

New Mexico Governor Puts Romney Hat in '68 Ring

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M. (AP) — New Mexico Gov. David F. Cargo has thrown the hat of Michigan Gov. George Romney into the political ring as a Republican presidential candidate.

Romney arrived in New Mexico yesterday on a Western states swing to speak at a Republican victory dinner in Albuquerque.

At a news conference after his arrival, Romney said he still has not made a decision on his plans for 1968 and many factors remain to be considered.

Cargo was asked about his earlier remarks at the news conference after Romney said a decision still had not been made.

"I say he's a candidate, how's that?" Cargo said.

Cargo, asked if he was backing Romney for the nomination, said he felt it was too early to say.

"He's my kind of Republican. He's 'electable,'" Cargo said.

In his speech, Romney hit at the Democratic administration's handling of problems of urban areas.

"Our urban areas today need not only the tools and the resources of federal and local governments," he said, "they need the help of state governments, private enterprise, voluntary associations, and the personal effort of responsible Americans."

CURRENT POLICIES

"That's where the current national administration and its policies have particularly failed," Romney said.

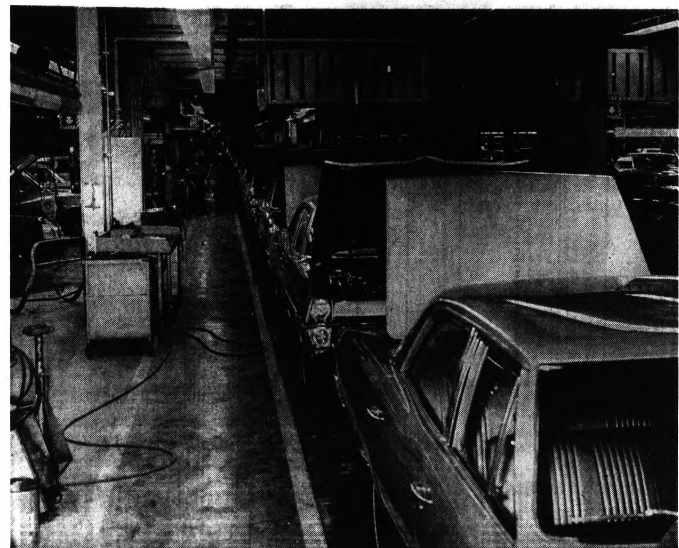

"In addition, over-reliance on federal decision-making has undercut the vitality of state and local governments in dealing with these urban problems."

Romney said the direct involvement of state governments is needed in assisting large urban centers to resolve intergovernmental problems.

"A century ago, Lincoln and our Republican party gave America the Homestead Act to populate the West with free and independent farmers. Now it is time to apply that proven principle in our cities," Romney said.

After addressing a joint session of the Arizona Legislature and touring a housing project for the elderly near Mesa today, the Romney party is to fly to Detroit tonight, ending his week-long political tour.

IDLING TIME—Half-finished cars line the stilled Pontiac Motor Division's final assembly plant. Assembly operations were stopped and some 5,000 workers laid off yesterday because of a parts shortage caused by a strike at the Fisher Body Plant at Mansfield, Ohio.

Auto Workers Await Strike End

Some 8,300 local auto workers were still at home today, although leaders of the wildcat strike at an Ohio Fisher Body plant were to issue a plea this afternoon to end the walkout which forced the layoff by city plants.

Under orders from the president and executive board of the United Auto Workers to put down the rebellion, leaders of the striking local were to urge a return to work.

However, even if the plea is answered at the Mansfield, Ohio, plant, it may be a few days before local workers are called back, according to General Motors Corp. spokesmen.

The Pontiac area workers affected are among more than half of General Motors 240,000 employees laid off because of the parts shortage created by the strike.

NO IMMEDIATE CHANGE

There will be no immediate change in current layoffs until then, the spokesman added.

Somewhat 5,000 area workers have been temporarily idled at the Pontiac Motor Division plant while an estimated 3,300 were furloughed from assembly operations at the Fisher Body plant.

The orders to put down the strike came from UAW President Walter P. Reuther and his 26-member executive board in a showdown meeting at Detroit last night. Robert Hall, president of Mansfield Local 549, promised to follow the orders.

Hall called a membership meeting and UAW executives said they anticipated an end to the seven-day wildcat walkout by the beginning of the afternoon shift.

With 133,500 idled in 57 plants across the country, GM said it would get factories back in production as quickly as possible.

Reuther and his board threatened to take over Local 549, whose 2,700 members in the key supplier plant refused telegraphed orders Tuesday to end the strike which now spans eight days.

Acceptable Plan Being Formed for Policing of N-Arms Treaty

GENEVA (AP) — Britain's disarmament minister said today that efforts are being made to work out a way of policing a treaty to stop the spread of nuclear weapons that would be acceptable to both the Soviet Union and West Germany.

"A French veto over the arrangements we have in mind simply would not apply," Lord Chalfont told a news conference after today's session of the 17-nation disarmament conference, which is trying to hammer out such a treaty.

The West Germans want safeguards handled by the six-nation European Atomic Energy Association (Euratom) in which the French have a veto. The Soviets consider safeguards by Euratom ineffective.

Lord Chalfont said the Soviets had not excluded all participation by Euratom in the policing of peaceful nuclear development.

He would not describe the compromise being discussed, but his remarks indicated that Euratom safeguards would be combined with those of the International Atomic Energy Agency (IAEA) in which the Soviets participate.

One difficulty in the negotiation is that the United States and Britain consider safeguards indispensable, while the Soviets do not seem to care whether there are any or not.

Chalfont told the disarmament conference earlier that there were no grounds for the claims of West Germany and other countries that the proposed treaty would deprive them of nuclear knowledge for peaceful industrial developments.

He insisted, however, that peaceful nuclear explosions should be covered by the treaty.

"A device which moves a million tons of earth to dig a canal or create an oil deposit can just as well pulverize a city of one million people," he said. "The only missing ingredient is the delivery system, which is easy to provide."

State Senate OKs Time Bill

LANSING (AP) — The Senate today passed a bill which would exempt Michigan from a federal law requiring use of daylight saving time for six months of the year.

The bill, sponsored by Sen. Basil Brown, D-Highland Park, passed, 24-11, with no discussion, but was not given immediate effect.

Brown made a motion that it be given immediate effect, but withdrew his motion after Senate Majority Leader Emil Lockwood, R-St. Louis, urged such action wait until the bill returned from the House.

House Speaker Robert Waldron, R-Grosse Pointe, said he personally opposed the time bill but would not ask House Republicans to vote against it.

"I think this, of all the bills I've ever seen in the Legislature, should reflect the sentiments of each member's district," Waldron said.

REDUCING TO FOUR

The Senate also passed, 35-0, a measure reducing from five to four the number of Administrative Board members necessary for a quorum.

However, the bill was amended to forbid deputies or representatives of the six Ad Board members from voting in their places.

The time measure, removing Michigan from the provisions of the federal Uniform Time Act requiring states to go on daylight saving time in April, was opposed by several Democrats in debate Wednesday.

45,000 U.S. Troops Try to Ring Cong

WAR ZONE C, Vietnam (AP) — U.S. forces have unleashed the greatest ground-air assault of the Vietnam war. They hurled some 45,000 men into a vast encirclement of the Vietcong's national headquarters and main base near the Cambodian border.

The drive, ranging 50 to 75 miles northwest of Saigon, began yesterday with the first American combat parachute jump of the war, a drop of about 750 paratroopers into blocking positions behind the enemy lines and barely three miles from Cambodia.

The lightning assaults of paratroopers, helicopter-borne infantry and foot soldiers had most units in their assigned areas within a matter of hours.

The clear skies over the wide combat zone were crisscrossed with helicopters, transports, jet fighters and observation planes, operating in what one officer called fantastic coordination.

On the heels of the paratroopers, helicopter-lifted soldiers fanned out in land zones on the flanks, creating a bristling arc of U.S. firepower on the northern part of War Zone C in Tay Ninh Province, northwest of Saigon.

Powerful columns of tanks, armored personnel carriers and infantry moved up from the south and around the flanks to complete a loose encirclement of the area where U.S. forces hoped to trap the political leadership of the Vietcong.

Initial reports from the battlefield indictated Vietcong resistance to the first assault was confined to sniper fire, booby traps and mines.

The new drive, though launched yesterday, was not officially disclosed until today for security reasons.

Three U.S. tank-builders moving into the jungle had their tracks blown off by mines but U.S. officers said there were no casualties. Some assault units reported a handful of casualties from snipers.

From the air, the vast area was a fantastic scene of crisscrossing aircraft, billowing smoke from the ground, lush jungles dotted with colored parachutes and assault companies in olive drab uniforms hacking forward on the ground.

Catholics Offer OCCEO Help on City Head Start

The Catholic Archdiocese of Detroit has offered to aid the Oakland County Commission on Economic Opportunity (OCCEO) in launching a Pontiac Head Start program, James M. McNeely, OCCEO executive director, said yesterday.

Scheduled to begin last September, the program for 320 preschoolers has not yet begun due to a deadlock between the Pontiac Board of Education and OCCEO over relative rights and responsibilities.

A month ago, the OCCEO voted to bypass the school system, which it termed "very uncooperative," and launch the program itself.

McNeely said yesterday the archdiocese has definitely indicated a willingness to become operating agent for the Head Start program.

The administrative unit of the Catholic Church in southeastern Michigan presently is operating a program for some 650 youngsters in Detroit in conjunction with the Total Action Against Poverty program, McNeely said.

$300,000 NEEDED

Total funding of $300,000 would be needed for a year-long Head Start program in Pontiac beginning in June, according to McNeely.

"A federal grant of $240,000 will be sought and the remaining $60,000 must be in local funding," he said.

McNeely said the willingness of the archdiocese to help does not rule out the possibility that Pontiac schools might still conduct the program if differences can be resolved.

Trains Block Morning Traffic

Pontiac police this morning received at least four complaints that rush-hour traffic on West Huron and Wide Track had been held up for some 20 minutes by Grand Trunk Western Railroad trains.

Traffic at one point was reportedly backed nearly one mile west to Ottawa Drive.

Sgt. Herbert C. Cooley said the reports came in about 8 a.m. Cooley said all four individuals declined to sign a formal complaint.

City ordinance 1275 provides for up to $100 fine and 90 days in jail for railroad personnel convicted of obstructing crossings for more than five minutes at one time.

Death of Figure in JFK 'Plot' Rued

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP) — Dist. Atty. Jim Garrison hinted today that free-lance pilot Davis W. Ferrie carried to his grave some secrets about President John F. Kennedy's assassination.

Ferrie, 48, who described himself as a psychologist and private detective as well as a flyer, was found dead in his bed yesterday.

Garrison, the 6-foot-6 Ferrie gun-toting prosecutor, called the death "apparent suicide."

The coroner, Dr. Nicholas Chetta, said tests were not complete but death seemed due to a massive brain hemorrhage, with no sign of suicide except a curious, unsigned, undated note saying death was a "sweet prospect."

Ferrie was on the brink of producing information that could have been important, said Garrison, whose assassination probe — started long after the Warren commission finished its work — has created an international sensation.

"We felt that he was really now ready to talk candidly, to contribute to this important investigation," said Garrison. "Now he's gone and it will be much harder to make the connections between certain people. But I'm sure we'll make them anyway."

Up to Three Inches of Snow Forecast

An additional one to three inches of light snow is predicted for late afternoon or early evening, according to the U.S. Weather Bureau.

Temperatures reaching a high of 35 yesterday will dip from zero to 8 above tonight.

Windy, colder with snow diminishing to flurries is the forecast for tonight and tomorrow with temperatures reaching a high of 8 to 15.

The outlook for Saturday is continued cold with a chance of snow flurries. Ten above was the low temperature in downtown Pontiac preceding 8 a.m. The mercury had edged up to 20 by 2 p.m.

Last Week's Deaths in Vietnam Highest Since Fall of 1965

SAIGON (AP) — More American and Communist troops were killed in battle in Vietnam last week than in any week since the bloody battle of the Ia Drang Valley in November 1965, the U.S. Command disclosed today.

U.S. headquarters said 172 Americans were killed and 802 were wounded, compared with 107 killed and 1,015 wounded the week before. A total of 2,029 of the enemy were reported killed, nearly twice the 1,065 reported the previous week.

The largest number of American and Communist dead in the war so far was reported in the week of Nov. 14-20, 1965. There were 240 Americans killed and 2,262 Communists, most of them in the bloody valley in the central highlands.

The South Vietnamese command reported 110 of its men were killed last week and 33 were missing, compared with 193 killed and 53 missing the week before.

ALLIED TOLL

Casualties of other allied forces also jumped, to 40 dead and 76 wounded. The week before nine dead and 33 wounded had been reported.

The casualty figures reflected a sharp increase in fighting across the country, and particularly in the central coastal lowlands where South Korean and U.S. forces fought hard battles. The casualty report raised the

Four Arrested After School Is Broken Into

Four suspected burglars were rounded up by Oakland County sheriff's deputies, state and Rochester police early today following a break-in at Avondale High School.

Billy R. Stone, 21, and Jerome F. Sullivan, 21, both of Detroit, and brothers Ronald J. Ball, 20, of Rochester and Thomas D. Ball, 20, of Highland Park, are held at the Oakland County Jail.

Sheriff's Sgt. Paul Carpenter said the school, at 1455 W. Auburn, Avon Township, was surrounded about 4:15 a. m. after a report of a burglary in progress.

Sloane was found hiding behind a bush near a broken window at the rear of the school and Ronald Ball was captured inside the building, deputies said.

Sullivan and Thomas Ball were found in a car parked nearby. Investigators said Avondale Teachers Credit Union checks, totaling some $4,860 were found in Sloane's possession.

Rochester Eyes Renewal Plans for 2nd Project

ROCHESTER — A proposal for a second urban renewal project in this new city has been unveiled with plans for a revitalized downtown shopping area. The planning consultant firm of Vilcan-Leman Associates has produced a master plan of the area depicting a pedestrian mall and greatly increased off-street parking.

ROS COE HALE

Bought with funds under the Federal 701 Planning Grant, the plan was shown to some 25 businessmen of the town. No price tag was affixed by the planners. The mall as suggested would run along Fourth Street from Water across Main to the alley between Main and Walnut. A tree-studded Main Street from Third to University would feature widened sidewalks. Parking would be prohibited along the street, according to the plan.

Home Owners Elect Leader

Lake Orion Unit Firm
in Sewer Opposition

LAKE ORION — Roscoe Hale, 220 O'Connor, has been elected president of the Lake Orion Homeowners Association.

At its first meeting this year, the organization, which reportedly represents 282 families of the village, also named Clarence Hoesman and Juanita Robbins as vice presidents; Emily Pagel, secretary; and J. C. Armstrong, treasurer.

The group has affirmed its intention of sticking with a pending lawsuit against the village in regard to proposed sewer project plans.

"We'll stay with it and we'll fight the constitutionality of a tax to pay for the sewers," said Mrs. Robbins, "until we are assured of enough federal aid."

She reaffirmed that the proposed cost of a sewage disposal plant and system for the village is $3,400,000 — "and that's far over the village's current assessed valuation of $2,800,000."

AD VALOREM TAX

She added that the system as proposed would serve only 401 of the 900 units in the village, but contended that an ad valorem tax spread over all residents would be necessary to pay for it.

The avowed over-all purpose of the group is to encourage more citizen participation in government and to help development of the community.

The group is a nonpartisan organization, registered with the Michigan Corporation and Securities Commission.

Avon Twp. Board Again Filled

AVON TOWNSHIP — The Township Board reached full strength once again last night as two new trustees were appointed to fill the positions left vacant by Wayne Holman and Clarence Shaw.

Named were Earl Borden, 35, of 56 Texas, an unsuccessful candidate in last August's primary, and Philip Trimble, 36, 195 Windsor, a member of two township citizens' study committees and active in the current move to incorporate the township outside the city of Rochester.

Their terms begin immediately and will continue through April, 1969.

Holman and Shaw resigned because they live within the limits of the new city of Rochester and as such are no longer eligible to serve on the township board.

Borden is coordination manager at Vickers, Inc., a division of Sperry Rand located at 15 Mile and Crooks.

RESEARCH ENGINEER

The two won out in secret ballots over Carroll B. Chapman Jr., 1431 Washington, and Carl Simon, 1332 Christian Hill.

The board complimented those citizens who let their availability be known for the jobs.

"It's nice to have people agree to serve," said Supervisor Cyril Miller.

TWO CONSTABLES

The board also appointed Lloyd Goad, 3709 Cone, and William Richards, 2809 Dearborn, as constables to replace Robert D. Lewis, 406 Taylor, and Thomas B. Noyes, 724 Ludlow, both of Rochester, who were forced to resign because of residential reasons.

EARL BORDEN

PHILIP TRIMBLE

George Ennis, 800 Ironstone, elected to the board last November, was appointed a member of the Zoning Board of Appeals. He replaces Earl Dean, 342 Linwood, Rochester. Dean resigned due to ill health.

Ennis will officially become a trustee on April 10 replacing Donald Campbell whose term expires at that time.

H. C. Newingham, 1837 W. Auburn and George Schutte, 708 Sandstone, were named to the Board of Review — Newingham replacing C. F. Siebert, 444 W. University, Rochester, who resigned because he lives within the new city and Schutte to a four-year term beginning in April.

OFFICIAL DENIAL

Miller made an official denial of any upward hike in removing township equipment from Mount Avon Cemetery last Feb. 13 when it became the property of the city.

"We waited until after the burial on that day before removing lawn mowers and compressors," said Miller.

"We left a truck, 400 gallons of fuel oil and other equipment they were in need of." Reports were circulated at the city's first council meeting that the cemetery had been stripped of all equipment.

Miller was seconded by Clerk Thelma Spencer in his report that a statement of equipment had been given to City Manager William Sinclair.

TO GIVE DEED

The board voted to give the city a deed to the cemetery. Under state law cemeteries located within the corporate limits of a city become city property upon incorporation.

It was reported that Sexton John Albertson and John Hawley had been retained by the city, but that Arthur and Clarence Applegate, who had also been employed in the cemetery, had been dismissed.

"We had no work for them," said Mrs. Spencer. The men, who are 55 and 51 years old, will get benefit of the township pension plan once they attain the age of 65, she added.

Novi Cityhood Vote Due Monday Ruling

NOVI — A decision on the village's right to hold an incorporation vote April 4 is expected Monday at a hearing before Oakland County Circuit Judge William J. Beer.

At a hearing this week, Judge Beer urged the stipulation of all parties that the matter be permitted to come to a vote.

Beer is hearing two suits on the matter. One, filed by Novi Township, seeks an injunction to stop the vote and the second, by a village citizens committee, is seeking an injunction to stop the township from interfering with the vote.

Goats Excel—No Butts About It!

EAST LANSING @ — Call milk "moo juice" if you like, but when it comes to producing milk, a good goat can out beat his weight in cows.

And goat's milk is considered a health food. Doctors sometimes prescribe it for children who are allergic to cow's milk.

The problem is that is would take about 400 goats — and four times as much milking labor — to replace a 100-cow herd.

In addition, because of the animals' reputation, it is difficult to find people who want to work with goats, said Fred Howe, a Michigan State University technician who cares for about 50 high-class goats.

The reputation, he added, is not all deserved. The MSU employees who work with goats "get a lot of razing about it," he said, "but goats are cleaner than most animals and, contrary to public opinion, they are quite finicky about what they eat."

The young kids butt occasionally, in play with each other, but most adult goats have had their horns removed, Howe said.

Part of MSU's herd is descended from goats kept by famous poet Carl Sandburg, who once lived near Ann Arbor. Like most goat breeders, Sandburg would drink nothing but goat's milk, Howe said.

On of MSU's best goats produced a record 5,750 pounds of milk in 106 days one year, he said, "and that's quite a lot for a 150-pound animal."

For cows, which sometimes weigh 10 times as much, 20,000 pounds of milk in a year is considered excellent.

Howe is president of the Michigan Dairy Goat Society, which has about 50 members.

NON COMMERCIAL

Dairy goats have little commercial impact in Michigan, he said, although a few dairies handle goat's milk.

MSU's herd doesn't produce enough milk for the MSU dairy plant to bottle with, said Howe, so most of it is used to feed other animals.

The MSU herd is used mainly for research, on everything from the milk production process to the effects of aging on different glands—a project with implications for humans. In milk production research, Howe said, a goat can be used for anything a cow would be used for, "but it is far more economical."

CLEAN

He said goats will chew on paper if it is clean and will eat leaves off trees, but they won't touch paper that has dropped to the ground.

The history of MSU's herd goes back about 30 years, when 3-year-old Karlen Lutz discovered she was allergic to cow's milk. She couldn't digest properly and often was quite ill.

The Luitzes bought a goat, and nursed Karlen back to health on its milk.

When it came time to have the goat bred, a friend told the Luitzes that the Sandburgs had a herd. They wrote to the Sandburgs, a friendship developed between the two families and, using goats from the Sandburgs' herd, the Luitzes eventually began a herd of their own.

