere always will provide Kasper with a certain number of devoted followers, just as Gerald L.K. Smith was assured of an audience. The lean, lank-haired, 27-year-old zealot from Camden, N.J., has acquired a professional Southern drawl and affects the broad-brimmed hat of the area. He speaks softly, earnestly, and shows his New York college education generally in a modest manner.

"Ah lak the Nigger," he said to a group in Nashville the other day in the manner of a man speaking of his regard for a species of dogs. "They just aren't the same as us whites. Ah say keep the Nigger in his own culture. Don't MAKE him imitate the white man." Kasper's anti-Semitic speeches are much sharper.

"Gawd bless you, John," a cheerful old lady exclaimed after a recent meeting. She pressed a $5 bill on him and he readily accepted it. This is a clue to how he lives, as was the collection taken up by a lady disciple after one of his meetings here.

KASPER UNEMPLOYED

Kasper's driver's license states that he is unemployed. He has repeatedly said that he is inspired by his friend Ezra Pound, the literary figure who is confined to St. Elizabeth's Insane Asylum in Washington, D.C.

"I am concerned wholly with the racial composition of this country," he told a reporter the other day. This pursuit apparently keeps him in eating and spending money and contributes to the costs of acquiring a dirt road, homespun air, which he finds not too easy to come by.

Kasper received the press the other day with a "chewed tobacco" bulge in one cheek. He lost a lot of the juice down his chin and shirt.

Kasper would be a delight for those professors of alchemy whose chief item of office equipment is a leather couch. So might be some of his followers. Perhaps they are even meatier for the psychiatrist's study.

In the course of his legal troubles growing out of the mess he caused in Clinton he was surrounded one day by plain, poor women enmeshed in drabness and their sixties and their tears. One cried out, "Don't worry, John. God's in His heaven. He'll take care of you."

Somebody should.

Pleads Case of Cyprus

Makarios Comes to U. N.

By INTERNATIONAL NEWS

Archbishop Makarios III will soon be striding through the modernistic halls of the United Nations, a somewhat incongruous figure in stovepipe hat, flowing black robes and rich black beard.

But the 43-year-old Greek Orthodox Prelate, who arrived in New York by ship from Athens yesterday, is no stranger to the "World Headquarters" on Manhattan's East Side. He has been here before on the same mission—to plead for enosis, or union, of Cyprus and Greece.

The tall, handsome, vigorous Makarios is soft-spoken, and seldom smiles or reveals his emotions. But the British, who rule the Mediterranean Island of Cyprus, have come to know his negotiating ability and his steel backbone.

★ ★ ★

Makarios' father was a poor Greek farmer, living in the village of Ano Panayia on Cyprus, and he planned to make his son a herder of goats. However, the determined boy ran away to Kykko monastery and became a novice.

Later he studied law and theology at Athens University, and sociology and religion at Boston University.

BISHOP AT 35

At 35 he became Bishop of Kitium and two years later he was elected Archbishop and took the title of Makarios III.

Already he had begun leading Greek Cypriots in their desire for uniting the island with Greece. They are opposed by the British and by the island's Turkish minority.

★ ★ ★

Makarios had organized a plebiscite in 1950, which showed, he said, that almost all the island's Greeks wanted enosis. He went to the British, to Athens and to the U.N. Everyone said nothing could be done, and the steel within the archbishop began to show.

He got Greek Prime Minister Field Marshal Alexander Papagos to work on the British. Rebuffed, Papagos appealed to the U.N.

Meanwhile, on Cyprus an underground movement called Eoka unleashed a reign of terror against the British and Greek "traitors."

The British blamed Makarios, and when he rejected their offer of a colonial constitution, they packed him off to exile in the Seychelle Islands of the Indian Ocean. Last March, he was released to go anywhere except Cyprus. He traveled to Athens and now the U.N. where he will leave no doubt he is still determined that Cyprus should join Greece.

Oliver Hardy's Widow Willed Entire Estate

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The late comedian Oliver Hardy bequeathed his entire estate to his wife Lucille.

★ ★ ★

Hardy's will, written nearly 16 years ago, was filed for probate yesterday in Superior Court. The value of the estate was not disclosed.

The rolypoly actor, who teamed with Stan Luarel to make dozens of pictures, died Aug. 7 at 65.

Mary Sue Dahlgren of Sylvan Lake will be a freshman. Beta Theta Pi fraternity member Richard Morrison of Elizabeth Lake road will return for his junior year.

★ ★ ★

That concludes the list of MSU students. In our next article we will tell you about your friends who are returning to Ferris, Western, Eastern, Central and Hillsdale.

Learn How to Live Here and Now

By ANNE HEYWOOD

Almost every wise man that ever lived has stressed the importance of living in the present, instead of worrying about the past or fearing the future.

★ ★ ★

From the Romans who, thousands of years ago, said "carpe diem" — sieze the day! — to the little lady several years ago who said "The best thing about the future is that we only get it one day at a time" — everybody proclaims the importance of the present moment.

HARD TO PRACTICE

But I know how hard it is to practice this philosophy, and that's why I was so pleased to get this letter from a grandmother in Indiana. She has managed to put the idea into practice.

★ ★ ★

"For the first half of my life," she says, "I was constantly upset, remorseful about things in the past and fearful of the future.

"Then, when I was 41 years old, I had a serious major operation, one of those grave, frightening things from which some people never recover.

★ ★ ★

"During a long period of convalescence, I realized that maybe I didn't have so very long to live. So I decided to live each moment that I did have. It meant changing my whole point of view, and it wasn't easy.

ENJOYED NATURE

"When I'd get up in the morning, I'd look out the window and really enjoy the sky and the trees and the flowers.

"Up until that time, my mind would be so full of the worries of the day that I'd hardly see anything!

★ ★ ★

"All through the day, I gave my entire attention to each thing I had to do.

"Polishing the silver became interesting, because I really watched it and did it with all my heart. When worries about the future would pop into my head, I'd try very hard to get rid of them.

"It was hard at first. I'd tell myself that I'd finish my work and worry later on. But 'later on' would be at night when I was in bed and by then I'd be too sleepy!

SAME WITH PAST

"I'd do the same thing with worries about the past, remorse and regrets that if I had done so and so, I might not have had this dread disease. But I'd postpone those thoughts, too — and then be too sleepy for them.

★ ★ ★

"Well," she concluded, "that was 41 years ago. I'm now 82, healthy and spry. And when I see these young folks spoiling their lives with worry, remorse and fear, I feel like shaking them!"

Plan to Sew? Get Machine to Fit Needs

Shopping for a new sewing machine? Don't know where to start? Certainly, your field is wide and almost limitless with the hundreds of varieties on the market today.

Probably the first thing to decide is whether you want a straight-sewing machine or one of the more expensive swing-needle or zig-zag types.

★ ★ ★

In the second type, the greatest variety of stitches is possible when the needle swings to both right and left. You'll need practice to develop a uniform design with the lever or dial controls operated by hand.

Some machines use a template that automatically gives a particular pattern without using lever or dial and produces a great variety of designs.

★ ★ ★

Attachments for doing many of these special jobs are available with most straight-sewing machines, too, although some fail to take advantage of them.

Omega Mu Sigma Projects Planned

Omega Mu Sigma Sorority met Tuesday evening in the Waterford home of Mrs. Kuga Kojima. Cohostess was Mrs. Ray Koskela. Secret pals were revealed and new names drawn for the coming year.

How to Get and Keep a Husband — Article X

Ways to Wring Proposal From Soul-Mate

(Editor's Note: This is the last in a series of articles condensed from the Dorrance best-seller, "How To Get And Keep A Husband.")

By KATE CONSTANCE

If you are convinced that the man you are dating is the man you love, and you want him for your husband, take action that will cause him to propose!

Here is the routine that has worked effectively for other women. It offers the same possibilities for you.

Keep your usual date schedule with your friend. Maintain your sweetest, gayest attitude but don't overdo the graciousness. Too much saccharin is as bad as too much vinegar.

Let there be small but noticeable silences between you at times, in which you become remote from him in thought. This attitude usually tantalizes a man.

When your aloofness registers and he asks why you are thoughtful, you must hesitate a great deal —maybe for an evening, maybe for a week or more. But don't let his curiosity grow cold.

EXPLAIN—IN PART

Explain finally that you are trying to arrive at a decision. Don't tell him what this involves. Continue this somewhat wistful abstraction for a week or longer without letting it spoil your overall cheerfulness. You must give the sincere impression of endeavoring to work out an important decision.

If he insists, tell him that the decision concerns him and you. He probably will insist upon knowing what the decision means. Give the strategy a few days to work.

If he does not enter a serious vein by that time, break a date or two. Make occasion to tell him that you had something else to do, mentioning casually that you are beginning to feel that your friendship means very little to him.

Do not harp on the matter, and avoid making a scene. You are stating only facts, so be matter-of-fact and avoid weeping.

LET HIM TALK

During your months of dating him, you undoubtedly have discovered his pet excuses for not marrying. If he resorts to them again, let him talk himself out. The less you say the more foolish he will seem to himself, for silence has a way of magnifying the important issues and minimizing the small ones. Your silence, however, must not be one of "hurt" or peeve.

Without breaking any more dates, launch out into new friendship efforts, if only to start going to movies or dinner with your women friends. Give a couple of parties and don't invite him.

Let your friends know that you are not pledged to anyone, so that other men will not shy away from seeking dates.

When he discovers that you are leaving him out of your life, most likely he will ask questions.

It is then that you should let him know how much his excuses have discouraged you and that you are wondering if you should accept the friendship of other men.

PUT IN PUNCH

Here is where you must put in the punch.

Tell him that you do not want to go with other men. Let him know plainly that you do not feel that he is too poor, or too heavily burdened with family, or too old or too young, or too anything that he has been using as an excuse.

Tell him that you like him above all men and that he has your first interest. You would prefer him above all others. But you want to be fair to him and to yourself, and also practical. Tell him that you want to know where the friendship is leading.

* * * *

This is equivalent to your proposing marriage. If he does not turn the situation around and ask you to marry him, that night or soon afterwards, then he is not for you. You should drop the whole so-called romance and work toward new opportunities.

Nine Days Needed to Make These

Mrs. Boulton Says Her Pickles Will Keep Well in Crock

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

When we went to market yesterday we saw lots of pickles for sale. This is the time of the year to prepare them for winter relish plates. Try this recipe that comes originally from Canada.

Mrs. George T. Boulton, today's cook, is Canadian born. That makes her eligible for membership in the Maple Leaf Club. Growing flowers is one of her hobbies and she is a member of the Better Homes and Garden Club.

NINE DAY PICKLES
By Mrs. George T. Boulton

4 quarts cucumbers
4 pounds sugar
1 ounce whole allspice
3 pints vinegar
1 ounce celery seed
1 ounce cinnamon sticks
Salt (NOT the iodized kind)
Alum

Cut cucumbers in pieces. Make a salt brine (one part salt to nine parts water) and place pickles in it. Let stand three days. Remove from brine. Put in cold water for three days, changing water every day.

Mix vinegar with three quarts water and add a piece of alum the size of a walnut. Place pickles in this mixture and heat very slowly. Let stand an hour to crisp. Drain.

Add spices to vinegar. Pour over pickles and let stand 24 hours. Drain, reheat vinegar, pour over pickles. Repeat for a total of three times. On the last day place pickles in sterilized jars or in crocks and pour hot mixture over. Seal jars. These will keep well in crocks.

Some Women Can't See Flowers, Only the Weeds

Work in Garden, Home Should Bring Pleasure to Yourself and Others

By RUTH MILLETT

I stopped to talk with two women working in their yards.

Both yards are a pleasure and both women are mainly responsible for the beauty created. One enjoys what she she has brought into being, but to the other the work has brought more frustration than pleasure.

The talk of one woman was all about what a struggle it was to keep the yard looking nice, how sick she was of fighting insects and drought, how little her husband appreciated it.

* * *

And the thing she wanted to show off most, though there were beautiful flowers in bloom, was a plant whose leaves had been riddled before she got around to spraying it.

* * *

I left her beautiful yard feeling tired and depressed. But it was different on my second stop.

* * *

This gardener seemed to take it for granted that you have to work hard to create anything of beauty. She even admitted it was fun to get out of the house to work in her flowers.

PARTICULAR JOY

And with the pride of one who thinks more about results than effort, she took me from one flower bed to another, pointing out the flowers that had been a particular joy this season.

* * *

I left her yard with an armful of roses and the promise of some bulbs when she divided hers in the fall. But more important, I left her with a feeling of having shared a little in the joy of what she had created.

* * *

It's that way with everything a woman does in creating a home. If she does her job with an eye to the results instead of the work, she shares her pleasure with others.

But if she can't see the flowers for the weeds, others only see the weeds, too.

Choose Luggage of Good Material

The luggage that starts to college this fall is going to be subjected to more surprise tests—and, on the other hand, undergo more cramming, than the freshman who carries it.

* * *

It's wise, then, to choose sturdy cases and material that thrives on outrageous fortune. A good set of matching leather luggage will always look like a luxury, but its wearing qualities make it an economy. Hard knocks and sudden blows leave it unmarred and it can be stuffed like a Christmas turkey without harm.

* * *

Moreover the new luggage is made of lightweight leather and dispenses with the heavy framework that adds most of the weight.

* * *

To take care of weekend excursions as well as trips home, girls will find these leather pieces useful: A train case, a weekender, and an unfitted pullman or a wardrobe case.

* * *

College girls love luggage in rawhide—the beautifully creamy white leather that is tanned but not finished or dyed. Despite its color, it is remarkably easy to keep clean. Other favored leather colors are pale beige, champagne, light brown and black in cowhide and natural colored pigskin.

* * *

A young man will need a cowhide two- or three-suiter to hold one to four suits and accessories, and a companion bag. Suntan is a favored color in cowhide and natural pigskin. Men also like brown and black colors to match the generally dark hues in men's apparel.

They Are Difficult to Dislodge

Clogged Pores Cause Whiteheads

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN
(The Friday Question Box)

Q. "What causes whiteheads and how can I get rid of them?"

A. These come from clogged pores. The hard, white substances are difficult to dislodge. Often they disappear without any treatment. Sometimes the stimulation which a complexion brush gives when used with soap and water will speed their departure. If they persist, have them removed by a skin specialist or your family physician. The skin will have to be broken.

Q. "I am 15 years old, 5 feet 3 inches tall and weigh 106 pounds. My bust measures 32, waist 23 and hips 34 inches. My mother wants me to wear low-necked dresses but I won't because I am so small in the bust. Mother says I am skinny but my friends say I am just right. I went on a diet last year but lost mostly in the bust."

A. Your mother is right on all counts. You are about 10 pounds underweight, AND there is no reason why you should feel self-conscious about your bust. Your measurements are in good ratio. Gain that 8 or 10 pounds and your bust will fill out some.

★ ★ ★

Q. "Are there any exercises for slimming the hands and feet? This is very important to me."

A. I do not know any. A general loss of weight will, of course, be apparent in the feet and hands.

Q. "I am a girl, 14, and have a difficult time because the boys call me 'hippy' or 'fatso.' Could you please help me? I am 5 feet tall and weigh 112 pounds. My measurements are bust 32, waist 24 and hips 32."

A. I cannot imagine why the boys call you "hippy," since your hips are not at all out of line. They should not be any smaller. Maybe it's the way you dress. Do you wear your clothes very tight over the hips? Also, if your swish your hips from side to side when walking, this might be the reason.

★ ★ ★

Q. "I have a small frame and wonder if I need to gain some weight. My measurements are bust 34, waist 20 and hips 33 inches. I weigh 103 pounds. My worst trouble is my knees. They are very bony. Is there an exercise to correct them or do I just need to gain weight?"

A. You did not give me your height but with a 20-inch waistline and very bony knees, my guess is that you are very much underweight. You cannot correct bony knees with exercise. A gain in poundage will help.

Q. "One ankle is larger than the other. It seems to be the bone. What can I do for it?"

A. Just forget it. No one else will notice.

★ ★ ★

If you would like my leaflet "Clear the Way for Beauty," send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for leaflet No. 48 to Josephine Lowman in care of The Pontiac Press.

Tomorrow: "Special Exercises to Flatten Tummy."

Don't worry if one ankle is larger than the other —no one else will notice.

Charlene Simmons Weds in Sunnyvale Chapel Rite

One hundred and fifty guests witnessed the marriage Friday evening of Charlene Simmons and Richard Rollman. The Rev. James Parker performed the ceremony in Sunnyvale Chapel.

★ ★ ★

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. Jesse W. Simmons of Crescent Lake road, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Rollman of Rochester.

For her wedding the bride chose a ballerina-length gown of white lace fashioned with a Peter Pan collar and long pointed sleeves. She carried an arrangement of white glamellias and white orchids and her fingertip veil was held in place by a tiara of seed pearls and sequins.

Serving as her sister's honor attendant was Beverly Simmons. Bridesmaids were Carmon Rollman, sister of the bridegroom, Carol Simmons, sister of the bride, Yvonne Schuermann and Joyce Combs.

★ ★ ★

They were gowned alike in light blue street-length crystalette dresses featuring sweetheart necklines and full skirts. They carried cascade bouquets of yellow glamellias.

★ ★ ★

ATTEND BRIDEGROOM

Philip Bishop served as the best man while Rudy Schuermann, Howard Bishop, Elwyn Bishop and Devone Stone seated the guests.

