'Millage Renewal Needed for Costs and Improvements'

(EDITOR'S NOTE—This is the first in a three-part series outlining projected needs for the Pontiac School District, financed by an 8.75-mill tax levy which voters will be asked to renew for 10 years Oct. 2.)

By L. GARY THORNE

School officials isolate two general factors to account for their request that voters approve renewal of the 8.75-mill extra-voted tax levy a week from today.

These factors are painfully obvious to any home owner who has experienced the high cost of living.

● A general increase in the cost of doing business each year.

● Improvements in the educational programs to keep up to date.

What is the evidence to support these factors?

Whitmer offers a generous supply of reasons.

Each year it costs the school system more to do just what it did the previous year. The cost of books, buses, pencils, fuel, electricity and all school equipment increases.

SALARY PACE

Likewise, salaries of school employes must be increased each year to "keep pace" with living costs.

"School employes, like all employes," says Whitmer, "expect and deserve some annual improvement in their economic level."

In addition to cost of living, the schools must keep pace with general wage and salary levels in the area.

Increases in teachers' salaries will be particularly significant in the years ahead, he said. There is great competition for good teachers, not only among school districts, but also with industry.

HUGE IMPACT

Teachers' wages will have a huge impact on future costs, since 70 per cent of current annual expenses for the school district go toward salaries of instructional personnel.

Hence, the cost of doing business will increase each year during the 10-year term of the proposed millage.

This unavoidable "evil" must share tax dollars with a necessary "evil" of keeping educational programs up to date.

MORE IMPROVEMENTS

Whitmer said that the years lying ahead will require even

Warren Report May Stir Controversy in Europe

LONDON (AP)—The Warren commission's report on President John F. Kennedy's assassination is certain to produce a storm of controversy in Europe if it holds that the accused killer, Lee Harvey Oswald, acted alone.

An Associated Press survey of nine European countries today showed that leftist circles will take the lead in charging a whitewash if the commission's report, to be made public Sunday, upholds the FBI's version of the Dallas killing.

Leftist organizations have long subscribed to the theory, that the assassination was a rightist conspiracy with Oswald as its tool and that Dallas nightclub operator Jack Ruby shot Oswald to silence him.

The publication in Europe, as a newspaper serial and as a book, of "Who Killed Kennedy?" by Baltimore reporter Thomas G. Buchanan, has added to the doubt.

NOT OSWALD

So has New York lawyer Mark Lane, who toured the continent denying that Oswald was the assassin.

A "Who Killed Kennedy?" committee has been formed in Britain by Bertrand Earl Russel, 92, the philosopher and pacifist.

But British opposition to the Warren report probably will generally be confined to leftists. There is some uneasiness among others, however, mainly because Oswald was never able to tell his story.

In eight continental countries, this is the situation:

Italy—Immediately after the killing there was widespread speculation that the assassination was the work only of Oswald. Left-wing papers persist in raising the plot theory.

'COVER-UP'

France—If the Warren commission says Oswald acted alone, there will very likely be widespread feelings of an attempt to cover up a plot. The U. S. police, particularly the Dallas force, will undoubtedly be accused either of inefficiency or of a politically motivated cover-up.

GM WORKERS STRIKE — Picket lines were formed across main gates of Pontiac Motor Division, GMC Truck & Coach and Fisher Body promptly at 10 this morning when UAW negotiators announced that no contract agreement had been reached with General Motors Corp. Picketers shown above are in front of Pontiac Motor Division entrance at Glenwood and Kennett.

Pickets March at City Plants

Close to 16,000 General Motors Corp. day-shift workers walked out at Pontiac's three GM divisions this morning as GM and United Auto Workers union negotiators failed to reach agreement on a new national contract.

Another 8,000 workers on later shifts are expected to raise the total to 24,000 striking UAW members by nightfall.

Lunch boxes under their arms, still unopened, they walked out into the brisk 50-degree September sunshine promptly at the 10 a.m. deadline set by the UAW for reaching an agreement.

Picket lines began to form immediately.

Groups formed around the main gate at Pontiac Motor Division carrying picket signs and transistor radios.

LAST WALKOUT

The last walkout at local GM plants was three years ago on Sept. 11, 1961.

That time the main issues on a national basis were all but settled within 24 hours.

Fisher Body settled on Sept. 18. General Motors Truck & Coach Division was back in production by that time.

There are approximately 14,000 hourly rated workers employed at the Pontiac Motor Division according to UAW Local 653.

GMC Truck & Coach Division UAW Local 594 represents approximately 7,000 hourly employees.

No More Talks Are Scheduled

DETROIT (AP) — The United Auto Workers union struck General Motors Corp. today when company and UAW bargainers failed to reach agreement on a new contract by a union-imposed deadline.

UAW workers walked off the job at GM plants across the nation at 10 a.m. (Pontiac time) when no word of settlement was received.

Negotiations were broken off and no further sessions were scheduled.

The union previously negotiated three-year pacts at Chrysler Corp. and Ford Motor Co., final agreement coming only 55 minutes ahead of deadlines at each.

The union took General Motors out of 1965 model production but announced its plants which build and sell parts to Chrysler and Ford would not be struck.

Disclosure the strike was official didn't come until after workers already had started walking out at Cleveland, Ohio, Framingham, Mass., and elsewhere.

UAW President Walter P. Reuther announced 30 minutes after the deadline that it was with "a great sense of sadness and disappointment" that he announced failure to reach agreement with General Motors.

NEWS CONFERENCE

He was accompanied to a televised news conference by Leonard Woodcock, UAW vice president and chief of its GM department.

The UAW estimated its strike of GM would idle 260,000 of its 354,000 production workers.

Reuther said he thought the GM economic offer was satisfactory, but said workers are interested in more than just money alone.

He said workers "are entitled to decency and dignity at the place where they work and that's the reason for this strike."

PRODUCTION MACHINE

He characterized GM as a "dehumanized production machine that has lost track of the human equation on the production line."

Louis G. Seaton, GM vice president in charge of personnel, said the strike "is completely unnecessary and unjustified.

"The union's reasoning behind its last minute decision to break off negotiations and resort to the strike weapon is all the more difficult to understand

State Greets Dem Nominee

Humphrey Confident of Auto Settlement

GRAND RAPIDS (AP)—Sen. Hubert Humphrey, the Democratic vice presidential candidate, flew to Michigan for day-long campaigning today. He said he was confident General Motors and the United Auto Workers could settle the auto strike which hit the nation 75 minutes before he arrived.

Humphrey was told of the strike just before landing at Kent County Airport near here, where he was greeted by a high school band, about 100 well-wishers and a Republican "truth squad."

Humphrey told a news conference Sen. Barry Goldwater, the GOP presidential nominee, apparently is a poor student of the civil rights law.

Asked to comment on Goldwater's charge today that the administration is not enforcing the new act, Humphrey said compliance is excellent at the state and local level.

Humphrey admitted to a questioner his Washington home had a restrictive covenant in its deed, such as that which his opponent Rep. William Miller, R-N.Y., said was on the Miller home.

VOIDING STEPS

"We were assured none existed," said Humphrey. He said when he learned of the restriction steps were taken to void it.

Humphrey was greeted by Democratic gubernatorial candidate Neil Staebler, his running mate, Robert Derengoski; Secretary of State James Hare, national committee members Mildred Jeffery and John Swainson, state chairman Zolton Ferency, and 5th Congressional District candidate William Remon.

Humphrey took the time to shake hands with all 86 members of the Rogers High School band from nearby Wyoming.

California Fire Shifts Direction

SANTA BARBARA, Calif. (AP) — A fire which twice burned into the hillside suburbs of Santa Barbara turned away today and blazed into lightly populated inland valleys.

It was the third time the fire seemed to be moving away from Santa Barbara.

Firemen couldn't say whether it could turn and hit the city again.

The fire has now blackened 40,000 acres, killed one man and injured 36 others, all fire fighters.

It has destroyed 78 homes and buildings, including the luxurious homes of Avery Brundage, president of the International Olympic Committee, and Dr. Robert Maynard Hutchins, president of the Center for the Study of Democratic Institutions.

Santa Ana winds — the "devil winds" which sweep down coastal canyons to the sea — have three times sent the blaze burning toward Santa Barbara, a city of 65,000, nestled between the Pacific and the Santa Ynez Mountains.

The fire started Tuesday afternoon at 2 p.m., was hit hard by fast-moving firemen and aerial tanker planes, and seemed headed inland by 9 p.m. Then came the devil winds. In an hour 12 homes burned.

U.S. Forest Service fire fighters, bolstered by county and city firemen, blocked it again.

By 7 p.m. Wednesday the fire had covered 2,000 acres, but the air at dusk was cool, and the fire was again moving inland.

WINDS STRIKE

Again the winds struck. In eight minutes the temperature rose 12 degrees and winds of 50 miles an hour pushed flames toward the city.

To the east — the ocean lines to Santa Barbara's south and west — one tongue raced into Montecito — the home of countless millionaires and the most elegant California suburb hit by fire since the Bel Air blaze of 1961.

Thirty homes, many of them mansions, were destroyed, including Brundage's 20-room mansion and Hutchins' $100,000 home.

Then, swept by winds from the northeast, the fire raced eight miles westward through the oak and eucalyptus groves in canyons studded with moderately-priced to expensive homes. Twenty-four more were destroyed.

FIRE VICTIM—Another canyon home in the hills above Santa Barbara, Calif., goes up in a whoosh yesterday as a massive, uncontrolled brush fire sweeps over the area. One fire fighter has been killed and many hurt since the battle started Tuesday.

Foreign Aid Bill Passed

OK District Compromise

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate has removed a major roadblock to adjournment of Congress by adopting a legislative reapportionment compromise and then passing the $3.3-billion foreign-aid bill.

First, the compromise solution to the controversy over apportionment was adopted 44 to 38 yesterday, then, in a sudden burst of action, the aid bill to which it is attached was swept through 45 to 16.

With adjournment fever spreading and leaders finding it difficult to keep enough campaigning senators on hand to maintain a quorum, it is now thought possible that Congress will be able to close shop by the end of next week.

The foreign-aid measure, carrying $216.7 million less than the $3,516,700,000 requested by President Johnson and authorized by the House June 10 was called up in the Senate Aug. 1.

But since Aug. 12, it had been entangled in a filibuster waged by a group of Democratic liberals against an amendment offered by Republican Senate Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois.

The stalemate was broken by the adoption of a mild, nonbinding "sense of Congress" proposal offered by Democratic Senate Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana as a substitute for the Dirksen proposal, which he originally cosponsored.

Stripped of any criticism of the Supreme Court ruling and having no force of law, it simply says it is the sense of Congress that the federal district courts could properly:

● Allow legislatures the length of time provided for a regular session, plus 20 days, but not more than six months in which to reapportion.

● Permit the next elections of members of legislatures to be conducted on the basis of state laws in effect last Sunday, Sept. 20.

A Balmy Day Due Saturday

Don't be misled by tomorrow's expected balmy temperatures. The mercury will drop again on Sunday.

Skies will be cloudy tonight with increasing cloudiness predicted for tomorrow and cloudy weather Sunday. Precipitation will total from one-third to two-thirds of an inch in rain over the weekend.

The early morning low recorded in downtown Pontiac today was 46. The area warmed up to 62 by 2 p.m.

Pontiac Dealers Hit '65 Delivery Mark

Pontiac Motor Division announced today its dealers delivered a record 11,864 new 1965 models on introduction day yesterday, up 20 per cent from 9,918 announcement sales a year ago.

E. M. Estes, a General Motors vice president and general manager of Pontiac, said that in addition dealers took 43,000 retail orders, up 37 per cent from a year earlier.

Estes said almost 1 million people visited Pontiac showrooms from coast to coast announcement day.

"Public acceptance of our new models has been exceptional," Estes noted. "Both the crowds and sales figures are the best in our history."

Say Swedes Smuggling Cyprus Arms

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP) — Relations between the Greek Cypriot government and the U.N. peace force hit a new low today as five Swedish soldiers were held on charges of smuggling arms to the Turkish Cypriots.

"The situation could not be more serious," said a U.N. officer, "especially at the time when we are trying to persuade the Cyprus government through the Security Council to grant our forces complete freedom of movement."

He said the U.N. force had put the men under arrest after Greek Cypriots nabbed them with two carloads of arms at a roadblock.

Gen. George Grivas, commander of the Greek Cypriot armed forces, told newsmen the Swedes were running arms to Lefka, an inland stronghold of the Turkish Cypriots.

Educating the Driver Awesome Problem

(EDITOR'S NOTE—This is the sixth in an eight-part series of articles written in cooperation with the Governor's Committee on Traffic Safety and the Michigan Press Association.)

By BILL EASTHAM

Is there any way to stop the rising tide of highway carnage?

There is probably no single, foolproof solution to the problem.

Yet police officers, automotive and highway engineers and other safety experts are quick to suggest plans of action, each of which would make significant contributions to safer highways.

None can be accomplished overnight, however, and the steady increase in the accident rate seems destined to continue, at least for a time.

One of the most awesome problems traffic safety officials face is education of the public, emphasizing the fact that driving is a privilege, not a right, and that accidents don't always happen to somebody else.

The very instinct of self-preservation should be enough to make everyone drive safely, but it obviously isn't.

POOR ATTITUDE

Sgt. Mike J. Sibal, Detroit district chief of the State Police Traffic Division, says too many drivers have the attitude that "I'm entitled to my share of this highway and you'd better keep out of my way, because if anything happens it'll happen to you."

Sgt. Sibal, a veteran of more than 20 years of highway patrol and accident investigation, believes that if every driver had a sense of moral responsibility to stay alive and protect the lives of others, the accident problem would be greatly reduced.

High school driver training, which receives enthusiastic praise from traffic authorities, should be a good start toward public education.

But the greatest percentage of increase in drivers involved in fatal accidents in Michigan last year was in the 16- and 17-year-old age group. Something must be lacking.

LACK OF DISCIPLINE

Sgt. John C. Amthor, commander of the Pontiac State Police Post, believes it is a lack of discipline in the home, as well as in the schools.

"Just teaching a child to take care of his toys will give him a sense of responsibility that will be reflected in his driving as an adult," Sgt. Amthor says.

"You can't expect a child that doesn't learn any rules at home or school to learn or respect the rules of the road."

Such an attitude is found not only in teen-agers, Sgt. Amthor points out, but in supposedly mature, responsible adults.

COURT TAKES STEP

Pontiac Municipal Court has taken another big step toward driver education with a one-hour school for violators ticketed for running a stop sign or red light.

The fact that only two "students" out of more than 800 who have attended it have been back a second time points to its effectiveness.

The most obvious deterrent to traffic safety is the highway system itself.

"Dream" highways are being built in Michigan as fast as money is available. But the road-building program is lagging far behind the increase in volume of traffic.

LOCAL ROADS

Even the most extensive freeway system imaginable, however, will never replace the many miles of local roads where most of the accidents occur.

The solution to this problem, if there is any solution, can only be found in driver education.

Local municipalities just don't have, and probably never will have, the money it takes to make secondary roads hazard-free.

Safety experts point out that even the freeways are not entirely hazard-free as long as they contain exposed concrete bases for large signs, overpass abutments, exposed guard rail ends, narrow median strips and ditch banks steep enough to overturn a car moving at high speed.

(Next: Another need—Lifesaving legislation.)

Nationwide Strike Hits GM

because substantial progress toward resolution of our differences had been made at the bargaining table," Seaton continued.

"General Motors," he said, "has made every effort to effect a settlement of noneconomic issues, having in mind the interests of our employes. However, the union had made demands beyond this which, if granted, would restrict management in its responsibility to operate the business efficiently in the interests of all concern.

WON'T ACCEDE

"We are not prepared to accede to such unsound demands just to give the union what it has publicly said it would insist upon getting from General Motors — 'something more'.

"General Motors stands ready to continue negotiations at any time and to work hard for a final settlement of the unresolved issues," Seaton said in ending his prepared statement.

Reuther won what he termed, "a cake" at Chrysler and said "frosting" was added at Ford. He expected to make it "a la mode" of GM.

Reuther, who had quoted President Johnson as being "very happy" over the settlement at Chrysler, said he had not contacted the White House regarding the breakdown at GM.

EXPECTS TO CALL

But, he added, he expected to call either the President or Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz later.

It was the noneconomic issues that brought about the strike. The company had offered to meet the packages the UAW gained at Chrysler and Ford which Reuther estimated at 54 cents an hour over the three year contracts.

Unresolved issues at the start of a 24-hour marathon bargaining session included grievance procedures, union representation in the plants, production standards, disciplining of workers and working conditions.

LARGE USER

With the auto industry one of the largest users of steel, glass, rubber, aluminum, zinc and other metals, a General Motors shutdown was certain to be felt quickly through every section of the nation's economy.

In addition to thousands of GM workers idled in the selective walkout, hundreds of supplier plants around the country also will be affected.

Within the first half-hour, walkouts were reported at 17 major factories.

NINTH WALKOUT

Today's GM strike was the ninth major walkout against the auto industry's Big Three by the union.

The UAW also staged local plant walkouts against GM in 1958 in support of local grievance demands after a national contract was signed.

Playhouse Burns in Bloomfield

Four players are now in search of a playhouse in Bloomfield Hills following yesterday's fire which destroyed much of the stage at St. Dunstan's Guild pavilion.

The fire which was discovered shortly after 4 a.m. started at the back of the stage where guild members had been rehearsing "The Moon is Blue" Wednesday night. The play was to open Oct. 16.

Much of the stage and the false ceiling above it was destroyed, along with numerous stage properties. Smoke damage was extensive.

There is not yet a cost estimate on the damage, and the cause has not been determined.

"It might have been a short in a wire or smoking," Cranbrook Fire Chief Dominico Vettraino said. Three trucks from the Bloomfield Hills Fire Department and Cranbrook's were used to fight the 4-hour blaze.

"We are going to do everything we can to get the pavilion back in shape for the play," Frederick G. Bahr, president of St. Dunstan's Guild, said. "But right now the chances are definitely against it."

Report Likely to Stir Europe

No amount of evidence presented up to now makes the average Frenchman—or most newspaper editors—believe it was a cut-and-dried, one-man killing.

West Germany — A book advancing conspiracy theory is a best-seller. Its author, Hungarian-born Hans Habe, spent the war years in the United States and now lives in Switzerland. His book, "Death in Dallas" claims reactionary millionaires and white trash conspired to kill Kennedy.

The Netherlands — Dutch newspapers have shown great interest in the assassination. The theory of an extreme rightwing conspiracy continues in leftist circles.

RIGHTIST PLOT

Belgium — Leftists subscribe generally to the theory of a rightist plot. Newspapers of other political coloring generally have adopted a wait-and-see attitude although conflicting or mysterious points of evidence have frequently been pointed out.

Norway — The liberal afternoon newspaper Dagbladet published the Buchanan conspiracy story in serial form.

Otherwise only Orientering, weekly organ of the tiny People's Socialist party, has published stories supporting the conspiracy theory.

Sweden — The conspiracy theory has had widespread publication. Doubts are expected to return to many with the issuing of the Warren commission report.

Denmark — The belief in a conspiracy is rather widespread, and several newspapers have shown skepticism that Oswald acted alone. Many editors suspect he was silenced.

Two Factors for Millage

further improvements than the last 10 years.

Improvements for the future will be keyed to develop each child to his maximum to reduce school dropouts.

Because there is little employment future for the undertrained student or dropout, educators are concerned for any student not educated to his maximum potential, states Whitmer.

Since reading is basic to school successes, to individual development, and to staying in school, improved reading instruction is contemplated.

REDUCED CLASSES

Current plans call for reduced class sizes in grades 1 and 2. Reading specialists will work in each elementary school with the one child in 10 with special reading problems.

Library services in elementary schools will be extended.

Nursery schools will be developed in areas of the school district where large numbers of children appear not to be prepared to enter school in kindergarten and first grade.

In addition, counseling services will be improved and increased for all students. Pontiac now has a 300 to 1 student-counselor ratio in its senior high schools.

NEED MORE TIME

"While an improvement over previous years," comments Whitmer, "this (300-1) still does not give the individual as much counseling time as many children require."

Job training programs will expand also in the years ahead. Specific training programs will include such fields as health and food service, sales, service station attendant — fields that are growing rapidly.

"The school of the future must offer a broad training program," said the superintendent. "The goal of job training is that first job from which a person can develop and progress."

Students who learn slowly will receive increased special attention in the next decade. he added. Smaller classes will enable more individualized instruction.

REDUCE DROPOUTS

Hopefully, this will reduce dropouts, according to Whitmer.

"Of course, the 'explosion' of knowledge is going to continue."

Courses taught in Pontiac schools will contain new content in the future, taught with new methods and new instructional materials.

This will require training and retraining of teachers to keep them abreast of innovations.

FUTURE EQUIPMENT

"Equipment and materials not dreamed of today will be necessary in the years ahead if schools are to be up to date AND effective," he said.

All of these things point to one thing: increased costs.

Recruit Numbers Cut to Battle Meningitis

FORT ORD, Calif (AP) — The Army has ordered the number of recruits reduced at Ft. Ord and plans an experimental immunization program to halt an outbreak of meningitis at the base.

There have been 81 meningitis cases this year with 12 fatalities. Most of those stricken were recruits. About 1,717 recruits will be sent to Ft. Leonard Wood, Mo., or Fort Polk, La., for the eight-week training course while 2,500 remain at Ft. Ord.

Reveal Streets to Be Reopened at Noon Sunday

Street reopenings were announced today by Joseph Koren, of the city traffic engineer's department.

Water, between Mill and Wide Track, will be reopened at noon Sunday. The street had been closed for work on the Clinton River tunnel.

When Water does reopen, Koren said, it will be converted to a one-way eastbound street from Saginaw to Wide Track.

See Russia Shifting Radio Attack Onto China

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Soviet Union apparently has decided to slack off in its radio offensive toward the West and step it up toward underdeveloped areas and Red China.

And in defensive radio warfare, the Soviet bloc has virtually quit jamming Voice of America broadcasts while putting interference on signals coming from Radio Peking.

U.S. monitors gave some statistics today on how the Communist radio propaganda operations have changed with the shifts in the international political scene:

Soviet short wave propaganda to North America dropped 10 per cent and to West Europe 16 per cent during the summer broadcasting season.

GROWTH OF TV

This was interpreted as a sign of easing East-West tensions, plus the great growth of television in the western nations which has taken many people away from their radio sets.

The reduction in transmissions aimed at the advanced Western countries was matched by increases to Asia, Africa and Latin America. Radio Moscow added six languages: Malayalam (an Indian tongue), Lingala for the Congo, Zulu for South Africa, Thai and Cambodian for Southeast Asia and Uighur, transmitted through Radio Tashkent for the western Chinese province of Sinkiang.

Radio Peking started off the year with an increase in its Russian-language broadcasts aimed at its Communist rival which outpaced Soviet broadcasts in Chinese. At one point Peking transmitters beamed 119 hours a week of Russian-language propaganda on northward, compared with Radio Moscow's 66½ hours a week in Chinese. Then Radio Peking eased off. Now the count is only 63 hours a week in Russian from the Chinese radio, while Moscow Radio has moved ahead with 70 hours a week in Chinese.

The Soviet Bloc jamming of Russian-language broadcasts by the Voice of America, the U.S. government's overseas radio, began to taper off more than a year ago. Now only Bulgaria sends out electronic interference against the U.S. programs.

But U.S. monitors have picked up a different kind of jamming on Radio Peking's wave length which is "apparently caused by Soviet transmitters." What the Soviet stations do is play music on the same frequencies as Peking's Russian-language programs.

Over-all, the U.S. monitors figured Soviet international propaganda transmitters are now broadcasting 1,350 hours a week and Communist China is putting out 900 hours. This is only a slight increase over a year ago.

Compared to the two Communist giants, the Voice of America runs third with 800 hours of transmitter time per week. The British Broadcasting Corp. is on the international airwaves for 630 hours a week and the United Arab Republic radio 583 hours.

Hare Slaps at Romney on Traffic

LANSING (AP)—Democratic Secretary of State James Hare registered surprise Thursday that Gov. George Romney "would inject traffic safety into the political campaign—especially in view of his general lack of interest and action in the matter . . . until just recently."

Implied consent was a key to Romney's traffic safety program. It would mean anyone who received a driving license from the state automatically consented to any future tests for alcohol should he be stopped for investigation of drunken driving.

FOR CONSENT

"The facts are," said Hare, "that I was for implied consent at the time the legislature was in session. I have not changed this position."

For the entire first year of his administration, Romney "sat on his hands watching the highway death• and accident tolls mount, and did nothing about traffic safety," Hare charged.

Romney appointed his Special Commission on Traffic Safety "a mere four months ago, when public opinion had swelled to a point where he had to do something about it," Hare added.

The commission's recommendations and findings, the secretary of state said, "were carefully timed to coincide with the political campaign — another maneuver to interject the public safety into politics."

The commission issued its report Wednesday.

Students in higher institutions of learning are expected to increase from approximately 4.4 million to 7 million by 1970, Sen. Thruston Morton of Kentucky recently reported in the Senate.

Host of New Voices Conquering Africa—Via Radios

TUNIS (AP)—A new fetish is conquering Africa, gradually replacing the sound of drums, the voice of village elders and first light on the crests of hills.

The transistor radio is sweeping the continent, penetrating into walled Arab villages of the north and the swamps of the rain forest in Africa's heart.

The "box that talks" knows no frontiers. It is carried by camel drivers in the sun-scorched Tunisian south, by oarsmen of the svelte pirogue boats on the Niger River, by houseboys of European settlers in the Ivory Coast.

Since 1948, the number of radio transmitters in Africa has grown from 120 to 370, and the number of individual sets from 930,000 to 5.5 million.

According to United Nations statistics, the circulation of daily newspapers has increased 50 per cent to a total of three million.

RADIO OWNERS

Two per cent of Africa's 269 million people own radio sets — the price often represents 5 per cent of their annual income. Perhaps 10 times as many people profit from the sets.

The radio has become an influential propaganda tool in the hands of Africa's power-minded statesmen and foreign countries struggling for influence in the awakening continent.

Voices speaking in all major languages and most widespread tribal dialects pour from the ether day and night. Conflicting ideas and information spin the heads of the people in the savannas of Cameroon, in the sands of Mauritania.

The Voice of America, using some of the world's most powerful transmitters, beams seven languages, including Amharic and Swahili.

RED BROADCASTS

The Soviet Union has 17 hours of Africa-oriented broadcasts daily, while other East-bloc countries broadcast one to three hours.

Communist China, struggling for influence in Africa, broadcasts 10 hours a day in English, Arabic, French and Portuguese.

France maintains a powerful transmitter in Brazzaville, on the banks of the Congo River, where a team of 60 French broadcasters and technicians spread France's propaganda in the former French colonies, the former Belgian Congo next door and Portuguese Angola.

Among Africa's own radio voices the most powerful is that of President Gamal Abdel Nasser's United Arab Republic. The "Voice of the Arabs" and "Radio Free Africa" beam 20 hours daily.

Morocco maintains a battery of 21 transmitters, most of them working for Africa.

As soon as the wave of independence began sweeping Africa, new nations started demanding their own radio stations. Aided by the former colonizers and foreign technicians, the capitals soon were equipped with gleaming radio buildings and transmitters.

Some were not so lucky with their experiments. The Guinea radio, which calls itself the "Voice of the Revolution," discovered that it could not reach areas beyond the immediate vicinity of Conakry, the capital. East-bloc technicians who constructed it failed to notice that a nearby mountain of iron would interfere with broadcasts.

It's a Whale of a Meal

"A surprise will await the visitors to food shops in the near future," said the newspaper Vecherniaya Moskva — Evening Moscow — in announcing the development of smoked sausages made from whale meat.

The paper reported the sausages, developed by the scientific institute of the meat industry, were tasty and unusually nutritious.

Medical Unit OKs School

DETROIT (AP) — Establishment of a medical school at Michigan State University now has the blessing, instead of the disfavor, of the Michigan State Medical Society.

The society, holding its annual meeting here, Thursday praised MSU and the State Legislature for having "the foresight" to establish a medical school.

Previously the society had taken the position that a third medical school should not be established in Michigan until the Wayne State University School of Medicine reached maximum efficient size of 200 students in each entering class.

A total of 125 freshmen medical students enrolled at Wayne State this fall.

The society's resolution said there is "a continuing need for qualified physicians in Michigan" and offered its "continuing support" to MSU and the legislature "in this worthwhile endeavor."

MSU recently received a grant of $1,250,000 from the Kellogg Foundation of Battle Creek to help develop its medical school.

Capitol Hill Shrine Tops Kingly Palaces

When the late President KENNEDY admonished Americans to think not what their country could do for them but what they could do for their country, he may have had inkling of the largesse his countrymen were soon to bestow on the Nation.