SOLD TO MSU

In 1963, the Luitzes sold 19 registered Toggenburg goats to MSU for research on genetics and nutrition.

Among Lansing-area children, those goats have a good reputation — they produce some of the cutest young for MSU's annual "Baby Animal Day" in the spring, said Howe.

Wisconsin U. Stands Firm Against Protesters

MADISON, Wis. (AP) — The University of Wisconsin has vowed to "go through a Berkeley" to keep its campus open to everyone despite 17 arrests in a protest against job interviews by a firm making napalm for Vietnam.

Robben W. Fleming, chancellor of the Madison campus who was barricaded in an office for three hours by the protesters, wrote a personal check for $1,200 that bailed the demonstrators out of jail. But he refused to yield Wednesday night to demands that representatives of the Dow Chemical Corp., target of the protest, be evicted from the university.

The demonstrators threatened to continue the protests.

"We stand at the brink of a Berkeley," Fleming said, but he added the university would not sway from its policy that no one would be denied access to campus facilities because of a clash over beliefs.

WON'T BACK AWAY

"There's no prospect of backing away from this historic principle. We're willing to go through a Berkeley for that principle. We'll go through that tragedy," he said.

He referred to mass protests in the past that disrupted the University of California at Berkeley.

Arraignments were scheduled today for 16 students and a Madison mother arrested on charges of disorderly conduct in the demonstrations against Dow.

Fleming said he was furnishing bail because he believed the university should settle its disputes without police action.

He said he would recommend the charges be dropped, but said the final decision belonged to the director of the engineering school placement service, James Marks, who had summoned police.

Eleven demonstrators were carried out by police when they staged a sit-in in the office where Dow planned to conduct interviews. Six others were arrested when they threw themselves under police cars and paddy wagons trying to cart the first group away.

Fleming and other university personnel were trapped in an administration office by demonstrators packing a hallway after the word of the arrests spread. Leaders of the group said they wanted to trade the release of their friends for that of Fleming and others in the office.

During the three-hour blockade, Fleming conferred with several of the leaders who insisted they had a right to block the recruiting of companies. They argued it was immoral for Dow Chemical and other firms to support the Vietnam war effort.

UNDER FIRE — Hugh M. Hefner, editor and publisher of Playboy magazine, shown here in a 1962 photo with cover girl Cynthia Maddox, was the target of former Oklahoma gubernatorial candidate Al Kavanaugh yesterday. Kavanaugh, veteran antisemit campaigner, said in Oklahoma City he plans to file complaints against Hefner and make an effort to bring him to trial in Oklahoma.

Byrd Kills Soviet Peace Aim Myth

Exemplifying the realism that characterized his illustrious father, Sen. HARRY F. BYRD JR., D-Va., took sharp issue with the Administration's position on Russia's role in the Vietnam war.

BYRD

It is that country, not Red China, said the senator, who is supplying the bulk of war materiel that enables North Vietnam to continue the conflict.

Were the Kremlin's professions of peace for the embattled area sincere, the Reds could end the war in short order by shutting off the flow into North Vietnam of fighter aircraft, heavy artillery, antiaircraft weapons, radar equipment, surface-to-air missiles and oil—not to mention the construction of a steel mill, Byrd declared. He estimated that such aid amounted to $2 billion in 1966 while pointing out that China is merely furnishing small arms and food.

As a member of the Senate Armed Services Committee, the Virginia solon elicited from U.S. military chiefs that they would not adhere to present operating procedures in bringing the war to an early conclusion with a minimum of military casualties.

Their major departure from the present strategic ground rules would be the removal of restrictions on air and naval bombardment of important military targets in North Vietnam.

The question of American involvement in Southeast Asia is now moot. But bringing an end to the mess is not. We think that Sen. Byrd's assessment of Russia's hypocritical posture in the conflict is sound.

For a half century, the Soviets have been our enemy and, despite protestations to the contrary, will never sincerely change face. It's time now for the United States to fish or cut bait in the prosecution of the war it backed into in Vietnam.

Plan Assures Oakland U. Orderly Growth

There is little likelihood that Oakland University will become a "multi-versity" sprawl as its enrollment and facilities increase.

A master plan, a year in preparation, has been submitted that would segment the 1,600-acre school area into four compact, self-contained units.

The plan, which envisions growth of the student body from the present 3,000 to 15,000 within a decade with an ultimate potential of 50,000, takes cognizance of land contours, traffic flow and parking space, and academic and auxiliary buildings in blueprinting the four campus areas. Implicit in the concept is the construction of interior boulevards and a major peripheral highway affecting the four roads that bound the university tract.

Few schools of higher learning enjoyed the rare opportunity of starting their physical establishments from scratch as has OU. University administrators are to be commended for their foresight in evolving a comprehensive plan that will permit orderly expansion of the institution before piecemeal additions create obstacles.

Postal, Electric Charges Go Opposite Directions

An interesting parallel might be drawn between the efficacy of private enterprise vs. government.

In 1907, a $7 light bill was sent a customer in Wichita, Kansas, for 14 kilowatt hours of electricity. It was made out on a postal card and bore a one-cent stamp for cross-town delivery.

In the intervening 59 years, there have been significant rate changes. Postage is up to four cents a card, an increase of 400 per cent. The price of electricity has declined from 50 cents a kilowatt hour to around two cents, DOWN 96 per cent from that long-ago rate.

A spokesman for the electrical industry says that the average American home, if fully electrified and air-conditioned and electrically heated, would use around 24,000 kwh annually at a cost of less than $500. The same service at the 1907 rate would have cost $12,000. If the cost curve for power service had followed the same pattern as that of the postal service, the annual electric bill would be $48,000.

A logical conclusion is that the public may indeed be thankful that in addition to supporting a postal system that loses $1 billion annually it has not been burdened for 60 years with a government-operated power system that under private ownership has contributed billions of dollars in taxes.

Talking Can Be a Mistake

By RUTH MONTGOMERY
WASHINGTON — If ape and man descended from a common ancestor, the biggest mistake that our branch of the family made was learning to talk.

This is the lesson to be drawn from Sen. Edward V. Long's fascinating new book, "The Intruders," for which Vice President Humphrey has written the foreword.

Long, as chairman of the Senate subcommittee on administrative practice and procedure, discovered during investigative hearings on invasion of privacy that the best thing to do with your words is swallow them.

That olive in your martini may contain a tiny transmitter, and with its toothpick serving as an antenna, your conversation can be "broadcast" the length of a city block.

In your office, a transmitter can be hidden in a stapler, a lamp, the radio, TV set or in conversations for many years, until his subcommittee forced a stop to it last summer.

And don't think you're safe from telephone bugging if your receiver is securely on the hook. Long describes a device being sold today that, when secretly installed, permits conversation in your room to be monitored from anyplace in the United States where long-distance dialing is possible.

MILES AWAY
"An eavesdropper can do his snooping thousands of miles from his victim — and at no cost," says Long, "since the automatic toll-charge equipment does not record such use of the line" unless you lift your receiver. And there is, of course, no toll record to incriminate the snooper.

Even an amateur can tap a phone by means of a small, clear-plastic piece containing a tiny transmitter, which can be substituted in a few seconds for a similar looking gadget in regular telephone.

Long recounts that telephone companies themselves had been "systematically" monitoring their customers'

David Lawrence Says:

Prof Has Rosy Outlook on Reds

WASHINGTON — Chairman Fulbright of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, who has been portraying the United States before the world as exercising an "arrogance of power," brought this week to the witness stand LAWRENCE to support his views Henry Steele Commager, professor of history at Amherst College.

Commager goes a step further — he accuses the United States of having developed a moralistic "obsession" with communism.

Unfortunately, rebuttals to a presentation of this kind are not usually made available to the public at the same time as the indictments are widely publicized.

Commager says that "the notion of an international Communist conspiracy — which a good many Americans still cling to — fits neatly into the shibboleth of Old World wickedness and New World virtue."

The American public is asked to believe that "communism is merely an innocent ideology. What the Communist conspiracy has accomplished in all parts of the world seems to be overlooked."

Many of the countries of Africa are under Communist domination. Communist troops are stationed in the captive countries of Eastern Europe, ready to carry out Soviet objectives.

OTHER FACTS
Prof. Commager suggests that the United Nations should do the peace-keeping in the world.

But what are the other facts? The United Nations is controlled by a majority of small nations, many with Communist affiliations, which can block any action by the General Assembly. In the Security Council, of course, the Soviet government itself can exercise a veto.

Thus, the United Nations is helpless today to maintain peace in the world as against Communist aggression.

HIDDEN IN ROSE
Such tiny devices have been hidden in a rose, in dirt around a potted plant, or even inside a slit playing card. Long foresees still greater dangers from monitors now in the development stage that will fit under a fingernail or in a hollow tooth; and from the use of laser beams and sonic spectrums that will be able to record what is said and also done behind closed doors.

There is only one reason why the United States is bearing the burden of resisting aggression in the world today. It is because not enough of the other nations have suffered.

foient strength or are willing to join in a collective action to block the Communist conspiracy.

NO CONCERN
Incidentally, spokesmen for the United States government have repeatedly said they have no concern about the ideology or political philosophy that any government in the world might choose to preach or practice, but desire only to preserve the independence of every nation, large or small, against Communist imperialism.

The infiltration and aggression by the Communists inside other countries in the last 20 years is not just a theory but an actuality.

It is surprising that any historian should see fit lightly to pass over the Communist conspiracy as virtually nonexistent and to condemn American policy as a kind of moralistic "obsession."

Bob Considine Says:

Nixon's Success in Poll Concerns His Supporters

NEW YORK — Al Smith used to say something like "sometimes a fellow can get so far out in front of the parade that he can't keep step with the music."

The latest Gallup Poll would indicate that this has happened to George Romney.

Dick Nixon shot past the CONSIDINE Michigan governor in the most recent rundown like an express train going through a green light.

This ordinarily good news for the Nixon camp was viewed with mixed feelings, however.

The Nixonites would prefer that kind of zoom to take place somewhat later in the skirmish, say about the time of the second ballot at the GOP National Convention next summer.

If Nixon is going to be the poll leader throughout this winter of malcontent and the uncertain spring, he's bound to absorb most of the punishment thrown in the direction of the GOP by his political opponents, on both sides of the fence. He'd prefer to see Romney take the beating, naturally.

REASON FOR CONCERN

The deepest frown must have creased the noble forehead of John Davis Lodge, Nixon's campaign manager ex officio, when the word came from Gallup that the former vice president was now highest on the GOP totem pole.

A few days earlier, when Gallup withdrew a favorable Nixon poll because the question the pollsters asked was slightly different than one previously asked, Lodge issued the following communique:

"I am confident that Americans will come to place less reliance on polls, the results of which frequently turn on the phrasing of a question."

"Their concern will be with the issue on the merits: Who is the man best qualified to be president of the United States."

APOLOGIZE?

Having consigned George Gallup to perdition, or a suburb thereof, Lodge received news that even with the question rephrased his tiger had devoured Romney.

Now what to do? Will there be an apology to Dr. Gallup saying, "Shucks, George, can't you take a joke?" Or will Lodge reject the new finding?

Can a person default from a Gallup rating, say to have his name stricken? It would seem to be a proper right, under the Constitution.

In fact, I see a day when people like Nixon, who seek the highest office in the land, may sue Gallup for injuring them to be the man-most wanted too many months in advance of the time when the delegates to the convention will decide on the man they want most.

Voice of the People:

Letter Expresses Pride in Serving Our Country

In answer to the mother who asked if all she can offer her gently-reared son is life in a steaming jungle where other youngsters are killing and being killed before they've begun to live, the answer is "no." How could he have a long life and be free to pursue his studies and go as far as his ambitions and drive can take him, if he is unwilling to stand firm and fight for what he believes?

Where would our country be if our ancestors had said "why should we bother, let someone else do it?"

After spending one year in the steaming jungles of Vietnam, I am proud to say I helped do a part for my country and I do not regret it. If it means living and fighting in unbearable climate and conditions for my family, friends and country, I will be only too glad and proud to do it again.

'Our School Lunch Programs Need Study'

Taxes being raised has nothing to do with the school lunch program as it is self-supporting. Why can't the money be raised some other way than raising the lunches five cents? This is a test case raised since September. It is a shame when many children had to quit eating due to the five cent raise. Cafeteria workers are also affected due to a cut in hours.

Let's have a more intensive study of our school lunch program. It is supposed to be for the good of the children but it sure doesn't seem like it.

CAFETERIA WORKER

Suggests Requirement for Our Politicians

Senator Harvey Lodge made one step in the right direction but he didn't go far enough. A lot of people are entitled to a police record that don't have one, so Senator Lodge wouldn't achieve very much. The main question should ask how our candidates stand with God. If voters would demand this, it would clean up our politics.

'Mature College Students Should Be Drafted'

I hear the mental standard of the draft is to be lowered. With the complex methods and weapons of modern warfare, I don't think this is a good idea. This will ensure our college students the privilege of continuing their campus strikes and avoidance tests while older, less privileged who have had the decency not to get married under age, do the fighting for them.

It is not vital for the Nation, except in a few outstanding cases, to keep them in college. They could break college for two years to do their duty and return to be even better students. To keep these campus heroes at home, 18-year-old boys are being killed. They cannot be trained and disciplined by that age, physically or mentally. No man can fight his best until he has reached full manhood.

Let's get some of those fully-matured college men for a couple of years. If the draft stopped, half of them would quit college anyway.

'New Nature Sanctuary Will Open to Public'

On April 30, Oakland County will be given a priceless gift when the Eastern Michigan Nature Association opens the Timberland Swamp Nature Sanctuary. In the heart of the Andersonville swamp, just west of I-75 and Dixie Highway and south of Davidsburg, the 160-acre wilderness includes a beech-maple forest almost as it was when the first pioneers came here.

These pockets of wilderness are not provided for under the State parks system or the conservation department. There will be no improvements and no roads, except for a few marked nature trails. The tracts purchased by the E.M.N.A. will be held in permanent public trust for future generations of Michigan residents.

Replies to Letter Criticizing Gov. Romney

In answer to "Disgusted With Romney," your letter clearly indicates you know little about your political party systems. How much time and money do you think John Kennedy spent before his party picked him as a candidate for the same office? He had the same setup and the reason it was not publicized is because the reporters at that time did not feel it was of national interest.

If you had been following our Governor's tax plan you would know this has been his stand long before he ran for this office. If you are as disgusted, take courage and sign your name and give our Governor a chance to answer you.

Little Girl Loses Battle for Life

Disneyland Trip Got Nationwide Attention

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — A brave little girl was losing a big battle, but she didn't cry.

"In the two weeks she has been dying she never cried once," said Mrs. George Dewey, mother of six-year-old Suzy Dewey.

Those two weeks ended Wednesday as Suzy lost an 18-month fight against leukemia, a fight that brought her into the hearts of thousands of strangers across the nation.

Cards, letters and gifts, including one from singer Frank Sinatra, poured into Suzy's home when people learned of her battle.

CRUEL PRANK

A cruel prankster nearly brought heartache to the child with so little time to live.

A man posing as an agent to comedian Jerry Lewis called her parents and offered an expense-paid trip to California and Disneyland at Christmastime.

But a Los Angeles woman who still remains anonymous opened her heart and purse to finance the four-day dream trip for Suzy and her parents.

The little girl finally saw Disneyland. She "met" cartoon characters. She rode Dumbo the Elephant.

WORE WIG

And she wore a curly brown wig, one of seven sent by well-wishers who learned that Suzy didn't like to go out of the house because medicine she had taken made her bald.

Her father, a car salesman, couldn't afford a wig for Suzy because there were seven other children to support.

Funeral services for Suzy will be held Saturday at the Zaagman Memorial Chapel in Grand Rapids. Burial will be in Chapel Hill Memorial Gardens.

College Alters Policy Giving Draft Grades

CHICAGO (AP) — The University of Chicago says it will no longer supply the Selective Service System with class rankings without the permission of the student involved.

Both class ranking and a student's score on the national Selective Service test are used by local draft boards as factors in the granting of educational deferments.

George W. Beadle, president of the university, said Wednesday that under the new policy, class rank lists will still be compiled for the university student body, male and female, but that a male student's record will not be released without his consent.

The decision to change the school's policy came after extensive discussion by the council of the faculty senate, Beadle said.

DEMONSTRATION

The policy revision also came after persistent efforts by student demonstrators led by a group called Students Against Rank. Last May a demonstration and sit-in tied up the university's administration building in a massive protest against release of the class rankings.

Mining Firm Quits, Ends Yukon Gold Rush

DAWSON CITY, Yukon (AP)—estimates as the harvest since it was, in effect, the death of the Yukon. When it came this winter, it was quiet and business-like, strangely contrasting with the bawdy and boisterous birth of the Klondike gold rush 70 years ago.

The last major mining outfit to work the gold fields, Yukon Consolidated Gold Co., said it could no longer operate profitably in this area. Since 1923, it had taken out $70 million worth of gold, part of the $260 million which the government

The first discovery was made almost accidentally by a Californian named George Washington Carmack, dubbed Siwash George by his friends. He had an Indian wife and a long, drooping mustache.

The trio paddled up Bonanza Creek, and Siwash George dipped into the sandy bottom with his miner's pan. He pulled out a half-ounce of flaky gold dust, worth about $450. He was astounded. A 25-cent pan was considered a workable claim.

On Aug. 17, 1896, Carmack staked four claims, two for himself and one each for his Indian friends. The trio paddled to Fortymile, a trading post down river on the Yukon to register their claims at a Northwest Mounted Police post.

Krege and Petersen speculated that big Skookum Gulch, across Bonanza Creek from the original Klondike claim, must have at one time been a riverbed.

TELLS OF STRIKE

Siwash George bragged about his strike to everyone he met. The area was soon alive with rumors.

Some authorities estimated that as many as 60,000 men and women from around the world headed into the desolate north-land. During the winter of 1896-97, those who beat the ice on the river staked most of Bonanza Creek, a chunk of the Klondike, and parts of Eldorado Creek.

With the spring breakup on the Yukon, the first batch of filly but rich miners, later to be known as Eldorado Kings, headed 1,700 miles downriver to St. Michael on Alaska's west coast to board ships for the U.S. mainland.

ROARING DRUNK

The steamer Excelsior reached San Francisco July 15, 1897. By the time the Portland arrived in Seattle two days later with the balance of the Eldorado Kings, many of the Excelsior's passengers were roaring drunk in San Francisco, telling tall tales and spending gold dust by the pound.

In a matter of weeks, thousands of adventurers swarmed to the West Coast to get passage aboard dozens of ships waiting for the long haul up the Yukon.

TRAVEL PASS

Another would-be millionaire arrived in Skagway, Alaska, in the late summer and early fall of 1897. They scrambled up the Chilkoot Pass and the White Pass in the direction of Dawson as winter once again closed in.

Another army of greenhorns tried traveling by ship up the Yukon River, but almost all were frozen in. They didn't make it until the following spring.

During the winter of 1897-98, miners worked their claims almost around the clock. The most lode of the Klondike was discovered during the long arctic night.

A Pennsylvanian named Nels Petersen decided to explore the hills while the rest panned the streams and bored through the riverbanks.

Dawson skidded through the winter on the verge of famine, without proper rations for its swelling population. Miners whiled away their time gambling and fighting.

In Skagway, fiefdom of self-styled dictator Jefferson Randall (Soapy) Smith, thousands of miners were milling about during the winter, preparing supplies for the task over the Chilkoot Pass to Dawson.

The spring of 1898 brought Dawson its sorely needed supplies — and an estimated 50,000 gold seekers.

Dawson's population reached the 20,000 mark in midsummer. Its streets were a sea of mud most of the time.

Florida Death Being Probed

PENSACOLA, Fla. (AP) — Authorities are investigating the death of a Florida man two years ago at the request of his brother who said he wanted a fresh probe because of the current investigation in New Orleans of the Kennedy assassination.

The brother, Earl Killam, said the dead man, Thomas Henry Killam, told him he fled Dallas in December 1963 because he was being harassed by "agents." Killam said his brother didn't specify whether the agents were federal, state or some other type.

"I'm a dead man," Killam quoted his brother as saying. "I've run as far as I'm going to run."

Wanda Killam, the dead man's wife, reached Wednesday in Dallas by the Pensacola News-Journal, said her husband had been questioned several times about the assassination by federal agents.

Killam died beside a broken shop window on a Pensacola street March 19, 1964. His throat had been slashed.

Police said the death was an apparent suicide. The coroner called it accidental.

Earl Killam, 38, a car salesman, has asked Escambia County Solicitor Carl Harper to exhume his brother's body to determine the exact cause of death.

Harper said he took a statement from Earl Killam Wednesday morning and would investigate immediately. He would not discuss his investigation except to say he was seeking concrete evidence, "not suspicions."

Harper said he planned to talk to New Orleans Dist. Atty. Jim Garrison, who is conducting an assassination probe.

Wanda Killam said her husband band returned to Florida in early December 1963, saying he was going to look for a job. She stayed in Dallas, where she had been employed for several years as hostess in a night club owned by Jack Ruby.

