Elopement Trip to Ohio Ends in Tragedy; Five Area Persons Killed in Crash Today

Oakland County Tax Equalization Revised by State

Townships' Figure Cut, Cities' Total Is Raised by $22,973,447

The State Tax Commission at a meeting here today presented a report changing Oakland County's current tax equalization totals in individual units. The action was met with a storm of protests but is expected to stand.

The total townships' equalization was reduced by $22,973,447 from the county's original total and the cities' total raised by the same amount.

The findings will result in less available money in many units than planned for 1956 operations.

Pontiac apparently will be affected only slightly.

The state revision stemmed from an appeal by Waterford Township which claimed it had been slated to pay an unduly high percentage of 1956 taxes.

Waterford's total valuation was reduced by $3,397,417, meaning the township will pay less of the county's tax bill, as it had hoped.

Pontiac's total valuation was raised $4,135,503 over the original $301,465,096.

This will mean Pontiac will probably have to raise "a few thousand dollars more in county taxes than first planned," said City Assessor W. Raymond Ramson.

County tax bills have not yet been sent out.

The Pontiac school tax bills have been sent out and are about 80 per cent collected, Ramson expained.

If the county tax Allocation Board is allowed to meet and revise school and county tax

Campbell Wins Collegiate Duel in Amateur Play

RICHMOND, Va. (AP)—Joe Campbell of Anderson, Ind., the Intercollegiate Golf Champion, breezed to a 5 and 4 victory over another college kid, Jake Howard Jr., of Augusta, Ga., to enter the quarter finals of the National Amateur Championship today.

The 19-year-old Hoosier towhead, leading five up at the turn, stretched it to six at the tenth, then saw Howard, also 19, win a couple to keep the match alive until the 14th.

While Campbell was winning easily, the other top favorites were having their troubles on the trying James River Course of the Country Club of Virginia.

British Amateur Champion Joe Conrad of San Antonio, Tex., got off to a bad start, losing three of the first six holes to Charles Kunkle, a Johnstown, Pa., club golfer, and trailed three down at the turn.

Three other matches reached the turn all even with unspectacular golf. They were three-time Walker Cup team member Jimmy McHale vs. Bill Hyndman, another Philadelphian, Hillman Robbins, 1954 Inter-Collegiate Champion from Memphis vs. John Miles of Mamaronekc, N. J., and Edwin Hopkins Jr., of Abilene, Tex., vs. George P. Swift Jr., of Columbus, Ga.

Partly Cloudy, Rain Forecast for Friday

The blue skies were expected to continue through today and tonight, but the weatherman could offer only a "partly-cloudy" prediction for tomorrow.

The low temperature tonight was set at 53-57 climbing to near 80 tomorrow. Scattered showers were likely tomorrow.

The temperature in downtown Pontiac climbed from 60 at 8 a.m. to 83 at 2 p.m.

Brucker, Wilson Refute Reports of Military Cuts

DETROIT (INS) — Secretary of the Army Wilbur M. Brucker said yesterday circulated reports that army manpower would be cut to 1,027,000 men by Jan. 1, 1956 are untrue.

After a meeting with Defense Secretary Charles E. Wilson, vacationing on his farm north of Detroit, Brucker said:

"I've seen in the newspapers many times that the manpower strength of the Army would be reduced to 1,027,000 as of Jan. 1, 1956. We took that up definitely with Wilson and we agreed to announce there is no foundation for that story whatsoever.

"The goal has been to attain the 1,027,000 figure by July 1, 1956, the end of the fiscal year. What we discussed doesn't affect combat regiments or military strength but was related to economies in the so-called housekeeping areas."

Present army strength is 1,120,000 men.

Offer for Tigers Expected Today

Spike Briggs, Sisters Meet to Decide Future Control of Club

DETROIT (AP)—Walter O. (Spike) Briggs Jr. and his four sisters meet today in family parley where Spike reportedly will attempt to buy out the sisters' 80 per cent interest in the Detroit Tigers Baseball Club and Briggs Stadium.

* * *

Briggs and four partners are expected to offer between 2½ and 3 million dollars for a four-fifths interest in the club and stadium.

Briggs has been president of the Detroit Baseball Co. since the death of his father in 1952. The elder Briggs left all five of the 10,000 shares of stock in the club and stadium to the control of the Briggs Commercial and Development Co., a holding company which now is being dissolved.

Briggs' sisters are Mrs. W. Dean Robinson, Mrs. Philip A. Hart, Mrs. Everell E. Fisher and Mrs. Charles T. Fisher Jr.

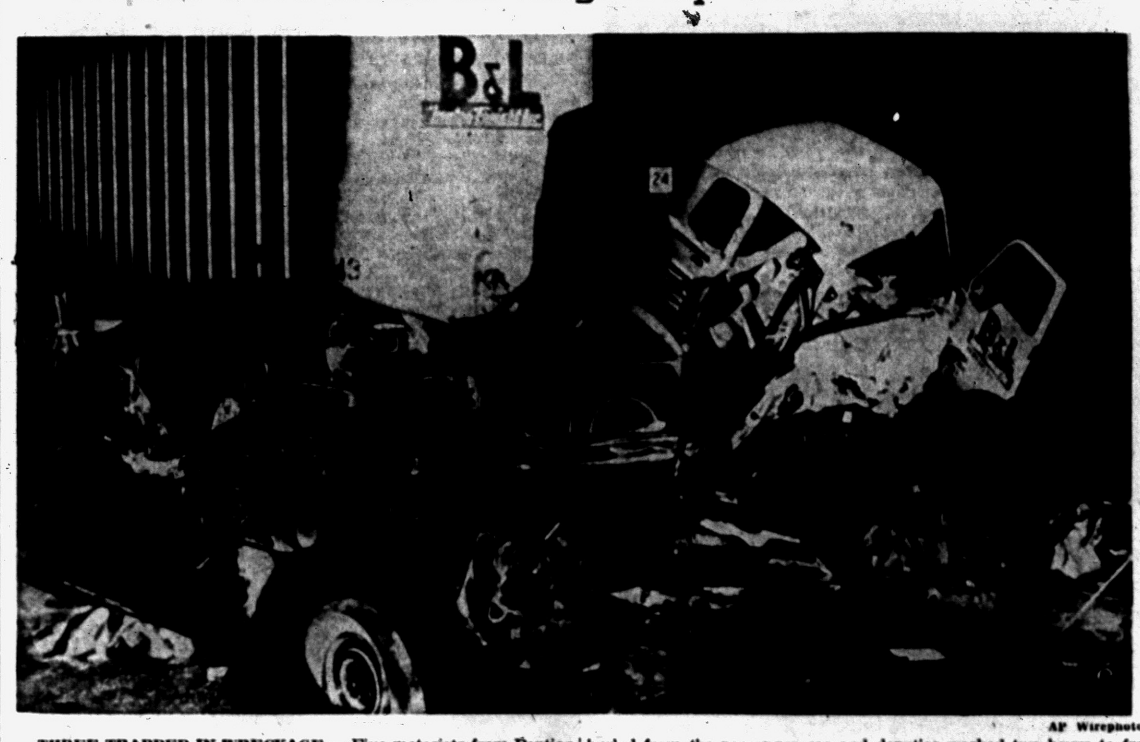

Associated with him are Oscar L. Olson, a director of the Detroit Lions Football team; Charlie Gehringer, longtime Tiger star; Donald Mitchell, of Detroit and Owosso; and Harry Sisson, secretary-business manager of the baseball company.

James Norris, owner of several of the country's largest sports arenas, including Madison Square Garden, Chicago Stadium and Detroit's Olympia, is also bidding for the club.

Seek to Prevent River Pollution

Seepage of Unknown Solution Into Sewage Causes Alarm

Health department officials here were watching the Clinton River today in an attempt to prevent possible pollution as the result of seepage of an unidentified solution into Pontiac's sewage system.

Water works officials in Utica this morning said that no sign of pollution has appeared. Samples of water from the river were being taken and examined every 15 minutes as a precautionary measure.

The Pontiac Fire Department since last night has been pumping three tanks at the sewage plant on East boulevard to prevent the solution from spreading into the river.

What Oklahomans Think

State Turnpike Provides Benefits Without Taxation

In view of the great interest in the Michigan turnpike the following editorial is reprinted from the Oklahoma City Times and tells of the success of the Turner Turnpike in that state:

The Turner Turnpike now has been in service two years. It has been a success, for the motoring public and for its financial backers, from the very start. Month by month for each of the 24 months of its operation, the turnpike has shown consistent gains in the number of vehicles accommodated and in the revenue produced. Funds are being accumulated, to pay off the bonds on or before the due dates, much faster than the toll road's planners anticipated.

And still there are numerous doubters as to the value and feasibility of toll roads. Every claim made by opponents of the Turner Turnpike has fallen flat in light of actual experience.

"The road has proved its worth in service to motorists, in safety and in its own ability to pay its own way without any assistance from state tax revenue. But the

Reds Announce Bulganin Ailing

Soviet Premier Unable to Receive 2 Visitors From Finland

MOSCOW (AP)—Tass News Agency announced today Premier Nikolai Bulganin is ill.

Soviet President Klementi Voroshilov told a Finnish delegation headed by President Juho K. Passikivi and Prime Minister Urho Kekkonen that the 60-year-old Soviet Premier was too ill to receive them.

The Tass announcement did not say what was wrong with Bulganin and the Finns said they had no information other than that Bulganin was too ill to go to the airport and too ill to receive Kekkonen, who had been scheduled to pay a courtesy call at the Kremlin.

Driver, Four Passengers Die as Auto Hits Truck

Headon Collision Wrecks Automobile Near Toledo City Limits

Five young Pontiac area persons, members of an elopement party, were killed early this morning in a car-truck crash at the junction of U. S. 24 and 25, near Toledo.

The dead are:

His brother, Richard L., 27, of 5601 Kenneth St., Flint.

Hilda Henderson, 17, of 2321 Georgeland St., Drayton Plains.

The crash occurred at 3:20 one mile north of Toledo.

A witness, Burton D. Mobley, 54, of Detroit, said the passenger car was traveling south on U. S. 25, failed to halt at a stop sign and smashed headon into a northbound truck.

The truck driver, Guy Bullock, 44, of Kirkersville, Ohio, suffered only a slight knee injury and was treated at St. Vincent Hospital in Toledo. He was ordered held as a material witness by Lucas County Coroner Paul Hohly.

The car was demolished, while the cab of the truck and trailer was badly damaged.

Mobley said the truck had just passed under a Toledo Terminal railroad viaduct and was moving up a small hill with its left turn signal flashing when the passenger car sped past the stop sign and crashed into it.

"There was a horrible rending crash," he said, "and I saw two bodies fly through the air. I stood up on my brakes and stopped, praying I wouldn't be hit too."

Investigating officers said that Nancy MacKay and Bennett were riding in the front seat. Lawrence Millstead and Hilda Henderson, riding in the back seat, were the ones that were thrown clear.

Relatives said the young people had left their homes last night without the knowledge of their parents. It was believed Lawrence Millstead and Miss Henderson may have planned to be married in Ohio.

Mrs. Elsie Millstead, widowed mother of the two brothers, said she had not known Lawrence was planning any trip yesterday. "He and Hilda Henderson were engaged, but, as far as I know, they had not set a date for the wedding," she added. "They probably decided impulsively last night to go to Ohio to get married and took the others with them for witnesses."

Both girls were students at Waterford Township High School,

Jaycees Present Check to City

Give $2,000 to Buy Equipment for New Park Near Malkim School

A check for $2,000 was presented to the City Parks and Recreation Dept. by the Pontiac Junior Chamber of Commerce at the Jaycees' season kickoff dinner at the Hotel Waldron last night.

The money will be used for equipment at the new Jaycee Park near the Malkim School.

Keynote speaker at the affair, which honored past presidents, was Eugene Pheiffer, state Jaycee president.

Pheiffer declared that leadership training gained through Jaycee endeavors is a valuable asset in the business world. "If you can work with volunteers in Jaycee, you can work with people in business," he said.

Pheiffer, 35, is the executive vice president of the Saginaw Savings and Loan Assn.

Jaycee members will donate time as well as money to the park named in their honor. Saturday, a number of them will clear the park groves of underbrush and rocks to groom it for use as a picnic ground next year.

Triplets Come in Pairs for State Families

COLDWATER (AP) — Mr. and Mrs. Charles Rathburn, parents of a 10-month-old son, hoped their next child would be a girl.

They got their wish . . . in triplicate.

Mrs. Rathburn, 23, gave birth to triplet girls yesterday. All were reported doing well.

DETROIT (AP)—Willard L. King, 28-year-old carpenter, is working on an unplanned addition to his suburban Roseville home to house triplets born to his wife yesterday.

"We never expected three," the astounded King said.

His wife, Lillian, gave birth to two girls and a boy, all reported "doing fine." The babies weighed from 3 pounds 9 ounces to 3 pounds 12 ounces.

The Kings also have an 18-month-old son, being cared for by Mrs. King's mother, Mrs. Theresa Eizak. Grandma said: "Triplets, hm-m-m, lots of work. You bet."

Recovered Cardiac Victim Sees World in New Light

("Pat" Morin, special correspondent for the Associated Press, is back at work after a recent bout with a heart attack. With The Cardiac Club having a membership of 10 million, he figured they, and others, might be interested in hearing about his rough moments and then the golden day when he went to work again. He has been foreign correspondent, in charge of the Washington Bureau, and became a general executive in 1949.)

By RELMAN MORIN
AP Special Correspondent

This is the first story I have written in more than four months. It is about an experience which perhaps 500,000 Americans will have in a year—a heart attack.

The majority of them will survive it. Afterward, they will look at the world with a new point of view.

MORIN

A doctor would tell you that my attack followed a familiar pattern . . . a small but persistent pain in the chest awakens you at dawn . . . presently, it is coming in waves, each notably sharper than the last . . . then, like something liquid, it seems to spill over and flow down your left arm, collecting in a pool at the elbow . . . finally, over into the right arm. . . practically classical symptoms of my kind of attack.

Meanwhile, you are doing all the wrong things . . . chiefly, pacing the floor and chain smoking.

Frightened? Yes, but—this is hard to explain—not as much as you might expect. In the worst moments, something seems to be reassuring you. It is an indescribable feeling, and this will not be the last time it comes along.

They give you a massive sedative and tell you to take it easy . . . an ambulance is on the way . . . about an hour has elapsed since you woke up with the arrow in your chest.

So begins an extraordinary interesting experience. Some of it is untranslatable, simply because there are no words. All of it is unbelievably vivid.

HOW MANY LIVE?

A few minutes after I entered the hospital, a doctor came into the room. I immediately asked him, "How many heart cases live to go home from here?" "About 90 per cent," he said.

* * *

It sounded like the nonsense you give to sick people. I said so with real irritation. "No," he said, "that's the truth. We discharge about 90 per cent." Like most laymen, I had always assumed that a heart attack was usually fatal, that only the lucky few survive. Statistics for the nation indicate that over 80 per cent live through it.

Up to that moment, I had been thinking of my heart as a live hand grenade in my chest. I went to sleep feeling pretty good. The rough moments were still to come.

A few days later—and for no apparent reason—a terrible feeling of depression swept over me. It was the first of many times. The emotional aftermath of a heart attack is terrific. In those moments, you fall into the blackest depths of despair, a nameless, brooding dread that is beyond description. You wonder if you will ever again write anything that doesn't sound as though it came out of a can. You wonder if you have any useful or productive days left. You feel utterly lost.

These were the times when—as in the original attack—a feeling of reassurance would come from somewhere. Something gives you a hand. It happened over and over again.

That was the dark side of the picture. The other side is more important.

There were letters from friends who hadn't written in years. They were invaluable even though I couldn't answer them.

And I had some laughs . . . A lady, listening to the description of the waves of pain, said, "Why, that's just like childbirth!" . . . Also, I read a pamphlet claiming that people who have heart attacks are the sensitive, intelligent, perfectionist types, always driving for superiority . . . it almost made me wish for another . . . almost.

There was the absurd, totally ridiculous pleasure in seeing a bright, yellow toy in a store window the first time I took a walk . . . the whole world seemed to have a brand new coat of paint.

Finally, and best of all, you come back to your desk. This, for a new member of the "cardiac club," is the most important thing that can happen. Now, more than ever, you want to feel useful.

* * *

There are statistics indicating that the "club" has a membership of 10 million, and estimates that 500,000 persons have heart attacks each year. From personal experience I know most of them are intensely interested in anything related to this subject. (I could hardly wait for the newspapers every day after Sen. Lynden Johnson was stricken.)

Polio Vaccine Arrives in State

Health Officials Report Sufficient Shipment to Vaccinate 5-9 Group

LANSING (AP) — The State Health Department reported today it has received enough Salk polio vaccine to vaccinate about half of the five-through-nine age group "soon."

Dr. Albert E. Heustis, commissioner, said the department had received two shipments of vaccine from private laboratories which would vaccinate 225,489 children. There are about 500,000 children in the age group, the second highest priority group.

Dr. Heustis said the department also has sufficient vaccine to clean up the vaccination of first and second graders under the school program begun last spring and carried out intermittently during the summer. He said there was about 20 per cent of this group, the first priority group, still untreated.

The commissioner said the department must set up machinery to satisfy the Federal Food and Drug Administration that the vaccine was being used properly. Then the shipments will go to the counties on the basis of their ratios of the priority group.

He said the vaccine for the five-to-nine age group will be available either in public clinics or in private physicians' offices. The vaccine is being provided free under Federal and state grants.

The wreckage of the two vehicles blocked the center of the intersection and backed up traffic on heavily traveled U.S. 24 almost as far as the Michigan-Ohio line, three miles to the north. Two of the victims were hurled from the car by the impact. Sheriffs' officers worked almost two hours to extricate bodies of the other three from the wreckage.

The Henderson girl was living with her sister, Mrs. Robert DeBarr, in Drayton Plains.

Mrs. DeBarr said she had called Waterford Township Police last night when she became worried after Hilda failed to attend school or return home.

She stated that the younger Millstead had called last night asking if he could take Hilda to Flint to visit a friend. Mrs. DeBarr said she had demanded that he bring her sister home at least by 8 p.m.

"I had no idea that she was planning to marry this boy, although I knew they were going together," she related.

Mrs. DeBarr, who was working in a Birmingham beauty parlor when she received word of her younger sister's death, had taken care of Hilda since the death of their mother two years ago. Mrs. DeBarr's husband is employed in Flint as a construction worker.

Mrs. Harlan Pierce, mother of Nancy MacKay, gave the same account as the others. She said she had no idea where her daughter was and had asked her husband, an Army sergeant assigned in Pontiac, to ask police to begin a search for her.

Mrs. Pierce stated that her daughter had talked of a possible marriage between Millstead and Hilda but had not taken it seriously.

Both Mrs. Pierce and Mrs. DeBarr stated that they had never heard the girls speak of a formal engagement between Hilda and Lawrence Millstead.

Mrs. Bufford Bennett, mother of William Bennett, owner of the death car, said her son had informed her last night that he was planning to spend the night with a friend. He gave no indication that he was planning a trip, she told newsmen.

She stated that the car belonged to her son but he didn't drive because he had no driver's license. He was slated to get it today, she said.

Mrs. Bennett has five other sons, three living at home and two serving in the Air Force.

State Turnpike Provides Benefits

lineup of people who raise their voices against super-highways, built and paid for by private capital instead of tax money, seems almost as long as it ever was.

"They're going toll road crazy," is the cry sent up in one section of the state. "If the state builds more toll roads the main 'free' roads and farm-to-market roads will be forgotten," is the wail from another section.

Misguided and politically-hungry individuals continue to poison the minds of the citizens with the ridiculous claim that every toll road project takes road money from the statewide and county networks of roads, and ever so many seem to believe it. Even if the state should build 1,000 miles of additional toll roads within the next 10 years it wouldn't take one dollar away from any "free" road project.

ALL PRIVATE MONEY

Toll roads are planned, engineered, constructed, patroled, maintained and operated on funds provided by private enterprise. No part of any county's highway user's tax money is used for toll roads.

There is one bright spot in the public's thinking on turnpikes. Since the latest toll road proposal, to build a super road from the Turner turnpike south to the Red river, was placed on the table for consideration, the opposition has not been so much against toll roads themselves as against the proposed routing.

Every town and city in the eastern half of Oklahoma wants to be served by the new north-south road. That part of it is encouraging.

Eventually all of them may get their wish, if each new tollpike makes as good record of service and financial profit as the Turner turnpike has done. And toll road bond buyers usually are certain investments of that type will pay off before they put up the money in the first place.

Bonn Ministers Hear Adenauer

U.S. Anxious to Learn Details of Moscow Visit From All Sources

BONN (INS) — West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer reported to his coalition cabinet today on his Moscow mission which aroused new Socialist complaints and some uneasiness among the Western Allied nations.

Reliable informants said that the U. S. State Department through Ambassador James Conant urgently requested "the fastest and fullest" briefing on the Moscow agreement to restore Soviet-West German diplomatic relations.

Conant made the request to Adenauer at the airport yesterday in an effort to get off a report to Washington even ahead of the personal report by U.S. Ambassador to Russia Charles Bohlen.

Bohlen is flying home to report to the President this weekend.

Adenauer, who will report later today to parliamentary party leaders, is expected to hold another news conference tomorrow.

State Board Revises Tax Equalization Here

rates in each township and city, the Pontiac Board of Education theoretically could ask for a new rate, giving them more money than now budgeted.

But, county Supt. of Schools Dr. William J. Emerson, a tax allocation board member, said State Tax Commission officials stated before the meeting today that the county tax board would not be allowed to revise rates.

County Corporation Counsel Harry J. Merritt will check the law and see if the county board has the power to revise rates.

If no meeting is allowable, the Pontiac schools could not ask for a revised rate to bring more money, but officials doubt that they would want to, anyway.

Several supervisors rose to protest the state figures. Birmingham Supervisor Elmer Haack said he was "surprised and disgusted at the state's findings."

He said the county had spent several thousand dollars in computing its figures which he termed closely in line with current property values.

Retail Merchants Label Late Friday for Bargains

BIRMINGHAM — In a campaign to encourage more Friday night shopping in Birmingham, the Retail Merchants' Committee of the Chamber of Commerce today announced plans for turning the 6 to 9 p.m. periods into a bargain-hunter's delight.

Foster Toothacker, chairman of the committee, said that beginning tomorrow night, 24 stores will put a specially reduced, three-hour-only price tag on some brand name item, which will be upped to its usual sum the next day.

To aid shoppers, a local boy's group will distribute lists of the bargain specials to those in the downtown area from 7 to 8 p.m. each Friday. A courtesy parking nickel will be taped to each sheet for the bargain seekers. National Garages, Inc., will handle overflow parking at no charge.

TO EXTEND CAMPAIGN

Toothacker said the campaign would continue through November, with participating shops offering a different piece of merchandise each Friday night.

He added, "All Birmingham merchants have been invited to join the program. It is not necessary that they be members of the Chamber of Commerce."

Three personnel changes were announced today by Assistant City Manager Dana Whitman Jr. First is the resignation of William R. Lebold, superintendent of forestry and parks, who leaves today from the job he assumed five years ago.

Lebold, who lives at 1710 Webster Ave., has joined a Pontiac realty company. He holds a master's degree in forestry and under his leadership, the city's parks have been developed and a Dutch Elm disease control program instituted.

Succeeding Lebold is Charles W. Gale, former city forester for Ferndale. In addition to operating a private tree service, specializing in the municipal field, Gale has developed lectures and slides to present Boy and Girl Scout troops, garden clubs and other organizations.

GALE

A Michigan State University graduate, he is the holder of a B. S. degree in municipal forestry and park administration.

Last, added duties have been given Springdale Park Superintendent Robert Faureck, who will be responsible for operation of the Eton Park ice skating rink when it is completed this winter.

Gerald Stamp, 18, 1395 Holland Ave., was released by police yesterday after payment of a $100 fine. He was picked up by police Tuesday after he escaped Monday, following sentence on a reckless driving charge.

Two runaway girls were apprehended yesterday after a Pontiac theater manager notified Pontiac police they had spent most of the day there.

Patricia Kannell, 16, was turned over to her parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Kannell, 1172 Ruffner. Patricia Ann Brady, 14, daughter of Mrs. Betty Brady, 1539 Humphrey, was turned over to Oakland County juvenile authorities.

Fred C. Schlorff

Service for Fred C. Schlorff, 56, of 15656 Buckingham, will be at 2 p.m. Friday at St. Matthew and St. Peter Evangelical Reform Church, Detroit. His body will lie in state there from 11 a.m. tomorrow until the time of service. Mr. Schlorff died suddenly Tuesday.

Administrator Lauds Higgins' Pike Work

George N. Higgins' work since taking over as chairman of the Michigan Turnpike Authority was praised yesterday by MTA administrative head Otis Hardy in an address before the Pontiac Lions' Club in Hotel Waldron.

The Ferndale man's efforts toward resolving the freeway-toll road controversy should result in clarifying the state's road aims, Hardy stated.

He said 10 states already have 1,500 miles of toll highways which cost 1.6 billion dollars and that 750 more miles are under construction.

Michigan's proposed 113-mile, Rockwood to Saginaw toll road is part of 3,000 miles of such highways now being considered nationally, Hardy stated.

Murder Examination Starts Here Today

The first-degree murder examination of Ray Goff, accused killer of a pretty Flint mother, began today in the Probate Court chambers before Springfield Township Justice Emmett J. Leib.

Goff, 32, a Flint factory worker, is accused of pumping four bullets from a pistol into Mrs. Rita M. Cummings, 27, also of Flint, Aug. 28 on a lonely country road near Holly.

At the time, according to Oakland County Sheriff's officers, Goff shot himself in the head with the gun in an unsuccessful attempt at suicide. He recovered at Pontiac General Hospital and is being held without bond at Oakland County Jail.

Find Body of Lad Killed in Boat Crash

LELAND (AP)—Volunteers towing a 400-foot sturgeon net from two boats recovered the body of a 13-year-old boy from the 125-foot depths of Lake Leelanau yesterday.

The boy, Robert Deo of Leland, died Monday night in the collision of three inboard runabouts speeding across the lake in a heavy fog.

A deep gash was on the boy's forehead and Sheriff Robert H. White said an examination would be made to determine whether he was drowned or was killed in the crash.

The three boats were racing on the lake when one, carrying no running lights, was hit by a second and the third plowed intot the wreckage. A boat livery operator rescued Deo's companions.

The world's largest movable piece of metallic copper was discovered in Ontonagan County, Michigan in 1667.

Torture Instructors Fume at New Air Force Attitude

RENO, Nev. (INS) — The Air Force's sudden decision to reconsider "torture" training methods encountered some resistance today among veteran instructors of the escape and survival course.

* * *

Lt. Col. Hans Marechal, 200-pound ex-infantryman who has supervised the training since its inception five years ago, said the course will be "less realistic" if only instructors are used to demonstrate Communist brainwashing techniques.

Col. B. E. McKenzie, commander at Stead Air Force Base where the course is given near Reno, told reporters last night he is "seriously considering" a ban on the use of student air crewmen in such demonstrations.

The demonstrations include admittedly painful and exhausting exercises, harmless but frightening electric shocks administered with telephone batteries, and being place in the "coffin," the "black hole" or the "sweat box."

29,000 TOOK COURSE

Insults to race, religion and family are also hurled during shouted interrogations in duplicating procedures used either by the Communists in Korea or the Germans in World War II in attempts to get information from prisoners of war.

The contention of the instructors is that the lessons a POW needs to know can be adequately brought home only under realistic conditions of stress, discomfort, some pain and exhaustion. They point out that 29,000 fliers have taken the course without a serious injury.

McKenzie, however, argues that only 5 per cent of the student fliers now undergo interrogation "tortures"—the rest are observers in this phase—and that adequate instruction may be possible if all are observers. The commander said he will reach a decision soon.

Three ex-POWs who had been through the course were brought in for questioning, and all agreed that the training was valuable. McKenzie and Marechal said none of the 29,000 who had taken the course has ever entered an official complaint about his treatment.

SURVIVAL TAUGHT

The main part of the course teaches survival in all kinds of weather, wilderness and hostile conditions, and how to escape if captured.

Crews are turned loose in mountain and desert country for ten days, with only traps and snares with which to obtain food and parachutes from which to make shelter.

The survival experience, according to the instructors, is the phase that really separates the men from the boys. Less than 1 per cent fail to get at least a passing mark in the course.

Wasp Spoils Festivities

COLDWATER, Mich. (AP)—Randy Spenger screamed at his first birthday party. He ignored his guests and refused goodies. His mother, Mrs. Ned Spenger, removed Randy's diaper. Out flew a big wasp which had stung him three times.

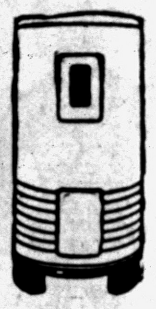

GROWS IN TREES — Using a yardstick, Connie Stark checks the growth of a three-pod oyster mushroom growing 18 feet up a maple tree in Kansas City, Mo. Twelve-year-old Connie says the mushroom measures 16 inches across.

Light Irks Moviegoer

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M. (AP) — At the outdoor drive-in movie the door of the snack bar kept swinging open in the wind. A big light bulb sent a beam smack into the eyes of the moviegoers every time. Finally one man opened his car door, strode to the snack bar, banged open the door, unscrewed the bulb and smashed it on the floor.

Radar Proves Its Value by Cutting Traffic Toll

Use of radar to control automobile speed is spreading rapidly in the United States.

Before the holiday it was estimated that more than 1,000 of these devices would be used in the campaign against speeders over the Labor Day weekend. That represented a 92 per cent increase from the 568 sets in use as of December 1954.

Radar has mushroomed so rapidly since 1948 that today all 48 states use it for testing or enforcement. It is sprouting up along the Nation's highways at the rate of 50 new sets a month.

According to the magazine Nation's Business, radar already accounts for more than 20 per cent of U. S. speeding arrests. State police report it is used for 80 per cent of the speeding arrests in New Mexico, 78 per cent in Wisconsin and 70 per cent in Mississippi.

In all but one state reporting, traffic fatalities have dropped since the introduction of radar. From 1953 to 1954 the drop was from 103 to 80 in Delaware, 343 to 328 in Nebraska, 1,118 to 991 in North Carolina, 849 to 749 in Tennessee and in Mississippi from 1952 to 1954 the rates were 506, 461 and 441.

