

Bed Count for Mental Cases Big Question in Legislature

LANSING (AP) — A check shows Michigan's 10 major state mental institutions are using all except slightly more than one per cent of their available beds, says the auditor general's office.

Using a different figure, however, it is possible to come up with a much higher count of empty beds.

The figures are sure to be thrown around and argued in the current legislative session, where one of the major issues is how much money should be spent for new facilities for mental patients.

TO ADD BEDS?

Gov. Swainson has recommended an ambitious new program. Republicans are willing to add more beds but have indicated they won't go along with a large expansion.

Auditor General Bill S. Farnum reported he made the bed count at the 10 major institutions, housing all but some 3,000 of the state's more than 30,000 hospitalized mental patients.

A task force of 23 auditors made an unannounced visit to the Kalamazoo, Newberry, Northville, Pontiac, Traverse City and Ypsilanti State Hospitals and the Coldwater, Lapeer, Cap and Mount Pleasant State Homes and Training schools.

Farnum said the check showed 336 vacancies among the 27,896 beds.

The vacancy figure, however, would rise to 1,217 if the count included beds held for patients on leave, those vacated by escapes, beds for medical purposes only and those for seclusion purposes only.

The largest categories were 468 beds held for patients on leave and 267 reserved for medical purposes only. In addition, 65 beds are being held open for escapes.

Farnum made the check at the request of Gov. Swainson and Sen. Elmer R. Porter, R-Blissfield, chairman of the Senate Appropriations Committee, and Rep. Arnold Engstrom, R-Traverse City, chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee.

Farnum said the hospitals are still overcrowded, in terms of proper patient capacity, by 3,458 patients.

Pontiac State Hospital reported today that it had 37 vacant beds which it should have 95, according to Michigan Department of Mental Health directives.

Women Pawns in Hands of Chess Experts

MOSCOW (AP) — Mikhail Botvinnik, current world champion, and Vasily Smyslov, the go-fighter, returned to their silent, serious chess matches today wondering if they had changed the whole approach to the game.

The two grand masters played a match yesterday in Moscow's Indoor Arena using a shapely ballerina as human pawns. Half were dressed in white, half in black and all were bright red stockings. Queens and castles on the huge chess board.

Weather Holds Up Sun-Study Satellite

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. — An attempt to launch an orbiting solar observatory, scheduled for today, has been postponed because of troubles during a rocket test firing in Maryland.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration said Monday the launching of the 48-pound satellite, nicknamed OSO will be delayed several days.

OSO is designed to investigate sun-earth relations.

Hospitalized in Crashes

5 Troy Teachers Injured

Five of the six persons hospitalized this morning with injuries received in three separate auto accidents caused by Troy school teachers.

Injured in one car that left the road and hit a tree were Mrs. Mary G. Gill, 45, of 1000 E. 10th St., Troy, 67, and Mrs. Mary Trull, 41, all of Royal Oak. They were passengers in the car driven by William H. Gill, 46, who escaped injury.

The accident happened on Croft Road, between 15 and 16-mile roads, just after 8 p.m.

Another teacher, Charles R. Ballard, 61, of Huntington Woods was hurt when his car veered off the road and hit a tree at 7:40 a.m. and hit a tree.

The third accident was caused when a truck splashed water into the windshield of a car and then drove on the driver couldn't see. The driver, Bernard W. Hansen, 19, of 6187 Livestock Road, Troy, ran head-on into another car.

Driver of the oncoming car was another Troy teacher, Mrs. Patricia Schimmlinger, 35, of Royal Oak. She was taken to St. Joseph Hospital, Pontiac, and the rest of the injured to William Beaumont Hospital, Royal Oak.

British Plans N-Test at U.S. Nevada Base

LONDON (UPI) — Britain has completed preparations for an underground nuclear explosion in the U.S. Nevada testing ground, expected to be carried out before the end of the week, authoritative sources said today.

The test-Britain's first in four years and her first underground — is understood to involve a nuclear-type weapon in a low kiloton range.

If successful, it would make storage and handling of nuclear weapons considerably safer, among other achievements.

Britain will share the result of the test with the United States.

NEW BRUNSWICK, Tex. (UPI) — A big truck pulling a trailer smashed into the side of a Greyhound bus before dawn today. The collision threw the bus on its side, killed three bus passengers and injured 10 other persons.

All of the injured except the truck driver were passengers on the bus, bound from Dallas to San Antonio, Tex. The truck was going north toward Dallas. There were 13 passengers and a driver on the bus. Most of the passengers were asleep.

Con-Con Debates Court Issue

Debate opened today on a constitutional convention proposal that would mean Oakland County would elect its own state Supreme Court judges.

The method of selecting judges for Michigan's Supreme Court is one of the most controversial subjects in the convention at Lansing.

A proposal by the con-con judicial branch committee would put the election of state Supreme Court judges on a district basis rather than by statewide election.

Districts would be on a population basis.

Waterford Eyes Federal Funds

Board OKs Expansion of Planning Department After Hearing Program

A general development planning program, to be financed mainly by federal funds, was presented to the Waterford Township Board by planning director Robert Diebel.

Without giving formal approval to applying for a urban planning grant under "plan 701," as it is known, the board did authorize the hiring of a junior planner and part-time planning department secretary for the township.

Indicating that the plan will be adopted.

The board also authorized the interviewing of planning firms, as well as which could set a consultant.

In explaining "701," Diebel used a theoretical figure of $30,000 for a township development plan and stated that the cost to the township would be $13,471.50 payable when the contract is drawn up with the state which acts as agent for the federal government under the "701" stip.

The planning director said that $10,000 of this amount could be applied toward the planning director's salary over a period of two years and therefore not a burden to the township under the theoretical arrangement would be $13,471.50.

According to Diebel some 60 municipalities in the state are now participating in the federal program. The federal plan has been in effect since 1964. Michigan was approved for the plan in April 1960.

The planning director told board members that it would probably take at least three weeks to interview prospective planning consultants. When a consultant is selected by the planning commission, the selection will then be submitted for approval of the Township Board.

It is expected that the board at that time will take a formal vote on whether to not proceed with the "701" program.

California Gets Heavy Snow in Riverside Area

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Snow fell in some low-lying sections of Southern California today.

It was fairly heavy in the Beaumont and Banning areas in Riverside County. Lighter snowfalls were reported in other parts of the county. Some snow even fell outside the city of Riverside, but melted quickly.

The Angeles Crest Highway, which runs north from the Los Angeles area to the desert, was closed during the night because of snow.

Motorists were required to have chains in most mountain road sections.

It didn't snow in Los Angeles but temperatures tumbled to the low 40s.

'Chances Get Better for Medicare Okay'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield said today that he expects a change of outlook, said today that he thinks chances are good that Congress will enact the administration's medical care program this year.

He stated the new view after the weekly breakfast meeting of Democratic leaders from the Capitol with President Kennedy.

Over the weekend Mansfield had been quoted as saying the odds appeared to be against passage of Kennedy's medical care plan as well as said to public schools and state authority authority to combat recessions.

The Day in Birmingham Name Charles F. Adams Young Man of the Year

BIRMINGHAM — Charles F. Adams, executive of the Birmingham Hills advertising firm of MacManus, John & Adams, Inc., was named the area's Young Man of the Year by the Birmingham Junior Chamber of Commerce last night.

The Key Man award which goes to a Jaycee member for his contributions to the organization was won by Patrick Deighan, a sales representative for the Birmingham division of the Automobile Club of Michigan.

Adams, 26, of 6139 Dakota Circle, Bloomfield Township, received the Birmingham Service Award for his leadership and service in community affairs.

Recently, Adams was appointed Michigan West regional chairman for Wayne, Oakland and Macomb counties. Last year he was chairman of Michigan West activities in Oakland County.

His interest in youth has been intense from his appointments to the executive board of the Boy Scouts of America in the Detroit area, and the executive committee for Junior Achievement Week.

His professional activities include the 1961-62 chairmanship of American Association of Advertising Agencies, and the governorship of the West Central Region of the AAAA.

In 1961, he was appointed by Gov. Swainson as a member of the Michigan Cultural Commission.

Adams is one of the youngest of officers of the major advertising agency.

He began his career with MacManus, John & Adams in 1949 as a copywriter after earlier working as a copywriter and then as a copy editor. In 1953, he was named an account supervisor and two years later, a vice president of the firm.

Prior to his appointment as executive vice president and director in 1960, he served two years as assistant to the president.

In addition to his administrative duties, Adams, married and father of four children, continues to write the major share of advertising copy for the Cadillac Division of General Motors. He has written more than 100 million of advertising copy, most of it for Cadillac.

Deighan, 30, of 328 Ottawa Road, Troy, has been a member of the Jaycee for 10 years, 3 1/2 of which he has served as an officer and director of the organization.

His award is the highest honor bestowed by the Jaycee by his fellow members.

Deighan's wife Constance is president of the Birmingham Jaycee Auxiliary.

Some 60 Jaycees and their guests attended the awards banquet held at the Hotel Waldorf.

Born near Orchard Lake, he was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Angus MacManus. On Sept. 21, 1938 she was married to Pontiac.

Pressures on U.S. From Both Sides

Cold War Diplomacy Problems Mounting

By PHIL NEWSON

UPI Foreign News Analyst
Even as the United States and the free world celebrated L. Col. John Glenn's victory in space, pressures in the more down-to-earth field of Cold War diplomacy were mounting.

For the United States, the pressures came from both friend and foe. Motives were varied.

DIFFERENCES OF OPINION

From the Soviet Union, they were based on the constant desire to split the United States from its Allies and on ultimate Soviet victory within the larger framework of the Cold War.

From the United States' Allies, they sprang from honest differences of opinion over conduct of the Cold War and the different approaches to a problem whose final solution would affect all.

Into the happenings as had unfolded, came a British trial balloon which at first glance seemed to go further toward meeting Soviet demands on Germany than any yet advanced by an Allied power.

British Foreign Secretary Lord Home suggested in a speech that on the one hand, the Western Allied nations with Red China and the lies instilled upon the right of free access to West Berlin and the presence of Allied forces there.

TEMPORARY COMPROMISE

On the other hand, the Soviets demanded recognition of East Germany as a fact of life.

Between the two, he said, it should be possible to reach at least a temporary compromise.

It was one of two British proposals reported during the week, both of which seemed to conflict with positions previously assumed by the United States, France and West Germany.

The other was a reported suggestion from Prime Minister Harold Macmillan that the United States not close the door on at least a limited summit session with Soviet Premier Khrushchev, whether it be before or after the start of next month's disarmament conference at Geneva.

Lord Home did not enlarge upon his proposal but it ran counter to positions assumed previously by both France and West Germany.

French President Charles de Gaulle has declared himself adamantly opposed to any compromise on the German question and the West German government of Konrad Adenauer has declared itself just as vigorously against any settlement recognizing the division of Germany.

As for the proposal that the door be left open to a possible summit session, President Kennedy twice has rejected it until progress is shown on a lower level.

Without positive proof from either side, there is a growing belief that the next weeks or months may see far-reaching decisions on a global level.

It has been suggested that the British seek the role of the friend at court, hoping to prevent either the United States or the Soviet Union from assuming a position from which there is no retreat.

Such a role would go beyond Germany as an isolated problem. It would carry into the questions of Khrushchev's own future in the Soviet Union, the Soviet Union's outcome of the struggle in South Viet Nam and Laos.

One Astronaut Misses Glenn's Big Welcome

WASHINGTON (U) — One astronaut—Leroy Gordon Coe Jr.—missed Washington's festivities Monday honoring John H. Glenn Jr.

Andrew Hatcher, assistant White House press secretary, said Cooper was unable to return here in time from Australia where he manned one of the listening posts clocking Glenn's three-orbit flight around the world last Tuesday.

405-HP THUNDERBIRD V-8 — Thirty years of Ford experience culminate in this startling V-8. Available in every Galaxie, it puts 405 horses under the throttle, a dazzling level of acceleration that cannot be imagined but must be felt. A super-performance option, it comes only with the four-speed gear box. But, unlike some "special" engines that require delicate tuning and modification, it puts out its potential right off the showroom floor. Even more impressive, Ford skill has made it a docile tiger; it idles smoothly, it is durable, its super capacity does not come at the expense of harshness and noise. Among expert drivers, it is praised as a true high-performance V-8... pace-setter for 9 others tailored to every driving need.

NEW FAIRLANE CHALLENGER "260" V-8 — When the 221-cubic-inch Fairlane V-8 appeared last fall, automotive writers hailed it as a great basic advance, a compact jewel of design. Now, the "260" V-8 proves their prediction. With 164 hp, 19 more than the standard version, Fairlane gains a new brilliance of performance—but it still runs on "regular," still outsaves any standard-size Six. It has the durability of time-tested cast iron, lightened by Ford's precision-casting technique. Created by the one maker who has built 30,000,000 V-8's since 1932, it brings the sparkle and smoothness of V-8 power well within the thrifty budget's reach, puts truly sophisticated engineering at the service of truly economical motoring.

Crowds, Congress Cheer Nation's Hero

"GLENNDALE, U.S.A." — A smiling John Glenn sits with his wife Annie up on the back seat of an open car, despite a steady drizzle, as they accept the cheers of the crowd lining Pennsylvania Avenue Monday. Also in the car are the astronaut's children, Lyn, 14, and David, 16; and Vice President Lyndon Johnson (head turned in back seat).

PASS ATLAS — Waving to the cheering throng, astronaut John Glenn and his wife Annie ride past a towering Atlas missile on display in front of the Smithsonian Institution in Washington Monday. The Atlas is similar to the one that boosted Glenn and his Friendship 7 capsule into orbit around the earth last week.

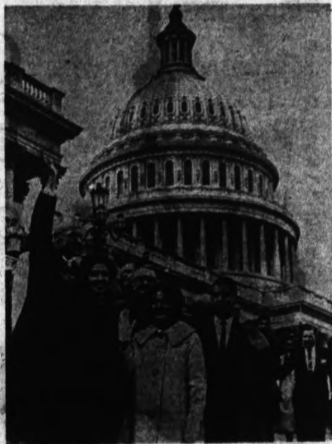

"LET IT RAIN" — Broad smiles light up the faces of astronaut John Glenn and his wife Annie as they look back over their shoulders from the back of an open car. Annie's plastic rain bonnet and a covering for their legs were the only concessions the couple made to the steady drizzle while accepting the nation's acclaim. They were the center of attraction in a parade from the White House to the Capitol in Washington Monday.

TALKS OF FLIGHT — Senators and Representatives listen earnestly as John Glenn recounts his space trip for them in a rare joint session Monday in Washington. The short address was interrupted several times with applause from the legislators and the packed gallery.

ACCEPTS AGAIN — Applause from senators and representatives brought this smile and wave from astronaut John Glenn as he appeared before the national legislative body in joint session Monday to speak on his space flight. Standing behind him are Vice President Lyndon Johnson (left) and House Speaker John McCormack.

Goldberg and Meany Differ in Viewpoint

BAL HARBOUR, Fla. (AP)—The AFL-CIO midwinter meeting has adjourned on a note of disagreement with Labor Secretary Arthur J. Goldberg.

Union President George Meany told a news conference at the end of the week-long session that Goldberg's stand "seems to be that the federal government has the right to say what each side shall do" in collective bargaining activities.

Meany has his day. Meany referred to a Chicago speech in which he said Goldberg advocated increasing the federal government's intervention role in labor disputes.

"The government's role should be confined to conciliation and mediation," Meany declared.

The AFL-CIO Executive Council at its final session Monday called on steel companies to "step up their social responsibilities" in negotiations for new contracts with workers. The council then full support behind the United Steelworkers in their bargaining.

Meany accused the companies

Twistometer Can Measure Torso Torque

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—A device that measures the torso torque and shake rate of dancers during the Twist has been developed at the University of Toledo.

The "twistometer" is the brainchild of Dr. Edward T. Kirkpatrick, head of the mechanical engineering department. It was built as a stunt for a university dance.

Kirkpatrick says the device measures both quality and quantity. An enthusiastic but ragged performance causes jagged lines on an oscilloscope. A more experienced and seductive twist produces an even pattern.

Boys rate high in effort, but the girls are more skilful, Kirkpatrick said.

Horse Race Millionaire Divorced Over Antics

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP)—Racing millionaire Andrew J. Crevelin has been divorced by Jane Anne Crevelin, who said her husband's ungentlemanly conduct at parties and the track made her nervous, upset and embarrassed.

