Find Wreckage of Navy Plane

No Trace of 16 Aboard, Britain Urged to Ask Reds If They Know

TOKYO (AP)—Search planes and ships today found wreckage and two empty life rafts presumed to be from a U.S. Navy patrol plane which disappeared after radioing it was being attacked off the Red China coast.

First reports of the finding said there was no indication of what happened to the 16 American airmen aboard the missing plane, a four-engine P4M Mercator the Navy said was on a routine patrol and training mission from Japan.

Navy officials refused to speculate on the possibility that Communist boats had picked up at least some of the men.

The State Department has asked Britain, which has diplomatic relations with the Peiping regime, to find out if the Reds have any information about the plane and its crew.

NEAR SHANGHAI

Navy spokesmen at the huge Yokosuka base said the first wreckage and rafts were found floating a few miles south of a Communist-held island about 100 miles southeast of Shanghai.

That put the wreckage nearly 200 miles north of the position given by the P4M when it radioed at 1:25 a.m. Thursday it was being attacked by unidentified aircraft.

However, the wreckage was found in approximately the same area, south of the Saddle Islands off the Bay of Hangchow, at which Peiping radio said Chinese Communist aircraft intercepted and damaged a "Chiang Kai-shek plane" early Thursday.

Nixon to Carry GOP 'Crusade' to the Country

Convention Goes Wild as Unanimous Choices Accept Challenge

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—President Eisenhower has sent the Republican party into battle with the confident prediction that its program "will be decisively approved by the American people" in the fall elections.

He got a tumultuous reception yesterday from thousands of Republican National Convention delegates and San Franciscians who packed the Cow Palace to hear him formally accept his party's renomination.

He pictured the GOP as forward looking—"the party of the future"—and, by implication, accused the Democrats of looking backward.

He told the convention he was accepting its standard again "humbly but confidently." And, he said, "I pledge you my best efforts to bring victory to our cause next November."

One of the biggest cheers President Eisenhower drew came in response to an invitation for "discerning Democrats" to pitch in with the Republicans.

It was an interpolation Eisenhower put into the text of his speech as it had been distributed to newsmen.

In the text, the speech read: "There are still enough injustices to be erased, still enough needless sufferings to be cured, to provide careers for all the young crusaders we can produce or find. "We want them all."

To this, the President added: "Republicans, independents, discerning Democrats, come on in and help us!"

Ike's color was good. His step was firm. His bearing had the old-time military erectness. His voice was strong and resonant.

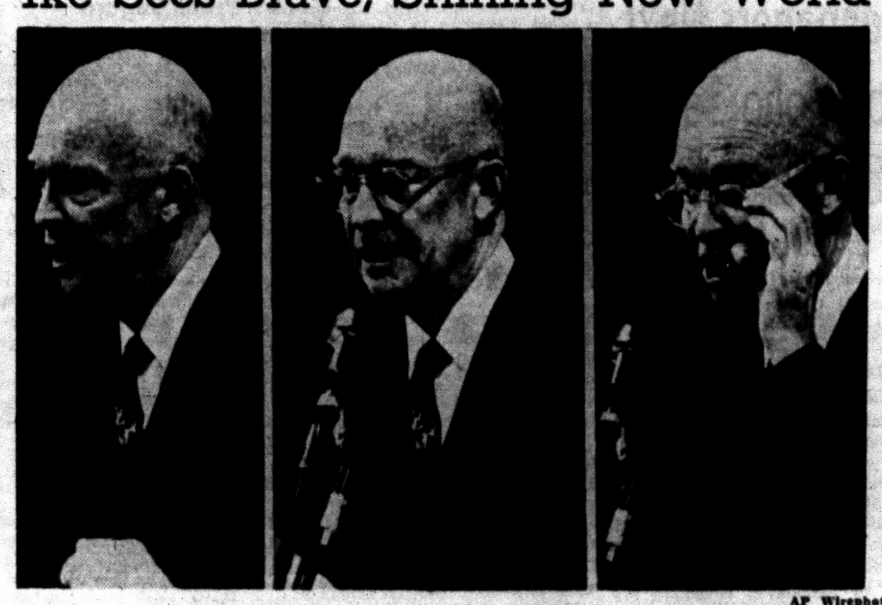

'GREAT SATISFACTION'

Mrs. Mamie Eisenhower, in royal purple hat and dress, carried a big sheaf of red roses, as did Mrs. Pat Nixon.

When he arose before the throng, the 65-year-old Eisenhower said he wanted to express his "great satisfaction" that the convention had decided to keep intact for this year's race the

4,282 Thwarted by Solution

Fruitless Hunt for Winner Drops Pall on Pot-O-Gold

A mournful wail came forth from the Press' judging room early this morning, crept along the hallways and hung heavily over the heads of gloomy staffers. Some said it began deep within the crape-bedecked pot in the corner where 500 crisp dollar bills lay in jumbled misery.

But others swore it came from the judges who calmed themselves down long enough to say: "No Pot-O-Gold winner this week." The 4,282 postcards in the neat piles might well have been edged in black.

But then a ray of light pushed the bloom aside when someone remarked: "Next week we'll be able to give away $600."

Puzzle No. 11, despite the elusive nature of its words, was almost conquered by six readers who came within one each of coming up with the correct solution. Several others missed it by only two words.

In adding another $100, the Press makes it possible for a winner of our current puzzle to carry home up to $625 in prize money next week. The extra $25 is a bonus that goes to a regular Press subscriber.

Readers who have found themselves foundering in a maze of nouns and verbs can pick up a few pointers by studying the reasons for the answers on Page Five. Our puzzle-makers are great hair-splitters, you'll find, but that's what makes Pot-O-Gold challenging.

And if this wasn't your week, turn to Page eight where you'll find the last copy of Puzzle No. 12. Pick all 16 words, send them to us by the deadline, and we'll up-end our gold pot with its $600 right into your pocket.

Ask Adlai to Speak in County Labor Day

Democratic Presidential Nominee Adlai E. Stevenson has been invited to speak at the Labor Day celebration in Pontiac, Albert Wilkinson, chairman of the event announced yesterday.

Wilkinson sent a telegram to Stevenson at Libertyville, Ill., requesting him to deliver the main speech at the Sept. 3 Oakland County CIO Council-sponsored festivities at Murphy Park.

He said he expects an answer by the weekend and added he thinks the chances of Stevenson's accepting the invitation are "good."

The Democratic standard bearer has announced he'll address a Labor Day rally in Detroit.

Britain Firm on Terms for Cyprus Surrender

Delegates Sampling New 'Punch' at Meeting

ST. LOUIS (AP) — The 775 delegates to the national convention of the Oil, Chemical and Atomic Workers Union punch a time clock each time they enter the meeting room for a convention session.

The attendance record will be forwarded to each delegate's home town local, which pays his expenses.

State Democrats in Convention

Incumbents Seem Sure of Keeping Ballot Spots; Campaign Plan Vital

Michigan Democrats, with 86 Oakland County delegates in their ranks, opened their two-day convention in Grand Rapids today and planned an appeal for the farm vote.

At today's informal session, they picked R. M. Evans, an Iowa farmer and former deputy superintendent of the U. S. Agricultural Department, to deliver the keynote address at a dinner tonight.

His speech will be followed by campaign planning which is expected to overshadow the main business of the convention—nomination of a state ticket for the Nov. 6 election.

Barring unexpected opposition, the four incumbent Democrat state administrative officers will be renominated. They are Atty. Gen. Thomas M. Kavanagh, Secretary of State James M. Hare, State Treasurer Sanford A. Brown and Aud. Gen. Frank S. Szymanski.

OTHER PROBABLES

Two incumbent Supreme Court justices—Talbot Smith of Ann Arbor, and George Edwards of Detroit—also seemed sure of renomination.

Party leaders said this fall's platform will follow the national platform, with a blast at the State Legislature for failure to adopt parts of the governor's program.

The 1,380 county delegates will meet in formal session at 11 a.m. tomorrow to nominate candidates, select presidential electors and hear talks from Gov. Williams and Sen. Patrick McNamara.

Find 10 Hungry Children Alone in Home at Keego

Ten hungry children, one of them suffering from a badly burned hand, were found alone in a Keego Harbor home last night during an investigation by officials of the Oakland County Children's Home.

Ranging in ages from seven months to 13 years, the children had reportedly been left alone for two days with the oldest in charge while the father, William Wyatt, had gone to Indiana to pick up a load of watermelons for a Dixie Highway fruit stand which employs him.

The mother has been confined to a local hospital since Aug. 12 following an operation.

The situation is being investigated today by authorities of the Juvenile Court, with the possibility the parents will be prosecuted for child neglect.

The injured girl, Sherry A. Wilkinson, 8, the woman's daughter through a previous marriage, is in satisfactory condition at Pontiac General Hospital with third degree burns of the right hand.

Doctors have estimated the hand will require several years of treatment before it can be used normally again, according to a Juvenile Court spokesman.

Several knife cuts and welts were also reportedly found on the girl's body during an examination. The wounds were believed to have been inflicted with a large stick or club.

All the other children were said to be in good health except for suffering from the lack of food. Two other members of the family, Darlene, 10, and Diane, 9, have been staying at the Children's Home. "They ran away from home and refused to go back last Friday," said James VanLeuven of the Juvenile Court.

Officials Protest Sewer Project

Allocated Cost Blamed for Halt in Progress of South Oakland Plan

Progress toward a $38,581,000 drain project in south Oakland County was stalled here yesterday as officials from three communities protested the high cost.

Troy, Southfield Township and Royal Oak Township officials said they could not afford to pay their allocated shares of the total cost set by the Twelve-Town Drain Board.

Madison Heights said it wanted plans to enclose Red Run ditch included in the final project.

No objections were raised by Birmingham, Royal Oak, Berkley, Clawson, Ferndale, Oak Park, Hazel Park, Huntington Woods, Pleasant Ridge or Troy Township.

The Board will meet again at 10 a.m. Tuesday in hope of making the allocations final.

Ralph A. Main, county drain commissioner and a member of the Board, said yesterday, "Any delay because of high costs just means more flooded basements. And that costs more than the drain would cost."

The project is designed to halt flooding in the communities by diverting storm water into the drainage system.

Exit Faith Healer

Juliana Looks to Future After Patching Difficulties

THE HAGUE (AP)—Queen Juliana and Prince Bernhard reported to the Dutch people today that they've patched up their "difficulties" and "now look forward to the future with confidence."

The brief, joint statement was in effect the royal couple's denial of rumors that they were heading for a divorce—or that the Queen might abdicate—because of Juliana's close association with a 61-year-old faith healer, Miss Greet Hofmans.

An authoritative source said the Queen has ended her association with the faith healer, to whom she originally looked for treatment of her partly blinded youngest daughter, Princess Maria Cristina.

A few hours before their communique was issued, the 47-year-old monarch and her 45-year-old prince took a plane for a short holiday on the Greek island of Corfu with Greece's King Paul and Queen Frederika.

The statement made no mention of Miss Hofmans nor did it specify the difficulties which had arisen between Juliana and Bernhard, married for 19½ years.

It expressed sincere thanks to a royal commission of three elder statesmen appointed to advise the couple after their rift became public. The statements said the commission had made a "very valuable contribution to the solution of the difficulties which had arisen."

Details of differences between Bernhard and Juliana—whispered in government and royal circles here for years — were published in a German news magazine early in June. The Queen reportedly came under the influence of Miss Hofmans after Bernhard brought her to the palace in 1948 to treat Princess Maria Cristina, now 9.

Find Dead Infant Under Bushes Near Parkway

Cabbie Confesses, Says Debts Led Him to Act; FBI Cracks Case

MINEOLA, N. Y. (AP)—A debt-ridden cab driver, seized as the kidnaper of the Weinberger baby, today directed police to the lonely, overgrown spot where the dead child lay—abandoned there in panic.

The infant's decayed body was found beneath a tangle of honeysuckle vines and leaves, apparently swept over it by the wind in the 51 days since the child was taken.

It was the tragic end to an intensive, painstaking FBI search through hundreds of thousands of handwriting samples that finally led to the admitted abductor, Angelo J. LaMarca, 31.

A married man and father of two children of his own, he told of trying to return the month-old Peter Weinberger and collect the $2,000 ransom the day after the kidnaping July 4.

But according to his account to authorities, he was frightened away by police and reporters roving the vicinity of the home of the parents, Mr. and Mrs. Morris Weinberger, in nearby Westbury.

Desperate, he said he left the baby in a wooded area beside a cutoff road from Long Island's Northern State Parkway. It was there, under the mantle of nature and time, that the remains were found.

The gleam of a safety pin and fragments of baby clothing caught the eye of a searcher, as a line of 50 dungaree-clad police and FBI men probed through the brush.

Only a tiny mass of decomposed flesh remained.

Authorities said LaMarca claimed the baby was alive when left to his desolate death. A medical examiner was to analyze the remains.

"Even if the child was alive when it was placed on the ground, it may well constitute murder," said County Dist. Atty. Frank Gulotta. Kidnaping carries a maximum penalty of death in New York.

LaMarca, a stocky, dark-haired man whose shaken wife said their family had been burdened by debts, was seized at his home early yesterday by Nassau police and FBI agents.

A cab-driver, who also worked at other jobs, LaMarca admitted grabbing the baby from a crib in the patio of the Morris Weinberger home while the mother had

34 Days Spiral to 180

Underpass Delay Puzzling

We're puzzled.

Others are, too.

The half million dollar Telegraph Road underpass at Orchard Lake Avenue has been delayed SIX MONTHS by a 34 day steel strike. At least this is the announcement by an unnamed "Michigan Highway Department spokesman."

If the construction were delayed 34 days we'd understand. If it were delayed 68 days, which allows for a one hundred per cent lag, we'd be unhappy but might comprehend vaguely.

But The Press doesn't understand ONE HUNDRED AND EIGHTY DAYS delay because of a 34 day setback.

If this "unnamed highway spokesman" knew what he was talking about, we are respectfully requesting his superiors to "explain" so a couple of hundred thousand mystified and irate people in this general area can understand—at least in part.

We are speaking to the Oakland County Highway Department, to the contractor at Orchard Lake and Telegraph and to the State Highway Commissioner:

"Will you please tell us, how come?"

As it stands now, we're told work will soon COME TO A HALT UNTIL NEXT FEBRUARY.

Who gets all the steel made during these several months?

We need only 260 tons.

That's peanuts.

GOP Pulls Out All Stops When Ike, Nixon Appear

By ROBERT B. TARR
Managing Editor, Pontiac Press

SAN FRANCISCO—Dwight D. Eisenhower and Richard M. Nixon, nominated almost four years ago by a party which then desperately needed a winning team, returned last night to accept wild ovations from enthusiastic and confident fellow Republicans.

TARR

In speeches punctuated by cheers from a packed convention hall the men who the day before swept unopposed into renominations for President and vice president accepted the invitation to lead their party and the nation for another four years.

Nixon appeared first, and his reception gave no hint that a single doubt had ever been raised over keeping him on the ticket.

The wild demonstration set off as he and his popular wife walked down the long raised aisle to the speakers' platform was only slightly less in enthusiasm than that which greeted the President and Mamie later in the evening. There were no vacant seats and many stood in the aisles.

The vast audience, already in good humor now that the end of their convention task was in sight, rocked with laughter when Nixon opened his address with: "delegates, guests, and Mr. Smith."

During the nominating Wednesday one Nebraska delegate held out for the privilege of nominating a Joe Smith. He eventually gave up and went along with his delegation to make the vote unanimous. Later he admitted there was no Joe Smith.

Nixon and his wife flew to the convention from southern California where they had rushed Wednesday afternoon because of the serious illness of his father. At the conclusion of his address he thanked the convention for the thousands of telegrams and messages which poured into his home hoping for recovery of his father.

After the commotion following Nixon's address quieted down some Chairman Joe Martin announced:

"The President of the United States." The convention took off on another big demonstration, and the cheering and overall commotion increased as the nation's chief executive and the First Lady proceeded to the platform.

Both Mamie and Pat carried huge bouquets of red roses. While the President and Mamie stood at the edge of the platform to receive the crowds' cheers Ike turned and beckoned for Nixon and Pat to come forward and join them. Then he called his son and wife, and brothers and their wives to come forward until the entire family was there together while the demonstration continued.

Color was added to the scene when hundreds upon hundreds of inflated balloons were released from high in the Cow Palace and floated down. Most of them dropped around the speakers' platform and into the press section. For a few minutes popping of the balloons punctured the demonstration.

The President's speech, in which observers say he exhibited much of his oldtime campaign vigor and fight, was enthusiastically received. He departed from his prepared text at the outset by expressing his pleasure over the decision to keep the team nominated in 1952 intact for this campaign.

A motion to adjourn came from the floor. The huge crowd began milling toward exits and the first phase of the 1956 presidental campaign, which began in Chicago two weeks ago was finished.

same team that won in 1952 against the Democratic ticket.

Vice President Nixon says he intends to work hard in the coming campaign in order to help President Eisenhower complete his "unfinished tasks."

WILL CARRY MESSAGE

Also accepting renomination yesterday, he promised the Republican National Convention he would carry the "great message" of the Eisenhower administration "to every corner of this land."

After delivering his speech—to heavy applause—Nixon flew back to the bedside of his ailing 77-year-old father in La Habra, east of Los Angeles. The length of his stay there will depend on the elder Nixon's condition, which is reported worse today.

He flew in from southern California a few hours before he stepped before the final session of the 1956 party gathering. Called away by his father's illness the day before, he worked on his text to the last minute.

"I am grateful beyond measure," Nixon said, "that you have given me the privilege of running on the same ticket with President Eisenhower. I shall work hard to re-elect the President by an even greater majority than the landslide of four years ago."

His wife Pat sat on the platform listening proudly as her husband—a House member at 33, a U.S. senator at 37 and vice president at 40—crossed another threshold in his fast-moving political career. Their two daughters, Patricia, 10, and Julie, 8, saw it all on television. They were with relatives in Whittier.

The "peace, prosperity and progress" theme ran through Eisenhower's speech, in which he referred to the Republican Party as the "rallying point for Americans of all callings, races and incomes."

In labeling the GOP the party of the future, he said this is so because:

"It is the party of long-range principle, not short-term expediency. . . . It concentrates on the facts of issues of today and tomorrow. . . . It draws people together, not drives them apart. . . . It is the party through which the many things that still need doing will soonest be done. . . ."

Further, he said, "a party of the future must be completely dedicated to peace . . . for without peace there is no future."

He said that this country's economic power "is displaying a capacity for growth which is both rapid and sound even while supporting record military budgets."

And he declared that "our country has never before in peacetime been so well prepared militarily."

SKIPS DEM JABS

Eisenhower skipped any jabs at the Democratic presidential and vice presidential candidates, Adlai E. Stevenson and Sen. Estes Kefauver of Tennessee.

But he slapped at the Democrats for their approach to solutions of farm and labor problems. And, in setting up the image of the Democrats as a party living in the past, he asserted:

"More than 20 years ago, our opponents found in the problems of the depression a battleground on which they scored many political victories. . . . Their obsession with depression still blinds many of these critics to the insistent demands of today."

Ten Children Alone in House at Keego

ty Sheriff's Department and officers of the Keego Harbor police department are aiding the investigation of the incident. The Wyatt home is located at 3216 Pridham St.

"There was some food in the house, but they ate a big meal at the Children's Home," said VanLeuven. He reported a complaint had been signed against the parents by Keego Police Chief Calvin Baxter this morning.

Sheriff Dept. Det. Harry Maur said the girl had been burned by her two older sisters who held her hand over the kitchen gas stove because she went outdoors when she was not allowed to. The girl also told of being tied to the bed for several days at a time by her mother.

When questioned at the hospital, Maur said Mrs. Wyatt admitted she had never tried to stop the other children from beating Sherry but denied she had ever tied her up. The woman told officers she was outside hanging clothes when the burning took place and said she bought medicine for the girl who treated herself.

According to Maur's report, Mrs. Wyatt said Sherry had been the constant victim of beatings because she was backward and had never been to school. She explained that was the reason the other children would not let her go downstairs.

Mrs. Wyatt is the mother of all 12 children, six through the present marriage and six by a previous one.

3,000 Votes Gained by Sparks in Canvass

The official count by the Board of Oakland County canvassers gives incumbent County Treasurer Charles A. Sparks about 3,000 more votes than announced in unofficial totals after the August 7 primary election.

Sparks, a Republican, officially received 31,718 votes, compared with the 28,753 votes listed in the unofficial total.

The official total makes Spark's vote comparable to the totals received by other incumbents seeking re-election to county offices.

The official totals did not change any of the nominations already announced.

Receives Fine of $100 on Cruelty Conviction

Charles Kelley 53, 580 Brook St., was fined $100 and given 30 days in jail by Judge Cecil McCallum Thursday on a charge of cruelty to animals.

The Bentons said that Kelley tied the dog in a shack and beat it with a hammer after the dog allegedly killed some of Kelley's chickens, police said.

Charge Detroit Red Wings With Transporting Liquor

DETROIT (AP)—Detroit police today confirmed reports that some choice Canadian liquor, seized in a 1954 raid at the home of a well known Detroit gambler, had been brought across the border by members of the Detroit Red Wings hockey team.

The liquor was seized in an April 15, 1954 raid at the home of Russell Trilck Sr., a well known gambler. Trilck was in Florida at the time of a raid but paid a $3,000 fine in federal court for illegal possession of liquor.

Police investigation showed some of the liquor had been brought across the Canadian border by Red Wing players. They gave it to Alfred Varga, reputed first lieutenant in Trilck's gambling empire. It eventually found its way into the bar in Trilck's plus $100,000 home in suburban Detroit.

Varga also paid a $1,000 federal fine for illegal possession of the liquor.

The case was recently spotlighted by a grand jury probe of gambling activities in the Detroit area.

Jack Adams, general manager of the Detroit team of the National Hockey League, said today Varga struck up a friendship with one of the Red Wings who introduced him to the other players. He said the player who made the introductions had since been traded.

It was reported that the Red Wings brought in about $2,000 worth of whisky for Varga, but Adams said the figure was "silly." He said, "we think they brought in only a few bottles."

A police official said that evidence showed that Varga, who has a police record of 10 arrests and six convictions since 1932, visited the Red Wings dressing room on several occasions.

Adams denied Varga ever had access to the Red Wings dressing room.

Teenagers Next for Polio Serum

Commercial Vaccine Use Opens Eligibility Ranks to Older Children

Next in line for Salk Polio vaccine in Oakland County are the teenagers.

Dr. Frederick N. Adams of Birmingham, chairman of the polio committee of the Oakland County Medical Society, said that county physicians are now able to purchase Salk Polio Vaccine through commercial channels. This vaccine can be used on any teenager through 19 years of age, Dr. Adams said.

All parents of teenagers are urged to contact their doctors and make arrangements for their teenagers to start the series of three injections against paralytic polio, Dr. Adams said.

"This age group is our next target. There is a high incident rate among teenagers, according to national statistics, and with the releasing of the vaccine through commercial sources, we want to stress the importance of getting these young people vaccinated as quickly as possible."

"Vaccination is just as essential to teenagers as it is to younger children. Much crippling due to paralytic polio will be prevented if parents make prompt arrangements to have their older children receive the protection the Salk vaccine gives," Dr. Adams said.

Recommendation on Civic Building Expected Soon

A recommendation as to the type of "Centennial Auditorium" best suited for Pontiac is expected in early September, John W. Hirlinger, manager of the Pontiac Chamber of Commerce said.

