Germany Announces Rearmament Plan OK'd

Proposal Puts Double Curbs on Bonn Power

Spaak's Compromise Gives Europe Alliance, NATO Joint Control

LONDON (AP)—A German spokesman announced today the nine-power conference on freeing and rearming Germany has approved a compromise plan for establishing and controlling a European arms pool.

The plan, put forward by Belgian Foreign Minister Paul-Henri Spaak, would divide responsibility for safeguards on runaway German rearmament between a new seven-nation European alliance and the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

Previously, France had insisted on the seven-nation authority exercising controls while West Germany—with British and American backing—held out for NATO supervision.

The German spokesman told newsmen the Spaak compromise met with the approval of Chancellor Konrad Adenauer and Premier Pierre Mendes-France and was also acceptable to the other delegations.

He described the Spaak memorandum put before the conference today as "excellent."

The German announcement came shortly before the nine foreign ministers reassembled for their afternoon session.

An air of elation and optimism surrounded Lancaster House, where the momentous conference is being held, over chances of an agreement to put German divisions in the line against Communist aggression.

Hopes soared as a result of the pledge by British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden yesterday that British troops and air forces will be kept on the European mainland indefinitely if the conference succeeds.

A good welcome was also given U.S. Secretary of State Dulles' promise that he would urge President Eisenhower to renew the U.S. pledge to maintain troops in Europe if a rearmed Germany was brought into the Atlantic alliance.

The other eight foreign ministers apparently think chances of agreement are so good that they are practically ignoring Dulles' warning that failure might result in withdrawal of the American forces from Europe.

The ministers met for two hours this morning.

Dulles, Eden, Adenauer and Mendes-France arranged to get together late today to talk over the issue of granting West Germany complete sovereignty.

And Frenchmen who heard Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden's dramatic offer to keep British troops on the continent confessed today they cried a bit.

There was an acute consciousness in the conference room, according to some who attended, that history was being made.

For generations now, Frenchmen have been looking to Britain to abandon what they considered British isolationism and make common cause with France against the threat of totalitarianism from all sources.

TASTING AND TESTING—Chocolate pudding was one of the items tested yesterday at the Oakland County TB sanatorium by representatives of five county institutions. From results of the taste tests brands of food to be purchased by the county during the coming year will be decided upon. Above, comparing opinions, are Davy Marson, Contagious Hospital; Mrs. Mable Spence, Children's Home; Miss Edith Bandeen, TB Sanatorium; Mrs. Tony Martinez, Sheriff's Department and Mrs. Hazel Batzloff, Infirmary.

Taste Appeal Sweepstakes Held by County Dieticians

"Pass the bicarbonate please, dear."

This was probably a routine request in at least 15 Oakland County homes last night as a result of the county's second annual "tasting bee" at the TB Sanatorium yesterday.

Dieticians from five county institutions and representatives of the county purchasing department tested 150 varieties of food to determine which would best serve the county's needs and still have the most taste appeal.

The 15 "gourmets" present at yesterday's tests represented the jail, infirmary, TB sanatorium, children's home and contagious hospital.

"By having each of them participate in the taste test we cut down on complaints and the system saves the county money," said L. H. Gertz, county purchasing director.

Testers tasted ten different brands of fifteen foods from numbered cans without labels. Then they marked their first and second choices on a ballot.

Brands that came out on top in this secret ballot system would be the ones purchased during the coming year.

Items tested ranged from apricots and asparagus to spinach and strawberry gelatin.

Testers moved about tables in the dining room at the sanitorium with spoons and paper cups, dipping into cans and wrinkling their brows in concentration.

Many speculative remarks were made as to what the testers would have for supper at their homes that evening. One suggested a doctor—for indigestion.

Coffee was available for relief and for refreshing taste buds.

Last item to be tested was pudding. Testers not only tasted

Registration Hours for Voters Revealed

City Clerk Ada R. Evans reminded Pontiac voters today that her office will be open until 8 p.m. today and tomorrow to accept registrations.

The city hall office will be open until noon Saturday and from 8 a.m. to 8 p.m. Monday, the last day on which registration for the Nov. 4 election may be made.

Man Who Fleeced Police Out of $15 Gets 20 Days

For embarrassment he caused Pontiac Police, Detroiter James Glover, 31, will spend the next 20 days in jail.

Police testified they gave Glover $15 last Aug. 19 to make a purchase from a suspected narcotics peddler but that both Glover and the $15 vanished.

Arrested in Detroit this week, Glover pleaded guilty to larceny by conversion and was sentenced to pay a $50 fine or spend 20 days in jail by Municipal Judge Cecil McCallum yesterday. Glover didn't have the $50.

Tiger Manager Resigns Post

Club Refuses 2-Year Contract; Successor Not Yet Named

DETROIT (AP)—Fred Hutchinson resigned today as manager of the Detroit Tigers of the American League.

Hutchinson's resignation, which came amid rumors he might become coach of the Baltimore Orioles, came after the Tigers' board of directors voted to turn down his demand for a two-year contract.

He was offered a one-year contract.

Notified of the board's decision, Hutchinson said he was turning down the offer "for personal reasons." Tiger president Walter O. (Spike) Briggs said, "we are in the process of investigating Hutchinson's successor and hope to have something by tomorrow.

Briggs could offer no reason for Hutchinson's resignation.

Pontiac Starts Full Production in Coming Week

Calls Last of 18,000 Back Monday as New Models Roll

Pontiac Motor Division's full complement of over 18,000 employes will be back on the job Monday, Oct. 4 as the division resumes full production after model change and inventory, Robert M. Critchfield, general manager, announced today.

Approximately 1,800 employes, the last of those affected by the changeover operation which began Sept. 3 have been asked to report for work on Monday.

The majority of these employes are in the Pontiac assembly plant.

Square D Union Ratifies Pact

4-Cent-an-Hour Hike Included in Settlement of 108-Day Walkout

DETROIT (AP) — Striking Independent United Electrical Workers ratified today an agreement reached between UE leaders and the Square D Co. to end a 108-day strike at the firm's Detroit plant.

The settlement included a four-cent hourly wage increase.

End of the violence-marked strike restores labor peace to Detroit for the first time in three and a half months.

Agreement came suddenly yesterday, a day after three strike leaders were jailed for 30 days and fined $250 each for contempt of a court order against mass picketing.

Management wanted arbitration of each case before reinstatement of any. The company fired them for "acts of violence." The union demanded their jobs back ahead of arbitration.

The union, calling out its 1,200 members, went on strike June 15. Wages and a company demand for an iron-clad no-strike clause were at issue.

The last of the strike probably has not been heard. Rep. Clardy (R-Mich) said it is going to be investigated by the House Un-American Activities Committee

Both Clardy and Rep. Kersten (R-Wis) called the strike an instrument of Communists. The UE denied this.

More Damp Weather Predicted for Pontiac

Pontiac residents can expect more wet weather, the U. S. Weather Bureau says.

After a total of .52 of an inch of rain yesterday, the forecast is still cloudy tonight and occasional rain Friday. The low tonight will be 60-64 degrees with a high tomorrow of 66-70.

Yesterday's temperatures ranged from 59 to 73. Today at 8 o'clock the thermometer reading was 65, rising slightly by 2 p.m. to 70.

Willie Mays: 'I Just Catch 'Em'

Leo to Dusty: 'Grab a Bat;' Wham! 'Game's Over Now'

Editor's Note: Jim (Dusty) Rhodes came off the bench in the 10th inning yesterday to deliver a pinch-three run homer that gave the Giants a 5-2 victory over the Indians in the first game of the 1954 World Series. In the following dispatch, he tells how he did it.

By JIM (DUSTY) RHODES

NEW YORK (UP)—The skipper told me to "grab a bat" in the 10th inning but I guess I reached out and grabbed the brass ring instead.

Happy! I don't know the right words to describe the feeling I got when I saw that white ball hit that grey overhang in right field for a homer. It was the best hit I ever collected in my life.

Even before the 10th inning came along, we all sat there in the dugout and kept waiting and waiting.

Then after Willie Mays and Hank Thompson got on, the skipper, Leo Durocher, called out: "Rhodes grab a bat." I didn't stand around waiting to be told a second time.

Bob Lemon's first pitch to me was a high curve ball. I liked the looks of it real fine. So I went after it. The next thing I knew she was sailing out toward the promised land.

I looked at it and looked at it. I said to myself, "the ball game's all over now."

(By UNITED PRESS)

Blase World Series veterans bubbled like cub reporters as they compared Willie Mays' fantastic catch Wednesday with the greatest catches in series history, but amazin' Willie grinned and said, "I don't compare 'em—I just catch 'em."

There's no doubt that Willie's latest piece of outfield robbery saved the opening game for the Giants, for there were two men on base in the eighth inning for Cleveland when red-hot Vic Wertz clouted his drive straight over Willie's head in center field.

It seemed impossible for Willie to catch, but he turned and ran

3 Bandits Get $5,000 in Holdup

White Lake Township Farmer and Neighbor Robbed in Home

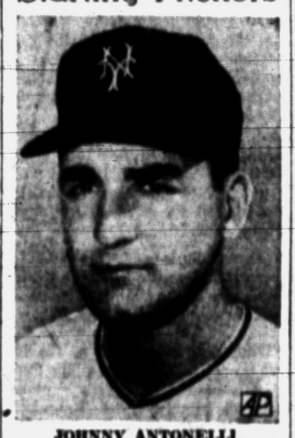

A White Lake Township man was robbed yesterday at his home of $5,000 by three men who threatened to "burn his feet" if he failed to tell them where he kept his money.

According to Oakland County Sheriff's Deputies Ted Gunn and Shelton Stites, the robbery victim, Ray Shotwell, 65, of 1424 Porter Rd., an elderly farmer, was talking with A. O. Brisbois of 2254 Porter Rd., a neighbor who came to pay a feed bill, when the three bandits walked in on them.

Both men were bound with clothesline, and the bandits, each armed with a revolver and described as between 25 and 40, took two wallets from Shotwell containing his savings, and another $15 in change from Brisbois.

Deputies said the three bandits "had to be someone in the know." Gunn said one of the three talked about some bulldozing that he had to have done, and two of the men were called "Steve" and "George." They fled south in a 1945 or 1950 red convertible with black top, police said.

18 Are Indicted in FHA Deals

Federal Grand Jury Names Detroiters After Home Loan Probe

DETROIT (AP)—Eighteen men and women were indicted today by a federal grand jury which has been probing irregularities in connection with Federal Housing Authority (FHA) home loans in Michigan.

Several of those named were witnesses before a U. S. Senate subcommittee which heard testimony last week about big windfall profits made by persons who obtained FHA-insured credit.

All those indicted were from the Detroit area and none of them was accused of making windfall profits before Capehart's Committee. Several, however, conceded they got loans for improvements they never made and on which they signed completion certificates. Some claimed they were tricked into signing completion slips.

Those indicted:

Mrs. Cedar Point Thompson and her husband, Alfred; John D. Redmond and his former wife, Mildred; Reuben and Lydia Davidson, Lawyer Brown Sr. and his wife, Julia; Alfred R. Lalone, Paul A. Stradtner, Mrs. Helen Parker Bennett, Sidney Warnick, Wallace F. Helies and his wife, Doris M.; Jack Chisik, and William R. Shepheard, all of Detroit, and Dominic K. Gertinisan, of Dearborn.

Smith's Homer Gives Indians 1-0 Early Lead

Tribe Outfielder Hits Antonelli's First Pitch Out of Park

NEW YORK (AP) — Al Smith hit Johnny Antonelli's first pitch over the left field roof for a home run today to give the Cleveland Indians a 1-0 lead over the New York Giants in the first inning of the second World Series game at the Polo Grounds.

The sun broke through this afternoon as the Giants and Indians took the field.

An intermittent morning drizzle caused a two-hour delay in opening the gates and forced both teams to cut short their preliminary workouts.

It was hot and murky and a haze hung over the outfield regions. Sand was sprinkled around the bases and home plate for better footing after showers through the night and early morning.

A light breeze blew across the field from right to left, just the opposite of yesterday. The Indians said Dusty Rhodes' winning homer down the right field line was helped by the wind.

Manager Leo Durocher stuck with the lineup that won yesterday's 10-inning thriller, once again saving Dusty Rhodes for pinch hitting duty. Monte Irvin again was in left with the same batting order.

Manager Al Lopez made one change in the Indians, sending Wally Westlake, a righthanded batter, to right instead of switch-hitting Dave Philley who went hitless in the opener. Otherwise the Indians had the same batting order.

Lopez said Larry Doby's shoulder had stiffened after yesterday's game but he counted on him for full time duty. Al Smith, his left fielder, also was bothered a bit by a taped-up ankle. With Al Rosen hobbled by a pulled thigh muscle, the tribe was in no position to do any fancy base running.

First Inning

Smith hit Antonelli's first pitch over the left field roof, clear out of the ball park, for a home run. Avila rolled out, Dark to Lockman. Doby looked at a third strike. Rosen and Wertz walked, Westlake singled into center field but Mays held Rosen at third with a bullet throw to Westrum at the plate. Strickland popped to Lockman.

Wynn charged off the mound for Lockman's high chopper in front of the plate and nipped him at first. Dark lined to Doby in right center. Avila tossed out Mueller.

No runs, no hits, no errors, none left.

Second Inning

Indians—Hegan rapped Antonelli's first pitch for a double over third base. Wynn sacrificed, Thompson to Lockman. Smith struck out. Avila fouled to Thompson.

No runs, no hits, no errors, none left.

It's Doggone Lonesome so Mugs Hugs Phone

WELLAND, Ont. (AP)—A telephone operator heard painful moans over a line yesterday and feared the worst. She called police.

Constable William Calder found someone was in trouble all right—a 6-month-old boxer puppy named Mugs. His owners had locked him in a shop six miles north of here.

Lonesome, Mugs had knocked the phone off the hook, laid down beside it and whimpered.

Reply to Charges Made at FHA Probe

Most Residents Like Hoeft Road Homes

A majority of residents in a 24-home subdivision east of Walled Lake yesterday voiced few complaints against construction of their prefabricated houses, but a minority of three listed what they termed Hobby's residence had borne out the complaints.

A Pontiac Press survey revealed that most residents felt their Hoeft-road neighbor, John Hobby, did not speak for the group when he appeared last Friday in Detroit before the Senate Banking Committee investigating Federal Housing Administration operations in Michigan.

A spokesman for the firm which built the subdivision, Colwell Homes Inc. of Birmingham, also asserted that most of the residents were "very satisfied."

Hobby told the Senators that his home at 2148 Hoeft had gaps in the walls and a defective septic tank when he moved in.

Senator Capehart (R-Ind), chairman of the committee, criticized Wendell Edwards, FHA director for Eastern Michigan, for failure to act on Hobby's complaint.

Then he called for a more effective complaint system when Edwards said he hadn't heard of Hobby's assertions.

Hobby said the smell of sewage on Hoeft caused the people to call it "Tobacco Road."

Capehart said an investigation of Hobby's residence had born out the complaints.

Yesterday Hobby pointed out spots where daylight could be seen looking from the inside of his home out.

He said the septic tank emitted a strong odor which often prevented his five children from playing in the yard.

The house painter said, "I've been in construction work ten years and by the looks of this roof it won't last the winter."

He stated that he had complained about some defects in June, but had gotten no action from the construction company until this month.

Mrs. Joseph Chabot of 1956 Hoeft repeated some of Hobby's complaints saying "they ought to dig up one of those septic tanks and find out what's wrong."

A neighbor across the street, Mrs. Joseph Willis has written Senator Capehart stating that she is perfectly satisfied with the construction and functioning of her home.

Nine other housewives interviewed said their only complaint was septic tank odors which seemed to be disappearing and which the Colwell firm and county health department are investigating.

Another lady, however, said she and her husband were driven from their back yard many times by the odor and "we wonder if it isn't harmful to health."

Nearly all agreed with one woman who said, "Our street certainly doesn't resemble any 'Tobacco Road' and we are confident the septic tank condition will be corrected."

Speaking for the construction company, Harold Colwell said, "the residents bought the homes for $5,900 and $6,700 with the understanding that they were buying unfinished homes."

Hobby signed an agreement, Colwell stated, which affirmed that Hobby had inspected the home and accepted it "as is."

People buy the prefabricated homes, Colwell declared, with intention of adding improvements themselves, such as cement driveways, landscaping, bathroom tile and outside paint.

"If we add many extras they bring cost of the house up and also the down payment." Then the houses are no longer low cost and many families can't afford them, said Colwell.

He said the Hoeft road type homes were "approved by about every builders conference in the country" and had seals of approval from two leading magazines.

Two research laboratories are working to determine what causes the septic tank odor, Colwell stated. "The FHA and the county sanitation department inspected the tanks before they were covered," he added.

Colwell said complaints from residents had been checked and corrected where possible and those who had not painted their homes yet had been offered enough stain to carry through winter.

Fire Chief Griffith Backs Proposed Advisory Board

From Our Birmingham Bureau

BIRMINGHAM—Fire Chief Vernon W. Griffith today voiced his approval of a recommendation by a committee which investigated the June 14 Couper home fire, calling for the establishment of an independent board to assist with problems in providing "adequate manpower and equipment for the two new fire stations."

In a formal statement, Griffith agreed with the investigators that the board, to act in an advisory capacity, should be formed. The committee, in its report, vindicated the fire department of any negligence in the blaze at 1189 Brookwood Ct., which cost the lives of three members of the Thomas Couper family.

Griffith further recommended that the portion of the City Charter (chapter III, section 16) outlining the powers of the chief of the fire department, be rewritten and voted on at the next election.

Griffith suggested further defining of the responsibilities of the department and termed the portion of the charter which provides for the razing or destruction of buildings to stop a fire, "outmoded."

Any charter change should also provide for appointment of a committee to "assist and advise the city manager and (city) commission, relative to fire and water production needs within the city," Griffith felt.

Besides commending the investigators — James Spencer, Charles Kass and Jonathan Ball —for their "fair, conscientious and considerate" treatment, Griffith thanked the hundreds of people who voiced their confidence in the policies of the department during the investigation.

Stating that the fire department was never beyond criticism, he said, "Department policy has always been that we welcome both constructive and destructive criticism, when it is supported by facts.

He warned, however, "The ending of this investigation should not place the citizens of Birmingham under a false sense of security, to the end that no more lives will be lost in the city because of fire."

". . . Birmingham is now a nearly fully populated city and must expect incidents such as this, and similar to those occurring in large cities, with less frequency."

Griffith asked that credit for the saving of one life in the fire be given to the citizens reporting the fire and telling the first-arriving firemen of seeing Mrs. Couper's father, Lawrence W. Cross, 62, alive in the house. Had this not been known, Griffith said his men would have attacked the fire under "strictly fire-fighting conditions.

"The firestop would have been spectacular, but there would have been a fourth victim instead of three," Mrs. Couper and her sons, Larry and Danny, died in the blaze.

Finally, Griffith asked that any personal clashes brought on by the investigation be forgotten. ". . . for I am sure we all agree that it was another tragic incident in the history of this city, and sympathies should be extended to the father and husband of the late family."

Launching their phase of the Birmingham - Bloomfield - Franklin Torch Drive several weeks ahead of the official opening of the campaign with a dinner at the Community House last night, business leaders heard Claude Harman, business chairman, explain the chapter plan of contribution.

"The chapter plan, which is available to any organization, makes a convenient, budget method of contribution possible," he said. "In this way, employes and others are able to give to a great number of worthy health and welfare agencies with a single pledge, and spread its payment over the whole year."

Extra help is needed from business this year, he said, "to meet our share of the community's record-breaking goal of $186,338."

Mrs. Ruby Van Rensselaer

Funeral arrangements are pending at the William R. Hamilton Co., Detroit, for Mrs. Ruby C. I. Van Rensselaer, a former Birmingham resident and prominent Detroit business woman, who died yesterday at her home, 8100 E. Jefferson, Detroit.

Mrs. Van Rensselaer had been a stylist and milliner for many Detroit women, and was known among designers in New York, London and Paris.

She is survived by several neices and nephews, among them Fred H. Aldrich of Birmingham, Mrs. A. L. Bogue of Farmington and Frank C. Aldrich of Dearborn.

Thieves Nab $536 in Night Breakin

BIRMINGHAM — Thieves were busy last night breaking into an auto agency and a service station, and attempting to break into a second service station.

Police said $536 was taken from the Bob Frost, Inc. automobile agency at 850 S. Woodward Ave., and about $5 from candy and cigarette machines at the Neighborhood Service Station, 1575 Southfield Rd.

Entry into the agency was gained through a locked window, which had a faulty catch. A file cabinet-safe had been broken, and a cash register smashed.

Police believe the same persons unsuccessfully pried two door locks at the Bond Service Station, at Woodward Ave. and George St.

2 Dogs Kill Sheep, Draw Fire of Police

BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP — A flock of sheep belonging to Mrs. Laura Turner, owner of Devon Gables Restaurant, was attacked by two dogs last night, at Mrs. Turner's Devon Farms, Lone Pine and Telegraph Roads.

The dogs killed one and injured three of the flock. Police were forced to shoot another sheep which was badly hurt.

Police fired at the dogs, described as a black and white hound, and a redbone, but could not hit or catch them.

Heart Attack Fatal to Detroit Resident

A Detroit air conditioning contractor collapsed and died while working on a ventilating fan motor on the roof of Wesch Cleaners, 1456 S. Woodward, Birmingham, this morning.

Dead on arrival at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital was James Barton of 13644 Wyoming, Detroit.

According to reports, Barton was on the cleaning plant roof with D. J. Sullivan, plant manager, when he collapsed.

His wife said he had suffered from a heart condition for nine years.

Plea of Guilty Brings $50 Fine, Jail Term

BIRMINGHAM — Appearing before Justice John J. Gafill yesterday, Steve Gray, 40, of 464 Ditmar St., Pontiac, pleaded guilty to a charge of driving under the influence of liquor.

He was fined $50 plus $10 costs and sentenced to 30 days in Oakland County Jail. The jail term will be increased to 60 days if the fine is not paid.

Registration Hours Announced by Clerk

Pontiac Deaths

Gail Mae Anderson

Gail Mae Anderson, 19 months, of 102 Tasmania St. died in St. Joseph Mercy Hospital yesterday after a brief illness.

Gail, born here Jan. 4, 1953, was the baby daughter of Harry and Margaret Anderson.

Besides her parents, she is survived by a brother, Robert and a sister Peggy, both at home.

Service will be held Friday at 2 p. m. from the Pursley Funeral Home with the Rev. Paul Havens of the First Methodist Church officiating. Burial will follow in Oak Hill Cemetery.

Willard B. Connell

Service for Willard B. Connell, 88, of 411 Voorheis Rd., Pontiac, will be Friday at 2 p.m. from C. F. Sherman Funeral Home, Ortonville with burial in Oxford Cemetery. He died Tuesday.

Surviving are a son, Oscar, of Fairport, N. Y., and a granddaughter, Mrs. Harriet Garcia of Pontiac, and two great-grandchildren.

Lewis B. Fugitt

Lewis B. Fugitt, 73, of 281 W. Wilson Ave. died at his residence last night after an illness of three years.

Born in Cattletsburg, Ky., Dec. 19, 1880, he was the son of Greene and Louisa Brown Fugitt. He was married to Mellie Cain on March 23, 1905 in Belleyalley, Ohio.

Coming to Pontiac from Harrisburg, Ill. 29 years ago, he was a member of the Christian Temple and before retirement was employed as a carpenter at General Motors Truck and Coach Division.

Besides his widow, he is survived by four sons, Guy B. of East Detroit, Raymond L. of Grand Rapids, Oral G. and Wayne B. of Pontiac, nine grandchildren and two great-grandchildren. Also surviving are a brother, Henry, of Peoria, Ill.; two sisters, Mrs. Ola McIlrath and Mrs. Scott Render of Harrisburg, Ill.

The funeral will be held Saturday at 1:30 p.m. from the Voorhees-Sipie Chapel. The Rev. L. L. Marion and the Rev. Lola P. Marion, will officiate with burial in Perry Mount Park Cemetery.

Delia Mayotte

Delia Mayotte, 83, of 37 Mechanic St. died yesterday after an illness of two months.

She was born in Lake Linden July 13, 1871 and lived most of her life in Marquette.

Mrs. Mayotte is survived by three sisters, Mrs. Andrew Hofer, Mrs. Ann Kornbacher and Mrs. Celina Fernette of Detroit; one brother, Ray J. Longpre of Pontiac, five grandchildren and 14 great-grandchildren.

Rosary will be recited Friday at 8 p.m. from the Spaulding & Son Funeral Home, 500 W. Nine Mile Rd., Ferndale. The funeral will be held Saturday at 11 a.m. from the Gesu Church in Detroit with burial in Holy Sepulchre Cemetery.

Mrs. Minnie Williamson

Word has been received of the death of Mrs. Minnie D. Williamson, 90, a former Pontiac resident. She died at the home of her son Samuel S. Williamson in Lynhurst, N. J. For 18 years she lived here with her daughter, Betty Carter of 7½ Chase St. and was a member of the Congregational Church and Eastern Star.

Besides her son and daughter, she is survived by five grandchildren and 11 great-grandchildren.

She will be buried in Paris, Ill. Monday.

tidbits, they also examined eye-appeal.

As the big tray of pudding bowls was set down a tester asked, "What does it mean when the pudding starts sweating on top?"

"It means," said the lady in the white dress as she set the tray down, "that it should have been covered with waxed paper."

Representing each of the institutions were Gertz, James Talley, Jean Thorsberg and Victor Coleman, purchasing department; Howard Estes, Mrs. Hazel Batzloff and Mrs. Leonard Cahow, infirmary; John Morrison and Davy Marson, contagious hospital; Mrs. Tony Martinez, sheriff's department; Mrs. Mable Spence, children's home; and George Williams, Mrs. Gerald Bouck and Edith Bandeen, TB sanitorium.

Detroiter Fined $15

BIRMINGHAM — Charged with entering a building without permission, Robert J. Freckelton, 27, of Detroit, pleaded guilty and was fined $15 yesterday when he appeared before Justice John J. Gafill.

Clawson Man Is Injured in Two-Car Collision

James A. Mills, 29, of 120 Rudguth, Clawson, was treated at Pontiac General Hospital for face and arm cuts and bruises, suffered in a head-on collision yesterday at M39 and Ormond road in White Lake Township.

Mills' car collided with an eastbound auto driven by George J. Gould, 37, of Buffalo, N. Y. According to Michigan State Police of the Pontiac Post, Mills attempted to pass a truck which was turning right onto Ormond road in front of him, and drove into the path of Gould's auto. Gould was treated for hand cuts.

Emil Mazey to Speak at CIO Dinner Here

Emil Mazey, secretary-treasurer of the UAW-CIO, will be principal speaker at the fourth annual banquet honoring pensioned UAW-CIO members at 5 p.m. today in Waterford Township's CAI Building.

Mrs. G. Mennen Williams will also appear on the program.

Israeli Is Reported Killed

JERUSALEM, Israel (AP)—Israeli officials said today that an Israeli settler was killed and a second wounded by automatic fire while they were inspecting their fields at Bar Giroa, near the Jordan armistice lines, yesterday.

An army spokesman charged also that automatic fire was directed at an Israeli patrol from Egyptian positions across the Gaza strip. There were no casualties.

The mosquito that bites always is a female.

Three Business Places Reported Broken Into

Three business places just south of Lake Orion on Lapeer road were broken into last night by thieves who smashed windows for entry, according to Oakland County sheriff's deputies.

Only one place yielded any money, Granade Service, and that amounted to small change police said. Two other establishments near by, Buckhorn Service Station and Bo Inn Tavern were entered but nothing was reported as missing by owners.

3-Day Wait for Jury Call Useless for Venireman

SAN JOSE, Calif. (UP)—Andreas Gonzales waited for three days among 51 veniremen before being called for a jury panel in a $250,000 civil action.

He was promptly excused when he then told the court he was the father of the defendant.

Aikichi Kuboyama's Death

U. S. Ambassador John M. Allison spoke for all Americans when he expressed in Tokyo official regret over the death of Aikichi Kuboyama.

This 40 year old Japanese radio operator on the fishing boat Lucky Dragon has gone down in history as the first victim of a hydrogen bomb explosion. According to Japanese physicians, he died as the result of radioactive coral dust falling on the boat after the H-bomb test at Eniwetok March 1.

At the time the Lucky Dragon was 80 miles from the explosion and well outside the prescribed danger area. Scientists obviously had underestimated the distance atomic debris could carry. Precautions since have been taken against a repetition of this unfortunate accident.

As anyone remembering the birth of the atomic age easily can understand, the Lucky Dragon case has had a tremendous emotional effect on the Japanese people. For weeks they had been keeping a death watch over Kuboyama.

Unfortunately for us, elements in Japan anxious to damage U. S.-Japanese relations, have done all they could to capitalize on the situation. The truth is, however, that our Government went out of its way to offer reparations and the finest medical treatment for Kuboyama.

The Japanese, however, refused to let our doctors see him. This has raised the question in some quarters as to whether jaundice, resulting from blood transfusions, or tuberculosis may have been the cause of death.

It is to be hoped that the wiser leaders of Japan will realize the need of action to prevent national emotions getting out of hand over this unforeseeable tragedy.

Mississippi's Threat

Mississippi is one of those Southern States in which opposition to desegregation in the public schools is particularly strong.

That was evident in the action of the State legislature which has approved a constitutional amendment to abolish public schools rather than submit to the Supreme Court order of last May.

Under this amendment, which is to be submitted to a referendum December 21, elimination of the public schools could be brought about by a two-thirds vote of the legislature. Also provided is a local option system under which individual school districts and counties could abolish their schools and transfer State school property to private parties.

Educators are alarmed by developments in Mississippi where the ratio of Negro to white children is larger than in any other State. Great concern also is felt over reports that the issue is causing revival of an economic type of Ku Klux Klanism in the South.

Notwithstanding all this, there is good reason to think that the overall situation is much better than generally believed. School authorities in several other areas, notably Washington, D. C., already have inaugurated desegregation without apparent difficulty.

Even in Mississippi there is a strong undercurrent of opposition to the drastic amendment. Moreover, if it should win voter approval, the actual shift of school properties could create so many legal and economic problems that the idea might have to be abandoned.

Our hope is that before the referendum there will be so much progress that extremism in Mississipi as well as in other States will have begun to subside.

Water Wings for Boats

Latest marine news concerns U. S. and Canadian naval experiments with hydrofoil boats.

The idea of hydrofoils isn't new. The Wright Brothers toyed with it in 1905 and Alexander Graham Bell in 1919. According to Life magazine, current experiments show hydrofoil boats to be especially adaptable for use as assault craft or rescue boats.

Hydrofoils are finlike structures attached to the hull by struts. They create lift, thus enabling boats to travel on top of instead of in the water. This overcomes the drag caused by the water's resistance to the boat's hull.

Enthusiastic designers predict that someday hydrofoils will be used on ocean liners and aircraft carriers. Already they have made small craft far faster than conventional speedboats.

Our Navy's interest in this new development is shown by hydrofoil contracts with five boat builders and four universities. As for designers, they are claiming that hydrofoils are the greatest marine advance since steam took over from sail.

The Man About Town

About Toll Roads

Official Feels That Parallel Highways Will Be Kept Up

Ends: What it would be easier to make meet if they were stationary.

In my last conversation with State Highway Commissioner

Charles M. Ziegler

he stated that we need have no fear that our present main parallel highways will not be kept in their present condition if any toll roads are built. He feels that the toll roads will absorb a major portion of the through traffic and thus relieve the congestion on the present roads and make them safer. Incidentally, a man who now drives about 50 miles per day to and from his work in Pontiac tells me that the same distance on a projected toll road which he could use for most of the distance would amount to a total toll in excess of $300 per year.

When the end of a long pole on a public utility truck was rammed by a car on Orchard Lake Ave. there was mute evidence that it had carried the required warning. Its red flag was hanging on the shattered windshield.

