

Michigan Will Spend $34,500 on Moore in Prison if Convicted

Sex-slayer Howard Wayne Moore, if convicted, faces imprisonment for the rest of his life.

It will cost the public $2.93 a day at today's rates. If Moore, now 23, lives to the age of 65, it will cost about $34,500.

These figures come from the Southern Michigan State Prison at Jackson. Edward Colbert, administrative assistant to Warden William H. Bannan, said that's the average daily rate in the state's penal institutions.

It not only represents the cost to provide prisoners with food and clothing, but includes all prison expenses, such as guard salaries and maintenance of buildings.

Moore has reportedly indicated he will plead guilty to first-degree murder in the bludgeoning-death of his three-year-old Lake Orion neighbor, Martha Little.

The confessed killer is in Oakland County Jail without benefit of bond, awaiting examination on the charge Aug. 10.

Should he enter Jackson Prison as a first-degree murderer, Colbert said, there is only a slim chance he will ever walk out a free man.

It would require a commutation of his sentence by the governor. The action could come after 17-years imprisonment and at the recommendation of a parole board.

Very few lifers are freed, Colbert added.

Moore officially would be treated like any other prisoner, in spite of his heinous crime, Colbert said.

It is a general rule, however, that sex-slayers are hated by other criminals in prison. Throughout the long years, they are never accepted as friends.

WOULD BE PAID FOR PRISON WORK

Moore would be able to see his wife and family twice a month over the screened table in the visitor's room.

He would be allowed to work for nominal pay in one of the prison factories or in maintenance work. He would be allowed to spend up to $15 a month at the prison store.

His family could send him candy at Christmas, soft shoes to replace prison boots and an extra black sweater. He could buy cigarettes, magazines and newspapers. He could keep a Bible in his cell.

Although Michigan law states that first-degree murderers shall be confined for life in solitary confinement, in actuality, there is no such thing, Colbert said.

Solitary confinement is used only for disciplinary reasons, Colbert said, and for periods up to 30 days.

Stayed at Farm 2 Nights

Friend of Slain Woman Slated to Take Lie Test

A 62-year-old Springfield Township man who admitted he stayed two nights last week at the Florence Norton farm was to be given a lie detector test at the Redford State Police Post today. He is a possible suspect in the ax-murder of Mrs. Norton.

Frank Bird was questioned by Oakland County detectives yesterday after it was learned that he visited a neighbor's home to inquire about the slain woman.

"Bird said he had stayed at the Norton farm two nights last week but could not remember if it was Wednesday and Friday or Thursday and Friday," Oakland County Sheriff's detective Leo Hazen reported this morning.

"He told us he was an old friend of the family, and admitted Mrs. Norton had loaned him money often," Hazen added.

The body of Mrs. Norton was found in a well house near her Rattlesnake Lake road home Wednesday morning by a neighbor. An autopsy revealed she had been killed with several blows to the head with an ax or cleaver.

Bird was not held and appeared at the Oakland County Sheriff's Department voluntarily this morning to make the trip to Detroit for the lie test.

Bird is the first person to be given a lie detector test in the case.

SEARCH CONTINUES

County and state police detectives continue to seek further clues. A missing black billfold and a double-bitted ax are being sought in the continued search of the farm.

Subpoenas Out in Ecorse Probe

More Witnesses Due; Mentry Takes Stand for Eight Hours

DETROIT (INS)—Additional subpoenas to witnesses in the grand jury investigation of Ecorse graft were being delivered by state police today as the probe rested briefly before hearing more testimony on Monday.

The grand jury staff quizzed former Ecorse police and fire commissioner William H. Mentry for over eight hours yesterday in his first confession under oath of his part in the pay-offs to city officials from a gambling syndicate.

Mentry, who earlier admitted receiving $200 of the $4,000 per month he said gamblers passed out to 21 Ecorse officials and policemen, was immediately taken back to his state police hide-away after giving his testimony.

He went on the stand at 2:30 p.m. yesterday, took 45 minutes for dinner, a 15-minute coffee break at 10:30 p.m. and completed his testimony at 12:30 a.m. today.

Among those the probe will question when hearings are resumed will be downriver gambler Russell Trilick, who was the grand jury's first witness Wednesday. He also testified before the Ferguson grand jury in 1940 and the recent police graft grand jury conducted by Judge John P. O'Hara but has never been indicted.

Mentry accuses Trilick of being the pay-off man who dispensed the money to protect his gambling activities in Ecorse.