Mrs. Crevelin, 42, won a settlement of $1.2 million, agreed on prior to the divorce Monday.

Crevelin, 54, whose horse Derby, gave him his wife rights to 6 of 12 golden trophies his horses have won—but he reserved first choice.

The 4 that goes around acting like a V-8... Tempest!

Used to be that people swore by V-8's and V-8's alone. And then along came Tempest's spunky 4 to steal their thunder.

The hottest version of this 4 (168 hp) puts out more horsepower than any other production 4 in the world. More torque, too.

And every version, standard 110 hp on up, is smooth and silent and effortless. In fact, about the only thing Tempest doesn't share with the big boys is its appetite for gasoline and spare parts. Try a Tempest 4 soon, hear!

Rock Hudson Is an Unrealistic Dreamer

By PHYLLIS BATTLELLE
NEW YORK — Rock Hudson is handsome, 6-foot-4, talented, amiable, modest, amusing and rich. Just about perfect? "Not at all," claims Rock. Off-hand and on-the-record, he didn't care to go into his imperfections. "But I certainly have them."

So he's also honest. And shrewd.

Too shrewd to get married? "Oh, not at all," repeats Rock, who was married once. "I'm not disillusioned about women, and like anybody else, something could happen tomorrow night and suddenly I'd be married. But I'm not planning to be married. Not for a long time."

Why not?

"WOMEN ARE EXPENSIVE." He grins—oh, what a handsome, talented, amiable, modest, amusing and rich grin.

"I've found that a woman is more expensive than a sailboat," he explains, "and a sailboat is more obedient."

Rock has been too busy being number one box office star the last few years to pursue his favorite sport, sailing. In fact, he sold his 40-foot ketch last year because there wasn't time to use it.

HAS A DREAM

But he has a dream "of sailing from Los Angeles through the Panama Canal to New Orleans, taking down the sails and going up the Mississippi, putting up the sails and going through the Great Lakes, and the St. Lawrence, and then sailing down the Atlantic Coast and through the Caribbean."

"Well, someday I'll do it but that won't be for a long time either."

Why not?

"Oh, well you can't do a thing like that alone. You want to have somebody to talk to and sing songs with."

TYPICAL PICTURE

This complex picture of the dreamer who is stalled in his dream because sailboats are easier to get along with than women but women go along with sailboats is typical of Rock Hudson—formerly Roy Fitzgerald.

(When Hollywood discovered him, he changed his name because, "Well, Roy is an impossible name; do I look like a Roy to you? And, well, 'Hudson' has a pleasant sound sort of like a river.")

Rock was always, admittedly, unrealistic.

For instance, when he was in high school in Winnetka, Ill., he decided to be an actor but he wouldn't tell anybody because "they'd think it was silly." After school he worked for several years as a postman.

In World War II he served in the Navy as an airplane mechanic in the Philippines, still dreaming of acting but not prepared to do anything about it. After the war he went to Hollywood and what did he do there? Became a truck driver.

Finally, a fellow driver urged him to have some photographs made, send them to a studio. He did ("It cost $25, three days' wages") and when the studio asked him to come in for an interview and asked if he could act, Rock firmly replied—"No."

That was—it's hard to believe —more than 15 years ago. Now, in spite of himself, the name Rock Hudson is as familiar to American movie audiences as it is to him, himself. His latest comedy, "Lover Come Back," won him rave reviews.

TO SHOW ABILITY

When his new drama, "The Spiral Road," opens soon, fans will see his versatility; he plays a man who slowly goes mad.

Now that he's a big star, through no pushiness of his own, Rock Hudson says he'd never do what he did, if he had his life to lead over.

"If I had it to do over, I'd have stayed in Chicago and taken part in local dramatic things and hoped to be discovered."

"It was absolutely idiotic, going to Hollywood with one chance in a million to hit it." That wonderful grin again. "I must have been crazy!"

Shelter Spaces for 180 Million Seen by 1967

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The head of the U.S. civil defense program says 180 million shelter spaces will be available by 1967—enough to house nearly everyone in this country.

Paul S. Visher, deputy assistant secretary of defense, told the 43rd annual convention of the Associated General Contractors of America Monday that 50 million spaces should be finished by the end of 1962.

Visher said 600 architectural and engineering firms are examining shelter potential of buildings across the country. His department will propose that the federal government grant up to $25 per shelter space for new buildings.

10 to Run for Commission on Primary Ballot

District One

ROBERT BOWENS JR.
His statement:
"It is very apparent that in District 1 and the city of Pontiac the people have lost interest and confidence in their city government."
"Since my own roots are grounded so deeply in this city this has become of great concern to me. This is one election where the voters have an opportunity to choose good and conscientious new persons for city officers."
"These candidates, I am sure, will study our city problems, not from a standpoint of politics, but with an objective view to Pontiac's future."
"I intend to eliminate careless spending, with a business-like approach to our city's financial problems and a personal approach to the problems of the people."
"A city should be operated as a big business with careful planning and efficiency. The city budget should be closely adhered to and our tax dollar should be spent wisely so we may get our money's worth to maintain a low tax rate."

LINWOOD L. FLACK
His statement:
"I consider myself a candidate of the people in District 1. I have worked with all of the various groups in the community—civil, religious, social and political—for the specific purpose of improving the general welfare of the citizens of my district and the city as a whole."
"In opposition to our present commissioner, it is my expressed opinion that he has forfeited the confidence we twice gave him, and has failed to act or understand the proper structure of attainment of those things that are so dear to us."
"He has failed to take the ordinary citizen into his confidence and failed also to give to the job of being commissioner proper interest and time."
"We continuously have problems of proper housing, equal job opportunities, public improvements and the problem of promoting inter-racial and inter-cultural understanding. We must move progressively forward."
"Progress is not a matter of one's color or special talent, but one of faith, courage, concentration and administering the commission's power wisely."
"This I believe in and pledge my support with your aid for its success should I be nominated and elected city commissioner."

MILTON R. HENRY
His statement:
"Undergirding my entire position as a commissioner is the reminder expressed in the Amplified Text of Romans 13:1, that 'there is no authority except from God, by His permission, his sanction and those that exist do so by God's appointment.'"
"The city commissioner must necessarily have a twofold responsibility; that to the city at large and that to his district."
"While no commissioner should represent a special interest group, with aims at odds from the good of the whole, I believe a commissioner representing largely a minority ethnic group must add to his other responsibilities a duty to interpret minority aims and aspirations and to act to gain support for the removal of every inequality in force against the minority."
"I am appreciative of getting commission support in my drive for unemployment compensation benefits for city workers and enactment of ball bonding provisions now in force."
"However, I am bound to continue to press for three community centers, more recreation facilities, parks, employment opportunities, fairness in the conduct of urban renewal and economy and efficiency in the administration of city departments."
"Finally, I am not captive to any group, but am free to follow the dictates of my heart."

Pontiac voters will choose from among 10 candidates in three district primary elections for City Commissioner next Monday.

Primaries will take place in districts 1, 2 and 4. More than two candidates from each district filed nominating petitions for election to the commission.

Residents of these districts will be asked to choose the candidates they want to compete in the April 16 general election. The two candidates receiving the most votes in each district will oppose each other in April.

There are two incumbents among the 10 primary candidates.

In contrast, the primary election two years ago saw 18 candidates filed in four districts.

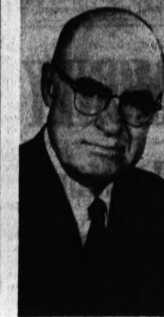

Attempting to oust incumbents Monday will be three candidates who have run for the office at least once before, four who have never before run for public office and one candidate who is a former city commissioner.

The April 16 ballot is already set in the city's remaining four districts. Incumbents are opposed in all but one district.

District Two

ROBERT J. FLYNN
His statement:
"The citizens in District 2 will lose a very capable and efficient representative on the City Commission in that Mayor Rowland has decided not to seek another term."
"With the celebration of Pontiac's Centennial this past year, it was noted with pride that the city has shown wonderful progress both economically and in a type of representative government that its citizens can well be proud."
"Pontiac must face the future with a sound fiscal policy in providing a continual construction program. I will support more capital improvements on a pay-as-you-go basis. I favor expanding our recreational facilities for children and senior citizens."
"I would encourage business and industry to Pontiac without endangering our zoning ordinances with spot zoning. My purpose will be to represent wholeheartedly the people of District 2 and cooperate fully with the City Commission in making Pontiac a better place to live and work."

CHARLES H. HARMON
His statement:
"I believe more attention should be given to improving the main highways coming into downtown Pontiac with more off-street parking made available."
"I also favor free parking as soon as the present bonds are refunded. The city should continue its pay-as-you-go policy on public improvements and run water and sewer trunk lines into the several square miles within the city limits to the east and north."
"This large area can bring more housing and industry to the city, which would ultimately increase our tax base. My qualifications to serve as District 2 commissioner speak for themselves."
"I have lived in Pontiac for 34 years. As city assessor in 1950, I reassessed the entire city and installed a modern system of assessment. From 1934 to 1940 as deputy county treasurer, I installed a new system of collecting taxes and supervised the rewriting of all tax descriptions in Oakland County outside the existing cities."
"I served on the County Board of Supervisors for five years and the County Tax Allocation Board six years. Most recently, I prepared the cost allocation formula on the 12-town district for Oakland County."

3 Vie in District 1

In District 1, incumbent commissioner is Milton R. Henry, a Pontiac attorney.
Trying to gain his commission seat will be Robert Bowens Jr., a barber and Pontiac Motor Division employee, and Linwood L. Flack Jr., a metal finisher at General Motors Truck & Coach Division.

Elected in 1958, he was re-elected two years ago. Henry came to Pontiac to open his law practice in 1952. A graduate of Yale Law School, he is married and has one daughter.

Flack, 39, of 392 Dittmar St., came to Pontiac in 1946, is married and has four sons. A past president of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, he has been an active member of the Elks Lodge, Lions, Urban League and UAW Local 594.

Henry, 41, of 183 Bassett St., is bidding for his third term.

His first attempt to be elected to public office.

District 2 Line-Up

One new face on the City Commission is assured after April 16. It will come from District 2 where Mayor Philip E. Rowland has announced he won't run for re-election.

This district also has the largest number of candidates. Voters will select from four men the two candidates who will appear on the April 16 ballot.

he is married and has two daughters.

The primary candidates from District 2 are Robert J. Flynn, 40, and Curtis E. Patton, 38, both local insurance agents; H. Malcolm Kahn, 44, an attorney; and Charles H. Harmon, 41, a tax consultant and municipal adviser.

Kahn, 306 Pioneer Drive, came to Pontiac in 1949. He lost to Rowland in the 1958 election, his only other bid for public office.

Patton, 34 S. Tilden St., is making his first bid for public office. He has been a businessman in the Pontiac area since 1932. Active in the Downtown Kiwanis Club, YMCA and Chamber of Commerce,

District Four

WINFORD E. BOTTOM
His statement:
"During my first term as city commissioner from District 4, I have become acquainted with the problems of our district and city. I was inspired in initiating a drive to establish the North Side Boys Club."
"I have also succeeded in bringing about a number of much needed improvements in District 4, such as drains, sewers, street lights, street surfacing and curbing. There are other improvements needed, one of which is a new fire station to be financed out of the city's capital improvement funds."
"I have always tried to weigh every problem on the basis of what was in the best interest of the entire city. The problem of downtown Pontiac must be solved, and I will cooperate with others to revitalize this area."
"Pontiac has a good future, and we are fortunate in having the best industries in the state furnishing employment for our citizens. I believe that the city should cooperate with local industries."
"If re-elected, I will attempt to encourage new business enterprises in Pontiac to help make this a better community."

FLOYD P. MILES
His statement:
"The future of Pontiac is dependent on positive, progressive administration of city government. With this in mind, I pledge to do all in my power to see that programs are encouraged and undertaken to insure the future growth of our city."
"In addition to a commissioner being concerned with legislation and administration which will keep Pontiac on the highest moral and spiritual plane, he must be interested in the material needs of the people he serves."
"During the six years 1954 to 1960 more was accomplished in the way of capital improvements in District 4 than in any 12-year period including the last two years."
"This cannot be a one-man deal for you must first have the cooperation and confidence of the majority of the commission and the cooperation of the administration."
"District 4 deserves this type of representation on the City Commission and I elected, I will work for the improvement of our district and the welfare of Pontiac as a whole."

HOWARD A. STITES
His statement:
"The inactivity of our last two commissioners is my reason for seeking office. The same houses these men are using now to get elected are issues both men had a chance to do something about it and did nothing. It's time for new blood."
"I feel more qualified than either of my opponents for the following reasons. I am college trained, I have completed all of the social science courses needed to graduate."
"I am a civic minded and have the educational background to honestly represent my district in a progressive, effective manner. I am a full-time student at Michigan State University Oakland and feel it is only natural that the influence of the college should be felt in our city government."
"As far as my views on issues facing the city of Pontiac, I feel that before we spend $3 million from the city and $13 million from the county in tax money on a new airport, we are entitled to know a lot more about what we are getting for our money than has been represented at this time."
"Police and firemen are entitled to the pension plan they are proposing. They are willing to pay eight per cent of their wages to get less benefit than workers get with Social Security who pay only three and one-eighth per cent."

Three in District 4

In District 4 there are three candidates. Highlighting this race is the fact that a former commissioner is attempting a comeback.

He has been a Pontiac resident since childhood, went to local schools, and was once president of the former Pontiac Police Reserve Assn. A Mason and Shriner, Bottom is married and has two children.

Stiles, 38, of 1363 Stanley Ave., is a newcomer to politics. A lifetime resident of the Pontiac area, he gave up his construction business several years ago to enter Michigan State University Oakland where he is studying to be a teacher. Stiles, once an organizer for the United Public Workers (AFL-CIO), is married and has one child.

Bottom, 36, of 174 Enclosed Ave., is bidding for his second term.

Miles, 53, of 169 W. Columbia Ave., formerly served six years as commissioner before he was defeated by Bottom in the 1960 election. A Pontiac resident for 48 years, he currently heads the city's transportation committee. An active church worker, he is a member of the YMCA and Gileads International.

Stiles, once an organizer for the United Public Workers (AFL-CIO), is married and has one child.

H. MALCOLM KAHN
His statement:
"I stand for efficient administration of government. By efficiency, I mean the careful consideration of the needs of the residents of District 2 as well as those of all the citizens."
"A sound fiscal structure is the backbone of a healthy community. The City Commission has the responsibility of maintaining a reasonable tax rate which will provide the best municipal services available within our budget."
"In addition, I conceive that the duty of the commission is to be alert to the need of Pontiac to grow, to expand, to encourage the establishment of new business enterprises within the city, not in outlying areas and to help improve the business atmosphere of Pontiac so that our present businessmen will want to remain and expand here."
"If elected, I promise to devote time and energy to this program for the future of Pontiac depends upon it."

CURTIS E. PATTON
His statement:
"I have great faith in the future of our city. If elected commissioner for District 2, I pledge my wholehearted efforts in making Pontiac better in every possible way by following only sound fiscal policies."
"In the decade just past, Pontiac made remarkable progress in many areas of civil planning and development. Many new municipal buildings, many miles of pavement, sidewalks and sewerage systems are just a few of these developments. These accomplishments made us all proud of Pontiac."
"As outstanding as these achievements are, it is most heartening to realize that these improvements have been made largely on a pay-as-you-go basis. This, I believe, is as it should be."
"As great a sour progress has been in the past, I am certain that in the sixties, it will far surpass anything we have yet seen."
"Today we are witnessing the promise of this progress in several areas."
"If elected, I will always back a program of capital improvements to be developed as the needs appear and as the funds are available."

An Explanation

To be able to vote in Monday's primary election you must be a registered voter and have a voter registration card when you go to the polls.

City commissioners serve two-year terms and there is a full commission election every two years. There are seven districts in Pontiac. One commissioner is elected to represent each district.

The primary election narrows the field of candidates to two from each district. These pair off in the general election April 16.

Next week you vote only if you live in district 1, 2 or 4. Voters elect only by districts.

PRECINCT NUMBER
Your registration card has your precinct number on it.

District 1: Precincts 1, 36 and 37, Jefferson Junior High School; Precinct 2, Fire Station No. 2; Precincts 3 and 38, Bagley School; Precinct 34, Bethune School.

Precincts 4, 5, 8, 40 and 41 are in District 2. Precincts 12, 13, 14, 15, 32 and 42 are in District 4.

If any other precinct numbers appear on your registration card, you're in a district where there is no primary this year.