★ ★ ★

For a reception held in the church parlors the bride's mother chose a blue dress with blue accessories and a corsage of pink and white carnations.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Rollman wore a beige dress with champagne-colored accessories and a pink and white carnation corsage.

★ ★ ★

Before leaving on a northern Michigan trip the new Mrs. Rollman changed to a black and white cotton dress with red accessories and the orchid from her wedding bouquet.

Competing With Video Irks Guest

Objects to People Inviting Company, Leaving Set On

By EMILY POST

"Dear Mrs. Post: I do wish you would write something in your column to those who invite people to their houses for a visit and then leave the television on full force all evening. Trying to compete with television while visiting is something I find very irksome.

"If I had been invited to watch a particular show in the first place that would be one thing, but when I am invited for an evening of visiting I expect to be treated with a little more concern. Am I wrong about this?"

Answer: You are quite right. You should at least be asked if you want to see a certain program and if you answer with some enthusiasm your hostess would be quite right in leaving it on. But if you show no interest, it would be very lacking in tact to continue it. When invited to come in for the evening, the visitor's choice should be considered.

"Dear Mrs. Post: How could I go about having an autograph written in a well-known author's book? Would it be an imposition to send it because he will then be obliged to return it in the mail? He lives in a distant city."

Answer: If you send the book in a carton and enclose a stamped and addressed return wrapper so that the author need merely sign the book and put it back in the carton and affix your return wrapper and stamps, there would be no imposition in asking him to do this.

"Dear Mrs. Post: Isn't it rude to refer to someone in her own presence as 'she?' Shouldn't it be by name?"

Answer: Most certainly 'she' should be referred to by name. But if brief comment lengthens into a long narrative in which her name would have to be frequently repeated, it would be best to use 'she' rather than to use her name again and again.

Long jackets are the news in suits with wrist-length, semi-fitted versions, except Balenciaga keeps his semi-fitted jackets at hip-bone length.

Dior's jackets bloused into a hip-band, his low-belted jackets and others with long, jutting peplums. The petite girl can still have her suit jackets hip-bone length, according to Balenciaga.

Modern Men's Fashions Show Too Much Courage

Women May Be to Blame for Males in Splashy, Unbecoming Garb

By RUTH MILLETT

A retailer of men's clothes gives women credit for men becoming less conservative about their clothes.

He claims it is women who have given men the courage to look "different."

Well, if it's women who have given men the courage to look different, heaven help us — we've gone too far.

The man with the bay window or the knobby knees who has been given enough courage to appear in public in Bermuda shorts shouldn't be so brave.

The man with enough nerve to sport a splashy, color-crazy Calypso shirt at a dress-up party would be better off in his conservative dark suit.

The man with a physique like a "before" ad for a weight-lifting set, while maybe showing daring by his choice of shocking pink swim trunks, would have called less attention to his lack of muscles in something conservative.

★ ★ ★

And no man ought to have enough courage to wear some of the neckties that today hurt the eyes and shudder the sensibilities.

NEW FASHIONS

The week's mail has brought me a couple of new styles I can only hope no woman will give a man enough courage to wear.

One is a shirt whose tails tie in front like a woman's blouse. The other is a bathing suit fashioned on the lines of Grandpa's long winter drawers — but with stripes, yet, going around and around.

Let's remember, ladies, in this matter of lending the men courage to be different, that it's mighty easy to go too far.

Hats for Fall Move Back—of Head

By GAILE DUGAS
NEA Women's Editor

NEW YORK—Hats move to the back this fall. The back of the head, that is.

★ ★ ★

They are soft hats, draped and manipulated for a very feminine look. Most of them are brimless but when brims appear they are small and close to the head.

★ ★ ★

It makes fashion sense, then, that the turban, the coif and beret are back in favor. These brand new versions of old favorites are not only soft, they are done in lightweight fabrics that curve easily to the head.

★ ★ ★

Little caps are twisted to one side of the head and worked in satin, velvet or velour. Fabrics are all-important to hats this fall and even feather trim, prominent in every top designer's collection, is draped and handled as if it were fabric.

Hat colors are rich and jewel-toned: red, brilliant purples and blues, emerald green, bronze and pink.

Fur is used either by itself or as trim for hats of elegance and great flattery. Mink, colored broadtail, ermine, leopard, sable, mole and even fox are used for turbans, caps, berets and cloches.

★ ★ ★

For evening, hats become miniature. They perch to one side or level on the head in small pillbox or beret form. These get trim of feather or jewels or are cut from fabrics so glowing that they need no trim.

Forced Saving Doesn't Teach Thriftiness

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

On Saturday mornings Ted's father gives him his weekly allowance of 45 cents.

★ ★ ★

He gives it in nickels and dimes. He gives it in these coins so that Ted can at once put aside 15 cents for the next day's Sunday school collection — and drop another nickel and dime in his piggy-bank.

When they're safely dropped, Ted's father says, "Aren't you proud of yourself? You'll soon have another 10 dollars to deposit in the real bank again!"

But Ted doesn't feel a bit proud of himself. Instead, his feelings resemble those of people in stories from whom fairy godmothers, djinns and other unpredictable powers suddenly snatch away the magical gifts they have granted.

He feels helpless, not proud. He feels it's very confusing to be told you have a 45-cent alloance when you actually have 15.

★ ★ ★

No, I do not believe in forcing children to save money.

When we compel them to do it, we are the money-savers, not the children. By dropping 15 cents in his piggy-bank, Ted exercises his father's sense of thrift, not his own. Thus, his action has no moral meaning to him.

★ ★ ★

So if we want to congratulate ourselves over his economy, let's rejoice over the accumulated coins in his piggy-bank — but not kid ourselves that we have so much as touched his appreciation of thrift.

TO GRATIFY DESIRE

Ted will be ready to save money when he has wanted something badly enough to forego less important, momentary satisfactions to save for it.

This development in self-control we have to wait for.

★ ★ ★

It's seldom achieved by children of preadolescent age. They simply can't trust the promise of future gratification enough to be able to forego one they can enjoy right now.

This doesn't mean that they are badly "adjusted" or otherwise psychologically doomed. It just means that they haven't lived long enough to discover that postponed pleasure can be more satisfying than a present one.

Until this discovery has been made, they are not ready to save money. When we insist they do, we are demanding a maturity that has yet to be unfolded.

★ ★ ★

As a result, we may defeat our own purpose by making thrift appear oppressive and cruel to Ted instead of helpful to him.

New Starter Home Has 4-Way Stretch

By MILDRED SCHROEDER

OAKLAND, Calif. (INS) — California's rapid growth is the inspiration for architect Goodwin B. Steinberg's expandable house.

His ranch style design has four-way stretch.

As a model home, it was a major attraction of the California Home and Garden Show.

"This house can keep pace with today's bigger families by pushing out from the living room, the master bedroom, the all-purpose room or the garage," Steinberg explains.

His starter model has a central hall floor plan, three bedrooms, two baths, living room, all-purpose room, kitchen and larger-than-two-car garage.

The expandability trick comes in the use of a three-foot measurement or module, a departure from the basic four-foot measurement which has become standard through most of the present day home design.

"The owner who needs more space just follows the pattern of the three-foot girds to make an addition economical and attractive," Steinberg promises.

EASY TO ADD

A growing family could add a bedroom off the bedroom at the back of the house, a study off the master bedroom, a dining room off the living room side.

"The garage offers the largest area for expansion," Steinberg says. Its ridge beam furnishes an exact dividing point for construction of a large room with ample space left for a single car. The roof slope allows for carport extension.

Steinberg incorporates the three-foot grid system in the design pattern to avoid starkness. He carries out the basic grid of three-foot squares on a two to one ratio throughout the house.

One example is the exposed beam and plank ceiling. Eight by eight inch beams are spaced first in a six-foot span, then a three-foot span, then another six. Spanning these main beams are smaller three by three inch beams, spaced at two-foot and one-foot intervals.

Vertical and horizontal siding also repeats a two to one ratio with eight inch and four inch boards.

"I use this rythmic pattern in everything from the floor materials to the light fixtures to the windows and the fireplace," the architect adds.

Name Leaders for St. Michael Fall Dinner

Mrs. Gayle Coulson has been named general chairman of the annual fall dinner at St. Michael Altar Society, to be held Sunday. Mrs. Louis Petrusha is in charge of tickets and Mrs. Kenton Plourde and her cochairman Mrs. Benjamin Budwit are in charge of the dining room.

They will be assisted by Mrs. George Michaels, Mrs. John Nalbert, Mrs. William McInnis, Mrs. Merle Berry, Mrs. Robert Gallo, Mrs. John O'Neill, Mrs. Dan McGinnis, Mrs. J. C. Myers, Mrs. Vincent Vaverek and Sue Koehl

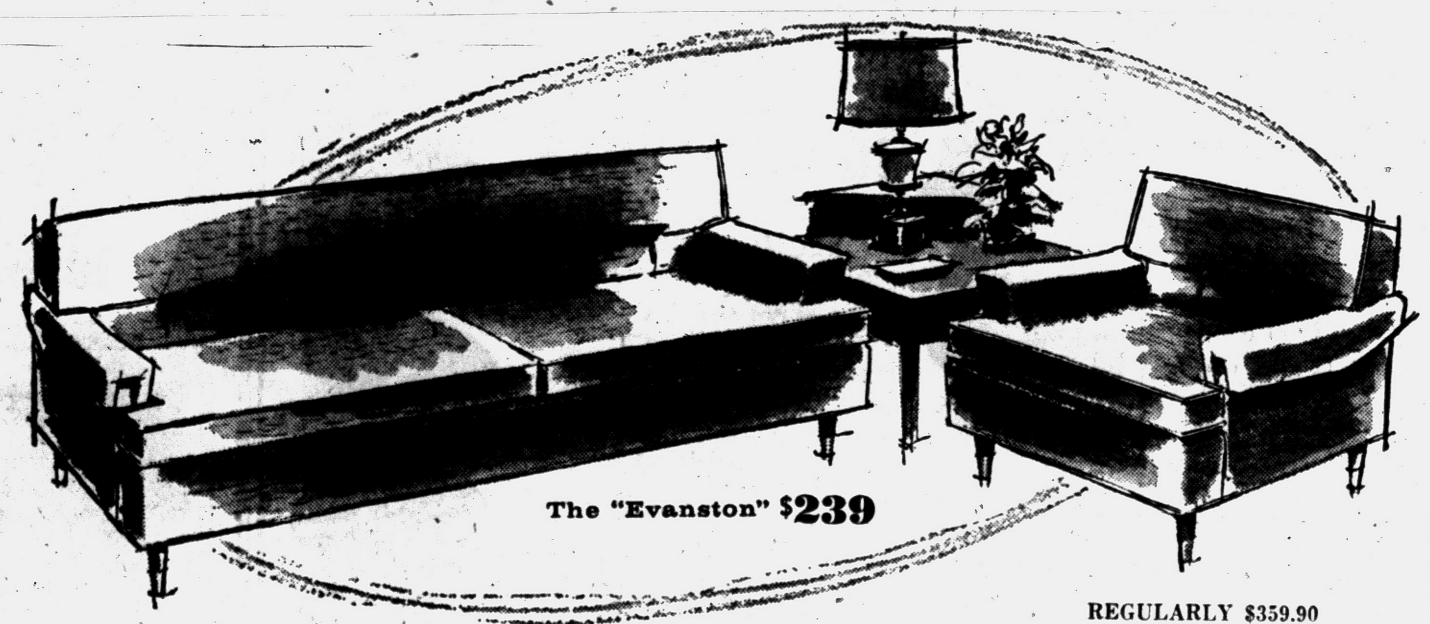

Cochairmen for the kitchen are Mrs. John Wargel and Mrs. Charles Schwartz, who will be aided by Mrs. Omer DeConinck, Mrs. Constant Dejager, Mrs. Lewis Swartz, Mrs. Blanch Blust, Mrs. Fred Haynes and Mrs. Joseph Bauer.

'Ballet Studio' to Open 6th Year

Recreation Department in Waterford Township Sponsors Child Project

"Ballet Studio," sponsored by the Waterford Township Recreation Department, is scheduled to begin its sixth year Sept. 21, under the direction of dance specialist Carol Wolfe.

More than 400 pupils registered last year for weekly instruction that extended from September to June, according to Tom Belton, director. The annual recital in June attracted 2,000 spectators.

This program is designed for children of pre-school age and youngsters six to nine and ten to sixteen. Classes for beginners through advanced are conducted Saturdays, from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. and afternoons during the week.

"More emphasis will be given to the advanced students work in toe dancing this year," Mrs. Wolfe said. Only advanced students receive toe work and these classes will be held for one and one-half hours, she added.

Studio registration can be made by calling the recreation office in the Community Activities Center on Williams Lake road.

Survey Habits of Car Owners

Usual Turnover Rate for Average Person: One Car in 3 Years

ANN ARBOR (AP)—The usual rate of automobile turnover among car owners is once every three years, a University of Michigan study disclosed today.

Taken over a 32-month period, the study included five successive interviews with a panel of 700 families typical of urban American society.

★ ★ ★

During the almost three years covered by the survey, 42 per cent of the subjects queried were in the market once. Another 14 per cent made two purchases. Four per cent bought cars three or more times.

The study was released today at Atlantic City, N. J., at a meeting of the American Statistical Assn. It was conducted by three University researchers, Charles Lininger, Eva Mueller and Hans Wyss.

As expected, purchases were least frequent among those owning late model cars. But even so, more than half this group buys a new car once every three years, according to the U-M study.

★ ★ ★

The surveyors also learned 25 per cent of those not owning a car when the continuing study began acquired one while it was in progress.

"Americans change cars frequently, each time buying a car which is only a few years newer than the one they replace," was the way the researchers summarized car-buying habits.

Hold Detroit Bartender for Slugging Policeman

DETROIT (INS) — A Detroit bartender was being held today on a charge of slugging a plainclothes police sergeant with a shuffle board weight.

The sergeant, Arnold Ostrowski, 37, was treated for a contusion behind the right ear and released from Receiving Hospital.

Joseph Fournier, 69, the bartender, said he thought Ostrowski was holding up the manager of the bar.

Expect to Enthrone New Aga Next Month

LONDON (AP)—The new Aga Khan, spiritual leader of the world's Ismaili Moslems, is expected to be enthroned in Dar es Salaam, Tanganyika, next month, his mother said today. She told reporters the exact date had not yet been decided.

The 20-year-old Aga took over as leader of the Ismailis last July after the death of his grandfather.

Report Curtailment of Train Service

NEW YORK (INS)—The New York Central Railroad was reported today to be planning a curtailment of passenger trains running through Michigan unless they prove profitable.

A spokesman said this would probably mean elimination of some passenger service between Detroit and Mackinac, Detroit and Midland, and Detroit and Jackson.

Cuts on the main line to Chicago, Toledo and Buffalo might also result.

The Central warned that if the Interstate Commerce Commission and state public service commission don't give it permission to make cutbacks, all passenger service would be threatened with total elimination on the NYC.

The immediate cause of the cuts was reported to be a deficit of more than $300,000,000 in the last ten years on passenger service plus an outlay of $168,000,000 for equipment during that time.

Contrary to popular opinion, fewer people are divorced in Hollywood than in most cities. Of course, there are lots of divorces—but the same people keep getting 'em . . . A hypochondriac's a person who never gets sick of getting sick.

Has No Farm: Uses Garage

Biology Teacher Becomes Sheep Fancier for Hobby

KALAMAZOO (AP) — What Mary needed when her little lamb followed her to school one day was a sheep fancier like Myrtle Powers for a teacher.

Miss Powers is an instructor at Western Michigan University. She owns 19 sheep but no farm.

★ ★ ★

Miss Powers has found the lack of a rural setting absolutely no problem. She built a four-car garage and this is home for the sheep.

The animals also have their own car. They go to fairs or any other place the teacher wants to show them in the back end of a second-hand 1950 taxi cab. All that's missing is the back seat and the meter.

"These sheep are a wonderful change from the school work I do every day," says Miss Powers, who teaches biology and nature study at Western Michigan.

"I think the care of livestock is definitely a satisfying hobby for people who wish to get away from the drum of their daily work."

★ ★ ★

Miss Powers has had a fondness for sheep for a long time.

"My uncle gave me a pet lamb when I was 10 and I've loved sheep ever since," she said. "Five years ago I built the garage and had a few chickens and rabbits, so I decided I might just as well have sheep. I bought two registered Cheviots."

Since that time Miss Powers has added Corriedales, Montadales and Suffolks.

Of the 19 sheep, 15 are ewes. Each of these has its personalized blanket with its name inscribed on the side in Miss Power's finest needlework.

Detroiter Crashes Car Trying to Elude Police

DETROIT (INS) — Kenneth Beatty, 20, of 17178 Tracy in Detroit, was recovering in Mt. Carmel Hospital today after he suffered a head injury when his car crashed after being chased by police on Six Mile road.

Police said Beatty is a police prisoner at the hospital and was being held on a charge of reckless driving. He told police he tried to escape because his driver's license had been picked up in Traffic Court last January.

PHS Booster Club Plans Homecoming Activities

By JACK HENDRICKSON

Homecoming plans got underway this week when Pontiac High School Boosters Club held its first organizational meeting of the semester Wednesday after school with its faculty adviser Donald MacMillen.

MacMillen said he hopes to get a few people who will really work hard with him when work on the parade float starts.

Plans for the homecoming festivities, four weeks from today, in which Boosters will play the major role, include a parade through downtown Pontiac to Wisner Stadium, a half-time show, and an all-school dance.