Ruby, who died of cancer while in custody, was charged with the slaying of Lee Harvey Oswald, accused of killing President John F. Kennedy in Dallas on Nov. 22, 1963.

Mrs. Killam said she, too, favored an investigation of her husband's death and said of the suicide ruling: "No, Hank wouldn't do that."

HOUSE PAINTER
She said her husband was briefly employed in Dallas as a Jack Carter, Earl Killam said car.

Two days later, he was dead. Killam said: "Did you ever hear of a man committing suicide by jumping through a plate-glass window?"

HEARD CAR
Thomas Killam received a phone call at his mother's home at 4 a.m. March 17, 1963, according to his mother. She said he dressed and left the house. She heard a car pull away, although Killam did not own a car.

About a half hour later, two street sweepers heard a crash on a city street. Police said they turned their truck around and saw a man staggering in front of a broken display window.

Killam died before he could be hospitalized. The police report said that, based on the presence of blood four feet inside the show window, it was concluded "the expired jumped through the window and then crawled back to the sidewalk."

Coroner A. H. Northup said Killam died of a long, three-inch deep laceration over the lower left side of the neck. The coroner added: "Apparently sustained deep laceration in throat when he fell through plate-glass window."

END OF ERA — Indonesia's President Sukarno, who ended an era yesterday by surrendering his remaining presidential powers, is shown at his last public appearance during the years of his one-man rule. At left he pointed out details of an Indonesian girl's costume as he hosted North Korean

Prime Minister Kim Il-sung, handkerchief to face, in 1965. At top right, Sukarno sat with the late President John F. Kennedy during a visit to the U.S. in 1961. At bottom right, he talked with then-Soviet Premier Khrushchev at Russian U.N. delegation headquarters in New York in 1960.

Strongman 'Acting President'

Indonesians to Hear Suharto

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP) — Indonesia's official news agency referred to strongman Gen. Suharto today as "acting president," raising new speculation about President Sukarno's future.

The Antara agency said "newly appointed acting president" Suharto would make a nationwide broadcast tonight explaining Sukarno's transfer to him Wednesday of all presidential powers. Sukarno at that time had retained the presidential title.

The Indonesian Congress had been expected to dismiss Sukarno, 65, and name Suharto acting president when it meets in two weeks had not Sukarno surrendered the last vestiges of his authority by then.

Political and military sources said that Sukarno gave in after Suharto agreed that he would not be brought to trial on charges of complicity in the Communist coup attempt on Oct. 1, 1965. But a new court trial opened today with a prosecution statement outlining more charges of collusion against the man who had led Indonesia since he declared its independence in 1945.

SUKARNO INFORMED

The prosecutor, Lt. Col. Subari, charged that the defendant, Brig. Gen. Mustafa Supardjo, informed Sukarno on the day of the coup of the slaying of six top anti-Communist generals and the president expressed surprise that the defense minister, Gen. Abdul Haris Nasution, had escaped. Nasution is now chairman of the Congress.

Subari said Sukarno questioned Supardjo closely about the progress of the coup attempt, then hugged him and told him: "These things happen in a revolution."

Sukarno remained in seclusion in the presidential palace, and Jakarta was quiet after the announcement that he had relinquished his powers. The announcement had been expected for several days after weeks of maneuvering between Sukarno and military leaders.

SPECIAL MEETING

Sukarno's announcement came as a special cabinet meeting was beginning. It was adjourned when the commanders of the air force, navy and police arrived from the presidential palace and informed the ministers of Sukarno's announcement.

3rd 'Ruby Will' Filed in Dallas

DALLAS (UPI) — A third will allegedly written by Jack Ruby, killer of Lee Harvey Oswald, was filed in the Dallas probate clerk's office yesterday afternoon by a former Dallas County deputy sheriff.

Norman Hooten, 26, who once guarded Jack Ruby, was named beneficiary. The handwritten will, on scratch paper, made Hooten beneficiary to a diamond-studded watch, a silver ring with three diamonds and a charcoal brown suit.

Hooten said Ruby offered the articles as a token of friendship, but Hooten told the press he was a sheriff's employee and couldn't accept them.

He quoted Ruby as saying, "They belong to me, and I can give them to you if I want to."

He said Ruby then made out the will on jail-issue scratch paper and handed it to him. He said he kept the will not thinking much of it at the time.

DECIDED TO FILE

Then he said when he learned of Ruby's death, he decided to file the will. Two other wills had been filed previously.

New Bill Hits Ballot Picture

LANSING (AP) — One Democratic legislator has introduced a bill designed to do what another lawmaker failed to do last fall — get Gov. George Romney's picture off the Republican ballot.

A measure introduced in the House yesterday by Rep. Alfred Sheridan, D-Taylor, would forbid a political party to use the picture of any living person in its ballot vignette.

State Sen. Edward Robinson, D-Deerborn, went to court before last November's election claiming that since Romney was a candidate, his picture on the ballot amounted to illegally soliciting votes in a polling place. The Wayne County Circuit Court and the State Court of Appeals disagreed.

A Junior Editors Quiz About INK

QUESTION: Where does ink come from?

ANSWER: As far back as 4,500 years ago, Chinese people took the soot we call lamp black and mixed this with gum or glue.

This was dried into sticks. Later, when the sticks were rubbed over a stone with water, a rich black ink was produced which was used in writing and painting.

This same type of ink is employed nowadays by artists to make sharp clear drawings which can be inexpensively reproduced in newspapers and magazines. It is called India ink and sold in bottles.

The writing ink you use with your pen is another type. A kind of acid used which is often taken from oak galls, the round swellings found on tree branches.

Other chemicals are added, including a blue dye. When this combination is exposed to air, it forms a blue black which enters the fibers of paper and becomes permanent. For fountain pens, a special dye, nigrosine, is added to make the ink flow.

Ink used in printing is different again. It is made from lamp black, but this is ground with linseed oil, soap and resin (lower left) and spread on rollers or plates where it is transferred to paper under pressure.

Life on College Campus: Class Rings, Spy Rings

By DICK WEST

United Press International

WASHINGTON—When I spoke before a college group not long ago, I addressed the audience as "members of the faculty, students, CIA agents, etc."

I thought that was a pretty good gag, but nobody laughed. Now I think I understand why.

It could be they were so accustomed to having CIA agents in their midst, they didn't think it was meant as a joke.

At any rate, the disclosure this week that the National Student Association is one of the oldest, established CIA "covers" in the U.S.A. has certainly raised a cloud of dust.

I wouldn't be surprised if scenes like these should develop:

SCENE I

The hot line at the White House rings. President Johnson picks up the receiver and hears the angry voice of Soviet Premier Alexei N. Kosygin.

Kosygin: "Mr. President, this is an outrage. We have discovered that some of our student groups have been infiltrated by the CIA."

SCENE II

Senior: "I'm going to study abroad after I graduate."

Junior: "Do you have a student exchange grant?" Senior: "No, I have a CIA scholarship."

It is not as yet clear whether the CIA has similar ties with other groups, but some members of Congress have criticized the agency for domestic involvement.

OPINION CHANGED

This illustrates how much opinion has changed since America's founding fathers warned against entangling foreign alliances.

Now the consensus seems to be that the CIA should promote foreign entanglements but avoid alliances at home.

Things also have changed since the 1950s when congressmen were demanding investigations to determine whether any American organizations were controlled by foreign agents.

Now they're demanding investigations to determine whether any American organizations are controlled by American agents.

MOST DAMAGING

The most damaging thing about the whole affair may be the report that the CIA was paying the student association close to $400,000 a year.

Already certain other private groups are making inquiries as to how they go about applying for a CIA subsidy.

Once the word gets around, the entire cloak-and-dagger business will be swept by inflation.

Mrs. Jean Wolfe, director of food services at Ford Tractor Division, Birmingham, checks out the shine on the pans. Claiming that "women are much cleaner in the kitchen than men," Mrs. Wolfe makes sure before leaving work each day that her kitchen is spotless.

Woman in a Man's World

She Budgets Food for 900

By JEANNE NELSON
"Ford has a Better Idea." They've put a woman in the kitchen!

Maybe you think that isn't news. If so, take a closer look at industry's food facilities. Who's at the helm? Men!

Mrs. Jean Wolfe is the only woman in the Ford Motor Company to have been named director of food services. Her assignment is at the Birmingham-based Ford Tractor Division.

The job is a big one. With today's ever-increasing food prices, it demands the imagination of an artist and the resourcefulness of an economist. Some 900 employees must be fed lunch each day and often as many as 200 eat breakfast.

In addition to this, 30 or so men must be fed in the executive dining room on the building's top floor. The main kitchen of the cafeteria serves both by means of a dumb waiter.

However, there is also a smaller kitchen off the upper dining room, used primarily for heating last minute items and specialties.

A brief rundown of Mrs. Wolfe's duties includes: ordering foodstuffs, keeping detailed accounts, playing mother hen to the kitchen staff of 15 (all women), maintaining linens and silverware (excess used sterling which must be polished each day) and not the least of all, show a fixed margin of profit.

TOP MANAGER

In the 13 years she has held this position, she has always placed among the top three of the company's divisions in management and profit. She also told us she had a hand in the decorating scheme for both dining rooms. Both are colorful and yet retain a serenity conducive to pleasant dining.

Mrs. Wolfe remarked that male counterparts in the other divisions all have men head chefs, but that she prefers an all-female kitchen staff. Her reasoning is that women are less wasteful, definitely cleaner and more adept at seasoning, cooking and serving.

With faint traces of a British accent, she also adds, "Women do a much better job of making food attractive."

AAUW Meets

The Union Lake branch, American Association of University Women, will meet today at 8 p.m. in the Edgewood Park Drive home of Mrs. Louis Landry. There will be a panel discussion on China.

When we asked how she had managed to get this position, she recalled that it was offered to her as a temporary thing, "until the right man came along."

Before this, Ford had let individual caterers tend to the food needs with the company providing the facilities.

It was for one of these caterers that Jean worked in the Tractor Division. And through her experience with foods and knowledge of the facilities, she was hired when the switchover was made to a company operation.

Most of the entrees are cooked at Ford's main kitchen. But Jean Wolfe's staff is never quite content with serving this as it comes. Usually the touches they give it are the difference between pot roast and Swiss steak Jardiniere.

TOOK COURSE

After her trial period, Mrs. Wolfe was told by Ford's that they would pay for her tuition if she would take the Hotel and Restaurant Management course at Wayne State University. So this mother of two toiled at a series of evening classes after work twice a week.

Her daughter, Lynda, is a recent bride and son Robert, a senior at Grove High School. From the way she talks, her home in Southfield is one continual buzz of excitement with the children's friends who like her cooking.

Just for fun, she loves to go out to dinner, entertain at home and knit. A remarkable sense of humor has stood by her for the bumps in a job of this sort. It was a great saving grace when she arrived in a strange land 22 years ago as a war bride.

"The cook without an apron" prefers classic styles of clothing for work and with that marvelous complexion, can wear just about any color.

Although the competition between divisions in food service departments is always present, Mrs. Wolfe tells us "it's rather pleasant being such a unique figure in this man's world."

Alums Plan Meetings for Next Week

Two groups of the Oakland County Alumnae of Delta Zeta sorority will be meeting next week. Group I will be hosted at a 10 a.m. brunch, Wednesday, in the Birmingham home of Mrs. Claude B. Rumble.

Following this, members will sew hand puppets for deaf children of the Waterford Township School System.

GROUP II

This unit will gather in the Royal Oak home of Mrs. Dan Nagelvoort on Thursday at 8 p.m.

Plans include the making of gifts for the Ferris Institute collegiate chapter and a discussion on the April "Ladies Night Out" event.

BETH MARIE NIEMAN

Northern Michigan University seniors, Beth Marie Nieman and W. Curtis Marker plan a June wedding. Their parents are the Norman W. Niemans of Walled Lake and the Wilber Markers of Indianapolis, Ind.

Man in a Woman's World

Male Disillusioned With First Permanent

By HOWARD HILDENBRAND
If I were asked what element of the human anatomy is given priority attention by guys and dolls alike, the answer, right off the top of my head, would be — hair.

Not only does it landscape the cranial crown, but the care of it has created an occupation devoted to cultivating the foliage that crests humanity. In other words, it dresses the tresses.

My research department took a trimming on when the first barbershop was set up, but of one thing you can be sure. The first haircut was scissored when Delilah decked the locks of Samson.

Thoughts of that ancient shearing bring nostalgic recollections of my first exposure to a barbershop.

Would you believe that a haircut then cost 25 cents? Now, you're clipped $2.50 for the same thing.

Inflation at the top, I'd call it — hair-raising inflation.

OFF WITH IT

Circa 1920, the ladies decided they'd had enough of waist-long hair — a waste of natural resources, maybe — and decided to have it bobbed. When women decide to do a thing en masse, the results can be pretty catastrophic.

They swarmed into America's barbershops like bees, and quickly made over those hitherto male sanctuaries, where the latest in risque quips and anecdotes and colorful delineation of the national scene were a fringe benefit of every haircut.

Soon the standard barbershop literature — Police Gazette, Jim Jam Jams and Racing Form — gave way to homemakers' and child care magazines, and spicy conversation dissolved into se-dateness with domesticity the main theme.

But after the gals wearied of standard boyish bobs and beauty shops began springing up to fuse pizzazz with coiffure, women abandoned barbershops as quickly as they'd preempted them.

Needless to say, the new center of feminine allure suffered no retaliatory invasion of males. The beehives of beauty had nothing to offer them — or had they?

SAVE ON HAIRCUTS

Musing thus as I passed a shop where women were undergoing refurbishment, I resolved to find out. I'd heard so much about "permanents," maybe I could get my hair fixed permanently — and hold fast to the semi-monthly $2.50 I'd been slipping barbers.

Not only that, but perhaps salvage a bit of youth's appeal with its onetime sobriquet, "Curly."

Steeling myself for the plunge into No Man's Land and the amazement it would likely create, I brazenly set foot within and stammered the reason for my presence.

The boss beautician, after she came out of shock, darted a bleak look at the sparseness of my silvery strands, quickly called a summit meeting of her operators. After a prolonged, giggly parley, a decision emerged.

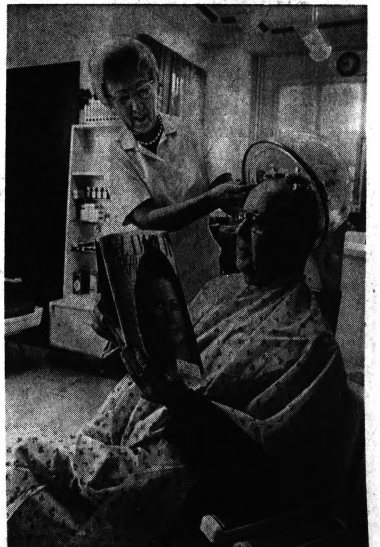

If I wanted a permanent, there was nothing to prevent it!

Two hours later, after a haircut, a shampoo, some mysterious business with rollers and pin curls plus a rinse, I was sprung red-faced from a whirling hair dryer — and presented with a tab of 20 bucks!

Holy cow! Ah, fool that I was. Little did I know how impermanent a permanent is.

And so, having been admitted to the mystic school of beauty parlor culture, curly Hildenbrand, sadder and wiser, is now classified as a dropout — one who contritely saw the error of his ways.

It shouldn't take long for those few curls on Howard Hildenbrand's head to dry. Ora Randall, proprietress of Randall's Shoppe, settles her unusual customer under the dryer with appropriate reading matter.

Film Series at Institute Continues

"Gentlemen's Agreement" is the Tuesday film in the Detroit Institute of Arts series, "The Film As An Art."

The cast includes Gregory Peck, Dorothy McGuire, and Celeste Holm. Although 19 years have elapsed since Elia Kazan adapted Laura Z. Hobson's best-selling novel to the screen, it still serves as a reminder that acts of anti-Semitism can be easily disguised within the framework of social propriety.

The underlying Kazan-Hobson message stresses the importance of each individual taking a stand against discriminatory acts.

The film will be shown in the museum auditorium at 8 p.m. Complimentary tickets are now available at the Detroit Institute of Arts ticket office. Doors open to ticket holders at 7:30 p.m. For information call the Institute.

Altrusa Members Host Students

Sixteen foreign students attending five area high schools were guests of honor at a recent meeting of the Altrusa Club of Greater Birmingham.

This annual event was held at Bloomfield Country Day School. Each student spoke briefly of his experiences in America.

Rose Vainstein, chairman of the international relations committee, presided at the dinner and explained the international scope of Altrusa.

The service club for executive women provides scholarships to women from foreign countries who are attending graduate schools in this country.

Attend Exercises

Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Kirby of Macdade Lake and the Maynard Kizers of Clarkston have returned home from Patuxent River, Md. They attended the graduation exercises of Lt. Clyde R. Kizer from the U.S. Naval Test Pilot School, Naval Air Test Center.

Observing their golden wedding anniversary today are the Charles E. Allens of Thornville. They will celebrate the occasion at an open house Sunday from 1 to 5 p.m., in their home. Hosting the festivities are their children: Lyle and Albert of Pontiac; Mrs. George Hoffman of Lake Orion; Mrs. William Putnam and Kenneth of Dryden; Merwin of Ortonville and Mrs. Eugene Lilly of Thornville. The couple were wed Feb. 23, 1917 in Lapeer County and have 23 grandchildren.

Why Grow Old?

Women who have been trying to lose weight for years would become slim in a jiffy — and men, too. On first thought this seemed a good idea. However, there would be complications.

Suppose you are not overweight, then you would not have to pay any taxes. This would create a very unfriendly relationship (to put it mildly) between the slender and the obese. There would also be great wrangling as to whether or not a person is two pounds overweight.

I can see how it could disrupt the medical and legal professions and tear family life apart.

WOMAN IN HOME

What about the woman in the home who isn't paid by the hour? I suppose her hubby would have to pay for her if she is two pounds overweight. This would surely put an end to a happy marriage.

Can you imagine how you would feel if your husband glared at you every time you put a half teaspoon of cream in your coffee? He would probably have a temper tantrum if he ever caught you eating just the tiniest piece of your favorite pie or Brown Betty.

No, I don't think it would work! Anyway if they are going to do it why not do it right? They should charge at least a day's wages, not an hour's, maybe at least twice a month. That would put the pinch where it is most needed.

DO PAY TAXES

Seriously, this did make me remember that WE do pay taxes on overweight. We pay it in the coin of less energy, self-consciousness, all sorts of minor discomforts and problems, less fun in life, less beauty, and a much greater susceptibility to the killer and chronic diseases.

Learn to Be Less Concerned With Details of Others' Lives

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN
DEAR ABBY: What is your opinion of this situation? Elsie is 34. Her mother is 52. Herman is 37. Herman has been dating Elsie for 10 years. Elsie lives at home with her mother and Herman has a room somewhere, but he practically lives at Elsie's.

These three have gone on long trips together, and have been seen at movies and all over town together, but get this: Herman has been seen with Elsie's mother ALONE (marketing and driving around), nearly as much as he has been seen with Elsie. There is something peculiar going on here.
At present Herman is unemployed and is mooching off these two women. The mother is a widow and should be looking out for herself. As a friend of the family, I would like to see this relationship terminated.
But how?

INTERESTED PARTY
-DEAR ABBY: If Elsie, her mother and Herman are happy, I can't see why the relationship should concern anyone else. As I see it, what should be "terminated" is your pre-occupation with somebody else's business.

DEAR ABBY: My wife has been overweight ever since we have been married, which has been 10 years. She has kept her weight a secret — even from me.

Last week a college friend of mine was visiting us and the subject of weight came up. He asked my wife how much she weighed, and she said she'd tell him "later" — but not in front of me. Then she called him into the kitchen later and told him.

After he left I asked her how much she weighed and she refused to tell me.

What do you think of a wife who would keep her weight a secret from her husband, but would humiliate him by revealing it to a stranger? MAD

DEAR MAD: Your wife, conscious of her overweight, may not want to humiliate HER-SELF in front of you — and perhaps invite your critical comment. She needs your help, not your censure.

DEAR ABBY: What would make a 36-year-old man suddenly start wearing elevated shoes? DEAR FLABBERGASTED:
He probably wants to be on
"she" level.

Polly's Pointers

Packing Hints

DEAR POLLY — This is for Becky, who wanted some tips on moving. Having moved into 25 homes in a long and ill-spent life I have learned that there is only one rule which must never be broken. As soon as the beds are in place in the new home MAKE THEM UP.

If the move is near enough it will be to take complete sets of bedding to the new home the night before and store them on the closet shelves in each bedroom so as to know just where they are.

Unless this rule is firmly enforced this humdrum job will be postponed in favor of more exciting things, such as arranging furniture, unpacking cartons, shelving books and hanging pictures until that point of no return arrives and you have not one ounce of strength left and not a single bed ready to fall into.—ELIZABETH

DEAR POLLY — I was co-owner of a moving company and had often pitched in to help the men so I feel I have some help for Becky. If you cannot afford to buy wardrobes from your mover, make your own.

