Killer of Policeman Incoherent in Cell

A former mental patient who killed a Royal Oak Township policeman and wounded another officer in a barrage of rifle fire was nearly incoherent when questioned in his jail cell today.

Held for investigation of murder at the Oakland County Jail is Donald P. Bennyfield, 28, an unemployed factory worker who was released from Pontiac State Hospital three years ago.

A witness said Bennyfield greeted two policemen with a hail of bullets when they came to his home to investigate reports that he had been bothering girls in the neighborhood.

Killed was Sgt. James Gatewood Jr., 45, father of six children, whose body was riddled with six bullets from the 22-calibre automatic rifle wielded by the berserk gunman.

★ ★ ★

Patrolman Edward Watkins, who was shot once in the shoulder, was scheduled to undergo surgery for removal of the bullet today at Mount Carmel Mercy Hospital in Detroit. His condition is reported as fair.

Gatewood was dead on arrival at the same hospital shortly after the shootings occurred at about 4 p.m. yesterday.

Oakland County Prosecutor George F. Taylor said that Bennyfield remembered the shootings but kept mumbling and drifting into incoherency when he made his statement this morning.

THOUGHT PSYCHOTIC

Dr. William E. Gordon, a Detroit psychiatrist, believed that Bennyfield was psychotic after examining him last night, according to Taylor.

★ ★ ★

However, the prosecutor said Bennyfield would not be committed to a mental institution until some details in his statements to police were checked out.

"He knew enough to take aim at the policemen without shooting his mother who I understand was in the line of fire, said Taylor.

★ ★ ★

The prosecutor said criminal charges against Bennyfield would not be dropped until all aspects of the case are studied.

Watkins was called yesterday when Mrs. Sheridan Rowe, 21, of 10749 Deerfield St., said Bennyfield had followed her home and then stayed around her house.

★ ★ ★

Bennyfield ran to his home, about a block away, when Watkins arrived. Gatewood was then sent to assist him. Mrs. Paris Bennyfield, Donald's mother, said her son ran up to their home shouting, "Mama! Mama! Let me in. The cops are after me!"

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Bennyfield locked the screened rear door and pleaded with the police not to go into the home, she said.

She said a fusillade of bullets suddenly ripped through the screen door as she talked to the officers.

★ ★ ★

"I felt a bullet pass right across my lips," she said.

A township fireman said he witnessed the shootings.

HEARD SHOTS

"I heard a rat-a-tat-tat about five or six times," said Edward Tenant, 34, of 10434 Alvord St. "Gatewood doubled right over, ran off to the right and fell down. Watkins spun around and started to run off the other way, and then he fell.

★ ★ ★

Tenant got on the squad car radio and called for assistance. Within minutes, state police, a sheriff's officer, and police from Ferndale and Oak Park were at the scene.

Bennyfield surrendered without a fight. Redford State police said a 9½-inch kitchen knife was found in his pocket when taken into custody.

COWERS AT JAIL

Bennyfield was taken to the Oak Park jail where officers said he cowered under a blanket in his cell and murmured indistinguishably when efforts were made to question him.

Gatewood was one of the officers who accompanied Bennyfield to Pontiac State Hospital when he was committed there in 1953. The slain officer's children range in age from 7 to 23.

Centennial Rolls On to High Point

Roundup Day to See Judging of the Beards

Belles' Period Dresses Will Win Plaques on Saturday Morning

By PETE LOCHBILER

The eight-day Greater Pontiac Centennial will roll to a climax over the weekend with costume contests for the Centennial Belles and beard contests for the Brothers of the Brush.

For the estimated 7,000 women who have been wearing colorful period costumes for Pontiac's 100th anniversary as a city, judging will begin at 10 a.m. Saturday, "Round-Up Day," in Wisner Stadium.

The 2 p.m. preliminaries in the contest for an estimated 4,000 bearded men will follow. Finals at 8 p.m. in the stadium will precede a shave-off contest. There'll be plaques for the 13 best awards in various styles.

The contests come after a colorful "International Day" festival this afternoon, 1-5:30 p.m. at the Elks Tempie.

Folk dances, exotic delicacies, and unusual displays by 25 ethnic groups in the Pontiac area contributed to an atmosphere combining elements of Europe, Asia, North and South America.

There are performances of "The Pontiac Story" at Wisner Stadium tonight, Saturday night and Sunday night. If any performance is rained out, there'll be another "rain check" performance Monday night.

In yesterday's "Youth Day" activities, students from six Pontiac area high schools filed some 75 posts in Pontiac and Oakland County government.

At City Hall, teenagers each went through an orientation program in the morning, then brought their newly gained "know how" to bear during a mock city commission meeting in the afternoon.

Money Means 'Nothing' as Students Rule County

By GEORGE T. TRUMBULL JR.

County employes yesterday were granted "well-earned" pay raises.

Hold it, all 1,400 of you. Don't scurry off and spend that extra dough. You won't get a penny of it. As much as you wish it were for real, it was only through the make believe sacrifice of an understanding 16-year-old Pontiac Northern senior that your pay checks were to be increased.

"First thing they told me was to get them a raise," said John Pence, 365 W. Columbia Ave. "So I did."

★ ★ ★

John who became board of supervisors chairman, hadn't learned his lesson in how county government works. He forgot to consult the board of supervisors, who would have been astounded by how fast the "Youth Day" county officials picked up the tempo of running a county of 690,583 persons.

Like bashful Susan Simpson, 15, of 639 Wesbrook Ave., a junior to be at Pontiac Northern. She casually strolled down a crowded Saginaw Street in her high-heeled shoes toting $58,000 in county receipts headed for a bank to deposit the money.

"I was watching the parade," she said nonchalantly.

Money apparently came easy for her. She hardly batted an eyelash

The weatherman said skies will be clear and temperatures a cool 52 tonight.

Saturday will be fair and a little warmer, with the warming trend continuing Sunday and Monday.

Precipitation will total less than three-quarters of an inch in showers Monday and Tuesday.

The lowest reading in downtown Pontiac preceding 8 a.m. was 58 degrees. The thermometer registered 53 at 2 p.m.

Below-Par Weather Chills Western

Special to The Pontiac Press

GRAND RAPIDS — The weather aroused as much conversation as the nation's leading golfers today as the second round of the Western Open Golf Tournament got under way at Blythevile Country Club.

The thermometer hovered around 52 degrees, there was a chilly wind blowing, the skies were dark and gloomy and rain alternately started and stopped as golf fans braved the elements to watch the top pros in action.

Scores gave indications of going up in contrast to Thursday's first round when 61 players bettered the par 36-35—71 Blythefield course and another 20 equaled it.

Praised for Service to Schools

Pontiac Honors Louis Schimmel

A man who served more than a generation of Pontiac school children last night was honored for "outstanding community contributions" by the Greater Pontiac Community Council.

Louis H. Schimmel, who retired from the Pontiac School Board in February after 24 years, received the William W. Donaldson Citizenship Trophy from a long-time friend and associate, Dr. Dana P. Whitmer, superintendent of schools.

As president of the advisory council and chairman of the "Youth Day" activities of the Greater Pontiac Centennial, Whitmer chose to make the presentation before hundreds of persons gathered at Wisner Stadium last night for "Youth Day" exercises and the third performance of "The Pontiac Story."

"Better schools, better education, a better Pontiac" — this was the way Whitmer summed up Schimmel's contributions to the community.

★ ★ ★

Through masterly handling of budgetary and financing matters over a spread of 2½-decades, Schimmel insured a high level of instruction and up-to-date school facilities for thousands of Pontiac area school children, Whitmer pointed out.

STATEWIDE INFLUENCE

In a broader sense, he observed, school children throughout the state have benefited from Schimmel's dedicated work in behalf of schools.

As the confidant of governors and personal consultant to the state's superintendents of public instruction, Schimmel's influence for better schools has been statewide, Whitmer said.

He described the municipal financing expert as "the architect and moving force" behind new provisions in the state's constitution that have saved school construction programs in Pontiac and throughout the state "from financial death."

★ ★ ★

One of these constitutional amendments was passed by voters just last November, thanks in great measure to Schimmel's tireless efforts, Whitmer noted.

Though retired from the school board, Schimmel still serves Pontiac, and Oakland County as well.

As Oakland County representative on the Detroit Water Board he will carry an important responsibility once Pontiac begins using Detroit water. Schimmel is vice president of the board at present.

Busy as a consultant to various local, state and national governments, agencies and commissions, Schimmel's main job is director of the Municipal Advisory Council of Michigan, with offices in Detroit. He lives at 509 W. Iroquois Road.

Harold Macmillan Ill

LONDON (AP)—Prime Minister Harold Macmillan has a cold and sore throat and has canceled all weekend engagements on his doctor's orders, his office said today.

Castro Rejects Latest Offer by Tractor Group

HAVANA (AP)—Prime Minister Fidel Castro rejected today the latest offer by the "Tractors for Freedom" Committee and accused the Americans of lying and trying to break off negotiations.

Castro said he would permit a delegation of prisoners "to go again to the United States to explain to the North American people the facts" on the proposed tractors-for-prisoners swap.

The committee's last offer of exchanging 500 small farm tractors for 1,200 Cuban prisoners "has no other purpose but to break off the negotiations and blame the Cuban government for it," Castro said in a note to the committee. "The responsibility is exclusively yours."

★ ★ ★

Castro said the American committee "lies in saying Cuba has changed its original proposal. It is a trick devised by you to confuse North American public opinion and the prisoners' own relatives."

He added, "While the committee talks of its interests for the standard of life of the Cuban people, it pretends that Cuba accepts the ridiculous offer of tractors whose power and value are not enough to satisfy even a meager part of the damages suffered because of cowardly and criminal aggression against Cuba organized by the United States government."

REVEALED ON RADIO

Castro's decision first was announced by Havana Radio.

★ ★ ★

The Tractors for Freedom Committee had set a noon deadline today in a take-it-or-leave-it ultimatum that capped nearly a month of negotiations.

The committee's final offer was to exchange the prisoners for 500 bulldozers of various types, mostly farm tractors.

It said that if Castro failed to accept, money received from contributors to the tractor fund would be returned to the senders.

Kennedy Calls Surprise Talk

Top Security Advisers Are Summoned as JFK Leaves Sickbed

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy called a surprise conference of his top national security advisers today and his party's leadership in Congress on the Soviet threat to Berlin.

The President, making a swift comeback from the virus attack that put him in bed Thursday, arranged the 1:00 p.m. luncheon session on short notice.

Pierre Salinger, the White House press secretary, said "a wide variety of subjects" would be discussed but specified that Berlin was one of them.

Kennedy already had signaled a large measure of recovery by leaving his sickbed to play host to Japanese Prime Minister Hayato Ikeda.

LUNCHEON LIST

The luncheon guest list included Secretary of State Dean Rusk, Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara, Asst. Secretary of State Foy Kohler, Llewellyn Thompson, U.S. Ambassador to Moscow, and McGeorge Bundy, presidential assistant for national security affairs.

Three senators were invited—J. William Fulbright, D-Ark., chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee; Mike Mansfield, D-Mont., majority leader, and Richard B. Russell, D-Ga., chairman of the Senate Armed Services Committee.

The meeting followed a busy morning for Kennedy. In addition to the call from Ikeda who came to say goodbye, he met Dr. Nathan Pusey, president of Harvard University, and then received an oral briefing from Ambassador Adlai Stevenson on Stevenson's 10-country tour of Latin America.

Stevenson said the President—who still is receiving penicillin injections—"looked fine—I couldn't see anything wrong."

Kennedy posed for photographs with Ikeda and then walked with him to the White House driveway to see the Japanese visitor off.

Ikeda paid a farewell call closing three days of high-level talks.

The crutches that a back strain had forced Kennedy to use before he was felled by illness were nowhere in sight.

He walked slowly, but if he limped at all it was so slightly as to be hardly discernible.

Ikeda closed out his visit with a statement that the three days with Kennedy and other U.S. leaders had demonstrated anew the solidarity of the free world.

AT NATIONAL AIRPORT

He made that farewell comment at National Airport just before his take-off.

Full military honors were rendered before Ikeda and his wife boarded the big plane for New York where the prime minister's first engagement was with United Nations Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold.

Kennedy canceled a scheduled wind-up conference with Ikeda Thursday after coming down with the virus infection which shot his temperature to 101.6 degrees before it broke.

His doctor reported late Thursday that he was recovering very nicely. Kennedy set out to prove it today.

He did, however, yield to advice from the White House physician, Dr. Janet Travell, and agree to remain in his second-floor living quarters in the mansion.

Damp and Chilly Weather Picture in North and East

By The Associated Press

Rather unseasonable coolness and widespread showers again dominated the weather picture in most of the Northern and Eastern sections of the nation today.

★ ★ ★

The principal shower band went across the Great Lakes region, the Ohio Valley and the New England States. Isolated showers were reported in the Texas Panhandle and in central Florida, but rain accumulation was light.

★ ★ ★

Scattered showers also fell over the Great Lakes and in upper New England, Illinois and Lower Michigan.

The Weather Bureau said a warming trend was on the way for most of the nation, but the early morning readings at Duluth, Minn. and Marquette, Mich. were 45.

Trujillo Family Wants Names Off Monuments

CIUDAD TRUJILLO, Dominican Republic (AP)—Rafael Trujillo's sons and his widow have asked President Joaquin Balaguer to take their names off public works monuments throughout the country.

Gen. Rafael Trujillo Jr., his brother Rhadamas, and their mother asked that their names be replaced by those of "important people or important events in the national history." Under the dictator, who was assassinated last month, virtually every piece of public construction in the country was named for some member of the Trujillo family.

President Hears Adlai's Findings

Economic Setup Bad; Social Reforms Needed; JFK's Plans Popular

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.N. Ambassador Adlai Stevenson reported to President Kennedy today that he found increasing discontent and a worsening economic situation during his 18-day tour of South America.

★ ★ ★

Stevenson told newsmen after reporting to the President on his journey to 10 South American capitals that the situation in that part of the hemisphere has deteriorated since he traveled through the same area a year ago.

★ ★ ★

But, Stevenson added, "there is more universal awareness of the necessity for making social reforms in all of these countries."

Stevenson said the U.S. role in the Cuban invasion was unpopular in South America, where "the principle of nonintervention is a religion."

Stevenson, on the other hand, said the alliance for progress program enunciated by Kennedy to raise economic and social standards throughout the southern half of the hemisphere is generally regarded as "the dawn of a new day in our relations."

Stevenson briefed Kennedy on his findings and will file a detailed written report later.

The President, Stevenson said, would like to attend the Inter-American Economic and Social Conference now scheduled to open at Punta Del Este in Uruguay on July 15.

His presence would emphasize his personal interest in the alliance for progress, Stevenson said, but whether or not he can go depends on "so many considerations at home."

Most of the governments in Latin America are conscious of the menace of communism and are attempting to deal with it internally, he said.

Man Captured in Wild Chase

One of 2 Confesses to Theft After Car Loses Tire on Johnson

After a wild chase with speeds up to 100 miles an hour early today in Waterford Township, state and township police captured one of two burglars when they lost control of their car and crashed into a curb at Johnson Street and Elizabeth Lake Road.

Police found Daniel J. Frizzle, 21, of 2749 Mott St., Waterford Township, crouched on the floor of the car after his driver-companion, Milton W. McDowell, 24, of an unknown number on Wall Street, Pontiac, had fled.

Frizzle told police he and McDowell had broken into two township business establishments and stolen an undetermined amount of money.

Tony Mitch, owner of Mitch's Tavern, who lives back of his place at 4000 Cass-Elizabeth Lake Road, told police he heard a noise in the tavern at 3 a.m. and called Waterford Township police.

When Waterford patrolmen Richard Beckman and David Putnam arrived, the two burglars had gone out the back. As the burglars started away, the Sylvan Shores police arrived.

Sylvan Lake policeman Leonard Graunstadt ordered the two to halt. McDowell then got out of the car and knocked the policeman to the ground. McDowell then jumped back in the car and started racing away.

Graunstadt followed firing four shots at the speeding car. Waterford Township police and state police joined in the pursuit up South Winding Drive to Elizabeth Lake Road.

As the burglars spun around Johnson Street from Elizabeth Lake Road, a right rear tire on their car rolled off and the car smashed into a curb, McDowell jumped out and was ordered to stop, but continued running.

Frizzle was arrested and told police he and McDowell had broken into the Marlo Furniture store at 7603 Highland Road, and gotten only $6 from the cash register. He also admitted to stealing an undetermined amount of money from Mitch's Tavern.

Entrance to both buildings had been made by smashing a rear window.

Frizzle is being held in the Oakland County jail on a charge of breaking and entering, and police are searching for his accomplice.

County officials from Presiding Circuit Judge Stanton G. Dondero to Dog Warden Dr. Frank R. Bates gave up their seats of authority to their juniors.

The boys and girls were greeted in the morning by Delos Hamlin, chairman of the board of supervisors, and then spread out with their respective officials for the day.

For the younger children, it was a day highlighted by bubble gum, bikes and bunny-hop races.

Some 650 or more went for broke in pint-sized editions of the Olympic Games during the afternoon at Oakland, Jaycee, Murphy and Beaudette Parks.

The Pontiac Parks and Recreation Department saw to it that there were nothing but winners. Blue, red and white ribbons were handed out to first, second and third place winners.

★ ★ ★

There were 10 contests. Each was run in four age groups. Boys and girls were in separate divisions.

The youngest were six and seven years old. The next group was 8-10, third were 11- and 12-year-olds and the final group consisted of kids from 13-15.

Events opened at 2 p.m. and most were finished by 4. Softball hurlers had the first crack. No world records were broken in the softball throw contest, but it was plenty of fun.

Many of those with bad arms, began to show their stuff in the dashes. The youngest ran 20 yards, and the distance became greater for each age group up to 50 yards for the 15-year-olds.

Then came the big blow of the afternoon. The bubble gum blowing contest had kids of all sizes and shapes huffing and puffing.

Other tests of skill and endurance included a one-foot race, standing broad jump, bean bag toss, backward race, paper airplane flying contest, and bunny hop race.

In the big morning parade, one of the hits was a cute little miss, Mickey Burns, 10-year-old star of the centennial film "Pontiac Progress and Promise."

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Van H. Burns, of 939 Lakeside Drive, Waterford Township. Another sharp unit was the Pontiac Boys Club Drum and Bugle Corps, that marched like real pros after only three weeks of preparation.

Late added entries included Cub and Sea Scout units, several Centennial Spectacular performers, and units from the Armenian Youth Federation and Youth of Macedonia Club.

A few drops of rain pelted down at the start of the parade, but quickly ended. The parade lasted about 30 minutes and final units passed Huron Street at 11:15.

OK $6.38-Million Budget for 1961-62 School Year

BIRMINGHAM—A record school budget of $6.38 million for the 1961-62 fiscal year has been adopted by the Birmingham Board of Education.

The operating budget gives primary emphasis to the support and improvement of the instruction accounts, with allotments totaling 73.6 per cent of the expenditures.

This compares with 69.2 per cent alloted last year for staff salaries and 69.1 per cent for 1959-60.

According to Supt. Otis M. Dickey, this was accomplished by reducing the amounts allocated for the operating plant, auxiliary services and capital outlays.

He explained that more than half of the increases over the $5.63 million budget of last year went for 69 additional staff members.

★ ★ ★

These were necessary, he said, to take care of increased enrollments at Groves High School, to speed up the honors and advanced programs, to appoint department heads in the secondary schools and to increase library services.

Smaller amounts in the budget were for additional services for staff additions, and additional textbooks, library books and general instructional supplies to meet the requirements of improved programs.

★ ★ ★

Other increases were for salary increments, a $200 minimum improvement in teachers' salary schedules and related schedules.

Dickey pointed out that the new budget represents a 12 per cent increase over last year's expenditures, but noted that the average increase during 1951-58 was 22.6 per cent each year.

In the financially difficult years of 1958-59 and 59-60, the increase was a fraction of one per cent.

"While many factors must be considered in making valid comparisons," Dickey stated, "it is clear we are still trying to recover from those two disasterous years."

"Although this budget represents some recovery, many needs and requirements will not be met," the superintendent said.

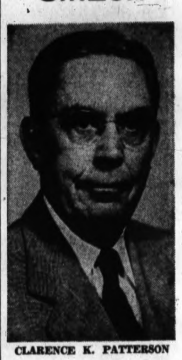
Centennial Citizen



CLARENCE K. PATTERSON

The family of Clarence K. Patterson of 4560 Dow Ridge Road, Orchard Lake, was well established in Oakland County several decades before Pontiac became a city.

Patterson, a Pontiac attorney, comes from a family steeped in legal tradition. His great-great-grandfather, James Patterson, was an officer in the Revolution.

His great-grandfather, James Clinton Patterson, came to Holly Township in 1838. He was known as "Squire" Patterson and was township justice of the peace.

The "Squire" had two sons, both of whom became attorneys establishing an unbroken pattern to the present day.

One of these was Thomas L. Patterson (1836-1923), Patterson's grandfather, who was a probate judge for 10 years.

CARRY THE BANNER

Clarence's father, John H. Patterson (1865-1941) was also a prominent Pontiac area attorney in his day. Clarence and his brother, Donald S. Patterson, who died eight years ago, have carried the legal banner since then.

Patterson was born here, attended Central and McConnell elementary schools and Pontiac Central High. He is a graduate of the University of Michigan Law School.

He opened his law office here in 1920. "We were located on the second floor of a building in the old Clinton Hall block on N. Saginaw," he said.

WED A HODGES

In 1923 Patterson married Agnes Hodges, whose family owned Hodges House. They have two daughters.

"The greatest change has been the building of homes outside the city," Patterson believes. "When I was a boy you wouldn't think of living that far out. The automobile is chiefly responsible for this change.

"I can remember when there were only horses and streetcars and everyone in town knew everyone else. A big outing for me when I was a boy was riding the old loop streetcar when I could get my hands on five cents," he recalled.

"You could walk all over town, so that ride was really something and considered a long trip in its day.

"The streetcar started at Saginaw and Jackson Streets, went north on Saginaw to Huron, west to State Street, north to Johnson, east to Oakland and then back to Saginaw," he said without hesitation.

The loop route was still vivid in his mind. Patterson is a partner in the firm of Patterson, Patterson and Barrett, 404 Community National Bank Building.

Eichmann Trial a Farce, Says Red Newspaper

MOSCOW (UPI)—Israel is turning the Eichmann trial into a "farce" and trying to blacken the Soviet Union, Pravda charged today.

The Communist party newspaper said Israeli "ruling circles" also were trying to "suppress" details unpleasant to Bonn, where the "successors of Hitler's butchers" sit.

Moscow Is Shaping K as the 'Good Guy'

GENEVA (UPI)—Moscow's propaganda factory has begun shaping a new "personality cult" around the pudgy figure of Nikita S. Khrushchev.

* * *

A series of major pronouncements from Moscow in the past few days has depicted the Soviet premier — who doubles as Communist party chief — as the man who always is and always has been right.

The Moscow press and radio and other Soviet leaders are spotlighting Khrushchev as the man behind everything good — even in the mistake-ridden days of Josef Stalin.

The campaign, which carries all the earmarks of organized and inspired strategy, may be calculated to forestall any potential criticism from other party leaders of Khrushchev's alarmingly provocative policy line of the last few weeks.

* * *

But above all the Soviet leader is believed setting the scene for next fall's Communist party congress in Moscow at which he intends to present a new version of Lenin's party program — a Red Bible of international communism, Khrushchev version.

The new personality cult program coincides with a revival of the anti-Stalin campaign which Khrushchev himself initiated at the 1956 party congress.

Await African With Red Carpet

Maryland Town Goes All Out to Be Nice After First Rebuff

HAGERSTOWN, Md. (AP) — The Maryland town where a top African diplomat was refused restaurant service three months ago began rolling out a red carpet for his triumphal return today.

The guest of honor in a round of ceremonies here will be Dr. William Fitzjohn, former charge d'affaires for the Republic of Sierra Leone. Fitzjohn and his chauffeur, both Negroes, were denied service March 9 at a Howard Johnson restaurant near here.

Highlight of the visit will be a dinner in the city's leading hotel to which 200 Negro and white city residents are invited. Mayor Winslow Burhans, who invited Fitzjohn to return to Hagerstown, said he had done so "in the interest of justice" and as an extension of his apologies for the restaurant incident.

"The celebration will be the highlight of my two years' experience in the United States," Fitzjohn said.

Fitzjohn, who was appointed this week as high commissioner to the Court of St. James in London, had complained to the U.S. State Department after the restaurant incident. President Kennedy later asked governors of all states along the Atlantic Coast to be particularly careful to avoid discriminatory practices involving Africans.

The Howard Johnson restaurant promptly announced it had ended its policy of not serving Negroes, and Mayor Burhans sent an apology to Fitzjohn.

Mayor Burhans said he felt the action of Hagerstown should set an example to other American cities because "what we do is important to the peoples around the world."

He said his administration has pressed local restaurants to drop racial discrimination, and that Negroes now could be served in most Hagerstown establishments.

Adlai Top Salesman on Latin Trip

(Editor's Note—What kind of a job did U.N. Ambassador Adlai E. Stevenson do on his Latin-American trip? Max Harrelson, the AP's chief U.N. correspondent who accompanied him on the tour, looks at the scoreboard in the following article.

By MAX HARRELSON

WASHINGTON (AP) — The scorecard on Adlai E. Stevenson's whirlwind South American tour is still incomplete but he seems to have succeeded in achieving at least one broad objective of his special presidential mission.

The main goal of this mission appears to have been to convince South American leaders that the Kennedy administration is giving their problems high priority.

The 16,500-mile Stevenson trip was intended to call attention to this new emphasis on hemispheric problems and to dramatize the President's alliance for progress program to raise living standards of Latin-American people.

There is little doubt that he did a good selling job on the Kennedy program and it seems likely that the forthcoming meeting in Uruguay to consider the alliance for progress plan will strike a popular note in Latin America.

SCORED POINTS

Stevenson scored some other points, but there also were some big minuses. One of these was his failure to interest some of the key countries in a political program to halt the spread of communism in the hemisphere.

While he maintained that he was not trying to press for any anti-Communist program at this time, it is known that he did feel out each country on this question and that he was disappointed at the response. He found most of the leaders too preoccupied with their own leftist groups or with serious internal economic and political problems to embark on any joint program now.

★ ★ ★

As a result he reluctantly concluded that it would not be worthwhile to call for a Latin-American political conference at least until after the results of the Uruguayan economic conference are known. It is hoped that once the alliance for progress program has been launched the climate might be more suitable for political action.

★ ★ ★

Stevenson was encouraged by the awareness of most leaders that there was a threat from communism but was unhappy because of their timidity in seeking to meet the threat. He also was disappointed by the failure of the masses to understand the real nature of Fidel Castro's Cuban regime.

WARMLY RECEIVED

On the positive side of his trip was the generally warm reception he received and the friendliness of both governments and popular majorities to him personally and to the United States. There were some manifestations of hostility, but these were the exceptions and they mostly involved only small groups of hard-core leftists.

Stevenson came home with a generally gloomy picture of the South American situation both economically and politically. He said conditions had deteriorated since he visited the same countries a year ago and that Communist subversion had increased.

Cut Butterfat Minimum for State Ice Cream

LANSING (AP) — A reduction in butterfat permitted in ice cream produced in Michigan will benefit people on slenderizing diets, says the Michigan Department of Agriculture.

Under a law passed by the legislature this year, the legal butterfat content of Michigan ice cream has been cut from 12 per cent to 10 per cent.

Also permitted under the law will be the use of yellow coloring in vanilla ice cream, which has been prohibited for the past 30 years in the state.

The Agriculture Department said the changes bring state requirements into line with federal standards.

Confab on Laos Destined to Lag

King Faces Prospect of Selecting Government—It May Take Weeks

GENEVA, Switzerland (AP) — The East-West conference on Laos appeared destined today to dawdle along doing little until King Savang Vathana picks a new government for the strife-torn nation.

The prevailing view is that Prince Souvanna Phouma, self-styled neutralist backed by the Communists, is sure to be named premier. But unless the normal pace of developments in Laos is accelerated, that won't happen for weeks.

The job of forming a new cabinet was thrown to the Laotian king Thursday by the three princes who head the warring factions in the little Southeast Asian country.

VAGUE STATEMENT

They ended a four-day conference at Zurich with a vague statement calling for national unity and a decision to let the king name a coalition government. They stipulated only that all three factions—pro-Western conservatives, pro-Communist Pathet Lao and neutralists—must be represented but did not specify how the power should be divided.

Delegates from 13 other nations marked time here all week hoping the princes would produce a coalition government to represent Laos at the conference and tell it what the Laotians themselves will agree to.

But the joint statement issued at the end of the Zurich meeting omitted any mention of when a delegation might be formed, or even when the princes would meet again. The Geneva conference called a recess until Monday.

Russ Probably Won't Let Sleeping Spy Issue Lie

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) —They've closed the book officially for the time being on the smorgasbord spy story and its bass fishing, Czech mushrooms and sheet music. But chances are the Communists will reopen the book at the U.N. General Assembly in the fall.

Miroslav Nacvalac, the handsome 39-year-old Czechoslovak diplomat accused by the United States of being his country's top spy in America, left by plane Thursday night for Paris and Prague.

The United States stripped him of diplomatic immunity and threatened to deport him as illegal alien if he did not leave. It acted a lot tougher at the finish than it did at the start.

PUZZLING TURN

Reporters were puzzled that the U.S. government let the Czech Communists take the lead in publicizing the incident.

* * *

The Czechs broke the story a week ago when their U.N. mission charged two U.S. intelligence agents, in the company of a known Czech defector, tried to hire Nacvalac as a spy on the previous Tuesday—June 13.

It took the U.S. State Department six hours to come up with charges that Nacvalac was a spy who gave U.S. agents the false impression he wanted to defect. The United States sent a note to the Czech mission demanding that Nacvalac get out of the country because of "improper activities."

* * *

Nacvalac meanwhile made himself available to reporters with an account of two U.S. agents named "Mr. Mack and Mr. Jack" interrupting his smorgasbord luncheon at a New York restaurant to enlist him for espionage.

* * *

He said he was with an American friend talking about favorite spots for bass fishing—a friend for whom he said he had obtained Czech mushrooms and sheet music from home.

Lake Erie is the biggest fish-producing fresh water lake in the world. Twelve million pounds of blue pike were taken from the lake in 1956.

Williams Sees 4 Big Problems

Former State Governor Expounds on His Basic Political Philosophy

DETROIT (AP)—G. Mennen Williams, assistant secretary of state for African Affairs, took "a cosmonaut's-eye view of the problems of the earth" Thursday night and saw "four fundamental problems for men to resolve."

Williams, a former Michigan governor, told 1,700 Wayne State University graduates the first problem was the still unmade choice "between the doom of civilization or its development for the abundant life for all mankind."

