

City Urges County to Come In on Joint Airport

ONE COLOR

Expansion of Pontiac Municipal Airport into a large, metropolitan City-County Airport was urged last night by the City Commission.

The airport would be enlarged and maintained jointly by Pontiac and Oakland County, the proposal stated.

The joint facility would rival airports in the Detroit area, and would serve Oakland, Wayne and Macomb counties, said Commissioner Loy L. Ledford, sponsor of the plan.

He added it would not be a jet airport but would use up to four-engine propeller planes for freight and passenger business.

HAMLIN IN FAVOR

A unanimous resolution asking establishment of a joint city-county committee to implement the plan drew immediate personal endorsement from Delos Hamlin, chairman of the Oakland County Board of Supervisors.

However, Hamlin added, "I have no idea whether the board of supervisors would go for it or not."

He saw no conflict in the city airport plan with future use of Allen Airport as a general airport to serve industry which he had suggested last week.

"All the experts have said there will be an absolute necessity for more than one airport in Oakland County," he said, "I don't see why we can't fit in the Allen Airport with a new City-County Airport near Pontiac."

The City Commission adopted the joint airport plan shortly after approving a federal grant agreement last night which gives Pontiac Municipal Airport $200,000 for widening of runways and taxiways, for improved lighting and control tower apparatus during 1962.

Among the city commissioners last night, Commissioner Winford E. Boston praised the resolution as "wonderful" but said that the idea had been "in preparation for years ago."

A note of warning was injected by Commissioner William H. Taylor who said people in the Pontiac area would have as much cause for complaint as people in the Allen's Airport area.

Commissioner Charles H. Hamlin inquired of City Attorney William A. Ewart whether state legislation would be needed for the joint project.

Ewart replied that such legislation would have to be obtained and that his department was ready to draw up a request for it.

The city is asking the supervisors to help establish a joint committee to work out "all of the details" relative to creating a joint City-County Airport in place of the Pontiac Municipal Airport now operated by the City of Pontiac.

Hamlin commented that the supervisors already have an aviation committee "which I'm sure would be glad to work with any committee of the city and see if we can work toward an agreement of any kind or do some exploring."

Future Looks Bleak for Ruling on Prayer

WASHINGTON (AP)—Members of Congress, still firing salvos of criticism at the Supreme Court's ruling against public school prayers, have introduced amendments to the Constitution to override the decision.

But congressional leaders — and the long, tedious mechanics involved — cast doubt on the move's success.

Charges of atheism and giving aid to communism were hurled across Capitol Hill at the white marble court building by members of the legislative branch, some of whom contended the justices had taken God out of the law of the land.

While amendments to legalize classroom praying were introduced in both House and Senate, there were also demands for stronger action, including amendments to require Supreme Court justices to stand for election and giving Congress the power to override the court's decisions.

The possibility was seen as remote, however, that any of the suggested constitutional changes could win the needed two-thirds majority in both houses and ratification by three-fourths of the states.

In the Senate, Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois said he didn't think the proposals to put classroom prayers in the Constitution could be passed.

"The proposition of church and state is so ingrained into our people that I doubt that such an amendment would be adopted," Dirksen said.

Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower said, "I always thought that this nation was essentially a religious one."

"I realize, of course," he said, "that the Declaration of Independence antedates the Constitution, but the fact remains that the Declaration does our certificate of national birth. It specifically asserts that we as individuals possess certain rights as an endorsement from our common Creator."

Chief's Car Hit, Driver Is Ticketed

Walled Lake Police Chief James (Al) Decker may have been down but, most certainly, not out.

Yesterday, while waiting for a stop light on West Huron Street in Pontiac, his car was rammed from behind by a pickup truck driven by Vincent D. Deneau, 36, of 2971 Sutherland St., Waterford Township.

Decker, 43, of 223 Wellsboro St., Walled Lake, suffered minor back injuries.

Just before the ambulance took him to Pontiac General Hospital for treatment, Decker handed Deneau a traffic ticket charging careless driving.

Reorganization 'in Order'? Agriculture Dept. Seared

House Republicans Veto More Money for Universities

LANSING (AP)—Republican legislators held the line today against a final drive by Democrats to boost appropriations in the $512 million state budget for 1962-63.

House Democrats, rebuffed all along the line yesterday, doggedly tried to fatten the higher education budget by $3.1 million to head off the need for tuition increases at the nine state colleges and universities. Economy-minded Republicans turned them down cold.

Next on the agenda is a battle over a Senate-approved proposal to increase the pay of legislators from $5,000 to $7,000 a year. The increase, to cost $200,000 a year, stands a good chance of House approval.

With doors locked and guarded to keep lawmakers from straying off, House members fought for nearly 12 hours over Democratic amendments carrying bigger appropriations for mental health, public institutions, public health and construction programs.

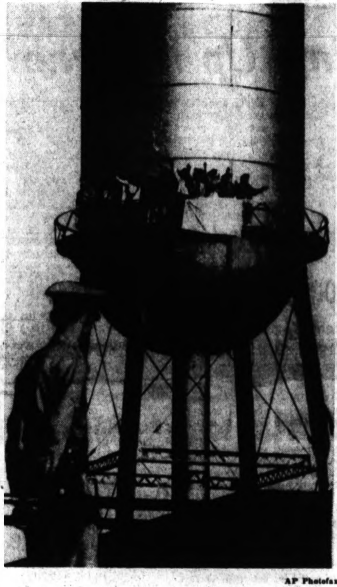

ONLY HALF

The $6 million increase in higher education spending provides colleges and universities with about half of what Gov. Swainson had sought.

Republican legislators indicated that the institutions should increase their tuitions to make up the difference.

The University of Michigan and Wayne State University already have boosted tuitions starting in September.

Senate Prober Slams Handling of Estes Case

McClellan Investigators Open Public Hearing Into Texan's 'Deals'

From Our News Wires
WASHINGTON (AP)—A Senate investigator bitterly criticized the Agriculture Department's handling of the Billie Sol Estes case today and suggested that a "major reorganization of the department might be in order."

The development came as the McClellan investigations subcommittee opened its long-awaited public inquiry into the tangled affairs of the now-bankrupt Texas financier. Today's session concentrated on Billie Sol's cotton allotments and the way they were handled by the Agriculture Department.

Agriculture Secretary Orville L. Freeman had been scheduled to testify today. But subcommittee chairman John L. McClellan, D-Ark., told newsmen that the secretary's appearance might be postponed until tomorrow.

Freeman wanted to appear on the opening day, McClellan said he would defer to the secretary's wishes if he insisted on appearing. But he said he would prefer first to hear another Agriculture Department witness outline departmental action procedures.

Paul E. Kammerick, assistant counsel to the Senate Investigations subcommittee, testified he has learned that the warning was given as far back as Dec. 20, 1960, and that every one of Estes' disputed cotton acreage deals was sanctioned at later dates by farm aid officials in Texas with no one in Washington calling a halt.

He said H. L. Manaway, Agriculture Department deputy administrator of production adjustment, ruled on that date in 1960 that the complex deals under which Estes was to sell land to farmers, then lease back the cotton acreage allotments on these acres, appeared to constitute a scheme or device which should not be approved.

Kammerick, a former FBI agent, said he found the Agriculture Department to be a sort of bureaucratic jungle that needs an overhaul. But he said he considers it inconceivable that inefficiency or carelessness alone could explain all that happened in the Estes case.

In Pecos, Tex., Dist. Judge J. H. Starkey granted Estes a continuance today of his trial on charges of defrauding a fellow Reeves County farmer of $182,144.

U.S. Planning 6-Orbit Flight

Walter M. Schirra Picked as Pilot for Late Summer Shot

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States announced today that the next manned orbital flight will be planned for as many as six orbits some time late this summer, with astronaut Walter M. Schirra Jr. as the pilot.

D. Brainerd Holmes, manned space flight director of the civilian space agency said the decision as to the specific mission—that is, how many orbits will actually be made—will depend upon many technical factors which will be evaluated constantly up to the time of flight and even during the first turns around the earth.

If the mission goes—six orbits it would involve a nine-hour flight, compared with the 3½ hours of three-orbit missions. The two U.S. orbital flights so far have been for three turns.

The flight plan will call for considerable drifting flight to conserve fuel for re-entry maneuvering.

If the flight goes to five or six orbits it would mean landing about 300 miles northeast of Midway Island in the Pacific, although the space craft would be launched from Cape Canaveral, Fla. That is because of the rotation of the earth during the extra flight time.

A four-orbit mission would bring the craft down about 300 miles east of Midway.

While NASA listed the time of the upcoming flight only as some time late this summer, the unofficial word is that it will come in late August or early September.

Fun Programs Start

Sales of Land May Aid County

The Oakland County Board of Auditors hopes to pick up $58,350 in land sales to bolster the 1963 budget for county government.

Robert Lilly, board secretary, said today.

He admitted that even if the county realizes that sum in auctioning off its surplus lands, the money won't go far towards easing a foreseeable $2-million budget shortage.

"But it's a step in the right direction," Lilly said.

Meanwhile the auditors will continue to look for other ways of producing more dollars to ward off the $16,555,382 tentative budget before trying to trim it.

The land to be sold sometime next month at public auction is wildlife property formerly used to house indigent families. These families have since relocated or been removed from welfare rolls, according to Lilly.

The property originally was purchased by the county at state tax sales in the thirties. Eleven of the 20 parcels to be auctioned off are in Pontiac. The rest are scattered elsewhere in the county.

Moves to Forestall Outbreak

U.S. Aims at Quiet China

WASHINGTON (AP)—Officials said today current U.S. diplomatic and military moves in the Far East are designed to forestall any possible outbreak of fighting between Red China and the Nationalist China.

President Kennedy is expected to discuss the Formosa situation and the build-up of Chinese Communist forces opposite the Nationalist-held area at a news conference late today.

One question he may clarify is U.S. policy with respect to the defense of the Nationalist-held islands of Quemoy and Matsu which lie close to the Communist mainland.

The policy laid down under the Eisenhower administration might be foreseen "no real trouble" in the Formosa Strait. He told newsmen in Las Vegas, Nev., that he doubts Red China will launch any serious attack on the offshore islands.

The United States is reported to have told Red China through its ambassador at Warsaw that this country would not support any invasion attempt by Nationalist President Chiang Kai-shek.

On Quemoy, Nationalist Chinese defenders on this bit of run-bristling rock are taking the massive Communist build-up on the China mainland only five miles away, a lot more calmly than most of the rest of the world.

In the last three weeks, a top Nationalist commander reports the Reds have boosted their military.

New Testimony Set in Dispute

Hearings Resume Today on Injunction Against Flight Engineers

NEW YORK (UPI) — Federal Judge George Rosling called renewed hearings today in Pan American World Airways' efforts to stave off a renewed flight engineers strike by means of an injunction.

Rosling put off making an expected ruling on a preliminary injunction yesterday and instead extended a restraining order against the Flight Engineers International Association (FEIA) until 3 p. m. (Pontiac time) July 6.

The FEIA's attorney, Daniel Korshak, angrily charged the court was abridging a congressionally granted right to strike.

Rosling countered that he wanted time to conduct an "orderly" hearing to bring out all the facts and to study the law.

HEARING SET TODAY

Rosling scheduled additional testimony and arguments for 1 p. m. today in federal court at Brooklyn. There was no immediate indication how many days the hearings might consume.

Korshak at first said he would appeal immediately to the Circuit Court of Appeals. But he later modified that by saying he probably would not appeal right away, awaiting instead the outcome of today's hearing.

Rosling's delaying a walkout by Pan American's 500 flight engineers had no effect on an FEIA strike which has grounded Eastern Air Lines since last Saturday at an estimated loss of $1 million a day in revenue.

Pan American conceded yesterday that uncertainty in the minds of passengers over continued operations had hurt its business during this heavy vacation period.

The flight engineers also went on strike against Pan American last Saturday, but returned to work a few hours later when the airline secured the temporary restraining order from Rosling.

The restraining order was extended by Rosling less than 15 minutes before the 3 p. m. deadline.

Police and city officials this week were to meet with the owners of McDonald's Drive-In, North Perry Street near East Boulevard, after City Commissioner Loy L. Leford last night demanded the city "clean up or close up" the restaurant.

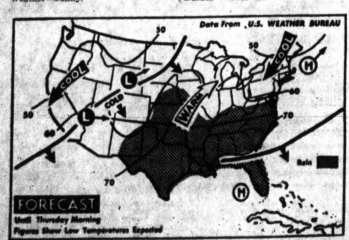

Teen-age customers have been a constant source of police complaints, commissioners were told. Leford said the street near the restaurant also was being used as a race course.

"At midnight Monday, there was a boy with a checkered flag standing in the middle of the street getting ready to give the go-sign to two hot rods," City Manager Robert Sizer agreed. "The number of incidents at the restaurant have been unusually large and are of a nature that should be suppressed or wiped out."

Appears to Be Quitting Fight

OAS Giving Up in Oran?

ALGERIERS (AP)—Leaders of the between Oran's secret army and the terrorist Secret Army Organization in Oran, which has virtually held that city in its grip for months, appeared today to be giving up the bloody struggle. It was too early to be certain that the secret army was fading off the scene in the western Algerian city.

But there were these indications: French authorities reported that former Col. Jean Defour, one of the secret army leaders in western Algeria, made a broadcast last night ordering a halt to sabotage in Oran.

Unconfirmed reports circulated in Oran that ex-Gen. Paul Gaudy, had fled Oran with several of his aides. Gaudy had announced he was taking over leadership of the secret army after several top figures in the organization were captured.

MAKES APPEAL

Pierre Laffont, the director of the Oran paper, Echo d'Oran, and a leader of the European community, said Algeria should become independent in peace. In an editorial Laffont called on residents of the Oran area to avoid new suffering during the days leading to independence.

There were no fresh reports of violence in Oran, which has frequently been tortured by explosions and fires for weeks. Telephone communications, cut by sabotage, were returning to normal.

A huge fire on oil tanks on the waterfront caused authorities to close the port Tuesday, blocking the exit of European refugees by ship for at least 48 hours.

—Rene Seyda, a French official who has been trying to mediate up in the next 48 hours," Sover said. Other officials also expressed optimism that a deal could be worked out and terrorism halted in the western Algerian port before Algeria's Muslim majority endorses independence in a self-determination referendum Sunday.

Soyer, a free-checkered, goateed Paris merchant, turned government minister only two months ago, said his mediation efforts after the desert French officers directing European resistance in Oran rejected the peace pact worked out 10 days ago between the Algiers' secret army command and the Muslims.

Although vague in its promise of amnesty for European terrorists of the former, the pact has brought peace to most of Algeria. But the Oran secret army command said it was "without an end value" and ordered all Europeans to quit Algeria and destroy everything left behind.

FLINT (AP)—Unionist George H. Dougherty, for years a down-the-line Democrat but a Republican since April, supports Michigan's proposed constitution and says others in labor also will do so.

Dougherty, who broke with the Democrats April 23 in announcing his candidacy as a Republican for the legislature, said in an interview that "a large number of thinking people" of labor support the proposal.

"They will vote for the interests of labor, not those of Gus Scholle (Michigan AFL-CIO president) and his colleagues," Dougherty said.

A United Auto Workers Union member since 1940 and a former president of Temerast Local 326, Dougherty said he was actively sought the Democratic nomination for lieutenant governor two years ago. He failed to get AFL-CIO endorsement.

An avowed Republican now, Dougherty says the Democratic party is no longer dedicated to the interests of all the people but instead has become "controlled by political bosses for their own selfish gain."

The Republican party, he says, is the party "which all people may join in a common effort to resolve our many problems."

Dougherty said he was in Grand Rapids at the Michigan AFL-CIO convention when he said Scholle announced a standing "unanimous" vote against the proposed new constitution.

Dougherty said he intends to vote for Republican George Romney for governor and said he last time he voted for a Republican for governor was for Kim Sigler in 1944. Sigler was elected.

Dougherty split with the Flint AFL-CIO council over its state of five Democratic candidates for the constitutional convention and announced he would support their Republican adversaries. The Republicans won at the Pontiac city clerk's office.

Area Churches Eying Merger

Lutheran Congregations in County to Be Affected by Action Tomorrow

Several area churches will be affected when four Lutheran church bodies with a combined membership of more than three million merge in a new Lutheran Church of America at Cobo Hall, Detroit Thursday through Sunday.

The convention of the new church is being preceded by the closing conventions of the four merging bodies — the United Lutheran Church of America, an Evangelical Lutheran Church, Augustana Lutheran Church and Finnish Evangelical Lutheran Church (Suomi Synod).

Pastor Charles Colberg of Glori Dei Lutheran Church here said there are no major differences in doctrine, that nationally backgrounds largely distinguish the church groups.

According to the local pastor, Augustana Lutheran is Swedish; American Evangelical, Danish; and United Lutheran, German.

In addition to the 1,000 official delegates, approximately 500 "official visitors" and several thousand visitors from all parts of the United States, Canada and the Caribbean will attend the constituting convention.

Area Lutheran churches to be affected by the merger include Christ Lutheran Church in Waterford Township, Calvary Lutheran in Clarkston, Lutheran Church of the Ascension in Waterford Township and Glori Dei Lutheran in Clarkston.

The dissolution officially kills the original $4-million plan. The city now must petition Oakland County to establish a new drainage board as soon as a new city plan is definite.

In other business last night, the commission heard a proposal from Commissioner Loy L. Leford to create a park at Gateway Lake.

The city attorney, assisted by the city engineer, was instructed to prepare an ordinance regulating set-back lines in residential areas.

OKAY CONTRACTS The commission also gave final approval of documents for the approval and resurfacing contracts given to the AEA Asphalt Paving Co. for a total of $170,000.

The contract was okayed as an item not listed on the agenda after the commission passed a resolution on Leford's request barring addition of nonagenda items except for emergencies.

Leford had complained commissioners were being asked to make decisions on items which were placed on the agenda shortly before the meeting.

The commission postponed a decision on letting contracts for fleet and workmen's compensation insurance after only two firms submitted bids, one firm stating it would accept only a package deal on both policies.

Michigan Mutual Liability Co. bid $11,887.85 as the cost of bodily injury and property damage liability on 368 city cars. A trailers and smaller motor equipment.

Liquor Officers Await Cheaters

Plan More Investigators to Halt Beer Bootlegging After Tax Hike

LANSING (AP)—The State Liquor Control Commission is gearing for a moderate surge in beer bootlegging expected when the beer tax goes up to two cents a bottle Sunday.

George J. Burke Jr., the commission's business manager, said field investigators will be deployed along border areas in a move to discourage bootlegging from other states.

"We can't disclose our specific plans, because we naturally don't want to tip our hands to bootleggers," Burke said. "But you can be sure that we will exercise all the controls that we can with our limited forces."

The commission has 30 investigators and five or six will be hired soon. The legislature turned down its request for an additional 25 investigators.

"We also get help from state police and local law enforcement men," Burke said.

BEER UP 2 TO 5 CENTS

The beer tax will go up from $1.25 a barrel to the equivalent of $1.51, the highest in all but six southern states and Alaska. The tax will be levied on all foot stocks at the rate of two cents a bottle.

A four per cent excise tax will be levied on liquor, restoring a tax that expired a year ago.

"We don't have any indication yet of whether there will be much liquor bootlegging because of the higher tax," Burke said.

Burke said there has been no general indication yet whether most bar and tavern owners will lower their prices or absorb the increases.

"Those that do can be expected to raise their beer prices a nickel a bottle," he said.

The State Revenue Department is taking steps to discourage bootlegging of cigarettes when the tax on them goes up to four per cent Sunday. With the increase, the price difference between Michigan and neighboring states will be as much as four cents a pack.

All three taxes are part of a $75-million "nuisance" tax package passed by the legislature earlier this month. Other parts of the package will add a four per cent tax on telephone and telegraph service and add one mill to the four-mill corporation franchise fee.

Pontiac City Affairs

A new proposed Clinton River drainage improvement will be put before the City Commission at its July 3 meeting, according to City Manager Robert Sizer. Action on the project will be deferred at last night's commission meeting.

A county drainage board formed to consider the previous City Commission's $4-million river plan was dissolved yesterday afternoon after hearing Sizer report on the latest viewpoint of the commission.

The dissolution officially kills the original $4-million plan. The city now must petition Oakland County to establish a new drainage board as soon as a new city plan is definite.

In other business last night, the commission heard a proposal from Commissioner Loy L. Leford to create a park at Gateway Lake.

The Day in Birmingham

First Methodist Church Receives New Minister

BIRMINGHAM — Dr. G. Ernest Thomas has been named minister of the First Methodist Church of Birmingham, succeeding Dr. Arnold F. Funkel who becomes pastor emeritus after 18 years.

The appointment was announced by Bishop Marshall R. Reed.

Dr. Thomas has served the last several years as director of Spiritual Life for the Methodist Church through the General Board of Evangelism.

Born in England and the son of a Methodist minister, he came to New England as a boy where his father served as a member of the New Hampshire Conference for many years.

Dr. Thomas was educated at Boston University, receiving B.A., M.A. and bachelor of sacred theology degrees and a doctorate with a major in psychology. His pastorate includes churches in New Hampshire and New Jersey.

He is the author of a number of books, including "To Whom Much is Given," "The Holy Habits of the Spiritual Life," "How to Live Your Faith," and "Spiritual Life Through Thinking."

AUTHOR

One of his two sons is a missionary in Southern Rhodesia. The other is a pastor in Illinois. He also has two daughters.

Dr. Thomas will preach his first sermon Sunday on the theme "The Marks of a Great Church."

Birmingham has been awarded a pedestrian safety citation in the city's annual safety contest.

Major political parties have scheduled their Oakland County conventions in Pontiac at 5 p.m. Aug. 15.

Democrats will meet in the supervisors' room of the courthouse annex, 1 Lafayette St., and Republicans will meet in Pontiac Northern High School.

At the session, elected precinct committeemen will select delegates to the state conventions and conduct other party business.

Taxpayers Should Cry: 'Who's Biggest Sap of All?'

By RUTH MONTGOMERY
WASHINGTON — The Biblical cry, "How long, oh Lord, how long..." strikes a responsive chord with American taxpayers, who are being compelled to divide their paychecks with one of the most ungrateful bands of international straphangers in history.

To record the bare statistics about our relations with the Indian government of Premier Jawaharlal Nehru is to prove that fact is stranger than fiction.

No novelist seeking to represent a nation as a duple or a duple would dare set down a story as wildly improbable as this one. After all, a fiction writer must maintain some semblance of reality.

Last Thursday the U.S. and India signed the papers for a $25-million long-term loan to aid Indian industrial development.

LOW INTEREST

Although Americans seeking home mortgages must pay them off at approximately 6 per cent interest in 15 or 20 years, India will pay only three-fourths of 1 per cent interest for a super-generous 40-year term.

Since Uncle Sam pays nearly 4 per cent for the money he borrows, John Q. Public must make up the difference.

India's finance minister, in commenting to accept the bounty comment that it would strengthen India's "weak balance-of-payments position."

ANOTHER DRAIN

It certainly should, for it produces still another disastrous drain on our own alarming balance-of-payments position; and comes on the heels of another U.S. loan to India of $533 million—the largest single loan in 11 years of boundless aid-to-India—made only three months previously.

Is India grateful for our largesse? Oh, definitely. Nehru, only two days after our latest loan, took the floor of parliament to direct a diatribe against the United States of America.

Confirming that India has reached agreement to buy super-sonic jet fighter engines from Soviet Russia, he rasped that was nobody's business but India's.

An Associated Press story from New Delhi said Nehru also bitterly assailed the U.S. for daring to criticize India's seizure of Portuguese Goa by armed force, and for his refusal to permit a plebiscite in Kashmir, which is a Moslem state like adjoining Pakistan.

The Indian parliament rewarded Nehru for his anti-American speech by "vigorous applause and unanimous vote of confidence."

Besides the two outsized loans, India is also down for a tremendous chunk of our more than four-billion-dollar foreign aid program this year.

When the foreign relations committee, laced by Nehru's double-dealing with Russia and by the antics of his pre-Communist defense minister, UN Ambassador Krishna Menon, voted to strafe India from the aid measure, the administration hastily pressured to have it restored.

How much longer, one wonders, will Americans be forced to support Nehru, Menon & Co., while meekly accepting their abuse?

How much longer, in fact, will newsmen in New York submit to gratuitous insults from the city Menon, before punching him in the nose?

This would seem to be the time to face facts. The more money and goods that we lavish on Nehru's government, the more it despises us.

We cannot even buy respect—let alone love—from the Indian ingrates.

When Moscow shocked decent people everywhere by secretly breaking the moratorium on nuclear testing, Krishna Menon smiled silyly and blamed it all on us.

Nehru looked the other way, and secretly prepared to invade Portuguese territories, which Russia then applauded.

WELCOME WORN OUT

These sanctimonious characters who have been posing for a decade as the moral conscience of the world have worn out their welcome.

Uncle Sam, who is surely old enough to know better, continues to invite the collapse of the free world by spending himself into bankruptcy. Perhaps the fairy tale query is therefore as apt as the Biblical one: "Mirror, mirror on the wall, who's the biggest sap of all?"

Philly Honors Michigan, Marking Entry Into U. S.

PHILADELPHIA (UPI)—The state of Michigan was honored yesterday at a flag-raising ceremony at Independence Hall commemorating its entry into the Union.

U.S. Sen. Philip A. Hart, D-Mich., a native of suburban Philadelphia, spoke at the ceremonies, the 26th weekly exercise honoring the states in the order of their acceptance to the Union.

Wheat Decision Set for July 24

Date for Referendum on Market Quota Is Disclosed by Freeman

WASHINGTON — A wheat marketing quota referendum is set for July 24.

Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman set the date yesterday when he announced a 1963 wheat allotment of 55 million acres.

Freeman said he was making the announcement with the greatest reluctance and only to comply with the 1959 law which he criticized sharply.

A temporary wheat and feed grains program which superseded that law expires at the end of this year, and the House killed last week the tight controls program the Kennedy administration asked for next year.

SLIGHT HOPE

Freeman said there was slight hope Congress still will enact a new law affecting the 1963 wheat crop. If that happens, he said, "The announcement made today can be vacated."

Approval of marketing quotas for the 1963 crop would set the national average support price for wheat at not less than $1.50 per bushel. That would be 75 per cent of the estimated parity price for wheat as of the beginning of the 1963-64 marketing year.

The national average support price of 1962 crop wheat was set at $2 a bushel.

The department said the 1962 crop may be one of the smallest in recent years — based on June 1 crop conditions.

'Britain to Keep N-Deterrent'

Macmillan Says Though Linked to U.S., England Has Independent Right

LONDON (AP) — Prime Minister Macmillan said today Britain possesses an independent nuclear deterrent and for the present intends to keep it.

Macmillan told the House of Commons that in practice the United States and Britain have an understanding in which neither country would think of using a nuclear weapon in any part of the world without consulting the other.

"But that does not take away the independent right of both the American government and the British government," the prime minister added.

He also said he recognizes "that France is now a nuclear power and likely to remain one."

Macmillan attempted in his statement to clear up the arguments that have developed here regarding the status of Britain's hydrogen bomb and the shape the West's nuclear defenses will take in the future. The U.S. position that the West needs a multilateral nuclear deterrent, operated on a single common policy, has created a stir in British political and defense circles.

The prime minister was careful not to slam the door on the participation in some future type of European nuclear force.

"What may be the ultimate development of European defense is a matter for consideration in accordance with the changing circumstances," he said.

He stressed that the ultimate aim is to reach an enforceable, international agreement to abolish all such weapons, but said "there are powerful arguments against prematurely throwing away both these weapons and the arguing position."

Miami Beach 'Joins' Closed by Police Chief

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Police closed all five of Miami Beach's strip joints Tuesday night. The police chief said they were fire traps.

Testimony before a Senate investigating committee in Washington last week indicated that some of the night clubs at Miami Beach were controlled by the underworld and allowed open solicitation for prostitution.

"We've been planning this for months," said Police Chief Michael Fox. "Other investigations held it up."

Fox headed a squad that ordered customers out and stopped the shows at the five clubs. No arrests were made.

Fox said he intended to keep the clubs closed until they complied with fire department regulations.

Six Teen-Agers Located on Isle in Venice Lagoon

VENICE, Italy (AP)—Six teenagers Robinson Crusoes were marched back to their parents Tuesday after roughing it for nearly a month on a half-acre island in Venice's big lagoon.

Police rounded up the adventurers after fishermen detected signs of life on the island, half a mile from civilization. The parents had been without news of the lads since May 28 when three of them left letters saying they were quitting school for a life of adventure world.

Lakes Port Body Moves to Halt Water Pollution

FORT WILLIAM, Ont. (AP)—The International Association of Great Lakes Ports took steps yesterday to halt water pollution in port cities.

The association, at its annual meeting, appointed a committee to meet with Canadian and United States agency authorities, the International Joint Commission and individual municipalities to tackle the problem.

Charges Ruling Said 'Smut, Yes; Prayer, No'

WASHINGTON (AP)—In ruling against public school prayers, the Supreme Court seemed to be ruling "obscenity, yes; prayer, no," Rep. August E. Johansen, R-Mich., said yesterday.