Polls will be open 7 a.m. to 8 p.m. Monday.

Unused Statutes Filed in Lansing Wastebasket

LANSING (AP)—Michigan's legislature often accused of filling the statute books with unnecessary laws, has taken a step in the other direction.

Seven bills were passed by the Senate Monday night and sent to the House.

LAWYER OBSOLETE
The Senate made progress, however, by agreeing with the House that 25 obsolete laws should be erased from the statute books. A bill to repeal the package of miscellaneous bills was sent to the governor with a recommendation for immediate effect.

In the process, $77,284 was picked up for the state general fund.

Among the laws repealed was a 1909 act setting up a Michigan Turnpike Authority. The authority still had the money left from an original $200,000 appropriation.

The authority which proposed to build pay-as-you-ride turnpikes, was a controversial agency for a while but never constructed a mile of roadway.

Proponents of the turnpike idea gave up the fight when the federal government started passing out money to the states for toll-free expressways and freeways.

NO NEED FOR THEM
Among other laws repealed were ones providing for sale of debates

Irish Terrorists Call Off 'War'

IRA Declares End to Efforts at Unity; but N. Ireland on Guard

DUBLIN, Ireland (AP)—Both sides of the Irish border welcomed today the underground Irish Republican Army's announcement that it had abandoned its terrorist war to unite the island. But Northern Ireland's government, target of the outlawed IRA's attacks, said it will keep its guard up.

The IRA declared its peace in copies of a statement shipped on to front counters of Dublin newspaper offices Monday night.

The 1,000-word statement said the IRA members had called a halt to five years of bombing and shooting attacks and had thrown away their arms.

The IRA admitted it had received little support from the Irish people and blamed public apathy on government muzzling of the press. It said the IRA would embark on a campaign to keep Ireland out of involvement in European alliances which it said might lead the country into war.

GOOD NEWS
Charles Haughey, minister of justice of the Irish republic, called the IRA decision good news and said the underground's terrorism "was a policy which Irish public opinion had decisively rejected."

In Northern Ireland, which gives its allegiance to the British crown, Minister for Home Affairs Brian Faulkner said the IRA statement "is of course welcome." The tragedy is that these misguided people who have carried on a futile campaign for five years have taken so long to realize its hopelessness.

He added "until it is seen that the campaign is in fact ended, our own people can be assured that security precautions will be maintained."

Find Possible Pieces of Glenn's Rocket

PRETORIA, South Africa (AP)—South African authorities handed over to the U. S. embassy here Monday a 3-pound piece of metal which might be part of the rocket which, "blasted astronaut John Glenn into space last week."

An embassy spokesman said the 4-foot object is being flown to the United States this week for examination.

The metal, which has the letters CVASR stamped on one side, was found on a farm near Altwal North in South Africa's Eastern Province.

It was discovered after residents saw and heard fiery explosions in the sky shortly after Glenn's launching.

Sudan Prisoners Freed

KHARTOUM, Sudan (AP)—The last 11 political prisoners in Sudan were freed Monday by order of President Ibrahim Abboud. They were mostly university students who had been convicted last year of anti-government activities.

Involves Island Housing

White Lake Fights Bridge

BY JIM LONG
WHITE LAKE TOWNSHIP — A proposed island housing development here has aroused heavy opposition from homeowners living at or near White Lake.
The property owners are protesting the $15-million luxury apartment development planned for 25-acre Dawson Island, which is expected to get under way before summer.
The island is owned by Mrs. Willard D. Dawson, 2883 Ormside

Road, who first announced plans to build the cooperative apartment units on the island two years ago.
The project had lain dormant until a week and a half ago when land fill was dumped off shore signaling construction of a causeway.
Residents stirred by the lake shore residents in White Lake and Highland township and they called a special meeting at the White Lake Township Hall last Sunday to discuss the project.

Another meeting at the town hall has been scheduled for this Sunday.
The prime concern of the citizens' group is the proposed causeway and pedestrian bridge that would be constructed from the mainland on Ormside Road, just south of Jackson Boulevard, to the island.
The citizens claim the bridge would hinder boat traffic around the island.
According to a spokesman for Mrs. Dawson, who is vacationing in Florida, the bridge, to be built at a cost of about $120,000, would be 12-feet high. The opposition says this isn't high enough for sailboats.
"The bridge plans already have been approved by the state," the spokesman said.
He said the causeway project probably would continue sometime this week since the project has been delayed by bad weather and the fact that the source of dirt for the last fill was closed recently by the township.
With the exception of a couple of revisions, the proposed project is nearly the same as was announced in June 1960.
A total of 100 units would be contained in eight luxury buildings that would radiate from the center of the island like spokes of a wheel.
Sanitation would be handled by a treatment plant on the mainland. Plans for the disposal of sewage already have been approved by the Oakland County Department of Public Works.
If construction cannot begin, however, until permits have been issued by the township, The original permits have expired.

Unit Will Mark Its 40th Year

Celebration Is Slated by Women's Club of Berkley for Octasion

The Women's Club of Berkley will celebrate its 40th anniversary Friday by entertaining the Oakland County Federation of Women's Clubs at the First Methodist Church, 2520 13-Mile Road.
Presiding at the 10:30 a.m. meeting will be Mrs. L. J. Gosh of Lake Orion, county federation chairman. Mrs. L. J. Gosh, president of the host club, will give the welcome.
Mrs. Joseph Phillips of Rochester will speak on civil defense and Mrs. Arthur Dewey, also of Rochester, will give the "serious thought for the day."
The election of officers is also on the agenda for the morning session after which luncheon will be served at 12:30 p.m. The Berkley High School A. Cappella choral group will entertain before the meeting reconvenes at 1:30.
TO GIVE TALK
During the afternoon program, Mrs. John Shada of Royal Oak, secretary-treasurer of the South Oakland Table Club, will give a talk entitled, "The Wonderful World of Women."
Mother of eight children, Mrs. Shada was the University of Detroit Alumnae, "Woman of the Year" in 1961, in 1960 she was the U. of D. Coeds' "Mother of the Year."
She is a former instructor of English and speech at the U. of D. and at Madonna College in Livonia.
Reservations for the Friday meeting must be made no later than tomorrow by calling Mrs. Ray Fraguelli, of 2784 Phillips St., Berkley, or Mrs. Ralph Schwalter, of 3082 Catalpa Drive, Berkley.

'Outer Space' Motif Selected for Party

ROCHESTER — The Fraternity of Christian Mothers of St. Andrew's Catholic Church will sponsor its third annual card party at 8 p.m. Saturday in the church.
"Outer Space" will provide the motif for the decorations, favors and prizes. Hamburgers, chocolate potatoes and relishes will be served.
Outgoing officers of the confraternity are serving as the committee in charge of the event. Past president Mrs. Joseph Chylik is general chairman.

School Bonds Lose Out

WAYNE (U) — Two requests for additional funds for the Wayne community school district were turned down Monday by voters.
A proposed $5-million bond issue for a high school, new elementary classrooms and other additions was defeated 263 to 1,441 and a proposed $1-million tax increase for school operational funds was defeated 263 to 1,441.

'The Brass Ring'

CURTAIN UP FRIDAY
The Ute Community Players' production of "The Brass Ring" is scheduled for Friday and Saturday evenings at Ute High School.

Curtain Up Friday

UTICA—Reality and the fantasy of dreams will be intermingled in the Ute Community Players' production of "The Brass Ring" this weekend.
To heighten the effects, there will be no stage sets in the ordinary sense of the word and properties will be kept to a minimum.
Performances of the comedy-fantasy will be given at 8:15 both Friday and Saturday evenings in the Ute High School auditorium.
Starring as the serious love interest in the real part of the play will be Mary Mauer and Dick Halatek. Mary is making her second appearance with the players having been seen as Isabelle in "Tunnel of Love." She studied drama in college and has appeared in summer stock.
A veteran of the boards, Dick Halatek has appeared in the Players' productions of "Laura" and "Third Best Sport."
Last summer he portrayed Horatio in the "Taming of the Shrew" at the University of Detroit Repertory Theater and in December he was Gloucester in "The Tempest."

Club Chairmen to Meet March 7

County Home Economics Extension Council Sets All-Day Affair
The Oakland County Home Economics Extension Council will entertain extension club chairmen at its March 7 meeting at the County Health Center on Telegraph Road.
The program will get under way at 9:30 a.m. The noon luncheon will be served by the council.
The afternoon session will feature a half-making demonstration by Mrs. Harold Schroeder of Royal Oak.
The council is asking each chairman to contact her club for donations of old eye glasses, metal frames, window shades, plastic frames, sort silver, artificial eyes, discarded sauce and metal jewelry.
The countywide project, called "New Eyes for the Needy," Inc., is under the chairmanship of Mrs. Clair Johnson of Waterford. It is part of the program conducted by the Society for the Prevention of Blindness.
The council also announces a visit is planned to the constitution convention along with a tour of the Michigan State University campus on March 16. Reservations can be made by calling the extension office.

Sharon Rose Mooney

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Mooney, of Gardenville, Md., announce the engagement of their daughter, Sharon Rose to Spec. 5 George H. Marks Jr. of Ft. George G. Meade, Md. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Garrett H. Marks of 3555 Ditch Hwy., Springfield Township. No date has been set for the wedding.
He said commission approval has been delayed in the past because of the route of the expressway through certain areas of the city, such as that part that goes through the White Chapel Memorial Cemetery.
Lockhart said he also believed the commission would come to some agreement on the Chrysler interchange planned at Rochester Road.
In another action, the commission gave tentative approval to the extension of a water main on Daniels Street from W. Long Lake Road to Fabius Street and the replacement of old water mains on Tacoma, Regents and Biltmore streets.
Cost of the total project, which will be assessed against the property owners, is $21,000.

Suit Over Tap-In Fees Faces School Board

SOUTHFIELD — Members of the school board here are threatened with court action because of their refusal to pay the city of Southfield tap-in charges to the Evergreen Interceptor.
The City Council last night instructed City Attorney James M. Ginn to file suit against the board in an effort to collect $94,341 in tap-in charges for three elementary schools.
The council maintains that the Board of Trustees and Northville schools tapped into the Evergreen Interceptor last September.

Council President C. Hugh Dobny said this morning that the school board had ignored repeated efforts by the council to collect the tap-in fees.
Dobny said that the board has the money and is in the process of building two, or three new schools with the recently approved bond issue of $4 million.

PURPOSE OF SUIT
He added that the purpose of the suit was to collect the fees that are past due and to prevent any further tap-in until there is some sort of understanding about payment between the City Council and the school board.
Southfield's appointment of the Evergreen Interceptor, which was completed about a year ago, is $4,369,918. The first payment, made in 1960, was $27,000.

In other action, the council approved the rezoning of a strip of land of Telegraph Road between Eight and Nine mile roads from residential to industrial classification. The General Tire and Rubber Mayor S. James Clarkon's appointment of Louis J. Angelo as civil defense coordinator for the city also, was confirmed by the council last night.

Will Be Installed as DeMolay Head

MILFORD — The installation of William Uplegger as master counselor of the Milford DeMolay Chapter will be held at 8 p.m. ceremonies tomorrow at the Milford Masonic Temple.
Uplegger, 28, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William O. Uplegger of 2987 Duck Lake Road, Highland Township. He will succeed Keith Gooding of 8888 Ridge Road, Highland Township.

Other officers being installed at the public ceremony are James Hudson, senior counselor, and George Barber, junior counselor. The DeMolay Chapter is sponsored by the Milford Masonic Lodge 165, FRAM.

Library Friends to Hold Second Annual Meeting

ROCHESTER — Friends of the Woodward Memorial Public Library will hold their second annual meeting and election at 8 p.m., March 13 at Central Junior High School.
Speaker for the evening will be Mrs. Dorothy Martin, head librarian of the Ferndale School System. Her talk is entitled "A Story of Books."
Mrs. Alice Duffield, Friends president, announced that Mrs. Arthur D. Carthers had been appointed nominating chairman with Mrs. William Beardmore and Mrs. Paul Zollner serving as her committee. Four new board members are to be chosen from a slate of eight.
Organizations holding organizational memberships are requested to appoint a representative to cast their club's ballot. All individual, family, and patron members of the Friends are urged to attend this meeting.

Rochester Eyes Addition to Its Police Department

ROCHESTER — The possibility of adding another man to the local police force will be considered when the Village Council reviews its budget for next year in April.
This was the answer given last night to a small group of merchants who appeared at the council meeting to ask council members of their intention, to make Rochester a "safer place in which to do business."
Stressing that they were not criticizing the businessmen's spokesman, Edward Rummel, but of his personal experience of walking on Main Street for 15 minutes one Sunday morning and never seeing a patrolman on a police car.
His tour, he said, was prompted by the breaking and entering of his radio and television store a short time before. The thieves gained entry by breaking the glass in the front door.
Police Chief Samuel Howlett said his five-man force has 25 miles of streets and alleys to patrol and that if Rummel had conducted his investigation over a longer period, he would have seen a police car.

And, the chief added, if a patrolman were needed, the police dispatchers could be contacted and one would be there in two or three minutes.
EXPRESSING CONFIDENCE
The council expressed its confidence in the police department and the job it is doing and Village President Jay Eldred cited some improvements made in the facilities and equipment during the past two years.
A second police car has been purchased and "one of the finest radio systems in Oakland County" installed, he said.
And with the move of the department into the new Municipal Building, improvements have been made in facilities there, Eldred pointed out.

For added protection, Councilman John Lovine recommended the merchants purchase burglar alarms, and a number appeared interested in the proposal.
$16,000 COST
Eldred said to add one more man to the department and one more car would cost $16,000 with out including increased costs, new equipment or salary hikes.
For two men, it would cost $16,000, exclusive of other expenses, he added.
The village president said the need for more police personnel was recognized, and that he hoped a man can be added without a tax increase. If necessary, he hopes the increase would not amount to more than one mill.

Spring Lines Prove That Paris Is a Lady

(Editor's Note — First pictures of Paris spring fashions which reporters saw one month ago were published today, revealing daytime skirts just below the knee and more closely-fitted silhouettes.)

BY GABRIELLE SMITH
PARIS (U) — Women looked more like their feminine selves at the spring and summer Paris fashion showings. Each designer seemed to feel a need to feminize his models, but each did it differently. This spring, whether you are tall or short, slim or not, you can wear what suits you like best and stay in style.

The only rule to follow is a short skirt, just below the knee. Twenty-five-year old Yves Saint-Laurent provided the fashion suspense this season. He opened his house following two seasons underground after leaving Dior, where he had been chief designer.

His look reached from far West to far East, giving girls cowboy hats and scarves for day, and Balinese cocktail outfits topped by turbans for evening. He even introduced the harem with his short at-home trousers.

Waists came back with wide leather belts, sometimes tight around the middle, sometimes left loose. Only Dior and Saint-Laurent left the waist hovering around the hip.

Small high bosoms reappeared for day in most collections, as at Balmain. Designers who kept a flat line tended to make up for it at night with low décolletage.

Skirts were made to walk in. Lanvin Castillo decreed against the "one-legged look" women had with straight narrow skirts. Ricci and Heim made skirts bell out in circles, and Saint-Laurent and Dior gave two versions of a straight-looking, easy skirt.

Details added femininity to designers' lines. Dior starred ruffles in organdy and gilt for cocktail and evening. Cardin used spiraling ridged tucks to mark midriff and applique flowers on strict suits.

Lanvin Castillo outfit the jungle with his leopard spotted raincoats, and Saint-Laurent gave women huge red costume jewelry hearts.

Alone in the turmoil stood Coco Chanel, who deftly carried on variations on her own themes, adding extra quilting, diaphanous chiffon dresses and blouses that looked like Indian striped scarves. Colors went from sun yellow to palest apricot.

Designer Yves St. Laurent's first creation in his new Paris salon was this woolen spring suit in a pattern of white and navy blue squares, trimmed at 6-inch intervals with wax-colored ribbon. It is worn with a white straw sombrero.

Paris couturier Jacques Heim's 1962 spring collection, of which first pictures were revealed today, includes this cocktail frock in a bold black and white print. Completing the stunning outfit are a large black hat of organza and black gloves.

A large red hat and matching smoked glasses are worn with this tailor-made red wool suit with white stripes and a blouse of the same material—from Nina Ricci's 1962 Paris collection.

Only Parents Can Help Girl Stuck With Run-Around Mate

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: You are the only one I can turn to for help with this problem, so please don't let me down.