Boosters will also officiate at an all-school election to determine this year's Chief and Princess. (Last year George Palian and Janet Eddy won these honors.) The chosen two will ride the PHS float.

Biology students of John Youngpeter will see many new specimens of biological significance ornamenting his displays.

Youngpeter took a few members of his Biology III class on a tourist biology expedition to Mexico during the summer vacation. They were Bob Tenny, Gerry Powers, Jim Livingstone, Phil White, and Steve Fairbanks.

★ ★ ★

Leaving Pontiac June 15 immediately after school ended, the party proceeded to St. Louis, Missouri in Mr. Youngpeter's station wagon with a supply trailer attached.

MEET SNAKES, SPIDERS

From Missouri, Texas was their next target where they visited the Alamo and the Rio Grande. In Texas, also, they killed and skinned a rattlesnake and captured a tarantula. They returned July 29 loaded down with everything from lizards to butterflies to rocks for exhibits.

PLANS SAFARI

Youngpeter is planning a safari to the upper Amazon in South America or to Panama. He is negotiating with a New York company on the South American safari, and has a friend in Panama who has invited him down. He plans to take a few select students.

Youngpeter also is working on the idea of converting a tract of land he has purchased in Missouri into a biological station. He said that his "desolated" property would be a choice spot for such a venture.

★ ★ ★

Much talk has gone around about school shifts in operation at the "brick teepee". Actually they are not considered shifts.

★ ★ ★

This system provides minimum hall traffic yet gives everyone a full schedule. In general it works out this way: those who started classes at 7:30 a.m. finish at 1:10 p.m., those who start at 8:30 a.m. finish at 2:10 p.m., and at 9:30 arrivers finish at 3:10 p.m.

STUDENT FROM PUERTO RICO ENROLLS — Philip J. Wargelin, (left) principal of Lincoln Junior High, welcomes Ignacia Maria Ramirez, of 160½ Oakland Ave., a seventh grader who just arrived in Pontiac in time from her previous home in Puerto Rico to enroll this fall. School president Tom Eley, of 2360 Rosewood, also was on hand the first day of school to greet the newcomer along with Pilar Chenhall, of 170 W. Rundell, speaker of fluent Spanish and acts as an interpreter for Ignacia who is quickly learning to speak English.

Football Season Passes New at St. Michael's

By MICHAEL BUCHANAN

It's back to the old grind, as the saying goes, at St. Michael High. In the first two days, the schedules were straightened out, then tried, and at last, everything was back to normal.

Last Friday, there was a CYO (Catholic Youth Organization) dance. The profits went toward new jackets for the cheerleaders.

Mother Gilbert has returned as principal. There are three new sisters in high school this year.

★ ★ ★

They are: Sister Dennis, from St. Anne's, Detroit, science; Sister Julia, from St. Mary's, Flint, commercial, and Sister Julia, who previously taught in our eighth grade and is now teaching health, clothing and general science in high school.

PROVIDE SEASON PASSES

There are new things at St. Michaels this year. Students may now purchase season passes to the football games instead of buying a ticket for each game. Also, solid geometry and trigonometry classes are offered this fall.

Everyone is looking out of the windows as the construction on the new church began two weeks ago. This is something the parish has been anticipating for quite awhile.

The Michaelite staff is being organized once again for a full year of interesting articles and stories in the school paper.

St. Michael's has a very hopeful football team this year, with many prospects in the freshman class.

The seniors are anxiously waiting for today when they are to be measured for class rings.

By the way, the freshmen seem to be keeping their distance from the seniors. Wonder why! Could it be it's about time for initiation?

Local Junior High Pupils Return to Studies, Clubs

Pontiac Junior High School students held the first meetings of their clubs this week and got back into the groove of combining studies with pleasure by meeting new and old friends.

AT LINCOLN

Lincoln Junior High opened its doors to 834 students with 242 new 7 B's gathered from the elementary schools of the district and 64 new enrollees from other cities and states.

One student, Ignacia Maria Ramirez, entered Lincoln from Puerto Rico and is finding great pleasure in learning to speak English. Lincoln officers and students with Philip Wargelin, principal gave her a special greeting.

Fifteen minutes has been added to Lincoln's school day since school now begins 10 minutes earlier at 8:30 a.m. and is dismissed 5 minutes later at 3:10 p.m. The change in time has permitted a smoother working of the study periods and has seemed to cause no inconvenience to either students or faculty.

A new hall guard crew of 50 will take over traffic duties for this semester. Russell S. Frid, drafting instructor, heads this activity with Burton Stockwell, 9 B, lieutenant of the hall guards.

Burtella B. Green, librarian, is processing over 500 new books to be added to the reading materials in the library. Subscriptions for 32 magazines for students and 26 professional magazines for teachers fill the large rack in the reading section of the library.

AT EASTERN

On Thursday of last week the arched doorways of Eastern Junior High School swung open to admit more than 900 students, approximately 300 of whom are seventh graders entering Eastern for the first time.

During the summer months there were three weddings among Eastern's faculty: Rhea Jagoe, guidance and school paper, to Harry Saunders; Theodora (Dody) Garyet, former English student teacher, to Sam Savas, and Don Devoe, history, to Barbara DeWolfe, a Mark Twain elementary school teacher.

New faculty members at Eastern this fall are Mrs. Sarah Salter, and Mrs. Theodore Savas, English; Mrs. Barbara Heck, Science; and Glenn Cheek, Mathematics.

The football program is being expanded this year with the hope of getting more boys to play on organized teams. Each team will have a coach and everybody who practices regularly will play an equal amount of time in games. Approximately a hundred boys are expected to come out for football.

All boys interested in playing football will be classified according to age, height, and weight, and will play on teams according to their classification.

New courses of study are being introduced this fall in the Science and Social Studies Departments. These include a special library for ninth graders.

AT MADISON

This week saw the first parent-teacher get-together at Madison Junior High for the benefit of parents whose children have just entered the 7th grade. The meeting was sponsored jointly by Madison Jr. and the Parent-Teacher-Student Assn.

William Coffing director of the music department, has announced the purchase of 40 new choir robes. The robes are green and gold, representing the school colors.

Waterford High's Doors Open for Record of 1,400

By DARLENE DAHL

When the doors of Waterford High School were opened Sept. 5, a record crowd of almost 1,400 students, approximately 353 seniors, 429 juniors, and 615 sophomores were enrolled.

Opening the W.T.H.S. social season will be "Fall Frolic" an all-school mixer to be held in the high school gym tonight from eight to eleven The purpose of the dance sponsored by the student council is to introduce new students to upperclassmen.

As a special feature, students who have already purchased activity cards for the year will be admitted free of charge. A band will provide the music.

Committee chairmen for the dance are: decorations, Gyla Glasspoole; tickets, Bob Wood; clean-up, Aaron Wright.

The Skippers' first gridiron clash, Waterford vs. Royal Oak Dondero High, Sept. 20, is eagerly awaited by the student body as well as the team. It's a non-league game, and it will be a home game. Practice sessions for the varsity squad have been in full swing since Labor Day with approximately 89 boys attending.

This year's cheerleading squad is also well under way. They've been practicing for two weeks. Cheerleaders this year are: Carole Moore, Captain; Charlene Gaffney, Laura Terry, Judy Kent, Janet Kunse, Susanne Springer, Jackie Winter, and Fran Spencer.

A roller skating party and sock hop to be held Monday at the Rolladium Skating Rink, is being planned by the cheerleaders. The proceeds will be used to purchase new skirts and equipment needed by the squad.

Ten members of the GAA (Girls Athletic Assn.) board spent last weekend near Tawas and scheduled the clubs activities for the coming year. Club sponsors Norma Feller, Barbara Frank, and Patricia Vannorsdall accompanied the group.

Attending were: Carole Moore, Janet Delbrige, Charlotte Pankner, Laura Terry, Tish Fitz Gerald, Libby Every, Linnea Hedlund, Carole Ponn, Karen Anderson, and Linda McDowell.

Open St. Freds With High Mass

Staff Increased by 3; Varsity Cheerleaders Selected Today

By PATRICIA FOSTER

After three months of carefree living, Sept. 5 found Saint Frederick students ready to settle down to some serious studying. Thursday was devoted to registration with classes getting into fall swing Monday morning.

The year got off to a good start with High Mass and a welcoming address by our pastor, Father Marcero.

There is a general air throughout the high school of eager expectancy for the coming scholastic, social and athletic events.

The student body wishes to extend a hearty welcome to the new additions to our faculty. These include a new freshman teacher, Sister Florent Marie from St. Mary, Redford, who is in charge of the crafts, drafting and clothing classes. Teaching the sophomore class is Sister Benedetta from Saint Mary's Academy, Monroe. Also with us this year is Edward Higbee, teacher of English and history.

The strange behavior of the junior girls this week may have been accountable to the fact that the junior varsity cheerleading tryouts are this afternoon in the school hall. There are high hopes among the cheerleaders and student body in general as the opening game of the football season draws near.

From the green freshees to the time-tried seniors there is a spirit of vitality which we are sure will culminate in a successful and happy year for all.

Freshmen, Upperclassmen to Get Acquainted

Area High Schools Hold Dances Tonight

Area senior high school students went back to the books this week. Their school spirit sparkled as they joined new activities and returned to the one they participated in when school closed for summer vacation in June.

AT WALLED LAKE

Walled Lake Senior High School's Student Council will sponsor a "Get Acquainted" dance tonight.

Kay Armstrong, council vice president, reports the dance, from 8 to 11:30, will be held in the school gym.

Tuesday Dennis McClelland, council president, presided over the first meeting of the year to elect representatives.

Council delegates chosen from the senior homerooms for this year are: Sylvia Blackington, Ann Churchill, Judy Dion, Ponny Morris, Mary Latimer, Arlene Prake, Mary Thibideau, Gladys Wenz, and Bill Hosley.

Representing the Junior class are: Carol Beneteau, Bonnie Buchner, Sally Collins, Bill Havel, Janice Huff, Tom McClelland, Dennis McNamara, Louann Pirtle, Don Rounds, Bob Smith, Marjorie Donaldson, Martha Thibideau, Janet Welch, and Carol Burgess.

At this meeting Ann Churchill was elected secretary, and Bill Hosley, treasurer.

AT AVONDALE

School officially started Monday, Sept. 9. Juniors are going half days until the second semester, when the new addition is expected to be completed.

Avondale's Future Teachers Club will sponsor a Get-Acquainted Dance tonight from 8 to 11 in the school gym. This, the first dance of the oncoming school year, will be a sock-hop and sportswear will be the attire.

★ ★ ★

Eckert Keller, our exchange student from Dortmund, Germany, is finding the adjustment to American ways of living and school not too difficult. The students are busy showing him the community and drawing him into the many activities.

His American mother, Mrs. Earl C. Wilson, of Squirrel Rd., entertained a group of seniors to help Eckert get acquainted with his classmates before the opening of school. Other activities are being planned for him.

AT LAKE ORION

Lake Orion Community High School students are beginning to find their way about the new school on Scripps Road.

Housing only the ninth through twelfth grades, the school has new rules and regulations, a faculty with new names and enlarged departments with much new equipment to be explored especially in the home economics, band, science, and metal and wood shop classes.

These and many other facts including membership and scope of clubs, and schedule of bells, are included in a new handbook distributed to students during an assembly the first day of school.

★ ★ ★

Cheerleaders and athletes are busy preparing for the coming season. The first game is with Roseville on Sept. 20.

The board of education will hold open house October 13 so parents may view the new school.

PUNKINS A-PLENTY — Mrs. Leona Hutchins and Leanne Poffenberger of Ortonville are in the process of gathering plump pumpkins to enter in the Community Fair at Ortonville. The one-day event, lasting from 2 to 9 p. m. tomorrow, will be held at Brandon Grange Hall there, with numerous exhibits of garden produce, flowers and baked goods. Prizes will be given for the biggest corn and pumpkins. However, says Bud Hutchins, Grange master, entries, open to all, must be in by 10 a. m. Saturday. Smorgasbord supper will be served at 5 p. m.

PLAN FLOWER SHOW — Mrs. Ray Bowers (left) and Mrs. Ora Wright examine flowers in the planter at the Gingellville Community Center which will be the scene of the Garden Club's annual Flower Show Saturday and Sunday. The two women are members of the committee in charge of arrangements for the two-day event.

Gingellville Garden Club Set for Weekend Show

GINGELLVILLE — The local branch of the Women's Farm and Garden Club will sponsor a two-day flower show at the Community Center this weekend. Hours are from 5 to 9 p.m. on Saturday and from 12 noon to 6 p.m. Sunday.

Because of the increased interest in the three previous one-day shows, this year's event will be staged an extra day.

Wiley McClelland of Pontiac, well known throughout the state for his award-winning flower arrangements, will show color films at 8 p.m. Saturday. Arthur Wheatcroft also is scheduled to show colored slides of iris gardens belonging to his mother, Mrs. Anna Burgess.

Entries are expected from many individuals and clubs outside the area, and they will be accepted until 11 a.m. on Saturday. For information call Mrs. Jack Turner FE 5-5958 or Mrs. Floyd Sanchez, FE 5-3069.

★ ★ ★

Ribbon awards for the first three places in each class will be given. Mrs. Donald Gilchrest of Pontiac, certified judge, and two other out-of-club judges will determine award winners before the show opens.

There is no admission charge. Refreshments will be served.

Committees for the event are: Mrs. Arthur Burgess, general chairman; Mrs. Ray Bowers, publicity; Mrs. Roy Hurd and Mrs. Jack Turner, refreshments; Mrs. Ed Knickerbocker, miniatures; Mrs. Ora Wright, vegetables and fruits; Mrs. Earl Carrier, arrangements; Mrs. Roger Williams Sr., registrar; Mrs. Morley Newman, marketing; Mrs. Lewis Swartz, conservation; and Mrs. Roger Williams Jr., entries registrar.

Chemical Explosion Sparks Costly Fire

MONACA, Pa. (AP)—A chemical explosion triggered a spectacular two-hour fire yesterday at the Kobuta plant of Koppers Co., causing damage unofficially estimated at more than $100,000. Nobody was injured.

★ ★ ★

Some 300 firemen from 11 companies joined plant fire-fighters in extinguishing the chemical-fed blaze, which was confined to a 150-square-foot area of the 275-acre facility.

★ ★ ★

The explosion occurred in a huge tower where Koppers combines chemicals under high pressure to make ethyl benzene.

★ ★ ★

Company officials said the cause of the blast was not determined. A state police spokesman said leaking chemicals may have touched off the explosion.

★ ★ ★

Kobuta is about 25 miles northwest of Pittsburgh.

Man Accused of Marrying 2 in an Afternoon

DETROIT (AP) — A 25-year-old Detroit man, accused of marrying two women on the same day, yesterday pleaded guilty to a charge of failing to support one. He pleaded innocent to a charge of bigamy.

★ ★ ★

William Turner Williams was sentenced to two years on probation for non-support of Mrs. Shirley Petite Williams, 22, and bound over for trial on a bigamy charge.

★ ★ ★

Williams is accused of marrying the former Miss Petite at 1 p.m. July 8 in Detroit, then rushing to suburban River Rouge and marrying the former Miss Ruby Nell Ramey, 21.

★ ★ ★

Police said he divided his time between the two women on his wedding day and on subsequent days until he was charged with non-support.

City-Village Issues to Be Decided

Southfield Votes Monday

SOUTHFIELD TOWNSHIP — Residents here will go to the polls Monday to vote in two elections. Two areas of the township are involved.

One area is seeking incorporation as the new city of Southfield while the other section would incorporate as the village of Westwood.

The new city of Southfield would cover approximately 26½ square miles in the southern end of the present township, excluding Franklin Village, Lathrup, and Bingham Farms.

It would have a population of approximately 30,000.

Boundaries of the Westwood Village would be from Greenfield to Evergreen, between 13 Mile road and 14 Mile road, and from Evergreen to the eastern boundary of Bingham Farms Village, between 12½ and 14 Mile roads.

The 4¼ square mile area has a population of 6,376.

There will be nine positions open on the charter commission for the new city of Southfield.

★ ★ ★

Some 32 candidates have filed, and they are: John G. Anderson, Alan M. Bulloch, Emanuel Christensen, S. James Clarkson, Thomas M. Costello, C. Hugh Dohany, Dorothy Dorr, Otho D. Edwards, Clary Fales; Patrick G. Flannery, Samuel A. Garzia, Vernon F. Gilmore, Ashley Gorman, Dale M. Hadsall, Donald W. Hanford, John J. Hollywood, Harry J. Lippman, Philip A. Maloney, Charles S. Marando, Paul L. McElwain, Ray McLeod, Donald G. McNeff, Elizabeth Molnar, Charles A. Nagler, Will J. Oliver, Donald L. Swanson, Eugene Swem, Shirley A. Thorpe, Edward J. Walker, J. Leo Walton, Ray R. Woods, and Robert S. Wuersel.

For the village of Westwood, there will be five positions open on the charter commission. Ten candidates seeking the posts are: Hugh G. Allerton Jr., Marvin B. Cline, Chester F. Guilmet, James L. O'Callaghan, David H. Raup, Robert B. Reed, Russell H. Seeburger, Edward M. Shurtleff, Robert W. Spencer, and Theodore J. Sura.

Residents of Southfield Township voted in June, 1955, to incorporate as a city. Since then, two city charters have been defeated by strong opposition from the northern section, that which is voting Monday to become Westwood Village.

