Cardinal Mooney Dies Suddenly in Rome

ROME (AP)—Edward Cardinal Mooney, archbishop of Detroit, died today at 76 as the conclave to elect a new pope was about to begin.

Cardinal Mooney's death cut to 51 the number of cardinals who will elect the new Pope.

First information was that his sudden death was not expected to affect the beginning of the conclave to elect the Pope.

The cardinal's death was reported by the Rev. Joseph Tucek, head of the National Catholic Welfare Councilmens Service in Rome.

Father Tucek said that death was due to a heart condition from which the Detroit prelate had been suffering for a long time.

He came to Rome by ship because of this condition, which did not permit him to travel by air. He arrived Tuesday after the final services for Pius XII.

Father Tucek said that the cardinal "must have been excited" because of the impending conclave.

"He collapsed just as he was about to lie down for a rest after lunch," he said.

"Death was sudden," said Father Tucek.

Cardinal Mooney was able to attend the Mass of the Holy Spirit earlier today at St. Peter's Basilica. The Mass was held to invoke divine guidance for election of the new Pope.

Cardinal Mooney's death cut the number of cardinals in the Sacred College to 53 and increased vacancies to 17.

Cardinal Mooney was the second cardinal to die since the death of Pope Pius XII Oct. 9. Celso Cardinal Constantini, 82, died Oct. 7.

Cardinal Mooney's death leaves only two cardinals in the United States — Francis Cardinal Spellman, archbishop of New York, and James Francis Cardinal McIntyre, archbishop of Los Angeles.

Samuel Cardinal Stritch, archbishop of Chicago, died in Rome May 27 shortly after his arrival to take the important position of proprefect of the Vatican's Congregation for the Propagation of the Faith.

'Live' Ball Hops on Own Accord, Baffling Pair

CHARLOTTE, N. C. (AP)—Mecklenburg County police were called out to investigate "a rolling ball that won't stay still."

Officer Paul Reed arrived at the scene and found two women staring, fascinated at the object. "It keeps moving," said one wonderingly.

It was a golf ball, without its cover. The rubber strips unwinding from the core caused the ball to jump around.

At Least Two Killed, and 25 Suffer Injuries

Five Homes Destroyed; Fact Big Blast Came Today Saves Many

OTTAWA (AP) A mysterious explosion today rocked downtown Ottawa, wrecking several buildings and shattering windows over a wide area.

At least two persons were killed and 25 injured. Every window in the nine-story Jackson building was shattered and part of the roof was torn off. It contains government offices. Several other buildings and five homes were destroyed.

Equipment from every fire station in the city was called out.

Only the fact that the blast occurred on a Saturday morning, when downtown Ottawa is comparatively quiet, prevented huge casualities.

The explosion came about 8:40 a.m. Its main force appeared to be centered in the Myers Motors Building and in the Jackson Building.

Witnesses said the area looked like a wartime scene.

Damage was tentatively estimated in excess of one million dollars.

An ambulance driver said several were trapped in a building owned by Myers Motors Ltd.

The driver said several persons who had been walking outside a department store were "sucked right into the store" through shattered windows. Some were injured.

The explosion was heard for 10 miles.

Fire officials called every off-duty fireman to the scene.

Police and firemen dug frantically in the debris of what was the show rooms of Myers Motors. At least two bodies had been taken out 15 minutes after the explosion.

The force of the blast smashed plate glass store fronts over a wide area, including Sparks street, one of the city's main shopping thoroughfares within sight of the Parliament buildings.

Outlook Cloudy, Cool Tonight and Sunday

The weatherman predicts partly cloudy and continued cool for tonight and tomorrow. Tonight's low will be near 38.

Little temperature change is expected tomorrow. The high will reach around 56. Winds will become northwesterly at 10 - 20 miles per hour Sunday. The outlook for Monday is mostly fair with slowly rising temperatures.

The lowest recording in downtown Pontiac preceding 8 a.m. was 43 degrees. The thermometer registered 52 at 1 p.m.

OTTAWA EXPLOSION SCENE — Debris coyers the street after an explosion rocked downtown Ottawa today. The explosion was heard 10 miles away. Early investigation failed to establish cause of the blast, which wrecked a block of business structures, killed two persons and injured 25 or more. Only the early hour (8:40 a.m.) avoided heavier casualties as would have occurred later in the day.

Inching Toward Victims in Mine

Rescue Teams Brave Poisonous Gas to Get to 81 Trapped Men

SPRINGHILL, N.S. (AP)— Rescue teams today inched down a debris-choked mine shaft heavy with poisonous gas toward 81 men trapped and possibly killed by an explosive shift of rock. Twelve others are known dead.

A mine official said there was a very remote hope that some of the trapped miners might be found alive but nothing had been heard since the accident Thursday night to indicate there were more survivors.

Eighty-one other men got out alive after the unexplained earth shift, the most severe in memory in North America's deepest coal mine. Fifteen of the survivors were injured.

Ten bodies have been recovered. One official said two more bodies had been spotted by rescue crews and would be brought up later.

Harold Gordon, coal chief for the mine owners, spent hours in the mine shaft and then told newsmen:

"There is a remote hope—very remote — that some men will be alive at the bottom end and the top end of the 13,000-foot level." He said the basis for this hope was an indication that conditions at the two ends were not so bad as elsewhere in the mine.

Asked if there had been any contact with missing miners that would indicate survivors, Gordon replied: "None."

Durante's 2nd Banana, Jackson, Leaving Act

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — "What's Jackson gonna do wit'out Durante?" sighed the Old Schnoz.

He referred to strutting Eddie Jackson, his show business side-kick of 43 years who announced Friday he was leaving the act to do a single.

Jackson told a reporter: "I got a feelin' Jimmy don't want me around."

'THAT AIN'T TRUE'

Told of this, Durante replied, "That ain't true. Eddie's a second banana he knows dat. He's still part of de act anytime he wants to come back."

Durante said the 63-year-old Jackson in poor health recently, should retire. When Jackson took sick last year Durante replaced him with Sonny King.

"Eddie wanted to get outta his sick bed and come on at de Desert Inn (Las Vegas), but his doctor told me 'Jimmy, if dat guy comes on he ain't gonna live.' So I wouldn't let 'im."

Durante retained King even after Jackson got well and returned to the act. "I hadda keep up wid de times", Durante said. "You gotta have young blood. Who's gonna pay to see a couple of old gonna pay to see a couple of old fe is 65."