"This is a great sendoff," said

Telton Rodney Rogg,

leader of the Pontiac City September group inducted into the army Wednesday, in acknowledging the many gifts which the young men received from local organizations. The same sentiments were expressed by leader of the out-county group inducted at the same time.

Thomas G. Hawley,

The attention of Oakland County law enforcement officers is called to the fact that at least two of the candidates for office in the November election have their signs nailed to trees within the highway limits, contrary to law. One lady phones, "I never will vote for a candidate who desecrates our trees."

Next week has been officially dedicated as

National Letter Writing Week,

and several people have suggested that letters be written to men in the armed services. You thus may save some homesick youth that lonely feeling when the mail comes and he is the only one who doesn't get a letter.

A Pontiac young man found that financial difficulties would make it impossible for him to resume his college work. But when a local business man heard of his predicament, he cheerfully advanced the funds. "The world needs more such men," says the young man's mother.

'Doubting Thomas' Says City's Clergy Should Back Move for Cultural Center

(Letters will be condensed when necessary because of lack of space. Full name, address and telephone number of the writer must accompany letters but these will not be published if the writer so requests, unless the letter is critical in its nature.)

Realtor suggests cultural site here. It is a crime when men who should devote their time to the needs of the people miss the boat. Mr. Harold Blackwood should be highly recommended for his constructive dreams.

As a leader of a cultural minority, I know what he means when we, of Pontiac, are told that we lack a cultural uplifting. There lacks in our city the thing that makes a city great, Civic Pride.

Men of the Cloth (priests, ministers) teachers in our school system should do their utmost to instill in the growing generation that Pontiac is not only an industrial city but a city with culture.

We need improvements drastically in our city. We need them now. Mr. Blackwood needs followers who will go forth and preach this word. Let us hear the Clergy of this city shout aloud as they do on issues of liquor and bingo. Let us hear you now!

A Doubting Thomas

Druggist Protects You in Requiring Prescription

Being employed at a local drugstore, I have found how very unreasonable people can be under certain circumstances. The biggest problem is in the pharmacy department where often customers become enraged because they were refused certain drugs without a prescription.

They accuse the druggist of being unwilling to serve the public even if the item they request must be accompanied by a doctor's order in compliance with state regulations.

It is the aim of every good druggist to serve the public in its first interest. His years of training have taught him that utmost precaution must be taken at all times even if it means a loss of sale.

All drugs that can become habit forming cause unfavorable reactions in some cases, and cannot be obtained from any druggist without a proper prescription.

These laws are state regulations and were made to protect rather than restrict. By asking your druggist to sell prescription items without a prescription he is forced to refuse if he is to uphold the standard oath of a registered pharmacist.

Whatever your druggist does, it's done to safeguard your own interests as well as those of your family so don't overlook his problem and responsibility the next time you're refused an item.

Faults of Husband Will Be Forgiven If He Remembers to Love With Words

Vilma is a joy to marriage counsellors. In this age of increasing juvenile delinquency and broken homes, it is helpful to spotlight examples of happy marriage. Vilma married an older man, with three little girls. His first wife had died. She is now reporting after 10 years.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case M-328: Vilma D., aged 34, married an older widower with three small daughters. Her story should be an antidote for much of the delinquency and broken homes today. Read it and re-read it.

"Dr. Crane, several years ago I married the best man in the world. He was 15 years older than I, and had been married before, but his first wife died, leaving him with three sweet little girls.

"Today—after 10 years of the happiest years of my life—I am telling you my story so it may be of help to others who contemplate marrying older men or widowers with children.

"Our three girls are beautiful. I love them and they love me. Our lives together have been happy.

"Certainly, however, if one of them needed a spanking, I gave it.

"Their father always upheld me in whatever I tried to do, so we didn't have divided parental authority to upset them.

"I've always tried to do as my husband would want me to handle affairs, and I listen to his opinions. Why not, for he is older and more experienced, isn't he?

"Our oldest daughter is now in college and I hope to see the other two receive the same type of education.

"Sure — their Dad sometimes speaks of their mother. Why shouldn't he? It was she who first molded his life into the man I love today.

"Dr. Crane, I don't believe I would have had it different if I could. The girls call me 'Mamma' on their own initiative, and the older one always seeks my advice about her dates, letter writing, etc.

"I don't try to be ruler over them, but a companion and confidante.

"My husband is as good as gold to me. He has never left the house in these 10 years without kissing me goodbye and also kissing me when he returns.

"You know, kisses and little acts of thoughtfulness will make a woman go without a new dress or fur coat. (I have both.)

"He and the girls are very fond of my cooking. Oh, we have had our little arguments. They come and go.

"But we love and live and forgive and forget.

"But after all has been said, I must mention the most important ingredient of our marital happines. God lives in our home!

"I never could have done so well without God's help. He gives me courage and strength through it all.

"I pray often and have faith that God makes us what we are, when we help him to help ourselves.

"My father's last words before he died were these: 'Put your trust in God.'

"My husband is happy and frequently tells me he is. He says the best work he ever did was when he proposed to me. Then he laughingly adds that my biggest mistake was when I married him.

"But, Dr. Crane, that was also my best day. Please tell other people that marriage can be the most beautiful life, if you live it properly."

Many husbands fail because they don't articulate their love. They don't say it. Women want words! Especially sweet, complimentary words.

Praise their pie or hats, their new dress or clean curtains. Train yourself to symbolize your love in verbal form. They'll forgive your faults, if you do.

David Lawrence Says:

McCarthy to Be an Issue and Silent Vote Will Tell

WASHINGTON — Vice President Nixon, Chairman Hall of the Republican National Committee and a few other Republican leaders are saying that McCarthy isn't an issue in the congressional campaign and that thus far they have heard little mention of the controversy.

Some of the most powerful and influential issues, however, are never agitated in the press or mentioned very much on the stump. But every politician knows the day after election whether there has been a silent vote and which way it went.

A good example is in the Maine election this year. All the comments made publicly by both sides afterward were to the effect that McCarthy wasn't an issue—that his name was hardly mentioned.

But what, indeed, did happen in Maine? Letters from there say the Catholic vote, which in large part had left the Democratic Party on the anti-Communist issue in 1952, voted in resentment this year against the Republican members of Congress. The Democratic Party leadership in Maine also was smart enough to sense this situation and named a Catholic to run for governor—the first time that this had happened.

Religious factionalism in politics is to be deplored but politicians who know the facts of life realize it does exist.

Now, the Catholic vote is by no means solid at any time. A minority of Catholics today are bitter in their denunciation of the Wisconsin senator and his methods. But the Catholic church is the biggest single bulwark in this country against communism in the sense that probably more sermons against atheistic communism have been preached in the last 10 years in Catholic parishes than anywhere else. Such ideological convictions run deep.

Much of the Catholic vote today is resentful of the attacks on Senator McCarthy. Some of the resentment is due to sermons preached in certain Protestant churches criticizing the Catholic church for McCarthy's activities.

Little will be said about it in the campaign. No Catholic prelate will probably say a word about it either. But if past experience with this vote in Massachusetts, Rhode Island, New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania and other states is a guide, it will be found this year on the stay-at-home or on the protest side.

Why, it will be asked, would anyone who is sore about the persecution of McCarthy go back to the Democratic Party, which certainly has in it many members of Congress who have fought and will fight him hard because he called the Democratic Party a "party of treason"?

The answer is that, when they are resentful, voters hold the party in power accountable in elections, hoping that the party that comes in will have learned its lesson and will change its ways. If it doesn't as the reasoning goes, there will be plenty of time to vote that party out next time. Emotion rather than logic often sways millions of voters, irrespective of party.

The Democrats have shrewdly managed in the last 18 months to get a lot of news space in their efforts to discredit the Republican Party. The genius in the Eisenhower entourage who thought up the Cohn-Schine report, for instance, as a means of embarrassing McCarthy, will find after election that millions who saw the television performance became disgusted with the Republican Party itself.

Then, when the Mundt hearings were over and even before any report could be rendered by that committee, Senator Flanders and other Republicans promptly started the censure drive. This was as advantageous a piece of publicity for the Democrats as they could have hoped for.

Senator Knowland, the Republican leader, did what he could on the floor of the Senate to try to table the motion and avert the catastrophe. But the Republicans of the so-called liberal school insisted on a censure motion at once or the naming of a committee of investigation which was to report before the elections.

Senator Watkins of Utah, another Republican, was stampeded, and he obliged the Democratic strategists by railroading the hearings through to a quick conclusion. He got the report out in time to let all the disaffected Republicans read it during the campaign.

They will be reading and hearing rebuttals from now on—beginning with the television appearance by Senator McCarthy next Sunday afternoon on "Meet the Press."

So it is possible that the Watkins Committee report may have sounded the death knell of Republican control of Congress.

For defections on this issue, plus defections due to unemployment in the cities and discontent on the offset by bringing out the Republican non-voters of 1952—which is the only chance the Republicans have of gaining a victory. President Eisenhower's present advisers may have to learn politics the hard way.

Baering Down

By ARTHUR "BUGS" BAER
(International News Service)

We've always had a suspicion that Maine's summer boarders hung over to vote in the primaries.

That also goes for the trailer vote in Florida, California and New Mexico. The odd things are almost even.

In most of the doubtful states it was closer than hammer toes. We figure Ike must of been thinking about that when he declared Maine a major disaster district. He was almost right politically.

Ike has become a slick politician who knows which side his toast is burned on. When he went to Washington he was greener than Pullman curtains.

He is still a sportsman who spots you five yards. But it will be uphill.

You notice that nobody attacks Ike personally. Even Franklin Roosevelt accuses a vague place called Washington when he says somebody has been stealing the barbs off Western cattle fences.

Back in 1948 they claimed Ike wasn't sure whether he was a Republican or a Democrat. They're not sure in Maine either.

If Vermont goes as Maine goes then Vermont goes.

Hurricane Edna tore across Maine in September. So did cyclone Margaret the next week. Gals will be gales.

This is one of those things where both sides claim victory on the nearest wall chart. If straws show which way the wind blows the hay is not in the barn.

Even Brady Doesn't Know Just What Iodin Ration Has to Do With Big Veins

By WILLIAM BRADY, M.D.

A reader says she is 47 but looks eighty because of the prominent veins on her hands. Her physician gave her a thorough examination and assured her she is perfectly normal, and indeed she enjoys good health, but she is so conscious of her hands. What will shrink the veins?

Far be it from this notorious quack to imply anything. You know me, folks. I don't mumble about what is "believed" or "said" or "accepted" when I have an idea to convey.

I say I believe it is so or in my opinion it is so or if necessary I stick my neck away out, say on the hydrophobia—phobia question, and challenge competent contradiction.

For that matter, as I have learned from long experience, anything I may say about it is far less convincing than what readers, A, B and C may tell readers D, G, N, Q and X. For instance readers A, B and C, not this shameless charlatan, are responsible for the hope or, in many instances, the conviction, that the Iodin Ration retards the graying of hair and, as the writers of scores of testimonials assert, it restores more or less of the original color to hair that has turned gray.

Please remember, this is what readers tell me. I'd like to believe it, but I haven't seen convincing evidence and I'm still inclined to think that it is an illusion, as I explain in the pamphlet The Iodin Ration, available on written, signed request if you provide stamped, self-addressed envelope.

A clipping of this item is not a request. Every man, woman and child in the country needs a suitable daily ration of iodin and in most areas fails to get it in food or water.

What all this has to do with prominent or distended veins on the back of the hand, or neck or arms is not quite clear even to me, but nevertheless I urge every mature adult with this complaint to be sure to get enough iodin to fulfill the daily nutritional requirement.

Along with the free Iodin Ration pamphlet, you might like a 10c one titled "Young Folks and Old Folks." If so enclose with the stamped, self-addressed envelope a dime not stuck on anything and I'll send you one. Nobody thanks me for running a coin laundering and dry cleaning establishment, so let's be pleasant about it.

More about prominent veins in a piece to follow.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 150 words long, pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not to disease, diagnosis or treatment, will be answered by Dr. Brady if a stamped, self addressed envelope is enclosed, etc.

Death Cloaks Identity of Farmer's Assailant

PHOENIXVILLE, Pa. (AP) — A farmer has died of burns in Phoenixville hospital without identifying the man he said drenched him with gasoline.

Semon Bojeck, a Ukrainian who came to the United States in 1949, had told authorities he would name his assailant only when certain he would die.

But even though told yesterday that the end was near, he kept his lips sealed.

Bojeck, with some help from interpreters, told state police he was alone in his home last Saturday when a man entered and threw a container of gasoline at him.

The gasoline was set afire by a cigarette Bojeck was smoking.

DETROIT (INS)—A case of mistaken identity proved painful for 14-year-old David Rashid and his father, Forzey.

Army Adds Missile, Ups Divisions and Buys Tanks

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Army is adding a new long range guided missile to its arsenal, increasing the number of its combat-equipped divisions and buying more tanks.

This stepped-up Army tempo was disclosed in a series of announcements here yesterday—the day after a conference in Colorado among President Eisenhower, Secretary of the Army Robert T. Stevens and Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway, the Army's chief of staff:

1. The Army has gone into what it calls "at least pilot line" or limited production of a new guided missile, called Redstone. The weapon is presumably capable, like others of its type, of carrying an atomic warhead.

Details of Redstone's capability are still kept secret, but there is speculation its range may be up to 500 miles—substantially more than the Army's "Corporal" missile.

The Army said it awarded to Chrysler Corp. last week an $855,000 contract as "the final touch needed to start limited production" of Redstone. This brings the total for the Redstone project so far to more than 22 million dollars.

2. In a move which will add to its organizational numbers, although not to its total manpower, the Army announced a program to boost the number of divisions designated as combat outfits to 24 in the next two years. This will be done by giving to five of the present six training divisions designations as combat divisions, equipping them with arms for battlefield fighting and organizing them along combat lines.

But the manpower size of the divisions apparently will remain, at least for some time, at about the level of a training division—which is only between 10 and 15 per cent of the man-strength of a 17,500-man combat division.

3. A contract for $160,601,200 worth of M48 medium tanks was placed with Chrysler Corp. This actually is a renewal of an earlier order for M48s, the initial allotment of which Chrysler completed a year ago.

The new production, like the previous, will be carried out at the government-owned, Chrysler-operated tank factory at Newark, Del.

Drug Clerk Lost 20 Lbs.
My Customers Praise Rennel

"I worked as a drug clerk many years and have heard Rennel Concentrate praised by many customers that were using it," writes Mrs. P. Coe, 20785 Schultz, Hazel Park, Mich. "After having two babies I started putting on weight and so decided to use Rennel myself. I was having trouble with regularity and was feeling tired and upset most of the time. However, since using Rennel I have been feeling so very much better. Within 6 weeks time I had lost 20 lbs."

Imagine, eat plenty and lose weight with this simple yet effective amazing home recipe. After purchasing a bottle of Rennel from your druggist pour the contents into a pint bottle and add enough grapefruit juice to fill bottle. Take two tablespoonfuls twice a day. That's all there is to it. No diets to complicate your meal planning. No expensive vitamins to fortify your system from weakness while going without food for you can eat normally. If the very first bottle doesn't show the simple, easy way to lose pounds of bulky fat and help regain slender, more youthful curves—if reducible excess fat doesn't seem to disappear almost like magic just return the empty bottle to the manufacturer for your money back. Insist on and be sure to get genuine Rennel.

Lebanese Sells Brooklyn Bridge

Beirut Swindlers Play on Tourist's Sympathy With Hard-Luck Tales

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP)—If you're interested in buying the Brooklyn Bridge, you can get a good offer in Beirut.

This city is roughly 6,000 miles from Brooklyn, but wide-eyed tourists are offered the same bargain as the Flatbush sharpies present to country yokels.

Hundreds of camera-swinging American tourists strolling along outside the St. George Hotel here have been startled by a voice with an Arab accent asking:

"Wanna buy the Brooklyn Bridge?"

The voice belongs to a grinning moon - faced Lebanese resident Americans have dubbed "Alecky." After stopping the touist with his screwball question, Alecky makes his pitch: he hasn't eaten in three days, is lookiig for work, can the American help him?

Nine times out of ten he winds up with a free meal.

Alecky is only one of Beirut's more successful spongers. Others are just as resourceful.

The dying man trick is becoming fairly common. It works like this:

When a tourist is nearby a native doubles up and falls to the pavement writhing. A little boy explains the poor man is dying, but he hasn't money to get home.

The worried tourist offers to get a taxi, and his offer is accepted. However, the home is a long way off and the fare might be a much as 10 pounds after the taxi rounds the nearest corner, the taxi driver, the boy and the "dying" man split the money.

Strange currency often confuses travelers, and natives know it. In making change, a taxi driver here once handed an American two slick pieces of metal which he insisted were "Lebanese money."

The American offered him one back as a tip. The driver indignantly refused.

Eleb Restaurant Greets Vessels

Employe Plays Canned Music, Messages for Ships on River

WEDEL-SCHULAU, Germany (AP)—"Capt. Bye-Bye's" real name is Gerhard Wolfgramm. His job is to say welcome or farewell to ships going past his employer's big restaurant on the Elbe River.

If it's an American ship Wolfgramm puts a phonograph record on his loud speaker system. the record first plays a few bars from the "Hamburg Hymn," then Wolfgramm's recorded voice speaks in formal greeting in English

A flag dips from a mast in front of the restaurant, and then "The Star Spangled Banner" is played.

Ships answer with three whistle blasts which means "thank you" in ship language.

For the benefit of restaurant guests, Wolfgramm gives tonnage, ownership, and ports of call of each ship as it passes.

He has scores of recordings to take care of practically all countries.

Hearty Breakfast Fare Makes Chicks Bright

CHESHAM, N. H. (UP)—Take a tip from a couple of chicks and start eating hearty breakfasts.

Experiments at Wells Memorial School here involved four chicks. Two were fed breakfasts of fruit cereal, egg, toast and milk. The other chicks started their mornings with lighter meals, toast and cocos, or just cereal.

Nutrition records showed little difference in weights of the pairs of chicks. But the better-fed pair was remarkably superior in behavior, dispositions and appearances.

Auto Makers Using Plastics

Average Car Now Has Several Hundred Parts Made of Synthetics

DETROIT (UP)—Plastics, which go into squeeze bottles and shower curtains, are finding increased uses in the family auto.

The average car now has several hundred parts made of plastics, ranging from steering wheels to seat covers and from radiator ornaments to tail light lenses. But most of the plastic parts are not visible to the motorist's eye.

An early use of plastics in autos was a distributor cap weighing less than half a pound. It was pioneered in 1915 by Bakelite Co., a division of Union Carbide and Carbon Corp., the world's largest supplier of plastics.

Because of their electrical insulating properties, plastics first found general use in the ignition system. Coil casing, gaskets and battery terminals were made of plastics which could resist moisture, acids and oils.

Sleek sports car bodies — latest wonders of the automotive industry—merely mark another step in the plastic parade for cars.

Back in 1916, laminated plastics formed the first silent timing gears. The development of a brake lining made of asbestos textile combined with Bakelite resins provided greater driving control after 1920. The same material was used to improve clutch facings and other friction parts.

Safety glass in reality is a "sandwich" of twin sheets of glass bonded together with resins. The hard, glossy paints baked onto car bodies also utilize synthetic resins.

Vinyl plastics often are used for upholstery, throttle pads and arm rests, as well as for such hidden purposes as weather stripping and wiring insulation.

The auto production line also makes wide use of plastics. Among the newest tools are massive dies of tough plastic which stamp out body panels from sheet steel.

Even polyethylene — now known as the "squeeze bottle plastic" — has become part of the modern car. It goes into spring liners.

Rookies Flunk Spelling Exam in Stockholm

STOCKHOLM (AP)—Some recruits for the city police force cannot even spell "Stockholm" correctly, complained police instructor Simon Bertilsson after a recent examination of 72 candidates. Twenty-eight were rejected and about 20 got second-class rating.

"If their papers had been corrected by a high school teacher hardly 10 would have got through," said Bertilsson. "They would have looked fine if they had to write a report one day."

Stockholm needs another 539 men to bring the police force up to strength. The low standard of candidates is blamed on unsatisfactory wage scales. Better educated men can earn more elsewhere.

Now It's Lip Falsies

LONDON (INS) — Wigmakers report a new fad developing among young men about town—the wearing of false mustaches. The youngsters, hoping to add a bit of dash to their appearance, are buying mustaches to sport on smart occasions like Ascot racing week, debutante parties and society balls.

The Cromagnon race of prehistoric men had skulls and presumably brains larger than those of modern men.

Superstitions Often Steer Believer Toward Trouble

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK (INS)—As a black-cat-fearing, wood-knocking, ladder-circling collector of four leaf clovers, I should've had my head examined for dropping in on Miss Claudia de Lys.

"Well, hello, dear. Aren't you ashamed of yourself?" remarked Miss De Lys, running the greeting and the chiding together pleasantly.

"You knocked three times. Probably you always knock three times. And consciously or unconsciously, that is a sign of superstition. Of inner fear. But don't be disturbed because hundreds of millions of people express themselves the same way." She paused, gathering the precise words together . . .

"Fear lurks in the subconscious mind of man," she said slowly, firmly, "and in most cases, superstitions are his only outward expressions of the fear. They are the crutches he uses to run away from reality."

Miss De Lys, a tall and dramatically gaunt Frenchwoman, should know. Long considered the world's most thorough expert on such things, she has personally collected nearly 100,000 superstitions—"all of them nonsense."

"And not only nonsense," she insists, "but sometimes dangerous."

Often, for example, a superstitious man is accustomed to carrying a good luck charm—a rabbit's foot, say, or a medal. One day he switches suits and forgets to transfer the charm from one suit to the other.

"What happens?" asks Miss De. "Suddenly he's mentally unstable. He's outwardly as well as inwardly fearful, and subject to victimization on all sides."

And the man or woman to whom Friday the 13th is considered an evil day . . . he tends subconsciously to steer himself into the path of evil so the subconscious fear can be substantiated.

And it's all so silly: There are at least 100 theories on why Friday the 13th is a day for the birds but Miss De Lys' favorite is this: Friday is believed to be the time that Eve tempted Adam with fruit—hence it's evilly intended to begin with.

Thirteen has a bad reputation because way back when man was figuring out how to count, he added together his 10 fingers and his two feet, getting 12. The next number, 13, represented the unknown, the uncounted and fearsome beyond.

On the theory that anybody can whip his superstitions if he knows their shaky origins, Miss De Lys has just written a book pooh-poohing the whole business. In preparation she made a five-year survey of the U.S. and found our favorite cockeyed complexes are these, in order: (1) Knocking on wood, (2) Turning our backs on black cats, and (3) Crossing the fingers to hold a wish.

"Broken down," she says, "they look mighty ridiculous." Here's the breakdown:

(1) Folklore has it that the kindly spirits lived in trees, so by touching wood a man can keep in contact with the good spirits.

(2) Black cats were believed to be the steeds upon which witches rode. After seven years as a mount, a black cat was supposed to turn into a witch. Hence, when you avoid black cats you're just getting out of the way of a prospective witch.

(3) Traditionally crossing the fingers is a gesture of holding a wish so that it cannot slip away before it's realized.

Miss De Lys keeps her stock of superstitions in a steel file, because they represent 30 years' research. "I lock them up because in 100,000 lots, superstitions are worth money," she says.

"But in small supply, in the minds of individuals, they're good for nothing but a parcel of trouble!"

Before steel pens were made, quills from swan, crow, eagle, owl, hawk, peacock and turkey feathers were used to make pens.

Cat's Family Includes Kittens, Pup, Skunks

AUSTIN, Tex. (UP)—Blackie, a big mother cat owned by Mr. and Mrs. Owen Schnell, took care of three species.

In addition to two kittens of her own, Blackie fed a puppy and five skunks.

Schnell found the skunks, apparently abandoned by their mother. The pup wandered in and joined the mess line.

A sugar maple tree may live up to 500 years.

Electrician Re-enacts Dutch Boy-Dike Tale

SCHENECTADY, N. Y. (UP)—The Dutch boy who plugged the hole in the dike with his finger had nothing on James Smith, an electrician who saved a local civil defense drill. After a last-minute power failure knocked out, among other things, all the warning sirens in the hookup, Smith and another electrician located the trouble in an electric meter. Smith held an overheated and loose wire in position while the sirens sounded exactly on time.

SURIN
RELIEF OF RHEUMATIC-ARTHRITIC PAIN*

*SURIN is a fast, effective treatment for pain relief—not a cure.

DON'T TAKE OUR WORD FOR IT — but rely on the published medical report on SURIN, which proves its effectiveness in relieving arthritic-rheumatic pain! SURIN was tested for results by doctors in a famous clinic . . . tested on chronic rheumatic patients with these significant results.

DOCTORS FOUND — that when SURIN is applied at the point of pain, its unique ingredient, acetyl beta methyl choline penetrates quickly, deeply to step up the action of the analgesic drug in 3 out of 4 cases . . . speeding pain relief in minutes! Doctors who tested it stated that with an increased period of effective relief at point of pain, patients often experience increased freedom of joint movement. This is the substance of solid facts published in a medical journal.

SURIN IS SWIFT—DIRECT! No matter how long you've suffered arthritic-rheumatic pains, do try SURIN! It works without stomach upsets which can be caused by internal dosing . . . you just smooth on SURIN at the point of pain . . . because it starts to act as fast as you apply it . . . bringing relief in minutes!

A NEW KIND OF CREAM OINTMENT! Don't expect SURIN to look or act like other "rub-on—rub-in" salves or liniments. It is not harsh or blistering. SURIN gives the skin a pleasant, mild, cooling sensation to overcome the local heat caused by congestion. SURIN is pure white — pleasant to use — goes on smoothly, washes off quickly and is harmless to clothing!

BLESSED RELIEF OR COSTS NOTHING! Get a jar of SURIN today. Get blessed relief in minutes—or druggist must refund money — no questions asked.

SPECIAL EXAMPLE! Try SURIN at our expense. Get a special introductory bottle at your druggist. Or send 10¢ to cover postage to Surin, Box 2, Bridgeport, Conn.

Predicts Bigger Montesi Scandal

Reporter Who Broke Case Says Some Facts Still Under Cover

By RICHARD EHRMAN

ROME (AP)—The young journalist who exploded the Wilma Montesi case predicts the scandal "will continue to grow."

Silvano Muto, 27, added in an interview: "If all the truth is uncovered it will take on even greater proportions. I can't add anything else. My situation already is very dangerous. Some groups would love to see me out of the way."

Muto declined to identify these enemies but said he has three loaded revolvers in his home and office, never goes out alone and keeps a huge, specially trained dog always with him.

Muto, a graduate lawyer, broke the story of Wilma Montesi's death in his magazine, Attualita, after the case had been forgotten.

The chain reaction which followed has resulted in the arrest of Piero Piccioni, jazz pianist son of former Foreign Minister Attilio Piccioni on a manslaughter charge. At least 15 others have been arrested. Last week Premier Mario Scelba faced but won a vote of confidence on handling of the case.

The body of pretty Wilma Montesi washed up 17 months ago on the black sands of Ostia Beach. Muto's article charged her death followed a dope and sex orgy attended by Italian bluebloods and political personalities.

The editor was brought to trial on charges of spreading "false and alarmist news." His case was suspended temporarily after sensational testimony forced the government to reopen its investigation. Since then his magazine has closed down.

"But even when the scandal is over, I will always be a marked man," he said. "These newspaper clerks who call themselves journalists here will never let me work or collaborate in any of their papers or magazines. I have no more future in Italy."

Women Outnumber Men as Smokers-in-Bed

BOSTON (UP) — More women than men engage in the hazardous practice of smoking in bed, the Institute for Safer Living reports.

A nationwide survey revealed that 54 per cent of women smokers do this as against only 46 per cent of men smokers.

"So many men and women drop off to sleep while smoking that the practice is rapidly becoming the nation's No. 1 peril in the category of fires caused by matches and thoughtless smoking," the institute warned.

33rd Masonic Degree Is Conferred Upon 169

BOSTON (AP) — The 33rd Masonic degree was conferred last night on 169 persons.

Among those who received the highest degree in the Masonic order were Defense Secretary Charles E. Wilson, Sens. Williams (R-Del) and Dirksen (R-Ill) and John W. Galbreath, Columbus, Ohio, president of the Pittsburgh Pirates baseball club.

The 33rd degree is conferred upon those who have "served nobly the Masonic cause" or the "cause of humanity in general."

Report Reds Imprison 71 Catholic Missionaries

HONG KONG (UP)—The Catholic Missionary Bulletin in Hong Kong says 71 Catholic missionaries are in jail in Communist China.

It said its list was compiled from reports given by other missionaries expelled from China. The bulletin also said non-Catholic missionaries have told of 10 Protestant missionaries held in China, three of them in jail.

The list of Catholic missionaries does not include Chinese priests and nuns, but the bulletin said it was believed that some 400 of them are imprisoned.

At a 40-mile an hour cruising speed the average fuel economy of 29 different makes of automobiles has been increased by about 30 per cent in the interval from 1930 to 1950.

Politeness Is Downfall

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (UP)—Police said Arthur C. Roe, 25, had his hat when he went in, but didn't have it when he went out. The hat, found in an apartment, led to his arrest and conviction of a burglary charge.

Leg of Lamb and Fryers Rated Thrifty Food Buys

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Leg of lamb will be the outstanding favorite as a special in the nation's food stores this weekend. Almost as popular as an attraction for thrifty shoppers will be frying chickens.

Meat specialists agree that leg of lamb is a first-rate buy. Prices will be down anywhere from 4 to 10 cents a pound in stores featuring it.

Frying chickens will be two to six cents a pound below week-ago prices. One food man observed that his store's price this weekend will be 10 cents below that of three weeks ago.

Egg prices are going up, as is usual at this time of year. Butter also is in an uptrend—increases of one to six cents a pound are expected this weekend.

The usual good variety of vegetables is available this week. Produce specialists suggest cauliflower, peppers, sweet potatoes, cabbage and potatoes as especially good values. Also good buys are beans, celery, eggplant, Brussel sprouts, lettuce and onions.

Many of the tomatoes presently available aren't of too good quality. However, increasing supplies from California promise good eating.

Grapes and apples are tagged the best buys in fruit. Pears and oranges are rather high. Grapefruit is considered moderately priced, with supplies from Florida increasing. Peach supplies are light.

Instant coffee prices came down at the wholesale level this week, so you can look for cheaper retail prices soon. Decaffeinated instants also were lower.

Video Takes the Rap, Motorist Is Exonerated

SOUTH POINT, Ohio (UP) — Wayne Simmons, 10, blamed the multiple cuts and bruises he suffered when hit by a car while hurrying home for supper on television. As he explined it to Deputy Sheriff John Drake:

"I was hurrying home because I was late to dinner. I had stayed too late at Chester Sexton's house watching television."

Offers New Solution to Flood Problem

BLACKFOOT, Ida. (UP)—Byrd Trego, local publisher, says he has a solution to the problem of Snake River floods.

And, says Trego, the plan won't involve building any dams on the Snake along the Idaho-Oregon border where some people want the federal government to build one high dam and others want the Idaho Power Co. to build three low dams.

He suggests that the river be turned into the lava beds near Idaho Falls in southern Idaho. He said it will take two years for the water to go through the lava layer and come out in steady springs in the Snake River canyon.

He adds that the plan would create an even flow the year-around, prevent floods and eliminate the necessity for dams.

Winnipeg has grown to be Canada's fourth largest city.

U.S. to Continue Opposing U.N. Development Fund

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Authoritative sources say the U.S. delegation to the U.N. General Assembly will continue to oppose establishment of a 250-million dollar special U.N. Fund for Economic Development—SUNFED.

American representatives, whose government would be asked to put up about a third of the fund, reportedly still think such a program must wait until adoption of some general disarmament plan permits diversion of arms expenditures to peaceful development.

The SUNFED idea has been getting increasing support. The Netherlands, a former opponent, recently announced approval. Underdeveloped nations which would get the grants and long-term, low interest loans naturally are for it. They make up the majority of the U.N. membership.