"There were two decisions Monday," the Michigan congressman pointed out. The other ruled against a post office order barring certain magazines from the mail on grounds they were obscene.

The bald eagle, adopted as an emblem of the United States in 1782, is waning. Fewer than 500 pairs survive south of Canada. For years they were hunted for bounty. Now federal law protects them.

Court Reaps Censure for Banning Prayer

President FRANKLIN DELANO ROOSEVELT once described the Supreme Court with which he was then embroiled as "nine tired old men." We think that the term could be aptly applied to the present highest tribunal if one of its latest decrees is indicative of the mental virility of the justices.

We refer to the decision affecting the "Regents' Prayer" appeal by which the State of New York is restrained from prescribing a simple, nonsectarian prayer for daily use in its schools. The prayer: Almighty God, we acknowledge our dependence upon Thee, and we beg Thy blessing upon us, our parents, our teachers and our country.

Only unbelievers of the worst sort or legalistic crackpots could find anything but uplifting in this humble application to the Father for benediction and guidance needed by all in daily living.

Justice HUO L. BLACK, speaking for the 6-1 majority, Justice POTTER STEWART dissenting, saw in the adoption of the prayer a violation of the First Amendment to the Constitution to the effect that "Congress shall make no law respecting an establishment of religion."

Could anyone in his right mind seriously consider that the expression of those comforting inner thoughts, so helpful to most, constitutes "an establishment of religion"? Moreover, none of the school children was OBLIGED to join in the prayer, and could have easily satisfied contrary scruples, whatever they might be, by simply refraining.

An argument was advanced in support of the decision (the argument as astute as the decision) by Dr. E. EMANUEL CARLSON, director of the Baptist Joint Committee on Public Affairs.

He was "not disturbed by the elimination of 'required prayers' from schools because I never felt that rote recital of such prayers has any real religious value for children."

Oh, come now, Doctor — you can do better than that! Would you have all studies and the acquisition of knowledge in which rote initially plays a part dropped from our educational system because at the outset the eventual "value" is not clearly apparent to the children?

The preamble to our Constitution, with which the Supreme Court occasionally concerns itself, holds that all men are "created equal," thus implying a Creator.

Beginning with the Father of Our Country, every President has begun his term of office by asking "the protection and help of God."

Both houses of Congress open their daily sessions with prayers and — my gosh! — the Supreme Court opens every session with its crisper intoning, "God save the United States and the Honorable Court."

We think that nothing in the Country needs a little praying over as much as the Supreme Court.

What Will U.S. Stand Be if Nationalists Attack?

There is a troublesome possibility lurking in the background of the reports of a Red Chinese build-up in the mainland opposite Matsuo and Quemoy.

placed an additional seven divisions in the area. As a result of these build-ups, the Nationalist Chinese have put more men on the islands and the U.S. 7th Fleet has been alerted.

The disturbing possibility is that the Reds are merely preparing for an invasion attempt by Chiang's long-waiting forces on Formosa.

If Chiang decides that Red China is so near starvation and revolt that his best time to strike has come, what will the United States do?

Apparently, the U.S. position on defending the two islands, Matsuo and Quemoy, is that we'll help fight for them only if an invasion of Formosa and the Pescadores seems imminent. But what is the other side of the coin?

Would we be put in the awkward position of attempting to turn back an invasion force of our Chinese allies?

With the problems we already have in Laos and other Far East trouble spots, forestalling what we can only believe would be a military fiasco should be paramount among our plans in that area.

Disillusion MAT Swallowing His Pride Easier Than Pills

By HOWARD V. HELENBRAND

A creature of many incapacities and few attainments, the MAT has always claimed one accomplishment — a skill in reverse, you might say — that enabled him to walk upright among men and at times even to look upon them in airy condescension.

This superiority, so long cherished, has been a lifelong inability to swallow a pill. He has struggled with an untold number, placing them in take-off position on tongue and slinging a Niagara of water down the hatch — only to have the water quickly run down the hatch, leaving the pill unmoved on the launching pad.

But alas, even this illusion of uniqueness has now been shattered. For just the other day, reading a question-and-answer medical column, he was crushed to find, in a reassuring answer to a questioner, that countless others are similarly unable to down their pills in the orthodox manner — and his long-inflated balloon of conceit blew like a secondhand tire.

It was too bitter a pill to swallow — Boy, the hard-kittler award — and a couple of powdered pain-killer pills!

It couldn't have happened to nicer folks. Mr. and Mrs. David Braun of 1014 Argle St., in New York last May on their honeymoon were auditioned by NBC for its "Play Your Hunch" show (Ch. 4—Wednesday 10 p.m.). The couple was accepted, have won $100 with all expenses paid, are back this evening for another appearance. — Hubby in service at New York's Ft. D. B. Eames has given his plumbing supply building a gear whizz look with an over-all paint job... and a continuous strip of evergreen planting concealing a work-yard area.

The MAT was intrigued by a call from Mrs. Phyllis Wilson of 72 Seminole. She was fascinated by her one-foot tall, first bloom bronze and yellow dahlia, only four inches across, that has three complete flower heads — looks like a big fat powder puff.

David Lawrence Says:

Court Bars Only 'Official' Prayer

WASHINGTON — The Supreme Court in its latest decision does not bar prayer as such in the public schools. It doesn't forbid the mention of God in the classroom. It merely says that no state government or any other branch of government can "direct" the saying of any prayer.

In fact, it bars "official" prayer. It does not LAWRENCE object to voluntary prayers but does ban any religious "exercise."

The decision rendered by the highest court of the land on Monday is not as sweeping as first reports in the press may have indicated.

It is true that Justice Douglas, in his "concurring" opinion, makes some generalizations of his own that will cause controversy — especially in Congress, where legislation on federal aid to church-related colleges is pending.

The controlling judgment is, however, the ruling of the court by a vote of 6 to 1. It was set forth in the opinion written by Justice Black.

But even the formal opinion of the court must be separated into two parts — the actual ruling and the so-called "dictum." The latter is just an expression of views by one justice and is not necessarily agreed to by the other justices who concur on the main point of the decision.

Here is the ruling of the court as pronounced by Justice Black: "We think that the constitutional prohibition against laws respecting an establishment of religion must at least mean that in this country it is no part of the business of government to compose official prayers for any group of the American people to recite as a part of a religious program carried on by government."

There is no bar to the singing of such songs as "God Bless America" or the verse in "The Star-Spangled Banner" which says: "And this be our motto — 'In God is our trust.'"

Also, the Pledge of Allegiance to the flag is not affected, although in 1954 two words — "under God" — were added by an act of Congress.

The phrase now reads, "One nation under God, indivisible, with liberty and justice for all."

All these vocal expressions involve apparently a voluntary action by the individual. They are not recited by official direction, nor do they contain anything which could be regarded as an "official prayer."

WHAT ABOUT CHRISTMAS? But what shall be done about Christmas celebrations or the reciting of any prayer in the classroom? No governmental body now can require such exercises.

But if a class of pupils voluntarily sets up a program at Christmas and wants to sing any song, this is not barred by the new court ruling.

Some pupils could object and could refrain from participation. They could even leave for the period of such programs.

The prayer which brought the present case to the Supreme Court of the United States for a ruling was very brief. It said:

"Almighty God, we acknowledge our dependence upon Thee, and we beg Thy blessing upon us, our parents, our teachers and our country."

'We'll Send Prints to Everybody'

There was a regulation under the New York state law prescribing the prayer which said that students should not be compelled to take part in the reciting and that students could be excused from being in the room at the time.

But the Supreme Court has said in effect, that all this makes no difference because the prayer was written by and "dictated" by a governmental body. It was a religious "exercise" for those who remained.

Justice Douglas, in a dictum of his own declares in a concurring opinion that he has grave doubts about the way the Supreme Court's own proceedings are opened by the marshal, who says: "God save the United States and this honorable court."

Dr. Harold Hyman Says:

Beware! Don't Be Taken In by Unproved Cancer Cures

All too often the heartache and problems of the patient with inoperable cancer, and of members of the family, are increased by well-meaning advice to "try" some unauthorized, unsanctioned and unproved method of treatment.

Frequently the family physician's unfamiliarity with the treatment is interpreted as a measure of his "ignorance." The refusal of organized medicine to sanction the treatment is often interpreted as evidence that "doctors don't want to find a cure."

Usually those who regard anything imported as being naturally superior to anything domestic regard the American insistence on definitive proof as additional evidence of our scientific backwardness.

We have already commented in these columns on the Koch treatment, already completely discredited in our courts and on Kriebel whose claims are presently being reviewed by federal authorities.

Here is a list of some other unproved methods of cancer treatment which have been studied by the American Cancer Society. Each one has failed to present evidence that it is, as directed, "results in any objective benefit in the treatment of cancer in human beings."

Gerson diet treatment employing liver vitamins and fruit prepared in glass utensils and chopped or juiced in special machines offered for sale at $150. Also included in treatment are frequent and copious enemas, often of coffee, and injections of liver extract.

SEES NO PROOF In 1947, a committee of the N.Y. County Medical Society throughly reviewed Dr. Gerson's work including histories of patients who were said to have benefited from the treatment. "This study failed to disclose any scientific evidence of objective improvement."

The Country Parson

Mr. Keman pleaded to be recalled so he could try to correct the "appalling ignorance" in Congress and segments of the press regarding United States-Yugoslav relations. Congress, he said, had made a "signal demonstration of ill-will to a people who up to now have been generally and increasingly friendly." He conceded some of President Tito's recent statements and actions have been provocative, but he called it "tragic" that Congress had allowed itself to be provoked.

As Mr. Keman rightly says, "it may not be possible to repair all the damage. But most of it could be corrected if it were."

It seems folks are more likely to complain if they don't have whipped cream on their pie than if they have no pie.

Tells What's Happening to Foreign Aid Dollars

India, with $2 billion U.S. aid, plans to purchase Soviet MIG-17 fighters.

Ceylon, with $71 million U.S. aid, expropriated $20 million of American oil installations which now distribute Soviet oil.

At Belgrade, 35 states, Soviet oriented and with $3 billion U.S. aid, were critical of the U.S.

Brazil, with $1 billion U.S. aid, has expropriated some $4 million U.S. private property.

Six Latin American states including Brazil, with $2.7 billion U.S. aid, refused to join in reading Castro out of OAS.

Yugoslavia and Poland, with $3 billion U.S. aid, are Communist satellites.

Based on past aid programs, fiscal '53 aid for the above listed states would total about $2 billion. Were this aid eliminated and an additional aid cut of $1.5 billion levied elsewhere, the $3.5 billion saving would immeasurably strengthen our economy. These cuts would still leave $1 billion in the authorized $4.6 billion aid program. There will be an aid cut of some $5 billion from fiscal '52. And for worthy projects for stable government there are available eight lending agencies with lending power of billions.

Aid to Reds

St. Louis Post-Dispatch

The Administration is reported considering returning our Ambassadors to Yugoslavia and Poland to Washington to try to knock some sense into the Senators and Representatives who voted to restrict the execution of United States policy toward these two Communist countries.

Freddie a decision. President Kennedy took the usual step of publishing cables sent to the State Department by Ambassadors George Kennan in Belgrade and Ambassador John Moore Cabot in Warsaw. Mr. Kennan, a former Ambassador to the Soviet Union and one of the ablest of American diplomats, accounts the greatest on Capitol Hill "the greatest windfall" the State Department has received in the area; Mr. Cabot foresaw "drastic worsening" of relations with Poland.

Their concern — as well as that of President Kennedy, expressed at his press conference — was the result of unrelated Senate and House actions. The Senate passed a foreign aid bill barring help to Communist countries, with the exception of surplus food. The House Ways and Means Committee clung to the United States which deprives Yugoslavia and Poland of lower tariffs under most-favored-nation provisions. These actions present a surface picture of unity.

Moreover, the differences among the allies are born of strength, not of weakness. A Europe emboldened and despoiled clinging to the United States which was the kind of Europe that existed immediately after the war, may present a surface picture of unity.

A Europe in which Britain is ready to link her destinies with those of the Continent in which France has found her way back to status and stature, in which Germany has recovered from the ravages of defeat, in which Italy is thriving, and in which the smaller countries are finding an important place in the economic scheme of things — this is the kind of Europe which will inevitably speak with many voices.

Mr. Rusk will encounter many divergencies of opinion which cannot be discounted. But he will also find evidences of strength, recovery and faith in the future. To harness these qualities to the common good is a task requiring statesmanship.

We have overcome challenges even more difficult and there is no reason to despair.

Red China

Lansing Journal

The extremes to which Red China is pushing a program of farms before factories, cultivation before construction, underlines the manner in which its "great leap forward" has bounced back in the face of hard economic facts.

The food problem is so acute the regime has ordered temporary roads ripped up and is planning to demolish to permit plowing on the sites, and ground around fences and walls surrounding plants, government buildings and schools is to be "rearranged and utilized," according to the new decree.

The building boom decreed three or four years ago has boomeranged. Housing and industrial projects have been abandoned, sometimes before they were begun. Workers recruited for an industrial drive that never really got started have been ordered back to the farms.

As the official propaganda put it: "The capital construction front must be seriously shortened so that forces can be concentrated on strengthening the agricultural front." On the other hand, we'd better stop trying for an industrial expansion that looks hopeless anyway, so we can concentrate on eating.

Henry Proposes Free Concerts, Retraining Plan

A college to retrain personnel displaced by automation and a series of free summer concerts were proposed last night by City Commissioner Milton R. Henry.

Henry asked City Manager Robert Stier to report on the feasibility of the proposals with an eye out for federal aid. The reports are to be prepared.

Henry called it an obligation to "do something to set up a retraining college for personnel replaced by automation."

He also said the city's cultural life should not be neglected. He said the Pontiac Symphony, high school bands and other musical groups could be used to give free summer concerts.

"And we have beautiful Beaudette park," he added, "which is close to the millpond which, though it smells at the moment from the refuse dumped into the lake, could make a nice site for an open-air, summer-type auditorium."

The structure would hold 500 to 1,000 people, Henry explained. The two projects should be undertaken with or without federal aid, Henry added.

Shaving Ewes' Heads Keeps Lambs Sheltered

KLAMATH FALLS, Ore. (U) — Sheep ranchers of this southern Oregon area were urged to shear their ewes' heads to save lambs. County Agent C. A. Henderson said that if a ewe's head is sheared to the skin, the ewe will feel the cold rain and will lead her lamb to shelter during stormy weather.

Dems Nominate Nixon Supporter

S. C. Legislator Will Oppose Ex-Democrat for House Seat

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Democrats in South Carolina's 2nd Congressional District have picked a state legislator who backed the Republican presidential ticket in 1960 to run against a Democrat turned Republican next fall.

State Rep. Albert Watson, a 40-year-old Columbia lawyer, won the Democratic nomination for Congress Tuesday in a close runoff primary with Dr. Frank Owens 61 Columbia physician and former mayor.

YOUNG LEADING

In North Dakota, Republican Sen. Milton R. Young was running away from his opponent in a bid for a third-term nomination. Voting was tight in the statewide primary that featured no other contests among top candidates.

In an Idaho runoff, attorney Orval Hansen took the Republican nomination for the 2nd Congressional District from former Congressman John Sanborn.

ENDORSED BY UNIT

In Rhode Island, State Rep. John H. Chaffee, of Warwick, was endorsed for governor by the Republican State Central Committee. His main opponent, Louis V. Jackvony Jr., announced after the balloting that he would enter a primary. Democrats have not yet endorsed candidates.

In South Carolina, unofficial returns from 280 of 281 precincts showed Watson ahead 17,615 to 16,383 for Owens.

In November, Watson faces former Democratic State Rep. Floyd Spence who is the GOP nominee. Mrs. Corinne Riley, elected to served out the term of her late husband, is not seeking reelection.

Brother, Sister Drown While on Bicycle Trip

MOUNT HOLLY, N.J. (UPI) — Kathleen Beckwith, 8, and her brother, Leroy, 11, set off on their bicycles yesterday to visit the school they will attend next fall. The children moved here recently from State College, Pa., with their parents, Sgt. L.C. and Mrs. Harry Beckwith Jr.

When the children failed to return for supper their parents began searching for them. Beckwith, who is stationed at nearby Ft. Dix, found their bicycles beside Monaca Creek.

Several hours later searchers pulled Kathleen's body from eight feet of water near a bridge. Dragging operations continued for Leroy.

Police said apparently one of the youngsters slipped into the creek and the other drowned in a rescue attempt.

Business Is Jumping at Smith Rent-a-Frog

MIDDLETOWN, N.J. (UPI)—"Frogs for Hire" is the call of Clifton Smith, 13.

He keeps 35 of them for use by children in pet show raising events. His renting service costs 25 cents. After six years in business Smith boasts his own company, "Ye Old Ponds Frog Farm, Inc." But there's no telling which of his charges is champion, he says, because they all look so much alike.

Reserve Group
Ready for Camp

Nearly 100 Local Men
Leave Saturday for 2 Weeks Active Duty

Nearly 100 Pontiac area members of the Army Reserve's 33rd Regiment, 7th Division, will leave here Saturday for two weeks of active duty at Ft. Leonard Wood, Mo.

The local men, members of the Training Regiment's 2nd Battalion, will join some 2,300 members of the Division from Indiana and Michigan in a "satellite" mission.

The Reservists actually will train recruits on active duty at Ft. Leonard Wood, the same mission the Division would perform if it were mobilized, according to Col. Joseph S. Drake, the regiment's commanding officer.

The Pontiac area Reservists will resume their weekly meetings July 15 at the Army Reserve Training Center, 40 Walnut St.

"The training duty will give the officers and men an opportunity to put into practice what they have been learning in the classroom all year," said Col. Drake.

Trial Witness Guilty in Morals Charge

DETROIT (AP) — A major prosecution witness in a manslaughter trial arising out of a park fight last October was free on $500 personal bond today pending sentencing July 10 on a morals conviction.

Don C. Brown was convicted yesterday of accounting and selling. He had pleaded innocent to a charge of luring to provide girls for two men for $4 each. After his conviction, Brown testified in the trial of Fred O'Dell, 19, of Fraser, accused of manslaughter in the Oct. 1 stabbing of Grady Little, 20, of Detroit. Brown is a Negro and was Little, O'Dell and companions with him the night of the fight are white.

Brown told Recorder's Judge W. McKay Skillman O'Dell told him and Little, "This is our park to night," and then pulled a knife.

JFK to Unveil Business Tax Relief Details

(For years businessmen have complained that they are hamstrung in modernizing their plants and equipment by government restrictions on the rate of tax writeoffs allowed on aging equipment. The government has been sympathetic but... this story outlines the complexities of the matter.)

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Kennedy administration expects to disclose on July 6 details of a $1.25-billion tax break for business. The reduction will be accomplished by shortening the period of time over which wear-and-tear of business equipment is tax deductible. Related long-standing rules and practices will be changed.

The changes will be of interest — and worth money — to nearly every businessman, professional person and farmer in the nation. Politically, they already are important. President Kennedy has business. Much more along this will be heard in the congressional election campaigns next fall.

Business has complained for years that the government does not allow fast enough tax write-offs for depreciation. For almost as long, the Treasury has been looking into the matter. Outside experts have been surveyed. A special Treasury task force has been burning the midnight oil.

The result is a new set of rules on depreciation about which much already is known. To clarify basic aspects of the complex subject of depreciation and how the government proposes to ease the regulations, here, in question-and-answer form, is what it is all about:

Q. What is depreciation?
A. Depreciation means less of value because of wear and tear, aging and changes in technology which make a piece of machinery or other business equipment obsolete.

Q. What does that have to do with taxes?

A. Before computing their taxes, business costs from their income. The law allows a deduction for depreciation, which is one of the costs of business. For example, a corporation in the 55 per cent tax bracket might claim $10,000 in depreciation deductions. That would reduce its tax bill by $5,500.

Q. How does a company figure the depreciation on its equipment?
A. The tax law provides formulas for writing off the difference between the purchase price of equipment and its "useful life" value.

Q. How is useful life determined?
A. The Treasury's rule. In 1962 the Treasury published a guide to useful lives called Bulletin F. It suggested useful lives for 5,000 items of business equipment. Businessmen have complained for years that the suggested lives were unrealistically long.

They claimed that by stretching out depreciation unreasonably long the Treasury made it impossible for them to accumulate through depreciation deductions the cash necessary to replace worn out and obsolete equipment.

Q. Why is this of special concern to the Kennedy administration?
A. From the President on down, officials feel it is important for industry to use the latest, most efficient equipment, especially in manufacturing.

FOR LIMITING COSTS
They believe this is essential to holding down costs and keeping competitive with producers in Europe and Japan, where wages are lower and industry has invested heavily in recent years in modern, efficient facilities.

Q. How does the Treasury feel about the business complaint about over-long depreciation periods?
A. It believes businessmen have a legitimate beef. It also agrees that many internal revenue service (IRS) agents are wrong to treat the suggested lives of Bulletin F as the maximum. Agents frequently are unwilling to let businessmen write off the cost of equipment in fewer years, even when the firm is actually replacing the equipment faster than Bulletin F anticipated.

Q. What remedy is the Treasury preparing?
A. It is junking Bulletin F and replacing it with a new schedule of depreciable lives. Instead of 5,000 items there will be about 75 classes of equipment.

In every case, the new schedule will shorten or leave unchanged the tax write-off period for a piece of equipment. This will mean tax savings for many businessmen, farmers and professional people.

Q. What about businessmen who want to write off and replace equipment faster than the new guidelines?

A. Any businessman can write off and replace his equipment as rapidly as he likes without objection from the Treasury. But — and this is important — he must replace as rapidly as he is writing it off. Q. Doesn't that open up an area of wrangling between businessmen and IRS agents?

A. The Treasury is optimistic it as rapidly as he is writing it off. It won't. A new mathematical formula has been devised to show whether a firm is writing off its equipment faster than it is replacing it. It is the ratio of depreciation reserves to depreciable assets.

The reserve ratio and tables to be published will enable any businessman, or his accountant, to figure out for himself how he will stand in the eyes of IRS.

Q. What kinds of business equipment will the new schedules include?
A. All kinds — from open hearth furnaces to supermarket push-baskets; doctors' X-ray machines to office typewriters.
Q. How will these be listed in the new schedule?
A. By major classes of industry, such as steel-making equipment, retailing fixtures, construction equipment, etc. Most firms will find their equipment falls in two to five classes, the Treasury estimates.

Q. What about things used in many industries, such as cars and trucks?
A. There will be a special category for motor vehicles and one or two others for ordinary office equipment.

Q. When will the new schedules

EFFECTIVE FOR '63

A. They will be effective for the 1962 tax year in most cases. For some corporations which pay taxes on a fiscal year basis they may include part of calendar 1961.

Q. Will they cover only equipment bought in the future?
A. All equipment — already bought or to be bought.

Q. Will the new schedules and rules satisfy business complaints about depreciation allowances?
A. Only partly. Many business spokesmen contend that liberalized depreciation formulas should be written in the tax law, not just in the schedules of useful lives.

This probably will be an issue in the broad tax reform bill the administration hopes Congress will pass in 1963.

But the Treasury believes the changes it is preparing will go a long way towards satisfying business complaints about IRS agents not permitting reasonably short useful lives.

Indonesian Invaders Near Town in Irian

HOLLANDIA, West New Guinea — Indonesian paratroops today were reported within 15 miles of the town of Merauke, on the southern coast of Dutch New Guinea.

The troops were part of an estimated 100 to 150 invaders dropped Sunday between 20 and 40 miles to the northeast of Merauke. The Dutch government information service said one Indonesian today, officer had been reported killed by Papuans.

Merauke has a population of about 3,000. The government said yesterday that it did not intend to evacuate the town.

Hard Knock Paves Way to Stack of Honors

ST. LOUIS (UPI) — Donna Knock's tumble off a fence eight years ago gave her a hobby which has earned her 123 trophies and 38 medals.

The fall broke her arm, and the doctor suggested baton twirling to restore flexibility to muscles and nerves. At 17, she won a state championship. Her goal is the national championship. Her hobby interested her 16-year-old brother Denis who has earned 91 trophies and 58 medals. Denis also has won school letters in football and wrestling.

Baking Days Are Over for Retired Early Riser

ST. LOUIS (UPI) — As a baker, Miss Martha Lix, 70, has reported far work at 5 a.m. for 32 years. Now Miss Lix has retired and says she is enjoying sleeping until 7 in the morning.

Miss Lix has been chief pastry cook of Deaconess Hospital here, baking for an average of 325 patients and about 700 employees.

3 After Bad Axe Job

WASHINGTON (U) — Duane A. McGeachy, Joseph M. Dean and Matthew T. McCallan are eligible for the $8,255-a-year Bid Axe postmastership, the Civil Service Commission announced yesterday. Any one of the three may be nominated by President Kennedy, subject to Senate confirmation. Dean now is acting postmaster. There were 16 applicants for the job.

The fruit of the ginkgo tree encloses a kernel which is roasted and eaten as a delicacy in the Orient.

Recover Body in Lake

Let's talk about Cary Middlecoff Slacks

...at Osmun's

These were designed by a pro.

After years of top-tournament golf play, champion Cary Middlecoff decided to do something about comfort during — and after — the game.

He took his ideas to Jaymar, champions themselves. The result is "Summer Magic" slacks.

Wrinkles disappear like magic. The special silicone finish means that water-born stains simply sponge off. And because these slacks are Cravenette treated, they'll even hold a press far longer under a sudden downpour.

More magic: No belt or restrictions around the waist. The side adjusters take hold at the touch of your finger. A special waist insert prevents rolling at the top... and your shirt really stays put, thanks to the "Hip Stripe" inner waistband.

Wash and wear? Naturally. They practically take care of themselves.

For over thirty years we at Osmun's have specialized in introducing the newest trends in men's wear. We're proud to recommend these Cary Middlecoff slacks — on or off the links. Slip into a cool pair soon at either store.

Drink Turns Many Smart Women Into Lushes

By The Associated Press

She is rich, respected, a patron of the arts.

Don't try to reach Charissa in the afternoon though because she stays in her bedroom with her maid, "headaches." Her given children and devoted husband urge her to see a doctor. She gently but firmly refuses.

Mary lives in a conventional split-level house in the suburbs with three small children and a husband who doesn't like to come home anymore. Unkempt house, children running wild, humiliating scenes—he's thinking about divorce.

Karr is a smart career girl who knows her way around. She downs a stinging shot of whiskey every morning to face getting up, and matches periodic pickups during the day. "I can always cut it out if I think it's getting the upper hand," she insists.

These three women — women who might be your friends, your next door neighbors, even your wife—are alcoholics.

Three out of how many? Some experts estimate there are one million women alcoholics. Others say perhaps 2½ million, about the same as for men.

ABOUT 30-50

Dr. Marvin Block, chairman of the American Medical Association Committee on Alcoholism, thinks the ratio between men and women could be about 50-50. He says the currently accepted ratio of one American man to five women is very misleading. The low figure refers primarily to clinic patients, and women are much less likely to seek help in public for a problem they, or their families, try to hide from the world.

A spokesman for Alcoholics Anonymous, which does not broadcast its attendance figures according to sex, says, however, that more and more women are now attending its meetings.

"It's bad enough to see a man drunk—but a woman!" This is an American proverb. H. L. Mencken traced back to 1907. But it sums up the double standard attitude prevailing today.

The medical view that alcoholism is a disease—and should be treated as a disease—hasn't overcome the many opinions about women drinking in women can be equated with vice and moral turpitude.

SMART AND WEALTHY Yet it's not the blousy slattern who make up the bulk of women alcoholics. A recent study shows only 3 per cent of all alcoholics are derelicts. Alcoholism in women cuts across social, age and economic strata, with the average woman alcoholic of better than average intelligence and income.

Why is the number of women who drink compulsively apparently increasing?

For one thing, drinking has been traced to the home from the saloon — where, you'll recall, it was, "Daddy, dear daddy, come home with me now," never more.

Now, pre-dinner cocktails are an evening ritual in which the wife joins. At parties the good hostess one who keeps each glass filled with goodies, her own included.

And to keep terribly gay, she can slip herself extras in the kitchen while her husband tends bar.

Anthropologist Dr. Margaret Mead points to the mass movement to cities and suburbs as a contributing factor.

SHE'S LONELY A woman brought up in a community having social and religious sanctions against liquor, where "good women and ladies don't drink," moves to a larger, less protected, more sophisticated environment. She gets lonely.

Her mother, makes it home, he wants a few cocktails to unwind. Tentatively she joins him.

As times goes by, alcohol becomes her comfort, a way to pass the time, an escape from lonely reality and, finally, a necessity.

She knows by now it's poison for her, but she can't give it up. Her life has one aim, drinking. Her time is devoted to outwitting the enemy—usually her family—which is trying to keep her from the one thing she wants most.

Housewives sometimes can hide their secret sickness from their husbands a long time. Through an alcoholic haze they can tend children, get chores done and buy liquor undetected through clever economies in the household budget.

HE'S DISGUSTED But eventually the day comes when the husband finds her drunk. He is disgusted. If she fails in her promises to give it up—and unless she seeks outside help failure is almost inevitable—he is likely to pack up and leave.

