City Schools Ask $7,864,230 Budget

List Projects Meant to Keep Expenditures at Minimum

By HAROLD S. COHEN

A "hold-the-line" budget of $7,864,230 was presented to the Pontiac Board of Education last night by the school administration staff.

An increase of $285,711 from the current budget, the tentative 1958-59 package holds the per pupil spending level to the same figure of $388 as now.

A step by step evaluation of the budget by board members was made last night with administrators explaining the items they are responsible for.

It soon became evident that the proposed budget is more of a belt-tightening one than a "hold-the-line" type.

In order to absorb the increased costs from the opening of Pontiac Northern High School next fall, deep cuts were made into the overall maintenance and capital outlay funds.

The administration presented a list of important rehabilitation projects and added personnel that were omitted to keep the budget down.

The tentative budget also allows no money for increases in teachers' salaries or raises for other employes other than the already scheduled increments which the teachers receive each year up to 10 years in the system.

PRESENT DEMANDS

Representatives of both teachers' unions, the Pontiac Education Assn. and the Pontiac Federation of Teachers were on hand to present wage demands.

The PEA spokesman, Robert Boyce, asked for increases that would bring Pontiac teacher's salaries to where they were four years ago in relation to the pay in Metropolitan area systems.

He proposed increases totaling $275,000 to bring starting salary with a bachelor's degree up to $4,500 from the present $4,350. Top

City Residents Arise to Fog, Snow, Slush

Michigan's unpredictable weather hit with a vengeance today and Pontiac area residents woke up to fog, snow, and slush, with more snow coming.

Midwestern blizzards moved into the Indiana, Ohio and Michigan area, bringing heavy snow warnings.

The U.S. Weather Bureau predicts more than four inches of snow will be heaped on the Pontiac area as well as the rest of the tri-state area within the next 24 hours.

Most of the state got snow and drizzle last night, but above freezing temperatures made roads more slushy than hazardous.

Tonight, the mercury is expected to slip down to the 20s or below throughout the state, and snow and freezing weather will be the rule tomorrow.

The lowest temperature in downtown Pontiac preceding 8 a.m. was 33. At 2 p.m. the mercury stood at 38.

A rash of minor accidents was reported by Oakland County law enforcement authorities, because of heavy fog this morning.

The Oakland County Sheriff's Department reported six smash-ups between the hours of 7 and 9 a.m., including a six-car pile-up on South Blvd., which was handled by Troy police.

There were no injuries reported in any of the collisions, said deputy Thurman Sauvage. Three of the accidents were in Waterford Township and two in the Walled Lake area.

Two cars collided headon on Lakeville road east of Oxford, and a truck jack-knifed across the highway.

The Oakland County Road Commission reports state and blacktop roads are in good condition, but township roads are somewhat slushy.

Long Lines Form Outside 1958 License Plate Offices

Long lines of auto owners formed at the Pontiac branch of the Secretary of State's office today during the last hours before the 1958 license plate deadline.

More than 200 customers were waiting in line for the 53 N. Parke St. office to open this morning, according to branch manager Willis M. Brewer.

In mid-morning the number fell to an average 75, he said, but it was expected to amount to several hundred after 5 p.m.

Both the Pontiac office and the Waterford Township branch in the township hall will stay open tonight as long as any customers are left in line, Brewer said.

Deadline for driving on 1957 license plates is midnight tonight.

The immense backlog of Pontiac area drivers who waited until the last few days to purchase new plates this year was cut down considerably this week, Brewer said. Nevertheless, sales still ran several thousand below last year's, he said.

Statewise, Secy. of State James M. Hare predicted the worst last-minute license plate rush in history. Nearly a million car and truck owners were still without new plates with the 260 branch offices opened this morning, Hare said.

For those who missed the deadline, the Pontiac and Waterford offices both will be open tomorrow from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Senate Views Postal Wages

Will Discuss Size of Pay Hike for 500,000 Post Office Workers

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate turns today to the question of how big a pay raise to give the 500,000 postal workers after finishing most of its argument over postal rate increases.

Sen. Carlson (R-Kan), administration spokesman on postal legislation, said he would make an effort to hold the postal pay raise to a figure he believes President Eisenhower will sign. He proposed a 7½ per cent increase effective when the bill becomes law.

Democrats are pushing for an average boost of about 12½ per cent, retroactive to last Oct. 1. It would include about a 7½ per cent raise plus cost-of-living adjustments of up to $240 a year for employes in the lowest seven grades of the postal service.

Carlson's proposal would cost 195 million dollars a year as compared with 320 million for the Democratic plan. Eisenhower had proposed a 6 per cent increase costing about 160 million.

Accused Killer's Fate Resting in Jury's Hands

Judge Doty Introduces Four Possible Verdicts in Goff Trial

The fate of accused killer Ray Goff rested with a jury of six women and six men at noon today.

After hearing instructions from Oakland County Circuit Judge Frank L. Doty, the jury went out at 11:41 and then adjourned at noon for lunch. They were to resume their deliberation at 1:30.

Goff, 35-year-old Flint factory worker, is charged with first-degree murder in the killing of Mrs. Rita M. Cummings, 27, also of Flint, on Aug. 21, 1955, after she had rejected his love.

Judge Doty charged that four possible verdicts might be returned by the panel. They were guilty of first-degree murder, second-degree murder, manslaughter or not guilty by reason of insanity.

He warned the jury the issue for them to decide was whether Goff was insane at the time of the killing, "regardless of your opinion of pychiatrists."

The judge termed it "rather shocking that a man who has killed a woman can get out in two years," but reminded the jury this was a problem for the Legislature to correct and not them.

Judge Doty this morning denied a defense motion for a directed verdict of innocent by reason of insanity.

Late yesterday defense attorneys L. Rex Bebout and Edward A. Potere made the motion, saying they saw "no reason for this case to go to the jury."

"If it does," Bebout told Judge Doty, "psychiatrists and the whole field of psychiatry will have been on trial here."

Chief Assistant Prosecutor George F. Taylor, in asking that the motion be denied, said the people were only "asking for a trial by jury and not by psychiatrists."

Amongst the earlier testimony in the four-day first-degree murder trial were two Pontiac psychiatrists who declared Goff, 35-year-old Flint man, insane.

"There have been too many people whose lives have been taken by people who have been released because of the testimony from the lips of psychiatrists," Taylor contested yesterday.

'FAKED CONDITION'

He argued Goff had faked insanity. "He knew he faced life imprisonment and had plenty of time

Thor Streaks Into Space Carrying New Nose Cone

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—An Air Force Thor missile roared toward space today carrying a new, more stubby, nose cone to protect its earthward plunge on target.

The 1,500-mile range missile—destined for installation in Europe within a year—left its launching pad at 8:08 a. m.

It climbed slowly at first in an enormous billow of flame and smoke and then moved quickly upward, trailing brilliant yellow flames.

The Air Force would say only: "The nose cone used in today's test differed from those previously used."

It was believed that the last Thor launching Jan. 28 was the first time a nose cone had been tested in flight with the entire vehicle.

From Cocoa Beach, six miles distant, it appeared to be a fine launching and a good flight. The missile bore through several light clouds, disappeared in a big one higher up, then reappeared much higher in bright sunlight.

It angled out to the southeast in the direction of the missile test range across the Atlantic, still climbing. It put out the customary vapor trail when it reached chill temperatures of higher air and the trail lasted about a minute.

STREAKED THROUGH

Then the Thor could be seen through binoculars, streaking along faster and faster, its tail flame thinner and lighter. It disappeared into distant skies more than three minutes after the launching.

The nose cone is designed and manufactured by General Electric which also makes nose cones for the Thor's big brother, the 5,000-mile Atlas, and the Navy's 1,500-mile Polaris missile.

This was the 12th Thor launching.

Since the first Thor test Jan. 27, 1957, the missile has been successfully launched at least seven times.

Previous Thors have carried a graceful, almost perfectly rounded cone. Along with the Army's comparable Jupiter, the Thor will be stationed in England and possibly France.

The Thor requires a strong heat resistant nose cone capable of withstanding the enormous stresses of re-entering the atmosphere.

The 135,000 pounds of thrust developed by the Thor's North American Rocketdyne engine drove the missile 2,645 miles in an Oct. 24, 1957, test.

This is the second launching at the Cape in two days. A 200-mile missile—the Army's Redstone — was fired successfully Thursday.

Wadsworth Replaces Stassen

New U. S. Team to Seek Disarmament Showdown

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States sent in a new team today to drive for a showdown with Russia on disarmament.

James J. Wadsworth, now deputy U.S. delegate to the United Nations, replaces Harold E. Stassen as chief negotiator. Backing him up are four citizen-advisers: Gen. Alfred M. Gruenther, Robert A. Lovett, John J. McCloy and Walter Bedell Smith.

Completely Submerged by Swollen Waters of Big Sandy River

PRESTONBURG, Ky. (AP) — A county school bus, carrying some 40 children, collided with a truck today, then sideswiped a car, before swerving into rain-swollen Levisa fork of the Big Sandy River.

The accident occurred on U.S. 23 about five miles south of here in mountainous eastern Kentucky.

State police said more than 20 children, and the bus driver, may have died in the accident which occurred three miles south of here.

Ten youngsters escaped by climbing through a rear door before the vehicle sank.

State police were unable to furnish the names of the drivers of the other vehicles.

They said the bus skidded to the edge of the bank, then rolled into the water.

Ten youngsters scrambled through a rear door and got ashore. The last girl out managed to save herself by grabbing the foot of a man on the bank.

The bus was carrying students to elementary and high schools in Prestonsburg from the Cow Creek area in southern Floyd County.

Police said the water was 30 feet deep at the spot where the bus sank.

A bulldozer was among pieces of equipment rushed to the area to pull the bus out of the stream.

The bus was completely submerged and the rescue workers were having a difficult time locating the vehicle.

Doctors Paying Fee, Flath Says

Hospital Director Denies Spending Public Funds in Sullenberger Suit

Pontiac General Hospital staff doctors are using their own money, not public funds, to pay legal fees as co-defendants in a $250,000 damage suit against the hospital, Carl I. Flath, hospital director, declared last night.

"There is no possibility that any portion of the city's annual $75,000 'subsidy' to the hospital could find its way into the doctors' legal fund," said Flath. "The two accounts are entirely separate."

Flath made this point clear before the City Commission and hospital board of trustees at a joint meeting that touched briefly on the suit brought by ousted staff surgeon Dr. Neil H. Sullenberger.

The fund in question, Flath said, is financed by means of professional fees collected from insurance companies by staff doctors during their fours of duty in charge of emergency rooms.

"The hospital can't make these professional charges," Flath explained. "We can only charge emergency patients for use of hospital facilities."

Over the years, it has become customary at Pontiac General for doctors to pool these fees, usually for purchase of medical books and education aids.

While admitting that part of the $75,000 is earmarked by ordinance for emergency care, Flath denied that much of it has been used that way in recent years.

"Most of the money—about $47,000 this year—is being used for its primary purpose, the employes' pension fund. What's left after that is only about .6 per cent of our operational budget."

Nevertheless, he insisted, whatever public funds do find their way into emergency are used strictly to defray operational costs.

Only Trees, Children and Pigeons Like It

February — Low Month of the Year

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Pigeons and trees are smarter than people—and February proves it.

The second month on the calendar is regarded by most people—most grown people, anyway—as the worst period of the year.

They hate to see it come, and they are glad to see it go. They don't know what to do with it, and they feel it is a wasted time.

February is the greatest month for self-pity. It is the season when people insult the memory of their ancestors for not having willed them enough money to afford to move to a warmer climate.

February is the month for catching colds, for carrying grudges and for plotting wars.

February is the month when the milk of human kindness clabbers, and ice locks the heart.

February is the month when, if you've got water on the brain, it freezes — and everything slips your mind.

February is the month when hope sinks lower and the fuel bills mount higher.

Only children, trees, and pigeons seem to have the ancient wisdom to enjoy February. To a child winter turns the world into a great outdoor icebox of fabulous beauty, shining and crystal, full of a sled-borne delight. And when the trumpets of March blow over the last snowman, they weep to see him melt—gone without a trace.

The trees know how to make the most of February. If you don't think so, go out right now and look along their barren limbs.

You'll find them studded with small firm buds, ready to explode some surprising morning like green popcorn. In the winter of our discontent the trees have been working in mighty silence for the annual miracle of spring.

And the pigeons know how to make the most of February. Day after day, here in the gray ramparts of Rockefeller Center where I work, the pigeons have been cosying closer, cooing coded messages to one another—and inspiring heaven knows what thoughts in the minds of stenographers who look out the window and watch them.

There is a lesson in every kind of weather, and the pigeons are smart enough to know it. They make love in February, the worst month of the year, and their love blossoms as the year flourishes — from hard times to better times.

Foolish man, however, goes about his romancing exactly backward. He waits until the peak month of June—when everything is blissful—to fall in love, and before he has well adjusted to this new situation he and his mate face winter together untested by mutual hardship.

So long, February. By the time a man figures out what to do with you, you're gone. See you next year.

Ike Tells Story for Critics Irked by Gun Handling

CLEVELAND (AP)—Critics of President Eisenhower's handling of a shotgun in a recent photograph prompted the President to tell a story, which was retold last night by George Humphrey, former secretary of the Treasury.

President Eisenhower was photographed leaning on his shotgun while a guest at Humphrey's Thomasville, Ga. plantation. Humphrey, speaking at a banquet in his honor, said the President read of the controversy at breakfast the next morning.

The President told the following story, Humphrey said: "There was an old mountaineer in front of a country store leaning on a muzzle-loading musket. A young fellow from the city warned him, 'It's always the gun that isn't loaded that goes off and kills someone.'

"And the mountaineer replied, "In that case we're perfectly safe because this is loaded."

Know the Weather

By E. H. SIMS

What is the most dangerous wind and barometer combination?

It is generally agreed that an east wind, moving to a north or northeast wind, with a falling barometer, is the most dangerous wind and pressure combination experienced. There will be exceptions to this general rule.

Likewise, as a general rule, the lower the pressure fall, the more velocity one can expect from approaching winds. Whenever the glass fall below 30.00, bad weather is probably close behind, unless the falling pressure ends almost immediately, and begins to rise.

If the pressure ever goes below 29.00, one should brace for the storm of a lifetime. Occasional readings below 29.00 have been experienced, but they are rare, and also extremely bad weather omens.

New Team to Work for Disarmament

sented this country in disarmament talks in London in 1955.

The following year he was chosen to negotiate a world atoms for peace agency which since has become a reality.

The new team lineup signaled a U. S. move to pin down Russia — and America's allies — on just where everybody goes next.

The United States favors negotiations inside the new and untested 25-country U. N. disarmament subcommittee. But full Allied agreement on this as the next step apparently has not yet been reached.

The subcommittee was enlarged after Russia contended the original group, including the United States, Britain, France, Canada and Russia, was stacked 4-to-1 against Russia.

But Russia also refused to agree to the bigger group, saying it too was stacked. The NATO allies suggested a foreign ministers' meeting, but again Russia said no.

Last night's U. S. statement deplored this Soviet attitude as obstructionist. It made no mention of the new Russian bomb tests, which indicated no let-up in Soviet atomic tests despite steady "ban the bomb" propaganda from the Kremlin.

to think this over in jail before the examinations," Taylor insisted.

Dr. Clinton J. Mumby and Dr. L. Jerome Fink agreed in their testimony that Goff had been brewing a mental illness in himself since he was a youngster. Being spurned by Mrs. Cummings, provided the spark which set off his insanity, they said.

Another psychiatrist was somewhat less definite. Dr. John G. Haarer, medical superintendent of Ionia State Hospital for the Criminally Insane, testified to Goff's insanity when admitted to the institution.

"Only in a hypothetical case," he added, "could we say this insanity was inherent in him when the crime took place."

Goff, a twice-married amateur motorcycle racer, was committed to Ionia in December, 1955. Four psychiatrists, including Drs. Mumby and Fink, testified at a sanity commission hearing that Goff was insane and unable to stand trial for the fatal shooting.

Released by Dr. Haarer last December, he found himself faced with the murder charge.

The defense yesterday rested its case and waived calling some eight friends and co-workers of Goff to the stand as character witnesses. The jury was dismissed and defense counsels made their motion.

Bebout charged that of the 18 prosecution witnesses, only three, Rita's mother, her stepfather and former husband, testified they saw no emotional change in Goff preceding the shooting.

"This will have to overcome testimony of five psychiatrists, a medical doctor, and six or eight lay witnesses who said they did," Bebout told the judge.

Besides Drs. Mumby, Fink and Haarer, sanity commission findings of Pontiac psychiatrists Dr. Ivan A. LaCore and Dr. Abraham Tauber, were read into the record. They too showed Goff mentally ill at the time of the sanity examination.

To Decide if Mail Is Local Through Census Formula

WASHINGTON (AP) — Postmaster General Summerfield says the post office department will adopt the Census Bureau's definition of a "single urbanized area" in determining whether mail is local or out-of-town.

Under the postal rate bill now before the Senate, local letters would move up from 3 to 4 cents and non-local letters would be increased from 3 to 5 cents, effective July 1.

The Census Bureau definition for "urbanized area" is based on a complex formula. However, bureau officials said yesterday an acceptable simple definition would be:

"An urbanized area consists of a central city and its surrounding suburbs, including incorporated and unincorporated areas having a common street pattern and common utility service."

The bureau noted, in response to an inquiry, that many of America's twin cities are treated by the Census Bureau as a single community — that is, one in which the 4-cent local letter rate would be applied.

Schools Ask Budget of $7,864,230

pay with a BA degree would go up from $6,500 to $7,000, with increases between the two levels according to experience.

The PEA formula would boost salary for teachers with a master's degree from a top of $6,850 to $7,400.

James Buchanan, the PFT spokesman, asked for an across-the-board boost of $300 per teacher which would cost about $225,000.

Glenn Griffin, board president, reminded the teachers that the board still has no indication as to its income for next year.

"We still don't know what the state aid figure will be, or what the local assessments will be, or how much of the 15 mill pie will be sliced for schools by the county allocations board."

COSTS TO BE HIGHER

Dr. Dana P. Whitmer, superintendent, compared the present budget with the proposed one to point out that instruction costs will be higher, mainly due to the new Pontiac Northern High School and a switch to a six period day at local high schools, meaning that the major cuts will be made in maintenance and capital outlay items.

Dr. Otto Hufziger, assistant superintendent, said the new budget cuts maintenance from seven per cent of the total to five per cent.

"We will just hold our own with no new advance in the rehabilitation of older buildings under this budget," he said.

Dr. Russell Curtis, secondary education coordinator, said, "Most of the cuts in personnel are coming from our guidance program in order to leave enough teachers to handle the classes."

The board paid tribute to the administrators for the immense amount of work that went into preparing the budget and said it would consider wage increases and other omitted items when it had a clearer picture of income.

Waterford School Sets Annual Fair Saturday

The Leggett Elementary school in Waterford Township will hold its annual fair, beginning at 4 p.m. Saturday. A Swiss steak dinner will be served.

Various booths will be on display, and a talent show will be featured throughout the evening, according to Mrs. Glenn Wolters, who is assisted by Mrs. Robert Fulkerson and Mrs. George Darrow.

Pontiac Milk Prices to Drop Half Cent

Pontiac milk prices will drop one half cent per quart beginning tomorrow, major dairies said today.