"After 43 years," says Jimmy, "you woudda tought the guy woudda come up to me and said, 'Jimmy, I'd like to try a single.'"

"I woudda advised against it but if he wanted it dat way, I woudda said 'Okay, Eddie, try it, but the act always will be Clayton, Jackson and Durante.'"

Southfield Blast Injures Woman

Gas Leakage Causes Explosion in Empty New House

SOUTHFIELD — Mrs. Oliver Hanna, 54, is in William Beaumont Hospital this morning with head and face second and third degree burns she received yesterday following an explosion in the house she intended to move into soon.

According to Sgt. Charles Durbin, Southfield police, the explosion caused by leakage of marsh gas from the well, occurred at 1:55 p.m. at 24249 Tamarack Circle.

Mrs. Hanna was reported in fair condition this morning. She was also suffering from shock.

Her daughter, Mrs. Phyllis Chevalier, 31, of 820 Hoffman St., Royal Oak and a 3½-year-old grandson, David, were also in the building at the time of the explosion. They were not injured.

According to Mrs. Chevalier, she was helping her mother wash the ceiling of the kitchen when they heard a small explosion. Mrs. Hanna went down the basement to check the noise, walked toward the furnace and then, following another explosion, was blown 24 feet into a wall partition.

The basement cinder block walls and the living room wall were ruptured and the kitchen door blew off into the living room through an outside window. The basement door was also blown off by the blast. Damage was not estimated.

Mrs. Hanna and her husband, both of Chicago, were living in a motel until the recently rented Southfield house was ready to be occupied.

LEESBURG, Va. (AP) — Arthur Godfrey escaped injury when his helicopter crash landed here Friday, but the two-place craft was wrecked.

Godfrey has a home at Leesburg, which is about 30 miles from Washington.

UF Gifts Show Higher Average

First of Reports From Industry Indicates an Upward Trend

Early returns from the Industrial Division indicated widespread acceptance of the Pontiac Area United Fund's "giving yardstick" as a pledge guide in the current campaign.

Universal Oil Seal today reported 92 per cent of its employes have participated in this year's Tenth Anniversary Appeal. The average employe gift has jumped to 15.40. The company's 1957$ employe participation stood at 87 per cent and the average pledge was $12.09. The pledge this year totals 1,263.30.

"We're extremely proud of the fine job our employes have done for the United Fund this year," stated plant chairman Ted Pearson. "I hope it paves the way for others to follow."

Universal Oil Seal is the fis of the nine organizations in the Pontiac Manufacturers' Association to complete its 1958 employe solicitations.

UF officials are relying on community-wide acceptance of the yardstick giving scales to compensate for the areas in which a decrease in employment may cause a shrinkage in pledges.

The 55 health, welfare, recreation, child care and family service agencies included in this year's campaign will be forced to cut staff and service unless the total goal is met, according to Karl Bradley, executive director of the Fund.

Residents Hurt, Six Crewmen Believed Dead

Stricken Plane Barely Misses Marine Hospital Near Grosse Pointe

From Our News Wires

DETROIT — Investigators poked through ruins of a Detroit riverfront residential strip today seeking clues to a British jet bomber's fiery crash.

The big bomber, exploding in flight and endangering a hospital as it sheared off tree-tops, crashed in late afternoon yesterday on a combined good will and training mission from England.

Six crewmen were believed to have been killed. But no one on the ground, by seeming miracle, met death. Even injuries were few though about 20 homes were set on fire.

SEARCH FOR BODIES

Police and Coast Guardsmen searched all night and into the morning for remains of the airmen, blown to bits by three explosions. Sections of at least two bodies were recovered.

The Marine Hospital on the Detroit River near Grosse Pointe, a veterans facility, was in the direct path of the plunging plane but she crashed ahead of it. Witnesses said "a couple seconds more and she would have landed right in the middle of it."

Three homes were demolished. Another dozen were set afire and at least a score more were damaged in the downpour of flaming wreckage and blazing oil.

Almost unbelieveably, only two residents suffered serious enough injuries to require hospital treatment.

TRY FOR RIVER

Trailing smoke and flame, the triangular delta wing Vulcan roared tree-top high, clipping leaves and branches in an apparent desperate attempt to make the river.

But before it reached the water it blew apart with a tremendous explosion.

"It sounded like it would take the roof right off the house," said a witness. "There was this terrible thunderclap and then the plane burst into a big ball of fire. The whole sky turned red."

The British Air Ministry in London said the ship was from the 83rd Squadron of the Royal Air Force Bomber Command based at Waddington Air Base near Lincoln, England.

New Jersey Senator in Royal Oak

Sen. Case Praises Potter's Record

Sen. Clifford P. Case, (R-New Jersey) was chief speaker last night at a rally in Royal Oak staged on behalf of Sen. Charles E. Potter's campaign for re-election.

"This is the kind of Republican (Potter) that makes it satisfying to come many miles to help him back to Washington," Sen. Case told the gathering at Kimball High School.

"We Republicans never have to apologize for the kind of representation Charlie has given us. He has worked tirelessly for everyone in your great state," the 54-year-old visiting senator said.

Sen. Potter wasn't present to hear his fellow Republican senator praise his accomplishments in his first six years in Washington, as he was keeping a speaking engagement in Macomb County.

Among Potter's achievements, Case stressed, were his efforts to provide Michigan with government contracts to ward off distressed employment areas in the state.

Potter, the speaker went on, "has been in the forefront" too in the field of foreign affairs with his work on the Senate Appropriations Committee.

"The good of the country always comes first with him," Case said.

Sen. Case, serving his first term in the United States Senate after nine years in the U.S. House of Representatives, flew in from Washington. He was to fly back to New Jersey today after a talk to the Neopolitan Club in Pontiac.

In his talk in Royal Oak he voiced support for his party's stand on the protection of Quemoy, Matsu and other off-shore China islands.

He said this defense was "something worth keeping alive." He said he supported bigger defense spending in this direction, and urged Republicans "to get off the defensive" in supporting their foreign policy.

"We Republicans need more of an appreciation of the soundness of our foreign policies, and less of gloom and foreboding" he said.

Voters Brave Pain to Hear Candidates

An audience of Pontiac voters braved last night's downpour to gather in the Madison High School auditorium to hear political candidates of both the Democratic and Republican parties in a public forum.

The question-and-answer period ran fairly smoothly, although it saw Rep. Leslie Hudson charge Allan Meagher of "using the facts loosely." It was after Meagher blamed the Democratic administration in Michigan for "chasing industry out of the state" in answer to a question from the audience on the charge being made by the Republican party in their present campaign.