The SUNFED proposal was launched in 1951, when the General Assembly set up a committee to work out a financial assistance program. The committee reported in March 1953 that an international fund should be set up. When the United States and Britain opposed it, the Assembly sent the project to the U.N. Economic and Social Council for further study.

The Council's report will come up for discussion in the current Assembly.

Though the U.S. delegation will still oppose SUNFED, American delegates once more are expected to be squarely behind the U.N. technical assistance program. That is regarded as a big success. American representatives here, it is thought, will assure delegates that President Eisenhower will do his utmost to get the necessary funds from Congress for full-scale U.S. participation.

It is also understood that the U.S. delegation will give strong support to the proposed "investment resolution." That proposal outlines conditions which underdeveloped countries should fulfill to attract large private investments from the United States and other countries with capital to export.

Indications are that the Americans will also endorse the proposed International Finance Corporation. This outfit would make loans in fields where governments cannot supply the guarantees demanded by the International Bank for reconstruction and development.

Episcopalians Install Suffragan Bishop

DETROIT (AP) — The Rt. Rev. Archie Henry Crowley, rector of St. James Church, Grosse Ile, was consecrated suffragan bishop of the Episcopal Diocese of Michigan today.

Bishop Crowley, 47, is the first Detroit area priest to be elected a bishop of the Michigan diocese in its 122-year history.

The Most Rev. Henry Knox Sherrill, presiding bishop of the Episcopal Church and one of the six presidents of the World Council of Churches, presided over the 400-year-old consecration ceremony at St. Paul Cathedral.

Co-consecrators were the Rt. Rev. Herman Page, bishop of northern Michigan, and the Rt. Rev. Norman B. Nash, bishop of Massachusetts.

As suffragan bishop, Bishop Crowley will aid Bishop Emrich in administering the diocese's 151 churches and missions.

He succeeds the Rt. Rev. Russell S. Hubbard who became bishop of the Missionary District of Spokane, Wash.

Japanese Puts Ideology Above Money or Arms

MACKINAC ISLAND (UP) — An ideology is more important to Democracy than big money or atomic power.

That is the conviction of Renzo Yanagisawa, chairman of 25,000 Japanese shipyard workers in the Tokyo-Yokohama area who spoke at the moral re-armament world assembly here Wednesday.

"China would never have gone Communist if the situation there had been met with the superior ideology of moral re-armament instead of with only material aid," he said.

Cleaning Up—Not Out

Abrasive May Cut Highway Fatalities

NIAGARA FALLS, N. Y. (UP)—A new abrasives product called "highway safety grain," developed by the Carborundum Co., eventually may cut down the country's traffic fatality toll.

A fused alumina abrasive material of great hardness, the new product makes road surfaces more skid-resistant when impregnated with it. It already has been tested on some highway sections in western New York, according to the company.

A carborundum official said scientific tests developed and conducted by the Firestone Tire & Rubber Co. "indicate that stopping distance of cars traveling 30 miles per hour on wet asphalt highways can be reduced one-third by the application of 'highway safety grain.'"

Reds Call for Heroes

MUNICH (INS) — Radio Free Europe reports that an appeal to volunteer for agricultural labor in the Soviet Union and Czechoslovakia was made recently to Czechs and Slovaks living in Vienna. The appeal asked the Czech and Slovak ethnics to take part in the "Battle for Bread" and promised that those who signed up for two years would be honored with the title of "Hero of Siberia."

Modern Egyptian Studies Ancient Idea

AUSTIN, Tex. (UP)—An Egyptian student at the University of Texas is taking a scientific look at "night radiation," a cooling process used by his ancestors as far back as 2500 B.C.

Mahmoud Mahamed Mahmoud, 24, of Alexandria, Egypt, is working on a doctor of philosophy degree in mechanical engineering.

Night radiation causes water condensation on the top of an automobile left overnight in the open.

It also may result in the freezing of unprotected flowers and fruits—even when the weather bureau thermometer says the temperature did not reach 32 degrees Fahrenheit.

The action is blamed for maintenance problems in certain types of flat-topped business structures.

Mahmoud's research may benefit both agriculture and the building industry.

Night radiation, some sources say, may offer possibilities for summer air-conditioning through a water-cooled water being run through wall-sized radiators during the day. Such a plan, experts say, would work best in a dry climate.

Granddad of 13 Gets University Degree

SALEM, Ore. (UP)—Scott William Anderson, father of nine children and grandfather of 13, graduated magna cum laude from Willamette University this spring.

Anderson, 54, majored in religion when he entered Willamette two years ago.

Previously he studied social science at Los Angeles Valley Junior College in California. He maintained a grade point average of 3.75 out of a possible 4.

After his graduation Anderson and his wife went to see one of their sons graduated from the Naval Academy at Annapolis.

Old Pan to Be Shown

WASHINGTON (INS) — The copper pan that shaped the nation's first mass-produced sugar-coated pills will go on display soon at the Smithsonian Institution in Washington. The pan was donated by Warner-Chilcott Laboratories to the institution for an exhibit of early American pharmaceutical manufacturing equipment.

WERTZ SKIDS INTO THIRD—Vic Wertz, Cleveland's first baseman, goes into third safely on his first inning triple in yesterday's series opener. New York Giants' third baseman Hank Thompson has ball too late for the tag. Umpire is John Stevens. Wertz' blow went into Giants' right field bull pen and drove home two runs. Giants won the opener 5-2 in the 10th inning.

HIT IN THE MAKING—Cleveland third sacker Al Rosen makes a vain stab at a smash into left field by Wes Westrum, Giants' catcher, in the first inning.

DOBY IN SAFELY—Larry Doby of the Cleveland Indians slides safely into second as Giants' second sacker, Davey Williams, gets throw too late for force in the eighth inning. Doby advanced on Al Rosen's hot smash off Giant shortstop Al Dark's bare hand who threw too late to second. Umpire Jocko Conlan signals runner safe.

WILLIE MAKES ONE OF HIS CATCHES—Back to home plate, Willie Mays, Giants' center fielder, races toward the bleacher wall after grabbing 450-foot drive of Vic Wertz bat in the eighth inning.

Local Teachers to Attend Parley

Meeting Is Set at Higgins Lake

120 From City to Take Part in Workshop This Weekend

One hundred and twenty Pontiac educators will discuss, evaluate and devise plans for putting into practice human relations in education this weekend at their annual Higgins Lake Conference.

Scheduled to run from Friday afternoon through Sunday, Mrs. Ann Galbraith, principal of Central School, is serving as chairman of this year's event.

Designed as an annual workshop for those working with the teachers and children of the community, this conference provides an opportunity for the Pontiac School system to look itself in the eye."

"It is an opportunity," claim those who have participated in other years, "for us to see our weak points, to find ways for strengthening them and at the same time to reinforce our strong phases."

Visiting educators who will be on hand to help with problems include Dr. Charles Boye, Wayne University; Donald Dolan, University of Michigan; Dr. Marian Edman, Wayne University and Robert Koopman, State Department of Public Instruction.

Also serving in this capacity will be Mrs. Harry E. King, Pontiac board of education secretary and past-president of the Michigan Congress of Parents and Teachers; Dr. Al Loving, principal of River Rouge schools; Robert Martin, State Department of Public Instruction; Dr. Mason Mathews, psychologist with Merrill Palmer School, Detroit; Dan Nesbitt, principal from Birmingham; Mrs. Gladys Panton, Merrill-Palmer School and Edward Ray, superintendent of the Higgins Lake Conservation Training Camp.

GIFTS FOR MEN ENTERING SERVICE—On each monthly induction a number of Pontiac organizations make gifts to the young men entering military service. At the September induction Wednesday gifts were presented by (left to right): Mrs. E. K. Vanderlind, for Unit 2 of the MOMS; Mrs. Jack Olsen, for Bemis-Olsen Post of the Amvets; Norman Hovis, for the Gideons; Joe Haas, for the Pontiac Press; Mrs. Clarke Kimball, for the Federation of Women's Clubs, and Mrs. Delmo Chapdelaine, for the United Service Organization.

$400 Million Indochina Aid Bill Is Facing Congress

WASHINGTON (INS)—Congress will be asked to make nearly $400,000,000 available for economic and military aid to Laos, Cambodia and Vietnam, the three associated states of Indochina.

State and defense department officials made preparations today to draw up a program of assistance to the three anti-Communist countries, whose independence is threatened by Red forces.

The program will be submitted to Congress for its approval when it reconvenes in January. The $400,000,000 is the amount remaining of the $785,000,000 authorized by Congress for the war against Red forces in Indochina. Further use of the funds were cut off in July when an armistice was signed.

The issue of availability of funds was discussed in a series of conferences in Washington which wound up yesterday over the future of allied military forces in Indochina.

The administration was understood to be planning November conferences with congressional leaders to work out plans for immediate use of some of the frozen appropriations.

At the same time, the U.S. approved a French plan for a gradual withdrawal of their troops from Indochina. These troops will be replaced by native contingents, trained and equipped with U.S. aid.

The Vietnamese have requested that the French remove all their troops by March, 1956, but officials said following the conferences that no dates have yet been agreed upon.

The new aid to the three Indochinese states will go direct to them, instead of being channeled through the French, as was previously done. This is contingent upon Congress approving the plan.

Officials stated that the French asked for financial aid to help support their armies in Indochina until they could be removed. It was anticipated that this would take some time.

A joint communique issued upon conclusion of the conferences stated only that the U.S. "will consider" the question of extending financial aid to the French forces.

The communique added that representatives of the French and U.S. governments "are in full agreement on the objectives to be attained . . Both France and the U.S. will continue to assist Cambodia, Laos and Vietnam in their efforts to safeguard their freedom and independence and to advance the welfare of their peoples. . . ."

Major Leagues to Aid Minors

Plans for Controlled Working Agreements to Be Offered

NEW YORK (UP)—The major leagues, faced with a $50,000,000 lawsuit and other troubles, were prepared today to offer minor league baseball financial salvation through controlled working agreements.

Commissioner Ford Frick, working through his special committee of nine which heappointed last winter, will offer the plan to the minors at their annual convention at Houston, Tex., next December. They are almost certain to accept it.

Minor league presidents, major league farm directors and minor league boss George Trautman have been in on the discussions which have been going on for about two months.

Hal Totten, aggressive president of the Class B Thre Eye League, said the committee had completed the draft of the plan and placed it on the agenda for the minor league meetings.

Sees Tax Bureau as Public Service

BRETTON WOODS, N. H. (AP)—Assistant Internal Revenue Commissioner Norman A. Sugarman said today "there is no need for the taxpayer to be afraid of the Internal Revenue Bureau.

"The bureau is conducting a public service business. Public service means serving the people, not harassing the taxpayer. Our business is your business and it is not conducted or controlled by a handful of people in Washington. It is a gigantic system of government that depends on the part played by all taxpayers."

Sugarman, who heads the bureau's technical staff, spoke at the 47th annual conference of the National Tax Assn.

He said that with 95 million returns filed, 60 million in the income tax field, it is "humanly impossible to have one person or a small group determine the tax liabilities of all the taxpayers."

What hapens before April 15, the new tax due day, is just as important as what becomes of your dollars afterwards, Sugarman said.

"If you're having trouble or don't understand your tax obligations, your local district director will help," he said.

DEBRIS COVERS BEACH IN TYPHOON WAKE—Lifeboats and a life raft from the ferry Toya-Maru lie on the debris-strewn beach near Hakodate, Japan, after the roaring typhoon which capsized the craft with loss of 1,440 lives last Sunday had subsided. In background is overturned hull of the stricken vessel. At right is the Shinsei Maru which was beached by the storm with no casualties among those aboard.

Vishinsky Expected to Reveal New Red Atomic Proposals at U.N. Session Today

By TOM HOGE

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—Reports spread today that Andrei Vishinsky might unveil new Soviet atomic proposals to the U.N. General Assembly this afternoon. Observers predicted that, if forthcoming, they would boil down to another demand for a ban on nuclear weapons.

The chief Russian delegate was scheduled to take the assembly floor shortly after the opening of today's plenary session to give a review of Soviet policy as his contribution to the 60-nation group's opening general debate.

Vishinsky's speech, on which he had been working in seclusion all week, was expected to set forth the Soviet bloc's line on the American atoms-for-peace proposals and other vital East-West issues.

One Latin-American delegate said he had reliable word that the usually fiery Soviet spokesman would couch his remarks in conciliatory vein in an effort to show Russia is treating the atomic question with an open mind.

Most members felt, however, that Vishinsky would reiterate his government's refusal to go along with the Eisenhower-Dulles atomic plan unless it tied in a declaration outlawing nuclear weapons.

This stand was made clear in the recent publication of previously secret notes the United States and Russia exchanged on President Eisenhower's original proposal to the U.N. last December for a peaceful atomic pool. Secretary of State Dulles rejected the Soviet condition as a ruse to disarm the free nations while Russia continued to bolster her arsenals.

Vishinsky himself gave a hint of the tack he might take when he demanded last week that the U.N. Security Council, in which Russia has veto power, have authority over any international atomic agency. The United States has shown no willingness to place the proposed agency under such control.

Some quarters—feeling Vishinsky timed his speech to coincide with the nine-power London conference on German rearmament—predicted he might indicate Russian willingness to accept reunification of the former Reich. But any reunification offer was expected to follow closely the lines the Soviets have laid down in the past, with demands for such advantages to the Communist East German regime that the West would never agree.

There also was speculation Vishinsky might reiterate Russia's call for an all-European security system as an offset to NATO.

Vishinsky also was expected to register a sharp protest against what the Soviets call interference with shipping in the Formosan Straits.

Urges Program of Disarmament

Ex-Air Chief Finletter Tells U.S. to Push for Enforced Weapon Ban

WASHINGTON (AP)—A foremost exponent of atomic and air power urges that America push for an enforced system of disarmament lest the weapons of today and tomorrow "destroy the United States."

Thomas K. Finletter, former Secretary of the Air Force, listed atomic and hydrogen bombs, future "superhydrogen" bombs and "cobalt" bombs among weapons existing or in prospect and said:

"Applied science for destruction is wholly out of hand; it is like a wild tiger running about the city streets."

In a book summing up his views —"Power and Policy,' published today by Harcourt, Brace & Co.— Finletter said the United States must create air-atomic power even greater than Russia's to deter the Soviets from an attack on the United States.

But this country also should work with "utmost energy and determination to find some way of preventing atomic war—some new way in addition to the maneuverings of diplomacy and the maintenance of armed strength," he wrote.

State Seeking to Recover Prison Survey Expenditure

LANSING (AP)—State officials today debated methods of recovering more than $27,000 which the attorney general has held was paid illegally to Detroit and Grand Rapids architects for a prison survey.

Dep. Aud. Gen. Mayme Jewel Purdy told the legislative audit and appropriations committee, she assumes that Aud. Gen. John B. Martin will immediately begin recovery moves by asking Atty. Gen. Frank G. Millard who should be held liabel. Martin was out of the state.

The legislative committee has been investigating the payment of the fee to Leinweber, Yamasaki and Hellmuth of Detroit and Chester Clark and associates of Grand Rapids.

The committee, upheld by Millard, has reported that the state department of administration under the then controller, Dr. Robert F. Steadman, ordered the survey of all prison facilities with funds specifically appropriated by the legislature for a site survey at Ionia for a possible new prison.

Some members of the commitee argued that the architects were liable for the repayment since they had been notified that their contract was subject to approval by Millard. He said he had never approved it.

straight for the center field barrier.

"I had a good lead on it all the way," Willie explained. "So I just ran until I got it. Anyway, any ball that is hit that high ought to be caught."

World Series financial figures, 1st game:

Attendance: 52,751.

Net receipts: $16,957.25.

Commissioner's share: $47,543.59.

Players' share: $161,648.20.

Club and league share: $107,765.46.

Federal tax: $31,738.42.

City tab: $15,863.28.

Dusty Rhodes' 10th-inning, pinch-hit home run Wednesday was the first of its kind which decided a World Series game.

Three other pinch homers have been hit in series games—but all were delivered in a losing cause.

They were Yogi Berra, Yankees, 1947; Johnny Mize, Yankees, 1952, and George Shuba, Dodgers, 1953.

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (INS)—So far as the World Series is concerned, Pee Wee Reese, Brooklyn Dodgers infield star, would just as soon play golf today as watch it on television.

Reese shot a round yesterday on his home Louisville course.

"Why should I watch the series on TV?" said Pee Wee. "I saw enough of the Giant's during the season when we played them 22 times."

HAVANA, Cuba (UP) — Dusty Rhodes' home run yesterday came as a blessing to crewmen in a transport plane high over the Gulf of Mexico.

They were acting as a relay for transmission of the game to a Cuban television network and had been in the air four hours and 20 minutes when Rhodes settled the issue in the 10th inning.

"We were afraid the plane might run out of gas because of the length of the game," confessed Goar Mestre, president of the network. "But everything turned out okay."

Cigarette Is Probable Grocery Fire Cause

Pontiac fire department officials said today they were "almost certain" that a blaze in the Wrigley Supermarket at the Tel-Huron Center yesterday was started by a cigarette flipped between a wooden pen containing electrical controls and a stack of flattened cardboard boxes.

While supermarket officials could give no damage estimate they indicated that the fire, which was confined to a 20-square-foot area in the basement, did little or no damage to food stocks.

A Wrigley spokesman said the store would be re-opened this afternoon after fresh supplies of meats, produce and dairy products were put on the shelves.

While the fire was confined to the basement it sent clouds of smoke billowing through the first floor sales area, sending more than 60 employes and customers fleeing.

Pair Sees Newborn Baby Perish on Isolated Mount

BURLINGTON, Vt. (INS) — A young Massachusetts couple today tragically told of the unattended birth, death and burial of their first-born daughter—high on the slopes of Camel Hump Mountain and miles from the nearest shelter.

Mrs. Margaret Bartch, 19, of Wollaston, Mass., gave birth to the baby on the mountainside last Saturday with only her husband, Paul, 25, a Boston University student, to assist.

All night, the little mother and baby were sheltered only by boughs and the outer clothing of the father. When dawn came he carried them both about two miles until he found a deserted hunting cabin.

The baby, kept alive by breast feeding and warm by a blazing fire of logs, died the following Monday and was buried soon afterwards with the prayers of the mother and father.

State Police were skeptical of the strange story when Mrs. Bartch arrived alone and walking at the doors of Mary Fletcher Hospital.

She said she had walked four miles down the mountain to find a Montreal-to-Burlington bus and that her husband had not accompanied her because she had only a little change left—not enough for her fare.

But when the 30-mile trip north was made and Bartch was still at the cabin, police began to believe. They were positive when they were led to the small grave.

The mother was in remarkable condition considering her week-long ordeal. Doctors said she would recover completely.

But the couple is temporarily parted, for Bartch was taken to Washington County Jail at Montpelier and held on a vagrancy charge until an investigation is completed.

Paul once worked part-time as an orderly.

The couple had been evicted from a rooming house because they had no money to pay rent, and had sought shelter on the mountaintop, where the heartbreak saga began.

The body of the baby was dug up and turned over to State Pathologist Joseph Spelman for an autopsy.

Robber's Wife Nabbed by FBI

Mrs. Cox Is Charged With Possessing Stolen Money

Mrs. Juanita Cox, 20, of Pontiac, wife of bank robber Hugh Cox, was arrested by FBI agents Wednesday on a charge of receiving and possessing part of the $52,300 taken by her husband and a companion in an April 2 Dearborn holdup.

The girl, a housemaid here who lives at 831 Inglewood Ave., is free on $7,500 personal bond today pending examination Oct. 20 in Detroit Federal Court.

Her husband was sentenced to 15 years in prison for the robbery of the Telegraph-Carlisle branch of the Manufacturers National Bank.

His accomplice, James J. Minder, 24, former University of Michigan student, drew a 13-year sentence.

Grenade Kills 5 Children

IMZIT, Turkey (AP)—Five school children were killed and three seriously injured yesterday when a hand grenade they had found exploded as they played with it.

Steel Merger Gets Brownell Rejection

WASHINGTON (AP)— Atty. Gen. Brownell announced today the Justice Department's antitrust division has disapproved a proposed merger of Bethlehem Steel Corp. and Youngstown Sheet & Tube Co.

He said that Bethlehem and Youngstown rank second and sixth among "fully integrated" steel companies and that there is substantial competition between them in a number of products.

He said his department, which was consulted by the companies about their projected consolidation, had also considered the policy, as expressed in the Clayton Act, of "arresting trends toward concentration in an industry."

The department announcement noted that Bethlehem's assets total more than 1¾ billion dollars, and Youngstown's exceed 500-million.

Pontiac Girl Is Named MSC Harvest Ball Queen

Members of her court will include Nancy Brandstatter, Grand Rapids; Linda Erickson, Harrisville, and Maxine Neely, Clawson.

The Intergovernmental Committee on European Migration, successor to the post-war International Relief Organization, proposes that 5,000,000 Europeans be moved to "labor-short" countries in the next 10 years.

Germany May Be Armed Under the Brussels Pact

UP Staff Correspondent

It is fortunate that Western diplomatic leaders remembered, after France killed the European Defense Community pact, what very sharp teeth the almost-forgotten Brussels Treaty was.

The result of this remembrance is that Western Germany may be rearmed under an agreement which — ironically — was written largely to safeguard Western Europe against renewed German aggression.

Three years after World War II, fear of the re-emergence of Germany as a military threat was still strong in countries which had come under the heel of its Nazis. In France, this fear is strong still.

The Brussels Treaty, linking Great Britain directly with France, The Netherlands, Belgium and Luxembourg, was signed on March 17, 1948.

It provided that if any of its signatories were attacked, the others would give it "all the military and other aid and assistance in their power."

Further, the Brussels Treaty pledged the signers "to take such steps as may be held necessary in the event of a renewal by Germany of a policy of aggression."

At the time the treaty was signed, Soviet Russia already was emerging as the big threat after the Communist seizure of power in Czechoslovakia.

Hence the North Atlantic Treaty, which was signed on April 4, 1949, was aimed against Soviet aggression.

The North Atlantic Treaty grew out of the Brussels pact, and out of the North Atlantic Treaty grew the European Defense Community agreement. This agreement, signed on May 27, 1952, provided for the inclusion of West German troops in a six-nation European army.

France always had wanted Britain lined directly with it in defense.

The Brussels Treaty contained this direct French-British link, and its provisions for mutual defense were air-tight.

In the North Atlantic Treaty France and Britain are just two of 14 members.

Britain refused to enter the European Defense Community pact. France, as fearful of German as of Russian attack — perhaps more fearful, in the long run — never liked this idea.

Further, whereas the Brussels pact provides automatic armed action against attack, the North Atlantic Treaty does not. It says that in event of an attack each signer need only take "such action as it deems necessary, including the use of armed force."

The Brussels Treaty has a strong provision against the negotiation by any of its signers of any treaty directed against one of its signers.

The North Atlantic Treaty has a weak one.

Finally, the Brussels Treaty runs for 50 years, until 1998. Any country can pull out of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization after 20 years.

Hence, the strange situation is in prospect that Germany will be brought into the Brussels Treaty, which was aimed against it, and will be rearmed under it.

Who Are Biggest Nightclub Hits? Joe E. Lewis Is the Most Lovable

By EDDIE CANTOR

Time and time again I have been asked, "Who are the biggest hits on the nightclub circuit?" Well, the best for my cover charge is Billy Daniels, the "Black Magic" man, or the Lewises—Ted Lewis, Joe E. Lewis, Martin and Lewis—then there's Jimmy Durante and the peer of them all, Danny Thomas, Sophie Tucker, and recently a new member of the club—the nightclub, that is, — Mae West.

I don't believe anyone around would argue if you said Joe E. Lewis is the most lovable comedian who ever appeared in an upholstered saloon, whether he's singing about poor little February, or commenting on the state of his health—"Look at these arteries," he'll say. "Hard as a rock!" and "Rich or poor, it's nice to have money."—You want to jump up and kiss the guy.

"My business is playing horses, he tells the audience. "I'm only doing this to stay in business." He plays Las Vegas more often than any other entertainer. There's only one reason: He makes losing at craps a pleasure.

It seems ironical that Ted Lewis, who sometimes has been called a square, was born in Circleville, Ohio. The layoffs in show business will tell you he peddles corn. What's wrong with it? It's what his public wants, just as they go for apple pie and coffee, hot dogs and cheeseburgers. I have heard Ted, with his battered top hat, clarinet in hand, singing "When My Baby Smiles at Me" 500 times and have loved it every time. So have you.

In the team of Martin and Lewis, Jerry may be the one who gets the "yaks," but don't underestimate the terrific talent of Dean Martin. He is a great mimic, singer, straightman, comic.

And what might be considered "throw-away" lines are, take it from this old minstrel, great "feeds" for Jerry. They create more mayhem in one evening than even Durante.

One night at the Chez Paree in Chicago, while Dean Martin was singing, Jerry walked over to a table and said to a couple, "If you wait for Dean to get through singing, your steak will get cold." He pulled up a chair, picked up a knife and fork, and before he finished their dinner, he said, "too cheap to buy wine, huh?" The audience, including the couple, was in hysterics.

The longest and loudest laughs I have heard and had in many a moon were at the Sahara in Las Vegas, watching and listening to Mae West. I have no sympathy for those who pan Mae West's performance. Before criticizing her, these same people must have gone to see her —so who's twisting their arms?

After all, when the billing reads "Now playing, Mae West," you certainly don't expect to hear "Lo, Hear the Gentle Lark" or a scene from "Uncle Tom's Cabin" with Mae playing little Eva.

East is east and West is West. As far as nite clubs go—now you have it—these are the best.

Wilde Given Custody While Ex-Wife's Away

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Actor Cornel Wilde has full custody of his daughter Wendy, 11, until his ex-wife, actress Patricia Knight, returns from Europe.

Previously Miss Knight had custody of the child with Wilde having visitation rights. Since the mother left the United States the girl has been staying with Wilde and his present wife, actress Jean Wallace. Superior Court legalized the custody yesterday.

Gallopin' Gertie, the Pride of Army, Is No Small Fry

FT. DOUGLAS, Utah — (UP) Gallopin' Gertie is just an Army tank, but what a personality!

Gertie is listed in the Army manual as an M41 "light" tank. Unofficially, her class is called the "Walker Bulldog"—after the late commander of the 8th Army in Korea, Maj. Gen. Walton Walker.

Actually, she's not very light at 25-plus tons. Not small, either with a width of about 10 feet and a length of about 25.

This particular Walker Bulldog is the pride and joy of the 96th Reconnaisance Company of the 96th Division, reserve outfit.

A ride in the M41 is really something. You wouldn't believe what this armor-plated Cadillac—it's made by the Cadillac Division of General Motors—can and will do.

Big sagebrush? Nothing to them, just smash them down.

Ditches? Bounce over them.

Trenches? Cross them, they're nothing.

Bunkers? Gertie can climb a 60-degree slope, so it's easy to crunch up one side, lurch and down the other.

Turn around? One rubber-treaded track goes one direction, the other the reverse. And the tank twists around in its own length as though it were on a pivot.

The long-barreled 76-millimeter cannon, with a range of several miles, is mounted on a mechanism that represents a large part of the $250,000 cost of this most modern of U.S. tanks.

A gyroscopic control miraculously can keep the barrel pointed at a given target, regardless of the manipulations and bouncing of the tank body.

A .50-caliber machine gun can be fired from the same control mechanism as the big gun. In addition, the four-man crew is liberally supplied with side arms and smaller weapons, such as carbines and sub-machine guns.

Burglar's Shot Misses King Saud's Brother

PARIS (AP)—A burglar fired at Prince Mohamed Al Saud, brother of Saudi Arabia's King Saud, today and hit a friend accompanying the prince, wounding him slightly.

The shooting occurred when the two men surprised the burglar in the prince's apartment. The gunman escaped.

Loafing Is Dangerous

CHICAGO (INS)—You are not as likely to work yourself to death as you are to loaf yourself to death, the National Safety Council suggested today. "Accident Facts," the council's statistical yearbook, says that off-the-job accidents killed 32,000 workers in 1953, while 15,000 were killed on the job.

Ohioan to Keep Trolleys Alive

Old Streetcars Won't Be Allowed to Vanish From Nation

CLEVELAND, Ohio (UP)—When the last switch is thrown on the last trolley car in the nation, nostalgic oldsters can come to Olmstead Falls near here to commune with the past.

It will be no quiet communion, but a swaying, bouncing one, on a private streetcar line 1½ miles long.

Gerald E. Brookins is the rail magnate. He owns a trailer park some distance from a shopping center under construction. That situation plus his love of streetcars led to his exclusive hobby.

He bought a bunch of old interurban cars from the Shaker Heights Rapid Transit and scrapped all but a few of them for parts.

He also bought old rails and set them up. The line isn't quite finished yet—only 700 feet of the proposed mile-and-a-half is down.

He's going to paint up the rest of the cars, fix up the insides and go into business.

"It's going to be more than a streetcar museum," he says. "The trolley line will bring trailer residents from their homes to the shopping center."

The line promises to be a tremendous attraction to oldsters and also to youngsters who have never seen a real streetcar.

New Roofing Developed

LANCASTER, Pa. (INS)—A new development in roofing materials, flexible corrugated aluminum roll roofing and siding, is announced by the Quaker State Metals Company. The new roofing can be laid like a rug, is easily cut into required lengths, and reduces installation costs by an estimated 50 per cent, claims Raymond Buckwalter, president.

Find First Wife Was Strangled

Officials Examine Body in Kentucky; State Man Faces Murder Charge

LONDON, Ky. (INS) — Mrs. Verlie Morse, 48, Plymouth, Mich., whose decomposed body was found near here more than a month ago, died from strangulation, Ed Bryant, Laurel County coroner said.

The body, exhumed yesterday, was positively identified by Lee Padgett, a nephew, and Roy Ausbine, a brother.

Ed Love of the Wayne County, Mich., Sheriff's Department said a first-degree murder warrant would be sworn out Friday against Claude V. Morse, 44, husband of the slain woman, in Michigan.

Love said Mrs. Morse met death on Aug. 8, "probably in her home." "We're convinced that she was strangled with a nylon stocking."

Love said a knotted stocking found near her body contained bits of hair which matched the locks Laurel County officials kept when Mrs. Morse was buried Aug. 26.

Morse was taken in custody last week shortly after relatives of his wife began an investigation after Morse went to La Follette, Tenn., to look for his missing wife. He later married a teenage girl and returned to his home.

Love said Wayne County authorities were convinced that the second Mrs. Morse knew nothing about the previous wife.

Ausbine said when Morse married soon after reporting that his wife was missing he began to suspect foul play.

Morse has denied killing his wife of 23 years saying she fell from his car on a trip to visit one of his brothers in Indiana.

Morse told Michigan police his wife was unconscious when he picked her up after the fall and that he stuffed her body in the trunk of the car and "might" have put it in some "road excavations" in Kentucky.

Policemen Policed

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (INS) — An electrical board with four banks of bright lights has been designed to bolster the efficiency of the Memphis Police Department. Inspector J. K. Caughley designed the device. It tells at a glance the whereabouts of each of the 55 detectives on the force.

A three-inch pencil stub which George Washington used in making land surveys on the Ohio River was exhibited at the Centennial Exhibition in New York in 1889.

Oswald Jacoby Writes on Poker

By OSWALD JACOBY

"We hear that experts never bet into a possible cinch hand at stud poker," writes a Birmingham correspondent, "but the best players in our game often do it, and they seem to get away with it. Can you explain this?"

First let's explain the situation, to make sure that all of our poker playing readers know what we're discussing. Suppose that you have a king in the hole and a king up, together with three useless cards in a game of five-card stud. Only one opponent is left, and he has a pair of deuces and two unmatched cards showing should you bet if that opponent checks?

Your opponent may have a third deuce in the hole, or he may have a useless card that will give him two pairs. If he has such a holding he will know for a dead certainty that he has you beaten. To put it another way, he has a possible cinch hand.

If you don't bet, you will either win or lose the pot, depending on whether or not the opponent has improved his pair of deuces. If you do bet, you may coax a call from the opponent even if he has only his deuces. But if he has improved his deuces, you will run into a raise.

