

Pay Hike, Osteopathic Authority Draw Fire

VICTORY FOR REAGAN—Ronald Reagan and his wife, Nancy, acknowledge victory in the primary for Republican nomination for governor of California last night in Los Angeles, after George Christopher of San Francisco conceded defeat.

Reagan, Brown Win in California Primary

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Ronald Reagan, in his first bid for public office, won the Republican nomination for governor in a landslide today.

Democratic Gov. Edmund G. Brown survived a surprising challenge in the opening of his bid for a third term.

Returns from yesterday's primary election gave Reagan, 55, an overwhelming victory over George Christopher, a dairy owner and former mayor of San Francisco.

It moved Reagan to the front of California Republican politics.

Brown finally pulled comfortably ahead of Los Angeles Mayor Samuel W. Yorty. But Yorty's strong showing in populous Southern California raised a threat to Brown's bid for another term.

With 19,547 of 30,586 precincts reporting, the vote was:
Republicans — Reagan, 846,449; Christopher, 413,888.
Reports from 20,550 precincts gave Brown 832,802, Yorty 619,957.

OTHER RESULTS
In other primaries yesterday:
• Veteran Sen. James O. Eastland easily won renomination on the Democratic ticket, although a Negro challenge, the Rev. Clifton Whitley, outpolled him in several counties in the Mississippi primary. Democratic incumbents in Congress (Continued on Page 2, Col. 8)

Romney Hits $4,000 Figure as Too High

Jittery House Gets Senate-OK'd Proposal After Stormy Session

LANSING (AP) — Another Senate-approved legislative pay raise — this time for $4,000 — faced a jittery House today and was criticized by Gov. George Romney as still too high.

The proposal, adopted yesterday after a wild day of sudden moves and angry words in both chambers, would boost the nation's highest salaried legislators to $14,000 a year and retain their present $2,500 expense allowance.

Romney refused to tell a news conference how much of a pay raise he would approve, but said, "It is my personal impression public opinion is not ready to accept $4,000."

He said recent incidents involving personal conduct of legislators — ranging from late income tax payments to the arrest of a senator on a morals charge — have adversely affected public opinion.

Sen. Garland Lane, D - Flint, a chief architect of pay raise proposals, met with Romney yesterday and asked how much of a raise the governor would okay, but Romney said he avoided giving a specific answer — "I did give him my personal impression."

'SHOCKING THING'

The Republican governor said he did not think the entire Legislature should be condemned by the conduct of a few — which so far have all been Detroit area Democrats.

He said the developments concerning legislators "have been a shocking thing for the people in this state."

The Senate approved a pay raise Thursday with little notice.

A back-up procedure for garnering the legislators' salary hike was also waiting in the House wings as lawmakers moved toward a midnight deadline for action by each house on all legislation passed by the other.

It appeared the pay question would not be resolved until tomorrow or Friday, when joint committees meet to work out final differences on bills passed by both Houses.

The Senate also faced the ticklish technicality of whether the $61.9-million general government bill which carried the pay raise needed 25 votes instead of the 19 it received.

PRIVATE APPROPRIATION

One section of the bill included a private appropriation, for which the Constitution requires two-thirds approval.

The raise from a present $10,000 was passed without a word of debate after the Sen-

Fishermen Drown in City Lake

A midnight fishing trip ended tragically about 2:15 a.m. today when two Pontiac men drowned in Little Silver Lake at Hawthorne Park.

The victims were Milton Henry, 38, of 204 State and Terry Cuzzort, 31, of 21 Stout.

Henry is no relation to the Pontiac attorney with the same name.

The pair had been fishing with a companion, Robert Collins, 18, of 2651 Marlington, Waterford, and were guiding their outboard motorboat towards a boat landing in the city park when it took on water and capsized.

All three were hurried into the water, but Collins was able to swim safely to shore and telephone police.

Collins told Pontiac police that he was sitting in the front of the 12-foot aluminum boat when suddenly the bow dipped into the water.

Skin divers from the sheriff's department were hampered in recovering the bodies because of a heavy growth of weeds in the lake, according to police.

Police said that the probable cause of the accident was due to the overloading of the small craft. The victims' bodies are at the Hulton Funeral Home.

Teen Abducts Boy, Kills Self

HIGHLAND PARK (AP) — A teen-age youth seized an 8-year-old boy as hostage in a blazing gun battle with police yesterday, then shot and killed himself as officers closed in.

The youth, Ray Dezon Taylor, 16, died while undergoing surgery in Detroit General Hospital.

The younger boy, James Whitley, was unhurt.

Police said Taylor was being sought to answer questions about a gun he was carrying when he started a disturbance at a restaurant.

RIDE ON BICYCLE

A few blocks away, Taylor came upon Anita Jordan, 16, of Highland Park, who was giving young Whitley, her stepbrother, a ride on her bicycle.

Taylor seized the boy, saying he needed him for a hostage, police reported.

He then jumped into a station wagon stalled in traffic and dragged the boy with him.

Bribe Trial in 2nd Day

The Circuit Court trial of three men charged with conspiring to bribe a Pontiac police officer entered its second day this morning with the prosecution's key witness, Capt. Raymond E. Meggitt returning to testify.

Meggitt is credited with breaking up an alleged gambling operation at the Seaway Club Club, formerly at 118 S. Paddock, after he said he pretended to take bribes to keep quiet about the nature of the establishment.

The defendants in the case before Judge Frederick C. Ziem are Angelo (Barrels) Lombardi, 37, Charles Rousos, 32, both of Detroit; and Odus Tinchier, 49, of St. Clair Shores.

Lombardi, who is also charged with bribery, is being tried by a jury, but Tinchier and Rousos waived a jury trial and their alleged roles in the case will be determined by Ziem.

Before the trial started yesterday afternoon Ziem denied three motions of Lombardi's co-counsel Carlton Roeser of Pontiac.

SEPARATE TRIAL

Roeser had sought a separate trial for Lombardi; the suppression of $2,050 Meggitt received over a four-month period; and the exclusion of statements made by Lombardi to police.

The police had set up the defendants and entrapped them.

Meggitt testified yesterday that last June Rousos had approached him while he was sitting in a scout car in a gas station across from the club MEGGITT and he was invited in and introduced to Tinchier.

The proceedings were adjourned for the day before Meggitt could elaborate.

In addition to the conspiracy charges, the three defendants along with several other men face trial at a later date on gambling charges.

Unit in House Finally Frees College Bill

One-Minute Meeting Held by Committee Brings On Charges

LANSING (AP) — Amid cries of "railroad" and "skulduggery" the House Ways and Means Committee approved a bill establishing a state Osteopathic College Authority in an unannounced one-minute meeting late yesterday.

The 10 - member authority would oversee the construction and running of an osteopathic college planned in Pontiac.

The bill, strongly backed by Senate Majority Leader Raymond Drendzel, D-Detroit, and Appropriations Committee Chairman Garland Lane, D-Flint, had been defeated earlier in the day.

It received seven "yes" votes on the first ballot and the nine needed for passage the second time around.

As little as an hour before the passage of the bill, Ways and Means Committee Chairman Einar Erlandsen, D-Escanaba, said the bill apparently was dead since the committee did not plan to meet again this session.

KILLED, REVIVED

The bill, which has been the subject of constant fighting and pressure in the Legislature for the past two years, was killed and revived earlier in the House State Affairs Committee.

Asked to explain the apparently sudden switch on the bill, Erlandsen said, "some-one did some work and found he had the votes to get the bill out."

"One member was absent in the voting this afternoon (yesterday and another vote rode on his)," he added. "When that member showed up, the two extra votes needed for passage were there."

Dr. Benjamin F. Dickinson, Pontiac surgeon and past president of the Michigan Association of Osteopathic Physicians and Surgeons, said the House Ways and Means Committee vote was "a big milestone."

However, he pointed out that two obstacles remain for the college bill — passage by the House and the signature of Gov. George Romney.

"It's like golf," commented Dr. Dickinson, "the big shot is always the one coming up."

Romney's signature may depend on the related issue dividing the legislature and the State Board of Education on which body has the authority to set up new educational institutions.

If the bill is passed and signed by the governor, it has been indicated a court test might result to decide the question.

Osteopaths view the measure as "leading to state financial support, although no appropriation is contained in the bill."

Yes, it is going to rain. The U. S. Weather Bureau said so. When?

This morning the bureau predicted showers late today, tonight and tomorrow with possible showers Friday, and again Sunday or Monday.

However, the bureau started forecasting showers last Thursday — but no rain has fallen as yet.

In downtown Pontiac the low recorded prior to 8 a.m. was 65. At 2 p.m. the mercury registered 81.

Senate OKs Legislative Pay Raise

ate Appropriations Committee quietly slipped it into technical language of the general government bill.

But bitter exchanges broke out after some Republicans rose to explain why they had voted "no."

Democrats, who provided 17 of the 19 votes, accused opponents of voting "no" for purely political reasons while actually desiring the raise.

SWITCH VOTE

Ten of the 13 senators who voted "no" were Republicans.

Three senators at first voted "yes," then switched when they saw the bill could pass without their support.

The general government bill was approved earlier by the House, but the House would have to concur in Senate amendments.

It appeared representatives would not concur, thus sending the bill to a House-Senate conference committee for final compromise.

In the House, meanwhile, the Ways and Means Committee took another bill, granting a $5,000 pay raise — this one approved by the Senate some weeks ago — and sent it to the House floor with the raise canceled.

It also could wind up in a conference committee for final negotiations.

Sen. Garland Lane, D-Flint, chairman of the Senate Appropriations Committee, acknowledged he had talked to Gov. George Romney about the raise but would not say if he thought Romney would agree to a $4,000 hike.

Romney said last week he would not agree to the $5,000 raise.

The technical manner in which the $4,000 raise was placed on the government bill, however, apparently precludes Romney from vetoing it without vetoing the entire measure. But the measure is necessary to keep state government in operation.

The House Ways and Means Committee earlier Tuesday rejected the $5,000 raise by two votes. But Reps. Charles Conrad, D-Jackson, and Arthur Law, D-Pontiac, missing when the vote was taken, heatedly protested. Speaker Joseph Kowalski, D-Detroit, called the Democratic members of the committee into his office and ordered them back to the committee room. They went and passed the amended bill, 114-4.

Rights Chiefs Gather for Mississippi Walk

HERNANDO, Miss. (AP) — Leaders of the nation's five big civil rights commands assembled north of here today to continue the crusade on foot through Mississippi attempted by James H. Meredith.

While Negroes marshaled

The heads of several civil rights groups picked up Meredith's march Tuesday from the point where Meredith was wounded, and one was shoved to the ground when highway patrolmen ordered them onto the shoulder of the highway.

Five Negro leaders combined forces to carry on the 225-mile walk to Jackson, Miss., started by Meredith and interrupted by three shotgun blasts.

Aubrey J. Norvell, 40, a Memphis white man accused of assault with intent to murder in the wounding of Meredith with birdshot, was held under $25,000 bond. His lawyers were drafting an appeal to have the bond reduced.

Three bus loads of sympathizers from Chicago will join the march soon, said Floyd McKissick, head of the Congress of Racial Equality.

NATIONAL CALL

"We have made a national call for people to come," said Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., head of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference. "The number will grow every day."

In Jackson, Gov. Johnson is sued a plea for residents to "ignore completely these exhibitionists" and said he would use any state power to keep the peace — presumably including the National Guard.

"Sufficient patrolmen and other state forces will be used to see that these demonstrators get all the marching they want, provided they behave themselves, commit no acts of violence, nor take a position of provocative defiance," he said.

The walk by Meredith, 33, the slender former Air Force sergeant who broke the racial bar at the University of Mississippi in 1962, ended in the 27th mile, near Hernando.

He started, with a few companions, on the theory that if he could walk through Mississippi unharmed it would prove to Negroes who live in the state that they could safely register as voters.

The ranking Republican on the Far East and National Security subcommittees of the House Foreign Affairs Committee, Broomfield is also a member of the Africa subcommittee.

He said that Far East foreign policy and the splintering of such alliances as NATO will definitely be issues in the campaign.

PAST 10 YEARS

Broomfield has served in the House of Representatives for the past 10 years. Prior to this, he served two years in the Michigan Senate and six years in the State House of Representatives where he was the youngest speaker pro tem in the state's history.

Broomfield's Congressional District with 417,174 has the largest population of any in Michigan.

The district includes the cities of Berkley, Birmingham, Bloomfield Hills, Clawson, Ferndale, Huntington Woods, Lathrup Village, Madison Heights, Oak Park, Pleasant Ridge, Rochester, Royal Oak, Southfield and Troy.

Townships of Addison, Avon, Royal Oak and Southfield also are in the district.

Seeks GOP Bid for 14th District Post

John A. MacLellan, 58, of 6939 Dandison, West Bloomfield Township, today announced his candidacy for the Republican nomination for state senator from the 14th District.

An attorney, MacLellan said he specializes in legislative matters and currently represents clients whose affairs affect millions of Michigan people.

In commenting on his candidacy, MacLellan said that most lawyers want the soft life of the black robe and bench.

"But, this is not for me," he added. "I want to go where the action is — the legislature."

The legislature is where special interest and public interest clash and where constitutional rights of citizens are nibbled away or auctioned off, MacLellan said.

U-M GRAD

A native of Calumet, MacLellan attended the University of Detroit for two years and completed undergraduate work at the University of Michigan in 1931.

He graduated from the Detroit College of Law in 1948 and served as an attorney for the Legal Aid Bureau of Detroit for 10 years assigned to labor and governmental affairs. He is married.

The 14th District includes the Oakland County townships of Holly, Groveland, Rose, Spring, Bloomfield, Lyon, Novi and Farmington and three Wayne County municipalities.

Realtor Board Begins Drive

To Explain Stand on Title IV of Rights Bill

Termining the housing section of the proposed federal civil rights bill "wrong and detrimental," the Pontiac Board of Realtors today launched a campaign to inform property owners of Title IV of the bill.

"This section of the bill would wipe out a basic right of all citizens," said Ward E. Partridge, board president.

"I refer to the human right to sell or rent private real property or to refuse to sell or rent property," Partridge added.

"Just as many remedies suggested by well-wishers to solve a problem are frequently wrong and detrimental, so is Title IV which has the purported goal of protecting against discrimination on the basis of race, color, religion or national origin."