Hirlinger, along with nine members of a recently appointed Centennial Committee of the Chamber, traveled to Flint, Midland, Grand Rapids and Lansing to view civic auditoriums.

He said the committemen were most impressed with the buildings in Lansing and Midland, the newest of the four inspected.

The forthcoming recommendation, Hirlinger reported, will involve a suggested site, architectural design and type of financing for the building hoped to be constructed in connection with the city's 100th anniversary in 1961.

gone inside the house for a diaper. He left this note:

"I hate to do this to you, but I am in great trouble. Don't notify the police. I am not asking for a lot of money, only what I need, and I am very serious about this."

The note asked $2,000, with instructions where to place it. The signature read: "Your baby sitter."

It was this handwritten note, described as containing a telltale characteristic in the script, that gave authorities the eventual solution.

With little more to go on, FBI men had checked more than two million handwrting specimens—public records of all kinds—in the hunt for the man who had penned the note.

Finally, digging through federal court records in New York City, agents came across the signature of LaMarca, in a 1954 bootlegging case. He had been put on probation with a 90-day suspended sentence.

Laboratory technicians identified the signature as precisely the same as the script in the note. LaMarca, confronted with the evidence, confessed.

Health Department Answers Questions Most Often Asked About Salk Vaccine

The Oakland County Health Department and the Oakland County Medical Society this week released answers to questions most asked about the Salk polio vaccine:

Questions and Answers

1. Is the Salk vaccine safe?

Yes. Experience following the use of the Salk vaccine in between 30 and 40 million individuals has proven it to be one of the safest vaccines now in use. Stringent tests insure this safety.

2. How effective is the Salk vaccine?

The vaccine was approximately 80 per cent effective in preventing paralytic polio in 1955. The unvaccinated child is five times more likely to get paralytic polio than is the child who has received the vaccine.

3. What is the full schedule of vaccination?

One shot, followed by another shot two to six weeks later. A third shot is then given seven months to a year after the second, to provide maximum protection.

4. How long does it take the vaccine to protect?

The first shot begins to take effect from 7 to 10 days after it is given. However, the second shot brings a sharp rise in protection.

5. Should the vaccine be given during the polio season?

Yes. Immediate vaccination of an entire community is the best hope of stopping a budding polio epidemic.

6. If the second shot is delayed, is it still effective?

Yes, Dr. Jonas Salk has reported that the effect of the second shot is not lost even if given many months later.

7. Does one shot protect against paralytic polio?

It gives some protection. But actually one injection usually just sets the body's protective machinery in motion. Two shots are needed for adequate protection, and three for long-term protection.

8. Should people who have had polio be given vaccine?

Yes. There are three types of polio. A person who has recovered from one type is not necessarily immune to the other two.

9. Does the polio vaccine prevent non-paralytic polio?

It is not intended to. Non-paralytic polio is a relatively mild illness. The vaccine is intended to prevent paralytic polio only.

10. Who is eligible for the free Salk polio vaccine?

In Oakland County, free vaccine distributed through the Oakland County Health Department is available for children ages 1 through 14, and expectant mothers. Some 216,000 are eligible for this vaccine.

11. How many of the 216,000 eligible have been given the two protective polio shots in Oakland county.

Less than 50 per cent. Health Department figures show that: 16,218 have received one injection, 7 per cent; 87,870 have received two injections, 40.6 per cent; and 13,129 have received three injections, 6 per cent.

12. When should my child be vaccinated?

Right now!

13. How and where do I get the vaccine?

There are two ways: A. See your doctor. He is supplied with free vaccine by the health department, and will charge a nominal fee for the injections. B. If you are unable to make satisfactory arrangements with your doctor, visit one of the health department clinics.

14. Where are the health department polio clinics?

Oakland County Health Department, 1070 N. Telegraph Rd., Pontiac. Fridays: 9 to 11 a.m.
South Oakland County Health Department, 2401 East Fourth St., Royal Oak. Tuesdays and Thursdays: 1:30 to 3:30 p.m.
Pontiac City Health Department, Pontiac City Hall. Tuesdays: 1 to 3:30 p.m. Fridays: 9 to 11 a.m.

15. Is polio conquered yet?

No. Until everyone is vaccinated, polio will still be a threat. The vaccine is available, so don't delay! Make arrangements now to obtain it for your children, and protect them from crippling polio.

Judge Orders Test for Moore

Sanity Examination Approved for Accused Sex Slayer of Child

Circuit Court Judge George B. Hartrick yesterday ordered a sanity test for Howard W. Moore, accused sex-slayer of his three-year-old Lake Orion neighbor, Martha Little.

Hartrick named two psychiatrists to conduct the examination in circuit court Sept. 11. They are Dr. Ivan LaCore, Superintendent of Pontiac State Hospital, and Dr. L. Jerome Fink, of Pontiac, former Assistant Superintendent at the hospital.

The examination will determine whether the 23-year-old furnace repairman will stand trial at the end of next month on a charge of first-degree murder. If judged insane, he can be committed to a state institution, but will still face the murder charge if ever released.

Moore has repudiated his confession that he beat the girl to death after driving her to a lovers' lane eleven miles from home.

Ground Breaking Set for Miracle Mile

Formal ground breaking for the Miracle Mile Shopping Center at Telegraph and Square Lake roads, Bloomfield Township, is planned for Sept. 5.

Developers of the 35 million dollar project have set the ceremony for 11 a.m. Numerous business and civic leaders are invited to participate.

Actual preliminaries to construction on the 50-acre site have been under way for some time, with heavy equipment preparing the tract.

An early 1957 completion date has been set for the center, which will include some 100 stores, developers say. Parking for 5,000 cars is included in the plans.

Some Suspect Food Additives

Scientists Split Over Causes of Cancer

ROME (AP)—Can chemical additives and foreign substances added to foods cause cancer?

Fifty-two scientists from 21 nations have just finished trading opinions on that explosive question here. They met behind closed doors and have been wary about telling newsmen what was said.

Delegates willing to talk reported majority agreement on an important point:

Any chemical, dye or additive shown by laboratory tests to have a tendency to produce cancer in any other living animal cannot be considered entirely safe for human consumption.

"Even the smallest trace of a proved carcinogen (an agent capable of producing cancer) is dangerous," reported Dr. E Boyland of Britain's Chester Beatty Research Institute.

FRENCHMAN SPEAKS

France's Prof. Rene Truhaut, chairman of the Committee on Causitive Factors of Cancer, said: "From a hygienic point of view, one must wonder whether the repeated absorption of small doses of those various (carcinogenic) products can at length lead to harmful risks."

Dr. W. C. Hueper of the National Institute of Health at Bethesda, Md., warned that observation has shown that "a not inconsiderable number" of chemicals similar to those introduced into foods possess cancer-producing properties.

A more reassuring view was presented by Dr. Arnold J. Lehman, chief of the Division of Pharmacology of the U. S. Food and Drug Administration, with Dr. Arthur A. Nelson of the same organization. They said the U. S. Food and Drug Administration is effectively protecting Americans from dangerous additives.

A delegate said the experts split roughly into three groups — the Lehman-Nelson group, felt present safeguards generally are good. The Boyland-Hueper group, felt real dangers exist since so little is known about the subject. A center group, took a position between them.

A number of cancer-producing agents were identified by name: Cigaret smoke, coal tar, chimney soot, some kinds of mineral oil, asbestos, benzidrine, sodium arsenite, radioactive materials, dulcin (a synthetic sweetener) and selenium compounds (banned for insecticide use in the United States).

Hueper pointed out little is known about the effect of heat. He said he is conducting research to see whether in cooking, some chemicals might become harmful, carrying danger with them.

Kennedy Wife Loses Baby Due in October

NEWPORT, R.I. (AP)—Mrs. John F. Kennedy, wife of the Massachusetts Democratic senator, was reported "improving" today from an emergency operation she underwent last night after loss of the baby she was expecting in October.

A spokesman at Newport Hospital said her condition is not serious.

Mrs. Kennedy was with the senator at the Democratic National Convention in Chicago last week, where Kennedy missed the vice presidential nomination by about 20 votes.

The senator is visiting his parents at their villa in Nice, France.

Skid Injures 5 Reds Attached to Embassy

BELLEVILLE, Ont. (AP) — Five members of the Soviet Embassy in Ottawa were injured last night when their car skidded on wet pavement and rolled into a ditch.

Most seriously hurt was Mrs. Tanya Vedeneev, 44, who suffered lacerations of the elbow and scalp and a possible broken arm. Her husband Nicholas suffered a sprained ankle. Others were identified as Olga Novikov, sprained ankle; Nicholas Elsevsikov, sprained ankle, and his wife Irene sprained elbow.

It could not be learned immediately what positions the five held on the embassy staff.

Man Who Got Lincoln's Pity Has Birthday

FLORENCE, Ala. (AP) — A one-time Civil War waif who wrung from Abraham Lincoln an expression of pity celebrated his 102nd birthday yesterday.

George F. Mercer was a 7-year-old child at Fairfax, Va., when the Civil War broke out. His father joined the southern forces, but a brother enlisted in the Union army.

The father died of typhoid fever and when the little boy finally reached Fairfax he found his home burned and his mother gone. He found her years later in Pittsburgh.

A Union general took George to Washington and introduced him to President Lincoln as an example of the tragedies inflicted by the struggle.

"This war must come to a close at once," said Lincoln.

On Wrong Side of Road, Police Report Says

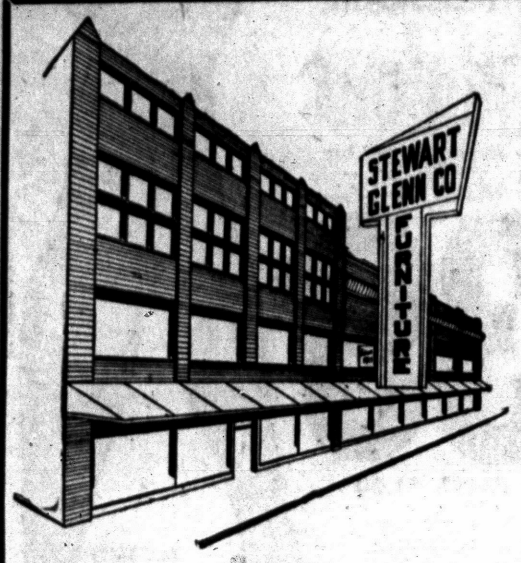

A driver whose car struck a home after a two-car collision on Cherrylawn drive Saturday was travelling on the wrong side of the road, according to a Pontiac police traffic report.

The report says that Mack O. Kennedy, 53, of 188 W. Ypsilanti Ave. sideswiped the oncoming car of Robert T. Duncan, 66, of 1231 Stanley Ave.

An account of the accident in Monday's Pontiac Press failed to say that Kennedy was on the wrong side of the road when the accident occurred. Kennedy's car careened 236 feet into the home at 1123 Cherrylawn, police said. He suffered a fracture jaw.

16 Puzzling Words Make Up Solution

Answers to 11th Puzzle -- Pot-O-Gold

1. FOG is right. A person who is "especially alert and adroit" is most unlikely to be caught in a Bog or swamp. But FOG is unavoidable, and the alert, adroit person will be able to work his way out of it.

2. PAW is right. In the sense of being a hand, a PAW is a clumsy one, and not to be relied on generally for any careful or delicate work. A Pat hand, in cards or in a figurative sense, is usually far better than one can expect and is generally worth playing as is, for even the draw, or further events, are unlikely to deal you a better hand or improve it.

3. KING is right. Royalty, used as a collective noun here, as shown by the words "Royalty . . . could have a very peculiar—", means all the persons connected by ties with the royal family, dukes, duchesses, princes, etc. Because of this collective sense, we must rule out Kink or peculiar quirk, for all the royalty would not have the same kink. On the same ground we must rule out Kind for they all would not be peculiar in such kind, for that would be having the same kink, also. It must be KING who is peculiar, for he alone has the power to impose a standard of behavior on the royalty he controls as KING.

4. TRAP is right. A person who has had a successful criminal career is one who is done with it. His Past as a past, cannot hurt him except if it be used by someone, as with threats or blackmail on grounds of exposure, and this would be the equivalent of a TRAP. A TRAP must be set and sprung by someone. There is nothing the man can do about his past, it is unchangeable, so there is no use watching out for it.

5. TANK is right. Surmounting, or passing over, most (the majority) of unsuspected obstacles is just what a TANK is built for. It cannot pass over every such obstacle, but nobody expects it to do so. A Bank can surmount many obstacles, but we can hardly say they are unsuspected (unimagined or quite surprisings) obstacles. Every conceivable obstacle in banking, including runs, robberies, mergers, etc., is a known factor. Centuries of banking experience make all financial possibilities and disasters the special study of bankers. Since a bank's obstacles can, in the most important form, be only financial or related troubles, they cannot be "unsuspected."

6. FRANK is right. If a smaller force is in a "tight situation it is in such a poor position that it cannot maneuver freely to come around and strike the Flank or side of a larger force in a better position. Tight means constrained or restricted, unable to move freely; or else it means desperate or critical. In either sense, the only hope for the smaller force is a FRANK, unequivocal, attack. As long as the situation is tight, there is no time for maneuvering into a more favorable position, and no room to do so.

7. POT is right. Player who blows his POT is one who loses his winning chance by some foolish move. Because he loses the money involved, you can be sure that the next time he has a POT and a similar chance at it he would try to be more careful. Player who blows his Top is a hothead, and we can't be sure he can control this action, or even if he tries to do so.

8. CHAMP is right. A CHAMP or champion could have a fine disregard for disastrous consequences, as indeed he must each time he meets a dangerous challenger. To act like one, to remain a CHAMP, he must expose his title to danger, and a real CHAMP may do this with a fine display of sangfroid. A Chump or blockhead, is usually unaware of consequences until too late. Being less than human, we can't say a Chimp has any regard for consequences.

9. CASK is right. We cannot claim that Sack, a dry white wine popular in the 16th and 17th centuries, can still hold its own. For one thing, the term is now almost exclusively historical. But if you prefer to use it as if it were a current term, you still cannot say it can hold its own (compete successfully against) other wines prevalent today. It is perfectly safe to say a wine CASK can still hold its own, for wine is still put in casks.

10. DECK is better. A clean DECK gives ample evidence of a well-run vessel. A clean Desk may mean any number of things besides efficiency. And many workers at cluttered up desks are highly efficient.

11. SWAIN is right. Girl who is trying to keep a trim SWAIN is making a worthwhile effort to hold on to a fellow who is really quite a nice beau. Girl who is trying to keep a trim Waist is greatly concerned over staying slim, but that doesn't mean she takes the same care of her general appearance as a girl will who feels that a poor appearance can make her SWAIN depart.

12. WORTH is right. If a gambler's Throw, cast of the dice is honest, it is perfectly easy to estimate. Just add up the spots on each cube. It is the honest WORTH (the personal integrity or value he has) that would be hard to estimate. Gamblers are not the easiest characters to interpret correctly.

13. HAUNT is right. Snobs who HAUNT their acquaintances are very likely to become pests and thus minimize their chances of being made welcome into the society they long for. Snobs who have the grace to Thank their acquaintances should have a somewhat better chance of breaking in.

14. KNOW is right. We can neither say that the things (hobbies, skills, pleasures) people KNOW or Work very well would be their sources of income. That is, they would not definitely be making their money from such things. Some people would, but if most of us did so, it would mean that most of us have the ideal job. This is obviously untrue. Many people have jobs for several reasons: The amount it brings in; the availability of such a job; the necessity for a job as such. So we must take this phrase in another sense: People KNOW very well what their sources of income would be. In other words, they KNOW very well how they make their money, where it comes from.

15. FAIL is right. Students who Fail in their averages may easily have fallen from excellent averages to very good ones, as out of the 90's into the 80's. They are still doing very well. In the other meaning of Fail (to FAIL completely), then they have no prospects left whatever. Since we have said that they don't stand "too good a chance," we know that they still have a chance. So it is FAIL that is right, for students have the privilege of taking a failing subject over again.

16. PRIZE is right. It is perfectly possible that a mongrel with special training (a performing dog) can be put up for a good Price. Indeed, mongrels are noted for cleverness and trainability. In the offering of a dog as a PRIZE, it is consistent with good sense to offer a fine example of a popular breed, as this will be an incentive to all who hope to acquire such a dog. It would be absurd to put up a mongrel as a PRIZE, especially a good PRIZE.

Printers Observe 500th Year of Movable Type

Extensive plans to commemorate the 500th anniversary of printing were launched this week with the formation of a coordinating committee made up of national leaders from the graphic arts industry, labor and related groups.

The October observance will mark the completion, in 1456, of the 42-line Gutenberg Bible, the first known date for the completion of a manuscript through use of movable type.

The group is headed by Milton J. Goger, president of American Type Founders Co. Inc.

In pointing out the celebration's significance, Goger observed that "with the discovery and expansion of printing came the growth in literacy and understanding that made it possible for mnakind to emerge from the 'dark pages of history.'"

An international airport will be built at Tafuna, American Samoa.

Those Who Killed Toll Road Face Substitute

Our toll road is dead.

This newspaper believes in the expansion of all roads that carry automobiles. Thus things that contribute area is based upon the sale of automobiles. These things that contribute to automobile betterment are a primary objective.

Now the entire problem is up to Highway Commissioner Ziegler.

His opposition killed the toll road. The several million Michigan residents that would have been served by it now rest squarely in his lap. To this number you can add the huge unknown total of visitors who drive into Michigan. They would visit us more often if we were not handicapped by an outmoded system of highways that has fallen far behind the times.

We believe in better roads in front of the Pontiac Motor Division and in front of the GMC Truck. We believe in better roads in Idaho, Utah, Vermont and all intermediate points. The Press will everlastingly support good road programs wherever they originate. We believe this same loyalty should be shown by everyone else whose living, past, present and future comes from automotive successes.

The expansion of the automotive trade will only come as the nation provides the roads to handle a larger number of cars. This applies to cities, villages, townships, counties and states. Today, we can't even handle the current supply of automobiles, look where you will.

Oakland County is the second uargest county in Michigan. We deserve roads commensurate with our size and the fact we're a gateway both north and south. We lack them now. The only advances in the past few years have been abortive, piddling and child's play.

George Higgins labored long and valiantly to bring relief to this section. He deserves a warm round of applause for his efforts which have come to naught.

Mr. Road Commissioner, you stopped the toll road.

Congress to Eliminate Reclamation Bill Fault

It is reassuring to learn that President Eisenhower is alert to the need of resisting any legislative attempt to invade the area of administrative processes.

Over the years there have been several examples of Congressional efforts to usurp Executive functions. Latest of these was detected by members of the White House staff in a bill passed near the end of the session.

This measure's purpose is to authorize loans for several small reclamation projects in 17 Western States. One section gives the interior and insular affairs committees authority to veto loan decisions made by the Secretary of the Interior.

Because Congress is not in session, the President didn't want to employ his pocket veto power and reluctantly signed the bill. Before he did so, however, he got assurance that the provision would be removed by Congress in January and he issued a public statement outlining his objections.

Mr. Eisenhower was on solid ground in taking this position. Under our constitutional separation of powers, the task of the Legislature is to write laws and of the Executive Branch to administer them. As he pointed out, any legislation authorizing interference with Executive powers is clearly disruptive.

Surplus Food for India

Within a short time our Government will conclude with India agreement for sale to that country of a large amount of our surplus farm products.

Involved is about $400,000,000 worth of wheat, flour, rice and cotton. Delivery which is to cover a period of three years, will provide India with some welcome famine insurance.

Payment with interest is to be in rupees and will begin in three years and cover a 25 year period. Part of the money will be used to support U.S. services in India and some will be loaned to the country.

So far the subcontinent's agricultural expansion program has been working out well. Government leaders indeed are proud that India now is self sufficient in food grains. Yet, it is good business in a country where a crop failure may mean disaster, to have warehouse stocks of food.

From our standpoint as well as India's this looks like a good deal. Not only does it offer a way of reducing our crop surpluses, but might enable India to save many lives in the event of a national food emergency.

It ought to be against the law for anybody to sell, rent, lend or give a power lawn-mower to an early riser.

David Lawrence Says:

Acceptance Speech Hollow, Dull

SAN FRANCISCO — President Eisenhower's speech of acceptance was hardly the kind that clarifies the issues for the delegates and the party workers. It was too general and too abstract in its political values. It had some very good points and, if the address had been confined to some of the pithy sentences in it and the verbiage cut down, it would have been more effective.

There was one major point which the President wisely stresses—the difference between "A party of long-range principle" and one that relies on "short-term expediency." This is a difficult point to get across, because it runs counter to the gospel which practical politicians teach. While Ike tried to explain "governmental programs based upon principle rather than upon shifting political opportunism," he didn't seem convincing in view of the record of giving away taxpayers' money by both Republicans and Democrats in the last Congress.

The heart of the whole speech—the issue which the party workers could amplify—was expressed in a brief declaration: "Change based upon principle is progress. Change without principle becomes chaos."

BIG DIFFERENCE

Whta does this mean? The big audience that listened to it thought it perhaps to be fine-sounding phraseology. But imbedded in it is the difference between government by demagoguery and government by tested experience. It means the difference, too, between the drive for state socialism or public ownership which so many Democrats are supporting and the free enterprise system strongly espoused by the Republicans.

The President made another vital point—though he handled it rather vaguely—in drawing attention to the growth of centralized government and the whittling down of states he said that "geographical balance of power is essential to our form of free society." He spoke of the "heedless stampede to Washington" and added:

"Our Founding Fathers showed us how the federal government could exercise its undoubted responsibility for leadership, while still stopping short of the kind of interference that deadens local vigor and variety, initiative and imagination."

HOLLOW MEANING

This is good doctrine, well expressed. But, practically speaking, what does it mean? The answer is that such statements have a hollow sound when it is considered that, in order to get votes, a member of the President's cabinet is busily assuring labor leaders that Ike wants to see the "right to work" laws of the states superseded by a federal law that would render them null and void. It sounds inconsistent, too, when the recently proposed federal laws usurping the police powers of the states are acclaimed by the Republican platform itself as "civil rights."

The passage which the practical politicians will not like is that which disparaged the argument about "depression." The President said that more than 20 years ago political victories were scored on that point and he argued that "obsession with depression still blinds many critics." This was all right as far as it went, but today the Republican party workers are counting on the prosperity argument—the opposite of depression. Ike's speech seems to discourage its use on the stump.

In most of the voting precincts all this will be regarded as "highbrow" stuff. The simple issues are how to avert war and maintain peace, whether times are good or bad, and whether it's time for change or to keep on with the party in power. Those issues weren't sharply delineated in the acceptance speech, but they are the core of the campaign.

Dr. William Brady Says:

Toughest Thing to Teach —Is Simple Nutrition

"At the time I was teaching home economics in a small agricultural community," reports Mr. L. V. H., "I had just discovered through your column Adelle Davis's Let's Cook It Right" (the cook book which rates space on my own bookshelf—published '47 by Harcourt Brace & Co., New York), "so I had each pupil buy it and use it as a text.

"I clipped and posted your articles on nutrition and read many of them aloud in class, for I regarded you as an authority.

"I was a flop, contines Mrs. H. "No matter what I said, it seemed that the stock answer was always, 'Well, my mother says . . . ' Their food dislikes and habits were firm and definite. Although they agreed an adequate breakfast might be good for one's health, they still argued 'But I HATE to eat breakfast—or—egg—or milk—or whatever."

That is typical of the national malnutrition — Young America's namby-pambyism. They don't care for food, particularly natural food.