Men are usually less patient than women about alcoholic mates. Dr. Ruth Fox, medical director of the National Council on Alcoholism, has found. And there are always the children to consider.

Says Dr. Fox: "Because of the closeness of children to the mother, they are apt to suffer irrevocable damage. The seemingly sudden withdrawal of love may lead to deep and lasting feelings of rejection, isolation and abandonment."

But alcoholism in women doesn't flourish solely on quiet residential streets, behind blinds drawn against the afternoon sun. It can start on the business scene.

BUSINESS WOMEN: Dr. Giorgio Lolli, former director of the Yale Plan Clinic for Alcoholics, says women often drink to escape the tensions resulting from their entrance into the man's world of business — tensions unknown when their place was only in the home, or when they were in college.

Certainly the multiple marital lunch is no longer a stag affair. Women who work with men and share the same professional drives and pressures go right along for the lengthy liquid lunch and the late afternoon house break.

Usually they hold their liquor well in public. It's when they get home, away from condemning eyes, they polish off the bottle and pass out.

Most women could be helped if they'd admit their addiction and seek treatment for it, says Dr. Andrew Mead of the California Rehabilitation Center at Vallejo.

"Of course you don't begin by just asking the lady if she is an alcoholic," he points out. "This coo, around the drinking woman. It will only get you injured innocence."

Most women can summon up at least one good reason why they're not alcoholics.

EXCUSES: "I never drink in the morning. I only drink sherry. I never have more than two drinks in the evening. I don't drink at all at parties. I only drink when I'm tense."

Such self-delusion, which stands in the way of treatment, is often encouraged by the husband, assuming he's sticking around. His pride simply won't let him admit his wife is a lush. Certainly the little woman he married isn't emotionally disturbed enough to need medical help or psychotherapy just because she takes a drink too many once in a while.

To protect themselves as well as her from shame and embarrassment, father and children form a protective shield, a cocoon, around the drinking woman. But in its center the disintegration of a person and of a family goes steadily on.

Chiang Kai-Shek Real Homebody

Hasn't Left Formosa Since 1949; Rumored He Vowed Not To

TAIPEI (UPI) — Chiang Kai-shek, probably the world's least traveled national leader, has made no more than 3,000 miles outside the confines of Formosa and the off-shore islands.

He clocked these miles just after he arrived in Formosa in the fall of 1949, in whirlwind trips to Manila and Seoul.

Since those visits, which he made to see the then President Elpidio Quirino of the Philippines and Syngman Rhee of South Korea, the aging Generalissimo has not made any overseas trips.

He has, however, made numerous short hops to Quemoy — about 200 miles from Taipei — some times accompanied by his wife.

What are the reasons Chiang, who was said to love flying when he was on the mainland, has stayed so close to Formosa?

The most frequently heard reason is that Chiang has vowed he would not visit another country until he had regained his homeland.

Other reasons might be his problem of security in traveling abroad and the political, economic and military problems on Formosa which require Chiang's presence.

There have been rumors that Chiang will shortly get a luxurious four-engine jet liner for his personal use.

If so, it does not seem likely the jet will be used for flights only within Formosa, since a fast jet can span the island in a matter of minutes.

Woman Finds Even Skunk Has Gratitude

BRADENTON, Fla. (AP) — There's no doubting Mrs. Rachel Kline's story, for she's president of the Seventh Day Adventist Church. She says it happened this way:

Her brother-in-law had been gathering dried leaves to use as mulch.

He came hurrying into the house—where she was visiting—to explain that he had found two young skunks under the leaves and cut had his head caught in a small olive or pickle jar. Unwilling to take a chance, he quickly retreated.

Later that evening, says Mrs. Kline, they were watching television when they heard a peculiar noise at the front door.

They opened the door, thinking it was the family cat. But there was the skunk, its head still in the bottle, knocking it against the door.

Taking the skunk by the bottle—but gently—Mrs. Kline's brother-in-law placed the bottle between the door and the door jamb.

The startled skunk backed up, its head came out of the bottle, and it departed the scene.

Either out of fright or gratitude, it failed to leave a calling card.

World Cigarette Sales Rise Despite Cancer Row

LONDON (UPI)—The possible link between smoking and cancer is a matter of much controversy in the United States, but elsewhere in the world, a special survey by the United Press International reveals, the puffery seems to be smoking more and enjoying it more.

"A number of factors are involved.

For one, the matter of a cancer-cigarette tieup hasn't even been brought before the public in most countries.

For another, a great many nations get their chief tax revenue from tobacco products.

Although there appears to be no direct move by any of these governments to keep knowledge of possible dangers of smoking from the public at large, these governments also are not about to cut their own fiscal throats by playing up the cancer scare.

Some of these governments, however, in a weak pass at taking note of the situation, have banned public tobacco advertising.

Since studies that show new smokers are garnered from advertisements, and since a confirmed smoker doesn't need advertisements to keep him interested, this has had little effect on the smoking rate.

CONTINUES UPWARD

In fact, the number of smokers and cigarettes consumed, continues a sharp annual rise.

In those few countries where alarm has been raised in medical circles and the government, some odd solutions have been advanced.

The West German Health Ministry wants the tax on cigarettes reduced. Ministry officials say that a boost in the tax would force smokers to puff each butt down to the very last drag, thus increasing their intake of harmful by-products.

Pointing to the United States where the unit cost to the smoker is considerably less, these officials state that American smokers, because of the lower cost, puff away a few times and then toss the cigarette away before it burns down to the so-called "danger point."

URGES TAX BOOST

On the other hand, a committee of the Royal College of Physicians has called on Britain to boost its already sky-high tax on cigarettes on the theory that if the cost of cigarettes goes high enough, it will become prohibitive to smoke.

Britain has taken the lead in drawing attention of its people to the relation which some medical authorities say exists between smoking and cancer of the lung and other diseases.

The British initiative that spurred European, and worldwide, interest was a 35,000 word report by the Royal College of Physicians in March.

It stated that the government must wake the people evidence exists that smoking can have dangerous consequences and that there is "convincing evidence" linking cigarette smoking with lung cancer.

"Heavy smokers may have 30 times the death rate of non-smokers," the report said.

The committee, comprised of nine doctors, none of whom now smoke cigarettes, recommended that:

The already heavy tax on cigarettes be further increased as a deterrent to smoking.

Advertisements which encourage smoking be prevented or at least restricted.

Smoking in public should be more widely prohibited than it is.

Meanwhile, the British ministry of education and health launched a campaign to reduce smoking among school children, although it already is illegal in Britain to sell tobacco to children under 16.

EFFECT DOUBTFUL

The effect of this campaign is somewhat doubtful, however, since the report by the Royal College noted that 21 to 15 per cent of British boys already smoke cigarettes by the age of 10—often with parental consent or encouragement.

And, the British Tobacco Manufacturers' Standing Committee and the Tobacco Advisory Committee quickly came out with a report of their own in which they stated that the Royal College of Physicians had added little to previous research on the matter.

Instead, they called the report an "incomplete assessment" of a problem which includes air pollution.

Should the British government go along with the recommendation to still higher tobacco taxes, it could well price cigarettes out of the reach of many of her Majesty's subjects.

At present, the British tax on cigarettes is the highest in the world. It is equivalent to about 65 U.S. cents of a package costing about 63 cents.

In Italy, tobacco is a state monopoly. There, the government last May banned the advertising of tobacco products in newspapers and magazines.

The ban was already in existence on state-run television and radio. However, this was the only action, officially or privately, to attempt to cut cigarette consumption.

And, statistics released this month showed Italians were smoking eight per cent more cigarettes in the past nine months than in the previous period last year.

REDUCED ADVERTISING

The tobacco industry in Denmark, where no advertising is carried on the state-operated television and radio, recently voted to end cigarette advertising in magazines and movie theaters.

Their action came after some Danish doctors started their own anticigarette campaign and established—without state aid—clinics to help break the smoking habit.

The Danish tobacco industry move was quickly followed in Finland, where the privately-managed industry also voluntarily ended tobacco advertising on both state-owned and commercial television stations in Denmark. The Finnish radio does not carry advertising.

On the other hand, in West Germany there is full tobacco advertising in all media. But, there, the Ministry of Health is preparing an antismoking campaign, subject to parliamentary approval.

Complete apathy on the subject exists, however, in Holland, Switzerland, Norway, Spain, Portugal, Austria, Belgium and France where no action, official or unofficial, has been taken or is planned.

Most of these countries do not carry any type of advertising on radio or television. Those that do carry advertising do not carry cigarette commercials.

The state, incidentally, has a tobacco monopoly in Spain, Portugal, Australia and France.

In the Soviet Union, authorities have tried to discourage smoking as generally bad for health, but have not recognized publicly the possibility that smoking may lead to lung cancer.

The hierarchy sets the example.

None of the members of the Communist Party's ruling presidium is even seen smoking in public, it is indeed they smoke at all.

Yet, the Soviet state has a monopoly on tobacco. And, filter cigarettes were introduced there two years ago.

ADS DON'T EXIST

Since Soviet television and radio does not carry any type of commercial, the question of cigarette advertisements is academic there.

In the Far East, with few exceptions, little thought is given to reducing the number of cigarette smokers, or the problem of cancer.

In fact, in Japan, there has been criticism from some quarters that the government actually encourages smoking because the cigarette business is a national monopoly and the Japan Monopoly Corporation advertises.

The corporation reported recently that during the 1961-1962 fiscal year from April through March it sold more than 137.4 billion cigarettes worth $306.1 million.

In Korea, where the government also has the monopoly on cigarettes, there is no widespread fear of cancer among cigarette smokers in Korea. The government has never publicized the possibility that there might be danger of a cancer link.

The Chinese Medical Association recently held a symposium in Hong Kong to illustrate how cigarettes affect the respiratory system, but it did not move the government to take any action toward curbing smoking.

There is definite concern in the Philippines, but, again, not at the government level.

Instead, according to Dr. Roman Salacop, assistant director of the cancer detection and diagnostic center of the Philippine Cancer Society, some doctors are privately advising their patients to give up smoking.

Dr. Trinidad Perban, director of the Bureau of Research Laboratories of the Department of Health, says it would be difficult to wage a "no-smoking" drive because the department does not believe absolute proof has been turned up joining cigarettes and cancer.

WOULD HURT ECONOMY

Cigarette sales in the Philippines continue to rise.

On Formosa, where about 40 per cent of the total government annual revenue comes from the earnings of the government tobacco and wine monopoly, there is no government move to alert the populace or to curb smoking. The government hopes to net about $50 million this year from tobacco sales alone.

According to association president Dr. Foo Chee Guan, he sent a letter to Health Minister K. M. Byrne calling on the government to initiate a long and sustained campaign against cigarette smoking because of reports lung cancer could be caused by smoking. The government has not replied to his letter.

This, despite the fact that the Singapore Medical Association has formally urged the government to take immediate action to discourage cigarette smoking.

Kennedys to Woo Our Southern Neighbor

By HERBERT SMITH

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Across the Rio Grande River, this country's traditional neighbor, Mexico has been behaving too much in the neutralist manner of India to suit some U.S. diplomats.

And President Kennedy will fly down there this weekend to see what he can do about improving the situation.

For three days—Friday, Saturday and Sunday—Kennedy and his wife Jacqueline will be ceremoniously welcomed by President Lopez Mateos.

Traditional Mexican hospitality, however, was not expected to produce any material change in continuing disagreement between the neighboring nations over international affairs, particularly how best to deal with the Cuba of Fidel Castro.

Mrs. Kennedy, assuming she makes the trip as the White House announced, will be a smash hit. Some time during the three-day visit, she undoubtedly will speak to the Mexicans in their native tongue and the local residents will go wild with enthusiasm.

The visiting President probably will make highly approving reference to some of the country's ranking heroes, possibly including those who gave their lives against U.S. forces many years ago. And explosive public accord was expected to brighten Kennedy's appearances, too.

These outward manifestations of friendship may soften, but not seriously change differences stemming from Mexico's official attitude against U.S. efforts to isolate Castro's Cuba economically and politically.

The President and his entourage will fly from Washington Friday morning in Air Force jet transport, accompanied by a large press party. The official party traveling with Kennedy has not been completed, but it will include ranking members of his own staff plus such State Department Latin American experts as Richard Goodwin, assistant secretary of State for Inter-American affairs.

LUNCHEON MEETINGS

Friday and Saturday will be devoted to ceremonial lunch meetings and extensive "exchange of toasts" which is the diplomatic mechanism for polite speeches by host and guest.

There will be inspection tours in the Mexico City area, visits to housing projects and a folk dance fiesta; and after Roman Catholic Mass Sunday, Kennedy and his party will fly back to Washington.

The President would have gone to Mexico sooner had it not been for the attitude of Lopez Mateos toward this country's policy on Castro.

It is traditional for a U.S. President to make his first foreign visits to his more immediate neighbors. Kennedy visited Canada in May of last year, but since then has visited France, Austria, Great Britain, Bermuda, Venezuela and Columbia.

TRIP DELAYED

There was talk of his going to Mexico last winter, but on at least two occasions, the trip was put off indefinitely because of policies on Cuba.

Shortly before the new year began, the White House said Kennedy would go to Mexico in the spring. Then this was changed to "during the first half of this year."

Thus by arriving in Mexico City June 29 Kennedy will meet this last deadline by a little more than 24 hours.

His attitude toward Lopez Mateos and Mexico is not unfriendly, but it does seem to be somewhat guarded, or at least reserved, because of the June 29-July 1 trip will produce a basic change.

Thus the journey is regarded by U.S. experts largely as a ceremonial affair, plus a desire to generate as much pro-American feeling among the Mexican population as possible.

In addition to Cuba as a source of mutual dissatisfaction between this country and Mexico's U.S. officials frankly deplore what they describe as Mexico's "India type" neutral approach to other disarmament.

COUNTER POSITION

In proceedings of the Organization of American States (OAS) last year and again this year at the Punta Del Este conference of hemispheric foreign ministers, Mexico took a counter-U.S. position on throwing Castro out of the OAS and other, more loosely-organized portions of the American family. Mexico took the position that the Castro was illegal.

Part of the Mexican opposition to U.S. and OAS policies on Cuba stemmed from the belief by Lopez Mateos and his government that multilateral action against Castro amounted to unwarranted intervention in Cuban internal affairs.

Although Castro labels himself publicly as a disciple of Marx and Lenin, Mexico does not join some of her sister Latin nations—and the United States—in the view that Cuba has fallen under domination of international communism.

Some diplomats say this attitude is not as leftist as it may appear; that it reflects a Mexican ear of a precedent that some day could be used against Mexico. The effect, however, is an appearance that Mexico is wavering toward the political left and this has discouraged tourism from the north, plus a growing reluctance by American investors to sink new funds in Mexican projects.

Thus Kennedy will be heading into an area of contrast, charming at times, vexing at others. He will be visiting a nation, the leaders of which do not want to be tied too closely to U.S. ideology but still relish the benefits of U.S. trade and investment.

In times of war, Mexico looks to this country for hemispheric combat, security and leadership, but currently is competing with Brazil for Latin American leadership.

In this competition, Mexican officials seem to think their case is enhanced by independence of U.S. foreign policy.

Mexican officials undoubtedly are aware that in about a month Kennedy will make a flying visit to Brazil. His Brazilian trip, at least in the preliminary planning stages, promises to be more extensive than the Mexican journey. For one example, Kennedy will go to several key towns in Brazil and not confine his visit to one metropolitan area.

UNDER PRESSURE

The President also is under diplomatic pressure to extend his late July-early August flight to Brazil to include other South American countries.

In Mexico, Lopez Mateos will show Kennedy a good time. There will be a few hours for business conversations.

And as Kennedy departs, there undoubtedly will be a joint communique affirming the usual support of democratic principles in the Western Hemisphere.

As for larger Mexico-U.S. problems, however, much more time and talk will be needed to achieve a mutually satisfactory clarification of international position.

Aside from such specific differences as policy towards Castro, Mexico is growing in terms of political independence; no longer enchanted by the little brother role of forever following the policy lead of her powerful neighbor to the north. It might be called growing pains.

In any event, next Friday, Saturday and Sunday will present the President with a diplomatic challenge.

Busy Planning 'Huge Railway'

Group Has 75 Per Cent of Project Completed, —It's Only a Model

SOMERVILLE, Mass. (U)—The man in the dome who control what 12 men believe will be the largest portable model railroad in the world.

It will be 39 by 60 feet when completed and is made in sections.

Involved in the project, which is 75 per cent completed, are a truck driver, an obstetrician, an architect, a machinist, a couple of taxi cab drivers, a printer and a gas station attendant.

Truck driver Charles N. Maynard, who works nights, supervises the job days.

The group plans to send the railroad on a tour of states across the country when it is completed in August or September. Work was started last September.

The structure will contain 1,750 feet of track; a river (activated by a washing machine); 35 bridges; 400 trees, brush, grass, stone and gravel; 75 buildings, including model schoolhouses; 150 toy people; and a wide variety of freight and passenger trains.

WALK IS GOOD TRANQUILIZER

HEALTH MAN CLAIMS ITS BEST BARGAIN ONE CAN GET IN TRANSPORTATION

ST. LOUIS (UPI)—"When was the last time you took a good long walk?" asks Dr. J. Earl Smith, director of the St. Louis Department of Health.

Smith said the automobile, riding-type lawnmower and electric golf cart "are turning us into a nation of riders and sitters."

He said walking probably is the least expensive and strenuous form of daily exercise, yet "too many of us hop into the car to drive three blocks for a package of cigarettes."

"Walking is the best bargain in transportation," Smith said, "for when a person steps outside the door and starts moving his feet forward, he is exercising his leg muscles, pepping up his circulation, gaining uncomplicated privacy and time for thought and sight-seeing—all this while getting to his destination."

MENTALLY GOOD

Walking is helpful mental-wise too, Smith said.

"A possum, long walk taken alone can provide for meditation, mulling over a problem, organizing a plan, or simply a time for you to 'unwind,'" Smith said.

He said a good walking posture, however, is important.

The head should be held back, the abdomen flat and the back straight.

Porous Barrier More Protective, Tests Indicate

SASKATOON, Sask. (U)—A porous windbreak offers more protection than a solid one, it has been found in tests at the University of Saskatchewan.

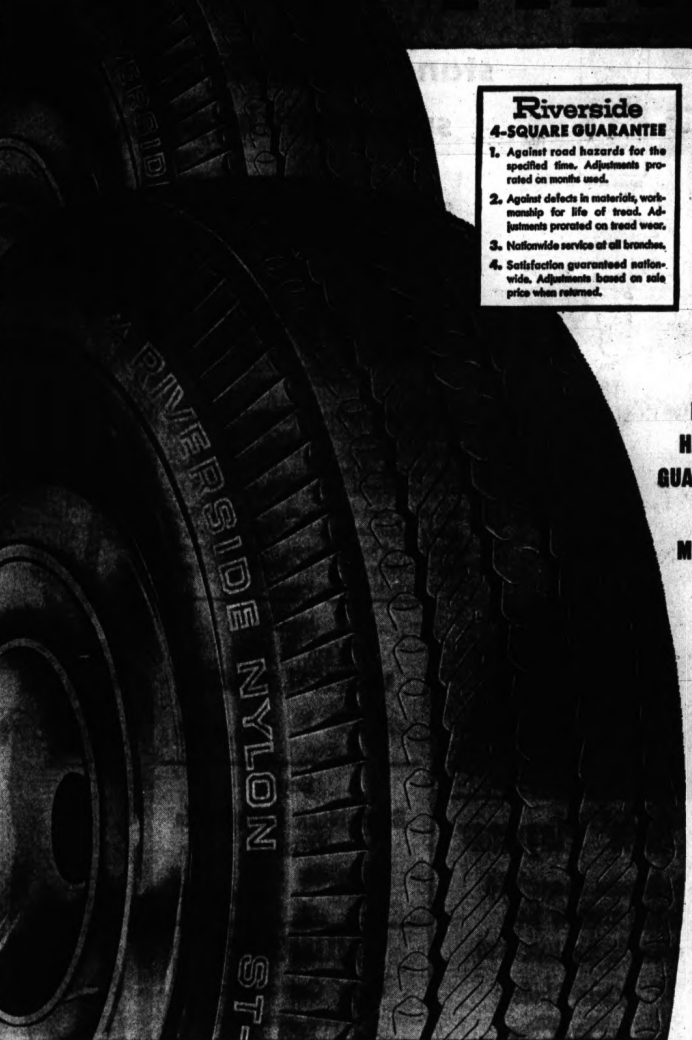

Investigation showed that a 20 per cent porosity is desirable.

This means a cattle pen could be made of 8-inch boards with 2 inches of space between them.

Although wind blows through the spaces, it is calmer inside than if the wind tumbles over a solid wall.

Air spilling over a solid wall creates a general turbulence inside the pen that makes the area colder.

Therefore, if cattle are more than 3 feet from a porous wall, they are more sheltered—warmer—than if they were at any spot behind a non-porous barrier.

Boy Phones, Issues Invitation

May See Queen Mother

YONKERS, N. Y. (U) — Twelve-year-old Joey Alfidi figures there's nothing wrong with a fellow picking up the phone and calling a lady friend—even if the lady friend is Queen Mother Elizabeth of Belgium.

So he called her the other day, and now she may visit his home.

Joey has won renown in the music world as a pianist, composer and conductor. About 1½ years ago, he performed at the palace of fine arts in Brussels. Later he was a guest of the royal family.

Since then Joey has composed works for the queen mother, and they have exchanged notes and greetings on occasion.

A few days ago Joey read that she was visiting in Puerto Rico. Since she was that close, he decided, it would be nice to see her again.

He got on the phone and before long the queen mother was answering from her hotel suite. The conversation is said to have gone like this:

"I saw your picture in the papers, and I wanted to greet you and to hear your voice."

"Oh, it is so kind of you, Joey. Do you hear me?"

"Yes, yes, very well."

"And how are you, my dear Joey?"

"Very well. I am so frightened I can't seem to speak to you."

"Don't be that way."

"I have almost finished a dramatic fantasy which I have dedicated to your majesty. I would like so very much to see you. May I come to San Juan?"

"No, you don't have to, my dear. I am coming to New York on the 31st and I shall send you a telegram."

"Oh, that's great! . . . would you like to visit my home in Yonkers?"

"Yes, Joey, if I feel in condition and protocol allows."

"Do you want my address?"

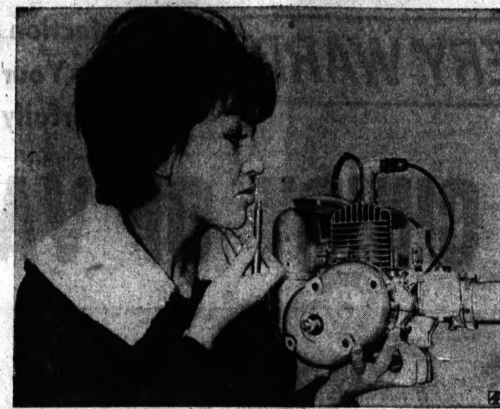

"No, my dear, I have your address on my itinerary."

"I would love to have you visit."

"Thank you, thank you, my dear Joey. I will send you a telegram."

"It will be a great thrill for all of us in Yonkers."

Now the Alfidi are "clicking up" the family home—just in case.

Ground Hog Likes St. Joe Family

ST. JOSEPH (U) — City life has just plain spoiled Oscar the Ground Hog. No more does he enjoy a diet of roots and grass. Instead he chomps away happily on such items as angel food cake, pineapple pie and vanilla wafers.

You can call Oscar a ground-broke hog.

The year-old ground hog got of Mr. and Mrs. Delaney Kirksey of St. Joseph, once tried digging his own home under the flower bed, but gave it up in favor of the Kirksey house, where he now is a member of the family.

Found last spring shortly after birth by Mrs. Kirksey's brother, Larry Barnwell, 36, of nearby Sodus, Oscar was raised on milk and vitamins fed successfully from an eye dropper, dot bottle and baby bottle.

Since moving into suburbia, the ground hog has discarded the hibernating habits of his country cousins and took only an occasional nap during bad weather last winter.

"We expected him to curl up in a corner and sleep for a few months," Kirksey said, "but he didn't."

Described by the Kirkseys as playful and friendly as a puppy but his real weakness is having his stomach tickled.

Relations between the pet ground hog and the family's cat and dog are cool but not strained.

"He'd dearly love to play with Tom Tom," Mrs. Kirksey says, "but Tom only puts up with his fooling so long, then gives him a slap that ends things for the day."

Lassie, she says, allows friendship.

New African Woe Looms

KIGALI, Ruanda-Urundi (U) — A piece of African real estate smaller than West Virginia is being split into two nations, and it looks as if the United Nations will have some more hot potatoes to handle.

Ruanda-Urundi is just to the east of the old Belgian Congo. Once a part of Germany's east African holdings, Ruanda-Urundi has been under Belgian trusteeship since World War I.

Independence is due July 1. The northern part of the territory is to be known as the Republic of Ruanda, with a "W." The other part is to be called the Kingdom of Ruanda.

A threat of civil war affects mainly the Ruanda part. Central figures are the tall, aristocratic Watutsi tribesmen, long feudal masters of the land, and the Bahutu tribesmen who for generations did the farming and most of the manual work.

The Bahutu turned on their masters three years ago, killing hundreds and driving thousands out of the land.

The Bahutu, who make up 85 per cent of Ruanda's population, proclaimed a republic and took over the government in U.N. supervised elections last September.

Now the Watutsis are vowing to settle old scores. At the core of the Watutsi vengeance movement are the Iyeyu—or Cockroaches—a terrorist band that uses lairs inside the neighboring Congo and Tanganyika to launch hit-run raids on Bahutu border villages.

URGES PEACE

Ruanda President Gregoire Kayibanda has sought to lead off open warfare as independence day approaches. He has urged his Bahutu tribesmen to keep the peace and offered the Watutsi leader, Michel Rwagasana, a share in Ruanda rule. A government has been formed with the Watutsi getting two minor ministries.

In Urundi, the Watutsi and Bahutu have managed to live together without bloodshed, but they have been at odds politically.

Urundi's political parties are dominated by the Watutsi. A Watutsi king or prince rules the land, and the Bahutu have been allotted only 3 per cent of the government posts.

Economic troubles have plagued both Ruanda and Urundi. Five million Africans try to eke out a livelihood by producing coffee, cotton and some minerals, but not enough to get along.

Ruanda-Urundi's white residents, minority of what happened when the Congo became independent, have begun pulling out. Belgian authorities estimate that by Independence Day, 6,000 of the 8,000 whites living in the two territories will be gone.

With white-run shops and warehouses closing daily, the African workers face a wave of unemployment that could spell economic disaster.

The U.N. has told Belgium to help.

Buffalo Spending Millions to Lure Back Suburbanites

BUFFALO, N.Y. (UPI) — New York State's second largest city has started an attempt to realize the dream of hundreds of American cities — the recapture of thousands of citizens who have been lured to the suburbs by new shopping plazas, free parking, bright architectural design and plenty of space.

Buffalo has embarked on a 10-year, $500 million plan that calls for ripping out slums and turning major downtown streets into parks and malls. Towering shopping plazas and luxury apartments will replace antiquated buildings or vacant slum lots.

"We want to develop Buffalo entirely in accord with the type of American city we envision for the late 20th century," said George F. Rand Jr., chairman of the City Planning Board.

Currently the Lake Erie waterfront area, the city's front yard and once the heart of Erie Canal shipping, is a "decreeit waste land," Rand said.

"The waterfront area has 400 vacant acres of land with water frontage," planning board executive secretary James Kavanaugh said. "It's so desolate. Elevators are closed and manufacturing has moved out," he said.

The city has adopted a proposal to replace the wasteland with a $200 million complex of 30-story upper and middle-class apartment houses with balconies offering views of the city skyline or the lake ranch style "town houses," and a man-made 30-acre island with shoreline garden, amphitheater and restaurant.

The new apartment complex, housing 15,000 persons will become virtually a suburb within the city, according to the architects. It will have schools, shops, parks and garden courts with fountains and sculptures.

Millon Milsten, head of a group of designers who submitted the proposal, predicts the redeveloped area will bring the city annual revenues of $3 million, compared with the present $200,000.

In the downtown area, several blocks east of the waterfront, plans call for closing all radial streets leading into the city's main traffic circle and traffic congester, Niagara Square.

Asphalt on six main streets will give way to green malls planted with shrubs and trees. New peripheral streets will be built, others widened to provide access to the core.

The planning commission has called for a three-block high-rise shopping plaza, at least five new office skyscrapers, municipally financed parking ramps and improvements in some older buildings.

Ohio Attractive to Bees COLUMBUS, Ohio (U) — Ohio ranks third in the nation in number of bee colonies, with 285,000, and is one of the 10 leading states in honey production.

They Have a Blind Spot

Judgment Needed With Electric Eye Cameras Too

By IRVING DESFOR
AP Newsfeatures

Electric eye or automatic cameras, both movie and still types, normally have a blind spot when faced with a particular exposure problem.