Get a big carton, such as a refrigerator comes in, reinforce it with lumber and put a rod (a broomstick will do) across the top. Hang clothes in this box on their hangers. Pack tight so they do not fall off.

Many things in dresser drawers can be left there if you place something, such as a sheet, over the top of each one so the small things will not spill if the chest is tipped sideways.

Wrap each dish in paper—newspaper is fine. Place the heavier ones in the bottom of the carton with the bowls bottom-side up. Stand plates and saucers on the side after each is wrapped separately in paper, then fit other pieces in around them. Use plenty of paper and pack firmly. Pack about two inches of paper into the top of each carton.

Pictures are best packed in a large carton between two layers of bedding.

I find it advisable to pack a "batching" outfit, that is enough clothes and dishes to do for several days before everything else is unpacked.—LULA

DEAR POLLY — No one seems to wear those small square silk scarves any more and I must have two dozen cluttering up my dresser drawer. They are so pretty and I am sure they could be put to some good use, but what? Any ideas, anybody?—LUCILLE

You will receive a dollar if Polly uses your favorite home-making idea, Polly's Problem or solution to a problem. To order her 32-page booklet, send your name, address and 50 cents to Polly's Pointers, care of The Pontiac Press.

ODDMENT CLEARANCE

at exactly 1/2 off original prices!

These are oddments: the broken sizes, the ones-and-twos-of-a-kind, the slow sellers of 1966 that showed up in our inventory. But they're all dependable HHS quality, and a great majority are famous brands. Still, out they must go to make room for new spring stocks, so we've cut prices in half to make sure they do (in fact, many are reduced to less than half price). Better hurry, though — for quantities are limited, and the sale lasts for just two days: Friday and Saturday, at our Pontiac store only.

China Crisis Quickens Soviet Interest in Vietnam

By WILLIAM L. RYAN

AP Special Correspondent

Moscow's interest in Vietnam negotiations may have been quickened by a prospect that the tumult in China will make it next to impossible to continue supplying North Vietnam's military with what it needs to hold out.

Perhaps thinking wishfully, Moscow commentators appear to foresee ultimate defeat for Mao Tse-tung in China. The Moscow-Peking clash has hampered Soviet aid to Hanoi and created an atmosphere of tension on Soviet frontiers.

The bulk of Moscow aid to North Vietnam in the form of heavy equipment has gone overland across China. Other aid takes the long slow route by sea. An airlift would be difficult without Chinese cooperation.

Moscow radio quotes a Soviet specialist back from Hanoi as saying the Chinese place more and more obstacles in the way of shipping fighter planes, rockets and antiaircraft batteries. He implied the Chinese were stealing much of the material.

ITEMS LOST

"The Chinese authorities constantly inspect weapons and war materials and, during these inspections, certain parts of perfected weapons or the mechanisms themselves are often completely lost," the specialist was quoted.

Another broadcast complained: "Many people still do not know what kind of obstacles the Peking rulers are setting up to prevent delivery of arms, ammunition, food and medicine from the Soviet Union to Vietnam. The Chinese are holding up freight train and damaging equipment."

"The Mao Tse-tung clique is trying to insure that the courageous struggle of the Vietnamese people will not become the decisive factor in making American imperialism retreat, thus bringing about a subsequent peaceful settlement of the Vietnam problem."

The Chinese now also demand visas for Soviet specialists and others accompanying such shipments, adding a new burden of red tape.

FRONTIER TENSION

nam impasse may stem from sharpening hostility which has raised frontier tension.

The border nervousness is manifest in such Soviet reports as one carried recently by Red Star, the armed forces newspaper. A dispatch from Khabarovsk, across the border from Manchuria's tumultuous Hellungkiang Province in north-east China, reported "a Komso-mol member was killed by a Young League — operational detachment has been set up to help border forces guard the state border."

"Recently," it said, "the detachment was roused by an alarm. The Komso-mol members rapidly covered the roads. The Komso-mol members apprehended two violators of the border regime."

The Soviet press pays much attention to what is going on in China's northern border provinces, such as the Sinkiang-Uighur autonomous region, site of China's nuclear testing operations. It reports the situation there is tense.

RADIO REPORTS

Last week, Moscow radio told its own people of reports that the northwest China bureau party chief and military district commander, Wang En-mao, "has openly refused to carry out Peking's orders," and said "there were grave casualties resulting from the clashes which took place between the opponents and supporters of Mao Tse-tung."

Russia traditionally has had a keen interest in Sinkiang, which is populated by people more akin to those of Soviet central Asia than to the Chinese. Sinkiang is the richest of all Chinese territories in strategic raw materials. Soviet aid to dissidents there is not by any means out of the question.

Moscow propaganda depicts Mao as more and more isolated, more and more a lonely figure who can trust practically nobody.

Engineer Shortage Seen Around Corner

RALEIGH, N.C. (AP) — The nation's space program may lag. The design and construction of dams, skyscrapers, bridges and highways may stall. The power lawn mower may be lacking in quality and the television sets in quantity.

These are some of the dangers foreseen by Dr. Ralph E. Fadum unless the United States sharply increases its number of graduating engineers.

Fadum is dean of the school of Engineering at North Carolina State University, vice chairman of the U.S. Army Scientific Advisory Panel, and has served in various capacities with the Department of Defense, the U.S. Bureau of Public Roads and the Ford Foundation.

In a society geared to science and technology, Fadum said, in an interview, the need for engineers continues to grow at an alarming rate.

But, he added, the number of students seeking engineering degrees increases only a fraction each year and is, in fact, much lower now than in 1950.

A COMPARISON

Seventeen years ago, he said, the 160 universities with accredited programs awarded 48,160 engineering degrees. Last year, the figure had dropped to 35,000.

"This is enough," Fadum said, "to keep the status quo and far below what is needed to meet the demands of the future."

The shortage of engineers, Fadum predicted, will be reflected in the nation's missile production of jet airplanes, in the launching of satellites.

Even more important, he continued, it will be mirrored in the way of life Americans not only expect but demand; in the availability and sound operation of washing machines, stereophonic record players, refrigerators; in the safety and speed of construction of highways and bridges that span the rivers and the skyscrapers that house the office headquarters.

WORLD SECURITY

"It is difficult," Fadum said, "to find any facility that provides us with our day-to-day needs and insures our world security in which the engineer does not have a hand."

"If the shortage of engineers grows, as the public consumption and governmental programs increase, there must necessarily follow a decline in the availability of certain items and a regression in the standard of work performed."

"In other words, there will not be as many washing machines as now and they won't work as well."

Lansing Firemen's Pay Bid Hit

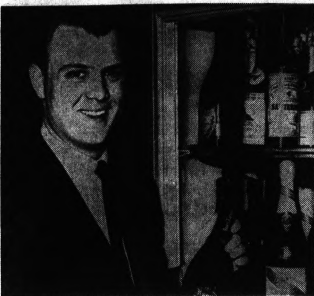

LANSING (AP) — Lansing's personnel director said today that firemen's wage demands for 1967-68 would cost the city $787,521 and would require a 2½-mill tax increase.

The firemen, now receiving a top pay of $6,556 a year, asked the city Monday to raise the figure to $8,500 next year and pay each man $558 July 1 so his current pay would equal a Lansing policeman's pay for 1966-67.

Daniel J. Bodwin, city personnel director, said the request amounted to a 39.3 per cent cost increase and called it ludicrous.

The firemen said $8,500 is more than any Michigan fire department pays now, but 47 Michigan communities pay more than Lansing.

Bodwin said the $8,500 demand is $165 a man higher than the current $8,335 salary of a full-time Detroit fireman.

Civilians Jailed

Yanks Protest Viet Trial

SAIGON, South Vietnam (AP) — Six American civilians imprisoned by the South Vietnamese have been on a hunger strike for two weeks protesting the five-year sentences given them for black marketing, police sources said today.

The sources said the men — Van Thieu. The sources added that the men may not know they are to be released soon.

The sources said the six men recently wrote to U.S. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge and a consular official visited the men in Chi Hoa Prison, in a suburb of Saigon.

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — week-long photo taking Wednesday night 11 hours earlier than scheduled, said all of the primary Apollo landing sites had been photographed as planned.

A preliminary analysis of the pictures taken since Feb. 15 indicated all objectives of Orbiter 3 were achieved, a spokesman said.

Each pair of pictures comprised a high-resolution photo in the center of a medium-resolution frame.

Launched Feb. 4 from Cape Kennedy, Fla., Orbiter 3 continues to circle the moon every 3½ hours.

KEEPS SCOUTING IN FAMILY — Lord Baden-Powell, who has become a scoutmaster, holds a book about his grandfather, the first Lord Baden-Powell, founder of the Boy Scouts and Girl Guides. "I never really became a Boy Scout," said the 30-year-old lord, shown in his new home in Ripley, England, recently. "I was a Wolf Cub (a beginning rank in Cub Scouts) and enrolled as a Boy Scout, then I left them almost before I was one."

Scout Founder's Grandson Becomes a Scoutmaster

RIPLEY, England (AP) — Lord Baden-Powell — whose grandfather founded the Boy Scouts and Girl Guides — has become a scoutmaster.

His illustrious grandparent, the first Lord Baden-Powell, was born in London exactly 110 years ago today.

"I never really became a Boy Scout," said the 30-year-old present Lord Baden-Powell in an interview at his new home in the heart of this Surrey village. "I was a Wolf Cub (a beginning rank in Cub Scouts) and enrolled as a Boy Scout, then I left them almost before I was one."

"I suppose I'd just had too much of it around me all my life," he explained.

TAKES UP GUIDING
"It happened to all my cousins too. None of them have become scouts."

What made him finally decide to join the movement?

"Just after we got married in 1908 my wife said 'I think I'll take up guiding.'"

The Girl Guides in Britain correspond to the Girl Scouts in the United States.

How Good Is UCLA Cage Team?

NEW YORK (AP) — Few, if any, basketball teams have received as much publicity or marched through a season so decisively as UCLA with its super star Lew Alcindor. But just how good are the Bruins?

Their coach, John Wooden, will not say if this is his best club, but his opponents are not nearly so modest.

"Only San Francisco when it had Bill Russell and K. C. Jones in 1964-65 might have matched them in domination," says Chicago Loyola Coach George Ireland, whose club fell easy prey to the Bruins.

"In the other four positions, maybe I've seen better teams," says Duke Coach Vic Bubas, whose club twice was clobbered by the Bruins, "but with Lew, I hesitate to say I've ever seen a better team."

NO. 1 TEAM

The record backs them up. UCLA, overwhelmingly ranked No. 1 in the nation since the beginning of the season, has breezed through 21 opponents without a defeat and is expected to get by the remaining five before the National Collegiate Athletic Association tournament. It already is the favorite to win the trophy.

"Teams like Ohio State with Jerry Lucas and John Havlicek and the great Kentucky teams all the serious challengers," Ireland said. "Of course, I think the general caliber of teams around the country has been down this year."

"UCLA has all the ingredients — shooting, defense, a good coach and speed," said Bubas, "and that one super man." "Lew bottles up everything you try to do under the basket. He also has a beautiful touch to his shooting. Although he's 7-foot-1, he's not at all in the goon category. He's an athlete who can run, jump, shoot and is strong for a sophomore."

"He's absolutely destructive man-to-man and if you play a zone against him, he passes off to the open man and the others can kill you. They have a couple other boys — Mike Warren and Lucius Allen — who are capable of making All-America."

UCLA figures to get even better. The 12-man squad includes seven sophomores and five juniors — no seniors.

POUL PLAY — Bob Boozer (left) of the Chicago Bulls fouls Willis Reed of New York who is trying to get off a shot in last night's National Basketball Association game in Baltimore. Reed was awarded a pair of free throws. Chicago won, 117-103.

Bulls Take NBA Tilt Cold Night for Knicks

By the Associated Press

Every basketball team hits a cold-shooting spell, but the New York Knickerbockers not only went cold, they froze themselves right out of the game.

The Knicks led 58-57 at halftime against the Chicago Bulls Wednesday night but could only score 14 points in the third quarter while the Bulls were scoring 25.

New York's shooting thawed out in the fourth period, but by then it was too late and Chicago went on to win 117-103 in the first game of a National Basketball Association doubleheader.

Boston beat Baltimore 135-120 in the second game at Baltimore. In the only other action, the Lakers edged Cincinnati 103-102 at Los Angeles.

Bob Boozer scored 23 points and Erwin Mueller and Gail Rodgers 21 each for the Bulls, who outscored New York 29-16 in the last seven minutes of the third quarter. Cazzie Russell led New York with 21, and Willis Reed added 20.

Boston got 42 points from Sam Jones and 23 from John Havlicek in trouncing Baltimore. The Celtics opened up a 23-13 lead in the first period, and it was too much for the Bulls who were led by John Nolen with 23 points.

Jerry West's free throw with 24 seconds left broke a 102-all tie and gave the Lakers their victory over the Royals. Cincinnati led 65-74 going into the final period but Los Angeles rallied to outscore the Royals 29-17.

Hiller Paces Triumph Northern Tankers Dunk Central

Pontiac Northern outclassed butterfly in 59.1 seconds. Steve yard and 100-yard freestyle Pontiac Central again before a capacity crowd at the PNH pool Wednesday night, 66-39, to square this year's All Sport Trophy race between the city rivals at 250 points each.

The dunking also left Central's Chiefs trailing in the annual tank series, 9-8.

Carl Hiller emerged as the individual standout of the most, setting Northern records in the 200-yard individual medley (2:09.5) and the 100-yard breaststroke. His 1:02.8 clocking in the shorter event is also a PNH pool standard.

Central's 200 freestyle relay unit set a new pool mark of 3:27.8 in beating a PNH four-some that set a varsity record in finishing one-tenth second behind.

But that was the Chiefs' only other first in addition to sweeping the diving in which it was unopposed.

Rick Cotter set a Northern record by winning the 100-yard

Two Marks Fall in Track Meet at E. Michigan

YPSILANTI (AP) — Two fieldhouse records fell Wednesday night as Eastern Michigan scored 142 points to win the NAIA District 23 Indoor Track and Field Championships.

Central Michigan was second with 56½, Ferris State had 20½ and Hillsdale 8.

Jim Nesbitt of Central Michigan broke his own 440-yard dash record with a sprint of 0:48.6, one-tenth of a second faster than his time last year.

Eastern Michigan's Bill Barrett hit 16 feet 3½ inches in the pole vault, 7½ inches higher than the mark he set last year.

Northern Quintet Clobbers Huskies

MARQUETTE (AP) — Northern Michigan hit the first field goal and never fell behind as the Wildcats clobbered Michigan Tech 106-68 in college basketball Wednesday night.

The victory was Northern Michigan's 27th straight on home territory.

NMU's Con Zagodzinski took high scoring honors with 29 points. Ted Rose had 21 points and 20 rebounds for the winners.

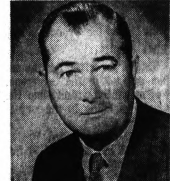

Frank Sahlan was top scorer for the Huskies with 18.

NMU now holds an 11-10 season record, Michigan Tech is 3-14.

Hank Aaron Gets Boost From Braves

By The Associated Press

Hank Aaron says he got the works from the Atlanta Braves, and Sunny Siebert thinks he's getting the works from the Cleveland Indians.

"I went for the works and got what I wanted," Aaron said Wednesday in confirming he and the Braves had reached agreement on a two-year contract calling for $100,000 a year.

The new contract gives Aaron an estimated $35,000 increase over last season when he hit 275 and led the National League with 44 home runs and 127 runs batted in, and makes him the highest-paid Brave ever. Warren Spahn had been the highest paid, a reported $82,500.

Meanwhile, Siebert, who pitched the only no-hitter in the major leagues last season, issued a "pay me or trade me" ultimatum to General Manager Gabe Paul.

SITTING HOME

Siebert, who earlier vowed he'd sit at home in St. Louis until Paul is willing to rescind a proposal to cut his pay from last season when he was 16-8 with a 2.80 ERA, said: "This thing has reached the point now where it's not just money. Now I'm resentful. Now I want to be traded. I'll accept what Gabe has offered, but not from him."

The New York Yankees also came face-to-face with a holdout situation in the person of Elston Howard, who did not report Wednesday when the club's pitchers and catchers opened training at Fort Lauderdale, Fla. It was the first time in his 13-year career that the veteran catcher has held out.

New York originally was reported to have wanted to cut $10,000 from Howard's estimated $72,000 1966 salary. They supposedly have reduced the cut, but Howard still thinks it is too severe.

SIX SIGN

Cincinnati did something about solving its numerous signing problems by getting six more players into the fold. Coming to terms were outfielder Vada Pinson, infielder Pete Rose, catcher Jim Bench and pitchers Gerry Arrigo, Asa Carter, Morgan and Thurler Osteen, that left 15 unsigned Reds.

Heading up others signings in the majors was slugger Harmon Killebrew, who signed with Minnesota for around $65,000, and estimated $5,000 boost. Infielder Joe Morgan and catcher John Bateman came to terms with Houston to complete the Astros' signings.

HAPPY YANKEE BRASS—If opening day expressions are any sign, this will be a better year for the New York Yankees than 1966 when they finished last in the American League. Appearing in a happy mood as spring training opened yesterday in Port Lauderdale, Fla., are (from left) Lee McPhail, general manager; Ralph Houk, manager; and Michael Burke, Yankee president.

Mat Coaches Pistons Use Miles Out of Meet as 'Relief Pitcher'

No Penalty Imposed on Wrestlers

LANSING (AP) — State officials ruled Wednesday that 24 wrestlers from Lansing Eastern and East Lansing high schools may compete in the state tournament, but their coaches will be barred.

The Michigan High School Athletic Association said coaches Mike Stitt of East Lansing and Bill Allen of Eastern failed to bring their entries before the 6 p.m. deadline last Saturday.

It ordered one year's probation for both.

Tournament action begins this weekend with regional competition at Owosso. The Class A state finals will be held March 4 at Ann Arbor.

Charles Forsythe, association director, said after a meeting of the group's executive council in Lansing that "both schools admitted they were completely wrong in separate interviews."

PLACE BLAME

"But because 24 boys were involved, the committee decided to put the blame where it belongs, with the coaches and schools," he said.

He said Stitt and Allen may work with the wrestlers in practice at the schools, but they will not attend any tournament events.

At the tournament, he said, Stitt will be replaced by his assistant, Robert Hanson, and by Allen by Hobe Merritt, a physical education instructor.

DETROIT (AP) — If there were such a thing as a relief pitcher in basketball, that's what Eddie Miles would be.

The Detroit Pistons guard, a starter for two years, has been riding the bench this year and going into National Basketball Association games on a spot basis.

But those spots have been productive at times and Miles has been able to hit for critical points.

"He's doing real well," said Pistons player-coach Dave DeBusschere. "He comes off the bench and gives us a real lift."

"Some nights I can come in and score and some nights I can't," said Miles. "When you're used to starting it's harder to go to the bench."

GOOD SHOT

"Sometimes you get a good shot right away and you get the feeling you can't miss," Miles said.

Miles, 6 feet, 4 inches tall, said he's never given credit for any defensive ability. "All anyone thinks I can do is shoot," he said, "and if I'm not scoring I might as well not be playing as far as most fans are concerned."

THE 27-YEAR-OLD FORMER SEATTLE UNIVERSITY STAR

The 27-year-old former Seattle University star said "I'm a little bit disappointed this season. I thought we should finish second or better."

"From the start of the season, we were going real well, but we and Allen by Hobe Merritt, a physical education instructor, dropped a few games and morale went down."

"Ray Scott stumped some and then we lost him in that trade that didn't go through so for a while we were playing with three forwards and that hurt. If one of them got some foul trouble, we had no replacement," he said.

"But now the guys are hustling more and we're going pretty well again. I think we'll make the playoffs," Miles said.

Miles earned the nickname "The Man With the Golden Arm" for his high-scoring at Seattle. Last year he averaged 19.6 points a game for the

Bad Tonsils Slow Pistons' New Star

DETROIT (AP) — The Detroit Pistons don't know when ailing rookie star Dave Bing will see action again.

Team physician Dr. Russell Wright said Bing is suffering from acute tonsillitis and he "almost certainly" will miss Friday night's National Basketball Association game with Los Angeles in Detroit.

BING WAS SIDELINED EARLIER

Bing was sidelined earlier in the week with what was thought to be a case of the flu.

Wright said Bing's tonsils will have to be removed, but the team is hopeful that surgery can be postponed until the season is finished.

Bing is the club's top scorer with a 19.4 average.

Holly, Lapeer Eye New Loop

Genesee Schools Also Involved in Talks

An attempt is being made by a group of southern Genesee County schools to form a new league that would include Holly and Lapeer.

This was revealed at the last meeting of the Holly Board of Education. If the league is formed, Holly would withdraw from the Wayne-Oakland circuit following the completion of the next school year.

Other schools involved in the talks are Howell in Livingston County and Ainsworth, Swartz Creek, Fenton and the new Carmen High in Genesee County.

Lapeer has been casting about for a new league since a breakup of the Tri-County appears to be only a matter of time now that Romeo is pulling out with L'Anse Creuse expected to follow.