He said "secondly I see the conflict between the Communist and Democratic philosophies of government which has played a critical role in the opportunity of men to achieve personal fulfillment and dignity. We who enjoy the blessings of Democracy have a great responsibility to see that others too have the opportunity to enjoy it.

"Thirdly, I see the problems of the contrasting standards of living of the rich industrial societies of the Northern Hemisphere and the primitive subsistence agricultural societies of the Southern Hemisphere.

"And finally, I see the problem of America's reorientation from the isolation of its 19th century era of development to the commitment of its 20th century free world leadership."

Williams' wife Nancy Quick Williams was one of four honorary degree recipients at the commencement. She was awarded the doctor of laws degree.

20,000 Inspect Industry Exhibit in Three-Day Run

An estimated 20,000 persons toured the Centennial Industrial Exhibit which closed a three-day-and-night run last night.

A spokesman for General Motors Truck & Coach Division, one of the sponsors of the show along with other GMC divisions and industries in the city, said there were 15 showings of the "Previews of Progress" at the exhibit, with about 100 persons attending each show.

About 5,000 visited the exhibit at Pike and Parke Streets on Tuesday, 8,000 on Wednesday and 7,000 yesterday, the spokesman said.

New York's Mayor Eyes Third Term

NEW YORK (AP)—Mayor Robert F. Wagner says he will seek a third term if he can have the running mates he wants.

The mayor's proposal to revamp the City Hall "Big Three" ticket ran into angry opposition by some powerful Democratic leaders.

* * *

Political huddles in the various Democratic camps started immediately after Wagner made the long-awaited announcement of his candidacy for a third four-year term late Thursday.

Wagner proposed that City Council President Abe Stark of Brooklyn, who was elected with him twice, be the candidate for comptroller.

He also proposed that Deputy Mayor Paul R. Screvane of Queens be nominated for City Council president.

Observe Safety Rules When on Waterways

Drowning and all types of water accidents are again making front page news stories in the Pontiac area. Reports seem to indicate that in some cases carelessness played a part in the tragedy.

"O, swiftly glides the bonnie boat, just parted from the shore," is a fine old verse from yesteryear. It's just not that simple today. A great deal of caution is needed on our waterways.

★ ★ ★

With our growing armada of pleasure boats, more common sense and safety are required than ever before. Figures show that the neglect of elementary rules of safe boating contributed to the loss of 1,300 lives last year in boating accidents.

Some of these were right in this area and for the most part were caused by persons who operate boats recklessly and violate standard practices.

★ ★ ★

Excessive drinking and boating is just as serious as drinking and driving autos, yet each weekend our lakes are cluttered with these inconsiderate souls.

In the name of decency, give the other fellow on the lake a break. Curtail your drinking until the boat is tied up at shore.

★ ★ ★

The National Safety Council has issued these rules: Don't equip your boat with a motor that is too powerful. Don't overload the boat, and above all observe the nautical "rules of the road." Stay ashore in bad or threatening weather, and head for shore if the weather takes a turn for the worse.

BENJAMIN FRANKLIN summed it up in a homily he wrote in 1757 for Poor Richard's Almanac: "Vessels large may venture more, but little boats should keep near shore."

New York Times Man Seems Out of Step

CASTRO'S communism has been rather completely established to the satisfaction of almost everyone except HERBERT L. MATTHEWS of the New York Times.

★ ★ ★

John H. Perry, long an active participant in the Inter American Press Association, and one of Florida's leading publishers, says the following in his Palm Beach Post:

"Herbert L. Matthews, New York Times reporter and editorial writer, says irresponsible American journalism was to blame for the Cuban revolution along socialistic and totalitarian lines.

"Speaking at the University of Michigan MATTHEWS said:

"'The American press tried to interpret the Cuban revolution in terms of our Anglo-Saxon, mature, democratic, and capitalist way of life. The press failed to report what was really happening in Cuba, which is a social revolution, a Latin American phenomenon of the first order . . .

★ ★ ★

"'Once FIDEL CASTRO'S regime was labeled Communistic, it became impossible for the American journalists to go against the overwhelming public opinion.'

★ ★ ★

"Of course, none of this blame can fall on Mr. Matthews, because he was responsible for many of the early stories on the rise of Fidel Castro which painted the revolutionary band as a group of young idealists rendering a great service to Cuba. And, if history does not agree with Mr. Matthews, then obviously history must be wrong and probably should be changed.

★ ★ ★

"Former ambassador to Cuba, Mr. BRADEN revealed that CASTRO had been identified with the Communist movement as early as 1943. In Havana University, he was recognized by both professors and fellow students as belonging to a Communist apparatus. There are responsible accounts that CASTRO boasted of having killed three priests. Our Embassy in Mexico officially reported to the State Department that CASTRO was a Communist.

★ ★ ★

"From these and other informed sources the evidence is sufficiently strong to convince almost anyone but Mr. Matthews that Castro is a dyed-in-the-wool Communist. Mr. Matthews is a man of convictions — or something.

"There comes to our mind a vision of a hundred thousand journalists marching down the corridors of time—and all of them out of step but Mr. Matthews."

'What Can We Swap for Some Tourists?'

David Lawrence Claims:

Berlin Is Serious Game of Bluff

WASHINGTON — Artificiality over the Berlin issue prevails on both sides.

When Nikita Khrushchev dresses himself up in a soldier suit of the rank of lieutenant general and makes a speech full of hints of war, Secretary of State Rusk calls it "sabre-rattling," which it probably is.

LAWRENCE

Similarly, when the West carries out a military demonstration by its troops in Berlin that's called a routine "alert," the Soviets know this is done for effect, too.

Basically, neither side really believes that the other is going to war as a consequence of the Berlin issue.

But the Soviet premier knows that, if he signs a peace treaty with East Germany, the initiative afterward in a military action will have to come from the Western Allies.

A huge bluffing match is going on. Each side wants to impress the other that it means business.

Somehow the idea that any shooting war will come of it all seems at this moment to be somewhat illusory.

The real debate is in the court of world opinion. The Soviet premier knows this and is trying to make his proposed program with respect to Berlin seem a part of an effort merely to bring about a "reunification" of Germany—something he really doesn't want.

What he does want is to embarrass the West and divert attention from other areas of the world where the Communists are infiltrating.

The Western Allies, on the other hand, feel firmly grounded in their contention that the Berlin issue involves a matter of good faith and the honoring of agreements made when World War II came to an end.

PLAYED DOUBLE ROLE

Evidently the Soviet premier is well aware of the double role played by the Communists in that war. His latest speech was made on the occasion of the 20th anniversary of Hitler's attack on the Soviets—June 22, 1941—after the Communists had given him military assistance for the first 22 months of World War II.

The Soviets—as Hitler's ally—thus helped to protect the Nazi armies from attacks which could otherwise have kept them very busy on a front in Eastern Europe. As it was, the Nazi dictator was given a free hand to overrun Holland and Belgium and to attack France and Great Britain in Western Europe.

France could not have been conquered if there had been an eastern front to give battle to Hitler's armies. In fact, World War II might never have occurred if the Communist government in Moscow had not double-crossed Britain and France and made an alliance with Hitler just a few weeks before he attacked Poland in September 1939.

Premier Khrushchev, apparently aware of this weak spot in Communist history, tried in his speech to cover up and excuse the 1939 alliance of the Soviet Union with Hitler.

But the published documents giving the details of the conversations between the British and French diplomats and the Soviet envoys—including the notorious Molotov—give the lie to the Khrushchev claims. The tragic truth is that the Kremlin thought that, by staying out of the conflict, it could profit by the defeat of Britain and France and that Hitler would be taken care of later when Germany had been weakened by a lengthy war.

Instead, Hitler, after conquering the western section of the European continent as he held Britain at bay, deliberately attacked the Soviets.

The West was not enthusiastic about helping the Communists but had no other choice as the common objective then was to beat Hitler.

Dr. William Brady Comments:

Say Mumbo-Jumbosis; Some Folks Eat It Up

Whenever I come across the word atherosclerosis — which I do too frequently these days — my mind reverts to the halcyon days on Chapel Street.

DR. BRADY

People used to have pneumonia on the lungs, neuralgia of the nerves, articular rheumatism and, if necessary, nervous breakdown. Pathology is the study of the functional and material changes caused by disease; the essential cause and natural of disease; the gross and microscopic changes in structure which characterize disease. It embraces clinical diagnosis by laboratory tests, bacteriology and chemistry. One can regard pathology as medical science: the rest of medicine as art.

By examining scrapings or perhaps a minute section from the tissue or organ in question the pathologist can determine whether the condition is benign or malignant — that is, whether it is noncancerous or cancerous.

In the operating room, if there is any question as to what should be done, the pathologist determines in a few minutes, by microscopic examination of a section of tissue, whether the surgeon should do a simple operation or a radical one.

I'm still a student of pathology and I think I can say without fear of competent contradiction that there is no evidence in pathology that "infiltration" or deposit of abnormal matter — such as calcium, fat or cholesterol — in the tissues causes disease.

CONSEQUENCE NOT CAUSE

On the contrary, all we can learn by the pathological study of the tissues and organs of the body indicates that the presence of more calcium, fat or cholesterol than there should be normally is the consequence of degeneration.

And so I say there is no scientific ground for restricting the everyday intake of calcium, fat or cholesterol to prevent or relieve arteriosclerosis, coronary disease, joint disease or any other disease.

Oh, yes, that absurd term "atherosclerosis." "Athero," means soft, mushy; "scler," means hard; the ending "-osis," means disease. Arteriosclerosis means hardening of the arteries. Atherosclerosis means softening-hardening disease. Might as well tell the dumb customers they have mumbo-jumbosis.

★ ★ ★

Some 20 years ago the head drummer for the best advertised "clinic" asserted in his autocratic way that "a physician with a large practice among the better class of Americans" would see in the course of a year only two or three cases in which he might suspect nutritional deficiency played a part.

★ ★ ★

Inadvertently the man told the truth. It is only in the past 10 or 15 years that physicians have learned to recognize the manifestations of nutritional deficiency disease in the earlier or "functional" stages before full-fledged rickets, scurvy, beriberi, pellagra, etc. develops.

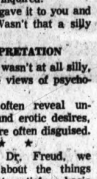
Case Records of a Psychologist:

Dreams Symbolize Basic Needs

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

CASE J-423: Mary Q., aged 18, is a stenographer who works for an attractive young bachelor.



DR. CRANE

"I dreamed about you last night," Mary laughingly informed her boss.

"That's interesting," he replied, "what did you dream?"

"Oh, we were quarreling violently," she answered.

"Quarreling?" he seemed surprised. "What about?"

"Oh, it was over a letter which I had just received in the mail," Mary continued. "You wanted to open it but I wouldn't let you."

"How did we finally settle the argument?" he inquired.

"Oh, at last I gave it to you and you opened it. Wasn't that a silly dream?"

DREAM INTERPRETATION

No, the dream wasn't at all silly, according to the views of psychoanalysis.

For dreams often reveal unvoiced feelings and erotic desires, although these are often disguised.

★ ★ ★

According to Dr. Freud, we usually dream about the things that are needed to satisfy a basic hunger.

Thus, if we have been starving, we are very likely to conjure up pie and cake or meat and potatoes in our dreams.

Likewise, a thirsty traveler on the desert will probably dream of that which will moisten his parched throat, namely, lakes or rivers, soda pop or other beverages.

Since most of us go to bed on a full stomach, we are not likely to have any unsatisfied food hunger, so we will not concoct delicious menus in our sleep.

★ ★ ★

But we often are unsatisfied in the erotic realm, so we are very likely to dream about the opposite sex.

Because of our moral upbringing, the usual dreamer refuses to face sexual facts or situations in a blunt or vulgar manner, even though in the privacy of his own dream.

So he tactfully employs a "smoke screen" or camouflage, to conceal the sexual basis of the dream.

★ ★ ★

You readers are familiar with the use of euphemisms (sweet ways of saying something bitter).

SALESMAN'S CAMOUFLAGE

Thus, an insurance salesman rarely talks about "death" or "dying," for those are blunt and some what shocking terms.

So he substitutes euphemisms, such as "Joining our forebears" or "Going west" or "Passing on" or even "Checking out."

★ ★ ★

In dreams, therefore, the well trained moralist likewise employs camouflages for blunt erotic matters and thus on the surface can discuss her dreams in polite society, in all innocence.

For example, Mary's dream is a perfect Freudian example, which is why I used it on Page 514 of my college textbook, "Psychology Applied."

Dr. Freud considered sealed objects as symbols of virginity. Other feminine symbols in dreams involve water, a shoe, a glove or anything that is entered.

Male symbols, on the contrary, are indicated by knives, lances, umbrellas, the foot that enters the shoe, etc.

For further advice on dreams, consult my textbook at your city library or send for the booklet "How to Interpret Dreams," enclosing a stamped return envelope plus 20 cents.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 4 cent stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20 cents to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

Voice of the People:

'Few Spectators Showed Respect as Flag Passed'

I enjoyed the Centennial parade and thought it the best ever. However, as the flags passed I saw only one man outside of my family who removed his hat as "Old Glory" passed. My 3-year-old grandson even removed his hat each time he saw the flag. One band was playing "Hats Off the Flag is Passing By," but only four people removed their hats. Shame on us, when we can't honor our flag.

Still Tired

Nixon's Only Hope for Presidency

Governorship Is Vital

By RUTH MONTGOMERY

WASHINGTON—It is a hard fact of political life that unless Richard M. Nixon is elected governor of California next year, he lacks even the proverbial Chinaman's chance of becoming the GOP presidential candidate in 1964.

The reapportionment of congressional seats as a result of the 1960 census offers Nixon an additional inducement to enter the gubernatorial race.

Fastest-growing California, by gaining eight new House seats, will pick up an additional 16 votes at the Republican convention. Since New York will lose four votes, this would put "Gov." Nixon within six votes of the 92 which Gov. Nelson Rockefeller's state presumably will cast for him.

It is highly unlikely that the badly split Democratic Party in New York State can defeat Rocky, who is up for re-election next year.

OPPOSITION HEAVY

It would therefore be too much for Nixon to hope that a mere Los Angeles lawyer out of office for four years could out-ballot a second-term New York governor who is the darling of GOP liberals, or Sen. Barry Goldwater, who is the conservatives' great white hope.

Even if Nixon should win the California gubernatorial contest, he is by no means assured of the presidential nomination.

Many factors work against him, including the obvious one that both parties have had lousy luck with previously defeated standard bearers.

William Jennings Bryan, Thomas E. Dewey and Adlai Stevenson can testify to this.

Politically speaking, California is the wackiest state in the union.

New residents pour into the Golden State at the rate of some 30,000 per month, and what politician can know how to classify them? Most of the newcomers are elderly citizens who want to sit in the sun and collect old-age pensions.

Contrary to general belief, Nixon is not exactly a shoo-in for the party nomination for governor.

Earlier this year, the candidate for Los Angeles County chairman who had been endorsed by the Nixon camp suffered defeat at the hands of Jud Leetham, who was nominated from the floor of the convention.

Nixon therefore no longer controls the party machinery of Los Angeles County, which contains roughly 40 per cent of the California electorate.

One savvy Republican leader on Capitol Hill summarized Nixon's political dilemma thusly: "He'll be dead if he runs for governor and loses, but he'll be dead anyway if he doesn't run."

Glenwood Gets Kresge Outlet

Lease Signed for New Shopping Center With Albert's at Mall

A junior department store branch of the S. S. Kresge Co. will be the biggest retail outlet at the forth-coming Glenwood Avenue shopping center, it was announced today.

★ ★ ★

At the same time, developers of the center set a $2.5 million price on the venture, saying it would have 25 to 27 stores occupying some 200,000 square feet of retail space.

And in a separate announcement, Albert's, one of Detroit's leading women's specialty stores, disclosed plans to open a branch in the Pontiac Mall Shopping Center, at Elizabeth Lake and Telegraph Roads in Waterford Township.

The Kresge announcement said the Pontiac branch would be one-story and "close" to 80,000 square feet in size. The company said it would be one of three new discount department stores in the metropolitan area.

TO START MONDAY

John B. Ridgeway, a salesman for National Business Brokers, 1843 Orchard Lake Ave., said the Glenwood shopping center — the first big, regional shopping center in Northeast Pontiac — would get under way with ground-breaking Monday.

He said the L-shaped cluster of retail stores are about 60 per cent leased and should be ready for business Dec. 1. With brick and stone fronting, the buildings will face a landscaped mall and a huge parking lot, he said.

National Business Brokers represents the Detroit developers, Herman Ross, Irving Stolman and Hugh Garner. Just south of Perry street on Glenwood, the shopping center has not yet been officially named.

★ ★ ★

Albert Schwartz, president of Albert's, signed yesterday to lease 6,600 square feet at the Pontiac Mall. He said the opening would be around Easter time next year.

★ ★ ★

This is the fourth tenant announced for the $7-million Mall, planned as the first fully enclosed, air conditioned shopping center. The others are Montgomery Ward & Co., J. L. Hudson Co. and Rose's Jewelry.

Says Alleged Slayer Was Carrying Gun

The 8-year-old daughter of the accused slayer Donald Slater of Oak Park testified her father was carrying a shotgun behind his back when he kissed her goodnight an hour before the shooting.

★ ★ ★

Susie Slater was the final witness yesterday as First Asst. Prosecutor William E. Lang opened his case against Slater, 28, of 8610 Saratoga Road, before a Circuit Court jury of 13 women and 1 man.

The case continued today in Judge Frederick C. Ziem's courtroom.

Slater is charged with first-degree murder in the May 21 shotgun death of Edward Stoner, a 31-year-old former jockey, who, Slater alleged, had been dating his wife Nancy, 25, the mother of four children.

★ ★ ★

In this morning's testimony, Carol Cushman, 11, said she was with her family who went to pick up her brother visiting a neighbor of the Slater's when she heard a noise like "a loud firecracker."

★ ★ ★

She testified she then saw a man stagger out of the Slater house (Stoner), followed by Slater, who she pointed out in the courtroom, and finally by Mrs. Slater, who was shot in the chest after Stoner.

The first school for officer candidates in the Women's Reserve of the U. S. Marine Corps was established in 1943 at Mt. Holyoke College in South Hadley, Mass.

MISS ELLA M. GREEN

Pontiac has nothing on Miss Ella M. Green, the city's grand old lady.

While the city celebrates its 100 years as a municipality, Miss Green, of 217 N. Saginaw St., has three more candles on her cake than does the city.

Pontiac's beloved lady will be 103 on May 23.

On that day in 1858 Miss Green began what was to become one of the state's fullest lives in the little hamlet of Farmington where her father operated a general store. The Green family moved to Pontiac in 1867 and for 27 years was a well known mercantile figure here, with a store in the old Millis Block at 38 N. Saginaw St.

* * *

She comes from the most substantial Oakland County pioneer stock. Her father was Jarvis J. Green and her mother was the former Elizabeth Harger, scion of prominent Waterford pioneers.

She was a charter member of the Ladies' Library Association which built the old city library on Williams Street.

Come election years, Miss Green does her duty as a citizen casting her ballot, which of late has been by absentee ballot.

Bell Chorale Singers Drawn From All Walks

The 30-member Bell Chorale that will open the Wisner Stadium performance tonight draws its members from all walks of life.

The group includes teachers, students and housewives.

The chorale's half-hour preperformance concert will begin at 8:15, followed by the Spectacle, "The Pontiac Story," at 8:45.

Selections by the chorale will include a medley from "Showboat" by Jerome Kern; and four spirituals, "King of Kings," "There is a Balm in Gilead," "Everytime I Feel the Spirit," and "Soon Ah Will Be Done."

The Bell Chorale is directed by Frederic Bellinger, who arranged two of the spirituals.

Pontiac General to Open Job Therapy Unit Soon

"To restore the handicapped person to his greatest potential" — this will be the aim of the specialists in the Occupational Therapy Department opening in Pontiac General Hospital next week.

* * *

Tied in with the program of the new Sister Kenny Physical Therapy Department, the OT headquarters in the basement of the hospital may be ready for use as early as Monday, said Harold B. Euler, hospital administrator.

"The rehabilitation team's job will be to restore the handicapped to the fullest mental, physical, social, vocation and economic usefulness of which they are capable," said Euler in describing the new service.

He said that OT treatment usually will be prescribed for patients by their physicians to hasten recovery from disease or injury and to help the patient's adjustment to his hospital stay.

"In order for treatment to be effective, most patients will be started on it as soon as they can tolerate any exercise, even if still confined to bed," Euler said.

A big reason for speed, he continued is to help the injured not patient returning to his old job or pre-vocational training for a new to loose ability to work and to minimize feelings of self-pity.

Fracture patients, for instance, will be put on a work tolerance program to preserve and build up strength. Amputees of the upper extremities will be trained in anticipation that artificial limbs will be used some day.

"Psychological aspects of the job are all part of the therapists' duties," said Euler.

"Prolonged exercise is a lot more tolerable when one is creating and doing something he is interested in. Therefore, different crafts are selected for the patient to hold his interest and, at the same time, to produce the movement of groups of muscles or extremities to be exercised."

A man lived by the side of the road and sold hot dogs.
He was hard of hearing so he had no radio.
He had trouble with his eyes so he read very little.
But he sold good hot dogs.
He bought some advertising to tell people how good they were.
He stood by the side of the road and cried: "Buy a hot dog, Mister."
And people bought.
He increased his meat and roll orders.
He bought a bigger stove to take care of his trade.
He got his son home from college to help him.
But then something happened . . .
His son said, "Father, haven't you been listening and reading?
If money stays 'tight,' we are bound to have bad business.
There may be a big depression coming on.
You had better prepare for poor trade."
Whereupon the father thought, "Well, my son has gone to college.
He reads and he listens to the radio and TV and he ought to know."
So the father cut down on his meat and roll orders.
Cut out his advertising.
And no longer bothered to stand on the highway to sell hot dogs.
And his hot dog sales fell almost overnight.
"You're right, son," the father said to the boy.
"We are certainly headed for a depression."

West to Back Berlin With Troop Build-Up

(Editor's Note—How is the West reacting to Khrushchev's latest threats on Berlin? Endre Marton, veteran AP State Department reporter, discusses the situation in the following article which contains background and interpretive material.)

By ENDRE MARTON

WASHINGTON (AP) — The West is planning to step up its defenses in Europe as evidence of its determination to stand firm on Berlin.

★ ★ ★

High-ranking officials, in reporting this today, referred to the seriously worded statement Secretary of State Dean Rusk made at his news conference Thursday. He blamed the Soviets for the tension in the world and restated the Western position on Berlin.

★ ★ ★

No Soviet action, Rusk said, can extinguish the right of the Western powers in Berlin. Western forces are to remain in the divided German city, he added, and no peaceful solution can be reached at the expense of Western obligations in Berlin.

OUR OBLIGATION

"The United States and those associated with us are clear and firm about our obligations to ourselves and to the people of West Berlin," Rusk said.

★ ★ ★

The Western powers, informants said, are planning to quicken the beefing up of Atlantic alliance forces in Europe and to increase their state of readiness. This will be done quietly and without fanfare but in a way that should serve as notice to the Soviets.

The thinking behind this strategy is, officials explained, that Soviet Premier Khrushchev does not seem to have been sufficiently impressed by the warnings President Kennedy repeatedly has made. In the past, it is recalled, the Soviet Union often paid attention to a show of force where words were of no avail.

★ ★ ★

Meanwhile, the United States continues consultations with its allies on the U.S. reply to Khrushchev's June 4 aide memoire on Berlin. The consultations started in Washington last week when Foy D. Kohler, assistant secretary of state for Europe, conferred with Sir Evelyn Shuckburg of the British Foreign Office and with Jean Lalois, French specialist on German affairs.

The State Department now is waiting for advice from Paris and London through normal diplomatic channels and the U.S. reply to the Soviet note is expected to be ready in about a week or 10 days.

Before that, however, Llewellyn Thompson, U.S. ambassador to Moscow, will have returned to his post. He is due back on the job next Monday after Washington consultations.

K DISAPPOINTING

It is expected that Thompson will have the opportunity to see Khrushchev and make the U.S. position clear before the American reply reaches Moscow.

In his statement on Berlin on Thursday, Rusk said that the "militant tone" Khrushchev used in a speech Wednesday was disappointing. State Department specialists on Soviet affairs are now trying to find reasons for the sudden toughening in Khrushchev's language.

★ ★ ★

This change also puzzles Washington diplomats, including some from behind the Iron Curtain. Both American and foreign observers concede that their answers are based mainly on speculation.

Nobody expected the honeymoon period which followed the change in U.S. administrations to last forever. The period of grace appears to be over now. It ended right after the Vienna meeting between Kennedy and Khrushchev.

Director Dies in Sydney

SYDNEY, Australia (AP)— Dr. Nicholai Malko, 73, musical director of the Sydney symphony orchestra and a former leader in musical circles in Chicago, died Thursday night. Dr. Malko was an American citizen of Russian birth. He lectured in Chicago in 1940 and came to Australia in 1957.

Ex-Budget Head Bemoans Rise of National Debt

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP)—A former budget director in the Eisenhower administration said Thursday that the U.S. government has taken a trillion-dollar "mortgage on the future of the country."

★ ★ ★

Maurice H. Stans, chief of the Bureau of the Budget from 1958-1960, gave the keynote speech at the annual conference of the Certified Public Accountants of the Pacific Northwest.

★ ★ ★

He noted the growth of the national debt from $16 billion in 1930 to $288 billion in 1960. "And that isn't all," he said, "we have been building up more and more promises to pay in the future, IOU's of one kind or another."

Asked of Congress—Lasting Peace Corps

WASHINGTON (AP) — Director R. Sargent Shriver Jr. asked Congress Friday to make the Peace Corps permanent to meet growing demands in underdeveloped countries for skilled American help.

He told the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, these nations "want neither charity nor handouts; what they seek is the brainpower, economic capacity and political stability to work out their own salvations."

★ ★ ★

Shriver testified at a public hearing on legislation proposed by President Kennedy to authorize up to $40 million to finance the Peace Corps in the fiscal year starting July 1. The Corps is now operating on a "pilot" basis with funds available under the Foreign Aid Act.

Savings Accounts Get Fatter as Salesmen Grow Unhappy

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK — Individuals' savings are getting fatter. And merchants are getting restive.

Retail sales have risen slightly in recent days after barely holding even with last year through most of 1961.

★ ★ ★

But total savings have risen much faster—at a greater rate, in fact, than any time since the 1958 recession. People have the money. Many are holding onto it.

★ ★ ★

Something has to give, the merchants figure. And when the consumer starts buying again in his old free-wheeling way, the recovery now centered largely in manufacturing will be confirmed. Even more reassuring to the retailers, especially those handling durable goods, will be the time when consumers return to the good old American way and the volume of new instalment debt starts to swell.

SUMMER OR FALL?

But when?

Some count on summer weather to soften up the buying instincts. Others think that the real recovery will follow Labor Day, when vacation expenses are out of the way, and jobs may be more plentiful and seem safer.

★ ★ ★

If you doubt that savings have been increasing, because your own haven't or may have shrunk, here's the official figures of the Securities and Exchange Commission.

It says they went up by $5 billion in the first three months of 1961, or $1.8 billion more than in the like period a year ago. Banks, savings & loan associations, insurance companies and mutual funds report the trend has continued.

Some retailers thought sales of big-ticket items were sticky because people were putting their money into the stock market. But the SEC says that except for investment in mutual funds and U.S. savings bonds the holdings of securities dropped by $1.1 billion.

Brokers also have noted that in recent weeks holders of small amounts of stock have been selling rather than buying, leaving much of the stock market support to the institutional investors.

Examination Set for 2 in Beating of Man

Accused of beating and robbing a 40-year-old man in his home early Saturday, Homer T. Moreland, 28, of 617 Commerce Road, Commerce Township, and Pfc. Charles G. Gray, a soldier assigned to the Nike base in the township, will have examination in Municipal Court June 28.

★ ★ ★

Both men were released pending the pretrial hearing.

Anderson R. Lawson, 81 Ellwood Ave., told Pontiac police the two defendants robbed him after the three had been out together most of the evening.

He said suitcases, clothing and other personal items with a total value of $400 were stolen.

Moreland demanded the hearing Wednesday, Gray on Monday.

State Police Predict July 4th Fatalities

EAST LANSING (AP) — A traffic death every three hours and 41 minutes is predicted by state police for the Fourth of July holiday weekend.

That has been the average over the last seven years, police said.

State police are lengthening patrol shifts from eight to 10 hours over the holiday period and calling in 106 national guardsmen to serve as second men on one-man patrols.

High traffic areas will be given special coverage. Department planes will be used for traffic observance and patrol guidance.

Police still expect a high kill.

Over the last five-day Fourth of July holiday in 1957, 20 persons were killed. There were 16 deaths in a 78-hour fourth weekend last year.

IT WAS TEMPORARY — A temporary bridge over Sherman Way near Van Nuys, Calif., collapsed after a twin trailer-truck carrying a load of dirt skidded out of control on the bridge. The driver, Jack Congo, said he lost control of the truck and it skidded and hit the side of the wooden structure, causing it to collapse. No one was injured.

Congress Agrees West Faces Berlin Showdown

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress generally agrees that the West faces an early showdown with Soviet Premier Khrushchev over Berlin that could erupt into a third world war.

★ ★ ★

This view is reflected by weeklong debate—particularly in the Senate—stirred by the suggestion of Sen. Mike Mansfield, D-Mont., that all Berlin be declared a "free city," its neutrality and safety guaranteed by both sides. He called this a "way out" of the stalemate.

★ ★ ★

Mansfield, the Senate Democratic leader, warned in a speech a week ago Thursday that the commitment to defend West Berlin ranges all the way "to a final pledge of the lives and fortunes of every man, woman and child in this nation."

Most of those who have spoken opposed Mansfield's solution, but none has sought to minimize the gravity of the situation.

NO BACKING DOWN

Most of the speakers, particularly the Republicans, agreed with Sen. Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y., that the United States should not back down on a policy of keeping Western troops in West Berlin until Germany can be reunited on the basis of free elections.

Javits Thursday offered a resolution to put the Senate on record in support of that stand.

He said it was "not without risk," but it is imperative to choose "what may seem to be the harder way, but what is by far the more secure and surer way."

Sen. Styles Bridges, R-N.H., the chairman of the Senate GOP Policy Committee, agreed with Javits. "The urgency of the moment," Bridges declared, "is survival itself."

★ ★ ★

The Republican pressure for new commitments by the administration to the oft-repeated policy of standing firm on West Berlin built up despite the fact President Kennedy himself had declared his own similar position on his return from Vienna talks with Khrushchev.

Kennedy told the American people he had informed Khrushchev that U.S. security is deeply involved in access rights to West Berlin and "we are determined to maintain these rights at any risk."