Other virtues of radar include its conviction rate of 90 to 100 per cent compared to 60 to 70 per cent for older forms of enforcement. Psychologically it has had widespread beneficial effect in slowing down traffic wherever it is used.

Finally, radar enjoys overwhelming public approval. Even a large percentage of those trapped by it endorse this method of speed control.

Floating Grain Elevators

Another reminder that the United States has an enormous grain surplus is the use being made of eight retired lake freighters.

These grand old ladies of the Great Lakes have a combined age of 427 years, says the Lake Carriers' Bulletin. Despite that they are serving well as floating grain elevators in the busy harbor of Buffalo, one of the Nation's great flour milling centers.

Built in shipyards scattered all over the lakes area, these freighters sailed under firm names long familiar in marine circle. Senior member of the storage flotilla is the L. D. Browning of the Browning Steamship Co. Others of that line are the F. L. Hewitt, C. W. Meyers and D. A. Maloney.

Also in the flotilla are the Angeline of the Cleveland-Cliffs fleet, Pam Schneider and Cletus Schneider of the Schneider Co. and the W. G. Pollock of the Midland fleet.

Most interesting of all, perhaps, is the second oldest of the storage vessels, the C. W. Meyers. Back in 1909 when her name was the Crescent City she figured in a serious accident at the Soo Locks.

Two other ships, the freighter Perry G. Walker and the passenger steamer Assiniboia, also were damaged as was one gate of the lock. This accident said to have resulted from an engineer's misinterpretation of a signal from the bridge, caused damages in excess of $350,000.

While these ships at Buffalo no longer can be operated economically, they're doing a first class job of helping to solve our Government's problem of storing surplus wheat.

Piggyback Ships Coming With O.K. of Congress

A few years ago railroads finally realized that truck traffic had come to stay. One of the rail's means of meeting this new competition is the piggyback flatcar. These transport fully loaded truck trailers to distant cities where they are met by tractor units for immediate handling in the delivery area.

Now the piggyback idea has come to water shipping between the East and West Coasts via the Panama Canal. So far 15 large piggyback ships have been projected. Ten of these for the American-Hawaiian Steamship Co. will have a load capacity of 570 trailers each.

The "roll on, roll off" idea for ships has interested the Navy. Such ships would have high military value and need no conversion. As a result Congress has authorized Federal mortgage insurance up to 87.5 per cent of their construction costs.

American-Hawaiian ships will cost $11,500,000 each and will have a speed of 18 knots. They will outclass the largest lake ships with their overall length of 732 feet and 97 foot beam, just narrow enough to squeeze through the Panama Canal.

In some quarters such ships are viewed as a possible means of reviving Great Lakes package freight service. There also might be a bright future for them after completion of the St. Lawrence Waterway.

Football Contest Is Closing; Prize Is $300 in U. S. Bonds

Marriage: What it takes two to make—a girl and her mother.

The list of games in the Football Contest is published below for the last time. Make a check mark on the teams you think will win. If you predict a tie game, do not check either team. Clip out the list and fasten it to a piece of paper bearing your name and address, and see that it is received in the Pontiac Press office by Saturday noon—and that's only day after tomorrow. For other members of your family you can write out the winners on a separate piece of paper. Everybody is eligible to compete except Press employes and members of their families. Here is the list:

Sept. 17—Kentucky vs. Louisiana.
Sept. 24—Colgate vs. Dartmouth.
Oct. 1—Michigan vs. Michigan State.
Oct. 8—Harvard vs. Cornell.
Oct. 14—Detroit vs. Boston College.
Oct. 21—Pontiac vs. Arthur Hill.
Oct. 22—Illinois vs. Michigan State.
Oct. 23—Detroit Lions vs. Los Angeles Rams.
Oct. 29—Alabama vs. Georgia.
Nov. 5—North Carolina vs. South Carolina.
Nov. 12—Rice vs. Texas A&M.
Nov. 19—Michigan vs. Ohio State.
Nov. 24—Pennsylvania vs. Cornell.
Nov. 26—Army vs. Navy.

The prize of $300 in U. S. bonds goes to the person making the nearest prediction to the outcome of the games. It is an elimination contest. You are in it only as long as you forecast correctly. Get busy NOW, or the $300 will be won by somebody else.

David Lawrence Says:

Latest GOP Strategy Parley Reveals Ike Knows Value of Party Organization

WASHINGTON — Something significant has just happened in Republican politics which has been generally overlooked. When President Eisenhower met at Denver with the 48 chairmen of the Republican State Committees throughout the country, he took a step which few occupants of the White House have ever taken fully a year before a presidential campaign begins.

The purpose of the conference was to encourage a fundamental job of organization which the Republican Parys has actually needed.

The fact that Eisenhower discoursed on it as fully as he did shows conclusively that he has learned and taken to heart the most important lesson in modern politics—intensive organization.

It is natural that there should be some passing comments about how the Eisenhower men have taken over the party and how there is no longer a Taft organization. But that's what always happens with the party in power—the man in the White House becomes the leader and preconvention factionalism tends to disappear.

1912 IS EXAMPLE

Looking back as far as 1912, when Woodrow Wilson was elected, there was frequent mention after his inauguration about the ascendant influences by the preconvention supporters he had as opposed to the followers of Speaker Champ Clark, who was the unsuccessful runner-up in the bitterly fought Baltimore convention. It took only a little while for the Wilson group to become dominant in party councils and for party unity to be achieved.

The same thing happened in 1928, when the Hoover supporters quietly invaded the Republican Party organizations and took over the control. There is nothing unique, therefore, in seeing the Eisenhower leaders of the party in command. But it would be a mistake to assume that this means any change either way in fundamental philosophy at the grass roots or in ideology.

The party organization doesn't go in much for highbrow stuff about progressivism or conservatism or any other "ism." It is interested in control for city or county or state reasons, and the party organization works with the congressional candidates because as a rule the ticket as a whole and not fragments of it has to win support at the polls.

* * *

The big weakness in the Republican Party has been the fact that, when the "amateurs" took over in 1952 after Eisenhower was nominated, they had to learn the hard way—through defeat in the congressional elections of 1954—that it doesn't pay to keep alive party grievances or to sharpen cleavages.

DANGER CITED

As a matter of fact, a big danger today to the Republicans is that, despite the outward professions of harmony, the Eisenhower spokesmen have failed to win over the small percentage of zealous persons who think the administration hasn't been vigorous enough on the anti-communist issue.

It is no answer to argue that these voters have no other place to go. In New Jersey, by staying home, they almost defeated Clifford Case, the successful Republican nominee for the Senate, and that's one of the states where they are going to need a lot of harmonizing to get the entire Republican vote to go to the polls next year.

The truth is the Democrats today have the benefits of the AFL and CIO organizations. These have more money available for politics and more precinct workers than both the regular Democratic and Republican Party organizations combined.

STIFF BATTLE LOOMS

The Republicans are up against a stiff battle, and they know it. The President knows it. "Popularity" with respect to a candidate is an ambiguous word in politics. The more popular or even the more able nominee doesn't always win, especially if the political climate is against him.

The President could win hands down if he ran today but, if there is anything like the economic recession under way such as the country experienced just before the 1954 congressional elections, all the Eisenhower popularity as an individual will not win for him. The practical politicians in both parties know this.

Eisenhower has a lot to learn yet about the pitfalls of politics but on balance he is doing a great deal to organize a party that can be effective in winning the next elections not only for the presidency but for Congress as well.

British Medicos Scrap Exposure-Illness Notions

By WILLIAM BRADY, M. D.

It doesn't mean anything to the wiseacres and knuckleheads, even to those engaged in the practice of medicine, that the thorough investigation made by the British Medical Research Council, including experiments on human volunteers under as rigid control as possible, educed no evidence to support the notion that such "exposure" as dampness, drafts, change of weather, wet feet, insufficient clothing and the like has any effect on an individual's susceptibility to or immunity from what credulous customers and their quacks call "colds."

Lowered resistance. You poor . . .!

Can't you get it through your thick head that the doctors and others who look learned and explain that an individual or group of individuals developed or did not develop this or that disease because he or they maintained or did not maintain good resistance is just pulling your leg?

No medical authority can define "resistance" or tell how to distinguish such a state from immunity.

WHAT WE KNOW

We do know something about immunity. We know that it is specific. We know that vaccination confers immunity to smallpox, typho-bacterin immunity to typhoid fever; toxin-antitoxin of toxoid immunity to diphtheria. Not necessarily absolute, never-failing immunity, but a sufficient degree of immunity to protect the immunized persons against ordinary hazards. At the same time we know immunity to smallpox or immunity to typhoid fever is no protection against diphtheria and vice versa.

We know, too, that fatigue, hunger, overwork, cold, dampness, unhappiness, worry and other discomforts to which most people are subjected from time to time do not appreciably alter whatever degree of immunity the individual may have against a particular disease.

To imagine that any of these incidental circumstances of everyday life "lowers resistance" and so accounts for whatever illness overtakes the patient is just plumb dumb, that's all. Don't let the quack impose on you in that way—stop him cold the moment he begins sounding off about maintaining resistance by asking him how he determines whether a person has or has not good resistance.

Your impertinence may rile him, but when you show him you're not quite so gullible as he thought he'll hesitate to stick you with a lot of "shots" which are generally no more effective than the same medicine would be taken in the ordinary way.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long, pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not to disease, diagnosis or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady if a stamped, self-addressed envelope is sent to the Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Mich.

Drive-in Cook Wants Factory Scale Wages

Letters will be condensed when necessary because of lack of space. Full name, address and telephone number of the writer must accompany letters but these will not be published if the writer so requests unless the letter is critical in its nature.

I am a cook in a large drive-in and I work six days per week, including every Sunday, for $1.04 per hour, making $50 a week. When I work overtime, I draw the same hourly pay.

Then men and women in the plants and small industries are drawing as much as $2.70 per hour with or without the help of the union.

I therefore cannot see why we men and women who cook in restaurants, clean other people's homes, clerk in drug stores, clothing stores, bakeries and so forth, are not entitled to at least part of the loot.

Considering the fact that we have to give the landlord, milkman, meat man and paper boy the same amount that the high scale wage earners do, aren't we entitled to a little consideration?

A Dissatisfied Worker

Says Sylvan Amendment Would Endanger Tots

Most children living in Sylvan Lake enter the Whitfield School grounds at the end of Benvenue Avenue. A railroad crosses this entrance and it is considered dangerous enough to require a safety patrol.

An amendment to the zoning ordinance under consideration would permit the installation of railroad sidings at the corner of the school property. This would mean that most of the car switching would be done across this school entrance anytime during the day.

Many of us, as parents, are concerned about the increased hazards for our children. We feel that the dangers could be avoided by not amending the zoning ordinance of Sylvan Lake.

Hal Boyle Says:

Nags Smarter Than Gals—at Least About Footgear

NEW YORK (AP)—The average American husband may doubt whether his wife has horse sense—but he's sure she does have clothes sense.

Charles Le Maire, famous Hollywood fashion authority, says the four most common clothing faults among both housewives and career girls are these:

"They don't know how to wear furs. They don't know how to put on or take off gloves. They don't know how to handle veils. They won't pick the right size or kind of shoes."

* * *

Le Maire, wardrobe head of the 20th Century-Fox film studio, speaks from experience. He has designed the costumes for 62 Broadway shows as well as the outfits worn by such glamorous stars as Susan Hayward, Jennifer Jones, Jane Russell and Marilyn Monroe.

* * *

What's wrong with the way American women wear furs?

"Very few know how to handle a fur gracefully," said Le Marie. "They hold it awkwardly in their hand like a football halfback looking for someone they can throw a downfield pass to.

"They don't know how to droop it gracefully around their shoulders or drape it over their arm. It's the draping that creates the effect.

* * *

"They hang it around their neck like Daniel Boone fighting his way out of the forest. And many a woman thinks the more fur skins she wears the better she looks. Actually they only make her look like a fur trapper's bride.

Now about the gloves?

"Too many women take off their gloves by tugging separately at each finger, as if they were plucking a goose. The removal of gloves shouldn't be a public struggle. The gloves should fit loosely enough so that they can be pushed on or off easily, not pulled off. Very, very few women have learned this art."

And the veil? Well, a woman with a veil can be downright pitiful.

"The most common mistake is they wear them too long," said Le Maire. "The big problem then is how a woman can eat, smoke or put on lipstick.

* * *

"She has to keep raising and lowering her veil as if it were the visor in a suit of armor. She should wear the veil short enough so that she can get at her face without all this trouble."

On the problem of shoes, Le Maire observed:

"Women want their feet to look small. But they go about this in the wrong way. They do it by buying shoes too small for them instead of picking shoes the right size which are designed to look smaller.

* * *

"They also do foolish things such as wearing dancing shoes for walking. I love open-toed, thin-strapped footwear in the evening, but not with a tailored suit. I like a lot of the foot to show in the evening, but almost all the foot covered in the daytime."

Le Maire gave this final tip:

"When it comes to dressing well, many wives don't know how to handle their husbands.

"The man of the house should have certain responsibilities about his wife's wardrobe. She should teach him not to bring her home expensive surprise gifts of either clothing or jewelry unless he is sure they are exactly the kind she wants.

"And her husband should be a partner in any expensive clothing ventures she makes herself. Husbands say they don't like to help pick out their wife's clothing, but that's only talk. They do like to."

Case Records of a Psychologist

Paraplegic Veteran Gains Enthusiasm for Life by Engaging in Prize Contests

Note the remarkable change in Terry's personality after he regained zest for living by entering prize contests. You must plant the psychological seeds today if you wish to harvest exciting crops in the future. So send for the booklet named below and get into action.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case P-340: Terry J., aged 32, is the paraplegic war veteran whom I described yesterday.

"Dr. Crane, you can hardly imagine the startling change in Terry's outlook," his wife informed me a few months later.

* * *

Her eyes glowed happily so her worry over Terry had also been eliminated, as I could also tell by her excited tones.

"Well, I went home after talking to you and looked through our newspaper, plus some magazines, to see if I could find any prize contests.

"And I saw the announcements of several. Besides, I found coupons at the grocery store for several more.

* * *

"So I tactfully tried to get Terry interested. He didn't show much enthusiasm at first, but I asked him to look up rhymes for a limerick I wanted to complete.

"He wrote down a dozen rhymes. Then I let him read your booklet about prize contesting. So we sorted our rhymes until we had two or three which we thought would be overlooked by other contestants.

SEND OFF ENTRIES

"Well, we sent off three entries in that limerick contest. And from then onward, we have been digging up facts from reference books and encyclopedias on dozens of other contests.

"Maybe we were unusually lucky, but we won a third prize of $100 on one of our limerick entries in that very first contest.

"When Terry opened the letter that contained the check, he called out to me in the kitchen and the tone of his voice was different from anything I had ever heard since he returned from the war with his paralyzed legs.

"He was gleeful and excited and confident, like his old self. I cried with joy and danced around him while he waved the check. But my tears were more for the change in Terry than for the $100, though we certainly appreciated that, too.

* * *

"You said that people needed to plant seeds which would justify their looking ahead to possible future harvests.

"Well, our case proves the value of that. For Terry never used to show much interest in whether the postman had come or not.

EAGER FOR MAIL

"But now he can't wait for the mail to arrive. He gets around in a wheelchair, so he figuratively paces the floor for an hour waiting to see if we'll get any announcements about our contest entries.

"On good days, he may actually wheel himself a block or so up the street to meet the mailman and intercept our letters.

"If we get a prize, even if it is only a potholder or a prize coupon good for a case of canned goods, he pushes his wheelchair homeward like a boy riding a new bicycle at breakneck speed.

"We have sent out more than 50 entries in various contests already. And we have won four prizes. But 27 of our entries are in contests yet to be announced.

* * *

"So we have 27 reasons to be looking into the future. And I must confess that I am now almost as excited as Terry about the future.

"Meanwhile, we keep entering every variety of contest. And Terry has been 'selling' some of our friends on becoming contest fans, until now there are three more families that are doing it.

COMPARE NOTES

"In fact, we get together occasionally to compare notes and see if we can't sprout new ideas.

* * *

"The last time the doctor examined Terry, he could hardly believe the change in his morale. For Terry is now animated and enthusiastic, with a great zest for living.

"So tell your readers about our case, Dr. Crane, and urge them to try contesting. It really works marvels on one's morale."

Send for my booklet, "How to Write Salable Copy". It has a section on prize contesting.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 3c stamped, self-addressed envelope and a dime to cover typing and printing costs when you send for one of his psychological charts.

Are World's Longest

SAULT STE. MARIE, Mich.—The American locks at the "Soo" are operated toll free by the United States Army Corps of Engineers.

Four locks now make up the U. S. system, and there is another on the Canadian side. The Davis and Sabin locks, each 1,350 feet long, are the longest in the world. Each can lock through two large lake vessels in one operation averaging 30 minutes.

Florida has 4,724 miles of railroad.

Educated the Hard Way

TRENTON, N. J. (AP) — Ben W. Rounds earned a master's degree in music theory the hard way—while holding two jobs that had nothing to do with music.

He earned the degree at the University of Pennsylvania by studying part-time for six years and writing a 100-page thesis on Johann Sebastian Bach.

At one time there were over 50 water power saw grist mills on Oakland County's rivers and creeks. They laid the foundation for our industry.

Prediction Too True

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—Justice D. F. Thompson ruled the evidence was not sufficient to convict a chemical company for air pollution. "But I'm sure going to catch heck from the ladies in that area," he remarked.

Telephone rang just as he made the statement. His face got red, but he listened meekly. "My wife," he groaned. She'd just heard about the verdict.

Oakland County now has 17 incorporated cities and 12 incorporated villages.

Fancy Seeing You Here

SPRING VALLEY, Calif. (AP) — Mrs. J. C. Mounts headed by bus for Fort Worth, Tex. to care for her daughter who had just had an operation. As she reached for her suitcase upon arriving in Texas, Mrs. Mounts fell from the upper deck of the bus, broke her leg.

A half hour later she was in the hospital room with her daughter.

None of Oakland County's 25 townships are named for prominent men from outside of the county.

'Y' Swing-Swim Club to Open Fall Program

More than 300 teenagers are expected to attend the first fall program of the YMCA Swing and Swim Club, slated from 9 p.m. to 12 Friday at the YMCA Building, 131 Mt. Clemens St.

The combination swim and dance is open to girls and boys between the ages of 14 and 20. The supervised entertainment will include dancing for the whole period, with mixed swimming as an added feature from 9 to 10:30 p.m.

Morrie R. Tubergen, new Y youth director, issued an invitation to all teenagers to attend the swing and swim night.

"Those who are going to the Pontiac High-Wyandotte football game will find the dance in full swing if they stop over after the game," he said.

Currently, the club has some 1,000 members. Tubergen pointed out that 1955 memberships are good until October.

Electronics Backfires

CARLISLE, Pa. (AP)—A burglar with a mind for electronics made off with $30 and a pilot's radio headset from an airport. William Taylor, airport owner, said the intruder used an electronic microphone hookup to detect the presence of airport employes. And it apparently worked, Taylor said, because the burglar fled when the gadget picked up his footsteps.

Farewell, Old Jalopy!

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (AP) — State Police Supt. R. W. Boyles told about the unnamed motorist who brought his 1942 sedan to a garage to comply with West Virginia's new auto inspection law—and wound up junking it.

Col. Boyles said the car had three different brake defects, lights out of adjustment, two windows broken so bad they obscured vision, and fog lights which were out of focus and didn't burn anyway.

Charitable Virginian

NEWPORT NEWS, Va. (AP) — A well dressed stranger stepped into police headquarters and asked if there were any prisoners serving terms because they could not pay fines. The answer was yes.

He asked the desk lieutenant to pick out one at random. The stranger paid the prisoner's fine and departed. The bailor and the bailee did not meet.

Police Lieutenant J. P. Farry said the incident was the only one of its kind in his 23 years of experience.

BOO! —Supposed to add glamor, as well at height, is this formidable looking chapeau by Eric of London. It's made of black velvet and black ostrich feathers.

Woodpeckers Peck Palaver

Bird Knocking Means Many Things; Building, Signaling, Eating, Etc.

Why does a woodpecker peck and how can he peck so hard without dire results to his nervous system?

* * *

Biology students at Wayne University know that whenever you find a woodpecker drumming away he usually has a good reason. Dr. Charles W. Creaser, chairman of Wayne's biology department, says the woodpecker is an unusually interesting bird.

He explained that a woodpecker's bill is used as a hammer, chisel, pick or drill. First thing in the morning he spies a good feeding area so he proceeds to hammer it, letting all others of his kind know this is his feeding ground for the day.

When the woodpecker isn't signalling, he might be pecking commercially, says Dr. Creaser. That is, he's digging insects out of the wood—a business at which he is extremely adept. His sticky, barbed tongue is capable of lashing out and grabbing insects in hard-to-get-at places.

MATING CALL

In the nesting season his drumming is intended to be a mating call—a warning that this is his home range. This also is the season in which he delights in pounding on tin roofs.

Sometimes he is preparing a nest for his family. It makes little difference to him whether the wood is hard or soft, whether it is a tree, a telephone pole, a roof or, just a broken-down log. Most woodpeckers bore themselves a nest roughly oval in shape. But Michigan's largest, the pileated woodpecker with the tufted or crested type head, cuts square holes.

* * *

A woodpecker simply doesn't light on a tree and go to work as many people think. He adjusts his speed and strength of stroke to the thickness or hardness of the wood, the strength of the stroke varying with the weight of the bird.

How does the woodpecker peck? He gets a good toe-hold on the bark with his strong claws, formed with two toes before and two behind, and uses his stiffened, pointed tail feathers as a brace. Then he swings his head in much the same manner as we would swing a hammer.

He doesn't knock himself out with the blows because his brain is located above and behind the beak, which in turn is predominately connected to the lower part of the skull. Thus the jarring is passed directly to the neck, and the woodpecker's S-shaped neck is constructed in just the right fashion to absorb the shock.

Until comparatively recent years Pontiac's Cass avenue was known as Willow street.

Collects Posies, Snakes

IMMOKALEE, Fla. (AP)—Ollie Hancock captures poisonous snakes for excitement and wild orchids for pleasure during his spare time.

Although the hobbies sound poles apart, he explains that he can do both at once, because the reptiles and flowers are found in the same jungle-like woods in this area.

Oakland County was so named on account of the predominance of oak trees here in the primeval forest.

Writes With Teeth

MANVILLE, N. J. (AP) — Jack Trombadorie wrote the answers to his two-day bar examination with a pen stuck in his teeth.

The 27-year-old University of Michigan graduate has been deprived of the use of his arms since he had polio at the age of 3. Trombadorie, a scholarship student, plans a general practice.

The grave of Colonel Stephen Mack, founder of Pontiac, is at the highest point in Oak Hill Cemetery.

Davy Too Modern

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M. (AP) — Editor Dan Burrows of the Albuquerque Tribune noted recently that some tourists were looking for the Davy Crockett monument in Santa Fe.

Santa Fe dates its beginning back to the days of Coronado in, roughly, 1540.

Said Burrows, "In a city with as much ancient historical background as Santa Fe, Davy Crockett would be practically a current character."

General Becomes Prof

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP)—Brig. Gen. J. R. Beishline, who retired at the age of 49, is now a senior management professor at the University of Texas School of Business. He formerly commanded the 10th Division's artillery at Ft. Riley, Kan.

Call for Davy Crockett

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M. (UP) — There was excitement in both the police and sheriff's offices here recently when someone reported the discovery of a decomposed body near the city. Officers investigated, found the carcass to be that of a skinned bear and one deputy commented "they should have called Davy Crockett."

Sixty years ago Royal Oak was the leading Oakland County township in agriculture, having only one village. Now its eight cities cover nearly all of its area.

Blaze Pleases Pets

OWOSSO (UP) — A fire in a wheat field broke up a family picnic on the Clyde Sutton farm — and a cat and dog profited. After dealing with the fire, Mrs. Sutton said she found the cat had eaten a pound of picnic butter and the dog had finished off the rest of the food.

Firemen's False Alarm

TRENTON, Mo. (UP) — Time for a little practice, decided fire chief Hobart Sparks. An old building was set afire to give the fire laddies a test run.

But something happened to phone service in the area and the alarm was late. The old building burned to the ground with no firemen around.

Jake Resigned to Fate

DALLAS (UP)—Sign at Jake Whitehead's garage: "We're a non-profit organization . . . We didn't intend to be, but we are!"

Navy Sanctions Shorts

NORFOLK, Va. (UP) — The Navy has approved Bermuda shorts as a suitable part of the uniform of the day at its supply center here. Not for the officers and sailors, though. Just for the 6,500 men and women civilian employes.

Real Clothes Call

DIXON, Ill. (UP)—A sneak thief caught J. A. Marshall without his pants, took $100 and left $6 in the billfold. Marshall had removed his trousers to change clothes before working in the warehouse of his business establishment. He left his street clothes hanging in the office.

Good Reminder—for All

HOUSTON, Tex. (UP)—Police Chief Jack Heard has ordered a large sign pasted on the dashboards of all police cars. It has just one word: Courtesy.

Burglar Tells a Whopper When Caught by Police

OMAHA (AP)—A suspect found by detectives behind the counter of a burglarized grocery store with the store's money bag in his pocket, told this story:

Sombody had crept behind him and shoved him through the store's plate glass window and he had fallen uninjured where officers found him. Somebody—the person who pushed him or a policeman—must have put the money sack in his pocket.

A skeptical deputy county attorney said he would file burglary charges.

Pontiac's great fire of 1840 destroyed most of the buildings on both sides of Saginaw Street south of Pike Street. They all were of frame construction, and were replaced with brick buildings.

New Planks Resemble Sea-Washed Driftwood

NEW YORK—A new decorative lumber planking, suggestive in appearance of ocean-washed driftwood, is now on the market.

The grain stands out in relief from the etched-out background. The five-eighths inch thick planks come in three widths—6, 8, and 10 inches — and in lengths varying from 4 to 10 feet.

The Dow Chemical Company at Midland, Michigan, is the world's largest producer of chlorine.

Salesmen Seek Bonds

RALEIGH, N. C. (AP) — The General Assembly wanted to regulate out-of-state health and accident insurance underwriters and proposed a measure calling for a $500 bond for nonresident salesmen. Somehow nonresident wasn't written into the bill which passed. All salesmen have been scurrying about getting bonded.

Paris Strike Halts Majority of Buses

PARIS (AP) — France's growing labor unrest moved into Paris today. A strike left only 60 of 2,635 city and suburban buses running.

Subway trains continued operating on schedule but there was no indication when the busmen, who want a 15 per cent wage boost, would resume work soon.

The city-owned transport company offered a 5 per cent boost. The strikers' wages range from 35,000 francs ($100) to 40,000 francs ($114) a month.

Elsewhere in France some 50,000 workers were on strike, mostly in the shipyards and the metal industry.

Horse population of the U. S. has dropped to three million.

Manville's Ninth Divorce Claim to Be Gigantic

RENO (AP)—Dancer Anita Frances Roddy-Eden Manville, ninth wife of millionaire Tommy Manville, received a $260000 divorce settlement yesterday.

* * *

"It's the largest Tommy has given" said the 31-year-old Mrs. Manville, who married the asbestos heir in 1952. They separated after 12 days.

Mrs. Manville charged extreme cruelty. She testified that her 61-year-old husband used vile language, drank excessively and kept talking about hi sprevious wives.

District Judge Gordon Rice said the settlement called for $140,000 immediately. Manville's attorney added that Mrs. Manville, who plans to keep the name, will also get $1,000 a month for 10 years.

Yesterday's settlement brought Manville's accumulated divorce costs to at least 1½ million dollars. He began marrying at 17. Eight of his marriages ended in divorce. His eighth wife, writer Georgina Campbell, was killed in an auto collision in 1952.

The population of Karachi, capital of Pakistan, totals 1,127,000, triple the figure for the bustling seaport when Pakistan gained her independence in 1947.

Crash Kills Ohio Woman

WALLOON LAKE (AP)—Mrs. Edith Abbott, 72, of Oxford, Ohio, was killed Tuesday in the collision of a station wagon and a milk truck at the intersection of U.S. 131 and M75 a mile north of Walloon Lake. Mrs. Abbott was riding in a station wagon driven by her husband, Frank, 72. The truck driver, John R. Craig, 34, of East Jordan, was not held.

The primeval forest was so dense on the site of Pontiac's present downtown section that the Indian trail went around it.

Waives Examination

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — Fred M. Schillim Jr., 23, of nearby Cedar Springs, waived examination before Municipal Judge Robert Bruns Monday on a charge of forgery. He was bound over to Circuit Court under a $500 bond. State Police accuse Schillim of forging 20 checks and cashing them for more than $1,000 in Newaygo, Montcalm and Kent Counties since last June.

Following the plans of most of its other structures of that time, the first Oakland County court house was built of logs.

State Insurance Confab

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — Some 700 insurance agents throughout Michigan converged on Grand Rapids yesterday as the Michigan Assn. of Insurance Agents opened its 57th annual convention. Featured speaker at the three-day session is Warren A. King of New York, insurance merchandising manager for Life Magazine.

Orchard Lake was so named on account of the apple trees found by the early settlers on its largest island, very appropriately called by that name.

Name Bootblack Queen

DOWAGIAC (AP) — Fourteen-year-old Judy Judd has been named Dowagiac's first "Bootblack Queen." The pretty brunette was picked over 30 other Dowagiac girls after the group shined shoes all day Monday to raise funds for Dowagiac's new National Guard Armory. They charged $1 and took in over $200.

New Straits Bridge to Handle 6,000 Cars Per Hour

By JOE HAAS
Pontiac Press Staff Writer

MACKINAW CITY—The new Straits bridge will accommodate 6,000 cars per hour, several times the number now carried on the ferries even at full capacity.

Instead of toll booths and several acres of parking space at each end, as now used for the ferries, there will be such facilities only on the St. Ignace side. The toll will be collected there for the cars going in both directions.

This will do away with the great expense for land purchase and other such facilities on the Mackinaw City side. Northbound traffic will pay its toll after it has crossed the bridge.

Wind velocity is no problem under the manner in which the bridge is being built, nor will it materially affect the structure after it is completed, nor be noticed by those crossing it.

