Hospital Director May Resign Following Pay Boost Rejection

Miss Lauretta Paul, Pontiac General Hospital director, said today she was "not decided" whether she would remain or resign after the Board of Trustees last night rejected a proposed $2,000 salary increase for her.

"There's an awful lot of good hospitals around to pick from,"

Miss Paul said from her home this morning.

Climaxing a five-hour discussion on the hospital's 1937 budget, the new 11-member board did approve, by a 3 to 2 vote, a $1,000 increase bringing the director's salary to $13,000.

Voting against the $13,000 payment were Harold S. Goldberg, Joseph Jones, Charles E. Yaeger, Harold B. Euler and William P. Babcock.

Prior to the vote, Goldberg told his fellow trustees: "Any vote giving her less than $14,000 would be asking her for her resignation."

Voting for the pay hike were Trustees Willis M. Brewer, Mrs. B. B. Roush, the Rev. Theodore R. Allebach, Edward P. Barrett, James Clarkson and Cecil J. Cosgrove.

FIRST SUPPORT

It was the first time that Mrs. Roush and Brewer, who openly have criticized Miss Paul's work at the hospital, have voted for an increase. Bothe voted down $1,000 boosts last January and July.

"I never told them I would resign," a bitter Miss Paul said today. "I don't feel very good about what they have done."

"They didn't give full consideration to the amount of responsibility that goes with administering two hospitals (the city hospital and annex) and for building a third one," she said.

"Right now I don't know what I am going to do," she added. "I realize that there still remain two persons on the board whose primary purpose in life is to get me fired." She named the two as Mrs. Roush and Brewer.

Including Miss Paul's salary, the board approved, during acceptance of the budget, other salary hikes for executive personnel amounting to $127,125.

New Comptroller Louis Swartzburg was granted a hike from $8,500 to $9,500. Assistant Director Warren W. Simonds received a $500 boost bringing his 1937 salary to $9,500.

Other increases went to the accountant ($725), credit manager ($881), the chief engineer ($6,750), and to the director of nursing, the laundry manager and the new assistant to the director, Mrs. John Stewart.

"I would be the very first one to vote for a good director's salary if we could get a more capable administrator," Brewer said.

Both Brewer and Mrs. Roush failed to respond to challenges from several trustees that they make a motion to dismiss Miss Paul.

Brewer did admit later that the work of Miss Paul "had improved to some extent since the report came out."

His reference was to the James Hamilton report completed last May on the management of the hospital. It was requested by the Board.

In the report, a recommendation was made that Miss Paul be granted "a reasonable period of time to strengthen the executive management and improve the internal operations of the hospital."

It also suggested her salary be increased to $12,000 at the time the report was completed, and to $15,000 in three years.

Stressing that several Board members were emphasizing the alleged weaknesses of the director, Yaeger said: "The report quotes that the 'position of director is inadequately enumerated.'"

New Trustee Edward P. Barrett failed in an attempt to table the salary increase discussion, stating that, "I'm not going to vote for this 17 per cent ($2,000) increase and I'm not sure I'm right in voting against it."

After a 20-minute recess at midnight, the Board returned and Barrett withdrew his motion. Brewer moved for the $13,000 payment to Miss Paul.

Fire Burns Out Business District Block of Clare

None Injured as Blaze Destroys Five Stores in Sub-Zero Weather

CLARE (AP)—A fast-spreading fire, originating in the basement of a supply store, last night burned out the west-side of a business district block, destroying five stores and causing damages estimated at $800,000.

No persons were injured in the fire. Six families, living in apartments above the stores, were forced to flee into zero weather.

One woman, Mrs. Leda Booth, 63, an occupant of one of the apartments, was taken to Clare Community Hospital for treatment of smoke inhalation. Her condition was good.

The fire was discovered at 10:30 p.m. in the basement of the Western Auto Supply store. It spread through the Fred Guette Paint and Wallpaper Co., the Grove 5 & 10 Cent Store, the Charles Tavern, and Gammel's General Equipment store.

Firemen from Clare, Mt. Pleasant, Cadillac and surrounding communities fought the blaze.

The firefighters from Cadillac had to speed 46 miles to fight the fire.