The price reduction is a result of a new agreement made yesterday, between the Michigan Milk Producers Assn. and the Detroit Milk Dealers Assn. All Detroit area milk prices are expected to drop the same amount.

A similar reduction of another half-cent is expected to be agreed upon within two weeks. The agreement is only for March.

The price farmers receive for Class I (drinking) milk was lowered from $5 to $4.77 for the first two weeks in March. The agreement provides a reduction to $4.54 for the rest of the month.

The four major Pontiac dairies which will drop the price tonight at midnight include: Nye Dairy, Borden's Dairy Products, Detroit Creamery and Maple Leaf Dairy Company.

Fourth-Grader Gives Textbook Lesson on Moon

NEW LONDON, Conn. (AP) — A fourth-grader has turned the tables on the textbooks and given one of them a lesson in astronomy.

"When our teacher distributed a new textbook before Christmas and told us to look through it, I noticed something kind of crazy about a picture of an eclipse.

"The caption said the picture showed an eclipse of the moon. But it looked more like an annular eclipse of the sun to me."

"I thought that was a solar eclipse in the picture," said Tommy. "The earth's shadow is too big, when it's on the moon, to leave a ring."

Tommy showed the mistake to his father, who wrote to the textbook's publishers, the American Book Co. of New York City.

Donald A. MacGregor, the firm's elementary division editor, agreed the textbook was wrong and Tommy was right. He said the error will be corrected in the next edition.

Death of Flint Bride Ruled Manslaughter

FLINT (AP)—Billy Wayne Silvey, 20, of nearby Montrose, was convicted of manslaughter yesterday in the strangulation of his 17-year-old bride of five weeks.

Silvey had been accused of second degree murder in the death of his wife, Betty Arlene, following a quarrel in their small house trailer Aug. 11.

Silvey did not take the stand during the three-day trial. He had said he'd been drinking and could not remember what happened.

Silvey fled the state before his wife's body was found. He was arrested two days later at Dixon, Ky., his former home.

Circuit Judge Stephen J. Roth set sentencing for April 14. The conviction carries a maximum of 15 years imprisonment.

Wants Witnesses From Red China

HONG KONG (AP) — U.S. Atty. A. L. Wirin said today he will ask the American court trying John M. Powell on a sedition charge to provide $250,000 to bring 1,000 witnesses from Red China.

Wirin arrived in Hong Kong today after spending eight weeks in Red China gathering evidence for Powell's defense at a trial in Federal District Court in San Francisco.

The lawyer said he found evidence and witnesses which, "if presented and admitted in the court trial, would acquit Powell."

Powell, editor of the China Monthly Review of Shanghai during the Korean War, is charged with sedition for printing accusations that the United States waged germ warfare in Korea. His wife Sylvia and an associate editor of the Review, Julian Schuman, now of New York, also have been charged in connection with the case.

Official Scores Trade Barriers

Commerce Department Aide for Competition in World Markets

CHICAGO (INS)—Henry Kearns, assistant commerce secretary for international affairs, said today that the U.S. will soon make a decision "vitally affecting the jobs of more than 4½ million Americans."

In a speech prepared for delivery before the Chicago World Trade Conference, Kearns said "that decision will mark the start of a declining economy, or it will establish the basis for an ever expanding prosperity in our time."

Kearns indicated that the decision lies in the hands of Congress. He urged the passage of "positive world trade legislation" to express "our confidence in ourselves and in our ability to compete in the world markets."

He expressed the belief that the proposals made by the administration for the extension of the Reciprocal Trade Agreement Act will not sacrifice "any American enterprise upon the altar of foreign business."

The Commerce Department official warned, however, that "Congress passes restrictive trade legislation, it will mean reduced job opportunities and placing in jeopardy the more than 4½ million Americans who now receive their livelihood" from the export of American goods.

By adding the stimulus of foreign competition, said Kearns, "we will provide a balance wheel upon the 'cost of living.'"

He concluded:

"But more important, we will provide growing markets for our ever expanding industrial and agricultural economy. We will protect and even expand job-making opportunities for the more than 4½ million Americans who now have a big stake in our two-way world trade which President Eisenhower calls the road to world peace."

Home, Fire Engine Burn

Safety Poster Contest to Draw 115 City Entries

An estimated 115 entries in the 1958 National Traffic Safety poster contest will be submitted by Pontiac area school children before the Saturday midnight deadline, Joseph Zabelski, Automobile Club of Michigan education consultant said today.

Several Pontiac schools conducted intramural contests, Zabelski said, with 115 of the best of approximately 650 designs selected for competition in the national contest, conducted at American Automobile Association headquarters in Washington, D. C.

Auto Club furnished first, second and third place ribbons to schools which conducted their own contests.

The 14th annual contest offers a total of $3,625 in prizes for the most appealing and original posters illustrating 10 basic safety themes used by the AAA in its elementary school safety program.

This year Michigan contestants were assigned the themes "Keep From Between Parked Cars" and any one of several safe bicycling rules. Michigan entries will compete against those of students in eight other states.

Results of the contest will be disclosed sometime after mid-April. National winners will have their posters reproduced for distribution throughout the United States.

Asks $17 Million Budget

DEARBORN (AP)—Budget requests totaling $16,948,222, including a million dollars for a senior citizens project to provide low-rent housing for elderly citizens, was submitted Thursday for the year starting July 1 by Mayor Orville Hubbard. The total is a 25 per cent increase over the present budget.

Reports St. Lawrence Navigable to Montreal

MONTREAL (AP)—Ice conditions in the Gulf of St. Lawrence were reported favorable for shipping today following a 2,000-mile aerial survey.

Capt. R. G. (Happy) Edwards, port captain for Canadian International Paper Co., said he saw no ice concentrations likely to hamper shipping. Edwards yesterday flew from Montreal over the gulf and up the west coast of Newfoundland as far as the Straits of Belle Isle.

"Ships could easily reach the lower eastern docks of Montreal right now," he said.

'Do-It-Yourself' Physics Proposed

WASHINGTON (AP) — Would you like a scale sensitive enough to weigh the wing of a fly? You can make one from two soda straws, a half-inch screw, a match folder and a sewing needle.

That's a sample of a new way of teaching high school physics which Dr. Elbert P. Little says is catching on rapidly.

Eight high schools are now experimenting with this "do-it-yourself" system, he said. He expressed hope 100,000 students would be getting the course by 1960.

Little is a member of the Physical Science Study Committee at Massachusetts Institute of Technology. Here for a regional conference this week, he demonstrated some of the proposed new experiments for newsmen.

In an age when many students can take a hot-rod apart and put it back together, Little said, they lose interest in such things as "simple pulleys and levers, and the way a doorbell works—the sort of things which can be taught in lower grades but which still are included in high school texts."

Instead, the course he's plugging proposes an atom-smashing machine that can be built for $6 using a map globe, an orange juice mixer, a cake pan and a toy motor.

There's another device for studying important wave motions that can be rigged from an old window frame and other cheap materials for $10 compared to $100-$250 to buy one factory-made.

"In a sense," he told newsmen, "it's a sort of revolution we are trying to seed."

Prince Philip's Friend Divorced by His Wife

LONDON (AP)—Lt. Cmdr. Michael Parker, 37, close friend and former private secretary to Prince Philip, today was divorced by his 34-year-old wife on charges of adultery.

Mrs. Mary Alexander Thompson was named as co-respondent. She was not further identified.

Parker, 37, resigned his Buckingham Palace post a year ago after his marital difficulties became known. He did not contest the suit. The couple have two children.

Hawaii has nine inhabited and several uninhabited islands.

Allows GIs Abroad to Send Mail Free

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate has voted to permit U. S. servicemen stationed overseas to send letters back to this country free of charge.

It agreed also that servicemen abroad could continue to send packages home at the current rate without having to pay any rate increases made in the future.

These provisions were put by voice vote into the general postal rate bill which Senate leaders hoped to finish today.

Sens. Morse (D-Ore), Yarborough (D-Tex) and Proxmire (D-Wis), sponsored the provision permitting overseas servicemen to mail letters home without charge.

Chivalry Quickly Dies as Bandits' Car Stalls

CLIFTON, N.J. (AP) — Chivalry died with the sputtering engine of a get-away car last night.

A thief who came sprinting out of Johnny's Service Station with $10 ran right past his female accomplice when he realized she couldn't get the car started.

Left to her own devices, however, the lady bandit finally got the car going.

Police are now looking for both of the bandits. They hope to find the man before his girl friend does.

Frigid Florida Learns a Lesson

The present winter in Florida further accentuates our own State of Michigan in general, and the Pontiac area in particular, as a section of our nation for better home and resort living.

Florida's economy has largely been built upon a precarious resort and tropical fruit growing foundation, with little of an industrial and agricultural nature to back it up.

It placed too much dependence on the most unreliable thing in the world — the weather. Jack Frost dotes on both tourists and fruit.

When Fahrenheit failed to deliver, Florida was stuck.

It has but little scenery or other tourist attractions that the weather cannot sadly sicken. Its usual weather is ideal, but when it assumes the unusual, Florida has little recourse.

In a business way, Florida is on the ropes, for the weather is its principal ally.

In recent years it has endeavored to bring in some industry, and has succeeded in a minor way. But it is too far from our nation's greatest markets to make it attractive to most industrial lines.

Likewise, in cattle raising and general feeding its efforts too loudly echoed the tourist and fruit growing angle.

The breeds of cattle introduced were largely those that thrive only in a warm clime. Thousands of them have died during this winter of sheer exposure.

The farm crops introduced were mostly in a line that needs a long frost free growing period to develop. This season they haven't had it.

In our own Oakland County and its surroundings we have beautiful lakes, better scenic vistas, and provisions for outdoor recreation in accord with all seasons.

In heating accommodations and otherwise we've provided the facilities tailored to any season.

And we're in the very heart of the world's greatest industrial section, that is not dependent on the whims of an unreliable weather, and which carries us through, while Florida sobs and ponders.

Congressional Record Expected to Be Right

A bill has been introduced in Congress to prevent Senators from changing in the Congressional Record the meaning or substance of their remarks and debate.

This publication is supposed to be a verbatim account of what is said on the floor of Congress. But one of the courtesies Congress extends to its members is the right to edit proofs before publication. Thus, for instance, a Senator could have said something sensational or something that might hurt him back home. Press and radio report it immediately but he can delete it from the Congressional Record before publication and then "prove" that he never made that statement at all.

It never was intended that this courtesy should extend that far. Senators were given the opportunity to see the proofs in order to correct errors in grammar, phrasing, punctuation, etc. but not to change the meaning of their statements. In introducing the bill, Sen. NEUBERGER, Oregon Democrat, had this to say:

"You can't alter a court transcript when a man is on trial for stealing a head of lettuce. But you can totally rewrite a debate which may have shaped laws and statutes governing the lives of 171 million people."

As things are now U. S. Senators have double immunity. They are protected against suit for what they say on the Senate floor and they can make statements and then change the text in the Congressional Record to prove they didn't say it.

The NEUBERGER bill should be approved to prevent continuance of such abuse and in the interest of honest reporting. Courtesies such as this should not be extended any public officials.

The Man About Town

We've 'Mostest'

Our County Leads Entire State in Cities and Villages

Rolling stone: What gathers no moss—but gets quite a polish.

Michigan has 83 counties, and Oakland County has more cities and villages than any of the other 82. We've recently taken that distinction, with 22 cities and two more communities about to be organized as such. Our villages now number 13, with elections called in two other areas who seek to assume that status. Our neighboring county of Wayne is our nearest competitor. It has 18 cities, outside of Detroit, and eight villages.

Oakland County, while being second in population and industry, also is first in a number of other respects, including highway mileage, public parks and lake frontage.

Just to put my readers in a reflective mood, on next Tuesday it will be a quarter century since

Franklin Delano Roosevelt was first inaugurated as President of the United States.

According to chairman of the Junior Chamber of Commerce Builders Show April 24-27, several of the booths have already been sold.

Word just received from the tells me they still have some trees for spring planting, that have not been reserved. If you're interested, write them at Lansing.

Don't tell me it's exclusively a sport for youth. I personally know of four grandmothers who are skiing regularly at Mount Holly.

MEMBER OF AUDIT BUREAU OF CIRCULATIONS

Not a Pretty Pedestal

David Lawrence Asks:

When Can a President Resign?

WASHINGTON — President Eisenhower may write letters to the Vice President telling him not to be embarrassed in taking over presidential duties in any contingency if Mr. Eisenhower should become incapacitated — but this does not make the subsequent acts of the Vice President legal as presidential acts.

LAWRENCE

For the truth is that the Constitution does not explicitly provide what to do in the case of the temporary "inability" of the President to discharge the duties of his office. Hence, even an act of Congress seeking to specify the course to be followed would have to be passed upon by the Supreme Court of the United States.

Anything the new President might do in the interim would be of doubtful legality, and serious questions could continue to be raised for a long period of time, perhaps years, as to the true effectiveness of certain public acts involving property rights.

Congress thus far has not been given any power by the Constitution to determine when a president is temporarily disabled or when he is well enough to resume his duties. The Constitution merely provides for action by Congress only when both a president and a vice president have been disabled. The text of the article reads as follows:

"In case of the removal of the President from office, or of his death, resignation, or inability to discharge the powers and duties of the said office, the same shall devolve on the Vice President, and the Congress may by law provide for the case of removal, death, resignation or inability, both of the President and Vice President, declaring what officer shall then act as president, and such officer shall act accordingly, until the disability be removed, or a president shall be elected."

There is no reason, of course, why a constitional amendment cannot be adopted which would give Congress the right to pass a law determining who shall succeed a president in the case of temporary "inability." But, unfortunately, the present constitution does not give Congress that power.

The whole controversy turns on what is really meant by the clause "inability to discharge the powers and duties" of the presidency. What does the word "inability" cover? Is it solely "physical inability?" Or does it include "mental inability," and could it conceivably mean "political inability," too?

In Britain, Canada and other countries with the parlimentary system, no such legal difficulties arise. For the majority in the national parliment determines at any moment whether the prime minister shall be retained in office, and they judge not only his physical and mental fitness but his political fitness as well.

Also, the people can remove the parliment in an election and restore an ousted prime minister or confirm the choice of a new one — and this can be done at almost any time a majority wants it done. It's a flexible, all-inclusive and commonsense system, but it would take a constitutional amendment to give America the benefit of such a democratic solution.

The Country Parson

"I don't mind seeing men disagree on a course of action if both are guided by honest motives."

Dr. William Brady Says:

This Columnist Caught Right in Contradiction

"In your booklet 'Nerves and Nutrition' you say: 'The idea that Vitamin A acts as an anti-infective factor is purely hypothetical, and in my opinion quite groundless.'

DR. BRADY

"This disappoints me, for I had recently started taking a 25,000 unit Vitamin A acetate tablet daily to maintain the highest degree of immunity against respiratory infections in general, as you suggest in your booklet Call It CRI. Please reconcile or explain these two seemingly contradictory statements. (B. R. G.)"

This is serious ma'am. You have caught me off base. My face is so red it hurts. But I'll tell you what I'm going to do.

First let me repeat here the paragraph about vitamin A from Call It CRI (for the booklet send 35 cents and stamped, self-addressed envelope):

"But Vitamin A serves a specific purpose of function in nutrition, which, in my opinion, warrants the belief that it is essential in the development and maintenance of the highest degree of immunity against respiratory infections in general. It promotes the integrity and healthiness of the mucous membrane lining the respiratory tract, the first line of defense against invading bacteria.

"Therefore, particularly for young persons who show a tendency towards adenoids, enlarged tonsils and frequent or constant sniffles, perhaps with enlarged lymph nodes ("kernels" in the neck), I recommend . . . 25,000 units of Vitamin A daily. Foods richest in vitamin A are milk, cream, butter, cheese, egg yolk, beef liver . . ."

Such a daily ration of Vitamin A as you are taking, ma'am, will very likely correct dry eyes, night blindness or difficulty in seeing a dim light; rough, dirty looking skin behind the elbows and on the outer surface of the calves; nutmeg grater skin; toad skin or fish skin; dry skin and dry hair.

You have none of these manifestations of Vitamin A deficiency? All right. Send me the label from the package of Vitamin A tablets and I'll send you the Pocket Cyclopedia of Health, 23 volumettes, with my compliments.

Compared with Vitamin B-complex deficiency and Vitamin D deficiency, which are common, Vitamin A deficiency is uncommon— or perhaps I should say is not so easy to reognize.

I know of no satisfactory confirmation of the theoretical effects of Vitamin A, but I still believe an adequate daily ration of A is necessary to keep the lining of nose, throat, Eusatachian tubes, middle ear cavity, nasal sinuses, larynx (voice box), trachea (windpipe) broncial tubes and pulmonary air spaces healthy.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not disease, diagnosis or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

Voice of the People

Illustrates How the World Can Be Better by Just One

My son gave an oration the other day which set me to thinking. It is about a man who stood upon a mountain peak. In his being were incarnate people of all nations, races and creeds. There was a complete and awesome silence, which was broken by a voice asking: "For what purpose are you living?" Terrified and bewildered, the man sank to his knees because he was in the presence of the Lord.

In his confusion he cried out, "The purpose of my living is everywhere evident. There are thousands of things producing a civilization that have never existed before. We have conquered distance, split the atom, harnessed electricity."

Again through the spatial abyss came the voice, saying "You have done all these things, but think again. For what purpose are you living?"

If you had been asked this question, what would your answer have been? For what purpose are we living? If there's any hope for the future we must modernize an old Chinese prayer to read, "Oh, Lord, make the world, my country, my city, my church, my home better, and begin with me. I am only one but I am one. I cannot do everything but I can do something. What I can do I ought to do and by the grace of God I will do."

'Too Much Depends on Socialistic Man'

It is a matter of wonder to intelligent Americans that so much dependence is put on the word of a man who received his training with Communists of Russia and is trying to make socialistic ideas predominate in American unions.

It behooves us to do a lot of study and thinking here as the line between Socialists and Communists is very frail. We surely do not want a socialistic dictator at the head of our American unions.

'Truman Really Scored the GOP'

I got a big kick out of Harry Truman's speech. He really kicked the GOP all over the map, and they had it coming — plenty.

What are they doing right now? I guess they're turning to Herbert Hoover for advice. He got us all in a spot like this 30 years ago and gave the Dems a chance to rise and shine. Well, here the old fossils go again. Harry really told them.

China Experts Believe Mao's Power Declining

TOKYO (INS) — Is Mao Tse-Tung, ruler over one-fourth of the world's population, gradually losing his magic touch? China experts say he is.

The 64-year-old boss of the vast communist empire in Asia still sits entrenched in his throne in Peiping, but there are signs that his political star has begun to wane.

HARD TO DETECT

These signs are difficult to detect behind a facade of official bravado—for instance, Red China's latest taunting challenge hurled at the West on the Korean problem—but they are beginning to emerge as a definite pattern in the complex Red Chinese politics.

Experts point out that Mao's activities and political events behind the bamboo curtain in the past twelve months indicate:

— Mao's health is not up to par. He appears much less frequently at official function.

— His mission to Moscow last year on the occasion of the 40th anniversary of the October Revolution is generally interpreted as a dismal failure. He came home Nov. 21 without a fat Soviet loan for the first time since he came to power.

