Lid on Cyprus Tightened

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP)—British authorities pressed their clampdown on strife-torn Cyprus today as a general strike protesting the ouster of Archbishop Makarios went into its fourth day.

The British, striving to put a tight lid on the smoldering island, arrested a close friend of Makarios, Abbot Chryssostomos, head of the wealthy Kykkos Monastery, was whisked off to an unknown destination.

Scattered violence sputtered again across the island. Gunmen wounded two policemen in Nicosia the island capital where a British police sergeant was killed 24 hours earlier. Two other policemen were shot at, but their assailant missed. He was nabbed.

The new violence came on the heels of Prime Minister Eden's pledge to restore order in Cyprus before making concessions to the islanders.

Eden was bolstered by a 317-252 vote of confidence in the House of Commons last night after making clear his government intended to keep control over the Mediterranean island colony which is Britain's last bastion in the Middle East.

British troops and police sealed off with barbed wire a block of downtown Nicosia where the police sergeant was killed yesterday. The British made a thorough search for "a secret hideout for arms and possible terrorists" in the region, where nine British servicemen have been killed by backers of the union-with-Greece movement since last August.

In Lanarca a 7-year-old Greek Cypriot who with other children was stoning military vehicles was shot and killed.

Pakhna village, which refused to pay a collective fine of $1,680 for attacking the local police station, was put under curfew until the fine was paid.

Eisenhower Invites Nehru for U.S. Visit

WASHINGTON (INS)—President Eisenhower has invited Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru of India to visit the United States some time early this summer in an effort to improve U.S.-Indian relations.

The White House said yesterday that Secretary of State Dulles extended the invitation to Nehru last Friday while he was visiting New Delhi.

The White House announcement did not say whether Nehru had accepted the invitation or give any other details about the proposed visit.

However, no announcement is usually made of such invitations unless it is relatively certain that acceptance is probable. It is likely that Nehru, if he should visit the U.S., would come before Washington becomes embroiled in convention and campaign maneuverings later this summer.

Speeches, Tours on Agenda of Irish Premier

WASHINGTON (INS) — Prime Minister John A. Costello of Ireland spends his second day in the Capital today seeing the sights and making speeches.

* * *

The short, gray-haired head of the Irish Government is scheduled to begin his busy official day with a visit to Arlington National Cemetery where he will place a wreath at the Tomb of the Unknown Soldier.

From there he will go to Mount Vernon to lay another wreath at the tomb of George Washington.

Back in Washington for lunch, Costello will talk before the National Press Club.

In the afternoon he will address the U. S. Senate and then the House of Representatives.

The Prime Minister arrived in Washington yesterday for a three-day stay in the Capital. On Saturday he goes to New York to review the traditional St. Patrick's Day parade on Fifth avenue.

He will also visit Philadelphia and Yale University at New Haven, Conn., before leaving for Ireland on March 29.

Wilson Hopes Reds Will Talk

Believes Some Soviets May Cooperate About Disarmament

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Defense Wilson said today he holds a "reasonable hope" that Soviet Russia ultimately will negotiate with this country on disarmament.

Wilson told a Senate Foreign Relations subcommittee that there are "some realists" in the Kremlin who know, as the United States knows, that there can be no winner in an atomic or hydrogen war.

And he said he is sure there must be "some men of goodwill in Russia just like there are in this country."

But Wilson made it clear the United States does not propose to disarm until there is agreement on a plan for safe control. He said the aerial inspection and exchange of military blueprints proposed by President Eisenhower would be a "good start" and added:

"Any system would have to include ground inspection."

Wilson testified before a subcommittee headed by Sen. Humphrey (D-Minn) which is hunting for means to promote disarmament. He was accompanied by Adm. Arthur Radford, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff.

Senators Locked Over Farm Bill

Controversy Still Rages on Parity Issue; Leaders Order Another Session

WASHINGTON (AP)—Leaders ordered another 12-hour Senate session today on the controversial farm bill with tempers of some lawmakers already above the boiling point.

Pending was one of the hottest controversies of the omnibus election year bill—a decision on the method of determining parity, which is the price level fixed by law as fair to farmers in relation to their costs.

Crops are supported at a percentage of parity, so its level determines government price supports on wheat, corn and other major crops.

A new formula for computing parity became effective this year. It raised the level for some crops and lowered it for others—among them corn and wheat.

But the Senate Agriculture Committee wrote a "dual parity" provision into the bill. This would allow farmers to use either the old or the new parity system—whichever was higher in determining the level of price supports.

Sen. Aiken (R-Vt), chief spokesman for the administration's farm proposals, teamed up with Senators Anderson (D-NM), Holland (D-Fla) and Williams (R-Del) in an effort to beat this and retain only the new parity formula.

Aiken, during one of several torrid verbal exchanges yesterday, cautioned that the Senate was loading the farm measure with provisions that President Eisenhower would have to veto.

Citizens Study Future Problems for Waterford

Group May Be Formed to Probe Incorporation and Annexation

By L. JAMES BINDER
Asst. City Editor, Pontiac Press

A movement to form a study group to weigh issues involved in incorporation or annexation as possible solutions to Waterford Township's growth problems was launched last night by area civic leaders.

The plan was outlined following a panel discussion on annexation during which a town meeting of 500 area residents heard pros and cons of joining communities with Pontiac analyzed by local and county representatives.

The panelists included Lloyd C. Anderson, township supervisor; John Hirlinger, manager of the Pontiac Chamber of Commerce; Mrs. Edmund L. Windeler, area civic leader; and Attorney David C. Hertler. Moderator was William Shunck, superintendent of Waterford Township schools.

Hirlinger, who lives at 2918 W. Huron St., stated that his affirmative views on annexation were offered as a resident of the Waterford area and not as an official of the Pontiac Chamber of Commerce.

Citing Anderson's previous summing up of the need for more road and drainage facilities, Hirlinger pointed out that the lack of extensive industry and business will put the burden of payment on individual taxpayers.

Waterford would benefit, Hirlinger said, by Pontiac's excellent credit rating which he said it owes to the fact that industry and business pay 65 per cent of the tax load. Annexation, he said, would mean a similar ratio would be extended to Waterford area residents.

Stating that a joining of the two areas would make the resulting city the fourth largest in the state, Hirlinger contended that annexation would increase efficiency and cut down overhead by combining services and officials.

SUGGESTS STUDY

"I would want to see an extensive study made of both the annexation and incorporation issues before deciding either way," Hirlinger said in suggesting that a accelerators.

Seek Million Dollar Increase

City Teachers Ask Board for Higher Pay Next Year

Pontiac school teachers last night asked for a million-dollar-plus pay increase after members of the Board of Education were told more money is necessary "to attract and keep good teachers" in the city's school system.

Admitting that the resultant tax burden might be great, teacher representatives at the Board's meeting warned that higher wages may lure teachers to other locations.

Starting salaries in many cities of the Detroit Metropolitan Area will be substantially increased next year, the teachers predicted, and the present rate of pay in Pontiac, if continued, will fall far below the average.

Total cost of the proposal was figured at $1,109,770 per year. Prepared by the joint salary committee of the Pontiac Education Association and the American Federation of Teachers, it made these requests:

A $700 to $800 increase in minimum salaries;

A $1,600 to $1,900 increase in maximum salaries;

And an increase of from $150 to $250 in annual increments.

Board members agreed that a raise is in order, but gave consideration to a statement of Schools' Superintendent Dr. Dana P. Whitmer that to meet the full request would require "a tremendous tax jump."

Under the proposed budget, Whitmer explained, the Board may ask for a record millage this year in order to meet operating costs

Start of Building Seen for March

Safety Building Decision Up to Commission, Says City Manager

Hopes were expressed yesterday that ground-breaking ceremonies for the city's new $800,000 Public Safety Building might be held on March 28.

City Manager Walter K. Willman said the decision is up to the City Commission, but we "hope that work might begin in about two weeks."

Tuesday night the commission accepted construction bids which were $49,401 above the city's original estimate of $750,000 for the new edifice, the second building in city's Civic Center progress.

Willman conferred with building architect Leo J. Heenan yesterday who said the form of the contracts might be approved and signed by next Tuesday's City Commission session.

The three floor structure will house the police department, offices of the fire chief and staff and the municipal courts.

It will be situated next to the City Hall and will front on Pike Street. It is expected to be completed by the fall of 1957.

Revamp Funds for 3 Hospitals in County Area

Lapeer Training Home, State Institution Here Face Money Cuts

Republican senators in Lansing began slashing Gov. Williams' record high $46,938,532 capital improvements budget today, and cuts and increases for three Oakland County area mental institutions were in the making.

An estimated $8,673,742 of the governor's 1956-1957 plans were pared away in a senate appropriations bill introduced, which would affect Pontiac State Hospital, the Lapeer State Home and Training School, and the Northville State Hospital.

The legislators proposed a $2,500 slice from the Pontiac State Hospital appropriation, and $790,000 less for the Lapeer Home, while boosting the Northville Hospital allotment by $674,000.

The biggest cut proposed by the Republican controlled committee was the $6,701,370 lopped off Williams' new construction and land acquisition program.

For these purposes, the Republican bill provided $25,495,130. The committee reduced by roughly three million dollars each the amounts requested for projects at educational and state mental institutions.

Another $1,750,000 was subtracted from the governor's request for three million dollars for land acquisition and development at state parks.

SOME INCREASES

Offsetting the reductions in part were increases in some budget allowances, notably an addition of $400,000 to speed work on a social science and language building at the University of Michigan.

The committee bill provided, overall, $5,813,000 for new construction at the U. of M., topping the governor's figure by $230,000.

Earmarked by the committee for similar purposes at Michigan State University was $3,710,000, or $320,000 less than the Williams request.

Unchanged from the governor's earlier recommendations were appropriations for a new $79,000 Pontiac State Police post, and a

Makes Monkeys Out of New Yorkers

This Chimp's No Chump

NEW YORK (AP)—Mike the chimpanzee is brooding in captivity today, but he put on a 10-hour solo circus on the lower East Side yesterday and last night that will be long remembered.

Mike is 5 feet tall, 5 years old, and weighs 90 pounds. Night club entertainer Frank Quinn bought him for $500 from the Detroit zoo.

Mike arrived at Quinn's fourth-floor apartment Tuesday. Quinn gave him the run of the flat.

At noon yesterday, Mike went into action. Through an apartment window he went, showering glass and breaking his fall on the way down by grabbing onto a clothes line.

Then he scrambled up an airshaft into the third-floor apartment of Ellis Leipson, a night worker who was asleep. Leipson wakened to the sound of furniture moving and ran out into the hall yelling: "He's in here!"

Mike, leaving the apartment a wreck, whipped past police and neighbors in the hallway and headed roofward.

A crowd had gathered below, and apparently Mike appreciates an audience. He chinned himself from ledges, made prodigious leaps from building to building in the area and spun around on TV aerials.

Back into another building he went, with his would-be captors in full cry.

In a hallway he took a painful but minor bite out of the arm of agent Geoge Zenkewish of the American Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals.

He met his Waterloo on the seventh floor of a commercial building on East 7th Street. He dashed into an unoccupied ladies room and the door was slammed shut on him.

Romans Cut Caesar Again by Refusal to Mark Ides

ROME (AP)—Julius Caesar received another unkind cut today—Rome refused to celebrate his Ides of March as the 2,000th anniversary of his death.

Some scholars argue this is only the 1,999th anniversary of the day Brutus and the conspirators plunged their daggers into Caesar at the foot of Pompey's statue.

An official at Rome's City Hall conceded "this is the bimillenary" but said the city isn't celebrating.

"We celebrate the deaths of saints, not of pagans," he explained.

However, a green wreath did decorate the brow of his bronze statue which gazes across Rome's broad Via Dei Fori Imperiali—Street of the Imperial Forum. At its feet was a bouquet of red and white carnations.

"They asked the mayor for an official celebration, but he refused," the spokesman said.

Mayor Salvatore Rebecchini is a staunch Christian Democrat.

The only Rome newspaper that mentioned the anniversary was the MSI organ, Il Secolo. It protested Italy's neglect of the anniversary.

Behind Caesar's statue, ruins of a forum erected to his honor long ago were empty today. It was too cold for sightseers.

One Italian passer-by, reminded of the date, commented:

"I'll bet it wasn't this cold then, or Caesar might have stayed home and been saved."

In New York, an anniversary celebration was almost called off because of the scholarly dispute over just how many years ago Caesar died.

Prof. Jotham Johnson of New York University, argued that the death date—March 15, 44 B. C.—really was 1,999 years ago because there was no zero year between 1 B. C. and 1 A.D.

But Columbia University authorities said other celebrations had been based on different calculations. They went ahead with an anniversary exhibition.

Columbia's news office rallied to their scholars' defense. They said calendar changes in history "make it doubtful that anybody could pinpoint the correct date."

Marroso Mute on Tax Charge

Plea of Innocent Made by Federal Judge for Ex-Teamster Official

Former Pontiac Teamsters Local official Samuel J. Marroso stood mute yesterday when arraigned on a charge of income tax evasion.

Federal Judge Arthur A. Koscinski entered a plea of innocent for Marroso, accused of underreporting his income for 1950-52 by $15,464. The charge says he underpaid his taxes by $2,469.

Marroso, 42, of Utica, formerly was business agent of Teamsters' Local 614, AFL. He previously served six months in prison for taking bribes uncovered by a labor rackets investigation in 1954.

Marroso is the second former official of the local teamsters group to be cited for alleged tax evasion. Daniel J. Keating has been charged with concealing some $29,000 in income from 1949-53.

U. S. District Attorney Fred W. Kaess said the hidden incomes of Marroso and Keating were from bribes received from local contractors seeking labor peace and favorable contracts.

Keating also stood mute upon arraignment. No trial dates have been set for either man.

Register of Deeds to Seek Re-election

With announcement today by Oakland County Register of Deeds Orrin McQuaid that he will seek re-election, all five Republican holders of major county offices are candidates for nomination to run for another two-year term.

Besides McQuaid, incumbents in the field are Prosecutor Frederick C. Ziem, Sheriff Frank W. Irons, Treasurer Charles A. Sparks and Clerk Lynn D. Allen. Their tenures in office total 72 years.

McQuaid, 51, was first elected in 1938. Seeking his tenth term, the candidate lives at 225 N. Berkshire, Pontiac.

He attended Pontiac schools, graduated from Ferris Institute and attended the University of Detroit. A registered land surveyor, he helped organize the first young men's Republican club in Oakland County in 1932.

He served as treasurer of the National Federation of Young Republicans. Married, with one daughter, he is a World War II veteran.

Coral Reef Topic Drawing Four to the Bahamas

Two Cranbrook teachers and two students leave Detroit today for an expedition to Rose Island in the Bahamas, where they will collect and record material for an Institute of Science exhibit depicting a coral reef.

James H. Carmel, Chief Preparator and Associate Curator of Education at the Institute, plans to paint underwater pictures in oil paints of sections of the reef.

Underwater photographs, he says, distort natural colors, which change with depth of water.

Carmel's wife and four children will accompany him, as will art instructor John House and students Douglas Shaw and Peter Hubert, both 18.

Sponsored in part by Roswell Miller, Jr., of Nassau, an underwater photographer, the expedition will also include J. Manson Valentine, Field Associate, zoologist and Curator of Entomology at Alabama Museum of Natural History.

Albert F. Millet, a Cranbrook and Yale University garduate, already has gone to Rose Island, where he is setting up a laboratory to process specimens from the ocean floor.

Pontiac Deaths

William Earl Atchinson

William Earl Atchinson, 56, of 5597 Elizabeth Lake Rd., died yesterday in St. Joseph Mercy Hospital after a brief illness.

Born in Port Huron Oct. 27, 1899, he was the son of William J. and Edith Finch Atchinson. He lived in the Pontiac area 40 years.

During World War I, he had served with the U. S. Navy. An electrical engineer, Mr. Atchinson was with the Consumers Power Co.

He is survived by his father and six children, Thomas H. of Norfolk, Va., Patrick James, Harvey J., William George, Robert Earl and Mrs. Margaret Mary Riggi, all of Pontiac.

Also surviving are two sisters, Mrs. L. Hunt and Mrs. G. Downing, both of Port Huron.

Funeral arrangements will be announced later by Brace-Smith Funeral Home.

Jess L. Beebe

Jess L. Beebe, 72, of 21½ N. Saginaw St. died yesterday in Pontiac General Hospital.

He was born in Avon Township Dec. 2, 1883 and was married to the former Irene Fenner May 5, 1918.

Mr. Beebe had sold real estate for the last 30 years.

Service will be at 1:30 p. m. Saturday from the Huntoon Funeral Home. Burial will be in Rochester.

Richard J. Supernant

Richard J. Supernant, 55, of 271 Dick Ave. died yesterday in St. Joseph Mercy Hospital after a two-year illness.

He was born Nov. 1, 1900, the son of Julius and Caroline Trudell Supernant. On May 15, 1923, he was married to Gladys Duquette in Bay City.

A member of St. Benedict's Catholic Church, he had been a resident of Pontiac 29 years, coming here from Bay City.

Mr. Supernant was employed in the plant protection department at the General Motors Truck & Coach Division.

Surviving besides his wife are two daughters, Mrs. Julia M. McCarrick of Pontiac and Gloria J. Supernant, at home, and two grandchildren.

A brother, Ben, is living in Bay City; two sisters, Mrs. Gertrude Gillis and Helen Supernant are in Pontiac.

Mr. Supernant is at the Donelson-Johns Funeral Home where the Daughters of Isabella will say the Rosary at 4 o'clock Sunday afternoon. There will also be a recitation of the Rosary Sunday at 8 p.m.

The funeral will be Monday at 10 a.m. from St. Benedict's Catholic Church with burial in Mt. Hope Cemetery.

Charles B. Weedon

Charles B. Weedon, owner and operator of C. Weedon Home Equipment Co., 1661 S. Telegraph Rd., died suddenly of a heart attick at his home, 4317 Lanette Rd., yesterday.

Born in Wayne County, Ill., Sept. 10, 1902, he was the son of Lewis W. and Susie Creighton Weedon. He was married Aug. 27, 1929 in Detroit to Alma J. Pinkney.

Before moving to his present address, he had lived at Union Lake seven years.

Mr. Weedon was a member of the Four Towns Church, BPOE No. 810, Eagles Aerie No. 2887 Waterford Township and the Oakland County Boat Club. He was also a member of Northwest Sportsman Club of Detroit.

Besides his wife, he leaves three children, Mrs. Harold Spitz of Royal Oak, Howard C. Weedon of Pontiac, Benson at home and seven grandchildren.

Other survivors include Lewis Weedon, a brother, in Dallas, Tex., and a sister, Mrs. Thelma Brown of San Mateo, Calif.

The Elks Lodge No. 810 will conduct an Elks Lodge of Sorrow at 8 p.m. Friday in the Donelson-Johns Funeral Home.

The funeral service will be at 1 p.m. Saturday from the funeral home with the Rev. W. C. Prout of the Four Towns Methodist Church officiating. Burial will be in Acacia Park Cemetery.

Waterford's Future Course Under Study

special group be organized to conduct an extensive study of both issues.

Hirlinger added that, contrary to rumors, the Chamber of Commerce has not taken a position favoring annexation.

Mrs. Windeler, who took the negative side in the discussion, told the audience that annexation would mean the loss of "home rule" and that Pontiac, because of its larger population, would hold the balance of power in elections and decisions affecting the consolidated area.

Admitting that the Waterford tax rate is high, Mrs. Windeler pointed out that the township enjoys high-caliber services because it is willing to pay for them.

"The tax rate . . . keeps us alert to our community's needs," she said. Annexation, she contended, would remove the tax "pressure" and make Waterford residents less sensitive to civic and governmental needs.

She contended that Waterford residents are apprehensive that heavy industry would move into the area after annexation. New residents have settled in the area partly because of the absence of industry, she said.

Seniority rights presently held by Waterford police officers and firemen would be sacrificed by annexation, Mrs. Windeler also contended.

Supervisor Anderson, in an account of area growth made preceding the presentations of opposing views, stated that the greatest rate of growth in history has taken place in Waterford during the past five years.

Comparing 1950's population of 24,300 with 1955's figure of 40,000, Anderson said that aid from the state in sales tax receipts is inadequate because it is based on the 1950 census.

OUTLINES PROBLEMS

He outlined problems faced by area residents; increasing school population, inadequate roads and sewers, and a looming water shortage in years ahead.

"We have been fortunate, where water is concerned because we are situated over a bountiful water shed," the official said, "but it can diminish as the area grows and natural drainage areas are filled up."

Hertler concluded the 10-minute panel addresses by outlining the legal steps necessary to launch an annexation movement and consolidation of school districts.

Questioning during the last part of the meeting brought comments and queries from the audience concerning school consolidation, what annexation would mean in taxes and how the plan would affect residents in the realm of services.

Asked about bus transportation to schools, Shunck stated that, under present Pontiac Board of Education policy, conveyance to schools lying within city limits is not furnished. He added, however, that the policy could be changed to accommodate children in the Waterford area.

Dr. George Petroff, president of the Pontiac Chamber of Commerce, was among various audience-members who arose to offer views. Said Dr. Petroff: "If a vote were taken in Waterford today, 99 residents to 1 would be against annexation while Pontiac would probably vote in favor of it.

"But, if people in both areas knew about the advantages and disadvantages, the situation would undoubtedly be reversed."

Dr. Petroff challenged audience and panel views that the balance of power would swing to Pontiac.

"Waterford could outvote Pontiac right now," he said in referring to the "interest and spirit" displayed by the audience. He also expressed belief that Pontiac would not accept annexation unless school systems were also consolidated.

Mrs. Windeler appealed for residents to volunteer for membership on a study committee which will analyze both incorporation and annexation. The group, when formed, will conduct an extensive study of both propositions, she said.

The meeting, similar to one held on incorporation in January, was sponsored and planned by the Waterford Junior Chamber of Commerce and the area's Business and Professional Women's Club. Chairman was Charles Pappas, representing the Junior Chamber.

Fire Attacks Interior of Car Sales Building

Fire of unknown origin caused $500 damage to contents of a used car dealer's office at 477 Auburn Ave. last night, firemen estimated.

They said $75 damage was done to the one-story frame building.

Charge Dismissed in Knifing Count

A charge of assault with intent to kill was dropped yesterday against Thomas E. Humphrey, 58, of 7181 Pontiac Lake Rd.

In dismissing the case, Pontiac Municipal Judge Cecil McCallum said the man had been ordered committed to a state hospital for the mentally ill.

Humphrey was charged after admitting the non-fatal stabbing last month of his wife, police said.

Condition Still Critical

Struck by a car Tuesday while running across the road, Richard K. St. Clair, 12, of Rochester remains in critical condition in Pontiac General Hospital today, where authorities said he suffered a brain concussion.

School Teachers Ask Increased Salaries of the city's rapidly expanded building program.

Pay increases will have to be made in addition to these costs, he said.

Whitmer pointed out that a survey of minimum salaries in 49 area school systems ranks Pontiac 18th, but added that beginning pay here with a bachelor's degree, currently $3,900, is only $200 below top minimum wages.

RANKS CITY SIXTH

He said that Pontiac ranks sixth on the same basis in 42 comparable cities throughout the nation.

Agreeing that salaries here are above average at present, the teachers asked that the minimum with a bachelor's degree be hiked to $4,600 and with a master's degree to $4,900. The present rate with a master's degree is $4,100.

The Board also heard pay requests from secretaries, maintenance workers and custodians.

Level Drunk Driving Charge at Official

DETROIT (AP) — Assistant Wayne County Prosecutor Martin S. Paulsmo, 64, was charged today with drunk driving for the second time in less than a year.

Two state troopers from the Ypsilanti post arrested Paulsmo for drunk driving last night after they saw him driving east on the west-bound lane of U.S 112 in Canton Township between Ypsilanti and Wayne.

The troopers said Paulsmo's car forced several autos off the highway.

Paulsmo was arraigned on the charge today in suburban Inkster Justice Court. His trial was set for next Wednesday and he was released on $100 personal bond.

Ypsilanti police said Paulsmo was arrested for drunk driving there last Oct. 18. The charge later was reduced to reckless driving and he was fined $50 and $25 court costs.

Hotel Resident Dies

A downtown hotel resident, 73, who told Pontiac police he was "too old to live any longer," died yesterday an hour after slashing his neck and wrists with a razor blade.

The victim, Jess L. Beebe, was still conscious when found in his room by the manager, according to Det. Thomas Mitchell. Beebe, he said, died in Pontiac General Hospital from loss of blood and shock.

Legislators Propose State Budget Cut

CUTS $2,500 HERE

Cutting $2,500 earmarked for plans for a storage garage at Pontiac State Hospital brought the proposed appropriation down to $2,000 for the local institution. This will be used for bleachers and a storage-recreation yard survey.

Williams had recommended $1,154,000 for the Lapeer Training Home, but Republican senators figured on $364,000 including start of construction on a central kitchen, $284,000; residence, $20,000, and plans for a 400-bed nursery, $60,000.

The Northville State Hospital came in for $10,000 for a church in the governor's budget, but GOP legislators slated $540,000 for occupational and therapy building, and a $144,000 laundry addition.

The mammoth spending bill, besides providing for new buildings and land buying, set forth numerous detailed allotments for special maintenance and remodeling projects.

All sums would be drawn from the state's general fund except approximately 4.4 million dollars remaining on hand out of a 1951 bonds issue for state hospital buildings.

Major items of new construction and land acquisition included:

State Capitol, Lansing, $755,000, including $650,000 for start of construction on new supreme court and law library building, $100,000 for land acquisition and $5,000 for planning office buildings and service center.

University of Michigan, $5,813,000 including continued construction on library, $1,000,000; purchase of Ann Arbor High School building and starting rehabilitation for social science and language building, $1,400,000; medical science building unit, $2,000,000, college of engineering unit, $1,000,000; fire station and training laboratory, $250,000; North campus development, $100,000, and plans for children's hospital-pediatrics unit, $63,000.

Michigan State University, $3,710,000, including completion of animal industries building, $1,130,000; start of electric generator plant, $500,000; start of education building, $2,000,000; planning first unit mechanical engineering building, $40,000; preliminary planning of business building, $40,000.

Stays on Critical List

Six-month-old Frank Polson, victim of a Keego Harbor house fire last Friday, still hovers between life and death in Pontiac General Hospital today.

His mother, Mrs. Betty Polson, burned when rescuing the baby, was reported in fair condition.

The Day in Birmingham

Lecturers Added; Sale for Town Hall Continues

BIRMINGHAM — Robert Collier, consultant on preventive industrial medicine, and Edith Atwater and Albert Dekker, touring comic literati, have been added to the town hall program for next year.

Some tickets are still available for both Thursday and Friday lectures in the series of six celebrities, according to Mrs. Edward Codner of the Town Hall board.

Already on the program are Dr. Norman Vincent Peale, whose advice on positive thinking has been given on radio, TV, lecture platforms and in successfully-selling books. He will talk here Nov. 8 and 9.

Marquis Childs, famous Washington correspondent, will be in the series on Oct. 18 and 19, Dr. Ralph Lapp, atomic scientist, Jan. 10 and 11, and Carleton Smith, world traveler, on Feb. 7 and 8.

The Atwater-Dekker Combination, will come for the Dec. 6 and 7 program, entitled "Two's A Company."

Collier's talk is set for Jan. 24 and 25. His topic is "How to Keep From Becoming a Widow," and will deal with what industry has begun to eliminate the toll of executives in a dynamic age.

Smith's talk will anlyze the philosophies of Schweitzer, Churchill and Einstein.

* * *

Square dancers at Walnut Lake School tomorrow night will be guided by Al Griffith's calls. A St. Patrick's theme is being followed, according to Charles Robinson, who says those attending need not come with a square already arranged.

* * *

Just back from India, Dr. John Ormond will talk tomorrow night at a Laetare buffet supper sponsored by the Hannah guild of Ascension Lutheran church.

Dr. Ormond, commissioned two years ago to begin a department of urology in Bombay, is head of the urology department at Henry Ford Hospital. His talk will deal with missionary work of the Christian Church in India.

Edmund Fuller, author, editor and literary critic will talk to Friends of the Baldwin Public Library at 8:15 Monday evening.

"New Books, New Authors" is the subject for Fuller, who for eight years edited crown Publications, reviews for the Saturday Review and New York Times, and has authored "A Star Pointed North" and "George Bernard Shaw, Critic of Western Morale."

Swimming classes sponsored by the Recreation Board during the winter are entering their final phase Saturday at Barnum Pool. Some openings are still available in beginning, intermediate and advance swimming groups. This series, the third, will run through June 2.

Registration for the classes just starting should be made at the recreation office in the board of education building.

Burglary Suspects Held for Examination

Two Clawson minors, accused in 65 Oakland and Wayne County burglaries, yesterday demanded examination on charges of breaking and entering and were remanded to Oakland County Jail under $7,500 bond each.

Held for examination Tuesday by Clawson Justice Harry R. McQuinn are Phillip Hughes, 17, and Lawrence LePage, 20.

Clawson police claimed they netted over $10,000 in stolen property plus $7,000 to $8,000 in stolen checks.

Two Women Hurt as Car Skids on Ice on Lahser

BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP — A Holly housewife and a visiting Iowa woman were injured when the car in which they were riding skidded on ice yesterday at 10:40 a.m. on Lahser near 14 Mile and went off the road.

Mrs. Clara Rold, 51, of Erwin, Iowa, is still in Beaumont Hospital with fractured ribs suffered when the car driven by Mrs. Barbara Ann Henriksen, 36, 9991 Schollot Lake, Holly, went off the road. Mrs. Ray B. Wilcox, 60, 10305 Oakhurst, Holly, had lacerations of her left knee treated before her release from the hospital.

Adding Machine Stolen

Three men in their 20s entered a downtown store yesterday with a large box.

When they left, the box hid a stolen adding machine, according to the manager, Guy Trembley, of Walled Lake.

Trembley said the machine was worth $95.

Hills Residents Warned

BLOOMFIELD HILLS—A crackdown on residents who are not keeping their dogs confined according to city ordinance was promised by Police Chief Stanley Kevern following a City Commission meeting Tuesday.

Kevern's report to the commission won support for closer enforcement of the ordinance. Kevern pointed to the dangers of having dogs loose, especially in the school yards, and asked citizens' cooperation.

Projectionist Sets High Movie Record

DECATUR, Ill. (AP) — With two exceptions, Fred G. Curtis, 64, retired movie projectionist, has seen every movie he's shown. The "Midsummer Night's Dream" and "Taming of the Shrew."

"I tried to watch them but I just couldn't," he said. He hastened to add that he likes Shakespeare but only if it's done right.

Curtis, 64, spent nearly 50 years in a projection booth. He says in

Check TV, Radio Lanes for Fraud

Brooklyn DA Has Police Monitoring Stations for 'Misleading' Ads

NEW YORK (AP)—Brooklyn Dist. Atty. Edward S. Silver has set up a battery of radio and television sets to check the airwaves for what he described as "fraudulent and misleading advertising."

Policemen are monitoring programs 24 hours a day on nine TV and 13 radio sets in his racket squad headquarters.

* * *

In announcing the check yesterday, Silver said he has been getting "an increasing number of complaints from Brooklyn residents that they have been 'taken in' by certain over-the-air advertisers."

"These victims are in the low-income group, and can least afford to be taken over," he added.

Silver was critical of the Federal Communication Commission's work in preventing false advertising.

* * *

"I regret to say that the FCC is of little or no help in the matter," he said. "The TV and radio stations are licensed by the government through the agency of the FCC. They have a real responsibility to the people not to permit the airwaves to be used to the citizens' deteriment.

"Their machinery is slow and cumbersome. In my opinion, they are not doing their job."

* * *

Silver urged the public to be on guard against "smooth-talking advertisers and their 'pitchmen.'" He said his staff had obtained six convictions for misleading and fraudulent advertising since Jan. 1.

English Mothers 'Scolded' About Vaccine Issue

LONDON (AP)—British mothers, debating whether to allow their children to be inoculated with a new polio vaccine, were told today:

"Don't expect Queen Elizabeth to do all your thinking."

Many mothers, in speeches and letters to newspapers, have said they would permit inoculation of their children when they hear that 7-year-old Prince Charles and 5-year-old Princess Anne have had the shots.

* * *

That attitude, said the big-circulation Daily Mirror in a front-page editorial, is extremely unfair to the Queen. It commented:

"As a mother, she can decide for or against inoculation of her own children. That is quite enough responsibility for one parent, whether she is Queen or just plain Missus.

"But she cannot reasonably be expected to assume the public burden of helping other parents to make up their minds."

Meals Fixed Faster

NEW YORK—Largely because of "processed foods, the time consumed by the homemaker in preparing food for a typical family of four has been cut from 3½ hours a day in 1920 to 1½ at present, according to a recent survey.

President Lauds Nixon; Wants Him on Ticket

For three important reasons March 14 must have been one of the happiest days in the vice presidential career of Richard M. Nixon.

First, at his press conference President Eisenhower made it abundantly clear that he again wants the Californian as his running mate in the coming campaign.

Second, with the returns in from the New Hampshire primary, the Vice President learned that he had received the unusual and deserved tribute of a write-in vote of more than 21,000.

Third, he was given strong endorsement for re-election by Defense Secretary Wilson. In the Secretary's opinion the Vice President is the best man the Republicans can offer for second spot on the ticket.

The President went far beyond a mere statement that he would be happy to have Nixon on the ticket with him. Besides endorsing the Vice President, he indicated that as far as he is concerned, that issue is closed.

★ ★ ★

One direct and immediate result of these developments should be to silence all talk about "dumping" the Vice-Presidential incumbent. Another should be a reminder to all Republicans that their presidential nominee will have a decisive voice in selection of his running mate.

Thus, from this corner, it looks for all the world like the name of Richard M. Nixon is as good as on the November ballots.

Warning at Fulton

A decade is a comparatively short period in human affairs and much history can be forgotten in that time.

But the kind of history that was talked about 10 years ago at Fulton, Mo. by Britain's Winston Churchill, never will be forgotten. The now retired Prime Minister had been invited by President Truman to speak at Fulton's Westminster College.