And, after Mansfield's speech, Secretary of State Dean Rusk said promptly that there has been no change whatsoever in U.S. policy on Berlin, and that none was in contemplation.

'NO TRIAL BALLOON'

Mansfield said he was floating no "trial balloon" for the administration, but was speaking as an individual senator, a point with which Rusk entirely agreed.

Still, the Republicans who criticized Mansfield's speech said it was difficult for other nations, particularly West Germany, to disassociate a speech by the administration's top spokesman in the Senate from the views of the administration itself.

Rusk moved again—at a news conference to try to clear up any possible doubts.

★ ★ ★

He said the Soviets cannot extinguish the rights of Western powers in Berlin.

Rusk said the Western powers have a powerful position in Berlin and clear obligations that cannot be wiped out by one-sided Soviet action, such as signing a separate peace treaty with Communist East Germany.

Reporters Give Dr. Travell Bad Time Over Treatment

By HELEN THOMAS

WASHINGTON (UPI) — "Don't you think you should give him this drug instead of the one you did?"

The doctor smiled wanly and indicated she thought she knew what she was doing.

"Do you think he should take a rest of more than a weekend away from here?"

"What's his blood count?"

"What's his temperature?"

"How about throat cultures?"

"What color are his pajamas?"

When Dr. Janet Travell took her oral exams to graduate with a medical degree from Cornell University, she probably figured she was through answering questions and ready to begin asking them.

But she didn't count on becoming the physician of the President of the United States.

TWO CONFERENCES

She had to hold two news conferences Thursday on President Kennedy's recovery from back strain and his new bout with a virus infection.

Some of the reporters obviously didn't agree with her prescribed treatment. Others were downright worried.

"Are you going to advise him to avoid exertion in the rain?" asked one reporter, who apparently envisaged the Chief Executive taking a notion to do push ups on the lawn in the next downpour.

★ ★ ★

Dr. Travell said she had advised him to limit such activities.

"Are any other members of the family showing symptoms?" asked another newsman, who obviously feared the entire First Family might be felled.

"Isn't it rather unusual to let a man with a backache go out in the rain?" asked a woman reporter.

Dr. Travell revealed that President Kennedy is not among the most obedient of patients.

In fact, it became apparent that she seldom knows in advance what he plans to do, and can only make general suggestions and hope they are followed.

★ ★ ★

The matronly, 60-year-old doctor bore up well under the double grilling in the White House — keeping her patience and her aplomb.

By the way, the President's pajamas are blue.

Church Razing Begins Monday

Demolition of Central Methodist to Allow Hospital Addition

Demolition of the Central Methodist Church in downtown Pontiac is scheduled to begin Monday, it was announced today by Harry W. Whitlow, administrator of Pontiac Osteopathic Hospital.

The 60-year-old edifice on East Huron Street, between Perry and Mill streets, is to be razed to make way for an addition to the hospital.

Raising the hospital bed complement from 152 to 406, the addition is scheduled for completion in September of 1962.

A contract with Arrow Wrecking Co. of Detroit calls for clearance of the church site within two weeks, Whitlow said.

The congregation is using the facilities of Isaac Crary Junior High School in Waterford Township temporarily until a new church is ready on Highland Road.

India Gets Road Loan

WASHINGTON (AP) — The International Development Association, an affiliate of the World Bank, has extended a development credit of $60 million to India for highway construction.

Senate Readily OKs Envoy Nominees

WASHINGTON (AP)—Four of President Kennedy's nominess for ambassadors won speedy Senate confirmation Friday by unanimous voice vote. They are:

Robert M. McKinney, editor and publisher of the Santa Fe, New Mexican, ambassador to Switzerland.

Mercer Cook of the District of Columbia, ambassador to the Republic of Niger.

Philip M. Kaiser of New York, ambassador to the Republic of Senegal, and to the Islamic Republic of Mauritania.

Robinson McIlvane of Pennsylvania, ambassador to the Republic of Dahomey.

Chimpanzees brought up in human families behave remarkably like children in their early years.

The average American consumed an estimated 1,488 pounds of food in 1960. Food processors and manufacturers provided news of their products via a $138-million expenditure in newspaper advertising.

Of the more than $11½ billion (estimated) that national and local advertisers invested in all media last year, 31.5 per cent was put into newspapers — more than in any other medium.

Zoning Decision on Orion Section Awaits Meetings

ORION TOWNSHIP — The dispute over rezoning a large section of land near Indianwood and Coats roads may not be settled here until late this summer.

The Orion Township Zoning Board has recommended that 82 acres north of Artco, Inc., at 3020 Indianwood Road, be rezoned for industry. The site now is classified for business.

However, the zoning board's recommendation does not mean the land will be rezoned automatically.

Only the Township Board of Trustees has the power to approve changes in the township's zoning ordinance. The zoning board is an appointive body and has no right to enact or amend legislation.

★ ★ ★

Before the decision comes before the township trustees, however, the Oakland County Coordinating Zoning Committee will study the site and decide whether it is suitable for the location of industry.

★ ★ ★

Clyde Cook, secretary of the county zoning group, said his committee probably will not give its recommendation on the property in question until about July 17.

AT AUG. 8 MEETING

This would mean that the Township Board of Trustees probably will not have a chance to act on the matter until its regular meeting Aug. 8 unless the board calls a special meeting before that date.

The zoning board has tabled study of another 10-acre site near Artco until its July 17 meeting.

If the zoning board recommends rezoning the 10-acres facing Indianwood Road from its present residential classification, the Township Board probably will not have a chance to take action in this matter until late August or early September.

The entire 92 acres are owned by the Lake Orion Investment Co.

Principal objections at a public hearing on the rezoning Monday night were from residents living in the Indianwood and Coats roads areas.

They complained that additional industry in the area would lower their property valuations and increase health, noise and traffic problems.

Many residents also complained about the presence of the Artco plant in their neighborhood.

AWARE OF PLANS

Speakers who favored bringing industry into the area argued that most homeowners bought their property after the Artco plant was already constructed and when residents knew that more industrial zoning in the vicinity was probable.

Those who favored the rezoning said more industry would create new jobs, increase local retail sales and broaden the tax base of the township and Lake Orion Community School District.

They also stated that the area was the best location for new industry since there already is existing industrial property on Indianwood Road.

The industrial backers claimed that the Indianwood Road area was one of two sections in the township served by a hard surfaced road with adequate water facilities.

Imlay City Man Drowns in Pond

Cripple Loses Balance While Fishing on Farm, Can't Be Revived

IMLAY CITY — A 31-year-old Imlay City man, crippled since birth, drowned when he lost his balance and fell in 7 feet of water at a pond near here yesterday.

Lapeer County Sheriff's deputies said Ronald Van Putten of 655 Van Dyke was fishing with two boys at about 1:45 p. m. when his line became tangled.

Van Putten took hold of a log and waded into the water in an attempt to release the line. He lost hold of the log, however, and sank into the water.

Three boys who were fishing nearby saw Van Putten go down and they summoned Lawrence Schell, 36, of 621 N. Fairgrounds Road, owner of the farm on which the pond is located.

★ ★ ★

Roy Topie, 10, and his brother Jimmie, 7, who were fishing with Van Putten, ran to his home and called his brothers, Warren and Keith Van Putten.

The Van Putten brothers and Schell pulled the drowned man from the water but they were unsuccessful in reviving him with artificial respiration.

Dr. Donald P. Harrington also failed to revive him by making incisions in Van Putten's chest and throat and massaging his heart.

★ ★ ★

Deputies said his body had been submerged about 15 minutes. Van Putten was unmarried.

The boys who were fishing with him are the sons of Mr. and Mrs. John Topie of 647 Van Dyke.

Tickets to the affair, which is open to the public, can be purchased at the fairgrounds.

Mrs. Payson Halsey of Andersonville will be the chief chef. She will be assisted by the boys and girls who will make the trip July 18 through 23 to Blaine County, Oklahoma.

★ ★ ★

This trip is a return visit by county 4-Hers who entertained a similar group from Blaine County here last August.

POLLY L. PERKINS

The engagement of Polly L. Perkins and Gary D. Jenkins is announced by the bride-elect's mother, Mrs. Katherine Perkins of Willoughby, Ohio. The prospective bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde H. Jenkins of 2840 Buckner Road, Orion Township. No wedding date has been set.

Some Must File Now for Wheat Allotments

The Oakland County office of the Agriculture Stabilization and Conservation Committee currently is accepting wheat allotment applications for certain farms.

A producer who intends to seed wheat for 1962 on a farm for which a 1959, 1960 and 1961 allotment was not established, irrespective of whether wheat was seeded for harvest as a grant in those years, and who wants to be considered for an allotment, must apply for the allotment this year.

Applications must be made in writing and filed in the county ASC office by July 1, according to Robert H. Long, ASC committee chairman.

Application forms are available in the ASC county office Room 323, Hubbard Building, Pontiac 15, Mich.

SUPERINTENDENT REMINISCES—Harold O. Hansen, retiring superintendent of the Huron Valley School System, studies a model of an ocean-going square-rigger during a few moments of relaxation at home before he officially turns his duties over to his successor Erwin M. Johnson July 1. Hansen will become a real estate salesman for a Milford agency. The 65-year-old ship model was built by his father.

School Man Recalls the Past 13 Years

By JIM LONG

When Harold O. Hansen became superintendent of the Huron Valley School District in the late forties classroom space was being rented to handle the overflow enrollment at three schools.

★ ★ ★

The 59-year-old administrator, who retires next Friday after 13 years service, now can look back with a feeling of pride in the knowledge that since he took over his job school construction has kept pace with an enrollment that has nearly tripled.

Hansen, who took over the Huron Valley superintendency in July 1948, has been taking it easy since commencement exercises but officially turns over his duties to Erwin M. Johnson July 1. The new superintendent has been Hansen's assistant for five years.

"When I first arrived the school district was nearly consolidated from 18 small districts, and rooms were being rented from several businessmen to provide adequate classroom facilities," said Hansen.

★ ★ ★

"Things really have changed. At that time we were working on a budget of close to $200,000. Our 1961-62 budget was $1¼ million."

During Hansen's administration most of the schools existing in the 100-square-mile school district were built.

"Taxpayers have been kind to us," explained Hansen. "They approved 11 straight bond issues that provided the funds for expansion."

Only two bond proposals, the last two, have been defeated while Hansen was in office.

"And this was a time we needed them most," the superintendent said. "We need more classrooms in the district and we need them by September."

Hansen, who makes no bones about classroom needs, should know what he is talking about, being a school superintendent during most of his 30-year career.

Prior to coming to the Huron Valley School District he served four years as superintendent in the Stanton Rural Area Schools, which consolidated during his administration.

From 1938 to 1944 he was a principal and superintendent in the Maple Rapids School District.

Three years after his 1928 graduation from Michigan Normal College in Ypsilanti he became superintendent of the Arcadia Rural District in Manistee County. He held that post for five years, leaving to take up a selling position with a school supply firm.

★ ★ ★

His retirement will take him back to the selling business but in a new field — real estate.

"I already have my license and I start with the Clay Stokes agency in Milford the first of the month," Hansen said.

School affairs, however, still will be of concern to Hansen.

His wife Florence is a third grade teacher at the Milford Elementary School and his daughter Joanne is a teacher at the junior high school. A son, Gene, is a senior at Milford High School.

Hansen and his family live at 714 Atlantic St., Milford.

Davisburg to Have Contest

Keep Your Beard On!

DAVISBURG — Don't pick up that razor, Pontiac Centennial beard growers!

So says Claude Trim who is in charge of the beard growing contest that will be connected with the 125th anniversary of this community.

"We can have some extraordinary chin whiskers for our weekend celebration Aug. 19 and 20 if those already growing beards will leave them on for awhile," said Trim, an engineer at the GMC Truck and Coach Division.

Trim said that the Davisburg Junior Chamber of Commerce, sponsors of the August festivities, are planning a big parade, a re-enactment of a Civil War battle, an ox roast and the whiskers contest.

Fred Davison, owner of Ye Olde General Store here, is chairman for the anniversary program.

Sees Light Vote on Con-Con

GOP Vice Chairman Reports Much Apathy to July 25 Balloting

Mrs. Elly Peterson, vice chairman of the Michigan Republican party, yesterday forecast in a Farmington talk that "perhaps less than 10 per cent of the eligible voters" would vote in the July 25 constitutional convention primary because of apathy.

Mrs. Peterson, who is completing a 20-county tour of the state, reported "overwhelming statewide apathy" toward the forthcoming con-con elections.

"People are indifferent to the election and uninformed on the issues," she told a meeting of Oakland County GOP women.

Mrs. Peterson urged Michigan Republicans to combat voter indifference with "intensive and effective con-con educational programs" that will spell out the importance of the convention.

MRS. GARY THOMAS

A bachelor of science degree has been awarded to Mrs. Gary Thomas at Eastern Michigan University. She is the daughter of Mrs. Commodore C. Goodwin of 245 N. Broadway St., Lake Orion, and the late Mr. Goodwin. Mrs. Thomas and her husband will live in Utica where both will teach this fall.

Lake Orion Youth, 17 Stabbed at Carnival

A 17-year-old Lake Orion youth reported to Pontiac police last night that he was stabbed in an attack by two men at the carnival on Cass Avenue.

★ ★ ★

John A. Raymond, 75 E. Flint St., said he was stabbed in the upper right arm with an unidentified object after the pair jumped out from behind a ticket trailer and began to beat him.

★ ★ ★

Raymond was treated at Pontiac General Hospital and released.

Hart Asks for Study of UP Labor Needs

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Philip A. Hart, D-Mich., asked the Labor Department Thursday to undertake a federal-state study of labor market areas in Michigan's Upper Peninsula.

Hart told Secretary Arthur J. Goldberg the study would be important in qualifying Upper Peninsula areas for aid under the new Area Redevelopment Act.

The $394-million measure provides for federal loans and grants for industrial, commercial and public facilities in areas of high unemployment.

U. of M. to Host Teachers

ANN ARBOR (AP) — Some 500 teachers, school administrators and faculty members are expected to attend the 32nd annual Summer Education Conference at the University of Michigan July 17-19.

Chicago's first permanent school was built of brick and the first city offices were in a brick building.

Alien Students to Visit in Area

35 Represent Nations Around the World; Will See Avondale High

Avondale High School will become a United Nations in miniature Tuesday when 35 foreign exchange students arrive there for a three-day visit sponsored by the American Field Service.

The students, who have attended school during the past year in Illinois and Wisconsin, represent 22 countries, including such faraway lands as Singapore, Malaya, Indonesia, the United Arab Republic and Japan.

A bus carrying the students from the two neighboring states is scheduled to arrive at the school at 5 p.m. Tuesday.

They will stay with families in the school district during their stopover there.

For many of the foreign visitors, the brief vacation in the Avondale district will mark their final stop in the United States before the return to their native countries.

Mrs. J. H. Stone of 3552 South Blvd., Troy, is chairman of the local American Field Service chapter. She will supervise the tour by the foreign students in this area.

She said they will be taken to Greenfield Village in Dearborn Wednesday.

On Thursday, the students will go swimming at Mrs. Stone's cottage in Lake Orion. Highlight of their visit will be a Hawaiian style potluck dinner to be held at the high school Thursday at 6:30 p.m.

The dinner is open to the public. Persons who attend are asked to bring a dish to pass and their own table service.

Southfield to Consider Sewer Financing Plans

SOUTHFIELD — Recommended methods of financing a master sewer program here were presented to the City Council last night for consideration by consulting engineers, Spalding-DeDecker Association of Birmingham.

This city has only until July 1 to accept the offer of the Michigan State Highway Department to share the construction cost of a major drain, crossing under Southfield Road, Northwestern Highway and 9-Mile Road.

Council members have not been able to agree to the financing of the project or any other future drains that must be built in the city.

★ ★ ★

The highway department is anxious to begin construction of the Southfield Expressway under which this particular drain must be built.

★ ★ ★

If the drain is constructed now, Southfield would pay 60 per cent of almost $600,000 eliminating costly tunneling after the expressway has been completed.

Last week the council turned down the offer with a 3-2 vote, but will once again consider the project Monday after studying the financing proposals.

Delay Action on Third Until Enrollment Figure Is More Accurate

OAK PARK — The Oak Park Board of Education has named two new administrators and delayed action on a third until enrollment figures at George Washington Carver School are more concrete.

★ ★ ★

Selected for the newly-created position of district curriculum coordinator was Edwin Crandell, now principal of Harlan Elementary School, Birmingham.

★ ★ ★

Herbert Stoorman, a sixth grade teacher at Key Elementary School, was elevated to assistant principal of that school.

The promotion of James Simms, attendance officer at the Carver School, to assistant principal was postponed.

Asst. Superintendent James N. Pepper said that the Carver School principal, Dr. Joseph T. Hudson, has his hands full right now and needs assistance but board member Gerson Lacoff suggested that the appointment be delayed.

★ ★ ★

He gave as his reason an anticipated decrease in enrollment at the school because of its recent consolidation with the Oak Park District.

★ ★ ★

Pepper said the appointment was not immediately urgent and the board agreed to wait.

M24 Parking Ban Takes Effect Soon to Insure Safety

ORION TOWNSHIP — A parking ban will go into effect immediately on a section of Lapeer Road (M24) south of Lake Orion, the State Highway Department announced today.

★ ★ ★

Parking will not be allowed from a 650-foot stretch of Lapeer Road south of the Oakland County Road Commission garage at 1100 S. Lapeer Road.

The restriction was requested by Leonard J. Gantzer of 1180 S. Lapeer Road who told the highway department in a letter that he was providing "plenty of off-street parking" for his customers.

Officials said the ban would eliminate a hazardous condition created by cars parked along the highway. The no parking order followed a cooperative study by the State police, highway department and local authorities.

Teachers Told of Own Faults

Profession Has Some 'House Cleaning to Do,' Says Commissioner

UNIVERSITY PARK, Pa. (AP) —The teaching profession was urged today to first put its own house in order and then persuade the public that it has the right to run its own affairs.

★ ★ ★

Warren G. Hill, state commissioner of education for Maine, said that no profession would be allowed to regulate itself unless the public was convinced that it was competent.

He told the 16th annual Conference of Teacher Education and Professional Standards, in a prepared address, there are still some teachers "who teach in exactly the same manner in which they would mow lawns—get over the ground, get your pay, and forget the whole thing when the whistle blows."

★ ★ ★

Hill set this ultimate goal for teaching as a profession: "Teachers will receive their education at institutions approved by the profession; they will study in programs conceived and arranged by the profession; their certificates will be issued by the profession, and their performance will be judged by the profession."

Hill said the National Education Association was to originate action for professional improvement, and that it should raise its dues—now $10 a year—to finance this.

This is certain to be opposed by many segments of the profession.

Educator-Legislator Void Hurts Students, Parents

(EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the fourth and final article of a series in which Stuart Gross, education writer of the Saginaw News, discusses the financial problems that face Michigan's private colleges. In it, he tells of the coolness that has developed between the legislature and college presidents over how the problem should be solved.

By STUART GROSS
Education Writer, Saginaw News

SAGINAW (AP) — The void between Michigan college presidents and the legislature, which has all but broken down communication between the two, has left the student and his parents on a limb.

The enrollment curtailment this year, the higher selectivity of colleges on admissions, and the complaint by the presidents that they need money to build to enable them to enroll more students are problems that as of today have no answers.

Legislators say appropriations have gone up faster than enrollments. Dr. Lynn M. Bartlett, state school superintendent, says figures since 1957-58 don't bear out such a blanket statement. He gives these figures:

From 1957 to 1961 Central Michigan's appropriations went up 17.5 per cent, enrollment up 27.8 per cent; Eastern Michigan's appropriations up 17.7 per cent, enrollment 14.8 per cent; Ferris Institute, appropriations up 16.5 per cent, enrollment 38.25 per cent; Michigan Tech, appropriations up 12 per cent, enrollment 12.03 per cent; Michigan State University, appropriations up 12.7 per cent, enrollment 18.61 per cent; Northern Michigan College, appropriation up 28.6 per cent, enrollment 33.25 per cent; University of Michigan, appropriation up 14.4 per cent, enrollment 6.19 per cent; Western Michigan, appropriation up 35.66 per cent, enrollment 34.7 per cent.

At the same time the colleges asked a total of $331,898,330 for capital improvements, and got $36,962,029.

"It is somewhat of a puzzle to all of us," says Dr. Judson W. Foust, CMU president, "why the state does not go into a bonding program in order to provide the facilities needed at this time when this large increase in student body is on us and will continue for some time."

MAY TIGHTEN UP

Dr. Foust said if additional funds are not provided, CMU will limit its student body to that of the fall of September 1961. This would require a slightly higher selectivity, but not a marked one.

"Undoubtedly, we would tighten up a little on entrance and likewise tighten in terms of the students who are permitted to continue. This would seem only fair in that if there is a shortage of space those that are here should be carrying their work at a high standard or step aside to make room for those who have not had a chance."

Rep. Raymond Wurtzel (R-Port Huron) recognizes the problem but adds:

"The legislature could move fast enough to solve it, but I am not certain it will."

College presidents say it takes three years to get a building from legislative approval into use, and they are not very optimistic about the legislature moving fast on the building program.

★ ★ ★

Dr. Victor V. Spathelf, Ferris Institute president, cites his case for a new classroom-office building:

1955-56—Planning of building requirements by faculty.

Fall 1955—Request to legislature for $60,000 in planning funds, appropriated for July 1, 1956.

1957, 1958, 1959 — No appropriation despite request to proceed.

1960—Legislature appropriated $500,000 to begin construction by July 1, 1960.

1961 — Legislature appropriated $1,200,000 to complete.

Sept., 1961—First units of building to be occupied.

Dec., 1961—Building scheduled to be completed.

"During this elapsed time," he said, "The enrollment at Ferris increased from 1,431 students to an anticipated 3,600 in September 1961. It would be an understatement to say that Ferris has been packing students in with a shoehorn as it scheduled classes from 7 a.m. to late evenings, nights and on 'Saturdays.'"

FEARS TUITION HIKE

Legislators say the colleges could get more operating money by raising tuition. Dr. Barrett counters that Michigan is in danger of pricing education out of the pockets of average-income families.

He said in 1949 tuition, fees, and resident hall charges for the schools under the State Board of Education totaled $590 for resident and $665 for non-resident; in 1961 the total will be $953 for resident and $1,183 for nonresident. Tuition went up from $140 to $215 for resident students and $215 to $445 for nonresident students in that same period.

State Sen. Lynn O. Francis, R-Midland, claims that 30 per cent of the students in state colleges are from out-of-Michigan. He says saying Michigan exports about as many students as it imports, and now is the time to cut this number in half. Educators counter by to put restrictions on would mean retaliation by other states.

There's no conclusion to this. Parents of students hoping for college education can only hope the situation will clear up by the time their children are ready for college. But there's nothing in the wind today to indicate the solution is near.

Chandler's Will Leaves $600,000 to Daughters

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Jeff Chandler's attorney has filed in Superior Court a sighed carbon copy of the actor's will, under which Chandler left more than $600,000 in trust for his two daughters.

★ ★ ★

A petition accompanying the will Thursday said the original of the document, dated June 9, 1959, had not been found. The court was asked to recognize the carbon copy.

The will made no provision for Chandler's former wife Marjorie. She received a property settlement at the time of the couple's divorce. The divorce became final Aug. 16, 1960 and the daughters Jamie, now 14, and Dana, now 11 have lived with her since.

Convict Clergy of Florida Sit-In

Ministers, Rabbis Vow More to Follow With Demonstrations

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (UPI) — Ten clergymen convicted of unlawful assembly during a "freedom ride" sit-in at the city airport returned north today with a pledge that other anti-segregationists would follow them here.

The biracial group of ministers and rabbis was convicted in City Court Thursday night and received the maximum sentence of a $500 fine or 60 days in jail. Each posted $1,000 bond and filed notice of appeal.

Municipal Judge John Rudd told the clergymen at the end of the day-long trial:

★ ★ ★

"If I thought for one minute . . . that you came here on a noble, Christian purpose and acted accordingly, you would not be here now.

★ ★ ★

"Stop and think when you go back home and check the records of crime, prostitution and racial strife there compared to Tallahassee.

"Then clean up your own parishes, and you'll find you have more than you can take care of."

The seven whites and three Negroes, all from New York and New England, were sponsored on a "freedom ride" through the Southeast by the Congress of Racial Equality (CORE). They were arrested June 16 during a sit-in at the segregated municipal airport restaurant.

The ministers, who departed for Jacksonville, returned north by plane from the Port city.

U.S. Assures Canada on Windsor Workers

OTTAWA (UPI) — Prime Minister John Diefenbaker said Thursday the United States has assured Canada it has no present plans to prohibit residents of Windsor, Ont., from commuting to Detroit to work.

"Assurances have been received from the United States that no consideration is being given to the exclusion of Canadians from entering the United States for employment," he told the house of commons.

It was disclosed earlier this week that the U.S. Immigration Service had made a survey that showed more than 4,000 Windsor residents commute daily to work in Detroit.

Housing Measure Okayed by House

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy today had most of what he asked from Congress in the fields of housing and urban improvements.

★ ★

The House passed a multibillion-dollar bill Thursday night including all but one of his major recommendations. The Senate has passed a similar one.

Next week, conferees will adjust the differences and both houses will vote once more on the product—but there is no longer any doubt of approval.

House Democrats said the bill passed there calls for $4.9 billion spending in programs of various length, mostly four years. Republicans who fought hard but unsuccessfully to whittle down the measure denounced it as a $9-billion-plus extravagance. The senate bill has been tagged at $6.1 billion.

WORK OUT COMPROMISE

To hold enough Democratic conservatives in line, House managers of the bill sacrificed one Kennedy recommendation — Federal Housing Administration insurance of 40-year, no-down-payment loans on houses costing up to $15,000. The House instead provided 35-year loans and 3 per cent down payments. The Senate has voted 40-year loans, but down payments up to $555.

The roll-call results show why concessions were considered necessary.

A much whittled-down Republican substitute for the housing bill was defeated 215 to 197, with 39 Democrats and 7 Republicans crossing party lines. The vote on final passage was 235 to 178, with 38 Democrats joining the minority, while only 25 Republicans voted for the bill.

Presumably, more Democrats would have crossed over had there not been concessions.

The final House bill provides, among other things:

1. About 100,000 additional units of public housing.
2. Much liberalized FHA insurance provisions on home improvements, designed to stimulate the modernization of old houses.
3. $2 billion in grants for slum clearance and urban renewal over four years, $500 million less than the Senate version.
4. $500 million for loans for community facilities such as sewers, $450 million more than the senate bill.
5. $1.2 billion over four years for college dormitory loans.
6. $100 million for housing for the elderly.

Protect Her, Says Abby

She Lacks Experience

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: Have parents the right to forbid their 15-year-old daughter to go with a boy whom they think is unfit company for her? Our objections to the boy are based on more than vague general principles.

ABBY

He is 18, has been in trouble with the law more than once, and has been a bad influence on other teen-agers. Also, his family has a very bad record.

Our daughter thinks we are cruel and unjust because we don't want her going with a mixed-up juvenile delinquent. She says if she doesn't give him a chance to prove he has changed, it will be her fault if he goes wrong again. Your opinion is needed quickly.

CONCERNED PARENTS

DEAR CONCERNED: A 15-year-old girl lacks the experience and maturity required to "rehabilitate" the troubled young man you describe. Her motives may be noble, but she shouldn't be allowed to jeopardize herself, or her reputation, by going with a character who has yet to prove he has "changed."

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY: What was so wonderful about that lady who took her husband a hot lunch to work every day? I have walked over a mile in hip-deep water just to take my husband a thermos of hot stew and coffee while he was hunting in a cold duck blind.

AVERAGE WIFE

DEAR AVERAGE: (Who said you were "average"?) They don't hardly make your kind no more.

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY: A neighbor of mine became widowed about two years ago. She has three children (the oldest is 16), which should be a full-time job for any mother. She claims she "needs something to do" so three nights a week she goes to Beauty School. She wants to be a beautician. She says the children are old enough to look after themselves. (Ha!) Her husband left her well enough fixed so she doesn't have to work. She is just looking for an excuse to get out of the house. How do you tell a person like this that she isn't kidding anybody?

ON TO HER

DEAR ON: Get off it! The supernatural powers possessed by "neighbors" who "know" how well-fixed a widow was left, amaze me. Why don't you tend to your own business?

★

CONFIDENTIAL TO "LOST MY HEAD": Use your other head and ask him to marry you.

★ ★ ★

What's bothering you? For a personal reply, write to Abby, Box 3365, Beverly Hills, Calif. Include a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Begging for Praise Imposes on Spouse

By RUTH MILLETT
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Do you know the praise-beggar? Her husband wouldn't dare to get up from the dinner table without praising the food. If he should forget, she'd say, "I'm afraid the dinner wasn't very good tonight."

Then he would have to come forth with a double dose of "It was wonderful."

If she hangs new curtains in the living room she either says, "How do you like the curtains?"—and he had better like them—or she plays the let's see if he notices them game.

She knows he won't—and he doesn't. But she is very hurt when she points out, "You didn't notice the curtains, and I spent all day getting them up."

When she buys a new dress, she makes him admire and admire. If he sounds a little lukewarm, she says, "Maybe I'd better take it back"—and that gets him into line immediately.

If he praises the refreshments when the party is over, she isn't satisfied until she tells him how little they cost, so that he can praise her for being a good manager.

LITTLE IS NEEDED

A little experience in the business world before marriage would have been good for her.

For the businesswoman gets by on a minimum of praise. And she never asks for what she gets.

About the only time her work is commented on is when there is a complaint. Every time she hands the boss a letter, she doesn't expect him to say, "My, you typed this beautifully, Miss Smith. You're a smart girl."

In a few months of working she learns that there are no complaints, she's lucky, and all is well.

There's no reason in the world why women in the home can't take the same attitude. It must be an awful bore to a man to have to praise continually.

Dr. Rufus W. Jones, general director of Conservative Baptist Home Mission Society, Wheaton, Ill., performed the ceremony, assisted by the bride's uncle, Rev. Elmer Stainton, of First Christian Church, Windsor, Ont.

MRS. DONALD R. MELTON

White silk bombazine for the daughter of the John D. Stewarts of South Shore Drive featured a bodice appliqued with Alencon lace, petaled intermission length skirt and full chapel train. Silk illusion veiling fell from a tiny sequined lace cap.

Attendants in twin shades of orchid silk organza, with balloon skirts, wore white picture hats and carried baskets of Shasta daisies and ivy.

Marilyn Biermacher of Bloomfield Hills was honor maid. Bridesmaids were the bridegroom's sister Lois of Aurora, Ill., and Kay Armstrong of Walled Lake, Susan Crowe of Big Rapids was her aunt's junior bridesmaid.

The bridegroom, son of the Arlie Meltons of Aurora, Ill., had William Hoadley of Aurora for best man. Ushers were Fred Pomeroy of Erie, Pa., Thomas Rumsey of Plymouth and Darryl Pedersen of Huntington Woods.