By actual tests, conducted in specially designed wind tunnels and otherwise, the bridge will not waver in its suspension span in a wind force 10 times the highest that has ever been recorded at the Straits.

WIND WRECKED BRIDGE

On the Tacoma, Wash., bridge only a few years ago the suspension span was wrecked by the wind soon after it was first opened, and several dozen lives were lost, and the property damage went into the millions.

Such a thing can never happen on the Mackinac bridge, as the open draft in its construction offers little wind resistance. Even the roadway in the two center traffic lanes is a sort of grill work that gives no up-an-down resistance, which bridge engineers have found is a major factor in creating a waving motion in the suspension.

The wind safety design is so uppermost in the bridge's construction that it will carry the lowest insurance rate of any suspension bridge in the world.

A combination of large insurance companies was formed a few years ago to write the risks on large bridges. Its membership is world-wide in scope.

It will carry $50 million in policies on the Mackinac bridge, covering most everything except destruction by atomic power.

This company will not take a risk on the Golden Gate bridge because of the danger of loss by earthquake. This also is true of the new bridge to be built at Messina, Sicily, which will have the longest suspension span in the world.

NO EARTHQUAKE DANGER

A loss by earthquake is considered negligible at Mackinac, as never has there been a shock recorded here that would damage the bridge in any way.

Most large bridges make impossible a view either way for those who are crossing. Their railings are built with the idea that their customers must ride in a visual vacuum.

Such will not be the case with the Mackinac bridge. The "blind" part of the railings is only three feet high. Above that there is no obstruction to a perfect view, with the exception of an occasional small holding cable.

The bridge plans even provide for proper speed limits, with varying speed zones, consistent with safety, also directional controls.

The handling of food, drink and other concessions at its approaches already are scheduled as far as possible. The gulls are not expected to be a problem under the new system.

8TH WONDER OF THE WORLD

Those in an intimate connection with its construction already are calling the bridge the eighth wonder of the world. No other single man-made attraction can match it.

Among other great bridges, its position is unique. The others are hidden between mountains or otherwise, so that their size and general contour cannot be visually grasped.

But the roadway of the Mackinac bridge rises from near water level, with no surrounding influences to block out its perspective, and will be an awe-inspiring spectacle in its own right. It will be to man's accomplishments what the Grand Canyon is to nature itself.

It will convert what has been a liability to travel to one of Michigan's greatest assets, both to our tourists and ourselves.

Dockers Tackling Job of Cargo Pileups

NEW YORK (AP)—Dockers tackled the huge task today of moving the 200 million dollars worth of products that piled up along the New York waterfront during their eight-day strike.

* * *

The walkout, which also hit several other East Coast ports, was called off yesterday by the independent International Longshoremen's Assn.

The ILA hailed as a victory the setting up of a voluntary citizens fact-finding committee to hear its grievances against the New York-New Jersey Waterfront Commission.

Industry sources termed the ILA's acceptance of the committee formula a "face-saving" device adopted after locals in some cities failed to heed the strike call.

* * *

Now comes the huge cargo cleanup from more than 150 ships — practically all freighters. Most passenger liners were not seriously delayed by the tieup.

COST MILLIONS

The 170-member New York Shipping Assn. figures the strike cost the employers a million dollars a day.

The back-to-work movement by some 30,000 longshoremen here has failed to halt legal machinery set in motion as a result of the strike.

A contempt citation against the ILA by the employers is scheduled to be heard in the State Supreme Court Sept. 22.

* * *

And the shipping association thus far has not deviated from plans to sue the union, its leaders and membership for 10 million dollars in damages for alleged violation of a no-strike pedge.

Justice William C. Hecht Jr., in Supreme Court yesterday, granted two motions for temporary injunctions — barring waterfront stoppages — against the union. They were sought by the Waterfront Commission and the shipping firms.

JUST LAWLESS

The ILA strike was aimed directly at the commission. The union has accused it of harassment, discrimination, and general abuse of its powers. The commission has denied all allegations, calling the ILA "just plain lawless."

Godfrey Schmidt, lecturer on law at Fordham University, issued a statement on behalf of the fact-finding committee, saying:

"The idea was simply to end a strike by providing a forum . . . Nor does it matter if this committee saves someone's face. If we save our port and our country from further serious loss the incidental saving of face is unimportant . . .

"Finally, this is not an attempt to interfere with an authorized agency."

The committee's findings will not be binding on the parties involved.

The strike-ending formula came Tuesday from James F. Murray Jr., Democratic state senator in New Jersey.

THE PAST RESTORED — Old and new construction blends almost unnoticeably in the historic city of Nurnberg, Germany, where bombed-out structures have been rebuilt as they were originally constructed in medieval times. The little tower in center and hangman's bridge (right), over which condemned men crossed the Regnitz River to the gallows, have been reconstructed as they were before the war. They preserve the picturesqueness of the scene, which is dominated by the ancient, 14th century water tower at left.

Butterfat Law Creates Problem in Milk Program

LANSING (AP) — A new state law regulating the butterfat content of milk has created a hitch in the Federal-State School Milk Program.

Under a law taking effect Oct. 14, all white milk sold in the state must have a butterfat content of three and one-half per cent.

Chocolate milk, however, may contain only three per cent butterfat — the requirement for all milk under the old law.

The U. S. Department of Agriculture regulation under which the milk aid is granted requires the butterfat content of white and chocolate milk to be the same.

Clair L. Taylor, State Superintendent of Public Instruction, said contracts for milk deliveries between dairies and school districts have all been written according to the old law.

Taylor wrote Agriculture Department officials requesting special permission to reimburse school districts on the basis of the present law until new legislation can be enacted to clear the situation up.

Hard-Boiled U.S. Diplomatic Actions Cow Red Rulers

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States and its chief Western allies are refusing to take Communist promises on faith. They are employing hard-boiled tactics in current negotiations for better relations with Russia and Red China.

* * *

The pattern of Western dealings became apparent today in their manner of handling the United States-Chinese Communist negotiations at Geneva, German-Russian diplomatic recognition, and Red China's bid for a seat in the United Nations.

In effect, it appears that the Western Powers are determined to make concessions or agreements desired by Moscow and Peiping only as those capitals actually produce real concessions sought by various Western governments.

STERN ATTITUDE

The following developments demonstrate this Western attitude which is in line with President Eisenhower's public insistence that the friendly spirit shown in East-West relations at last July's summit conference must be proved by concrete actions:

* * *

1. Ambassador U. Alexis Johnson told Red China's Ambassador Wang Ping-nan at Geneva yesterday that "it would be premature" to take up other issues between the United States and Red China until last Saturday's agreement for release of civilians is carried out.

* * *

2. German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer made his agreement with Soviet Premier Nikolai Bulganin for opening German-Russian diplomatic relations subject to approval by the German Cabinet and Parliament.

* * *

Bulganin promised Adenauer as part of the deal that German citizens held in the Soviet Union since World War II would be freed. If the Russians do not take steps to release the Germans with reasonable promptness, Adenauer is in position to stall indefinitely on actually establishing the formal diplomatic contacts.

* * *

3. Richard G. Casey, Australia's minister for external affairs, said here yesterday that he would not be surprised if Red China's desire for a seat in the United Nations should be shelved again this year in the U.N. General Assembly. Similar indications came from U.N. headquarters in New York.

* * *

The Western governments realize they possess an effective bargaining weapon in the membership problem and they do not wish to give it up without getting some practical benefits in return.

Governor's Search for Hospital Beds for Retarded Children Runs Aground

By JACK I. GREEN

LANSING (AP)—Gov. Williams' plan to ask a special legislative session next month to find hospital beds for 1,221 mentally retarded children is getting more snarled by the hour.

* * *

The Senate Appropriations Committee yesterday gave strong indications that it does not see how the problem can be solved at a three-day session Williams intends to call about Oct. 25.

The committee, beset by conflict over proposals to convert a state tuberculosis sanatorium into a mental hospital, agreed to bring in "outside" experts for a survey of the TB hospital program.

This, members said, would be aimed at the 1956 regular session, starting in January.

WILLIAMS EMPHATIC

Williams almost pounded the table at his press conference when he said "This problem has got to be solved now."

* * *

At least two legislative committees which met this week to preview Williams' plans were angry that they could get no ideas for a solution from Charles A. Wagg, state mental health director. They included Dr. Albert E. Heustis, state health commissioner, in their blasts because he objected to converting a TB hospital into a mental hospital.

Wagg has promised to complete a survey of the mental health problem by Oct. 1 and refused to speculate on his ideas before then.

Sen. Lynn O. Francis (R-Midland) accused him of holding up his recommendations to let Williams make a publicity splash with them.

* * *

Williams said this was "unjust" to devoted public servants and asserted that both Wagg and Dr. Heustis had served well under both Democratic and Republican administrations.

WEEKEND SPEAKERS

He said Republicans had invited Wagg and Dr. Heustis to speak at panels at a Republican conference at Mackinac Island this weekend.

The Appropriations Committee headed by Sen. Elmer R. Porter (R-Blissfield) was obviously at a loss to know which way to turn in the absence of recommendations from Wagg.

"If this waiting list of 1,221 children has gone up only one or two hundred in the past year," Porter said, "I can't see such an emergency that would warrant closing a TB hospital."

Democratic and Republican members of the committee agreed that the Legislature has no information on which to make a decision—and they doubted whether it could be obtained in time for action next month.

"After spending several days with the governor's appointees and administrative agencies I am convinced we are not close to a solution," Francis said. "They made a sickly appearance."

"If the governor is going to insist on a special session he must assume the responsibility for submitting a very comprehensive program," Francis said. "The Legislature certainly is not in position to act now."

Reds Still Hold U.S. Prisoners

Daily Train Visit Shows No Civilians Released by Chinese Captors

HONG KONG (INS) — No Americans today were aboard the daily train from Canton that normally brings released prisoners to the border of British Hong Kong.

Authorities in the crown colony believed the first of the U.S. civilians scheduled for release as a result of the Geneva Talks might not start arriving until Saturday or Sunday.

American Red Cross official Richard Tomlin delivered mercy packages at 11 a.m. this morning to a Chinese Red Cross officer.

The officer accepted the packages for the U.S. citizens still detained in the Communist nation. But as Tomlin put it, the Chinese gave "no indication, no hint" of the release date for the Americans.

Tomlin arranged for another mercy package delivery on Sept. 30.

Then, he waited vainly for another four hours, long past the deadline of the only train from Canton, which arrives at 12:55 p.m. daily (12:55 a.m. Pontiac time).

Newsmen and the A.R.C. men, led by Far East Director Truman Solverud of St. Louis, have been conducting a daily vigil at the Lowu railroad bridge this week for 10 Americans who were expected out from behind the Bamboo Curtain.

Solverud has arranged to provide the returning Americans with physical examinations, emergency funds and free telephone calls to their families in the U.S.

The American Consulate in Hong Kong has received some criticism because if its apparently detached view of the expected arrivials.

Farm Imports Lagging

WASHINGTON — The United States imported $3,957,000,000 worth of agricultural products in 1954, a decline of 5 per cent from 1953 and the smallest such import total in five years.

Hilda and Ione, Tropical Storms, Play Tag Off Cuba

MIAMI (INS) — Two tropical storms, the eighth and ninth of the season, almost played tag with each other today.

Hurricane Hilda, the eighth tropical storm, headed for the Yucatan Peninsula where it is expected to hit tonight.

Some of the wind was knocked out of Hilda when she crossed over Cuba but the hurricane still had 75 mile an hour winds near its center as it continued its west to west-southwest movement at about 16 m.p.h.

The Miami weather bureau in its 5 a.m. EST advisory pinpointed Hilda at 300 miles south southwest of Havana.

HERE'S IONE

Meanwhile, the ninth tropical storm of the season, named Ione, while not following the direct path of Hilda, brought warnings from the Miami weather bureau for ships to be wary of the new-born disturbance.

A high pressure area over the Bahamas may keep Ione from threatening the Atlantic coast, just as it forced Hilda into the Caribbean.

Hurricane warnings for Ione were posted in the northern Leeward and Virgin Islands, Puerto Rico was alerted for strong winds.

Ione is expected to develop into a full-fledged hurricane within hours.

Hilda caused two deaths and widespread damage in Cuba.

GM Employe Continues to Fight the Union Shop

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — A General Motors Corp. employe fighting the union shop clause in the firm's new contract with the CIO Auto Workers is taking the case to the Indiana Appellate Court.

Vernon R. Smith, an assembly-man technician at the Allison Division here, filed the appeal late Wednesday through his attorney, George Rose. His petition for a ruling that the clause was invalid was refused by Judge Walter Pritchard in Marion County Superior Court Aug. 17.

Judge Pritchard ruled that Smith's constitutional rights were not violated because he is not required to join the UAW but merely to pay dues.

Smith paid an initiation fee and dues to the union just before the new contract went into effect last month and was issued a membership card stating that he is not a UAW member.

Pontiac Education Board OKs Study of Schools' Fund-Raising Campaigns

The Pontiac Board of Education last night approved a study of money-raising campaigns in schools preliminary to setting up an overall policy to control such drives.

The main question the survey will be aimed at answering is whether it's proper for a public school system to engage in competitive commercial enterprises to raise money, explained Superintendent Dr. Dana P. Whitmer.

Principals who have participated in campaigns, such as magazine drives, favor their continuance for several reasons, said Dr. Whitmer, including:

1. Money is earned for the school to support projects that would not normally be financed by the Board of Education.

2. All pupils join in such drives and school morale is boosted.

3. Participating in fund-raising drives prepares students for similar activities often encountered in adult life and pupils get experience in meeting people and salesmanship.

On the other hand, Whitmer stated, it can be argued that:

1. Citizens contribute their full measure of support to schools through tax payments and should not be asked for further contributions.

2. Schools should not engage in commercial activities that compete with community businesses and time spent in such drives might be put to better educational use.

Board member Monroe M. Osmun introduced a resolution favoring the study.

In other action, the board accepted an offer from the Caroll Construction Co., of Birmingham, to purchase the board's option on 22 acres of property along Lake Street for $2,500.

The firm agreed either to rehabilitate or remove the temporary, federal, war-housing project located on seven acres of the land. The company also agreed to build permanent housing units on the land "within a reasonable time" and that a portion will be rental units.

A spokesman for Caroll said whether the firm completes purchase of the property depends on reaching a suitable agreement with the Federal Housing Administration on buying the government-owned units.

A resolution introduced by Board Member Dr. Walter L. Godsell was passed approving a plan whereby teachers will be allowed one day this fall to visit other classrooms and schools.

The request came from the Professional Growth Committee, composed of teachers and administrators.

Some eight to 10 days will probably be set aside for the program in November. One school will be closed at a time to allow its staff to study programs in other classrooms.

Osmun raised the question of whether broadcasting of Pontiac High School football games would be allowed this season.

The plan previously was turned down. Whitmer restated his reasons for opposing broadcasting the contest saying he fears it would create the impression football is considered more important than other school activities.

"We feel it would be better to consider football just a normal part of things," he stated.

Osmun said he did not agree with Whitmer's point, but on the other hand broadcasting might create more community interest and result in bigger game attendance.

Board member Robert B. Oliver brought out that broadcasting of the high school's basketball games last winter had resulted in no criticism.

The board decided that if a program of broadcasting various school activities is worked out, football might be made a part of it.

They denied a request by officials of a local station that Friday night's game be put on the air.

Preliminary plans outlining the general features which will be included in future multi-purpose rooms were approved as presented by the H. E. Beyster company.

A request was denied from the Iraq Grotto, of Pontiac, to use Pontiac High to present a professional boxing match.

The Jehovah's Witnesses district organization was granted permission to use the high school gym for a convention Jan. 13-15 next year, providing no basketball games are scheduled at the time. The group was denied use of the cafeteria.

A letter was read from City Manager Walter K. Wilfman stating the board could not be exempted from paying building-inspection fees on school construction.

The Keego Harbor Church of Christ was granted permission to hold services in Whitfield School for two months. The church requested use of the school while it constructed a new building of its own.

The board said it will probably be willing to allow longer use of Whitfield School if the church has launched construction at end of two months.

The board decided to rent a room in the Marimont Baptist Church, 68 W. Walton Blvd., to conduct a special education class until school space is available.

State GOP Expects Crowd at Mackinac

LANSING (AP) — Republicans expect an overflow crowd of more than 500 persons at their "Forward to '56" conference this weekend.

The advance reservations overflowed from the Grand Hotel conference site, to other island inns.

A delegation of CIO members from Washtenaw County was expected to attend a panel discussion on farming and labor and join in organization plans.

Walter N. Brauninger of Chelsea, organizer of the Republican Labor Committee, said his group will present plans for a statewide Republican organizational drive.

Other panels will be held on health, education, welfare, industry, seaway and highways.

U.S. Churches Resisted Organ's Introduction

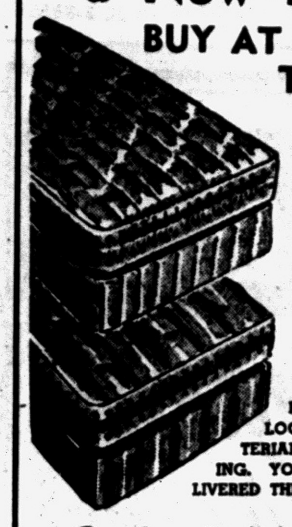

Early American worshippers long resisted the introduction of the organ as background for church services.

The first movement toward instrumental music in American churches began with the attempt of a Boston Puritan to donate an organ to his church in 1713.

It was not accepted by his church, but was used in King's Chapel in Boston. This organ fascinated young Benjamin Franklin.

Home of Future: Air and Plastic

Builders May Whip One Into Shape on Site in New Process

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Someday you may have a home made mainly of air and plastic, whipped together like a cake right at the building site.

* * *

The walls, floors and roof would be made of foamed plastic, full of insulation at low heating cost.

Inside you could take the bare frames for furniture and upholster them with soft, fluffy plastic material which you sprayed on by yourself.

Predictions of this home of tomorrow came today from Miss Betty Lou Raskin, research associate of the Johns Hopkins University radiation laboratory, in describing present and future marvels from foamed plastics.

* * *

Most foamed plastics are familiar plastics chemically treated to expand so they contain thousands of either cosed or open cells, or both. The process is the same as whipping up a cake.

They can be made as fluffy as cotton or as rigid as wood and woodlike in appearance, Miss Raskin told the American Chemical Society.

* * *

Other types can give you longer-wearing shoe soles and heels, resilient plastic tile floors, sterilizabe stuffed toys, and hundreds of other new products. Some are fire-resistant, others resist acids or sunlight or fungus, others stay Prices are gradually becoming competitive with other synthetics and some natural materials, Miss Raskin said.

SHE'S TOPS — Actress Deborah Kerr is the winner of the Sarah Siddons award as Chicago's outstanding actress of the 1954-55 season. She won for her performance in "Tea and Sympathy." Thirty-seven other actresses were considered for the honor by the Sarah Siddons Society, an organization of Drama devotees.

The name Michigan comes from the Indian word Mishigamaw, meaning "Great Water."

Electronic Brain Joins Air Force

New Device Measures Ocean-Spanning Rocket Speed and Course

WASHINGTON (INS) — The Air Force has disclosed the U.S. has developed a new long distance "electronic brain" device which it believes will keep this country ahead of Russia in the race to develop ocean-spanning atomic rockets.

The new device automatically measures and transmits complete information on the performance of super-secret guided missiles as they flash at speeds of several thousand miles an hour on test flights into the South Atlantic ocean.

The new recording device, which uses both radar and radio signals to relay its vital information, is based on the world's longest underwater coaxial cable that has just been laid from Florida to Puerto Rico.

The Air Force hailed the new development in these words:

"The new undersea cable puts in Air Force hands one of the most important military test facilities in the world."

UNDERSEA CABLE

The undersea cable runs from Cape Canaveral, Fla., where the Air Force has its highly secret for 1,575 miles through the Baguided missile test tstablishment, hamas to Mayaguez, Puerto Rico.

Electronic devices abetted by the cable will help the Air Force in develoing the fantastic IBM (Intercontinental Ballistim Missiles). These missiles, which may travel at speeds in excess of 3,000 miles an hour, would be propelled by rocket engines and may one day replace long range bombers.

Carrying atomic or hydrogen bomb warheads, the IBM's are considered the "ultimate weapon" of the future. When developed, missiles of nuclear destruction could be launched from one continent across oceans to another continent, carrying their destructive cargoes to targets in less than two hour stime.

Guided missile experts said today there is no present defense against a missile of this type.

The Wandering Travelers, a Pontiac male horus, and the Kentucky Wonders, a women's chorus from Louisville, Ky. will present a musical program Friday evening at 8 o'clock at the Church of God in Christ on Wesson St.

The Men's Club, assisted by the Rev. C. J. Johnson, are sponsoring the affair.

Record length of the stride of a race horse is 30 feet. The measurement is made from the time one hoof leaves the ground until that hoof strikes again.

Ford Will Show Trucks Sept. 23

Line for 1956 Includes Tandem Axle Model, New Pickup

Ford's 1956 truck models go on display in dealer showrooms throughout the country Sept. 23.

Two new models have been added—a T-750 tandem axle model in the heavy truck series, and a new, longer wheelbase pickup.

For 1956, Ford's cab design introduces increased visibility of wraparound windshields and optional wraparound rear windows.

Introduced for the first time to the trucking industry are two standard safety features—a safety steering wheel and safety door latches. Seat belts are optional.

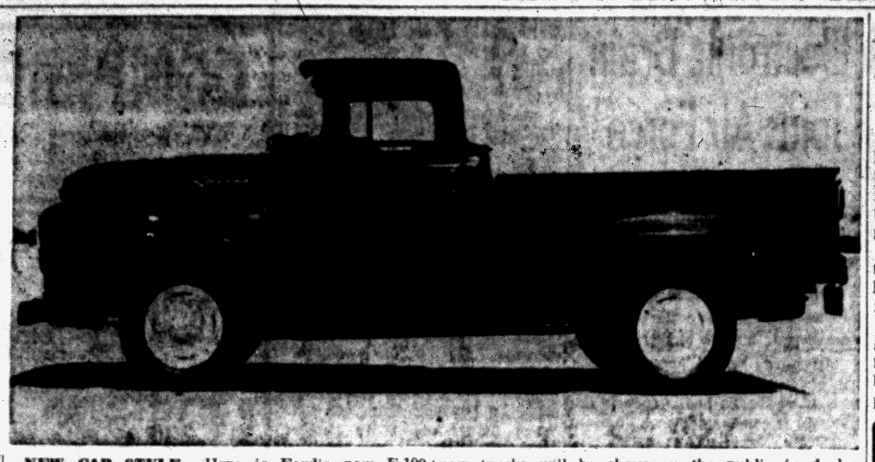

The safety steering wheel is designed with a rim three inches above the horn button. Also, a new safety door latch reduces the chance that doors will open in an accident.

* * *

TUBELESS TIRES

Tubeless tires, standard equipment this year, increase Ford truck economy. Larger payloads can be carried because tubeless tires and wheels weigh less, which is important to a trucker with as many as 10 tires on his truck. They reduce tire-change time up to 70 per cent.

Horsepower has been increased in all engines, by 12.7 per cent in the smallest 223 cu. in. cylinder engine rated at 133 h.p. to 17.6 per cent in the largest 332 cu. in. heavy duty Y-8 engine rated at 200 h.p. when equipped with a four barrel carburetor.

NEW CAB STYLE—Here is Ford's new F-100 pickup truck with wraparound windshield and hooded roof, available in a 110 or 118 inch wheelbase. The new trucks will be shown to the public in dealer showrooms Sept. 23. They will be shown here by Cy Owens, Inc., 147 S. Saginaw St.

'Dutchman' Arrested for Evading Taxes

BALTIMORE (AP)—Henry (the Dutchman) Grunewald, 62-year-old Washington influence man, was arrested today on charges of evading more than $96,000 in federal income taxes.

Grunewald was arrested by U.S. marshals in Washington early today and brought to Baltimore. He was held pending the posting of bail, fixed at $12,000.

Earlier this year the bald man of mystery, was sentenced to a maximum of 5 years and fined $10,000 in an alleged $160,000 tax-fix conspiracy. He was free on bond at the time of his arrest on the income tax charges.

The Pentagon's bus facilities can handle 25,000 passengers an hour.

Russian Encyclopedia Devotes Space to Pontiac the Indian, but Not the City

By RICHARD R. KASISCHKE

MOSCOW (AP)— Old Pontiac, the long dead Indian chief, gets more than three times as much space in the great Soviet Encyclopedia than that lively Michigan city of Pontiak (as they spell it here) which is "one of the centers of the automobile industry."

Pontiak comes into volume 34 of the encyclopedia, just off the presses here. The Michigan city gets a bare six lines.

The favoritism for the Indian chief may be attributed to the fact that the encyclopedia claims he fought against "British colonizers" and in the end was "treacherously killed."

Discrimination against Pontiac city, also may be attributed to the encyclopedia's feeling against what it calls "monocapitalists" like General Motors.

The Communists just love these big industrial complexes but they think they should be state-owned like those here. The encyclopedia never tells its readers how many common people are shareholders in giant General Motors, nor anything about union-negotiated wage contracts. It spends more time on dead Indians.

Here's what the encyclopedia has to say about Pontiak, city. "A city in the north of the U.S.A., in the state of Michigan, northwest of Detroit, 74,000 inhabitants (1950). One of the centers of the automobile industry; a great part of the plants are owned by General Motors. There are also shoe, tobacco and food plants."

And here is the Indian chief: "Pontiac (born around 1720 — died 1769: — chief of an Indian tribe in Ottawa from the Algonquin group in North America. In the 1760's he was head of an Indian resistance to the British colonizers.

"During the seven years war of 1756-1763 the Indians' struggle for liberation under the leadership of Pontiac was utilized by France, which fought for supremacy in North America against England.

"When the French possessions in North America passed over to England, Pontiac led the uprising of several Algonquin tribes against the British colonizers, and at first scored a number of victories. However in 1766, he had been forced to conclude peace with the Englishmen, and recognized the power of the King of England. He was treacherously killed."

IUE-Westinghouse Begin Wage Talks

PITTSBURGH (AP)—A national sympathy strike of the CIO International Union of Electrical Workers against Westinghouse Electric Corp. was called off today as union and management negotiators opened wage talks.

* * *

The Westinghouse Conference Board, governing body of union workers employed by Westinghouse ordered an end to the three-day walkout last night under an agreement signed by International President James B. Carey.

But the biggest CIO-IUE local in the Westinghouse chain — Local 601 at East Pittsburgh—refused to halt its five-week strike which touched off the national work stoppage.

Elsewhere, striking workers began streaming back to their jobs. Some 33,000 CIO-IUE members at 26 plants in nine states had struck in support of Local 601.

West Berlin Cops Nab 2 Plotting Neo-Nazis

BERLIN (AP)—West Berlin police today announced the arrest of two university students suspected of plotting a neo-Nazi uprising.

The two were identified as Stefan Malek, 31, and Karl Stange, 23. Police said they found a pistol and 26 rounds of ammunition in Malek's home. In his possession was also a written "proclamation of a National Revolution," they added.

State May Parole Two Murderers

LANSING (AP) — The State Parole Board said today it will hold hearings next Tuesday on applications for commutation of sentence from two inmates convicted of first degree murder.

The parole board will consider the cases of Ralph Martin, formerly of Algonac, and Joseph Wallace, formerly of Detroit.

Martin was sentenced to life by a St. Clair County court in 1930 for the fatal shooting of his brother. Martin, who had no previous criminal record, has an excellent record in prison with only one misconduct report, the board said.

If Martin is paroled, he will live with a son in Algonac.

Wallace was sentenced to a life term by a Detroit Recorder's Court in 1931. He was charged with the first degree murder of his wife.

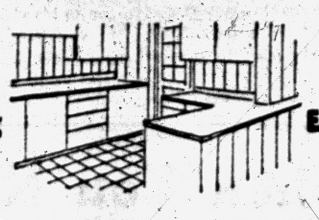

His record has been excellent, the board said, with only two misconduct reports in 24 years.

For the past six years, Wallace has served as a trusty. He is now working on a forestry assignment.

If a parole is granted, parole officers will arrange a home and employment for Wallace, the board said.

Listen While They Lose

OWENSBORO, Ky. (AP)—An elderly couple, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Alford, were sitting on their front porch when they heard a noise in the rear of the house. They thought it was a mousetrap going off. Later they discovered a burglar had entered and taken their $2,500 life savings.

Geologists say the White Pine ore body in Michigan's Upper Peninsula is the largest known undeveloped copper reserve in America.

LIVE SAFETY SLOGAN—Maryland Traffic Safety Commission's slogan is spelled out by 305 girls at Ocean City, each representing one highway death this year in Maryland.

Nixon Cites Strides in Equal Opportunity

NEW YORK (AP)—Vice President Nixon claims the nation has made more progress toward equal opportunity for all Americans during the Eisenhower administration than it made in any similar length of time since the Civil War.

* * *

He lists the opening of many new job opportunities in industry for Negroes among achievements.

Addressing a dinner sponsored by the Joint Defense Appeal of the American Jewish Committee and the Anti-Defamation League of B'nai B'rith, Nixon also claimed these other achievements last night:

* * *

An end to segregation in the armed forces and in veterans hospitals, launching of a "winning campaign" to end segregation in the District of Columbia and significant progress toward racial integration in public schools.

Nixon said some important objectives in the field of civil rights remain to be reached. He said they include a review of national immigration policy, as recommended by President Eisenhower.

Air Force Head Tours

PARIS (AP)—U.S. Air Force Secretary Donald A. Quarles, making his first tour of air bases in Europe since his appointment a month ago, conferred today with high officials at the French Air Ministry. He also visited the headquarters near Paris of NATO's European Command for a briefing and lunch with the supreme Allied commander, Gen. Alfred M. Gruenther.

Bob Considine Says:

New Miracle Plane Will Fly Low and Slow

NEW YORK (INS) — Jack Frye, the old crop-duster whose imagination did so much to bring air transport into the big leagues, unveiled an astonishing new plane today.

This almost incredible ship of the limitless sea or air around us makes its appearance hard on the heels of the recent transcontinental crossing of a huge B47 in four hours, the supersonic fighters shaped like Marilyn, the introduction by Trans-Canada and Capital Airlines of the turbo-prop Viscounts, wonders promised by Bell, Boeing, Lockheed and Douglas, and space satellites now under construction.