It occurs when the camera is in bright sunlight and the subject being photographed is in shadow or, in reverse, when the camera is in a shaded area and the subject is in sunshine.

When the camera is strictly automatic and has no manual control, the photographer should change his position so as to shoot under the same light condition as the subject in order to get proper exposure.

If he can't change his position, he might compensate by shifting the film speed setting. If the camera "thinks" it has a faster or slower film, it will close down or open the lens a bit more.

Thus, with the camera in sunlight and subject in shadow, the ASA film speed setting should be reduced if possible, at least half. And with the camera in shadow and subject in sunlight, the ASA film speed setting should be increased to double, if possible.

JUDGMENT NEEDED

Fortunately, the newest cameras feature manual control along with electric eye automation. To prove the point, I tested a new still and a new movie camera under difficult backlight illumination. It showed, as always, that human judgment is needed along with the electric eye.

For stills I used the Rollet Magic II, a new model of the first electric eye automatic 3 1/2 by 2 1/4 twin-lens reflex camera. It features an easier-to-see ex-posure value pointer and an easier-to-handle manual control.

For movies, I used the new Revere Reflex Power Zoom 8mm camera. It features through-the-lens viewing and focusing, automatic and manual f-stop visibility in viewfinder and power zoom.

It also has a unique backlight stop which is a built-in effort to compensate for shooting in the direction of the sun by opening the lens more than the normal electric eye setting. It is certainly a step in the right direction but doesn't go far enough.

I found it necessary in both cases to step into the shadow area and take a close-up electric eye reading of a face. Then I switched to manual control on both cameras with the exposure set for the shadows. The results were what I wanted: detail in the faces.

With normal lighting situations, I turned back to automatic control and effortless shooting.

To Ship Gas to Britain

ALGERIA, Algeria — About 200,000 tons a year of methane gas from the French Sahara for the United Kingdom, equivalent to 10 per cent of all British gas consumption, are to be liquefied at Arzew and shipped in special tankers. The cost will be about 25 per cent under that of the coal-produced gas now in use.

'I Ride Bugs Bunny'

FT. SILL, Okla. (AP) — Officials of this Army Artillery and Missile Center have made it simple for its young pupils of the post school to get on the right bus for the trip home. Each bus — instead of numbers which some of the youngsters can't read — has a cartoon character painted on the side.

TELEVISION SPACE — There's a new way of viewing space. It's done with a television telescope. The telescope at Patrick Air Force Base tracks a missile over Cape Canaveral, 25 miles to the north.

Going Abroad? Better Get Those Papers in Order

NEW YORK (UPI) — Going days to process the application places? If so, it would be a great idea to get your travel documents in order weeks before departure. The really vital one is a U.S. passport, unless your travels will be confined to Canada, Mexico and the Caribbean area, where none is required. Unless you live in a big city where there is a passport agency office and consequent fast service by teletype, it may take several

Truman Shirts Now Outmoded

Hawaiians Weed Out Big-Flowered Sports Gorb for Guests

NEW YORK (UPI) — The Hawaiians call those big flowered sports shirts aloha shirts.

When former President Harry S. Truman wore them they called them Truman shirts. Now about the only people who wear them in Honolulu are tourists in search of island romance.

The authority for most of that is Lawson H. (Jack) Riley, president and general manager of McInerney, Ltd., of Honolulu, a department store founded in 1890 by Michael McInerney, an Irish ship's carpenter who sailed around the Horn and liked Honolulu so well he jumped ship.

McInerney opened a shop in a wooden shack with a tin roof in the heart of Honolulu and made his pile selling such things as spectacles, rubber boots and heavy underwear to whalers heading for the colder climate of Alaska.

He wouldn't recognize the firm 112 years later for it now has seven stores in Honolulu, the largest of which is a modern structure of coral rock and copper roof in the middle of Ala Moana, a vast shopping center set down in the center of the city in a bold urban renewal program.

"First off," Riley said, "I would like to clear up a misapprehension."

"People think that nobody in Hawaii wears clothes but the men actually are about as well-dressed as anybody in the world. And I must say that goes for the women, too."

New and a best seller are short jackets in a cotton, cotton shantung, basketweaves or other variations, light but worn as a jacket rather than as a sports shirt.

They recall the Eisenhower jacket of World War II.

The big seller in shoes is the Japanese-style beach sandal held on with a thong that goes between the big toe and the other toes.

Also popular is a leather walking shoe consisting of a strap across the ankle and toe with an open heel.

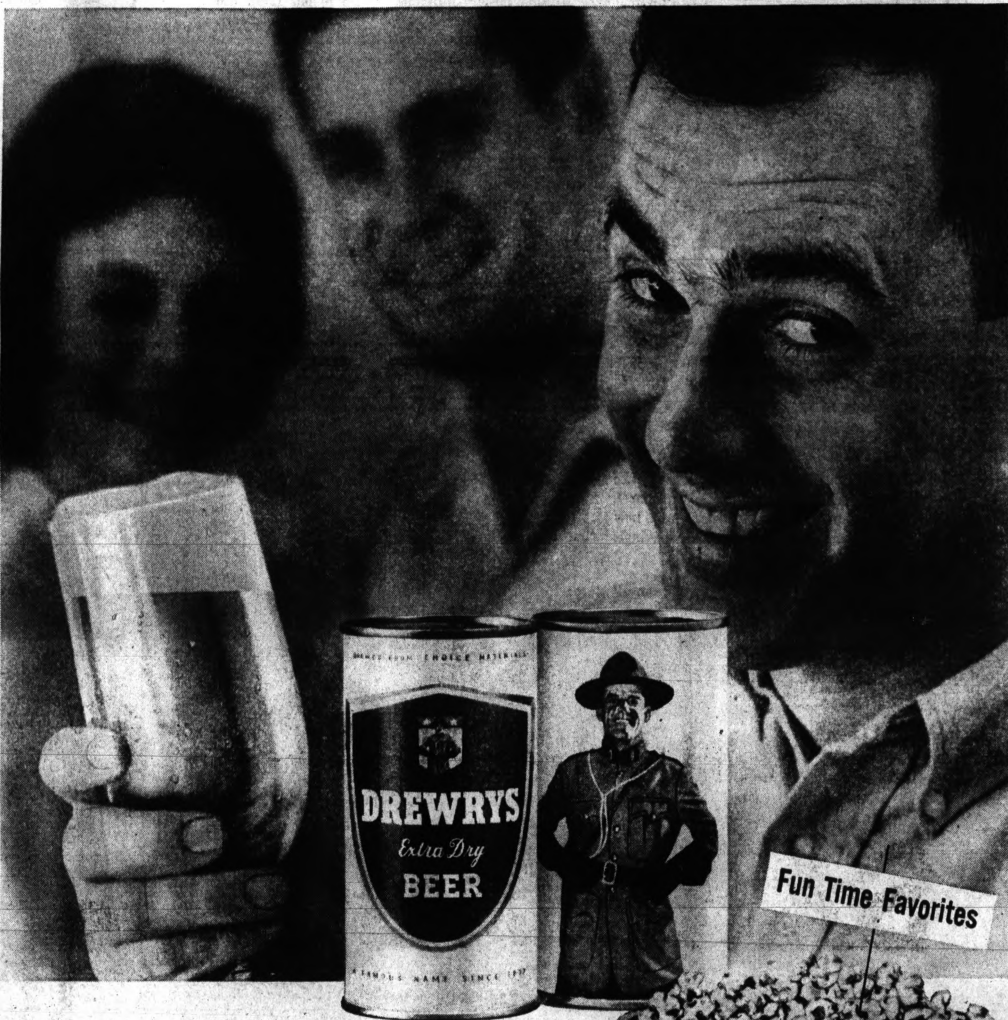

BABY-FACED GUARD — Youthful face of this East Berlin border guard suggests that Communist leaders may be tapping their final reservoir of manpower among 16 and 17-year-olds for border patrol duty along the dividing wall.

Church Camps Eye '4th R'

Jerry Grewe of Elizabeth Lake Road crowns Penny Hart of Judah Road, queen, and Bert Laurain of West Fairmont Avenue, king, at the opening session of vacation Bible school in Pilgrim Holiness Church. Jerry is president of the Youth Fellowship group.

Vacation Bible schools and camps in Oakland County and throughout the nation have grown by leaps and bounds during the past few years.

The National Council of Churches estimates that more than seven million of this country's children will spend time at vacation schools or camps this summer.

Thousands of volunteer workers are conducting classes in Pontiac area churches week-day mornings from 9 to almost noon for a period of two weeks. Public schools throughout the year stress the "3Rs" — reading, writing, and arithmetic but vacation church schools put the emphasis on the fourth R — religion.

START WITH PRAYER

Classes open with prayer followed by a program including music, worship, Bible reading, handicrafts, movies, recreation and refreshments.

Courses usually are planned for boys and girls whose ages range from 5 through 15. At the close of the season many churches present, for friends and parents, displays of handicraft and programs on work accomplished during the period.

A summertime school near Montreal, Que., seems to have pioneered the idea of vacation Bible schools in 1877. It went in for hymn singing and Bible reading.

Lutheran churches in this country started vacation schools around 1890.

A Methodist preacher launched one in Illinois soon after, and by 1907 a national committee on daily vacation

Bible schools was organized in New York.

Protestant, Catholic and Jewish groups also place great emphasis on the summer camp to — among other things — supplement the young person's religious education.

Vacation schools and camps have a two-fold aim. One is to teach youngsters sound Christian relationships in the stimulating atmosphere of living and playing together. The other is to reach some of the many children who don't go to church.

Children are not the only ones to benefit from the vacation school and camps. Many churches hold evening sessions so families may attend together.

Most churches sponsoring camps for boys and girls are now offering one- or two-week family vacations featuring a religious theme. Parents who would like their children to attend church camps may contact pastors at churches listed on the Saturday church pages.

Judy Castell Is Honored This Week

Judy Castell, bride-elect of E. Roger Smith, is both hostess and honored guest at several affairs this week.

Tuesday, she and her mother, Mrs. Robert S. Castell, opened their East Iroquois Road home to members of the bridal party and their mothers for luncheon.

Today, Mrs. Edward V. A. Tassel and daughter Sue will give the honoree a shower; and Thursday, Barbara Alton will be hostess at a splinter dinner in her home on West Iroquois Road.

Culminating this busy round of prewedding activities is the rehearsal dinner Friday evening at Rotunda Inn. Parents of the bridegroom, Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Smith of Hartford will be on hand to greet the guests.

Among those attending, in addition to the honorees, will be Mr. and Mrs. Castell, the bride-to-be's parents; Mrs. Ralph Hastings of Hartford, the bridegroom's aunt; Barbara Alton, maid of honor; Dee Ann Doig of Ft. Lauderdale, Fla.; Barbara Smith, sister of the bridegroom; and Miss Van Tassel.

Also attending the dinner will be Diane Diamond, Deborah Rogers, the William Rogers and the Charles Thompsons of Detroit.

BEST MAN
Best man, Jerome Valenta, completes the guest list which also includes Edward Robinson, Thomas Robinson, Ric Hiller of Gary, Ind., the Andrew Robinsons of Flint, and Rev. and Mrs. George Widdifield.

Other friends and relatives of the bride-elect attending the week's round of parties include: Mrs. Robert J. Alton, Mrs. Daniel Diamond and Mrs. William Rogers.

Also among the well-wishers are Mrs. A. G. Nichol, grand-mother of the bride; Joan Morris, Carol Petroff, Kathie Hunter, Pat Kline, Maureen Calley, Marilyn McLintock, Char Osman, Mrs. Richard Sandage, Mrs. James Comforth of Niles and Mrs. John Oschner of Royal Oak.

The list concludes with Mrs. Arthur Scott, Barbara Smith of Chicago, Jean Morris, Barbara Irvine, Mrs. David Kimball and Janice Kozick.

A-1 Bubble Recipe

The tot who blows the biggest and prettiest soap bubbles on your block may be using this recipe: one part soap or detergent, one part glycerine, five parts water, and a few drops of vegetable coloring. Soft, distilled, or rain water will give the best results. This mixture is just right for either the bubble pipe or the wiggly loop blowing contingent.

See Parents NOW -- Abby Letter Aids 'Just in Time'

DEAR ABBY: We went to the cemetery on Decoration Day and in the chapel they had an item from your column framed, and on display. I copied it and beg of you to print it again. It gave me something to think about.

"JUST IN TIME!"

DEAR JUST: The item you wish me to run again was the one for which I had the most requests for reprints. And here it is.

DEAR ABBY: I am the most heart-broken person on earth. I always found time to go everywhere else but to see my old gray-haired parents. They sat at home alone loving me just the same.

It is too late now to give them those few hours of happiness I was too selfish and too busy to give, and now when I go to visit their graves and look at the green grass above them I wonder if God will ever forgive me for the heartaches I must have caused them.

I pray that you will print this, Abby, to tell those who still have their parents to visit them and show their love and respect while there is still time. For it is later than you think.

"TOO LATE"

DEAR ABBY: My daughter received a copy of your Dear Abby on Marriage. I read it and want you to know that it's the only book I've ever started that I could not put down until I finished it. It should be required reading for every married couple as well as those anticipating marriage. Thank you for writing it.

MRS. F.W.D. Oak Park, Ill.
DEAR MRS. F. W. D.: You're welcome. The pleasure was mine!

DEAR ABBY: I think it is wrong for a bowling league to set a rule about pregnant bowlers.

When I was pregnant with my fourth child, I bowled until 10:00 P.M. and my baby was born at midnight. The baby was fine and so was I. I kept an average of 145 so I figured I held my end up.

LADY BOWLER
DEAR LADY BOWLER: If it was all right with your doctor, it's all right with me. I'm sure it wasn't easy to hold up your end under those conditions, but I think you're wonderful.

DEAR ABBY: I am sitting here with the tears running down my face. I raised two sons and a daughter. I worked my fingers to the bone for them. I wore torn shoes so they could dress nicely.

I scribbled and saved to make payments on cars for them. And do you know that on Mother's Day not ONE of them even sent me a card or called me up?

HEARTBROKEN

DEAR HEARTBROKEN: Wipe the tears off your face, Mother. All most mothers get for their sacrifices is the JOY of sacrificing. You will find APPRECIATION in the dictionary.

How's the world treating you? For a personal unpublished reply, send a self-addressed, stamped envelope to ABBY, care of The Pontiac Press, Box 335, Beverly Hills, Calif.

Volunteer of Month Serves Red Cross

Mrs. Glenn Mandeville of Birmingham has been chosen Volunteer of the Month by the Central Volunteer Bureau, a committee of the Women's Division of Pontiac Area United Fund, for her outstanding volunteer work with the Pontiac Chapter of the American Red Cross.

Mrs. Mandeville holds the titles hospital chairman of Gray Lady Service at Pontiac General Hospital and acting coordinator of Gray Lady service at Oakland County Medical Care Facility and is an authorized Red Cross first-aid instructor.

Besides serving as chairman of hospital Gray Ladies where it is her job to see that the volunteers are working in areas in which they are both needed and satisfied, she also works one day a week as a Gray Lady at both PGH and Oakland County Medical Care Facility. She feels this contact keeps her close to any questions or problems that might arise.

EMERGENCY VOLUNTEER

Mrs. Mandeville also serves in Pontiac General Hospital's emergency room where she works as the Red Cross emergency volunteer twice a month. Besides her husband, her family consists of a grown son and daughter and two grandchildren. She is a member of the MOMS Club and the hospital auxiliary. Starting next month, she is planning to assist the local Red Cross chapter in a project of compiling records.

Any person who is interested in giving community service may telephone the United Fund for further information.

Eight coworkers from the chapter, eight from the ritual team, and officers from the Loyal Order of Moose No. 132 will serve as escorts in the installation.

Coworkers will be Mrs. Clarence Huck, Mrs. Charles Coakley, Mrs. Cecil Rich, Mrs. James Jones, Mrs. George Harshbarger, Mrs. William Cummings, Mrs. Edward LaBarge, and Mrs. George Brendon.

TO BE ESCORTS

From the Loyal Order will be Ray Castorine, Lawrence Norman, Lloyd LaBarge, Walter Lingenfelter, Edward Taylor, William Cummings, Edward LaBarge, and Ray Gard. Newly elected officers to be installed are Mrs. James Shaford, senior regent; Mrs. Richard and Robert, junior graduate regent; Mrs. Jack Upton, junior regent; Mrs. Melvin Smith, chaplain; Mrs. Walter Lingenfelter, treasurer; Mrs. Clarence Cavalier, recorder.

Mrs. Shaford has appointed the following coworkers for the coming year: Mrs. James Beach, guide; Mrs. Joseph Roerick, assistant guide; Mrs. Roy Olfson, assistant; Mrs. Ray Gard, arguer; and Mrs. John Shaffer, pianist.

Standing committee chairmen are Mrs. Mervel Mimick, publicity; Mrs. Gerald Collier, social service; Mrs. Michael Polasek, library; Mrs. Robert Beck, child care; Mrs. Donald McCandish, hospital; Mrs. Ronald Citter, Mooseheart; Mrs. Ray Castorine, Mooseheart; Mrs. George Bacon, membership; and Mrs. Charles Talley, housekeeping.

Serving on special committees are Mrs. Cummings, friendship; Mrs. Vern Taylor, ritual director; Mrs. Herman Huston, college of regents; Mrs. Lou Shans, sickness and distress.

Excorts have been announced as Mrs. James Jones, Mrs. Lawrence Cutcher, Mrs. Coakley, and Mrs. LaBarge. Mrs. Shaford will hold her first meeting 8 p.m. July 9.

Introduction Calls for the Name

By The Emily Post Institute

Q: My brother introduced me to a business associate of his the other day, as follows: "Mr. Smith, may I introduce you to my sister?" I am married and have a different name from that of my brother.

I think his introduction was inadequate and that he should have mentioned that my name is Mrs. Jones. He says that it is in bad taste to introduce a member of one's family as Mrs. or Miss. Which one of us is right?

A: If you were unmarried, he would be right. But since you are married and have a different name, you are right. To say "my sister" would naturally be taken for granted that your name is the same as his. He should have said, "my sister (pause, and then add) Mrs. Jones."

Q: You have always said that a hostess is not expected to wait more than 15 minutes for a late dinner guest and that it was unfair to expect the other guests to wait for one delinquent one.

Does this same rule apply when the late arrival is the only guest? Would it be rude for the family to begin eating before their guest has arrived?

A: If the family is a large one with several hungry children coming to the table, the same rule would apply and the late arrival need not be waited for. A husband and wife, however, with no other family would be very rude if they began to eat before the arrival of their guest.

50 Years Is Marked

Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Lee of North Avenue celebrated their golden wedding anniversary Sunday during a buffet luncheon given by their children.

Friends and relatives called on the honorees during the affair. Included were the couple's five grandchildren and three great-grandchildren.

Out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Claude Wilks of Goshen, Mo., and Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Carr of Flint.

Bride-Elect 'Showered'

mother of Lawrence T. Leach, bridegroom-to-be. Other guests were Mrs. William Lobb, Mrs. Maynard Stephens, Mrs. J. H. Lobb, Mrs. Pete Messman, Mrs. Elmer Huntley, Mrs. Maynard Peters, Mrs. Wilbur Huntley, Mrs. Norman Cox, Mrs. Fred Miller, Mrs. Homer Peterson, Mrs. Edward Leach, Mrs. Kenneth Perry and Mrs. Thomas Butler.

Township.

A breakfast in the Elks Temple followed vows of Janet Lee Delbridge to Wendelin P. Meyer Saturday in St. Benedict Church. Rev. Richard W. Thomas performed the noon ceremony.

Parents of the newlyweds are Waterford Township residents, the Richard G. Delbridges of Voorhees Road and the Wendelin Meyers of Hershey Street.

French gailon lace accented the basque bodice and overskirt which fell over the bride's gown of white tulle taffeta styled with triple back tiers and chapel train.

Bonitant silk illusion veiling was caught by a pearl and crystal tarsi. She held white carnations and red sweetheart roses.

Sally Delbridge, her sister's maid of honor, wore pink silk organza over taffeta, with gathered embroidered skirt and carried carnations in shades of pink.

Carol and Claudia Meyer, sisters of the bridegroom and Loretta Creighton, wore aquamarine organza of identical design and held light pink carnations.

Best man was Anthony Hiller, Chicago Heights, Ill., with Robert Burek, Flint, George Coggins, Kalamazoo and David Panks seating guests.

Following the evening reception for 100 guests in Knights of Columbus hall the newlyweds left for North Dakota.

They will live in Pontiac until the bridegroom returns to Central Michigan University next fall.

Pink roses complemented Mrs. Delbridge's turquoise silk organza contour sheath dress with self-wound roses on a floating panel.

The mother of the bridegroom clipped pink roses and carnations to her beige lace sheath dress.

Each guest brought a recipe to the honoree who plans an Aug. 4 wedding to David E. Smithson, son of the Richard Smithsons of Waterford Township. Maid of honor for the event is the bride-to-be's sister Linda. She Hearn is bride-maid.

Out-of-town guests attending the shower came from Auburn Heights, Lincoln Park, Keweenaw Harbor, Union Lake, Drayton Plains and Waterford.

Northern Oakland County Girl Scouts wound up "singing in the rain" after a 22-mile hiking expedition under full pack Saturday afternoon at Kensington Park near Millford.

The girls mastered the Chief Pontiac Trail which winds through forests, swamp land and around scenic highways.

The hikers were led by Mrs. Jack Riley, Mrs. Raymond Cooper and Mrs. Clifford Neville. Among the rain-soaked troopers were Nancy Walters, Sharon Stindler, Linda Arno, Bonnie Pustimo, Carol Warner, Sally Martin, Susan Little, Barbara Benson and Ruth Neville.

At Mackinac Island

Mackinac Island will be the setting for the 40th biennial convention of Delta Gamma Sorority as Michigan hosts the sorority's collegiate and alumnae members Sunday to July 7 at the Grand Hotel.

Mrs. O'Neill L. Dillon, Birmingham, also an alumna of Albion College, has been active in Detroit civic affairs. She has participated in settlement and survey school work through the Monica Guild. She is past grants and loans chairman of International secretary of Delta Gamma.

Mrs. David Taylor, Birmingham, also an alumna of Albion College, and Mrs. Malcolm Cameron, Birmingham, a graduate of Miami University, Oxford, Ohio, are cochairmen with Mrs. Dillon.

Delegates to the convention from the Detroit area are: Hilda Humphreys of Detroit; Mrs. William H. Klingbeil, Grosse Pointe Shores; and Mrs. Donald Hacker, men and province officers. The council members have planned the business sessions.

THE FOUNDATION
The director of the Delta Gamma Foundation, Mrs. Russel S. Strickland of Bloomfield Hills, and her committee will have an active part in the convention.

Delta Gamma Foundation is the culmination of many years of fraternal service to campus and community. An official project—night conservation and aid to the blind—was added to the work in 1936 and is the largest division of the foundation which also includes grants and loans program.

Each year, scholarships and loans are made available to orthopedic technicians and to teachers and consultants for visually handicapped children, as well as in undesignated fields for both graduates and undergraduates members and nonmembers.

We Admit to Being 45 Years Old . . .

And we adhere to the adage that "Life Begins at 40" . . . for that's when we began hatching plans for a larger, more comfortable store, located conveniently in the heart of the Pontiac-Birmingham area. Three years ago we made the big move to our 1680 South Telegraph Road store—and your response has been heart-warming!

Last winter, we increased our store display area and incorporated the warehouse under the same roof—to give you better facilities, more prompt service.

And here we are at 45, loving every minute of it! We're glad you appreciate our way of doing business as formulated 'way back in 1917 by our founders. We believe in shopping the furniture markets for the finest quality merchandise representing good taste and greatest value. Our decorators insist on the newsworthy in good design . . . never the ostentatious.

Our Price Tags Show the CASH Price— There's No Hidden Mark-Up for Credit

If you wish to purchase for cash, the price listed is effective for 90 days. If you wish to purchase on a time basis, up to 24 months, a small service charge is added to the ticketed price. There is no charge for deliveries. The price you pay is guaranteed to be the lowest price obtainable anywhere for commensurate quality.

We Like Being a COMPLETE Store

Today, there are specialists in each phase of the home furnishings business. We like being specialists in every phase. For example, you'll find Colonial, Traditional, French Provincial, Italian Provincial, Danish Modern and Contemporary home furnishings and accessories in abundant selection at Stewart-Glenn's. Our Decorating staff will advise you, at no additional cost, in color themes, room-planning, fabric selection and blending of periods. Draperies, Carpeting, Bedspreads and bedding are in complete selection—under one roof. Whether you need a lamp for the guest room or a new idea to refurbish the family room, you'll find the IDEA, BACKED BY THE MERCHANDISE . . . at Stewart-Glenn. We're looking forward to your visits. Come in and see our latest arrivals in furniture fashions.

Elect New Officers

Fashionettes Gather

The Fashionette Club met Tuesday evening at the Adah Shelly Library to elect new officers.

They are Mrs. Edward Cook, president; Mrs. Wava Parker, vice president; Mrs. Frank Reichert, recording secretary; Mrs. Martin Hanson, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Matthew Fotheringham, treasurer; Mrs. Edwin Bennett, custodian of the scales; Mrs. William Augie, custodian of the awards; Mrs. Ollie Brannan, weight recorder; Mrs. Jesse V. Jereal, program chairman; Mrs. James King, publicity chairman; and Mrs. Victor Eyjen, historian. Mrs. Edna Mertz won the club trophy for losing the most weight since the last meeting. Mrs. Leslie Curtis was welcomed as a new member.

Installation of officers will highlight next Tuesday's meeting. Afterward, members will go on a guided tour of the new section of the Pontiac Osteopathic Hospital.

The club, sponsored by the Pontiac Department of Parks and Recreation, meets 7 to 9 p. m. each Tuesday evening at the Adah Shelly Library. Any woman who wishes to lose weight is eligible for membership.

Dr. George W. Crane Says:

Business Parties Taboo

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

CASE M-451: Russell D., aged 31, is a foreman in a large manufacturing plant.

"Russell works in a department where there are six men and about 30 women," his wife informed me.

"There weren't many girls in his department until the last 3 or 4 years.

"I didn't mind his working with women, but I do think something must be wrong with management when it gives parties to which wives are not invited.

"For the past year, there have been monthly parties at the plant. We wives are not invited, and our husbands have informed us that it doesn't look right for us to be there, since it is strictly a department affair.

"As a result, three of the six men already are involved in affairs with girls who work with them. All three of these men have children.

"And now Russell has confessed that he is enamored of one of the girls, too. Dr. Crane, what is wrong with a factory that is so short sighted as to sponsor social events that encourage men in having illicit affairs?"

DIAGNOSIS

"I have encountered many patients with this identical complaint, and my mail has also many letters from husbands, as well as wives, who have outlined this same problem.

"An intelligent personnel department recognizes that maximum efficiency on the job is predicated on a happy, well adjusted home life of the workers.

No smart personnel manager would countenance a factory parties to which the wives or families are not invited.

Such an unwise procedure would be like sending a child into a gasoline refinery with a box of matches. A chance striking of a match would then lead to catastrophe.

And when a few young married men are beered and cheered by half a hundred man-hungry females till late at night, and then seductively encouraged to take the girls home, and not be in too great a hurry to leave, another un-

MIRIAM C. MOHRHOFF

A bachelor of science degree cum laude in chemistry was received by Miriam Mohrhoff at Marygrove College commencement exercises. The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Mohrhoff of Mackintosh Lane in Bloomfield Hills, she was elected to Alpha Lambda Delta, freshman women's national honor society, and Sigma Delta Pi, national Spanish honor society. As a senior she was listed in "Who's Who Among Students in American Colleges and Universities," and was awarded a research assistantship in the oncology department at the University of Wisconsin where she will work on her master's degree.

Present Gifts to Center

President of Beta Mu Chapter, Epistol Sigma Alpha Sorority, Mrs. Vernon Love of Briggs Street, Drayton Plains, presented table tennis equipment, softball, and a badminton set to Mrs. Charles R. Ramsey, house mother of the Girls Center of the Oakland County Children's Home.

Mrs. Ramsey accepted in behalf of the girls who have been the main interest of the factory for the past year.

Various members and their mothers are responsible for sewing instructions, hair styling, skating and sledding parties, cooking instructions, and the making of baskets containing hair care items.

Mrs. Joseph Mendoza, of Lake Orion, was in charge of the project. Mrs. Lawrence Hartman of Clarkston, and Mrs. Fred Vollrath of Waterford Township, were ways and means chairmen for the project.

Beware the Red Wine

"Look not on the white while it is red," states the Bible.

meaning, "Stay away from temptation!"

Your husband may be an honorable fellow, morally trained and devoted to you and your children.

But let a score of roguish girls surround him with eager "Ahs" and "Ohs", and he may become emotionally intoxicated with his apparent irresistible romantic appeal.

If they meanwhile ply him with a few bottles of beer, each of which contains the alcoholic content of a glass of whiskey, his judgment is partly anesthetized by the liquor, and you wives at home will have further cause to worry.

