Death Sentence Imposed on Bobby's Slayers

First Big Snow Storm Hits West

Winter Weather Edges Eastward From Rockies

11 Inches in Colorado; Plane Crash Kills One in Albuquerque

DENVER (AP) — Snow continued to pile up today as the Rocky Mountain region's first major storm of the season slowly edged eastward.

Glassy streets and highways slowed motor traffic to a crawl over parts of half a dozen states but no major accidents were reported.

The only loss of life was in a plane crash at Albuquerque, where one man died and seven were injured yesterday.

Their C47 transport cracked up while taking off from Kirtland Air Force base in blinding snow.

Nearly a foot of snow covered parts of Colorado and Wyoming, and it was still falling this morning in all but the northern half of Wyoming.

Montana, which received its snow a day earlier, was gripped by bitter cold. The temperature dipped to 2 below zero at Butte.

By early morning, the weather bureau said the storm centered on the northeast corner of New Mexico and the Texas Panhandle, extending also over the west half of Nebraska and the west third of Kansas.

It was expected to move slowly northeastward.

Rain was falling in the remainder of Kansas and Nebraska, and in Oklahoma and North Texas as well.

There also was some rain and snow in eastern Utah, which caught the fringe of the storm.

Biting winds accompanied the snow in some localities, mostly in the mountains, but the weather bureau said they weren't high enough to create blizzard conditions.

The snowfall ranged up to 11 inches deep at both Lander, in west central Wyoming, and Leadville, in central Colorado. While snow continued during the night, depths at both places were unchanged by early morning.

Snow measurements elsewhere in Wyoming included Rock Springs 6 inches; Casper, Laramie and Sheridan, all 5 inches; Douglas 4, Cheyenne and Rawlins 3 and Moorcroft 2.

Triplets Born Here Today to Mother of 7 Children

By ROBERT F. MAHER

An Upper Straits Lake mother gave birth to triplets, two girls and a boy, in St. Joseph Mercy Hospital at 5 a. m. today, while seven other children waited for the news at home.

Parents of the triplets, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Garwood, both 37, of 3805 Green Lake Rd., smiled at one another in the hospital today and commented on "the miracle."

"Stan always wanted twins," his wife said, "and when the triplets were born I told him he must have been wishing too hard."

"Bernice and I didn't know until a week ago that she was going to have a multiple birth," Stan said, "and when X-rays disclosed triplets we couldn't believe it."

"The other children (they range in age from 14 months to 12 years) wanted two boys and a girl to even up the distribution," Mrs. Garwood chuckled.

The Garwoods, married 17 years last June, now have four boys and six girls.

The triplets, all placed in incubators, are reported in good condition by hospital officials. The boy, born first, weighed four pounds, nine ounces. His sisters weigh four pounds, 14 ounces and three pounds, 12 ounces.

"We've decided to name the boy Giles Gerald," the parents said today, "but we'll have to think a while before choosing names for the girls."

The family lives in a four bedroom, two bath frame home "but even with all that room I think we'll still be a little crowded," the mother commented.

Garwood, a furnace installation man and sheet metal worker, spends his mornings now readying five of the children for the school.

Victim Mistakes Bathrobed Thief for Wife's Mom

When the door to his bedroom squeaked last night and he saw a figure clad in a striped bathrobe, Roy McGill, 25, naturally thought it was his mother-in-law returning from work.

"Mother?" called out McGill.

"Yes," replied the bathrobed figure, "What do you want?"

The words were right, but the voice came from a man. A burglar had invaded McGill's bedroom at 491 Highland Ave.

He said the bathrobed burglar and an accomplice looting a drawer downstairs escaped when he started to chase them. They fled with $55 snatched from McGill's dresser.

McGill said he didn't know why the burglar was wearing a bathrobe.

Begin Toll Road Poll Here Soon

Conduct Traffic Survey on Proposed Detroit-Bay City Route

Engineers conducting a traffic survey for the proposed Detroit-Bay City toll road will reach the Pontiac area shortly after Christmas, according to the Michigan Turnpike Authority.

Engineers will study car movements on a strip of territory running west of Pontiac, said William E. Slaughter Jr., chairman of the authority.

"The Coverdale and Colpitts Co. of New York is studying a wide swathe of land between Bay City and Detroit, north to determining where the actual road will run," said Slaughter.

This firm will begin Dec. 2 in the vicinity of Saginaw-Bay City and work south toward Flint during December, he explained. Barricades will be set-up at various points where motorists will be stopped and asked the origin and destination of their trip.

The number of cars will be counted and total miles of individual trips compiled. From these figures probable income from a toll road will be determined, Slaughter stated.

A civil engineering survey was begun in November to determine construction costs on various routes. The two studies are expected to take a year in compiling a composite picture of the problem.

Results of the research should allow the authority to make a final decision whether the Detroit-Bay City route will be built, Slaughter explained.

Senators Start Juvenile Study

Group Wants to Unite All Factions in Crusade Against Delinquency

WASHINGTON (AP)—Investigating senators called their first witnesses today in a broad public study of what they call "the mushroom growth" of crime among the nation's youth.

Chairman Hendrickson (R-NJ), in a statement prepared for the opening public hearing, said his judiciary subcommittee's study will cover the whole field of delinquency problems. He pledged the group "to find and present the sober facts" unembroidered by sensationalism.

The quest, he said, is for means to unite federal, state and local governments in a curative crusade.

Hendrickson called Dr. Martha T. Eliot, chief of the Federal Children's Bureau, as the first witness.

The subcommittee is operating under a Senate resolution ordering an inquiry and a report back to the Senate by Jan. 31.

Hendrickson has said it will have time to do little more than make a start on coast-to-coast public hearings. Its members plan to visit local areas to examine youth-crime problems.

Hendrickson said the three-day hearings starting today "are designed to give a nationwide picture" of the problem of a 30 per cent increase in juvenile delinquency since 1948, as the FBI has reported.

Hot Water Keeps Helpful Hubby Happy and Useful

GREENSBORO, N. C. (AP)—Walter Adams, an insurance executive, believes he has the world's most considerate wife.

Addressing a Boy Scout council, he extolled her virtues, saying, "when I come home at night, my easy chair is ready, my slippers are laid out and my pipe is on the table. And there's always plenty of hot water."

Pausing, he added, "I never could wash dishes in cold water."

Mild With Light Rain Forecast for Area

Light rain and mild temperatures are in store for the Pontiac area tonight and tomorrow, according to the U. S. Weather Bureau.

Mostly cloudy skies and scattered showers tonight will be coupled with a low of from 53 to 56 degrees. A high of from 60 to 64 is expected Friday.

Wednesday, the mercury rose to a high of 66, just three degrees below the record high for that date established in 1921. A light trace of rain was recorded here last night.

Today at 8 a. m. the mercury registered 51. By 2 p. m. in downtown Pontiac the reading was 67 degrees.

Stripping Japan of Arms Wrong, Nixon Declares

Vice President Tells Nipponese Businessmen U. S. Erred in 1946

TOKYO (AP)—U. S. Vice President Richard Nixon, in a bold bid for a re-armed Japan, said today "the United States made a mistake in 1946" when it ordered destruction of the remnants of Japanese military might.

Nixon's dramatic review of American policy first startled, then obviously pleased some 700 top Japanese leaders. There was quick praise from Japanese who long have insisted demilitarization was a costly mistake.

"We misjudged the intentions of Soviet leaders" at the end of World War II, Nixon told the influential Japan-America Society.

Since then, he said, "the threat from the Communist nations—with the threat centered in Moscow" has prevented the free world from living in peace.

"It is because we want peace and believe in peace," Nixon added, "that we (the United States have rearmed since 1946 and we believe that Japan and other nations should share the same responsibility.

"We felt disarmament was proper in 1946. We looked ahead, hoping against hope that it would be possible to attain a peaceful world. Since that time, the Communist threat has gained in power—wars have begun.

"If we want peace, we must be militarily stronger than the Communist nations."

Informed quarters said Nixon's speech apparently inaugurated a new soft line of persuasion in dealing with Japan.

The Japanese strongly resented statements by Sen. William F. Knowland (R-Calif), U. S. Senate majority leader, and U.S. Secretary of State Dulles which they interpreted to mean Japan must rearm to obtain future aid.

Both Knowland and Dulles urged Japan to furnish more of its defense forces and to lean less heavily on the United States.

Nixon spoke from notes. It was the strongest speech of his goodwill tour through the Orient.

Pleased Japanese said it was the first top-level admission that anything was wrong with the U.S. occupation of Japan.

Nixon stressed:

"Japan is a key bastion for the defense of Asia.

"If Japan falls, all of Asia falls. "Likewise, if Asia falls, Japan falls too."

The vice president and his party leave Friday for a two-hour glimpse of the multi-billion dollar American defense establishment on Okinawa on the way to Manila.

Bandit Strikes Girl, Loots Candy Shop

A 16-year-old counter girl at a Pontiac candy store was struck in the face by a bandit who looted two cash registers of $83 while the store's owner was making candy in a back room last night, according to Pontiac Police.

The girl, Marlene Crocker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Crocker of 194 Chippewa Rd., who own the store at 857 W. Huron St., said she feigned unconsciousness after the man hit her in the face and dazed her momentarily.

She told Detective William Hangar the man had purchased a wedding anniversary card and candy. As she was about to give him change, she said, the man struck her and started looting the cash registers.

Her father said he was unaware of the robbery because of noise from a candy machine he was operating in the rear room.

Fate Sealed

CARL HALL

MRS. BONNIE HEADY

Hall and Heady Will Die Dec. 18 in Gas Chamber

Murderess Smiles as Verdict Is Read; Partner Shows No Emotion

KANSAS CITY (AP)—The kidnap killers of little Bobby Greenlease were sentenced today to die Dec. 18 for their crime.

U. S. District Judge Albert L. Reeves passed the death sentence on Carl Austin Hall, 34, and Mrs. Bonnie Brown Heady, 41, within 15 minutes after a jury of 12 men recommended that they pay the supreme penalty for their confessed crime.

Mrs. Heady, the pudgy faced alcoholic, stood at the right of Hall, wastrel playboy, when the judge pronounced the sentence.

Judge Reeves asked if they had anything to say.

Hall said clearly: "No sir."

Mrs. Heady shook her head in the negative.

Then Judge Reeves said solemnly:

"I accept the recommendations of the jury. It is my duty to accept and adopt the recommendations of the jury."

Since neither had anything to say, Judge Reeves said it would be the judgment and sentence of the court that they be executed in the gas chamber at Jefferson City on Dec. 18—just one week before Christmas.

He read the sentence twice—once for Hall, then in the same words for Mrs. Heady.

The kidnapers' faces did not change expression. Both apparently were resigned to their fate.

Robert C. Greenlease, multi-millionaire father of little Bobby who paid the kidnapers $600,000 ransom days after his child had been slain, watched the climax of the trial with set jaw.

He said he did not know whether he would witness the execution of the killers.

As he left the courtroom, Greenlease commented of the sentence:

"It's too good for them but it's the best the law provides."

It took the jury of 12 men one hour and seven minutes to give U. S. District Judge Albert L. Reeves authority to send the pair to the gas chamber. Judge Reeves had told the jury the two were cold-blooded murderers and there were no mitigating circumstances for their crime.

As the jurors walked into their room to decide the case each was handed a slip of paper that said: "Do you recommend the death penalty?"

All they had to do was write one word: Yes or no.

The jury returned to the courtroom in single file, passing with solemn faces directly in front of the two confessed kidnap killers.

Claims Red Cell Gets Data at GE

Self-Styled FBI Agent Tells Senate Probers About Commie Work

BOSTON (UP)—A surprise witness who identified himself as an FBI undercover agent said today a Communist cell with access to all secret military data exists at General Electric Co. plants in Lynn and Fitchburg, Mass.

The witness, William Teto, told Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy's permanent investigating subcommittee there is "a Communist cell of 30 at the Lynn GE plant and 15 at Fitchburg."

McCarthy's committee is investigating suspected Communist activities in General Electric plants.

Teto said he became a Communist in 1941 for the FBI. He said he attended Communist Party meetings at Fitchburg and Boston.

He said he was recording secretary of the Communist Party while working for GE at Fitchburg.

In reply to questions put by investigators at the televised hearing, Teto said he knew "Communists at Lynn, Schenectady, N. Y., Everett and other GE plants."

"We used to exchange information between the Lynn, Schenectady and Fitchburg Communist Party offices," he said.

"No secrets were kept from the Communists on new developments in the plants."

Republicans May Keep Red Probes Going Until Election

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senators investigating the Harry Dexter White case gave no sign today of abandoning their efforts because of President Eisenhower's suggestion that the need for such inquiries may soon be ended.

Sen. Jenner (R-Ind) said he did not know where or how far the inquiry by the internal security subcommittee he heads would lead. The group's next session was set for Monday afternoon, but there was no announcement whether witnesses would be heard then.

Jenner told newsmen that "for the first time we have been able to show" that FBI reports on suspected individuals "reached the hands of top officials," and he added it was impossible to say now what developments might follow.

Some Republicans and most Democrats seconded Eisenhower's hope, expressed at his news conference yesterday, that security firings may so completely solve the problem of alleged Red infiltration of government that the issue will be forgotten by next year's congressional campaign.

Eisenhower said he was not suggesting current congressional probes be called off.

Eisenhower's remarks may have the effect of applying the brakes to his Cabinet members on any further forays in the communism-in-government field.

But it was plainly evident that Republicans in Congress and elsewhere intended to keep the ball rolling up to election time next November.

Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) prepared a radio-television reply Monday night to Truman's indictment of "McCarthyism."

Jenner promised the internal security subcommittee will have new disclosures on the operations of alleged spies in the Treasury after White was promoted from assistant secretary there to the International Monetary Fund.

Jenner challenged a telegraphic statement from John W. Snyder, who served as secretary of the Treasury under Truman, that any subversives in that department were weeded out during his tenure.

"We happen to know better than that," Jenner said.

Among those named as suspected of subversive activities in an FBI report to the White House late in 1945 were Maurice Halperin and Victor Perlo.

Halperin, 47, was suspended yesterday from a Boston University professorship.

Perlo, now a private economic consultant in New York, said last night the Republicans are trying to make people forget years of war and depression by "picturing the New Deal as a foreign plot."

Perlo, who has sworn he was not a spy ring member, said in a statement, "The dragging of my name through the mud . . . is part of a big Roman carnival which McCarthy, Jenner, Brownell, etc., are staging for political adventure, and to divert the people from real problems . . ."

Eisenhower's expressed hope that the whole matter of Communists in government will be only a recollection by election time was shared by Sen. Bush (R-Conn), who said, "I think we all could join in that hope."

Sen. McClellan (D-Ark), a member of Jenner's subcommittee, said he believes its investigations should be directed toward "discovering any Communists still in government."

"What constructive purpose does it serve to go back into these cases involving dead men?" he asked, alluding to the White investigation.

Local Paratrooper Saved by Volunteering for Korea

A decision to volunteer for Korean duty may have saved the life of a Pontiac serviceman who would have participated in the paratroop jump Tuesday at Ft. Bragg, N. C., which killed 15 and injured 11 men.

Sgt. 1.C. Martin E. Hojara, 25, said he "quite possibly" would have jumped from the plane carrying one of his buddies, Pfc. Charlie Mallory of Detroit. Mallory was killed when a C-119 "flying boxcar" plunged through a mass drop of paratroopers.

Both men were members of Company G, 504th Airborne Infantry Regiment, 82 Airborne Division.

"Charlie and I were good friends," said Hojara. "I'm only afraid more of my buddies were killed or injured."

Hojara left Ft. Bragg on Nov. 6 and is home on a 10-day leave prior to reporting to Camp Stoneman, Calif., for shipment overseas. His parents are the Walter Baranskis of 3822 South Blvd.

The Air Force has ordered a board of inquiry to investigate the Ft. Bragg crash.

"The planes have to slow to 120 miles per hour," said Hojara, "to allow us to jump.

"We're warned not to crowd into the aircraft's tail for fear the weight will nose it up and make the plane stall. From newspaper descriptions of the accident, I fear that's what happened."

SGT. I.C. MARTIN HOJARA

Hojara served in the Navy from 1945 to 1949, then joined the Army in 1950. He is a veteran of 31 parachute jumps.

Defective Chimney Work Cause of Pembroke Fire; Birmingham Plans Check

From Our Birmingham Bureau

BIRMINGHAM—An investigation of a chimney flue in the Pembroke area today will decide whether flues in more than 200 homes there will be inspected for fire hazards, City Building Inspector Jack Walker said yesterday.

Defective workmanship on a chimney flue at 2788 Pembroke has been established as the cause of a fire there Nov. 11. A faulty joint let flames ignite insulation according to Fire Chief V. W Griffith.

Walker said an adjacent house would be inspected tomorrow, and future investigations of the 200 homes built in the 1950 Manchester Homes subdivision by Berkley contractors Harry Green and Harry Jacobs would depend on their findings.

The inspection will be made by removing a few bricks from the outside of the chimney, according to Walker. "The mason who did the poor work has certain characteristics in his work which are easily recognized and he probably didn't work on more than five or ten houses," Walker explained.

Dickenson of Big Stone Gap, Va., the only one of 23 American prisoners of the Korean War who refused repatriation but changed his mind, waves as he steps off a military plane at Travis Air Force Base, Calif., last night. En route home from Tokyo, Cpl. Dickenson stopped at the base overnight.

CIO Ignoring Mitchell Advice

Convention Goes Ahead With Resolution Asking Taft-Hartley Repeal

CLEVELAND (AP)—The CIO Convention paid little heed today to Secretary of Labor James P. Mitchell's advice to quit talking about scuttling the Taft-Hartley Act.

Instead, it pushed ahead with a resolution calling for outright repeal of what it called an "unfair and unjust" law.

CIO President Walter P. Reuther said the resolution, prepared well in advance of the new labor secretary's convention speech yesterday, would not be altered. There was no doubt that it would pass.

Mitchell told the 700 delegates that an approach to labor legislation starting "from the point of realism" would "preclude further talk of repeal of the act. . . ."

If such an approach were taken, he said, the administration and Congress could "concentrate on those features of the act which are really dangerous to labor, really loaded, really unfair."

His speech—a careful statement of administration policy—drew only mild applause. It was Mitchell's first major address since he took over last month from Martin P. Durkin, who quit the Cabinet in a dispute with President Eisenhower over T-H law changes.

Hall, Heady to Die for Bobby's Slaying

be no appeal in the case unless there was an invasion of Hall's constitutional rights.

"I will not appeal from life imprisonment," he said. "I asked the jury for that, and I couldn't very well appeal."

Dietrich said that at this point in the case that he saw no justification for an appeal.

The judge's instructions were short but clear as he carefully reviewed the case, point by point.

Judge Reeves made it clear that the jury was not assessing the penalty that that was his function. But under provisions of the Lindbergh kidnaping act, he said, it was necessary that he be cloaked with this authority if the maximum punishment is to be levied against the couple.

The judge paid particular attention to Hall's efforts yesterday to shoulder the full responsibility for the planning of the kidnap killing. He said under the law that anyone who aided in carrying out such a crime was equally guilty regardless of the extent to which he or she participated.

However, he said, in the case of Mrs. Heady there was no question that she had participated fully. The very fact that her hat had been found in the stubble wheat field in Johnson County (Kansas) gave substance to the possibility that she was doing more than simply going after her dog when Hall was shooting Bobby to death.

"Reprehensible as is the crime of kidnaping," Judge Reeves told the jury, "they still did commit cold-blooded, heartless, cruel first-degree murder.

"In studying this testimony I fail to find one line of justifying or mitigating circumstances for this crime.

"Is it conceivable that the Congress could, in enacting the Lindbergh law, have conceived of a more merciless, more horrifying crime than was committed?"

Eli Whitney, cotton gin inventor, failed to profit from that invention, but later amassed his fortune by the manufacture of firearms.

Birmingham Adds 5 Voting Precincts

BIRMINGHAM — Another measure of Birmingham's growth was shown this week by the revision of voting precincts both by the city commission and the Board of Education.

The city added three new precincts in the Barnum, Pierce and Torry school areas, and the school board increased from seven to nine precincts by adding new ones at Birmingham High school and Torry Elementary school areas.

Supt. of Schools Dr. Dwight B. Ireland said the school's revisions were made in cooperation with the city, to have similar boundaries as much as possible.

He added that when the Beverly and Pembroke schools are completed, they will serve as voting places, bringing the school's precincts more similar to the city's.

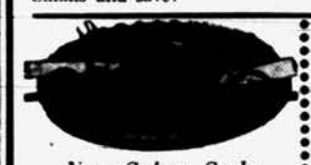

Ads Not Sponsored by Lodges in City

"It has come to the attention of the Better Business Board that advertising is being solicited from Pontiac merchants on behalf of a publication called the Masonic Digest," Chairman Wayne Gabert informed the Press today. "It has been ascertained that this solicitation is not sponsored by and has not been authorized by any local Masonic body nor by the Michigan Grand Lodge.

"If anyone desires further information he may call the Better Business Board."

Vision Triangle Could Be Fatal

That pedestrian who pops out from between parked cars can put you on the spot. The parked car hides him until the last second.

When you are far enough along to see him you may have only 10 feet in which to stop.

That fatal triangle in the drawing tells the story.

See how close the car is before the line of sight of the driver can reach the pedestrian. He only has to move 5 feet to be in front of you.

At 10 miles per hour your reaction time of ¾ of a second moves you 11 feet before your foot hits the brake. You will still skid 7.5 feet before you stop. In 18.5 feet you would have run over him.

Col. (later General) Abner Doubleday devised the positions for players and the diagram of bases used in baseball in 1839 and he has been called the inventor of the game.

State People Aloof to Doctors, Dentists

EAST LANSING (AP)—Michigan people do not consult doctors and dentists as often as they should or could, a Michigan State College survey showed today.

And the survey was made by MSC's sociological and anthropological departments. It covered 1,113 scientifically-chosen households outside of Wayne county.

The survey said most Michigan people are not aware of health problems in their community, nor of what their county health department does.

Early settlers in Greenland, more than 1,000 years ago, raised cattle and even some crops, but the climate grew colder and until it became warmer again in recent years, stock raising was impossible.

The U. S. marriage rate increased from 9.6 per 1,000 people in 1901 to 12.1 per 1,000 people in 1945.

To Hold January Safety Conference

LANSING (AP) — The State Safety commission plans a second Michigan highway safety seminar in January in view of the success of its first conference.

The conference will be Jan. 20, unless that date conflicts with legislative sessions in which case it will be held by the end of January.

The seminar, one of the sparkplugs last spring in passage of a new driver licensing law, will be limited to legislation.

Secretary of State Owen J. Cleary was elected chairman of the Commission, succeeding State Highway Commissioner Charles M. Ziegler.

To Study Displaced Arab Rehabilitation

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Gillette (D-Iowa) said today he plans an early tour of the Near East to check on prospects for rehabilitating displaced Arabs now supported by United Nations funds.

Gillette will make the tour for a Senate Foreign Relations subcommittee on Near East problems which reported last July 24 that unless the rehabilitation program was stepped up "Congress would not be justified in continuing aid for this program."

That report estimated 86,000 Arab refugees who fled from Palestine during the fighting in 1948 were housed in refugee camps. It added that after five years of effort and the expenditure of more than 100 million dollars, "virtually no progress" had been made toward resettling and rehabilitating the refugees.

Weather Calls Squirrels

ONTONAGON (AP) — Mild weather is credited with attracting grey squirrels to the court house yard. They are a rarity to this part of the country, especially Ontonagon. Red squirrels have been seen in years past, but have never stayed.

Police Quit Their Class, Rush Back to Work

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP)—School's out for 15 officers taking night courses at the police academy. The cops had to go back to work. There was a sudden upswing in buglaries and other crimes while they were in class.

There were about 6,406,000 cars and trucks on U. S. farms in 1950.

Hal Boyle Says:

If You Want to Get Rich Just Invent a New Game

NEW YORK (AP) — Everybody is looking for a simple, inexpensive way to get rich without raising a sweat.

Well, we've stumbled across one possible way you can buy that gold-plated Cadillac you've always yearned for. All you have to do is invent a new parlor game half as popular as checkers.

The market is wide open. There is a big boom under way now in home games. And guess what is helping it along Television, no less.

Robert B. M. Barton, president of the Toy Manufacturers of America, is happy to say a kind word for video, which has been denounced as a one-eyed viper responsible for everything wrong from the increase in adult delinquency to the rise in juvenile ulcers.

"At first we were afraid television would hurt us, but it has turned out to be a big help," said Barton. "Families stay at home more now. But they can't look at TV all the time—so they play more games."

Playing games is hard work for Barton, a slender, scholarly looking man who began his career as a lawyer. He heads Parker Brothers, Inc., which regularly publishes 250 to 300 different games and is the bellwether of the nation's 15-to-20-million-dollar a year industry.

"We test up to 1,000 new games each year, of which only about two per cent are put on the market," he said.

"Most of them are invented by professionals, but some of the best are the work of amateurs. Sometimes the amateur is closer to the public mood."

An example was Charles Darrow, an unemployed Philadelphia heating engineer, who in 1935 invented "Monopoly," one of the most popular new games of this century. It has sold by the millions and Barton feels it will go on forever.

"Darrow retired and lived happily ever after," he said. "But what he did was roughly comparable to Margaret Mitchell's writing of 'Gone with the Wind.' He hit the jackpot.

"But usually one game, like one song or one book, doesn't make you wealthy."

Game publishing resembles song an' book publishing in many ways.

"Each game is a business gamble," said Barton. "You can spend anything from $10,000 to $150,000 marketing a new game—and lose it all. It has to hit the public, and you never can be sure what the public will like."

Barton himself recently originated the basic idea for a new home game, "Keyword," a crossword board game, and is as nervously hopeful for its success as any amateur.

"When it comes to this field," he said, "a housewife with a fresh idea may make the oldest professional game inventor look like a beginner."

Barton says chess is still the most popular game in the world, but is outranked 50-to-1 by checkers in America.

"I wish I had the sole rights to checkers," he said, wistfully.

A couple of other games he would like to own—if he could find a way to collect the royalties—are those old parlor pastimes, "Postoffice" and "Spin the Bottle."

"We don't have anything to compete with them," he admited, ruefully. "The trouble with those games is the players don't need any special equipment. They're too simple—just a boy and a girl, waiting for the next move."

Five in Georgia Face Forest Fire Charge

ROME, Ga., (AP)—Five persons have been arrested on charges of starting some of the forest fires raging in northwest Georgia.

E. H. Terry, chief fire investigator for the Georgia Forestry commission, said two teenagers arrested here yesterday told him they set three fires near Rome's Russell Airport "just to see them burn."

Three men arrested in a lonely shack near the Georgia-Alabama line admitted they started fires by throwing firecrackers into dry grass and underbrush, Terry reported. They were charged with setting 16 fires.

Close to Go Hunting

BATTLE CREEK (AP)—The opening of the deer season forced Rich Manufacturing Co. to close both its plants. Its employes had gone hunting. The Michigan Carton Co. also closed its two plants, giving "lack of business" for the reason. All four plants will reopen Monday.

Britain's Upper House

That Britain's House of Lords faces further change in its makeup was given official confirmation in Queen Elizabeth's speech opening Parliament.

In the last election campaign the Conservative Party promised reform of the upper chamber. Back in 1948 there was much support on both sides for having hereditary peers make up only a minority.

The proposal was that this minority would be chosen periodically by all the hereditary peers. The majority in Lords then would consist of peers with non-hereditary titles bestowed for outstanding service to the Nation.

Even now such peers are apt to make up most of the 80 or 100 who attend sessions, out of the 800 or so who are eligible, but few of whom ever occupy their seats. Another possibility is the opening of the House of Lords to peeresses in their own right.

It is unlikely that the Churchill government will try to force through any change unacceptable to the Labor party. Otherwise Labor would feel free to reform the House of Lords differently if and when it came back to power. Some Laborites want it abolished altogether.

Actually the Lords have little power left. About all they can do is influence Commons by their debates. Since 1911 the upper chamber has had no power over money bills and can only delay other bills for one year.

Not content with being unquestionably the loudest city in the U. S., Los Angeles is now claiming to be the third largest one. And although she has been shouting this claim at the top of her voice, sleepy Philadelphia hasn't yet roused herself enough to refute it.

We Correct a Mistake

A mistake in our editorial, Social Security Revision, has been called to our attention by John Nelli, assistant manager of the local Social Security office.

It occurred in two paragraphs dealing with an "18 month provision." The statements therein were based on information from a usually reliable source and were published in good faith.

Below are the facts in Mr. Nelli's own words:

"A person is eligible for benefits at 65 provided his covered employment is equal to one-half the time between January 1, 1951, and his 65th birthday. This employment credit can be acquired at any time after January 1, 1937.

"For example, a man becomes 65 January 1, 1961, one-half the time between January 1, 1951, and January 1, 1961, is five years. That man would be eligible with five years coverage and that time can be acquired any time after January 1, 1937. Anyone with 10 years of coverage is insured for life, regardless of the date he reaches 65."

We hope this clears up the matter for all those disturbed by the paragraphs in question.

"It is utterly astounding to me how quickly children outgrow shoes!" exclaims a mother. It shouldn't. Children grow fast, and shoes don't grow at all.

Magsaysay's Victory

Belated concession of defeat by incumbent President Quirino means Ramon Magsaysay will become the third chief executive of the seven year old Philippine Republic in January.

Even before the returns were complete, it was obvious that Quirino's opponent and former defense minister in his Liberal government would win by a landslide.

The 46 year old president-elect is one of the islands' most popular heroes. He gained fame while defense minister for his successful campaign against the Communist led Huks who were won over in large part by Magsaysay's land reform program.

While Quirino accused Magsaysay of encouraging U. S. intervention in Philippine affairs, the latter campaigned on a platform emphasizing continued cooperation with the United States.

To the credit of both the Liberal Party and the victorious Nationalista Democratic coalition the election was one of the most orderly in the islands' history. This fact and the unusually heavy vote was reassuring evidence that our Filipino friends are steadfast converts to the ideals of democracy.

"The U. S. Navy announces that battleships are obsolete and that it will build no more of them." Press report. The increasingly rapid progress being made in science and mechanics indicates that before many years the atomic bomb will be obsolete. But it's still a bit too early to worry about what may succeed it — we hope.

Bill Gasaway Asks Why Pick on Gravel Trucks? Can't Build Houses Without Them

In reference to Mr. Nelson's recent letter requesting daily road patrols to protect the public from gravel trucks. I wonder how Mr. Nelson figures his house was built without the use of gravel trucks. Do you suppose Mr. Nelson would like the police to follow him all day while he is trying to make a living? To nail his hide to the wall if he made a mistake?

As for footing the bill for the bridge, I doubt very much if it will cost Mr. Nelson one cent more than it will cost anyone else.

Let four or five cars have a wreck and that is one thing . . . let two trucks collide and that is grounds for a new law.

It seems that as Secretary of Citizens Improvement Assn. Mr. Nelson would try working with all the citizens instead of dividing them.

He Says Domination of World Reds' Only Plan

The American people are deeply concerned as to the future of our country and are disturbed by the attitudes of some of our so-called allies in the U. N.

We have a truce with a puppet regime in Korea that has no authority except that which is invested in it when Peiping and Moscow leaders pull the strings. It is a negotiated truce that appeased our enemies and caused us to lose respect of the free peoples all over the world.

The Communist leaders are a godless horde whose only plan is to dominate the world and place under bondage the free people.

We should notify the Chinese and Russian Communist leaders that if this truce is violated, we will not only blockade the entire China coast, but will use atomic weapons to destroy their war industries in North Korea, Manchuria and China proper.

We should also notify Red China and Russia that we will do all we can to keep Red China out of the U. N. until she has proved she will pursue a peaceful course in the world.

Claims Kremlin Leaders Want to Be Our Thinkers

The central headquarters of Communism is Moscow, Russia. The Kremlin houses its leaders. Its purpose is world control.

Karl Marx, Joseph Engels, Nicholas Lenin and Joseph Stalin are past leaders, while Malenkov is its present ruler with Molotov, Bulganin and others cooperating in plan and strategy.

Like a great octupus its tentacles reach out into other countries. Communism is atheistic. God has no part in its program, in fact, the elimination of God belief or belief in God is related to its plan. Isn't it strange that they will use God's water, air, etc. to propagate atheism and make the people slaves to the state?

The Kremlin leaders desire to be our thinkers and thought control of the common man is their fearful purpose.

When we refer to Russia's "iron curtain" we may consider Kremlin leadership seclusion, but it is not true relative to its underhanded effort to gain control of the nations of the earth and send forth its propaganda and work its deception as well as carry forward its devastating influence.

Communism is a world blight . . . don't be fooled.

Ike Hoping Spy Probe Will Be History, and Not an Issue, by Next Election Time

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower, who calls himself a political novice, isn't necessarily in conflict with his party's pros over communism as a 1954 election issue.

At first glance he might seem to be riding off in an opposite direction from two of the Republican party's highest-ranking political generals, Leonard W. Hall, and Atty. Gen. Brownell.

Hall, Republican national chairman and therefore a guiding spirit in the Republicans' efforts to win next year's congressional elections said last Sunday:

"Communism is going to be one of the main issues" in the election. He added: "We'll see to it that all Communists and left-wingers who came into the government under the former administrations are going to be put out."

Two days later Brownell, a real political pro after managing the presidential campaigns of Eisenhower and Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, gave Congress a nudge, practically a push, to dig into the Communist issue.

When he testified Tuesday about Harry Dexter White before the Senate's subcommittee on internal security, he had a prepared statement. So he wasn't talking at random when he told the senators:

• • •

"This subcommittee, I am sure, will want to examine with great care the claim that there was a plan to keep White and others in the espionage ring in government employment in the hope of catching them."

• • •

And then he said:

"You will also want to investigate, I believe, what care was used to protect the national security. These are grave questions to which the public is entitled to complete answers."

The kind of investigation urged by Brownell could go on for months, right up to election time.

The subcommittee yesterday began digging into the case of one of the people mentioned, along with White, by the FBI in its report to the White House in 1945 on Soviet spy suspects.

• • •

This was Harold Glasser, who was later promoted by former Treasury Secretary John W. Snyder, an old-time friend of Truman.

• • •

Since the kind of investigation Brownell mentioned involves alleged Communists and spies in the Truman administration, he and Hall were talking about the same kind of Communist problem.

Then at his news conference yesterday Eisenhower was reminded of Hall's Sunday statement and was asked:

Did he think exposure of Communist infiltration in the government under previous administrations would be the Republicans' No. 1 campaign issue next year?