U.S. Sums Up Its Side of Case Against McKeon

Marine's Lawyer Due to Wrap It Up; Court May Decide Today

PARRIS ISLAND, S. C. (U)—The government summed up its case against S. Sgt. Matthew C. McKeon today with the charge that he was "just mad" when he led six recruits to death by drowning on a disciplinary march.

Maj. Charles B. Selver of Jacksonville, Ill., the prosecutor, made no effort to be dramatic. He spoke as one military man to another.

"Gentlemen," he said to the seven-man court-martial, "those are six Marines who will never take their place in the fleet Marine force, will never go to sea, will never be artillerymen, or tankers."

McKeon is charged with involuntary manslaughter, oppression of recruits and drinking on duty.

The charges grew out of the night march of Platoon 71 into the tidal waters of Ribbon Creek here April 8, McKeon said it was to "teach them discipline."

BERMAN NEXT

Defense attorney Emile Zola Berman of New York City, will sum up and the case probably will be presented to the court-martial for decision this afternoon.

Sevier scoffed at the idea McKeon was "teaching discipline."

Sevier made much of the fact McKeon led the column without additional orders or taking steps to secure the safety of the non-swimmers among the 74 members of the platoon.

"How can you teach discipline if you do not maintain discipline?" he asked.

"By his actions," Sevier continued, "he placed these men in a dangerous situation. Not a one of those men went into those waters voluntarily."

He reminded the court—six Marines and a Navy doctor—that McKeon had admitted ordering two field days—or area cleanups—and slapping three of the recruits.

McKeon, said Sevier, "was just mad. He wanted to punish them by getting them wet and cold."

Thirty-four minutes after he began his argument on the 19th day of the trial, Sevier sat down.

Whatever the outcome, the Marine Corps has never seen anything quite like this.

Never before has a commandant taken the witness stand in the defense of a sergeant as did Gen. Randolph M. Pate.

And never before has a retired hero and lieutenant general been called from retirement to testify in the defense of an enlisted man he had never seen.

But it happened when Lt. Gen. Lewis B. "Chestey" Puller was summoned yesterday on McKeon's behalf.

Puller, like Pate, said he did not consider the night march led by McKeon as oppression of recruits and added that drill instructors had a wide latitude instilling discipline in recruits.

Zoom — 1,900 Miles an Hour

Rocket Plane Hits 1,900 M.P.H., Smashes Record

NEW ORLEANS (U)—The Air Force has set a new unofficial world speed record for airplanes of 1,900 miles an hour, but the Defense Department won't for the present allow the fact to be confirmed officially.

Lt. Col. Frank K. Everest Jr., a 34-year-old West Virginian, flew the Bell X-3 rocket plane four times as fast as a bullet travels—and close to three times the speed of sound — just last week, July 25, over the southern California desert near Edwards Air Force Base.

This was 250 miles an hour faster than the 1,650 m.p.h. attained by Maj. Charles Yeager in a sister ship, the Bell X-1A, Dec. 12, 1953.

Everest was here attending the Air Force Assn. convention when the news of his achievement leaked out yesterday.

He declined to discuss the flight with reporters, on the grounds that Air Force security restrictions forbade comment.

The X-3 is a multimillion-dollar flying laboratory, fitted with a quarter ton of instruments to measure temperatures, fuel consumption, stresses and strains at extreme high speeds.

Powered by a Curtiss-Wright rocket engine, it is the first plane to be designed specifically to explore the "thermal barrier"—the problem of ever increasing air friction heat as supersonic planes fly faster and faster.

Union Accepts Crucible Terms

Steel Strike End Seen Today Should Big Three Sign Contracts

NEW YORK (U)—The United Steelworkers signed a contract last night with the Crucible Steel Co., a major concern. The signing stirred high hopes that a mass signing of contracts today would end the nationwide, 34-day-old steel strike.

After concluding the pact with Crucible, Union President David J. McDonald commented:

"Tomorrow will be a big day."

The current picture on steel's Big Three (United States, Bethlehem and Republic):

U.S. Steel, expected to sign yesterday "before another dawn," recessed talks until today — a union spokesman saying, "There just are not enough hours left today."

Bethlehem Steel, reporting much progress in negotiations, set a new session for 11 a.m. today.

There was no new report on progress of Republic negotiations.

Asks Meeting to Solve Friction Instead of Arms

British, French Agree to Aug. 16 Conference; England Mobilizes

FROM OUR WIRE SERVICES
WASHINGTON—Secretary of State John Foster Dulles will tell President Eisenhower today that war has been staved off in the Suez crisis—at least temporarily.