Meagher stated that the manufacturer's report, claiming that Michigan had actually gained 1,220 new industries during the past recession period, was trumped up and entirely inaccurate. He called the report the work of a private organization, filled with misstatements in an attempt to support the Democrats on this point.

The public forum was sponsored by the Pontiac Area Junior Chamber of Commerce as part of their "Get Out the Vote" campaign, as a public service. It was the first time that the Jaycees of the city had tackled an endeavor of this kind, and "We are satisfied with the results," Richard Hanson, forum chairman declared.

"We did get answers from both parties on some very pertinent questions," he said. Hanson noted that there were 35 queries posed by the audience, most of which were answered by candidates before the time ran out. This was in addition to 10 prepared questions posed by the forum committee.

The forum, which got under way shortly after 8 p.m. lasted until 10 p.m.

On the firing line were Lt. Gov. Philip A. Hart (D-candidate for Michigan senator), State Rep. Leslie H. Hudson (D-18th District candidate for U.S. House of Representatives), Leo P. Meagher (D-candidate for the 12th District seat in the State Senate), U. S. Rep. William S. Broomfield (R-incumbent for 18th District seat), State Sen. L. Harvey Lodge (R-incumbent for 12th District seat), and Allan G. Weatherwax (R-candidate for state treasurer).

Clyde Haskill, Jaycee president served as moderator for the public forum.

Representatives of both political parties asserted that they fully supported the proposal for a Michigan Constitutional Convention which will be decided by voters in the Nov. 4 election. They generally feel that the state constitution is outdated and in need of changes at this time.

Pontiac Police Suspect Hoax

Hold 2 Men After Tip That Holdup and Return of $95 a 'Phony'

Police are holding two men for investigation, asserting that a recently reported gas station robbery and the later return of the money reportedly taken was all a hoax, and that the holdup never occurred.

Kenneth W. Halpin, 19, of 37 N. Sanford St., attendant at an Auburn Ave., gas station, was arrested by police yesterday. He had told police that he was robbed of $95 at pistol point by a lone bandit the evening of Oct. 10.

Police are also holding Glennon L. Lovelace, 19, 2437 Snellbrook Rd., Pontiac Township. Halpin told police he handed the money over to Lovelace that night.

The pair told Detective Orville Johnston they plotted to take the money because Lovelace was behind in his car payments.

The holdup money was returned at 4:30 a.m. last Saturday when Lovelace drove up to the Clark Oil Station, 328 S. Telegraph Rd., Sylvan Lake, and threw out an envelope containing $95 and a note which read:

"This is money from Auburn station robbery. Have bills paid for now. Get in touch with Pontiac police."

Detective Johnson said an anonymous phone call told them the holdup was a hoax. They claim the two men held for investigation admit the plot.

Ike Asks Reds to Join in Ban

Urges Year Suspension of Atom Missile Tests Starting Oct. 31

WASINGTON (UPI) — President Eisenhower called on Russia today to join the United States and Great Britain six days from now in a one-year suspension of nuclear weapons tests while the East and West discuss a permanent test ban.

The President repeated a proposal he first made Aug. 22 that the three atomic powers meet on an ambassadorial level at Geneva Oct. 31 to negotiate suspension of tests under international control. He proposed that all three agree to a one-year test ban dating from the start of the conference.

Russia tentatively accepted the Oct. 31 date but proposed that the conference be on a foreign ministers' level. Britain and the United States rejected that, but left the way open for attendance by foreign ministers later.

In today's statement President Eisenhower construed the Soviet position as failure to accept the U.S.-British proposal for an ambassadorial level meeting.

The President pointed out that both Britain and the United States have now declared "willingness to suspend tests" and begin the conference.

"It thus lies with the Soviet Union to decide whether on Oct. 31 all countries wich have tested nuclear weapons will have voluntarily suspended testing," he said.

The President said "The United States regrets that the Soviet Union has not accepted the offer of the United States and the United Kingdom" to start negotiations and suspend tests.

But he added: "We still hope that it will do so."

Both the United States and Russia have been conducting nuclear weapons tests this fall but the magnitude of the Soviet program is vastly greater than the Americans. Just one of Russia's recent test shots packed more than 10 times more power than the entire U.S. series.

Bare Gambling Ring on U. of M. Campus

ANN ARBOR (AP) — Police announced today the breakup of a football gambling racket on the University of Michigan campus which took in upward of $10,000 weekly from students.

Three students are to be charged formally Monday with conspiracy to violate state gaming laws, police said.

An investigation reportedly has been going on for four weeks.

Detective Lt. George Stauch said a "leak" had hampered the investigation. He said otherwise more persons would face charges.

Cardinal Mooney Dies Suddenly in Rome

been staying there since his arrival.

Edward Cardinal Mooney was created a cardinal in the great 1946 postwar consistory at which the late Pope Pius XII created 32 princes of the church.

The Vatican Press Office confirmed that Cardinal Mooney's death would not delay the opening of the conclave.

GATHER FOR VOTE

Even as the Detroit prelate died, his colleagues were beginning to gather at the Vatican palace for the procession to the conclave area. They will be locked later today to elect the new supreme pontiff of the Roman Catholic Church. The first vote is scheduled for Sunday morning.

Cardinal Mooney was a popular prelate. In Rome there were those who still remembered him in 1946 when he became a prince of the church. He like to joke and quip about the Detroit Tigers. Baseball was one of his favorite subjects.

But this was for lighter moments. The famed prelate was especially noted in the church for his supervision of the important Detroit archdiocese, one of the largest in the United States, and for his mission in India as apostolic delegate in 1926, which signaled the start of his reputation as a great organizer.

Cardinal Mooney was born at Mount Save, in the archdiocese of Baltimore May 9, 1882. He was ordained a priest April 10, 1909.

He was given the personal title of archbishop Aug. 28, 1933, and became archbishop of Detroit Aug. 3, 1937.

Irregularities Found in Voting Procedure

LANSING (AP) — Secretary of State James M. Hare says a survey of the state's local election machinery shows it is being sloppily run in many communities.

The survey, by a special task force of about 85 investigators, is about one-third complete.

Hare told newsmen yesterday irregularities in election practices and procedures followed by city and township clerks turned up in about one-fourth of more than 400 places visited.

"This is a pretty sad situation," he observed.

Generally, the irregularities involved comparatively minor points. None that has come to light appeared to indicate criminal conduct, he said.