OK New School Addition

School construction matters were major business before the Pontiac Board of Education last night, with the board giving the green light to a new elementary school and an addition to another elementary unit.

★ ★ ★

After reviewing plans with the architectural firm of H. E. Beyester & Associates, Inc., of Detroit, the board ordered detailed drawings to be made for the Franklin Road School and an addition to the Owen School.

Construction on the two projects is expected to start in November or December with completeion scheduled by September of next year.

The Franklin Road School will contain eight classrooms and two kindergartens, in addition to offices and other facilities. Cost is estimated at $478,558.

The Owen addition will contain five classrooms and one kindergartens, and cost an estimated $175,665.

★ ★ ★

Dr. Otto Hufziger, assistant superintendent, reported on completion schedules on the Kennett Road and Herrington Hills Schools.

SEWERS ARE HOLDUP

He said Kenneth Road is substantially completed, but cannot be opened until the city has brought its sewer and water lines to the building's property line. He guessed it would be Monday at the earliest before the school is opened.

Dr. Hufziger also reported that the Herrington Hills building is being delayed by lack of ceramic tile for the lavatory rooms. He estimated another four weeks before occupancy.

Supt. Dana Whitmer reported to the board on a new public relations program requested by the board. He said that board meetings at Pontiac High School, at Crofoot School and with the City-Wide Parents Council were being explored.

★ ★ ★

Dr. Whitmer said that a meeting with business leaders of the community and with Negro leaders also was being explored.

★ ★ ★

In other action, the board named Mrs. Ferne Perrin head of its visiting teacher service for this school year.

Husband Kills Mother of Three

New Jersey Man Fires at Wife After Finding Teacher in Closet

SOMERVILLE, N.J. (INS) — A mother of three was shot and killed today by her irate husband, who returned home suddenly in mid-morning to find the local school music supervisor hiding in a closet.

★ ★ ★

Police charged that John Spies, 41, killed his attractive wife, Stella, 44, with one blast from a double-barrelled shotgun as both she and the music teacher pleaded for their lives in the living room of the suburban residence.

The teacher, Joseph Foohey, 37, music supervisor of Franklin Township School and described by police as divorced, fled the house in panic. He was picked up by detective in woods four miles from the scene of the slaying.

★ ★ ★

Police said Foohey was fully clothed when found in the closet and that Mrs. Spies was wearing a house dress.

★ ★ ★

Franklin Township Police Chief Edward Voorhees said the Spies have three children, twins of 15 who were at the local junior high school at the time of the shooting and an 18-year old daughter, who was at work.

Spies was arraigned in Middle Spies was arraigned in Middle Bush Township Court and then lodged in the county jail at Somerville pending grand jury action on a murder charge.

Foohey was ordered held as a material witness.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Spies' parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Nechvatal of nearby Millstone, said their daughter and her husband had separated several times after bitter arguments. They told newsmen that Spies was "a very jealous man" and several times struck his wife.

★ ★ ★

The three Spies children said they planned to stay with their mother's parents. Nechvatal said 18-year old Barbara is engaged to be married.

Church to Serve Final Smorgasbord

SASHABAW PLAINS — The Women's Organization of the Sashabaw Presbyterian Church, 5331 Maybee Rd., will serve its final smorgasbord dinner, beginning at 5:30 p.m. Saturday.

★ ★ ★

The suppers have been regular events during the past six or seven years, accounting for the accomplishment of complete renovation and modernization of the tiny century-old church.

The supper proceeds have also helped pay for the electronic organ and for several other charitable projects. The last such effort was the "adoption" of a 12-year-old Philippine orphan girl by the Women's Organization.

Will Continue Mining Copper

Calumet - Hecla Has Plan for Economical, Sound Operation

CHICAGO (AP) — Calumet and Hecla, Inc., says it plans continuation of copper operations at the Calumet Division in Michigan's upper peninsula.

An operating plan has been developed which indicates the mining activity can be made economically sound, the company says.

★ ★ ★

In making the announcement from company headquarters here yesterday, H. Y. Bassett, the copper firm's president, said that high cost mines in which production was continued during high copper prices are being shut down.

Although production is being suspended in some mines — those which are not fully developed — development activities are continuing, he added.

Bassett said explorations in upper Michigan are being expanded with the adoption of newly-developed techniques not previously used in the Michigan Copper Country to add to ore reserves.

★ ★ ★

Some of the working force from shut-down mines are being transferred to higher grade mines to increase their production, he said.

Surface and service activities are being streamlined to fit the modified mining activity, Bassett added.

3 Teenagers Arrested in Assault on Youth

Police have arrested three teenagers and are seeking two more in an assault on another youth, Glenn Lackey, 113 Kemp St.

Arrested were James H. Hudson, 17, of 999 Northfield St. David Theobald, 19, of 22 Auburn Ave.; and Gerald D. Zimmerman, 19, of 47½ Whitfield St.

The trio was arraigned yesterday in municipal court. All three pleaded not guilty. They were released on $100 bond pending trial Wednesday.

Marry in Lake Orion Rite

LAKE ORION — Sharon Lee Cluff and William Lawrence Longpre were united in marriage at a 10 a.m. nuptial mass here on Sept. 7.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. T. Pilon of 602 N. Long Lake Blvd., while the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Ray Longpre of 234 E. Shadbolt.

The bride chose a white gown of silk and illusion net worn under a redingote of Chantilly lace, fashioned with princess lines, long tapered sleeves and a full skirt.

Her fingertip illusion veil was secured by a crown of pearls. She carried a white prayer book with an arrangement of stephanotis and satin streamers centered by a white orchid.

★ ★ ★

The bride's twin sister, Sheila Marie Cluff, was maid of honor. Bridesmaid was Peggy Longpre and junior bridesmaid, Sharon Longpre, both sisters of the bridegroom.

James Bushman served as best man. Richard Longpre, of St. Clair Shores, ushered.

Trim Trees - Then Protect Wounds From Rot and Bleeding

By WAYNE B. SIEFERT
Ass't. County Agricultural Agent

Nearly every home owner occasionally does some trimming of his trees. What then is the best time to cut and how does one protect these wounds from rots and bleeding?

One of the first rules of trimming trees or large shrubs is to make the cut as close to the trunk or larger branch as possible without cutting into the trunk. Never leave a stub. The more quickly these wounds heal, the more attractive and healthy these trees remain.

When stubs are left, this protruding wound usually dies and makes the perfect avenue for rots and borers to enter the heartwood. In emergency situations, pruning can be done during the summer months if we are repairing splits or injuries.

The possibility of borer invasion and wood rot is always much greater because of the oozing of green tissues following such wounds. From the standpoint of convenience and safety to the tree, winter pruning is always more advisable.

* * *

Such wounds, whether made during the winter or summer should always be painted promptly. Old wounds which have not started to rot should also be treated if there is any evidence of cracking of the dressing.

HOUSE PAINT NOT BEST

Though house paint can be used, it does injure the trees because of the turpentine. Commercial preparation called tree wound dressing is much more satisfactory. These are putty-like compounds which are very resistant to weathering and have considerable antiseptic value.

Mulching trees and shrubs often has saved them from severe damage or loss, especially if these plants have recently been moved. Much of the winter injury to shrubs and trees is due to winter thaws which allows water loss from the tops while the soil and roots are still frozen.

Mulching with straw, leaves, sawdust or grass clippings prevents deep freezing and root inactivity, and often, winter burn.

MULCH IN NOVEMBER

Early November mulching is considered best. The soil is not frozen. Yet it has chilled sufficiently to insure complete dormancy. When trees and shrubs are mulched early in the fall, root growth and top growth may continue because of warm soil and result in severe frosting of branch tips and small limbs by an early freeze.

* * *

Rabbits and mice occasionally cause serious damage to valuable plants and fruit trees by chewing the bark from the trunks and roots.

The factor usually involved with rabbit injury is deep snow which prevents them from reaching more tasty food like apples, twigs and grass or hay. Wrapping the trunks with any material which presents a barrier usually is sufficient.

Fine screen has proven an ideal material, especially if it covers at least two feet of the trunk. Aluminum foil, particularly the heavier grades, has excellent possibilities where small numbers of trees are concerned.

BEWARE OF MR. MOUSE

Mice, on the other hand, are most serious if good shelter is nearby. For this reason mulched plants or plants surrounded by tall or matted grass are commonly attacked. In the case of mulches, avoid piling them against the trunks of the plants. Mice are reluctant to travel across open areas to reach a food supply.

Again, mechanical barriers, such as fine screening or aluminum foil are necessary to insure protection. If the screen or foil can be inserted a short distance into the soil it prevents tunneling beneath it.

Certain plants are grown in this area which are easily damaged by cold weather. Some of these are Holly, Boxwood and Hydrangeas. These plants more often survive in sheltered locations, but sometimes sheltered locations just aren't available.

Corners of buildings and crests of slopes are where protection is most often needed. Cold winds in these locations cause cracking, freezing of leaves and bark and drying which often proves fatal to part of all of the exposed branches.

STAKES BREAK WIND

Many have found a small windbreak to spell the difference between survival and loss. Stakes at the four corners of the plant and at least 12 inches beyond the spread of the branches provides a frame around which any sort of fiberous or plastic material may be wrapped and nailed. This material should reach to the ground, but in the case of evergreens, never cover the top. If the shield extends a few inches above the top of the plant this is more desirable than below the crest of the plant.

My Garden

My Garden is a place of prayer—
Each day I go and linger there
And Oh, the joys untold I find,
The peace of heart, the peace of mind.

* * *

For as I work with His own sod,
I feel much closer to my God.
Out there, beneath His clear, blue skies,
On bended knee, I raise my eyes.

* * *

Somehow, my heart is happy, free,
As there His wondrous works I see
Each blade of grass, each flower rare,
Bespeaks His love and tender care.

* * *

And as I seek His counsel fine,
Within this holy place of mine,
Again I see — in memory —
A Garden called Gethsemane

* * *

Where Jesus often went to pray,
As He began another day.
I'm glad I have a Garden where
I too, can talk with God in Prayer.

(A preface to the 1957-58 yearbook of the East Detroit branch of the Woman's National Farm and Garden Association.)

ASPARAGUS HARVESTER — Oregon farmer Stanley Allison demonstrates the operation of the machine he designed to put asparagus harvesting on wheels. It enables one man to do the work of eight.

Develops Machine to Aid Job

Asparagus Farmer Saves Labor With His Harvester

A mechanized asparagus harvester with which one man can do the work of eight has been developed by Stanley Allison, an enterprising farmer in Candy, Oregon.

Allison says his operating costs got so high a couple of years ago he wasn't making a profit on his 30-acre asparagus crop. At the time, he hired more than two dozen workers to trudge through the fields, cutting the stalks.

A farm gadgeteer, Allison, who already had perfected an improved asparagus cultivator, turned his attention ot a harvester.

The first thing he did was attach a wooden platform just above the ground to the front of a farm tractor. With this he determined that a man could ride and cut asparagus at the same time.

* * *

Allison then began work on a machine which a workman could operate with his feet while cutting asparagus with his hands.

FOOT STEERS

The farmer - inventor came up with a low-slung, four-wheeled device, driven by an eight-horsepower gasoline engine. The operator sits spraddle-legged, controlling the speed with his left foot and steering with his right foot. With his hands he cuts the asparagus in front of him and puts it in boxes on the rig, which straddles the row.

Allison now has three of the machines in operation. He hires an additional four men to trim, grade and pack the crop.

* * *

Cost of the first machine was relatively high, but he built the other two for about $750 each. Allison holds patents and says he may manufacture the machines if there's enough demand.

Mums the Word in September

Reigns as Fall Flower Queen Until Mr. Frost Wears Cold Crown

Now is the time of year to look around garden-wise and feast your eyes on the Queen of fall flowers in all her glory — the lovely garden chrysanthemum.

Mums are the outstanding flower for mounds, borders and sheets of bloom from August until hard killing frosts. No other flower can compare with outdoor mums for late summer and fall color. They create a riot of bloom, and in most any desired shade except blue.

From the low growing Cushion mums, mounded in plant form and completely covering themselves with hundreds of blooms, to the taller, larger and more erect decorative mums, varieties answer individual tastes and desires.

Whether for garden display or the longest lasting of cut-flowers, "Mum's the word," the indispensable fall flower. And along with their glorious color, they are so easy to grow.

Great improvements are being made in creating new kinds. Many favorites of even a few years ago are already obsolete and others are being superseded by new varieties that bloom longer, have clearer colors, greater hardiness, disease resistance, better stems and foliage, prolific and larger, fuller petaled flowers.

* * *

There are tiny three-quarter inch "buttons" to massive eight inch "football' mums; trimly rounded pompons for grand cuttings or ornately cushioned anemones; simple but colorful singles or daisy types; daintily contrived spoons, exotic spiders and more and more of fringed, carnation-like blossoms. All sizes and shapes! And the constant work of hybridizers insures the continuing of great improvements to this wonderful flower.

A "bed of roses" long has signified comfort and security, and probably came from a long 14th century poem in which a poet is led to a "bed of roses." Singling out a particularly lovely flower, he attempts to pluck it when an arrow from Cupid's bow stretches him fainting on the ground. He then confronts many dangers before he again reaches the flower of his choice, the rose, and Venus allows him to touch it with his lips.

Adjust the lawn mower blade to cut grass at about two inches during hot weather, suggests the July issue of Better Homes & Gardens magazine.

Being the only school in Michigan which sponsors soccer as a varsity sport puts Cranbrook in a unique situation.

Michigan and Michigan State now award varsity letters for soccer, and except for foreign imports, it seems that the two schools have very little problem in centering their state recruiting program.

The big problem is to compete for the few soccer players Cranbrook will graduate every year.

Coach Ben Snyder of the Cranes isn't exactly overjoyed at being the center for Michigan soccer recruiting.

★ ★ ★

Snyder would rather see a few more schools put soccer on their varsity program, so that he could find a few schools locally to make up a schedule, and to stimulate some interest in the sport in Michigan.

"Soccer is big in many parts of the country, and it's so inexpensive to maintain," said Snyder. "It would be an ideal activity for any intra-mural or varsity program of a school," he added.

PONTIAC IS INTERESTED

Fielding a soccer team requires only an open field, couple nets and a ball. Athletic director Tom Dodson of Pontiac schools foresees soccer as a near addition to school system's athletic and recreational outlet.

★ ★ ★

The new high school will have sufficient land area to field a team, or the Wisner area could accommodate several playing areas.

MORE SCHOOLS NEEDED

Snyder would like very much to help any school which may be interested in initiating a soccer program.

Oakland County could be the pioneer in bringing about a soccer league in the state. Snyder would be happy to present the details necessary for organization. Are there any takers?

SWITCHED — Joe Hill, all-county center last year, has been running at fullback this year for Pontiac High. The 185 - pound center also has been used as a linebacker.

'Bull Session' for Chief Fans

Closed Scrimmage Set for Saturday; MacLeay to Speak Monday

Football at Pontiac High this weekend will be mixed with a closed scrimmage session Saturday afternoon and a fans' "bull session" on Monday.

Saturday afternoon the Chiefs will play their annual full dress scrimmage game behind closed doors at Wisner Stadium in preparation for their opener one week from tomorrow against Wyandotte.

Monday night in the PHS auditorium at 7:30 all players' parents and football fans are invited to a "bull session."

★ ★ ★

MacLeay and the coaching staff will be on hand to give a prospectus of this year's team and to answer any questions the fans may have.

The Chiefs continue daily drills, but MacLeay has not made any decision on his starting lineup for next week's home opener.

Several position shifts have been made with center Joe Hill now running at fullback and end George Palaian now at tackle.

Tigers Triumph in Battle of Fumbles, 8-5

Detroit Scores 6 Tainted Runs to Defeat Nats

Boone, Bolling Homer for Sweep of Series; Maas Wins 10th

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Detroit Tigers won a battle of fumbles over the Washington Senators 8-5 last night with the help of home runs by Ray Boone and Frank Bolling.

★ ★ ★

The homers, Boone's 12th of the season and Bolling's 15th, were the only earned runs the Tigers got off three Washington pitchers.

But where legitimate sock at the plate was missing, the Tigers had the unwilling aid of faulty fielding by the Senators. Two errors accounted for six Detroit runs.

The Senators played on the same formula. Of their five runs, only one was earned. The others were scored with the help of three Tiger errors, two of them by shortstop Harvey Kuenn.

★ ★ ★

Coupled with Boston's 7-1 loss to the Chicago White Sox, the victory pulled Detroit within three games of third place. The Tigers are 15½ games out of first place; Boston 12½.

The triumph gave Detroit a sweep of the three-game series.

Now the Tigers move to Baltimore for a two-game series that opens tonight. Paul Foytack (13-10) is scheduled to start for Detroit, Connie Johnson (13-9) for the Orioles.

The Tigers scored three unearned runs in the seventh inning when Neil Chrisley dropped Harvey Kuenn's fly to rightfield with the bases loaded.

Duke Maas was credited with his 10th victory of the season against 12 defeats and his 4th win in five starts over the Senators, although he needed 8th-inning relief from Harry Byrd.

Hard - luck southpaw Chuck Stobbs suffered his 19th loss against only eight wins. Ted Abernathy and Truman Clevenger finished on the mound for the Nats.

It was the Tigers' 4th straight triumph and their 7th in the last eight games.