The prophetic warning he sounded against Russia not only was heard around the world but created international repercussions. "From Stettin in the Baltic to Trieste in the Adriatic," Churchill told his audience "an iron curtain has descended across the Continent."

In expanding on this theme he spoke of the loss of liberty suffered by the nations of central and eastern Europe. At the same time he urged on the English-speaking world a policy of unity and strength.

Today much of Europe still is in Soviet chains although Austria has regained a measure of freedom and Communist Yugoslavia has broken away from Moscow. But the Baltic States, Poland, Czechoslovakia, Hungary, Bulgaria, Romania and East Germany still are Russian satellites, completely dominated by the Kremlin.

Events since that historic March 6, 1946, emphasize the keenness of Mr. Churchill's vision as he looked into the future and so accurately assayed the possibilities for international trouble.

Fight Looms on OTC

Observers are predicting considerable protectionist and isolationist opposition to a proposal for U. S. membership in the Organization for Trade Co-operation (OTC).

Their opposition, however, doesn't alter the fact that OTC is needed to support the reciprocal trade program. Neither does it weaken the soundness of President Eisenhower's argument for the proposal now being studied by the House Ways and Means Committee.

In the words of the Chief Executive, failure to join OTC "would be interpreted throughout the free world as a lack of genuine interest on the part of this country in the efforts to expand trade."

Secretary of Commerce Weeks is right in saying that OTC is "absolutely essential if U. S. agriculture, labor and industry are to receive maximum benefits" from the already existing General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade (GATT).

★ ★ ★

A strong argument for membership also is offered by the League of Women Voters. As it points out, OTC would establish a firm foundation for orderly procedures of international commerce. Its failure well could mean a return to the trade war era.

The Man About Town

A New High Point

County's Top Elevation Is Threatened With a Change

Dad: He who has the ten you love to touch.

Oakland County's highest land elevation has long been recognized as Bald Mountain, out Perry Street, a couple of miles beyond the Pontiac city limits. But gravel operations there are reducing its height, so the honor may go to Enders Hill in Groveland Township. According to all surveys, Bald Mountain topped the Groveland hill by only 20 odd feet, and is losing more than that amount. Waterford Hill is considered by many to be the county's highest point, but it lacks several feet of the height of Enders Hill.

In response to several inquiries, this column will have another baseball contest this spring. It will be announced on April 2.

David Lawrence Says:

Republican Party Dissension Dispelled by President's Support of Nixon for '56

WASHINGTON — Renomination of Vice President Nixon as the running mate of President Eisenhower now is assured.

* * *

Whatever doubts may have been placed in the mind of the President by critics of the vice president now have been removed by the forthright statement in his favor issued by Eisenhower himself and by the spontaneous demonstration of confidence which the voters in the New Hampshire primary gave Nixon.

The fact that more than 22,000 persons took the trouble to write in the name of Vice President Nixon in the Republican primaries in New Hampshire — which equaled approximately the total vote cast on the same day for Senator Kefauver for president in the Democratic primaries after he had conducted a personal campaign in that state—is a sign that the Republican voters feel deeply and emotionally about keeping the ticket as it was in 1952. The vote for Nixon was a reflection of the deep-seated anti-radical trend in America.

* * *

Eisenhower has sensed this trend. The President is a fair-minded man. He listens to criticism and weighs both sides carefully. Sometimes he purposely argues the case from the standpoint of an opponent or critic and then reaches his conclusion.

NIXON HIGHLY REGARDED

Eisenhower has always liked the vice president. He regards him as an able servant of the public interest. He feels that no vice president in history has been as thoroughly familiarized with the policies of the chief executive concurrently in office or as well trained to take over the duties of the Presidential office if an emergency occurred.

* * *

But Eisenhower has been puzzled by the opposition to Nixon which he has heard or read about. Not being a political expert himself, the President has been anxious to find out what the opposition to Nixon amounted to. He now has found out that it comes mostly from Democratic partisans.

When Eisenhower sat down on Tuesday of this week to talk things over with Nixon, neither one knew what the New Hampshire primary would show Wednesday morning. But the President told the vice president that, at the Wednesday press conference, he would clear away any doubt about what he meant last week concerning his suggestion that Nixon "chart his own course."

Nixon told the President that he would be glad to let him do the charting and that he would abide by his wishes. Eisenhower decided then and there that, while he shouldn't dictate to the Republican national convention the nominees for president and vice president, he was quite willing to let it be known publicly now that he would be glad to have Nixon as his running mate.

* * *

In politics this is an unqualified endorsement. It is the nod to the politicians that the vice presidency is to go to Nixon unless some unforeseen accident of fate changes the picture between now and next August, when the national convention is assembled. It means too, that, if anything did happen to Eisenhower, the presidential nomination would go to Nixon, especially since he would under such circumstances be serving as president.

IKE'S POPULARITY AN ASSET

It's an unwritten rule that the man in the White House may, if he so desires, greatly influence the selections by the nominating convention of his own party.

* * *

President Eisenhower's personal popularity is a Republican asset but it didn't elect him in 1952. What elected him then was the nation's disapproval of the Truman policies. As for 1956, it will not be the President's or the vice president's popularity, respectively, which will bring victory, but the approval by the country of the administration's policies and a desire to see them continued.

The Republicans will have to fight hard to win. There are many obstacles to overcome. Eisenhower this week has overcome one of the biggest—party dissension. By his unequivocal endorsement of Nixon, he has done more to restore party harmony than anything a practical politician could have achieved.

What Eisenhower needs most of all now is to have his public policies expounded effectively. Even the Republicans who will vote for him do not necessarily endorse all his acts. There is no such thing as a 100 per cent record for any president. Differences will always develop on highly controversial issues. But the voter this time will have to decide whether, all things considered, the "dynamic conservatism" which has produced economic prosperity and the commonsense leadership in international affairs which has maintained peace are to be upset now for an era of experimentalism and fundamental change in public policy.

Diseases or Inflammations Cause Calcium Deposits

By William Brady, M. D.

"Some time," asks a correspondent, "please explain the difference between calcium deposits, hardening of the arteries, and rheumatiz. It seems to me they amount to the same thing. I have what has been diagnosed as calcium deposits. Have been advised there is no relief or cure. (A.C.)

The body of a healthy person weighing 150 pounds contains approximately 2¼ pounds of calcium (lime). All but a spoonful of it is in the bones and teeth. But the comparatively small quantity of calcium present in the soft tissues—nerves, muscles, heart, arteries, veins, organs—is of vital importance.

Now I hope everyone who reads this piece will understand clearly that (1) what I don't know about calcium in relation to health, functional efficiency, vite, growth, and longevity fills many current textbooks on physiology, metabolism, nutrition, and biochemistry, and (2) I challenge any medical or health authority to refute anything I may say here or elsewhere about calcium.

* * *

"Calcium deposits" occur as the consequence of disease, inflammation, infection, degeneration, strain or injury. No medical or scientific investigator of standing will attempt to refute this, I am sure.

In many cases of bursitis the bursa becomes calcified—"calcium deposit"—and even though in the course of several weeks all pain and functional disability may have disappeared, X-ray examination may show the calcium deposit unchanged.

Calcification of artery walls occurs in an advanced stage of the process of degeneration known as arteriosclerosis or hardening of the arteries. Even if we were vouchsafed a half column of space, it would be hard to explain physical degeneration to laymen. Suffice to say that degeneration takes place when the capacity to produce new cells (generation or regeneration) to replace old cells that have weakened or died from prolonged nutritional deficiency (ultrarefined diet) perhaps.

When capacity or power to regenerate new functioning cells is lost nature does the best repair job she can with fibrous (scar) tissue or calcification (plaster of Paris).

In short, it is my belief that when a physician diagnoses joint disability of more than a year's standing as "chronic arthritis" or "chronic rheumatism," he is merely concealing the fact that he doesn't know just what is the matter.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not to disease, diagnosis, or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped self-addressed envelope is sent to the Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

'Hard Working Gal' Likes Saturday Night Shopping

Letters will be condensed when necessary because of lack of space. Full name, address and telephone number of the writer must accompany letters but these will not be published if the writer so requests unless the letter is critical in its nature.

I have found the letter written regarding a shopping night other than Monday very interesting.

I would like to see the downtown stores stay open Saturday night as well as Friday night, and eliminate Monday night shopping. I am employed five days a week, and when I get home from the office Monday night, I do not feel much like shopping. And after I have prepared dinner, I just want to relax and enjoy the Pontiac Press.

I believe that many families with children would appreciate the opportunity of shopping on Saturday night (no school the next day). Also, so many employed people have only Saturday as a leisurely shopping day. When you are on the go from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. five days a week, it is wonderful to have a whole day in which to browse through the stores and make your selections.

Just a Hard Working Gal

Quotes Late Bates Burt's Philosophy of Spanking

I am amused at those letters in the Voice of the People about spanking children. The late Bates G. Burt of the Episcopal church was one of the most God-fearing and respecting men that ever lived.

Once he said in a sermon that there were times when every child should be punished in "righteous indignation." Please note the "righteous" and please note the "indignation." In other words, the Rev. Burt meant that occasional just causes arise.

I think this is true in every family. A child that learns it will never be spanked can become an insufferable bore to family, neighbors and friends. In the end, the child suffers the most.

Hal Boyle Says:

End Powder Room Blues by Making Gals See Red

NEW YORK (AP) — Typewriter tattle:

Many bosses complain that office girls waste time gossiping together in the powder room.

* * *

Interior designer Lee Kelly of Chicago has a solution to break up these feminine powwows: Paint the powder room a pure bright red.

"Red is a stimulating color that induces restlessness," he says. "In a small room it can give occupants a feeling of claustrophobia. They'll have an urge to get out."

Kelly has a theory that a few buckets of paint can go a long way in improving office efficiency. He believes color can even be used to cut down on clock-watching.

* * *

"The sight of greenish-hued flesh makes most people highly uncomfortable," he says, "so all the boss has to do is put a green-tinted picture of himself in the center of the clock."

UNROMANTIC HUES

Kelly has a remedy for stockroom romancing, too. Paint the stockroom dark blue or dark green. They inhibit romance. Magenta, on the other hand, has the opposite effect. A stockroom painted that color might even bring out the cupid in the boss himself.

* * *

What about using colors to make the employer more likable to the hired hands? This can be done, too.

"Executives ought to consider their personalities more in planning their own offices," holds Kelly. "If he's an excitable type, cool colors such as light green-blues are what he needs. If he's inclined to be moody, he needs warmer hues, such as orange-yellow, brown or ivory."

What about the boss who, whenever you ask him for a raise, always sees red—and leaves you feeling pretty blue?

Psychology has scored on another front. The police in Oklahoma City have chipped in and wired their headquarters for piped-in music.

It is believed to be the first police station to do this.

CAN'T CALL TUNE

Unfortunately for the prisoners, they don't get to call the tune. The rhythms aren't filtered into the cellblock areas.

* * *

However, Chief Roy Bergman plans to bring the music into the traffic ticket citation bureau, so irate motorists can pay their fines to the lilting strains of the latest waltz.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

You'll Surely Find Something Wrong if You Start Doting on Your 'Innards'

Jerry is addicted to a common complex. He is thus like many a person who gets his first bifocals and thereafter keeps looking at the glass lenses therein instead of focussing upon external objects. Extrovert your attention quickly and you'll be much healthier, as well as happier. Don't be like the centipede mentioned below.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case R-304: Jerry L., aged 15, has recently grown neurotic about his eyes.

"Dr. Crane, I was O. K. till about a month ago," he began.

* * *

"Then I noticed floating spots before my eyes. For example, even now if I look at the sky, I can see fuzzy circles float across the blue background.

"It has become so bad that now I get headaches just analyzing my own vision. And the spots are always there.

"Am I going blind? I went to see an eye surgeon and he told me my vision was O. K. But these spots still float around in front of me."

WORRY WARTS

It is normal for floating spots to be evident if we look at the sky but most people simply ignore them.

For they are so preoccupied with the people or interesting actions which they observe around them, that they ignore the visual machinery itself which produces these pleasures.

But just let a person become acutely self-conscious about his eyes and then he can't imagine how he ever could have ignored such spots previously.

There is an old bit of poetry which ably illustrates this disastrous effect of becoming consciously analytical of a former automatic act.

"The centipede was happy, quite,
"Until the toad, in fun,
"Asked which leg followed after which.
"This worked him up to such a pitch
"He lay quite prostrate in the ditch
"Inquiring how to run."

HYPOCHONDRIACS

Millions of miserable folks were like that happy centipede until some incident or question directed their thoughts to their "innards."

And ever since then they have figuratively been lying in the ditch inquiring how to be well and healthy once more.

For example, in experimental psychology classes we demonstrate negative after sensations. If you stare at a red spot on a gray background, the red becomes grayer, for it is meanwhile generating green.

To prove this, shift your eyes to a bare spot on the gray background and you will now see a green spot the same size and shape as the former red one. Blue and yellow do likewise.

Perhaps most of you never knew of this fact, but these after effects of viewing one color will mix with the fresh color and change its hue slightly.

"It had a different color when I bought it at the store," you may protest and possibly it did, because of the lighting and your previous fixation on other colors.

Furthermore, the ear has certain inherent sounds like the chirping of crickets. Most of us never notice them, for we are projecting our attention upon the outside world where we focus on conversation, music, etc.

But if you are sleepless and happen to notice this chirping in your ears, it will set you almost crazy. Yet it is normal though unnoticed most of the time.

HABIT SLAVES

A cousin of mine lived with us the first semester he attended Northwestern University.

He had slept by his loud-ticking alarm clock for weeks without noticing it. But on this particular night, it caught his attention. The more he focussed upon it, the louder it sounded. He thought it was like cannonading.

So he finally brought it out into the hall and asked me if I'd put it back in his room after he went to sleep, which I did.

He said he was going crazy if he had to lie with that noisy clock beside his bed. Yet he had lain that way for weeks and hadn't consciously heard it.

So turn your attention off self and focus on external objects. Then new glasses or false teeth or hearing aids will not bother you.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac Michigan, enclosing a long 3c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

The woman inside wouldn't open the door, so he shouted through it, "Got a letter with 3 cents postage due."

* * *

"Bring it back tomorrow," came the muffled reply. "I can't open the door today—it's the canary's day out of the cage."

Mistakes Fire Alarm for Corner Mailbox

SEATTLE (AP)—At least Mrs. Tina Jacobs was philosophical about it when two fire trucks responded to her attempt to put a letter in what she thought was a street corner mailbox.

"In case I ever want to turn in a fire alarm," she told the firemen, after apologizing, "I'll sure know how."

Alaska's main industry is fishing, with mining second.

Lenten Guideposts—God Works Through People

Test of a Christian Is How He Meets Difficulties

By T. W. KIRKPATRICK
Pittsburgh Coke & Chemical Co.

(A letter to his son)

Dear Son:

Every father has a special feeling about his son that's hard to put into words. From the day you were born back in 1935 and all during your next 19 years, I saw a little of myself in you — just as I did in Joe, your older brother, during his school days — my hopes, my dreams, my own ambitions fulfilled.

KIRKPATRICK

When you were rushed to the hospital that Labor Day week - end in 1951 and put on the critical list with polio, I couldn't believe it.

While the doctors were fighting for your life during the next weeks, you were more concerned about another polio-stricken boy in the same ward.

PRAYED FOR OTHERS

The Rev. Mr. Penrose was the only person permitted to visit you while in isolation, and he told me how you repeated the 23 Psalm to this boy and prayed for him. Also how you led prayers with others who were suffering.

And I heard that the nurses looked forward to going to your ward. They knew that regardless of your pain, they could always count on a smile's lighting up your face and their day.

These reports made me feel more proud of you than any of your football or scholastic achievements.

Then a series of God's miracles started to happen. Although the doctor thought you would die, you lived. They felt you would never walk again, but in three months you began to sit up with the aid of a steel back brace.

* * *

Three months later, with some help, all 90 pounds of you stood on your feet. Dr. Jesse Wright was amazed, but stated that you would probably always have to wear leg braces. "I'll walk without braces," you said. Within a year, you did.

SALK VOLUNTEERS

It was in June 1952, while still badly paralyzed, that you and 40 other polio patients volunteered to help Dr. Jonas Salk in his experiments with a new and untried anti-polio vaccine. We had no idea, until told by reporters in the spring of 1953, that you were listed as the world's Case History No. 1 to receive the vaccine.

When you persuaded us to sign the consent for the test, we hesitated at first, because of the possible danger. Then you talked about your brother.

"Joe has two young sns, my nephews," you remarked. "I'll do anything possible to help protect them and others from polio."

When you said that, I thought of Christ's words "Greater love hath no man than this . . ." (John 15:13).

Today I can understand clearly how God works through people and how He can use a paralyzing illness such as yours for good.

A father is fortunate when he can learn as much from his son as I have learned from you. You helped me see that the test of a Christian is how he meets difficulties, tragedies, and sorrows. You also helped me see the message of triumph in Christ's experience on the Cross.

Whether you become a doctor or a minister, I know your one concern will be to relieve suffering to bring help and cheer to those in need.

Your mother and I are very proud of you.

Love,
Dad

TOMORROW — Don McClanen tells the other side of Pepper Martin. Baseball fans know him as a clowning member of the famed St. Louis "Gashouse Gang." But few know of Martin's gentle, religious side.

DECORATED WITH FOOD — You know that old expression, "I'll eat my hat?" Well, this white velvet hat, shown in Paris, is decorated with pieces of real macaroni.

More Pork Eaters

CHICAGO — Pork production in the United States during 1955 climbed to 11 billion pounds, an increase of a billion pounds from 1954. Per capita consumption rose from 59.7 pounds to 66 pounds during the year.

Congress planned George Washington's tomb in the Capitol, but relatives rejected the proposal.

'Expert' Policeman Rounds Up Lost Pig

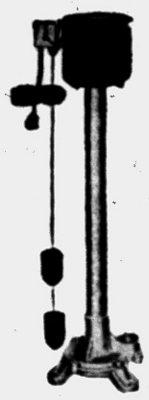

CHICAGO (AP)—Catching a pig on a city street really isn't an easy task as Desk Sgt. John Sloan discovered when two city-reared officers sent to round up the porker came back empty-handed.

"So I sent out an expert," he said.

The expert was Policeman Warren Swegel who spent his early life on a farm. He returned with the 3-month-old, 40 pound animal and said: "I just grabbed it by the rear legs and off we came to the station."

FIRE WRECKS CATHEDRAL — Debris litters interior of the St. Mary's Roman Catholic Church at Trenton, N. J., after fire raged through the cathedral and adjoining rectory yesterday killing two housekeepers and a priest. This view shows the cathedral after the roof fell into the main auditorium, looking toward the altar.

Expectant Bird Halts Construction of Nest

LOS ANGELES (AP)—An expectant mother kildeer, a species of the American plover, has fouled up construction in a 45-home tract.

For three weeks she has been guarding four eggs in the nest she fashioned of concrete scraps on the lot where one of the houses is supposed to go.

* * *

Lloyd Palmer, assistant superintendent, has bypassed this section of the tract, waiting for the bird to hatch her eggs, and has built all around it. Ma Kildeer shows no indication of leaving for some time.

* * *

"We've got to get going," Palmer said. "Maybe we can turn the nest over to poultry people for handling."

To Resume Operations

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Western Air Lines, strikebound for 67 days, plans to resume operations March 22 on a limited basis, and to be operating on full scale April 1. WAL normally operates 71 schedules in 12 Western states and Canada. A strike of the Brotherhood of Railway Clerks was settled last Monday.

Let There Be Light —for the 2nd Time

MALAD, Idaho (AP)—It was time to turn on the new mercury vapor street lights in Malad's business district.

All the appropriate functionaries were on hand, and they made the appropriate remarks in a brief dedication ceremony. Then Mayor Claude Kent threw the switch.

But the lights didn't go on.

Fed-faced electricians quickly made a last minute connection. Then the mayor threw the switch again. This time the lights went on.

Car Ferry De-Mothballed for West Indies Service

GRAND HAVEN (AP) — The 53-year-old car ferry, Grand Haven, has been de-mothballed and returned to her "salty" task of carrying produce-loaded freight cars from West Palm Beach, Fla. to Havana, Cuba.

The 306-foot vessel, formerly a Grand Trunk car ferry, plied the Grand Haven-Muskegon-Milwaukee run for more than 40 years before her purchase in 1946 by the West India Fruit and Steamship Co.

Miniature Ship Cites Navigator

Famed Captain Cook, South Seas Explorer, Honored in Gotham

WASHINGTON — A scale model of the Endeavour, the tiny bark in which Captain James Cook circumnavigated the world, has been presented to the Seamen's Church Institute in New York by Sir Percy Spender, the Australian ambassador.

The model recalls the herculean achievements of Captain Cook in his three voyages. He claimed Australia for the British crown, discovered the Hawaiian Islands, disproved the existence of a vague "southern continent" and found a cure for scurvy, the scourge of sailors of his time, says the National Geographic Society.

It is probably due to his use of citrus fruit in shipboard diet that English seamen are called "Limeys" to this day.

Captain Cook's life was a true Horatio Alger story. He first worked as a shop boy for a grocer in the seaside village of Staithes in Yorkshire. Later he was apprenticed to a coal shipper. While an apprentice, he begged a table and lamp from his employer's housekeeper and began his self-taught education.

* * *

Through his own efforts he became a master of navigation, mathematics and astronomy. His particular hero was Euclid, the Greek mathematician who has been called the "Father of Geometry."

VOLUNTEERED IN 1775.

In 1755, Cook volunteered into the Royal Navy as an able-bodied seaman having, as he afterwards said, "a mind to try my fortune that way." His service coincided with the Seven Years War. After a period of valiant action he was promoted to sailing master. Later he made a brilliant survey of the hitherto uncharted coast of Newfoundland, and recorded celestial observations which attracted the admiration of leading astronomers.

His first voyage, in 1768, was organized for both science and exploration. English astronomers were highly interested in a transit of Venus which would not recur for more than a hundred years. Appropriate observations could be made only in the South Seas. There was still speculation about a large southern continent stretching somewhere between Australia and South America. The government was determined that if there were new lands to discover they should not fall to France or Spain.

On his second voyage Cook was the first man to cross the Antarctic circle, sailing nearer the South Pole than any other explorer was to do for more than fifty years. It was on this voyage that he discovered the cure for scurvy which was to save many lives.

He also distributed seeds of vegetables, fruits and melons throughout the South Sea islands, an activity which profoundly affected the economy of the East Indies.

* * *

Hawaii was discovered on his third voyage. The natives first treated Cook as a god, but later they became sullen and vengeful. Finally a ship's boat was stolen and the captain led a party to recover it. In the fight that followed, he was fatally stabbed in the back.

* * *

Today a plaque at Kealakekua Bay, Hawaii, marks the spot where he fell on February 14, 1779.

Gronchi Lauds U.S.

NEW YORK (AP)—Italian President Giovanni Gronchi says his visit to this country "has confirmed my deep conviction that friendship with the United States must be strengthened and maintained in all its aspects" through the North Atlantic Treaty Organization. Gronchi left by plane yesterday for his homeland.

Forty per cent of U.S. men 70 to 74 years old are still in the labor force.

Air Force Pals to Donate Blood to GI's Sick Mother

LIVERMORE, Calif. (AP)—All 36 men in a rookie airman's training flight at Parks Air Force Base have volunteered blood for his sick mother.

The airman is Robert Harvey, 17, of Richmond, Calif.

* * *

Twenty-two pints of blood were needed for a stomach ulcer operation for his mother Mrs. Edna Harvey, who was stricken five weeks ago.

The Air Force said the 36 men would make their donations tomorrow.

Readings, Memory Help Birds Navigate

MANITOBA, Man. (AP)—A built-in ability to take readings from the sun relative to the time of day and good memories help birds navigate, says H. Albert Hochbaum in a new book. Hochaum works at the Delta Waterfowl Research station here. He says the widely accepted theory that birds use a sixth sense in migration is false.

* * *

Ants and bees use the same ability to read sun positions, Hochbarm says. Human beings traveling in the open also use it, but with far less skill. Scientists believe that ducks have far better distance vision than human beings. Vision, memory and sun position are the bases for bird navigation, Hochbaum says.

Estimates are that 80 per cent of U.S. rural nonirrigation water comes from wells.

Pupils Have Cause in Petition to Navy

GRANTS, N.M. (AP)—Fifth grade students here see no reason why the first atomic-powered cruiser shouldn't be named the USS Grants.

They built and sent to the Navy Dept. a model of a cruiser—along with 10 pages of reasons why it should be given the uranium town's name. The model was mounted on a chunk of uranium ore.

The youngsters were turned down on an earlier request that an atomic submarine be given the name. The Navy said submarines were named for deep sea fish.

"Grants supplied the uranium," said the kids. The town is on the edge of the uranium-loaded Colorado Plateau.

Bridge Weddings Recognized—but Not Legal

WINDSOR, Ont. (AP) — In case you're wondering how a person could be married, and not actually at his own wedding, the head of Windsor's marriage license bureau has the answer.

Just get married in the middle of Ambassador Bridge joining the U. S. and Canada, as many happy couples have done. If you're one of them, you're not legally married.

Mrs. Violet Stephenson, license bureau superintendent, said "You could not possibly get a marriage license for such a wedding except under false pretenses. No residence rule could be complied with and if the license is good on one side, it is not on the other."

* * *

But she said she plans no formal action opposing such marriages. The bridge weddings have been conducted for many years, with the bride and groom straddling the international boundary to overcome (or so it was thought) immigration complications.

Immigration authorities recognize such marriages as legal. The wedding vows eliminate immigration obstacles and usually pave the way for the admission to the U. S. of the one who stood on the Canadian side of the bridge.

The licenses are valid only in their home territories, she said, and thus either the bride or groom is not legally at the ceremony. And even if the couple had both licenses, the marriage is not legal. Standing together on either side of the boundary line doesn't help, either—it's still illegal.

Ask Board of Education to Help Solve Problem

A group of northwestside parents asked the Board of Education for special help to get children to school last night.

They claimed that lack of roads leading directly to Wever school on New York avenue has resulted in long delays as children trudged almost two miles to and from classes.

They added that three girls passing from necessity through a factory area, had been approached by strange men.

Living on Cherrylawn, Meadowlawn and Cloverlawn drives, the children are forced to use Baldwin avenue to cross the Grand Trunk Railroad on the way to school, they said. N. Stanley avenue is not completed as far north as the school, they explained, and the intervening fields are impassable because of swamps.

Many of the parents have resorted to car pools, they reported.

The Board later agreed to work out a special plan for the remaining three months of the present term. It was suggested that the cost of providing a special bus be split equally between Board and parents.

Present policy is not to provide school bus service totally within the city, because the Board would have to assume the cost, Superintendent of Pontiac Schools Dr. Dana P. Whitmer said.

He explained that the state pays the cost for transportation from outside of the city.

Detroit Among 7 Cities Under '57 Traffic Survey

DETROIT (INS) — The national committee of urban transportation yesterday selected seven cities, including Detroit, to be studied for the next year to find ways to ease traffic jams and transit bottlenecks.

Other cities named were Crawfordsville, Ind., San Diego, Calif., Albuquerque, N. M., Phoenix, Ariz., Oak Park, Ill., and Syracuse, N.Y.

Gold-Diggers, Don't Look for Oil-Diggers

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

DALLAS (INS)—Col. D. Harold Byrd, president of four companies and director of three more, is one of those Texans who'd as soon give you an oil well as look at you.

* * *

"Why not?" he says heartily. "They aren't doin' me any good these days. I've got a million acres of oil land in three states, but I'm not drillin'. The President kinda shocked us, you know, when he vetoed the natural gas bill."

Col. Byrd "hrrrmphed" in an obvious attempt to control his language. "It's put a damper on the oil business, and da-derned if I like it!"

The genial-faced oilman, one of the most vocal local tycooms, then demonstrated his bitterness at the unexpected death of the gas bill in a most alarming manner:

Tell your women readers, he said, that "this is no time to come down prospecting for millionaires." Because gold - diggers won't be finding many oil-diggers until the price of oil goes up.

* * *

"Lot of my friends already are putting their money into wells in foreign countries, since they can't make a profit here. Me, I'm just waitin'."

Col. Byrd, cousin of Adm. Richard E. Byrd and a "first citizen of Dallas" by popular acclaim, has done a lot of waiting since he began "wildcatting" for oil more than 20 years ago.

Although he was a graduate geologist from the University of Texas, he dug 56 dry holes before he found that sticky stuff which Texans are so passionately fond of.

Since then he has become one of the most gregarious and beloved oil kings in Texas, with an equally gregarious and beloved wife, and a bank account that is rather lovable, too, in its way. They are noted, the three of them, for turning out parties that are lavish enough to make Perle Mesta affairs look like family picnics.

"Aw, that's an exaggeration," Byrd says when asked if it's true he serves up barbecued beef, elk, moose, deer, bear, 30 cases of liquor and ditties from three orchestras to some 2,000 guests after the Cotton Bowl games each year.

Only about 1,500 folks usually "come to supper," he figures.

Also a philanthropist, the colonel donates money through a "Byrd Foundation" to unusual causes. The University of Texas "Longhorn Band" owes the shirts on its members' backs, not to mention the toots from its tuba, to Byrd contributions.

And a mountain range in Antarctica is dubbed "The Harold Byrd Mts." as tribute to his giant donations to the cause of exploration.

It takes intelligence, luck and the gambling instinct to get where Col. Byrd is today, and everybody in Dallas gives him credit for it.

He admits only to this: "I try to surround myself with people who are smarter than I am"—and as long as he is smart enough to do that, he figgers he is slightly smarter than they are.

* * *

And what will a slightly smarter gent do when he's a bit bitter about natural gas prospects and oil prices?

"Well, I've formed the Byrd Uranium Corp. to prospect mineral leases in Utah, Colorado, New Mexico and Arizona," admits Byrd.

These ingenious Texans . . . they always have an ace in the dry-hole.

Ask a Silly Question —Get a Silly Answer

CHESTERTOWN, Md. (AP) — One question on an economics mid-term examination at Washington College here was:

"What would happen if the gold backing of our money supply were abandoned and replaced with a backing of used, empty coke bottles?"

The Economics Department declined to comment on the answers submitted.

Army Training Plan Uses Many Mules

CAMP HALE, Colo. (AP) — Mules and horses are playing an important role at the Army's cold weather and mountain training program at this 9,500-foot installation.

The Army explained the 308 mules and a few horses of the 4th Field Artillery Battalion and 35th Quartermaster Company often are the only way to bring supplies and food to the 3,000 men living in this sub-zero, snow country.

They are the only two mule pack outfits in the U. S. Army.

DR. WILLIAM H. MARBACH

Three Men of Area to Attend Conference

The Men's Club of First Presbyterian Church will be represented at the National Council of Presbyterian Men, meeting in Chicago, March 16 to 18 by John Huntzinger and D. E. Rightmire.

Dr. William H. Marbach, pastor of First Presbyterian, will be a resource leader at the Chicago meeting.

Some 3,000 Presbyterian laymen from the central part of the United States are expected to attend. Similar meetings are being held on the West Coast and in New York City.

Harold Stassen, former United States representative to the United Nations and presidential adviser on disarmament, and Billy Graham, famous evangelist who has recently returned from a tour of the Far East, are among the featured speakers.

Dairy Farmers Give Testimony

2 Saginaw Area Milk Producers Hit MMPA on Threatening Tactics

DETROIT (AP)—Two Saginaw area dairy farmers, both at odds with the Michigan Milk Producers Assn. (MMPA), appeared yesterday before a grand jury investigating possible milk price-fixing in Michigan.

The two, Steve Bednarski, 38, and Werner Ortbach, 40, both of Mayville, have accused the MMPA of using threats to force them to join the organization.

Bednarski has said he did business with the MMPA until last October, withdrawing to deal directly with a Saginaw dairy.

* * *

He had said he paid the MMPA 6 cents a hundredweight for membership dues, 30 cents for delivery to a Saginaw station and 14 cents for delivery to the Detroit market.

This netted him $3.85 a hundredweight, he said, while he received $4.65 by selling directly to a Saginaw dairy.

Ortbach has said the MMPA told him his milk on Oct. 17 and 18 was not acceptable because of a high bacteria content. He said, however, he hadn't sent the MMPA any milk since Aug. 16.

Testimony before the grand jur is closed to the public.

* * *

On another front in Michigan's milk price squabbles, the Fair Share Bargaining Assn., an insurgent group of MMPA members, issued an ultimatum to 26 leading dairies serving the Detroit area.

Roland Brengle, president of the group, said the Association gave the dairies 48 hours to reply to demands contained in a new contract, which calls for $6.50 a hundredweight for Class I milk.

Brengle said the present rate is about $4.07.

The demands did not threaten a strike, but members of the group, which claims 60 per cent of the dairy farmers shipping to Detroit, reportedly were prepared to withhold milk from the market to obtain the higher prices.

Pulled False Alarms to Gather Audiences

DETROIT (INS)—Detroit police and firemen are scratching their collective heads today trying to figure out why a guitar player turned in eight false alarms then greeted firemen with snappy tunes.

Police are accusing Richard Bernor, 23, of Detroit of being the musician who worked so hard to get an audience.

Advice to Cut Crime

DEXTER (AP) — Prison populations would be reduced if schools would "divert slow learners into skilled trades," in the opinion of warden William Bannan of Southern Michigan Prison. Bannan, addressing the Dexter PTA, said better schools with higher paid teachers were needed. Most of the 6,800 inmates, he said, were "slow learners" who should have been taught skilled trades in the schools.

600 Growers to Meet

TRAVERSE CITY (AP) — Upwards of 600 growers are expected today state horticultural society, with Michigan's cherry-growing industry a major topic of discussion.

Two Foreign Labor Representatives Visit City on 1-Year Tour of Nation

Two 28-year-old foreign labor union representatives visited Pontiac this week as part of their one-year tour of the United States to study union activities and manufacturing methods.

Gaston Aschour, of Algiers, and Andre Mielle, of Paris, are studying union methods here under the sponsorship of the Marshall Plan's International Corporation Administration.