It was explained at the Holly board meeting that the purpose of a new league would be to provide a more equitable arrangement of school sizes for competition purposes and to limit some of the long trips that schools must take to meet some of their present schedules. Carmen is expected to be Class A when it opens next fall, taking its students from the north half of the district now covered by Ainsworth.

Holy Cross Making Strong Bid

Start Naming Tourney Teams Today

By The Associated Press
They start naming the at-large selections today to college basketball's two major postseason tournaments, the NCAA and the NIT, and Holy Cross may be a surprise pick.

Virtually forgotten after they had lost four of their first five games, the Crusaders from Worcester, Mass., have put together a 14-3 record since then under the direction of Jack Donohue, perhaps better known simply as "Alcindor's coach."

This refers to Lew Alcindor, UCLA's super-sophomore, who played under Donohue at Power Memorial High School in New York. Their paths parted in 1965 when Donohue became head coach at Holy Cross and Alcindor decided to enter UCLA.

The Crusaders won their sixth straight and seventh in their last eight by whipping Fordham on the road 73-63 Wednesday night. Led by juniors Keith Hochstein and Al Stazinski, the Crusaders pulled away after a 36-36 halftime tie. Hochstein and Stazinski each got 16 points.

Louisville, second-ranked nationally to unbeaten UCLA, is the Associated Press poll, became the third team to qualify for the NCAA championship tourney.

The Cardinals crushed Drake 86-63 before a hometown throng of 16,306 for their eighth in a row and 23-2 overall record. The victory wrapped up the championship of the Missouri Valley Conference and an automatic NCAA berth.

Westley Unseed and Jerry King each tallied 20 points to lead the Cardinals as they joined Western Kentucky and Connecticut in the NCAA field. Western Kentucky and Connecticut qualified earlier by winning the Ohio Valley Conference and Yankee Conference.

Fifth-ranked North Carolina pulled out a 79-78 road triumph over Maryland on two free throws by Dick Grubar in the last 23 seconds. Texas Western, 10th ranked, lost at home to the AAU Phillips Oilers, 67-61, in an overtime exhibition game.

Texas Western, as the defending national champions, appear certain to receive an NCAA bid, while Southern Illinois, which will not play in the NCAA college division tourney, may be invited to the NIT.

The Salukis, No. 1 in the AP small college poll, won their 13th straight Wednesday by beating Evansville 80-53 at Carbondale, Ill. Their over-all mark is 18-2 including victories over such major powers as Louisville, Texas Western, Wichita State and LaSalle.

Tournament hopefuls Canisius, DePaul and Virginia Tech kept their hopes alive by winning, but Georgia Tech suffered a blow by losing to N. C. State 68-61 at Raleigh. It was the second straight defeat for the Engineers, who fell behind for good at 58-56 on Nick Trifunovich's 35-footer.

Andy Anderson's 46 points led Canisius over LaSalle at Philadelphia 92-75. DePaul made it six straight by crushing Wisconsin-Milwaukee 77-48 at Chicago. Virginia Tech rebounded from its East Carolina defeat last week to beat Richmond 87-80 at Blacksburg.

In other games, all home court victories, Toledo routed Western Michigan 93-71, Bucknell downed Penn State 65-52, Oklahoma City humbled New Orleans Loyola 88-73, Marshall overcame Miami of Ohio 77-62, Rochester whipped Colgate 97-87, Cincinnati overwhelmed Wichita 92-63, Duquesne surprised St. Bonaventure 77-73 and Temple drubbed Pitt 87-49.

On the road, Florida whipped Florida State 90-75. George Washington surprised the Georgetown Hoyas 81-75 at Ft. Myer, Va.

St. John's of New York, Syracuse, Boston College, Dayton, Houston, Utah State, Providence and Villanova did not play, but are leading candidates to land a tourney bid today.

Gains Second Win

BIG RAPIDS (AP) — Ferris State chalked up its second basketball victory of the season Wednesday with a 101-93 triumph over Aquinas.

Ferris now is 2-17. Aquinas 12-11.

Reducing Could Be Harmful

Wrestlers Receive Warning From AMA

CHICAGO (AP)—High school wrestlers who engage in the practice of drastic and extreme weight reducing might be affecting their health, says a committee of the American Medical Association.

The AMA's Committee on the Medical Aspects of Sports has issued a statement on wrestling and weight control. It is designed to answer questions raised by coaches, physicians and parents.

There have been cases where young wrestlers attempt to lose an unsafe amount of weight to qualify for a lower weight division. They mistakenly believe they will have a better chance of winning against lighter boys in the lower weight class.

"This isn't necessarily so, the AMA statement says. Excessive weight loss hampers performance and is especially apparent when the wrestler needs lasting power—in prolonged exertion, such as in long-named matches."

More important, the youngster's health can be affected if he had an unsuspected health problem or if the weight reduction was extreme.

Principal weight-loss abuses stem from attempts to lose weight through dehydration, the committee continued. These include "hot boxes," rubberized apparel, and induced vomiting. These measures are used because the body's water is the only weight that is easily and quickly lost. By losing water, the wrestler may "make weight" for a lower weight class.

VITAL NUTRIENT
Water, however, is the body's most vitally needed nutrient. Water deficiency causes premature fatigue and illness more rapidly than deficiency of any other nutrient.

"Add to a water deficiency other deficiencies, such as those associated with prolonged starvation diets, unbalanced diets, or excessive sweating, and the deleterious effects are even more marked," the committee said.

The AMA says there is no formula as to how much weight a wrestler can lose safely.

Even if science could compute the answer, it would still have to be known whether the wrestler should lose weight, how he plans to lose it and what he will be doing while or after loss of weight.

Only the loss of excess body fat is desirable weight loss, the committee said. "Loss of body fluids is artificial weight reduction and the only means of losing excess body fat is to consume less calories than he burns. Such change in body composition takes an extended period of time."

The committee suggested that wrestling coaches adopt year-round conditioning programs and assist the wrestler in an intensive program for at least four weeks and preferably six without emphasis on scales.

At the end of this period take his weight and consider this weight — the weight level at which he will wrestle best.

Class B Champion Coming on Strong

(Third in a series discussing the coming state prep campaign.)

By The Associated Press
Grand Rapids East Christian has lost the 1-2 punch that led the team to the Michigan Class B basketball championship last year, but Coach Corrie Byrker's squad is coming on strong again.

East Christian lost 6-foot-7 Bernie Kulper and 6-5 Bill Vanderveure, but "We definitely have more balance and we play better defense," Byrker says.

Ron Filestra, 6-4, is the big man for East Christian this year. He's averaging 18 points a game and gathering 10 rebounds. Steve Veneklaen, a 6-4 guard, is another team leader cited by Byrker.

Byrker says there are a bit of tough Class B schools in his region. He says he's worried about Holland Christian, Spring Lake, Grand Rapids Kenowa Hills, Grand Rapids Godwin, Grand Rapids Rogers, Flushing, Marysville and South Haven.

HIGHLY RANKED
South Haven, highly ranked in the AP poll, rides with Kennedy McIntosh, a 6-8 center, and Don Moorhead, who stands 6-3. McIntosh is averaging 22 points a game and Moorhead 15.

"We have been a pretty strong team all year," said South Haven Coach Joe Lineman. "I'd say a couple of strong teams around here include Kalamazoo Hackett, Albion and Stevensville Lakeshore."

Lineman also said he thought Grand Rapids East Christian would be tough again this year. Marysville Coach Gary Lee cites three men as the heart of his squad: Ron Goodin, Bob Partridge and Denny Weymouth.

Goodin is his big boy at 6-5. Soccer League.

and averaging 23 points a game. Partridge is a 5-9 guard and Weymouth stands 6-0. Both, he says, are outstanding shooters and average 15 points a game.

"We have a lot of speed and I think we have a really good chance of winning the state championship," he said.

Caro Coach Bill Ullrich thinks his squad has a good chance. "My team is quite puzzling. We never really took good but we keep winning," he says.

CLUTCH TEAM
"We seem to come through in real great shape in the clutch, under pressure," he adds. "I play nine boys all the time," he says, "and they all score, but Rich Campbell and Al Wasko do an outstanding job."

Campbell is 6-4 and averaging 16 points. Saginaw Carrollton, Saginaw Buena Vista, Frankenmuth, Caro, Flushing and Marysville are the teams Ullrich cites as dangerous.

Tippy Dye Moving to Northwestern

EVANSTON, Ill. (AP) — Tippy Dye, University of Nebraska athletic director, was appointed Wednesday athletic director at Northwestern University.

Dye, 51, accepted the position at the Big Ten school in a morning telephone call to Dr. J. Roscoe Miller, Northwestern president. Dye, former three-sport star and Ohio State basketball coach, replaces Stu Holcomb, who resigned Dec. 1 to become general manager of the Chicago Mustangs of the new North America Soccer League.

Hyperbolic Paraboloid Floating Matchup Zone

ASHLAND, Ohio (NEA) — All one has to do these days to play good defense is master the "hyperbolic paraboloid floating matchup zone."

At least that's the formula for coach Bill Musselman of Ashland College, the nation's leading defensive basketball team.

Musselman, 26, is one of the youngest coaches in the country. He played at Wittenberg (Ohio) College for Ray Mears, who is now the head coach at the University of Tennessee.

Tennessee has the best defensive team among NCAA major colleges, allowing only 52.9 points a game.

Ashland competes in the NCAA small-college division. Its defensive figures, however, are strictly major league.

Ashland has allowed its opponents an average of 43.1 points per game. And the team plays aggressive defense without fouling. The Eagles also lead the country in fewest personal fouls per game (12.2).

Musselman's matchup zone defense does not rely on either a full- or half-court press. The long-armed defense combines zone and man-to-man principles and includes much double-teaming.

The NCAA thinks so much of Ashland's defense that the team already has been invited to the small-college division tournament.

MSU Assistant Takes Tech Post

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP)—A 38-year-old Michigan State aide has signed with the Georgia Tech Yellow Jackets to take the reins as head defensive coach.

Vince Carliot was signed by newly appointed head coach Bud Carson Wednesday.

Carliot was defensive backfield coach at Michigan State for seven years, during which time the Spartans were in the nation's top ten defensive teams four times.

Carliot played college football at Michigan State and won all-city honors while playing high school ball at George Washington in New York City.

Prep Teams to Conclude Ski Season

Approximately 20 schools will be represented Friday at Mount Holly as the Southeastern Michigan prep ski league concludes its season with the annual loop meet.

West Bloomfield's boys and Bloomfield Hills' girls are picked to repeat their regional ski championships of last weekend.

The competition will begin at noon with each competitor allowed one trip down each course of the dual slalom layout. Combined times are used to determine the team and individual standings.

Although the league season is ending, the heavy slope use by the youngsters is expected to continue as long as there is good skiing snow.

The size and number of high school and junior high school ski clubs has at least doubled and more likely tripled in the past three-four years.

Not only Mount Holly... Pine Knob, Alpine Valley, Mount Grampan, Mount Brighton and Mount Christie all attract teen-age ski groups from various schools in Southeast Michigan Monday-Saturday.

Bloomfield Hills alone has 1,500 and Birmingham's school system sponsors an estimated 1,000.

The resorts encourage the business by providing reduced tow and equipment rates, special instructional series and incidental benefits.

Unlike some school activities, skiing clubs and teams rarely lack for faculty and adult volunteer help.

Trophy Event at Cass Lake

Ice Boaters to Vie for Briggs' Award

Cass Lake Ice Yacht Club members expect to renew last weekend's close competition Saturday and Sunday in the battle for the Briggs Sporting Goods Trophy.

Three members waged a hearty duel last Sunday for the annual Shelly Bar Trophy before Chuck Cartwright slipped past teenager Jim Morrison in the final race.

Cartwright and Ed Stack entered the final race with a first, third and fourth, and two firsts and a second, respectively, while Morrison had two seconds and a third.

Stack disqualified himself in the last event, and Cartwright sailed home first, just ahead of Morrison. Club commodore Joe Rogers then came in third overall.

This weekend the ice boaters will vie beginning at 1 p.m. both days from the Pontiac Yacht Club facilities. Anyone may compete in a DN class yacht, but non-club members must pay a $3 fee to register.

This is the final warm up for the Cass Lakers prior to their big invitational regatta the following weekend.

Local Snowmobilers Set for 'World'

Rupp Sno-Sport dealer Bill Manuel of Pontiac is seeking new "worlds" for his sons to conquer.

Last weekend at Sault Ste. Marie, Ontario, John Manuel, 21, drove a GT-4 (370 cc) model for the first time and raced it to the Ontario International Snowmobile championship in the open modified class.

His brother Henry, 16—who two weekends ago captured the Class II standard sprint title in a 300 cc model machine at the North American USA championships on Lake Nepešing at Lapeer — finished second in the 300-400 class Saturday.

Darrell Felton of Clarkston, who works for Manuel at M. G. Collision, finished fourth in the same event as Henry.

The annual races were at the Queen Elizabeth Trotting Track in Sault Ste. Marie.

And were capably sponsored by the Trailmasters Snowmobile Club and the Holden Marine Agency at Sault Ste. Marie.

NINE DIE IN CRASH — Twisted metal is all that remains of a station wagon after it collided with a train, killing nine persons in Sacramento, Calif., yesterday. The nine, seven children and two adults, were in the auto when the accident occurred at a railroad crossing in the background. All in the same family, they were identified as retired Air Force Sgt. Herbert Hill, 42, of nearby Broderick; his wife, Annie Laurie, 38; and seven of their 12 children. Five older daughters were elsewhere.

Truck Driver Guilty in Deaths

Jailed, Loses License;
Eight Children Died

WINDSOR (AP)—An Ontario truck driver, involved in a collision that killed eight school children last December, has been convicted of dangerous driving.

Windsor Magistrate Richard D. Thrasher sentenced Marcel LeFrancois, 32, of Stoney Point to four months in jail Wednesday and ordered his driver's license revoked for a year.

LeFrancois's truck had collided with a school bus carrying 28 children, seven miles south-east of Windsor.

Thrasher's ruling held that by merely driving the truck loaded with 25 tons of sand—when it had bad brakes—LeFrancois was guilty of "dangerous driving" within the meaning of provincial law.

CHILDREN BURIED

The school bus had stopped for a red light when the truck approached the intersection, and swerved and its trailer flipped onto the bus burying eight children in the sand.

All eight children died at the scene. Thrasher said that the truck's speed was not excessive "if one accepts his statement that he did not intend to make a right turn."

Two experts testified that only 27,000 in early results. Menon campaigned as an independent and that two wheels on the tractor had no operative brakes.

Top India Party's Showing Worst Since Independence

NEW DELHI, India (AP)—India's ruling Congress party headed today for its worst election showing in the 20 years since independence as returns began piling up from the fourth parliamentary elections.

Opposition parties were making considerable gains, but it was still too early to predict how much the Congress party's margins in Parliament and the state assemblies would be reduced.

Results for 52 of 530 Parliament seats gave Congress 33, the Hindu Communal Jan Sangh party 16 and Independents 3. Congress candidates won 361 of 496 seats five years ago.

The Jan Sangh, leader of agitation for a nationwide ban on slaughter of sacred cows, was expected to win more seats in northern states where Hindu revivalism has centered. The party had only 12 seats in the old Parliament.

51 PER CENT
Of 1,569 state assembly seats decided out of a total 3,500, Congress had won 809 or 51 per cent. Its average was 61 per cent in the 1962 elections.

Prime Minister Indira Gandhi declined to comment on the over-all returns but said of her party's reverses in some areas, "life is like that, with its ups and downs."

Mrs. Gandhi easily defeated six independent candidates and a Communist to win a seat in Parliament from Uttar Pradesh State.

But four of the 15 ministers in her inner cabinet were trailing. They were Food Minister Chidambaram Subramaniam, Finance Minister Sachindra Chaudhury, Railways Minister S. K. Patil and Education Minister Fakhrudin Ali Ahmed.

AP Asks Reversal of Ex-General's Libel Award

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Associated Press asks the Supreme Court today to reverse a $500,000 libel award to former Maj. Gen. Edwin A. Walker as an oppressive inhibition on constitutionally protected free speech and free press.

The AP brief said, however, that "it plainly appears from the record that the statements or other damage was or could be shown" and it permitted to stand could preclude news media "from performing a function vital to any free society — the disclosure and discussion of controversial public issues and personalities."

AP's appeal also said the $500,000 damage award is "inordinate and unconscionable" in size, that "no actual pecuniary damage was or could be shown" and it permitted to stand could preclude news media "from performing a function vital to any free society — the disclosure and discussion of controversial public issues and personalities."

Walker won a $500,000 judgment from a jury in 17th District Court in Texas on June 19, 1964 — $500,000 in actual damages and $300,000 in punitive damages.

District Court Judge Charles A. Murray later set aside the award for punitive damages, saying the AP was not actuated by malice in its accounts of Walker's activities.

The Texas Court of Civil Appeals affirmed the $500,000 judgment July 30, 1965. The State Supreme Court denied AP's application for a "writ of error" on Feb. 9, 1966.

This is one of 15 actions instituted by Walker against the AP and various newspapers seeking damages, aggregating $33.25 million.

The libel judgment, won by Walker in a Fort Worth, Tex., state court, was based on AP's account of his activities during rioting at the University of Mississippi in 1962. The disorder was occasioned by admission of a Negro, James Meredith, into the university.

Walker's attorneys are asking the Supreme Court to let the judgment stand. They said a "purported eyewitness account" of Walker's activities by an AP reporter "was shown to be fabricated" and was held so by the trial jury.

REPORTS CITED

Counsel for the AP said the record clearly shows, beyond any doubt, that the AP reports were true.

Later in the day, the justices will hear arguments on another substantial libel judgment — a $460,000 award to Wallace Butts, former athletic director at the University of Georgia. The Curtis Publishing Co. is appealing.

Together, the two cases give the high court an opportunity to apply its 1964 ruling in a New York Times case. In that decision, the court ruled that a public official cannot recover damages for a libelous statement relating to his official duties unless he can prove actual malice.

That is, he has to prove the statement was made with knowledge that it was false or with reckless disregard of whether it was true or false.

SAID APPLICABLE

Attorneys for the AP said in their brief that the 1964 doctrine is applicable to the circumstances of the Walker case. "There can be no 'true freedom of discussion' on matters of grave public interest and importance unless the 1964 doctrine applies 'at the very least, to voluntary participants in public controversies,'" they said.

"Gen. Walker deliberately and voluntarily participated centrally in the events at Oxford, Mississippi, to such an extent that it would have been impossible to report the facts regarding that fateful confrontation between federal and state power without describing the general's activities," the AP brief said.

Counsel for Walker told the court the AP had published reports that the former general "committed criminal acts ... assuming command of a riotous mob and leading a charge against U. S. marshals."

TEXAS FINDING

"The summary of the evidence in support of the findings of the jury and the judgment of the trial court by the Texas Court of Civil Appeals is just the opposite," they said.

The brief for Walker added

Drivers Favor Studded Tires

LANSING (UPI) — A motorist opinion survey taken for a state legislator shows state drivers favor metal-studded snow tires 3 to 1 for winter driving.

Rep. Russell Hellman, D-Dollar Bay, said yesterday an independent marketing research company he hired to take a survey of drivers' attitudes toward tires shows 69 per cent of those questioned favored studded snow tires.

Hellman has introduced a bill to legalize the use of studded snow tires.

The survey showed 43 per cent of those interviewed felt studded tires would increase highway safety and save lives. Another 35 per cent said the tires would increase traction on icy roads.

Red ABMs Split McNamara, Chiefs

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Joint Chiefs of Staff and Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara are openly at odds over the extent of Russia's antimissile effort.

The Pentagon conceded yesterday that Gen. Earle G. Wheeler, chairman of the Joint Chiefs, finds it "difficult to accept" his civilian superior's assessment of the Soviet antimissile missile (ABM) system.

Wheeler and other members of the military high command feel Russia is constructing an extensive ABM network, and argue the United States should proceed immediately to plan and deploy a comparable missile defense system.

The administration, however, feels U.S. missiles could overwhelm a Soviet ABM defense. It opposes building a U.S. ABM network, at least pending the outcome of negotiations with the Soviet Union.

The focal point of the current controversy is the Tallinn system — a Soviet air defense system for the city of Tallinn, situated in Estonia 600 miles north of Moscow.

The Joint Chiefs feel the Tallinn system is strictly an ABM defense. McNamara and others have said it may be that but it might also be primarily a defense against conventional aircraft.

The Pentagon, in its statement yesterday said there is unanimous agreement the Russians were constructing the Tallinn system, but there is disagreement in the "intelligence community" over what the new system is.

Some officials, the Pentagon said, believe "it is primarily an aircraft defense system. Gen. Wheeler finds that view difficult to accept."

The character, extent and rate of deployment of the (Tallinn) system," McNamara told a congressional committee last month "the weight of evidence at this time suggests that this system is not intended primarily for antimissile missile defense."

The Pentagon said, however, there is "some disagreement that the Russians are deploying an antimissile system around Moscow."