Upon returning from a western honeymoon following the Saturday nuptials, the bride will complete her studies at Illinois State Normal University where Mr. Melton received his master's degree.

Candy pink pointe de venise lace for Mrs. Stewart was worn with small veiled hat of silk roses. Her flowers were pink and white carnations. Mrs. Melton chose pale blue eyelet over taffeta, flowered hat and white carnations.

Answer: See Your Doctor

Quiz: What About Moles

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Q. "I would like to know if moles can be removed from the face? Is there something I can put on them?"

A. You should not do anything to moles yourself. Talk to your doctor about this condition. Moles can be removed and he probably will refer you to a skin specialist.

* * *

Q. "Please help me! I am 14 years old and in the eighth grade. All the girls my age wear brassieres because they need them. My measurements are bust 27, waist 22 and hips 27. I weigh 85 pounds. As you can tell by my measurements I am very flat chested. I am very embarrassed about it. Please write something about this. Maybe my Mom will see it."

A. As I understand your letter you are more concerned about not being able to wear a bra than the fact your curves have not yet developed. You are correct in not worrying about the latter because girls develop at varying ages.

However, I see no reason why you should be embarrassed. Any time after bust development begins, a girl can wear a brassiere. They are frilly and pretty, and if properly fitted, are an aid to a good bustline later on.

* * *

Q. "Can you tell me what could cause lips to become dry and hard? My lip almost always has a crusty formation on it. How can I overcome this?"

A. Dry lips can come from using a lipstick which is too dry. This also can be due to the nervous habit of wetting the lips continuously.

The condition you mention may also be due to a vitamin deficiency. If the crust you mention is a real sore that does not heal, you should see your doctor right away. You should see him anyway to check on your diet and general health.

* * *

Q. "Are there any exercises or medications to get rid of a cleft in the chin?"

A. Sorry! I do not know of any.

About 150 different species of trees grow in the Great Smoky mountains national park, as contrasted with 85 varieties in all Europe.

Rear-Facing Plane Seats Touchy Question

By ROBERT J. SERLING

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Federal Aviation Agency (FAA) has tackled one of aviation's touchiest questions—should U.S. airliners be equipped with rear-facing seats for safety purposes?

FAA recently held a conference on the subject with several "interested parties." Now it is studying their comments to determine whether there should be a federal regulation requiring aft-facing seats.

Those comments ranged from violent ayes to equally violent nayes. They included:

—The Air Transportation Association (ATA), representing the scheduled airlines, said all available evidence shows rear-facing seats in some crashes could be more dangerous than conventional front-facing.

—The National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA) said a lot could be done to make crashes more survivable but that seat direction did not appear to be a major solution.

—Aerospace Industries Association (AIA), representing aircraft and engine manufacturers, recommended further research into the rearward vs. frontward controversy but expressed "reasonable doubt" that rearward seats offer any real increase in crash safety.

—Armed Forces Institute of Pathology urged immediate adoption of an FAA rule requiring rearward seats.

—Col. John P. Stapp, Air Force rocketsled pioneer, also urged mandatory aft-facing seats but said the federal government should subsidize their cost.

WORK ON AIRPORTS

—Capt. Homer Mouden of Braniff Airways, representing the Air Line Pilots Association (ALPA), said even if rearward seats were safer, we'd be better off spending the money to make airports safer, inasmuch as that's where most survivable crashes occur.

All the conference participants agreed that airliner cabin interiors could be made safer by such means as removing hard food trays from the backs of seats.

They also agreed that an obvious compromise solution was to leave seats facing frontward, but require passengers to wear shoulder harnesses as well as belts—provided you could get people to accept such confinement.

Another solution proposed was attaching the seats to cabin ceilings by means of thin but strong metal bars. Major problem: How to run a bar from the seatback to the ceiling and still have a seat that could recline.

LOUD DISAGREEMENT

The subject of which seat direction is safest produced wide and loud disagreement.

A spokesman for the Armed Forces Institute of Pathology said it is obvious that in the vast majority of accidents, airplanes crash in a forward direction—thus exposing front-facing occupants to terrific deceleration forces. The rearward seat, he argued, would absorb and cushion such forces.

An ATA official, however, cited studies by the Cornell aviation crash injury research program which showed:

(1) That the strength of seat floor attachments and seat belts are most important than the direction of the seat;

★ ★ ★

(2) That in crashes where there are survivors, the speeds involved are so low, seat direction plays little or no role; and

(3) There are some crashes involving side or even aft directional forces in which rearward seats would be more lethal than front-facing—such as in a ground-loop, cartwheel on the second and third impacts which often follow initial contact with the ground.

★ ★ ★

Capt. Mouden of ALPA expressed disappointment that there has not been more basic research on the relation of seat direction to crash survival.

Youth Frolics on Its Day of the Century

MARCHER AND HER 'BABY' — One young marcher in Thursday's Youth Day Parade brought her Centennial 'baby' along in a baby buggy. The fancily clad pooch sits obediently as its mistress, Margaret Jacobson, 5, moves up Saginaw Street to the delight of thousands of spectators.

BUNNY HOP HOPEFUL — She's already won two ribbons and Carolyn Brown, 12, is shown here trying for another in a Bunny Hop race at Oakland Park. Carolyn, of 96 Oliver St., grits her teeth in a last ditch effort as she nears the finish line.

BICYCLE BRIGADE — There were many colorfully decorated bicycles and riders in Thursday's Youth Parade. Many, like these, just came to ride. At times it was a little difficult to follow the white line, but ride they did, right up Saginaw from Auburn to Oakland as parents manned the sidelines.

PROSECUTOR OUSTED — Prosecutor George F. Taylor (left) discovered himself demoted to the role of private citizen yesterday as Waterford Township High School graduate Dennis Klender puts his name over Taylor's shingle during "Youth Day" activities.

Pontiac Press Photos by Eddie Vanderworp and Phil Webb

SCOUTS ON SAGINAW — One thing there were a lot of in the Youth Parade were scouts. The girl scouts alone sponsored three floats and several more marching units. These scouts are from Pontiac Troop 177, and they're having the time of their lives.

GIDDYAP! — This three-wheel pony, with balloons attached, was a crowd pleaser in the Youth Parade Thursday morning. Its driver is Randy Harris, 7, son of Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Harris of 540 Auburn Ave. Randy, a member of the Pontiac YMCA, was part of the "Y" float and marching unit.

SUBURBAN QUEEN — One of the queens in Thursday's youth parade was pretty Kathy DeLisle, 11, of 2845 Knowlton St., Keego Harbor. Kathy, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert DeLisle, was recently chosen as Miss West Suburban Boys Club. She was accompanied by a host of marchers from the club in Keego Harbor.

BELLE RINGER — The hard work and planning of three Longfellow School pupils was evident in the Youth Parade. Their dresses and the "float" on which their doll, "Cindy Belle," is riding took lots of time to make. Proudly parading their accomplishments are Carla Charlton, (left) 9, of 14 N. Midland Drive; Lynn Pomeroy, 7, of 209 S. East Blvd., pulling the wagon, and hidden behind Lynn is Peggy Payne, 8, of 212 S. East Blvd.

RIBBON - WINNING HOPPERS — Both these 12-year-olds showed their agility on one leg yesterday at an area park when they won ribbons in the one-foot race. Kenneth Laird (left) of 213 Victory Drive and Dan Voytar of 777 Third St. led the field in their age group. Dan took first place and Ken second.

CENTENNIAL WHISKERS — Pamela Winowiski, 4, of 235 Going St., showed up at one of the Youth Day athletic events with her "kitty." Little Pamela was too young to do much competing, but "kitty" won the praise of all for his long whiskers. Unfortunately "kitty" is ineligible for tomorrow's beard contest —doesn't have his Brothers of the Brush pin.

Roses Need Food After Blooming

Feed your roses right after they lose their first bloom! This is the advice of E. L. Thomas of Virgoro research laboratories.

"With a burning sun in the sky it is time to replenish nutrients used up by your rose plants in the vigorous spring growth. The importance of a post-blooming feeding, using a good rose food, cannot be over-emphasized," Thomas says.

This is especially true if spring feeding was neglected, he says. Roses, unlike many common flowering shrubs, do not have the ability nor capacity for storing a reservoir of nutrients. Whereas forsythia, vibernum and spirea do build up a reserve, roses cannot, and an application of rose food right now is most beneficial.

A rose food which comes in convenient carton size container has been found by many home rose gardeners to be a great time saver. A cupful, approximately two closed handfuls, is ample nourishment for the average rose plant. A boxful will cover 100 square feet—a rose bed four feet by 25 feet.

"Work the formulation lightly into the top two inches of soil," says Thomas.

Apply in a circular area starting about six inches from the base of the stalks.

Where a mulch has been used, it may be advisable to double the recommended feedings," says Thomas.

"This is true if corn cobs or buckwheat hulls have been used. It is not necessary if the mulch used was peat moss or vermiculite."

CHINESE CABBAGE — The new Burpe Hybrid Chinese forms broad short heads that somewhat resemble Cos or Romaine lettuce in shape. The broad white midribs which make up over 2/3 of most of the leaves are tender, brittle and have a sweet but tangy flavor that is most refreshing.

Chinese Cabbage Can Be Interesting Vegtable

One of the latest additions to the list of hybrid vegetables available to gardeners is the too little known Brassica pekinensis or Chinese Cabbage. Perhaps this vegetable will finally "catch on" in the Western world by the introduction by Burpee of a new vigorous Burpee Hybrid Chinese Cabbage.

Chinese Cabbage is native to Eastern Asia and Japan and is mentioned in Chinese literature of the 5th Century A. D. but is undoubtedly much older than that. The Chinese and Japanese found enjoyable uses for this crop years ago and carried seed with them as they set up their culture and customs in foreign lands.

Missionaries to the Orient sent seed back to Europe in the mid-18th Century, but the class never became very popular, and for over 100 years was grown merely as an oddity. It should be remembered that the tomato suffered the same neglect for years after its introduction to Europe.

Chinese cabbage has a delicate but zesty flavor when used raw in salads, and for this reason should become more popular as people find out how really flavorful it is. With the great popularity that salads have attained in recent years and a continuous search by imaginative "gourmets" for new salad tastes, Chinese Cabbage will make a welcome addition to the salad bowl.

The thick succulent midribs of this vegetable are excellent served in the relish dish as you would celery and it's difficult to beat cole slaw made of this crop, but don't chop it too finely.

As a boiled vegetable, with spices and butter it appeals to many people more than ordinary cabbage and the odiferous cooking smell of that vegetable is missing in Chinese Cabbage. Anyone who likes Chinese cooking has probably enjoyed it as one of the vegetables (not overcooked) in a dish of pork or shrimp with the tasty sauces that they seem to concoct so well.

Chinese Cabbage is a bit temperamental about the time of year it is planted and does best in this country when planted in late summer (mid-July in vicinity of Philadelphia) to mature at a fall or early winter crop. If sown in the spring, hot weather usually makes it go to seed before the plant can form enough edible leaves to be worth while.

Seed may be sown directly where the plants are to be grown and thinned to 10" to 16" apart in the row. Being a leafy vegetable plenty of nitrogen and water will produce the largest most tender heads. Periodic dustings with Rotenone particularly of the young plants will control the ravenous flea beetles which seem to enjoy all members of the cabbage family.

Being a very cold tolerant plant Chinese Cabbage remains in good edible condition even after rather severe freezes that destroy most other vegetables. The plants most resistant to repeated freezing and thawing appear to be the younger plants which have not developed a firm compact head, and at Fordhook Farm Chinese Cabbage has been harvested for use in salads as late as Christmas when grown unprotected in the open field.

These Plants Tolerate Shade

On the subject of shade-tolerant plants, here are a few native plants which are also tolerant of damp places. Of course, this does not mean a heavy, soggy clay soil in which nothing worth while will thrive, but fairly good soil in which there is considerable humus.

Cardinal flower, lobelia cardinalis. Strong spirey stalks sometimes three feet high with numerous flowing scarlet flowers.

Dutchman's Breeches, dicentra culcullaria. Odd, creamy flowers and lacy foliage in early spring, vanishing before summer. To six inches or so high, and the choicest of the choice. Full shade, and b preference, a damp leaf-mo'dy slope.

Cinnamon fern — osmunda cinnamonea. Tall, strong and impressive fronds, spore-stalks very ornamental with their cinnamon-colored fruiting bodies. Full or part shade and rich, leafmoldy soil.

Forget-me-not, myosotis palystris is the true native American, but M. scorpioides from Europe is the one usually grown. Too well known to need description. Forms delightful low masses of blue in suitable sunny places.

Swamp Azalea — azalea viscosum. White, sun or shade.

Inkberry, ilex glabra. Evergreen, to 4 feet. Sun or shade.

Shadbush, amelanchier canadensis. White, sun or shade.

Spicebush, benzoin aestivale. Greenish yellow, sun or shade.

Sweet pepperbush, clethra alnifolia. Fragrant, cream-white flowers. Sun or shade. Acid soil.

Winterberry, ilex verticilata. Scarlet autumn berries. Sun or shade. Excellent for Christmas arrangements as it holds its berries for weeks.

Get Guarantee With Moved Trees

Moved trees need nursing. And the bigger they are, the more care they'll probably require.

Since the average home owner hardly will have the required tree-side manner to cope with the problem, he's advised to buy his woody pet a two-year survival guarantee. The two-year period following transplanting is the critical time for the landscaping keystones. Normal transplanting losses are to be expected. Insurance is a prudent investment that spreads the risk.

Reputable tree men and landscape architects offer package deals that take the gamble out of buying fairly large trees. They offer the guarantee and follow-up service to maintain growing vigor and beauty. The follow-up service means taking care of the tree for the life of the guarantee.

Except in extreme tree decimes, few amateur tree does can assay troubles that may spell the sawdust trail. That's why such services as feeding, pruning and periodic examinations by professionals are so important. That fine tree struggling to adapt to its new environment on the home grounds may be 25 years old or older. As long-time undertakings, they should be given every chance for survival.

The home owner has one responsibility, which seldom is covered by the guarantee. That's proper watering.

Must Cut Down Tree

A—There is no satisfactory control for willow borer. Cut the infected branches down to an inch or two above the ground every other year—just after the pussies have passed.

Rotate Foliage Plant

Don't leave a potted foliage plant in the same spot year around. Keep it in semi-shade in summer. During fall, winter and spring months it will thrive near a south or east window.

Plant in Shade

The plantain lily (hosta) should be planted where it will be in shade during the hot noon sun. Plantain lily foliage invariably burns when planted in direct sun.

The average American family is expected to spend $385 on home improvement in 1961. Manufacturers of housing equipment, furniture and furnishings used $22 million worth of national newspaper advertising last year.

Sales of cigarettes were up 4.8 per cent in 1960. Cigarette manufacturers helped various brands with a daily newspaper expenditure of nearly $32 million for the year.

Follow Rules to Win Garden Competition

If you have a specialty or just enjoy producing better blooms and crops, you can be a prize gardener this year. Dozens of flower and garden exhibitions, from local shows to state fairs, offer you many opportunities to win blue ribbons as well as cash awards.

First step toward your blue ribbon is to decide to enter. Watch your local paper for show announcements. Check with your local garden centers for information on nearby exhibitions. Request schedules and entry blanks.

Welcome competition. Many new exhibitors who try hard have been veteran garden showmen. Read the exhibitors' rules carefully. Worthy entries have been disqualified because the entrant misunderstood directions.

Exhibit only the number of specimens called for in the rules —no more, no less. If carrots should have tops or beets have none, make sure your entry is correct.

Rules at various shows may differ. Know the regulations and make sure your entry will conform.

During the time before the show, give your plants or crops the same attention you have in the past. Add a little extra tender care. Keep insects and diseases under control. Use fertilizer to produce the size and quality that will win.

Knowing what judges want will help in selecting specimens. Basically, judges look for cultural perfection and uniformity. Both factors count heavily.

Cultural perfection means specimens that look like the picture on the seed package. Uniformity means having all blooms, vegetables or fruit in one class match each other and the standard of perfection as closely as possible.

Conditioning helps your entry toward the coveted first prize. For flowers, cut blooms the night before they are to be judged. Put them in warm water, but keep the container in a cool spot all night. Make a fresh stem cut before the show to boost water intake.

Make sure your specimens have no spray residue or other foreign material on them. Wash vegetables well. Clean specimens make a more attractive display. Avoid using any that show insect or disease injury.

Give attention to these guidelines and you'll have an excellent chance to win well-deserved recognition for your gardening ability this year.

Check the Reds! Spider Mites!

Give your ornamental trees and shrubs a fair shake if you think you're seeing red — red spider mites, that is.

★ ★ ★

The shake in this case refers to how you can check for the tiny, almost invisible, pest which sucks the juices and causes your evergreens to change to sickly hues. Simply hold a sheet of white paper under any suspect planting and rap smartly. If the tiny mites are present, they will fall off and can be seen as they scamper across the paper.

★ ★ ★

For control of this tree scourge, which thrives on DDT, annual spraying is necessary, according to Henry W. Gilbertson, pathologist and technical adviser of the Davey Tree Expert Co. Malathion is recommended if other pests are present; kelthane if mites are the only pests to be curbed. Two applications, at seven to ten-day intervals are required.

The mites have eight legs, are of the arachnid or spider clan and are not true insects, which have six legs. Red spiders head a host of mite species that despite favorite landscaping. They are brownish-red, elliptical-shaped and only one seventy-fifth of an inch long. Their sucking of plant juices causes arborvitae to turn brown, spruce to gray, juniper to yellow and hemlock to white, mostly during the hottest periods of Summer.

A close runner-up in greenery damage is the spruce mite, another pest, fractionally larger, which attacks spruce, arborvitae, hemlock, juniper and some pines. It is dark green to nearly black when mature.

Flower Pot Tree

A new home decoration accessory for indoor gardeners is a flower pole tree with adjustable holders for 4-inch or 5-inch clay flower pots. Designed to complement the popular pole tree, adorned with your favorite clay-potted and foliage plants, the tree makes an attractive accent piece for windows or floor-to-ceiling installations, such as bookcases or cabinets.

Let Rhododendron Grow

The mountain laurel can be kept to a certain height by yearly cutting back the leader of each branch. While rhododendron will tolerate annual prouning they are best used where the can grow as nature intended, to a height of 10 feet or more.

Try Newer Varieties of Vegetables

When selecting your seed packets, don't neglect the lesser known varieties of vegetables. Kohl Rabi is a delightful vegetable that must be grown in the cool weather in the very early spring or late fall. Cabbage Mammoth Red Rock makes an excellent cole slaw and can also be mixed with green cabbage or lettuce to dress up a salad.

★ ★ ★

Chinese Cabbage is delicious in either a salad or when cooked like the regular cabbage and served with cream sauce.

The ever-popular parsley is easily grown either outdoors or indoors in the window box during the winter. It keeps coming back after it is cut and is an excellent item to grow in a pot the year around.

★ ★ ★

Rhubarb Chard is another vegetable that is little known but has an excellent quality. It can be eaten cooked like spinach, or the stalks can be dipped in a batter for delicious fritters.

New Zealand spinach, with an excellent flavor and high vitamin content, is another item much enjoyed by those who enjoy the best in food.

Housewives should not use a mower while wearing flimsy shoes or open-toed sandals.

Trees May Get All Sorts of Ailment

By EARL ARONSON
AP Newsfeatures

Viruses, bacteria, insects and fungi cause much trouble for your trees, but a half dozen of the worst ailments stem from other sources.

Let's ask the doctor to diagnose them:

1. DROPSY — Caused by wet feet, or too much water around the root system. Poor drainage generally is responsible. Hemlock and taxus are trees readily affected. Cork-like swellings of irregular shape and size appear on foliage and twigs. The foliage becomes discolored and needles drop off easily. The remedy is trenching, installation of drains or dry wells, to remove excess water.

2. CHLOROSIS — This is common to pin oak, rhododendron and other broadleaf evergreens. Lack of available iron in the soil is a major cause. Trees appear to be anemic. Leaves pale or yellow. Add chelated iron salts to pick up acidity in the soil and perk up the tree.

3. SUFFOCATION — Areas hardest hit are new housing developments where fill piled over roots cause shade trees to die back. The heavy layer of soil smothers and retards growth. As branches die, borers and bark beetles invade and kill.

Feed these trees immediately upon spotting symptoms; lower the soil grade, build a well around the tree, then add fine topsoil. If you change the grade, cut back the crown as much as one-third to compensate for loss of roots.

4. GIRDLING ROOTS — This is common to many trees, especially maples. Girdling occurs when roots are twisted in planting or if walks or other construction force roots to grow in abnormal directions in search of food and water. You can detect this trouble by discoloration of foliage or dying branches on one side of the tree. Cut away girdled roots, paint the exposed cuts and feed the tree.

5. CHEMICAL POISONING — This may be due to noxious fumes in the air from chemical sprays, autos or industrial waste, salt or illuminating gas entering the leaves, or by chemical weed killers seeping into the soil around roots. Lucast trees are especially susceptible. Wilting, molting and distortion of foliage are symptoms. After removing the source of injury, aerate and flush the soil with water.

6. LEAFSCORCH — A frequent cause is reflected light from nearby buildings and pavements, particularly near office, apartment and industrial buildings, big shopping centers or parking areas. Filter reflected heat rays with low-growing foundation plants.

Dr. Phillip L. Rusden, pathologist at the Bartlett Tree Research Laboratories, says the cures aren't difficult but the important thing is to act quickly before the weakened condition of the trees makes it easy prey to more serious ailments.

New Rustproof Trellis

Anything from a wall to a slim colonnade of flowers can be made easily by the average gardener, according to the manufacturers of Flower Fabric. It is an inexpensive maintenance-free trellis of loosely-woven rustproof aluminum. Roses and all vines are supposed to cling readily to the heat-reflecting aluminum mesh.

The more you spread your sowing in the row, the less you have to thin your seedlings, the better they will grow, and the less crowding you'll have in the early growing process.

Actor Holden Tells Why He Lives in Switzerland

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-TV Writer

STOCKHOLM (AP) — William Holden, formerly of California and now a resident of Switzerland, finds himself the center of controversy for that reason.

THOMAS

He has been attacked by Congress, lashed by his fellow film workers of Hollywood and criticized indirectly by the actors' union of which he was once an officer.

He is defiant.

"I'm living the kind of life that I think is best for me and my family," he says. "I'll continue to do so, no matter what laws are changed and what anybody says."

Holden is the most noted and the most articulate of the film personalities who have taken up life in Switzerland. Hollywood set-worker unions have castigated him for allegedly aiding "runaway production" of American films abroad. The Kennedy administration, undoubtedly with an eye on Holden, has recommended eliminating tax havens overseas for the likes of wealthy actors. Certain senators have agreed.

So has Holden's own union, the Screen Actor's Guild.

Holden says, "What the senators and the Guild are talking about is their problem. It couldn't bother me less."

As far as he is concerned, it is much ado about little.

"They talk about all the American stars who are living in Switzerland," Holden said. "Well, who are they? David Niven? He's English. Deborah Kerr. She's English. Peter Ustinov? He's English. Noel Coward? He's English. Audrey Hepburn? She's Dutch-English.

THE ONLY ONE

"Then they mention Ava Gardner. But wait a minute — she's living in Spain, isn't she? So who does that leave? Me. That's all."

Holden admitted that he gained certain tax advantages that might be harmed by congressional action. But he added: "I still have residual payments on pictures like 'River Kwai' and 'The Key,' on which I pay American taxes in the 90 per cent bracket. This will be going on for 15 years or more. And I also pay income taxes in the countries where I work—right now in Sweden, for example, while I'm making 'Counterfeit Traitor.'"

The actor remarked: "It seems to me that Americans have always been noted for moving around, for being unafraid of new challenges, new frontiers. Now certain people are trying to tell us to stay at home and not work abroad. It's a form of isolationism.

"Why did President Kennedy propose the peace corps, if not to get Americans to live and work in foreign lands?

"They can change the laws any way they like. That won't make things any different or me. Living in Switzerland has been the most rewarding experience of my life."

Reports Change in China Policy

U.S., Japan Reported to Have New Method on Entry of Reds to U.N.

CHICAGO (AP)— The Chicago Sun-Times said today that the United States, in talks with Japanese leaders in Washington, reportedly unveiled a new policy regarding the entry of Communist China into the United Nations.

* * *

In a dispatch from Washington by Frederick Kuh the newspaper said China's entry would involve for the first time U.S. consent to seating the Chinese Communists in the U.N. Assembly. However, the dispatch added that U.S. officials privately state that the entire purpose of the exercise would be to jockey Peiping into the position of refusing a seat in the U.N.

The newspaper said the reported plan was confided to the Japanese mission headed by Prime Minister Hayato Ikeda which just completed a visit to Washington. The plan, according to the dispatch, was supposed to have been related by Secretary of State Dean Rusk to Japanese Foreign Minister Zentaro Kosaka.

Not Too Late for Polio Shots Before Season

LANSING (AP) — Michigan residents were reminded today that it is not too late to secure by immunization at least partial protection against polio before the seasonal peak arrives.

Dr. Albert E. Heustis, state health commissioner, said that by having one shot now and a second a month later, residents may be providing themselves with a margin of safety.

This margin, he said, "could mean the difference between your spending the rest of your life as a healthy person or a cripple in a wheelchair or iron lung."

The commissioner said the peak of the polio season in Michigan is usually in late August or early September.

Heustis said anyone, regardless of age, who hasn't been vaccinated against polio should seek protection, starting right now.

There are now about 300,000 outdoor gas lights in operation in the United States.

Young Todd, Liz Ask $2.5 Million in Movie Suit

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Michael Todd Jr. and his father's widow, Elizabeth Taylor, are asking damages of $2.5 million in a suit charging undue delay in a distribution of a movie.

* * *

The complaint, filed Thursday, named Cinemiracle Pictures Corp. and five John Doe corporations and said the movie in question — "Holiday in Spain" — involves a process giving spectatory a screen-induced sense of smell.

Scheduled opening of the picture in Cincinnati next Wednesday has been jeopardized, the complaint said, because the distributor instructed the Technicolor Corp. last May 8 to suspend printing of negatives.

The film was produced by Todd Jr. and Miss Taylor holds an interest in it.

Bye, Bye Miss Plain Jane

By ERSKINE JOHNSON

ROME (NEA)—Except for the incredible Marilyn Monroe, the American "movie queen" in recent years has lost more prestige aboard—and at home—than any other Yankee image.

Hollywood once coined words for her sex appeal like "It" and "Oomph." She was kept in the world's eye as a voluptuous, temperamental, mink-dragging siren trailed by ex-husbands and discarded lovers.

She was hardly to be believed but she was.

World War II, television, the cold war and a changing way of U. S. life contributed to her demise.

She was an expensive, expendable product of Hollywood, which could no longer afford her when TV ended the U.S. movie-going habit.

TV couldn't afford her either. She was too sexy for the FCC and all those sponsors selling home products to housewives.

In her place, Hollywood and television installed the "method" actress and the "girl just like the girl next door." But intentionally the "movie queen"—the sex kitten—refused to go away.

KAMALA DEVI

She returned to the U.S. from foreign soil in the delightful forms of Italy's Gina Lollobrigida and Sophia Loren and France's Brigitte Bardot.

BACK TO DOLLS

Today, producers making movies for a worldwide audience are facing the cold fact. As one of them told me:

"The Plain Janes who could act didn't sell tickets. We're going back to dolls with sex appeal and personality. If they can act, too—that's fine—but the public doesn't demand acting."

Today's movie makers say they have another good reason for betting again on glamor and sex as boxoffice lures. The worldwide audience, they contend, is weary of a flood of movies about heroic males.

U.S. audiences are bored with TV cowboys, private eyes, fathers who know best and barrel chested underwater oxygen breathers.

So the formula today is women a red-blooded male can wolf whistle at. It's Oriental dolls with slant-eyed walks, sultry and voluptuous Italians, a leggy Tahitian charmer and an assortment of others with eye appeal.

The look of pre-TV movie queens also is returning to U.S. dolls winning top roles in Hollywood movies these days. Some of them are Stella Stevens, Joyce Taylor, Salome Jens, Sue Lyon (who will be seen in the controversial "Lolita") and Carroll (Baby Doll) Baker, whose career is on the upturn.

But the accent is more on the foreign charmer costarring with "name" U.S. players — half-Chinese, half-English Nancy Kwan with Bill Holden in "The World of Suzie Wong"; Italy's Letica Roman, who wound up in Elvis Presley's arms in "G.I. Blues," and Melinda Mercouri, the Paris-educated Greek star of "Never on Sunday."

Now headed for the screen are a bevy of others including:

Yoko Tani, a French-Japanese man trap featured with Shirley MacLaine and Yves Montand in "My Geisha," a U.S. movie filmed in Japan.

Claudia Cardinale, 22, already hailed in Italy as "the new Gina Lollobrigida." Her first starring movie to be shown in the U.S. will be "Girl With a Suitcase."

Italy's Rosanna Schiaffino, who plays twin sisters in "The Minotaur"; Christina Kaufman of Austria, featured with Kirk Douglas in "Town Without Pity"; Taria, the Tahitian charmer with Marlon Brando in "Mutiny on the Bounty."

★ ★ ★

Spain's Carmen Sevilla, who plays Mary Magdalene in "King of Kings" and Kamala Devi of Bombay, India, co-starring with Chuck Connors in "Geronimo."

Honor Departing Waterford Teachers

Four teachers who are leaving the Waterford Township School System were feted recently at the home of Mrs. Norman Underwood, 1171 James K Boulevard.

The teachers are: Mrs. Lewis Cheal who is retiring after 17½ years of service; Mrs. Harold Young who is entering the Pontiac schools; Mrs. Julius Kreuzer who will teach next year at Houghton Lake; and Mrs. Glen Bevan who is returning to college.

All were presented with gifts.

Banners Protest Tractors for Cuban Prisoners

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) —Opponents of the tractors-for-prisoners exchange used a tractor motorcade to protest the idea here.

Banners unfurled as three tractors chugged along downtown streets Thursday said: "Don't fiddle with Fidel" and "Don't let them bury us with our own tractors."

John Depuy, who said he was chairman of the Fair Play for U.S.A. Committee, said his organization hoped to "counter propaganda spouted by the Fair Play for Cuba Committee."