"Basically, this proposal would empower the federal government to force an owner to sell or lease his property to a person not of his choice."

RIGHT TO DISPOSE

Partridge pointed out that in the history of the human right to own property, one of the prime characteristics of ownership is the right to dispose.

"If an individual lacks the right to dispose of his property freely within his own discretion, he is not truly the owner," Partridge said.

The local realtor board president added that realtors are convinced that property owners, regardless of their personal feelings on other aspects of civil rights, will make known their opposition to Title IV to their congressmen and senators in Washington.

"Title IV would destroy a basic freedom of all Americans under the guise of providing a new right for minority groups," Partridge said.

"It is a wrong way approach."

Partridge added that the only true and lasting solution to the problem of open occupancy will come by understanding and education fostered voluntarily by churches, schools and all men of good will.

Teachers: Won't Work Until Master Pact OK'd

BLOOMFIELD HILLS—Teachers in the Bloomfield Hills Education Association (BHEA) voted Monday to withhold their services next fall until a master contract is ratified.

Mrs. Jane Marshall, BHEA president, said that teachers had agreed that the master contract must supercede all individual contracts, establishing a guide line for the negotiating team.

Although there is a large number of unsolved terms, both the BHEA and the board of education have agreed to put them aside until a salary agreement is reached.

Present salary scales call for $5,300 to $8,650 for teachers with bachelor's degrees, scaled over a 12-year period. Those with master's degrees have a scale of $5,800 to $10,000 over a 14-year period.

The BHEA is now proposing a salary scale, drawn up by the Oakland County region of the Michigan Education Association, of $6,000 to $10,500 for those with bachelor's degrees and $6,500 to $12,000 for those with master's degrees. Raises are to be scaled over a nine-year period.

3-YEAR PERIOD

Schools Superintendent L. Johnson said the present salary schedule was designed and agreed to by teachers for a three-year period which still has a year to go.

Johnson said that although he is sure salaries will improve, there must be a compromise on both sides.

The money needed to meet the teachers' salary schedule is not available without additional millage and it is unlikely that there will be a millage increase, he said.

No definite date has been set for a further negotiating session.

George E. Cavin, head of the BHEA negotiating team, said

Strike Would Disrupt Defense Effort—LBJ

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Johnson has called upon five major airlines and the International Association of Machinists to settle a dispute that threatens a strike he said would disrupt the nation's defense effort.

Johnson said recommendations of an emergency board, both sides a chance to display "mutual trust and cooperation" by reaching an agreement.

Unless the dispute is settled by July 5, more than 35,000 members of the union will be free to strike the five carriers, Eastern, United, Trans World, National and Northwest.

The President on April 1 appointed the panel headed by Sen. Wayne Morse, D-Ore. Other members are Richard E. Neustadt of the Harvard Graduate School of Public Administration and David Ginsbury, a Washington attorney.

In the presence of the three members, Johnson read a statement to newsmen Tuesday saying he cannot believe either a strike or labor wants a strike.

Without a settlement, Johnson said hundreds of thousands of people will be without airline transportation since the five airlines carry 6 of every 10 domestic passengers.

He said "There will be a disruption of the movement of men and materials needed to support our commitments to freedom's cause throughout the world."

Hoffa Moves to Crush Power Grab

WASHINGTON (AP)—Teamsters Union President James R. Hoffa moved today to crush the bid of Vice President Harold Gibbons to grab the reins of the giant union if Hoffa goes to prison.

The twice-convicted Hoffa predicted Gibbons will drop his plan to run for the new post of executive vice president at the union's July 4 convention in Miami Beach.

"He won't even run," Hoffa told a newsmen. "I'd be the most amazed man in the world if he did."

Earlier, Hoffa had said "I doubt if he gets 175 votes" at the convention.

Convention delegates, who are sure to elect Hoffa to another five-year term, will have 2,200 votes.

But whoever wins the executive vice presidency could wind up running the 1.7-million-member union—the world's largest.

Hoffa, awaiting a Supreme Court review of his eight-year jury-imposed conviction, wants Detroit Vice President Frank Fitzsimmons to have the post, automatically becoming president if Hoffa goes to prison.

Hoffa reportedly wants Fitzsimmons to serve as a caretaker until he got out of prison and could resume power. Hoffa aides disclosed that a resolution to change the union's constitution will provide that no one can run for both vice president and the new post of executive vice president.

Thus Gibbons, former close associate and onetime potential heir-apparent to Hoffa, would lose his seat on the union's executive board if he lost his bid for executive vice president.

Already waiting in the wings to run for Gibbons' present post as 10th vice president is Roy Williams, president of the Central States Highway Drivers' Council and of the Kansas City Teamsters Council.

Williams apparently is backed by Hoffa in the effort to force Gibbons from power.

"Gibbons knew there was that risk," said a Gibbons supporter. He added, however, that Gibbons had not been aware that in running for executive vice president he would automatically lose his post as one of 13 regular vice presidents.

WOULD RETAIN POSTS
Gibbons would, however, retain his posts as secretary-treasurer of the Teamsters Central Conference and president of St. Louis Council 13.

Hoffa spokesmen also claimed strong support for Hoffa's choice of Fitzsimmons from Teamsters' Councils in New York, Ohio, Indiana, Minnesota, Kentucky and Connecticut.

Fred Roberto, Connecticut Teamsters official, and William Presser, Ohio union chief, confirmed they would support Fitzsimmons.

Another Teamsters vice president, Gordon Conklin, said his Education for construction of a St. Paul Council would cast its votes for Fitzsimmons. "I don't think there would be much of a fight," Conklin said. "I think it will be pretty much worked out."

Aquanauts Sound Normal Now

By Science Service
NEW YORK—The almost-unintelligible "Donald Duck" voices of the helium-breathing aquanauts in Sealab II have been restored to normal by a device invented 30 years ago.

Sealab's high-pressure atmosphere, 80 per cent of it helium, was necessary to keep the crew 200 feet below the Pacific Ocean, from getting nitrogen narcosis, or "rapture of the deep."

Normal air is composed of about 79 per cent nitrogen and 21 per cent oxygen.

Sound travels faster in helium than in air, so the resonant frequencies of the aquanauts' normal speaking voices were all higher. The result though amusing, was that the crewmen could hardly be understood, even by each other.

Intrigued by the problem, two scientists at Bell Telephone Laboratories, Dr. Roger M. Golden and D. J. MacLean, ran tapes of the aquanauts' speech through a gadget called a "vocoder," or voice coder.

The vocoder, invented in 1936, breaks down a voice into its fundamental pitch and resonant frequencies.

The fundamental voice pitch did not need to be restored, since it had been unaffected by the helium atmosphere.

Mayor Promises Reply

Panel Makeup Is Questioned

Mayor William H. Taylor Jr. said tersely last night that he would answer shortly the questions raised by the city's "lame duck" human relations advisory committee.

The committee, which is to be replaced by an expanded Human Relations Commission established by ordinance, questioned the composition of the new group.

In addition, the outgoing committee recommended legislation by the city requiring nondiscrimination clauses in contracts for the sale of city property.

Taylor said he would personally reply to the letter submitted by Irving Steinman, committee chairman.

Asked last night what his reply would be, Taylor said he didn't know because "I just got the letter tonight and I don't know what questions he's asked."

STILL MEETING

Despite formation of the new human relations body, the existing committee has continued to meet. Steinman said a meeting is planned for June 20 if the new group is not operating by then.

At the group's May meeting, the committee voted to ask the City Commission why the proposed membership of the new commission was cut from the recommended 25 members to 24.

Steinman's letter also asked that the committee be furnished a list of the 17 city organizations invited to suggest members for appointment to the new commission.

The human relations committee said property transactions made under federal programs, such as urban renewal, require nondiscrimination provisions and such safeguards should be part of any other land sold or rented out by the city.

Bangor Man Jailed in Shotgun Slaying

SOUTH HAVEN (AP) — A 28-year-old man was held on an open murder charge today in the Tuesday night shotgun slaying of a factory worker in near-Bangor.

State Police said Murell was struck in the left side by a shotgun blast after he had driven Hughes' estranged wife. Barbara, 24, home from work.

Western Union Workers Strike

WASHINGTON (AP) — A strike by an estimated 20,000 Western Union employees halted public telegraph message service across the nation today.

Members of the Commercial Telegraphers Union walked off their jobs at midnight in a dispute involving wages and other benefits. Supervisory personnel maintained government and private communications facilities without reported interruption while union pickets marched outside company offices.

When negotiations broke off a few minutes before midnight, a spokesman said there were no immediate plans for a renewal of talks.

Engineer Told to Proceed With Plans for Overpass

City Commissioners last night took the first step toward providing a third pedestrian overpass in the city.

The commission directed that City Engineer Joseph E. Nepling proceed with the preparation of a construction proposal and set a date for bids.

Nepling recommended the pedestrian bridge, which would be located in front of Alcott School on Kennett.

The city engineer said the traffic situation on Kennett had been under study since October of last year. Since then sidewalks had been constructed on the south side of the street.

He said an overhead walkway was proposed after it was determined that a traffic signal was not sufficient to permit the desired movement of motor and pedestrian traffic.

Pleasure Craft Operating Illegally

With hopes growing stronger that Michigan has emerged from its Ice Age and will catch up with the calendar, the boating season is upon us.

Unfortunately, for many boaters it will start illegally. Secretary of State James M. Hare says that four out of five motorboats in the state are still unregistered.

Citizens who wouldn't drive their car two blocks without their new license plates will launch their craft without the important series of numbers on either side of the bow.

HARE says just about 400,000 of the 500,000 craft in the state are outside the law by failing to register.

"Motorboats can be registered at any one of the more than 200 branch offices of the Secretary of State," Hare says. All you need is $3.00 and the old registration, or the bill of sale for a new boat.

A portion of the registration fee is returned to the counties, which partially supports the Oakland County Water Safety division of the Sheriff's department.

Planners' Business is the Public's Business

The Pontiac Planning Commission has changed its voting procedure to a secret ballot device, and in the future all decisions from this advisory board will merely indicate the vote, not who voted which way.

Previously the seven citizens and two city commissioners made their opinion known by a very public "aye" or "nay." Now when a subject is put to a vote, they will write their choice, and the secretary will merely announce the outcome.

We view this as a serious departure from the norm, and an attempt to do public business in private.

Members of the Planning Commission are public spirited individuals who serve their community in a complex area — zoning and planning. They are unpaid, and they contribute generously of their time and professional knowledge.

Why shouldn't they indicate publicly what their opinion is on a zoning change? The new voting system plants the seed of suspicion that they have something to hide.

If the city commission can vote publicly, why can't an advisory group such as the planners?

Do they fear some criticism or pressure from persons or firms whose request was not approved? Anyone accepting appointment to a public body serving the City must expect a certain amount of criticism of his decisions. Prompt publicity of pressure or implied threats would certainly handle a n low-life who would attempt to gain by force what he had failed to receive by reason with the board.

However the city has a legal opinion that an individual may demand to learn which planning board members voted which way on any subject, since the board is a public body.

Effort Afoot to Eat Cultural Cake, Have It Too

One of the surest ways to stir up a civic fuss is to start tearing down something historic to make room for something modern.

Tradition versus practicality. Sentiment against commercialism.

So serious is the struggle in city after city that the U.S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare has joined with the privately operated National Trust for Historic Preservation to form the Preservation Advisory Services Panel.

The panel — a group of top architects and city planners — has elected Salem, Mass., as its first laboratory experiment and is now working to see if historic landmarks there can be preserved as the city meets demands of modern urban living.

Both hard-nosed realists and misty-eyed conservationists should be pulling for the panel to come up with a satisfactory solution.

You can't park cars in a lovely old tree-shaded home or a historic old courthouse, but you seldom take groups of children to see a parking lot.

The Shot Heard 'Round the World

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON — The man who shot Negro leader James H. Meredith in the back from ambush on a Mississippi highway let loose more than he could imagine.

Enemies and allies of the United States can hold up this shooting as a symbol of "American barbarism" before the world, which still remembers President John F. Kennedy was shot in the back.

They can say with truth a Negro's life is not safe in America if he tries to walk down a country road peacefully, even when escorted by white friends, as the 32-year-old Meredith was.

The greatest irony behind his wounding lay in proving the very thing he had sought to disprove on his 225-mile march from Memphis, Tenn., to Jackson in the heart of his native Mississippi.

He had told newsmen before starting out that one of the two reasons for his trip was to help Negroes, including himself, conquer the fear they feel while living or traveling in Mississippi. His other reason was to encourage Negroes to vote.

At the same time, this wanton act of violence may be used as a handy excuse for passionate or extremist Negroes to retaliate with violence of their own in North or South in the days ahead, individually or in mobs.

GIVES SUPPORT

This crime against Meredith gives unexpected and tremendous support to President Johnson's recent request for new legislation in the field of justice to protect the rights of Negroes and civil rights workers.

"What gain is there," the President said in asking Congress to approve his proposals, "for either conscience or country if we proudly affirm human rights and then permit those rights to be swept aside by lawless fanatics?"

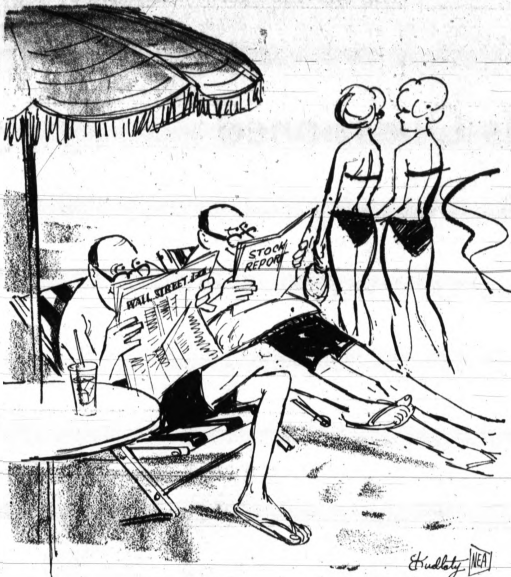

He said: "Perhaps the most evident threat to civil rights in 1966 is the danger that recently secured rights may be violently by a relatively few racial fanatics."