• • •

After some preliminary statements, the President expressed hope that this whole thing will be a matter of history and of memory by the time the next election comes around.

• • •

Then he was asked if this meant he hoped the congressional committees now investigating the Communist-in-government issue would have finished their work by election time. He said he hoped by election time the people would have no worry that any Communists were left in the government.

Since he didn't say specifically he didn't object to Communists-in-government-under-Truman as an issue, it could be interpreted as meaning only that he didn't want Communists-in-government-under-Eisenhower as an issue. If so, then there's no conflict with Brownell and Hall.

Case Records of a Psychologist

Overcame Fear That He Couldn't Hold Wife's Love

George's case is a classic, so paste it in your scrapbook. For it gives you a clear-cut example of the middle-aged male who is in a sex panic. This male condition parallels the woman's menopause.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case J-346: George A., aged 55, is married to a woman who is 43.

"Dr. Crane, you are my last resort," his wife tearfully called me long distance.

"My husband is also a physician, but he is going berserk emotionally. I think he is in that Ponce de Leon state which you describe in your column.

"For example, he accuses me of running around with other men, though I never have dreamed of such a thing.

"We have two children in high school and I am president of the P-T-A and active in my church.

"Yes my husband has actually hired a detective to spy on me! And he is caustic to our children and ridicules them. He treats them as if they were dirt under his feet.

"Recently, he even has charged that they aren't his children and that I must have obtained them while two-timing him years ago.

"His accusations are so far-fetched that they'd be ridiculous, except for the fact that he is looked up to in our town as a fine doctor and a very intelligent man.

"So I am worried lest our children learn about their father's charges. So far, I have been able to keep our quarrels away from their ears."

I am describing this case today to show you that physicians and other professional men encounter the very same ailments that you average readers suffer.

For our college training has almost entirely ignored practical psychology. Physicians and clergymen thus have had hardly any stress on such subjects until the past few years, and even now their technical schools barely touch the subject.

What do you readers suppose is wrong with George? Well, if you have read this column for a few years, you can diagnose him pretty fast.

He is a typical Ponce de Leon male who is practically impotent. So he is terrified that he will soon be entirely senile and on the shelf.

In such a delemma, men usually take one of two paths. If they feel beaten (masochistic path), they may develop various psychological ailments thereby hoping to appeal to their wife's sympathy, since they feel they can't hold her romantic admiration.

So they become abnormally worried about their heart or gall bladder or prostate, etc.

Another "smoke screen" reaction is to become heavy drinkers and then stagger home drunk about 3 A.M.

This diverts the wife's thoughts. Thus, she is not so likely to suspect that her husband is impotent. For she'll think his lack of affection is due to his alcoholic condition.

But the sadistic path is the one which George has demonstrated today. He takes the role of the furious bull and charges, instead of retreating. He goes on the offense, instead of the defense.

So he accuses his wife of misconduct. He even hired detectives to trail her. Furthermore, he viciously tries to batter down her pride by denying paternity of their children. He attempts to make her misconduct retroactive to their earliest years of marriage.

All of this is a subconscious camouflage to cover up his own wounded male pride. For his harsh accusations and hostility "apparently" justify his lack of kisses and any show of ador.

So he feels she will never suspect what he really dreads—his impotence!

Send for my bulletin "How to Prevent Impotence", enclosing a stamped return envelope, plus a dime. George's wife cured him quickly by its advice.

Baering Down

By ARTHUR (BUGS) BAER

(International News Service)

In this last over-subscribed debacle we failed to get the usual storm signals from the vigilant pulse seismographs.

The lapel-to-lapel pool takers of the vicinities did not bulletin their small craft warnings on the first Tuesday after the first rent day in November.

Only the newspapers vibrated the cautionary tocsin that the termites were in the chair legs.

They backtracked the footprints of the invisible man Durkin. And decided that was a worse appointment than letting a robin guard your fishing worms.

The polls ignored that thumbhole in the administration dike. We have always claimed if the polls smelled magnolia on the air they wouldn't know the breeze was from the south.

The polls thought the preliminary pegging of the Wisconsin weed-benders was hybrid corn. The newspapers diagnosed it as growing pains in a doubt.

The slick politicans ordered a November snack of discretionary hassenfeffer. The recipe is half-running with the hares and half-running with the hounds.

Only the polls failed to outline their opinions in modest neon.

The over-glim was probably due to the popularized fallacy that this is an off-year. It's what they call the political honeymoon period.

The outs gave the ins a salaried breather before suing for breach-of-campaign promises.

It doesn't mean a whole lot. The same thing happened to Harry Truman. And he got re-elected.

Staff of Life (Freshly Ground Wheat) Is Best Tonic for Heart and Muscle

By DR. WILLIAM BRADY, M. D.

It does seem as though the best heart tonic suggestions I offer you arouse the greatest animosity on the part of the medical profession.

Let us stipulate that a tonic is a remedy which increases or restores enfeebled tone, function or vigor.

And let us proceed on the assumption that a stimulant excites temporary activity — such as whipping a tired horse; whereas a tonic restores flagging strength or renews function for a considerable period of time — such as a coffee (or tea) break for the physical worker, a mile walk for the "executive," or an optimal daily ration of vitamin B complex for anybody.

That's it. Simple, eh? It is the only real heart tonic we have, in my opinion.

Preparations of digitalis or similar drugs purporting to be heart tonics are heart stimulants, perhaps, but we ought to put aside childish fancies and apply newer knowledge of physiology and therapeutics to the treatment of heart trouble.

I am well aware that most good physicians believe digitalis is "indicated" (that is, beneficial) in the treatment of decompensation, dilatation or congestive heart disease with lowered reserve power.

If these terms are meaningless to you, never mind now, but just regard my view of the use of digitalis as against the belief of the great majority of real doctors as another instance of everybody being out of step but Johnny.

It takes 1½ to 3 hours for a dose of digitalis to produce any effect on the heart, whether it is administered by mouth, by hypodermic injection or by injection directly into a vein.

Therefore in heart failure of any kind the emergency or the patient will have passed before the digitalis can take effect.

The only heart tonic I know is vitamin B complex. You should eat it daily the year around but probably do not, because your everyday diet is too refined.

You could get it by restoring the staff of life to your everyday diet and, of course, excluding refined carbohydrates — white sugar, syrup and white flour.

In these days of glorified groceries it takes an uncommonly determined individualist to exclude refined carbohydrates from his diet.

The staff of life is plain wheat—ground freshly every few days in your own hand power or mechanical mill, as described in the pamphlet Wheat to Eat, available on written request if you provide stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Vitamin B complex is not only a real tonic to the heart muscle and nerves but equally tonic to the eating muscle, the muscle coat of the stomach and intestine.

Please remember, vitamin B complex is not medicine. It is food — and you have to take nourishment every day in order to derive the greatest benefit from it.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long, pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not to disease diagnosis or treatment, will be answered by Dr. Brady if a stamped self addressed envelope is enclosed.

Teachers Hear Talk on Home

Minister Sees Parents Failing in Job to Keep Family Unity

The Rev. Loren W. Campbell of Ann Arbor warned Pontiac Education Association Wednesday night that American homes are falling apart.

"And if we lose this family unity," he said, "we have lost one of the most important bulwarks against the 'isms' abroad in the world today."

The Rev. Mr. Campbell, a lawyer, parent of three, and pastor of Dixboro Methodist Church, titled his talk "A Parent Looks at Juvenile Delinquency."

Some 100 teachers met at Pontiac High School for their traditional Thanksgiving dinner and program.

"The great middle class of American society has forgotten about moral and spiritual values," Campbell said. "It's so determined to have a better home, a newer car, a bigger television set.

"But you can't buy the one thing that children need most—the feeling of being a wanted, loved and useful member of a family which does things together."

The Rev. Mr. Campbell pointed out that parents plead they are "only trying to give their children things we didn't have.

"Nonsense!" he said. "We're buying a lot of things we want and using the children as an excuse."

"There are three things to look for when any country begins to 'break up' internally," he said.

"These are the loss of political freedom, loss of religious freedom—and the disintegration of the home. Communism appeals to the emotional disinherited — not necessarily those with little money; but those who feel unwanted and unloved."

As a cure, the Rev. Mr. Campbell suggested parents stop emphasizing things they buy for their children and start doing things together—whether going to church, a movie, a picnic, a hike, a swimming party or a skating spree.

William Coffing led community singing Wednesday. Miss Connie Kolb gave a vocal solo.

Roger Gunn, president, was chairman of the business session. Mrs. Carroll Porritt told of last summer's National Education Association convention in Miami and Mrs. Thomas Dodson gave a treasurer's report from Max G. Bilsky.

Gunn urged support of U. S. House Bill 5180, coming up before Congress early next year, which would let retired people get retirement income up to a certain point without paying income taxes. He also discussed the "Conlon Plan" for setting up a Michigan state aid fund for schools coming to the state legislature this January.

Dedicate U of M Room to Graduate's Memory

ANN ARBOR (AP) — A room in the Mortimer E. Cooley Engineering Research building on the University of Michigan's north campus will be dedicated Saturday in the memory of Mervin K. Baer. Baer was a graduate of the University of Michigan Engineering school who died June 3, 1953.

A $7,000 donation from friends was earmarked for use as a memorial fund.

Hives Can Be Amusing, but Not to Victim

ANN ARBOR — Hives are funny to some folks but not to the sufferer.

Dr. Kenneth P. Mathews, assistant professor of internal medicine and assistant in allergy in the University of Michigan Health Service, reports:

"Some patients have a severe form of hives which can be most uncomfortable and occasionally dangerous."

Big mosquito-bite looking welts, called "wheals" by doctors, can create a frenzy of digging and itching reminiscent of Chinese torture. And some acute attacks are associated with vomiting, nausea, diarrhea or abdominal cramps.

Hives, medically identified as "urticaria," may be caused by drug allergy, food allergy, localized infection, nervous tension or a pet cat.

Dr. Mathews, is assessing the importance of determing the cause of hives, suggests that the sufferer keep an accurate diary of all the foods or drugs he took prior to each attack.

You might be allergic to aspirin or penicillin; your system might not be able to tolerate shrimp or strawberries; or you might break out in an itching rash at the very sight of your neighbor.

A rigid diet may be necessary, or a prescription of antihistamine. Or some common sense psychotherapy on the subject of neighbors.

In any case, it's not funny. But Dr. Mathews assures the sufferer that allergists have become pretty adept detectives in tracking down the cause and in managing the condition.

Wicks Resigns New York Post

Both Governor Dewey and Senator See Action as Victory

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP)—Sen. Arthur H. Wicks formally stepped down as acting lieutenant governor of New York after a bitter quarrel with Gov. Thomas E. Dewey ending in victory claims by both camps.

The Republican row seemed certain to scar party unity and delight the Democrats in next year's election compaigns.

Wicks submitted his resignation yesterday as GOP majority leader and temporary president of the state Senate, through which he held the office of acting lieutenant governor.

The action was announced minutes after Senate adjournment of a special session of the legislature.

Dewey and the GOP state executive committee had insisted that Wicks, because of visits to labor extortionist Joseph S. Fay in Sing Sing prison, resign his leadership or be outsted at the special session.

Wicks maintained he had heard no word of censure from his fellow senators about his visits to Fay and claimed complete vindication. He said he resigned because his conflict with Dewey would impair state business.

But Dewey declared he had called for Wicks' resignation because of the Fay visits, and said "the resignation speaks for itself."

At the two-day special session of the legislature called to consider the Wicks issue and reapportionment of legislative districts, the Senate leader presided over that house from beginning to end. That alone was regarded as a slight to Dewey's political prestige and party leadership within the state.

Republican senators made it plain they objected to the state GOP committee's action—no doubt taken with Dewey's blessing — in demanding that they oust Wicks or force him to resign.

U of M Professor Gets Chair for Polio, Flu Work

ANN ARBOR (AP) — Dr. Thomas Francis Jr., chairman of the University of Michigan Epidemiology Department, Wednesday was named as the Henry Russell lecturer for 1954.

The honor, the highest for academic and scientific achievement, was awarded Dr. Francis for his research on polio and influenza virus.

League to Ask City to Delay Closing

Directors of the Urban League of Pontiac Wednesday night voted to ask Pontiac City Commission to grant a six months delay in closing out the two temporary federal housing projects here. The two are scheduled for evacuation next July.

The board also voted to support the requests being filed with the commission by other groups asking the city to participate in a joint effort to provide a permanent solution to the present shortage of low-cost housing.

Executive Secretary Everett Spurlock reported league membership at more than 1,100, highest mark in its history.

Business Firms Hold Up on Gifts

Will Try to Have Them Less Costly and More Personalized

NEW YORK (UP)—A trend toward personalized, simple and less expensive Christmas gifts by business doners has been revelad in sales promotion.

Three out of four companies give presents to persons outside the company—to customers, prospects, or suppliers. Approximately $250,000,000 is spent, according to one estimate.

Average expenditures for gifts will be $7.25 for each recipient, compared to $10 in a survey a year ago.

Average company expenditures will be $3,528, according to 1,311 business officials who replied to a questionnaire circulated by Sales Management Magazine. The companies represented by these replies sent out an average of 459 gifts apiece, with one respondent going all out with 12,000 presents.

On the West Coast, it was found that advertising agencies spent an average of $417.95, compared with an average gift budget of $806.09 by advertisers and $416.59 by those in allied industries.

One out of seven companies queried said that they spent nothing on gifts, and the biggest gift budget reported was $18,000.

A panel of 200 top marketing experts said that they, for the most part, wanted gifts that show personal interest — if anything. Nineteen per cent preferred to receive no gifts from business acquaintances.

Among the personalized items suggested as appropriate were "personalized match books for an entire year," "a check to some charity for the amount the donor would spend on a gift," or "a personal letter."

In one instance, the gift was a tree—planted by the tree nursery at the recipient's home.

Actor Seeks Denial of Wife's Divorce

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Actor Jess Barker has denied Susan Hayward's allegations of cruelty, and has asked Superior Court to deny her a divorce.

Barker's answer to her suit, filed yesterday, also requests half the community property and petitions for a court ruling prohibiting Miss Hayward from taking their twin sons, Timothy and Gregory, 8, to Africa on a movie-making trip.

He listed assets of $290,774 and claimed his wife has further unlisted assets. Barker, who has said he wants solely to keep his family together, is not asking for a divorce decree.

FAIRMONT, W. Va. (AP)—Half a million dollars worth of modern fire-fighting equipment was lined up for display, and photographers were taking pictures.

When the call came that wooden paving blocks of a Fairmount bridge were on fire, spectators wondered which of the new trucks would answer the alarm.

A 1941 emergency car rattled away—carrying two sloshing buckets of water—and put out the blaze.

Old Mine Is Popular With College Students

IDAHO SPRINGS, Colo. (AP)—In 1921, the Colorado School of Mines bought an old gold and silver mine north of Idaho Springs to give students a knowledge of actual mining operations.

Now, the mine is a big hit with tourists. Advanced mining students take them on daily trips through the tunnels and machinery rooms.

More Than Meets Eye

WORCESTER, Mass. (UP) — Back in 1917 Ed Bodge, then a young clerk, was given a silver dollar that the cashier of his firm had rejected as counterfeit. Years later Bodge tossed the coin onto a counter and it opened to disclose an aperture in which a picture of a girl with a coiffure of the 1890s appeared.

Boots, Saddle Gone

STUART, Neb. (UP) — A mechanized cowboy has been reported by the Stuart Advocate, weekly newspaper. The paper said a cowboy in this area successfully herds cattle on a motorcycle.

Soon Discouraged

FORT WORTH, Tex. (UP) — Robert Knapp, filling station operator, decided to remain open all night. The first customer on his first night on the job was a gunman. Knapp discontinued his all-night schedule.

Somebody's Driving It

DETROIT (UP)—Le Sabre, the ultramodern General Motors Corp. experimental car, was designed by Harley Earl but he hasn't had much use out of it. Earl has driven the car 300 miles. It's speedometer registers 13,000 miles.

Fish Survives Bullet but Succumbs to Hook

HARRISBURG, Pa. (UP)—The Fish Commission here says it has discovered just about the toughest fish ever to swallow a hook in Pennsylvania waters.

The fish, a large-mouth bass measuring 15 inches and weighing 2 pounds, was hooked recently in Lancaster County. The fisherman who landed it discovered that the fish had been carrying a .22-caliber bullet lodged near its head just above its backbone. The bass quivered from head to tail when touched at the wound, even after it had been out of water for nearly an hour.

No Simple Life for Him

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (UP)—A young bandit, apparently accustomed to high living, robbed a loan company here of $170. He escaped in a flashy convertible in which two dogs and a blonde were waiting.

Kills Husband With Hammer

Wife, Tired of Moving, Slays Sleeping Mate in New York

NEW YORK (AP)—A mother killed her sleeping husband with a nine-pound stonecutter's hammer early today because he planned to move the family to its fourth home within a month.

Mrs. Dorothy Renner, 43, then attempted to kill herself and her 10-year-old son Robert with gas.

The boy escaped from his mother's grasp and ran to a neighbor for help.

• • •

Police found Richard Renner, 43, a real estate salesman, dead beside his bed in the family's attractively furnished four-room apartment. After questioning the near-hysterical wife, Police Capt. Bernard Schaeffer pieced together this story:

The family came here from California about a month ago and moved into a house in Flushing, Queens. Later it moved to Hollis, Queens.

There was a bitter quarrel between husband and wife last night after he said he planned to move the family again. He went to sleep after the argument ended, and the wife went to a tool chest and got the hammer. The condition of the body indicated the husband survived the first hammer blow and resisted, but was too dazed or weak to save himself.

• • •

The wife told police:

"It's all over now. No more moving."

She gave no explanation for the frequent moves.

Sells Sea Shells Culled by the Sea Shore

HOMER, Mich. (AP)—Two years ago Leslie J. King, of Homer, didn't know a sea shell from a harpoon.

Today, the 80-year-old retired farmer is a veteran at a thriving new business he created. He collects and sells sea shells.

King this week left Homer and plans to spend the winter on Sanibel Island, just off Fort Myers, Fla., collecting specimens floated in from the Gulf of Mexico.

He has become an expert judge of the sea products and has a large display at his home 15 miles west of Jackson.

King's collection includes two junonia shells, a special prize. Also part of the display is a pair of highly prized whelk shells, found only about once in a thousand times.

Among outstanding shells in the King collection are turkey wing, angel wing, cat's eye, tulip, olive, Chinese alphabet, horseshoe crab and lafice fringe.

Shell-gathering is best, he explains, "when a north wind blows."

King plans to return from Sanibel about April 1. His wife remains at their South Albion Township home.

Says Michigan May Avoid New Taxes

LANSING (AP)—If Michigan is thrifty, it can get along next year without more new taxes, Aud. Gen. John B. Martin said last night.

Addressing a church meeting, Martin said "predicting the future is a risky business but if we continue to manage our funds carefully, we ought to be able to steadily improve our financial position without resorting to any additional tax measures."

Martin declared that State agencies have put into effect 98 per cent of the suggestions made by his staff for improving business operations and tightening financial control.

Hunter Gets His Bear, Garage Gets His Car

HOUGHTON LAKE, Mich. (AP)—For five years R. C. Mulholland of Dayton, Ohio, had gone to the Michigan woods hoping to shoot a bear. Each year he returned empty-handed.

Yesterday, driving along Route 27, he hit something that spun his car around. There, on the road, was a wounded bear. Grabbing his rifle, Mulholland killed it with one shot.

He has his bear, but it will cost him $600—for repairs to the car.

Commission Rejects Bids for New Branch Library

Bids for construction of the new branch library at Glenwood avenue and Rundell street were termed "too high" and rejected by Pontiac City Commission Tuesday night.

City Manager Walter K. Willman said the architect's estimated cost for the structure was $60,000, while the lowest bid received totaled $71,824.

Commissioners approved a motion by Commissioner Ronald C. Hallenbeck to advertise for bids again not later than March, 1954.

The resignation of Eugene A. Gump as a member of the Police Trial Board was accepted and commissioners moved to send a letter to Gump commending his work.

Rezoning matters acted on included:

A public hearing held and action deferred on rezoning to C-1 lots 1 and 2 of assessor's plat 102, if a 20-foot alley is provided on the rear of the properties.

A public hearing held and action deferred on an ordinance to rezone to C-1 lots 1 and 2 of assessor's plat 47, providing land for future alley use is deeded.

A public hearing and adoption of an ordinance to rezone to C-1 lot 168 of assessor's plat 138 after approving a resolution to accept a deed for a 20-foot alley from the property owners.

A public hearing and adoption of an ordinance to rezone to C-1 outlot "A" of Washington Park Subdivision after approving a resolution to accept a deed for a 20-foot alley along the southeast line of outlot "A."

Held a public hearing and adopted an ordinance to rezone part of section 15 to M-1 on N. Perry at the Belt Line Railroad.

Referred to the City Plan Commission a petition from the Tel-Huron Shopping Center, Inc., asking that the west half of lot 21, lot 22 plus part of lots 33 and 25 of assessor's plat 73 be rezoned to C-1, and that an alley be vacated and new alley deeded.

Commissioners approved a transfer from a tavern license to a Class C liquor license for Nicholas P. Phillips and Thomas Giotis, owners of the Jet Bar, 714 Woodward Ave.

A bid from Russell and Emma Sherman to purchase lots 11, 12 and 13 of Robert Herndon Pontiac Apartment Subdivision was referred to the property committee.

A contract with the Royal Development Corp. of Detroit for purchase of lots 39, 40 and 42 through 63 inclusive of the Robert Herndon Subdivision, was tabled for one week until a more definite agreement can be arranged.

In other action the commission:

Held a public hearing and confirmed a special assessment roll for construction of sidewalk on the north side of Parkdale from Kennett to the northwest line of lot 87, Lakeside Park Subdivision.

Confirmed a special assessment roll for sidewalk on the north side of Columbia from Baldwin to the west line of lot 2 of assessor's plat 107.

Declared a public necessity for construction of a water main in W. Cornell from Baldwin to the west end of the street.

New Humphrey Bill Is Just as Good

CLEVELAND, Ohio (UP) — For years, Earl Swaggerty, 37-year-old filling station proprietor has tested his paper money on a machine which picks out counterfeits when their serial numbers fail to synchronize.

Recently, Swaggerty was showing off the machine. He dialed in serial numbers and to his horror found half the money in his cash register to be phony—or so it appeared.

Robert E. Holmes, in charge of the Secret Service here, calmed him "There's a new series of dollar bills with Secretary of the Treasury George M. Humphrey's signature that won't work on the detectors."

But, Holmes added, "I hope everybody understands that the Humphrey dollars are just as good as the old ones."

Working to Clear Path for Friendly Interracial Ties

MANILA (AP)—Four Japanese, a Siamese, two Americans, a South Korean, a Chinese an Australian and a group of Filipinos have joined hands here to clear a path for international friendship.

They are members of the International Work Camp, a worldwide movement sponsored by the World Council of Churches at Geneva to foster fraternity through common work. The campers here work hard.

Every morning at Los Banos, 25 miles south of Manila, they start the day with shovels, picks and rakes. They are clearing a wooded section of thick underbrush, leveling high ground, filling low areas, building paths and yards and planting fruit trees. They plan to set up the concrete foundation of a war-destroyed building as the site of future world youth conferences here.

Parking Building to Aid Ann Arbor

Latest Carport Pays for Itself

Cost $426,000 and Will Serve 422 Motorists at One Time

By BURDETT C. STODDARD

ANN ARBOR — A new 422-car capacity municipal parking building was dedicated here Tuesday in this city's extensive effort to solve the problem of too many cars and too little space.

The three-floor, concrete structure, was built in seven-and-a-half months at a cost of $426,000. Located at 324 Maynard St., it is the second carport completed by Ann Arbor. The first one houses 235 autos.

In a statement at the ceremony before city officials and interested visitors from other communities, Ann Arbor Mayor William E. Brown Jr. said, "the idea for the development of the automobile parking system was born in the spring of 1945 to take care of Ann Arbor's off-street parking need."

All income from parking meters, lots and garages, Brown explained, is pledged to secure revenue bonds.

"This has enabled the city to borrow money and install off-street parking facilities at once," he said.

Since the plan's inception, he stated, eight different lots or structures have been completed. As of Oct. 1, the system showed total assets of $1,432,400.59, with a bonded indebtedness of $890,000.

According to Brown, the difference of $542,400.59 represents earnings from meter and carport fees plowed back into the system.

"The project hasn't cost our citizens a dime in tax money," he said. Interest rate on bonds issued for the new carport was 3.07 per cent, he added.

In the new building, motorists drive up a series of gradual inclines and park their cars on either side of the "roadway." No grade exceeds three per cent.

An entrance on Maynard street is used for both incoming and outgoing cars. Seven ramps or levels are available, lettered A through G.

Motorists entering the building receive parking tickets in the entrance. They either turn left to park on the ground floor or go straight, spiraling up until a space is located.

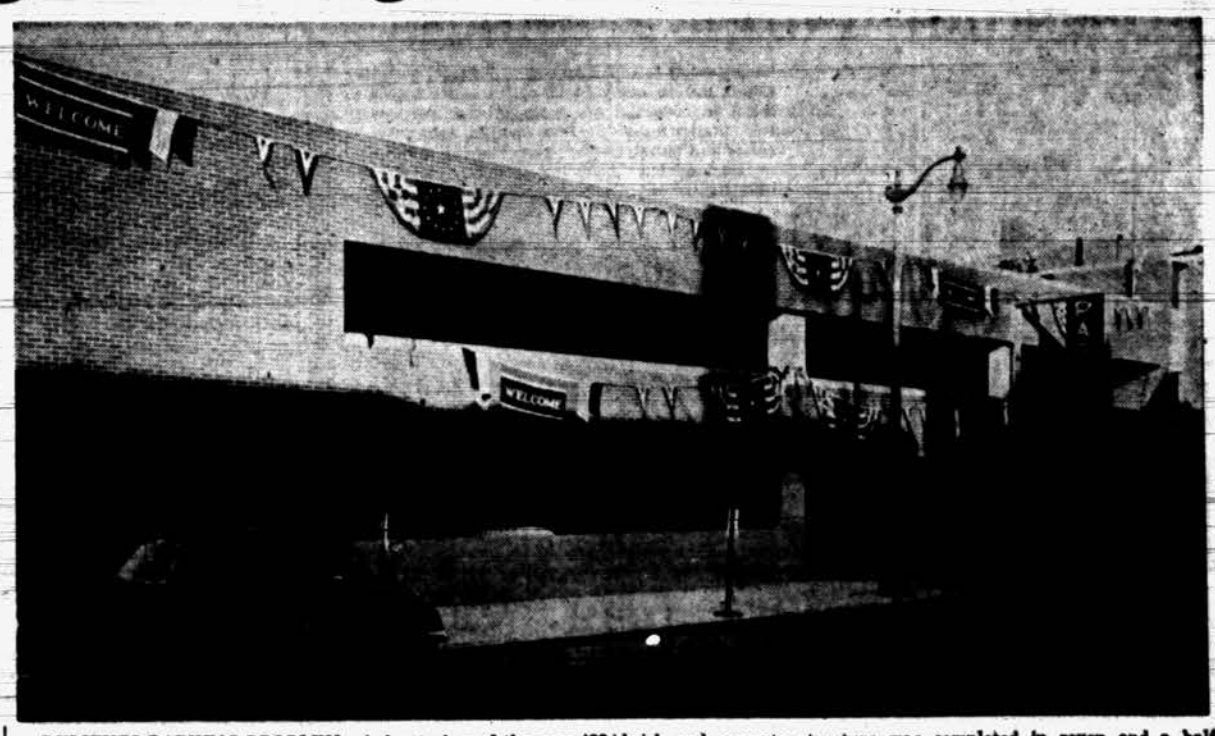

The two topmost ramps are uncovered. Each parking space has a painted number. Users are asked to remember their ramp letter and space number so they can easily find their autos when leaving.

When the customer returns, he presents his ticket stub to the attendant inside the entrance. In exchange, he is given a pass making it unncecessary for him to stop his car on leaving.

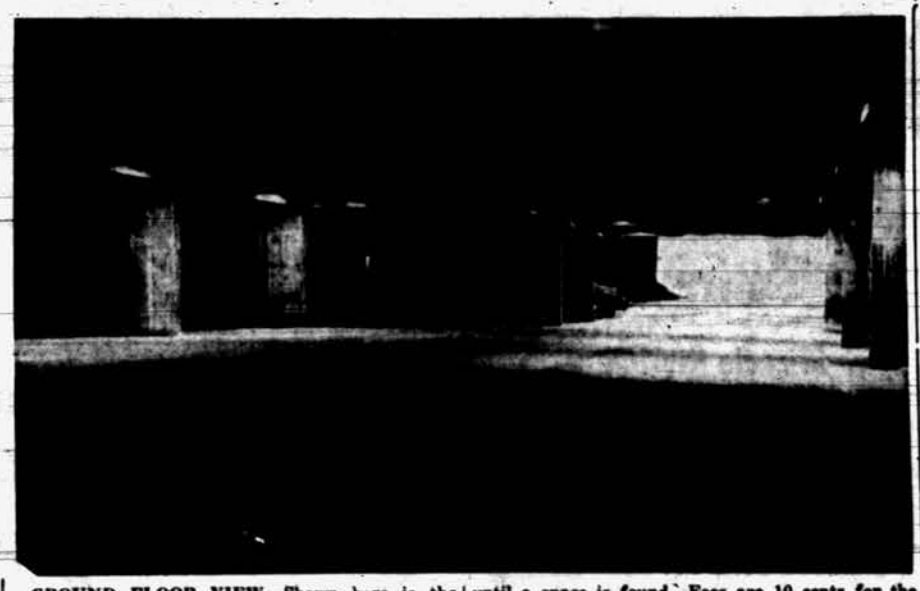

Speed limit is five miles an hour inside the building. Besides a stairway, customers are provided with elevator service. Fees are 10 cents for parking up to two hours and five cents for each additional hour. Theater parking after 6 p.m. will cost 15 cents.

When all bonds have been retired, Brown said, earnings from the system should deposit about $250,000 in the Ann Arbor treasury each year.

Customers of some 188 stores in the University of Michigan area will use the carport. Paul C. Wagner, president of the Ann Arbor Retail Merchants Association, said the concentrated parking area would lessen need for business places to scatter in order to allow ample customer parking space.

RELIEVES PARKING PROBLEM—A front view of the new 422 car capacity municipal parking building, delicated Tuesday in Ann Arbor, shows the entrance to the right of the parking sign. The brick and concrete structure was completed in seven and a half months at a cost of $426,000. The carport affords parking space for customers of 118 business places in its immediate vicinity.

GROUND FLOOR VIEW—Shown here is the first floor of Ann Arbor's new carport as seen by the incoming motorist. Drivers may turn left to park on the street level or proceed up spiral ramps until a space is found. Fees are 10 cents for the first two hours and five cents for each additional two hours.

157 Cases Set Felony Record

Circuit Court Disposes of 115 Civil Suits Also in Past 2 Months

A record number of 157 defendants in felony cases appeared in Oakland County Circuit Court during the last two months, according to Oakland County Prosecutor Frederick C. Ziem.

In addition, 115 civil cases were disposed of since the present court term convened Sept. 15.

Circuit Court jurors sat in on 47 of the civil cases and passed judgment on 31 criminal defendants during this period.

The jurors were excused Tuesday by presiding judge, Frank L. Doty, but are subject to recall until Dec. 7 when the present term of court ends.

Only two innocent verdicts were returned by juries sitting on criminal cases, one for negligent homicide and another for indecent exposure.

In addition to the circuit court cases, Ziem and the eight assistant prosecutors issued approximant prosecutors issued approximately 500 warrants for misdemeanors.

These cases were tried in Oakland County Municipal Courts and by justices of the peace.

Of the felony cases recorded during the past two months, 38 were for breaking and entering in the nighttime. Thirty-one other cases of theft and robbery also were recorded.

A breakdown of the cases under general headings show 31 felonies involving sex; fraud, 15; homicide, 11; operation of motor vehicle, 9; assaults, 9; carrying concealed weapons, 10; arson, 4 and miscellaneous, 4.

Deaths Approach 1952 Total

Pontiac Report Gives '53 Traffic Accident Picture

Editor's note: This is the first of a series of articles on Pontiac traffic safety based upon local police records and the National Safety Council report covering 1952.

By JOSEPH K. SFAIR

Pontiac's 1953 traffic deaths are approaching the total number for 1952, according to Pontiac Police and National Safety Council records.

With less than two months to go this year, seven deaths already have occurred, compared with six lives lost during the same period in 1952.

Total fatalities last year numbered eight.

However, while the death rate is higher, this year's accident rate has dropped nearly 50 per cent.

Police records show that 1,109 accidents occurred with 498 injured, as compared with 2,028 accidents and 396 hurt during the same period last year.

According to a recent National Safety Council report, Pontiac ranked 24th among 81 cities surveyed for 1952 traffic deaths. And when it came to an overall picture of traffic safety performances, Pontiac rated 25th among the various municipalities surveyed.

The annual progress report indicates that Pontiac has made decisive strides toward general safety improvement, jumping from 70th place in 1951 to the 25th position last year.

Pontiac also showed a big gain when it climbed from 69th place in 1951 to 24th in 1952, because of a 50 per cent decrease in traffic deaths. Sixteen were killed in 1951 Pontiac traffic.

The eight deaths in 1952 also represented a drop of 38.4 per cent from a three year (1949-1951) average of 13 deaths per year.

But the report calls attention to the fact that death figures alone must not be considered as a sound measure of the traffic accident situation.

The results of the yearly analysis also are based on the following inventory reports submitted by Police Chief Herbert W. Straley. Ordinances, accident records, enforcement, traffic court procedure and convictions, school safety, public information and safety organization.

Of these classifications, Pontiac made the least gains in traffic engineering and enforcement, moving up only one place in each group.

In school safety the city progressed from 59th to 51st place among the 81 cities surveyed.

Significant in the council's report was the fact that Pontiac showed gains in every one of the nine safety classifications, as compared with other cities of similar size.

Troop Airlift Drill Called Successful

TOKYO (AP)—The Air Force today announced a successful emergency airlift drill—moving a complete troop carrier squadron of 16 transport planes, about 350 men, equipment and supplies to a new base inside four hours.

The 483rd Troop Carrier Wing, based in southern Japan, was given surprise orders yesterday to pick up and move one squadron to an abandoned base 100 miles away.

The wing commander, Col. Maurice Casey Jr., of Chicago and Miami, said the first twin engined C-119 flying boxcar touched down at the new base 1 hour and 15 minutes after the surprise order. Within 4 hours all the tents, supplies, communications equipment and personnel were carried to the new base.