Dottes Meet Cleveland in Rain-Delayed Game

BATTLE CREEK (AP) — Unbeaten Wyandotte, Mich., moved against once-beaten Cleveland, Ohio, today in the double-elimination Eastern playoff of the American Amateur Baseball Congress here.

Rain forced postponement of their game, scheduled for last night.

The winner will play once-beaten Knoxville, Tenn., tonight.

The champion and runnerup of the Eastern playoff will enter a four-team national tournament with the winners of two other regional playoffs.

Teen-Ager Beats Last Michigan Entry

Kocsis Eliminated, 5 and 4

BROOKLINE, Mass., (INS) — Four U. S. Walker Cuppers—a Dentist, a collegian and two servicemen—will battle through 36-hole semi-final matches today to determine the finalists in the 57th annual U. S. Amateur golf championships.

Dr. Frank Taylor, a 40-year-old dentist from Pomona, Calif., will meet E. Mason Rudolph, a bespectacled 23-year-old army private from Clarkesville, Tenn., in one of the gruelling semi-final matches.

The other clash at the Country Club in Brookline will pit Rex Baxter, the 21-year-old N.C.A.A. titleholder from Amarillo, Tex., against wiry Lt. Hillman Robbins, an air force officer from Memphis, Tenn.

All four survived yesterday's two 18-hole rounds that trimmed the original field of 200 from 16 down to four, with Taylor emerging as the strong favorite to win the tourney.

Michigan's last of the 10 golfers who started the tourney, Chuck Kocsis of Royal Oak, was eliminated by teen-ager Phil Rodgers, University of Houston golfer, 5 and 4.

Kocsis last year went to the finals before losing to champion Harvey Ward.

Taylor—picked by Ward as his most likely successor—disposed of Jim Tom Blair of Kirkwood, Mo., 2 up, in yesterday's morning round before ousting Gene Andrews of Los Angeles, 2 up, in the quarter-finals.

★ ★ ★

Robbins first whipped Tim Holland of Rockville Centre, N. Y., 1 up, and then eliminated former champion Dick Chapman (1940) of Osterville, Mass., 3 in 1.

Rudolph beat Lawrence Cook of Wrightsville Beach, N. C., 4 and 3, and then had to drop and eight-foot birdie putt on the 19th hole to oust comebacking Richard Yost of Portland, Ore.

Baxter downed Alex Sott of Bridgeport, Conn., 5 and 3, and then was caried to the 21st hole before wiping out 19-year-old Rodgers of La Jolla, Calif., his roommate at the University of Houston.

★ ★ ★

The Baxter-Rodgers Vendetta was the centerpiece of some excellent competition during two match-play rounds over the testing, par 35-37—72, 6,860-yd. course.

Rodgers, a chunky blond, had squared the match with a difficult 20-foot putt on the 18th for a birdie after playing the last five holes in birdie-par-par-birdie-birdie.

Braves Nip Bums, 2-1; Top Cards by 5 Games

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

After 12 months of living with "choke up" taunts, Milwaukee's Braves have proved their stuff, for the moment at least, against their chief tormentors — Brooklyn's dethroned Dodgers.

★ ★ ★

The Braves never looked more like champs than they did last night. Held to only four hits by rookie Danny McDevitt, they paired 'em with walks and beat the Brooks 2-1 on Del Crandall's pinch single in the ninth.

★ ★ ★

With second-place St. Louis idle, the Braves padded their National League lead for the first time in nine days, gaining a five-game bulge with 15 to play and reducing their pennant - clinching magic number to 11.

★ ★ ★

Any combination of Braves' victories and St. Louis defeats totaling 11 starts the beer flowing in Milwaukee.

The American League could settle its pennant scrap in the next 24 hours in a two-game showdown between the New York Yankees and Chicago's second-place White Sox opening at Yankee Stadium today.

★ ★ ★

The Sox, who whipped Boston 7-1 while the Yankees were idle, are five games behind with 16 left (two more than the Yankees have).

The Braves, who had lost five of eight had to scrap all the way against the Dodgers' 24-year-old southpaw. They collected eight walks, but managed hits in only the fourth and ninth—scoring in each frame.

★ ★ ★

Two flare ups with the umps interrupted the game, and the Braves won both of them. The first voided a Brooklyn run, the second set up the winning marker.

The Dodgers, eight games back in third, scored in the second off Bob Buhl, making his first start since August 18 because of a sore shoulder, and chased the right-hander who beat them eight times last season with a single and two walks that loaded the bases with one out in a frantic fourth.

Scottish Coach Likes Irishmen

Skinner Pleased About M'Creary and M'Carthy at Red Wing Camp

SAULT STE. MARIE (AP) — The Detroit Red Wings, who have a Scottish coach named Jimmy Skinner, may have a couple of Irishmen named Mac in their lineup this winter.

Although Skinner won't go out on a limb and predict Red Wing assignments for Bill McCreary and Tom McCarthy, he admits they both rate high in his book.

★ ★ ★

McCarthy, an able man at either left wing or center, was troubled with illness and injuries with the Edmonton Flyers last year. In between an emergency appendectomy, a broken toe and a shoulder separation, he scored 18 goals in about half the Flyers' games.

★ ★ ★

"I'd say he's a sure bet to make the club," Skinner said.

The 23-year-old McCreary, less spectacular than McCarthy, has been working with Alex Delvecchio and Lorne Ferguson. Skinner said he wanted McCreary to get used to playing with experienced forwards. McCreary played with Edmonton last season.

Ceccarelli Doing OK

BALTIMORE (AP) — Art Ceccarelli, Baltimore Orioles pitcher, was reported in satisfactory condition today after undergoing an appendectomy at Union Memorial Hospital.

Candy and Howe Keep Rolling

DENVER (AP) — Australia's Don Candy and Bob Howe had their work cut out for them today in the quarter-finals of the Colorado Open Tennis Tournament.

★ ★ ★

Candy, ranked No. 5 on the Davis Cup team will meet Mike Davies, a tough competitor from England. Howe's foe will be Gardnar Mulloy of Miami, Fla., Wimbledon doubles champion and a Davis Cupper.

★ ★ ★

Candy was idle in singles yesterday but teamed up with Howe in doubles and downed Doug Corley of Colorado Springs, Colo., and Bill Wright of Cheyenne, Wyo., 6-2, 6-3.

Irish Reserves Are Green

Notre Dame Largely Junior Team

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (AP) — Last football season, Notre Dame's varsity was young and inexperienced. This fall, the Irish varsity should know its way around, but reserves will be green.

★ ★ ★

"Before last season, a lot of people thought Notre Dame sophomores were better than sophomores anywhere else," Coach Terry Brennan said today. "They weren't."

That tersely tells the story of the worst Irish season in history (2-8), a season that now has Brennan battling for his job.

Notre Dame had nine sophomore starters in last seasons finale. Thus, this year's team will be predominantly a junior team, relying on sophs for what depth there will be.

Brennan, 29, was "re-engaged" for just this season, his fourth at the Irish helm, with the obvious understanding his Irish must improve considerably, or else. Something like a 5-5 record in another rugged Notre Dame schedule probably would placate a great many Irish fans, as accustomed as they are to the refrain that old Notre Dame will win over all.

★ ★ ★

That would entail a big break for Brennan, who suggests that "generally we're a year away from being strong competitively."

Certainly, the still thin Irish forces can hardly be expected to avenge last year's routs by Michigan State (47-14), Oklahoma (40-0), Navy (33-7) or Iowa (48-8). All are ready to take another swipe at the once-mighty Irish.

Notre Dame engages Army at Philadelphia Oct. 12, renewing one of football's great rivalries. The Cadets must be considered stronger than North Carolina whom they replace on Notre Dame's schedule. North Carolina was Notre Dame's second and last 1956 victim, 21-14.

Indiana lost to Notre Dame, 20-6, after the Irish dropped their opener to Southern Methodist, 19-13. Notre Dame also bowed to Purdue (28-14); Pittsburgh (26-13); and Southern California (28-20). All four schools meet Notre Dame again this year with Purdue leading off Sept. 28 at Lafayette, Ind.

"We're farther ahead than last year," said Brennan. "The squad is in its best physical condition of recent years.

"But we're very thin with 50 or 52 players on the field. We'll have to be fortunate and avoid injuries, and we'll have to stay tough."

Ron Geiger Stars for Fliers

Pontiac Man Sparkplug of Army Baseball Team

Ron Geiger, who starred as an outfielder at Pontiac High School in the early 1950's, made quite a name for himself this year with the Fort Rucker Fliers.

The 24-year-old army private, a Pontiac native, was the sparkplug of the Fort Rucker, Ala. baseball team during the 1957 season.

Geiger, who bats left handed and throws right, played center field and led off for the Fliers. His record speaks for itself.

He paced the service squad in batting with a robust .404 average and runs scored with 38. He also drove in 17 runs, made 42 hits, stole 27 bases and worked opposing pitchers for 22 walks.

His .404 hitting percentage was 87 points better than the 2nd leading batter on the club. Standing 5-8½ and weighing only 150, Geiger more than makes up for lack of size with speed, daring and quick-thinking.

The Fliers bowed out after three games in the double elimination Third Army baseball tournament Sept. 2-7 at Fort Rucker.

Ron entered the service in 1955 and will be discharged next July. Before his army hitch began, he was a student at GM Tech here for four years. His wife Nancy teaches at Malkim elementary school in Pontiac.

Geiger was very active in City League softball circles, playing with GMC and Elks No. 810 prior to leaving for the army.

He has two older brothers, John and Pete. John lives and works in Pontiac and is a five-year veteran of the City Softball League. Pete, a service career man, lives in Baltimore, Md. and belongs to the U.S. Navy band.

4-Pound Trout Hits Perch Bait, Surprises Angler

George Simon, 983 Oxford road, Berkley, wasn't fishing for trout, last Saturday, on Orchard Lake, but he got one, nevertheless. With Victor Avram, 4947 Curtis lane, Waterford Hill, Simon was fishing in 10 feet of water, using a spin rig set up for perch, when he had a jolting strike.

That was when the fun began. The fish that took his minnow headed for the surface, did a few fast somersaults and sounded, under the boat. Some time later, an almost exhausted Simon hauled in a fine rainbow trout.

The fish was 4-pounds in weight, went better than 20 inches in length and was 14 inches around, anglers reported. It was also the finish for Simon and Avram's fishing for the day. The pair had taken some nice perch prior to tieing up with the big trout. Regular trout season ended Sunday.

Lou Little Calls 'em

By LOU LITTLE

Only a handful of college games and none of national importance, will mark tomorrow.

But don't let that fool you.

There will be a great deal of earnest and aggressive football played, though you won't read much about it in the papers. More than that, it will be some of the most important football of the season from the viewpoint of both players and coaches.

I am thinking now of the practice game or the game-long intra-squad scrimmage which most coaches plan to stage on the last Saturday before the opening game, usually behind closed gates or with a few dozen alumni enthusiasts and faculty members on the sidelines.

This is the rugged session that often answers important questions for the coaching staff. This is some of the hardest, even if not the best executed, football of the year.

★ ★ ★

This is the day you get a definite answer, at least for the present, as to what men have the ability, the stamina and the desire. You discover which are the men who may develop rapidly enough to be useful this season, and which of them are a year away.

This is the session that firms up the first two teams, the two units necessary under our present-day substitution rulings if you hope to have a winning season. You don't do it with 15 players.

The players know as well as the coaches the importance of this session. Here's a fight for supremacy not against men of another school but against your own squad-mates. It's a tough afternoon and an anxious one. The coaches are more worried about injuries in a scrimmage like this than in a regular game because they know the players, eager to impress, will put every ounce of try into every block and tackle.

In spite of this hazard, the coach must take the chance. And it's worth it. It's the spirit you see in this kind of scrimmage that makes football what it is.

A week from tomorrow the major action begins to get under way around the country. There are some big ones on the list, topped of course by the Oklahoma-Pittsburgh game at Pittsburgh.

It's a game that can bear on the season's national rankings as Bud Wilkinson's Oklahomans put on the line the most notable string of successes in modern football.

But if you'll ask Bud, I'll bet he'll tell you he is not nearly as worried about injuries in that game as he has been sometimes during the climax scrimmages of his fall practice. John Michelosen of Pitt probably will tell you the same thing.

Both had spring practice but even so you've got to bring your squad up to combat edge in the fall. And how would you like to face that task without spring practice?

Richest steeplechasing stake in the world may be Temple Gwathmey at Belmont, scheduled on Oct. 16, with a purse announced as $50,000.

Bob Lemon of the Indians, for many years a top pitcher in the American league, came to the mound as a converted third baseman.

Detroit Pistons basketball coach Charley Eckman is a former referee and umpire and also worked for a time as an income tax investigator.

Lions-Browns Meet in Rematch

138 to Tee Off Today at Dallas

DALLAS (AP)—There were too many hotshots in the field to pick an outstanding favorite today as 138 started the $40,000 Dallas Open but Ken Venturi or Doug Ford would appear as good a choice as any.

★ ★ ★

Venturi, winner of about $20,000 in three months of touring, was looked upon with most favor by the golfers themselves but Ford, the second leading money-winner and who has taken more tournaments this year than anybody else—four—is well on his game.

★ ★ ★

Ford gave the Glen Lakes Country Club 6,328-yard course a severe licking yesterday when he led a pro-amateur with a 6-under-par 65.

Venturi had a 67 in piloting his team to a fantastic 59 that was tied by three other combinations.

★ ★ ★

There's plenty of class in the field that plays the opening 18 holes today although several big names are missing. Dick Mayer, National Open king who leads all money-winners with more than $65,000, has an infected knee and doesn't think he can walk around the course. Jimmie Demaret, one of the year's big winners, is being kept away because of a stomach ailment.

Pee-Wee Football League Begins Season Saturday

The 1957 Pontiac Pee-Wee Football League begins another season of play Saturday afternoon with four games scheduled at Beaudette Park starting at 3:30.

Doubleheaders will be held each Saturday in the 10-team, two division league with over 300 boys taking part. Western division teams will use the outfield of the softball diamond and eastern elevens play west of the softball area.

Games will consist of four six-minute quarters with a one-hour time limit.

Newest team to obtain a sponsor has been the Bagley Bears. The Southwest Civic Association is sponsoring the team with help from the Southwest Community Beneficial Association.

★ ★ ★

Playing facilities, the marking of fields, shirts for game officials and time clocks will be provided by the Pontiac Parks and Recreation department.

League officers, coaches and all game officials are donating their time in an effort to further improve the Pee-We program and give more youngsters a chance to get an early start playing football.

The western division will include the Cubs, Crusaders, Indians, All-Stars, and Lakers. The Lions, Rams, Bears, Giants and Red Devils comprise the east loop.

Golf, Softball Sports Fare at Barbers' Picnic

An 18-hole golf tournament and a softball game will be sports highlights of the annual State Barbers' picnic Sunday.

The picnic will be held in Bloomer State Park on Auburn Rd. off John R. Games are planned for men, women and children and prizes will be awarded.

Rochester Golf and Country Club will be the scene of the golf tourney, with play starting at 10 a.m. Local 50 meets Local 55 in softball on the state park diamond at 2 p.m.

Harold Schreiner of Royal Oak is the picnic chairman.

Cleveland Tilt Second Clash of Pre-Season

Ohioans Improve Since 20-10 Loss in Detroit Month Ago

Municipal stadium on Cleveland's lakefront will be the site of the second pre-season football clash between the Detroit Lions and the Cleveland Browns tomorrow night.

The Lions, winner by a 20-10 score in the first game Aug. 14, will be trying to bounce back after a 20-14 loss last Sunday to the Pittsburgh Steelers. The Lions have won three of four exhibition starts while the Browns have only one victory in four games.

George Wilson and his staff of Detroit coaches have been carefully studying films of the last game between the two clubs, but added "I'm afraid the Browns will have changed a lot by now. Paul Brown doesn't stand pat when things aren't working too well and He'll have some surprises for us."

Dr. Richard A. Thompson, Lions' team physician, says quarterback Bobby Layne probably will start in Saturday's game despite an ankle gash suffered in a workout.

Five stitches were required yesterday to close the gash lane suffered when he was cut by a teammate's cleats in practice.

This will be the debut of Roger Zatkoff, the ex-Michigan lineman, against his brief associates in Cleveland. Zatkoff, traded to Cleveland from Green Bay, first refused to report to Cleveland. When he did, rumors persisted that he would wind up in Detroit.

Then the Browns swung a deal with the Los Angeles Rams, but Zatkoff refused to go and the deal was cancelled. Finally, Zatkoff did get to Detroit in a trade for Lew Carpenter and a draft choice.

The Browns have opened up a fine running game led by Jim Brown, the All-America halfback from Syracuse, and Preston Carpenter. The rookie Brown averaged nearly seven yards a carry last week against Los Angeles, and Carpenter was good for about five yards each time he carried.

Tom O'Connell, the former Illinois quarterback, appears to have wrested the starting job away from John Borton. Borton led the Browns against Detroit the last time and gained 163 yards with 11 completions in 18 passes.

★ ★ ★

Wilson will start Layne, Gene Gedman, John Henry Johnson and Dorne Dibble against the Browns.

Boys' Club Football Play Starts Tomorrow

A newly formed four-team Pontiac Boys' Club flag football league gets under way tomorrow when the Packers meet the Lions in a 10 a.m. contest. Three games will follow during the day.

The teams are made up of six starting players and two substitutes each. All players are 12 years of age or under. The Bears and Eagles are the other teams in the league. Plans are now in the making for forming a loop for the 13-15 age group.