"The biggest single thing that saved us was Cadillac's ladder truck. It allowed a hose to be played down on the flames and stopped their spread."

"We also were worried that the sub-zero temperatures might cause a water supply failure."

The temperature dropped to four degrees below zero during the struggle to keep the fire under control.

Ammunition in one of the stores was exploded by the flames, and fumes from stocks of the paint store hampered firemen.

Clare's business district, along U.S. 27, is roughly four blocks long. All of the destroyed buildings and several adjacent structures are of wooden construction.

U. S. Jets on World Flight

MARCH AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (INS)—Three American B52 jet bombers were expected to land at March Air Force Base (about 3 p.m., Pontiac time) today after a history-making, non-stop flight around the world.

The 650-mile-an-hour planes were virtually certain to set a new world record for globe-circling flight.

The Air Force would not officially confirm that the flight was in progress, but issued a statement saying "an event of historical importance" would terminate at March Base about 11 a.m. PST (2 p.m. Pontiac time) today.

The jet bombers were expected to have taken about 48 hours to make the 24,000 mile trip. The present record for a round-the-world flight is 94 hours, one minute—set by the "Lucky Lady" in 1949.

According to reports, at least four B52s left the West Coast Wednesday. One peeled off from the main route and landed in England yesterday—the first of the powerful jets to fly from the U.S. to Britain.

GOP Heads Divided on Good, Bad Effects of 'Stassen' Telegram

WASHINGTON (AP)—Republicans maneuvering toward the choice of a new national chairman weighed today the effects of a telegram which later was branded as "fraudulent."

H. Meade Alcorn Jr., Connecticut national committeeman, appeared still to have the inside track to succeed Leonard W. Hall Feb. 1, but the name of former Sen. Harry Darby of Kansas was entered in the speculation by some who prefer a new chairman from the West or Midwest.

Several others also have been mentioned, among them New York State GOP Chairman L. Judson Morhouse and Presidential Asst. Howard Pyle, a former governor of Arizona.

Harold E. Stassen described as "false and fraudulent" yesterday a telegram purportedly sent by him to 40 or 50 GOP National Committee members saying "The time has come for liberals to take a stand. But not all those to whom it went are considered in the party's liberal wing."

The telegram urged support of Alcorn for the post, but could have had the opposite effect by stirring antagonisms within the party.

MAY HELP ALCORN

Two supporters of Alcorn, Senators Bush and Purtell of Connecticut, contended today the net effect of the telegram and its repudiation could help the Connecticut man's candidacy.

Bush commented that "I hope every member of the national committee and every loyal Republican will be offended by, and resent this fraudulent attempt to interfere with the election of a national chairman."

Pontiac General Board Also OKs Big Hike for Delivery, Nurseries

A $2 per day increase in room rates at Pontiac General Hospital to cover increased operation costs, was approved last night by the city hospital's Board of Trustees.

Also approved were increases in delivery room rates from $25 to $30 and nursery room rates from $5 to $7.

The surtax charged to non-city residents using Pontiac General was boosted from 10¢ to 15 per cent, in other action.

Louis Swartzburg, comptroller, said the five increases would amount to $305,742 added to the 1937 receipts. All become effective Monday.

Miss Lauretta Paul, director, said the boosts were necessitated by increased salaries granted, increased operating costs, and employment of new personnel as recommended by a recently-completed management study of the hospital.

TWO 'NO' VOTES

Officials Believe Blaze Started Near the Stage From Defective Wiring

A pre-dawn fire today gutted Utica Junior High School on Brownell street in Utica.

The blaze was discovered at 3:20 a.m. by an off-duty policeman, Frank W. Coluzzi of Utica, who was on his way home from work.

It was finally extinguished around 5 a.m., after Shelby Township firemen came to the aid of Utica's Volunteer Fire Department. The fire may temporarily idle approximately 500 pupils.

Floyd H. Ebeling, superintendent of public schools, today commended firemen for their outstanding work in the near-zero weather.

The school was built in 1929, and houses 11 rooms and a gymnasium-auditorium. The center of the school was gutted, with most damage in the gymnasium and hallways.

Though a basketball game was held at the school last night, officials believe the fire started near the stage from defective wiring.