Optimists Count Work Dividends

Pontiac Chapter Tallies Results of Community Centers, Junior Clubs

In observing National Optimist Club Week, Nov. 16-21, the Pontiac Optimist Club is noting "big dividends paid" as a result of their initiation of 12 community centers and support of five junior Optimist Clubs.

With the motto, "Friend of the Boy," the club sponsored its first gym class in 1945 at the Whittier School in cooperation with Kline B. Hartman, principal. Robert J. Zimmerman, president of the club at that time, and Hartman worked out the program to attain better relationship with the neighborhood.

It was then the "community center" idea for boys and girls was born.

The following year, Optimists aproached the Pontiac Parks and Recreation Department and offered to finance a community center at the Whittier School two nights a week.

The plan worked after recreation officials agreed to supply supervisors for the program while the Optimists stood the first year's cost for maintaining the center.

Later the recreation department was able to incorporate the cost of the center into its annual budget, upon approval by Pontiac City Commission.

At present 12 such centers are supported by city tax funds, set aside for this purpose.

Each center has a variety of activities, including gym and craft classes, dances and games. Optimists also plan to sponsor teenage dances in various junior high schools in cooperation with the recreation department during the coming year.

There are 140 boys in the Junior Optimist Clubs in Pontiac.

Eisenhowers Are Expected to Get Holiday Turkeys

By MERRIMAN SMITH

WASHINGTON (UP) — Backstairs at the White House:

Between now and Christmas, the Eisenhowers can be expected to receive a number of gift turkeys, although few of the birds will match the weight of the 39-pound tom presented to the President the other day.

These gift birds will be deposited promptly in the commodious White House freezer and consumed at leisure.

The 39-pound live tom given to the President last Monday was tethered part of the morning in the rose garden outside Mr. Eisenhower's office. The bird frequently cuts loose with loud series of gobbles.

Mr. Eisenhower, working inside his office, was curious. He thought it was a dog barking, from a distance, the bird did sound very much like a small, yapping dog.

A rumor from New York this week that the chief executive might attend the opening of the Metropolitan Opera season was easily dismissed by people who know Mr. Eisenhower's taste in music. He doesn't "dig the high classics."

The Eisenhowers' probably won't be going back to Camp David in the Maryland Mountains much more until next spring. It is getting winter-cold at night in the Catoctin Mountains.

They wanted to go to the mountain hideaway on Halloween weekend, and again in the earlier part of this month, but each time something interferred.

Camp David undoubtedly will be used a good bit more next spring and early summer next year than it was this year. The Eisenhowers did not get a good opportunity to know and like the federally-owned resort until August.

Speaking of Camp David, it is interesting to read in William D. Hassett's current series of magazine articles the extent to which the late President Roosevelt personally planned the mountain retreat.

Hassett tells of the loving care with which each building at the camp was named. The names are definitely not in use now. The public sometimes get the wrong idea about this camp which was known as Shangri-La under F. D. R. and ex-President Truman.

Popular conception to the contrary, the place is far from being opulent. Most of the buildings were made from former C. C. C. camp structures.

Jackson Stabbing Victim Still Critical

JACKSON (AP)—A Southern Michigan Prison inmate remained in critical condition today of wounds suffered yesterday in a stabbing by a fellow inmate during a fight.

Deputy Warden Charles F. Cahill said Benjamin J. Joslin, 23, was stabbed by Carol Wright, 25, in an argument over the division of hobby-craft money earned by prison inmates.

Wright was placed in cell block 15—the prison's disciplinary cell block—until Joslin's condition becomes clear, Cahill said.

Wright, sentenced to life imprisonment for first degree murder in Detroit, Jan. 25, 1950, had previously served a term for armed robbery.

Joslin was sentenced in 1946 from Schoolcraft County for a term from 15 years to life for armed robbery.

His Point of View Is Good Aged Cheese

JONESVILLE (AP) — Sixty years as a store man has given Charles A. Cronk a point of view.

Now, in the old days a piece of cheese. . . . .

Cronk's place of business on U. S. 112 is a part of Hillsdale County's history. So is its 83-year-old proprietor.

He and the store have been together for three score years.

In fact, Cronk was possibly the first small town merchant to run a basement store.

A flood in the late 1920s led to that singular undertaking.

The flood washed out Cronk's basement storage space. He built shelves to keep his china and crockery out of the water.

This seemed handy. He left it there, kept the basement as part of the actual store.

That's a part of the history.

For years on end housewives have visited Cronk's basement to examine choice crockeries while the men folks sampled his cheese upstairs.

Both the crockery and cheese make the elderly gentleman nostalgic. He reflects that the days of fine crockery and cheese — and public appreciation of the same — are about at an end.

"Everyone now lives out of paper plates, cans and sacks," Cronk said.

As to cheese, "It's pretty hard to find good cheese to age correctly."

Cronk says he learned the secret of curing cheese to make it tasty, from his former boss.

The boss was an R. S. Munsell, a "down east Yankee." Cronk got his first job from Munsell. It's the old Munsell store that stands on U. S. 112. Cronk eventually bought it.

Patrons from all over southern Michigan come to Cronk's place to buy cheese.

SPICE DISPENSER—Charles A. Cronk, veteran Jonesville, Mich., grocer, operates old-fashioned spice dispenser at the store he has operated for 60 years. The aging merchant also sells crockery and boasts a knack for curing cheese.

For the Record

Restaurant Meats and Cattle Prices Grow Further Apart

Ben Ray Redman, novelist, poet, short story writer and motion picture producer, files a complaint on the complete break-down of communications between American restaurateurs and cattlemen.

By BEN RAY REDMAN

A great improvement in communications was one of the factors that made possible the so-called industrial revolution and the age in which we live. And improving communications are still among the major miracles of our civilization.

REDMAN

Today we pick up a phone in New York and call a friend in Australia as easily as our grandfathers used to call across the fence to a neighbor. We hop the Atlantic and Pacific with no more difficulty than we played hop-scotch a generation ago.

We may well be proud of our achievements along these lines.

But let us not be too proud, for there is still one area of our daily living in which communication is so primitive as to be almost non-existent.

I refer to the raising, selling and buying of beef—beef, beautiful beef, firm, light red, and fatly marbled.

* * *

I refer to the fact that there seems to be no line of communication, or connection, between the price of beef on the hoof and the price of beef on the restaurant table, between the men who feed the cattle and the men who feed American beef-eaters.

* * *

One can only conclude that they don't speak the same language, or that they were taught different systems of arithmetic.

You must have seen by the papers that the wholesale price of beef has dropped almost 50 per cent from its high point. But what do you see when you look at the figures opposite prime sirloin, tenderloin, roast prime ribs, and minute steak on the menus of your favorite restaurant?

You see that, unlike the famous snows of yesteryear, the beef prices of yesteryear have not melted away. There they are, as big and firm as ever, as unchanged as the smile on the face of the Sphinx, as unaffected by the price of steers at the slaughter-house as a Christian fundamentalist is by the theory of evolution.

The restaurant man—with exceptions so few as to be negligible—just haven't heard the news of what has been happening out on the range, where the sirloins and tenderloins play. Somewhere communication has broken down, the exact point being just this side of the wholesale market.

The wholesalers have heard the news, and have cut their prices in half. But they haven't been able to get the word through an Iron Curtain to the restaurateurs.

Offhand, you would think that the lower prices they are paying for beef would convey something and suggest something to the men who write our menus; but they seem unable to translate the message. I hesitate to believe that they don't wish to translate it.

The price of beef is no laughing matter in this country. Time was when the roast beef of England was world famous, when Englishmen prided themselves on the number of slabs of rare beef they could down, and boasted that "It ennobled our hearts and enriched our blood."

But the United States, in this field as in some others, has taken the play away from England. We are now the greatest beef-eaters of all time.

So there is a job to be done, an important job, I suggest that we train men to act as liaison agents between the cattle growers and the restaurateurs; that we comb the polyglot halls of the United Nations for translators capable of interpeting the meaning of dropping wholesale prices to our menu writers.

But we should act quickly. Beef is of the essence.

Those to be released include 420 military prisoners and 854 civilians.

The Japanese signers were Tadatsugu Shimazu, president of the Japanese Red Cross; and Tadao Kudo and Risaburo Kiuchi.

New Blacktop Roads Require Special Care

ITHACA, N. Y. (UP)—Improper care of new blacktop roads leads to "slippery when wet" signs, says a scholarly highway engineer.

Prof. Ben. H. Petty of Purdue University told highway superintendents meeting at Cornell University that extra care should be taken of new roads for the first two years after construction. He said summer heat is likely to "bleed" blacktop surfaces and those spots should be quickly covered with finely crushed stone.

Home Loans Rise in First Half of '53

CHICAGO (UP) — Despite reports of a shortage of mortgage credit, the nation's savings associations say they are lending more money for home buying and building than ever before.

Charles L. Clements, president of the United States Savings and Loan League, said member institutions loaned more money for such purposes during the first half of this year than ever before for any six-month period.

Clements said the total volume of mortgage lending by savings and loan associations during the first six months totaled $3,738,000,000.

This was nearly 22 per cent ahead of the $3,065,000,000 advanced for home buying and building by the same institutions during the corresponding 1952 period.

Coyotes Eat Everything From Melon to Snakes

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (UP) — The California Department of Fish and Game reports that a California coyote will eat almost anything—from watermelon to rattlesnake.

Department researchers' analyses of more than 2,200 coyote stomachs in the past 12 years have turned up evidence of rattlesnakes, insects, small birds, livestock and deer, skunk, watermelon, manzanita berries and poison oak leaves.

However, the most popular item on the bill of fare was rodents—particularly meadow mice.

Iraq Planning to Estabilsh National University Soon

BAGHDAD (UP) — Plans are being made for Iraq to have its own national university here in the near future and thus reclaim the cultural status the land had in ancient times.

Just how soon the project materializes and its initial size hinge on the report a commission of British university professors is preparing for the Iraq government.

Khalil Kanna, Iraq's minister of education since 1950 is sponsor of the project, has all the machinery, legislation included, ready to go into operation at a moment's notice.

The function of the commission has been to examine the present standing of the Baghdad colleges with a view, where necessary, to submitting recommendations for raising standards to those of universities in Britain.

Iraq at present has nine colleges — medicine, chemistry, engineering, arts and sciences, commerce, law, teachers' training, agriculture and Queen Aliyah College for Girls.

The commission made a thorough study of the colleges concerned during a month's stay, and returned home to prepare its report.

Colleges found to be of university standard will make up the projected Baghdad University, the minister said. Those falling short of the mark must wait until they are able to come up to the required level.

Khalil Kanna, a gifted organizer with a huge capacity for work, has streamlined Iraq's school system on up-to-date lines. Iraqi members of the tutorial staff have been sent abroad for higher specialization; equipment and materials ordered to meet requirements.

Under agreements signed with UNESCO and U. S. Point Four Administration, he secured the services of professorial-grade university teachers on the staffs of his colleges.

He indicated he is particularly keen to obtain the services of similar grade professors from Britain because "the British system makes for selective, not mass, education."

Japanese Continue Quite Pro-American

TOKYO (AP)—A Mainichi Shimbun editorial says a strong pro-American feeling still prevails among the Japanese people. The newspaper, one of Japan's largest, publishes in four cities with a reported combined circulation of six million. A recent editorial declared:

"We do not think the greater part of the Japanese people have anti-American sentiments. Rather, we say that there still exists a strong pro-American feeling." The editorial added, however, that "We must frankly admit there has been a slight change in Japanese feeling."

It attributed this change to a reaction against the pro-American policies of the Japanese government, the affects of anti-American propaganda of the Japanese Communist party, and concern over the effect on economics and education of continued operation of U. S. bases in Japan.

The editorial asserted anti-American feeling among Japanese intellectuals could be traced to "McCarthyism" in the United States.

California Farmers Expect Ducky Time

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (UP) — California ranchers and state wildlife agencies expect flights of pintail ducks to start coming into the Klamath-Tule Lake area and the Imperial Valley this fall.

Waiting for them will be more than 10,000 acres of grain on a dozen state and federal waterfowl management areas. Also waiting will be farmers and landowners armed with flares, lights and noisemakers.

They will stand ready to herd the ducks away from private crop fields and pastures and on to the areas set up for their use.

Crop damage will be greater, and more herding effort necessary, if farmers wait for the large flights before beginning their duck-scarring activities, California wildlife agencies report.

Youths Pitch In to Help Build Pastor's Home

PITTSBURGH, Pa. (UP)—Fourteen boys and six girls from seven states spent their summer vacations helping the Rev. V. W. Butler build a new house.

The youths were assigned to the project by the Board of Christian Education of the United Presbyterian Church.

The 230 members of the Rev. Mr. Butler's congregation at the Universal United Presbyterian Church also pitched in as did laymen of other denominations in suburban Penn Township where the church is located.

The 14 boys did the manual labor, and the six girls took care of the cooking and housekeeping. The congregation members and other laymen helped out with electrical wiring, plastering, plumbing and similar specialized jobs. Even much of the food was donated.

The Rev. Mr. Butler, who has had charge of the congregation for two years also did his share of the work.

Scientist, 70, Put Cranberry With Turkey

EAST WAREHAM, Mass. (AP)—Next Thursday, Thanksgiving Day, thousands of Americans will sit down to a whopping turkey dinner.

But what is turkey without cranberry sauce?

Dr. Henry J. Franklin, a quiet, elderly scientist here, is so sure the two belong together he has devoted his entire life to developing the perfect cranberry.

More than any other man, he is responsible for the cranberry industry, which this year produced some 1,100,000 barrels of berries.

In Massachusetts, where cranberries first were grown, farmers still remember the disastrous year 1905, before Dr. Franklin came on the scene. A whole season's labor produced only 185,000 barrels.

Massachusetts then had about 13,000 acres of bogs under cultivation—the outgrowth of experiments by Henry Hall in 1812 when he began domestication of the wid "crane-berry." (It was so named because its stem is curved like the neck of the long-legged American crane.)

* * *

This year, Dr. Franklin, now 70, saw the Massachusetts crop alone measured at 700,000 barrels from 15,000 acres—an acreage only slightly larger than that of 1905.

Meanwhile, cultivation of the cranberry has spread to New Jersey, Wisconsin, Oregon and Washington, and on a smaller scale to Maine, Rhode Island, Michigan and Long Island in New York.

Officially, Franklin has just retired after 43 years as chief of the Massachusetts cranbery experimental station here. But he still maintains an office in an annex built by the industry especially for him next to a concrete block building housing lab oratories and research offices.

Today he recalls his first years working in the cranberry bogs in 1906.

* * *

"Insects," he says, "were ruining the crops. We found the worst were the fruit and fire worms. We didn't work any miracles, but we learned."

It took 10 years to learn the most effective time to spray the pests. Then Dr. Franklin embarked on a program to teach each cranberry grower how to combat worms and bugs.

2 Youthful Bandits Rob Service Station

Two youthful, well-dressed bandits held up an attendant at Perkins Super Service Station, 2600 S. Telegraph Rd., last night and escaped with about $60.

Robert Waring of 51 Summit Ave., alone in the station at the time, told deputies that two men, both about 20, loitered in the station for about 30 minutes before one of them took out a gun and ordered him to put cash register money in a neat pile.

The youths fled on foot, said Leo Perkins of 250 Harlmoor Blvd. owner of the station.

Chooses Wrong Parlor to Watch Television

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — It's 30 days in the TV-less city jail for Marion Tucker, who likes television.

Judge John McNoble deprived Tucker of his pasttime yesterday after Joe Salomone testified the 41-year-old transient strolled into his home while the family was watching their favorite TV program and just plopped in front of the set.

Salomone called police.

Not Cuddly Enough

Shoddy Teddy Bears Irk Doting Russian Parents

MOSCOW (AP) — Not even teddy bears can escape the wrath of the aroused Russian consumer.

Within the last few months women's hats, dresses and shoes have been ridiculed with a heavy hand in the Soviet press.

Now come teddy bears that aren't cuddly, toy animals that don't look like animals and dolls with hair that isn't curly.

With the holiday season approaching, the heat is on the Soviet Union's toy makers. Their chief sins: Lack of imagination and poor workmanship.

The Russians are doting parents. They like to buy toys for their children. Often they have more fun playing with toys than their offspring — a decadent, bourgeois weakness.

This season Russian parents are well aware that the Malenkov government's promise of more and better consumer goods also includes toys. Taking up their cudgel is the newspaper, Evening Moscow.

In an article demanding "good toys for the children," the Evening Moscow reported on a meeting of toy designers with store employes.

Too often, the paper said, the stores have "animals that don't look like animals, horrible dolls with terribly curled hair made by people who are indifferent to children.

"The result," said the paper, "are many such articles which are long stocked up in the stores and not sold.

"Another complaint is there are no musical toys, and the teddy bears are not soft enough. There are not enough table games."

By Western standards, Moscow toy stores have a skimpy line of goods.

The Soviet press is proud that there are few guns or "warlike" toys. There are some flimsy air guns and fire trucks on the market, but no tanks, no "Mars" suits, no space guns. The latter have been denounced in Pravda, the official party newspaper.

PIGEONHOLED—A space-saving partial solution to the parking problems of Los Angeles is a new downtown pigeonhole parking garage which accommodates 128 cars in a 60 by 90 foot space that would ordinarily park 30 autos. Five stories high, the garage is so automatic that it requires only one attendant at all times.

Mexico Seeking Smuggled Cars in New Drive

MEXICO CITY (INS) — Mexican authorities today are in the midst of another of their periodic drives to stop smuggling of stolen cars across the U. S.-Mexican border.

This time they are searching for 100 autos allegedly brought across the border with forged documents and sold in Mexico within the past few months. Twelve of the cars reported have been recovered.

Mexico's lure for auto thieves is that cars sell for twice as much here as in the U. S. For instance, a medium-priced 1952 model brings $4,000 or more on Mexico City lots.

Because the smuggling is so lucrative it crops up every few months and Mexican police renew their efforts to catch the thieves.

In addition to obtaining false ownership papers, the thieves obtain false tourist permits to avoid the big duty on cars brought to Mexico for sale.

Reportedly the ring now under attack is headquartered in San Antonio and operates through Nuevo, Laredo. Arrests have been made in both towns, as well as in wide areas of Mexico.

Time May See Man Without Any Toes

LOS ANGELES (INS) — A foot specialist says that man is in danger of losing his toes and developing something like a hoof if he keeps riding around in cars, trains, airplanes and the like.

That prospect was raised by Dr. William Barnes of the National Association of Chiropodists.

He said:

"We must remember that human beings are still in the process of evolutionary law which caused unused members gradually to atrophy and disappear still holds.

"Already there is evidence that the old Darwinian principle is operating on our pedal extremities. Compare modern toes with those of the anthropoid apes, which use them for grasping and climbing.

"Even some primitive human races can still grasp objects with their toes, but you just try to do it."

Takes Fine Feathers

MARYVILLE, Tenn. (UP)—Little Mollie Ann Chambers had seen ducks before, but never a peacock. Putting two and two together, she turned to her mother and exclaimed, "Look, mother, a duck with an evening dress on!"

Third Try Turns Farm Worker Into Burglar

EDINBURG, Tex. (UP)—A 25-year-old Elsa, Tex., farm worker got a five-year probated sentence in Texas 92nd District Court when he admitted he burglarized the same tavern three times in one night after "celebrating too much."

Trinidad O. Villarreal testified he was walking home after celebrating when he passed an empty tavern. He pushed up a window and went in, he said.

Villarreal tried to open the juke box, but had no luck. He testified he went home and to bed, but couldn't go to sleep. So he returned to the tavern with a large knife and tried to pry the juke box open again. Still no luck.

He went back home, but still was troubled by insomnia. Villarreal then returned a third time, this time with a screw driver. The juke box yielded. Villarreal took about $40.

He testified he was sorry, would pay back the money and would cut down on his "celebrating."

All Was Confusion

BOSTON (UP) — It was rough on the bellboys at the Bradford Hotel here when, during a Lutheran youth convention, 45 Robert Johnsons were registered.

Mrs. O'Malley Cleaned House—but Wrong One

McALESTER, Okla. (AP)— Mrs. Thomas O'Malley prepared the cleanest home in the valley—but it isn't hers.

She took her soap, mop and pail out to a new home she had just leased here. She wanted to give the place a good Irish cleaning.

After the cleaning chore, she checked with the rental agent about the garage. She was told there was no garage with the house, and further checks developed Mrs. O'Malley had cleaned the wrong vacant house. Her new home was two blocks down the street.

Many Laud Truman Talk; Other Dems Now in GOP

KANSAS CITY (INS) — It was late at night, and the man from Western Union brought a bundle of opened telegrams to the suite of Matt Connelly and Bill Hillman.

They were for Truman, who had gone home to Independence after making his TV and radio appearance downtown.

I picked up a sheaf of them, and here's how they came out:

"God bless you, Mr. Truman, you gave them Heaven," said one from New York. From New Rochelle: "Congratulations on your speech tonight. This country is quickly going to the dogs and the rapid decline of the human race and atomic weapons has much to do with it."

A lady in San Mateo wired: "God bless you for your honesty. My husband is a Republican. I am still a Democrat."

And a man in Memphis sent: "Compared with the crucifixion Herbert Hoover got, you are still lucky."

"Oh my gosh," was all that one said from Burbank, Cal., but a man in Milwaukee was much plainer. He wired Truman: "Thank God that Harry S. Truman is no longer President of our United States of America."

God also was thanked for "McCarthyism," in another wire but a Bronx man flashed, "You are still the champ. The finest speech I have ever heard."

"Thank you, Harry," wired a number of people from different parts of the country. "Tonight's speech really set the record straight on those demagogues," enthused a man in Oakland, Cal.

"I have just heard a real American, it was Harry Truman's honesty and frankness at its very best," said a man from nearby St. Joseph, Mo., but from Shreveport came: "As an old poker player it seems to me you should know when to keep quiet. You sure muffed tonight."

A St. Louis couple thought otherwise: "Your speech tonight will live in the history of great American speeches. We thank God for your courage and the true Americanism you embodied."

"That was the finest speech I have ever heard," said a woman in Chicago. Another Chicagoan wired: "We love you, we love you, we love you. You smell sweeter all the time. David against Goliath."

A soldier in Pittsburgh, whose handwriting might be bad, came through with a wire that read: "Speech you said tonight was for the boys in Korea and to tell them all to come home. Served there and I've seen the same as you. Please come home. Thank you, Harry."

"Hope this is just the start of a crusade against McCarthyism," said a Huntington (W.Va.) couple.

From Madison, Wis., came "Thank you for the greatest and most necessary speech of our times," and a Birmingham, Mich. man wired: "Will accept what you say."

Tulsa chimed in with "Congratulations to the American people for having such a wonderful ex-President. It was a splendid message."

Truman won at least the promise of a vote from a man in Corpus Christi, Tex., who wired: "Thanks for your radio talk. Will vote for you next election."

But here and there was dissent. There's a man in Medford, Mass., who thundered, "Have just listened to your line of baloney. It is typical. As a former member of Medford ward city Democratic committee, count me out. Will see you over there. You have proven yourself a two-bit faker and a Pendergast follower. Good-bye Harry, I am now now a Republican."

But a committee in Dallas remained firm. "God bless Harry Truman," it wired.

Hillman kept score as the long night wore on. When I left the apartment at 3:15, wires had been received from 46 of the 48 states and, by Hillman's check, they were running about 95 per cent favorable.

Truman saw a batch of the telegraphic response the next morning, bright and early in Independence. A reporter asked him how it was running and he said about 98 per cent good, "with the usual wires from crackpots thrown in," he added.

Queer Fish

GLOUCESTER, Mass. (UP) — Seafarers here are still puzzled as to what it was that got caught in the mackerel nets of Ralph Nelson's fishing boat Girlie. Weighing nearly a ton, the catch was identified by some as a black fish and by others as a shark. But Nelson isn't sure either identification is correct.

OFFICE HELP—Streaking from office to office on pneumatic-tired scooters is all in a day's work for messengers in one large Copenhagen, Denmark, business building. Memos and mail are carried in the wicker basket attached to the handlebars. The foot-saving scheme is the brainstorm of a time-minded executive.

Puerto Rico Tries to Wipe Out Slums

SAN JUAN (INS) — Slums are being wiped out in Puerto Rico.

With 10,500 dwelling units being constructed at a cost of $70,000,000, Puerto Rico, with 2,300,000 inhabitants, now leads every state in the union in low-cost housing on a per capita basis. When completed these apartments will house more than 55,000 persons.

Fifty families from blighted areas in San Juan have already moved into the huge ultra-modern low-cost Luis Llorens Torres housing project. They are the first of more than 10,000 low-income persons who will shortly occupy the 80-acre, 2,640 apartment development in the suburbs of the capital.

Transparent Fabric Used in $10,000 Bathing Suit

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Everybody looked when pretty Mrs. Patricia C. Muncy of Redondo Beach stepped out of a Santa Monica pool. They looked again. Then Mrs. Muncy looked too.

What she saw, she said in a suit yesterday asking $10,000 damages, was that her bathing suit "became transparent and pervious to light" after contact with water.

She has sued the garment manufacturer, claiming she was exposed to public gaze and ridicule, and suffered extreme embarrassment and shock.

Line Has New 4 Door Rambler with 108-Inch Wheelbase

Nash Motors' 1954 model cars, featuring an entirely new 108-inch wheelbase Rambler four-door sedan, go on display in dealer showrooms tomorrow.

Company spokesmen said most models have been reduced from the 1953 listings. The factory delivered prices generally showed reductions ranging from $57.60 on the Rambler super two-door suburban to $160.75 on the Ambassador super two-door sedan.

Besides the newest Rambler Nash also has the 100-inch wheelbase Rambler line and its Ambassador and Statesman models in the Nash line. Fifteen different body styles comprise the new model lines.

New exterior colors, including 14 solid and 14 two-tone combinations, new upholstery and trim combinations, are provided in the entire line of 1954 models. All models have low silhouettes, with fender above the hood line.

Nash announced the new 108-inch Rambler sedans will include numerous deluxe features, including radio, electric clock and conditioned air system as standard equipment. It will be powered with an improved six-cylinder engine, developing 90 horsepower, with a 7.3 to 1 compression ratio.

The 100-inch wheelbase Rambler line again features the convertible with the overhead rails and the electrically operated nylon top. The series also includes three station wagon models and the country club hardtop.

Styling refinements in the 1954 Nash Ambassador series include a new vertical grille, continental rear tire mount and 130 horsepower, six cylinder, overhead valve engine. The 1953 models had 120 horsepower engines.

The new Statesman model has a new six cylinder L-head engine with an aluminum cylinder head and dual carburetors as standard equipment. Horsepower has been increased from 110 to 120.

Power brakes, power steering and electrically operated window lifts are offered on most models as optional equipment as is hydramatic transmission.

Daisy Maes Pursue Likely Escorts as Sadie Hawkins Dance Draws Near

In the midst of a delightful dilemma is Lowell Satterlee of Nelson street, who has the choice of escorting one of three "Daisy Maes" bravely struggling for the honor of his presence. Mari-Karen Trager of Mount Clemens street seems to have the advantage, however, as she sturdily pulls the rope bringing Lowell in tow. Not to be outdone are Carol Doyle (left) of Joslyn avenue and Nancy Rondo of East Rundell street. These Trabajamas workers are readying for a gala affair, the Sadie Hawkins Dance, which will be held at the Roosevelt Temple Saturday evening from 9 until 12.

Unusual Fabrics, Striking Hues

Resort Styles Are Novel

PARIS (INS) — Unusual fabrics and striking color combinations will mark the smart woman at a winter resort, according to a Paris fashion designer.

Madeleine de Rauch is featuring a white nylon fur fabric skirt with a tucked-in waist and full skirt. Suggested with this dramatic number are a decollete sweater in a horizontal black and white pattern and a yellow cummerbund.

Also for the woman who wants to look dramatic is a black felt dress with a flaring skirt lined in quilted yellow cotton upholstery fabric. Tight black silk jersey bullfighter pants are worn under the skirt. The final touch is a yellow belt matching the lining.

This year, says De Rauch, you don't sit on that heavy plaid blanket — you wear it. The designer shows a thick red, green and blue plaid fall skirt with a long-fringed hemline, worn with a tight black silk jersey sweater that is cut high in the front, but is scooped away in the back.

Another skirt shown is of fully pleated turquoise felt combined with a black sweater. This, like all these new Paris skirts, calls for black taffeta petticoats underneath.

Smart combinations in jackets suggested by Madeline de Rauch include white corduroy lined in black teddy-bear fabric; black felt lined in turquoise felt; navy blue poplin lined in paisley-patterned wool and beige camel hair reversible to black and white nubby tweed. These jackets can be worn with or without belts.

One of De Rauch's favorite lining fabrics is cotton upholstery material with floral patterns and a light background. This is used for both ski and after-ski jackets and is usually quilted.

Parliamentary Study Group Given Lesson

Mrs. Harold Knisley gave the lesson Wednesday when members of Parliamentary Study Club met at the Masonic Temple on East Lawrence street.

Mrs. John Gemmell sponsored th demonstration group, which consisted of Mrs. Harry Vernon, Mrs. Joseph Phillips, Mrs. Clayton Rule, Mrs. Leonard Saari, Mrs. Aden Thornton and Agnes Baynes.

Mrs. Joseph Panter conducted the question box.

Sorority Chapter Meets in Rochester

Mrs. Ralph Price of Rochester was hostess Tuesday evening to members of Xi Pi Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi sorority. She was assisted by Mrs. Ruth Shaw.

A demonstration on leader dogs for the blind was given by Vince Syracuse, and Mrs. Andrew Vitt conducted the business meeting. Adah Shelly was a guest of the group.

Members Greeted by Deborah Group

Mrs. James Wellington and Mrs. William Sherwood were welcomed as new members Wednesday when the Deborah Group of Oakland Park Methodist Church met with Mrs. Bert Weddle on Oxley road.

Mrs. Ralph Clara gave devotions, and the President's Thanksgiving message was read by Mrs. Basil Meidlein, who was a guest.

Schiaparelli Calls Men Cowardly

Claims They Are Afraid to Get Out of Drab Clothes Rut

By DOROTHY ROE
Associated Press Women's Editor

Men are cowards, says Elsa Schiaparelli, French fashion designer who is rapidly taking over the styling of American life.

She claims they're afraid to depart from the well-trodden rut in their habits of dress. As a result they look dull and feel uncomfortable most of the time.

Schiaparelli thinks men should wear bright-colored dinner jackets and light, comfortable evening shirts — maybe with ruffles.

She advocates daring in sports clothes and draws the line only at shorts for business wear. If they wear shorts, she asks, what are they going to do about those hairy legs?

These remarks came at a gala luncheon in New York celebrating the coming of age of Schiaparelli Inc., a sort of omnibus corporation coordinating all the various interests of this small, Italian-born representative of various U. S. manufacturing groups, retail store executives and the press.

The magic of the Schiaparelli name, it has been found, will sell almost anything, from children's snow suits to men's neckties. So don't be surprised if your next purchase of a sports shirt for Pop or a handbag for Aunt Alice comes wrapped in shocking pink and bears a Schiaparelli signature.

The astute businesswoman discovered as long ago as 1936 that the American public loves big names. Her "Shocking Pink" perfume, named after the color, still heads the best-seller lists.

In her new French-American corporation, Schiaparelli is working with a group of "affiliates" who are American manufacturers covering practically every facet of the fashion field.

Her immediate aim, says Schiaparelli, is to design a completely coordinated wardrobe for every man, woman and child in the United States. After that she may go to work on the Hotentots.

MARJA MARIE WESP

The engagement of their daughter, Marja Marie, to Charles J. Till is announced by Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Wesp of West Rundell street. Charles is the son of the Robert Tills of Draper avenue. No date has been set for the wedding.

Square Dance Held by 3 Clubs

Members of Hoedowners and Do-C-Do Square Dance Clubs joined with Lions Club members Wednesday evening for the monthly dance for the League of the Blind.

Chairmen for the event were Ardel Pierce and Warner Wasmuth.

The dance, the second of the season, was held at Longfellow School in conjunction with the Department of Parks and Recreation.

Refreshments were served by the chairmen and Harold Northon, Dr. Robert Fisher, Dr. and Mrs. George Harkless, Mrs. Wasmuth and Oscar Eckman.

Women Far From What They Long to Be

Museum Compares Figures of Average, Ideal Gals

By ELIZABETH TOOMEY

NEW YORK (UP) — Every generation has different standards for the perfect female figure, but science can prove that the average woman of any generation falls far short of her ideal.

In the austere and echoing corridors of the American Museum of Natural History the story of women's figures was brought up to date recently by an oddly-assorted cast of characters.

Dr. Harry Shapiro, chairman of the museum's department of anthropology; Joan Romano, a tall, angular model, and Carol Keyser, a rather short, well-rounded actress, were the three main participants.

Dr. Shapiro was there to prove his scientific point that what women are and what they dream of being bear only the slightest resemblance.

Miss Keyser, wearing a revealing black leotard, represented the way we are built according to scientific measurements—125 pounds, 5 feet 3½ inches tall, 34-inch bust, 27-inch waist and 37½-inch hips.

Miss Romano, elegantly attired in a black, sequined sheath, represented the ideal as typified by high fashion figures — tall, hipless and sophisticated. She added up to 5 feet 9 inches in stocking feet and a shadowy 110 pounds. Her hips measured 33 inches and she was wearing a size eight dress.

The dimpled, blonde actress said she wore a size 12 leotard and measured distressingly close to "Norma," the museum's plaster model of the average American woman.

"I feel like a lady wrestler," she moaned, eyeing the sylph-like outline of the high-fashion model. "I'm trying to lose weight. I'm always trying."

"I wish I were shorter," murmured Miss Romano.

"Think what a good basketball player you'd have made," said a male photographer, apparently meaning to console her.

"I did play basketball," Miss Romano snapped.

"On the boy's team?" inquired Miss Keyser, looking up with interest.

Dr. Shapiro interrupted with a scientific observation, probably just in the nick of time.

"The trend is for women to be taller, longer-legged, wider at the shoulders, narrower at the hips, somewhat heavier, and have bigger feet and hands," he said. "Most of these statistics are gathered by comparing dimensions of college girls over three generations.

"There is no question, however," continued the anthropologist, "that fashions cause women to idealize themselves in shapes far from their true figures. Bosoms didn't just disappear in the 20s and then come back."

"Hips haven't disappeared either," he added though high-fashion photography requires models slim to the point of emaciation.