There is no problem in those games that follow the "sissy" rule forbidding a player to check and then raise. In such a game you can afford to bet into the possible raise. As a matter of fact, in that kind of game the player who has more than deuces usually bets instead of checking; and if he doesn't bet, you can feel almost positive that he has only the deuces.

The problem is minor in a game in which the amount of the bet is sharply limited. A cinch hand can raise you, to be sure, but he can't raise you much. The risk is therefore small. Likewise, your bet is limited, so you don't stand to gain very much.

The problem is biggest when you are playing table stakes or when a final bet can be a substantial number of chips. Here you may run into real trouble if a cinch hand checks to you and then raises your bet.

In this last kind of situation, the classic warning is to avoid betting. If you have special knowledge of the personalities and can therefore feel sure that you have the winning hand, you can break the general rule; but otherwise follow the rule and play safe.

OH, CHUCKS—Five-year-old Bill Pecha, of Eau Claire, Wis., sits on his front porch, with his pet woodchuck, "Woodie." The Pechas got Woodie as a cub from the farm of a relative. While tiny, he was fed from a doll's milk bottle. Now three months old, he has acquired a taste for toast with jelly on it, cereals and nuts. If his water pan is empty and he wants a drink, he'll scratch on the door until he gets service.

Bob Considine Says:

Latest Serum Would Put U.S. in Pink-Colored Daze

NEW YORK (INS) — Medical science has come up with a serum which, when injected into the hide of a frustrated and worry-racked person, will instantly give the person a feeling of well-being and first class optimism.

The injected person is said to develop a sudden love for his or her enemies. All the gnawing pangs of suspicion, jealousy, doubt and fear disappear. Let's hope we can find some way to keep the stuff from becoming generally used.

Characteristically, the serum is extracted from snake venom. It takes no great stretch of the imagination to picture the ultimate tragedy that could overtake the United States if the serum was taken daily by every citizen.

If we had nothing to worry about, and our focus was blurred as to the nature of the dangers and responsibilities around us, we'd go to pot faster than if we were hit simultaneously with a thousand H-bombs.

A completely contented America is a pretty appalling thought to bring before the mind's eye.

Newspapers would perish, beginning with the advice to the lovelorn columns. Department stores would collapse, for no one would care any longer to join in the battle of the bargain basement. The automobile industry would shut its gates. Everybody would be content with last year's car and be too blissful to covet the new models with the streamlined ashtrays.

No one, of course, would join the armed forces, since no discernible enemy could be seen through the rose-colored fog of the serum. West Point and Annapolis would become resort hotels and work would be stopped on the Air Force Academy.

Willie Mays would refuse to swing on a fat one offered by Early Wynn, on the ground that Wynn is a fine fellow—so why should he try to hurt him.

Rocky Marciano's fights would go the 15-round distance, inasmuch as no blows would be landed and the activity confined to esthetic shadow-boxing.

Golf would disappear because no one would want to be an accomplice to the stabbing of a defenseless rubber tree, which provides the gum for the ball. Tennis would try to get along for a time without gut in the rackets, thanks to the intervention of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Sheep.

All research, except in the field of perfecting more comfortable hammocks, would end in an instant. Epidemics would rage unchecked, causing no alarm. Schools, churches and hospitals would be among the first to go. Euphoria U. would be the only university left.

About the only industry remaining in the country would be the manufacture of plowshares at Oak Ridge, Tenn., Los Alamos, N. Mex., and Hanford, Wash. Streets would sound incessantly to the chant of "Happy Days Are Here Again."

And when the junk wore off we'd notice that all the street signs were printed in Russian, and big brother was watching.

Honduras Gets Ike's Sympathy

Pledges Additional Aid to Victims of Flood in Message to People

DENVER (AP) — President Eisenhower today sent a message of sympathy to the people of Honduras and promised additional aid to the victims of floods which have hit that country this week.

The President's message went out as he scheduled another light day at his vacation headquarters so far as visitors are concerned.

He arranged to confer on private business with his personal attorney, John Jackson Sr., of New York. His only other scheduled appointment was with Secretary of Agriculture Benson.

In Washington yesterday, Gen. James A. Van Fleet, retired, said he would report to the President today his findings on his recent mission to the Far East to survey military and economic needs.

But Asst. Press Secretary Murray Snyder said the President had no appointment with Van Fleet. He added, however, there was a possibility the Chief Executive and Van Fleet might confer later in the week.

The prospect for the afternoon was another round of golf, with perhaps time out for a look on television at the second game of the World Series.

The President saw the Giants win the opener in the 10th inning yesterday, halting his round of golf temporarily at the ninth hole to do so.

He went out to Cherry Hills Country Club after his personal physician, Maj. Gen. Howard M. Snyder, reported that results of the Chief Executive's annual physical check-up indicate he is "continuing to maintain an excellent state of health."

Dutch Girl, 12, Living Alone in Philly Hotel

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Inez de Koning admits that she doesn't exactly like living alone, but the 12-year-old Dutch girl says she manages to keep occupied enough to prevent boredom and loneliness.

Inez, who came to this country less than three years ago, has an apartment in a central Philadelphia hotel where she cooks and keeps house for herself, when she's not in school.

She has been living there, alone, since her father, Theodore de Koning, an electrical engineer, returned to The Netherlands for a visit more than a month ago and then found himself barred by immigration rules from immediate reentry to the United States.

Blonde, blue-eyed Inez had gone to camp for the summer. She got back on Aug. 21.

Since then, with Mrs Agnes Allen, the hotel manager, keeping a motherly eye on her, Inez has made her own way. Inez is a "very independent and self-sustaining child," says Mrs. Allen.

The girl attends Friends Select school, a private institution run by the Quakers and has made many friends in her three school years. She passes part of her time with them and devotes many hours to reading and studying.

Held for Non-Support, Actor Cites Hard Luck

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Actor Frankie Darro, arrested on a non-support charge, says film work for him has been spotty in recent years.

He was arrested yesterday on a warrant signed by his ex-wife, Betty Darro. She charged he has failed to support their 9-year-old daughter, Darlene.

Darro, released on $500 bond, remarked: "I keep telling her she can't get blood out of a rock."

Esther Williams Finds Water Excites Firemen

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — Esther Williams walked out at a fireman's convention in a tight-fitting, dripping-wet bathing suit in Atlantic City—and the fire laddies whistled for 3 minutes. "Gee," wiggle-wagged Esther, "I didn't know the sight of a little water could get firemen so excited!"

Joe E. Lewis, the comedian, was half apologetic at the Copa for going on the Comedy Hour TV show, whereas, he said, he usually appears on the Ed Sullivan program. "Ed has been a friend of mine for years," said Joe E.

Candidate Reports Injury in Shooting

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Bill Bangert, Republican candidate for Congress from the First Missouri District, says his left eye was injured by flying glass from a shattered car window after an unknown assailant fired at him.

Bangert, who had seriously impaired vision in that eye, said the bullet shattered the left front window of his car Tuesday night.

Bangert, former mayor of suburban Berkeley City, previously had reported to the FBI the receipt about three weeks ago of a threatening letter from an anonymous source.

Good Looks Enemy Is Snuffed Out

If and when, here's a new, quicker and more effective way to mask its ravages.

Best concealment today of a leaky nose's unwanted redness is to use a make-up from a neat, compact cake which you can carry with you. For those inevitable repairs, you'll need to carry your make-up and re-apply it often.

Pick this one in the prettiest, freshest tint you can find. It can be the shade that'll help you to face up to a nasty, gray winter, all season long. For hiding the rosiness of a trouble-some nose, this gives you an opaque foundation and a powder of matching shade, all in one.

Since it'll rub off every time you attend to your nose, having this make-up handy in your purse for quick repairs is a godsend. It combines cream-and-powder in one tidy cake, has the tenacious cling of a skin to a peach, can be nicely applied when you're only half-looking.

Why it's as dependable as doctor's orders for foiling the damages of a cold is that it won't streak or splotch on a nose or upper lip when it's rubbed or dislodged by handkerchief or tissue.

What's more, you'll have none of the usual patchwork effects, when this make-up is re-applied.

Dr. and Mrs. H. S. Richards of University City, Mo., announce the engagement of their daughter, Jane, to Smith Falconer Jr., son of the Smith Falconers of Hickory Grove road. She was graduated from William Woods College in Fulton, Mo., and he attends Michigan State College. A March wedding is planned.

Dry, Flaky Lips a Real Nuisance Come Autumn

High on the nuisance list, as we come face to face with crisp fall weather, are flaky lips.

They look dry and taut. They kick off lipstick, or resist a smooth coating of color. Lip tissue ruffles up at the slightest drop in temperature.

If this is your problem, here there are two suggested remedies.

One is to consult your doctor, and let him track down that vitamin deficiency. The other is to use the richest (in lanolin) lipstick you can get your hands on. Lanolin, which almost all dermatologists swear by, most nearly duplicates the skin's natural oils.

A lipstick, made Croesus-rich with lanolin, will be your best shield and buckler for keeping lip tissue smooth, supple and receptive to make-up, no matter how nippy the fall or how rambunctious the winter that lies ahead.

Bermuda Styles Bare Your Leg Deficiencies

Are you going to bare your legs from here to here with kiltie skirts or Bermuda shorts and knee-high socks?

Yes? Then, see that your knees look prettier for this unveiling than your scrimmage-playing kid brother's.

The difference in looks between scrubby knees and lovely ones lies, with a pumice stone, a creamy lotion and in a girl's willingness to use these beautifying aids.

When stuffing off rough skin with pumice, know when to stop. Or there'll be abrasions to bandage.

Wet the pumice stone with water. Go over roughened skin on knees once or twice. (While you're at it, graze those calluses off your noble soles. They can be murderous to sandal-foot stockings.)

After the pumice-rub, scrub with a soapy brush. Dry knees off, and soften skin with the same fine, creamy lotion used to pamper hands. Carry its application all the way down to toes and soles of feet.

Baby Is Better Off in Separate Room

Having baby in another room has the advantage that he's less likely to demand attention when he wakes up before you do in the morning than if you are close at hand. If you have only one bedroom, it sometimes works out well to put baby there to sleep for the evening.

Then, before you go to bed, air the living room thoroughly and move the crib there for the night. Moving him gently won't bother him if he's sound asleep.

Masculine Tweeds Get Compliment

But They'll Show Irregularities in a Woman's Skin

This fall's magnificent tweeds—slubbed or nubbed, bright or somber, hairy or smooth, color-flecked or unflecked—will need adding machines to keep tab of all the compliments they're going to get.

Just the same, this is a masculine-type fabric whose rough, speckled and often harsh or hairy surface tends to highlight any irregularities—especially sallowness—of a woman's skin.

Therefore, the make-up for this strong fabric must go all out to make the lady tweed-wearer's skin look feminine and finished.

What is advised?

By all means, wear a tinted make-up foundation. Choose and use it for enlivening skin color and glow, not for the thickness of its coating. To veil any or all little flaws, bring skin tones from hairline to an after-five neckline into one uniform tone, to impart an impeccable finish all you need to use of it is a film as sheer as chiffon.

Choose a cake-type make-up foundation, if your skin is normal or inclined to oiliness, a cream-type, if you need a foundation that will ally dryness, and give you a soft satin finish. Here are more tips:

In foundation shades, avoid those that are too brown, too beige or too drab-making. Thumbs are also down on too-pink shades. "Tweeds are too strong to take any spun-sugar effects in make-up.

For another feminine ally, don't forget what a velveted film of fresh face powder can do.

Best lipstick shade for No. 1, 2 and 3 fall favorites — gray, beige and black-and-white mixture tweeds — is a red as fiery as the costume is "cool." Wear more of the same hot-tempered lipstick for evening tweeds.

For the paltte pink, lilacs and honey-toned and other tweeds as tawny as a breakfast tangerine, get out your lipsticks in exactly-matching or closely-allied shades.

Color experts claim yellow has the highest rating for general visibility.

Teaching Tots to Swim Takes Patience

It's a good idea for every child to learn how to swim. Expose your child to some water (besides the bathtub) if you possibly can.

Before anyone can learn to swim he must feel easy and comfortable in the water. Fear is the greatest drawback in getting your feet off the bottom.

You almost never go to a public beach that you do not see some over-enthusiastic father carry a screaming, clutching child into the water.

There is no better way to prevent a youngster from learning to swim than by forcing him into the water when he is afraid. You only increase his fear.

It's a whole lot better to go to the other extreme. Let a youngster play on the shore, dig in the sand—if there is sand—until he himself wants to dabble in the water.

With some children it takes a long time. They may never get wet above the waist for a whole summer, but eventually even a timid child will discover it's fun to wade out into water up to his armpits. Then is your time to start teaching him strokes.

It's likely to be pretty frustrating, when the trip to the beach is a single day's expedition. You went to a lot of effort to get the kids to the beach and you know it won't be possible again for a long time.

You so much want them to enjoy swimming as you do. You just can't bear to see all the beautiful day being wasted without getting more than the toes wet.

You'd better just hold onto yourself. Let your child enjoy himself the way he likes. You'll only do harm by forcing him into the water.

Next time maybe he will go in a little further, if he doesn't have a memory of a fright to get over. If your child is quite young you have plenty of time.

However if your child is getting on toward 10 and has had very little chance to go swimming give him a few lessons (perhaps at a YMCA or a YWCA) if you possibly can.

Under the guidance of a good teacher and with a group of youngsters of about his own age many a child will learn to swim quickly.

Most children are a little timid when they first approach water.

Golden Legs Will Stroll Down Paris Boulevards

PARIS (INS) — Paris fashions are back on the gold standard.

Women will wear stockings enforced with real gold, 'cause Jacques Fath is out to make women look and feel precious. And to achieve this he has concentrated on stockings, or to be exact, on stocking tops.

The latest Paris sensation prepared by Fath for fashionable women and their husbands — is stockings with the 2-inch top band reinforced by pure gold thread, the finest in the world.

This top band with the golden shimmer has the look and the feel of a super luxurious material. An added attraction —for the husband only—is a diamond trimmed golden gartertip.

Fath claims he took six months to perfect this new, deluxe accessory. He is now working on the all-gold stocking for the future.

But that's not all. Monsieur Fath also has more visible stocking news for girls who go in for luxury of a less private character. The latest stocking is buttoned.

Pale peach-colored Fath hosiery comes with tiny black buttons on a full-length seam on the outer side of the leg.

One stocking model has its buttoning in a straight line, while another is trimmed with a criss-cross cord lacing between two rows of tiny buttons.

Guide to Good Living

CHAIRS SHOULD BE "TRIED ON" FOR SIZE

IT'S generally believed that the softness of a chair's seat, alone, determines the degree of comfort it will afford you. Fact is, the pitch of the seat and back — the depth of the seat and its height—are major comfort factors. A chair that will lull an average size person to sleep may, to a six-footer, be somewhat less comfortable than a concrete block. And vice-versa.

HERE'S our commercial: — Because we operate our own exclusive custom workshop right here in Detroit, you can "try on" and select from many, many chairs and sofas—enjoy seating comfort that's exactly tailored to your needs. With more than a quarter of a century of fine furniture manufacturing experience behind us, it's a simple matter for us to vary widths, depths, pitches, heights, to provide foam rubber or spring construction—to your individual needs.

TO provide a still wider choice for you, we also handle pieces by such nationally known manufacturers as Widdicomb and Heritage Henredon—which we consider to be among the finest. And naturally, you won't find dozens of chairs exactly like your own when you order from us — since you select from hundreds of fabrics, leathers, or luxury grade plastics. (Incidentally, we do custom re-upholstery work, too.)

SHOPPING at all our stores is leisurely. You're more than welcome to come in and just "look around."

Americans' Beauty Is a Real Art

Mother Nature Is Now Second Fiddle to Make-Up

Gnawing dissatisfaction with what girls' see in their full-length mirrors has done more than Mother Nature to make their ankles look as shapely as Marilyn Monroe's.

That's a way of saying that long-stemmed American beauty is sometimes more art than nature.

What's more a trick of darkening ankles with rouge or dark powder is better than two years of exercise for shaping legs more to your liking.

What's this make-up trick? Apply dark rouge up the back of the leg from heel to ankle. Apply in like manner up the sides of the ankle. Now, blend, fading coloring out a bit beyond the ankle area.

Cover this subtle ruse with sheer, dark hose, the darker the better.

While dressing up legs to make ankles look fragile enough to snap, here are some tricks of the trade you don't want to overlook. Much of Hollywood's leg art depends upon tricks like these:

1. Wear stockings with tapered heels.
2. The more neutral the stocking shade—neither too ruddy a tan nor too ashen a gray—the slimmer your legs will look.
3. The more ankles need slimming, the more they need hosiery's cobweb sheerness; the tribute of tiny seams; superb fashioning; narrower and silkier heel reinforcements—in a word, the finest flattery.
4. The duller these silken snares, the better they'll minimize leg faults.
5. Whatever kind of stockings are worn, keep them tightly tethered. The straighter the stocking seams, the better-groomed your legs will look.

Dancing will begin at 9:30 p. m. and continue until 1:30 a. m.

Women Clamor for Color

Phones to Ape Rainbows

INDIANAPOLIS (INS) — Color-conscious American women again have demonstrated that a woman usually gets what she wants.

They wanted colored telephones and now colored telephones are being produced on such a scale that any housewife may have one if she wishes to pay the extra installation cost.

Once nothing but black telephone sets were available, and John Wood, W. E. public relations official commented:

"Production of colored telephones represents a complete turnover in thinking at Western Electric. We sort of shied away from color for a time but now we are actively promoting it."

Actually, Western Electric began making colored telephone sets on a limited basis before World War II, but the color was sprayed on and the idea of multi-hues wasn't stressed by Bell companies in the 48 states as it soon will be.

Mary Rodriguez Becomes Bride of Inez Delgado

Mary Melecia Rodriguez became the bride of Inez Delgado Friday evening in St. Vencent de Paul Church. She is the daughter of Mrs. Reynalda Rodriguez of Wall street and his parents are the Frank Delgados of Bagley street.

A white nylon and lace gown with a four-tier fingertip veil was chosen by the bride for the ceremony. She carried a bouquet of orchids and chrysanthemums.

Attending the bride were Mrs. Guadalupe Garza, matron of honor and Mrs. Bernard Rodriguez, Mrs. Robert Mellado and Florence Garcia.

Mr. Garza was best man and seating the guests were Bernard Rodriguez, Mr. Mellado and Raymond Delgado.

The wedding breakfast was held in the home of the bride's mother and the bridegroom's parents were hosts for a dinner. The bride wore a black suit with an orchid corsage for a wedding trip to New York. The newlyweds will reside on Wall street.

Annual Fair Set by Whitfield PTA

PTA executive board of Daniel Whitfield School entertained at a tea Tuesday afternoon honoring homeroom mothers and teachers. Mrs. Richard Stark, PTA president, spoke to the group about plans for the forthcoming year.

Mrs. James Morrissey, finance chairman, announced the date of the annual fall fair to be held Oct. 29. Mrs. Martin Parker was chairman of the hostesses and Margaret Luther presided at the tea table.

Fight Skin Oiliness

Enlarged pores usually indicate oiliness of the skin which calls for extra efforts at skin cleanliness with lots of soap and water washings. It also means eating green vegetables and fresh fruits and drinking six to eight glasses of water daily.

Potent Are Many Aromas of Yore

By MARY MARGARET McBRIDE

Judging from what readers write that they cut out and save, by far the most popular of these columns are the nostalgic ones. My memories of a little girl's life on a Missouri farm seem to evoke similar ones for men and women north, south, east and west. Particularly to people treasure recollections of food they ate when they were young.

A transplanted Missourian, Mrs. Owen Vail, recalls farm days when her family made sorghum molasses, hominy and apple butter "out under the trees on an open fire." And she adds an item new to me — pumpkin butter.

"No one today seems to know anything about this wonderful butter," she ponders sadly. "We were like most farmers, very poor, and I remember my mother always wanted to save the best for company.

"We children thought the best was the pumpkin butter. Once she saved some too long and it spoiled. My mother then declared that never again would she save anything that we children loved so much."

Lawyer Walter W. Mayes of Orange, Calif., recalls the outdoor fires too, and "the odor of soft-soap making — oh how I shudder at the remembrance."

"Mother saved every bacon rind and scrap of fat for soap. And I close my eyes and see the old ash-hopper out near the smoke house. It was split oak shakes, set in a V shape in a trough made from a hollow-out log.

Dad poured water over the ashes and it soaked down through them and dripped out the end of the trough as lye for the soap-making. But naturally I don't long for that as I do for some souse and pigs feet fried in batter, or fried pies with dried peaches for filling."

Old-time winter breakfasts of baked beans and pie in cold New England, delicately browned quail and hominy in Maryland, beefsteak and fried potatoes in Kansas — all these are sighed for in retrospect. Yet what happens when reminiscers try to revive old dreams? "Disappointment," declares Evelyn Harding of Ossining, N. Y.

"One day not long ago I dropped into a little stationery store for a newspaper," Mrs. Harding recounts, "immediately I spotted a supply of those licorice sticks that my husband remembered with such tenderness from his boyhood. I bought four dozen and presented them to him with ceremony.

"He grabbed one with a happy light in his eye; and gnawed off a good-sized bite. One swallow, and he retired abruptly from the living room. He hasn't mentioned licorice since."

Becky Webb, who with her husband runs a dude ranch, says her husband always talked longingly of a special potato soup made by his Iowa grandmother when he was a boy. Then she went with him back to his home town.

"The first thing he wanted was a taste of that potato soup again," Becky writes. "But he told me later it was just soup — not the delectable dish he had remembered through the years."

Licorice sticks which I used to adore now make me deathly sick, but I still like potato soup made my mother's way and I wish to go on record as affirming that the fried chicken, salt-rising bread and country ham of my childhood taste just as wonderful to me as they ever did — when I can get them.

How do the rest of you feel about it?

Rabbit hair jersey with a snowflake tweed was used in this creation by Richard Cole. Circles of mink on the sleeves and the boat scoop neck proclaimn it an all day—late day dress in wonderfully casual fabric.

The world would be better off if everyone who says "I do" did.

If you're washing fiberglas curtains, avoid wringing and squeezing which tend to "craze" the surface of any crisp fabric. Just swish them through soapsuds and rinses, and hang to drip dry.

With Proper Styling

Fine Hair Can Be Tamed

Baby-fine hair is fine on babies. But women who possess it lament it as a real problem. It won't stay put, won't hold a curl, rarely looks neat and well-grommed.

Yet, very fine hair need not be a major problem, according to James Caesar, New York hair stylist, who suggests making the most of what there is.

The right cut is very important to any texture of hair, but especially to fine hair to make it appear fuller.

Proper shaping and blending of the ends will create a feeling of thickness and body. The stylist who cuts your hair must study each strand of hair in order to decide what length he will cut the hair to encourage a natural curl. Mr. Caesar believes that the proper length of fine hair is from an inch to an inch and a half.

Mrs. Coasar has an important tip for the fine-haired woman whose hair is limp and really needs a permanent—don't get one with a curl that's too tight.

Be certain the permanent you are getting is one that's suited to the texture of your hair.

According to Mr. Caesar, the most important thing a woman should know in reference to her hair is what to do after she leaves her hair stylist.

To fluff out the hair, he suggests running the comb lightly over the hair, keeping it in the same direction it was set. Follow this by simply patting the hair, lightly, all over.

Check the Efficiency of Heating System

You can save yourself money and cold weather discomfort by checking the efficiency of your house heating system before late fall's seasonal rush.

When buying a new heating system or converting an existing one to gas, it's a good idea to check the following points: 1. Make sure the system has enough capacity to heat all rooms; 2. demand a fully automatic, thermostatically controlled job; and 3. select the fuel with efficiency and economy in mind.

Tape That Neckline

A dress that gapes at the neckline can be anchored down with transparent tape. Do this by cutting off a strip of cellophane tape about an inch and a half long. Make a loop out of it, sticky side out, folding it in on itself. Then fasten it next to the inside of the dress and press firmly on the skin. Photographers use this method of holding a low neckline in place for some models.

Polish Over, Over

Your manicure should last a week if you apply several coats of nail polish. First apply a base coat of colorless polish. Then when it's dry, apply two coats of nail polish, followed by a sealing coat of colorless polish.

Children's Toys Are Practical Only If They Can Be Washed Thoroughly

No Noah is needed to lead your children's toys into the washer—they'll love it. Who wouldn't after being dragged from room to room, from park to park, from yard to yard, in and out of the sandpile.

In fact, everywhere that Mary goes her toys are sure to go—and the masculine members of the sandbox crew have their toys in tow, too.

Favorite cuddly toys do become soiled and require frequent baths. And most of them can be laundered right in the home washer.

Toys are practical only if they can be washed thoroughly enough to remove the accumulation of soil and bacteria that is inevitably present when children play with them for any length of time.

If there is any doubt about the washability of a certain toy, these facts are good criteria to determine washability.

Type of stuffing is very important. If there is any doubt about the type of filling used, it is wise to open a seam to see if the filling is of a washable material.

Toys that are filled with a spongelike material, such as foam rubber, hold their shape perfectly, dry quickly, and do not strain the outer fabric. They are usually labeled as such, or it is possible to tell by their spongy feeling.

Stuffings which consist of multi-colored fibers and bits of fabrics are not generally colorfast and may stain light colored outer fabrics. Some poor grades of cotton fibers that are brownish in color also stain light colors. When cotton filling becomes saturated with water it tends to become lumpy, so that the toy loses its shape.

Color is important factor to consider. Many dark colors—blacks, brown, reds—are likely to bleed and if combined with a light color will tend to discolor the lighter color. Most dark colors should be washed separately or with other dark colors.

Junior Group Will Gather

Just Recipes Don't Make a Cookbook

By ANNE HEYWOOD

"I love to cook," a reader writes me, "and I love to write. So I have decided to write a cookbook.

"Through the years, I have saved up all kinds of recipes, and they are very good. I have collected them, and typed them up, and they're just as good as the ones in any cookbook I have ever read.

"But no publisher will buy them. I guess you have to have pull, or know the right people. Can you help me find a publisher for my cookbook?"

And she enclosed her manuscript for me to see.

There was nothing wrong with this woman's recipes — nothing wrong at all. They were, indeed, as good as many in published cookbooks.

But the trouble was not lack of contacts. The trouble was that there was nothing especially distinctive about hers, no special reason for publishing it. It didn't fill any particular need—and good cookbooks, nowadays, must be specially designed to fill a particular need.

I suggested that this woman take a look at several very successful cookbooks written by Marie and John Roberson, an attractive couple who live in Greenwich, Connecticut, and who have made a tremendous success in this field.

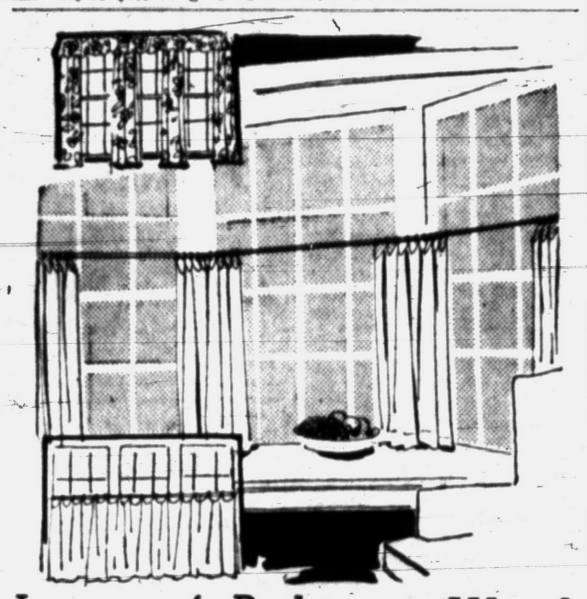

When the Robersons write a cookbook, it is planned to fill a very specific need.

Their first, for example, was called "The Chafing Dish Cookbook," specializing in epicurean dishes to be cooked in a chafing dish. Others are, "The Casserole Cookbook," "The Complete Barbecue Book," "The Complete Small Appliance Cookbook," "The Meat Cookbook" and "The Buffet Cookbook."

The day of the generalized, wha. every young bride should know about cooking kind of book is over. Most young brides today have been reading their daily papers and their magazines, and know a good deal about cooking. The only way to lure them into buying a cookbook is to have it planned to fill a special need.

If this woman can get an "angle," a nail to hang her book on, a common denominator to build her recipes around, she will have a much better chance of selling it.

Laws of Balance Work Solving Curtain Problem

By ELIZABETH HILLYER

It's easy to be carried away with an idea for a window treatment and end up with more curtaining and draping than there's reason for.

Just enough curtaining to serve a purpose, and not too much is the best answer to a window problem like the one Mrs. J. M. writes about.

"We have a group of three sunny windows in our dining room over a deep sill," her letter says, "but we've never enjoyed the sun from them as we should.

"The draperies are made with a valance and are in four sections to draw. Even when they are open, the glass is still covered too much for enough sun to come through."

Sunlight is more important to the room in this case than draperies, Mrs. M., and a minimum of curtaining is the best idea.

Set the rods just high enough so the closed curtains provide privacy, and make the curtains like this of a fabric that won't be bulky between glass areas when they are open.

Suburban Life May Endanger Family's Health

HARTFORD, Conn. (INS)—That new home in the suburbs that so many city folks are dreaming about can be dangerous to a family's health unless it is chosen with care.

Many subdivisions are built beyond the reach of public water supplies and public sewers so that special attention must be given to private wells and sewage disposal if the "country home" is to be safe and pleasant.

Here are a few tips on what to look for in wells and springs, aside from poor tasting water and quantity available in the dry season:

Avoid wells that are too near or downhill from sewage systems or in danger of flooding at times of high water in nearby streams.

Well and spring covers should be tight to keep out surface wash and the side walls or the casing of the well should also be tight, preferably for 8 to 10 feet below the ground surface.

Even wells drilled in rock may be contaminated through poor well covers or through a poor joint where the well casing enters the rock.

Sewage disposal in outlying areas is usually cared for by septic tanks, which the health department warns should be built so that they can be inspected every two to four years and cleaned when necessary.

The department also warns that seepage may be difficult to absorb if the tank is on underlying rock or surrounded by very tight soil or high ground water.

Shaping the waistline is more flattering to you than the looser, straighter line. Conform to body lines with waistline shirring.

Miss R. F. — Long-line overblouses can be for every type and age. The use of drapable fabrics that tend to conform to body lines, avoiding a sloppy look, flatter bosom and waistline and also conceal large hips.

Color Television Needn't Change Decorating Hues

CHICAGO (INS) — Any home decorating problems arising from a color television set will be minor, says a woman designer of TV cabinets.

Helen Kelleher of Chicago believes there will be no need to change the color of your walls, rugs or draperies for a color TV set. She explained:

"Color screens are surrounded by quite a bit of cabinet-surface so that rugs, drapes and walls will be protected from conflict with the color screen and present no problem in harmony."

However, Miss Kelleher said color television will make a few changes in a room.

For instance, she said color screens look better in a dimly lit location. At night artificial lights should not be placed too near the set, nor be turned up to their brightest intensity.

During the day the screen will look more attractive if blinds or drapes are partially drawn.

Miss Kelleher said housewives will definitely need to plan their room arrangement around a color set because it's much larger than black and white models.

She reported color sets are 6 to 8 inches taller and about 12 inches wider than the average black and white set today.

A Boy in Service Finds He's in a Puzzling Spot

By ELIZABETH WOODWARD

"Dear Miss Woodward: Last year while I was still in high school I met and dated this girl. We got along just swell until I went into the service. Then she started to write me about the swell times she was having with other guys.

"I guess I was so anxious to get her letters, I didn't notice too much what was in them at first. But when I did become aware of what was going on, I wrote and told her to forget it—she needn't write me any more because I wasn't going to be big-brother for her to confide her romances.

"Later on I thought better about what I'd written her, and I thought there might be a chance to patch up our differences and start anew—but I never was so disillusioned in my life.

"And now I find myself in an awkward and puzzling position. For the past few months I've been dating another girl, but to my amazement the first girl keeps haunting me like a ghost. I realize now that I'd been in love with her all this time.

