

Monday, April 19, 2010

Kresge Library extends hours during final exam week

Oakland University's Kresge Library will be open for extended hours this week during final exams in order to accommodate student requests for additional study hours. The library will be open until 2 a.m. starting Sunday, April 18, thru Wednesday, April 21.

In partnership with the OU Athletics Department, the library will provide free coffee and cookies for students from 5 p.m. to close on Sunday, April 18 through Monday, April 26.

Kresge Library will also host a free Peet's Coffee Tasting in the Library lobby from 9-1 a.m. and 1-4 p.m. on Tuesday, April 20. Students will be able to sample multiple types of coffee such as Fair Trade, Organic, and House blends. Additionally students will have the opportunity to win giveaways and provide feedback on this brand.

SUMMARY

Oakland University's Kresge Library will have extended hours this week during final exams in order to accommodate student requests for additional study hours.

Created by Katherine Land - Deleted (land@oakland.edu) on Monday, April 19, 2010

Modified by Katherine Land - Deleted (land@oakland.edu) on Monday, April 19, 2010

Article Start Date: Monday, April 19, 2010