Crash Shocks English Mayor

Men on Ill-Fated Jet Listed as Missing in Hopes Any Survived

LINCOLN, England (AP)— Mayor Leslie Priestley said today he was deeply shocked and grieved at the Detroit crash of a Royal Air Force Vulcan jet-bomber.

The plane was carrying a letter from Mayor Priestley to the mayor of Lincoln, Neb. With the letter Priestley sent photographs of this English cathedral city.

Mayor Priestly said another Vulcan jet brought him a letter from the mayor of the Nebraska Lincoln last June.

The giant delta winged jet was on a training flight intended to give its six-man crew experience of long range operation. It was the crew's first trip to the United States.

A RAF spokesman said the men were officially posted as missing on the faint hope that at least one had time to use his ejector seat and parachute safely.

Reports that the plane carried a bomb were not true, he said.

The plane's captain was Flight Lt. John Willoughby Moore, 34. He held the Air Force Cross for devotion to duty.

Other crewmen were named as:

Flight Lt. Brian Peacock, 27, co-pilot.

Squadron Leader H. J. Scull, 35, navigator.

Flight Lt. James Donald Watson, 33, radar navigator.

Flying Officer A. D. Baker, 23, electronics officer.

Chief Technician E. C. Evison, 32, maintenance crew chief.

The plane came from the RAF's 83 Squadron stationed at Waddington, Lincolnshire. Another Vulcan from the same squadron crashed in Britain seven weeks ago.

VREDENBURG, South Africa (AP) — South African Defense Minister Francois C. Erasmus said here Friday that the Russian loan to Egypt for construction of the Aswan Dam was the heaviest blow the Western Powers had yet received in Africa.

Russia has done what the United States and Britain refused to do and has thus found a foothold and anchor in Africa, Erasmus stated. "It is a black day for us," he added.

Weather Menu — Helping of Sun Between Rains

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Showers dampened opposite corners of the country today—the Northeast and the Southwest—but a big slice of sunshine was sandwiched in between and provided rather pleasant autumn weather.

While chilly temperatures produced snow in upper elevations of Montana and New Hampshire, the weather was not severe elsewhere. Cloudiness associated with the rain in the Northeast extended westward through the Great Lakes region.

Cooler weather moved across most of the Northeast and extended southward through Middle Atlantic sections. To the West, the cool pattern reached as far south as Kansas, Missouri and the Ohio Valley.

Little change in temperature occurred elsewhere except for some warming in the Pacific Northwest and some cooling in Montana.

Dies in Hail of Gunfire After Wounding 4

Berserk Ex-Con Kills 3 Women

LINCOLNTON, N. C. (UPI)—An ex-convict tenant farmer went on a berserk rampage yesterday, killed three women and wounded four other persons. He died, his body riddled by sheriffs' bullets, eight hours after his reign of terror began.

Leroy Cook, 28, described as "just plain mean," was cornered last night by sheriff's deputies. He was able to fire one blast from his shotgun, which wounded Sheriff Frank Heavener.

Then, said Deputy Grady Fisk, Cook "died in a blaze of gunfire. It looked like a small war. I could never say which shot hit him first. There were a lot of them."

Cook sank to the ground behind a huge oak tree. He was rushed to a hospital but was pronounced dead on arrival.

The grim search for Cook began Friday morning after he shot and killed his wife Rachel, 22, and his sister-in-law, Mrs. Jeannette Cook, at his farm home.

As he was fleeing Cook chanced upon Mr. and Mrs. George Smith and their daughter Marjorie, 16. Cook shot and killed Mrs. Smith and wounded the daughter while Smith stood by in helpless horror.

By this time Cleveland County Prison guard Joe Godley and an unidentified trusty had picked up Cook's trail with bloodhounds. They cornered him but Cook turned and shot Godley in the side, wounding him slightly.

The trusty had to leave Godley behind. He was later credited with much of the success in cornering Cook the second time, at a lumber plant about 11 miles from Lincolnton.

For an hour and a half officers waited. Then, moving in from all sides, they blasted away at Cook. The single blast from his shotgun sent pellets into Heavener's head, chest and legs and pellets also struck Deputy J. D. Williams in the head and shoulder.

Heavener was hospitalized for observation but Williams and Godley, the prison guard, were released after treatment. Marjorie Smith was reported in "poor but not serious" condition at a local hospital.

Officers were unable to find out why Cook went on his gory rampage. Some relatives said that the young farmer, who once served a prison term for wife-beating, had "mental trouble."

But Ambrose Hoyle, father of Cook's slain wife, said he was "just plain mean."

Jet Bomber Rams Homes in Detroit

Pointe Park with its large Lake St. Clair estates.

Exploding fuel tanks of the four-engine bomber sprayed a five-block area. A number of persons reported slight injuries.

Mr. and Mrs. Otto Ewald were in their home when a fragment of the plane plowed into it. Ewald, 72, managed to get out, but a stuck door trapped his 65-year-old wife. A neighbor, Michael Durkin, came to their aid.

'SHE'S ON FIRE'

"Mrs. Ewald was screaming for help," Durkin said. "She was on fire. Their dog was on fire too."

Between them, Durkin and Ewald freed the woman.

She and her husband were taken to a hospital. The Collie dog, Lassie, was found safe, cooling her singed tail in a nearby canal.

NEWSBOY HURT

A 12-year-old boy, Doyle King, who had just completed his paper route and was standing in front of a trailer court three blocks from the wreck, was hit in his back with a section of metal pipe. He required first aid.

A team of Royal Air Force investigators flew here from England today to determine what caused the crash.

Military personnel from nearby Selfridge Air Force Base said the British investigators should arrive within hours. The U.S. Air Force will aid in the investigation only if its help is requested by the RAF.

Eyewitness Account:

Horrible Roar, Bomber Hits Homes

(Mrs. Helen d'Eath, 44, watched a four-jet British RAF bomber plunge out of rainy Detroit skies and crash into a group of frame homes bordering the Detroit River Friday. Here is her story as told to United Press International.)

By Mrs. Helen d'Eath

DETROIT (UPI)—I saw it come down, it came right over my head and I said 'My God, that plane's going to crash' and then it did.

My husband, Al (regional chairman of the American Power Boat Assn., and I were preparing to go shopping. I had just stepped outside of the house when I heard a loud noise, so I looked up.

It was coming down at an angle and at first I thought it was going to crash into our home.