"Now, I don't know whether to try again to patch things up with her, or not. And just how am I going to explain it to the girl I'm going with now?"

You've a real bee in your bonnet now. And you'll go on wondering helplessly and feeling frustrated unless you do something to find out how that girl would feel about seeing you again. Besides you owe it to yourself to find out once and for all whether you really do love her, or it's some other emotion you're harboring.

Get in touch with her, do. But make up your mind beforehand to take things very slow and easy. You used to know the girl pretty well—you used to take her out a lot— and your relationship used to mean something. But the curtains have been drawn on it for some time. You've both changed your minds about a lot of things in the meantime. It's not safe to presume that she has the slightest interest in you at the present time. This will be a completely new deal.

You'd like to see her again, so invite her to do something particularly entertaining with you. It will give you a chance to see how the wind blows—will give you a moment to re-evaluate your memories of her and make new impressions.

If you find that she responds to your friendliness, and can resign yourself to being one of the boys she dates, you could start seeing her as often as she'll let you. If it's no go, you'll know.

Pressing a big case right off the bat would be a big mistake. Renewing your friendship is enough to expect. There's nothing yet to tell the girl you're going with now. Should your old girl be willing to be your new girl, it's different. Having proved a point to your own satisfaction, you'll have no trouble breaking the news.

It Is Not a Signature

Third Person Uses Title If Signing Other's Name

By EMILY POST

Dear Mrs. Post: "I work in a gift shop that does a tremendous amount of wedding and wedding anniversary business. I'm often asked on the telephone to write the cards to be enclosed with the gifts, and usually am told to write Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Blank. Shouldn't their given names be written with their last name instead of Mr. and Mrs."

Correctly we all sign our names without title (except when necessary to prefix it in parenthesis for identification). But when any third person writes a name for another this is NOT a signature—and must there be prefixed with her—and even his—title.

Dear Mrs. Post: My husband gave me a very pretty ring to wear on my little finger. I would like to wear this ring on my left hand as my right hand is not very attractive. I was told that it is bad taste to wear any ring on the left hand other than the wedding and engagement rings. I would like your opinion.

If not unbecoming to your engagement ring, it is entirely correct to wear a ring on the little finger of the same hand.

Dear Mrs. Post: Whenever my boy friend and I dine out and the bill is presented to him at the end of dinner, he always double checks the bill to see that he is not being overcharged. Not only is this very embarrassing to me, but it is very bad manners on his part and is a reflection on the waiter's honesty. Will you please give me your opinion?

I cannot imagine any man paying the bill without checking it! He certainly should run over the items quickly to see that it is correct—but he shouldn't fuss over it.

Manners MAKE FRIENDS

"I have to keep that lamp in the living room even though it clashes with everything else, because Aunt Sarah—who gave it to us—acted hurt when I tried moving it into a bedroom."

It's easy to make a gift a burden by letting the receiver know you expect it to be given a place of honor and that if it ever gets demoted or broken you'll be brokenhearted.

The long and short of it in handbags for fall combines two shapes that are bound to be seen everywhere. The long, lean, narrow leather clutch bag and the small hand-sized purse in fur and velvet rank first in importance.

Newest Lamp Provides Home for Parakeets

CHICAGO (INS) — Parakeets have a way of ending up in the most unexpected places in a house, so don't be surprised to find a pair living in a floor lamp.

But in this case at least the birds will have a perfect right to be there. A Chicago firm has designed a long narrow bird cage around the brass rod of a modern floor lamp.

The bird cage is a column of white wire, about 4 feet high, 6 inches wide at the top and about 10 inches wide at the bottom. It's equipped with three wood bars placed at varying heights for the birds to swing on.

The cage-column rests on a square black base finished to look like marble. The white drum shade overhead is equipped with a glare protector for the parakeets.

To prove that the lamp is liveable for birds, the lamp company kept two blue parakeets in it for two weeks at the American Furniture Mart. A spokesman said:

"The birds were perky as ever but we gave them away because the showroom is closed except for one day a week during vacations."

The lamp is about 5 feet, 3 inches tall and sells for about $125 — complete with bird bars and glass feed and water jars.

It will be available in furniture and department stores throughout the country this month.

Answer to Tuesday's Puzzle

Luxury Life on Wheels

GLOUCESTER, Mass. (UP) — One of America's most luxurious trailers is owned by the famed inventor, John Hays Hammond Jr. of Gloucester. The 122-ton vehicle is complete with automatic dishwasher, telephones and a separate sleeping compartment for the driver.

Because the mass of the earth is much greater than the density of the surface rocks would indicate, scientists believe it has a central core of heavy metal, probably iron.

Gruenther Cites Troop Shortage

Urges Bonn Armament, Pointing Out That Allies Need Ground 'Shield'

NEW YORK (AP)—Gen. Alfred M. Gruenther says the Western powers now hold an overwhelming "air capability" over the Soviet Union but lack an effective ground force "shield" to hold an enemy while reserves are mobilized.

The Supreme Commander of Allied forces in Europe spoke last night at a dinner of the National Security - Industrial Assn., a liaison group between American Industry and the armed services.

Urging West German rearmament, Gruenther said tactical use of the atom bomb depends upon concentration of potential enemy forces—made possible only by our display of military might.

He laid our present air superiority over the Soviet Union to better long - range bombers, and said any enemy attack — although it might be successful in the first ground phase — eventually would be defeated.

After a decision on West German rearmament is reached, Gruenther said, it would take two years to fully train and equip German ground forces and about three years to develop their tactical air force.

Gruenther pleaded for American patience with her European allies, saying:

"If we must be tough with our allies, I hope we can do it in sorrow, not in anger. We are not going to win this struggle unless we do it together."

Want to Park Overtime? Visit City in Wisconsin

SUPERIOR, Wis. (AP)—When out-of-state visitors get a police ticket for meter violations in Superior, it makes them glow—but not from embarrassment.

Here is what the ticket informs the visitor:

"We are pleased to welcome you to our city. We hope you will come often. Don't worry about the policemen. They will treat you with courtesy and will be glad to assist you in every way to make your visit a pleasant one. You are not expected to observe the one-hour parking rules."

A number of visitors have expressed their appreciation by writing thank-you notes to Chief of Police Arthur E. Buchanan, act promptly in emergency."

You'll love what all does for your linens

There's a special luxury in the freshness and silky softness of all-clean sheets and pillow slips. You will be so proud of your linens when you use all, the "controlled suds" detergent prescribed by automatic washer makers.

MILLIONS OF WOMEN have found a way to softer, sweeter smelling washes . . . to cleaner clothes that stay cleaner longer. Their home laundering is bringing them satisfaction and pride.

They are using the new-day method. They have graduated from old-way heavy suds. Now they wash with "controlled suds"—with all, the modern detergent that's tailor-made for today's automatic washer.

They rejoice that their shirts and sheets, filmy underthings, diapers, work clothes and grimy jeans all come out sparkling bright.

Join them. Pick up a package of all at your grocer's. Compare for yourself this new "controlled suds" way with the old-fashioned thick-sudsing detergents. Get your money back if you aren't convinced!

Your wash—and washer—suffer from heavy suds

Heavy suds cause lots of trouble in automatic washers. They deaden the washing action with a blanket of foam. They hinder the flow of the cleansing action through the pores of your fabrics. They cause 4 out of 5 repair calls, servicemen say.

Heavy suds become unclean. They gather an oily film of dirt from the clothes. When you try to rinse, these thick suds hold tight. So they must filter out through the clothes and redeposit some of last week's dirt on your fresh wash. You may not see it—but it's there.

Clothes covered with that redeposited oily film don't even look clean long. They quickly pick up new dirt.

Millions have proved all for you

Those are reasons why millions of smart home managers have switched to all. And why leading makers of washers prescribe it. In fact, many of them pack sample boxes of all in their new machines.

all dissolves right down into the wash water. It doesn't waste its strength blowing soap bubbles. Instead, it stays where the work is being done—down in the water with the dirty clothes. It drags the dirt out, holds onto it, flushes it down the drain.

Your new-day way to cleaner home laundering

And because it makes no sticky suds-scum, all rinses out quickly and completely.

Here's one more advantage of all's "controlled suds." If you have an extra-grimy wash, you can use as much all as you need, without fear of whipping up lather to spill all over the floor.

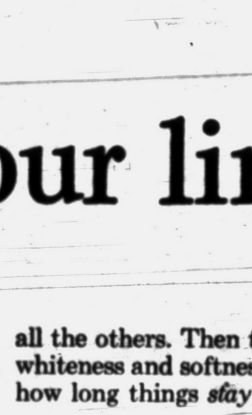

all was invented for just one purpose. To help automatic washers turn out their finest possible job of home laundering. That is exactly what all will do for your washer, and for you!

A trial will convince you. Try the best of all the others. Then try all. Mark the extra whiteness and softness of the all wash. Note how long things stay clean.

Try out both types of all

At your grocer's you will find two kinds of all. In the blue box, CONDENSED—favorite of millions. In the red box, EXTRA FLUFFY for use in your automatic and also for kitchen use and basin washing of stockings and lingerie. The red box weighs and costs one-third as much as CONDENSED all in the blue box. Monsanto Chemical Company, St. Louis, Missouri.

Preserve Plums for Winter Time

Italian Prune Variety Is Extra Sweet, Filled With Nutrients

Besides being enjoyed for their sweetness and distinction of flavor, Italian prune plums are rich in minerals, mainly iron, and are a good source of both A and B vitamins.

When fully ripe, Italian prune plums are medium-sized and a rich purplish color with a slightly "frosted" appearance. They are extremely high in fruit sugar or fructose which is the reason for their high regard as an energy food.

It is as a home canning or freezing fruit though that these plums really excel. When canned, their color changes to a deep wine red and the skin yields its tart juices to mingle with the sugars of the pulp. This chemical change gives the sauce a rich, unusually delicious flavor.

For freezing or canning, select ripe, firm plums free from bruises. They freeze very successfully and are delightful made into pies, sauce, salads and cocktails when the plum trees are leafless and barren of their beautiful purple fruit.

Wash, halve and pit the prune plums. Place in moisture-proof, vapor-proof containers. Cover with 40 per cent syrup to within one-half inch of the top of the jar. For the syrup, dissolve 1½ parts sugar with 2 parts water. Chill.

Just before using stir in one-fourth teaspoon ascorbic acid for every cup of syrup or other anti-oxident according to package directions, to prevent discoloration of fruit upon thawing. Allow one-half inch head space for expansion.

Remove air bubbles by running a silver knife down the sides of the jar. Place a piece of freezer paper on top to hold fruit below level of syrup. Seal, label and freeze immediately.

For canning, select fully ripe plums. Prick the skins to prevent shrinkage. Simmer to boiling in syrup or juice. If fruit is very juicy, you may heat it with sugar, adding no liquid.

Pack hot into clean, hot containers. Cover with boiling liquid. Process in boiling water bath for 15 minutes, or in a pressure cooker for 10 minutes at 5 pounds.

Perch Half of Peach Atop Sliced Doughnut

To make a dramatic guest refreshment tray, arrange peaches, plums and grapes in a round bowl, and set it in the center of a round tray.

Arrange doughnuts around the edge of the tray. Serve with a beverage. Small paper plates and paper napkins complete your service.

MSC Puts Out Apple Bulletin for Homemakers

"A" is for apples in Michigan right now as growers prepare to harvest the 1954 apple crop.

Homemakers find lots of uses for this versatile fruit the year around. And any homemaker looking for more favorite apple recipes will be interested in obtaining the Michigan State College bulletin "Another Way for an Apple a Day."

The 12-page bulletin was prepared by Roberta Hershey, extension specialist in foods and nutrition at MSC. Apple stuffing apple chutney, apple fritters, Dutch apple pie, spicy apple torte—these and 20 other tempting apple recipes are included in the bulletin.

Miss Hershey has included information about apple grades, sizes and weights that will be helpful when you shop. A chart of apple varieties is also given, listing the characteristics of the different varieties and the uses for which each is best suited.

"Another Way for an Apple a Day" is available free on request from your home demonstration agent, Mrs. Frieda Bennett, 1260 West Blvd.

Tongue Is Versatile

So many good dishes to make from leftover cooked smoked tongue! Use it in a hot loaf, in a cold mousse, in hash or in sandwiches.

Cook Franks, Kraut With Brown Sugar

Skillet Franks and Sauerkraut

1 pound and 11-ounce can sauerkraut
2 tablespoons dark brown sugar
1 teaspoon caraway seeds
8 frankfurters (about one pound)

Empty sauerkraut, including juice in can, into a 10-inch skillet; sprinkle with brown sugar and caraway.

Using a large spoon and a large long handle 2-tine fork, mix well. Heat to simmering; bury frankfurters in sauerkraut.

Delicacy-Filled Food Fair Is Bad Place for Dieters

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Food Editor

Last week I attended the Food and Candy Fair in Detroit. It was no place for anyone who counts calories—they gave away samples! Of course, if you stayed in the room where all the dietetic foods were shown, you were safe; not so in the other part.

Our sweet tooth need never go unsatisfied, not with all the candy-makers vying for our patronage.

MRS. ODELL

I limited my tasting to a bit of a caramel almond bar, a piece of Dutch semi-sweet chocolate and some coconut chips.

I bought a week box of fruit flavored "lumps" (honestly, that's their name) to take home to the Five-Year-Old. The company that makes the lumps also makes square mint patties that looked attractive.

The various booths were well done and showed off the foods in an interesting manner; it was a colorful display. Packaging is such a scientific art these days and probably contributes more than we realize to our purchasing a certain product.

The tins of biscuits from England—cookies to us—were exceptionally well done. One large square box looked like an old-fashioned sampler, complete with stiff little cross-stitched figures and mottoes, all in bright colors.

An intriguing addition to cardtable snacking is a trio of coconut chips, salted, rum-flavored or honey-coated. These I sampled, but I could only look at the jars of spiced, minted and caramel almonds. There was a large display by the company that makes roasted nuts without added fat.

It seems that every country in the world makes cheese, and most of them send some to America. Not being a cheese enthusiast myself, I can't vouch personally for any of the unusual varieties. All I can say is that there is an infinite assortment for your gustatory pleasure.

I'm always interested in the out-of-the-ordinary food that comes in cans. The appeal and sale of such items as buffalo steaks must be limited, but I feel duty-bound to inform you of its availability.

Should you feel so inclined, you might start your next party dinner with one of these soups: Bird's nest, shark's fin of mock kangaroo tail. You might also offer your guests a choice of fenugreek, mate or blueberry tea.

An amusing little jar of jelly featured a citrus chicken sitting on lime marmalade "grass." His body was a whole orange.

Delectable looking were the cans of nut cake from Texas. Black walnut or pecan cake could be served right from the can in thin slices. Heated, it would make an excellent pudding with a hard, custard or cream sauce topping.

Food Fairs are fun.

Contain Acid, Pectin

Jelly-making reminders: Tart, hard-ripe or a mixture of ripe and slightly under-ripe apples, most berries, Concord and similar grapes, currants and plums usually contain enough acid and pectin for making jelly. Pectin must be added to the juice of cherries, peaches and strawberries.

Add one-eighth teaspoon of dried crushed basil to a can of spaghetti in tomato sauce to point up flavor.

Pudding Sauce Has New Twist

One family dessert that is wholesome, delicious and economical, too, is tasty lemonade sauce on fluffy bread pudding. It's been popular since grandmother's day, but now there's a new way to make the lemon sauce.

If you keep a supply of frozen concentrate for lemonade in your freezer or the freezing section of your refrigerator, you always have on hand the makings of lemonade sauce and other lemon desserts and beverages.

Lemonade Sauce

1 can (6 oz.) concentrate for lemonade
Water to make 2 cups, including lemonade
2 tablespoons cornstarch
¼ teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons sugar
⅛ to ¼ teaspoon nutmeg
4 tablespoons butter or margarine

Add water to concentrate for lemonade to make 2 cups. Mix together the cornstarch, salt, sugar and nutmeg. Add the lemonade and water a little at a time until the mixture is dissolved.

Cook in double boiler or over very low heat, stirring constantly, until sauce thickens. Remove from fire. Add butter, stir until it melts. Serve hot or cold. Yield: Three-fourths cup sauce.

Bread Pudding

1½ cups soft bread cubes
2 cups milk
4 tablespoons butter
½ cup sugar
2 eggs
½ teaspoon vanilla
Nutmeg

Soak bread cubes in milk for 10 minutes. Cream butter and sugar until fluffy. Beat eggs and mix with butter and sugar; then stir into soaked bread cubes. Add vanilla. Place in buttered baking dish. Bake in moderate oven (325 degrees) about 20 minutes. Serve with lemonade sauce. Sprinkle with nutmeg.

LEMONADE PUDDING SAUCE—Here's a new-fashioned sauce for an old-fashioned pudding. Make lemonade sauce with the frozen concentrate you've been using all summer for those cooling drinks. Use this sauce on cottage pudding too.

Cheese Important in Meal Preparation

Do you know that . . .

Cheese can be used to tease the appetite, provide protein for a substantial main dish, give zip to a salad, and serve as a tasty dessert.

You can learn a lot about cheese by investigating the cheese section at your grocers. Buy cheese suitable to your use, and buy it in packages the right size for your needs. Keep some on hand for quick and easy meal preparation.

Nutritionally, cheese ranks with meat and eggs as a source of high quality protein. The protein of such animal food products is effectively used by the body. There is no waste in cheese.

Cheese trays for "he-man" get togethers are ideal. Plan a variety of cheese for the tray and serve with a choice of rye bread and crackers.

Sweeten, Salt Cream

Adding a quarter cup of confectioners' sugar to a cup of cream that is to be whipped gives the amount of sweetness that is generally liked. And adding a dash of salt will point up the sweetness.

Dog Owners—does your dog food actually contain REAL MEAT?

(U. S. GOVT. INSPECTED HORSE MEAT)

THE PRINCIPAL INGREDIENT IN FRISKIES IS HORSE MEAT

Is there actually any real horse meat in the dog food you are feeding? Or meat by-products only?

To protect your dog's health the Government requires that all ingredients be shown on the label—principal ingredient first. On the Friskies label the first words are "horse meat"... and every bit is U. S. Government Inspected.

Doesn't your dog deserve REAL horse meat? Aren't his love and affection worth an extra penny or two a day?

These Meats Help Budget Without Using Hamburger

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Food Editor

If only we could give you even the larger part of the recipes that cross our desk we'd be happy. There is, as you may know, a constant stream of new ideas coming from food companies, test kitchens and advertising agencies.

We must constantly pick and choose, give you the recipes we think are new and different, those that will appeal to the majority of our readers.

Today we'd like to discuss meat, that item which puts the largest hole in our food budgets. We've been saving ideas for some of the less expensive cuts.

There's also a good way to use what's left of the Sunday veal roast and the announcement of a new way of merchandising tongue.

Have you made the acquaintance of the beef cut known as flank steak. This steak is literally ripped off the flank of the animal when it is portioned into store cuts; each steer yields only two flank steaks.

Flank steak is usually scored across the grain of the meat. You may pan fry or broil this steak with excellent results, but for a different dish try Flank Steak Italian. Water may be substituted for the wine if desired.

Flank Steak Italian

1 flank steak (1½ to 2 pounds)
3 cups grated soft bread crumbs
½ cup grated Parmesan cheese
½ cup minced parsley
1 clove garlic, minced, or dash of olive oil
Salt and pepper to taste
Flour
3 tablespoons bacon drippings or other fat
2 8-ounce cans tomato sauce
½ cup Burgundy wine, or ½ cup water

Have meat dealer score flank steak. Mix bread crumbs, cheese, parsley, garlic, olive oil, salt and pepper; spread mixture evenly over steak.

Roll steak as you would a jelly roll (from one wide side to the other), tucking in ends as you roll. Fasten with skewers or string. Roll in flour.

Heat bacon drippings in a large heavy skillet or a roasting pan; brown steak nicely on all sides. Add tomato sauce, wine or water, and salt and pepper to taste.

Cover and simmer gently for about 1½ hours, or until meat is very tender, turning and basting steak frequently.

Remove skewers or string and place steak on heated platter. Pour a little gravy over the steak and serve remainder separately.

Ample supplies of lamb are headed for market at reasonable prices one authority states. This doesn't mean you'll get rib or loin chops for pennies, but other cuts will be cheaper.

Beth Bailey McLean, distinguished Chicago food expert, suggests using one of the cheaper cuts in this Lamb Creole recipe.

Lamb Creole

1 pound ground lamb
1 cup diced celery
1 medium onion, chopped
1½ cups cooked tomatoes
1 green pepper
4 ounces noodles
2 teaspoons salt

Brown lamb. Dice onion and brown with celery and lamb in skillet. Add tomatoes. Dice green pepper and add.

Cook noodles according to directions. Add to meat and vegetable mixtures. Season.

Cover and cook over low heat one hour or bake in a moderate (350 degrees) oven. Makes eight servings.

If you're like us, you're always on the lookout for new ways of serving leftover meat. Here is a suggestion for roast veal on the second day.

Veal Casserole With Biscuits

1 cup diced roast veal
1 cup cubed, raw potatoes (½ inch)
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
1 tablespoon chopped onion
1 tablespoon chopped green pepper
1 can condensed cream of celery or mushroom soup
½ teaspoon salt, pepper

Brown potatoes lightly in butter. Add onion and continue browning. Add green pepper, veal and soup. Heat. Season.

Pour into a casserole. Cover with drop biscuit dough, shredded cheese, buttered crumbs, or crushed cornflakes.

Bake in a hot oven (425 degrees) 15 to 20 minutes to bake biscuits or brown topping. Makes two-three servings.

A famous Chicago meat packer has put fully cooked, smoked beef tongues on the market. Gone are the days when it took hours to prepare this delicacy.

We know, lots of you wouldn't touch tongue on a bet. But if you do like it, watch for this new way of merchandising it.

It's a waste-saver too, since 1 pound yields approximately the same number of lean slices as 2 pounds of uncooked, untrimmed tongue.

There are some inexpensive meat ideas . . . and not a word about hamburger!

If you use a heavy saucepan and low heat, it is unnecesary to make a custard or a cream sauce in a double boiler.

LIMITED TIME ONLY!

Limit Jelly Batches

Jelly-making reminders: Jellies made in small quantities are usually more satisfactory. Work with not more than 6 to 8 cups of juice at a time.

If you use frozen shrimp, remember that the flavor is best if thawed in the refrigerator rather than at room temperature.

Nutritious Liver Achieves New Zest With Oranges

Wonderful liver deserves a very special place in your menu planning, not only for its high nutritive value, but for goodness of flavor and versatility as well.

This tender meat combines well with such old favorites as onions or bacon, but for a different, truly special treat, combine it with poached orange slices garnished with bits of crumbled bacon. This makes an attractive as well as delicious main course.

Good supplies of cattle now coming to market make beef liver an exceptionally good value at this time, though pork, lamb, veal and calves liver are also in good supply.

But whichever type of liver you choose, you'll be sure of bonus amounts of vitamins, minerals and high quality proteins so necessary to health and well being.

Liver is a delicate meat that requires constant refrigeration. If you purchase fresh liver, wrap it loosely and keep it in the coldest part of your refrigerator and use within 24 hours of purchase.

Frozen liver should be kept frozen until ready to use, and then thawed in the refrigerator or according to the directions on the package. A well-known brand name is your best guide to quality when choosing frozen liver. Because there is very little waste to liver, you may count on four good servings per pound.

Liver is an easy meat to prepare and lends its goodness to a variety of tempting dishes. Remember that liver need no soaking, parboiling or precooking if you plan to broil, pan-fry or braise it.

However, if you plan to grind the liver for patties or liver loaf, it should be pre-cooked as the recipe directs.

Thyme 'N' Orange Liver

4 slices bacon, chopped
1 pound beef liver, sliced
2 tablespoons flour
1 teaspoon powdered thyme
½ teaspoon pepper
1 teaspoon salt
2 oranges, peeled and sliced

Pan-fry bacon. Drain on absorbent paper. Pour off all except 2 tablespoons drippings. Combine flour, thyme, salt and pepper. Dip liver slices in the flour mixture. Brown liver on both sides in the bacon drippings. Add oranges. Cover. Cook over low heat for 15 minutes. Makes four servings.

THYME 'N' ORANGE LIVER—Pictured here is a liver dish fragrant and savory with a delicate touch of thyme. The fruit flavor from the sliced oranges combines admirably with the meaty goodness of the liver. For contrast, crisp bits of bacon are added.

Jelly-making reminders: Squeezing or pressing the jelly bag causes juice to be cloudy. Some of the cloudiness may be removed by straining the juice through a fresh bag.

Mushroom Stuffing Peps Up Tomatoes

Once a year—during the height of the tomato season—you can indulge in the riotous use of fresh tomatoes. Stuffing them with a variety of fillings is a way to surprise your family.

Try mushroom-stuffed tomatoes. For eight large, firm tomatoes—tops sliced off and centers scooped out—make filling as follows:

Fry one-third cup chopped bacon and in the drippings brown 1 tablespoon finely chopped onion and one-fourth cup chopped celery. Blend with 1 quart of toasted one-half-inch bread cubes and add 1 can of condensed mushroom soup.

Stuff tomato shells with the mushroom mixture. Top each with one-half tablespoon grated Parmesan cheese. Bake at 305 degrees for 30 minutes.

Scalloped Potatoes Are Baked Whole

Baked Cream Potatoes

2 pounds new potatoes
2½ cups milk
⅛ cup melted butter
½ teaspoon salt
⅛ cup sliced onion
⅛ cup flour
Few grains pepper

Wash and peel potatoes. Place in lightly buttered 2-quart baking dish.

Combine milk, butter, salt and onion. Pour over potatoes.

Cover baking dish; bake in moderate oven (350) for 1½ hours or until potatoes are tender.

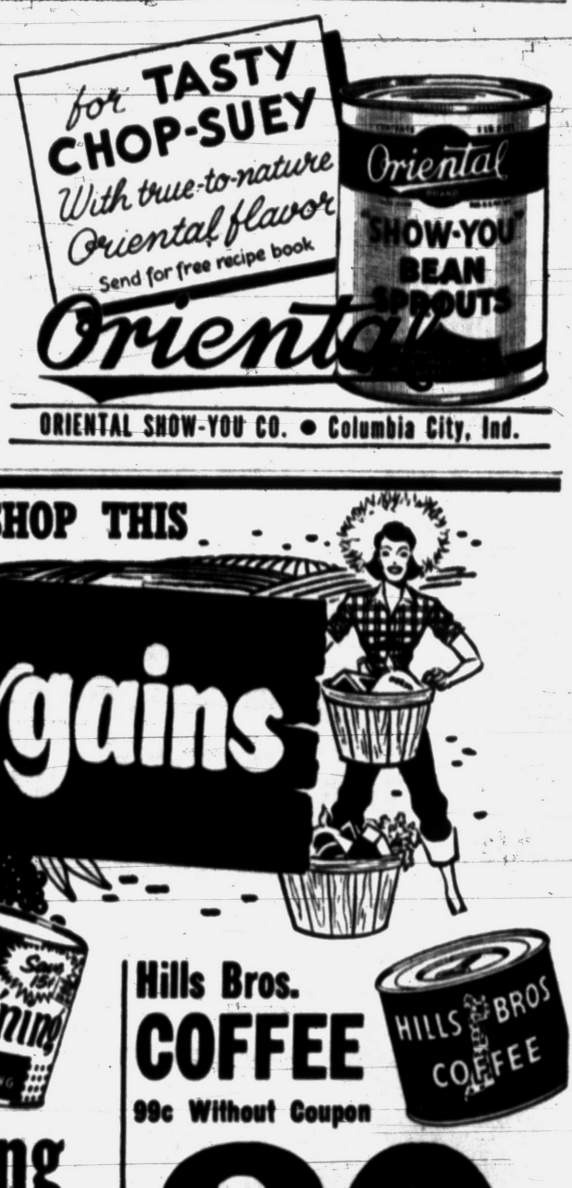

Remove any film that forms during baking. Remove potatoes. Add flour mixed to a smooth paste in cold water; cook until thickened. Season with pepper.

Add potatoes; heat. Serves four to six.

Golden Bread Cubes Are Ideal Canapes

These golden canapes are ideal to serve with fruit juice, soups, salads and cocktails.

Remove crusts from a loaf of unsliced enriched yeast-raised bread. Cut bread into 1½-inch cubes. Cream together one 3-ounce package of soft snappy cheese and one-fourth pound butter. When blended, spread generously on top of bread cubes; place on greased baking sheet.

SPICED PEAR PICKLES—Here is a new version of an old favorite, pickled pears. In addition to the regular spices, this recipe calls for a sliced orange and a lemon. Use these spiced pears for salad material as well as for pickles.

Yeast Available Dry, in Compressed Form

Ever wonder what the difference is between compressed and active dry yeast? Compressed yeast is a moist mixture of yeast and starch, and the yeast is in an active state; because the yeast is moist, it is perishable.

Active dry yeast is similar to compressed yeast except that the mixture has been dried and comes packaged in granular form.

Sour Cream Used for Quick Dressing

With a bottle of sour cream in the refrigerator you need never lack the makings of a good salad dressing. Add the traditional ingredients used for Thousand Island dressing, and youll find a new taste thrill.

Quick Thousand Island Dressing

1 cup sour cream
2 tablespoons chopped chives or green onions
¼ cup chili sauce
2 hard-cooked eggs, diced
¼ cup mixed pickle relish

Combine ingredients, mixing well. Chill. Serve on crisp salad greens. Serves six.

Pantry Shelf Dessert

Pickle Golden Pears Now to Brighten Winter Menus

Bartlett pears are ripe and ready for early fall menus; or for canning and spicing. Add variety to next winter's menus by serving a generous supply of preserved fruit to see the family through the seasons ahead.

Fruit growing is an important industry in the state of Washington, the home of wonderful soft fruits. Rich volcanic soil and an ideal climate for the development of healthy fruit trees are two reasons for the growth of the industry which started with one pear tree in Yakima Valley in 1875.

From this humble beginning has developed a Bartlett pear industry which spreads the fame of Washington orchards around the world. For the Bartlett pear is perfect for canning and most of the crops finds its way to commercial canneries or into the home kitchens for canning and spicing.

Enjoy the distinctive flavor of Washington Bartlett pears the year 'round by buying golden Bartletts now and preserving their sun-drenched sweetness for grayer days ahead.

This recipe is delicious and well worth the added hours necessary in preparation. The spiced pear pickles are delicious served on crisp salad greens with mayonnaise and chopped nuts for salad.

Served in pineapple juice, the pickled slices make a delightful cocktail. They are a perfect accompaniment for prime ribs of beef or meatballs and spaghetti!

Sliced Pear Pickles

6 quarts Bartlett pears, cut into eights
7 cups granulated sugar
3 cups vinegar
1 teaspoon whole cloves
1 piece of whole ginger
3 3-inch sticks cinnamon

Wash, peel and core the pears; cut into eights and measure. Combine the sugar, vinegar, cloves and cinnamon, tied loosely in bag, in a saucepan and bring to boil. Pour over the pears.

Cover the pears so they are held under the syrup. Let stand overnight at room temperature. On the second day drain the syrup from the pears, bring to a boil, pour back over the pears. Let stand a second night.

The third day slice one small unpeeled orange and one unpeeled lemon. Cut each slice into quarters. Add orange and lemon to the pears and syrup; heat to the boiling point.

Remove whole spices. Turn at once into hot sterilized jars, seal immediately. Makes 6 pints.

Scanty Weather Bureau Budget Has Become Tradition

(Editor's Note: In its struggle to learn nature's secrets in order to save lives and millions of dollars lost annually through storms and droughts, the U. S. Weather Bureau has developed exciting new projects despite a traditionally slim budget. Here's a closeup of how the bureau goes about its work, vital to every American. First of a three-part series.)

By DON WHITEHEAD

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congressmen, like everybody else, complain about the weather. And, like everybody else, they don't do much about it.