The school's estimated worth is $250,000, and officials, still conferring with insurance inspectors, are not certain of the amount of damage.

Mayor George Albrecht of Utica said, however, that he estimated it would cost about $300,000 to repair the building.

Officials, meeting in session with Supt. Ebeling this morning at 9:30, believe the school will be unusable for a long time.

They plan half-day sessions for the sixth, seventh and eighth graders in the newer annex of the school.

The Trinity Lutheran Church nearby has also offered the use of a vacant parish house for classrooms.

No Winner Yet, Pot-O-Gold Now Is Worth $400

This week's Pot-O-Gold puzzle is now worth $400, because judges failed to find a winner from among the 5,818 entries for Puzzle No. 32. Although many solutions were very close to the right answers, none of the qualified entries had all 15 answers correct.

You still have until Tuesday to mail your entry for Puzzle 33 for a chance at the $400 prize. Just don't forget to read the clues and the rules carefully; the judges won't even see your correct solution if you haven't followed the rules.

For an explanation of last week's correct answers, see page 20. This week's puzzle appears on page 21.

No Taxes in 1957? Tell Us the Secret

SCRANTON, Pa. (AP)—The 175 residents of Bethany Borough in Wayne County aren't going to pay local taxes this year.

Last night, members of the Borough Council met, looked over the financial situation and announced that there was sufficient cash on hand to run the northeastern Pennsylvania community for the year.

Lee Paynter, Council president, said the $4,000 in the treasury would be more than enough to tide the historic community through 1957. Last year, an impost of 5 mills was levied.

Today's Chapter of FBI Story: Murder in Alaska

Test of Slug Dug From Cabin Wall Traps Killer

By DON WHITEHEAD

The United States marshal at Nome, Alaska, had a problem in murder to be solved.

In mid-March of 1936 a blizzard swept out of the North. The icy winds moaned across the Alaskan mountains and the flatlands, driving men and animals to shelter.

John Nilima, an oldtime prospector and trader, retreated into his log cabin at a remote place called Old Buckland Village.

In the fury of the storm, a man stole to a sheltered side of the cabin, looked through a window, raised a rifle, took careful aim and shot John Nilima through the head.

Quickly the killer opened the door and stepped inside. He looked at Nilima to be certain he was dead; then he hurried back into the blizzard. The snow soon covered his tracks.

BULLET DISCOVERED

The U. S. marshal searched the cabin but the only clue was the bullet from the rifle of the killer.

The slug had gone through Nilima's head and embedded itself in a log. The marshal pried the bullet loose.

In the days that followed, the marshal found himself with two suspects. The first was an ex-convict, a known enemy of Nilima's.

ma's who had once threatened to kill the trader because of an argument over prospecting. The marshal noticed stains on his socks.

"Is that blood?" the officer asked.

"Yes," the ex-convict said. "I shot a reindeer and some of the blood dripped on my socks while I was dragging it home."

The marshal checked the ex-convict's rifle. It had been fired and hadn't been cleaned. Despite the man's protests of innocence, the evidence seem strong against him.

The marshal knew the FBI had a technical laboratory in Washington, D. C., where evidence was examined by scientific means.

It was a new development in law enforcement but worth trying out. Carefully he bundled up the rifle, the blood-stained socks and the bullet fired from the killer's gun. He mailed them to the FBI.

The marshal's second suspect was a young Eskimo who had been spending more money than usual at a trading post near his village.

He, too, insisted he was innocent, and he stubbornly refused to account for the source of his money. The marshal took the Eskimo's rifle and mailed it to the FBI also. Then he waited for the answers.

In the laboratory, the pieces of evidence were given to the men who had helped launch this project less than four years before. The stains on the ex-convict's socks weren't human blood.

State Rep. Anderson Asks Halt on Publicity Unless 'Cleared'

Lloyd L. Anderson, newly-elected state representative, took a slap at "unwarranted publicity" yesterday as he said farewell to the Oakland County Board of Supervisors. Supervisors gave him their unanimous support. They passed his resolution aimed at a public announcement by the county planning commission last month.

The resolution calls for all future announcements by the planning commission to be cleared by the supervisors first.

The announcement in question, Anderson said, concerned the possibility of a six-lane expressway passing through Pontiac as a link in the Detroit-to-Bay City interstate chain of highways.