Then I heard a terrific explosion and saw a big ball of fire. I didn't actually see the plane hit any of the homes, but I saw that big fire from my home (about a block from the crash site).

I told Al 'Let's go and help those people' and we tried to take the jeep so we might be able to take someone out of there, but we couldn't go anywhere in the jeep because suddenly there was a big traffic jam.

When we got there I saw that the plane had smashed into Mrs. Florence Kay's house. It threw metal all over and some of the pieces broke windows as far as a block away.

I could hear glass breaking, but I didn't see anybody get out of the plane.

It was a horrible roar. I guess the pilot was trying to make the river.

It's a good thing Mrs. Kay and her husband (Ivan) weren't in the house or they would have been killed.

WHERE JET CRASHED — Firemen fight flames in ruins of homes on Detroit's east side after a Royal Air Force jet bomber crashed in flames on the riverfront. The plane was a Delta Wing Vulcan en route from Goose Bay, Labrador, to Lincoln Air Force Base, Neb. It's fuel tanks exploded as it struck.

Williams Out for Wayne Votes

Lashes GOP Control of State Legislature as 'Blocking Progress'

DETROIT (AP) — Gov. Williams stepped up his re-election campaigning in industrial Wayne County today, an area he's expected to concentrate on now until the Nov. election.

Williams delivered a major television address last night in Detroit. He lashed out at the Republican-dominated Legislature and promised a 10-point program of improvements if Democrats win a legislative majority.

He called on voters to break a "Republican monopoly" which he claimed had crippled progress in Michigan for 20 years.

"Michigan is a Democratic state," he said, "It makes no sense in a Democratic state that the making of laws should be a Republican monopoly."

Williams said a Democratic majority in the Lgislature will mean progress in 10 areas where he said the Republican majority had blocked progress.

"First of all, we can have a diversified Michigan economy . . . so we won't be at the mercy of every downturn in the auto industry," he said.

Williams said the GOP legislature cut funds for the department of economic development so it couldn't do its job of bringing in new industry.

Detroit Reports Total of 613 Polio Cases

DETROIT (AP) — Detroit's 1958 polio epidemic case load reached 613 yesterday with the reporting of one new case. There have been 20 deaths.

New cases reported in Detroit this week totaled 22, the lowest number since the last week of July when the epidemic started.

Detroit recorded 175 polio cases and two deaths last year.

State health officials said a total of 1,078 polio cases have been reported in Michigan this year compared to 470 last year. A total of 57 new polio cases were reported throughout the state this week.

Politeal Pitfalls Are Many

Specific Rules Govern Conduct of Campaigns

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The election campaign has reached the white-heat stage, as witness the exchange of invective by bigwigs of both parties. But that doesn't mean anything goes in politics.

There is the matter of name-calling, for example. Any candidate inclined to malign his opponent must do it in the open. There is no federal law against name-calling as such but there is a strict ban against the anonymous variety.

In addition, all anonymous political literature is taboo. So far as Uncle Sam is concerned, the literature can be as dirty as the state slander and libel laws allow, so long as the name of the sponsor is attached.

And a candidate can get in trouble over anonymous political literature even without sending it out himself. The law says that if he caused it to be sent, or even knew it was being sent, he can be fined and sent to jail.

Each candidate for the Senate and House has received from the government a pamphlet listing ways how not to win an election—if he wants to stay out of trouble.

It warned each to keep an accurate account of the campaign money he receives and spends, his first report on this to be filed with Congress not less than 10 days and no more than 15 days before the election Nov. 4.

And whether he wins or loses, he must, within 30 days after the election, file a complete accounting.

With campaign money scarce this year, there does not seem much danger of candidates spending more than the law allows, and ways of getting around the law are too well known. But for the record, the candidate had better stick to the limits established by law—three cents for each voter in the last election for the post the candidate seeks.

In any case, a candidate cannot spend more than $25,000 to get elected to the Senate, and $5,000 for a House seat.

Candidates also were warned not to take a contribution from any person holding or negotiating a contract with the federal government. It is unlawful to receive such a gift and also to give it.

Direct gifts from corporations, national banks and labor unions also are illegal. And still another untouchable source is persons on relief or receiving unemployment compensation. Don't ask or take a cent from them.

Finally, a candidate must make no promise of federal jobs in exchange for political support. The law is very specific in this area, although it sometimes may not be strictly enforced.

Baby Killed, 8 Injured in 3-Car Collision

MUNISING (AP) — Seven-month-old Stephen Bond of Montreal, Canada, was killed and at least eight persons were injured yesterday in a three-car collision near here.

The child's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Bond, were hospitalized with serious injuries.

Police said the collision, on M28, about a mile and a half east of Munising, apparently was caused when a carload of six Michigan Tech students skidded on the rain-slick highway, sideswiped one car and then crashed headon into the Canadian vehicle.

It Seems to Me. . .

IAPA Strives for Freedom of the Press in South America

Here are some random thoughts and impressions following a few days in Rio de Janeiro and Buenos Aires:

We were in Rio on election day and everything in the city was closed tightly. This applied to retail outlets, manufacturing plants and even schools.

"Are you voting today?" I asked an English speaking driver.

He smiled. "I certainly am. Everyone does."

"They don't in my country," I confessed.

He looked incredulous. "Aren't they fined in court as we are here?". And of course, I had to admit they weren't. "And furthermore," he finished grimly, "if the excuse isn't a good one, the judges hand out a short jail sentence instead of a fine."

The U. S. A. can hang its head.

Many people think of Rio and Buenos Aires as "next door," but they're 1,400 miles apart, or further than from here to Denver.

"Saginaw Street" in Rio was the widest main drag I ever glimpsed and I commented on it so many times the driver finally said reluctantly: "I might as well tell you. This is only the second widest in the world. The widest is the one you see next week in Buenos Aires."

He was right.

Their "Saginaw Street" named "Avenue July Ninth" is 300 feet across.

I was in South America to attend the annual meeting of the Inter-American Press Association. One of our primary objectives is Freedom of the Press which is still a strenuous and unending battle in South America. Dictators are foes of the printed word. They abhor publicity unless they dictate the sentiments themselves and they crack down on newspapers accordingly.

The I. A. P. A. is fighting to free newspapers and struggling to give all of South America a part of the freedom that we enjoy here and which we appreciate so little. The I. A. P. A. is cordially despised in dictator nations.

And we're proud of the fact.

Another main objective is to promote a better feeling and understanding between North and South America. The newspapers decided it was time we did a little hard work on our own hemisphere instead of stewing everlastingly over the Asiatics, Europeans and Africas.