Dulles is scheduled to land in Washington today, flying directly from London where he spent two days engaged in some of the most intense and delicate diplomatic maneuvering he has ever experienced.

Administration officials and diplomats were saying that Dulles—with the policy of moderation he sold the British and French—has prevented what might have been the start of a third world war.

The secretary will tell the President that the U.S. succeeded in restraining Britain and France from using force now against Egypt in an effort to regain control of the strategic Suez waterway.

However Dulles will have to warn the President that the danger of war over the Suez has not disappeared — but merely dodged around a diplomatic corner.

In London Britain, mobilizing for a possible occupation of the Suez Canal, dispatched telegrams today ordering an estimated 20,000 army reservists to report for duty.

Meanwhile, Greece and New Zealand became the first countries to accept invitations to a 24-nation conference in London beginning Aug. 18 at which plans for placing the canal under international control will be discussed.

American, British and French foreign ministers hammered out plans for the conference yesterday and agreed to ask Russia and Egypt among others to meet in London Aug. 16 to establish an international authority over the canal which Egypt nationalized eight days ago.

Dope Witnesses Refuse to Talk

Reneged on Promises as Pre-Trial Hearings Resume in Pontiac

The pre-trial examination of 15 suspects in an alleged dope conspiracy re-opened today with the possibility that two defendants may be charged with more serious offenses.

Chief Assistant Oakland County Prosecutor George F. Taylor said warrants are ready to charge Eddie Mae Yates, 28, and Paul Balty, 27, with possession and sale of narcotics.

Taylor said the pair had originally agreed to testify against the suspects. But today Taylor said, the pair were unwilling to involve 13 others in the conspiracy.

Defense attorney Milton Henry called the threat of greater charges "coercion and intimidation," saying it was forcing the defendants to testify against themselves. Taylor argued the agreement had been made at the time the pair were originally charged in May.

ISSUES WARNING

"We are going to wipe out narcotics in this county, if it takes 10 years," Taylor said.

A prosecution witness, John E. (Sunny) Samples, 314 Wesson St., was to testify today in Municipal Court how he allegedly purchased $5 worth of dope at an upstairs apartment at 426½ S. Saginaw St. May 4.

The purchase led to the arrest of Miss Yates and Balty, and other suspects.

Taylor said he believed his presentation of evidence at the examination would be concluded today. The examination is being conducted before Municipal Judge Cecil McCallum.

Governor Asks for Local Traffic Safety Councils

By GEORGE T. TRUMBULL, JR.

EAST LANSING—Some 500 law enforcement officials and traffic safety minded citizens from more than 100 Michigan communities yesterday heard Gov. G. Mennen Williams "challenge" that every state community establish a traffic safety council to aid in lowering Michigan's highway death toll.

Gov. Williams addressed the annual Governor's Highway Safety Conference held in the Student Union Building on the Michigan State University campus.

"I hope by Labor Day we can get 50 per cent of all the communities with local traffic safety councils," Williams requested. "I am sure if we do this our record is going to be lower than it ever has been before."

He told the audience that Michigan ranked next to California for the most traffic deaths with 21.5 per 1,000 population. But he added, "at least we are moving in the right direction this year" with 54 fewer highway deaths for the first six months of 1956 compared to last year.

PONTIAC DELEGATION

Pontiac's delegation to the conference included Police Chief Herbert W. Straley, City Traffic Engineer Theodore M. Vanderstempel, Lt. Joseph Koren, head of the Police Traffic and Safety Bureau, Ralph T. Norvell and Clyde R. Haskill, representing the Chamber of Commerce.

The Chamber presently sponsors a Traffic Safety Committee and has initiated a proposal for an Oakland County safety committee.

Both Williams and Walter W. Belson, director of public relations for the American Trucking Assn., and keynote speaker, repeatedly stressed the need for adjusting the attitude of citizens toward highway safety.

"We must shake the complacency of people on this subject of taking needless and innocent lives," Belson emphasized to the luncheon gathering.

ROUND-TABLE SESSIONS

After lunch, those in attendance were split in discussion groups according to population of the communities they represented. These discussions resulted in the consensus that Michigan needed a uniform violation enforcement code and increased safety education for both young and old.

Other recommendations were for stricter driver licensing, mandatory state vehicle inspections, heavier fines for repeated drunk and reckless driving violators, replacement of justice courts with violations bureaus, and the formation of a state committee to control all licensing.