POLICY CHALLENGED

— For the first time in his career, one of his lieutenants challenged his domestic policy last year in public. Liu Shao-Chi, his stablemate since revolutionary days, suggested his famous "rectification campaign" was going too far.

— The official People's Daily from time to time last year carried reports of open criticisms aired by comparatively minor party members against Mao's domestic policy.

— For some time Liu was known to have advocated reorganization of the Red Chinese government.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Emphasizes Benefits of Clothing

God clothed all other animals and fowl except man, and figured we'd be smart enough to make our own ensembles. Many modern Americans, however, fail to realize that clothes were a great invention to promote more efficient work and better health. A tanned skin is nont healthier than an untanned epidermis. In fact, the reverse is true, so scrapbook this case.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case X-341: Lincoln W., aged 15, is my nephew.

He lives in Tacoma, Washington, but was visiting us at the farm in Indiana during the past summer. He wanted to do some manual work, so I hired him to help in the fields.

DR. CRANE

And, like many city boys, he wore blue jeans and a shirt, but he removed the shirt.

Our Crane boys used to do that, too, when they first worked in the harvest fields, for kids seem to think it is a sign of athletic manhood to dispense with shirts when working in the sun.

Soon Lincoln was spending part of his time slapping at flies that landed on his unprotected back.

Or he would scratch at the sharp pricks where the beards on wheat or weeds would stab into the skin.

"Now you know why primitive man developed clothes," I told him, "for it is inefficient to expose your bare skin to sun, as well as to insects and thorns."

I could also have informed him that the dark brown tan which modern youths seem to envy, is likewise medically unwise.

God Almighty covered his other animals and fowls with "clothes" in the form of fur or feathers.

And even in midsummer these creatures still do not bare their skin to the direct rays of the sun!

They molt and shed part of their winter coats before the hot months of summer, but they still retain full protection to keep the sun off their bare epidermis.

God apparently figured we human beings would thus get the point and use our superior brain to fabricate our own clothes.

God expected us to use furs and feathers, as well as cotton and flax, plus nylon and other synthetic fabrics from modern science laboratories.

We are thus far more adaptable than birds or other animals. For when an unusually warm day hits us in spring, we can doff our winter underwear and fur coats, in favor of spring apparel or even bathing suits.

Conversely, we can go from bathing suits to fur coats, if a cold spell strikes us prematurely in autumn. The animals and fowls can't make such quick changes.

HEALTH FADS

In recent years, however, it became a fad to have a tanned skin. Many northern folks burn themselves on Florida or California beaches during a brief winter vacation, just so they can "ritz" the home folks when they get back to the land of snow.

For it becomes partially a badge of the rich to sport a tan in winter!

But a tan has also erroneously become used as a mark of unusual health, since teenagers have associated tanned skins with cowboys, lumber jacks and other rugged outdoor workers.

For the ultra violet light from heavy doses of sunlight causes latent peptic ulcers to flare up. And is harmful to tuberculosis patients! It also promotes more skin cancer.

Be sensible, therefore, and realize that clothing is medically healthful and an efficient means of letting you work with less trouble from flies and other stinging insects.

Remember, a tan is the body's last valiant attempt to protect you from the folly of having shed your clothes. For a tanned skin filters out some of the dangerous ultra-violet light. But clothes do it far better!

General's Flare for Redecorating Costs Him Job

WASHINGTON (AP)—A penchant for extensive redecorating of his living quarters has cost Maj. Gen. John B. Ackerman his job as the top Air Force commander in the Philippines.

Ackerman was relieved yesterday as commander of the 13th Air Force on grounds he undermined morale by overlavishly refurbishing four sets of living quarters—three for himself.

The 48-year-old West Pointer was recalled to Washington for "exercising poor judgment."

An Air Force spokesman said Ackerman will be given an opportunity to explain his actions to the chief of staff, Gen. Thomas D. White, and that his future in the sevice will be determined after Air Force headquarters has investigated fully.

The Air Force said Ackerman's poor judgment involved the rehabilitation of two successive sets of temporary quarters while his permanent quarters were being redecorated to his taste and refurbishing of a mountain lodge for VIPs, military parlance for very important persons.

Ackerman's recall, the Air Force noted, came in the wake of an investigation of his activities last fall by staff members of the House Appropriations Committee.

The congressional probers reported Ackerman had spent "no large sum of money," and that used came from the proper funds and was properly reported. But they added that the successive remodelings set tongues to wagging at every military installation from Manila to San Francisco and was "destructive of morale."

Ackerman, a native of Auburn, N.Y., has commanded the 13th Air Force since August 1956.

There are 50,000 Indians in Arizona representing 14 tribes.

Researcher Tracking Schizophrenia's Cause

LANSING (UP) — A medical researcher has reported he is on the track of finding the basic nature and cause of schizophrenia, a common type of mental illness.

Dr. Jacques S. Gottlieb, medical superintendent of the Lafayette Clinic in Detroit, made the report on an appearance before the House Appropriations Committee.

Gottlieb appeared to defend the budget for the clinic against searching criticism by committee members.

"In one project," he said, "we really are on the track of something exciting."

The project, he explained, is an investigation into the nature and cause of schizophrenia — a type of personality disturbance that accounts for more than half the mental illnesses in Michigan.

GENERATE ENERGY

In moments of stress, Gottlieb explained, normal persons generate extra energy to cope with the situation. As an example, he cited his own perspiring reaction to questioning by committee members.

Research at the clinic has disclosed that schizophrenics lack the ability to fortify themselves with additional energy under tension. In more severe cases, their body energy may decline in times of stress, he said.

This accounts for the common characteristics of the schrizophrenic to withdraw and isolate himself from normal social contacts as a way of avoiding unpleasant situations, he said.

Dr. Gottlieb said it was believed this inability to summon up extra energy was of physical origin, caused by some body malfunction which blocks the chemical production of a reserve supply of physical and emotional strength.

The next step in the research, he said, will be to identify the point at which the malfunctioning occurs and why. The third step will be to control or counteract the physical trouble.

Dr. Gottlieb told the committee he had been conducting such research for 25 years "and this is the first time I feel sure we're on an open road and not traveling up a blind alley."

Stops Sea Search for 22 Lost Men

ST. JOHNS, Nfld. (UP)—The U.S. Navy has called off a sea search for 22 Navy men missing since their radar patrol plane vanished over the North Atlantic Feb. 20. The air search by 20 planes continues.

An empty yellow rubber life raft was found yesterday about 40 miles northwest of Graciosa Island in the Azores, but a Navy spokesman said it probably did not come from the missing plane since the bottom was covered with marine growth.

Lousy Cup at Breakfast May Ruin Hubby's Day

Wives: Brew Good Coffee

By ARTHUR EDSON

WASHINGTON (AP) — Fellow gets up in the morning. Has breakfast. Drinks his usual cup of coffee. Feels rotten. Goes grumpily off to work. Has bad day. Maybe gets fired. Maybe decides to divorce his wife.

What's the reason for his unhappy plight? Well, it could be this simple: His spouse, in the interest of economy, is serving him a lousy cup of coffee.

This gloomy theory is advanced today by Charles Lindsay, who as manager of the Pan American Coffee Bureau naturally likes to see everyone sipping coffee, good coffee.

He thinks it's not only good for us, but also is good for the country.

This is the coffee drinkingest of all nations, and last winter we probably downed more cups of coffee than ever before in our history. Yet Lindsay isn't happy.

Why? Because when the cost of coffee went up sharply in 1949—Brazil's surpluses finally ran out; and again in 1953 — disastrous frosts hit the coffee trees — the housewife and restaurant owner took what they thouht was the thrifty way out:

They squeezed more cups out of each pound.

In 1949, before the price soared, a pound of coffee made on the average of 46 cups, not too far from the industry's dream of perfection, 40 cups.

Today it's 64 cups to the pound, or, in Linday's words, "weak, insipid, brown water."

Which part of the nation has the worst coffee? Go West, young man, where men are men and coffee is dishwater—74 cups to the pound.

Home surveys show great extremes in coffee making, from 35 cups for each pound to 113.

"There's one damned unhappy guy," Lindsay said. "Might as well take a cup of hot water."

Why does Lindsay think coffee is good for us?

Well, it's a mild stimulant, but it's one that has no hangover, Lindsay says. The stimulation lasts for around two hours.

That's one reason why the coffee break has caught on. It acts as a recharger. Naturally Lindsay is pleased about the coffee break, but he's worried too. "Too many people abuse the privilege. Gives coffee a bad name."

Why is it good for the nation? Lindsay sees it this way: Many a Latin-American country hangs its whole economy on coffee. The more we drink, the more they can buy from us.

Lindsay has elaborate maps to prove that every part of the United States sells to the coffee countries: Limerick, Maine, sells electrical equipment; Ypsilanti, Mich., sells power tools, and Nyssa, Ore., sells —this is hard to believe, but that's what the map says—turnip seed.

Each day Lindsay drinks seven cups of coffee, and now it was time for a break.

The wonderful brew — precisely 40 cups to the pound—was fetched in, and we all fell to. Quite tasty.

Felt very stimulated. Felt most patriotic.

Bomber Crashes, Navigator Killed

EL PASO, Tex. (AP)—A big intercontinental B47 bomber plowed into the ground just before landing last night, killing the navigator.

Three other crew members walked away from the smashed six-jet plane, which was scattered over a half-mile area.

Dead was Lt. Samuel G. Hardin, whose wife Lucia lives at Salina, Kan., where the B47 was stationed at Schilling Air Force Base.

Weight Restrictions on Roads Tomorrow

Spring weight restrictions on all blacktop and gravel roads in Oakland County become effective tomorrow, according to Tom Kennedy, weigh master for the Oakland County Road Commission.

The restrictions, put in force because of the thawing spring weather, limits trucks to 11,700 pounds per axle and 16,900 pounds for tandems on all county blacktop and gravel roads, Kennedy said.

Only 13 states had birth registration record laws before 1910.

U. of M. Hunting Qualified Indians for Scholarships

ANN ARBOR (AP) — The University of Michigan is on the hunt for qualified American Indians or their descendants as recipients for scholarships.

The university annually offers five of them and only two are taken.

There are only two catches. You must prove your right to a branch on your family tree. And you have to show you can do more than say "ugh" by passing the entrance requirements.

The Indian scholarships were established by the regents in 1932 through an offer of cash allowance equivalent to tuition.

The scholarships, for the most part, have gone begging, said Ivan W. Parker, chairman of the committee on scholarships.

"The competition has been pretty slim even though those with a great-great Indian grandparent might qualify," Parker said.

The background of the scholarship goes back to 1817. The Indians, in negotiating the treaty of Fort Meigs, gave three parcels of land to the new Cathlepistemiad, forerunner of the present university.

Men, Who Are They? Women Tops Now

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK (INS)—As near to memory as 25 years ago—in days before everybody started telling women how great they are—men had a chance.

It was common yearning, among very young ladies, to be very young men instead.

Men appeared to get all the breaks then: The best jobs, the farthest travel, the most brain and brawn, the greatest respect. The boy in the household was the apple of the family eye, and the old man was solid rock.

Today, alas, the situation is quite reversed. The females have the edge, according to doctors, sociologists, philosophers, geriatrics experts and women everywhere.

They outnumber men (by more than 1½-million in the U. S.), live longer (currently by six years, a new record), suffer less from nearly everything physical (except childbirth), control most of the nation's dough (bread and bank varieties), and have consequently weaseled their way into almost every field of male endeavor—except for the dirty jobs, for which potential mothers, of course, are considered unsuited.

MANY FOLKS BAFFLED

Any little girl today who says she'd rather be a little boy is due for a little psychiatry.

Presumably, women long had possessed many of these capacities to out-race the fathers of their kiddies to long life and prosperity. But the radical leaps they have made within the last decade—their formidable new influence in social and political and economic movements—has got a lot of people baffled.

From under what rocks did all these ambitious physical cultural amazons emerge? And what gave them the prowess (or gall?) to assert themselves in such vast numbers? Was it Kinsey perhaps, removing their inhibitions?

That's not as riduculous an idea as it may sound. The world in which women live has quite suddenly become free of many of the old-time taboos, in both speech and action, which kept the ladies from showing their strength. Convention formally forbade a woman from being too healthy or too brilliant, for fear of not anchoring down a man.

Now, women need not worry about getting a man—not at the expense of losing their right to free action—though most of them still are intelligent enough to give it a good try.

While women are being released from old mores and conventions, men are clinging to their strong, silent tradition. In a world of stiff competition and insecurity, due to a great extent from women, the American male still is aware that he must not blow up, in temper or tears, because it isn't "manly."

TIME TO CHANGE

This repression of frustration and tensions helps to explain another depressing statistic: That five times as many men as women die of ulcers, and three times as many men commit suicide.

It's time we changed this picture.

Let the women act their biological superiority, and let the men have a good cry. Things being as they are, they can use it.

Switzerland has 27 cantons or states and 3,000 communes or counties.

Church Board Scores Liquor

National Council Calls Use of Alcoholic Drinks Threat to Many

NEW YORK (AP) — The governing board of the National Council of Churches says "the use of alcoholic beverages is a serious threat to the health, happiness and welfare of many people and to the stability of families and communities."

Nowhere does the board's statement call drinking sinful. But it says that alcoholics are "persons in need of diagnosis, understanding, guidance and treatment."

The statement on "The Churches and Alcohol" was made yesterday on the first day of a two-day meeting of the board. The board is the policy-making agency of the National Council, a federation of 34 Protestant and Orthodox denominations with 38 million members.

The board said there is a need for churches to establish clinics to treat alcoholics and conduct educational programs on all phases of drinking.

Accused Killer Shot by Police

Dies Trying to Flee; Downs Officer Without Warning, Girl Says

ODESSA, Tex. (AP)—West Texas peace officers mowed down the accused killer of a deputy sheriff before he could pull the trigger on his cocked pistol last night.

Sheriff Lem Gabrel said the slain suspect was G. F. (Jack) McMichael, 36, an ex-convict sought in a two-state manhunt. Deputy Thad West, 40, was shot without warning yesterday morning while checking a baby selling report.

Gabrel said McMichael was found at the home of a girl friend. Officers surrounded the house.

The sheriff said McMichael came to the front door with a pistol in his hand, then dashed for the back door after spotting the deputies outside.

"We shouted for him to halt," the sheriff said, "and he whirled and cocked his pistol."

Several officers fired about the same time and McMichael fell without shooting.

Gabrel said Ruby Luellen Lanford, 50, was charged with harboring a criminal.

The manhunt spread as far as Hobbs, N.M., after McMichael fled the scene of the early morning shooting.

Deputy West was killed as he walked into an apartment. The landlady, Mrs. Frank Matthews, said she rented the apartment to Mrs. Pat Ledbetter, 18, and McMichael under the names of Mr. and Mrs. Ledbetter.

With them were Mrs. Ledbetter's two children, 2 and 4 months old.

Deputy Sheriff G. K. Kelly said West went to the apartment to check reports an effort had been made to sell the 4-month-old Cindy.

Detective Capt. Al Smithers said Mrs. Ledbetter told him she admitted West and told McMichael the deputy was there. McMichael, Smithers quoted her as saying, walked out of the bathroom shooting and West never had time to reach for his pistol.

Kelly quoted Mrs. Ledbetter as saying, "I would never sell my baby."

Wheelless Cars Leaving Ground Seen for 1978

DETROIT (AP)—A Detroit product designer predicted today that the car of 1978 will be a wheelless vehicle, propelled by ducted fans and moving about two feet above the surface.

The prediction was made by Carl Reynolds, a one-time Chrysler designer, attending the Industrial Designers Institute conference here.

Reynolds, who played a major role in the design of automobile tail fins, said the car he foresees would be constructed of light metal to allow a small, lightweight engine to be used. This, he said, would make altitude maintenance and control much easier.

Reynolds said the car would be much larger than today's conventional car. The front end would be low to prevent lift at high speeds. The tail section would sweep back and a vertical and directional stabilizer would be used. The car would have ability to climb to an altitude of 100 feet.

"Upon limited access highways for intercity travel," he added, "electronic devices, perhaps involving a guide beam or radiation system, will provide automatic steering and speed control."

During the historic Berlin airlift, which started in 1948 when Russians blocked land and water routes to Germany's divided capital, Allied planes ferried 2,325,500 tons of food and fuel to the city. The total averaged more than a ton of supplies for each inhabitant of West Berlin.

Heat causes brake wear—
Heat causes brake fade—

but Aluminum keeps Buick brakes cool

YOU BUILD up a lot of brake heat when you press hard on the brake pedal again—and again—and again.

That's why NASCAR—in a test of 1958 cars—rated Buick brakes phenomenal. The Buick CENTURY made 176 emergency-stops from 60 mph at Daytona Beach—and there was still plenty of braking left. No other car's brakes even came close to the phenomenal performance of these air-cooled aluminum front brakes—standard on every CENTURY, SUPER, ROADMASTER 75 and LIMITED, optional at extra cost on every SPECIAL.

So if you want brake power that matches horsepower you'd better buy Buick.

Pickup Truck Plates Grabbed

Farmers' Sudden Run on New Type of Tag Creates Shortage

LANSING (AP) — An unexpected run on a new type of license plate for on a new trucks was reported yesterday by the secretary of state's office.

Lee C. Richardson, head of the Drivers and Vehicle Services Division, said some branch offices, particularly in the western part of the state, ran out of the plates.

He said new stocks were being shipped in, however, and added he knew of no cases of drivers being denied the plates.

The legislature last year approved a special truck license fee of 50 cents a hundredweight for pickup trucks of 4,000 pounds or less.

Legislators contended that many farm families use the light trucks as their only means of transportation.

The rate compares with ordinary truck fees of up to 90 cents a hundredweight and is the same as the fee for farm vehicles.

"Many farmers are switching from farm plates to the new pickup truck plates, accounting for the rush," Richardson said. "The truck plates allow more liberal driving for the same fee as the farm vehicle plates can be used only on the farm."

Richardson said the original plate order of 80,550 was upped to 90,000 when the new plates proved popular and that added stocks of plates were being shipped out as soon as requests were received.

Approves Bond Issue

DETROIT (AP) — Mayor Louis J. Miriani has approved a two-million dollar bond issue to be used in widening lower Woodward avenue. Plans call for widening Woodward into a boulevard from Detroit's old city hall to its new civic center. Its present width of 120 feet would be stretched to 181 feet.

DETROIT (AP) — Dr. William C. Menninger, chief of the Menninger Clinic at Topeka, Kan., will be a featured speaker at the convention of the Michigan Society for Mental Health in Detroit March 12-14. Another speaker will be Dr. Harry E. Solomon, president of the American Psychiatric Assn.

Women Voters Hear Talks by Candidates

Sixteen City Commission candidates spoke to the League of Women Voters and guests at Pontiac Central High School.

"What do you consider the most important service to be rendered in the office you seek?" and "What are your qualifications?" were the questions on which they spoke.

The candidates also answered questions from the audience and from other candidates.

Mrs. William G. Wright opened the meeting with an explanation of the purposes of the League, chief of which, she said, is to create an interest and active participation in government.

Dress Up Sack With Bright Hose

NEW YORK (INS) — If you want to look well dressed in a well matched sort of way, wear stockings the same color as your jewelry.

Jewelry and stockings are particularly important this spring if you are going in for the sack look.