It takes at least ten minutes and more or less undivided attention to eat an adequate breakfast, whereas one can get a brief burst of energy from a glass or bottle of pop at any time with less bother or attention than it would take to go to the sugar bowl and eat a spoonful of sugar as is.

What is an adequate breakfast for a gowing boy or girl, a student a teacher, a white-collar worker, a professional man or woman, a domestic engineer, a football player, a farm laborer, a mail carrier or a bricklayer? The same menu will do for them all, but the farm laborer or the football player may well consume three or four stacks of wheatcakes, whereas the teacher or white collar worker may need but one small wheatcake or none.

Whole wheat (grain), cracked or freshly ground wheat flour; rolled oats; or brown (hulled) but not white (polished) rice should be used as breakfast food or for making any kind of cakes. Send stamped, self-addressed envelope for pamphlet Wheat To Eat, which gives practical suggestions for restoring the staff of life to your daily diet.

Here's the adequate breakfast outlined in the basic health, corrective, protective regeneration, or reduction diet.

Fresh fruit or freshly expressed fruit juice.

Egg, bacon, fish, or meat cooked as you like.

Glass of milk.

Rolled oats, plain wheat or brown rice cooked as you like.

Salt to taste.

Butter and sugar, syrup, honey, molasses, jelly or jam, or saccharin, or other artificial sweetener according to caloric need.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not to disease, diagnosis, or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

Couple Asks Re-Evaluation of Death Penalty Question

Letters will be condensed when necessary because of lack of space. Full name, address and telephone number of the writer must accompany letters but these will not be published if the writer so requests unless the letter is critical in its nature.

We, too, are parents of small children and can well sympathize with Martha Little's parents. We do not agree, however, that the death penalty will help discourage crime. As a matter of fact, the evidence proves that it is not such a deterrent. The British Royal Commission on Capital Punishment came to this conclusion after a worldwide study, and FBI statistics on crime lead to the same conclusion.

Most of the states having no capital punishment actually boast lower homicide rates than comparable states with the death penalty. Wisconsin, North Dakota, Minnesota, and Michigan, all of which have abolished capital punishment, have homicide rates substantially lower than their similar neighbors which punish by execution. Thus the sole argument for capital punishment becomes a strong argument against it.

Other reasons against it are the sacredness of human life and dignity, which is cheapened by legal murder, and the danger of execution of an innocent person. In Michigan alone in the past few years, three persons convicted of murder have been proven innocent and released.

The modern trend in penology is putting people in jail not solely as punishment but to rehabilitate them. We are not ready to admit that all criminals, even all murderers, are totally beyond any hope of salvation.

Another reason against the death penalty is that it is almost exclusively reserved for poor people. The well-to-do, by being able to hire expensive lawyers and exhaust all legal means of delay and appeals, are almost always able to evade the death penalty.

Of the 31 bills for capital punishment introduced in our state since 1875, only two have passed the legislature. Of these, one was vetoed by the governor and the other was defeated by a large majority of the voters.

We respectfully urge the editors of the Pontiac Press, in the light of the above facts, to investigate their stand on this serious question.

England and France See More Rows With Nasser

By JOHN H. MARTIN
INS Foreign Director

Soviet Russia, in backing Egypt, has rejected the Western plan to "internationalize" the Suez Canal.

Moscow has said that instead it favors India's vague plan to keep the strategic 103-mile waterway under Egyptian control, with an advisory body of nations that use the canal.

Both the Soviet Union and India are against any plan that would not give Egyptian President Gamal Abdel Nasser a way of "face-saving."

This test of "face-saving" for Nasser came about perhaps somewhat unexpectedly when he chose to defy the West by "nationalizing" an old internationalized company.

The 38-year-old Col. Nasser meant to defy the West. But did he mean to do it with major repercussions?

WITH LESS TROUBLE

The usual answer is no, and this is generally agreed upon because he could have done it without raising such Western animosity and still gotten the handclaps of the Arab world.

But Britain and France are not the least bit convinced that Nasser's action was as rash as he said when he took the Suez Canal Company in retaliation for American and British refusal to finance his pet dream of a big dam at Aswan on the upper Nile.

The British and French, and even others, accuse him of outright thievery. They also accuse him with playing off West against East for the benefit of Egypt.

Such a playing-off is not an unusual practice in this world—but Egypt's action in the Western opinion is of vital importance.

When the British and French are accused of "toughness" in their relations with Egypt's Nasser, they point to some excerpts from his own book "The Philosophy of the Revolution."

DIRE PREDICTIONS

This book predicts far more trouble for the Western peoples than is contained in the dispute over Suez Canal control, even though such control is the key to the ambitions of a man purportedly fighting "colonialists."

Nasser says in his book quite frankly that Egypt has the strength to control the crossroads of the international world, the Suez Canal.

"There remains," he says, "oil, a sinew of material civilization without which all its machines would cease to function . . . "

He means the oil of the Middle East on which all Western European industrialization depends.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Gives Answers for Mothers-to-Be

Lillian's questions show the unnecessary worry that still makes thousands of expectant mothers anxious and jittery. So scrapbook this case record or mail it to such young wives. And send for the booklet below, since it will help wives go through childbirth with less pain by relieving uncertainties. Many doctors give these booklets to patients to save themselves time.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case S-347: Lillian B., aged 33, is an attractive housewife.

"Dr. Crane, I've heard many statements regarding pregnancy which I think may not be true," she began.

"For example, does the husband determine the future sex of his child or is it the mother who does that?

"And can babies inherit criminality from their parents?

"Furthermore, can a mother 'mark' her unborn baby, as by becoming frightened by a fire or shock by an auto wreck?

"A number of young wives in my neighborhood are expecting babies, so I wish you'd answer some of these questions to relieve their minds."

PREGNANCY FACTS

We have no scientific data to support the theory that the father determines the sex of his children, or that the mother does.

The male sperm cells are of two types, called "X" and "Y". The female ovum (egg) is called "X".

If the male "X" gets to the ovum first, then we have two "X", and a girl baby develops. If the "Y" reaches the ovum first, we have an "X" plus "Y" fertilized egg, which causes male progeny.

Since the "Y" sperm cell is smaller and more motile, that may help explain why more boys are born than girls.

As regards "marking" babies, that is an old superstition not borne out by facts. And you can see why, for there is no nerve connection between the unborn baby and and its mother.

Her thoughts can't go across into its body in her womb, for there are no nerve connections to transmit them.

SEPARATE BLOOD

Moreover, the baby has its own heart and its own separate blood supply. The mother's blood does not ciriculate in the baby's blood vessels and vice versa.

However, germs can filter through for they are much smaller than red blood corpuscles.

Blood vessel walls are composed of cells. Compare them to the bricks in a wall. The cells are the bricks. The juncture points between cells are like the mortar seams.

Well, blood corpuscles are also rather big, like the bricks, so they can't slide through the mortar strips. But a virus or germ is so tiny it can get through.

That's why female mammals may immunize their babies, because of the immune bodies in the mother. The infants can also contract measles or even syphilis before birth if the mother then has an active case of such disease.

NO "BORN" CRIMINALS

Criminality is a matter of bad habits. These are learned, not inherited. So a child can have a murderer for a father and an immoral street walker for a mother, yet those criminal habits will not be transmitted by the parents to the baby.

"Yes, Dr. Crane, but why do the children of criminals often become criminals?"

For the same reason that the children of smokers may use cigarettes, namely, imitation.

Or, if a child is taken away from criminals parents, but its pals later learn of those lawless parents and taunt the child with being the son of a jail bird, then the child may grow so angry at his playmates that he may violate laws to get revenge.

"Like father, like son," busybodies may then claim, but this is not inheritance of criminality.

If you can adopt a baby, don't fret about the lawlessness of its parents. Just check on its I.Q. and health.

Reminds Women of 'Romantic Menace'

Nixon's Too Handsome to Be Well Loved

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

SAN FRANCISCO (INS)—Everyone has his own theory as to why debonair Dick Nixon is often opposed by great chunks of American politcos, but it takes a woman with an honest memory to hit at the truth:

Nixon, at 43, is the reincarnation of the "great romantic menace" in the life of every teenager.

He still has that wavy hair and those halfback's shoulders and the pearly grin which drive girls to despair and boys to envy.

To the voting man, he is reminiscent of the guy who got all the blondes. To the voting woman, he is that handsome boy in high school who stopped calling after the first date and took up with a socialite.

The woman of today was about 16 when the boy who looked roughly like Richard dropped her for another, and she was hurt. Then her mother like as not commented, "Do not weep, daughter, for although he is smart and attractive, he is not your type."

SHE KNEW IT

He was, too, her type and she knew it. But mother love and rationalization conquer all calamities. So thereafter the broad-shouldered and wavy-haired male became taboo—unfit to be trusted, and not her type at all.

Until the handsome young lads of America stop leaving girls in this bereft and fretful condition, it is our considered opinion that any man in politics who retains a trace of the handsome kid is never going to win the wholehearted woman's vote.

"He's a fine man, I'm sure, but there's someting about him I don't trust." Women said this about Thomas E. Dewey, who ran wavy-haired before him, and they are saying it again today.

Nixon has an additional hurdle to hop, in that his direct opponent—earnest Estes Kefauver—is the embodiment of a memory of the "romantic teenage martyr."

To men, Kefauver is the fellow who lent them money for dates because he was too shy to go out and spend it on himself.

STAMMER OF LOVE

To women, he is the boy who first stammered that he loved her and meant it.

You can't beat that sort of memory association, man, when you're out to get female votes.

We've spent several minutes thinking what Dick Nixon could do at this stage to give him that homey, dependable look which is so all-important in the battle for ballots (we once suggested that Dewey shave off his moustache and smoke a pipe but he wouldn't listen.)

The solution was offered by a Mrs. John W. Funk, wife of a Muncie, Ind., doctor and the daughter of a Nixon.

Mrs. Funk, who is present at the convention, has spent the last 23 years studying the genealogy of the Nixon family and has unearthed hundreds of relatives of the vice presidential candidate.

Next week she is sending out hundreds of letters to Dick's "cousins," inviting them to a family reunion with their distinguished relative—so that all the Nixons in America will come to Dick's aid in November.

Surely, with several hundred members of his family — however loosely connected—gathered around him, the public temper will change toward Richard Nixon.

Two daughter and a wife are not quite enough to make him look like a fireside fella, but a colony of Nixons should counteract nicely the handsomeness.

Push Program Against Lamprey

Attempting to Establish Headquarters to Fight the Trout Killer

LUDINGTON (AP) — William E. Gaylord, U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service biologist today said two assistants from Marquette are joining him in establishing a sea lamprey control headquarters.

Gaylord has been in Ludington since May 1, setting groundwork for installation of control devices in tributary streams which empty along the east shore of Lake Michigan.

The government service is negotiating for a headquarters building in Ludington.

The invasion of the eel-like predatory lamprey has caused a sharp decline in Great Lakes commercial fishing, once a major industry. Gaylord has worked for the past three years in establishing a control program in Lake Superior.

Superior is a stronghold of Lake Trout, the lamprey's favorite prey.

By protecting trout in Lake Superior, Gaylord explained, "We will keep them alive and have trout for later restocking the lower Great Lakes."

The program employs electrical weir devices, installed in streams below potential lamprey spawning beds, he said. They stop all fish coming up the stream and divert them into traps placed at either side of the weirs.

The traps are serviced daily with workers releasing the fish and removing lampreys to be destroyed.

Gaylord said about 150 weirs will be installed on the eastern shore tributaries from the Straits of Mackinac to the southern end of the lake.

Juliana, Prince to Visit Daughters

THE HAGUE, the Netherlands (INS) — The Dutch Government announced today Queen Juliana and Prince Bernhard will fly to the Greek island of Corfu Friday to join their vacationing daughters, Princesses Irene and Beatrix. The latter are on a "blue-blood" cruise sponsored by Greece's king and queen.

The government announcement confirmed a report in the London Daily Express, which also reported Juliana and Bernhard are reconciled and the Queen has expelled faith healer Greet Hofmans, cause of a serious dispute in the royal family. The Dutch Government made no mention of this report.

Italy is smaller in area than the state of New Mexico.

Spot Scarce Wildlife

DAFTER (AP) — Conservation officers reported spotting wildlife scarce to Michigan in Chippewa County, in the eastern end of the Upper Peninsula. Officer Edward Dorie sighted a pair of timber wolves and a moose recently. Dorrie also received a report that a cock pheasant was sighted south of Raci in Chippewa County. The bird was far removed from what is normally considered natural pheasant habitat.

Solve 16 Clues, WinPot-O-Gold in Press Game

The prize in the Press' summer Pot-O-Gold continues to grow. This week we add another $100 — it's the least some lucky reader can win if he or she comes up with the correct solution to Puzzle No. 12. There's no easy way to win. The best advice we can give is to read the rules carefully, analyze the clues and get your entry in before the Tuesday deadline cited in Rule No. 3. Good luck!

The puzzle consists of (1) a number of circles which contain a few scrambled letters, and (2) a corresponding list of clues to these words printed below. The object is to arrange each group of circled letters into a word that best fits its clue. The word which you select for Circle No. 1, then would be the one which you would print in the space to the right of (1) below.

You'll notice that some circles contain $ signs in pots of gold. You may use such a symbol as any letter you wish. However, it and all letters in that circle must be used. The $ sign, of course, can represent ANY letter in the word.

Do the same in all the other circles. Study the clues carefully and arrange all the letters into words that you believe best conforms to these clues. Use your $ signs to help you spell out the right words.

2. A contestant may submit as many entries as he or she wishes but they must be on official entry blanks printed in this newspaper.

3. To submit an entry the contestant must print his answer words in the proper spaces, cut out the area enclosed by dotted lines and attach it securely to a 2-cent postcard. No entries will be accepted if they are in envelopes. Entries for Puzzle No. 12 must bear a Tuesday, Aug. 28, postmark (or before). No entries received after that time, whether mailed or delivered by hand, will be declared eligible. The Press is not responsible for entries lost or delayed in the mail.

4. Sorry, telephone calls or mail concerning details of the contest cannot be answered or acknowledged.

5. The Pontiac Press will award a cash prize of $100 a week to the winner of each weekly POT-O-GOLD contest. If any week or weeks should pass without any winners, the prize will be added weekly until a winning solution is submitted.

6. Winners will be awarded an extra cash bonus of $25 each if they are Pontiac Press subscribers of record on the day winners are announced. Only one such bonus can be awarded to each prize-winner, no matter how many weekly prizes may accumulate.

7. Each week's puzzle will be published Monday, Wednesday and Friday until the contest's end, Labor Day. Either or all will be considered as official entry blanks.

8. Winners and correct solutions will be announced each Friday of the week following individual contests. Official keeper of answers will be Frederick C. Ziem, prosecutor for Oakland County. Only the General Features Corp., originators of the puzzles, will know the solutions until after each contest is over. Answers will be delivered to the Press judges by Mr. Ziem after the final deadline.

9. There is only one correct solution to the POT-O-GOLD puzzle, and only that correct answer can win. The decision of the judges is final and all contestants agree to abide by the judges' decision. All entries become the property of The Pontiac Press and none can be returned.

10. Completed puzzles must be addressed to POT-O-GOLD, POST OFFICE BOX 58, Pontiac, Michigan. Winners will be notified either by telephone or in the mails.

Americans Visit for First Time

Novosibirsk Is Thriving Soviet City

Editor's Note — Three American correspondents regularly stationed in Moscow are in Novosibirsk, Siberia, for the first time. The area has seldom been visited by any Westerners. Stanley Johnson an Associated Press correspondent from Moscow, describes the industrial city in the following dispatch.

By STANLEY JOHNSON

NOVOSIBIRSK, Soviet Union (AP) —The Soviet Union has thrown open this booming Siberian industrial center to three American correspondents.

The city of about 800,000 on the Ob River—1,750 miles east of Moscow—has been off limits to Westerners for years.

A whirlwind inspection failed to uncover any reason why Westerners had been kept out. There are no obvious security force installations or military bases.

The city is developing fast. Buildings are going up. Factories are mushrooming. The chairman of the City Soviet (council) said 400 apartment buildings with more than two million square feet of floor area will be completed this year.

The city's showplace is Krasny Prospekt (Red Prospect), the two-mile-long main street. Down its center is a broad park strip. Lining it are stores, theaters, hotels, apartment houses and government buildings. There is a luxurious 2,000-seat opera house, where we heard a troupe from Sverdlovsk, in the Urals, sing Franz Lehars' "Merry Widow" in Russian.

But aside from Krasny Prospekt, the streets are largely unpaved, the houses of wood or logs. Novosibirsk is an industrial city where the Trans - Siberian and Turkmenstan - Siberian railways join. It mills much wheat from the newly developed virgin lands. It also has large heavy - industrial plants.

It is the growth of cities such as this that Communist party boss Nikita Khrushchev is encouraging by every means, including migrations of people from all over European Russia. This reporter talked with several in responsible positions who said they like Siberia very much.

The three newsmen on tour—Welles Hangen of the New York Times, Daniel Schoor of the Columbia Broadcasting System and this correspondent—were invited to make the first thorough inspection by Western reporters of the virgin lands.

We are traveling by riverboat on the Ob to stay in tents on a new collective farm. We will view the huge new industrial complex at Kustanai, where the Russians claim to have uncovered the world's greatest iron ore deposit — even bigger than Minnesota's Mesabi range.

One GI With 19 Extra Pounds

It's the Air Force's Gain

FT. CARSON, Colo. (AP)—That fuss over 19 pounds around a professional soldier's waistline is going to cost the Army a mess sergeant.

Sgt. James Love, 34, said today the Army has quietly dropped plans to court-martial him for being overweight.

But it doesn't make much difference, Love confided. He'll resign the Army in October and enlist in the Air Force.

Love, a veteran of 12 years' service, said he was among a "handful" of 8th Infantry Division officers and men facing court-martial for failure to peel off excess fat as ordered. He weighs 212 pounds, and said he'd been ordered to trim down to 193.

A mess sergeant who admittedly likes good food, Love said his unit commander advised him yesterday that all charges against him have been dropped.

"But it doesn't make any difference," he said. "I'll complete six years of my current indefinite enlistment on Oct. 4. Then I plan to enlist in the Air Force."

Why the Air Force?

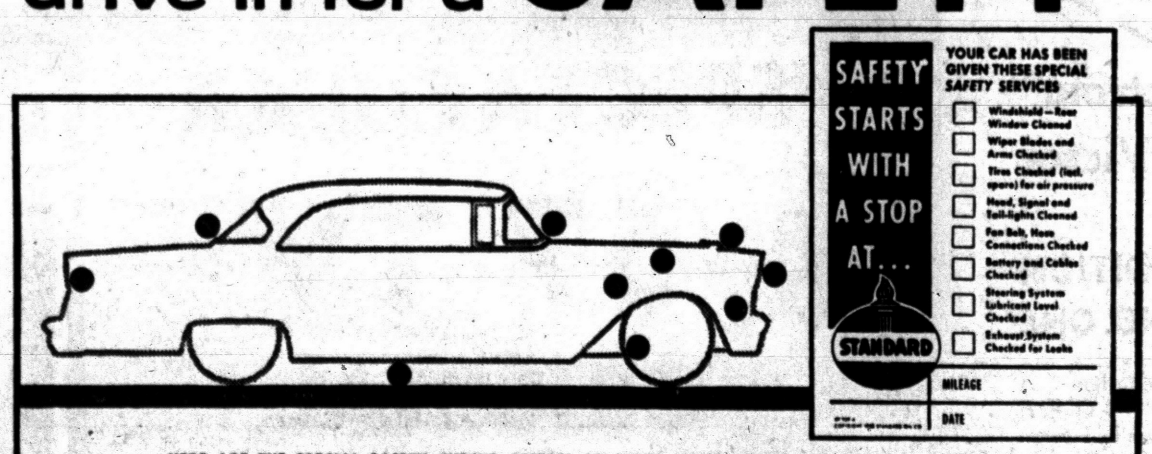

"I prefer it for obvious reasons," grinned Love, a native of Cincinnati.

Bob Considine Says:

Ike's Healthy Glow Must Dishearten Dems

SAN FRANCISCO (INS)—Dwight D. Eisenhower's dynamic appearance at the Republican convention must constitute the worst break the Democratic high command has had since the battle line of November began to be drawn.

This looked like a man who could go 10 rounds with a tiger, and, not only that, was itching to. This most certainly did not look like a man who is going to pull up a rocking chair in front of a TV camera, let Bob Montgomery smear on the pancake and the eye pencil, and espouse principles.

This was a breezy, healthy, free-swinging fellow with much more confidence than the uncertain general of four years ago.

He made it look as if it's all over but the pouting.

Henry J. Taylor, one of the abler men in the business, missed his first weekly broadcast in 11 years during the Republican convention. It would have been his 711th in a row.

Taylor, who is a distinguished financial analyst as well as intrepid domestic and foreign correspondent, looks as frail and pale as his old friend Ernie Pyle. But he has been wearing out muscle men for a generation and shows no sign of letting up on us, his biggers.

SCOFFS AT VACATION

General Motors, his sponsor, has offered Taylor a six-week vacation during each of the years he has worked for them. Taylor has scoffed at the notion.

He has never been late for a broadcast, never failed to get one in one time, even though they have come from 38 countries through the years.

Taylor has spoken 1,400,000 words over the air in the course of his broadcasts (though many, many more off the air) and these would fill 20 or 25 books.

Good-natured but hard-hitting Harry was the first U. S. war correspondent to be accredited to all the major theaters of World War II.

A single postwar broadcast on the failure of our colleges to teach American history (Taylor charged that one could graduate from Harvard, Yale, Princeton and three out of four teacher's colleges without taking the subject) resulted in 40,000 letters and cards..

Since that time, more than 200 colleges have made the course obligatory.

P.S.—He's also the undisputed mambo champion of his profession. . . . And a helluva nice bloke.

BUTTON MAKER

Chances are that if you wear a political button between now and November, Manny Ress made it. Manny is a big, balding, out-of-breath fellow who used to work in Wall street until he fell for Wendell Willkie.

He quit his job, went to work for his hero, and soon was out of work again. So was Willkie.

Manny has been playing both sides of the political fence since then. The grass has been equally green. The country is button crazy, and Manny's there in his white coat to administer to the lunacy as best he can.

Manny got interested in buttons while thinking up bright sayings as a Willkie worker, like "Win With Willkie."

He would have gone into the business as soon as Willkie lost to F. D. R., but before he could find the right spot he was grabbed by the Army and was not seen again until the end of 1945.

ANOTHER HERO

But it was water seeking a natural level. Soon, Manny had his own company and another hero. This new hero, Dwight D. Eisenhower, sold 75,000,000 "I Like Ike" buttons. Manny says he is the author of that tricky slogan but mourns that in his game there is no such thing as the copyright.

He has done pretty well at San Francisco by taking not only the pro and con on the Stassen-Nixon row but also the hyphen. One of his buttons says "Dump Everybody!"

A Nixon supporter ordered 25,000 of his "Ike and Dick—Sure to Click" buttons at 12½ cents each.

Manny can't understand why his "Yeersoya" button is moving slowly. Before he could be asked what it meant, Manny said, "Everybody should know it stands for 'You Can't Elect Republicans Sitting on Your Aspiration.' "

It was pretty mortifying, having to have it explained.