My boy friend (I'll call him Pete) and I went to my parents and asked for their permission to marry. They said absolutely not because Pete had nothing saved and only a summer job. We couldn't wait, so we drove over the state line and got a justice of the peace to marry us. We have been married nine weeks, and now I realize I made a bad mistake. Pete is mean to me. He runs around and says it's none of my business what he does. He is not the boy I thought he was. Please, please, help me out of this mess before I do something to myself. Pete is 20 and I am 17.

ABBY

NOT BELIEVED

DEAR NOT: If he is telling the truth, he should have no objection to telling you his clergyman's name. That would be easy to check and would not be an insult.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "STRETCH PANTS": I think you are stretching things too far. If your husband objects, wear a skirt.

CONFIDENTIAL TO MIAMI MOTHER: If you permit your daughter to "go steady" at 12 and 13 years old, don't wring your hands and moan when she tells you she is old enough to get married at 17 or 18.

For Abby's booklet, "How to Have a Lovely Wedding," of 30 cents to Abby in care of the Pontiac Press.

DESPERATE

DEAR DESPERATE: Tell your parents the whole story immediately. They are the only ones who love you enough to help you.

DEAR ABBY: Your letter from the girl who was ridiculed and called a "religious fanatic" because she refused to take showers naked in gym with other girls, has my sympathy. I am glad you stood up for her, Abby. I wish someone had stood up for me 17 years ago when I had the same problem. When I was 15, I was much more mature than most of my classmates. I was terribly self-conscious about it and refused to get into the showers naked unless the gym teacher got in too. She wouldn't do it, so I wouldn't. I flunked gym. I could not graduate because I had no gym credit. But if I had to do it over again, I wouldn't do any different.

MODEST

DEAR ABBY: I am 17 and the boy I like is 19. When my mother married him, she took a dislike to him right away because she said he didn't "look like" my religion. I don't look like my religion, and neither does my brother, but that doesn't seem to make any impression on my mother. My boy friend told me he was of my religion and I believe him. I don't want to insult him by asking him to prove it. Please tell me how to get my

LONDON (UPI) — Queen Elizabeth II went to the movies Monday night with a host of fashion-conscious film stars and "knocked 'em dead" with her sparkling, form-fitting evening gown.

The queen surprised guests at the royal film performance of "West Side Story" by unexpectedly bringing along her sister, Princess Margaret, and brother-in-law Lord Snowdon.

SHE LIKES 'EM

Observers said the appearance of Margaret and her husband, former society photographer Antony Armstrong-Jones, with the queen was a public demonstration that they have the full favor of Elizabeth despite recent criticism of the couple.

On hand to meet the queen were Italian actress Claudia Cardinale, Yul Brynner, Greek actress Melina Mercouri, Pat Boone, Leslie Caron, German actor Horst Buchholz and other movie stars from several countries.

Miss Cardinale, considered Italy's answer to Brigitte Bardot, was a blushing pink gown with a demure bow holding a less demure neckline together.

Music Pupils Play 'Pieces'

Members of the Chopin Music Club heard six students play the English Suite Festival Pieces at the home of Mrs. Carl Clifford Sunday afternoon.

Pianists were: Vicki Lezal, Jane Priestley, Georgia Burdick, Janet Alden, Mary Stewart and Donna Luenberger.

Duets were played by: Christine Fox and Cheryl Saville; Jean Priestley and Cheryl Bryan; and Darlene Fox and Linda Luenberger.

Jean Ann Keeler called roll and Penn Pepper was in charge of programs. Refreshments were served.

Queen, Princess See 'West Side'

But the blush faded beside the queen's stunning ensemble.

GOWN OF SILVER LACE

Elizabeth's gown was of silver lace embroidered with pearls and gold over gold tissue. The neckline was regally conservative, but the gown clung to her figure.

To top it off, Elizabeth wore a diamond and emerald tiara, earrings, necklace and bracelet.

"Her gown was magnificent, she is really beautiful," Miss Cardinale said.

Princess Margaret, following the queen along the reception line, wore a simple, off-the-shoulder gown of green tulle. Her eye-catching hairdo was short bob flared from the face.

Lord Snowdon followed the royal sisters down the line. He conversed at length with producer Robert Wise about "West Side Story" and with British comedian Peter Sellers.

Pat Boone and English actor Peter Finch could not resist congratulating Princess Margaret on her new baby. And when Finch told her his wife was expecting, the princess smiled and replied, "Well done!"

Congress of Strings Set at MSU

NEW YORK — Six well-known leaders in the field of symphonic music will conduct student orchestral sessions at the fourth annual Congress of Strings scholarship summer school sponsored by the American Federation of Musicians at Michigan State University, June 17 through Aug. 11. A. F. of M. Secretary Stanley Ballard, project director of the congress has announced.

Michael Piastro, former conductor of the Lansing Symphony, will take charge of the first week.

Erich Leinsdorf, music director of the Boston Symphony for next season, will conduct the congress orchestra June 24 to 30.

John Barnett, musical director, National Orchestral Association, is scheduled to conduct the first two weeks in July.

Robert Shaw, founder and director of the Robert Shaw Chorus and associate conductor of the Cleveland Orchestra, will take over the third week in July.

James Robertson, musical director and conductor of the Wichita Symphony Orchestra, will present the last two weeks of the summer session.

The Congress of Strings was originated four years ago under the leadership of Herman Kenin, president of the American Federation of Musicians, as a nationwide public service project to discover and encourage talented young players of stringed instruments and to promote greater public interest in "live" music.

White lace embroidered with cellophane was used by Pierre Balmain for the regal gown above. It is worn with a coat in white lace edged with grosgrain.

PTAs in Action

"Adolescence — Age of Reason or Rebellion" and "Dangerous Strangers" are topics scheduled to be discussed by local Parents' Teachers' associations at their respective meetings Thursday.

JAMES MADISON

Robert Jones, director of Family Service of Oakland County will be the guest speaker for the James Madison Junior High School PTSA 6:30 p.m. that evening in the cafeteria. His topic will be "Adolescence — Age of Reason or Rebellion."

A typical school luncheon will be served to those attending with Margaret Johnston, coordinator of food services for the Pontiac School system, explaining the lunch program.

Following the luncheon, a business meeting and election of officers will be directed by Mrs. Thomas Henson, PTSA president.

Serving as nominating committee members for the election are Mrs. Ray Maggitt, Mrs. Howard McConnell, George Yaman, David Haisled and Kirk McLaughlin.

BENJAMIN FRANKLIN

The March meeting of Benjamin Franklin School PTSA is slated for 7:30 p.m. the same evening in the school's multipurpose room.

Those attending will hear Donald Kratt, safety director for the city of Pontiac, speak on safety, and also see a film entitled "Dangerous Strangers."

Trade Places With Hubby

You Could Be Surprised

Would you like to reverse roles with your husband? If you could do this, you both would have a greater appreciation of the other's problems, in addition to some pretty big surprises!

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

We may have firm convictions about how we should live and what we would do if we were in another person's shoes, but I doubt that we ever really know until the same thing happens to us. In fact, we might get some pretty big surprises!

I often have thought that many marital problems would DISAPPEAR and that much understanding would APPEAR if the husband and wife could exchange places for a week once a year.

If it were possible for her to go to work and take care of his responsibilities and pressures, and for him to stay at home and take care of the children and the house and the cooking, it would be most productive of mutual respect and sympathy.

An amusing but thought-provoking letter I have just received stimulated this column. The woman writes, "I am a little weary of the cockeyed psychological advice which suggests that the breadwinner is a delicate deity, requiring wall to wall reverence lest he drop dead from the strain of making a living."

"It is almost impossible to leaf through a magazine today without bumping into an essay directing wives to natter, coddle, flatter, serve and adore their husbands."

"There is a gloomy theory that charges that wives are nudging their husbands into early graves. It is thought to be selfish if a woman expects her husband to pitch more than was at home, and she is terrible if she ever expects him to stay at home more in a while to watch the children all by himself so that she can have an occasional evening away from them and with the girls."

"This view may cause men to become neurotic and self-pitying and often blinds them to the burdens of others, their wives!"

I do think that many young husbands fail to realize that their wives need some recreation, and some time away from the children. There is not much variety in household duties and child's play does not provide all the conversation a woman needs.

No matter how much a mother loves her children, she should have some time away from them spent in adult companionship.

On the other hand, I am sure many women are completely unaware of the pressures of a man's work, of his responsibility to provide for his family, and therefore call on him for too much help at home and expect him to enter into too much social life.

No doubt after exchanging jobs for a week, both the husband and wife would be crying to have their old roles back!

If you would like to have my leaflet, "Keeping Romance Alive," send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for leaflet No. 63 to Josephine Lowman in care of The Pontiac Press.

Hat Named Orbit Sent to Mrs. Glenn

LONDON (AP)—The Millinery Institute of Great Britain announced today it has named Mrs. John H. Glenn Jr. a hat named Orbit.

Said H. W. Barnett, president of the institute: "If anyone ever deserved a new hat to celebrate a unique occasion, Mrs. Glenn does." Orbit is a "flowered creation of silver, rose petals with a satin bow at the front."

Hear Students From Abroad

University of Michigan Alumni Club of Pontiac heard guest talks by two exchange students when the club met at the West Ingalls Road home of Mrs. Charles Harmon Monday.

Juan Hernandez from Madrid, Spain, and Peter Garis from Göttingen, Germany, spoke of their homelands and compared their school life there with the United States.

Assisting the hostesses were: Helen Travi, Julia Delzell, Susan Van Arsdale and Mrs. Jay H. Wagner.

At one time the Armada of Venice was the world's largest shipyard.

Mary Jean Savu Wed in Candlelight

Some 600 guests attended a dinner-dance in the Italian-American Club following the candlelight vows of Mary Jean Savu to Harvey R. Gammage Saturday in the Grace Lutheran Church.

Attendees were entertained by Romanian folk-songs at the bride's home before leaving for the ceremony performed by Rev. Nicolae Savulescu of St. George Romanian Church.

Parents of the bride are Joseph Savu of Sheryl Drive, Waterford Township, and the late Mrs. Mary. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. R. Royal Gammage of Morry Road, Waterford Township.

Bodice and front panel of sequined Alencon lace enhanced the bride's gown of white peau de soie, styled with improved pleats and chapel train. A pleated lace plateau caught her fingertip illusion veiling. White orchids, hydrangeas and miniature roses rested on her white prayer book.

Matron of honor Mrs. Thomas Scrobert, wearing a red brocade sheath dress, carried a cascade of pink garnet roses and white carnations.

MRS. HARVEY R. GAMMAGE

White for hair and muffs topped with pink garnet roses complemented ruby red peas de sole sheath dress for bridesmaids Sandy Scrobert, Mrs. Ronald Hicks, Mary Alice Closs, Mrs. Edward Perlich, Marie Kovack, Violet Babas and Beverly Chamberlain.

Dorine Jo Mazza served as flower girl and Steven Hicks carried the rings.

Thomas Scrobert performed the duties of best man.

After cutting a six-tier wedding cake, the gift of Mrs. Charles W. Parker, the newlyweds left for Northern Michigan. They will live in Pontiac.

For her sister's wedding, Mrs. Joseph Roten-Jr. chose sequined turquoise peas de sole, worn with pink cymbidium orchids. The mother of the bridegroom appeared in emerald green chiffon with silver accessories. Her flower girls wore green cymbidium orchids.

Q: When a friend drops in unexpectedly to see me and I am in the midst of a project, would it be rude to my visitor to continue ironing or must I put it aside until later and give my visitor my undivided attention?

A: You should put your ironing aside unless your visitor is a very good friend to whom you can say, "I simply have to get through this ironing before the children come home. Do you mind sitting there and talking with me while I finish it?"

Q: I ordered a leather billfold for my boy friend's birthday and had it monogrammed with his initials. When the clerk asked me what his initials were I told him J. H. B. (for John Henry Brown). When I went in to pick up the billfold, I found it was marked J. large H. in the center and B. at the bottom.

I told the manager that I thought the marking incorrect and that the large initial should have been that of his last name. He told me that I was wrong and refused to do anything about it.

I still think that I am right and would like a confirmation from you so that I can show it to him.

A: You are right. The large initial in the center is always that of the surname. To give this prominence to any other initial is incorrect and the owner of the store should certainly make good.

Q: One of the members of our club is married to a doctor and whenever she goes to him, she always refers to him as Dr. John. Most of us resent this and think it is very bad taste. Will you please give us your opinion?

A: She should refer to him as John to intimate friends, "my husband" to acquaintances and Dr. Smith to his patients.

Eggs Are Inexpensive; Use Them in Nut Torte

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor.

It's such a joy to get chatty letters like the one we had recently from Mrs. Nicholas P. Klayo Jr., of Bloomfield Hills. Outside of the recipe she sent, the thing that interested us most was the thought of her 50 apple trees in bloom. Do you suppose that will really happen this year?

Mrs. Klayo sent us a recipe for Hungarian Nut Torte. She says she loves to cook and bake, we know she makes cookies every month for the State Hospital. Crocheting is another hobby. Mrs. Klayo is active in her church altar guild.

HUNGARIAN NUT TORTE
By Mrs. Nicholas P. Klayo Jr.
7 eggs, separated
1 cup sugar
1½ cups flour
2 teaspoons baking powder
¼ teaspoon salt
6 tablespoons water
1 teaspoon vanilla

½ cup ground walnuts or pecans

Beat egg yolks with sugar until thick and lemon colored. Sift dry ingredients. Add water to beaten yolks. Slowly blend in dry ingredients. Add ground nuts and vanilla. Fold in sifted beaten egg whites.

Pour into 2 greased and floured 9-inch cake pans. Bake 30-35 minutes in 350-degree oven. Put layers together with following frosting.

Frosting
1 cup granulated sugar
3 tablespoons flour
1 egg
1 cup milk
½ pound butter
½ tablespoons confectioners sugar
3 teaspoons vanilla

Combine first 4 ingredients. Cook until thick. Cook Cream Butter and add to cooled mixture. Add confectioners sugar and vanilla. Beat thoroughly. If more frosting is desired, add more confectioners sugar.

LAKELAND — You lucky people around Pontiac. The temperature here in the "winter home" of the Tigers yesterday was a hot, muggy 90 degrees. The conditions for snow skiing have been listed as "terrible." More of the same is forecast for today and tomorrow.

After only one hour on the Tigers' field at Henley Park, the face and arms of this writer started to ache with the heat.

Now that I've received the sympathy of you fine Pontiac sports fans, especially those who wish us rains, hurricanes, and freezing weather, I can only urge you not to feel too badly, after all there's plenty of skiing at Alpine Valley, Mt. Holly, Mt. Christie, Mt. Grampian and Dryden.

TIGERS BUILDING CONFIDENCE

A big "welcome" sign greeted everyone entering the clubhouse Monday. Underneath the word were the words, "Now we know we've got it, let's prove it."

KALINE SETS GOAL

After hitting three of four over the left field wall in batting practice yesterday, Al Kaline raced down the first base line and on his way he said to manager Schefling, "The Rock will have to hit 60 if he wants to beat me this year."

Some Changes Below Buckeyes

Experts Still Like OSU

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
There were some revisions in last week's edition of the Associated Press college basketball rankings, but Ohio State's mighty Buckeyes remained unchanged as No. 1.

For the eleventh successive week the unbeaten Buckeyes were unanimous choices for the top, collecting the first-place votes on all 47 experts on AP's nationwide panel.

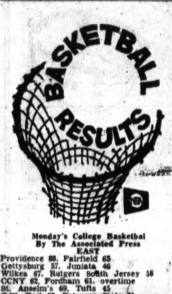

Kansas State advanced one notch in the poll, moving into third past Kentucky, and Utah climbed into the rankings by supplanting Oregon State in tenth place. Oregon State was upset by Idaho Friday night for its third straight loss. Voting was done on the basis of results through last Saturday.

Otherwise, rated teams held their positions—Cincinnati in second, Duke in fourth, and Kentucky in sixth, Bowling Green seventh, Duke eighth and Colorado ninth.

Ohio State is the Big Ten champion; Bowling Green already has wrapped up the Mid-American title, and all eight of the other ranked squads are contending for major conference championships.

Cincinnati and Bradley are in a tight duel for the Missouri Valley crown; Kansas State and Colorado are rivals in the Big Eight; and Mississippi State and Kentucky are challenging for the Southeastern title.

Utah is the frontrunner in the Skyline, and Duke is a favorite in the Atlantic Coast tournament this week.