They are presently visiting other Michigan cities after a two-day visit here in which they were conducted through Pontiac Motor Division and the Yellow Truck and Coach plant by local union officials.

In their first 10 months in this country, they have studied at an American language center in Washington, D. C. and attended Columbia University for three months.

As part of their survey, the pair worked four months at the Westinghouse plant in Columbus, Ohio before the long strike began there last year.

Andre spent a day on the picket line to study the activities of pickets in union strikes.

While in Pontiac, the French speaking union members, attended the Tuesday night meeting of the City Commission and received minature Pontiac automobiles from Mayor William W. Donaldson and Chamber of Commerce Manager John Hirlinger.

Aschour has been vice president of the metal union workers of Algeria for one year after beginning as a worker in the union in 1951.

Mielle is a member of the Confederation of Federal Trade unions, which along with Aschour's organization, are two of the largest unions in France.

Asked to compare foreign unions with what he has seen in this country, Andre said, "The United States has reached a very good method of cooperation between management and the unions in which all know something of the roe of the union in the economy of the country."

The duo are part of 23 visitors studying under the Marshall Plan and representing all different industrial unions from France.

Aschour said he was impressed by the high standard of living in this country. He showed interest Tuesday night in the voting machine at the City Hall and the public nature of the meeting.

"The importance of housing and the growth of the city here and the corresponding amount of money spent to attain these would amaze the people of France," Mielle emphasized.

After attending an educational conference in Washington and a visit to the Tennessee Valley Authority, the pair will leave for France May 15.

Corrections Camp Set for Baraga County

LANSING (AP) — Construction of a 100-inmate conservation-corrections work camp west of Alberta, Baraga County, will get under way in late April or early May, the State Conservation Department said today.

Prison trustees will work out of the camp to improve the nearby Baraga State Park and the new Van Riper State Park on Lake Michigan, west of Marquette.

GM Man to Sponsor U. of Cincinnati Show

CINCINNATI (AP) — Cyrus R. Osborn, Detroit, a vice president of the General Motors Corp., will be sponsor of a major division of the University of Cincinnati's observance April 19-25 of the 50th anniversary of UC's co-operative system of technological education.

Osborn will be in charge of the "panorama of industrial and scientific progress" to be presented in UC's armory-fieldhouse. More than 70 firms employing UC "co-op" students will present displays spotlighting developments since 1906, when the "co-op" system got its start here.

Osborn, a native of Dayton, Ohio, is a 1921 mechanical engineering "co-op" graduate of UC. He holds an honorary doctor of science degree from his alma mater.

Red Chief Says Stalin Did Both Harm and Good

ROME (AP) — Italian Communist party chief Palmiro Togliatti, just back from Moscow, says Joseph Stalin did a lot of good for communism—but a lot of harm too.

* * *

Togliatti outlined the new stand on the late Soviet dictator in a report to the Italian Communist Party Central Committee on the Soviet Party Congress last month in Moscow.

"Stalin was and remains a great figure in all our movement for what he has given to the creation of the Bolshevik party . . . Stalin was a great marxist thinker," Togliatti said.

* * *

"But this is not to say that everything Stalin has done or said must be heard always as something true and definitive, as something right in all its aspects.

"A more attentive examination reveals positions which are innocent, inacceptable, incomplete."

Detroit Council to Hear Legality of Tax Slash

DETROIT (INS) — Detroit Common Council will learn Friday whether it overstepped the law in slashing $250 million from the city's assessment rolls.

Corporation Counsel Paul Dwyer told council today he will be able to submit legal opinions Friday on phases of the council action that have been questioned by officials.

Postponement Granted in Gas Firms Debates

WASHINGTON (AP) — Oral arguments here in connection with proceedings involving the Louisiana-to-Michigan natural gas pipeline system of the American Louisiana Pipe Line Co., Detroit, have been postponed from March 20 to 22.

The Federal Power Commission, granting the delay yesterday, said the postponement was requested by Tennessee Gas Transmission Co. and Midwestern Gas Transmission Co., both of Houston. They are intervenors in the case.

The increase in U.S. population since 1900 about equals the entire combined present population of New England, New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Michigan, Minnesota, Wisconsin and California.

Firm's Cancer Detection Project Cuts Death Rate

NEW YORK (AP)—A Queens firm says a company cancer detection program started six years ago has cut its employe death rate from the disease as well as disclosing scores of precancerous conditions.

* * *

Dr. Benjamin N. Berg, medical director of the Ford Instrument Co. of Long Island City, said yesterday the company's program is the first of its kind in the nation.

If used industrywide, Berg estimated, the program would discover some 300,000 persons a year suffering from cancer — giving many of them a chance to be cured by prompt treatment.

* * *

Berg said the death rate for cancer among Ford Instrument employes was 1.6 persons per thousand for those taking part in the detection program. The death rate for nonparticipating workers, he said, was 4.8 per thousand.

He said a total of 1,796 of Ford's 3,000 workers have undergone periodic checkups on company time and at company expense. The program is voluntary.

Seven actual cases of cancer were found, he said.

Legislature Passes Marriage Measure

LANSING (AP) — The Legislature today sent Gov. Williams a bill outlawing common law marriages after Jan. 1, 1957.

The House passed the measure yesterday by a 79-5 vote. It had already been approved by the Senate.

* * *

The bill provides that no marriage will be legal unless the parties to it obtain a license and it is solemnized by clergy or civil officers.

Sponsors said the bill would clear up confusion over inheritance and pension rights in common law marriages.

Add Musical Scores to City's Collections

Piano and vocal musical scores from many favorite light operas have recently been added to the circulating collection at the City Library.

These volumes have been bound for use at the piano and the following is a random selection from the new collection now available for borrowing:

Carousel by Rodgers; Chocolate Soldier, Straus; Desert Song, Romberg; King and I, Rodgers; Kiss Me Kate, Porter; Merry Widow, Lehar; and The Mikado by Sullivan.

Others include: Naughty Marietta, Herbert; Oklahoma, Rodgers; Pinafore, Sullivan; Pirates of Penzance, Sullivan; Rose Marie, Friml; Show Boat, Kern; South Pacific, Rodgers; and Vagabond King by Friml.

Mental Health Week Brings Open House

Board members of the Oakland County Child Guidance Clinic made announcement of open house at the local clinic at 113 Franklin Blvd. on Thursday, May 3.

The open house, planned at a meeting of the board yesterday noon, will be in observance of Mental Health Week from April 29-May 5.

Five members of the board will be attending the meeting of the State Assn. of Child Guidance Clinic board members next Wednesday at the Sheraton Cadillac Hotel from 10 a.m. until 3 p.m.

Speaker at this luncheon meeting will be Evangeline Sheibley, chairman of the Mental Health Commission.

Shoppers Now 'Being Walked'

Popular Conveyor-Belt Sidewalks Popping Up in Major U.S. Cities

WASHINGTON — Though Mamie Rorke no longer trips the light fantastic on the sidewalks of New York, fanciful things are happening to sidewalks themselves.

* * *

Here and there, pedestrians are walking — or being "walked" — on moving roads of rubber, says the National Geographic Society.

Last year the first of such endless - belt conveyors was opened in the underground station of the Hudson and Manhattan Railroad in Jersey City, N. J. It replaced a long 10-degree concrete ramp known to commuters as Cardiac Alley.

Another speedwalk was installed at the Sam Houston Coliseum in Houston, Texas. The first to span a pedestrian bridge, it can carry 15,000 people an hour from parking areas across a bayou into the auditorium.

* * *

Texans anticipate yet another rolling ramp at the Dallas airport. In Lone Star State tradition, it will be more than twice as long as the Houston and Jersey City conveyors combined. A similar one is being built for the Philadelphia airport to move passengers and baggage from parking lot to terminal to planes.

Moving sidewalks actually are not new. As long ago as 1893 — a year before Sidewalks of New York was written — a model made of linked wood slats was demonstrated at the World's Columbia Exposition in Chicago. Since 1924, New York City transit experts have been considering various systems of continuous conveyors with passenger seats to replace the Grand Central-Times Square subway shuttle.

* * *

San Franciscans long ago toyed with a plan for an elevated belt that would run above Market Street and deposit passengers directly at the second floor of stores. The scheme recalled the two-tiered sidewalks of the centuries-old city of Chester in Wales. There, in four streets, the overhanging roofs of ground-floor buildings form a continuous arcade for shops and homes fronting on the second story.

School Classes on TV Foolish, Says Educator

DETROIT — A National Education Assn. (NEA) official said today it is "foolish to believe that large classes can be accommodated in all subjects through the use of television."

* * *

"Efforts to deal with mounting public school enrollments by providing mass TV classroom instruction taught by a single master teacher is pure nonsense," Lyle W. Ashby, assistant executive-secretary, told the annual conference of the NEA's department of audio-visual instruction.

"Too many people are going overboard on the use of television through closed circuits in the schools," Ashby said. "Education never will become an automation or assembly line process."

Ashby said that classes taught by television "on a limited basis" can enrich school curriculums. But he added that through the use of television teachers "generally lose the person-to-person relationship that is so vital to education."

* * *

Ashby said the big answer to the teacher shortage is higher salaries.

Joseph Murnin, professor of psychology at Pennsylvania State University said that after three semesters of testing at Penn State "we are certain there is no significant effect on subject achievement through use of classroom TV."

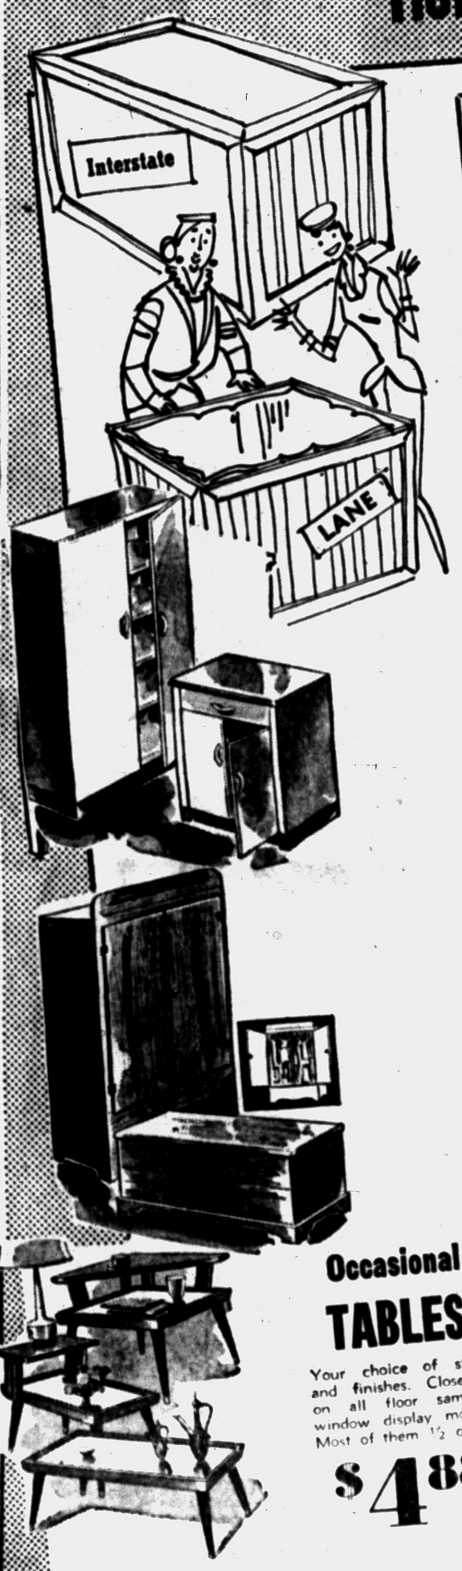

Eire's Minister of Lands has taken over 950 acres of Glengarriff, County Cork, for a new national forest. Eire now has 310,000 acres of such forests.

Ghosts Haunt 7 Coral Keys

Memories of Pirates, Wars Are Heritage of Dry Tortugas

WASHINGTON—Ghosts of long past dramatic events haunt the Dry Tortugas which drowse under the tropical sun in the Gulf of Mexico.

* * *

The little group of seven coral keys, 68 miles west of Key West, Florida, has been set apart as a United States National Monument since 1935, says the National Geographic Society.

Chief feature of the preserve is the impressive ruin of old Fort Jefferson, the Civil War prison over which President Eisenhower flew recently for a skyview inspection.

But the Dry Tortugas story goes back long before the War Between the States — to the romantic figure of Ponce de Leon, seeker of the Fountain of Youth. The Spanish explorer landed on the rockey islets in 1513, during his voyage of discovery along the east Florida coast.

Ponce de Leon gave his find a name that stuck: "Tortugas" for the giant turtles he and his men took there for meat, and "Dry" because the islands lacked not only a Fountain of Youth, but even drinking water.

PIRATE HIDEOUT

Later, pirates used the Dry Tortugas as a hideout from which to swoop down on treasure-heavy galleaons sailing to Europe from the New World. The pirate lairs were not completely cleaned out until the islands came into United States possession with the acquisition of Florida in 1821.

Under American control, the Tortugas sprang to life. In 1825, the first lighthouse was built on central Garden Key, to protect the young republic's increasing traffic with its rich Louisiana Purchase region.

Work began in 1846 on massive Fort Jefferson, planned as a "Gulf Gibraltar" overlooking the Atlantic passageway between Florida and Cuba.

A six-sided brick structure, the fortress was built to accommodate a garrison of 1,500 men and 450 guns. It covered most of 16-acre Garden Key. With walls 8 feet thick and 50 feet high, it was the largest of the United States 19th-century costal defenses.

The fort also gained the dubious distinction of becoming obsolete before it was complete — the result of the invention of rifled cannon, which proved capable of making a shambles of such brick walls.

* * *

Obsolete or not, Fort Jefferson served the Union forces throughout the Civil War. Though it saw no direct action, it bulwarked the blockade of southern ports, and was used during and after the war as a federal prison.

Says Scientists Have Poor Library Memory

OXFORD, England (AP) — The head of Oxford University's famed Bodleian Library said today he has discovered a painful fact about scientists—they don't return library books.

Reporting that losses from the library have "worsened" in the last 12 months, the retiring proctor, P. D. Watson, said:

"Scientists have a standard of library morality which is markedly lower than that of their more contemporaries."

Many birds consume one-half of their weight in food every day, while young birds often eat more than their weight daily.

Flames Damage Mental Hospital

Administration Building Mostly Destroyed; 720 Patients Evacuated

FULTON, Mo. (AP)—A spectacular fire destroyed most of the 105-year-old administration building at the state mental hospital here early today, doing millions of dollars worth of damage.

* * *

Seven hundred and twenty patients were evacuated from patient wings, parts of which also went up in flames.

Miss Ronda Farris, a staff member who lived in the administration building, suffered a cut or burn on one foot, but there were no reports of other injuries.

At the height of the blaze it could be seen for 10 miles and the glow was visible in Jefferson City, state capital 25 miles to the south.

* * *

Clarence Burton, engineer and fire chief at the hospital, said he did not know how the blaze started. He added, however, that the electrical wiring in the building was in "bad shape."

C. Rouss Gallop, state director of public health and welfare, and B. E. Ragland, Director of the Division of Mental Diseases, estimated it will take three million dollars to replace the damaged building.

Iron Lungs, Beds on Mercy Flight to Buenos Aires

DOVER, Del. (AP)—A huge C124 Globemaster loaded with 28 iron lungs and other respiratory equipment left here today on a mercy flight to polio - stricken Buenos Aires.

* * *

With a crew of 11 men, the Military Air Transport plane will be able to make the trip to Argentina without stopping for crew rest periods. Aboard are two chief pilots, two copilots, and two navigators.

A spokesman at Dover Air Force Base said the equipment was being sent under auspices of the State Department and was provided by the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis.

* * *

The 22,000-pound cargo loaded yesterday in Boston included 19 adult iron lungs, 6 children's iron lungs, 3 infant's iron lungs, 6 rocking beds and 6 respirators and spare parts.

The plane, attached to the 1st Air Transport Squadron at Dover AFB is under the command of Capt. Donald Holzschuh of West Falls, N.Y.

Wife Granted Divorce From Actor Brasselle

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Actor Keefe Brasselle was divorced yesterday on his wife's testimony that he was a restless, roving husband who called her such names as "stupid."

* * *

Mrs. Norma Brasselle, 29, told Supreior Judge Arnold Praeger Superior Judge Arnold Praeger quarrelsome, argumentative and was away from home more often than he was there.

* * *

Her attorney said the actor has signed a property agreement giving her their Sherman Oaks home, half interest in a $175,000 building and 25 per cent of his gross earnings after certain business deductions. A minimum of $770 monthly to support Mrs. Brasselle and the couple's 12-year-old daughter was set for the next two years and a $937 monthly minimum thereafter.

'Package' Craze Now Invading Maternity Ward

SOMERSPOINT, N. J. (INS)—The "Take-Home" package craze has now spread to the maternity ward—for which many new fathers will probably be thankful.

* * *

When the happy parents leave Shore Memorial Hospital in Atlantic City, the proud father is handed a special package containing six bottles filled with the baby's formula.

John Imirie, executive director of the hospital, says the idea will permit mother to rest another day while dad handles the feeding problem for the first 24 hours.

As always, daddy pays — but this time just for the bottles. The formula, or milk, is on the house—that is the hospital.

The Forrestal---a Floating Airfield

By ELTON C. FAY

ABOARD USS FORRESTAL in the Caribbean Sea (AP) —Four acres of flight deck, with the chance to pour on power and fly around again if the approach isn't good, is comfort for those who fly planes off and on this world's biggest flattop.

What is it like?

The young officers who take jet interceptors and jet attack bombers screaming into the air and bring them roaring back to the deck know best.

But even in a relatively slow, piston-engine attack bomber like the Doughas AD Skyraider you get the idea. Like this:

A crewman bundles you into an inflatable life jacket, helps you squeeze your head into a crash helmet, buckles a safety belt, hooks up shoulder straps to restrain you in landing.

"Start engines."

Then you sit and sit and sit, sweltering in the hot sun which pours into the cockpit while a seemingly endless file of planes take off ahead of you.

Your turn comes. The engine roars louder as the plane taxis up to the starting line. Even at that point there remains more than 800 feet of flight deck stretching ahead. The Forrestal is surging forward at more than 30 miles per hour, into a 15- or 20-mile wind. So even before the start of the takeoff run, the plane has a built-in air speed of better than 40 miles per hour.

With brakes set, the engine snarls up to full power.

For Lt. Lee Strunk, whose home was Pleasantville, Ky., before he entered the Navy 15 years ago, this is old and familiar stuff. He does it several times a day.

He watches the flight directing officer below him as the man circles the air with his hand to order full power, then points suddenly down the deck. Brakes release the pull of 2,300 horsepower accelerates the bomber down the long deck. The island structure flashes past. The end of the deck, with the sea beyond, is coming at you but the bomber is airborne, flying easily and banking slightly in a turn as the deck edge drops away beneath.

The bomber climbs rapidly toward three others of the five-plane flight, which eases into a V-formation.

For an hour it is monotony. For a long time there is just the empty sea below. Then, for a little while, the coast of Haiti is down off the left wing. The formation turns back.

Ahead is a mass of high-piled, tropical cloudy columns. The flight leader signals. The formation goes into file formation, each plane trailing the other.

You nose down to pick up speed, then down, picking a way through a valley in the clouds. Five miles away is a little toy ship—the Forrestal.

The flight of planes that made you wait for take-off again delays your landing. Around and around and around while you wait for the radio voice from the carrier to say "Charley" and order you to land. The sea is less than a hundred feet below as you bank left and turn for the approach.

The stern of the Forrestal looms close. Flaps and wheels and arresting hook drop into place.

The 17,000 - pound Skyraider sweeps in. Strunk chops the power and there is a bump. The arresting cable snatches the trailing hook and the bomber stops instantly. Your shoulders lean into the straps for the instant of deceleration, and you are back on the Forrestal.

TODAY'S ASSIGNMENT FOR:

JUNIOR EDITORS

First submitted by: Priscilla DeMello, Halaula, Hawaii.

A COLORFUL KING FROM HAWAII

An old legend says that the Hawaiian islands, 2,000 miles southwest of San Francisco, were created by a god who pulled them from the bottom of the sea on his fishline.

Discovered in 1778 by the famous explorer, Captain James Cook, they were the home then of many warlike chiefs. In a few years the most powerful of these, Kamehameha, conquered the rest and united the islands. Tall, powerful and a mighty warrior, he built up a fleet of 20 vessels to protect his people and to trade among the islands.

King Kamehameha, shown here in ceremonial robes, and his descendants ruled for 100 years. In 1898, after four years as a republic, the islands became a part of the United States. Its residents, now of many races, are loyal Americans.

Here is a figure of the old time king to color, paste on cardboard and cut out. After you have done that, cut in from the sides along the heavy lines, then fold the side panels forward and the king will stand. His coat and helmet are covered with the bright feathers of thousands of small birds.

State Sports Center to Use Snow Maker

KALKASKA (AP) — At least one west Michigan winter sports center plans next season to use a snow-making machine to insure permanence of skiing during a proposed extended season.

Charles Moll, addressing the winter sports committee of the West Michigan Tourist and Resort Assn., said Boyne Mountain will start work soon on a $50,000 installation for keeping snow on its central slop for four months.

Moll, who manages the resort, said the development will result in a ski season from the first of December through March.

Use of the machines at Boyne Mountain will be the first in Michigan, Moll said. He added that they have been tried successfully at resorts in New York and Illinois.

* * *

The machines create snow by spraying a mixture of water and compressed air at the area to be covered.

British Invited to Send Envoy to Monaco Rites

LONDON (INS) — The British foreign office said today the government has been invited to send an official representative to the April 18-19 wedding of Grace Kelly and Prince Rainier of Monaco.

A spokesman said the British representative will not be identified until the invitation is answered but that he probably will be the consul-general in Monaco, Wolstan Weld-Forester.

Energetic Lad, 8, Burdened With Allergies From A to Z

TULSA, Okla (AP)—Life is full of temptations for 8-year-old Rickie Reynolds, whose allergies range from A to Z.

* * *

Like most youngsters, he has cravings for chocolates, fruits and pet animals but he can't have them. When he fudges and eats something he shouldn't he develops a headache, an itch, a wheeze, a cough or a runaway nose.

"Rickie is allergic to just about everything God put on this good earth," said his mother Mrs. Pierce James Reynolds.

* * *

He can't stand feathers or hair so his pets are a pair of goldfish.

A robust third-grader, Rickie has to weigh his playing against the consequences. When he runs and breathes faster he inhales dust and pollen which set off reactions. The lad is unable to swim in pools treated with chlorine.

* * *

Mrs. Reynolds said his allergies change from time to time and as a result he was given 87 test injections last year to discover whether he had developed any new ones.

His body apparently builds up immunity to certain drugs and often new medicines are substituted, she said.

* *

Every day Rickie is dosed with pills, ointments and a vitamin capsule to counteract his multitude of allergies.

He washes with special soap which costs 40 cents a cake. He gets two inoculations every Saturday.

Fresh milk, pillows, starch in his trousers, one type of sulfa drug, flannel clothes and rugs are a few of the things taboo with Rickie.

* * *

Mussolini's Love Exhumed for Family

MILAN, Italy (AP)—The body of Claretta Petacci, Mussolini's mistress who died with the dictator at the hands of Italian partisans, was exhumed last night from its Milan grave and turned over to her family.

* * *

It reportedly was being shipped to Rome for reburial there.

Miss Petacci was shot with Mussolini on April 28, 1945. The partisans hanged the pair by their heels in a Milan square.

The government has kept Mussolini's burial place secret for fear Fascists might make a shrine

Hungry Burglar Raids Home, Takes 3 Apples

3 Youths Cited in Arson Charge

Callers of Fire Chief's Daughter Being Held in $250,000 Stable Blaze

SAVAGE, Md. (AP)—Three young callers on the fire chief's daughter today faced arson charges for a fire state police said was set to keep the chief busy so he wouldn't send them home early.

Detective Sgt. Wilton May said the youths set fire to an expensive horse training barn at nearby Laurel a week ago. The barn with an indoor track and 100 mahogany stalls was destroyed as were two thoroughbreds, a riding horse, a trotter and a pony. The loss was put at $250,000.

William Murray, 16, was charged with arson and held in $2,500 bail for grand jury action after Howard County Judge James MacGill waived juvenile jurisdiction.

Formal charges of arson were to be filed today, Sgt. May said, against Jerry Knisely, 22, and Thomas O'Keefe, 18, who were held at the Waterloo state police barracks.

The fire last Thursday night was on the estate of Richard Hutchison Sr., adjoining nearby Laurel Raceway, a trotting track which Hutchison owns.

Sgt. May said his investigation disclosed the youths were frequent callers on the 14-year-old daughter of Fire Chief Lewis S. Redmond and that the chief had shooed them home on several occasions. There was a standing rule in the Redmond home that the boys had to leave by 9 p.m., May said.

Sgt. May said the youths set small fires in two unused buildings on the Hutchison estate but both went out. They returned, piled up some hay and set fire to it, he said.

Chief Redmond was late getting home that night. He led Savage firemen who helped Laurel and Jessup fire fighters put out the blaze.

Greek Trader Denies Royal Painting Offer

MONTE CARLO, Monaco (AP) — Greek shipping magnate Aristotle Onassis denied today he commissioned author - artist Ludwig Bemelmans to paint a picture as a wedding gift for Grace Kelly and Prince Rainier.

The painter said in Miami recently that Onassis had offered him $10,000 to turn out a painting for the couple.

"I don't know if I will be invited to the wedding and I haven't given a thought to the eventuality of a wedding gift," commented Onassis, who owns a chunk of the famed Monte Carlo gambling casino and maintains offices in tax-free Monaco.

Book Critic Clawed by Irked Cat Lovers

NEW YORK (AP)—The American Feline Society is clawing back at book critic Gilbert Highet, who had harsh things to say about cats on his radio program.

Highet, over station WQXR Tuesday night, contended that cats are ill-tempered and don't deserve sentimental ranking in literature.

The feline agency yesterday asked for equal radio time to defend its favorite pets.

WQXR has not decided what to do about the request.

40,000 Chinese Reds Reported Near Quemoy

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP) — About 40,000 Communist Chinese troops specially trained for amphibious warfare have arrived in the mainland area opposite the Nationalist-held islands of Quemoy and the Matsus, the Tatao news agency said today.

The agency, operated by the Interior Ministry and claiming underground contacts on the mainland, said the troops had come from the north China seaport of Tsingtao.

Rhee Says U.S. Failed to Prevent Red Attack

SEOUL (AP)—President Syngman Rhee complained today that the United States failed to provide South Korea with arms and ammunition adequate to prevent the Communist invasion from North Korea in June 1950.

Rhee made the complaint in a speech at ceremonies at Wonju celebrating the second anniversary of the Republic of Korea's 1st Army.

Parole War Criminals

TOKYO (AP)—The United States has authorized Japan to parole eight minor war criminals from Sugamo Prison, the Foreign Office announced today. Their release will reduce the number of war criminals still held at Sugamo to 414 from a postwar high of more than 1,200.

Deaths Last Night

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Arthur E. Fowle, 85, a cofounder of the Libbey-Owens-Ford Glass Co. and vice president and treasurer of the firm when he retired in 1925.

FLIGHTY FOR SPRING — These hats have sprouted wings. The one at left was inspired by the smooth lines of a jet aircraft. Called "Jet Plane," it is made of a cotton kerchief knotted at the front, with projecting streamlined "wings" overhead. Creation at right features a pink-feathered "sea gull," with the bird's "beak" dipping low on the brow. Both are by Canessa of Rome.

Sends Rule Book to Ike

Comic Order of Cardiac Founded by Heart Victim

JACKSON (AP)—Robert A. Northrup founded the "Most Uncommon and Comic Order of Cardiacs Uncalled For" about three years ago after he suffered a heart attack.

* * *

He lists President Eisenhower among the club's honorary members.

The purpose of the organization, he says, is to cheer up people with a heart condition.

Northrup, who is a Civil Service employe at Southern Michigan Prison in the classification office, got the idea while convalescing from his heart attack.

"I decided I was going to have some fun out of life, help others—and started to 'organize' the order," he said.

The order has a "Liber Regalis" (book of regulations) and a colorful coat of arms that was drawn by a prison inmate.

SENDS TO PRESIDENT

Last fall Northrup sent the President, convalescing at Gettysburg, Pa., a copy of the "Liber Regalis" and the coat of arms with a letter explaining the humor of the organization and expressing hope for the President's speedy recovery.

A short time later Northrup received a note from the President's personal secretary thanking him on behalf of the President and saying, "I know that he finds reassurance in the fact that you had a similar coronary experience and that you have enjoyed life and happiness since that time."

The motto of "Cardiacs Uncalled For" is "Morituri Phooey," which means "about to die—nonsense."

Northrup says the symbols on the coat of arms speak for themselves. The milk bottle over a beer stein indicates the sufferer's beverage. Then there is a TV set above the golf clubs. The letters "RX" stand for presciptions and the "PD" is symbolical of the hospital and medical bills.

* * *

If you have a heart condition, says Northrup, you might as well "learn to live with it."

Conductor Faces Indecency Count

SYDNEY, Australia (AP)—Sir Eugene Goossens, prominent symphony orchestra conductor, has been ordered to appear in a special customs court Friday to answer charges of bringing "indecent" books and pictures into Australia. He was served with a summons last night.

* * *

Goossens, 62, returned from a tour of Europe last Friday. He was questioned for seven hours then by customs officials and vice squad detectives. Officers said they seized three books dealing with sex matters, about 1,100 photographs and four soft rubber half-face masks found in his luggage.

Goossens has been resident conductor of the Sydney Symphony orchestra since 1947. He conducted the Cincinnati (Ohio) Symphony from 1931 to 1946.

Dog Riding Atop Car Creates Quite a Stir

BEAVER, Utah (AP) — That dog poised atop Frank Gentry's car isn't a radiator ornament—it's a dog. Gentry says the dog, "Tex," got used to riding in the open when the Gentrys had a pickup truck. Tex started riding on the roof when Gentry switched to a car.

"When I tried to put him in the trunk of the car," says Gentry, "he refused to go. He was too used to riding on the outside."

Gentry says the 6-year-old Labrador-German Shepherd has ridden on top at speeds of 70 miles an hour—certainly a startling sight to other motorists. But Tex is cautious: He won't ride outside if it's raining or snowing, or if the metal roof is the least bit slippery.

Bob Considine Says:

Hypnotism to Become Do-It-Yourself Sport

NEW YORK (INS)—"Reincarnation is for the birds," the good-looking blonde said. "I've regressed hundreds of people in my time. All I can make of it, startling as it sometimes turns out to be, is that these people are subconsciously reliving something they read, heard, saw, dreamed or imagined from the time of their birth."

* * *

The blonde came with good credentials. She is Joan Brandon, a professional hypnotist.

Our luncheon at Sardi's was arranged by an amateur hypnotist I know, Fawcett editor Ralph Daigh, who is publishing Miss Brandon's book "The Art of Hypnotism." It's to be part of a "how to" library. The oddest book on any "how to" shelf, I suggested, uneasily avoiding Miss Brandon's sparkling eyes.

"I'd have been burned as a witch a couple of hundred years ago," she agreed amiably. "But people are losing their fear of hypnotism.

"I put thousands of people 'out' each year, in such places as auditoriums, theaters, night clubs, private homes, hospitals, maternity wards, doctors conventions and so forth.

EXPLAINS BRIDEY

"As for this Bridey Murphy business, it's interesting but explainable. Her mind accepted and sealed a lot of things her parents, grandparents and other people spoke of in her presence as a child.

"Hypnotism opened those long-closed vaults. I see it happen every day. It has nothing to do with reincarnation."

Bridey, I mean Joan, is the daughter of "The Great Brandoni," the hypnotist who was the son of Dr. Allen Brandon, who gave up his medical practice to concentrate on the phenomena that had been his hobby.

"I'd have to hypnotize myself to remember when I first began hypnotizing people, it's been so long," she laughed. "I grew up with it. There's never been anything strange about it.

"A person who doesn't want to be hypnotized can't be. A lot of cheap novels and movies about people doing horrid things under the influence of hypnotism are all pure bunk.

"They've set back an important science. It's of definite medical value in cases of hypertension, migraine, asthma, alcoholism, over-smoking, dieting and many other problems."

Miss Brandon indicated that many people now come to her seeking cure for a vast variety of ailments.

* * *

But, she added, she will not lift a finger or wave a wand unless the person's doctor invites her in as a consultant in the matter. Still the people clamor.

2ND-RATE SVENGALIS

Soon, through her book, they can do it themselves. We wondered if that wouldn't put a lot of second-rate Svengalis in the nation's parlors.

* * *

"Perhaps," she acknowledged. "But the instructions will be clear and the results harmless. You've got to know how. I got an emergency call recently to go to a place where an amateur had hypnotized a friend and couldn't get him to wake up.

"The amateur was hysterical when I arrived and his friend slept through a deep trance. I recognized the trouble immediately.

"The hysteria had caused the amateur's voice to become shrill. The man in the trance didn't recognize it as the voice that had knocked him 'out.' So he wouldn't respond to its orders.

* * *

"There was only one thing for me to do," Miss Brandon said, business-like. "I hypnotized the hypnotist and when he was 'out' I told him to tell his friend that I was taking over the case and would bring him back. I brought him back instantly, and then brought the hypnotist back."

Miss Brandon's weight reduction plan consists, she says, of throwing the fat soul under a spell and telling him—her while under it that he-she hates starches but loves carrots.

With booze, she tells the bloke the next drink will make him deathly sick. With chain smokers, the approach is (as they stand before her glassy-eyed) "the next one will taste exactly like burning rubber." Then she gives them a pencil to chew on, Miss Brandon said, lighting a cigarette and taking a deep, satisfying drag.

The Association of Irish Periodicals, in Dublin, is telling postal authorities that Eire's rates on publications sent abroad are far too high.

Sly Check Forger Picked 'Fine' Racket

CHICAGO (AP) — Criminal ingeniousness enabled an ex-convict to cash checks stolen from mailboxes.