For, despite the fact hurricanes, violent storms and drought cost Americans hundreds of millions of dollars annually and take a heavy toll in lives, the federal government—through Democratic and Republican administrations alike—has long treated the U.S. Weather Bureau as an official stepchild.

In keeping with what has almost become a Washington tradition, the Weather Bureau today has available for weather research in 1955 only one-sixteenth as much as the eight million dollars which is paid for a single B52 jet bomber.

The $500,000 earmarked for research is squeezed out of the bureau's $24,750,000 budget, one of the more modest of all federal budgets.

The big money in weather research and operations is spent by the Air Force and the Navy with programs geared largely to military needs.

A top Weather Bureau official says the bureau doesn't even have access to all the "classified" weather secrets uncovered in military research.

This doesn't mean the Weather Bureau operates independently and without the benefit of the huge military weather network spread around the world. The Air Force, Navy and Weather Bureau work together on many projects and share most of the benefits of their collective effort.

But in money and personnel, the Weather Bureau is running second to the military. The Air Force has some 12,000 officers, noncoms and civilian personnel in its weather service and the Navy has another 3,000.

The Weather Bureau can number only about 3,800 plus a few parttime workers on the forecasting payroll.

Today the Weather Bureau is correct 85 times out of 100 in its forecasts. But that 15 per cent is too great a margin of error. A wrong forecast or lack of warning can mean deaths and suffering.

The recent hurricanes "Carol" and "Edna" were painful reminders of man's struggle with the elements ever since the beginning of history.

Perhaps the most exciting developments in the Weather Bureau these days revolves around these projects:

1. A promising new method of pinpointing the paths of tornadoes which may mean the vicious twisters aren't likely to strike without warning as they now do so often.

2. A new method of making more accurate weather forecasts by a mathematical formula fed through a huge computing machine.

3. Long-range weather forecasts.

The new research into weather represents the sum of man's knowledge about the weather gleaned over the centuries.

The Greek philosopher Aristotle in 600 B.C. did the first meteorological writing that had any real authority.

In the middle of the 19th Century a Cincinnati astronomer, Cleveland Abbe, set up what is now generally recognized as the first organized weather service in America.

He got weather observations from the surrounding area by the infant telegraph network spreading westward—and then he figured it "probably" would rain or "probably" would be fair on the morrow. He became known as "old Probs."

At this time unpredicted storms were raising hob with shipping on the Great Lakes. In 1869 alone, more than 1,900 vessels were sunk by storms on the lakes.

The next year Congress passed a joint resolution giving the storm warning responsibility to the Army Signal Corps. Gen. A. J. Myer, commanding the Signal Corps, figured his organization could make observation at Army posts and thus track the storms moving across the Midwest.

The general put a Milwaukeean, Increase A. Lapham, in charge of the storm warning service and this was the beginning of the Weather Bureau. But Lapham quit soon.

Myer then called in Cleveland Abbe to take over the job. Abbe moved into Washington and stayed on the job for 45 years before he retired.

It wasn't until radio came along that forecasts and storm warnings could be pushed out to the people.

The weather service remained in the Signal Corps until 1890, when it was moved into the Agriculture Department because of the importance of the forecasts to the farmers. In 1940 Congress put the Bureau into the Commerce Department, where it now is.

Honolulu and Portland Feud Over Volcanoes

HONOLULU (UP)—A recent claim by Portland, Ore., to being the only city in the United States with an extinct volcano within its city limits brought a cry of "false claim" from Mayor John H. Wilson of Honolulu.

Wilson, saying that he always has thought of Honolulu as part of the United States, pointed to Punchbowl, Koko Head and Diamond Head craters, as a starting list of the extinct volcanoes within the city limits. And he added there are undoubtedly several others that "we have forgotten about."

"Trouble is," said the mayor, "a lot of people don't get around very much these days."

Arrest Just 'Swell'

PAULS VALLEY, Okla. (UP) — Deputy Sheriff Tom Abbey surprised a grand larceny suspect in bed. Then the officer almost wished he hadn't. The suspect was swollen up with mumps—and Abney had never had them.

Want to make the Beautiful Buy?

You can't beat success in an automobile for proof of value. So take a look at the national sales figures and you find this fact: Buick today is outselling all other cars in America—regardless of price class—except two of the so-called "low-price three." And when you look at the "tomorrow" styling of this glamorous beauty—when you try it for V8 power, for room, for comfort, for ride—and when you check its low delivered price—you have all the reasons for Buick's soaring success.

Want to get the Top Allowance on your present car?

The more cars we sell, the better deal we can make with you. So with our tremendous volume right now, we can offer you more money as an allowance on your present car when you trade it in for a new Buick. That means we're passing our success on to you where it counts—in the fewer dollars you pay for this dazzling new Buick.

Want to be sure of a High Resale Value?

You can see for yourself that Buick today is graced with modern beauty—year-ahead styling that's bound to stay fresh and new-looking for years to come. It's what the other cars will come to in the future—even to that broad panoramic windshield that's on every new Buick today. So you can be sure that you'll trade high later when you're ready to resell the Buick you buy right now. Come in—this very week—and make the buy of the year in Buick. You'll find you're way ahead now—and at trade-in time well in the future.

Claims Radical Forces Will Rule Congress if GOP Fails to Win

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—Vice President Nixon says that if the Republicans lose control of Congress this November, it will be ruled by "left wing" Democratic forces headed by "three men on a horse riding backward."

Nixon, addressing a GOP rally at nearby Averill Park last night, lashed at Adlai Stevenson, unsuccessful Democratic candidate for President in 1952; Stephen A. Mitchell, Democratic National Chairman, and Sen. Wayne Morse (Ind-Ore).

"Why do I say riding backward?" He asked. "Because from Stevenson all we hear are quips and criticisms; from Mitchell, smear and fear; and from Morse —well, he just acts like Morse."

Nixon, on a 33-state tour to drum up Republican votes in the forthcoming Congressional elections, told newsmen on arrival here that the GOP faced "an uphill fight" to retain control of the House.

But he said Republican candidates were running ahead in nine of the 10 Senate races he had looked over during his tour.

The vice president also issued a standing invitation to Gov. Thomas E. Dewey to join the Republican administration in Washington. Dewey will leave the governor's mansion Jan. 1.

"In my opinion," Nixon said, "there is no position in the federal government today that Governor Dewey could not handle superbly."

Loan Experts to India

PARIS (INS) — Czechoslovakian emigre circles in Paris say the Czech Ministry of Industry has agreed to "lend" 80 textile dye experts to the Indian government. The specialists will supervise installing textile dye machines and teach workers to operate them.

Mates Died Violently

Mild, 61-Year-Old Faces Death for Killing 3rd Wife

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP)—A mild-appearing, white-haired 61-year-old man — whose three wives have died violently — will be sentenced to death here Monday.

George F. Sack, questioned by police about his first wife's death and found innocent by reason of insanity after his second wife's death, was convicted by an all-male jury here last night of murdering his third wife.

A death sentence is mandatory, but Sack's attorney said he would appeal.

The jury took seven hours to decide that the dapper, precise Sack did away with his wife because he feared she was going to divorce him and claim part of his $125,000 in property.

The state contended he did it by shoving her into the luggage compartment of his automobile last February and keeping her there until she suffocated. The body was found dumped in a vacant lot.

George Cary, who said he happened to be walking near the lot at the time, was the state's key witness. He said he saw a man carry something from a car into the lot. He wrote down the car's license number, and turned it over to police. The number was Sack's.

Sack's first wife died in an apartment house fire in Chicago in the early 1920s. His second was killed a few years later in Chicago by a gun shot. Sack was accused of killing her.

Defended by the famed attorney, Clarence Darrow, Sack was found insane, and went to a mental hospital for several years.

He came to Oregon in 1940, and bought an apartment house, where he lived alone until he met Goldie Goodrich, 55, a Great Falls, Mont., school teacher, at a public dance hall here two years ago. They were married shortly afterward. Witnesses said it was not long until Sack was quarreling violently with her, and she began considering a divorce.

Deneb Algedi, the Goat's Tail, is easy to find . . . the eastern tip of the unside-down-paper-hat-shape we call Capricornus. This is one of the zodiacal constellations, those star groups along which lie the annual path of the sun, the monthly path of the moon, and the varying paths of the planets. Deneb is exactly a third magnitude star, about one-fifth as bright as Fomalhaut, the bright star southeast of Deneb Algedi. This third magnitude star is fifty-three light years from your eyes . . . that is, the light you see tonight has been traveling toward you ever since 1901, at 300,000,000 meters per second. Deneb is 16½ degrees south of the equator . . . passes overhead such places as the Mato Grosso in Brazil and Madagascar.

Federal, Military Areas to Get Grant for Schools

WASHINGTON (INS)—The government has set aside nearly 45 million dollars to help provide classrooms for children in areas where school enrollment is swollen by the new federal industrial and military installations.

U.S. Commissioner of Education Samuel Brownell made the announcement today and said the money will be used to build facilities in 288 communities located in 40 states and Alaska and Hawaii.

Man Arrested 212 Times as Drunk Is Back Again

DETROIT (INS)—William Sweeney surprised no one Wednesday when he appeared in recorder's court on a drunkeness charge.

Recorder's Judge O. Z. Ide turned another page—the 13th in Sweeney's police record, noted it was the 213th time the 64-year-old Detroiter has appeared in court on similar charges, and sentenced him to another 45 days in jail.

Since 1928, Sweeney has spent 4,630 days—nearly 13 years—in jail.

Party Doesn't Pay Off

FRANKFURT (INS) — Party membership in Communist Poland is no longer paying off. Reports say at least 90 per cent of Poland's 1,227,000 card-carrying Communist Party members have been stripped of all privileges.

Provoo to Be Tried Again for World War II Treason

BALTIMORE (INS) — John David Provoo, former Army staff sergeant whose conviction and life sentence for treason were upset by the U.S. Court of Appeals, will be retried here, probably early next year.

A new warrant charging the 36-year-old former San Francisco bank clerk with treason while a prisoner of the Japanese in World War II, was issued here yesterday.

U.S. Atty. George Cochran Doub said he will seek an indictment before the Federal District Court grand jury convening here Oct. 18. He hopes to bring Provoo to trial within three months of that time.

Doub, who said he believes the government considers "this the most important treason trial since that of Aaron Burr," indicated the new trial will be as costly and drawn out as the first.

In one of the wierdest cases to come out of World War II, Provoo was convicted Feb. 11, 1953, of broadcasting wartime propaganda for the Japanese, of abusing fellow American soldiers in prison camps, and of causing the death of Army Capt. Burton C. Thomson of Swea City, Iowa, by informing on him.

Federal Judge Gregory F. Noonan sentenced him to life in prison.

The U.S. District Court of Appeals in New York last Aug. 27 upset the conviction and sentence on the ground that Provoo should have been tried in Maryland where he was an Army prisoner at the time of his arrest on the treason charge. The Appeals Court also said the government wrongfully insinuated before the jury that Provoo was homosexual.

It left up to the government the choice of appealing to the Supreme Court or retrying Provoo in the Maryland District.

The issuance of the warrant yesterday eliminated a Supreme Court appeal, Doub said.

The reversal cost the government a million dollar investment. With 69 witnesses—34 for the government, 35 for the defense—brought from all over the world, it cost the government that much to convict Provoo.

Doub said most of the witnesses probably would be recalled.

Provoo presently is held in the federal detention house in New York. He probably will be brought here next week.

Provoo denied aiding the Japanese except under pain of death.

Palladium is being used in some types of new jewelry to replace platinum. It is said to cost one-fourth as much and has the qualities of being strong, light and easily workable.

Expect Coffee Drop of 10-15 Cents by '55

NEW YORK (UP)—The American housewife will pay 10 to 15 cents less for a pound of coffee before the end of this year, industry sources predicted today.

"Prices must go down because we have more coffee available now than we had a year ago," one leading coffee roaster said.

"Consumer resistance this year has cut coffee consumption by around 20 per cent. The law of supply and demand will push prices down further."

Coffee prices started up last December and then took another spurt in the spring.

Within the past six weeks, price cuts have shaved off some 40 per cent of the increase which sent coffee as high as $1.45 a pound.

Alligators and caymans are distinguished from crocodiles by having shorter, blunter jaws, and they are considered to be less active and vicious.

Bricks Bury 2 in Troy Crash

Truck and Car Collision at Crooks, Long Lake Hospitalizes Three

TROY TOWNSHIP—Two brothers were injured yesterday when they were buried under a load of bricks as their car collided with a brick-truck at Crooks and Long Lake Roads.

In St. Joseph Mercy Hospital are Ralph Drinkard, 28, of Clawson, and Boone Drinkard, 26, of Berkley, with cuts and bruises, and a fractured right arm and cuts, respectively.

Also hospitalized truck driver Clark E. Seabert, 27, of Detroit told Troy police he was going east on Long Lake Road, and stopped at the intersection. He said he started up, and didn't see the car. He has a fractured left shoulder and bruises.

Buggy Painter Returns as Artist

By WILMA GREENWAY

From painting horseless carriages back in 1898 to painting art pictures in 1954 is a long, long jump. But Ralph B. Johnson, formerly of Waterford Township and Pontiac, is a real sportsman and he was able to take that jump right in stride.

And to prove he's still an extra step or two ahead, the alert 70-year-old retired Fisher Body Co. executive has even tried a few innovations of his own.

One of them is painting in reverse on plastic, so that the completed picture, seen through the plastic, has an added gloss and color brilliancy pleasing to many.

Johnson, who with his wife, Alta, moved to California after his retirement in 1945, was born in Pontiac and lived for many years on Airport road just across from the airfield. Currently he and his wife are spending a three-week visit with the Louis A. Howells at 289 E. Pike St. here.

The former sportsman and auto body painter has never had an art lesson in his life. He started painting in oils only three years ago, at the age of 67, when a heart attack forced him to curtail his activities. Yet today he has close to 200 paintings to his credit.

As a paint specialist whom General Motors Corp. had thought good enough to send to Europe and the Far East to supervise their paint departments, Johnson really knew how to mix colors.

But, outside of painting fancy scrollwork and flowers on carriage bodies back in the days when he worked for Pontiac Buggy Co., art was a mystery to him.

Nevertheless, when he found himself confined to bed and an armchair, he called for the familiar materials — paint and brushes. Mixing his colors in tin jar tops, he started out to become an artist.

Whenever a friend sent a scenic postcard, out would come the paint and brushes. Soon a picture-size replica, painted in oils, would be mailed back as a gift.

There were plenty of cards.

Health and strength returned gradually, but painting continued an all-absorbing interest.

Although experts have praised his work for its depth of color, Johnson doesn't think he can qualify as an artist yet.

"I've only got the spadework in," he says, "but I expect to get a lot better."

"After all, if Eisenhower can do it, and Churchill can do it, why can't I?"

During his visit here, the amateur artist isn't doing much painting though. He's having too good a time reminiscing.

He's well known in the sports world. He played fackle with the Detroit Heralds, forerunner to the Lions, back when Briggs Stadium was still Navin Field. Had the same locker as Ty Cobb. Played semi-pro football with the Pontiac Orioles during World War I, too, and ran a gym and refereed prize fights here.

He worked for Fisher Body when Lawrence Fisher was a foreman in the plant, and he can tell you that young Fisher was a "good feller," not averse to sitting in on a hand of poker with the boys.

With a little prodding, he'll tell you about the Airport Baseball Team he organized in Waterford Township, and what great players it had. He'll brag how that team "beat the Fisher Body semi-pro team that went to the national championship finals in the early 1940s."

But though sports are out for him in the future, Johnson isn't the man to waste any time on regrets. He's absorbed with the idea of perfecting his artwork.

"After all," he says, "Grandma Moses didn't start till she was 83, and I've still got 10 years on her."

Telegraph Road Crash Hospitalizes Woman, 27

Mrs. Kathryn D. Otto, 27, of 4120 Echo Rd., Bloomfield Hills, is reported in fair condition today at Pontiac General Hospital with injuries she sustained yesterday when her car hit a cement abutment on Telegraph road near James K Blvd.

Mrs. Otto has a broken right leg, and knee and head cuts. Witnesses said Mrs. Otto was traveling at a high rate of speed, according to Pontiac Police.

Squirrel Hunter Fined

GRAND HAVEN (UP)—Roy Mayse, 24, of Rural Spring Lake, paid $24.40 in fines and court costs Wednesday for hunting during closed season. Mayse, arrested Tuesday, told Justice Fred Worman he killed a fox squirrel but merely to protect his property. Mayse said squirrels were tearing holes in his roof and causing other damage.

5 Change Pleas in Court Cases

All Admit Crimes and Will Be Sentenced Here October 1

Five persons originally slated for criminal trials in Circuit Court next month changed their pleas from innocent to guilty yesterday and will be sentenced Oct. 11 according to Oakland County Prosecutor Frederick C. Ziem.

The reversed pleas came after the five met with Judge H. Russel Holland and Chief Assistant Prosecutor George F. Taylor in pretrial conferences.

The conference is used to enable accused persons intending to change their pleas a chance to do so and avoid necessity of assembling a jury, Ziem explained.

Pleading guilty were George Cummings, 29, of 85 Perkins St., charged with passing a bad check; Hubert Penfold, 45, of 449 Brooks Ave., admitting a third drunk driving offense; Ellen Lyman, 20, of 3348 Mack, Detroit, charged with grand larceny; Lyle Lynn, 20, of 1793 Beechcroft, Keego Harbor, admitting a thieft and Thomas Humphries, 29, of 65 Parke St., charged with aggravated assault.

The pre-trial conferences are continuing today, said Ziem.

Mrs. Small Moves From Detroit Home

DETROIT (UP) — Mrs. Edith Small, 30, wife of the Detroit dentist who killed her New York boy friend for stealing her affections, moved household goods out of the family home today and prepared to leave Detroit.

Mrs. Small, who has filed for divorce from her husband, Kenneth, was to move to Los Angeles.

Small recently was released from Ionia State Hospital where he had been sent after a jury ruled he was insane when he killed Jules Lack, 45, New York executive who had wooed away his wife.

Injured in Auto Crash

Richard B. Green, 43, of 1436 Wren Lane Rd., Wixom, was treated at Pontiac General Hospital for injuries suffered when his car skidded off Haggerty road near Pontiac Trail yesterday and hit a tree, according to Michigan State Police of the Pontiac Post. Green received injuries to both hands and knees and scalp cuts.

'Twas a Long Light

BLOOMFIELD, N. J. (UP) — Thomas Purvis, 49, of Montclair, N. J., was fined $26 Wednesday by Magistrate Arthur Talmage. Purvis was charged with falling asleep in his car while waiting for a traffic light to change.

Tank Contract Pleases Solon

Kefauver Says Award to Chrysler Will Boost National Security

WASHINGTON (UP)—The award of a contract for new M48 tanks to Chrysler Corp. will make the nation's defense "more secure," Sen. Kefauver (D-Tenn) said yesterday.

Kefauve rsaid in a statement he had fought for more tank makers "on the basis that it was uneconomic and dangerous for the government to depend upon one supplier—General Motors—in its tank production."

Kefauver's comment came on announcement by the Philadelphia Ordnance District of award of a $160,601,200 contract to Chrysler's Newark, Del., plant.

Previously, Kefauver said, there were four suppliers. He listed them as American Locomotive, General Motors, Ford and Chrysler.

He said American Locomotive and Ford went out of production because of cutbacks in orders, leaving only two suppliers last fall when the Army awarded an exclusive contract to General Motors. At the same time, he said, the Chrysler tank production machinery was ordered into mothballs.

Escapee Is Recaptured at Orion Township Farm

A former Drayton Plains man who walked away from a Jackson prison farm Aug. 23, was captured by Oakland County sheriff's deputies and Pontiac Police after they surrounded an Orion Township farm house yesterday.

Cecil B. Warren, 26, sentenced to Jackson Prison in 1947 for breaking and entering during the night time for 1½ to 15 years, was employed as a farmhand on the farm where he was captured.

He walked away from Waterloo Prison Farm near Chelsea.

Boy Dies After Faint

GRAND RAPIDS (UP) — Marshall L. Cone, 6, died Tuesday after fainting on a school playground. His father, J. D. Cone, said the boy had been subject to fainting spells for several years and had been a frequent hospital patient.

Aviation Starts New Calculation

Nautical Mile and Knot Replace Statute Mile in U.S. Tonight

WASHINGTON (UP) — Aviation in the United States officially switches over at midnight tonight from the statute mile to the king-sized nautical mile and the knot.

The quiet changeover follows several years of bitter wrangling over the step to standardize military and civil flying.

While commercial airlines will have to figure speed and distance in knots and aeronautical miles, non-airline aircraft, including private pilots, may continue reporting in the present terms of miles and miles per hour if they wish.

The Civil Aeronautics Administration (CAA) said it will normally transmit information as to speed and distance, in ground-to-air communication, in nautical units but on specific request will also transmit them in statute units.

Many of the airlines have already converted their cockpit instruments to the new standards, which were first proposed to go into effect more than two years ago.

For light aircraft which have not converted to the new system, the CAA has developed several simple devices to aid the pilot in changing from one unit to the other at will. One such device consists of a small plastic ring reading in knots, which fits on the outer ring of the present air speed indicator.

CAA communicators, tower operators and weather bureau personnel also will give wind speed and other speed values in statute miles per hour at the pilot's request.

The nautical mile is 6,080.2 feet. One knot is one nautical mile an hour. The statute mile is 5,280 feet.

The Navy and Coast Guard have used the nautical system all along, and the Air Force started conversion to that standard in March 1947.

Divers Speed Hunt for Bodies

U.S. Equipment Helps Japanese Search for 800 in Sunken Ferry

HAKODATE, Japan (UP) — Japanese divers, using torches borrowed from the U. S. Army, today cut a gaping hole in the capsized ferry Toya Maru to speed recovery of more than 800 bodies, including about 40 Americans.

Three bodies brought out shortly afterward were identified by Japanese officials as Sgt. 1.C. James E. Huey Jr. of Bridgefield, Pa.; Sgt. Willard B. Batchelder of Brockton, Mass., and Pfc. Melvin K. Day of Stidham, Okla.

Until American equipment arrived, divers groping through murky water inside the hull had brought up only 64 bodies in three days.

The 9-foot hole cut by divers opened up compartments where hundreds are believed to have died when the 4,300-ton vessel turned turtle in Hakodate Harbor in a typhoon Sunday night.

Rescue headquarters said less than 200 of more than 1,300 aboard the Toya Maru are known to have survived.

Race Track Hearing Set

LANSING (UP) — Sen. Perry W. Greene (R-Grand Rapids) said today a special legislative committee will hold a public hearing at the Cadillac Square Building in Detroit Oct. 11 to determine whether there is necessity for a fourth horse race track in Michigan.

Censure Solons Get Mail Bags Full of Brickbats

WASHINGTON (UP) — The special Senate committee which voted to recommend censure of Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) is getting more abuse than praise in the mails, but the ratio of brickbats is decreasing.

An estimated 12,000 pieces of mail were received by the six-man committee before, during and after its recent hearing.

The mail hasn't been fully analyzed, but an aide to Chairman Watkins (R-Utah) estimated in response to a query that it was running about 20-1 in favor of McCarthy before the committee's report was made public Monday. A sampling of mail received by Watkins this week indicates the ratio has dropped to about 7-1 in favor of McCarthy.

The committee members, appointed by Vice President Nixon to weigh accusations aimed at McCarthy by three colleagues, were described by letter writers as "bone-heads," "pro-Communists," "biased" and many other names.

Other writers praised the committee for "forthright, sincere, objective analysis . . . bending over backwards in an effort to be fair . . . restoring our confidence in and respect for the U. S. Senate."

As committee chairman, Watkins was singled out by many correspondents. A man named Watkins said the committee's "stupidity makes it embarrassing to have you in the family."

Car Deaths Dip for 8th Month

Safety Council Reports Year's Fatalities Down by 6 Pct. From '53

CHICAGO (UP)—Month by month your chance of coming back alive from an automobile trip is getting better.

The National Safety Council reported today that August was the eighth month in a row in which traffic deaths have been cut.

The safety streak means a saving of almost 1,500 lives. At the end of August 1953 traffic deaths totaled 24,200; the same time this year they amounted to 22,780, a cut of 6 per cent.

August's toll of 3,330 was the lowest for the month since 1950 and a reduction of 10 per cent from August 1953.

"There is a real chance now to keep the record going for the remainder of the year," Ned H. Dearborn, council president, said.

"The big danger now is the tricky fall season with its changing weather and earlier darkness."

Reports Asylum Sought by East German Official

BERLIN (UP)—Information Bureau West reported today that a ranking official of the East German Liberal Democratic party has asked for political asylum in West Berlin, claiming that Communist secret police were about to arrest him.

The IWE, which specializes in news and rumors from the Soviet Zone, identified the man as Werner Wurche, party secretary for the Magdeburg district and member of the party's executive committee.

'Copter Ambulance Service Is Planned for Emergencies Anywhere in Nation

WASHINGTON (UP)—Helicopter ambulances for emergencies anywhere in the country are the aim of the newly incorporated National Air Ambulance Service.

An aeronautical engineer, William F. Samayoa, dedicated himself to this idea years ago when a young friend died of an accident on his father's sugar plantation in Guatemala because there was no way to rush him to a hospital.

Here's how the 49-year-old Samayoa describes a typical air rescue: By telephone, a helicopter ambulance would be summoned to the site of an automobile accident, a burning building or a tornado-struck neighborhood.

This ambulance would carry a doctor from its base or pick one up along the way, by landing at a hospital or hovering overhead.

Arriving on the scene, it would again land, or hover and lower the doctor and a stretcher for the injured; then pick them up and speed to the hospital.

Financial support for National Air Ambulance Service, Inc., is being solicited from business and industry, insurance companies and hospitalization plans, auto clubs and the general public.

The service will be available to anyone who needs it. Samayoa figures that rural areas, with their greater distances and fewer improved roads, would benefit most from the service, but the most concentrated support for it is available in city areas.

Samayoa points out the air ambulance service would be useful for air raid casualties as well as for accident and other disaster victims.

The cost, he estimates, would run about $50 per rescue at the start; less as the service expands. He thinks any number from 1 to 10 per cent of the population would use the service.

His plans have been submitted to the Civil Aeronautics Administration, which must clear them for safety. Samayoa points out that human safety is his objective.

He wants to start the Washington service with a staff of 10 persons, who would be on a 24-hour alert for any emergencies within 50 miles of the capital. The sky's the only limit to the eventual extent of his operations.

Look-Alike Sisters Have Twin Lives

ROCHESTER, N. Y. (UP)—Janet and Margaret Johnson aren't twins, but most people think they are, and they've just celebrated a term of 32 years of employment at a plant here.

They applied for work at the plant at the same time, were hired together and started work in identical jobs. They even were transferred twice together to different departments. And they have worked side by side throughout.

Both were born in January, but a year apart, and they have lived together all their lives. They look alike, too. The only big difference is that one is a Democrat, the other a Republican.

Polio in County Gains in Week

Report 18 New Cases, Two Deaths; Other Diseases Increase

Increase in the county's polio cases over the past three weeks was reported today with the latest figures showing 18 new cases during the past week.

Two deaths due to polio also were reported last week, according to an Oakland County Dept. of Health bulletin.

The previous week 13 cases were reported and the week ending Sept. 11 showed a total of 10 new cases in the county.

Also showing a marked increase were 13 tuberculosis cases and 15 cases of mumps, as compared with five and one, respectively.

The health department also reports the following cases for last week:

	Past Week	Week Ending Sept. 18, '54	Week Ending Sept. 26, '53
Chicken pox	3	1	6
Measles	1	0	2
Pneumonia	1	6	0
Poliomyelitis	17	13	12

Tuberculosis (all forms)	13	5	0
Whooping cough	8	4	4
Mumps	10	1	3
Rubella	3	0	11
Hepatitis	2	0	2
Diarrhea	3	2	3

Pontiac, where no polio cases were reported during the previous two weeks, reported only one person stricken.

The following totals were reported by Dr. John D. Monroe, acting director of Pontiac Health Dept.:

	Past Week	Week Ending Sept. 18, '54	Week Ending Sept. 26, '53
Chicken pox	0	1	0
Rubella	0	0	1
Scarlet fever	0	0	1

Holdups With Toy Gun Net 6-Year Jail Term

BALTIMORE (AP)—Robert Chapple was sentenced to six years in the House of Correction yesterday for holding up two taxicab drivers with a gun he found on a Baltimore street.

Asst. State's Atty. Joseph G. Koutz said the 24-year-old Chapple did not know the gun was only a toy cap pistol until after the holdups.

Kentucky Duelists Fined $10 on Drunk Charges

RICHMOND, Ky. (AP)—Two Richmond men who dueled with pistols at close range yesterday suffered only financially.

Police Chief Carl Newland said Mack Drivers and James White fired several shots at each other—less than four paces apart.

Both escaped bodily harm, but were fined $10 and costs for being drunk.

Catholic Burial Service Set for Sen. McCarran

RENO (AP)—Arrangements were completed today for Catholic burial rites Saturday for Sen. Pat McCarran, 78 (D-Nev) who died Tuesday night.

A congressional delegation will attend the funeral. The rosary was scheduled for 8 p.m. tomorrow in St. Thomas Aquinas cathedral here, with the body to lie in state afterward.

One-half of the pedestrian deaths in the U. S. occur from 6 p.m. to midnight.

Musicians Find Cities Confusing in W. Virginia

CHARLES TOWN, W. Va. (UP)—Two out-of-state musicians had a close curtain call when caught in the perennial confusion between Charles Town and Charleston, two West Virginia cities about 350 miles apart.

Kenneth Smith, bass-baritone, and his accompanist, Walter Hatchek, both of New York, drove from Elkins to Charleston, state capital, all the time thinking they were headed for Charles Town, the race track city.

They never realized their error until they found that their contact man, James E. King Jr., was a resident of Charles Town. A long-distance call to King made it plain to the musicians that they could never drive to Charles Town in time for a scheduled concert.

Their only recourse was a plane ride to Washington, where they picked up a train to Harpers Ferry. There they met King who managed to get them on stage on time.

Police Seeking Spy in Berlin's City Hall

BERLIN (AP)—West Berlin police searched today for a Communist agent suspected of forwarding official city hall documents to Red authorities in East Berlin.

The investigation was touched off yesterday when the Communist newspaper Berliner Zeitung published letters from the files of the West Berlin CARE mission and the city office of special affairs complaining that CARE had distributed "spoiled butter" to West Berliners.

Authorities disclosed that the West Berlin Senate offices have been alerted against careless handling of secret files and that Communist informers are suspected of working in city government offices.

Statistics on people who are more than 100 years old are difficult to evaluate because exaggerated claims of great age often are made.

Anti-American Leaflets Dropped Over Saigon

SAIGON, Indochina (AP)—Communist anti-American pamphlets were dropped on Saigon last night by plane.

Since the Communist-led Vietminh have shown no evidence of any air force, it was considered possible the Reds might have chartered a plane at some Indochinese airport to scatter the propaganda blast.

Giants Win 1st, Send Antonelli Against Wynn Today

By GAYLE TALBOT

NEW YORK (AP)—It will be necessary to go on and play out the World Series, for all the tickets have been sold, but it is difficult to think of anything that might happen from here on that the boys didn't dish up in that 10-inning opener yesterday at the Polo Grounds.

There was a real hard rock of a baseball game, from the moment the first ball was thrown until, more than three tense hours later, Dusty Rhodes draped the fourth pinch home run in all World Series history into the beckoning right-field stands to wrap it up for the underdog New York Giants 5-2.

As the result the Giants today were in an advantageous position. They have the fully rested Johnny Antonelli, a 21-game winner, poised for a second thrust at the Indians today. Antonelli, a left-hander, figured from the start to possibly give the Indians the most trouble of any Giant pitcher.

Bob Lemon, one of the two 23-game winners owned by the Indians, absorbed yesterday's defeat. Early Wynn, the other big winner, was Lopez's choice for the second game, starting at the usual 1 p.m. time. Another capacity crowd, matching yesterday's 52,571 turnout, was expected to be on hand with a weather forecast of cloudy and warm.