Racing Boat Owners Want More Money

SEATTLE (AP)—Seattle faced a special ultimatum Monday to offer at least $25,000 in prize money or take a chance on being denied official sanction for this year's Gold Cup unlimited hydroplane race.

Greater Seattle, Inc., an organization which sponsors hydroplane racing on Lake Washington, has offered a package worth $18,000 in show, travel and prize money for the Aug. 5 race.

Buckeyes Clinch Title; Eye Cincinnati Game in NCAA Tourney

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Ohio State, the nation's only undefeated major basketball team, has disposed of all its immediate business in the Big Ten and today began plotting for a return bout against Cincinnati in the NCAA championship.

The powerful Buckeyes with the two-time All-America Jerry Lucas scoring 27 points, clinched the Big Ten title and along with it a berth in the NCAA tournament Monday night by outscoring Iowa, 76-62 at Iowa City while Wisconsin lost to Minnesota. John Havlicek added 24 points to the Buckeyes' cause.

Now Ohio State's main interest will be to root Cincinnati home in the Missouri Valley Conference and thus set up another shot against the Bearcats for the national championship. Last year, Cincinnati whipped Ohio State, 70-65, in overtime in the NCAA final. The Buckeyes have been smarter ever since.

Cincinnati leads the Missouri Valley Conference with a 10-2 record but probably will have to play off with Bradley for the title. The Braves, 9-2, warmed up for their league finale against St. Louis Saturday by clubbing Seton Hall 111-81 in Peoria.

A victory over St. Louis would send Bradley into a tie with Cincinnati, which has finished its league season, and necessitate a one-game playoff.

Ohio State's triumph over Iowa ousted the Buckeyes' Big Ten record to 12-0 (12-0 over-all). Combined with Minnesota's 92-90 decision over second-place Wisconsin, it gave them the crown.

Michigan figured in a record total of 11 games today—just as he did in the Big Ten title game. The Wolverines, 10-1, defeated Iowa 88-82, and the Spartans, 10-1, defeated Iowa 88-82.

Kentucky apparently gained a berth in the NCAA tournament by nailing down second place in the Southeastern Conference with a 63-50 victory over Auburn.

Mississippi State whipped Tulane, 84-62, and continued to roll toward the SEC championship. But State has indicated it won't play in the NCAA tournament because of integration. Unless the Bulldogs change their minds, Kentucky keeps the spot.

Kansas State and Colorado, both claiming for the Big Eight title, scored easy victories. Kansas, 84-62, defeated Texas Tech, 84-62, and the Buffaloes topped Missouri, 63-58.

Colorado remains in front with an 11-0 record, while Kansas State shows a 10-1 mark. They meet Saturday and if Colorado wins, it's just about over.

Loyola of Chicago and Providence, both with berths in the National Invitation Tournament, rolled to victories. Loyola hammered Washington of St. Louis, 105-80, and Providence, 84-62, and Providence, 84-62, and Providence, 84-62.

Western Kentucky, the Ohio Valley Conference NCAA representative, turned back East Tennessee State, 84-62, and Creighton, an NCAA at-large entry, topped North Dakota State, 84-54.

Northwestern coagulated to a 74-67 triumph over Michigan in the Big Ten game, Marquette defeated St. Louis University, 80-61, and Oklahoma City squeaked past North Texas State, 74-68.

Michigan State, Indiana, and Ohio State were also in the Big Ten. Michigan State, 10-1, defeated Indiana, 84-62, and Ohio State, 84-62, and Ohio State, 84-62.

Michigan State, Indiana, and Ohio State were also in the Big Ten. Michigan State, 10-1, defeated Indiana, 84-62, and Ohio State, 84-62, and Ohio State, 84-62.

Rayl on All-Big Ten

CHICAGO (AP)—Led by Jerry Lucas of Ohio State and Terry Dischinger of Purdue, the Associated Press All-Big Ten basketball team of 1962 is a carbon copy of last year's selection with the exception of Indiana shooting star Jim Rayl.

Lucas and Dischinger, both All-Americans in 1961, made the all-conference team for a third straight year while John Havlicek of Ohio State and Don Nelson of Iowa repeated from last season.

Rayl, who has been challenging Dischinger's rights to a third successive Big Ten scoring championship, took the place of Indiana's Walt Bellamy who graduated to the professional ranks where he is one of the game's top stars.

There is little to add to Lucas-Dischinger stories, Lucas was all-America as a sophomore, repeated as a junior and probably will be a unanimous choice this year. Dischinger has established himself as one of the greatest scorers in Big Ten history and will graduate with a career record average of 28.5 points a game.

Havlicek, also with Lucas, is helping Ohio State win a third straight conference championship while Nelson has often been called the greatest player who had the misfortune of coming along at the same time as Lucas and Dischinger.

Rayl, the only junior on the team, didn't even make honorable mention last year. But he came into his own this season and set a single game conference scoring record of 56 points against Minnesota, creating a Dischinger record of 52 points.

Mel Nowell of Ohio State and Dave Downey of Illinois head up the second team, which also includes Ron Siebel of Wisconsin, Eric Magadan of Minnesota and Tom Boland of Indiana. All, except Nowell, are juniors.

The third team is dominated by sophomores except for junior Tom Cole of Michigan. The others are Mel Garland of Purdue, Pete Gent of Michigan State, Mike O'Mella of Wisconsin and Rick LaPenna of Northwestern.

West Virginia junior Rod Thorn was named captain of the All-Southern Conference team. He is a repeater along with Jerry Smith of Furman and Citadel's Gary Daniels. Virginia Tech mates Howard Pardue and Buck Keller completed the unit. Cotton Nash, brilliant Kentucky sophomore, and Red Stroud of Mississippi State headed the Southeastern Conference team. Larry Purcell, Kentucky, Tulane's Jim Kerwin and Lee Mitchell, Miss. State, were others.

First Team: Jerry Lucas, Ohio State, 6-6, Senior, Mid. Ohio; Terry Dischinger, Purdue, 6-6, Senior, Mid. Ohio; John Havlicek, Ohio State, 6-6, Senior, Mid. Ohio; Don Nelson, Iowa, 6-6, Senior, Mid. Ohio; Jim Rayl, Indiana, 6-6, Junior, Kokomo.

Second Team: Mel Nowell, Ohio State, Dave Downey, Illinois; Ron Siebel, Wisconsin; Eric Magadan, Minnesota; Tom Boland, Indiana.

Third Team: Mel Garland, Purdue; Pete Gent, Michigan State; Mike O'Mella, Wisconsin; Rick LaPenna, Northwestern.

Howe Drops to Third in NHL Scoring

New Challenger for Andy

MONTREAL (AP)—Andy Bathgate of the New York Rangers holds a 6-point lead over the National Hockey League individual scoring race today—just as he did a week ago. But there is a new challenger in the runner-up position.

He is Bobby Hall, of the Chicago Black Hawks, who has been collecting points at an impressive rate since mid-January.

Official league statistics show Hall ruled his point total to 70 with four goals and three assists last week, ousting Gordie Howe of the Detroit Red Wings from second place.

Bathgate got one goal and three assists and now has 76 points. The New York right wing leads in assists with 52, while Hall has the most goals, 32.

The Hawks have 10 more games to play before the regular 70-game schedule ends March 25.

Howe had a bad week, getting only one assist, and slipped into third place.

Records, Schedules in Waterford Loops

Standing, schedule and leading scorers entering last week of the regular season in the American Basketball Association are listed in the Waterford Loops.

Winters, 23, a little known bowler who could not afford the initiation fee in the Professional Bowlers' Association, shattered the ABC record for a three-game series with a 792 in the doubles. He bowled in the Classic division, an ABC category introduced last year for professionals.

Winters' series included games of 286, 287 and 279. His total exceeded the 775 record set by Les Jorgensen, of Glendale, Calif., in the 1953 single at St. Paul, Minn.

Winters' 2747 total for his first nine games, including 679 in the team event Sunday night and 678 in the singles Monday, is the best all-events sum ever compiled in this classic. Ed Lubanski of Detroit, previously was high man in all-time series with 2118 in the 1958 ABC at St. Louis.

After Monday's performance, Winters led in the singles, all-events and doubles of the Classic division. His doubles partner, LeVance, is serving an interim coach and has indicated he does not want the job beyond this season.

Noticed in Morgantown, King said he would have to give any such offer "an awful lot of thought."

Howe Drops to Third in NHL Scoring

New Challenger for Andy

MONTREAL (AP)—Andy Bathgate of the New York Rangers holds a 6-point lead over the National Hockey League individual scoring race today—just as he did a week ago. But there is a new challenger in the runner-up position.

He is Bobby Hall, of the Chicago Black Hawks, who has been collecting points at an impressive rate since mid-January.

Official league statistics show Hall ruled his point total to 70 with four goals and three assists last week, ousting Gordie Howe of the Detroit Red Wings from second place.

Bathgate got one goal and three assists and now has 76 points. The New York right wing leads in assists with 52, while Hall has the most goals, 32.

The Hawks have 10 more games to play before the regular 70-game schedule ends March 25.

Howe had a bad week, getting only one assist, and slipped into third place.

Records, Schedules in Waterford Loops

Standing, schedule and leading scorers entering last week of the regular season in the American Basketball Association are listed in the Waterford Loops.

Winters, 23, a little known bowler who could not afford the initiation fee in the Professional Bowlers' Association, shattered the ABC record for a three-game series with a 792 in the doubles. He bowled in the Classic division, an ABC category introduced last year for professionals.

Winters' series included games of 286, 287 and 279. His total exceeded the 775 record set by Les Jorgensen, of Glendale, Calif., in the 1953 single at St. Paul, Minn.

Winters' 2747 total for his first nine games, including 679 in the team event Sunday night and 678 in the singles Monday, is the best all-events sum ever compiled in this classic. Ed Lubanski of Detroit, previously was high man in all-time series with 2118 in the 1958 ABC at St. Louis.

After Monday's performance, Winters led in the singles, all-events and doubles of the Classic division. His doubles partner, LeVance, is serving an interim coach and has indicated he does not want the job beyond this season.

Help Your Child Succeed in School

Help Child Pay Attention Pays Off

By LESLIE J. NASON, D. Ed.

Professor of Education,
University of Southern California

If children don't pay attention when they cross a busy street, there is likely to be trouble.

There's also likely to be trouble in school — if they don't pay attention when they study.

Paying close attention is a habit of thinking and it brings wonderful rewards in and out of school.

Children need DR. NASON to realize that many ideas can be understood only through effort. They must learn how to put forth the right kind of effort.

Every time a student quits before he learns an essential fact or solves an important problem, his learning ability drops.

Every time he puts forth the right effort, and stays with it until he gets it, his learning ability increases.

Persistent thinking is the key.

Students who attend to each job at hand and give it their whole-hearted attention make the highest grades in school and get the best jobs afterward.

Patience is needed to help children establish habits of focusing attention on study or any job at hand.

Fortunately, psychology is on the side of the parents.

A boy who does his arithmetic assignment well and fast gets satisfaction — and he has more time to play.

A student who focuses his attention on one question at a time in an examination gets a better grade.

He gives each question his full attention, answers it to the best of his ability, then forgets it and goes on to the next question.

READING, NOT STUDYING

Several years ago a young man returning from his tour of duty with the Navy entered the university where I teach to continue the study of electronics he had started in the Navy. He had considerable difficulty with trigonometry.

He was reading it like a novel, and you can't learn trigonometry that way.

Editor Predicts Romney Will Oppose JFK in '64

NEW YORK (UPI) — George Romney is almost a sure bet to win the 1964 Republican presidential nomination, according to John Fischer, editor of Harper's Magazine.

Fischer, writing in the March issue of the magazine, gives the edge to Romney over New York Gov. Nelson Rockefeller, former Vice President Richard M. Nixon, and Arizona Sen. Barry Goldwater.

Rockefeller's family troubles might turn out to be politically fatal, Fischer said. Nixon has declared himself out of the race, and Goldwater is too conservative.

Fischer said Romney's assets are:

— "He is known, and favorably, throughout the country."

— "His abilities as an executive are well established. He rescued American Motors Corp. from imminent bankruptcy."

— "His personality is a campaign manager's dream. Romney edge to Romney over New York Gov. Nelson Rockefeller, former Vice President Richard M. Nixon, and Arizona Sen. Barry Goldwater."

— "He may be the only big industrialist who could hope to attract a substantial number of labor votes."

Fischer concluded that "If by some fluke he (Romney) should win the 1964 election he would make an excellent president."

"MENS SANA IN CORPORE SANO"

In case you've forgotten your Latin, the translation is: a sound mind in a sound body. And that's what we want for all of our children—total fitness.

A basic exercise program that can help our youngsters attain this ideal has been developed by The President's Council on Youth Fitness.

Find out if your child's school is using it or a similar program in which at least 15 minutes of the physical education period are spent in vigorous activity—every day.

Act at your next PTA meeting. Insist on the adoption of a program that will make our youngsters more active, more dynamic, more competitive!

Mobile Home Factory Damaged by Blaze

A fire which is believed to have started from a welder's torch caused an estimated $30,000 damage yesterday to a mobile home trailer factory near Marlette.

Fire departments from Marlette, Kington, Inlay City, Chiford and Brown City fought the blaze that damaged the Active Mobile Homes factory on M-58, four miles south of Marlette.

In addition to the interior and roof of the plant, several trailers stored inside were damaged.

Marlette Fire Chief Ernest Nicoll received face and leg injuries when he lost his footing and fell off a loading dock.

Ex-Owosso Lawman Gets Prison Term

CORUNNA (UPI) — Former Owosso Police Lt. Clifford Tunnaciff, who was found guilty of charges of accessory to a burglary, was sentenced Monday to 10-to-15 year term in Southern Michigan Prison at Jackson.

Tunnaciff, 43, supplied information to an ex-convict which enabled the man to gain entry to the Owosso Eagles' Club and burglarize it, the charges said.

The burglar, William Mahar, a friend of Tunnaciff's, and Roy D. Smith, await trial for breaking and entering the club Jan. 2, 1961.

Claims TV Viewers Need 'A Little Hunger'

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Radio-TV Writer
NEW YORK — Peter Lind Hayes, a comedian by occupation and a philosopher by choice, believes audiences would enjoy television more if they went on viewing diets.

This is not likely to endear Hayes to the industry's executives or the sponsors. But Hayes feels that masses of viewers are suffering from a complaint he calls "too much pleasure."

"Americans are so satiated and are given so much that we have started taking all these things for granted," he said. "I remember one period during World War II when I went overseas for eight months and never saw a radio and never heard any music. One day a captain let me borrow a radio set—and you'd never believe the joy and wonder in me when I heard music—music—coming out of that box. A little hunger is a wonderful thing."

FDR Predicted
Russian Power to Cleric, Book Tells

NEW YORK (AP)—President Franklin D. Roosevelt is quoted in a biography of Francis Cardinal Spellman as saying in 1943 that Russia would dominate Europe after World War II—and that he hoped Europe would be able to adjust to the situation.

Roosevelt also is quoted as telling the cardinal in a White House meeting that he planned to make an agreement by which China would get the Far East, the United States the Pacific, and Britain and Russia would divide Europe and Africa.

The biography, published by Doubleday and Co., Inc., as "The Cardinal Spellman Story," was written by the Rev. Robert I. Gannon, former president of Fordham University, and now superior of the Jesuit Mission Residence in New York City. Excerpts appear in this week's issue of Look Magazine.

Hayes and his wife—and-partner, Mary Healy, have emerged slightly scarred from an ill-fated comedy series last season called "Peter Loves Mary." They had gone into it with high hopes they could achieve an extra degree of financial security if they could make it last two or three seasons.

"As it turned out," said Peter mournfully, "it was a complete waste of time. The pressures of getting out a show a week were too much—no time to fix up scripts, edit lines to make them sharper. It was too mechanical. Out of 22 shows we did, I would only want to look at six again."

Peter has gone back to night clubs and the theater, and Mary temporarily retired to look after their two children—but she's getting bored and I think she'll be back with me soon."

Peter will be bouncing back onto the home screens next Sunday in an NBC "musical documentary" (Hayes' phrase) called "Regards to George M. Cohan."

"I never knew him," said Hayes. "I think they picked me as host on the show because Cohan lived in New Rochelle, N. Y., and wrote a song called 'Forty-Five Minutes from Broadway.' I live in New Rochelle and wrote a book called 'Twenty-Five Minutes from Broadway.'"