It would seem that on many occasions, management is to blame for such unwise parties. But if you wives wanted to prevent your husband from being tempted in the gastric realm, you'd gorge him with foodstuff at home so he would have little appetite for the pie or cake or beefsteak that even a ravishing beauty might offer him. Gorge him sexually and you can likewise render him more immune to sexual seduction.

Tips on Careers

Demand Heavy for Salesmen

Editor's Note: This week's salesman tips is the 11th in a 12-week series of career articles, giving you in a capsule form up-to-minute facts on job possibilities in industry and the professions. Source: U.S. Department of Labor.

GILBERT YOUTH SERVICES

(Because sales workers are employed in so many areas, and because there are job opportunities as salesmen for people with widely different educational backgrounds and personal characteristics, this capsule career tip will confine itself to the three largest fields: retail trade, outside salesmen for wholesale houses, and salesmen for manufacturing companies.)

Educational Qualifications: High school graduation the usual requirement for salesmen in retail and wholesale trade; college graduates preferred for training as manufacturers' salesmen because the salesmen will be dealing with high-level company executives.

Personal Qualifications: Pleasant personality, interest in sales work, neat appearance, ability to get along with people, outgoing nature, good health.

Advantages: Employment expected to increase rapidly during this decade; growing opportunity for part-time workers in retail stores; special opportunity as manufacturers' salesmen as more products come on the market.

Disadvantages: Some physical strain, since retail salesmen must stand on their feet for long periods; wholesale salesmen also spend a great deal of time on their feet and carry heavy sample cases; wholesale and manufacturers' salesmen must be away from home and spend evenings and weekends writing reports.

Salaries: Retail store salesmen and women—Beginners, $20 to $25 a week; experienced, $10 to $25 a week more; highest earnings, $100 a week, received by those who sell automobiles, major appliances and furniture.

Wholesale salesmen—Beginners, $400 to $500 a month; experienced, $6,000 to $15,000 a year (some make considerably more).

Manufacturers' salesmen—College graduates recruited for sales trainees $1,800 to $2,200 a year; starting salaries for salesmen of technical products and for salesmen with the master's degree, about $400 a year higher; experienced, $10,000 or more a year; those in the technical sales field, several times this figure.

MRS. RICHARD B. RICE

Newlyweds Traveling to Thousand Islands

Motoring to the Thousand Islands, Lake Placid and northern New York State are Richard B. Rice and his bride, the former Luana Koye Mehlberg, who were wed Saturday evening in the First Methodist Church, Rev. Paul T. Hart officiated.

For her wedding and church reception, the bride chose white silk organza over tulle with skirt and bodice accents of Alencon lace touched with seed pearls. Her fingertip veil was secured by a tulle bow. She held a crescent of white Fugi chrysanthemums.

The Lester B. Mehlbergs of Mendowleigh Lane, Waterford Township, and the Charles A. Rices, Springle Drive, Waterford Township, are parents of the couple.

Matron of honor, Mrs. Kenneth Davidson, wore pale green silk organza over tulle, styled with Rice and his bride, the former Luana Koye Mehlberg, who were wed Saturday evening in the First Methodist Church, Rev. Paul T. Hart officiated.

Roger Rice served as best man and James Rice and Gerald Mehlberg acted as groomsmen. They are brothers of the bride couple.

Pale pink rosebuds accented champagne embroidered organza over tulle for Mrs. Mehlberg and Mrs. Rice, wearing pink chiffon, chose deep azalea pink rosebuds.

The newlyweds will reside on Clintonville Road.

Charboneau-Sparks Rites at St. BenedictCouple Says Vows at Nuptial Mass

Joanne Marie Sparks exchanged vows with Merrill J. Charboneau at a nuptial Mass offered by Rev. Richard A. Schoenher, Saturday in St. Benedict Church.

Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence W. Sparks, Churchill Road, Auburn Heights, the bride appeared in white Chantilly lace over tulle, styled with oval neckline and chapel train. French illusion veiling fell from a Swedish crown of pearls and crystals.

A white orchid and feathered carnations rested on her white prayer book.

Braided coronas touched with pearls accented dresses of turquoise silk organza for Drayton Plains residents, Mrs. Joseph Zalkin, honor matron and bridesmaid Mary Ward, and Mrs. Sherman Weakley of Pontiac. They carried turquoise carnations.

ATTEND BROTHER

Attending the brother were Cleland Charboneau, best man and Robert, who ushered. They are the sons of the Herman A. Charboneau of South Josephine Avenue. Jerry Henderson of Drayton Plains, completed the usher list.

Modern Life Tough for Minister's Wife

By RUTH MILLETT
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

What is a minister's wife really like? That is the question that the Boston University School of Theology is going to find out by a research program of mass interviewing that will take three years.

When the facts are all in the school will publish a booklet in the hope that the young wives of ministers will have a clearer idea of what their life will be like and what will be expected of them and that church congregations will stop expecting the minister's wife to be too perfect to be human.

The latter bit of education is, of course, the most important. For even in this free and easy age, most congregations are still pretty critical of their minister's wife.

Her clothes are expected to be more conservative than those of other members of the church. She can't try out an exotic hair-do, no matter how much she needs a lift. And she certainly can't dye her hair, even though half the women of the church may dye theirs.

In addition to that she is expected to rear perfect children who never get into trouble, never get dirty and who lead more restricted lives than most of the other children in the church.

Whatever personal or family plans the minister's wife has are always subject to change to fit in with any demands on her time made by any church group.

The minister's wife is also supposed to think more than twice before she speaks and never to offend anyone, however justified she might be in speaking her mind if she weren't the wife of the minister.

That's how it is today, but with an effort being made to show the minister's wife as she is and as she feels and as she wishes she could be, perhaps in the future she will be allowed to be a bit more human.

'Extenderall' for Infants

(UPI)—Something new in infants' wear promises a longer wearing span as the child grows.

It is called an "extenderall," of dacron and cotton poplin, which is a one-piece garment much like a coverall.

Rest, Vacation Won't Help You

Exhausted? Or Are You Really Depressed?

By PHILLIS BATTLE

NEW YORK—Which comes first—fatigue or depression? NOW THERE'S a question with a little more meat than the old chicken-or-egg puzzle. Also more pertinence to modern life. Because who do you know who isn't sometimes either fatigued or depressed?

Well, doctors at the medical clinic of the Massachusetts General Hospital have been studying this problem for four years and they have discovered that fatigue is the single most common symptom of depression.

In other words, a great many patients who seek medical aid for exhaustion—frequently severe—are suffering really from mental depression. The mind is beating down the body.

The doctors reported (in "Science Digest") that this depressed condition came as result, generally, of some kind of psychic shock to the patient. And the three main types of shock which precipitated the depression turned out to be loss of a sense of security, bodily injury, and/or separation from a loved one.

Any of these personal tragedies could result, often without the patient's realizing it, in a depressed mental condition which, in turn, caused a frequent feeling of weariness. Such "heavy feeling" are often overwhelming and make daily activity extremely difficult.

The conclusion to be drawn: People who are excessively tired, with no apparent physical reason for being so, may not be helped by more rest. Nor will a vacation probably do the job.

They probably need love or a psychiatrist more than sleep or a cruise.

PAPER BOAT

In Cambridge, England, a gentleman named John Hookham has constructed a sailing boat of paper.

It is 17 feet, six inches long. He used newspaper because it was the only kind of paper in plentiful supply. It took 11,000 feet of paper alone to make the hull; the 57-foot mast is made of paper too. Altogether the boat is more than 500 pounds worth of the stuff you are holding in your hands at this moment.

Hookham has not estimated how much money the ship cost.

But it time really is money, it's a costly venture.

Named the "No Hurry," it took 17 years to create.

However, it served a great purpose. With its all-paper hull, it

Mr. Busch claims that he is visiting New York to observe how tourists are handled in such places as the Statue of Liberty, the United Nations, Radio City, and so on. But we suspect there is more to it than that, because Busch is a bundle of ambition.

"I believe to get anywhere in show business you have to start at the bottom," he has said. "And a cave is sure low down."

We think he's angling for a big city job. Sounds like empire state-manship from here.

Chocolate Cake Heads List of New Products

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

Last week we had one of the best chocolate cakes we've had in ages — made from a mix. The new Dark Chocolate Fudge Flavor Cake mix is delicious. We liked also the Dark Chocolate Frosting said to contain the equivalent of a quart of buttermilk. Pancake batter made with this mix does not thicken on standing. Chocolate cake, to puncture. The newest buttermilk mix is light and tender. Each two-pound package is in a one and green pepper flakes.

CHOCOLATE MOUSSE — Get out your fanciest parfait glasses and spoon alternating layers of a rich chocolate mixture and wafer crumbs into them. Chill before presenting to your family or guests with a top hat of whipped cream and a cherry.

Creamy Dessert Served Layered

No Cooking Needed to Combine Chocolate Eggs, Whipped Cream

Having guests for dinner tonight and wondering what to serve for dessert?

"Chocolate Mousse" will fit the bill... and it is sure to make a hit.

This delicious quickie dessert is a light and airy combination of eggs, heavy cream and chocolate with just a hint of coffee, alternating with vanilla wafer crumbs to give it a crisp contrast.

Chocolate Mousse
16-ounce package semi-sweet chocolate pieces
2 teaspoons instant coffee
2 tablespoons cold water
2 eggs, separated
1 cup heavy cream, whipped
1 cup vanilla wafer crumbs, finely rolled

Melt chocolate pieces with instant coffee and cold water in saucepan, stir until mixture is a smooth paste. Separate the eggs. Beat egg yolks, slightly. Add chocolate mixture to egg yolks and beat until cool.

Beat egg whites until stiff, but not dry. Fold chocolate mixture into egg whites. Beat heavy cream until stiff and fold lightly into chocolate mixture.

Spoon into tall sherbet glasses with alternate layers of vanilla wafer crumbs, finishing with a layer of chocolate mixture. Chill. Serve with whipped cream. Garnish with a cherry. Makes 46 servings.

Lard Has Some Qualities That Make It Special

CHICAGO — Shortening and lard meant the same thing to grandmother. She used lard for everything from frying to cake baking.

Today's budget-conscious homemaker would do well to consider lard for her cooking needs, advises the American Meat Institute. Lard has always been one of the most economical shortenings available and provides other bonuses as well.

Lard has a higher shortening power for tender, flaky pastries. Not only is its cost lower than other shortenings but this high shortening value makes it go farther.

Lard has a wide plastic range. This means it is pliable and workable over a wide range of temperatures. For instance, there is no time wasted in waiting for lard to soften, because it can be used immediately upon removal from the refrigerator.

As an all-purpose shortening, lard excels. Not only is it ideal for crusts, biscuits, bread and doughnuts, but it creates cakes of fine texture and feathery lightness.

Some studies show that these cakes have a tendency to stay fresh longer than those made with other fats and are more economical, too. Lard's high smoke point is an important factor in frying and deep-fat frying.

Here are some facts that grandmother might not have known: Lard is an excellent source of fatty acids which scientists have found to be essential for growth and maintenance of good health and is 97 per cent digestible. And today's homemaker has the added convenience of a shelf-stable lard.

Perhaps lard is the secret ingredient you have been looking for to prepare dishes "like grandma used to make."

Crushed Toffee Bits Give Interest to Pie

The use of dessert topping instead of whipped cream in this pie, cuts calories.

Toffee Chiffon Pie
1 envelope unflavored gelatin
1-3 cup sugar
1 egg (lightly beaten)
13 cup sugar
¼ teaspoon salt
1 cup milk (scalded)
¼ cup sherry
1 package (2 ounces) whipped dessert topping
½ cup crushed English toffee
Baked 9-inch graham-cracker shell

Soften gelatin in water. Add sugar and salt to egg; stir in a little hot milk; combine with remaining milk. Cook and stir over hot water until mixture thickens slightly and coats a silver spoon. Add softened gelatin; stir to dissolve. Stir in sherry. Cool until slightly thickened.

Meanwhile prepare dessert topping according to package directions; chill; fold with toffee into thickened gelatin. Chill briefly, until mixture mounds; turn into cooled shell. Chill until firm—at least 2 hours.

Cool Fruit Soup Most Refreshing

Wonder if anyone ever counted the number of special products for habled. The newest one we have heard about is Fruit-Orange Juice. Finely strained, it will flow through bottle sippers.

If your doctor says to use Safflower oil, you will now find it in the grocery's shelf. We got our sample just a couple of days ago, and, as we are moving this week, we don't expect to be able to try it for a little while.

We'll pass on what the manufacturers say; their new plastic wrap is easier to handle; it's waterproof and moisture-repellent; and it's not affected by temperature changes. You'll just have to try it.

Why not take advantage of all the help you can get during the summer months and try a new recipe with a mix? How about adding peaches to coffee cake mix for an interesting dessert?

Peachy Cinnamon Pudding Cake
Cinnamon Nut Coffee Cake Mix
2 tablespoons butter
1 can (1 lb.) sliced peaches and juice
1 tablespoon lemon juice

Drain peaches, reserving juice. Add water to make 1 cup. Melt butter in 8 or 9-inch square pan. Arrange peaches in pan and sprinkle with Topping Mix.

Prepare coffee cake batter. Spread over peaches and Topping Mix. Heat peach juice to boiling point. Add lemon juice. Pour over batter. Bake at 375 degrees for 30 to 35 minutes. Serve warm with whipped cream or sour cream.

In Scandinavian cookery, soup making is regarded as an art. Of all their many well-known soups, one that is becoming popular in the United States is fruit soup.

Colorful and delightfully refreshing, this delicacy may be served as an appetizer or dessert. For weight-watchers, though, it's especially suitable because it contains sugar. Sugar-containing foods, according to medical and nutritional experts, help the dieter stay on the diet by satisfying the appetite.

If there are weight-watchers in the family, plan to treat them to the delicious tasting fruit soup. It's either chilled or warm with a garnish of lemon. One serving contains only 87 calories.

Fruit Juice Soup
1½ cups water
½ cup sugar
1-inch stick cinnamon
1½ cups cranberry juice
1 cup peach nectar
1 cup pineapple juice
1 cup orange juice
¼ cup quick-cooking tapioca

Combine water, sugar and cinnamon in saucepan. Bring to a boil and simmer for 5 minutes; remove cinnamon stick. Add cranberry juice, peach nectar, pineapple juice and orange juice. Bring to a boil. Gradually stir in tapioca, stirring constantly. Simmer 5 minutes stir occasionally. Chill.

Yield: 12 servings. Calories per serving: 87.

The average dentist has 1,184 patients who make a total of 3,150 office visits a year.

Gelatin Colored by Diced Beets for Salad

Molded Beet Salad
1 can (1 pound) whole medium beets
4 cups water
1 large package (6 ounces) lemon-flavored gelatin
2 cups finely diced celery
Salad greens and Cucumber
Drain beets and dice. (Reserve beet juice for some other use.) Heat 2 cups water to boiling and pour over gelatin, stirring until dissolved; stir in the remaining 2 cups cold water.

Place the beets and celery in a ring mold (at least 6 cups); pour in the gelatin mixture; chill until set. The beets will color the gelatin. Unmold; surround with salad greens and put some in the center.

Pare and flute cucumber with tines of fork; slice thin; arrange slices at intervals over jelly mold. Makes 8 to 12 servings.

Diced Celery Teams With Orange Bits

A delightful salad that has a great affinity for pork.

Celery Orange Salad
4 oranges
2 cups diced celery
French dressing
Boston lettuce
Pare oranges so no white membrane remains; slice about ¼-inch thick and dice — there should be 2 cups. Mix with celery and about ¼ cup French dressing; chill until serving time. Arrange on lettuce. Makes 6 servings.

Brush With Olive Oil

For nice even browning of barbecued meats, brush with Spanish olive oil before and during grilling. Olive oil clings to the meat better than other cooking oils and a little goes a long way.

Fill French Loaves for Good Variety

Cut three thin loaves of French or Italian bread almost through lengthwise; carefully open loaves, pull out inside of each loaf, being careful not to split the backs. Spread inside surfaces with butter. Pack contents of one roll of liver quarist into a loaf; press loaf back together; chill. Fill second loaf with contents of one roll of smoky cheese; third with one thin roll of salami. Chill loaves. At serving time slice each roll thinly; arrange slices on serving platter or tray. Makes about 2 snacks.

Layer of Plain Cake is Base for Ice Cream Pie

Start with a 1/2-inch layer of sponge cake, or plain cake layer split to 1/2-inch. Fill the cake into a 9-inch pie pan. Spread it with slightly softened vanilla ice cream and place it in the freezer until the ice cream is frozen hard, about 30 minutes. Then add another layer of slightly softened ice cream or ice milk, this time choosing your favorite fruity, nutty or other delicious flavor. Return the pie to the freezer for another 30 minutes until the ice cream is hard. Spread the pie with an egg white meringue, tightly sealing any air leaks to the ice cream. Brown meringue under the broiler, then place pie in the freezer until serving time. Serve this ice cream pie in wedges.

Chili Flavored Sauces Tops Cheeseburgers

Chili beef and cheese buns will make a big hit with the teen-age crowd. Combine 1 pound of ground lean beef with 1 teaspoon of salt and 1/4 teaspoon of ground black pepper. Shape into 8 thin patties of uniform size. Place a round of thinly sliced

American cheese on each of 4 patties. Cover with remaining patties, pressing edges together to seal in cheese. Brown patties on each side in about 2 tablespoons of hot shortening or oil. Remove meat to warm spot and add to pan 1 cup of water, 1/2 cup of catsup, 2 tablespoons of instant minced onion, 1 1/2 tablespoons of green pepper flakes, 1 tablespoon of chili powder, and 1 teaspoon of salt or more to taste. Bring to boil. Add meat, lower heat and simmer 10 minutes, or until sauce thickens. Serve in warmed split buns.

Blackberry Pears
1 can (1 pound, 13 ounces) pear halves in heavy syrup
1 cup dry white wine
1 pint blackberries
Drain pears into a container; add wine; cover and refrigerate overnight. Refrigerate pear, syrup separately. Next morning bring pear syrup to a boil; simmer about 15 minutes to reduce to about 1 cup; cool and pour over pears and wine; chill. At serving time wash and drain blackberries and add to pears. Makes 8 servings.

Quick soup: heat a can of cream-style corn with milk and a few good pinches of freshly-ground pepper.

Fold Colorful Fruits Into Cream, Then Freeze

When the temperature begins to soar, put your refrigerator to work on summer desserts. Try this luscious frozen peach dessert when entertaining family or friends.

Whip one pint heavy cream until stiff and fold in ½ cup sifted powdered sugar and 1 teaspoon vanilla. Freeze until partially firm. Turn into a bowl and fold in 1 cup diced canned cling peaches, ½ cup each chopped pecans and maraschino cherries and 1 cup miniature marshmallows. Freeze until cream holds its shape.

Saute First

When you are using sliced canned mushrooms as the filling for an omelet, you'll find the mushroom flavor will be improved if you drain the slices and saute them with a chopped onion.

Fruit Medley Tray Doubles as Dessert

Highlight summer buffet tables with a beautiful ice-filled tray of colorful fruits. Select a ripe, juicy California midsummer cantaloupe. Cut into halves, remove seeds and rind. Cut into slender wedges and arrange the salmon-pink melon wedges, red strawberries, banana finger and pineapple chunks on cracked ice.

Surround the tray with frosty sugared grapes made by dipping tiny clusters of green grapes into whipped egg white, then into granulated sugar. Dry on paper and arrange on fruit tray before serving.

Wrap Beef Mixture Around Cooked Prunes

NEW YORK (UPI) — Prune meat patties stretch 1 pound of ground beef into 6 servings. To 1 beaten egg, add 1-3 cup of seasoned dry bread crumbs, ¼ cup of milk, ¼ teaspoon of salt, a dash of pepper and a pinch of oregano. Mix well. Add 1 pound of ground beef. Stir with fork to blend.

Dot with butter and broil to desired doneness, turning to brown both sides.

Instant Onion Works

No chives for the baked potatoes! Serve instant minced onion instead, just as it comes from the container. The crisp, sweet-flavored onion bits are perfect with potatoes; and there's no chopping or other preparation.

What makes this 'BOTANY' 500 summer suit one of the country's best sellers at 59⁹⁵?

Try one on and you'll know in a minute. It's the way this fine blend of Dacron and wool feels—light, buoyant, fresh as a June breeze. It's the way it acts—flicks off wrinkles and holds its press even on the sultriest days. Perhaps most of all it's the way it's tailored—for Daroff handles this summerweight with the same skill they apply to their fine regular-weight fabrics: good drape, careful stitching, faultless detail. We think it's a lot of suit for 59.95—and apparently most American men do, too, for it's a consistent best-seller all over the land. See it this season in a wide variety of solid shades, neat patterns and subdued glen plaids; in 3-button models with trim new single-pleat trousers.

Receives Award From Boys Club

Harvey Johns, Retiring President of Board, Is Honored

Harvey Johns Monday night was awarded the "Man and Boy" award by the Pontiac Boys Club. Johns is chief of plant protection at General Motors, Truck and Coach Division.

The award is given for service among youth. Johns is the outgoing president of the Boys Club Board of Directors, and has served on the board for 15 years.

Only three of these awards have been given to local men in the past ten years.

New officers of the board of directors, elected Monday night are: president, Arthur Compton, 150 Chippewa Road; first vice-president, Joseph Davis Jr., 42 Jefferson St.; second vice-president, Billie Lepley, 404 Nesbit, Avon Township; secretary, R. C. and Craig, 35 Pleasantview; and treasurer, Ralph Dawe, 43 Osceola.

Three new members were appointed to the Boys Club board of directors. They were Donald Adams, probate judge, of 2711 W. Walton Blvd., Drayton Plains; Howard Bell, 18915 Warwick, Beverly Hills Village; and Fred Haggard, head of the Oakland County AFL-CIO Council, of 6309 Terrell Rd., Drayton Plains.

Engine Stolen in '47, Returned by Express

OXFORD, Calif. (AP)—The Railway Express delivered to Jack Evans a big crate labeled "out-board motor."

Inside, sure enough, was an out-board motor—stolen from Evans' garage in 1947—and this note: "I did not think I would be so long in getting this back to you."

The motor, shipped prepaid from Alhambra, Calif., was in good condition. Evans said he has no idea who Bill J. is.

German Town to Send Citizens on Bay City Visit

BAY CITY (U)—The city of Ansbach in Germany will be returning compliments to Bay City some time in August.

Bay City and Ansbach are "sister cities" under the international "people-to-people" good relations program instituted by former President Eisenhower and continued by President Kennedy.

Last year Bay City sent a delegation of its citizens to Ansbach on a friendly visit. Ansbach will do likewise in August, sending 120 people here. The dates remain to be determined. Ludwig Schonecker, lord mayor of Ansbach, has been here making advance preparations.

Korean Government Will Honor Truman

SEOUL, South Korea (AP)—The South Korean government will confer its highest decoration on former President Harry S. Truman in recognition of his decision to send American troops to help turn back the Communist invaders in the Korean War.

The Foreign Ministry said today the Order of National Foundation will be presented to Truman in Washington by Ambassador Chung Il-kwon on behalf of the chairman of the ruling junta, Gen. Chung Hee Park.

Audience Wants Less Noise From the Courthouse

DOYLESTOWN, Pa. (AP)—Petitioners who call themselves a captive audience would like a little more peace and quiet.

About 20 residents asked the county commissioners Tuesday to reduce ringing of the Overpeck Memorial Carillon atop the county's new courthouse.

The carillon rings every quarter hour, 15 hours a day, every day, the petitioners said, and "it becomes highly distracting and even nerve-racking."

They asked that it ring only on half hours, be stopped at 5 p.m.

Charges Are Dismissed in Anti-N-Tests Case

WASHINGTON (U)—A U.S. commissioner dismissed charges yesterday against Gregory Leszczynski, 20, of Detroit, one of 15 persons arrested while picketing against bomb tests outside the Pentagon.

Commissioner Stanley King ruled there was insufficient evidence to convict Leszczynski on charges of creating a hazard and loitering during picketing activities last Friday.

Rose Does Some Figuring . . . and Is Scared

4th Grounded Ship Freed in UP River

By BOB CONSIDINE
NEW YORK — More from the Market Place:

Dear Bob,

At the tail end of my first piece on the stock market, I said I would jot out a frightening statistic which follows around the President might do well to memorize. Fasten your seat belt . . .

On Blue Monday, May 28, the 11 million people in this country who own common stocks sold better than 9 million shares—one eighth of one per cent of the 7 billion shares they own.

The Dow Jones Average rose divided almost 50 points in five and a half hours. The loss in value was in excess of $20 billion.

When I saw these figures in the paper next day, I asked myself a question: If the biggest break since '29 came about because folks unloaded one-eighth of one per cent of their stocks, what would happen if they decided to sell one-half of one per cent in a single day? In other words, about 40 million shares.

Well, Bob the answer frightened the bejabbers out of me. Simple arithmetic indicated that the averages would go off about 100 points, and that the loss in value would be in excess of $100 billion. The high-speed tickers, which fell behind five hours May 29, would tick out their and music all through the night.

As you know, the specialists on the floor of the exchange are expected to preserve an orderly market. However, if 40 million shares were offered for sale they'd be helpless—they just haven't got that kind of money.

The mutual funds would be equally helpless. The combined worth of their holdings is about $20 billion, but few of them have as much as 20 per cent in ready cash.

Today, no person or combination of persons has enough money to curb a $100-billion shake-out. If 40 million shares hit the market, only one thing could happen—the New York Stock Exchange would shut down. This, in turn might well result in a panic which would make '29 look like a picnic.

IT CAN HAPPEN

If this piece is read by the President's financial experts, I can well imagine their patronizing smiles. It's inconceivable, they will assert, that one-half of one per cent of the common stocks of America would be offered for sale in one day.

Well, here's the statistic which would like them to memorize: On Black Friday in 1929, one and four-tenths per cent of all common stocks were thrown on the market. If it happened once, it can happen again.

The financial experts may argue that there have been a great many changes in our set-up since 1929. True enough, but there's one thing which hasn't changed much—the human mind. Every bargain basement psychologist will bear me out that the human animal is unpredictable, and doubly so when it panics.

Plain old-fashioned panic had a lot to do with our troubles between 1929 and 1931. As a result of a series of stock market breaks, businessmen lost confidence, became confused and no longer could function effectively.

Our industrial machine slowed to a stagger. Fifteen million people were thrown out of work. Apple trees were stripped to give stock brokers something to sell.

We went down the drain, and the suction pulled the rest of the world down with us. And it all began when frightened Americans dumped one and four-tenths per cent of their stock in a day. . . .

late. But whether I sleep or not is of no importance. What is important is that this statistic is the big black monkey on President Kennedy's back.

It's why every move he makes and every sentence he utters should be carefully weighed in terms of its effect on the mass mind. I prayerfully hope he realizes it. . . .

In my last piece, I'm going to stick out my neck from here to Honolulu. Realizing full well that I'm being presumptuous, I'm going to tell the President of the United States how he can put the stock market up hundred points in two weeks.

SAULT STE. MARIE UP — The last of four ships aground in the upper St. Marys River was freed yesterday.

The Canadian freighter John A. France was freed after cargo lightening and proceeded to the Soo Locks.

The France, owned by Scott Miesner Steamships Ltd., and bound for Montreal, ran aground Sunday. She has a capacity of 24,000 tons.

After 30 ships had been forced to anchor while the channel was being cleared, the Coast Guard reported conditions normal again.

Three other ships which ran aground were freed last night.

Plan to Mark July 4 as Friendship Day

MANILA (UPI) President Diosdado Macapagal designated Education Secretary Alejandro Roces today to arrange the observance of July 4, which is being celebrated here this year as Philippine-American Friendship Day rather than Independence Day as in the past.

June 12 was designated Philippine Independence Day this year as a gesture of protest of Congress's failure to approve the $73 million Philippine war damage bill.

"We will synchronize the (July 4) celebration with that of the American embassy," Roces told UPI today. "We feel the President's proclamation of the new holiday yesterday will go a long way to further promote Philippine-American relations."

Francoise Sagan Gives Birth to Son in Paris

PARIS — The novelist Francoise Sagan, who is married to an American ceramic sculptor, gave birth to a boy today in a suburban hospital.

The baby, who was named Denis, weighed slightly over five pounds.

The 27-year-old novelist's husband is Jerome Robert Westhoff, 40, from Minneapolis, Minn.

Food Production Lags Despite New Red Action

MOSCOW (UPI) — Meat and milk production in central Russia have continued to lag despite a new farm program and sharp price increases, a top Soviet official said yesterday.

Gennady Voronov, a member of the presidium of the Communist Party Central Committee, made the statement in a report to a group of agricultural officials.

He said some areas in the Russian federation were "greatly behind" production schedules and blamed a shortage of animal feed for the plight.

Price hikes up to 35 per cent were announced earlier this month for meat and some dairy products.

Voronov said territorial production boards that have been reorganizing agricultural management "have successfully" passed their first test.

Dived; Body Recovered

MONROE — Keither Davis, 18, Monroe, drowned Tuesday in a channel off Lake Erie near Bolles Harbor, about two miles south of Monroe. Police said he and a companion, Richard Casto, 12, Monroe, rested for a while on a breakwater during a swimming outing. Davis dived in and sank. His body was recovered from about 15 feet of water.

