FOUR KILLED IN SMASHUP — A Birmingham couple, Mr. and Mrs. Jack S. Fleet, was among four persons killed when this car was hit broadside by another vehicle in Wayne County early yesterday morning. The Nankin Township accident also took the lives of Mrs. Sylvia Redman of Redford Township and Richard Targus of Detroit, driver of the other car. Mrs. Redman and her husband, John C., who is in critical condition, were passengers in Fleet's car.

Area Couple Killed in Crash

Two Others Dead in Nankin Twp. Collision

A Birmingham couple, parents of a young son, was killed in a Wayne County automobile accident early yesterday morning.

Jack S. Fleet, 31, and his 26-year-old wife Marilyn K., 1005 Northlawn, were dead on arrival at St. Mary's Hospital in Livonia following the 1:49 a.m. accident in Nankin Township.

The two-car collision at Middle Belt and Joy roads took the lives of four persons and left one in critical condition at the hospital.

A passenger in Fleet's car, Mrs. Sylvia Redman, 31, of Redford Township, was killed. Her husband John C., 36, was critically injured.

Also killed was the driver of the other car, Richard J. Targus, 18, of Detroit.

HITS BROADSIDE
Police said Targus' car rammed the other vehicle broadside.

One of the drivers apparently ran a stop light, but police were unable to determine which was at fault.

Fleet was a sales engineer for Aerquip Corp. of Jackson, Miss. He was a teacher at City and Country School of Bloomfield Hills.

Dem Unit Calls for Tax Reform

EAST LANSING (AP)—The Council called for immediate fiscal reform yesterday — but refused to hold the Democratic controlled Legislature to a timetable.

The policy-level group endorsed the key elements in a tax plan proposed for possible enactment next year by House Speaker Joseph Kowalski, D-Detroit — as did the executive board of the State AFL-CIO Friday.

In a meeting at Michigan State University, the group also backed a graduated state income tax, blasted Republican Gov. George Romney on several counts and commended the Legislature for its record this year.

Fiscal reform, including an income tax, has been a plank in the state Democratic platform, and Democratic State Chairman Zolton Ferency has often been at odds with lawmakers of his own party on the issue of tax changes this year.

Ferency, however, has been silent on the issue since Kowalski issued his plan last Thursday as a counter proposal to a bipartisan plan backed by Romney.

BIPARTISAN PLAN
The bipartisan plan is based on a three per cent personal income tax, a five per cent levy on corporations and financial institutions, and repeal of the business activities tax.

It grants sales and use tax relief, as well as modifying some of the intangibles taxes. It also would impose a three-cent-a-pack tax on cigarettes.

It calls for action this fall to start all but the cigarette tax in 1967. The latter would take effect July 1, 1968. The package would yield some $150 million annually in new revenue.

Kowalski countered by saying the state does not need an income tax now, and may not need one for some time.

PROFITS TAX
He proposed replacing the business activities tax with a profits tax — reportedly between 3 and 5 1/2 per cent — and a reduction of the beer tax — reportedly by about $11 million a year.

Party sources estimated the package would yield $55 million to $60 million a year in new revenue.

Kowalski also backed a popular vote on a constitutional amendment to allow a graduated state income tax — instead of the flat-rate levy now demanded by the constitution.

"The council believes this is an appropriate time to work out a major overhaul of the state's tax structure, based on equity, flexibility and ability to pay — including an income tax on corporations, financial institutions and persons," a statement said.

"Now, nine months later, he has proposed a program," it added.

Romney has repeatedly refused to present a program of his own — saying it could be opposed by the Legislature.

LEAVE PAKISTAN — American servicemen help Mrs. Marie Shaw and her children of Sacramento, Calif., from a transport plane that brought them today to Manila from Pakistan. The plane carried American families evacuated from East Pakistan in view of the worsening armed conflict with India.

Peace in 48 Hours Demanded by U.N.

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—The U.N. Security Council demanded today that India and Pakistan order a cease-fire in 48 hours.

The council voted 10-0 in a postmidnight session to adopt a resolution in those terms strengthening its unanimous cease-fire appeals of Sept. 4 and 6. Jordan abstained.

The resolution, sponsored by the Netherlands, gave an implied warning to Communist China to stay out of the India-Pakistan fighting. It called on "all states to refrain from any action which might aggravate the situation in the area."

Peking has extended until Wednesday an ultimatum to India to dismantle China-Sikkim border fortifications or face "grave consequences."

Security Council delegates had stood by for more than 15 hours while J. G. De Beus of the Netherlands wrenched agreement on the wording from the United States, the Soviet Union, Britain and France.

U.S. Ambassador Arthur J. Goldberg, council president for September, helped De Beus in the negotiations and telephoned President Johnson at least once.

The resolution did not contain what Secretary-General U. Thant had suggested — an implied threat to invoke coercive provisions of the U.N. Charter unless India and Pakistan complied. But it left the way open for such action if the council deems it necessary.

Stronger than the two previous resolutions, it asked Thant to help "ensure supervision of the cease-fire and withdrawal." It also asked him to "exert every possible effort to give effect to this resolution," and to report back.

The resolution said that, after a cease-fire and withdrawal, the council would consider "what steps could be taken to assist toward a settlement of the political problem underlying the present conflict."

300 FEET FROM SHORE
It also recommends that boats stay 300 feet from shore except when proceeding at a "slow — no wake" speed or when picking up or dropping off water skiers as long as this is done with due regard for safety of persons and property.

A fine up to $100 and/or imprisonment up to 90 days was recommended for violators.

Shastri Says Peking Is After Control of Asia

'Not Seeking Redress of Grievances but an Excuse for Hostility'

NEW DELHI, India (AP)—Prime Minister Lal Bahadur Shastri declared today Communist Chinese troops are firing across the Indian frontier in two sectors and that Peking is out to dominate all of Asia.

The Chinese, though pretending they want peace, have started firing in the Sikkim area on the eastern front and in the Ladakh region of Kashmir State on the western front, Shastri said.

China's "basic objective," Shastri said, "is to attain a position of dominance in Asia."

The prime minister declared that notes and protests from Peking make it clear that:

"What China is looking for is not the redress of grievances, real or imaginary, but some excuse to start its aggressive activities again, this time in collusion with its ally Pakistan."

WILL DEFEND
If China persists, Shastri said, "We shall defend ourselves by all the means at our disposal."

Socialist leader N. P. Malhotra, who had been ordered to flee India, said he would resist them; we will fight them," Shastri replied.

Shastri made no reply to the resolution passed earlier today by the U.N. Security Council in New York, demanding India and Pakistan end their war within 48 hours.

SPEAK TOMORROW
The resolution deserves the Indian government's most careful consideration, Shastri said, adding he might make a statement tomorrow on the U.N. move.

Shastri, addressing Parliament, then touched on China's charge that India constructed illegally 55 military posts on the Sikkim border in neighboring Chinese territory.

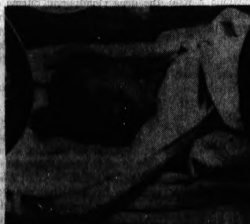

If the posts stand in Chinese territory, he said, why can't the Chinese tear them down? If India sent troops to do the job as China demands, it would mean violating Chinese territory, he said.

India's Defense Ministry announced earlier that Chinese troops had moved close to "all the passes" on Tibet's border with Sikkim, an Indian protectorate, and that Pakistan also is massing troops on India's eastern frontier.

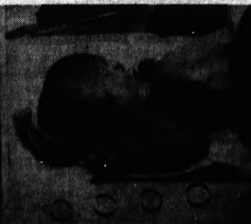

TROOPS CLOSE
The ministry said latest reports indicated "Chinese troops have come quite close to all the passes on the Sikkim border. In some cases, they have been seen to be digging in."

The claims of Chinese firing came from 670 miles to the southeast, in Sikkim.

2 Forest Fires Still Burning

California Crews Remain Optimistic

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — After days of battling forest and brush fires which have blackened 207,000 acres of Northern California, weary fire fighters were optimistic today as one of two major fires remaining was partly contained.

Fire crews were able to contain the more than 16,000-acre Chiles Valley fire on its north and west sides. Its south and west flanks were reported still out of control.

The fire in Napa County about 40 miles northeast of San Francisco, burned around summer homes near Atlas Creek but did not damage the structures which were watered down by State Division of Forestry pumper trucks.

In Sonoma County about 45 miles north of San Francisco, a hot fire was reported marching on scattered summer homes near Austin Creek, west of the mountain settlement of Cazadero, a spokesman said. The fire already had wasted 6,000 acres of grassland and tall timber.

WORST IN HISTORY

All other fires were reported either under control or expected soon to be contained in the searing disaster foresters have called the worst in Northern California history.

Officials said that since the fires started last Thursday, there have been 275 fires in 21 counties, reducing to ashes the cover on more than 315 square miles.

The fires have cost one life, an Alameda County volunteer fireman killed in his overturned truck; destroyed more than 120 houses, about 400 other buildings and 1,500 head of cattle, sheep and hogs. Damage has been estimated at about $4.5 million.

Five counties hardest hit by the sweep of flames fought by 5,000 men were designated disaster areas Saturday by Gov. Edmund G. Brown.

Four of the counties — Marin, Napa, Sonoma and Solano — surround San Francisco Bay on the north. The other, Placer County, is in the Sierra foothills east of the California capital, Sacramento.

Afterward the new Mrs. Becker affectionately hugged her husband who hadn't seen her that day until the ceremony.

"You've been kinda lonesome today, haven't you?" Then the tears came.

155 Cong Said Killed by U.S. Paratroopers

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (U) — U.S. paratroopers killed 155 Viet Cong in bloody fighting near Ban Khe over the weekend, military authorities said today.

An officer who came here from the fighting area 250 miles to the north said 100 Viet Cong bodies were found today in a trench. They apparently were victims of air strikes that saturated the operational area in support of paratroopers of the 101st Airborne Brigade.

The report came while the 101st "Screaming Eagle" paratroopers kept up sporadic contact with the Viet Cong today and paratroopers of the 183rd Airborne Brigade continued their hunt for Viet Cong in the jungles and rubber plantations around Ban Cat, 30 miles north of Saigon.

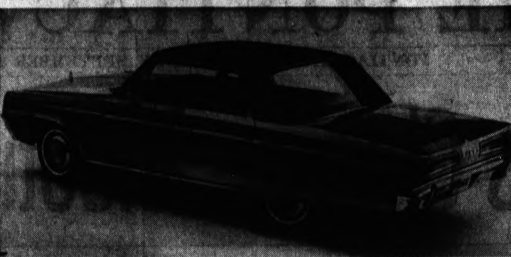

While American paratroopers were in action in two widely separated areas, a spokesman said U.S. Strategic Air Command B-52 bombers again pounded a suspected guerrilla stronghold in still a third region, the Mekong River delta south of Saigon.

With the American military commitment in South Viet Nam growing steadily, there appeared to be a definite step-up in U.S.-initiated actions designed to carry the war to the Viet Cong.

WEEK'S OPERATION

The 173rd Paratroopers now have been operating for almost a week in an area just north of Saigon that long has been denied to government forces by strong Viet Cong elements.

Seven Viet Cong have been killed, three wounded and 25 taken so far in the 173rd Operation, which is supported by Vietnamese, New Zealand and Australian troops, a U.S. military spokesman said.

DODGE DEBUT — Dodge Division's Polara and Monaco made their debut today, with a total of 13 models offered in the two series. The 4-door hardtop shown above heads the Polara line, one of four Dodge series offered for 1966.

Spaceport Picketers Vacate Four Gates

CAPE KENNEDY (UPI) — Hundreds of moon-port construction workers returned to their jobs today after striking Boeing Co. Missile mechanics removed pickets from four of five space center entrances.

The Army Corps of Engineers estimated that about 90 per cent of the building tradesmen would be at their jobs later today, ending the eighth major construction work stoppage at the cape within 20 months.

"The situation looks real encouraging," said a spokesman for the corps, overseer of the $204 million in space building now under way.

The strikers, members of the International Association of Machinists (AFM-CIO), were picketing only the south entrance to the Merritt Island moon-port in compliance with a government order issued Friday.

It told all Boeing personnel to use one entrance and told the strikers to picket at that gate only.

OTHER ENTRANCES

Most of the center's construction workers were returning to their jobs through other entrances.

About half of the 3,500-man building tradesmen at the cape refused to cross the picket lines last Thursday and Friday. The walkout crippled key construction projects at the huge project Apollo men-to-the-moon base.

Nearly all Boeing's machinists were away from work but the company's Minuteman-2 missile testing work was proceeding with supervisory personnel. Other rocket projects were not seriously affected.

The strike was called Thursday when negotiations for a new contract fell through, largely because of a job security dispute. Bargaining talks were scheduled to resume today at Boeing headquarters in Seattle.

REMOVE BARRIERS

The Air Force and National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA) issued the on-gate directive Friday in an effort to remove most of the barriers for the construction workers.

Governors to Air Nuclear Projects, Budget Topics

MACKINAC ISLAND (AP) — Budgeting problems and plans to bring more nuclear research and development projects to the Midwest were scheduled as primary topics at the Midwestern Governors' Conference opening here today.

Michigan Gov. George Romney hosts the conference, expected to be attended by Govs. James A. Rhodes of Ohio, Harold E. Hughes of Iowa, Karl E. Rolvaag of Minnesota, Frank B. Morrison of Nebraska, Nils B. of South Dakota, Otto Kerner of Illinois, William H. Avery of Kansas and Warren E. Hearnes of Missouri.

The two other members of the conference are Govs. Roger D. Branigan of Indiana and Warren P. Knowles of Wisconsin. Branigan said he was undecided about attending and Knowles is touring Europe.

The three-day meeting is the largest number of governors to meet in Michigan since a similar conference was held on this resort island in 1945.

The medical director explained that the idea for the invitation grew out of participation by osteopathic physicians in a series of weekly medical meetings sponsored by the County Health Department.

Monthly medical lectures, featuring visits by visiting medical authorities in specific clinical and research areas, have recently been initiated by the medical staffs of Pontiac State and Pontiac General hospitals.

WORKING TOGETHER The staffs of both hospitals are also joining in the creation of medical research center to be housed in converted facilities at Pontiac State Hospital.

Two years ago a move by medical doctors for a combined staff of doctors of medicine and osteopathy at the projected Avon Township branch of Crittenton General Hospital was rejected by osteopathic physicians.

The combined staff had been approved by the Oakland County Medical Society.

Osteopaths rejected the proposal because of "the numerous restrictions and the lack of official presentation of the plan . . . to the osteopathic profession."

Local osteopaths were supported in their position by their county society and the Michigan Association of Osteopathic Physicians and Surgeons.

The couple has two other children.

Dodge Unveils Lines for '66

Curtain Is Opened on Monaco, Polara

Six models in the deluxe Monaco series and seven in the economy-class Polara line were given a send-off for 1966 today by Dodge Division, Chrysler Motors Corp.

Polara models range from a 2-door hardtop to a 9-passenger station wagon while the Monaco line is headed by the 500, a 2-door sports hardtop aiming for comfort and style in the medium-price range.

Both series go on sale Sept. 30 at the following area dealers:

Spartan Dodge, Inc., 855 Oakland; Patterson of Rochester; Hunter Dodge, 499 S. Hunter, Birmingham; and Kessler's Dodge, 10 N. Washington, Oxford.

Major innovation in both the Monaco and Polara is Chrysler's new 330-horsepower, 440-cubic inch V-8 engine.

The new power plant, an improved version of the 413-cubic inch engine of last year, is designed to improve acceleration response, particularly in a 50 to 70 mile an hour passing situation.

Standard power for the two lines comes in V-8s of 318 and 363-cubic-inch displacement.

LUXURY OPTIONS Luxury options for Monaco include a tilt-and-telescoping steering wheel, allowing the driver to select a comfortable position and to vary it during a long trip.

Polara offers a safety feature designed to prevent accidental shifting into reverse.

The 4-speed manual transmission shift lever has a lockout device which must be disengaged with a T-shaped handle before reaching reverse gear.

Automatic transmissions carry a pushbutton release at the end of the lever which must be used before shifting to any other gear but neutral and drive.

Monaco models have the same gear-selector levers along with an optional tachometer mounted in the front section of the console.

Playground Site Seen as Remedy on Parking

BIRMINGHAM — The possibility of utilizing Booth playground as a temporary parking lot will be discussed at the City Commission meeting tonight. City Manager R. S. Kenning has suggested the playground be used for the cars which will be displaced during construction of the city's first parking ramp.

The parking structure will be built on the L-shaped lot fronting Woodward and Willis. Construction is to start sometime in January.

Kenning has investigated the playground at Harmon and Woodward as a temporary relocation site.

"The use of the playground during the summer would necessitate some relocation of recreation activities," he noted.

LIMITED PARKING

Parking would have to be limited to days when the ground was either frozen or dry so the cars would not do extensive damage to the playground.

"Parking could be further limited to only those periods during which other city lots are closed," he said.

SPECIFIC ISSUE

The group also took specific issue with the Romney-backed plan on four counts. They were:

1. "Failure to deal equitably, fairly and humanely with the needs of those in lower income groups, and with consumers."

2. The $600 personal exemption granted under the proposed income tax. "Equity and the ability to pay require that . . . there be an exemption of at least $1,000 per person," it said.

3. The imposition of the state income tax levies on top of local income taxes, calling for state administration of all of them.

4. The cigarette tax, described as "an unfair burden that strikes at the consumer."

CONFIDENCE VOTE

With Kowalski and Senate majority leader Raymond Dandziedl, D-Detroit, present, the group gave the Legislature a vote of confidence, saying:

"We have complete confidence that the Democratic Legislature has the competency, imagination and willingness immediately to formulate and enact an equitable program based on the long-advocated Democratic principles of adequacy, flexibility and ability to pay, designed to produce the revenues needed for progress, and granting relief to the property owner, the farmer, the small businessman and the least advantaged among us."

The group, with 600 tons of chlorine aboard in four steel tanks, was sunk by the hurricane in 60 feet of water near the Louisiana State campus.

Chlorine, a common industrial chemical, can be extremely dangerous if accidentally released from a pressure tank.

In New Orleans, the Small Business Administration announced it had received applications for long term loans from more than 4,000 residents of the New Orleans area.

UAW Raps Blue's Plan for Rate Hike

LANSING (AP) — The United Auto Workers Union today opposed a 5.75 per cent rate increase sought by Michigan Blue Cross and called for "control measures to avoid needless increases in costs" of hospital care.

Melvin A. Glasser, director of the UAW's social security department, warned "the rate increase being proposed can only be viewed as a temporary expedient" and that similar requests would be made "again and again in the coming years."

Glasser testified at a hearing on the rate-hike request before State Insurance Commissioner Allen L. Mayerson.

"Too little evidence is available to indicate that, in fact, the communities' interest in controlling hospital costs is being vigorously protected by Blue Cross," he said.

Dr. Anderson delivered the first of Mrs. Pigge's quadruplets, male physicians the other three. He gave them a 50-50 chance to survive.

Mother Took Treatment

Drug Cause Quads?

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Ten months ago Alice Pigge took a fertility drug — not to become pregnant but to cure a woman's disorder.

Today she has quadruplets. The first children, two boys and two girls, were born a month prematurely Sunday at Los Angeles County General Hospital.

The babies, weighing a total of nine pounds and listed in critical condition, were placed in incubators.