Gen. George C. Stewart (USA Ret.), general manager of the National Safety Council, questioned "Why we can't find the genius to drive people to go after the wholesale killer of the highway like we do with the dread polio disease?" He cited the case in Chicago where through July 25, people were crusading after 11 polio deaths out of 422 cases, but little, if anything was being said for done about 183 killed and 22,000 injured on Chicago streets because of traffic accidents.

Stewart seconded Gov. Williams' proposal for formation of local and county safety councils. "The big key to solving traffic problems is public support," he declared.

R. W. Richards, past president of the Michigan State Safety Conference spoke briefly on "The Citizen's Attitude Toward Law Enforcement." Detroit Recorder's Court Judge John D. Watts introduced the guests at the luncheon.

The Michigan Townships Assn. and Justices of the Peace Assn. offered a resolution aimed at curbing the highway "slaughter" by requiring compulsory automobile inspection and insurance and recognition for good driving records.

County Attorney Asks Dismissal

Davis Seeks Non-Suit in Court Argument of Rochester Incorporation

A motion to dismiss suit against the County Board of Supervisors by opponents of a proposal to incorporate Rochester village as a city was heard this morning by Judge Timothy C. Quinn of Tuscola County in Oakland County Circuit Court.

The suit, filed by a group of Rochester and Avon Township residents, asked the court to compel the Board to act on the first of three petitions for incorporation and shelve the others for two years.

Judge Quinn said this morning, "there isn't much doubt in my mind" that the two-year provision in Michigan law, which says the Board must not consider petitions concerning an area more than once in two years, applies to this case.

Charles A. Davis, acting corporation counsel for the County, had contended the provision applied only to annexation proceedings. At its April 10 meeting, the Board declared the first of the three petitions invalid. The third was filed as a substitute for the second.

All three had asked the Board to set an election date for a vote on the incorporation of Rochester and portions of Avon Township as a new city.

The motion to dismiss the case this morning was made by Davis at a hearing for the county to show cause why they should not be restrained from considering the recent petitions.

County 4-Hers Will Vie for Prizes, Ribbons

County 4-H boys and girls brushing their animals, pressing their newly made dresses and frosting their fancy cakes are competing for something more than the prestige that first prize would bring.

Winners will walk away with some $2400 in prize money, says John Lessiter, treasurer of the Oakland County 4-H Agricultural Association.

This prize money will be distributed over 68 different categories but will go no higher than $16 to an individual as set by state regulations.

The money is supplied jointly by the county and state 4-H Associations.

The premiums are given in addition to ribbons and trophies.

John Trocke, fair manager, says the most valuable single prize available will be the pig caught in the Pig Scramble scheduled Wednesday night.

The Curtis Candy Company farms are presenting $25 breeding awards to 4-H members with winning senior and junior dairy animals from their artificial breeding company.

Winners, Trocke said, can enter the Detroit Livestock Show or the State 4-H Show in Lansing.

Dulles Averts War Over Suez Seizure

The Egyptian government in Cairo said President Gamel Abdel Nasser may reply tonight. There were indications in the Egyptian capital that his answer would be "No."

Diplomatic sources here said the conference would be held whether Egypt and Russia stand or not.

And in Moscow, the Soviet government is expected to announce swift acceptance of an invitation to attend the London conference on the Suez Canal, providing Egypt also agrees to attend.

British ships, men and planes were being moved or readied, not only in Britain, but at important British bases overseas in the Mediterranean area.

The Ministry of Transport announced the requisitioning of several merchant ships, presumably to move supplies for troops going to the Mediterranean. Workers at Portsmouth were converting hangars on the aircraft carrier Hermes to accommodate more than 1,000 troops who were expected to sail Sunday.

On Cyprus, property was being requisitioned to accommodate additional thousands of troops who are expected to begin arriving soon.

CYPRUS ALERTED

Cyprus will be used as a natural jumping off point for the canal zone area should an emergency arise.

The thoroughness of the preparations and their resemblance to other little and major wars of the past convinced the public that the Eden government really means business in compelling to act militarily to protect its vital canal interests.

They also served to dissipate somewhat charges that mere calling of "another conference" unaccompanied by a declaration of intention to act militarily against Egypt if canal passage is denied British ships is dithering flabbergasted.

Here are the main outlines of an agreement for a Suez Canal control body reached by the United States, Britain and France:

The new organization would be called the International Suez Canal Authority. It would be a non-profit body designed to maintain the free and efficient use of the canal for all nations.