Anderson did not specifically mention The Pontiac Press, which printed the story Dec. 4.

He said the announcement was made public without prior consultation with members of the supervisors' Road Committee.

This should be the standing policy of all activities controlled by the supervisors, he indicated.

The Waterford Township supervisor was a member of the supervisors' board six years.

In other action taken yesterday, supervisors decided on another step to stamp out rabies in the county. They approved a special $3 price for rabies vaccinations for dog owners who cannot afford the standard $5 price charged by veterinarians.

The lower rates will be administered by the county dog warden in cooperation with private veterinarians. The service will be on a cost basis to the county.

Resolutions were adopted concerning the recent gift of the Meadowbrook estate and mansion in Avon Township to Michigan State University for a branch college.

The resolutions expressed appreciation to Mr. and Mrs. Alfred G. Wilson, who made the gift, and to the university.

The board approved reappointment of Stanley J. Filkins as Deputy Oakland County Drain Commissioner.

It heard that Detroit, as owner of the Detroit Zoo and Rackham Golf Course in Royal Oak, will not join in the Twelve Towns Drain project in the southern part of the county. Detroit officials questioned the legality of the city's participation.

There were reports by the buildings and grounds committee, the civil defense committee, and the bylaws committee.

South Pole Crew Welcoming at Above Zero

Pontiac area residents will be in sub-zero weather today, some 20 mer "baked" in above summer temperatures at the "America" at the South Pole.

Residents shouldn't get disoriented and pack up for the 10-mile jaunt, as the "vacation" men report that down here is pretty fortunate.

They haven't seen the sun up since Christmas, "was" the from the Pole.

Information was gathered from radio operator F. Keith of 36 Union St. He makes contact with the Pole many times.

Reported that the men at the don't even bat an eyelash to 30 above mercury reading. Why should they? Last winter the mercury almost plunged to sight when it reached 78 below zero.

Manufacturer for Bad Sausage

Food sources manufacturer Lewis, of the Airplane Sausage Company, 1629 W. Philadelphia, was found guilty of selling bad sausage in Pontiac containing much fat.

Under investigation since fall, appeared before Municipal Court Judge Cecil McCallum. Accused to sell W. Bauerwolf of the Police weights and measurement department, pork sausage containing more than 50 per cent fat.

6 to Spearhead Hospital Drive

Committee Will Push $1 Million Campaign to Equip Addition

A six-member committee has been appointed to spearhead the drive to raise $1,000,000 to help equip the new addition at Pontiac General Hospital, it was announced today by Mrs. P. Eugene Miller, president of the hospital's Women's Auxiliary.

Members are: Elmer R. Pettengill, Pontiac Motor Division's director of coordination, manufacturing, and distribution; Howard L. Canfield, district manager of Detroit Edison Co.; Dr. Harold A. Furlong, past chief of staff at Pontiac General.

Others are Rev. William L. LaFountain, pastor of the Lutheran Church of the Ascension; Leslie H. Hudson, Pontiac's State Representative; and Edward L. Kar-Kau, district manager of Consumers Power Co.

The committee will meet tomorrow morning for the first time to appoint a chairman and to begin seeking means to raise the money, Mrs. Miller said.

'Red Tape Battle' Being Won by U.S. Post Office

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Post Office Department today proudly announced a major victory in the "battle against red tape."

The department said that in the past four years it had eliminated 1,685 different forms "which formerly plagued the public and postal personnel."

In addition, the department said its program has resulted in "greatly simplified use" of many of the remaining forms and reduced the use of others.

And soon, the department said, 8,000 forms now used in major post offices will be pared down to 119—plus 55 newly designed forms.

Hike Rates $2 Day at General Hospital

James Clarkson, abstained from voting.

Favoring the increases were: Rev. Theodore R. Allebach, Harold B. Euler, Joseph Jones, Harold S. Goldberg, William P. Babcock, and Charles E. Yaeger.

The new room rates will become: Ward rooms from $16 to $18; semiprivate room from $18 to $20; and private room rates from $20-$23 to $22-$25.

Hikes 'Must Stop'

"We've got to stop somewhere," Brewer said. "We're one of the highest-rates hospitals in the state."