It is true that Rhodes' climactic swipe was very much of the Oriental variety for which the Polo Grounds is notorious. No shorter home run can be hit in any ball park than was this 270-foot specimen that a fan muffed only inches above the green barrier. But it also is a fact that the slugging Indians had the same target to shoot at all through the sunny afternoon.

Also of glad tidings to the winners was the manner in which their relief star, the veteran Marv Grissom, walked in to stop the Tribe in its tracks after their starter, Sal Maglie, suddenly felt his 37 years in the eighth inning.

And last, but far from least, it was their wonder boy and official team electrifier, Willie Mays, who saved the game from being lost with his truly amazing over-shoulder catch of Vic Wertz' towering 450-foot smash to the center-field wall with two Indians on base and none out in the eighth.

The boy from Alabama didn't get a hit off Lemon's sinking stuff, but he gave notice that he will be a telling factor all the way with that catch and his steal of second after Lemon had walked him for the second time with one out in the 10th. The steal caused the Indian ace to pass Hank Thompson purposely to set up a possible double play, and that gave Durocher the opportunity he had been looking for all afternoon to insert the lefty swinging Rhodes for slumping Monte Irvin.

From the very start it was evident that Maglie was short on control. He hit Al Smith to open.

Bobby Avila, the American League's leading hitter, followed with a looping single into short right which Don Mueller kicked around somewhat, permitting Smith to race to third.

However, Sal settled and got Larry Doby and Al Rosen on pop-ups, bringing up Vic Wertz.

Vic clanged one off the right-centerfield wall that would be going yet if it hadn't met wood. By the time it came back he was perched on third and two runs were across—the only runs the Indians were to get, despite the fact that Wertz slashed a double and two singles and nearly chased Mays out of the park on his next four tries.

The Giants got them back off Lemon in the third, when the top of their order, led by Whitey Lockman, delivered three clean singles and drew a walk to push two scores across with only one away.

But that was to be all. Irvin struck out, and little Davey Williams, who looked like he was out of his depth all afternoon against Lemon, rolled to short. From that point on until Rhodes finally got his chance, it was a question of one team and then the other threatening to beat the band, but failing to get the big hit. In all, the Indians stranded 13, the Giants 9.

'Just Wanted Hit'

Rhodes' Pinch-Homer 4th in Series History

By BEN PHLEGAR

NEW YORK (AP)—"Leo says he'll use me where he thinks I'll help most but I say all there is to baseball is hitting and if I couldn't hit I wouldn't have any fun."

James (Dusty) Rhodes, an Alabama boy who rose to fame in Leo Durocher's "Star of the Day" technique of winning the National League pennant, showed his boss he had learned his part to perfection.

His dramatic pinch-home run with two on and one out in the 10th zoomed the Giants to their 5-2 triumph over Cleveland in the first game of the World Series.

The homer was only the fourth such pinch hit in series history and was the first by a player who never before had been at bat in a series game. And it came on the first pitch.

But Rhodes wasn't worried about records, or firsts, as he basked in the limelight of the noisy clubhouse after the game.

"I was just swinging for a hit," he said. "I wasn't trying for a homer. I knew it was safe but I didn't know it was going all the way till it fell in."

Hutch's Future With Bengals at Stake Today

Tiger 'Brass' Gathers to Consider Manager's Contract Demands

DETROIT (AP) — The Detroit Tigers' decision on Manager Fred Hutchinson comes up today at a meeting of the club's board of directors.

At issue, reportedly, was Hutchinson's demand for a 2-year contract.

All advance signs indicated that it wasn't going to be easy to get, and that could mean that Hutchinson won't be around next season.

He has already let it be understood that unless he gets two years he might take either an offer from the Baltimore Orioles as a coach or a proposition from Seattle of the coast league as manager.

Walter O. Briggs Jr., president of the Tigers, said recently he was opposed to a 2-year contract for Hutchinson but that he would recommend a 1-year pact.

The Tigers' fifth place finish was one rung above last year's, Hutchinson's first full season with the Tigers. The previous year the Tigers finished last, but that really wasn't Hutch's ball team. He inherited it in late season when Red Rolfe was let go.

Sawchuk Has Consolation in All-Star Game

Terry Doesn't Have to Face Shots of Lindsay and Howe

DETROIT (AP) — Detroit Red Wing goalie Terry Sawchuk, preparing for the Red Wings' encounter with the National Hockey League All-Stars has one consolation—he won't face Gordie Howe and Ted Lindsay, high scoring Detroit stickmen.

Sawchuk has his job cut out for him. He has to try and stop one of the most powerful teams ever assembled, in hockey's 9th annual all-star classic. The best hockey players in the NHL will be ganging up on the Red Wings.

Ranging shots on Sawchuk will be Maurice (the Rocket) Richard, Bernie Geoffrion and Jean Beliveau of Montreal; Sid Smith and Ted Kennedy of Toronto; Ed Sanford of Boston, and the likes.

Roster of the rival squads—the Red Wings and the All-Stars—includes 10 of the 11 leading scorers in the league last year. Wings boast four of them—Howe, Lindsay, Red Kelly and Earl "Dutch" Reibel.

One of the great offensive units in hockey history, the Red Wings are not often opposed with a team packing more power. But they figure to be Saturday.

The advantage of closer teamwork may enable the Wings to defeat the All-Stars in one game—a feat most experts say couldn't be done on a regular league schedule basis.

Inglis Suspends Jockey Licata

Rider at Hazel Park Accused of Trying to Frighten Mount

DETROIT (UP) — State racing commissioner James Inglis suspended Hazel Park jockey Tony Licata's license Wednesday on charges he used a box full of pebbles to frighten a horse in an attempt to make it run faster and win a race.

Hazel Park stewards, produced an aspirin box full of pebbles and films of the race to support their charges that the veteran rider violated the "corrupt practices" rule in the 1st race Tuesday.

Stewards maintained Licata was trying to frighten the horse to make it run faster. Cock-Of-The-Walk finished 6th.

New Shot Shell Makes 12-Gauge Gun a 'Magnum'

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Production of a new shot shell which will transform the standard 12 guage shotgun into a magnum duck and goose gun was announced here today.

The purpose is to reduce waterfowl losses by reducing the crippling shots which permit birds to flutter away, only to die unfound in marshes.

The new shell is being produced in Western Super-X and Winchester Super Speed brands by Olin industries in size 2 and 4 shot.

3rd Triple for 'Shoe'

SAN BRUNO, Calif. (AP) — Willie Shoemaker, the nation's leading jockey, has ridden three winners on six different days in the 15-day old Tanforan race meeting.

Yesterday's triple was his third straight this week.

He has had 35 winners on 97 mounts for 36 per cent, unusually high.

Tough for Writers

The University of North Carolina football eleven this fall is making it tough for sports writers who may stumble on their spelling. Among the Tar Heel players are Stavnitski, Marcinko, Muschamp, Boyette, Marcopulos and Klochak.

Maryland Rated Slim Favorite Over UCLA '11'

Terps Are Slated to Arrive on West Coast Tomorrow

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Maryland's feared football team arrives on the scene Thursday for its intersectional game with UCLA Friday night, and most of the coast conference observers look for a close contest—and a Maryland victory.

Seventy thousand or so fans are expected to witness this initial game between Maryland, the top-ranked team in the nation last year, and the local defending champions of the coast conference.

The Terps were due in before dawn, with a workout scheduled later in the day in Memorial Coliseum.

Maryland was rated sixth in the Associated Press national poll this week, most likely because Coach Jim Tatum's team has played but one game, a 20-0 victory over Kentucky.

UCLA was tabbed in the fourth spot, Coach Red Sanders has seen the Bruins run over a weak San Diego Naval Training Center outfit and defeat Kansas, 32-7, last week.

UCLA shoots from the outset with a sophomore, Doug Bradley, in the key left halfback spot of the Sanders single-wing attack. Bradley has thus far shown better than the senior tailback, Primo Villanueva, completing 8 of 15 passes for 108 yards to no completions by Villanueva.

Southern Cal Faces Wildcats

Trojans Are Favored in Intersectional Tilt Saturday

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Southern California's Trojan football team heads for the Midwest today, favored to defeat Northwestern in a Pacific Coast Conference-Big Ten intersectional at Evanston Saturday.

Coach Jess Hill's Trojans have won over Washington State, 39-0, and Pittsburgh, 27-7, and once again interest will center on the play of sophomore left halfback, Jon Arnett.

The Los Angeles youngster is the leading rusher on the team, with 123 yards gained on 20 carries for a 6.2 average. In the two games, Arnett has run for three touchdowns and scored two more on passes.

Even so, Hill indicated he would start the more seasoned Aramis Dandoy at left half. Dandoy has carried the ball nine times and gained but 17 yards.

Unbeaten 11s Dwindle Fast

By JACK SAYLOR

The prep football season is only 2 weeks old, yet two-thirds of Oakland County's football - playing schools have already tasted defeat at least once.

Only 11 teams have escaped defeat. One of these (Rochester), has been tied; 2 others (Royal Oak and OL St. Mary) have played only 1 game, and another (Bloomfield Hills) doesn't play its 1st game until this week.

That leaves only 7 county teams that have played twice and won both games. Included on this list are Pontiac, Walled Lake, Holly, Oxford, Avondale, Birmingham and Ortonville.

Rochester plays at Flint Tech tonight to start a busy weekend schedule of 35 games. League activity begins in earnest in the area as 25 conference games are listed.

An early-season favorite in the Inter-Lakes Conference should emerge from games matching Southfield-Waterford and Walled Lake-Van Dyke. Top game in the Wayne-Oakland sends Clarkston to Keego Harbor.

Wolves won their 1st league start last week. Keego has lost 2 straight non-league encounters, but the defending champions still are regarded as a strong threat again this season.

Co - champions Avondale and Fitzgerald of the Oakland-B may battle it out again this year for top honors. Yellow Jackets open the league campaign at Troy, while Fitzgerald is at Madison.

Birmingham and Mt. Clemens get a head start on other Eastern Michigan loop members as they meet Friday on the Maples' gridiron. South Central champ North Branch plays its 3rd straight non-league foe, while a pair of SCC contenders, Ortonville and Imlay City, tangle at Imlay.

Feature in the Bi-County has Center Line at Utica, while Grosse Pointe plays at Royal Oak in a big Border-Cities tilt.

Milford seeks its 2nd Wayne-Oakland win against Northville and Holly entertains Brighton. Lake Orion is at Lapeer to meet ex-Tri-County rivals in the top game among the independents. Another big one is reserved for Saturday when Oxford hooks up with last year's state Class C champs, Flint Dye, at Linden.

The schedule:

TODAY

Rochester at Flint Tech.

FRIDAY

SATURDAY

St. Fred's at St. Benedict; Oxford vs Flint Dye at Linden; Cranbrook at Lake Forest, Ill.; Hazel Park at Muskegon CC.; East Detroit at Monroe CC.

SUNDAY

Mt. Carmel at Shrine; Royal Oak St. Mary at St. James; St. Rita at OL S. Mary.

Willie Mays Minimizes His Great Catch; Liddle May Get 3rd Game Call Instead of Ruben Gomez

By ED CORRIGAN

NEW YORK (AP)—Say, hey, now, was that the greatest catch of his young career that Willie Mays made on Vic Wertz in the New York Giants' 5-2 opening World Series victory yesterday?

"Naw," said the happy-go-lucky Willie in the dressing room later. "I had the ball all the way. There was nothing too hard about it. Maybe it did save the game, but you should never miss those kind. I've made better catches. But what about my hitting? I wasn't any help up there at the plate."

It was in the eighth inning with two men on base that Mays raced back to the centerfield wall to grab Wertz extra-base bid with his back to the plate.

Then the Barber, who left the premises just before Mays made his great catch, turned to newsmen and held court:

"I didn't tire so much. It was just that I didn't have real sharp control of my curve ball. So I couldn't hit the outside corner against the lefthanders. That's what got me in trouble.

"And that Wertz. The way he was hitting today you couldn't get him out. The first time he hit a high, fast one, the next time a slider and the third time a low outside pitch."

Maglie probably will be ready to start again Sunday or Monday, although Manager Leo Durocher wouldnt say just when.

Durocher added that now he wasn't so sure that he'd start Ruben Gomez in tomorrow's third game in Cleveland. If Don Liddle is not in the bullpen today, he might get the call.

Leo was all talk, though, about Rhodes' game-winning, pinch-hit home run in the 10th. Yet Dusty still will not start.

"He was my big guy in a jam and that's what he's going to be for the rest of the series," enthused Durocher.

Said Rhodes:

Bright, Jordan Sold; Harrist Is Traded

DETROIT (UP) — Detroit Tigers announced today they have sold infielder Harry Bright and pitcher Milt Jordon outright to their Buffalo, N. Y., farm club and traded pitcher Earl Harriet to Seattle as part of a deal for pitcher Van Fletcher.

Bright, 25, drafted by Detroit last winter, finished the 1954 season at 3rd base for Little Rock, batting .326 in 46 games. He had a .276 average in 70 games at Buffalo.

Jordan, 26, won five and lost 10 for Little Rock this season. He had a 12-1 record at Buffalo in 1953.

Harrist, 34, won three and lost 10 for Buffalo. He previously had tried out with both Detroit and the Chicago White Sox.

MSC Is Concerned Over Lack of Passing Attack

EAST LANSING (AP) — It's easy to understand why coaches are concerned about the almost complete fizzle of the Michigan State passing attack against Iowa.

Three completions in 15 attempts isn't enough of a threat to keep any opposition defense honest. Opponents could concentrate on stopping the running game with only a casual eye on an occasional pass.

During the past three successful years, Michigan State has been known mostly as a ground power. But figures show that in each of the three years there was enough passing thrown in to constitute about one-third of the offense.

Last year, MSC won eight and lost one. The ground attack went for 1,980 yards and 20 touchdowns. But in addition, 58 of 124 pass attempts were completed for 874 yards and 11 of the total 31 touchdowns.

In 1952, MSC won nine and lost none. Spartans rushed for 2,452 yards and 29 touchdowns. Also, 73 of the 159 passes were completed for 1,406 yards and 16 of the total 45 touchdowns.

In 1951, MSC won nine and lost none. The rushing game was good for 2,645 yards and 28 touchdowns. There were 72 of 137 pass tries completed for 982 yards and 12 of the total 41 touchdowns.

Although rushing was the bread and butter, the passing was the jam. And the jam helped Michigan State get out of a jam to win many of those games.

Tulane has the ball and has advanced from its own 10 to the shadows of the North Carolina goal in a series of spectacular passes with only one run interspersed.

Now with goal to go, Tulane has been detected holding, and as the North Carolina captain, you are given this choice:

Take the penalty, leaving the ball on your 25-yard line, third down and goal

DiMag Hails Willie's Catch

Mays Joins Gionfriddo, Martin, Stanky Slaughter on List of World Series Greats

NEW YORK (AP) — Willie Mays' sensational catch of a tremendous smash by Cleveland's Vic Wertz in the eighth inning of yesterday's World Series opener was but the latest on the list of great plays that highlight World Series history.

The past decade alone has seen a number of outstanding plays featuring such players as Al Gionfriddo, Billy Martin, Enos Slaughter and Eddie Stanky.

Joe DiMaggio, the former Yankee Clipper who is covering the current series as a newsman, called Mays' catch greater than Gionfriddo's in the 1947 World Series between the New York Yankees, and the Brooklyn Dodgers. And he should know since he was the victim of the Brooklyn outfielder's great play.

The Yanks led three games to two. In the sixth inning of the sixth game with Brooklyn ahead 8-5, New York had the bases loaded, two out and DiMaggio at bat. Joe hit a terrific drive toward the Yankee Stadium's left-field bullpen but Gionfriddo, after a long run, speared the ball just as it was about to drop in for a home run.

Billy Martin made a fine catch in the 1952 series against the Dodgers. In the seventh game, Brooklyn had the bases loaded in the seventh inning. With two on and two out, Jackie Robinson hit a ball straight into the air. With Yankees millions undecided under the ball it seemed it would drop untouched until Martin, racing in, caught the ball just before it hit the ground. The Yanks won 4-2.

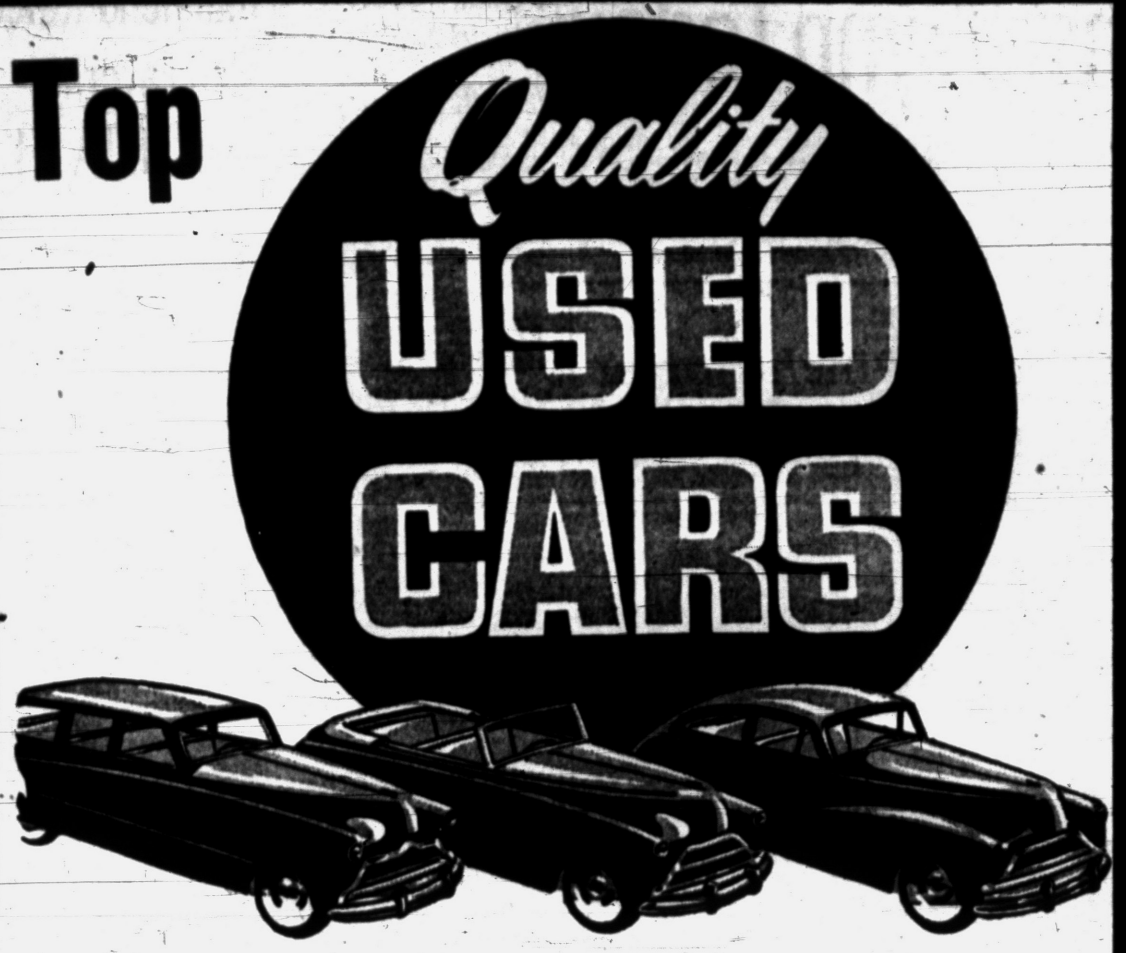

Two alert running plays featured the 1951 and 1946 World Series.

In 1951, with the Giants opposing the Yankees, the teams were tied at one victory apiece. In the third game with the Giants ahead 1-0 and one out in the 5th, Stanky worked Vic Raschi, Yankee pitcher for a pass. On a hit-and-run play, catcher Yogi Berra called for a pitch-out and threw to Phil Rizzuto who had the ball waiting to tag Stanky. But Eddie kicked the ball from the Scooter's hand and raced to third. The Giants scored four more times and won the game although they eventually lost the series.

In 1946 with the St. Louis Cardinals facing the Boston Red Sox, Enos Slaughter raced from first to home on Harry Walker's single to left center while surprised shortstop Johnny Pesky of the Red Sox was caught napping with his back to the plate. The play came in the seventh game and Slaughter's run provided the 4-3 margin of victory.

Aerial Fireworks Seen Friday

Andrews Kayoes Turner, Confuses Plans of IBC

By CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN

CHICAGO (AP)—Only minutes after young Al Andrews flattened Gil Turner, a 3-1 favorite, last night telephones jangled in the Chicago Stadium office of the International Boxing Club.

Officials of the far-flung IBC were trying to get the monkey wrench out of their match-making machinery. They found themselves, so to speak, with Andrews on their hands instead of Turner. It was like being caught short in the stock market.

Before the 23-year-old Superior, Wis., battler dispatched Turner into dreamland with a steaming right to the chin 12 seconds after the bell for the third round, the IBC had Gil's future well mapped.

He was to be delivered at Syracuse Oct. 15, to tangle with the No. 1 welterweight contender, Carmen Basilio.

In 49 starts, Turner had never taken the 10 count until Andrews immobilized him with one punch in last night's nationally televised bout, which was scheduled for 10 rounds. They both weighed 154½. Paid attendance was 1,194. Net Gate was $2,812.

Pontiac to Face Ferndale for 1st Time in 9 Years

Pass-Minded Elevens Tangle Friday Night at Jefferson Field

By BILL MARTIN

Pontiac High's football Chiefs seek to extend their winning streak to three games tomorrow night when they tangle with once-beaten Ferndale Lincoln.

The game—1st in nine years between the two schools—is set for 8 p.m. at Ferndale's Jefferson Field.

Some spectacular aerial fireworks may develop in this battle between two pass-minded elevens. Lincs bowed to Grosse Pointe 39-13 last week, but uncovered a highly-promising air attack. Pontiac has compiled an impressive passing record in its two victories, having completed 12 of 17 attempts for 287 yards and three touchdowns.

Quarterback Ken Brown, who last year received All-SOC honors and all-state honorable mention, is Ferndale's top passer, while ends Tom Turner and Mark Rudman and halfback Bob Graham are capable receivers.

Chief's No. 1 passer is junior quarterback Bob Casteel, who has completed six of eight attempts for 181 yards. Halfback Walt Poe has completed three of four passes for 24 yards and sophomore quarterback Art Poe, Walt's younger brother, has two completions in three tries for 74 yards. Walt Poe, with four passes caught for 144 yards, and end John James with four receptions for 99 yards, are leading "targets."

There will be only one change in Pontiac's starting lineup. Halfback Freeman Watkins, promising sophomore who sat out the opener because of a training infraction and then scored twice against Waterford last week, will get the call at left half.

Colle Hunt, kick-off specialist who spells Bob Johnson at tackle, is ineligible this week because of academic deficiences and kick-offs will be handled by Casteel.

Mosquitoes Nearly Halt Rutger Drills

Gridders Run Through Rugged Dummy Work Between Swats

NEW BRUNSWICK, N.J. (AP) — What Next?

Coach Harvey Harman almost called off Rutgers' football practice yesterday as swarms of mosquitoes dive bombed the field in midsummerlike maneuvers.

But he didn't and, between swats ran the team through a rugged dummy drill designed to sharpen blocking in preparation for a big Fordham club due here Saturday.

Harman made two announcements regarding the lineup. He said Ron Mastrolia, a 5-6, 150-pound terror from Rochelle Park, had clinched the starting left-half berth from Bob Redman of Marquette, Mich., and that tackle Tony de Santis of East Orange will spell Sy O'Hearn of South Orange at center on offense and play his regular line-backer slot on defense.

Giant Victory Follows Regular Season Script

NEW YORK (AP)—"It just followed the script the Giants have been playing all season" said Walter O'Malley, president of the Brooklyn Dodgers, after the Giants had won yesterday's first game of the World Series in dramatic fashion on Dusty Rhodes' 10th-inning pinch-hit homer.

"That's the way it's been most of the season for the Giants," the genial Walter explained. "First Willie Mays gets on base, then a steal or something, up comes Rhodes to pinch-hit and wham—there's your ball game. More power to Durocher and the Giants."

Celtic Stars Injured in Separate Accidents

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (AP) — Jack Nichols and Easy Ed Macauley suffered injuries in separate accidents yesterday as the Boston Celtics drilled for the coming NBA season.

Nichols, a University of Washington graduate who is studying dentistry at Tufts, suffered a broken nose in a collision with Bob Brannum and will be out for a week. Macauley was cut on the scalp when caught by the elbow of rookie Dwight Morrison.

Leo's Strategy Plays Key Role

NEW YORK (AP)—The New York Giants today hold a one-to-nothing edge over Cleveland in the best-of-seven World Series mainly because Leo Durocher trumped Al Lopez' ace.

There were several contributing factors in the Giants' pulse-pounding triumph yesterday. The jam-packed audience saw Dusty Rhodes, pinch hitter extraordinaire, punch a 3-run homer into the right-field stands in the 10th to crush Lemon and the Indians.

Before that, they saw Willie Mays, the centerfield wonder, make one of the most spectacular catches in World Series history to avert a certain Giant defeat. They also thrilled to the tensely waged pitching duel between Lemon and Sal Maglie and cheered the courageous clutch-pitching of reliefer Marv Grissom.

All that was obvious to the frenzied fans but what few realized—and therefore couldn't appreciate—was the shrewd behind-the-scenes masterminding job turned in by the Giants' brash and forceful skipper. Leo not only saved the game but was instrumental in winning it.

Durocher's best bit of strategy came in the top of the 10th. Vic Wertz, a murderous hitter all afternoon, opened with a two-base blast down the left-center alley. After Sam Dente sacrificed, Dave Pope was purposely passed. Grissom then fanned pinch-hitter Bill Glynn for the second out but still had to dispose of Lemon. Durocher yelled something at Whitey Lockman, the first baseman, who had been holding Pope close to the bag. Whitey nodded and moved several feet to his right. Lemon took a ball then smashed a low, sinking liner directly into Lockman's glove. Several feet either way and the Indian swould have ben ahead.

Later Lockman explained: "Leo yelled to me: 'The hell with that guy on first. Play wide of the bag.'"

Durocher's best bit of masterminding was yet to come. In the Giants' 10th, after Mays had followed Don Mueller's strikeout with a walk, Leo flashed the steal sign. Willie responded with a clean theft of second. With the winning run on second base and first unoccupied, Lopez ordered Hank Thompson to be given an intentional base on balls.

Monte Irvin was the next batter but Durocher called him back and summoned Rhodes out of the dugout to pinch-hit for his left fielder. Rhodes strode up to the batter's box, picked out Lemon's first pitch and wafted a high fly that fell into the lower rightfield stands for the game-winning home run.

Spartans Cast in Unusual Role Against Badgers

Predictions Are All for Wisconsin to Win in Saturday Test

EAST LANSING (AP) — Michigan State is assuming the new role of an underdog for Saturday's football game with Wisconsin.

All predictions are against the Spartans — based on the 3rd defeat for MSC since 1950. Also, Wisconsin looks awesome after clobbering Marquette by an overwhelming score.

The usually easy-going Daugherty has turned tough on the practice field driving his players to do better against Wisconsin.

Daugherty has been shifting his lineup without regard to hurt feelings and had ordered a scrimmage a day.

But yesterday there was a downpour of rain and the Spartans had to work indoors, in Jenison Fieldhouse.

Despite the cramped quarters, there was scrimmaging on the indoor dirt where track and basketball generally take over.

Despite the odds against the Spartans, their 1st home game is a sellout. Folding chairs were being added along the sidelines to take care of the overflow.

Fans were remembering that the last time Michigan State was beaten was by Maryland early in 1950. They wonder if the Spartans are going down or going up again and want to be there in person.

Allen Quits Ring

LONDON (AP) — Terry Allen, former British holder of the world flyweight boxing title, announced today he is quitting the ring "because 12 years in top class boxing is enough." Allen, aged 30, was due to defend his British flyweight championship against Eric Marsden Nov. 12.

State Tries to Re-establish Pine Martens

Gets Seed-Stock From Ontario for Valuable Fur-Bearers

LANSING (AP)—An attempt to re-establish the pine marten, a valuable fur-bearer long extinct in Michigan, is in the offing, the conservation department reported today.

The Ontario department of lands and forests notified the Michigan agency that a long-standing request for 20 or 30 of the shy, three-pound animals may soon be filled.

With the approval of the Ontario department, trappers in the province will sell and ship the seed stock to Michigan.

They will be released in wilderness areas of the Upper Peninsula, probably including the Porcupine Mountains State Park.

Martens are dwellers of deep pine forests and are now found in the region north of Lake Superior, the Adirondack mountains of New York and several western areas of Canada and the United States.

Possessors of highly prized, glossy coats and easily trapped, martens disappeared from Michigan with the clearing of the forests. The conservation department believes the forests of the Upper Peninsula have grown back enough to support the martens.

Syracuse Can Clinch Governor's Cup Tonight

MONTREAL (AP)—Syracuse Chiefs can clinch the International League's Governor's Cup tonight and move into the junior association with a victory over the defending champion Montreal royas.

Chiefs hold a lead of three games to two.

Manager Seeter Newsome's Chiefs could have wrapped it up last night but ran into 3rd baseman Bobby Wilson and pitcher Joe Black last night.

Wilson hit three home runs, one with the bases loaded, and Black hurled a two-hitter as the Royals blanked the chiefs, 7-0.

Two Young Jockeys Win Seven Races at Boston

BOSTON (AP)—A pair of rising 18-year-old jockeys, Gene Martin of St. Louis and Jack Kurtz of Muncie, Ind., accounted for a total of seven winners yesterday at Suffolk Downs.

Martin scored four straight races, including the featured Arlington Purse. He was up on Shake ($6.60) in the fourth race, Rimsickle ($40.80); Legate ($40.40) and Kay Russell ($19.80) in the feature.

Kurtz rode the $48.00 daily double on In Taste and Warehouse, then won the eighth with Final Proof ($8.80).

Broken Stride Beats Little Brown Jug King

BLOOMSBURG, Pa. (AP)—Adios Harry, winner of the Little Brown Jug last week, broke stride in both heats yesterday to be beaten by Dale Frost in an $8,600 purse for 3-year-old pacers at the Bloomsburg Fair's harness oval. Dale Frost, owned by C. M. Provost of Pittsburgh and driven by Jimmy Arthur, won in straight heats with times of 2:06.1 and 2:05.2. Adios Harry finished fourth and fifth.

UM to Mix 'T', Single Wing

ANN ARBOR (AP) — Michigan coach Bennie Oosterbaan will probably pick his spots for either the single wing or the T-formation offenses this season.

Last weekend, Washington was given an exhibition of the "T".

Army, which prepared for Michigan's single wing attack as far back as spring practice may now expect the single wing and the "T" when it meets the Wolverines Saturday.

Running plays from the "T" has the value of fooling the enemy into expecting an orthodox "T" formation play. It may be just that — a quick opening "T" formation play.

On the other hand, it may turn into a "T-direct" in which the ball is centered through the quarterback's legs into the hands of the fullback, right or left halfbacks.

Oosterbaan says that injuries to Danny Cline, 1st string left halfback and Lou Baldacci, the 1st string fullback, "are troublesome." Neither is improving very quickly.

Loss of Baldacci would not only mean that Michigan would be doing without the man who scored their only touchdowns last Saturday. It would also mean the Wolverine defense is weakened.

Several times in Michigan's 14-0 victory over Washington last weekend Baldacci was the linebacker who kept the Huskies from 1st downs deep in Michigan territory.

At least one injury on the Wolverine squad showed unexpected improvement. Ron Kramer, fast-moving sophomore end from East Detroit, was back at full practice yesterday.

Back also was help for the defense. Center Jim Bates, of Farmington, one of the Wolverine linebacking hopes, worked out for the 2nd day with the line. But Oosterbaan said Bates, who suffered a case of pneumonia two weeks ago was "still too weak to play."