Its purposes would include: 1. Compensation of stockholders of the old private concern, which was nationalized last Thursday by President Gamel Abdel Nasser of Egypt.

2. Payment of royalties, presumably more than the 7 per cent now paid, to Egypt.

3. Undertaking of long-term projects needed for the upkeep and improvement of the canal. The organization would be set up by a conference to be held within the next few weeks—probably in London, though Rome and Geneva also have been suggested. Countries participating would be those whose shipping and foreign trade are the major users of the canal. Russia and Egypt would be among them.

Some observers thought an attempt would be made to save Egyptian pride by distinguishing between ownership and management of the canal—leaving the management in international hands and the prestige of ownership with the Egyptians.

but have not been able to find it," Det. Roy Hartwick stated this morning.

A single-bit ax was found inside the shed where Mrs. Norton's body was discovered, but no blood or fingerprints have been found on it. No report has been received by the Sheriff's Department on various samples of blood sent to Lansing for analysis. The samples were taken from various parts of the house and farm.

Detectives said today that a report that a neighbor may have seen the slain widow Monday night appeared to have been a mistake. The neighbor, Mrs. Lenora Wilson, now thinks it probably was Saturday or Sunday, according to county officers.

Questioning of the murder continued throughout the area today. Hazen said all residents of the sector where the farm is located are still under investigation because "just about everyone around there had borrowed money from Mrs. Norton."

Motorist Uses Car to Settle Argument

An Avon Township man is in Pontiac General Hospital with both legs broken after another driver reportedly knocked him down and drove over him twice in a traffic dispute.

Eugene G. Peake, 24, of 3185 Willett Rd., drove into a service station at Auburn avenue and Adams road, according to Oakland County Sheriff's deputies.

Edward L. Felkens, 40, of 110 Guanoque Rd., Auburn Heights, pulled in behind him and asked why he didn't signal. Peake said he had signalled. Felkens reportedly became angry and drove into him, knocking him down and then driving over him.

Felkens was arrested at his home, and is being held for investigation of leaving the scene of a personal injury accident. Peake's condition is "satisfactory."

McClellan-Ball, Lake's, Loan Firm Slate Moves

BIRMINGHAM — Among several buildings planning changes of locations are the McClellan-Ball store, the Birmingham Federal Savings and Loan Assn., and Lake's Jewelers.

McClellan-Ball will move next week, with an opening of their new store at 850 South Woodward Ave., planned for next Saturday. Their old store, at 515 Brownell, will be open through Tuesday, and will be foregone in favor of moving operations on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday.

Jonathan Ball, president of the firm, plans to expand his lawn supply business extensively, and later his pet supply offerings as well. The firm also specializes in gardening supplies and water softener sales.

Ball's gardening tips have been quoted in national magazines and far-flung local newspapers. An Oct. 15 date is goal of Birmingham Federal for its move into the former Kay Baum building from the Maple-Woodward corner.

Then after Lake's moves sometime thereafter into the remodeled corner section of the block — long building, the loan firm will expand into the jewelry location.

Proposed parking lot 4, which for the time seemed doomed because of funds going entirely into Lots HH and 3-A, now is back in the picture for city parking plans. It was termed financially possible by the finance director of the city this week, and commissioners did not reconsider the proposal to drop lot 4 plans.

"Dearborn Holiday," on Dearborn's industries and Greenfield Village, will be screened at the 2 p.m. Monday program at the library auditorium for later elementary and junior high boys and girls. It is last in the summer series.

Featured at Tuesday's final story hour at 2:30 p.m. at the library will be three films from a new film series, "Andy and the Lion," "Millions of Cats," and "Story About Ping." Mrs. Kathleen Burgess will leave for vacation after this week.

Hi-Twelve Club members plan a family picnic at 5:30 p.m. Monday at Springfield Park, with deliveries before 7 A.M.

U.S. Optimistic on Iceland Base

NATO Suggests Island Allow Troops to Stay Under '51 Agreement

WASHINGTON (INS)—The State Department was optimistic today that the U.S. can keep its airbase on Iceland, although the move that gave officials hope was the start of procedures to force American troops off the island.

The latest move was a recommendation by the North Atlantic Treaty Organization council that Iceland allow U.S. troops to stay on the island under terms of the 1951 U.S. Iceland defense agreement.

The statement from the council reportedly told Icelandic leaders that nothing in the international situation indicated U.S. troops could safely be removed.