"Citizens who honor the law and who tolerate orderly change — a majority in every part of the country — have been shocked by attacks on innocent men and women who sought no more than justice for all Americans."

FAR-REACHING EFFECT

"The effect of that violence extends far beyond individual victims. Every assault or murder that goes unpunished reinforces the legacy of violence — the knowledge that it is dangerous for a Negro to assert his rights, or even for others to stand up for those rights."

"Who shall take part in the process of democracy? Shall it be only those born with white skins?"

Vacation-Time Figure Work

Meredith Attack Not Surprising

WASHINGTON — It is not surprising that James Meredith was brutally attacked on his march in Mississippi. For, regrettably, the United States is a crime-ridden country where firearms can be possessed by many irresponsible persons in all parts of the country.

Atty. Gen. Katzenbach said yesterday that the shooting of Meredith was an "isolated" incident. He called the occurrence "so absolutely—I don't want to use insane in the literal sense—so unpredictable with all those police around."

There is no record that Aubrey James Norvell, who was arrested and accused of the crime, has been active in the civil-rights controversy.

There is always a fear that persons who are being prominently mentioned in the news will be the victims of assault.

Threatening letters are constantly received concerning possible attack on high government officials.

Most of these come from individuals of unbalanced mind who, if they possess lethal weapons, may take potshots at anybody whose name they have read in the papers.

DEPLORED EVERYWHERE

The answer is not to be found by making blanket indictments of the people of any state or community. The attack on Meredith is deplored by citizens everywhere, irrespective of their views on the controversial race question.

There will be those who will say that Meredith should never have attempted a march under conditions of tension.

But it is a reflection on all government in America — federal, state and city — that people cannot walk the streets of the cities or the highways with any assurance that they will not be the victims of criminal attack.

James Meredith, it is reported, will soon recover from the attack and be able to resume his march in a few days. He will get more attention.

Indeed, he might never have attracted such interest except for the erratic behavior of his assailant, who has suddenly given Meredith worldwide publicity.

Immediately after Monday's tragic episode, Martin Luther King Jr. and Floyd McKissick, the head of the Congress of Racial Equality announced they would lead an immediate march through rural Mississippi.

Dr. King seems to feel that somehow President Johnson is to blame for not acting more decisively in the past and for not granting more support to the demands of civil-rights organizations.

There has been throughout the world an unfavorable reaction to the shooting.

The Soviet news agency, for instance, quotes Dr. King's statement that "the federal government must assume as much responsibility... as a society which offers sanctuary to those who advocate violence."

The fact remains that neither can crusades nor demonstrations "stop bullets" when they are fired by individuals with the distorted mind of an Oswald.

Restrictions on the widespread distribution of shotguns, rifles and revolvers to persons unfit to use them would do some good. But, in the long run, crime will not be wiped out until individual behavior is improved and better training is afforded the youth of the country in their homes and in their communities.

Smiles

Newlyweds ambitious to raise a family usually achieve a howling success.

There are two sides to every question except the one you are arguing about.

Bob Considine Says:

Johnson Gets Message --Even During Massage

NEW YORK — President Johnson gets a much needed massage at 11 o'clock each night prior to piling into bed for as many as four nocturnal hours of paperwork.

He finds something to do with his time even during the massage. He sometimes watches the 11 o'clock television news. The President gets more of the news than almost anyone else in the country.

Dr. Frank Stanton of CBS arranged some time ago for him to have a cluster of three television sets in his private quarters and his office, each tuned to a major network.

They are all turned on by the same switch but a remote control audio button, operated by the President, selects the one he prefers to listen to at any given portion of a program.

Former President Eisenhower's trip to Denver this past weekend had its melancholy side.

He was there to reclaim the casket of his first-born, Dwight Doud Eisenhower, who died of scarlet fever in 1920 at the age of 3.

The remains were flown to Abilene, Kans., for reburial in the family's cemetery plot.

The general's right wrist is much impaired after treatment for an arthritic condition at Walter Reed Hospital in Washington.

The only mark of his sojourn there is a dark spot the size of a dime on the side of the wrist.

"It's working fine," he told us. "I can shake hands again, which is something I couldn't do without pain when I went in there. I'll be playing golf next week."

The Hillsdale Daily News

Here's some very old but still very valid advice which it seems appropriate to repeat at this season when most people's fancies turn to thoughts of vacations.

"Every now and then go away, have a little relaxation, for when you come back to your work, your judgment will be sure, since to remain constantly at work will cause you to lose your power of judgment... Go some distance away because then the work appears smaller, and more of it can be taken in at a glance."

Voice of the People:

Urges All School Boards Find Ways to Economize

Teachers are dissatisfied today and have so-called 'collective bargaining.' Primarily they want better salaries. Unfortunately, school boards are a governmental body and are limited to fixed sums of money for operating expenses. No one ever talks of economy in our school systems.

A standard class room in the state ten years ago was 22x30 for 40 pupils. Class rooms being built today are larger than that, to accommodate fewer pupils. I will agree that kindergarten and first and second grades should have smaller classes but from then on the size of the class makes no difference. This is from old-time teachers I have talked to.

Now to get more money, why not have teachers teach larger classes than 30 pupils. We would need fewer class rooms, less maintenance and less upkeep. This money could be given to teachers in salary.

When you speak to administrators, they say this is not the trend of the times. To this I say 'hogwash.' This is one of the best bargaining points the administrators have and I am sure the average teacher would be glad to have a few more pupils for a larger salary.

We have heard 'quality teaching' for the past ten years and a lot of fat has grown in our school systems that could be eliminated. So let our school boards lay down the line to their administrators to economize and not spend one nickel that is not necessary. Many ways can be found to raise teachers' salaries.

This is your money and mine, raised by taxes, regardless of where it comes from. I am sick of these administrators saying the State or Federal governments pay this or that. They don't pay it. You and I do in one form or another in taxes.

Safety a Prime Contract Consideration

Edison says all our husbands want is a raise. Would you climb sixty to a hundred and twenty feet in the air to work on live wires? What about the safety factors in their new contract that haven't been brought up? Do our men have to wait for a storm for the people to realize how badly they are needed?

Suggests Voters Need to Make Changes

The action of the Waterford Township School Board in denying the Gideon organization permission to distribute Bibles and New Testaments in the schools reminds me of the story about the third grade teacher who was greatly alarmed to see some small boys kneeling on the floor during lunch hour, and was relieved and reassured to find they were only rolling dice, as she had thought they might be praying.

Perhaps the voters need to make some changes in the next election. Certainly we need to impeach the Earl Warren Supreme Court!

Question and Answer

Do the City limits of Pontiac and the Pontiac school district coincide?

REPLY

Not in all areas. The Silver Circle area of Waterford is included in Hawthorne school; part of Pontiac Township attends Hawthorne, Malcolm and Willis schools; Sylvan Lake and part of West Bloomfield Township attend Whitfield; and a small part of Bloomfield Township goes to Franklin Elementary.

tered at this time last year. The figures for Kent County are even worse — 38 traffic deaths since the first of the year, as compared with 23 for the same period in 1965.

What makes the fatality figures more than normally disturbing is that the death toll has been going up despite the fact that the number of accidents has been decreasing. There is little doubt that Lt. Eugene Jankowski of the Grand Rapids Police Department's traffic division has put his finger on the real trouble in concluding that "the cars are hitting at greater speed."

Numerous traffic studies have indicated that excessive speed usually is not the primary cause of an accident; but when high speed is combined with some other violation — such as crossing the centerline, passing on a curve or hill or running a red light — the results often are tragic.

Unquestionably we need more policemen. But it may be months before we can get the department up to the required strength. Meanwhile the number of cars on our streets will be increasing. The responsibility for reversing the traffic fatality trend will continue to rest with the individual motorist.

We remember Papa.

We've known fathers for a long time.

In fact, since 1931. Just like it says in the ads.

Which means we're the people to ask if you're not too sure what to get Papa for Father's Day on Sunday, June 19th. All we need is a rough idea of his size and shape. (Is he low and wide? Long and narrow? Things like that.)

It will help, too, if you tell us whether he swings to the conservative side or just swings. Then we can show you everything from a single pocket hanky @ 50¢ to a single-breasted summer suit @ $115. (Of course, we also have the perfect problem solver: Osmun's gift certificates from $5.) So?

George R. Yansen, Chippewa Road, principal of Madison Junior High School, thought this molded orange jello salad looked particularly appetizing at Tuesday's PTA Council installation of officers. Mr. Yansen joined Mrs. Fred L. Goines, West Rundell Street, new president, in leading several hundred PTA representatives through the dinner line.

Hold Mass Installation for Council Officers

The Pontiac Council of PTAs conducted mass installation of officers Tuesday evening in Madison Junior High. Some 360 members were present.

Mrs. Howard McConnell, treasurer, awarded PTA scholarships to Cheryl Newman of Gingell Court and Lawanda Hassenzahl, Alberta Street.

HEAD COUNCIL

Receiving the gavel as new president was Mrs. Fred Goines. She will serve with: Mrs. Willis Schneckenger, first vice president; Mrs. Benjamin Shelton, second vice president; and Mrs. George Watters, recording secretary.

Others assuming office were: Mrs. Vernon McFarland, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Donald Humphrey, treasurer; Mrs.

Ross Elliott, historian; and Booker Yancey, auditor.

Musical selections were the evening's program. Groups from Pontiac Northern High School, directed by John C. Toussley and Judith Davis, performed.

Participating were the Northern Madrigal Singers, Norsemen and the Howlin' Huskies.

Mrs. Robert Anderson, noted for readings in this area, concluded the program with a poem "Sixteen Ton."

Dinner was served cafeteria style with Madison students presiding at the coffee and dessert table.

Guests for the occasion included: Mr. and Mrs. Frye, George Yansen, Dr. Dana P. Whitmer, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Allison, Larry Nichols, Mrs. William Mihalak and Mr. and Mrs. William Wright.

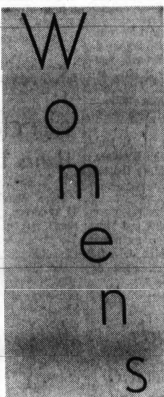

Colorful summer frocks with all sorts of hat combinations made a pretty picture as members of Temple Beth Jacob Sisterhood gathered for their annual luncheon. Chatting before the event are

Bride-Elect Susan Arnkoff and Fiance Will Be Feted

Dr. and Mrs. Harry Arnkoff of Illinois Avenue will host the rehearsal dinner for their daughter, Susan Marsha, and her fiance, Dr. Alfred Feingold, Saturday, in the Kingsley Inn.

Out-of-town guests arriving for the Sunday morning ceremony in Temple Beth Jacob will also attend the dinner.

The George Feingolds honored their future daughter-in-law and her parents at a recent cocktail and supper party in their Lansdale, Pa. home.

Kingsley Inn was the setting for a trousseau shower given by Mrs. Harry Ackerman, and a bridal shower by Mesdames Sidney Barnett, Irving Gordon, George Richman and B. J. Wyman.

The bride-elect's aunts, Mrs. Morris Arnkoff of Huntington Woods gave a bathroom accessory shower and Mrs. Murray Kahn of Detroit, a luncheon in Greenfield's Cardinal Room, Oak Park.

In Ann Arbor, Mrs. Warren Seider and Diane Tickton of Denver, Colo., honored Susan and her fiance at an open house.

Susan's roommates at the University of Michigan gave a kitchen shower. Her classmates Sydelles Becker of Southfield and Vicki Lasser, Huntington Woods, entertained at a bridal luncheon.

Arriving at Tuesday's annual luncheon of the Temple Beth Jacob Sisterhood is Mrs. Paul J. Basinger of Chicago, Ill., the speaker.

Sister's Family Needs Help

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN
DEAR ABBY: What do you think of a 13-year-old boy who crawls in bed with his mother after his father leaves for work?

I can't stand to visit my sister any more when I see what's going on there. I believe it is WRONG and I have said so. She lets this boy wear nail polish and play with her make-up and jewelry. He can't stand to get his hands dirty.

It's "too hot" in the summer and "too cold" in the winter, so he stays indoors and plays with his dolls.

He has a 15-year-old brother who is so ashamed of the younger one he is becoming more and more withdrawn from people. Needless to say, the younger boy has no friends.

The father is helpless. He once threw all the make-up and dolls out, but the boy cried so hard his mother went out and bought more.

This boy gets furious if he sees his father kiss his mother. What is wrong here? I can't believe I am worried for nothing. Or isn't it any of my business?

DISGUSTED AUNT
DEAR DISGUSTED: Your sister and her son are both ready candidates for the psychiatrist's couch. And if the father looks out the window, knowing what is going on, so is he.

Appeal to her husband to get help for the whole sick family before it's too late. Yes, it IS your business. Would you walk away if you witnessed a man beating a helpless dog?

DEAR ABBY: This is not a letter asking for advice because a decision had to be made in a hurry and we made one, but we want to know if YOU think we did the right thing.

My brother's son was Bar Mitzvah last Saturday. (This is a religious ceremony held in a synagogue followed by a big party to celebrate a Jewish boy's 13th birthday.) It so happened that my wife's cousin died and her funeral was held on THAT Saturday morning.

We didn't know where to go, so we decided to attend the cousin's funeral first, and then attend the Bar Mitzvah lunch afterward.

We were severely criticized by the Bar Mitzvah crowd for attending a party right after a funeral. And the funeral crowd criticized us for going from a funeral to a party. Were we wrong?

CRITICIZED
DEAR CRITICIZED: You tried to do the right thing by two relatives, so your conscience should be clear even if your critics are cutting.

PROBLEMS: Write to Abby, in care of The Pontiac Press. For a personal reply, enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

HOW TO WRITE: Send $1 to Abby, in care of The Pontiac Press for Abby's booklet, "How to Write Letters for All Occasions."

Polly's Pointers

Make Handy Shelf

DEAR POLLY — Do not discard those drawers from that old desk or chest. Paint one white, add contrasting shelves, hang it lengthwise and have a handy hanging shelf for the kitchen.—H. F.

DEAR POLLY — I disliked the policy of calling and calling children in the morning and having them too sleepy to get up. Now we have a rule that any child who has to be called a second time has his bedtime moved up an hour earlier. That gets them up on the first call.