There you stand, chic and shapeless in your basic black chemise. The next two questions are—How are you going to dress it up, and what are you going to play up for sex appeal?

You dress up the sack with long, dangling beads drooping down practically to the waist. And the latest look is for bright colors, perhaps mixed in with pearls.

With skirt hems shortened and waistlines invisible, the only part of the feminine figure left to show off is the leg. This means pretty stockings, and you can get them in any color, including red, orange, green, blue, grey, apricot and yellow.

Green is the most popular shade for high fashion women, and the red stocking adds color and youthfulness to the leg. Navy and lighter blues also are quite popular.

To Avoid Strain

When you carry packages, don't always carry them on the same side. Spine and shoulder strain may result if you do. It's best if you carry things directly in front of yourself.

Invite Her Early

Never wait until the last minute to invite a girl to a dance. A girl needs to know she is going to a party in time to plan what to wear, to "do" her hair, etc.

Oleg Cassini designed this white wool jersey sheath with sailor-girl touch for Southern and cruise wear. Wide polka-dot banding edges the nautical collar, inspired by the seaman's middy blouse, and appears again at the hemline.

Wardrobe Basic

It belongs in your wardrobe: The short black chiffon evening dress. Not only is it a real standby, it's one of the most flattering fashions a woman can wear.

It's Best to Keep Your Diet Secret

A person who plans to lose or gain weight should keep it a secret. Otherwise, she will be bombarded with food from skeptics or starved by the helpful ones.

The best thing is to eat what is prescribed and let your friends discover the results.

Short Hair Due to Stay This Year

LOS ANGELES (INS) — A number of new hair styles were introduced in 1957, but none more intriguing than the "rag doll" cut guaranteed to make milady look young and carefree.

In the rag doll hairdo the sides wave jauntily forward and the back is tiered into neat lines.

Its creator, Frank of Los Angeles, said:

"It looks well when slightly mussed, with its stagger-length bangs, cooly swept back sides and bounced-up top look."

Then there was the Castilian haircut, a style that featured a bouncy wide wave pouf across the top of the head with a downward trend into soft curls at each side of the forehead.

Hair stylists predicted that hair will remain short, but that most women would stick to styles that would give the impression of a long look for evenings.

With a chemise dress or with a country ensemble this pair of suede casual shoes will complete the outfit to perfection.

Dear Abby....

There's No Time for Monkey Business

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I am one of thousands of wives whose husband spends the greater part of his life in a two-room office with an attractive private secretary. If our husbands thought that we wives were spending eight hours a day in the company of attractive single men we would be shot!

ABBY

What goes on after office hours with the vodka bottle in the bottom drawer (vodka doesn't give you away — it doesn't stay on the breath) is nobody's business. The vice squad should lay off trying to clean up the roadhouses and start in where the real dirt is—in the office.

A WIFE WHO KNOWS

DEAR WIFE: Most professional men (with two-room offices and a private secretary) are too busy working during the day to know whether their secretary is a woman or a piece of wood. And AFTER office hours, they are usually too tired to care. Relax!

DEAR ABBY: Here is something we have been quarreling about for a long time and maybe you can help to settle it. I say that when a man and a lady who know each other meet, the man should speak to her first. This other party says the lady should speak to the man first. Who is right?

ESTELLE

DEAR ESTELLE: A lady should speak to the gentleman first.

DEAR ABBY: My husband has an older brother who has been in a mental hospital for almost 20 years. My husband is ashamed of this fact and forbids anyone to mention it.

We have children growing up and my husband lives in fear that they are going to find out. My husband is a very stubborn man who refuses to listen to you. Isn't he wrong for feeling the way he does?

NOT ASHAMED

DEAR NOT ASHAMED: Someone should tell your husband that there is probably not a family in America who has not had (or will not have) relatives with mental illness. Our mental machinery can go out of whack just like our kidneys, livers or heart.

Ignorance on this subject is inexcusable. Contact your local Mental Health Society and ask for free pamphlets and educate your husband.

DEAR ABBY: My father is the principal of our school. He makes me call him MR. 'So-and-So' when I see him in school and he also makes me bring a written excuse from home when I'm sick and have to stay home from school. Do you think this makes any sense when he is my own father?

DISGUSTED WITH HIM

DEAR DISGUSTED: Yes, Dear, this does make sense. He is trying to treat you like everyone else.

CONFIDENTIAL TO MARY MARGARET: If they have a Blarney Stone in Italy, Mario kissed it. Don't believe everything you hear.

Child Senses Mom's Fear of His Scorn

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

When her children were young, Nora A.'s mother often felt overworked and resentful. So she slapped and spanked a lot.

Coming up from the cellar washtubs, she'd find a younger child playing with the kitchen taps. Ripping off his wet shirt, she'd say to Nora, "Didn't I tell you to watch him?"

When Nora said, "No, Ma, you didn't," her mother would cry: "Are you calling me a liar, Miss Fresh?" — and slap her twice sharply across the face.

Nora would deal with this painful humiliation by retreating into a great sense of dignity. She'd feel intense contempt for her mother's lack of control, thinking, "I am made of finer stuff than this red-faced unreasonable woman. I am above such horrid physical violence."

Later, of course, when she was restored to favor, she forgot that she'd had these thoughts.

AFRAID TO SPANK

She's afraid to spank him. But she doesn't know it. When Tommy persists in running away in the park, she thinks her appeals for better obedience are kind and reasonable.

Actually, they express her terror of arousing in Tommy the fiercely contemptuous feelings that she experienced when she was spanked herself.

I do not regard spanking as wonderful discipline, but I think fear of it is very destructive to relationship between parents and children.

For we cannot fool children. They know when our dignity and reasonableness are real, and when these attitudes disguise our fear of physical assertion.

As Tommy needs his mother to be concerned with him instead of filled with fear of him, he will challenge and challenge the fear until she overcomes it and risks arousing his anger in order to protect him.

So, if we are parents who secretly believe we are very superior to the low business of spanking, we may also be pretty unhappy ones.

It may be helpful to ask ourselves, "Where did I get the idea that physical assertion is so demanding? How did I develop this intense contempt for spanking?

"Do I demand perfect control of myself with Tommy because I've been so hurt and humiliated by lack of any control by my own parents"

Answering these questions may not be easy, for the truth is buried along with painful memories of old humiliation and helplessness.

Let's Quit Talking About Our Kiddies

By RUTH MILLETT

Do you happen to know Robert Paul Smith? If you don't and you're a parent — especially a conscientious parent, you ought to meet him.

You can meet him either through his best seller, "Where Did You Go? Out, What Did You Do? Nothing," or through his article, "Let Your Kids Alone" in a recent issue of Life magazine.

FORMING CLUB

In case you don't make the effort to meet Mr. Smith — and a more entertaining and thought - provoking man it would be difficult for any parent to meet — at least, let me tell you about a club this rebel against overprotection of children by well - meaning adults says he is forming.

He is calling his organization Modern Parents Anonymous, or MPA, and its principal goal is "to encourage parents to think and worry and talk about something other than their own offspring."

I'll come out right now and say I want to be a charter member of MPA.

Having teenage children, I seem to have reached an age where general conversations and even two-over-a-cup-of coffee chats nine times out of 10 sound like PTA reports.

Go to a dance, and whether you are doing the cha-cha or a waltz, if your partner is a parent he'll be telling you about Sis or Junior.

Get a crowd together in your own home, and though the men may represent a variety of fascinating businesses and professions and the women are well - educated and intelligent, the first thing you know the conversation has turned to children.

Meet a stranger and the first question you're asked is, "Do you have children?" If you say "yes" you're stuck talking about them.

Children not only rule the home these days, they have become the No. 1 topic of conversation.

If there was ever an organization needed it's MPA. And I for one am going to be a silent member—silent, that is, about my children. And I hope a lot of others join it, too.

No Double Talk

You can't carry on a telephone conversation and a conversation with someone in the room with you at the same time. Yet some people try.

All Women Must Know Their Face

It is a wise woman who knows her own face! And also learns to be its friend. The first step in this friendship is to get acquainted.

Pull your hair straight back from your forehead and study your face in a mirror.

Artists tell us that the most perfect face-shape is the oval, wide at the temples and gently sloping toward the chin.

But few of us are fortunate enough to be blessed with this face. Most of us fall into one of the other 5 basic face-shapes. Once you have decided which shape your face is, the next step is to plan how best to create the illusion of the oval. Cosmetics and a new hair style will help.

It is important to choose the correct eyeglass frames.

If you have a round face do choose a frame that is wider than your cheekbones, extra high at the temples and that has a square base.

If you have a square face, wide at the temples and also at the jaw line, then choose a frame that has a straight top line and an oval base.

If you have a diamond-shaped face, narrow at the temples and jaw, but wide at the cheekbones, then choose a frame with a straight top but a round or gentle oval base.

If you have a triangle-shaped face, narrow at the temples and wide at the jaw line, then choose a frame with a heavy, straight top and a modified square base.

If you have a face that is shaped like an inverted triangle, wide at the temples and very narrow at the chin, then you want a frame with an oval top and a round base.

None of us look like geometric designs but all our faces do fall into one of these categories or a combination of them. By the correct choice of eyeglass frames you can have a beauty prescription that will enhance your own natural attractiveness and make your pretty eyes, fashion-wise!

Without going all-out chemise, great charm and style result with draped or bloused top and sleeve ease, on pencil thin figures.

Soft-handle fabrics are essential to full blousing—perfect for the thin upper figure and naturally bloused bodices make hips seem smaller. There is certainly strong endorsement for the bloused silhouette worn with narrow skirt.

It's time to start thinking about your spring wardrobe and here's a thought, a chemise with its own topping. The linen dress cut low in back has a printed hopsacking coat.

If You Must Dye It, Consult an Expert

Hair Darkens as One Gets Older

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN
(The Friday Question Box)

Q. "I am 32 years old. Until the last six years my hair was a very pretty golden blonde color. Now it has darkened to an unattractive shade. I am tempted to get a dye and lighten it. Is there a good preparation on the market? I have seen some people with dyed hair that was streaked. Can you help me?"

A. I can help you by advising you not to dye it. All hair darkens gradually as one grows older. If you are going to dye your hair, have an expert do it. This is money well spent.

Q. "I want to reduce my ankles. They are straight up and down. What can I do?"

A. The straight up and down ankles just seem to run in some families. I do not think you can correct them with exercise, but the following ones might be of some help:

Sit on a chair with your legs extending out in front of you, heels on the floor. Turn the ankles in. Now turn them out. After a while make circles with your toes, circling first in one direction and then in the other.

Q. "I am in my early 40's. Just in the last two years my abdomen has become very large. I am not overweight and all of my other measurements are fine. Why did this happen to me and what can I do about it?"

A. Our weight distribution is partially controlled by our glandular system. Perhaps there may have been some change in your glandular setup. However, fatty deposits are more apt to occur over lazy muscles. Also, your abdominal muscles may lack tone. If you have had children, they may be lax.

Therefore, exercise will do wonders in solving your problem. Do this one: Lie on the floor on your back with your arms resting on the floor overhead and your legs straight. Bend both knees up close to the abdomen and grasp the knees with the hands. Straighten the legs toward the ceiling and slowly lower them to the floor as you return your arms to starting position.

Stretch out on the floor for a few moments, making yourself as long as possible. Continue.

Q. "Does cracking make the knuckles larger? If so, how? If one discontinued this habit, would the knuckles become smaller?"

A. If you crack your knuckles often enough to irritate the surrounding tissues, I suppose it would make them look larger. Why not give up the habit anyway? It isn't attractive and must drive others wild.

Q. "I have a very large nose which has had many severe blows on it. I have reason to believe that it has been broken. This occurred five to seven years ago. Would it be possible to have it rebroken and set correctly now? If so whom should I consult?"

A. Great heavens, it sounds as though you might have been sticking your nose into a lot of people's business. You should consult a plastic surgeon. This defect can be corrected.

Tell Friend About Visit to Florida

Girl Should Write That She Hopes to See Boy

By EMILY POST

"Dear Mrs. Post: During the Christmas holidays I had several dates with a boy who was visiting my girl friend's brother. They arranged these dates for me and we had a wonderful time together. He lives in Florida. I expect to go down there soon on a vacation.

"Would it be proper for me to write and tell him this and also when I will be there, or should I call him when I arrive. Please tell me what I should do, if anything."

Answer: It will be quite proper for you to write and tell him that you will be visiting your friends the John Smiths whose address is so-and-so. Add that you will be there the last two weeks in March and that you hope to see something of him during your stay."

"Dear Mrs. Post: Is it a matter of convenience that prompts reply cards to be enclosed with wedding invitations? On the two occasions we've received such cards it has given me the feeling that the hosts imagined we didn't know enough to answer. Please give us your opinion."

Answer: Printed reply cards, while still not really correct, have come into use because of the failure of so many of those invited to reply, and the helplessness of the hosts to know how many to provide for. In short, they are a result of the rudeness of those invited.

"Dear Mrs. Post: When a girl meets a man she knows who is waiting for the same bus and he attempts to pay her bus fare, should she let him do so?"

Answer: This casual payment by a man of a woman's fare embarrasses many people. She therefore should have her fare ready in her hand and when he makes a gesture to pay for her, she should say quickly, "I have it in my hand."

However, if he still insists so that it becomes awkward to refuse, it is usually better to say "thank you" and let it go.

Area's Fashion Your Figure Club Grows in Size

Guest speaker for the next meeting of the Waterford Township Fashion Your Figure club, will be a non-member who formerly weighed more than 200 pounds, but now wears a size 13 dress.

The group meets at 7 p.m. each Wednesday at the Waterford Township high school. Fifteen new members were enrolled at last week's meeting, according to the president Mrs. Claud Grazes.

Having lost four and a half pounds' in one week, Mrs. James Moore took home the award for shedding the most weight. Not one person in the entire group took home a "pig" trophy for having gained any poundage.

All 75 members are striving to lose weight, because of a contest now going on with two Pontiac and one Rochester Figure clubs. It ends in June. The winner will be honored as queen, at a dinner where "diet is completely ignored."

All interested women in the area have been urged to join the club at the next meeting, Mrs. Grazes said.

Company Has Own Army?

Senate Probers Study Charges Kohler Ready to Smash Pickets

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate rackets probers sought today to confirm or explode charges that the Kohler Co. had an arsenal and an army to oppose strike pickets in case of a fight.

No such gun fight ever did develop in the United Auto Workers strike against the company. The strike now is 45 months old and still going.

The special Senate committee is checking into who was responsible for numerous acts of violence in the strike. The company and the union have blamed each other.

UAW President Walter Reuther in a statement prepared for but not yet presented before the committee, charged that "the company ... made obvious preparations for war, and under the guise of a civilian defense program actually armed and mobilized a private army ..."

Its equipment, he said, included machine guns.

The committee heard testimony from Theodore J. Mosch acknowledging he had accepted a $300 campaign contribution from UAW Local 833, the Kohler local, when he was seeking reelection as sheriff in 1954.

He had testified half an hour earlier that he believed he was thrown out of GOP good graces for rejecting a demand by Robert W. Haynes, chairman of the Sheboygan (Wis.) County Republican Committee, that he employ firearms if necessary to help nonstrikers to pass through union picket lines at the plant.

A short business meeting will include a discussion of plans for the annual school fair to be held sometime in May.

Refreshments will be served.

Teachers will be in their respective rooms from 7:30 to 8 p.m. for discussions with parents.

Firemen Battle Blaze in Home Near Romeo

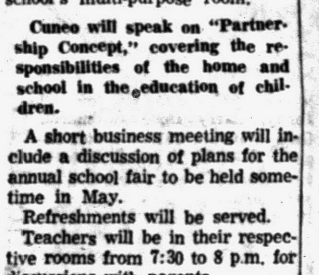

ROMEO — Firemen battled at noon today to bring under control flames that had gutted a rural two-story frame home five miles north of Romeo.

Fire broke out in the eight-room home, 79464 Kidder Rd. east of M 53, shortly before 11 a.m. while the occupants were away.

The owner, John Sanday, 42, a Pontiac Water Department employe, said he had been out for a stroll with his niece, Janet, 3. Sanday's wife Hazel, 39, was in Romeo on a shopping trip.

Lenten Meditations

By ROBERT L. DIEFFENBACHER, D.D.

The rules of life are made by so many different people. Laws forbid our doing a number of things. Social custom requires us to abide by unwritten codes.

Books of etiquette tell us certain details of behavior which ought to be followed.

Even the frowns of friends alter the rules of life which we follow. We do not pass by these rules, customs, habits or moves without notice.

The rules of life which we learn in our study of the Bible we twist around to suit ourselves.

We overlook the 10 Commandments, the Golden Rule and Christ's two great Commandments too frequently.

It would be well if we paid as much attention to God's rules as we do to the man-made rules of society.

U.S. to Get Oakland Plan for Anti-Pollution Backing

With the support of Rep. William S. Broomfield (R-Royal Oak), Oakland County is planning a unique bid for federal backing behind local financing of big sewer and water projects.

Broomfield said today he was "highly pleased" over the plan presented by Delos Hamlin, chairman of the Oakland County Board of Supervisors, and Harold K. Schone, acting public works director, in Washington this week.

"This plan might well start a series of public works projects totaling well over $1 billion a year nationally without putting the federal government in debt," said Broomfield.

At the heart of the idea is the theory that federal funds now available in loans or grants could be more profitably used as reserves behind local bond issues.

WOULD INSURE CREDIT

If the existing $50,000,000 in anti-pollution funds now authorized by the federal government were held in reserve as full faith and credit behind local financing, Schone estimated, more than 20 times as much private capital could be attracted through bonding.

With government backing Broomfield believed, communities could obtain lower interest rates on high-priced projects and finance them over longer periods of time.

The present direct-grant federal program was criticized by Schone.

"It just isn't doing the job it was supposed to do," he said. "In many instances, it is acting as a deterrent to construction of new sewage systems."

County officials believed their plan would meet most of the objections to federal direct aid on municipal projects.

The local governments would have the final say as to construction, they pointed out; the national debt would not be increased; and because the cost of administration would be included in the bond sale, no direct use of federal funds would be involved.

Also at the Washington meeting were R. J. Alexander, deputy DPW director; Drain Commissioner Daniel W. Barry; Hiland Thatcher, supervisors' pro-tem chairman; and Drain Committee chairman Jack Semann.

City to Observe National Weights, Measures Week

On March 2, 1799, a busy Congress, trying to organize the nation, got around to enacting a law that vitally affects the lives of all citizens.

This was the first weights and measures law, adopted under the power granted Congress by the U. S. Constitution. Now, 159 years later, "National Weights and Measures Week" is being observed in Pontiac and in hundreds of other cities throughout the United States March 2-9.

The local observance will be headed by Walter A. Baerwolf, Pontiac sealer of weights and measures and James McCollum, state weights and measures inspector for Oakland County.

Sgt. Baerwolf has scheduled a series of films on the subject to be shown in Pontiac junior and senior high schools.

At 10 a.m. today the first showing was held at Jefferson Junior High. The schedule for next week follows:

Washington Junior High — 9:30 a.m. Monday.

Pontiac Central High—10:30 a.m. Monday.

St. Michael High—3 p.m. Monday.

Eastern Junior High—8:15 a.m. and 9:30 a.m. Tuesday.