Police said Charles F. Mullins, 35, admitted stealing about $25,000 in checks from mailboxes. For each check he would search out an auto with a parking violation ticket on it. He would then forge the name of the check payee to the ticket and endorse the check to pay the fine.

Mullins said clerks collecting the fines always refunded the balance without question. Federal authorities are holding him on mail theft and forgery charges.

Wins Dancing Lesson After Breaking Ankle

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Joseph Vogel, who broke two bones in his right ankle when he fell over a loose stone, settled down for a long rest with his foot in a cast.

Then a call came to his bedside telephone.

It was from a dance studio. A sweet voice told Vogel, "You are the lucky winner of the wheel-of-fortune jackpot, which entitles you and your wife to a free dancing lesson."

Harriman Raps Stand on Israeli

Slow Action of Shipping Military Aid to Jews Decried by Governor

NEW YORK (AP)—Gov. Averell Harriman, assailing the U.S. government's stand on U.S. arms for Israel, said last night, "The inaction of the United States has served to encourage further Communist adventuring."

Harriman, a possibility for the Democratic presidential nomination and former ambassador to Moscow, said:

* * *

"To meet directly the Communist arms sale to Egypt and to discourage further maneuvers, our government should at once have honored the request of Israel for defensive arms."

Harriman also said he does not agree "with those who say that providing defensive arms to Israel is futile because the people of Israel are outnumbered by the Arabs." This was a reference to an argument by the Eisenhower administration.

The governor discussed his views on the Middle East conflict in a speech at a dinner opening the 1956 campaign of the United Jewish Appeal of Greater New York.

Harriman said the Arab nations "have not been brought to understand that Israel is going to exist and that if it is attacked it will be defended by outside forces, including forces of the United States."

Thief Reveals Policeman's Long Life of Crime

EAST LIVERPOOL, Ohio (AP)—Police Chief John L. Russell said today a thief trapped one of the city's policemen.

* * *

The chief said Patrolman Robert L. McBane admitted looting stores for four years. And to add to the Police Department's embarrassment, he used a police cruiser on some of his activities, Russell said.

McBane's double life was discovered, the chief said, when another man, George Bontempt, admitted stealing property from a cabin owned by McBane.

* * *

A gun, two sets of dishes and an electric saw taken from the cabin had been stolen from various East Liverpool stores. Russell said McBane, 35, father of two children and a policeman for 10 years, admitted the thefts.

Bontempt, 22, is held for violation of probation.

McBane was charged with breaking and entering and held on $1,500 bond.

Soil Bank Requires $50-$60 Per Acre

CHAMPAING, Ill. (AP)—W. N. Thompson, agricultural economist with the University of Illinois, says it would require payments of $50 to $60 per acre to attract Midwestern corn land into a soil bank.

"It would seem to me that the inducement would need to be at least that on 70-bushel-an-acre corn land to be attractive to many farmers," he says.

"A smaller payment would attract land in the corn belt fringe and poor land in the corn belt."

Laxative Pill Poisoning Causes Death of Girl, 4

POTTSTOWN, Pa. (AP)—A 4-year-old girl died last night of poisoning said by authorities at Pottstown Hospital to have resulted from swallowing half the contents of a bottle of laxative pills.

The girl, Patricia Dudley, was given the pills a week before by an aunt, Rose Mars, 8, while the two children were playing at the Mars' home. Authorities said the girls thought the bottle contained candy pills.

The dead girl had been treated at the hospital and discharged Tuesday. Yesterday she had a convulsion and was readmitted.

Cancer Plan Tested by UM Researcher

ANN ARBOR (AP) — A University of Michigan researcher is testing an easier and faster way of detecting stomach cancer.

* * *

The American Cancer Society said the method "does not take the place of exploratory surgery, but it gives the surgeon a good idea of what to expect and to operate without delay if the test proves positive."

The society is supporting the research of Dr. Robert J. Bolt, assistant professor of internal medicine.

Stomach cancer is difficult to detect in its early stages.

The society said "it has been discovered that if the mucin in the stomach is digested by chymotrypsin, cancer cells can be found when the stomach contents are examined under the microscope."

A small tube is used to draw off samples from the patient's stomach.

Your Income Tax Primer—No. 4

Reporting Income From Salaries, Wages

By RICHARD A. MULLENS
(4th of 12 Articles)

Reporting income from salaries and wages on your tax return is more than just copying figures off the Form W-2 supplied by your employer. You should consider whether you are entitled to subtract sick pay or certain expenses from the salary or wage shown on the W-2.

Any such item you can deduct or exclude from your income on page 1 of Form 1040 is especially important for the average taxpayer because even though he deducts such items, the taxpayer can still claim the so-called standard deduction of about 10 per cent of income if he desires.

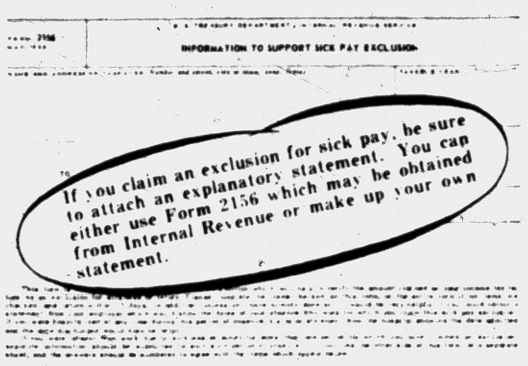

You should receive a Form W-2 from each of your employers during 1955 and you must, as in the past, send one copy of the W-2 to the District Director with your return. There are spaces on both Forms 1040A and 1040 for you to copy the amounts shown on your W-2s.

If a tax was not withheld from your salary or wage, ask your employer how much he paid you during 1955 or keep a record of the amounts. Report such income on separate lines opposite each employer's name.

After you have added up your income from salaries or wages, the next step is to see whether you qualify for the new tax break for wage earners who received pay while absent from work on account of sickness or injury during 1955.

Here's how this tax break works:

If your employer has a plan or agreement with his employes that he will continue to pay you during absences on account of sickness or injury, and, during 1955 you received pay from your employer for the period you were absent from work on account of injury, then you can subtract so much of this pay as does not exceed a weekly rate of $100.

If you were paid while absent on account of sickness, you can subtract so much of this pay as does not exceed $100 per week after you have been sick for one full week.

However, if your illness is such that you are hospitalized at least one day during your illness, you can subtract up to $100 per week of this pay from the first day of absence.

For example, suppose you were absent from work on account of sickness for 10 consecutive calendar days and your employer paid you $140 for the 10 calendar days, as he had agreed to do as one of your working benefits. If you were not hospitalized during the absence, then you can subtract pay for the last three days, or $42. However, if you were hospitalized for one or more days during the sickness, you could subtract the entire $140, since the rate of payment is less than $100 per week.

This year you cannot claim the sick pay exclusion on Form 1040A. You must use Form 1040, which has a special line (item 6) for subtracting sick pay.

In addition, you have to attach a short statement to your return showing your name and address, the dates of your absences and whether from injury or sickness, the dates you were hospitalized, and the pay you received for the sick leave.

BUSINESS EXPENSES

Just as in past years, employes can deduct certain trade or business expenses from their wages or salaries before entering the total in item 5 of Form 1040.

Keep in mind that these expenses cannot be claimed on Form 1040A. But you can report them on either the short or long form 1040, and still use the tax table or standard deduction to compute your tax.

* * *

First, turn to page 5 of the official instructions for Form 1040 and read the explanation under "Trade and Business Deductions of Employes."

Then read over the following tips to help you with this part:

"Reimbursed expenses" include such items as business entertainment and business dues which you pay and for which you are then reimbursed by your employer. If your terms of employment require you to pay such items without reimbursement, then you cannot deduct them on page 1 of Form 1040, but they may be deducted on page 2 in computing taxable income, provided you itemize your personal deductions.

There are some expenses which you can deduct on page 1 regardless of whether you are reimbursed or not.

These expenses fall into three groups:

1. Traveling expenses while away from home. According to the Internal Revenue Service, "away from home" means at least an overnight trip away from your home town or post of duty.

2. Transportation expenses. If as a part of your job, you have to travel around your home town, you can deduct any costs incident to such travel. For example, a television repair man who uses his own car to get from repair job to repair job can deduct the expenses of running his car, including depreciation.

3. All business expenses of "outside salesmen" can be deducted on page 1 of Form 1040. An "outside salesman" is a full-time employe engaged principally in soliciting business for his employer at places other than the employer's place of business. A salesman whose principal activity is service and delivery is not considered to be an "outside salesman."

* * *

If you deduct any of these expenses, you must attach a statement of explanation to your return. There is available at any Internal Revenue office a schedule (Form 2106) which can be used to report these expenses or you can prepare your own statement.

If you are entitled to deduct car expenses, watch for later articles of the Primer.

They show how to figure depreciation and allocate expenses when your car is used both for business and for pleasure.

NEXT: Dividends and interest.

Chinese Envoy to U.S. Plans to Resign, Retire

WASHINGTON (AP) — Ambassador V. K. Wellington Koo, veteran Chinese diplomat and envoy to the United States for almost 10 years, is planning to retire. Close associates said today Koo has submitted his resignation to Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek but it has not yet been accepted.

* * *

Chinese Embassy sources said Madame Koo is in Paris where the Koos have rented a home.

Hoover Report Action Delayed

U.S. C. of C. Pressing Congress Into Adopting Recommendations

WASHINGTON (AP)—An effort to prod Congress and the administration into adopting recommendations of the year-old Hoover report was launched today by the U.S. Chamber of Commerce.

* * *

Former President Herbert Hoover, who headed two postwar commissions on federal reorganization, was among those scheduled to address an "action conference" organized by the Chamber.

Only 16 per cent of the 314 recommendations submitted to Congress last spring have been adopted, including 11 bills covering mainly minor points.

Some 250 measures are before Congress, but many are duplications and few are being pressed. No legislation has been offered on some 40 of the 142 proposals which would require action by Congress.

* * *

Strengthening of the Bureau of the Budget was urged by J. Harold Stewart, New York, in an address prepared for the opening session. Stewart headed the Hoover Commission's task force on budgeting and accounting.

Hats Off to Caps, They're Back in Style Again, Men

NEW YORK (AP)—Hats off to the cap, men—it's back again.

And in high style too.

This ancient form of head covering, worn for centuries in one form or another, had all but followed the handmade nickel cigar into oblivion.

* * *

A nifty new type of cap, called the "Ivy League" because of its first popularity on Ivy League college campuses, turned the trick.

This one is a neat, trim, jaunty little item which doesn't overhang in the back or drape over the sides. It has a single-piece top and short visor. It fits snugly over the top of the head.

Manufacturers are doing headstands of delight over its success.

"It's one of the biggest changes in the hat business in years," said Bernard L. Salesky, president of the giant Hat Corp. of America.

Motor City Studying Park Monorail Plan

DETROIT (INS) — The Detroit Department of Parks and Recreation is studying a proposal to build a miniature monorail line for children in the city's Rouge Park.

The three-car train would be a replica of the monorail rapid transit system many U.S. cities are now considering building to ease traffic jams.

U.S. Families Plan to Continue Buying Boom in '56

WASHINGTON (NS) — American families think they are in pretty good financial shape today and plan to spend just as freely this year as they did during the boom of 1955.

* * *

This conclusion, leading to an optimistic outlook for business in 1956, was drawn by the Federal Reserve Board after its 11th annual survey of consumer finances.

Some 2,800 interviews on the subject are conducted each year in January and February in 12 large cities and 54 smaller areas.

Preliminary results of the 1956 survey indicated that:

"Consumers view their current financial situation favorably, are optimistic about their own income prospects and are very optimistic about prospects for general business conditions during the coming year."

About the same proportion of families as last year reported plans to buy new and used automobiles, and other durable goods and new and used homes and to undertake home improvement or maintenance programs.

Although previous surveys have proven relatively accurate, the board expressed this warning about reliability of the results:

"Consumer plans to buy, expressed early in the year, should not be taken as a forecast of what consumers actually will buy during the year. Many factors . . . will influence consumer buying."

Among factors that influence buying, the board mentioned prices and available credit, attractiveness of new products and models and changes in general business conditions during the year.

In evaluating their own financial positions, two-fifths of the persons interviewed felt they were better off then a year ago and less than one-fourth thought they were worse off. These proportions were more favorable than in any other recent year.

Nearly two-fifths expected to be making more a year from now, and fewer than one-tenth thought they would be making less.

When asked their opinion about general business, nearly two-thirds said conditions would be good this year and one-tenth said it would be a bad year. This was the most optimistic outlook in the 11 years of the survey's history.

FARMERS DIDN'T PROFIT

Farmers were the only major occupational group which did not share in a general income increase last year and less than half of them expected good times this year compared with three-fourths of other self-employed businessmen.

About 35 per cent of the families interviewed had incomes of over $5,000 in 1955 compared with 15 per cent in 1948.

The board, which has just started to determine if increasing use of credit threatens the economy, reported that fewer families expect to buy furniture and appliances on credit this year although more car purchases "on time" are anticipated.

About eight per cent expect to buy new cars in 1956 and seven per cent plan to buy used cars. This is about the same as in 1955 when automobile purchases were at a peak.

Plans to buy homes were expressed by 9.6 per cent of the families compared with 9.4 last year. The board said most of the increase was among non-veterans.

Milk Production Rises

LANSING (AP) — February milk production of Michigan farms totaled 418 million pounds, 9 per cent more than a year ago, the Federal-State Crop Reporting Service said.

A tomcat drank itself to death in Copenhagen, Denmark, being found dead in a pool of methyl. Diagnosis: acute alcoholic poisoning.

Kefauver Blasts Adlai Backers

Rips Dem Farm-Labor Party for Endorsing Stevenson in Primary

ST. CLOUD, Minn. (AP)—Sen. Kefauver (D-Tenn) lashed out last night at Minnesota's Democratic-Farmer-Labor party for its endorsement of Adlai Stevenson in the state's presidential primary Tuesday.

* * *

"Outside of those in Minnesota, I've done more for the DFL cause than anyone else," Kefauver told an audience of about 700 here. "I came to Minnesota in 1952 on behalf of the DFL candidates.

* * *

"But when they gathered and selected the other candidate (Stevenson), I wasn't given a hearing or an invitation."

* * *

It was the first time he had assailed the DFL in his campaign swing through Minnesota. It was believed inspired by the fact that Ray Hemenway, state DFL chairman, Tuesday ruled against a joint appearance by Kefauver and Stevenson at a celebration in Moorhead Saturday afternoon.

Hemenway said it would give the "impression that they are debating one another," whereas, he added, regardless of the primary outcome, both "are working for a Democratic victory in November."

* * *

Kefauver said, "Those who want to keep me out are not thinking in terms of the welfare of the people . . . What kind of government would we have if only one candidate was selected for the people to vote on?"

* * *

In an earlier talk at Brainerd, Kefauver told about 100 that he thought heads of government agriculture agencies should believe in the farmers and not be "people like secretary of Agriculture Benson, who apparently is serving Wall Street bankers." The remark after he had spoken of Benson's raising interest rates on farm loans.

Cobo Names Woman to Historical Group

DETROIT (AP) — Mayor Albert E. Cobo has named Mrs. Wilson W. Mills to the city's historical commission.

Mrs. Mills, who lives in Grosse Pointe, is the daughter of the late Hazen S. Pingree, Detroit mayor and governor of Michigan. She succeeds Mrs. Fred T. Murphy, who resigned a week ago because of her health.

The term runs through Feb. 29, 1960.

Scout Troop's First Meeting Set for Tonight

The Oakland County Children's Home Boy Scout troop 121 will hold their first meeting tonight since being accepted by the Clinton Valley Council.

Twenty-one boys have joined the troop, making up four patrols. Freemont Alden of the Covert Methodist Church troop assisted in formulating the new group. On March 22 Alden will bring his scout troop to the home. They will pass out nine pins to boys who have passed the tenderfoot test.

Scoutmaster of the troop is Joseph Block, assisted by William Cavalier. Heading the committee formed as an advisory group for the troop is William O. Moulton Jr., superintendent of the Children's Home.

His committee is comprised of Wesley Johnson, Ernest Watson, William Smith, Ward Heath, Harold VanDuesen, Patrick Brazzil, Joseph F. Calme and Robert Terry Jr.

The new troop has planned several future hiking and camping trips. They plan to finance the excursions with funds raised from a summer of caddying at the golf courses.

Powell Sees Negro Party

Blames GOP and Dems for Lag in Civil Rights Fight in U.S.

WASHINGTON (INS) — Rep. Adam Powell (D-NY) said today that Negroes may form a third party "unless the Democrats and Republicans stop pussyfooting on civil rights."

* * *

The Negro congressman said the purpose would be "to give both Negro and white people an opportunity to join in furthering the cause of civil liberties."

Powell, who is pastor of the nation's largest Negro church, called a news conference for 11:30 a.m. at which plans for the new political party may be announced.

The New York legislator said in an interview that "it's getting to the point where the Negro may have no place to go on election day because neither of the major political parties is forthright in its approach to civil rights."

He added: "In view of this, it may behoove us to set up a third party to which all right-thinking people, both Negro and white, can turn."

* * *

Powell noted that most Negroes have voted Democratic since 1932 when Franklin D. Roosevelt was elected president. He commented: "Most Negroes would probably like to vote Democratic in November, but Democratic leaders are making it very difficult for us to do so."

Powell and Rep. Charles C. Diggs Jr. (D-Mich) have already threatened to bolt their party because of dissatisfaction with what they term the lack of action on civil liberties.

Says 24 Justices Suspected by State

LANSING (INS) — The state auditor general said yesterday that at least 24 Justices of the Peace are under suspicion for irregularities.

* * *

Victor Targonski said he ordered his field auditors to concentrate their investigations on the suspected justices.

The field men are meeting at Michigan State University's Kellogg Center to map plans for a sweeping investigation of Michigan's 3,200 justices.

The inquiry opened after spot audits disclosed seven justices had withheld large sums collected in fines and costs.

It's Time for Irish Soda Bread

SEE LINDA! — It's not a shamrock from Mama's native Ireland, but it's the closest Mrs. David Donaghy of Voorheis road can come to one in America. Seven-months-old Linda is interested, anyway. The Donaghys have been American residents for a little over two years. They like living in Pontiac, but they very naturally miss some things about their homeland.

David and Evelyn Donaghy are just like any other young couple in their neighborhood, with one exception. They have lived in America just two years.

Two years ago in January they arrived from Belfast, Ireland to make their home here. Mrs. Donaghy has an aunt in Pontiac who stood sponsor for her young relatives.

A little over seven months ago a blonde, blue-eyed charmer, named Linda, joined the family circle. She's busy learning to stand on her own two small feet and flashing delightful smiles at all comers.

Girls in Ireland leave school at an earlier age than do our girls. Mrs. Donaghy was private secretary to a lawyer at the age of fifteen and a half. Then for eight years she worked for a large industrial concern, advancing to the position of typing supervisor.

This experience, coupled with her determination to get a job at once, led her to obtaining one within two days of the time she arrived in Pontiac. Her husband was nearly as quick.

What do they miss most? "Beef sausage," they both said at once. Beef sausage, sausage rolls, Irish ham and bacon—these were the foods they longed for.

Irish bacon, unlike the kind we are accustomed to, is not streaked with lean. Instead, it has an eye of lean meat in one end. The Donaghys couldn't decide what is different about the hams.

Five minute bus service past their door, city parks all over and dance halls are other things they miss. Belfast, a city of around 500,000 people, has over 600 dance halls. Even unescorted young girls may attend the dances with propriety.

But the Donaghys like many things about America. They like the wide variety of canned fruit and other foods available at any time in the stores. They like the job opportunities America offers.

An oxalis plant growing in the kitchen window can only partially satisfy Mrs. Donaghy's longing for shamrocks. However, they grow only in Ireland.

The true shamrock is a wee green plant, much smaller than our clover. Some are always imported for St. Patrick's Day.

Although luggage was of necessity limited on their transatlantic crossing, Mr. Donaghy brought with him one important possession. He is an expert whistler, has won competitions in Ireland and has whistled professionally. Here, he limits his whistling to charity affairs.

The Donaghys and I talked on and on. We ranged the whole world of subjects. Had they made friends? Yes, many nice ones.

Wasn't it a hard decision to make to break home ties and come to a strange country? It was, and if Evelyn Donaghy could have foreseen the loneliness for her family and the strangeness of it all, she wouldn't have come.

But she's happy here now. She only wishes that "mummy" could really see the baby, not just a picture of her.

Letters help, and they wing their way across the ocean frequently. Pictures, too. Talk tumbled out of both of them, as they drank tea and I drank coffee. I almost forgot to get some Irish recipes.

Champ is a typical Irish dish. This is the best season of the year for it.

Champ

4-5 potatoes
4-5 spring onions
Salt and pepper
Milk
1 tablespoon butter or margarine

Boil potatoes and mash them. Chop the onions fine, tops and all, and bring to a boil in the milk. Add butter or margarine. Whip this mixture into the potatoes.

Spoon onto a serving plate in the shape of a ring and put butter or margarine in the center. Serve at once.

Irish Soda Bread is a treat the Donaghys have every Sunday morning for breakfast. When made with white flour, it is plain Soda Bread or Soda Farls.

When made with half whole wheat flour, it is Wheaten Bread. If raisins and sugar are added, it becomes Bannock and is served for Tea.

Irish Soda Bread
By Mrs. David Donaghy

4 cups sifted flour
1½ cups buttermilk
1 teaspoon baking soda
1 teaspoon salt

Sift dry ingredients together. Add buttermilk and mix until dry ingredients are moistened. Pat on a floured board and cut into diamond shapes.

Place on floured pan and bake 20 minutes in a 250-degree oven. After ten minutes, turn.

Remove from pan and split each biscuit. Fry in bacon fat and serve hot. These are Soda Farls.

Soda Farls may be baked and stored in the refrigerator for 2-3 days before being fried.

If you wish to bake the bread completely and not fry it, bake it at 350 degrees for 30-40 minutes. Serve at once.

Don't Be Alarmed by Pinkish Poultry

WASHINGTON (INS)—If your roasted poultry turns pink in color, don't worry.

* * *

Agriculture Department scientists said today there is no cause for alarm if you find the pink color in thoroughly cooked poultry.

Department scientists who investigated the matter found that the color stems from the same chemical reaction that causes redness in ham, and other smoked or otherwise cure meats.

Pointing out that quality is not affected, they explained that any flame produces minute quantities of gaseous carbon monoxide or nitric oxide, or both.

* * *

These compounds react with the small amount of hemoglobin that remains in the flesh of slaughtered well-bled birds. The result is the familiar bright pink or red color.

Nowadays whole-wheat flour and graham flour are synonymous terms. This flour is not sifted before measuring.

Pressure Cook Pork and Beans

Right now ham and pork are plentiful and fine economy buys. Team them up with beans, a protein food rich in vitamins and minerals, and you have an infinite variety of nutritious and delectable meals.

* * *

A hearty dinner everyone will enjoy is your own favorite recipe for baked beans served with a circle of crisp grilled ham slices, strips of bacon or generous helpings of little pork sausages.

Here is a good basic recipe for home baked beans that takes less than an hour in your pressure cooker.

2 cups dry navy beans
½ pound salt pork, diced
2 tablespoons sugar
1 teaspoon salt
¼ cup molasses
½ teaspoon mustard
1 medium onion, diced
2 tablespoons catsup

Soak beans overnight. Drain and reserve liquid. Heat cooker and sear diced salt pork. Add beans, sugar, salt, molasses, mustard, onion, catsup and enough bean liquid to just cover beans.

Cover and cook at 15 pounds pressure 40 minutes. Set off the heat and allow pressure to go down gradually.

After-dinner treat: Serve double-strength coffee in small heavy-footed glasses; top with a drift of whipped cream and powdered cinnamon.

The rich, tangy flavor turns everyday foods into nutritious "Oriental" treats! Adds appetizing zest to Chop Suey, Chow Mein, meats, fish, chicken, gravies, baked beans, etc.

Lemons Celebrate First Century

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

One hundred years a-growing. That's the boast of the lemon industry this year.

Of course, lemon and orange trees have been grown a great deal longer than that. They are considered to be either Indian or Chinese in origin. The first citrus fruit trees are said to have come to America with Columbus.

But it remained for the gold rush miners of 1849 to make an industry out of California's orange and lemon groves. With fresh fruit conspicuous by its absence and scurvy all too prevalent, the miners paid as high as a dollar apiece for oranges and lemons!

Within the next six years—just time enough for seedling trees to come into bearing—California was in the lemon industry for good.

All the U.S. lemons are grown in the states of California and Arizona. Between them, they produce five-sevenths of the world's crop. Since the second World War, America has forged to the top in lemon producing.

Lemons are not only a food. They are an important ingredient in soaps, cleaners, polishes, perfumes and cosmetics. From them pectins and pectates are made, also many pharmaceuticals. After all the other important parts have been used, cattle feed is made from the residue.

As far back as 1795 sailors in the Royal Navy were required to have lemon or orange juice daily. Even at that time it was recognized that something in the citrus fruit juice prevented scurvy. We know now it is vitamin C.

Lemon juice does wonderful things for food. A bit of it, plus chopped parsley, turns a simple canned soup into a treat.

Sprinkling lamb or fish with lemon juice a few minutes before cooking will cut down odors, add to the flavor and tenderize the meat.

Lemon juice is a life saver to the dieter. It takes the place of gravies, salad dressings and rich sauces. Futhermore, it's an easy idea. Almost any restaurant will have wedges of lemon to serve.

You know that sprinkling fresh peaches or pears or bananas that must stand will prevent their turning dark.

No need to remind you of the cooling powers of lemonade on a hot day. Nor of the deliciousness of a squeeze of lemon in a glass of iced tea.

Both beverages are equally good served hot when the temperature hovers near the bottom, rather than the top of the thermometer.

With Easter but two short weeks away, you'll want to plan your holiday dinner. If you are serving ham, you will enjoy this tangy sauce with it. The recipe calls for frozen lemonade concentrate.

Lemonade Fruit Sauce for Ham

1 (6 ounce) can frozen concentrate for lemonade
1 canful water (fill lemonade can once)
1 cup raisins
½ cup crushed pineapple
½ cup sugar (or to taste)
2 tablespoons cornstarch
2 tablespoons cold water
2 tablespoons butter
½ teaspoon allspice
⅛ teaspoon nutmeg

Combine concentrate for lemonade with one canful of water, in saucepan. Cook raisins in lemonade mixture, over low heat, for 5 minutes. Add pineapple and sugar. Dissolve cornstarch in cold water and stir into the mixture.

Cook over low heat, stirring constantly, until thickened. Remove from heat; add butter and spices. Serve hot over ham.

Martha's Potatoes Recall the Country

Hankering for the taste of country-style dishes? Make up a batch of these potatoes!

Martha's Potatoes

3 tablespoons butter
¼ cup finely diced onions
3 cups finely diced peeled raw potatoes
3 tablespoons flour
1 teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon pepper
½ cup milk

Put 1 tablespoon of the butter in a heavy 9-inch skillet over low heat. Add onion; cook and stir a few times until yellowed — five minutes or longer.

Put potatoes in a mixing bowl; sprinkle with flour, salt and pepper; mix thoroughly. Mix in cooked onions and milk.

Heat remaining 2 tablespoons of butter in skillet until very hot; add potato mixture, pressing down with large spatula. Cook over low heat until crisp and browned on bottom—20 minutes or longer.

Turn out of pan or cut in pan and serve browned side up. Makes four to five servings.

Corned Beef Is Featured This Week With Cabbage

The legendary "luck of the Irish" is with the food shopper again this week for there is a variety of good values to tempt March appetites.

Pork continues in the news. Because supplies are heavy, the rib end pork loins are budget-priced in most stores, says Mrs. Josephine Lawyer, Consumer Marketing Information Agent of the Cooperative Extension Service.

For fine lean grain and delicate flavor, look for the 3 to 3½ pound rib end roast which serves about 2 to 2½ persons per pound. The loin end roast is a leaner cut priced at about 10 cents more per pound. Some markets are cutting the loin end into choice lean chops.

Boston Butt is a lean pork roast from the shoulder. It is often boned, and then becomes a natural for the family's favorite stuffing. When cut into lean pork steaks, the Boston Butt becomes an easy surface unit meal.

At present low costs, wise shoppers will include bacon and sausage on the weekly market list. Sausage packaged in three pound, two pound, or one pound rolls will fit all family sizes.

Large supplies of beef keep in the limelight. Even though there are fewer beef sales this week than last, several cuts of beef are as much as 9 to 18% lower than they were last year at this time. Grain-fed, mature beef offers the best flavor and the most in juicy tenderness.

One of the best values for pot roast is the blade chuck roast. A good value for an oven roast is the standing rib or the rolled rib roast.

If a standing rib roast is U.S. Choice or U.S. Prime quality, roast it in a moderately low oven 325 degrees. A meat thermometer, inserted through the outside fat into the center of the thickest muscle so that the bulb does not rest on bone or fat, is the best indication of doneness. For a rare rib roast the temperature will read 140 degrees, for medium 160 degrees and for well-done 170 degrees.

Corned beef will be featurd with its companion, cabbage, at many meat counters this week. Most corned beef comes wrapped in a moisture-proof, vapor-proof film bag that keeps the fresh corned beef flavor. For best results follow the packer's cooking instructions printed on the film bag.

For a delicately flavored roast, veal leg, rump, or sirloin is offered at very reasonable prices in some stores. Veal shoulder roasts at about 10 cents less per pound are still more economical.

Variety and quality are magic words at produce counters. According to several retailers, head lettuce quality is very good. The heads are crisp and compact, though mostly small in size. The best quality head lettuce is firm, fresh, green, and heavy for its size.

Both Irish and sweet potatoes are wise vegetable choices. Most Irish potatoes are about 6 to 8 cents per pound. Due to the large crop harvested last fall, sweet potatoes, at about 13 cents per pound, are unusually low priced for this season of the year.

The main supply of new cabbage is from Florida and Texas with about 15% more than last year. Used as a raw vegetable, cabbage makes a real contribution in Vitamin C.

Thirteen per cent more grapefruit is available this March than last. There are good supplies of Duncan (with seeds) and the Marsh Seedless varieties, with variation in price according to size and variety chosen. Pebbly-skinned Temple oranges with only a few seeds are fine quality.

Both the California Navel and Florida Valencia oranges are reasonably priced this week. Of special interest are Delicious, Northern Spy, McIntosh, and Winesap apples. These are most often found packaged in 3 or 4 pound plio-film bags.

To keep apples crisp, sweet, and fresh longer buy in small amounts and store in the refrigerator. For other fruit in the fruit bowl look for bananas or winter pears.

Egg prices are about the same this week as last. Most are large size and Grade A quality with about a 10 cent variation per dozen in price. Count two eggs per person and figure the cost per serving. Eggs will fit the food budget.

Milk is a must on the daily menu. One pint of milk or 12 cents will furnish 24% of the protein, 41% of the Vitamin B-1 or riboflavin, and 72% of the calcium needed daily by an active man. No member of the family can safely afford to miss his milk.

Pork Steaks With Creole Sauce

6 pork shoulder steaks
Salt and pepper

Brown steaks in frying-pan. Season. Cover with Creole Sauce.

Cook in moderate over (350 degrees) for 1 hour. 6 servings.

Creole Sauce

¼ cup grated onion
1 clove garlic, minced
½ tablespoon chopped parsley
1 4-ounce can sliced mushrooms
¼ cup minced green pepper
1 tablespoon lard
1 tablespoon flour
2 cups tomato juice
1 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon sugar

Cook chopped vegetables in lard until brown. Add the flour and stir until smooth. Gradually add the tomato juice and seasonings. Pour over pork steaks.

Grapefruit-Apple Salad

1 grapefruit
2 red apples
Juice of one lemon
Salad greens
French or fruit juice salad dressing

Peel grapefruit and cut into sections. Slice apples with medium-thin wedges and dip in lemon juice. Tear salad greens into pieces and arrange on salad plates. Place apple slices and grapefruit sections alternately so that the red parts of the apples show. Serve French dressing or fruit juice salad dressing separately.

Fruit Juice Salad Dressing

2 eggs
½ cup pineapple juice
¼ cup water
2 tablespoons lemon juice
1-3 cup sugar
1½ tablespoons flour

Beat eggs. Add fruit juices and water. Mix sugar and flour together and add to egg mixture. Cook slowly over gently boiling water until thickened. Stir constantly while cooking.

Dress Up Pudding

Chocolate pudding is probably childhood's favorite dessert but that doesn't mean it shouldn't appear on grownup tables too. Dress it up by adding one-half teaspoon ground nutmeg to a recipe calling for 2 cups of milk. Fold a stiffly beaten egg white into the cooled pudding (or a little whipped cream) and serve it in dishes lined with nut cookies.

Spices Lend Zest to Happy Chicken

A happy blend of spice makes this chicken taste delectable.

Happy Chicken

1 broiler-fryer chicken (about 2 pounds ready-to-cook weight)
1 teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon ground ginger
¼ teaspoon ground cardamom
¼ teaspoon chili powder
½ teaspoon turmeric
3 tablespoons butter
1 clove garlic (minced)
2 small onions (cut in thin rings and the rings separated)

Have chicken cut so there are two wings, two pieces of breast, two legs, two second joints, two pieces of back. Wash in cold water, clean and dry. (Reserve liver and giblets for other use.)

Mix together the salt, ginger, cardamom, chili powder and turmeric; spread over a piece of waxed paper. Roll chicken pieces lightly in spices; don't try to cover chicken completely.

Melt butter in 10-inch skillet; add chicken pieces, placing legs and second joints in center of pan, and fitting bony back pieces at sides.

Brown chicken well—about 10 minutes—over moderate heat. Sprinkle chicken with garlic and onion rings. Cover tightly and cook slowly until tender—about 25 minutes.

Turn chicken once or twice during cooking, mixing onion rings with drippings in bottom of pan. Makes three servings.

Crisp bacon bits make a change when added to ordinary green beans.

Dressing Will Spark Bean or Aspic Salads

This salad dressing is delicious on either green bean or aspic salads.

