Student-Faculty exhibit runs through May 19

Meadow Brook Art Gallery will host "ILLUSIONS & illuminations: The 2002 Student-Faculty Exhibition" Friday, April 19, until Sunday, May 19. The opening reception is Friday, April 19, from 5 to 7:30 p.m. at the gallery, located in 208 Wilson Hall across the hall from Meadow Brook Theatre. The exhibition is free and open to the public.

The student-faculty exhibition is an annual event that presents new work by students and faculty of the Department of Art and Art History. It shows the culmination of a year's work in which fine art students have developed their own unique vision.

"It is our best opportunity to show what we do as studio art professors and students," said Dick Goody, special instructor of art history. "The exhibition provides students with the valuable experience of showing their work in a professional setting, rather than in on a studio wall. It also allows faculty and students to show work together strengthening the relationship between mentor and student."

About 70 works will appear in the exhibition including video, installation, photography, painting and drawing.

Three awards will be presented to students whose work is judged as Best of Show ($200), Honorable Mention I ($150) and Honorable Mention II ($75).

Meadow Brook Art Gallery is open Tuesday-Friday from noon to 5 p.m., and Saturday and Sunday from 1 to 5:30 p.m. It also is open during Meadow Brook Theatre performances Wednesday-Friday at 7 p.m. through the first intermission and on Saturday and Sunday at 5:30 p.m. through the first intermission.