Frye and his associates have developed a ship that will fly slow.

The F1, or Frye Transport, is a four-engined craft that achieves the miracle of flying slower than a DC3. Its tricycle landing gear doesn't go through those old-fashioned tricks of tucking itself up into the belly of the plane, like shy kangaroo triplets. It stays put.

The F1 will never have any pressurization trouble in its cabin, either. It isn't pressurized.

* * *

Naturally, the whole aviation industry is agog. The revolutionary plan's mock-up doesn't start wind tunnel tests at Fort Worth until Sept. 19, and the first production model won't be ready until the end of next year.

GETTING ORDERS

But Frye, still young enough to be aviation's boy wonder all over again, is receiving orders.

* * *

"How did you ever hit upon the idea of a slow plane?" I asked Frye at the Wings Club luncheon in his honor, trying to keep the note of envy out of my voice.

"It came to me in the 1920s when I was crop-dusting in Mexico and doing a little charter work on the side," the former head of transcontinental and Western Airlines said.

"There were no roads to speak of in most of the places I flew, I kept thinking of what a role a transport plane could play in the development of places like that.

* * *

"But aviation took another tack, and I may have helped it to take it. Everybody tried for more speed, more comfort. In the search for speed, the wing loading has jumped from 20 pounds per square foot to 90.

"This in turn has called for bigger airports and the kind of expensive appurtenances a place like Mexico, let's say, or parts of Africa, couldn't afford.

"I put this idea in the back of my head—this idea of a plane that would make its way because it was slow — and talked to very few people about it. But I talked it up as long ago as the early 30s, especially to Leland Heyward.

"Now, after all these years, I've put together the capital and right technical team, and I think we've got our plane."

* * *

The engines will be 600-horsepower Pratt and Whitney Wasps, though it is built to take also an 850 h.p. turboprop now planned. It will carry 50 passengers and a lot of freight several hundred miles at 150 M.P.H.

It will cost half as much as the twin-engined Convair and will be used by small "feeder" lines as well as cargo people. It is designed to take off and land at only 55 M.P.H. and will need but half the strip used by a DC3.

Because it is slow and safe and pilots and instruments get better and better, it will be able to operate in weather which grounds other planes, Frye said.

But he was thinking of good weather, too. "It's a high-wing job," he reported. "First one in a long time. We have an upper deck for the crew. That frees the nose of the plane. We'll put plate glass windows in there to give the people a pilot's view of what's happening ahead."

Sounds exciting. Can't wait to have one of those thrilling lazy rides. Frye, a man who worked many miracles in the past, has worker another.

He has come up with the exact kind of plane many mothers of World War II pilots had in mind when they kissed junior goodbye and counseled, "remember, dear, always fly low and slow."

Williams' Appointments Announced in Lansing

LANSING (INS)—The governor has appointed Prof. Charles Brassfield of Ann Arbor to the Board of Examiners in the Basic Sciences for a term which expires Oct. 29, 1957.

Governor Williams also reappointed Joseph J. Mainolfi of Saginaw a trustee for the Judges' Retirement System and Ben Goldman of Marenisco as a member of the State Board of Tax Appeals.

Soldiers Treat Forsaken Pets in Varied Ways

VIENNA (INS)—The withdrawal of Big Four occupation troops from Austria has created a strange problem for the individual soldier: What shall I do with my dog?

* * *

British and French occupation authorities have forbidden their troops to take their pets with them when they leave Austria by the end of September.

The American GI generally is able to get permission to take his dog with him if the animal complies with sanitary regulations.

The British and French soldiers generally try to place the dogs with Austrian friends.

However, the Soviet soldier solves the problem easily. He generally leaves his pet behind in the empty house when he moves out.

TODAY'S ASSIGNMENT FOR

JUNIOR EDITORS

READIN' 'N WRITIN' 'N 'RITHMETIC—4

When you were learning your ABC's, did you ever wonder where the alphabet came from?

Picture writing developed slowly into letters of the alphabet. The Phoenicians were an ancient people who were great traders and traveled all over the world of their time. They took the alphabet with them. The Greeks learned from them and the Romans gave it the form we still use.

At first men cut symbols into stone with a chisel, or pressed them into wet clay with a wedge-shaped tool. The Romans scratched letters into a layer of wax on ivory tablets with a sharp instrument called a stylus. People wrote on broken pottery with stones or burned wood, or painted on smooth wood with tree gum or plant juices.

The girl in the picture is writing like the ancients, and you can too. Fill a shallow cardboard box with common clay, pressing it down smooth and even. Then with a wooden skewer or a pencil scratch your message into it carefully, making the letters clear and even. Set the box in the sun to dry thoroughly. Then when you take the clay out of the box you will have a real writing tile.

Mechanical Icer in Wyoming Does Quick Job

LARAMIE, Wyo. (AP) — That fresh head of lettuce you have in your refrigerator wouldn't be so fresh if it wasn't for the mechanized icing of refrigerator cars here.

* * *

Entire trains of produce — 60 to 90 cars — now can be re-iced in less than a half hour.

The average time for icing a car is about 45 seconds.

Homer Whitlook, manager of the operation says it is the only completely mechanical icing setup in the nation. From the time the ice is manufactured — 486 tons per day — until it is dropped into the refrigerator cars, it is not touched by human hands.

* * *

A conveyor moves 300-pound blocks of ice to a platform level with the tops of the cars. Another machine chops them into 50-pound hunks and flips them into the bunkers at each end of the car. One man controls the electric-powered machine.

Bar men chop up ice sticking above the bunker hatches and a salt machine follows with the correct amount of salt. Another man closes the hatches and the train is on its way east again.

Beauties Have Plenty to Learn About Men

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK (INS)—If the 1956 Miss America and her curvy colleagues are typical samples of young ladyhood, then it's a woman's world for sure and the men of the future had best bone up on their Ps and Qs.

P stands for "Pamper your girl." Q means "Quick, Tiffany, the three-karat proof that I love her!"

Nobody knows, of course, what a woman of 18 or thereabouts is going to answer when she finds herself suddenly in front of a mighty audience and is asked the pay-off question, "What kind of man would you marry?" But the chances are that since she has had no time to prepare a fancy answer, she will blurt out the truth.

The truth, as expressed by the purty Miss America finalists, was pretty shocking. The kind of man that four out of five of them wanted must have these basic assets: Money, good looks, height of body and depth of soul, and—above all else—a complete and unselfish devotion to his woman.

* * *

The fifth girl (who also came out fifth in the final balloting, to my sorrow) was Miss Oklahoma, who asked only for sincerity and honesty in her man; someone who would measure up to her papa.

JUST CONSIDERATE

As a woman who believes, perhaps naively, that men are here to stay and therefore deserve a bit of understanding and kindness, I was amazed when Miss Colorado—now Miss America—declared in a serious and dedicated tone that what she required above all was that a man be considerate and understanding of her.

* * *

In return, he would have her flashing eyes, stunning figure, and presumably the right to tell his business associates that his wife was once known as "Miss America."

Miss Chicago, in a lilting Midwestern voice, requested only a man "that recognizes a woman as something to be taken care off."

Miss North Carolina gurgled, "Ah think the fust thing anyone (male) needs is sincerity and love and understanding" for his woman.

* * *

And Miss Oregon, the closest runner-up to he queen, summed up for the group the more material attributes a prospective husband should possess. "I want him to have a college education, and I want him to be tall, and I want him to have a good job," she said. "I want him to be well educated because this way I feel he . . . can always get another job."

BIG LETDOWN

These young girls with the "I want" attitude, referred to in the old days as the "gimmes," may be in for a big letdown. Either that, or the men of America are in for a big shake-up.

The former contention seems more likely than the latter, since most of the good men these days have their feet solidly on the ground, and most of the good women prefer them in that heads-up, soles-planted condition.

At first, this may be a trifle difficult for Miss America, Miss Chicago, Miss North Carolina and Miss Oregon to comprehend. For at the age of 18 or 19 an attractive woman who sees the moon over her shoulder believes subconsciously that, if she reaches back, she can haul it down.

But it's to be hoped—and expected—that these lovelies will mature before the time actually comes for them to select a spouse.

And with maturity they will find that 1) good looks in a man are about as significant as his golf scores; 2) money is not as much fun as working for it, and 3) vanity is for the birds and the narcissi, and the man who caters completely to his woman is not necessarily a hero.

It's wonderful to be a beautiful doll.

But the girl who wants to be treated like one is a selfish child.

Congenial Man Asks All to Sip and All to Pay

MANITOWOC, Wis. (INS)—Charles Kirwan, 19, stepped up to a bar in Manitowoc and shouted:

"When I drink everybody drinks."

The bartender served everyone in the house a drink. Then he tried to collect. Said Kirwan:

"When I pay, everybody pays."

A fight followed, a woman was insulted and sheriff's deputies were called.

Kirwan and a friend were arrested and given 10 day jail sentences.

Sheriff Lester Nichols said, "I don't know if the bill ever got paid or not."

FROSTY "PUMPKIN" — This radome at chilly Thule, Greenland, presented an icy painting problem for members of a Bendix Aviation Corporation's radar servicing crew. Senator Favors U.S. Trade With Soviets

BERLIN (AP)—Sen. Sparkman (D-Ala) concluded a 14-day tour behind the Iron Curtain today and announced he favors more American trade with the Soviet bloc.

* * *

"I don't see how we profit ourselves by having a standoff trade policy," he said.

He emphasized, however, that only consumer goods should be involved and not items which might be used to build up a war machine.

* * *

He said he believed trade restrictions had lost their purpose, since in Russia "there doesn't seem to be any danger of a collapse, short of a catastrophe."

Sparkman made these additional observations:

Moscow's only Baptist church was "jammed" for a service he attended.

Long lines were in front of Soviet food stores and he was told meat was sometimes scarce. But there was no evidence of discontent.

People in Poland and Czechoslovakia were better dressed than the Russians. "Again, the people seemed friendly."

Hopalong Whips Davy Crockett South of Border

MEXICO CITY, Sept. 14 (AP) — Davy Crockett may be a big shot in the United States, but Hopalong Cassidy is far and away the favorite with Mexico's young bang-bang set.

* * *

Davy Crockett, in fact, never got to first base south of the border. He had two strikes on him: he fought against the Mexicans at the Alamo, and his coonskin hat is a bit out of place in the tropics.

The Case for Juvenile Decency

Sports—Mortal Adversary of Delinquency

By JACK LOTTO
INS Staff Writer

Boys with air rifles were a constant source of trouble to authorities in Omaha, Neb., for many years.

Rival neighborhood gangs, after getting their fill of street lights, auto windshields and similar targets, would draw battle lines across empty lots and shoot it out.

Police calls about B-B gun trouble averaged three a day. The Omaha public power district alone estimated its annual air rifle damage bill at $20,000.

Now, police complaints about the misuse of B-B guns have dropped 90 per cent from a few years ago when Police Chief Henry Boesen was struck in the face by a rifle pellet.

A disturbed citizen, Richard Stork, organized a neighborhood club to give air rifle training in his basement. His campaign ended rifle troubles.

Within a year, 23 clubs were organized with 400 members.

The youngsters are allowed to use their B-B guns for an hour each week at a cost of five cents a session. Rules of the National Rifle Association are used.

Offutt Air Force Base, headquarters of the Strategic Air Command, became the site of an annual inter-city air rifle tournament. It attracts hundreds of young marksmen and nearly a thousand spectators.

LEGION BASEBALL

Another effective summer program to combat juvenile delinquency successfully is the American Legion junior baseball program.

C. O. Bowley, who has served without pay for 22 years as commissioner of the program in Omaha, says he knows of only one young player who got into trouble with the law.

Here's how some other cities are contributing affirmatively to "Operation Juvenile Decency."

ATLANTA: A weekly radio program spotlights teenagers "who've done right rather than those who did wrong."

PHILADELPHIA: The Wharton Center is conducting a project known as "Operation Street Corner."

In a genuine grass roots approach, social workers meet with gangs on the street corners and gradually guide them into self-governing clubs. Statistics show a marked drop in law infractions.

KANSAS CITY: The percentage of Italian-descent youth who get into trouble in Kansas City is very small, according to juvenile authorities. They attribute this to the good work of the Don Bosco Center in the Italian district. It was built by the men in the neighborhood because "we had no recreation facilities and had to do something."

SAN FRANCISCO: A "youth serves the community" program is a highly-regarded youth project in the west coast city.

The San Francisco Youth Association works in cooperation with the city's volunteers' bureau, a social work organization. Teenagers are assigned to jobs as nurses aides; teachers for younger children or readers for the blind.

The association also sponsors "Youth Week" when the association devotes its efforts to getting support for a series of days with self-explanatory titles.

They include "Youth in Religion Day," "Youth in Government," "Youth and the Community" and "Youth on Review Day." The latter featured a city-wide variety show headlining outstanding high school talent, display booths showing young agency activities and other displays of outstanding work produced in high schools.

Police Watch Slaying, Suicide

Authorities Arrive in Time to See Carpenter Shoot Wife, Self

PAW PAW (AP)—A 40-year-old carpenter yesterday shot his wife to death as state police watched and took his own life with a shotgun afterward.

Police were just arriving at the home of John Hatrick, a father of four, when they heard a gunshot and saw his wife squirm to the floor. They watched through a window of the home.

Officers said when they reached the inside of the home Hatrick was lying dead in the living room and his 39-year-old wife, Vivian, was dead in the front hallway.

Police said they saw her lurch for the front door as the blast went off.

Officers were called by a neighbor who said she heard an argument in the Hatrick home and, knowing Hatrick had a gun, called police to protect his wife.

A son, 19-year-old George Hatrick, was home at the time of the shooting. Two younger members of the family, Gerald, 11, and Ricky, 5, were in school. A fourth son is in service.

The neighbor told police Hatrick's wife had him arrested for assault and battery Monday and he had paid a $25 fine and court costs after pleading guilty in Municipal Court.

Lack of Funds Hits Farm Study

Proposed Survey Must Wait Until Later Date, Supervisors Say

Members of the Oakland County Plan Commission and Supervisors' Agricultural Committee were told yesterday no funds are presently available to conduct a study of the county's farming areas.

The two groups had each hoped to obtain $3,000 extra in their 1956 budgets to finance the survey in which Michigan State University had tentatively agreed to join.

Plan Commission Director George N. Skrubb said the Supervisors' Ways and Means Committee told him Monday not enough cash is left in the general fund to pay for the study right now.

"This does not rule out making the request again at a later date," said Skrubb.

Agricultural Committee Chairman Howard J. Reid said, "The study could help solve many important problems and I would like to see it carried out as soon as possible."

Plan Commission member Roger Oberg and County Agricultural Agent Lyle B. Abel also spoke in favor of a continuing attempt to realize the survey.

Among other things, the survey would be designed to aid assessing officers in setting land values in expanding areas, explore new taxing methods which might encourage farming to continue on particularly fertile lands and aid in devising better zoning and land-use practices.

Ghost Town Lives Again

CENTRAL, Mich. (AP) — This Upper Peninsula ghost town comes alive one day each year. Former residents swarm over the once-booming copper town. They meet at the only painted building — the Methodist Church. Then they wander past the gray houses where trees grow through the floor, and leave.

Michigan's copper country has several ghost towns.

Almost all varieties of deer shed their horns each year.

Kalamazoo Plant Makes Most of Nation's Guitars

KALAMAZOO (AP)—A lot of twing-tangs and plink-plunks are born in Kalamazoo.

They come into the world at the Gibson, Inc., factory, where most of the nation's guitars and mandolins are painstakingly molded, glued and worked into shape.

The company produces 85 per cent of all the fretted stringed instruments manufactured in the country today. They are the stringed group which have metal dividing strips on finger boards.

Orville Gibson founded the company in 1894, in the days when gay nineties swains impressed the girls with their skill on the mandolin. But the instrument then was a kind of melon shaped arrangement hard to handle and hard to play.

Gibson developed a flat back mandolin and set up his own plant to make them. Soon he branched out into guitars. He found that by electrifying the instruments more volume and different musical effects could be produced. Business boomed.

TOP PERFORMERS

Today such performers as Les Paul and Mary Ford, Gene Autry and Roy Rogers are on the firm's customer list. A quality Gibson guitar costs up to $650—but may be in use from 20 to 50 years.

Four or five different woods may go into a single instrument. Sitka spruce is used for tops; maple and mahogany for rims and lining, ebony and rosewood for the frets. Gibson Vice President John Huis has his office paneled in 211 rare woods used in musical instruments.

The intricate manufacturing process turns wires into braids for strings and shapes and glues wood into a graceful shell.

These age old techniques, going back to the violin-making days of Stradivarius, wind up with the ultra modern use of invisible ray heaters to dry the final coatings of lacquer.

Company President T. M. McCarthy currently is turning to production of the clavioline, an electronic string instrument. It can duplicate the sound of a full orchestra or any of its instruments through the use of a five-octave keyboard.

That should add a supply of rooty-toot-toots, boom-booms and zoom-zooms to Gibson's musical output.

There are more than nine million trucks on American highways as of 1955.

Say 50,000 Graduate From Red China Schools

TOKYO (AP)—Pieping radio says 50,000 young specialists, one-fourth of them women, have been graduated from Red China's colleges and universities this summer. That is 10,000 more than a year ago.

Ting Hua, assistant minister of higher education, was quoted as saying the number "still falls short of the needs of the large-goals ale construction under way in different parts of China."

Legislator Sees Depression Sign

Agricultural Chairman Cites Parallel to Farm Situation of '30's

EAST LANSING (AP)—The chairman of the House Agricultural committee said yesterday the present farm situation is a "frightening parallel" to events before the great farm depression of the thirties.

Rep. Haroly D. Cooley (D-NC) said that agriculture would be in the depths of a depression if the country did not have a farm program.

Cooley spoke at the 40th annual meeting of the National association of County Agricultural Agents at Michigan State University.

"A farm recession is creeping again over our land, in a frightening parallel to what happened to agriculture in the years immediately preceding the great depression of the 1930's," Cooley said.

He charged that opponents of the farm program have seized upon the present plight of agriculture "to launch a fight to the finish—to destroy this program."

He said American farmers need the program because agriculture, unlike other elements in the economy, has no device to pattern its production to market needs.

In addition, he said, agriculture is the only industry that does not set its prices but goes into the market place and asks "What will you give me?"

A farm program is not special treatment, Cooley declared. It is similar in principle to the minimum wage and collective bargaining laws, the tariffs of industry, rate setting for utilities and fair trade laws.

* * *

Cooley said no man has a right to more pride than the county agent in the contribution he has made to American life.

He challenged county agents to put the "truth about agriculture" across to the nation.

Beat Insomnia by Cuddling Up to Teddy Bear

LONDON (AP)—Three British electronics engineers reported today the invention of a new-style teddy bear designed to put people to sleep.

All an insomnia sufferer has to do is plug the bear into an electric socket and then cuddle up with it, they said.

* * *

Explained Norman Parker, one of the inventors:

"Air is then pumped by an artificial lung in and out of the teddy bear at the rate of 10 to 12 breaths a minute, the normal breathing rate of an adult when asleep.

"This slow, rythmic breathing by the teddy bear aids the brain to slow down the user's breathing rate and also helps the body to relax."

* * *

for adults who might feel silly cuddled up with a teddy bear, the invention also comes in the form of a pulsing pillow.

Plans Tree Increases

GREENFIELD, Mass. (AP)—Massachusetts, 9th state in population but only 44th in area, nevertheless is planning to increase its timber production. Plans envisage doubling the number of state tree farms within a year. The Massachusetts Tree Farm Committee says that under management, the state's 3,300,000 acres of forest could double or treble wood production.

Senator Rapped by Postmaster

Critic Johnston Refused to Help Solve Situation, Says Postal Official

CHICAGO (AP)—Asst. Postmaster General Eugene J. Lyons says Sen. Olin D. Johnston (D-SC) has refused to help solve the very post office problems the senator criticizes.

* * *

Lyons fired back at Johnston last night in a speech at a meeting of the National Assn. of Post Office and Surface Postal Transport Mail Handlers, Watchmen and Messengers.

He said the senator, who accused the department of "waste" in a speech before another group of post office employes in Chicago Tuesday, "personally refused to hold hearings on postage rates in the last session of Congress."

"By doing so, he blocked consideration of our efforts to reduce the postal deficit and further burdened the Federal Treasury during a period when the requirements of national security impose such a heavy burden on taxation of our people," he said.

* * *

Johnston, chairman of the Senate Post Office Committee, said in his Tuesday address that qualified observers believe 250 million dollars could be saved by "elimination of waste" in post office operations. While he did not say, it was indicated he meant 250 millions a year.

Lyons countered that "the fact that the wages now paid" postal workers "amounts to 80 per cent of all postal expenditures points up the folly of the senator's claim that savings of 250 million dollars a year could be realized by some sort of magic."

* * *

Lyons said Johnston had "offered no constructive suggestions" to improve postal service.

'Uranium Dirt' Cure-All Rapped by Texas Official

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP)—State Health Commissioner Henry A. Holle yesterday debunked "uranium dirt" treatments being offered in Texas.

"The healing value of dirt containing minute amounts of uranium isn't worth the time it takes a man to cover his aching feet," Dr. Holle said in a statement.

He said "dozens' of the so-called treatment centers started up after the idea spread that the allegedly radioactivity in the dirt was a cure-all for assorted aches and pains.

Some uranium "healers" have erected tents in which patrons can sit while absorbing alleged radioactive emanations, Dr. Holle said. Patrons were said to pay $2 to $3 an hour.

Formosa has a population of 8,749,000 an increase of 2,658,691 in the past eight years.

Ambassador Vacations

MOSCOW (AP)—U.S. Ambassador Charles E. Bohlen left Moscow by plane today for a vacation in the United States. His family already is in the United States.

Commission Son of Ex-Red Joiner

NEW LONDON, Conn. (AP)—A 23-year-old Coast Guardsman who wasn't commissioned an ensign last April because his mother was a former member of allegedly subversive organizations got his commission yesterday.

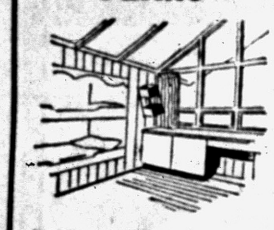

N. Pierre Gaston graduated from the officer training school at the Coast Guard Academy here four months ago. After simple commissioning ceremonies yesterday, he was assigned to report to the Humboldt, a weather ship at Boston Oct. 5.

His mother Mrs. Jeanne Grisez of San Francisco, Calif., said she wasn't aware when she joined the organizations in question that they had any Communist connection.

Said Gaston: "I'm very proud and happy to be an officer of the Coast Guard. I am sure that both my parents are overjoyed too."

Attorney's Vote Picks Ike to Win

Legal Heads in 34 States Indicate Eisenhower's Rerun and Victory

BRETTON WOODS, N.H. (UP) —A poll of attorneys general from 34 states brought out the opinion today that President Eisenhower would run for a second term and would win the election.

The informal poll was conducted by a reporter yesterday at the annual conference of attorneys general.

* * *

Of the 34 who voted, 20 are Democrats and 14 Republicans.

Thirty of the 34 said they thought the President would run again. The vote that he would win the election was 20-9, with 5 expressing no opinion.

Six Democrats voted with 14 Republicans that the President would win another term.

Twenty-two named Adlai Stevenson as the top Democratic possibility for president. Nine named Gov. Averell Harriman of New York. Gov. Allan Shivers of Texas and Sen. Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn) received one vote each. One refrained from voting.

* * *

Atty. Gen. John Ben Shepperd of Texas was chosen president of the Association of Attorneys General for the coming year. Atty. Gen. Louis C. Wyman of New Hampshire was chosen vice president.

Industrialists to Open Waikiki Beach Town

HONOLULU (UP) — Industrialist Henry J. Kaiser and Fritz B. Burns, Los Angeles builder, gave a press preview yesterday of their million-dollar Hawaiian village on Waikiki Beach.

The village, complete in Polynesian flavor, will open Sunday on the former Niumalu Hotel grounds.

It can accommodate 180 guests. Each guest house is thatched with palms and paneled with tapa cloth, giving a grass shack appearance.

Detective Gets Big Bang

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (UP)—Detective John Burk switched on the radio in his cruiser yesterday and — his gas tank blew up.

Burk was burned slightly on the face, but the blast broke a rear window of the cruiser, buckled the trunk, blew a hole in the gas tank and knocked Burk's hat out the window.

"I thought I'd been dynamited," said Burk.

A spark from his radio transmitter apparently ignited gas fumes, police said.

Walled Lake Will Dedicate MacKenzie Clinic Saturday

Built for Doctor Killed in Crash

Contributions of Labor, Materials Halve Cost of $60,000 Structure

By ELEANOR DUCKWITZ
Press Walled Lake Correspondent

WALLED LAKE—Dedication of the Dr. O. R. MacKenzie Memorial Clinic will take place at 3 p.m. Saturday, Sept. 17, the second anniversary of the death of "Dr. Mac."

Ceremonies dedicating the building at 215 Ladd Rd. will have J. L. Taylor as chairman. Waldo C. Proctor, secretary of the clinic board, will review the history of the clinic which fulfills the dream of the doctor who lost his life in an automobile crash on the eve of his departure for Philadelphia for a year's further study.

Presentation of a plaque will be made by Dr. James O. Devereaux, executive secretary of the Oakland County Medical Assn. The Rev. O. A. Gerkin will deliver the invocation and Wendall Maloch the benediction.

The sixty thousand dollar building was constructed for $30,000, thanks to voluntary contributions of material and labor. Many fund raising activities also have been sponsored in the area during the last two years to make the clinic possible.

Those who attend the open house following the dedication Saturday or who view it on Sunday from 1 until 5 p.m. will discover that the building contains consultation and examining rooms for two doctors and a dentist; complete x-ray and technician's laboratory; a baby room, waiting rooms and lavatories.

Elmer Conrad is chairman of a dinner dance to be held at the VFW post following dedication and open house at 7:30 p.m. Saturday, proceeds benefiting the clinic fund.

At the dinner Conrad will introduce Dr. Harry Munson and Dr. W. R. Rech, who will occupy the medical section of the clinic, and Dr. Conrad Speck, dentist.

Featured display at the dinner will be a cake baked by Mrs. Purl Farley which will be an exact model of the clinic.

Mexican Alien Picks His Difficulties Here

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — A Mexican alien charged with being in the United States illegally was before Federal Judge Jacob Weinberger.

Here is the record of part of the judge's interrogation, through an interpreter:

"Your honor, there are difficulties in Mexico."

"But, when you come to this country there are difficulties, too; such as going to jail."

"Yes, but in the United States the difficulties are better."

About 400 of each 100,000 U. S. babies born in 1950 will live to see year 2050, statistics indicate.

New Generation in Passion Play

Young Meiers Growing Into Famous Roles in Black Hills

SPEARFISH, S. D. (RNS)—Another generation of Meiers is slowly growing into the lead roles of the Black Hills Passion Play—the Christus and Mary the Mother.

Soon 17-year-old Johanna and her German-born cousin Heinrich, 24, will become the eighth generation to appear in this play which was first performed in Luenen, Germany.

Three times each week this summer Johanna and Heinrich join their family and hundreds of residents of Spearfish in presenting the evening performance of the Passion Play started here 17 years ago.

Johanna, a dramatic soprano, dances the part of Salome in the King Herod scene. Heinrich currently is one of the robbers in the crucifixion scene and is an understudy for John, the disciple.

Both, however, are being groomed for the major roles in which Johanna will replace her mother and Heinrich, when he has and "becomes more seasoned theatrically," will replace his uncle.

Josef Meier, who does not look like paintings of the Christ when he wears street clothes (he has only a small mustache instead of a beard), says that "Heinrich is coming along. He has a strong baritone voice and is learning to talk from the stomach—the kind of projection needed for talking on our outdoor stages."

Meier, whose voice lifts out strongly over the hillside amphitheater, is a soft-spoken, gentle man offstage. In this South Dakota setting where he decided to renew the Passion Play, after leaving Germany during the early Hitler era, he has become a real westerner.

Johanna may have to make a choice between a singing career and the Passion Play some day. Last spring, she was one of four finalists in the Florida state musical festival and won a scholarship to the University of Miami.

State Owes Debt to City

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — City Auditor Agnes Van Dyke says the state still owes Grand Rapids $10,000 for cleanup work on property along the Grand River owned by the Michigan Veterans facility. The city said it performed the work under an agreement that the state pay for it.

Crisp Dessert Is Really Peachy!

Make Good Use of Fresh Fruit

Baked Treat Is Tasty Either Served Warm or Chilled

Fresh peaches are still in season, and there's a bumper crop this year. In some parts of the country the crop is estimated at 7 per cent above average. Since peaches and cream are a symbol of the very best there is, the bumper crop is good news.

* * *

This Fresh Peach Crisp is a quick and easy dessert with lots of appetite appeal, and a wonderful way to take advantage of the good supply of fresh peaches.

The recipe, developed in test kitchens, combines peaches, a crumbly brown sugar topping with a base of margarine, and a delicate touch of almond flavor to complement the peaches.

It's best served warm with cream, but good too when it's chilled and served with whipped cream or ice cream.

6 peaches, peeled and sliced
¼ cup granulated sugar
2 teaspoons lemon juice
½ teaspoon almond extract
¾ cup sifted all-purpose flour
¼ teaspoon salt
¾ cup light brown sugar, firmly packed
⅓ cup margarine

Arrange peach slices in greased oblong 6x10x2 baking dish. Mix granulated sugar, lemon juice and almond extract and spoon over peaches. Mix flour, salt and brown sugar in mixing bowl. Cut in margarine with fork until mixture is crumbly. Sprinkle over peaches.

Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees) 50 to 55 minutes. Makes six servings.

FRESH PEACH CRISP — This delicious Fresh Peach Crisp is so easy to make that you'll want to serve it often while peaches are still in season. It's equally delicious served hot or cold, with cream, whipped cream or ice cream.

Serve 6 to 8 Persons With 2 Cups of Chicken

Here's a main dish that generously serves six to eight with 2 cups of chicken. Heat together 2 cans condensed cream of mushroom soup, three-fourths cup milk, one-half teaspoon salt, one-eighth teaspoon black pepper, 1 teaspoon paprika and 2 cups cooked diced chicken. Stir in 1 cup drained crushed pineapple and one-half cup toasted pecans.