Hayes and his wife—and-partner, Mary Healy, have emerged slightly scarred from an ill-fated comedy series last season called "Peter Loves Mary." They had gone into it with high hopes they could achieve an extra degree of financial security if they could make it last two or three seasons.

"As it turned out," said Peter mournfully, "it was a complete waste of time. The pressures of getting out a show a week were too much—no time to fix up scripts, edit lines to make them sharper. It was too mechanical. Out of 22 shows we did, I would only want to look at six again."

Peter has gone back to night clubs and the theater, and Mary temporarily retired to look after their two children—but she's getting bored and I think she'll be back with me soon."

Peter will be bouncing back onto the home screens next Sunday in an NBC "musical documentary" (Hayes' phrase) called "Regards to George M. Cohan."

"I never knew him," said Hayes. "I think they picked me as host on the show because Cohan lived in New Rochelle, N. Y., and wrote a song called 'Forty-Five Minutes from Broadway.' I live in New Rochelle and wrote a book called 'Twenty-Five Minutes from Broadway.'"

Act to Head Off Strike of 5,300

Market Workers

DETROIT — Federal mediators intervened today to head off a possible strike of 5,300 supermarket employees in eight counties around Detroit.

The workers, members of Local 876 of the Retail Store Employees AFL-CIO, approved strike action by a 3,384-190 vote Sunday. They left it to their officers to call a strike if they deemed it necessary.

Herschel Womack, executive secretary of the local, said the potential strike area includes Oakland, Wayne, Macomb, Washenaw, Livingston, Lenawee, St. Clair and Monroe Counties.

Allis-Chalmers Co. Struck by Workers

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Seven Allis-Chalmers Mfg. Co. plants across the nation were struck last mid-

Nobody night by the United Auto Workers in a contract dispute.

Minutes after the deadline, central negotiations were recessed until 10 a.m. today. Bargaining on local issues was continuing here and at some of the plants. The old contract expired last Nov. 1.

The union said the walkout idled 10,000 members.

The strike started after a last minute exchange of offers.

The first came from the farm implement and heavy electrical equipment firm and was followed by a counterproposal from the

Dem Staebler Digs at Romney

Hits of Rejoining of Republicans by State Candidate for Governor

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. — A lecture podium at Harvard University was used by Democratic national committeeman Neil B. Staebler as a platform for taking a dig at George Romney, Republican candidate for the nomination for governor.

"There are several ways of viewing political parties," Staebler said in his lecture. "One is to regard them as necessary evils, to be used only as vehicles during the election process and shunned the rest of the time."

Romney, Staebler told his lecture audience, had been for many years a working Republican.

"Now he has rejoined his old political party," Staebler said, "and now he finds no presentable, Staebler said. "So, he continues to attack both groups... although I detect a weakening of intensity in his attacks on his own party... and we can expect these attacks to disappear from the scene entirely," he predicted. Staebler said, "that in the near future Mr. Romney will suddenly discover that his party has acquired new virtues and is a shining example of what a political party ought to be."

Man Killed by Posse; Shot DA, Bantender

WAUSAU, Wis. — A hulking woodsman who wounded two men, including the Marathon County district attorney, was fatally wounded today as he charged, gun blazing, from a barn set afire by a posse.

Fred Schmidt, 240-pound object of the hunt, was hit in the arm and stomach as he fled from the burning barn which had been under siege since midnight, shortly after Schmidt shot and wounded a bartender and beat up another man in a tavern fight.

Schmidt, 40, and the father of 12 children, remained conscious and talked to officers as he was taken to a Wausau hospital, where he died shortly after admission.

Rumor Accord Reached With France Algerian Group OKs Pact

TRIPOLI, Libya — The Algerian rebel parliament has agreed to accept a peace agreement with France to end the 7½-year Algerian war, well-informed sources said today.

The sources said the National Council for Algerian Revolution, the rebel parliament, met here today to draft an announcement of its acceptance of the accord worked out by French and rebel representatives in secret negotiations in Switzerland.

The sources said the announcement would not be made until the accord had been approved by the National Council.

Seek Settlement in New Guinea

U.S. Envoy, Holland Minister Coming to Washington

THE HAGUE, Netherlands (AP) — A step-up in U.S. efforts to bring about a peaceful settlement of the Dutch-Indonesian dispute over West New Guinea was indicated here today, U.S. Ambassador John R. Kennedy headed for Washington, to be followed in two days by Dutch Foreign Minister Joseph Luns.

Luns discussed the West New Guinea dispute with Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy during the latter's stop here last weekend on his world tour.

Dutch sources believe that Kennedy, who conferred earlier with President Sukarno of Indonesia, has ideas about a new approach to the 10-year-old dispute which he will communicate to his brother, the President, after his return to Washington.

The attorney general, now in Paris, will fly to Washington Wednesday and be on hand for Luns' visit.

Rice's return was described officially as a customary periodic consultation with the State Department. But a U.S. Embassy source confirmed that the timing indicated that there is active American participation in efforts to reach New Guinea settlement.

Recent U.S. Embassy contacts have been made through the United Nations.

The United States has urged both sides to try to settle their differences without violence.

2 Proposals Ask Glenn Be Given Medal of Honor

WASHINGTON (AP) — Two proposals to give astronaut John H. Glenn Jr. the Medal of Honor have been introduced in Congress. But action on the bills may be determined largely by advice from the Defense Department and the National Aeronautics and Space Administration.

One bill, introduced Monday by Rep. Frank Chelf, D-N.Y., would authorize presentation of the medal to all seven astronauts assigned to the Project Mercury man-in-space program.

In addition, Chelf's bill would provide bonuses of two years salary for each of the astronauts and a salary range will be from $5,000 to $50,000. Each scientist, physicist, mathematician, engineer and technician and other persons materially and actively engaged in the project.

The other proposals by Sen. Clint D. Johnston, D-C., would authorize the Medal of Honor for Glenn alone.

OK Hiring of Lieutenant for Waterford Fire Dept.

Authorization for the hiring of a lieutenant for the Waterford Township Fire Department was extended to the civil service commission by the Township Board Monday night.

The new officer will be selected from the ranks of the firefighters in the department and his salary range will be from $5,000 to $6,000. At the present time the department has no lieutenant.

Backs Wagner Against Prendergast

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy appears to be inching toward realigning Democratic party candidates for major state elections this fall.

Wagner, Robert H. Wagner of New York obviously will have presidential support for a scheduled attempt Thursday to displace H. Frankland of the Democratic Party as chairman of the Democratic Party.

Wagner is the man in New York. Kennedy has his man in New York. Whether this potential expansion of his party power means that Wagner eventually will get into the race against Republican Gov.

Alfred E. Rockefeller remains to be seen.

In Tiarret, 300,000 policemen raided the central police station and made off with about 100 weapons and a large stock of ammunition and grenades.

Thorpe Street Man Awaits March Trial

Larry Jackson, 32, Thorpe St. was arraigned Monday afternoon in Waterford Township Justice Court on a charge of assault and battery and is free on $100 bond awaiting trial March 4.

Jackson pleaded innocent before Judge John E. McGrath to the charge that he struck Dean Salley, 62, in the parking lot of the Waterford roller rink, 447½ Highland Road, Waterford Township.

Salley told police that as he drove into the parking lot to pick up his children who had been skating, Jackson and another man in a Chevrolet blocked his way.

When he asked them to move they used abusive language, Salley added. Then Jackson told him to get out of the car and struck him, Salley said.

High Wire Wallenda Never to Walk Again

DETROIT (AP) — Doctors say the chances of high wire artist Paul Wallenda ever walking normally again are hopeless.

A statement issued by Highland Park General Hospital following a 2½-hour operation to remove bits of broken vertebrae and fuse Wallenda's lower spine Monday said the member of the famous Wallenda troupe was paralyzed in the lower half of his body.

The 22-year-old high wire performer suffered severe back injuries in a fall Jan. 30 that killed his 10-year-old son, Paul Jr., and left other members of the great Wallenda troupe.

At Least 28 Killed in Yugoslavian Mine

BELOGRADE, Yugoslavia — At least 28 miners were killed today in a gas explosion at the Toca coal mine in Banovic in Bosnia-Herzegovina, the news agency Tanjug reported.

About 100 miners were feared trapped underground.

Rescue workers saved about 80 miners and efforts are being made to free the rest.

The number of dead will increase, Tanjug said.

TV Features
TUESDAY TV HIGHLIGHTS
THE WORLD OF SOPHIA LOREN , 7:30 p. m. (4). One-hour study of movie star's life: her childhood near Naples, her beginnings as model and young actress and her discovery by producer Carlo Ponti, now her husband. Producer-director Eugene Jones spent months trailing Miss Loren. Also seen are Tony Perkins, Vittorio De Sica and others.
BACHELOR FATHER , 8 p. m. (7). "The Hong Kong Sky" Kelly Gregg (Noreen Corcoran) buys $12 suit for her uncle (John Forster), but it falls apart at meeting of fashion men's wear creators.
THE BOB HOPE SHOW , 9 p. m. (4). One-hour musical-comedy special with guest stars Steve Allen, Joan Collins, Jack Paar, Jackie Sorensen and David Rose and his orchestra.
THE GARRY MOORE SHOW , 10 p. m. (2). Broadway star Garry Moore is Garry's special guest. Gwen and Carol Burnett sing duet, "Be a Clown."
CAN'S HUNTERS , 10 p. m. (4). "Blues for a Junkman." Dorothy Dandridge makes her TV drama debut as blues singer trying comeback after years of narcotics addiction. This show was pre-empted last week by a special program on astronaut John Glenn.
PREMIERES , 10 p. m. (7). "The Doctor." Physician (Richard Kiley) faces $100,000 malpractice suit initiated by motorist he treated. Fred Astaire hosts.

It's Lonely Weekend for UP Legislators

By TOM SHAWYER

LANSING—It's a long way to Escanaba. It's a long way to go.

The words and music of Tipperary, with a slight variation, run through Edna Eiden's mind as he contemplates the 375-mile drive between the state capital and his home ballfield along the northern shore of Lake Michigan.

It could well be the theme song for all nine state legislators from the Upper Peninsula. Home is a long way off, especially in the middle of winter when snow or sleet is likely to mess up the highways.

Some of them could just as easily drive to Philadelphia or Knoxville, Tenn.

TIME ON THEIR HANDS

That's why most of the UP delegation stays around for the weekend when their colleagues in the House and Senate take off for home after Friday morning sessions. As likely as not, the sprinkling of lawmakers still reading or gabbing at their desks Friday afternoon is Upper Peninsula men with time on their hands.

It makes for a clubby relationship among a group naturally drawn together by a proud and protective feeling for the land north of the Straits of Mackinac.

"We're a pretty close bunch for the most part," said Rep. Russell Helman, freshman Democrat from the village of Dollar Bay on the Keweenaw Peninsula. His home is 560 miles from here.

"We fight each other, like members of a family all day," he said. "But don't try to pick on one of us or you might find yourself tangling with the whole gang."

Like any other city when home and family are far away, Lansing can be a boring place on a weekend.

Rep. Clayton T. Morrison from

Pickford, the only Republican in the bunch, and Sen. Phil Rahol, Iron Mountain Democrat, bring their wives to Lansing for most of the session.

GAME OF CHECKERS

Morrison likes an occasional game of checkers with Rahol, who at one time was the champion of Wisconsin and the Upper Peninsula.

Some of the UP boys get together for a movie, a meal, a card game or a basketball game at Michigan State University. Sometimes there's a trip to Detroit or state institutions like the Southern Michigan Prison.

Most popular gathering spot is "Dominic's Spaghetti Parlor," a three-room apartment shared by Rep. Dominic Jacobetti, D-Negaunee, a United Steel Workers representative, and Gilbert L. Wales, D-Stambaugh, an iron miner.

There, on occasion, Jacobetti dishes out spaghetti and meat-balls and rigatoni, both prepared from recipes learned from his mother, along with Italian wine and sausage, pig hocks, tossed salad and cheese.

Most of the UP lawmakers try to make it home every two or three weeks. Usually they share a car and driving chores for the 8- to 14-hour ride.

As fathers and husbands, they like to visit their families. As politicians, they like to check things out with the folks at home.

U.S. Missile Destroyer Drops Anchor in Britain

GREENWICH, England (UP)—The new missile-armed U.S. destroyer Luce sailed up the Thames estuary Monday and anchored for a six-day visit.

The Luce will leave Saturday for a cruise of north European ports before joining the U.S. 6th Fleet in the Mediterranean. The destroyer carries a crew of 370.

Nationwide Puts Life Insurance Within the Reach of Every Family

Quantity Discounts, Bigger Dividends Help Lower Costs

Among Nationwide's most popular features are (a) "quantity discounts," which progressively lower premiums on each $1,000 of life insurance over $4,000, and (b) increased dividends.

In addition to early cash and loan values, young family men particularly like our Guaranteed Insurability Option. This assures the right to buy additional insurance later on, without medical examination, regardless of health.

Also available as optional extras are Double Indemnity, which doubles a policy's face amount in the event of accidental death, and Disability Waiver of Premium, which cancels premiums falling due after a policyholder has been disabled by accident or illness for six months.

With every Nationwide policy you have a broad selection of settlement options. Many of these allow benefits or cash values to be paid in a choice of annuity-type installments.

The above features, and many more, guarantee you extra value through flexibility that lets your life insurance keep up-to-date with your changing needs and plans.

Your Nationwide agent, a neighbor in your community, is always at your service. He'll review your insurance program with you regularly to make sure its provisions always match your requirements.

Every family now can afford enough life insurance—thanks to Nationwide. Even fathers who think they're "insurance poor" will benefit from a talk with a Nationwide agent. His skill and experience, his interest in serving you best, and his complete range of modern coverages, will mean more protection and added savings for you.

Nationwide Life Insurance Plans Are Designed to Meet Every Need

Whatever your age, earnings and family circumstances, your Nationwide agent will recommend the plan—or combination of plans—that will do the best job for you. Here are just a few of the new Nationwide coverages offered:

For Young Families

For young fathers with limited budgets there's the MODIFIED 5 TO 10 PLAN. Especially designed for the "getting started" years, it offers sharply reduced premiums during the plan's first 10 years. Later, regular premiums are offset by higher dividends and accumulated cash values.

Also for young family men is Nationwide's FAMILY INCOME PLAN, which provides maximum protection during children's dependent years. Then, after the children are grown, your basic protection continues, but at a lower premium.

Many families, too, prefer the savings offered by Nationwide's all-in-one FAMILY POLICY, which insures all the family in a single plan. Dad has the greatest protection, while Mom and the youngsters are insured for smaller amounts.

For New Homeowners

For the homeowner, there's the low-premium MORTGAGE PROTECTION plan. Its face amount decreases gradually year-by-year, along with your mortgage—but there's always enough insurance to cover your unpaid balance.

Your Nationwide man is also equipped with a full line of streamlined ORDINARY (or WHOLE) LIFE and ENDOWMENT plans, which provide permanent protection plus cash values you may use at retirement. He also offers a choice of low cost TERM (or TEMPORARY) insurance plans, which may be converted later to a permanent plan without medical examination.

Full details on all Nationwide plans are available through your local Nationwide agent. He has only one purpose: to provide you with the best protection at the lowest possible cost.

Your Neighborhood Agent

Your neighborhood Nationwide representative is fully licensed under the insurance laws of your state. This means that his qualifications to serve you have been thoroughly examined and approved. In addition, his knowledge of life insurance and how it may best work for you is continually expanded through systematic training and refresher courses by Nationwide. Thus, you'll always find him a sound businessman and a valuable friend—and you may talk with him as you would your family doctor.

Progressive Organization Offers Complete New Choice Of Budget-Priced Policies

In keeping with its principle of providing the finest protection at the lowest possible cost, Nationwide Insurance recently streamlined its entire life insurance portfolio. The best features of standard policies have been retained, the range and scope of coverages broadened, new policies developed and set in a rate structure second to none within the insurance industry.

Greater Values and Savings

Result? Budget-conscious families can now buy more of the protection today's cost-of-living demands. Young fathers can now afford the insurance they need during the family's growing years.

Today, through Nationwide, you can choose a plan which matches your exact requirements and your resources. Whether it's maximum coverage at lowest cost, systematic savings at a guaranteed rate of interest, or a realistic combination of protection and savings, your Nationwide agent has a plan for you. Every family can now have the vital protection they need while they save for retirement.