Printers' Unions Oppose Constitution

GRAND RAPIDS — The Michigan Federation of Typographical Unions, following a labor group pattern, was on record today in opposition to the proposed new state constitution.

At final business sessions concluding its annual convention yesterday the federation also pledged support toward re-election of Gov. Swainson and Lt. Gov. T. John Lesinski. It further decided to back the campaign of Neil Stabler for congressman at large. Earl Bond of Flint was elected president. Other new officers are John R. Gallagher of Kalamazoo, first vice president; Clarence L. Villare of Bay City, second vice president; and Donald L. Miller of Battle Creek, secretary-treasurer.

NYU Has Institute of Hebrew Studies

NEW YORK (UPI) — New York University has established the first Institute of Hebrew Studies at a nonsectarian university in the United States.

The NYU Institute will coordinate existing Hebrew study programs on the graduate and undergraduate level and will undertake an expanded research program in ancient manuscripts, a professorial exchange with Israeli universities and a program for training professors of Biblical and modern Hebrew.

Tourists Flock to Austria

VIENNA — Austria's tourist industry, which has set records every year since 1955, reached a new peak last year. The Austrian National Bank calculates that income from tourism soared to $277,300,000, a 21 per cent increase over 1960. The Alpine nation was host last year to nearly 30,000,000 foreign visitors.

Still Time to Enroll

Two Sessions Remain in Youth Golf Event

There's still plenty of time to enroll in the Pontiac Parks and Recreation Department's Youth Golf Program.

The city's 3rd annual program entitles boys and girls from 12 through 16 years of age to have free playing privileges at Municipal course.

Principal course each Monday from 9 a. m. until 3 p. m. The program ends Aug. 30.

All that's required is registration at the Parks and Recreation Department in City Hall where playing permits are issued.

Added attractions to this year's program are golf clinics at Carl Rose's driving range on Telegraph Road and a nine-hole tournament for boys and girls on Monday, July 9.

Seven girls and 13 boys attended Rose's first clinic last Saturday and two more sessions remain—Saturday, June 30, and Saturday, July 7.

Rose emphasized the fact that youngsters could still take part in the two remaining lessons. Rose and his staff will instruct the youngsters in the fundamentals of the game and all material will be reviewed, Rose said.

BRING OWN CLUBS
Boys and girls are required to bring their own clubs, to the clinic, but clubs will be furnished if necessary, Rose stated.

The nine-hole tournament will climax the series of instructions at the range.

Competition will be conducted in two age groups, 12-14 and 15-16, in boys and girls divisions. Two-off times will be 9 a. m. and awards will be presented.

Anyone interested in attending the remaining clinics may register at the Parks and Recreation office, Municipal course or Rose's range.

Pontiac residents also are reminded of the new reservation system for starting times now in effect at the city links.

Local residents may reserve starting times at the Municipal course on Saturdays, Sundays and holidays during the 1962 season.

Palmer and Nicklaus Paired for Western

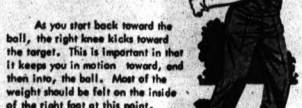

CHICAGO (U. S. P. — The luck of the draw will pit Jack Nicklaus and Arnold Palmer in check-by-jowl competition again in the first round of the $30,000 Western Open golf tournament starting tomorrow.

New U. S. Open champion Nicklaus and the man he whipped in an 18-hole National Open playoff, defending Western Open champion Palmer are thrown together with Grand Rapids pro, John Barnum, in the same threesome in tomorrow's and Friday 18-hole rounds. In the first round, Nicklaus overcame the tough No. 3 course at Medinah Country Club.

THE PALMER METHOD

As you start back toward the ball, the right knee kicks toward the target. This is important in that it keeps you in motion toward, and then into, the ball. Most of the weight should be felt on the inside of the right foot at this point.

Howard Denies Calling Tribe Players 'Bums'

By OSCAR FRALEY
NEW YORK (UPI) — Yankee catcher Elston Howard, fearful of getting a reputation as a "pop-off," said today he had no intention of down-grading the Cleveland Indians to the point where they could be regarded as a "bunch of bums."

"I do think we are twice as good a club as they are," Howard analyzed. "And I wouldn't be surprised to see them finish in the second division. But I didn't call them bums."

Second division or not, he feels there is a big difference.

Howard was perturbed over a suggestion in this corner that his remark left the way open for Casey Stengel to hit with a 25-year parlay. Back in 1954, when Casey managed the Dodgers, Giant manager Bill Terry put his long-remembered question as to whether Brooklyn was still in the league. Theirate Dodgers bunched the Giants out of the pennant in the last two days of the season.

Having been fired two years back by the Yankees, it was suggested here that Casey could even himself more than somewhat by keeping it in Cleveland's mind what Howard had said. And, in the same threesome in tomorrow's and Friday 18-hole rounds. In the first round, Nicklaus overcame the tough No. 3 course at Medinah Country Club.

'U.S. Wrestlers Could Dominate Sport'

TOLEDO (U. S. P. — If American wrestlers were willing to pay the price, they could dominate the world in the sport, says Joe Scalzo.

Scalzo — lawyer, engineer, wrestling buff deluxe and the director of the tournament committee for the world amateur wrestling championships — says he'd stake his reputation on it.

The price? The same thing Russians, Bulgarian and other European wrestlers pay — discipline, condition and dedication.

While Scalzo talked, the Russians and Bulgarians were proving his point. At the end of the second day of the Greco-Roman division of the world amateur wrestling championships, the Russians had scored 21 victories in 23 matches. They were so far ahead, it was possible they would double the team score of the next closest nation, in the competition which ends tonight.

Next in line were Bulgaria, Turkey, Rumania and Hungary.

The United States had four men remaining in the tournament.

YOU'RE MAKING A BIG MISTAKE IF YOU'RE NOT DRINKING 80 PROOF GIN!

If you think higher proof means higher quality — that's a mistake.

If you think you have to pay more money to get a better gin — that's a mistake.

If you think the gin most Englishmen drink is more than 80 proof — that's a mistake.

You should know, to begin with, that America is practically the only civilized country in the world that drinks high-proof gin. The British, who perfected gin, know that gin has an ideal taste and flavor balance, and they prefer it at milder, smoother 80 proof. Here's the whole story:

80 PROOF GIN TASTES BETTER

"Proof" is no measure of quality. It's a measure of alcohol content alone. (100 proof means 50% alcohol.) Alcohol itself has no flavor. The pleasant taste of gin comes entirely from the herbs with which it's distilled.

The best test of gin is to drink it straight or on-the-rocks. You'll find 80 proof gin has the big taste advantage of 80 proof midness — with the same full flavor of higher proof gins.

80 PROOF GIN COSTS LESS

Gins are taxed by the U.S. on their proof, or alcohol content, only. The lower the proof — the lower the taxes, and the lower the cost to you. When you buy an imported label, you add the cost of shipping and duties. That pushes the price even higher, without giving you 80 proof quality.

80 PROOF GIN MAKES BETTER MARTINIS

It makes them extra dry, as you like them, but not extra strong. Twenty years ago, the 3-to-1 Martini was standard. Today, with the trend to dryer Martinis, they're made 6-, 7-, even 8-to-1. As a result the modern Martini has climbed from a smooth 75.5 proof to an overwhelming 84 proof! Solution? Mix with 80 proof gin. It gives you the same full, dry gin flavor, but it returns the Martini to its original, more moderate proof.

80 PROOF GIN MAKES BETTER TALL DRINKS

When you mix a tall drink, like a Collins or a gin "n' tonic, you dilute the strength of the gin "to taste." You also mix for balance of flavor. 80 proof gin will give you better balance. You don't have to down it to drink it.

HOW TO MAKE DRY MARTINIS MAKE MORE SENSE

Using Standard 80 Proof Dry Gin	Using 80 Proof Dry Gin (as Vodka)
3 — 10 — 1 (Ordinary)	75.5 Proof 48.5 Proof
3 — 10 — 1 (Dry)	81.6 Proof 72.6 Proof
3 — 10 — 1 (Extra Dry)	84.8 Proof 75.1 Proof

(The "standard" proof for today's bottled Martinis is a minimum of 50 proof!)

OLD MR. BOSTON IS THE FINEST GIN YOU CAN BUY

It's vacuum distilled at an unusually low temperature in special glass-lined stills. Only at such a low temperature, is it possible to capture the most delicate essence of the herbs. This is one reason for Old Mr. Boston's flavor distinction. It is America's first and largest-selling 80 proof Dry Gin!

Anglers Still Waiting for Major Caddis Hatch

Michigan's famed caddis hatch is off to a sputtering start this year.

Cold evenings, with some rain mixed in, have kept the big mayflies from emerging in any great numbers. Warm temperatures during the day and evening by this weekend may trigger the annual trout orgy.

Although it is called the caddis hatch, the flies that appear are big mayflies and not true caddis. It doesn't make much difference to the trout what the flies are called.

The night feeding big browns throw caution to the wind and begin stuffing themselves. It is during the time that many browns are taken that otherwise would die of old age.

Spot hatches appeared on the Ausable before Grayling last week.

end and along stretches of the South Branch of that famous river.

Anglers in the right place at the right time caught some nice trout. Others failed to see a rise. The hatch also is beginning to appear in the northwest corner of the Lower Peninsula. The flies normally begin emerging near the headwaters. The hatch gradually moves down stream and ends around July 10.

YOUNGSTER SCORES

The parents of 13-year-old Victor Piconi of Troy should never let their son go fishing alone.

They dropped Victor at Pine Lake one morning and when they returned in the afternoon he presented them with a four-pound, five-ounce largemouth.

It is one of the heaviest bass caught this year on the lake.

Fishermen took several good catches of bass from Kent Lake last weekend. Best results came after dark. Crappies were hitting, too. The lake is open for fishing from dawn to 11 p.m.

Perch fishing is fair along Lake St. Clair, reports Russell Strand of Metropolitan Beach. Muskrats are showing more interest in lures.

Walleye fishing in the St. Clair river is only fair. Shore fishermen along the river near Algonac state park are catching plenty of two to five-pound sheepshead and buffalo. All species are hooked.

SWAN PROBLEM

Henry Maxim of Loom Lake reports boaters are "bothering" the white swans purchased by residents along the north shore.

"Our two swans hatched three young this spring," he said, "but that isn't what is drawing the boaters."

"The swans have been staying at the mouth of the channel into Schoolhouse and Silver Lakes. When a boat goes by at a high rate of speed the male acts like he is going to attack it."

"The boaters start harassing the male. We're afraid one of the speeding boats will kill the parents and young."

If boaters go through the channel at a slow speed, he said, the swans are not bothered.

Stroh's Holds Advantage in Waterford Softball

Stroh's Beer held its two-game lead in the Waterford Class B softball league last night with a 7-4 victory over O'Neill Realty.

Second place Spencer won a forfeit from Sackville. Stroh's scored in every inning but the seventh and last. All players collected at least one hit with Jim Patterson getting two singles.

AAA
In another American League game, Harry Averil hurled a four-hitter to highlight Art Reilly's 8-2 victory over Fisher Body. Avesian fanned eight batters.

"Marv Caswell's three-run homer in the 3rd inning featured 300 Louie's 14-3 rout of Bud & Lou's Bar in a National division contest.

In an international loop-bat, Langdon's Best Liquor whipped Oakland Auto Supply, 127. Langdon clinched the win with a six-run 4th stanza.

Killer of trout, the sea lamprey has been a threat to the great Lakes fishing industry. The United States and Canada began an eradication program in 1958.

The commission also reported a significant reduction in the incidence of wounded lake trout which has been attacked by lamprey.

No Spraying Program

Plans have been canceled by the Conservation Department to spray nearly 8,000 acres in Grand Traverse and Baraga counties this month for the control of jack pine budworms.

Other displays feature Indian art-and-fur specimens and slides illustrating various vultures (birds) and the observation Beehive where youngsters and their parents can view the bees at work.

The Nature Center, open to the public daily during the summer from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m., including Saturday and Sunday and the trails are available for nature hikes by individual and family groups without appointment. Guided nature hikes are available to Day Camp and other city groups by advance appointment.

But 15-Year-Old Shooter Gains Top

Bob Thielefs of Pontiac and Birmingham's Larry Smith made off with a good share of the championship in last weekend's first annual Mid-American Open Steel Championships at Palatine, Ill., but the big one got away.

Bobby Stuley, 15, of Roselle, Ill., showed the adult shooters from Michigan, Kentucky, Illinois, Indiana and Ohio how to win the high school championship by breaking 391 of 400 clay birds.

Thielefs and Smith tied for overall runner-up honors. The Pontiac gunner was given the Class AA position over his Oakland County shooting partner because of a longer run of broken targets in the 410 division. Both posted overall marks of 388-400.

They teamed to claim overall two-man honors and joined Howard Confer and Chet Crites of Detroit, and Jack Patton of Warren to form the Michigan Wreckers, high team champ.

Pat' Kill Up; Other Game Down

A sharp increase in the number of ruffed grouse taken was the major bright spot in an otherwise off year in Michigan small game hunting last season.

Final estimates by the Conservation Department show a record 469,000 grouse were killed in 1961, compared with 380,500 in the previous year.

The department predicted an even bigger grouse kill next fall "unless something goes radically wrong with this spring's crop of new birds."

The figures contrasted sharply with the takes of most other small game. Quail, quail, quail, quail, quail and squirrel numbers in 1961. The pheasant take dwindled to an estimated 848,500 birds, a drop of 13 per cent. Only 280,000 ducks were shot in the abbreviated season, almost a third off previous year figures.

HUNTERS DECLINE

Most of the drop-offs closely paralleled decreases in the number of hunters last year, although there were exceptions, the department noted. The grouse kill of 20,000 was only 1,000 under 1960 figures despite a 27 per cent drop in the number of hunters.

Deep snow kept many hunters away from snowshoe hares but the 235,400 animals killed was a smaller decrease than the fewer hunters ventured out after.

About 1,100,000 cottontails and 680,000 squirrels were bagged, both slight decreases from the previous year. The woodcock kill rose to 39,000 to 103,000 and the take on coots jumped from 24,800 to 31,400.

New Exhibits, Hours for Kensington Park

Charles Damm, naturalist at Kensington Metropolitan Park, reports that several exhibits are now on display at the park's Nature Center and new summer hours are in effect.

One of the newest exhibits is an aquarium where several animals of the amphibious group are displayed, including a bullfrog, salamanders, and newts which inhabit southeastern Michigan.

Another aquarium provides a home for small fish native to Kent Lake in the park and includes such specimens as the longnose gar, large and small-mouth bass, sunfish and bluegills.

Other displays feature Indian art-and-fur specimens and slides illustrating various vultures (birds) and the observation Beehive where youngsters and their parents can view the bees at work.

The Nature Center, open to the public daily during the summer from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m., including Saturday and Sunday and the trails are available for nature hikes by individual and family groups without appointment. Guided nature hikes are available to Day Camp and other city groups by advance appointment.

Thiefels, Smith Grab Mid-American Honors

To claim high two-man honors, Smith and Thielefs won this class in the 410 and 28 gauge. Thielefs won the 410 with a 373-400 score.

TOP TEAM
The Michigan Wreckers won the all gauge crown with 497-500. Confer and Crites won two-man all gauge honors followed by Smith and Thielefs.

Smith lost the all gauge title to George Sennler of Chicago. Eight gunners met in a shootout with Sennler outlasting Smith over the 150 extra targets. The finalists had posted perfect 100s.

Ralph Zimmerman of Birmingham teamed with Grossie Pointe Farms' Dave Helm to win the Class A two-man championship. Stuley, who spends most of his spare time on the skeet course, clipped all 100 targets in winning the 20 gauge event and recorded 89 to take honors in the 28 gauge shoot.

The Wreckers won all five-man team tests, including a shootout with the host Hillside Gun Club team with 20 gauges.

Others competing from Oakland County were Al Fruman of Birmingham and Pontiac's Mike Kenala.

Wants Another Crack at Bantamweight Title

TEL AVIV (AP)—Alphonse Halimi, the 30-year-old Algerian-born Frenchman, said today he is ready to take another crack at the world bantamweight championship.

"I have an offer by Eder Jorg (current holder of the title) for a bout in the fall," said Halimi. "I'd like to take it."

Halimi regained the European bantamweight championship Tuesday night by decisively outpointing Pierre Rollo of Italy in 15 rounds in the first professional bout ever staged in Israel.

New Exhibits, Hours for Kensington Park

Charles Damm, naturalist at Kensington Metropolitan Park, reports that several exhibits are now on display at the park's Nature Center and new summer hours are in effect.

One of the newest exhibits is an aquarium where several animals of the amphibious group are displayed, including a bullfrog, salamanders, and newts which inhabit southeastern Michigan.

Another aquarium provides a home for small fish native to Kent Lake in the park and includes such specimens as the longnose gar, large and small-mouth bass, sunfish and bluegills.

Northern Sportsmen Seek Deer Solution

MANISTEE (UPI)—A "master plan" to reduce the ever-increasing winter starvation of deer in Michigan is being put into action this year in Manistee County.

Tired of watching their favorite game animals perish in the severe cold of Northern Michigan, a group of local and state organizations are working out a program to provide more food for them.

Officials reports by the Conservation Department showed more than 60,000 deer died—most of them from starvation—during the past winter. This was more than were taken by hunters.

With the possibility of another rough winter at any time, local efforts are in the works to launch a long-range plan to help the deer—and other game animals and birds—meet future emergencies.

The first step will be a deer and forest demonstration unit of the county's main "deer problem" areas, Clay Bank swamp near the Manistee River.

Cooperating to set up the program are the Spirit of the Woods Sportsmen's Club, the U.S. Forest Service, Packaging Corp. of America, and the State Conservation Department. More than anything, it is the brainchild of the club, however.

Club chairman Dean Thompson, of Manistee, said "severe deterioration of Manistee County's largest deer range, through overbreeding, has resulted in tragedy for the deer."

He said club members are convinced the only solution is a long-range program of browse improvement and large-scale timber cutting to provide food.

"Commercial logging is the best and most economical tool," Thompson said. "But logging in many 'need' areas is economically impossible, due to poor timber quality, terrain and other factors. This is where a cooperative plan can be helpful."

The plan, as outlined by Thompson, will encourage non-commercial logging in as many ways as possible whenever commercial cutting proves impractical near food problem areas.

Most of the county deer yards are on or near state or federal forest land, so game biologists will be available to guide the program—both for emergency deer food supply and improvement of food and cover for many species of wildlife over a long span of time.

Officials of Packaging Corporation plan to study deer operations in advance and achieve maximum benefits for the game. Corporation Ecologist Casey E. Westell said the firm will lend the club in developing the program.

Westell said, "My company has

Press Trophy for Best Dog

Annual PKC Show Set Aug. 19 on Gridiron at Waterford High

The Pontiac Press Best in Show trophy will be the top award in the annual Pontiac Kennel Club's summer show Aug. 19 at Waterford Township.

Nine judges have been named for the bench and obedience program which will be held on the football field. Five of the judges are from Michigan.

Louis M. Murr of Spring Valley, N.Y., will select the recipient of the Press trophy. He also will judge terrier, toy and sporting groups.

Other judges are Peter Babcock of Warren; Raymond H. Beale of Orchard Park, N.Y.; Bernard E. Berta of Bertha, Minn.; Tolson, obedience: Mrs. Charlotte King; Troy W. Roy; Norwalk, Lincoln Park; Robert W. Robinson; Rockwood; Hensley C. Schneider; Temperance; and Isidore Schoenberg, San Antonio, Tex. sporting and working.

All judges except Mrs. Ernest will judge in breed classes. The Press trophy has gone to the best in show dog since the first county in 1933. The show was not held in 1953, 1944-45-46.

Harry Porter of Highland has been appointed general show chairman by Volney Cotton, PKC president.

County Indexes for Lake Maps Are Available

Conservation Department officials are urging people to write for free county indexes of lake maps to avoid making orders which may be impossible to fill.

The request stems from a recent flood of orders for smaller-size lake maps which are not available. Since the procedure for refunding money can involve a good deal of paper work, applicants are encouraged to first ask for one of these indexes, specifying the county in Michigan where they are interested is located.

Each index lists lakes of a particular county for which maps have been printed and also gives the price of maps. Requests for county listing should be mailed to the Department of Conservation, Room 14, Lansing 26.

The department has been able to print smaller-size (11" by 17") for only 250 of Michigan's more than 11,000 lakes. About 2,000 larger lake maps (24" by 36") are available at $1 per copy. They are also listed on index sheets by counties.

Milford to Get Fluoride Sunday

First in County to Use Chemical

Treatment of Water Supply to Start With Little Fanfare

MILFORD — A controversial topic becomes a noncontroversial reality here Sunday.

With little fanfare from village officials and less comment from citizens fluoride will begin flowing into the village water supply about 9 a.m.

The fluoridation of the water will make Milford the first Oakland County community to use the chemical treatment.

The Village Council approved the use of the water additive on February 19 by a 3-2 vote. One councilman said he voted against it only because he didn't know enough about it, but believed it could be a "good thing."

Two members who were absent later indicated that they probably would have voted in favor of the process.

ANNUAL COST OF $700

The cost of the fluoride will be between $700-$800 annually, according to Weidner. Pumping equipment, a capital investment cost about $1,000.

"There is nothing complicated about the operation," the village manager added.

"A steel drum filled with the chemical is connected to equipment that begins operating each time water is pumped into the reservoir."

"Maintenance will be at a minimum," he said.

The fluoride will be purchased from a Detroit pharmaceutical firm.

Ordained Minister in Methodist Church

AUBURN HEIGHTS — Rev. Robert F. Davis was ordained Sunday at Adrian College and appointed associate pastor of the Adirondack Methodist Church, Detroit, by Bishop Marshall R. Reed, head of the Michigan Methodist Conference.

A graduate of the University of Michigan with a B. A. degree, Rev. Davis received his bachelor of divinity degree June 18 from Garrett Theological Seminary in Evanston, Ill.

He is the son of Mrs. Robert S. Davis, 3338 Martell St., and the late Mr. Davis.

Children's Art Exhibit Planned at Clarkston

CLARKSTON — The Village Friends of Art will display children's original art work in an outdoor showing at the corner of Washington and Main streets immediately following the 10 a. m. July 4 parade.

Children under the direction of Kate McLean and Hazel Nauman produced their art pieces in many media for the exhibit which will continue until 1 p. m.

LAUNCH PIONEER PROJECT — Three Wolverine-Lake women receive blank petitions from Drain Commissioner Daniel W. Barry to start legal action to set up an assessment district to finance the restoration of Wolverine Lake. This is the first attempt by an area community to establish a district for this type of lake project. A public meeting on the proposed project will be held 8 p.m. Friday at the Wall Lake High School. Promoting the plan are (from left) Mrs. Dallas Balke, Mrs. Lester Hamilton and Mrs. Charles Matthews.

School Board in Troy Fills Post, OKs Raises

TROY — The Board of Education last night filled a vacancy created by the recent death of board member Russell E. Kaufman and granted pay raises to teachers and other employees.

Donald W. Richards, 6242 Rochester Road, was appointed to serve on the school board in place of Kaufman, who died of a heart attack last Thursday, only ten days after he was re-elected to the board.

Richards, who operates a woodworking business in Troy, was a runner-up in the 1960 school balloting when he fell short of election by only 11 votes.

Mrs. Elizabeth Horton, who was also re-elected to the school board June 11, was appointed secretary of the board until the annual reorganization meeting Monday. Kaufman was the former secretary.

Board members raised the base salary for a starting teacher with a bachelor's degree by $200 and made numerous other pay adjustments out of $40,000 to be received in increased state school aid for 1962-63 and some $5,000 in unexpected delinquent tax collections.

CHANGE INCREMENTS

Not all teachers will get a $200 pay raise, however, as the school board changed increments from 10 annual increments of $200 to a first yearly step of $200 followed by four of $220, three of $240 and two of $260.

Some teachers, as a result, will get only an $80 annual raise.

Adjustments were also approved in pay schedules for extra duties, secretarial and clerical employees, custodial workers, cafeteria employees and bus drivers. A pay schedule was established for mechanics and maintenance helpers.

Pay adjustments will use $18,325. The new money for teachers and members approved a request from the United States Office of Education through Michigan State University to conduct a study of teaching and learning methods in the Troy elementary schools.

The study, to begin in September, will probably be conducted at Leonard and Niles schools, according to Supt. Rex B. Smith.

In other action, school board members approved a request from the United States Office of Education through Michigan State University to conduct a study of teaching and learning methods in the Troy elementary schools.

NEWS OF THE AREA

Community Hospital Set to Burn 'Papers' Friday

ALMONT — A small but gratifying fire is planned near there for 3 p.m. Friday.

Douglas Giles, a vice president of Manufacturers National Bank, Detroit, will present two pieces of paper.

James D. Ligon, treasurer of the Community Hospital Board of Trustees, will light a match to the pieces of paper.

And the hospital's two mortgages will go up in smoke.

One, originally for $275,000, financed construction of the 49-bed hospital that opened in January 1959, and the other, for $30,000, enabled the addition of a storage annex last fall.

Presiding over the mortgage burning ceremony at the hospital will be Thomas K. Richards, chairman of the hospital's board of trustees. Dr. G. Clare Bishop will speak on behalf of the hospital's medical staff.

Mrs. Sam Marsoupin will represent the Community Hospital Women's Auxiliary, a group that hospital director James Cray gives a good deal of the credit for the hospital's ability to pay off the mortgages so quickly.

The board of trustees originally had planned to refinance the mortgages. If they couldn't be paid within five years, the bank had expressed its bulldozing doubt that the hospital could do so within that time.

But thanks to the women's auxiliary, operational success and a "gratifying public response" in the tangible forms of donations, pledges and legacies, according to Cray, the small but gratifying fire is two years earlier than expected.

Rezoning Action Okayed by Board in Independence

INDEPENDENCE TOWNSHIP — Members of the Township Board last night approved the rezoning of a 43-acre parcel for a proposed $2-million sportsman's paradise development.

Plans call for both a public and the first phase of the development courses, one regulation size and the other a par-3 course. A five-member Birmingham syndicate headed by Leonard W. Jarrow is the proponent of the development.

Rezoning of the property from agricultural to recreational was recommended by the Township Zoning Board earlier this month.

Grading work on a proposed 1,500-car parking lot in the first stage of the development is now in progress. Groundbreaking for a 33,000-square-foot lodge building in the first phase of the development is slated for sometime next week.

Pontiac Twp. Plans Recreation Program

PONTIAC TOWNSHIP — A summer recreation program of sports and handicrafts will begin here Monday for youngsters of elementary school and junior high school age.

To be based at Will Rogers and Auburn Heights elementary schools, the program also will include dancing for teen-agers and weekly movies for the family.

Sports activities will include baseball, softball, basketball, swimming, badminton, archery and touch football.

Boys and girls will sign up for softball play beginning Monday. Baseball teams also will be formed for boys.

Instructions in tap dancing and baton twirling will be given as part of the morning program if enough youngsters are interested.

YMCA BRANCH — Sponsored by the township, the program will be supervised by the Rochester Area Branch of the YMCA.

Program activities for 6- to 16-year-olds are scheduled for Monday and Thursday mornings at the Will Rogers School, and Tuesday and Friday mornings at the Auburn Heights School. Youngsters 11- to 16-years-old will have the afternoons of the same days.

Free family movies are slated for 8:15 p.m. Wednesdays at Auburn Heights School and at 8:15 p.m. Fridays at Will Rogers School. Teen-age dances will be held at 7 p.m. Wednesdays at Auburn Heights School and 7 p.m. Fridays at Will Rogers School.

Buses will leave for swimming classes Saturdays from Will Rogers School at 9 a.m. and from Auburn Heights School at 9:30 a.m.

The National Civic Association, which claims a Detroit membership of 40,000 property owners, needs 175,000 signatures to force a recall election.

Samuel Koch, association president, said the group endorsed Cavanagh in the election knowing he was in favor of an income tax.

"But we thought he would economize in city government and there would be no necessity for a tax," Cavanagh replied. "If realistically balancing the budget is the vehicle for this action, then I plead guilty."

Separate petitions are being circulated for recall of the mayor and each councilman. Koch said the campaign started after general membership meeting approval a month ago.

International Fair Ready

DETROIT — The International Freedom Festival's Space Age and Science Fair opens here tomorrow with a display of modern missiles. Ralph T. McEwen, festival chairman, said "dramatic demonstrations will tell the full story of this continent's efforts to maintain freedom through an adequate defense."

KAY SUE STEVENS

Announcement is made of the engagement of Kay Sue Stevens to Reg Pnielowski by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Vern Stevens, 1540 Lapeer Road, Orion Township. The prospective bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Stella Vincent, 855 Lapeer Road, Orion Township. No date has been set for the wedding.

WED 50 YEARS — Mr. and Mrs. Bernard A. Kilton, 30700 S. Wixom Road, Wixom, celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary yesterday. Married in Lansing, the Kiltons have two daughters, Mrs. Beulah E. Potrine of Oakley Park and Mrs. Clarence Shelton of Walled Lake, and six grandchildren.