Adlai Steps Up Speech Writing

Grass Roots Campaign Is Expected to Reach Thousands of Voters

LIBERTYVILLE, Ill. (AP)—Adlai Stevenson stepped up the pace of his speech writing today in preparation for his departure Monday on a campaign schedule that will keep him on the road almost continuously until election eve.

Facing the 1952 landslide team of Eisenhower and Nixon again, he has told friends that his hopes for victory lie in personal contacts with thousands of voters in every crucial state.

The Democratic presidential nominee got an idea of what he is up against last night as he watched a telecast of President Eisenhower's acceptance speech at the Republican National Convention. But he had no comment on his rival's talk before retiring at his sheep-farm home near here.

Stevenson is in continuous telephone contact with James A. Finnegan, his campaign manager, and chief strategist on what they call a program for the "greatest grass roots campaign in political history."

Stevenson is counting heavily on conferences he and Sen. Estes Kefauver, the Democratic vice presidential nominee, will hold next week with state and local party officials and workers in five regions of the country.

Other such conferences in additional areas will be set up for the following weeks.

The idea is to get advice at the grass roots on what areas should be campaigned most thoroughly and on what issues to stress in an effort to rally Democratic voters to the polls.

Cadillac Man Drowns

CADILLAC (AP) — A Cadillac grocer, Morris Mattison, 28, drowned Thursday in Lake Mitchell near here. The boat in which he was fishing overturned. Two companions were rescued.

New York Boy Likes California —and Proves It

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Seven-year-old Larry Ford had a big decision to make, and he made it manfully.

Larry had been visiting two weeks in California with his father William of suburban Arcadia, who is separated from the boy's mother. Ford placed his son aboard a plane at international airport.

Waiting at the New York end of the flight was Mrs. Veronica Ford of Westbury, L.I.

Ford watched the plane take off and left the airport.

Larry wasn't aboard the plane. He had climbed out. Police at the airport picked him up. He had spent half of his $6 pocket money on candy.

When his father was summoned, Larry told him: "I don't like New York. I like it better here, and I want to go fishing with you some more."

But Larry's decision had to be reversed. He was placed aboard the next plane for New York. This time he was asleep.

National Polio Cases Halved

State Shows Increase With Twice as Many for Latest Test Period

WASHINGTON (AP) — The states reported 902 polio cases last week, considerably less than half the 2,134 during the comparative week last year. The total continued to run lower than in any comparative week since 1947.

The Public Health Service said today there was no large numerical increase last week in any state except Michigan, which had 62 cases compared with 32 in the week ended Aug. 11.

Last week's national total was 19 greater than the 883 in the preceding week. The increase in the comparative 1955 weeks was 355.

Chicago, where there is a severe outbreak in some areas of the city, reported 133 cases, a drop from 166 in the preceding week.

Illinois had 180 cases, down from 218 in the week ended Aug. 11.

A spokesman said Chicago continued to be the only specific area in which there was a heavy concentration of cases.

He said records indicated any week now might be the peak week for 1956, based on past years.

In order, states with the most cases last week were: Illinois 180, California 65, Michigan 62, Iowa 54, and New York and Texas 45 each.

There were 7,095 cases reported this calendar year through Aug. 18, compared with 11,848 for the similar 1955 span.

For the disease year, which started April 1, there had been 6,028 cases compared with 10,785.

ON MISSING PLANE — The Navy Department has announced that Lt. James B. Deane Jr., (above) of Grand Rapids, was a member of the crew of a Navy patrol plane missing off the coast of Red China after an attack by an unidentified plane. The Navy plane carried a crew of 16 men. Deane was one of four officers. The Navy has started an intensive air and sea search for the plane and any survivors.

'Bella Napoli'—Treasure Chest for Connivers

NAPLES (AP) — See Naples and cry.

That may be the tourists experience in "Bella Napoli" if he doesn't hold on to his wallet.

Rounding up reports from all foreign consuls in the city, Dutch Consul General Charles M. Dozy reported that foreign visitors lost some $800,000 in money and valuables last year.

They were robbed in many and ingenious ways. Take the case of a young lady from France who lost more than $200 in local currency, her jewelry, cameras and all her luggage.

She left her baggage in the hall of her hotel, waiting for a taxi to take her to the station. A young man, dressed as a hotel porter, picked up the bags and carried them outside. She never saw him — or her belongings — again.

For reasons locally unknown, French tourists are the favorite victims. They report 8 to 10 thefts a day. Then come the Germans. Dutch victims number a dozen a week. But reports involving supposedly rich and extravagant Americans are few.

Farley, Hit by Card, Gets Eye Operation

NEW YORK (AP)—James A. Farley, who was hit in the face by a flying scorecard at the Democratic convention, underwent an emergency operation on his right eye yesterday.

Farley's office said later that, barring complications, his eyesight will not be impaired.

The former postmaster general and Democratic national chairman was reported "resting comfortably" after the operation at Manhattan Eye, Ear and Throat Hospital.

The operation was "for the correction of a detached retina," Farley's office said.

Farley, 68, was hit in the face by a card thrown in the crowd in the burst of enthusiasm last Thursday night when Adlai E. Stevenson was nominated for president in Chicago.

The first federal mint was established in 1792.

Urkainian-Pole Hate Growing

Communist Radio Tells of Mass Anger Brewing in Eastern Europe

NEW YORK (AP)—Warsaw broadcasts reveal that relations between Poles and Ukrainians in Poland are characterized by extremes of hatred and bitterness.

The Communist radio has appealed for mutual understanding between the two nationalities. It admitted the Polish Communist government was guilty of mass expulsion of Ukrainian families from their homes in southeastern Poland after World War II.

The Polish radio indicated some Ukrainians, returning to their former homes, in turn threatened to expel their Polish neighbors by force. The broadcasts attempted to calm the fears of Poles now living on land taken from Ukrainians. The radio said only a few Ukrainians would be permitted to resettle in their original homes, that Poles would retain most of these farms.

The broadcasts point to several important conclusions:

1. Almost all Ukrainians were involved actively or passively in revolt against Communist Poland and supported in some degree the nationalist Ukrainian bands which carried on armed warfare against the Russians and the Poles.

2. Extreme measures were adopted against Ukrainians on a mass basis. Those who were not liquidated were moved to areas seized from Germany to be scattered among Poles. The idea was to frustrate any further organized resistance.

3. Polish hate for the Ukrainians was so intense that many Ukrainians concealed their Ukrainian origin, even from their own children.

The Red radio issued an unmistakable warning to Ukrainians that the seizure of their farms in eastern Poland is generally speaking "an irrevocable act."

Admits Beer Theft, Given Probation

Need Doilies?---The Navy (?) Has 'Em for Sale

By VICKY MICU

To Mrs. Housewife and Mr. Handyman in need of a few thousand doilies and a boxcar of circuit breakers, the Naval Supply Depot at Great Lakes, Ill. offers them to the highest bidder.

Stamp collectors now can buy Monaco's Grace Kelly stamp. Wheat acreage allotments for 1957 in Oakland County is 11,578 acres . . .

Such informative tid-bits abound on the bulletin boards of Pontiac's public buildings. A pleasant afternoon can be spent reading these notices providing you can interpret technical terms and duck low-flying courthouse pigeons.

For instance, should you want to know the current mortgage sales and foreclosures, the Oakland County Court House is the place. You can also scan repossessed car notices and pick the best buys.

THEY AGE QUICKLY

Old notices are usually the most interesting. That standing joke about all notices on public buildings dating back to 1902 is only half true. Dirt, rain, and pigeons make all the notices age fifty years in one week.

The city library and city hall carry bulletins ranging from tornado leaflets to "litter bug" cartoons to estimates of current films. But by far the best place to catch up on reading is — the post office.

In the post office, you learn that in addition to doilies and circuit breakers, the Naval Supply Depot is offering china bowls, firepots, welding tables, and cruising turbine engines.

AND THERE'S MORE

Stamp news and wheat allotments are supplemented with bulletins announcing that:

". . . the parcel post package you sent with an incomplete address is being auctioned off in Chicago in a kind of giant "grab bag" with many other packages also incompletely addressed.

. . . if you are in the laundering and dry cleaning businesses, Selfridge Air Force Base could use your services for the base hospital.

. . . Civil Service jobs are available both home and abroad for draftsmen, stenographers, engineering aids, and mechanics,

. . . who was wanted for a post office burglary four years ago.

One walks away from these bulletins informed, yet curious.

Good Filters: Poor Tobacco

Flue Cured Growers Claim New Cigarettes Lack in Quality

RALEIGH, N. C. (AP)—Flue-cured tobacco growers are feeling the effects of a revolution in the cigarette smoking habits of the American people — the swing toward filter tip cigarettes.

The growers used to work hard to produce a light-colored and light bodied leaf which brought premium prices at the market place for use in standard cigarettes.

In the last three years growers have seen the demand for this type of leaf decline while buyers were bidding strongly for darker, heavier-bodied, more aromatic leaf that used to be considered low and medium quality.

"What we have known as quality all these years is not quality now," said L. T. Weeks, general manager of the Flue-Cured Tobacco Stabilization Corp., which operates the government price support program for flue-cured tobacco.

SUPPORTS LOWER GRADES

Weeks suggested a revaluation of what constitutes top grade and low grade leaf may be in order.

The U. S. Department of Agriculture has recognized the change in demand by reducing support prices on some better grades of tobacco and boosting the supports on some lower grades.

W. P. Hedrick, tobacco marketing specialist for the North Carolina Department of Agriculture, said the change to filters is "the biggest reason" for the change in the price patterns. He added, "naturally the tobacco has to have more aroma to get any flavor at all through the filters."

Hedrick added that last year filter tips accounted for about 20 per cent of domestic tobacco production and this year about 30 per cent of the production is filter tips. And, he said, "I don't know where this demand for filter tips is going to stop."

Hot Dogs Given Diplomatic Hello at London Airport

LONDON (AP)—There was ceremony suitable for a visiting foreign minister when the big Pan American World Airways plane landed. The airport place swarmed with officials.

Attendants swiftly rolled out 1,000 pounds of hot dogs from Chicago.

In a ship in the Port of London were an additional 24,000 pounds of frankfurters, which will be given to Londoners, who know nothing about proper hot dogs, at a big fair here next week.

On hand to meet the plane, and to certify that the hot dogs were genuine, was A. P. Davies of Chicago, director of the livestock section of the American Meat Institute.

In the way they will be cut at the fair the two shipments will add up to 400,000 hot dogs. There is a regulation at the fair which says that a whole hot dog counts as a meal, and does not fall into the category of a sample. So Londoners will get half a hot dog at a time.

* * *

"A sort of hot pup," said Davies. "The buns will be baked of American flour, and there will be a couple of hundredweight of mustard."

Son of Rhee's Foe Wins Assembly Seat

SEOUL (AP)—A son of Syngman Rhee's strongest opponent in the recent presidential election — the late Patrick Henry Shinicky—has won his father's National Assembly seat in an emotion - packed election.

The elder Shinicky died just before the presidential election but his name on the ballot drew a a heavy vote.

Final returns from Kwangju, home district of the former head of the opposition party, gave Shinicky's son Shin Ya Kyeen a slim winning edge over the candidate from President Rhee's Liberal party. Shin will serve the remaining two years of his father's legislative term.

The Democrats drafted 38-year-old Shin, who teaches Chinese at the foreign language college in Seoul, and put up their biggest guns to stump for him.

Ask Ferry Service Across Saginaw Bay

PORT AUSTIN (AP) — Regular Ferry Service across the mouth of Saginaw Bay will be asked by Thumb area groups when a state legislative interim committee meets at Port Austin next Tuesday.

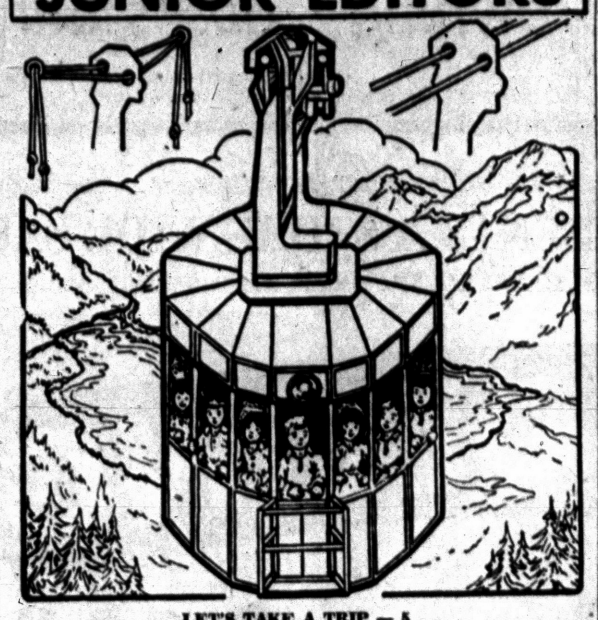

The greater Port Huron-Marysville Chamber of Commerce said yesterday it would request that one or more of the Straits of Mackinac ferries be put into service on the day, traveling between Port Austin and Tawas.

The ferries will no longer be needed at the Straits of Mackinac when the new Straits bridge is opened to traffic

Chamber of Commerce spokesmen said the proposed ferry service would provide a shortcut around the busy Saginaw-Bay City area for weekend summer travel.

LET'S TAKE A TRIP — 5
Cannon Mountain

In New Hampshire a modern thrill has been added to the beautiful scenery of the White Mountains. It is the Cannon Mountain Aerial Passenger tramway at Franconia Notch, where the "great stone face" appears in a rock formation at the mountainside.

The tram-cars, hung on steel cables borne by three massive towers, carry 27 passengers for an eight minute ride of more than a mile. Passengers get a wonderful view of the surrounding countryside as the many-windowed cars rise 2,022 feet from the Valley Station to the Mountain Station. The cars are operated by the state of New Hampshire.

This picture shows Lake Echo in the background. Color it with your crayons, paste it on cardboard and hang it up by a cord through the holes indicated, so you can add it to your collection.

To make the car travel, cut it away and thread two strings through the holes at the top of the suspension bracket, as the diagram shows. Choose two posts or trees and put a screw eye at the top of each. Then thread the strings through and knot them, as the second diagram shows. Take hold of the two ends nearest you and pull the car towards you. Then take, or get a friend to take, the other ends and send it back again.

(Beverly Webber, Portsmouth, N. H., suggested this idea first. Perhaps you have an idea for Junior Editors. If so send it in care of this newspaper and it may be worth $10 to you. Violet Moore Higgins; AP Newsfeatures.)

Police to Investigate

Death of '20s Heroine Peaches Browning Causes Stir

NEW YORK (INS)—A long forgotten tabloid heroine of the giddy 1920's, Peaches Browning, is dead and death has caused a stir today because it was improperly reported to authorities.

The acting medical examiner of New York City, Sidney Weinberg, noticeably annoyed because his office had to learn from newsmen that the child bride of 30 years ago died yesterday, ordered an autopsy to be performed today.

Police said they would investigate the death, although there was no suggestion that the circumstances surrounding it were other than accidental.

Peaches, whose oft-changed name at death was Mrs. Frances Heenan Willson, was admitted to New York hospital last Sunday in a coma after falling in the bathroom of her Manhattan apartment.

PEACHES

IN SPOTLIGHT AT 15

She was 46, an age that was old because she entered the limelight at 15 as the sweetheart, then bride, then bitter court enemy of Edward (Daddy) Browning, a wealthy real estate man 36 years her senior.

Their romance and the flamboyant reporting of their sensational divorce trial was a highlight, or low mark, of the age of bathtub gin and the get-rich-quick stock market.

Peaches was a plump and pouty high school girl when she met Browning at a sorority dance in 1926. Soon she was living in an expensive apartment house and driving to school in Browning's chauffeured limousine.

MARRIED IN '26

With her parents' consent, Peaches and Browning were married April 10, 1926. He announced a short time later he was spending $1,000 a day in gifts for Peaches because he loved her so much.

A few months later, they were battling in court in one of the most widely reported and most sensational trials of the decade.

Peaches won a legal separation but still was Mrs. Browning when Daddy died in 1936. She reportedly received $170,000 in cash and property as his widow although he had disinherited her in his will.

She spent several years in show business after leaving Browning, and was married and divorced three times.

LIVED WITH MOM

In recent years, she devoted her time to managing her real estate holdings.

She lived with her mother, Mrs. Caroline Heenan, in an apartment in Manhattan's expensive East 50s.

Mrs. Heenan found her daughter unconscious Sunday morning and called a doctor who directed that she be kept warm and comfortable. Because of her medical history—said by officials to include epilepsy and alcoholism—the physician was in no hurry to make the call, and did not arrive until eight hours later.

A small bump, presumably caused by a fall, was found behind Peaches' ear and she was taken to New York hospital where she remained unconscious until her death.

No report was made to police or the medical examiner as in normal procedure in such cases.

Won't Wash Windows

MONROE (AP)—Irked because his sister asked him to wash windows, Owen Luce, 28, according to state police, tried to get out of the task by setting fire to the house. However, all he burned were a bedstead and a suitcase. He pleaded guilty in justice court to malicious destruction of property and was sent to jail for 20 days and fined $25.

Excavations at Ephesus, ancient city of Ionia, are continuing under auspices of the Austrain Institute of Archaeology, Vienna reports.

Shampoo Frequently for Healthier Hair

The best way to encourage hair to thrive is to keep the scalp clean and healthy, and a regular weekly shampoo does just that.

An active child who plays hard most of the day naturally perspires freely. And since the scalp is part of the skin, it gets damp just like the rest of the body and needs soap-and-water cleansing.

So, if you want your child to have healthy hair, do your part by shampooing it often and trust nature to do the rest.

Typing Skill Key to Part Time Job

By ANNE HEYWOOD

There are times in many lives when the whole answer to a problem could lie in the ability to get a part time job.

For example, the mother with school-age children who needs money for an extra emergency; the girl in a job which offers a future but not enough to live on; the schoolteacher who loves teaching but needs more money; the "maiden aunt" who takes care of elderly, ill parents and needs a change of atmosphere.

All these people could benefit from having a part time job.

I know a mother, for instance, whose part time job brought in the money for the children's college.

I know a young secretary who supplemented her regular job by working two evenings until nine and Saturday morning.

EARNS LUXURIES

I know a schoolteacher whose summer part time job enables his family to have the luxuries few teachers' families have.

And I know a woman who cares for her aged mother three days a week and breaks the monotony, as well as getting extra luxuries, by having a part time job the other two days.

"Yes, I know," people will frequently say, "but in my community there are no part time jobs at all."

And then it always turns out that they don't know how to type, and aren't planning to learn. Because the truth is, that anybody in our society today, who is a good typist, can get a part time job just about anywhere.

Why it should be necessary to reiterate this so often, I don't know. Typing is well known to be the best business skill there is.

It is transferable to almost any field; it can be added to almost any other talent to make a salable combination; it can be done for a regular business organization or on your own; and almost anybody can learn it reasonably quickly.

LEARN TO TYPE

If you would like to widen your horizons and open up job possibilities regardless of what your community may offer, learn to type.

It can be done in a school or it can be done at home. And it will change your employment prospects, for full or part time work, better than anything I know.

If you'd like to teach yourself to type, send me a stamped, self-addressed envelope in care of this newspaper and I'll send you a list of good books on the subject.

Group Asks How to Split Expenses

Get Separate Check for Cocktails Since Some Don't Drink

By EMILY POST

Dear Mrs. Post: "We are ten couples who have been putting aside a small amount of money each week for an evening at a well-known supper club. We all have the same amount in the 'kitty,' which we figure should cover the price of dinner. However, there are some in the group who undoubtedly will have cocktails which, of course, will bring the bill up a good deal.

"Should the others in the group be expected to pay this additional expense, or would it be proper to ask those who had cocktails to pay for them?"

Answer: Under the circumstances you describe, the fairest plan is to ask for a separate check for the cocktails.

Dear Mrs. Post: "When going to someone's house and the host or hostess invites you to sit down, isn't "thank you" the courteous reply to make?"

Answer: It is as out of place to thank a friend for inviting you to sit down in her house as it would be to say thank you for speaking to me.

If your host brings a chair forward for you to sit on, you would naturally say "thank you." This would be for his effort and not for his inviting you to be seated.

Dear Mrs. Post: "Will you please tell me what the young woman who catches the bouquet at the wedding is supposed to do with it? I have been told that she is supposed to give it to the bride's mother who keeps it for her. Is this correct?

Answer: There's no rule about it at all, but usually she keeps it herself.

'Formula' and 'Crash' Diets Under Attack by Doctors

Say 'Dangerous' Low-Protein Methods May Cause Liver and Tissue Damage

WASHINGTON (INS) — The American Medical Association warned today that so-called "fabulous formula" and "crash" diets may be "harmful to health or even endanger life."

Two doctors and the AMA Council on Foods and Nutrition sharply questioned the "practicality, safety and effectiveness" of the new widely-heralded low protein diets in an article in the current AMA Journal.

The diets, described as "revolutionary new ways for fat persons to lose from two to five pounds in a week," caught on throughout the nation after publicity in the two national magazines.

One of the most popular is a mix-your-own-version of mother's milk. Men and women can concoct their own formula, using evaporated milk, corn oil and dextrose.

ATTACKED BY DOCTORS

Joining in the attack on the "do-it-yourself" dieters were Dr. Norman Jolliffe of the New York City Department of Health and Dr. Vincent P. Dole of the Rockefeller Institute of Medical Research, New York.

Dr. Dole challenged the use of the term "Rockefeller Formula Diet" in publicity, declaring that the low-protein diet was "only one of many" experimental diets tested.

Drs. Jolliffe and Dole and the AMA Council made these points in their indictment:

1. The diets are dangerously low in protein content.

2. Anyone staying on these diets runs the risk of serious body tissue damage, particularly to the liver.

SHORT IN AMINO ACIDS

3. The diets are short in amino acids—the body's building blocks—and "woefully inadequate" in iron.

4. The "experimental character" of these diets "makes it imperative for the physician to recommend use only after careful investigation."

5. "Weight reduction may be harmful to health or even endanger life if undertaken without full understanding of the problem."

6. Choice of any particular diet is a matter of convenience since "the physician, not the diet, reduces the fat patient."

Dr. Jolliffe noted:

"Fortunately, few people will adhere to these diets for long, so no great harm will be done other than to deplete the labile protein stores that the body in its wisdom has devised to protect us foolish mortals."

How to Rinse Away Your Blackheads

By CLAIRE HOFFMAN

New York, N. Y.—A leading skin doctor today showed an audience of men, women and skin-troubled teenagers how to clean oily skin and shrink enlarged pores with a 10-minute home medical treatment he has perfected. Then he demonstrated how you may rinse away externally caused blackheads, whiteheads and dry up adolescent pimply skin eruptions.

Before our very eyes the doctor selected a 36-year-old woman with typically oily skin. This woman had blackheads around her nose, enlarged pores and whiteheads visible to the naked eye. To this woman's face the doctor applied a cream. Within moments it firmed into a plastic-like mask. Next he sprinkled her face with water, and handed her an ordinary washcloth to rinse the mask from her skin. To her utter astonishment, clinging to the washcloth were not only grimy streaks of dirt...but several blackheads which had marred her beauty for years.

As we stared at the washcloth in disbelief, the doctor's assistant turned to us and said: "You have just seen what looks like a miracle. Yet, what has just been done for this woman's skin, you can do at home just as easily. But to understand how this formula acts to help clear skin troubles you must first knock out of your head some silly notions most people have about their complexions."

The Truth About Cosmetics

Has it ever occurred to you that you lavish more care on your face than any other part of your body ...yet isn't that where you find the most pimples, blackheads, blemishes and enlarged pores? So what do you do about it?