'The Young Savages' Has Topical Theme

Recently Robert F. Kennedy visited two of the most troublesome gangs on the sidewalks of New York. When asked by these tough truculent teen-agers why the Attorney General of the United States had invaded their "turf" he told them frankly that his Justice Department was making a vast study of juvenile delinquency and ways the Federal Government might combat it. He wanted their ideas and suggestions. Readers of this newspaper will already be familiar with similar activities by local and federal authorities. We have previously reported that Thomas E. Dodd (D-Conn.) Chairman of the Senate Subcommittee on Juvenile Delinquency, has called attention to several areas of our country in which youth crime is on the ascendancy. S. A. Andretta, Administrative Assistant to the Attorney General, urged the Senate Appropriations Committee to approve a supplemental request for $135,000 for the Justice Department. In New York, Mayor Wagner endorsed a bill to provide $50 million in Federal aid to fight delinquency for five years, calling it a bare minimum. FBI Chief J. Edgar Hoover predicts that juvenile crime (his words) will soon paralyze the country unless stopped.

Most timely, then is Academy Award winner Burt Lancaster's newest film, "The Young Savages," a powerful movie which tells the exciting story of three boys, charged with the knife slaying of a rival gang member in New York's "Spanish Harlem." Co-starring Dina Merrill and Shelley Winters.

Based on actual incidents which occurred in the area where it was partly filmed, the story is based on Evan ("Blackboard Jungle") Hunter's widely read novel, "A Matter of Conviction." It was directed by John Frankenheimer and produced by Harold Hecht.

Teens Take Over Pontiac (for a Day)

By PETE LOCHBILER

At Mayor Philip E. Rowston's suggestion, Pontiac's youthful city commissioner-for-a-day learned at least one governmental strategy yesterday afternoon.

"Refer it to the city manager!"

Teen-agers from five area high schools, gathered in the City Commission chambers at the climax of "Youth Day" participation in city government, joined in vigorously in a mock City Commission meeting.

There was some prompting from city department heads, reminding youngsters what they had learned earlier in the day when each was briefed on the ins-and-outs of some 32 city posts.

But the handiest advice came from Rowston, delivered from the audience after Mayor-for-a-Day Edward Fritz, 17, of 6995 Livernois Road, Troy, was confronted with a knotty problem from his fellow commissioners.

"Refer it to the city manager," coached Rowston, using a phrase he often finds advisable himself during the regular Tuesday night commission meetings.

Fritz, a new graduate of Avondale High School, gratefully complied.

The meeting started with Rowston handing out keys to the city to the youngsters, the first one going to Fritz.

The mayor said this was the first time within his memory that there had been official keys to the city. Following a City Commission suggestion from several months ago, Rowston had had the 1½-inch keys made up by a Detroit firm.

OTHER "OFFICIALS"

Serving at the commission table were William Devereaux, 17, of 3380 Auburn Road, Auburn Heights, city manager; Diane Adans, 17, of 2737 Sylvan Shores Drive, Waterford Township, city clerk; Gary Payne, 17, of 3089 Greenwood St., Pontiac Township, city engineer; and David Donahoe, 17, of 2645 Penna Drive, West Bloomfield Township.

★ ★ ★

City commissioners, besides Mayor Fritz, were Sheila Lane, 16, of 76 S. Roselawn St.; Robert Aubert, 17, of 2324 Pine Lake Road, West Bloomfield Township; Brian Wright, 17, of 730 Nichols Drive, Auburn Heights; Thomas Hawke, 18, of 2890 Dixie Highway, Waterford Township; and Robert Kuhn, 18, of 595 E. Mansfield Ave.

A mock agenda, prepared by David S. Teel, administrative assistant to City Manager Walter K. Willman, had the young commission wrestling for 45 minutes over the procedures involved in street improvements.

In the midst of the confusion Commissioner Robert Kuhn observed in consternation, "We've left a two-inch drop off in the middle of the road!"

★ ★ ★

Manager William Devereaux had a snappy explanation for the urgency of new paving.

"A Volkswagen fell into one of the chuck holes the other day and disappeared," he said in the best Walter K. Willman tradition.

Popping up and down in the audience, Judy Fitzpatrick, 16, of 124 Mary Day St. had some strong opinions to offer on the basis of her job as urban renewal coordinator.

SPLIT VOTE

Confronted with the first of two ordinance proposals based on laws that were actually passed in Pontiac in the 19th Century, the young Commission decided in a split vote to set a speed limit of 6 m.p.h. for horses.

But a measure to outlaw geese in the streets stumped them.

"Pigeons are a bigger problem," challenged Barry Redmond, 18, of 217 Fortress, Waterford Township, in the audience as water superintendent.

"Refer it to the city manager," Mayor Fritz decided. At the end there were controversial proposals to close retail stores on Sundays and up the Auburn Avenue speed limits to 65 m.p.h.

★ ★ ★

But the young commission had it down pat by now. Everything was referred to the administration for study and the meeting ended.

WESTERN LEADERS — Arnold Palmer, left, answers newsmen and Al Geiberger checks his score after each shot a 65 in the opening round of the Western Open Thursday at Grand Rapids.

81 Match or Break Par in Western Open

61 Par-Busters Take Apart Blythefield

By BILL CORNWELL

GRAND RAPIDS — Par was in constant jeopardy Thursday in the first round of the 58th Western Open Golf Championship at Blythefield Country Club.

Whether or not the 6,730-yard Blythefield course gets harder as the tournament progresses remains to be seen, but the fact remains that 81 golfers, well over half the field equaled or bettered par yesterday.

The nation's touring pros really made a mockery of Blythefield's par 36-35—71 layout as 61 players posted sub-par rounds and another 20 matched regulation figures.

A pair of six-under-par 65s recorded midway through the day by Arnold Palmer and 23-year-old Al Geiberger stood up against the challenge of 146 other shooters.

★ ★ ★

Palmer and Geiberger had practically no breathing room, however, since half a dozen pros were right on their heels with 66s, including slender Dave Hill, Don January, Doug Sanders, Ted Kroll, Slammin' Sam Snead and big John Barnum, host pro at Blythefield.

Deadlocked at 67 were 15 others, among them South Africa's Gary Player, long-hitting Paul Harney, reigning national PGA champion Jay Hebert, trigger-tempered Tommy Bolt, former Knollwood pro Pete Cooper, putting stylist Jack Burke, Canadian Al Balding the Max Evans of Utica.

Steady Bob Rosburg and Doug Ford, who won the Western Open in 1957 at Plum Hollow, were part of a nine-way tie for 4th place at 68.

★ ★ ★

Newly-crowned National Open champion Gene Littler, Bob Goalby, Billy Casper, Jack Fleck and youthful Bob Nodus, assistant pro at Bloomfield Hills, were among 13 knotted for 5th with 69s.

Burly Mike Souchak, who defends his Buick Open Crown next week at Warwick Hills, and Detroit Golf Club veteran Eldon Briggs each shot 70 to match a dozen others.

Defending Western Open champion Stan Leonard carded 71 to join the 20-man jumble at even par.

It was a gray, overcast day and rain fell intermittently throughout the opening 18-hole session.

Palmer and Geiberger, physically unalike, were alike on the golf course in some respects as both hit 16 greens in regulation, more than anyone else.

Geiberger putted 28 times, had eight one-putt greens and birdied seven holes for a 32-33 scorecard.

Palmer took 29 putts, enjoyed seven one-putt greens, birdied six holes and fired an eagle three for his 34-31.

Palmer, the 31-year-old musician-man who played poorly in the U. S. Open last weekend, showed definite signs of a revival yesterday. "I was quite satisfied with my round today," Palmer said.

Geiberger, a string-bean youth who tied for 12th last Saturday at Birmingham, stands 6-foot-2 and weighs only 150 pounds.

★ ★ ★

An intelligent and consistent player, Geiberger has yet to win anything on the PGA tour in 18 months of effort but he's performed well often and may hit the jackpot before too long. His best showings to date have been six ties for 4th place.

★ ★ ★

Sanders, the man with the short backswing who tied for 2nd in the National Open, was the best scrambler yesterday.

He hit only 13 greens, but required just 25 putts, fewer than anybody else, and twice chipped into the cup for birdies from 70 and 45 feet.

Yesterday's 61 sub-par rounds on opening day have been topped only by the St. Petersburg Open last March when 77 golfers broke par in the first round.

Mossi Opens Cleveland Series Tonight

Tigers Still One Ahead of Yanks on 6-4 Triumph

Rally Twice to Take Washington Again Led by Rocky, Cash

CLEVELAND (AP)—The double C for Cannon Corps is booming again as the Tigers head into their third hand-to-hand series in two weeks with a rival pennant contender.

The first-place Tigers open a four-game series against the Cleveland Indians tonight.

★ ★ ★

The Indians, now trailing by three games, have sagged considerably since going to Detroit two weeks ago in first place. Cleveland is in third while the New York Yankees — losers twice in three Detroit games last weekend—are sticking to the Tigers' tail, a game out.

Norm Cash and Rocky Colavito—the double C boys—produced the big firepower last night in Washington as the Tigers beat the Senators 6-4.

They hit back-to-back doubles to break a 4-4 tie in the seventh. Steve Boros, returning to third base after a week's rest with a pulled leg muscle, singled home Cash with the insurance run.

Colavito hit his first home run in 11 days—No. 18 this season—in the second inning when the Tigers grabbed a 3-2 lead. Billy Klaus hit a two-run homer for Washington in the first.

PHIL FOLDS

But Phil Regan, a brilliant victor over the Yanks in his last start, couldn't hold the advantage.

The Nats, losing for the sixth straight time, knocked him out in their half of the second. Jim King's single and Gen Green's triple off reliever Hal Woodeshick sent Washington ahead 4-3 in the third.

From then on, Tiger relief pitching was invincible.

Paul Foytack pitched two fine relief innings before giving away to a pinchhitter in the sixth when the Tigers tied it 4-4. Then Terry Fox, the unsung hero of the Tiger bullpen, held the Nats to three hits in the final four innings and picked up his second victory against no losses.

ROOKIE HELPS

Dick McAuliffe, recalled from Denver Wednesday as a stop-gap replacement for ailing shortstop Chico Fernandez, singled home Jake Wood with the tying run in the sixth. Wood had doubled.

The Tigers banged out 12 hits —with the middle of the batting order dividing 10 among them. Al Kaline, Colavito, Cash, Boros and Wood each had two, Kaline returned to the outfield after one emergency game at third base.

McAuliffe was the leadoff batter in manager Bob Scheffing's made-over batting order. Wood was dropped to seventh.

Don Mossi gets the starting pitcher nomination in the opener of the Cleveland series.

Yankees Whip A's to Stay Close 2nd

By The Associated Press

With Whitey Ford the top winner in the majors, and Roger Maris and Mickey Mantle 1-2 in home runs, about the only thing the New York Yankees are missing these days is a top seat in the American League pennant race. And they could grab that this weekend.

★ ★ ★

The second-place Yankees are just one game behind Detroit at the moment. And while the Tigers open a four-game struggle at Cleveland against the third-place Indians tonight, the Yanks play the first of three at Minnesota against the ninth-place Twins, who have lost seven in a row to New York.

Detroit retained its slim edge over New York, and moved three games ahead of idle Cleveland, with a 6-4 victory at Washington Thursday night. The Yanks won 8-3 at Kansas City with Ford winning his 12th and Maris crashing his 27th homer.

Baltimore battered Minnesota 8-2 and Boston got past the Los Angeles Angels 3-2 in the only other AL games scheduled.

Maris hit a pair of doubles and a single i n addition to the homer, a three-run shot off loser Norm Bass (4-6) that capped a five-run second inning for the Yankees. It was Maris' 15th home run in June, three shy of the major league record for one month set by Rudy York of Detroit in 1937. Roger drove in four runs for the night, tying Norm Cash of the Tigers for the major league lead with 59.

Ford (12-2) ran up his second six-game winning streak of the season, but needed relief help from Luis Arroyo in the eighth after blanking the A's on three hits through seven innings. Whitey gave up six hits altogether and walked three while fanning nine, upping his AL-leading strikeout total to 93.

Gus Triandos drove in five runs with three hits, two of them doubles, as the Orioles beat the Twins and southpaw Jim Kaat (2-7). Milt Pappas (3-3), pitching his first complete game since April 29 after a bout with arm trouble, was the winner. He allowed eight hits, but had a shutout until Harmon Killebrew hit a two-run single with two out in the seventh.

There were 15 bases on balls, but only five hits in Boston's squeaker at Los Angeles, The Red Sox, behind the two-hit pitching of rookie Galen Cisco and winning reliever Mike Fornieles (5-3), won it on a third-inning single by Chuck Schilling. Ryne Duren (2-8) first of three Angel pitchers, was the loser, giving up all three Boston hits.

Injured Knee May End Banks' Streak

CHICAGO (AP)—Today is the day of decision for ailing Ernie Banks, the Chicago Cubs home run slugger, who holds the major league record of 717 consecutive games played among active major leaguers.

Ernie says he will end his playing streak at once and give his injured left knee a rest if his doctor so advises.

Schloerke Leaves

Goodbye—After 14 Years

"Fourteen years is a long time to be with a community and it's tough to leave."

This was Wally Schloerke speaking after making his decision to leave the Pontiac school system for the University of Michigan where he will work toward another degree and assist in the school of education.

Schloerke was track coach at Pontiac Central during the start of the "great" era in the early 50's. He started the PCH cross country team in 1947 and through 6½ years the harriers went without losing a dual meet. The team won the state title in 1955.

In 1949 he served as assistant track coach and took the head coaching job in 1950 through 1956, when Hayes Jones was sparking the Chiefs to three unprecedented state championship.

★ ★ ★

In 1958 he moved over to Pontiac Northern and in the past three years his athletic endeavors have been through officiating in football, basketball and swimming.

He will do no coaching or officiating while at the U. of M.

City Loop Softball Action Has Little of Everything

There was a little bit of everything in four city softball games last night — good pitching, home runs, close battles, loose defensive play and a big comeback in vain.

Gene Lund of Big Bear Construction hurled a three-hit, 3-0 victory over Sarko Investment and St. Paul's Clayton Campbell two-hit St. Joseph Hospital to win 6-4 to take care of the hurling end.

Mike Montgomery had a two-run homer for St. Joe, Tom Whitehead had a three-run blast to spark the big comeback that was wasted. Northland Rockets scored all their runs in the last two innings in bowing 9-6 to Stadium Inn. Russ Bridges and Roy Fugitt had three safeties apiece for Stadium.

The real battle of the night was a 5-4 State Hospital verdict over Boys Club. Ernie Virgle got his only hit to score the deciding run in the 7th. The losers came back to get two on after two out on a walk and Jim Skinner's double but winner Ron Hoffman retired dangerous Tom Shaw on a ground out to end it.

There were 22 errors in the four contests, 9 in the St. Paul-St. Joe tussle.

The Boys Club-State Hospital was an International League game. The others were Continental contests.

There will be three American League makeup games played tonight. O'Neil Realty vs. Sho-Bol at 7 and Metropolitan Club vs. Elks at 8:30 at Beaudette Park. A Northside game will match Fisher 500 and Arro Realty at 7.

Nicklaus, Hunt of State Golf Semifinal Foes

LAFAYETTE, Ind. (AP)—Ohio State's Jack Nicklaus, the country's leading amateur, was a solid favorite to win the National Collegiate golfing championship going into the semifinals of the 64th tourney today.

★ ★ ★

He had two other Big Ten players for company, his opponent sharp putting Gene Hunt of Michigan State, and his teammate at Ohio State, Mike Podolski.

Podolski faced Steve Smith of Stanford, a Green Bay, Wis., boy who pulled the major upset of last year's NCAA meet by knocking off Nicklaus 4 and 3 in the third round.

Podolski's victims Thursday were Albert Badger of Michigan State 1 up in 19 holes and Ed Gordon of Ohio University 2 and 1.

Bone Unhappy—Must Do Better to Qualify

Evans Tops Area Pros at Western

GRAND RAPIDS — Pontiac's Gene Bone, understandably perturbed over his poor start Thursday in the first round of the $30,000 Western Open golf tournament, thinks Blythefield Country Club will play a little bit tougher Friday.

"All the pin positions were toward the front of the greens and it made the course play easy," commented Bone, the 29-year-old Drayton Plains resident who is serving this third year as head pro as sprawling Warwick Hills Country Club near Grand Blanc.

Bone, who will be host pro next week when the PGA circuit riders move to Warwick Hills for the rich Buick Open, shot a one-over-par 72 in yesterday's opening round after making the turn in 35 blows.

Bone's 72 put him in a fourth place tie with Lakepointe's John Dolrymple among the eight Oakland County area pros in the western field.

Leading the Oakland County area delegation was veteran Max Evans, who rifled a blistering 31 on Blythefield's front nine before shooting a back side 36 for a four-under-par 67.

★ ★ ★

Bob Nodus, assistant pro at Bloomfield Hills C.C., scored four birdies as he carded 35-34—69. Eldon Briggs, 51-year-old Detroit Golf Club veteran, fired 34-36—70 and current Michigan PGA champion Ronnie Fox of Madison Heights posted 35-36—71.

Two Negro professionals from Detroit, Howard Brown and Willie Mosley, brought up the rear entering todays' second session. Brown shot 35-40—75 and Mosley 40-37—77.

Bone was miffed about his faltering finish after a consistent performance on the front side.

"I putted for birdies on every hole and made only one of them," remarked Gene. He played the front nine in regulation fashion with the exception of the 545-yard second hole where he reached the green in two and putted twice for a birdie four.

Keeping track of Evans' address is harder than following his score. Evans' home is in Southfield, his wife's mailing address is Utica and Max teaches during the winter at Indian Wells C.C. in California where he uses the Palm Springs post office.

"I'm legally a resident of Michigan," said Evans, whose 31 Thursday was the lowest score on the front side.

Evans birdied the fourth, fifth and sixth holes with six-foot putts, then birdied the eighth and ninth with putts of 5 and 30 feet, respectively.

ODDS AND ENDS

A dozen eagles were scored Thursday, one of them by Briggs . . . Doug Sanders, whose 25 putts were low for the day, was the only player among the leaders to three-put a green . . . Bob McCalister, pro from Yorba Linda, Calif., had six straight threes on his card and seven threes in an eight-hole stretch . . . Michigan pro Ray Scuba had the highest single-hole score, an eight on No. 14, as he posted 36-42—78 . . . Cliff Taylor of Muskegon and Lansing's Bud Reniger paced the 15-man amateur field with 70s . . . today the field will be cut to the low-70 players plus ties for Saturday's third round, then it will be slashed again to the low 50 plus ties for Sunday's finale . . . an estimated 4,000 persons watched the first-round action, which was good considering the off-and-on showers that fell throughout the day.

Jones, Cawley Among AAU Favorites

NEW YORK — Pontiac's Hayes Jones opens defense of his 120-yard high hurdle championship Saturday in the National AAU Track and Field Championships at Randalla Island.

Another Oakland County competitor, Rex Cawley of Farmington, is one of the favorites in the 440-yard low hurdles. Cawley may be hampered by a leg injury that kept the University of Southern California star out of the NCAA meet last weekend.

Jones won his specialty in the 1960 meet while preparing for the Olympic Games. He was undefeated on the indoor cinders last winter and has taken first in his three outdoor starts this year.

Twenty titles will be decided in the two-day meet and the plum for the first and second finisher in each event (except the 220 low hurdles and the 2-mile walk) is a spot on the team that will invade Russia, West Germany, England and Poland for Olympic-quality meets next month.

ABC will televise Saturday's program from 4 p.m. to 6 p.m. (EST).

The battle between Dyrol Burleson, 20-year-old Oregon junior, and Jim Beatty of the Santa Clara youth village, both sub-4-minute milers, is the top attraction. They will run trials Saturday and the final will be Sunday.

Burleson, who four weeks ago set an American record of 3:57.6, never has beaten the 26-year-old Beatty in three tries. He warmed up with a 4:00.5 jog at the NCAA championships last week and said he's ready for 3:56.

Beatty has a 3:58 to his credit, but is not primarily a miler. He usually sticks to longer distances. The world mile record is 3:54.5 by Herb Elliott.

The schedule calls for eight finals, plus trials in the 440, 880 and mile Saturday with the remaining 12 finals on Sunday. Eleven champions are back, but one, Jim Grelle in the mile, is switching to the 3-mile or steeplechase.

★ ★ ★

A team title also will be decided with the Southern California striders—composed mainly of University of Southern California aces, plus a sprinkling of graduates—the top-heavy favorite.

Teeing Off

By BILL CORNWELL

Chubby Bob Rosburg, one of the steadiest performers on the PGA tour, stoutly insists that his full-fingered grip is better for many average golfers than the conventional overlapping method.

"I'm not advocating my type of grip for everyone because grip, swing, stance and other fundamentals must be adapted to fit the individual's needs and each player is different," Rosburg said.

"But I do maintain that a lot of people who are now using the overlapping grip would be better off with the full-fingered method because it's more workable if you have small or weak hands," Rosburg declared.

It's Rosburg's contention that many players using the overlapping grip, as it is sometimes called —do not have big enough or strong enough hands to make it work.

Rosburg is gaining a bit of support from some of his fellow pros on the PGA circuit. Some of the younger tourists are already using the Rosburg-style grip and a few of the old-timers also loan support.

According to Rosburg, one of his backers is veteran Jimmy Demaret. "Demaret told me that if he were starting his career all over again, he'd use the full-fingered grip," claimed Rosburg.

"I myself have small hands," said Rosburg as he showed newsmen his delicate - looking hands (they looked like a good commercial for a mild liquid detergent), "and I'm convinced I wouldn't be able to keep up with these boys off the tee with the overlapping method."

"What's the advantage of the full-fingered grip," he was asked. "It allows you to have all five fingures plus both hands resting fully on the shaft," Rosburg replied.

"For a person with small or weak hands, this grip enables him to put more power into his shot," he continued.

"It's an especially good grip for women players," Rosburg said. "Most women have either small or weak hands and the overlapping grip deprives them of added distance because it removes strength they can't afford to lose," he added.

Rosburg's grip often has been called a baseball-bat grip, but he says that's an erroneous term. "Actually, it's not a baseball-bat grip at all because my left thumb is on the shaft," he pointed out.

"I guess you could call it an unlapped grip," Rosburg said. "A few have used that term and it's also correct."

Harry Vardon devised the overlapping method and it was designed to prevent too much right hand and thus insure equal strength in each hand.

"Vardon had big, strong hands, however," Rosburg stated, "and for him it was a very logical grip. But it's not a sensible grip for me because it sacrifices some of my hand strength, which is limited at the start."

Rosburg has acquired a number of disciples, both players and teachers. The way I've been playing golf lately, he may get a new one.

NATIONAL OPEN NOTES

When Doug Sanders slumped down in his chair for an interview with newsmen after finishing 2nd to Gene Littler in the U.S. Open at Oakland Hills, he smiled faintly and said, "somebody bring me a crying towel."

Al Watrous has now played in all four Opens at Oakland Hills, three as host pro, and at the age of 62 he was the oldest player by far in the big show last weekend. . . . Littler picked 284 or 285 as the winning total in the Open, then afterwards quipped, "I'm glad I didn't shoot that score" . . . Upwards of 48,000 spectators attended the three-day bonanza, a new all-time record for the USGA event.

Reds Boost Lead to 2; Battle Dodgers Next

By The Associated Press

After a month long, three-way jam at the top, there's finally some daylight showing between the leaders in the National League race. The Cincinnati Reds take a two-game lead into the opener of a three-game series with the visiting second place Los Angeles Dodgers tonight.

The Reds, winning eight of nine, padded their lead with a 7-5 victory over St. Louis Thursday night after the Dodgers had lost 7-5 to the Chicago Cubs. Milwaukee dropped third-place San Francisco four games behind by beating the Giants 8-6.

That two-game lead by the Reds may not be much, but no leader has had a bigger bulge in almost four weeks in the NL. And it's the first time all season that the third place club has been more than three games away from the top.

Fourth place Pittsburgh is six games behind, after whipping Philadelphia 5-1.

The Reds, out-hit 8-6 by the Cards, came from behind with two unearned runs in the fourth inning, then wrapped it up with a three-run sixth off loser Larry Jackson (3-7). A sacrifice fly by Gordie Coleman brought hime the deciding run in the sixth for the Reds, while Frank Robinson drove in three runs, one with a homer, for 10 RBI in five games. Bob Purkey (9-3) was the winner, but with relief help from Jim Brosnan in the eighth.

George Altman, Billy Williams and Jerry Kindall each hit home runs and drove in two runs as the Cubs beat the Dodgers for only the third time in 12 games. The Dodgers, who had homers by John Roseboro, Daryl Spencer and Duke Snider, blew a 4-1 lead in this one. The Cubs, after losing five in a row, cracked a 5-5 tie with two runs in the eighth on a triple by Al Heist, Williams's single and a sacrifice fly by Altman. Barney Schultz (1-1) was the winner and Dick Farrell (5-5) the loser, both in relief.

The fifth-place Braves, winning four in a row for the first time, hammered five home runs, two by Frank Thomas, while putting away a three-game sweep over the Giants. Thomas drove in four runs, bringing the winner across with a single in the fifth. Frank Bolling, Hank Aaron and Gino Cimoli hit the other homers—the first for Cimoli since 1959.

Right-hander Bob Buhl (4-3) was the winner, but gave up two home runs by Willie Mays and needed relief help in the ninth from Don McMahon. Mays now has 16 home runs for the season, and 10 have been against Milwaukee. Juan Marichal (4-4) was the loser.

* * *

Two home runs by catcher Smoky Burgess drove in the Pirates' first four runs. Both shots were off John Buzhardt (2-8), who hit Burgess with a pitch in his third trip to the plate and was handed an automatic $50 "beanball" fine by umpire Chris Pelekoudas. Burgess weathered the plunking but then left the game when a foul tip caught a finger on his right hand. Bob Friend (8-7) was the winner, blanking the Phils until the ninth, when they scored an unearned run, and pitching his first complete game in 13 starts since April 19.

Oxford Defeats Class B Don's

Junior Practice Tilts Feature Home Runs, No-Hitter

The Oxford Merchants downed Don's Used Cars of Lake Orion 7-3 yesterday in the Class B feature of another big baseball slate.

John Warner hurled three-hit ball and Jim Mersino stroked two doubles to pace the victors. Warner set the strikeout mark for a game in the loop this season with 13.

Weinberger's Homes and Westside Kiwanis romped in "E" practice tilts. Mike Konley hurled a five-inning no-hitter and had a triple and single in a 10-hit attack. Carl Stefanski accounted for six runs with two homers in a 16-0 bombing of the Aztecs. Westside coasted to a 11-4 win over West Suburban Boys Club after an eight-run 1st. Wes Harden homered.

E. U. B. trimmed St. Mikes 5-2 and the Moose blasted Felice Market 16-2 in other Class E action. E. U. B. got three runs on one hit in the 3rd. Kerry Rogers slammed a grand slam home run and Nell Roberts hit one with one on for Moose.

In Class D practice tilts, West Suburban Boys Club tallied seven times early and held on to down Lake Orion, 10-6. Dick Miller had a three-run homer for the losers who had a 10-3 hitting advantage. Waterford's Firefighters overcame an early deficit to trip Pontiac Northern, 7-4. A three-run 7th broke a tie.

IDEA CAR AT RACES—A feature of interest for those attending the regional sports car races at Oakland County Sportsmen's Club this weekend will be the Plymouth XNR. The races are being held Saturday and Sunday starting at 11:00 a.m. each day.

Sports Drivers Hold Regionals

'Idea Cars' on Display at OCSC Races Slated This Weekend

Some of the most popular drivers and finest cars in the Midwest and Canada will take part in the regional races of sports cars Saturday and Sunday at the Oakland County Sportsmen's Club.

This is the second major racing event of the season at the course which is located on Waterford road just east of Dixie Highway.

One of the highlights of the program will be the exhibition of several "Idea Cars" designed by American automobile manufacturers. Included in the display will be the Plymouth XNR and the American Palm Beach, a pair of flashy sports cars.

The races are being sponsored by the Detroit Region of the SCCA.

Racing will start at 11:00 a.m. each day and conclude at 5:00 p.m. More than 3,500 witnessed the spring races in May.

Team Fails Pitcher in Waterford League

It wasn't Bob Tremlin's night in the Waterford National softball League Thursday.

The A & W pitcher allowed two hits, both in the first inning, but his teammates contributed 10 errors and a 6-2 victory to first place Hobby Printing.

An error allowed the winning run to score as Pontiac Rockcote downed Big Jim's 4-3 in the other National contest.

Americans Gain Tennis Victories Over Australians

LONDON (AP)—Chuck McKinley, 20-year-old rising tennis star from St. Louis, emerged as favorite today to win the Queen's Club tennis tournament, last big tuneup before next week's Wimbledon championships.

★ ★ ★

And the American players, so lightly regarded that only two were seeded for Wimbledon this year, were all even in numbers with the highly-regarded Australians going into today's semi-finals.

McKinley, Don Dell of Bethesda, Md., and 18-year-old Nacy Richey of San Angelo, Tex., all advanced to semifinals at the expense of Australian opponents Thursday. The U.S.-Australia rivalry continued today with McKinley facing Bob Mark and Dell meeting Bob Hewitt.

What are the chances of Polio now?

You and your children can get crippling polio tomorrow—next month—this summer.

Polio struck last summer and the summer before, particularly at unvaccinated babies and breadwinners—and there is no reason to believe it won't strike the unprotected this summer, too.

If it does, you will have only yourself to blame! Salk vaccine will immunize against paralysis by polio and at this time it is the only road to protection that exists.

Almost half the polio cases last year were in babies and children 5 years of age and less.

Young adults—especially young fathers not realizing they can get the disease from their children—were among those most seriously crippled. Whole islands of people like this exist in all our cities and most rural communities, even though the city or village has a lot of fully vaccinated people in it. Are you and your neighbors courting disaster?

Getting your four shots is a simple matter. You can arrange for them with your private physician, or your local health department will tell you where to go.

Says Dr. Luther L. Terry, Surgeon General of the U. S. Public Health Service: "We have a proved weapon against polio. Everybody should have Salk vaccine."

Face next summer's epidemic season with confidence and peace of mind.

Don't take a chance--take your Polio Shots

Worries Over Berlin, Red China

Not All the Cards on Nikita's Side

By PHIL NEWSOM
UPI Foreign News Analyst

Despite Nikita Khrushchev's belligerent talk and his apparent confidence that communism is the wave of the future, the cards are not all on his side.

★ ★ ★

Through the Soviet empire, he has troubles.

It is true that some of these troubles are of a nature that he might be tempted to cure them by risking a nuclear war. But there are others, which seem even more severe, to give him pause.

Even Berlin is a two-edged sword.

Since the Cold War division of East-West, more than three million Germans have escaped to the West, approximately half of them through the Berlin gateway.

LABOR NEEDS GREAT

Most of these escapees have been young and many have been experts desperately needed by East German industry and agriculture.

East Germany's labor needs are so great that the Communists have been forced to call upon neighboring satellites for help.

This, along with West Berlin's propaganda value to the West, has been among the causes leading Khrushchev to label West Berlin a bone in his throat.

Despite Communist outer-space successes and their gains in Southeast Asia, Khrushchev needs a resounding victory with which to present the Communist world in his ideological argument with the Red Chinese.