The approval of the five per cent hike in the surtax was approved unanimously.

Approval of the increases came during discussion of the hospital's 1957 budget amounting to $3,296,477, some $870,473 more than last year's ($2,426,004).

The Board approved the budget and referred its acceptance to the City Commission.

Trustees explained that the larger budget was necessary because of the opening of the annex, wage increases, payment of Social Security benefits for the first time, and payment of interest on general obligation bonds used to finance, in part, the new $3.5 million addition.

Two Companies Fight $7,000 Bait Shop Fire

The Day in Birmingham

Pay Tribute to a Nurse of County Public Health

BIRMINGHAM — Orchids, roses and other blooms joined verbal bouquets last night to pay tribute to Anyce Gillette, public health nurse in Birmingham since 1943. A program sponsored by the Kiwanis Club here, had the assistance of the Soroptimist Club and Businesswomen's Club.

Mrs. Gillette was given special recognition by her "boss" Evelyn Kidneigh and Dr. John Monroe of the Oakland County Health Department.

She served with the county department prior to coming to Birmingham and was praised by Dr. Monroe for her work at the county contagious hospital. Richard Gibson, new Kiwanian president, in making the presentation of a camera to Mrs. Gillette told the group there that when he called to notify her of her appointment she suggested that she sit down with him and help him "find someone more deserving of this honor."

"That," he said "is the kind of a woman Anyce Gillette is." Several present and past city officials along with officers of the clubs bore out his testimony in their own words of praise for Mrs. Gillette.

At the "Flowers for the Living" it was noted that her husband George A. Gillette had bypassed a dinner being given in his honor for a recent promotion by the Ford Motor Car Company.

A native of Iowa, where she trained as a nurse, Mrs. Gillette came to Oakland County in 1926 and worked under the direction of the county board in Pontiac. She became well-known throughout the area for her skill as a nurse, sympathy and understanding of her patients and especially for her sense of humor which brought spots of joy into many an otherwise dreary life.

Mrs. Josephine Bronson, exemplified this is a poem she has written especially for Mrs. Gillette called "A Tribute to a Nurse".

Your Income Tax

This is one of a series of articles prepared by the U. S. Internal Revenue Service to help you prepare your income tax return.

BREAK YOUR ARM IN 1956?

If you did, and were absent from work due to that injury, or any injury, and your employer continued to pay your salary — you have a tax saving.

Just subtract the wages received during your absence from work from gross income, but do not subtract more than $100 for each week of absence.

The same benefits apply if the absence from work was due to an illness and you were hospitalized at least one day during the illness.

If not hospitalized during the period of illness, only the amount received after the first seven calendar days can be subtracted from gross income, but not to exceed $100 for each week after the first seven calendar days.

Of course your employer must include these wages on your Form W-2, before you can subtract the exclusion for injury or sickness.

Further information on income tax problems is available, without cost, to taxpayers at the Internal Revenue Service office, 53½ West Huron St. Phone FE 2-0206.

SNOW FORECAST — Scattered snow flurries expected tonight over the Northeast part of the nation will include Michigan. Elsewhere, fair to

Then a test shot was fired from the Eskimo's rifle into a cotton-filled box. The bullet was placed under a microscope beside the death bullet.

Slowly the two bullets were revolved until the trained eye at the microscope saw that the grooves and lines etched on the bullets by the gun barrel matched perfectly.

PERSONAL AUTOGRAPH

No two gun barrels are alike in minute detail. The inside of each barrel has its own peculiar imperfections in the metal which leave tiny lines and grooves on the bullets fired through the barrel.

It might be said that these bullet markings are the personal autographs of each gun barrel. When the expert saw the same lines and grooves on both bullets, he knew the bullet that killed

John Nilima could have come from one gun only—the gun owned by the Eskimo.

The ex-convict was freed. The Eskimo confessed to the murder and was sentenced to serve 20 years in a federal penitentiary, trapped by the scientific crime fighters through methods now accepted as routine.

In less than a quarter of a century, the FBI's scientific tools for use against crime and subversion have become more and more complex, and progressively more effective.

With a borrowed microscope, ultraviolet light equipment, an instrument for examining the interior of a gun barrel and a few other odds and ends, the FBI laboratory was officially in operation on Nov. 24, 1932.