Nine out of 10 women simply don't or won't understand that if they have oily skins, blackheads, pimples or enlarged pores, they may not only have a cosmetic problem...but a medical problem as well.

Now why is this so? Shocking as it seems, if nature gave you either a normal or oily skin, your face is always dirty! Why? Because 24 hours a day your face is always exposed to soot, smoke, factory dirt, car exhaust, coal dust, noxious fumes and other germ-laden dirt that pours into the air. It clings to the natural oils of your skin.

Your pores become choked and clogged. Your natural oils are stopped up and hardened into blackheads or pimples. They try to push out, forcing your pores to open wider and wider. Once this condition starts (especially during adolescence, when glandular disturbances make your skin extra oily) the condition usually grows worse and worse as you grow older. And when this happens...isn't it obvious that it may become impossible to correct unless you start to change your complexion care immediately?

Do This For A Cleaner Skin

If you want to rid your face of ugly blackheads, enlarged pores and externally caused skin eruptions, these are the three things you must do:

First you must soften the hardened dirt and oils that may have accumulated in your pore openings! Second, you must remove that dirt. (But don't squeeze it out. Squeezing only forces part of the dirt deeper into your skin.) And third, you must try to tighten your skin with shrinking and antiseptic agents, not only for beauty, but to guard you against reinfection! And unless you are prepared to do all three things, it's likely you will go on wasting your time and your money the rest of your life looking for "miracle cures!"

What Happens When You Apply This Doctor's 3-Way Formula

First to prepare your skin for treatment we are going to soften and loosen the buried dirt cemented into your pores. The scientific pore cleanser which is Part One of this famous skin doctor's treatment is unlike any other cleanser you have ever used in your life, regardless of how much you can afford to pay. And here is how you can prove it on your skin.

Apply the doctor's scientific pore cleanser. Tissue it off! Now look at the tissue!

When you see the gray streaks of dirt that come off—even after having creamed your face with any other cleanser—then will you begin to understand why you need a drastic change in complexion care.

(2) The second part of your doctor's treatment is a medicated masque which you apply.

Apply it to your face with your fingertips as you would any cream. A little thicker around the "danger area"...namely around the nose, lips, eyes and cheeks.

The first 3 or 4 minutes you will feel a strong stimulation. This is the massaging action of the medical ingredients going to work on your skin. Your face will feel alternately hot and cold. You will like it. Your skin will feel refreshed. It is like a massage without irritation, bringing fresh, purifying blood to your face to draw off the blemish causing wastes in your pores.

After a few minutes this hot and cold action goes away and a wonderful relaxation of all your tense, over-worked facial muscles sets in. Your pulse tends to slow down and you are so relaxed you feel a great tendency to fall asleep. In another moment you will feel your skin getting tighter and tighter. What is happening is this: A wonderful medical absorbing agent doctors call ARGILLA is drying on your skin. It is turning the cream on your face into a firm, plastic-like mask. You get a pleasant, drawing feeling, a relaxing feeling, there is a corrective action, there is an astringent action and an antiseptic action. You feel the ARGILLA drawing on the blackheads. Everything it touches perspiration, pore dirt, hardened oils even blackheads and whiteheads that have resisted removal for months.

After 10 minutes rinse the mask away. Hot or cold water makes no difference. It dissolves in a second. Your skin feels clean, refreshed, sparkling, smoother! Like velvet! But wait...you haven't finished your first treatment yet!

Now Apply Step 3 of Your Treatment...The Astringent

This is not merely a perfumed alcohol that tickles your skin for a few seconds. It's medicated. It penetrates into your pore openings. Kills bacteria lurking there. And even more important, leaves an invisible germ-destroying film on your skin that kills germs for hours.

Now Look Into Your Mirror!

Some of your blackheads should be gone with the very first treatment! Look for softened pimples and whiteheads that may break or be drawn out in your next treatment or two. Look at the corners of the nose, around your mouth, your cheekbones! See how your enlarged pores have tightened! Your skin will feel alive! And you will be amazed to see minor wrinkles softened—almost ironed out! And this fresh, buoyant, youthful effect will last for hours.

Is This For Normal Skin, Too?

Certainly. Simply because this is a doctor's formula doesn't mean that you have to have a "sick skin" to use it. You may be a woman past 30 who has never had a really serious skin problem, but who suspects that your skin is not as beautiful and freshlooking as it could be... but your cosmetic creams can't give it to you. In that case...we think you'll be thrilled by the sheer, smooth, silken beauty that one or two treatments can give you.

On the other hand...if you have an adolescent, broken-out skin; if you are a man who is troubled by blemishes or a "sandpaper skin" and you are sensible enough not to be ashamed to use a so-called "woman's treatment" in the privacy of your own home...or if you are a woman who has abused her complexion with improper and inadequate cosmetic preparations... then this is vital.

We promise you dramatic improvement with your first 15-minute home treatment. Your mirror will show it to you, and we promise you further rapid improvement for the next 14 days.

After 14 days, you will discover whether you have to keep using all or part of the treatment every day, once a week, or once a month, depending on how fast your complexion begins to clear.

Try This Skin Treatment In Your Own Home Without Risking A Penny!

The name of this 3-day doctor's formula is the Queen Helene Skin Treatment. It is named in honor of the nurse who worked at the doctor's side for 15 years while this formula was being developed. Wait Until Baby Comes to Exercise

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN
(Friday Question Box)

Q. "Could you give me an answer to a problem of mine? Should a pregnant woman try to trim her hips and thighs with exercise?

"I am five months pregnant and my hips are larger than they were. My husband says that a woman would have to exercise an hour a day to show results."

A. You should wait until after the birth of your child, and begin molding exercises then whenever your doctor says you can. These might be dangerous for you now.

Your husband is wrong. Twenty or 30 minutes a day will bring lovely results in figure improvement.

Q. "Is there some way I can slim my cheeks. My face seems to be a little flabby but my body is the right size."

A. I do not know of any way to make the cheeks slimmer except through a general loss of weight. However I believe that facial exercises will improve the contour of the face.

CAN'T RESIST FOOD

Q. "My friends say that I am just right but I think I am a lot overweight. My mother cooks rich foods I cannot resist. My measurements are 33 inch bust, 33¾ hips and 26½ inch waist. I am almost 14 years old. I weigh 126 pounds."

A. You did not give me your height and therefore I cannot say whether or not you are too fat. However from your measurements I certainly would say that you are not. Your bust and hip measurements are in proportion and are small.

Your waist is too large but that is only natural at your age. You will probably slim down through the middle within a few years with no effort at all.

A. "I am 15 years old. I am 5 feet, 1½ inches tall and weigh 94 pounds. My bust measures 31, waist 25, and hips 31 inches. Please tell me what is wrong with my figure."

A. You are underweight and should gain at least 12 pounds.

FRECKLES PROBLEM

Q. "Will you tell me how to prevent freckles? Also would one of the screening creams help?"

A. The best way to prevent freckles is to stay out of the sun but who wants to do that? Yes, one of the screening creams will be helpful.

A. "I am 30 years old and weigh 130 pounds. I am 5 feet, 7 inches tall. My bust measures 34, waist 27 and hips 35 inches. Please tell me what is wrong with my figure."

A. You should lose a bit from your waistline. However, you are underweight for your height. I suggest you gain from 5 to 10 pounds and take waist slimming exercises.

You can begin figure molding exercises after the birth of your child whenever your doctor says you can.

Paul Douglas, Jan Sterling Don't Date Others

Hollywood Pair Have Marriage Pact

HOLLYWOOD (INS) — Paul Douglas and Jan Sterling have figured out a way to make their marriage last—they just don't date anybody but each other.

At first glance this seems like the usual husband-wife arrangement, but movieland isn't like Main Street. A Hollywood actress like Jan Sterling may miss many a party, premiere and similar event which she should attend under this system, such as those that took place when Douglas was on location in Washington and New York for "The Solid Gold Cadillac."

But what happens if a screen star attends an affair escorted by a man not her husband, even though it's strictly business? Gossip rips through the picture town like fire through a dry forest and that's when marital mixups begin.

"So Jan and I have this agreement," Douglas said. "If one is out of town, the other doesn't go out. It's tougher for Jan than for me, because I can go to parties alone. But there aren't many affairs a woman can go to by herself."

When at home, the Douglases live in the Hills in a house that formerly belonged to another famous Douglas family—Melvyn and Helen Gahagan.

"There's all kinds of wild life out our way," Douglas said, "even though it's only 20 minutes out of town.

"A little baby skunk wandered into the house the other day and a few days ago a wild partridge walked up to the swimming pool for a drink. We fed him and he was back again the next day, scratching away at the kitchen door. He comes around for breakfast every day now."

Douglas, who parts ranging from Wall Street wizard to tough truck driver, was delighted when he discovered Judy Holiday was his leading lady in the movie version of the stage play, "Solid Gold Cadillac."

"It's like working in Fort Knox," he said, beaming broadly. "We knew each other technically and we had that feeling of security and success right from the beginning. It's always a big help to have worked with your leading lady before."

"There are only two people who can play those leads," Douglas answered quickly. "Judy Holiday and myself."

Big Part of Vacation Fun Is 'Getting Back to It All'

Friends, Old Routine, Even Problems Look Good; If Not, Something's Wrong

By RUTH MILLETT

We talk about taking vacations to "get away from it all." But one of the best things about a vacation is "coming back to it all."

Getting back to the old routines that give stability and purpose to living.

Getting back to friends, eager to share our vacation experiences with those who are fond enough of us to listen with a show of real interest to all we are eager to tell.

Getting back to our town, the place where we never feel like strangers.

Getting back to our plans and dreams and ambitions, left behind us when we started out so eagerly to "get away from it all.

PROBLEMS EASIER

Getting back to unsolved problems, which don't seem quite so big any more and which we are now ready to tackle anew feeling strong with the thought that we are equal to them, whatever they are.

Getting back to the responsibilities that make us feel important and needed.

Getting back to all the unfinished business of our lives, the jobs left waiting until we returned to be completed.

Getting back to habits and comforts and conveniences with a new appreciation for what they mean to us.

Getting back to our homes which never looked so inviting, so downright homelike as after a spell of being away from them and living in strange places.

So there are really two reasons for a vacation and one is just as important as the other—"getting away from it all' and "getting back to it all."

If we don't relish getting back as much as getting away, then there is something more seriously wrong with our lives than any vacation could cure.

Roll out and cut with a doughnut cutter. Fry a few at a time in fat heated to 360-370 degrees. Drain on paper towels and shake in confectioners' sugar if desired.

Day Is Joyful One for Eisenhower-Nixon Team

Table Settings Point Up Beauty of Bare Wood

European decorators believe in letting natural beauty show anywhere possible, so that wood surfaces on tables and shelves are uncovered as much as possible.

In a recent exhibit by Holland at the International Home Building Exposition in New York, a beautiful wood table was set for dinner without a cloth or even a place mat.

The Japan exhibit nearby also showed a wood coffee table unprotected by plastic or any mat under ashtrays, etc.

Torch Candles From Japan Win Favor

Japanese ceremonial torch candles are the latest decorative touch for modern American dining areas.

Decorators at the International Home Furnishings Market in Chicago used them on buffets and on tables.

The candles which are wide on the top and narrow on the bottom fit into a brass holder. Unlike most, they are used singly — not in pairs.

Mamie Has Purple Satin Dress, Hat

Pat Dons a Gray Suit for Big Event Held Thursday

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—It was a big and joyful day yesterday for the women of the Eisenhower-Nixon team.

When President Eisenhower and Vice President Nixon stood before the Republican National Convention to accept renomination, their wives were at their sides, carrying big bouquets of red roses and sharing the plaudits of the delegates.

Mamie Eisenhower wore a royal purple satin dress and hat as she waved a white gloved hand at the crowds.

Pat Nixon, in a charcoal gray channel suit and black velvet hat, told reporters that she would campaign with her husband—"We go as a team."

Mrs. Eisenhower and Mrs. Nixon kissed each other on the cheek in full view of the convention and the television audience.

The children of both families missed the convention. The Nixons had thought about bringing their two daughters, Patricia, 10, and Julie, 8. But the girls stayed in southern California with their grandmother.

The four Eisenhower grandchildren were left behind in Washington. They are David, 8; Barbara Ann, 7; Susan, 4, and Mary Jean, 8 months.

Their parents, Maj. and Mrs. John Eisenhower, sat on the platform behind the President and First Lady. Slender young Barbara Eisenhower wore a navy blue taffeta dress with a full skirt. She had a tiny white lace hat on her brown hair.

The First Lady smiled and shrugged her shoulders in mock dismay when Republican National Chairman Leonard W. Hall summoned her to the podium and called her "Grandmother Eisenhower."

For grandson David, Hall gave Mrs. Eisenhower a badge of bronze medallions and red and white striped ribbon to show the boy he had been made honorary chairman of the convention.

Area Tackles Growth Problem

South County Schools Fail to Pace Enrollment Growth

Building programs not catching up with increases in school enrollments are causing staggered sessions in Oak Park, Hazel Park and Clawson, while other Southern Oakland County towns fare better.

With about 4,000 expected to enroll at Oak Park, 2,100 students will be on staggered sessions. Full day plan will start Nov. 1 with completion of Pepper, Dewey and Lessenger Elementary Schools.

An addition to Oak Park High School will be finished in January with the entire building done by the latter part of 1957.

Twelve first-grade school rooms are among needs in the Hazel Park system.

There, 7,434 pupils are expected. Ten rooms will be needed in the junior high and twenty in the high school. All schools will have staggered sessions.

Hazel Parkers turned down an eight and one-half million dollar building program on June 11.

Clawson's staggered sessions will be necessary because steel shortages have delayed additions to McDonald and Kenwood elementary schools for a year. About 2,700 will enroll.

Berkley will have full sessions for its 7,600 students, and will be using its newly-completed Junior High School on Catalpa.

Royal Oak will enroll 16,000 students, with full sessions due to completion of the additions to Mark Twain elementary and Dondero High schools.

Kimball High School and Jefferson Elementary School will be done in Januaary, marking the end of Royal Oak's fourteen and one-half million dollar building program.

With about 6,000 enrolling in Southfield Schools, in both Southfield township and Lathrup Village, all students will be on full schedule except for kindergarteners. They'll be on half days as in the past several years.

The new Lederle School at Nine Mile and Evergreen Roads is complete and additions to Brace, McKinley and Anglin Road Elementary Schools will be finished late this fall.

Boy, 4, OK After Fall Dents Skull

MARLETTE — When four-year-old Paul Sentz fell 18 feet from a barn rafter to a cement floor, late Wednesday, he received a depressed skull fracture. His mother, Mrs. Pauline Sentz rushed him to the Marlette Community Hospital, where his injury was diagnosed. Paul was immediately transferred to St. Luke's Hospital, Saginaw, where an emergency operation was performed. He has been discharged from the hospital, and stands an excellent chance of recovery.

Paul was playing in the barn where his 14-year-old brother and some neighbors were unloading baled straw. Somehow he tumbled.

He is one of seven children, and they had lived on the farm only four weeks. His father died in Arizona last March, where the family had lived for four years because of the father's health.

Little Paul is going to live with his grandmother for a month, the older brother said, because he is too active at home.

Utica to Vote on Bond Issue

Three and Half Million Would Buy Junior High and Other Schools

UTICA—A bond issue for building a new junior high school, new elementary schools and additions to several existing schools will go to voters in the Utica School district on Monday.

The special election will be from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m. Monday at the Eppler Junior High School, 45461 Brownell St., and will decide on a $3,500,000 bond issue.

School enrollment in the Utica school system is increasing by 1,300 to 1,500 per year, so existing schools do not have enough room to accommodate the increase, officials explain.

The new bond issue, if passed, would raise school taxes against bonded indebtedness to a total of $9.25 per $1,000 of assessed valuation.

FINANCE NEW BUILDINGS

The money would be used for construction and equipping new elementary schools and additions to exisiting elementary schools; and modernizing the existing junior high school.

It would also go toward construction and equipping a new junior high school, constructing and equipping additions to the existing high school, and acquiring necessary additional school sites in the district.

Cost of Living Hike Given Auto Workers

DETROIT (INS)—The new cost of living index revealed today that nearly a million auto workers will receive a wage boost of four cents an hour after September 1.

General Motors was first to announce the four-cent increase for hourly workers.

GM said approximately 395,000 hourly employes will profit from the new index. The hike will show up in the first pay period after September 1.

An estimated 107,000 GM salaried employes will receive equal increases of $20 in their quarterly cost of living allowance. The boosts are for the months of September, October and November.

The index showed 117.0 compared with the 114.9 for April 15, the date upon which the cost of living allowance was based for the last quarter.

Smash Windows, Lights at Junior High School

Vandals destroyed 20 windows and four light fixtures when they broke into Jefferson Junior High School at 600 Motor St. Wednesday night, Pontiac Police said.

The building was entered by forcing in a side door, police said. A tape recorder was smashed and a glass trophy case broken.

But the Birds Go Chirping on

Police Shotguns Crackle to End Life of Grackles

MOUNT VERNON, N.Y. (Special) — Neither psychology nor electronics solved an ornithological problem here. Bird shot propelled by gunpowder, however, is producing some degree of success.

Residents of big homes and small estates in Chester Hill Park, near Bronxville, reported they now were sleeping a little better and enjoying their patios and pools a little more than they generally had in the last five summers.

Grackles, moderately large birds with black iridescent plumage, have adopted the tall trees and lush foliage for night roosting from June to September. The sky was darkened at sunset by wave after wave of coveys flying here; residents figured 10,000 birds were in a six block area.

RESUME AT DAWN

After foraging elsewhere during the day, the birds return to Chester Hill trees at twilight to talk over their escapades for an hour, then resume the chatter for an hour at dawn.

The din is sometimes so great that conversation and slumber for the human residents are difficult. Some persons will not venture into their own yards without umbrellas to avoid greater indignities.

Using humanitarian methods first in seeking to get rid of the birds, city officials and the residents tried:

Fire hoses sending torrents of water into the trees.

Skyrockets and firecrackers fired into the foliage.

Dishpans pounded noisily with iron spoons.

Sound trucks blaring the distress call of a tortured grackle.

RESULTS TEMPORARY

All measures gave only temporary results. The city borrowed a searchlight of multimillion candlepower. It shone 15 miles. But when turned into the trees at close range it only made the birds noisier. They thought the sun was rising.

That was the last straw for the police. They decided to concentrate on using shotgun. Chief Inspector William P. McDonald said he would continue sending a squad of marksmen to the battle of Chester Hill every evening he could spare them from more urgent duties.

MANY ARE KILLED

The chief said the purpose was to scare the birds, not kill them. But on the first night 100 were killed. On succeeding nights the other 9,900 were wary of going to the focal point of gunfire at Stuyvesant avenue and Pennsylvania avenue, but plenty were screeching in tree tops a few blocks distant.

Chief McDonald said that after the gunfire complaints began arriving about the birds roosting in Kingsbridge Gardens, at the Bronx boundary. Other calls indicated coveys settled in Bronxville, Eastchester, New Rochelle, and the Pelhams.

"There is just no way of getting entirely rid of them," the chief said morosely.

Bank Construction to Begin Next Week

COMMERCE TOWNSHIP — Construction is expected to begin next week on a branch of the Community National Bank at the corner of Cooley Lake and Union Lake Rds. in the heart of the Union Lake shopping district.

Site of the new branch includes ample parking space.

Estimated cost of construction was listed at $55,000. A building permit was issued yesterday by Commerce Township.

The new branch will be built by J. A. Fredman, Inc. of Pontiac.

Fun, Frolic Still Abound in Seven Pontiac Parks

Pontiac Press Photos

PLEASE BITE, MR. FISH — Not a care in the world existed for (left to right) John Morton, 12, 135 Howard McNeil, and Walter, 8½, and Jimmy Lee Hart, 9½, of 451 Howard McNeil, except whether the fish in Beaudette Park pond would hit their lines. Soon after this picture was shot John pulled a sun fish from the pond. The trio said if they had their way they would spend the rest of their lives at the end of their bamboo poles.

THIS IS THE LIFE — A sunny day and a Parks and Recreation Dept. installed "climb around" provides all the fun in the world for these kids at Murphy Park. A little leery of the contraption was the youngster at the left who is getting a boost from big sister. Murphy Park is one of the seven parks and playgrounds that attracted hundreds of Pontiac children during this summer vacation.

Everyone Plays as City Guests

Variety of Recreation Is Provided for Almost All Age Groups

With the summer vacation rapidly coming to an end, thousands of Pontiac school children are beginning to look back at hours of fun enjoyed at the city's seven parks and playgrounds.

And the many leisure time activities of the parks was not limited to kids. Teenagers, relaxing housewives, and many other Pontiac residents flocked to the parks operated by the city's Parks and Recreation Dept.

School books were a thing of the past for many weeks as boys took to the softball and baseball diamonds to enjoy a day of the nation's No. 1 pastime.

The city department operated Jaycee, Oakland, Murphy, Beaudette, Indian Village, Rotary and Optimist Parks. They opened May 1 and are expected to remain open until the end of October, depending upon the weather.

PARKS ARE FUN

Leonard T. Buzz, recreational supervisor, said attendance at the areas was "at a par with last year but failed to show the anticipated increase because of the weather."

The parks offer a variety of entertainment for those from 6 to 60 years. There is playground equipment, ball diamonds, tennis and shuffleboard courts, horseshoes, picnic tables and grills for thousands of users.

Well trained supervisors are available at a few parks to assist and provide athletic equipment when requested.

This year saw the addition of Rotary and Optimist playgrounds, Buzz said.

State Delegates Leaving 'Frisco

O'Sullivan Confident of GOP Triumph for Ike and Al Cobo

By ROGER LANE

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Michigan's delegates scattered today toward home and vacation spots, confident after their part in the Republican national convention that victory on Nov. 6 is in the making.

Cliford O'Sullivan, delegation chairman, foresaw election day triumph not only for the Eisenhower-Nixon combination, but also for Albert E. Cobo, Republican nominee for governor.

One of the accomplishments at the convention, party strategists felt, was the boost given the candidacy of Cobo, now in his seventh year as mayor of Detroit.

A late arrival on the scene, Cobo was thrust to the forefront by an interview with President Eisenhower, a couple of brief nationwide appearances on television and San Francisco date-lined quotes in the newspapers.

The mayor has a tough assignment—that of unseating Democratic Gov. G. Mennen Williams, a champion vote getter in four previous successful campaigns.

O'Sullivan, Sen. Charles E. Potter and chairman John Feikens all said they thought that Cobo, as well as Eisenhower and Nixon, would win.

O'Sullivan said Eisenhower will capture Michigan by as big, or an even bigger, margin than his 321,000 edge over Democrat Adlai Stevenson four years ago.

As for Cobo, he will prove a "great campaigner," O'Sullivan said, and would help the national ticket.

Heat Bothers Ike on Speakers' Stand

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—President Eisenhower apparently was bothered by the heat on the speaker's stand at the Republican National Convention yesterday.

As he boarded his train for Monterey, Calif., he was asked by newsmen whether he had had a hard day.

"As a matter of fact, that last chore—" he started to say and broke off. "It was pretty hot up there."

Then he added: "That stand wasn't made for handling papers."

Eisenhower read his acceptance speech from a typewritten text whose pages seemed to keep slipping.

"Whew, I'm wet," he said as he mounted the train steps. "It was hot up there."