Serve immediately over hot cooked white rice. Garnish with Sprinkle paprika over the creamed chicken.

Creamed Salmon Is Quickly Prepared

Here's an old standby, worth remembering for a quick meal.

Creamed Salmon

1 can (1 pound) salmon
3 tablespoons butter or margarine
3 tablespoons flour
¾ teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon pepper
1½ cups milk
1 tablespoon finely grated onion (pulp and juice)
1 teaspoon lemon juice
2 tablespoons minced parsley

Remove bones and skin from salmon; flake coarsely. Melt butter in a saucepan over low heat; blend in flour, salt and pepper.

Add milk; cook and stir constantly over moderately low heat until bubbly and thickened. Stir in onion and lemon juice.

Fold in salmon; be careful not to break up too much. Reheat. Serve with parsley. Makes five servings.

Add Celery Wedges

Small wedges of stuffed celery are pleasant to come upon in a salad. Try stuffing the celery with a mixture of cream cheese and minced anchovies; then cut the stuffed stalks into bite-size wedges and add them to mixed greens that have been tossed with French dressing.

Steaks Insure Hearty Brunch for Bachelors

Satistics reassure us that bachelors are still plentiful in the U.S.A. and more are coming along each year. To make sure we don't neglect these men who enjoy the luxury of an "efficiency" kitchen, today's feature is an easy to prepare Bachelor's Brunch, suitable for Sunday noon or lazy holiday weekends.

* * *

First of all, set the oven at 350 degrees. Then pop into a pan as many sweet rolls as you think you can eat and place in the oven to warm.

Break and scramble eggs in a frying pan or on a hot griddle. As eggs become firm enough to "corral", move them to the side of the pan, and place two frozen flaked beef steaks beside them.

By the time you get your juice from the refrigerator and pour it into your glass, one side of the steaks will be done. Turn meat over, salt and pepper eggs and steaks.

The minute and a half, or so, it takes you to pour coffee and put it on the table will give the steaks all the time they need to be cooked. And you'll be ready to enjoy the most hearty breakfast a man can find for himself or his guests.

* * *

To give your scrambled eggs a new and snappy flavor, try adding chopped chives, almond slivers or garlic seasoning.

P.S. to married men: Try this brunch out as a special surprise on the "little woman." Give her brunch in bed for her birthday, anniversary or next time you're up earlier than she is!

Pour Rich Sugar Sauce on Vanilla-Banana Cream

Looking for a bang-up Sunday dessert that's different? Well, here's one we tried last week. Use pure vanilla extract in this dessert because the flavor of real vanilla withstands chilling better.

Vanilla-Banana Cream

1 envelope unflavored gelatin
¼ cup cold water
⅔ cup sugar
1-16 teaspoon salt
2 eggs, separated
1 cup milk
1 tablespoon sugar
1½ teaspoons pure vanilla extract
1 cup sliced bananas
½ cup heavy cream, whipped

Soften gelatin in cold water. Combine the one-third cup sugar in top of double boiler with salt and egg yolks. Stir in milk. Cook over hot water (not boiling) until the mixture coats a metal spoon. Stir in softened gelatin. Chill until mixture begins to thicken.

Add pure vanilla extract and bananas. Beat egg whites until they stand in soft peaks. Beat in the remaining 1 tablespoon sugar, and fold into the mixture. Fold in whipped cream.

Pour into six individual molds. Chill until firm and ready to serve. Serve with Brown Sugar Sauce. Serves six.

Brown Sugar Sauce

1¼ cups brown sugar, firmly packed
⅔ cup white corn syrup
⅓ cup butter or margarine
⅔ cup (⅓ 15-ounce can) sweetened condensed milk
1 teaspoon pure vanilla extract

Cook the first three ingredients together until thoroughly hot and sugar has melted. Remove from heat. Stir in condensed milk and pure vanilla extract. Cool.

Serve over Vanilla Banana Cream molds or ice cream. This sauce thickens on standing. If it becomes too thick, thin with a little hot water. Store in a covered jar in refrigerator. Yields 2 cups.

Duckling Serves 3-4

A 4-pound, ready-to-cook-weight, duckling will make three or four servings. Count on buying two of the ducklings if you are having six to eight persons for dinner.

Butterscotch Loaf Is Sweet, Crunchy

Enriched bread plays a starring role in Butterscotch Loaf. Sweet and crunchy, this breakfast treat will win applause for you.

You can make Butterscotch Loaf in a few minutes, too, with a loaf of enriched bread from your local bakery.

Butterscotch Loaf

¼ cup melted butter or margarine
½ cup brown sugar
½ cup dark corn syrup
¾ cup broken nutmeats
¼ cup raisins
1 loaf sliced enriched bread

Put melted butter or margarine in bottom of large loaf pan, covering entire bottom of pan. Sprinkle sugar evenly over bottom of pan. Add syrup, nutmeats and raisins, distributing them evenly.

Tie loaf together loosely with clean string. Place entire loaf of bread into pan, with top of loaf on bottom of pan. Press loaf firmly into pan so bread will absorb syrup.

Bake in hot oven (425 degrees) 15 minutes. Let cool for a few minutes. Makes eight servings.

Pretty vegetable platter: Cauliflower surrounded with alternate mounds of carrots and green peas or snap beans.

CREAMED TASTE TREAT CELERY — Sunday's leftover roast appears as a glamorous new main dish when it is creamed with savory onions and Michigan pascal celery. Served in a noodle ring, it's a dish to remember.

Glamorize Leftover Roast With Vitamin-Rich Celery

If you have never used celery as a cooked vegetable you are missing something. Fresh Michigan pascal celery lends itself particularly well to creaming and French-frying.

* * *

While your family enjoys celery for its refreshing taste and satisfying crunchiness, you will have the additional satisfaction of knowing that celery supplies several vital food needs.

Rich in vitamins and minerals celery is one snack food that can be eaten almost without restraint. It does not add excess calories. Unlike many between meal foods that children enjoy, celery is actually good for their teeth.

Even before the discovery of vitamins celery was known as a food that is "good for you." Now we know that this rather vague recommendation is based on fact.

Vitamin B1, in which celery abounds, is frequently used to help correct nerve troubles and nutritional dficiencies.

Creamed Taste Treat

1 cup Michigan pascal celery cut in small pieces
1 cup chopped onions
1½ cups milk
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
2 tablespoons flour
½ teaspoon salt
1 cup diced leftover roast (veal, pork, beef, lamb)
½ package noodles

Cook milk, celery and onions for 10 minutes in top of double boiler. Add paste made of butter, salt and flour. Stir until thick. Add meat.

Cook noodles in salted water. Drain, arrange in ring on platter. Fill center of ring with creamed mixture.

Broiled Burgers Star Deviled Ham

Hearty and tempting sandwiches are the mainstay of the party, and this recipe for Broiled Deviled Ham Burgers is such an easy one, any teenager can play the part of an accomplished chef.

Broiled Deviled Ham Burgers

1 family size can (4½ ounces) deviled ham
2 tablespoons mayonnaise
4 English muffins, split
2 tomatoes, or 8 slices
8 slices process cheese
Green pepper and sweet onion rings

Mix deviled ham and mayonnaise; spread on split muffins. Place a tomato slice on each muffin half and top with a slice of cheese.

Broil until cheese begins to melt and brown, or bake in hot oven (450 degrees) about 7-8 minutes until cheese melts. Garnish with pepper and onion rings and serve at once.

Good Supply of Squash Now Found on Market

There's a good supply of squash in the market. Marketing and consumer information agents of Michigan State University suggest using new varieties for new treats in flavor.

For baking, the dark green acron squash or the Delicious variety is a good choice. Since its arrival on the Michigan market about two years ago, the butternut variety has become another favorite for baking.

Italian Zucchine and the yellow summer squash are most often browned in fat and served sizzling hot.

Summer temperatures in most places in the U. S. are higher than is usual in the tropics.

Michigan Ranks Third in Celery Production

More homegrown celery is on the market and prices are at a seasonal low.

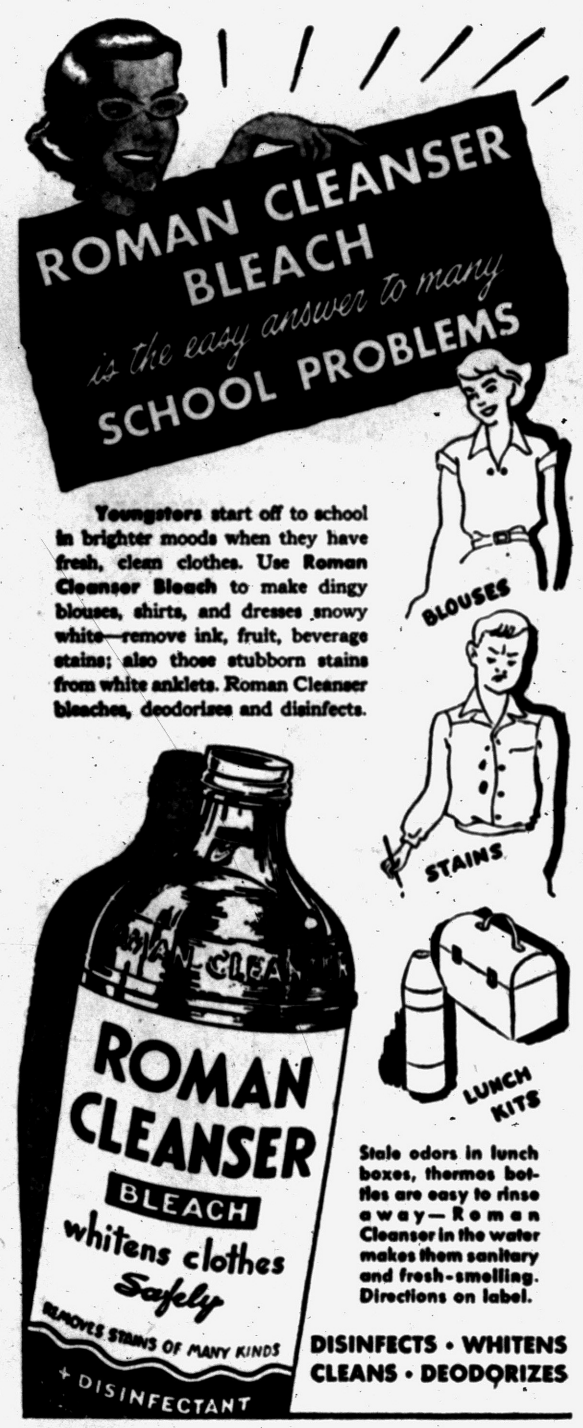

California grows about one-half and Florida about one-fourth of all the fresh market celery in the United States.

Michigan ranks third in celery production with about one-sixth of the total. Michigan is the leading state in production of late fall celery.

Michigan grows about 6,300 acres of celery—enough for a 20-mile strip six city blocks wide. Most of the celery is grown near Imlay City, Jackson, Muskegon, Newaygo, Kalamazoo, Decatur, Marshall, Ionia and Bay City.

To Keep Pears Fresh

You can prevent fresh pears from turning brown when you are cutting them up for a pie; just drop the slices into 2 quarts of cold water to which a tablespoon and a half of salt has been added. After the pie has been baked, serve it warm with wedges of cheddar cheese or scoops of vanilla or chocolate ice cream.

Creamy Dressing Will Not Separate

French dressing probably ranks as the favorite salad dressing among most families. It adds a colorful appearance and a delightful, tangy flavor to almost any salad.

There are many recipes for making French dressing, but here's one for a thick, creamy French dressing that will not separate. And it's easy to make.

Thick French Dressing

½ cup sugar
1 package prepared pectin
1 teaspoon paprika
1 teaspoon dry mustard
2 teaspoons salt
⅔ cup vinegar
1½ cups salad oil
1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
1 teaspoon minced onion
1 can tomato soup
1 clove garlic, (if desired)

Mix all ingredients and beat with egg beater. Keep in refrigerator.

Cupcakes Ideal for Tea

Planning a tea? Small cupcakes are easy to bake, frost, store and serve. Use a white-cake batter for some of the cakes and top with a fudge frosting and a nut garnish. Use chocolate batter for the remaining cakes and top with a fluffy white frosting and chocolate sprinkles.

Coffee Baked Right Into Pie

We can't offer you 4 and 20 blackbirds, but if it's a surprise you want, here's a cup or two of coffee baked into a pie. And it's complete with cream and sugar, too! Serve it with hot coffee, and you have a pie-and-coffee harmony that sings.

* * *

This particular recipe has many virtues. For one thing, it's no small feat to find a pie that's light and not too sweet, yet full of flavor. For another, as long as you have on hand a package of gelatin and the makings of a cup of coffee, you always have the makings of a Two-Tone Coffee Pie.

No special trips to the store to see what fruit is in season: no pondering what filling will meet with approval. This filling, this flavor, is tops with almost everyone.

The "black bottom" effect, by the way, is achieved quite simply by using black coffee gelatin spiced with cinnamon for the bottom layer, a whipped coffee and cream mixture for the top.

Pretty, isn't it? And it's good, too!

Two-Tone Coffee Pie

2 envelopes (2 tablespoons) unflavored gelatin
½ cup cold water
2½ cups strong hot coffee
1 cup sugar
½ teaspoon cinnamon
1 cup whipping cream
1 baked 9-inch pie shell

Soften gelatin in cold water, dissolve in hot coffee. Mix sugar and cinnamon. Add to coffee mixture and stir until dissolved. Chill until consistency of unbeaten egg white. Spoon into pie shell, filling about half full.

Set in refrigerator. Whip remaining coffee gelatin until light and fluffy. Whip half cup cream and fold in. Spoon mixture on top of clear gelatin, mounding in center.

Chill until firm. Whip remaining cream to use as garnish on top of pie.

Glamorize Salads With Fruit Dressing

For the simplest sort of little salads that look quite "dressy," and taste mighty good, do this.

On lettuce, on each place, spoon a rather high mound of cottage cheese. (It can be plain, or mixed with chopped dates and walnuts.)

Cut ripe Bartlett pears in wedges lengthwise, trim out cores, and arrange upright around the cheese, pressing them in slightly to hold them in place. Top each with a piece of date for a stem, or tuck in a sprig of mint. Pass a bowl of Fluffy Fruit Dressing.

Fluffy Fruit Dressing

Whip one-half cup heavy cream. Fold in three-fourths to 1 cup salad dressing or mayonnaise. Add a few drops of lemon juice, and a little sugar. Makes about 1½ cups.

DIAMOND makes the meal Sparkle!

It's Weather-pruf Salt!

Cheese Macaroni Patties Dress Up an Old Favorite

Maybe you thought your knew about all of the many ways to cook macaroni. But here is a different approach in the form of Cheese Macaroni Patties.

* * *

The patties are fried so that they take on a crisp, crunchy exterior. The important point in this step is to use butter for frying.

Butter's natural flavor blends in perfectly with the flavor of the patties. And instead of detracting from their tasty goodness, the buttery flavor simply enhances it.

These patties please as a luncheon, supper or brunch dish.

For Sunday brunch, mix up the ingredients the night before. When brunchtime rolls around, your hungry family won't be kept waiting long. Pop the patties into the frying pan and they're crisp and golden brown in a jiffy.

Even if the patties are to be served later in the day, it's still a good idea to mix them up so they can be chilled overnight. In any case, chill the mixture for several hours.

Appropriate to accompany the Cheese Macaroni Patties are slices of Canadian bacon, spiced crabapples and a tossed fresh green salad. For brunch, a fruit salad could be served in lieu of the vegetable salad.

Cheese Macaroni Patties

6 tablespoons butter
½ cup flour
1½ teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon pepper
1½ cups milk
3 cups shredded sharp cheddar cheese
3½ cups cooked macaroni
2 tablespoons chopped onion
1 tablespoons minced parsley
Fine dry bread crumbs
1 egg
1 tablespoon water
¼ cup butter

Melt the 6 tablespoons butter in a saucepan. Blend in flour, salt and pepper. Add milk and stir until smooth. Cook over medium heat, stirring constantly until thick. This will be a very thick white sauce.

Remove from heat and add shredded cheese. Stir until cheese is melted, then add macaroni, chopped onion and chopped parsley. Turn into a well buttered 9-inch square pan and chill until firm.

Cut into eight rectangles. Dip in fine bread crumbs, then into egg which has been beaten with water, then into bread crumbs again. Fry in melted butter until golden brown. Serve with Canadian bacon if desired.

Give 'Em Orange Juice

Serve your young people orange juice when they want a mid-morning or mid-afternoon cool drink. Recent studies show that both boys and girls of 13 and 14 years were deficient in Vitamin C—the vitamin that citrus fruits furnish in abundance.

Apple Butter Beef Rolls Pair Up With Cauliflower

Beef is plentiful now, making it a most economical source of proteins and other important nutrients.

Indeed the budget-wise person will combine it often with vitamin-rich greens, broccoli, carrots, tomatoes and other vegetables that are in ample supply for menus just chuck-full of good nutrition.

Here's a suggested supper menu that's a bit different, but easy to prepare and serve and so delicious.

Apple Butter Beef Rolls
Baked Potatoes
Cauliflower in Almond Cheese Sauce
Tomato Salad
With Sour Cream Dressing
Hot Rolls Butter or Margarine
Fresh Fruit Cup Beverage

Apple Butter Beef Rolls

2 pounds round steak (½ inch thick)
Salt and pepper
2 cups apple butter
6-8 strips bacon
½ to ¾ cups water or white table wine

Pound steak well. Cut into six to eight squares; season and spread with one-half the apple butter. Roll and fasten a bacon strip around each roll with toothpicks. Brown in hot fat for five minutes.

Add water or wine, cover and place in 350-degree oven for one hour. Use enough water to make a thin paste of remaining one-half apple butter; while beef rolls are cooking, baste with this sauce occasionally to keep meat from becoming dry. Serves six.

Cauliflower in Almond Cheese Sauce

1 large head cauliflower
1 can evaporated milk
Salt to taste
1 cup grated sharp cheddar cheese
½ cup toasted slivered almonds

Wash cauliflower well; remove green stalks but leave head whole. Cook covered in one inch of boiling water for 20 to 30 minutes, or until just fork tender.

While cauliflower is cooking, heat evaporated milk and salt; add cheese and stir until smooth. When cauliflower is cooked, drain well and place on warm platter.

Cover with cheese sauce and cover entire head of cauliflower with almonds to give a porcupine effect. Garnish with watercress and serve immediately.

Serves six. Broccoli is also excellent when served with this sauce.

For Better Vegetables

When serving buttered canned vegetables, heat them in the juice in which they are canned. After heating, drain excess juice, add butter, salt and pepper.

Take Time Out From Canning Chores to Read About New Things in Stores

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Food Editor

Well, have you gotten peach stain out from under your finger nails? Mine are still rather grubby looking. By the way, I've found that if I remember to put on one of the silicone hand protectors before starting to peel peaches or pears, the stains are kept to a minimum.

Did you try at least one new recipe in your canning this year? When you near the bottom of a bushel of fruit you are ready to try most anything, just to change the monotony.

I cooked some pear quarters in sugar syrup colored red and spiced with stick cinnamon. They look pretty and should taste good with meat.

Watch the pocket book stands for a new cookbook by Duncan Hines. He has published the Duncan Hines Dessert Book which contains more than 500 dessert recipes. It will cost you only thirty-five cents for a copy. Sounds interesting, too; I haven't gone through it yet.

Cake mixes continue to appear in new flavors. The latest one is a Honey 'N Spice Cake Mix. It comes in a gold foil package and contains twin packs of mix. You can bake one layer for a small family, or a larger cake or two layers if you desire.

The makers of this new cake mix suggest using the following frosting:

Fluffy Honey Frosting

1 large egg white
¾ cup dark brown sugar
¼ teaspoon cream of tartar
⅓ cup water
3 tablespoons honey
½ teaspoon vanilla

Combine egg white, brown sugar and cream of tartar in mixing bowl. Blend water and honey in small pan and bring to a boil. Add boiling liquid to egg white mixture and begin to beat at once with electric mixer or rotary beater. Continue to beat until frosting is thick and fluffy (about 8-10 minutes.) Beat in vanilla. Enough to fill and frost 8 or 9 inch cake.

Recently a package that looked as if it contained an umbrella was delivered to my desk. Inside I found the longest plastic box I've ever seen, full of gelatin. One of the famous manufacturers has developed a new fortified gelatin dessert. The flavors are the same as always, but each is fortified with vitamin C. This vitamin, you know, cannot be stored in the body and needs to be taken daily.

One last word . . . If you are buying peanut butter for a diabetic, read the label on the jar before buying. Some peanut butter is packed with added sugar. However, one of the country's oldest producers of peanut butter tells us that their product is entirely sugar-free. They say it is more natural tasting that way.

New Sauerbraten Prepared in Jiffy

If it's been a long time since your family has enjoyed some delicious homecooked sauerbraten simply because it takes so long to prepare, here's a recipe you will want to try.

Original sauerbraten recipes called for marinating beef in vinegar for five days, now you can have sauerbraten ready in less than two hours.

Sauerbraten

3 tablespoons enriched flour
1½ teaspoons salt
1½ lbs. 1-inch round steak, cut in 1x2 strips
2 tablespoons fat
¾ cup sliced onion
½ cup cider vinegar
1 cup water
1½ teaspoons sugar
3 peppercorns
2 whole cloves
2 bay leaves
3 gingersnaps, crumbled

Combine flour and salt; roll meat in this mixture. Brown the meat in hot fat. Add onion, vinegar, water, sugar. Tie spices in small piece of cheesecloth and add. Cover and simmer gently about 1½ hours, or till meat is tender.

Remove spice bag. Add gingersnaps and continue cooking, stirring occasionally for about 15 minutes or until gravy is thick. Yield: Five to six servings.

Sour Cream Dressing Can Be Made Quickly

To serve with sliced tomatoes and cucumbers on crisp leaves of Iceberg lettuce, here's an excellent sour cream dressing:

Quick Cream Dressing

1 cup thick sour cream
3 tablespoons wine vinegar
1 tablespoon finely minced green onion
½ teaspoon salt
1 tablespoons sugar
Pepper

Beat all ingredients together. Makes about 1¼ cups.

READY FOR PROCESSING — During tomato season — late August and September — millions of bushels of tomatoes are received at the H. J. Heinz Company's plants for processing. Deliveries are scheduled to the minute and special mechanized conveyors carry the freshly harvested fruit to the company's spotless kitchens without delay.

Tomatoes Had Hard Time Winning Popular Favor

If Americans were to vote for their favorite fruit, chances are the tomato would win hands down. For not only are sliced tomatoes, fresh from field or hothouse, a year-round favorite; but canned tomatoes, tomato puree and tomato paste are used in cooking in just about every household.

* * *

Cream of tomato soup is No. 1 among soups; tomato juice is found on just about every menu round the town; and condiments based on the flavorful crimson fruit—Catsup, chili sauce, Worcestershire, barbecue sauce — outsell all others.

There's no doubt about it—the tomato is an all-time winner here in America.

This hasn't always been the case, however. When Cortez and his Spanish conquistadors invaded Mexico in 1519, they found Aztec farmers cultivating irrigated fields in which a strange plant, the tomato, was growing. The crimson fruit borne by the vine-like plant was small, wrinkled and lopsided, but its fine flavor made it an Aztec favorite.

An aura of romance clung to the tomato. Some said it was the gift of Quetzacoatl, god of healing; and baskets, heaped high with the jewel-like fruit, were borne on the hands of devotees to his altar. Doctor-priests prescribed the tomato for numerous ills, and it was most popular as a beauty aid.

CAPTURED HEARTS

But it was the piquant sauces made from the pulp and juices of this magical fruit that captured the epicurean hearts of the Spanish.

Notable among them was a kind of catsup that brought out the best in baked turkey hen and suckling pig.

So along with the seed of the tomato, the Spanish took home with them these recipes for tomato sauce.

But a curious fate befell the American-born tomato in Europe. Just about the time that members of the royal Spanish court were expressing their first delight in its outspoken sauces, botanists on the continent discovered a bad ancestor—the night-shade family.

The tomato was shunned as poisonous, called a "love apple"; and whispers of the tomatoes being used in witchcraft were heard in every corner of the land. And so the pride of the Americas languished, feared and forgotten in novelty gardens for nearly three dark centuries.

DARING FRENCH

Then—after the French Revolution, the great chefs, who no longer had noble patrons to enjoy them, opened restaurants to the public. And as a symbol of liberty, equality and fraternity, they dared serve the revolutionary tomato.

Soon all Europe bowed to the flavor of this lush fruit. French, Italian and Spanish epicures hunted up the sauce recipes of the ancient Aztecs, added their own variations of spice and herbs.

Immigrants from these nations brought the tomato back to the New World. Spaghetti with tomato sauce, fish eggs, macaroni, meat—all drenched in the crimson juices—became favorites on the American table.

The 1955 tomato season is at its peak just about now. Another record-shattering crop is being harvested, and the cream of the crop is being turned into soup, juice and condiments.

Approximately 3,000 pounds of red, ripe tomates canned or bottled per hour—that's the speed at which the fruit will be processed at a single factory of H. J. Heinz Company, the world's largest producer of tomato products.

Multiply this by seven—the number of branches processing tomatoes within the season—and you'll have 21,000 pounds of freshly picked fruit canned or bottled each hour by this one firm alone.

NO RELAXATION

Despite this almost unbelievable speed at which they handle the tomatoes, not for a moment is the control of quality relaxed.

A visit to any of the factories of this famous company will convince you that today's food processor is determined to leave no stone unturned that would insure top quality products for the homemaker.

In many instances, the modern food processor actually controls the tomato from seed to seal. The fruits used in Heinz soups and condiments, for example, have been developed by their own scientists through cross-breeding and controlled cultivation.

Truly the "aristocrat" of tomatoes, they are lush, red fruit in which the most desirable characteristics have as nearly as possible been stabilized.

On the company's own experimental farms, pedigreed seedlings are nurtured in greenhouses, cold frames and inspected fields. Then when they are ready for transplanting, they are turned over to independent farmers who grow the crop under contract.

All season long, while the crops slowly mature, the plants are under the watchful eye of both the farmer and the company's agricultural experts. The ripening tomatoes are carefully inspected and scheduled to the very hour for delivery at the nearest factory kitchen.

Within a matter of minutes after the farmer delivers his load, the crimson tomatoes are on their way to spotless kitchens for processing. The fruit is inspected, sorted, washed, and if necessary, trimmed.

Then it is sent to the kitchen where it is cooked, in combination with the proper spices and seasonings, into soup or sauce as the case may be.

Constant check is made on the products throughout the cooking stage. Samples are taken off the line at every step; and tests for color, flavor and consistency are made by members of the company's quality control department. There's no guesswork in making canned and bottled tomato products.

FLAVORING COUNTS — Dinner for two, a feast, simple but superb. A steak broiled to order, plus hot baked potatoes, calls for a tossed salad. Add a chunk of margarine or butter while meat and potatoes are sizzling hot. To the salad add a sprinkling of blue cheese and a grind of fresh pepper. Dessert should be something simple with lots of coffee.

Vary French Toast With Orange Flavor

Orange Toast Deluxe is a luscious variation of that breakfast favorite—French toast. The perky flavor of Orange Toast Deluxe gives a flourish to your breakfast menu. So easy to make, too, with nourishing enriched bread from your bakery.

Orange Toast Deluxe

2 eggs, beaten
¼ cup milk
1 tablespoon sugar
1 tablespoon grated orange rind
Dash salt
6 slices enriched bread
Butter or margarine

Combine eggs, milk, sugar, orange rind and salt and mix well. Dip bread slices in egg mixture, lightly coating both sides. Brown on both sides in hot butter or margarine in skillet.

Serve at once with honey, syrup or applesauce. Makes six servings.

Serve macaroni and cheese with crisply cooked bacon and broiled tomatoes for a good lunch or supper.

CORNMEAL-RAISIN BREAD — For a tasty mid-afternoon or tea time snack serve thin slices of a delicious raisin and nut bread made with cornmeal. Once you try it, you'll make and serve it often.

Blend Fruit Juices

Orange juice, grape juice and sparkling water make a fine drink. Serve over ice cubes and garnish each glass with a half slice of lemon or orange. Add a sprig of mint, too, if its available.

Cornmeal-Raisin Bread Makes Delightful Snacks

While cornmeal has been a favorite ingredient in quick breads and rolls for many years, it is used less often than it should be in yeast bread.

This new recipe for a nut and raisin bread makes three loaves. If desired, you may make two loaves and a batch of hot rolls.

Butter them all as soon as they come out of the oven for a crisp shiny crust that tastes so good.

Cornmeal Raisin Bread

1¼ cups enriched cornmeal
1 tablespoon salt
2¼ cups water
1 cup honey
¼ cup shortening
1 cup raisins
½ cup walnuts
1 package or 1 cake dry or compressed yeast
1¼ cups lukewarm water
7 to 8 cups sifted enriched flour

Cook cornmeal, salt and the 2¼ cups water together in large saucepan, stirring constantly until thickened. Remove from heat. Stir in honey, shortening, raisins and walnuts. Cool to lukewarm. Soften yeast in one-fourth cup of the lukewarm water.

Blend 1 cup lukewarm water and 2 cups flour into the cornmeal mixture. Stir in softened yeast and enough more flour to make a soft dough. Turn out on lightly floured board and knead until satiny, about 10 minutes. Round dough into ball. Place in greased bowl.

Brush lightly with melted shortening. Cover and let rise until double in size, about one hour. Punch dough down, divide in thirds, cover and let rest 10 minutes. Shape each third into a round ball. Place on greased cookie sheets.

Brush each ball lightly with melted shortening. Cover and let rise until double in size, about 45 minutes. Bake in a moderate over (375 degrees) 45 to 50 minutes.

Remove from cookie sheets and brush with melted butter or margarine.

Salad Blends Eggs, Cabbage, Tomatoes

Everyday foods, when combined this way, make a delicious and hearty luncheon salad.

Egg, Green Cabbage and Tomato Salad

6 hard-cooked eggs
1 cup finely diced celery
⅓ to ½ cup mayonnaise or mayonnaise-type salad dressing
1 tablespoon finely grated onion (pulp and juice)
Salt, pepper
Shredded green cabbage
Salad oil
Cider vinegar
Sugar
Sliced tomatoes

Chop eggs in coarse pieces. Mix lightly with celery, mayonnaise, onion, salt and pepper to taste. Mix the shredded green cabbage with oil, vinegar, sugar and salt and pepper to taste.