State Department spokesman Lincoln White said the U.S. "expects the Icelandic government will give more careful consideration to the views of the NATO council."

Commenting on a statement made Monday by Iceland's foreign minister, White said the U.S. was glad Iceland had reaffirmed its intention of staying in the NATO alliance.

However, under treaty terms, Iceland had to ask for the council's recommendation before taking other steps to force the troops out of Iceland. The nation is under no obligation to accept the recommendation.

Now that the council report has been received, Iceland must wait six months before requesting the removal of the troops. Twelve months from now, if the request is made, the U.S. must have the troops off the island.

Confederate Vets to Be Honored by Special Medal

WASHINGTON (U)—Unless the law is changed or broadly interpreted, only Confederate veterans will get the medal being prepared for the last survivors of the Civil War.

Congress passed a law last month directing the Treasury to strike off "gold medals, with suitable emblems, devices and inscriptions" in honor of the remaining veterans of both North and South.

Albert Woolson, last survivor of the Union Forces, died yesterday. There are three Confederate veterans still alive.

Practicing Basket Shots

Tommy wants to be a basketball player, and he practices in his backyard. His father knocked the bottom out of a tall peach basket, and fastened it on the garage door.

Tommy jumps as high as he can, and drops the ball into the basket almost every time.

After coloring this picture with your crayons, paste it down on cardboard. Cut out the parts carefully, and cut the slits along the top of the basket and in the grass.

Attach the handle behind Tommy's feet at the point X. By cutting around his left hand you can slip the basketball in between his hands, but do not fasten it.

Hang the picture up by putting a string through the holes at the top. Slip the lower end of the handle into the hole in the grass. Then from the back you can jump Tommy up to the basket and put the ball through the opening.

Like OKs Floor of $5 on Postal Deposits

WASHINGTON (U)—The minimum deposit that can be made in postal savings will be $5 instead of $1 under a bill signed Thursday by President Eisenhower.

Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield had recommended raising the minimum as a means of cutting handling costs.

Small depositors still may buy U. S. savings stamps for lesser amounts until they accumulate the new $5 minimum.

He did not give any breakdown of nationalities of troops allegedly responsible, in a written answer to a parliamentary question from the Socialists.

Swim Rescue Fails, 5 Drown in Korea

PUSAN, Korea (U)—U.S. 8th Army spokesmen say four persons—a U.S. Air Force officer, an Army private and two Canadian nurses—presumably drowned yesterday in rough surf near Pusan.

Names of the victims were withheld. The announcement said high waves dashed the four off rocks and pulled them out to sea. Two bodies were washed ashore, authorities said, but they did not disclose which.

South Korean police reported a drowning incident at the same time and location, but the police account said five Americans were lost off the beach north of Pusan. Quoting persons who reportedly saw the incident, police gave this account:

A Korean boy was swept off a raft. A woman missionary went into the water after him. An Air Force colonel, an airman and a military policeman nearby saw the boy and woman in trouble and sought to rescue them. None returned.

Police said none of the bodies were recovered.

Twining Claims Services Friction Grows Under Ike

WASHINGTON (U)—Gen. Nathan F. Twining says that differences between the Army, Navy and Air Force have become "a little sharper" in the 3½ years of the Eisenhower administration.

"As it is now, the Navy and the Army are watching me like a hawk," the Air Force chief of staff told a Senate Armed Services subcommittee investigating airpower.

In his secret testimony given June 19 and made public last night, Twining also said the way to reduce the nation's huge defense budget is to put more reliance on atomic weapons.

"We cannot afford to keep in our armed forces conventional forces for the old type of warfare plus those for atomic warfare," Twining said. "We have got to make up our minds which way we are going to go."

"The nuclear weapon is here to stay and they are going to be used in war. We know that. So let's build our forces around these new weapons. In this way we could reduce our forces considerably."

The question of interservice rivalry arose when the subcommittee chairman, Sen. Symington (D-Mo.) commented that in 1952 since May, 1955.

Mrs. Roosevelt Backs Stevenson

Says He's as Devoted to New Deal-Fair Deal as Harriman

NEW YORK (U)—Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt says Adlai E. Stevenson is just as devoted to New Deal and "Fair Deal" principles as is Gov. Averell Harriman, his rival for the Democratic presidential nomination.

She also says she sees no difference of position between the two contenders on the civil rights issue.

Mrs. Roosevelt, a Stevenson supporter, had him as a dinner guest last night at her home at Hyde Park, N. Y. He drove there from New York City yesterday afternoon.