Work Progresses on Waste Disposal Plant

FIGHT AGAINST WASTE—A tractor moves a fabricated steel plate into position as work progresses on one of the tanks which will be a part of the Pontiac Motor Division's new industrial waste treatment plant. The tanks will be used to chemically remove objectionable materials in copper, nickel, cyanide and chrome solutions from metal-plating operations through Pontiac plants. The installation will also include a laboratory.

TANKS TAKE SHAPE — A few of the 34 treating tanks which will eventually function as part of the Pontiac Motor Division's future waste disposal plant form an interesting pattern as they stand in various stages of completion. The giant containers, some holding up to 500,000 gallons, incorporate the most up-to-date methods of waste control.

Sees Huge Write-In for Presidency

Joe Smith Expects Landslide Vote

By ED CREAGH

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Interview aboard a San Francisco cable car:

"Excuse me, sir, but I heard you say your name was Joe Smith and—"

"Yeah, I know. You're one of them newspaper guys. They been pesterin' me and every Joe Smith in the country. Get lost."

"Well, naturally, sir, since a Joe Smith was put in nomination, or almost in nomination, by a Nebraska delegate at the Republican convention the other night—"

"Do you know how many Joe Smiths there are in this country, buster? I looked it up. There are 1,096,203 of us. So why pick on me?"

* * *

"Well, I just thought—"

"Think again. I decline the nomination."

"Don't you want to be vice president?"

"Nah. I'm shootin' the works. Like Happy Chandler said at Chicago, I'm goin' for the roses. That's a racin' term, in case you don't get it. Kentucky Derby, like. It means I'm out for the top spot."

"You mean you're a candidate for president, Mr. Smith: I don't mean to downgrade you, but the nominees for this year seem to have been selected. And frankly, I didn't hear your name mentioned—even as a dark horse."

"Ah, what do those politicians know about politics? I'll have them coming to me yet. On their knees."

"Then you—er—have a program that you think will capture the imagination of the masses, Mr. Smith?"

"Call me Joe, buddy. Sure I got a program. It'll sweep all 48 states."

"May I inquire, Joe—?"

"Why inquire? I'll tell you. I'm just goin' to sit tight. Won't make no speeches."

"Well, it may be true that after the two conventions people are a little tired of speeches, but—"

"As I was sayin' before I was so rudely interrupted, I'm goin' to let other people do the campaignin' for me, see? I figure that with all the publicity I got out of this convention, all sorts of clowns will be goin' around writin' 'Joe Smith for president' on every blank wall."

"Hmmmm. You mean like the 'Kilroy was here' gag after World War II?"

"You ain't as stupid as you look, buster. I figure it'll be worth 10 million dollars in free publicity. Let those other guys campaign their heads off. Who the people goin' to vote for? The guy whose name they see the most. That's me."

"One thing bothers me, Joe. Suppose a Joe Smith does get elected. How are you going to prove you're the right Joe Smith?"

"Who cares? I'm just runnin' for the fun of it. I wouldn't take the job if you gave me the White House."

"Why not, Joe?"

"No room for advancement."

SOCKS APPEAL — Just in time for the political campaigns are socks designed to help partisan voters put their best foots forward with the party emblem of their choices. Political fence riders will have to shell out with the price of two pairs — they come in "duets," two elephants or two donkeys.

Politics Shelved as Ike Relaxes on Fairways

PEBBLE BEACH, Calif. (AP) — President Eisenhower, a bit tired but happy, put politics on the shelf temporarily today and looked forward to whacking a few balls at this golfers' paradise on the Pacific Ocean.

The President arrived at nearby Monterey by special train last night from San Francisco. A few hours earlier he had accepted nomination for a second term at the closing session of the Republican National Convention.

A police-estimated crowd of 5,000 persons was on hand to greet him and Mrs. Eisenhower as they stepped from their private car here.

Mayor Dan Searle, who served under Eisenhower in Africa as a lieutenant colonel in World War II, was on hand. He asked Eisenhower about his golf game. The President—back at it only a few weeks since his June 9 abdominal operation—laughed and remarked, "These days any time I make a 95 I'm really happy."

The President and his party were driven immediately to the swanky Cypress Point Club, where he will vacation three or four days as a guest of the members.

The golf course on the edge of the Pacific is rated by experts as one of the toughest and trickiest in the country—site of the annual Bing Crosby tournament.

HERE I COME — The smallest of the city's parks operated by the Parks and Recreation Dept., Indian Village on West Huron, was a haven of fun for eight-year-old Jean Brafford, of 51 Mohawk Rd. Jean was typical of the hundreds of vacation-loving kids that enjoyed the numerous pieces of playground equipment situated at the city's parks. This year Rotary and Optimist playgrounds were added.

Sea Change, a bay daughter of Count Fleet, was bought by Whitney Stone for $42,500 at the Alfred Vanderbilt dispersal sale.

Is He Deaf — or Retarded?

Child Unable to Say Mama Now Subject of UM Study

ANN ARBOR (AP)—The child who can't say "Mama" is being made an object of special study at the University of Michigan.

Purpose of the research is to find out why youngsters fail to show normal language development—and what to do to help them.

The $10,000 pilot study, financed by a legislative grant, will try new ways of testing and diagnosing some 30 to 40 children aged 4 to 8 whose language slowness does not seem caused by deafness or mental trouble.

H. Harlan Bloomer, director of the university speech clinic, said in some cases brain injury, emotional factors, glandular ailments or reduced hearing ability may account for the problem.

VERY BAFFLING

Cut off from communication with the world around him, a child, unless given help, may show signs of mental retardation. The very lack of speech in the child makes diagnosis of his trouble difficult.

"It's terribly baffling to sit down with a 3-year-old who can't talk," said Bloomer. "You say something to him and get no response at all, although he appears normal in all other respects."

To break down this barrier in communication, the U. of M. research team has devised special tests. In one, to determine whether the child hears normally, earphones are placed on him and recordings of such familiar sounds as a dog's bark or train whistle are played at various sound levels.

Cards with illustrations of these animals or objects are placed in front of the youngsters to see if he can point out the object related to the sound.

Bloomer said better training methods are also needed for children in the "twilight zone" between complete deafness or severe mental retardation.

Public schools can seldom accept children who lack normal language skills. Yet such youngsters are misplaced in schools for the deaf or mentally retarded.

Bloomer hopes improved diagnosis and treatment will make it possible for large school systems to incorporate special classes for these children, lighting up an unhappy "twilight zone."

City Seeks Descendants to Observe Anniversary

CHESTERTOWN, Md. (AP)—Mayor Philip G. Wilmer wants to invite two persons to attend the town's 250th anniversary celebration October 5-13, but he doesn't know who they are.

Wilmer and celebration officials are looking for the nearest living descendents of two people who had a hand in the town's founding in 1706. They were Benedict Leonard Calvert, Baron of Baltimore, the 4th Lord Baltimore, who was Lord Proprietary of Maryland from 1679 to 1715, and Col. John Seymour, Colonial Governor of Maryland from 1704 to 1709.

Harry Truman Plans to Vote —in Muskegon

MUSKEGON (AP) — Harry Truman plans to vote by absentee ballot in Muskegon's November elections.

What's more, he still hasn't made up his mind whether to vote Democratic or Republican.

This Harry Truman is a 22-year-old yeoman in the U.S. Navy, who is voting for the first time this fall while stationed in Washington, D. C. He's a Muskegon native.

His name raised eyebrows when, while on leave, he appeared at the Muskegon city clerk's office to request his absentee ballot.

Fired Ford Employe Sneaks Back Into Plant for Revenge

DETROIT (AP)—A discharged Ford Rouge worker sneaked back into the stamping plant yesterday, shot and critically wounded his former boss and then killed himself, Dearborn Police Sgt. D. Hohmann reported.

Production Foreman Gerormo Morabito, 34, of Allen Park, was shot in the back with a .38 caliber revolver. He is in critical condition in Henry Ford Hospital with a punctured left lung.

Hohmann named as his assailant, Paul Twerdohleb, 60, of Dearborn, who was fired last Tuesday after 20 years of service.

His body was found in a plant storage area. Dearborn Police Inspector Joseph Daugher said a dud cartridge in the .38 found nearby indicated Twerdohleb pulled the trigger twice before succeeding in sending a slug through his own skull.

5-Nation Committee Charts Suez Plan

LONDON (AP)—A five-nation committee today charted plans to hand Egypt's President Nasser a West-sponsored proposal for international control of the Suez Canal. But the French stepped up military preparations in case the Arab leader says no.

France's Cabinet was called into session to consider what action to take if Nasser does turn down the West-sponsored proposal. Reports from the French capital said troops were being readied for transport across the Mediterranean, warships had been sent to sea on "maneuvers," and several air squadrons had been regrouped for possible movement.

Special paratroop units were reported being assembled in Algeria where the bulk of France's armed forces is already fighting nationalist rebels.

All That Rain Eases Work for City Pumps

Pontiac's Water Dept. has pumped 400 million fewer gallons of water this summer than 1955, Joseph W. Gable, superintendent of the city's water works said today.

From June 1 of this year through Aug. 21, an average of 14 wells has pumped 752,45,817 gallons as compared to 1,199,574,968 gallons pumped for the same time last year.

Gable attributed the decrease to heavy rains lessening the need for lawn sprinkling, less need for air conditioning, and a cutback of demands of industries in Pontiac.

The 1956 figures show that 292,312,747 gallons pumped for June, 277,118,910 for July, and 183,024,160 gallons used through Aug. 21. Comparable 1955 figures are: June 416,827,195; July 472,196,937; and through Aug. 21, 1955, 310,550,836.

Grand Rapids Baker Injured in Explosion

GRAND RAPIDS (AP)—John Kugor, 44-year-old retired Grand Rapids baker, was critically burned yesterday when a can of kerosene exploded while he was burning tree trimmings in his yard.

Police said Kugor had started the branches burning with kerosene and was sleeping on a cot nearby when the kerosene can exploded. A neighbor smothered the flames with a blanket but Kugor suffered burns on 60 per cent of his body.

Girl, 10, Drowns Wading

DETROIT (AP) — Carol Lynn DeFroy, 10, of Allen Park, drowned at Point Pelee, Ont., Thursday. A companion said they were wading in Lake Erie when a wave carried Carol out from the shore. The girls' parents were vacationing at Point Pelee National Park near Leamington, Ont.

Prosecutor's Wife Murdered

Florida Crime - Buster's Spouse Gunned Down in Front of House

GAINESVILLE, Fla. (AP) — The attractive wife of Osee Fagan, Alachua County prosecuting attorney, was found shot to death in front of her home shortly after midnight.

Detective R. T. Angel said he believed it was a grudge slaying. He and Sheriff Joe Crevasse said a roundup was begun immediately of persons whom Fagan had sent to jail during his four years as county attorney.

The body was discovered by Fagan about 12:30 a.m. as he returned from a social gathering.

The Fagans' three young children were sleeping undisturbed.

Doctors at Alachua General Hospital said a single bullet entered the 30-year-old woman's chest near the heart.

Officers said there were no signs of a struggle either in the house or on the front steps where the body was found. No weapon was found.

Police said the only clue so far was a report by next door neighbors, as yet unidentified, who reported hearing two shots and what they thought was a call for help. They turned on the front porch light and stepped outside but didn't see anything suspicious and returned to their bridge game.

* * *

Fagan was described as a vigorous prosecutor, about 32, who had relentlessly broken up bootlegging operations in the dry county. He was unopposed for re-election in the May primary.

Katharine Hepburn Finds Money Growing on Tree

By DOROTHY MANNERS

(While Louella Parsons is traveling in Europe her column will be written by Dorothy Manners).

HOLLYWOOD (INS) — It was nothing short of a love feast between Katharine Hepburn and the cast and crew of "The Rainmaker" when it came time to say adieu on the Hal Wallis picture.

Now hold on for this. Hal's gift to Katie was a "money tree" — that's right, a florist's tree with nice greenbacks providing the foliage.

Not to be outdone, Miss Hepburn gave Wallis, co-star Burt Lancaster and others of the company small oil paintings she did herself. Don't be surprised to see Hepburn signed for another with Wallis, and not because of the money tree, either.

If producer Aaron Rosenberg has his way, Elizabeth Taylor and Rock Hudson will be the stars of "Flight," his next at U-I. You can't blame Rosey for trying. After "Giant" Liz and Rock will be a hot combo.

"Flight" is Ketti Frings' original set in the Dodecanese Islands. It's about an American playboy who falls for a beautiful girl living almost as a prisoner on an island with her older and possessive husband.

Considering that U-I loaned Rock to MGM for "Something of Value," MGM can be expected to return the compliment and let U-I have Elizabeth.

JESSEL'S SCHEME

George Jessel makes no bones about admitting that the sensational success of "My Fair Lady" is responsible for his buying James M. Barrie's "Dear Brutus."

Jessel's idea is to "musicalize" the play which starred Helen Hayes in 1918. When he finishes emoting in Bob Hope's "Beau James," George is off to New York to talk to Alan Lerner and Fred Lowe about the score.

He told me, "It's too early in the game to talk about a star, but since there will be such emphasis on the music, we're working with the idea of Anna Maria Alberghetti in the star role."

Apparently Jack Warner can do just as much business from Europe as he can with his feet under his desk at Warners. Via word from the French Riviera where he's vacationing, he's signed Raoul Walsh on a multiple directing contract.

First assignment to go to Walsh, noted for he-man adventure-type films, is Robert Penn Warren's "Band of Angels," a Civil War story. Walsh checks in on the Warner lot immediately after Labor Day.

TV MAN SIGNED

Still another topnotch TV man, Alex March, has been signed by Bill Dozier for an RKO berth. This studio recently acquired TV's boy wonder, Sidney Lumet.

March formerly produced Studio One Summer Theater and his first stint in Hollywood will be a series of TV shows. Later, there are plans to switch March to feature film production.

Hollywood in shorts: Says Bob Hope, playing Jimmy Walker in "Beau James" at Paramount, "I'm the only politician alive not working on a civil rights plank at the moment."

The James Masons, including Portland, go to Germany from England before he reports for "Island in the Sun" in Jamaica.

Mrs. Tom Duggan, wife of the controversial TV commentator, quietly divorced him Tuesday in Chicago under her legal name of Ann Bon Henke Duggan.

Ann Miller and Hal Hayes a duo at La Rue.

Jeanne and Dean Martin tell me the baby is due on Christmas Day.

"The War and Peace" premiere was a gilt edge affair that brought out all the celebrities who aren't otherwise occupied appearing at the Republican convention in San Francisco.

That busy gentleman in and out of Rhonda Fleming's new home, which she's completely redecorating, is Tom Lane—whom you may or may not recall as redheaded Rhonda's first husband.

Protect Your Trees With Lightning Rods

Spare the rod and you may spoil the tree.

The rod in this case is the lightening rod, the surest way of protecting your trees against lightning damage.

Each year lightning, particularly in summer, takes a heavy toll among trees. A properly installed and grounded lightning conductor can turn those deadly bolts from the blue into harmless lights that pass in the night.

Installation of lightning rods calls for plenty of experience and know-how. It's inadvisable for anyone but an expert to put one up.

There is little if any truth in the many supersititions that claim this or that tree is immune to lightning. The meager statistics available on lighting frequency indicate the most dominant species in any one location is most frequently struck, particularly if it is the tallest tree in that area.

HOARDS OF GOURDS GROW — Mrs. Vernon Hutchins, 1625 Hadley Rd., Ortonville, shows off a couple of her 600 gourd plants. Mrs. Hutchins along with many other hobbies raises gourds and Indian corn for centerpieces. Some of her prize gourds will be exhibited at the state fair this year.

On Ortonville Farm

Galaxy of Gourds Grow

By MARTHA LEWIS
Ortonville Correspondent

Raising Indian corn and gourds as a hobby has mushroomed into a nearly full-time project for Mrs. Vernon Hutchins of Ortonville.

Several years ago when she started with just a few gourds, Mrs. Hutchins would give them to friends for centerpiece use. Now on the 20 acre farm where she and her husband have just begun a new home, Mrs. Hutchins raises about 600 gourd plants of all kinds and varieties.

Some of the gourds which Mrs. Hutchins has planted in among the Indian corn, will be entered at the State Fair as well as several other varieties of vegetables that the Hutchins grow.

One vegetable in particular that will take the trip to the State Fair is a purple string bean which is both edible and ornamental.

Flowers and the vegetable gardens cover two acres of the Hutchins farm. Mrs. Hutchins recently planted 40 different kinds of perennials which will be incorporated into landscaping plans next spring when they begin their planned acre of lawn.

Homemaking of all types captures Mrs. Hutchins' interest, too, but she says, "Working outside with growing things is so wholesome."

Mrs. Hutchins has been a 4-H leader over a period of eight years and at the present time has two groups, the Kan Kook Club and the Ortonville Wonder Workers. The latter group captured first prize for its float in the 4-H Fair two weeks ago.

Mr. and Mrs. Hutchins also raise registered Yorkshire hogs and received honorable mention at Farmers Week at Michigan State University last February.

Potted Plant Tipped on Side Still Goes Up!

EAST LANSING (AP)—Did you ever wonder why a potted plant, placed on its side, will change its direction of growth so it still will grow upward?

Some people might say, "Well, it seeks the sun." But a Michigan State University research team suspects it's more complicated than that.

Drs. Te May Ching, Robert S. Bandurski and Robert H. Hamilton Jr., of the MSU Department of Botany and Plant Pathology, have found an "anti-gravity" hormone which prevents plants from knowing "which way is up."

The hormone (N-1 napthyphtalamic acid) seems to control the response of plants to gravity, the researchers report. They believe the more they know about this acid the more science will know about how plants control growth.

Carefully observing growth of roots and shoots of young seedlings, the three scientists hope to determine what sensory devices, if any, the seedlings have, and how they operate.

The study is partially supported by U. S. experiment station funds.

Shrubs Developed for Landscaping

New varieties of lilacs — with large flowers — are among the latest developments in flowering shrubs for home landscapes.

Dr. L. C. Chadwick, Ohio State University horticulture expert, urges more use of flowering shrubs, trees and vines. In addition to lilacs, he lauded the new types of improved spiraea, hybiscus, forsythia, crabapple, and hawthorne.

Pointing out the need for more shrubs which will bloom in summer, he recommended Gold Drop or potentilla farreri, Blue Mist or caryopteris incana, and others.

Also excellent for landscaping the home, he said, are magnolia stellata with a water-lily type of flower; parrotia of the witch-hazel family, malus sargenti with fruit that hangs until Christmas, viburnum wrighti with red fruit, and crataegus with greenish bark.

Soil Important for Good Lawn

Begin With Top Dirt; Clear Rubble, Rocks Before Planting

This being the time to prepare for lawn making and lawn repairing it might be well to start thinking about dirt, the substance in which grass grows or—frequently—refuses to grow.

It is the unhappy truth that most builders couldn't care less about non-built parts of homes. Thus, a new house owner is likely to find himself in a lovely new residence surrounded by an unlovely soil situation.

To begin with, grass is a plant as is everything that grows in the garden and actually a lawn is a mass planting.

To grow happily, therefore, it requires decent draining, a certain amount of lightness, freedom from building rubble and rocks, plus a minimum of four inches of top soil to permit healthy, deep growing roots to become established.

The condition of the soil around a new house should be a matter of as much concern as, for instance, the copper piping.

CARE FOR SOIL

If you don't have a layer of top soil, if it has been churned up by the bulldozer, with subsoil, you've got to get some more. It is much less expensive to take good care of what topsoil one has than to go into the market and buy the stuff.

Assuming them that you are planning to start a new lawn, the most important phase is the preparation of the soil.

Grass is a perennial, thus the easiest, most satisfactory and in the long run, least expensive way to get lawn. Take pains to prepare a proper seed bed, free of debris and big rocks, with grading and drainage problems taken care of and with good soil.

The biggest item of investment is the labor which goes into soil preparation. And if you have a large piece of property, it probably is wise to hire someone with a tractor to plow, disk harrow and level the area.

Use DDT to Kill Tree Destroying Fall Webworm

Pet shade trees may be enduring their most trying month if they're infested with fall webworm. You don't have to be an entomologist to identify the large, loose webs enclosing both twigs and leaves. These are munching headquarters for the webworm caterpillars.

Among the more voracious critters of insectdom, the worms, which grow to about one inch in length, are pale greenish-yellow and have a dark stripe down their backs.

The webs are the mess halls of the webworm, for he chomps away at the greenery under its cover. This is the month the ugly webs are ever enlarged to accommodate the demand for added victuals.

While there isn't much you can do about the webs other than to tear them out with a hooked stick, it is important to get at the source of the trouble, the caterpillar itself. DDT spraying is advised, because the poison is effective during all moving stages of the hungry pest.

New Film Released on Fall Vacation Areas

A new 25 minute color motion picture entitled "Michigan Autumn Wonderland has just been released by the Michigan Tourist Council, announces Robert J. Furlong, council executive secretary.

Narrated by Mort Neff, TV personality, the film conducts viewers on a scenic tour of the state's fall vacation areas. Scenes of hunting, fishing, sightseeing, and riding show the variety of Michigan's autumn recreational attractions.

Doors Open Tomorrow for Inter-Garden Show

The doors of the CAI Building, scene of the 1956 Inter-Garden Flower Show, will open at 7 a.m. tomorrow for entries in this second annual event.

It is sponsored by the Dirt Gardeners and Better Homes and Gardens Club of Pontiac and the Sylvan and Waterford Branches of the Women's National Farm and Garden Association.

Entries are open to the public and the rules are these: All containers and accessories must be marked with name of owner, use no flowers on prohibited list of Michigan Conservation Department.

There will be first, second and third prizes awarded and the merit system of judging will be used.

Foliage and accessories will be permitted in all classes of arrangements. Only one entry in a class will be allowed any exhibitor and these must conform to specifications. Horticulture specimens must be grown by the exhibitor.

Only the judges and clerks will be allowed in the exhibition room during judging. All entries must be in place by 12:00 o'clock Saturday.

The judges for the show will be Mrs. T. R. McKay, Mrs. E. L. Higgs and Mrs. Arthur Brown, all of Detroit; Mrs. Charles Schwein and Mrs. Vaskey Nahabedian of Royal Oak and Mrs. Donald Gilchrist of Pontiac.

Special displays of interest to gardeners and home owners will be set up in the auditorium. These include landscaping designs, lawn care equipment, gardening supplies and florists exhibits.

Flower Show Slated in Oxford This Weekend

A flower show is scheduled on the Oxford Garden Club agenda tomorrow and Sunday at the high school auditorium in Oxford.

Categories are open for all who wish to enter. Available categories include annual perennials, artistic arrangements, canned goods, fruits, miniatures and house plants.

Mrs. Cassius Teague heads the general committee in charge of the show.

It's Fun to Save Seed

Try seed saving for fun. Take seed only from the healthiest plants and, when they are clean and dry, keep them in an air tight bottle carefully labeled. Be certain, however, not to take seed from hybrid plants which do not produce fertile seed.

Give Vegetables Extra Check

The wet and cool summer means that vegetable gardens are going to need extra fertilization and cultivation.

The wise gardener will sidedress all vegetables to make up for the fertilizer leached out by the rain. Weeds must be kept under control, so keep the soil in the garden loose.

Uncultivated soil is sure to mean weeds and crusted soil keeps air and moisture from reaching the roots.

As soon as your early crops are harvested and the space is empty, sow seed for some of the following for a late maturing harvest: Radish, spinach, beets, carrots, leaf lettuce, turnips or snap beans.