The birth of Mrs. Pigge's quadruplets was the second set born in the United States in as many days. On Saturday, Mrs. Edna Sibiga, 45, Plainfield, N.J., gave birth to that city to three girls and a boy.

The Sibiga quads ranged in weight at birth from 3 pounds, 12 ounces to 4 pounds, 7 ounces. They were placed in incubators in a Plainfield hospital and were in satisfactory condition.

The couple has two other children.

Mrs. Pigge, 5 feet 2 inches of average build, was reported in fair condition but cheerful — and insisted on having her hair combed before interviewers dropped in. She is a Mississippi-born resident of Los Angeles.

Dr. Milton Smale, the hospital's chief resident physician in obstetrics, said that last November Mrs. Pigge had taken the drug clomiphene citrate on the advice of her attending physician, Dr. Richard Taw, who operates the hospital's bleeding clinic. The medication corrected her irregularity.

In January she became pregnant.

"The drug may have caused the multiple birth, as it has done in other cases," Dr. Smale said. "The possibility that it did not is in the fact that she took the drug in November but did not become pregnant until January."

He said the medication is used in treating irregularity but is best known as a treatment for infertility. "It is primarily a drug used to cause ovulation," he said.

A Swedish woman who bore quadruplets last July had received the same hormone, Dr. Smale said, and a New Zealand woman who had quadruplets had received the drug.

General Hospital records list Mrs. Pigge's husband as James Pigge and say the couple is now separated.

REDUCE ODDS Dr. Gale Anderson, the hospital's chief physician of obstetrics and gynecology, said fertility drugs will sharply reduce former odds of 750,000-to-1 odds against quadruplets.

"We're going to see more and more of this," he said. "Under drug therapy, the incidence of quadruplets is going to change materially."

Dr. Anderson delivered the first of Mrs. Pigge's quadruplets, male physicians the other three. He gave them a 50-50 chance to survive.

Married Life Begins at 79 for Bachelor

"I'm glad I got her!" The anxious but clearly delighted prospective bridegroom chatted about his bride minutes before their nuptials.

It was a simple ceremony, and only one among numerous area couples pledging vows Saturday. But for Carl Becker and Mrs. Ethel Lee it was a momentous occasion.

Becker, an alert 79 years old, had been a bachelor; his bride is 51.

Apparently in excellent health, the two were wed by Rev. Tom Malone of Emmanuel Baptist Church in the Lakesview Convalescent Home where both will continue to reside.

No Letup in Sight for Busy Congress

WASHINGTON (AP)—Congress, speeding past another of its hoped-for adjournment dates, plunges into a busy week today with no letup in sight.

There was a time when the members thought they would be home by mid-September; now the optimists talk about mid-October, but not very loudly.

A prediction that President Johnson may run into a congressional revolt came Sunday from Sen. Allen J. Ellender, D-La., and Senate Republican leader Everett M. Dirksen said Congress wouldn't get home for a long time if the administration brings up its proposal to repeal section 14B of the Taft-Hartley Act. The section allows states to ban union shop agreements.

Interviewed on CBS' radio-television program "Face the Nation" Dirksen said, "I don't like to use the word filibuster. But if 4B is dished out, I can assure you there is going to be extended discussion."

'WILL REVOLT'

Ellender, in an interview transcribed for Radio Press International, said that if President Johnson "continues to send us a lot of legislation that is controversial and that would have the effect of keeping us here to Christmas, some of us I'm sure will revolt."

The Senate has scheduled action on two of the major bills of the session — a revision of the Immigration laws and a $3.2 billion appropriation for the foreign aid program. Both have cleared the House in different forms.

The House hopes to act on 17 bills, most of them of a minor nature. One, however, is a $2-billion authorization for construction of 144 river, harbor and flood control projects.

Also on the House agenda is a bill that would require the Alfred I. duPont estate in Florida, which owns a complex of banks and industries, to divest itself of its nonbanking properties.

LITTLE TROUBLE

Despite the sweeping nature of the proposed changes in immigration policy, little trouble is anticipated in getting Senate approval.

The main controversy—whether to impose an immigration ceiling on the Western Hemisphere—was fought out in committee. A ceiling of 120,000 was written into the bill and there apparently will be no effort to remove it.

The issue was strongly contested in the House, which at the administration's insistence kept a ceiling off. The administration quickly capitulated to advocates of a ceiling in the Senate, however.

The main effect of the bill would be to end the 41-year-old system of basing immigration on the nationality of applicants. Instead, these countries outside the Western Hemisphere, which are now assigned individual quotas, would be treated equally under a total quota of 170,000.

EXPECTED TO ACCEPT

In view of the collapse of administration efforts to block a Western Hemisphere ceiling, the House is expected to accept the Senate version when conferees meet to work out a mutually acceptable bill.

The Senate's foreign aid bill would give the administration $92 million less than the House appropriated for foreign aid, a marked departure from recent years when the Senate was counted on to restore deeper cuts made by the House.

Back up on the House Calendar are three bills that threatened difficulties for the leadership — one increasing the minimum wage to $1.75 an hour and greatly increasing its coverage, one granting home rule to the District of Columbia, and one granting big pay raises to federal workers — including members of Congress. Still in committee is the highway beautification bill on which the administration is demanding action.

Texas ranked first in the nation in rice production last year, followed by Arkansas, Louisiana and California.

It Seems to Me...

Senator Byrd Calls Repeal of Section 14B Un-American Democratic Senator HARRY F. BYRD is a long-time leader in our Congress and a perennial tower of strength. Recently he issued a statement on the controversial Section 14-B of the Taft-Hartley act.

Said Senator BYRD:

"It is un-American for the Federal Government, by law, literally to force people to join any organization — labor, fraternal, political, religious, or other — as a condition for taking a job."

Here the Virginian interprets our Constitution directly, briefly, succinctly and clearly. In effect, he says you don't have to be a member of the UAW, the Elks, the Republican party or the Methodist Church to accept a job. This truism can't be set forth any more understandably.

Communists, autocrats, dictators and ancient kings told people how to live and what they could and could not do with their private lives. This has no place in a democracy.

U.S. — Vast Waste . . .

There's one permanent and ominous fact I can never accept without a shudder and a deep feeling of futility and inadequacy. Half — get this, 50% — of all the people on this globe currently suffer from hunger and malnutrition.

This seems impossible.

Consider the waste, the idle lands and the groaning storehouses in the United States. And yet one billion, five hundred million men, women and children will go to bed tonight hungry and undernourished. And an unconscionable number will never awaken in the morning: dead from starvation.

Problem Mothers . . .

Surveying 7,000 marriages leads the Rev. Fr. FRANCIS RIPLEY, Catholic Information Office in Liverpool to the conclusion that mothers-in-law are one of the main reasons for broken families.

He holds the husband's mother more culpable than the wife's but they both bear a stigma in the good cleric's estimation. He begs them to adopt a "hands off" attitude and get out of the way — and stay there. He advises young marrieds to live far enough away to prevent mothers from "dropping in" too regularly.

Boys and girls, you're warned. And so are the parents. Be ye hereby guided.

More Science Fiction . . .

The curious phenomena of unidentified flying objects is enjoying a sharp revival.

They're back again. And the believers are vocal.

Several years ago, we experienced a right sharp spell of "authentic reports" that reached from coast to coast and taxed governmental sources. Some 99.999 per cent of all UFO have been classified by authorities as weather balloons, peculiar cloud formations, reflected lights, our own experimental planes and other perfectly logical manifestations of man and nature. But the diehards fight on. They're never convinced.

Some have even written books. Now we witness a revival of the cult and again authorities are busy explaining the "seemingly impossible." The bulk of the evidence indicates overwhelmingly that there are no such things. But human nature is always human nature and we have a small coterie of steadfast believers.

Death Penalty . . .

Occasionally I come across some of our staunchest and most forthright citizens who shake dubious heads at the death penalty. The late Judge A. C. WINBORN summed up the situation very clearly when he said:

"The death penalty is a warning, like a lighthouse. We hear about the shipwrecks but we do not hear about the ships the lighthouse guides safely. We have no proof of the number it saves, but we don't tear the lighthouse down."

Well and ably spoken, sir. The parallel is clear and practically incontrovertible.

And in Conclusion . . .

Jottings from the well-thumbed notebook of your peripatetic reporter:

Overnight buzz from the Miss America contest says DEBBIE BRYANT (the new title holder) will never attend medical school as she plans. Too many theatrical people are wooing her for a variety of roles when her year's up. No "Miss A" in many years has attracted as much attention. . . . NBC promises 90% color this fall, with CBS contributing 50% and ABC 35%. . . . Overheard: "The water shortage is so bad in New York my cousin is teaching his gold fish to walk."

Trusted scouts advise me MARY Boardman deserves mention as one of the area's very attractive young ladies. . . . Rumor persists that Frankie Sinatra will become the head of the Warner Studios shortly. His personal enterprises already gross several million dollars a year. . . . Ed Sullivan's first five shows of the new season will be in color and will originate in Hollywood. Ed plans to give all opposition a stern battle with top names. . . . Jack Nicklaus is taking so much time on the golf courses, opponents, officials and fans are showing displeasure.

From 1957 to 1962 total union membership declined from 17,700,000 to 15,900,000, the last year for which figures are available. . . . Because of the coin shortage, I hear Las Vegas was paying $60 premium for $1,000 in silver half dollars. . . . Our summer tourist trade broke all records from foreign countries, but Washington officials still heard loud and frequent squawks at the high prices. . . . Overheard: "The longest word in our language follows the phrase: 'And now a word from our sponsor.' . . . Dept. of Cheers and Jeers: The C's-GMC's new inter-city bus; the J's-Sports Illustrated Magazine for picking the lions to finish last.

David Lawrence Says:

Fulbright Will Go Undisciplined

WASHINGTON — Sen. J. William Fulbright of Arkansas, chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, studied as a Rhodes scholar in England and must have familiarized himself with the British parliamentary system.

If Fulbright had been a LAWRENCE member of the House of Commons and had made the same kind of speech as he delivered in the Senate the other day — saying, in effect, that the leader of the majority party had bungled in handling a grave international problem — it would have been regarded either as a call for a vote of confidence or no confidence by the people or the removal of the critic himself from the councils of his party.

But political parties in the United States have no such system of discipline. Chairman Fulbright will continue to hold his post as a spokesman of the Democratic party in the Senate on the subject of foreign relations.

Fulbright insists that he wasn't exactly blaming the President for what he regards as a blundering policy in intervening with military force in the Dominican Republic. The senator attributes this instead to "faulty advice" given Mr. Johnson by his advisers at the time of the crisis.

Says Fulbright: "The question of the degree of Communist influence (in the Dominican Republic) is, therefore, crucial, but it cannot be answered with certainty."

WEIGHT OF EVIDENCE "The weight of the evidence is that Communists did not participate in planning the revolution — indeed there is some indication that it took them by surprise — but that they very rapidly began to try to take advantage of it and to seize control of it. The evidence does not establish that the Communists at any time actually had control of the revolution."

"There is little doubt that they had influence within the revolutionary movement but the degree of that influence remains a matter of speculation."

"The point I am making is not — most emphatically not — that there was no Communist participation in the Dominican crisis, but simply that the administration acted on the premise that the revolution was controlled by Communists — a premise which it failed to establish at the time and has not established since."

"Intervention on the basis of Communist participation as distinguished from control of the Dominican revolution was a mistake of panic and timidity which also reflects a grievous misreading of the temper of contemporary Latin American politics."

WAS FAULTY So the Arkansas senator feels that the judgment of President

Johnson, Secretary of State Rusk and the American ambassador who was dodging bullets on the spot in Santo Domingo was, so to speak, "faulty."

Fulbright thinks that the United States shouldn't have landed troops to save American lives or to save Latin America from more of such revolutions but simply should have waited on the sidelines until the Communist mission was actually accomplished.

Would it have been another fiasco like the Bay of Pigs? Only Fulbright knows.

Bob Considine Says:

Ben-Gurion Follows Rule: Unhappy With Successor

TEL AVIV — No leader who ever stepped down, willingly or otherwise, liked any way his successor handled the job.

David Ben-Gurion, who was born nearly 79 years ago as David Green and took the name of a man who fought courageously for freedom against the Romans who ruled this land, is no exception to the rule.

He has made at least two efforts to turn over to his hand-picked ideological heirs the hefty job of seeing to it that this stamp-sized democracy not only sticks to this barren part of the world but grows green and thrives all Arab threats to dump it into the sea.

But, in time, Ben-Gurion's heirs displease him, as the parade of pretenders to the throne of de Gaulle offended big Charlie, Clement Attlee, aggravated Winston Churchill and Ludwig Erhard upsets Konrad Adenauer.

So the combination George Washington and Tom Jefferson of Israel is back in the arena, spry and salty as ever.

SPREADING STORY

His political enemies — many of them old associates who expelled him from his and their party not long ago — are spreading the story that Ben-Gurion is senile, power mad, off his rocker.

He was as frisky and alert as a candidate one third his age when we saw him today.

Ben-Gurion is back in the fray because he still does not like the way "The Affair" has been kicked around as a political football.

We shall not attempt here and now, particularly at these cable rates and the continuing press censorship in Israel, to go into the ramifications of "The Affair." Suffice it to explain that 11 years ago, after Nasser seized the Suez Canal and threatened to dismember Israel to boot, three Egyptian Jews were seized after a clumsy bomb attack on the American Embassy's library in Cairo.

WANTS TO KNOW

The story was that they had responded to some signal from somebody in the Israeli Defense Department to do their drastic deed in the hope that Egypt would appear to be the culprit and this would make John Foster Dulles mad at Egypt.

But who in Israel gave such an order? Ben-Gurion, who had retired at that time, still wants to know, couldn't get his old Mapai party to back a special study he prepared on "The Affair" and thus formed his new party.

As yet it has no rich backers, but it has attracted a wealth of good will.

Lightning has often struck twice for David-Gurion. It could very well continue to defy tradition in his special case.

Treaty Unfair

The Spokesman-Review

Sen. J. William Fulbright, D-Ark., chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, recently announced that his committee had approved a proposed consular treaty with Russia, giving the impression that only one senator opposed it.

However, Sen. Thomas J. Dodd, D-Conn., let it be known that at least five members dissented to the committee's approval of the treaty, which he termed a device to befuddle the American people about the true nature of Communist tyranny.

The treaty would permit expansion of consular offices here and in Russia, with immunity for all officials and employees from criminal prosecution.

Dodd agreed with other dissenters — Frank J. Lausche, D-Ohio; Karl Mundt, R-S.D.; John J. Williams, R-Del., and Bourke B. Hickenlooper, R-Iowa — that the consular agreement would serve as a cover for espionage and subversion.

Fulbright's announcement of committee approval came after a single public hearing from which all witnesses except Secretary of State Dean Rusk

Voice of the People:

'Present Taxes Burden Low Income Families'

Gov. Romney should be asked to stay out of Washington. Apparently he is getting advice from some of Johnson's crackpots. President Johnson so nobly reduced income taxes and excise taxes which benefited some people but not the low income people. In fact, low income families pay more taxes now with the increased Social Security taxes.

Now Gov. Romney offers the same concept — state income tax with reductions in some taxes and a tax credit for sales tax paid, but nothing for the low income families who probably aren't earning enough to pay a state income tax. Where will their sales tax credit come from?

An income tax, properly devised, is the fairest method of taxation, as its basis is ability to pay. We should demand a repeal of the sales tax on food before we allow another tax to be added to the already heavy tax burden. It's quite apparent that our legislators have forgotten all about the Boston Tea Party or why the Pilgrims left England for the New Continent. Maybe a refresher in early American history is in order.

Says Not All Teen-Agers Are Delinquents

It seems that the older people are always saying that teen-agers are juvenile delinquents and that all they do is get in trouble, and are lazy.

A lot of teen-agers volunteered to march against leukemia. That's not being lazy. It's usually teen-agers who are brought up wrong or disrespect their parents who get into trouble.

'Always Call Proper Authorities for Help'

The person who called the dog warden for assistance in keeping the dog tied up that attacked her child did the right thing. I only called the owner and it could have been too late when I found out the dog had to be destroyed but was not examined for rabies.

My child had to have the very painful rabies treatment. Never again will I let friendship or neighborliness keep me from calling the proper authorities.

Teen-Age Wails

The Palo Alto (Calif.) Times

Adults may not regard AB 1068 as the most earth-shaking act of the 1965 California Legislature, but we doubt if any bill enacted this year will cause more teen-age wails.

The Measure Eliminates the 16-year-old driver's license except for those who have successfully completed high school driver training courses. It raises to 18 the age when youngsters without such training can first obtain driver's licenses. But there will be a two-year delay — until July 1, 1967 — before the provisions take effect.

'Stormy Weather' Predicted for State GOP Women's Confab

Capt. John Smith, who ex- of the Virginia Company, gave plored the shores on behalf New England its name.

LANSING (AP)—The Republican Women's Federation meets tonight and Tuesday for a potentially stormy state convention which will decide whether to follow party leaders or continue on the organization's divergent path.

Mrs. Ruth Hobbs of Ann Arbor, former GOP state vice chairman and now special assistant in charge of women's activities, leads the challenging state of officers.

The nominees proposed by the federation's present officers are headed by Mrs. Bernice Zilly of Grosse Pointe. She is a close ally of 14th district chairman Richard Durant, who is frequently at odds with party leaders.

Present federation officers are pushing for a rules change which would alter delegate representation in midconvention.

The credentials battle concerns six clubs which applied for membership in the federation last spring but were not accepted in time to have convention delegates. Three are from Detroit, with one each from Bay, Ionia and Livingston counties.

Principal aim of Mrs. Hobbs is to increase the federation's size from its present 8,000.

CITES 2 STATES
"Iowa has 20,000 women and Wisconsin has 27,000," said Mrs. Peterson. "There is no Michigan woman now on the executive committee of the national federation, and no Negro or Jew on the Michigan board."

"I believe we need a change of leadership, a fresher approach and a way to get more women in the federation. With Mrs. Hobbs, we would be able to do more toward building clubs in Detroit—both Negro and white."

to being an educational force, not a policy making group. It would be helpful if the group of women were working with the leadership."

OPPOSED BILL
This year, the federation distributed literature opposing the administration's immigration bill although all Michigan GOP congressmen voted for the measure.

Present federation officers are bringing to the convention as a main speaker Mrs. Phyllis Shafley, the Illinois housewife who wrote the conservative political book, "A Choice, Not an Echo."

Mrs. Shafley has been rejected by other Republican state officials as a speaker but the federation did not consult Michigan leaders on the choice, said Mrs. Peterson.

Girl, 5, Goes to a Party, Leaving Death Behind

DETROIT (UPI) — Police said today a little girl left her grandmother dead on the floor of their home and her semi-invalid grandfather in shock and calmly walked to a birthday party.

Officers found the grandmother's body early today. Her husband was in shock.

Police said Mrs. Vera Cronogue, 71, apparently collapsed and died as her granddaughter, Sandra O'Connor, 5, was preparing for the birthday party yesterday.

Sandra walked to the party but became lost on her way home. Police picked her up late yesterday, still clutching a small bag of toys from the party.

Officers were unable to identify her for several hours but connected her with the Cronogues late last night when she mentioned that her grandmother was lying on the floor when she left their home.

A neighbor had reported the lights were left on at the Cronogue home late last night but there was no sign of activity.

Officers found Mrs. Cronogue's body and rushed her husband, George, to a hospital. His condition was not believed serious.