Harriman has been campaigning as a New Deal "Fair Deal" exponent, and has hit at the "moderation" views expressed by Stevenson.

Mrs. Roosevelt, reached by telephone at her Hyde Park home before last night's dinner, said: "Mr. Stevenson supports the basic principles underlying the general attitude of the Democratic party, and they are the general approach of my husband and Mr. Truman."

"As you know," she said, "I have supported Mr. Stevenson in 1952 and from the very beginning of his present campaign. Nothing that has been said has changed my opinion of him."

Hal Boyle Asks:

Can the Pelvis Be a Disguised Blessing?

NEW YORK (AP)—Curstone comments of a Pavement Plato:

There is a saying that times of great ordeal create great heroes. If this is true, Elvis Presley may be the unrecognized hero of America's greatest present need—someone to restore sex to its proper perspective.

Presley, the Caruso of the teen-age crowd, is a young former truckdriver, known by both his admirers and detractors as "Elvis the Pelvis." Many music critics say Presley's lusty caterwauling is away below par.

Elvis is perhaps even more renowned for his hip wiggles than his vocal cords, and these have brought him denunciations from ministers and parents, who say his wiggles are too "suggestive."

But Presley's charms, whatever they are, have brought him four Cadillacs and an annual income greater than that of the president of the United States, who, of course, can't even play a guitar.

Personally, I can't see this honest but rich young Tennessee minstrel as a national calamity. He may, indeed, turn out to be a national blessing.

And for a very simple reason. Elvis undoubtedly will give rise to a crop of imitators. And anybody who imitates his inspired writhings is bound to make sex look ridiculous.

This is badly needed, not only in America but in much of the rest of the world.

Civilization has gone off its rockers in the matter of a misplaced emphasis on sex.

We don't live in the atomic era.

We live in the "sexbomb" age. A "sexbomb," in the entertainment world, is a performer who gets by on animal allure rather than on artistic merit.

Such performers are enjoying a wide vogue at present among the noncritical public.

This is the public that thinks beauty is a quality that can be measured by a tape.

Until now women have dominated the "sexbomb" field.

public that believes a man can win the girl of his choice if only he uses the right kind of hair tonic, and get ahead in his job if he uses the right kind of underarm deodorant. It is the public that believes the way to a man's heart can be won by any girl if she uses the right kind of lipstick, the right dentrice or goes to the right charm school.

Catholic Priest Free From Red Shanghai Prison

SAN FRANCISCO (INS)—A Roman Catholic missionary, home after three years of degradation in Chinese Communist jails, believes that "the only way to defeat Communism is through Christianity."

Rev. John W. Clifford, 34-year-old Jesuit priest, arrived in San Francisco Wednesday three weeks after he was freed by the Communists.

He said he was imprisoned on charges of "spreading rumors" and of being "an imperialist."

Father Clifford told newsmen at the home of his brother, Attorney Harry Clifford:

"It was completely unjust. I was arrested simply because the Communists want to exterminate the Catholic Church. There is no other reason."

He said his Communist jailers did not actually inflict any physical punishment on him although they once forced him to stand at attention before an interrogator for a period of seven hours.

He said he spent most of the time in a Shanghai prison cell, sixteen feet by sixteen feet, in which eighteen other men were jammed.

He went for three months without bathing and there were little or no sanitary facilities. Father Clifford said:

"Our treatment was terrible, but whatever inconveniences we had to suffer were unimportant. Four priests died in the prison. Five others are still there."

He added:

"We must make the people of the world realize that the only way to defeat Communism is through Christianity."

The PRIMARY LEVERS are located on the lower right hand side of the machine. See illustration below. At this election you can vote for the candidates in ONE PARTY ONLY to which you turn the primary lever.

Rochester Retains Floor Code

Ask Financial, Disposal Aids

ROCHESTER—J. Dean Stanley, up to a 12 foot span, with 2x10 inch floor joists for over 12-foot spans. The Beverly Construction Co.'s request for extending the demarcation to 13 foot 2 inches were turned down by councilmen this week.

A proposal for handling the village's refuse in a sanitary fill project will be presented by John Beach in the near future. Operator of the Veterans' Disposal on Hamlin Road, he told councilmen Tuesday night that he does not receive a fee from Avon township, as they had believed.

Action is being withheld on the project, according to City Manager R. A. Stone, until it can be reviewed by the Water Resources Commission, and the Michigan State Health and Conservation departments.