The military, noting the Tallinn system is situated against the northern missile approaches to Moscow, feels it is logical to assume the Tallinn system is an ABM defense.

Retired Air Force Gen. Nathan F. Twining, a former chairman of the Joint Chiefs, joined the controversy yesterday, charging that an "anti-nuclear clique" of scientists had influenced the administration to "believe there is a slow down weapons development."

'Missile Protection Incomplete'

Soviets Admit Defense Gaps

MOSCOW (UPI) — Soviet military leaders today admitted Russia has not yet deployed a fully effective antimissile defense system throughout the sprawling nation.

The admissions came as the Soviet Union emphasized its retaliatory power and defenses against nuclear missiles while celebrating the 49th anniversary of its army and navy.

Russian marshals and admirals were pointedly careful to say in newspaper articles and speeches marking the occasion that the U.S.S.R. does not have a complete antimissile protection network despite indications to the contrary by the head of the Soviet war college.

Marshal Andrei Grechko, commander of the Warsaw Pact military forces, and Marshal Rodion Malinovsky, Russia's defense minister, both used the same words to describe the country's countermeasures against nuclear rockets.

Malinovsky wrote in the Communist party newspaper Pravda today that Soviet defense units could be sure of hitting "any enemy aircraft and many rockets."

SAME THING

Grechko, writing in the government newspaper Izvestia, said the same thing last night.

Another Soviet marshal, civil defense chief Vasily Chulikov, emphasized the gaps in the missile defense program in a television speech last night.

Chulikov said the Soviet Union had practically no means of guaranteeing its cities immunity from incoming rockets, especially those coming from "the cosmos" — presumably meaning long-range ballistic missiles.

Gen. Pavel Kurochkin, head of the Soviet war college, touched off the latest rash of Soviet declarations on the antimissile question Monday when he told newsmen, "If missiles fly, they will not arrive in Moscow."

'FOOLPROOF DEFENSE'

Kurochkin's implication that Russia already had devised a foolproof missile defense came as President Johnson reportedly sought an agreement with the Kremlin to serve both countries the billions of dollars necessary to deploy successful antimissile screens.

No other Soviet military leader echoed Kurochkin's boast today as the army and navy day celebration drew to a close.

Malinovsky issued an order of the day proclaiming the readiness of the Soviet army and its allies "to rout any aggressor" and condemning American intervention in Vietnam and the alleged "revanchist strivings of the West German militarists."

SALMON CORN PIE—Here's a happy blend of flavors, textures, and colors. Coral-flaked canned salmon and golden corn kernels topped with swirls of mashed potatoes spell luxury on a modest budget. A green vegetable and salad complete the meal and, for a refreshing climax, try lemon sherbet.

Canned Salmon, Corn Topped With Potatoes

These brisk winter days make their own kind of magic. The crisp air transforms every breath to a silver cloud of frost, and quickens our steps.

The children fling themselves into activities with astounding enthusiasm. Dad smiles as he braces himself against the invigorating winds, and mother bustles around the house getting much more accomplished than in the lazy summer months.

To all, winter weather brings a sense of renewed challenge, a refreshing impulse to rush and get things done.

But there's more magic to wintertime. Appetites improve, the pleasure of smelling and enjoying hot savory dishes increases, as accelerated activity burns up calories at a greater rate, and families relax with better spirits and camaraderie around the dinner table when day is done.

So the wintertime dinner table means plenty of good food, loads of vitamins, minerals, and proteins combined with flavor and variety. For all this, fish is a sure bet, and canned salmon is perfectly devised to satisfy increased appetites with rich flavor appeal.

Equally important is the convenience of salmon, with its delicate flavor, color and texture available to every one by simply opening a can.

You'll want to keep plenty of cans on the pantry shelf and when there are any doubts as to what to serve your family tonight, you'll be sure to please them with a savory salmon dish.

Salmon Corn Pie
¼ cup butter
¼ cup flour

¼ teaspoon prepared mustard
1 teaspoon salt
Dash pepper
Dash paprika
1 cup milk
1-pound can salmon, flaked (reserve liquid)
2½ cups corn kernels
1 egg, beaten
½ cup fresh bread crumbs
Fluffy mashed potatoes
Preheat oven to 400 degrees.
Butter a 9-inch pie plate.

In saucepan melt butter. Stir in flour, mustard, salt, pepper and paprika. Gradually stir in milk and cook, stirring until sauce is smooth and thickened. Remove from heat and stir in flaked salmon, salmon liquid, corn, egg and bread crumbs. Mix well.

Turn mixture into prepared pan and bake in preheated oven for 30 minutes. Remove from oven and garnish with fluffy mashed potatoes. Return to hot oven until potatoes are lightly browned. Serves 6.

Cherry Halves Dot Dark Fudge

Cherry fudge is easy to make. Melt 2 (6 ounce) packages of semi-sweet chocolate in top of double boiler over hot but not boiling water.

Remove from heat, blend in 3 cups of sifted confectioners sugar, 2 tablespoons of salad oil, and ¼ cup each of hot milk and halved red maraschino cherries.

Spread in lightly oiled 8-inch square pan. Chill until firm.

A little vanilla added to fruit pies improves their flavor.

By JANET ODELL

Pontiac Press Food Editor

Sure, you can buy cake mixes — by the dozens. Many of them are excellent. But there still is a certain satisfaction in making a cake from the raw ingredients. You might like to try one of the recipes on this page.

FIESTA BANANA CAKE

2 cups sifted cake flour
1 teaspoon double-acting baking powder
1 teaspoon soda
¼ teaspoon salt
1½ cups sugar
½ cup shortening, at room temperature
½ cup sour milk or buttermilk
1 teaspoon vanilla
1 cup mashed ripe bananas
2 eggs
½ cup coarsely chopped nuts
1 envelope whipped topping mix
1 banana, sliced
Chopped maraschino cherries

Sift flour with baking powder, soda, salt, and sugar.

Stir shortening just to soften. Sift in flour mixture. Add ¼ cup of the milk, vanilla, and the mashed bananas and mix until all flour is dampened.

Then beat 2 minutes at medium speed of electric mixer or 6 servings.

300 vigorous strokes by hand, as directed on package; spread Add eggs, nuts and remaining between layers and over top of cake. Garnish with banana slices and chopped cherries.

Beat 1 minute longer in mixer or 150 strokes by hand.

Pour batter into two 8- or 9-inch layer pans, which have been lined on bottoms with paper. Bake at 350 degrees for 25 to 30 minutes for 8-inch layers and 35 to 40 minutes for 9-inch layers.

Cool 10 minutes in pans; then remove from pans and cool on racks.

Prepare whipped topping mix

MOCK POUND CAKE
3 cups sifted cake flour
¾ teaspoon baking powder
½ teaspoon salt
½ cup margarine
1 (8-ounce) package cream cheese
1½ cups sugar
3 eggs, beaten
½ cup milk
1 teaspoon vanilla

Sift cake flour, baking powder and salt together; set aside. Blend margarine and cream cheese. Gradually add sugar; beat until fluffy. Blend in beaten eggs.

Add sifted dry ingredients alternately with milk, blending well after each addition. Stir in vanilla. Pour into lightly greased and floured 10x4-inch tube pan or 13x9x2-inch cake pan.

Bake in 350 degrees (moderate) oven about 1 hour for tube pan and about 50 minutes for cake pan or until cake tests done.

Cherry Milk Is Good Hot Drink

An unusual hot milk drink is flavored with cherries and coconut. Combine 1 (4 ounce) jar of red maraschino cherries, undrained, with ½ cup of flaked coconut and ½ cup of milk in electric blender container. Cover and blend until smooth.

Pour into saucepan with 3 more cups of milk and ¼ cup of sugar. Stir to dissolve sugar and pan and about 50 minutes for heat but do not boil. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

CAKES FOR ALL SEASONS

To Revive Celery

To revive celery that is wilted, peel and slice a potato and place in a pan of water. Then add the celery and let set for an hour or more.

Fruit Cream Topping

Whip 1 cup heavy cream; fold in sliced bananas and cherries. Cake may be garnished with this topping or serve it on the side.

Pudding Topping

Prepare pudding mix as directed. Chill, if cooked pudding mix is used. Pour 1 cup of pudding over cake and garnish with chopped nuts. Serve remaining pudding with cake.

Curry in Soup

To add zip to chicken soup, making it tastier and different, add a small pinch of curry powder to cream of chicken soup with minced chives.

Beef for Salad

Cut leftover roast beef into slivers. Toss with chunks of western iceberg lettuce, marinated garbanzo beans and French fried onion rings.

By OSWALD & JAMES JACOBY

Today's hand illustrates a principle of play that was almost unknown as late as 25 years ago.

This hand was played by Oswald Jacoby at New York's Cavendish Club in 1941. He won the diamond lead and played four rounds of clubs. Then he cashed the ace of spades, went over to dummy with a heart and finessed successfully against East's queen.

His partner, one of the great players of all time, was mightily pleased with the result and asked, "How did you figure out that spade play?"

The answer to the question is that the play was correct. If Jacoby had missed Qxxx in spades instead of Qjxx, the correct play would have been to try to drop the queen, but this hand illustrates the principle of restricted choice.

When West played the jack it meant that he had started with either the singleton jack or a doubleton queen-jack. The odds would be slightly in favor of the latter as a matter of plain probability.

Specifically, when you miss four of a suit the chance that a specific spade is .062, the chance that he holds a specific doubleton is .068. However, we have to go into inverse or compound probability here. If West held the singleton jack, he would have to play it; if he held the doubleton queen-jack, he would have a choice and would be just as likely to play one as the other.

Births

The following is a list of recent Pontiac area births as recorded at the Oakland County Clerk's Office (by name of father):

David L. Kurz, Auburn Heights
John D. Malloy, Troy
Luben Scher, Farmington
John E. MacKenzie, Farmington
Philip E. Brooks, Farmington
John E. MacKenzie, Farmington
Edwin C. Marwood, Farmington
Terry K. Brown, Farmington
Robert A. Hoffman, Birmingham
Robert A. Hoffman, Birmingham
Ralph S. Hayes, Troy
Edward M. Meyer, Birmingham
Robert K. Hoffman, Birmingham
Harvey E. Hicks, Troy
Donald L. Robson, Birmingham
Loren H. Hancock, North Troy
Donald F. Lacey, Farmington
Robert R. Robinson, Farmington
Claude H. Trotter, Birmingham
Dale D. Haskin, Farmington
James K. Stuenkel, 92 Bloomfield Ter.
Edward Kall, Birmingham

At least, a good player will falsecard about half the time in this situation, hence the .068 chance of doubleton QJ is cut in half and becomes .034, so that the actual odds in favor of the finesse are 62 to 34, or almost two to one.

Of course, if you were playing against a man who always falsecards, you would have a sure thing finesse. He would not play the jack from queen-jack under any circumstances. There may be such players somewhere but we have never found one.

Tall Tale Tells How British Lost the Revolution

CORVALLIS, Ore. (AP) — Paul Willis, a sixth-grader, won a Chamber of Commerce tall tale contest. He wrote: "A Tory at Yorktown filled American guns with gumdrops. When the colonists charged, gumdrops instead of bullets emerged. Greedy British soldiers grabbed the gumdrops and fell to the ground with belly aches. Cornwallis thought his men were dead and surrendered."

Dove Is Stripped of Songbird Status

PIERRE, S.D. (AP) — The mourning dove is no longer a songbird in South Dakota. Perhaps it's just as well. He has little to sing about, having been added to the game bird list. The swan song came after lengthy debate in the House of Representatives, which approved the Senate-passed measure by a vote of 46 to 20.

SMOKY PITTSBURGH OF YESTERYEAR — The afternoon sun tries to shine through dense smoke and soot that characterized Pittsburgh, Pa., in this view of downtown in 1943. Smoke control has cleared the air of solid particles that had motorists turning on headlights and street lights burning during the day, but problems of air pollution, as in other cities, still exist.

How Pittsburgh Won Air Pollution Battle

By BEN DE FOREST

PITTSBURGH, Pa. (AP) — It was only 10 a.m. but darkness had already fallen across the city.

Smoke pouring from steel mills, power plants, factories, foundries, office buildings, shops, trains and homes clogged the river valleys and shrouded the city.

Street lights burned. Drivers turned on headlights. Soot coated buildings and houses with grime, soiled clothes, smudged the skin and ruined merchandise. Office workers peering from windows could barely make out the shapes of buildings half a mile away.

That was Pittsburgh on a smoky day 20 or more years ago. Pittsburghers were used to smoke. In 1923 the dust that fell over a square mile in one month averaged 170 tons, equal to the weight of 100 cars. In some mill areas belching smokestacks rained 800 tons of soot and cinders on homes and business places in 30 days.

SKIES ARE CLEAR

Today Pittsburgh skies are relatively clear. Workers have sand-blasted the grime from older buildings. New office towers, clad in gleaming steel or aluminum, look as bright as the day they were erected. And women can wear light-colored dresses with the same confidence they find in most any other American city.

How did Pittsburgh lick the air pollution problem? It hasn't, says Edward L. Stockton, chief of air pollution control for Allegheny County, which covers Pittsburgh and vicinity. The Pittsburgh area, he explains, has done a good job of clearing the air of solid particles. But Pittsburgh, like many other cities, still has some smoke and also is plagued by another pollutant—invisible gases that many experts believe are unhealthful.

Pittsburgh's accomplishment, however, clearly marks it as a pioneer in the battle for cleaner air. Even before the turn of the century, Pittsburgh was thinking about smoke control. The city's first smoke ordinance was passed in 1895, but it was meaningless. There was no technology then, says Stockton, to do anything about smoke. In 1941 a but World War II got in the new law went into the books, way, Pittsburgh was too busy turning out guns and bombs to worry about smoke.

After the war Pittsburghers relaxed, took a deep breath, and choked. The city was slowly dying in its own smoke. Government, business and civic leaders agreed that something had to be done. City officials and industrialists mapped out a plan.

New ordinances were passed. "In 1948 the program started moving," says Stockton.

At first the law applied only to Pittsburgh. Smoke from neighboring communities still drifted over the city. As the late governor of Pennsylvania, David L. Lawrence, then mayor of Pittsburgh, pointed out: "Smoke doesn't recognize the city line."

By 1949 antismoke laws covered the entire county. "Process change" is what Stockton calls it. Railroads began junking their coal-burning steam locomotives and replacing them with cleaner diesel power. Smoky old towboats were gradually replaced by diesel boats. Home owners installed stokers on their coal furnaces and bought smokeless coal, or changed to natural gas or oil. The mills and factories installed smoke control equipment.

The changes were accompanied by grumbling and protests. Railroaders feared loss of their jobs in the switch from steam to diesel. Coal producers worried about dwindling markets. Citizens complained that changing the heating systems in their homes was too costly.

Man Arrested After Holdup

Alertness on the part of a Pontiac policeman last night led to the arrest of a city man in connection with the holdup of an elderly man in Pontiac's south end.

Held at the Oakland County Jail on a charge of armed robbery is Eugene Douglas, 26, of 494 Bloomfield.

Douglas was arrested by Patrolman Joseph W. Gallardo about 5:30 p.m. at the rear of 413 Branch.

Gallardo had concealed himself at the rear of that address after Charles W. Herman, 60, of Grand Rapids said he had been robbed by a man who fled into the house.

Gallardo said he hid behind a truck and apprehended Douglas after observing him emerge from the rear of the home and attempt to flee.

Berman, police said, then identified Douglas as the man who took $15 from Berman while Douglas held his hand in his pocket as though he had a gun.

OCCEO to Ask Aid for Day Care Center

The Oakland County Commission on Economic Opportunity will apply for a federal grant of $203,000 to establish a day care center in the Pontiac area and another in the southern part of the county.

Some 80 children of working mothers would be cared for at the northern center and 40 at the southern location if the grant is approved.

Application of funds through the Head Start program of the Office of Economic Opportunity (OEO) was approved yesterday by the county commission.

A similar application last year was rejected because no new programs were funded by OEO.

Boy, 9, Hit by Car Said Satisfactory

Struck by a car last night near his home, a Pontiac boy is termed in satisfactory condition at Pontiac General Hospital.

Nicholas Pena, 9, son of Mr. and Mrs. Genaro Pena of 267 S. Sanford, was hit as he crossed Auburn near South Sanford about 7:15 p.m., according to Pontiac police.

James W. Coward, 49, of 299 S. Marshall said he was unable to stop when the boy ran in front of his car. Witnesses told police the youth disregarded a red light and raced into the street.

Egg Outpour Up

LANSING (AP) — Michigan's commercial and farm flocks produced 134 million eggs in January, up 4 percent from the same month a year ago. The State Crop Reporting Service said a 5 percent increase in hen numbers was mainly responsible for the increase.

Poverty War Actions of Tucker Criticized

Two Negro women from the southeastern part of Oakland County yesterday criticized Charles M. Tucker Jr., president of the Oakland County NAACP branch, for his actions in the county war on poverty.

Tucker's critics spoke at a meeting of the 50-member Oakland County Commission on Economic Opportunity (OCCEO) at which the commission rejected three recommendations by Tucker as a member of the commission's education committee.

One of the resolutions called for withholding of federal funds for the Ferndale Schools' Head Start program unless the school system complies with regulations concerning food and brings food service up to proper standards.

This prompted Mrs. Thelma Palmer, chairman of the Ferndale advisory committee for Head Start, to term Tucker's proposed action as unfounded.

FEARS FOR LIFE — David Lewis, a New Orleans baggage clerk, who said Monday he feared for his life because of his connection with a probe of the assassination of President Kennedy, has reportedly left town for an undisclosed location.

Lewis was reportedly out of town yesterday when he was sought for comment on the death of David Ferrie, another figure in the assassination probe.

Mrs. Daisy Cottrell, 32, an employee at Bishop's Beer Store, 822 Baldwin, said the gunman walked into the store about 1:20 a.m. and ordered her to open the till.

C. Leroy Key, 23, faces arraignment on multiple charges of armed robbery following his extradition to Pontiac from Phoenix, Ariz.

Key and William F. Graves, 25, are named in warrants charging them with holdups at Fortino's Steak House, 15 W. Huron; Johnnie's Tavern, 75 W. Huron; and the stickup of a man outside a downtown bar.

Graves was arrested in Pontiac Dec. 25 and has since waived examination on the charges. He awaits trial in Circuit Court.

Key was apprehended in Phoenix and held there on a federal fugitive warrant after declaring his intention to fight extradition proceedings.

OU Series Launched Tonight

The Roscoe Mitchell Quintet, a "New Wave" jazz group from Chicago, will appear tonight at Oakland University to initiate a series of programs designed to illustrate what's happening in the world of arts today.

"Focus Now" is the name adopted by a group of students who plan to bring new artists and their work in various forms to the OU campus.

"We hope to show the new artistic things that are happening in the country today, primarily on the West Coast. These are hard to come by in the Detroit area today," said Robert Heasley, a sophomore from Kalamazoo, who serves as one of the vice presidents of "Focus Now."

The Roscoe Mitchell Quintet will appear at 7:30 p.m. in the Little Theater of the OU Sports and Recreation Building.

Gunman Gets $45 at Store

A handit, wearing a stocking over his face and brandishing a nickel-plated revolver, held up a north end party store early today, taking $30 from the cash register and $15 from a customer.

Mrs. Daisy Cottrell, 32, an employee at Bishop's Beer Store, 822 Baldwin, said the gunman walked into the store about 1:20 a.m. and ordered her to open the till.

After taking money from there, police were told, the robber held the gun on Elmer Franzel, 51, and took $15 from him.

Key was apprehended in Phoenix and held there on a federal fugitive warrant after declaring his intention to fight extradition proceedings.

Detectives Orville C. Johnson and Charles C. Chancy flew to Phoenix Monday and returned with Key late Tuesday.

Introductory remarks at the performance will be made by John Sinclair, critic from The Fifth Estate, a newspaper published on Plum Street in Detroit.

GUEST POET — Next Tuesday, "Focus Now" will present poet Allen Ginsberg at 8 p.m.

Ginsberg will read some of his work in the gymnasium of the Sports and Recreation Building, which the students hope will take on the appearance of a coffee house for the evening.

"We're asking everyone who comes to bring a pillow," Heasley said. "We're trying to create an atmosphere."

BEATE LEBER

'Letters Show He Jilted Her'

Trial Involves Scion and 'Leased' Nudist

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) — The attorney for attractive Beate Leber says his client's relationship with a wealthy Arizona rancher was more than "man and mistress" and he has 100 letters to prove it.

The letters are the central point of a trial involving a $2.5-million breach of promise suit by Mrs. Beate Leber against William Brown, 65, heir to a Pittsburgh, Pa., coal fortune.

Mrs. Leber said that Brown jilted her after promising to marry her after she obtained a Mexican divorce from her husband in Heidelberg, Germany.

Brown, a sports car racing enthusiast, part-time rancher and yachtsman whose hobbies include photographing nude women, claims he only leased the dark-haired German woman.

'LEASED' HER

Brown's attorney, Norman Hull, said the agreement was for Brown to pay Leber $40,000 for leasing his wife for one year.