For writing to grandchildren, nieces and nephews too young to read it is nice to have a variety of colored envelopes. Tell each child what color of envelope you will use each time you write. The child quickly learns his color and has fun spotting his letter in the mail.—FREE

DEAR POLLY — Throughout the year as I discover items I wish to send to our spring or fall rummage sale I price them and place them in a laundry basket that stays in my attic or basement.

When sale time arrives I am prepared and do not have to rummage through closets and cupboards. This saves a lot of time and nothing is overlooked.—PATRICIA

DEAR POLLY — Watering certain plants is a nuisance because they are located in odd places around the house. It is even worse when they are small. I had a couple of small green plastic squeeze bottles that came filled with medicated soap.

I washed them thoroughly, filled with lukewarm water and upended each of them in the top of a plant where they are camouflaged by the plant leaves. Drops of water trickle into the plant all the time and keep the soil nicely moist. When I pass by I give the bottle a quick squeeze it seems easier to remember to refill my "automatic waterers" than to water the plants otherwise.

Anyone submitting a Polly's Problem, a solution to a problem or a favorite homemaking idea will receive a dollar if Polly uses the item in Polly's Pointers.

Paint Plastic for Mobile

Flower mobiles—lovely decoratives you can make yourself, bring added charm to any room in the house, especially during rainy days when it is too wet to work outside in the garden.

You will need embroidery hoops, textured plastic wrap, a watercolor brush and "liquitex" artists' colors (they work well on plastic).

First, paint your hoops a pretty pastel color (a primary color plus white). When they are dry, place a piece of wrap in the frame as you would embroidery material. Trim off excess.

Create and paint designs on the wrap using the hexagon pattern as a guide to form flowers. Leaves can be added with a few brush strokes. Slip a ribbon through the spring on the hoop.

Tie a bow leaving one end long so you can hang the mobile.

Antique Show Rarities at Rotunda Inn

Some New in the Old

By MADELINE DOEREN

A visit to the antique show and sale in the Rotunda Country Inn does not leave one "steeped in antiquity" but with a new concept of collectors' items and memorabilia.

Music from a roller-type Zanzibar concertina, one of three in the United States, calls attention to a peddler's cart built by Norman Vanoy to show his hand thrown pottery, candles and antiques.

QUEEN'S GIFT

The concertinas were presented to a hospital for handicapped soldiers from the Civil War by Queen Victoria of England. The other two are in the Henry Ford Museum and a museum in Miami.

The clay and glazes used by the Yankee pottery are the same quality and formula used by the 18th century Pennsylvania Dutch potters.

The candles are made in a 200-year-old mold of spermaceti wax from the jawbone of a sperm whale. The beeswax candles are slow burning with a slight honey scent.

Highlight of The Farmhouse Antiques in Holly owned by Mrs. Gordon Bennett (formerly of Waterford) is an antique black walnut table-type organ-grinder.

Charles James of the Shoppe of Antiquity in Pontiac displays a rare Pennsylvania Dutch dry sink with cupboard made of chestnut in 1875. His specialty is primitives and Early American items.

Placed at strategic places among the irreplaceable treasures, lettered in red on white cards sound a note of warning:

"Lovely to look at;
Lonely to hold;
If you break it
We mark it sold."

Jeanne Fishman of Oak Park calls her display "Collector's Antiques and Glamorous Junk" which is not our opinion of a Victor grama-phone (table type) with a 21-inch WOODEN horn.

A fragile open compote of cathedral amber glass catches the light in the Red Pump Antiques exhibit from Davisburg. Also powder boxes of rare cut glass and blue milk glass.

Shirley Beers of Orchard Lake, an active member of the Bloomfield Art Association, has set up a little studio "on location" where she does pastel portraits.

At the entrance to the show are 200-year-old English wax miniatures in their original frames, shown by Ethelyn Whitman of Detroit. Buried in walnut fashions an antique lap desk that's 150 years old. Mrs. Ross Rube is coordinator for the show which closes this evening at 9 p.m.

Milk for Polish

When polishing white shoes, use milk to dampen the cake polish instead of water. The whitening then will not rub off so easily.

Save Empty Juice Cans

Don't throw away your empty large juice cans! You can take a tip from the Camp Fire Girls. Make a pair of beautiful pierced tin lanterns for your summer cottage porch or your entrance gate. Put a line of them down your garden path. Or light your outdoor grill party.

Here's how the girls do it. Cut a piece of paper large enough to go around the tin can. Draw a design (or your monogram or name) on the paper, using dots to outline it. Tape the paper to the can. Slip the open end of the can over a round post or log. Using a large thin nail with a head, hammer through the dots on your pattern. Be imaginative! Pierced tin is an old folk art very popular today.

Punch a hole on each side of can near open end. Take can off post. Slip through a 10-inch handle cut from an old coat hanger. Twist ends to secure. Paint further decoration on your lantern. If you wish, or varnish or shellac, to keep from rust. Let dry. Drive a nail with a head through the center bottom of the lantern and stick a candle on the nail. Or omit the nail and substitute a flashlight.

Let Child Help in Fixing Meal

UNIVERSITY PARK, Pa. (UPI) — One way to help children learn about food values and develop good eating habits is to let them share in preparing meals.

Louise Hamilton, extension foods and nutrition specialist at Pennsylvania State University, suggests that children be encouraged to set the table, prepare the vegetables or a simple dish or dry the dishes. Once children have tried preparing a few foods, let them plan a simple menu, said Miss Hamilton.

Should Working Sister Pay More Board?

By MARY FEELEY
Consultant in Money Management

Dear Miss Feeley: Do you think it's fair that I should pay the same amount for room and board which my older sister pays? She's earning about $260 a month, while I'm a college student, 18, with only $80 a month income from Social Security. (My father is deceased.) I do not have any part-time job.

MARY FEELEY

My sister and I each pay my mother $35 a month. I would like to know what you think would be fair for me to contribute. Also, would you help with some sort of budget?

My main expenses are my lunches — usually about $2.50 a week — half of the gasoline bill, since I drive the car to school four days a week. I also have such expenses as dry cleaning and cosmetics.

I try to buy most of my own clothes, too. S. T., Metairie, La.

Dear S. T.: Before we get down to budget figures, let's tackle what I suspect is your biggest problem right now — resentment toward both your mother and your older sister.

Right off the bat I say you have a good case. I think $35 for room and board out of your $80 a month is an oversize bite. But put your resentment aside, and consider these human factors:

Your mother may find it difficult to charge one daughter more than the other to sit at the same table, for the same meal, and share the same shelter. Also, she may literally need $30 a month to keep the house going.

Since your father is dead, she's bearing the burden of responsibility. Could this fact, perhaps, make her more keenly aware of the older sister's day-long, week-long job, and the effort required to make any kind of a livable income?

I'm not suggesting for one moment, S. T., that you aren't doing a job, too. Learning is an arduous profession, goodness knows, at any age. And at 18, you're certainly entitled to any financial protection your father was able to provide.

But I am suggesting this: talk the money situation over with both your mother and your sister. I contend that one-fourth of your income is fair for room and board.

This would raise your sister's contribution to $65 at this point, and put yours at $20 a month. This would provide your mother with $85 a month instead of the present $70 — and I bet she could use it.

Now — let's say everything's all smooth, and you're paying $20 a month toward upkeep of the home. That leaves you $60: Lunches — and transportation, $20; clothing and upkeep, $15; personal grooming $5; miscellaneous (church, contributions) recreation, $15; savings (now that you've reduced room and board), $5.

(You can write to Mary Feeley in care of The Pontiac Press.)

Big Family Likes the Simple Life of Pioneer Days

MARION, Ill. (AP) — For one week each month the Renato Souza family turns back the clock to pioneer days, with electricity, television, radio, telephone and car put aside during that period.

Dr. and Mrs. Souza and their seven children try to live as much like their ancestors as possible. All homework is completed before nightfall, and candlelight replaces electric lights.

No telephone calls are made, and all cooking is done on a hot plate, with menus featuring pioneer-favored dishes such as cornbread, beans and chicken.

Report Shows Russia Lags in ICBMs

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Russia now has close to 400 intercontinental and submarine launched ballistic missiles compared with 1,400 in America's land and sea-based arsenal, U.S. sources reported today.

These sources provided fresh details to show the extent of America's superiority in the premier weapons of the nuclear age, despite a modest increase in Soviet missile power over the past year.

Only rarely do specific figures on estimated Russian rocket strength become available. The most recent official statement, on last May 24, said only that there had been "an expected modest increase" in Russian intercontinental ballistic missiles (ICBM) but that the United States superiority remained at three or four to one.

United Press International was told that relatively few of the Soviet's ICBMs are concealed and protected underground. Most stand on vulnerable, above-ground launchers.

Now that the older Atlas and Titan I missiles have been dismantled, all America's ICBMs

— two versions of the Minuteman and the Titan II — are buried in underground silos where they are considered immune against all but direct nuclear hits, and thus a firm deterrent to attack.

On the controversial question of defense against ballistic missiles, UPI was informed that American intelligence experts are deeply divided in their appraisal of Soviet progress in this area.

Some authorities believe the Russians have deployed an Operational antiballistic missile (ABM) system to defend cities and other targets.

Equally competent judges assert such is not the case at all.

NOT FOR DUNKING—Please your family with freshly made Glazed Sour Cream Doughnuts. They're light, tender cake-like doughnuts made with sour cream and lightly glazed. Serve with milk for a wonderful snack.

Sour Cream Doughnuts Are Light, Puffy

How long has it been since you made a batch of home-made doughnuts? If it's more than a few weeks, then it's high time you treated your family to a plateful of fragrant, puffy doughnuts. Try this brand-new recipe with a special ingredient: sour cream. They're too good for dunking when they're made this way and glazed for extra goodness.

It's amazing how a little dairy sour cream can add so much to doughnuts. They're light as a feather, too, which is characteristic of baking foods when using a cultured dairy food, such as sour cream.

This is a cake-like doughnut, not to be confused with raised doughnuts. And here's another difference: they do not "grease-soak" as some doughnuts tend to do, possibly because you cut them out and let them stand for while before frying in deep hot fat and you maintain the proper temperature in the fryer.

They're delicious freshly made and glazed with a light mixture of confectioners sugar and water. Or you can make them ahead of time, fry them and freeze them without glazing.

When you defrost the doughnuts, do not glaze them, but toss them in granulated sugar, confectioners sugar, or a cinnamon-sugar blend.

Glazed Sour Cream Doughnuts
3 eggs
1 1/4 cups sugar
1 cup dairy sour cream
4 to 4 1/2 cups sifted regular all-purpose flour

2 teaspoons baking powder
1 teaspoon baking soda
1/2 teaspoon nutmeg
1/2 teaspoon salt
In a mixing bowl beat together eggs and sugar until thick and lemon colored. Blend in sour cream. Sift together flour, bak-

Tips on Bacon

Separate bacon slices and place on wire rack in a shallow baking pan. Bake in preheated oven at 400 degrees for 10 to 12 minutes, or until as crisp as desired. No turning is necessary. The slices will separate easier if you remove the bacon from the refrigerator a few minutes early, perhaps while the oven preheats.

ing powder, baking soda, nutmeg and salt; gradually add to first mixture. Allow to stand 15 minutes.

On well floured board roll to 1/4-inch thickness; cut with doughnut cutter. Allow to rest 15 minutes. Drop into deep fat; brown on one side, then turn and brown on other side. Drain on absorbent toweling. While still hot dip into glaze and place on wire rack to cool. Makes 2 1/2-3 dozen.

Glaze
1 1/2 cup confectioners sugar
6 tablespoons water
Combine sugar and water and stir until smooth.

NOTE: Instead of using glaze, doughnuts may be dipped in a mixture of 1/2 cup sugar and 1/2 teaspoon cinnamon.

Cubed Steaks Cook in Barbecue Sauce

Cubed steaks give a quick skillet barbecue on the evenings when the homemaker doesn't have much time to prepare dinner. Pan-fry the steaks in lard or drippings in the frying-pan, then add 1/4 to 1/2 cup of barbecue sauce.

Cover the frying-pan tightly and cook slowly approximately 30 minutes, thus allowing the flavor of the barbecue sauce to develop fully.

French-fried frozen potatoes heated in the oven give a quick accompaniment along with a big bowl of green salad with favorite dressing.

Dessert might be another quickie: chocolate ice cream cake roll from the freezer.

Onion Soup Is Basis of Ham Sauce

Many homemakers have discovered the economy and efficiency of a "two-day" roast. First, they cook the meat to serve "as is" with a flavorful sauce or gravy. Then, for the following day, they turn the remaining meat into a tasty casserole, so ingeniously concocted their families don't dream they're eating leftovers.

You'll find ham as especially good buy for this kind of planning. For Sunday dinner—bake the ham with a robust onion glaze made easily with canned condensed onion soup and currant jelly. The marvelous drippings from the ham make the superb sauce to serve with the meat.

The rest of your Sunday menu includes peas and onions, buttered noodles with poppy seeds, and cauliflower. An airy vanilla Bavarian, garnished with fresh strawberries is your pretty spring dessert.

ONION-CURRENT-GLAZED HAM
5 to 6 pound (cook-before-eating) ham
1 can (10 1/2 ounces) condensed onion soup
1/4 cup currant jelly
1 bay leaf
1/2 cup water

Score ham; place on rack in shallow baking pan. Roast at 325 degrees for 1 1/2 hours. Meanwhile, in saucepan, combine soup, jelly and bay. Heat; stir now and then. Roast ham 1/2 hour longer, basting with soup mixture occasionally.

Remove ham from pan. Pour off fat; add water to drippings. Heat; stir now and then. Serve with ham. Makes 6 servings.

As you core apples or pears to bake, do not cut through the blossom end if the core cavity is to be stuffed with sugar and butter or similar ingredients.

New England Cook Winner in Chip-Dip Contest

An unparalleled effort conducted in all 50 states to find the most delicious original chip dip of 1966 has resulted in Mrs. Harry S. Crispo of Quincy, Mass., winning the first prize of a $1,000 government bond.

193,000 women and teen-agers entered the 2nd Annual Chip Dip Search sponsored by the Potato Chip Institute International.