Nationwide Widely Known As A Company That's Different

Murray D. Lincoln, Nationwide's President, is often asked, "What's so different about Nationwide?" His reply usually begins, "Nothing much...if all you want is a company that collects premiums and has the resources to pay claims."

"But," he hastily adds, "if you're looking for something more—the satisfaction, say, of knowing that your premiums are buying insurance designed to protect real people rather than statistics...or if you think it's a healthy idea for policyholders to have a real voice in their company's operation—then Nationwide is different."

"This organization was started thirty-five years ago by people in search of low-cost insurance. We grew, expanded our coverages, were invited into neighboring states, because our kind of insurance was needed."

"Nationwide continues to build on the fundamental principle that whenever we're confronted with new problems, all of us, working together, can find new and better solutions to these problems."

Expert Assistance Available

Nationwide also offers you—at no charge or obligation—the professional services of highly trained, experienced insurance agents. Since your local Nationwide agent offers a complete range of insurance products, he can recommend the life insurance policy which best fits your total protection picture. He can provide you with a coordinated, all-around protection program, with no dangerous gaps or costly overlaps, no needless waste or extras—all at minimum cost!

For full details, call your nearest Nationwide representative. He's listed in the "Insurance" section of your Yellow Pages.

Outstanding Values In Business Life Insurance

More and more executives, too, are selecting Nationwide plans for their companies' business life insurance coverage—including key man, sole proprietorship, partnership, and close corporation insurance. Individual-policy pension trust plans are also offered.

Especially advantageous to businessmen is Nationwide's Executive Equity Plan, which features rapidly accumulating cash values resulting in minimum net cost to the purchaser.

A complete range of flexible, low-cost plans is also offered on a group basis, customarily combined with group health coverage in a complete employee benefit program, often partnered with a funded retirement or pension program. Featured among Nationwide's Group coverages are those especially designed for smaller organizations. Available in most states are: MINIS GROUP, a top-benefit plan for firms having 10-49 employees, and EMP (EMPLOYEE FAMILY PLAN), a "big company" employee-and-dependents program for groups as small as three.

Also noteworthy is our small-company Retirement Security Plan (RSP), which can provide stockholder-employees with up to $96,000 cash—or $670 per month—at retirement, with all rates and benefits guaranteed for life.

All Nationwide agents are authorized to offer business life insurance protection, and all are backed by experienced Nationwide technical specialists, both at the Home Office and in the field.

JFK Pleads for Aid to Aged Tied to Increase in SS Tax

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy today sent Congress a new and urgent plea for health insurance for the aged, "self-financed" by a $1 billion boost in Social Security taxes.

In a special health message urging lawmakers to bring the miracles of modern medicine within reach of all Americans, Kennedy also proposed:

- 1. A three-year, nationwide immunization drive to stamp out polio, diphtheria, whooping cough and tetanus, with Uncle Sam footing the whole bill for vaccine for every child under 5.
- 2. Federal loans to help build and equip centers for group practice by doctors and dentists, to stretch the supply of medical skills and improve the quality of care—especially in small towns.
- 3. New and expanded federal outlays totaling $382 million for mental health, control of pollution, medical research and other programs.

Lack of Federal Action Stalls 2nd Urban Project

Failure of federal officials to move on final plans for Pontiac's second urban renewal project (R44) has downtown renewal operations at a standstill.

The lack of federal action has already created a two-month delay in the city's urban renewal program and is rapidly turning at least the east side of South Saginaw Street into something resembling a ghost town.

Believe Mystery of Death Solved

Substantiate Rochester Boy Had Been Drinking in Testimony, Report

The mystery surrounding the death of a 12-year-old Rochester boy whose body was discovered in the snow near the Municipal Skating Rink Saturday morning is believed solved, Rochester police said today.

The statements of two friends of Randall McDonald that he had been drinking heavily Friday night was substantiated yesterday by a pathologist's report from the Michigan State Police laboratory in Lansing.

Rochester Police Chief Samuel Howlett said that the theory that the boy had been in a fight has almost been discarded.

Randall had a bruised head and blackened eye, but the injuries could have been caused when he fell down several times when he was drinking with his friends and when he was on route home the chief said.

'SHARED BOTTLE'

Two of Randall's companions told police that he had shared a bottle of gin with them Friday night.

Thomas Pierce, 18, of 8228 Deconville Road, Shelby Township, and Thomas Klintworth, 13, of 1831 Avon Road, Avon Township, are quoted as saying there had been no fight before the three parted at a bowling alley about 11 p.m.

Pierce and Klintworth told authorities they pooled their money and bought the bottle from Roger McIntosh, 21, of 2334 Eastwood St., Pontiac Township.

McIntosh was to appear today before Orion Township Justice of the Peace Helmer Stanback on a charge of supplying liquor to minors.

Weatherman Coiling This Year's Spring

First they're up, then they're down—but Ole Man Winter can't keep temperatures down much longer. Spring is on its way.

The weatherman says tonight will be cloudy with a low of 38 and Wednesday's high will climb again into the 50s.

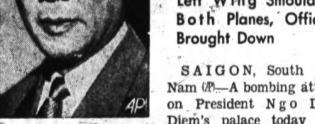

Morning northerly winds at 10 to 15 miles per hour will become northeasterly tonight and northeasterly again Wednesday.

Twenty-five was the lowest recording in downtown Pontiac 12 feet from the roadside, according to deputies. The body is at the Richardson-Bird Funeral Home, Milford.

President Diem and His Family Escape Injury

U.S. Cash, Men at Stake in Viet Nam

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States has money, men and prestige invested in South Viet Nam and the government of President Ngo Dinh Diem.

According to Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy, "We are going to win in Viet Nam. We will remain until we do."

This commitment was voiced by the President's brother last week when he stopped off in Saigon, South Viet Nam's capital, during his world tour.

It underscored U. S. involvement in the fate of South Viet Nam which is battling for its life against Communist guerrillas.

U. S. aid to the embattled country was expanded several months ago with emphasis on two requirements:

- The need for administrative and social reforms to give the people of South Viet Nam more incentive to support the government in the battle.
- The need to train and equip the Vietnamese army so it could counter the guerrillas.

To train and support these troops, the United States increased its military aid mission from several hundred to about 4,000 men.

So far about $2 billion has been poured into South Viet Nam in U. S. aid. Officials see no end in sight.

10,000 in Area Still Lacking '62 License Plates

Although the deadline for 1962 auto license plates is tomorrow, an estimated 10,000 area motorists still were without them this morning, according to Willis M. Brewer, manager of the Pontiac Secretary of State Office, 96 E. Huron St.

Brewer said the Pontiac office and the White Lake Township branch at 7325 Highland Road will close at 5 p.m. today, but will remain open until 9 p.m. tomorrow to accommodate last-minute buyers. Anyone in line at 9 p.m. tomorrow will be able to buy the new plates; Brewer said.

Area Council Accepts Accord

TRIPOLI, Libya (AP)—The Algerian rebel parliament has accepted a peace agreement with France to end the 7½-year Algerian war, well-informed sources said today.

The sources said the National Council for Algerian Revolution, the rebel parliament, met here today to draft an announcement of its acceptance of the accord—worked out by French and rebel representatives in secret negotiations in Switzerland.

As far as Fox is concerned the attitude of Ferrel and manager Bob Scheffing doesn't appear to be overwhelming strong with worry.

BURNING PALACE UNDER GUARD—Government troops and tanks stand guard at the burning left wing of the palace, President Ngo Dinh Diem and members of his family escaped unhurt.

Tigers Sign Cash to $29,000 Pact

LAKELAND, Fla. (AP)—Norm Cash, the American League's reigning batting champion, today signed his contract with the Detroit Tigers and will receive more than double what he earned last season.

Cash signed with Vice President Rick Ferrell for an estimated $29,000. He received $11,000 last year when he batted .361 and hit 41 home runs.

With Ferrell watching from behind the batting cage, the big slugger watched to time pounding the ball over and against the right field wall.

Now it was a matter as to who would give in first. Ferrell's eyes closely followed the long waited baseball, and after the pokes, Cash's side glances were noted directing themselves toward Ferrell.

"Just look at those two," chortled traveling salesman Charles Cowan. "Like watching a cat and mouse. Trouble is, which one is the cat?"

"He loves to play too much to stay off the field," Ferrell commented about Cash. "With this pressure, Ferrell is sure Cash will be in the fold some today. If he isn't by 10 a.m. tomorrow, he will be on the other side of the fence just watching again, because an official holdout won't be allowed to dress and take the field."

As far as Fox is concerned the attitude of Ferrel and manager Bob Scheffing doesn't appear to be overwhelming strong with worry.

Spring Lines Prove That Paris Is a Lady

Designer Yves St. Laurent's first creation in his new Paris salon was this woolen spring suit in a pattern of white and navy blue squares, trimmed at 6-inch intervals with wax-colored ribbon. It is worn with a white straw sombrero.

Paris couturier Jacques Heim's 1962 spring collection, of which first pictures were revealed today, includes this cocktail frock in a bold black and white print. Completing the stunning outfit are a large black hat of organza and black gloves.

Editor's Note — First pictures of Paris spring fashions which reporters saw one month ago were published today, revealing daytime suits, just below the kneecap and more closely-fitted silhouettes.

BY GABRIELLE SMITH
PARIS (AP) — Women looked more like their feminine selves at the spring and summer Paris fashion showings. Each designer seemed to feel a need to feminize his models, but each did it differently. This spring, whether you are tall or short, slim or not, you can wear what suits you like best and stay in style.

The only rule to follow is a short skirt, just below the knee. Twenty-five-year old Yves Saint-Laurent provided the fashion suspense this season. He opened his house following two seasons underground after leaving Dior, where he had been chief designer.

His look reached from far West to far East, giving girls cowboy hats and scarves for day, and Balinese cocktail outfits topped by turbans for evening. He even introduced the harem with his short at-home trousers.

Small high bosoms reappeared for day in most collections, as at Balmain. Designers who kept a flat line tended to make up for it at night with low décolletage.

Skirts were made to walk in. Lanvin Castillo decreed against the "one-legged look" women had with straight narrow skirts. Ricci and Heilm made skirts bell out in circles, and Saint-Laurent and Dior gave two versions of a straight-looking, easy skirt.

Details added femininity to designers' lines. Dior starred ruffles in organdy and gilt for cocktail and evening. Cardin used spiraling ridged tucks to mark midriffs and applique flowers on strict suits.

Lanvin Castillo outdid the jungle with his leopard spotted raincoats, and Saint-Laurent gave women huge red costume jewelry hearts.

Alone in the turmoil stood Coco Chanel, who deftly carried on variations on her own themes, adding extra quilting, diaphanous chiffon dresses and blouses that looked like Indian striped scarves.

Colors went from sun yellow to palest apricot.

A large red hat and matching smoked glasses are worn with this tailor-made red wool suit with white stripes and a blouse of the same material—from Nina Ricci's 1962 Paris collection.

Abby Advises

Only Parents Can Help Girl Stuck With Run-Around Mate

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: You are the only one I can turn to for help with this problem, so please don't let me down.

My boy friend (I'll call him, Pete) and I want to my parents and asked for their permission to marry. They said absolutely not because Pete had nothing saved and only a summer job. We couldn't wait, so we drove over the state line and got a justice of the peace to marry us. We have been married nine weeks, and now I realize I made a bad mistake. Pete is mean to me. He runs around and says it's none of my business what he does. He is not the boy I thought he was. Please, please, help me out of this mess before I do something to him. Pete is 20 and I am 17.

ABBY

mother to believe me, and let me go out with him.

NOT BELIEVED

DEAR NOT: If he is telling the truth, he should have no objection to telling you his clergyman's name. That would be easy to check and would not be an insult.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "STRETCH PANTS": I think you are stretching things too far. If your husband objects, wear a skirt.

CONFIDENTIAL TO MIAMI MOTHER: If you permit your daughter to "go steady" at 12 and 13 years old, don't "write your hands and moan when she tells you she is old enough to get married at 17 or 18.

For Abby's booklet, "How to Have a Lovely Wedding," send 50 cents to Abby in care of the Pontiac Press.

DESPERATE

DEAR DESPERATE: Tell your parents the whole story immediately. They are the only ones who love you enough to help you.

DEAR ABBY: Your letter from the girl who was ridiculed and called a "religious fanatic" because she refused to take showers naked in gym with other girls, has my sympathy. I am glad you stood up for her, Abby. I wish someone had stood up for me 17 years ago when I had the same problem. When I was 15, I was much more matured than most of my classmates. I was terribly self-conscious about it and refused to get into the showers naked unless the gym teacher got in too. She wouldn't do it, so I wouldn't. I flunked gym. I could not graduate because I had no gym credit. But if I had to do it over again, I wouldn't do any different.

MODEST

DEAR ABBY: I am 17 and the boy I like is 19. When my mother met him, she took a dislike to him right away because she said he didn't "look like" my religion. I don't look like my religion, and neither does my brother, but that doesn't seem to make any impression on my mother. My boy friend told me he WAS of my religion and I believe him. I don't want to insult him by asking him to prove it. Please tell me how to get my

Queen, Princess See 'West Side'

LONDON (UPI) — Queen Elizabeth II went to the movies Monday night with a host of fashion-conscious film stars and "knocked 'em dead" with her sparkling, form-fitting evening gown.

The queen surprised guests at the royal film performance of "West Side Story" by unexpectedly bringing along her sister, Princess Margaret, and brother-in-law Lord Snowdon.

SHE LIKES 'EM

Observers said the appearance of Margaret and her husband, former society photographer Antony Armstrong-Jones, with the queen was a public demonstration that they have the full favor of Elizabeth despite recent criticism of the couple.

On hand to meet the queen were Italian actress Claudia Cardinale, Uly Brynner, Greek actress Melina Mercouri, Pat Boone, Leslie Caron, German actor Horst Buchholz and other movie stars from several countries.

Miss Cardinale, considered Italy's answer to Brigitte Bardot, wore a blushing pink gown with a demure bow holding a less demure neckline together.

Still worrying about the same old problem? Write to Abby for a personal reply. Enclose a stamped self-addressed envelope.

Music Pupils Play 'Pieces'

Members of the Chopin Music Club heard six students play the English Suite Festival Pieces at the home of Mrs. Carl Clifford Sunday afternoon.

Pianists were: Vicki Lezell, Jane Priestley, Georgia Burdick, Janet Alden, Mary Stewart and Donna Luenberger.

Duets were played by: Christine Fox and Cheryl Saville; Jean Priestley and Cheryl Bryant; and Darlene Fox and Linda Luenberger.

Jean Ann Keefe called roll and Penny Pepper was in charge of programs.

Refreshments were served.

Brides were not forgotten in Paris designers' collections for spring 1962. Left is Nina Ricci's gown in white organdie, decorated with lace and embroidery.

Congress of Strings Set at MSU

NEW YORK — Six well-known leaders in the field of symphonic music will conduct student orchestral sessions at the fourth annual Congress of Strings scholarship summer school sponsored by the American Federation of Musicians at Michigan State University, June 17 through Aug. 11. A. F. of M. Secretary Stanley Ballard, project director of the congress has announced.

Michael Piastro, former conductor of the Longme Symphonietta, will take charge the first week.

Erich Leinsdorf, music director of the Boston Symphony for next season, will conduct the congress orchestra June 24 to 30.

John Barnett, musical director of the National Orchestral Association, is scheduled to conduct the first two weeks in July.

Robert Shaw, founder and director of the Robert Shaw Choral and associate conductor of the Cleveland Orchestra, will take over the third week in July.

Josef Krips, conductor of the Buffalo Philharmonic Orchestra, will conduct the fourth week in July.

James Robertson, musical director and conductor of the Wichita Symphony Orchestra will be present the last two weeks of the summer session. The Congress of Strings was originated four years ago under the leadership of Herman Krim, president of the American Federation of Musicians, as a nationwide public service project to discover and encourage talented young players of stringed instruments and to promote greater public interest in "live" music.

White lace embroidered with cellophane was used by Pierre Balmain for the regal gown above. It is worn with a coat in white lace edged with grosgrain.

Chicken Dinner Proceeds to Aid Christian College

Some 130 people attended a chicken dinner sponsored by the Pontiac Chapter of Ladies Association for Michigan Christian College at First Federal Savings and Loan Association of Oakland Building. Proceeds from the affair will aid the college.

The Saturday evening dinner was served cafeteria style by Mrs. W. W. Lagent, Mrs. Elmer Dillard, Mrs. Ben Covert, Mrs. Dola Harrison, Mrs. Hugh Vick, Mrs. Thelma Eubank, Mrs. Kenneth Smith and Mrs. Bode Little. Mrs. Arzyl Allen was general chairman of the event.