Arrange slaw on individual salad plates; mound egg mixture in center of slaw; garnish with sliced tomatoes. Makes four servings.

Green Pascal Celery Richer in Vitamin A

Green pascal celery is richer in vitamin A and more attractive to serve. The golden variety is bleached white, and arrives first in Michigan's markets.

To keep it crisp: Wash and dry slightly. Store in hydrator, covered container, or wrap in a wet cloth and put in refrigerator.

Buy only enough for one week.

Maryland Fried Chicken Prepared Various Ways

Even in Maryland, all good cooks do not agree on how to prepare Maryland fried chicken.

Some call for cooking the chicken in a sauce or gravy, others for frying the chickens and serving a creamy gravy over the crisply fried pieces. Others called for deep fat frying and no gravy at all.

* * *

Below we give two variations on the popular theme. Both are tender and delicious.

Maryland Fried Chicken

1 chicken, cut up for frying
1 egg, slightly beaten
1 cup milk
Salt and pepper
1½ cups cracker crumbs
½ cup butter or margarine
Shortening
2 cups hot milk

Combine egg and 1 cup milk. Season chicken pieces with salt and pepper, dip into egg mixture and roll in crumbs.

Heat butter and enough shortening in a heavy skillet to make a layer of fat one-fourth inch deep. Brown chicken. Add 2 cups hot milk, cover and bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees) about 30 minutes, or until tender.

Note: This may also be prepared on top of the range. Serves four.

Pimiento Chicken Skillet

1 chicken, cut up for frying
⅓ cup flour
1 teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
¼ cup shortening
1 10½-ounce can condensed cream of mushroom soup
1 cup milk
1 small onion, sliced
¼ cup sliced pimento olives.

Dip chicken pieces in mixture of flour, salt and pepper. Melt shortening in a skillet. Add chicken. Brown and turn. Heat soup and milk together and pour over chicken. Spread the sliced onion over the top. Cover.

Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees) one hour. Remove cover. Stir in a little more milk if gravy appears too thick. Sprinkle olives over chicken.

Frozen Potato Soup Becomes Oven Dish

Hatch up a bubbling casserole from a can of the supreme frozen potato soup. In it goes one-half cup chopped green pepper, frizzled in butter. Pour in the can of soup and one-fourth cup of milk; heat slowly until soup is thawed. Stir often. Add 1 cup flaked cooked crab (small can). Season, if you like, with 1 tablespoon sherry or one-fourth teaspoon curry powder.

Pour all into a 1-quart casserole. Sprinkle on one-fourth cup shredded cheese. Bake at 375 for about 15 minutes. This makes a splendid meal for two. You won't go wrong if you double it.

Gourmet Dinner Featured at Art Festival Preview

Mrs. Leslie Ware of Barrington road, Bloomfield Township, takes a moment to admire a ceramic plate before placing it in its display case, while her husband makes a mental note on possible Christmas purchases. Looking on, at the left, are Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Raymond of Woodbine drive, Sylvan Shores.

Pontiac Press Photos

"That's gorgeous," was the comment of Mrs. Donald Neal (right) of Wenonah drive as she viewed a hand-woven wool and metallic thread skirt and stole, the work of Sue Belknap. Smiling her agreement is Mrs. Robert W. Smith of Walnut Lake. The skirt and stole, of fine, beautifully woven black wool and silver thread, were priced at $60 for the pair. They found an early purchaser.

The deep-toned top prize-winning canvas, "Wine Goblet" (upper, center), an oil by Nancy Thompson Genn of California, drew admiring attention from those attending the preview of the Kirk in the Hills Outdoor Art Festival last night. Viewing the grouping are (left to right) Peter J. Robotti, general chairman of the festival committee; Mrs. Herbert Mason of Bloomfield Hills, the Rev. Harold C. DeWindt, pastor of Kirk in the Hills, and Mrs. DeWindt.

Mrs. Russell Strickland of Country Club drive, Bloomfield Hills, flashed a beaming smile when she caught a glimpse of friends, just as she passed one of the oil paintings at the Festival exhibit. The painting, "Lake Superior Shore," is by Helen Wehmeyer. Exhibits were set up on the spacious grounds of the Kirk, with moonlit Island Lake forming a background for the colorful spectacle.

Kirk in Hills Opens Exhibit Today

By WILMA GREENWAY

A far cry from the usual church supper was the $25-a-plate patrons' dinner and Art Festival preview last night at Kirk in the Hills. The festival opened to the public at 1 p.m. today and will remain open from 1 to 7:30 daily through Saturday.

Some 196 persons ate gourmet's fare under the big tent on the church grounds, and viewed the approximately 800 works of art and craft exhibits in the outdoor exhibition.

The art show alone featured 721 paintings sent in from all over the United States. Oils, watercolors, terra cottas and pastels were displayed to advantage on the spacious lakefront grounds.

In the crafts exhibit, some 70 entries included pottery and ceramics, weaving displays, metal and silver crafts and enameled work. Drawing a good deal of attention here were the comprehensive displays of jewelry. Beautifully designed cloisonne pins and pendants, and the earrings, necklaces and cufflinks of enameled silver and copper, were moderately priced.

* * *

OTHER PRIZES

Jerome Kirk of Birmingham took a second $150 prize with his "LaRonde No. 6" and Frederick Simper of Birmingham took a $100 award with a watercolor, "Sunflowers in a Field." Another Birmingham artist, Dorothy Sidall, won a first in moderns with her watercolor, "Construction in Ochre and Black."

Several Detroiters were among the 21 artists who claimed a total of $1,375 in awards.

First prize in crafts went to Clyde E. Burt of Melrose, Ohio, for a pottery grouping of cream-color bowl and vase of sgraffito design and an unusually shaped stoneware bottle.

Drawing interest in the prize displays was a fused glass sculpture, "Dark Angel," by Edris Eckhardt of Cleveland. The deep-toned blue glass sculpture represents an ancient art which this sculptress is reviving.

The exhibit, the only one of its type and size in the Midwest, displays every entry submitted, so that the work of well-known artists and that of struggling beginners is presented in a truly democratic showing.

VIEWERS ENTHUSIASTIC

Comments from those attending the preview were unanimously enthusiastic.

"It is one of the best of the four exhibits Kirk in the Hills has sponsored," said Robert Thom, internationally known artist who attended the affair. Thom was the man who originally suggested the outdoor festival as a means of raising money to equip the church kitchen.

* * *

Just a few of the familiar faces seen at the dinner: Mr. and Mrs. Walter Carey . . . the E. S. Hoglunds . . . Dr. and Mrs. James Little . . . Mr. and Mrs. H. Ross Mack . . . Mr. and Mrs. Roger Kyes with Carolyn and Catherine . . . the A. Glenn Wilsons . . . the Ross Macks . . . Dr. and Mrs. Sylvester Trythall . . . the W. E. Beresfords . . . the W. S. Awreys were some who passed our table.

Kirk in the Hills held its first open church service in September 1947, with 19 persons in attendance. Located on a scenic 35-acre site, a donation to the Detroit Presbytery by the late Edwin S. George, the Kirk has become one of the best known in the area.

Funds from the Art Festival will be used primarily to purchase equipment for new church buildings, scheduled for early construction, according to Peter J. Robotti, general chairman for the art festival.

Meddling Girl Friends Snarl Up Romance

By ELIZABETH WOODWARD

Oh, your girl friends mean to be so helpful. They have your interests at heart. They want to do you a favor. Uncomplicate things for you. Say the things you don't dare say.

And what happens? Their helpful interference lands you in a frightful mess.

Look what happened to this girl.

"Dear Miss Woodward: When I started to like him, my girl friends started calling him up all the time!. When he was away this summer, one of the girls wrote him a letter and signed my name!

"I can't imagine what he must think of me, and don't know how to explain. I see him around all the time, but when I'm with him I clam up. Normally I talk a minute.

"I've tried to stop liking him, but it doesn't seem to work. Please help me."

Answer: Making a good impression on the boy seems to be more than you can do all by yourself. Your girl friends had to get into the act and give you a helping hand. With the result that you feel awkward and uneasy every time you're near him. You can't relax and be yourself.

One thing for certain, your girl friends haven't done you a speck of good. Pestering him with phone calls in your behalf. And that letter over your signature! Enough to make him think you a frightful itch. Well, the damage has been done. All you can hope to do is undo it.

Next time you see him, get rid of your audience. Ask your girl friends to scoot and let you do it alone. Burst out an apology for a letter you didn't write, and for the meddling of friends who thought they were doing you a favor.

Then chatter like crazy about his summer and yours, and how it feels to get back to school. Make your own impression on him. Be friendly and interested — full of sparkle.

And tell your girl friends "hands off." You can handle this alone.

Maybe you do feel the need of moral support when there seems to be a yawning chasm between you and the boy you like best. He doesn't say anything to clue you as to how he feels.

So one of your girl friends speaks up bravely and says she'll ask him. You can't get up your courage to write him, but your girl friend isn't scared—so she does it for you. She'll call him if you won't.

It's all aimed at bringing you to his attention. And it annoys him. Puts him in an unfavorable light. If you were'nt so impatient, you wouldn't let your girl friends give him the wrong impression of you.

You can make your own impressions without their help. So stand on your own feet—and do it.

MRS. RICHARD J. BOWERS

Wilma Tamm Is Married in Farmington Ceremony

Before an altar banked with palms, fugi chrysanthemums and candelabra, Wilma Tamm became the bride of Richard J. Bowers at Salem Evangelical and Reformed Church of Farmington.

* * *

The Rev. Carl H. Schultz performed the double-ring ceremony in the presence of 200 guests.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Tamm of Farmington, and the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Millis J. Bowers of Farmington.

A gown of white appliqued Chantilly lace on nylon tulle was worn by the bride. The skirt of cascading tiers was fashioned with a lace panel down the front.

A handband of pleated nylon tulle trimmed with pearls and sequins secured her fingertip veil of silk illusion. She carried a white orchid with lilies-of-the-valley on a white Testament.

ATTENDS SISTER

Mrs. Jack Lasich, sister of the bride, was her matron of honor. She wore a waltz-length gown of dusty rose iridescent taffeta with a nylon tulle overskirt. Her flowers were a cascade arrangement of pink carnations.

* * *

Mrs. Barry Calhoon of Farmington and Elaine Monroe of Pontiac were the bride's other attendants. They wore raspberry iridescent taffeta gowns fashioned identical to the matron of honor's. Arrangements of white carnations formed their bouquets.

Melodee Tolman of Birmingham, cousin of the bride, performed the duties of flower girl. She wore a floor-length white taffeta gown accented by a sash of petal pink.

Ring bearer was Richard Tolman, the bride's nephew.

Jack Lasich of Pontiac served as best man. Edward Lasich, James Tolman, Barry Calhoon and Thomas Monroe seated the guests.

Mrs. Tamm chose a blue crepe and lace dress with navy accessories for her daughter's wedding. Her corsage was of Talisman roses.

CHOOSES BROWN

A dress of mink brown lace with coral accessories was worn by Mrs. Bowers. Her corsage was also of Talisman roses.

A reception was held immediately following the ceremony in West Bloomfield Township Hall.

When the newlyweds left for their honeymoon in northern Michigan the new Mrs. Bowers was wearing a gray suit with red accessories. Her corsage was from her bridal bouquet.

Upon their return they will make their home in Farmington.

* * *

Many prenuptial showers were given for the bride, among them a miscellaneous shower at which Mrs. Calhoon entertained and a shower given by Miss Monroe at her home.

Mr. and Mrs. Millis Bowers entertained at the rehearsal buffet supper at their home in Farmington.

"Clever gal, my Carol!"

I'm tickled pink with the smart way my Carol handles her housework. Take wood floors for instance. Most gals complain about all that scrubbing and waxing. But not my Carol! She cleans and waxes them in one easy operation with Bruce Cleaning Wax. It takes her half the time and a lot less elbow grease. And we've yet to have a guest who hasn't commented on our beautiful wood floors. My Carol and her Bruce Cleaning Wax really make easy work of a hard job. I'm mighty pleased with both of them.

P.S. For lighter waxing on linoleum and wood, Carol uses Bruce Floor Cleaner.

Former Diplomat Dies in New York

NEW YORK (AP)—Robert Butler, business executive and first United States ambassador to Australia, died today in New York Hospital after a brief illness. He was 58.

Butler, who had suffered from a heart condition, became ill suddenly after his return here Tuesday aboard the liner United States after a three-week vacation trip to Europe.

* * *

For many years he had been active in the construction and shipbuilding business in Minnesota. His home was on Stonehome Peninsula, White Bear Lake, Minn.

Butler, born in St. Louis, was appointed ambassador to Australia by President Truman in 1946 and served in that post until 1948, when he was named ambassador to Cuba, where he served 2½ years. He was a Democrat.

2 Locks at the Soo Needs More Practice

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP) — The trick of the disappearing coin was so impressive when her dad did it in his amateur magic act that 7-year-old Georgianne Elliott decided to demonstrate it for her playmates.

She was too convincing. The doctor had to take her to the hospital and remove the coin from her esophagus.

The Middle West's first hydroelectric plant was built in Grand Rapids in 1881.

SLING OF OUTRAGEOUS FORTUNE — At a recent 4-H Club style review in Salina, Kan., where the girls showed off dresses they had made, Sandra Shilling wore something no other girl had — a sling. In the sling was a cast holding her right arm. She broke the arm when she reached around her neck to undo the slide-fastener on the back of the dress. It stuck. She twisted her wrist to loosen it. "Cr-a-ack" went a bone in her wrist. She couldn't move the arm. At the hospital, the dress was cut down the back and the arm put in a cast. The dress was in no condition to be entered in the contest. But a friend basted it together and entered it with a note of explanation. It won second prize.

Will Air Case of Segregation

Texas Supreme Court to Hear Oral Argument in Key Issue

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP)—Oral arguments are set for the Texas Supreme Court tomorrow in a key school segregation case which the state attorney general says may affect "every school district in Texas."

* * *

The issue: Did Texas school segregation laws fall when the U.S. Supreme Court in 1954 declared segregation of Negro and white students unconstitutional.

Taxpayers of Big Spring, Tex., and the prosegregation Texas Citizens Council contend state laws are valid despite the U.S. Supreme Court decision and that state funds cannot be used by districts trying to integrate classes. They are appealing a trial court's decision upholding integration of grade schools by Big Spring school officials.

In a brief filed yesterday, State Atty. Gen. John Ben Shepperd said he shared the view of the appellants that Texas school laws are binding until the courts specifically declare them void or until the Legislature changes them.

He said he believed it correct for school funds to be transmitted to the Big Spring schools, but that it "will be illegal" under present laws for Big Spring to use them where Negro and white students attend school together.

Ike Names Nov. 6-12 as U.S. Education Week

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower today designated Nov. 6-12 as American Education Week and called on the nation to observe the period as a "pledge of citizen interest in better education."

"Our people have a right to take special pride in our nation's education system, and an obligation to demonstrate a desire and capacity to meet the major problems facing American education," he said.

The National Education Assn. is sponsoring the week along with the American Legion, the U.S. Office of Education and the National Congress of Parents and Teachers.

Leader Attacks Ike at Dem Dinner Rally

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Democratic leaders, warming up for an election year, attacked President Eisenhower and the administration at a $100-a-plate fund-raising dinner last night.

"Dwight D. Eisenhower is not the nation's indispensable man; not the best man for the country, not the best man to seek and keep the peace . . . not a great president . . . not a leader," said the main speaker, Gov. George M. Leader of Pennsylvania.

Of the 1956 presidential campaign, he said:

"We are very happy to take him (Eisenhower) on as the best the Republican party has . . . to defeat a Richard Nixon for the presidency would be like taking candy from a baby's hot, sticky little hand."

Plan African Trick to Catch Elephant

CHARLOTTE, N.C. (AP)—A posse of bush-beaters tries today to flush Vickie, the wayward elephant, from her wooded hideaway here.

Vickie, 6 years old and 2,300 pounds, has holed up in a strip of woods 400 feet wide and nearly a mile deep since she wandered away from a Charlotte amusement park Sunday. She has resisted all attempts to drive her out.

Trainer Johnny (Smoky) Strickland now plans to try an African bush-beating technique. The posse will set up a hue and cry, coupled with the beating of drums, in a march through the area.

Animal handlers from a carnival at nearby Gastonia say Vickie is getting dangerous and will have to be shot unless she comes out by the end of the week.

Woman, 60, Goes to Jail in Cuffs for Jaywalking

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Sixty-year-old Mrs. Gussie Adelman, who went to jail in handcuffs rather than sign a misdemeanor jaywalking ticket, was free on bail today. "I didn't do anything so why should I sign anything," said Mrs. Adelman when booked Tuesday night at city jail on a charge of resisting arrest. She posted $25 bond and pleaded innocent to jaywalking and resisting arrest. Judge Robert Clifton set Oct. 7 for her jury trial.

Texas Medicos Drop Ban

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Qualified Negro doctors of medicine are now eligible to join the Harris County Medical Society. The group voted last night to delete the word "white" from its membership qualifications.

Father Asks Only for Prayers to Aid His Nine Children Stricken With Polio

DURAND, Ill. (INS)—A pretty child too weak to play with the dolls placed on the bed around her. . . . A strapping youth with a football player's physicque fighting for his life. . . .

• • •

These are but two of nine brothers and sisters who have been struck by polio since Sept. 2 in Durand, a tiny farming community a few miles northwest of Rockford.

Four of the stricken youngsters are in the hospital, and the other five are being cared for and treated at the home of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Keron Walsh. There are 14 children in the family.

Five-year-old Rosellen, the first to be stricken, is undergoing post polio-therapy at St. Anthony's hospital in Rockford, and because she loves dolls, nurses and friends have surrounded her with some almost as big as she.

But she is too weak to handle them herself so she watches others fondle them for her. Her blue eyes sparkle most when a nurse combs a doll's hair.

In Rockford Township Hospital lays Rosellen's big brother — David, 17, masked by an iron lung.

WELL-BUILT LAD

David, well-built youngster of six-feet-two had been doing a lot of the heavy farm work on his dad's 160-acre tract. Now Dr. Charles Leonard, the family's doctor, has only one word for David's condition—"critical." Dr. Leonard said:

"David is fighting for his life."

Also in the hospital, but in less serious condition than David, are his brother, Edward, 16, and a sister, Julia, 14.

Julia's twin sister, Joan, also is suffering from polio but is being cared for at home as are four other striken youngsters ranging in age from one to 15.

Their parents and five other youngsters, from six to 18 years of age, have escaped the disease. Two of these children were inoculated with Salk vaccine before polio struck the family.

The concentrated attack of polio on the Walsh family has brought a mass expression of sympathy from the 700 residents of Durand. People have been streaming to the farm house with offers of help—money, food and clothing.

Walsh, distraught and preplexed because his children are the only current polio victims in the entire county, said:

"It's as though we were picked out."

He added:

• • •

"What we need most is prayers. Lots of them. We're depending on prayer."

Tin from Malaya is said to be 99.87 per cent pure.

Huge Owl Kills Chickens

KENTON, Ohio (AP)—Roy King, farmer, solved the mystery of his disappearing chickens, but was surprised at the size of the thief. He killed an owl having a wing spread of 51½ inches. It weighed 3¾ pounds.

New Ford Expressway Section Open to Public

DETROIT (AP)—A new section of Detroit's Ford Expressway, designed to speed east-west traffic, is open after causing a four-hour tieup of north bound cars yesterday.

Traffic piled up as much as a mile at times while workers on a huge crane erected signs to direct motorists onto the new section.

The new 1.34-mile section extends eastward from the interchange of the Ford and Lodge expressways.

Nears Saturation Point

SPALDING, Neb. (AP)—Emil Kavalec is another granddad who underestimated granddaughter. He promised little Charlene Kavalec he would pay her a nickel for every four leaf clover she found in granddad's front yard. Charlene called in playmates Ollie and Max Muller. And in a half hour they collected 130 pay-off clovers — $6.50 from granddad's pocket.

Indians' Lead Over Yankees Cut to Single Game

By THE ASSOCOATED PRESS

Ray Narleski, Cleveland's fireballing fireman, finally made a slip—and with it, the Indians may have lost their footing in the race for the American League pennant.

Washington revived the Indian sign it's had on the Injuns for one parting shot last night, handing the 26-year-old righthander his first defeat of the season while dumping the Tribe 3-2.

That sliced Cleveland's lead to one game over New York, a 6-4 winner against Detroit. More important, it left the two clubs even in the lost column with eight games remaining for Cleveland and 10 for New York.

* * *

The White Sox, four games back, muffed a chance to move closer by splitting a doubleheader at Baltimore. The last place Orioles, who divided a pair with Chicago Tuesday, too, won the opener 8-2 before being stopped by Billy Pierce 6-0.

* * *

Boston, filling seven of New York's remaining dates, all but faded away in a 7-3 defeat by Kansas City that left the Red Sox seven games back.

Washington, only club to beat Cleveland over the season (13-9), was stopped cold by Narleski in the seventh after chasing starter Herb Score with three straight singles that tied it 2-all. But in the eighth, the Nats finally got to the guy who had run up nine victories, all but one in relief, and had saved 20 others for the Tribe.

Jose Valdivielso, a .225 hitter, did it with a double after Pete Runnels had opened with a single and moved up on a sacrifice. It was only the 43rd run and 91st hit allowed by Narleski in 110 innings. For Valdivielso, it was the first RBI in 14 games.

* * *

Narleski had looked like the same old cool hatchet man in the seventh, intentionally walking Mickey Vernon to load the bases, then striking out Roy Sievers and Carlos Paula.

* * *

In the second, Sievers had become Score's 228th strikeout victim, a major league record for a rookie.

Baltimore racked Chicago's Dick Donovan for 10 of 14 hits while Jim Wilson shut out the Sox until the ninth when Bob Kennedy homered with one on. Donovan now is 14-8, Wilson 11-17. In the nightcap, a scratch run broke up a duel between Pierce and Bill Wight in the fifth. Three more runs in the eighth wrapped up Pierce's 13th victory and fifth shutout.

The Sox won only 12 of 22 games with the Orioles. The Indians and Yanks each won 19 of 22.

Boston was walloped by Gus Zernial, who powered two homers, one a tie-breaking grand-slammer off loser George Susce in the eighth, for six runs batted in.

* * *

Brooklyn's National League champs lost their fourth straight, beaten 3-0 by St. Louis behind Tom Poholsky's three-hitter. At Milwaukee, the Braves clubbed New York 9-2 with a pair of two-run homers by Del Crandall and George Crowe. Willie Mays smacked two for the Giants, tying Cincinnati's Ted Kluszewski for the lead with 45. Mays, one short of Ralph Kiner's league mark of 10 two-homer games in a season, has 10 games left. Klu has six.

Marciano Set for Toughest Fight of Life With Moore

GROSSINGER, N. Y. (AP) — Rocky Marciano is ready for the toughest fight of his life when he defends his world heavyweight title against Archie Moore Tuesday at Yankee Stadium.

Although Moore is 38, officially, and Marciano is only 31, the Rock has learned deep respect for age. His first battle with Jersey Joe Walcott taught him the facts of life. He had to get off the deck and come from way back to knock out Joe to win the crown.

"I never figured him (Walcott) like that," said the Rock yesterday before his workout. "You can't tell a thing about those old guys. Age doesn't mean a thing. Walcott wasn't any old man that night. From what they tell me about Moore, I'm in for an even rougher night."

If Rocky is in for a rough night next week, so is Archie. The champ usually is a mild-mannered gent with his sparring partners.

In Wednesday's drill he looked positively vicious at times against J. B. Reed, Toxie Hall and Keene Simmons. It was his peak performance with only three more boxing drills scheduled, today, Saturday and Sunday.

"He looks tough, don't he?", said Al Weill, his manager. "He ain't looked like this since the first Walcott fight."

* * *

Off his workout, Marciano will come bulling into Moore in a half crouch with head low and elbows high. He will be throwing his old Suzy-Q right hand and he will be doubling up with his left hook. Perhaps Moore will be able to drop his right-hand punch through a chink in Marciano's defense but he'll be in the path of a dangerous bull who moves ever onward.

Until Marciano started to rough it up in the ring, all was sweetness and light at the quonset hut hangar at the airport where he trains. A large mid-week crowd was on hand.

Willie in Good Spot to Better Klu for Homers

MILWAUKEE (AP)—Willie Mays, deadocked with big Ted Kluszewski of Cincinnati for the National League home run lead, isn't too concerned about it.

"I don't pay no attention to that," the "Say Hey" kid of the New York Giants said last night after swatting homers Nos. 44 and 45 as the Giants absorbed a 9-2 pasting from the Milwaukee Braves.

Yes, he said, he knew he had tied Kluszewski, but it made no difference to him—"I got other things to think about."

Mays, with 10 games left to play as against only six for Kluszewski, actually seems to be in a better spot than the Cincinnati strong boy for the home run crown.

Gophers Deep, Inexperienced, Coach Reports

Grid Mentor Warmath Plans to Use Sophs at Several Positions

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (AP)—Minnesota's football coach, Murray Warmath, drawled off four or five names at every position.

"It sounds good, doesn't it," said the former Mississippi State mentor. "But the more names you can mention at a position, the weaker it usually is."

* * *

Graduation wiped out 19 lettermen, including one-man gang Bob McNamara, from the surprising 1954 Gophers, who fashioned a 7-2 record in Warmath's debut at Minnesota.

"We have fewer experienced players than any team in the Big Ten this year and certainly one of the youngest," Warmath said in referring to some 24 sophomores who must be blended with 15 returning lettermen, only four of whom are holdover starters.

"Everybody says we have depth, but that's all we do have. It's not reasonable to pick up any place but the lower bracket in the conference.

* * *

"We were the luckiest team in the league last season. Michigan State probably was the unluckiest. Maybe we can be lucky again, but the law of averages is against it."

Although Warmath will field nearly an all-letterman team at the outset, he predicted that as many as five sophomores might be starters before the nine-game season ends.

* * *

The loss of right halfback McNamara deprived the Gophers of one of the finest competitors Warmath said he has ever coached.

"Besides his terrific talent," said the Gopher coach, "his inspirational leadership made us click. We can't possibly replace him."

Tony De Marco on Trail of His Old Welter Crown

BOSTON (AP)—Rugged Tony DeMarco, punching harder than ever, has one burning ambition today—to regain his World Welterweight Boxing Championship from Carmen Basilio.

Basilio was the main topic of conversation in Tony's dressing room last night after his quick, devastating technical knockout triumph over Chico Vejar in 2:40 of the first round at Boston Garden.

The 23-year-old North End battler, making his first appearance since he lost the welter title June 10, decked Vejar with a right to the body and left hook to the head in the first minute after a savage flurry.

Two ripping rights to the body and head moments later sent Vejar down again and as soon as the Stamford, Conn., boy got up Referee Tommy Rawson called a halt.

"It was about the hardest I've ever hit anyone," Tony said gleefully.

"That left hook on the first knockdown felt solid, real solid. I knew I had him. It was just a question of time. Now if I can get another shot at Basilio. . . ."

The pre-fight understanding was that the winner would get a title shot at Basilio.

Lions Drop McDermott

DETROIT (AP)—The Detroit Lions have released on waivers Herb McDermott, 6-foot 1, 230-pound offensive tackle from Iowa State. He was the Lions' 11th draft choice this year.

With McDermott's release, the team roster was cut to 39, four over the limit for the start of the National Football League season Sept. 25.

2 Speedy Halfbacks Key to Alma Football Fortune

ALMA (AP)—A pair of light, speedy halfbacks hold the key to Alma's football fortunes.

Lloyd Eaton, senior coach of the MIAA Conference, is banking on them to restore lost prestige to the Scots this season. Last fall Alma had a perfect 4-0 record against outside opposition but had a mediocre 2-4 mark in league play.

"When he's 'on,' Raab is our best runner. He has the potential to break up any game," Eaton says. "Hill's not far behind, however. He's more of an inspirational leader."

Perhaps Raab more than Hill is the player who can make or break Alma. In his 1st season, Raab led the entire state in scoring with 84 points, ranked 2nd in rushing and 3rd in total offense.

Teamed with Raab and Hill in Alma's 1st backfield are quarterback Dick Ayling of Pontiac, a 195-pound soph, and fullback Tex Gleason, a 215-pound freshman.

It will be Ayling's job to take over for Denny Stolz, who has graduated.

Mound Ace Will Stick

Chances are Ken Lehman will stick with the Brooklyn Dodgers next season. He has been optioned to the minors three times, the limit, and has been the Montreal mound ace this season.

Red Wings Show Goalie Strength

Hall Backed by Three Brilliant Rookies at Soo Training Camp

SAULT STE. MARIE (AP) — The Detroit Red Wings moving through their 3rd day of fall practice yesterday, are showing a strong reserve of goalies.

Despite the fact the Red Wings traded off Harry Lumley and Terry Sawchuk, they seem to be well-stocked with goalies. Glen Hall, holding down the number one spot, is backed up by three brilliant rookies—Gilles Boisvert, Bill Tibbs and Dennis Riggin.

Boisvert, one of five players secured from Boston in the Sawchuk trade, stole the show in the opening workout of the world's hockey champions.

Not far behind Boisvert, Tibbs also became the first casualty when he was struck in the mouth by a rising shot.

Japanese Ball Club Eliminates Numeral 4

TOKYO (AP) — Tokyo University baseball teams have decided to discard the numeral four from their uniforms. The reason: Four, in Japanese, is pronounced "shi" —which means "death."

Archie Moore Confident, Unconcerned With Pounds

NORTH ADAMS, Mass. (AP) — Archie Moore claims a secret formula for shedding pounds fast without sapping strength but he is outspokenly confident that he won't have to resort to it again.

"Heavyweight champions don't have to make weight," said Archie "so why worry about that?"

* * *

That was the light heavyweight champion's reply to a question of whether he thought he could make 175 pounds once more.

If words were deeds Archie would have to be considered a cinch to dethrone heavyweight champion Rocky Marciano in Yankee Stadium Sept. 20.

* * *

Furthermore, the brawny armed veteran believes he will be speedier at 185 pounds for Marciano than at the 175 he scaled June 22 when he flattened Bobo Olson in the third round of a light heavyweight title defense.

"I'll be faster with the extra weight because I'll have more in reserve," said Archie.