The tang and color of the ocean pounding against the shores of her New England home town have been captured by Mrs. Crispo in her winning recipe:

"SEA-MIST CHIP DIP"
1 cup yogurt
1/2 cup chopped spinach (frozen, thawed)
1/4 cup flaked white tuna
1/4 cup mashed cooked shrimp
1 1/2 tablespoons toasted onion flakes
1 tablespoon finely cut pimiento
1/2 teaspoon monosodium glutamate
1/2 teaspoon garlic salt
1/2 teaspoon Cayenne pepper

Blend all ingredients together using low speed of electric mixer until smooth and creamy. Refrigerate for an hour or more before serving to allow flavors to blend. Serve with potato chips.

Mrs. Berdene Giles of Pinellas Park, Florida, won second place and a $500 government bond. She is a widow and mother of two girls; likes to cook and sew. Her tasty recipe:

"PECAN CHIP DIP"
1/2 cup finely chopped pecans
2 tablespoons butter
1 tablespoon minced green onion
2 (3-oz.) packages cream cheese
1/4 cup mayonnaise

Saute pecans in butter one minute. Add onion. Remove from heat and cool. Add cream cheese; stir until well blended. Add mayonnaise. Mix well. Chill.

By one of the dry heat methods like broiling, pan-broiling or grilling. To broil beef tenderloin, place on broiler rack, 2 to 3 inches from the heat. When cut 1-inch thick, the total broiling time will be 8 to 10 minutes for rare and 12 to 15 minutes for medium-done. When cut 1 1/2 inches thick, allow 20 to 22 minutes for rare and 22 to 25 minutes for medium.

CHILI PIE—Cut five 1-inch green pepper rings; remove seeds and parboil five minutes. Drain. Sprinkle a 4-oz. package shredded cheddar cheese over bottom of 9-inch unbaked pastry shell. Place pepper rings over cheese, cut side down. Spoon contents of one 15-oz. can chili with beans into pepper rings. Combine four eggs, one-fourth cup milk and one teaspoon instant onion. Bake in 375-degree oven for 35 minutes or until set. Makes five servings.

Some of the Best Recipes Have Cheese as an Ingredient

GOLDEN SHRIMP CROQUETTES

Cheddar Turns Them Gold

Golden Shrimp Croquettes are a happy surprise for a family meal, not only for special fast days but any time of the year.

SHRIMP CROQUETTES

3 tablespoons butter
5 tablespoons flour
1 cup milk
1/2 teaspoon salt
Dash pepper

1 egg
1 teaspoon grated onion
1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
2 cups cut-up shrimp
2 cups (8 oz.) shredded Cheddar cheese
1 1/4 cups fine dry bread crumbs
2 eggs, slightly beaten

In a 2-quart saucepan melt butter; stir in flour, salt and pepper. Remove from heat; gradually stir in milk. Cook over medium heat, stirring constantly, until thickened. Cook 2 additional minutes.

Add small amount of hot mixture to egg; return all to saucepan. Cook 1 additional minute. Add onion and Worcestershire sauce. Then shrimp and cheese.

Refrigerate until firm. Shape into 12 round croquettes. Roll croquettes in crumbs, then eggs and again in crumbs. Fry in preheated 375 degree deep fat fryer for 2-3 minutes. Drain fried balls on absorbent paper toweling. Place in 325 degree oven for 10 minutes.

Avocado in Dip

Avocado dip is easy to make. Just peel, seed and mash the avocado and add salt, pepper and lemon juice to taste. The other essential ingredient is minced onion — as little or as much as you like. Serve the dip with corn chips.

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Food Editor
Every June the dairy industry proclaims national dairy month. All food editors put special emphasis on milk, cream, cheese and ice cream recipes.

We're starting with cheese this year because we were recently introduced to a sandwich made with Swiss cheese — the Reuben.

Swiss cheese, corned beef and sauerkraut are essential for a Reuben sandwich. The sandwich is grilled briefly to warm the ingredients.

The sauerkraut loses its sharp taste and is just tangy enough to complement the rest of the filling.

This hearty sandwich, served with a glass of iced tea, makes an excellent summer lunch.

REUBEN SANDWICHES

12 slices dark pumpernickel bread
12 slices (one pound) corned beef
12 thin slices Swiss cheese
3/4 cup sauerkraut, well drained melted butter or margarine
Spread bread with butter or prepared mustard, if desired. Cover six slices with a slice of cheese.

Place two tablespoons sauerkraut on cheese, top with corned beef slices and second slice of cheese. Top with second slice of bread.

Brush sandwiches with melted shortening and grill a few minutes on each side, or until cheese is softened and sauerkraut heated. Serve at once.

Makes 6 sandwiches. These sandwiches may be made ahead of time. Wrap well in aluminum foil. Store in refrigerator or in freezer until time to serve.

Bake in 400-degree oven 12-15 minutes, or until heated through.

These may be done on the outdoor grill, turning once or twice to assure even heating.

Serve garnished with pickles and pickled beets.

An open-face version of the Reuben may be made by adding triangles of cheddar cheese to each half of the sandwich and placing it under the broiler until the cheese melts.

Serve this kind to cheese enthusiasts.

Braise Kidneys

Flavorful, tender beef kidneys should be braised in a small amount of liquid to provide a large amount of eating satisfaction. For a delectable dish, mix cooked chopped beef kidneys, sour cream and canned mushrooms. Cook slowly until heated through.

Bananas, Asparagus, Rice Blended in Cheese Sauce

Imagination is the key to interesting meals.

Take, for example this unusual casserole of rice, asparagus and bananas. What ties it all together is a smooth cheese sauce.

SUNSHINE SUPPER CASSEROLE

1/4 cup butter or margarine
1/4 cup flour
2 cups milk
1/2 teaspoon salt

1 teaspoon dry mustard
3 cups grated sharp Cheddar cheese
1 10-oz. package frozen asparagus, cut in spears
4 cups cooked rice
1/2 cup melted butter
4 firm bananas, cut in half crosswise.

Melt butter and blend in flour, salt and mustard. Add milk and cook, stirring constantly, until thick and smooth. Add cheese; stir over low heat until cheese is melted.

Preheat oven to 350 degrees. Prepare asparagus according to package directions for minimum time given (asparagus should still be a bit crisp). Brush banana halves with melted butter.

In 1 1/2-quart casserole, arrange alternate layers of rice, asparagus, bananas and cheese sauce, reserving enough sauce to cover the top. Bake for 15 minutes. Makes 4-6 servings.

SUNSHINE SUPPER CASSEROLE

Caraway Is Big Surprise in Casserole

Caraway cheese potatoes can stand alone as a luncheon dish for they're filled with the protein that comes with concentrated evaporated milk and cheese.

For more hearty fare, say at the backyard barbecue, try caraway cheese potatoes with a rack of zesty ribs . . . and at the dining room table they'll make a roast seem superb!

CARAWAY CHEESE POTATOES

4 large white potatoes, peeled and thinly sliced
1 Mozzarella cheese (8 oz.) shredded
2 eggs, beaten
1 tall can evaporated milk, (1 1/2 cups)
1/2 cup water
1 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon pepper
1 teaspoon caraway seed
3 tablespoons butter

In a buttered 2-quart casserole alternate layers of sliced potatoes and shredded cheese, ending with a topping of cheese.

In a medium size mixing bowl combine eggs, evaporated milk, water, salt, pepper, and caraway seed. Pour over potatoes and cheese. Dot with butter.

Bake in preheated 325-degree oven for 1 hour or until potatoes are tender. Makes 6 servings.

Deviled Ham

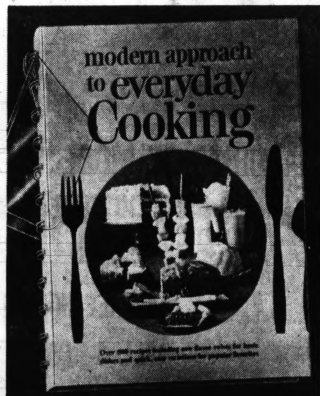

Although a can of deviled ham is small, its uses are many. This meat blend of finely ground ham and spices is delicious spread on an English muffin half. Top with a slice of pineapple and a brown sugar and butter mixture. Broil until golden brown.

Stop scrubbing with old-fashioned cleansers!

Prelaunch Goof Cost Chance to Dock

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — Someone taped four separation devices to a protective shroud instead of fastening them firmly to disconnect plugs. It was a human error that cost the Gemini 9 astronauts a chance to dock with their target satellite.

Here is an anatomy of that error:

The background: The satellite, called ATDA for augmented target docking adapter, was launched a week ago today. There was an indication that perhaps a shroud covering the docking collar on the ATDA had not jettisoned.

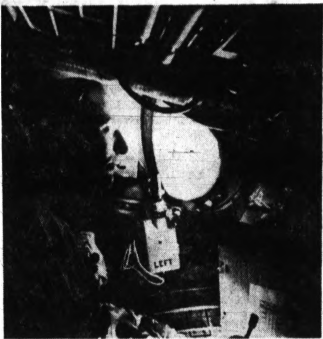

STILL IN PLACE

Gemini 9 astronauts Thomas P. Stafford and Eugene A. Cernan, stalled two days by a guidance problem, took off in pursuit of the satellite Friday. When they caught it, they found that, indeed, the 117-inch spun glass shroud was still in place.

But it had started the separation process and its two clamshell halves were pried. Stafford radioed that it looked like an "angry alligator," a description that will live long in the annals of space.

With the docking collar covered, the astronauts had to abandon the linkup attempt. They went on to conduct different types of rendezvous with the ATDA and to Cernan's record space walk.

The quick look: Stafford told ground stations that the shroud appeared to be hung up by four bundles of electrical wires and also said it appeared that small lanyards might not have been connected properly. Cernan snapped several close-in pictures of the shroud.

AP Wirephoto

CAPSULE VIEW — This is the view astronaut Eugene Cernan had of his command pilot, Tom Stafford, during their three-day space mission in Gemini 9. The photograph was among many released by the space agency yesterday.

The lanyards, about the size of a six-inch-long soda straw, were designed to be hooked to disconnect plugs and to yank them out during the separation sequence, which is triggered by firing explosive bolts.

The four plugs were joined to bundles of wires which provided a power relay for the separation sequence. With the lanyards not connected, they could not pull out the plugs and the shroud hung up on the wires.

The official report: With Stafford's information, the National Aeronautics and Space Administration ran back through the history of the shroud and learned some interesting things.

Funds to Finance Construction

OCC Takes Low Bid on Bond Sale

Trustees of Oakland Community College last night accepted the lowest of four bids for the sale of $9 million in general obligation bonds to finance new construction.

Bids ranged from the low proposal of 4.1051 per cent average interest to 4.1550 per cent. Bonds will be retired over a 29 year period.

The bond issue will finance the second and final stage of construction of the Orchard Ridge Campus in Farmington Township.

Total interest cost of the bonding will be $6.5 million.

A $7-million bond sale last summer to underwrite the first phase of the Orchard Ridge project attracted an interest rate of 3.6985 per cent, nearly half a percentage point lower than last night's rate.

ON INCREASE

The market reportedly has been increasing steadily since last November.

A total of $7 investment houses were represented by the four firms who bid on the OCC bond issue.

Northern Trust Co., the low bidder, listed 15 investment houses as participants in its proposal.

Under way since last fall, the first phase of construction of Orchard Ridge is scheduled for completion by the summer of 1967 to accommodate 3,000 students.

The final phase of construction which started last month is expected to be completed in mid-1968 providing facilities for an ultimate 5,000 enrollment.

Trustees Air a Hot Issue on Campus

Prospects of a long, hot summer for Oakland Community College administrative personnel were cooled last night by the college's board of trustees.

The board authorized an expenditure of $9,280 to install a ventilation system at the OCC administrative center which some college officials have termed a "steam bath."

Low bidders Eames & Brown and Fred W. Moote, Inc., were awarded the mechanical and electrical contracts for the ventilation work with respective proposals of $6,530 and $2,750.

The project will assure proper ventilation in the building at 2400 Opdyke, Bloomfield Hills. However, it will not provide air conditioning.

State Police Staffs Altered at Pontiac, Romeo Posts

Several personnel changes at the Pontiac and Romeo State Police Posts were announced today as part of a shift involving the transfer of 58 troopers throughout Michigan.

The transfers are slated to take place July 10.

Troopers Charles W. Morr and Raymond A. Olson will be transferred from Pontiac to Sandusky and West Branch, respectively.

Coming to the Pontiac post will be Robert L. Beadle from Clinton and Charles E. Garrison from Rockford.

Leaving the Romeo post will be Stuart S. Hutchings and Conny C. Snyder. Hutchings will be stationed at the Bay City post and Snyder will be assigned to Mount Pleasant.

MOVES TO ROMEO—John T. Fiedler will move to the Romeo post from Bridgeport.

According to Col. Frederick E. Davids, director of the Michigan State Police, most of the signment of new troopers—a second post after a about two years of service at their first stations.

Other transfers were made at the request of officers or to broaden experience and balance or strengthen personnel at various posts, Davids observed.

PIN-WORMS A FAMILY AFFAIR

Fidgeting, nose-picking, a tormenting rectal itch are often telltale signs of Pin-Worms, ugly parasites that medical experts say infect 1 out of every 3 persons examined. Entire families may be victims and not know it.

To get rid of Pin-Worms, they must be killed in the large intestine where they live and multiply. That's exactly what Jayne's P-W Tablets do... and here's how they do it: First—a scientific coating carries the tablets into the bowels before they dissolve. Then—Jayne's modern, medically-approved ingredient goes right to work—kills Pin-Worms quickly and easily.

Portable Buildings Acquired

Purchase of a 2,342-square-foot portable building to be used as an assembly hall on the Highland Lakes Campus of Oakland Community College was authorized last night by the OCC Board of Trustees.

Cost of the structure which can accommodate 223 students is $54,000. It will be erected within 75 days.

In recommending purchase of the building, OCC President John E. Tirrell said that no permanent new construction at this campus is anticipated for at least five years.

The board also authorized rental of two portable buildings for the Auburn Hills Campus which is scheduled for permanent development during the next two years.

These 1,406 and 3,380-square foot structures are designed to meet requirements pending campus development. The annual rental cost is $38,712 which could be applied toward purchase of the units.

BUILDING SUPPLIER

Providing the temporary buildings will be Insta-Building Inc.