Dairy Farmers Sue Ex-Treasurer

DFCA Wants Former Treasurer's Ledgers and Financial Accounting

MT. CLEMENS—Officials of the Dairy Farmers Cooperative Assn. of Michigan brought suit here yesterday to force its ex-treasurer to surrender his business ledgers and make a financial accounting.

DFCA officials said Dehring has refused to relinquish the treasurer's post to his successor, Alwin E. Lloyd of Richmond. Lloyd was elected to the office last Dec. 7.

Circuit Court Judge R. Carroll set the show-cause hearing for 2 p.m. Monday.

2 Milford Youths Hurt as Car Strikes Tree

Two Milford youths were injured when their car struck a tree along Newton Rd., just south of Richardson Rd., in Commerce Township Thursday evening, according to Oakland County sheriff's deputies.

John F. Nickerson, 16, of 3153 Chenoa St., the driver, is reported in fair condition today at Pontiac General Hospital with a possible concussion.

His companion, James Dinkins, 14, of 3165 Chenoa St., was treated for minor cuts and bruises and released. Deputies said Nickerson swerved to avoid a chuck hole and lost control of the car while going south on Newton.

Fire Destroys 2 Lapeer Barns

Blazes, Slightly More Than Hour Apart, Cause $35,000 Damages

LAPEER — Two Lapeer County barn fires, a little more than an hour apart, caused an estimated $35,000 in damages last night.

The cause of each is undetermined.

The second blaze, reported at 10:40 p.m., destroyed a big frame barn on the farm of Roy Plummer, 334 N. Elba Rd. Lost in the fire were a riding horse and four calves, two tractors, a truck, trailer, new cultivator and a large quantity of hay.

Fifty head of Holstein cattle were led to safety, however. Lapeer firemen also saved an adjoining milk house, bulk milk tank and a corn crib.

Plummer said damages could be $25,000 or more.

The first fire destroyed a barn on the farm of Frank Myus, 4592 W. Genesee Rd. Eleven Hereford cattle were saved, but damage to the structure, small tools and hay it contained was estimated by Myus to be about $10,000.

The fire department was called at 9:30 p.m.

Both farmers said they had no idea how the fires were started. Everything was in order after milking chores were completed earlier in the evening, they said.

Area Church to Hold Initial Interest Meeting

ROCHESTER — The Abiding Presence Evangelical Church of the United Lutheran Church in America, Michigan Synod (National Lutheran Council), will hold its Initial Interest meeting, at 6:30 p.m. Sunday evening at North Hill Elementary School.

The first worship service will be held at 10:30 a.m. March 9.

All families and individuals are invited, the Rev. Martin F. Foutz said.

MARLENE ANN MEADOWS

Mr. and Mrs. Irven Meadows of New Hudson have announced the engagement of their daughter, Marlene Ann, to Eugene E. Comiskey, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph B. Comiskey of South Lyon. The bride-elect and her fiance are students at Eastern Michigan College, Ypsilanti. An Aug. 23 wedding is planned.

Pontiac Teacher Hit Boy, NAACP Says

A complaint that a teacher at the Whittier School had struck a third grade Negro boy with a wooden pointer was made to the Pontiac Board of Education last night by the Oakland County Chapter of the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People.

In a letter to the board, Charles M. Tucker Jr., chapter president, said the boy needed medical attention and is still under a doctor's care.

He identified the parents as Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Fowler of 511 Fildew Ave., and the teacher as Mrs. Winifred Lee.

The board heard a report on the incident from Superintendent Dana P. Whitmer.

He said the boy was struck by the teacher and bruised, but suffered no permanent or serious injury.

Board members stated that it was against policy for teachers to strike pupils, but that instances did occur several times a year.

Dr. Whitmer said he was still investigating the affair and would report further at the next board meeting.

Maternity Ward or Not, Ham's Still Broadcasting

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Mrs. Gerald Piper of Imperial, Mo., an avid ham radio operator, is doing her broadcasting this week from the maternity ward at the Normandy Osteopathic Hospital.

Mrs. Piper had her radio equipment with her when she checked into the hospital. She gave birth to a nine-pound daughter Wednesday. Before the day was out she had resumed her radio chats, from her hospital bed, with members of her family and other amateur operators.

Bob Considine Says:

San Antonio Haven for Retired Generals

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (INS) — The delightful old city of St. Anthony is the haven of 74 retired Army generals and 31 Air Force generals whose wings have been pruned by age.

Three Army commanders who once controlled the destinies of about 2,000,000 men — Generals William Simpson, Courtney Hodges and Walter Krueger — are here as pensioners. Simpson's Ninth Army won the bloody race to the Rhine.

BROKE NOOSE

Hodges with 900,000 men in the First Army, broke the noose of St. Lo and one of his corps captured the Remagon Bridge. Krueger's Sixth Army muscled into Leyte and was prepared to invade Japan in October, 1945, with expected losses running into the hundreds of thousands.

Simpson supplements his pension by working for the Alamo National Bank; Krueger, German-born, is as vigorous as ever, but is suffering from bad eye trouble.

He gets a bit indignant now and then when he reads that Lt. Col. Eisenhower was the brain behind the victory of Krueger's army in the Louisiana war games just before Pearl Harbor — games which launched Ike's meteoric career. "Nobody ever guided me," he will say.

Old soldiers seldom die around San Antonio because of the fine treatment they get at Brooke General Hospital, Fort Sam Houston, though Generals Wainwright and Patch were recent exceptions.

The military elders locate here because it is a wonderful old town where they can find the only permanency they've ever known. Many work to help keep their homes going.

CIVIC CONSCIOUS

The officers are extremely civic conscious. They swear by San Antonio with the conviction of a convert swearing by his new religion. The pathos of military service is that a man can be as homeless as a poker chip for as long as 40 years; never forming a truly fast friendship for fear of the wrench that will come when he must move on to another post.

So when the bulk of them come to San Antonio to spend their last years in the sun, they usually buy too much of a place, want to entertain maybe a bit too much. The kids have gone on somewhere else, so the old man looks around for a job to help him live the life his dreams accustomed him to.

They have the use of the PX and commissary in addition to the hospital. And at night they may sit around the officers club, reliving the old campaigns. They never lose these engagements. Come to think of it, they never did.

NEW GMC PICKUP TRUCK — This is a view of GMC's new wide-side pickup truck with either 6½ or 8-foot long boxes having 59.5 and 75.6 cubic feet, respectively. A wider, deeper tailgate fits snugly for a grain and sand-tight body.

50 Per Cent Space Gain in New GM Pickup Truck

A new GMC "wide-side" pickup truck with 50 per cent greater cubic load space than conventional models was announced today by P. J. Monaghan, vice president of General Motors and general manager of the GMC Truck and Coach Division.

The new GMC pickup body encloses the wheel wells and comes in either six and one-half or eight foot lengths, giving cubic capacities second to none in the industry. The six and one-half foot box has 59.5 cubic feet, while the eight foot body measures 75.6 cubic feet.

The extra capacity has been achieved with only a four pound increase of weight in the smaller box and only 22 pounds in the eight-foot version, Monaghan said.

"Comparing the new wide-side with conventional models means that the six and one-half foot body will haul three more bushel baskets, six more bushel boxes or four more egg crates," Monaghan said. The eight-foot body will let truck owners put in five more bushel baskets, seven more bushel boxes or six more egg crates.

"The new model with its clean-line styling is another example of the emphasis we have placed on giving owners the smart-looking vehicle that so often is one of their most important business assets from an advertising sense."

Hoover Urges Spending Slash

Proposes Cutting Funds Not for Defense, Drop in Taxes

NEW YORK (AP)—Former President Herbert Hoover urged a slash in government spending for non-defense purposes and an accompanying tax cut as the best way to achieve economic recovery.

Addressing a New York Chamber of Commerce dinner last night Hoover said: "There are some old and proved wonder drugs useful both to prevent inflation and to speed recovery from recessions. The most useful of these economic wonder drugs is the elimination of waste and the reduction of non-essential federal spending until we have a balanced budget. . . .

"We should cut government expenditures, not only to provide for additional weapons and balance the budget, but also to the point where we can have a tax reduction. This would be the greatest possible stimulant to recovery. . . ."

Hoover urged labor and industry to declare a moratorium on wage and price increases to help the nation shake off what he called the current "minor slump in business and employment."

Hoover said present economic conditions differ substantially from the depression starting in 1929 that marked his presidency. In those days, he said, the country was on its way out of a normal recession when it was struck by an "economic cyclone" from Europe, and countries there stopped buying American goods.

He saw no such storm on the horizon today, provided this country keeps "our great enemy intimidated" from making war.

The dinner was given to honor the Hoover Commission, which he headed. Nine hundred persons attended.

Fearful of Shot in Arm, Skips Draft Registration

DETROIT (AP)—Frank Mallia, 21, told Federal Judge Frank A. Picard that he never registered for the draft because he was afraid of getting shot — in the arm.

He said he had received shots for typhoid fever as a boy in Malta.

"I just never got over it," he said. "Every time I see a doctor with a needle I faint."

After Mallia promised to register Friday, Judge Picard adjourned his case for 30 days and released him on $1,000 personal bond.

Mauritius, a sugar-producing island about 1,000 miles east of Africa, has a truly international flavor. It was discovered by the Portuguese, named and occupied by the Dutch, ruled for many years by the French, and is now a British possession.

Ex-Intelligence Officer Among 33 Held in Iran

TEHRAN, Iran (AP)—Chief prosecutor Hussein Azemodeh announced today that Gen. Vali Gharani, 42, former chief of army intelligence, and 33 others are under arrest on charges of plotting against the government.

Azemodeh said the 34 include another general—not identified—and several former officials. They were accused of plotting with "a foreign power" which also was not identified.

Arms Negotiator Popular in U.N.

James W. Wadsworth Succeeds Stassen as Disarmament Adviser

By INTERNATIONAL NEWS

If being well liked will bring a negotiator some success in persuading nations to disarm, James J. Wadsworth has it made.

For the Eisenhower administration's new chief disarmament negotiator, named yesterday to succeed Harold E. Stassen, is one of the best-liked delegates ever assigned to the United to the United Nations.

Deputy representative to Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge at the U.N., the tall, bulky Wadsworth is a veteran of 20 years of government service and descendant of major American statesmen.

He is a grandson of John Hay, who was one of Lincoln's secretaries and who, as secretary of state, formulated the "open door" policy in China. His father, the late James W. Wadsworth Jr., was one of the top Republican internationalists in the Senate.

Wadsworth graduated from Saint Mark's School and Yale, took a law degree at Alfred University and worked for four years before World War II as assistant industrial relations manager of Curtiss-Wright Corporation.

Now 52, (born June 12, 1905) he served 10 years in the New York legislature, was a special assistant in the Economic Cooperation Administration and acting administrator of the Federal Civil Defense Administration.

After appointment to the U.N. in 1953, he soon became known to virtually everyone as "Jerry."

He is particularly popular with Latin - American delegates who are conscious of his sense of fair play and of the right other people have to different points of view.

They also like his enlivening of many U.N. parties. He has a good singing voice and accompanies himself on the guitar.

For years, he and his brother operated a 4,000-acre farm near Geneseo in upper New York State, specializing in raising cattle. He also is a landscape painter and sometimes has been called "Grandpa Moses," a nickname he doesn't mind.

The new disarmament negotiator married Miss Harty Griggs Tilton in 1927. They have one daughter and a number of grandchildren who visit the Wadsworths whenever possible.

Hollywood Headlines

Bob Hope's Soviet Tour Hinges on Film Showing

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS

HOLLYWOOD (INS) — Bob Hope is now in London and unless he can clear with the Russian government the right to show his picture, "Paris Holiday," he won't go to Russia. He has his visa; he has permission of the U.S. government, but he thinks there's no purpose in going there unless Russia will look at his pictures.

Let's hope if he goes to Russia he doesn't say, as Cary Grant was quoted as saying, "For the first time in my life I feel free," meaning of autograph seekers. I hope that Cary was misquoted. It's hard to believe he'd say such a thing.

Bing Crosby is Bob's guest on his show Sunday night. They will sing some duets. They're planning an album together to be called "Nothing in Common," and there is some talk of a movie.

Freddie Brisson will produce "The Pleasure of His Company" on Broadway in association with Roger Stevens. A few days ago I told you that Paramount had bought the motion picture rights from authors Sam Taylor and Cornelia Otis Skinner. Freddie tells me he'll go back to New York soon to get it ready for fall production on the stage.

He is also preparing "The Gazebo" for Broadway, a comedy by Alec Coppell, author of "Captain's Paradise." "When I was in London," Freddie said, "I talked with Alec Guinness and he's very interested in playing the top role in 'Gazebo'."

He went on to tell me that Roz Russell will spend two more weeks fitting the 36 gorgeous gowns Orry-Kelly has designed for her and the many wigs she has to wear in "Auntie Mame," before she starts at Warner Bros.

Judy Garland, showing no visible signs of distress over her parting from Sid Luft, was sitting at ringside at the Cocoanut Grove with the Bobby Vans listening to Eydie Gorme the same evening the separation story broke.

Afterward, Judy went up to Eydie's suite and chatted cheerfully about Ler plans. Heretofore, Judy has always taken these rifts with Sid very hard and usually hibernated.

This time she has no intention of being a hermit. She soon starts on a personal appearance tour of the country. Then she'll go to London. Judy surprised everyone by saying that she'll return for a Las Vegas engagement later in the year. After her recent "walk off" at the Flamingo, the little singer said she wouldn't play Las Vegas again.

Snapshots of Hollywood collected at random:

Jonie Tapps was out with Betsy Duncan but it was only to try to sign her for a part in "Tubie's Monument" with Sal Mineo.

Jane Wyman is getting herself in readiness to go to New York in June to attend her daughter, Maureen Reagan's graduation from Marymount High School.

After an absence of seven years, writer-producer Polan Banks arrived in town only to be stricken with pneumonia. He's in Cedars of Lebanon Hospital, and his bride is flying out from the West Indies to be with him.

Sophia Loren goes to Acapulco for a month or two after she finishes "The Black Orchid." She is not returning to her homeland, Italy, nor to Switzerland.

Rita Hayworth and Jim Hill are honeymooning in Palm Springs.

The reason Franchot Tone was able to keep his marriage of over a year secret was because Dolores Dorn's real name is Dornheft.

Dennis Day's whole family were with him opening night at the Riviera in Las Vegas, and that included Ann Blyth, his sister-in-law, who took a big bow.

That's all today. See you tomorrow!

Police, Willman Discuss Issue

City Manager to Study New Setup, Then Give Decision on Promotions

Two Pontiac police officers and their attorney met this morning with City Manager Walter K. Willman to discuss promotions.

At the meeting were Sgt. Fred Goines, next in line for a lieutenancy, and Det. James Bale, first on the Civil Service eligibility list for a sergeant's promotion.

Merideth said the city manager wanted a few days to study the chart after which he would make a temporary decision on promotions. Willman promised to send his decision to the Pontiac Police Officers Assn. in a letter.

He told the officers that long-range decisions on promotions would depend on the results of a study of the department by the Public Service Administration of Chicago. This report is due in April or Mayy, he said.

Reports AF Gets OK on Advanced Missile

NEW YORK (AP)—The New York Times says the Air Force received approval yesterday for a new project to produce an advanced type of ballistic missile whose range can be varied from 500 to 5,500 miles.

A Washington dispatch to the Times said the project envisages underground installations, harboring solid-fuel ballistic missiles, several miles apart to make them less vulnerable to attacks.

Among details reported were these:

The project — called Minute Man — is expected to be completed in four or five years.

Approval for the program was given by William M. Holaday, director of guided missiles at the Pentagon.

It was not clear, however, whether further assent from higher authority was needed.

Soviet H-Blasts Detected

WASHINGTON (INS)—Russia set off two more hydrogen blasts yesterday in its current series of nuclear weapons tests.

They were the second and third blasts in five days.

Atomic Energy Commission Chairman Lewis L. Strauss said both were "large yield" explosions in the megaton range. This means each was equal to millions of tons of TNT and presumably was an H-bomb or hydrogen warhead for one of Russia's long-range ballistic missiles.

Strauss said both detonations detected occurred north of the arctic circle "in the same general area as the Soviet megaton range nuclear test on Sunday, Feb. 23."

The AEC announced the second test today barely two hours after it had reported one such explosion had been detected.

School Named for Two Sisters

Pontiac Pays Tribute to Educators Florence and Mary Herrington

Pontiac's newest elementary school has been named after two sisters who were teachers and principals of Pontiac schools.

Dr. Otto C. Hufziger, assistant superintendent in charge of business, named and dedicated the building at 541 Bay St. The Herrington Elementary School Wednesday night.

The school was named after Florence and Mary Herrington who taught in Pontiac public schools a total of more than 80 years. The sisters, who lived at 105 Franklin Blvd., were principals of Crofoot and the old Bagley schools, respectively.

Parents, school and city officials who attende dthe dedication ceremony of the $442,986 building were welcomed by Mrs. Edward H. Kleinschmidt, the school's Parent - Teacher Association president.

Board of education vice president Monroe M. Osmun accepted the building on behalf of Pontiac residents, and C. H. Haberkorn III, general manager of H. E. Beyster and Associates, Detroit architects who designed the school, presented the American Flag to Effie E. Mitchell, administrative intern at the school.

The Rev. Carl W. Nelson, pastor of St. John Lutheran Church, delivered the invocation.

The fifth and sixth grade chorus under the direction of Eunice E. Relyea and the Eastern Junior High School Band under the baton of Lewis A. Crew presented selections.

Town's Fire Department Ends Strike Temporarily

SALEM, Mo. (AP) — Members of the fire department in this Ozarks town of 3,600 have ended their strike, at least temporarily.

The 12 volunteers and Fire Chief Ray Johnson reconsidered and decided to go back on the job until a meeting with the City Council Monday night.

They had refused to answer fire alarms since Tuesday. They demanded an increase from $3 to $5 per call, sirens and blue lights for their pesonal cars, boots and raincoats. The chief is the only salaried member of the department.

Junior Editors Quiz on MOUNTAINS

QUESTION: How do mountains grow?

ANSWER: Mountains are formed in three ways. Some, like the Rockies and Alps, developed millions of years ago when great upheavals deep below ground pushed sections of the earth's surface upward. Continuing pressure from below is causing some peaks to grow higher today—anyway from a few inches to several feet a year.

Volcanic mountains, such as Mount Fujiyama and the Andes range were formed by the piling up of lava during a series of eruptions. Some mountains that still have active volcanoes grow a little bigger with each eruption.

Erosion, or wearing away by water or wind, formed such mountains as the Catskills and Ozarks. Erosion wears away part of a high region, leaving the other part in the form of a mountain peak or range. This method is making some mountains smaller every year.

Last Horse Leaves Lumber Yard Duty

ATHOL, Mass. (AP)—Richard III, an 8-year-old horse known affectionately by fellow workers as vice president of Swift River Box Co., will be seeking a new job tomorrow.

Richard donned his harness for the last time today hauling lumber from the yard to the company plant. Swift River, one of 30 box manufacturing plants in New England, was the last to retain a horse in preference to a more modern type of power.

The 84-year-old Swift River plant, which employs 35 men and the horse, will be absorbed by a Winsted, Conn., firm.