Mrs. Cronogue died from natural causes, police said. The child, who had been living with her grandparents, was turned over to relatives.

UAW Wildcat Strike Ends at Chrysler Plant

Trial, Involving Ex-Governor, to Begin

BOSTON (UPI) — Former Gov. Foster Furcolo, the first governor in modern Massachusetts history to be indicted for misconduct in office, goes on trial today with four other men on charges of conspiring to arrange a bribe in connection with an executive appointment.

Facing the charges in Superior Court with Furcolo are executive councilors Joseph Ray Crimmins of Somerville and Raymond F. Sullivan of Springfield and former executive councilors Ernest C. Stasiun of Fairhaven and Michael J. Favulli of Worcester.

All are Democrats.

Furcolo, 54, was indicted Oct. 13, 1964 by a special grand jury hearing evidence gathered by the now defunct Massachusetts crime commission.

He is charged with conspiring to arrange a bribe in 1960 in connection with the reappointment.

To Offer Baton Twirling at Two City Schools

The Pontiac Parks and Recreation Department will offer baton twirling classes at two locations beginning next month.

For both boys and girls, 8-15 years old, the classes will be held 6:30 to 8 p.m. at Pontiac Central High School beginning Oct. 5 and at Wlmer Elementary School beginning Oct. 7.

ment of Anthony N. Di Natale, former commissioner of the State Department of Public Works (CPW).

OTHER CHARGES

In addition to the conspiracy charge, the other four men also were indicted on charges of requesting and accepting a bribe in the case.

Furcolo, governor from 1967 to 1969, charged that the indictments were "absurd" and "politically motivated." He asked for a speedy trial but a deluge of legal briefs, hearings and appeals delayed the trial until today.

The trial was postponed recently when Furcolo's attorney, Monroe Inter of Boston, suffered a broken leg and was hospitalized.

Furcolo, a native of New Haven, Conn., served in the U.S. House of Representatives from 1949 to 1953 and as state treasurer from 1953 to 1954. Furcolo was defeated in 1960 in a primary fight for the Democratic nomination for the U.S. Senate.

Tormenting Rectal Itch Stopped In Minutes

Science Finds New Healing Substance That Promptly Stops Itching and Pain of Piles

New York, N. Y. (Special) — One of the most common afflictions is a condition known as "itching piles." It is most embarrassing for the victim during the day and especially aggravating at night.

No matter what you've used without results—here's good news. For the first time, science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to promptly stop the burning itch and pain. It actually shrinks hemorrhoids—without surgery. Medical science has proved this substance produces a remarkably effective rate of healing. Its germ-killing properties also help prevent infection.

In one hemorrhoid case after another "very striking improvement" was reported and verified by a doctor's observations. This improvement was maintained in cases where a doctor's observations were continued over a period of months! Among these sufferers were a wide variety of hemorrhoid conditions, some of 10 to 20 years' duration.

The secret is this new healing substance (Bio-Dyn®) — discovery of a world-famous research institution. This substance is now obtainable in ointment or suppository form known as Preparation H®. Ask for Preparation H Suppositories (convenient to carry if away from home) or Preparation H Ointment with special applicator. Available at all drug counters.

Mall Merchants Chart Amateur Camera Shoot

Amateur photographers will have a chance to "shoot" live models this weekend as the Pontiac Mall Merchants Association presents a special camera shoot. The shoot is planned in preparation for the Mall Amateur Photographers Show, scheduled Nov. 1 through 12.

During the shoot, a large platform will be set up in the mall and models, dressed in different type clothing, will be on hand as subjects for shutterbugs.

The models will work from 3 to 9 p.m. Thursday and Friday and noon to 9 p.m. Saturday.

Photographers will be able to enter one print from the camera shoot and one other photo taken since June 1.

In addition to models, there will be appropriate backgrounds and props to a photographer can fashion his own scene during the camera shoot.

All entries for the photo show must be at the Mall office by Oct. 9. Anyone 18 years old or over may enter.

Only black and white prints may be entered, the shoot and show coordinated by Dr. Paul C. Feinberg, president of the merchants association, and Joseph Franz, local photographer.

Some of the West's most historic and famous frontier mining towns and camps — many of their picturesque ghosts — can be seen by travelers around the dude ranch capital of Wickenburg, some 80 miles northwest of Phoenix, Ariz.

Ex-Cuban Fighter Is Army Reservist

FT. BENNING, Ga. (AP) — A Cuban soldier captured in the Bay of Pigs invasion and later ransomed by American citizens has been sworn into the U.S. Army Reserve.

Lt. Rolando Pelayo Cuerdo took a temporary Army commission in 1963. He may now serve indefinitely in the U.S. armed forces as a permanent reserve officer.

The former Havana resident entered the United States in 1960 from Honduras where he had sought political asylum. He joined the 2506th Cuban Brigade in Miami and took part in the unsuccessful Bay of Pigs invasion attempt in 1961. He was one of 1,113 prisoners later ransomed.

How come 2,000,000 people in Michigan are insured by Metropolitan Life?

Designed for today's needs...up-to-date...that's the kind of protection you'll find in the policies offered by Metropolitan Life. And people here and everywhere are turning to Metropolitan Life for fresh new developments in life insurance programs. For example:

New—a plan especially designed for young men with growing families

We call this our Extra Protection plan. We created it especially for young men, and women too, who are starting families and find themselves a bit squeezed around the budget.

Under this plan, a permanent $4,000 policy, for example, carries the Extra Protection of another $4,600. This benefit lasts for ten years—while your children are growing up, for instance—and at the end of the period can be converted without a physical examination to as much as $8,000 of insurance, giving you $12,000 in all.

This Extra Protection plan is just part of the up-to-the-minute selection of life and health insurance plans you'd expect from America's leading life insurance company.

It's one of the reasons so many of your friends and neighbors are insured by Metropolitan. Another is Metropolitan's famous Family Security Check-Up, a written analysis that pinpoints your family's financial situation today and projects tomorrow's opportunities.

Ask your Metropolitan adviser to give you one this week. There's no obligation...except to those you love.

More choose Metropolitan Life millions more than any other company

There are many reasons why Metropolitan Life insures 45,000,000 people—more than any other company. One good reason is local, personal service from the Metropolitan advisers at your nearest office:

Windy City Blows Hot for Confab

Food Editor
The Pontiac Press
CHICAGO, Sept. 19 — Pontiac was hot over the weekend, but Chicago is hotter, most of the 150 food editors who arrived Saturday and Sunday from all parts of the country have brought woolen clothes for the week. They're suffering.

Knowing the unpredictability of midwestern weather at this time of year, I brought along some dark colons.

HOT BRUNCH
It is customary for the Florida Citrus Commission to host the Sunday brunch, the first official session of the conference. Along with traditional breakfast items they served orange sauce for waffles and an interesting parsley bread. You can duplicate this by adding parsley flakes to a regular white bread recipe.

Hundred of bunches of grapes — green, black and red — decorated the tables for the Wine Growers of California reception Sunday afternoon. We were given plastic bags and urged to fill them with the grapes for a snack in our rooms.

If there's anything we don't need this week, it's an extra snack in our rooms.

Among the things I'll want to write in more detail after I get home is how to make an instant wine "cellar" and two recipes for food I enjoyed at the reception. There was a wine and apple juice drink with just a hint of cinnamon in it. And the stuffed dates were good — not too sweet. These had some sherry in the stuffing.

AT LAST
The Jolly Green Giant came to Chicago to greet us at a late afternoon reception. He held court on the 20th story of the Prudential Plaza where the view of the Chicago harbor and the Outer Drive is magnificent.

We sampled a number of new canned and frozen vegetables, including whole mushrooms in a spicy marinade. Among the items to look for are five vegetables frozen in creamy sauces, peas and white corn frozen in butter sauce and two new canned vegetable combinations, peas with mushrooms and beans with pearl onions.

Finally I know how to classify rice. According to the Rice Council for Market Development, the group entertaining at dinner, rice is a vegetable. It is also the only carbohydrate food whose use is increasing.

The theme of the dinner was Swedish, from the blue and yellow decorations right through the menu. The main-course was duckling, served with rice, of course.

The United States grows only two percent of the world's rice, but it exports rice to over 100 countries including the rice producing nations of the Orient.

We capped our day with a cheese-cake party at the second city. Standard Brands presented an original recipe to introduce their new No-Bake Cheese Cake Mix. This has possibilities for an infinite number of variations.

Dr. and Mrs. G. E. Folkman of Mt. Clemens announce the engagement of their daughter, Nancy Carol, to Russell A. Woodruff, North Cass Lake Road son of the R. L. Woodruffs of DeWitt. She is a senior at Alma College where her fiancé was graduated. July vows are planned.

Art Patrons Dine, Dance Despite Heat

By SIGNE KARLSTROM
The Bloomfield Art Association Gallery on Cranbrook Road was the scene of a dinner party Saturday evening when some 150 members enjoyed a delicate dinner in an atmosphere of elegance surrounded by art.

GOURMET FARE
It was their first Gourmet dinner dance and it was also a preview of some of Michigan artists work which exhibit officially opened yesterday.

The entire evening was well planned and in spite of the heat, guests were dancing, visiting at other tables — no doubt discussing some exciting plans for the future of BAA.

Robert Mounsey, chairman of decorations had transformed the Gallery to a perfect dining area with tables set for ten, each decorated with a colorful tree surrounded by candles in various colors. Autumn leaves were in abundance as well as the tiny Italian lights.

As one entered the Gallery Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy E. Kiefer together with Mr. and Mrs. Robert Bender greeted the guests.

RECEIVING LINE

In the receiving line were Mr. and Mrs. Robert A. Thom, General Chairmen for this event, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Averill (he is the President of BAA) and Mr. and Mrs. Raymond T. Perring.

Among the guests were Mr. and Mrs. John Coppin, Mr. and Mrs. William Mitchell, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Gordon (she is Director of the Art Department of Detroit Board of Education) Mr. and Mrs. Max Fruhauf, and Mr. and Mrs. George Cutler, Mr. and Mrs. John Shenfield, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Dean, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Turner, Sven Kline, and Mr. and Mrs. Graham Shimick.

Completing the list were Mr. and Mrs. Edward Lerchen, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Lewis, Mr. and Mrs. Eliot Robinson and Jafar Shuja who is Director of the Gallery.

Meeting in Ohio

Mrs. William J. Emerson and Mrs. Reba Netzer are in Akron attending meetings relating to the work of the national commission to study the YWCA as a Christian movement. Mrs. Emerson is president of the Pontiac Y board of directors and Mrs. Netzer is the executive director.

A happy smile lights up the face of pretty Nancy Leo of Clinton River drive (center) when she receives recognition as a renewal scholarship student from her sponsor, the Tipacan chapter of American Business Women's Association.

With her at Sunday's "Hand of Friendship" brunch held at Rotunda Country Inn, are at left, Mrs. Ervin C. Richards of Seminole Avenue and Julie O'Brien of Lotus Court.

Some For and Some Against

An Art Lover Comments

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I just read the letter in your column from "Interested," who was upset because the daughter of a friend of hers posed for an artist in the nude.

In the first place it's none of her business what someone else's daughter is doing. ABBY

DEAR AGAINST: Nudity and obscenity are not necessarily synonymous. The nude body, in the flesh or in an art form, when portrayed in for an artist who specialized in pretty girls with very little, or nothing, on, you said the girl had a right to make a bare living.

That's the trouble with this world. Everybody is making a big joke of modesty and decency. Why didn't you uphold virtue and strike a blow against nudity and obscenity, which are the same thing?

AGAINST OBSCENITY

DEAR AGAINST: Nudity and obscenity are not necessarily synonymous. The nude body, in the flesh or in an art form, when portrayed in the interest of artistic expression, or realism, can hardly be called obscene.

To believe otherwise would be to class Michelangelo's superb sculpture "David," which stands as naked as a radish in Florence, Italy, with girly shows and French postcards.

One who does that is obscene with his eyes shut.

For Abby's booklet, "How To Have A lovely Wedding," send 50 cents to Abby, in care of The Pontiac Press.

The Ronald Lee Stankes Off on Chicago Trip

The Ronald Lee Stankes (Janet Bea Reed) left for a honeymoon in Chicago and Wisconsin following their vows and reception, Saturday, in the Central Methodist Church.

CANDLELIGHT RITE

Dr. Milton Bank performed the candlelight rite for the couple whose parents are the Guy J. Reeds, Sylvan Lake, and the Gerald W. Stankes, East Hammond Lake Drive.

White peau de sole fashioned the bride's A-line gown and chapel train worn with silk illusion veil. White orchids and roses covered her small white Bible, gift of the bridegroom.

Attending their sister were Irene Reed, honor maid, and bridesmaids Mrs. James Paterson and Mrs. Vern Reder-shaw, along with Kathy Statke and Mrs. Michael Jordan.

Dennis Snyder was best man, Frank Burgener Jr., Robert Sammers, Fred Crowley and Donald Foytak seated the guests.

Buying Hat? Check Face

NEW YORK (UPI) — During hat try-ons remember that horizontal or curving lines round a face and figure; verticals lengthen and slenderize; diagonals diminish those aspects of appearance that you would wish out of existence.

The tips from Jan Leslie Hats Inc., of Dallas, were coupled with this advice: if your face is long, add hat width in the area of your temples; for a round face, try hats with crisp, angular lines; trimmings at the back of a hat draw attention away from a receding chin.

Join four receiving blankets together after baby is too large for them, bind with ribbon edge and you have a serviceable crib blanket.

Beta Sigs Have Fun at Luau

Tiki torches illuminated the lawn of Mrs. Georgia Gohl's parents' home on Sashabaw Road Saturday evening for a luau. Members and their escorts of Phi chapter of Beta Sigma Phi came dressed in Hawaiian costumes for the event.

Romy D. Lucero, formerly of the Philippine Islands prepared the Polynesian fare.

The hostess was assisted by Mrs. Roy Stuart, Mrs. Harold Morgan, Mrs. Doyle Thompson, Mrs. Barbara Pankey and Mrs. Albert Padar.

Buying Habits Are Influenced by Kind of Day

Everybody blames the weather for something it seems. Stiff joint? Blame the rain. Lack of energy? Blame the heat. Bad mood? Attribute that to a cloudy day. Suffering of any kind? Humidity is usually the culprit.

DOWN TO FORMULA

And now the merchants have found that consumer buying habits are also influenced by the weather. They have it down to a most amazing formula, reports Today's Secretary.

For every degree of temperature below normal on any day in the spring, and for every degree above normal on any day in the fall, retail sales will drop off exactly one per cent. Also, every one-tenth inch of rain that falls between 7 a. m. and 11 a. m. on any day inevitably depresses that day's sales by one per cent. Those are facts, m'am. Do you fit the shopper's weather formula?

Keep Lace Lovely

Lace should be stored in a cool, dry place to keep it from turning yellow. Large pieces should be laid between pieces of tissue paper to prevent wrinkling. If this paper is blue in color, it also will help keep the lace from turning yellow.

IN OLDEN DAYS
In pioneer days, such humor would have been regarded as evil.
(Always write to Dr. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, enclosing a long-stamped, self-addressed envelope and 30 cents for cover typing and printing costs when you need for one of his booklets.)

Chantilly Lace, Organza Fashion Bridal Ensemble

The Pain Creek Methodist Church in Goodison was the setting for the Saturday vows of Patricia Sue Langford and Kenneth Raymond Reed.

A reception in the church annex followed the evening ceremony performed by Rev. Edward Jones.

PEARL TIARA

A star-shaped pearl tiara and illusion veil complemented the bride's gown of white silk organza styled with bodice of cascading white carnations.

Mrs. Richard Peskey attended her sister as honor matron. Laurie Sue Peskey was flower-girl.

On the esquire side were James W. Moseley, best man, and the ushers, Robert R. Langford and Raymond B. Strunk.

The newlyweds are motoring in northern Michigan.

M. and Mrs. Robert Lao o' Berkley announce the engagement of their daughter, Janet Ann to Kenneth Joseph Lynch, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph C. Lynch of Bielby Street. The bride-elect and her fiancé who attends Lawrence Institute of Technology, plan Nov. 27 vows.

Humor Is Still in Style

By Dr. GEORGE W. CRANE

CASE W-460: Sherrill G., aged 5, was left in the church nursery while her parents in the sanctuary were listening to the clergyman's sermon.

Sherrill had great admiration for Helen Clements, the friendly director of the nursery that Sunday. So Sherrill clung to Mrs. Clements closely.

Finally, Sherrill looked up at Mrs. Clements with her soulful eyes and asked: "Do you really like me?" and Mrs. Clements assured her that she did.

"Would you forget me in a minute?" Sherrill then inquired. To which Mrs. Clements replied:

"No, indeed, I wouldn't forget you in a minute."

That comforted Sherrill for a moment; then she continued:

"Would you forget me in a week?"

"I should say not," vigorously protested Mrs. Clements.

This seemed to please Sherrill very much. Then as an afterthought she asked:

"But would you forget me in a whole year?"

"Sherrill," Mrs. Clements solemnly vowed, "certainly I would never forget you even in a whole year."

Sherrill's eyes sparkled happily.

Then, without any further prelude, she gaily said:

"Knock, knock!"

To which Mrs. Clements innocently asked, "Who's There?"

"See," Sherrill triumphantly exclaimed, "you've forgotten me already!"

This true case compares very favorably with the clever remarks of children which Art Linkletter has often presented.

Fortunately, Mrs. Clements originated that clever verbal "trap" even with her very high I. Q.

Instead, she had picked up this "Knock, knock" trick from her home surroundings.

But she deserves full credit, for she didn't make a faux pas, and with her soulful big eyes, she completely caught Mrs. Clements off guard.

IN OLDEN DAYS

In pioneer days, such humor would have been regarded as evil.

Under the baton of Felix Resnick

The Pontiac Symphony Orchestra

celebrates its 12th Season

Since its formation 12 years ago, the Pontiac Orchestra has shown steady growth and musical development. Now numbering approximately 70 members, the orchestra has also enjoyed a steady increase in attendance from year to year.

Most of the orchestra members are highly competent amateur musicians from the Pontiac area, who, under the skilled baton of Felix Resnick, present brilliant concerts that are truly "professional" in every sense. Guest artists—some of nationwide importance—appear at many of the concerts.

THE PONTIAC SYMPHONY ANNOUNCES 5 OUTSTANDING CONCERTS FOR THE 1965-66 SEASON

1st Concert—October 5, 1965

NEMENOFF, Pianists

The leading exponents of the two-piano medium on today's concert platform. They are members of the staff of Michigan State University and have appeared with many of the major symphony orchestras.

2nd Concert—November 30, 1965

RODNEY STENBERG, Baritone

1964 winner of the Grienell Foundation of Music Voice Scholarship. A graduate of the Curtis Institute of Music and winner of a Fulbright Scholarship which permitted him to study in Germany. He has appeared with the Santa Fe Opera and Philadelphia Orchestra. Rodney Stenberg is a resident of Detroit.

3rd Concert—February 1, 1966

INSTRUMENTAL CONCERT

This concert features the orchestra and conductor in a presentation that emphasizes the musical ability and versatility of this fine group of 70 musicians.

4th Concert—March 22, 1966

OAKLAND UNIVERSITY CHOIR

ORFF'S "CARMINA BURANA" will be performed by the Oakland University Choir. Marjorie Gordon and others will perform the solo parts for this choral work. This work was given its U.S. Premiere in 1954 and from then forward it has been performed with regularity out of all proportions to its difficulties, not to speak of its huge personnel requirements. This kind of popularity is without parallel in contemporary serious music.