Twenty-four years later, this million-dollar laboratory had become an institution in American law enforcement, with the services of its experts and equipment available to local law enforcement agencies without charge.

Official examinations in the laboratory's first 11 months of active operation total 963. During the fiscal year 1956, the laboratory made more than 140,000 examinations of evidence submitted by agents and by local law enforcement agencies.

The FBI laboratory is divided into a number of different sections and units. For example, the physics and chemistry section has units which handle firearms, blood, toxicological, hairs and fibers, metallurgical, petrographic and spectrophotometric examinations; the document section handles handwriting, typewriting, forgeries, fraudulent checks, obliterated writing, extortion letters, inks, papers, charred documents and related examinations; and the electronics section is engaged in designing and developing new electronic equipment for use in the field and in setting up and maintaining a network of radio stations for use in the event of an emergency.

Reference files include photographic copies of forged checks and anonymous letters; type specimens from virtually every known make of American typewriter; animal hairs, including some from a wallaby and a wombat; rubber heels and tire prints; samples of the paints used by automobile manufacturers; and about 42,000 different records of watermarks in paper. Day after day, these files provide the clues which help to link a suspect with a crime.

Give 'Baby Doll' Ruling.

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP)—A request by religious groups to ban the showing of the controversial movie "Baby Doll" was turned down by the City Council. City Atty. Carlos Cadena advised the Council that no present Texas statute or city ordinance gives them authority to censor movies. The film opened yesterday at a downtown theater.

Charter Commission Election April 1 at Southfield

Rush to Beat June Deadline

County's Supervisors Approve Election; OK Farmington Vote

Southfield's third charter commission election will be held April 1, just two months before the quasi-city will revert to township status unless a charter is approved at another election.

The election was approved yesterday by the County Board of Supervisors.

Commissioners elected April 1 are expected to make few changes in the charter which just was defeated by a mere 43 votes.

Speed is necessary, because the proposed charter must go to the governor for approval before it is submitted to voters.

Under state law, Southfield had from April 1, 1955, when it voted for incorporation, until June 1, 1957 to adopt a city charter.

The charter submitted by the first-elected charter commission also was defeated. A new charter commission must be elected each time a charter is prepared for an election.

The Board also approved a special election April 1 for the annexation of approximately a mile square parcel of Farmington Township to Farmington City.

It approved at a special hearing the annexation of a smaller parcel of Milford Township to Milford Village. This parcel is south of the village and east of Milford road.

Numerous dwellings have been built in the area. A proposal by the subdivider to extend village water and sewer facilities to these homes at no cost to the village helped prompt the annexation. No election was necessary.

Parents of Adolescents Need Code

By MURIEL LAWRENCE
Recently this column discussed the problem created for a teenager's parents by her friends' fathers and mothers. They leave home when their children have parties.

The girl's parents felt that this unrestricted freedom was unwise. I urged them to act on their own feelings, not on those that belong to other parents.

Now a reader asks if I disapprove community "codes" to regulate teenage hours. She is soon to vote on one proposed by her PTA.

She says, "You recently said that parents should decide these matters for themselves, not let their neighbors do it for them. Does this mean you wouldn't vote for such a code?"

No. It just means that if I saw little wisdom in my neighbors' action, I wouldn't feel compelled to duplicate it. But if I saw wisdom in it, I'd join them in it.

WOULD BACK CODE
As I'd see unusual wisdom in their effort to regulate teenage hours, I would enthusiastically vote for their code.

Usually such community controls are put on young people through the thing we call "tradition."

One of America's big discipline problems is the absence of any generally accepted tradition that tells young people what we expect of them. This melting pot is still cooking so many different traditions that it hasn't had time to boil down one we can all subscribe to.

The situation has put a fearful burden on American parents, making our control of adolescent young solely dependent on their personal affection for us instead of mixing it with restrictions by impersonal, community-endorsed tradition.

Even the most uncivilized tribes recognize parents' need for help in preparing the teenager for adult responsibility. In their solemn, painful puberty rituals, they say to the child in the most dramatic way, "See, this utmost endurance and loyalty is what we expect of you."