It is a new congressional office building to cost, at the latest estimate, $100 million. We say "at the latest estimate" because at the start of construction eight years ago the cost of the legislative beehive was pegged at a paltry $32 million.

But you know how these things go. First one, then another of our legislators had an idea for a refinement — built-in ash trays, for example — not initially envisioned. After that, they were off and running—running for office in both meanings of "office."

With 435 congressmen currently drawing pay from Uncle Sam, it will cost the taxpayers $22,988.50 per congressman to quarter the lawmakers in the style to which they're about to become accustomed.

Perhaps it was this august body of solons that LBJ had in mind when he enunciated "The Great Society." But there is one comforting thought for the taxpaying constituency. Think of all the lights there must be in the new House Office Building that LYNDON can include in his personal light-saving program.

Learning Now A-B-Cs of Economic Advance

If any more proof were needed of the value of a college education, it is provided in abundance by the results of the 29th annual survey of June graduates conducted by a leading national life insurance company.

Only three months after receiving their degrees, fully 95 per cent of all graduates from the more than 100 major colleges and technical schools in the survey had jobs. For engineers alone, the figure was even better—98 per cent.

More impressive, though, is the fact that 90 per cent of the job-seekers in engineering, 85 per cent in business administration and 70 per cent in liberal arts were hired even before they graduated. (For the last two, the figures at the time of the survey were 95 and 92 per cent, respectively.)

It appears that the venerated 3-Rs of education have taken on a new meaning: Recognition, Recruitment, Reward.

Europe Falls in Line With Motor Age March

The auto boom that America has enjoyed for three years, with good prospects for a fourth record-breaker in 1965, has not been confined to this hemisphere.

The British motor industry produced 1,035,981 cars in the first six months of this year, almost a quarter of a million more than in the first half of last year and more than the total output of 1961.

But Europe in general is just beginning to accommodate to the automobile in the way this country did years ago. Hitler gave the Germans AUTOBAHNEN in the 30s, but the motivation was military.

France, moving into the AUTOROUTE era, will spend 26 per cent more on roads next year than this, despite the first balanced budget in 38 years. The country has 18 automobiles per 100 inhabitants, West Germany 14—the same as in Great Britain. Sweden boasts the highest rate of car ownership in Europe—21 per 100 inhabitants.

By comparison, the United States has 37 automobiles per hundred of population, and Canada 25. In the Soviet Union, the comparable figure is four cars per 1,000 inhabitants.

It would be no idle paraphrase to say that wheels are what make the world go round.

Scattered Issues Hurt Campaign

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

They're scattered all over the lot, and President Johnson and Sen. Barry Goldwater are not spelling out answers clear enough to keep in your head.

There are two issues above all.

MARLOW

First — and obviously this is always the No. 1 issue in any campaign — is which man can be best trusted with the presidency?

The Democrats are doing their best to get across an idea that Goldwater is too reckless to be trusted with it at all.

Goldwater is helping to keep the issue alive for them by endlessly insisting he is not trigger-happy.

A BROAD FEDERAL GOVERNMENT?

Second—do the people want a broad federal government involved with the states and many federal programs, particularly programs for the general welfare?

Johnson insists big government is necessary. He said so again this week.

Goldwater has built much of his claim on the presidency in plugging for states' rights. He wants less federal government, more dependence on states and local communities to do what's needed, and less, not more or broader, social welfare programs. Those are the two main issues.

But if voters are getting bored listening to the arguments, it's because the two men have been talking in such broad generalities it's hard to pin them down on what they'd do.

2 MOST SPECIFIC

About the two most specific things Goldwater has said have been his promise to end the draft and cut income and corporate taxes 25 per cent over five years.

The Johnson administration has indicated it would like to end the draft; if it thought that possible, but so far it shows no signs of thinking so.

Other issues have also been treated as major ones.

For instance, Goldwater has said one of the major issues would be corruption in government. He has been banging away at that, but always obliquely.

BAKER, ESTES CASES

He mentioned the Bobby Baker and Billie Sol Estes cases, "government contracts not going to the lowest bidders," and a "cloud of scandal over the White House."

But so far with Goldwater these have been innuendoes. He hasn't shown specifically their connection with the White House.

Goldwater has called "foreign policy a major issue in this campaign" and insisted "it must be discussed."

CRITICAL OF HANDLING

He has been critical of the administration's handling of Viet Nam, Laos, communism, Cuba, the Berlin wall.

How would he solve them? Here again he is not specific. The Democratic administration, which has been wrestling with these problems, isn't promising flat victories.

Since the campaign is still young, maybe Johnson and Goldwater will get down to cases before it's over.

Looking Ahead

The Macomb Daily Monitor-Progress

This is about the only time of year when a man looks forward to cutting the grass. It means spring soon will be here.

Completely Unfair

The Richmond Times-Dispatch

Senator Barry Goldwater was attacked unmercifully for his supposedly irresponsible and inaccurate charge that the Johnson administration authorized the use of nuclear weapons, if necessary, in the exchange of fire with the Reds in the Gulf of Tonkin.

It is apparent to us that the blanket instructions given Defense Secretary McNamara to use "whatever means are necessary" meant exactly that—at least to the layman. Certainly Secretary McNamara's instructions were sufficiently sweeping to justify Sen. Goldwater in saying that those words could be interpreted to mean that nuclear force was authorized.

But instead of Secretary McNamara and the Johnson administration being criticized for their foggy and ambiguous language, Sen. Goldwater was the one who caught all the dead cats! It has happened before.

The senator from Arizona has made some unclear statements of his own from time to time, and it appears that somehow these are the only ones we ever hear much about. It has even got so that when Goldwater raises a justifiable question as to the imprecise phraseology of the opposition, he—not the opposition—is widely and heavily assailed.

Americans at the U. N.

The Richmond News Leader

President Johnson urged Americans to get into the U.N. policy-making and executive posts. The trouble is that only 15 per cent of the important posts in U. N. organizations are filled with Americans. The President's memorandum in the Federal Register noted that "the capacity and efficiency of these organizations depend, in the end, upon the quality and the motivations of the international civil servants.

There is certainly cause for concern that so few Americans are influencing U. N. policy. J. Edgar Hoover has said that 70 or 80 per cent of the personnel recruited from Soviet and Iron Curtain countries are assigned to espionage activities, and the continuing pattern of arrests and spy incidents seems to confirm this estimate. Especially since the U. S. is paying the bulk of the bills, we do need Americans who will push the American line.

Unfortunately, the Americans we do have in the U. N. often seem ambivalent in their character and motivations. We have Ralph Bunche as Undersecretary for Political Affairs, and Paul Hoffman, as head of the Economic Development Fund. The first man directed the drive against the Pro-American and capitalistic elements in the Congo; the second recommended that funds in great part donated by the U. S. be given to Castro's Cuba. On the World Court, we have Philip Jessup. Fortunately for Mr. Justice Jessup, no Senate approval is needed for his post; his record is so left-liberal that in 1951 the Senate refused to confirm him as President Truman's special delegate.

President Johnson fails to note that the low percentage of Americans in the U. N. has its roots in a deliberate policy instituted by Alger Hiss. Mr. Hiss preferred that the State Department did not make official recommendations, with all the red-tape of security checks, clearance, etc. He preferred unofficial recommendations over the phone. Senate hearings brought out testimony that 494 appointments were unofficially recommended by Mr. Hiss. When the Senate began to investigate American employes at the U. N., 200 resigned. The American U. N. group produced "the greatest concentration of Communists that this committee had ever encountered."

The U. S. always had its bad luck with Americans working for the U.N. State Department. Documents released in 1950 showed that second-level statesmen were most active in the early planning of the U. N. during World War II.

A dozen of these men later were identified in sworn testimony as secret Communist agents.

Many Americans doubtless are loyal citizens. But this record of subversion must be bettered.

Bob Considine Says:

Barry Will Win 6 States, According to Jim Farley

CONSIDINE

James Aloysius Farley, the man who made (1) FDR president and (2) stamps more palatable, gives us his forecast on the outcome of an event that will take place in this country Nov. 3:

"Goldwater will win six states."

It is Big Jim's most positive-sounding prediction since he prophesied before the 1936 election that Alf M. Landon would win only Maine and Vermont, which turned out to be the way the cookie crumbled.

"I read in the San Francisco Examiner that someone suggested that Jacqueline Kennedy be appointed U. S. ambassador to France," writes Fred W. Andrews of Brisbane, Calif., once on Comdr. Tom Hamilton's coaching staff when Navy was turning out its fine football teams in the middle 1930s.

"My idea is that she be given the ambassadorship to Mexico. She wouldn't last 48 hours with de Gaulle. She'd take too much of the spotlight from him.

"The Mexican post would make much more sense. Remember the tremendous ovation she received when she acted as interpreter for JFK on his state visit to Mexico City?

"Instead of money, we should give Mexico about 2,000 small farm tractors with spare parts and a year's gasoline supply for each. Mrs. Kennedy's brother-in-law should then spread the rigs among the small villages and assign instructors from the Peace Corps.

KISS THE HEM

"Those peons would kiss the hem of Mrs. Kennedy's skirt, if she were this country's representative and the tractor deal came to pass.

"After a course of instruction the tractors would be turned over to the villages with definite orders that they were communal property, for use in farming everybody's bean and corn field.

'Better Schools Possible With Millage Renewal'

The Pontiac Board of Education is asking that we only renew the 8.75 mills we have paid during the past ten years. There will not be an increase.

What better way can our money be used than to provide our children and future school children with the best education available.

We should be proud as citizens of the City of Pontiac that our schools are rated among the best in the State of Michigan. We must continue to keep the standards of our children's education high.

Do you want half-day sessions, crowded classrooms, poorly paid teachers and inadequate facilities for the children of Pontiac?

I urge you to vote "Yes" on October 2nd to prevent this.

Comments on Birthday Holiday Request

I am undecided whether Mr. Grieger is anti-birthday or anti-union when he asks how Walter Reuther could keep a straight face while asking for a worker to have his own birthday off.

I assume he is anti-union since he didn't bother to check the facts. It is not a joke, but part of a spread-the-work plan to cope with automation.

Expect Senate Unit to Rap USDA in Estes Report

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Senate investigative committee is expected to be highly critical of the Agriculture Department when it reports next week on the business affairs of Billie Sol Estes.

Sen. Karl E. Mundt, R-S.D., said Thursday that the report in general says the department showed favoritism to the one-time Texas fertilizer tycoon and could have stopped him in his tracks.

Estes, who once claimed he was worth $50 million, is currently appealing federal and state fraud convictions. Investigations that started two years ago into his affairs led to accusations of manipulating cotton acreage allotments and of leasing nonexistent fertilizer tanks.

Chairman John L. McClellan, D-Ark., of the Senate Permanent Investigating Committee said the report would be filed with the Senate on or before Sept. 30.

MORE SPECIFIC

Mundt said he and Sen. Carl T. Curtis, R- Neb., will join in a supplementary statement that will be more specific and more emphatic than the majority in criticizing the Agriculture Department.

Campaigning Thursday in the Midwest, Republican presidential nominee Barry Goldwater termed the Estes case "more than just scandal. A sordid picture of favoritism and fraud."

WASHINGTON (AP) — The federal appeals courts handled a record number of cases during the year that ended June 30 with the largest increase coming in the court that handles many Southern civil rights cases.

Appeals placed on the docket of the 5th Circuit Court in New Orleans rose 18 per cent to reach 1,033 — the first time a circuit court has received as many as 1,000 appeals in a year.

The over-all increase in the appeals courts was 11 per cent over a year ago to 6,023. In federal district courts, the number of civil cases filed climbed 3 per cent, business bankruptcies were up 10 per cent and criminal cases increased by a slight amount.

The figures were issued Thursday by Warren Olney III, director of the administrative office of the United States Courts, in a summary of work of federal tribunals for the past fiscal year.

WASHINGTON (AP) —By a vote of 60 to 1, the Senate overrode State Department opposition Thursday and voted to condemn the Soviet Union's persecution of the Jewish people.

The only opposition vote was cast by Chairman J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee.

He said the State Department opposed the resulution in the belief it will be regarded as an attempt by Congress to interfere with Soviet "legal processes" and that appeals by private groups or citizens would be more effective.

Sen. Abraham Ribicoff, D-Conn., and other senators from both parties offered the resolution as an amendment to the $3.3 billion foreign aid authorization bill.

Before passing the resolution, the Senate defeated by voice vote Fulbright's substitute amendment to put Congress on record as condemning the persecution of people anywhere because of their religious beliefs.

Fulbright said religious persecution occurs in many nations and that there was no reason to limit condemnation just to the Soviet Union's treatment of Jews.

WASHINGTON (AP) — About 2,800 Cuban refugees will attend U.S. colleges and universities during the fall semester on loans made available through the U.S. Office of Education.

Cuban students may borrow up to $500 per semester or $1,000 per school year on their promissory notes to repay principal plus accrued interest at 3 per cent over a 10-year period beginning one year after their training has been completed.

Airport Additions in Line for Detroit?

WASHINGTON (AP) — The city of Detroit may be in line for airport improvements, Congressional sources reported Thursday.

The sources said the Federal Aviation Agency has issued a new national airport plan recommending construction of 727 new landing facilities and improvements at many other places.

Estimated cost of the five-year program is $1.2 billion.

Detroit is one of the cities listed for new landing facilities.

Home Once Covered by Negro Ban—Miller

FRESNO, Calif. (AP) — Rep. William E. Miller has volunteered the information that his home once was covered by an anti-Negro restrictive covenant, but he stands on his criticism of President Johnson on the issue of such covenants.

The two situations are entirely different, Miller said Thursday in disclosing that his $60,000 home in a Washington suburb had at one time been covered by a deed "that excluded its sale to persons of the Negro race."

Miller raised the issue in a statement distributed to reporters.

The New York congressman said the prohibition against the sale to Negroes was inserted in 1946 into a deed covering all the land in his neighborhood in Bethesda, Md. He said he purchased the property in 1958, 10 years after the U.S. Supreme Court had ruled that such racial covenants were invalid.

NO RESTRICTION

On the other hand, he said that President Johnson had a racial covenant inserted in 1945 in property that, Miller said, had been purchased in 1938 without such a restriction.

"Not all the efforts in the world to lay the blame on the shoulders of law clerks can absolve him (President Johnson) of the responsibility for those anti-Negro covenants in the deed to the property he sold," Miller said.

Miller's statement was issued at Bakersfield, Calif., his first stop in a two-day swing through the state, considered one of the key battlegrounds in the election campaign.

Miller told a crowd of 5,000 at the Bakersfield airport that he did not think the Republicans could win without carrying California.

LBJ BACKERS

The Republican vice presidential nominee campaigned in Bakersfield and Fresno Thursday, heading for Merced, Stockton and San Francisco.

When he arrived at Fresno, Miller found a crowd of 300 in which there were many signs supporting Johnson. Most of them were carried by students from Fresno State College and Fresno City College. Miller ignored them and there were no incidents.

In a speech Thursday night to an audience of 600, Miller termed as "bunk" Democratic charges that Sen. Barry Goldwater, the Republican presidential nominee, was a warmonger, particularly when they came from a party "that has led us into war four times in this century."

Accompanying Miller on the campaign trip are his wife, Stephanie, and his two oldest daughters, Libby, 20, and Mary Karen, 17.

In discussing the question of restrictive covenants, Miller said he had learned of the existence of the covenant in the land deed, "but this covenant was not specifically in the deed which I accepted to my own property and, of course, even the restrictive clause on all the land in the area had been made totally invalid a full 10 years before I purchased my home by the 1948 Supreme Court decision on this subject."

Miller said that he understood that "similar covenants form practically all other property in Bethesda and Chevy Chase, Md., "including the area in which Sen. Humphrey lives."

All of the covenants "are equally invalid," Miller said.

Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey is the Democratic nominee for vice president.

Plan to Loft Telescope and Man

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The space agency is thinking of launching a 100-inch telescope and a 70-inch man into orbit a decade or so hence.

The telescope's job would be to explore the universe out to its edge, if it has any. The man's job would be to tend the telescope, when it needed tending, and to keep out of its way when it was working.

The still tentative plan to launch a "manned orbiting telescope" was disclosed by Dr. Nancy G. Roman at a briefing yesterday on astronomy programs of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA).

Miss Roman, 39, is NASA's astronomy program chief. Under her direction, the agency has developed a series of Orbiting Astronomical Observatories (OAO's), the first of which will be launched late next year.

These 3,600-pound observatories, one of which will carry a 36-inch telescope, will map the sky in wavelengths of "light" which never reach the earth.

PLANETARY SYSTEMS

They will search for planetary systems beyond the sun's, and try to solve mysteries of the universe which are hidden from ground observatories by the earth's atmosphere.

The OAO program has been approved. The "big jump ahead," as Dr. Roman put it, will be the manned orbiting telescope. Those working on it are looking 10, 15, perhaps 20 years into the future.

NASA has invited engineers and astronomers to submit ideas on puzzles which must be solved before a telescope of 100-inch diameter could be anchored in space with a human attendant.

Next year about this time, the agency will conduct a "symposium workshop" at which an attempt will be made to figure out what problems should be attacked first to realize this dream of space astronomy.

SHARP PICTURES

Freed of atmospheric distortion, the 36-inch telescope of OAO should produce pictures three times as sharp as the best taken by the 200-inch telescope on Palomar Mountain in California.

But the 100-inch orbiting telescope now being conceived should multiply this "resolution' by another three times.

Ex-Editor Succumbs

Still Seek Members

Because of heavy response, the week-long drive for new members by the Pontiac Area Chamber of Commerce will be extended one more week. The chamber has signed up 50 new members since Monday.

Nathan Bressler, membership committee chairman, said the campaign will end Oct. 3, instead of tomorrow as originally scheduled.

Bressler said the membership drive was going "real well."

'Home Rule Is Needed Under 1-Man, 1-Vote'

"If the one-man, one-vote theory is applied to county government, then county home rule will become not merely desirable, but necessary." These were the words of George Cook, Kent County corporation counsel, as he addressed a meeting of the Supervisors' Inter-County Committee yesterday at the Botsford Inn near Farmington.

Cook acted as defense counsel recently in a suit brought against Kent County by five college professors who alleged that the apportionment of the board of supervisors is unconstitutional.

Kent County Circuit Court Judge Fred N. Searl ruled in favor of the plaintiffs in a 37-page opinion issued Sept. 11. The county is appealing the decision to the Michigan Supreme Court.

Cook said he plans to carry the case all the way to the U.S. Supreme Court if necessary.

If the higher courts uphold the precedent-setting decision, it will mean the end of Michigan's board of supervisors form of county government, which has been in existence since 1842.

Cook voiced little hope for a reversal in his talk to the committee, which is composed of representatives of Oakland, Macomb, Monroe, St. Clair, Washtenaw and Wayne counties.

"It would behoove boards of supervisors throughout the state," the attorney said, "to prepare alternative plans of county government for submission to the State Legislature in case Judge Searl's decision is upheld."

The Kent County case is based on the "equal protection" clause of the 14th Amendment of the U.S. Constitution as construed by the Supreme Court, which ruled on June 15 that both houses of state legislatures must be apportioned on a population basis.

SUIT FILED

Eight days later, five Grand Rapids college professors filed suit against Kent County alleging that the decision is applicable to all governmental agencies.

Representation of the 73-member Kent County board ranges from one supervisor for 925 people to one for 15,000

The apportionment of Oakland County's 85-member board, according to 1960 census figures, ranges from 1 to 985 in Northville to 1 to 47,107 in Waterford Township.

Cook contended in his defense of the suit that the Supreme Court's interpretation of the "equal protection" clause is not applicable to a county board of supervisors, which is an administrative and not a legislative body.

SIDE EFFECTS

The attorney pointed out in his address that the judge's decision not only clouds the future of the Kent County and all other Michigan boards of supervisors, but also has serious side effects.

"If the legality of the board of supervisors is questioned, then the taxes they assess and levy, as well as the bonds they issue for public works projects is also subject to question" Cook said.

Until a final settlement is reached in the Kent County case, the county's whole financial structure is in jeopardy, according to Cook.

"If Judge Searl's opinion is upheld, county and township boundaries will no longer be important," the attorney said.

U. of M. Enrollment Totaled at 29,103

ANN ARBOR (AP) — The University of Michigan said Thursday its total accredited enrollment in Michigan for the fall semester totaled 29,103—a record and an increase of 1,715 over the 1963 fall term. Edward G. Grosebeck, director of the university's office of records and registration, said this included an enrollment of 664 students at U of M's Dearborn Center and 636 at Flint College.

Pet Python Is Problem for Chaplin's Daughter

NICE, France (AP) — Geraldine Chaplin, actress daughter of comedian Charles Chaplin, and Emily, flew into Nice last night from London.

Emily is Miss Chaplin's pet python. The five-foot snake made the trip in a suitcase. "I love animals," said Miss Chaplin, who is in Nice to make a movie. "But like Papa, I have a weakness for snakes. Dogs are too demonstrative. My only worry is Emily's food. She eats three mice a week."

1 GI Killed, Another Hurt in Viet Nam

SAIGON, Viet Nam (AP) — Communist grenades killed a U.S. Army officer and wounded another American in a jeep 12 miles northeast of Saigon today.

U.S. military authorities reported the wounded man, a representative of the Agency for International Development, was released after treatment at the U.S. Air Force hospital at Saigon airport.

The officer, whose name was withheld, was the 283rd American to die in Viet Nam in the last 34 months. Of these, 193 are officially classed as combat deaths.

A U.S. Army enlisted man attached to a Special Forces camp was hit by mortar fragments yesterday in Tay Ninh Province, 45 miles northwest of Saigon. He was moved today to a Navy hospital in Saigon, where he was reported in good condition.

Georgia Patrolmen Shed Three Tons of Fat

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — Georgia state patrolmen obeyed an order to lose more than three tons of overweight, but they can't wear their reward yet — the new uniforms are too big.

"The troopers were measured last year, and now the uniforms don't fit," said Maj. L. E. Floyd. "They must be taken in."

The patrolmen had a year and two months to reach their present pouchless state. They were to be wearing their new Confederate gray uniforms and Sam Browne belts by this September — their deadline date for trimming down.

NOT A TUBBY

"There's not a tubby in the lot," said Col. Lowell Conner, boss of the 418 troopers. "They won't be in their new uniforms now until Oct. 15."

Conner emphasized that his order, issued in June 1963, is still in effect. "It hasn't been rescinded because they've met the deadline. It will continue to stand or disciplinary action will be taken."

Three hundred and one men were overweight. "I'm proud of them," Conner said. "One man lost more than 80 pounds."

Conner told the troopers he didn't care how they lost weight or what diet they followed, just so they came within five pounds of what they ought to weigh.

ACCORDING TO CHART

The amount each man was to lose was figured by a chart, which listed what he should weigh according to his height, frame and age.

"Some of the stations lost as much as 1,343 pounds per troop," Conner said. That means about 70 to 80 men lost a total of 1,343 pounds at each station.

After 11 months of dieting and exercise, the state's entire corps of patrolmen had lost more than two and a half tons, and they trimmed off the other necessary ton this spring and summer.

The heaviest officer weighed 280, he's down to 200 pounds now. The average weight loss has been 15 to 25 pounds. Some of the men were not overweight.

All patrolmen are still required to weigh in once a month and results are tabbed at headquarters.

"The order was issued for the sake of the men's health and appearance," Conner said.

Congo Rebels Capture Village, Aim for Another

BUKAVU, The Congo (AP) — Congolese insurgent forces have captured the village of Beni and are threatening Lubero in North Kivu, military sources reported.

The sources added that the Congolese National Army garrison had abandoned Walikale, 136 miles from Bukavu on the road to Stanleyville, under rebel pressure.

These developments threaten the Masisi area and the Kivu city of Goma. Rebel movements have been reported by aerial reconnaissance.

2nd Marriage for Funt

WILTON, Conn. (AP) — Allan Funt, 50, producer of the television show "Candid Camera," and Marilyn Ina Laron, 26, of New York City, were married in Wilton yesterday by a justice of the peace. The marriage was Funt's second.

Oswald Wanted to Go to Cuba---Marina

NEW YORK (AP) — Mrs. Marina Oswald is quoted as saying her husband wanted to go to Cuba, not Russia, when he sought travel visas at the Russian Embassy in Mexico City.

Lee Harvey Oswald, her husband, went to Mexico City a few months before President Kennedy was killed. He was accused of the assassination and then was shot and killed by Jack Ruby.

In an interview Sept. 10, made public yesterday, the National Broadcasting Co. quoted her as saying, "He meant to stay in Cuba."

She was asked: ". . . but I want to get what you said clear and that is I'll ask you this question: Lee didn't mean really to go to Russia?"

"No," said Mrs. Oswald, "He just want to use Russian Embassy to help him go in Russia to Cuba, but he want to stay in Cuba . . ."

She also is quoted as saying that Oswald once thought of hijacking a plane to fly him to Cuba.

"First time," she said, "he wanted to try to, not to steal, to seize airplane and go to Cuba."

She said she talked him out of going alone, and he then urged her to accompany him.

"I don't take this serious," she said, "and he was so upset about this."

She said the incident occurred about four months before Kennedy's assassination and before Oswald went to Mexico City.

Robbers Steal $200, Tie Up Judge's Wife

MOUNT CLEMENS (AP) — Two bandits invaded the home of Associate Municipal Judge Frank E. Jeannette Wednesday and made off with $200 after binding Mrs. Jeannette.

The woman told police she was alone in the house when the men came to the door and gained entry by pretending they were messengers. Once inside, they handcuffed her hands and tied her feet with rope.

BLUE SHIELD ANSWERS YOUR QUESTIONS

? Can a doctor charge more than the fee Blue Shield pays?

The majority of doctors agree to accept the Blue Shield fee as full payment if the subscriber's income is not more than $7500 a year. Almost 85% of Blue Shield subscribers qualify.

? Is it true that doctors were instrumental in helping to create Blue Shield?

Yes. Michigan doctors, who best know the medical needs of Michigan citizens, recognized that a new and better form of health care protection was needed. They actively supported Blue Shield when it was founded in 1939, and they still do so today. Much of Blue Shield's success is due to the doctors' leadership and contributions.

? How big does a company have to be to qualify for Blue Shield group coverage?

Firms with as few as five full-time employees (including the owner) may qualify.

? When Blue Shield pays a doctor bill for me, does it also notify my company as to the nature of my illness?

No. Blue Shield regards this as confidential information, strictly between you and your doctor.

? How long does it take Blue Shield to include new techniques or medical procedures in its coverage?

Blue Shield usually anticipates them and includes them just as soon as they are accepted by the medical profession. They don't have to be listed in a fee schedule to qualify as benefits.

Do you have a question about your Blue Shield coverage? Just write Dept. 54, Michigan Medical Service, 441 E. Jefferson, Detroit, Michigan 48226. We will answer as many of your questions as possible in future columns.

Longest Peacetime Term in 58 Years

Winnie's Career Ends as Parliament Closes

LONDON (AP) — The longest peacetime British Parliament in 58 years ends today, officially launching the election campaign and formally ending the epic political career of Sir Winston Churchill.

Queen Elizabeth II flies back from her vacation in Scotland to sign the documents dissolving Parliament. It was the first to run its full term in time of peace since the term was reduced from seven years to five before World War I.

The British prime minister may call an election whenever he chooses. Sir Alec Douglas-Home hung on to office in an attempt to reverse the poor prospects his Conservative party faced last year after the Profumo scandal, a succession of spy cases and the struggle within the party to succeed ailing Harold Macmillan as prime minister.

From that low point, the Conservatives appear to have made a steady comeback and are now running neck and neck with Harold Wilson's Labor party, their chief opposition, in the opinion polls.

ALREADY CAMPAIGNING

Although the campaign begins officially only after proclamation of the queen's decree, most of the members of the House of Commons and their opponents were already out seeking votes for the election Oct. 15.

Churchill, 90 next month, is not seeking reelection for the first time since 1900. He has been a member ever since then except from 1922 to 1924, a record that allowed him to boast: "I am a child of the House of Commons."

Bowed and feeble, he made his last visit to the House in July. Although assiduous in attendance to the end, he had not made a formal speech in Commons since retiring from the premiership in April 1955.

Macmillan, a member of Parliament for 40 years and prime minister for nearly seven, accompanied Churchill into retirement. He announced in February, on his 70th birthday, that his health would not let him continue in the House.

DECLINE TITLES

Both declined elevation to the peerage, the customary royal gift to outgoing prime ministers. Macmillan also declined membership in the Order of the Garter, which would have made him Sir Harold.

"I like being called mister," he said.

Britain's 43rd Parliament will meet 12 days after its election, on Oct. 27, for election of the speaker and swearing in of members. The queen will open it on Nov. 3.

Windmills were first built on a wide scale in this country in the 19th Century by homesteaders settling on the Western plains. The need for deep wells led to the practice.