Dr. Shapiro and the two young women will appear next Sunday on "Adventure," a television series produced in cooperation with the museum.

Also on the program will be sculptured figures showing the shapes women of other generations would have needed to fit such fashion silhouettes as the bustle, the hobbleskirt and the flapper.

Pictures Are Seen by All Saints Guild

The Rev. Ward H. Clabuesch showed travel pictures of England and Belgium Tuesday evening for members of Guild 10, All Saints Episcopal Church, when they met in Stevens Hall.

Jessie Brewer gave devotions, and final plans were made for the Christmas Bazaar scheduled for Dec. 3.

Hostesses at the meeting were Mrs. George Roberts, Mrs. Paul Salzman and Mrs. Bessie Stevens.

Trim Figure to Fit New Slacks Style

The vogue for hip-hugging lounging pants has really caught on with you teen-agers. And no wonder. The style is particularly becoming to your lithe forms.

But if your figure is not typical of your group, do reconsider before purchasing a pair. Resolve either to get rid of excess fat or stick to less form-fitting outfits.

Of course, it is hoped that the former is your decision. Once you get going, you won't find the exercises too bothersome.

And when you have shed these inches and can slip into the slinkiest of trousers, you will have happy proof of the value of self-discipline.

Since posture causes prominent buttocks, before starting other exercises do this: Stand straight and squeeze buttock muscles together, pushing hips forward. Learn to walk while holding muscles taut in this manner. They will gradually assume the flattened position naturally.

Touching the floor with your hands without bending your knees will help to slim thighs and buttocks. Do it slowly.

The old rocking-chair exercise is also good. Sit with feet crossed, hands on knees and rock back and forth on hips.

Fur Hats Need Sleek Hairdos

The more furry your hat the sleeker your hair should be, says a beauty expert. By furry, of course, the expert has in mind fashionable new hats of mink, ermine, rabbit or what-have-you?

The reason for sleek coiffures under fur hats is to leave no doubt in the onlooker's mind where hair leaves off, pelt begins. A woman's head can easily look like a fur trapper's nightmare, warns the expert, if she isn't careful to make this distinction.

Be sure the fur of your hat is not the color of your hair. If your hair is dark, wear a hat of ermine or rabbit; if hair is honey-blonde, wear a hat of smoky brown or dark-diamond mink (or a reasonable facsimile thereof).

Coming Events

Eunice Philathea Class of First Baptist Church will hold a cooperative dinner in the Educational Building at 6 p.m. with Bible study at 7.

One of the success-fashions from Jacques Fath's collection is the slim satin cocktail dress. It has an Empire mid-section draped bosom and bow-tied shoulder straps.

38 Named to High Policy-Making Positions

Women Chalk Up All--Time Record in First 9 Months of Ike Administration

By PATTI SIMMONS

WASHINGTON NEA—Leave it to the women to chalk up an all-time record in the first nine months of the administration.

Since President Eisenhower took office in January no less than 38 women have been named to high policy-making posts. This tops the score for other administrations in the same period, women GOP's figure.

Thirty of these bigtime jobs were direct presidential appointments, the others being departmental or career selections.

The women are doing man-sized jobs in spots ranging through diplomatic relations, health, education, civil defense, social welfare, United Nations, foreign assistance, fiscal matters, customs, legal affairs, transportation, patents, employe relations, parole problems and agriculture.

Incidentally, these include just a handful of the 18 million women voters who cast more than half the winning votes in the last election. This feminine fire at the polls has been rewarded in an impressive lineup of "firsts."

There's the first woman envoy to a major European country, Clare Boothe Luce; first career woman diplomat elevated to an ambassador, Frances Willis; first woman in a newly-established Cabinet post, Oveta Hobby; first woman deputy civil defense administrator, Katherine Howard; first woman assistant director of Foreign Operations Administration, Mrs. Hiram Houghton; the first women assistants to a Cabinet office, Mrs. Jane M. Spaulding and Mrs. Georgia F. McCoy, and the first woman member of the Post Office Department Advisory Board, Mrs. Consuelo Northrop Bailey.

Thirty of the 38 put Mrs. before their names. Some are mothers with grown children and a number boast a teaching or law school background.

Four out of the group are Negroes. Mrs. Robert Church, consultant to minority groups Department of Labor; Mrs. Carmen C. Marr, assistant to the U. S. ambassador to the U.N.; Mrs. Jessie Vann, member of the International Development Advisory Board, and Mrs. Spaulding, assistant to Secretary Hobby.

Mrs. Spaulding is the widow of a distinguished physician and a leader in welfare work. Lawyer Mrs. Marr was graduated from Hunter College. Mrs. Vann bosses the Pittsburgh Courier newspaper, the only major Negro publication to support President Eisenhower last fall.

The administration has put women in charge of two of the country's three mints. Mrs. Daniel Schneider, former newspaper editor, runs the one in Denver and Mrs. Rae V. Biester the one in Philadelphia.

When it comes to the title of U. S. collector of customs, the women really rate. There's Miss Albina Cermak of Cleveland, Miss Cleta Smith of St. Louis, Mrs. Olivia Erpenbach of Minneapolis and Mrs. Anne A. Mitchell of Bridgeport, Conn.

Another duo with eyes on the dollar is Mrs. Ivy Baker Priest and Miss Catherine Cleary. These women, who once taught school, now hold down the jobs of treasurer and assistant treasurer of the United States.

At the U.N., America has Mrs. Oswald Lord, representative on Human Rights Commission; Congresswoman Frances P. Bolton, representative to the eighth General Assembly, and Mrs. Lorena Hahn, representative on the Status of Women Commission.

Dynamic Mrs. Lord has been described as "Perle Mesta and Frances Perkins in one attractive package."

Mrs. Hahn, formerly chief of women's affairs in occupied Germany, opened avenues which now make it possible for German women to form organizations and accept radio and magazine jobs.

A pair with renowned family names, Mrs. Wendell Willkie and Mrs. Theodore Roosevelt Jr. have been named members of the American Battle Monuments Commission.

Putting womanly know-how into the Post Office Department along with Mrs. Consuelo Northrop Bailey is Dr. Beatrice Aitchison, director of transportation research.

Mrs. Dorothy McCullough Lee, otherwise known as "No-Sin-Lee," has a new title—Parole Board member of the Department of Justice. She was mayor of Portland, Ore., where she not only closed that city's Chinese gambling joints but used to find time to make 90 speeches a month.

Mrs. Floyd Lee of San Mateo, N. M., is U. S. representative to the Inter-American Commission for Women, Department of State.

Dr. Jean McKelvey, professor at New York State School of Industrial and Labor Relations at Cornell University, is the only woman member of a special advisory committee to the secretary of labor.

To complete the impressive picture add: Mrs. Elisabeth Enochs, U. S. technical delegate on the directing council of the American International Institute for the Protection of Childhood; Dr. Bess Goodykoontz, alternate delegate to the same institute; Mrs. Clay-Lytle, assistant director for women's affairs, Civil Defense Administration.

Mrs. F. Peavey Heffelfinger of Wayzata, Minn., alternate delegate to UNESCO Conference this summer in Paris; Mrs. Helen Rogers Reid of New York, member of the Government Contract Committee; Mrs. Raymond Sayre, of Ackworth, Iowa, member of the Agricultural Advisory Commission.

Mrs. Alice Leopold of Weston, Conn., public member of the Commission of Intergovernment Relations; Mrs. Ada Mucklestone of Chicago, assistant director for women's affairs, Midwest Region, Civil Defense Administration, and Miss Mildred Reeves, associate judge of the Municipal Court of the District of Columbia.

A welcoming speech was given by Mrs. Katherine Cable, and Mrs. Glen Johnson and her committee served the luncheon.

Mrs. John J. Little presided over the convention, which had representatives from the 19 unions of the 18th district, comprised by Oakland County.

Mrs. Little, who has served as district president for six years, was made honorary president as a tribute to her long tenure of office. She also served as vice president for 10 years and served a 10 year term in the Pontiac Federation.

Mrs. J. R. Green was advanced from the office of vice president to president. She is president of the Royal Oak Union.

Other officers elected were Mrs. George Perkins of Royal Oak, vice president; Mrs. J. H. Moon, corresponding secretary, and Mrs. Lee Campbell of Royal Oak, treasurer.

Mrs. Perkins, Mrs. F. E. Kuklaw and Mrs. John Veneman presented a musical program and Mrs. Frank Clemens presided at the memorial hour assisted by Mrs. Mable Wiser, Mrs. Bertha Lewis and Mrs. W. L. Carls.

Reports were given by presidents, directors and branch secretaries and plans were announced for a depot of audio-visual equipment that will be made available to educational agencies for presentations in the field of narcotic education.

The official board will announce the place for the next meeting at later date.

New Ways of Patching Plaster Wall

Gypsum Board or Metal Lath Call for Different Methods

By HUBBARD COBB

Trouble with a job like this is just when you finally learn something cold, someone comes around and changes things. Take this business of patching plaster, for example.

We've known for years how to patch plaster attached to wood lath, but now few if any homes are being built with wood lath.

When you have to make a patch in a plaster wall with a gypsum board base your best bet is to remove a sufficient amount of plaster to expose the joints or studding to which the gypsum lath is attached.

Now what you do is to cut a piece of metal lath to the size of this opening and nail it to the studding or joist. With the metal lath in place you've got a pretty solid base for the new plaster.

All that is left to do is to undercut the edges of the existing plaster, dampen these edges and apply the patch.

With a hole in plaster over metal lath the job of preparing a base for the patch is a good deal easier.

Quite often you'll find a spot in a plaster wall that won't stay patched. This usually occurs over wood lath and the best cure here is to remove enough of the plaster to allow a strip of wire lath to be fastened to the studding.

Suited to our changing climate are suits and coats in lighter weight woolens. Imported gray worsted (left) is used for town suit that has collar thickly beaded with jet. This is a suit that defines a woman's waistline neatly. Fleece coat for dress wear (center) is pale beige, has high line at bodice with double button closing. Envelope cuff is pretty finish for sleeve. Cashmere suit (right) in camel has own sweater in dark brown for contrast. Suit is belted in lizard. All three designs are by Seymour Fox.

Milder Winter Weather Cuts Bulk in Women's Styles

Reports that weather is changing clear across the country and that, for the most part, winters are becoming milder, have a direct bearing on fashion.

Translated into fashion terms, these reports mean that suits take on new importance since they'll be worn longer in the fall than used to be possible.

Lighter weight woolens are more important, too, in everything from dresses to coats. Coats that are cloud-like and fleecy rest gently on the shoulders, providing warmth without weight.

New to the suit this year is the sweater dyed exactly to the color of jacket and skirt so that, with jacket off, a perfect color harmony is maintained.

The changing weather indicates other interesting wardrobe changes and further shifts in the buying habits of women.

In place of the one heavy black or brown winter coat, there may be two or even three coats in lighter weight and in jewel colors.

One might be black, another beige and a third a blowing red or blue. More spice for the wardrobe, more to wear, more fun in the wearing.

This applies to suits as well. The heavy suit that, in combination with a weighty coat, kept the wearer warm through icy blizzards, is vanishing.

Suits in lighter weight, suits that are not a major investment planned for at least four years' wear, suits that do not add bulk to the figure—these are the suits women will be wearing.

No longer need a woman bundle herself in layers of heavy clothing in order to keep warm from November through February.

Weather and fashion are cooperating to make her winters far more pleasant.

Don't Talk Up Your Defects

The oft-heard advice to "stress the positive" is especially applicable to the beauty-minded woman past 40.

Too many older women have a tendency to call attention to their defects. They bewail the fact that their noses are too long or too broad; that they have to reduce or gain weight; that their hair is dull and lifeless; that their skin is dry or oily.

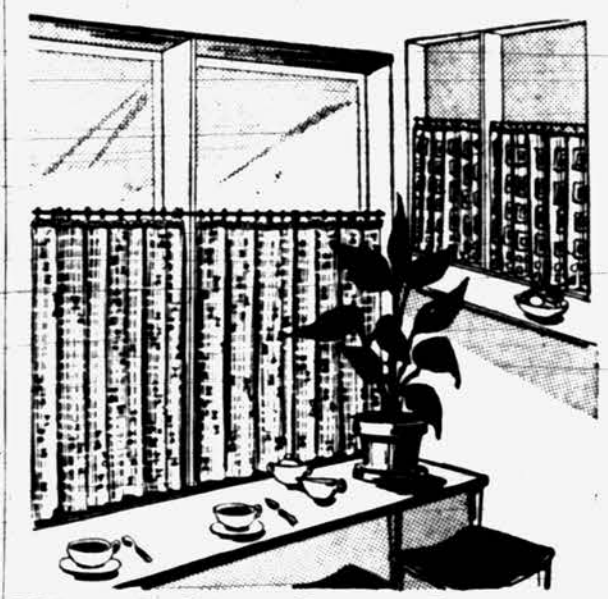

Or they go into detailed descriptions of their solution to their beauty problems.

By advertising the problems, they accentuate the defects and all but eliminate their assets in the eyes of their listeners.

Except when one knows that the listener is able to offer sound advice, there is nothing to be gained from such conversation.

Keep your beauty problem to yourself. Make your own decision as to what's to be done. Do it and then wait for others to start complimentary conversations.

People are not so likely to remember your beauty assets' past if you haven't given them a blow-by-blow description of your battle to eliminate the negative.

Wood Slat Cafe Curtains Now Come With Designs

By ELIZABETH HILLYER

Cafe curtains are enormously popular these days. Wood slat draperies are popular, too, and their makers are fast coming up with new ideas that combine the good features of both.

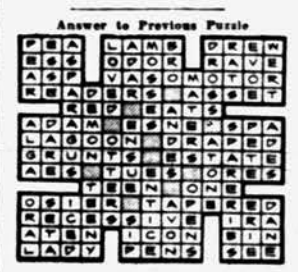

First we saw short curtains made of thin and supple wood slats used for clerestory windows, and now these short lengths turn to cafe curtain style with the application of a special braid that has loops attached to hang them from cafe curtain rods.

Most wood slat cafe curtains are undecorated, but a new version that's finding its way to the stores is patterned with printed designs in color.

Here are two of the new patterned wood slat cafe curtains. Designs are one color in red, chartreuse, deep green or cocoa on natural wood background, with the looped braid the color of the pattern.

Cleaning is a matter of wiping off with a damp cloth, and two lengths and widths make the curtains fit windows of various sizes.

Answer to Previous Puzzle

Mary Margaret McBride Says:

Even Present-Day Flying Jumbles the Senses a Bit

I've had some interesting talks lately with one friend, Willie Ley, who's an authority on travel to the moon, and another, Maj. Donald Keyhoe, who firmly believes flying saucers come from other planets.

In a way, what they told me was bad news, because it just happens that I had a difficult experience this summer trying to get my mind and body back together again after two or three weeks of ordinary flying at a fairly normal rate of speed over oceans, continents and mountains.

MISS McBRIDE

Maybe this doesn't happen to younger people more attuned to the modern air age, but after a long plane trip in which I've crossed several time belts and national boundaries I invariably feel that my mind has failed to keep up. But luckily after a few days it comes along and we go on together until the next trip.

Don't be frightened—it's all right for me to talk like this because just when I was most baffled by my predicament, along came a quote from the famous T. S. Eliot who feels just as I do and describes his sensations much better.

What I'm worried about now, though, is that if a fairly simple trip across the ocean does this to me, what on earth (or on Mars, maybe I should say) will happen when travel is interplanetary and swifter than the eye can see.

This is just a helpless plaint from one who wonders if a person who was born in the horse-and-buggy era can really stand up under being shot to the moon.

I asked Willie Ley whether, if we were to build all the equipment we now know would be required and possessed enough courage, we could start for the moon tomorrow. He said no, there are a good many details still to be ironed out, and I drew a breath of relief. It was like a reprieve.

But Willie's was such a temporary "no" that it wouldn't surprise me a bit if before I die I get an assignment to interview, say, the head Moonmaiden to find out what they're wearing up there and how they're managing their men.

Of course, if Donald Keyhoe is right about flying saucers being space ships, I may be talking things over with a pilot from Venus or Saturn any day.

Whichever way it turns out, this will be a big jump for one who as a child used to get excited about crossing a county line to visit my Cousin Edith in Hannibal. Nowadays I see friends who live in London and Paris or even South America much more often than I used to see Cousin Edith.

I even know a man—George Jessel, the comedian—who commutes weekly between New York and Hollywood because he has jobs in both places.

Remember when a food company flew a planeload of guests to Paris, mostly for one dinner? They had time for a little sightseeing, a little shopping and got back home after a European weekend and missing only one day at the office.

For weeks I've been carrying a clipping with a Washington dateline that told how the five top men of the country from the President through the secretary of state were all out of the capital that day.

The reason I cut out the clipping was to remind myself, not that some of them ought to have stayed at home, but that any one of them, even those in Europe and Asia, could get back to Washington in a matter of hours. Their bodies, that is.

Girl Wants to Attract 'Shy' Boy

But This Lad Has Nice Steady Date at Another School

By ELIZABETH WOODWARD

Dear Miss Woodward: I like a boy in my school who is going steady with a nice girl who goes to another school. He is very bashful. He walks down the hall looking straight ahead — which means he never looks my way.

I'm bashful myself, so without seeming forward, how could I get him interested enough in me to date me? I think he is my type and we would get along fine once we got over that big hump of getting acquainted.

"What would you think of me inviting him to a formal dance to which his girl's school is not allowed? Or even one to which girls from her school could be invited?"

Chances are slim. He's already going steady. His girl is nice. He doesn't pay any attention to the girls in your school because he's preoccupied with the girl he already has.

You think he's being bashful. It might be that he's completely indifferent. In which case you could fall flat on your noggin in front of him to attract his attention — and he'd pick you up, dust you off and never see you.

If there's a dance at school to which he could invite anyone he wanted, chances are he'd invite his own girl. And if it's a closed dance, chances are he wouldn't invite anybody. Chances are he wouldn't even want to go.

But why not take advantage of even a slim chance? If there's a girl-ask-boy affair at school that's closed to outsiders, take a chance he might want to go badly enough to accept an invitation from a girl at school.

And since he doesn't seem to know any of the other girls any better than he does you—your invitation might just be the one he'd accept.

"Dear Miss Woodward: Jack likes me but I don't like him — I like his best friend, Ted, instead. For weeks now I've been trying to give Jack hints that I don't like him, but he just won't take them.

"How am I going to make myself clear to him? And even more important, how am I supposed to let Ted know I like him?"

Chances of snipping off Jack are really very good. All you have to do is be utterly disagreeable, temperamental, uncomplimentary and nasty. You can hurt his feelings very quickly and get rid of him for good.

But it won't necessarily follow that Ted will take his place. After watching or hearing about the shredding treatment you inflict on his pal Jack, Ted's not likely to want any part of you, even if he hears that it was all in his behalf. He's not likely to add insult to injury by profiting by his pal's defeat.

Chances are you'll only be seeing Ted so long as you're nice to Jack. But then too there's the chance that Jack will stop liking you and start liking some other girl.

The you'll get your chance to make a real play for the real hero of this plot.

Dye White Gloves for Winter Use

White summer shortie gloves are seldom fresh enough to be used the next year. Here's a good way to make them fashion right for fall and winter wardrobes.

With all-purpose dye, dye them pastel colors — gold, pale blue, light green. With darker embroidery thread, cross stitch or feather stitch a design from the tip of the little finger to the wrist.

Most people believe in gold bricks — especially after they get the estimate on a new house.

Try It

Use Indoor Chinning Bar

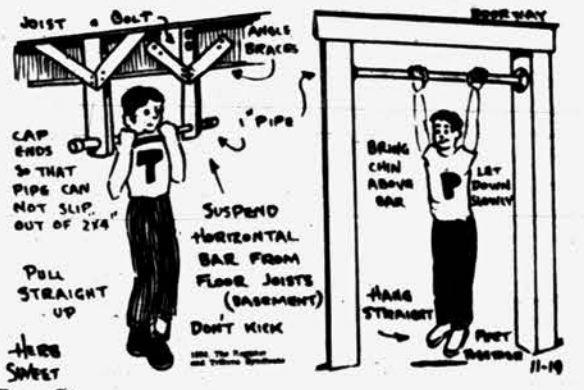

Would you like to have an indoor activity for bad weather? In fact, I hope that you have lots of indoor things to do, some active and some which can be done for quiet time.

This indoor chinning bar can be fun for you and your friends, and it is an activity which you can use time after time to improve your chinning skill, says Jerry Coolman.

This can be put down in your basement very easily. Suspend horizontal bars from the floor joists and add angle braces. These should be bolted up instead of nailed, for they must be put up so that they will be solid.

The bar can then be slipped through two holes bored in the bottom part of these two sections. The ends of this pipe bar should be capped so that the bar cannot slip out. You can find the pipe and ends at any plumber's.

If you have a doorway which is not used often, a pipe bar can be put up in it. Of course this method can only be used if the bar is high enough so that it can be walked under.

Questions Table Action by Friend

Doubts Propriety of Using Water Ice to Cool Coffee

By EMILY POST

A reader asks my opinion of an incident which occurred while she was lunching with a friend. She says: "I have always looked up to this person for her fine manners but she did something the other day that I would never think of doing and therefore I question its propriety.

"She lifted a partially melted piece of ice out of her water glass and put it in her coffee to cool it. Will you please tell me if this is considered good table manners?"

Answer: A little piece of ice lifted out with a fresh teaspoon is certainly no great error.

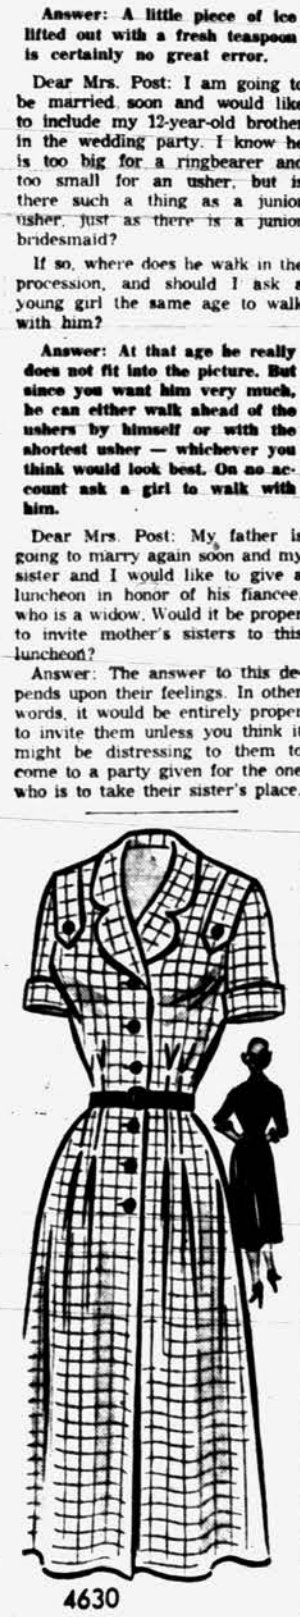

Dear Mrs. Post: I am going to be married soon and would like to include my 12-year-old brother in the wedding party. I know he is too big for a ringbearer and too small for an usher, but is there such a thing as a junior usher, just as there is a junior bridesmaid?

If so, where does he walk in the procession, and should I ask a young girl the same age to walk with him?

Answer: At that age he really does not fit into the picture. But since you want him very much, he can either walk ahead of the ushers by himself or with the shortest usher — whichever you think would look best. On no account ask a girl to walk with him.

Dear Mrs. Post: My father is going to marry again soon and my sister and I would like to give a luncheon in honor of his fiancee, who is a widow. Would it be proper to invite mother's sisters to this luncheon?

Answer: The answer to this depends upon their feelings. In other words, it would be entirely proper to invite them unless you think it might be distressing to them to come to a party given for the one who is to take their sister's place.

Manners MAKE FRIENDS

There are some things a woman of charm just doesn't discuss with her friends. In this classification are: Her husband's income, her mother-in-law's faults, family squabbles, or how much she contributes to the family income.

Private business is kept private by women of charm and graciousness.

Whether the plan for the day includes transplanting, painting or minor carpentry, jeans and short-sleeve shirts win top honors with young do-it-yourself workers.

Wife Should Stop Regarding Failure of Husband's Business as a Disgrace

By ANNE HEYWOOD

Vera J.'s husband, Donald, had set up a small store of his own when he got out of the Army.

"He did it with a GI loan," she told me, "and that shop really meant a great deal to him. It was in the food line—delicacies—and he loved it.

"But because of a great many external factors, it hasn't worked out. Now he has liquidated it, which was a great blow, of course.

"We're in debt—but not terribly so, and he was lucky enough to get a good job with a food company starting next week.

"But he is so depressed, and of course our friends hate to mention the whole business, and what I want to know is, how can I help him over this difficult period?"

First of all, I told her, she must stop thinking of it as a great tragedy. He tried his hand at a thing, and it didn't work out, so he is trying his hand at another which may.

In fact, she and her husband both might look through a volume called "Who's Who in Commerce and Industry," to see how many, many of the country's most successful business leaders have in their pasts attempted projects which failed.

There is nothing disgraceful about failing, and only when she gets that through her head can she really begin to help her husband.

He has learned a great deal in the experience with his shop, and will go into his new job far better qualified than he might otherwise be.

It reminds me of a wonderful and timeless thing which Emerson said in his essay on Self-Reliance.

I have a new edition of Emerson, with a special introduction by Irwin Edman, which was brought out this year in honor of the 150th anniversary of Emerson's birth. And every day, I find myself urging it on people with vocational problems, because he treated so many of them better than they have ever been treated since.

Take this quotation, for example, as an answer to Vera J. and her husband: "If our young men miscarry in their first enterprises, they lose all heart. If the young merchant fails, men say he is ruined.

"If the finest genius studies at one of our colleges and is not installed in an office within one year, it seems to his friends and to himself that he is right in being disheartened and in complaining the rest of his life.

"And yet, a sturdy lad from New Hampshire or Vermont, who in turn tries all the professions, who teams it, farms, peddles, keeps a school, preaches, edits a newspaper, goes to Congress, buys a township, and so forth . . . is worth a hundred of these city dolls."

The moral is: The best thing a wife can do to help a husband when his venture fails is to make an effort not to give him special treatment which will make him feel that he is no longer a member of the human race.

Nice going, Petunia! A sheet of foil under the chops will catch drips and it's easier to clean — or throw away — than a drip pan.

BISHOP-BRACKEN

The short harem skirt is for the thin model. Better is a long white-to-gray snowflake print, neat torso, narrow self belt and modified full skirt.

Miss C.—Prints have much more importance as holiday formals this year, and the big resort fashion story is of prints. Conversation prints such as the snowflake pattern developed in gray and white—a slimming combination.

Old Mattresses Often Ineffective

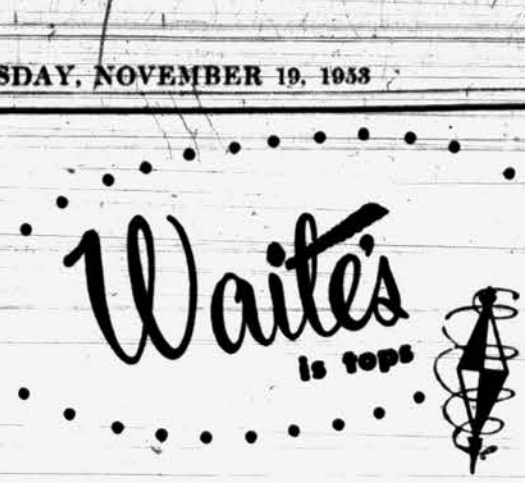

No one would think of driving a 1937 car if he could afford a later model, although there may be days when he doesn't even climb behind the steering wheel. Yet, according to statistics, one out of every five people in the United States today is using a 16-year-old mattress at an eight-hour stretch daily.

Even top quality bedding is not guaranteed to last a life time. Yet, obsolete bedding still is being used in many homes simply because no one thought to replace it.

To provide a good night's sleep that enables all of one's tired muscles to relax, a level, resilient mattress and bedspring combination is a must.

It's Time to Talk Turkey for Thanksgiving Feasting

By JANET ODELL

Shall we talk a bit aoout poultry? Although fowl has become a year-round food, we all seem more interested in it at holiday time.

There are plenty of chickens and turkeys to satisfy the tremendous demand. For instance, a billion broilers are sent to market each year. You might consider broiled chicken for something different on your Thanksgiving table.

It's good news to know that growers are tailoring the birds to meet the demands of the customers. Time was when the only turkey you could buy simply overflowed the apartment-size stove, and you had to eat left-over fowl for days and days. It was a discouraging situation.

Nowadays, the young bride coping with her first Thanksgiving dinner can buy a miniature turkey weighing some 3 or 4 pounds. These birds are available throughout the year and were popular last summer for outdoor broiling.

Be sure to follow the directions on the package when you cook these little turkeys. They take more time proportionately than do the larger birds.

Women object to pinfeathers on turkeys. So the growers have developed a bird that matures rapidly and doesn't have the pinfeathers. They have developed a turkey with more white and less dark meat, just to please the public.

Remember when you are buying turkey to buy 1½ pounds of drawn weight per person; for 10 people you would buy a dressed turkey that weighed 15 pounds. This will give you good first-day servings with enough left over to keep the nibblers happy.

We know there won't be anyone around here who will do what one homemaker we heard of recently did. When her husband brought a frozen turkey home from the office—a present from the boss—she roasted it, plastic wrapping and all.

The plastic melted into the gravy. The woman frantically called the newspaper food editor, who suggested she skin the bird and not use the gravy. Later the editor found out the melted plastic was harmless.

We'll be thinking of all of you next Thursday enjoying a truly American dish of custom-grown fowl (unwrapped!), perfectly roasted and served with all the traditional trimmings. Happy eating!

Deviled Flank Steak Economical, Savory

An up-to-the-minute tip to the homemaker who makes it her business to know good meat buys is to buy beautiful, bountiful beef.

Another tip is to get acquainted with flank steak. Here's a hint for cooking flank steak — cut it into individual servings and prepare like this:

Deviled Flank Steak

1 flank steak
2 tablespoons flour
1½ teaspoons salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
1 teaspoon dry mustard
1½ teaspoons Worcestershire sauce

Have meat man score flank steak; cut into four pieces. Combine flour, salt, pepper and dry mustard; pound into steak using a meat pounder or the edge of a heavy saucer. Brown on all sides in a little hot fat.

Mix Worcestershire sauce with one-half cup water; add to meat. Cover and cook over low heat until tender, about two hours, adding more water as needed. Four servings.

Zip up the homey flavor of pork chops with a quick shaking of poultry seasoning before cooking according to your favorite method.

Crispy Almonds Dress Up Yams

A wonderful way to serve yams is to bake and stuff them, adding crisp little bits of toasted blanched almonds.

You can bake the yams right in the oven with the turkey if you have room; or you may bake and stuff them ahead of time, refrigerate them and then reheat.

Baked Stuffed Yams

4 medium size yams
¼ cup butter or margarine
½ cup milk
½ cup chopped toasted almonds
1 teaspoon salt

Wash yams thoroughly; bake in slow oven for one hour or until tender. Cut baked yams in half lengthwise; scoop potato from shells.

Mash with butter and milk. Add chopped toasted almonds and salt, mix well. Pile yam mixture into shells; place on broiler rack.

Broil 3 to 4 inches from source of heat about five minutes or until lightly browned. Top with whole toasted almonds, if desired.

Michigan Beans Will Help Deck Foreign Tables

This winter, unknown numbers of families in foreign countries will sit down to a dinner of navy bean soup or baked beans made with the little pea bean harvested on Michigan farms this fall.

Nearly four million 1-pound cellophane bags of beans are Michigan's current contribution to the foreign aid program.

And every pound adds up to eight servings of baked beans or 12 servings of hearty bean soup.

High in nutritive value, the navy beans will be included in the holiday packages leaving the United States.

The packages are the same well-known Michigan brands of beans found in our own grocery stores and supermarkets and carry recipes on ways to cook them.

Two Efficient Ways of Peeling Tomatoes

There are two efficient ways to peel tomatoes when you want to use them in a salad, sauce, casserole or other dish. One is to dip the tomatoes into boiling water for about a minute, then dip at once into cold water before removing the skin with a small sharp knife.

The other is to run a fork into a tomato, hold it under cold water to wet it, then rotate it over the flame of your range until the skin bursts; dip into cold water immediately and peel.

Pimiento Stuffing Glorifies Turkey

SAVORY PIMIENTO STUFFING—Turkey days are here again. Celebrate the holidays with turkey garnished a new way—with pimiento cups filled with buttered cauliflower and sprigged with parsley. The dressing is savory pimiento stuffing, southern style.

Bird Garnished With Gay Cups

Savory Dressing Fixed in Old Southern Style to Doll Up Roast Fowl

This season why not trot out Squire Turkey with stuffing that's a trifle different and dolled up with a gay, new garnish. This old-fashioned savory pimiento stuffing has a flavor that is perfect with fowl and has long been a favorite with Old South cooks.

The bright pimiento cups filled with cauliflower and garnished with parsley are a colorful part of a meal that is, from start to finish, planned to be filling but not (pardon the pun) stuffing.

Savory Pimiento Stuffing and Mr. Turkey

1½ cups milk
5 cups stale breadcrumbs
4 cups crumbled cornbread
1 cup stock or bouillon cubes
4-ounce can of pimiento, chopped
1 cup chopped celery
½ cup chopped onion
¼ cup melted butter or margarine
2 teaspoons poultry seasoning

Pour milk over stale bread crumbs and pour stock over cornbread. Let stand three to five minutes. Then mix all ingredients together. Add salt and pepper as needed. This is enough for 12-pound turkey.

Thaw turkey if frozen. Wipe inside and out. Rub well with salt. Stuff bird cavities loosely. Close openings with skewers.

Place fowl, breast side up, in 325-degree oven. Roast 12-pound bird from 3 to 3½ hours. Cover bird with two layers of cheesecloth soaked in unsalted fat.

This dressing is delicious baked in greased pan at 450 degrees for 25 minutes. Add two beaten eggs if it is cooked outside bird.

Pimiento Cups to Garnish Turkey

Break cauliflower into flowerettes and steam in salted water until just tender. Season with butter or margarine. Make cups of whole pimientos and place cauliflower in them.

Just before serving, run them into the oven until heated through. Garnish with paprika and parsley.

Spicy Apple Eggnog Healthful, Delicious

Treat the children to a delicious and nutritious drink. We think even the grownups will like this eggnog drink.