Remaining intact is the city's building code specification for 2x8 inch floor joists on 16-inch centers.

Hannelore Schmidt Leaves for Germany

By REBA HEINTZELMAN
Milford Correspondent

MILFORD—After living in the United States for one year and graduating from Milford High School, Hannelore Schmidt is homeward bound to her native Germany. She lives in Neustadt-Weinstrasse, near the Rhine.

She resided as the third "adopted" daughter of the William Knapp family at 434 Hickory St. The Knapps have five other children, however, they have managed to accommodate two other foreign exchange girls during the last three years.

Sponsored by the Michigan Council of Churches, Hannelore has added much to Milford community life during her stay here. With a better than B average in school, she entered into Girl

Scouting, and was guest speaker at the Garden Club, Rotary and and PTA organizations.

Hannelore speaks English fluently, along with her German and French. She has majored in Journalism throughout her high school years and plans to continue the course in college this fall. She wrote for the local newspaper during her stay in Milford.

Before she left the Knapp family yesterday, Hannelore had just returned from an extended trip to the west coast, and felt that she had seen the most fabulous sights in the world. Her trip included Yellowstone National Park, the Grand Canyon, Washington, California and the Rocky Mountains.

Mr. and Mrs. Dale Olsen and Mr. and Mrs. Elwood May are in charge of refreshments and tickets.

'Student Exchange Creates Goodwill'

dents could have the opportunity that I have had," Hannelore said. "It certainly would create a better understanding between foreign countries and there would be more feeling of good will," she added.

Bob Considine Says:

Ike Meets Press, Newsmen Fire Big Guns

WASHINGTON (INS)—Ran into in that portion of it which began years of serving as a political he is almost certain to receive one the fat of government bureaucracy when President Truman brought football. He will address the GOP of the top ovations of his life. His have won wide praise. But the him back into public service after convention at San Francisco, where recommendations for rendering greatest kick he has had in years

Governor, the story around Washington is that you were selected by powers deep within the administration to head up the Stop-Nixon drive but they ran out on you when the opening salvo missed fire," I said.

The towering disarmament chief thought it over in his serious way. "No," he said disarmingly, shaking his head. "I did this on my own, knowing the road would be rough. Nobody has backed out on me. Nobody was in with me in the first place. I didn't realize it would be as rough as it has been, but there's the consolation of knowing that the convention will now be an open one."

The President is as popular with White House correspondents as ever. He drew 311 at his first news conference since the intestinal operation, the same number he attracted in his first appearance after his heart attack of last September.

The questions were sharper, however, and the President plainly showed his impatience and even anger at the tone of some of them. But he didn't even blink when a reporter said his Gettysburg neighbors are wondering if he'll live through the next four years. The President replied calmly the GOP thought he would, and the rest was up to the voters. It was as rugged a question as was ever raised at a White House press conference, but it bespoke the curiosity of millions of Americans, and the President answered it with all the candor at his command.

If there were reporters there who hoped the President would lambast Stassen and say "I want Nixon and Nixon only" they came away empty-handed. Nixon's candidacy certainly will be challenged. The President's attitude toward his 1956 running mate is that it would be presumptuous of him to choose one here and now. "... when I don't even know whether they'll nominate me."

There will be no public account of what took place during the series of tests of hydrogen and other atomic weapons at the Eniwetok Proving Ground, a man at the Atomic Energy Commission said today.

He said: "We're just sticking by what you fellows saw and wrote about when you were there, and guarded statements that the defensive aspects of nuclear weapons were tested as well as certain controls on radioactive fallout. That's all. The rest depends on what newspaper you read."

Then he paused and laughed. "Maybe I should add that we're not winning any prizes for candor."

Gen. Randolph M. Pate, commandant of the Marines, raised eyebrows here when he testified at the McKeon trial at Parris Island that his punishment for the sergeant who led six trainees to death in a swamp would have been to deprive him of a stripe.

That would leave McKeon 18 dead boots away from a stripeless arm, if this is to be the rate of exchange.

Herbert Hoover, who used to live around these parts, has had many thrills in his life, especially came the other day when he learned the name of the 1956 winner of the Hoover medal, one of the engineering profession's most distinguished honors. The winner—Undersecretary of State Herbert Hoover Jr.

tinguished son visited his father in a California redwoods camp where some of us happened to be seated at the feet of the former president. Hoover stood up as his son appeared in the flickering light of the open fire. They embraced and brushed the others cheek with an unabashed kiss.