Junior Editors Quiz on CRAYONS

QUESTION: How are crayons made?

ANSWER: The word "crayon" is often used to mean any stick you use for drawing. It might be made of a waxy or chalky substance, or even of charcoal.

Artists often use a kind of stick called "pastels" containing chalk and pigmented colors. These give light and airy effects (A).

School crayons such as in (B) are more easily handled, have brighter and shinier colors and don't rub off. These are made from mixtures of soap, wax and resin, as well as lampblack or pigments of the various colors.

It is possible to make many beautiful pictures with school-type crayons. These will be more interesting if one color is put over another, rather than just laying on single colors.

If you wanted the effect of sunlight on grass, for example, you might begin by using a light yellow for the sunlight, and then lightly stroking green over this for the grass.

In the same way, you can touch a little light violet over a blue sky or use two colors, say a yellow and an orange, for the petals of fall flowers or the colors of fall leaves. The colors will seem to vibrate and become fore lifelife and beautiful.

FOR YOU TO DO: Try what is called "crayon resist," as shown in the picture. The waxy crayon resists or pushes aside the watery poster paint, producing many strange and really beautiful effects. People will wonder how you made these pictures!

U.S. Judge Ruled Not Answerable

OXFORD, Miss. (AP) — A federal judge has ruled Chief U.S. Marshal James P. McShane does not have to answer to Mississippi for his order to fire tear gas during the 1962 University of Mississippi riot.

U.S. Dist. Judge Claude F. Clayton, in a 33-page decision handed down Sept. 17, referred to a 131-year-old law which said "the state has no jurisdiction over a person when he is acting under the authority of the United States."

McShane, former New York City policeman, was indicted by the Lafayette County grand jury on a charge of breach of the peace and inciting to riot. McShane sought a writ of habeas corpus.

REFERS TO ORDER

The indictment referred to McShane's order to fire tear gas the night of Sept. 30, 1962, as U.S. marshals secured the Ole Miss administration building prior to the enrollment the next day of James H. Meredith as the first Negro at the university.

The tear gas was fired at 7:50 p.m. as Mississippi highway patrolmen attempted to move cursing, taunting, rock-throwing Ole Miss students away from the marshals who had encircled the Lyceum Building.

Before the night was over, two men were killed, hundreds injured and heavy property damage inflicted. Army troops took over the campus and, in effect, invoked marshal law.

Judge Clayton, whose order prevents McShane from going to trial on the indictment in Mississippi, said his opinion had to be based on the circumstances of the night as they appeared to McShane.

REASONABLE CAUSE

"Situated as he was, it must be said that he (McShane) had reasonable cause to believe that drastic action was necessary to carry out his duties, and that he had reasonable cause to believe the use of tear gas was a proper measure to be taken."

This, Clayton ruled, is so "even though his belief was mistaken or his judgment poor."

There Are Advantages to Heft

Only Fathead Laughs at the Overweight

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — When a 220-pound man laughs, there is twice as much of him having a good time as when a 110-pound man laughs.

BOYLE

About one out of five adult Americans is overweight, and the other four seem to spend a major portion of their time trying to make him feel guilty about it.

Fat is denounced as a menace to health and a threat to longevity. It has become something of a fad to jeer at fat folks. Even strangers take the liberty of poking them in the stomach, or shaking their heads if they see a fat man in a restaurant start to butter his mashed potatoes.

Elsewhere in the world today the ambition of many people is to put on more weight, and fat often is regarded as a symbol of success. In this country, however, the only fat man who consistently gets a good press is Santa Claus.

MUCH WORSE

If the attitude gets much worse, fat people will be hounded from the streets or thrown into jail and put on diets of protein bread and water.

At the risk of sounding unpatriotic, I'd like to point out that being fat has some virtues.

For example, it tends to make you philosophic. Skinny people always are flying into rages over trifles. Fat people learn to take things more calmly. They don't lose their temper if they miss a bus. They know there'll be another one sooner or later, so why make a fuss?

Fat makes you more law-abiding. Very few overweight men make successful bank robbers as they have too much difficulty waddling away with the loot.

SKINNY SCOUNDRELS

Many of the famous scoundrels of history have been skinny, or of only normal weight. Cassius is typical. If this born troublemaker had only consumed a few more calories, he could have enjoyed life without having to stick daggers into poor Julius Caesar. Think how much less of a nuisance to mankind Adolf Hitler would have been if he had liked food more and plotting less.

Fat tends to make a man a better husband. His wife is generally happy in the knowledge she is not married to a woman chaser. Few fat men chase girls because they get winded too easily.

Fat people get more real pleasure out of living. Not being in a constant hurry as are all the scurrying skeletons around them, they have time to contemplate the beauties and grandeurs of this earth.

Fat men also have better developed minds. This is because they think things through before wasting energy unnecessarily.

NOT ALL GRAVY

Of course being fat isn't all gravy. It has its minor disadvantages. One of the most vexing problems of the fat man is that he has to bend down to tie his shoelaces in the morning. But once he has that chore out of the way, the rest of his day is clear sailing.

The next time you see a fat man plodding by, restrain that impulse to laugh. Give the matter a second thought. Isn't the real reason you want to poke fun at him the fact that you're secretly jealous of him.

After all, you know—and he knows, too—that any fool can be skinny if he wants to. All he has to do is quit eating.

Boycott Is Over at All-Negro School

ECORSE (AP) — A two-day boycott at an all-Negro elementary school ended Thursday.

Parents of some 396 children had kept the pupils home to support demands that a Negro be named principal to replace the one who had been transferred to another school.

School Supt. Ralph E. Brant said the school board authorized him Thursday night to appoint a fulltime principal at the Ralph J. Bunche School. He named Mrs. Marion Lee, a veteran teacher.

Her appointment met with the approval of the protesting parents.

Area Physicians Get 50-Year Pin at Yearly Confab

Three physicians practicing in the area received the coveted "50-Year Pin" at the annual meeting of the Michigan State Medical Society (MSMS) in Detroit Tuesday.

The recipients were Drs. Harold E. Clark, 30761 Greenfield, Southfield, who practices in Birmingham; Frank A. Mercer, 3032 Morningside, and John K. Ormond, 31060 Marlin, both of Bloomfield Township, who have offices in Pontiac.

In presenting the pins, MSMS President Orlen J. Johnson, M.D., Bay City, pointed out that the 45 physicians receiving them represent an aggregate of 2,250 years of service to the public.

Goldwater Accuses Dems of Corruption, Hits LBJ on Rights

PORTLAND, Maine (AP)— Sen. Barry Goldwater accused the Democrats of corruption and cover-up, and coupled that with a charge today that President Johnson "shows no inclination" to support the new civil rights laws.

The Republican presidential nominee plunged into a whirlwind tour of northern New England — with a quick trip into New York — declaring that the civil rights bill he opposed in the Senate has not solved the problem of inequality.

NO INCLINATION

"It's not going to do it unless it's enforced and the present administration shows no inclination toward supporting it," he told a police-estimated 1,500 people at an early morning rally at the Portland airport.

Goldwater said laws won't really do the job anyhow. He spotted a hostile placard in the crowd challenging his stand on civil rights. "You too can be a second-class citizen," the sign said, "support civil rights."

"The law passed on civil rights will never correct the inequity in this country," he said. Goldwater said it is a problem that must be solved first in the hearts of Americans.

Goldwater said he hopes the law will help do the job — but added it can't accomplish anything if it is not enforced.

RAPS KENNEDY

He charged that former Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy, now running for the Senate in New York, did not press civil rights enforcement in the voting field.

"If the President would spend more time talking with the American people about the improprieties of discrimination, and that's what I call segregation," he said, "I think we'd see action in this field faster." The crowd cheered.

"People don't like to be pushed by law, but people can be pushed by honest, from the heart, reasoning," Goldwater said.

And he added that discrimination is wrong whether it is aimed at Negroes or at any other minority group.

BAKER AFFAIR

Goldwater slapped the administration on the Bobby Baker affair, forecasting a whitewash of what he called a kickback "that could have directly benefitted Lyndon Johnson's political career." That charge came in a speech prepared for delivery at Albany, N.Y.

In Albany, he was to have a private chat with Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, who battled him for the GOP nomination last summer.

LITTLE TRUTH

Skipping across an area he concedes will be tough to carry in November, the Arizona senator pointed to the Senate Rules Committee's reopened investigation of the Baker case and declared:

"We must realistically expect that what we will actually get will be very little of the truth, the truth full of holes, and nothing but the same old run-around."

This time, the committee is to look into the charges of Sen. John Williams, R-Del., that former Democratic national treasurer Matthew McCloskey — through Baker — dropped $25,000 into the 1960 Democratic campaign fund as a "kickback" on the contract for building the District of Columbia stadium.

NAMED ENVOY

McCloskey is a Philadelphia contractor who was named U.S. ambassador to Ireland by the late President John F. Kennedy.

In today's attack, prepared for delivery at Albany, Goldwater said of the Senate investigation: "Under the rules as apparently laid down by the former leader of the Bobby Baker fan club, Lyndon Baines Johnson, the closer the connection, the thicker the whitewash.

SOMETHING WRONG

"So long as the Congress, with fullest latitude, fullest dedication and fullest freedom, is prevented from getting to the bottom of the Bobby Baker case, Americans must assume that there is something very wrong at the top," Goldwater said.

'Paper Strike Hampering to Staebler'

DETROIT (AP) — Rep. Neil Staebler's bid to oust Republican Gov. George Romney in November is being seriously hampered by Detroit's 74-day-old newspaper strike, Democratic State Chairman Zolton Ferency said Thursday.

Ferency and his Republican counterpart, Arthur Elliott, discussed political consequences of the strike at a meeting of Sigma Delta Chi fraternity.

Both party leaders told their audience of veteran newsmen the absence of intensive, campaign-trail news coverage is too great a loss to be offset.

Ferency said Staebler is less familiar to voters than the colorful Romney, and the absence of the idled afternoon Detroit News and morning Detroit Free Press is keeping him that way.

MISS COVERAGE

"We sure do miss that side-by-side, column-by-column coverage," Ferency said.

Perhaps ironically, Romney has been active in recent attempts to end the strike, which began July 13 when Pressmen's Local 13 and Plate and Paper Handlers Local 10 rejected contract offers and set up picket lines.

Plans to Meet Mexico Leader

Will Visit Arkansas, Texas, Oklahoma

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Johnson flew out today on a Texas - Oklahoma - Arkansas tour that includes a border meeting with President Adolfo Lopez Mateos of Mexico.

The presidential jet plane was off at 9:11 a.m. EST.

Johnson's first stop is El Paso, Tex., for the ceremonial meeting with Lopez Mateos. Johnson then flies to Eufaula, Okla., Oklahoma City, Texarkana, Ark., and, finally, the LBJ Ranch at Johnson City, Tex., for a weekend stay.

Sen. Barry Goldwater, the Republican presidential candidate, was in Texas and Oklahoma this week and had canvassed Arkansas earlier.

40 VOTES

The three states hae a total of 40 electoral votes. Texas, with 25 votes and Arkansas, with 6 went Democratic in 1960 and Oklahoma's 8 votes wound up in the Republican column.

Johnson's meeting with Lopez Mateos, who will give up the Mexican presidency next month, was in the nature of a celebration of last year's El Chamizal Treaty settling a 97-year-old border dispute between the United States and Mexico.

Terms of the treaty call for the two countries to exchange various parcels of land in the El Paso area, with Mexico netting a gain of 437 acres.

The two countries also will collaborate in putting the Rio Grande into a concrete channel along the new border so the river won't wander again in the future and cause further boundary difficulties.

NONPOLITICAL LABEL

The Johnson-Lopez Mateos meeting bore a nonpolitical label. However, it was certain to have some political impact in a section with a heavy Mexican-American population.

Flying to Texas with Johnson was the state's Democratic governor, John Connally, an old friend and political ally of the President who has been a guest at the White House for political talks.

From El Paso, Johnson was bound for Davis Air Force Base near Muskogee, Okla., where he was to switch to a jet-powered helicopter for a 30-mile flight to dedicate Eufaula dam on a tributary of the Arkansas River. The next event on Johnson's schedule was a stop at the Oklahoma State Fair in Oklahoma City.

FINAL SPEECH

The President's final speech of the day was scheduled for Texarkana, where he was to dedicate a monument honoring President John F. Kennedy. The monument, on the Arkansas-Texas boundary, stands where Kennedy made a campaign speech in 1960.

Gov. Orval E. Faubus of Arkansas, who faces a challenge this year from Republican Winthrop Rockefeller, promised he would be on hand.

3 Kidnaped Children Safe; Begin Abductor Search

PARIS (AP) — Three French schoolchildren kidnaped last Monday were found safe today near Bordeaux. Interior Minister Roger Frey mobilized more than 100,000 police to hunt the kidnapers.

Frontier posts were put on double alert and police barriers were set up to check all vehicles. A watch was put on airports.

The children were found by the side of a road in southwest France. They told police a young man and a young woman called "Nicole" had let them out of a light blue car.

The three, Joel Biet and Patrick Guillon, both 5, and Patrick's sister Christine, 6, were pronounced in excellent health. They had not been mistreated, but medical officials said they were "covered with fleas."

TWO LETTERS

There was no indication whether a $210,000 ransom demand had been paid.

Two letters Thursday, presumably from the kidnapers, threatened the lives of the children unless merchants of the city of Poitiers paid the ransom. Poitiers is the nearest city to the village of Marnay where the children live.

The youngsters were found shortly after daylight by a young woman who recognized them from police descriptions. She notified gendarmes at the little town of Carbon-Blanc, about 15 miles from Bordeaux.

The police took the children to Bordeaux. The tots told them they had not been mistreated and had "slept in beds." They also said they had been taken on several brief automobile trips.

Police believe the automobile trips were made so that the kidnapers could keep on the move. But the children described them as "automobile promenades — pleasure rides."

The youngsters were reported giving an intelligible report of their experience. All had been described as bright and articulate.

RETURN TO FAMILIES

From Bordeaux, police set out by car with the children to return them to their families about 130 miles to the north.

The three were kidnaped on their way home from school and were in the hands of their abductors about 85 hours.

Neither the Biets nor the Guillons have money and police were at first puzzled by the motive for the kidnaping. Then the kidnapers demanded the payment by proxy. Police were startled at the medieval touch of the abductors — demanding retribution from total strangers who they obviously felt would pay rather than see the children killed.

One, posted in Parthenay, 30 miles west of Marnay, called for the ransom money in old franc notes to be paid by the merchants and citizens of Poitiers. Addressed to "the Guillon family," it set the deadline for payment at 1 p.m. Eastern Standard Time today.

The other was posted in Paris and addressed to Hubert Guillon, father of two of the children, demanded the same amount in new francs. It said a delivery point for the money would be designated within 24 hours.

Fischers Add One —a Girl

ABERDEEN, S.D. (AP) — A "bouncing" baby girl of 10 pounds plus was born Thursday night to Mrs. Andrew Fischer, 31, who gave birth to quintuplets a little over a year ago.

The baby — who weighed 10 pounds, 7 ounces and measured 21½ inches — and the mother were doing well at St. Luke's Hospital, a spokesman reported.

The sandy-haired mother of 11 children lapsed into sleep shortly after the birth, and there was no immediate comment from her.

Andy Fischer, 39, was at the hospital and took the news in good stride, except for one thing. He said he and his wife, Mary Ann, had been hoping for a boy since the lads were outnumbered two to eight.

SIPS COFFEE

That explained why they didn't have a name for the girl right off hand, said Fischer as he sipped coffee.

His reaction was relayed by Sister Richard, and the shy father secluded himself for the night, announcing he was not available to reporters.

Dr. James Hovland delivered the latest child and was assisted by two doctors who had attended Dr. James Berbos when Berbos was in charge of the quints' delivery Sept. 14, 1963.

The quintuplets weighed from 2½ to 4 pounds and were kept in isolettes for days with careful check on temperature and humidity. They were fed through tubes put into their noses.

FAME, FORTUNE

The news that Mrs. Fischer had given birth to four girls and a boy one year ago this month rocketed the family into world fame and fortune.

Fischer, who was getting $76 a week in take-home pay as a shipping clerk, was besieged by news media. He soon hired a lawyer and the Fischers have contracted with a national publishing house for publicity rights.

* * *

He has bought 800 acres of land outside of this northeastern South Dakota town and is having a two-story, $100,000 home built.

In addition to the quints and their baby sister there are four girls and one boy, ranging in ages from 4 to 8.

Yanks Trying to Head Off Clash

War Threat Remains for Viets, Rebels

BAN ME THUOT, South Viet Nam (AP) — War still threatened today between Vietnamese troops and rebel mountain tribesmen despite a government announcement that tribal "aspirations" in central Viet Nam had been satisfied.

Col. John F. Freund of New York and five other Americans who have been training the Montagnard tribesmen as guerrilla fighters against the Communists remained with the rebels in four camps in the Ban Me Thuut area, trying to avert an open clash.

There was no immediate prospect that Freund would leave isolated Buon Sa Par camp, where he has filled the double role of hostage and chief negotiator between the two sides.

U.S. officials believe the Montagnards (mountain people) could easily be persuaded to release the Americans. But they felt this would be undesirable since it would break the only negotiating link with the rebels.

TROOPS GUARD

About 4,000 government troops and 12 field guns guarded Ban Me Thuot against the mountaineers, who killed perhaps 50 lowland Vietnamese officers and soldiers at their camps last weekend and seized 50 other Vietnamese as hostages. All roads into the city were guarded by halftracks and checkpoints.

The rebellious Montagnards maintained barricades around their camps. They allowed only American helicopters and planes to land and admitted only Americans they knew and trusted.

The government, after Khanh made a peacemaking visit to Ban Me Thuot Thursday, announced in Saigon that all "righteous aspirations" of the tribesmen "have been met."

"A number of immediate measures have been decided on to protect the lives and property of the Montagnards and to insure that national authority is respected," a communique broadcast by Saigon Radio said.

MEET WITH KHANH

The communique said Khanh met in Ban Me Thuot with leaders representing the majority of tribesmen in Darlac nd Quang Duc Provinces, the Montagnards strongholds.

However, Khanh was not able to confer with any of the leading rebels and could not visit their camps for fear of his life. He made an offer through the American intermediaries to talk with the top rebel, Y Bham, but there was no indication of acceptance.

Col. Freund, 46, is deputy senior adviser to the Vietnamese army's IV Corps. He is fluent in French, the second language of the tribesmen after their own dialect.

The primitive Montagnards and the more civilized lowland Vietnamese are traditional enemies. At the outbreak of their revolt last weekend, the rebels demanded autonomy in their area of central Viet Nam.

No Surprise to Kin Officer Is in Middle

WASHINGTON (AP) — The family of Col. John F. Freund is not surprised that he is in the middle of things in South Viet Nam, trying to work out a settlement in a dispute between rebellious mountain tribesmen and the lowland Vietnamese.

"He's always had a flair for languages, and besides getting along with the Vietnamese in French, I wouldn't be surprised if he's picking up their own native language too," said Col. Darral J. Freund, a brother who is also a career military man.

Living at the Vienna residence while Col. John serves in South Viet Nam are his wife, Margaret Freund, and three sons: John, 15, Peter, 13, and Bruce, 12.

The head of the family loomed large in the news from overseas when it was reported Thursday that he and five other Americans were in the camps of the mountain rebels who have stirred up trouble in recent days against the Vietnamese government of Premier Nguyen Khanh.

Freund, deputy senior adviser to the Vietnamese army's IV Corps, is able to communicate with the natives in French, since that language grew roots in Viet Nam when the country was part of the French Empire.

The Freund brothers, only a year apart in age — John is 46 and Darral 45 — are natives of New York City, attended high school in Scarsdale, N.Y., but then followed different paths.

John Freund went to the U.S. Naval Academy, graduating in 1940, while Darral attended Park College in Missouri, finishing in 1941. John switched to the Army after graduation from Annapolis. The reason? His eyes failed him from so much study, says Darral. However, the Army accepted him, granting him a second lieutenant's commission. He's been in the Army ever since.

JOINS AIR FORCE

Darral joined the Air Force after college, flew transport planes in the China-Burma-India theater and in Europe during World War II, and now is engaged in research and engineering.

Col. Darral says he can't report much on Col. John's activities in Viet Nam, since they border on the classified.

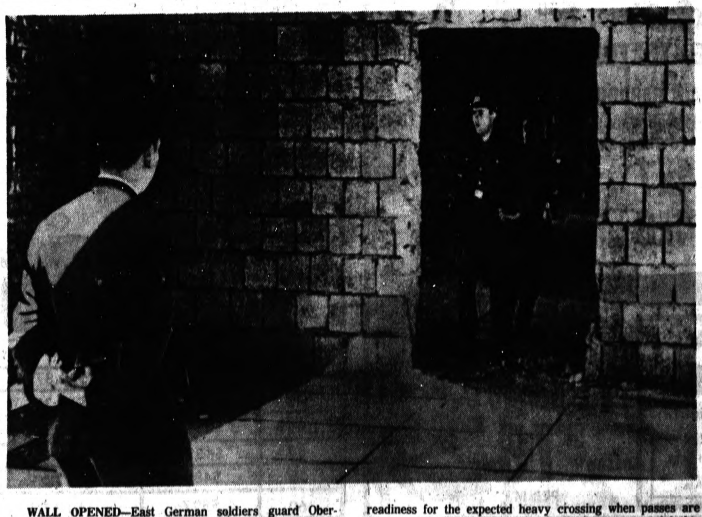
He said John's faculty for languages, including French and German, stood him in good stead during World War II when he served with the artillery in North Africa, Corsica, southern France and on into Germany.

There is another Freund brother, Kurt, 43, who served with the Air Force in World War II and now lives in Torrance, Calif., while a sister, Mrs. Charles Patterson, is the wife of a geologist in Lafayette, La.



WALL OPENED—East German soldiers guard Oberbaun Bridge crossing point where this hole in the Berlin Wall was made yesterday. The opening was in apparent readiness for the expected heavy crossing when passes are issued to West Berliners under a new agreemnt rachd this wek. East Berliners will not be able to cross to the West.

Radium Found in Dixie Dump

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — City and health officials breathed a sigh of relief after a Geiger counter turned up four dangerous needles in an unlikely haystack — tubes of radium in a garbage dump.

By accident, the four platinum-encased tubes were knocked onto the floor of an Atlanta physician's office and dumped into the trash. A garbage truck transported the tiny tubes to the city dump and brought on a big headache for the city — the possibility of radium contamination.

Anxious spectators watched while what seemed like "endless buckets of garbage" were brought up out of the pit for testing by the Geiger counter. Each bucket held nearly a half-ton of garbage.

After three hours of searching Wednesday night the counter came to life. One huge bucket held all four tubes of radium, still safely encased in metal.

Some Making Tea-Leaf Predictions

Britain's Vote Likely to Be a Squeaker

By PHIL NEWSOM
UPI Foreign News Analyst

NEWSOM

LONDON — On Oct. 19, out of some 35 million voters eligible, it is expected that between 25 and 26 million Britons actually will cast ballots in national elections.

But so close is the outcome expected to be in the race between the Conservatives led by Prime Minister Sir Alec Douglas-Home and the Laborites led by Harold Wilson that some analysts are saying that as few as 125,000 votes in the right places could decide the winner.

The result is that political forecasters on both sides are reduced to mathematical tricks showing how a switch of 1 per cent or less here and there could give either a 25- or 30-seat majority necessary to govern safely.

Back of it lies a gradual melding of political viewpoints formerly at great odds — the Conservatives in all-out defense of capitalism and Labor in all-out opposition, founded on a demand for public ownership.

CHANGES APPARENT

The changes in the two views were becoming apparent as early as 1945.

In that campaign year, Winston Churchill said "There is a broadening field for state ownership and enterprise" — a remark which sounded as if it came out of Labor's book.

In the same year, Labor party spokesman Herbert Morrison said "A case can be made for private enterprise in appropriate fields."

HEALTH SERVICE

Both parties, for example, claim credit for Britain's socialistic National Health Service, a cradle-to-the-grave service far more extensive than any U. S. politician has dared to propose.

In its years in power between 1945 and 1951, Labor nationalized the steel and coal industries, trucking, the power industries and the railroads.

The Conservatives were committed to free enterprise, denationalized steel and the trucking industry upon their return to power in 1951 but retained and even expanded the government hold elsewhere.

In much the same manner as would be employed by the Laborites, the Conservative government has used its power to bring new industry to the north of England, notably the automotive industry.

REVITALIZED

Lancashire, hard hit by the decline of the textile industry, has been revitalized with the arrival of new industry and an emphasis on the more expensive textiles, leaving the cheaper goods to Hong Kong and elsewhere.

The differences between the two parties boil down then largely to a question of detail and which can inspire in the British voter the greatest trust.

On this score, the heaviest responsibility falls upon the two leaders — a contest between what the London Sunday Times called "the studied and skillful amateurism" of Douglas-Home, and the "complete professionalism without adornment or concealment" of Wilson.

Eying School Bond in West Bloomfield

A new elementary school will be needed in the south end of the district next year and additional sites should be purchased, according to Supt. Dr. Leif A. Hougen.

The board of education will set an election date for "as soon as possible."

"I hope it can be the end of December or sometime in January," Hougen said. "We have not set the amount, but it will be one that won't raise the school taxes."

Board attorney Harry Dell now is studying the district's tax structure to determine how much can be sought without increasing the current levy.

UPPED EVALUATION

Although one bond issue was retired in May, school officials feel that most of the additional revenue can be raised within the present rate because of increased property valuation in the district, according to Hougen.

Dell will present his recommendation at the Oct. 5 meeting of the board. An election date is expected to be set then.

Expansion of sewer systems in the district is the crux of the school shortage problem, Hougen said.

HEART OF GROWTH

The heart of the growth area is in the southern portion of the district, where there are a "tremendous number of subdivisions," Hougen noted.

The board has determined that an elementary school should be built on its 11-acre site in that area — on Maple midway between Middle Belt and Orchard Lake.

The school, containing probably 13 classrooms, should be ready for students by next fall or Christmas.

The site was one of those purchased through a $1·6-million bond issue approved by district property owners in June, 1963.

JUNIOR HIGH

More than half of that issue was used for a junior high school now under construction on the west side of Orchard Lake Road about a mile north of Maple.

Last year's bond issue allocated $400,000 for the purchase of additional sites.

"We are tentatively hoping to buy maybe $200,000 worth of sites this time," Hougen said. "That would have to be determined by a citizens' committee."

He noted that the group which had worked with the board in preparation for the last bond issue determined that schools would be needed in the near future.

CAME QUICKLY

"But we didn't think it would come quite this quickly," he said. "This is completely because of the availability of sewers.

The superintendent noted that the district has experienced a five per cent growth in enrollment for many years.

"It is over 10 per cent this year," he said. Some 2,259 students have enrolled in West Bloomfield schools so far this year, compared to 2,038 last year.

NEWS OF THE AREA

Rochester Schools to Offer Adult High School Classes

ROCHESTER — Adults who have no high school diploma will get another chance to earn one thanks to evening adult classes at Rochester Community Schools this year.

Registrations for the evening program will be accepted Monday through Friday at the schools.

Credit is given on the basis of one-half unit of credit per 60 clock hours of study in a given subject.

This is in accordance with the requirements of the Rochester school board and the North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools.

Courses to be offered this year and their schedules are:

Algebra I — Mondays from 7 to 10 p.m., West Jr. High.

World History — Tuesday from 7 to 10 p.m., Central Jr. High.

Mechanical Drawing and Blueprint Reading — Tuesdays from 7 to 10 p.m., Senior High.

Business English and Report Writing — Mondays from 7 to 9 p.m., Central Jr. High.

German I — Wednesdays from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m., Senior High.

Beginning Dressmaking — Mondays from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m., West Jr. High.

To stimulate enrollment, the cost of these courses has been reduced to a nominal service charge.

Will Begin New Plant by Oxford

OXFORD TOWNSHIP—A special shovel ordered for the occasion will be used to break ground Sunday for the new Bopp-Decker, Inc., manufacturing plant on East Drahner near M24.

Wielding the shovel will be Mrs. August Bopp, wife of the late cofounder of the firm with current president Judson Decker in 1953.

The plant, with 60,800 square feet, is slated for completion in early 1965. Insulated plastic dishware and related items will be manufactured there under the trade name "Vacron."

Bopp-Decker, Inc., with facilities in Royal Oak and Birmingham, decided to move to the new site in June, after successful efforts by the Oxford Industrial Development Committee and Oxford Village Manager Michael Kilgore to bring the firm here.

Kilgore will be master of ceremonies slated to begin at 1 p.m. Sunday.

The welcoming address will be given by village president Edmund Unger.

INTRODUCTIONS

Introductions of the Industrial Development Committee and of Decker will follow.