Elimination of West Berlin as a Western stronghold would be such a victory, the thought of which might lead him into temptation.

★ ★ ★

Opposing factors might be these:

While Birlin has been an irritating escape-hatch for those wishing to flee communism, it also has served as a safety value. June 17, 1953, provided in the East Berlin uprising explosive proof that the East Germans had not resigned themselves to communism and were capable of revolt.

Each successive repressive Communist measure has resulted in a new exodus to the West.

★ ★ ★

To remove this safety value might be only to invite more trouble from the already restive Germans.

But more important from Khrushchev's standpoint must be his differences with the Red Chinese.

★ ★ ★

The Chinese under Mao Tse Tung already have challenged Khrushchev's ideological leadership of the party.

The Chinese insistence on violent revolution is at odds with Khrushchev's insistence on coexistence.

The Chinese strength is such that already they wield a pronounced effect on Soviet foreign policy, especially in Asia.

A war over Berlin, in which the Soviet Union would suffer at least as much as its opponent, could be of value only to the Red Chinese who then would be in a position to sweep across Asia and even threaten the Soviet Union itself.

Other events have shown that Khrushchev's world is not so firmly welded as he would have us believe.

★ ★ ★

The Soviet Union and Red China are the Communist giants but events in Yugoslavia and Albania are illustrations of Communism's deep differences.

Communist admissions of crop failures, black marketeering and dishonest officials in high places are proof of troubles at home.

Olney A. Slater Built Very Well

Structures of Former Commissioner Left a Lasting Impression

One of the builders of Pontiac who left a lasting impression on the face of the city was the late Olney A. Slater.

★ ★ ★

Many of the early business, industrial and church buildings of Pontiac were erected by him in the course of his contracting and building.

★ ★ ★

Among the early buildings which he erected, at least in part, were those of the Wilson Foundry, the Pontiac Buggy Co., Pontiac Spring and Wagon Co., the old city hall, and the Central Methodist Church.

Between 1924 and 1931, the Slater Apartments, the first full-scale, multiple-dwelling units in the city, were built.

During World War II, nearly all of the 200 families in the apartments were engaged in defense work.

★ ★ ★

Slater came to Pontiac in 1895 and lived here until his death in 1948.

Apointed to the Pontiac City Commission in 1930 to fill a vacancy, he was elected a commissioner in 1931 and served a full term.

Claims U.S. Should Okay TV Programs

NEW YORK (AP) — Robert Saudek, producer of the TV show "Omnibus," says the government should license and supervise television networks.

★ ★ ★

Saudek told a Federal Communications Commission hearing Thursday: "The unlicensed networks of today do not own the air they use nor the 47 million homes they go into. They must not be allowed to go on polluting that air in the name of freedom."

★ ★ ★

The hearing continues today.

Playwright Gore Vidal said he was told not to write about divorce or suicide for TV, although "murder and sadism were all right."

Vidal termed TV newscasts as "dreary beyond belief, and repetitive."

Englishman in Alabama Eyes Integration Mood

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP) — An English Parliament member says he has found "a predominantly moderate attitude" toward integration in his study of race relations here.

★ ★ ★

Christopher Chattaway said the attitude of Montgomery people he has contacted is moderate, but he declined to say whom he interviewed. He said he was here to record interviews on the South's race problem for an English television program.

Grain Future Market Slow to Make Move

CHICAGO (AP)—The grain futures market showed little tendency to move in either direction as dealings started off draggy today on the board of trade.

Except for July soybeans, which moved up a cent or more all contracts shifted only minor fractions from previous closes. However, most of the changes were toward the plus side during the first several minutes. Wheat eased.

★ ★ ★

Brokers said the government report after the close of trading yesterday that farmers had placed a record 611½ million bushels of corn in the load program apparently have little influence in the trade.

Defense Budget Approved Intact

Committee Sends Bill to Floor of House for Debate Starting July 1

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy's beefed-up defense budget was approved almost to the letter today by the House Appropriations Committee as it painted a dismal picture of world conditions.

The committee sent to the House floor for debate a bill providing $42.7 billion in defense funds for the fiscal year starting July 1. The money will expand the Polaris submarine fleet, buy more big bombers and missiles, and finance larger armed forces.

While this was a technical cut of $231 million from the amount requested by the President, a bookkeeping transaction reduced the actual cut to $6.2 million.

It is $2.4 billion more than the military was given by Congress for the current fiscal year.

FOLLOW PROGRAM

In a formal report written by Rep. George Mahon, D-Tex., the committee said it followed the President's defense program closely because of "the worsening world situation.

It said it felt that the military strength of the United States was superior to that of the Soviet Union and would remain that way.

"The threat of global war has not lessened," it continued. "The threat of limited war has not lessened. Indeed, it is felt that there has been a general worsening of the international situation since last summer. "The prospect for an early settlement of major world problems is dim. This is a time for firmness, strength and resolution."

Watch and Wait Mood of Market

NEW YORK (AP) — A quiet stock market nudged moderately to the upside early this afternoon.

Gains and losses of most key stocks were fractional, Many issues were unchanged.

In the absence of any important news Wall Street was in a watch-and-wait mood.

The general opinion was that the low point of Monday's sharp decline must be "tested" before either a good rally or further retreat of great proportions will materialize.

The average was moved upward by a mostly higher tone in utilities, aircrafts, retails, electrical equipments and rails. Nonferrous metals, tobaccos, drugs, oils and chemicals were irregular.

The market was mixed in early trading but moved slightly higher on balance as cautious buying firmed prices selectively.

A gain of well over a point by American Telephone brought this big stock further along the comeback trail and was a help in supporting the averages. Other market wheelhorses, General Motors and Jersey Standard were firm. Du Pont rose close to a point.

★ ★ ★

Publicker, Thursday's most active issue, continued in demand as it picked up a fraction. The government's intervention in the question of its molasses supply, ordinarily received from Cuba, was being interpreted favorably.

★ ★ ★

Transitron edged ahead another fraction amid all sorts of unverified rumors. Zenith continued outstanding among electronics as it spurted more than 2.

★ ★ ★

Trading was very quiet on the American Stock Exchange and prices were mixed. Losses of around 3 points were taken by Cubic Corp. and Aerojet-General. Rapid-American, Seeburg and Murphy were up about a point each. Molybdenite of Canada was active and fractionally higher.

COOKS COOKING — Mary Haack (left), Berkley school food director is shown receiving her "graduating" certificate from Waterford Township's food service director Mrs. Shirley McCoy as Virginia Haywald, Rochester's high school Food Service director looks over a huge pizza pie, about to be popped into the Pierce school oven. More than 40 food service directors from all parts of Oakland, Wayne and St. Clair counties were graduated today after almost one year of cooking instruction.

School Lunches Filling and Good

By REBA HEINTZELMAN

Lunch time in Oakland County schools is no place for those watching their weight. Food administrators produce nutritious lunches with at least 900 calories — just what growing boys and girls need for the noon-time meal.

★ ★ ★

This is the consensus of some 40 adult students who "graduated" today after almost a full year of study at MSUO and a week of practical application at the Waterford Township Pierce Junior High School.

During the week-long workshop the women learned about the emphasis placed on the use of U. S. federal government commodities donated to the school systems.

One of the largest items given the schools is flour. During the week the instructors showed the value of using this item, making tasty pizzas, delicious hot rolls, home-made breads, shortcakes and other flour consuming foods.

OTHER FOODS LISTED

Other foods donated to the school by the government include butter, dry milk and dry whole eggs, used for cooking only, corn meal, rice, canned fruits and vegetables, once in a while ground beef and once a year — turkeys.

For 30 or 35 cents a student may have a typical lunch of pizza or beef barbecue (there's always a second choice with pizza), parsley buttered potatoes, tossed green salad, chocolate cake and milk. Extra milk is provided as it only costs the school systems 2 cents per half pint.

More and more parents and children are enjoying the luxury of purchasing hot lunches in the schools, according to Mrs. McCoy. "About 80 per cent of Pierce Junior High School students buy their lunches, and 1,326 lunches are served daily in the township's school system."

Of the three-quarter of a million lunches served in the township schools annually, there is only about a two per cent profit.

"School lunches are supposed to be a nonprofit activity," Mrs. McCoy explained, "We would rather spend any extra money on other nutritious foods, and maintain well-trained employes for efficient operation, than make a larger profit," she added.

Bill to Extend Items' Tax Rates Awaits Kennedy

WASHINGTON (AP) — Legislation to extend for another year the present excise tax rates on liquor, wine, beer, cigarettes, automobiles and other items awaits President Kennedy's signature.

★ ★ ★

Congressional action on the measure was completed Thursday when the Senate approved it by a voice vote.

★ ★ ★

Kennedy asked for the bill, which would continue the present corporation income tax of 52 per cent and would also prevent a drop in the excise taxes on transportation, local telephone service, and auto parts and accessories.

★ ★ ★

The reductions were due to take effect June 30 and would have meant a loss of $3.7 billion in annual revenue.

Gives GOP Side of Federal Aid

Elliott Claims Some Aspects Kept Under Wraps by State Dems

In reply to a charge made by his Democratic counterpart, Republican County Chairman Arthur G. Elliott Jr. said "certain undesirable aspects" of two rejected federal aid bills had been kept under wraps by Democrats and Gov. John B. Swainson.

★ ★ ★

Elliott said the two bills—a $20-million federal package for aid to dependent children and a $5-million federal bill to regulate billboards on interstate roads—illustrated "the direct relationship between federal aid and federal control."

Elliott made his remarks in reply to charges of "GOP political sabotage" by Democratic Chairman James M. Ginn, who accused GOP lawmakers of "the biggest giveaway in the history of Michigan" in turning down the bills.

According to Elliott, the federal aid to dependent children bill would have:

—Eliminated Michigan's present one-year residency requirement for ADC. Under the federal law "anyone could have moved into the state and started collecting," he said.

—Placed county welfare employes under state civil services—either that or they would have been fired and replaced by new civil service workers.

—Posed grave financial risk for the state. The federal bill was for only 12 months duration. "We would have been placed in the position of setting up a new class of civil service employes on the basis of federal aid—but with no guarantee federal aid would be available a year from now," Elliott said.

Grants Ruling Stay on Red Registration

WASHINGTON (AP) — Justice Frankfurter of the Supreme Court granted today a stay of effectiveness of the court's decision that the Communist party must register as a tool of Moscow.

The stay was granted after the party filed a petition asking the high court to reconsider its decision, announced June 5.

★ ★ ★

The court is now in summer adjournment. It's order to lower courts to make the ruling effective, was scheduled for issuance today. Frankfurter's stay defers it until the justices act on the petition for reconsideration. Thus the June 5 decision likely will remain ineffective until at least Oct. 9.

NEGATIVE STAND

Communist party officials declared after the June 5 decision that they did not plan to register with the Justice Department. Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy said proceedings against the party would be started Aug. 9. Frankfurter's stay also has the effect of deferring this Justice Department action.

★ ★ ★

His deferment was opposed by the Justice Department, explained to him in a memorandum.

Frankfurter was the author of the June-5 decision. It upheld the constitutionality of the 1950 Subversive Activities Control Act.

★ ★ ★

Counsel for the Communist party, in their petition for reconsideration, said that the Supreme Court's decision "on the basis of legislative findings without regard to the record facts and findings, destroys the protection of the first amendment. It permits the legislature to outlaw any dissident political group simply by making opprobrious findings."

ELISABETH S. LOUNSBURY

Worthy of special recognition in the history of Pontiac is Miss Elisabeth S. Lounsbury, Oakland County's first woman supervisor.

She also had the distinction of being the only woman in Michigan elected to a place as county supervisor at that time.

An article in a 1920 edition of The Pontiac Press concerning Miss Lounsbury reads — "Here is a tribute to Oakland County's only woman supervisor — Miss Elisabeth S. Lounsbury of the first ward, Pontiac. She enjoyed the novelty of being the only woman in a gathering of 30 supervisors.

"Miss Lounsbury has just finished the three weeks' October sessions. Hers was a different position, and I doubt if one woman in a hundred could have adapted herself to it and taken as keen an interest in county affairs as did the representative from the first ward.

★ ★ ★

"She was not the least bit backward about expressing her opinions and on all questions took an emphatic stand on one side or the other."

After serving two years Miss Lounsbury was automatically retired from office with the advent of the new city commission form of government and new city charter.

Miss Lounsbury loves to tell about her experiences as supervisor. She said as a woman she usually had the last word.

A graduate of Miss Liggett's Home and Day School in Detroit in 1904, she was active in the Daughters of the American Revolution and has served on the city election board.

★ ★ ★

The granddaughter of Col. S. E. Beach, she has the genealogical record tracing her family back to Gov. William Bradford of Plymouth, Mass.

Miss Lounsbury's father, Robert J. Lounsbury, was a city attorney. He served several terms as mayor of Pontiac.

Maintenance Man Gets His Diploma but Posthumously

EAST LANSING (AP)—Jerome E. De Loach was to have received a certificate—the fruit of 10 years' work—this morning from Michigan State University.

He had been working toward the building maintenance certificate awarded by Michigan State University and the State Department of Public Instruction. The diploma denotes professional competency in the custodial field.

Between annual MSU conferences and local custodial courses, the engineer piled up the 300 hours needed to earn the award. But one class he missed was one in "boiler room safety" at Michigan State during the conference ending today.

De Loach was killed Monday in a boiler explosion in the basement of Lincoln Park High School near Detroit, where he was chief engineer.

Dr. William Hawley of the MSU College of Education presented the diploma posthumously today—first time in the history of the conferences this has been done, the university said.

Grand Trunk Proposes Hike in Commuter Fares

Mounting losses incurred in commuter operations have prompted the Grand Trunk Western to file a 15 per cent fare increase proposal with the Michigan Public Service Commission, Harry A. Sanders of Bloomfield Township, vice president and general manager, announced today. The new rates are scheduled to become effective Aug. 1.

The fares would be increased partly to offset the actual operating losses of the commuter service, which amounted to $92,500 last year, Sanders said.

This amount does not include depreciation on equipment and the cost of heavy shopping which is required, totaling $475,000 last year. Just what the maintenance of equipment expense will amount to in 1961 is not known.

"This is the first time in four years that we are raising commuter fares," Sanders declared. "In the meantime, wages and maintenance costs have all risen considerably, contributing to the acuteness of our financial situation. The new rates will be no higher than those of other large cities."

The proposed fares would mean, for instance, that a 10-ride ticket between Pontiac and Detroit, which now costs $8.05, would be increased to $9.30, and a 46-ride monthly ticket between these two communities, now costing $28.05, would be $32.30.

The 10-ride ticket between Birmingham and Detroit, now $5.95, would cost $6.85, and the 46-ride monthly ticket, now $18.75, would cost $21.60. Between Royal Oak and Detroit, the 10-ride ticket now costing $4.20 would be increased to $4.85, and the 46-ride monthly ticket, now $13.65, would cost $15.70.

* * *

Even with the increases, commutation costs to suburbanites will still be considerably lower than those involved in driving an automobile into the city and paying an all-day parking fee, Sanders asserted.

Eichmann Gets Pulled Up Short

Admits Contradictory Statements in Trial to Accusing Judge

JERUSALEM (UPI) — Adolf Eichmann admitted today that he made contradictory statements in his testimony under oath to the court trying him for the murder of six million Jews.

* * *

Presiding Justice Moshe Landau also reprimanded him sharply for "making speeches" and told him to give direct answers to the questions put to him.

Eichmann testified again for five hours, mainly answering questions put to him by his West German defense counsel Dr. Robert Servatius about documents already submitted by the prosecution. It was Eichmann's fourth day of testifying as his own sole defense witness.

He told the court he had no idea that German Jews were sent to the ghettos of Riga and Minsk to be exterminated. He said he thought they would be settled in camps in the East.

PULLED HIM UP

Associate Justice Benjamin Halevi pulled him up and pointed out that earlier he had said he had seen extermination being carried out in the East.

"Doesn't that contradict your earlier statements?" Halevi asked.

"In a way, yes," Eichmann admitted.

Then he added hastily that he had been told by his security Police Boss Reinhard Herdrich that German Jews would not be killed. He said he thought the extermination preparations were only for Eastern European Jews.

* * *

Only a little earlier, however, Eichmann claimed he had saved 20,000 German Jews from extermination in the East by shipping them to the ghetto at Lodz in occupied Poland where there was no extermination equipment.

* * *

He told the court he knew about exterminations in the East as a result of an earlier inspection trip to Poland.

Much of Eichmann's testimony was taken up with lengthy lectures to the court on the functioning of the Nazi bureaucracy, which he claimed to have been only an unimportant member.

Centennial Citizens

DANA G. TAFT

Dana G. Taft of 23 Florence Ave., is one of Pontiac's pioneers, and his ancestors were American pioneers who were among the very early settlers in Massachusetts, from England.

His grandfather, Judge Levi B. Taft, came from Detroit to marry Julia Bishop in Pontiac. She was the daughter of J. Goodel Bishop one of Pontiac's first contractors and builders.

Bishop built a home on what was then Saginaw Trail (now Oakland Avenue) in 1839, which is still standing and in use; at least the original front half forms the frame of the present building. It is now an electrical shop about a half-block from the Baptist Church.

Her grandfather, Elisha Grow, came to Waterford in 1837, building a log cabin and later a large home on Williams Lake Road, which still stands.

* * *

Dana Taft was born on his grandfather Taft's farm south of Pontiac on East Square Lake Road in 1873. He has lived most of his life in Pontiac being with the City Water Dept. for 37 years before retiring in 1949.

One year later he went to work at the Community National Bank, leaving there after a bad auto accident a year ago. He has lived at the Florence Avenue address for 41 years.

Two of his five children, Mrs. Allyne Kimmins and Robert L. Taft still reside in Pontiac. Mark J. Taft and Mrs. Julianne DeBaeke live in Grosse Pointe, and Mrs. Harriet Savage makes her home in Florida.

Dana Taft is looking forward to the warm weather to try out his old hobby, golf.

To Reappraise Property

CHEBOYGAN (AP)—City Council has ordered the first general reappraisal of Cheboygan property in 10 years. The project will cost $17,400 and take six months. Allister Hayward, city manager, said rising property values had put tax valuations out of line with true values.

Over 60,000 Now Belong

Labor's Role in City Has Been Big

By PETE LOCHBILER

Two big organizations form the backbone of Pontiac area organized labor.

The 1961 Centennial year finds more than 60,000 Oakland County workers on the active or retiree rolls of the Oakland County AFL-CIO Council and the Detroit-Wayne-Macomb - Oakland County Building Trades Council.

Almost 30,000 of them are members of the big United Auto Workers Union locals in Pontiac —Local 653, the biggest, at Pontiac Motor Division; Local 594 at GMC Truck & Coach Division; and Local 596, representing employes at the Fisher Body Division Pontiac plant.

These three locals, formed in 1938, were among the first to join the original CIO Industrial Council of Pontiac, ratifying its constitution on May 18, 1939.

Others were Local 658, representing the Wilson Foundry; and Local 657, still chartered although American Forging & Socket Co. has left town.

* * *

Organization of the auto industry in Pontiac began as early as 1934, with a widespread initial union that lasted less than five months.

In 1936, the first UAW-CIO local was formed, Amalgamated Local 159. Following the sit-down strikes of 1937, the strengthened auto workers here split up into the five separately chartered locals.

MOVED IN 1941

It was on March 3, 1941 that the county organization moved into its present headquarters at 21½ E. Lawrence St. under the name Pontiac and Oakland County Industrial Union Council, CIO.

After the merger of the AFL and CIO groups was approved locally in February 1959, the new name became the Oakland County Central Labor Council, AFL-CIO, or, as most unionsts say, the Oakland County AFL-CIO Council.

The council membership is 45,000, plus another 3,000-4,000 retirees.

Since the long, 109-day strike against General Motors Corp. in 1945-1946, the labor scene has been relatively peaceful here, marked more by mutual cooperation between labor and management than by dissension.

* * *

Organizing remains as big a job as ever. But at council headquarters there is an increasing accent nowadays on public relations, legislative and political action, social work through established community agencies, and educational programs for the membership.

Comprised of 145 seated delegates representing 92 affiliated unions, the Oakland County AFL-CIO Council has as its president Fred V. Haggard, a one-time paint shop worker at Fisher Body, now in his 10th year as Mr. Labor of Oakland County.

UAW regional directors for the area since 1936 are in chronological order: Charles Madden, August Scholle, William McAulay and, at present, Ken Morris.

POST'S IMPORTANT

The UAW regional post is one of the most important in the UAW International.

Building programs saw the Pontiac Motor local move into a $160,000 headquarters building in 1953, and Fisher Body into a $100,000 one last year. Now the GMC local is planning a construction program.

In the original Building Trades Council charter, still hanging on the wall at the Pontiac Labor Temple, the date is 1920 and affiliates listed include bricklayers, masons, plasterers, carpenters, joiners, electricians, painters, decorators, paperhangers, plumbers and steamfitters.

William Miller, president of the plumbers and steamfitters local, was president of the council as well.

A jurisdictional document of 1927 claims all of Oakland County for the Pontiac Central Labor Union.

* * *

The merger with the trades council headquarters in Detroit came in 1954, but some trades are still affiliates of the Oakland County AFL-CIO Council.

BIGGEST LOCALS

The biggest two Oakland County locals within the construction trades council are the Carpenters Local 998, headquartered in Berkley; and Teamsters Local 614, in Pontiac. Both have around 3,000 members.

Locals headquartered in Pontiac include the Bricklayers Local 29, Laborers Local 1076 and Painters Local 430.

The earliest local here was the Bricklayers Local 29, chartered in 1903.

Other Pontiac locals affiliated with the Oakland County AFL-CIO Council include Amalgamated Local 540, UAW (Jig Bushing and others); Local 733, UAW (Universal Oil Seal); Pontiac Unit, Local 38, of the United Brewery Workers; Local 195 of the Building Service Employes International Union (movie theaters); Local 57 (Pontiac Laundry) and Local 364 (some retail stores) of the Amalgamated Clothing Workers of America.

Also Local 4012 (Bell Telephone) of the Communication Workers of America; Local 376 (Pontiac) and Local 1335 (Waterford Township) of the International Association of Fire Fighters; Local 11-126 (Pontiac Varnish) of the Oil, Chemical and Atomic Workers Union; Local 423 (General Printing) of the Printing, Pressmen and Assistants Union; Local 125 (Baldwin Rubber) of the United Rubber Workers.

* * *

Also 620 of the International Alliance of Theatrical Stage Employees and Motion Picture Machine Operators; Local 49 (Pontiac State Hospital), Local 719 (Pontiac school custodians) and Local 1295 (Waterford Township school custodians), Local 100 (City Halls and Pontiac General Hospital), of the American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employes; Local 417 (Pontiac) of the American Federation of Teachers; Local 512 (The Pontiac Press) of the International Typographical Union; and Local 105 (Consumers Power) of the Utility Workers of America.

ACTIVE CENTENNIALITES — Mr. and Mrs. Dimitrie Toth and their son, Dimitrie Jr., 11, of 405 First St., have been busy helping Pontiac celebrate its 100th birthday. Mr. Toth is a member of the Itchy Brush, Brothers of the Brush Chapter at Pontiac Motor Division's foundry; while Mrs. Toth is chairman of the Centennial Belles charter at St. George Romanian Church.

Would Pick Beirne to Succeed Meany

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP)—Joseph A. Beirne would be a good successor to George Meany, AFL-CIO president, a labor leader said Thursday.

Beirne is president of the Communications Workers of Amecia, which closes its convention today.

* * *

W. C. Doherty of Washington, president of the Association of Letter Carriers, told the CWA delegates: "The AFL-CIO is blessed with the leadership of George Meany, but if Meany puts down the leadership, I shall be in the vanguard of those in the AFL-CIO who'll work for Joseph A. Beirne."

Person to Person Never Like This

By FRED DANZIG

NEW YORK (UPI) — Two families that the "Person to Person" cameras somehow overlooked were the subject of an off-beat visit Thursday night by ABC-TV's "Close-up."

The half-hour, "Our Durable Diplomats," visited the homes of our State Department representatives in Dacca, Pakistan, and Santiago, Chile.

Instead of those happy-happy camera tours we are accustomed to because of the "Person to Person" habit, we heard how the Dacca diplomat and his family live amid primitive sanitation facilities, poverty, disease, snakes, inadequate medical care and schooling.

The Santiago story dealt primarily with the incredibly high cost of living and the lack of central heating. The program set out to show us that the life of a young diplomat is not exactly "a cheery round of cocktail parties and receptions plus easy money" and made its point.

If this isn't the place to wonder how the Pakistanis or Chileans might react to the hardships faced by our diplomats, it is the place to note that the report was too limited in scope to provide a rounded, meaningful picture of the daily life of our durable diplomats.

OUT TO PASTURE

"Guestward Ho" boarded up the windows with Thursday night's episode.

In the final episode of the ABC-TV series, Babs and Bill Hooton, played by Joanne Dru and Mark Miller, gave up their desert life, returned to New York, promptly got fed up and returned to their rundown resort and Hawkeye, the Buffalo Bilko of New Mexico, played by J. Carrol Naish.

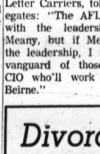
* * *

Hawkeye started out in the series as the strongest and most entertaining personality. Slowly, however, his characterization was defeathered, hog-tied and sent out to feed on warmed-over, constricted plots.

Divorcee Gives Advice for Happy Marriage

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — I interviewed Muriel Resnik because she wrote a novel about a beautiful marriage — so imagine my lack of surprise when I found she doesn't have a beautiful marriage.



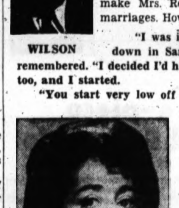
WILSON

"Oh, no," shrugged Mrs. Resnick, a divorcee, "if it'd been like that, I'd still be married to him."

Hollywood producers Bud York and Norman Lear fell in love with the beautiful marriage in "The Girl in the Turquoise Bikini"— and bought it for pictures—and so that should make Mrs. Resnick an expert on beautiful marriages. However . . .

"I was in love with a circus aerialist down in Sarasota a few years ago," she remembered. "I decided I'd have to learn walking the wire, too, and I started.

"You start very low off the ground. I got about two feet before I broke the engagement.



MURIEL

"He married a circus owner's daughter who came with a dowry of 20 elephants. I didn't even have one elephant."

Mrs. Resnick has two children—"just say they're grown," she suggested—and she claims there are plenty of men around for women who know how to get them.

"I like ugly men," she said. "They're so easy to get along with and so grateful — unless they're movie stars."

THE MIDNIGHT EARL . . .

Marilyn Monroe asked for a special screening of BBardot in "The Truth"; it was the first time the American sexpot had seen the French sexpot . . . Vic Damone will fly to Rome for his son's birthday.

Rex Harrison's son Noel will be featured in the David Niven film, "Two Enemies" . . . Fabian's building a home for his family, with gymnasium and tennis courts, in Berlin, N.J.

Connie Francis begins a South American tour Aug. 15 . . . Desi Arnaz sold a batch of "Lucy" shows to Australian TV . . . Montgomery Clift heads for Rome June 26 to accept his "best foreign actor" award for "The Misfits."

EARL'S PEARLS: Well, here comes summer, that season when there's not much on the radio, TV or the girls at the beach.

TODAY'S BEST LAUGH: "My wife is always talking about the guy she should have married," said a man. "I think she feels worse about it than I do."

WISH I'D SAID THAT: Glasses can change your personality completely — if you empty them often enough. . . . That's earl, brother.

Find No Evidence of Plot to Kill Adlai

WASHINGTON (AP) — Officials in Washington and Argentina say there is no evidence to link the shooting of a U.S. Marine Guard in Buenos Aires with any plot to assassinate Adlai E. Stevenson.

* * *

And Stevenson, who returned Thursday from his tour of South American for President Kennedy, said he hadn't heard of any attempt to kill him. Stevenson is the U.S. ambassador to the United Nations.

* * *

Two New York area newspapers, the New York World Telegram and Sun and the Newark Star-Ledger, reported Thursday that a group of exiremists had plotted to kill Stevenson during his recent visit to Buenos Aires. They said the Marine was wounded in an aftermath of the cons piracy.

Killer of Policeman Incoherent in Cell

A former mental patient who killed a Royal Oak Township policeman and wounded another officer in a barrage of rifle fire was nearly incoherent when questioned in his jail cell today.

Held for investigation of murder at the Oakland County Jail is Donald P. Bennyfield, 28, an unemployed factory worker who was released from Pontiac State Hospital three years ago.

A witness said Bennyfield greeted two policemen with a hail of bullets when they came to his home to investigate reports that he had been bothering girls in the neighborhood.

Killed was Sgt. James Gatewood, Jr., 45, father of six children, whose body was riddled with six bullets from the 22-calibre automatic rifle wielded by the berserk gunman.

★ ★ ★

Patrolman Edward Watkins, who was shot once in the back, was scheduled to undergo surgery for removal of the bullet today at Mount Carmel Mercy Hospital in Detroit. His condition is reported as fair.

Gatewood was dead on arrival at the same hospital shortly after the shootings occurred at about 4 p.m. yesterday.

Oakland County Prosecutor George F. Taylor said that Bennyfield remembered the shootings but kept mumbling and drifting into incoherency when he made his statement this morning.

THOUGHT PSYCHOTIC

Dr. William E. Gordon, a Detroit psychiatrist, believed that Bennyfield was psychotic after examining him last night, according to Taylor.

★ ★ ★

However, the prosecutor said Bennyfield would not be committed to a mental institution until some details in his statements to police were checked out.

"He knew enough to take aim at the policemen without shooting his mother who I understand was in front of the home," said Taylor.

★ ★ ★

The prosecutor said criminal charges against Bennyfield would not be dropped until all aspects of the case are studied.

Watkins was called yesterday when Mrs. Sheridan Rowe, 21, of 10749 Deerfield St., said Bennyfield had followed her home and then stayed around her house.

★ ★ ★

Bennyfield ran to his home, about a block away, when Watkins arrived. Gatewood was then sent to assist him. Mrs. Pauline Bennyfield, Donald's mother, said her son ran up to their home shouting, "Mama! Mama! Let me in. The cops are after me!"

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Bennyfield locked the screened rear door and pleaded with the police not to go into the home, she said.

She said a fusillade of bullets suddenly ripped through the screen door as she talked to the officers.

★ ★ ★

"I felt a bullet pass right across my lips," she said.

HEARD SHOTS

"I heard a rat-a-tat-tat about five or six times," said Edward Tenant, 34, of 10434 Alvord St. "Gatewood doubled right over, ran off to the right and fell down. Watkins spun around and started to run off the other way, and then he fell.

★ ★ ★

Tenant got on the squad car radio and called for assistance. Within minutes, state police, a sheriff's officer, and police from Ferndale and Oak Park were at the scene.