Flag football requires all eligible ball carriers to have a flag in their hip pocket with the defensive team attempting to pull the flag out of the runner's pocket. Blockers are required to keep both feet on the ground.

Adios Express Winner

Detroit (AP)—Adios Express won the $18,400 Brown Jug Trial in the mud at Hazel Park harness raceway last night. Torpid, unbeaten in 16 races this year, finished third behind Silk Byrd. Adios Express led all the way.

Twenty-two National Leaguers hit 20 or more homers in 1956.

State Women's Golf Tourney Here Saturday

Defending champion Pontiac will be host to the women's Michigan Recreation Association golf tournament Saturday at City Municipal course.

Phyllis Boyer, Zadah DeBolt, Lucy Everett, Eve Miller and Pat Wilson will represent this city in the 18-hole state MRA tourney.

Teams from cities throughout the state will challenge Pontiac here tomorrow, with Dearborn, Plymouth and Lansing among the stronger entries.

Tee-off time is 10 a.m.

Ben Hogan was 1942 top golf winner with $13,143.

BIG BACKFIELD — Romeo High is expected to field a backfield which will average about 175 pounds this season as the Bulldogs attempt to become the 1st champion of the new Tri-County League. Probable starting backs are, left to right, Ray Rinke, Butch Dallwitz, Angus Stirling and Dave Proper. Dallwitz, the quarterback, is the heaviest at 190.

Sale of Permits Opens Sept. 23

LANSING (AP)—Applications for shooting permits during Michigan's 1957 special deer seasons will be obtainable from all fishing license dealers in the state starting Sept. 23.

The state conservation department said the applications also can be obtained from all of its district offices.

Oct. 10 will be the deadline for submitting the applications and drawings will be held Oct. 20.

Hunters seeking special permits must also have a regular season hunting license.

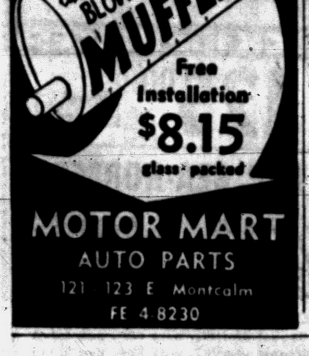

The state conservation commission has approved a Nov. 15-30 special season for 17 areas in the state, a Rec. 1-2 season for 13 other areas and a Dec. 1-8 season for a portion of Allegan County.

Deer of either sex or fawns may betaken as well as bucks in the specially-designated areas.

Babe Ruth won the major league home run crown 12 years, and Ty Cobb won the majors' batting title an equal number of years, both of these marks to stand as a record.

Rochester Rebuilding, Cranbrook Improved

Romeo Favored in New Tri-County

(This is the 4th of a series of eight articles by The Pontiac Press sports staff discussing the 1957 high school football picture in Oakland County and area leagues. Today's article discusses the Tri-County, Bi-County Inter-State and Independents.)

By CHUCK ABAIR

A brand new league drumming up a lot of interest among area footballers before play even gets started is the four-team Tri-County consisting of Rochester, Romeo, Lapeer and L'Anse Creuse.

L'Anse, located near Mt. Clemens, will be competing in varsity sports for the 1st time and will get a stern test against three schools which regularly turn out rugged grid combines.

It's hard to figure a favorite in such a situation. Romeo appears to have the early edge with 16 lettermen back from a team which had an 8-1 season last fall. Rochester and Lapeer were hard hit by graduation but have been coming along well in drills.

Romeo skipper Ted Engdahl has been pleased with his club and admits the "situation looks promising." Key men are quarterback Butch Dallwitz and 235-pound tackle John Lomakoski.

The steady improvement of ballcarrier Dave Hecht and defensive specialists Mike Comps and Doug Engler has given Rochester new hope. Lapeer lost great halfback Tom Wilson and a host of others but Coach Jack Fitzpatrick is counting on "our fastest backfield in 10 years" and a big line to make his Panthers a contender.

L'Anse Creuse won seven of eight starts against jayvee teams last fall led by quarterback Stuart Reed, who is currently out with a knee injury which may sideline him for the season. Al Nauzok is expected to head the running attack with cousins Don and Gary Reeder line mainstays.

Meanwhile, Cranbrook, Oakland County's entry in the Inter-State loop, is setting its sights on its big local opener against Birmingham before worrying about league foes.

★ ★ ★

Transfer halfback Stew Clark continues to be the highlight of the Crane camp but he is not eligible against BHS. Leading the veterans in drills have been linebacker Lloyd Asbury and Tom Notewear, while newcomer John Butsel is pushing Pete Turner for the starting quarterback nod.

Cranbrook tied for last place in its league last year. Defending champion Western Reserve and University School are favored to dominate play again with the locals as the darkhorse.

Lake Shore paced the Bi-County League with an unbeaten season a year ago and could go all the way again. Center Line is considered a strong contender with 15 lettermen back led by 195-pound fullback Dennis Rutowski. Utica was riddled by graduation but Warren, Lakeview and South Lake all have several topnotch men back.

★ ★ ★

Among some of the teams in other leagues, Royal Oak Dondero, which opens against Waterford, should field a formidable team in the Border Cities race with star end Hewitt Hornbeck, 215-pound fullback Jim Sierns and guard Bill Knotts, 190, among 14 lettermen.

Royal Oak Kimball, making its debut in varsity sports and prepping for a future in the EML, is coming along slowly in drills with only three boys with previous varsity experience. Norm Krawczak is rebuilding around four veterans at Oak Park, while South Lyon is given a good chance to at least match its 2nd place showing in the League of the Lakes last fall.

Marlette may have better depth with nine lettermen and some promising newcomers. Royal Oak Shrine skipper Ron Horwath is working hard to improve on the 1-5 record posted a year ago.

Little Change in Area, Eastern Michigan Fishing

By H. GUY MOATS

While angling conditions in the Pontiac area continue fair to good for the coming weekend, there is really little change in the overall picture. Outstate the situation remains spotty, with not too many reports of success for the special extended season for rainbows on specified waters. Locations of these waters can be had by addressing the Fish Division, Conservation department, Lansing. Regular trout season ended Sept. 8.

★ ★ ★

Weather continues to be the big factor in Lake Huron perch fishing, but some good catches have been taken in Lake St. Clair at Anchor Bay. Bass fishing in Lake Huron (Saginaw Bay) produces good fish on spinners and worm combinations, says B. R. Hellsten of the District 12 conservation office.

★ ★ ★

Hellsten also reported that smallmouths are hitting in Middle Channel at the Flats, but are slow in Lake St. Clair and the Thumb area. Walleyes and muskies are being taken in St. Clair river, with the first-named showing considerable improvement over last week.

★ ★ ★

Both largemouth and smallmouth bass provide good sport in Oakland county lakes, with a number of four to five pounders being landed during the last week. Unusually large perch have been taken on several area lakes, and big bluegills are active, hitting well on surface lures, as well as on nightcrawler harness rigs. This condition applies to most area waters.

Joe Gibbon of Mississippi hit 29 or 32 free throws in games against Alabama and Auburn in last year's collegiate season.

Yale football teams won 37 straight between 1887-89 and in that period the Eli's outscored their opposition by a margin of 689-0.

Central Kicks Off Season Saturday

SAGINAW (AP)—Central Michigan and Bradley kick off the 1957 Michigan collegiate football season here tomorrow night in the annual Red Feather contest at Arthur Hill stadium.

★ ★ ★

Central Michigan, minus Jim Podoley and Bob McNamara, two of the finest backs ever to grace Michigan's small college gridirons, will be trying to protect a 15-game winning streak. Bill Kelly's crew will rely on a veteran line and a fleet of speedy backs led by quarterback Herb Kipke.

The same two teams met last season at Saginaw, with Central Michigan coming out on top 33-33 after holding a 32-6 lead early in the contest.

Bradley, under former Chicago Bear back Billy Stone, is expected to do a lot of passing as it did last year. John Giangorgi will quarterback the Braves. The Braves won 7, lost 2 and tied 1 last season.

★ ★ ★

The Chippewas have not been defeated at home in their last 15 games.

Expected to team with Kipke in the starting Chip backfield are the former Pontiac High duo of Walter Beach and Phil Officer and Detroiter Al Bernardi. Beach was a starting halfback as a freshman last fall and excelled opposite Podoley. Officer was used sparingly in reserve.

Another former PHS standout likely to see considerable action in the backfield is rugged Ed Revis, the No. 2 fullback. Holly's Bob Kelly, a veteran guard, will miss the opener due to a practice injury. The rugged senior suffered torn knee ligaments when he turned an ankle while running recently.

Lion Season Ticket Sales Pass 38,000

DETROIT (AP) — A flurry of ticket sales that put more than $10,000 in Detroit Lion coffers yesterday has shoved the season ticket sales past the 38,000 mark.

★ ★ ★

To date the Lions have sold 38,161 season ticket books, eclipsing by a sizeable margin the 1956 mark of 36,586 that was good enough for a new National Football League record..

★ ★ ★

The campaign will close Sept. 28, said general manager W. N. Kerbawy. He said the Lions have 45,000 reserved seats available and will put 7,000 general admission seats and 3,000 standing room spots on sale for each game on an individual, first-come first-served basis.

Lavagetto Given Raise and New Pact by Senators

WASHINGTON (INS) — Cookie Lavagetto was signed yesterday to manage the Washington Senators for another year and reportedly received a $4,000 pay hike for next season.

★ ★ ★

The signing of Lavagetto, who replaced Chuck Dressen earlier this year, was announced by Washington club president Calvin Griffith.

Sandy Fights Szuzima Tonight in TV Bout

SYRACUSE, N. Y. (AP) — A dozen former champions will be in the crowd tonight watching Randy Sandy of New York City and Germany's Franz Szuzina tangle in a 10-round middleweight bout.

★ ★ ★

Free swinging Randy is a 7-5 favorite over the aggressive Teuton in the nationally televised bout.

★ ★ ★

The former champions are here for a pre-fight testimonial to welterweight titleholder Carmen Basilio, who battles Sugar Ray Robinson for the middleweight crown Sept. 23.

★ ★ ★

Szuzina, 27, of Bremen, has fought 16 bouts in this country since 1956. In his last, he kayoed Hollywood's Jimmy Palazzola and stopped his victory streak at 24. Overall, the German has a record of 40 victories, 18 defeats and 13 draws.

★ ★ ★

The 26-year-old Sandy has a record of 19-6-1.

Japanese Meet Canada in 1st Global Contest

DETROIT (AP) — Weather permitting, Japan and Canada will open the third annual Global World Series tonight at Briggs Stadium, home of the Detroit Tigers.

★ ★ ★

The U.S. Weather Bureau at Detroit forecast rain for most of the day. Game time is 8 P.M. (EST).

★ ★ ★

Three more first-round games are scheduled for Saturday in the double-elimination tournament. Venezuela will meet Holland at 1:30 P.M. The U.S. entry, the Sinton Oilers of Texas, will face Colombia at 6 P.M. Mexico will take on Hawaii at 8:30 P.M.

The United States, winner of the two previous Global World Series, is rated a co-favorite with Japan.

Proposes Mutual Ending of Travel Restrictions

MOSCOW (AP) — Britain has proposed that she and Russia drop restrictions on travel of each other's diplomats. But if the Soviet government doesn't relax travel bans on Britons, Britain warned she may tighten up on Russian diplomats.

★ ★ ★

Ambassador Sir Patrick Reilly handed the Soviet Foreign Ministry a note yesterday. It was similar to an offer of more liberal travel rules for diplomats made to Russia several months ago by the United States. No action has been taken on the U.S. proposal.

TREASURE TROVE? — These are cliffs of the Garden Peninsula framed in ruins of Fayette, an iron-smelting boom town of the 1880s where legend has it that buried treasure is hidden. The state is maneuvering to acquire the site for state park use. (See story on page 10.)

Strategy Is Long Speeches, Big Cities

Adenauer, Out for Votes, Makes No Whistle-Stops

ABOARD ADENAUER TRAIN, Germany (AP)—Chancellor Konrad Adenauer, campaigning for next Sunday's national elections, has been breaking many of the rules of American politicking.

His campaign train whips through hundreds of whistle-stop towns but it stops only at cities where major speeches are scheduled.

★ ★ ★

Adenauer makes the same speech over and over again. And he speaks at such length—the average is an hour and a half—that his audience invariably becomes restive.

"It's not fair to my audience to make short speeches," the Chancellor tells newsmen. "They come long distances to hear me speak and I don't want to disappoint them."

He speaks from notes penned in sprawling old German characters. He begins with an attack on communism.

★ ★ ★

"If I am defeated," he says, "it will be a victory for dialectical materialism and the beginning of the end for the Christian West."

Then he opens up on his political foes. He names them over and over again with finger-waggling irony. These men are fools and visionaries, he says—elect them at your own peril.

He also assails men in friendly nations. Socialist economic policy in Denmark, Norway and Sweden, he says, has brought sharper cost of living increases than his free enterprise economy.

★ ★ ★

Toward the end of his speech he turns to foreign policy which his main rivals, the Socialists, have made their biggest issue.

"We must try no experiments," he says. "We must maintain our alliance with NATO under the leadership of the United States or end up a Soviet satellite."

The question of reunification, which the Socialists call Germany's No. 1 issue, receives short shrift from Adenauer.

★ ★ ★

The Russians don't want a free, reunified Germany, he says. They want a Communist Germany and the only way to prevent this is to remain strong and allied with NATO.

★ ★ ★

Back on his train, the Chancellor relaxes over a glass of wine.

★ ★ ★

Occasionally, but not often, the Chancellor shows his 81 years. His eyes are not so good as they used to be. His audiences are asked not to smoke out of deference to him.

Tito, Gomulka Continue Chummy Talks Today

PULA, Yugoslavia (AP) — High-level Yugoslav-Polish talks continued today on President Tito's secluded Brioni Island near here.

Tito and Polish Communist party chief Wladyslaw Gomulka left Ljubljana yesterday and drove 125 miles to Pula, where they boarded Tito's yacht for Brioni.

The talks are designed to bring the two independently inclined Communist nations closer together.

Calm? He Cuts Himself With Electric Shaver

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—We rode out to the garden spot of the universe (next to Ohio), meaning Brooklyn—and found Jerry Lewis perfectly calm in his dressing room, except that he'd cut himself with an electric razor and was bleeding.

★ ★ ★

"Only a jerk like me can do that!" he said. We courteously agreed.

On stage he was cool and hilarious. He's come far since last winter in Miami Beach when he was so depressed he thought of quitting the business. He's worth going to Brooklyn to see unless you live in Alaska, and if you live in Alaska, well . . . Jerry'll be playing Alaska.

WILSON

He got Sophie Tucker, Isabel Bigley and others to sing "Harvest Moon" — but Hal March balked.

Hal grinned and said, "You wanted to do a single — so do a single!"

Spotting Eddie Fisher with his mgr. Milton Blackstone at a party for George Gobel, I asked Eddie of rumors he's buying out Blackstone. "A lotta poppycock!" he proclaimed. James Mason sat down at a night club, saw the $3 minimum, got up, had two drinks at the bar—and saved about a buck . . . The Phil Silvers dropped in on Polly Bergen and Freddie Fields to watch TV. "Phil doesn't have a set," Polly said. "The baby, expenses, and all."

Tensions Ease in Syria's Crisis

Premier Tells Reporters Situation Under Control After Cabinet Meets

DAMASCUS, Syria (AP)—Signs of easing tension appeared today after another emergency meeting of the Cabinet and the return of Syria's top military leaders from talks in Cairo.

Premier Sabri Assali told reporters there was nothing new in the situation and "nothing to be worried about" after the fourth urgent Cabinet session in as many days.

★ ★ ★

A government spokesman said Brig. Afif Bizry, leftist army commander, and Lt. Col. Abdel Hamid Serraj, army intelligence chief, had returned from their hurried visit to Cairo.

No details on their talks with President Nasser and other Egyptian leaders were disclosed here. But before leaving Cairo Bizry declared Syria will not use its Soviet-supplied arms to attack anyone, including Israel.

★ ★ ★

"What we will do is fight back against any attack," Bizry told the Egyptian Middle East News Agency. "We will burn the sky and the land to defend our country against Zionists or others."

Bizry accused U.S. Secretary of State Dulles of waging a war of nerves against Syria. He predicted that Arab countries now getting arms from the United States will never use them against other Arab states.

★ ★ ★

He also asserted the military aid Syria has received from the Soviet Union is for defense and said Russia has never asked Syria to sacrifice its independence.

Bizry said Syria will not attack Israel because "we have signed an armistice agreement and, unlike Zionists, we honor our signature."

Bizry said the Syrian and Egyptian armies are a single force under Egypt's supreme command.

In Cairo, he said, there was a "general review of the situation, as the two armies are one, with one command and one plan."

Blue Turn Indicators Legal on Car Fronts

LANSING (AP)— Blue or green turn signal indicator lights on the front of cars are not illegal, an atturney general's opinion held today.

The law does require, however, that the indicator lights on the rear of any vehicle must be of a red or amber color, the opinion said.

Atty. Gen. Thomas M. Kavanagh issued the opinion following a query from Cecil A. Byers, Macomb County prosecutor.

Byers said that local law enforcement counties have issued tickets to vehicles with the green or blue front lights and asked if they were in violation of the state statute.

Kavanagh said that the statute was clear in specifying that the rear lights should be red or amber but that there was no such specification for the lights on the front of a vehicle.