INTEREST ADMITTED
The savage community admits its increased interest in the child who is approaching the world's hazards, and does not leave his parents alone to make and execute standards for his social and sexual conduct.

We are tired of struggling with just that job. These new codes represent our deep need for some of the security which tradition has immemorably arranged for other parents in the world. We're a wonderful people. Maybe we're going to start pioneering ourselves a tradition now just as we pioneered our Declaration of Independence.

White House Chinaware on Display

Variety of Patterns
Used Since Era of Washington

By JANE EADS

WASHINGTON — Americans interested in the china off which their presidents have dined over the years can get a good gander at representative pieces now displayed in glass cases at the Smithsonian Institution.

The White House collection of presidential porcelain and china in the executive mansion may be viewed only through special arrangement made by your congressman, or other officials, but anyone can get a good look at some of the interesting pieces in three good-sized wall cases recently set up in the Smithsonian Institution's First Ladies Hall.

On display are quite a few pieces of Washington china, a gold-rimmed white service plate and bowl used by the first president as banquet service, a cup and saucer from the state china with the names of the ten existing states in links around the border, and other items.

There are examples from the John Adams administration as well as pieces from the administrations of Madison, Monroe, John Quincy Adams, Jackson, Van Buren, Polk, Lincoln, Grant, Hayes, Garfield and Harrison.

The Lenox dinner and service plates used during the Wilson, Harding, Coolidge and Hoover administrations are also displayed, as well as the Lenox dinner plates used by Roosevelt and Truman, and a service plate, dinner plate and cup and saucer of the Truman and Eisenhower administrations.

PRESIDENTIAL SEAL

The Lenox, the first American-made china, introduced in the White House during the Wilson era, has the seal of the President near the wide gold banding of the outer rim of the dinner plate, while the service plate bears the seal in the center and has stars rimming the outer circle between two gold bands.

One set of china was bought by Theodore Roosevelt in 1902 after the first remodeling of the White House. Chosen from a large number of designs by Mrs. Roosevelt, it is of Wedgwood with simple colonial pattern traced in gold.

This design bears a replica of the Great Seal of the United States adopted in 1782. Mrs. Taft, in the following administration, only filled in for the broken pieces in this set for 100 covers.

The Wilsons ordered 1,700 pieces from the Lenox Pottery in Trenton, N. J. Franklin Roosevelt ordered another Lenox set and helped plan the design.

The Truman-Eisenhower Lenox bears a wide outer and a narrow inner band of gold with the presidential seal in the plate's center surrounded by stars on a white ground.

Daughters Plan Party on Feb. 4

Plans were made for a card party Feb. 4 when members of Daughters of Isabella, Our Lady of the Lakes Circle 479, met Wednesday evening in the Knights of Columbus Hall.

The benefit card party will be held in St. Michael Parish Hall at 8 p.m. Mrs. Nora Ashton is general chairman of the event and Mrs. John Stevenson is handling tickets.

Mrs. Louis Koprince is in charge of the reservations for a theater party scheduled April 22. The group will charter a bus to see Cinerama. Plans were also discussed for the annual initiation in March.

Rubber Floor Mat Keeps Car Cleaner

Whether you belong to a car pool or just take family jaunts, a rubber floor mat will keep the car cleaner. Held firmly in place by a fabric backing, the diamond-design top traps mud and crumbs. It's quick and easy to wipe clean with a sponge dipped into hot sudsy water. After every week or so of muddy or slushy weather, slip the mat out of the car into a tub of hot soap or detergent suds for a real cleansing job.

Choosing Perfume Isn't Matter of a Sniff

When starting to wear a new perfume, keep in mind that a few "sniffs" of the fragrance cannot tell you about the scent any more than a glance at the newest hat will tell how it will fit and look! Try new fragrances on several times—get to know them—as you do, you discover new depths and subtleties, as in a beautiful painting. Appreciating good perfume is truly an art.

Change Powder Puff as Hygiene Measure

Change the powder puff in your compact frequently both as a good grooming and good hygiene measure. This is especially necessary if you're unfortunate enough to be suffering from any skin condition at the moment. A dirty puff is a grand place for germs to breed. About once every 50 minutes on the average someone is burned to death in the United States.