In other business last night, the board approved the hiring of four new instructional staff members.

It also authorized an expenditure of $9,814 for remodeling of the kitchen area of the Highland Lakes Campus to provide a food laboratory for students in the food service program.

Board members also approved the appointment of the firm of Ernst & Ernst as auditors for the college despite the objection of one member.

Treasurer Vernon M. Fitch cast the lone dissenting vote.

He said he felt the board should have interviewed several firms before making the appointment rather than only two.

Officers Elected by New Lions Club

Seymour Karp of 6129 M59, Waterford Township, has been elected president of the newly formed Drayton Plains Lions Club.

Other officers are Ronald Finn, secretary; and Walter Lagerquist, treasurer.

Installation of officers will take place Aug. 23 when the club will officially receive its charter.

The organization holds meetings the second and fourth Tuesday each month.

UF Donates to Red Cross

The Pontiac area United Fund has contributed $10,764 to the Southeastern Michigan Chapter of the Red Cross for a special replenishing campaign.

This drive for $9 million, sponsored by the American National Red Cross, was made necessary by costly Hurricane Betsy and the rapid military build-up in Viet Nam.

The United Fund donation enabled the chapter to fill its national quota of $246,040.

Sylvester Leaky, chapter chairman, thanked United Fund officials for their "cooperation" as such help "emphasizes once again the concern of all our citizens for those less fortunate."

U.S. Aid to Rehabilitate Homes in R20 Area

Special federal aid will be used to remain in the city's R20 made available to provide indi-urban renewal project, it was vidual grants and loans for the reported last night. Urban Renewal and Planning

Rezoning Near Herrington Debated; Hearing June 28

Although the public hearing was set for June 28, city commissioners and representatives of Herrington Hills Subdivision debated the merits last night of proposed rezoning for a piece of property on Pontiac's east side. Recommended unanimously by the City Planning Commission, residential-3 (R-3) rezoning is proposed for an area between and the Belt Line Railroad, north of Herrington School.

A 200-unit apartment project is proposed for the 20-acre site. The residents protested the rezoning on the basis of the potential traffic created in the area by the projected development.

Commissioner John A. Dugan said he felt the majority of the people in the area were opposed to rezoning at this time because of the problems of the traffic using unimproved Bay. HOUSING NEED

Meantime, in defense of the rezoning, Commissioner Leslie H. Hudson pointed to the dire need for housing in the city. He said that putting roadblocks in the way of developments such as this was the way "other areas get developed instead of the city."

City Attorney Philip E. Rowston reported that, because of the protest petitions, a three-fourths vote or six affirmative votes would be necessary for the commission to pass the rezoning on June 28.

Public hearings were set for June 28 on two other property rezoning proposals, while a July 12 public hearing was set for an alley vacation.

REZONING AREA R-3 rezoning was proposed for 10 acres south of Columbia and east of Alcott School.

Commercial rezoning is proposed for property on the south side of Yale, between the Metropolitan Club and the Pontiac State Bank branch office there. The vacating of an alley between Yale and Ypsilanti is proposed in conjunction with the land rezoning.

In still other business last night, cost estimates were presented for two street paving projects and two small sewer projects.

TOTAL COST Paving for Kettering, Madison to the south end of the street, was estimated at a total cost of $7,130 with an assessed cost of $5,518 and city cost of $1,611. The cost for a 50-foot lot was set at $115.

The total cost of paving Astor, Michigan to Pike, was estimated at $5,330 with an assessed cost of $3,881 and a city cost of $1,448. The cost for a 40-foot lot was estimated at $92.

Construction of a sanitary sewer on the southwest side of Oakland from 290 feet southeast of Pershing to Ingewood was estimated at a total cost of $9,010. The assessed cost was put at $2,550, the city cost at $6,460 and the cost for a 100-foot lot at $300.

Director James L. Bates told the City Commission the grants and loans are available under terms of the housing and Urban Development Act of 1965.

Low-income home owners would be eligible for direct federal grants of up to $1,500 each to pay for repairs and improvements to bring their property up to required standards.

Bates said the home improvement grants, approved on an individual basis, would be added to the total federal grant for the R20 project.

He estimated about 10 home owners in the project are eligible at the present time. Their incomes can not exceed $3,000 per year.

Bates reported that over half of the total 268 units to be rehabilitated in the R20 area have not yet been completed.

The city planning director said a loan program—also under terms of the housing act—would permit 3 per cent interest loans for home rehabilitation.

"The loan program will have a greater impact," commented Bates, "because there are not many that can qualify for the direct grants."

Bates said rehabilitation has been completed on 116 houses slated to remain in the redeveloped area.

In other business last night, the commission introduced a revised refrigeration and air-conditioning ordinance, which is designed to regulate the installation of refrigerating systems.

City Engineer Joseph E. Nepling reported that a meeting had been held with several members of the refrigeration and heating industry. He said industry representatives appeared satisfied with the proposed ordinance.

A public hearing was set for next Tuesday. Also last night, the commission approved the sale of a small city-owned lot bordering a proposed shopping center at Baldwin and Montclair.

RECOMMENDS PRICE

In a report to the commission, City Manager Joseph A. Warren recommended the lot be offered for sale at $450.

In another item concerning real estate, the commission rejected a single bid of $915 for the purchase of a city-owned lot at Josephine and Fremont, Waterford Township.

The city manager was directed to commence negotiations for a better proposal on the lot, in which the city has invested $1,500.

A public hearing was scheduled for June 21 on special assessments for water mains on the east side of Woodward, South Boulevard to a point 450 feet South, and on Pershing, Oakland to Durant.

Also last night, a petition asking commercial rezoning for land immediately behind the Post Office was referred to the City Planning Commission.

The commission received a protest petition objecting to proposed curb, gutter and pavement on Peacock, Fuller to Josephine.

Shots Trigger Sensitization

By Science Service
BOSTON—Eight Peace Corps trainees have been reported allergic to duck-embryo rabies vaccine, given routinely before they go overseas.

Injection of the antihistamine, diphenhydramine, overcame the abdominal pain, vomiting and itching caused by sensitization believed due to recent vaccination with yellow-fever vaccine that had been tolerated without adverse effects.

The case of a 28-year-old San Jose State College female student is reported in the New England Journal of Medicine by Dr. Stephen C. Cowry, staff physician of the Student Health Service of the college is a typical example.

She was preparing for service in the Philippines.

Here. The frosty taste of Fresca. It's a blizzard.

Fresca is the new cold drink with the frosty, cold taste.

And of course, it's sugar-free.

Just how refreshing is Fresca? This refreshing:

Icy, biting, bold, cold, frosty, wintry, breezy, shivering, shimmering, shuddering, stinging, springy, sparkling, splashing, nipping, chilling, lively, light, bright, brisk, bouncing, bubbling, piercing, nearly freezing, and almost shocking.

There's never been a taste so refreshing.

It's a blizzard.

Junior Editors Quiz on DAYS OF WEEK

QUESTION: How did the days of the week get their names?

ANSWER: No one can say what particular person named the days. These names came into use in ancient times when many gods were worshipped.

The days got their names because each one became sacred to some particular god or goddess.

The Anglo-Saxon word "monandæg" meant moon's day, so Monday was named for the goddess of the moon.

Tuesday was Tyr's day. Tyr being the god of War in ancient Norway. Wednesday was sacred to Odin or Woden, ruler over Valhalla. His two ravens flew around the world every day and brought him the news.

Odin's famous son Thor, god of thunder and lightning, gave his name to Thor's day, or Thursday. Frigg, Odin's wife, gave us Frigg's day, Friday.

She was so wise she knew everything. Saturday comes from the Roman god Saturn, god of harvest. The Romans had a gay festival called a "Saturnalia."

Among the old European peoples Sunday meant "The day of the sun." The sun was always popular in ancient mythology.

FOR YOU TO DO: Many of our ideas and customs come from the legends of long ago. These are great fun to read. See if you can find a book which will acquaint you with the mythology of the Norse gods.

Police Quell Unruly Illinois Students

CARBONDALE, Ill. (UPI) — In front of the police station State police early today dispersed a surly group of 300 Southern Illinois University students who had threatened to storm the Carbondale Police Station after a night of free-for-all demonstrations.

The state troopers formed a line and walked quietly into the students, who had stood massed

The students — numbering 1,500 at times — regrouped off campus, and at point police fired tear gas into the crowd to disperse them.

The show of force brought to an end a confrontation between student and police which began when authorities turned back what apparently was to be a party raid on a girl's dormitory.

Fifteen students were jailed, three on state charges of inciting a riot, and were to be released on bond.

Medicare Could Be Political Poison to LBJ if All Doesn't Go Well in July

AP Wirephoto

LORD HAW HAW DIES — Capt. Norman Baillie-Stewart, who as the original Lord Haw Haw of World War II broadcast for the Germans, collapsed on a Dublin street yesterday and died in a hospital at 57. He was jailed for treason and released in 1949.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Medicare, rated as one of President Johnson's major political triumphs, could turn into a 1966 political liability if the vast health insurance plan gets off to a limping start July 1.

"The President is very much concerned over what's going to happen," reported one source familiar with the preparedness planning.

"The reaction could be bad if there is a jam in the hospitals, or inability in some areas to provide all the promised services, or a shortage of participating hospitals in the South because of noncompliance with the civil rights rules," the source said.

"And the timing is lousy, at this stage in a congressional election year."

DOCTORS INVITED

To smooth medicare's take-off, the White House has invited 200 leading physicians and hospital administrators, representing every state, to a conference here next Wednesday.

Johnson is expected to appeal for cooperation in conserving hospital space and medical services, preventing abuses, encouraging compliance with civil rights requirements and promoting better understanding of what the law does and does not do.

Government officials and hospital administrators are concerned that many of the 19 million elderly Americans entitled to hospital benefits expect more than the law actually provides — and may react angrily if their expectations are not met.

The government does not guarantee a hospital bed or visiting-nurse service. Nor does it guarantee, in the case of the optional doctor-bill insurance costing $3 a month, the availability of doctors.

U.S. PAYS

The government has merely undertaken to pay most of the bill.

Officials anticipate an increase of not more than 5 percent in hospital usage nationwide. But government spokesmen admit the bulge could be greater in some areas and that any increase would create a critical problem in the cities where medical facilities already are overloaded.

Hospitals dislike the provision under which each elderly patient pays the first $40 of his bill because they suspect many aged persons are not aware of this so-called deductible.

Medicare also might fuel the fires of racial controversy. Unless compliance with Title VI of the Civil Rights Act is certified, a hospital cannot qualify to participate in the government insurance.

NOT CERTIFIED

Up to two weeks ago, more than one-seventh of all the country's hospital beds were in institutions, mostly in the South, that had not yet been certified under the nondiscrimination rule.

Officials of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare were dispatched to work with hospital officials in ironing out the problem.

Kerner: End Seaway Tolls

Illinois Chief Presents Proposal at Hearing

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (UPI) — Gov. Otto Kerner proposed yesterday the eventual elimination of all tolls on the St. Lawrence Seaway.

The proposal was made in a statement drawn up by the governor for presentation today at a St. Lawrence Seaway Development Corp. hearing on another proposal to raise the tolls.

"I am disturbed that the major impetus for consideration of the subject of toll revisions came from private and public interests representing the East Coast area, where supporters apparently are not concerned about the national benefits of the seaway," Kerner said.

"In an economy based on spirited competition, our worthy competitors overlook the favorable results that the seaway has brought to all parts of the country," he said.

"The reduction of rail rates, the stimulation of improvement in facilities and in transportation techniques, and the awakening of the hinterland producers to overseas markets — all are attributable to the advent of the St. Lawrence Seaway."

'CRIPPLING EFFECT'

Kerner said higher tolls would have "a crippling effect on the use of the seaway by our state's exporters and by the shipping lines that have pioneered with us in the development of this vital link to foreign markets."

Kerner said he would ask the Midwestern Governors' Conference, the Illinois congressional delegation and industrial, farm, mercantile and labor interests in Illinois to take steps toward eventual elimination of all seaway tolls.

Port Director Seeks Talks on Strike Plan

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (UPI) — Port Director Harry C. Brockel said yesterday he would try to call an emergency meeting with other Great Lakes port officials to discuss a threatened strike which could paralyze the St. Lawrence Seaway.

W. J. Smith, president of the Brotherhood of Railway, Transport and General Workers of Canada, has said the union plans to strike June 17.

The walkout would involve workers who operate the seaway, the Welland Canal and the Soo Canal Locks.

Brockel said he would be in Chicago today for a hearing on a proposed seaway shipping rate increase.

He said he would talk with other port directors about a meeting at that time.

Smith said the June 17 date was set to give shipping companies time to prepare for a seaway closing.

The delay might also give mediators time to arrange a settlement, he said.

A government poll of 700 Tokyo mothers has disclosed that 35 of them have had an abortion. Abortion is legal in Japan.

500 of Atlanta Firemen Strike

Injunction Is Issued

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP)—About 500 of Atlanta's 728 firemen have gone on strike in a dispute over wages and hours.

They rejected a plea by Mayor Ivan Allen Jr. Tuesday night to return to work. Some booed him as he spoke to them in a union hall.

The city obtained an injunction from Fulton County Superior Court Judge Virlyn Moore ordering the firemen to return to work and forbidding them to resign en masse.

The injunction is directed against the Atlanta Firefighters Union, independent, formed two months ago. The firemen meet today, and union officials talk with the mayor and city officials later.

The city, which has more than 500,000 within its corporate limits, improved its overnight fire protection, spreading those firemen remaining on duty around the various stations and pressing policemen into service.

Airport officials assigned several maintenance men to duty in case of emergency. Air traffic was not disrupted.

Free Week to Make Up for Cruel Gift

JACKSON (AP)—A U.S. Marine who received a can of dog food from a disgruntled Viet Nam war critic will spend a free week in a California city upon his return from Viet Nam.

Several months ago, PFC. Daniel Rombyer of Jackson, received a can of dog food accompanied by a note reading: "Eat well, animal."

The package was addressed "To a Marine in Viet Nam," and bore an Oceanside, Calif., postmark. The note was not signed.

The story aroused nationwide indignation, and hundreds of persons sent letters and packages to Rombyer, apologizing for the unnamed dog food sender.