Next the company president will address those who attend the ceremony, introducing the officers of the firm.

Decker will then share groundbreaking duties with Mrs. Bopp, and Unger will close the gathering.

Registration Starts

Romeo Center Sets Courses

ROMEO — Registrations now are being accepted at the Community Center for courses this season, including a new feature that promises to be a boon to housebound mothers.

Free baby-sitting and a round of varied activities are the key to a new program called "Ladies Day Out," to start Oct. 7.

While their children are cared for by the babysitter, mothers who want to lose weight will enjoy a coffee hour and weigh-in from 10 to 10:30 a.m.

A second portion of the program follows lunch at 12:15 and will vary each week. Some of the possible activities at this time might be walks to enjoy fall color, craft work, talks by guest speakers and lessons in make-up.

MILLINERY CLASS

From 1:30 to 3:30 a millinery class will be held, winding up the day's activities.

A nominal fee covers the total cost of the program for eight weeks. Women may elect to take either the morning or afternoon parts of the program, or both.

The younger set will come in for some attention in two youth classes being planned.

A Saturday morning art class is designed to give children art instruction and an appreciation of beauty. Nancy Randall will be the instructor.

BATON INSTRUCTION

National two-baton champion and two-time state champion Dawn Lindsay will instruct beginners through advanced students in baton twirling on Mondays.

Experienced twirlers will form a marching corps to train for and enter competition.

Other courses being offered this season and their schedules are:

Painting — Tuesdays from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m., beginning Sept. 29, for eight weeks.

Flower Arranging—Mondays from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m., beginning Sept. 28, for eight weeks.

China Painting — Mondays from 8 to 10 p.m., beginning Sept. 28, for 10 weeks.

First Aid — Mondays from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m., beginning Sept. 28, Certificates will be awarded upon completion of the course.

Millinery—Wednesdays from 1:30 to 3:30 p.m., beginning Sept. 30, for eight weeks.

Rug Hooking — Thursdays from 1 to 3 p.m., beginning Oct. 1, for eight weeks.

Square Dancing—Thursdays from 8 to 10 p.m., beginning Oct. 1, for eight weeks.

Bridge—Tuesdays from 8 to 10 p.m., beginning Sept. 29, for eight weeks.

The cost of materials required in some courses will be extra, in addition to nominal fees for the courses.

Utica School Board Action Receives Support of State

UTICA—Recent actions of the Utica Board of Education in curtailing bus transportation within 1½ miles of its schools and putting two grades on half-day sessions have received support from the state.

Meeting with State Superintendent of Public Instruction Dr. Lynn Bartlett in Lansing Wednesday, Schools Supt. Fred Atkinson sought the state's opinion and understanding regarding Utica's transportation and school day problems.

Atkinson was accompanied to Lansing by school board members William Peper and William Roberts, and by attorney Roger Roemisch, who suggested the visit with Dr. Bartlett.

In a joint statement released yesterday, the group said that they asked if the state could interpret the Michigan statute regarding the 1½-mile limitation on transporting children.

They hoped it could be interpreted to the effect that "one and one-half miles by the nearest traveled route" could mean "one and one-half miles by the nearest traveled route that is reasonable for schoolchildren to walk."

DOUBTFUL MATTER

Dr. Bartlett said that he was doubtful that such an interpretation could be made, but promised that his office would look into the matter.

The group then asked, after describing the Utica situation, if some relief could be obtained from the $8 penalty levied by the state for each child transported within the 1½-mile limit, even if it meant a change of the State Administrative Code.

Dr. Bartlett said that it would take three months to make such a change in the code, and said that his office would look into this matter further as well.

Asked for an opinion on the legality of deficit financing on the part of a school board to finance full-day sessions and transportation, the state official said that school boards do not have the authority to go into deficit financing.

HALF DAYS

Half-day sessions, which are now in effect for Utica first and second graders, were discussed.

Dr. Bartlett said that the state has never attempted to define the length of a school day, and that he felt the action of the Utica board would meet statutory requirements.

Roemisch said yesterday that "while I'm not optimistic, I'm hopeful that they will understand our problems.

"If we are unsuccessful with the state superintendent, we will ask for an opinion from the attorney general on the interpretation of the state statute on the 1½-mile limit.

"Furthermore, we will seek to change the State Administrative Code with respect to the $8 penalty charged for transporting ineligible children."

Roemisch said that he expects an answer from Dr. Bartlett's office Monday on the several questions brought up Wednesday.

Plenty of Time for Vote Sign-Up in Orion Twp.

ORION TOWNSHIP — Residents who fail to vote in November because they were "unable" to register will have a very slim excuse.

Township Clerk Margaret Stephen is going to make it hard for anyone to find registration inconvenient or impossible.

She announced today that the township office at 571 S. Lapeer, Lake Orion, will be open the next two Saturdays from 4 to 8 p.m. for registrations.

The office will also be open on Oct. 5, the last day for registration, from 8 a.m. to 8 p.m.

OK School Borrowing

OXFORD TOWNSHIP — Approval has been given Oxford Community School District to borrow $70,000 for operation against anticipated state revenue by the State Department of Public Instruction.

15th Annual Fall Festival Will Benefit Lapeer Home

Mentally retarded children and adults at the Lapeer State Home and Training School will benefit from proceeds raised at an upcoming bazaar sponsored by the Lapeer Parents Association, Inc.

The 15th Annual Fall Festival Bazaar will be held Oct. 3 at the Orthogenic School at 10235 W. 7 Mile, Detroit.

Interesting items and entertainment will be available from 10 a.m. to 10 p.m.

On sale and display, all at individual booths, will be dolls, aprons, a farmer's market, grab bag, games, gifts, children's clothes, jewelry, linens and baby articles.

Also planned are white elephant, flowers, candy, baked goods and greeting cards stands.

A special feature will be a graphoanalyst who will be on hand to analyze handwriting.

For the hungry shoppers, a special lunch and a full-course roast beef dinner will be served at a nominal cost, with children's meals at half price.

Bazaar proceeds will go toward education and research programs for the patients at the home, the largest in Michigan for mentally retardates.

3 Youths Hurt in Car Mishap

Andrew Downey III, 19, of 300 North Bailey, driver of the car, apparently turned to talk to one of his passengers and lost control of the vehicle.

The car struck a tree on 34 Mile west of Van Dyke, about two miles north of Romeo.

Jack Walters, 21, of 63545 Van Dyke, Washington Township, and Sargent Begeman, 19, of 110½ S. Main were the passengers.

3 Area Teachers Are at Annual State Art Confab

ROCHESTER — Three members of the elementary art department of Rochester Community Schools are attending the annual conference of the Michigan Art Education Association this weekend.

Mrs. Sue Preston, Julius Jusey and Mrs. Dorothy Whipple are in Kalamazoo for the meeting, which started today and ends tomorrow.

Mrs. Whipple, head of the art department, is slated to lead a discussion group dealing with "Good Art Teaching — Elementary Level."

She will also continue as liason officer of Oakland County, Region 7, MEA, for the coming year, at the invitation of the organization's president.

PARTS — SERVICE

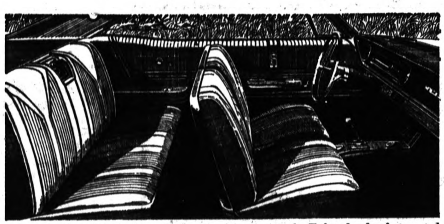
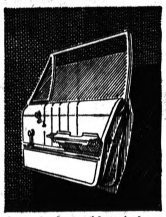
'65 Chevrolet Impala Super Sport Coupe

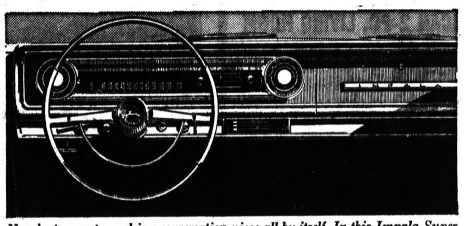
'65 Chevrolet



Interiors that would do a high-priced car proud. Take the bucket-seated Impala Super Sport here with its rich-looking vinyl upholstery, beautifully tailored trim and fine Body by Fisher handiwork. Elegant? Almost shamefully!



Curved glass side windows add their custom-tailored look to all the '65 Chevrolets.



New instrument panel is a conversation piece all by itself. In this Impala Super Sport the lower part of the panel is brushed metal; in other Impala models it has the look of hand-rubbed walnut. It only lacks one thing—you behind the wheel.

It's a longer, lower, wider, roomier, quieter, handsomer, swankier kind of Chevrolet for '65. Fact is, just about everything's new right down to the road. And even that'll seem newer. Because this year Chevrolet's famous Jet-smooth ride is smoother, more stable than ever—thanks to a new Full Coil suspension system and Wide-Stance design. Check over the new features you see here—and then drop down to your Chevrolet dealer's where you can see all the rest of what's new for '65. From behind this one's wheel (who knows?) you could get a whole new outlook on life.

CHEVROLET

New Corvair Corsa Sport Coupe

'65 Corvair

More shoulder and entrance room in all models. The front bucket seats are standard on Monzas and Corsas. And so is the little tingle of anticipation you get as soon as you slip behind the wheel.

Sports-buff dash with deep-set instruments. You can tell this one belongs to a Corsa because of the special instrumentation, like the big tachometer near the radio, that keeps constant tabs on your engine speed.

It's a racier looking, quicker steering, surer stopping, flatter cornering, roomier riding kind of Corvair for '65. Beneath the longer, wider new Body by Fisher, there's a sweeter riding independent suspension, more responsive steering and a wider road stance. And up to 180 hp available in the new top-of-the-line Corsa series—up to 140 hp in the Monzas and 500's. Here's sport as only Chevrolet—and perhaps a few avid Europeans—know how to build it. Just follow the enthusiasts—right on down to your Chevrolet dealer's.

More beauty to see—the '65 Chevelle, Chevy II and Corvette also now at your dealer's

Social Scientists Cite Danger of Campaign Oversimplification

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP)— A group of prominent American social scientists said today the 1964 election has brought into focus an oversimplified and dangerous view of the world.

A statement signed by 16 members of the council of the Society of Psychological Study of Social Issues (SPSSI) made five major points, including a warning that it is "dangerous to picture the world as dominated by two hostile camps..."

Dr. Jerome D. Frank of Johns Hopkins University is president-elect of the society. Dr. Herbert C. Kelman, University of Michigan psychology professor, is president. The society, claiming 1,700 members, is a division of the American Psychological Association.

The group's statement advanced these conclusions:

—Ultimate authority over nuclear weapons must "be invested in a single person."

This is necessary, it said, "so that there can be no doubt as to where the responsibility lies." The scientists warned against any deviation "from the policy of complete civilian control over nuclear weapons."

—It is "psychologically dangerous to picture the world as dominated by two hostile camps — a monolithic international Communist conspiracy and the free world—locked in a death struggle in which the free world, under American leadership, can achieve final, total victory without war."

The society added that "intemperate statements by political leaders increase anxiety and tension and lend legitimacy to extremists among both our allies and adversaries. Thus, such conduct increases the likelihood of nuclear disaster."

STOCKPILING N-ARMS

—"It is psychologically dangerous to pursue unlimited arms research and to stockpile nuclear weapons indefinitely..." The council said "this leads to an endless spiral that aggravates mutual fears."

—There is danger in using "the threat of our nuclear arsenal indiscriminately." As an alternative, the society said "we should make it clear that we will not attempt to extend our sphere of influence by force of arms and that we will not initiate the use of nuclear weapons under any circumstances."

In unavoidable circumstances, it advocated specific and limited military action in which the nation should "clearly announce in advance the limits of the action."

—"It is psychologically dangerous to limit communication or break off contact with adversaries as ways of putting pressure on them."

Symphony Association Honors Former Leaders

Pontiac Press Photos

Over a hundred music-loving Pontiac area people gathered Thursday evening to honor past presidents and past board directors of the Pontiac Symphony Orchestra Association. Sponsored by the board, the dinner was held at Holiday Inn.

President Dr. Duane Bigsby was master of ceremonies. He presented scrolls and certificates of appreciation to past presidents and past board chairmen.

RESNICK SPOKE

Felix Resnick, conductor of the orchestra, spoke on plans for the 1964-65 season, the 11th for the Symphony. His conclusion was that "The whole area so far as music is concerned, is looking upward. There is a great audience in this area."

Former board chairmen in attendance were Kenneth Turner, George Wyman, Charles Uligian, John Martin and Sherwin Birnkrant. Dr. Harkless is present board chairman.

Mrs. B. B. Roush was chairman for the evening.

Working with her on the planning committee were Mesdames Collis Scott, president of the women's association; Franklin Mills; Fred Coleman; Joseph Walker and Allan Denham.

Others were Mrs. Nelson Hunter, Mrs. John Waddell, Mrs. Felix Wotila and Mrs. Andrew Gulascik.

Mrs. B. B. Roush (right), West Iroquois Road, was chairman of the Symphony Association dinner. Charles Uligian who has served as president of the association and chairman of the board of directors and Mrs. Uligian were among the honored guests.

Women's Section

During the social hour before the Symphony Association dinner Mrs. Gelston Poole, Watkins Lake (left) and Mrs. Allan Monroe, Cherokee Road sat down for a quiet chat.

Area Women Busy With Goodwill Sale

By SIGNE KARLSTROM

Since 1933 the Junior Group of Goodwill Industries has in various ways raised $300,000 to assist handicapped people. Their slogan is "Not Charity—But a Chance."

Throughout the years the work of this organization has grown so that today they can, with much satisfaction, report 250 persons presently employed in industry because of the special Goodwill training program.

STORE IN PONTIAC

Right in our own community there is evidence — in their retail store on Pike Street—the work of handicapped people who have been given a chance!

Some fifty volunteer women in this area are members, working on projects to bring in the necessary dollars to provide rehabilitation services and job training programs.

Mrs. Harry J. Altick of Kennesaw Road, president, announces that the 17th Annual Antiques Market (which is their big benefit project) will be held at the Goodwill Industries plant in Detroit Nov. 8-11.

Mrs. George T. Wilde of Franklin and Mrs. W. Thomas La Rue of Detroit are co-chairmen for the annual sale. Forty-eight dealers in American and Imported antiques will exhibit and sell in booths occupying two floors of the Goodwill plant.

PREVUE

There will also be a special prevue on Nov. 7 from 6:30-10 p.m. For this a donation of $10.00 per person is required.

Cochairmen for this event are Mr. and Mrs. George T. Trumbull and Mrs. Richard Wagner. (Mrs. Trumbull and Mrs. Wagner are former presidents of the organization).

The champagne preview will be in the Goodwill Industries building on Brush St., in Detroit.

Tap Glass Only if Necessary

By The Emily Post Institute

Q: I have been asked to propose a toast to a lifelong friend at a testimonial dinner that is being given in his honor.

There will be several hundred people present.

A: If your rising to propose the toast does not attract the attention of the guests, you say in a voice loud enough to be heard, "Ladies and gentlemen."

If you still haven't their attention, you repeat a little louder, adding, "Please." If this fails to get results, as a last resort, you may tap on a glass with a piece of silver.

The Emily Post Institute cannot answer person mail, but all questions of general interest are answered in this column.

Not Legally Married

'Wife' Fears for Security

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I accidentally found out from the Social Security office that the man I married 16 years ago had never been legally divorced.

ABBY

I was advised to have a second marriage ceremony performed. To my dismay, Mr. W. received the idea as a joke and refused.

I am 62 and Mr. W. will be 80 in two weeks. I am worried about my future.

My lawyer advised me that according to Massachusetts law I am not Mr. W.'s legal wife, and I cannot claim his estate or get Social Security.

I even got our priest to talk to him, but it didn't help.

Mr. W. is the most generous man in the world and would give me the moon if I asked for it, but he will not consent to another ceremony.

Can you help me?

"MRS.(or am I?) W."

DEAR "MRS. (I wish I knew) W.": The priest can tell Mr. W. what is pleasing in the eyes of the Lord, and your lawyer can tell him the requirements of the law, but you'd better get your generous Mr. W. to skip the moon — and provide for your security right here on earth.

DEAR ABBY: I have a problem. I saw the organist of our church with a married man. And he wasn't hers.

Should I tell the pastor to talk to her before she breaks up the marriage or should I mind my own business?

I somehow feel that it is my Christian duty to set her straight.

Don't tell me it is only my imagination. I had heard rumors about these two, which at first I did not believe.

But when you see two people, in a secluded spot away from the busy roads, what else can you believe?

CHRISTIAN DUTY

DEAR DUTY: Even though the organist appears to have pulled all the stops out, I'd pipe down if I were you.

You don't know all you should to exercise your "Christian duty," which also recommends that to err is human, to forgive divine.

DEAR ABBY: I met a gorgeous girl. She asked me where I was from and I told her I was born and raised in Kalamazoo.

She said she had never heard of Kalamazoo, but she had visited the Bronx Zoo in New York.

I wanted to ask for a date but, oh, brother — now I'm not so sure. What would you advise?

HARRY WORLF

DEAR HARRY: Ask her for a date, but don't let her make a monkey out of you.

Doctors' Wives Winners

The Woman's Auxiliary to the Michigan State Medical Society sponsored the 1964 art show in Detroit this week, during the annual meeting of the Society in the Sheraton-Cadillac Hotel.

Mrs. Clifford Ekelund won second prize in weaving and Mrs. Simon Marko for silver jewelry.

Dr. and Mrs. Fink were given honorable mention for sculpture entries in the two-day show.

ELIZABETH ELLEN COMPS

January vows are planned by Elizabeth Ellen Comps, daughter of Mrs. Theodore M. Comps of Myrtle Street and the late Mr. Comps, and Daniel Stanley Dunaj, son of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley F. Dunaj of Hatchery Road.

Calendar of Events

TODAY

SATURDAY

Cuckoo Squares; first dance of season; CAI Building; 8:30 p.m. Guests welcome.

Westernaires Square Dance club; Donelson School; start of season; 8:30 p.m.; intermediate square and round dancing.

MONDAY

Shorten Legs, Patch Pants

When a boy's new trousers have to be shortened, save the piece of material that is cut off.

If the need for a patch arises, cut a piece from your extra material and place it over the hole, on the wrong side, matching the weave in the material. Then iron a piece of mending tape over it all.

Installation of Officers at Recent Banquet

Mrs. Lowell Satterlee is incoming president; Mrs. Robert Laity, vice president; Mrs. Maynard Carrigan, recording secretary; Mrs. John Hunger, treasurer; Mrs. Donald Ostrander, corresponding secretary.

Heading committees this year will be Mrs. William Lembke; Mrs. Robert Haire; Mrs. Ostrander; Mrs. Charles Goode and Mrs. Larry Hollister.

Mrs. Ostrander and Mrs. Earl Skrobeck will serve as sergeants-at-arms and Mrs. Richard Nelson is parliamentarian.

TO BUY BOOKS

Polly's Pointers

Man Shares His Ideas

By POLLY CRAMER

DEAR POLLY — Although the Women's Page is supposedly off-limits to us men, I manage to peep in on your column.

Each week I discover a few new ideas and that is good enough for me.

Recently you wrote about "save the wax" and what you mean is paraffin. That idea is not new to me but I would like to add to the uses of paraffin wax.

There is always a piece in my tool room. Last week when cutting off a dead 5-inch limb from a tree, I had to go back and get the paraffin to rub the saw blade, for that makes such a job much easier.

I also use paraffin on all sliding drawers where wood rubs on wood. The tracks of our overhead garage door work with less effort when so rubbed and are protected from rust.

Window tracks and slides, weather strips on door — they all work better when waxed. If you have no paraffin, use a candle. — M. B.

DEAR POLLY — The women who sew may be interested in the way I hem sheer nylon.

I use a raveling of the material and draw it carefully over a cake of wax to make it easier to manage.

This way there is no trouble in hiding the stiches. Hope this helps someone else as it has helped me. — MABEL

DEAR POLLY—When I want to find out if a fabric is color fast, I sew a piece of it on a piece of white cloth and for the testing place this in a glass of water and let it stand overnight.

The fabric is colorfast if the water is not colored and the white cloth is not stained. — E. A. R.

Share your favorite homemaking ideas . . . send them to Polly in care of The Pontiac Press. You'll receive a bright, new silver dollar if Polly uses your idea in Polly's Pointers.

Fringe Benefits

Daily Bathing Is a Modern Thing

By MIRIAM NEAL

Don't let your children read this column.

It seems that a lot of great men and women in history never entered a bathtub. Even if they did, they didn't use the soap.

Temptress of the Nile, Cleopatra, didn't have a bar of soap to her name. She removed her heavy make-up and the desert dust by covering her body with oil and rubbing off the dirt.

Even the wives of Roman emperors, who were noted for their elaborate beauty rituals and all-day baths, did their cleaning without soap.

SCRAPED IT OFF

Olive oil, juices and ashes of plants and fuller's earth were used for cleansing, and curved torturous-looking implements called strigils aided in scraping off the dirt.

During the Dark Ages, bathing fell into disrepute but when returning Crusaders told tales of a perfumed vapor bath called "the Turkish Delight," a few rich Europeans began reviving the old custom in the 15th century.

Unfortunately, it didn't catch on too fast. In 1725, King George I of England instituted the Order of the Bath for certain knighthood ceremonies.

It involved a ritual of the bath and insured that the nobles of the court would step in the tub at least once in their lifetimes.

Not all royalty agreed with King George. Queen Isabella of Spain boasted that she had taken only two baths in her life — one when she was born and one when she was married.

Eventually, cleanliness came back in style. While the ordinary citizens of Elizabethan England "stewed" themselves in public hot baths, Mary Queen of Scots is said to have bathed in wine.

Exotic bath ingredients received a real boost when Madame Taillien, a society leader of the French Directoire period, started taking a daily plunge in crushed strawberries and raspberries. This was followed by a rubdown with sponges soaked in scented milk.

As America struggled into existence there wasn't too much time for bath-taking. Eventually the custom of the Saturday-night-bath arose in spite of an old wive's tale claiming that sitting in the bathtub bloated the bather.

AMERICA THE CLEAN

Today America is bubbling over with cleanliness.

Not only are we surrounded by innumerable bars of soaps we even have soaps with built-in protection against soap's skin-drying properties. Many new soaps are being developed right in with the cleansers.

If your child did read this before you could stop him perhaps you can make some argument out of the fact that Mickey Mantle, Al Kaline, Bill Freehan, Gail Cogdill and Joe Schmidt HAVE to take showers every day.

Press Club Will Hear of Medical Advances

ANN ARBOR (AP) — Medical developments ranging from nuclear medicine to new methods of treating traffic accident victims were to be reviewed today at the 47th annual meeting of the University Press Club of Michigan here.

Doctors at the University of Michigan Medical Center planned to outline recent medical advances during the two-day meeting of journalists from around the state.

Highway Department Fills Fund Distribution Post

LANSING (AP) — The State Highway Department has appointed Raymond F. Durfee as the man responsible for distributing about $50 million a year from the motor vehicle highway fund to cities and villages.

The promotion of Durfee, 53, of Lansing, to the post of local government engineer was announced Wednesday by Highway Commissioner John C. Mackie. Durfee also will act as liason between the department and local road agencies. He has been an assistant road construction engineer.

$100,000 Judgment Against Star's Wife

WHITE PLAINS, N.Y. (AP) — A $100,000 judgment has been returned against Mrs. Rudy Vallee, wife of the veteran entertainer, as the result of a traffic accident in nearby New Rochelle on New Year's Day 1958.

A State Supreme Court jury awarded the money to Mr. and Mrs. Amilcar Leitao of Harrison, N.Y., occupants of a car involved in a collision with a car driven by Mrs. Vallee. The jury ruled that Mrs. Vallee was negligent.

Outstanding Performance

WTHS Senior Is Merit Semifinalist

By JEAN PERRY

Waterford Township High School senior Marilyn Cadman has been named semifinalist in the National Merit Scholarship qualifying Test for her outstanding performance.

This test of educational development was given in more than 17,000 high schools last March. Marilyn is among 14,000 seniors throughout the country who attained semifinalist status.

This moves her one step closer to winning a four-year scholarship to the college of her choice.

Marilyn, along with the other semifinalists, must substantiate her qualifying test performance on a second examination, be endorsed by her school, and fulfill certain routine requirements to become a finalist.

All Merit scholars are selected from the finalist group. The final test will be held Dec. 5.

Principal Paul O'Neill and student council president Jerry Charter welcomed students and new teachers at an assembly recently. New to WTHS this year are English teachers Sandra Hortop, Sally Misner, Judith Robinson and Phyllis Charusofsky.

Other new teachers are band director David Lindsay and librarian Marilyn Jost. Waterford's first Spanish class will be taught by Deina Krymis.

The 20th annual citizenship conference of the Michigan Association of Student Councils for High Schools will be held Monday in Ann Arbor. Waterford clubs and organizations are sending delegates to this conference.

Values of leadership and techniques of effective student council leadership are the topics to be discussed.

2 Parochial Schools Back in Full Swing

ST. FREDERICK

By JANIS QUARLES

Students at St. Frederick High School are back in full swing with the beginning of classes. On hand to greet the students were a few new faculty members.

Four new lay teachers have been added to the teaching staff: Mrs. Lynda Bianco, French teacher; Andrew Maycrnik, sophomore junior and senior religion; Mrs. Bernice MacNamara, art; and Sandy Rochon, who has taken over the girls' gym class.

OTHER COMMITTEES

Those comprising other committees are Karen Spanski, Mary Webster, Patricia Yarnold, Fred Jackson, Carlotta Roselli, Joyce Bieri, Julie Dougherty, Linda Mitchell and Deanne Shannabrook.

Future nurses club have elected their new officers. Deanne Shannabrook is president; Mary Garland, vice president; Sandria LaVallis, secretary; and Bridget Seulit, treasurer.

ST. MICHAEL

By HERVEY LAVOIE

Junior activities through the year will be lead by Gerald Trayner, president; Frank Launinger, vice president; Susan Wilson, secretary; and Dennis Sullivan, treasurer.

VOTES COUNTED

The significant role of the student body is seen in the coming use of English in the Mass.

The theme of this school year seems to be the establishment of sound traditions which can be proudly maintained in the planned Catholic Central High School, which will open in 1966.

Central Holds 1st Pep Rally

Cheerleaders, Team Introduced in Skit

By KAY COSMA

Enthusiasm and excitement ran through the halls of Pontiac Central High School this afternoon as the first pep assembly of the year was held.

For this assembly, cheerleaders were introduced along with the football team in a skit where Central beat their first opponents, Arthur Hill.

Linda Jackson is chairman with Judy Almas, Eileen Hatchett and John Baker on her committee. The dance will last until midnight.

Changes Noted at Northern

By ALICE TURNER

Like all new things, as another school year begins many changes are taking place at Pontiac Northern High School.

Many of the familiar faces from the past are gone—in their places are new ones.

There are three new faces which are of special interest to Pontiac Northern's students. These faces belong to three new foreign exchange students; Monika Knab of Germany; Elena Latmer of Uruguay and Robert Jackson of South Africa.

Elena, who is to arrive in the United States this week, will reside in the home of the Troy Bells. Their daughter, Carolyn, and son, Troy, are both juniors at Northern.

Monika will be staying at the home of the Vern Rollison. Linda Rollison is a PNH senior. While staying in the city, Robert will be living with Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Hayes and son Robert, a senior.

FIRST IN HISTORY

This is the first year in the history of the school when there have been three foreign exchange students.

Not all the new faces, however, belong to students. This year at Pontiac Northern there are 25 new and replacement teachers. These teachers were welcomed at a faculty tea Monday.

Schmidt's assistants include Thomas McCormick, Richard McDonald, Arnold Wilson, Tony Pizza, Harry Avesian, Hercules Renda and Robert Varner.

President Gets Recommendation

America should have a federally supported National Humanities Foundation, paralleling the National Science Foundation.

The Commission asserts that education in the United States has been put out of balance by the nuclear and space age.

At Bloomfield Hills

Foreign Students Are Seniors

By KAREN TRIMMER

This year, Bloomfield Hills High School has four foreign students attending school as members of the senior class.

Pamela Istead, the only girl in the group, represents the Republic of South Africa and is making her home with BHHS senior Linda Braun.

Both Fred and Pam are on plans sponsored by the American Field Service.

Hans Braun and Bob Schweitzer, both frem West Germany, are spending a year in America. Bob, is under the Michigan Council of Churches plan and Hans is spending the year with his cousins.

All the foreign students are honorary members of the foreign relations club, which was formed to further the members understanding of foreign countries and to help the foreign exchange students gain a better understanding of America.

BHHS students have seven new courses from which to chose this year. Business law is being taught for the first time.

This couse will help students in meeting any legal problems in his future life. A one-semester course, it is offered only to seniors.

A cooperative training program has also been begun to give students on-the-job training and classroom instruction related to business dealings.