Raymond F. Hayes, attorney for Mrs. Leber, said he would introduce the letters in U.S. District Court today, the second day of the trial.

"They will say that he promised to marry her," said Hayes. Brown, called to testify Tuesday as an adverse witness by Hayes, recounted how he met the Lebers as they were strolling nude on a beach at a German nudist resort.

NUDIST RESORT

"We were all nude," he testified.

Brown said he asked to take nude photographs of Mrs. Leber and the posing was done in the couple's Heidelberg apartment a few months after their 1963 meeting.

Following the visit to the Heidelberg apartment, Brown testified that he and the Lebers traveled to Switzerland, the Bahamas, New York and his Sasabe, Ariz., ranch.

Brown, who estimates his fortune at $5 million, is heir to an estate left by his father, the late W. Harry Brown, a Pittsburgh coal magnate who died in 1919.

Two marriages ended in divorce. His second wife, Sheila, was awarded a reported $400,000 settlement in 1949.

Department Marks Urged for Collegians

ANN ARBOR (UPI) — Pennsylvania Supreme Court Justice Michael A. Musmanno proposed yesterday that college students be graded on deportment as well as on history and mathematics.

Addressing students at the University of Michigan Law School, Musmanno noted that Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey was in danger of physical harm Monday on a visit to Stanford University in Palo Alto, Calif.

He recalled that last summer Amherst College students accorded Secretary of Defense Robert McNamara "a rough and rowdy reception" when the school conferred on him an honorary degree.

"This maltreatment was repeated at the New York University when he McNamara was again honored for his brilliant and patriotic work in advancing the security of our nation," he said.

He said students at Brandeis University were rude to U.S. Ambassador Arthur Goldberg on his recent visit to the campus.

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M. (AP) — New Mexico Gov. David F. Cargo has thrown the hat of Michigan Gov. George Romney into the political ring as a Republican presidential candidate.

Romney arrived in New Mexico yesterday on a Western states swing to speak at a Republican victory dinner in Albuquerque.

At a news conference after his arrival, Romney said he still has not made a decision on his plans for 1968 and many factors remain to be considered.

Cargo was asked about his earlier remarks at the news conference after Romney said a decision still had not been made.

"I say he's a candidate, how's that?" Cargo said.

Cargo, asked if he was backing Romney for the nomination, said he felt it was too early to say.

"He's my kind of Republican. He's electable," Cargo said.

In his speech, Romney hit at the Democratic administration's handling of problems of urban areas.

"Our urban areas today need not only the tools and the resources of federal and local governments," he said, "they need the help of state governments, private enterprise, voluntary associations, and the personal effort of responsible Americans."

"In addition, over-reliance on federal decision-making has undercut the vitality of state and local governments in dealing with these urban problems."

Romney said the direct involvement of state governments is needed in assisting large urban centers to resolve intergovernmental problems.

"A century ago, Lincoln and our Republican party gave America the Homestead Act to populate the West with free and independent farmers. Now it is time to apply that proven principle in our cities," Romney said.

After addressing a joint session of the Arizona Legislature and touring a housing project for the elderly near Mesa today, the Romney party is to fly to Detroit tonight, ending his week-long political tour.

U. S. Throws 45,000 GIs Into War's Biggest Assault

WAR ZONE C, Vietnam (AP) — U.S. forces have unleashed the greatest ground-air assault of the Vietnam war. They hurled some 45,000 men into a vast encirclement of the Vietcong's national headquarters and main base near the Cambodian border.

The drive, ranging 50 to 75 miles northwest of Saigon, began yesterday with the first American combat parachute jump of the war, a drop of about 750 paratroopers into blocking positions behind the enemy lines and barely three miles from Cambodia.

The lightning assaults of paratroops, helicopter-borne infantry and foot soldiers had most units in their assigned areas within a matter of hours.

The clear skies over the wide combat zone were crisscrossed with helicopters, transports, jet fighters and observation planes, operating in what one officer called fantastic coordination.

On the heels of the paratroops, helicopter-lifted soldiers fanned out in land-zones on the flanks, creating a bristling arc of U.S. firepower on the northern part of War Zone C in Tay Ninh Province, northwest of Saigon.

Powerful columns of tanks, armored personnel carriers and infantry moved up from the south and around the flanks to complete a loose encirclement of the area where U.S. forces hoped to trap the political leadership of the Vietcong.

Initial reports from the battlefield indicated Vietcong resistance to the first assault was confined to sniper fire, booby traps and mines.

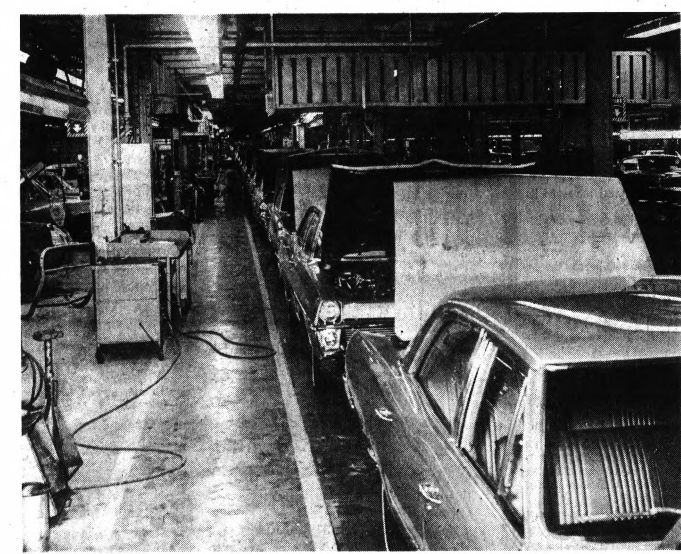

The new drive, though launched yesterday, was not officially disclosed until today for security reasons.

Three U.S. tank-bulldozers moving into the jungle had their tracks blown off by mines but U.S. officers said there were no casualties. Some assault units reported a handful of casualties from snipers.

From the air, the vast area was a fantastic scene of crisscrossing aircraft, billowing smoke from the ground, lush jungles dotted with colored parachutes and assault companies in olive drab uniforms hacking forward on the ground.

LAUNCH OFFENSIVE — U.S. paratroopers fill the air as they parachute from planes today in America's biggest offensive of the Vietnam war. Some 45,000 troops were deployed in a vast encirclement of the Vietcong's national headquarters and main base near the Cambodian border.

IDLING TIME—Half-finished cars line the stalled Pontiac Motor Division's final assembly plant. Assembly operations were stopped and some 5,000 workers laid off yesterday because of a parts shortage caused by a strike at the Fisher Body Plant at Mansfield, Ohio.

Auto Workers Await Strike End

Some 8,300 local auto workers were still at home today, although leaders of the wildcat strike at an Ohio Fisher Body plant were to issue a plea this afternoon to end the walkout which forced the layoff by city plants.

Under orders from the president and executive board of the United Auto Workers to put down the rebellion, leaders of the striking local were to urge a return to work.

However, even if the plea is answered at the Mansfield, Ohio, plant, it still may be a few days before local workers are called back, according to General Motors Corp. spokesmen.

The Pontiac area workers affected are among more than half of General Motors 240,000 employees laid off because of the parts shortage created by the strike.

Assembly line operations at the two GM plants in Pontiac affected by the strike will resume normal schedules as soon as parts are received from the Mansfield plant according to a GM spokesman.

NO IMMEDIATE CHANGE

There will be no immediate change in current layoffs until then, the spokesman added.

Some 5,000 area workers have been temporarily idled at the Pontiac Motor Division plant while an estimated 3,300 were furloughed from assembly operations at the Fisher Body plant.

The orders to put down the strike came from UAW President Walter P. Reuther and his 26-member executive board in a showdown meeting at Detroit last night. Robert Hall, president of Mansfield Local 549, promised to follow the orders.

Hall called a membership meeting and UAW executives said they anticipated

Speck Attorney Hits at Evidence

PEORIA, Ill. (AP) — "We all agree that eight lovely girls were murdered. The issue in this case is: Who did it?"

Gerald W. Getty, the defender of Richard Speck, spoke these words yesterday during the third day of Speck's trial as he questioned 33 venemen.

"Does the state have evidence enough to prove this defendant did it?" Getty asked.

Speck, 25, who sat seemingly impassive during the proceedings, is accused of slaying eight student nurses July 14 in Chicago.

Getty's statements could be construed as an argument against reports that Speck's defense will be based on an insanity plea. Getty has given no indication what the defense will be.

TURN DOWN JURORS

Getty and William Martin, assistant state's attorney, turned down a panel of four jurors on five occasions Wednesday. Each time a fourth was selected, a previously accepted panel member was challenged by one of the counsels, leaving only three.

Continuing Cold With Light Snow

Like horses on a merry-go-round, Pontiac area temperatures are bobbing up and down this month.

The weatherman forecasts a low of zero to 8 above tonight. Windy, colder and occasional snow flurries is the outlook for tomorrow and Saturday.

Yesterday's high was 35. One to two inches of snow fell last night and this morning.

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP) — Dist. Atty. Jim Garrison hinted today that free-lance pilot Davis W. Ferrie carried to his grave some secrets about President John F. Kennedy's assassination.

Ferrie, 48, who described himself as a psychologist and private detective as well as a flyer, was found dead in his bed yesterday.

Garrison, the 6-foot-6 gun-toting prosecutor, called the death "apparent suicide."

The coroner, Dr. Nicholas Chetta, said tests were not complete, but death seemed due to a massive brain hemorrhage, with no sign of suicide except a death was a "sweet prospect."

Ferrie was on the brink of producing information that could have been important investigation," said Garrison. "Now he's gone and it will be much harder to make the connections between certain people. But I'm sure we'll make them anyway."

"I'm just as optimistic today as I was two days ago."

Two days ago, Garrison was insisting that his effort to prove a conspiracy in the assassination of President Kennedy will result in arrests and convictions.

The President was shot in Dallas, Tex., Nov. 22, 1963. Garrison insists that a conspiracy to murder him was conceived in New Orleans.

Catholics Offer OCCEO Help on City Head Start

The Catholic Archdiocese of Detroit has offered to aid the Oakland County Commission on Economic Opportunity (OCCEO) in launching a Pontiac Head Start program, James M. McNeely, OCCEO executive director, said yesterday.

Scheduled to begin last September, the program for 320 preschoolers has not yet begun due to a deadlock between the Pontiac Board of Education and OCCEO over relative rights and responsibilities.

A month ago, the OCCEO voted to bypass the school system, which it termed "very uncooperative," and launch the program itself.

McNeely said yesterday the archdiocese has definitely indicated a willingness to become operating agent for the Head Start program.

The administrative unit of the Catholic Church in southeastern Michigan presently is operating a program for some 650 youngsters in Detroit in conjunction with the Total Action Against Poverty program, McNeely said.

$300,000 NEEDED

Total funding of $300,000 would be needed for a year-long Head Start program in Pontiac beginning in June, according to McNeely.

"A federal grant of $300,000 must be sought and the remaining $30,000 must be in local funding," he said.

McNeely said the willingness of the archdiocese to help does not rule out the possibility that Pontiac schools might still conduct the program if differences can be resolved.

China Revolution Needed—Author at OU

By PAT McCARTY

Communist China today is in the throes of a natural — and necessary — cultural revolution, a Chinese physician and author said yesterday at Oakland University.

Dr. Han Suyin, who is writing a five-volume work on China, addressed some 650 students and faculty members in the morning and conducted a seminar on campus in the afternoon.

She has, she said, a "serious quarrel with the mystique of history" as interpreted in the West.

Then she proved it.

China now is challenging "grave and disastrous" assumptions of the Western mind, she said.

"Love of immobilization is the one great Western fault."

Another concept she cited as "completely wrong" is that "change should come in an orderly manner."

"China today is in total experiment," said Dr. Han, whose home is in Singapore.

The current cultural revolution, she said, began in the communes in 1963 as the result of the need to create "a new kind of personality for the peasant," who for centuries has been illiterate and superstitious.

TOTALLY NEGLECTED

"This is one feature that has been totally neglected in the (American) newspapers," she said.

Last Week's Deaths in Vietnam Highest Since Fall of 1965

SAIGON (AP) — More American and Communist troops were killed in battle in Vietnam last week than in any week since the bloody battle of the Ia Drang Valley in November 1965, the U.S. command disclosed today.

U.S. headquarters said 172 Americans were killed and 802 were wounded, compared with 107 killed and 1,015 wounded the week before. A total of 2,029 of the enemy were reported killed, nearly twice the 1,065 reported the previous week.

The largest number of American and Communist dead in the week so far was reported in the week of Nov. 14-20, 1965. There were 240 Americans killed and 2,282 Communists, most of them in the bloody valley in the central highlands.

The South Vietnamese command reported 110 of its men were killed last week and 33 were missing, compared with 193 killed and 53 missing the week before.

ALLIED TOLL

Casualties of other allied forces also jumped to 40 dead and 76 wounded. The week before nine dead and 33 wounded had been reported.

Four Arrested After School Is Broken Into

Four suspected burglars were rounded up by Oakland County sheriff's deputies, state and Rochester police early today following a break-in at Avondale High School.

Billy R. Stone, 21, and Jerome F. Sullivan, 21, both Detroit, and brothers Ronald J. Ball, 22, of Rochester and Thomas D. Ball, 20, of Highland Park, are held at the Oakland County Jail.

Sheriff's Sgt. Paul Carpenter said the school, at 1455 W. Auburn, Avon Township, was surrounded about 4:15 a.m. after report of a burglary in progress.

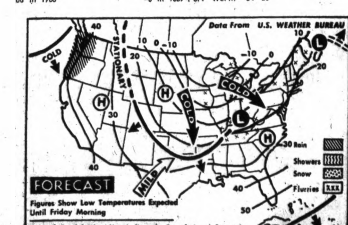

Stone was found hiding behind a bush near a broken window at the rear of the school and Ronald Ball was captured inside the building, deputies said.

Sullivan and Thomas Ball were found in a car parked nearby. Investigators said Avondale Teachers' Credit Union checks totaling some $4,860 were found in Stone's possession.

5 Are Charged in Break-Ins

Three Attended OU,
Two Are Ex-Students

Three Oakland University students and two former students at the university face burglary and larceny charges following their arrests this week.

Derrick Jacewicz, 18, of Mt. Clemens; Michael Giordano, 23, of 3851 Bernet, Milford Township; and Bernard Cohen, 19, of Detroit were apprehended by Oakland County sheriff's deputies.

Jacewicz and Giordano face preliminary examination on charges of breaking and entering Will Rogers Elementary School, 5600 Dexter, Pontiac Township.

Detective Alphonse Anderson said some $500 worth of musical instruments and typewriters taken from the school were recovered following apprehension of the two suspects.

Cohen waived examination on a charge of larceny from a building stemming from alleged entry into a building on the OU campus and theft from a cigarette machine.

'CAUGHT IN SCHOOL'
 Joseph Nowaske, 18, of Detroit and Michael Kennedy, 20, of 171 Mohawk were arrested by Harper Woods police.

Investigators in that city said the two are charged with breaking and entering. Police said they were caught inside a school building.

Nowaske, Jacewicz and Cohen were OU students when arrested, detectives said. Giordano and Kennedy were formerly enrolled at the university.

Ceremony Held on Amendment

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson officials today at the formal certification of the 1967 Constitutional Amendment to the Constitution — a change that takes two burdens from the President's mind.

The amendment establishes means for dealing with presidential disability and for filling a vacancy in the office of vice president.

It actually became part of the Constitution Feb. 10, when the 88th state ratified the amendment.

Today's White House activities mostly are ceremonial.

NO LONGER NEEDED
 Johnson, who twice has undergone major surgery while President, no longer need make a private agreement with Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey about who should do what in case of presidential disability.

Briefly, the amendment provides for the vice president to discharge powers and duties of the presidency if the president, or the vice president and a majority of the Cabinet or other body set by law, write Congress that the president is disabled.

School Districts' Dispute Heads for County Ruling

BLOOMFIELD HILLS — A conflict between the Bloomfield and Avondale school districts over property will go to Oakland County Intermediate School District officials for a ruling.

At issue is a land trade not favored by Bloomfield.

Last year, the district acquired a 29.5-acre parcel southwest of I-75 and South Boulevard for a school from a private owner.

The area was in the Avondale district but became part of the Bloomfield district under state law. However, Avondale asked compensation for lost tax revenues and was offered about $3,000.

This offer was rejected and, instead, Avondale is asking for a $1.6-acre parcel north of I-75 and west of Adams in Bloomfield Township as a trade.

LEGAL COUNSEL
 Bloomfield district officials at Tuesday's meeting did not accept the offer and both parties will send legal counsel before the county officials for a decision.

The board heard good news for high school swimmers. Superintendent Eugene L. Johnson reported contractors for the swimming pool at Andover High have given "high hopes" for completing the $763,470 structure in time for fall classes.

He said Freeman-Darling Co. of Detroit is breaking ground now and will make every attempt to finish the job early. Former expectations were to have the facility by November.

CONFAB NEARS FOR STATE GOP
 Oakland Seating Row Will Provide Spark

By JIM LONG
 When the Republican State Convention gets under way in Detroit tomorrow, it will be the delegates from Oakland County that will give it some spark.

The excitement in what is considered a fairly routine convention will be provided by moderates and conservatives in the 19th Congressional District.

Each faction is sending 57 delegates to the convention. The split developed at the 19th District Convention in Walled Lake last month.

Only one of the slates can be seated. COMMITTEE JOB
 It will be the job of the convention credentials committee to decide which group will be recognized as the official body.

The credentials committee will hear arguments tomorrow night on the validity of each group, and will announce its decision early the following day before the convention begins at Cobo Hall.

The intra-party struggle came about when members of the conservative element elected delegates to the state convention by a one-vote margin.

Moderates protested that the convention was improperly conducted. ON ROLL CALL
 They claim the meeting was adjourned before their request for a roll call vote was taken.

When district chairman Christian Powell left the meeting, the moderates stayed on and elected their own slate of delegates.

During the weekend convention, chairmen in both the 18th and 19th Congressional Districts of Oakland County will be elected.

Powell has announced that he will seek reelection. Opposing him will be John Cartwright of West Bloomfield Township.

LOVE CANDIDATE
 In the 18th District, Jack Gibbs of Troy, one-time leader of the county GOP, is the only candidate for chairman.

If elected, Gibbs would replace Charles Lytle who is resigning from the post.

The 18th District is sending 110 delegates to the convention. Delegates from the two districts will caucus at the Staller Hotel.

What Lent Means to Me

(EDITOR'S NOTE — This is the 13th in a series of articles through Lent written by prominent Pontiac area citizens.)

By DR. ROBERT R. TURPIN
 Pontiac School Board

There are lessons to be learned from the story of the last days in the life of Jesus and of His great struggle to prepare Himself for the ordeal of crucifixion.

We can conclude that an individual can do virtually anything if he is first able to make the necessary mental and spiritual preparation and we can reason that, if the greatest of men must pause to summon up inner resources and reaffirm strength of purpose, how much more important is it that we, as ordinary mortals, pause for some serious soul-searching.

To me, the Lenten season is a time for analyzing ourselves, for clarifying in our minds the kind of person we really want to become and a time for reevaluating our goals.

The extent to which we are able to make this preparation will determine whether or not we can become what we want to become or achieve what we will to achieve.

Mining Firm Quits, Ends Alaska Gold Rush

DAWSON CITY, Yukon (AP)—estimates as the harvest since it was, in effect, the death of the Yukon. When it came this winter, it was quiet and business-like, strangely contrasting with the bawdy and boisterous birth of the Klondike gold rush 70 years ago.

The last major mining outfit to work the gold fields, Yukon Consolidated Gold Co., said it could no longer operate profitably in this area. Since 1923, it had taken out $70 million worth of gold, part of the $260 million which the government

The first discovery was made almost accidentally by a Californian named George Washington Carmack, dubbed Siwash George by his friends. He had an Indian wife and a long, drooping mustache.

Sixty-eight years ago, when the rush was at its height, the word Klondike was synonymous with adventure and wealth. It was the Yukon River with two megal gold nuggets as big as baseballs to the starchy-eyed generation produced by the Gay Nineties. Few people struck it off gold near where the Klondike rich and even fewer managed to hold onto it once they did.

The trio paddled up Bonanza Creek, and Siwash George dipped into the sandy bottom with his miner's pan. He pulled out a half-ounce of flaky gold dust, worth about $4.50. He was astounded. A 35-cent pan was considered a workable claim.

On Aug. 17, 1896, Carmack staked four claims, two for himself and one each for his Indian friends. The trio paddled to Fortymile, a trading post down river on the Yukon to register their claims at a Northwest Mounted Police post.

Siwash George bragged about his strike to everyone he met. The area was soon alive with rumors.

Some authorities estimated that as many as 90,000 men and women from around the world headed into the desolate northland. During the winter of 1896-97, those who beat the ice on the river staked most of Bonanza Creek, a chunk of the Klondike, and parts of Eldorado Creek.

With the spring breakup on the Yukon, the first batch of filthy but rich miners, later to be known as Eldorado Kings, headed 1,700 miles downriver to St. Michael on Alaska's west coast to board ships for the U.S. mainland.