Ben[illegible] without [illegible] said a 9¾-inch kitchen knife was found in his pocket when taken into custody.

Centennial Nears Climax

Castro Rejects Latest Offer by Tractor Group

HAVANA (AP)—Prime Minister Fidel Castro rejected today the latest offer by the "Tractors for Freedom" Committee and accused the Americans of lying and trying to break off negotiations.

Castro said he would permit a delegation of prisoners "to go again to the United States to explain to the North American people the facts" on the proposed tractors-for-prisoners swap.

The committee's last offer of exchanging 500 small farm tractors for 1,200 Cuban prisoners "has no other purpose but to break off the negotiations and blame the Cuban government for it," Castro said in a note to the committee. "The responsibility is exclusively yours."

★ ★ ★

Castro said the American committee "lies in saying Cuba has changed its original proposal. It is a trick devised by you to confuse North American public opinion and the prisoners" own relatives."

He added, "While the committee talks of its interests for the standard of life of the Cuban people, it pretends that Cuba accepts the ridiculous offer of tractors whose power and value are not enough to satisfy even a meager part of the damages suffered because of cowardly and criminal aggression against Cuba organized by the United States government."

REVEALED ON RADIO

Castro's decision first was announced by Havana Radio.

★ ★ ★

The Tractors for Freedom Committee had set a noon deadline today in a take-it-or-leave-it ultimatum that capped nearly a month of negotiations.

The committee's final offer was to exchange the prisoners for 500 bulldozers of various types, mostly farm tractors.

It said that if Castro failed to accept, money received from contributors to the tractor fund would be returned to the senders.

Man Captured in Wild Chase

One of 2 Confesses to Theft After Car Loses Tire on Johnson

After a wild chase with speeds up to 100 miles an hour early today in Waterford Township, state and township police captured one of two burglars when they lost control of their car and crashed into a curb at Johnson Street and Elizabeth Lake Road.

★ ★ ★

Police found Daniel J. Frizzle, 21, of 2749 Mott St., Waterford Township, crouched on the floor of the car after his driver-companion, Milton W. McDowell, 24, of an unknown number on Wall Street, Pontiac, had fled.

Frizzle told police he and McDowell had broken into two township business establishments and stolen an undetermined amount of money.

Tony Mitch, owner of Mitch's Tavern, who lives back of his place at 4000 Cass-Elizabeth Lake Road, told police he heard a noise in the tavern at 3 a.m. and called Waterford Township police.

When Waterford patrolmen Richard Beckman and David Putnam arrived, the two burglars had gone out the back. As the burglars started away, the Sylvan Shores police arrived.

★ ★ ★

Sylvan Lake policeman Leonard Graunstadt ordered the two to halt. McDowell then got out of the car and knocked the policeman to the ground. McDowell then jumped QUEEN OF THE PARADE — For most participants in the Centennial Youth Day Parade Thursday there was only one queen. She is little Diane Dix, 5, of 41 S. Jessie St. Diane is Miss Pontiac Boys Club of 1960-61. She rode proudly up Saginaw on the Boys Club float waving at the crowd. Her guards, both club members, are Harold Singleton, (left) 17, of 30 McKinley St., and Art Jewell, 17, of 899 Palmer Drive.

Praised for Service to Schools

Pontiac Honors Louis Schimmel

A man who served more than a generation of Pontiac school children last night was honored for "outstanding community contributions" by the Greater Pontiac Community Council.

Louis H. Schimmel, who retired from the Pontiac School Board in February after 24 years, received the William W. Donaldson Citizenship Trophy from a long-time friend and associate, Dr. Dana P. Whitmer, superintendent of schools.

As president of the advisory council and chairman of the "Youth Day" activities of the Greater Pontiac Centennial, Whitmer chose to make the presentation before hundreds of persons gathered at Wisner Stadium last night for "Youth Day" exercises and the third performance of "The Pontiac Story."

"Better schools, better education, a better Pontiac" — this was the way Whitmer summed up Schimmel's contributions to the community.

★ ★ ★

Through masterly handling of budgetary and financing matters over a spread of 2½ decades, Schimmel insured a high level of instruction and up-to-date school facilities for thousands of Pontiac area school children, Whitmer pointed out.

STATEWIDE INFLUENCE

In a broader sense, he observed, school children throughout the state have benefited from Schimmel's dedicated work in behalf of schools.

As the confidant of governors and personal consultant to the state's superintendents of public instruction, Schimmel's influence for better schools has been statewide, Whitmer said.

He described the municipal financing expert as "the architect and moving force" behind new provisions in the state's constitution that have saved school construction programs in Pontiac and throughout the state "from financial death."

★ ★ ★

One of these constitutional amendments was passed by voters just last November, thanks in great measure to Schimmel's tireless efforts, Whitmer noted.

Though retired from the school board, Schimmel still serves Pontiac, and Oakland County as well.

As Oakland County representative on the Detroit Water Board he will carry an important responsibility once Pontiac begins using Detroit water. Schimmel is vice president of the board at present.

★ ★ ★

Busy as a consultant to various local, state and national governments, agencies and commissions, Schimmel's main job is director of the Municipal Advisory Council of Michigan, with offices in Detroit. He lives at 509 W. Iroquois Road.

Harold Macmillan III

LONDON (AP)—Prime Minister Harold Macmillan has a cold and sore throat and has canceled all weekend engagements on his doctor's orders, his office said today.

Belles, Beards Will Be Judged on Saturday

15 Whisker Plaques, Twelve for Costumes to Be Awarded

By PETE LOCHBILER

The eighty-day Greater Pontiac Centennial will roll to a climax over the weekend with costume contests for the Centennial Belles and beard contests for the Brothers of the Brush.

For the estimated 7,000 women who have been wearing colorful period costumes for Pontiac's 100th anniversary as a city, judging will begin at 10 a.m. Saturday, "Round Up Day," in Wisner Stadium.

There will be bronze plaques awarded in 12 contests.

★ ★ ★

The 2 p.m. preliminaries in the contest for an estimated 4,000 bearded men will follow. Finals at 8 p.m. in the stadium will precede a shave-off contest. There'll be plaques for the 15 best awards in various styles.

After that, the dresses will be put away in the drawer, the beards will come off and the Greater Pontiac Centennial celebration will be over.

The contests come after a colorful "International Day" festival this afternoon, 1-5 p.m., at the Elks Temple.

★ ★ ★

Folk dances, exotic delicacies, and unusual displays by 25 ethnic groups in the Pontiac area contribute to an atmosphere combining elements of Europe, Asia, North and South America.

There are performances of "The Pontiac Story" at Wisner Stadium tonight, Saturday night and Sunday night. If any performance is rained out, there'll be another "rain check" performance Monday night.

In yesterday's "Youth Day" activities, students from six Pontiac area high schools filled some 73 posts in Pontiac and Oakland County government.

At City Hall, teenagers each went through an orientation program in the morning, then brought their newly gained "know how" to bear during a mock city commission meeting in the afternoon.

Saturday will be fair and a little warmer, with the warming trend continuing Sunday and Monday.

Tuesday and Wednesday will again be somewhat cooler.

★ ★ ★

Money Means 'Nothing' as Students Rule County

By GEORGE T. TRUMBULL JR.

County employes yesterday were granted "well-earned" pay raises.

Hold it, all 1,400 of you. Don't scurry off and spend that extra dough. You won't get a penny of it. As much as you wish it were for real, it was only through the make believe sacrifice of an understanding 16-year-old Pontiac Northern senior that your pay checks were to be increased.

"First thing they told me was to get them a raise," said John Pence, 365 W. Columbia Ave. "So I did."

★ ★ ★

John who became board of supervisors chairman, hadn't learned his lesson in how county government works. He forgot to consult the board of supervisors, who would have been astounded by how fast the "Youth Day" county officials picked up the tempo of running a county of 690,583 persons.

Like bashful Susan Simpson, 15, of 639 Wesbrook Ave., a junior to be at Pontiac Northern. She casually strolled down a crowded Saginaw Street in her high-heeled shoes toting $58,000 in county receipts.

"I was watching the parade," she said nonchalantly.

Money apparently came easy for her. She hardly batted an eyelash

Kennedy 'Fine' After His Cold

Walks Slowly Without Crutches When He Bids Ikeda Goodby

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy, "feeling fine" in the words of an aide, deserted his sick bed today and played host to Japanese Prime Minister Hayato Ikeda.

★ ★ ★

Kennedy, confined to bed Thursday by a bacteria and virus infection, posed for photographs with the prime minister and then walked into the driveway of the Executive Mansion to bid a personal farewell.

Ikeda paid a farewell call closing three days of high-level talks.

The crutches that a back strain had forced Kennedy to use before he was felled by illness were nowhere in sight.

He walked slowly, but if he limped at all it was so slightly as to be hardly discernible.

Ikeda closed out his visit with a statement that the three days with Kennedy and other U.S. leaders had demonstrated anew the solidarity of the free world.

AT NATIONAL AIRPORT

He made that farewell comment at National Airport just before his take-off.

Full military honors were rendered before Ikeda and his wife boarded the big plane for New York where the prime minister's first engagement was with United Nations Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold.

FAREWELL, MR. IKEDA—Japanese Prime Minister Hayato Ikeda and President Kennedy pose in a farewell handshake today at the White House. The President, recovering from a cold, and the prime minister met in an upstairs living room at the Executive Mansion.

wind-up conference with Ikeda Thursday after coming down with the virus infection which shot his temperature to 101.6 degrees before it broke.

His doctor reported late Thursday that he was recovering very nicely. Kennedy set out to prove it today.

He did, however, yield to advice from the White House physician, Dr. Janet Travell, and agree to remain in his second-floor living quarters in the mansion.

Kennedy had passed the word that he planned to divide his time between the mansion itself and his office in the west wing.

Dr. Travell made it clear that she would prefer him to stay in his upstairs quarters. He received Ikeda there.

Aides reported Kennedy feeling "fine."

White House press secretary, Pierre Salinger said Kennedy "can be considered practically recovered."

Indicating his improvement, Kennedy planned to spend the weekend at Glen Ora, the family's country estate near Middleburg, Va. Mrs. Kennedy and the children also will be at Glen Ora.

"He it a bit weak but he feels fine," Salinger said.

back in the car and started racing away.

Graunstadt followed firing four shots at the speeding car. Waterford Township police and state police joined in the pursuit up South Winding Drive to Elizabeth Lake Road.

As the burglars spun around Johnson Street from Elizabeth Lake Road, a right rear tire on their car rolled off and the car smashed into a curb. McDowell jumped out and was ordered to stop, but continued running.

Frizzle was arrested and told police he and McDowell had broken into the Marlo Furniture store at 7603 Highland Road, and gotten only $6 from the cash register. He also admitted to stealing an undetermined amount of money from Mitch's Tavern.

Entrance to both buildings had been made by smashing a rear window.

Frizzle is being held in the Oakland County jail on a charge of breaking and entering, and police are searching for his accomplice.

Damp and Chilly Weather Picture in North and East

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Rather unseasonable coolness and widespread showers again dominated the weather picture in most of the Northern and Eastern sections of the nation today.

★ ★ ★

The principal shower band went across the Great Lakes region, the Ohio Valley and the New England States. Isolated showers were reported in the Texas Panhandle and in central Florida, but rain accumulation was light.

★ ★ ★

Scattered showers also fell over the Great Lakes and in upper New England, Illinois and Lower Michigan.

The Weather Bureau said a warming trend was on the way for most of the nation, but the early morning readings at Duluth, Minn. and Marquette, Mich. were 45.

Trujillo Family Wants Names Off Monuments

CIUDAD TRUJILLO, Dominican Republic (AP)—Rafael Trujillo's sons and his widow have asked President Joaquin Balaguer to take their names off public-works manuments throughout the country.

Gen. Rafael Trujillo Jr., his brother Rhadamas, and their mother asked that their names be replaced by those of "important people or important events in the national history." Under the dictator, who was assassinated last month, virtually every piece of public construction in the country was named for some member of the Trujillo family.

Tells Kennedy About His Trip

Latin America Poised for Reform; Situation Quite Somber

WASHINGTON (AP) — Ambassador Adlai E. Stevenson reported to President Kennedy today that economic want and social unrest are on the march in South America.

Stevenson tempered this sober note with the observation, however, that increasing too is "official awareness of the needs for economic and social reform and progress and the growing menace of communism."

★ ★ ★

Kennedy sent the U.N. ambassador on a whirlwind tour of all 10 South American countries to get a sounding on the administration's alliance for progress program. Stevenson's mission also was to find out what kind of reception the Communist-oriented Castro regime in Cuba was getting.

"We found a tremendous interest and hope in the alliance for progress," Stevenson said on his arrival Thursday night in Washington. "The conviction is universal that more rapid social and economic development is imperative."

And, on communism, Stevenson said: "If there was any idea that communism in Cuba is only a problem for the United States, I believe we dispelled this illusion."

Stevenson said he found meager support for the Cuban prime minister but "a broad feeling for social reform."

Earlier, in a brief stopover in Puerto Rico, Stevenson said the economic and social situation in Latin America had deteriorated since his long journey south of the border last year.

"The poor and hungry man, awakening to the knowledge of a better life, will not stand back and wait forever," Stevenson remarked.

He said the trip was "successful in all respects," and he was met everywhere with an extraordinary welcome and hospitality.

Glenwood Gets Kresge Outlet

Lease Signed for New Shopping Center With Albert's at Mall

A junior department store branch of the S. S. Kresge Co. will be the biggest retail outlet at the forth-coming Glenwood Avenue shopping center, it was announced today.

★ ★ ★

At the same time, developers of the center set a $2.5 million price on the venture, saying it would have 25 to 27 stores occupying some 200,000 square feet of retail space.

And in a separate announcement, Albert's, one of Detroit's leading women's specialty stores, disclosed plans to open a branch in the Pontiac Mall Shopping Center, at Elizabeth Lake and Telegraph Roads in Waterford Township.

The Kresge announcement said the Pontiac branch would be one-story and "close" to 80,000 square feet in size. The company said it would be one of three new discount department stores in the metropolitan area.

TO START MONDAY

John B. Ridgeway, a salesman for National Business Brokers, 1843 Orchard Lake Ave., sai d the Glenwood shopping center — the first big, regional shopping center in Northeast Pontiac — would get under way with ground-breaking Monday.

He said the L-shaped cluster of retail stores are about 60 per cent leased and should be ready for business Dec. 1. With brick and stone fronting, the buildings will face a landscaped mall and a huge parking lot, he said.

National Business Brokers represents the Detroit developers, Herman Ross, Irving Stolman and Hugh Garner. Just south of Perry street on Glenwood, the shopping center has not yet been officially named.

Albert Schwartz, president of Albert's, signed yesterday to lease 6,600 square feet at the Pontiac Mall. He said the opening would be around Easter time next year.

ideas found out, how county government ticks.

County officials from Presiding Circuit Judge Stanton G. Dondero to Dog Warden Dr. Frank R. Bates gave up their seats of authority to their juniors.

The boys and girls were greeted in the morning by Delos Hamlin, chairman of the board of supervisors, and then spread out with their respective officials for the day.

★ ★ ★

For the younger children, it was a day highlighted by bubble gum, bikes and bunny-hop races.

Some 650 or more went for broke in pint-sized editions of the Olympic Games during the afternoon at Oakland, Jaycee, Murphy and Beaudette Parks.

The Pontiac Parks and Recreation Department saw to it that there were nothing but winners. Blue, red and white ribbons were handed out to first, second and third place winners.

★ ★ ★

There were 10 contests. Each was run in four age groups. Boys and girls were in separate divisions.

The youngest were six and seven years old. The next group was 8-10, third were 11- and 12-year-olds and the final group consisted of kids from 13-15.

★ ★ ★

Events opened at 2 p.m. and most were finished by 4. Softball hurlers had the first crack. No world records were broken in the softball throw contest, but it was plenty of fun.

Many of those with bad arms, began to show their stuff in the dashes. The youngest ran 20 yards, and the distance became greater for each age group up to 50 yards for the 13-year-olds.

Then came the big blow of the afternoon. The bubble gum blowing contest had kids of all sizes and shapes huffing and puffing.

Other tests of skill and endurance included a one-foot race, standing broad jump, bean bag toss, backward race, paper airplane flying contest, and bunny hop race.

★ ★ ★

In the big morning parade, one of the hits was a cute little miss, Mickey Burns, 10-year-old star of the centennial film "Pontiac Progress and Promise."

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Van H. Burns, of 939 Lakeside Drive, Waterford Township. Another sharp unit was the Pontiac Boys Club Drum and Bugle Corps, that marched like real pros after only three weeks of preparation.

Late added entries included Cub and Sea Scout units, several Centennial Spectacular performers, and units from the Armenian Youth Federation and Youth of Macedonia Club.

A few drops of rain pelted down at the start of the parade, but quickly ended. The parade lasted about 30 minutes and final units passed Huron Street at 11:15.

TAKES BENCH

Meanwhile, blonde April Krupa, a 17-year-old Pontiac Northern senior, nearly drowned in Circuit Judge Stanton G. Dondero's black robe. She took his bench over like it was her own.

With gavel in tow, April, 522 Kuhn St., was ready to sentence any criminals "Prosecutor" Dennis Klender, 18, of 2952 Williams Lake Road, Waterford Township, would send over from next door.

After sitting in on a statement an accused gave an assistant prosecutor and police, Klender rattled off the difference between misdemeanors and felonies like a law school graduate.

Judith McInnis, a St. Michael's junior, learned as a social welfare commissioner that officials just don't pass out her dad's tax money right and left.

"I was amazed at the thoroughness of the investigation," Judy, of 40 Lewis St., said.

Seeing the selection of the men and women who will decide the fate of an accused murderer was a big attraction for the judges-for-a-day.

"I didn't know they asked the jury so many questions," exclaimed Shannon Donnelly, 16, of 2410 Fordham St., Keego Harbor.

Shannon and her judge friends were glad they were in their make believe seats and not the real thing.

OK $6.38-Million Budget for 1961-62 School Year

BIRMINGHAM—A record school budget of $6.38 million for the 1961-62 fiscal year has been adopted by the Birmingham Board of Education.

The operating budget gives primary emphasis to the support and improvement of the instruction accounts, with allotments totaling 73.6 per cent of the expenditures.

This compares with 69.2 per cent alloted last year for staff salaries and 69.1 per cent for 1959-60.

According to Supt. Otis M. Dickey, this was accomplished by reducing the amounts allocated for the operating plant, auxiliary services and capital outlays.

He explained that more than half of the increases over the $5.63 million budget of last year went for 69 additional staff members.

★ ★ ★

These were necessary, he said, to take care of increased enrollments at Groves High School, to speed up the honors and advanced programs, to appoint department heads in the secondary schools and to increase library services.

Smaller amounts in the budget were for additional services for staff additions, and additional textbooks, library books and general instructional supplies to meet the requirements of improved programs.

★ ★ ★

Other increases were for salary increments, a $200 minimum improvement in teachers' salary schedules and related schedules.

Dickey pointed out that the new budget represents a 12 per cent increase over last year's expenditures, but noted that the average increase during 1951-58 was 22.6 per cent each year.

In the financially difficult years of 1958-59 and 59-60, the increase was a fraction of one per cent.

"While many factors must be considered in making valid comparisons," Dickey stated, "it is clear we are still trying to recover from those two disasterous years."

"Although this budget represents some recovery, many needs and requirements will not be met," the superintendent said.

Gertrude Hagerman

Service for former Birmingham resident Gertrude Hagerman, 85, of 1228 W. Silver Bell Road, Orion Township, will be held 11 a.m. Monday at the Manley Bailey Funeral Home. Burial will be in Greenwood Cemetery.

Miss Hagerman died yesterday in Pontiac General Hospital following a short illness.

Born in Birmingham she was a daughter of an area pioneer family.

She was a member of the Seventh Day Adventist of Pontiac and the Dorcas Missionary Society of Pontiac.

Surviving is a nephew, John L. Thurber of Birmingham.

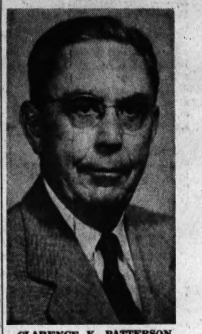
Centennial Citizen



CLARENCE K. PATTERSON

The family of Clarence K. Patterson of 4560 Dow Ridge Road, Orchard Lake, was well established in Oakland County several decades before Pontiac became a city.

Patterson, a Pontiac attorney, comes from a family steeped in legal tradition. His great-great-grandfather, James Patterson, was an officer in the Revolution.

His great-grandfather, James Clinton Patterson, came to Holly Township in 1838. He was known as "Squire" Patterson and was township justice of the peace.

The "Squire" had two sons, both of whom became attorneys establishing an unbroken pattern to the present day.

One of these was Thomas L. Patterson (1836-1923), Patterson's grandfather, who was a probate judge for 10 years.

CARRY THE BANNER

Clarence's father, John H. Patterson (1865-1941) was also a prominent Pontiac area attorney in his day. Clarence and his brother, Donald S. Patterson, who died eight years ago, have carried the legal banner since then.

Patterson was born here, attended Central and McConnell elementary schools and Pontiac Central High. He is a graduate of the University of Michigan Law School.

He opened his law office here in 1920. "We were located on the second floor of a building in the old Clinton Hall block on N. Saginaw," he said.

WED A HODGES

In 1923 Patterson married Agnes Hodges, whose family owned Hodges House. They have two daughters.

"The greatest change has been the building of homes outside the city," Patterson believes. "When I was a boy you wouldn't think of living that far out. The automobile is chiefly responsible for this change.

"I can remember when there were only horses and streetcars and everyone in town knew everyone else. A big outing for me when I was a boy was riding the old loop streetcar when I could get my hands on five cents," he recalled.

"You could walk all over town, so that ride was really something and considered a long trip in its day.

"The streetcar started at Saginaw and Jackson Streets, went north on Saginaw to Huron, west to State Street, north to Johnson, east to Oakland and then back to Saginaw," he said without hesitation.

The loop route was still vivid in his mind. Patterson is a partner in the firm of Patterson, Patterson and Barrett, 404 Community National Bank Building.

New York's Mayor Eyes Third Term

The mayor's proposal to revamp the City Hall "Big Three" ticket ran into angry opposition by some powerful Democratic leaders.

Russ Probably Won't Let Sleeping Spy Issue Lie

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—They've closed the book officially for the time being on the smorgasbord spy story and its bass fishing, Czech mushrooms and sheet music. But chances are the Communists will reopen the book at the U.N. General Assembly in the fall.

Miroslav Nacvalac, the handsome 38-year-old Czechoslovak diplomat accused by the United States of being his country's top spy in America, left by plane Thursday night for Paris and Prague.

The United States stripped him of diplomatic immunity and threatened to depart him as illegal alien if he did not leave. It acted a lot tougher at the finish than it did at the start.

PUZZLING TURN

Reporters were puzzled that the U.S. government let the Czech Communists take the lead in publicizing the incident.

★ ★ ★

The Czechs broke the story a week ago when their U.N. mission charged two U.S. intelligence agents, in the company of a known Czech defector, tried to hire Nacvalac as a spy on the previous Tuesday—June 13.

It took the U.S. State Department six hours to come up with charges that Nacvalac was a spy who gave U.S. agents the false impression he wanted to defect. The United States sent a note to the Czech mission demanding that Nacvalac get out of the country because of "improper activities."

★ ★ ★

Nacvalac meanwhile made himself available to reporters with an account of two U.S. agents named "Mr. Mack and Mr. Jack" interrupting his smorgasbord luncheon at a New York restaurant to enlist him for espionage.

★ ★ ★

He said he was with an American friend talking about favorite spots for bass fishing—a friend for whom he said he had obtained Czech mushrooms and sheet music from home.

West Must Wake Up, Work Fast in Latin America

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON — When Adlai Stevenson returned in 1960 from a tour of Latin America where Communists are active and discontent and poverty are as broad as the continent — he was pretty somber.

Now he has returned from a second tour, feeling conditions are worse. He made the first trip as a private citizen, the second as President Kennedy's personal representative. In between the two trips there were two major events.

CUBAN POISON

1. The Kennedy administration — of which Stevenson is a part as ambassador to the United Nations — approved the disastrous invasion against Cuba. This added more poison to anti-United States feeling in Latin Amercan.

2. President Kennedy asked Congress for, and got, a $500 million Latin-American aid program. The money is to go to countries with social programs of their own, like land for the landless, homes for the homeless, education for millions.

★ ★ ★

Upon his return in 1960 he said: "Latin America is in revolution. . . . The whole continent is on the verge of a great economic development and they are going to build a new society under our methods of free enterprise, if possible, and if not, under socialism."

★ ★ ★

Thursday, Stevenson, stopping off at Puerto Rico on his way home, said: "Economic want and social unrest have, if anything, increased. . . . There is a growing sense of urgency in Latin America."

★ ★ ★

Stevenson reports today to Kennedy. But it is unlikely the President will, as a result, propose any spectacular solutions or at least any fast ones.

ACTS QUICKLY

It is right here that communism has a starting-out advantage over a country like the United States in trying to win over millions of poverty-stricken, landless, impoverished and illiterate people.

Communism can promise a change overnight. The Western societies can promise change too, but so far have found no way to promise or effect sudden transformations.

The best they have been able to offer is steady improvement. This is what Kennedy offered in his March 14 message to Congress, outlining a long-range Latin-American program.

★ ★ ★

Stevenson illustrated the problem to a Democratic rally in this country during the presidential campaign last year when he said: "We must face the fact that the world is in revolution. For a thousand million people the big issue is not protecting the American way of life from communism.

"What does political freedom mean to an illiterate peasant squatting in a hut with five hungry children? For them and their leaders the big issues are peace, pride and rapid economic development."

MUST BRIDGE GAP

For the United States the great contest in Latin America is against the Communist clock: Can it help bring about change fast enough to make the quick promises of communism less attractive?

★ ★ ★

And the great problem is bridging the enormous gap between the very rich and the very poor. Both Kennedy and Stevenson have commented on this.

Not long after his return from Latin America in 1960 Stevenson said: "This is the struggle of our century, and if the free way of life doesn't help the many poor of this world it will never save the few rich."

★ ★ ★

Kennedy used almost those identical words later in his inaugural address when he said: "If the free society cannot help the many who are poor, it cannot save the few who are rich."

Says West Should Fight for Berlin

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP)— Sir Leslie K. Munro of New Zealand, 1957 president of the United Nations General Assembly, said today the United States, Britain and France should fight for West Berlin if necessary.

★ ★ ★

Munro, now the assembly's special representative on Hungary, dealt with the Berlin issue in a speech prepared for the 44th annual convention of Lions International.

★ ★ ★

He said Soviet Premier Khrushchev, in demanding his own Berlin solution before the end of this year, "is taking great risks."

★ ★ ★

Munro explained: "How far, he must ask himself, are the peoples of the United States, Britain and France ready to fight for Western Berlin? I believe they should . . ."

U.S. Has Plans to Hit Moon With 'Ranger'

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States will try to hit the moon early next year with an unmanned spaceship called "Ranger."

★ ★ ★

Sapce agency officials who told of the plans Thursday said the Ranger—10 feet tall and 750 pounds — will carry television equipment to transmit pictures of the moon's surface back to earth.

The space vehicle also will be equipped with a smaller instrument package containing a seismograph to make studies of the moon's structure.

★ ★ ★

In preparation for the lunar probe, the space agency will conduct two preliminary shots, each designed to put the space probe into orbit without actually making impact.

The Ranger will be launched by an Atlas-Agena rocket.

Ten Explorer Scouts Rescued From Ledge

FRESNO, Calif. (AP)—Ten explorer scouts, stranded on a narrow ledge in Kings Canyon National Park for 24 hours, were rescued one by one, in a daring helicopter operation Thursday.

The youngsters, aged 14 to 17, and their 35-year-old leader were without food or water for the last 16 hours but no ill effects were reported. All were from the Fullerton area in Southern California.

Of the 1,900,000 drivers in Minnesota, 121,845 were involved in accidents during 1960.

Was Tshombe Under Duress?

It Is Hinted Released Leader Will Do More Talking Later

ELIZABETHVILLE, the Congo (AP)—Suspicion arose today that the pledges of cooperation Katanga President Moise Tshombe gave to get out of prison were made under duress.

Government circles in this capital of Tshombe's province hinted their leader would express his true views only after he arrived here safely out of reach of President Joseph Kasavubu's central government in Leopoldville.

★ ★ ★

Government sources said Tshombe might have made some concessions to win his freedom but nothing like the complete reversal he expressed Thursday.

The local press added guardedly that only when Tshombe arrives in Elizabethville could any dealings with the central government by considered.

★ ★ ★

Always an opponent of the Leopoldville regime's attempts to unify the fragmented Congo, Tshombe was arrested April 26 when he walked out of a unity conference. Central government authorities took him to Leopoldville, threatened him with a trial for treason and kept him hidden from view. There were fears for his life.

★ ★ ★

But at a news conference after his release thursday, Tshombe smilingly proclaimed friendship for all, called his captors old friends, embraced them and promised to turn over his army to Leopoldville command.

★ ★ ★

He also promised to send Katanga delegates to the reconvening of parliament outside Leopoldville. Several days ago authorities in Elisabethville announced no Katanga delegates would go.

★ ★ ★

But Tshombe hedged on specific dates. He said he thought it impossible to complete arrangements by Sunday, the day the Parliament session is scheduled.

Deny Plot Against Adlai

BUENOS AIRES (AP)— Argentine police have branded as untrue reports published in New York saying a plot had been hatched here to assassinate Ambassador Adlai E. Stevenson on his tour as President Kennedy's special envoy to South America.

The two officers also received commendations from the State Police Law Enforcement Blockade Committee.

Michigan Ordors Precautions for Monroe A-Plant

LANSING (AP) — Safety precautions for the disposal of decontaminated radioactive wastes from the Enrico Fermi atomic power plant near Monroe have been ordered by the Michigan Water Resources Commission.

Construction of the plant recently was approved by the U. S. Supreme Court. It will be built by the Power Reactor Development Co.

The plan for the dumping of wastes into Swan Creek and Lake Erie was adopted despite a protest from the Estral Beach Community.

Company representatives assured a spokesman for the community that they would be willing to meet with Estral Beach officials to explain the program and answer any questions.

The company also offered to set up radioactivity detection equipment at water supply locations in Monroe and train personnel to operate the detectors.

Asks New Look at UP Image

College Prexy Says False Conceptions Can Hurt Area's Progress

HOUGHTON (AP) — Many of the 7.7 million Michiganians who live in the Lower Peninsula should reshape their image of the Upper Peninsula and its 300,000 residents, says Dr. J. R. Van Pelt.

The president of Michigan Tech told nearly 35 "industrial ambassadors" from south of the Straits of Mackinac Thursday that false conceptions about the Upper Peninsula can damage the area's economic development.