Spicy Apple Eggnog

3 eggs, separated
¼ cup sugar
Dash of salt
½ teaspoon cinnamon
Dash of nutmeg
¾ cup chilled apple juice
4 cups milk
½ cup cream, whipped

Combine egg yolks, sugar, salt and spices, and beat well. Add apple juice and milk, blend. Fold in stiffly beaten egg whites. Turn into cold glass. Top with whipped cream and sprinkle of nutmeg.

To serve hot, scald milk separately. Combine first six ingredients as indicated. Then pour hot milk on egg yolk mixture, stirring to blend. Quickly fold in stiffly beaten egg whites and serve at once in heated mugs or cups.

If stick cinnamon is used for stirring, omit cinnamon from ingredients. Top with whipped cream if desired. Serves six in eggnog cups.

Milk Keeps 6 Weeks in Home Freezer

EAST LANSING (UP)—Michigan State College researchers here say whole milk can be kept in the average home freezer for as long as six weeks.

Two MSC scientists, G. M. Trout and J. C. Boyd stored milk in paper containers in deep freezers for extended periods, varying the temperatures, times and types of milk.

They found that homogenized and pasteurized milk stored at 20 degrees below zero kept its flavor at six weeks. They also found out that milk stored at under 33 degrees above zero in an ordinary refrigerator from two to six weeks keeps well.

Unusual Vegetable Dish

Place 2 cups cooked sliced onions, 1½ cups cooked celery cut in 1 inch pieces, in layers in buttered 1½ quart casserole. Add 1½ cups medium cream sauce, stirring to mix vegetables; top with buttered crumbs. Bake in moderate oven 350 F. about 25 minutes or until browned. Serves 6.

City Homemakers Need Milk for Beauty and Vigor

Drinking two to three glasses of milk each day is perhaps the best health practice city homemakers can adopt, according to Milton Hult, president of the National Dairy Council, Chicago.

"A recent survey by the Bureau of Human Nutrition and Home Economics of the U. S. Department of Agriculture indicates that the average city homemaker's diet runs low in two important nutrients—calcium and riboflavin," Hult says.

"Milk is a major and economical source of these nutrients," he says, "and should certainly be consumed in adequate amounts each day if adult women wish to maintain youthful beauty and vigor."

The survey showed that adult women in four major U. S. cities were only getting about half as much calcium as they need.

"An investment of about 6 cents per glass of milk ought to make sense to most women along with other expenditures they make to enhance appearance and health," Hult states.

The survey referred to by Hult was conducted by the Department of Agriculture in four cities—Birmingham, Buffalo, Minneapolis-St. Paul and San Francisco. The women studied showed a daily fare surprisingly low in calories—only 1,780.

Hult observed: "This suggests that city women may be placing particular emphasis on the number of calories they consume in an effort to control weight.

"It's true, the total calories you consume in proportion to the activities you engage in are a factor in weight control. But under no condition, should anyone place blind faith in calorie counting without regard to food choice. The number of calories you consume reveals little in terms of the nutritional value of your food."

Lamb Shanks Thrifty

Lamb shanks are thrifty and easy to cook. Just brown them in a little fat in a Dutch oven with a clove of garlic; add a small amount of water and simmer until the meat is tender—an hour or two, depending on the size of the shanks. Thicken the gravy if desired and serve over rice.

Ham Applesauce, Eggplant Combined

You can prepare this casserole early in the morning and then forget it until close to mealtime. Popped into the oven for a quick bake, it emerges all savory aroma and appetizing heartiness. You just couldn't give your family a better tasting dish!

Scalloped Ham, Applesauce and Eggplant

1 medium eggplant
1 large onion, chopped
¼ cup butter or margarine
1 cup canned applesauce
1 pound (2 cups) sliced cooked ham
½ teaspoon sage
¼ teaspoon salt
1 cup soft buttered bread crumbs (or bread cubes)

Pare eggplant; slice. Cook in boiling salted water until tender. Drain thoroughly; chop. Saute onion in butter or margarine until light brown. Combine eggplant, onion, applesauce, ham, sage and salt.

Pour into 1½-quart casserole. Top with crumbs or bread cubes. Bake in moderately hot oven, 375, 25 minutes. Yields four to six servings.

Combine shredded carrot with pineapple cubes and serve on lettuce. Add a bit of your favorite salad dressing if you want it. Simple—good!

Steaming Apple Juice Will Delight Children

A steaming hot (and fragrant) beverage to delight the children when they come in from school is apple juice, heated to the bubble, served in cups and dusted with nutmeg. Cookies are good with this.

Another variation is apple juice, chilled thoroughly, mixed half-and-half with milk and served in tall glasses to be sipped through straws as a party-like touch.

Plan New Type X-Ray

HART AP — The new Oceana County hospital under construction here will have what Supt. Raymond Hotvedt says is the first ceiling-mounted X-ray unit in the state.

Research Reason Given for Certain Oleo Prices

Many housewives must often wonder, as we did, why there is such a wide price range for margarine.

We took the time one day to read the labels on every brand of margarine in a supermarket. They all said the same thing.

To get the best answer to our question about price, we wrote to the National Association of Margarine Manufacturers.

Mrs. Clara Gebhard Snyder, consumer service consultant, promptly replied as follows:

As with almost all other foods, there have always been two general price levels for margarine. Those in the higher-price range are usually the ones made and sold by firms that have large investments in research facilities and staff.

They subject all ingredients for margarine, as well as the margarine itself to laboratory research and to many technical tests.

The entire margarine-making process is constantly "researched," so that the finished product benefits from all the most recent developments in the chemistry of fats and oils, in processing, packaging and handling methods.

The result is topnotch margarine quality which shows up in flavor, texture, spreading quality and freshness.

All margarine is, of course, made to comply with the Definition and Standard of Identity for Margarine as set forth by the United States Food and Drug Administration.

This is also true of the lower-price margarines, which in the trade are called "private label goods." That is, they are margarines made for distributors whose own brand name appears on the package.

These margarines do not bear the cost of research and advertising to the same extent that the higher-price margarines do.

There seems to be a definite difference of opinion among consumers as regards margarine. Some insist on the higher-priced brands, while some find satisfaction in the use of lower-price private label brands.

Diesel Rolls Over Man Sleeping on RR Tracks

GREENVILLE, S.C. AP—Henry Hagood is a skinny guy. It probably saved his life.

He was convicted of drunkenness and trespassing after a diesel locomotive rolled over him as he lay between the tracks.

Hagood told the judge he didn't remember anything about it.

Pastor Leaves Chicago

HOLLAND AP — Dr. Raymond Van Heukelem, pastor of Immanuel Reformed Church, Chicago, for the past six years, has accepted a call to the First Reformed Church here. He will succeed Dr. Bastian Kruithoff who left Holland to study in Scotland.

Bucks Wait at Home, Fool Distant Travelers

ALLEGAN AP — Every year at deer hunting season this happens to somebody — the traveler comes home empty-handed, the stay-at-homes get the venison.

Donald Schultz traveled north 150 miles, got nothing. Neighbor Herman Oisten and fellow worker Donald Graham each got a buck within a few miles of Allegan.

SWEET WHEAT WAFERS—These crisp cookies are made with the newest addition to the sugar-coated cereals, sugar-coated puffed wheat. They are quickly and easily made and should delight the small fry for after-school snacks.

Does that lemonade pitcher and those tumblers look muggy? Just soak them in warm water in which a little baking soda has been dissolved, then wash as usual and your glassware will gleam.

Sugary Cereal Crisps Cookies

A new ready-to-eat cereal, sugar-coated puffed wheat, in circus clown packages, is now on your grocery shelves. Children and adults alike will enjoy this new addition to the pre-sweetened cereal line, both for breakfast with milk or cream . . , or as a snack eaten right from the package.

You can also use it in a simple cookie that will add interest to any tea table.

So try the new sugar-coated puffed wheat with the new taste appeal.

Sweet Wheat Wafers

1 cup sifted flour
½ teaspoon soda
½ teaspoon salt
½ cup butter or margarine
¼ cup brown sugar
1 egg
½ teaspoon vanilla
2 cups sugar-coated puffed wheat
½ cup chopped nutmeats

Sift together flour, soda and salt. Blend butter and sugar; add egg and vanilla and beat well. Stir in sifted dry ingredients. Fold in cereal and nutmeats.

Drop by teaspoonfuls onto greased baking sheets; flatten slightly with fork. Bake in moderate oven (350) about 12 minutes. Makes about three dozen cookies, three inches in diameter.

No Bust, Says Teacher

DETROIT AP — A Harvard professor believes unemployment will not be serious in the next 12 months and adds, "There cannot be another 1929 collapse of business in my opinion." Dean Donald David of the Harvard Graduate School of Business spoke to the public relations Society of America in convention here.

Give New Look to Vegetables

Put a little extra fun in your Thanksgiving dinner this year with some "new look" treatments of the traditional Thanksgiving vegetables.

Fall's plentiful fresh vegetables have always been as much a part of Thanksgiving as the turkey, but that doesn't mean we have to keep serving them in the same ways each year. Gentle touches of variety will help keep this wonderful tradition alive.

First, the good fresh vegetable buys for Thanksgiving this year: Turnips are at peak of season during November, as are sweet potatoes and Brussels sprouts. As usual winter squash, broccoli and cauliflower are in good supply.

And these fall items are backed up by such year-around plentifuls as snap beans, beets, carrots, spinach, cabbage, onions, celery and mushrooms.

Most of us will choose three or more of these vegetables for Thanksgiving, in keeping with the bountiful tradition. When you choose, make sure you take both green leaf and yellow vegetables. We need both types for balanced nutrition.

Incidentally, you might give special attention to sweet potatoes. This is one of the most complete foods known, energy and vitamin-rich and containing good quantities of minerals. Civil War troops found they could live indefinitely on sweet potatoes alone.

Pork Hocks Good, Easy on the Budget

With pork supplies on the increase, favorite pork dishes are making their dinner debuts. One old-fashioned pork dish which goes easy on the budget is pork hocks.

Cooked to juicy tenderness, with subtle touches of just-right seasonings, pork hocks can't be beat for a fall or winter dinner.

Savory Pork Hocks

Brown fresh pork hocks in a little hot fat; sprinkle with salt and add one-half teaspoon thyme, one-fourth teaspoon sage; one-fourth teaspoon savory and several peppercorns.

Add one large onion, sliced, and one cup of water. Cover and simmer over low heat until meat is very tender, about two hours. Add more water as needed during cooking.

Accentuate the Flavor

"Accentuate the flavor," that's what honey does when used in cooking raisins or dried figs, prunes or pears to be used on cereal. For example: honey-raisins on oatmeal. Umm!

WHEAT GERM REFRIGERATOR ROLLS—Fresh, home-baked rolls are even better made with wheat germ. They have a fine, light texture, plus wheat germ's nutty flavor and extra nutritive value. Start them ahead of time and serve them fresh from the oven.

Rolls Owe Nutty Flavor to Nutritious Wheat Germ

These delicious, nutty-flavored hot rolls were displayed at the Food Editors' Conference. All who sampled them agreed that they were delicious. Try them soon.

Wheat Germ Refrigerator Rolls

2 packages dry yeast
½ cup lukewarm water
1½ cup milk
⅓ cup sugar
1 tablespoon salt
¼ cup shortening
1 egg, well beaten
4 cups sifted all-purpose flour
1 cup wheat germ

Dissolve yeast in lukewarm water; stir. Scald milk. In a large bowl, combine scalded milk, sugar, salt, shortening; stir until shortening is melted. Cool to lukewarm. Stir in yeast mixture. Add egg and 2 cups flour; beat until smooth. Stir in remaining flour and wheat germ.

Turn dough into greased bowl, brush top lightly with melted shortening. Cover; store in refrigerator at least two hours, or overnight.

To use, punch down, cut off amount needed. Form clover leaf rolls or desired shape. Brush with melted shortening. Cover with clean towel.

Let rise in warm place, free from drafts, until doubled in bulk. Bake in hot oven (400) about 15 minutes. Makes about two dozen rolls.

Removes Icebox Odors

To prevent food odors in your refrigerator, wash the interior with a solution of two tablespoons of baking soda to one quart of water. Rinse with clear warm water and wipe dry.

Give Carrots Flavor

Give carrots special flavor! After they are cooked and drained, season them with salt, sugar, butter or margarine, minced parsley and lemon juice; reheat, stirring a few times, until all flavors mingle.

Wash Top of Cans

When you are feeding baby special canned foods, make sure that you wash the top of the can under warm water and dry with a paper towel before you apply the can opener. And be quite certain that your can opener is clean, too!

Self-Sealing Wax Paper Good Appliance Cover

Use self-sealing waxed paper to make covers for your small electric appliances such as a mixer, orange juice squeezer, blender, coffee grinder, toaster or waffle iron. Cut the paper in two pieces that are the shape of the appliance, then simply seal the top edges of the halves and slip the cover over.

Thrifty and easy to make, these covers may be changed when necessary, and they'll keep soil and dust off your handy electric kitchen aids.

Slice Franks in Half

For a clever frankfurter serving, cut franks nearly through lengthwise and top with mashed potatoes. Slip them under your broiler to heat through and to give the potatoes a golden tinge.

ASPARAGUS WITH NUTS—Dress up that dish of frozen asparagus cuts and tips with crunchy, tasty peanuts or almonds.

The result is a good-to-look-at contrast of soft and crisp; of green and pale amber. At any rate, it's good eating.

Handy Chart Shows Cook Amount of Stuffing to Use

Do you sometimes wonder just how much stuffing you will need to fill that bird? We think this chart will be of help to you in your marketing.

Dry ingredients may be prepared and measured ahead of time and kept at room temperature. Liquid and perishable ingredients should be refrigerated. At the last moment combine the two types of ingredients, fill the bird, truss and roast immediately.

Asparagus Gets French Accent

This is that super-de-luxe dish with a French accent. The flavor of the browned nuts combined with garden fresh frozen asparagus cuts and tips will be sensational in mid-winter.

Your family and your friends will sing your praises to the sky!

1 package frozen asparagus cuts & tips
2 tablespoons butter
½ cup salted peanuts or slivered almonds
¼ teaspoon salt

Drop solidly frozen asparagus cuts and tips into one-third cup boiling water with one-half teaspoon salt. Gently separate with fork. Bring to full second boil. Cover, lower heat and cook five to seven minutes or until plumpest pieces are tender. Drain.

Brown two tablespoons of butter in a little pan slowly until it begins to turn dark and takes on a nutty fragrance. Add two teaspoons vinegar or lemon juice, pour over asparagus and sprinkle with salted peanuts or slivered almonds which have been lightly browned in butter. Serves three to four.

Low-Calorie Snack

If you are reducing, try this for a mid-morning snack and pick-up, or for a first course at lunch or dinner. Put about a cup and a half of canned tomato juice in a small saucepan, sprinkle an envelope of unflavored gelatin over the juice and stir well. Place over moderate heat and stir until the gelatin dissolves and tomato juice is hot. Nice to drink!

Harrelson Case Is Adjourned

Defer Examination on Negligence Charge Till Dec. 2

The examination of Leaun Harrelson Jr., 18, of 26 Delaware Dr., on a negligent homicide charge was adjourned to Dec. 2 yesterday by Pontiac Judge Maurice E. Finnegan.

Five persons were called to testify by Chief Assistant Prosecutor George F. Taylor, who requested adjournment when four witnesses were unable to appear for the hearing.

Mrs. Eugene D. Carey of 405 W. Iroquois Rd., a Baldwin teacher, testified that she and her husband were approaching Cherokee Rd. and W. Huron St. when she saw two autos moving toward Mrs. Veda H. Coon, 37, of 49 Dwight Ave., who died after being struck by Harrelson's car.

She said the woman "stood perfectly still in the middle of the street" after she started crossing Huron. She was unable to identify the auto, (through a photograph), which allegedly hit Mrs. Coon.

Pontiac Patrolmen Herbert C. Cooley and James Ockerman both stated that skid marks measured 84 feet in the 30 mile per hour zone.

After the case was adjourned, Judge Finnegan decided to continue the hearing in the afternoon since one witness present was not called to testify. Ronald C. McElroy of 92 Oliver St. was heard after he complained that he was told to wait "until I was called."

He said that he was driving his auto Oct. 9 on Huron Street when he saw another auto crowding Mrs. Coon. Suddenly, he said, the oncoming car struck her, hurling her body into the air. Deputy Corner Dr. Edward Collins said Mrs. Coon suffered a fractured skull, two broken legs and a broken pelvis bone.

Those scheduled to testify Dec. 2 are Sgt Clayton Randolph, of Traffic and Accident Bureau, Eugene D. Carey who is expected to be released from a hospital next week, and Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Brown of 3840 Elizabeth Lake Rd.

Taylor asked Judge Finnegan to extend the adjournment date one week beyond the scheduled hearing if he is required to appear at an extradition case in California about Dec. 4.

ONE-HOUR OVEN MENU—Cooking the whole meal in the oven is a timesaver for busy housewives, you know. The menu shown here consists of baked ham slice, Sweet Potato Volcanoes, green beans and old-fashioned rice pudding. Spiced peaches add good looks and taste to the platter.

'Volcanoes' Add Color to Meal

In this suggested oven meal everything but the Sweet Potato Volcanoes is put in the oven at once. The potatoes are added for the last 20 minutes of baking. Gingersnap crumbs give them that special flavor.

Sweet Potato Volcanoes

2 cups cooked or canned mashed sweet potatoes
7 gingersnaps, finely rolled (½ cup crumbs)
4 marshmallows

Divide mashed sweet potatoes into four balls; roll in gingersnap crumbs. Place on greased baking sheet; set a marshmallow into each ball. Bake in moderate oven at 350 degrees for 20 minutes. Serves four.

Even the frozen green beans can be cooked in the oven. Put them in a covered baking dish with two tablespoons butter or margarine, no water, and let them cook one hour with the rest of the meal.

Michigan State Police Plans Recruit School

EAST LANSING (UP) — Michigan State Police will conduct their first recruit school in two years sometime after Jan. 1 State Police Commissioner Joseph A. Childs said today.

Childs said the State Civil Service Commission now is accepting applications from men who wish to join the force. Deadline for applying to take Civil Service examination is Dec. 2. Examinations will be held later in December in several areas throughout the state.

The commissioner said the school, which will be held here, will train between 20 and 30 men. Those who successfully complete the 16-week course become probationary troopers for six months before gaining regular status.

Sardines Spark Party Snacks

Suitable for parties, but very easy to prepare are canapes and sandwich spreads made with sardines. Serve these stuffed eggs before the Thanksiving dinner. You might file the recipe away for further holiday entertaining.

Stuffed Eggs Olaf

1 can sardines
6 hard cooked eggs
1 teaspoon mayonnaise
½ teaspoon of India relish (to taste)
Salt and pepper
Pimento strips

Hard-cook the eggs and let cool. Remove shells, cut eggs in half lengthwise and scoop out the yolks. Mix piccalilli or India relish and mayonnaise with the yolks. Season to taste.

Stuff the eggs with this mixture, top each egg half with a whole sardine and decorate with crisscross strips of red pimento. Serve on a bed of chopped parsley or lettuce leaves.

Another tasty canape made with sardines is given below.

Sardine Cucumber Canape

Place two whole sardines on a triangular slice of buttered pumpernickel bread which has been lightly spread with mayonnaise. Top with one-half slice of cucumber (unpeeled) and decorate with a small strip of pimento.

Add a little mayonnaise, finely grated onion and a dash of Worcestershire sauce to a yellow cheese spread, spread over hot hamburgers just before serving.

STUFFED EGGS OLAF—Among the pleasures America has received from the Scandinavian countries are their excellent sardines. This recipe makes use of the little fish as garnish for stuffed eggs. Pimento crosses add a festive red touch.

Color Makes Popcorn Extra Festive Treat

Is popcorn a favorite treat at your house? Of course it is! What could be easier to prepare, more festive to serve than a bowl of hot buttered, colored popcorn.

That's right, I said colored—for now you can buy popcorn that pops splashed with six bright colors. It is available in food stores throughout the country.

These busy days the question of "what to serve"—to friends who drop in for an evening of TV, or to the bobbysoxers who barge in after the football game, or for your 6-year-old's party—can be quite a problem, but not with colored popcorn.

It's a real eye-catcher, a conversation starter, and guaranteed to be the life of your party. And now that hot soup lunchtime is here again, why not serve popcorn as a complement instead of ordinary crackers?

Soup Combines Plentiful Foods

Potatoes are on the U.S. Department of Agriculture's list of plentiful foods right now. That is good news, after the near potato famine we had several years ago.

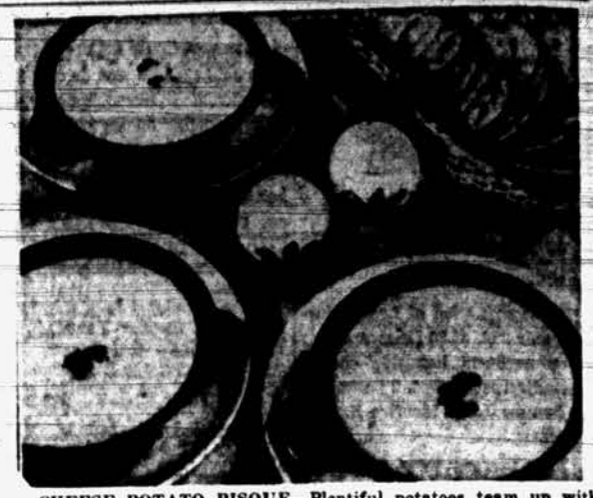

Cheese is another plentiful food, as well as nonfat dry milk. Put them all together and you'll have this delicious creamy soup.

Cheese Potato Bisque

2 cups diced potatoes
¼ cup chopped onion
¼ cup chopped parsley
2 teaspoons salt
Dash of pepper
¾ cup nonfat dry milk
2 cups water
2 tablespoons flour
¼ pound sharp processed cheese food, shredded

Cook potatoes, onion and parsley in water to cover, until tender. Drain; press through sieve. Combine salt, pepper and nonfat dry milk powder; sprinkle over surface of water. Beat with rotary beater just until blended.

Add to hot potato mixture. Add shredded cheese. Cook over low heat, stirring constantly, until cheese is melted. Serve at once. Makes four to 6 servings.

CHEESE POTATO BISQUE—Plentiful potatoes team up with another plentiful—economical nonfat dry milk—in this hearty and tasty cheese potato bisque. It's wonderful for a lunch dish, served with crackers and a tart fruit salad.

Reason for Prison

FLINT (AP)—Kenneth James Morgan, 24, was sent to prison as a parole violator, although police found no cause for action in the death of his infant daughter, Rowena. The child died of a skull fracture Nov. 9 which Morgan said resulted from a fall from a makeshift bed.

Older Folks Need Quality, Should Cut Food Quantity

Lucky is the person who likes a wide variety of foods, for his eating habits lay a foundation for physical vigor and health.

A variety of foods, such as meat (or poultry, fish, eggs, cheese), fruits, vegetables, milk and dairy products, and cereals are needed a lifetime.

True, the senior citizen doing less work than a younger person needs to cut the quantity of food he eats, but not the types.

One reason for malnutrition or poor diets of older people is faulty teeth. If food has been chewed poorly, the stomach has more work to do and discomfort will follow. Dental repairs thus become an investment in health.

But if faulty chewing is temporary or if it must be endured, a varied diet and the enjoyment of eating should still be maintained. It's a matter of changing the methods of preparation not the food.

Most senior citizens feel better if they get plenty of protein foods daily . . . meat, fish, poultry, milk, eggs, cheese.

If these must be easy to chew, the meat or chicken, for example, may be cut in small pieces and combined with potatoes, rice or noodles.

Cheese is easy to eat if finely divided or melted in cheese sauces for vegetables or if used in omelets. Fish and eggs are easy to chew and may be cooked in preferred ways.

A good share of the day's milk (2 cups a day for the senior citizen) can be used in soups, casserole dishes, puddings, with cereal or in egg nogs.

Cooked fruits and vegetables generally are easier to eat than fresh varieties. These may be chopped, mashed or strained. Canned vegetables and other foods chopped or ground for junior-age children are convenient.

Fruit juices may supply part of the day's fruit needs. Corn pudding made from cream style corn is easy to eat. Seeds and skins from tomatoes can be strained out if they bother.

All kinds of cooked cereals are suitable or dry cereals soaked in milk. Easy-to-eat desserts include custards, fruits, gelatines, and ice cream. All can be varied with different fruit sauces.

Has Respect for Hunter Who Brings Deer Home

VERMONTVILLE (AP)—It must be pretty hard for any hunter to kill a buck deer, according to Vernon Reed.

Reed said a deer smashed into his car while he was driving near Hastings, stuck his head and front legs through the windshield but still bounded away. He estimated damage to the car at $300.

California was originally called New Albion, a name given by Sir Francis Drake about 41 years prior to the landing of the first Pilgrims at Plymouth Rock.

'TWEEN MEAL SNACKS—Highly polished Delicious apples, Pinconning or Frankenmuth cheese, Roquefort, Swiss and Edam cheese—serve them with a basket of mixed crackers. Men especially enjoy this kind of snack.

Apples, Cheese Fine for Snacks

It's Thanksgiving Day. The turkey and all its trimmings were eaten hours ago. Someone is hungry again, but the cook groans at the thought of doing any more work in the kitchen.

This is the time to bring out cheese and crackers and fruit. Let those who wish make turkey sandwiches. Some of the family will be only too happy to munch cheese and crackers and bite into crisp, cold apples.

The apples we show happen to be Delicious. You serve the ones you prefer. Or serve pears and grapes. Your grocer's shelves will give you many ideas of what kinds of cheese and crackers to serve.

Arrange them on your prettiest tray or cheese plate, pile the fruit on one side and let everyone help himself.

Fruit, cheese and crackers are also a welcome dessert after a big meal.

Weight-conscious guests will appreciate this light touch.

Duncan Hines Calls Women Best Carvers

If you were to ask Duncan Hines, America's noted authority on good eating, what his favorite dish is, he would tell you, without hesitation, that turkey ranks right up there among his favorite dishes.

If you were to pursue the matter even further, you would find out that this famous gourmet would prefer to eat this turkey at home—in Bowling Green, Ky.

And Duncan Hines has some very definite ideas on how you should carve that holiday turkey. The author of "Adventures in Good Cooking and The Art of Carving in the Home" takes as much delight in carving the traditional bird as in eating it.

As to who makes the best carvers, he thinks that women do a good job of carving.

"Men," he observes, "carve in hunks. Women, who have a more delicate touch, usually carve nice even slices.

"Anyone can be a good carver," he says. "All it takes is attention, interest and following the fundamentals of carving. And, of course, a sharp knife. Be sure your knife is sharp. If it isn't, sharpen it."

Duncan Hines also has a word on the etiquette of a turkey dinner. "Don't be ashamed to ask for a second helping. It is the greatest compliment you can pay your hostess."

Specialties of British Isles Make Ingathering Unique

By JANET ODELL

Delicacies of the British Isles were served with coffee to the many women assembled last week for the Needlework Ingathering. The Queen Mary Section had charge of the food; its members were all born in the British Isles.

Although 20 or 30 years or more have passed since these women came to America, the ones we talked with still retain a delightful accent.

Coffee replaced the tea originally served with most of the cakes and other goodies but the spirit of hospitality has not lessened.

The beautifully set table was centered with an autumn bouquet in various shades of yellow. We didn't count the exact number of different baked products arranged around the flowers. There must have been about 20, at least.

Shortbread, that rich crumbly cookie, appeared in several forms. Some were decorated with candied fruits; others with a pricked design.

Scotch scones (pronounced "scons" we learned that day) oozed tempting bits of jam and butter.

We saw the jam jars in the kitchen and know they used imported British jams — and real butter. Butter and jam also topped the Scotch pancakes, made the size of tea cups.

It would have been difficult to decide which kind of coffee cake to eat; they all looked wonderful. One woman explained that the food was not supposed to be overly sweet, so the coffee cakes had just a taste of sugary frosting or some fruit within. Buttered dark, rich nutbread sandwiches shared the honors on that side of the table.

Tiny fluted tarts with a filling of currants, egg and sugar occupied one corner, while Lemon Cheese (or curd) tarts were placed nearby.

Little Welsh cakes, resembling miniature pancakes, were thickly studded with that favorite English fruit, the currant.

Each woman contributed her specialty. Some recipes were brought from "home" many years ago and have been a cherished part of life in America. Some have had to be adapted to American ingredients.

All the women were most gracious about sharing their recipes with us. We predict that as a result there may soon be a rash of British, Scotch and Welsh tea time treats in Pontiac homes.

You can start out by giving your family Morning Glory Coffee Cake, as baked by Mrs. John Newton, the president of the Queen Mary Section. Born in Kent, England, Mrs. Newton has lived in Pontiac for thirty-five years.

Morning Glory Coffee Cake

1 large orange, pulp and rind (save the juice)
1 cup seedless raisins
½ cup walnuts
2 cups flour
1 teaspoon soda
1 teaspoon salt
1 cup sugar
½ cup shortening
1 cup milk
2 eggs
½ cup sugar (for topping)
¼ cup chopped walnuts (for topping)
1 teaspoon cinnamon

Grind together the orange, raisins and walnuts. Sift flour, soda, salt, sugar, add shortening and ¾ cup milk. Beat until well blended, then beat for 2 minutes. Add unbeaten eggs and ¼ cup milk and again beat well. Fold in ground mixture. Put into well-greased and floured 12x8x2 pan and bake at 350 degrees for about 45 minutes. Take out of oven, pour orange juice over the cake while it is still warm. Mix the sugar, cinnamon and nuts together and sprinkle over cake at once.

• • •

Mrs. Peter Leonard made the Currant Tarts which are Scotch. She was married in Detroit and has lived nineteen years in Pontiac.

Currant Tarts

1 recipe for pastry
1 egg, slightly beaten
1 tablespoon melted butter or margarine
¾ cup sugar
1 teaspoon vanilla
1 cup washed currants.

Mix ingredients other than pastry in order given. Turn into pastry lined muffin tins. Bake at 400 degrees for 10 minutes, reduce the temperature to 300 degrees and bake for another 10 minutes. This makes about 9 tarts.

• • •

Welsh cakes are a delicacy to most Welsh families, said Mrs. Jack Hodges who made the ones for the Ingathering. Her mother, Mrs. Gertrude Williams, brought the recipe from Wales when she came to Pontiac thirty-two years ago. Mrs. Williams usually makes the cakes, but referred us to her daughter for the recipe this year.

Welsh Cakes

4 cups sifted flour
1½ cups sugar
1½ cups currants
1½ teaspoons baking powder
½ teaspoon salt
1½ cup shortening
2 eggs
Milk to moisten
Grated rind of 1 lemon, plus 1 teaspoon lemon extract

Mix all dry ingredients together, cut in shortening, add currants, sugar, eggs and just enough milk "to make it nice to roll out." Roll thin and cut with small round cutter. Bake on griddle or in iron frying pan. Watch the cakes closely, or they will get too brown. Grease the griddle lightly and keep the temperature even at medium heat. Makes about 7 dozen.

Relish Blends Cranberries With Banana

Here's another new combination. When you discover Chiq-Cran Relish is short for Chiquita-Cranberry, you'll guess cranberry and bananas are teamed in this one. Try this one as a relish and then as a salad. Both are wonderful.

Chiq-Cran Relish

1 pound can whole cranberry sauce
½ lemon, put through food chopper
1 diced banana

Combine ingredients in bowl. Chill and serve.

To make Chiq-Cran into a salad . . . soften 1 envelope unflavored gelatin in one-fourth cup water for two minutes. Add one-half cup boiling water to dissolve. Then stir dissolved gelatin into cranberry relish. Spoon into salad molds and chill until firm.

Cranberry Jubilee

1½ cups whole cranberry sauce
1 No. 1 can pitted Bing cherries (halved), drained . . . . 1 cup
1 tablespoon grated orange rind

Place cranberry sauce in bowl; with fork, break up; add cherries and orange rind; toss gently. Chill. Make eight servings.

Apples With Sausages

Everybody knows about canned apple slices for pie. . . but how about serving canned slices as a hot vegetable with pan-browned sausages! Such an easy dish to prepare, and really good. . . especially in brisk weather!

Cranberry Relish Also Makes Salad

Will you want a cranberry relish or a cranberry salad to serve with your Thanksgiving turkey? Today's recipes will make both.

These new cranberry relishes have just been discovered. They're perfect for the Thanksgiving relish dish. Then with a gelatin base they're quickly transformed into sparkling salads.

The first is a glistening cranberry almond relish that's ready in seconds. It's a mixture of three old favorites. Old-fashioned whole cranberry sauce, orange marmalade, blanched almonds! To make. . . .

Cranberry Almond Relish

1 pound can whole cranberry sauce
2 tablespoons orange marmalade
3 tablespoons lemon juice
½ cup blanched almonds, halved or chopped walnuts or pecans

Combine whole cranberry sauce, orange marmalade and lemon juice.

Blanch almonds and remove skins (better yet, use canned blanched almonds). Cut in halves. Cool. Stir into canned cranberry marmalade mixture. Serve well chilled. Makes 2 cups relish.

Now if you want a jellied cranberry salad. . . .

Use 1½ cups (instead of 2 cups) water in preparing strawberry or raspberry gelatin mixes. Chill until the mixture begins to jell. Then fold in the cranberry relish. Chill until firm.

Three Types of Cheddar

Cheddar cheese comes three ways—mild, medium and sharp. You can buy the wedge-shaped size you want from a large wheel; it also comes pre-packaged, rind-free and in an air-resistant wrapper. Serve it with salads, in sandwiches, in toppings for casserole dishes or soups, or as dessert with fresh fruit and nuts.

Reuse Tongue Broth

Save the water in which you simmer a smoked beef tongue and use it in making split pea soup. If there's a small portion of the tongue left over, dice it fine and add it to the soup when you serve it.

Skewered Franks Make Big Hit With Teenagers

The teen-age gang will love this dish for a supper roundup. Cut frankfurters in inch lengths and string them on skewers alternately with chunks of drained canned pineapple. Brush some of the syrup from the pineapple over both the frankfurters and the fruit, and broil until heated through.

Let the kids unload their individual skewers into toasted finger rolls, and have some prepared yellow mustard at hand.

Kitchens to Demand New Meat Lifters

Every homemaker planning to serve roast turkey for Thanksgiving or Christmas — or any other large roast, for that matter—will appreciate knowing about the newest thing in kitchen tools—a pair of giant curved forks for safe lifting of hot roasts, fowls or large steaks.

These practical "meat lifters" will be in frequent use in busy kitchens, wherever hot roasts have to be turned, lifted or transferred from pan or rack to serving dishes.