Another new subject, business math, has been designed as a thorough review of math fundamentals and further training in bookeeping and consumers mathematics.

In addition to the required English class, English composition is being offered as a review and practice of basic composition skills.

Location, region and relationship will be three different areas covered in geography and world affairs while in humanities, extended to a full year course, literature, history, art and music are the fields that will be covered.

Oxford Nominates 4 for Homecoming

By SHIRLEY EVANS

Selections were made at recent class elections.

Senior class members are in the midst of a magazine drive to earn funds for the senior trip. The drive will end Tuesday with a goal of approximately $2,500.

Students Set Sock Hop at OLL High

By ANN LONGO

The student council of Our Lady of the Lakes High School will sponsor a sock hop tonight from 8 to 11:30 p. m.

The dance is open to anyone who presents a Catholic Youth Organization (CYO) card or any other sanctioned card at the door. Dress is casual.

Monday was election day and results have been announced. In the senior class Robert Gotschalk was elected president; Michael Dengate, vice president; Lee Smith, secretary; and Jeanette St. Louis, treasurer.

Brandon High in Full Swing This Week

By LYNDA VITALES

Activities at Brandon High School got into full swing this week.

Roger Board is president of the student council for the coming year. Other officers are Sherry Moore, vice president; Marva Featherston, secretary; and Carol Crittendon, treasurer.

Brandon's pep club was organized. Officers elected were Carol Crittendon, president; Karen Saunders, vice president; Rosemary Theriot, secretary; and Shelly Flanders, treasurer. The pep club will run the concession stand.

No More Welcome

Girls will have fewer chances hereafter to squeal welcomes to celebrated singers at New York airports.

The commotion has been so great on such occasions that the airports are arranging to bring popular personages in at secluded facilities.

Officers Elected

Events, Activities at Other Area Schools

W. BLOOMFIELD

Homecoming events, sponsored by the West Bloomfield High School student council, begin Oct. 14. Council sponsor David Vivian announced that cheerleaders and their sponsor, Mary Jo Beard, will arrange the Wednesday bonfire on the athletic field.

Oct. 16 will be the homecoming football game against Milford. On Oct. 17, the council will sponsor the anual dance in the school gym.

Plans for the annual American Field Service drive will be under way after assembly Thursday. Mrs. Francis Kohen sponsors the AFS club.

WALLED LAKE

By VIVI METTALA

This has been a busy week for sophomores and juniors. Sophomores took the ITED tests which are designed to measure what they've learned in nine different areas, thereby aiding in counseling.

The Flanagan tests show juniors' aptitudes and special abilities.

Originally, Walled Lake's homecoming was to be an afternoon game. Although Oct. 16 is the Friday of Teachers' Institute, many students protested that an afternoon game would lose attendance and atmosphere.

The new date is Oct. 30 with East Detroit at 8 p. m. The student council will sponsor the game following the dance.

LAKE ORION

By PATRICIA WARD

The cheerleaders and student council will jointly sponsor a bus to away games. The student council will also operate the concession stand at home football games.

Members for the Drag-on-Inn board, the governing body of the Youth Center, were chosen this week from each class. The Youth Center reopened last weekend.

LOHS band is under new direction of Roger Faulman. The musical Dragons, led by drum major Ray Whempley, are preparing for tomorrows Band Day at the University of Michigan.

High school bands from all over the state will be performing.

CLARKSTON

By CATHY RICHARDSON

With the beginning of the school year at Clarkston High School has come the election of class and club officers.

David Coulter has been elected president of the senior class. Others chosen to lead senior activities were Paul Hinkley, vice president; Cindy Humphrey, secretary; Don Stageman, treasurer; and Carol Cinader, point secretary;

Mrs. Donald Czarnicki, English instructor, has been chosen by the Y-Teens as club sponsor. In other club elections, Sue Hampshire was chosen chaplain; Patricia Bishop, historian; and Jody Strothers, interclub council member.

Foreign Students at WKHS

By PENNY YOUNG

Exchange students from six foreign countries are finding Waterford Kettering High School a new experience this year.

Here as part of the Youth for Understanding program are Gabrielle Matthias and Marita Rahte of Germany; Reiji Ukita of Japan; Erja-Riita Salonen of Finland; and Christina Svenonius of Sweden.

Also attending Waterford Kettering while in the United States are Maria Teresa Medina from Colombia and Olivier Fernandez of Italy.

All are living with families in the area and attending regular classes at WKHS.

Fifty-five members of the Waterford Kettering marching band will participate in a Band Day at the University of Michigan tomorrow.

The Stagemasters have announced the cast for their first production of the year, "You Can't Take It With You," a comedy by George S. Kaufman and Moss Hart, to be presented Nov. 5 and 7 in the WKHS gym.

In leading roles as Grandpa Vanderhof and his scatterbrained daughter, Penelope Sycamore, are John Peterson and Corrine Joies.

Compost Pile Helps Garden

The flowers and vegetables you grew this year were nourished by the chemicals they took from the air, the soil and the water in it.

While it is obvious that you can do nothing about replacing those substances in the air and water, you can, and should, attempt to replace them in the soil.

Fertilizing is the obvious way, and, for annual plants, this should not be done in autumn.

But soil that is not in good mechanical condition isn't going to retain fertilizer for any length of time, and the physical condition of your soil is something you can help right now.

What are you going to do with the leaves that fall from your trees?

COMPOST PILE

If you burn them you are burning dollars, for dug into the soil or placed on a compost pile to decay, than later added to the soil, they furnish valuable organic matter.

The same applies to the weeds you pull during fall clean-up of the garden; to the remains of the vegetable plants after you have used the crops and even to the leftovers when preparing the vegetables for table use.

Many gardeners say they have no room for a compost pile, or they don't like the appearance of one.

But, if you will dig a hole at one corner of your garden patch, 18 inches deep and as large as you please, fill it with any green plant refuse you have add a cupful of complete fertilizer, then cover with soil, you'll have started on a program of soil improvement.

Mark the boundaries of that hole, so you'll know where green matter has been buried.

DIG ANOTHER

Dig another hole alongside the first, and fill this one too.

You can rejuvenate the soil in a garden by continuing this process from one end to the other.

As the green plants decay, assisted by the fertilizer, the soil on top of the holes will sink.

Throw in more as necessary, using the soil you dug out.

Next spring, when you turn over or till your garden, you'll mix soil and decayed organic matter.

Lawn and Garden News

Summer Foliage Insures Privacy

When summer goes, the leaves of tree and shrub that screened your picture window drop and drift away, leaving your privacy unprotected.

This is a problem that faces every tenant of large glassed-in areas, whether in living room, dining room, breakfast nook or study.

The loss of screening foliage not only exposes you to the view of passersby and to the sun, but since the midday sun is closer to the horizon in winter (because of the inclination of the earth's axis), the damaging effect of its direct rays on upholstery and rugs is increased.

One key to the situation is the aluminum vertical blind, which can solve both of these problems and at the same time bring to a room an exciting decorative accent.

The vertical blind, consists of a series of aluminum louvers, installed in an upright instead of a horizontal position, having the functional advantages of venetians and the decorator advantages of drapes.

PROVIDE PRIVACY

They can be rotated to provide privacy and light and air control. They can be closed completely and take on a drapelike appearance as a covering for large areas, or they can be withdrawn to "nest" in only a few inches of space, restoring the visibility of glass areas in a few seconds.

Small, hold-down brackets inconspicuously located prevent the louvers from chattering when in the path of air currents.

Verticals come in a variety of textures, such as linen, and colors, such as white, yellow, pink, green and beige terrazzo, pastel and forest green, fawn, blue, gray, chinese and natural birch. This variety provides endless possibilities for striped and paneled effects.

From the practical side, they are controlled by a single cord, and they almost never need cleaning. Dust can't cling to the vertical surfaces and finger prints wipe off the baked enamel surface with a damp cloth.

Inside Gardening Is Fun Too

The homemaker with a green thumb can now employ her talents inside the home as well as out in the garden. Concrete slabs, picture windows and an increasing use of skylights have brought about the increased popularity of indoor gardening.

Along with this trend is an accompanying problem in decoration and home care. Gardens need dirt and water—and neither is kind to wood or resilient floors or walls.

This has created an increased use in the home of the old standby—ceramic tile. This rugged yet beautiful material is ideal for all surfaces exposed to planting—floors, walls and even window sills.

Ceramic tile's popularity in indoor gardens in attributable to the same qualities that have made it the preferred material in bathrooms and kitchens. Tile is tough and easy to clean.

Its surface is impervious to scratches and moisture, and its natural colors blend well with plantings, either as a background or for accents.

New Colors on Market

Daylilies, once thought of as a single variety, rather wild plant, are achieving an amazing variety of colors under intense development by professional growers during the past 50 years.

Pinks, near-whites and yellows, melon colors and purples are being grown now in clay pots as hybrids.

In addition to the new colors, growers have perfected daylilies with longer-lasting blooming periods, so take another look at these handsome perennials to enhance your outdoor living scheme.

Lavender grows well in any well-drained soil in a dry, sunny spot.

U.S. Farmers Hoping for Relief From Damaging Drought

CHICAGO (AP) — The nation's farmers have moved into the fall harvest season hoping for relief from a late-season drought that already has cost nearly $300 million in crop damage, an Associated Press survey shows.

Some farmers compared the summer of 1964 with the dust bowl days of the dry mid-1930s. Many states reported the summer as the driest on record, with total rainfall off as much as 10 inches.

A state-by-state survey today indicated that the most heavily damaged crops were corn, soybeans, sorghum and wheat. Many unharvested fruit crops were expected to suffer later this fall, and agriculture officials estimate the total drought loss will exceed the $500 million.

The worst drought areas were in the eastern section of the country, with Connecticut, Pennsylvania and New York among the hardest hit. Lack of water has dried up thousands of pastures, resulting in heavy losses for dairy farmers in the East and Middle West.

* * *

And silos throughout the country were empty or near empty; lacking livestock fodder for the winter.

EAST

Pennsylvania — farm loss expected to total $50 million with income in northeastern part of the state off as much as 50 per cent. 1964 third straight drought year, and corn, potatoes and apple crops especially hurt. Dairy industry also suffered heavily. Eleven northeastern counties designated drought disaster areas. New Jersey — Crop loss in corn, hay and vegetable crops could total $11.5 million. Birds eating crops because their natural feed dried up. Sixteen of 21 counties in state declared eligible for drought relief loans.

Maryland — 1964 driest summer on record. Total rainfall off nearly 10 inches. Hay crop off by 20 per cent and pasture feed virtually nonexistent. Crop loss estimated at $7 million.

Connecticut — Drought second or third worst since 1900, with rainfall averaging three inches below normal. Vegetable crop loss estimated at between $100,000 and $200,000, with more losses expected in peach and apple crops.

New York — Drought hitting pastures and hay crop resulting in critical dairy farm situation. No estimate of loss available, but 27 counties declared disaster emergency areas. Milk industry hit hardest, down $10 million to $20 million. Pasture conditions worst in history.

Massachusetts — Hay hardest hit, down 10 per cent from five-year average. Cranberries also affected.

New Hampshire — Hay most heavily damaged crop, 50 per cent first crop lost. Feed grain aid given to farmers in eight counties.

Vermont — Five southern counties declared disaster areas because of drought. Hay in trouble, 75 per cent of normal.

North Carolina — Three counties disaster areas because of June drought. No serious fires or serious flooding.

Virginia — Drought relief aid granted to 28 counties. Grazing and haying privileges granted to 56 counties. Apple crop hit hard, fruit too small for marketing.

MIDWEST and CENTRAL

Kansas — Grain and corn production hardest hit, with crops as much as one-third below 1963's totals. Drought struck at critical time for corn, but otherwise rainfall adequate.

Colorado — Drought loss between $40 and $50 million with wheat crop off by 20 million bushels. Sorghum, sugar beets and grains also fell below usual output. No fire threat in wooded areas, however.

Minnesota — Worst drought in southeastern part of state since the 1930's, say farmers. Corn hardest hit. Thirty counties granted emergency haying and grazing privileges on conservation land.

Michigan — Corn crop expected to be off, but other crops expected to flourish. No great drought loss.

Wisconsin — Thirty-five counties seeking extension of federal drought aid. Prolonged summer drought has left many silos empty or near-empty.

Ohio — August-September drought lasted 26 days, bringing disaster to crops in southern half of state. Some areas short 8½ inches of rain. Twenty counties declared disaster areas. No damage figures available yet.

Kentucky — Tobacco crop loss set at $30 million with other crops also suffering. More than 40 counties declared disaster areas.

Illinois — Shortage of subsoil moisture, but situation not bad. Moisture supply inadequate in 17 per cent of state.

WEST

Nevada — Drought conditions still exist in southern Nevada, where grazing conditions poor. Fire hazard very high. One fire already burned up 400,000 acres in the northeast, with reseeding cost estimated at $1.5 million.

Wyoming — Rangeland slightly drier than average, although drought conditions nonexistent. Harvests are expected to yield fair to average crops.

California — No crop loss in state, due to excellent irrigation. But drought conditions — high wind and low humidity — have set off destructive fires.

Montana — Normal drought in late part of growing season cut grain yields in scattered areas northern and southeastern Montana 30 to 40 per cent. June floods did minimum $12.4 million damage to some 1,000 farms in nine western counties, including $1.7 million loss of crops. Drought and fire damage negligible.

Scholarships to Area Youths

Sixteen area youths have been awarded tuition scholarships to the University of Michigan.

Based on need, the scholarships are of varying amounts but cannot exceed tuition costs.

The U. of M. recipients are among 1,292 Michigan high school graduates who received scholarship awards under the competitive scholarship program created by the State Legislature.

Pontiac Youth Faces Exam on Robbery Charge

Joseph Green, 17, 180 Prospect, is scheduled to face examination Wednesday in Municipal Court on a charge of armed robbery.

Pontiac police picked up the youth early this week, and charged him with armed robbery after he admitted holding up the Tulsa Service Station at 701 N. Saginaw early Saturday morning.

* * *

Police said Green has also admitted an earlier service station hold-up and five recent taxi-cab robberies.

Total take in all robberies is estimated at more than $350.

Real Dress Bargain if Hubby'll Wear 'em

Industrialists, Educators Will Confer at MSU

EAST LANSING (AP) — Industrialists and university educators will meet at Michigan State University Oct. 21 to catch up on trends in fields of industrial expansion where research plays a part.

Main sponsor is the Michigan Aeronautics and Space Association, a group of industrialists involved in various ways with the aerospace business.

Lodge to Get Its Charter

Pontiac's Samhold Lodge 473, Sons of Norway, will receive its charter tomorrow night in ceremonies at the Waterford Community Activities, Inc., Building on Williams Lake Road.

The charter will be presented by Supreme Lodge and 5th District officers of the Sons of Norway.

Samhold Lodge 473 was organized Jan. 12, 1964, with 65 charter members.

All it takes is a hole this size to bring in the wire to heat your new room electrically. No ducts, no plumbing connections, no drastically torn up walls or floors.

Remodeling or modernizing your home?
Here are 11 reasons why modern flameless electric heat belongs in your plans:

ROOM-BY-ROOM CONTROL

Electric heat lets you dial the exact warmth you want. Adding a nursery? Keep it at 72°. Adding a family room? 68° is just right for playing ping-pong. With flameless electric heat, there's no need to overheat the whole house to get extra warmth in one room. And, when the room isn't in use—just turn down the thermostat without affecting the heat in the rest of the house.

NO STRAIN
on your present heating system
Chances are your present heating system doesn't have too much extra capacity. Making it heat more living space could overtax it or affect heating in the rest of the house. When you add flameless electric heat, you're adding a new, separate heating system.

SAVES SPACE!

BIG CHOICE OF ELECTRIC HEATING UNITS
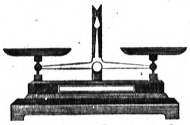
Built-in electric heating systems may be baseboard units; forced air or radiant units set in walls; radiant cable embedded in floors or ceilings; radiant panels suspended from ceilings; hydronic units—even electric heat pumps that heat in winter and cool in summer. The important point is this: whether you're adding a room or a wing—there's an electric heating unit that's perfect for your project.

100% EFFICIENT!
WITH ELECTRIC HEAT, ALL THE HEAT GENERATED IS USABLE HEAT WHEN AND WHERE YOU WANT IT—NONE GOES UP A FLUE.



even heat!
With electric heat, there are no cold spots or drafts because any exterior walls are well insulated. Room temperatures need never vary more than a degree or so. Electric heat doesn't rob inside air of moisture, either.

QUIET
Most types of electric heating equipment have no moving parts. And, because they're flameless, electric heating units are so quiet you never know they're on.

Set the thermostats, then forget them. Most electric heating systems have no moving parts. Little to wear out, nothing to rust out, no burners to replace.
lowest upkeep!

Quick!
Turn a dial and the heat's on when you want it, where you want it. No waiting for the heat to build up somewhere else in your home before you feel its welcome warmth. No heat (or money) is wasted in other rooms.

clean
as electric light
Electric heat is the cleanest kind of heating you can have—there's no soot to circulate through the air; cold, dust-laden outside air is not drawn into the house. Walls and furnishings stay cleaner longer—so you save on painting and redecorating.

how much will it cost to add electric heat to your home?
An Electric Heating Contractor will gladly come out and estimate the cost to install and operate electric heat in your add-on or hard-to-heat room in your present home (or your new home, for that matter). Don't know an Electric Heating Contractor? Call us.

Northern Plays Host to Kettering

Key Contests Listed on Tonight's Prep Grid Schedule

A nember of key contests dot tonight's high school gridiron schedule as area teams move into the second week of the 1964 campaign.

On the local scene, Pontiac Northern goes gunning for its second victory with a home encounter against Kettering at Wisner Stadium. Game time is 8 p.m.

An unusual aspect of Kettering's victory over Lake Orion last week was the absence of the forward pass.

The Captains threw nary a time and actually the aerial attack wasn't needed. The ground game clicked to the tune of 380 yards and a 32-0 win.

"We planned it that way," coach Jim Larkin explained afterward. "We didn't want to show too much."

It could have been that Larkin was looking ahead to Pontiac Northern.

Northern has a tough defensive line and the Captains are expected to use the air lanes to open up the defense.

Elsewhere on the schedule, Waterford will make a bid for its second victory with a date at Southfield.

Walled Lake, downed by Royal Oak Kimball in its opener, plays host to a tough Berkley eleven, and Farmington journeys to Plymouth.

A pair of key loop tilts are on tap in the Wayne-Oakland League with Milford at Holly and Clarkston at Northville. The latter two shared the W-O title last year.

Frank Crowell's Oakland A League grid teams—the one he left and the one he went to—will command a major share of the interest in the opening loop games tonight.

OTHER GAMES

Romeo, fresh from an 18-7 win over Richmond, takes on Chippewa Valley at home and Lapeer moves to Saginaw for a tilt with McArthur. Clintondale invades L'Anse Creuse for a Saturday scrap.

A full slate of league action is on tap in the Southern Thumb.

Defending champion Deck-

erville and Imlay City will open the South Central League race on the Imlay Field.

In other SCL games, newcomer Harbor Beach plays host to North Huron, and North Branch entertains Carrollton.

In other contests, Emmanuel Christian plays host to Warren Woods, Birmingahm Brother Rice travels to Detroit Cathedral, Ortonville plays at Genesee and South Lyon moves to Willow Run.

Brimingham's Groves and Country Day schools have key Saturday ball games facing them as they bid for winning football seasons.

The former will be attempting to climb to the .500 mark when it meets Cranbrook at 8 p.m. on the Seaholm Stadium turf. It will be the Cranes' season opener.

Country Day, on the other hand, already has one win and will be seeking a 2-0 log when it meets Waterford Our Lady of the Lakes in a 10 a.m. game at the 13 Mile Road school.

The Northwest Suburban League, meanwhile, will not begin its season until next week. Livonia Franklin visits Redford Union at 3 p.m. today; while North Farmington is host to Riverside at 4 o'clock.

Tomorrow Highland Park will travel to Detroit Thurston and Oak Park will be at Madison Heights Lamphere, both at 2 p.m.

Giants Meet Redskins in Home Debut

New York Unit Slight Favorite

Night Contest Opens Weekend Schedule

By The Associated Press

The New York Giants open at home tonight against the Washington Redskins to start what promises to be another exciting weekend in pro football.

Although both the Giants and Redskins have lost their first two games in the National Football League, a capacity 60,000-plus is expected at Yankee Stadium for the first night homer opener of the Giants in 25 years. The game also will be shown on closed TV circuit to selected theaters in the New York area as an experiment.

The Giants are favored by a small margin although rookie quarterback Gary Wood from Cornell will start in place of veteran Y. A. Tittle, who suffered three bruised ribs in last week's defeat at Pittsburgh. Sam Huff, for eight years a star Giant linebacker before being traded to Washington in the off season, will be making his first NFL appearance against his former teammates.

The San Diego Chargers, 1-1, battle the unbeaten Buffalo Bills, 2-0, at Buffalo Saturday night in what may be a preview of the championship game in the American League in December.

Action will be fast and furious on Sunday with five games in the NFL and three in the AFL. Green Bay, 1-1, plays at Detroit, 1-0-1, in an unusual Monday night NFL game to wind up the weekend competition.

The Bears-Baltimore struggle pits two star quarterbacks, Bill Wade against Johnny Unitas, in the Colts' home opener. The Colts lost to Minnesota in their league opener, but bounced back to whip Green Bay last week. The Bears lost to Green Bay but downed Minnesota last week.

Cleveland hopes to remain in the unbeaten, but tied class with a victory over the revamped Eagles. Fullback Jimmy Brown is expected to spark Cleveland's running attack as usual to offset the Eagles' offense. The Browns were tied last week by St. Louis 33-33 while the Eagles lost to San Francisco 28-24.

The Cardinals face a stern test against the 49ers at San Francisco, but the passing of Charley Johnson and the running of Joe Childress and John David Crow are expected to prevail over John Brodie's aerials.

Minnesota will rely on Fran Tarkenton's passes to overcome Los Angeles Roman Gabriel, the Rams' No. 1 quarterback, is expected to see action after missing the first two games because of a knee injury.

Don Meredith and John Roach probably will alternate at quarterback for Dallas against Pittsburgh as they did last week in the Cowboys' victory over Washington. The Steelers may suffer a letdown after being fired up last week to beat the Giants.

Green Bay is favored over Detroit in Monday's game although the Lions will be bolstered by the return of Night Train Lane at left half. Lane has been out with a knee injury.

SPORTS

Air Force Falcons to Test Wolverines

AIR FORCE ACADEMY, Colo. (AP) — Players who prepped in Michigan accent the Air Force team that meets University of Michigan at Ann Arbor Saturday.

Four members of the first two teams of 22 Air Force players are from the Wolverine state including starting halfback Dick Czarneta, 6 - foot - 1, 206-pound senior from Lansing, may see action as a ball carrier if anything happens to starting fullback Steve Amder. Tellstam was the second leading ball carrier last year with a 4.1 yard average in 70 carriers.

NO. 2 SPOT

Junior quarterback Paul Stein 5-feet-10, 170, another former Lansing prep, is No. 2 quarterback behind Tim Murphy and likely will be called on for heavy duty against the Wolverines.

Dearborn's Joe O'Gorman, a 6-feet-3, 214, senior, is one of the most reliable wingmen on the Falcon team. Primarily a decoy last season, O'Gorman caught four passes for 40 yards but is pegged for more activity in the pass receiving department this campaign.

The three husky Michigan regulars, Czarneta, Tellstam and O'Gorman, are part of the reason for Air Force being the largest team ever to represent the Falcons.

Along with being much stronger and with more depth, Air Force this season features a power running attack and plenty of passing with left-hander Tim Murphy, the starting quarterback from LaCrosse, Wis.

TOP RECEIVERS

The Falcons six top receivers last season are all back to give Murphy capable targets. Czarneta was 1963's second leading receiver with 11 for 164 yards. The other leading pass catchers back are end Fritz Greenlee, last year's leader with 15 for 323 yards, Jim Greth and Bill Landes plus backs Paul Wargo and Ken Jaggers.

Pontiac Press Photo

HOT-FOOTED CAPTAIN — Were someone to give Kettering halfback Jim Haviland a hot foot, he'd probably hardly notice it. The Captains' prancing runner started the season with a bang last week by running 59 yards twice and 13 yards once for touchdowns. Last year he finished sixth in the county scoring race with 14 touchdowns. He'll try to add to his past performances tonight at Wisner Stadium against Pontiac Northern.

No Breathers on Grid Slate of PCH Unit

Chiefs Will Tackle Arthur Hill Squad Saturday at 8 P.M.

There are no breathers on the gridiron schedule of Pontiac Central's Chiefs.

The Chiefs were walloped 39-0 last week by the state's No. 1 Class A team, Bay City Central and this week's assignment could be just as rough.

The squad will entertain an explosive Saginaw Arthur Hill eleven tomorrow at Wisner Stadium. Game time is 8 p.m.

Led by 210-pound fullback Tom Crannell, the Lumberjacks rolled up 294 yards rushing and added another 98 in the air.

SCORES TWICE

The loss to BCC last week was the Chiefs' 11th in their last 12 SVC outings.

PCH, after a jittery first half, had its offense moving in the final half but the outcome was no longer in doubt.

The first-half performance caused coach Paul Dellerba to offer after the game, "I guarantee you we'll be a better football team next week."

NEEDS POWER

Central will have to put some power in its offense to stay with the Lumberjacks.

The squad suffered a loss on the defensive unit when senior John Knox, a 6-0, 228-pounder, injured in the tilt against BCC, underwent a knee operation this week.

Replacing Knox at the middle guard position will be Ken Vollmer, a sophomore who stands 5-10 and weighs in at 165.

Spartans Head for Carolina

By The Associated Press

EAST LANSING (AP) — A confident and relaxed Michigan State football team flew out of Lansing today for the season's opener against North Carolina.

"Earl Edwards did it, and so can we," was the rallying cry among MSU coaches with long memories.

They were referring to the victory by Edwards, a former MSU coaching aide, over the Tar Heels last week. Edwards directed his North Carolina State team to a 14-13 mild upset of North Carolina.

Aides said Coach Duffy Daugherty seemed to enjoy having the pressure off. No one is picking the Spartans for any spectacular feats this season, despite a respectable 6-2-1 record last year.

Team physician Dr. James Feurig reported the squad is in excellent physical shape.

The only losses because of injuries were of Dick Proebstle, No. 2 quarterback, and defensive end Doug Roberts.

The 38-man traveling roster and coaches were to fly from Lansing at 9 a.m., arriving before noon in time for an afternoon workout in the North Carolina stadium.

Michigan State was the favorite for the opening of its 68th season.

Daugherty is fielding separate offensive and defensive units this fall, to make the most of a thin roster of talent.

The defense is solid with returnees from the outfit that was tops in defense against rushing in the Big Ten in 1963. The offense, led by quarterback Steve Juday, is yet to be tested.

There are no kicks about the kicking. Lou Bobich, who kicked four extra points and added a field goal against North Carolina last fall, is backed up by Dick Kenney, who has been getting spectacular distances kicking bare-footed—a style he learned in his native Hawaii.

The kickoff will be at 1:30 (EST) Saturday.

Reds Unveil World Series Ticket Plan

CINCINNATI (AP) — The Cincinnati Reds, right in the thick of the National League pennant race, announced plans Friday for handling of World Series ticket applications.

The Reds got another boost in their pennant drive Thursday night when the Philadelphia Phillies lost 5-3 to Milwaukee. Second place Cincinnati now trails the league-leading Phillies by three games.

If the Reds win the pennant, games No. 1 and 2 and 6 and 7 — if necessary — will be played at Crosley Field. The series starts Wednesday, Oct. 7.

The Reds said no box seats at Crosley Field will be available for public sale. These seats have been allotted to season and plan subscribers and to baseball clubs, players, the press and others.

The announcement said reserved grandstand tickets will be sold on an individual game basis only in order to permit a greater number of fans to attend the games. Tickets are $8 each, and will be limited to two per person.

Volleyball Available

The YMCA is seeking interested volleyball players, experienced or inexperienced, to play in games three times weekly.

Games will be played each Monday and Friday at noon and from 7:30 to 9:30 on Wednesdays.

Clinic Scheduled in Touch Football

An elementary boy's touch football clinic, sponsored by the Waterford Township Recreation Department, will be held tomorrow at Pierce Junior High School.

The clinic was originally scheduled for last Saturday but rain forced postponement.

Two sessions of the clinic will be held tomorrow — grades five and six from 9 a.m. until 11 a.m., and grades seven and eight from 11 a.m. until 1 p.m.

Boys will be coached in football fundamentals. Leagues will be formed following the clinic.

Titans Play Toledo

U-D Tries to Find Passing Game

By The Associated Press

The University of Detroit Titans, who coach John Idzik feels could have upset Kentucky if they had found a passing game, hosts Toledo tonight in one of two major football games on the schedule.