Prep Classifications Not in Pace of Growth

(This is the second of a three-part series of articles covering three major problems on the Michigan High School sports front. Yesterday we covered the MHSAA Tournament setup. Today we discuss the present MHSAA rule on the Classification of Schools and tomorrow we end the series by going into the need for Re-alignment of Leagues.)

By BILL CORNWELL
Staff Writer, Pontiac Press

Human beings have always been reluctant to change their ways, even though circumstances dictate that they should.

This is true for nearly all of us. We are very prone to get set in our way of life, relax into a comfortable rut, form opinions which are unyielding and hope that everything stays just like it is.

Like an ostrich, we stuff our heads in the sand, hope for the best and pray for the preservation of the "status quo."

The Michigan High School Athletic Association, a body of men dedicated to the healthy control and general well-being of state prep athletics, is a victim of this human trait.

Resistance to necessary change is a king-sized characteristic of these devoted gentlemen who, it seems to me, are often "so close to the forest that they can't see the trees."

The MHSAA regulates state high school athletics from its office in Lansing without, I fear, getting closer to badly needed reforms. Like an ostrich, the MHSAA has evaded the issues by hiding in the sand.

Although several changes would be beneficial, the one I am concerned with here is reclassification, the most pressing need at this time.

The present classification is the state's most glaring weakness. It is a division geared to fit school conditions of 20 years ago, not 1958.

Rapid population increases and the subsequent growth in high school enrollments have put it sadly out of date. Even a slight revision not too long ago left it greatly inadequate.

Classification, which attempts to group schools of comparable size, is the "grass roots" of athletic competition in Michigan. It is the basis for scheduling, the formation of leagues and, of greatest importance, the conduct of the basketball tournament.

The annual state cage tourney spotlights the classification problems, especially in Class A, the realm of the "big boys."

Under current standards, any high school with 900 or more students is in the "A" bracket. The dividing line used to be 800, but the MHSAA hiked the figure last May.

At the same time, however, it was ruled that all three-grade high schools must add one third to the upper three classes to determine their total enrollment.

This little maneuver, aimed at creating more "A" schools, did so with dispatch. Oakland County schools such as Walled Lake and Farmington were promptly elevated to the top echelon.

The "one-third" rule is not the main flaw, however. The No. 1 inequality in Class A lies in its huge spread, which ranges from the 900 minimum to schools of 3,000 or more pupils.

Charles Forsythe, state director of athletics, maintains that once a school has 900 students and above, there is a leveling-off process which makes it equal to all others in both facilities and manpower potential.

I fail to see a solid base for his line of reasoning. If Walled Lake and Farmington are a match for Flint Central and Flint Northern, I'll join the next expedition to the South Pole.

In 1956 and again last year, Waterford went into the "A" regional at Flint against giants like Northern, Central, Pontiac and Lansing Sexton. There hasn't been a match that unfair since the Christians were thrown to the Lions.

It is inconceivable that a school with 900 to 1,200 pupils can consistently compete on an equal basis with those numbering anywhere from 2,000 to 3,000.

There are many other examples of this inequality which I believe will be shown to good advantage when the tournament begins. Lapeer, for example, has five Saginaw Valley Conference teams in its Class A district at Bay City. Is this the leveling-off process?

Different solutions to the Class A problem have been suggested and each has had some merit, but I think the best solution lies in the addition of a higher division—Class AA.

I am not attempting to burden Michigan's schools with too many classes. I am merely offering a plan to correct a situation which has grown out of hand.

Mr. Forsythe staunchly refuses to add an upper class at this time. His only defense for such a stand is that lower peninsula schools do not want a 5th class, despite evidence to the contrary.

He brushes aside any mention of another class at the top of the ladder, yet a few years ago he conceded to Upper Peninsula demands for a Class E category for tiny schools above the Straits.

Upper Peninsula officials claimed that the very small schools there could not compete on an even keel with their larger brothers.

It was then established that any UP school with less than 75 students would become Class E. These little institutions annually hold their own tournament, a very popular affair in the northland.

If Forsythe consented to a new class at the bottom of the ladder on the justifiable basis of equality, why does he close his eyes to Class AA, which is the same principle? Where is the consistency in thought?

There is one organization in Michigan—not athletic—which tried the Class AA idea a few years back and has since retained it with a marked degree of success.

The Michigan School Band and Orchestra Association which annually conducts the state's competitive instrumental music festivals, toyed with the double-A idea when the feeling arose that competition was not equal among the bigger schools.

This plan was formulated around the turn of the decade and shortly thereafter went into practice despite heavy resistance.

The MSBOA classification is as follows: Class D—100 to 149; Class C—150 to 299; Class B—300 to 649; Class A—650 to 1099; Class AA—1100 or more.

The MHSAA setup is highly inadequate and I believe that the MSBOA classification, although a distinct improvement, can also be revised and improved.

My greatest objective, of course, is to remedy a completely fouled up condition in the "A" ranks. But further changes could be made by widening the B and C divisions, where competition is more evenly matched than the MHSAA cares to admit.

The Upper Peninsula is not considered in this plan for the simple reason that the present MHSAA classification recognizes no Class E below the Straits and shuts out Class A in the UP. This is strictly a Lower Peninsula plan.

If there are better answers to this muddled situation, they are welcome. Changes are needed, no doubt about it. Until changes are made, the "A" giants will set the athletic pace and the "A" midgets will follow.

A couple of golf tournaments featuring major league baseball players were held the last two days in Tampa and St. Petersburg. One of the late tee-off squads had Billy Martin and Mickey Mantle listed together.

When Martin saw the pairings he said, "Gee, I hope Mickey has a good round, if he doesn't, Ole Casey will probably blame me. He will say I was a bad influence on his game."

Veteran catcher Jim Hegan and Johnny Pesky, now a Tiger coach, were old rivals when Pesky was still an active player with Boston and Detroit.

Pesky was on the mound for a short spell to pitch batting practice yesterday when Hegan came to the plate. "Oh, boy, I waited 15 years for this," yelled Pesky.

Tiger publicist Doc Fenkell passed out mimeographed sheets with notes about all the Tigers on the 1958 roster and one page listed everything except the color of every player's eyes.

He noted that the oldest player is Jim Hegan (38), the youngest George Thomas (20), tallest are Don Lee and Bill Taylor (6-feet-4), shortest is Joe Presko (5-feet-9), heaviest is Harry Byrd (215 pounds), lightest is Joe Presko (165-pounds) . . . 27 are married and have a total of 51 children and 12 are single.

This is the gentle state of hockey. Time was, with a delicate hip movement, Red Wing defenseman Jack Stewart would hoist rushing enemy forwards into the boards, then over them and into the paying fans.

Today, with protective screening along both sides, the only places left for such gentle maneuvers are at brief openings left for photographers, and in front of the players' bench.

But even without the screens, none of the current NHL stalwarts seems to have the finesse for this sterling performance. (Occasionally, a board-climbing official would also accidentally get "nudged" into the cash seats.)

U.S. Ski Meet Delayed Again to March 8-9

IRON MOUNTAIN (AP) — The National Ski Jumping Championships, once delayed by wind and below zero cold, have been postponed again — this time because of unexpected warm weather.

The jumps, originally set for Feb. 15-16 were postponed until this weekend, but after warm weather caused extensive damage to the packed snow on the towering Pine Mountain slide they were rescheduled for March 8-9.

Officials estimated it would take at least a week to haul in 150 truck loads of new snow and get the slide ready for use.

Dayton Extends Win Streak to 15 Games

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

If officials of the National Invitation Basketball Tournament haven't formed a special pre-tournament cheering section for Tom Blackburn's Dayton Flyers, perhaps it's high time they did.

The streaking Flyers are the only NIT acceptees rated among the nation's top 20 in the Associated Press poll.

And until or unless defending champion Bradley joins the field as the Missouri Valley Conference runnerup, 10th-ranked Dayton will continue to be the only rated "biggie" the NIT can call its very own.

Bradley, trailing Cincinnati in an MVC race that could end Saturday, is No. 16 in the AP ratings. None of the possibilities for the two other remaining NIT berths figures to crack the top 20 before the regular season is over.

The Flyers have a 22-2 record and a 15-game winning streak after last night's 103-69 rout of one of the NCAA's "at-large" selections, Loyola of New Orleans.

With Arlen Bockhorn popping 22 points to lead the way, the Flyers hit 55 per cent of their shots.

Utah, named to the NIT yesterday with a good non-conference record, spilled Brigham Young 74-56 in a Skyline Conference test.

Two other NCAA "at-large" entries had better luck than Loyola. Don Hennon's 31 points enabled Pitt to nip Westminster (Pa.) 75-74, and Pete Brunone's 29 pointed the way in Manhattan's 99-77 rout of New York University.

Drake, with Red Murrell scoring 38 points, downed hapless Marquette 94-76, and Bailey Howell cashed 34 for Mississippi State in a 91-60 Southeastern Conference romp over Mississippi.

Wheaton College of Illinois, soon to open defense of its NCAA small college championship, wound up another top season with a 91-57 rout of North Central Illinois. It made Wheaton 14-0 in its conference and 24-1 for the season.

State Teams in Ski Meet

FRANCONIA, N. H. (AP) — Denver University's crack eight-man ski team will put its NCAA ski championship on the line today as the fifth annual tournament gets underway with a downhill race on steep Cannon Mountain.

The Dartmouth Outing Club — host to this year's meet — moved the downhill event to Franconia to take advantage of the 10 feet of snow that covers the mountain, as well as its rugged downhill course.

The remaining events—slalom, cross country, jumping — will be held at Hanover on the Indians' own ski layout Saturday and Sunday.

Coach Willie Schaeffler, whose Pioneers have won the championship for four years running, expects close competition from Dartmouth and Middlebury. He also fears the strong Dartmouth Alpine squad.

Other teams entered are St. Lawrence University, Michigan State, Michigan Tech, New Hampshire and Colorado.

At left is Tiger 2nd baseman Frank Bolling, who fed the ball to Martin. Billy last year was dealt by the Yankees to Kansas City from where he came to Detroit in a big trade with the Athletics. Martin may be the Tigers' regular shortstop this year, with Harvey Kuenn switching to the outfield.

Weather Cooperates So Tigers Open Two-a-Day Drills in Lakeland

By BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

LAKELAND, Fla. — The atmosphere of just being near the Detroit Tigers must do something to Lou Skizas.

The little outfielder who was obtained from Kansas City and who is now being groomed for the third base position, cracked out three straight liners which would be hits in any man's league in his first trip to the plate Thursday.

The Tigers, with the cooperation of the weatherman, got their twice-daily workouts underway yesterday and Skizas was the first batter to face Mickey McDermott.

"He sure made it miserable for us when he was with Kansas City," said Jack Tighe behind the batting cage, "I hope he keeps Briggs Stadium and Kansas City's Municipal Stadium as his favorite parks."

The shift to third base is not new for Skizas. He played many games for the A's at that position and although he was considered more valuable as an outfielder, Johnny McHale, Tiger general manager, noted that Harry Craft was thinking about working him in permanently at the hot corner.

Skizas relieved Reno Bertoia at third in the morning drills and was flawless on several ground plays. "He could solve a big problem for us at third," said Tighe, "we can't really form an opinion until he does some work under game conditions.

The morning squad had lanky Jim Bunning, Frank Lary, Hank Aguirre, McDermott and Tom Morgan taking turns on the hill.

Big Gus Zernial took the distinction of being the first to clout one over the Henley Field wall. Zernial connected on one of McDermott's fast balls and cleared the 340-foot mark in left center.

Tom Yewcic and Jim Hegan shared the morning catching duties with Harvey Kuenn making his first apearance chasing flies in the outfield. The infield had Billy Martin at short, Frank Bolling at second and Ray Boone at first.

First baseman Gail Harris, former National Leaguer with the New York Giants, whom the Tigers obtained in a trade for Jim Finigan, made a couple of nice plays at first but the stocky infielder left the plate in disgust as he failed to get even one out of the batting cage.

Detroit's new coach, Tommy Henrich, former Yankee great, took Harris aside and after checking his stance and grip, the 26-year-old left handed batter got back into the gate and clobbered the first pitch against the right field wall.

2nd Place More Secure

Pistons Trip Lakers

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Detroit's hold on second place in the Western Division was little more secure today but not so for the runnerup Syracuse Nationals in the Eastern Division of the National Basketball Assn.

The Pistons moved 1½ games in front of third place Cincinnati last night by defeating the Minneapolis Lakers 112-109 in the first game of a doubleheader at Philadelphia. Then the Nationals, with a chance to apply the crusher to Philadelphia's hopes for second place in the Eastern section, dropped a 97-91 decision to the Warriors.

The Warriors advanced within two games of the Nats and left the New York Knickerbockers, trailing by another 3½, with a very, very slim chance of making the playoffs.

George Yardley, the league's No. 1 scorer, tallied 41 points but the Pistons had to stave off one Laker rally after another in the closing minutes. Three times the Lakers closed within three points but clutch foul shooting helped the Pistons maintain their advantage.

Syracuse jumped off to a 13-2 lead but held only a four-point margin, 30-26, at the end of the first quarter. The Warriors had tied it at 51 by the end of the half and moved out in front in the third period as Tom Gola and Joe Graboski sparked the attack.

Paul Arizin and Neil Johnston led the Warriors with 23 and 22 points, respectively. Ed Conlin was high for the Nats with 17.

Detroit Pro Cage Group Happy With New Location

DETROIT (AP) — The Detroit Pistons are happy they made the move from Fort Wayne and believe they made substantial headway in creating enthusiasm for professional basketball in Michigan this winter.

These are the views of Fred DeLano, the former University of Detroit publicist who is rounding out his first year as general manager of the National Basketball Assn. team.

"We know the potential is here," DeLano said in an interview. "We also know that as far as Detroit and Michigan are concerned there is no substitute for a winner."

The Pistons got off to a rocky start, particularly at home, and came to life too late in the season to cash in at the box office to any great extent.

Two of their three biggest gates came on their final two home dates — 7,059 last Saturday and 8,645 Wednesday night. The overall paid gate for 28 home dates was 131,878, an average of 4,710.

The Pistons had said it would take an average of 6,000 per night to break even, so owner Fred Zollner obviously lost money in his first Detroit year.

Losing money is nothing new to Zollner. He says he ran in the red with the Pistons during 14 of his 15 seasons in Fort Wayne. And he has renewed his intentions of sticking with his Detroit operation for several more seasons.

Last month Zollner declared he was willing to spend in six seasons in Detroit what he lost in the 15 in Fort Wayne.

4 Teams Involved; Other Top Games at Avon, Clarkston

Last Place on Line in I-L

By CHUCK ABAIR

One of the most interesting features on tonight's final big prep basketball program of the regular season will involve the Inter-Lakes League where four teams will be battling to finish out of last place.

The only loop championships remaining to be settled are in the Eastern Michigan and South Central conferences. Imlay City is expected to wrap up the SCC at Ortonville.

Clarkston will be the scene of what may be the best game of the night as the Wayne - Oakland champs take on runnerup Northville. Things could also get hot and heavy at Avondale with the Jackets meeting Lake Orion.

Walled Lake is given the top chance of gaining 3rd place in the I-L race playing at home against Farmington. The Vikings have won three straight and whipped the Falcons earlier.

Waterford is in a good position to upset runnerup Southfield. The Skippers almost turned the trick at Southfield and since have improved while the Jays have been crippled by injuries. Van Dyke goes against champion Berkley in the other tilt.

A Birmingham upset of Ferndale could determine the Eastern Michigan winner with East Detroit expected to romp past Mt. Clemens. If both Ferndale and East Detroit win, they will share the title. Port Huron goes to Hazel Park in the other contest.

Ortonville can accomplish three things by dumping Imlay. Such a feat would give the Blackhawks a share of the title, gain revenge for a previous trouncing and halt the Imlay City win streak at 29. Millington hosts North Branch, also in the SCC.

Clarkston is blazing along with a 14-1 overall record and a 10th place rating in state Class B circles. But the Wolves will have to be at their peak to finish with a triumph which would mean a sweep over Northville.

Holly can finish 3rd in the W-O by beating Clarenceville. If the Broncos bow, West Bloomfield could gain a tie for the spot by tripping Bloomfield Hills. Brighton is at Milford in the 4th game.

Lake Orion is the strong favorite as it duels Avon for 3rd place in the Oakland B since the Dragons whipped Dick Bye's cagers handily last month. Combined big nights for Jerry Hill and Mike Walker could do the trick if either Nick Neira or Jim Drake can be stopped.

It's just a case of finishing out the schedule in the Southern Thumb as champ Almont goes to Armada, Dryden is at Memphis and Capac at Brown City.

Oxford's trip to Romeo heads the independent action. The Wildcats will become Oakland County's only winless quintet if they bow again. They are currently 0-15. Romeo is 4-10 and has dropped its last six so maybe there is hope for OHS.

Rams Edge Xavier in Final Minute

By H. GUY MOATS

With only 10 seconds left of the game and the count in a knot at 36-36, last night in St. Frederick's gymnasium, the Rams' Joe Keller came through with the tilt's most important effort, to snatch a 38-36 victory from a stubborn, front-running St. Francis Xavier quintet.

It was a tough battle all the way for the Rams, as stiff a test as any the Gene Wright coached outfit has faced all winter.

Rams never were in front until the final minute although square with their visitors several times in the last period. Three times Xavier regained the edge in that hectic round. Rams trailed 30-28 starting the finale. Tom Derocher's goal squared it at 30-30. Gerald Smith broke the knot for Xavier, at 32-30, then Jim Kennedy bagged a basket to tie it up again.

The game was ebbing when Keller, screened off by Derocher, drove in for a jump shot from the right corner to snap a 36-36 tie. Try was good and the Rams chalked up their 11th win against four defeats to conclude a very good regular season, during which Tom Derocher, who will be back again next year, collected 235 points for 15 games, including 14, last night. Smith shared the game scoring lead with the Ram ace.

Disputed Playoff Berth Is Settled

Bud & Lou's Bar handed the Vikings a 55-52 setback Wednesday at Madison Junior High in their tie-breaking battle for the 4th playoff position in the Class C City League basketball tournament.

Ron Hetherington sparked the winners with 21 points while Bud Reed had 17 for the Vikings. The two teams entered the game deadlocked for the remaining tourney berth with 3-9 records. The "C" playoffs begin next Monday night at Madison.

Class D clubs ended their regular season schedule yesterday at Lincoln. The Westsiders downed Jack's Bar & Grill, 39-29, behind the 18-point effort of Dave Jones. Whiter's Electric trimmed the Rockets, 33-19, in the other "D" game. The Class D playoffs start Monday on the Lincoln floor.

Captain-Sponsor Tourney and Banquet Saturday

Pontiac area doubles teams will be rolling for a long list of prizes at the annual Captain-Sponsor Bowling Tournament to be held at two Milford alleys Saturday.

The event, sponsored by the Pontiac Bowling Proprietor's Association, consists of duos made up of various area team captains and their sponsors.

Competition will be divided between Fairgrounds Lanes and East Highland Recreation.

A banquet is planned for Saturday following the completion of bowling. It will begin at 8 at the Old Mill Tavern.

Jay Koprince will make the presentation of awards and serve as toastmaster for the post-tournament program.

Bill Srock, star of the strong Ivory team of Detroit, will be a guest speaker along with Marc Baldwin of the Brunswick Company.