1 cup mayonnaise
½ cup cucumber, grated
½ cup green pepper, finely chopped
2 teaspoons vinegar
½ teaspoon salt
Dash of pepper

Leave the skin on the cucumber for added color. Stir all ingredients together and chill before serving. Makes about 1 pint.

Eggs With a Difference

Beat an egg white until stiff and heap over a slice of toast. Make an indentation in the center of the egg white and slip the egg yolk into the hollow. Sprinkle yolk and white with grated cheddar cheese. Bake in a moderate oven until yolks are as firm as desired.

OLIVE SALMON LOAF — During Lent serve a tempting dinner of green olive salmon loaf with cucumber sauce and a rice ring. Garnish the loaf with olive slices. A casserole of baked mixed vegetables goes well with the rest of the dinner.

Olives Lend New Appeal to Favorite Salmon Loaf

Fish dishes take on a delicious note in flavor when prepared with pimiento-stuffed green olives. Old favorites like salmon loaf, a standby for this season of meatless meals, become new treats with chopped stuffed olives as an ingredient.

The suggestion is one that will be favored by homemakers who make quick work of dinner preparation by planning oven meals. Slip a vegetable casserole and dessert in with the loaf, and relax until dinnertime.

Olive Salmon Loaf

3 tablespoons butter or margarine
3 tablespoons all-purpose flour
1½ cups milk
1 1-pound can salmon, drained, boned and flaked
1 cup fine dry bread crumbs
½ cup milk
½ cup chopped pimiento-stuffed green olives
2 tablespoons finely chopped onion
2 eggs, slightly beaten
1 teaspoon dry mustard

Melt butter or margarine over low heat; add flour and blend. Gradually add milk and cook until thickened, stirring constantly. Combine white sauce and remaining ingredients, mix thoroughly. Turn into a greased 1-quart mold or loaf pan. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees) one hour, or until firm. Unmold and garnish with sliced olives, as desired. Makes six servings.

Cinnamon and Walnuts Make Toast Delicious

Make delicious Cinnamon-Walnut Toast in the broiler. Cream 6 tablespoons margarine or butter. Add one-quarter cup confectioners' sugar and 2 teaspoons cinnamon.

Spread on enriched bread. Sprinkle lightly with chopped walnuts. Broil until sugar melts and bread is toasted. This amount is about enough for 10 slices toast.

Serve Stuffed Peppers While Quality Is High

If you like tempting hot stuffed peppers, now's the time to buy green peppers, for the quality is high and prices should be low, according to consumer marketing information agents of Detroit.

Use your imagination when it comes to the stuffing. A meat filling such as hamburger is delicious, as well as economical. Any way you serve them, raw in a salad or cooked as a main dish, flavorful stuffed peppers will rate a repeat preformance with family and guests.

Surprised by kitchen towel in detergent box

"I've been buying Breeze for years," says Mrs. Olmsted, "but I still can't help being surprised every time I open a Giant Economy box and find there's a real Cannon kitchen towel inside!" Breeze is the detergent for all your wash—from overalls to dainties. Money back if not satisfied. Lever Brothers, N. Y.

BLEACH + DISINFECT AND REMOVE STAINS

Make children's clothes sanitary as well as snowy-white when you wash. It's no extra work with Roman Cleanser Bleach. Use it to whiten, remove many stains and disinfect in one easy operation. Combats odors, too—grand for baby's washing. See label.

SKILLET CLUB FOR MEN

By Frank Kohler

B. Bell, Chicago Daily News Chapter of the Skillet Club, recommends this fine Shrimp or Lamb Curry. If shrimp are large, you need at least 3 cups. It is also a fine use for leftover lamb, of which you need 2 cups, diced.

This curry thing is ideal for a bachelor's buffet entertainment, because you can partially cook the entire curry the night before, refrigerate it, and then cook about 10 minutes before serving; the final cooking goes well in a chafing dish.

Shrimp or Lamb Curry

2 cooking apples
1 green pepper, chopped
2 medium onions, sliced thin
1 clove garlic, crushed
2 tablespoons olive oil
2 tablespoons flour
1 teaspoon curry powder, or to taste
½ teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon marjoram
½ teaspoon thyme (optional)
1 cup beef consomme
½ cup dry red wine
1 lemon, juice and grated rind
2 whole cloves
3 cups cooked whole shrimp, or 2 cups diced cooked lamb
½ cup shredded coconut
1 tablespoon soured cream

Core, pare and slice the apples. Saute onion in olive oil, adding green pepper, and then apples, and while cooking, add the crushed garlic. Cook until onions are limp.

Sprinkle over this the flour, curry powder, salt, marjoram, and if desired, the thyme. Mix well, stirring constantly, and cook about five minutes.

Add consomme, wine, lemon and rind, and cloves. Check seasoning, and add more curry powder if you like it hotter.

Let simmer 30 minutes, stirring occasionally. Now add lamb or shrimp, and the coconut. Cook about five minutes more.

If you are doing this the night before, remove from heat now, cool, and refrigerate. If you like, pour into a chafing dish for a final 10-minute cooking before serving (20 minutes if you are bringing it from the refrigerator). Add the soured cream and stir in thoroughly just before serving.

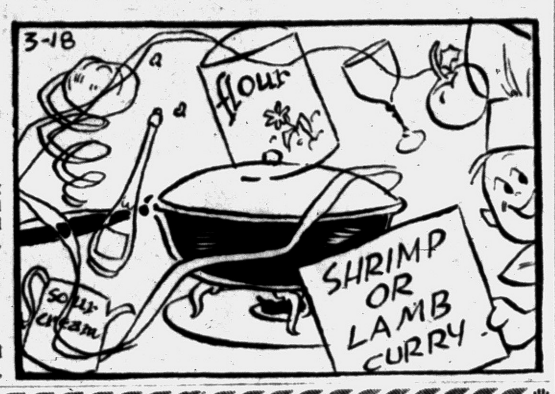

A big bowl of hot, fluffy rice must accompany this, of course.

Also, assorted condiments are requisite with any good curry. Suggested here are: Chutney—the Major Grey type is best, with large hunks of things in it; finely grated orange peel; chopped toasted nuts; chopped sweet pickle; drained shredded pineapple; finely chopped green onions; grated coconut; minced crisp bacon; chopped dried herring or "Bombay duck."

A big tossed salad, hot rolls, and a simple dessert such as Cherries Jubilee are also suggested. Cherries Jubilee require vanilla ice cream and a can of large dark pitted cherries. Drain the cherries and save the liquid.

In a chafing dish, stainless steel or copper skillet (if you're going to do the job before your guests), cook one-half cup of the liquid from the cherries with one-fourth cup of sugar until it becomes slightly syrupy.

Then add 1 tablespoon grated lemon peel and one-third cup brandy. Stir in the cherries, and ignite, continuing to stir. Ladle some of the cherries and liquid over each portion of ice cream.

Pancakes Blend Apples and Rice

For most of us, pancakes for supper mean family eating fun, and these Apple Rice Griddle Cakes are really something special.

* * *

Their delicate apple flavor is delicious with just cinnamon sugar. But for an extra treat, you should try this easy-to-make Spice Syrup. Simply beat together one-third cup honey, one-third cup maple syrup, one-eighth teaspoon nutmeg, and one-eighth teaspoon cinnamon in a measuring cup. Set in a pan of hot water and heat thoroughly.

* * *

Then be sure to file the recipe in a prominent place. Your family will be demanding repeat performances!

Apple Rice Griddle Cakes

1½ cups cooked rice
1¾ cups milk
¼ cup shortening
1 cup sifted flour
2½ teaspoons baking powder
¾ teaspoon baking soda
½ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon cinnamon
3 tablespoons sugar
2 eggs, separated
2 small tart apples, peeled and coarsely grated

Bring rice, milk, and shortening to a boil; cool. (This may be done ahead of time, if desired.)

Sift together flour, baking powder, soda, salt, cinnamon, and sugar. Beat egg yolks slightly. Add to cooled rice mixture with sifted dry ingredients; stir until blended.

Beat egg whites until stiff but not dry. Fold into batter together with grated apple.

Drop by tablespoonfuls onto hot griddle. Cook until golden brown, turning only once.

Cook Cabbage Viennese Style for New Flavor

Cabbage can become a favorite menu item in your family if you'll just dress up this usually drab vegetable with some tangy seasonings.

* * *

One flavorful version of cabbage is a la Viennese. It's easy to prepare and takes only 6 to 10 minutes to cook. Onion, anise, vinegar, salt, pepper and sugar give Viennese cabbage its continental flavor.

Viennese Cabbage

1 medium head cabbage, shredded
1 small onion, chopped fine
½ teaspoon ground anise
1 teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
3 tablespoons vinegar
3 tablespoons sugar

Mix chopped onion, ground anise, salt, pepper, vinegar and sugar. Add water and bring to quick boil.

Add shredded cabbage to above mixture, cover and cook over low heat until crispy tender, or about 6 to 10 minutes.

Drain and serve immediately. Yield: Four to six servings.

Try Dessert Waffles

Do you limit waffle serving to the breakfast department? If so, you're missing some good menu tricks. For dessert some night try adding one-half teaspoon ground nutmeg and one-fourth teaspoon each ground cinnamon and allspice to batter calling for 2 cups of flour. As the waffles come from the iron, spread with butter and top with well-chilled apple sauce. It's delicious.

In making jello, speed up the hardening process by using only enough boiling water to dissolve the jello. For the rest, use ice water.

Tuna Sandwich Dipped in Batter, Then Browned

Add new zest to Lenten lunches by serving this tasty sandwich that satisfies the yen for something hot, nourishing and different.

Grilled Tunafish Sandwich

1 pound canned tuna, drained and mashed fine
1 teaspoon minced onion
½ teaspoon celery salt
Salt and pepper
1 cup mayonnaise
16 slices bread
½ cup milk
1 teaspoon salt
2 eggs

Mix first five ingredients and spread on bread, making eight covered sandwiches. Mix milk, salt and eggs into batter, into which dip sandwiches.

* * *

Saute until golden brown on both sides on griddle that has been well greased and preheated for five minutes, or until drop of water dances on it. Serve piping hot from griddle.

* * *

For non-Lenten menus, here's a tasty variation on this sandwich:

Hot Ham Sandwiches

Use above sandwich recipe, but substitute 2 cups minced, cooked cured ham for tuna and omit celery salt and salt.

Serve Cereal Parfaits

Cereal parfaits for breakfast are a wonderful way to make breakfast an interesting meal of the day. Most any of the favorite ready-to-eat cereals can be used. Alternate the cereal with ice cream and fruit in parfait glasses. There are many flavored ice creams on the market to make colorful and flavorful combinations.

Jersey Dems to Link Ike to Politics

AP Wirephoto

SOUNDING OUT PRE-CAMPAIGN SENTIMENT—James Devlin, left, Associated Press writer, talks with three welders at the gates of the New York Shipbuilding Corp., in Camden, N. J. while surveying the Garden State's political situation in the light of President Eisenhower's decision to accept a second term.

By JAMES DEVLIN

TRENTON, N. J. (AP) — Democrats seeking to take New Jersey out of President Eisenhower's column say they hope to dispel a feeling he is "above politics" by linking him directly to administration activities that have aroused criticism.

* * *

Republican leaders predict Eisenhower will win by a larger margin than his 359,000-vote lead in 1952. They contend efforts to destroy his popularity will get nowhere.

That is the gist of opinion picked up on a reporter's political pulse-taking tour from Jersey City and Newark, through Trenton, to Camden.

Gov. Robert B. Meyner, the state's 47-year-old chief executive, puts the Democratic case this way:

"We have a job to acquaint the public with the Eisenhower-Nixon record. Too often, the public have a way of disassociating what Eisenhower says and what his Cabinet or key people in the administration do."

* * *

On the other side, Republican State Chairman Samuel Bodine of Flemington says he has found the reaction of the average person to Eisenhower's second-term announcement is "excellent."

"They feel the country is safe in his hands," Bodine said. "They want him to continue on."

How about Eisenhower's health, since he suffered his heart attack?

"He made the decision to run," said Bodine. "He wouldn't have unless he felt up to it. We are willing to abide by that decision."

WON'T FOOL PEOPLE

He said the Democrats would make much of the health question "but they won't fool too many people."

Bodine said he and the overwhelming majority of Eisenhower's supporters would back any vice presidential candidate the President favored. He said he has no objections to Vice President Nixon.

Raymond Bteman, executive director of the Republican State committee, said there has been a recent swing of public opinion in favor of Nixon.

* * *

A Democratic local office holder said his party's task is to dispel a popular feeling that Eisenhower is a "dispenser of peace and prosperity . . . above politics."

"How are you going to beat him?" he inquired, asking that he not be named.

But this man saw solace in 1948, when Harry Truman upset predictions by beating out highly favored Thomas E. Dewey.

The Democrats' realization that they have an uphill fight to carry New Jersey, even though it has a Democratic governor, is given emphasis by Republican Bodine. He predicts Eisenhower will win by 400,000 votes.

But a sampling of public opinion shows there is strong Democratic sentiment too.

In Camden, workers of the New York Shipbuilding Corp. roundly booed Eisenhower when he visited there on a campaign tour in 1952.

Five or six workers, interviewed at the same intersection where the booing occurred, indicated they don't "like Ike" better now.

Robert Grimmie, a welder, of Berlin, N. J., while not attempting to speak for all the men in the yard, said many believe the Taft-Hartley law — though not changed—is being enforced more strictly under the Eisenhower administration.

* * *

He and others pointed to the lengthy Westinghouse strike. They contended mass picketing was banned but that the company was allowed to import busloads of strike-breaking workers.

Grimmie professed no great interest in what candidate the Democrats chose, whether Adlai Stevenson of Illinois, Gov. Averell Harriman of New York or Sen. Estes Kefauver of Tennessee.

He said the main thing is to elect a man of Democratic philosophy, which he described as more favorable to the working man.

STEVENSON FAVORED

Meyner and most other Democratic leaders in New Jersey lean toward Stevenson. Kefauver has some followers. Harriman is reported to have some latent support, particularly in the Jersey City (Hudson County) area across the Hudson River from New York City.

William Egan, of Newark, peppery former Democratic chairman of Essex County, predicts that if it appears Harriman has any chance at all for the nomination he will be supported by 95 per cent of the state's convention delegation—"all except a few eggheads."

"Further," he said, "if a deadlock develops among Stevenson, Harriman and Kefauver, you can expect Truman to get the nomination. He will say he is more than 70 years old but that he will live longer than anybody. That's the way he goes about things."

* * *

The people you stop on the street have a variety of views on the election.

A refrigerator salesman in Newark, all out for Eisenhower, said the country is "well off in his hands." He predicted Eisenhower would win by a larger margin than before.

But Ludwig Scapati, a mechanic of Newark, said, "The Republican party is done. Ike promised too much. The Republicans are doing nothing to help the poor people."

Westinghouse, Union Seek Federal Advice

WASHINGTON (AP)—Negotiators in the tangled 151-day Westinghouse strike sought help today from government experts in solving their remaining points of dispute.

* * *

Representatives of the Westinghouse Electric Corp. and the striking International Union of Electrical Workers arranged to meet with the three-man mediation panel which drafted proposed peace terms.

The negotiators have spent the past two days putting into formal contract form those provisions already agreed upon. But they ran into snags on some points and asked the panel to reconvene to help settle them.

The major remaining difference was over 36 workers fired for alleged strike violence. The panel proposed that neutral arbitrators decide whether they should be rehired. The IUE wants local bargaining in each case to determine whether the worker should be restored to his job.

17-Minute Train Ride Thrills Kindergartners

LA SALLE, Ill. (AP)—It was only a 17-minute train ride but it was the first for 149 kindergarten pupils attending La Salle schools.

Teachers learned in class discussions that only a few of the students had ever ridden a train. A bus carried them to nearby Ottawa where they boarded a special railroad car.

Total Tops Drive Goal

LANSING (AP) — A final audit of the Ingham County March of Dimes drive showed collections topped the goal of $75,000 with contributions totaling $75,179.72.

Vivian Scott Proves Excellence as Piano Artist

Pontiac Press Photos

Mrs. Louis H. Golden of North Lake Angelus road was hostess at a tea Wednesday afternoon. It was one in a series of "Teas for TV" sponsored by the Democratic party. Pictured is (left) Mrs. Neil Struebler of Ann Arbor who is pouring for (center) Mrs. Golden and Mrs. Clyde Nelsey of Davisburg.

Two members of the Democratic State Central Committee present at a "Tea for TV" held Wednesday afternoon in the Louis H. Golden home on North Lake Angelus road are (left) Mrs. Robert Phillips of Huntington Woods and Mrs. Morris Arnowitz of Oak Park, publicity chairman for the committee. Pontiac Symphony Brilliantly Displays Soloist's Talent

By DORA DAWSON

The coming of Vivian Scott, pianist, to be soloist with the Pontiac Symphony Orchestra on its fourth concert of the 1955-1956 season, held in Lincoln Junior High School, Wednesday night, recalls memories of this gifted young artist from her high school days in Pontiac, through the following years of study and progress to her present attainment of excellence in the field of artist pianists.

* * *

Miss Scott chose one of the greatest piano concertos ever written as her medium of expressing her pianistic talent. Written by Beethoven it is full of melodic grandeur, even in its quietest passages and demands a technique of fluid or powerful grasp not easily attained.

There are six pages in today's Women's Section

Under the hands of this young artist every demand was met with ease, and simple direct execution that challenged the orchestra in its equally difficult parts. Especially lovely were the delightful running passages, very smooth in execution, again and again contrasted with brilliant chordal work and dynamic themes.

In all of her playing there is combined a simplicity with assurance of ability that makes her playing a genuine pleasure to listeners. Following the completion of the concerto, she responded with an encore, a Chopin Etude that was stunning in its tremendous speed and composition.

* * *

A tribute was paid to Miss Scott by Mayor William Donaldson who presented her with flowers and expressed the hope that she might play at the dedication of a civic auditorium, at Pontiac's centennial celebration.

Praise for the playing of the orchestra, under the direction of Francesco DiBlasi, is again forthcoming. It was a wonderful concert, opening with the overture to Russian and Ludmilla by Glinka, which immediately caught the attention of the audience with its clear and sonorous opening passages.

Other numbers were the Swan Lake Ballet music, Tschaikowsky, delicately ethereal in quality, then two old Greek dances arranged by Debussy, almost religious in character and beauty. Appropriate to the season, the Good Friday music, from the music drama, Parsifal by Wagner, suggests the passing of strife and the renewed hope of re-created life and peace.

The welding of tone, the interpretation of themes, and the blending of harmonies, under the leadership of Mr. DiBlasi has produced an orchestra organization that is a remarkable credit and asset to Pontiac. The last concert of this season will be April 25.

Pontioak Chapter Hears Guest Speaker

Robert Mehoke, program coordinator of the Oakland County Junior Achievement Association was the speaker at the Wednesday evening meeting of Pontioak Chapter of the National Secretaries Association held at Hotel Waldron. Dixie Davis, Miss Junior Achievement of Pontiac for the past year, assisted the speaker.

* * *

The invocation was given by Edythe Perry and the business meeting was conducted by Mary Eleanor Lockman, president. Mrs. Charles Woody, Mrs. Harry Ault and Mrs. Delores Albin were appointed to the nominating committee.

Michigan division meeting will be held in Port Huron May 18-20. Members are also planning on attending the fourth annual secretarial workshop at the Hotel Sheraton Cadillac in Detroit on March 17.

Mrs. Russell Brackett will handle publicity for National Secretaries Week to be observed April 22-28, with Morene Frady serving as general chairman. During this week Pontioak Chapter will again pick the Oakland County Secretary of the Year.

* * *

Miss Frady announced the deadline for applications for the award is April 19 and asked that employers or friends of members of the Pontioak Chapter whom they consider the ideal secretary, submit her name and state her qualifications.

Deborah Circle Is Entertained

Mrs. Carnie Loucks of Nelson street entertained members of the Deborah Circle of Oakland Park Methodist Church for the dessert luncheon Wednesday.

Mrs. Albert Barker gave devotions reviewing the book, "Practice of the Presence of God," by Brother Lawrence. Announcement was made of the April 17 buffet supper being sponsored by the Sunday School.

During the afternoon members sewed for the American Cancer Society. The April 18 meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. James Wellington on Lowell street.

Black Watch Plaid Used in Nearly All Togs

The Black Watch plaid of blue, green and black is the fabric for cotton knit shirts, tapered pants, gingham blouses, corduroy loungers, coat dresses, lingerie, dusters, corduroy sheath dresses, plastic "raincoats" for outdoor furniture, cotton and orlon sofa pillows.

It can be worn, sat upon, looked at, draped or spread. A Black Watch cracker will probably be next.

The Black Watch is so prevalent that it's even appeared in a Brown Watch, something that would make the original 18th century Black Watch clan fold up their bagpipes and silently steal away.

With the Black Watch appearing in a multitude of fibers, the temptation is to care for all of them in the same way. This isn't a wise idea.

Most of them are washable, but some are not. So watch the labels. Even among the washable ones, treatment varies. Nylon shouldn't be treated like wool.

Nylon and cotton take hotter water than wools. Some of the cottons and all of the nylons can be allowed to drip dry without ironing.

These dark dyes have a tendency to bleed when washed, so don't wash a new Black Watch outfit with anything pale. Also, they shouldn't be dried in bright sunlight.

He'll Look Splendid in a Tweed Topcoat

For the city business executive or indeed any man who prefers a really dressy topcoat, there is the semi-fitted model which has gained in popularity through all sections of the country.

It features interesting peaked lapels, high fly-front closing, slim sleeves, and flap pockets with extra ticket pocket. Fabrics include lighter weight wool herringbone tweeds, smooth textured, in tan and white, brown and tan.

A shirtwaist with elegance, this smart cotton is an asset in any woman's wardrobe because it can be worn any season. The dress is in a bold satin weave overplaid cotton.

Patricia A. Parker Marries in Presbyterian Ceremony

A gown of French imported Chantilly lace was worn by Patricia Ann Parker when she became the bride of Rickard H. Jones Saturday evening in the First Presbyterian Church. Dr. William Marbach performed the ceremony in the presence of 150 guests.

The fitted bodice of her gown featured a bateau neckline. A flounce of pleated nylon net accented the bottom of the skirt and blended into a chapel-length train.

Her finger tip veil was secured by a band of Chantilly lace and seed pearls and she carried a bouquet of white roses, hyacinths, feathered carnations and lily-of-the-valley.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Thomas Parker of Drayton Plains and he is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Doyal H. Jones of Barrington road.

Mrs. Fred Boss wore a lavender lace gown over taffeta for her duties as matron of honor. Her headpiece was a floral band of white flowers and she carried a colonial bouquet of carnations.

BEST MAN

Kenneth A. Schlucter served as best man. Seating the guests were Marvin Spring, Harold Wiggins and Jack Hruska.

When Mrs. Parker received her guests at the reception held immediately following the ceremony in the church parlors, she was wearing a navy blue dress with navy blue and white accessories and a corsage of white carnations.

Mrs. Jones also chose a navy blue dress with white accessories for her son's wedding. Her corsage was of pink carnations.

For their wedding trip to Niagara Falls, the new Mrs. Jones changed to a navy blue sheath dress with matching accessories and the corsage from her bridal bouquet.

Upon their return the couple will make their home on Sashabaw road.

Make Bathroom Fresh, Smart With Terry Cloth

Wonderful new washables for the bathroom make smart use of terry-cloth. Thick, luxurious bathroom bench cushions are made of foam rubber covered in terry.

Waste baskets have zip-off terry covers fringed in cotton. 'Loofa sponged are backed with terry. All these accessories come in such decorator colors as mist green, rose petal, ice pink, turquoise.

Nothing is as easy to launder as terry, using hot soap or detergent suds and hot rinses. It's perfect washing-machine-washable, never needs ironing—and dries fluffy.

"Spring" hats are all the rage at Pontiac Motor we understand. The one Sally Bigelou of Rowley road is wearing not only has the forward look, but it's high fashion with its bulky look—the only difference, "she made it herself."

Luise Rainer Typifies Tragic Oscar 'Jinx'

(This is the fourth of seven articles on dramatic moments in the annual Oscar awards, written by the "First Lady of Hollywood.")

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS

HOLLYWOOD (INS) — Mention the word "jinx" in connection with the Oscar and the illustrious name and wistful face of big-eyed, scraggly-haired Luise Rainer comes to mind.

* * *

Here was a great actress, not merely a good one. The Vienna-born girl was already established as a big name in the theater of her native Austria and had established a reputation as one of the late impresario Max Reinhardt's finest players when Metro Goldwyn Mayer imported her in 1935 for "Escapade."

The tiny tragedienne went straight to the heart of American audiences. She became a star of American films from that first performance.

In 1936 she won her first Academy Award for her great trouping as Anna Held in "The Great Ziegfeld." The very next year she won top honors again for her unbelievably touching portrayal of a chinese peasant in "The Good Earth." Both years she also won the New York Critics Award and the accolade of the Foreign Press, as well as picking up two Oscars in a row!

What more career insurance could any actress ask for? Within two years, and in a foreign country, Luise won the greatest acting honors that can be bestowed on an actress. No other star could claim such a record—and no other has to this day!

So what happened? Luise's career headed straight downward, a descent made even more dizzy because she fell from the highest peak.

From that moment to the present, one of the most puzzling mysteries of Hollywood has been: "What in the world happened to Luise Rainer?"

SHE WASN'T TYPED

It isn't easy to answer. You cannot say that her "type" went out of cinematic style, because she wasn't typed. Luise could play anything from a gay, frivolous woman (as she did in the early scenes of Anna Held) to a middle-aged chinese.

In "Escapade" she was a frightened young girl. And for the remaining 18 months of her contract, after winning both Oscars, she played a variety of roles.

But, inexplicably, Rainer was a finished star!

The only possible explanation I can see for it, and it's just my personal one, is that Luise did not change, nor did her great art, but the style in motion pictures underwent a radical swing to 100 per cent American-style movies.

The year 1938 brought along the zany bit of Americana "You Can't Take it With You" as the Oscar-winning "Best Production." Spencer Tracy won "Best Actor" for the also all-American "Boys' Town."

1939 was to find "Gone With the Wind," the great story of our own Civil War, winning practically every award there was to receive. "The Philadelphia Story," "The Great McGinty," "The Grapes of Wrath" were the boxoffice bonanzas of the era. All Americana.

WASN'T AMERICAN

As great an actress as she was, Luise was not an American. She was physically and emotionally a European, and so she was not right for this avalanche of popularity greeting the stories about Americans in America at the box office. It became increasingly difficult to cast Rainer.

If the industry was puzzled about her, Luise herself was bewildered and heartbroken. She returned to Europe, but, strangely enough, her vogue also seemed to be on the wane there. Later she returned to the United States and appeared on the stage, but she never again was the big star she had been in those brilliant, dream- like years she spent in Hollywood. She has recently been in Europe again.

But Luise is not entirely responsible for the superstition that an Oscar can be a "jinx," or even a tragedy.

It's one of the ironies of the fate of winning an Oscar that James Cagney, long a top star and big moneymaker, picked up his award for "Yankee Doodle Dandy" in 1942 and then practically went into oblivion.

It is only in the past 18 months that James emerges as a top star again, and is staging one of the greatest of all come-backs since he received great praise for "Love Me or Leave Me." If Jimmy does win, let's hope Oscar won't "jinx" him for the next ten years!

There is a long list of players who "have not done as well" since receiving an award, although they haven't actually dropped from view.

RAMONA ALMAS

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Almas of South Midland avenue announce the engagement of their daughter, Ramona Almas of Holly, to Lauren Rice, son of Mr. and Mrs. Homer Rice of Blaine street. No date has been set for the wedding.

Katina Paxinou, like Rainer a foreign import and a good one, created quite a stir for her fiery, panther-like playing of an untamed gypsy in "For Whom the Bell Tolls," and it won her "best support" honors. Katina, for the past ten years, has been playing in European pictures and on the stage, but Hollywood producers barely can recall her name.

And where is James Dunn, the toast of the Academy in 1945 for support in "A Tree Grows in Brooklyn"?

Do you remember Harold Russell? I thought not. He just won "best support" for "The Best Years of Our Lives" back in 1946.

Her fellow workers paid Gloria Grahame their top tribute by voting her the best supporting actress in 1952 for "The Bad and the Beautiful," and since that glamorous night Gloria barely has had even a good review of her work. The majority of critics "let her have it" as Ado Annie in "Oklahoma!"

* * *

As perverse as all this may seem, there's hardly an actor in Hollywood, star or supporting player, with soul so dead that he wouldn't take a chance on the Oscar "jinx" if he could just win the little debbil!

Water Heater Hints

The Gas Appliance Manufacturers Association recommends a good rule of thumb to follow when selecting an automatic gas water heater: choose a 30-gallon tank if the home has one or two bedrooms and one bath; a 40-gallon tank if there are two or three bedrooms and two bathromos; and a 50-gallon tank for a home with four or five bedrooms and two bathrooms.

Make Old Shoes 'New' for Spring

Shoes for the spring wardrobe is a question many women are now considering.

* * *

The first consideration is which pairs of winter shoes now owned will go through the next season.

Take as many as possible to the shoe repair man, have them half-soled and heeled, if they need it, and given a professional polish.

Even after these treatments, some of them will obviously be useful only for second best, to be worn during foul weather next winter.

Some of them will be bright and new-enough looking to do for every day shoes during the summer.

The next consideration is which of last summer's shoes will do for next summer. If you weren't foresighted enough to have them repaired and cleaned last fall, have it done now and see what they look like.

The pair of shoes dyed to match that bridesmaid's gown that went the way of all organzas is clearly useless. Give it away.

Decide that this summer you will have a decent pair of working-in-the-laundry shoes. Tennis shoes with holes in them aren't the ideal solution.

The first purchase might be a good pair of oxfords or loafers for this vital purpose.

Have the gold sandals regilded and take a look at them. If they still look gray, give them away too. It's very disappointing to get dressed up in a pretty new summer party dress and have to wear shabby sandals.

Group Discusses Convention Topic

The annual convention of Detroit Archdiocesan Council of Catholic Women was discussed at the recent meeting of St. Vincent de Paul Altar Society.

National Mental Health Week, April 29 to May 5 was also discussed and members made plans to attend workshops at Pontiac State Hospital.

Twenty members of the group accepted an invitation from the Sisterhood of Temple Beth Jacob to attend the Institute of Judaism.

Jane Powell Selling Old, Slightly Out-Dated Halo

Blonde Musical Star's Private Life More Exciting Than Any 'Teen' Role

By EMILY BELSER

HOLLYWOOD (INS) — Anybody wanna buy an old halo? Jane Powell has one she'll sell cheap—or maybe even give away.

Because Janie, the pert blonde musical star with the sugar lump personality, is tired of being a goody-good girl, everybody's loving daughter and nobody's naughty wife.

"I'm a 27-year-old woman with three children," Jane pointed out logically, "and I think it's about time some producer gives me a chance to play myself.

"Why, I've even been married twice, but everybody still thinks of me as an undeveloped teenager."

Jane stabbed viciously at a bite of hamburger and declared that she's been sweet 16 for 12 years.

"When I pose in a bathing suit," she exclaimed, "It's just another girl in a bathing suit—no sex appeal to speak of. I bet if I were ever caught in a night club brawl they'd say I was out with my parents!"

MORE EXCITING

It's often the other way around, but oddly enough, Jane's life offscreen has been much more exciting than any movie role she's ever played. Her screen kisses have been pecks on the cheek and her "smouldering" love scenes have consisted of cool pats on the shoulder.

But in real life, Jane had a hectic three-and-a-half year marital round with real estate broker Gary Steffan. Two children and one divorce later she wed auto dealer Pat Nerney and they now have a six-week-old chick named Lindsey.

The other two (Steffan) children, Ga, four-and-a-half, and Sissy, three, scarcely think of their ma as a teenager at all. In fact they think she's quite grown up.

"I only wish producers did too," Jane said in an outraged tone.

Jane, who has been under contract to MGM for the past dozen years, recently wangled permission from her home studio to sign a one-picture-a-year pact with RKO.

"My first picture under the new deal? Wellll, it'll be a musical," she confessed, "but with a little more meat than usual."

Jane will be starred in the remake of the 1941 Ginger Rogers hit, "Tom Dick and Harry," only this time it will be titled "The Girl Most Likely."

The little blonde singer hopes the title will bring her luck—sort of the "Girl Most Likely to Succeed as an Adult," or something like that.

"It's not that I want to change myself," Jane explained, "It's just that I want to convince producers that I'm not a kid any more. I'd like to play sophisticated comedy or portray a young mother—anything, just so it's a human being with a heart!

"For years people have been writing me letters asking me why I don't grow up. If I could only tell them . . . that's what I've been trying to do!"

Michigan Folks Enjoy Leisurely Days

West Coast of Florida Attracts Many

By ETHEL TOMBRINK

MIAMI — Driving up and down the west coast of Florida, you couldn't go far without seeing a car with a Michigan license plate.

Michiganders, down for some wintertime sunshine, are numerous in such west coast cities as Sarasota, St. Petersburg, Clearwater and Tampa. Along the Gulf Coast, the beaches are a Paradise for shell collectors—and the sand is fine and white.

There's a more leisurely atmosphere, too, which many prefer to the east coast's hustle and bustle.

Over at the Pine Shore Trailer Park in Sarasota, the Lorne Weavers have been spending lazy days playing shuffleboard and cards, attending the movies and adding to their shell collection. Mrs. Weaver has quite a collection now—which is displayed under the glass of a cocktail table she had made for that purpose.

Dropping in to see them the other day were the Gill Harrisons from Clawson.

And of course, the Weavers see a lot of their son-in-law and daughter, Mark and Helen Scott, who live in Sarasota.

The Weavers won't be going back north until June or July, and then only for a month or so.

The Frank J. Malcolms of Commerce have been in Florida since early January and won't be homeward bound for another month.

They're vacationing at the Magnolia Apartments in St. Petersburg. Band concerts, scenic drives and visiting friends pass the days pleasantly for them.