Plans Powerful Drive for Industrial Safety

DETROIT (AP) — Gov. Williams said today he is going to get hardboiled about industrial safety and make it a top priority issue in the next Legislature.

The Democratic chief executive assailed the Republican - controlled Legislature for ignoring his recommendations at the 1957 legislative session for updating the state's 1909 industrial safety law.

Williams' remarks were prepared for the State Carpenters' Council state convention.

Since the lawmakers went home in May, he said, 61 additional deaths have occurred from industrial mishaps, and nearly 5,000 more workers have been seriously

Is This Your Pot-O-Gold Solution?

The following are the correct answers and explanations for the Pot-O-Gold puzzle which appeared in last week's Pontiac Press.

★ ★ ★

A. (2) DEARLY. "Deeply" implies great intensity, perhaps a little too heavy in meaning for fondness in the family circle. Children, especially, would love their father DEARLY.

B. (3) GRACEFUL. A charming woman would acknowledge a gift in a note with well-chosen, gracious words, whether she was Grateful for the present or not. She might not like it at all!

C. (5) EMINENCE. A famous person as witness in a trial is more likely to draw a crowd of spectators than the Evidence he is able to give. Everyone likes to see a celebrity.

D. (7) DINNER. It's human nature to complain if you've selected the wrong Dinner, after studying the menu card. One has a right to expect a DINNER to be good. Selecting a Winner from a racing card is frankly a gamble, and complaints are not in order if it turns out badly.

E. (10) LIES. "Sometimes" taken in suggests LIES by which a girl was decieved. The suitor who Sighs about his true love may be perfectly sincere.

F. (12) MORAL. Model behavior by his parents sets a good pattern for a child to imitate; however, his training should go deeper than imitation, so that he has a true sense of the distinction between right and wrong, a MORAL sense.

G. (13) RUFFLED. Most women realize that a Rumpled dress never looks smart, but some women who wear RUFFLED ones clutter up the lines of the dress which give it style. (And some women are not the RUFFLY type.)

H. (16) LOCATION. It is not easy for a man to change his Vocation, or occupation; he may be unsuited to anything else. But a factory that is losing money might prosper in another LOCATION where property values, labor costs, etc., were cheaper.

I. (17) SYSTEM. It's a bad SYSTEM, when forty years of communism can't induce the peasants to grow enough food. The whole theory doesn't work out, and the food failure is one symptom, or indication, of an underlying condition.

J. (19) EXPANSIVE. If a girl's escort is in an amiable, chatty mood, it promises well for her evening. An expensive evening can be very dull; it's the spirit of gaiety which makes for a good time.

K. (22) FRIGHT. The Plight, or predicament, the lion tamer is in, when the lion turns on him, is expected in animal acts, and the guards and the tamer know just what to do. But his awful FRIGHT is that he may not be able to control he beast until he has been badly mauled.

L. (24) SAMPLER. A SAMPLER is meant for a beginner and is the easiest form of embroidery; it is usually a motto plus practice designs embroidered on material woven in loose squares which keep the stitches even. A simpler pattern might not, in itself, help the beginner to make even stitches.

M. (26) ATHLETIC. Despite the saying that opposites attract, this is truer in the matter of appearance, disposition (gay or quiet) etc., rather than in having interests in common. A champion tennis player would have much in common with an ATHLETIC type of girl; he'd probably find little to discuss with the aesthetic girl, who would enjoy concerts and museums.

N. (27) NEEDLESSLY. The Safety Council constantly reminds us how many thousands die unnecessarily on the highways. Heedlessly would apply better to the reckless drivers who kill them. All too often, it is the careful drivers who are killed and who are not at all HEEDLESS themselves.

O. (29) ACTION. Transferred to a distant city, a family may want quick ACTION to dispose of their furniture — it's too expensive to ship it. It might be sold at auction, or perhaps bought by a second hand dealer, or stored, but it's quick ACTION of some sort that is needed.

P. (32) CONFESSION. A CONFESSION by the suspect often helps to convict others involved in the crime, and this may induce a lighter sentence for himself, for being cooperative. The district attorney rarely feels free to make a concession — granting some favor or leniency. Only the judge can do that.

Q. (33) BEAUTIFUL. Dad is usually proud of a BEAUTIFUL daughter; a dutiful one he is likely to take for granted.

R. (35) IRRELEVANT. A college dean is often on friendly, easy terms with the students, a man to whom an irreverent remark may be a humorous effort to clear the air. If the student has been called up for misbehavior, however, he is certainly embarrassed and eager to get the interview over with. Why waste time with an IRRELEVANT remark — one that has no bearing on the issue?

S. (38) APPEALED. If a tenant is temporarily in difficulties, it is natural that he might call on his landlord with an APPEAL for time, and thus gain leniency. There would be no point if he appeared in person, unless for the purpose of APPEALING to him.

T. (39) MIDDAY. A county fair would swarm with activities in the middle of the day, when the largest crowds are apt to be present, eating lunch. So many of them would not be on the midway, or main thoroughfare of the fair grounds.

Mao's Long Vacation From China Government: Voluntary or Enforced?

By FRED SPARKS

HONG KONG (NEA) — If President Eisenhower went to a beach resort without taking reporters and stayed away nine weeks it's doubtful if the world capitals would suspect he had been kidnaped by Adlai Stevenson.

But Washington isn't Peiping and in Communists lands political feuds often settled by arresting the foe as a General Motors spy or making him ambasador to Mongolia. So it's not surprising that the nine-week absence of Dictator Mao Tse-tung, technically the oompah of mainland China, has raised eyebrows and started rumors.

Officially Dictator Mao is sunbathing on the sands at Tsingtao, a watering hole favored by upper-crust Asian Communists.

There they picnic under pepper trees, sipping endless cups of jasmine tea from fragile bone china while hordes of amahs in starched black silk slacks and white blouses and pigtails bribe the children quiet with slices of dried octopus.

Nine weeks is indeed a long blackout for Dictator Mao, who's found of making four-hour speeches (if the ushers catch you sleeping you might wake up in the next world).

THE ABSENT DICTATOR — Is Mao Tse-tung, here made faceless by a retoucher, about to be made faceless by a purge?

ACHES WITH CRISIS

It is particularly long right now when Communist China aches with a crisis that has the making of a Russian-style purge as leading government officials confess "right wing" sins like cotton pickers at a revival meeting.

In fact four cabinet ministers already have stated that somehow they got off the beam and were thinking capitalistic or not in the best interests of the people's republic, excuse it please.

This would be like Secretary of State John Foster Dulles saying "my foreign policy has been awfully silly and I've been acting just like a Democrat and I'm very sorry."

None of the confessed sinners has yet been given the old Chinese water torture or the new Chinese disgrace — public exhibition in a wooden cage while cheer leaders urge mobs to spit in chorus.

But wait. Communist confession often precedes the concentration camp. Dictator Mao is indirectly responsible for the confusion attending the confessions, and that's why his own future is now as speculative as shares on the Shanghai opium market.

Fifteen months ago, fearing a violent outburst such as erupted in Budapest, Mao implied the toughest phase of dictatorship was over. Suddenly mellow, he invited criticism. "Let 100 flowers bloom," he said. "Let all schools of thought contend."

TIDAL WAVE OF BEEFS

This sudden unmuzzling brought a tidal wave of beefs Students, farmers, industrial workers, fishermen . . . no Chinese seemed happy Cabinet members, themselves not card holders, said the Red bureaucrats had moved behind a great new wall as far from contact with the masses as Louis XIV

Communist job holders, fat and happy at the public trough, thought Mao had goofed. They were running "the perfect state," not a complaint department. The party newspapers said that such open hooting would "negate the party's dictatorship and weaken the Communist system."

Under such pressure Mao flip-flopped and laid down rules for criticisc interpreted in cynical Hong Kong as "you can tell me what's wrong as long as you say I'm wonderful." China was remuzzled.

★ ★ ★

Hard-hitting critics including cabinet ministers are still eating crow — which is better than prison rice and water.

Is Mao himself due to confess? Has his vacation turned into a leave of absence without pay? Or will he return to Peiping in time to glad-hand the American students now free-loading in Red China?

In any case, the unrest attending the confessions and Mao's own absence show that even in the absolute Chinese dictatorship someone is hoping to turn the rascals out.

East Germans Claim They Make 'Scotch Whisky'

GLASGOW (INS)—A Communist claim that "Scotch whisky" was being manufactured in East Germany has drawn contemptuous sniffs from Scotland's distillers.

A report from East Germany said the "Scotch" was being manufactured in Leipzig from "the original recipe." But this alleged Communist competition is causing no panic in Glasgow.

"I have no doubt," said a spokesman for Scottish distillers, "that some sort of whisky can be produced anywhere. But there can be no comparison. You might as well compare a bus and a streetcar—they are two different things."

As for the claim that the Red "Scotch" was being manufactured from "the original recipe," this simply drew a pained smile. Any true son of Scotland knows there is no such thing as a single "original recipe"—every distiller has his own, ancient, carefully guarded formula.

The spokesman also pointed out, for what it is worth, that labeling the Leipzig whisky "Scotch" would be illegal. This is not expected to bother the makers of Ye Olde Peoples Scotch.

A powerful new transmitter now enables the Gold Coast Broadcasting Service to be heard clearly in all parts of the country, Accra reports.

Craig Rice's Children Get Most of Royalties

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP) — Craig Rice, the late mystery novelist, has left her estate of book royalty earnings mostly to her three children. Value of the estate was not estimated.

★ ★ ★

The will, filed yesterday, leaves 10 per cent of the earnings to a religious group, the Fathers of Saint Edmund in Selma, Ala. Twenty per cent was designated to pay off an $11,237.49 loan which was made to Miss Rice in 1948 by Lawrence Lipton, an ex-husband.

The remainder of the royalties was left to her children, Mrs. Nancy Atwill, Santa Monica; Mrs. Iris Adams, Los Angeles, and David Ferguson, Los Angeles.

Miss Rice died Aug. 28.

Great Future Awaiting Promising Diane Varsi

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS

HOLLYWOOD (INS) — Remember the name Diane Varsi — you'll be hearing a great deal about her. She's 18, blonde, and very photogenic. She plays the role of Allison, Lana Turner's daughter in "Peyton Place," but it hasn't ended there by any means. Buddy Adler has now given her the femme starring role in "Hell Bent Kid" opposite Don Murray.

Diane comes from San Francisco, and her professional career was limited to one stage appearance in "Gigi" in Los Angeles, before she struck gold at 20th Century-Fox.

"Hell Bent Kid," by Charles O. Locke, will be produced by Robert Buchner and directed by Henry Hathaway, and is set for Sept. 23 production.

★ ★ ★

If the George Raft life story seems right for Dean Martin, he'll play the Raft role. George tells me he would like to have Dean for the part.

"What about the dancing?" I asked George, who started his professional life as a hoofer.

"Dean is a good ballroom dancer, and can do the Charleston, and that's what I do, and he certainly dances well enough," said George.

He was a little depressed when I tiked to him because he was suffering from asthma, but I'm sure there's nothing wrong with him that a good movie won't cure.

Eats Much Sauer Kraut

FORRESTON, Ill. (AP) — Farmer Richard Boyle ate 4½ pounds of sauerkraut in four minutes yesterday to successfully defend his title as sauerkraut eating champion of the annual Kraut festival. Boyle, 27, got a trophy as a prize plus his weight in sauerkraut—175 pounds.

Asks Adults to View Objected-To Magazines

PROVIDENCE, R.I. (AP) — The Rhode Island Commission to Encourage Morality in Youth has issued an invitation to adults to view the nine magazines it wants removed from the newsstands.

★ ★ ★

The purpose, it said, is to "convince our citizens of . . . the necessity of removing such material from the reach of our young people."

The commission laid down two rules for potential inspectors:

1. Must be over 18 years old.
2. Must "demonstrate a series interest in the matter."

Chinese in Hong Kong Can Take Many Wives

By MARVIN L. STONE
INS Far Eastern Director

HONG KONG (INS) — Taking half a dozen wives is perfectly all right for a Chinese husband in Hong Kong if he can afford it.

★ ★ ★

Polygamy has now been outlawed in China proper, but in Hong Kong, 99 per cent Chinese, British rulers have made it a point not to interfere with local customs if they do offend law and order.

IMPERIAL LAW

So the status of 1,500,000 women in the colony is still governed by the old Chinese imperial law of 1843, the year before Hong Kong was ceded to Britain by the Ching Dynasty.

A Chinese wife here must suffer concubinage in her home if her husband so wills it. And from all indications a good many Chinese husbands are extremely willful.

The Communists in Peiping as well as the Nationalist government in Taipei have declared concubinage illegal. This embarrasses the British in Hong Kong, caught in an ironical situation, but colonial officials are keeping a stiff upper lip.

NO FORCE

"It's not as if we forced Chinese women into this," a young official emphasized. "The girls, after all, have a choice of marrying Western style or in the Chinese tradition. If she marries Western, she will have every protection a British lady has."

The catch is that no more than 20 per cent of Chinese women can talk their spouses into a Western or Christian marriage.

As a result, marrying in the old Chinese custom, she has no legal right to stop her husband from taking as many concubines as he can afford.

NO DIVORCES

Nor can she apply to the courts for divorce nor win any part of his estate if he dies without making a will.

Within the past year a "movement" to limit each Chinese to one wife was started by organized women's groups. It made very little headway and since has sputtered out.

The fact seems to be that some Chinese wives encourage their husbands to take further wives, if there is enough money in the house. This enables wife No. 1 to assume the title of first lady and all other wives must cater to her.

This happens frequently when the first lady is childless, for children born to wives Nos. 2 and 3 and 4 become the first lady's children and she assumes the position of their actual mother.

A Chinese husband suffers one principal restriction. After marrying wife No. 1 in a public ceremony, he must take all additional wives into the house without fanfare. All that need be done is for him to bring the next girl home to have her recognized by the first lady.

This usually is accomplished at a ceremony in the home at which the new wife presents tea to the first lady. When wife No. 1 sips the tea the arrangement becomes permanent.

★ ★ ★

In sophisticated Manchu custom, bitter leaves are customarily used to make the tea.

Canada Swears In Foreign Secretary

TORONTO (AP) — Dr. Sidney E. Smith, a veteran educator, will be sworn in today as Canada's foreign secretary.

The 60-year-old Smith resigned as president of the University of Toronto yesterday shortly after Prime Minister John Diefenbaker announced the appointment in Ottawa. Smith is flying to Ottawa to take the oath.

★ ★ ★

Diefenbaker first offered Smith the post in a phone call from Ottawa Labor Day.

"It came as a complete surprise," Smith told reporters.

Smith said he hopes to carry the concepts of education into the field of foreign relations.

★ ★ ★

"It may well be," he said, "that the education of people—not only Canadians—may be the solution to some of our world problems."

★ ★ ★

Smith succeeds Lester B. Pearson, a Liberal, as foreign secretary. The Conservatives ousted the Liberals from power in last June's parliamentary elections. Diefenbaker has been holding the foreign secretary portfolio.

25 Prison Inmates End Hunger Strike

WALLA WALLA, Wash. (AP) — Twenty-five prisoners at the state penitentiary have given up a hunger strike they started Tuesday night with 10 other not so stubborn inmates.

★ ★ ★

They signaled the end of the strike an hour after the regular evening meal yesterday, asking for and getting food.

★ ★ ★

Only a group of prisoners in the maximum security wing, where the tougher men are kept, were affected. They started the revolt in protest over a rule requiring that they strip and be checked each time they entered and left the recreation area.

The rule is still in force, Warden Bob Rhay announced.

Eye Historical Spots as Tourist Attractions

LANSING (AP) — "What History Can Do For The Tourist" will be the theme of the 83rd annual meeting of the State Historical Society Sept. 27-28 at Bay City, the State Historical Commission announced.

Representatives of the Michigan Tourist Council and the State Conservation Department will speak on the subject of how historic landmarks can be developed as tourist attractions.

Ira Butterfield, Bay County prosecuting attorney and president of the Michigan Archeological Society, will deliver the main address, on archeology and Michigan history.

The meeting will coincide with the centennial of the establishment of Bay County.

An eight-year dredging project will improve the Port Kemble harbor at Sydney, Australia.

Grains Repeat Yesterday's End

CHICAGO (AP) — Grain futures were mostly steady on the board of trade today with prices at about yesterday's closing levels.

Wheat showed little movement in either direction in a slow trade. Flour business continued light, as did export sales which have been very disappointing to the trade.

There was some selling of the bread grain by longs who have become discouraged by continued favorable crop weather and increased sales by farmers in the Southwest.

Corn was steady on investment buying which reflected the sharp discount at which the feed grain is selling under the government loan rate.

★ ★ ★

Soybeans also held around steady in a light mixed trade. September beans were firm in early dealings, influenced by a forecast for cooler weather and showers which could delay maturity of the crop.

3 Stock Groups Show Advance

NEW YORK (AP)—Coppers, chemicals and some oils advanced as the stock market continued generally higher in moderately active early trading today.

Pivotal issues rose from fractions to around two points.

The opening was fairly brisk as most key stocks showed small gains. There was a sprinkling of losers.

★ ★ ★

Kennecott Copper and International Paper were up around two points each. Gains of well over a point were made by Gulf Oil and Amerada. Du Pont and Air Reduction added around a point each.

Steels and motors were narrowly mixed while rails showed a slightly higher tendency. Aircrafts leaned to the upside.