When planting a new crop be sure to stimulate the tired soil with a balanced fertilizer. Turn the soil over with a spade and mix thoroughly into the top three or four inches a pound of fertilizer for each 20 feet of row. Rake level and sow your seed.

Keep dusting and spraying. Dust or spray at the first signs of insects and repeat treatment in a week or 10 days if infestation continues.

If the foliage of bleeding heart has yellowed and died, it may now be cut off. Burn it as a precaution against disease.

Give Boxes Attention

Window boxes need regular attention. Keep them free of weeds and make certain they receive plenty of water. They have a tendency to dry out much quicker than the garden itself.

Bengals Fall to Baltimore for 13th Time

Lary Handed Setback as Detroit Collects Only 4 Hits

BALTIMORE (AP) — After two nights of feasting at the expense of Washington pitchers, the Detroit Tigers had famine in the hitting department at Baltimore last night.

The Detroiters could get only four safeties off two Oriole pitchers and suffered a 3-0 shutout. Harvey Kuenn's third-inning double was Detroit's only extra-base blow, and he was picked off base by Ray Moore.

At Washington, the Bengals' favorite park, the Tigers rapped out 15 hits to win 9-5 Wednesday night after a 13-run barrage Tuesday good for an 8-3 victory.

At Baltimore, however, the hex on the Tigers continues. Detroit has fallen victim to the Orioles 13 times in 18 games this year.

Moore allowed the Tigers only three hits last night before he injured his shoulder sliding into second in the 7th inning and was forced from the game. The seriousness of his injury was not immediately determined.

Hal (Skinny) Brown took over the Orioles and gave up only one more hit.

The setback was Frank Lary's 13th against as many wins. He gave up nine hits.

Braves, Dodgers Keep Winning Pace in NL

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

If Milwaukee is starting to show the strain of pressure, as some folks say, someone forgot to tell the Braves about it. Particularly Bobby Thomson, Hank Aaron and Johnny Logan.

They looked as though they didn't have a care in the world last night, protecting their two-game National League with a comeback 11-5 waltz over the pesky Philadelphia Phillies. Thomson's seventh major league grand-slammer tied it in the fourth and Aaron and Logan then homered as the Braves ran away with the decision by scoring seven in the fifth.

If the Braves are straining, it should have shown up against the Phillies, only club in the league with an edge (10-7) over Milwaukee.

Don Newcombe became the first to win 20 in the majors this season by choking off the homer-happy Cincinnati Redlegs 6-5. The third-place Redlegs, setting a club mark with three homers that upped their season total to 183, fell four games back by losing the opener of a three-game series.

The Giants, meanwhile, came within 1½ games of leaving the cellar by defeating the seventh-place Chicago Cubs twice, 2-1 and 8-5. Fourth place St. Louis also swept a pair, handing Pittsburgh a six-game losing slump 3-0 and 3-2 in a twi-nighter.

New York's Yankees were belted 8-3 and 6-4 by the Chicago White Sox, with Nellie Fox getting seven straight hits, but lost only a half game from their American League lead. Second-place Cleveland was spilled 2-1 by Boston as Mel Parnell beat Bob Lemon in a pair of three-hitters.

Bright Outlook for U. S. Women

Pick Olympic Team in Finals on Saturday at Washington

WASHINGTON (AP)—Its manager predicted today the U.S. women's track and field team will roll up its best score in years and win at least two first places in the upcoming Olympic Games.

More than 100 girls will compete at American University here tomorrow in the finals trials to determine the personnel of the U.S. women's team.

Mrs. Roxanne Andersen of San Francisco, women's team manager, told reporters "This is the finest group of girl athletes America has had in years."

Present plans call for only nine girls to be selected for the trip to Melbourne, Australia, based on performances tomorrow. Mrs. Andersen plans to urge Olympic Executive Committee members today to take at least 15.

At the Olympics, Mrs. Andersen looks for the U.S. women to win their third straight gold medal in the 400-meter relay and for Mildred McDaniels of Tuskegee Institute, Alabama — holder of the American record—to take first in the high jump.

Senior Tournament Reaches Semifinals

ST. PAUL, Minn. (AP)—An Eastern broker and a former Western Senior titlist were in the vanguard of a foursome playing in semifinals of the National Senior Amateur Golf Tournament today.

Fred Wright, 58, a broker from Watertown, Mass., eliminated J. Wood Platt, also 58, Philadelphia, the defending champion, 1 up yesterday. Both Wright and Platt were members of a 1921 Walker Cup team.

Wright was paired today against James Manion, Kansas City, a 2 up victor over Judd Brumley, Greenville, Tenn. Other semifinalists are J. Clark Espie, Indianapolis, the former Western champion, and Forrest Andrews, DeKalb, Ill.

Battle for Harmsworth

Speedboats Tune Up

DETROIT (AP) — Two flounder-shaped mammoths get final tune-ups and test runs today before beginning Harmsworth Trophy competition tomorrow that will decide the unlimited class speedboat championship of the world.

Both defending champion Shanty I and Canadian challenger Miss Supertest II have made test runs near the 150 M.P.H. mark.

Miss Supertest, with a new 3,000 horsepower engine that "still needs a few adjustments," whipped over the Harmsworth course on the Detroit River yesterday at speeds exceeding 140 M.P.H. at times.

Shanty won the right to defend U.S. ownership of the Harmsworth title by blazing along at speeds approaching 150 M.P.H. Tuesday in the U. S. qualifying trials.

The first seven-lap heat around the five-mile Harmsworth course will be run Saturday. A second heat will be held Monday with the title on the line. A deciding heat will be raced Tuesday only if each boat has won one of the previous races.

A new Rolls Royce Griffon power plant was installed in Miss Supertest while her hull was being repaired. The challenger flipped over last Friday and a hole was punched in the thin-skinned bottom.

After the first trial run yesterday, test driver Danny Foster said she "handled fine" at 140-plus speed but "still needs a few adjustments."

Browns Tangle With LA Rams

Crowd of 35,000 Seen for Exhibition Contest in Coliseum

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The Cleveland Browns and the Los Angeles Rams, who played for the national football championship last winter, collide again tonight in Memorial Coliseum. A crowd of 35,000 is anticipated for the exhibition game.

The world champion Browns, curiously enough, are 2½ point underdogs. Los Angeles blew an exhibition game last week to the Washington Redskins, 39-21.

The Rams will start their rookie quarterback, Rudy Bukich, former University of Southern California star, who has been in the service for two years.

Although the Browns beat the Rams for the title by 24 points, factors that have installed the Rams as the exhibition choice apparently are Coach Paul Brown's inclination to take these preparatory games lightly; the retirement of Brown quarterback Otto Graham, and the likelihood that the Rams will rebound from their sorry showing last week, following settlement of their threat to strike if they didn't get paid for playing the exhibition schedule.

Meet Cards in Mobile

Lions After Second Victory

(Special to the Pontiac Press)

MOBILE, Ala.—It will be like a homecoming for 10 Detroit Lions players when the Lions meet the Chicago Cardinals in Ladd Memorial Stadium, tomorrow night, at 8 p.m.

The 10, Dorne Dibble, Gene Gedman, Bill Stits, Oliver Spencer, Joe Schmidt, Lou Creekmur, Darris McCord, Don McIlhenny, Sonny Gandee and Jerry Reichow, all started their professional gridiron careers as members of various senior bowl squads.

An almost equal number of Chicago Cardinal players also took their first pro steps on the Ladd Memorial Stadium turf.

The Lions, victors 20-15 over the Pittsburgh Steelers in their first pre-season game, will be seeking a measure of revenge from the Cardinals for an upset loss suffered last year in St. Louis. A field goal by former Lion Pat Summerall in the final minute of play, after the recovery of a fumble deep in Detroit territory, brought the Chicagoans a thrilling 17-16 decision.

Coach Buddy Parker's defensive unit, which showed well in allowing the Steelers only 44 yards on the ground in the opener, will be sorely tested by the great assemblage of backs under Coach Ray Richards.

Richards has Ollie Matson, probably the game's most exciting running personality, Dave Mann, former Oregon State speedster, Johnny Olzsewski, former California great, and a great new name in Auburn's Joe Childress. Lamar McHan, Arkansas quarterback, directs this great assortment of runners who many experts rate as the best offensive backfield in the game.

The Cardinals dropped their opening pre-season game, 31-7, to their crosstown rivals, the Chicago Bears, last Saturday night in Jacksonville, Fla.

There is a slight possibility that Gene Gedman, Lions fullback from Indiana, will see some action against the Cardinals. Gedman missed the opener with a knee sprain.

Claims Biggest Bass

George Juscott, Detroit Chrysler blue print inspector, of 31685 Tagles Drive, Warren, this week got his biggest fishing thrill.

Accompanied by his wife Eunice, Juscott was fishing at Bald Eagle Lake when he tangled with a 4-pound-8-ounce smallmouth bass. Fish was Juscott's biggest of the year, and also was rated the biggest bass taken at Bald Eagle this summer. It was 20½ inches long.

"My wife had to help me land it," the angler reported. "She got it in the net."

Big Newk Gains 20-Game Status, First for 1956

CINCINNATI (AP) — Don Newcombe, the Brooklyn Dodgers' sometimes testy pitcher, appears ready to tear up the records of the all-time pitching greats of the world champions.

Big Newk turned back the heavy bats of the Cincinnati Redlegs last night, 6-5, to become the first major league 20-game winner this season. It marked the third time he has gained 20 victories in one season. In 1951 he had a 20-9 record and last year a 20-5 mark. He has lost six this year.

"All I want to do is to win more than 20 games, the National League pennant and then beat those Yankees again," said Newcombe.

Colbert's Time Best

Bloomfield Racer Leads

LAWRENCEVILLE, Ill. (AP)—Nick Colbert, 18-year-old son of the Chrysler Corp. president, holds the top time in the stock car class so far in the third annual "world series of drag racing."

Colbert, son of L. L. (Tex) Colbert of Bloomfield Hills, drove his Dodge D-500-1 at 94 miles-an-hour in a speed trial. The car was the official pace car at the Indianapolis 500-mile race this year.

All speed trials in the event are from a dead stop over a one-fourth mile course at the Lawrenceville airport.

Sero Postoian, 34-year-old Detroit mechanic, holds the top time so far in the Dragster class.

He hit 114.796 miles an hour over the course in a home-made car built out of an airplane belly tank and powered with a 1954 DeSoto V-8 engine. It cost him $2,500 to build.

Speed trials in the five-day event sponsored by the Automobile Timing Assn. of America, will continue through Saturday noon.

Smith Meets Brown in TV Fight

11½	Forearm	11

x—Exact weights determined at noon (CST) Aug. 24 at official weigh-in.

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Lightweight champion Wallace (Bud) Smith and challenger Joe Brown meet for the title tonight with confidence the keynote and the outcome more unpredictable than usual.

The nationally-televised 15 rounder (NBC, TV and radio, 9 p.m. EST) is the first championship bout to be held here in 13 years and is expected to attract the biggest gate in the city's history.

For the 27-year-old Cincinnati-born champion it will be the second defense of the crown he won from Jimmy Carter in June, 1955. He turned back Carter's attempt to regain the title last October.

It represents the opportunity of a lifetime for the 30-year-old challenger from New Orleans who whipped Smith in a non-title 10-rounder at Houston last May.

The soft-spoken Smith, loser of two other non-championship fights this year against promising Larry Boardman and former welterweight king Tony DeMarco, has a chance to enhance his standing as the 135-pound division ruler. While Brown is ranked only eighth among contenders, he is regarded as a prime test.

The bout has a wide-open tinge since the oddsmakers have refrained from installing either Negro boxer as favorite, and among the betting gentry it's 5-6 and take your pick.

The unusual uncertainty of the outcome and the allure of a title bout is expected to draw a capacity crowd of about 9,200 to the Municipal Auditorium. Promoter J. T. Owen and Match maker Bonny Geigerman of the sponsoring Louisiana Boxing Club anticipate a gate of around $60,000.

Smith's record shows 33 victories, 14 losses and 5 draws with 18 knockouts sprinkled among the triumphs. His left hook is regarded as one of the best in the business and is expected to give Brown the most trouble.

Miss Stack Enters Public Parks Final

CINCINNATI (AP)—June Stack of Hamtramck, Mich., reached the final round of the women's National Public Parks tennis championship tournament yesterday, defeating Ethel Marshall of Buffalo, N. Y., 5-7, 7-5, 6-2. Miss Stack is first seeded.

Mrs. Mary Prentiss of San Bernardino, Calif., gained the finals with a 6-3, 6-1 victory over Joyce Pniewski of Hamtramck.

Oscar Johnson of Los Angeles defeated Richard Potter of Hamtramck, 5-7, 3-6, 8-6, 6-3, 7-5, in men's quarterfinal play.

Miss Stack and Potter beat Miss Marshall and Al Levy of Buffalo, 6-1, 6-1, in the mixed doubles semi-finals.

Ohio's Nicklaus Leads JC Field

Holds 3-Stroke Edge on 2 Others; State's Team Down List

FARGO, N.D. (AP) — Experience under pressure marked the leaders today as a youthful field battled the par-72 Edgewood municipal course in the third round of the Jaycee International Junior Golf Tournament.

Holding the lead after 36 holes, the halfway point, was Jack Nicklaus, 17-year-old from Columbus, Ohio, with a 141. He was 13th in last year's tournament.

Three strokes back and even with par at 144 were Jack Rule of Waterloo, Iowa, and Don Nix, Hobbs, N.M. Both were in last year's tourney, Rule finishing second to champion Phil Rodgers of San Diego, Calif.

Michigan's Jaycee foursome fell far behind at the halfway mark of the tourney.

Fairway Golf Group Winds Up Title Play

Final rounds of play were completed this week in the three-weeks long championship action for the Fairway Golf Club. Matches were held in three flights at 18 holes, over Pontiac Country Club's layout.

Mrs. Harley (Pat) Hyatt defeated Mrs. Lee (Betty) Lysinger 3 and 1 for 1st flight title.

Second flight went to Mrs. Frank (Elizabeth) Syron, who defeated Mrs. George (Molly) Walters 2 and 1.

Initiate Cooley Lake Site

Polo Team to Play

A new era of polo will be inaugurated Sunday when the famous Ivory Polo Rangers officially open their new site at 9960 Cooley Lake road in White Lake township.

The Rangers, who were organized on Williams Lake road in 1930 by John F. Ivory, before moving to Detroit in 1946, will have all of the prominent members of its polo club participating in the first match.

The contest will be played on a newly constructed outdoor field at 3:00 p.m. for the charitable activities of the Northwest Detroit Lions Club.

Ivory has a total of 140 acres which will be completed by the end of next summer to include an indoor field, clubhouse and recreation area.

One of the youngest stars in the game, Jack Stefani, leading player for the Rangers for several years, will take part in the match Sunday while on furlough from his Army camp in Colorado.

Stefani is being flown here by Ivory to help initiate the new site. He is slated to be sent to Germany next week.

Many of the top mallet swingers who learned the game at the Ivory club in Detroit will also play in the match.

Included are Dave and Larry Williams of Bloomfield Hills, Don Harness of Rochester, Bob Peterson and Howie Miller of Birmingham, Rich Gibson and Roy Pulver of Pontiac, along with Mike Wacker and Gwen Brown.

Michigan's foremost poloist Jack Ivory who enjoyed a successful session in Milwaukee is also expected to be on hand for the opening.

IOTA All-Stars to Play Benefit for Children

A half dozen members of the Pontiac Oldtimers baseball club will join with similar groups from two of the league's other clubs at Toledo, and Detroit for a benefit game at London, Ont., on Saturday. The contest is designed to help provide funds for the Canadian Crippled Children's association work. More than $42,000 was provided last year, from a similar game, according to Paul Parks, IOTA official.

Huron Valley Lions Back Blind Golfers' Tourney

Huron Valley Lions clubs this week got squarely in back of the forthcoming International Blind Golfers championship tournament. Event will be the tenth anniversary tourney. It will be held over the difficult Highland Golf Club's layout at Highland Sept. 29.

Decision to sponsor the handicapped linksmen's test came during the annual "stag day" at the Highland club, on Wednesday when Huron Valley Lions held a gala affair. At that time Lions prexy Louis Oldenburg told Harry Hunter of Detroit and Pete Bell of Windsor (blind golf association officials) the HV organization would be the sponsor.

Hunter and Bell, both blind players, gave an exhibition at the "stag." They played the No. 1 (par 4) in 5 and 6 respectively and No. 11, where both carded 6s on the par 3 hole.

Snead, Holscher Lead at St. Paul

Pair Cards Six-Under Par 66s in Opening Round

ST. PAUL, Minn. (AP)—Sam Snead who has won more money in the St. Paul Opens than any other professional since the tournament started in 1930, had his eyes on another bagfull today as 144 players teed-off in the second round of the 1956 event at Keller Golf Club.

The West Virginia slammer, who has pocketed just a little bit less than $12,000, shared the first-round lead at six-under par 66 with Bud Holscher of Apple Valley, Calif.

Sam didn't have much of an edge over the field, which saw six others deadlocked at 67. Four more tied at 68 and two others went around in 69 the first day despite high winds which swept the course. But it's the best start he's had at Keller in a half dozen years and it made him a favorite.

Both Holscher and Snead putted exceptionally well on the first round with Sam carding seven one putt greens and Holscher six.

Snead won the St. Paul Open in 1937, took the Western Open at Keller in 1949, tied for the title in 1950 and lost in a playoff to Jim Ferrier. He has finished second three times and third once.

* * *

Deadlocked a stroke off the pace at 67 are Dave Douglas, Newark, Del., Ted Rhodes, Chicago, Howie Johnson, Houston, Tex., Dick Mayer, St. Petersburg, Fla., Fred Hawkins of El Paso, Tex., and Fred Haas of New Orleans.

Defending champion Tommy Bolt finished with a 70.

Detroit Patrolman Makes Pistol Squad

CAMP PERRY, Ohio (AP)—John C. Foreman, a U.S. border patrolman from Detroit, has won a spot on the International Rapid Fire Pistol Squad which will represent the U.S. in the Melbourne Olympics.

Foreman and John H. Beauomnt of Honolulu qualified for the two openings at the National Pistol Championships here yesterday.

Vonnie Colby Leads Denver Golf Tourney

DENVER (AP)—Vonnie Colby, formerly of Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., broke the competitive course record at Lakewood Country Club yesterday with a 5-under-par 70 to take the first-day lead in the mile high open golf tournament.

Miss Colby fired six birdies over the 6,324-yard layout and didn't take a bogie until the 18th.

Defending champion Marilyn Smith of Bloomfield Township, Mich., scored a 38-37—75 for a 3-way tie for fifth.

Named Best in Texas

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — John H. (Red) Davis who piloted Dallas to the full-season pennant last year and appears destined to repeat this season, was named Manager of the Year in the Texas League today.

DEFENDS TITLE — Lightweight champion Wallace (Bud) Smith of Cincannati puts his title on the line tonight against Joe Brown of New Orleans who defeated him once in a non-title match.

DENVER — Tony Kubek, hard hitting infielder for the Denver Bears in the American Assn., is the son of a former American Assn. outfielder. Tony Sr. once hit .352 for the Wilwaukee Brewers a couple of decades ago. Whereas Dad never made the majors, the younger Kubek has been tabbed by Yankee scouts as a "Yankee star of the future."

High School Grid Camps Open Monday

By BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

High school football coaches at 36 sites in Oakland County and area will greet nearly 1,800 candidates to the opening of grid camps next week.

Most schools will get their preseason sessions underway on Monday giving them three weeks before lifting the lid on the 1956 grid campaign.

The greatest number is expected to turnout at Wisner field in Pontiac where 125 prospects will report to head coach Ed Graybiel and staff.

A total of 15 lettermen will fill every position except quarterback for the Chiefs.

Graybiel will build the squad around the nucleous of veterans which includes a trio of ends, Bob Baxter, Marv Cable and Ron Smith along with linemen John Massengale, Emiel Frisch, Bob Kelly and Bob Holloway and backs Charley Spann, Art Poe, Jim Shorter and Charley Robinson.

A mixture of optimism and pessimism prevails in some of the other Class A camps.

Birmingham and Waterford are geared for rebuilding tasks, while Southfield appears ready to flex its muscles for a top billing.

Coach Carl Lemle at Birmingham has lost 23 seniors from the state ranked team of 1955 which won the EML title for the first time in history. A trio of transfers will join the six returning Maple lettermen, including Mike Nordstrom who last year was the understudy to Royal Oak's all-state back Darrell Harper.

Speedy Tony Evangelista and quarterback Dale Burrows head the list of returning Maple backs.

At Waterford coach Dave Freeman waits for 75 hopefuls to report including only 10 of 32 letterwinners, headed by 225 pound linemen Jim Larkin and Rodney Evans.

Halfback Lindy Salathiel returns along with Warren Miksch who will move from half to quarterback.

There's a brighter ray at Southfield where coach Monte Charles welcomes 100 candidates including 13 of his better lettermen.

Halfbacks Fred Rankin and Ron Brewer are the Jays' wing formation battering rams with all-county guard Bernie Miscovich heading the line. Transfer Bob Decker, a 186-pounder from U of D high will fill the vacated center spot.

Avondale will have nine lettermen among the 50 reporting to Frank Crowell. Strength will lie in the experienced backfield of Dick Gronski, Fred Hyten, Sven Blomberg and Duane Lau along with transfer Ron Elmy from St. Mikes.

All-League guard Bill Johnson and ends Dwight Moulton and Jim Greelees are the leading linemen.

West Bloomfield will have a choice of quarterbacks between sophomore John Lucadem and senior Larry Hollister. Dale Nelson takes the reins as Charley Guinnip steps down with 12 lettermen among 35 prospects.

New head coach Dave Smith will have 75 reporting at Walled Lake including 12 lettermen headed by fullback John Walker, quarterback Larry Dion and end Larry Hughes.

Smith succeeds Tom Evans who remains on the staff and he will employ the belly series into his split T system.

One regular, quarterback Fred Weaver, is where Rochester coach Gene Konley will start in his rebuilding task from 75 Falcon candidates.

Newcomer Carl Eldred, a fullback transfer from Big Rapids, may help the backfield situation along with 7 letterwinners.

At Lake Orion, Ted Sela awaits 40 boys with 9 of 18 lettermen back from 1955.

Linemen Dave Luebbert and Ed Braid along with backs Doug Storey and Ron MacLachlan are primary Dragon holdovers.

Crowded conditions at Milford will eliminate some of sophomore prospects as coach Dick Yeager plans to mold the squad around three regulars, Jerry Burklund, Ken Combs and Bob Cauppi.

Transfers Pat Kelly a signal caller from Adrian and Jerry Hackett from Walled Lake may strengthen the quarterback slot.

Size is at a premium at Clarkston where Ed Hintz has 200 pound Dennis Alexander as his heaviest player. Couple of ponies George Lang and Dave Swayne are back among the 10 lettermen.

St. Freds of Pontiac pack up and head north Sunday to spend a week's training at Shupac Lake near Grayling. a squad of 33 leaves Sunday. Former head coach Tom Kennedy is back to assist Gene Wright with the Rams this year.

OL St. Mary will begin work on Tuesday with 19 boys, but full sessions will start after Labor Day when out of town students report to the squad.

All of the teams have twice-daily sessions planned for next week until September 4th when classes will eliminate morning drills.

St. Michaels will start drills at Columbia-Joslyn with eight regulars returning for coach Bob Mineweaser. The nucleus in the backfield has Danny Dropps and Chuck Brown at halves and Bob Mineweaser Jr., at quarterback.