Other would-be millionaires arrived in Skagway, Alaska, in the late summer and early fall of 1897. They scrambled up the Chilkoot Pass and the White Pass in the direction of Dawson as winter once again closed in.

Another army of greenhorns tried traveling by ship up the Yukon River, but almost all were frozen in. They didn't make it until the following spring.

During the winter of 1897-98, miners worked their claims almost around the clock. The mother lode of the Klondike was discovered during the long arctic night.

A Pennsylvania named Nathan Kresge and his partner Nels Petersen decided to explore the hills while the rest panned the streams and bored in through the riverbanks.

Kresge and Petersen speculated that big Skookum Gulch, across Bonanza Creek from the original Klondike claim, must have at one time been a riverbed.

They were right. In the next few weeks, they grubbed out $10,000 worth of gold from an area of a few square yards. Though the majority of the miners failed to realize it until much later, the richest part of the Klondike gold fields had been uncovered. The claim later became known as Gold Hill.

Dawson skidded through the winter on the verge of famine, without proper rations for its swelling population. Miners whiled away their time gambling and fighting.

In Skagway, fiefdom of self-styled dictator Jefferson Randall (Soapy) Smith, thousands of miners were milling about during the winter, preparing supplies for the task over the Chilkoot Pass to Dawson.

The spring of 1898 brought Dawson its sorely needed supplies — and an estimated 50,000 gold seekers.

Dawson's population reached the 20,000 mark in midsummer. Its streets were a sea of mud most of the time.

Engineer Shortage Seen Around Corner

RALEIGH, N.C. (AP) — The nation's space program may lag. The design and construction of dams, skyscrapers, bridges and highways may stall. The power lawn mower may be lacking in quality and the television sets in quantity.

These are some of the dangers foreseen by Dr. Ralph E. Fadum unless the United States sharply increases its number of graduating engineers.

Fadum is dean of the school of Engineering at North Carolina State University, vice chairman of the U.S. Army Scientific Advisory Panel, and has served in various capacities with the Department of Defense, the U.S. Bureau of Public Roads and the Ford Foundation.

In a society geared to science and technology, Fadum said, in an interview, the need for engineers continues to grow at an alarming rate.

But, he added, the number of students seeking engineering degrees increases only a fraction each year and is, in fact, much lower now than in 1950.

A COMPARISON: Seventeen years ago, he said, the 100 universities with accredited programs awarded 48,160 engineering degrees. Last year the figure had dropped to 35,000.

"This is enough," Fadum said, "to keep the status quo and far below what is needed to meet the demands of the future."

The shortage of engineers, Fadum predicted, will be reflected in the nation's missile production of jet airplanes, in the launching of satellites.

Even more important, he continued, it will be mirrored in this way of life Americans not only expect but demand; in the availability and sound operation of washing machines, stereophonic record players, refrigerators; in the safety and speed of construction of highways and bridges that span the rivers and the skyscrapers that house the office headquarters.

WORLD SECURITY

"It is difficult," Fadum said, "to find any facility that provides us with our day-to-day needs and insures our world security in which the engineer does not have a hand."

"If the shortage of engineers grows, as the public consumption and governmental programs increase, there must necessarily follow a decline in the availability of certain items and a regression in the standard of work performed."

"In other words, there will not be as many washing machines as now and they won't work as well."

Decision Due Today on Illinois Coaches

CHICAGO (AP)—The University of Illinois coaching jobs of Pete Elliott, Harry Combes and Howard Braun apparently were in the balance today pending a statement from University President Dr. David D. Henry.

Its self-acknowledged financial recruiting irregularities from an outside $21,000 slush fund.

The rule reads: "Any member university which employs or retains on its athletic staff anyone who has violated, or who has been a party to a violation of the provisions of this (recruiting) rule, or who encourages others to violate this rule, shall be required to show cause why its membership in the conference should not be suspended or terminated."

ANOTHER RULE

The directors lowered the boom, ignoring a much less severe choice of penalty. They could have acted under another rule that provides only for reprimand or warning, or loss of personal contact with a prospective athlete for a period of time by a staff member found in violation.

When the slush fund scandal burst at Illinois in December, the university voluntarily disclosed facts of the matter to Big Ten Commissioner Bill Reed.

Imposed one year probation on Elliott and Combes and declared seven football and five basketball players indefinitely ineligible for accepting illegal financial assistance.

Such payments from the fund over a period of five years ranged from $15 a month to one of $50.

ONE YEAR

In 1957, football coach Phil Dickens of Indiana was suspended for one year for recruiting infractions. Demand of his dismissal was sidestepped.

Since this could be considered a precedent, Illinois may decide to appeal for suspension instead of dismissal of its coaches.

Before the Illinois case is closed, action also must come from the NCAA. This probably will be in April.

WING FOILED — Goalie Ed Giacomin of the New York Rangers slides on the ice and gets a pad in front of this shot by Detroit's Paul Henderson in last night's game. The Rangers won, 1-0.

Rangers Win, 1-0

Goalie Thwarts Howe, Wings

By The Associated Press

There's nothing that spells doom to a 1-0 lead around the National Hockey League like Detroit's Gordie Howe coming in alone on your goaltender.

It was Howe against Ed Giacomin in the first period of Wednesday night's game and when the New York goalie came up with the big save on the NHL's all-time scoring king, it looked like it might just be the Rangers' night.

"That was a big one for me," Giacomin admitted later after making Bob Nevin's early goal stand up for a 1-0 victory and his seventh shutout of the season.

"I was afraid it would get through my pads but it didn't," Howe, who has scored 706 goals in 21 NHL seasons, seemed to shoot a bit early on Giacomin, who stood his ground. "That was because Harry Howell was cutting him down from the side and Howe figured he had to get off the shot fast," said Giacomin.

The victory boosted the Rangers nine points in front of Toronto and Montreal, who are tied for third place, and 10 points back of league leading Chicago. Toronto whipped Montreal 5-2 in Wednesday night's other game.

"I was giving them room to shoot and making them take my shots, not theirs," he said. "The shots were just where I wanted them to be."

FAST SCORE

The Rangers jumped in front after 70 seconds when Phil Goyette battled Alex Delvecchio and Gary Bergman off the puck before the Detroit net.

PULL AWAY

Meanwhile, Toronto opened a four-point bulge on the fifth place Red Wings and moved into a deadlock with Montreal by beating the Canadians.

IT WAS HOWE'S TURN

Eddie Shack and Dave Keon scored first period goals inside of two minutes, starting Toronto off. Dick Duff sliced the Leafs' lead in half with a goal 11 seconds before the end of the second period. But Ron Ellis, Jim Pappin and Brian Conacher scored third period goals for Toronto sandwiched around Claude Larose's goal for Montreal.

Central's position is the most precarious. The Chiefs are tied with Saginaw, Flint Central and Saginaw Arthur Hill at 9-2 going into the last night of regular season action.

Saginaw is expected to roll over winless Handy while Flint Central will go to Arthur Hill to decide which team will join in the co-championship.

If PCH wins there will be a three-way deadlock.

The Chiefs had plenty of trouble downing the Vikings in Kettering earlier in the season. Flint Northern lost in the last five seconds, 59-57.

EASY WIN

Pontiac Northern blasted Stevenson in the first meeting at PNH, but the Livonia school has improved considerably since then. The Spartans whipped second place Farmington in a road game and took the measure of Walled Lake.

They carried Waterford to the limit before bowing.

Waterford, assured of a third place finish entertains Walpole Lake, Farmington, needing a Stevenson win over PNH to gain a share of the title, hosts Roseville in a nonleague UI.

In other action tomorrow night Kettering seeks to cap an unbeaten season at L'Anse Creuse, Lapeer battles Romeo in a bid to share second in the Tri-City and Farmington Our Lady of Sorrows invades Kennedy. Junior Harry looking to blot St. Michael's record for the second time.

FULL SLATES

There are full slates in the Wayne-Oakland where champion Clarkson will seek its 12th straight at home against Brighton and in the Oakland A. H. Fitzgerald can wrap up the crown at last place Lake Orion.

Orchard Lake St. Mary plays at Country Day tonight and the Birmingham school is scheduled to play at New Haven Saturday.

This will bring the curtain down on regular season action. The state district tournament starts next week for all prep teams in the state.

Top Wrestlers Meet at PNH

Pontiac Northern will be host to a Class A high school wrestling regional tournament tomorrow and Saturday and a rough time looms for all the hopefuls.

The noon weigh-in will have 19 schools represented, and three of them are rated among the top ten in the state. In addition, last night's seedings of the top entries in each weight class found four or five seeded past the opening round of each event.

Host Northern, its Inter-Lakes League challenger Walled Lake and Saginaw Valley Conference champ Flint Central dominate the list of team entries.

But Lake Orion, Birmingham Seaholm and Flint Northern all made strong showings in the leagues and may contend.

Rockets Blast Western, 93-71

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—Toledo's Rockets shot 64 per cent from the field in a runaway 93-71 victory over Western Michigan in Mid-American Conference basketball Wednesday night.

The Rocket regulars, who were led by Steve Mix with 21 points and Willie Babione with 19, left the game midway in the last half. Toledo's biggest lead was 81-49 late in the game.

Clarence Alvirville, with 16 points, and Reggie Lacerfield, with 14, led the Broncos attack.

TWO MORE

Toledo, now 20-1 for the season and 9-1 in the conference, has only Miami and Ohio University standing in the way toward the title.

Toledo outbounded Western 44-28 and hit on 36 of 56 field goal attempts.

Western's record fell to 4-7 in the MAC and 10-13 over-all.

Central, Troy, Waterford, Birmingham Groves, Bloomfield Hills and Berkley.

INDIVIDUALS

Among the leading wrestlers of the more than 225 who are expected to compete are Northern's Tom Kell and Frank Laferty, Walled Lake's Denis Fitzgerald and Rick Hyde, Lake Orion's Chris Shell and PCH's N. Z. Bryant and Reggie Rodriguez.

The preliminaries will begin at about 2 p.m. and last through 10:30 p.m. Four mats will be used. Saturday's seminals and consolation bouts will start at 1 p.m.

The city men's basketball program's longest winning streak was snapped last night when Local 653 surged past the Amigos' Club in the final period for a 67-62 conquest.

The previously unbeaten Amigos led, 46-45, entering the last session. John Fowler hit 10 of 11 points in the last period, however, and paced the union-men's comeback.

McKinley Jones topped all scorers with 23 points for the Amigos. Fowler, meanwhile, had lots of help in ending the 11-game success string on the part-regulars, Dale, Curley and Willie Craft hit 17, 12 and 10 in that order.

The Packers stayed one game in front of Local 653 in the battle for the runner-up spot with a 73-64 triumph over Auburn Hills. The winners led, 64-41, after three periods.

Dan Hirsch netted 36 points for the losers, including 22 in the fourth period. Ed Quirk's 19 and Cecil Jones' 17 for the Packers offset Hirsch's output.

THE OWNERS

The owners voted to retain the 40-player limit for a fourth straight year and also approved changes in the waiver rules that should help the weaker clubs.

Under the new rules, the last five players cut by a team to reach the 40-man limit, will be subject to irrevocable waivers.

For example, as Green Bay cuts its last five players to reach 40, each of those men can be picked up for the $100 waiver price by another club without the Packers getting a chance to recall the waivers. Only the last three cuts were subject to this rule last year.

The waiver period also was cut from 48 hours to 24, starting with July 31.

Honolulu to Bid for NFL Team

HONOLULU (AP)—Honolulu will make a bid for a National Football League franchise in the super jet era of 1972 before the owners get down to serious business today on the controversial common draft issue.

Kenneth Brown, a prominent Hawaii businessman, will tell the owners that Honolulu will have a 46,000-seat stadium no later than 1972 when travel time and costs will be drastically reduced.

Commissioner Pete Rozelle said Wednesday night the league had no timetable for immediate expansion but first would assess the success of the addition of recent new franchises. New Orleans begins operation this year as the 16th franchise.

Rozelle still is hopeful that the NFL will agree to separate regular season and preseason drafts in cooperation with the American Football League. A red shirt is a player who still has college eligibility although his original class has graduated.

Green Bay, with 10 picks in the first five rounds and a vast reservoir of talent on a world championship club, would prefer a single draft. This permits the Packers to take a chance on a red shirt selection for the future with their picks while others must concentrate on their present status.

SINGLE DRAFT

It is possible that some sort of compromise will be made to continue a single draft of all college players for one year and then go into separate selections in 1968. However, Rozelle is on record as favoring two drafts this year.

The owners voted to retain the 40-player limit for a fourth straight year and also approved changes in the waiver rules that should help the weaker clubs.

Under the new rules, the last five players cut by a team to reach the 40-man limit, will be subject to irrevocable waivers.

How Good Is UCLA Cage Team?

NEW YORK (AP) — Few, if any, basketball teams have received as much publicity or marched through a season so decisively as UCLA with its super star Lew Alcindor. But just how good are the Bruins?

Their coach, John Wooden, will not say if this is his best club, but his opponents are not nearly so modest.

"Only San Francisco when it had Bill Russell and K. C. Jones in 1954-55-56 might have matched them in dominance," says Chicago Loyola Coach George Ireland, whose club fell easy prey to the Bruins.

"In the other four positions, maybe I've seen better teams," says Duke Coach Vic Bubas, whose club twice was clobbered by the Bruins, "but with Lew, I hesitate to say I've ever seen a better team."

NO. 1 TEAM

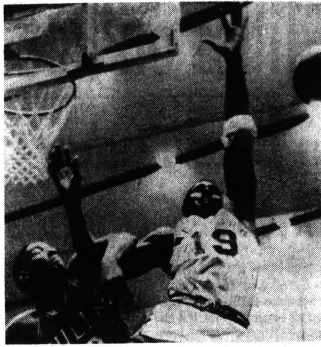

The record books tell them, UCLA, overwhelmingly ranked No. 1 in the nation since the beginning of the season, has breezed through 21 opponents without a defeat and is expected to get by the remaining five before the National Collegiate Athletic Association tournament. It already is the favorite to win the tourney.

"Teams like Ohio State with Jerry Lucas and John Havlicek and the great Kentucky teams all had serious challengers," Ireland said. "Of course, I think the general caliber of teams around the country has been down this year."

"UCLA has all the ingredients — shooting, defense, a good coach and speed," said Bubas, "and that one super super man." Lew bottles up everything you try to do under the basket. He also has a beautiful touch to his shooting. Although he's 7-foot-11, he's not at all in the goal category. He's an athlete who can run, jump, shoot and is strong for a sophomore.

"He's absolutely destructive man-to-man and if you play a zone against him, he passes off to the open man and the others can kill you. They have a couple other boys — Mike Warren and Lucius Allen — who are capable of making All-America."

UCLA figures to get even better. The 12-man squad includes seven sophomores and five juniors — no seniors.

Bulls Take NBA Title

Cold Night for Knicks

By the Associated Press

Every basketball team has a cold-shooting spell, but the New York Knickerbockers not only went cold, they froze themselves right out of the game.

The Knicks led 58-57 at half-time against the Chicago Bulls Wednesday night but could only score 14 points in the third quarter while the Bulls were scoring 25.

New York's shooting thawed out in the fourth period, but when it was too late and Chicago went on to win 117-103 in the first game of a National Basketball Association doubleheader.

Lakeland Downs Waterford, 3-1

Randy Sutt poked home a goal in the opening period, breaking a 1-1 tie and sending the Lakeland Hawks to a 3-1 Southeast Michigan Junior Hockey Association win over the Waterford Rangers last night.

Doug Eddy gave Lakeland, the juvenile division leader, an early edge but Waterford's Curtis ripped a shot past Hawk goalie Larry Schneider to tie the score.

Bruce Strohm's final period goal clinched Lakeland's third win against one loss and two ties. The game was played amid snow flurries on the Cranbrook School's rink.

Lakeland will meet Grosse Pointe at Port Huron 12:30 p.m. Sunday.

Hiller Paces Triumph

Northern Tankers Dunk Central

Pontiac Northern outclassed Pontiac Central again before a crowd at the PNH pool Wednesday night, 66-38, to square this year's All Sports Trophy race between the city rivals at 250 points each.

The dunking also left Central's Chiefs trailing in the annual tank series, 9-8.

Carl Hiller emerged as the individual standout of the meet, setting Northern records in the 200-yard individual medley (2:09.5) and the 100-yard breaststroke. His 1:02.8 clocking in the shorter event is also a PNH pool standard.

Central's 200 freestyle relay unit set a new pool mark of 3:37.0 in besting a PNH foursome that set a varsity record in finishing one-tenth second behind.

But that was the Chiefs' only other first in addition to sweeping the diving in which it was unopposed.

Rick Cotter set a Northern record by winning the 100-yard butterfly in 59.1 seconds. Steve Yedin was a double winner for the Huskies, leading the 200-

In the longer race, he and teammate Dave Pennybacker both outswam Central's versatile ace, John Mason. Mason did help the Chiefs to their record in the final relay event.

Ken Hughes won the 100-yard backstroke and helped PNH's medley relay unit to an opening event victory. Pennybacker (400-yard freestyle) and Chris Skillman (50-yard freestyle) complete the list of Northern winners.

Northern won the earlier meet at PCH, 63-41.

AP Asks Reversal of Ex-General's Libel Award

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Associated Press asks the Supreme Court today to reverse a $500,000 libel award to former Maj. Gen. Edwin A. Walker as an oppressive inhibition on constitutionally protected free speech and free press.

"If such awards are . . . permitted to stand, free discussion of major public events will necessarily be substantially and unconstitutionally inhibited," attorneys for the worldwide news service said in a brief submitted to the court prior to today's hearing.

The libel judgment, won by Walker in a Fort Worth, Tex., state court, was based on AP's account of his activities during rioting at the University of Mississippi in 1962. The disorder was occasioned by admission of a Negro, James Meredith, into the university.

Walker's attorneys are asking the Supreme Court to let the judgment stand. They said a "purported eyewitness account" of Walker's activities by an AP reporter "was shown to be fabricated" and was held so by the trial jury.

REPORTS CITED

Counsel for the AP said the record clearly shows, beyond any doubt, that the AP reports were true.

Later in the day, the justices will hear arguments on another substantial libel judgment — a $60,000 award to Wallace Butts, former athletic director at the University of Georgia. The Curtis Publishing Co. is appealing.

Together, the two cases give the high court an opportunity to apply its 1964 ruling in a New York Times case. In that decision, the court ruled that a public official cannot recover damages for a libelous statement relating to his official duties unless he can prove actual malice.

That is, he has to prove the statement was made with knowledge that it was false or with reckless disregard of whether it was true or false.

SAID APPLICABLE

Attorneys for the AP said in their brief that the 1964 doctrine is applicable to the circumstances of the Walker case.

There can be no "true freedom of discussion" on matters of grave public interest and importance unless the 1964 doctrine applies "at the very least, to voluntary participants in public controversies," they said.

"Gen. Walker deliberately and voluntarily participated centrally in the events at Oxford, Mississippi, to such an extent that it would have been impossible to report the facts regarding that fateful confrontation between federal and state power without describing the general's activities," the AP brief said.

Counsel for Walker told the court the AP had published reports that the former general "committed criminal acts . . . assuming command of a riotous mob and leading a charge against U. S. marshals."

TEXAS FINDING

"The summary of the evidence in support of the findings of the jury and the judgment of the trial court by the Texas Court of Civil Appeals is just the opposite," they said.

The brief for Walker added that the report "must be held to have been knowingly false."

The AP brief said, however, that "it plainly appears from the record that the statements complained of by Gen. Walker are either true or constitute fair comment upon facts which are essentially undisputed."

AP's appeal also said the $500,000 damage award is "inordinate and unconscionable" in size, that "no actual pecuniary or other damage was or could be shown" and if permitted to stand could preclude news media "from performing a function vital to any free society — the disclosure and discussion of controversial public issues and personalities."

Walker won an $800,000 judgment from a jury in 17th District Court, Texas on June 19, 1964 — $500,000 in punitive damages and $300,000 in punitive damages.

District Court Judge Charles A. Murray later set aside the award for punitive damages, saying the AP was not actuated by malice in its accounts of Walker's activities.

The Texas Court of Civil Appeals affirmed the $500,000 judgment July 30, 1965. The State Supreme Court denied AP's application for a "writ of error" on Feb. 9, 1966.

This is one of 15 actions instituted by Walker against the AP and various newspapers seeking damages aggregating $33.25 million.

Drivers Favor Studded Tires

LANSING (UPI) — A motorist opinion survey taken for a state legislator shows state drivers favor metal-studded snow tires 3 to 1 for winter driving.

Rep. Russell Hellman, D-Dollar Bay, said yesterday an independent marketing research company he hired to take a survey of drivers' attitudes toward the tires shows 69 per cent of those questioned favored studded snow tires.

Hellman has introduced a bill to legalize the use of studded snow tires.

The survey showed 43 per cent of those interviewed felt studded tires would increase highway safety and save lives. Another 35 per cent said the tires would increase traction on icy roads.