FREE WEEK

Rombyer's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wilford Rombyer, says the Oceanside Chamber of Commerce has offered to provide the family with a free week in the southern California city upon Rombyer's return.

Mrs. Rombyer said she has received a letter from her son's commanding officer in Viet Nam saying the young Marine will leave Da Nang Air Base July 15 and will arrive at El Toro Marine Air Base in California on July 18.

Mrs. Rombyer said she and her husband plan to drive to El Toro, meet their son and then take Oceanside up on its offer.

Graham Leads Antibias Prayer

LONDON (AP)—Evangelist Billy Graham said Tuesday night that the racial situation in the United States is better than it was, but "we still have much to be concerned about and to accomplish."

He led nearly 18,000 Britons who came to his crusade meeting in prayer for the recovery of wounded civil rights leader James H. Meredith and for an end to racial strife.

"We pray for James Meredith and his family and for the millions of Christians of both races in the United States," Graham said. "We pray tonight for the solution to the problem of race that affects so many parts of the world from Rhodesia to Mississippi."

Graham preached on "The Coming Judgment." He said although the idea of judgment is not popular these days, the Bible says it is coming.

He also made a plea for Christians to seek political office.

"We need Christians who will stand up for Jesus Christ in the highest circles of politics," Graham said.

Drowns While Wading

GOGEBIC (AP)—Dave Rigotti, 66, of Anvil drowned Tuesday while wading along the shores of Lake Gogebic.

Romney Pleads for End to Teacher Strikes in Talks With Opposing Sides

LANSING (AP)—Gov. George Romney pleaded Tuesday for an end to the rash of teacher strikes and an early settlement of contract disputes.

But even while the governor was meeting in a three-hour session with representatives of opposing teachers and school boards and administrators, striking Ecorse teachers picketed his office.

Pickets representing the 194 teachers carried signs proclaiming "on strike" and demanding "quality pay—quality teachers."

"If we asked them to go back and submit to mediation, they would laugh in our face," said Harry Linne, president of the AFL-CIO Michigan Federation of Teachers, which represents the Ecorse strikers.

'RIGHT TO STRIKE'

"One thing that is clear in the law is that teachers do not have the right to strike," Romney declared. "We are dealing with something a lot bigger than teachers here."

"If teachers can do it (strike) what about policemen and firemen and other public employees?" Romney asked. "Where is this thing going to end?"

Romney did get one pledge from both sides—that they would try to get contracts settled before the start of the next school year.

"Let's get this behind us before the start of the new school year," Romney urged. "Let's get this thing back on the track. Let's make meaningful use of the procedures available under the law."

Romney, meanwhile, said he would attempt to get extra help for the State Labor Mediation Board so it could move more quickly to process school board and teacher disputes.

The strikes in Ecorse and Wayne and in the Crestwood School District, also in suburban Detroit, affected a total of approximately 1,200 teachers and 27,300 pupils in more than 40 schools.

RASH OF STRIKES

About 80,000 schoolchildren were affected at the height of a rash of teacher strikes last week in southeastern Michigan.

Earlier, Flint's 1,700 teachers returned under a new salary agreement and strikes also ceased in Melvindale and Taylor Townships.

The Detroit Federation of Teachers, bargainer for the Motor City's 10,000 public school teachers, has called a strike vote for June 16 if a contract satisfactory to the union is not agreed by that time.

More than 200 Potosky area teachers have left for summer vacations without contracts to return to their schools in September. Contracts reportedly cannot be completed until teachers and boards of education reach agreements.

Seeks Former Post

The Monument, the Man—3

De Gaulle and Roosevelt at Sword's Point

By TOM A. CULLEN

PARIS (NEA) — "Of all the crosses which I had to bear during the war, the Cross of Lorraine was by far the heaviest," declared Winston Churchill in one of his most candid moods.

He referred, of course, to Gen. Charles de Gaulle, who had adopted as his personal emblem the ancient double-armed Cross of Lorraine.

But even more than Churchill did President Roosevelt feel that he met a mountain of a man in de Gaulle. The clash of temperament between Roosevelt and de Gaulle made itself felt in nearly every phase of World War II as it was fought in Europe.

It was as needless as it was harmful, and more than 15 years after Roosevelt's death the memory of the conflict continued to bedevil Franco-American relations, at least as far as de Gaulle was concerned.

It was a clash of titans. In the one corner the prickly French general with his sense of destiny, his injured pride. In the other, the American president, his health beginning to fail, but cocksure, full of wisecracks.

COMMON TRAITS

Superficially, the two men would seem to have more traits in common than not. Both came from aristocratic backgrounds, Roosevelt being the squire of Hyde Park, while de Gaulle came from what is known as the "petit noblesse."

Both were master politicians, knew how to play upon the popular will like a violin virtuoso might play a Stradivarius.

On the opening pages of his memoirs, there is a key passage which explains de Gaulle's feeling about France. "I early came to believe," he wrote, "that France, like the princess in the fairy tale or the Madonna of the frescoes, had an eminent and exceptional destiny... In brief France in my view cannot be France without greatness."

The memoirs were written in the 1950s, and by that time the fairy princess was producing Caravelle jet liners, as well as Renault Dauphines, and getting ready to explode an atom bomb in the Sahara.

Small wonder, then, that Roosevelt was apt to laugh at de Gaulle's pretensions, to ridicule him as a prima donna or as a male Joan of Arc.

irritated the British prime minister, too.

"It was said in a mockery that he thought himself the living representative of Joan of Arc," Churchill wrote. "This did not seem to me as absurd as it looked."

From Roosevelt's viewpoint, de Gaulle was a distant and impoverished cousin entirely dependent upon American aid and British handouts. Worse still, he did not know his place, but kept insisting that he was the political leader of the French.

Churchill urged de Gaulle to try to get along with Roosevelt, citing his own example. "See how I give way only to recover my ground later," Churchill explained.

"You can afford to give way," de Gaulle replied bitterly.

ly, "because you are backed by a solid state, a united people, an empire and great armies. But I, where are my means?... I am too poor to bend."

"Too poor to bend..." This goes far towards explaining de Gaulle's seeming arrogance in his dealings with the Allied leaders.

(NEXT: de Gaulle's Day.)

Artie Shaw's Still a Maverick

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer

HOLLYWOOD — Artie Shaw was always the maverick of the swing-music world—a rebel, an innovator, a restless talent who soon wearied of tootling his clarinet for the masses.

He continues his maverick ways as head of his own movie company, Artizo Productions.

Now 56 with shaved head, Shaw was here to show Hollywood his latest release, "Enough Rope," a French-made thriller starring Geri Frobe "Goldfinger." Shaw's offices are in New York and he has scant affection for Hollywood, which he knew intimately during his band leading and marrying days.

LACKS SENTIMENT
Nor does he have the slightest sentiment for his heyday in the swing era.

"I look at some of my contemporaries who are still leading bands and I wonder how they do it," he sighed. "All that living out of a trunk and playing the same things night after night!"

"They aren't even selling music any more; they're selling nostalgia to middle-aged people who want to relive their youth." Shaw tried to break out of the band business several times. He finally managed it in 1950, only to return in 1953.

TO FEED COWS
"I went back only to feed some cows," he explained. "I had acquired a farm and 80 cows, and they were eating their way through my money. I earned enough to keep the farm going and then I quit again."

"Now I'll never go back. You can believe that when I say that I recently turned down $25,000 to appear for four minutes on a television special."

"In the first place, I would have to practice steadily for six months before I could stand to hear my own playing. And in the second place, I don't like to hear the clarinet that well."

Shaw finally quit the clarinet to see if he could write. He discovered he could, and he produced a novel, "The Trouble with Cinderella." In 1956, he retired to Spain with his eighth wife, Evelyn Keyes, to whom he has been married nine years.

"I just wanted to write a little, look at the countryside, watch the sky," he said.

After five years, retirement began to pale on Shaw, who admittedly is part-introvert, part-activist. He decided to get active again, this time in the movie business.

"I discovered while in Spain that there were two kinds of movie businesses now," he remarked. "One is in making pictures strictly for commercial purposes. The other is in developing intelligently made films that have something to say and say it well."

Jackie Enjoys Sail in Hawaii

HONOLULU (AP) — Mrs. John F. Kennedy, after staying close to home during the first full day of her month-long Hawaiian vacation, took a ride in a hula-belled sailboat.

The former first lady was driven to the Hawaiian Village Hotel in Waikiki from her beachfront vacation home about three miles away and enjoyed a sail aboard a blue-and-white commercial catamaran Tuesday.

Perhaps Mrs. Kennedy was trying to escape the heat wave. After a cloudy and sometimes rainy first day in the islands, the weather cleared and temperatures shot up to 88 degrees for the hottest June 7 on record in Honolulu.

ROCHESTER MEMORIAL — This new $3,000 monument stands on the front lawn of the Rochester Municipal Building as a tribute to the village's war veterans. The marker replaces one which contained 900 names but has been damaged by age. Money for the memorial was raised by public subscription through the efforts of the Rochester Beautification Committee.

Walled Lake Group Backs Details of New High School

WALLED LAKE — Facilities which would allow for team teaching and flexible scheduling are included in specifications approved by the Citizens Committee studying plans for the new high school.

The 100-member committee asked the board of education to study the specifications and use them as the basis for planning the new school.

Walled Lake Director of Instruction Max W. Burt said he hoped the school will allow for more special programs for exceptional children at "both ends of the spectrum."

"We will also enlarge our vocational offerings with the hope these will extend into our adult educational program," said Burt.

"While the new building will provide tremendous opportunities for our boys and girls, we also hope it will allow us to provide new programs for adults in the community," he said.

OTHER PROBLEMS

Rolland J. Langerman, committee chairman and assistant superintendent of schools, said the committee recognizes that there are other problems to be faced besides the new high school building.

"Specifically," he said, "we need additional elementary classrooms and land for future school sites."

Langerman said more study by the board and administration would be needed to complete plans and to decide how the new high school project will fit into the total program of the school district.

The school, which should be under construction by the fall of 1967, will be built on Beck, near Pontiac Trail, in the southwest corner of the district.

AVAILABILITY

The site was selected because of the availability of sewer facilities from Wixom and the density of population in the area.

The proposed building will house 1,500 students.

It will include large teaching areas, a communications center equipped with recording and filming facilities, a pool and auditorium for school-community use and a library.

The committee's specifications call for 190-square-feet of floor space per student.

However, the resolution approved by the committee asks the board of education to cut some facilities to allow for approximately 150-square-feet per student.

The present Walled Lake High School provides 100.5-square-feet-per student.

Farmington Faces It Beards Are the IN Thing

FARMINGTON — Beards are the IN thing in Farmington these days.

No, the beards have not invaded.

The community is preparing for its second Founders' Festival, July 28-30, and over 60 men have registered for the beard growing contest.

Last year's celebration was to honor the community's Quaker settlers who founded the city. This year the theme is for Farmington to "Honor Its Own."

The city will pay tribute to its men and women who have distinguished themselves with outstanding achievements and contributions in their chosen fields.

OX ROAST

Other activities will include an ox roast, chicken barbecue, sidewalk sale and a golfing hole-in-one contest.

Club, organizations and businesses in Farmington will have representatives in a beauty pageant to select a 1966 Founders' Festival queen.

The final day of the celebration will begin with a giant parade through downtown Farmington complete with many colorful floats and marching bands.

The parade is scheduled to wind up in the Farmington City Park where ceremonies and activities are planned.

FESTIVAL COCHAIRMAN

Cochairmen for the festival are John K. Cotton and Harley Walters.

The Farmington Board of Commerce is spearheading the communitywide efforts for the festival.

Other organizations which are lending their support for this year's festival include the Jaycees, Elks, Optimists, YMCA and many business and fraternal groups.

Head Start Program Set by Walled Lake Schools

WALLED LAKE — A month-long tuition-free Project Head Start program will be sponsored by Walled Lake Schools June 28 through August 9.

Approximately 90 pre-kindergarten children from the district will be involved in the program that is fully subsidized under the Economic Opportunity Act of 1964.

Six classes of 15 students each are planned. They will meet four hours daily with a fully certified teacher.

Classes will meet at Walled Lake Elementary School, Union Lake Elementary School and Glegary Elementary School.

Joe D. Winger, Walled Lake director of special projects, said the children who will participate in the program already have been identified. All have 1960-61 birthdates and will be starting kindergarten in the fall.

"All activities will be aimed at teaching these youngsters to function individually and in a group, to communicate clearly, and to prepare them for reading instruction," Winger said.

Field trips to shopping centers, museums, zoos and perhaps fire and police stations are planned. The children will be brought into contact with policemen, school nurses, school principals and other adults who deal with children of this age.

Art work, physical education and play activities will also be included.

Hugh P. Davies, principal of Union Lake Elementary School, has been named director of the project which is being held in cooperation with the Oakland County Commission on Economic Opportunity.

Commission OKs Lapeer's New Budget

LAPEER — A $476,440 budget for 1966-67 was adopted by the City Commission Monday night.

The new budget, which is based on an operating levy of $18 per $1,000 of assessed valuation, represents an increase of about $100,000 over the present budget.

City Manager Arnold Whitney said capital improvements account for a large portion of the budget increases.

These include repair of the Monroe Street Bridge, a new Department of Public Works garage and reforestation of the city.

Commissioners plan to lower the operating millage to 8 mills when a recently approved 1 per cent income tax goes into effect next year.

A breakdown of expenditures includes $134,650 for the water department as compared to $101,450 last year; $32,000 for parking meters as compared to $21,018 last year; $42,950 for the library compared to $30,650 last year; and $14,200 for Mount Hope Cemetery compared to $13,520 last year.

Laws Are Asked on Motorcycle Rental, Usage

FARMINGTON — The City Council instructed City Attorney Robert J. Kelly to draw up regulating ordinances aimed at motorcycle rental agencies and operators Monday night.

John D. Dinan, city manager, said that although there are no rental agencies in Farmington at the present time, the ordinance is being drafted to prevent any future situation similar to those in neighboring suburbs.

Many complaints have been received pertaining to the use of motorcycles, Dinan said.

In other action, the council received a letter from Oakland County Road Commission informing it that the project to widen Farmington Road would have to be delayed.

The commission reported that, in order to widen the road, additional drains would have to be installed on property that is not yet owned by the county.