The curved shape of the wide-spaced tines makes it easy to slip them under heavy roasts safely and easily, without stabbing the meat and losing the rich juices. Each meat lifter is 11 inches long with tine spread 6 inches wide, to give safe support under large roasts or fowls when lifting from roaster to platter. The handles are of hard wood, finger-fitted and the right size for comfortable, secure grip.

From the enthusiasm of homemakers who use meat lifters, we predict that these practical new kitchen tools will soon be a "must" in every modern kitchen.

Offer Succulent Recipe for Broiling Fish Fillets

Here's an excellent basic method of broiling fish fillets or steaks. First brush the fish with melted butter or margarine or salad oil; sprinkle with a little lemon juice; dust with paprika.

Place on greased broiler or cookie sheet. Broil on one side only, avoiding very high heat, until fish is tender and can be easily flaked with a fork. The time will depend on the thickness of the fillets or fish steaks.

A vegetable brush has more than one reason for existence. Keep an extra one handy when you're washing up to remove cooked-on milk and eggs.

Fix Pork Steak in Fruity Sauce

A tasty pork cut to highlight your dinner menus is economical pork shoulder steaks.

Prepare them with the interesting flavor accent of apple juice, raisins and nutmeg. Here's the kitchen-tested recipe:

Fruity Pork Steaks

4 pork steaks
1 cup sliced onions
1½ cups apple juice
½ cup seedless raisins
Salt, pepper, nutmeg
2 tablespoons cornstarch

Trim some of the fat from edges of pork steaks and fry out in a heavy skillet; remove pieces. In the hot fat, brown pork steaks; remove and lightly brown onions.

Drain off fat. Return steaks to skillet, add apple juice and raisins. Sprinkle with salt, pepper and nutmeg. Cover and simmer over low heat one hour, or until meat is tender. Remove meat.

Mix cornstarch to a smooth paste with 2 tablespoons cold water. Add to liquid and cook, stirring constantly, until thickened. Season to taste. Serve steaks with fluffy rice topped with some of the sauce. Four servings.

FIRST COURSE OR DESSERT—This is the beginning of the grapefruit season. Serve it anytime, as an appetizer, as a salad, for dessert, even as a bedtime snack. Frosted grapes, maraschino cherries, or nuts and raisins dress it up.

Timbale Recipe Written by Hand

Here's a recipe from a California grandmother's hand-written cook book.

It originated in the early 1900s. Except for the addition of the monosodium glutamate, it is just as she used it.

Timale Timbales

1 small onion, minced
½ green pepper, minced
¼ cup butter or margarine
1 12-ounce can whole kernel corn, drained and put through food grinder
1 cup yellow cornmeal
3 eggs, well beaten
2 8-ounce cans tomato sauce
¾ cup cream (undiluted evaporated milk could be used)
½ cup grated Parmesan cheese
1 teaspoon chili powder
Salt to taste
½ teaspoon MSG

Saute onion and green pepper gently in butter 5 minutes. Add all remaining ingredients; mix well. Turn into 8 well-greased custard cups; set in shallow pan of hot water.

Bake in 375 oven about 40 minutes or until firm. Mixture may be baked in a 1½ quart ring mold 50 to 60 minutes, if preferred.

Remove from oven and let stand a few minutes before unmolding. Serve with creamed chicken, to be spooned over the timbales. Makes 8 servings.

Novel Hush Pups Include Wheat-Germ

One of the tastiest wheat germ foods that the food editors sampled in Chicago was a cornmeal concoction. They are called Hush Pups, but they resemble the true Hush Pups only insofar as they are made of cornmeal.

They are delicious. (We served them with fish) and the inclusion of wheat germ in the recipe means that added vitamin B is given to the family.

Wheat Germ Hush Pups

½ cup sifted all-purpose flour
2 teaspoons baking powder
1 tablespoon sugar
1 teaspoon salt
1¼ cups cornmeal
¼ cup wheat germ
1 egg, slightly beaten
¾ cup milk

In a bowl, sift flour, baking powder, sugar, salt and cornmeal together. Stir in wheat germ. Add egg and milk to dry ingredients; stir until thoroughly blended.

Drop batter by teaspoonfuls into hot fat (360) or hot fat in which fish has been fried, frying only a few at a time. Brown well on both sides. Drain on absorbent paper. Serve hot. Makes 2 dozen.

If fat thermometer is not available, heat fat until it browns a cube of bread in half a minute.

To make sure leaf vegetables are cleansed thoroughly, immerse them in cold salt water and then rinse several times in fresh water.

Appetizer, Salad, Dessert All Take Tart Grapefruit

The sharp, clean taste of grapefruit is the perfect curtain raiser for any feast. Dressed up and broiled, it is the equally perfect ending for a dinner. Midway in the meal, it can be a delicious salad.

Appetizer Grapefruit

Cut grapefruit in half, remove core if desired. Cut around each section, loosening fruit from membrane. Do not cut around entire outer edge of fruit. Serve plain or with sliced maraschino cherries, or frosted grapes.

To frost grapes, dip small bunches of grapes into unbeaten egg white; shake to remove excess; roll grapes in cinnamon sugar mixture; chill until dry. Place in center of grapefruit.

Florida Salad Basket

Follow directions for preparing grapefruit halves. Remove sections; cut out dividing membrane. Add sliced, pitted grapes and diced unpeeled apple to grapefruit sections.

Spoon into grapefruit shells with garnish of salad greens. Serve with French dressing.

Dessert Grapefruit

Sprinkle chopped nuts, chopped raisins or dates and brown sugar on top of prepared grapefruit halves. Place under the broiler until lightly browned. Serve at once.

One-Dish Meal Needs Protein; Salad Extra

One-dish meals are time and money-savers for the homemaker. But it's a wise cook who makes sure they also are supplying the family its protein needs.

To serve four people, allow at least one of the following in any one-dish meal:

Two cups grated or ½ pound cheese; 1 pound meat; 1 pound fish; 8 eggs, or ¼ cup cooked beans per person.

Some other pointers:

Use only one starchy food in each dish; avoid too many strong flavors; use one strong flavor and blend the others with it.

Include peas, carrots, tomatoes, green pepper or pimiento for color. Use leftover soup or vegetable juice as part of the liquid called for.

Since a one-dish meal is a mixture of chopped or diced foods, the accompanying salad and dessert should have definite shape and character.

Sliced ripe banana or grated apple may be folded into stifly-beaten egg white that has been sweetened and flavored with a little lemon rind. Serve at once as a topping for white cake or pudding.

Savory Dressing Perks Steak Rolls

Roll and stuff round steak with a savory dressing and you will have main dish magic!

Beef Roulades

1 cup soft bread crumbs or cubes
¼ cup butter or margarine (melted)
1 cup quick rolled oats (uncooked)
¼ cup chopped dill pickle
1 tablespoon chopped onion
1 teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
2 tablespoons water
2 pounds round steak (about ¾ inch thick)
1½ teaspoons salt
Flour
Fat
1 cup tomato juice

Pour melted butter over bread crumbs; toast under broiler or in 425 oven until golden brown.

Add rolled oats, chopped pickle, onion, 1 teaspoon salt, pepper. Mix thoroughly. Sprinkle water on top, stirring lightly.

Cut steak into 6 pieces; sprinkle with 1½ teaspoons salt. Place a tablespoon of stuffing at one end of each piece. Roll up; fasten securely with tooth picks or string. Roll in flour. Brown on all sides in hot fat.

Add tomato juice; cover and simmer 1 hour or until tender. Add more tomato juice is necessary. Makes 6 servings.

Sardine Variety Tray for Easy Buffet Lunch

Here's an easy buffet lunch dish. Open a couple of cans of Norway sardines, turning the tops of the tins back carefully so they look neat.

Put the sardines, right in their cans, on a large serving tray with deviled eggs, water cress or other greens, radishes, carrot strips, black olives, and snap beans or cauliflowerets cooked and marinated in a French dressing.

Serve a hot soup as the first course and end with a substantial dessert.

Cranberry Growers Harvest Biggest Crop

Cranberry growers have just harvested their largest cranberry crop in history, 1,162,000 barrels this year. And in their own canning plants they'll process two-thirds of the crop.

Today's homemakers want their cranberry sauce all ready to serve, just as they are turning to other ready to serve foods.

Turkey growers say they'll have close to 36 million turkeys to market this year. And the cranberry growers promise at least two cans of cranberry sauce for each turkey. A lot of turkey and cranberry sauce, we'd say!

When you are preparing pie dough, let the prepared pastry stand in the refrigerator for about 15 minutes before rolling out. This chilling helps to make the pastry flaky.

Orange Unusual in Pumpkin Pie

This unusual pumpkin pie has all the qualities you love in a traditional pumpkin pie, plus the fresh orange juice which makes it something very special.

Try it for a welcome change, as it is light enough to top off a hearty meal.

Orange Pumpkin Pie

- ¾ cup sugar
- ½ teaspoon salt
- ½ teaspoon cinnamon
- ½ teaspoon nutmeg
- ¼ teaspoon ginger
- ½ teaspoon ground cloves
- 2 eggs, slightly beaten
- 1½ cups cooked or canned pumpkin (1 No. 303 can)
- ½ cup fresh orange juice
- 1½ cups rich milk or undiluted evaporated milk

Mix sugar, salt, spices. Add beaten eggs, pumpkin, orange juice and milk. Pour into unbaked 8-inch pie shell.

Bake for 15 minutes at 425, then turn heat to 350 and continue baking for 75 or 80 minutes or until done. (Pie is done when silver knife inserted into filling comes out clean). Serve with whipped cream.

ORANGE PUMPKIN PIE—Here's a brand new idea for an old favorite, pumpkin pie. It has sugar . . . spice . . . oranges . . . pumpkin . . . and everything nice. You and your guests will enjoy its tangy orange flavor. Top it with whipped cream and orange wedges.

Always sift flour once before measuring. If you substitute cake flour for all-purpose flour, add 2 tablespoons per cup.

Pineapple Boats Both Decorative and Appetizing

Try an appetizer that will add to the decoration of the table and keep the guests happy while the turkey carver practices his art. Here's a beauty:

Individual Pineapple Salad Boats

Cut pineapple in half lengthwise. Remove center, leaving pineapple shell. Cut the removed pineapple into pieces, removing core. Add to this any seasonal fruits, such as pears, oranges, bananas or coconut.

Garnish with maraschino cherries and add some of the cherry juice for color and flavor. A bit of almond extract or brandy adds to its taste also.

The rest is as easy as Monday night special, but the family'll never guess it's anything less than a labor of love.

Potato-Onion-Mushroom Casserole

- 1 No. 2 can tiny whole potatoes
- 1 No. 1½ can small white onions
- 1 4-ounce can whole button mushrooms
- 1½ tablespoons mustard with horseradish
- ⅓ cup butter or margarine

Drain liquid from potatoes and onion; then mix all ingredients and heat thoroughly. (Don't forget this recipe when you are casting about for something to do with your chafing dish.)

Steamed Brussels Sprouts With Almond Butter Sauce

- 2 packages frozen Brussels sprouts
- ⅓ cup butter or margarine
- ½ cup toasted, diced almonds
- 1½ cups water
- 2 teaspoons salt

Drop frozen Brussels sprouts into boiling water. Cook until just tender, drain. Add butter or margarine, and before serving, sprinkle with almonds.

Veto Spices for Kids

Small boys and girls should not be served highly spiced dishes, but their food should be flavored appealingly. A little onion, parsley, celery, tomatoes or lemon juice will often make a meat of fish dish taste "just right."

Cookbook Livens Menus for Low Sodium Dieters

If you're one of the many housewives who have heard the words "low sodium diet" (low salt) prescribed for some member of your family, you'll bless the book "The Low Sodium Cook Book" by Alma Smith Payne, whose husband is on such a diet, and Dorothy Callahan, research dietitian in the hypertension clinic of the Massachusetts General Hospital.

Recipes, which include main dishes, plus suggestions for seasonings, wines — and also how to select from a menu when eating out — take into consideration medical reasons for such a diet, which are to "restrict the sodium intake in the diet to the point where patients will have sufficient sodium for their body needs yet in an amount restricted to the point where it will not accumulate in the body."

The introduction tells what foods are restricted and which are not. For instance, "On your market list, you may include all fresh fish except shellfish. Oysters are the only shellfish that may be used on your menus. Strangely enough, a salt-water fish contains no more sodium than its fresh-water cousin."

And in "Tricks With Fish," this recipe for creole-style halibut is an example of how recipes are written.

Halibut — Creole Style

(Allow 2 pounds fresh halibut steaks for six servings.)

Place steaks in baking pan that has been lightly greased with one-half teaspoon oil. Sprinkle over top of fish 1 tablespoon onion (minced), one-half green pepper (minced), one-fourth teaspoon pepper, 1 bay leaf (crumbled), 2 cups salt-free canned tomatoes. Bake in moderate oven (375) 20 to 30 minutes.

During last 10 minutes of baking, put a thick layer of buttered crumbs over the top, made from one-half cup dry low sodium bread crumbs mixed with 3 tablespoons sweet butter. Salt substitute for dieter; salt for regulars.

One serving (3 ounces fish, cooked weight): 72.3 mg. sodium, 12.9 gr. fat, 249 calories.

Total recipe: 433.7 mg. sodium, 77.3 gr. fat, 1,494 calories.

Navy Airmen Saved in Pacific Crash

PEARL HARBOR (AP) — Seven crewmen from a Navy Catalina flying boat which ditched in the Pacific yesterday have been picked up from a life raft by the transport Daniel I. Sultan, the Navy announced.

Navy officers said three of the men were injured, but none is in serious condition.

The Sultan is heading for Midway Island, about 240 miles south of the point where the airmen were rescued, and is due sometime today, the Navy said.

The flying boat ran out of fuel and crash-landed in the ocean while on a long distance flight from Alaska to Midway.

Says GOP Package 'Pretty, Not Fresh'

MADISON, Wis. (UP) — Gov. G. Mennen Williams of Michigan told a University of Wisconsin young Democratic meeting Wednesday night that the Republican administration in Washington will keep 1952 campaign promises only "if the people raise enough Cain."

"The package the voters were sold in 1952 had pretty wrappings, but it wasn't a fresh product," Williams said. "Inside it's the same old product the Republican Party has been trying to force down our throats for generations.

"The American people are in danger of being forced to accept things they had no intention of voting for in 1952. As loyal Americans we all hope the Republican policy-makers will come to their senses and change their ways before it is too late to prevent a real economic reverse."

Michigan Colleges Air Problems at UM Meet

ANN ARBOR (UP) — Problems confronting Michigan colleges and universities were aired yesterday in the closing session of a two day meeting at the University of Michigan.

The meeting attracted more than 200 deans and faculty representatives from Michigan colleges and junior colleges.

CANDY FROSTING—What better topping is there for cakes or cupcakes for a children's party than frosting made with the youngster's favorite candy bar? These cupcakes are frosted with milk chocolate bars, but any large candy bar may be used.

Luscious Frosting, Sauce Made With Melted Candy

Frostings and sauces in double-quick time can be made from a favorite large candy bar and melted margarine. This rich, quickly-made frosting idea was introduced at the Chicago meeting of newspaper food editors.

A wide variety of flavors can be made by using semi-sweet chocolate pieces, peanut brittle, tiny mints, caramels, or any numerous chocolate bars.

Chocolate Frosting

½ stick (¼ cup) margarine
1 3-ounce bar milk chocolate

Melt margarine in a saucepan or small skillet. Remove from heat. Break chocolate bar into pieces and add to margarine. Stir as it melts.

Cool frosting until it has thickened and is a good consistency for spreading (about 1¼ hours at room temperature or 20 minutes at refrigerator temperature). Spread on cake.

Yield: Enough for filling and topping for two-layer 8-inch round cake or topping for 20 cupcakes.

Chocolate Sauce

Add one recipe of uncooled chocolate frosting to one-quarter cup water, stirring constantly. Serve hot or cold. Makes one cup. Note: It is important to add the frosting to the water.

Caramel Frosting

¼ stick (2 tablespoons) margarine
½ pound (28) vanilla caramels
1 tablespoon water

Place margarine, caramels and water in a saucepan or small skillet. Cover with a tight fitting cover and cook over low heat until caramels are melted, about five to seven minutes.

Uncover, remove from heat and stir to blend. Cool five minutes. Spread on cake.

Yield: Enough for filling and topping for two-layer 8-inch round cake or topping for 16 cupcakes.

'Radio Jim Creek' Most Powerful in Whole World

JIM CREEK VALLEY, Wash (UP) —The Navy can now pass the word to all the world.

Into the new naval wireless transmitter, most powerful in existence, poured a growing file of messages today to prove the globe-girdling claims made for station NLK, "Radio Jim Creek."

They came from all over, including ships at sea on the other side of the globe. And they all said in effect "I read you loud and clear."

* * *

Should a new Pearl Harbor signal the start of another world war, the Navy now knew it could broadcast commands to its forces where ever they are deployed, in one single and urgent message.

* * *

In the initial test of the 1,200,000-watt, 14-million-dollar transmitter yesterday, a battleship off Japan acknowledged the message and a submarine, boring through the cold gray waters of the northeast Atlantic, received the signal from home. There were other receipting messages from faraway places, including Africa and The Philippines and a battlewagon far down in the south Atlantic.

* * *

Radio Jim Creek was built by Radio Corp. of America for the Navy as a wireless telegraph station, to send its messages only in the droning, singing tone of continuous-wave transmission. But, it developed today, the mighty transmitter can be converted without much trouble to a voice broadcast station should the United States sometime want to add a stentorian tone to the Voice of America directed to peoples behind the Iron Curtain.

Marshall Woman Dies in Collision With Truck

AMERICUS, Ga. (UP) — A car-truck collision near Americus last night claimed the life of Mrs. Jane Brown Pittman, 66, of Marshall, Mich.

State Police said an automobile driven by Mrs. Pittman crashed head on with a truck on a bridge on U. S. 19.

Patrolman Q. A. Beasley said the victim's baggage and identification papers indicated she was a traveling saleswoman.

Suffolk County Gets Its Tail Caught in Door

BOSTON (AP)—The owners of a downtown office building were brought into Municipal Court for violating Boston building laws.

The complaint held the Little Building had revolving doors but no swinging doors alongside them for use in case of panic.

Judge Joseph Rile dismissed the complaint when Building Inspector William F. Gildea said the swinging doors had been installed.

Then Gildea added the information that the Suffolk County Courthouse, where the hearing was being held, didn't have the required swinging doors.

Today the Suffolk County Building Commission is pondering the situation. An architect has informed them the entire building front will have to be remodeled to install the doors.

Irving gray, Berle's manager, said yesterday the exact date had not been set. Berle's NBC contract calls for three weeks vacation during the Christmas holidays and the comedian is slated to start his holiday after his Dec. 8 show.

Berle, 46, has been married twice, both times to blonde Joyce Matthews.

Miss Cosgrove, a brunette about 30, born in Paterson, N. J., also has been married twice. Hhe has done public relations work here and in Hollywood.

Knowland Sees Laxity as Charge in White Case

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—Sen. William F. Knowland (R-Calif), the Senate majority leader, declared last night the issue in the Harry Dexter White case is the "laxity" of the Truman administration in appointing persons to office whose loyalty was questioned.

Knowland addressed a $25-a-plate Oklahoma Republican fund-raising dinner. He said the Eisenhower administration has shown a more realistic approach to the infiltration of security risks in government.

First federal tax on gasoline was imposed in 1932.

Retired Railroad Foreman Makes Things to Be Busy

ESCANABA (AP) — Edward Vandenboom has been making time count ever since he was 15 years old.

That was when he ran across the frozen Fox River holding a frightened girl by the hand, hopping from one ice floe tothe next. It was longer to walk over the bridge and double back to school.

"I took the hypotenuse because it was shorter," says Vandenboom, now a retired railroad foreman.

Now, annoyed because there aren't more hours in the day, Vandenboom keeps busy making things, dozens of things. For instance:

An alcohol-water injector for his car, wrenches, a wood-turning lathe, a trowel, a fish hut, a wheelbarrow, carving knives, and a flight of stairs.

His knives are carefully made objects with a specially designed point so they can be held in a comfortable cutting position. An English blacksmith taught him that trick in 1909.

The blades are tin plated so they won't rust and the embossed handles are made from black walnut, cherry, mahogany, or just about any wood.

Vandenboom is a gardener too, with peach trees, plum trees, black walnut trees, an apple tree — even a grapevine and strawberry plants. He still remembers the words of the old blacksmith:

"The hope of the world lies, and it always has, in its plain people; those who know what there is to do and go about doing it."

Men Plead Innocent to Robbery Charge

Two Detroit-area men pleaded not guilty to an unarmed robbery charge yesterday and were held on $3,000 bond each for examination Nov. 23, before Royal Oak Judge John E. Brondige.

Herbert Marcotte, 23, of 3349 Hendricks, Detroit, and Clarence McLatcher, 24, of 914 Mace St., Royal Oak, are charged with a holdup of the Dondero and Wolcott Realty and Insurance firm at 207 W. Fourth St., Royal Oak.

Holdup men took $110 from the company in a daylight robbery there on Nov. 16, according to Royal Oak Detective Virgil Scott.

Marcotte and McLatcher were arrested in a Hazel Park Bar 45 minutes after the holdup by police from Royal Oak, Royal Oak Township and Hazel Park departments.

More than 70 million acres in Nevada are utilized for livestock rangeland.

THE FLAT-FOOTED FUDDY

dreams of cracker-barrel days and can't stand products that sell too fast

A FLAT-FOOTED FUDDY is a storekeeper who refuses to stock what the customer wants.

Keeps the sales down that way — so that he doesn't have to refill shelves or bother with streams of busy customers. He likes things slow and difficult — like the good old days

Naturally the FUDDY is a rare creature, almost extinct.

The modern retailer, fortunately, carries the products that move the fastest — the brands that customers want.

He suspects, of course, that the brand preferences come from the influence of newspaper ads. Naturally: When he advertises he automatically uses the newspaper because he knows that just about all his customers read it.

He just assumes that the smart national advertisers also spend a lot of ad money in newspapers when they want to make headway in local markets.

And he's right.

Last year national advertisers spent $526 million in local newspapers — while retailers were spending 85% of their money also telling their customers where to buy those national brands.

And today more people are reading more newspapers than ever before.

All business is local... and so are all newspapers!

Panel's Star Loves Comedy

Audrey Meadows Has Worked With Jackie Gleason, Bob and Ray

NEW YORK—Audrey Meadows, glamorous panelist on TV's "I'll Buy That," built a reputation in the theatre and in television for her droll comedy simply by a droll approach itself to casting directors and producers.

When they interviewed her for a part, the audacious Audrey, alternating from deadpan to tongue-in-cheek, as suited the occasion, always had a ready answer: "I can do it." What's more, she could, too.

She got a role with comedians Bob and Ray because she told them she could play a harp. First, she parried with them. "I can play a harp—but couldn't you make it a violin? I haven't played a harp for years. I'm much better on the violin."

AUDREY MEADOWS

She told her sister and roommate, Jayne Meadows of TV's "I've Got A Secret," about it. "You can't play a harp, or a violin, either," Jayne said. "Sure I know," Audrey replied, "but by the time they make up their mind they'll have eliminated both the harp and the violin." She was right.

When Jackie Gleason was looking for someone to play the wife of Ralph, the bus driver (Gleason) in The Honeymooners, one of his skits, Audrey went around to see him.

"Jackie took one look at me," she says, "and said I'd never do. He thought I was too young and that I didn't look sloppy enough."

Audrey returned home and dressed herself in the get-up of a "skid row" character. She had herself photographed and sent the pictures to Gleason. "When Jackie saw the shots he couldn't believe it was me," she laughs. "He hired me then and there."

Audrey Meadows was born in China, the daughter of a Sharon, Conn., Episcopal minister, who was a missionary in the Orient. She attended the fashionable Miss Hill's School in Great Barrington, Mass., where she dabbled in dramatics. But she was trained from her earlier years to be a concert singer.

At 16, she made her debut as a coloratura soprano in New York's Carnegie Hall. Later, she was a guest soloist with the famed Gordon String Quartet and sang with civic light opera companies in Detroit, Chicago, Louisville and other metropolitan centers. Then followed her run of musical comedies, including leading roles in revivals of "Roberta," "Anything Goes" and other shows.

Jackie Gleason, loud in his praise of Miss Meadows' work, says "her unfailing instinct for comedy makes her an invaluable asset on my show. Audrey can learn her lines with amazing rapidity."

Audrey loves comedy so much that not long ago she finally said "no" to a Broadway producer for the first time. He wanted her for a serious dramatic role in a summer show. "I just wasn't interested," she says.

United Synagogue Elects Detroiter Vice President

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Dr. Leonard Sidlow, of Detroit, yesterday was elected a vice president of the United Synagogue of America.

Sidlow was elected at the Synagogue's annual meeting.

State Phones Exceed Those in Many Lands

DETROIT (AP)—Michigan has a small fraction of the telephones in service across the nation—but it has more telephones than many foreign nations.

Out of 50-million telephones in service in the United States today, Michigan homes have 2,100,000—roughly 32.6 per 100 people. In France and Western Germany only 5 out of 100 people have phones and in Japan only 2 out of 100.

In 1878, Michigan Bell Telephone Co. opened its first switchboard in Detroit. The pioneer switchboard served 33 subscribers.

To celebrate the observance of the placing of the 50,000,000th telephone in the United States, a Michigan city has been selected to join a select few in coast-to-coast dial telephone service. Residents of Birmingham will be able to dial a long distance number instead of placing it through an operator.

South Carolina Excels in Peaches, Sunflowers

COLUMBIA, S. C. (AP) — Georgia calls itself the Peach State, but South Carolina long ago surpassed it in the production and export of the fruit.

Now, Kansas had better look to its laurels as the Sunflower State. Some huge sunflowers are being grown in South Carolina. Mrs. Willie Mae Barber of Columbia has a sunflower 12 feet, 8 inches tall that's still growing.

Alfred Breedin, a Manning, S. C., service station operator, reports growing a sunflower one foot taller than Mrs. Barber's plant.

Greenlanders who formerly lived mostly on seals have turned to sheep herding and fishing because the Greenland climate is growing warmer and the seals have moved north.

Ducky Friendship

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — A large white drake of Mr. and Mrs. Merlin Hatfield prefers the company of his dog friend Joe to that of his duck family. The drake sleeps with Joe at night, helps the dog dig squirrel holes and creeps under the house with Joe for siestas in the heat of the day.

Preventive Measure Backfires, Burns Barn

EAST GRANBY, Conn. (AP) — Tall grass around tobacco farmer Walter S. Rollins' barn was becoming a fire hazard, so he tried to burn it away yesterday as a preventive measure. The barn caught fire and burned down.

Arabs Desert Old Ways

MECCA (INS) — Bedouins of the Arabian deserts are being wooed from nomadic ways they have followed for centuries by model farm communities and irrigation projects founded by Saudi Arabia's King Abdul Aziz al Saud.

Fall of Beria Was Break for West, Says Newsom

By PHIL NEWSOM
United Press Foreign News Editor

The story of Lavrenti Beria is as good a cloak-and-dagger piece as has come out of Europe since the war.

Where else except in fiction could there be such a set of circumstances providing intrigue behind the dark walls of the Kremlin, the treacherous climb to power and the sudden fall, and now the mystery of his whereabouts and whether he is alive or dead?

But beyond the outlines of this mystery thriller also is the unfold story of Beria's 100 days of power, and what his fall may or may not mean to the west.

One theory comes to two rather startling conclusions.

1. Beria, No. 2 man in the government, head of the secret police and of the atomic energy program, supreme boss of the Soviet's slave labor, was guilty of all the things Premier Georgi Malenkov accused him of, except for being an "agent of western imperialism."

2. For the west, his fall was one of the luckiest things that ever happened.

Beria, according to this theory, is a man who tried to change the flow of history.

Beria sought to turn communism back into an "international" course, to lower the west's guard with a policy of "peaceful co-existence" and to stake eventual world victory on communism's own ability to bore from within.

Inside the Soviet Union, a far-reaching amnesty was proclaimed, the "rule of legality and law" emphasized and a reform of the criminal code promised.

The campaign of glorification of the Russian people was stopped, as well as the persecution of "bourgeois nationalists" in the non-Russian Soviet republics.

Beria had worked for 32 years to reach the position of power from which he made his fatal grab for all or nothing.

With the death of Stalin, Malenkov and Beria were Nos. 1 and 2 in the government.

Beria was the man with a plan and immediately his influence began to be felt in all fields of Soviet state and party activity.

But on June 17 came the Berlin and East German riots, which supporters of this particular Beria theory, believe was his downfall.

Ten days after the riots, the central committee of the Communist party of the Soviet Union officially charged him with treason, espionage, subversive activity and with having favored a "policy of capitulation."

Malenkov saved himself by renouncing Beria and the policies he had actively supported.

The policy of "peaceful co-existence" gradually drifted into the discard, to be replaced by the extremes of the cold war. Negotiation with the west was postponed and finally refused.

It was a victory for the "Russian" portion of the presidium headed by Foreign Minister Vyacheslav Molotov and Defense Minister Marshal Nikolai Bulganin with the support of the Soviet army bosses.

But the west was lucky.

As the short period of good-will from Moscow demonstrated, a policy of limited cooperation could have shattered western unity and the will of defense more effectively than any Soviet H-bomb.

Russian policy is again in the hands of Molotov, the round-headed stubborn Russian whom Beria used to call "the stupid Ivan."

Schoolgirls Break an Old Monopoly

LONDON (INS) — Revolution came to a quiet English county recently amid the anguished cries of the vested interests.

The revolutionaries were 30 blushing, pig-tailed schoolgirls who ended the 700-year-old male monopoly of Staffordshire's Rugeley Grammar School.

The vested interest were the "old boys"—the old Rugeley grads who through tear-flecked bifocals watched helplessly as the proud ramparts of their alma mater fell under the bobby-socked feet of the coeds.

Shutting their ears to all impassioned pleas in the name of British tradition, superintendents of the local school district recently decreed that Rugeley would become co-educational. They said the shortage of grammar school facilities in the area made the extreme measures imperative.

After the first contingent of girls arrived, headmaster A. J. Holt reported that "everything has gone smoothly. The girls are no more shy now than any new boy would be."

Southern Industries Prosper During War

FRANKFORT, Ky. (UP) —The Korean fighting brought 97 new defense industries with investments totaling $217,858,000 to Kentucky, according to the Agricultural and Industrial Development Board.

Its studies covered only privately financed industries and ignored such things as the billion-dollar atomic energy plants in Kentucky and other southern states.

In the South, only Louisiana, Florida and Alabama attracted more new industry than Kentucky during the Korean struggle, the study said. Louisiana reported investments totaling $659,175,000 in 121 new or expanded facilities; Florida, $307,569,000 in 64 facilities; Alabama, $230,767,000 in 118 plants.

UCLA Is Studying Problems of Cold

LOS ANGELES (UP) — A study of problems of cold encountered by military pilots is being made by the University of California at Los Angeles under a grant from the Air Force.

University physiologist Dr. Alan Hemingway, who is heading the study, said particular emphasis was being placed upon the body's temperature regulating mechanism in the brain.

The body's natural defenses against a cold include shivering, constriction of certain blood vessels to reduce heat loss and increased activity of certain hormones which produce additional heat.

Dr. Hemingway pointed out that the brain controls shivering and added that animal studies disclosed that an electrical stimulus of a certain brain area stopped shivering immediately.

The Air Force hopes the study will contribute to evaluation and treatment of pilot injuries resulting from exposure.

Garbage Collector Sees Little Value in Billing

ORLAND, Calif. (UP) — Leone Penna, Orland's garbage collector, figures his customers have him coming and going.

At a recent city council meeting, Penna complained the people were not paying their garbage collection bills. One councilman asked him if he sent out bills.

"What's the use?" Penna lamented. "If I sent a bill they would throw it in the garbage can and then I'd have to haul my own bill to the city dump."

U. of C. Develops New Technique to Study Viruses

BERKELEY, Calif. (UP) — A pioneering technique of smashing viruses in the electron microscope and photographing the minute debris has been perfected in the virus laboratory at the Berkeley campus of the University of California.

The development is expected to give scientists further insight in elementary growth and reproduction of viruses.

Dr. Robley C. Williams and Dr. Dean Fraser said their discovery will shed new light on viruses and the key substance involved in transmitting the heredity of every living thing — nucleic acid.

The researchers said they broke open a virus on the specimen screen of the electron microscope and were able to examine and identify with that particle the "chromosomes," or heredity-determiners, that came from the virus.

The "chromosomes" are known to be almost pure desoxyribrose nucleic acid, the biophysicists said, and it is a form of nucleic acid that is implicitly involved in determining the heredity of every living thing.

8 Million Homes Built Since World War II

WASHINGTON (UP) — The National Association of Home Builders said the 8,000,000th house constructed since the end of world War II was built just after the Census Bureau reported the arrival of the 160,000,000th American.

The home builders concluded, statistically and figuratively, that the stork is busier than the saw and hammer.

First synthetic rubber tire was placed upon U. S. markets in June 1940.

Badgers Head for Climactic Windup

Kling, Taruffi on Driving Team in Pan-Am Race

Former Winners Pilot Favored Lancias in 4th Annual Test

TUXTLA GUTIERREZ, Mexico (AP)—A green Chrysler piloted by a Mexican driver rode away from the starting line in early morning darkness today to launch the fourth Pan American road race.

* * *

Joe Thorne was the first foreigner to start. He was No. 1. Another American, Owen Gray, Lubbock, Tex., was third, in another Chrysler. Then came Phil Hill, Santa Monica, Calif., in the first European car, an Italian Ferrari. First European driver was Luis Rosier, France, in a Talbot.

MEXICO CITY (AP)—Some of the world's top speed merchants launch the fourth Pan-American automobile road race today with a roar of highly-tuned engines.

Nearly 200 cars were entered for the 1,912 mile five-day race. Most of them are at the starting point in Tuxtla Gutierrez, in southern Mexico. But not all will start. Just how many scratch will not be known until officials arrive here with the list of those who actually get over the line.

However, the top pilots of Europe and the Americas were virtually certain to go; Many of them are driving either for manufacturing companies or for well-financed sponsors.

Karl Kling, winner of the race last year, and Piero Taruffi, winner in 1951, are both driving on company teams. Kling, who won in a Mercedes, is piloting a Porsche this time. Taruffi, winner in a Ferrari, is now running a Works Lancia.

* * *

The Lancias generally were picked as the cars to beat. Juan Manuel Fangio, Argentine who won the European championship, was the pre-race favorite in a Lancia. Other team drivers include Felice Bonetto, veteran of the race, and Giovanni Bracco, who led last year until his clutch burned out.