Moore said he weighed about 189 before Wednesday's two-round boxing session with Jesse (Gorilla) Brown and Johnny Jenkins and expects to pare off about four more pounds. The 38-year-old Moore could wind up a pound or so heavier than Marciano.

Most professional observers believe Moore wants to be heavier so he can make a do-or die slugging attempt to stop Rocky within five or six rounds. They feel his legs will cave in after that.

Top Flight Ends at Michigan Set for Stellar Roles

Ron Kramer, Maentz Readied for Opponents in Big Ten Race

ANN ARBOR (AP) — Michigan's Ron Kramer and Tom Maentz, a pair of ends with speed to spare, should rip through the Big Ten this season like twin tornadoes.

* * *

Coach Bennie Oosterbaan is counting on both of them to put steel in the Wolverine flanks and to crack the enemy offenses before they get started.

Both Kramer and Maentz are football perfectionists. Both have admiration for the other's ability.

"Ron, even though he'll probably be an All-America, is out there working extra hard," Maentz said. "He never lets up; that's what makes him great."

"Tom was a great end last year," Kramer said, "but he didn't get much credit for the job he did. This year he's faster and he's always had a great pair of hands."

* * *

Even their usually quiet coach, an All-America end in his own day, has enthusiastic praise for both of them.

"One of the fine things about Kramer, "Oosterbaan said, "is his attitude.

"Whenever a boy looks good, there are always a lot of people wanting him around. He just doesn't buy it. Not only that, but he doesn't loaf. He's always working, always working, always trying to improve."

* * *

About Maentz, Oosterbaan is equally frank.

"He's a lot faster this year and he's hitting very well," he said. "He should have a very good season."

For the 2nd straight day yesterday, the Michigan team was without the services of 2nd string fullback Dave Hill, out with a bruised rib, 2nd string right halfback Ed Hickey, laid up with a turned ankle, and 2nd string center Jerry Goebel, out with leg trouble.

NL Sluggers Perit Home Run Record

NEW YORK (AP)—The National League, climaxing its merriest season for sluggers, was within two home runs of its all time record today.

Two homers by Willie Mays of the Giants and one apiece by De Crandall and George Crowe of the Braves ast night put the older major league's total at 1,195. The standard is 1,197 home runs set in 1953.

American League batters have produced 925 homers to date. The junior circuit's record is 973 established in 1950.

Brighter Outlook

Birmingham High's Maples Will Field Veteran Lineup Against Southfield 11

"Barring injuries, we should do better this season than we did last year."

That was the guarded comment made by Carl Lemle, head football coach at Birmingham High School, as his Maples ready themselves for Friday night's season opener with a reportedly rugged Southfield team.

Lemle, beginning his 2nd year at the Birmingham helm, will field largely a veteran lineup for tomorrow night's inaugural on the Maples' gridiron. Kickoff time is 8 p.m.

Last year's Birmingham 11 wound up with a season mark of 4-5. The Maples posted a 2-3 figure in the Class A Eastern Michigan League to finish in 4th place. After two non-league encounters, Birmingham enters the EML wars Sept. 23 at Mt. Clemens.

Birmingham's starting team will be composed of five 1954 regulars, five lettermen who saw considerable action last season, and an untried quarterback, Dale Burrows, a junior brought up from the reserves, gets the starting call at the T-formation signal-barking post.

Three of Lemle's holdovers are backs, which should help to make the untested Burrows' job a little bit easier. The trio is headed by ace left halfback John Appleford, a tricky ball carrier starting his 3rd varsity season. Completing the backfield are Wayne Geggie at right half and Bill Swaney, a converted quarterback, at the fullback slot.

Two returnees in the forward wall are guard Jim Rennell and end Jim Traa, 1955 co-captain with Swaney. Rounding out the line are center Bob Hohmeyer, guard Dave Spehar, end Don Haugh, and tackles Nick Colbert and George Huffman. With the exception of Burrows, all starters are seniors.

Lemle's use of two platoons will be strictly limited due to a lack of squad depth, which appears to be Birmingham's greatest weakness. Of this year's 40-man squad, only 11 own letters, a definite clue to the anemic condition of the Maples' bench.

Although others will undoubtedly see action, Birmingham's fate rests primarily with 13 boys, according to Lemle. Assisting Lemle this season are line coach Lew Parry and JV totors Joe Borovick and Tom Carson.

Maples will conclude their nine-game schedule with the traditional Thanksgiving Day clash against arch-rival Royal Oak.

Birmingham's 1955 schedule:

Sept. 23—Cranbrook
Sept. 30—at Mt. Clemens*
Oct. 7—Ferndale*
Oct. 14—Hazel Park*

Ol' Case Still Thinks His Yankees Will Win, Providing Cleveland's Indians Lose 2 Games

NEW YORK (AP)—Manager Casey Stengel thinks his New York Yankees can win the American League pennant if Cleveland loses two of its remaining eight games.

The grizzled pilot was in a speculative mood after Wednesday's 6-4 triumph over Detroit that not only swept the two-game series with the Tigers but moved the Yankees within a game of the front-running Indians who lost to Washington 3-2.

* * *

"Well," he said happily, "it looks like our pitching finally has straightened out. That Larsen pitched a good game today. That gives our pitchers four complete games in a row. That's the first time its happened this year.

"Now if Cleveland should lose two games and we win all ours, we ought to win the thing."

Stengel's reasoning was sound but his arithmetic was a bit off.

Two Cleveland losses would give the Indians a final record of 96 victories and 58 defeats. The Yankees, with an 88-56 mark, thus can afford to lose one of their remaining 10 games and still finish one game ahead of Cleveland. Two defeats would mean a deadlock for the flag, necessitating a one-game playoff.

* * *

Although their pennant hopes for 1955 have been all but snuffed out, Chicago and Boston, along with Detroit, will have key roles in the championship race right to the final day, Sept. 25.

* * *

Today was a day of rest for New York and Cleveland. Friday the struggle resumes. With New York host to the Red Sox for three games before moving to Washington for three more and on to Boston for the last four. The Indians open a three-game home series with the Tigers Friday night, then travel to Chicago for two night games and end up with three in Detroit.

* * *

Cleveland's pitchers are expected to be Early Wynn (16-10), Mike Garcia (11-12) and Bob Lemon (18-8).

Stengel also has made his pitchers known as has Manager Mike Higgins of the Red Sox.

Whitey Ford (17-7) is slated to oppose Frank Sullivan on Friday, with Tommy Byrne (15-4) facing either Tom Brewer (11-10) or George Susce (8-7) on Saturday and Bob Turley (16-13) clashing with Willard Nixon (12-8) on Sunday.

FAIR HILL, Md. (AP)—A champion of steeplechasers in 1952, James F. McHugh's Jam, will start a comeback today in the toughest test of them all, the Foxcatcher National Cup Steeplechase.

Double Round Cuts Amateur to Sixteen

RICHMOND, Va. (AP)—The peculiar pattern of the 55th National Amateur Golf championship carried down to the last 16 players with an odd assortment of names and nobodies struggling through two more rounds today for a place in the semifinals.

The 16 players who survived yesterday's double round, when strength of legs counted almost as much as skill and stoutness of heart, included five players, two of them Walker Cup stars, whose names are quite familiar to golf followers, a coupe of springy-legged 19-year-old college kids who never seem to tire and an assortment of club golfers, little known outside their own local territory.

* * *

It's quite a thing for the weekend golfer to get as far as the fifth round of the National Amateur and only one of the 16 still in there has made it before. Jimmy McHale, who made it in 1949.

The other surviving "names" are Joe Conrad, who won the British Amateur title last spring; favorite Harvie Ward, the 1952 British Amateur champion who never has passed the fourth round in the American championship, and former intercollegiate champion Hillman Robbins who never has done much in the National.

Robbins still is a part-time collegian, selling automobiles on the side while completing his courses at Memphis State. The real kids of the tournament are Joe Campbell of Anderson, Ind., and Purdue, the current intercollegiate champion, and Jake Howard Jr., of Augusta, Ga., and the University of Georgia.

These three had par of 35-35—70 for the tough 6,713-yard James River course of the Country Club of Virginia.

After two days when scores of 74 to 76 were usually good enough to win, Robbins shot one-over-par golf for 25 holes and lost only one of them as he closed out a pair of tiring veterans, George McCallister and Ray Billows.

His 9-and-7 victory over three-time runner-up Billows, he said, was the biggest he ever had scored in match play. Campbell had his bad round in the morning then regained his putting touch to knock out veteran Ed Meister of Cleveland 4 and 3.

Harvie Ward, the pre-tournament pick, cut loose with a string of four birdies at the start of his afternoon match against 1954 junior champion Rex Baxter of Amarillo, Tex., and won 6 and 4. Earlier he had closed out bulky Gordon Stott of Glen Cove, N.Y., 5 and 3 with a two-over-par performance.

"Those four holes were the hottest I've ever seen in a match tournament," the handsome San Franciscan chuckled. "If I play like I did today, I'll go all the way."

MICHIGAN CONTENDERS FALL

Michigan's last hopes for championship honors in the National Amateur golf tourney died yesterday when the state's three remaining contenders fell by the wayside.

Tom Draper of Red Run was the last Michigan golfer to succumb as he dropped a 3-2 verdict to William Waryan of St. Paul in a 4th-round match. Draper eliminated Ralph C. Schwab of Dayton, 2-1, in the 3rd round.

Third-round matches proved fatal to the state's other two linksmen. John E. Wagner of Glencoe, Ill., defeated Glenn Johnson of Grosse Ile, 2 and 1, while Robert O. McCall of Canfield, Ohio, ousted Lansing's Art Olfs, 6 and 4.

Tigers Sign Collegian

DETROIT (AP) — The Detroit Tigers have signed outfielder Ronald Monson of Detroit to a minor league contract. Monson, who hit .380 for Western Michigan's freshman team last spring, will report to Tigertown in Lakeland, Fla., next spring.

Dismal Eastern Swing

Yankees Rout Garver, Bombard Tigers, 6-4, to Move Within Game of AL Lead

Casey Stengel's New York Yankees, still very much in the thick of the American League pennant race, shelled Ned Garver from the mund in the 2nd inning Wednesday at Yankee Stadium to down Detroit's faltering Bengals, 6-4.

Yankees' win, coupled with Cleveland's 3-2 loss to the Washington Senators, enabled the Bronx Bombers to move within one full game of the lead.

Yesterday's setback was the 3rd straight for the Tigers as they wound up their final Eastern swing of the season. Manager Bucky Harris' crew ended the trip with a dismal 2-6 record against the four Eastern clubs and head for Cleveland with a season count of 72-73, marking the 1st time since April 23 that the Tigers have been below the .500 figure.

Yesterday's victory by the pennant-minded Yankees gave them a sweep of the two-game set and a 12-10 edge for the season's series

Big Don Larsen continued his effective mound work for Stengel as he hurled his 4th consecutive complete game. Larson posted his 8th victory of the year and 7th since his recall from Denver by limiting the Tigers to five hits.

Tigers jumped off to a 2-0 lead in the 1st inning on booming doubles by Harvey Kuenn and Earl Torgeson, combined with a walk to Al Kaline and an error by "Scooter" Rizzuto. But the lead was short-lived.

Gil McDougald, 2nd hitter to face Garver, blasted his 12th homer of the season. A base on balls to Ygoi Berra, back-to-back singles by Mickey Mantle and Joe Collins, an intentional pass to Irv Noren, and Billy Martin's long fly gave the Yanks two more runs and a 3-2 advantage.

Yanks collected 10 hits in all off Garver and his two successors, Al Aber and Babe Birrer. A walk to Collins, Noren's single and Bill Tuttle's error gave the Yanks a run in the 5th, and Rizzuto's double, followed by McDougald's triple, tallied another in the 2nd and chased Garver. Last Yankee run was Hank Bauer's 19th homer in the 8th off Birrer.

Tigers had their final fling at scoring in the 9th when Torgeson walked and romped home ahead of Charlie Maxwell, who clouted his 7th home run of the year.

Big Lumber Harvest

LANSING (AP) — A record 22,000,000 board feet of lumber—worth $90,000—will be harvested from state forests this month.

The Conservation Department said 90 per cent of September sales is pulpwood, mostly aspen. The remainder is cedar posts and ties.

Torrid Threat in Good Time Pace

But Adois Harry Gets Favorite Role Tonight at Yonkers

YONKERS, N.Y. (AP)—Adios Harry will be the favorite, but the customers will be keeping a wary eye on Torrid tonight in the $27,900 Good Time Pace over the rugged mile and one half route at Yonkers Raceway.

Torrid scored a major upset Aug. 26 over Adios Boy and Adios Harry, the two speedy 4-year-old sons of Adios. Last week in the $25,000 New York Championship pace at Yonkers, Torrid finished in a dead heat for first with Adios Boy. They stepped the mile in a sparkling 2:00 4-5.

* * *

Adios Boy will skip tonight's event, not caring for the longer distance, but Adios Harry, owned by J. Howard Lyons of Greenwood, Del., is the 2-1 favorite.

The California speed horse, Diamond Hal, owned by Sol A. Camp of Shafter, is expected to be the 5-2 second choice and provide the strongest opposition to Adios Harry. Torrid, owned by the Sherwood Farm, Irvington, N.J., is 7-2.

Bald Mt. Reports 7th Hole-in-One for Year

Ed Newman, 650 W. Hancock St., Detroit, recorded Bald Mountain Golf Club's 7th hole-in-one of the season Tuesday afternoon. Five aces in a single year was the best previous mark at the Oakland County course.

Newman's ace was posted on the 172-yard 6th hole. The 56-year-old golfer, accompanied by Ernest R. Bollander of Detroit, drove into the wind with a No. 2 wood. Kenny and George Peterson, brothers from Birmingham, were on the green when Newman's tee-shot rolled into the cup. He scored an 85 for 18 holes.

Bowling Clinic

By BILLY SIXTY

I find in teaching that the natural tendency of all pupils is to rush into stride. The impulse is to get to the foul line and throw the ball. That's the sure way to mediocrity. The opposite of what good form demands. Timing is the important thing, and timing begins with a slow first step. A mere shuffle is what it amounts to, as sketch shows. As you shuffle forward, you use the push-away—push the ball outward, away from the body, smoothly and slowly.

In 4-step (standard) footwork you begin with the right foot step. Be relaxed, so that, at the end of the push-away the ball will drop easily into the backswing, pulling your shoulders down into a comfortable break at the waist. As the ball swings, you merely keep right on going to the foul line.

The swinging ball, gaining momentum in its downward path, will take you smoothly into your finishing step (fourth, with left foot) and slide.

Bears, Browns Tangle Tonight

Last Exhibition Game for Both Pro Elevens Set for Chicago

CHICAGO (AP) — The Chicago Bears will meet the Cleveland Browns tonight at Soldier Field in the 10th annual Armed Forces Benefit Game and the last pre-season game for both teams in the National Football League.

The Bears will be seeking their first victory in eight starts against the Browns, who will have their great quarterback, Otto Graham, back from retirement. This is the only scheduled meeting of the two teams this year.

The Bears have won their last two exhibition starts, against the Washington Redskins and the New York Giants. The Browns have lost three straight exhibition contests.

19 Million Pines for Fall Planting

LANSING (AP)—The Conservation Department said today 19 million young pine trees are available for fall planting.

The trees are sold for reforestation and Christmas tree production, the department emphasized. They are not available for land scapping.

Order blanks may be obtained from the department's forestry division, Lansing, 26.

Very Decent Rescue

CORPUS CHRISTI, Tex. (AP) — Patrolman R. C. Kinstely rescued a woman in Corpus Christi Bay, explained why he wore his pants when he dived in: "I didn't want to get arrested for indecency. That's a $25 fine."

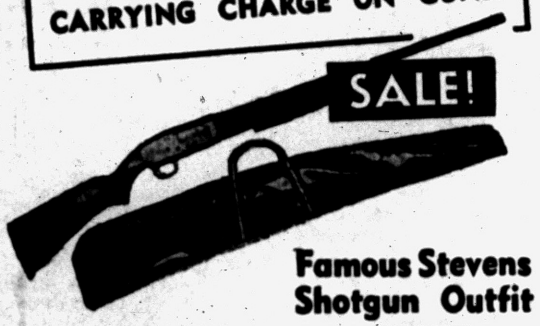

LIVING MEMORIAL — A state Conservation Department worker prepares to release some of the 1,313 11-inch rainbow trout turned into the South Branch of the AuSable recently in part fulfillment of the will of George Mason, former president of Nash-Kelvinator corporation, who died last fall. Mason deeded eight miles of the river to the public of Michigan and set up a fund for stocking the water annually.

MSU Strong at End As 1st Test Nears

EAST LANSING (AP) — Michigan State looks well stacked with good end material as the test of the 1st football game of the season approaches.

A long pass drill Wednesday afternoon ended the two-a-day sessions, emphasizing the importance of passing to the Spartans. Afternoon only sessions start today.

MSU has a pair of dependable starters this year plus some fine sophomore talent.

Jim Hinesly, the junior from Detroit, is uncontested 1st choice at right end. Although handicapped by injuries, Hinesly led the receivers last year with 15 catches for 231 yards.

His running mate at right end is John (Big Thunder) Lewis, the 198-pound senior from Fremont, Ohio. Lewis caught 10 but his runs were the cross country type and added to 338 yards.

Between them, the pair accounted for more than half of the MSU passing yardage.

"Some of our sophomore prospects should be real good by next year," said coach Duffy Daugherty. "We figure on some of them coming along to help this year too."

End coach Bob Devaney rates Tony Kolodziej, a six-footer from Florence, Mass., as his best all-around prospect among the sophomores. The New England import has been catching well and also is big enough to be effective on defense.

A suprise arrival on the campus, Joel Jones, a six-foot one-inch 215-pounder form Weirton, W. Va., is rated as the best defensive prospect.

Jones is one of those rare birds —a football player who came to the campus without being recruited and without any previous buildup. A bruiser type, He's being groomed as a defensive specialist to work at both ends.

Bob Jewett, a six-foot-two sophomore from Mason, has been snagging passes well on the offense. Jewett is prone to head injuries, wears a special helmet and coaches are concerned about the possibility of his being knocked out of action.

Behind these three, all sophomores, Devaney ranks four other sophomore prospects as comers—all about on a par.

Looking the best of the bunch has been Dave Kaiser, an Alpena high grad, who switched to Michigan State after a year at Notre Dame.

The 3-H boys, Lawrence Harding of Detroit, Gene Hecker of Grand Rapids and Darwyn Hepler of Detroit, round out the list of the top end entries.

Attitude Makes M's Kramer Top Asset to Squad

ANN ARBOR (AP)—Michigan's Ron Kramer is an athlete's athlete. But one reason why is not his physical prowess, nor his sensational end play. It's his attitude.

Coach Bennie Oosterbaan says that Kramer, a top prospect for All-America honors this year, seems unperturbed by the avalanche of publicity and alumni acclaim coming his way.

Kramer proved it himself in a way. At one of the opening practice sessions, he bent down to pick up his helmet. Then he put it on. A grin spread across his face.

"It's okay, coach," he said, "it still fits."

Mom Changes Tune as Son Grows Up

NEW HAVEN (AP) — Football is like this:

Modest Steve Ackerman, Yale's 197-pound, 6-1 hard-hitting fullback from Pennington, N.J., smiled today as he recalled the latest send-off from his mother.

Several years ago, as he left for Lawrenceville school to prep for Yale, his mother cautioned: "Please, Steve, be careful. Don't get hurt."

Six Hits by Infielder Paces Elgin Double Win

EGLIN AIR FORCE BASE, Fla. (AP)—If third baseman Claude Young continues to hit like he did in the first two games, Eglin will be hard to beat in the Air Force Southeastern Conference Baseball Tournament.

He drove in eight runs with six hits, including a double, triple and home run, while Eglin was crushing Shaw AFB, S.C., 18-0, and Pinecastle AFB, Fla., 9-1, in opening round games yesterday.

Better Big Seven Defenses Could Bring Tighter Race

KANSAS CITY (AP)—The prospect of improved defenses at Nebraska, Iowa State and Kansas could result in a tighter football race in the Big Seven Conference this season.

Bill Glassford, head man at Nebraska says his forward wall should be better than that of last year.

• • •

Iowa State, although fielding a relatively inexperienced team, will have more speed, more size and more depth. The Cyclones' line will average 205 pounds and the backfield 187.

Kansas, which yielded 4,005 yards to its opposition last year, also will apparently have an improved defense. Coach Chuck Mather reiterated Wednesday his belief that the Jayhawks are better prepared now than at any time during the 1954 campaign.

There still may be plenty of passing in the conference, too.

Missouri, which has dominated the passing game for a number of years, will be dependent on the services of halfback-turned-quarterback, Jim Hunter.

Nebraska will have Don Erway who was the No. 3 passer in the league last year.

Poplar Bill Sweeps Dashes at Wolverine

DETROIT (AP)—Poplar Bill clocked the fastest time of the current meeting last night as he swept both dashes of the $10,000 Board of Commerce Pace for 3-year-olds at the Wolverine Harness Raceway.

The hustling bay colt, owned by Phil Rossi of Nutley, N. J., clipped two-fifths of a second off the best previous time for the meeting, covering the mile in 2:02 1-5 in the final dash. He beat Hundred Proof by a length.

With Bill Myer at the reins, Poplar Bill took the 1st dash in 2:02 4-5, beating Sea Eagle by half a length.

First baseman Moose Skowron of the Yankees was once a blocking back for the football club at Purdue university.

Area Preps Set for Openers

By HARRY REED

Hard-swinging toes will boot the prep grid season into action tomorrow, with kickoffs scheduled throughout the area opening play in the '55 season.

Climaxing 3 weeks of practice and scrimmage, 30 teams will take to the field to start the scramble for league standings and independent ratings.

Possibly the team with the most at stake in the 1st tilt of the year is Oxford, which puts an undefeated season on the line in a clash with the Milford Redskins at Milford.

Redskins will be out for scalps, too, after being 21-0 stepping stones the Wildcats used last year to begin the win skein of 8 games.

Top attention, however, is being centered on the debut of the powerful Waterford Skipper aggregation, which has an afternoon date with West Bloomfield at Waterford High.

Skippers have been picked by many as the potential leaders in the Inter-Lakes League, and the team to beat for circuit honors. Basis for the prediction is the large squad turnout, and the 15 letter winners from last year.

None of the six I-L league members risk a setback in conference competition for the opener, as Walled Lake is at Redford, Southfield tangles with Birmingham, Berkley challenges Ferndale, Farmington attacks Clarenceville, and Van Dyke meets East Detroit.

Action in the Wayne-Oakland conference is also strictly off the record, as far as league standing go. Besides the West Bloomfield visit to Waterford, and the Milford-Oxford go, Clarkston is at Lake Orion; Holly and Grand Blanc clash, and Northville tests Plymouth.

Clarenceville ventures to Farmington, and Brighton welcomes South Lyon.

Non-affiliated Rochester Falcons will greet Davison, while independent Romeo sees what Richmond has to offer. Lapeer will meet the Caro Panthers.

Adhering to circuit policy, members of Oakland-B league will carefully avoid each other, opening day. Avondale gets a later start than the others, by virtue of a Saturday appointment in Wisner Stadium, to be kept by St. Michaels.

Troy Colts will face Dtroit Lutheran, and Lake Orion Dragons are scheduled to breath a little fire on Clarkston. Clawson journeys to Centerline, Madison is at Royal Oak's St. Mary,s while Roseville mixes it with Battle Creek and Fitzgerald will swap jolts with Lakeshore.

Off to a later start next week will be the Cranbrook Cranes, at Birmingham Friday, and Shrine, at St. Gregory in Detroit on Sunday.

Aussies Like Davis Cup

Australia has won the Davis Cup, emblematic of world tennis supremacy, 11 times. The amateur netmen from Down Under have beaten the United States five times in the last six years.

A physician has assured Billy Hunter, ex-Yankee shortstop, that he will suffer no ill effects from the ankle he fractured on Aug. 9 while playing for Denver.

'Best in State'

That's Rating Bronc Coach Gives Walker; Milford's Ganzle Also With Top Players

KALAMAZOO (AP) — Coach Jack Petoskey makes no predictions for his Western Michigan College football team.

But he boldly calls tackle Jim Walker "the best lineman in the state."

"There's just none better," Petoskey enthuses. "This boy is big and fast and can do everything. I'm surely glad to have him around."

Walker is a 6-foot-2, 245-pound junior from South Haven. He is the brother of Art Walker, Michigan's outstanding tackle who was graduated last June.

Around the Western Michigan campus you hear that Jim rates over his brother—and not in hushed whispers, either. One close observer proclaims that Jim, although a junior, is better than brother Art when he was a senior.

At any rate, Petoskey will need all the help he can get to improve Western Michigan's 4-5 record of last season.

With 14 lettermen returning, Petoskey calls his team "improved." The Broncos lost eight lettermen but they were most 2nd and 3rd stringers.

"We've got an experienced line but the backs still must prove themselves," Petoskey says. "We'll have a better passing game than last season and our running will improve with game experience."

Among the backfielders, Petoskey is particularly high on quarterback Jerry Ganzle of Milford and fullbacks Charles Nidiffer and Tom Czyz, a pair of out-of-state imports.

"Nidiffer and Czyz are our best fullbacks in years," Petoskey says.

Ganzel, at quarterback, is an angular 6-foot-2, 183-pounder. He is a senior and co-captain. He was the 3rd leading passer in the state last season, completing 41 of 115 passes for 624 yards and 4 touchdowns.

Rocky-Moore Fight May Top TV Gate

NEW YORK (INS) — The head of theater network television claims the 1st million-dollar gate for closed-circuit TV is a virtual certainty for next Tuesday's Rocky Marciano-Moore title fight.

President Nathan L. Hapern based his estimate on the advance ticket sales of 128 theaters in 92 cities.

The Yankee Stadium bout will be carried over the largest closed-circuit TV network in history beginning at 10:30 p.m. (EDT) next Tuesday.

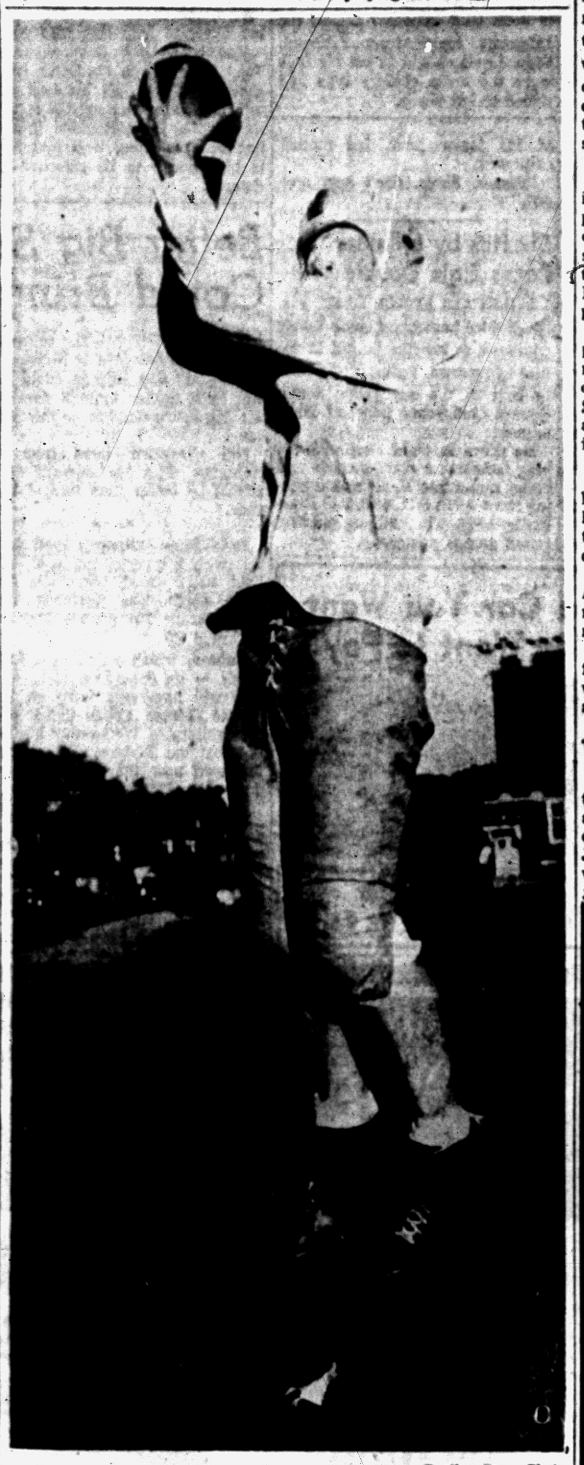

Only Two Still Active

PASS SNATCHER—The long lad (above) will be occupying Pontiac High's left end position, come Friday night, in Wisner stadium. He's Bill Kennedy, 175-pound, 6-foot-one-inch flanker. D.C. Newspaper Denies Charges

Says It Never Printed Hughes' Facts, Jury Probes Three Staffers

NEW YORK (AP)—The Washington Post and Times-Herald says it never printed any information obtained from Paul H. Hughes, who was indicted here yesterday on charges of perjury during a federal grand jury investigation of turnabout witness Harvey Matusow.

* * *

Allegations of falsehoods involving three members of the newspaper's staff were among the counts in the indictment. The three staff members are Managing Editor Alfred Friendly, Executive Editor J. Russell Wiggins and reporter Murrey Marder.

A statement issued by the newspaper said Hughes went to the staff members in the fall of 1954 and offered certain information about Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy (R-Wis) and his Senate subcommittee on investigations.

* * *

U.S. Atty. Paul Williams' office here described the 35-year-old Hughes as "apparently a volunteer worker" for McCarthy's subcommittee.

However, McCarthy said at his Appleton, Wis., home that Hughes' name "doesn't ring a bell with me."

"I am sure he never worked for me, nor for the committee while I was chairman," McCarthy added.

Win by Senators Fails to Dampen Spirit of Lopez

Indian Manager Says 'Still a Good Chance' to Nose Out New York

WASHINGTON (AP) — Undaunted by Cleveland's 13th loss to the seventh-place Washington Senators Manager Al Lopez thinks the Indians still have a good chance to nose out the New York Yankees for the American League pennant.

"They have it a little tougher than us," he said. "They have to play two more games than we do."