Fellow members of the Better Home and Garden Club back in Pontiac, Mrs. Floyd Beardslee and Mrs. Dewey Allen had a Florida get-together the other day. Both are in St. Petersburg.

Mr. Beardslee is a fishing fan—spends a lot of his time in a motorboat out on Tampa Bay. While he's fishing, Mrs. Beardslee plays bridge.

They've been down since the first of the year, and will head their auto northward in mid-April.

Blue Star Mothers Hear School Reports

Blue Star Mothers Chapter 4 met at the YMCA Tuesday evening and heard reports of the school of instruction held in Detroit at the Veterans Memorial building and the National Security Council meeting held at Hotel Leland. The group also voted to support three veterans families.

Mrs. George Leinenger, Mrs. Wilbur Fitzthomas and Mrs. Herman Dennis were given special recognition on the occasion of their birthdays.

Circle Sponsors WSCS Meeting

Rhoda Circle, under the chairmanship of Mrs. Thomas Humphrey, was hostess to the WSCS of First Methodist Church.

* * *

Mrs. Sigmund Chmiloski, program chairman, was assisted by Mrs. Felix Mayo and Mrs. Elbert Proffitt in presenting a skit, "We Would Be True Disciples."

"A Serious Call to a Devout and Holy Life" by William Law was the devotional theme presented by Mrs. Frank Coons at the recent meeting held at the church.

* * *

Mrs. Clayton Rule, president, announced the annual district meeting April 6 at Flint Central Methodist Church and the group approved a petition to the General Conference of the Methodist Church asking for full clergy rights for women.

Face the Fact That Boy Wants Freedom

By ELIZABETH WOODWARD

"Dear Miss Woodward: For two years I went steady with Jack, and two weeks ago we broke up because he wanted to give me a chance to go with other boys. He said he didn't want to go with other girls.

"Now he's going around with the boys and they're going with girls from other towns. I haven't gone with anyone because I can't get interested—I love Jack too much; everything I do reminds me of him.

"My three best girl friends used to chum around with Jack's three best boy friends, but since we broke up the girls have taken my side and the boys his.

"They've been fighting constantly for two weeks, and I feel it's up to me to get those six back together again, even though Jack treats me as though he never wants to go with me again.

"I just don't know what to do. I want to get adjusted to this, but don't know how because my folks and friends are worrying about me.

"I want to go with him again, but don't know if it would be best. What do you think about it all?"

Answer: What makes a boy want to stop going steady with a girl is usually a mystery to the girl involved. She thinks she knows him very well and is able to read the signs.

But she can't possibly know the pressures that build up inside him so that the whole thing suddenly become too much. At which point he can fight with her—hurl a lot of bitter truths (either things he really thinks or makes up for the occasion).

Or he can gently tell her he's standing in her way, he wants her to have wider experiences, he thinks it would be for her own good if she had a chance to go out with other boys. The rough or the gentle way results in the same thing — his departing figure.

He didn't say he had any other girl in mind. He's running around with the boys, free to do as the spirit moves him, which is what he wants.

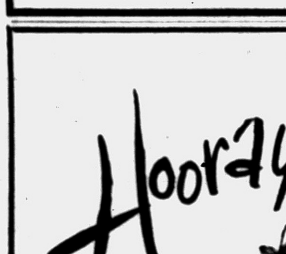

So face the fact with your head held high. And don't let anybody worry over you. Your folks and friends may sympathize—but they won't drool, not if you refuse to talk about it any more.

It's too bad if you and Jack were the cornerstone of that eightsome and now that you've broken up the whole thing has tumbled down. But it couldn't have been too solid, after all. And it's certainly nothing to fight about.

Let the girls do their own fence-patching. You stay out of their act. And start, quite on your own, paying attention to an entirely different group of boys.

A new act of your own, if even mildly successful, can be completely engrossing.

Several members will attend the Damascus Commandery 42 Knights Templar annual Military Ball. Sharon Livingston, honored queen, is handling reservations.

For dancing under the stars, Hannah Troy combines white lace with organza. The molded camisole is of re-embroidered lace with straps coming to a V in back and accented by a streamer bow. The graceful fullness of layers of organza over taffeta begins below the waist and sweeps to a full circle at the hem.

LeBaron PTA Has Religious Program

"America's Religious Foundations" was the program theme for the LeBaron PTA meeting. Rabbi Sanford E. Saperstein of Temple Beth Jacob, the Rev. James W. Deeg of Oakland Park Methodist Church, the Rev. John Hoar of St. Benedict Church and the Rev. Joseph Schmid, Catholic missionary from Brazil, were panel members.

Officers elected at the recent meeting were Mrs. Kenneth Lyons, president; Mrs. Floyd Miller, vice president; Robert Burnes, father vice president; Mrs. Clinton George, teacher vice president; Mrs. Walter Hubner, secretary; Mrs. Loren Kelly, treasurer; Mrs. Charles Laflin, historian, and Marion Farnsworth, auditor.

Not Impolite to Admire Furnishings

Guests Should Not Examine Each Item as if Appraising It

By EMILY POST

A reader asks this question: "How far may one go in examining the furnishings of one's hosts? Acquaintances came to see us for the first time the other evening and the wife made me very uncomfortable the way she kept looking at things, first one and then the next. Isn't it rude to make such curiosity noticeable?"

Answer: To admire some of the possessions of another can hardly be considered impolite. Of course if she really examined each one, as though appraising its worth, that would have been very rude.

"Dear Mrs. Post: My daughter, who is a student at college, has just written to me and told me that she received Bob's fraternity pin. Bob is a student at this same college whom she has been seeing steadily for the past year.

"Does this mean that they are engagegd, and should I send a notice to the newspaper? Please advise me on this matter as this is all new to me and I want to be sure to do the right thing."

Answer. The giving of a fraternity pin does not in itself constitute an engagement. On the other hand, it may very well be that he gave her his pin as a pledge of their engagement.

Surely you can write to your daughter and ask her whether she is engaged or not. If she says "yes," then you may certainly send a notice to the newspaper.

"Dear Mrs. Post: Will you please tell me if it is correct to wear and keep on a hat at a private dinner party given in a private dining room of a large hotel?"

Answer: With tailored street clothes you wear a hat correctly at any hour of the day or evening. But, in the evening with an afternoon dress, or simple evening dress, you should not wear a hat.

By the time you are able not to care what people say about you, nobody says anything.

Boys' Wear Reflects Trend to Gay Colors

The gradual swing to brighter colors is one influence in the men's wear field that reflects strongly in boys' clothes.

An example of the trend is a young man's dress-up sports outfit consisting of a wool basket-weave jacket in fire engine red (with natural silhouette styling, of course), and trim fitting worsted slacks in dark navy, complete with rear belt and buckle detail.

The same outfit comes with a white jacket. On the top pocket of both jackets is embroidered a colorful emblem

More Men Permit Wives to Work

By ANNE HEYWOOD

The same husbands who, a decade or two ago, were violently resisting their wife's notions about having a job, are now more often than not really helping the old girl.

* * *

I guess this is partly because the price of living has made two paychecks more desirable these days than one.

Also, the woman whose children are grown gets to be a meddling nuisance, sometimes, and her husband is happy to have her keep busy.

Mr. and Mrs. Y. are an example of this. The three of us were talking it over, and laughing a good deal, the other evening.

"I was a secretary when we first married," Mrs. Y. said. "That was 25 years ago. I loved the work and yet, the minute we got married, Hank insisted I stop working."

BUDDING ACCOUNTANT

"Didn't want the neighbors to think I couldn't support a wife," Mr. Y. chimed in. "I was a budding accountant and wanted to be a big success."

"He was a big success, too," Mrs. Y. continued. "We had the two kids and I was plenty busy. But, off and on, I used to long for the business world again. When the children went to school, I talked to Hank about getting a parttime job . . ."

"Wouldn't let her, either," Hank interrupted. "I had my own accounting business by then. I was doing well and didn't see why my wife should work."

"I tried to explain to him that it wasn't just the money," Mrs. Y. continued. "But he couldn't see it. I don't blame him, really. That was years ago and not many married women worked.

"But then, when the kids got married, I really let him have it!"

"Yeah," Hank grinned. "She needled me night and day. She insisted that I let her work on my accounting business. That, I couldn't have.

"But when she explained how important it was to her, I finally saw the light, and got her a secretarial job with one of my clients.

"I've got to admit, she's happier and we're happier—and the money is going into our retirement fund, where it'll do a lot of good!"

Shoes, Gloves to Match; Not Dresses

NEW YORK (INS) — Dye your evening shoes to match your gloves, but make sure the gloves don't match your dress this spring.

Contrast-colored shoes and gloves will be the stylish accents for date and dance frocks, judging from a $500,000 fashion show staged recently.

The commentator of the show, staged by the fashion division of the "Stevenson for President Committee," noted that metallic leather slippers no longer are tops in evening shoe fashion. Leon A. Harris Jr., vice president of a Dallas, Tex. department store said "shoes dyed to match gloves are the new look for evening."

As an example, a model in an electric blue chiffon dance dress was wearing red satin shoes and red gloves. Another model in a beige chiffon dress had blue gloves and blue shoes.

Only all-black or all-white outfits had shoes and gloves to match.

Satin was the chief material for shoes dyed to match gloves.

Election of Officers, Guest Speakers Highlight Local PTA Meetings

Election of officers for the ensuing year was the paramount business of PTA meetings held at Wisner, Owen and Emerson schools Wednesday. Guest speakers were present at two of the meetings.

WISNER PTA

"People, Products & Progress 1975," is the title of a movie shown to Wisner PTA Wednesday afternoon under the direction of Dr. George Petroff, acting as a representative of the Chamber of Commerce.

Dr. Petroff said, "It is hard to see where, why and how fast we are going and where it will all end. In the past 100 years we have made amazing strides. For instance, in the past 25 years we have made more progress in medicine than in all of recorded history combined."

The film shown gives a peek into tomorrow's dreams and explains that the wonders of today were the dreams of yesterday, and the unconventional today will be the conventional tomorrow.

An election of officers was held. Mrs. William Thomas was re-elected Wisner PTA's president. She will be assisted in the coming year by Mrs. Morris Cucksey, vice-president; Claude Cook, father vice-president; Mrs. Claude Cook, recording secretary.

Also elected were Mrs. Irving Christie, treasurer and Mrs. Fred Froede, corresponding secretary. Council delegates elected are Mrs. Paul Webster, Mrs. Lawrence LaBair and Mrs. Robert Swindell. Mrs. Melvin Womack is alternate council delegate.

Mrs. LeRoy Koch announced a homeroom mothers tea to be held March 20th at 2:00 p.m. at the school.

Community singing was led by Mrs. Donald Weiss. The attendance banner for the month was won by Helen Mercer's second grade.

Mrs. Robert Klingler and Mrs. Koch arranged the social hour, assisted by Mrs. Irving Cocking, Mrs. Frank Brooks and Mrs. Edward Stafney. St. Patrick's Day decoration was used on the tea table with Mrs. C. Prasil and Mrs. Kenneth Carmen presiding.

EMERSON PTA

Safety was the topic discussed at the Emerson PTA meeting. Joseph C. Zabelski, representing the AAA traffic division, moderated a panel composed of Sgt. Medford Pittman of the Pontiac Police department; Mrs. John Balch, a teacher; Mrs. Gilbert Williams, a parent and Linda Larson, a student.

All areas of safety were covered including the interpretation of Emerson School safety rules followed by a question and answer period.

Mr. Zabelski also presented several piano selections including a medley of light classical selections.

Election of officers was conducted by Mrs. Evelyn Woodworth, teacher vice-president. Mrs. Thomas McKeever was elected president, Mrs. Warren Waldbillig, vice-president; L. D. McLaughlin, father vice-president; Lois Coan, teacher vice-president; Mrs. Keith Mortimore, historian and Mrs. Stephen Kives, secretary.

Mrs. Wayne Wightman is treasurer and Mrs. L. D. McLaughlin, parliamentarian. Council delegates are Mrs. Williams, Mrs. Lawrence Curtis and Mrs. Stuart Kramp.

Mrs. Curtis announced a money-making project to be held at VFW Hall, March 24 and also announced a cupcake sale in April for the scholarship fund. Announcement was made by Mrs. McKeever of a paper sale May 7 and a talent show in April.

The banner for the most parents present went to Mrs. Balch's room. Sandra Craig and Mrs. Ralph Grubb presided at the refreshment table.

OWEN PTA

The Rev. David Mortenson of Marimont Baptist Church led the opening prayer for Owen School PTA meeting Wednesday.

Mrs. George Gray, chairman of the nominating committee, presented candidates to the PTA.

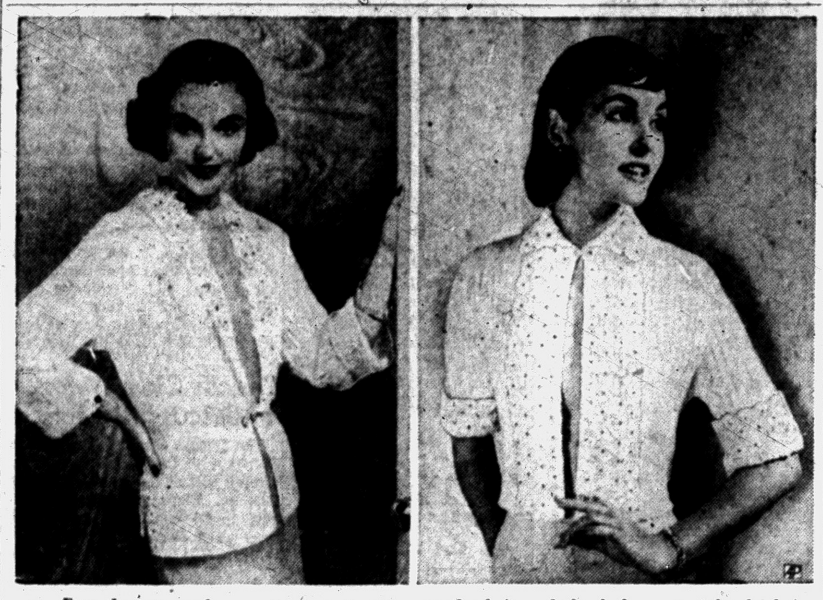

Officers elected were Mrs. Eugene Chisholm, president; Mrs. Robert Baldwin, first vice-president; Mrs. Wayne Newcomb, second vice president; Mrs. Phillip Frank, secretary; Mrs. Roy Castor, treasurer and teacher vice president, Mrs. William VanDerzee. John Giles is father vice president and Mrs. Elmer Vick is historian.

Mrs. William Wright, president of the Pontiac Council, spoke briefly on the importance of PTA elections and by-laws.

A by-laws committee was appointed by Mrs. Garner, current president. Committee members are Mrs. Gordon Rice, Mrs. Baldwin and Mrs. Castor.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Donald Richmond and Mrs. Castor, co-chairmen. Mrs. William Mitchell and Violet Crawford presided at the tea table.

The attendance award was won by Mrs. William VanDerzee's third grade.

For home and resort wear, new sparkle sweaters in bulky knit add gaiety to the current scene. The fitted knit coat at the left and the bolero at right, both in a white knit are studded with rhinestones.

Yomar Group Entertained at Boutin Home

Mrs. Pierce Boutin was hostess to the Yomar group of the First Presbyterian Church Tuesday evening at her home on Henry Clay avenue. Mrs. James Graybiel was welcomed as a new member and guests were Mrs. Kenneth Nagley and Mrs. Gordon Cox.

* * *

Mrs. George Tremper presided and plans were made for the Women's Association Spring supper April 6. The Bible study was led by Mrs. Richard Wright and missionary reports on the American Indian were directed by Mrs. Eldred Mathes.

Plans for a social night with husbands as guests were made. Mrs. Harry Wood will serve as chairman.

The Easter motif decorated the refreshment table. Mrs. Robert Burns and Mrs. Charles Edwards presided. Mrs. Ralph Mason, Mrs. Marvin Hillman and Mrs. Chester Varney assisted the hostess.

* * *

Mrs. Galen Hershey will be hostess to the group at her home on West Iroquois road April 10.

Dad's Not Noble---He's Enslaved

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

Mr. Hardy's schooling didn't include college. His family couldn't send him, so after high school he went to work. It led him into advertising — a field where he's done well without a college degree but where he would have done better with one.

* * *

So Mr. Hardy has become very conscious of his educational lack. For this season, he's more than usually anxious for his son's college progress.

Harry cooperates fairly well. A college junior, he's made the track team, the right friends in the right fraternity, an occasionally outstanding grade in his studies.

Home for a recent weekend, young Harry announced some news. The friend's broker father for whom he worked last summer had offered a permanent job after graduation. Moreover, he'd pay Harry more for this vacation's work than for last year's.

Tall, good-looking, young, very sure of himself, Harry leaned against his parents' living room mantel and said, "I've got my plans all set. What I've decided to do with the dough I make this summer is trade in my jalopy for a new convertible. In the fall, I'll drive it back to school with me and . . ."

SUDDEN IRRITATION

Mr. Hardy felt a sudden, intense irritation with his son. He couldn't afford to buy Harry a convertible.

His feeling was, "If this boy of ours can afford to buy one for himself, he should expend the sum, not on luxury but on necessity—his senior year tuition. He should let his mother and me consider our needs for a change."

But Mr. Hardy was scared to death of this inner feeling. Though it spoke with the voice of his rational self, it was shouted down by his romantic one—his ideal of himself as the father who gives what he didn't get. And ever since has been pretending he loves the prospect of supporting Harry's extravagance.

Let me try to destroy Mr. Hardy's romantic ideal of himself. He is not a noble father. He's just a man who has not recovered from resentment of hurt by his educational lack.

It is what forces him to evade any unpleasant issue with Harry. The boy has become his justification. In Harry's future social and financial triumph, he has invested his hopes of retaliation for the snubs and hurts he has suffered.

He is not noble—just enslaved.

Lutheran Guild Readies Easter Breakfast Plans

Final plans for the Easter Breakfast being held following the Sunrise Service Easter morning were discussed by members of the Ladies Guild of St. Paul Lutheran Church at their Tuesday meeting.

Mrs. Courtland Colling is chairman of the committee. Assisting her will be Mrs. M. L. Lorenzen, Mrs. Ernest Rowden, Mrs. Edward Wagner, Mrs. Walter Mann, Mrs. Donald Currah and Mrs. Paul McMichael.

Plans were also made for a money-making project the Guild will sponsor April 14. Mrs. Donald Tinson, Mrs. Robert Gardner and Mrs. Louis Clauson are committee members.

The group also decided to sell greeting cards and stationery to raise funds for the purchase of altar appointments for the new church. A "Use Your Talents" project was also launched for that purpose.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Colling, Mrs. Lloyd Rowden and Mrs. Robert Neff.

Puffed sleeves are romantic-looking, yet dramatic, when they add top width to the sleek sheath, designed for romantic-sophisticates.

Not how new or how original but how becoming is the way men judge clothes and the boys feel the same way about juniors. If you are attracted to older fashions, blend these with romantic impulses to best express your personality.

Coming Events

STYMIED BY A DANCE STEP

Tom Belton, recreation director of Waterford Township, gets a chuckle when he looks back to the year at Michigan State when he lost one year of tennis eligibility because he had trouble with his dance steps.

Tom was courting his wife-to-be at the time on the MSU campus. That was back in 1950.

"She liked to dance," said Tom, "so as part of my physical education program, I decided to take a course in ballroom dancing."

So what happened? "I was the laugh of the campus, especially when I passed all my other courses with flying colors and couldn't play tennis in my sophomore year because of a dance step."

★ ★ ★ ★

Tom has the dance steps down pat now. In fact ballroom dancing was the newest program added to Waterford recreation activities when he took over the job in the township.

"Next year we hope to add a program for adults," said Tom. Right now students from 6th to 12th grades take part in tripping the light fantastic.

OUTSTANDING TENNIS PLAYER

Named the "young man of the year" of Waterford for 1955, Tom's first sports love has been tennis.

His background in the game goes back to Dowagiac High School in 1946 when he won the state scholastic junior tennis championship at Ann Arbor.

★ ★ ★ ★

During his stay in the Army he teamed up with Bill Millikin, an outstanding netter from the West Coast, and won the All-Army doubles championship in 1949.

For two years he and Stan Drobac doubled for the Big Ten championship, with special credit to his wife who became his dancing tutor thereby helping him to regain his eligibility.

The recreation setup was in its infancy when he assumed the post in Waterford in 1953 but since then Tom has become very enthusiastic over the strides and plans which he feels will soon materialize.

"We had nearly 7,000 people, about one-seventh of the population participating in recreation activities last year," he said.

As far as the dance program goes, Tom hesitated to say how active he has become in it, as a dancer.

There are rumors around to the effect that little Hillsdale college, a power in its football class last year, is feeling the heat from the nearness of an NCAA investigating committee.

Eight Area Teams Still in Regional Running

Eight teams from the Oakland County area are still in the running for state championship honors in the annual MHSAA basketball tournament, but that number will be reduced by at least one before the day is over.

Walled Lake faces St. Clair and Rochester meets Utica in Class B battles of survival tonight at Pontiac High, with either the Falcons or Utica making a definite exit.

Pontiac, Birmingham and Southfield survived their first regional tests in Class A and St. Michael did likewise in the 'C' ranks. Another county hopeful, Ferndale, is still in the running at home in Class A ranks.

The schoolboy tourney reaches its climax Saturday, March 24, when the state finals are held in Michigan State's Jenison Fieldhouse at East Lansing.

Podres Handed Induction Order

Must Report Monday; Quick Service Action Follows Ted's Blast

NEW YORK (AP)—With the quickness of reflex action, World Series hero Johnny Podres has been ordered to report for military service next Monday in a selective service move within 24 hours of a blast at draft boards by Ted Williams.

* * *

The induction order was released yesterday, taking Podres, who southpawed the Brooklyn Dodgers to the world championship last fall, by surprise.

"I guess this is it," said Podres at the Brooks' Vero Beach, Fla., training camp. "I'll fly home (Witherbee, N. Y.) and spend a few days with my family before I go.

"I thought I had at least 30 days."

* * *

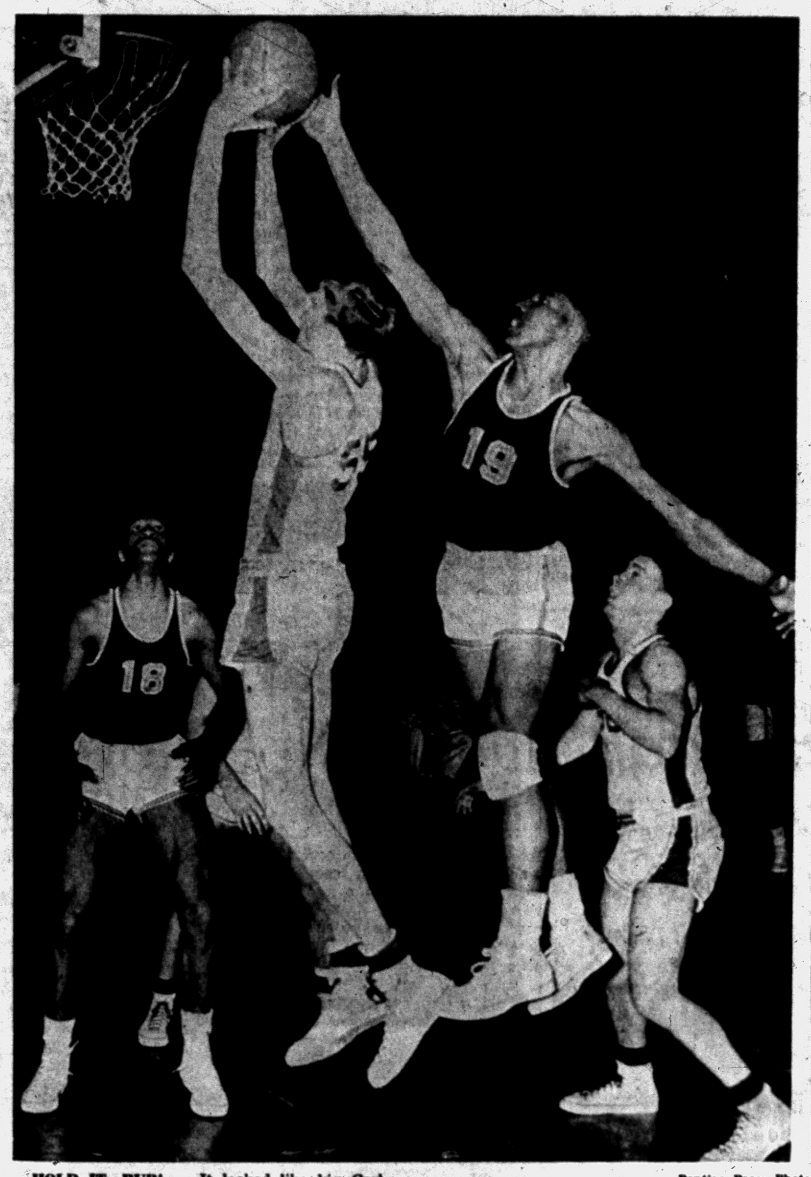

Podres' originally had been ordered to report for induction today by his Ticonderoga, N. Y., draft board. But it was expected he would receive a month's grace when he obtained a transfer to a New York City board.

Houghton Puck Champions Get Tournament Aid

HOUGHTON, Mich. (AP) — The Houghton Peewees will vie for national honors in a hockey tournament in Boston this weekend, thanks to the generosity of the Copper Range Mining Co.

The Peewees, Michigan's champion hockey team for boys under 14, learned yesterday that the mining company will pick up the tab for their hotel accommodations and meals in Boston. The company, headquartered in Boston, has mines in the Houghton area.

The Peewees won the state title by whipping Ann Arbor here earlier this year.

Chiefs Get by Big Reds, Meet Indians on Friday

By H. GUY MOATS

FLINT — (IMA Auditorium)— Pontiac High School's basketball Chiefs survived a 3rd period scare at the hands of Reid Laughlin's Port Huron club, then turned on a final period rally for a 57-47 victory here last night. This was Coach Art Van Ryzin's teams' 1st test in the MHSAA regional tourney.

Pontiac now moves into a semi-final spot in Friday night's round. The Chiefs face an old Saginaw Valley rival, Flint Central, in what amounts to the "rubber" contest of the year for the clubs.

Indians disposed of Lansing Sexton's rangy club, 63-52 in last night's nightcap. Joe Dowdy's team had to come from behind an early deficit to win. Overshadowed by Sexton's height, the Tribe was better from the floor.

Big Reds, always troublesome for Pontiac, particularly in tournament action, were in front to midway the 1st period. Chiefs, led by All-Valley Willie DeWalt and Dave Diehm, got going in the 2nd frame to take a halftime margin of 33-20.

That looked good—that is until the 3rd period opened.

Big Reds bounced back with a rush, to outscore PHS 20-11, and whittle the edge to a disturbing four points. And that wasn't all. A free throw, then two quickies by big Carl Chandler put the count to 46-45.

Rod Treais, lame ankle and all, got in to snag a bucket, Hud Ray got a free toss and a fast goal to go three points ahead. DeWalt and Diehm dunked goals to make it seven to the good, before Richie Robins broke in for a basket. That was the Hurons' last effort. Chiefs, however, added five more, from Diehm, DeWalt and Treais. Rod's basket came three seconds from the end.

"I'm delighted with the fine team victory this was," Van Ryzin said after the game." And I'm pleased that we meet Central in the next one. Central beat us once. We returned the compliment. Now we play the 'rubber'."

Pontiac used seven players. All but one figured in the scoring, led by DeWalt with 18. Willie shared game honors with Robins. Diehm, whose play was a vital factor, hit for 17 and Ray got 10. Three of his four goals were finely-timed tipins of missed free tries, all in a row, in the 2nd period. Ray and DeWalt had control of the boards nearly all the way.

For Dick Whitmer, "graduate" of the reserve squad and its best scorer, his 1st tourney experience was a fine job. Dick fit in well in Chiefs' play, got 4 points and turned in a fine defensive job. DeWalt's all-round play was outstanding, as was the job done by Larry Peet.

There are no games tonight in the Flint "A" regional. PHS-Central play at 8 p.m. Friday. Northern meets Lansing Eastern in the nightcap, at 9:30.

Middlecoff Defending Champ

St. Pete Open Under Way

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP) — Cary Middlecoff is becoming, at 35, one of the old men of golf. But "Old Doc" still figured as the man to beat in the $12,500 St. Petersburg Open which started today.

* * *

The former Memphis dentist, now using Dallas as his golfing address, warmed up for defense of his title with several fine rounds. He never went above 68 and had one 64 over the 6,489-yard Lakewood Country Club course, where par is 72.

* * *

But he no longer exposes himself to the rigors of a continuous trek along the tournament trail.

* * *

"I can't take that steady grind anymore," the lanky Tennessean said. "I'll never play more than two tournaments without a break now."

* * *

Like Ben Hogan and Sam Snead before him, Middlecoff is pacing himself. It is paying off. Enjoying one of his finest years, he has entered six of the 10 previous tournaments this year. He won two, was runner-up in one and fourth in another.

* * *

Middlecoff won here last year with a 274.

Jack Burke Jr. and Jimmy Demaret, both registering out of Kiamesha Lake, N.Y., were among top threats to Middlecoff's bid for a repeat victory. Both are two-time winners here. Burke set the Lakewood course record with 266 in 1952. That was 22 under par.

Demaret has been scoring better this winter than in a long time, winning the Thunderbird and finishing second to Shelley Mayfield at Baton Rouge.

* * *

The field also includes Pete Cooper, who won here in 1949; U.S. Open winners Jack Fleck and Ed Furgol; Ted Kroll, only pro other than Middlecoff who has won two tournaments this winter; and such tour regulars as Doug Ford, Bo Wininger, Chick Harbert, Al Besselink, Bob Toski, Don Fairfield, Dow Finsterwald, Frank Stranahan and George Bayer. Mike Souchak was a last-minute withdrawal.

* * *

After the first 36 holes, the field of almost 150 will be trimmed to the 60 low pros and 10 amateurs, plus ties.

Ex-Collegian Rated Highly

Morrow, 4 Others in Top Roles for Gulf Coast Links Test

GULFPORT, Miss. (AP) — Tiny Tommy Morrow and four former tournament champions competed for the favorite's role today as the 10th $5,000 annual Gulf Coast Invitational Golf tournament opened.

The 150-pound Morrow, a collegiate standout at Louisiana State University, made his debut in professional golf a big splash last year by winning the tournament in a record 274 for the 72 holes.

But talk of a favorite would also include half a dozen other pros and two amateurs, all given good chances to top the 150-entry field.

Former titleholders Pat Abbott of Memphis, Jack Jones of Waterloo, Iowa, Scuddy Horner of Montgomery, Ala., and Charley Harper of Ft. Bennings, Ga., were leading professional contenders, along with greying Jim Barfield of Grand Rapids, Mich., and Orville White of Aiken, S.C.

4th Round Skirmish

Santee-AAU Case in Supreme Court Today

NEW YORK (AP) — The fourth round of the legal skirmish between Lt. Wes Santee of the Marines and the Amateur Athletic Union comes up in the New York State Supreme Court today with the whole structure of amateur athletics in this country hinging on the outcome.

The Kansas miler, considered America's No. 1 hope for the 1500-meter title in this year's Olympic Games at Melbourne, seeks a permanent writ against the enforcement of the lifetime suspension handed him by the AAU.

The 23-year-old runner was suspended Feb. 19 for having received excessive expenses for a number of meets in which he competed last year. Twice he has succeeded in obtaining temporary stays in Supreme Court. In an Appellate Division hearing he managed to block an AAU move to vacate the injunction.

* * *

Scheduled opponents withdrew.

As the result of the temporary injunctions, Santee ran in the Knights of Columbus Meet in New York March 3, and again last Saturday in the Milwaukee Journal Games, although his scheduled opponents shied away from facing him for fear of jeopardizing their Olympic eligibility. Santee said he plans to run at Cleveland Friday night and in Chicago March 24 if the results of today's court hearing are favorable to him.

* * *

Charles P. Grimes, Santee's attorney, said Santee is ready to testify and that he'll petition for a permanent injunction against the ban that would eliminate him as a candidate for the U. S. Olympic team.

The AAU contends Santee's action is a "challenge to the integrity of the United States in amateur sports and would severely damage the United States before all the nations of the world at the Olympic Games."

Eaglets Beaten

St. Mike Nips Lake Shore

By BILL CORNWELL

Scrappy St. Michael battled its way into the Class C semi-finals of the MHSAA regional basketball tournament Wednesday night with a 53-51 decision over Lake Shore at the Pontiac High School gymnasium.

Duane Priebe sank an overhead layup shot with only 10 seconds left to hand the Shamrocks a hard-earned victory in a nip-and-tuck thriller.

Highland Park St. Benedict walloped Orchard Lake St. Mary last night, 65-34, to reach the 'C' semis opposite St. Mike. The two squads collide Friday at 8:15 p.m.

The Shamrocks and St. Ben are not strangers to each other. They met three times during the Suburban Catholic League campaign with the Pontiac northsiders winning on two occasions.

Priebe's dramatic field goal climaxed an uphill fight for the Mikes. The Shorians held a 21-15 lead entering the 2nd quarter, the widest edge enjoyed by either team, and were still in front at halftime, 31-29.

Hampered by personal fouls to key players, the Shamrocks became cautious in the 3rd quarter and slowed down action. The strategy upset the Shorians and St. Mike forged into a 37-35 advantage as the last period rolled around. The margin was good enough to win—thanks to Priebe.

John Keller, Shamrock scoring ace who sat out the 3rd period with four personals, fired three buckets in the 4th stanza to lead the attack. Keller wound up with 17 points for game honors. Don Sharpe and Bill Loader paced Lake Shore with 16 points apiece.

The Highland Park Ravens won in a breeze to eliminate Orchard Lake. The Eaglets trailed at intermission, 26-13, and the Bens poured it on in the final two quarters.

Larry Gacki sparked the Ravens' high-geared assault with 21 points. Center Pete Madelans topped St. Mary's Eaglets on 13.