The Association sends about ten students a year to college ($2,500). North Americans who can speak Spanish are given the college of their choice in South America; and South Americans who can speak English are given the same selection in the United States.

We are convinced that after this neighborly year, each will better understand the lives and problems of the other.

It's purely a goodwill move.

Rio and Buenos Aires are big cities. Rio is a third larger than Detroit and Buenos Aires is probably more than twice Detroit's population.

In Rio, we drove to dinner with Fred Trozier, head of the Associated Press in those regions. "This," said he, "is one of the most expensive cars you ever rode in."

It was a 1957 Oldsmobile.

The price was $13,000.

Import duties are almost prohibitive. At that, I saw two '57 fuel injection Pontiacs in Rio. They must have cost a pretty penny unless they belonged to official government families. Ambassadors and such can bring in their own cars tax free and they're the envy of the nation.

The beef down there was super. They say the secret lies in the fact their cows finish on grass, whereas up here we fatten them at the end with corn.

We had lunch with President FRONDIZI who is an active and assertive individual. And believe me, he's "well protected."

Wages and prices are far, far below ours; but it's a picturesque and attractive land with a bright future ahead.

Even so, you can give me the U. S. A. — and Michigan — and Pontiac.

And in Conclusion . . . . . .

Gleanings from the well-thumbed notebook of your peripatetic reporter:

Did you hear about the Texan who was so rich he bought his dog a little boy? . . . . . Recently a marriage authority said every wife has a right to be taken out to dinner once a week . . . . . Princeton University scientists completed an atomic energy clock that's about the size of a typewriter. It's guaranteed to be right within one second after the lapse of 100 years . . . . . For the past five years Canasta has been the number one card game in the U.S. (hours played) but bridge is recapturing the lead.

BRUCE D. BROMLEY, former Pontiac resident, and now a well-known New York lawyer, is a new director of I.B.M. . . . . An Atlantic vacation spot sent out a publicity release that was supposed to conclude: "A wonderful place to spend an adventurous weekend." It appeared: "A wonderful place to spend an adulterous weekend." . . . . . JASON L. (JACK) HONIGMAN, Republican candidate for Attorney General, is a brother-in-law of Pontiac's own MEYER SIMON.

A pre season canvass suggests the following as the top TV shows of the new season: "Wagon Train," PERRY COMO, "Desilu Playhouse," "Gunsmoke," GARRY MOORE, "Price Is Right," "This Is Your Life," ANN SOTHERN, "WYATT EARP," "RESTLESS GUN," "MARK of ZORRO" and PHIL SILVERS. Where are "What's my Line," RED SKELTON and "To Tell the Truth?" I was disappointed with the GARRY MOORE show Tuesday night but it probably improved after I tuned it out. And when all's said and done, The TV Gal I'd Rather Have Lunch With—is POLLY BERGEN.

Hollywood Third Grader: "My pop can lick your pop." 'Nother H.T.G.: "He can not! My pop IS your pop" . . . . . Oakland Citizens League came up with a well studied list of preferred candidates for the November election . . . . . New York reviewers pronounce the current Ice Capades the top ice show of all time.

The POWER of FAITH

by Howard Brodie

A Japanese who once hated Americans has been turned by faith in God to the love of all mankind. The Japanese is Captain Mitsuo Fuchida, leader of the air attack on Pearl Harbor, who was once tried as a war criminal and acquitted.

After the war, in the countryside of Japan, he began to think of peace. He wondered what could transform hatred into brotherly love. Then a returning prisoner told him of a Christian American girl who ministered to him in camp, even though her parents had been killed by the Japanese. Also, he learned how the hatred of a Doolittle bombardier had turned to love while reading the Bible in a Japanese prison.

Fuchida bought a Bible. Reading Christ's words on the cross, "Father, forgive them for they know not what they do," he knew Christ was the power to transform hatred into love. He became a devoted Christian. Today, he preaches to his countrymen, and heads the Sky Pilots of America in Japan, a leading Christian youth organization.

Days of All Faiths

Luther Revolted 441 Years Ago

By DR. HOWARD V. HARPER

Four hundred forty-one years ago next Friday Martin Luther startled and fascinated the throngs of pilgrims who were gathered for All Saints Day in the German town of Wittenberg by marching up to the door of Castle Church and nailing up his famous 95 Theses.

Church doors in those days served as the community bulletin board. The "theses" were arguments against current practices of the church. Luther wanted to express himself about his disagreement with some of the things the church was doing, and he couldn't have found a better place or a better time. The town was full of people and they would all be going to church. His statements were sure to get attention.

Luther, himself a monk, was criticizing the church of which he was a member in good standing. He had no idea of breaking with it or leaving it, but things were soon beyond his control and the Reformation, the greatest crisis in the history of organized Christianity, was on.

The unity of Christendom had been broken five centuries earlier (1054) when East (Constantinople) and West (Rome) split apart, each taking its millions of followers. Now the West was shattered by the blows of Luther's hammer, not just split in two but torn into many divisions.

What had so unexpectedly happened was the beginning of a process that is still going on — a revolt against authority. Luther believed, and those who came after him expanded the belief, that a Christian of informed mind and sensitive conscience needs no authoritative church to guide him. Every man, assuming his sincerity, can have his own direct encounter with God and can form his own pattern of response to that encounter.

UNION SERVICES

The effect of this approach to religion over the past four centuries has been immeasurable. In celebration, Protestants have given Reformation Day a festival of its own: the last Sunday in October.

Usually the day features union Protestant services under the auspices of the local Council of Churches or the Ministerial Association, though the Lutherans frequently take the lead in such arrangements. The National Council of Churches publishes a suggested order of service for the occasion.

PILATE'S WIFE

Finishing up his second letter to Timothy, St. Paul says "Eubulus greeteth thee, and Pudens, and Linus, and Claudia, and all the brethern." (Second Timothy, chapter 4, verse 21) Tradition holds that this Claudia was the wife of Pontius Pilate, and that Linus was her cousin. Linus followed St. Peter as bishop of Rome.

It may seem strange to find St. Paul in the company of these relatives of the man who condemned the Lord to crucifixion, but there has always been a strong and persistent legendry about Pilate's wife and her leanings toward Christianity.

Dr. William Brady's Mailbag:

'Chewing Tobacco' Mix—Well, You Asked for It!

"Your recipe for homemade chewing tobacco, please, if it is still available. (B.R.)"