American Smelting, International Nickel, Ford, Youngstown Sheet, United Aircraft, Zenith, Sinclair, Southern Pacific, Chesapeake & Ohio, American Tobacco and Westinghouse Electric were among the gainers.

★ ★ ★

A bit lower were U. S. Steel, General Motors, Chrysler and American Can.

Opening blocks included: Anaconda up ½ at 52⅜ on 2,500 shares; Bethlehem Steel up ⅛ at 45 on 1,000; and Boeing up ⅛ at 40 on 1,000.

Stocks Drop Near Low Point

Businessmen Wonder When Trading Is Going to Pick Up

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP) — On this the first Friday the 13th of the year many in the financial and business world might like to stay in bed to avoid running any risk in the currently uncertain times.

Most stock market traders and investors seem to have been practicing up for days. This week in mostly sluggish trading stocks have been dipping near the low point of the year before bobbing up again.

★ ★ ★

The puzzle of high incomes but declining new orders has some businessmen wondering when the predicted post Labor Day pickup is going to appear. Some economists are still predicting further inflation. Others are beginning to talk tentatively of a pending slowdown—a brief one.

Some companies with new plants in the South are nervous today about the reports of tension and even violence there.

Metals men feel particularly unlucky today with copper, lead and zinc prices having gone from high to low. Steelmen may be a bit worried that the expected pickup in orders isn't as hearty as hoped.

Aircraft makers fear another defense order cancellation or stretch-out. The airlines say they're out of luck unless the government lets them raise fares.

Railroads say times are unlucky for them because freight rates haven't risen as much as costs and because carrying passengers seem to them more like charity than a business.

★ ★ ★

The auto maker is hoping the public will take to the new models.

Oilmen wonder what kept demand from rising as much as predicted. Home builders are watching the higher mortgage interest rates.

★ ★ ★

The construction industry and the makers of machinery and equipment are being told by the government that the big boom in capital spending by business which has kept their industries so prosperous is showing signs of leveling off and even of dropping off in the months ahead.

In many lines today they're wondering if factory employment will recover from its recent dip.

★ ★ ★

But cheer up. Even get up and look around. Things are really pretty good and the uncertainties are more confusing them frightening.

New Position Given to Lake Orion Man

Named head of a new program of the White Sewing Machine Co., of Cleveland, Ohio, is Arthur D. Curran, 553 E. Flint St., Lake Orion.

CURRAN

Curran will head the home cleaner division, with 200 stores and 2,000 dealer-distributor outlets. The expansion is part of a product diversification program of the White firm.

He was prevoiusly advertising and sales promotion manager for White.

Expect Less Cars, Trucks Produced

DETROIT (INS) — Automotive News estimated car and truck production will be lowered to 89,851 units this week due to changeover shutdowns at all Chrysler divisions and below-normal output at Buick, Oldsmobile and Pontiac.

The trade paper said this is an 853-unit drop from last week's output of 90,704 cars, but is 40.8 per cent higher than the same week a year ago.

★ ★ ★

Light buildouts were predicted to hold Dodge and Chevrolet trucks to 16,641 units this week as compared to 17,373 units turned out last week. The industry produced 20,030 trucks during the same week in 1956.

River Runners Emerge Unscathed From Gorge

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M. (AP)—Jim Lindsey and Lou Bettis came out of the upper Rio Grande gorge alive last night after a death-defying vacation trip down its churning rapids.

"It took up five days for a trip we planned to do in three because of about 10 miles of almost constant waterfall," Lindsey said.

★ ★ ★

"We had plenty of trouble. That's about all we did have. We ran into rocks. The boats got away from us. When they got away, the lines attached to them would get caught in the rocks and we were able to get them back downstream."

Lindsey and Bettis are believed to be the first ever to negotiate the 45 miles of rapids from the Colorado line to a point near Taos, N.M.

For a time earlier in the week it was feared they had perished. Searchers could not spot them from the air for more than a day but they later made contact with fishermen and hikers who had gone into the wilds of the gorge and climbed out to report.

★ ★ ★

Lindsey is 32 and Bettis is 29. They are electronic engineers for Goodyear Aircraft Corp. at Phoenix. They got interested in river running after watching a television program. Since then they've braved the rapids on four rivers in Utah and Arizona.

Their "boats" were single planks lashed to inner tubes from truck and automobile tires.

Lindsey estimated the water was no more than 10 degrees above freezing. They were on the river from 7:30 a.m. to about 5:30 p.m. each day, with about 15 minutes out for lunch — and most of that time they were floundering in the water. They carried sleeping gear and food in waterproof bags on the rafts.

"It was rough," Lindsey said. "I'm tired."

Hart Assails GOP for Shirking Claims

ONTONAGON (AP)—There is an increasing contrast between what Republicans are saying and what its members in public office are actually doing, Lt. Gov. Philip A. Hart told a Democratic luncheon meeting here today.

★ ★ ★

"On many issues, Republican pronouncements are pretty remote from Republican performances," Hart said in a talk prepared for delivery today.

"Most distressing of all," Hart said, "is the matter of small business tax relief."

Hart said President Eisenhower promised last fall to give small businessmen about 600 million dollars in tax relief. But he said Senate Republican votes killed the tax relief measure.

★ ★ ★

"Economic development," Hart said, "is a second issue on which the Republican record doesn't live up to the Republican claim.

"Republican voices proclaim great interest in attracting new business to Michigan, but their votes in the 1957 session of the Legislature cut out the "Promote Michigan" national advertising program of the Economic Development Department exactly in half."

Invest in Supermarkets

INDIANAPOLIS — The nation's supermarket industry invests more than 1½ billion dollars a year in new stores.

Quits Muscle Flexing to Study for Ministry

HONOLULU (AP)—Richard Franklin Du Boise, Mr. U.S.A. of 1957, said last night he has quit the muscle flexing business to study for the ministry.

The 24-year-old New Yorker said he thinks the publicity gained from his build — 30-inch waist and 52-inch chest—will help him win converts and attract audience to revival meetings.

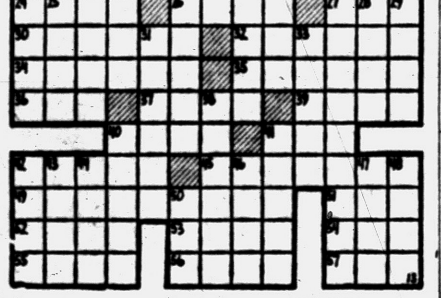

He said he plans to become a minister in the International Christian Church, organized here in 1943.

Answer to Previous Puzzle

Murrow Show Returns Tonight

Joan Caulfield's Series Starts Week Earlier Than Expected

By JACK O'BRIAN

NEW YORK (INS) — Martin Agronsky's Mike Wallace-type NBC-TV interview series starts Sunday with a guest more sizeable than any Wallace has lured so far: Secretary of State John Foster Dulles. . .

It also will be "non-political," which tempers the impact considerably. . . Could be very interesting, a verbal bout between Agronsky, a noisily committed liberal, and the fellow commedienne Carol Bennett made a fool, and a career, over. . .

Senate Rackets Committee counsel Bob Kennedy and Julie London are Edward R. Murrow's visitors tonight. The attractive young Kennedys will show their five children, Julie London her two holdovers from her Jack Webb marriage. . .

Joan Caulfield's personally owned (with hubby Frank Ross) NBC series, "Sally," starts Sunday, a week earlier than expected, opposite Jack Benny. . .

Kukla, Fran and Ollie aren't fading off TV. . . They were signed for two Perry Como shows, Sept. 28 and Oct. 5. . .

BOOKLESS WORLD

The fourth "Playhouse 90" drama of the season (Oct. 3) is about "a monolithic society of the future in which it is forbidden to possess or read books under penalty of death" . . .

In the split loyalties of viewers to TV shows (ARB reports), Groucho's brilliant lunacy is the favorite of both guys and gals. . . GE Theater is the nation's favorite dramatic show, says ARB.

Perry Como's first show of the season Saturday, will star Ginger Rogers, George Sanders and comedian Lou Carter. . .

Carter very quietly has been building up a lot of fans via his Julius La Rosa show summer training. . .

Abbe Lane and Xavier Cugat wiggle and bounce back to Steve Allen's wiggle-bouncer Oct. 6 and Nov. 10. . .

MINIATURE JAYNE

Little Evelyn Rudie (Eloise) is getting to be a sawed-off Jayne Mansfield.

"Hotel Cosmopolitan," CBS-TV's new soap opera, is about par for the TV detergent course. Donald Woods is starred as an actor named Donald Woods, who lives in the hotel of the title. Around him are arranged the characters who will be dunked in the suds from that day forward.

Revlon may be mad, but NBC announced Hal March's new panel show, "What's It For," definitely will start Oct. 12. That's a Saturday night. . .

Talent fugits: Eddie Fisher has not had a hit record in eons but Debbie has ("Tammie"). . .

Randy Wood, the record tycoon who virtually invented Pat Boone and rock 'n' roll stars galore, now goes on official record with the frankly stated conviction: "The fad's about over." . . . And high time. . .

Adenauer Shows Rivals Hard-Hitting Campaign

By JOHN H. MARTIN
INS Foreign Director

Chancellor Konrad Adenauer, the "Old Fox" of German politics, still amazes his younger rivals in the final days of the campaign before Sunday's parliamentary elections.

At 81, the seamy-faced warrior for weeks has chalked up an exhaustive round of speeches from his American-style campaign train while still conducting official government business.

His main rival, Erich Ollenhauer, 56-year-old Socialist Party leader, also has been campaigning hard, but public opinion polls indicate Adenauer's group will triumph. Even the Socialists concede this, but hope to prevent the Christian Democrats from obtaining a clear majority.

★ ★ ★

Ollenhauer has been campaigning under disadvantages, not the least of which is Adenauer's biting sarcasm. Adenauer pictures Ollenhauer as a Little Red Riding Hood likely to be swallowed by Saviet Party Boss Nikita Khrushchev if the Socialists win.

It's a reference to the socialist desire to pull Germany out of NATO and make her neutral if the Russians grant German reunification.

★ ★ ★

But even Khrushchev destroyed that socialist stand when he toured East Germany recently. He effectively ruled out in his speeches any early hope of German unity except on Red terms. Those terms include insistence that negotiations be carried out directly between West Germany and the Soviet Puppet East Berlin regime. The Socialists oppose that as do the Christian Democrats. So Khrushchev dealt a crushing blow to Ollenhauer's "new approach" to the unity question.

★ ★ ★

Both campaigners stress ties with the West, especially friendship with the United States, but to foreign and German observers the campaign seems to lack decisive issues. And Adenauer of course has the advantage of being the leader during Germany's sensational years of economic revival from the ruins of the worst war in history.

Bonn Gives Out Figures on Both German Armies

By JOHN H. MARTIN
INS Foreign Director

It has been nearly two years since West Germany's first generals were commissioned, but the new army, known as the Bundeswehr, today is a weak but potentially strong organization.

★ ★ ★

Soviet propagandists, of course, have pounded away at the alleged threat in Germany, reviving all too fresh memories fo the Nazi machine fashioned under Adolf Hitler.

But the Bonn government in a recent bulletin asked "Who threatens the peace?" and without more comment listed West Germany's forces out of a population of 50 million as 121,000 whereas the Soviet puppet regime in East Germany has a force of 303,000 men out of only 17,800,000 population.

The German term of compulsory military service is one year, the shortest for any army in Europe. This draft issue was highly unpopular at first, but it has not been much of an issue in the current election campaign since defense minister Franz-Josef Strauss shelved the 500,000-man army plan.

★ ★ ★

The Social Democratic opponents of Chancellor Konrad Adenauer's Christian Democratic Party have pledged to repeal conscription and limit Germany's defense to a small professional army if they get into office.

TRAIN IN UNITED STATES

German airmen are being trained in the U.S. and Canada. Three infantry divisions have been formed and by 1958 there should be two armored divisions, several combat teams and some special mountain troops.

Public apathy toward the army has changed considerably since last fall, and for that the Soviets have themselves to blame. Russia's military intervention in Hungary shocked many Germans into realizing that adequate security called for more than just a token force.

Wanted: One War Hero; See Beaumont C. of C.

BEAUMONT, Tex. (AP) — This Gulf Coast city of more than 100,000 has a problem: no heroes.

★ ★ ★

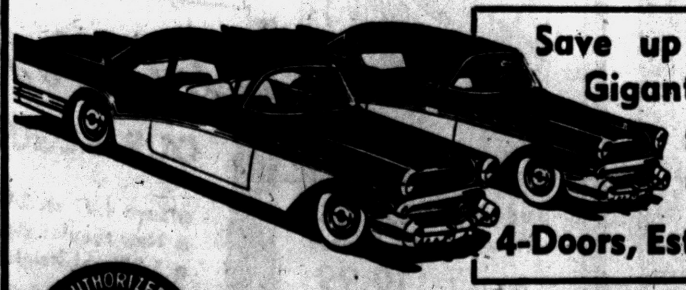

The Beaumont Chamber of commerce needs a hero of World War I or II or the Korean conflict. It wants to name the local U.S. Army Reserve armory for him.

★ ★ ★

Stories were published in the local papers. Letters were sent to civic and service clubs.

But still no hero.

Urges Moderation Toward Syria

NEW YORK (AP)—King Saud of Saudi Arabia today was reported to have sent a message to President Eisenhower urging moderation in U.S. policy toward Syria.

★ ★ ★

The New York Times and the New York Herald-Tribune reported in Washington dispatches that a message from Saud warned against any U.S. action that might push Syria further toward the Soviet orbit.

Quoting diplomatic sources, the reports said Saud told the President that U.S. concern over developments in Syria was exaggerated.

★ ★ ★

They also said the message from Saud was believed to be a factor in the more temperate line on Syrian developments taken by Secretary of State Dulles in his news conference comments this week.

Dulles said Tuesday he believed the Syrian crisis would be resolved without war.

Eggs Disappear First —Then Chickens Vanish

DETROIT (AP)—Mrs. Floyd McDeavitt says she isn't sure which came first—the chicken or the egg—but she's darned sure which WENT first.

"It was the eggs," moaned Mrs. McDeavitt as she told police that while she and her husband were away from home somebody stole all the eggs from the hen house.

"Then it was the chickens," she said. "A day later they took 12 New Hampshire hens."

Junior Editors Quiz on BIRDS

QUESTION: How do young birds know where to migrate?

ANSWER: A lot of smart professors are as deeply puzzled about that one as you may be. Some young birds fly south this time of year along with their parents. But others leave their nests and fly south ahead of the old birds. Still others are left behind by the migrating adults, and follow later.

Of course you can explain everything to a certain extent by saying it's "instinct." But just what is instinct and how does it work? If it tells a robin to leave Shreveport, La., in the spring and make its way to its last year's nesting place in a certain apple tree near Kankakee, Ill., how does the robin find its way? And why does it want to go there in the first place? After hundreds of years of investigation, scientists would still like to know for sure.

★ ★ ★

FOR YOU TO DO: Make a list of the kinds of birds that nested in your community this year, and of the kinds that you see during the migration period this fall. Get a teacher or someone else who knows about birds to help.

Old Bomb Explodes

MIYAZAKI, Japan (AP) — A U.S. aerial bomb dropped here in World War II and buried for 12 years, has exploded, police say. The explosion wrecked a railroad track, but caused no injury. Police are hunting for other bombs which could possibly still be buried here.

Improvement Depends on Raise

Michigan Bell Asks Hike in Rates to Attract Capital

LANSING (AP) — Michigan Bell Telephone Co. is asking upward revision of a $2,835,000 a year rate increase granted Aug. 6 by the State Public Service Commission.

In its application Wednesday for a rehearing, William M. Day, utility president, said 60 million dollars in planned improvements might have to be deferred unless an upward rate adjustment is forthcoming.

★ ★ ★

The company had applied last fall for a rate boost of $12,500,000. It said the amount granted was based on data on company finances that now is obsolete.

Michigan Bell also asked yesterday for commission approval of a 40 million dollar issue of debentures to retire demand notes already incurred on past and current construction projects.

The proposed debentures, with maturities up to 40 years, would be offered at public bidding Nov. 18 under the utility's plan.

Day said he is concerned lest the return on investment allowed by the present rate level should prove insufficient to attract necessary new capital.

He said that funds for new construction must come not from ratepayers but from investors who have confidence enough to put up their money.

"Such confidence cannot continue indefinitely if the return on investment remains so much below that of other industries with which we compete for capital," he said.

★ ★ ★

Day said he hoped commission consideration would result in a conviction that higher rates are justified to prevent a dangerous depression in utility earnings as new high cost facilities are added under the company's heavy construction program.

PROJECTS INVOLVED

Involved in the improvement program that might have to be deferred, he said, were 185 construction projects totaling about 18 million dollars in the Detroit area and 42 millions outstate.

"The program will provide jobs to thousands in almost every section of the state," Day said. "High-level employment also will be reflected in our day-to-day operations. Michigan Bell is the fourth largest employer in the state."

★ ★ ★

Among projects cited in the 60 million improvement phase of the company's construction program are conversions to dial service at Escanaba, Iron Mountain, Iron River, Newberry, St. Ignace, Big Rapids, Charlotte, Grand Haven, Bad Axe, Manistee, Cheboygan, Croswell and Northville.

★ ★ ★

Day said these projects were in addition to 140 million dollars in new construction during the next two and one fourth years planned before the Aug. 6 order to meet growth and to serve existing customers.

The proposed new debenture issue, Day said, will not finance new projects but merely refinance existing obligations.