5th Concert—May 3, 1965

TAKAKO NISHIZAKI, Violinist

Takako Nishizaki was born in Nagoya, Japan and performed as a child prodigy in Tokyo. Her father was her first teacher and she later studied in the Toho School in Japan and the Juillard School of Music. In April 1964, Takako Nishizaki, at the age of twenty, was a successful finalist in the 23rd Leventis International Competition for Violinists. She has performed with the Youth Symphony of Tokyo, and appeared in the U.S. as guest artist with symphony orchestras from coast to coast, as well as in recitals at many universities across the land.

Decision on Dominican Troop Pullout to Be Weighed

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Organization of American States may decide Thursday whether to remove troops from the Dominican Republic.

An 11,000-man Inter-American Peace Force remains in the Caribbean country as Provisional President Hector Garcia-Godoy works to set up his administration following the summer revolution.

The peace force is composed of 9,400 Americans plus troops from Brazil, Paraguay, Costa Rica, Honduras and Nicaragua. The OAS declared last May 6 that it should decide when the troops should be pulled out.

The OAS team which worked out peace terms among rival factions has taken the same stand in a 111-page, still confidential report obtained by the Associated Press.

As an alternative, the report suggested the decision could be made by the OAS and the provisional government "at the initiative of the president of the provisional government when he (Garcia-Godoy) feels it convenient."

Nonetheless, Milton Mesina, new Dominican envoy to the OAS, has contested the first OAS declaration, saying: "When the resolution was passed, nobody was in control in the Dominican Republic."

Turncoat Returns to U.S. After Long Stay in China

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (UPI) — William C. White, who defected to Communist China during the Korean War, was back in the United States with his wife and two children today to begin a new life.

White was a private first class in the army when he was captured in Korea in 1950. The 35-year-old Negro came here to visit his aunt, Mrs. Bertha Johnson. He said he did not know how long he would stay in Kansas City but indicated he wanted to go to Arkansas to visit his mother.

White said he has a degree in international law from a University in Peking and wants to get a degree from an American University and teach. He speaks Chinese and worked as a translator in Red China.

The army dishonorably discharged White and 20 other defectors when they chose to stay in Red China after the war.

NOT A TURNCOAT

"I am not a turncoat," White said in answer to a reporter's question. "I went into China to know and see the country and to learn the Chinese language."

"I achieved this and decided it was time to come home."

He said he met his wife, Hsuehping, at the People's University in Peking. Their children are John, 6, and Ann, 4.

The family crossed into Hong Kong Aug. 17 after 11½ years in Communist China.

Gov. Brown to Telephone Undersea Lab

LA JOLLA, Calif. (UPI) — Astronaut-aquonaut M. Scott Carpenter at the midway point in a 45-day underwater experiment, today was scheduled to chat by telephone with Gov. Edmund G. Brown.

The conversation between Carpenter—305 feet underwater in Sealab 2—and Brown — attending a Kiwanis International convention in nearby San Diego — was the second major telephone call for Carpenter since he descended into the depths Aug. 28.

During his first night in the 280-lb., 57-foot long Sealab 2, Carpenter talked by radio with Gemini 5 astronauts L. Gordon Cooper and Charles Conrad.

Carpenter, the only aquanaut scheduled to remain submerged 30 consecutive days in the 45-day project, was scheduled to end his stint on or about Sept. 27.

Navy Capt. George Bond, chief investigator for the man-in-the-sea project, was to decide today when a third team of aquanauts will relieve Carpenter's nine-man second team.

MEN EMERGED
The first nine men who descended with Carpenter surfaced last week and were relieved by nine other aquanauts.

Service Set for Chicago Publisher

CHICAGO (AP) — The sudden death of Marshall Field, 49, publisher and philanthropist, continued to evoke expressions of sorrow today as the family prepared for Tuesday's funeral.

The publisher and editor of the Chicago Sun-Times and the Chicago Daily News, died in his sleep Saturday evening of a heart attack at his Chicago home.

The funeral will be at 3 p.m. Tuesday in the Fourth Presbyterian church. Burial will be in Graceland Cemetery.

President Johnson sent a telegram Sunday to Field's widow, Julia Lynne Templeton Field, whom he married in 1964. It read in part:

"Marshall Field was in the front rank of those Americans whose life has been spent in keeping this nation informed. His charity and his purpose will not be forgotten by those who felt the influence of his good works."

WORDS OF SYMPATHY

Expressions of sympathy included those from Wes Gallagher, general manager of the Associated Press and Paul Miller, president of the AP and Gannett Newspapers. Gallagher said Field's death "is a great loss to journalism, not only in Chicago, but throughout the country."

Field's great-grandfather, Marshall Field I, founded the Field department store in Chicago and compiled a vast fortune.

In 1945 Field began working for the Chicago Sun, founded by his father, Marshall Field III.

SUCCEEDED FATHER

He later worked for a year with the New York Herald Tribune. He rejoined the Sun in 1947 when it became the Sun-Times in a merger with the Chicago Times. In 1960 Field succeeded his father as editor and publisher. He bought the Chicago Daily News from Knight Newspapers Inc. in 1959.

Field also was a director of Marshall Field & Co., chairman of Field Enterprises, Inc., and publisher of the World Book Encyclopedia.

The late publisher was born in New York City, the son of the late Marshall Field III and the former Evelyn Marshall, now Mrs. Diego Suarez of New York City.

He attended St. Paul's School, Concord, N.H., and earned a B.A. degree, magna laude, from Harvard University, then went on for a law degree from the University of Virginia.

During World War II Field served in the Navy as a gunnery officer aboard the USS Enterprise.

Field's first marriage was with Joanne Bass in 1938. He was divorced from her in 1947 and three years later married Katherine Woodruff. That marriage ended in divorce in 1963, a year before Field wed Miss Templeton.

New Hair Spray, Sets and Dries Hair in 15 Minutes

HOUSTON, TEXAS — Successful completion of field tests has been announced for a new product, Prompt-Dry, that sets and dries women's hair in 15 minutes and ends the nuisance of hours in unsightly rollers.

The hair is rolled, sprayed with Prompt-Dry and in 15 minutes the hair is completely dry without the use of a hair dryer. It contains ingredients that are quick-drying, yet do not dry out the hair. The natural highlights of your hair are enhanced, made more lovely. There is no worry about dulling the natural luster. Prompt-Dry freshens the hair and leaves no sticky residue.

"It's just wonderful for those times when my husband calls at the last minute and says we're going out with the boss," one lady reported. "I rolled my hair, sprayed on Prompt-Dry, and it was ready by the time I finished bathing."

U.S. Now Has 13,000 Centenarians

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Things a columnist wouldn't know if he didn't open his mail: America now has some 13,000 people aged 100 years or older. That's only one for every 15,000 persons.

BOYLE

Theoretically, we should have many times that number of centenarians. Many animals live five or six times as long as it takes them to mature. If this were true of men, who matures fully at about 25, he should live to be 125 or 150.

Mamas on the job: In 1940 only 9 per cent of U.S. mothers with children under 18 worked outside the home. Now 35 per cent—about 94 million—have paying jobs.

Prosperity notes: Board chairmen of smaller banks—those with assets under $300 million—get paid average annual salaries of $39,000. Those who head the large banks get an average of $72,000.

Desalting ocean water to make it potable isn't cheap. At present the cost is $1 per thousands gallons, about 10 times what most of us now pay for fresh water. Incidentally, if you've been wondering how salty ocean water is, the figure is 3 1/2 per cent.

Quotable notables: "Early in life I had to choose between honest arrogance and hypocritical humility. I have chosen honest arrogance and have seen no occasion to change"—architect Frank Lloyd Wright.

The human eye is one of the most sensitive instruments in nature. It can detect about four million different shades of color. Only one out of 250 women suffer from color blindness; the figure for men is one out of 12 or 13.

It is estimated that the total U.S. money supply has climbed to more than $159 billion.

FIRST TRAIN RIDE

History lesson: Can you name the first U.S. president in office to ride on a railroad train: Andrew Jackson achieved this distinction on June 8, 1828, when he boarded a Baltimore & Ohio train for Baltimore. Theodore Roosevelt was the first president to ride in both an automobile and an airplane.

Folklore: If your right ear burns, someone is praising you; but if your left ear burns, the talk about you is bad. Always put your right foot out of the bed first in the morning or you'll be in a bad temper all day. Talk to yourself and you have the devil for an audience.

Tetanus, commonly known as lockjaw, is one of the most painful as well as deadly disease. Half of the 400 to 500 cases that occur in this country each year are fatal.

The world's biggest baby is probably the offspring of the blue whale. Infants measure up to 26 feet at birth and weigh several tons. By comparison, a polar bear at birth weighs only about a pound.

Quickies: Spiders can live at altitudes of 22,000 feet. Louis Cyr, the famous weightlifter, had a chest measurement of 80 1/2 inches. Tornadoes strike somewhere in this country about once every three days. Please have no wings.

It was Fred Allen who observed: "A celebrity is a person who works hard, all his life to become well-known, then wears dark glasses to avoid being recognized."

Junior Editors Quiz on HIGHWAYS

QUESTION: Why are big roads called highways?

ANSWER: Before our modern days, roads were rough and difficult to travel. They were bumpy in dry weather and heavy with sticky mud when it rained.

Even in the old days, however, some roads could be built which were better than the average. In Medieval days in England, the best roads were made of earth piled higher than the surrounding land, so that the water would drain off in wet weather.

This was expensive, only possible for a king to undertake, so that he could have a comfortable thoroughfare for himself and his court to travel over.

Since such a road was raised high, it became called a highway. And since it was under the protection and care of the king, such an important road was known as one of the King's highways.

This name was often used in the case of important roads in the American colonies, before the Revolution.

Not only the king and his court traveled the highways in the old days, however, for these were open to all travelers.

There were smaller roads, constructed privately, which were called byways. Even today, when we speak of someone going to many places, we may say he is traveling "by the highways and byways."

FOR YOU TO DO: As you ride with your family over some big important road, think of the old time King's highway, raised up in the air, and contrast it with the highway you are on. On a modern road, rain is carried off by the hard surface, properly graded.

People in the News

By The Associated Press

Prince Mikasa of Japan, brother of Emperor Hirohito, capped a day-long visit to the World's Fair last night when he took off his coat and did a square dance at the New York City pavilion.

The prince said he was proud of having been largely responsible for the Western folk dancing craze now sweeping Japan.

Mikoyan, Soviets Applaud Actor Olivier

President Anastas I. Mikoyan loudly applauded Sir Lawrence Olivier as Othello in his final performance at the Kremlin Theater, in Moscow.

The audience, led by Mikoyan, applauded Olivier for 10 minutes last night. Afterwards the Soviet president went backstage to congratulate the actor personally.

Olivier thanked the audience in a rehearsed speech in Russian. They pelted him with flowers.

Chinese Firecrackers Greet English Princess

England's Princess Alexandra and her husband, businessman Angus Ogilvy, left Hong Kong today in a burst of noise and a cloud of smoke.

Long strings of exploding Chinese firecrackers saluted the couple as they boarded a motor launch for the cross-harbor trip to the airport.

For a moment the princess appeared startled by the noise, then she smiled broadly and waved to the men setting off the fireworks on a Chinese junk.

Seminary Students Honor Episcopal Bishop

The Rt. Rev. Arthur H. Lichtenburger of Cambridge, Mass., past presiding bishop of the Episcopal Church in the United States, has been selected by the students of Seabury-Western Theological Seminary as the man they'd most like to emulate.

Bishop Lichtenburger received the Seabury-Eastern Cross as the "man who has the unanimous approval of the student body as being a person who has influenced their lives and has been an example for them to follow in their future ministry."

David P. Thomas of Brattleboro, Vt., a second-year student presented the award to the bishop on behalf of the school, located at Evanston, Ill.

Parole Coming to Ex-Mobster

LANSING (AP) — A former member of Detroit's infamous Purple Gang of the 1930's is expected to be paroled from Southern Michigan Prison later this month.

Harry Keywell, who has spent 34 of his 54 years in prison, was sentenced to life imprisonment in 1931 for the killings of three Chicago hoodlums who attempted to take over some of Detroit's rackets.

A commutation of sentence order was signed by Gov. George Romney and the formality of a parole board hearing is expected to take place in a few weeks.

Keywell was found guilty of killing Joseph Sutker, Joseph Leborvitz and Herman Paul, all sentenced for the slaying, known as the "Collingwood Massacre," were Irving Milberg and Raymond Bernstein.

Milberg died in prison and Bernstein was released two years ago.

Man, Two Sons Dunked Twice in Rough Day

SEATTLE, Wash. (AP) — A Vernonia, Ore., man and his two sons survived two capsizeings in quick succession Sunday at the mouth of Oregon's Nehalem River.

The Coast Guard said Adwin A. Justice, 45, and his sons, Gary, 23, and Duane, 19, were spilled from their 16-foot pleasure craft in rough water.

A 25-foot Coast Guard vessel picked them up, then had engine trouble, floundered and overturned. Justice, his sons and the three-man Coast Guard crew were picked up by a charter boat.

The civilians were treated at a hospital for shock.

Citizens Send In Odd Ideas on How to Defeat Viet Cong

WASHINGTON (AP)—Air drops of rattlesnakes, itching powder and carpet tacks. Oneway mirrors to make American soldiers invisible. A chain link fence to keep Communist reinforcements out of South Viet Nam.

These are some of the hundreds of suggestions the Defense Department by citizens anxious to help win the war.

Such letters — some typewritten, some hand scrawled — arrive at the office of Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara at the rate of about 40 or 50 a week. Others go directly to the various armed services.

Although some of the ideas are bizarre, many appear carefully thought out. All evidently are sincere.

No matter how odd an idea may seem, its author gets a thank you letter from the Defense Department. Some of the writers obviously realize their ideas are way out. One of them wrote, "I won't mind if you smile."

A random check of the letters indicates people would like to give the military professionals a hand in routing out and killing elusive Viet Cong guerrillas and protecting Americans from harm.

A San Diego, Calif., man wrote: "Where it is impossible to see the Viet Cong, wouldn't it be a good idea to drop tons of extra sharp tacks. Saturate the ground with these tacks?"

Another man, from Huntington, Calif., thought of collecting rattlesnakes from around the U.S. West and "facilitating" them all over North Viet Nam in elephant grass where the Viet Cong are mostly likely to hide."

From McCloud, Okla., came this proposal: "An advance troop of rangers could creep up as close as possible to the Viet Cong lines and turn loose a live rat with a stick of dynamite and an eight-ounce capsule of nitroglycerine tied to his body."

"The stick of dynamite should have a long fuse, so it would give the rangers time to get away. The rats should be turned loose in the tunnels of the Viet Cong."

One man outlined a plan to lay down an oil slick on the perimeter of a swamp, then follow up with itching powder, water soluble glue and yellow dye to "make the swamp untenable."

A citizen in Charleston, Ill., sat down and sketched his concept of pumping soapuds into caves where the Viet Cong might be hiding, thus cutting off air and either smothering the enemy or forcing him into the open.

A Davenport, Iowa, man told McNamara: "I keep thinking that a chain link fence about 12 feet high with barbed wire at the top and a patrol type road-way would make a handy way to check on where and when the North Vietnamese make their way into South Viet Nam."

A New York doctor said he would like to see "soldiers' uniforms and helmets... be wrapped into a one-way mirror, so that they will reflect their environment and become, so to say, invisible."

A Chicago man wrote that, to combat detection, "I propose that each helicopter have a set of 'slippers' of various colors, to match each of the more common sky colors as they vary with the season. They could be snapped, pinned, or tied onto the underside of the helicopter."

There are 12 doctors, 11 lawyers and 40 gas station workers for every 10,000 people in the United States.

Cites Cents-Off 'Deals'

Housewife Joins Labeling Fight

Sen. Philip A. Hart is ready to give part of the credit to an Otego housewife if he gets his truth in packaging bill through the U.S. Senate.

Mrs. Robert Johnson sent the Michigan senator a graphic display, neatly mounted on cardboard, to prove that the consumer does not always save money on "cents-off" deals offered by food manufacturers.

One of the most badly disputed provisions in the Hart bill is the one that would prevent manufacturers from printing "cents-off" offers on their labels.

"These 'come-ons,'" said Hart, "imply a control over retail price that the manufacturer just doesn't have and, too often, the shopper realizes no savings at all."

He says that Mrs. Johnson's display board will play an important part in his campaign to swing other senators behind his bill. The board shows the tops and labels from three identical jars of one manufacturer's instant tea.

Mrs. Johnson, a former supermarket checker, wrote: "As you see, one label is marked '50 cents off.' The other two are each marked '25 cents off.' As the jar tops show, here are the prices I paid at the counter.

"One, 50-cent-off label — I paid 57 cents. Two, 25-cent-off label — I paid 53.25. Three, 25-cent-off label — I paid 56 cents.

"As you can see, the 50-cent-off jar was more expensive than one of the 25-cent-off jars."

What will Hart do with the display. First, he's going to send it to the Federal Trade Commission.

"Opponents have said many times that there is no need for Truth in Packaging because current law can handle the job," Hart said.

"Well, I want to ask the FTC if there is anything in current law that can prevent this sort of thing. I don't believe there is."

Bishops Clash Over Woman

Title of 'Reverend' Matter of Contention

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Two bishops of the Episcopal Church have clashed over the investiture ceremony of Deaconess Phyllis Edwards and whether or not she is entitled to be called "the reverend" as a minister.

At Peoria, Ill., Sunday, the Rt. Rev. Francis W. Lickfield, president of the American Church Union of the Episcopal Church, took California Bishop James A. Pike to task for recognizing a woman as minister.

During services at St. Paul's church, Lickfield said of the 49-year-old woman, "She is not a clergyman."

"To say that she is the first woman minister in the Episcopal Church is untrue in that 'minister' in common usage means clergyman. An Episcopal deaconess is not an Episcopal clergyman. She is what she has always been, a Christian woman who ministers in an ancient order for women, the order of deaconesses."

NOT ORDAINED

Lickfield said Mrs. Edwards "has not been ordained to the sacred ministry and stands in no different position now than formerly."

Bishop Pike replied at Concord, Calif., that Mrs. Edwards is a minister and is entitled to be addressed, "the reverend."

He said the designation was made possible by a resolution adopted by the House of Bishops conference this month at Glacier Park.

Pike said the investiture services of Mrs. Edwards Sept. 12 at San Francisco's Grace Cathedral was one "of recognition" in which the grandmother took "an oath of conformity" as required by the House of Bishops.

NOT THE FIRST

The bishop said he agreed with Lickfield, however, that Mrs. Edwards was not the first woman minister in the Episcopal Church, Pike said the House of Bishops' action was "retroactive" and meant that the first woman minister in the church is "the oldest deaconess now living." He didn't know who that was.

Pike said Bishop Lickfield's American Church Union was "oriented toward the Roman Catholic Church" in the mistaken belief that the Roman Catholic Church does not receive women into the ministry. "It does," said Pike.

Strike Under Way by Greek Postmen

ATHENS, Greece (AP) — Greece's 6,000 postmen went on strike today for the second time in two weeks, demanding higher wages and increased transport expenses. Postal officials said efforts are being made to end the stoppage and negotiate the demands.

The strike resulted in new delays of mail delivery. Much mail is still piled up from the earlier stoppage.