Answer: Perhaps you refer to the substitute for chewing tobacco: Mix an ounce or so each of sassafras bark, gentian root and prickly ash bark, all ground to coarse powder. Add enough licorice paste or extract to bind the mixture in a mass of the consistency of chewing tobacco. Use as a substitute for chewing tobacco. Well, you asked for it.

"When I was a boy my parents had a book by a Dr. Kneip who advocated knee baths, sitz baths etc., and especially walking barefoot in wet grass or fresh fallen snow . . . (M.J.R.)"

Answer: It was a German priest named Father Kneipp, about a century ago. The baths can do no harm. Walking barefoot in wet grass or in the snow is fun, too, but it is silly to ascribe curative effects to such diversions.

"For four years have had an intense craving for (a sugared product of wheat), eating an average of a package a day, dry, and I like it right after finishing a big meal. Doctors say it won't hurt me, but do not tell me how to overcome the hbit. I am 34, anemic, nervous, highstrung. . . . . (Mrs. E.H.M.)

Answer: Are you overweight? Have you had urine and blood sugar tests? You should. Such abnormal craving for carbohydrate seems to disappear after the associated moderate vitamin shortage is corrected, in many instances. Send stamped envelope bearing your address, and ask for the FREE pamphlet Wheat to Eat.

"Is it all right for me to continue daily Ca and D supplement during pregnancy? It has done me so much good . . . (Mrs. T.D., R.N.)"

Answer: Not only all right but extra calcium and vitamin D is more essential for an expectant or nursing mother than for any one else. Send stamped, self-addressed envelope for pamphlet Calcium and Pregnancy; enclose 35c in addition if you want the booklet Preparing for Maternity.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not disease, diagnosis, or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

Voice of the People

Let's Keep Halloweeners in Their Own Communities

Is there anything we can do to keep our children in our own community this Halloween?

Each year there are from two to three hundred children out begging on the holiday, children from one to 20 years old. When questioned, many of them admit to coming from the other side of town.

For one thing, we can't afford to give so much. We like to have candy or apples for the few we know in this subdivision or our friends' children, but can't compete with the many who come from other towns.

A few even get abusive and destructive when we run out of treats. Last year we had to be away from home because of a death in the family. It took us several days to repair the damage done.

Let's hear from other mothers (and grandmothers, like me) about this.

Grumpy Gram

Ex-Mental Patient to Be Dishonest?"

Judges who advocate beds not in use for the mounting list of mentally ill patients is perpetuating one of the greatest frauds in the history of medicine. There is no such hokum as mental illness.

Eventually enlightened physicians must realize that mild and severe forms of mental aberrations invariably are organic in nature, caused by upsetting the delicate chemical balance of a man's physiology. The public's immediate concern should be for the type of incarceration going on today in the name of humanitarian care.

As an ex-patient who served time behind the walls of nameless terror and recovered (nervous breakdown) without the aid of "head boys," I was shocked by the silent, maddening confinement of the human warehouses known as state hospitals.

Frankly, there is very little treatment. If one can sweat it out and maintain a semblance of sanity until he is released by the impersonal system of a mental institution, chances of returning to normal living are good. However, many unfortunates have been driven mad or into a twilight existence by the very environment of these hospital prisons. Let's spend money to keep people from entering the fantastic world of state asylums.

Legally, patients have been sent to prison for the crime of becoming ill. The judges and psychiatrists should spend one week locked in a ward to fully experience the state-supported hell they so righteously, but ignorantly, want to preserve.

No Name Yet for Fear of Consequences

'Was '21' Proved to Be Dishonest?"

The TV program Twenty One seems to have left the air. Was it proved dishonest?

I understand the listening audience almost evaporated. I thought it was wonderful and absolutely honest.

Curious

'Oosterbaan Foes Just Poor Sports'

When Michigan tied Michigan State Bennie Oosterbaan was just wonderful. Then when Michigan was badly beaten by Northwestern, Bennie was the victim of some poor losers. You would think college sportsmanship would lead the parade instead of looking as bad as this.

The wolves haven't started shooting at the Lions' coaching staff and their team looks a lot worse than Michigan and it's a pro outfit.

College should teach gentlemanly qualities along with the other things.

One Who Didn't Go

'After His Actions, How Can He Talk?'

So much is being said and written these days about foreign policies of the present administration by the opposition party.

I happen to remember the time during the Chinese Civil War when Truman sent Gen. George Marshall as special envoy to China to tell the president of that republic what to do or else and the Chinese president didn't agree to it so Truman's foreign policy ordered supplies, food and munitions withheld for the Nationalists.

So we have the Red Chinese in control of the mainland of China and they are shooting their brothers on the off-shore islands. I wonder how Truman can stand up and criticize a man who has done so much to eliminate bloodshed in the nations of the world.

'Why No Pictures of MSU Members?'

I wonder if the editors of our Press are graduates of U. of M. or just good fans. Twice in my recollection pictures of U. of M. band boys from Pontiac have been featured in our paper. What has happened to the representatives of Pontiac attending MSU, or I wonder from all the attention they get, if there are any.

Certainly neither college is so superior to completely ignore the presence of Pontiac boys attending them. How about some pictures of the MSU band boys from our fair city?

Marilyn Bell
186 Liberty St.

(Editor's Note: The Pontiac Press is happy to use pictures of band members from any of the colleges. However, those pictures are sent to us from the schools and we can use only those that are the most suitable for printing and which consist mostly of Pontiac boys. Unfortunately, those we have received from Michigan State have been too small to reproduce well or contain pictures of too many boys from outside this area.)

Case Records of a Psychologist:

What Was Reason for Crucifixion?

Donald asks the most vital question I have ever answerd in this educational column, so be sure to scrapbook this case and discuss it at church tomorrow: Invention applies not just to gadgets like the electric light and TV, but also to ideas, so Christ came to show us human beings an entirely new concept of God. Calvary has never ben duplicatd in ANY other religion:

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

CASE Z - 354: Donald G., aged 19, is a college sophomore who attended a convocation at Florida Southern College which I addressed earlier this year.

DR. CRANE

"Dr. Crane," he began after my talk, "I have a question I wish you could answer for me.

"Clergymen say Christ died to give us forgiveness for our sins. But couldn't God have forgiven our sins without demanding that his Son be crucified?

"When Jesus met the man who was sick of the palsy, the Bible quotes Christ as saying: 'Thy sins be forgiven thee.'