Detroit was held to 15 yards last week as quarterback Ron Bishop completed only one pass in nine attempts.

The U-D-Toldeo game tonight starts at 8:15 p.m.

Texas A&M, which lost 9-6 to Louisiana State last week and is generally picked to finish near the bottom of the Southwest Conference, meets Illinois and Ohio State, picked as two of the top in the Big Ten, open their seasons on the Saturday schedule that includes a surprising number of conference games, surprising for this stage of the season at least.

Four of the elite — Texas, Alabama, Mississippi and Auburn — have conference tests following their impressive opening victories.

STILL UNBEATEN

Defending national champion Texas, unbeaten in almost two years and a 31-0 victory over Tulane last week, visits Lubbock and an ambitious Texas Tech team that wants to prove it has at least earned its Southwest Conference spurs.

Bear Bryant's Crimson Tide, sparked by quarterback Joe Namath, swept over Georgia 31-3 last week and is a top-heavy favorite over Tulane.

Mississippi, ranked No. 1 in The Associated Press' pre-season poll, lived up to that high spot with a 30-0 romp through the vaunted defenses of Memphis State and now must test its defense against the solid Kentucky team.

"We think this bunch of boys is capable of moving the ball on anyone, including Mississippi," Kentucky Coach Charlie Bradshaw said.

And Auburn, 30-0 victor over Houston, has a bigger test against Tennessee.

Illinois is favored to win its opener at California and Ohio State is a solid pick at home against Southern Methodist. Indiana, a dark - horse in the Big Ten picture, is a slight favorite against northwestern in the only conference game.

Minnesota is at home against Nebraska in the television game of the week, and is expected to win.

PCH's Hollis Paces Speedy Harrier Field

Bill Hollis of Pontiac Central led six cross country runners under the 11-minute mark at Beaudette Park yesterday.

Flint Central won the Saginaw Valley triangular with 38 points. Midland was next with 43 and PCH posted 47.

Hollis was clocked in 10:24. He was followed by Bob Zigler and Jack Hobey, both of Midland, Gary Laster, Flint Central, Bob Wiggins and Martin Acosta of PCH in that order.

Acosta was timed in 10:56 for sixth place. Wiggins crossed in 10:49.

Night Life Expensive for 4 Late Bengals

DETROIT (UPI) — The Detroit Lions players aren't the only professional athletes in Detroit who have been fined for breaking curfew this season.

Charley Dressen, manager of the Detroit Tigers, slapped fines totalling $1,000 on four of his players in two separate incidents in July and August, it was revealed today.

July 14 in Los Angeles the Tigers arrived by plane and took a bus to the Hotel Ambassador. However, Hank Aguirre, Norm Cash, Ed Rakow and Larry Sherry took a car to the hotel and missed the curfew hour.

Dressen fined each $200 and when the Tigers flew to Baltimore, ordered the team's customary cocktails not to be served.

Then Aug. 15 in Kansas City the Tigers played a night game and Dressen invoked a midnight curfew. When it was learned Aguirre again was not in his room at midnight, Dressen obtained the key and waited in the room.

When Aguirre arrived, 20 minutes late, he and Dressen exchanged harsh words.

TO CUT SALARY

Aguirre told Dressen he could not pitch for him and asked to be traded. Dressen replied the Tigers would not trade Aguirre but would keep him and cut is salary next year.

Dressen then fined Aguirre another $200 and left.

It was learned that next year Dressen will be managing one of the youngest clubs in baseball as the Tigers are planning to promote several of their top prospects on the Syracuse International roster to the parent club.

"We've waited long enough," a team official said. "Those kids are ready and we intend to give them a shot at the big leagues."

"Why should we keep going with the same group of veterans who year after year have produced mediocre finishes?"

Among those slated to year a Detroit uniform next season are first baseman Bill Roman, shortstop Ray Oyler, outfielder Jim Northrup, and pitchers Bill Faul and Bruce Brubaker.

Outfielder Willie Horton will probably return also.

Major's Crystal Ball Reveals Grid Upset

By MAJOR AMOS B. HOOPLE

I am reminded of this once more by the exhaustive study of wind currents just completed by my colleague, Dr. Cicero Zlobotny, the famed authority on aerodynamics.

Dr. Zlobotny has detected an unusual amount of ethereal activity over the Central Plains. (Ed. Note: Maybe some of the Major's hot air is circulating over the area). These strange wind currents will spread over most of the nation by Saturday.

With unpredictable up-sweeps and downdrafts carrying well-aimed passes and field goal attempts wide of their targets, close scores and upsets will be the order of the day, and the Hoople System has pegged a trio of startling upsets for you — hak-kaff!

The Air Force, getting better and bolder every year, will shoot down Michigan's Wolverines by a 22-21 count in Ann Arbor. Meanwhile, the Kentucky Wildcats will claw their way past mighty Mississippi in Jackson, 14-13.

Albion Squad Eyes Revenge Against Ferris

By United Press International

Members of Albion College's football team will have one thought on their minds when they entertain Ferris State Saturday afternoon . . . revenge.

The Britons avenged one of their three 1963 defeats last week by downing Wheaton Ill., 12-7.

All other MIAA schools are in action in non-conference games. Alma hopes to pick up its second straight win Saturday night at Ashland Ohio while Kalamazoo will open its 1964 season at Lake Forest Ill.

Adrian will travel to Eastern Michigan seeking to even its record at 1-1.

Michigan Tech takes a 1-0-1 record to Moorhead State Minn. Saturday in its Northern Intercollegiate Conference opener, and Wayne State opens its President's Athletic Conference campaign at Allegheny Pa.

Northern Michigan hopes to snap a two-game losing streak when it entertains S. E. Missouri State and Grand Rapids JC would like to get on the winning side of the ledger at Defiance after bowing to Northwood Institute last week.

WINS PACING CLASSIC—Favored Vicar Hanover (6), driven by Billy Houghton, crosses the finish line to win the first heat of the Little Brown Jug yesterday. Lyss Hanover (4) placed second and Red Carpet was third. Vicar came back to win the third and deciding heat to claim the pacing classic.

Little Brown Jug Won by Vicar After 'Trap'

By The Associated Press

DELAWARE, Ohio (AP) — Billy Haughton, deft driver of harness horses, figures he was lucky to get home in front with Vicar Hanover in Thursday's 19th annual $66,590 Little Brown Jug.

But come home in front he did for a $24,638 payoff which vaulted the Vicar's 1964 salary to $79,360. Haughton, the 40-year-old reinsman-trainer from Glen Head, N.Y., has won over 2,000 races, but of this one he declared:

"We were lucky to win. I thought we were trapped after a half mile of the deciding heat, and at the three-quarters I was really concerned. But the colt proved he was ready and when we got out of the pocket near the head of the stretch I knew we could win."

Vicar Hanover, bay son of Torpid, the 1957 Jug victor, had everything his own way in the first heat of the test for 3-year-old pacers over Delaware County Fairgrounds half-mile track. He made every post a winning one in 2:02, despite 50-degree temperatures and 20-mile winds.

Combat Time, with 36-year-old Bruce Nickells of Orlando, Fla., at the helm, took the second division the same way, in 2:00 4-5. Three of the 13 entrants were ousted in the preliminary heats of the split race, and the other 10 came back for the third.

Combat Time, purchased as a yearling for $4,700 by the Tamarack Stables of Apinesville, Ohio, led most of the way in the deciding heat, hitting the quarter in 28.2, the half in an even minute, and the three-quarters in 1:30 4-5. But Vicar Hanover nipped him 80 yards from the wire and won by less than a length in 2:01.

Up to then the ultimate winner had been locked in third place, with Senator Burton second at the half and Red Carpet in the place position at the three-quarters post.

Attorney Donald D. MacFarlane of Grosse Pointe, Mich., owner of the victor, said:

"This is the greatest thrill of my life. At last Michigan has beaten Ohio State."

Red Wings' Rally Tops Black Hawks

HAMILTON, Ont. (AP)—The Detroit Red Wings wiped out a 2-1 deficit with three goals in as many minutes in the third period Thursday night and beat the Chicago Black Hawks, 4-2.

Norm Ullman, Floyd Smith and Gordie Howe scored in that order to give Detroit its fourth preseason exhibition victory. It has one tie.

Howe also scored in the first period and he set up Smith's goal, which proved to be the go-ahead tally.

BOWLING

Joe Foster's 725 series led the 300 Bowl team to victory in a high scoring match with Calbi Music during Monday's West Side Lanes Classic League action.

Foster had 255-243—227 and was aided by teammate George Chicovsky's 243-234—682 bowling. However, Ron Rothbarth's 224-232—668 enabled Calbi to earn two of the eight points.

The Huron Bowl Classic has a four-way tie for first place entering tonight's action. Herk's Auto Parts, Westside Mobil, Lloyd Motors and Felice's Market have 18-6 marks.

Fifth place also is a deadlock with Calbi Music and Fontanna Brothers having 16-8 records. Last week's top individual efforts were the 691 by George Chicovsky, 300 Bowl; the 235—679 of Jerry Hoffman, Westside Mobil; and Ivan Craycraft's 246 for Waterford Realty.

Walt Ruebelman of Orchard Lanes had the night's high game, a 267 in a 667 series. Les Smith had 256—633.

Monday's first Nighters at Huron Bowl were led by Mary Thompson's 208-550 effort. Stark Pharmacy and Magic Mirror have the early lead with 7-1 records.

SPORTSMAN

The Huron Bowl Sportsman's League Friday had a 231 by Julian Tovar. Ralph Graham had an all-spare game of 175.

Lakewood Lanes was anticipating a perfect game Sunday when Gary Defrayne rolled 10 straight strikes in the St. Benedict's Mixed League, but he left the 5-8 on the 11th ball and finished with 288.

Earlier that day Larry Jewell of the Lakewood Pinspillers hit eight in a row, but he settled for a 268. Both of them received transistor radios from the establishment for 265 or better.

The second outing for the GMC Truck and Coach Engineering League at Lakewood Monday saw Arnold Reed hit 245-209—649 and Dan Pruente 264-205.

Wonderland Lanes had a 266-649 effort by Bill Soutar in the Kings and Queens League, Mike Mahoney posted 210-218 in the Guys and Dolls circuit, and Larry Burgin had 211 in the Friday Nite Men's loop.

The Plaza Mixed League at Wonderland Lanes reported a 200—551 by Betty Raglin, a 533 by Liz Baker and a 208 by Jim Gage Wednesday.

A few spots are still available for teams or individuals in a 9 p.m. Tuesday mixed league at Lakewood. Contact proprietor Bill Kuklinski.

Sylvan Lanes had its first woman's 600 series of the season Sunday when Marie Reynolds rolled 208-214—625 in the Sylvan Manor Civic League.

Shirley Doty in Sylvan's Friday Guys and Dolls League had 210—535.

Auburn Lanes Wednesday Nite League reported a 227 for Earl Arnold and a 221 by Stu Pickering. Peoples Market held onto their league lead.

There are still a few openings at Auburn for men's teams Tuesday and Wednesday nights, plus a couple mixed teams Sunday night. Some individual men and women are also needed.

The Bucks and Does League Monday at Howes Lanes saw the Antlers take the early lead with seven points.

Montcalm Bowling Centre's Trio loop Monday morning was led by Charlie Martin who had 228-204 and Cecil Bishop with 222.

Edna Reynolds (511) and Lue Mayes (500) were tops in the Montcalm Bowling Centre Ladies' Quartette League Thursday.

The Centre is sponsoring a junior league starting Saturday morning. There will, also be a bantam and a senior teen league this year. Interested youngsters may still register.

Saturday night Barbara Emery converted the 3-7 split during Columbia Avenue Baptist Church Mixed League activity.

The Pontiac Motor Tempest League has already had a 110 triplicate by Arthur Chambers, and a 1184 all-spare game by Jack Goodchild.

Best of Five Races at Raceway Sunday

Detroiters Dave Iwaniuk and Malcolm Neimeyer will have a best-of-five match race Sunday to highlight this weekend's International Raceway program.

Iwaniuk drives a 405 horse power 1962 Pontiac while Neimeyer races a 1962 Chevrolet that does a quarter mile in 12.72 seconds.

Top and stock eliminator classes will offer some $1,500 in cash and prizes. Time trials will begin at 9 a.m. Sunday and eliminations at 1 o'clock.

"The Fact That We Wholesale Car Parts Is a Break for You.
Remember the last time your car needed service and you had to wait for days while the dealer ordered the parts and got delivery on them? You were without a car for quite awhile, weren't you?
Well, that won't happen to you when you bring your car in here for service because we carry the largest stock of parts of any dealer in Oakland County. We have to because we wholesale parts to other dealers in the area. That's just one advantage we offer you. The fact that our Service Department is open until 9 p.m. daily is another. And our determination to give you better service work, materials and prices is the last but not the least. Try us and see how well we practice what we preach."

Redlegs, Cards Crowding Phillies in NL Pennant Race

World Series Ducats on Sale

NEW YORK (UPI) — The New York Yankees, with their 14th pennant in the last 16 years practically won, today announced they are now accepting mail orders for World Series tickets.

The Yankees said a limited number of box and reserved seats will go on sale immediately, by mail only. There will be no "over-the-counter" sales of box and reserved seats.

Mail orders will be limited to no more than two sets of World Series tickets per customer. Each set consists of one ticket for each of the three games scheduled at Yankee Stadium.

START AWAY

The Series will open in the park of the National League champion on Wednesday, Oct. 7, and the second game will be played there Thursday, Oct. 8.

The third, fourth and fifth games if necessary will be played at Yankee Stadium, if the Yankees win the pennant, with no day off for travel if an eastern team wins the NL flag.

That would mean the New York portion of the Series would be played on Oct. 9, 10, 11, a weekend. If required the sixth and seventh games would return to the NL park.

Box seats for the three games at Yankee Stadium will sell for $36 a set and grandstand for $24. An additional $1 is required for mailing and handling each total order.

Ticket orders must be accompanied by a certified check, banker's cashier check, U.S. money order or express money order only. No orders postmarked prior to Friday night will be accepted, the Yankees said.

Standing room tickets at $4 each may be purchased in any quantity for single games at Yankee Stadium either by mail or at the stadium. Bleacher seats at $2 each will be sold only on the day of each game at the stadium.

Applications should be addressed to:

Seattle Golf Open

Four Players Share Lead

SEATTLE (AP)—Young Fred Marti of Houston has no desire to play spectacular golf—as long as he can play the way he did Thursday to score a four-under-par 66 and earn one-fourth of the leadership in the $40,000 Greater Seattle Open tourney at the half-way point.

Coupled with a first-round 67, Marti's self-described monotonous tour of the Broadmoor course's 6,728 yards, put him in a tie after 36 holes with Bob Bruno of Oakland, Calif.; Bob Batdorff of Reading, Pa.; and the consistent Al Geiberger, former University of Southern California fairways star.

Seven-under-par at 133, this quartet led the play into today's third round after the most massive assault on par of the 1964 professional golf tour. None but the pros who shot par 140 or better were left in competition when the field was cut Thursday night to the top 70 and ties.

A major casualty was Ken Venturi, U.S. Open Champion, who could do no better than 72-75 in his two rounds. Chi Chi Rodriguez, with two double bogies in the last three holes, survived the cut with a 140.

Bobby Nichols, who began to share in golf's big money after winning the Seattle Open last year, was one stroke back of the leaders—he and Tommy Aaron, Dow Finsterwald, Lionel Hebert and Jerry Steelsmith. Eleven more hungry pros were at their heels with 135s, including topnotchers Billy Casper, Bob Charles and Doug Sanders.

After today's third round, the field will again be cut to 60 and the survivors will take a day's recess, playing the final round Sunday. Football will take local spotlight from golf Saturday when Washington meets Baylor in a stadium just shouting distance from the Broadmoor course.

Crowd Attends Funeral of Racer Jim Pardue

NORTH WILKESBORO, N.C. (AP) — More than 250 persons crowded into the Rural Fishing Creek Baptist Church Thursday for funeral service and burial of race driver Jim Pardue.

Another 500 persons stood outside during the service for the 33-year-old driver, who was killed during tire tests at Charlotte Motor Speedway Tuesday. Eight of Pardue's fellow racers served as pallbearers.

Six PNH Harriers Hit Tape Together

Pontiac Northern revealed the depth of its cross country squad yesteraday by taking the first six positions in a triangular meet with Rochester and Troy.

The first six runners joined hands in finishing in a tie for first at 11:03, giving PNH a winning point total of 15. Rochester was second (59) and Troy last (65).

Running for the Huskies were Tim Kaul, Bruce Gibson, Nick Ochoa, Bob Burch, Dave Kay and Dave Pruett.

St. Louis Nine Moves Closer

Philadelphia Bumped by Milwaukee, 5-3

By United Press International

The Philadelphia Phillies may not be lost because they hesitated but they sure have created a free-for-all.

First it was the Cincinnati Reds who barged back into the National League pennant race and now it's the St. Louis Cardinals who have moved back into a position which must be reckoned with.

Things were getting pretty sticky for the Phillies 24 hours ago but today they know the meaning of the old refrain that "three's a crowd."

That's because it's getting mighty crowded up around first place in the NL with both the Reds and the Cardinals pressing in behind the Phillies and creating all sorts of mathematical combinations that could "rob" the Phillies of their first flag since 1950.

The Phillies had an opportunity to restore their lead to four games when they played the Milwaukee Braves Thursday night while the Reds were idle. But the Phillies blew a 5-3 decision to the Milwaukee Braves.

REDS CLOSE GAP

That enabled the Reds to move up within three games of the Phillies while they sat around their hotel rooms and also provided the Cardinals with the chance to cut their first-place deficit to only 3½ games by sweeping a doubleheader from the Pittsburgh Pirates 4-2 and 4-0.

And now all at once the two fast-flying pursuers are counting their blessings — the chance to get at the front-runners face to face before the season is over.

The Reds have two games left to play with the Phillies and the Cardinals have three. If nothing else, this means the Phillies can't back in.

The Phillies dropped their fourth straight game and sixth in their last seven outings in a fashion that has become typical in recent days — they hit too little and too late.

Two triples by Joe Torre—the first in the second inning and the second in the eighth—drove in three of the runs that created a 5-0 Milwaukee lead and negated a desperation three-run Philadelphia rally in the last of the eighth. The losing pitcher was Jim Bunning, the veteran who so often had been the Phillies' "stopper" this season. Wade Blasingame went 7 1-3 innings to pick up his seventh win of the season.

SETS CLUB RECORD

Bob Gibson scattered nine hits and struck out 11 to raise his season total to a club record of 232 for the Cardinals in the first game and Ray Sadecki came back in the nightcap with a five-hitter and 10 strikeouts to raise his record to 19-10.

Skipper's Boo-Boo Gives Cubs Scare

It happened in the Chicago Cubs-Los Angeles Dodgers game in Wrigley Field Thursday. The Cubs won 4-3 with two runs in the ninth. If they had lost, faces would have been redder.

About 30 minutes before game time, head coach Bob Kennedy of the Cubs had a phone call from his wife in Mesa, Ariz. She informed him of the condition of one of his five children, who is ill.

"After I hung up I started filling in the line-up card. I've had Ernie Banks at first base all season — so I just put down his name instead of John Boccabella, who I intended to play,"

AT FIRST BASE

Rookie Boccabella was on first when the game started and Manager Walter Alston of the Dodgers noticed Banks was not there although he was listed in the line-up.

Baseball rule 3:08 states that "if no announcement of a substitution is made, the substitute shall be considered as having entered the game when — if, a fielder, he reaches the position usually occupied by the fielder he has replaced."

Alston was not sure he had a valid protest. Meanwhile, Boccabella came to bat twice, hitting into a force play and grounding out.

In the sixth with the Dodgers ahead 3-1 and Ron Santo on third base with a triple, Boccabella tripled. Alston immediately appealed.

Another rule says: "A batter shall be called out, on appeal, when he fails to bat in his proper turn, and another batter completes a time at bat in his place."

MAKES RULING

Plate umpire John Kibler ruled that Boccabella's triple didn't count, the run didn't score, and that Boccabella was out as an improper batter.

The Dodgers disclosed that earlier in the game they had told shortstop Dick Tracewski to inform umpire Frank Secory that Boccabella was batting out of turn. This was to pre-determine what would happen if they should appeal and protest that he was an improper batter.

"Tracewski came back and told us they said he would be called out as an improper batter," said Alston.

The Dodgers waited, then appealed after the rookie tripled.

"It was just a matter of a batter batting out of turn," said Secory.

Baseball writers are asking this: Why did the umpires advise Tracewski and, in effect, Alston and his coach Leo Durocher, how they would rule on an appeal before the appeal actually was made?

Neither the umpires nor the official scorer are supposed to advise a manager when a batter is batting out of turn. The appeal must come from the opposing manager.

Alston indicated that had he not been forewarned he would not have appealed because the Dodgers were winning at the time and a subsequent protest from Kennedy — if upheld by the league office — could result in a replay.

As a result of what appears to be an umpiring error, Banks has a time at bat written into the books although he never played, and Boccabella loses credit for a triple and a run batted in.

Field Day Set at Rochester

The Rochester Kiwanis Club will have field day events at Halbach Field tomorrow for all age younsters.

Operating on a theme "the bigger the turnout the better," general chairman William Early has scheduled activities from 9 a.m. until noon.

The top boy and top girl for the morning will each receive award cups. Ribbons will be presented the leading finishers in each event.

Idaho Lass in Golf Lead

VISALIA, Calif. (AP)—Shirley Englehorn has taken dead aim on first prize in the $11,000 Ladies Professional Golf Association open here.

The Caldwell, Idaho golfer fired a blistering 68 Thursday over the par 71 course in posting the lowest score recorded in the Visalia open's three-year history.

Her rounds of 33-35 gave her a two-stroke lead over runner-ups Ruth Jessen of Seattle, Wash., and Sandra Haynie of Phoenix, Ariz.

Have you ever regretted not being able to bowl at home?

Of course, the cost of constructing a regulation lane and having a machine to set pins immediately vanishes such a thought for most people.

But there is a sport quite similar to the game of tenpins that can bring much the same satisfaction and provide a family home recreation.

The sport is lawn bowling and it has an ardent advocate in Pontiac chiropractor Harry Godsell.

Dr. Godsell was born in England where the sport is very popular, but never played it until seven years ago during an annual visit to the Canadian Keswick Bible Conference north of Toronto.

The bowls are ball-like objects made at a bias so they'll pursue a curved path on the green toward a solid white marble (the kitty) about the size of a tennis ball.

The bowls are easily managed by almost anyone.

The object is to put as many of one's bowls as close to the kitty as possible while blocking out the opponent's bowls.

SIMILARITY

A game consists of several trips (15-21) down the green. It bears the characteristics, also, of shuffle board.

A green does not require an extensive amount of area, but does need attention to remain playable.

The Godsells are very enthusiastic about the sport and are glad to discuss their bowling green with those who are interested in lawn bowling.

Perhaps the infectuousness of the sport is best described by the English story about Sir Francis Drake who was bowling when advised of the approach of the Spanish Armada.

Tennis Greats Can't Agree

Davis Cup Matches Under Way Today

CLEVELAND (AP) — Two old Davis Cup cronies who have been making the big tennis series as players and observers for 20 years, Jack Kramer and Ted Schroeder, were at odds today over the possible outcome of the 53rd Challenge Round.

Kramer likes the Americans and Schroeder strings along with the Australians in the matches opening at 11:30 a.m., EST, on the green clay composition court of the Harold T. Clark Stadium.

"I think the draw and the clay surface favors our boys," said Kramer, a member of the Cup teams of 1939, 1946 and 1947, later king of the pros and successful promoter. "I wouldn't be surprised to see Chuck and Dennis win the first three."

Bobo Olson to Meet Middleweight Torres

Devine, recently fired as general manager of the Cardinals, is expected to take over from Weiss when the aitter retires.

Joe Louis Tells All

Two Fights With Schmeling

By JOE LOUIS

I'll always remember my two fights with Max Schmeling. They were the low and high points of my career. And I'll never forget how Franklin Delano Roosevelt inspired me to beat Max in the second fight.

Schmeling was a real good fighter. He was a good counter puncher and one of the smartest fighters I ever boxed, especially the time he beat me in 1936. He knew all the answers. He outsmarted me all night long.

Max had been the champion from 1930 to 1932 and he was making a comeback. Everybody figured I was a cinch and they made me about a 10-1 favorite.

I was only 22 and I had won 27 straight. Schmeling was 30.

I guess we all figured Schmeling wasn't much. We switched camps from Pompton Lakes to Lakewood, N.J. and we ran the camp kind of loose. We kept late hours. I took up golf.

Schmeling had seen me fight Paolino Uxcudun the December before. I knocked out Paolino with a hard right to the face. Sports writers said it was the hardest punch I ever threw.

'ZUMTHINGS'

But Schmeling told people he saw "zumthings"—something I was doing wrong. He didn't say so but he meant that I was dropping my left, leaving my chin open.

He proved it on June 22, 1936, in front of 42,000 people at Yankee Stadium.

It happened in the fifth round. I started a left hook and he beat me to it with a right that exploded against my head. I felt dizzy. Then he threw some more rights and I was down. They say I got up at two. That shows I must have been dazed. In a sort of fog I heard Chappie (trainer Jack Blackburn) saying to get my guard up. I couldn't do anything. I was feeling kind of numb.

LATE BLOW

I came around and I might have made it if I wasn't hit after the bell. I dropped my hands and he hit me on the jaw. When I got to my corner my head was ringing. I could hear Chappie but I didn't know what he said.

Schmeling gave me a licking. My face swelled up. I couldn't stop those rights and he finally finished me off in the 12th with more of them.

SUMMONED

Before the second fight I was in Washington at an Elks convention in 1938. I got an honorary membership gold card from the Elks. President Roosevelt heard about me being in the parade. He was a very busy man then with the Nazi making trouble all over the world. But he sent a man to tell me he wanted to see me at the White House. They took me over in a car and brought me to the President's office.

The President asked me to lean over close. He felt my muscles and he said, "Joe, we need muscles like yours to beat Germany."

That's the only thing he said. I think nobody back in 1938 knew anything about a war with Germany but I guess the President did.

He got out one of his pictures and wrote on it: "To Joe Louis from the President."

I felt real proud. I knew then I had to beat Schmeling.

Hitler was yelling his hate in Europe. He was bragging about how the Aryans were the best and the Germans were the super race. You could feel real trouble coming.

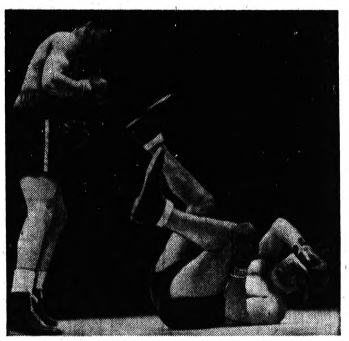
You could tell it during training. The guys in Schmeling's camp were talking the Hitler line. Not so much Schmeling but his trainer, Max Machon, and the other guys.

Chappie kept me busy in camp. He worked on me to block those rights. He had sparring partners throwing rights until I learned how to handle them.

The second fight at Yankee Stadium was June 22, 1938, my lucky day because I won the title from Braddock on June 22. The Stadium was jammed with about 70,000 people who paid over a million dollars.

I took a good warmup in my dressing room. When I climbed into the ring, I was sweating. I was ready.

Knocked Out By Schmeling In The 12th



Schmeling Goes Down In Return Match

Schmeling had his jaw tucked close to his shoulder and his right cocked. I moved in quick. I shot over a couple of jabs to the head. I shot over another and a left to the body. He sort of dropped his guard and I sent over more lefts. Then I let him have a right. I put all I had into it. It landed on his jaw and it sent him reeling to the ropes. His knees started to buckle. I caught him coming off the ropes and I ripped one into his belly. He squealed like a stuck pig.

He grabbed the ropes and I pounded him. Referee Art Donovan came between us. He wanted to give Schmeling a chance to get off the ropes.

He went down. He was up at three and I went back to work. He went down again. He got up at two.

I measured him with a left hook and a right to the jaw and he went down again. Someone in Schmeling's corner tossed in a towel but the referee threw it out and countinued to count. When he reached eight and he could see Schmeling was done, he waved his hands.

It was all over at 2:04 of the first round. Some writer said I hit Schmeling 41 times. I don't know how many. All I know is that I hit him as hard as I ever hit anyone and I didn't want to stop.

Negroes Request Martial Law

McCOMB, Miss. (UPI) — Negro leaders called upon President Johnson and Gov. Paul Johnson yesterday to declare martial law in this community where Negro residences and churches have been rocked by bombings.

The president told three Negro women in a White House meeting yesterday that he was deeply concerned and had asked the Justice Department for a prompt report on the situation.