The Door to Higher Education - 7

Good Time for College Legwork: Junior Year in High School

(EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the seventh in a nine-part series designed for those planning to attend college. The series is written by John C. Hoy, dean of admissions at Wesleyan University in Connecticut.)

By JOHN C. HOY
Written for Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

When he becomes a junior, the secondary school student must really face up to the question of college — where to go and how to get there.

An immediate responsibility can be quite a strain — College Boards. I believe it is generally wise for the junior to take a set of Scholastic Aptitude and Achievement Test Examinations offered by the College Entrance Examinations Board (Box 592, Princeton, N. J.).

Taking the examination while a junior does not mean that students are irrevocably "stuck" with their scores. They will have another chance, if they want it, as a senior.

But the early testing does have value. For one thing, students can gain invaluable experience with College Board testing.

Once acquainted with the form, many students significantly improve their scores. Another plus is the evidence the tests will produce for the secondary school guidance counselor.

BROAD LIMITS

A student's counselor can, by reviewing test results, suggest within broad limits the kind of college that should be most suitable for the applicant.

Some students also may want to take the American College Testing program (300 E. Washington Ave., Iowa City, Iowa). There are many colleges and universities which prefer scores from this battery of tests.

But while College Board testing as a junior has real value, it also involves some danger.

Even confined to senior year, College Boards are greatly overemphasized. Too many secondary school students are bedeviled by the prospect — and then the results — of College Boards.

In fact, College Boards results are not life-or-death significance in deciding whether a student will be admitted to college.

Every year, some of the most selective institutions take students with quite low College Boards. And some of the least selective turn down students with very high College Boards.

Clearly, admissions officers base their decisions on something besides these tests.

My philosophy on College Boards is that students should be encouraged to take them and to do as well as they can.

COMMON SENSE

When scores are received, I urge students to accept them maturely and with common sense. They must not be discouraged if the scores tend to be lower than hoped.

Another job for the juniors preparing for college, and one that is less nerve-racking, is to visit a number of institutions in which they are interested.

If students have the time and energy, it would be ideal for them to visit from six to 12 colleges during the spring and summer of their junior year.

Beginning college visits in the late spring is opportune because admission officers are relatively free after May 1st. They have just finished putting together their freshman class for the coming fall and are ready to begin thinking of the year following.

FULL INTERVIEW

Nevertheless, the junior visiting campus should not necessarily expect a full interview. What the prospective college freshman should concentrate on is getting a sense of the school's atmosphere and human dimension.

It will be particularly worthwhile to attend classes — both large lectures and small discussion sections. And the applicant should take a hard look at the life of the campus.

At a large university, this would include fraternities, dormitories, the international house, the student center, off-campus rooming houses, etc.

Frequently, it is the atmosphere in these facilities that will decide a student for or against a particular college.

NARROW SIGHTS

After the first round of visits, prospective students should narrow their sights on three or four schools that interest them most. A return visit to these campuses is then in order.

This time, the student should anticipate a more complete interview with the admissions officer, and while on the campus, even more intensively, try to sample the life of the student body.

Arrangements can be made through the admissions office to spend time in classrooms, eat with students and live in the dormitories.

That a college is not considered among the most selective does not mean that it is not excellent. There are a great many institutions overrated because of their high entrance selectivity.

Many schools which do not make it quite as difficult to enter are exceedingly fine places at which to study. These "sleepers" are often moving ahead fast and are thoroughly sound and exciting places of which to be a part.

In fact, I think it may be more stimulating educationally to help build a "B plus" college than to attend one long rated "A."

Utica Bus Feud Partly Settled

UTICA — Twelve pupils of the 23 who were kept out of Auburnshire School last Thursday and Friday because of a transportation dispute were back in class today, according to principal Mrs. Margaret Sholl.

Mrs. Sholl said some of the pupils may be registered for School officials said the move was made necessary when 1,017 students registered at Plumbrook. The school was built to accommodate 720.

Angry mothers protested the move by picketing the school bus stops and board offices and keeping their children out of school.

School officials met with the parents several times in an attempt to straighten out the problem. Two officials rode the school buses to help the children.

The parents were informed of the move by a letter from the school administration.

SCHOOLS PLANNED

School officials say the move is only for a year or until three new elementary schools are built in the affected area.

The subdivisions involved are in the southern part of the district near Utica and Dodge roads. They are the Sun Valley Subdivision and Clinton River Meadows.

Over the weekend the parents were enlisting the aid of other parents and seeking to meet with school officials.

Schools Supt. Phillip E. Runkel said he is "working with the parents" on the problem.

afternoon classes so there is a possibility of more showing up.

The parents kept their children out of school for two days last week to protest a school boundary change instituted by the board of education.

The mothers now apparently want only their kindergarten and first graders to remain at Plumbrook because they feel the bus trip is too dangerous for small children.

To alleviate crowded conditions at Plumbrook School, the board shifted about 150 pupils in grades kindergarten through five to Auburnshire School about six miles away.

Both Patients in Transplant Satisfactory

AVON TOWNSHIP — Mrs. Patricia Shontz, who underwent a kidney transplant operation last week, and her father from whom she received the healthy kidney were reported in satisfactory condition today and resting comfortably.

Mrs. Shontz of 1895 Tamm received the kidney from her father, Frank L. Farrell of St. Clair Shores, in an operation at the Cleveland Clinic.

The young mother lost her first kidney when she was 10 years old as the result of a childhood fall. Her remaining kidney had been failing since the birth two years ago of her son James.

The remaining kidney was removed in an earlier operation three weeks ago.

Her father was chosen as the kidney donor after extensive examinations.

Mrs. Shontz' husband, James, in an employee of the Ford Motor Co. Sterling Township plant.

Panorama U.S.A.

(EDITOR'S NOTE: Glimpses from the U.S. scene this week include oysters fattened on cornmeal in Florida, two presidential greeters leaving Texas, a windblown lady atop the Arizona Capitol, a white dog leading a destructive pack in Maryland and signs of a long winter in Colorado.)

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP) — A worldwide search for a food to fatten oysters seems to have ended in a Florida cornfield.

The State Conservation Department reports that a diet of pulverized cornmeal puts zing in an oyster's life—comparatively speaking.

"It's the darndest thing," research director Robert Ingle reported.

"Cornmeal isn't a thing the average oyster would be able to find. Yet, when we feed them the things they would get in the sea, nothing happens. They don't get fat, tasty or anything."

NOT SIMILAR

Fat in an oyster isn't like fat on a person. Instead, it is a substance called glycogen and it makes the oysters plumper, firmer, tastier and makes them go down much smoother.

In September—when Florida's oyster season opens—oysters lack glycogen, and hence lack table appeal.

"Logically, bacteria, cancelled plants, and the like ought to make the oysters fat," Ingle said. "We grew these at great expense and trouble in the laboratory at St. Petersburg but the oysters acted as if they never heard of them."

"We heard that old-timers on the coast said oysters could be fattened in a tub of water with cornmeal. So we powdered some, made it fine as talcum powder, and fed it to our oysters," the research director said.

"The results were spectacular. In three weeks they fattened up tremendously."

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — How would you like the chance to have regular informal chats with the President of the United States?

That was the exciting lot of Col. and Mrs. Frank Bender, who are leaving Texas after almost two years as presidential greeters at Bergstrom Air Force Base here.

Whenever President Johnson used Bergstrom on his weekend trips to Texas, the Benders were on hand—Bender in his role as commanding officer of the big Strategic Air Command base, his blonde wife as an official assistant.

The President often kissed Mrs. Bender on the cheek after warmly shaking the colonel's hand.

HER COMMENTS

What did Mrs. Bender say to the President?

"I told him how much I watch him on television, and I always had to tell him what I thought of his appearances. Once as he was going back to Washington, tanned and relaxed, he listened to my comments about a television speech and then said with a grin: 'And I always look better when I've been at the ranch, don't I?'"

The Benders say they are looking forward to life in Jackson, Miss., where he will run an auto dealership, but it won't be as exciting as being a presidential greeter.

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — She may be curious, or she may be restless, but the lady on top of the old Arizona State Capitol isn't about to be anchored in one spot.

The statue of the lady holding a torch originally was placed on the Capitol dome as a weather vane.

Unfortunately, the prevailing wind usually turned the lady so her posterior was presented to the front of the building.

She isn't used as a weather vane any more, but she still won't face to the front all the time.

WON'T CHANGE

Floyd Williams, the building superintendent, is forced occasionally to turn large set screws which hold the lady in place. A few days later, the prevailing wind has her rear facing Phoenix again.

"I'm going to keep turning the screws instead of anchoring her down," Williams said. "A real strong desert wind, instead of turning our lady around, might blow her off the building."

SHAVOX, Md. (AP) — A huge, snow-white German shepherd dog that roams the pine forests near this Eastern Shore village has become a legend in his own time.

Leading a pack of wild dogs that numbers variously from 15 to 25, he has destroyed chickens, hogs, countless dogs and cats and an untold number of deer.

Harry Powers, dog control officer for Wicomico County, said he's been after the pack for more than three months.

STAY IN WOODS

"I've dropped six of them and Ray has gotten four more. They hang up back in the woods being here."

"They've got into some pigs down there and they've killed any number of dogs. They'll attack anything that gets in front of them—human or animal either one."

"I'm just afraid they're going to get a kid."

Powers describes the leader as "pure white and he's big. He's not mixed. If there's any thing mixed with him, you can't tell it."

BIG, SHAGGY

"The rest look like wolves—big and shaggy. I'd guess they weigh from 40 to 60 pounds. But the leader will go close to 100."

"I've been on 'em for more than three months, but you can make a dozen trips down here and you never see them. Once they smell you or hear you, they're gone. They've been shot at so much they're wise to us."

DENVER, Colo. (AP) — Skiing never is very far from the minds of Coloradans. Especially those who depend for a living on dollars spent by winter visitors.

Floods in June and wet, cool weather in July cut sharply into the state's summer tourist season, although there was a big pickup in August.

Now Clarence Hickom, manager of the Colorado Visitors Bureau, and other authorities say there may be some compensations—the ski season may be longer than usual this winter.

Old-timers in the mountains claim to have noted signs of a long, hard winter—beavers building bigger storage caches earlier, mountain ponies turning shaggy, antlers higher than usual, and songbirds flying South.

The 1964-65 ski season in Colorado began in November and lasted well into May.

MOLLY GETS READY — Molly Creech Rice of Harlan, Ky., waits impatiently for fall so she can hike alone in the Kentucky mountains and "bag me a few squirrels." Now, 81, Mrs. Rice recalls as a child she used to snitch her father's gun and go hunting.

Speed It Up Some, Fall; Molly's Itchin' to Hunt

HARLAN, Ky. (AP) — Molly Creech Rice waits impatiently for this time of year so she can hike alone in her native southeastern Kentucky mountains and "bag me a few squirrels."

Molly or Jack, as her family always called her, is wiry and leathery-faced, with sparkling eyes that belie her 81 years.

"I used to win some hard shooting contests from men," she recalls, "and I guess I still

He's Still Too Busy to Be Old

BLYTHER, Calif. (AP) — Character actor - stunt man Duane Hamlin, approaching his 80th birthday, has a prescription for old age: action.

Hamlin has thrived on it. He recalls his youth this way: At 18, he piloted a stagecoach through holiday country. Later, he drew Army pay as a scout for hunting Mexican bandits Pancho Villa. In World War I, he flew with Eddie Rickenbacker.

Today, virtually the only sign of age on the red-bearded, robust film veteran is a tiny wire leading to a hearing aid in his left ear.

"I'll be 80 next month," says Hamlin, "but I don't feel my age. What I really like to do these days is challenge kids in their 20s to a tussle. I guess the fact that I was a stunt man kept me in shape."

RODE STAGECOACH

Born in Shiprock, N.M., Nov. 5, 1885, Hamlin had a brief stagecoach career. Six robberies in a row—the last ending when he shot and killed his assailant—deterred him, he said.

After the war, he turned to the movies. He recalls proudly that he crashed a plane in Clark Gable's "Hell's Angels," wrestled a gorilla in a Tarzan film, and rode horseback garbed as an Arab in Rudolph Valentino's "The Sheik."

Stunts were always his specialty. As recently as 1960, Hamlin dived 65 feet into a river for the cameras. Such feats continue to earn him roles in television Westerns—"Maverick," "Death Valley Days" and "Wagon Train."

Hamlin married five times. Now he lives alone, putting about a remote desert ranch 18 miles south of Blythe, prospecting for gold and awaiting calls from Hollywood.

Looking back, Hamlin offers this comment on his life of deriding-do: "The most dangerous occupation I've ever had was being a husband."

Physician to Speak at Osteopathic Confab

Dr. Powell will appear on the program of the American College of Osteopathic Podiatrists.

could although my eyes aren't as good as they used to be."

The second oldest child in her family, Molly found farm work took her time in childhood with little chance to play dolls or horse.

MANY A FURROW

"I plowed many a furrow then and still do," she said, pointing proudly to her one-acre garden of beans, corn and potatoes at her home in nearby Cumberland.

Molly tagged after her father and cousins on nighttime raccoon hunts through the mountains when she was a child. More than once, she fell asleep near a campfire while the men sat listening for their dogs.

HIGH ON HILLSIDE

She and her husband, Ballard Rice, live in a stone house high on a hillside overlooking Cumberland.

Mrs. Rice's grandfather was a surveyor in Harlan, Bell and Knox counties. He came from North Carolina with his Cherokee Indian bride.

"Grandfather always said he stole grandmother from her family on the reservation and married her," she said.

She and her husband have a house and a timepiece on Cherokee Lake in Tennessee.

"I still haven't tried water skiing but I'm willing to pull anyone who wants to go," she laughed. "But I still find hunting to be my greatest love."

"You know, I think later this fall I'll go out and shoot me a deer before I get too old."

'64 Attendance Mark

SAGINAW (AP) — The seven-day Saginaw Fair drew 312,600 persons this year, including a crowd of 62,345 on Saturday night.

A fair spokesman said this was more than 58 thousand above the 1964 attendance but short of the all-time record of 316,716 set in 1963. The fair set a single day attendance record Sept. 12 when 83,708 persons turned out.

SMACKING OF POLITICS — Politicians go about kissing babies and, although President Johnson isn't running for anything at the moment, he creates the image of the campaigner as he plants a kiss on 2-year-old Courtney Kennedy.

13 Weeks of Talks

U.N. to Open 20th Session

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — In an atmosphere of diplomatic togetherness, the U.N. General Assembly opens its 20th session Tuesday. It's the start of another 13-week season of torrential talk, countless cocktails and hopefully some progress toward peace.

On the opening day, political animosities sink beneath the surface as diplomats from 114 nations gather for what has become the biggest show of its kind on earth.

They meet in the main delegates' lounge and around the entrance to the Assembly Hall, renewing old acquaintances in a spirit not unlike that of a college reunion.

Gradually they fill the seats in the big blue and gold Assembly Hall, keeping up a steady buzz of conversation.

The task of opening the session falls to Alex Quaison-Sackey of Ghana, president of the last session, who will silence the delegates with a rap of the gavel and the pronouncement: "I declare open the 20th session of the General Assembly."

His words will be translated simultaneously from English into Spanish, French, Russian and Chinese—the four other official languages of the United Nations—and the session will be formally under way.

The electronic age has added something new to the scene—two boards at the front of the hall will register by pushbutton the votes of the delegates and flash the outcome.

The electronic voting machine was installed last year, but was never used because of the deadlock over voting rights of debtor nations. It is hoped that the machine, similar to those used in many U.S. state legislatures, will speed the work of the assembly. It has been installed on a trial basis.

Seated on the green marble podium at the front of the hall are the assembly president in the center, with Secretary-General U Thant on his right and C. V. Narasimhan, India, who is Thant's chief aide, at the president's left.

They look out over a sea of green-covered desks, with two delegations sharing a desk in most instances. Each delegation is entitled to six seats in the hall.

This year Ethiopia drew the front desk at the left side of the hall, and the remainder of the desks are allotted by alphabetical order.

Gambia, the first new member to be admitted at this session, will share a desk with Ghana. The space already has been reserved for the 115th U.N. member.

DETAILED WORK

The detailed work of the assembly is carried out by its seven committees — political, special political, economic, social, trusteeship, financial and legal.

Resolutions can be approved by a simple majority in the committees, which have the same membership as the General Assembly. Ratification by the assembly requires a two-thirds majority.

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Episcopal funeral services were planned today for film cartoonist Fred Quimby — creator of the "Tom and Jerry" series. The 78-year-old artist died Thursday after surgery for an undisclosed ailment at a Santa Monica Hospital.

Washington Sidelights

'Happy Birthday, Dear Smithsonian...

By E. VAN WAGONER TUFTY

WASHINGTON — Never has Washington seen such a stupendous birthday party as the 200th anniversary celebration of the sedate Smithsonian Institution, which looks its age. Yet, no one would dare suggest tearing down the red castle-like building with its turreted architecture so different from the rest of the federal buildings.

Men and women of scholarly attainment the world over . . . some 2,000 of them from more than 80 countries . . . were invited to the three-day observance.

From Iceland to Zambia, universities, libraries, scientific societies and art galleries were treated to pageantry and pomp on The Mall, as academic procession, a White House reception and tours of the Smithsonian units and private parties at various embassies.

Probably only a few of the 14 million or more American tourists, who visit the Smithsonian Institute each year, realize that the founder was a Britisher, James Smithson, who never set foot in the United States.

This scholar-scientist left his entire estate to this country "for the increase and diffusion of knowledge among men." And few know that under the jurisdiction of the Smithsonian are a dozen or more affiliated units (it has always amused me that the Washington Zoo is administered by the Smithsonian).

The twelve located in Washington were closed to the public during the birthday, officially recognized by Presidential proclamation.

Some of the treasures in the Smithsonian, sometimes called the "nation's attic," which always get a lot of attention from Americans, although might not be sought out by foreign guests are: the original Star Spangled Banner which inspired the national anthem written by Francis Scott Key; the Hall of Gems where the Hope Diamond is on display; the collection of 19th century children's toys; and exhibit of manned space flight.

The only Michigan engagement of the famous Marine band will be in Holland on Oct. 12. The "President's Own" (so named by Thomas Jefferson) will make a 10,000 mile tour to 61 cities. These annual tours originated under the direction of John Philip Sousa in 1891.

Some 2,000 delegates from 120 countries attended the recent Washington World Conference on World Peace Through Law. At the round of parties, the lawyers all seem to voice the same idea, even M. A. Kasuri, President of the West Pakistan Bar Association, who said, "differences should be settled in the court of law not on the battlefield."

When and if Vice President Hubert Humphrey is given an official residence the first guest might appropriately be Michigan Senator Pat McNamara.

While others talked, he appointed a special Public Works subcommittee, set up the current hearings, and even included himself in the group of three senators, headed by Senator Edmund Muskie, D-Me. Senator John Sherman Cooper of Kentucky is the Republican member.

President of the General Federation of Women's Clubs, Mrs. William Hasebrook, who is the honorary chairman of National Bible Week, October 18-24, said "The reading of the Bible is a mental approach that will exclude materialism."

Ann Mackie, the daughter of Congressman and Mrs. John Mackie of Flint, may have a long range plan to run for Congress some day.

She's president of the Young Democrats at Vassar College and has succeeded in lining up some VIP speakers to come to the campus this fall . . . but not her father. He promised to pinch-hit if she failed to snare anyone else but she got acceptance from two Roosevelts: Franklin and James and the local New York Congressman Joseph Resnick, for whom she campaigned in the last election.