Byers-Applegate Vows Told

Wed in Methodist Church

ROCHESTER — St. Paul's Methodist Church was the setting for the double-ring ceremony uniting Margaret Lynn Applegate and Robert Ellis Byers in marriage Friday evening. Rev. J. Douglas Parker read the service.

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Applegate, of 380 Uiah Road, Avon Township. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. George Byers, of 413 W. Third St.

The bride chose a gown of silk organza trimmed with Chantilly lace for her wedding. It featured a Sabrina neckline, haque waist and chapel train.

Her fingertip veil was fastened to a crown of rhinestones and pearls, and she carried a white Bible, gift of the bridegroom, covered with a spray of stephanotis, white rosebuds and ivy.

ATTENDES BRIDE

Carol Byers, sister of the bridegroom, was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Claudia Isbell, cousin of the bride, and Deanne Lucas. Serving as best man was Richard Dickenson while Ivan

Mayor Gets a Chair Suitable for a King

TEMPE, Ariz. (AP)—Don't blame Tempe City Council candidates if they suddenly decide to run for mayor.

The city purchased new chairs for the councilmen and mayor. The six councilmen received regular swivel chairs. For the mayor, there was a high-back chair, with left and right turn features. The mayor's chair also rocks.

Fess Parker Off to Washington

He'll Sell Coonskin Cap Cheap

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer

HOLLYWOOD—Fess Parker is on the prowl for a new image, and he's going back to Washington to get it.

No more buckskin for Davy Crockett, king of the wild frontier. Now it's Ivy League duds of Mr. Smith, senator of the new frontier.

Not that Fess is taking sides in the political arena. He is leaping into 1962 Washington with THOMAS A. Stewart in 1959. It has been updated for a series to star Fess, who now graduates to the upper house. He was a member of the House of Representatives in the Crockett trilogy that made him a star—and problems—eight years ago.

The problems were strictly career; Fess has no quarrel with what else Davy did for him.

THANKS TO DAVY

"No, indeed," he affirmed. "If it hadn't been for Davy, I might still be hauling my guitar around town and hunting for jobs."

Because of Davy—and what came after—Fess and friends are now putting up a $1.5-million trailer park in Santa Barbara.

"The image," he explained. "I've been working for several years now to get out of costumes. Maybe this series will do it. Maybe I'll be able to join the 20th century."

"There is no doubt that the image has held me back," he admitted. "That's why I want to play Mr. Smith in a different style—crisper, sharper and more contemporary than I have before."

"I've had some dispute with the series producers about this. He thinks in terms of Tennessee Ernie Ford and Andy Griffith. But I don't want to get that regional," Mr. Smith will go to Washington from some undesignated state, roughly somewhere between the Rockies and the Mississippi. His party affiliation will also be clouded, but that doesn't mean he'll avoid issues.

Comic's Suite Looted by Thief

$185,000 in Jewelry Taken From Rooms of Jerry Lewis in NYC

NEW YORK (AP)—The five-room hotel suite of comedian Jerry Lewis and his wife, Pat, was looted of $185,000 in jewelry while they were at a studio taping last night's "Tonight" television show.

"I've just lost a little faith in human nature," the comedian said after his wife discovered the loss from their Essex Hotel suite. "Give me 15 minutes with the thieves and they can keep the stuff."

Lewis, who arrived in town Saturday for a week as host of the NBC television program, was at the studio with his wife for about four hours.

Police said there was no sign of a forced entry into the apartment, which had been ransacked. The stolen goods consisted of 25 pieces, most belonging to Mrs. Lewis. They ranged in value up to $35,000, but Lewis said his wife was most distressed about losing a pendant "worth a couple of hundred dollars, which I gave her 15 years ago when we were married."

The jewelry was partially covered by insurance.

Police records indicated an estimated $300,000 worth of jewelry had been stolen from midtown hotels within the past two months, including the Lewises.

There have been no arrests or recoveries in any of the cases. Earlier thievery victims included actress Rosalind Russell, who lost about $70,000 in jewels, and actress Patrice Wymore, who lost about $15,000 worth.

A message from the Treasury of a free people

How to help keep freedom ringing from every mountainside

High up on a mountainside in South Dakota, there's a famous tribute to four American patriots who did much to mold the shape of freedom.

But, even if there were no Mt. Rushmore, we'd remember men like Washington, Jefferson, Roosevelt, and Lincoln. For the landscape of freedom is shaped by what they did, not by the mountainside that pays tribute.

Even today, freedom is shaped by the work of individuals—men and women, like you. Of course, only a few Americans will ever have their faces up on a mountain. But millions of Americans are playing a real part in the defense of freedom today simply by buying U.S. Savings Bonds.

When you invest in U.S. Savings Bonds, you put some money to work for your country right now. At the same time you're putting it to work for your own future. Aren't those good reasons to start buying Savings Bonds today?

Keep freedom in your future with

U.S. Savings Bonds

Most Losses Only Fractional

Stocks Dilly-Dally, Slip a Little

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market slightly deflated a report that new car sales continued to show the fastest pace since 1955.

The list was still sinking to lows since 1958 but there was little conviction about the move.

Losses of most key stocks were fractional, some going to a point or 60.

AUTO STOCKS OFF
Big Three auto stocks were off

General Motors, Ford, and Chrysler all dropped fractions.

Prices were irregular on the American Stock Exchange in moderate trading. R.C. Williams and Keweenaw Chemical were up about a point each. Fractional gains included Brazilian Traction, Heca Mining, General Development, and Silver Miner. Down eighty were Seagr, Technic Materials, National Petroleum, Draper, and Chemical and General Builders.

Most prices changes in regular bonds were fractional, although a few losses ran to a full point or more.

Activity in government was quiet. All sections of the corporate list were lower in active trading on the New York Stock Exchange.

Utilities came closer to holding their own than railroad or industrial issues.

Steel Orders Take Upturn

Encouraging Pickup Is Reported by Magazine; Recovery Predicted

NEW YORK (AP)—New orders for steel, long dragging at low ebb, have taken an uneven but encouraging upturn, the Iron Age reported today.

The metalworking weekly said the improvement was confined to a relatively few companies, and probably would be translated soon into a stop in overall industry production.

"It could be due to local conditions, product mix and the trend toward a spurt of new orders late in the month," the magazine said.

"There is no indication they will mean any pickup in production in July. Plant vacations, preparations for automotive changeovers and other seasonal factors have washed out July as anything but a month of doldrums."

The magazine foresees a likely substantial improvement in production late in August and a "good recovery" in September.

Last week, steelmaking hit a 16-month bottom, after output slipped lower for the 11th time in 17 weeks to reach a level only a little over 50 per cent of capacity.

East German leader says matter doesn't concern the Big Four

BERLIN (AP)—East Germany's communist leader Walter Ulbricht has rejected a Western proposal for four-power talks to prevent violence along the Berlin wall and promote free movement in the divided city.

Ulbricht told the East German Communist party's Central Committee his regime is prepared to talk with West Berlin's city administration on "normalizing relations."

"This is a matter concerning East Germany and West Berlin, not the occupation powers," he said.

The four powers can only negotiate a removal of the occupation regime in West Berlin, Ulbricht added.

Ulbricht's remarks were reported by ADN, the East German news agency.

The United States, Britain and France, in notes Monday to the Soviet Union proposing a meeting, accused East Berlin guards of killing defenseless people trying to flee to West Berlin. The notes said in all cases in which there had been an exchange of fire between West Berlin and East Berlin guards, the East Berliners had fired first.

Grain Futures Show Little Trend Today

CHICAGO (AP)—Grain futures market showed little trend today in quiet early trading on the board of trade.

May wheat fell under heavy selling pressure and slumped more than 2 cents at the opening but other contracts shifted within minor fractions either way from previous closes.

Don't Spend Summer Lolling on Beach

By LESLIE J. NASON, ED., D.

Summer vacation can mean a lot more than just a chance to loaf at the beach or earn money at a summer job.

For the slower students, it can mean a chance to catch up on schoolwork, and an atmosphere free of classroom pressure.

Medical schools discovered the desirability of vacations during World War II when they were DR. NASON operating three semesters a year in order to provide more doctors for the armed forces.

Some medical students, they discovered, did better work after they were given a semester off from regular classes to restudy their courses and lay the groundwork for their return.

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

By OSWALD JACOBY

South looked over dummy carefully and thought, "I won't open any more 21 point three-trump bids."

Of course, the grand slam wasn't the worst in the world. South had 12 top tricks and a heart finesse would give him his grand slam.

Now, as you take a look at the East-West hands you will see the doubleton queen of hearts resting quietly with East. South could not see this but when the time came he picked up that doubleton queen just as surely as if he had been pecking.

How did South do this? By the

Thanks Television for Acting Favor

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer
NEW YORK — Carol Lawrence, who became a singing and dancing star on Broadway, says that television turned her into an actress.

"Nowadays in show business, television exposure is absolutely essential," remarked the pretty dark-haired performer. "It can be said if you don't get it, it helps so much."

Carol, particularly after her smash success in Broadway's "West Side Story," was in great demand for the popular television variety shows—where she had a chance to act in sketches with the stars.

"And if I had not had a chance with Garry Moore, Perry Como and the others, the producers would never have given me a chance to do a straight acting role in 'The Dybbuk.'"

LED TO GOOD PARTS

"The Dybbuk," one of a high-level, syndicated series called "Play of the Week" led directly to meaty acting parts in motion pictures.

48 Chinese Orphans Off for U. S. Homes

HONG KONG (AP)—Forty-eight Chinese orphans left Hong Kong by jet airliner today for adoption by American families.

Most were between 8 and 14 years of age, and they were evenly divided between boys and girls. It was the biggest group of orphans sent to the United States since the program was inaugurated here in 1958. All came to Hong Kong prior to the mass refugee exodus from Red China last month.

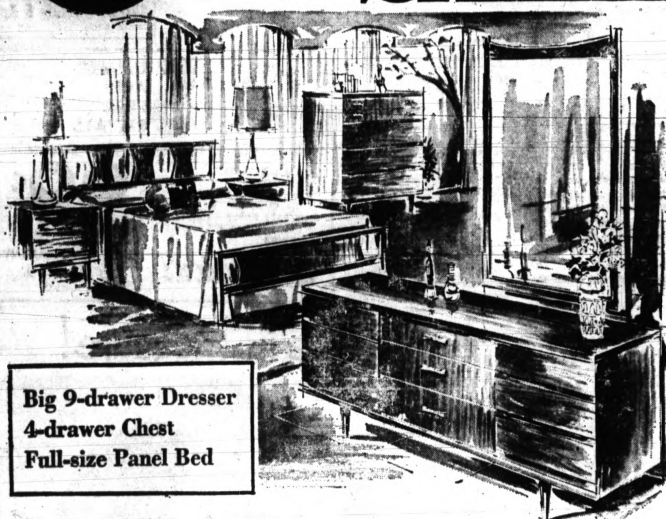

The program is sponsored by the International Social Services, which has moved 650 orphans from Hong Kong to the United States in the last four years.

Southern Baptists have started 12,786 new churches and missions in the last five years.

MAKE OVER PAGES ONE COLOR

Expansion of Pontiac Municipal Airport into a large, metropolitan City-County Airport was urged last night by the City Commission.

The airport would be enlarged and maintained jointly by Pontiac and Oakland County, the proposal stated.

and Macomb counties, said Commissioner Lay L. Ledford, sponsor of the plan.

He added it would not be a joint airport but would use up to four engine propeller planes for freight and passenger business.

HAMLIN IN FAVOR

A unanimous resolution asking establishment of a joint city-county committee to implement the plan drew immediate personal endorsement from Delos Hamlin, chairman of the Oakland County Board of Supervisors.

However, Hamlin added, "I have no idea whether the board of supervisors would go for it or not."

He saw no conflict in the city airport plan with future use of Allen Airport as a general air port to serve industry which he had suggested last week.

"All the experts have said there will be an absolute necessity for more than one airport in Oakland County," he said. "I don't see why we cannot fit in the Allen Airport with a new City-County Airport near Pontiac."

The City Commission adopted the joint airport plan shortly after approving a federal grant agreement last night which gives Pontiac Municipal Airport $200,000 for widening of runways and taxiways, for improved lighting and control tower apparatus during 1962.

Among the city commissioners last night, Commissioner Winford E. Bottom praised the resolution as "wonderful" but said that the idea had been "in preparation a year ago."

A note of warning was injected by Commissioner William H. Taylor who said people in the Pontiac area would have as much cause for complaint as people in the Allen Airport area.

Commissioner Charles H. Hamlin inquired of City Attorney William A. Ewart whether legislation would be needed for the joint project.

Land Sales May Help County

The Oakland County Board of Auditors hopes to pick up $38,350 in land sales to bolster the 1963 budget for county government.

Robert Lilly, board secretary, said today.

He admitted that even if the county realizes that sum in auctioning off its surplus lands, the money won't go far towards eating a foreseeable $2-million budget shortage.

"But it's a step in the right direction," Lilly said.

Meanwhile the auditors will continue to look for other ways of producing more dollars toward the $38,350,282 tentative budget before trying to trim it.

The land to be sold sometime next month at public auction is welfare property formerly used to house indigent families. These families have since been removed from welfare rolls, according to Lilly.

The property originally was purchased by the county at state tax sales in the thirties. Eleven of the 30 parcels to be auctioned off are in Pontiac. The rest are scattered elsewhere in the county.

'Estes' Deals Were Known

Republicans Reject State Budget Boosts

LANSING (AP)—Republican defenses stood solid last night against a determined Democratic effort to pump another $20 million into the record $512 million State budget for 1962-63.

With doors locked and guarded to keep lawmakers from straying off, House members fought for nearly 12 hours over Democratic amendments carrying bigger appropriations for mental health, corrections, public health and state construction programs. Republicans, with a 56-53 majority, rejected every one.

Only the bill to finance state colleges and universities was left for action today. Then most of the spending bills will go to conference committees for settlement of differences between the House and Senate.

A resolution drafted last night calls for the legislature to wind up its work Thursday. Lawmakers will return July 27 for final adjournment, mostly to act on votes by Gov. Swainson.

The Senate, having voted on all spending bills, took it easy yesterday. House members locked themselves in the chamber and went without dinner while the battle over Democratic amendments raged on.

Lawmakers gulped gallons of coffee and soft drinks to stave off hunger during the marathon. Some sent out for pizza pies.

Rep. Allison Green, R-Kingsford, Republican floor leader, said the proposed Democratic increases were "strictly political."

He said the Democrats were "trying to outguess the voters" by passing a budget that would run out of line next year.

The $512 million GOP budget is $30 million above current spending and $16 million under the figure asked by Gov. Swainson.

A $76 million "miscellaneous" tax package which takes effect Sunday will raise revenue to $544 million, leaving about $32 million to retire a $90 million state treasury deficit.

Rep. Joseph J. Kowalski, D-Detroit, Democratic floor leader, contended most of the surplus should be used to beef up spending, especially in the mental health and higher education areas.

"We are elected to take care of these people, and we're not doing a good job of it," he said.

Gov. Swainson sent out a call for citizens to march on the capitol in a demonstration against the size of Republican appropriation. Only about 100 showed up, although others arrived late by bus.

Republicans cited the poor turnout as evidence that voters are more interested in economy than bigger spending.

Republican State Chairman George M. Van Puseur said the demonstration "is a monumental fizzle."

Truck Driver Hits Police Car: Now Guess...

Walled Lake Police Chief James (Al) Decker may have been down but, most certainly, not out.

Yesterday, while waiting for a stop light on West Huron Street in Pontiac, his car was rammed from behind by a pickup truck driven by Vincent D. Deaneau, 36, of 2971 Sutherland St., Waterford Township.

Decker, 43, of 223 Wellsboro St., Walled Lake, suffered minor back injuries.

Just before the ambulance took him to Pontiac General Hospital for treatment, Decker handed Deaneau a traffic ticket charging careless driving.

Doubt Passage of 'Prayer' Law

Congressional Leaders View Bills to Amend Constitution After Ruling

WASHINGTON (AP)—Members of Congress, still firing salvos of criticism at the Supreme Court's ruling against public school prayers, have introduced amendments to the Constitution to override the decision.

But congressional leaders—and the long, tedious mechanics in volved—cast doubt on the move's success.

Charges of atheism and giving aid to communism were hurled across Capitol Hill at the white marble court building by members of the legislative branch, some of whom contended the justices had taken God out of the law of the land.

While amendments to legalize classroom praying were introduced in both House and Senate, there also were demands for stronger "actions," including (Continued on Page 2, Col. 4)

Moves to Forestall Outbreak

WASHINGTON (AP)—Officials said today that U.S. diplomatic and military moves in the Far East are designed to forestall any possible outbreak of fighting between Red China and Nationalist China.

President Kennedy is expected to discuss the Formosa situation and the build-up of Communist forces opposite the Nationalist-held area at a new conference late today.

One question he may clarify is U.S. policy with respect to the defense of the Nationalist-held islands of Quemoy and Matsu which lie close to the Communist mainland.

The policy laid down under the Eisenhower administration was that the United States would actively support the Nationalist defense of those islands only if a Red attack on them was considered to be the first step in an attack on Formosa.

The United States has sent units of the 7th Fleet to Formosa waters, possibly with the dual purpose of defending the Nationalist stronghold against any assault and at the same time discouraging the Nationalist forces from moving against the Red Chinese.

George W. Anderson Jr., chief of naval operations, said Tuesday night he foresees "no real trouble" in the Formosa Strait. He told newsmen in Las Vegas, Nev., that he doubts Red China will launch any serious attack on the offshore islands.

The United States is reported to have told Red China through its

Rare Weather Seen—It'll Be Pleasant

One of those rare June days that poets write about will come to Pontiac tomorrow with skies sunny and temperatures in the mid-80s.

Tonight will be fair and mild, the low about 62.

For the next five days high temperatures will continue in the 80s and the low near 64. Precipitation for the period will total about 3.5 of an inch, in showers Friday through Sunday.

Morning easterly wind at 2 m.p.h. per hour will become 5 to 12 m.p.h. late today and tonight.

A cool 54 was the low temperature in the downtown area preceding 8 a. m. The thermometer reading at 1 p. m. was 82.

Senate Probers Told Agriculture Dept. 'Warned'

Asst. Counsel Testifies That Illegal Allotments Were Learned in '60

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senate investigators were told today the Agriculture Department had advanced warning Billie Sol Estes' get-rich-quick deals in cotton acreage allotments were outside the law.

Paul E. Kamerick, assistant counsel to the Senate Investigations subcommittee, testified he has learned that the warning was given as far back as Dec. 20, 1960, and that every one of Estes' disputed cotton acreage deals was sanctioned at later dates by farm aid officials in Texas with no one in Washington calling a halt.

He said E. L. Manning, Agriculture Department deputy administrator of production adjustment, ruled on that date in 1960 that the complex deals under which Estes' was to sell land to farmers, then lease back the cotton acreage allotments on these acres, appeared to constitute a scheme or device which should not be approved.

Kamerick, a former FBI agent, said he found the Agriculture Department to be a sort of bureaucratic jungle that needs an overhaul. But he said he considers it is inconceivable that the inefficiency or carelessness alone could explain all that happened in the Estes case.

With Secretary of Agriculture Orville A. Freeman a scheduled witness, Kamerick's testimony opened the Senate subcommittee's massive investigation of the scandals flowing from the collapse of Estes' Texas farm empire.

Freeman once said the Estes affair was being ballooned out of all proportion but later he was quoted by Sen. Karl E. Mundt, R-S.D., as saying he regretted the remark.

In Texas, Tex. Dist. Judge J. H. Starley granted Estes a continuance today of his trial on charges of defrauding a fellow Reeves County farmer of $162,144.

The judge said that after hearing both the defense motion and the stand taken by the state he felt it would be futile to attempt to try the case in Reeves County at this time.

Although both the state and defense said they opposed any change of the trial site to another city, Judge Starley said he was still considering that possibility would make an announcement and later in the day.

Unionist Backs Constitution

Seeks More Support From Labor Ranks for Proposed Document

FLINT (AP)—Unionist George H. Dougherty, for years a down-the-line Democrat but a Republican since April, supports Michigan's proposed new constitution and says others in labor also will do so.

Dougherty, who broke with the Democrats April 23 in announcing his candidacy as a Republican for the legislature, said in an interview that "a large number of thinking people" of labor support the proposal.

"They will vote for the interests of labor, not those of Gus Scholle (Michigan AFL-CIO president) and his colleagues," Dougherty said.

A United Auto Workers Union member since 1940 and a former president of Terrestrial Local 326, Dougherty, 46, unsuccessfully sought the Democratic nomination for lieutenant governor two years ago. He failed to get AFL-CIO endorsement.

An avowed Republican now, Dougherty says the Democratic party is no longer dedicated to the interests of all the people but instead has become "controlled by (Continued on Page 2, Col. 8)

Press Group to Grant Five Scholarships

The Inter American Press Association scholarship fund will award five scholarships to North American students and journalists in October 1962.

Robert U. Brown, fund president, announced today that Sept. 1, 1962, is the deadline for scholarship applications from North America.

Awards to journalism students and working journalists for one year of study in Latin America will be made at the fund's board of directors meeting in Santiago, Chile, Oct. 22-23.

The IAPA scholarship awards committee will consider applications and make recommendations to the board sometime in September.

Candidates may request information and applications forms from the Inter American Press Association Scholarship Fund, 681 Madison Avenue, Suite 704, New York 17, N.Y.

New Testimony Set in Dispute

Hearings Resume Today on Injunction Against Flight Engineers

NEW YORK (UPI) — Federal Judge George Rosling called renewed hearings today in the American World Airways' efforts to stave off a renewed flight engineers strike by means of an injunction.

Rosling put off making an expected ruling on a preliminary injunction yesterday and instead extended a restraining order against the Flight Engineers International Association (FEIA) until 3 p. m. (Pontiac time) July 6.

The FEIA's attorney, Daniel Kornblum, angrily charged the court was abdicating a congressional grant given to strike.

Rosling countered that he wanted time to conduct an "orderly" hearing to bring out all the facts and to study the law.

HEARING SET TODAY

Rosling scheduled additional testimony and arguments for 1 p. m. today in federal court at Brooklyn. There was no immediate indication how many days the hearings might consume.

Kornblum at first said he would appear immediately to the Circuit Court of Appeals. But he later modified that by saying he probably would not appear right away, awaiting instead the outcome of today's hearing.

Rosling's delaying a walkout by Pan American's 500 flight engineers had no effect on an FEIA strike which has grounded Eastern Air Lines since last Saturday at an estimated loss of $1 million a day in revenue.

Pan American conceded yesterday that it was not immediately to the court to appear. But he later modified that by saying he probably would not appear right away, awaiting instead the outcome of today's hearing.

The flight engineers also went on strike against Pan American last Saturday, but returned to work a few hours later when the airline secured the temporary restraining order from Rosling.

The restraining order was extended by Rosling less than 15 minutes before the 3 p. m. deadline.

Owners of Drive-In to Meet Officials

Police and city officials this week were to meet with the owners of McDonald's Drive-In, North Perry Street near East Boulevard, after City Commissioner Loy L. Ledford last night demanded the city "clean up or close up" the restaurant.

Teen-age customers have been a constant source of police complaints, commissioners were told. Ledford said the street near the restaurant also was being used as a race course.

"At midnight Monday, there was a boy with a checkered flag standing in the middle of the street getting ready to give the go-sign to two hotrods."

City Manager Robert Stier agreed, "the number of incidents at the restaurant have been unusually large and some of a nature that should be suppressed or wiped out."

Commission Urging City-County Airport

COERING TOO MUCH

One reason the city wants the joint airport, according to last night's resolution, is that the city feels it cannot afford to pay for further expansion of the present facility.

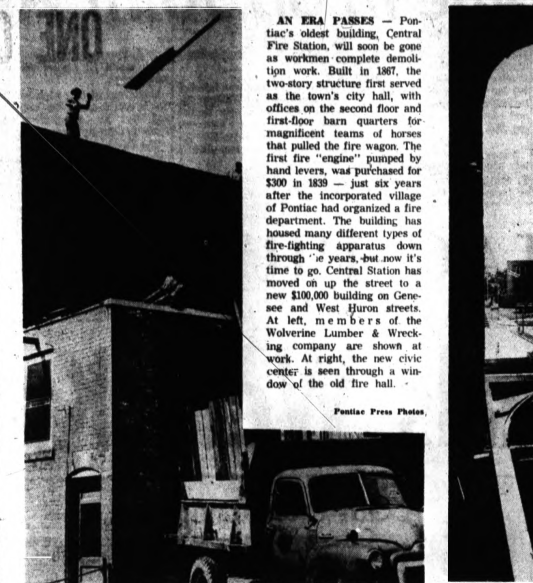

"The Pontiac Municipal Airport has been substantially improved during the past several years with a paved runway extended over 5,000 feet and with a control tower and with land extension acquisitions which have made the airport available to many types of aircraft, except the large passenger and freight aircraft, the resolution points out.

It adds that "the cost of making additional improvements so as to bring the Pontiac Municipal Airport on a par with the neighboring metropolitan airports for the handling of aircraft requiring longer runways is beyond the ability and capacity of the city to handle at the present time."

It argues that, "The obligation of maintaining a large airport should be shared with other units of government if possible, since benefits would accrue to the entire county area."

Hamlin commented: "This proposal goes along with my personal feeling that airports are a matter of countywide operation rather than by any city. Their benefit is regional, and they should be supported regionally."

The proposal to draw the county into operation of the city airport comes at a time when the county's own plans for a large jet-airport have been scotched by the Federal Aviation Agency.

Youth Injured in Boat Mishap on Walnut Lake

A 15-year-old Bloomfield Township youth suffered cuts and fractures to his arm when he was slashed by an outboard motor propeller yesterday afternoon on Walnut Lake.

George Hassett of 6130 Idlewild, is reported in satisfactory condition today at William Beaumont Hospital, Royal Oak.

Witnesses told Bloomfield Township police that Hassett was attempting to untangle water while ropes from the boat's 40-horsepower motor. The rope caught in the gear shift of the idling motor, throwing it in reverse. The boat backed into Hassett.

Liquor Officers Await Cheaters

Plan More Investigations to Halt Beer Bootlegging After Tax Hike

LANSING (AP)—The State Liquor Control Commission is gearing for a moderate surge in beer bootlegging expected when the beer tax goes up to two cents a bottle Sunday.

George J. Burke Jr., the commission's business manager, said field investigators will be deployed along border areas in a move to discourage bootlegging from other states.

"We can't disclose our specific plans, because we naturally don't want to tip our hands to potential bootleggers," Burke said. "But you can be sure that we will exercise all the controls that we can with our limited forces."

The commission has 90 investigators and Burke said another five or six will be hired soon. The legislature turned down its request for an additional 25 investigators.

"We also get help from state police and local law enforcement men," Burke said.

BEER UP 2 TO 5 CENTS

The beer tax will go up from $12.5 a barrel to the equivalent of $6.61, the highest in all but six southern states and Alaska. The tax will be levied on all foreign stocks at the rate of two cents a bottle.

A four per cent excise tax will be levied on liquor, restoring a tax that expired a year ago.

"We don't have any indication yet of whether there will be much liquor bootlegging because of the higher tax," Burke said.

Burke said there has been no general indication yet whether most bar and tavern owners will boost their prices or absorb the increases.

"Those that do can be expected to raise their beer prices a nickel a bottle," he said.

The State Revenue Department is taking steps to discourage bootlegging of cigarettes when the nickel-a-pack tax goes up to seven cents Sunday. With the increase, the price difference between Michigan and neighboring states will be as much as four cents a pack.

All three taxes are part of a $78-million "miscellaneous" tax package passed by the legislature earlier this month. Other parts of the package will slip a four per cent tax on telephone and telegraph service and add one mill to the four-mill corporation franchise fee.

In addition to the 1,000 official delegates, approximately 900 "official visitors" and several thousand visitors from all parts of the United States, Canada and the Caribbean will attend the constitutional convention.

Area Lutheran churches to be affected by the merger include Christ Lutheran Church in Waterford Township, Calvary Lutheran in Clarkston, Lutheran Church of the Ascension in Waterford Township and Gledet Lutheran now located on Pontiac Road, the former St. John Lutheran Church, Cherry Court and Hill Street.

Charles Stilton, lay reader of Christ Lutheran Church and president of Eastern Michigan District Churchmen, is in charge of ushers for the convention.

Serving from Pontiac are Rev. Roy Klingler, Robert Dika, Donald Akkda, Milton Schutt, Fred Brocius, Paul Wigg, Russell Well, James Rodding and John Wiley.

Others were Thomas Salishbury, Adolph Blangum, Howard Peterson, Vaana Fischer, Roger Olney, Robert Krick, Richard Blaise and Byington.

Pastors attending were Rev. Wayne Peterson, Rev. Paul John and Rev. Mr. Colberg.

GOP, Dems Set Oakland County Conventions Here

Both major political parties have scheduled their Oakland County conventions in Pontiac at 8 p.m. Aug. 15.