The report, expected to be made "rather quickly," was to include the number of FBI agents in the McComb area and any suggestions on how to deal with the bombings.

Two Negro homes were bombed Wednesday night, the fourth such incident in as many days. No one was hurt, but Aaron Henry, state president of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People (NAACP), and NAACP Field Secretary Charles Evers dispatched telegrams to the President and Gov. Johnson.

"Violence and terror are the daily companions of Negroes of Pike (McComb) County and throughout Mississippi," the telegrams said. "We request immediate martial law for Pike County and the state of Mississippi."

BROAD PROMISE

Mrs. Alynne Quinn, Mrs. Ora Bryant and Mrs. Willie Mae Dillon, all recent bomb victims, met for about 20 minutes with the President and said he made "a broad, general promise of help."

Mrs. Bryant said she suggested the the FBI office in McComb be moved closer to the Negro section of the city "where we can get to the agents without white people knowing about it."

She said teen-age Negroes in McComb were "getting restless" but "we are trying to keep them in control."

The Wednesday night bombings came at the homes of Negro expoliceman Ardis Garder and Matthew Jackson, and there was no damage.

Typhoon Leaves Death, Destruction Across Japan

Incomplete reports listed 30 persons dead, 8 missing and 238 injured, along with 40,569 houses damaged or flooded, 64 ships sunk and 192 others damaged or cast adrift.

MOSCOW (AP) — Moscow's deputy prosecutor blames parents and teachers for a rise in pregnancies among unmarried Soviet schoolgirls.

"Unfortunately, such cases happen all too frequently," said V. Baskov, writing in the government newspaper Izvestia.

He suggested more and better sex education and stiffer, nationwide penalties for sex crimes involving minors.

LONDON (AP) — The Bahamas government says it will halt a new air service from Havana to Nassau despite Britain's refusal to tear up the 1948 agreement that authorized Cuba to fly the route.

The conflicting views were set forth in a joint statement Thursday night after two days of talks between British officials and Bahamian ministers who flew here after Cubana Airlines began the once-a-week service last Monday.

The Bahamas government warned then that any passengers arriving from Cuba would not be allowed to debark and would be deported. The Cubans said they would only carry diplomats, Britons and Canadians.

DAMASCUS, Syria (AP) — Four Arab nations have ordered work begun on a $200 million program to divert the Jordan River's tributaries despite threats by neighboring Israel to fight.

A board representing the United Arab Republic, Jordan, Syria and Lebanon ordered contractors to launch the project, which is designed to counter Israel's tapping of the river waters. The announcement did not specify the extent of the work to be started.

The recent Arab summit meeting in Alexandria called for construction of the Moukhaiba Dam in Jordan and other phases of the diversion plan in Jordan, Syria and Lebanon.

PORT MORESBY, New Guinea (AP) — Police reported today 50 tribesmen armed with spears, clubs and stone axes attacked a 17-man police patrol Thursday near the village of Lokono, on new Ireland Island wounding two Australian officers and 10 Papuan constables.

Police said the attack was made by members of the cult which wanted to hire U.S. President Lyndon B. Johnson to rule them. Remembering the generosity of American troops during World War II, they believed Johnson would bring them great prosperity.

For a time the 2,000 cultists refused to pay their head tax of $4.48 a year and planned to offer the money to Johnson. New Hanover Island, the home of the cult, adjoins New Ireland.

Franklin Pierce wasn't highly regarded as a nominee for President until the 35th ballot at his party's convention in 1852. He was nominated on the 49th ballot.

De Gaulle Confers With Ecuador Junta

The 73-year-old French leader was closeted for about an hour with the four-man junta headed by Rear Adm. Ramon Castro Jijon before his midday departure.

Military and civilian authorities waited to greet him in the Ecuadorean coastal metropolis of Guayaquil, where he was to stop off for 45 minutes without leaving the airport on his way from Quito to Lima, the Peruvian capital.

Newsmen accompanying de Gaulle said he recieved a warmer welcome in Ecuador than in either of the countries he had visited previously — Venezuela and Colombia — although his reception in those nations was enthusiastic.

Everywhere his crowded schedule took him yesterday, Ecuadoreans turned out by the thousands to cheer him and shout "vive la France!" Some broke through police lines to embrace him.

TRAGIC ACCIDENT

One tragic accident marred the holiday atmosphere. A 60-year-old woman was killed and another woman and child were injured when a cavalry horse, frightened by the storm of cheers that greeted de Gaulle when he rode through the city, reared and plunged into the crowd.

Security officials had a bad moment when somebody in the crowd waved a sign bearing the letters "OAS"—the initials of the French "Secret Army Organization" which fought de Gaulle's policies in Algeria.

They relaxed when they learned that the sign was a token of greeting from the Organization of American Students at an English-language school.

Authorities elsewhere in South America continued a roundup of persons considered potentially dangerous to de Gaulle. Police in the Chilean border town of Portillo arrested Pierre Giraud, a 28-year-old Frenchman, on grounds that his activities appeared "highly suspicious."

The Peruvian Navy denied reports that several Frenchmen had been arrested in that country and sent to sea in a warship to keep them out of the way while de Gaulle is there.

'Japanese Chief Not Suffering From Cancer'

TOKYO (AP) — Doctors reported today that Japanese Premier Hayato Ikeda does not have throat cancer. But they said he requires three to four weeks of special radiation treatment to reduce a benign tumor in his throat.

Dr. Masaru Kuru, director of the center, said the tumor was about the size of the last joint of the little finger and was near the vocal cords.

Ikeda, 64, entered the cancer hospital Sept. 9. An announcement at the time said he was suffering from chronic laryngitis. Doctors startled the nation Thursday with the announcement that they had removed a piece of flesh from his throat for a biopsy.

Missile Test Not Complete Success

CHINA LAKE, Calif. (UPI) — The first public test of a portable Redeye guided missile was not a complete success, but military men still had faith in it today. Redeye is a lethal weapon with which a single footsoldier could shoot down a troop-strafing enemy plane.

Army and Marine Corps officers who took part in development of the 28-pound antiaircraft weapon appeared embarrassed yesterday when it failed to shoot down a pilotless, radio-controlled F9F jet fighter.

Reason for the apparent embarrassment was part of the audience—some 30 representatives of NATO and Allied countries as well as representatives of the Senate Appropriations Committee which will decide whether money is to be provided for full production of Redeye.

This was the first test of the missile against a full-sized plane since it had been equipped with an improved heat-seeking device. This device enables it to zero in on a target—specifically the part of the target which gives off heat such as the exhaust of a plane.

Redeye was successful in two shots yesterday at this Naval ordnance test station on the Mojave Desert. It knocked down in flames a radio-controlled OH13E helicopter and a tiny propeller drone plane called a KD2R5, which is really just a king-sized model airplane with a wingspread of only 14 feet.

PROJECT RESEARCH

The public test was billed as part of the project's research and development program and not as a "sales presentation" for assembled armed forces brass and civilian VIPs.

This was why no warhead was used in the weapon. The tiny nose cone of the slim 4-foot-long missile carried a telemetry package which provided functional information—now under study.

The test began in rather spectacular and completely successful fashion with the shooting down of the helicopter.

The Redeye operator, Ken Koether of the project contracting firm, General Dynamics, stood upright on the ground with missile and launcher resting on his shoulder like the old bazooka of World War II.

ON TARGET

When the drone chopper was about 4,700 feet from him at an altitude of 200 feet above the desert floor and traveling at 86 miles an hour he received a "go" light on his scope and a high-pitched whine arose from the weapon indicating he was on target.

He pressed the trigger and the slim, fiery projectile raced over the desert like a shooting star, made a direct hit, and the copter fell in flames. Time from firing to intercept was 5.2 seconds.

After that, the test bogged down frustratingly as the drone jet seemed—with almost human stubbornness—to be intent on staying out of the weapon's range.

CALLED SUCCESS

Army Col. A. W. Reed, Redeye manager, said preliminary data indicated the missile came within a distance of "somewhat less than 10 feet over the target." He said the shot was a "success from an engineering standpoint."

The KD2R5 was the next and final target. On its first pass over the range there was a malfunction of the weapon that was not explained. On the next pass, however, Redeye popped the drone dead center and it burst into flame.

Picked the Best Place to Break His Ankle

OXNARD, Calif. (UPI) — Carpenter David Orr, 40, broke his ankle yesterday when he dropped 12 feet to the ground after a scaffolding collapsed.

Ambulance attendants placed Orr on a stretcher and passed him through a window into the emergency ward of St. John's Hospital. The job Orr had been working on was the hospital's new west wing, 85 feet away from the emergency ward.

She Bares Ins and Outs of Dress Zipping Ordeal

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — The Broadway stage, after all its wasted years, is finally doing something useful for civilization.

Actress Betty Garrett — in "A Girl Could Get Lucky"—demonstrated how a single girl, living alone and hating it, can zip on and unzip her dresses without calling in a friendly neighborhood bachelor.

WILSON

"I invented it when I was single in Greenwich Village," Betty triumphantly told me after her trick brought laughter, then applause, from a startled audience.

Betty had squatted down on stage, back to the wall, then as if by magic zipped off one dress and zipped on another merely by shaking and wriggling her back.

"You get two hooks such as you hang cups on in the kitchen," Betty said. "Drive them into a wall, hip high. Turn one downward, one upward. Then attach curtain rings to the end of your zippers. Squat down, maneuver till you get the hook into the ring. Then you stand up . . . if it's the downward hook, it unzips . . . if the upward hook, it zips on."

I told Betty this may be the greatest story I ever worked on . . . and what had she done about that other great problem . . . the curse on husbands . . . having to hook that little hook into the tiny loop of thread, or metal, at the top of his wife's dress, after the zippering?

"Ah," sighed Betty, who is Mrs. Larry Parks in private life, "for that there is no substitute—for that you must have a husband."

Needs Plan for Studying

Loafed in High School, Scared of College

By LESLIE J. NASON, Ed. D.

Dear Dr. Nason: I am a college freshman and I'm scared. When I was in high school I was a show-off. I didn't spend much time studying, as I was too busy goofing off.

DR. NASON

While my instructor was busy making a living trying to help the students with their futures, I would sit and doodle. Now that I'm out of high school I realize I have to settle down and really study. Please help me. College really scares me. If I could just get my mind offf other things and think of what the instructor is saying, I would be all right.

Do you have any suggestions? S.M., Sacramento, Calif.

The best way to banish fears is by keeping your mind filled with plans. Play your studying, your views and your test-taking.

The easiest way to keep your mind on what the instructor is saying is to read ahead in the text and get a general idea of what is to be covered. Then put the ideas and illustrations the instructor presents into their proper place in what you have already learned.

Dear Dr. Nason: As a mother of two sons under age five, I should like to know how to begin discipling them now as to studying and applying themselves and making them want to learn.

Do you think some children by nature do not want to learn? K.V., Silver Spring, Md.

The desire to learn and find out about things seems to be present in all boys of the age of your sons. You cannot "make them want to learn," but you can help them retain the desire to learn.

While you must be careful to answer their questions, don't volunteer too much information on any subject. Whenever possible, let them find out things for themselves.

The discipline of which you speak should apply to their general behavior. A well-disciplined child learns and succeeds in school. For example, insist that they listen when you have something special to tell them.

Dear Dr. Nason: Three years ago I came to the United States from Germany, where I had finished the required nine years of public schooling. In the last year, I finished two years of high school work from the Academy of Home Study. My grades are good.

Lately I have been thinking about going to college but have not decided on a course. It is a little difficult, since in Germany it was always understood that I would take any job I could get.

Where could I take an interest-inventory to help me in my decision? B.G., Long Island, N.Y.

Congratulations on completing two years of work in one! You evidently appreciate the land of opportunity more than many who are born here.

Your local State Employment Office can probably give you the interest - inventory. If not, the nearest counseling service can be located through the Directory of Vocational Counseling Services, a copy of which you should be able to find in your local library.

By OSWALD JACOBY

Gordon Keel writes from Vancouver, B.C.: 'South wasted no time blowing the hand. He led the ace of hearts at trick two and ruffed a heart at trick three. From then on he played brilliantly but with conspicuous lack of success. If he had just led the queen of clubs at trick two, his Aunt Tilly could have made the hand."

JACOBY

Unless Souths Aunt Tilly is quite a player she still would have trouble but could make it. There are two variations.

West takes his king of clubs and leads back a club. Aunt Tilly wins in dummy, ruffs a spade, cashes ace of diamonds, leads a low diamond to dummy's jack, ruffs another spade with the king of trumps, gets into dummy by ruffing a heart or a club, draws the last trump and dummy is good. It is a little tougher if West doesn't take his king of clubs, but there will be a lot of winning variations.

Here is a rather elegant one: South leads a trump to dummy's jack and ruffs a spade with the ace of trumps. Then he leads his last low trump to dummy's queen and ruffs another spade with the king of trumps. This sets up West's ten of trumps for what will turn out to be the only defensive trick.

What do you do?

A—Bid six spades. Your partner appears to be afraid of two club losers. You aren't.

TODAY'S QUESTION

Instead of bidding five diamonds, your partner goes to five spades. What do you do now?

Answer Tomorrow

Astrological Forecast

By SYDNEY OMARR

For Tomorrow

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19): Check COMMUNICATIONS. People who work for and with you are apt to be confused. This likely is due to misunderstandings. Be aware of security, harmony, public relations. Tonight, relax!

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20): Going may be fast or moves costly. Check income — and expenditures. Obtain valuable hint from today's ARIES message. There is alternative method which could prove most successful.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 20): Cycle continues high. But there are "complications" to be made at home base. Family member makes valid suggestion. Check details. Do all you can to assist loved ones you adore.

CANCER (June 21 to July 22): Work assignment or committee." Don't be. Some involved in "backstage gossip." Maintain dignity. SELF-RESPECT. Day for sweeping changes. Express yourself. Bring forth creative forces.

LEO (July 23 to Aug. 22): Manner of expressing desires is of utmost importance. Key is diplomacy combined with candor. Give a little in order to receive much. Get what you go after — without being pushy.

VIRGO (Aug. 23 to Sept. 22): You may be tempted to "spend" at turn. This is not wise, especially today. The "listener" may well be most important to your financial welfare. Exercise discretion!

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 23): Overcome tendency to be impatient. You don't have to accept first offer. Time is on your side. Study long-range indications. Special feature in your paper could aid cause.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21): Take inventory of assets. Utilize materials at hand. Don't reach too far afield. Obtain valuable hint from today's LIBRA message. Much in your favor. But some "ifs" involved.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21): One you respect may act in eccentric manner. Condition is temporary. Cycle has been higher in past. Best is yet to come. Find a place to express yourself. Prepare program for future presentation.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 19): Avoid mixing business with pleasure. Day is slow for dealing with your mate. Something to family members. Remember admonition regarding offer. Needed now is MODERATION.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20 to Feb. 18): Express love, inner feelings. Do so in artful, refined manner. Don't attempt grandiose gesture. Those who mean most to you deserve your attention. Time to be entertained.

PISCES (Feb. 19 to Mar. 20): One you respect is apt to be difficult. Be diplomatic in talks and cherish most candid problem. Be willing to compromise for greater future gains. Time for romantics. Quiet evening together can enhance understandings.

IF TOMORROW IS YOUR BIRTHDAY you have every potential for material success. Within a short time your well-trained earnings for great recognition.

Despite GM Strike

Market Remains on Even Keel

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market remained on an even keel today despite the strike against General Motors. Trading was moderately active early this afternoon.

GM was at its weakest just before the strike was put into effect. At that time it was down 1⅜ at 99. After the news was out it steadied and halved the loss

Du Pont, still holder of some 23 million GM shares which it must distribute, remained down about 2 points, trimming its loss a little after the walkouts began at GM plants through the nation.

Other motor stocks were generally higher. Steels remained narrowly mixed, continuing their pattern since the recent rally in steels topped out. Rubbers gained moderately.

Prices were generally higher in quiet trading on the American Stock Exchange. Rollins Broadcasting jumped more than 4 in a delayed opening. Fotochrome was about unchanged. Gains of about 2 were made by Fanny Farmer and Bunker Hill. Up a point or so were Old Town, Textron warrants and Lease Plan International.

Corporate bonds rose slightly. U.S. Government bonds were mostly unchanged.

Soybeans, Corn Up Due to Rain Delay

CHICAGO (AP)—Reports that recent rains have delayed harveting operations brought increased buying of soybean and corn futures on the Board of Trade today.

Rye also was in fair demand early in the session, but wheat trended lower. Oats were mostly steady.

About an hour after the opening soybeans were 1⅛ to 1¾ cents a bushel higher, November $2.73¼; wheat was ¼ to ⅝ lower, December $1.47⅞; corn ⅜ to ¾ higher, December $1.21⅞; oats unchanged to ⅛ lower, December 67⅛ cents and rye was ¼ to ⅞ cents higher, December $1.31.

Beverage Unit to Hear Romney and Staebler

GRAND RAPIDS (AP)—Gov. George Romney and his Democratic opponent, U. S. Rep. Neil Staebler, will be featured speakers at the 25th annual convention of the Michigan Licensed Beverage Association which starts here Sunday.

The three-day convention of "Tabletoppers" is expected to attract more than 600 persons to Grand Rapids, where the state organization was founded.

Romney and Staebler tentatively are scheduled to appear Monday. Also scheduled Monday is a speech by Donald S. Leonard, chairman of the State Liquor Control Commission.

News in Brief

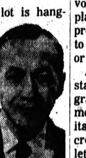
Fall Marked by Coming of New Models

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK—Once Americans knew the coming of autumn by the swirl of equinoxial storms. Now the season's change is tied to the arrival of the car models at the dealer's.

And this year a lot is hanging on their debuts — some 343 model variations all told.



DAWSON

The auto industry hopefully is forecasting its first eight-million car year. It will need to sell that many if it's to meet the greatly increased labor costs and higher material prices, and still hang onto the profits which this year climbed to a record high.

A lot of other industries are tying their plans to a big year for autos, too. Steel sees much of it sbooming business due to increased car sales this year and to heavy ordering of metal for production of the 1965 models. This has weighed heavily in steel's planning for further expansion.

AFFECTS ON PUBLIC

The whole economy will be affected by how the AMerican public reacts to the new models. If they buy them — eight million of them — it would be hard for the general economy to falter in coming months.

Predictions that the 43-month-old business upswing will continue to escape the shakiness of old age for many months more have been based to a large degree on the expectation that the auto industry will go on booming. This would carry with it the steel and other metal industries, the makers of auto parts, the glass, rubber and textile companies that supply the auto plants.

The auto companies aren't about to rock the boat. As predicted, they're holding prices close to last year's so that customers won't be frightened away.

Dealers' optimism is bolsered by the rising volume of sales of the hold-over models. The 1964 inventory is moving out of their sales lots at a rate 15 per cent above that of the same period last September.

MORE THAN MONTH

It usually takes more than a month after the new models appear for the inventories of the old ones to be cleared. Some dealers think they'll be ahead of schedule this year. After bargain seekers have taken the 1964 models, dealers look for good sales of the new ones, which this year have more changes than was the case a year ago.

Prices haven't changed much in recent years. Part of this was due to cost cutting through mechanical production changes and new effiency techniques. But part was due to the rising volume of sales which kept plants operatin g at the most profitable level and also tended to offset any increase in labor or material costs.

And part of the over-all price stability was due to buyers upgrading their purchases. The more expensive, and more profitable, models have sold in increasing volume. All this has let the auto companies hold price lines and still push their profit statements to new highs.

Ford Keeps Basic Price on '65 Cars

DETROIT (AP) — Ford Motor Co. yesterday became the second member of the automotive Big Three to hold the basic price line on its 1965 cars. Chrysler Corp. made a similar disclosure at mid-afternoon.

General Motors, biggest of the auto makers, said Wednesday it would hold the price line Ford had said earlier that its highest priced car, the Lincoln Continental, also would hold the line.

Ford set a suggested factory list price of $2,957 and $3,037 on two of its additions to its Galaxie line—the 500 LTD two-and four-door hardtops.

A new station wagon introduced in the 1965 line is priced $67 under last year's lowest priced station wagon in Ford Division's line.

MINOR CHANGES

In general, while basic car prices remain the same, for the sixth consecutive year, there were some minor adjustments in prices of accessories and optional equipment.

The suggested prices exclude federal, state and local taxes and transportaion and dealer handling charges. These generally run to several hundred dollars.

Successful Investing

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q) "I have recently become interested in stocks and some things are very puzzling to me. Why does it happen that a stock goes down in price after a favorable announcement?" A. M.

A) The answer to your very sensible question is that in many instances, favorable news on a stock has been anticipated by shrewd traders well in advance of the public announcement.

As these people make their purchases, the shares gradually move up. When the announcement is made and the public starts buying, the traders take profits and the stock declines.

The same thing often happens in reverse. Many times an unfavorable development in a stock is discountde by smart investors long before the public knows what's going on. These people are all sold out by the time the bad news is released. When the announcement comes, the public can't get out of the stock fast enough and the shares become oversold.

Q) "I will be 65 in December and plan to retire. We have sold our big home and bought a small cottage sufficient for our needs. With the proceeds of the big home, we purchased the cottage, bought 50 shares of National Dairy, 50 Standard Oil of New Jersey, and put $3,500 in a local savings bank. This was done on the advice of my son, who has since died. Do you think we invested well or do you suggest a change?" J.C.

A) I am very sorry about your son, but I am glad to tell you that he advised you very well.

National Dairy is the leader in its field, with a quite consistent record of growth and frequent dividend rises. Standard Oil of New Jersey is also the leader in its industry on a world-wide basis. Dividends have been raised 5 years in a row.

I suggest no changes.

Mr. Spear cannot answer all mail personally but will answer all questions possible in his column.

Ritholz Freed From Jackson

Served 15 Months in Bribery Attempt

JACKSON (AP)—Chicago millionaire Benjamin Ritholz was released from Southern Michigan Prison today after serving 15 months on an attempted bribery charge.

The 65-year-old Ritholz, who carried an unsuccessful seven-year fight to the U. S. Supreme Court in an effort to stay out of jail, served the minimum time of a 2 to 4 year sentence.

Warden George A. Kropp and many of the inmates had a farewell handshake for Ritholz.

Ritholz, met by a cousin, Ed Bedno of Chicago, and a friend, Maury Kahn of Chicago, chatted briefly with newsmen and told them:

"From the moment I stepped inside the prison, I never have received better treatment anywhere. They always treated me like a gentleman. My treatment was always fair and honorable and I have no complaints."

Ritholz conferred briefly with two of his attorneys, John Feikens and Stanley Beatty of Detroit, before heading back to Chicago by car. He was attired in a new suit brought to him by Chicago friends. He turned down the offer of the inexpensive new suit traditionally supplied to each prisoner leaving the prison.

Ritholz won plaudits from Corrections Department officials for his work while a prisoner. He served as clerk to the prison music director and assistant to the prison rabbi.

In the latter job, he undertook the job of building up the prison's library of Jewish books which totaled 12 when he arrived. Through letters written to rabbis around the country asking for donations of books, he had raised the total to 2,100 when he left.

BRIBE ATTEMPT

Ritolz was convicted of trying to bribe two members of the Michigan Board of Optometry in 1956. He was at the time president of a Chicago optical firm.

U.S. Prelates Press Council

Urging Declaration of Religious Freedom

VATICAN CITY (AP) — American prelates at the Ecumenical Council have emerged as a well-organized force eager to imbue the whole Roman Catholic Church with the idea of religious freedom.

After the first debate Wednesday on the declaration, the priest who serves as English-language press officer remarked: "They had the heavy artillery out today."

Leading the Americans that day were Cardinals Richard Cushing of Boston, Albert Meyer of Chicago and Joseph Ritter of St. Louis. They were followed Thursday by Bishop Ernest Primeau of Manchester, N.H., and the Most Rev. Father Joseph Buckley of Wheeling, W.Va., the American superior general of the Marist Fathers.

1962 SESSION

During the council's first session in 1962, the U.S. bishops were rarely heard. One of them suggested they might go down in history as "the church of silence."

During the second session in 1963, the Americans became more vocal. Several took the floor to speak for themselves or for large groups of the U.S. Catholic hierarchy on such subjects as church-state relations and Christian unity.

Only 45 Americans were present at the first Vatican Council, in 1869-70. Their flock numbered only 4.5 million, and their church was still a mission, unable to sustain itself. Regular status was granted by the Vatican almost 40 years later.

Today the 244 American bishops — second in numbers only to Italy's 430 — have in their care 44 million Catholics, almost as many as the total population of Catholic Italy. They work in a national environment that is Protestant by majority and tradition.

AF Pushes Testing of Minutemen

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — The Air Force plans to move swiftly ahead with its test program for the Minuteman 2 after yesterday's successful maiden flight of the trigger-quick missile.

A second launching has been scheduled next week from an underground silo.

The three-stage rocket struck a target in the South Atlantic Ocean 5,000 miles away yesterday. Officials reported all test objectives were achieved.

Goals of next week's launching will be the same as those of the first flight: Evaluate the major differences between Minuteman 2 and Minuteman 1.

These are a more powerful second stage; a lightweight, more accurate guidance system; and a hardened warhead designed to better survive a close nuclear blast from an anti-missile device.

Minuteman 2, scheduled to be operational next summer, will have a range of nearly 8,000 miles, compared with 6,000 miles for Minuteman 1.

Square Dances Set at Two Locations

PONTIAC TOWNSHIP — The Longhorns Square Dance Club will hold its first dance of the season tomorrow at a new location, the Pontiac Township Hall.

Dancing will be from 8 to 11:30 p.m.

MILFORD — Local square dancers can grab their partners and promenade to the Aces and 8s intermediate square dance tomorrow night.

The 8-11 p.m. dance will be held at the Lutheran Activity Building, 620 General Motors.

Immediate possession.

Family home near Pontiac General Hospital and walking distance to downtown. Generous size rooms and a bath and a half. Natural fireplace, full basement, 2-car garage. Real good value at $13,500 with FHA, GI or conventional terms available.

Cute as a button bungalow — canal frontage. Excellent kitchen with lots of cupboards. Plastered painted walls, oak floors, partial basement. Oil heat, beautiful, shaded lot. Screened porch at water front. Full price only $10,900; $2,300 down; a tiny payment of $66.70 which includes insurance and taxes. Better hurry on this good buy.

$1,550 down buys a lot of house for $11,950. 3 bedrooms, a bath and a half, an extra large utility room, attached garage and a huge screened summer patio. All this on a big, big lot with fruit trees, raspberries, strawberries and grapes; the garden is lovely too! This nice couple want back in town and will give quick possession if desired. No investigation required so let's look!

$1,000 DOWN, $75 per month on land contract buys a large 3-bedroom family home. One bedroom and half bath down, 2 bedrooms and full bath up. 20' recreation room in basement. Gas heat. 2-car garage. Full price $11,950 and it's been recently decorated; very neat enclosed front porch.

UNUSUAL!

You can take bets on that. We don't call it unusual because it is. Here is a package liquor, beer and party store that has a good snack bar and a customer-crowning, commercial-free, jazz carry-out. Your patrons absolutely flock in to this one. Priced at $29,500 and sizzles to take home. Don't think about making money, buy this and it helps to handle a hefty $16,000 plus stock.

DOLLARS!

Nickels and dimes make dollars, and so do we. Every store you will be making dollars. Terrific Flint location in 15-store neighborhood shopping district. Everyone has nickels and dimes to spend and you will find it hard to believe how many dollars that amounts to at the end of the day, honest injun. The owner has operated this since the day he built it and is now re-tiring wealthy, and offers to let you do the same. His $8,500 down plus the stock and terms on the stock, you start changing nickels and dimes to dollars in your pocket, et.

Firm Wins Contract

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The Defense Clothing and Textile Supply Center Thursday awarded a Michigan firm a contract for supplies for the armed services. Magline, Inc., of Pinconning, received a contract for $350,078. The firm is to make 782 frame sections.

MINIATURE MODEL OF NEW HEARING AID GIVEN

A unique free offer of special interest to those who hear but do not understand words has just been announced by Qualitone Co.

A true life, actual size, inactive replica of the smallest Qualitone ever made will be given absolutely free to anyone sending in this advertisement. Try it on in the privacy of your home, without cost or obligation of any kind. It's yours to keep free.

The size of this Qualitone is only one of its many features. It weighs less than a third of an ounce, and it's all at ear level, in one unit. No wires lead from body to head. Here is truly new hope for the hard of hearing.

These replicas are free while the limited supply lasts, so we suggest you write for yours now. Again, we repeat, there is no cost and certainly no obligation.

Thunderstorms, Heat and Smog Hit California

The mercury reached 91 at the Civic Center, 96 at Ontario and 95 at Burbank.

Lightning bolts downed power wires and started brush fires. The woman killed was Miss Dolores Adele Engel, 37, of Alhambra, Calif.