Lions Get 'Big Play' in 20-0 Victory

Offensive Unit Comes Alive in Final Quarter

Defensive Team Puts Clamp on Los Angeles Rams Offense

By BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

The elapsed time was 7:42 of the 4th quarter on a hot, muggy September afternoon at Tiger Stadium before 48,941 fans.

For 7½ periods, including the final exhibition game, the Detroit Lions had been searching for that "big play" to cross the goal line.

Finally it came. Quarterback Milt Plum fired the ball from the 34 yard line. Terry Barr made a tremendous one handed catch over the head of defender Chuck Lamson and went in from the four for the touchdown that tied a 20-0 victory over the Los Angeles Rams.

"We haven't been able to come up with that big play in most of our previous games and even in this game, but that pass and catch was it," said head coach Harry Gilmer.

For 3½ periods, led by captain Joe Schmidt and the "Fearless Four," the Lions' defense was superb, front and secondary. They labored in 90-degree heat to protect a 3-0 lead made possible by Wayne Walker's 45-yard field goal in the first period.

CAN'T SCORE

For the next two periods it looked like the same story for the Lions as they recovered two fumbles, made three interceptions but found the white scoring stripe impossible to penetrate.

Once in the second quarter the Lions had a first down on the Rams' 17 and ended up missing a 47-yard field goal.

After Schmidt intercepted late in the third quarter on the Rams' 26 the Lions again had to settle for a field goal, a 35 yarder to start the fourth quarter by Walker to make 6-0.

Then the offense started to move, with Nick Pietrosante leading the ground game.

After an LA punt it took only four plays to go 77 yards with Barr making his great catch. This made it 13-0 with Walker's point.

Bobby Thompson made Detroit's third interception of the day on his own 33 (Continued on Page C-10, Col. 5)

Browns, Dallas, Eagles Win

Cleveland's Defense Sparkles

WASHINGTON (AP) — The offense was a bit below par, but Cleveland's defense showed the same ferocity as it did last December in blanketing Baltimore 27-0 for the National Football League title.

And the champion Browns were off and running Sunday in their bid for a second successive NFL title with a 17-7 opening victory over the Washington Redskins.

The plight of the Redskins offense was epitomized by kicker Bob Jencks, who hit nine for nine with one blocked in the exhibition season, sailing them through the uprisings from as far out as 47 yards.

He missed three-for-three Sunday, from 17, 22 and 54 yards. Either of the first two would have tied the score at 3-3 in the second quarter.

The Redskins defense held Jimmy Brown to 65 yards in 21 carries, but Ernie Green broke loose for 80 yards in 11 carries.

CARDS TRUMPED — PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Because Tim Brown did something he didn't want to do, the Philadelphia Eagles turned in the big upset of the opening day of the 1965 National Football League season.

At least that was part of the story behind the Eagles' 34-27 win over the St. Louis Cardinals, the team expected to challenge defending champion Cleveland for Eastern honors.

During pre-season training, the 28-year-old Brown made it clear he was unhappy with Kuharich's effort to convert him

GB Whips Steelers; 49ers Shatter Bears

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Green Bay's Bart Starr twice has led the National Football League in passing and if his performance Sunday was any indication of things to come, this could be the third year.

Starr completed 17 of 23 passes for 226 yards and two touchdowns as the Packers opened their season with a 41-9 trouncing of the Pittsburgh Steelers.

He also ran his NFL record of passes without an interception to 248 attempts.

Starr completed eight of 12 passes in the first half but they gained only 76 yards and the Packers left the field trailing 7-7 as Pittsburgh's Mike Clark made good on three field goal attempts. The Packers score came on Herb Adderley's 29-yard run with an intercepted pass.

PACKERS ROAR — But the Packers got untracked in the second half while the Steelers seemed to wilt in the 94-degree heat.

With Starr completing four of four passes for 73 yards, the Packers drove 79 yards in eight plays for a TD. The score came on Starr's 32-yard pass to Marv Fleming.

Green Bay followed this with two field goals and then turned the game into a rout with three touchdowns in the fourth quarter. One of them came on Starr's 10-yard pass to Paul Hornung.

STRIKE GOLD — SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — What do all those points mean? Have the San Francisco 49ers emerged as a power in the National Football League after two seasons in the Western Division cellar?

Pontiac golfers walked off with the Recreation Association of Michigan championship Saturday for the sixth year in a row at Flint's Swartz Creek Golf Club.

The five-man Pontiac team wound up with 380 strokes, six better than runner-up Ann Arbor.

Leading the winners was Columbus Burton with a 36-36-72, one stroke back of medalist Mickey McMillan of Midland.

Behind Burton came city champion Paul Bada (37-39-78), Wally Smith (39-37-78), Berg Hogg (37-39-78) and Joe Kallis (43-37-80).

Two series of downs by the defense in the first quarter were the turning point to Coach Don DeLoe's punt. Paul Lutz hit Doug Keating with a 13-yard pass to make it 12-0.

In the second quarter, Carl Gromek, who had 90 yards in 13 tries, slanted 21 yards for a touchdown and Brother Rice led 19-0 at intermission.

DeLoe climaxed a long sustained drive in the final quarter on a two yard plunge by Tim Sawkin.

Sparked by the running of Greg Pilette and Carl Gromek, Brother Rice started its 1965 football season off on the right foot by downing Detroit De La Salle, 19-4, Sunday.

Pilette, who netted 124 yards in 11 carries, ramblled 47 yards in the opening series of the game for the touchdown.

A few minutes later after a field goal by P. Lutz, Lutz hit Doug Keating with a 13-yard pass to make it 12-0.

MSU Has Hawaii Flavor

'M' Plans Pass Drills After Close Victory

ANN ARBOR (AP) — Michigan gridders can expect a lot of work on pass defense and ball handling this week in preparation for Saturday's home opener with California.

Coach Bump Elliott may continue to go with two quarterbacks for a while, however. He shuffled Wally Garbler and Dick Vidmer back and fourth with much success in a season-opening 31-24 victory over North Carolina Saturday.

The Wolverines fumbled the ball away five times and saw the surprisingly tough Tar Heels set two school passing records before succumbing.

"It was hot out there," Elliott said of the announced temperature of 86 at game time. "Hotter than I've ever experienced before for a football game."

"We didn't particularly like to lose the ball so many times, but I think the heat and the fact that the boys' hands were wet from perspiration had something to do with it."

The fumbles set up two North Carolina touchdowns and cost the Wolverines another.

Tar Heel quarterbacks, instructed by coach Jim Hickey to pass on every down if the situation presented itself, set school marks for passes attempted (41) and completed (24).

Gabler opened the scoring with a 31-yard touchdown pass midway through the first period. The play was sent in from the bench and Elliott continued to use either Vidmer or Gabler whenever a particular play presented itself.

Jim DeWittier scored twice on runs of six and two yards, and Jack Canale caught a 10-yard pass from Vidmer after the ball bounced off teammate Steve Smith and a defender for the other Michigan scores.

In the only touchdown run of the game, 51-yarder, Apisa shook off would-be tacklers with all the grace of a limadancer. Daugherty, given to underestimation in success, conceded Apisa "shows signs he's going to be a pretty good football player."

TOP BACK — Other observers rate him as one of the fastest big backs to show up at Michigan State in years.

The other recruit from Hawaii looked equally effective. Permitting a pun, you could say that Dick Kenney laid to rest the idea that barefoot kicking is just a gimmick. Kenney, who was a naked kicking foot, gave MSU its first two-field-goal game with his 34 and 23 yarders. He also made the extra punt and contributed a 48-yard punt—his only time the Spartans were forced to punt in the game.

Quarterback Steve Juday was enthused about the promise of his backfield.

"It feels good to have some beef back there for a change," said Juday.

Senior fullback Eddie Cotton and 206-pound halfback Clint Jones also were throwing their weight around. Jones made 51 yards rushing and Cotton had 29 yards.

Juday did a steady job of signal calling although there were a lot of opening game mistakes. He completed 12 of 23 passes for 121 yards. Jones caught three for 55 yards and end Gene Washington pulled down four for 23 yards.

ONE BEATS TWO — Michigan's Carl Ward (19) cuts upfield after leaving one North Carolina defender sprawled on the Chapel Hill gridiron and another Turbett directly behind Ward is already sidestepping Saturday. The Wolverines brought home a 31-24 opening game conquest.

Set X-Coach Clinic — The Michigan Inter-Scholastic Track Coaches Association sponsoring a cross-country clinic is Tuesday evening at 6:30 p.m. at U. of D. High School on West 7 Mile Road.

Mikes, WOLL Post Opening Loop Wins

St. Michael and Waterford, Our Lady of Lakes lived up to their billing as league favorites yesterday by posting impressive football victories in Macomb-Oakland Catholic League games.

And the stage is set for what could be an early crowning of the champ. With the Mikemen traveling to Waterford to meet the Lakers next Sunday.

WOLL's Lakers blanked St. Frederick, 28-0, and the Mikemen pinned a 46-0 setback on Detroit St. Bernard.

The Lakers were slowed by mistakes and fumbles in the first half, but tumbled out the wrinkles in the second half and scored 13 points in the third period and 13 more in the fourth.

Halfback Don Guilford tallied on an eight-yard run midway in the third stanza and the Lakers were on their way to victory.

Moments later, tackle Rick St. Louis picked up a blocked punt and rambled 30 yards for six points. Guilford ran the extra point to tie the lead to 13-13.

The Lakers wrapped up the game in the fourth with Deney Gardner scoring on a five-yard run and Rick Adams hitting pay dirt on an eight-yard dash.

LEADS MIKEMEN

Senior halfback Mike Thornberry scored one touchdown, passed for another and picked up 134 yards rushing in leading St. Michael to the easy victory.

The Mikemen scored 34 points in the first half and added single touchdowns in the final two periods.

Bob French tallied from five yards out, Mike Lesano went over on a deep-end run and quarter Greg Glyn passed 30 yards to end Steve Kraft in the first quarter as St. Mike rang up 21 points.

Thornberry built his way over on a four-yard run in the second and Glyn scampered 24 yards for six points in the second quarter.

Kraft hauled in a 35-yard toss from Glyn in the third and Thornberry passed 35 yards to Tom Slavin to wrap up the scoring in the fourth stanza.

In other Macomb League game, Richmond St. Augustine and New Baltimore St. Mary battled to a 6-6 tie and Detroit St. Rose edged Marine City Holy Cross, 6-2.

Eagles Trim FOLS

OL St. Mary Starts With Victory

Those Eagles of Orchard Lake St. Mary are off and running again.

The Eagles, who earned a share of the Northwest Parochial League title in 1964, got off to a successful start by defeating their crown yesterday with a 28-7 victory over Farmington Our Lady of Sorrows.

In other Northwest League games, Detroit St. Rita edged a Highland Park St. Benedict, 13-4; Royal Oak St. Mary blanked U.S. Lawrence, 13-6; and Ferndale St. James blanked St. Francis, 34-0.

The Eagles big test is expected to come next Sunday when they play host to the potent St. James eleven.

OLSM was never in trouble against the Farmington OLS squad.

SCORE EARLY

The Eagles pushed across a touchdown in the opening quarter and added three more in the second frame for a 28-0 halftime lead. The lone FOLS score came in the final period.

Pacing the Eagles was quarterback Conrad Krogulnecki, who scored once and passed for another score.

In Saturday contests, Royal

Oak St. Mary surprised Waller Lake, 7-0. Country Day tripped Webberville, 13-4. Anse Creuse topped Fraser, 13-6 and Mount Clemens lost to Lakeview, 19-13.

The Waller Lake-Kimball tilt was an outstanding defensive battle that saw the Knights stop Waller Lake's fourth period surge at two key points.

After Mike Yankee's 16-yard run and Ron Hare's kick had given Royal Oak a 7-0 halftime lead, the Vikings fought back with a one-yard plunge by Rick Schmalz.

However, Jim Gallery led a Kimball charge that stopped the quarterback on the extra-point attempt, and Gallery again led the defense as the Vikings were halted at the ROK 11-yard-line on four tries late in the game.

Steve Tarncy ran 10 yards for a score and Rick Colman went 15 yards with an intercepted pass to state County Day's win.

Quarterback Karl Sweetan who got his pants dirty more than usual Saturday night, led the Pontiac Arrows to a 21-19 victory over the Dayton Colts before 4,780 excited fans at Wisner Stadium.

The game was a far different story from the two routs over Flint and Sturgis which netted 135 points for the Arrows, but for Sweetan it was another outstanding performance.

The ex-Lions' rookie quarterback hit on 16 of 28 passes for three touchdowns and he booted the three important extra points.

In the process of winning, however, Sweetan had to scramble for his life on several occasions as the huge Dayton defensive line which averaged 285 pounds, chased him and nailed him four times.

The Arrows lost the battle of statistics for the first time since they first set back except for three interceptions by Jesse Parrish and a pair of fumble recoveries in the second half.

As the first regular season game to cross Pontiac's goal line, Dayton stunned the Arrows by marching 77 yards in 11 plays with quarterback Pete McMillan passing to K. E. H. Smith for a 16-yard touchdown. Bill Colt converted and after 6:50 minutes, the Colts led 7-0.

ARROWS MARCH

Immediately afterward the Arrows moved 77 yards in 12 plays with Sweetan passing to ex-MSU star Dan Follis for a six-yard touchdown and the point to tie 7-7.

A fake kick gamble failed for Dayton and on the 40 yard line the Arrows started their next drive in the 2nd quarter. Trapped 15 yards behind his own line, Sweetan raced to both sides, eluding tacklers and he finally made it to the six yard line for an official 19-yard gain.

He then hit Bobby Hill six yards and made the point to go 14-7.

DAYTON STARTS

From the 10 minute mark of the third quarter, Dayton then controlled the issue most of the way.

Mikolajewski passed six yards to end Chuck McElligott but Cole missed the point to make it 21-13, and in the final minute of the game a 20 yard pass to Smith completed the scoring. The point by Cole was blocked by Pryor.

The game could have been ended early in the fourth quarter when Pryor recovered a fumble. Sweetan moved the Arrows in five plays from the 26 connecting with end Mike Pryor for a 6-yard touchdown. The point made it 21-19.

The play was nullified, however, as officials ruled that Pryor was not touched or downed and under pro rules he should have been awarded his 10 yard return.

Both coaches however agreed that Pryor was not touched or downed and under pro rules he should have been awarded his 10 yard return.

In another Midwest Football League game, Lansing edged Milan, 15-10, thus putting Pontiac atop the MFL standings with a 2-0 mark.

Golf Champion Plans to Coach

TULSA, Okla. (AP) — Jack Nicklaus and Arnold Palmer can relax. But Bear Bryant might have some problems even he doesn't know about.

Bob Murphy, a cigar-chomping, supremely confident University of Florida student who won the National Amateur Golf Championship, has no intention of turning to pro golf.

His immediate plans call for a career as a football coach. Which puts him in Bear's field. If his fortunes as a coach are anything at all like his progress as a golfer, Bear and the rest of the nation's major college coaches had better watch out. He didn't take up golf seriously until about five years ago, and that only because a shoulder separation playing high school football kept him out of the college game.

Peter Green, Franklin, Mich., fired a 77 in the final round for a 70-70-81-77—310 total.

BREAKING UP — Race driver Carl Bailey's car is in pieces as it flips over following collision with car raced by Don Gillette yesterday at Trenton, N.J., Speedway. Gillette, a New Yorker, was killed when his car landed upside down on guard rail; while North Carolinian Bailey (in car) suffered severe back injuries.

Big 10 Grid Teams Get Off to Poor Start

CHICAGO (AP) — Off to one of its worst starts in history against intersectional opposition, the Big Ten was lucky to keep its head above water in the opening weekend of the 1965 football season.

With Ohio State starting a week later, Big Ten teams could do no better than four victories, three losses and a pair of ties against foes from all corners of the nation.

Purdue, Michigan, Michigan State and Indiana won, Minnesota and Wisconsin had to settle for ties and Northwestern, Iowa and Illinois were defeated.

Purdue, ranked ninth nationally and favored to represent the Big Ten in the Rose Bowl, crushed Miami of Ohio 38-0, but kept its power under wraps for the Notre Dame meeting next Saturday.

Indiana made John Pont's Big

Ten coaching debut a success with a 19-7 victory over Kansas State behind the power running of halfback John Ginter.

Minnesota played to a 20-20 tie against Southern Cal Friday night and Wisconsin was held to a scoreless tie by Colorado Saturday, although the Badgers kept threatening throughout the second half.

Illinois dropped a 12-10 decision to Oregon State when the

Death Claims Veteran Solon

Oklahoman Served 24 Years in Senate

LAWTON, Okla. (AP) — Former U.S. Sen. Elmer Thomas, an elder statesman who had spent almost one-half his 80 years in state and national political office, died Sunday in a Lawton hospital.

Thomas, who retired from office after his defeat by the now Sen. A. S. Mike Monroney in the 1950 Democratic primary, had appeared to be recovering from a Sept. 7 operation when he suffered a setback. He was 80 Sept. 8.

Funeral services were scheduled for 10 a.m. Tuesday at Lawton.

Thomas held political office for more than 40 years including 24 years in the U.S. Senate.

WAS AUTHORITY

He gained recognition during his tenure as lawmaker as an authority on financial affairs, Indian legislation and farm and oil matters.

At the time of his defeat by Monroney, Thomas was chairman of the Senate Agriculture Committee and chairman of the Appropriations subcommittee on military affairs.

Thomas later practiced law in Washington, D.C., until 1957, when he returned with his wife to Lawton.

Thomas in 1962 endorsed a Republican candidate for his old Senate post. He declared Monroney had compiled a record of radical voting and reckless public spending policies which made it impossible for him to support the man who succeeded him.

PRaises FOE

Monroney, in a statement issued Sunday from Washington, eulogized his old political foe, saying, "Through many years of dedicated work in the public interest, Sen. Thomas earned a place of enduring honor in our state and nation."

Prior to election to the Senate, Thomas had served as a U.S. representative from Oklahoma four years and spent 13 years in the Oklahoma Legislature.

Kremlin Shift Said Only Matter of Time

By WALTER LOGAN
United Press International

Diplomatic sources in the conference city of Geneva with close Soviet connections were not too surprised by the flurry of rumors about a possible imminent change in the top Kremlin leadership.

As they see it a changeover would fit in with the pattern of a shifting collective leadership that has developed since the ouster of Nikita S. Khrushchev.

The only question appears to be when. Moscow sources available to UPI believe they are some months away.

But in Geneva, Communist sources say changes involving party leader Leonid I. Brezhnev, Premier Alexei N. Kosygin and President Anastas I. Mikoyan may be tipped at the coming Communist party meeting in Moscow.

SHARPER CONFLICT: Diplomatic sources in London expect a further sharpening of the Sino-Soviet conflict because of Red China's increasingly aggressive and expansionist Asian policy.

Peking also has stepped up its campaign against possible Russian participation in the forthcoming Afro-Asian conference in Algiers in November amidst growing indications Moscow has been able to muster support from a number of neutral countries.

ELECTION SATELLITE: French space experts are working full speed on plans to orbit a crude satellite shortly before the presidential elections Dec. 5.

Government strategists in Paris believe the spectacular would swing a massive vote behind President Charles de Gaulle should he run, or his nominee by giving his regime credit for making France the world's third space power.

Should the first shot fail a second three-stage diamond rocket will stand by for a second attempt.