Democrats will meet in the supervisors' room of the courthouse annex, 1 Lafayette St., and Republicans will meet in Pontiac Northern High School.

At the session, elected precinct delegates of both parties will choose delegates to the state convention and conduct other party business.

JFK to Unveil Business Tax Relief Details

For years, businessmen have complained that they are hamstrung in modernizing their plants and equipment by government restrictions on the rate of tax write-offs allowed on aging equipment. The government has been sympathetic but... this story outlines the complexities of the matter.

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Kennedy administration expects to disclose on July 6 details of a $1.2-billion tax break for business. The reduction will be accomplished by shortening the period of time over which wear-and-tear of business equipment is tax deductible. Related long-standing rules and practices will be changed.

The changes will be of interest — and worth money — to nearly every businessman, professional person and farmer in the nation. Politically, they already are important. President Kennedy has business. Much more along this will be heard in the congressional election campaigns next fall.

Business has complained for years that the government does not allow fast enough tax write-offs for depreciation.

For almost as long, the Treasury has been looking into the matter. Outside experts have been surveyed. A special Treasury task force has been burning the midnight oil.

The result is a new set of rules on depreciation about which much already is known. To clarify basic aspects of the complex subject of depreciation and how the government proposes to ease the regulations, here, in question-and-answer form, is what it's all about.

Q. What is depreciation?

A. Depreciation means less of value because of wear and tear, aging and changes in technology which make a piece of machinery or other business equipment obsolete.

Q. What does that have to do with taxes?

Q. What does that have to do with taxes?
A. Before computing their taxes, business costs from their income. The law allows a deduction for depreciation, which is one of the costs of business. For example, a corporation in the 21 per cent tax bracket might claim $10,000 in depreciation deductions. That would reduce its tax bill by $5,000.

Q. How does a company figure the depreciation on its equipment?
A. The tax law provides formulas for writing off the difference between the purchase price of equipment and its "useful life" value.
Q. How is useful life determined?
A. There's the rub. In 1942 the Treasury published a guide to useful lives called Bulletin F. It suggested useful lives for 5,000 items of business equipment. Businessmen have complained for years that the suggested lives were unrealistically long.
They claimed that by stretching out depreciation unreasonably long the Treasury made it impossible for them to accumulate through depreciation deductions the cash necessary to replace worn out and obsolete equipment.
Q. Why is this of special concern to the Kennedy administration?
A. From the President on down, officials feel it important for industry to use the latest, most efficient equipment, especially in manufacturing.
FOR LIMITING COSTS
They believe this is essential to holding down costs and keeping competitive with producers in Europe and Japan, where wages are lower and industry has invested heavily in recent years in modern, efficient facilities.
Q. How does the Treasury feel about the business complaint about over-long depreciation periods?
A. It believes businessmen have a legitimate beef. It also agrees that many internal revenue service (IRS) agents are wrong to treat the suggested lives of Bulletin F as the maximum. Agents frequently are unwilling to let businessmen write off the cost of equipment in fewer years, even when the firm is actually replacing the equipment faster than Bulletin F anticipated.
Q. What remedy is the Treasury preparing?
A. It is junking Bulletin F and replacing it with a new schedule of depreciable lives. Instead of 5,000 items there will be about 75 classes of equipment.
In every case, the new schedule will shorten or lengthen the changed the tax write-off period for a piece of equipment. This will mean tax savings for many businessmen, farmers and professional people.

Q. What about businessmen who want to write off and replace equipment faster than the new guidelines?
A. Any businessman can write off and replace his equipment as rapidly as he likes without objection from the Treasury. But—and this is important—he must replace as rapidly as he is writing it off.
Q. Doesn't that open up an area of wrangling between businessmen and IRS agents?
A. The Treasury is optimistic it as rapidly as he is writing it off, it won't. A new mathematical formula has been devised to show whether a firm is writing off its equipment faster than it is replacing it. It is the ratio of depreciation reserves to depreciable assets.
The reserve ratio and tables to be published will enable any businessman, or his accountant, to figure out for himself how he will stand in the eyes of IRS.
Q. What kinds of business equipment will the new schedules include?
A. All kinds — from open hearth furnaces to supermarket pushbaskets; doctors' X-ray machines to office typewriters.
Q. How will these be listed in the new schedule?
A. By major classes of industry, such as steel-making equipment, retailing, fixtures, construction equipment, etc. Most firms will find their equipment falls in two to five classes, the Treasury estimates.
Q. What about things used in many industries, such as cars and trucks?
A. There will be a special category for motor vehicles and one or two others for ordinary office equipment.
Q. When will the new schedules

EFFECTIVE FOR '62
A. They will be effective for the 1962 tax year in most cases. For some corporations which pay taxes on a fiscal year basis they may include part of calendar 1961.
Q. Will they cover only equipment bought in the future?
A. All equipment — already bought or to be bought.
Q. Will the new schedules and rules satisfy business complaints about depreciation allowances?
A. Only partly. Many business spokesmen contend that liberalized depreciation formulas should be written in the tax law, not just in the schedule of useful lives.
This probably will be an issue in the broad tax reform bill the administration hopes Congress will pass in 1963.
But the Treasury believes the changes it is preparing will go a long way towards satisfying business complaints about IRS agents not permitting reasonably short useful lives.

Husband-Hunters Says Man Should Be Open

NEW YORK (UPI) — Females looking for husbands say the best husbands are those who can express their feelings, their thoughts, or their worries with regard to important matters—financial problems, business reverses, job decisions.

The women also told Dr. Eric Riss, director of the Scientific Introduction Service, that the husbands should be able to express themselves with regard to the more intimate aspects of marriage.

Church Camps Eye '4th R'

Jerry Grewe of Elizabeth Lake Road, croups Penny Hart of Judah Road, queen, and Bert Laurain of West Fairmont Avenue, king, at the opening session of vacation Bible school in Pilgrim Holiness Church. Jerry is president of the Youth Fellowship group.

Vacation Bible schools and camps in Oakland County and throughout the nation have grown by leaps and bounds during the past few years.

The National Council of Churches estimates that more than seven million of this country's children will spend time at vacation schools or camps this summer.

Thousands of volunteer workers are conducting classes in Pontiac area churches week-day mornings from 9 to almost noon for a period of two weeks.

Public schools throughout the year stress the '3Rs' — reading, 'riting, and 'rithmetic but vacation church schools put the emphasis on the fourth R — religion.

START WITH PRAYER
Classes open with prayer followed by a program including music, worship, Bible reading, handicrafts, movies, recreation and refreshments.

Courses usually are planned for boys and girls whose ages range from 3 through 18. At the close of the season many churches present, for friends and parents, displays of handicraft and programs on work accomplished during the period.

A summertime school near Montreal, Que., seems to have pioneered the idea of vacation Bible schools in 1877. It went in for hymn singing and Bible reading.

Lutheran churches in this country started vacation schools around 1890.

A Methodist preacher launched one in Illinois soon after, and by 1907 a national committee on daily vacation

Bible schools was organized in New York.

Protestant, Catholic and Jewish groups also place great emphasis on the summer camp to — among other things — supplement the young person's religious education.

Vacation schools and camps have a two-fold aim. One is to teach youngsters sound Christian relationship in the stimulating atmosphere of living and playing together. The other is to reach some of the many children who don't go to church.

Children are not the only ones to benefit from the vacation school and camp. Many churches hold evening sessions so families may attend together.

Most churches sponsoring camps for boys and girls are now offering one- or two-week family vacations featuring a religious theme. Parents who would like their children to attend church camps may contact pastors at churches listed on the Saturday church pages.

Telling a Bible story to the kindergarten children during vacation Bible school at St. Paul Lutheran Church is Mrs. Ben Cooper of West Fairmont Avenue (right). The youngsters are wearing paper hats they made during craft class. Pastor Maurice Shackell is in charge of the opening session each day.

Judy Castell Is Honored This Week

Judy Castell, bride-elect of E. Roger Smith, is both hostess and honored guest at several affairs this week.

Tuesday, she and her mother, Mrs. Robert E. Castell, opened their East Iroquois Road home to members of the bridal party and their mothers for luncheon.

Today, Mrs. Edward Van Tassel and daughter Sue will give the honoree a shower; and Thursday, Barbara Alton, of the bridegroom, Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Smith of Hartford will be on hand to greet the guests.

Culminating this busy round of prewedding activities is the rehearsal dinner Friday evening at Rotunda Inn. Parents of the bridegroom, Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Smith of Hartford will be on hand to greet the guests.

Among those attending, in addition to the honorees, will be Mr. and Mrs. Castell, the bride-to-be's parents; Mrs. Ralph Hastings of Hartford, the bridegroom's aunt; Barbara Alton, maid of honor; Dee Ann Dolg of Ft. Lauderdale, Fla.; Barbara Smith, sister of the bridegroom and Miss Van Tassel.

Also attending the dinner will be Diane Diamond, Deborah Rogers, the William Rogers and the Charles Thompsons of Detroit.

BEST MAN
Best man, Jerome Valenta, completes the guest list which also includes Edward Robinson, Thomas Robinson, R. C. Hiller of Gary, Ind., the Andrew Robinsons of Flint, and Rev. and Mrs. George Widdfield.

Other friends and relatives of the bride-elect attending the week's round of parties include: Mrs. Robert J. Alton, Mrs. Daniel Diamond and Mrs. William Rogers.

Also among the well-wishers are Mrs. A. G. Nicholls, grandmother of the bride; Jo Ann Morris, Carol Petrie, Kathie Hunter, Pat Kline, Maureen Calley, Marilyn McLintock, Char Osburn, Mrs. Richard Sandage, Mrs. Richard Whitmer, Mrs. James Cornforth of Niles and Mrs. John Ochsen of Royal Oak.

The list concludes with Mrs. Arthur Scott, Barbara Smith of Chicago, Joan Morris, Barbara Irvine, Mrs. David Kimball and Janice Kolek.

See Parents NOW -- Abby

Letter Aids 'Just in Time'

DEAR ABBY: We went to the cemetery on Decoration Day and in the chapel they had an item from your column framed, and on display. I copied it and beg of you to print it again. It gave me something to think about.

"JUST IN TIME"

DEAR JUST: The item you wish me to run again was the one for which I had the most requests for reprints. And here it is:

"DEAR ABBY: I am the most heart broken person on earth.

It always found time to go everywhere else but to see my old gray-haired parents. They sat at home alone loving me just the same.

It is too late now to give them those few hours of happiness I was so selfish and too busy to give, and now when I go to visit their graves and look at the green grass over them I wonder if God will ever forgive me for the heartaches I must have caused them.

I pray that you will print

this, Abby, to tell those who still have their parents to visit them and show their love and respect while there, 'is still time. For it is later than you think.

"TOO LATE"

DEAR ABBY: My daughter received a copy of your Dear Abby on Marriage.

I read it and want you to know that it's the only book I've ever started that I could not put down until I finished it. It should be required reading for every married couple as well as those anticipating marriage. Thank you for writing it.

MRS. F.W.D. Oak Park, Ill.
DEAR MRS. F. W. D.: You're welcome. The pleasure was mine!

DEAR ABBY: I think it is wrong for a bowling league to set a rule about pregnant bowlers.

When I was pregnant with my fourth child, I bowled until 10:00 P.M. and my baby was born at midnight. The baby was fine and so was I. I kept an average of 145 so I figured I held my end up.

LADY BOWLER
DEAR LADY BOWLER: It was all right with your doctor. It's all right with me. I'm sure it won't easy to hold up your end under those conditions, but I think you're wonderful.

DEAR ABBY: I am sitting here with the tears running down my face. I raised two sons and a daughter. I worked my fingers to the bone for them. I wore torn shoes so they could dress nicely. I scrimped and saved to make payments on cars for them. And do you know that on Mother's Day not ONE of them even sent me a card or called me up?

HEARTBROKEN

DEAR HEARTBROKEN: Wipe the tears off your face, Mother. All most mothers get for their sacrifices is the JOY of sacrificing. You will find APPRECIATION in the dictionary.

How's the world treating you? For a personal unpublished reply, send a self-addressed, stamped envelope to ABBY, care of The Pontiac Press.

For Abby's booklet, "How To Have a Lovely Wedding," it was all right with your doctor. It's all right with me. I'm sure it won't easy to hold

Volunteer of Month Serves Red Cross

Mrs. Glenn Mandeville of Birmingham has been chosen Volunteer of the Month by the Central Volunteer Bureau, a committee of the Women's Division of Pontiac Area United Fund, for her outstanding volunteer work with the Pontiac Chapter of the American Red Cross.

Mrs. Mandeville holds the titles hospital chairman of Gray Lady Service at Pontiac General Hospital and acting coordinator of Gray Lady service at Oakland County Medical Care Facility and is an authorized Red Cross first-aid instructor.

Besides serving as chairman of hospital Gray Ladies where it is her job to see that the volunteers are working in areas in which they are both needed and satisfied, she also works one day a week as a Gray Lady at both PGH and Oakland County Medical Care Facility. She feels this contact keeps her close to any questions or problems that might arise.

EMERGENCY VOLUNTEER

Mrs. Mandeville also serves in Pontiac General Hospital's emergency room where she works as the Red Cross emergency volunteer twice a month.

Besides her husband, her family consists of a grown son and daughter and two grandchildren. She is a member of the MOMS Club and the hospital auxiliary. Starting next month, she is planning to assist the local Red Cross chapter in a project of compiling records.

Any person who is interested in giving community service may telephone the United Fund for further information.

Introduction Calls for the Name

By The Emily Post Institute

Q: My brother introduced me to a business associate of his the other day, as follows: "Mr. Smith, may I introduce you to my sister." I am married and have a different name from that of my brother.

I think his introduction was inadequate and that he should have mentioned that my name is Mrs. Jones. He says that it is in bad taste to introduce a member of one's family as Mrs. or Miss. Which one of us is right?

A: If you were unmarried, he would be right. But since you are married and have a different name, you are right. To say "my sister" would naturally be taken for granted that your name is the same as his. It should have said, "my sister (pause, and then add) Mrs. Jones."

Q: You have always said that a hostess is not expected to wait more than 15 minutes for a late dinner guest and that it was unfair to expect the other guests to wait for one delinquent guest.

Does this same rule apply when the late arrival is the only guest? Would it be rude for the family to begin eating the same rule would apply and the late arrival need not be waited for. A husband and wife, however, with no other family would be very rude if they began to eat before the arrival of their guest.

50 Years Is Marked

Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Lee of Norton Avenue celebrated their golden wedding anniversary Sunday during a buffet luncheon given by their children.

Friends and relatives called on the honorees during the affair. Included were the couple's five grandchildren and three great-grandchildren. Honoring their parents were Mrs. E. W. Texter and husband, the E. V. Lees, Mildred Lee and Mrs. J. H. Hanstrough and husband.

Out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Claud Wilks of Gullin, Mo., and Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Carr of Flint.

MRS. GLENN MANDEVILLE

Bride Elect 'Showered'

Bridesmaid Martha Ann Huntley and her mother, Mrs. Lloyd Huntley, of Old Orchard Drive, gave a shower Friday for bride-elect Gail Bartine Pearce. In attendance were the mother of the bride-elect, Mrs. Roy W. Pearce, and Mrs. Arnold Leach of Lake Orion.

A breakfast in the Elks Temple followed vows of Janet Lee Delbridge to Wendelin P. Meyer Saturday in St. Benedict Church. Rev. Richard W. Thomas performed the noon ceremony.

Parents of the newlyweds are Waterford Township residents, the Richard G. Delbridges of Voorheis Road and the Wendelin Meyers of Hershey Street.

French gaiter lace accented the basque bodice and overskirt which fell over the bride's gown of white tulle tulle and tulle with triple back tiers and chapel train.

Resplendent silk illusion veiling was caught by a pearl and crystal tiara. She held white carnations and red sweetheart roses.

Sally Delbridge, her sister's maid of honor, wore pink silk organza over tulle, with gathered embroidered skirt and carried carnations in shades of pink. Carol and Claudia Meyer, sisters of the bridegroom and Lucetta Creighton, were aquamarine organza of identical design and held light pink carnations.

Among members attending the 40th Biennial Convention of Delta Gamma Sorority are (seated) Mrs. Malcolm Cameron (left) and Mrs. David Taylor, cochairmen. Given Shower by Her Future Sisters-in-Law Bride-elect Carol Ann Heiple of Baybrook Drive, Drayton Plains, was honored at a kitchen shower given by her two future sisters-in-law, Mrs. Marion A. Shepard and Mrs. Thomas Ball at the former's North Cass Lake Road home Sunday.

Each guest brought a recipe to the honoree who plans an Aug. 4 wedding to David E. Smithson, son of the Richard Smithsons of Waterford Township. Maid of honor for the event is the bride-to-be's sister, Linda. Sue Hearn is bridesmaid.

Out-of-town guests attending the shower came from Auburn Heights, Lincoln Park, Keego Harbor, Union Lake, Drayton Plains and Waterford.

Wash With Care

Bed pillows with Dacron fiber-fill are best washed by hand, using warm soap or detergent suds and rinses. Avoid twisting or wringing; instead, create a flow of suds through the pillow by compressing it repeatedly.

The ticking can be scrubbed with a soft brush, if desired. Rinse thoroughly, and press or squeeze the pillow to remove excess water before drying in the sun or in a tumbler-type dryer.

Officers Installed

Beta Theta Phi Sorority, Alpha Chapter, entertained retiring officers and installed the new Tuesday evening at Devon Gables.

Conductress Mrs. Charles Kreher installed this year's officers. They are: Mrs. Jack Greenhouse, president; Mrs. U. C. Meeker, vice president; Mrs. Harold C. Davidson, secretary; Mrs. R. J. Stanton, treasurer; and Mrs. Leon Reese, conductress.

SPECIAL GUESTS
Special guests of the affair were past officers Mrs. Cecil Denison, Mrs. L. Z. Monroe, Mrs. Greenhouse, Mrs. Reese and Mrs. Kreher.

Honorary members of the sorority also in attendance were Mrs. Wendell Crisp, Mrs. Charles Andrews, Mrs. Margaret Rourke, Mrs. LaBar Stewart and special guest, Alice Sinclair.

Cohostesses were Mrs. Emil Malinin and Mrs. Walter Kinder.

The group plans a picnic July 29 and will resume regular meetings in September.

Girl Scouts End Hike in the Rain

Northern Oakland County Girl Scouts wound up "singing in the rain" after a 22-mile hiking expedition under full pack Saturday afternoon at Kensington Park near Milford.

The girls mastered the Chief Pontiac Trail which winds through forests, swamp land and around scenic highways. The trail is sponsored by the Clinton Valley Council of Boy Scouts.

The trek began Friday at Commerce Road and included a campout under the stars at Proud Lake and a chance to see Indians from the Ojibwa Tribe camping in teepees.

The hikers were led by Mrs. Jack Elley, Mrs. Raymond Cooper and Mrs. Clifford Neville. Among the rain-soaked troopers were Nancy Walters, Sharon Stadler, Linda Arno, Bonnie Pittman, Carol Warner, Sally Martin, Susan Little, Barbara Benson and Ruth Neville.

He represented WSU in the National Law School Appellate Moot Court Trial and Practice competition where he was a quarter finalist. Mr. Valentino won in the Intra-Law School Appellate Moot Court trial and practice competition and was recipient of the 1956 law society award. Affiliated with Delta Theta Phi law fraternity, he was balliff of C. B. Warren Senate at WSU. His parents are the Ernest Valentinos of Whitmore Street.

Look Nice for Husband

easy to impose on it. It's a fact that a cold-creamed face does not invite a kiss and that plucked eyebrows are far from alluring.

It is also a fact that it gives a man a kick and the whole relationship a change of pace if his wife is a little dressed up when he returns home from work.

Being dressed up may mean only a simple, crisp cotton, with make-up on, and a triple strand of beads. It may mean attractive playclothes for cooking outdoors, but it always means something fresh and different from what she was wearing in the morning.

She must be well-groomed and her make-up must be fresh. I receive many letters from women saying that they feel they must remove all make-up at night for the good of their skin. I think they should put it on for the good of their marriage.

This does not mean heavy make-up. After cleansing the face and neck, a little powder can be used, and lipstick can be applied. If you are fighting crow's feet, a light application of an eye cream or oil about the eyes almost disappears and leaves only a dewy look.

No matter how hectic the morning getaway is, a woman always can take five minutes to replenish her lipstick, comb her hair and dab some face powder on — and it takes just as much time to put on a crumpled "something" as it does to put on an attractive housecoat.

Sorority to Meet

Mackinac Island will be the setting for the 40th biennial convention of Delta Gamma Sorority as Michigan hosts the sorority's collegiate and alumnae members Sunday to July 1 at the Grand Hotel.

Each year, scholarships and loans are made available to orphic technicians and to teachers and consultants for visually handicapped children, as well as in undesignated fields for both graduates and undergraduates, members and nonmembers. Delegates to the convention from the Detroit area are: Hilda Humphreys of Detroit; Mrs. William H. Klingbeil, Grosse Pointe Shores; and Mrs. Donald Hacker, Birmingham.

We Admit to Being 45 Years Old . . .

And we adhere to the adage that "Life Begins at 40" . . . for that's when we began hatching plans for a larger, more comfortable store, located conveniently in the heart of the Pontiac-Birmingham area. Three years ago we made the big move to our 1680 South Telegraph Road store—and your response has been heart-warming!

Last winter, we increased our store display area and incorporated the warehouse under the same roof—to give you better facilities, more prompt service.

And here we are at 45, loving every minute of it! We're glad you appreciate our way of doing business as formulated 'way back in 1917 by our founders. We believe in shopping the furniture markets for the finest quality merchandise representing good taste and greatest value. Our decorators insist on the newsworthy in good design . . . never the ostentatious.

Our Price Tags Show the CASH Price— There's No Hidden Mark-Up for Credit

If you wish to purchase for cash, the price listed is effective for 90 days. If you wish to purchase on a time basis, up to 24 months, a small service charge is added to the ticketed price. There is no charge for deliveries. The price you pay is guaranteed to be the lowest price obtainable anywhere for commensurate quality.

We Like Being a COMPLETE Store

Today, there are specialists in each phase of the home furnishings business. We like being specialists in every phase. For example, you'll find Colonial, Traditional, French Provincial, Italian Provincial, Danish Modern and Contemporary home furnishings and accessories in abundant selection at Stewart-Glenn's. Our Decorating staff will advise you, at no additional cost, in color themes, room-planning, fabric selection and blending of periods. Draperies, Carpeting, Bedspreads and bedding are in complete selection—under one roof. Whether you need a lamp for the guest room or a new idea to refurbish the family room, you'll find the IDEA, BACKED BY THE MERCHANDISE . . . at Stewart-Glenn. We're looking forward to your visits. MIRIAM C. MOHRHOFF

A bachelor of science degree cum laude in chemistry was received by Miriam Mohrhoff at Marygrove College commencement exercises. The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Mohrhoff of Mackintosh Lane in Bloomfield Hills, she was elected to Alpha Lambda Delta, freshmen women's national honor society, and Sigma Delta Pi, national Spanish honor society. As a senior she was listed in "Who's Who Among Students in American Colleges and Universities," and was awarded a research assistantship in the oncology department at the University of Wisconsin where she will work on her master's degree.

Present Gifts to Center

President of Beta Mu Chapter, Epsilon Sigma Alpha Sorority, Mrs. Vernon Love of Briggs Street, Dryden Plains, presented table tennis equipment, softball, and a badminton set to Mrs. Charles R. Ramsey, house mother of the Girls Center of the Oakland County Children's Home.

Mrs. Ramsey accepted in behalf of the girls who have been the main interest of the sorority for the past year.

Various members and their mothers are responsible for sewing instructions, hair styling, skating and sledding parties, cooking instructions, and the making of hairnets containing hair care items.

Mrs. Joseph Mendoza, of Lake Orion, was in charge of the project. Mrs. Lawrence Hartman of Clarkston, and Mrs. Fred Vollrath of Waterford Township, were ways and means chairmen for the project.

Dr. George W. Crane Says:

Business Parties Taboo

DR. CRANE

By DR. George W. CRANE
CASE M-531: Russell D. aged 32, is a foreman in a large manufacturing plant.

"Russell works in a department where there are six men and about 50 women," his wife informed me.

"There weren't many girls in his department until the last 3 or 4 years."

"I didn't mind his working with women, but I do think something must be wrong with management when it gives parties to which wives are not invited."

"For the past year, there have been monthly parties at the plant. We wives are not invited, and our husbands have informed us that it doesn't look right for us to be there, since it is strictly a departmental affair."

"As a result, three of the six men already are involved in affairs with girls who work with them. All three of these men have children."

"And now Russell has confessed that he is enamored of one of the girls, too. Dr. Crane, what is wrong with a factory that is so afraid of a fact that it is so afraid to sponsor social events that encourage men in having illicit affairs?"

DIAGNOSIS

I have encountered many patients with this identical complaint, and my mail has also many letters from husbands, as well as wives, who have outlined this same problem.

An intelligent personnel department recognizes that maximum efficiency on the job is predicated on a happy, well-adjusted home life of the workers.

No smart personnel manager would countenance factory parties to which the wives or families are not invited.

Such an unwise procedure would be like sending a child into a gasoline refinery with a box of matches. A chance striking of a match would then lead to catastrophe.

And when a few young married men are beered and cheered by half a hundred man-hungry females till late at night, and then seductively encouraged to take the girls home, and not be in too great a hurry to leave, another unfortunate match may be struck up, with domestic catastrophe as the aftermath.

BEWARE THE RED WINE

"Look not on the wine while it is red," states the Bible,

meaning, "Stay away from temptation!"

Your husband may be an honorable fellow, morally trained and devoted to you and your children.

But let a score of rouged girls surround him with eager "Ahs" and "Ohs", and he may become emotionally intoxicated with his apparent irresistible romantic appeal.

If they manhandle him with a few bottles of beer, each of which contains the alcoholic content of a glass of whiskey, his judgment is partly anesthetized by the liquor, and you wives at home will have further cause to worry.

It would seem that on many occasions, management is to blame for such unwise parties. But if you wives wanted to prevent your husband from being tempted in the gastric realm, you'd gorge him with foodstuffs at home so he would have little appetite for the pie or cake or breakfast that even a ravishing beauty might offer him. Gorge him sexually and you can likewise render him more immune to outside seduction.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan. Enclose a postage stamp to cover typing and handling charges and pamphlets.

Tips on Careers

Demand Heavy for Salesmen

(Editor's Note: This week's salesman tips is the 11th in a 12-week series of career articles, giving you in a capsule form up-to-minute facts on job possibilities in industry and the professions. Source: U.S. Department of Labor.)

GILBERT YOUTH SERVICES

Because sales workers are employed in so many areas, and because there are job opportunities as salesmen for people with widely different educational backgrounds and personal characteristics, this capsule career tip will confine itself to the three largest fields: retail trade, outside salesmen for wholesale houses, and salesmen for manufacturing companies.)

Educational Qualifications: High school graduation the usual requirement for salesmen in retail and wholesale trade; college graduates preferred for training as manufacturers' salesmen because the salesmen will be dealing with high-level company executives.

Personal Qualifications: Pleasant personality, interest in sales work, neat appearance, ability to get along with people, outgoing nature, good health.

Advantages: Employment expected to increase rapidly during this decade; growing opportunity for part-time workers in retail stores; special opportunity as manufacturers' salesmen as more products come on the market.

Disadvantages: Some physical strain, since retail salesmen must stand on their feet for long periods; wholesale salesmen also spend a great deal of time on their feet and carry heavy sample cases; wholesale and manufacturers' salesmen must be away from home and spend evenings and weekends writing reports.

Salaries: Retail store salesmen and women—Beginners, $30 to $50 a week; experienced, $10 to $25 a week more; highest earnings, $100 a week, received by those who sell automobiles, major appliances and furniture.

Wholesale salesmen—Beginners, $400 to $500 a month; experienced, $6,000 to $15,000 a year—some make considerably more.

Manufacturers' salesmen—College graduates recruited for sales trainees $1,800 to $5,200 a year; starting salaries for salesmen of technical products and for salesmen with the master's degree, about $400 a year higher; experienced, $10,000 or more a year; those in the technical sales field, several times this figure.

A message from the Treasury of a free people

How to help keep freedom ringing from every mountainside

High up on a mountainside in South Dakota, there's a famous tribute to four American patriots who did much to mold the shape of freedom.

But even if there were no Mt. Rushmore, we'd remember men like Washington, Jefferson, Roosevelt, and Lincoln. For the landscape of freedom is shaped by what they did, not by the mountainside that pays tribute.

Even today, freedom is shaped by the work of individuals—men and women, like you. Of course, only a few Americans will ever have their faces up on a mountain. But millions of Americans are playing a real part in the defense of freedom today simply by buying U.S. Savings Bonds.

When you invest in U.S. Savings Bonds, you put some money to work for your country right now. At the same time you're putting it to work for your own future. Aren't those good reasons to start buying Savings Bonds today?

Keep freedom in your future with U.S. Savings Bonds

The U.S. Government does not pay for this advertising. The Treasury Department thanks The Advertising Council and this newspaper for their patriotic support.