Class B teams invade the PHS arena tonight. Walled Lake, conqueror of Milford in the district tourney, clashes with a strong St. Clair quintet at 7 o'clock, followed by the Rochester-Utica encounter at 8:15.

Wiffi Starts Title Defense

St. Clair Girl Plays Veteran Marylander in North-South Match

PINEHURST, N. C. (AP)—Having fought the No. 2 championship course of the Pinehurst Country Club with scant success yesterday, the 32 championship qualifiers turned to match play today in the 54th North and South women's amateur golf tournament.

Only two of the 65 qualifying round participants were able to master women's par of 37-37—74 for the 6,000-yard layout. Barbara McIntire, 21, from Toledo, Ohio, took the medal by a stroke with a 38-34—72.

Canadian champion Marlene Stewart of Fonthill, Ont., who was 22 last week, posted a 35-38—73.

Defending champion, Margaret (Wiffi) Smith of St. Clair, Mich. a 77 qualifier, meets Mrs. Maurice Glick, Baltimore veteran, today.

Solon Offers Plan for Olympic Funds

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Magnuson (D-Wash) suggested today that part of the federal admission tax on sports events be earmarked to pay the cost of U.S. entries in the Olympic games.

Saying there "is no question in my mind" but that the government should help finance U.S. participation in the Olympics, the senator said the same persons who attend sports events and pay the 10 per cent admission tax "are also interested in the best possible American Olympic teams being fielded in all events."

Magnuson said he has asked the Library of Congress to "research the proposal from every angle" in an effort to come up with an answer to the perennial fund raising problem.

MAY I LEAN AWHILE? — Marv Ulman, sharpshooting Mt. Clemens guard looks like he is leaning on Birmingham's John Fleser as he drives past the Maple guard in their game at Birmingham last night. The Maples won the regional test 69-62 and will face Catholic Central in the semi-finals Friday night.

Acorns Eliminated

Maples Beat Mt. Clemens

Fast breaking Catholic Central of Detroit and Birmingham moved into the semi-finals of the class A regionals at Birmingham last night with the Shamrocks now considered as the team to beat in the tourney.

With good overall height led by the board work of 6-4 Tom Skrzycki, Catholic Central eliminated Royal Oak 59-52 in the first game of the evening.

In the second game the Maples outlasted Eastern Michigan rival Mt. Clemens with a 4th period surge to win 69-62.

Royal Oak could not match the speed and rebounding of the Shamrocks who kept at least a five-point lead after the first period.

The Acorns led only after the first stanza, 14-13 when Darrell Harper fired a bucket as the buzzer sounded.

At halftime CC led 34-24 and after three periods it was 46-38. Skrzycki led the scoring with 16 points with Dave Richey hitting 14 for the Acorns.

After a dull first half in the second game, the tempo picked up in the final two periods as Birmingham won for the 3rd time this year from Mt. Clemens.

Neither team could find the range as the first period ended 9-8 for the Maples.

* * *

After leading 25-22 at halftime, Birmingham held on tight as Mt. Clemens tied the score eight times but was never able to take the lead in the second half.

A big 4th period splurge during which Bob Isbell hit 7 points and John Fleser 10 clinched the game for the Maples.

Marv Ulman tallied 26 for the losers with Fleser getting 20 and Isbel 19 for Birmingham.

The two winners will face each other Friday night for the right to go into the Saturday finals.

* * *

Tonight, Southfield faces high-powered East Detroit at 8:00 p.m. and the Inter-Lakes' Jays are figured to be at least eight point underdogs.

Tartars Bound for Iowa

IOWA CITY, Iowa (INS)—Wayne University's basketball squad, a surprise 72-63 victor over DePaul University in the first round of the NCAA tournament, was scheduled to arrive in Iowa City today in preparation for tomorrow night's game with powerful Kentucky.

The Tartars will hold their first workout this afternoon in the Iowa fieldhouse.

Wayne meets the Wildcats in the first game of the doubleheader which will pit Iowa against Morehead State in the second game. The winners will meet Saturday night with the eventual winner going to Evanston, Ill., for the final games on March 22 and 23

Coach Joel Mason finds himself at a handicap in preparing his Wayne team for tomorrow night's game. The Tartars were unable to scout the Kentucky squad and must go against coach Adolph Rupp's powerful team with only scant information.

Camp Chaffee Cagers in Army's Semifinals

FORT LEONARD WOOD, Mo. (INS)—Camp Chaffee, Ark., battled uphill last night to edge Fort Jackson, S. C., 100 to 98, in overtime in the semifinals of the All-Army basketball tournament's losers bracket.

The defeat eliminated Fort Jackson, the 3rd army entry, from the tourney.

Basilio Dethroned by Saxton

CHICAGO (AP) — Cruel-jabbing Johnny Saxton again held the world welterweight title today, but a hue and cry thundered for a rematch with dethroned and hopping mad Carmen Basilio which may come in June.

* * *

Saxton won a unanimous 15-round decision over Basilio in a Nationally-televised scrap at the Chicago Stadium last night which left most of 11,373 paid patrons and a host of video fans hollering that Carmen was short-changed.

Basilio bleated the title was "stole" from him.

The International Boxing Club said no rematch had been contracted, but admitted that one now was "definitely possible."

Chicago again is the logical site, despite Basilio's dislike.

* * *

Seldom has a title match here stirred so much controversy, although there was no doubt in the minds of the three officials that the busy, ever-moving Saxton had won.

Basilio snarled that the deck is stacked against him in Chicago after three defeats in as many starts here.

The referee, Frank Gilmer, called it for Saxton, 144-142, while Judge Ed Hintz voted for Johnny, 149-138, and Judge James McManus, 147-140. The AP had Saxton ahead 145-142.

* * *

That made it a Saxton margin of 16 points for the 15 rounds in the Illinois scoring system of 10 points to a round winner and from 9 down to a round loser.

* * *

On the other hand, a ringside poll showed a 13-7 preference for Basilio among the experts covering the fight. Basilio's majority came entirely from Eastern Writers, while Saxton's backing was all Midwestern.

* * *

Unquestionably, Basilio forced the pace, but the sledge-hammer attack that won him the 147-pound crown from Tony DeMarco last June 10, and flattened DeMarco again in a Nov. 30 rematch, was missing.

"They don't score double hooks here," growled Basilio.

On the other hand, Saxton was an effective, if retreating sharpshooter. Using a stiff left jab with authority all the way, Saxton slashed a nick over Basilio's right eye and had the champ's nose bleeding in the fourth.

Basilio's left eye was almost swollen shut by the 15th round after which Saxton walked to his corner, disdainful of Basilio's effort to slap his back and apparently knowing he had recaptured the 147-pound title.

"I won the fight," protested Basilio. "Hold and run, hold and run, that's all he did."

Saxton first won the welter crown with an equally-disputed 15-round decision over then-champion Kid Gavilan at Philadelphia, Oct. 20, 1954. He lost it in his first defense to DeMarco on a 14th round TKO at Boston last April 1.

One of the ironies of Saxton's triumph is that while the New York State Athletic Commission has agreed to recognize him as welter champ, he cannot fight in his home state.

That's because his manager, Frank (Blinky) Palermo, is banned in New York State. Palermo was absent at last night's fight which Saxton presumably fought as his own manager. But the federal government served a notice of levy for $17,875.37 on Saxton's take of $39,902 for income tax owed by Palermo.

This raises a fine legal point, because Saxton contends Palermo has nothing to do with his purse which incidentally was the same as Basilio received.

The principals split 30-30 on a net gate of $83,008 and radio-TV receipts of $50,000.

GRAPEFRUIT League

ORLANDO, Fla. (AP) — Manager Chuck Dressen says Pete Runnels has clinched a spot in the Washington Senators outfield.

Runnels, a second baseman last season, was in left field yesterday as the Senators defeated the Philadelphia Phillies 10-6. He got one hit in three trips, and scored two runs.

FORT MYERS, Fla. (AP)—Manager Bobby Bragan of the Pittsburgh Pirates continued to intensify his work with pitchers today.

The hurling thus far, has been anything but up to Bragan's expectations. In the past two days, 18 runs have been scored on the Pirates and they now own a 2-3 exhibition record.

Adding to Bragan's woes in yesterday's 8-5 loss to the New Yorkees' "B" team was the way the Yanks handled pitcher Bob Friend who led the National League in earned runs last season. Friend gave up four runs and seven hits in five innings.

SARASOTA, Fla. (AP)—The future is looking a little brighter for Boston Red Sox bonus rookie southpaw pitcher Frank Baumann.

The St. Louis boy, who cost the Sox about $100,000, allowed only two hits, struck out two and didn't yield a walk for three innings yesterday as Boston blanked New York 2-0 in a Grapefruit League game.

Baumann had been despondent over a sore arm which didn't appear to be responding to treatment.

* * *

After five exhibition contests, rookie Henry Sullivan tops Sox batters with five hits in seven trips. In RBI's Ted Lepcio leads with five while Sullivan and Norm Zauchin have driven home four runs apiece.

Special Rules on Trout Rivers

LANSING — Sections of the South Branch and main stream of the AuSable River, Crawford county, will be posted to inform trout fishermen of special regulations which allow "flies only" fishing and a 10-inch minimum size for legal trout.

Through a printing error, the 1956 Fish Law Digest lists a nine-inch minimum size in the 20-mile special management area, but Conservation Department officials said the 10-inch minimum will continue in effect. The North Branch of the river will be covered by the nine-inch minimum set last fall by the Conservation Commission.

Placards will be posted prior to the trout season on all experimental areas of the AuSable, specifying the particular regulations.

Spring Training Trip to Show MSU Hopes

EAST LANSING (AP) — Michigan State coach John Kobs is going to have to wait until he gets below the Mason-Dixon line again this year to find out what he has in the way of baseball prospects.

"It doesn't look like we'll get any early outdoor workouts this season," said Kobs, gloomily eying the weather forecasts.

Kobs will name a 22-man traveling squad next week to make the 10-day training tour through North and South Carolina. The first spring game is set for March 24 with South Carolina at Columbia.

City BB Federation Talks 1956 Plans

By H. GUY MOATS
Pontiac Press Special Writer

Along with the imminence of the major league baseball season, Pontiac City Baseball Federation, has shaken the chill of the off-season and is beginning to function again.

Annual meeting was held first of the week, with veteran prexy Charles Irish returned for his 6th straight year. Johnny Abel was also retained as vice president and two new board members were selected. John Streit becomes secretary-treasurer, following Dave Ewalt who leaves the post after 8 years on the job.

Tom Dodson, public school athletic director, automatically becomes a board member as result of a by-law change to make the holder of the school title a member. It follows the former rule whereby Old Timers' Assn., head (Paul Parks) is also an automatic member. Archie Barnett has retired after many years activity, and J.H.P. Glynn fills the vacancy. Harold Goldberg was re-elected.

Informal discussion of 1956 plans produced the appointment of a 4-man committee to work out a policy for relationships between managers and sponsors. Abel is chairman. Herc Renda, Parks and George Shanks managers' representative on the Federation, make up the body.

So far, Ewalt reported today, three of last year's league clubs have signified intention of again fielding teams. They are General Motors, Oliver Buick and Jets. Applications for league membership may be filed now with the Parks and Recreation Department.

"We anticipate a very large increase in both baseball and softball activities this summer," says Ewalt, "as a result of the development of Jaycee Park, Walton and Joslyn roads. The new park, to be dedicated this spring, has two new diamonds as well as softball fields, thus boosting our facilities a great deal."

Bob Pettit, now a pro basketball rookie, scored a total of 1,970 points when he played for Louisiana State.

Food Situation Still Critical for State Deer

LANSING (AP) — Michigan's deer starvation losses this winter may be the worst since the 1950-51 season when an estimated 40,000 to 50,000 deer died, the state conservation department said today.

T. H. Bartlett, department deer specialist, said conditions remained critical for deer in all northern sections of the state.

New snowstorms during the past week made things harder for already weakened deer. Starvation reports were received from all sections of the upper peninsula and northern lower peninsula.

Charles, Jasper Bout Delayed to April 24

WINDSOR, Ont. (INS) — A scheduled 10-round heavyweight fight April 3 between former champion Ezzard Charles and Don Jasper in Windsor, Ont., has been postponed until April 24.

Promoters Julius Piazza and Hap Tucket said the delay was requested by Charles' manager, Tom Tannas, because the former heavyweight king still has a lip injury from his December bout with young Jack Johnson.

Detroit Heavy in AAU Bouts

Ossie Groom Entered in Championships of Sports Guild

DETROIT (INS) — Ossie Groom, Detroit's sensational heavyweight who went to the semi-finals in last weekend's Golden Gloves tournament of champions, will try for national honors via the AAU.

Groom's loss in Chicago—his first ring defeat—was unexpected and unpopular. The fans boed the decision and Groom lost no prestige in the defeat.

The young fighter will try again in the sports guild-sponsored Michigan AAU championships at Arcadia Roller Rink, Woodward at Stimson, on Monday, March 26.

Another Detroiter who reached the semi-finals in the Golden Gloves was Harry Campbell, a natural bantamweight who stepped into the featherweight class as a sub and surprised everyone with his ability.

Campbell is anther entry in the sports guild tournament.

Flint Army Fighter Wins Easy Contest

WASHINGTON (AP) — Paul Wright of Flint, Mich., started with a flourish and took just 55 seconds to knock out Al Watkins of Evansville, Ind., in the quarterfinals of the U.S. Air Force worldwide boxing championships last night.

Wright, defending light middleweight champ of the host Bolling Air Force Base here, has won every amateur title with the exception of an Olympic crown. His fight with Watkins was the shortest on the 18-bout card.

All the tournament's 40 survivors will see action tonight in the semi-finals.

Settle for 5th Place

Pfeiffer's Fail in Title Bid

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (INS) — The Pfeiffer's team of Detroit failed last night in its bid for a 4th American Bowling Congress tournament championship in five years.

A crowd of 4,000 fans, jamming Rochester's War Memorial, saw Pfeiffer's, plagued by splits and sticky 10 pins, settle for 5th place with 2,889 pins racked up on 942, 992 and 955 games.

The defending title holders were only 247 pins short of the 3,136 that won the AEC crown last year.

Burley Steve Nagy, the 1955 national match game champion and bowler of the year, blustered his way to a 259 in the 2nd stanza as he struck out from a 139 in the 6th frame for the Pfeiffer's best personal mark.

* * *

Nagy rolled the Detroit's crew's best aggregate, a 614 on games of 177, 259 and 178.

The Helin Tackle team of Detroit was ineffectual despite the companionship of Bill Bunetta, a former Pfeiffer's champ. They tacked up a 2,787 total.

The modern bowlers another Detroit clan, shot a surprising 2,865 aggregate. They were aided to no small degree by young Harry Smith, who is usually 6th man with Pfeiffer's and amassed a 563.

Prep Swimmer Sets Mark in Butterfly

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Frank Brunnell, 16-year-old Frankford High School swimming star, set a new national AAU record for a 20-yard pool last night in the 100-yard butterfly.

Brunnell, holder of two national interscholastic records, swam the distance in 58.4 seconds to eclipse the national mark of 58.5 set in June, 1954, by Phil Drake of the Chapel Hill, N.C., swim club at Ft. Lauderdale, Fla.

Wings, Rangers in Showdown

Second Place Finish Hinges in NY Meeting

Detroit Needs Victory to Stay in Runnerup Position of NHL

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

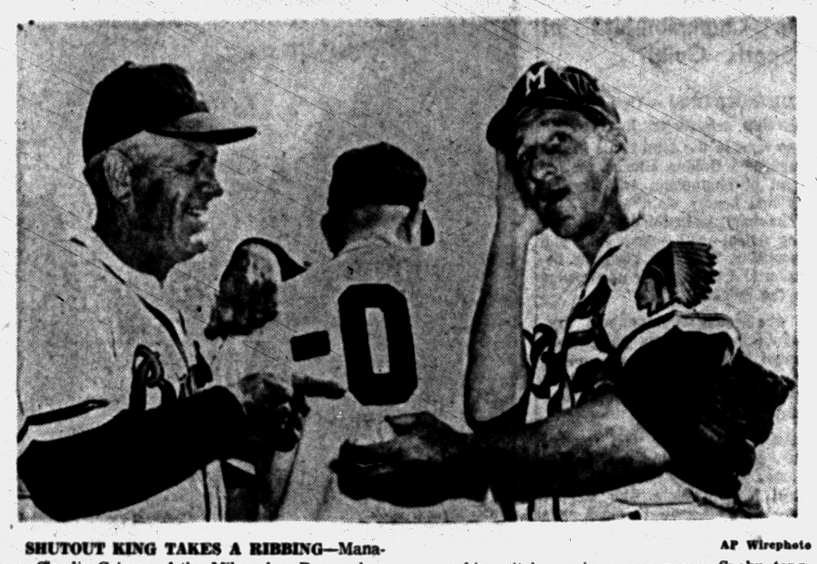

Second place in the final standings of the National Hockey League hinge on the outcome of the game tonight between the Detroit Red Wings and the New York Rangers at Madison Square Garden.

* * *

The Wings go into the game with a 2-point advantage but a loss on the ice on which they have failed to win this season would definitely place the Rangers in the driver's seat. Detroit has only one game remaining after tonight, that with Toronto on Sunday—the final day of the season. The Rangers close out the regular campaign with a home-and-home series with the pennant-winning Montreal Canadiens Saturday and Sunday.

The Rangers have beaten the Wings five times and tied once on their home rink. Even should they be tied in points at the end of the season, the New Yorkers would win the No. 2 spot of the Stanley Cup playoffs because they have more victories than Detroit.

Fourth place also still is undecided. Boston's surging Bruins are 1 point in front of Toronto and have one game to play—against Chicago Sunday. The Leafs have two, meeting Chicago at home Saturday before taking on Detroit in the finale.

He is seven ahead of his closest competitor Robin Roberts.

Star Diver Dies in Crash

DALLAS (AP)—David Greig (Skippy Browning Jr., one of the greatest divers in the history of sports, has been killed in a plane crash, the Navy announced yesterday.

Browning, 24, a lieutenant (j.g.), was killed Tuesday night when his Navy jet plane crashed near Rantoul, Kan., shortly after takeoff. He was based at Moffett Naval Air Station, near Mountain View, Calif., but had been operating from the auxiliary station at Fallon, Nev. He was on a cross-country navigational training flight from Olathe, Kan., to Denver, Colo.

Browning, who started diving when a tot at Corpus Christi, Tex., was the 3-meter Olympics diving champion in 1952, holder of four National Collegiate Athletic Assn. championships and numerous Amateur Athletic Union championships.

Beyond All Things—an Epitaph

By GRANTLAND RICE

"He played the game"—
What finer epitaph can stand?
Or who can earn a fairer fame
When Time at last has called his hand?
Regardless of the mocking roar,
Regardless of the final score,
To fight it out, raw blow for blow,
Until your time has come to go
On out beyond all praise or blame,
Beyond the twilight's purple glow,
Where Fate can write against your name
This closing line for friend or foe:
"He played the game."

"He played the game"—
What more is there that one can say?
What other word might add acclaim
To this lone phrase that rules the fray?
Regardless of the breaks of chance,
Regardless of all circumstance,
To raise above the whims of Fate,
Where dreams at times are desolate,
Where failure seems your final aim
And disappointment is your mate,
Where Life can write in words of flame
This closing line above the gate:
"He played the game."

NBA Season Ends, but Two Ties Delay Playoff Action

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The regular season of the National Basketball Assn. ended last night but there is a little matter of two ties to be broken before the six survivors—three in each division—swing into the playoffs Saturday.

Whether it'll be New York or Syracuse against Boston in the opener of the best-of-three first round playoffs in the Eastern Division depends on the outcome of a game between the two teams at Syracuse this afternoon (3 p.m. EST).

Third place in the division was thrown into a deadlock last night when the Knicks defeated Philadelphia 115-108 and the Boston Celtics defeated Syracuse 122-103.

St. Louis and Minneapolis also ended a tie for runner-up honors behind Fort Wayne in the Western Division when the Lakers downed the Pistons 100-96. The Hawks and Lakers meet Friday night for second money and then open their best-of-three playoff series Saturday in St. Louis.

Fort Wayne and Philadelphia, Eastern Division winner, drew a first-round bye and will meet the winners of the second third-place series.

NOT IN THE CARDS — Dick Schofield, St. Louis Cardinal infielder is out at second base as Red Schoendienst hit into a double play in the first inning of the game against the Detroit Tigers at Lakeland, Fla., yesterday. Buddy Hicks, playing second stepped on the base for the force and threw to first to complete the double play.

Tenley Albright Defends U. S. Figure Skating Title

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The U. S. Figure Skating Championships took on major scope today as graceful Tenley Albright began her defense of the senior ladies' singles crown in school figures.

Her chief opposition to a fifth straight title was pretty, 16-year-old Carol Heiss, the New York girl who upset Miss Albright for the world title in Germany this winter.

* * *

Miss Albright, 20, of Boston, had defeated Miss Heiss for the Olympics title just a short time before the world matches. The scoring was close in each case.

So the current competition is a "rubber match" in the broadest sense. The title winner Friday night will be an undisputed champion.

Today's school figures counts for 60 per cent of the total scoring in the senior ladies contest. The championship will be decided tomorrow night on the free skating, which counts 40 per cent.

* * *

The meet began yesterday at the Arena in the novice division with school figure competition. Barbara Roles, 14, of Sacramento, Calif., took a commanding lead in the ladies' division. Randy Phillips, 14, of Glendale, Calif., held a slight lead in the men's division over Bob Hubbard, Sacramento, Calif.

The free skating competition in both these divisions will be held tonight when novice champions will be crowned.

* * *

Hayes Alan Jenkins, Colorado Springs, Colo., Olympic and world's titleholder, begins his defense of the U.S. senior men's singles title in the school figures tomorrow. The free skating will be the final event Saturday night.

Jenkins' greatest rivals are Ronnie Robertson, Paramount, Calif.; and younger brother David Jenkins, who finished 2-3 to win in the Olympics and world competition.

The champion, entering Harvard Law School in September, says he will retire from competition when he doffs his skates Saturday.

Tigers Lose Again to St. Louis, 7-4

LAKELAND, Fla. (AP)—Early season fears about Al Kaline's throwing arm can be discarded.

* * *

That's the word today from Jack Homel, trainer for the Detroit Tigers, who says the young outfielder will be ready for full time work in a few days.

"Al has made an amazing recovery," Homel said. "He is just about ready for action again."

Kaline was the only one of the Tiger regulars scheduled for full time duty in the spring exhibition series. He played in the first two games, but was withdrawn early in the second contest and ordered to rest his arm.

* * *

Kaline admitted his arm had been bothering him since the training session opened.

Once he returns to action Kaline will have som ework to do on his hitting. The young rightfielder won the American League batting title last year with a .340 average. But in four official times at bat this spring he hasn't had a hit.

He was up twice in the first game, once in the second and appeared as a pinch hitter yesterday as the Tigers dropped a 7-4 decision to the St. Louis Cardinals, their third loss in four spring starts.

Against the Cards Kaline hit into a force play. His mates gathered six hits but the St. Louisans unloaded a 12-hit barrage for their triumph.

Rookie lefthander Gene Host absorbed most of the punishment. He was charged with six of the seven runs—five of them in the third inning when St. Louis bunched five hits.

Good salvage jobs by Duke Maas, who allowed only one hit in four innings, and Bobby Tiefenauer, who gave up two in two, came too late to help the Tigers.

Manager Bucky Harris said nine of the youugsters need more work than he can give them on the varsity so he shipped them over to Tigertown after yesterday's game. They included third baseman Steve Demeter, who homered against the Cardinals; bonus babies Jim Small and Jim Brady, and pitchers Bill Froats and Tom Sharkey, infielders Reno Bertoia and Fran Oneto, outfielder Gene Neff and catcher Carl Wagnger.

Harris said it was not a permanent demotion and that any or all of them may be recalled on a moment's notice.

Today the Tigers were scheduled against the New York Yankees.

Commerce Area Clerk Is Named

G. F. Feller Gets Township Post

New Man Takes Over April 1 as Successor to Earl V. Garner

COMMERCE — The appointment of George F. Feller to the post of township clerk was made by the Commerce Township Board at its regular monthly meeting last night in the township hall.

His appointment will be in effect for a period of one year, beginning April 1, the start of the 1956-57 fiscal year. Feller intends to be a candidate for the position in April, 1957, he said.

He will succeed Earl V. Garner, a mainstay on the board, who served a total of 28 years, 26 of them as township clerk and the balance as treasurer. His resignation takes effect with one year remaining in his two-year elected term.

Garner has been township clerk since 1934 without an interruption. Prior to that, Garner recalls being township treasurer from 1921 until 1923 and township clerk from 1923 until 1927.

* * *

The board decided to order three voting machines from the Automatic Voting Machine Corp. of Jamestown, N. Y., on a rental basis with the option that rental fees will be credited toward the total price if a purchase is made.

Delivery of the machines is expected on or about July 15.

Two zoning changes were approved by the board. Nearly 86 acres of land at the foot of Union Lake road, near Haggerty and Richardson, was rezoned to permit the erection of a drive-in theater. A section of land on Pontiac Trail near 14-Mile road was rezoned for heavy industrial use.

James L. Gardner, township supervisor, appointed Walter Corle to the job of caretaker at the township cemetery.

House May Rescind Law on Liquor Vote

Referendum votes on sales of alcoholic beverages by the glass in Oakland county communities undergoing changes of government will not be necessary if Senate Bill No. 1092 passes the Michigan House of Representatives.

The bill will probably come before the House of Representatives today, according to Leo Paquette, executive secretary of the local Tabletoppers Club.

* * *

The bill is scheduled to come out of a House committee sometime today, he says. It passed the Senate "with flying colors" several weeks ago, he says, reporting that it would affect 85 business places in this area.

It would retract the present ruling that communities such as Southfield, Troy Township, and other areas which are incorporating, would within a year after incorporation have to vote on the "liquor by the glass" sale.

Your PTA Is Planning:

West Bloomfield to Hear Panel Discussion Tonight

WEST BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP — The West Bloomfield High School PTA will meet at 8 tonight in rooms one and three at the high school, for a business meeting, election of officers and program.

The program is to be a panel discussion on "Guidance and Counseling Programs in High Schools."

Betty Murphy, girls counselor of West Bloomfield High School, will be the moderator. Clark Balch, counselor of boys in the Pontiac school; Mrs. Elsie Carter, 11th grade counselor from Waterford High School; Steve Begel, a senior, and Ann Thomson, a junior; Mrs. Jack Couzens, a mother; and Mrs. Myrtle Kolden of the teaching staff, will complete the panel.

The audience will be asked to participate in the discussion.

Miss Murphy will speak on scholarships offered to the students.

Thomas

Thomas PTA officers elected at the annual meeting this week are Mrs. Doris Bretzlaff, president; Mrs. Paul Miller, vice president; Mrs. Gordon Seale, secretary; and Mrs. Bud Ryckman.

Big Beaver

Monthly meeting of the Big Beaver PTA will be held at 8 p.m. Monday in the school.

Officer election will be held and the speaker will be Mrs. Robert Sanford of Lake Orion, president of the East Oakland PTA Council. She will talk on the value of PTA Workshop.

Refreshments will be served by the fifth grade room mothers.

Rebel Educator Causes Storm

Retired Georgian May Lose Pension, Title for Integration Views

ATLANTA (AP)—A Georgia educational leader under fire from the states two principal school boards for charged prointegration views today faced possible loss of his $518.90 a month state pension and an honorary college title.

The Board of Regents, without commenting on its action, yesterday voted unanimously to take back the title it gave Dr. Guy H. Wells two years ago as president emeritus of Georgia State College for Women. Wells headed the Milledgeville school for 20 years.

And the State Board of Education, commenting freely on Wells' alleged prointegration views, decided to ask the Teacher Retirement Board whether the veteran educator may be legally separated from his pension.

Wells currently is executive secretary of the Georgia Committee on Interracial Cooperation, an affiliate of the Southern Regional Council.

"I am sure the boards did what they felt to be right," said Gov. Marvin Griffin. "To be drawing a $518.90 a month pension, Dr. Wells has been acting a little ugly." Griffin asserted that Wells "does advocate integration."

In his "acting a little ugly" comment, the governor was referring to a report in the Augusta Courier, a political prosegregation weekly, that Wells ridiculed the governor and legislators in a speech at Paine College, a Negro school at Augusta.

Wells charged that the Courier account of his speech was "completely inaccurate and distorted." The Courier is published by Roy V. Harris, a member of the Board of Regents. Wells said he regretted "that my former employers and friends have taken this action against me without giving me an opportunity to be heard."

Schools to Go on Double Shift

Plan Half-Day Sessions for Fall at Farmington's Lower Grades

FARMINGTON — O. E. Dunkel, Farmington schools superintendent announced this week that "All first and second grade students, some third and possibly one fourth grade class will be on half-day schedules in September, because of overcrowding, shortage of classrooms and some problem of an adequate teaching staff."

Dunkel stated that there is already a possibility of half-day sessions at 10 Mile Elementary School although "we are making every effort to avoid that for the remainder of this school year, at least."

He added that he has been attempting to secure three additional teachers for the 10 Mile School, and that new members have been added to the teaching staff at both Bond and Eagle Schools.

Farmington voters will go to the polls next month to decide upon a proposed $2,000,000 bond issue to finance 40 new elementary classrooms and a new junior high school.

'Skin Diving' Topic of Talk to Cubs Tonight

WATERFORD TOWNSHIP—Tom Mook, active in the county in underwater diving, salvage and retrieving operations, will give a talk and show movies on "Skin diving" at the monthly pack meeting of Lambert Cub Scout pack 30 at the school tonight at 7:15 p.m.

Cubmaster Ed Reddish will present awards to the boys who have earned them this month.

Wolf badges will go to Allen Mercer, Michael Kennerly and Larry Walter. Gold arrows on the wolf trail go to Michael Kennerly and Larry Walter. Bear badges were earned by James Felix, Raymond Austin, Gary Ryden and William Kellogg. Gold arrows on the bear trail go to James Felix, Gary Ryden and Michael Reddish. Silver arrows on the bear trail go to James Felix, Gary Ryden, Charles Warner and Richard Raber. Denner stripes go to Michael Alsup and Michael Kennerly. Assistant denner stripe was earned by Bob Smith and Richard Austin.

The den with the best percentage of parents present will win the "Honor Den" flag for the month.

To Honor Young People at Waterford

WATERFORD TOWNSHIP — The Young People's group of Faith Baptist Church will be honored at the church's Sunday services which are currently being held at the Waterford Township Recreation building.

* * *

The tribute being paid the young people is part of a church program wherein all the departments of the Sunday School are honored on separate Sundays until Easter when this program comes to an end. Purposes of the program are to increase the number of those interested in attending Sunday School and to show each department its importance as part of the Sunday School.

Colored moving pictures will be taken of the young people on Sunday. The film will become part of the church library and available to the young people. A corsage will be given to girl and a boutonniere to the boy bringing the most guests to the Sunday School class.

The church is planning to have the Young People's choir provide the music for the Sunday services.

Mrs. Al Kasten, the pastor's wife, teaches the Young People's group. Bob Griffin leads them in an evening social and spiritual gathering which will meet at 6:15 p.m. Sunday at the Waterford Township Recreation building.

Dolores Booth is the president of the Young People's group and Patsy Stauffer is vice-president.

The church's program of honoring each Sunday School department on the Sundays before Easter will be an annual affair.

Lapeer Pair to Mark 60 Years of Marriage

LAPEER—Mr. and Mrs. William J. Andrews of Lapeer will celebrate their 60th wedding anniversary Sunday with an Open House for their friends from 2-6 p.m. at the Veterans Memorial Building.

Their son, Eugene Andrews, and his wife with their daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Leo Shaw of Flint, are arranging the Open House. While no invitations have been sent, they have extended invitations to all relatives and friends to be present.

The Andrews have one grandson, Kay Andrews, and three great grandchildren, a boy and two girls.

It was on March 18, 1896, that Carrie Folsom, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Folsom, was married to William J. Andrews in the home of her pearents by the Rev. John Robertson of the Methodist Church.

For 17 years Mr. and Mrs. Andrews managed the Lapeer County Infirmary.

Andrews also has been a member of the Welfare Board, served as school director for nine years, and was treasurer of Deerfield Township.

It has been a full life for both, helping others whenever possible, friends say. Now Andrews drives to his farm in Deerfield Township almost every day to keep an eye on the crops and to lend a hand when possible.

Mrs. Andrews is active in church and club work in Lapeer and frequently accompanies her husband to the farm.

Farm Bureau Set for Program

Urge County Members Attend Get-Together at W. Bloomfield Tonight

The Oakland County Farm Bureau will hold an all-county social get-together at the West Bloomfield Township Hall at 8 p.m. today. Every member in the county is urged to attend.

A social committee consisting of Chairmen Mr. and Mrs. William Scramlin of Holly, and Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Abel of Pontiac, Mr. and Mrs. George Sutton, Holly; Mr. and Mrs. John Trocke, Milford; and Mr. and Mrs. Howard Wilson of Rochester has charge of the affair.

The discussion groups are each planning a skit or some other talent for a short program, and square dancing will be held to the tunes of Ray Wheeler's orchestra.

The committee is supplying refreshments, except sandwiches which are to be furnished by each family as well as their own table service.

A prize is being offered to the group with the best entertainment.

President Hints of Help to Israel

Speculation Aroused by Statement; Says He and Dulles Never Denied Aid

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower has provided fresh evidence that his administration is taking a critical new look at the whole range of its Arab-Israeli policies.

* * *

He told a news conference yesterday that neither he nor Secretary of State Dulles had ever said "that we would not furnish arms to Israel." But he added that "we were hoping for a better solution."

His use of the past tense renewed speculation that eventually the administration may decide to let the Israelis buy at least part of the 63 million dollars worth of weapons which they are seeking. The Israelis submitted the request in November, saying they want to offset the purchase of Soviet bloc arms by Egypt.

It was learned that the request is under active study now after being on the shelf for months while Eisenhower and Dulles emphasized a policy of avoiding an arms race with the Soviets in the Middle East.