The Lacias are running in the big sports car class, one of four separate classes. There are separate prizes, totaling some $101,000 for each of the classes.

Of the U. S. cars, only Chrysler is making a determined challenge to the Euorpean cars in the big sports class. Five Chryslers with the new, experimental 280 horse power engine, are running against the Lancias and the Ferraris.

* * *

Lincoln, which finished one-two-three-four in the stock car class last year, is again the favorite in its class. Of the 58 cars in this class, 23 are Lincolns.

Hunters Asked to Be Careful With Fires

LANSING (UP) — Michigan's conservation department today warned deer hunters to be cautious in the use of fire in northern Michigan woods.

The department said hundreds of small fires have started during recent weeks by carelessly dropped matches, cigarettes and smoldering campfires. The department said the mild, dry weather had turned woodlands "tinder dry."

BESHORE TAKES ONE—Favored Dan Bucceroni of Philadelphia, a ranking heavyweight, smacks Freddie Beshore of Los Angeles squarely on the chin in the final round of their fight in Los Angeles Wednesday night. Bucceroni, weighing 188½, battered Beshore for seven rounds and then stopped him on a technical knockout in the 8th. Beshore, an aging veteran, weighed 194.

Easy Victory on TV

Dan Bucceroni Stops Beshore on TKO in 8th Round, Eyes Bout With Marciano

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Philadelphia's Dan Bucceroni, whose record now shows 28 knockouts in 48 starts, registered one of the technical variety when Referee Joe Stone waved aging Freddy Beshore of Los Angeles to the repair pit in the eighth round last night.

* * *

Favored Bucceroni, a ranking heavyweight contender who hopes to get a shot at champion Rocky Marciano next year, was in command all the way, but Beshore showed an amazing ability to sop up punishment.

A national audience of television fans saw Beshore blasted from corner to corner, but he kept wading in as Bucceroni, 26, and possessing an edge of three inches in reach and five inches in height, slammed lefts and rights to his head. Bucceroni weighed 188½. Beshore 194.

* * *

There were no knockdowns in the fight, scheduled for 10 rounds. Beshore slipped in the first round. When the fight was stopped, after 2 minutes 41 seconds of the eighth round the 31-year-old Beshore was bleeding from the nose and a cut over his left eye and his left side was reddened by glove burns. Bucceroni was unmarked.

* * *

Lacking height and reach, Beshore tried to keep close to his rangier opponent. Thus he was nearly always within range of Bucceroni's heavy artillery. The end came as Beshore's noggin was absorbing a salvo of lefts and rights.

* * *

The bout drew 5,000 fans at the Olympic Auditorium. The gross gate was $17,036.

* * *

Beshore said in his dressing room that Marciano hits harder but Bucceroni may be a better boxer. He said he was not seriously hurt and was surprised that Referee Stone stopped it. Bucceroni said Beshore is tough and hard to fight.

Defeat of Trabert, Seixas Puts Damper on Cup Hopes

SYDNEY, Australia (AP) — America's hopes of regaining the Davis Cup dipped today with the defeat of both Tony Trabert and Vic Seixas in the semi-finals of the New South Wales tennis championships.

In what was looked upon as a preview of Davis Cup strength the Americans went down before two 19-year-old Australians, Lewis Hoad and Ken Rosewall.

A crowd of 10,000 saw the husky Hoad whip Trabert, the U. S. champion from Cincinnati, 6-1, 6-2, 5-7, 7-5. Seixas, the Wimbledon champion from Philadelphia, tumbled in straight sets before the agile Rosewall, 6-4, 6-2, 6-3.

Hoad played one of the best games of his career in beating Trabert. In the first two sets Hoad made 20 clean passing shots and, in addition, four times hit winners off Tony's serves.

Seixas took and early lead in each set against Rosewall but on each occasion Rosewall came from behind.

The first home run by a major leaguer under the lights was hit by Babe Herman of Cincinnati against the Dodgers on July 10, 1935.

Ironwood Flash Rated Best Prep in the Country

MARQUETTE (AP)—Pat Cvengros the Ironwood flash, is the outstanding high school football player in the country.

The Upper Peninsula Sports Writers Association, meeting here, selected Cvengros as "back of the year" without even the formality of a vote.

Ironwood, which scored 256 points in defeating eight consecutive opponents, was awarded the big Barber trophy—emblematic of football supremacy in the peninsula.

Cvengros scored 89 points for the Red Devils.

Tom Shepich, Stambaugh tackle, was named "lineman of the year," and Harry Monson of Iron River was picked as "coach of the year" for a second consecutive season. Iron River has not been beaten or tied for two years.

Wisconsin Rules Heavy Favorite Over Gophers

Last Year's 21-21 Tie Is Painful Memory to Ivy Williamson's Team

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) —Wisconsin's Badgers, fattened on a late-season scoring bonanza, head for a climactic windup against backyard rival Minnesota Saturday with glossy title ambitions and a painful memory.

Badgers, decisive favorites after last Saturday's startling sweep over Illinois, can earn a share in in the Big Ten title for the second straight year by stopping Minnesota.

Coach Ivy Williamson's crew is out of the running for a Rose Bowl trek Wisconsin made the trip last year and is ineligible for a curtain call.

But that in no way tempers the Badgers' feverish enthusiasm for the 62nd struggle in one of college football's oldest sustained rivalries.

Teams hooked up for the first time in 1890 and have been interrupted only once since then, in 1906, when Badger officials decided it was time to deemphasize.

From the standpoint of performance this year, there's a striking lack of deemphasis at Wisconsin now. Badgers vaulted into the top 10 of the Associated Press poll this week and are regarded by many experts as the best in the conference superior to last year's bowl team.

Props for Saturday's sellout game here are similar to last year's. Badgers could have wrapped up an undisputed title in 1952, but were happy to escape with a 21-21 tie after Minnesota's Paul Giel set what was then an all-conference ball handling record.

Williamson still blanches at the thought of Giel. The Gopher All-America was shackled by Iowa last week, but Giel has a habit of booming back after such occasions. And he has one more incentive.

The game will be Giel's last at Minnesota and very possibly the last of his football career. The brilliant halfback is cool toward professional football and has turned down post-season all-star appearances.

Hirsch Won't Quit Football

Examination Pronounces Los Angeles Star End in Excellent Shape

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Los Angeles Ram end Elroy (Crazylegs) Hirsch isn't going to quit football.

Although he suffered head injuries in his last two games, Hirsch, who is in Washington with the Rams prepping for Sunday's game against the Baltimore Colts, says he is in tip top condition and will be in the game.

In a tape recording for his daily sportscast at KLAC here yesterday, Hirsch said he underwent examinations yesterday at the insistence of commissioner Bert Bell of the National Football League. He said the medicos pronounced him in excellent condition.

The former Wisconsin and Michigan star said reports that he would be retired soon are without foundation.

High-Scoring Reserve

Although he started out the basketball season as a reserve forward, Michigan State's Ferrari, set a new individual season scoring mark of 351 points during the 1952-53 campaign.

DETROIT — Lynwood "Schoolboy" Rowe, a 24 game winner for the Detroit Tigers in 1934, Wednesday was moved up to the Bengal coaching staff. Rowe had been a roving pitching scout for Detroit. He joins Johnny Hopp and Bob Swift as the Tigers' coaches for the 1954 season. The 41-year old Rowe may serve as the Bengals' first base coach and also as a liaison man between Detroit and its top minor league teams.

'Come From Behind' Play Marks '53 Buckeye Eleven

By FRITZ HOWELL

COLUMBUS, O. (AP) — Michigan's wily Wolverines won't be able to let up for a minute Saturday in the season's finale against Ohio State.

The Bucks are a come-from-behind team, and they get better as the game progresses. Five times this season they've spotted a foe an early lead and then came back to triumph.

California, Penn, Northwestern, Wisconsin and Purdue all got the jump on Ohio, but late surges gave the Bucks the nod. The late starting tendency of his proteges is worrying coach Woody Hayes.

Ohio will be in good physical shape for this one as it tries to better its record of 32 losses, 13 wins and four ties in the long series reaching back into the gay 90's.

Two big casualties, co-captains Bob Joslin at end and George Jacoby at tackle, will be ready.

Bucks will toss a well-balanced attack, from the split-T formation, at the Wolverines in an attempt to win their first game at Ann Arbor since the late Francis Schmidt's razzle-dazzle magicians won by 21-0 back in 1937.

Bobby Watkins and Howard (Hopalong) Cassady, the fleet-footed halfacks, are hard to stop.

Johnny Borton, who suffered an ankle injury in the Illinois game and sat on the bench for several contests, is back in form and will split the signal-calling chore with footed halfback's, are hard to stop.

State Hockey Coaches on NCAA Tourney Board

BOSTON (AP) — Three Michigan College hockey coaches have been named to the western selection committee of the NCAA championship tournament at Colorado Springs, Colo., March 11-13.

The coaches, Vic Heyliger of the University of Michigan, Amo Bessone of Michigan State, and Allan Renfrew of Michigan Tech, will help name the West's representative for the annual championship tournament. Heyliger was named to the selection committee as a regular member. Renfrew and Bessone were named alternates.

Open Sight Can Be OK

With practice and careful aiming, an open sight can be used effectively out to 200 yards or more on large game. But you can draw a finer bead with a rear peep sight.

Beware of shiny decoys. They scare waterfowl so you'll never get a shot.

21 Gridders Are Named to All-Wayne-Oakland

By JACK SAYLOR

Wayne-Oakland League coaches named an all-star squad of 21 players Tuesday night at a meeting in Brighton. Championship Keego Harbor eleven led the way with five players selected.

Northville, which finished 2nd, placed four, while Holly, Clarenceville and Milford each landed three. Two Clarkston players were named, and Brighton was represented by one.

The O'Shaughnessy brothers, Jerry and Lester, were picked from the Keego club along with linemen John Webber, Herm Kuhn and Jim Deacon. Holly's great tackle, Ralph Wells, made the grade along with backfield stars Dick Smith and Earl Garner.

Don Colegrove, 200-pound fullback, led the Milford trio. An outstanding runner and punter, he has been a standout since his freshman year. Steady-going end Don Perkuchin and center Chuck Diver were the other Redskin selections.

Clarkston had a tough year, but had a pair of standouts in quarterback Glen Abbott and guard Ed Dubats.

Keego's fine defensive play gained most credit for the excellent record and league championship won by the suburban team. Key men in the combine that limited opposition to 19 points were Webber at end, Kuhn at tackle and Deacon at guard.

Presidents' offense was paced by the "last of the O'Shaunghnessys." Jerry, better known as Bucky, scored 10 touchdowns from his fullback slot and Lester quarterbacked the team.

Team was settled on by coaches Charlie Guinnip of Keego, Dick Yeager of Milford, Ed Hintz of Clarkston, Reece Protz of Holly, Al Jones of Northville, Nick Ianni of Clarenceville and Bob Scranton of Brighton.

The honor squad:

ENDS—John Webber, Keego Harbor; Don Perkuchin, Milford; and Ed Nash, Northville.

TACKLES—Herman Kuhn, Keego Harbor; Ralph Wells, Holly; and Mel Koch, Clarenceville.

GUARDS—Jim Deacon, Keego Harbor; Ed Dubats, Clarkston; Al Ifversen, Northville; and Tom Rutila Clarenceville.

CENTER—Chuck Diver, Milford.

Backs—Jerry and Lester O'Shaughnessy, Keego Harbor; Dick Smith and Earl Garner, Holly; Glen Abbott, Clarkston; Vern Schmadike, Brighton; Don Colegrove, Milford; Joe Girardin and Bob Burgess, Northville, and Clay Robbins, Clarenceville.

Michigan State Reports Small Freshman Crop

John Wilson's Brother From Lapeer Is Rated Among Top Prospects

EAST LANSING (AP)—Michigan State has a smaller than usual turnout of freshman football talent this fall.

* * *

The total of 50 frosh went through their preliminary training under coach Danny Devine. Of these, 29 are from Michigan, 12 came from Pennsylvania, four from Illinois, two from Indiana and one each from Ohio, New Jersey and New York.

* * *

Among the best prospects is Pat Wilson, a brother of former MSC defensive star Johnny Wilson. Pat, from Lapeer, is a 180-pound, six-foot-one-inch quarterback.

Two other Michigan backs who have looked good in practice are Loren Wall, 167-pounder from Menominee, and Dennis Mendyke, 188-pounder from St. Charles.

Also showing promise with the backfield were Lou Costanzo, 195 pounds, from Dunmore, Pa.; Don Gilbert, 180 pounds, from Dubois, Pa.; and Rudy Gaddini, 185 pounds from Chicago Fenwick High.

Some of the best looking linesmen have included Dave Trippett, 215-pound tackle from Albion; Joe Carruthers, 190-pound guard from Detroit Western, and Don Berger, 215-pound center from Philadelphia.

* * *

Others were Ronnie Latronica, 208-pound tackle from Pittsburgh; John Matski, 180-pound center from St. Michael, Pa., and Lacey Bernard, 200-pound end from Flint Central.

Opening Day Deer Kill Better Than Last Year

LANSING (UP) — Deer kill on the opening day of Michigan's 1953 deer hunting season apparently was heavier than on the same day last year, a conservation department survey indicated today.

The deer kill for the first three days of the season, however, appears to be down slightly from a year ago.

Press' Deer Derby Gets New Entries

Three Pontiac Hunters Enter Bucks in 'Rack' Division of Contest

Three new entries were filed in the "best rack" division of the Pontiac Press 3-way deer contest Wednesday.

An unusually well balanced 10-point rack was entered by Frank B. Shields of 750 Third ave. Shields brought the buck down near Spaulding in Menominee County on opening day.

Dorsey Lawrence, 386 Voorheis Road, entered an 8-pointer, bagged near Luzerne on Tuesday morning. Third entry was another 8-pointer, shot north of Roscommon Sunday afternoon by Edson Hall of 305 W. Brooklyn.

First "Diana" to report success on a hunting trip was Mrs. Karl Schultz of 51 Clive ave. She dropped an 8-pointer with a single shot while hunting on the Canada Creek Ranch in Montmorency County on opening day.

Other hunters getting their bucks included Edward O'Rourke, 1225 Mt. Clemens street (8-pointer); Floyd Gauthier, 3958 Seeden in Drayton Plains (10-pointer); and Ronald Kitzmiller, 116 Lafayette (8-pointer).

Rockets, Milwaukee Play Tie in IHL Tilt

MILWAUKEE (AP)—Grand Rapids Rockets battled Milwaukee to a 2-2 draw in overtime as 2,100 fans watched the International Hockey League game.

Chiefs scored twice in the first period. From then on they were busy trying to keep the Rockets out of the home nets.

Grand Rapids pushed in a puck in the second period and finally tied it up in the third.

The game went into overtime, but the minutes ticked off before either team could score.

Spartans Drill With Wet Ball Just in Case

MSC Taking No Chance in Preparing for Final Game With Marquette

By ROBERT E. VOGES

EAST LANSING (AP) — Michigan State isn't missing any bets this week as the Spartan football team prepared for the concluding game of its season against Marquette.

At the practice session yesterday, coach Biggie Munn had a pail of water on the field.

Managers dunked footballs in the water and the center and backs practiced handling the wet ball—a precautionary preparation in case it rains Saturday.

The MSC passing attack also got a good going-over with the emphasis on long, payoff passes.

One of the disappointments of the Michigan game was the poor day the Spartans had with their passing.

Flint end Ellis Duckett, MSC's leading pass snatcher, is in good physical shape this week—for practically the first time this season.

Duckett has been plagued by a host of minor ailments all year.

Despite this he's caught nine passes for 159 yards and four touchdowns to lead MSC receivers.

Quarterbacks Tom Yewcic and Earl Morrall alternated in throwing with Duckett as the main target.

Coach Munn has been easing up on the scrimmage this week, explaining the squad needs a rest after meeting Ohio State and Michigan on consecutive Saturdays.

There was a brief scrimmage session Tuesday but on Wednesday there was no contact work.

No further scrimmage sessions are planned for the remainder of the week. Coaches don't want to risk injuries or taking the edge off the squad.

Eastern Powers Head List of Eight Teams in Holiday Tourney

NEW YORK (AP)—Eight teams, all frequent entries in previous New York tournaments, will open the second annual holiday basketball festival at Madison Square Garden on the day after Christmas.

Brigham Young meets Manhattan College in the first game at 2 p.m., Niagara plays St. John's of Brooklyn in a second afternoon game with the first night's schedule matching Duquesne against New York University and St. Louis against La Salle.

Asa Bushnell, chairman of the Metropolitan Basketball committee, who announced the pairings yesterday, said the only attempt at seeding was to separate Duquesne, classed as the best team in the East in pre-season estimates, and La Salle, the Philadelphia powerhouse.

On Monday, Dec. 28 the Brigham Young-Manhattan winner will play Duquesne-NYU winner and St. Louis-LaSalle survivor will meet the Niagara-St. John's winner. Saturday's losers also will meet on Monday. Final will be played Wednesday, Dec. 30.

Dodger Hurler Joins Michigan Indian Tribe

NAHMA (AP)—Carl Erskine, Brooklyn Dodgers pitcher, joined the tribe Wednesday — the Chippewa Indians.

Chief Star, of the Ashland, Wis., tribe of the Chippewas inducted the baseball star at colorful ceremonies in Nahma and gave him the good old Indian name of Be-Qu-Quad, which any frontier man can tell you means "Mr. Baseball."

Be-Qu-Quad (nee Erskine) went hunting yesterday but failed to get a good shot at a buck. He said he'd try again today.

Writer Sees Notre Dame 11 Losing at Least One of Final 3 Games With Iowa, Southern Cal, SMU

By GRANTLAND RICE

NEW YORK—Notre Dame has cut and slashed her way through a barrier of seven games. But from now on the road is much tougher than it has been before. It's packed with boulders.

* * *

Notre Dame has three lively sharpshooters waiting with their muckets adjusted. They are Iowa, which has been painful for Notre Dame in the past, Southern California and SMU. Point is this—most of these teams have contained a certain amount of poison for Notre Dame.

* * *

Iowa has always meant trouble. It gave Michigan and Wisconsin terrific battles. Coach Forest Evashevski, ex-Michigan, has turned in a fine job and he will have a stout team ready Saturday, provided Iowa doesn't have a letdown after last Saturday.

* * *

It will probably be the best team Evashevski will have all autumn long. Iowa only last week smothered Minnesota and the brilliant Paul Giel.

Southern California suffered a humiliating blast last fall. Southern California, conqueror of Stanford, has suffered more than a few humiliations. I believe Southern California would rather beat Notre Dame than anyone else.

This rivalry goes back to the early days of Knute Rockne and Howard Jones. That's a long way off.

* * *

Competition has always been keen—often bitter. Southern Cal has been in and out this fall, but the possibilities of both power and speed are still there.

* * *

And there is still a 3rd contest left with SMU for Dec. 5. This is the roughest angle of the Notre Dame situation. Frank Leahy and staff not only had to have his team ready for stout Oklahoma in September, but keep them ready through a season that extends over until Dec. 5.

* * *

SMU has always given the rampant Irish a fight to the final gun. We get the first answer on Saturday against Iowa. I would offer the tip, possibly a frazzled one, that Notre Dame isn't going to be able to win all three games left.

Picking 4 Best Backs Monumental Task

NEW YORK (AP)—Seldom if ever have the Associated Press regional All-America football boards had as tough a job as they're facing right now in trying to determine the four best college backs in a bumper crop spawned by the return to one platoon play.

Midwest board members are having a particularly hard time with the number of standout performers who have jumped at the chance to show what they can do playing both offense and defense.

Notre Dame's Johnny Lattner, Minnesota's Paul Giel and Wisconsin's Alan Ameche are rated tops in the Midwest. Lattner, an All-America exception to the specialists in 1952, has been the clutch player and inspirational leader of the nation's No. 1 team.

Giel, another All-America from last year, continues to draw raves despite the fact he has been slowed down in several games. He runs, passes, kicks, calls signals and plays defensive halfback.

Ameche, known as "The Horse," is a ram-rod runner at fullback for the Badgers who sparked the 34-7 upset over Illinois last week and earlier pulled two games out of the fire. And his savage, effective, linebacking has received commendation in every game.

Endless stream of adjectives from the Pacific slopes are directed mostly toward UCLA handyman Paul Cameron and Stanford's passer, Bob Garrett.

Cameron, a spot operative last year because of injuries to his vulnerable ankles, has been the healthy spark to the Bruins. He runs, passes and punts from his tailback position and ranks among the nation's leading scorers.

Garrett, quarterback for a Stanford eleven now tied with UCLA in the PCC race, has been called by several observers the finest passer in the West since before Frankie Albert's days at Palo Alto.

Bernie Faloney? Here's the kid who played defensive halfback last year and now is the prime mover for Maryland, No. 2 team in the country.

Fullback Kosse Johnson, offensive spark at Rice, triple threat tailback Dick Clasby of Harvard and T-quarterback Dick Lalla of Colgate also are impresdive candidates.

Pressing leading contenders for consideration are Georgia's Zeke Bratkowski and Mississippi State's Jackie Parker at quarterback. Some experts believe Notre Dame's Neil Worden is as good a fullback as there is in the nation and Oklahoma A&M's Earl Lunsford is getting plugs.

Halfbacks in the same category are Lamar McHan of Arkansas, Jerry Coody of Baylor, Jimmy Wade of Tennessee, Steve Meilinger of Kentucky, Corky Tharp of Alabama, Joe Mastrogiovanni of Wyoming and Bobby Cavazos of Texas Tech.

Another group of nominees under consideration include Illinois' J. C. Caroline, Ohio State's Bobby Watkins, Michigan State's Leroy Bolden, Oklahoma's Larry Grigg, Georgia Tech's Leon Hardeman, Arizona's Ken Cardella, Kansas State's Veryl Switzer, Maryland's Chet Hanulak, Utah's Don Rydalch and Oklahoma A&M's Bill Bredde.

Spartan Grid Movies to Be Shown Nov. 24

Color movies of football games between Michigan State and Ohio State, and MSC-Purdue, will be shown at 8 p.m. Tuesday, Nov. 24, at the Birmingham Community House.

The showings are sponsored by the MSC Alumni Club of Oakland County. The public is invited.

USGA Puts Ban on British Ball

Seeks to Eliminate Distribution of Small Sphere Here

NEW YORK (AP) — The United States Golf Assn. today called upon its member clubs to help eliminate the distribution of the smaller-sized British golf ball in the United States and characterized the use of the small ball as "contrary to the rules and a disservice to the game."

• • •

In a strongly worded letter sent out to the clubs, USGA President Totton P. Heffelfinger and Charles B. Grace, chairmen of the Implements and Ball Committee, asked each club to inform its members the fact that the rules permit the use of the British ball only in international matches, under penalty of disqualification—and to see that their professionals sell only merchandise which conforms with USGA rules.

• • •

The USGA specifications call for a ball weighing not more than 1.620 ounces, with a diameter of not less than 1.680 inches and an impact velocity of 250 feet per second. The British ball has the same weight, but a diameter of 1.620 inches and there is no specified impact velocity.

WJBK Launches New TV Show

'Greatest Drama' utilizes one of the world's most complete news reel film files.

An outstanding new weekly television program centered about the life stories of leading American and international public figures, and utilizing one of the world's most complete libraries of newsreel film, had its premiere over Station WJBK-TV, Channel No. 2, when Ed Williams Tire Co., local General Tire dealers, in conjunction with the General Tire and Rubber Company, presented the first of a series entitled "Greatest Drama" Tuesday night at 5:45 p. m.

Produced by Movietone News under the direction of veteran radio-television writer Mike Sklar, "Greatest Drama" will highlight biographies by drawing on the famed cinematic organization's stockpile of more than 100 million feet of celluloid. The Movietone News library, which grows at the incredible rate of 60,000 feet weekly, dates back to the term of Theodore Roosevelt.

Each week, "Greatest Drama" will focus upon a prominent 20th Century personality who has attained top success in one particular field of endeavor, whether sports, the arts, politics, industry, science or the military world. Salient points of each celebrity's career will be illustrated with actual film sequences shot during his life, and edited into a complete biographical background.

Sklar, who will handle the writing as well as the production end of the show, has been associated with such well-known Radio and Television programs as "Famous Jury Trials," "You Are There," "Inner Sanctum," "Modern Romances," "Time Capsule," "Five Star Final," "Dumont Program Playhouse" and "Cavalcade of America."

Tie Is Possibility in TV Game Between UCLA, USC

By BOB MYERS

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Percentage is against it, but no one need be completely astonished if UCLA and Southern California play to a tie in their important Pacific Coast Conference encounter on the football field in Memorial Coliseum saturday.

These redhot crosstown rivals have played 22 times. Trojans of USC hold a big edge in victories, 14 to 4.

Since the UCLAns came of age, however, along about 1936, the teams have played four ties—7-7 in 1936, 0-0 in 1939, 7-7 in 1941 and 13-13 in 1944.

Comes 1953, both teams have comparable personnel, both operate off a basic single wing attack and both are decidedly anxious to win. It could be a standoff.

It should, too, prove exciting for the 90,000 or more fans present as well as the national television audience of millions from coast to coast.

The game, with the Bruins of UCLA aiming at the Rose Bowl honor and the Trojans ineligible for the Bowl but just as determined to win, starts at 1:30 p.m. (4:30 p.m. Eastern Standard Time). It will be carried over the NBC television network.

UCLA must win if it is to remain in contention with Stanford for the Rose Bowl designation.

State Aims for 3rd NCAA Title

Spartan Runners Are Favored in Race Over Lansing Course

EAST LANSING (AP) — Michigan State, defending champion, goes after its third straight NCAA cross country title Monday.

Spartans are favored to repeat in the 15th annual cross country run. A win would give Michigan State its third straight triple slam in cross country competition. Michigan State already has captured the team championship in Big Ten competition this season and has taken the IC4A title.

Strong teams from Indiana, Kansas, Wisconsin, Penn State, Pittsburgh, Syracuse, Georgetown and Miami, will be pointed at dethroning the Spartans.

Rangers Trip Hawks in Only NHL Game

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Thanksgiving Day is still a week off, but the New York Rangers were thankful today for the presence of the Chicago Black Hawks in the National Hockey League.

Fifth place Rangers have won five games this season—and four have been over the cellar-dwelling Hawks. New York continued its mastery last night by tripping the Hawks 3-1 in the only game played.

This is a complete reversal over last season when the Rangers were able to beat the Hawks only three times as against 10 defeats and one tie.

Open Season Monday

EAST LANSING (AP)—The hockey season will open for Michigan State over the Thanksgiving weekend with a road trip through New York state.

Games are scheduled Friday, Nov. 27, against St. Lawrence University at Canton, N. Y., Saturday with Clarkston Tech at Potsdam, N. Y. and Monday with St. Lawrence again.

Bowling Clinic

By BILLY SIXTY

CASE—Wide Open V Grip.

For "Run" Alleys—By opening the V, formed by thumb and index finger, so that the line is parallel, as illustrated, the hook break from right to left is reduced to a minimum. But the ball retains an effective, pin spilling spin.

The majority of top bowlers use it on alleys that are not slick and fast, and are conducive to a quick, sharp break. Release ball well in from gutter and make the No. 3 pin your target, adjusting to meet condition of alley surface.

Important: Fingers on right side of ball, but must be slightly underneath. Not on top. So that fingers will apply spin at release, thumb comes out of ball first. Remember: No wrist turn. Swing through long and smoothly so that short hook break occurs far down the alley and sharply into strike pocket.

Bears Utilize Power Backfield Much Like Rams

Detroit Offense Stale Recently, but Layne Is Ahead of '52 Mark

DETROIT (AP) — Detroit Lions sharpened up their claws today preparing for Sunday's meeting with the upset-minded Chicago Bears.

* * *

Bears have been hibernating in last place most of the year while the defending champion Lions have battled their way to the top of the Western Division standings in the National Football League.

But though the Bears are on the bottom of the pile, Lion coach Russ Thomas said "we'll have to score more than we have in the last three weeks if we're to beat the Bears."

Thomas, who has scouted the Chicago club three times this year, said the Bears have a big team "that will grind out yardage against anybody." He warned that Chicago has adopted the straight power backfield used so effectively by the Los Angeles Rams.

* * *

Bears' offensive and defensive statistics come close to matching those of the Lions. They have amassed 154-points — 23 less than the Lions. They have compiled a defensive record of 184 points — only 33 more than Detroit has permitted. These records cover eight games.

However, even though the Lions' offensive power has been stale in recent weeks, quarterback Bobby Layne is still ahead of his brilliant performance that paced the Detroit team to the national professional crown last year.

* * *

Layne has thrown 12 touchdown passes this year — two more than he tossed in the first eight games in 1952. His passing has accounted for 1,337 yards — nearly 100-yards over last year at this time.

Layne has had 15 passes intercepted, one more than the number of interceptions chalked up against him in 1952.

Knutson, Balzhiser Doubtful Starters for 'M'

By JOHN F. MAYHEW

ANN ARBOR (AP) — Michigan, which has lost its scoring punch, closes out a disappointing football season here Saturday against offense-minded Ohio State.

Outscored 55-9 in their last three Western Conference games, Coach Bennie Oosterbaan's Wolverines were hard put to it to come up with their share of the offensive threat that usually highlights this intense gridiron rivalry.

Buckeyes upset Michigan 27-7 a year ago and this year appear even stronger.

They are anxious to demonstrate their power before an expected crowd of 89,000 and finish the season witha 5-2 record in Big 10 competition.

Michigan, crippled at end and at fullback, was picked to lose and finish with a 2-4 mark in the conference, worst in 17 years.

Oosterbaan's big worry was at end, where regular Gene Knutson was rated an extremely doubtful starter, and fullback, where Dick Balzhiser was nursing a shoulder injury. Junior John Veselenak was ready to replace Knutson and sophomore Jerry Williams was prepared for relief duty. Balzhiser was expected to see at least limited action, with Bob Hurley ready to carry a good share of the load.

Sound and ready were halfbacks Tony Branoff and Ted Kress, the pivots of Michigan's running game, and sophomore Lou Baldacci, who calls the signals and shares in the passing.

Ohio, which has averaged 22.8 points per game in six conference contests, was headed by a pair of fleet halfbacks, Howard Cassady and Bob Watkins, with a pair of alternating quarterbacks furnishing a big passing threat.

Dave Leggett and John Borton, both ranking among the top five passers in the conference, spell danger for Michigan's defensive alignment. Tom Hague and Bob Joslin, Ohio's fine ends, combine with the Buckeye halfbacks to provide a strong receiving quartet.

Ohio lost only to Illinois and Michigan State, two of the league's top teams, while Michigan was shut out by Minnesota, held to a field goal by Illinois and to one touchdown by Michigan State.

Michigan's biggest hope lay in the unpredictable nature of the long rivalry, born in 1897. With and without big stakes and prospects, both teams have surprised the experts on more than one occasion.

Giel to Duel Ameche

By JERRY LISKA

CHICAGO (AP)—A gilt-edged All-America candidate, Minnesota's Paul Giel, and a bruiser in powerful stretch competition, Wisconsin's Alan Ameche, bang head-on as the Big Ten chase crosses the wire Saturday.

The traditional closing Wisconsin-Minnesota game provides a backdrop for what may prove one of the best individual duels of the season in the Midwest.

Pitted will be Giel, the slashing, rapier-like runner, who often fakes a pass before he runs, and Ameche, the blugeon-type line crumbler who just tucks away the ball and looks for tacklers.

Dick Cullum of the Minneapolis Tribune, one of the AP's Midwest All-America nominators, had this to say of Ameche after Wisconsin wrecked Illinois, 34-7 last Saturday:

"I neved hope to see better fullback play than that. His defense also was excellent."

Giel last Saturday was held by Iowa to his smallest net yardage in three years, but he entered the game badly battered and favoring a torn back muscle.

Another highly-rated Midwest All-America prospect, Notre Dame's Johnny Lattner, will have to prove his mettle Saturday against the same rugged Iowa team that made things so miserable for Giel.

The Midwest selection board figures the Irish game may boom at least one of the fine Iowa linemen for All-America. End Bill Fenton, center Jerry Hilgenberg and guard Cal Jones are Hawkeyes whom the Irish may long remember.

Board still rates high on its list these other stars: Ends Don Dohoney of Michigan State, Don Penza of Notre Dame, Johnny Ryan of Illinois, Ron Locklin of Wisconsin and Bob Topp of Michigan; tackles Ferris Hallmark of Michigan State, and Art Hunter of Notre Dame; guards Tom Bettis of Purdue and Jan Smid of Illinois; center Jerry Helgeson of Minnesota; and backs Bobby Watkins of Ohio State, Le Roy Bolden of Michigan State, J. C. Caroline of Illinois, and Ron Drzewiecki of Marquette.

DETROIT (UP) — Welterweight Pat Lowry will be shooting for his 6th straight victory tonight when he meets Ralph Alvarez of St. Paul, Minn., in the eight-round feature bout at Motor City Arena.

Lowry's overall record whows 27 victories, 22 of them by knockouts, against four losses.

Midwest Fans Like Hoosiers' Cage Chances

Indiana May Be Third Team in History to Repeat as Champs

NEW YORK (AP)—Only two national college basketball champions ever repeated. Oklahoma A&M did it in 1946 and Kentucky in 1949. Midwest partisans, especially those from the Hoosier state, think Coach Branch McCracken's Indiana quintet will be the third.

The 1952-53 version of the Hoosier Hotshots were perhaps the greatest team ever assembled in Indiana, the hotbed of basketball. At the start of the season Notre Dame managed to beat them by one point and Kansas State by two. Toward the end of the season Minnesota beat them by two points. Nobody else beat them at all.

• • •

In between the first two decisions and the last one, Indiana set an all-time Big Ten record, winning 17 conference games in a row. Then they cleaned up all NCAA competition.

All America candidates Don Schlundt, 6-foot-9 center, and Bob Leonard, 6-3 forward, are back.

If the Hoosiers are to be stopped, it might be done by Minnesota.

• • •

The Gophers, only conference team to beat Indiana last year, have a veteran team back led by Ed Kalafat and Chuck Mencel. Illinois will be depending on its sophs and giant center John Kerr, believed by some to be better than Indiana's Schlundt.

• • •

Kansas, national champions in 1952 and loser by one point to Indiana in the NCAA finals last year, is favored to win the Big Seven title for the third straight time.

Once again Kansas State is expected to give the Jayhawks the stiffest opposition.

Area Schools Feel Shifts in Classification

Changes in classification were announced Wednesday for several Oakland County and area schools but the real significance of the switch won't be felt until next March.