Six brush fires were reported in Orange and San Diego counties, but all were extinguished quickly.

Hubert to See Detroit

WASHINGTON (AP) — Democratic vice presidential nominee Hubert Humphrey plans to visit Detroit Sept. 30, the Democratic National Committee announced Thursday.

La Scala Soprano Quits After 10 Years

MILAN, Italy (AP) — Soprano Renata Scotto returned to Milan from Moscow, where she walked out on the La Scala Opera Company, and told newsmen she'll never sing for La Scala again.

Miss Scotto, who has been with La Scala for 10 years, said last night she had been having trouble with the management for the past two years.

It all began, she said, when someone "had the funny idea that I was too fat" to play Violetta, the lead role in "La Traviata."

State to Sell Trees

LANSIN G(AP) — The State Conservation Department is selling 5 million pine seedlings and transplants for planting for erosion control or future cash crops. The time to order is now for planting either this fall or next spring, it says. No trees will be sold for landscaping purposes.

Predicts MSU Students Will Borrow $2 Million

EAST LANSING (AP) —Michigan State University students will borrow more than $2 million to help finance their studies this year, compared with $1,755,092 last year, an MSU official predicts.

Henry C. Dykema, director of financial aids, said MSU will be helped by an increase from $483,108 last year to $800,000 this year in funds from the National Defense Education Act Loan program.

Lane's newest... sculptured lines flow like music

Bold, sculptured linear accents and the softening relief of cane panels bring an exciting new look to this contemporary collection by Lane. No hardware—just a symphony of warm, rich walnut and cane. For flexibility, the cane panels are reversible, with walnut on the opposite side. Drawers glide in and out effortlessly on steel guides. When you see this furniture, examine it, touch it, you will find a quality of craftsmanship that makes the price remarkable.

'Millage Renewal Needed for Costs and Improvements'

(EDITOR'S NOTE—This is the first in a three-part series outlining projected needs for the Pontiac School District, financed by an 8.75-mill tax levy which voters will be asked to renew for 10 years Oct. 2.)

By L. GARY THORNE

School officials isolate two general factors to account for their request that voters approve renewal of the 8.75-mill extra-voted tax levy a week from today.

These factors are painfully obvious to any home owner who has experienced the high cost of living.

● A general increase in the cost of doing business each year.

● Improvements in the educational programs to keep up to date.

What is the evidence to support these factors?

Whitmer offers a generous supply of reasons.

Each year it costs the school system more to do just what it did the previous year. The cost of books, buses, pencils, fuel, electricity and all school equipment increases.

SALARY PACE

Likewise, salaries of school employes must be increased each year to "keep pace" with living costs.

"School employes, like all employes," says Whitmer, "expect and deserve some annual improvement in their economic level."

In addition to cost of living, the schools must keep pace with general wage and salary levels in the area.

Increases in teachers' salaries will be particularly significant in the years ahead, he said. There is great competition for good teachers, not only among school districts, but also with industry.

HUGE IMPACT

Teachers' wages will have a huge impact on future costs, since 70 per cent of current annual expenses for the school district go toward salaries of instructional personnel.

Hence, the cost of doing business will increase each year during the 10-year term of the proposed millage.

This unavoidable "evil" must share tax dollars with a necessary "evil" of keeping educational programs up to date.

MORE IMPROVEMENTS

Whitmer said that the years lying ahead will require even

Warren Report May Stir Controversy in Europe

LONDON (AP)—The Warren commission's report on President John F. Kennedy's assassination is certain to produce a storm of controversy in Europe if it holds that the accused killer, Lee Harvey Oswald, acted alone.

An Associated Press survey of nine European countries today showed that leftist circles will take the lead in charging a whitewash if the commission's report, to be made public Sunday, upholds the FBI's version of the Dallas killing.

Leftist organizations have long subscribed to the theory, that the assassination was a rightist conspiracy with Oswald as its tool and that Dallas nightclub operator Jack Ruby shot Oswald to silence him.

The publication in Europe, as a newspaper serial and as a book, of "Who Killed Kennedy?" by Baltimore reporter Thomas G. Buchanan, has added to the doubt.

NOT OSWALD

So has New York lawyer Mark Lane, who toured the continent denying that Oswald was the assassin.

A "Who Killed Kennedy?" committee has been formed in Britain by Bertrand Earl Russel, 92, the philosopher and pacifist.

But British opposition to the Warren report probably will generally be confined to leftists. There is some uneasiness among others, however, mainly because Oswald was never able to tell his story.

In eight continental countries, this is the situation:

Italy—Immediately after the killing there was widespread speculation that the assassination was the work only of Oswald. Left-wing papers persist in raising the plot theory.

'COVER-UP'

France—If the Warren commission says Oswald acted alone, there will very likely be widespread feelings of an attempt to cover up a plot. The U. S. police, particularly the Dallas force, will undoubtedly be accused either of inefficiency or of a politically motivated cover-up.

State Spotlight on Humphrey Campaigning

Dem Nominee Will Make Several Stops in Michigan Today

By The Associated Press

The Republicans will follow up tomorrow with their top candidate, presidential nominee Barry Goldwater. Like Humphrey, he will make several campaign stops in Michigan.

Humphrey was to arrive at Grand Rapids at 11:15 a.m. today. Following an airport news conference, he was to deliver a speech in the city's Campau Square, then motor to Kalamazoo for an address at the Western Michigan University Fieldhouse.

The Minnesota senator is to speak tonight at Democratic rallies in Bay City and Flint.

Scheduled to greet Humphrey at Grand Rapids—and accompany him on the campaign swing — was Congressman-at-Large Neil Staebler, the Democratic nominee for governor.

STAEBLER STUMP

Staebler campaigned yesterday in Macomb County and Detroit last night. He addressed the Michigan Mental Health Association and dropped in at a rally of the Congress of Racial Equality to make a $100 contribution.

Gov. George Romney was scheduled to campaign today in Saginaw County. He is to address a meeting of the Dearborn Federation of Teachers tonight.

16,000 Walk Off Jobs

Pickets March at City Plants

Close to 16,000 General Motors Corp. day-shift workers walked out at Pontiac's three GM divisions this morning as GM and United Auto Workers union negotiators failed to reach agreement on a new national contract.

Another 8,000 workers on later shifts are expected to raise the total to 24,000 striking UAW members by nightfall.

Lunch boxes under their arms, still unopened, they walked out into the brisk 50-degree September sunshine promptly at the 10 a.m. deadline set by the UAW for reaching an agreement.

Picket lines began to form immediately.

Groups formed around the main gate at Pontiac Motor Division carrying picket signs and transistor radios.

LAST WALKOUT

The last walkout at local GM plants was three years ago on Sept. 11, 1961.

That time the main issues on a national basis were all but settled within 24 hours.

Fisher Body settled on Sept. 18. General Motors Truck & Coach Division was back in production by that time.

14,000 WORKERS

There are approximately 14,000 hourly rated workers employed at the Pontiac Motor Division according to UAW Local 653.

GMC Truck & Coach Division UAW Local 594 represents approximately 8,000 hourly employees.

Fail to Agree With UAW on Contract Terms

Plants Selling Parts to Chrysler, Ford Not Affected by Walkouts

DETROIT (AP) — A nationwide strike against General Motors Corp. flared today when the United Auto Workers and the company failed to agree on a new contract by a union imposed 10 a.m. (EST) deadline.

The union previously negotiated three - year pacts at Chrysler Corp. and Ford Motor Co. A final agreement coming only 35 minutes ahead of deadlines at each.

The union took General Motors out of 1965 model production but announced its plants which build and sell parts to Chrysler and Ford would not be struck.

UAW President Walter P. Reuther announced at 10:30 a.m. that it was with "a great sense of sadness and disappointment" that he announced failure to reach agreement with General Motors.

NEWS CONFERENCE

He was accompanied to a televised news conference by Leonard Woodcock, UAW vice president.

The UAW estimated its strike of GM would idle 260,000 of its 354, 000 production workers.

Noneconomic demands of the union, rather than money, apparently brought about the strike. GM had offered to match the economic package won at Ford and Chrysler, which UAW President Walter P. Reuther had estimated worth 54 cents over the next three years.

Unresolved issues at the start of a 24-hour marathon bargaining session included grievance procedures, union representation in the plants, production standards, disciplining of workers and working condition.

CARS ON DISPLAY

With the auto industry one of the largest users of steel, glass, rubber, aluminum, zinc and other metals, a General Motors shutdown was certain to be felt quickly through every section of the nation's economy.

In addition to thousands of GM workers idled in the selec-

Foreign Aid Bill Passed

OK District Compromise

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate has removed a major roadblock to adjournment of Congress by adopting a legislative reapportionment compromise and then passing the $3.3-billion foreign-aid bill.

First, the compromise solution to the controversy over apportionment was adopted 44 to 38 yesterday, then, in a sudden burst of action, the aid bill to which it is attached was swept through 45 to 16.

With adjournment fever spreading and leaders finding it difficult to keep enough campaigning senators on hand to maintain a quorum, it is now thought possible that Congress will be able to close shop by the end of next week.

The foreign-aid measure, carrying $216.7 million less than the $3,516,700,000 requested by President Johnson and authorized by the House June 10, was called up in the Senate Aug. 1.

But since Aug. 12, it had been entangled in a filibuster waged by a group of Democratic liberals against an amendment offered by Republican Senate Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois.

The stalemate was broken by the adoption of a mild, nonbinding "sense of Congress" proposal offered by Democratic Senate Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana as a substitute for the Dirksen proposal, which he originally cosponsored.

Stripped of any criticism of the Supreme Court ruling and having no force of law, it simply says it is the sense of Congress that the federal district courts could properly:

● Allow legislatures the length of time provided for a regular session, plus 30 days, but not more than six months in which to reapportion.

● Permit the next elections of members of legislatures to be conducted on the basis of state laws in effect last Sunday, Sept. 20.

And it suggests that if states fail to reapportion within the time granted in any court order, the courts themselves shall apportion representation.

Say Swedes Smuggling Cyprus Arms

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP) — Relations between the Greek Cypriot government and the U.N. peace force hit a new low today as five Swedish soldiers were held on charges of smuggling arms to the Turkish Cypriots.

"The situation could not be more serious," said a U.N. officer, "especially at the time when we are trying to persuade the Cyprus government through the Security Council to grant our forces complete freedom of movement."

He said the U.N. force had put the men under arrest after Greek Cypriots nabbed them with two carloads of arms at a roadblock.

Gen. George Grivas, commander of the Greek Cypriot armed forces, told newsmen the Swedes were running arms to Lefka, an inland stronghold of the Turkish Cypriots.

Grivas charged that U.N. troops were responsible for most of the arms smuggling to the Turkish Cypriots.

TO STAND TRIAL

The Swedes — two officers and three enlisted men — are expected to be sent back to Sweden for trial after completion of an investigation ordered by Lt. Gen. K. S. Thimayya, commander of the peace force.

Greek Cypriot police said the Swedes were caught with 75 rifles, 10 Bren guns, 5 bazookas, 2 mortars, and cases of grenades and ammunition aboard two armored personnel carriers flying the U.N. flag.

California Fire Shifts Direction

SANTA BARBARA, Calif. (AP) — A fire which twice burned into the hillside suburbs of Santa Barbara turned away today and blazed into lightly populated inland valleys.

It was the third time the fire seemed to be moving away from Santa Barbara.

Firemen couldn't say whether it could turn and hit the city again.

The fire has now blackened 40,000 acres, killed one man and injured 36 others, all fire fighters.

It has destroyed 78 homes and buildings, including the luxurious homes of Avery Brundage, president of the International Olympic Committee, and Dr. Robert Maynard Hutchins, president of the Center for the Study of Democratic Institutions.

Santa Ana winds — the "devil winds" which sweep down coastal canyons to the sea — have three times sent the blaze burning toward Santa Barbara, a city of 65,000, nestled between the Pacific and the Santa Ynez Mountains.

The fire started Tuesday afternoon at 2 p.m., was hit hard by fast - moving firemen and aerial tanker planes, and seemed headed inland by 9 p.m. Then came the devil winds. In an hour 12 homes burned.

U.S. Forest Service fire fighters, bolstered by county and city firemen, blocked it again.

By 7 p.m. Wednesday the fire had covered 2,000 acres, but the air at dusk was cool, and the fire was again moving inland.

WINDS STRIKE

Again the winds struck. In eight minutes the temperature rose 12 degrees and winds of 50 miles an hour pushed flames toward the city.

To the east — the ocean lines to Santa Barbara's south and west — one tongue raced into Montecito — the home of countless millionaires and the most elegant California suburb hit by fire since the Bel Air blaze of 1961.

Thirty homes, many of them mansions, were destroyed, including Brundage's 20 - room mansion and Hutchins' $100,000 home.

Then, swept by winds from the northeast, the fire raced eight miles westward through the oak and eucalyptus groves in canyons studded with moderately - priced to expensive homes. Twenty - four more were destroyed.

AP Photofax

A Balmy Day Due Saturday

Don't be misled by tomorrow's expected balmy temperatures. The mercury will drop again on Sunday.

Temperatures for the next five days will average from three to five degrees below the normal high of 70 and low of 52.

Skies will be fair tonight with increasing cloudiness predicted for tomorrow and cloudy weather Sunday. Precipitation will total from one-third to two-thirds of an inch in rain over the weekend.

Winds are from the west at 10 to 20 miles per hour. They will become southwesterly at 15 to 30 miles tomorrow.

The early morning low recorded in downtown Pontiac today was 46. The area warmed up to 58 by 1 p.m.

Educating the Driver Awesome Problem

(EDITOR'S NOTE—This is the sixth in an eight-part series of articles written in cooperation with the Governor's Committee on Traffic Safety and the Michigan Press Association.)

By BILL EASTHAM

Is there any way to stop the rising tide of highway carnage?

There is probably no single, foolproof solution to the problem.

Yet police officers, automotive and highway engineers and other safety experts are quick to suggest plans of action, each of which would make significant contributions to safer highways.

None can be accomplished overnight, however, and the steady increase in the accident rate seems destined to continue, at least for a time.

One of the most awesome problems traffic safety officials face is education of the public, emphasizing the fact that driving is a privilege, not a right, and that accidents don't always happen to somebody else.

* * *

The very instinct of self-preservation should be enough to make everyone drive safely, but it obviously isn't.

POOR ATTITUDE

Sgt. Mike J. Sibal, Detroit district chief of the State Police Traffic Division, says too many drivers have the attitude that "I'm entitled to my share of this highway and you'd better keep out of my way, because if anything happens it'll happen to you."

Sgt. Sibal, a veteran of more than 20 years of highway patrol and accident investigation, believes that if every driver had a sense of moral responsibility to stay alive and protect the lives of others, the accident problem would be greatly reduced.

High school driver training, which receives enthusiastic praise from traffic authorities, should be a good start toward public education.

But the greatest percentage of increase in drivers involved in fatal accidents in Michigan last year was in the 16- and 17-year-old age group. Something must be lacking.

LACK OF DISCIPLINE

Sgt. John C. Amthor, commander of the Pontiac State Police Post, believes it is a lack of discipline in the home, as well as in the schools.

"Just teaching a child to take care of his toys will give him a sense of responsibility that will be reflected in his driving as an adult," Sgt. Amthor says.

"You can't expect a child that doesn't learn any rules at home or school to learn or respect the rules of the road."

Such an attitude is found not only in teen-agers, Sgt. Amthor points out, but in supposedly mature, responsible adults.

COURT TAKES STEP

Pontiac Municipal Court has taken another big step toward driver education with a one-hour school for violators ticketed for running a stop sign or red light.

The fact that only two "students" out of more than 800 who have attended it have been back a second time points to its effectiveness.

The most obvious deterrent to traffic safety is the highway system itself.

"Dream" highways are being built in Michigan as fast as money is available. But the road-building program is lagging far behind the increase in volume of traffic.

LOCAL ROADS

Even the most extensive freeway system imaginable, however, will never replace the many miles of local roads where most of the accidents occur.

The solution to this problem, if there is any solution, can only be found in driver education.

Local municipalities just don't have, and probably never will have, the money it takes to make secondary roads hazard-free.

* * *

Safety experts point out that even the freeways are not entirely hazard-free as long as they contain exposed concrete bases for large signs, overpass abutments, exposed guard rail ends, narrow median strips and ditch banks steep enough to overturn a car moving at high speed.

Nationwide Strike Hits GM

tive walkout, hundreds of supplier plants around the country also will be affected.

* * *

STRUCK PLANTS

They are in Pittsburgh, Cleveland, Dallas, Norwood, Ohio, Los Angeles, Wilmington, Del., Kansas City, Janesville, Wis., Lansing, Pontiac, Grand Rapids, Flint and Detroit, Mich., Framingham, Mass., and Fremont, Cal.

Today's GM strike was the ninth major walkout against the auto industry's big three by the United Auto Workers Union.

The longest strike in the auto industry occurred in 1945-46 when GM UAW workers stayed off the job for 113 days in support of contract demands.

The UAW also staged local plant walkouts against GM in 1958 in support of local grievance demands after a national contract was signed.

SECOND LONGEST

The second longest auto industry strike in the United States came in 1951 when UAW Chrysler hourly rated employes stayed off the job for 104 days in support of a union demand for a funded pension.

Prior to reaching initial bargaining contracts with GM and Chrysler in 1937, UAW members staged violent sitdown strikes in support of their bid for recognition.

Such sitdowns closed GM operations for 44 days and idled Chrysler production for 29 days.

Even if agreement had been reached on a national contract, the UAW had told its local unions earlier that they could go on strike anyway to back up their local demands if these were not settled by a week from today.

Yesterday, Reuther had proposed the differences between his union and GM be submitted to binding arbitration. GM turned down this offer, and the UAW later rejected a GM proposal that the strike deadline be extended.

The union also asked GM to join it in having William E. Simkin, director of the federal mediation and counciliation service, sit in on the bargaining. The firm turned down the proposal.

SELECTIVE

The strike against GM is a selection one. It leaves in operation those GM plants which sell parts to Chrysler, Ford and American Motors Corp. The UAW said it also would leave in operation those plants supplying industries other than the automotive.

Reuther said he thought the GM economic offer was satisfactory, but said workers are interested in more than just money alone. He said workers "are entitled to decency and dignity at the place where they work and that's the reason for this strike."

He characterized GM as a "dehumanized production machine that has lost track of the human equation on the production line."

Louis G. Seaton, GM vice president in charge of personnel, said the strike "is completely unnecessary and unjustified."

NATIONAL WEATHER — Showers will be widely scattered tonight in the Dakotas and extreme Southwest Texas. Rain is due in northern Rockies and showers in central Rockies. A few showers are due in southern Florida. It will be warmer in the Plains states and cooler in the Atlantic states as far south as the Carolinas and the Ohio and Tennessee valleys. It will be colder in the north and central Rockies.

Playhouse Burns in Bloomfield

Four players are now in search of a playhouse in Bloomfield Hills following yesterday's fire which destroyed much of the stage at St. Dunstan's Guild pavilion.

The fire which was discovered shortly after 4 a.m. started at the back of the stage where guild members had been rehearsing "The Moon is Blue" Wednesday night. The play was to open Oct. 16.

Much of the stage and the false ceiling above it was destroyed, along with numerous stage properties. Smoke damage was extensive.

There is not yet a cost estimate on the damage, and the cause has not been determined.

"It might have been a short in a wire or smoking," Cranbrook Fire Chief Dominico Vettraino said. Three trucks from the Bloomfield Hills Fire Department and Cranbrook's were used to fight the 4-hour blaze.

"We are going to do everything we can to get the pavilion back in shape for the play," Frederick G. Bahr, president of St. Dunstan's Guild, said. "But right now the chances are definitely against is."

Report Likely to Stir Europe?

No amount of evidence presented up to now makes the average Frenchman—or most newspaper editors—believe it was a cut-and-dried, one-man killing.

West Germany — A book advancing conspiracy theory is a best-seller. Its author, Hungarian-born Hans Habe, spent the war years in the United States and now lives in Switzerland. His book, "Death in Dallas" claims reactionary millionaires and white trash conspired to kill Kennedy.

The Netherlands — Dutch newspapers have shown great interest in the assassination. The theory of an extreme rightwing conspiracy continues in leftist circles.

RIGHTIST PLOT

Belgium — Leftists subscribe generally to the theory of a rightist plot. Newspapers of other political coloring generally have adopted a wait-and-see attitude although conflicting or mysterious points of evidence have frequently been pointed out.

Norway — The liberal afternoon newspaper Dagbladet published the Buchanan conspiracy story in serial form.

Otherwise only Orientering, weekly organ of the tiny People's Socialist party, has published stories supporting the conspiracy theory.

Sweden — The conspiracy theory has had widespread publication. Doubts are expected to return to many with the issuing of the Warren commission report.

Denmark — The belief in a conspiracy is rather widespread, and several newspapers have shown skepticism that Oswald acted alone. Many editors suspect he was silenced.

Reveal Streets to Be Reopened at Noon Sunday

Street reopenings were announced today by Joseph Koren, of the city traffic engineer's department.

Water, between Mill and Wide Track, will be reopened at noon Sunday. The street had been closed for work on the Clinton River tunnel.

When Water does reopen, Koren said, it will be converted to a one-way eastbound street from Saginaw to Wide Track.

Also effective at noon Sunday, Pike will revert to a one-way westbound street beginning at Wide Track.

further improvements than the last 10 years.

Improvements for the future will be keyed to develop each child to his maximum to reduce school dropouts.

Because there is little employment future for the undertrained student or dropout, educators are concerned for any student not educated to his maximum potential, states Whitmer.

Since reading is basic to school successes, to individual development, and to staying in school, improved reading instruction is contemplated.

REDUCED CLASSES

Current plans call for reduced class sizes in grades 1 and 2. Reading specialists will work in each elementary school with the one child in 10 with special reading problems.

Library services in elementary schools will be extended.

Nursery schools will be developed in areas of the school district where large numbers of children appear not to be prepared to enter school in kindergarten and first grade.

In addition, counseling services will be improved and increased for all students. Pontiac now has a 300 to 1 student-counselor ratio in its senior high schools.

NEED MORE TIME

"While an improvement over previous years," comments Whitmer, "this (300-1) still does not give the individual as much counseling time as many children require."

Job training programs will expand also in the years ahead. Specific training programs will include such fields as health and food service, sales, service station attendant — fields that are growing rapidly.

"The school of the future must offer a broad training program," said the superintendent. "The goal of job training is that first job from which a person can develop and progress."

Students who learn slowly will receive increased special attention in the next decade, he added. Smaller classes will enable more individualized instruction.

REDUCE DROPOUTS

Hopefully, this will reduce dropouts, according to Whitmer.

"Of course, the 'explosion' of knowledge is going to continue."

Courses taught in Pontiac schools will contain new content in the future, taught with new methods and new instructional materials.

This will require training and retraining of teachers to keep them abreast of innovations.

FUTURE EQUIPMENT

"Equipment and materials not dreamed of today will be necessary in the years ahead if schools are to be up to date AND effective," he said.

All of these things point to one thing: increased costs.

Thus, renewal of the 8.75-mill tax levy is needed just to "keep pace" with tomorrow.

Recruit Numbers Cut to Battle Meningitis

Ft. ORD, Calif. (AP) — The Army has ordered the number of recruits reduced at Ft. Ord and plans an experimental immunization program to halt an outbreak of meningitis at the base.

There have been 81 meningitis cases this year with 12 fatalities. Most of those stricken were recruits. About 1,717 recruits will be sent to Ft. Leonard Wood, Mo., or Fort Polk, La., for the eight-week training course while 2,500 remain at Ft. Ord.

Bloomfield Hills Schools Set Saturday Activities

BLOOMFIELD HILLS — The school district's two junior high schools will be the scene of Saturday morning creative activities for elementary school pupils this fall.

The 12-week sessions in art, drama, dance and needlecraft will begin Oct. 10. Registrations now are being taken in the recreation department office at the high school.

Young artists in fourth through sixth grades can attend 9 a. m. classes at either school. The sessions for second and third graders are scheduled at 10 a. m. and for kindergarten and first graders at 11 a. m.

Drama classes at both schools will meet at 9 a. m. for second and third graders, 10 a. m. for kindergarten and first graders and 11 a. m. for fourth through sixth graders.

Kindergarten and first graders will meet for dance classes at 9 a. m., fourth through sixth at 10 a. m. and second and third at 11 a. m.

NEEDLECRAFT CLASS

A needlecraft course, open to fourth graders through adults, will be taught at East Hills Junior High School at 9 a. m. and Bloomfield Hills Junior High School at 10 a. m.

Junior and senior high school students as well as elementary pupils also are enrolling in regular recreation department activities now.

Classes being offered include art, bowling, ballroom dancing, field science, first aid, fencing, folk singing and string accompaniment and foreign cookery.

Also available are gymnastics, hobby shop, instrumental music lessons, junior theater, skiing, basketball, trampoline and senior lifesaving.

The department will continue to hold Teen Club activities for eighth and ninth graders from 7 to 10 p. m. Fridays.

A Birmingham physician, Dr. Luther R. Leader, has been named president-elect of the Michigan State Medical Society for 1965-66.

Dr. Oliver McGillicuddy of Lansing was installed as the society's 1964-65 president last night in Detroit.

The Birmingham Musicale Orchestra will present a program of chamber music at the Birmingham Art Center tonight.

The 8:30 p.m. program is the first in the Bloomfield Art Association's fall series. It is open to nonmembers for a nominal charge.

See Russia Shifting Radio Attack Onto China

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Soviet Union apparently has decided to slack off in its radio offensive toward the West and step it up toward underdeveloped areas and Red China.

And in defensive radio warfare, the Soviet bloc has virtually quit jamming Voice of America broadcasts while putting interference on signals coming from Radio Peking.

U.S. monitors gave some statistics today on how the Communist radio propaganda operations have changed with the shifts in the international political scene:

Soviet short wave propaganda to North America dropped 10 per cent and to West Europe 16 per cent during the summer broadcasting season.

GROWTH OF TV

This was interpreted as a sign of easing East-West tensions, plus the great growth of television in the western nations which has taken many people away from their radio sets.

The reduction in transmissions aimed at the advanced Western countries was matched by increases to Asia, Africa and Latin America. Radio Moscow added six languages: Malayalam (an Indian tongue), Lingala for the Congo, Zulu for South Africa, Thai and Cambodian for Southeast Asia and Uighur, transmitted through Radio Tashkent for the western Chinese province of Sinkiang.

Radio Peking started off the year with an increase in its Russian-language broadcasts aimed at its Communist rival which outpaced Soviet broadcasts in Chinese. At one point Peking transmitters beamed 119 hours a week of Russian-language propaganda on northward, compared with Radio Moscow's 66½ hours a week in Chinese. Then Radio Peking eased off. Now the count is only 63 hours a week in Russian from the Chinese radio, while Moscow Radio has moved ahead with 70 hours a week in Chinese.

The Soviet Bloc jamming of Russian-language broadcasts by the Voice of America, the U.S. government's overseas radio, began to taper off more than a year ago. Now only Bulgaria sends out electronic interference against the U.S. programs.

But U.S. monitors have picked up a different kind of jamming on Radio Peking's wave length which is "apparently caused by Soviet transmitters." What the Soviet stations do is play music on the same frequencies as Peking's Russian-language programs.

Over-all, the U.S. monitors figured Soviet international propaganda transmitters are now broadcasting 1,350 hours a week and Communist China is putting out 900 hours. This is only a slight increase over a year ago.

Compared to the two Communist giants, the Voice of America runs third with 800 hours of transmitter time per week. The British Broadcasting Corp. is on the international airwaves for 630 hours a week and the United Arab Republic radio 583 hours.

Hare Slaps at Romney on Traffic

LANSING (AP)—Democratic Secretary of State James Hare registered surprise Thursday that Gov. George Romney "would inject traffic safety into the political campaign—especially in view of his general lack of interest and action in the matter . . . until just recently."

Implied consent was a key to Romney's traffic safety program. It would mean anyone who received a driving license from the state automatically consented to any future tests for alcohol should he be stopped for investigation of drunken driving.

FOR CONSENT

"The facts are," said Hare, "that I was for implied consent at the time the legislature was in session. I have not changed this position."

For the entire first year of his administration, Romney "sat on his hands watching the highway death and accident tolls mount, and did nothing about traffic safety," Hare charged.

Romney appointed his Special Commission on Traffic Safety "a mere four months ago, when public opinion had swelled to a point where he had to do something about it," Hare added.

The commission's recommendations and findings, the secretary of state said, "were carefully timed to coincide with the political campaign — another maneuver to interject the public safety into politics."

The commission issued its report Wednesday.

Students in higher institutions of learning are expected to increase from approximately 4.4 million to 7 million by 1970, Sen. Thruston Morton of Kentucky recently reported in the Senate.