Top Wildlife Conference

St. Louis Host, March 3-5

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

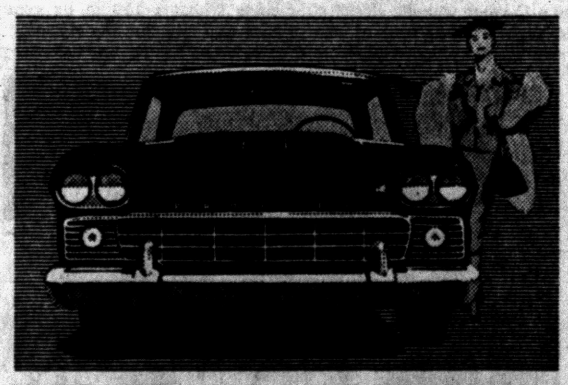

The 23rd annual North American Wildlife Conference, greatest clearing house for professional and semi-professional conservationists on the continent, will be held at St. Louis March 3-5.

Fish and game technicians of the United States and Canada know about the scope of the exchange already, because the conference is the place where all of them at one time or another have traded findings, refined policies and generally benefited from an exchange of ideas.

But the North American can be quite an illuminating experience, too, for the sportsman without professional connections in the field. As a matter of fact, the big forum moves from city to city with just that in mind. By the time it closes up shop, along with the National Wildlife Federation and other associated groups that meet at the same time, the outdoorsmen of the host community have had quite a course in conservation.

The St. Louis conference has three general sessions designed to give an overall view of what's up outdoors. The first, on March 3, will deal with today's opportunities for conservation; youth and natural resources is the discussion subject for the Tuesday meeting; on Wednesday, Arthur Carhart of Denver will stir up debate on the fight for conservation, its whys and wherefores.

Pontiac Cagers Meet Northern in Final Game

By BILL CORNWELL

Coach Art Van Ryzin will start an all-senior lineup tonight when Pontiac Central High clashes with Flint Northern in a crucial Saginaw Valley Conference basketball game at the PCH gymnasium.

"I'm not being 'sentimental,'" Van Ryzin said, "most of them would have been in the starting lineup anyway. But this is our last game of the season and I'm starting the seniors as I have often done before."

Pontiac's all - senior starters will be Dick Whitmer and Charley Barge at guards, Roosevelt Alexander at center and Jerry Williams and Jim Skinner at the forward positions.

"I won't let sentiment interfere with our hopes of winning the game," said Van Ryzin. "We want to beat those fellows," he added.

The Chiefs will be handicapped this evening by the absence of lanky John Bandy, one of the club's most consistent point-makers. Bandy has been ill this week and is not expected to dress for action.

Northern comes here under heavy pressure. Trailing league-leading Central, their bitter city rival, by one full game, the Vikings must win tonight to keep alive their faint title hopes.

And even then the best they can do is share the crown with the scrappy Indians, who will try to claim the championship outright this evening by beating dangerous Saginaw on the Flint court.

Van Ryzin and the Chiefs would dearly love to ring down the curtain on the regular season schedule with a win over Northern. Pontiac lost a close one to Northern, 49-47, in their 1st meeting at Flint.

The Chiefs can divide 3rd place with Saginaw in the final Valley standings by winning tonight, provided the Trojans bow to Central.

Pontiac stands 5-4 in the Valley and 10-5 for the season while Northern has a conference record of 7-2 and an overall 10-4 mark. Front-running Central is 8-1 in the SVC.

Grill Cagers Go Into 'B' Finals

Griff's Grill, which lost only once while winning the regular season title in the Class B City Basketball League, moved into the finals of the post-season playoffs with a 62-58 victory over Walled Lake last night at Pontiac Central gym.

Booth Homes knocked the Boys Club out of the double elimination tourney with a lopsided 77-46 triumph behind the 18-point effort of Fred Shone. Bill Buck made 10 in a losing cause.

Walled Lake and Booth clash next Monday night at 7 o'clock on the PCH court with the winner meeting Griff's for the city Class B crown on Tuesday at 7 p.m. also at PCH.

Here's Baseball's 'Gold Dust' Squad

Salaries Total $729,000

NEW YORK (AP)—It would take a yearly payroll of nearly three quarters of a million dollars — $729,000, to be exact — to field baseball's "Gold Dust" team, composed of the highest-paid players at each position.

The team is so select that Roy Sievers of the Washington Senators, the 1957 American League home run and runs-batted-in king, can't make it. The reason: Roy has signed for a paltry $36,000.

OUTFIELD: Ted Williams, Bos. $135,000; Mickey Mantle, Yanks, $72,000; Willie Mays San Francisco, $65,000.

C: Yogi Berra, Yanks, $50,000; P: Warren Spahn, Milw. $65,000; P: Robin Roberts, Phila $42,500; Manager: Casey Stengel, Yanks, $85,000. — Total $729,000.

The franchise of this expensive assemblage probably would have to be handled by Jean Paul Getty, oil man and financier whose wealth is reported close to a billion. A good playing site: Fort Knox, Ky.

Mantle, the switch-hitting centerfielder of the New York Yankees, moved a step nearer the all-time salary mark when he signed his one-year contract yesterday for $72,000.

Mighty Mickey still is not up to the earning power of two of his Yankee predecessors, Babe Ruth ($80,000) and Joe DiMaggio ($100,000), nor Ted Williams, whose whose $135,000 this year sets a new high water mark for paychecks. But there is reason to believe that in a few years Mantle will be ahead of them all.

Archers Go After Fox in Final 1958 Hunt

Last of the fox-hunting swings of the winter for the Holly area will take place Sunday at Cliff Dreyer's place. This time, archers only will take to the fields, starting at 9 a.m. Site is at 15210 North Holly road.

Legislature Puts Aside Bounty Bill

LANSING (AP) — State legislators are off on an economy kick this year, but not to the point of wiping out Michigan's ancient bounty system.

Quietly and without fuss, the house conservation commitee laid the axe this week to a bill which would have done away with bounties for the first time since 1838. Committee chairman Frederic Marshall, Hillsdale county Republican, said every member of the bipartian committee voted to pigeonhole it, despite backing by Gov. Williams.

The action points up more than ever the unwillingness of farmers and some sportsmen's groups to abandon the long-established theory that a price on the head of undesirable predators is the controlling factor in holding them under control.

Predator experts in the state conservation department, and in other states, have compiled facts and figures over a period of years showing that bounties have little effect in cutting predator populations or increasing game supplies. They brand most bounties as little more than windfall payments to hunters who kill bountied animals for sport while hunting other game.

Though many organizations including the Michigan United Conservation clubs and Audubon society, supported the measure, some did not, including some member clubs of the infant Greater Michigan Conservation League.

Marshall, did, however, foresee a quick reprieve for Michigan's timber wolves through a separate bill to leave the bounty on the few that still survive in the Upper Peninsula. They total 100 at most.

Time Running Out in Cage Race

Unsettled Conditions
Skiing 'Good to Poor'

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Unseasonable thaws during the week left skiing conditions in lower Michigan ranging from poor to good going into the weekend.

With no fresh snow reported anywhere, ski lodges reported mostly corn skiing on melting base snow.

The East Michigan Tourist council reported the following conditions:

AUSABLE RANCH & Ski Club, Water Ski Village, Snow Valley, Sylvan Knob and Otsego Ski Club, near Gaylord:, 8 base. Fair to good.
SKYLINE Near Roscommon: 3-6 base. Fair.
MAJOR MT., Clare County: 6 base. Fair.
SHERIDAN VALLEY: 5 base. Fair.
GRAYLING WINTER Sports Park and Lovells: 4 base. Poor.

The West Michigan Tourist and Resort Assn. reported conditions only for areas with skiing. Other resorts were closed to wait temperature drops or additional snow.

BOYNE MOUNTAIN near Boyne Falls: 10-50 base. Excellent corn snow. South T-Bar area not operating.
Buck Hills near Beulah: skiing fair on some slopes.
CADILLAC near Cadillac: open on limited basis. Skiing poor.
LAKE VALLEY near Kalkaska: 4-10 base, skiing good.
MT. MANCELONA at Mancelona: 4-15 base, some bare spots. Skiing fair.

Rain and soft weather has cut the possibility of skiing at Mr. Holly, where the weekend slalom races were postponed to next week. At Grampian Mt. there will be no skiing unless snow falls, or temperature permits making snow. Similar conditions obtained at other area resorts.

If no further thawing, or rain comes, Mt. Holly may have restricted skiing, but will need more snow.

FACING THE ISSUE — Looking like a man of the future, Goalie Joe Selinger is ready to stop the puck coming his way in practice with the aid of a new-style plastic face mask. He defends for Michigan State.

Capture Waterford Lead

White Swan took over 1st place in the Waterford Recreation Basketball League last night with a 67-56 victory over Hutchinson's Mobile at Crary Junior High gym. Mel Karrigan meshed 21 points and Harry Dearborn tallied 20 for the winners while Fred Foster had 11 in defeat. The Swan quintet now has a 7-2 reocrd.

Big 10 Teams Hit Showdown Stage Saturday

Spartans Invade Iowa, Indiana Meets Purdue in Crucial Games

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

With four teams locked in the title struggle and the season running out, the Big Ten basketball race reaches the point of no return Saturday.

The four main contenders tangle with each other. Purdue (8-4) is at Indiana (7-4) for a regionally televised afternoon contest. Michigan State (8-4) is at Iowa (7-4) at night.

Completing the conference card of night games, Michigan (4-7) is at Illinois (4-7), Ohio State (7-6) at Minnesota (5-8) and Wisconsin (3-9) at Northwestern (6-6).

The 14-game conference schedule for each school ends March 8. Another loss for any of the big four would lessen considerably its grip but not necessarily end its hopes in this most tense title competition in Big Ten history. Many experts think a 9-5 record may be good enough for at least a share of the crown.

Purdue will pit its balanced scoring against an Indiana team determined to avenge an earlier 68-66 defeat by the Boilermakers. Purdue's attack is built around Wilson Edson with a 17.2 point average. The Hoosiers are led by the conference's top scorer, Archie Dees, with 25.3.

Michigan State, defeated by Purdue 72-70 Monday, faces the most rapidly improving team in the league in Iowa. The Hawkeyes, who lost 90-84 to the Spartans several weeks ago, now have won three straight.

A sellout crowd of more than 15,000 will jam Iowa's fieldhouse, marking the first time since the NCAA regional there in 1956 that a full house has been attracted.

Barnum Ties for 3rd at Baton Rouge
Palmer Leads by Stroke

BATON ROUGE, La. (AP)—Husky Arnold Palmer, steadily whipping his golf game into shape for the fabled Masters tournament, battled an ambitious field today to protect his one stroke lead in the $15,000 Baton Rouge Open.

The 28-year-old Latrobe, Pa., player, who said he was pacing himself this year for an all-out bid to win the Augusta, Ga., tourney, took only 27 putts yesterday for a sizzling five-under-par 67.

Palmer faces not only the toughest competition in the seven-year history of the event, but also a jinx that has knocked out the first day leader in the last five tourneys. Not since 1952, when Jackie Burke won, has the 18-hole leader been on top at the end of 72 holes.

Last year, Palmer had a first round 68 to tie for the lead, then faded to finish out of the money.

One stroke back of Palmer were Peter Thomson of Melbourne, Australia, and Otto Greiner of Tenafly, N.J.

Ken Venturi of San Francisco and John Barnum of Grand Rapids, Mich., each had 69, while Eddie Griffiths of Youngstown, Ohio; Bill Ogden of Chicago and Ted Kroll of Fort Lauderdale, Fla., were bunched at 70.

Fifteen pros were one under par with 71. A total of 23 golfers shot sub par golf over the par 72, 6,450-yard Baton Rouge Country Club course, still soggy late yesterday after weeks of wet weather.

Palmer played amazing golf on the last four holes yesterday, shooting three birdies for a 32 on the second nine after touring the first nine in one-under-par 35.

Shamrocks Seek 8th Win Tonight

Having once defeated their basketball opponents for tonight, St. Michael's cagers were favored to repeat, at Lamphere Madison Heights. Shamrocks will seek to square their season's record at 8-8 in this concluding test.

Bob Mineweaser's club will then prepare for its Class C district opener here, against OL St. Mary, which has beaten him twice this year. The Mike-Eaglet tilt is set for next Wednesday at 7:30 p.m. in PCH.

PCH Tankers Seek to Square Record

Winding up their 1957-58 regular season today, PCH swimming team members face Flint Northern in the Viking pool. Bob Boyce's crew beat Northern in their first meeting this season, and it hopes to repeat the dose to square it's record at 6-6 (3-6 in SVC now). Next action is in the Valley meet March 7, at Northern.

THURSDAY'S FIGHTS
LOS ANGELES—Auburn Copeland, 126½, Los Angeles, stopped Felix Cervantes, 127½, Mexicali, Mexico, 10.
ST. PAUL—Al Sparks, 168, Winnipeg, outpointed Al Andrews, 164¾, St. Paul, 10.
REVERE, Mass.—Joe Devlin, 153, Boston, stopped Danny Jones, 146¾, New York, 5.

Speed Trap Warning by Driver Approved

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — Luther Edward Creech, unhappy after receiving a speeding ticket when he was checked going too fast in a radar check zone, decided to get even with the cops.

He circled the block and went through the zone at 10 miles an hour, waving a sign warning others of the trap. The miffed officers arrested Creech again—on charges of driving too slow, and disorderly conduct.

However, in court, Creech found a defender in Judge James Demoplos. The judge told police, "He slowed traffic down, didn't he? That's what the radar was for, wasn't it?"

Contracts Weak on New Wheat

CHICAGO (AP)—Prices of grain futures were mostly steady in early dealings on the Board of Trade today.

Corn, in good demand the past two days, had a weak undertone today. It traded alternately steady and weak with some dealers taking profits on small bulges.

New crop wheat contracts continued weak, influenced by additional moisture throughout much of the Great Plains, but the old crop contracts and other grains were about steady.

Traders said dealings were moderate and without any particular incentives.

Near the end of the first hour, wheat was unchanged to ½ cent a bushel lower, March $2.20⅜; corn unchanged to ⅛ higher, March $1.13¼; oats unchanged to ¼ lower, March 63⅜; rye ⅛ to 1 cent lower, March $1.28¼; soybeans ⅛ higher to ⅛ lower, March $2.20; lard 10 to 17 cents a hundred pounds higher, March $12.52.

Will Accept Return of Bad Nail Polish

NEW YORK (AP)—The makers of TenDay said last night they would accept return of their press-on nail polish, ordered seized by the Food and Drug Administration.

At the same time, however, M. I. Schultz, head of the Harrison Laboratories of New Rochelle, N. Y., denied the FDA contention that the product is harmful.

The polish comes in colored plastic strips of different sizes, shaped like fingernails. The government has said that users of the polish should use extreme care in removing it to "avoid peeling, splitting and breaking off of the nails."

The FDA said some 700 women have complained to it and the company of injury to their nails after using the product.

Wednesday federal agents began seizing stocks of the cosmetic, and said the company was cooperating in the effort to get the product off the market.

Wednesday night, however, Schultz said there had been a misunderstanding and that his firm would not aid in gathering in the product.

Major Issues Change Slightly

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market was irregularly lower in slow early trading today.

Changes in most major issues were held to small fractions.

Once again there was a lack of leadership in any division. The news background was fairly spotty. The Federal Reserve Board said department store sales last week ran 18 per cent behind a year ago.

Two tobacco stocks made slight headway in the wake of sharply higher earnings. Lorillard opened ahead a point, then shaved part of its gain. American Tobacco rose a small fraction.

Steels were mostly lower, except Lukens which was up a fraction. Lukens also was higher yesterday, with much of the buying attributed to covering by short interests.

Metals, which were off on dividend cuts yesterday, were irregular. Anaconda was ahead a fraction. American Smelting and Kennecott were down slightly.

Plains States Hammered

Wintry Weather Returns

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Blustery wintry weather hammered the Plains states today and the heavy snow, strong winds and colder air headed into north central sections of the country.

Snow drifts blocked most main East-West highways.

Blizzards continued in most of the Dakotas, across Nebraska and Kansas and headed toward northern Minnesota while colliding cold and warm air masses triggered new storms in the Southeast.

A blinding snowstorm that already has piled up snow as deep as 10 inches trapped a school bus taking children home from Natona, northeast of Hays, Kas., during the height of the storm late yesterday.

The driver, first reported lost, secured shelter for the pupils at a farmhouse where they spent the night.

Police radio reports said the children were in good condition despite their exposure to the storm, described as more intense than the paralyzing blizzard of last March 24. That storm, with 14 inches of snow, buried passenger trains and buildings under huge drifts.

Telephone lines were down in the area and it could not be learned how many children were aboard the school bus.

Kansas highways were closed first by zero visibility and later by deep drifts. At least 10 inches of snow hit the northern part of the state, driven by 50-mile-an-hour winds, and more than five inches covered the southern portion of Kansas.

The weather bureau issued a heavy snow warning for Chicago with accumulation in excess of four inches expected by tomorrow morning.

Heavy rain, in excess of an inch in some places, fell on the North Atlantic states. New York City was soaked while three quarters of an inch was measured at Harrisburg, Pa.

Light snow flurries persisted in the northern and central Rockies and a few light showers fell in western Oregon. But, in general, fair weather prevailed in the Far West with temperatures in the 20s and 30s in the plateau and in the 50s in Southern California.

Benson Issue Divides GOP

Members From Midwest Keep on Pressing Him to Resign

WASHINGTON (AP) — Midwestern Republicans kept up their political fire at Secretary of Agriculture Benson today in the expressed hope of forcing him to reconsider his refusal to resign.

But two other congressional Republicans rallied to Benson's support.

Rep. Weaver (R-Neb), who carried GOP protests to President Eisenhower yesterday, told newsmen, "The President is not going to fire him and is not going to ask him to resign."

He said some 30 rebellious GOP Midwestern House members, worried by what he called a grass roots political uprising against administration farm policies, plan to appeal to Benson to tender his resignation for the good of the Republican party.

"I told the President it was the opinion of the group that it may mean 20 to 30 House seats, a few Senate seats and governorships in the farm belt," he said.

Benson, discounting any thoughts of resigning, told a news conference his policies would be political assets rather than liabilities to Republicans who got out and worked for them.

He contended his policies are "fair and sound," and are gaining more and more support from farmers. They are designed not to drive prices down, he said, but to let prices reach levels at which the products will sell.

PRO-BENSON

Other Republican House members defended the secretary.

Rep. Gubser (R-Calif) sent a letter to Eisenhower today calling for retention of Benson as "a man of integrity, foresight and courage," and asking Eisenhower to announce that the government is getting "completely out of the price support business."

Firm's Earnings Drop

ANN ARBOR (AP) — King-Seeley Corp., an auto parts firm, reports a drop of more than $200,000 in earnings for the second quarter, ended Jan. 31, compared to the same period a year ago. The Ann Arbor firm reported earnings of $26,981 for the quarter just ended compared to $295,761 for the same quarter last year. It blamed "generally lower economic activity" throughout the country, especially in the auto industry.

Garden City Official Out of Nine Jobs

DETROIT (AP)—Douglas Waddell, 56, is out of a job today — nine of them, to be exact.

After a tiff with the mayor of suburban Garden City, he resigned as city superintendent, clerk, treasurer, purchasing agent, board of appeals secretary, Planning Commission member, street administrator, Pension Board secretary- treasurer and representative of the County Sanitation Authority.