Last night's 3-2 loss to Washington cut the Cleveland lead to one game and left the Indians and the Yankees tied at 56 losses each, though Cleveland is two ahead in games won. The Indians have eight games to play, the Yankees 10.

Lopez said he will stick by his "Big Four" pitching staff, alternating Early Wynn, Bob Lemon, Mike Garcia and Herb Score the rest of the way. Wynn will be his pitcher against Detroit when the Indians resume play in Cleveland tomorrow.

* * *

Score set a new strikeout record for major league rookies last night, fanning nine to raise his season's total to 235. The former record of 227 had stood since 1911 when Grover Cleveland Alexander set it as a rookie with the Philadelphia Phillies. The modern major league record of 348 strikeouts was set by Bob Feller of the Indians in 1948.

Athough Score pitched well last night, his effort just wasn't good enough to stop the Senators as they knocked out Score and finished by beating the Indians' star relief pitcher, Ray Narleski.

It was Washington's 13th victory in 22 games with Cleveland this season. A year ago, the Indians won 18 to the Senators' 4. No other team holds an edge over Cleveland this season.

* * *

"I just can't understand it," Lopez said of the Senators' showing against his team. "The way they play against us I don't see what they are doing down there in seventh place. They only made one bad play and got a force-out on that one."

That was a reference to a weird play in the sixth inning which Bobby Avila led off with a single. Al Rosen followed with a fly ball along the right field line which Carlos Paula caught and then dropped. Avila was heading back to first when Paula dropped the ball and he was easily forced when Paula threw in to shortstop Jose Valdivielso.

Eagles Rated Highly

Madison's Eagles may be the sleeper in the Oakland-B grid league this year, as play gets under way Friday and Saturday for circuit honors.

The Eagles have a chance to bump leaders Avondale and Rosedale from the top positions of last year, with a large turnout of candidates and a group of 9 returning lettermen, including 5 regulars.

With the exception of Avondale, the 7 league members will take to the field for the 1st time on Friday night. The Yellow Jackets wait until Saturday for a bout with St. Michael's in Wisner Stadium.

All Oakland-B games Friday are against non-league 11's.

Avondale's outlook is not too bright, according to coach Frank Crowell. Missing will be the familiar faces of 8 of the starting team which ran up an undefeated season, with six wins and three ties. One of the largest players in local circles will be fielded by the Yellow Jackets, in the person of Alfred Hill, a 285 pound center.

Troy seeks to recover from a 0-8 record last year, and is still very shallow at all positions, coach Bob Nyquist says. In uniform are five regulars from last year, and five other letter winners. Sophomore Wayne Figley is slated for action at quarterback.

"Slim pickings" are the code words for Lake Orion Dragon mentor Ted Sela, confronted with a small turnout of talent, and a dearth of experienced players. The Clawson Trojans hope to improve their 2-6 record of last year, and have a pair of beefy young tackles to help them do it.

Sophomore Roger Lance goes 235 and junior Dave Meeker tips the scale at 210. The 5 returning regulars are split up with 2 in the backfield and 3 bolstering the line.

Coach Leonard Dalton is hopeful as the Roseville Wildcats open a schedule with a contest at Battle Creek. Roseville had a 5-4 record last year, winding up knotted on top as co-champions with Aondale.

Fitzgerald's new grid head Jerry Udell is taking over varsity chores after assisting for several years. Regular tackles Bill Bizovi and Myron Murto were among the 7 letter winners to greet him when practice opened for 80.

Ron Widenhammer, co-captain of the basketball team and a third baseman in baseball, is a top scholar at Penn State, attaining a classroom standing of 2.62 points out of a possible top total of 3.0 which is perfection.

Chrysler Corp. Claims Speed Mark for Dodge

BONNEVILLE SALT FLATS, Utah (AP)—Dodge Division of Chrysler Corp. today laid claim to a world unlimited speed record for three days of continuous driving.

Dodge said a 1956 custom Royal 4-door sedan averaged 106.23 miles an hour, shattering the 94.66 m.p.h. record for the same time set by a Porsche. A trio of drivers—Danny Eames, Betty Skelton and A. K. Miller — drove the car on the Bonneville speed flats of Western Utah.

Bowstring Deer Hunting Group Getting Larger

LANSING, Mich. (AP)— Hunting deer with bow and arrow is a fast growing sport in Michigan, the State Conservation Department reported today.

* * *

The department estimated 35,000 bow and arrow huntsmen will be out for the Oct. 1-Nov. 5 season. Last year, 33,000 archers went afield.

* * *

How many are successful? About five per cent, the department said.

This Fish Story Makes Different Kind of Reading

NORWICH, England (AP)—Here is something different in the way of fish stories.

Bill Gunson claimed the world record today for the SMALLEST fish ever taken on a rod and line.

Gunson, secretary of the Frkenham Angling Association, made his tiny catch while engaged in a fishing contest. Placed on a druggist's scales, the tiny flatfish weighed 2½ grains, or about six thousands of an ounce.

The report gave no details as to how Gunson landed the little fish, or even how he could see it.

Seeks Information on Banded Pigeons

Clarence Groner, 8011 Commerce Road, is seeking information regarding a pair of homing pigeons brought to his place a few days ago. The birds, both banded, were slightly injured in landing, and Groner is keeping them in hopes of locating the owner or owners.

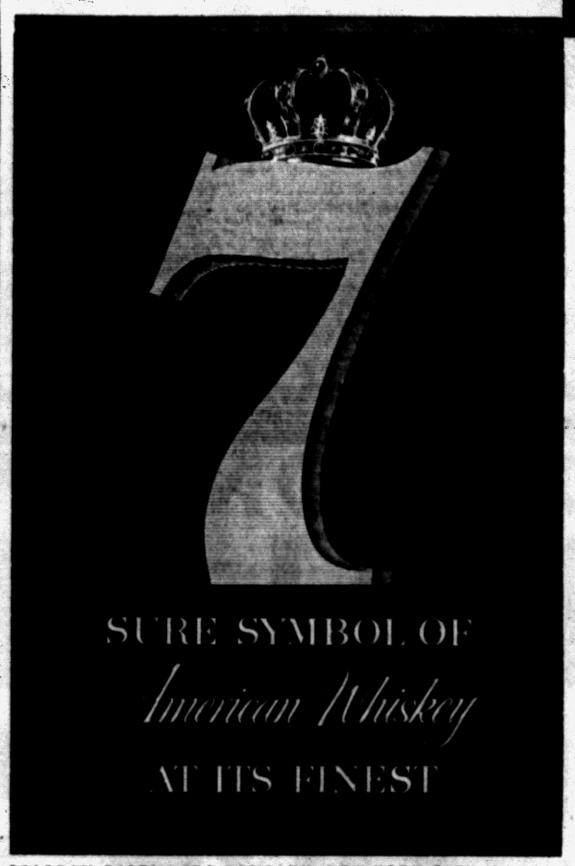

One bore only the numerals 51 on its band. The other carried an inscription, K1424-UP-55. Groner will welcome any information regarding the birds.

Marty Marion Not Conceding Pennant Chase

4 Games Behind, 8 Left, Manager of White Sox Still Full of Hope

BALTIMORE (AP) — Four games behind with only eight to play, Manager Marty Marion of the Chicago White Sox still refuses today to concede the American League pennant.

"No sir, not until we're mathematically out," says the realistic pilot of the third place club. "We are still struggling, skipper," agreed Frank Lane, the general manager.

Just to prove he wasn't spoofing about surrendering, Marion immediately began talking about playing the league-leading Cleveland Indians for the last two times next Tuesday and Wednesday.

"They'll be two terrific games," he promised. "Jack Harshman and Bill Pierce, our two best pitchers now, will be ready for them."

Pierce shut out the Baltimore Orioles, 6-0, on six hits yesterday after the White Sox dropped a damaging 8-2 decision in the first game.

"We've really got to clobber Kansas City," said Lane.

Marion agreed by admitting, "we can't afford to lose anymore, although we'll keep playing as they come up. The two days of rest coming up now probably will do us a lot of good."

The White Sox don't resume play in Kansas City until tomorrow night.

Heading for Kansas City against whom the White Sox have won 10 of 16 games so far, Marion said, "I am sure glad to leave Baltimore. They've been rough on us."

By splitting the last two doubleheaders, the Orioles managed to take 10 of the 22 games from the White Sox.

"If we had done as well against Baltimore as Cleveland and New York, we'd be well out in front," second-guessed Lane.

SOUTHPAW STYLE — That grip Cleveland fireballer Herb Score is showing is the one that brought him fame last night as he set a new major league strikeout record for a rookie. The 26-year-old set down nine Washington batters, and has a season total of 235, eight better than the 44-year-old pitching record set in 1911 by Grover Cleveland Alexander of the Philadelphia Phillies.

Leave Home for Series

The 1918 Cubs played their world series games that season in the White Sox park which had greater accomodations for the spectators.

Babe Zaharias Happy With Top Nomination

TAMPA, Fla. (AP)—Babe Zaharias is mighty tickled at being nominated for the Florida Sports Hall of Fame.

"That is real good news," she said when told of the nomination on her return home from Galveston, Tex., yesterday. "I've been wanting to get into it ever since I first heard of it."

* * *

Weak from her second round of treatment for cancer and pale from three months in a Galveston hospital, the great golfer came down the plane steps under her own power, but rode in a wheel chair to the automobile which took her to her home.

She flashed her old cheerful grin for the 100 persons who turned out to welcome her, and wisecracked with close friends.

"I guess seeing all these people and all my friends makes me feel real good—better than I have felt all week," she said.

She wants to play golf again but isn't going to rush it.

The Babe Didrickson Zaharias, Cancer Fund, set up last week by the Babe and her husband, George Zaharias, is playing a big part in her thoughts now.

* * *

"The Fund will take care of people who can't afford to pay for examinations for cancer," the Babe said.

Albany Club Rejoins Boston Farm System

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—The Albany baseball club of the Eastern League rejoined the Boston Red Sox farm-club system today.

Tom McCaffrey, owner of the Albany Senators, announced he had obtained a full working agreement with the American League club. The Red Sox will assume complete control in fielding the Senators next year.

WEDNESDAY'S STARS

PITCHING — Tom Poholsky, Cardinals, 26-year-old righthander shut out champion Dodgers 3-0 on three singles, letting only one man past first while walking none and striking out two.

BATTING — Gus Zernial, Athletics, drove in six runs with two homers, the second a bases-loaded shot that beat Red Sox 7-3.

Willie Hartack Up, Five Romp Home

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP) — Jockey Willie Hartack, the nation's leading rider, had a big day, accounting for five winners at Atlantic City Race Track yesterday.

He scored aboard Speed Test ($12.20) in the first; Betty C ($5.20) in the second; Fast Fire ($8.00) in the fourth; Entry ($4.60) in the fifth; Belluno ($4.60) in the eighth.

He was second on G-Two in the sixth and third aboard Black Main in the seventh. He accounted for the $28.80 daily double payoff.

This brings the hard-riding Johnstown, Pa., jockey's total winners for the year to 295.

False Teeth Returned

CHAMBERS, Neb. (AP) — In August, 1954, Mrs. August Rednar of Chambers lost her false upper teeth while on a picnic at Omaha.

In August, 1955, by mail from Omaha, she received a package containing the teeth. And a note that read, "Take these back to your dentist. They are poorly made. They just didn't fit at all."

Weather Aids Man in Coast Fire Fight

SANTA BARBARA, Calif. (AP) — Men and the weather have knocked most of the danger out of California forest fires.

Control of the 75,000-acre Santa Barbara County fire is hoped for today by Robert Jones, supervisor of Los Padres National Forest, in which most of the burned area lies.

Steady rain has ended the threat of new outbreaks in the northern California fires where in the last week damage to the woods and watershed has been estimated at more than two million dollars.

The 87,000-acre haystack fire in Klamath National Forest west of Yreka was contained Monday.

Seven miles southwest of Yreka rain halted the 11,000-acre six mile fire and the 1,000-acre Taylor Creek fire. These and other nearby fires were put on a mopup basis last night.

In central California, 960 men had surrounded and confined an 18,000-acre, 12-day-old fire which once threatened the General Grant grove of Giant Redwoods in Sequoia National Forest.

Jet Pilots Take Roamin' Holiday in Light Planes

TAMPA, Fla. (AP)—It's rather like the postman taking a long walk on his day off, but pilots of the speedy Stratojet bombers at MacDill Air Force Base here have a hobby of flying light planes.

The SAC (Strategic Air Command) Aero Club at MacDill owns four light planes, one of them a four-seater.

Aero Club members rent the craft on an hourly basis or by the week if a flier can take off that long. Money from the plane rentals keeps up the planes and sweetens the kitty for purchase of more light craft.

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — After finishing a lunch of stuffed pepper, spinach and stewed prunes, Walt Disney left the commissary, walked down Studio Street and climbed into his convertible.

Prodded by questions, Disney kept up a steady stream of conversation. He talked a great deal about his new TV season, which started Wednesday with the showing of "Dumbo."

* * *

How can he afford to give away such a multimillion-dollar property to home audiences?

"That's a good question," he said. "You see, I wear many hats. When I have my TV producer's hat on, I fight like the dickens to get the films that the movie producer has made.

"My brother Roy and the other businessmen in the company figure out what we can afford to give up. I convinced them to give me 'Dumbo.' It is one of our shorter features — it runs 63 minutes—so it is not as easy to re-release as the others. And we can hold it a few years and bring it out for an entirely new generation."

* * *

This season he will also show two other features — "Robin Hood" and "The Sword and the Rose." Both star Richard Todd, "who should be much better known because of 'A Man Called Peter.'"

By using such completed films, he can afford to go over his budget on the other shows. For example, a Tomorrowland hour costs him $250,000 or more. Two runnings on TV will bring him only half of that.

* * *

"We went a million dollars over budget last year," he disclosed. "Davy Crockett pulled us out. We made the films for $700,000, while we could only get $300,000 back from TV. But the theatrical showings will possibly gross a million and a half here, and there is considerable interest in Davy abroad.

"We also ended up with a star—Fess Parker."

This season he hopes Davy will again come to the rescue. He has sunk $800,000 into two chapters—"The Great Keelboat Race" and "The River Pirates." Only $250,000 can be realized from TV. Disney hopes the theater release here and abroad will make up the deficit.

* * *

On Oct. 3, Disney embarks on another TV adventure — The Mickey Mouse Club. It will be on ABC from 5 to 6 every week day. He accomplished the miracle of selling 15 million dollars worth of sponsorship without even making a pilot film.

(Saturday: Disney visits Disneyland tells of its first two months' operation, plans for future.)

Customs Guard Wilts Woman's Kentucky Violets

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — It's tough to grow violets in California. Especially those that come from Kentucky or Arizona dirt.

Mrs. Della Ruhnow said she tried to bring two pots of violets here from her old Kentucky home. Entering Arizona, a guard said she could keep the violets if she'd dump out the Kentucky soil and pour in Arizona dirt.

At the California border, an inspector told her, "Too bad, ma'am, but if you'd have left the Kentucky dirt in, you could have kept the violets."

The guard said he'd dispose of the soil and violets — according to state agriculture laws. Mrs. Ruhnow bought some geraniums — in San Diego.

Church Group Set to Adjourn

Episcopalians Slate '58 Convention at Miami, Approve Budget

HONOLULU (AP)—The Protestant Episcopalians, with a record budget approved and Miami Beach, Fla., awarded the 1958 convention, today moved toward adjournment of their 58th general convention.

Many of the 3,500 delegates were packing their bags. A group of 318 leave by ship tonight.

The next triennial convention will open Oct. 5, 1958, at Miami Beach. Interim meetings will be held at Pocono Manor, Pa., in 1956 and Sewanee, Tenn., in 1957.

A $6,807,947 budget was approved Tuesday. A large portion will go toward an expanded missionary program.

The House of Bishops yesterday turned down a motion aimed at asking President Eisenhower and the Defense Department for an examination of moral conduct of men and women of the armed forces.

* * *

Both bishops and deputies urged a comic book cleanup. They voted in favor of statehood for Hawaii and Alaska.

* * *

The Committee on the State of the Church reported total membership of baptized persons in the United States increased 11.6 per cent in the last three years to 2,757,744.

* * *

Church receipts for the past year were $128,776,726, the committee reported. This marked a 42 per cent increase over 1952.

3 Try Counterfeiting $5 Bills in Prison

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP)—A bold bid by three Alabama convicts to manufacture $5 bills in the Draper Prison printing shop has landed the trio in Kilby Prison's maximum security section.

They actually printed four or five spurious bills before the plot was discovered, said Draper's Warden Burr Reeves, but due to lack of suitable ink and paper, the bills were too crude for the convicts to risk trying to pass them as money.

The prisoners, John Thomas Cain, 28; William Reid McDonald, 27, and Sammy Burl Brewer, 21, were transferred to Kilby last week pending further investigation by Federal authorities.

An average passenger in a New York subway rides about 7.5 miles.

DETROIT POULTRY

DETROIT, Sept. 15 (AP)—Prices paid per pound f.o.b. Detroit for No 1 quality live poultry up to 10 a.m.

Heavy type hens 24-27, light type 16-18, heavy type broilers and fryers 2½-3½ lb gray crosses 31-32, Barred Rocks 32-33; old roosters 10-12.

Market about steady at listed prices. Moderate receipts consisted mostly of broilers-or fryers. Some receivers brought in less than usual for a Thursday but offerings, including carryovers from earlier in week, still exceeded a relatively light demand. Hens were ample although stocks are clearing in most quarters. Carried caponettes moved out slowly in small lots. Many live poultry retail stores will be closed Saturday on account of the Hebrew holiday. Turkey receipts light but ample. Some heavy types young turkey hens received at 33 cents, few on special order 36 cents; heavy type young toms 32 cents, few 34 cents.

Grains Fighting Huge Opposition

CHICAGO (AP)— Grain prices fought their way higher against considerable opposition on the Board of Trade today. The result was a broad, active market with only minor changes in price levels.

Soybeans were in most active demand their gain ran to more than a cent at times. Advances in other pits were limited to fractions. Buying in beans apparently reflected early strength in soybean oil and soybean meal futures.

Wheat near the end of the first hour was unchanged to ¼ higher, September $1.98¼; corn ¼ to ½ higher, September 1.30⅜; oats unchanged to ⅛ higher, September 58; rye unchanged to ¼ lower, September 99; soybeans ½ to 1¼ higher, September $2.25; lard 10 cents lower to 13 cents a hundred pounds higher, September $9.90.

Official Stresses Trucks' Value

GM Executive Reports Vehicle Will Influence Future Prosperity

CHICAGO, Ill.—The vital importance of motor truck transportation in our national economy and the influence trucks will exert on future growth and prosperity were outlined here yesterday by R. C. Woodhouse, general truck sales manager for GMC Truck and Coach Division of General Motors.

* * *

Addressing the Central Motor Freight Assn., Woodhouse said more than 25,000 communities are served solely by highway transportation, 75 per cent of all general freight is carried by trucks, and 89 per cent of all farm produce is trucked to markets.

"Although we're just as young as the aircraft industry," Woodhouse explained, "we've become one of the nation's truly great industries. The annual volume of highway transportation is 40 billion dollars, and one out of every seven jobs in this country is in the field of highway transportation."

CONSERVATIVE FORECASTS

Indicating that previous truck-market forecasts have been too conservative, Woodhouse said, "I'll hazard a guess that truck population in 1975, just 20 years from now, will be near 30 million. In other words, I think our industry's annual volume will be almost triple the volume today."

He said great strides have been made in combating the "negative" attitudes toward trucks that stemmed from the early days of the industry, and more progress will be made as manufacturers accelerate their engineering programs.

Detroit Charges Trio for Icebox Deaths

DETROIT (AP)—Two women and a man were arraigned here today in the first application of the "icebox law" passed by the state Legislature last year.

The three stood mute in recorder's court on charges they failed to remove locks from an abandoned icebox in which two small boys suffocated Sept. 2.

Mrs. Bertha Jackson and Mr. and Mrs. Isadore Colin, all of Detroit, were released on $500 bond each.

Judge George Murphy set Sept. 29, as the date for trial. Conviction carries a maximum penalty of 90 days in jail or $100 fine.

Marvin Jones, 4, and his brother Michael, 3, suffocated in an icebox once owned by Mrs. Jackson. It was stored on the porch of their rented home; the Colins owned the building.

"Unbiased" Bob Feller Lets Out Series Secret

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—So you want to know how the World's Series will come out? I suppose I'd better share my secret with you.

Pitcher Bob Feller told me at the Little Club that the Cleveland Indians are the only American League team that can possibly beat Brooklyn in the series because only they have strong right-handed pitching power to use against Brooklyn's right-swinging fence-busters.

LIBERACE

If Cleveland wins in the A.L., the first two games'd be played in Beautiful Ohio, and Bob figures Cleveland'd win both because the Dodgers' long wallops would be caught by the clever Cleveland outfielders instead of going for home runs as in Brooklyn.

Bob assured me he wasn't biased, so I thought I'd better tell you.

The great camera wizard "Weegee," tired of taking pretty pictures, has come up with a secret method of camera caricaturing. He makes Liberace look all teeth, and focuses attention on Marilyn Monroe's lips by making them smaller.

"One editor blew his stack about my stuff and says, "This looks like somethin' by Duffy'," Weegee told me. "So I says, 'You mean James Edmund Duffy, that covers ship news for the World-Telly? When did he start takin' pictures'."

The editor referred to the late Raoul Duffy, the French impressionist painter, which makes Weegee a great artist.

George Gobel is his surprising Gobelish self visiting here. "Finish your movie?" I asked him. George: "Except for some pickups." Me: "What are pickups?" George: "There you are! I didn't know either, but I didn't want to show my ignorance; so I just said, 'Whenever you want to do those pickups, let me know'."

EVE ADAMS

George Gershwin came close to marrying once, David Ewen relates in his forthcoming biography of Gershwin, "A Journey to Greatness." He planned to poy the question to a chorus girl at a dinner at her parents' home. But that evening she planned a special surprise. She played some of his music.

"Imagine," he exclaimed later, explaining why he remained a bachelor, "living the rest of my life hearing MY music played THAT way!"

THE MIDNIGHT EARL . . .

Sinatra's gotten around to Grace Kelly; he took her to a private screening at MGM . . . Clark Gable refused to let a weekly mag do his bio, explaining, "I have enough money."

Diana Barrymore says her next groom will be a Bucks County cafe owner . . . Exotic dancer Eve Adams is the current attraction at Georgia's Blue Room.

It was just a year ago that Hal March accepted a one minute bit in the film "My Sister Eileen"; today he's TV's hottest bet, on "64 G Question" . . . Goats and sheep chewed up all the scenery on one of the "Ten Commandments" locations; it had to be replaced with artificial grass.

Postal Union Re-routes

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M. (AP)—It finally got here.

A letter from the South African Gold Coast to a trailer company here was addressed originally to Albuquerque, England. The International Postal Union in London pencilled a notation "try New Mexico, U.S.A."—and sure enough it arrived.

Lady of House Views the Most

Normal Family Turns Set on an Average 56 Hours Every Week

By CHARLES MERCER

NEW YORK (AP)—A lot of people say that the longer you own a television set the less you look at it. But the American Research Bureau, reporting on a survey, says that people who have had their sets the longest look the longest.

* * *

Who are these folks who do the most viewing?

They are, says ARB, families of 4 or more members, with the parents aged 20 to 39, who have owned their TV sets on the average of 43 months. The woman of the house does by far the most viewing. Such families keep their sets on an average of 56 hours a week, thus helping make 25 per cent of the nation's potential TV audience account for 40 per cent of the nation's viewing.

GOING BACK

Not too long ago it was a great American Sunday afternoon sport to sit in the parlor and look at panoramic scenes of Niagara Falls and the Grand Canyon through the old stereoscope.

Beginning Oct. 16, if NBC-TV, has its way, the great American Sunday afternoon sport will be looking at panoramic scenes on television. "Wide Wide World," brainchild of NBC president Sylvester L. Weaver Jr., has grown into pants, acquired sponsors, and will come to the screen every other Sunday afternoon at 4 p.m. (Eastern Time) through next June 3.

* * *

Theme of the first hour and a half show is "A Sunday in Autumn." To present that American panorama 50 cameras will traverse 30,000 miles and shoot from the air, on the ground, under water, from the deck of a boat and a moving cable car.

GILDERSLEEVE

Throckmorton P. Gildersleeve is a tall, good-natured, bombastic fellow. Willard Waterman is a tall, good-natured, quiet fellow. After playing Gildersleeve in radio for five years, Waterman is now bringing him to television in a weekly situation comedy series produced by the NBC film division. The show is being released in various cities at various times.

Gildersleeve, if you didn't know, is the Water Commissioner of the mytical village of Summerfield. As a cigar-smoking, goggle-eyed city official, he's a gentle lampoon of self-important officialdom everywhere.

A native of Madison, Wis., who progressed to Hollywood by way of radio in Chicago, Waterman is a highly domesticated fellow. He and his wife, Maryanna, and their two daughters — aged 18 and 11 — live in the San Fernando Valley near Hollywood.

PRODUCER JESSEL

George Jessel, who has produced his quota of movies, says he is going into TV production this fall. He has three series in mind, of some variety: one in which Jessel will toastmaster a number of dinners; one which will deal with pawnshops; a third which will star an English policewoman.

Judge's Wife Plays a Role in Court Drama

BOSTON (AP)—A short drama with a happy note was enacted yesterday in Federal Court.

Mario Valdario of Medford, a truck driver, said he hadn't been able to pay $600 in medical expenses to a man he was accused of beating during a truck dispute.

Valdario escaped a three year jail sentence in June 1954 on condition he pay $5 a week toward the man's medical bill.

* * *

Judge William T. McCarthty sternly warned Valdario, who pleaded poor health and unemployment, he would have to make the payments or go to jail.

At that point a motherly looking woman stepped up and handed a probation officer $10 for two weks' payment in Valdario's behalf.

"Who is that wonderful woman?" asked Valdario of the chief deputy marshal.

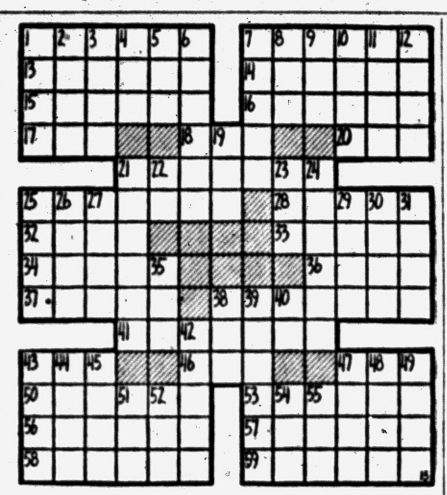

"Why," said the marshal. "That's Judge McCarthy's wife."

Murder Hinted in Fiery Crash

Autopsy Reveals Pair May Not Have Died as Result of Accident

EATON, Ohio (AP)—What had appeared to be only an automobile accident in which a man and his wife burned to death apparently had turned today into a mystery that "looks like murder."

Everett Fahrenholz, Preble County prosecutor, said Harold C. Bowman, 49, of near West Alexandria did not burn to death in his wrecked automobile early on the morning of Sept. 4 but died of a shotgun wound behind his left eye.

* * *

The exact cause of the death of Bowman's wife Maybelle, 47, has not yet been determined definitely but Dr. Robert Siehl, Preble County coroner, said, "There is a possibility of strangulation."

Sheriff Floyd Spitler, who conferred last night with the prosecutor and the coroner on the autopsy report, said "it looks like murder but we are continuing our investigation before we reach a decision. If it is murder, there can be only one suspect."

He did not name the suspect.

The Bowmans foster son Kenneth, 17, was burned in the fire and still is in a Dayton hospital. He told authorities he crawled from the wrecked automobile after it went over an embankment.

Fahrenholz said young Bowman's condition has been such that authorities have been unable to question him fully. Hospital attaches said the youth is being held for observation by a psychiatrist, neurosurgeon and and internal medicine specialist.

Hooker Electrochemical, DuPont, and Union Carbide are several of the companies which have located in Michigan in recent years because of the state's large supplies of salt and brine. Iron, copper, limestone and timber are several others of the state's most plentiful natural resources.

Eden Confined to Bed With Influenza Attack

LONDON (AP) — Prime Minister Eden is confined to bed with influenza at his country home at Chequers.

An official announcement today from 10 Downing St., said he has been compelled to cancel his present engagements. He was reported running a temperature.

* * *

The prime minister, 58, had planned to spend the weekend with Lady Eden as guests of Queen Elizabeth at Balmoral Castle in Scotland.

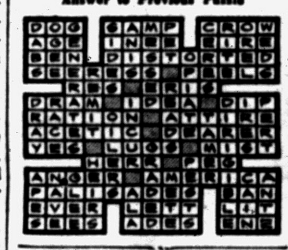

He returned last night from Northumberland where he made a visit to a model electric coal mining pit.

One Star to Another

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—A couple youngsters approached actor Van Johnson beside a hotel swimming pool and asked for autographs. No one had a pencil. Then a brunette woman sitting nearby reached into her beach bag and came up with one.

"Thanks, lady," said one of the youngsters—to Rosalind Russell.

Label Librarian Security Risk

Probers Questioning Pennsylvania Woman's Communist Affiliations

WASHINGTON (AP) — Mrs. Mary Knowles, whose employment as a librarian in the small Quaker town of Plymouth Meeting, Pa., has aroused a controversy among the townspeople, was called for questioning today by the Senate Internal Security subcommittee.

In May 1953, Mrs. Knowles refused to tell the subcommittee whether she was a Communist. Herbert hilbrick, a former FBI undercover agent, testified he had known her as a member of a Communist cell in Boston.

Mrs. Knowles was then dismissed as a librarian in South Norwood, Mass., but for nearly two years she has been employed by the William Jeanes Memorial Library in lymouth Meeting. The only library in town, it is open to all.

* * *

The subcommittee said that last June the Fund for the Republic awarded $5,000 to the library "for its courageous and effective defense of democratic principles' in refusing to discharge Mrs. Knowles on the demand of townspeople."

The fund for the Republic, with a grant of 15 million dollars from the Ford Foundation, was set up with the avowed purpose of upholding the principles of the Declaration of Independence and the U.S. Constitution.

* * *

The fund stepped in with its award to the library after township and Community Chest contributions to it had been cut off in the controversy over Mrs. Knowles, employment.