AMERICAN IDEA: Indonesia has made it clear it will shun

Officials in Jakarta say participation is out because the bank is an American idea.

Moreover, its contributors and beneficiaries will likely include Malaysia and South Viet Nam.

Indonesia already has dropped out of the World Bank and the International Monetary Fund because it thinks they are "American imperialist schemes."

GERMAN PROBLEM: Germany is expected to loom large in Soviet affairs the next few days with East German Communist leader Walter Ulbricht visiting Moscow after Czech President Antonin Novotny's visit and a surprise trip to Warsaw by Soviet party leader Leonid Brezhnev.

Communist leaders presumably are tightening their views in connection with the exploratory visit of West German Foreign Undersecretary Karl Carstens to preside at West Germany's national day ceremonies at a chemical exposition.

There are indications he will try to probe Soviet views on the possible new outlook toward Germany after the German election.

The Soviet press says there can be no improved relations as long as Germany continues to seek access to nuclear weapons and tries to reclaim lands now held by Poland.

An estimated five million cars and 700,000 trucks will be sent to junkyards in the nation this year.

Owner Vows to Fix Building

DETROIT (UPI) — A rattle-infested building that apparently spawned an outbreak of hepatitis was scheduled to undergo extensive renovation today.

The owner of the building, where seven cases of hepatitis have broken out, had been warned by the mayor's office that he would order all 250 tenants in the building to evacuate if conditions were not immediately improved.

The owner, James King, said he would begin today to make corrections in 11 deficiencies in the brick building. His decision came after an hour-long meeting with angry tenants and city officials.

King said he would "cooperate to the fullest."

Beatles' Hit Record

HAVANT, England (UPI) — Police rushed to a house here yesterday when a citizen reported someone had screamed "help."

The officers found a party in progress. On the phonograph, the Beatles' new hit song was being loudly aired.

Outstanding Award Goes to Holt Doctor

DETROIT (AP) — The Michigan State Medical Society Sunday named Dr. Franklin L. Troost of Holt as the first recipient of its Outstanding Physician award.

The society's Centennial Session also approved certificates of commendation to Dr. Fred J. Hodges of Ann Arbor, Traian Leucutia and Remus G. Robinson, both of Detroit.

Dr. Troost was cited for public service and civic achievements. He served on the Michigan Board of Registration in Medicine, and as the Holt High School team physician for 35 years. He was especially lauded for his service as chairman of the Delhi Township Zoning Board and as a delegate to his county and state political party conventions.

A native of London, Ont., Dr. Troost was graduated from the University of Michigan Medical School and has been practicing medicine in Holt for 35 years.

CAREER IN RADIOLOGY

Doctor Hodges was cited for his "distinguished career in radiology at the University of Michigan for 34 years."

Dr. Leucutia, a radiologist at Detroit's Harper Hospital, was cited for "contributions as editor and officer of state and national Roentgen Ray Societies."

Dr. Robinson, who has practiced medicine in Detroit for 25 years, was honored for his service "as president of the Detroit Board of Education and as a leader in many civic efforts."

About 45 million Americans visited art museums and galleries in the nation last year.

Las Vegas School Chief's Formula—Education First

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (U)—The applicant for the key position at opposite the school superintendent and stated his qualifications.

“You’re dumb, your applying for the job shows it,” said the superintendent. “Your record shows you don’t surround yourself with good people.”

The applicant was astonished. “So, I’m going to recommend you,” said the superintendent.

“And you know what?” says Dr. Leland Newcomer cheerfully, “That man is now one of the best we have. He surrounded himself with good people and is doing a great job.”

This personal technique is just one approach Newcomer has to the problems of the gambling capital’s schools, one of the fastest growing districts in the nation.

His formula is long hours, innovation, “intellectual excitement,” thoughtful analysis and bluff.

NO BUSES

In 1963, he canceled school bus service to preserve budget money for a teachers’ pay increase. This forced legislators into special session amid legions of marching mothers.

He will cut all services if necessary, he says, to keep money available for good teachers and equipment. Services, or “shared responsibilities” as he calls them, include athletics, driver training, school buses, health and hygiene, art and music.

“These responsibilities have been forced on the schools by the church, home and government,” says Leland Newcomer.

“They’re fine, too. But if the legislature wants them, it will have to pay for them.”

Newcomer, 44, came to Las Vegas in 1961 from the Covina, Calif., school system.

He stepped in amid rousing controversy, waves of resignation, District officials were juggling and searching for soaring school enrollment—17,000 in 1955, 28,000 in 1960, 58,000 today. In 1962, enrollment jumped 8,000.

SIX MONTHS

“When I took over here they said, ‘Sit back, get the lay of the land, find where the power is. I don’t believe that. When you’re hired you have a six-month honeymoon period in which you can get a lot of things done.”

“Take the members of the power structure. They don’t have kids in school. They don’t care. Those are the people I talked to first.”

While still conversing with parents, Newcomer runs a Mesa-Paradise-Reno district of 80 schools which includes computer programming and a one-room school in a ghost town. Nine more schools open this fall, eight more are planned.

To troubleshoot his system, Newcomer recruited a young staff which has earned the name of “Newcomer’s $100,000 infield.”

Arrest Son of Woman in Prayer Case

WHEELING, W.Va. (AP)—William J. Murray, whose mother figured in the Supreme Court case banning public school classroom prayers, is being held here on a year-old charge of assaulting Baltimore police officers.

Murray, 19, was arrested Sunday on a tip from Baltimore authorities. Officers who picked up Murray in a hotel said he told them he was "tired of running" and wanted to give himself up at Baltimore.

The youth and his mother, Madelyn Murray, have been wanted in Baltimore since June 1964 on charges they assaulted police officers attempting to serve a court injunction forbidding Murray to see a girl whose family objected to his religious views.

The Murrays fled to Hawaii before coming to trial. They left Hawaii recently after that state's highest court, upheld their extradition to Maryland. Mrs. Murray was still at large Sunday.

Murray was being held in lieu of $2,500 bond. Police said they expected him to waive extradition.

The nation's weather picture continued to be a portrait in contrasts this morning, as summer breezes hovered over the East and arctic winds raked the Rockies.

Temperatures dipped into the upper 20s this morning in the central Rocky Mountains while some areas reported snow flurries. Casper, Wyo., recorded an inch of new snow Sunday.

Readings in the 40s prevailed from the northern Rockies to the central Plains. In the southeastern portion of the country, morning temperatures were mostly in the 70s.

Temperatures ranged from 30 at Lander, Wyo., to 83 at Corpus Christi Naval Air Station in Texas.

SOUTHEAST

Temperatures in the Southeast generally were above 90 Sunday afternoon.

Thunderstorms this morning were seeking those areas on the dividing line between the western cold front and the eastern warm front.

By shortly after midnight, a six-inch rainfall accumulation at Oklahoma City measured 1.06 inches. Chanute in southeastern Kansas had 1.58 inches and the eastern Iowa community of Ottumwa had 1.00 inches. Cedar Rapids reported 1.04 inches.

Heavy rain Sunday in southwestern Oklahoma caused flash flooding. At Altus Air Force Base, 4.07 inches of rain fell. Hobart, Okla., had 3.04 inches.

Parents Always Knew Project Proves the Obvious

By DICK WEST

United Press International

WASHINGTON—Generally speaking, there are two types of scientific research. One produces something unexpected and the other confirms something that was suspected but unproven.

But it doesn't always work out that way.

Occasionally, a research project will merely duplicate a WEST previous discovery. I ran across one like that the other day while leafing through a magazine in my dentist's waiting room.

It contained an essay written by three psychiatrists who had made a 15-year study of infant behavior patterns. They found that from the moment of birth all children exhibit their own individual style and temperament.

"Each baby we studied had distinctive way of behaving that was recognizable in his first weeks," the doctors reported.

OBVIOUS TO PARENTS

Imagine that! It took these poor medics 15 years to discover something that is obvious to any parent in 15 seconds.

The speed at which parents can recognize distinctive behavior in an infant was impressed upon me again this week when a young couple that I know brought one home from the hospital.

I stopped by to admire the baby and I was amazed by some of the behavioral characteristics they pointed out to me. Take, for instance, arm waving.

Some people might think that all babies wave their arms the same way and for the same reasons. According to the father, this isn't so. Arm waving is a very distinctive and meaningful gesture.

"Look at the way she is waving her arms," he exclaimed. "She's going to be a symphony conductor when she grows up."

I took a closer look and I must say that I have never seen a better impersonation of Leonard Bernstein.

The fact that the waving stopped as soon as he changed the baby's diaper may also have been significant. But he did not elaborate on that point.

A few minutes later, the baby started crying. This also proved to be a distinctive characteristic, fraught with meaning.

"Listen to that," the woman exclaimed. "This girl is going to be an opera singer when she grows up."

Although the aria ended when they gave her a bottle, she continued to exhibit individualistic traits, one being the way she curled her fingers. Which was sure sign that she was going to be a concert pianist.

As I left, the baby was kicking her feet in a distinctive manner characteristic of a ballerina. I was sorry I couldn't stay for her nap. I'll bet she is a very talented sleeper.

Road Toll at 50,700 for 1st Half of Year

CHICAGO (AP) — The National Safety Council says 50,700 persons were killed in traffic accidents on United States roads during the first six months of this year.

The safety council said Sunday the fatalities were a 1 per cent increase over the 50,000 deaths recorded during the first half of 1964.

The death rate from traffic accidents, however, dropped from 55.1 to 54.7 fatalities per 100,000 persons — a decrease of about 1 per cent, the safety council said. The council said an increase in the nation's population caused the decrease.

The soaring demands of industry and speculation have made silver almost too precious to use in coins. Current price is $129.3 an ounce.

Dance Classes Are Scheduled at Central School

The Asian Highway System, a modern, 34,000-mile network that follows ancient caravan routes in many places, is nearing reality.

Long Chains of Craters on Moon—Red

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — The back of the moon has great chains of craters, one chain 900 miles long, a Russian scientist reports.

Dr. B. V. Levin said the Soviet Union's 25 new photographs of the moon's far side show a tremendous number of craters ranging in diameter from 2 to 20 miles.

Dr. Levin of the Schmidt Institute of Earth Physics, Moscow, described the pictures Saturday at the close of a six-day planetary conference held by the California Institute of Technology and the Jet Propulsion Laboratory.

Attending were 150 scientists representing eight nations including the Soviet Union.

SMALL PART

Dr. Levin said the Soviet spacecraft Zond 3, launched July 18, took the photos at a distance of 5,000 to 7,000 miles in a 68-minute fly-by behind the moon.

Dr. Levin said the new photos leave only a small part of the moon's surface unknown.

"The back side of the moon is no longer an enigma," he declared.

Jazz Festival Ends on a 'Record' Note

MONTEREY, Calif. (AP) — The eighth annual Monterey jazz festival ended Sunday night with a record attendance of 30,713 paid admissions.

Performing at the weekend festival were 24 of the nation's leading jazz groups and individual performers.

The Monterey County sheriff reported that the festival attracted the best behaved audience in its history. Not one arrest was made, the sheriff said.

Atlantic Storm Carol Brewing

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Tropical storm Carol, third of the season, boiled up far out in the Atlantic Ocean today but forecasters say the chances are the storm will never reach the United States.

"When a storm forms this far east the chances are good it will not reach the United States," said forecaster Gilbert Clark. "I won't say it isn't possible but it's less likely than if it had formed further to the west."

Carol was 1,600 miles east of San Juan, P.R., and about 2,600 miles east-southeast of Miami at 11 p.m. Sunday and moving west-northwest at 14 miles an hour.

Hurricane Betsy formed far to the west of Carol, about 1,500 miles southeast of Miami, before she grew into the storm that battered the Bahamas, Southern Florida and Louisiana.

"The present intensity and motion of the storm are uncertain due to the scarcity of reports in its vicinity," the San Juan Weather Bureau said after Carol was discovered by the Tiros weather satellite.

Ships in the expected path of the storm were advised to exercise caution but no land areas are threatened for the next 24 to 48 hours.

Monkey Business on a Rental Basis

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — There's monkey business going on at the Toledo Zoo. Each spring the zoo rents from 40 to 50 rhesus monkeys from an animal firm in Warrentown, Va., returning them in September.

Rental is $10 a month each, which is cheaper than feeding them all winter. Zoo Director Philip Skeldon reports.

Frontier army posts—some of them partially restored—still stand within easy driving distance of the year-round capital of Phoenix, Ariz. They include Fort Lowell, Fort Apache and Camp Verde.

Homework Can Be Vital Part of Learning

By LESLIE J. NASON, Ed.D.
Homework can be one of the most important segments of the learning process.

It is the student's chance to learn through reading. He can learn to organize his thoughts. He can prepare for listening the next day. And he can get practice in expressing himself.

Whether he attacks his work promptly or procrastinates; whether he is self-reliant or depends on others; whether he completes his work or leaves jobs half done; whether he holds to high standards or shuffles his work off; whether he persists for understanding and whether he maintains adequate progress or completes only minimum requirements—each is an attitude that becomes habitual and can persist to become a way of life.

Thus, homework is an opportunity for parents to take an active part in the training and education of their children. Not by doing the homework for them, but by helping and encouraging them to take the opportunity provided by this portion of the school tasks to train themselves for successful lives.

The student's attention should not be on training for skills which may quickly become outdated in this automated age. The attitudes and habits of responsibility, promptness, thoroughness and reliability which I am suggesting are general skills which will enable the student to move from job to job by advancement or through the force of changes in industry.

He should be encouraged to do the little extra beyond the written assignment that will foster independent study on his part as time goes on.

At the end of each reading assignment, whatever the course, he should take time to summarize what he has learned—to think, where are we in this subject and what do we do next?

On days when there are not written assignments, he should study the course for a few minutes just for his own benefit to get a better grasp of the general pattern of things past and things to come.

When the written assignments are completed, he should allow time to sit quietly and think about his subjects. This will make the knowledge his own.

TRY TO FIND REASON
If the homework assigned already takes too long and there seems to be no time to do independent study, he should try to find the reason. He may be reading too slowly. He may lack facility in handwriting, or he may be attempting to carry the course at such a low level of mastery that adding new ideas is extremely difficult.

A burst of effort, a thorough review from the beginning, or new techniques of organization may be necessary to bring his scholarship up to the level where each day's homework can be done quicker. This will leave time for the added activities that will make all schoolwork easier in the months and years to come.

WINNER WAVES — Chancellor Ludwig Erhard of West Germany waves to cheering crowd outside the chancellery in Bonn last night after his Christian Democrats surged to victory in that country's parliamentary elections. They easily beat back Willy Brandt's Social Democrats. Brandt is currently mayor of West Berlin.

Coalition Required Erhard Party Is Winner

BONN, Germany (AP) — Chancellor Ludwig Erhard and his Christian Democratic party kept their leadership of West Germany in an election triumph for the chubby government chief.

The voters decided yesterday that after 16 years of Christian Democratic rule they wanted more of the same. The turnout was 86.9 per cent of the eligible voters.

Hot, Humid Rain (Maybe) Is Prediction

Will it rain or won't it? Only the clouds know.

They haven't shown any indication in the last few days of cooperating with their chief prognosticator, the weatherman, and letting some moisture drop.

For the sixth straight day tomorrow, the forecast includes scattered thunder showers with high temperatures and humidity.

Weekend highs of 90 came close to breaking the all-time records, 93 for Saturday and 92 for Sunday. Both were set in 1955.

From a low tonight of 66 to 72, the thermometer is expected to climb to a high tomorrow ranging from 80 to 88.

When will relief to the September heat wave arrive?

According to the weatherman, conditions favorable to showers and thunderstorms will come to an end Wednesday bringing somewhat cooler temperatures.

This morning in downtown Pontiac the mercury registered a low reading of 69.

SEIZING SUN
By 1 p.m. a sizzling sun hiding under a steamy cloud cover pushed the temperature to 88. The relative humidity stood at 82 per cent.

India Says Reds Shooting

155 Cong Said Killed by U. S. Paratroopers

Bodies Are Found in Trench; Planes Strike in Stepped-Up Battle

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — U.S. paratroopers killed 155 Viet Cong in bloody fighting near Ah Khe over the weekend, military authorities said today.

An officer who came here from the fighting area 250 miles to the north said 100 Viet Cong bodies were found today in a trench. They appeared to be victims of air strikes that saturated the operational area in support of paratroopers of the 101st Airborne Brigade.

The report came while the 101st "Screaming Eagle" troopers kept up sporadic contact with the Viet Cong today and paratroopers of the 183rd Airborne Brigade continued their hunt for Viet Cong in the jungles and rubber plantations around Ben Cat, 30 miles north of Saigon.

While American paratroopers were in action in two widely separated areas, spokesman said U.S. Strategic Air Command B52 bombers again pounded a suspected guerrilla stronghold in still a third region, the Mekong River delta south of Saigon.

With the American military commitment in South Viet Nam growing steadily, there appeared to be a definite step-up in U.S.-initiated actions designed to carry the war to the Viet Cong.

WEEK'S OPERATION
The 173rd Paratroopers now have been operating for almost a week in an area just north of Saigon that long has been denied to government forces by strong Viet Cong elements.

Seven Viet Cong have been killed, three wounded and 25 captured so far in the 173rd Operation, which is supported by Vietnamese, New Zealand and Australian troops, a U.S. military spokesman said.

American losses there were described as light by military authorities.

Earlier it had been reported that the 101st had killed 55 Viet Cong and captured 12 in the fighting 17 miles northeast of Ah Khe. Four were said to have been killed last night. Then later it was announced that an additional 100 bodies had been found.

LOSSES LIGHT
Casualties for the 101st also were described as light.

In other highlands action, elements of the newly arrived 1st Cavalry Division Airborne, killed two guerrillas last night as the Viet Cong probed around the paratroopers' base camp at Ah Khe. American losses were called light.

A flight of B52 bombers hit a target in Vinh Vinh Province 80 miles south of Saigon in the 28th reported strike by the planes in the war. It was the second strike in two days in the delta.

FINAL MAKEUP
In yesterday's vote, the Christian Democrats won 245 seats, the Socialists 202 and the Free Democrats 49.

Dem Unit Calls for Tax Reform

EAST LANSING (AP) — The Council called for "immediate" fiscal reform yesterday — but refused to hold the Democratic-controlled Legislature to a timetable.

The policy-level group endorsed the key elements in a tax plan proposed for possible enactment next year by House Speaker Joseph Kowalski, D-Detroit — as did the executive board of the State AFL-CIO Friday.

In a meeting at Michigan State University, the group also backed a graduated state income tax, blasted Republican Gov. George Romney on several counts and commended the Legislature for its record this year.

Fiscal reform, including an income tax, has been a plank in the state Democratic platform, and Democratic State Chairman Zolton Ferency has often been at odds with lawmakers of his own party on the issue of tax changes this year.

Ferency, however, has been silent on the issue since Kowalski issued his plan last Thursday as a counter proposal to a bipartisan program backed by Romney.

BIPARTISAN PLAN
The bipartisan plan is based on a three per cent personal income tax, a five per cent levy on corporations and financial institutions, and repeal of the business activities tax.

It grants sales and use tax relief, as well as modifying some of the intangibles taxes. It also would impose a three-cent-a-pack tax on cigarettes.

It calls for action this fall to start all but the cigarette tax in 1967. The latter would take effect July 1, 1966. The package would yield some $150 million annually in new revenue.