Basketball teams will notice the change when the annual tournaments begin and now compete in different classes.

Southfield and Lapeer have advanced from Class B to Class A. Oxford, always a strong tournament outfit as a Class C school, has passed the enrollment limit and now is Class B.

Orchard Lake St. Mary, Clarenceville and North Branch also have been boosted to Class B, as has Lakeview of the Bi-County League.

Van Dyke, which competed as Class A last year, has dropped into Class B.

Wisconsin Replaces Illini as Top Offensive Team

CHICAGO (AP)—Wisconsin—by the margin of only one yard—has replaced Illinois as the Big 10's No. 1 team on offense and the Illini also have been jolted out of a tie with Michigan State in top defense ratings.

Illinois' downfall in both departments stemmed from its 34-7 crushing by Wisconsin last week.

Official conference statistics today showed the Badgers averaging 359.2 yards per game, 249.2 by rushing and 110 by passing.

Illinois' total is 358.3, including 289.1 on the ground that still is the best rushing mark. Wisconsin is second in rushing with 249.2 and has a 110 on passing to the Illini's 68.8.

Best aerial team is Indiana with an average of 142.6.

Michigan State rates 1st on defense, yielding its opponents only 188 yards per game. Spartan defense has held foes to 137.5 by rushing—topped only by Iowa's allowance of 121.5—and 51 by passing. Spartans' foes averaged a mere 8.3 points per game. Illinois is ranked 3rd defensively.

Illinois' J. C. Caroline, who has cinched the national rushing title with 1,158 yards in eight games and set a Big 10 record of 872 in five league games, will shoot for two more conference marks against Northwestern in Saturday's finale.

He is averaging 171 yards per game compared to the record of 67.3 by Michigan's Bill Daley in three 1963 games. Caroline has carried 127 times for an average of 25.4, compared to the 147 running attempts in one season by Wisconsin's Alan Ameche in 1951.

Iowans Hopeful of Upset Over Top-Rated Irish

Evashevski Hopes Team Can Hit Peak Reached Against Gophers

By I. E. SKELLEY

IOWA CITY, Iowa (AP)—You don't hear anyone out here bragging that Iowa will lick Notre Dame in a football game Saturday—but many are saying they wouldn't be surprised if Iowa wins provided the Hawks play like they did against Minnesota.

• • •

Iowa fans, pleasantly pleased before the Minnesota game with a team that had a 4-3 record, really became hepped up when their favorites walloped the Gophers 27-0 last week with a fury unmatched perhaps since the championship days of 1921 and 1922.

The victory wasn't entirely unexpected but its decisiveness was. Iowa simply crumpled the Gophers and All American Paul Giel. Minnesota made a net of 81 yards and Giel, the Big Ten's total offense leader, got only 13 by rushing and 22 by passing.

• • •

But Notre Dame is something different. The undefeated Irish, ranked No. 1 in the nation, have linemen in sufficient numbers to perhaps more than match Iowa's hard-hitting men up front. Minnesota didn't and that was the difference—crunching blocks and tackles.

• • •

Iowa and Notre Dame have met every year since 1945 with Notre Dame winning six games. Two were ties. Before that, Iowa had beaten the Irish, three times—in 1921, 1939 and 1940.

Coach Forest Evashevski, whom Iowans give most credit for the Hawks' gridiron resurgence, said after the Minnesota game:

"We have a good chance against Notre Dame if we don't let down from this peak. It shouldn't be hard to get the club up against Notre Dame. On the other hand, I'm catching myself with that feeling of internal glow after a win like that, and it's dangerous to feel that way with a team like Notre Dame coming up."

'M' Attendance Slumps for 5th Straight Year

This Season to Show Drop of 4,000 Fans Per Game

ANN ARBOR (AP)—It hurts to lose ball games. But it hurts more to lose customers. That's the guiding philosophy behind big-time collegiate football.

Under that philosophy, Michigan is hurtin'. Attendance in Michigan's huge 97,239-seat stadium has dropped for the 5th straight year.

Of course, that's dropping from a peak of 563,363 customers in the 1949 season, year that saw an average home game crowd of 93,893 customers. That's a giant peak.

And a drop from that could only be expected. Crowds of 92,867 in 1950 and 445,635 in 1951 were still great crowds. However, last year's 395,907 began to cause concern in a business that is expected to support Michigan's widespread athletic program.

In five games this season the Wolverines have drawn 283,587 fans, an average of 56,717. Final game against Ohio State is expected to be played before close to 90,000 fans, bringing the per-game average up some. However, it will still mean a drop of about 4,000 customers per game.

Maryland Has Held Foes to Less Than a TD

Games Have Averaged 3.4 Points; Figures From NCAA Show

NEW YORK (AP)—Unbeaten Maryland goes into its final regular season football game Saturday against Alabama with a chance to turn in the nation's best defensive scoring record in six years.

Figures from the NCAA Service Bureau show that if the Terrapins hold Alabama to less than nine points they will have allowed the lowest total of points in major college competition since 1947; if they hold Alabama to less than 13 they'll have the lowest points-per-game mark since the same year.

• • •

And if Alabama gains less than 80 yards on the ground, Maryland probably will win the 1953 rushing defense title.

Statistics released today showed Maryland is the only team that has held the opposition to less than the equivalent of a touchdown a game. It leads in ground defense and is third in total defense. The Terps have permitted 3.4 points, 82.6 rushing yards and 176.8 total yards per game.

Ahead of them in total defense are Southern Methodist with 168 and Wichita with 175.9. Wichita led a week ago. SMU also is second in ground defense at 98.3 yards a game with no one else under 100.

Maryland's 31 points allowed is the smallest total since Penn State gave up 27 in nine games in 1947. The mark Maryland is trying to stay under is Army's 1950 total of 40 points in nine games, a 4.4 average.

Only four other teams have held the opposition to seven points or less this season—UCLA and Duke, 6 each; Cincinnati, 6-4; and SMU, 7.

Writers Tab Ben's British Open Win Top '53 Story

By OSCAR FRALEY

NEW YORK (UP)—Little mister icewater — that golfing genius from Texas named Ben Hogan — made the biggest sports news of 1953 regardless of what happens between now and the new year in the matter of picking the year's top 10 sports stories.

For downright drama which captured the imagination of the sports public, nothing approached Hogan's British invasion and the storybook manner in which he won the British Open on his first try. The buildup were his victories in the U. S. Open and the Masters.

From this corner, the top 10 stories in order — with valuable help from my conferers, were:

1. Hogan's British Open triumph.
2. New York Yankees' record fifth straight world championship.
3. Boston Braves' transfer to Milwaukee.
4. Dark Star's Kentucky Derby upset of Native Dancer.
5. Willie Shoemaker's record 400-plus riding victories.
6. Ted Williams' amazing return to baseball.
7. Football's return to the one-platoon system.
8. Lew Worsham's $53,000 golfing "eagle."
9. U. S. Supreme Court rules baseball a sport.
10. Maureen Connolly's second straight Wimbledon-U. S. slam.

Ducks Delaying Flights South, Experts Report

LANSING (AP)—Conservation department game experts believe lots of wild ducks still have not gone south.

They reported the annual mid-season aerial census along the important east and southeast Michigan marshes and flyways showed duck numbers down considerably from last year, except for a sharp increase in coot.

The census this year showed about 250,000 ducks, 27,000 coots, 100 geese and six swans from Saginaw Bay to Lake Erie marshes.

Last year, a week earlier, the census listed 453,000 ducks, 8,300 coots, 78 geese and three swans.

The experts said they believed the mild 1953 fall has kept large numbers of ducks in nothern waters. Hunting continues until Nov. 24.

Hunters Seek Game; Deer Stand Nearby

LANSING (AP) — Deer hunters would about give up their sport if they could take a ride with the state's aerial forest fire patrol.

Conservation department pilot Peter Van Valin reports he commonly sees groups of hunters sitting on runways, while deer are standing only a few yards away in the woods.

Van Valin said that on his last flight east of Vanderbilt one of the largest bucks he had ever seen was grazing peacefully near the door of a hunter's cabin. The hunters were seen strung out in a swamp a short distance away.

Fastest National League baseball game in 1953 required one hour and 39 minutes. In it the Giants beat the Redlegs, 4-3.

Lou Groza Likely to Set New Mark for Field Goals

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Lou (The Toe) Groza is well on his way to breaking his own record for most field goals in one season. Latest National Football League statistics show Groza has kicked 15 three pointers. His record set last year is 19.

Groza is leading the league in points scored with 68—15 field goals and 23 extra points. He still has four games to play. Bobby Walston of the Eagles ranks second in the scoring race with 63 points, 4 touchdowns, 30 conversions and three field goals.

Another accurate man with the foot, Ben Agajanian of Los Angeles, is third in scoring with 60 — 30 conversions and 10 field goals.

Otto Graham, despite 15 stitches in a badly mutilated jaw, increased his average gain in yards from 10.69 to 10.86 to maintain his leadership as the league's top passer.

He has attempted 174, completed 113 for 1,889 yards and 7 touchdowns. His completion percentage is 64.9. Bobby Thomason of Philadelphia held 2nd place despite five interceptions last Sunday. Thomason has an average yardage gain of 8.82.

Joe Perry of San Francisco tops the ground gainers for the 6th consecutive week with 637 yards on 128 attempts, an average of almost five yards per carry. Dan Towler of Los Angeles is 2nd with 527 yards and Charley Justice of Washington 3rd with 515.

Other leaders are Pete Pihos of the Eagles in pass receiving with 46 caught for 780 yards and nine TDs; Pat Brady of Pittsburgh in punting with a 48-yard average; Charley Trippi of the Chicago Cards in punt returns with an average of 12.6 yards. Joe Arenas of San Francisco in kickoff returns with a 41 yard average, and Tom Keane of Baltimore in pass interceptions with nine.

Woman's Two Sons Named to Be Bishops

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—Within a month's time Mrs. C. G. Marmion has seen her long hopes realized: her two sons are to become bishops.

At Roanoke, Va., yesterday the Rev. William Henry Marmion, rector of St. Andrew's Episcopal Church in Wilmington, Del., was named bishop-elect of the Episcopal diocese of southwestern Virginia.

Last month Mrs. Marmion's other son, the Rev. Charles Gresham Marmion Jr., rector of the Church of the Incarnation in Dallas, was named bishop-elect of Kentucky.

Doctors Study Quads Chances

Boy, Three Girls Born to University Couple in Florida

GAINESVILLE, Fla. (AP)—Doctors said they would know sometime today what chance the Hijab quadruplets have for survival.

The quads, three girls and a boy, were born yesterday to Mr. and Mrs. Wasfi Ahmad Hijab, both graduate students at the University of Florida. They were born prematurely and were placed in incubators without being weighed.

Dr. Raymond S. Camp estimated their weight at between two and three pounds each. Early today the infants were reported doing nicely.

* * *

The Hijabs are Syrians. The 33-year-old mother, a graduate student in education, said she wasn't excited—"not yet," anyway. She had expected twins.

The Hijabs have one other child, a daughter, Nadia, 3.

The father, 34, who is studying mathematics, said the first thing he did on learning his wife Abla had given birth to quadruplets was to throw away the book on child care used for guidance in rearing Nadia.

"It said nothing about quadruplets," Hijab said.

The people of Greenland only recently adopted a money economy, having previously lived through the barter of goods.

Chief Pursues 'Fire' to Scene He Just Left

XENIA, Ohio (AP) — Millard R. Dement, volunteer fire chief in nearby Clifton, hit a dog with his truck yesterday. He drove the truck into a ditch trying to avoid the animal.

While he was checking the dog's injuries, he heard the fire siren in Clifton. He jumped into his truck and sped into town, passing the village pumper on the way. In town he got an ambulance and started after the pumper.

He found it at the spot where he'd hit the dog. A neighbor, hearing the dog's howls and seeing the truck in the ditch, had called the fire department.

Dallas Erecting Big Oil Center

9-Story Building Will Centralize Many Facets of Industry

DALLAS, Tex. (UP)—The oil industry has taken a cue from the medical profession and is building a $3,000,000 oil center in Dallas.

The General American Oil Company Employes Retirement Trust is building the nine-story building near the Central Expressway, not far from downtown Dallas.

The idea was that if doctors found they could serve their patients better by concentrating all the allied fields in one medical center, the petroleum industry could benefit by similar centralization.

Daily and weekly oil reports are furnished by Petroleum News Corporation in its Five Star Oil Report, and Ira Rinehart's Oil Report by the Rinehart Oil News Co.

The city also is an oil publication center with these technical journals printed here: Journal of Petroleum Technology, Drilling Magazine, Petroleum Engineer, and Drilling Contractor.

Both the Dallas Morning News and the Dallas Daily Times Herald have full-time oil editors.

The Wall Street Journal carries oil stories written in Dallas by writers on its staff of the southwest edition of the financial newspaper.

Oil firms have been moving to Dallas in great numbers and while no oil is produced in the immediate vicinity of the north Texas city, its goal is to match Tulsa, Okla., and Houston, Tex., as a real oil capital.

Institute Tests Termite Habits in Canal Zone

WASHINGTON (UP) — Rows of upright posts that look like gravestones and are half buried in the soil of Barro Colorado Island in the Canal Zone may yield the answer to one of the home-owner's most vexing problems—termites.

The Smithsonian Institution's tropical biological station on the island maintains the posts to test the wood preferences of the island's 42 species of termites.

The posts, of many different woods, are impregnated with various types of repellents and poisons in an effort to find an effective means of combating the expensive pests.

One of the 42 species, scientifically known as "Coptotermes Niger," eats lead. It gnaws its way through the indigestible lead sheathing of cables because it hopes there will be wood on the other side.

Efforts to poison termite colonies are not always successful. Whole races of them have developed on Barro Colorado Island. They not only resist arsenic but seem to thrive on it.

The explanation for this is found in the way termites digest the cellulose in wood.

Bacteria which live in their stomachs digest the substance for they are not able to do this for themselves. It was hoped that the arsenic would kill these bacteria, thus starving the termite.

In the first experiments with arsenic at least 90 per cent of the bacteria were killed but the remain hardy specimens quickly multiplied themselves into a new race entirely impervious to arsenic.

Huron Valley Reports on UF

Reaches 75 Per Cent of Its Goal; Final Count Is Due Next Tuesday

MILFORD — Tabulation of the United Fund campaign for the Huron Valley area has been completed and about 75 per cent of the goal has been reached, according to Sandford Burton, campaign chairman.

The original quota of $13,601.12 is approximately $4,000 more than last year due to a survey conducted by the '20 Townships' group headed by Kenneth Maton.

The survey found that the Huron Valley area quota was low according to population, business organizations, income and property valuations, therefore the $4,000 quota increase.

For the first time in an annual Community Chest drive, the Oakland County Chapter of the American Red Cross will rely exclusively on funds derived from the United Fund Campaign. There will be no separate Red Cross drive next spring, according to Burton, and 10 per cent more will be given the organization this year.

So far $8,165.65 has been raised, and final tabulation will be made public at the regular Tuesday night meeting of the campaign workers. Other U. F. officers are Mrs. William Dildine, president; Dr. Earl Book, treasurer and Mrs. Clarence Shuette, secretary. Burton is vice president.

West Bloomfield UF at 80 Per Cent Mark

WEST BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP — With a few areas yet to be reported, the township's United Fund quota stood at 80.7 per cent collected today.

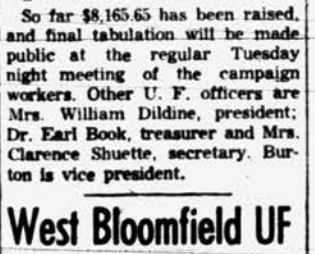

A total of $10,054.54 has been reported, according to Francis L. Ammerman, chairman of the campaign. The quota is $12,454.86.

Those not yet contacted may mail checks to the United Fund, Keego Harbor, or leave them with Mrs. Lylia Ross at the Keego branch of the Community National Bank, Ammerman said.

'Lucy' Show Still Rolling Along Merrily

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — "I Love Lucy" keeps on rolling along.

The Lucille Ball-Desi Arnaz show stays on its merry course, despite Red headlines, critics' knocks and conflicting audience ratings.

Some of the latter show "Lucy" still holding the No. 1 spot it has enjoyed for the past year or two. Other surveys claim "Dragnet" has overtaken the Monday night domestic show.

The "Lucy" troupe isn't worried, says Jess Oppenheimer, the sharp-eyed producer and head writer of the program.

"Ratings are nice, but they don't mean everything," he explained. "The important thing is audience acceptance, and I think we've got that. There was something wrong in the big lead we had over other shows last season. The situation wasn't good for TV. The other shows had to improve or something had to happen."

I asked if he thought the show had been affected by the sensational headlines about Lucille Ball's having registered as a Communist voter 17 years ago.

"No, I don't think it has had any effect," he remarked. "We were worried about it at the time, but now we can't notice any reaction. The number of crank letters we receive is infinitesimal compared to how many we get commending Lucille."

There have been some critical raps about the sameness of some of the "Lucy" plots. What about it?

"We realize, too, that we can't go on doing the same things," Oppenheimer commented. "Perhaps we have had too many shows about Lucy wanting to get into show business or about the fights with their neighbors, the Mertzes. But we are getting more careful about seeking new kinds of plots.

"There is no end to the variations we can achieve. We start with the relations of a young husband and wife and an older husband and wife, and that leads to many possibilities.

"We now plan to get the Ricardos out of the usual apartment and nightclub sets. We're going to use the corner drugstore in several shows as a kind of neighborhood meeting place. We also will show the street outside the apartment and introduce the cop on the beat as a character."

This shows how aware TV producers are of public reaction. Jack Webb told me that he altered the monotoned dialogue on "Dragnet" after fan mail and critical barbs attacked it.

Likewise, Milton Berle switched his whole format when sagging ratings told him something new had to be added. Now he's back among the winners.

There has also been much criticism of the laughs that punctuate the comedy on filmed shows. Oppenheimer came to the defense of the laugh tracks.

"If you put on situation comedy shows without laughs, they would be the dullest things you ever saw," he remarked.

"And playing before an audience improves performances 100 per cent. We can tell that when we have to shoot brief scenes without an audience. When those scenes are put into the finished show, the tempo drops measurably."

Actually, the criticism has been largely directed at filmed shows in which the laughter has been added to the sound track later. Oppenheimer reported that the "Lucy" laughs are 99 per cent for real.

Milford Couple Married in Candlelight Ceremony

MILFORD — In a double ring candlelight ceremony Saturday evening, Prudy Carol Thompson became the bride of James Bedford in Commerce Methodist Church.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Russell Thompson of Bogie Lake road. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Bedford of West Commerce road.

Prudy chose a gown with a Chantilly lace bodice with a row of lace buttons decorating it from neckline to the pointed waistline. Her billowing skirt of nylon tulle over satin was fashioned with lace applique panels.

A crown of seed pearls held her fingertip veil, and she carried a chapel bouquet of baby chrysanthemums and carnations centered with a corsage of white roses.

Carol Halliday served as maid of honor wearing a gown of peacock blue lace and nylon tulle. Mary Lou Bedford, sister of the bridegroom, was the bridesmaid attired in a similar gown of coral. Bridal attendants carried contrasting Shalmer bouquets of chrysanthemums and wore flower headdresses to match.

Serving as best man was Duane Applebee. Groomsman was Willis Leist. Seating the guests were Robert Bedford, brother of the bridegroom, and James Thompson, brother of the bride, and David Charlick.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Thompson wore a dress of iridescent taffeta with midnight blue accessories and a corsage of cybidium orchids. Mrs. Bedford wore gray with red accessories and an orchid corsage.

After a reception for 175 friends and relatives in Masonic Hall, the bride changed to a beige wool suit with red accessories for a wedding trip through Canada to Niagara Falls. The couple is now living at 1085 Hill Rd.

Milford PTA Will Hold Harvest Fair on Friday

MILFORD — For the first time in its history Milford PTA will hold an old-fashioned harvest fair in the high school tomorrow night.

Plans for the gala affair, to begin at 7 p. m., were completed Monday night by committee heads who reported on the progress of various activities to be presented.

A wide variety of entertainment will be offered beginning with an old-fashioned "hoe-down" in the gymnasium. A floor show has been arranged, and the Ray Wheeler orchestra will play for both square and round dancing with Harry Duckering as caller.

Annette DeRose, radio and television star, will present two tap numbers, followed by soloist Valerie Curtis. Milford's own Barbershoppers will present a series of numbers with surprise endings.

Sixty cakes have been promised for a big cake walk.

In the different rooms, home room mothers will be in charge of games, stunts, movies and other amusements of the fair.

A special FFA and FMA exposition directed by Herschel Krebbs, agricultural teacher, and Mrs. A. L. Tripp, home economics instructor, will also be featured. Farm produce and articles of sewing will be on display.

Proceeds from the fair will be used to help buy a curtain for the multi-purpose room in Bertha Baker School. The balance will be supplied by the Board of Education. Arthur Burklund, superintendent of elementary grades, estimated costs at $535 for a plastic curtain and $635 for the heavy velour type.

Turkey Brings No Joy to GIs

Eighth Army in Korea Moans Over Prospect of More Fowl

SEOUL (AP)—The U. S. 8th Army announced with apparent gusto this week that the soldiers in Korea would be "devouring more than 150 tons of turkey" on Thanksgiving Day.

But the apparent gusto, it seemed, was confined to the quartermaster people.

Slowly the dread news spread—from the rear echelons right up to where troops look out on the demilitarized zone.

You could hear the wail in tent and bunker. "Oh no, not turkey again—anything, even boiled eel or turnip greens."

What was the story behind this uprising against the turkey.

This puzzled reporter went out to investigate.

"Why couldn't it have been steak?" asked a captain. He was an obvious beef eater.

"Chances are 3 to 5 we'd have got turkey whether it was Thanksgiving or not," said a private.

"Back home," moaned another enlisted man, "we ate turkey about three times a year instead of three times a week, and I could enjoy it."

• • •

That was it. The Army suffered from a glut of turkey. How come? A lieutenant colonel wasn't sure. But he told how it was late in the war.

The colonel recalled with fine nausea those last harrowing days—two weeks when the front-line soldiers had turkey every other day.

"It was a ration foulup," he declared, "and it did us a lot more harm than the enemy did."

So the situation is normal—all fowled up. Turkey on the menu twice a week with hot turkey sandwiches and turkey salad in between.

• • •

A mess sergeant told me he became so depressed he took to strong drink. He wanted to put up a sign on the mess hall door: Caution: Turkey Today." His major talked him out of it.

It isn't just the repetition that has the U. S. 8th Army down on turkey. The cause lies deeper than that—in the deep freeze where the turkey is kept, the colonel said.

"Maybe the turkey just comes too damned far and for too damned long," the colonel said.

Businessman Fights Fine of $1 Twelve Years Ago

MIDLAND (AP)—Dr. Kenneth McKay was fined $1 for overtime parking in 1941—12 years ago—but he hasn't paid the fine yet. And he doesn't intend to any time soon, even if it costs him a few more thousand dollars.

"It's a matter of principle," explained Dr. McKay, who got a dental degree from the University of Michigan in 1897 but turned to street and road contracting around the outbreak of World War I.

"My crew," he explained by way of background, "was working on Midland's main street in 1941. I drove around a barricade we had erected and parked. I got a ticket. I try to explain. I get a fast ride in a police car. I didn't like it.

"Seems a newspaper or one of its reporters had got 16 tickets and had announced neither he nor it was paying until somebody of prominence did. I got pinched. I posted $1 of land."

Court records show McKay was convicted of overtime parking in November 1941, and fined $1.5 plus cost of $11.05 in a justice of the peace court. He appealed to circuit court and the now late Judge Ray Hart reduced the fine to 50 cents and the cost to the same.

McKay appealed to the Michigan Supreme Court, which declined to hear his side.

Three times county clerk Benjamin F. Voorhees Jr. sent McKay checks for $99—his fund minus 50 cents fine and 50 cents costs. Three times McKay refused to cash them within the specified time.

Only yesterday circuit Judge Holbrook denied a new motion of McKay's attorneys to return the full amount of the bond.

Some court attendants gathered Judge Holbrook told McKay's lawyer for a second time: Give us a dollar and we'll return the full $100 posted a bond.

"Ain't gonna do it," said Dr. McKay. "I posted an appearance bond. I was there. It's a matter of principle."

He added: "As a matter of fact, my attorneys haven't been able to decide just what he (Judge Holbrook) said. If he said what you newspaper folk say, OK. That just means we're going back to the Supreme Court. My attorneys probably will let me know in a day or two. I wasn't there."

There's politics in this thing too, you know. A political ring down at city hall and the courthouse and I haven't got along. I'm supposed to be their goat, or how do you call it—whipping boy?"

Just how much has this paving contractor spent in defense of $1.

"I'm ashamed to say," McKay confided. "As I remember I hired every lawyer in town as defense counsel at the start, just as a joke. Say a few thousand dollars."

New Cow-Hair Sponge Cleans Car Windshield

NEW YORK (UP)—The cow has come to the aid of the motorist.

A "hair sponge" is now available for removing insects that stick to auto windshields and bodies. The sponge is composed of fine coils of cattle-tail hair imbedded in cellulose.

You simply wet the sponge and apply it to the car surface to remove insects. It may also be used to clean glassware, porcelain, paintwork and other surfaces.

The ferret is one of the few mammals which can be infected with human influenza.

Book Jackets Using New Polyethylene

NEW YORK (UP)—Polyethylene plastic, which goes into such varied products as "squeeze bottles" and artillery shells, finally has gone literary.

It uses the window technique, too, in a new type of book jacket.

Two sturdy sheets of paper that form the front and back of the jacket are laminated to the plastic film, which is designed to withstand rough handling and resist ink and water.

The title on the spine of the book may be read through the translucent window.

The protective jacket can be folded to fit books of different sizes and the width of the window is adjustable to expose the entire title.

An increase of 35 per cent in world food production would be needed to meet the most pressing needs of the world's people, according to an estimate by the Twentieth Century Fund.

Grains Decline Excepting Corn

CHICAGO (AP) — Grains headed downward in fairly active dealings on the Board of Trade today, soybeans and wheat showing the largest loss. Corn resisted selling.

Profit taking appeared to be the main factor in the slump in soybeans, which had moved up to new seasonal highs in the previous session. The wheat decline came despite overnight sale of about three million bushels of red wheat to Spain.

Wheat near the end of the first hour was ½ to 1 cent lower. December $2.00, corn ⅛ lower to ⅛ higher, December $1.50¼, oats ¼ lower to ⅛ higher, December 76⅛, soybeans ½ to 1¾ lower, January $2.96¼, and lard 17 to 38 cents lower, December $14.02.

Some Stocks Up 1 to 2 Points

NEW YORK (AP) — The Stock Market was higher today with gains in key areas going to between 1 and 2 points.

Losses were almost all small, but they extended in some instances to around a point.

The market was mixed in early trading, and when prices began to improve the tempo of business stepped up. The pace of trading was around a million and a half shares as compared with yesterday's million and a quarter shares.

The steels and motors were the most active of the major groups, and good gains were shown. Also higher were aircrafts, utilities, coppers, chemicals, railroads, and building materials.

Underwood Corp. lost a little more than a point after directors declared a dividend of 25 cents as against 75 cents previously paid quarterly. A year ago a year-end dividend of $1.75 was declared.

Wilson Truck Agency to Build

GMC Firm President Announces New Site at Oakland and Cass

Purchase of a future site for the Wilson GMC Co. at Oakland and Cass Aves., was announced today by Edward Wilson, president. This company is the local sales agency for the GMC Truck & Coach Division of General Motors.

The property is on the northwest corner of Oakland and Cass, and includes 406 feet on Oakland and 528 feet on North Cass.

The former owners were Mr. and Mrs. William Pike. The purchase was made through Bruce Annett of Roy Annett, Inc., realtors. The consideration was not announced.

Wilson said that construction would be started in the spring on a building approximately 150 x 150 feet.

"Increasing sales have forced this move," said Wilson. "Our present quarters at 77 East Huron St., have been completely outgrown.

"The new site will give us adequate room for a building which will care for our sales, parts and service needs.

"It will enable us to provide better service for our customers, with easy access from any point in or outside of the city."

Charles E. Wilson Jr., is affiliated with Edward Wilson in the company and Fred Walker is the local manager.

E. M. Braden, general sales manager of Chrysler Division, has announced the appointment of Walter E. Foraker as Chrysler organization manager. Foraker will direct Chrysler's field sales group.

Man Loses Fingers in Corn Picker

An Oxford Township man was trapped for an hour in his corn picking manchine yesterday before a neighbor finally heard him calling for help and summoned aid, according to Oakland County sheriff's deputies.

Claude Wood, 42, of 5630 Granger Rd., lost two fingers of his right hand and suffered cuts when he attempted to clean his corn picker while it was running, deputies said.

A neighbor, Willard Bickel of 5640 Hummer Lake Rd., heard Wood's pleas for help but could not locate him, so Bickel called deputies who found and released Wood from rollers of the machine.

The injured man was taken to Goodrich Hospital by his wife, Vera. His condition today is fair, according to the hospital.

2 Demand Examination at Court Arraignment

ROYAL OAK—Two men, who police said admitted the holdup of the Dondero and Wolcott Realty and Insurance firm here, demanded examination at their arraignment at Municipal Court yesterday.

Herbert G. Marcotte, 23, of Detroit, and Clarence J. McLatcher, 24, of 914 Mace, Royal Oak Township, appeared before Judge John E. Brondige who set bonds for $3,000 and examination for Nov. 30.

Police said both men told them they robbed the realty firm on two occasions, once Monday netting $110 and once three weeks ago getting $300.

Overheating Auto OK; Just Needs a Radiator

DALLAS (AP) — Bob Storey was driving to work when his new car began to heat up.

"There isn't anything wrong," he said, "except that you need a radiator."

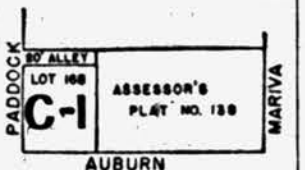

Someone had swiped the radiator during the night and relocked the hood.

Ready Islands for Tourists

Virgin Chain Expecting Big Invasion of 100,000 Visitors

ST. THOMAS — The Virgin Islands will rock this year with the biggest invasion since the days of the Spanish Main. Tourists, 100,000 strong, are expected to turn up to sample the sun, sand, bargains of the free port, and the climate, guaranteed by Lloyds of London to stay above 70.

Aware that tourism is the best way to pump income into this Robinson Crusoe setting, Virgin Islanders are busy coating the scenery with the basic comforts. Accommodations, says a recent airline's survey, have tripled in the last two years. Cottage colonies are abuilding hard by the sea, and big luxury hotels now dot the mountain tops.

Everyone who comes to the islands does a bit of buying, for goods in the free port of St. Thomas sell for fantastically low prices.

Bargain-priced are native market dresses, Danish silver, Swedish glass, German cameras, French perfumes and all kinds of liquor. One shop, for example, in St. Thomas' Barretta Center which has three offshoots — Hibiscus Alley, Jasmine Lane and Orchid Row, all converted warehouses dating back to the plush days of the Danish West Indian Company.

Warehouses painted in gay colors and crawling with tropical flowers offer the best brands of Scotch for $2.50 the fifth, cigarettes for $1.12 a carton. Cognac is cheaper than in Paris. Perfume, Jensen silver, Limoges and Wedgewood china sell for 25 to 60 per cent less than in the U. S.

St. Thomas, St. John and St. Croix are the three largest of some 40 tiny islands which comprise the U. S. Virgin Islands. Discovered by Columbus in 1493, they were colonized by the Dutch, settled by the Danes, captured by the British, returned to the Danes after the Battle of Waterloo, and finally sold by Denmark to the U. S. A. in 1917.

St. Thomas has retained faint traces of its Danish ownership, and the capital Charlotte Amalie is named for a Danish Queen. A one-hour drive from the historic capital with its open market, 17th century fort and pirate coves brings one to Magens Bay, one of the most beautiful beaches in the West Indies.

Twenty minutes by air from St. Thomas are the stone windmills and sugar plantations of St. Croix. Everywhere there is handy swimming in the sea. Chief pastime for many visitors is lobstering at night.

Least developed, and therefore most peaceful of all the islands is St. John, just 40 minutes and $1 via boat from St. Thomas. There are two new and growing tourist developments on St. John—Caneel Bay and Trunk Bay — both of which offer rooms and cottages near the sea.

Cousins Cross Ocean Before Being Introduced

CHEYENNE, Wyo. (UP) — Two cousins who lived 40 miles apart in Scotland met for the first time in Cheyenne— 5,000 miles from home.

Jim Gairn, 32, formerly of Edinburgh met his cousin William Gall, Jr., 24, of Glasgow when he came to Cheyenne to visit his uncle William "Scotty" Jack Gairn, who now lives in Ontario, Canada, expects to see more of Gall now that only 2,500 miles separate them.

Hungry Little Mouse

BOONE, Iowa (UP)—Telephone company officials here are tired of feeding a certain culprit mouse. Twice a mouse has caused a service failure to 105 farm homes by chewing the insulation on a cable east of Boone. "We're getting tired of feeding that mouse," the company manager said.

Motorist Discovers Very Alarming Box

McALESTER, Okla. (UP) — One out-of-city motorist will think twice before he tries to pay a parking ticket again in McAlester.

After receiving the ticket, the conscientious driver was told he could deposit it, plus the required 25 cents, in a "little red box" on a certain street.

He did. He was still parked beside the fire alarm box when three trucks roared up to the spot.

Silver may be drawn into wire finer than human hair.

Tire-Changer Trapped

BOONVILLE, Ind. (UP) — Everett Holder caught two fingers between a jack and the bed of his truck while changing a tire. He was trapped nearly an hour before a passing motorist saw him signal for aid with his other hand and stopped to release him.

Human-Raised Animals Sometimes Get Confused

BAR HARBOR, Me. (UP) —A scientist at the Jackson Memorial Laboratory says some animals raised by human beings get mixed up.

Frank Bauer said during a behavior clinic at the laboratory that goslings which have seen men during the first few seconds of life have adopted them as their own kind and spurned other geese.

He said a white peacock was placed with sea turtles in the reptile house of a Vienna zoo. The peacock grew up attached to the turtles and scornful of his kind.

The turtles didn't share his feeling, Bauer said.

Although India was a British possession for 150 years, only about 300,000 Indians among the nation's 350 million people speak or write English.

Heady Brew!

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UP)—A series of explosions in the basement of the Kanawha County jail brought deputies on the run. Eight quarts of home brew, stored as evidence, had blown up.