"Downstate people have a vague realization that the Upper Peninsula has vast resources of one kind or another—resources with a potential for development," he said.

"But," he added, "there is a feeling that they must not be touched, that they must be saved for something else—and this seems to be for recreation."

★ ★ ★

Van Pelt indicated that the Upper Peninsula has troubles enough without roadblocks set up to curb industrial growth.

"It is possible to retain the recreational advantages of 'God's country' and have intelligent industrial development side by side with it," he said.

Representatives of Upper Peninsula industry, labor and education told their visitors about the area's problems and talked over the possibilities for attracting new industry.

★ ★ ★

The ambassadors, some of more than 200 appointed by the governor to "sell" Michigan, got a better idea of how to promote the Upper Peninsula and its industrial potential in their travels to other states. Most are businessmen and industrialists themselves.

Wants Care for Grave

HUDSON, N.Y. (AP)—A class at Chatham Elementary School thinks better care should be taken of the grave of Columbia County's most famous son, President Martin Van Buren. Youth Frolics on Its Day of the Century

MARCHER AND HER 'BABY' — One young marcher in Thursday's Youth Day Parade brought her Centennial 'baby' along in a baby buggy. The fancily clad pooch sits obediently as its mistress, Margaret Jacobson, 5, moves up Saginaw Street to the delight of thousands of spectators.

BUNNY HOP HOPEFUL — She's already won two ribbons and Carolyn Brown, 12, is shown here trying for another in a Bunny Hop race at Oakland Park. Carolyn, of 93 Oliver St., grits her teeth in a last ditch effort as she nears the finish line.

BICYCLE BRIGADE — There were many colorfully decorated bicycles and riders in Thursday's Youth Parade. Many, like these, just came to ride. At times it was a little difficult to follow the white line, but ride they did, right up Saginaw from Auburn to Oakland as parents manned the sidelines.

PROSECUTOR OUSTED — Prosecutor George F. Taylor (left) discovered himself demoted to the role of private citizen yesterday as Waterford Township High School graduate Dennis Klender puts his name over Taylor's shingle during "Youth Day" activities.

Pontiac Press Photos by Eddie Vanderworp and Phil Webb

SCOUTS ON SAGINAW — One thing there were a lot of in the Youth Parade were scouts. The girl scouts alone sponsored three floats and several more marching units. These scouts are from Pontiac Troop 177, and they're having the time of their lives.

GIDDYAP! — This three-wheel pony, with balloons attached, was a crowd pleaser in the Youth Parade Thursday morning. Its driver is Randy Harris, 7, son of Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Harris of 540 Auburn Ave. Randy, a member of the Pontiac YMCA, was part of the "Y" float and marching unit.

SUBURBAN QUEEN — One of the queens in Thursday's youth parade was pretty Kathy DeLisle, 11, of 2845 Knowlton St., Keego Harbor. Kathy, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert DeLisle, was recently chosen as Miss West Suburban Boys Club. She was accompanied by a host of marchers from the club in Keego Harbor.

DRILL RIDER — The hard work and planning of three Longfellow School pupils was evident in the Youth Parade. Their dresses and the "float" on which their doll, "Cindy Belle," is riding took lots of time to make. Proudly parading their accomplishments are Carla Charlton, (left) 9, of 18 N. Midland Drive, Lynn Pomeroy, 7, of 209 S. East Blvd., pulling the wagon, and hidden behind Lynn is Peggy Payne, 8, of 212 S. East Blvd.

RIBBON - WINNING HOPPERS — Both these 12-year-olds showed their agility on one leg yesterday at an area park when they won ribbons in the one-foot race. Kenneth Laird (left) of 213 Victory Drive and Dan Voynar of 777 Third St. led the field in their age group. Dan took first place and Ken second.

CENTENNIAL WHISKERS — Pamela Winowiski, 4, of 235 Going St., showed up at one of the Youth Day athletic events with her "kitty." Little Pamela was too young to do much competing, but "kitty" won the praise of all for his long whiskers. Unfortunately "kitty" is ineligible for tomorrow's beard contest —doesn't have his Brothers of the Brush pin.

MUMBO JUMBO — Pontiac Northern senior April Krupa, 17, 522 Kuhn St., learned the specialized role of a Circuit Court reporter during yesterday's "Youth Day" exchange with county officials. Here she tries to decipher Roy Luxton's tape of some testimony.

Roses Need Food After Blooming

Feed your roses right after they lose their first bloom! This is the advice of E. L. Thomas of Virgoro research laboratories.

"With a burning sun in the sky it is time to replenish nutrients used up by your rose plants in the vigorous spring growth. The importance of a post-blooming feeding, using a good rose food, cannot be over-emphasized," Thomas says.

This is especially true if spring feeding was neglected, he says. Roses, unlike many common flowering shrubs, do not have the ability nor capacity for storing a reservoir of nutrients. Whereas forsythia, vibernum and spirea do build up a reserve, roses cannot, and an application of rose food right now is most beneficial.

A rose food which comes in convenient carton size container has been found by many home rose gardeners to be a great time saver. A cupful, approximately two closed handfuls, is ample nourishment for the average rose plant. A boxful will cover 100 square feet—a rose bed four feet by 25 feet.

"Work the formulation lightly into the top two inches of soil," says Thomas.

Apply in a circular area starting about six inches from the base of the stalks.

Where a mulch has been used, it may be advisable to double the recommended feedings," says Thomas.

"This is true if corn cobs or buckwheat hulls have been used. It is not necessary if the mulch used was peat moss or vermiculite."

It doesn't take hard work

CHINESE CABBAGE — The new Burpe Hybrid Chinese forms broad short heads that somewhat resemble Cos or Romaine lettuce in shape. The broad white midribs which make up over 2/3 of most of the leaves are tender, brittle and have a sweet but tangy flavor that is most refreshing.

Chinese Cabbage Can Be Interesting Vegtable

One of the latest additions to the list of hybrid vegetables available to gardeners is the too little known Brassica pekinensis or Chinese Cabbage. Perhaps this vegetable will finally "catch on" in the Western world by the introduction by Burpee of a new vigorous Burpee Hybrid Chinese Cabbage.

Chinese Cabbage is native to Eastern Asia and Japan and is mentioned in Chinese literature of the 5th Century A. D. but is undoubtedly much older than that. The Chinese and Japanese found enjoyable uses for this crop years ago and carried seed with them as they set up their culture and customs in foreign lands.

Missionaries to the Orient sent seed back to Europe in the mid-18th Century, but the class never became very popular, and for over 100 years was grown merely as an oddity. It should be remembered that the tomato suffered the same neglect for years after its introduction to Europe.

Chinese cabbage has a delicate but nesty flavor when used raw in salads, and for this reason should become more popular as people find out how really flavorful it is. With the great popularity that salads have attained in recent years and a continuous search by imaginative "gourmets" for new salad tastes, Chinese Cabbage will make a welcome addition to the salad bowl.

The thick succulent midribs of this vegetable are excellent served in the relish dish as you would celery and it's difficult to beat cole slaw made of this crop, but don't chop it too finely.

As a boiled vegetable, with spices and butter it appeals to many people more than ordinary cabbage and the odiferous cooking smell of that vegetable is missing in Chinese Cabbage. Anyone who likes Chinese cooking has probably enjoyed it as one of the vegetables (not overcooked) in a dish of pork or shrimp with the tasty sauces that they seem to concoct so well.

Chinese Cabbage is a bit temperamental about the time of year it is planted and does best in this country when planted in late summer (mid-July in vicinity of Philadelphia) to mature as a fall or early winter crop. If sown in the spring, hot weather usually makes it go to seed before the plant can form enough edible leaves to be worth while.

Seed may be sown directly where the plants are to be grown and thinned to 10" to 16" apart in the row. Being a leafy vegetable plenty of nitrogen and water will produce the largest most tender heads. Periodic dustings with Rotenone particularly of the young plants will control the ravenous flea beetles which seem to enjoy all members of the cabbage family.

Being a very cold tolerant plant Chinese Cabbage remains in good edible condition even after rather severe freezes that destroy most other vegetables. The plants most resistant to repeated freezing and thawing appear to be the younger plants which have not developed a firm compact head, and at Fordhook Farm Chinese Cabbage has been harvested for use in salads as late as Christmas when grown unprotected in the open field.

These Plants Tolerate Shade

On the subject of shade-tolerant plants, here are a few native plants which are also tolerant of damp places. Of course, this does not mean a heavy, soggy clay soil in which nothing worth while will thrive, but fairly good soil in which there is considerable humus.

Cardinal flower, lobelia cardinalis. Strong spirey stalks sometimes three feet high with numerous flowing scarlet flowers.

Dutchman's Breeches, dicentra culcullaria. Odd, creamy flowers and lacy foliage in early spring, vanishing before summer. To six inches or so high, and the choicest of the choice. Full shade, and b preference, a damp leaf-mouldy slope.

Cinnamon fern — osmunda cinnamonea. Tall, strong and impressive fronds, spore-stalks very ornamental with their cinnamon-colored fruiting bodies. Full or part shade and rich, leafmoldy soil.

Forget-me-not, myosotis palystris is the true native American, but M. scorpioides from Europe is the one usually grown. Too well known to need description. Forms delightful low masses of blue in suitable sunny places.

Swamp Azalea — azalea viscosum. White, sun or shade.

Inkberry, ilex glabra. Evergreen, to 4 feet. Sun or shade.

Shadbush, amelanchier canadensis. White, sun or shade.

Spicebush, benzoin aestivale. Greenish yellow, sun or shade.

Sweet pepperbush, clethra alnifolia. Fragrant, cream-white flowers. Sun or shade. Acid soil.

Winterberry, ilex verticilata. Scarlet autumn berries. Sun or shade. Excellent for Christmas arrangements as it holds its berries for weeks.

Get Guarantee With Moved Trees

Moved trees need nursing. And the bigger they are, the more care they'll probably require.

Since the average home owner hardly will have the required tree-side manner to cope with the problem, he's advised to buy his woody pet a two-year survival guarantee. The two-year period following transplanting is the critical time for the landscaping keystones. Normal transplanting losses are to be expected. Insurance is a prudent investment that spreads the risk.

Reputable tree men and landscape architects offer package deals that take the gamble out of buying fairly large trees. They offer the guarantee and follow-up service to maintain growing vigor and beauty. The follow-up service means taking care of the tree for the life of the guarantee.

Except in extreme tree declines, few amateur tree does can assay troubles that may spell the sawdust trail. That's why such services as feeding, pruning and periodic examinations by professionals are so important. That fine tree struggling to adapt to its new environment on the home grounds may be 25 years old or older. As long-time undertakings, they should be given every chance for survival.

The home owner has one responsibility, which seldom is covered by the guarantee. That's proper watering.

Must Cut Down Tree

A—There is no satisfactory control for willow borer. Cut the infected branches down to an inch or two above the ground every other year—just after the pussies have passed.

Rotate Foliage Plant

Don't leave a potted foliage plant in the same spot year around. Keep it in semi-shade in summer. During fall, winter and spring months it will thrive near a south or east window.

Plant in Shade

The plantain lily (hosta) should be planted where it will be in shade during the hot noon sun. Plantain lily foliage invariably burns when planted in direct sun.

The average American family is expected to spend $385 on home improvement in 1961. Manufacturers of housing equipment, furniture and furnishings used $22 million worth of national newspaper advertising last year.

Teens Take Over Pontiac (for a Day)

By PETE LOCHBILER

At Mayor Philip E. Rowston's suggestion, Pontiac, youthful city commission-for-a-day learned at least one governmental strategy yesterday afternoon.

"Refer it to the city manager!"

Teen-agers from five area high schools, gathered in the City Commission chambers at the climax of "Youth Day" participation in city government, joined in vigorously in a mock City Commission meeting.

There was some prompting from city department heads, reminding youngsters what they had learned earlier in the day when each was briefed on the ins-and-outs of some 32 city posts.

But the handiest advice came from Rowston, delivered from the Edward Fritz, 17, of 6995 Livernois Road, Troy, was confronted with a knotty problem from his fellow commissioners.

★ ★ ★

"Refer it to the city manager," coached Rowston, using a phrase he often finds advisable himself during the regular Tuesday night commission meetings.

Fritz, a new graduate of Avondale High School, gratefully complied.

The meeting started with Rowston handing out keys to the city to the youngsters, the first one going to Fritz.

The mayor said this was the first time within his memory that there had been official keys to the city. Following a City Commission suggestion from several months ago, Rowston had had the 1½-inch keys made up by a Detroit firm.

OTHER "OFFICIALS"

Serving at the commission table were William Devereaux, 17, of 3380 Auburn Road, Auburn Heights, city manager; Diane Adams, 17, of 2737 Sylvan Shores Drive, Waterford Township, city clerk; Gary Payne, 17, of 3089 Greenwood St., Pontiac Township, city engineer; and David Donahoe, 17, of 2645 Penna Drive, West Bloomfield Township.

★ ★ ★

City commissioners, besides Mayor Fritz, were Sheila Lane, 16, of 76 S. Roselawn St.; Robert Aubert, 17, of 2324 Pine Lake Road, West Bloomfield Township; Brian Wright, 17, of 790 Nichols Drive, Auburn Heights; Thomas Hawks, 18, of 2830 Dixie Highway, Waterford Township; and Robert Kuhn, 18, of 595 E. Mansfield Ave.

A mock agenda, prepared by David S. Teel, administrative assistant to City Manager Walter K. Willman, had the young commission wrestling for 45 minutes over the procedures in street improvements.

In the midst of the confusion Commissioner Robert Kuhn observed in consternation, "We've left a two-inch drop off in the middle of the road!"

★ ★ ★

Manager William Devereaux had a snappy explanation for the urgency of new paving.

"A Volkswagen fell into one of the chuck holes the other day and disappeared," he said in the best Walter K. Willman tradition.

Popping up and down in the audience, Judy Fitzpatrick, 16, of 124 Mary Day St. had some strong opinions to offer on the basis of her job as urban renewal coordinator.

SPLIT VOTE

Confronted with the first of two that were actually passed in Pontiac ordinance proposals based on laws in the 19th Century, the young Commission decided in a split vote to set a speed limit of 6 m.p.h. for horses.

But a measure to outlaw geese in the streets stumped them.

"Pigeons are a bigger problem," challenged Barry Redmond, 18, of 217 Fortress, Waterford Township, in the audience as water superintendent.

"Refer it to the city manager," Mayor Fritz decided. At the end there were controversial proposals to close retail stores on Sunday and up the Auburn Avenue speed limits to 65 m.p.h.

★ ★ ★

But the young commission had it down pat by now. Everything was referred to the administration for study and the meeting ended.

Jones, Cawley Among AAU Favorites

NEW YORK — Pontiac's Hayes Jones opens defense of his 120-yard high hurdle championship Saturday in the National AAU Track and Field Championships at Randalls Island.

Another Oakland County competitor, Rex Cawley of Farmington, is one of the favorites in the 440-yard low hurdles. Cawley may be hampered by a leg injury that kept the University of Southern California star out of the NCAA meet last weekend.

Jones won his specialty in the 1960 meet while preparing for the Olympic Games. He was undefeated on the indoor cinders last winter and has taken first in his three outdoor starts this year.

Twenty titles will be decided in the two-day meet and the plum for the first and second finisher in each event (except the 220 low hurdles and the 2-mile walk) is a spot on the team that will invade Russia, West Germany, England and Poland for Olympic-quality meets next month.

ABC will televise Saturday's program from 4 p.m. to 6 p.m. (EST).

Burleson, who four weeks ago set an American record of 3:07.6, never has beaten the 26-year-old Beatty in three tries. He warmed up with a 4:00.5 jog at the NCAA championships last week and said he's ready for 3:56.

Beatty has a 3:58 to his credit, but is not primarily a miler. He usually sticks to longer distances. The world mile record is 3:54.5 by Herb Elliott.

The schedule calls for eight finals, plus trials in the 440, 880 and mile Saturday with the remaining 12 finals on Sunday. Eleven champions are back, but one, Jim Grelle in the mile, is switching to the 3-mile or steeplechase.

★ ★ ★

A team title also will be decided with the Southern California striders—composed mainly of University of Southern California aces, plus a sprinkling of graduates—the top-heavy favorite.

Teeing Off

By BILL CORNWELL

Chubby Bob Rosburg, one of the steadiest performers on the PGA tour, stoutly insists that his full-fingered grip is better for many average golfers than the conventional overlapping method.

"I'm not advocating my type of grip for everyone because grip, swing, stance and other fundamentals must be adapted to fit the individual's needs and each player is different," Rosburg said.

"But I do maintain that a lot of people who are now using the overlapping grip would be better off with the full-fingered method because it's more workable if you have small or weak hands," Rosburg declared.

It's Rosburg's contention that many players using the overlapping grip, as it is sometimes called—do not have big enough or strong enough hands to make it work.

Rosburg is gaining a bit of support from some of his fellow pros on the PGA circuit. Some of the younger tourists are already using the Rosburg-style grip and a few of the old-timers also lean support.

According to Rosburg, one of his backers is veteran Jimmy Demaret. "Demaret told me that if he were starting his career all over again, he'd use the full-fingered grip," claimed Rosburg.

★ ★ ★

"I myself have small hands," said Rosburg as he showed newsmen his delicate - looking hands (they looked like a good commercial for a mild liquid detergent). "and I'm convinced I wouldn't be able to keep up with these boys off the tee with the overlapping method."

"What's the advantage of the full-fingered grip,?" he was asked. "It allows you to have all five fingures plus both hands resting fully on the shaft," Rosburg replied.

"For a person with small or weak hands, this grip enables him to put more power into his shot," he continued.

"It's an especially good grip for women players," Rosburg said. "Most women have either small or weak hands and the overlapping grip deprives them of added distance because it removes strength they can't afford to lose," he added.

★ ★ ★

Rosburg's grip often has been called a baseball-bat grip, but he says that's an erroneous term. "Actually, it's not a baseball-bat grip at all because my left thumb is on the shaft," he pointed out.

"I guess you could call it an unlapped grip," Rosburg said. "A few have used that term and it's also correct."

Harry Vardon devised the overlapping method and it was designed to prevent too much right hand and thus insure equal strength in each hand.

"Vardon had big, strong hands, however." Rosburg stated, "and for him it was a very logical grip. But it's not a sensible grip for me because it sacrifices some of my hand strength, which is limited at the start."

Rosburg has acquired a number of disciples, both players and teachers. The way I've been playing golf lately, he may get a new one.

NATIONAL OPEN NOTES

When Doug Sanders slumped down in his chair for an interview with newsmen after finishing 2nd to Gene Littler in the U.S. Open at Oakland Hills, he smiled faintly and said, "somebody bring me a crying towel."

★ ★ ★

Al Watrous has now played in all four Opens at Oakland Hills, three as host pro, and at the age of 62 he was the oldest player by far in the big show last weekend . . . Littler picked 284 or 285 as the winning total in the Open, then afterwards quipped, "I'm glad I didn't shoot that score" . . . Upwards of 48,000 spectators attended the three-day bonanza, a new all-time record for the USGA event.

Lightly Regarded Pair in Golf Final

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP) — Karen Schull and Judy Hoetmer, both known for their ability to keep opponents under pressure, squared off today in the final of the 17th annual Women's Intercollegiate golf tourney at the University of Michigan.

★ ★ ★

Karen, 22, a 1961 graduate of Kansas, and Judy, the 20-year-old daughter of a Seattle, Wash., pro, each advanced to the finals Thursday with a combination of good golf and stubborn determination.

Karen upset defending champion Joann Gunderson of Arizona State University, 4 and 2. Judy, a Washington junior, eliminated Susan Meerdink, an 18-year-old Arizona State freshman, 4 and 3.

The two finalists were both lightly regarded at the outset of the tourney and meet today in match play for the first time.

Grain Future Market Slow to Make Move

CHICAGO (AP)—The grain futures market showed little tendency to move in either direction as dealings started off draggy today on the board of trade.

Except for July soybeans, which moved up a cent or more all contracts shifted only minor fractions from previous closes. However, most of the changes were toward the plus side during the first several minutes. Wheat eased.

Brokers said the government report after the close of trading yesterday that farmers had placed a record 611½ million bushels of corn in the load program apparently have little influence in the trade.

Defense Budget Approved Intact

Committee Sends Bill to Floor of House for Debate Starting July 1

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy's beefed-up defense budget was approved almost to the letter today by the House Appropriations Committee as it painted a dismal picture of world conditions.

★ ★ ★

The committee sent to the House floor for debate a bill providing $42.7 billion in defense funds for the fiscal year starting July 1. The money will expand the Polaris submarine fleet, buy more big bombers and missiles, and finance larger armed forces.

While this was a technical cut of $231 million from the amount requested by the President, a bookkeeping transaction reduced the actual cut to $6.2 million.

It is $2.4 billion more than the military was given by Congress for the current fiscal year.

FOLLOW PROGRAM

In a formal report written by Rep. George Mahon, D-Tex., the committee said it followed the President's defense program closely because of "the worsening world situation.

★ ★ ★

It said it felt that the military strength of the United States was superior to that of the Soviet Union and would remain that way.

"The threat of global war has not lessened," it continued. "The threat of limited war has not lessened. Indeed, it is felt that there has been a general worsening of the international situation since last summer. "The prospect for an early settlement of major world problems is dim. This is a time for firmness, strength and resolution."

Trading Mixed, Market Dull

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market was mixed in very dull trading early today.

Most key stocks showed fractional gains or losses.

★ ★ ★

News of a stimulating nature appeared almost totally lacking and the investment community continued indifferent to whatever shreds of such nature were at hand.

Publicker, Thursday's most active stock, continued in demand as it rose ⅝ to 11¼ on an opening block of 4,000 shares.

Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer snapped back, erasing about 2 points of Thursday's loss of 2⅞ which it took on some adverse publicity.

★ ★ ★

There was no particular group leadership. The tone was slightly higher, however, among aircraft-missiles, electrical equipment and rubbers. An irregular pattern prevailed among steels, motors, oils, nonferrous metals, utilities and rails. Chemicals were a bit lower on balance.

COOKS COOKING — Mary Haack (left), Berkley school food director is shown receiving her "graduating" certificate from Waterford Township's food service director Mrs. Shirley McCoy as Virginia Haywald, Rochester's high school Food Service director looks over a huge pizza pie, about to be popped into the Pierce school oven. More than 40 food service directors from all parts of Oakland, Wayne and St. Clair counties were graduated today after almost one year of cooking instruction.

School Lunches Filling and Good

By REBA HEINTZELMAN

Lunch time in Oakland County schools is no place for those watching their weight. Food administrators produce nutritious lunches with at least 900 calories — just what growing boys and girls need for the noon-time meal.

★ ★ ★

This is the consensus of some 40 adult students who "graduated" today after almost a full year of study at MSUO and a week of practical application at the Waterford Township Pierce Junior High School.

During the week-long workshop the women learned about the emphasis placed on the use of U. S. federal government commodities donated to the school systems.

One of the largest items given the schools is flour. During the week the instructors showed the value of using this item, making tasty pizzas, delicious hot rolls, home-made breads, shortcakes and other flour consuming foods.

OTHER FOODS LISTED

Other foods donated to the school by the government include butter, dry milk and dry whole eggs, used for cooking only, corn meal, rice, canned fruits and vegetables, once in a while ground beef and once a year — turkeys.

For 30 or 35 cents a student may have a typical lunch of pizza or beef barbecue (there's always a second choice with pizza), parsley buttered potatoes, tossed green salad, chocolate cake and milk. Extra milk is provided as it only costs the school systems 2 cents per half pint.

More and more parents and children are enjoying the luxury of purchasing hot lunches in the schools, according to Mrs. McCoy. "About 80 per cent of Pierce Junior High School students buy their lunches, and 1,326 lunches are served daily in the township's school system."

Of the three-quarter of a million lunches served in the township schools annually, there is only about a two per cent profit.

"School lunches are supposed to be a nonprofit activity," Mrs. McCoy explained. "We would rather spend any extra money on other nutritious foods, and maintain well-trained employes for efficient operation, than make a larger profit," she added.

Announce Bids on Road Jobs

Birmingham Firm Is Lowest on Project for Wayne County

Low bidders for four highway building and road improvement projects in Oakland County were announced in Lansing yesterday, and a Birmingham firm proved low bidder on a project in Wayne County.

★ ★ ★

State Highway Commissioner John C. Mackie announced low bidders on 45 construction projects in the state totaling $14,808,683.

Sargent Construction Co. of Saginaw submitted a low bid of $2,548,450 for construction of 5.4 miles of the new Interstate 696 in Southern Oakland County from the intersection of the I96 (Grand River) freeway in Novi Township to the intersection with Orchard Lake road in Farmington Township.

The Western Coustruction Co. of Warren proved low bidder with $320,571 for construction of 3 miles of I696 from Orchard Lake road in Farmington Township east to Franklin Road in Southfield, including a grade separation at Middlebelt Road.

★ ★ ★

Max Frisinger of Ann Arbor submitted a low bid of $29,376 for the paving at the intersection of I96 and Orchard Lake Road (M218) in Farmington Township.

Other five miles of resurfacing on U.S. 10 southeast and northwest of Pontiac will be done by the Detroit Asphalt Paving Co. of Detroit and the Ann Arbor Construction Co. of Ann Arbor. They submitted a joint low bid of $334,551.

The Taylor Brothers of Birmingham submitted a bid of $304,321 for 1½ miles of grading, drainage structures and paving on Huron River Drive east of Belleville.

Pontiac Man Hurt in Two-Car Collision

A 25-year-old Pontiac man suffered a fractured kneecap in a two-car accident early today on State Street south of Henderson Street.

★ ★ ★

Raymond Tick, 679 Lookout Drive was reported in satisfactory condition at Pontiac General Hospital.

His car collided head-on with a parked car.

Tick told Pontiac police he had crossed the center lane of the street to pass another car which had signaled for a turn.

★ ★ ★

Two occupants of the other car — Jerry L. Bellows, 18, of 136 Mechanic St., and Willa K. Butler, 18, 185 State St. — were treated and released at the hospital.

Father Wounds His Daughter by Accident

A Pontiac Township man accidentally shot his 4-year-old daughter yesterday in the left foot while firing a 22-caliber rifle at rats near his rabbit hutch in the backyard.

★ ★ ★

The girl, Patricia Lyn Schneider of 2424 Allerton Road, was reported in satisfactory condition today at Pontiac General Hospital. Doctors had removed the bullet.

★ ★ ★

Her father, Robert Schneider, told sheriff's deputies the bullet must have ricocheted off a rock before striking the girl standing nearby.

Dominican President Guarantees Free Press

NEW YORK (UPI)—The Dominican Republic, whose newspapers were previously under strict control of slain dictator Generalissimo Rafael Trujillo, has now pledged to allow freedom of the press.

★ ★ ★

In a message received by the Inte-American Press Association (IAPA) Thursday, Joaquin Balaguer, president of the Republic, made this pledge and said also that "the Dominican journalists now living abroad may return whenever they wish with full guarantees."

Gives GOP Side of Federal Aid

Elliott Claims Some Aspects Kept Under Wraps by State Dems

In reply to a charge made by his Democratic counterpart, Republican County Chairman Arthur G. Elliott Jr. said "certain undesirable aspects" of two rejected federal aid bills had been kept under wraps by Democrats and Gov. John B. Swainson.

★ ★ ★

Elliott said the two bills—a $20-million federal package for aid to dependent children and a $5-million federal bill to regulate billboards on interstate roads—illustrated "the direct relationship between federal aid and federal control."

Elliott made his remarks in reply to charges of "GOP political sabotage" by Democratic Chairman James M. Ginn, who accused GOP lawmakers of "the biggest giveaway in the history of Michigan" in turning down the bills.

According to Elliott, the federal aid to dependent children bill would have:

—Eliminated Michigan's present one-year residency requirement for ADC. Under the federal law "anyone could have moved into the state and started collecting," he said.

—Placed county welfare employes under state civil service—either that or they would have been fired and replaced by new civil service workers.

—Posed grave financial risk for the state. The federal bill was for only 12 months duration. "We would have been placed in the position of setting up a new class of civil service employes on the basis of federal aid—but with no guarantee federal aid would be available a year from now," Elliott said.

Grants Ruling Stay on Red Registration

WASHINGTON (AP) —Justice Frankfurter of the Supreme Court granted today a stay of effectiveness of the court's decision that the Communist party must register as a tool of Moscow.

The stay was granted after the party filed a petition asking the high court to reconsider its decision, announced June 5.

★ ★ ★

The court is now in summer adjournment. It's order to lower courts to make the ruling effective, was scheduled for issuance today. Frankfurter's stay defers it until the justices act on the petition for reconsideration. Thus the June 5 decision likely will remain ineffective until at least Oct. 9.

NEGATIVE STAND

Communist party officials declared after the June 5 decision that they did not plan to register with the Justice Department. Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy said proceedings against the party would be started Aug. 9. Frankfurter's stay also has the effect of deferring this Justice Department action.

★ ★ ★

His deferment was opposed by the Justice Department, explained to him in a memorandum.

Frankfurter was the author of the June-5 decision. It upheld the constitutionality of the 1950 Subversive Activities Control Act.

★ ★ ★

Counsel for the Communist party, in their petition for reconsideration, said that the Supreme Court's decision "on the basis of legislative findings without regard to the record facts and findings, destroys the protection of the first amendment. It permits the legislature to outlaw any dissident political group simply by making opprobrious findings."

ELISABETH S. LOUNSBURY

Worthy of special recognition in the history of Pontiac is Miss Elisabeth S. Lounsbury, Oakland County's first woman supervisor.

She also had the distinction of being the only woman in Michigan elected to a place as county supervisor at that time.

An article in a 1920 edition of The Pontiac Press concerning Miss Lounsbury reads — "Here is a tribute to Oakland County's only woman supervisor — Miss Elisabeth S. Lounsbury of the first ward, Pontiac. She enjoyed the novelty of being the only woman in a gathering of 30 supervisors.

"Miss Lounsbury has just finished the three weeks' October sessions. Hers was a different position, and I doubt if one woman in a hundred could have adapted herself to it and taken as keen an interest in county affairs as did the representative from the first ward.

★ ★ ★

"She was not the least bit backward about expressing her opinions and on all questions took an emphatic stand on one side or the other."

After serving two years Miss Lounsbury was automatically retired from office with the advent of the new city commission form of government and new city charter.

Miss Lounsbury loves to tell about her experiences as supervisor. She said as a woman she usually had the last word.

A graduate of Miss Liggett's Home and Day School in Detroit in 1904, she was active in the Daughters of the American Revolution and has served on the city election board.

★ ★ ★

The granddaughter of Col. S. E. Beach, she has the genealogical record tracing her family back to Gov. William Bradford of Plymouth, Mass.

Miss Lounsbury's father, Robert J. Lounsbury, was a city attorney. He served several terms as mayor of Pontiac.