PROFITS TAX
He proposed replacing the business activities tax with a profits tax reportedly between 5 and 5 1/2 per cent — and a reduction of the beer tax — reportedly by about $11 million a year.

Party sources estimated the package would yield $55 million to $60 million a year in new revenue.

Kowalski also backed a popular vote on a constitutional amendment to allow a graduated state income tax instead of the flat-rate levy now demanded by the constitution.

"The council believes this is an appropriate time to work out a major overhaul of the state's tax structure, based on equity, flexibility and ability to pay—including an income tax on corporations, financial institutions and persons," a statement said.

FISCAL REFORM
Fiscal reform, it said, "must provide tax relief to property owners, consumers, small businessmen and farmers."

The group said it "deplored Romney's failure to fulfill his constitutional responsibility to present in bill form comprehensive revenue measures in DISCUSS CRISIS — U.S. Ambassador Arthur J. Goldberg (right), president of the U.N. Security Council, talks with the Indian minister, Education Minister M. C. Chagla at the U.N. Building in New York yesterday. The council demanded today that India and Pakistan order a cease-fire in 48 hours.

Peace in 48 Hours Demanded by U.N.

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—The U.N. Security Council demanded today that India and Pakistan order a cease-fire in 48 hours.

The council voted 10-0 in a postmidnight session to adopt a resolution in those terms strengthening its unanimous cease-fire appeals of Sept. 4 and 6. Jordan abstained.

The resolution, sponsored by the Netherlands, gave an implied warning to Communist China to stay out of the India-Pakistan fighting. It called on "all states to refrain from any action which might aggravate the situation in the area."

Peking has extended until Wednesday an ultimatum to India to dismantle China-Sikkim border fortifications or face "grave consequences."

Security Council delegates had stood by for more than 15 hours while J. G. De Beus of the Netherlands wrenched agreement on the wording from the United States, the Soviet Union, Britain and France.

U.S. Ambassador Arthur J. Goldberg, council president for September, helped De Beus in the negotiations and telephoned President Johnson at least once.

THREAT AVOIDED
The resolution did not contain what Secretary-General U. Thant had suggested — an implied threat to invoke coercive provisions of the U.N. Charter unless India and Pakistan complied. But it left the way open for such action if the council deems it necessary.

Stronger than the two previous resolutions, it asked Thant to help "ensure supervision of the cease-fire and withdrawal." It also asked him to "exert every possible effort to give effect to this resolution," and to report back.

The resolution said that, after a cease-fire and withdrawal, the council would consider "what steps could be taken to assist toward a settlement of the political problem underlying the present conflict."

Despite the official chill, large and enthusiastic crowds applauded the visitors as they drove into the Turkish capital from the airport.

Shastri Claims Chinese Firing Across Border

Charges Peking Is Seeking Position to Dominate All Asia

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — Prime Minister Lal Bahadur Shastri declared today Communist Chinese troops are firing across the Indian frontier in two sectors and that Peking is out to dominate all of Asia.

The Chinese, though pretending they want peace, have started firing in the Sikkim area on the eastern front and in the Ladakh region of Kashmir State on the western front, Shastri said.

China's "basic objective," Shastri said, "is to attain a position of dominance in Asia."

The prime minister declared that notes and protests from Peking make it clear that:

"What China is looking for is not the redress of grievances, real or imaginary, but some excuse to start its aggressive activities again, this time in collusion with its ally Pakistan."

WILL DEFEND
If China persists, Shastri said, "We shall defend ourselves with all the means at our disposal."

Specialist leader Nath Pal jumped to his feet and demanded to know whether Indian units on the China frontier had been ordered to fire back.

"I would merely wish to say we will resist them; we will fight them," Shastri replied.

Shastri made no reply to the resolution passed earlier today by the U.N. Security Council in New York, demanding India and Pakistan end their war within 48 hours.

SPEAK TOMORROW
The resolution deserves the Indian government's most careful consideration, Shastri said, adding he might make a statement tomorrow on the U.N. move.

Shastri, addressing Parliament, then touched on China's charge that India constructed illegally 56 military posts on the Sikkim border in neighboring Chinese territory.

If the posts stand in Chinese territory, he said, why can't the Chinese tear them down? If India sent troops to do the job, he said, it was a clear violation of Chinese territory, he said.

India's Defense Ministry announced earlier that Chinese troops had moved close to "all China passes" on Tibet's border with Sikkim, an Indian protectorate, and that Pakistan also is massing troops on India's eastern frontiers.

TROOPS CLOSE
The ministry said latest reports indicated "Chinese troops have come quite close to all the passes on the Sikkim border. In some cases, they have been seen to be digging in."

The Chinese were seen in two new areas, the ministry said. It identified them as the Hot Spring and Kukche areas of the Ladakh region of northeastern Kashmir State.

About 50 Chinese on horseback were seen at Kukche, which is about 24 miles northwest of the Tibetan village of Demchok and within the Chinese sector of the demilitarized area created after India and Pakistan fought in Ladakh in 1962, the ministry said.

The claims of Chinese firing came from 670 miles to the southeast, in Sikkim.

INDIANS POSTS
The fire was directed at Indian positions near Nathu La Pass, about 30 miles east of Sikkim's capital of Gangtok, and in the Dengka La area in northeast Sikkim, Indian news agencies said.

Turkish Chill Greet Yanks

Reception at Airport Miffs U.S. Officials

ANKARA, Turkey (UPI) — Dissension arose today over the lukewarm reception given U.S. astronauts L. Gordon Cooper and Charles Conrad on their arrival in Turkey.

President Cemal Gursel greeted the spacemen at the presidential palace here last night, but one American official branded the earlier reception of the astronauts at Istanbul as "disgrace."

Gursel praised the astronauts' "eight-day flight as an historic achievement, and they handed him a letter from President Johnson, whom they are representing as personal envoys."

The space twins planned to leave today for Ethiopia on the third stop of their six-nation good will tour.

Turkish-American relations have been strained since the United States declined to support Turkey against Greece in the dispute over Cyprus.

ALONE ON SCENE
At Istanbul, only a protocol officer was at the airport to meet the presidential jet "Air Force 1." One motorcycle policeman escorted the 11-car motorcade into the capital.

"Even Mandy Rice-Davies got more attention when she came here last year," an American resident of Istanbul complained. He was referring to one of the figures in Britain's sex-and-security scandal.

American officials said the spacemen had been given an official cool reception in Izmir as well as Istanbul.

Cooper and Conrad had been scheduled to visit a soccer stadium in Istanbul but the trip was canceled when the city's security chief said he could not guarantee their safety.

GUESTS OF HONOR
Last night, Conrad and Cooper were guests of honor at a supper hosted by the chancellor of Ankara University. It was the first function in their tour given by Turks. All other events had been sponsored by the U.S. government.

Despite the official chill, large and enthusiastic crowds applauded the visitors as they drove into the Turkish capital from the airport.

NEW JERSEY QUADS SLEEP COMFORTABLY — The Sibiga quadruplets of North Plainfield, N.J., rest comfortably yesterday in incubators at Muhlenberg Hospital in Plainfield. Mrs. Edna Sibiga gave birth to the four, three girls and a boy, Saturday. The father, Edward J. Sibiga, 45, said he and his wife had been expecting triplets and added, "I'm so excited I don't know which way I'm going." The suddenly enlarged family already has two other children.

She Wishes At ABWA Brunch to Retire Earlier

By The Emily Post Institute
Q: When spending a week-end in someone's house, is a guest free to go to bed whenever she chooses?

I am not used to late hours and when it gets past a certain time I have all I can do to keep my eyes open.

Would it be discourteous to my hosts to excuse myself and go to bed if they show no signs of retiring, or must I wait for them to make the move?

A: It is up to the host, or hostess, to suggest retiring.

However, when staying in the house of a close friend, if no other guests have been invited in to meet you or you are not needed to make up a foursome at bridge, you can tell your hosts that you are tired and asked if they mind if you went to bed.

BRIDE'S MOTHER

Q: Will you please tell me if it is an exacting etiquette for wedding guests to write notes to the mother of the bride after the wedding telling her how lovely the wedding was and how much they enjoyed being at it?

A: Although not an exacting, close friends and relatives often do write to the mother of the bride telling her how beautiful her daughter looked and how lovely the wedding was.

NEW ADDRESS

Q: My husband and I have just recently moved from an apartment to a house of our own in this same city. I would like to know if it would be permissible to put an announcement of this in our local newspaper, giving our new address.

I thought this would be a simple way of notifying our friends and acquaintances of our change of address. Would this be proper?

A: An announcement in the newspaper is not very practical as you cannot be certain how many of your friends will see it, and if you want to be sure they know your new address, it would be best to choose a more positive way of notifying them of it.

The clothes of the bride and groom as well as those of their attendants are described in the Emily Post Institute booklet entitled, "Clothes of the Bridal Party."

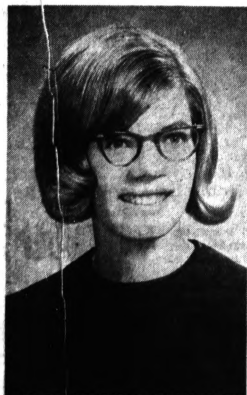

To obtain a copy, send 10 cents in coin and a stamped, self-addressed envelope to Emily Post Institute in care of The Pontiac Press.

The Emily Post Institute cannot answer personal mail, but all questions of general interest are answered in this column.

Great Books Subject of Study Group

Registrations are now being accepted for the first Great Books Discussion Group ever offered in the City of Pontiac.

The Adult Education Department of the Pontiac Public Schools is sponsoring the group which will meet in Webster School Library at 8 p.m. the first and third Thursdays of the month, beginning Oct. 7.

Membership is open to all adults in the community. Neither special educational background, nor tuition fee is required.

LEADERS

Leaders for the new group Mrs. Loyal Joss and Mrs. Donald Dawson, both of Ottawa Drive, report, "The Great Books Foundation is a non-profit educational organization providing adults and children with a means to start or to continue a liberal education through reading and discussion of great books."

Nationally, the group's adult program numbers 50,000. The foundation compiles reading lists and defines the method of discussion employed in the program.

Some For and Some Against

An Art Lover Comments

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN
DEAR ABBY: I just read the letter in your column from "Interested," who was upset because the daughter of a friend of hers posed for an artist in the nude.

In the first place it's none of her business what someone else's daughter is doing.

And if she was any kind of a "friend" she wouldn't be so anxious to get her friend's daughter arrested for indecent exposure.

The human body has been the object of many great and beautiful works of art for many centuries. The only "indecent" thing about the situation she described is the cheap gossip circulated by people with little understanding of art and beauty.

Tell "Interested" that the only thing which has been exposed is her own ignorance. Sign this — which stands as naked as a radish in Florence, Italy, with girly shows and French postcards.

One who does that is obscene with his eyes shut.

DEAR ABBY: It seems to me that we live here in Canada have the right idea about what to do when a man gets a girl in trouble. He either marries her or goes to jail.

I know of a case where a woman had tuberculosis and her husband got the servant girl in a family way. After the wife died the man was forced to marry the girl.

They lived happily together and raised a very nice family.

This way of handling the situation is a lot easier on the taxpayer.

CANADIAN

DEAR CANADIAN: I am not qualified to practice law in the States, much less in Canada. But this is the first time I have ever heard of a man being "forced" to marry a woman.

If you are mistaken, I am certain to hear from many Canadian lawyers. And I'll bet I do.

Art Patrons Dine, Dance Despite Heat

By SIGNE KARLSTROM
The Bloomfield Art Association "Gallery on Cranbrook Road" was the scene of a dinner party Saturday evening when some 150 members enjoyed a delicate dinner in an atmosphere of elegance surrounded by art.

GOURMET FARE

It was their first Gourmet dinner dance and it was also a preview of some of Michigan artists work which exhibit officially opened yesterday.

The entire evening was well planned and in spite of the heat, guests were dancing, visiting at other tables — no doubt discussing some exciting plans for the future of BAA.

Robert Mounsey, chairman of decorations had transformed the Gallery to a perfect dining area with tables set for ten, each decorated with a colorful tree surrounded by candles in various colors. Autumn leaves were in abundance as well as the tiny Italian lights.

As one entered the Gallery Mr. and Mrs. Leroy E. Kiefer together with Mr. and Mrs. Robert Bender greeted the guests.

RECEIVING LINE

In the receiving line were Mr. and Mrs. Robert A. Thom, General Chairmen for this event, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Averill (he is the President of BAA) and Mr. and Mrs. Raymond T. Ferring.

Among the guests were Mr. and Mrs. John Coppin, Mr. and Mrs. William Mitchell, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Gordon (she is Director of the Art Department of Detroit Board of Education) Mr. and Mrs. Max Frubaut, Mr. and Mrs. George Cutler, Mr. and Mrs. John Shenfield, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Dean, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Turner, Svea Kline, and Mr. and Mrs. Graham Shinnick.

Completing the list were Mr. and Mrs. Edward Lerren, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Lewis, Mr. and Mrs. Eliot Robinson and Jafar Shoja who is Director of the Gallery.

Meeting in Ohio

Mrs. William J. Emerson and Mrs. Reba Netzel are in Akron attending meetings relating to the work of the national commission to study the YWCA as a Christian movement. Mrs. Emerson is president of the Pontiac Y board of directors and Mrs. Netzel is the executive director.

Service Set for Chicago Publisher

CHICAGO (AP) — The sudden death of Marshall Field, 49, publisher and philanthropist, continued to evoke expressions of sorrow today as the family prepared for Tuesday's funeral.

The publisher and editor of the Chicago Sun-Times and the Chicago Daily News, died in his sleep Saturday evening of a heart attack at his Chicago home.

The funeral will be at 3 p.m. Tuesday in the Fourth Presbyterian church. Burial will be in Graceland Cemetery.

President Johnson sent a telegram Sunday to Field's widow, Julia Lynne Templeton Field, whom he married in 1964. It read in part:

"Marshall Field was in the front rank of those Americans whose life has been spent in keeping this nation informed. His charity and his purpose will not be forgotten by those who felt the influence of his good works."

WORDS OF SYMPATHY

Expressions of sympathy included those from Wes Gallagher, general manager of the Associated Press and Paul Miller, president of the AP and Gannett Newspapers.

Gallagher said Field's death "is a great loss to journalism, not only in Chicago, but throughout the country."

Field's great-grandfather, Marshall Field I, founded the Field department store in Chicago and compiled a vast fortune.

SUCCEEDED FATHER

He later worked for a year with the New York Herald Tribune. He rejoined the Sun in 1947 when it became the Sun-Times in a merger with the Chicago Times. In 1950 Field succeeded his father as editor and publisher. He bought the Chicago Daily News from Knight Newspapers Inc. in 1959.

Field also was a director of Marshall Field & Co., chairman of Field Enterprises, Inc., and publisher of the World Book Encyclopedia.

The late publisher was born in New York City, the son of the late Marshall Field III and the former Evelyn Marshall, now Mrs. Diego Suarez of New York City.

He attended St. Paul's School, Concord, N.H., and earned a B.A. degree, magna cum laude, from Harvard University, then went on to a law degree from the University of Virginia.

During World War II Field served in the Navy as a gunnery officer aboard the USS Enterprise.

Field's first marriage was with Joanne Bass in 1938. He was divorced from her in 1947 and three years later married Katherine Woodruff. That marriage ended in divorce in 1953, a year before Field wed Miss Templeton.

Auto Scrambled

Mart Mixed in Active Trade

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market was mixed in active trading early today. The tense international situation and a report that copper supplies are tightened by labor strikes accounted for some of the buying in aerospace defense and copper issues.

Steels were generally unchanged—although U.S. Steel lost a fraction—amid reports that incoming steel business had another weekly decline. Boeing, up 1, was one of the strongest in its group. Up fractionally were General Dynamics, Douglas Aircraft and United Aircraft.

AUTOS SCRAMBLED

Autos were scrambled, with General Motors and Chrysler small losers and Ford up a fraction.

On Friday the Associated Press average of 60 stocks dipped .7 to 340.9.

Prices were narrowly mixed on the American Stock Exchange. Fractional gainers included Mead Johnson, Massey-Ferguson and Kelsey-Sears. Losers included Paddock and Pyle-National and Data-Control Systems.

Liberty Issue

Ex-Prisoner of Czechs Tells Own Experience

VATICAN CITY (AP)—Long imprisoned Josef Cardinal Beran of Czechoslovakia backed a declaration on religious liberty today and said the Roman Catholic Church apparently was suffering in its Communist-ridden homeland because of past sins against Protestants.

The 77-year-old prelate, released last February from 16 years in confinement in Czechoslovakia, was warmly applauded as he stood before the Vatican Ecumenical Council to address it for the first time.

When the council opened in 1962, Vatican officials were not even sure he was alive. But last February, after a Czech-Vatican accord, he came to Rome to become a cardinal and take up a position with the Vatican Curia.

Cardinal Beran said the principle that every man has the right to worship according to his conscience was confirmed by his own experience.

GRAVE TEMPTATIONS

"Here, I humbly bear to add my testimony. From the very moment in which freedom of conscience was radically restricted in my country, I witnessed the grave temptations, which under such conditions, confront so many people. In my whole flock, even among the priests, I have observed not only grave danger to faith but also grave temptations to lying, hypocrisy and other moral vices, which easily corrupt people who lack true freedom of conscience," he asserted.

Successful

By ROGER E. SPEAR

"I am a young doctor with adequate insurance and savings and about $12,000 to invest. I hold now American Telephone and General Motors. Most of the brokers I speak to seem always to suggest my buying 'special situations' which generally seem to mean nothing but speculation. I want capital enhancement over a long term period. Have you any suggestions?" H. G. M. D.

A) There are such situations — containing an important element not yet appraised by the market — but they are not easily uncovered and are rarely passed out casually by registered representatives.

For you, I would suggest Corn Products; Texaco; Eastman Kodak; and Utilities. These all seem capable of enhancing your capital over a long term period.

Little Guy's Proving He Knows the Mart

By SAM DAWSON

AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK—Heavy trading volume captures the attention of Wall Street as much as does the climb in stock prices.

Is the little fellow back into the market? Seven million shares and six million shares along come frequently so far this month. Mostly, they accompany a spurt in prices. The public traditionally is attracted to the market when prices are soaring.

The pro who knows how to make money when prices are sliding.

Also, the biggest price advances of late usually have been made by those favorites of the market, the growth stocks, rather than the more staid blue chip investment issues.

The latter, too, have made some striking gains. The Dow Jones index of 30 industrial stocks has risen 39 points in the last four weeks — from 889.92 to 928.92 as of last Friday. This is a rise of 4.3 percent. Many growth industry stocks have risen much more than that.

CROP OF IDEAS

might be back buying. As usual, it also hands out a list of reasons why traders should be cautious just now and look before they speculate.

One reason that the exuberant-minded may have been bidding up prices is that the larger war in Viet Nam should soon taper off because the many American producers of goods and services the military will be needing.

Another spur to the market is that many companies have been reporting much larger profits than expected. This might have been more of a surprise to small investors than to the profession.

Some trace the heavy trading volume to the general feeling of confidence that has built up since Labor Day because the traditional summer slump in industry didn't come along this year.

BETTER HEELED?

Brokers also point out that the public is better heeled this fall than ever. Personal income totals now run at a record $53.6 billion annual clip. More people are employed and many pay scales are higher. This means that more persons have more money they can invest after paying for the essentials of living.

Rising trading volume also increases the flow of the words of caution.

Brokers point out the uncertainties, especially as to what declining.