Following the dinner, community singing of old favorites was led by Pete McLean, accompanied by Mrs. W. W. Hall, Maurice Hall, assistant to the president of Michigan Christian College, introduced a movie on ship named by doctors, dentists and nurses to serve in Indonesia.

Mr. Hall also described the plans of several men of the Church of Christ to form an organization to help launch a similar ship for medical aid and Bible education in places not yet reached in missionary work.

The Associate organization was begun two years ago among local women of the Churches of Christ to aid in furnishing needed items for the college. The group consists of over 1,400 members in three states.

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN
We may have firm convictions about how we would act and what we would do if we were in another person's shoes, but I doubt that we ever really know until the same thing happens to us. In fact, we might get some pretty big surprises!

I often have thought that many marital problems would disappear and that much understanding would appear if the husband and wife could exchange places for a week once a year.

If it were possible for her to go to work and take care of his responsibilities and pressures there, and for him to stay at home and take care of the children and the house and the cooking, it would be most productive of mutual respect and sympathy.

An amusing but thought-provoking letter I have just received stimulated this column. The woman writes, "I am a little weary of the coddled psychological advice which suggests that the breadwinner is a delicate deity, requiring wall to wall reverence lest he drop dead from the strain of making a living."

"It is almost impossible to lead through a magazine today without bumping into an essay directing wives to pamper, coddle, flatter, serve and adore their husbands."

"There is a gloomy theory that charges that wives are sending their husbands into early graves. It is thought to be selfish if a woman expects her husband to pitch more than two at home, and she is terrible if she ever expects him to stay at home once in a while to watch the children all by himself so that she can have an occasional respite from them and with the girls."

"This view may cause men to become neurotic and self-pitying and often blinds them to the burdens of others, their wives."

I do think that many young husbands fail to realize that their wives need some recreation, and some time away from the children. There is not much variety in household duties and childish prattle does not provide all the conversation a woman needs.

No matter how much a mother loves her children, she should have some time away from them spent in adult companionship.

On the other hand, I am sure many women are completely unaware of the pressure of a man's work, of his responsibility to provide for his family, and therefore call on him for too much help at home and expect him to enter into too much social life.

No doubt after exchanging jobs for a week, both the husband and wife would be crying to have their old roles back!

If you would like to have my leaflet, "Keeping Romance Alive," send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for leaflet No. 63 to Josephine Lowman in care of The Pontiac Press.

Mary Jean Savu Wed in Candlelight

Sonie 600 guests attended a dinner-reception in the Italian-American Club following the candlelight vows of Mary Jean Savu to Harvey R. Gammage Saturday in the Grace Lutheran Church.

Parents of the bride are Joseph Savu of Sherrill Drive, Waterford Township, and the late Mrs. Mary. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. S. Royal Gammage of Merry Road, Waterford Township.

Bodice and front panel of sequined Alencon lace enhanced the bride's gown of white peau de soie, styled with unpressed pleats and chapel train. A planted lace pin-tout caught her fingertip illusion veiling. White orchids, hyacinths and miniature roses rested on her white prayer book.

Matron of honor Mrs. Thomas Scorbett, wearing a red brocade sheath dress, carried a cascade of pink garrot roses and white carnations.

MRS. HARVEY R. GAMMAGE

White fur hats and muffs topped with pink garrot roses complemented ruby red peau de soie sheath dresses, for bridesmaids Sandy Scorbett, Mrs. Ronald Hicks, Mary Alice Cline, Mrs. Edward Perle, Marie Kovacs, Violet Baba and Beverly Chamberlain.

Dorine Jo Massa served as flower girl and Steve Hicks carried the rings.

Thomas Scorbett performed the duties of best man. The bridegroom's brothers Gary and Richard seated guests with Jack Nelson, Ronald Hicks, Edward Perle, Gary Bohas and Sydney Ward.

After cutting a six-tier wedding cake, the gift of Mrs. Charles W. Parker, the newlyweds left for their honeymoon. They will live in Pontiac.

For her sister's wedding, Mrs. Joseph Botan Jr. chose sequined tulle and pink cymbidium orchids. The mother of the bridegroom appeared in emerald green chiffon with silver accessories. Her flower girls wore green cymbidium orchids.

Q: When a friend drops in unexpectedly to see me and I am in the midst of ironing, would it be rude to my visitor to continue ironing or must I put it aside until later and give my visitor my undivided attention?

A: You should put your ironing aside unless your visitor is a very good friend to whom you can say, "I simply have to get through this ironing before the children come home. Do you mind sitting there and talking with me while I finish it?"

Q: I ordered a leather billfold for my boy friend's birthday and had it monogrammed with his initials. When the clerk asked me what his initials were I told him J. H. B. (for John Henry Brown). When I went in to pick up the billfold, I found it was marked J. large H. in the center and B. at the end.

I told the manager that I thought the marking incorrect and that the large initial should have been that of his last name. He told me that I was wrong and refused to do anything about it.

I still think that I am right and would like a confirmation from you so that I can show it to him.

A: You are right. The large initial in the center is always that of the surname. To give this prominence to any other initial is incorrect and the owner of the store should certainly make good.

Q: One of the members of our club is married to a doctor and whenever she speaks of him, she always refers to him as Dr. John. Most of us resent this and think it is very bad taste. Will you please give us your opinion?

A: She should refer to him as John to intimate friends. "my husband" to acquaintances and Dr. Smith to his patients.

Eggs Are Inexpensive; Use Them in Nut Torte

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

It's such fun to get catchy letters like the one we had recently from Mrs. Nicholas P. Klayo Jr., of Bloomfield Hills. Outside of the recipe she sent, the thing that interested us most was the thought of her 50 apple trees in bloom. Do you suppose that will really happen this year?

Mrs. Klayo sent us a recipe for Hungarian Nut Torte. She says she loves to cook and bake; we know she makes cookies every month for the State Hospital. Crocheting is another hobby. Mrs. Klayo is active in her church altar guild.

1 teaspoon vanilla

Frosting
1 cup granulated sugar
3 tablespoons flour
1 egg
1 cup milk
½ pound butter
8 tablespoons confectioners sugar
1 teaspoon vanilla
Combine first 4 ingredients. Cook until thick. Cool. Cream butter and add to cooled mixture. Add confectioners sugar and vanilla. Beat thoroughly. If more frosting is desired, add more confectioners sugar.

Clear Other Bill in State House for Leave to Elected Employee

LANSING (UP)—Bills to establish a 45-mile-per-hour minimum speed on freeways and require employers to grant leave of absence to employees elected to public office cleared the House Monday night and moved to the Senate.

The freeway bill, picking up a 75-hour week, would require autos to travel 45 miles an hour or more unless road conditions or a posted speed required otherwise.

Rep. Lester O. Begick, R-Bay City, the sponsor, said slow-traveling vehicles on the high-speed road system are frequently the cause of accidents.

Only employers with 100 workers or more on the payroll would be required to observe the leave of absence law. Elected officials also would be guaranteed no loss of seniority at their old jobs for 24 months.

Despite strong objections from Rep. Fred Olsen, R-Sheridan, that lawmakers were usurping property rights, the lower chamber also approved a measure to allow municipalities to adopt ordinances providing for the destruction of female box elder trees.

Bugs that swarm onto the female trees are "a real nuisance," said Rep. Carroll C. Newton, R-Detroit.

"They dirty the walls, they dirty the curtains and they even crowd into the house in the winter," he said.

Rep. E. D. O'Brien, D-Detroit, in a joking mood, wondered how the average householder could tell a male from a female tree.

"It sounds to me as if you are against elder females, and this looks discrimination," he declared.

Norway, Russia Relax 12-Mile Limits for Fishing

OSLO, Norway (AP)—Norway and the Soviet Union are relaxing their 12-mile limit claims to permit fishermen of each nation to work within six miles of the coast of the other in certain areas of the Arctic.

The foreign office, disclosing an agreement to this effect which was initiated in Moscow last week, said it will be valid for nine years.

Receives Ideas on UP Economy

Legislative Unit Gets Various Proposals for Boosting the Area

LANSING (UP)—Legislators who conducted four weekend hearings in the Upper Peninsula got a pile of suggestions on what they can do to bolster the area's sagging economy, Rep. Gilbert E. Bursley, R-Ann Arbor, said Monday.

They ranged from refunding of bonds paying for the Mackinac Bridge to appropriation of funds for research to sale of state lands for cottage sites.

Bursley is chairman of the legislative committee on Michigan's economic growth. The Upper Peninsula hearings wound up a series of meetings that the committee to about 50 cities throughout the state.

They will draft legislation on the basis of their findings, Bursley said.

In the western Upper Peninsula, witnesses urged stepped up research at Michigan Tech to find out what expanded uses for forestry products and cheaper processing of low grade iron ore to enable area mines to compete with increasing production of high grade ores in foreign markets.

At other suggestion proposed retraining programs to fit idle miners for work in taconite mining operations.

Witnesses also urged new shoreline highways, more camping facilities, greater tourist promotion and a change in policies of the State Conservation Department.

Two proposals ask Glenn Be given Medal of Honor

WASHINGTON (AP)—Two proposals to give astronaut John H. Glenn Jr. the Medal of Honor have been introduced in Congress. Both act on the bills may be determined largely by advice from the Defense Department and the State Department.

One bill, introduced Monday by Rep. Frank Chalk, D-Calif., would authorize presentation of the medal to Glenn for his service in the Mercury space program.

The other proposal, by Sen. Olin D. Johnston, D-Me., would authorize the Medal of Honor for Glenn alone.

Request Expansion of Facility in State
WASHINGTON (UP)—The Agriculture Department urged Congress Monday to approve $75,000 for expansion of its poultry research laboratory at East Lansing, Mich., during the year beginning July 1.

Byron T. Shaw, administrator of the Agricultural Research Service, told a Senate appropriations subcommittee the existing facilities, built in 1939, are "wholly inadequate."

The laboratory's main project is to control avian leukemia which, Shaw described as the most destructive poultry disease in the nation. He estimated annual losses from the disease at $65 million.

Cool Reception for Cubans Likely in Cleveland
MIAMI (UPI)—About 80 Cuban refugees scheduled to leave Miami today in a resettlement program sponsored by church officials may be in for a cool reception at Cleveland, Ohio.

Cleveland Mayor Anthony J. Calabrese said he knew that the coming of the Cubans did not sit well with him.

"We have many unemployed in Cleveland at the present time," he said. "If jobs are available, I think they should be given to our own people. I am disappointed that the aircraft I wasn't consulted when they were planned."

The Cubans, although they knew of Calabrese's comments, said they were the first contingent of the new resettlement program would leave here by air on schedule.

Sportsman Succumbs
ORLEANS, Ind. (AP)—Ralph M. Jenkins, 72, one of the nation's leading trophy hunters for more than 50 years, died Monday. Jenkins, a banker and cattle breeder, served as president of the American Traphunting Association of America in 1944-45. He was 70.

Receives Detroit Post
DETROIT (UP)—Mrs. Esther Randall LeMay, 44-year-old resident officer of Detroit's juvenile court, was appointed Monday to the post of executive secretary of Mayor Jerome Cavanagh's Commission on Children and Youth.

Marquette Ex-Mayor Killed by Snowplow
MARQUETTE (UP)—Bernard (Ben) Marquette, 58, former mayor of Marquette, was run over and killed by a city snow plow late Monday.

Witnesses said Marquette was shoveling snow from his driveway when he was caught by the rear wheel of the scraper and knocked under the plow.

Marquette has a snow depth of 40 inches.

Backs Wagner Against Prendergast
WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy appears to be inching toward realigning Democratic party candidates for major state election battles this fall.

Major Robert F. Wagner of New York obviously will have presidential support for a scheduled attempt Thursday to dump Michael H. Prendergast as Democratic state chairman. The Wagner forces are expected to support William H. McGee, Cayuga County chairman, for the post.

Wagner has made it clear that McGee is his man in New York. Whether this potential expansion of his party power means that McGee eventually will get into the race against Republican Gov.

Nelson A. Rockefeller remains to be seen.

Politicians who read the signs profess to believe that the President is not adverse to seeing a younger brother, Edward M. Kennedy, take a flier in the race for the Democratic senatorial nomination in Massachusetts.

INTRAPARTY FIGHT
Ted Kennedy's entry into a contest for a seat the President once held would be almost certain to result in a Democratic family feud in Massachusetts.

Steel Negotiators in Ninth Day; 'No Comment'

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Steel industry labor negotiators spent their ninth day of contract talks Monday and again refused comment on progress.

A source close to the negotiations said the talks probably will be moved to New York if no agreement is reached by the end of this week.

In a joint statement President David J. McDonald of the United Steelworkers Union and top industry negotiator R. Conrad Cooper said they had worked hard during the weekend and again Monday.

McDonald added that he was hopeful an agreement could be reached by Thursday. He said he has not been in touch with anyone in the government concerning the negotiations.

Dem Staebler Digs at Romney
HITS of Rejoining of Republicans by State Candidate for Governor

CAMBRIDGE, Mass.—A lecture podium at Harvard University was used by Democratic national committee member Neil Staebler as he attacked Sen. J. Edgar Romney, Republican candidate for the nomination for governor.

"There are several ways of viewing political parties," Staebler said in his lecture. "One is to regard them as the least desirable of all government devices."

Staebler said Romney, a former member of the House of Representatives, had been a "Republican for many years working Republican."

Romney later formed a small nonpartisan group and denounced both parties, Staebler said, referring to Citizens for Michigan.

"Now he has rejoined his old political party which he obviously does not find so preferable," Staebler said. "So he continues to attack both groups ... although I detect a weakening of intensity in his attacks on his party."

Staebler said Romney's "discovery" that he had acquired new virtues and is a shining example of what a political party ought to be.

Kids Congress: 'Place District Under the U.N.'
WASHINGTON (UP)—Rep. Edith Green, D-Ore., has proposed that Washington be placed under United Nations trusteeship as a territorial enclave deemed unfit for self-government.

Mr. Green, needing Congress for its failure to grant self-government to the capital, described Washington as "a fairly highly developed, peaceable, literate territory."

Eventually, she told the House, the U.N. Trusteeship Council might recommend home rule for the district, thus relieving Congress of the burden of governing Washington.

Record February Snow Cause of Odd Confusion
MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (AP)—What city residents try to do is to get out of the streets of record February snow. Motorists are prohibited from parking on odd-numbered streets on odd-numbered days—even-numbered streets on even-numbered days.

It has resulted in a blizzard of parking tickets and some confusion, topped by a woman's plea to police: Where should I park?

She asked, if my license plate ends in an even number.

Death in Moscow
MOSCOW (UP)—The Soviet Union today announced the death of a death penalty to cover the crimes of bribery, rape and attacks on policemen.

Backers Eye Victory for Krishna Menon

NEW DELHI (UP)—Defense Minister V. K. Krishna Menon today, forged solid support of his opponent, Charappa J. B. Krishna, and his supporters claimed victory was in sight in the race for the north Bombay parliament seat.

Menon, who was criticized by the opposition for allegedly being soft on communism, was officially reported 40,500 votes ahead of his opponent, Charappa, a veteran political campaigner and follower of the late Mahatma Gandhi.

A decisive victory for Menon would be a solid vote of confidence for Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru, who steadfastly supported his defense minister's bid for reelection to parliament.

Unit Vows to Get Funds for Student Loan Program
LANSING (UP)—Funds to put a college student loan program into operation by September will be found "somehow," the Michigan Higher Education Assistance Authority said Monday.

The legislature established the authority in 1960 but has yet to make an appropriation to finance it.

The authority was created to make low-interest loans to students who might otherwise drop out of school for lack of funds.

The authority said it would be repaid after graduation.

This year, the authority asked an $83,432 appropriation to get the program rolling. Gov. Swainson's budget recommended $35,000.

Members of the authority, mostly representatives of state colleges and universities, said they would go to private sources to obtain part of the $50,000 needed for a fund to guarantee the loans.

To Plan U.S. 31 Repairs Not to Bother Tourists
LANSING (UP)—The State Highway Department says work on U.S. 31 modernization job on U.S. 31 in Antrim County will be planned to prevent interference with summer tourist travel in the area.

The project involves work on a five-mile stretch between East Port and Alwood.

The department noted U.S. 31 is one of the main arteries carrying tourist traffic to the Charlevoix-Petoscay and Mackinac Bridge areas.