Tribe Not Dismayed

By FRITZ HOWELL

NEW YORK (AP)—From bat boy Harold Klug up to General Manager Hank Greenberg, the Cleveland Indians aren't too discouraged over losing yesterday's World Series opener to the New York Giants.

Young Klug, 16-year-old East Cleveland Shaw High School student who is missing classes to hand bats to his favorites, declared today:

"Yeterday's game was a tough one to lose, but Early Wynn will beat those Giants today and we'll go home all even. The Giants can't be that lucky two days in a row."

Greenberg, a bit more conservative, opined: "That was a good game yesterday, although we lost 5-2, and that was a great catch by Willie Mays to wreck us. But we're still a good ball club and we'll get back in there today. I think we'll win the series."

The Cleveland general manager went on to observe that "Cleveland lost the first game of the 1948 World Series and came back to win it, and the Indians were a game behind in the 1920 series and won that one, too. We're behind right now, but we don't intend to lose this one, either."

Al Lopez, the even-tempered Cleveland skipper, also had a hunch his Redskins would come bounding back into contention.

"There are six games to go, and after today we get a crack at these fellows on our own diamond," Lopez said. "We do pretty good at home, and there will be no blooper home runs out there where the fences are a little farther from the plate."

Lopez was referring, of course, to the 3-run homer which Jim (Dusty) Rhodes, 10th-inning pinch hitter blooped into the 270-foot right field stands to win yesterday's opener. Rhodes hit Bob Lemon's first pitch to him to end it all.

Lopez, who had engaged in a flock of strategical moves with Giant skipper Leo Durocher in the Indian half of the eighth, said of the wind-blown "Chinese" homer:

"I thought it was just a routine out when it left the bat. And Dave Pope said he thought he had it all the way, but the wind caught it and pulled it into the stand by inches, about five feet from the foul line. There's no defense against home runs like that.

* * *

"They beat us with the longest out (the 450-foot fly by Vic Wertz which Mays caught) and the shortest home run (Rhodes' 270-footer) of the season. In our park Wertz would have had the home run, and Rhodes a loud out. But it was a home run, no matter how you look at it, and they won the first game. But we'll be back—don't forget that."

Colby, Ihlanfeldt Clash in Golf Tourney Feature

THOMASVILLE, Ga. (AP)—Medalist Vonnie Colby and defending champion Edean Anderson Ihlanfeldt met today in the feature match of the second round of the women's Trans - Mississippi golf tournament.

Miss Colby of Hollywood, Fla., ousted Mrs. Harlan Riedel, former Texas champion, in the first round yesterday 7 and 6. Mrs. Ihlanfeldt eliminated Mrs. Babs Thompson of Valdosta, Ga. 5 and 4.

Co-favorites Mary Lena Faulk of Thomasville and Polly Riley of Fort Worth also scored one-sided successes in the opening round. Miss Faulk, who gets a worthy second-round foe in Mrs. Grace DeMoss Smith of Coral Gables, Fla., defeated Georgia State champion Frances Rich of Bainbridge 7 and 5. Mrs. Smith had no trouble beating Mrs. R. W. Thornburg of Wyoming, Ohio, 8 and 7.

Miss Riley, trying for her third Trans - Mississippi title, downed Mrs. George Noble of Washington, D.C., 7 and 6.

Irish Honor Carideo

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (INS)— Notre Dame officials announced Wednesday that Frank Carideo, All-America quarterback with the Knute Rockne-coached Irish in 1929 and 1930, will be honored between the halves of the Notre Dame-Purdue game Saturday.

Carideo will be presented with a plaque admitting him to the National Football Hall of Fame. The gridiron shrine is located at Rutgers University, New Brunswick, N. J.

Press Writer Heads North to Check on Hunting Areas

Declaring that he could be found "where the shooting is heaviest," Pontiac Press outdoor writer Jack Patterson left today for a week's tour of northern Michigan hunting areas.

Starting Saturday, Patterson will keep Press readers advised, in a daily column, of hunting conditions in the month and will report on field activities of local residents.

Following an itinerary designed to cover some of Michigan's choicest partridge, deer and wildfowl territory, Patterson plans to spend Friday, Saturday and Sunday in Alcona, Crawford, Otsego, Montmorency, Presque Isle and Cheboygan counties, checking on partridge shooting and bow and arrow deer hunting.

First of the week, he will move into the sharptail and prairie chicken regions of the eastern and central Upper Peninsula. He will take time out for a look at goose shooting possibilities in the vicinity of the Seney Wildfowl Refuge, important nesting area for Canada geese, and a magnet for goose hunters from nearby states.

Thursday Patterson plans to return to the Lower Peninsula for a report on Emmet, Charlevoix, Antrim, Kalkaska, Wexford and Missaukee counties. At week's end, he will look into duck hunting prospects at Houghton Lake and the Dead Stream area. Wind up of the tour will be in the great duck marshes of Saginaw Bay.

Many Hunters Lose Out for Dec. 1 Season

LANSING (AP) — Out of 4,000 applications already received for permits to hunt in the Dec. 1 any-deer season, 600 are improperly filled out and can not be considered, the conservation department said today.

Officials urged applicants to be careful to sign their names and to list the number of the license, the license prefix or the dealer's name.

The applications are available to those who buy deer licenses from license dealers. They must be mailed by Oct. 10 to be eligible for the drawing of 81,000 successful applicants for permits to shoot bucks, does and fawns in most of the northern third of the Lower Peninsula.

Few Fans Line Up for Series Ducats

NEW YORK (AP)—Only a few fans lined up outside the bleacher gates at the Polo Grounds early today waiting for the second game of the World Series.

Herbert R. Oliver, Colorado Springs, Colo., a 66-year-old great grandfather was in line. He said he came to see his first World Series as part of a 44th wedding anniversary celebration.

Also in line were Prince E. Bass, 50-year-old hotel chef of Ocean City Md.; Ralph J. Belcore, 39, Chicago; and four students from the Millersville (Pa.) State Teachers college.

Cloudy Weather Ahead

NEW YORK (AP) — The weatherman predicted some cloudiness for the second game of the World Series today.

The 5 a.m. (EST) forecast a "chance of a few showers or thunderstorms late this afternoon or evening."

The high temperature today was expected to be in the 70s.

You Be the Quarterback

ANSWER

2. Refuse the penalty. Better not! Another completed pass against any defensive alignment might well produce a touchdown. Any pass may go for 10 if receiver is in motion. His momentum may carry him over.

1. Take the penalty. Best choice. A pass defense, such as a 5-2-4, designed to guard against the longer passes might enable Tulane to complete a short one. It might be incomplete, too. Should a short one be completed, it should be stopped with a gain of around 10 yards. In such a case, it would leave a fourth down and 15 situation.

Giants Hoping Series History Won't Repeat

NEW YORK (AP) — Giant fans, beware!

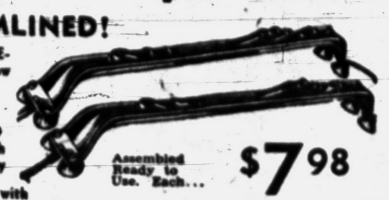

In three of their previous series, the Giants won the first game, but lost the series.

In 1924 they beat the great Walter Johnson and the Washington Senators 4-3 in 12 innings, but lost the series in seven games. In 1936 they beat Red Ruffing and the Yankees 6-1, but dropped the series in six games. In 1951 they whipped Allie Reynolds and the Yankees 5-1 but again dropped the series in six games.

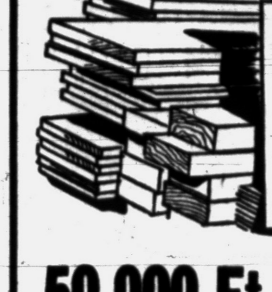

Jim Lee Howell, head coach of the New York Football Giants, is nicknamed "Senator." He once was elected to the State legislature in his native Arkansas.

Judy Garland Set for Oscar in 'Star Is Born'

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Judy Garland's comeback was complete today as a star-packed first night audience and critics hailed her new movie

The little girl with the big voice, considered washed up in pictures four years ago, scored a personal triumph at the world premiere of "A Star Is Born" last night. Her arrival was given a hysterical reception by fans at the Hollywood Pantages theater and most of the first nighters agreed she is a shoo-in for an Oscar next March.

Arriving with husband Sid Luft, who produced the picture, Judy looked radiant in a black velvet gown with jeweled collar and cap. She greeted friends, posed for photos and admitted she was "happy but nervous." She added: "I'll be glad when it's all over with."

She was a far cry from the Judy whose tantrums led to an end of her long MGM contract.

She started the comeback trail with her hit at New York's vaudeville shrine, the Palace. Warner Bros. agreed to star her in a remake of the 1937 classic, "A Star Is Born." The film had a stormy history and the bill mounted to a whopping six million. Critics agreed it was worth it.

This may be counted as treason among his fellow actors, but Cornel Wilde the producer is taking knocks at the star system.

You used to know this Wilde fellow solely as an actor. But, as all performers must, he got the urge to be a producer. Unlike most performers, he got the moola as well as the urge.

With his own company, Theodora, he whipped up a deal with Security Productions, comprising producer Sidney Harmon and writer Philip Yordan. They worked up a tough gangland script called "The Big Combo." Then Allied Artists, which is making attractive deals for creators like John Huston and William Wyler, wanted in. That allowed more money and the picture broadened in scope.

Wilde assigned himself and his wife, Jean Wallace, to top roles. He added a cast including Richard Conte, Brian Donlevy, Helen Walker and a platoon of Hollywood's better character actors.

"Some of them are coming in for one day's work at $1,000," Wilde the producer remarked. "Most actors with a name wouldn't take a one-day job. But we're offering them something they like—the chance to do a good part. An actor will make concessions if he thinks he'll have a good scene in which he'll stand out."

And that's where Cornel got up on his soapbox.

"Too many pictures are ruined by the ego of stars," he remarked. "They demand all the scenes and want all the attention focused on them. The result is a picture in which one or two persons are brightly lighted and surrounded by a group of shadow or cardboard characters.

"I think the public resents this. They would much rather see a picture with 20 or 30 characters which they could recognize as real human beings."

Wilde has a point there. I can recall one recent big Western that was ruined by the ego of its female star.

"WHAT A MOVIE
THE CAINE MUTINY WILL MAKE!"

THAT's the feeling 12,000,000 readers had as they thrilled to the pages of THE CAINE MUTINY! The tremendous pace, purpose, people and story that won Herman Wouk's novel the Pulitzer Prize cried out for production on the screen.

Now we feel that promise is fulfilled. For the last two and a half years all of us here at Columbia have set as our goal a Technicolor production of THE CAINE MUTINY worthy of the book. Toward that end we've poured into it our every resource of time, talent, effort and imagination.

That's why every detail down to the casting of the smallest bit part was a matter of major moment to us all. We wrestled with that problem alone until we had a cast precisely attuned to Herman Wouk's story. In the finished picture, Humphrey Bogart is Queeg—Jose Ferrer, the perfect Greenwald—Fred MacMurray, matchless as Keefer—Van Johnson, the very soul of the deeply troubled Maryk. In the part of Willie Keith, who grows from blue-eyed Ensign to steady-eyed Exec, newcomer Robert Francis carves his niche as a star of tomorrow. And look for May Wynn—another newcomer—another new star. But casting was just one of the problems we saw, met and think we've conquered.

For the action that takes place in Hawaii, Producer Stanley Kramer and Director Edward Dmytryk took cast and cameras half way across the Pacific to Pearl Harbor itself. Except for the principal characters the men and the ships you'll see in THE CAINE MUTINY are the ships and the men of the United States Navy—for whose unstinting cooperation we are deeply grateful.

We have seen THE CAINE MUTINY. We believe it to be great. We believe it will fire the heart, excite the mind and stir the emotions of mankind as long as will the story.

And that, we believe, will be forever.

Sincerely,

PRESIDENT

America Goes All Out in Horsepower Field

NEW YORK (INS)—America has been hell bent for horsepower since 1753 when a small engine was brought here from England to pump water from a mine near Newark, N.J.

Steelways, official organ of the American Iron and Steel Institute, reports that in the interim we have harnessed 6,000,000,000 horses or about 39 horsepower per capita, according to a breakdown of the total energy in all the prime mover engines in the United States.

Put Heart Into Work

Indians Finally Get to Rout U.S. Cavalry in a Movie

HOLLYWOOD (UP) — Fifty Indians finally got a chance to rout the U. S. cavalry in a reversal of what usually happens to Indians in motion pictures, and some of them almost played the scene too well.

The happy Navajos, playing Ute Indians on location at Moab, Utah, really whipped the cavalry in mounted battle sequences. They chased the bluecoats across a stretch of desert, into a fort and later into the Colardo River over which the soldiers escaped in boats.

The fight-hearted Indians put on their stuff in Universal-International's "Smoke Signal," and director Jerry Hopper was between laughter and anxiety as he watched the pursuit.

"In some of the sequences I was afraid the Indians forgot it was only a movie and were about to slaughter the cavalry," he said. "I've never seen Indians put such heart into screen work, and maybe it's just as well we used blank ammunition and rubber-tipped arrows."

Hopper said historical accounts indicate Indians were beaten only rarely and that their attitude in the scenes may be due to their feelings that Indians are in their correct role at last. He credited the attitude, plus superb horsemanship, for a high degree of realism.

Hopper cites as contributing factors screaming, blood-curdling yells and whoops which scared Piper Laurie, the only woman in the cast, and the Indians' failure to hear "the bell" on one occasion. Hopper had yelled, "Cut!" several times, but no one heard him and the Indians continued to attack.

Finally they were quieted with the help of Lee Bradley, a Navajo who acts as technical advisor on many westerns. Bradley also had an explanation for the Indians' enthusiasm.

"These boys have always had to pretend they were being beaten by the cavalry in many westerns," he said. "They don't like this and know it's wrong historically.

"When I explained to them that this time they could win, they just went wild and almost put too much realism into the picture."

Helicopter Flies Iron Lung to Boy Stricken on Ship

SOUTHAMPTON, England (UP) — A British navy helicopter flew a portable iron lung out over the stormy Channel today to aid an American boy suffering from polio on a U.S. transport.

A tender was sent out to pick up the lad, identified as David Lee Oliver, and bring him to a hospital here.

The emergency flight was made in response to an urgent radio message from the 9,600-ton Gen. Maurice Rose, bound from New York to Bremerhaven, Germany.

The helicopter found the ship wallowing in heavy seas off the South English coast. A crewman carrying the iron lung strapped on his back was lowered to the ship.

A message from the ship said the stricken boy was en route to Mannheim, Germany, with his mother and 13-year-old sister to join his father, U.S. Army Sgt. David Oliver, U.S. Naval headquarters in London said the Olivers formerly lived at 400 North 5th St., Springfield, Ill.

State Recesses Phone Hearing

Last Arguments on Bell Rate Boost Application to Be Heard Oct. 25

LANSING (UP) — The State Public Service Commission has set Oct. 25 for final arguments in the rehearing of the Michigan Bell Telephone Co. application for a $22,300,000 rate increase.

The hearing was recessed yesterday after the commission heard testimony from company and commission witnesses.

James H. Lee, assistant corporation counsel for the city of Detroit, brought out under cross-examination that stocks of the American Telephone and Telegraph Co., parent company of Michigan Bell, had gone up 20 points during the 15 months since the company first made its application for a rate increase in July of 1953.

Ferry B. Allen, assistant company controller, said that although the stock was higher, it still had not equalled the increases shown by other stocks.

Jack H. Schuler, company attorney, said the company wanted to go formally on record as objecting to the commission decision to broaden the scope of the rehearing to determine the reasonableness of present rates.

Testimony was introduced to show that "yellow pages" advertising netted the company about five million dollars during the year ending May 31, 1954, and that income from mobile radio private line service amounted to about $100,000 during the same period.

Ohio produced about 33⅓ million tons of coal in 1953.

Good Home Is Sought for Aged Locomotive

BOSTON (UP) — A 60-year-old steam locomotive is looking for a permanent home.

Old 494 is now a derelict at the Billerica shops of the Boston & Maine Railroad. But the newly formed Railroad Community Committee of Greater Boston hopes to restore some of its former glory.

The committee will give the locomotive to any community or organization that provides a proper home, meaning a non-commercial exhibit open to the public.

The committee would like to see Old 494 on exhibition in some public park or village square.

Hal Boyle Says:

Being Allergic to Money Usually Women's Disease

NEW YORK (AP) — Pickup items from a Pavement Plato:

It is not at all unusual for people to have an allergy to money, although generally it's the other way around—money seems to be allergic to us.

What most of us seem allergic to is the fact we often get less money for a job than we feel we should. But even here we protect ourselves against the allergy with the consoling remark, "But, after all, it's nothing to sneeze at."

Ironically, she worked as a cashier. The only way she could keep the post was to wear white cotton gloves.

Life was quite a problem to her until she met and married a well-to-do businessman. He gave her a big checking account, and that cured her hand rash almost overnight.

Somehow nobody ever seems allergic to a checkbook. For that matter, I never heard of a man being allergic to cash. It must be an occupational disease peculiar to women.

Our odd notions about foreigners are equalled only by their odd notions about us.

An Italian lady, who came to Long Island to live after marrying a former American Army officer, recently returned to her homeland for a visit. She found the Italian children in her village wearing cowboy suits, and even some of the old folks wanted to know how she guarded herself against Indian ambushes in the United States.

"Is it true that the Americans, when they finish a meal, put their feet up on the dinner table?" asked one child.

All American presidents, at one time or another, have their brushes with the legislative branch.

No exception was President Theodore Roosevelt. Reminiscing about a verbal collision with one senator, he expressed regrets that he hadn't brought a live lion back from his African hunting trips.

"I could have turned him loose on the floor of the Senate," he said wistfully.

"Aren't you afraid he'd eat the wrong man?" asked a friend.

"Not if he was there long enough," replied Roosevelt cheerfully.

Which came first—the chicken or the egg? That is one of the human race's favorite riddles.

Recently it puzzled the small daughter of a lady reader of this department, who forwarded her child's solution.

"The chicken must have come first, mama," reasoned the child. "I can see how God could make a chicken—but I can't imagine him laying an egg."

The trouble with columnists is they like to make big, flat-headed generalizations they can't prove. I find myself in this pickle.

The other day I made the bald statement that never in the history of the world lived there a woman who hadn't sometime secretly searched the trouser pockets of her husband or growing boys.

Today I have a rebuttal from Mrs. Cora Holmes of Big Spring, Tex., who has reared two sons and has been twice widowed.

"I hereby make oath and affidavit that I never put my hands (either of them) in any pocket of any of these men at any time, never—not once," she wrote in a letter that bears the seal of a Texas notary public.

All I can say in self-defense is that this is just one more proof that Texas has everything.

My apologies, ladies.

Tourists Tormented by Tolling Town Clock

SARANAC LAKE, N. Y. (UP)—The hourly booming of the Town Hall clock in nearby Harrietstown is driving visitors out of Saranac Lake, according to the local Chamber of Commerce.

The issue came up at a recent meeting of the chamber when one member said the clock's marking of the hours is the subject of complaints from vacationers in this resort city. He said, "It's driving people crazy."

Conferences to seek a remedy will be held with the Harrietstown supervisor.

Truce Creates Boundary Line

Indochina Pact Gives New Significance to 17th Parallel

WASHINGTON—The recent truce agreement in Indochina has brought a new geographical term into everyday use — the 17th Parallel north.

Although its global circuit measures 23,820 miles, today's news concerns only 35 miles of this imaginary line 17 degrees above the Equator, this portion roughly follows the Ben Hai River almost to the Laos border.

Under the truce the river, rather than the parallel, partitions Viet Nam's 172,258 square miles so as to give the Communists 60,900 square miles north of the line. But the world is likely to think of the 17th parallel as the dividing line, says the National Geographic Society.

This line in its course around the globe was crossed by Magellan, Vasco da Gama and other famed explorers and has frequently figured in historic events.

The 17th Parallel's significance is similar to that of the 38th Parallel separating Communist North Korea from the Republic of South Korea. Under the Indochina pact, the Reds will control northern Viet Nam—Tonkin and the upper half of coastal Annam, Viet Nam's narrow waist. Annam's southerly Cochina China, will form the new Viet Nam under a French-sponsored government.

OUT OUR WAY

Beans Continue Climbing Slowly

CHICAGO (UP) — Weather continued unsettled over much of the Midwest today and soybeans, probably because of the weather, continued their slow price climb on the Board of Trade. Gains ranged to around three cents at one time.

Other cereals started out quite firm in dealings which picked up a bit from the extremely low level which has been characteristic of this week's trading. However, after small gains had been scored selling pressure expanded and advances were either reduced or wiped out.

Wheat near the end of the first hour was unchanged to ½ higher, December $2.14⅝; cor nunchanged to ⅛ lower, December $1.50; oats ⅛ lower to ⅛ higher, December 77⅜; rye ½ to 1¼ higher, December $1.41¼; soybeans 1½ to 2½ higher, November $2.66½, and lard 3 to 8 cents a hundred pounds higher, October $14.70.

Education Needs Discussed Here

Pontiac Group Lists Musts for Teaching 'Slow' Children

Needs and plans for special education were discussed Wednesday night by the Pontiac Area Chapter of the International Council for Exceptional Children.

Discussing Public Act 18 (Oakland County's new special education law), Paul F. Thams county director of the program, told of the planning required for putting this act into operation.

Also appearing on the program and specifying needs of different areas of special education were Mrs. Philip Kinsella, Mrs. John Wagner, Mrs. Elizabeth Darnell and Mrs. H. Erwin Gottschalk. Citing needs were Allan Copley, Mrs. Wilson B. Roback, Mrs. Stuart Galbraith and William G. Wright.

An enumeration of requirements to conduct a good special education program they agreed included trained school psychologists and centrally located facilities with adequate transportation provided. Other trained personnel who can handle the slow-learning child were also needed, they said.

Mrs. Harry E. King, member of the Pontiac Board of Education, told the group that the public must be informed of these needs.

Curtice Promises 'Hottest Car' in '55

COPENHAGEN (UP)—Harlow H. Curtice, president of General Motors Corp., said today his company would introduce "the hottest car in the world in the lower price class" in 1955. The new car will be shown for the first time around next Nov. 1.

Curtice, at a press conference, said that no "revolutionary change" in car design should be expected.

"I have heard of very few manufacturers who made drastic changes in automobile design and got away with it," he said.

"Automobile owners are among the most conservative people in the world."

Curtice also said that General Motors had no plans for making a cheap, small car. He said that the present Opel Rekord, manufactured in Germany, represented the absolute minimum" in the small car bracket."

Pontiac Man Charged With 1st Degree Murder

A first degree murder warrant against Charles R. Herron, 37, of 357 Rockwell Ave., was issued today, according to Oakland County Prosecutor Frederick C. Ziem.

Herron is accused in the fatal shooting of Lawrence Freeman, 28, of 476 Ditmar St. Saturday night.

Rivers, lakes or coastline comprise 88 per cent of the 4,137 miles of boundaries enclosing Texas.

Series Causes Sluggish Mart

NEW YORK (UP) — The stock market was thoroughly mixed today in early dealings.

Not a singe major division displayed a pronounced movement in either direction.

Price changes amounted to around a point either way. Trading was fast right at the start. The accumulation of overnight orders was cleared away quickly, and the tape idled.

Both yesterday and today, the market was under the influence of the World Series so far as attention to business was concerned.

Chrysler, at the head of yesterday's most active list up 1⅛, opened today on 7,000 shares up ⅜ at 69¾, and then it gained a little more.

General Motors opened on 1,200 shares off ⅜ at 92. Continental Motors started on 2,500 shares up ⅛ at 10⅞.

Salesman Held in Child's Death

Month's Search Ends With Finding of Boy's Mutilated Body

SIOUX CITY, Iowa (UP)—A Sioux City detective said today "I think we have the right man" in the abduction - slaying of 8-year-old Jimmie Bremmer.

The salesman steadfastly denies any knowledge of Jimmie's death.

"I think he knows a lot more than he's telling," Gibbons said.

The man has admitted talking to the boy on Aug. 31, the night he disappeared. Police decline to name the man.

The month long search for the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Bremmer ended yesterday in a pasture only four miles from the lad's home. Three highway maintenance men found the mutilated body.

Sioux City police, Gibbons said, also are working with officials of Auburn, Maine, where a 12-year-old boy disappeared last July 22 under similar circumstances. His body was found nine days later in a river.

Gibbons said the salesman admits being on the East Coast last June.

The salesman, returned yesterday afternoon from nearby Cherokee State Mental Health Institute, was taken to the scene where Jimmie's body was found. He had entered the institute as a voluntary patient.

Accused of Forging While Behind Bars

MANKATO, Minn. (UP)—Wilford Devens, 29, Mankato, was charged with second degree forgery yesterday after making out a false check for $110 in his jail cell and having it cashed.

Police said Devens gave the check to a prisoner in an adjoining cell, who cashed it after he was freed from a drunkenness charge. Devens denied the charge until the officers said they found the $100 cash proceeds hidden under a jail basin.

The innocent casher of the check, paid $10 for his trouble by Devens, was not held. Devens had been in jail for investigation of bad check dealings.

Tank Plant Fate Undetermined

Chrysler Bid Leaves Future of GM Facilities at Grand Blanc in Doubt

DETROIT (UP) — General Motors spokesmen said today it was too early to tell what effect reassignment of the contract to build Patton M-48 medium tanks to Chrysler Corp. will have on the GM plant at Grand Blanc, Mich., which has been turning out the tanks.

The Fisher Body Division of General Motors has been building the tanks, but the Army said Chrysler Corp. had underbid GM by $7,600,000 on production of the tanks starting next June 1 and had been assigned the contract.

The tank contract was only 1 of 2 defense awards for Chrysler announced by the Army yesterday.

The Army said Chrysler will start production soon on the newest addition to the Army's growing family of deadly-accurate guided missiles.

The Army said Chrysler has been given contracts totaling $22,000,000 to start production of "The Redstone" in the near future. The Redstone is a ground-to-ground missile designed for use against enemy troops and installations and presumably can be equipped with atomic warheads.

Details of "The Redstone," which still is a secret project, weren't revealed. But it is known to have greater range than "The Corporal" which now is in the hands of troops. "The Corporal" is reported to have a reach of more than 100 miles.

Ants can lift a weight 400 times their own weight. If weight increased in direct proportion to size, a five-pound ant could easily lift a ton.

ORDINANCE NO. 1257
Adopted: September 28, 1954
Effective: October 8, 1954

An Ordinance to Amend Section 4 of Ordinance No. 904, entitled "An Ordinance Licensing and Regulating Control of Underground Vaults Beneath any Street, Sidewalk or Alley"

The City of Pontiac Ordains:

Section 1.

That Section 4 of Ordinance No. 904 be and the same is hereby amended to read as follows:

Section 4. All licensees and all persons maintaining any underground vaults beneath any street, sidewalk or alley shall file with the City Clerk a policy of insurance or certificate of insurance covering public liability and also insuring the City of Pontiac against all claims or causes of action by reason of any action or injuries which might arise by virtue of the existence, maintenance or operation of said underground vault. The limits of said insurance shall be as follows:

$50,000 for damages sustained by one person in any one accident, and $100,000 for all damages sustained by two or more persons in any one accident.

This provision regarding insurance shall be in lieu of the provision regarding a bond and all such bonds now on file may continue in effect until replaced by the certificate of insurance or insurance policy above provided, on or before December 31, 1954.

Made and passed by the City Commission of the City of Pontiac, this 28th day of September, 1954.

Her Dad's Job Moved Around

She Did Summer Stock, Sang With Dance Bands and Starred in Movies

NEW YORK — "I sang before I could talk," says Polly Bergen, the comely songstress who is pinch-hitting for Dorothy Collins on Your Hit Parade each Saturday night on TV during Dorothy's leave of absence to await motherhood.

Polly Bergen was born in Knoxville, Tenn., July 14, 1930. The striking blue-eyed, auburn-haired singer started studying music seriously at an early age.

However, when she was 14, Polly was invited to sing on the radio and she switched to popular music, feeling that this fare would prove more interesting to youngsters her own age. She's never regretted it.

Polly's father was a construction engineer and consequently the family traveled, rarely settling for more than six months in any particular locality. As a youngster, she was a temporary citizen of such cities as Columbus, Ohio; Pittsburgh, Pa.; Charleston, W. Va.; New Orleans, La.; Richmond, Ind., and San Francisco. Having lived in Los Angeles for four consecutive years, she almost considers that city home.

Polly meanwhile worked in Summer stock and light opera whenever she could, though her best break came when the family moved to Southern California and the young thrush joined society orchestras as featured vocalist in Los Angeles, Las Vegas and Reno engagements. Returning to Hollywood, Polly sang at Billy Gray's Band Box Cafe and the Bar of Music. Then television discovered her. She was guest star on the premiere of the Alan Young show.

She's been in great demand ever since, with appearances on such programs as the "Dean Martin and Jerry Lewis Show," "The Steve Allen Show," "Schlitz Playhouse," "Coke Time Starring Eddie Fisher," "The Arthur Murray Show," "Break the Bank," "Toast of the Town" and dozens of others. This summer, she co-starred in a husband-and-wife TV program with her actor-mate, Jerome Courtland.

While still on the West Coast, Hal Wallis caught Miss Bergen's act and soon signed her as leading lady in Dean Martin and Jerry Lewis films. In addition to these, Polly had leads in many other movies.

Polly attended Compton Junior College in California for two years and continues her education at home by avid reading. She likes to dance, ride horseback, bowl and shoot pool. A deep South delicacy — bean soup, dill pickles and corn bread — is her favorite dish. She can cook, too — spaghetti and pies being her own house specialties. Torch songs are her personal favorites, though she can handle a jump tune with the best of them.

Miss Bergen is five feet, five-and-a-half inches tall and weighs 119 pounds.

Ex-Contributor to Free Radio Tells Spy Yarn

VIENNA (AP)—Communist Czechoslovakia today presented an alleged former employe of Radio Free Europe who said he had been assigned to return to Czechoslovakia as a spy.

Bruno Folta, identified as a former Czech news announcer for the privately financed, anti-Communist American network, said on Prague radio he fled his country in 1951. When he returned on his "espionage mission" via West Berlin, he said, he was taken by remorse after seeing the "high standard of living" in Czechoslovakia and surrendered to the Communists.

Officials of Radio Free Europe said Folta was employed by their Munich station on a free lance basis for about a year. He disappeared last July.

Selected from a horde of major-generals, Grant became the third American lieutenant-general in history when he took command of the Union Army.

Quebec Beaver Reserves Are Paying Big Dividends

QUEBEC—(UP) Quebec province's 27-year-old "beaver protection" program is paying off, with the province well in the lead in the production of beaver skins, according to Dr. Camille Pouliot, provincial minister of games and fisheries.

The beaver was the bait that lured thousands of French and English explorers and settlers to this country more than 300 years ago.

Fortunes were made by those who either trapped the animals themselves or purchased the skins from Indians for a few trinkets.

With the years, however, the beaver started to disappear, until 27 years ago when J. S. Watt, manager of the Hudson Bay Co. at Rupert House, gave the Quebec government its first lesson in beaver conservation.

Out of his own pocket, Watt started buying beavers from Indians who found them on their land. The purchase carried the provision that the animals would be left alone and a report made to the new owner every year.

Watt finally managed to convince the Quebec government that his conservation program was a sound one and beaver reserves under government protection were established.

Today there are 12 of these reserves in the northern part of the province covering 184,300 square miles. They will produce 25,950 beaver pelts this year.

The beaver skin industry has been extremely remunerative to the Quebec's far north Indians in the past 27 years. From starving, unclothed and unequipped people, they have become a well-dressed, well-fed and happy part of the population.

Each reserve is divided into hunting and trapping lots and each Indian or trapper owns his own piece of land. The properties are checked each year by government officials and are always passed along from father to son.

Following the hunting or trapping season, the owner of the lot turns over his skins to government representatives and they are marked and stamped for sale to brokers or individual furriers.

Besides income from the sale of the skins, the Indians hunting or trapping the beaver also supply their families with the meat the animals, which is a delicacy to them.