"So Jesus didn't demand that somebody die in order to win such forgiveness.

"Surely God would be more charitable than us human beings and we also forgive each other without demanding the death penalty every time."

WHY CHRIST DIED

Donald is a smart young man and raises a widespread question that deserves to be answered.

He is quite right, too, in saying God could have said: "I forgive you erring human children," and we'd have been forgiven, without the need for Christ's crucifixion.

Then why did Jesus go to Calvary?

To introduce an entirely new thought into religion! And it could NOT have been done without Christ's death!

I'll abridge 10,000 years of history by reminding you that all primitive tribes developed their own local gods.

These deities were ALWAYS looked upon as severe judges and absolute dictators who took an almost sadistic delight in striking down us human beings with lightning bolts if we deviated one iota from their ritual.

Thus, Thor and Woden, of the Scandinavians, were ready to incinerate people for any minor flaw.

And the gods of the Persians and Hindu, the Greeks and Romans, the American Indians and the African natives were likewise regarded as demanding constant appeasement.

So people sacrificed rice and wine, or even human beings as offerings to allay the ill will of deity.

Even the ancient Hebrews offered doves and lambs and bullocks as sacrifices to win the favor of Jehovah from day to day.

GOD'S DESPAIR

Apparently, God despaired that we would ever get over this false notion that he was a vindictive, cruel dictator.

He had told us in the first book of the Bible that we were his children, made in his own likeness, and he expected us to look upon Him as a loving father.

But nobody did so! As a final resort, therefore, he reversed the universal habit of having human beings sacrifice to win the favor of deities, for God sacrificed to win the favor of us erring human children.

That was unique in all world history! God sacrificed to man!

No other religion had EVER described its deity as sacrificing to us human followers. So it was a radically new concept in religion!

And until Christ made this supreme sacrifice, nobody had ever thought of the idea nor would have believed it possible.

So Christ's death was primarily to prove a new point regarding the extensiveness of God's love for his human children, and not primarily to grant us forgiveness.

For God could easily have said, "I forgive you," just as Christ did to the man with the palsy, without demanding a Calvary.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 4c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

Reds Spending $3.5 Billion on 'Mouthpieces'

The annual budget for the United States Information Agency is roughly $100 million.

For just one of their propaganda efforts — the instruction and production of 325,000 expert Communist propogandists each year—the Soviet Union and Red China spend an estimated $3½ billion annually.

Viewers of "The Twentieth Century" will witness the methods and the efforts of Soviet propaganda first-hand when the award-winning documentary series presents "The Red Sell," its special, two-part report on Communist propaganda this Sunday and again on Nov. 2 on the CBS Television Network, channel 2.

The job of mass persuasion and distortion of fact requires professionals indoctrinated in the classics of Communism, the report stresses. Their training is entrusted to thousands of special propaganda schools situated in almost every city and village in the Soviet Union.

Under the administrative wing of "Agitprop," a subdivision of the Central Committee of the Soviet Communist Party, these schools (duplicated in Red China) produce 325,000 trained propagandists every year. The cost: an estimated $3½ billion. But this is only one aspect of Communist propaganda.

Other startling statistics uncovered on "The Red Sell" include:

1. Russia spends more to jam broadcasts of the Voice of America than the United States spends to operate it. What's more, Russia has devised thirteen different jamming methods.
2. The Soviet Union alone publishes 30,000,000 books a year in dozens of languages, expensively produced and cheaply sold, extolling Communism and attacking the West.
3. Last year's Moscow Youth Festival boasted 34,000 participants from 131 countries. It cost $100 million, more than the entire annual budget for the U.S.I.A.
4. Communist presses are busily producing books of nursery rhymes in many Indian languages picturing the United States as an evil wolf.
5. Communist China broadcasts 241 hours a week in 16 languages and dialects — 66 hours and three languages more than the Voice of America from Okinawa and Manila.
6. Last year Red China produced more than a billion and a half books, 600 periodicals and 57 daily newspapers.

Viewers of "The Red Sell" will see how these propaganda outlets operate in Part I, "The Propaganda Mill." Their effects will be shown in Part II, "Report From the Targets."

"The Twentieth Century" is produced for the Public Affairs Department of CBS News by Burton Benjamin. Isaac Kleinerman is Associate Producer. The narrator is CBS News Correspondent Walter Cronkite.

The series is sponsored by the Prudential Insurance Company of America.

Widow Has Choice of Welfare or Car

OLEAN, N.Y. (AP)—A widowed mother of seven must decide whether to keep a foreign car she won in a drawing or give up welfare assistance for her family.

A drive is under way among the populace to let her keep both. More than 500 names have been put on a petition posted in a store.

Mrs. Frank Marshall, 38, said today she wants to keep the car, a German single-seater, and is trying to find a job to help support her children. They are 4 to 17 years of age.

Welfare Department officials said they would give her reasonable time to decide.

Under state law, she must convert the car to cash and turn the money over to the department if she continues on relief.

The Welfare Department pays Mrs. Marshall $140 a month in the winter and $100 in summer. She also receives $166.20 a month for social security as a widow with minor children.

U. N. Day Concert Features Casals on Sunday TV

The United Nations Day concert, marking the 13th anniversary of the founding of the international body and featuring world-renowned cellist Pablo Casals, will be presented over CBS tomorrow at 11 a.m. to 12:30 p.m.

The special concert actually took place in the General Assembly Hall of the United Nations on Friday, and was recorded on videotape by the network for presentation as a 90-minute special program this Sunday.

The concert will open with a playing of Honegger's Fifth Symphony, Charles Munch conducting. This will be followed by a brief U.N. Day message by U.N. Secretary-General Dag Hammerskjold. Then Casals and Mieczyslaw Horszowski will play Bach's Sonata Number 2 in D Major for Cello and Piano.

The 90-minute concert will be presented as a special program in the CBS Television Network's "U.N. In Action" series.

Joan Fontaine Held in Contempt of Court

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP)—Actress Joan Fontaine has been held in contempt of court for not consulting her ex-husband about their 9-year-old daughter's schooling.

But the judge indicated Friday he might clear her of the charge if she and television producer William Dozier can work out differences over care of their daughter, Debra.

Dozier contended Miss Fontaine had deprived him of visiting rights by taking the child out of a private school in Los Angeles and enrolling her in a public school at Lake Arrowhead.

Miss Fontaine now married to film producer Collier H. Young, testified the move was necessary because she and the girl are suffering from infectious mononucleosis, a blood disease.