Take Two Prizes

Newcomers Rule at Traps

VANDALIA, Ohio (AP)—Trapshooting's number one show piece—the grand American handicap — pops up here today, and the nation's top marksmen appear to be getting a bit weary of newcomers and novices taking down the top prize, which may reach $10,000.

In the handicaps the shooters are placed anywhere from 18 to 27 yards back of the trap from which the flying clays emerge, and the better shooters, backed up practically to the bleachers, don't have much chance.

For years unknowns from nowhere, generally making their first appearances in this World Series of the clay target sport, have romped off with the top prizes. Latest to shoot down the game's best in his first attempt is Shelby B. Edwards, 33-year-old storeclerk from Central City, Ky. who picked up around $7,000 yesterday as he whipped a field of 1,077 in capturing the preliminary handicap.

With a gusty wind ranging from 21 to 30 m.p.h. sweeping down the trapline, the better shooters had little chance from the extreme handicap distances. The group shooting from 27 yards averages 83.16, those on the 26-yard line, 83.28, those on the 25-yard line 85.82, and the 24-yard group averaged 85.95.

None of those averages was good enough to cut into the huge prize list.

Aussies Shaky, but Still Win

Gain Quarter-Finals at Brookline, Along With Ham and Vic

BROOKLINE, Mass. (AP) — Australia's Lew Hoad and Ken Rosewall and America's Vic Seixas and Ham Richardson, virtually certain choices to meet in this year's Davis Cup competition, led the advance into the quarter-finals today in the 75th National Doubles tennis championship at Longwood.

Hoad and Rosewall at times performed as if they were playing together for the first time yesterday but managed to pull out a 3-6, 6-3, 9-7, 6-8, 6-4 victory over Abe Segal of South Africa and Herbie Flam of Beverly Hills, Calif., in a third-round match finished in near darkness.

Seixas and Richardson also were extended to the five-set limit before registering a hard-earned 6-4, 6-2, 5-7, 4-6, 6-4 triumph over Straight Clark of Philadelphia and Alex Olmedo of Peru and the University of Southern California.

Racetrack Loses Money

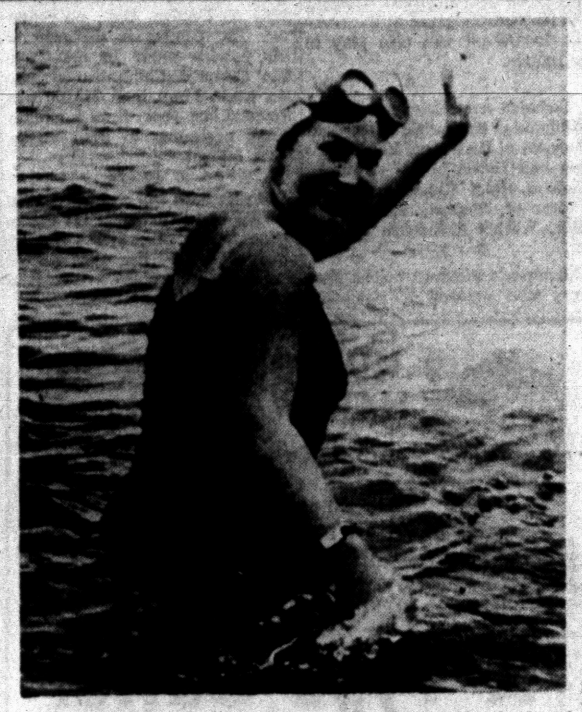

DETROIT — Northville Downs Harness Raceway lost money this year when McGuinea and his sire Guinea Gold were running.

McGuinea won the recent Michigan Colt Stakes. The track suffered a $2,551 minus pool including a minus pool of $22.70 for win.

Guinea Gold cost Northville Downs a $1,701 minus pool a week before the Michigan Colt Stakes.

Frost Upsets Hanover

VERNON, N.Y. (INS) — Dale Frost upset the mighty Duane Hanover last night at Vernon Downs in the final dash of the $160,000 Empire State pacing classic.

CONQUERS STRAITS — Marilyn Bell, 18-year-old school girl, won $10,000 Thursday night by swimming the 18.3-mile treacherous stretch of water of the Strait of Juan de Fuca at Victoria; B. C. The blonde from Toronto, Ont., made the swim in 11 hours and 9 minutes, and she was first Canadian woman to accomplish the feat.

Doctoring Your Golf Game

By DR. CARY MIDDLECOFF

By DR. CARY MIDDLECOFF

PATIENT'S COMPLAINT: Hooks and slices

DIAGNOSIS: Ungrooved swing

TREATMENT: After a while in golf you hear talk about hitting from the "inside out" to get a hooked ball, which you will, and swinging from the "outside in" for a slice, which you also will.

That's for the topflighters only. They've got to be able to hook or slice intentionally at will, know the technique perfectly, to meet a situation that demands the two different types of ball spin.

But for the average player, the one who gets out only a couple of times a week, there's just one shot — the straight one. For him the intelligent thing to do is concentrate on grooving the swing into a single, constant track for all club usage, from the driver down to the pitching irons.

The sketch gives you the four major points of operation: Steady head, straight left arm, no wrist break, the left shoulder, hip and knee following around freely to a point where, at the top of the backswing, the left shoulder is tucked comfortable under the chin.

Don't restrain the left side. Let it turn, because body turn or pivot produces a swinging groove for power and control. The weight transfers easily and smoothly to the right leg. The big thing to remember: Left arm in command—always the boss.

43rd for Mickey

Mantle Needs 17 More to Equal Babe's Mark

NEW YORK (AP) — Can Mickey Mantle break, or even tie, Babe Ruth's home run record? The next seven days — the last week of August — may tell.

The young New York Yankee slugger has seven games remaining in August, and with those seven he must build up a quick cushion against the Babe's unmatched finishing kick — which produced 17 homers in September to complete the old Yankee Bomber's sturdy record of 60 in 1927.

Going into tonight's game with the Chicago White Sox at Yankee Stadium, Mantle has 43, matching Ruth's total at the end of August and five games ahead of the Babe's terrific season pace. But a five-game edge won't mean a thing come September.

Ruth walloped six home runs in the first seven games of September, and then capped it all with four in the last five games of the season.

Mantle's 43rd came in the ninth inning of the nightcap yesterday as the Yankees dropped a doubleheader to the White Sox 8-3 and 6-4. It was his first since August 14 — covering 10 games.

The big poke — reaching the upper deck in left field — may have put an end, however, to one of the Mick's worst slumps. He was hitless in the first game, for a record of just three hits in 31 at bats, but then dumped a bunt single, a 457-foot triple and the homer in five trips in the afterpiece.

Mantle's longest no-homer slump this season was an 11-game stretch from June 20 to July 1. Then he went 10 games before hitting another. Ruth's worst slump in 1927, incidentally, also covered 11 games, from July 12 toJuly 24.

Mantle now has nine home runs for the month of August. Ruth finished with only nine for the entire month, and had only six at this point.

Mantle, a 24-year-old switch-hitter, has tagged only 10 of his homers batting right-handed, but oddly enough, his last three have been right-handed clouts.

Only 12 players ever have hit more than 43 home runs in one season, incidentally. Ruth did it nine times.

Bone Chip Benches Labine for 10 Days

CINCINNATI (INS)—The Brooklyn Dodgers will have to go through at least the next 10 days of the tight National Legue pennant race without the services of their ace reliever, Clem Labine.

X-rays revealed yesterday that the 30-year-old right hander suffered a bone chip in the right wrist when struck by a ball thrown by Larry Jackson in Wednesday's Brooklyn-St. Louis game.

LL in Championship

WILLIAMSPORT, Pa. (AP)—It was East versus West today as the finalists for the 10th annual Little League World Series baseball crown primed for action.

Delaware Twp., N. J., the 1955 runnerup, and Roswell, N. M., were paired for the Little League title in a game that promised to be a pitchers' duel on the basis of playoff action.

THURSDAY'S HOME RUNS

Mantle, Berra, Yankees; Rivera, White Sox; Sievers, Senators; Colavito, Indians; White, Giants; Baker, Cubs; Katt, Cardinals; Bailey, Post, F. Robinson, Redlegs; Lopata 2, Thomson, Aaron, Logan, Braves.

Weyand, Reynolds Out

Beman, Magnussen Pace WJGA Today

By H. GUY MOATS

Pontiac and Oakland County hopes in the 39th Western Junior Golf Assn. championship faded out completely yesterday, at the University of Michigan course, Ann Arbor. Last of the Michigan contenders was eliminated when Tom Brown of Aurora, Ill., knocked out Richey Weyand of Birmingham one-up yesterday afternoon in a hot match that went 19 holes. Previously Jack Reynolds of Waterford, only other area boy to reach yesterday's match play round bowed to Mike Spinello of Mount Prospect, Ill., 2 and 1 in the morning round.

Weyand defeated Bob Robinson of Meridian, Miss., 3 and 2, after leading most of the way. He then tagnled with Brown in a give and take scrap that saw Rich go two-down at the turn to the Southern Methodist sophomore. Weyand squared things at the 18th with a par four after cutting Brown's two-hole edge to one on the 15th.

On the extra hole Weyand, a Culver Military Academy student, banged his 2nd to a trap and his out fell 14 feet from the pin. He missed the long putt while Brown canned a 7-footer.

Today's favored leaders are Dean Beman of Minneapolis and Bernie Magnussen of Winnetka, Ill., who top a list of eight in this quarterfinal round.

It was Magnussen who gave yesterday's most startling exhibition when he turned back Tom Orsi of Chicago 2 and 1. Today he meets John Ellis of Chicago's suburban Wilmette, Beman is cast opposite Brown, victor over Weyand.

Others in the quarterfinals today were Bob McDonald of Mount Prospect, Ill., vs. Ron Royer of Crawfordsville, Ind., and Dick Foote of Santa Ana, Calif., vs. John Sommers of Crawfordsville, Ind.

Magnussen's fireworks came in the 2nd round when the Stanford player holed out a 110-yard approach for an eagle 2 on the 8th and sank an "out" from a sand trap on the 15th for a birdie.

Other 2nd round results:

McDonald defeated Lee Raymond, Toledo, 1-up; Royer defeated Mike Dorsey, Evanston, Ill., 1-up; Foote defeated Sam Carmichael, Martinsville, Ind., 2 and 1; Sommer defeated Wayne Breck, Waseca, Minn., 3 and 2; Ellis defeated Mike Spinello, Mount Prospect, Ill., 2 and 1.

Insurance Group Says Payments Up

DETROIT (INS)—The Institute of Life Insurance reports an increase of 102 per cent in the payment of Michigan death benefits since 1946.

During the first half of 1956, $51,948,000 was paid to life insurance beneficiaries as against $25,756,000 in 1946.

In announcing these figures, Holgar J. Johnson, president of the Institute stated: "The rise in death benefit payments in the past ten years directly reflects the greatly increased holdings of life insurance by American families since the end of World War II."

Aggregate ownership of life insurance in this country has risen 145 per cent in the past ten years, while the mortality rate among policy holders appears to be at a record low.

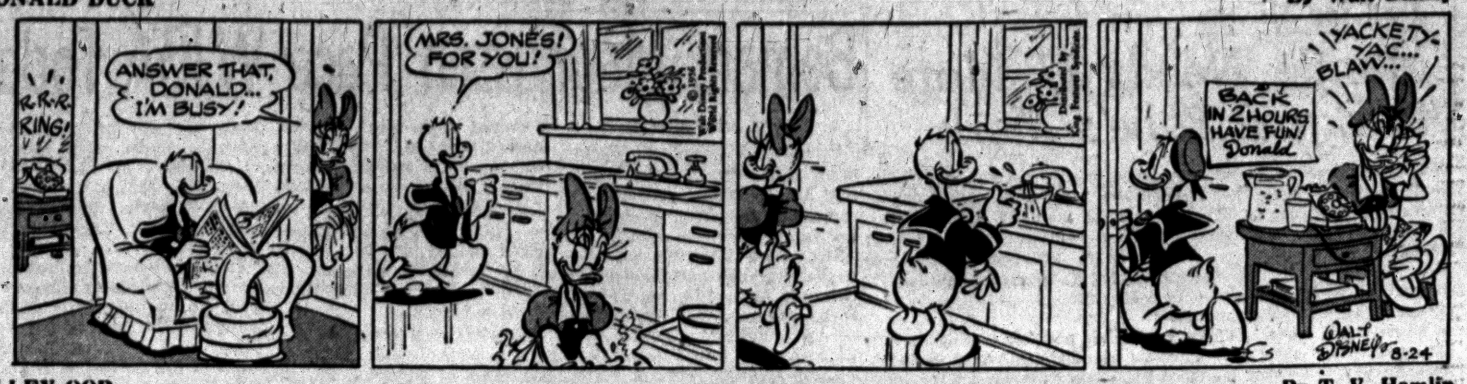

Newspapers and radio stations in nearly 70 countries use Associated Press news.

Stock Market Edges Higher

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market edged into slightly higher ground in quiet early trading today.

Caution continued to prevail in selective dealings. The market started mixed, then improved somewhat, although most changes were in fractions.

Rubbers, utilities, rails and aircrafts were on the upside, while most other divisions were irregular.

Gainers included Bethlehem, Jones & Laughlin, Goodrich, Montgomery Ward, Commonwealth Edison, American Smelting, American Cyanamid, International Paper, Southern Railway, Texas Co., and Gulf Oil.

Lower were U. S. Steel, International Harvester, Kennecott, Allied Chemical, and Royal Dutch.

The market was higher yesterday for the first time in more than a week. The Associated Press average of 60 stocks rose $1.40 to $185.20 with industrials up $2.90, rails up 90 cents and utilities off 10 cents.

After yesterday's close, the Federal Reserve Board announced a boost of ¼ per cent in the discount rate for four regional banks. This is the interest rate reserve banks charge on money they lend to member banks for commercial and personal loans.

Wife Wins Alimony From 3 Time Loser

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Mrs. Betty Fern Heehleis has obtained a court order for her second, third and fifth husband to pay her $450 monthly alimony, pending trial of her separate maintenance suit.

That's right. She and Anthony C. Heehleis, a steel contractor, were married twice because the first union was effected before her divorce from a previous hubby had become final. Then she divorced Heehleis, married another man, divorced him, and remarried Heehleis.

The latest suit is contested. He started it with a cruelty allegation.

Recovering from his injuries in a Boise hospital yesterday, Backstron reached for a paper napkin. The bee was in the box, dead. He's caught it after all.

GOP-ers Are Gossipy, to Columnist's Delight

By EARL WILSON

SAN FRANCISCO—Those Republicans are so gossipy (and am I glad). One of them tipped me off that Elizabeth Taylor may remarry Nicky Hilton who's been on the wagon for months and achin' for her to say yes . . . A delegate purportedly asked a dentist to drill a tooth. The tooth-puller protested there was nothing wrong with the tooth. "I know," replied the delegate, "but I'm from Texas, and I feel lucky today."

ELIZABETH TAYLOR

Margaret Truman and Clifton Daniel dined twice at Amelio's where Margaret ordered in Italian (she learned it studying music) until her bridegroom said, "Can't we order in English so I know what I'm eating?" . . . This is the eatin'est convention; when Will Rogers Jr. asked me if I was going to the convention, I told him, "Sorry, I haven't time. . I just came from lunch and now I gotta go get ready for dinner." (Thanks to those hospitable San Franciscans).

Ethel Merman's husband Bob Six—robbed of expensive cufflinks and studs in Chicago—is so embarrassed. At the fabulous parties here he's got to wear what he calls his "junk jewelry" . . . Name heard here for a certain politico: "The Man With the Gray Flannel Mouth" . . . Ike's nominator, Rep. Charles Halleck of Indiana, is a Phi Beta Kappa and quite a word-slinger. "The Democrats believe in the Constitution," he says. "They just don't believe in enforcing it."

Extry: Walter Reuther will be Democratic Presidential nominee in '60 or '64. At least some Republicans think so . . . Drew Pearson just finished writing "Confessions of an S.O.B." for the Satevepost.

Gene Tunney looked so pedantic in his steel-rimmed specs that Lou Lurie, who's in his late 60s, cracked, "All right, I'll fight him!"

The San Francisco fur is flying during the convention. Mink that is. One famous visitor bought two mink stoles for two local beauties. Another bought two stoles and gave one to his wife and another to his girl friend . . . An egghead, according to Ed Morgan of ABC, is somebody who refers to Marilyn Monroe as "Mrs. Arthur Miller."

THE MIDNIGHT EARL IN N. Y. . . .

Groucho Marx paid $100,000 for the land for his new Sunset Blvd. home . . . Spencer Tracy's French film double had his name changed legally—to Spencer Tracy . . . Red Steiger says he'll tour Europe, "to study people" . . . Merle Oberon is houseguesting with the Charlie Chaplins on the Riviera . . . Jack E. Leonard told Frank Sinatra, "I feel awful—I feel worse than you used to look."

Rainier and Grace are doing the dark glasses bit, even in Riviera night clubs . . . Producer Jule Styne sneaked into a "Mr. Wonderful" cafe scene and yelled to Sammy Davis Jr., "Sing 'Melancholy Baby'!" . . . Tommy Manville pays his bodyguard $100 a night . . . Ted Williams' best manners are reserved for pretty Vicki Carlson.

Olivia de Havilland refused to return to the U. S. to plug her latest film, "The Ambassador's Daughter." . . . Dorothy Dandridge is getting phone calls from a Brazilian big wheel . . . Mickey Mantle will net 15G's for his record with Teresa Brewer, "I Love Mickey" . . . The State Department offered jazz musician Charlie Ventura $7,500 to tour Japan.

Earl's Pearls . . .

Nowadays the thing to put aside for one's old age is any thought of retirement.

WISH I'D SAID THAT: "Political conventions remind us that the White House is a little like heaven. Not everybody who talks about it is going there."—Margaret Puchir.

Red Skelton, who owns $25,000 worth of camera equipment, was asked if the hobby's expensive. "It sure is," he said, "—especially if you develop the film." . . . That's earl, brother.

Fame Brings In More Rewards

Video Experts Write Books, Entertain and Give Advice

By CHARLES MERCER

NEW YORK (AP)—Let us note the fact that an 11-year-old winner of $100,000 on a TV quiz program has been seriously questioned about the price of coffee in Brazil.

Leonard Ross, the young financial wizard who won that amount on "Big Surprise" (which returns to NBC-TV next month), had barely recovered his breath from platform participation in the Democratic National Convention with young Gloria Lockerman, a CBS-TV $64,000 Question winner, when he opened a letter from Sao Paulo Brazil.

"In view of your understanding of finance," a prominent Rotarian named Senor Alvaro Queiroa Filho wrote Leonard in Tujungo, Calif., "what would you tell us as to whether the present price of coffee is high in the view of the American housewife?"

While Leonard is pondering his answer, which should not take him long, let's see how fame and fortune continued to dog the paths of quiz winners.

Take the case of the lawyer Egan brothers, James and William, of Hartford, Conn., whose extraordinary knowledge of everything from baseball to ballet won them a pot of jack on the $64,000 Question a while back. Today they're boning up to answer another $64,000 question on The $64,000 Challenge (CBS-TV) next Sunday night.

William, by the way, now has his own quiz program on a Hartford station. James is resisting pressure to run for Congress.

Due to appear on the same program Sunday is Mrs. Ida M. Sherburne, 76, whose knowledge of horse racing won her $16,000 on the big question.

Apparently there's something about winning on quiz programs that stirs humans to composition. was heard in many parts of The clack of their typewriters country this week.

Marine Corps Capt. Richard S. McCutchen, who won it all on the big question and won again on the challenge, is finishing writing a cook book. Michael O'Hanlon, New York policeman and Shakespearean authority, hopes to have his book on Shakespeare's puns ready for next spring.

Up in Bristol, R. I., Mrs. Alice B. Morgan, 78, who won $32,000 on the big question, has completed "The Investor's Road Map," which Simon & Schuster will publish next month.

* * *

And let's not forget Gino Prato, the operatic shoe-maker. He isn't writing a book, but he did write his name to a second year contract at $10,000 per annum with a rubber company as a cheerful ambassador to American shoemakers.

* * *

So it went, a big week for quiz winners. But a typical week, too. When you win in a big TV contest these days, it's obvious that a lifetime annuity goes with the loot you take home.

It's Wedding Bells at Miami Zoo—for Two Camels

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Cecil, the camel at Crandon Park Zoo will take an Australian bride, Cecelia, today in an Arab-type "ceremony" with oriental overtones.

The wedding announcement was made by Yank Taylor, publicity County Parks Department.

The "Voice of America" will cover the wedding for a worldwide radio broadcast.

Until recently the only camel at the zoo, Cecil's lonesome expression provoked the Miami Herald to start a campaign for donations toward the purchase of a bride. Purchasing agents found a mate in Australia and she is becoming acquainted with Cecil from an adjoining, but unconnected, lot.

Give Pair Probation in Theft of Motor

Two Farmington men were placed on probation one year and assessed $100 each for court costs by Circuit Judge George B. Hartrick this week.

David Caskey, 19, and Kenneth Glaspie, 24, both were charged with the grand larceny July 6 of a $150 outboard motor from a West Bloomfield Township home.

2 Mental Cases Flee in Maryland

Force Woman Employe to Open Gates, Go Along With Them

CATONSVILLE, Md. (AP)—Police were searching this suburban Baltimore community today for two dangerous women mental hospital patients who overpowered a woman attendant, took her with them to freedom, then released her.

The attendant, Mrs. Betty Nichols of Ellicott City, mother of three children, was taken to a wooded area about two miles from the Spring Grove State Hospital here, stripped to her underwear and released. She returned to the hospital early this morning, several hours after the escape.

Authorities at the hospital said the two escaped women, identified as Romona Sensabaugh, 21, of Roanoke, Va., and Grace Mahan, 18, of Hyattsville, have homicidal and suicidal tendencies.

* * *

Dr. Isadore Tuerk, hospital superintendent, said Mrs. Nichols was working in the institution's white patient building when the two jumped her, took her keys and forced her to go with them as they unlocked their way to the outside world.

Floods Wash Up Skull of Neanderthal Woman

MARBURG, Germany (AP) — A German anthropologist has announced the discovery of a well-preserved skull of a Neanderthal woman who lived more than 120,000 years ago.

The skull was found by a rural schoolteacher.

Washed up by recent floods in the Hessian village of Rhuenda, it was taken to Prof. Eduard Jacobshagen, anthropologist of Marburg University.

"It is a sensational scientific discovery," Jacobshagen said in an interview. "And the skull is better preserved than the Neanderthal skull itself."

Jacobshagen said the skull is that of a woman 35 to 40 years old at the time of her death. He fixed the age of the skull at more than 120,000 years because in the sinter covering it he found a fossilized snail of the last interglacial period.

The Neanderthal man's skull was found a century ago this month in a limestone cave 60 feet underground in the Neander Valley, about 10 miles from Duesseldorf.

The skull of a second man of the Neanderthal race was discovered in World War I at Ehringsdorf, near Weimar, now Communist East Germany.

The Rhuenda skull was turned in by a 40-year-old country teacher, Eitel Glatzer, July 20. Rains had turned small Rhuenda Creek into a raging stream which washed away soil and laid it bare in a layer of gravel. Digging at the scene of the find thus far has failed to bring up more bones.

This city is said to have had the first auto taxicabs which were placed in public service during the year 1915.