Waddell says he has no definite plans for the future but "at least I have a lot of experience."

Ike to Sound Key-Note

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower will sound the keynote for the Republican congressional election campaign in a speech May 6, Republican National Chairman Meade Alcorn said Eisenhower will speak to a party dinner here.

State Congressman Firm on Need for Mack's Ouster

WASHINGTON (INS) — Rep. John Bennett (R-Mich) said today FCC Commissioner Richard A. Mack's denials of wrongdoing have not changed his mind "one bit" about the need for Mack's ouster.

Bennett said after hearing the Federal Communications Commission member testify for a full day in his own defense that "I haven't heard anything yet to change my opinion."

Bennett was the first member of the House committee to demand Mack's resignation.

Another member of the House subcommittee investigating the mission, Rep. John Moss (D-Calif.) told Mack to his face today the greatest service he could render would be to resign from the commission.

Rep. John Moss (D-Calif), who has joined in Bennett's demand, said he will be "very interested" in seeing income tax returns which Mack has agreed to submit to the committee.

Moss said he was "curious" how Mack listed some $10,000 in benefits from an insurance company interest donated to him by Miami attorney Thurman A. Whiteside, who was described by one committee member as Mack's "financial angel."

Meanwhile, the FBI, which is investigating Mack's alleged misconduct, disclosed it had carried out a probe of Mack's background in 1955 prior to his appointment as a commissioner at the "special request" of the White House.

KNOWS LITTLE

Under intensive questioning yesterday, Mack professed to know very little about his own financial affairs.

Rep. John J. Flynt (D-Ga) told him bluntly it was "inconceivable" that he was donated a one-sixth interest in an insurance company by Whiteside but has never seen any evidence of his ownership, as he claimed.

The commissioner replied to numerous questions about his business holdings and earnings that he just didn't know the answers because "Mr. Whiteside handles all that and I trust him completely."

Mack said Whiteside did not even tell him when he donated the business interests to him; he did not know how much he got in profits; he had no correspondence about his ownerships; he had no idea who the officers are in the insurance company in which he owns 100 per cent of the stock. (Previous testimony was that Whiteside's secretary was the president of the company.)

Mack insisted repeatedly that his financial obligations to Whiteside had "no influence" on the vote he cast in the hotly-disputed award of a Miami television license. Mack voted for National, whose application Whiteside was pushing.

Mack told the committee he did not know until he read in the newspapers a few days ago that National carries insurance on its TV station with his company. He immediately wrote Whiteside asking him to withdraw his interest in the firm, he said.

The commissioner claimed his vote for National, which upset a "very strong" recommendation of the commission's examiner in favor of Miami businessman A. Frank Katzentine, had nothing to do with Whiteside's interest in National. He voted against Katzentine, he said, because he did not approve of his business policies including too many commercials on

Must Pay Half of Bond Interest

Pontiac General Had Hoped to Avoid Charge on 1952 Issue

Pontiac General Hospital this year will have to pay at least half of the $80,750 hospital bond issue interest it had hoped to avoid and if the city pays the rest, it will have to come out of already depleted capital improvement funds.

This was the financial picture that developed during a two-hour joint meeting last night of City Commissioners and the hospital board of trustees.

The hospital's bid for the city to assume all the annual interest on 1952 bonds will not be settled by April 1, when the first 1958 installment of $41,250 is due, Hospital Director Carl I. Flath agreed.

"We're going to have to meet that installment ourselves, I can see that," he said. "As a matter of fact, we budgeted part of the interest during January and yet made a profit that month. But I doubt that we can budget the rest until April and still keep out of the red."

The next installment of $39,500 is due Oct. 1. If the city bears it, the money would have to be taken out of unappropriated funds that otherwise would have been used to help public improvement programs, City Manager Walter K. Willman said.

"Our 1958 budget already is passed, our other expenditures are fixed," said Willman. "If we bear any part of the interest, we would have to take it out of capital improvement."

The city, he noted, already has contracted to take $317,000 out of the improvement fund to help pay for equipment in the hospital's new addition, and plans to appropriate another $317,000 for the same purpose later this year.

In addition, he said, the public is being taxed to pay off the principal on the $3,000,000 bond issue.

"If we agreed to pick up the interest for the remaining 28 years that the bond issue would run, it would cost the public in the neighborhood of $1,145,000," Willman pointed out.

"That would mean that in addition to the $3,000,000, the public would be paying almost another $2,600,000 more to complete the project."

The city has promised to take a total $950,000 out of capital improvement funds for the hospital over the next three years. Two years ago, it gave the hospital $500,000 cash to continue the building program.

The hospital made the interest proposal as one means to stay out of the red this year.

Week's Production Set at 95,408 Cars

DETROIT (AP) — The nation's auto factories will build 95,408 cars this week, Automotive News said today. Last week 89,977 cars were built and in the comparable 1957 week 140,362 cars were made.

Automotive News credits this week's indicated advance to the return of Ford Division's home plant to a five-day week plus increases at Chevrolet and Plymouth.

It estimates February car assemblies at 396,045 units compared with January's 489,357 cars. In February last year 570,650 cars were built. February truck production is placed at 74,164 units compared with 81,877 in January and 92,308 in February last year.

Automotive News says Canadian output this week will total 7,189 cars and trucks, compared with 7,470 last week and 10,622 during the like 1957 week.

In Memoriam 2

IN LOVING MEMORY OF OUR beloved husband and father, Harrison Allen, who passed away 1 year ago today.
There is a face that is always with us.
There is a voice we'd love to hear.
There is a smile we shall always remember.
Of the one we love so dear.
Sadly missed by wife, children and grand - children.

IN LOVING MEMORY OF MY wife and pal, Kathleen Henson, who passed away February 28, 1957.
I have lost my soul's companion,
A life linked with my own;
And day by day, I miss her more,
As I walk through life alone.
Sadly missed by husband, Bert Henson.

IN LOVING MEMORY OF KATHleen Henson, who passed away February 28, 1957.
There is a face that is always with us,
There is a voice we would love to hear;
There is a smile we shall always remember,
Of the one we love so dear.
Sadly missed by Lois, Ray and Boys.

IN MEMORY OF HENRY SAND, who passed 1 year ago, February 28, 1957.
Please God, Forgive our silent tear,
Our secret wish that Hank were here;
Our memories are treasured, that no one can steal,
But death is a heartache that no one can heal.
There are other deaths, yes, we know;
But he was our friend and we miss him so.
Eddie and Eileen.

Raps Michigan Business Taxes

GOP State Senator Says Levy Here 50 Per Cent Higher Than Ohio's

LANSING (AP) — Sen. Clyde H. Geerlings, Republican Senate tax specialist, has said taxes on business in Michigan top Ohio's by 50 per cent, an assertion quickly disputed by Democratic Gov. Williams.

Geerlings said early returns from a comparative study of state and local tax burdens among the states justified his conclusion, and "definitely" establish a trend.

Williams retorted they "prove nothing except that the Geerlings committee is out to prove the worst about Michigan. To this, the Holland Republican said the governor is "afraid of the facts."

The controversy arose from an interim report yesterday to Geerlings' tax study group by its research director, Dwight B. Yntema, Hope College economist.

Yntema said he had mailed 1,469 questionnaires to selected business and manufacturing firms in Michigan and seven other states, and received 152 replies—27 of them applicable to an Ohio - Michigan comparison.

An analysis of the 27 responses showed that the responding firms averaged $350 in combined state and local taxes per employe in Michigan, as against $180 for Ohio.

The totals on taxes per $1,000 of payroll came out $63 for Michigan and 43 for Ohio.

Yntema's commentary was loaded with qualifications, but concluded the general finding that Michigan's taxes on business are higher than Ohio's "seems valid."

Geerlings was less hesitant about drawing a conclusion.

"Certainly it means we shouldn't put any more taxes on business in Michigan," he said when questioned by newsmen.

Parents Turn In Son After Finding Dope

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—Mr. and Mrs. James R. Styles turned their 19-year-old son over to police after Mrs. Styles found five marijuana cigarettes and an ounce of bulk marijuana under the mattress when she made his bed.

Chief of Police Charles E. McIntire of suburban Imperial Beach quoted James Lowe Styles: "There wasn't much to it. My father said: 'You remember what I always told you, don't you?' He always told me if he caught me messing with dope I'd go to jail."

Young Styles was arraigned yesterday on a charge of possessing narcotic weed and a preliminary hearing was set for March 11. He said he bought it in Tiajuana, Mexico, Sunday for $7. His father is a Navy enlisted man at Camp Elliott.

Mexican Resort Tries Different Approach

By EARL WILSON

ACAPULCO, Mexico—In this Missile Age there are things us old-timers have got to get used to—such as a hotel with 36 swimming pools.

WILSON

The wife and I flew down here to gawk at it. Almost every cottage hanging on the green hills here at La Brisas ("The Breezes") has its own "cocktail-size" pool. The pool's about seven steps long by three steps wide and you can swim across it without giving up your cocktail in case you're one of those horrid types who occasionally sip some b-u-z.

A Spaniard-turned-American named Juan March, who married a San Francisco beauty named Jane Brady, had a million ideas about running a hotel . . . and a million dollars.

"Thou shall not tip!" is Commandment One.

Anybody caught taking or giving is out.

"In most hotels, 15 per cent of the employes get tipped—and the other 85 per cent hate you," March'll tell you. "I pay my people twice to four times what they'd get in other places."

A prominent international banker whose hobby is hotels, he loves pink and hates green.

He rents you a pink-awninged jeep to grind up and down the four plateaus or bump into Acapulco to spend your pesos and dance barefoot on the beach, which is a local diversion.

He's not looking for Barbara Hutton to stay there, as she'd require special attentions other guests might resent.

"I could buy and sell Las Brisas," Miss Hutton reportedly said.

"Sell it—but not buy it . . . it's not for sale!" gloated March.

Bald, paunchy old gents with glossy young blondes get the "We're filled up" treatment at Las Brisas. Deviate-types are also turned away.

Disc Data and Chatter

Music in the Round

by Dick Saunders

If you spend money on records, you are enjoying an exciting and wholesome pastime, BUT . . . I'll bet the majority of record buyers have more than one bad disc in the collection.

This is an obvious assumption when you stop and consider this week's (and last week's . . . and the week's before) best seller in the Pontiac area: "Sweet Little Sixteen," by Chuck Berry.

I can't say I'm a great fan of the "sweet sixteen" that grandpa knew (nothing personal), but Berry doesn't do credit to ANY creature of this age.

Why is this in first place? Berry and the congregation fight each other from the opening round to see who can sing and play the loudest and lousiest!

Second is "Twenty-Six Miles" by The Four Preps. This is a more agreeable disc. In third place is a theme for hopped-up Early american rockers—"Tequila," by The Champs.

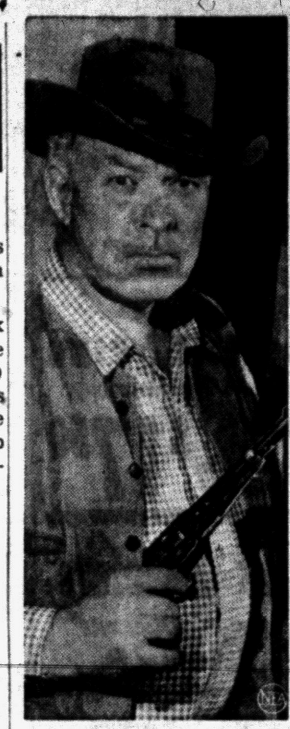

Andy Williams is in fourth spot with "Are You Sincere" (a pretty good disc, but the material is inferior to Andy's ability). "Ballad Of A Teenage Queen" by Johnny Cash ranks fifth.

This is another disc that should go before the firing squad.

ALBUMS: As I suggested about a month back, "The Music Man" (Capitol WAO-990)—by the cast of this hit show on Broadway—would be a big one. It is. Tops in Pontiac already (Eeegad! Somebody has taste) and sixth nationally. Watch for this terrific album to hit No. 1 in the nation and stay there for some time.

THE JAZZ NEST: Room for only one egg. A better than average foot-stomping is to be had by paying attention to a new LP by Teagarden & Hackett & talented friends, called "Jazz Ultimate" (Capitol T-933). The horn men are tops and weave some pleasing patterns. It's Dixie, of course. Outstanding is Ernie Caceres whose fine baritone sax gives an interesting and stimulating touch to the gathering. Worth a listen and a half.

Fame Destroys His Quiet Life

Actor Finds Stardom in TV After 30 Years of Supporting Roles

By ERSKINE JOHNSON

HOLLYWOOD (NEA) — Ward Bond asked the waiter for a Sherry Flip—milk with a dash of sherry — and an order of "graveyard stew"—soft-boiled eggs on toast in a bowl of milk.

"See what happens," he grinned. "I'm in the movies for 30 years with no worries. I've been in television for seven months now and I've got an ulcer."

News of an ulcer, the Hollywood badge of success, travels fast. Ward Bond's best friends, John Wayne and director John Ford, heard about it from another pal while sunning themselves on the beach at Waikiki.

They got so excited they immediately dashed off a cable to Bond in Hollywood. It read:

"Congratulations. We knew you had it in you. Glad to hear you finally made it."

Rugged, 54-year-old Ward Bond, star of NBC-TV's "Wagon Train," presented Wednesdays at 7:30 p.m., reached for the sherry flip and said, "Yes, sir, I sure got me a tiger by the tail. Not that it isn't fun, you understand. This milk diet is curing the ulcer.

TOO MUCH WORK

"But a movie a week is turning out to be too much work and worry for me. I'm a guy who likes to go fishing. But I guess there's no way out."

It's quite a switcheroo, that's for sure.

In nearly 200 movies since 1928, Ward Bond was Hollywood's most happy fella playing supporting roles. He cherished his lack of responsibility, his press-agentless privacy and he was sincere when he said, "I'd rather not be a star. I've seen too many of 'em come and go."

So while he made "a he—— of a good living," Hollywood hitched Bond's wagon to its stars and good supporting roles were all he ever dreamed about.

Then last September TV came up with the switch—it turned Bond into a star by hitching guest stars to HIS wagon—the one-hour telefilm "Wagon Train" rolling to higher and higher audience plateaus on Wednesday nights.

In four months Bond's rugged face, booming voice and authoritative acting became as well-known as the movie stars he supported in 30 years of film acting.

CHANGES HIS LIFE

"Yes sir," Bond said, digging into his egg and milk stew, Wagonmaster Seth Adams has sorta changed my life." But "sorta" is an understatement. The privacy and the irresponsibility he cherished is gone.

Today he worries about good stories for "Wagon Train," good scripts, answering fan mail (he had to hire a secretary), keeping interview dates and making personal appearances here and everywhere.

It's the price of the fame he never counted on, and the sport fishing boat he and his wife once "ran the paint off" now moves only with the tide as it gathers barnacles at its mooring.

But for a 54-year-old movie supporting actor, gathering TV fame instead of barnacles is all rather heartwarming.

I guess everyone knows that 6-foot, 3-inch, 215-pound Bond was a football player at the University of Southern California in 1928 when director John Ford came to the practice field one day to recruit athletes for a movie about the U. S. Naval Academy.

'THE UGLY FACE'

He was among those Ford selected and on a location trip to Annapolis Bond and a young prop man named John Wayne bunked together.

But what you may not know is how Ford happened to pick Bond out of a mob of uniformed gridders. Bond still chuckles about it.

"Ford needed someone to play the role of a heavy and I overheard him say about me:

" 'Get me that one—the one with the ugly face.' "

Wayne and Ford, with whom Bond started in the movies, got their ulcers years ago. It just took Bond a little longer.

WORLD'S LARGEST TRUCK? — That's the claim of Western Contracting Co. for the giant earth mover, spanned above by 20 men. Shod with 18 32-ply tires about six feet in diameter, the huge truck will haul 80 cubic yards, half of the excavation volume for an average-sized home, and weighs 200 tons when loaded. Nicknamed "Eucnik," it will be used on the Oahe Dam in the Missouri River near Pierre, S. D. The monster is a General Motors' product, built by the Euclid Division of GM, at Cleveland.

Boy Kills Minister-Dad in Face of Punishment

The Rev. Leonard Boyett was shot once in the back with a .38-caliber revolver held by his son John after the pastor called the boy to come for punishment.

Friends of the family told police the boys and their father hadn't gotten along recently, that the boys resented the strict discipline at home and planned to run away.

The boys stole the death weapon to "hunt rabbits" in their romantic plans to run away and hide at a nearby lake. One of the twins also stole $30.10 from a family cookie jar.

Boyett discovered the loss.

He picked the twins up at school and drove them home. He stood on the front stoop whittling the three-foot, pencil-thin switch. Then he called, "John, come here."

John, standing in the front room with his sister Carolyn, 17, watching, lifted the revolver and fired through the screen door.

Both John and his twin brother Jack were in the custody of juvenile authorities. A Juvenile Court hearing will decide whether John will be tried as an adult or juvenile.

Jack was held as a witness "and because he wanted to stay with his brother," defense attorney J. Benson Newell said.

As the two boys were led to the police cruiser past the body of their father, Jack turned to his sobbing brother.

"John," he said, "you stop crying. Pray for dad."

Rampaging Bull Slain by Detroit Policeman

DETROIT (AP)—Patrolman Donald Oshnock turned toreador yesterday when an 850-pound bull went on a rampage at S. Lowenstein & Son Packing House.

Answering a company call, Oshnock jumped into the bull's quarters and dispatched it with seven shots from his service revolver while dodging the enraged animal.

"I should send him the ears and tail," Lowenstein said. "That's the customary reward for the victor in a bull fight."

Vanguard Assembly Discovered Faulty

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — The Navy has discovered faulty assembly of some crucial parts within the second stage of the Vanguard test rocket now awaiting launching, it was learned from reliable sources today.

The pipes leading to and from a small tank containing liquified propane gas were discovered in reverse position.

The strange error apparently overlooked in the inspection process at the manufacturing and assembly plant in Baltimore.

There was no suspicion of sabotage.

The embarrassing error contributed to the postponement of a Navy satellite launching attempt this week and led to a Vanguard propane fuel shortage that produced a further delay.

The difficulty reportedly has been corrected, and a Vanguard launching attempt may come any time next week, weather permitting.

Woman Claims Fruit Grower Not Free to Wed

MEDFORD, Mass. (AP) — A Medford mother said today that California fruit grower Tony Vito is not free to wed actress Sharon Lee —that he is still married to her and the father of her two children.

Vito and Miss Lee held a news conference in Hollywood and told newsmen Vito had offered to set up a $500,000 trust fund for the actress if she would marry him.

In Medford, Mrs. Vito Orlandella said Tony "very definitely is my husband." She said they were married in a Boston Catholic church 10 years ago and have been separated four years.

"But we're both Catholics so there could be no thought of ending the marriage," she said.

"I don't know what his financial condition is. He does take very good care of us. He's met his financial obligations to his family very well."

Coast Guard Offering to Give Away Whale

LONG BRANCH, N.J. (AP)—Want a whale?

There's a 50-foot one available here.

The dead whale washed ashore back of the Lido Hotel.

The U. S. Coast Guard has agreed to try to pull it out to sea but is still waiting for calm.

Meanwhile, the Coast Guard says it doesn't feel particularly possessive about the beast. Anyone who wants it for his very own can have it.