State Department officials said that until now there has been no actual change in American policy on the Middle East. It was learned last weekend, however, that the United States is restudying relations with Egypt in the light of Cairo's increasingly strong anti-Israeli moves.

'Dinty' Dinner to Be Saturday at White Lake

WHITE LAKE TOWNSHIP — The Women's Guild of St. Patrick's Church of White Lake Township, will sponsor a "corned beef and cabbage" St. Patrick's Day dinner from 4:30 until 8 p. m., Saturday in the church hall. The public is invited to attend.

Mrs. Gerald F. DeSormier, president of the Women's Guild, is chairman of the dinner committee.

A special mass in observance of the feast of St. Patrick will be held at 9 a. m., Saturday.

Waterford Dem Club Sets Saturday Meet

WATERFORD TOWNSHIP—The newly formed Democratic Club has called a meeting for Saturday at 8 p.m. at the Community Activities Building on Williams Lake road. Main business of the evening will be the approval ofth e constitution and bylaws.

* * *

Persons interested in becoming members are invited to attend this meeting.

Voters League to Meet Tuesday

West Bloomfield Unit to Hear Program on Local Government

WEST BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP—The West Bloomfield Township League of Women Voters will hold its regular monthly meeting Tuesday in the West Bloomfield Township Hall.

Luncheon will be served at 12:30 p. m. and the program will begin at 1:30 p. m. The program will be on "Local Government."

Guest speakers for the occasion will be Hiland Thatcher, West Bloomfield Township supervisor, and Arthur W. Bromage who is with the Department of Political Science at the University of Michigan. Bromage is nationally known as an authority on local government.

The purpose in having such a program is to interpret the findings of the members on the "Go See" interviews to Waterford Township, Livonia, Troy and Warren.

The meeting will be opened to the public.

Report Group in Mexico City

Say Accused Embezzler From Detroit and Party Seen at Bullfight

DETROIT (INS)—The Detroit Times reported today that accused embezzler, Mrs. Anna V. Thorpe, 42, and her husband, Floyd, 57, were seen attending a bullfight in Mexico City Sunday.

The report revealed the Thorpes were "living it up."

Reportedly seen with the Thorpes were Mrs. Thorpe's sister, Miss Josephine Rutsky, a divorcee, her boyfriend, Richard Radwill, 25, alleged mastermind of the embezzlement and flight to Mexico City and the Thorpes' daughter, Kay, 9, and Miss Rutsky's son, Teddy, 8.

The Thorpes have been missing since March 2, along with $74,841 in receipts of a St. Clair Shores Secretary of State Branch Office.

Police in Detroit said they learned that Radwill, manager of a Cicero, Mich., bar, arranged for plane tickets from Windsor, Canada to Mexico City for the group.

The Times' report said authorities in Mexico are aware of the presence of the Thorpe party. All in the party are using various aliases.

The FBI, now in charge of the case, hopes to return the party to the United States before they move again.

Mrs. Thorpe was the agent for the state's fee office at St. Clair Shores. Warrants charging the woman with embezzlement and her husband with aiding embezzlement were issued after a state audit showed the shortage in her accounts.

Presidential Press Parleys in 43rd Year

WASHINGTON (INS) — Today marks the 43rd anniversary of presidential press conferences.

President Woodrow Wilson began the history-making meetings with newsmen on March 15, 1913, calling on the reporters thn to "go into partnrship with me" to put out factual information about the administration.

Says U.S. Losing Prestige Abroad Over Segregation

CHICAGO (INS) — Evangelist Billy Graham says the United States is losing prestige abroad because of recent troubles over racial desegregation.

* * *

He said at a press conference last night in Chicago that the racial dilemma was not a southern problem alone, but one shared by northern states.

Graham, who will address the Chicago Executives Club tomorrow and the National Council of Presbyterian men Saturday, said:

"A vast majority of northern churches today are segregated, whether they admit it or not. The time has come for the church to take the lead in this, to call people to prayer, and to set an example."

He leaves for Washington Monday to tell congressmen about his round-the-world evangelistic tour.

Ike to Begin Weekend at Gettysburg Farm

WASHINGTON (INS)—President Eisenhower will spend a long weekend at his Gettysburg farm starting tomorrow morning.

* * *

The first lady and her mother, Mrs. John S. Doud, have already begun their stay at the farm home. They motored the 85 miles from Washington to Gettysburg yesterday afternoon.

Mr. Eisenhower will probably fly up in his light plane on Friday morning, weather permitting, and return late Sunday.

The horse, originally a small food animal, attained its present size centuries after men reached six-foot stature.

MR. AND MRS. HUGH MORAIN

Speaking at Chapel Tonight

2 Sunnyvale Missionaries Prepare for 5-Year Trip

WATERFORD TOWNSHIP—Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Morain will continue with the second of five meetings at Sunnyvale Chapel tonight outlining their future missionary work in Frankfort-on-Main, Germany.

The 7:30 p.m. sessions will continue through Sunday, detailing the preparations the couple have completed for the five years of missionary work abroad, which starts next month.

Sunnyvale Chapel congregation is financing the personal expenses of the couple in their work.

Mrs. Morain will work principally with children, while her husband will be primarily concerned with young adults. After language barriers have been eased by a year of work at Frankfort-on-Main, the Morains are scheduled to move on to open a new missionary center in northern Germany.

In their first assignment, the Morains will be working with eight other young Americans who staff the Frankfort-on-Main missionary center.

Mrs. Morain is a native of Waterford Township. The former Jacqueline McCormack, she attended Waterford Township High School. She and her husband attended Northwestern College at Minneapolis, Minn., majoring in mission work. They were graduated in 1955.

Currently staying with Jacqueline's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert McCormack, of 56 Clayborn St., the couple will leave for Brooklyn, New York next Wednesday to visit the Bible Christian Union, with which they are affiliated.

Mr. and Mrs. McCormack will hold an open house for the couple from 2-5 p.m. Sunday. The Morains will board the USS United States for Europe on April 7.

Music Distracts Cows

MADISON, Wis. (INS) — Vearl Smith, professor of dairy husbandry at the University of Wisconsin, believes that farmers who play recorded music in their cowbarns are fooling themselves. He explained: "They will get less milk instead of more because music distracts cows."

Socrates U. Sekles Going to Washington

Socrates U. Sekles, of 185 Ottawa Dr., a leader in the "Justice for Cyprus" movement, will travel to Washington, D. C., Monday where he will take part in the Order of Ahepa's 12th national banquet.

Among major topics at the event will be the current unrest in Cyprus, according to Sekles who states that the "Justice for Cyprus" committee, of which is is vice president, will seek ways to aid Cyprians in the cause.

* * *

The Order of Ahepa is an organization of 100,000 whose members are Americans of Greek extraction.

Rep. George A. Dondero is expected to be among more than 400 Congressmen and government officials who will attend the banquet.

GERMANY'S GIFT TO HOLLYWOOD — Cornell Borchers, a taffy-haired beauty who is similar to Ingrid Bergman in beauty and bearing, is Germany's greatest gift to Hollywood since Marlene Dietrich. Although apparently set for a successful career here, she plans to continue to make her home in Garmisch where, she explains, "it is very beautiful."

Hollywood Headlines:

Germany Sends New Gift to Pretty Up U.S. Movies

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Germany's greatest gift to Hollywood since Marlene Dietrich is a taffy-haired natural beauty named Cornell Borchers.

Actually, she resembles the sultry Dietrich very little. She has been compared to Ingrid Bergman, and indeed she is similar to the noted Swede, both in beauty and bearing.

HEALTHY GLOW

Like Bergman, Cornell is statuesque (5 feet 7) with an ample figure that seems refreshing when stacked up against some of Hollywood's stars. Her skin has that healthy glow of Nordic beauties and she seldom uses makeup.

"It would look silly on me," she remarked. "I only wear enough to make my skin look darker for the camera."

But she added that German women are going in for more beautification than before.

* * *

"American women spend much more time grooming themselves," she observed. "Even busy ones, like secretaries and housewives, find the time to put up their hair at night so they'll look good the next day."

WELL RECEIVED

Cornell appears to be set for a successful Hollywood career. She was well received in her debut, "Never Say Goodbye," opposite Rocke Hudson. Now she's back for a costarring role with Errol Flynn in a romantic intrigue titled "Istanbul."

* * *

Despite her success here, she doesn't plan to settle permanently. Why?

"Because I have a home in Garmisch," she said. "It is very beautiful there. And I feel it is very important these days for actors to work in both America and Europe."

She plans to come here for one or two pictures a year and spend the rest of the time in Europe. She has both German and British passports, since she was married to an Englishman, Bruce Cunningham. They had a son, Christian, now 3, and are now divorced.

All That Time Wasted!

DALLAS (AP)—When a local man was arrested on a drunk driving charge, he told his lawyer he felt he would be convicted and wanted to spend some time in jail to credit against his sentence. The lawyer arranged cancellation of bond and the man went to jail to await trial. But this week, after he had amassed five weeks of jail time, the grand jury no-billed him on the charge.

Ex-Crime Chief, Adonis, Seeks 'Honest Job' in Italy

NAPLES (INS)—Joe Adonis, one-time U.S. crime overlord, is looking the length and breadth of Italy for "legitimate" business opportunities to use his "made in America" fortune.

* * *

Italian police who have been following Adonis with discretion, since he rates as a "free citizen" revealed that Adonis and a Miami attorney who accompanied him to Italy have been making quick trips to northern and central Italy to "examine business propositions."

Hotels, cafes, night clubs and even a plastics factory have been given consideration.

Other sources said that Adonis is planning to transfer large sums of money to Switzerland from which to draw for his Italian business enterprises as he needs ready cash.

Police officials admitted that "Signor Doto" — Giuseppe Doto is his real name—has made clear his irritation over the fact that police keep tabs on his movements. He complains "American pressure" still follows him in Italy even though he volunteered to leave the U.S. "just to be a free man." Adonis was facing deportation charges when he left the U.S.

* * *

One of the things that has irked Adonis most was the fuss made over a single cup of coffee given him when he first visited the mayor of Montemarano, his birthplace.

ROME HEARD STORY

The cup of coffee story made its way to Rome, to the Minister of the Interior and to the Chamber of Deputies where Minister of Interior Tambroni openly deplored "the fact such treatment was accorded." He explained that the coffee had been offered not by the mayor—or with city money — but by a city employe who was a distant relative of Adonis.

* * *

At any rate, the minister of interior instructed the Prefect (Governor) of Avellino to reprimand the mayor and the guilty employe of Montemarano.

Adonis has been angry at this behavior by Italian officialdom, which he blames on U.S. pressure, and has indicated privately he may retaliate by withdrawing the promise of $1,000 as an initial gift to the city of his birth.

His visit to Naples last week resulted in insistent reports there had been a secret meeting between Adonis and Lucky Luciano. Police officials would not exclude such a meeting. But Luciano denied it. And so did Adonis.

Unpaved Roads Good Except in 1 Section

Oakland County's gravel and dirt roads are in better shape than usual for this time of year except in the mkore heavily traveled south section, according to Oscar Loomis, Road Commission superintendent.

Crews are still repairing washouts caused by last week's rain, he stated.

"Some roads will remain muddy until a lengthy mild spell takes the frost completely out of the ground," Loomis explained.

Slayer of In-Law Placed on Probation

DETROIT (AP)—Mrs. Ruth Easter was free on probation today in the "count of three' shotgun killing of her brother-in-law last Oct. 22.

* * *

Mrs. Easter, 34, had pleaded guilty to second degree murder in the death of Kenneth Easter, 24, her brother-in-law. Her sons testified that she had ordered Easter to leave her house "by the count of three" or she would shoot him.

* * *

Easter, a former mental patient, refused to leave, the sons said, and Mrs. Easter fired at him with a shotgun.

Recorder's Judge George Murphy placed her on probation yesterday.

Governor Herter Confuses Cities in Dinner Speech

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — When Massachusetts Gov. Christian Herter began his speech to the Kent County Republicans here last night he said: "It is indeed a pleasure to be here in Battle Creek . . ."

* * *

As a titter ran through the audience Charles R. Sligh Jr., Kent County GOP chairman, arose and interrupted Herter.

"I'm sorry governor," Sligh said, "but I can't let that go uncorrected."

* * *

Herter apologized and continued his prepared speech.

After the speech Sligh, a furniture manufacturer, presented Herter with a table. The governor again apologized and said:

"I'll never mention the name of Battle Creek again."

House Stages Party for 86-Year-Old Solon

LANSING (AP) — The House dropped politics yesterday to stage a brief but happy birthday party for its dean, 86-year-old Joseph E. Warner, Ypsilanti Republican.

There were flowers, speeches, singing, and even a kiss from a Democrat—Rep. Josephine E. Hunsinger of Detroit.

* * *

Warner has indicated he will retire after this term—his 15th in the Legislature.

Chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee for the last eight years, he was elected to his first term in 1920.

Sue Township in Circuit Court

Four-C-Club Claims Government Is Trying to Break Up Group

An incorporated group, which transports its members to and from a grocery market, has filed suit in Oakland County Circuit Court claiming Royal Oak Township is attempting to force its breakup.

The Four-C-Club, with headquarters at 10679 Dunlop Ct., Ferndale, is suing the township board, Justice of the Peace Delbert Hunt and Township Police Chief William Ware.

* * *

The club says it began operating two cars March 4 transporting its members from their homes to a market in the township. It is a private, non-profit organization, it claims, which donates money surpluses to religious activities.

Township police have been arresting its drivers, the club alleges, on grounds the Four-C activities violate an ordinance governing the licensing of public carriers. The police actions are unconstitutional, the group claims, alleging the ordinance does not apply to a private corporation.

* * *

Circuit Judge Clark J. Adams yesterday ordered the township to appear March 19 and attempt to show why it should not be restrained from enforcing the ordinance against the club.

Report Red Rulers in Czechoslovakia Stepping Up Attacks Against Religion

VIENNA, Austria (AP)—The Communist rulers of Czechoslovakia have stepped up their attacks against religion, according to Czech newspapers and the reports of refugees reaching Vienna. The prime target is the Roman Catholic Church.

* * *

The latest drive concentrates on pressuring members of the Czech armed forces who still belong to churches to drop their membership and quit attending services.

At the same time the government and press are waging intensified campaigns against juvenile delinquency—including teenage drunkenness and prostitution. But they are not asking the churches to help.

* * *

Denouncing religion and church youth paper Mlada Fronta declared that "religion soon will be legally ended as something that is superfluous and detrimental to our thinking."

The Ostrava newspaper Nova Svoboda said, "Atheistic propaganda must be carried out consistently and systematically on the largest possible scale." It called on all teachers, cultural and political workers to join the drive to explain the "harmful character" of religion.

* * *

Recent refugees interviewed by Westerners say Catholic soldiers are commanded to attend lectures attacking their church and to pledge to drop their membership.

At the same time there are renewed reports of secret arrests of more priests in Czechoslovakia. Many are reported sent to labor camps.

The growing problem of juvenile delinquency is attacked by numerous Czechoslovak papers, including the Communist party organ Rude Pravo and the trade unions paper Prace.

* * *

"It is a sad and tragic picture," said Prace, relating conditions in Prague, the capital.

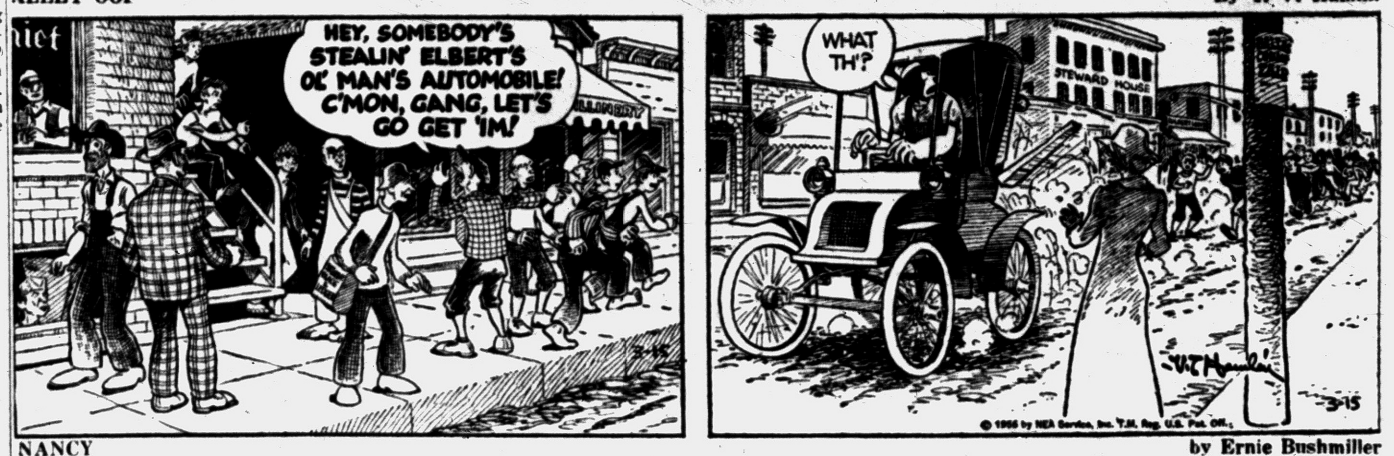

Prague police are waging a stiff campaign against prostitution and venereal disease, Prace adds, and prostitutes are punished with fines.

"But what is a fine to prostitutes? They laugh about it," complains Prace. "And what is being done about youth from the provinces who wander about Prague? When asked what they want in the capital, they refuse to answer. They subsist on the leavings in snack bars and they sleep in the railway stations."

Injured Driver Sues County for $50,000

Claiming negligence by the Oakland County Road Commission was responsible for an accident in which she was injured, Margaret R. Russell, of Birmingham is suing the commission for $50,000.

* * *

In a bill of complaint filed in Oakland County Circuit Court, she alleges she was driving on Maple road in Bloomfield Township last Nov. 27 when a bad spot in the road threw her car into the path of another.

* * *

The commission was responsible, she claims, for not keeping the highway "reasonably safe and convenient for public travel." No hearing date has been set.

Market Surges to New Heights

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market forged ahead in record high territory today with metal, chemical and oil issues standout performers in the early afternoon.

There also was a definite show of strength in motors, aircrafts and rails. Key stocks scored gains of 1 to 3 points. There were scattered losses of fractions.

Volume was running at a pace of over 3,000,000 shares for the day. Transactions totaled 3,140,000 shares yesterday when the market climbed to a new peak.

* * *

There again was a good amount of bullish news to help bolster confidence in the near-term business outlook. More companies announced record profits and huge partment of Commerce predicted that business outlays for plant expansion this year will be the greatest in history, with a total of 35 billion dollars.

* * *

Aluminum Co. of America was a feature, running up around 3 points after announcing that plans were "well advanced" for the construction of a new smelting plant. The company also reported record earnings for 1955.

* * *

Ahead over two points were Allied Chemical, Du Pont and Standard Oil (New Jersey).

Burroughs Corp. was up a point or so after it was announced that stockholders of Electro-data Corp., Pasadena, Calif., will be asked to approve an exchange of stock between the two companies. Under the plan, one share of Burroughs common would be issued for each two shares of outstanding Electro-Data stock.

* * *

Other gainers included Bethlehem, Chrysler, Ford, General Motors, Douglas Aircraft, Monsanto, Shell, Santa Fe and U. S. Gypsum.

Lower were Johns - Manville, Southern Pacific, General Electric and Studebaker-Packard.

2 Boys Thought Skunk Was Dead—He Wasn't

GOUVERNEUR, N. Y. (AP) — Buddy Graves and John Norton walked into Gouverneur Junior High School today and suggested they be separated from their classmates.

Last night, they explained, they stopped to remove a dead skunk from a trap.

But he wasn't.

JOHN RISE

ROBERT STEWART

Refrigeration Firm Moves Production Factory to City

Transfer of production facilities to 421 Ferry St. in Pontiac was announced yesterday by officials of the Frostrode Division of the Warren Alloy Co. The plant was formerly located in Vicksburg, Mich.

The new local plant will employ about 20 on three production lines in the output of cooling units for use in such fields as coolant chilling for machinery tools, solvent stabilizing in dry cleaning plants and home air conditioning.

Full production is expected to be attained in from 60 to 90 days.

Manager of the division is John Rise, of 3539 Oakshire, who formerly served as Warren Alloy's chief engineer. Sales manager is Robert Stewart, of 5755 Corunna, who has been associated with refrigeration sales since the early 1930s.

The new Pontiac quarters, besides providing larger manufacturing facilities, moves Frostrode closer to supplies and markets, according to Rise. Product design and development, engineering, manufacturing and sales departments will be located in the same building.

The company's headquarters are located in Detroit.

CARL SPENCER

Pick Local Designer to Head Ford Section

Carl Spencer, of 440 Cass-Elizabeth Rd., has been appointed manager of color and trim materials at the Ford Motor Co., according to Roy A. Brown, chief stylist in the firm's special products styling studio.

He formerly was associated with A. J. Auchterlonie & Sons Inc., manufacturer's representative for plastics, linen fabrics and paper products firms.

* * *

Spencer entered the styling field in 1935 when he joined the Ditzler Division of the Pittsburgh Plate Glass Co. after graduation from Michigan State University. As color engineer for the firm, he originated the idea of using model cars to display colors.

In 1939 he became a partner and editor of "Colors and Contours," an industrial styling supplement to Ward's Automotive Reports, authoritative periodical on the auto industry.

UAW Sharply Blasts Election Reform Bill

WASHINGTON (AP)—An elections reform bill now sponsored by 85 senators came under sharp attack from the United Automobile Workers today. The union called it inadequate and in some respects harmful.

The statement was given to members of the Senate Rules Committee, to which the measure has been referred.

One of the many objections raised by the UAW was its contention that under the bill "no political committee, other than a political party or branch, can operate at all without the written authorization of the candidate or candidates whom it seeks to support."

* * *

It said that under this provision "independent organizations such as labor political action groups, civic groups, (and) third parties might be prevented from carrying on their traditional political activities."

Says Russia May Have Long-Range A-Rockets

NEW YORK (INS) — Air Force Secretary Donald A. Quarles said last night that Russia has or will have "in the not very distant future" long-range atomic missiles able to reach speeds of thousands of miles an hour.

Quarles, speaking at Columbia University in New York called this development "a serious challenge to our qualitative leadership."

The Air Secretary also said Russia will soon have "substantial numbers of long-range jet bombers capable of delivering atomic weapons on the U.S."

Forgery Wave Strikes County

Prosecutor Cites Spread of Complaints to Police in Oakland Area

A rash of forged-check complaints has been received in recent weeks by county law enforcement agencies, according to Oakland County Prosecutor Frederick C. Ziem.

* * *

"And this is strange," he points out, "because most people know that forgery is a highly-punishable offense.

"Usually, persons bent on passing bogus checks simply sign a fictitious name, a crime classified as 'uttering and publishing.'"

It is not generally known, he explained, that uttering and publishing carries the same penalty as forgery — up to 14 years in prison.

Most of the forged checks have been in the $40 to $50 class, said Prosecutors' Chief Investigator Robert C. Miller.

In one case, Miller stated, the forger apparently found a checking account deposit slip on which a man had erroneously filled out and left on a bank counter. "The forger cashed a check after taking the man's name and account number from the slip," he explained.

Seek Teenager in Theft of Wallets From Store

A girl, about 15 and wearing a plaid stole, was suspected in the theft of two employes' billfolds from a downtown store yesterday.

Viletta Greiner, 44½ Fairgrove Ave., and Mae Hughes, 21, Monroe St., said the girl was loitering in the main floor dressing room where their purses were kept. About $13 was reported lost.

Robert V. Parenti to Seek Nomination

Attroney Robert V. Parenti today announced his candidacy for the Republication nomination to run for state representative from Oakland County's first district.

Parenti, 31, resides in Oxford and has his law offices in Pontiac. He graduated from the University of Detroit and the Detroit College of Law. He was a court clerk for Probate Judge Arthur E. Moore.

The candidate is Oxford Village attorney, school board vice president and a member of the Rotary Club and Elks Lodge. Former chairman of the Oxford Republican Committee, he is a director of the Oakland Town and Country YMCA and the Oxford Community Chest.

A World War II veteran, he is married and has three children. Parenti's nomination petitions are being circulated.

School in Operation After Vandals Strike

HAZEL PARK — High school officials here are adding up the damage of a team of vandals who yesterday ransacked the schools offices and thirty classrooms.

Principal Henry Beecher reported desks had been emptied, glass in doors and pictures and on desk tops were smashed and the school left in one general mess. Attempts by the vandals to enter an office vault were unsuccessful.

The school, at 22750 Highland, was put back into operation immediately after the cleanup job got under way.

Burglars Loot Drive-In, Rifle Vending Machines

Thieves who broke into a drive-in at 426 W. Huron St. last night reportedly gained $20 from an unlocked cash drawer and an undetermined amount of change from a rifled juke box and cigarette machine.

A co-owner, Della Martin, 448 Orchard Lake Ave. told Pontiac police that a side window had been forced open.

Card of Thanks 1

I WISH TO EXPRESS MY THANKS to many that helped me, in my Son—Roy W. Racine's tragedy. To the new neighbors for beautiful flowers and other help. To old neighborhood where he grew up. Several ministers that called at my home, also The Bordens boys, Chapter 9 Gold Star Mothers, that I am a member of, workers of Pontiac Motors, and Huntoon's Personnel. Also a host of other friends. God bless them all. My Son's one great desire was, if only he could just win one soul to his Lord, whom he loved dearly. His Mother—Sylvia M. Racine.

TV Awards Show Promises to Be the Brightest Ever

Nan Fabray Blames TV Split on Contract

NEW YORK (AP)—Stage and TV star Nanette Fabray says a "contractual impasse" will cause her to part professional company with comedian Sid Caesar on his NBC Caesar's Hour television show.

Miss Fabray said she and Caesar "shed some tears at rehearsal" yesterday. The attractive 33-year-old brunette will leave the show in June.

Miss Fabray, who said she and Caesar "were apart on many phases of the contract," said she was making plans of her own for next year. She did not elaborate.

Vacationers Lose Gear Even Before Embarking

HOPKINSVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Mr. and Mrs. Christy Terzrieff reported that trying to pack their car for a trip was like filling a bathtub with the drain open.

Each of them took a big load to the car. When they made a second trip with still more stuff, there was still plenty of room.

A thief had made off with the first two loads.

Puzzling Bandit Steals Loot, Then Returns It

CAPE GIRARDEAU, Mo. (AP)—This burglar may have been holding a practice run.

He took $573 from a safe in a food market, but left another $977 also in the safe. The next day he called the store owner, Robert L. Ward, and told him the stolen money was in a telephone booth some blocks away. Ward found the money.

The caller gave Ward no reason for his actions.

Bridge Without Water Now Span Without Fee

DECATUR, Neb. (AP)—For five years the Decatur Bridge was famous as a bridge without a river. Now that the Missouri River has been diverted under the span, it has acquired the distinction of being a toll bridge which could be traveled free.

The tolls were held off for the first few weeks of operation "so that the word will get around that we are in business," a bridge commission member explained.

Coronary Cases Up

COPENHAGEN — About 40,000 deaths occur in Denmark each year. Some 10,000 of them are due to heart disease, and of these by far the largest number are coronary-thrombosis cases, which appear to be increasing.

11 Carat Diamond Ring Eases Operation Pain

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—Billy Rose is a great little pain-killer. He eased Joyce Mathews' appendicitis operation by lugging an 11-carat diamond engagement ring into her room. It tops the engagement sparkler Milton Berle gave her by 3 carats (she had the latter set into a bracelet) and shines like a lighthouse beacon. Their Saturday, June 2, wedding's now set for the environs of Billy's Mt. Kisco home, recently expensively redecorated in anticipation of a new hostess.

JOYCE

The diamond, in shape, is just plain round—which isn't so plain when it's 11 carats. As Billy is childless and several times a millionaire, Joyce appears to have fallen into a mink-lined, diamond-studded trap. Blonde girls do have a rough time, don't they? Wonder how I could get to be one.

Another big marriage: Magda Gabor is about to announce her marriage to Tony Galluci, rich Long Island industrialist. The least famous Gabor Sister (a wonderful woman) is beating Zsa Zsa and Eva to a new husband . . . Lew Parker, the comedian, got his picture in the papers marrying Betty Kean and got an immediate wedding present—a call from a newspaper-reading income tax collector who'd been looking for him.

Perry Como wants to take the family to Honolulu for the summer, whereas Phil Silvers'll be working the Las Vegas Riviera in May, then loafing in Palm Springs before resuming summer filming . . . Rock Hudson was embarrassed. Although the kids scream about this new screen idol, a local paper called him "Rock Hunter."

MITZI

THE MIDNIGHT EARL . . .

Dagmar and her pappy broke down and bawled at sister Jeanne Eignor's wedding. She married Joe Nichols, a Pepsi salesman from the Carolinas . . . Frank Sinatra's hinting he may play the Copacabana in June.

Kim Novak's skiing pal, Tony Kastner, talked to her—N.Y.-to-L.A.—for 50 minutes . . . Gloria de Haven said she'll get hitched in Miami right after her Cotillion Room engagement . . . Duo at Lindy's: Eddie and Debbie . . . Barbara Hutton's husband, Baron von Cramm, will tennis-tour Mexico and Canada . . . Because of her work in "Anything Goes," Paramount hopes to make Mitzi Gaynor "the new Carole Lombard."

George Jessel said he'll narrate "The Jimmy Walker Story," with Bob Hope starring . . . Crown Prince Akihito of Japan visits our town in May.

Herb Jeffries, whose record of "Flamingo" sold more than a million copies, got $15 for making it.

EARL'S PEARLS . . .

A fellow who marries in haste repents at mealtime.—Art Moger, Boston.

★ ★ ★ ★

TODAY'S BEST LAUGH: Joey Carter tells of the new kind of mystery book. Everybody knows who did it—but they don't know what it is he did.

Fat Jack E. Leonard says Tony Martin is such a sharp dresser that even his pajama pants have creases—and to keep them pressed he sleeps standing up. That's earl, brother.

40 Jail Inmates Ill

TAMPA, Fla. (AP)—More than 40 Hillsborough County Jail inmates were stricken ill last night, and the diagnosis on 15 hospitalized was acute food poisoning. None of the inmates was listed in serious condition. Sheriff Ed Blackburn Jr. expressed puzzlement. He said he and some deputies ate the same fare—spaghetti for lunch and potato salad and bologna for supper—and felt no ill effects.

Linkletter, Daly Will Be Emcees

Winners to Get Emmys Saturday in New York and Hollywood

By EMILY BELSER

HOLLYWOOD (INS) — Despite all the fightin' and feudin' in the ranks, the eighth annual Television Academy Awards night promises to be the brightest in history.

* * *

The $100,000, hour-and-a-half show will be telecast over NBC-TV Saturday with Art Linkletter emceeing from the Pan Pacific Auditorium in Hollywood and John Daly running things from the Waldorf-Astoria in New York.

More than 5,000 guests and over 200 nominees will assemble in the two locations for the famed "Emmy" awards to be handed out by Phil Silvers, Sam Levenson, Hal March, Robert Cummings, Jimmy Durante and George Gobel.

The fact that certain members of the academy, including Jerry Lewis, Dick Powell, Groucho Marx and Jack Webb, have been giving "Emmy" a bad time hasn't hurt the situation one bit.

* * *

"This just proves," said President Don De Fore, "that the academy is still suffering from growing pains and that the beefers have been taking the Emmy awards too lightly."

WOULDN'T EMCEE

Lewis and Powell both refused to emcee the big show—Lewis because his partner Dean Martin, was not nominated, and Powell on general principles.

* * *

Groucho hopped on the anti-Emmy bandwagon because he wound up as an "audience participation" nominee instead of in the "best comedian" class, and Webb called a foul because he was named "best director of a film series" in connection with a 1954 instead of a 1955 film.

It was later revealed that Webb himself submitted the nomination.

This year's 40 national Emmy awards will be handed out against almost duplicate backgrounds, since the Pan Pacific Auditorium (usually used for sporting events) has been facelifted to simulate the Waldorf ballroom in New York.

On the big night, celebrities and guests will be greeted at the main entrance of the Pan Pacific by a 9-foot, gold-colored plastic replica of the Emmy, set before a 20-foot curved backing.

* * *

On stage, Linkletter and the award-presenters will work from a lectern equipped with a special TV monitor. Immediately behind the lectern will be a huge 9x12-foot projection screen which will be used to show happenings in movietown and in Gotham.

UP FOR AWARDS

Top programs up for Emmy awards are the Jack Benny show, the Bob Cummings show, Caesar's Hour, George Gobel show. Make Room for Daddy and the Phil Silvers show.

* * *

Top acting nominees include Gracie Allen, Eve Arden, Lucille Ball, Jean Hagen, Ann Sothern, Bob Cummings, Jackie Gleason, Phil Silvers, Danny Thomas and Robert Young.

Astrophysicist Sees Space Trip to Moon

LOS ANGELES (AP)—There may be a real man in the moon within 10 years, says a noted astrophysicist.

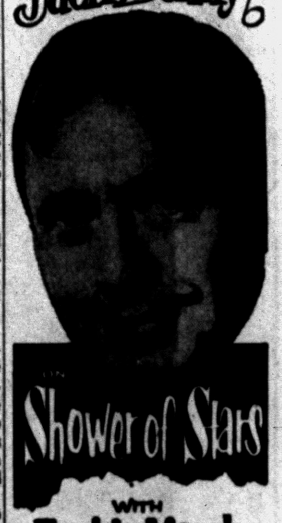

* * *

Space travel to the moon on free fuel is possible, in the opinion of Dr. Fritz Zwicky, if 10 million dollars is made available for research and for construction of a rocket ship.

The California Institute of Technology professor told a news conference yesterday that such a ship could travel indefinitely on power collected as it rushes along far above the earth.

Fragments of molecules could be scooped up by the ship while speeding through space, Dr. Zwicky said. These fragments could be held inert by extreme cold and then heated to release tremendous energy.

Sheep have two skins separated by a fat layer. The lower one produces hair and wool grows on the upper one.