Dinan said that the time being used to acquire the land would delay the completion of the project until 1967.

Unit OKs Bill on Road Safety

to Aid Cities, States

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate Public Works Committee approved unanimously today a $375-million highway safety bill designed to encourage states and cities to develop more effective accident prevention programs.

The legislation is a companion to an auto safety measure which the commerce committee is working on in executive session.

The public works panel made several changes in the highway safety proposal submitted by President Johnson. But Chairman Jennings Randolph, D-W. Va., said it carried out the administration's main purposes. Johnson's proposal called for $50 million in spending over six years.

3-YEAR PERIOD

The $375 million authorized in the committee's version would cover a three-year period so that the annual rate would be somewhat higher than the administration recommended.

The funds in the committee bill would be spent for these purposes:

—$160 million for grants to the states to aid in developing comprehensive official state traffic safety programs.

—$55 million for highway safety research and development by the federal government. Teams are to be sent out to study about 2,000 accidents annually to try to discover causes.

—$160 million for grants to cities and counties to encourage them to develop community traffic safety programs.

PRIORITY SYSTEM

The measure also provides, as Johnson suggested, that a priority in federal-aid highway projects be given to states and cities which incorporate higher standards and features with safety benefits.

The state grant section would cover such items as driver education, auto inspection, highway design, traffic control, and identification of high accident locations.

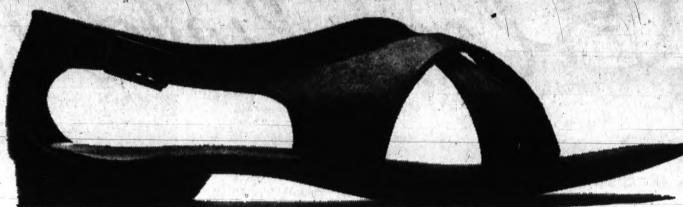

The administration measure provided that data turned up in the accident investigations could not be used in damage or criminal cases.

Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, D-N.Y., proposed to change this to allow use of facts uncovered in such probes.

However, the committee eliminated the entire section. Members said reports of the investigations would be public records and that their admissibility would have to be determined on a case by case basis in the local courts.

Records Claimed as Godfrey Ends Global Flight

NEW YORK (AP) — A twin-jet private plane with entertainer Arthur Godfrey at the controls landed at La Guardia Airport Tuesday night, completing an around-the-world flight begun from La Guardia 87 hours earlier.

Godfrey and four fellow pilots brought their Commander down at 11:18 p.m. two minutes ahead of schedule. They had left at 9:09 a.m. Saturday and made 19 stops.

A spokesman for the Rockwell-Standard Corp. claimed the flight set 21 world records. The unofficial flying time was 57½ hours.

COMPETING JET

A round-the-world flight by a competing jet made by the Lear Corp. from Wichita, Kan., last month took 65 hours and 41 minutes, with a flying time of 50 hours and 21 minutes. However, the Rockwell spokesman said the Lear jet, a lighter plane, was in a different category. Most of the records claimed were for point-to-point flights.

Mailbag's Filled With Fascinating Tidbits About This and That

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

Man, if you're looking for a marriage partner, there are a lot of veterans available. The nation now has some 8½ million widows and more than 2 million divorcees.

Forget a y d r e a m s you have of discovering a valuable pearl in a restaurant oyster. Pearls found in that kind of bivalve aren't of gem quality, and have nothing but curiosity value.

The mightiest appetite on ples he married last year he earth belongs to the sperm whale. He sieves down a ton a day of plankton, microscopic forms of sea life. SEE AMERICA FIRST: Our people spent between $20-25 billion last year on vacation and business trips within the country. About half the family trips and two thirds of the business trips were round-trip journeys of less than 200 miles.

USE PARACHUTE

Don't ever jump out of an airplane in flight without a parachute. It's illegal and violates safety standards set by the Federal Aviation Agency.

CLEANUP: Justice of Peace Mel Reinhard of Hell, Mich., is a keep-America-beautiful fan. To each of the 73 couples he married last year he

QUOTABLE NOTES: "Home cooking is where many a husband thinks his wife is." — Eddie Davis.

PROSPERITY NOTE: People are taking longer to pay off their debts. In 1961, three out of every five loans for new cars were for a period exceeding 30 months. In 1965, the number jumped to four out of five.

NOURISH PLANTS

HOUSEHOLD HINT: Don't be a boor by flicking your cigarette ashes on the floor. Flick them into a pot containing a house plant. They help enrich the soil.

There is a controversy raging over whether God is dead. If He is, it is news to most Americans. According to the Catholic Digest magazine, polls show that 97 per cent of adult Americans believe in God. But in 1952, the magazine adds, the figure was 99 per cent.

Alcoholics aren't born. They're made. Researchers believe the disease takes from 15 to 20 or more years to develop and that it can shorten life expectancy from 10 to 20 years.

A hi-fi and television shop in Rye, N.Y., put this sign in its window: "Do it yourself. Then call us!"

If your know-it-all neighbor thinks he's so smart, ask him who is pictured on the $5 U.S. postage stamp. Calvin Coolidge, that's who. But can you imagine thirty Calvin ever paying $5 for a stamp?

QUIP: Singer Barbara Shretland defines a marriage broker as "somebody who's always putting two and two together." Now wouldn't you think a gal she does could afford to hire a better gag writer?

FRIGHTENING FACT: Washington, D.C., is reported to have more psychiatrists in proportion to its population than any other city in the United States.

WORTH REMEMBERING: "The trouble with most of us is that we'd rather be ruined by praise than saved by criticism."

HISTORY LESSON: The vast Library of Congress started in 1815 from Thomas Jefferson's collection of 6,486 books. Congress appropriated $23,950 to WOMAN ARRESTED: THEM WERE THE DAYS: A woman was arrested for smoking a cigarette on Fifth Avenue here — in 1904.

Motorists have their problems in the Soviet Union. Gas sells for 60 cents a gallon, and there is only one filling station for every 280 miles of highway.

It was Oscar Wilde who observed that "children begin by loving their parents; as they grow older they judge them; sometimes they forgive them."

'Meredith Case Won't Affect Rights Bill'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Sam J. Ervin Jr. said today he does not think the ambush shooting of James H. Meredith will have any effect on hearings on the administration's civil rights bill.

"This bill has too many potentialities for injury to be passed in a hurry," the North Carolina Democrat and chairman of the Senate Constitutional Rights subcommittee told newsmen.

The subcommittee already has a schedule of witnesses for the rest of the month, and Ervin said he could not predict when it might act on the bill.

DRIVE PRESSED

As Atty. Gen. Nicholas Katzenbach returns for a third day of testimony before Ervin's subcommittee today, 19 House Republicans pressed a drive to break up the omnibus bill and seek quick passage as a separate measure a section dealing with civil rights violence.

The administration bill's proposed ban on racial and religious discrimination in the sale or rental of all housing could cause months of delay or doom the omnibus measure completely, said Rep. Charles McC. Mathias Jr., R-Md., spokesman for the group of House Republicans which introduced the separate bill Tuesday.

TO OPPOSE MOVE

But Rep. Emanuel Celler, D.

N.Y., chairman of the House Judiciary Committee which also is considering the civil rights bill, informed the Republicans he will oppose their move. Celler favors the open housing provision and thinks its chances are better if the bill remains intact.

The open housing provision was all but ignored at Tuesday's Senate subcommittee hearing following Meredith's shooting Monday during a Mississippi civil rights march.

Attention focused instead on a section to make it a federal crime to interfere forcibly with anyone, because of his race, color, or religion, while engaging in the exercise of his constitutional rights.

'Latin Sea Strike End Near'

BOGOTA, Colombia (UPI) — Government sources said yesterday they expected a solution to the eight-day old maritime strike "within 24 hours."

Optimism was based on a more conciliatory attitude by the waterfront unions involved and the appointment by the government of a special four-member commission to mediate the conflict involving the Colombian merchant fleet.

Seamen's union president Eduardo Vanegas said his men would be willing to end the walkout on employers' acceptance of demands for 20 per cent wage hikes for officers, and 25 per cent salary increases for crewmen.

Viet Names Are Problem for Americans

By the Associated Press
 Viet Nam means many problems for Americans — and one problem is how to use Vietnamese names.

Vietnamese have no such problem. They naturally find the whole thing quite simple.

Every ordinary Vietnamese man has three names. Usually the first is his family name, the second his generation name and the third his own name.

In the case of Premier Nguyen Cao Ky of South Viet Nam, Nguyen is the name of his

SECOND REFERENCE

His full name is pronounced, roughly, Win Cow Kee.

In any first second reference, a man is called not by his family name but by his individual name. So Nguyen Cao Ky, briefly put, is not Nguyen but Ky.

Nguyen is a very common family name in Viet Nam, and many Nguyens are not related. The name has no literal meaning.

Some family names do have literal meanings, but little attention is paid to them. Ngo, for example, means corn.

Generation and individual names, on the other hand, are chosen in many cases for their literal meanings.

MEANING OF NAME

In the premier's case, Cao means high and Ky means flag. Buddhist monks bear the title Thich, or the Venerable, pronounced, roughly, Tick. Each puts aside his family name and takes two religious names.

Thich Tri Quang means the Venerable-Intelligent-Enlightened. Quang is pronounced Kwong. Tri is Chee in North Viet Nam and Tree in South Viet Nam. The noted monk of that name comes from where it is pronounced Chee.

Another noted monk is Thich Tam Chau, or the Venerable-Heart-Good, pronounced Tick Tom Chow.

Ho Chi Minh, the Communist president of North Viet Nam, took that name from a Chinese who died in a hospital in China while Ho was hiding out there from the French police years ago. It happens to mean Shrewd-Brainy-Enlightened and is pronounced Hoo Chee Min. In second references, it is Ho rather than Minh.

DISTINGUISHED FAMILY

Ngo Dinh Diem, the president of South Viet Nam assassinated in 1963, belonged to a distinguished family that had gone by his first two names for generations. In second references, he was called Diem. The pronunciation is Ngo Ding Yen.

A Vietnamese girl after she marries uses her husband's name preceded by Ba, pronounced Bah, for Mrs. Or, if she is an aristocrat, Phu Nhan, Foo Nyan, for lady.

When she is born, she gets four names — her family name; Thi, tee, meaning female, and two other names that mean something beautiful like a flower or a river.

Diem's niece, the daughter of Mrs. Ngo Dinh Nhu, now abroad, is Ngo Dinh Le Thuy. She uses the second part of her Viet family name instead of Thi. Le Thuy, Lay Twee, means limpid water and is also the name of a river near the family birthplace in North Viet Nam.

Viet, pronounced just like that, is the name of the people of the country. Nam, Nahm, means south. So Viet Nam is the Viet people in the south. Viet Cong means Communist.

Jacky Cupit Leads Qualifying, Gene Bone 'In'

Snead Fails to Make U. S. Open on Detroit Course

By BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press
DETROIT—The old but beautiful Country Club of Detroit golf course doesn't have a friend in Sam Snead today.

The famous slammer of golf, who has competed in 25 straight National Opens, failed to capture one of the 25 berths in Sectional Qualifying when he shot a 36-hole score of seven-over par 76-78-151 yesterday.

He thus missed qualifying for the U.S.A. tournament in San Francisco, June 18-19, by one stroke, and also loses an opportunity to try to win the only major tournament he has never won.

The touring pros, who are competing this week at the Buick Open at Warwick Hills, took most of the qualifying spots in two rounds yesterday, while Pontiac's Gene Bone continued his "hot golf" spree to pace the Michigan contingent.

Leading the Detroit field yesterday was Jacky Cupit of Dallas, Tex., with a four-under-par 71-69-140.

At 143 with rounds of 71-72 back with a one-under 71 to add to his morning round of 74 for a 145 total.

As in the other events, Bone had a "scrambling" morning round and came back with a strong second round yesterday.

After canning a 25-foot birdie putt on No. 12 in the afternoon, and hitting a 10-foot par putt on No. 14, Bone said he was confident he "could coast in and make it."

His "coasting," however, caused him to three-putt No. 17 and No. 18 for bogeys.

Bone will have three other Michigan golfers in the field with him at San Francisco—Wally Burkemo, Cass Jawor and Charles Matlack.

Burkemo, exempt from local qualifying, had a 71 in the morning and 78 in the afternoon, while Jawor had 73-76-149 and Matlack 73-76-149.

Dave Hill, Jackson golfer playing out of Evergreen, Colo., also won a berth with 72-74-146.

Leading Michigan amateurs

Pete Green, Chuck Kocsis and Bud Stevens failed to make the cut he "could coast in and make it."

Green, of Orchard Lake Country Club, posted a 75 in the morning which included an eagle-3 on the 17th hole with a 45-foot chip shot, and had a 76 in the afternoon, putting him among the four alternates.

Kocsis of Red Run and Stevens each had 74's in the morning round and settled for 77 and 78, respectively, in the afternoon.

Most disastrous day for Michigan entries belonged to veteran Ted Kroil of Franklin Hills, Kroll, a U.S. Open entry 19 times, started the day in dazzling fashion, going three-under after 10 holes.

But then he had five bogeys, two double bogeys and a par on the next eight holes to finish 34-44-78, and after nine more holes in the afternoon, he picked up and withdrew.

GARY PLAYER'S GOLF CLASS:

YOU HAD A VERY FLAT SWING WHEN YOU FIRST CAME TO BRITAIN, GARY...

THAT'S RIGHT, TOM. I WAS SO SCARED OF HOOKING, I DEVELOPED A SLICING GRIP WHICH MADE ME SWING VERY FLAT.

THIS IS HOW I USED TO SWING. I HAD THE CLUB CRACKING SO MANY WEEBENDERS, IN OTHER WORDS THE CLUB IS NOT POINTING TO THE TARGET AT THE END OF THE BACKSWING.

ALSO MY LEFT WRIST IS ON TOP OF THE CLUB.

I CORRECTED MY SWING SHIP BY GRIPPING THE CLUB CORRECTLY. THE TWO YET POINTING TO THE RIGHT SHOULDER.

NOW WHEN I TAKE THE CLUB BACK, IT POINTS TO WHERE I AM AIMING, AND MY LEFT WRIST IS UNDERNEATH THE CLUB.

POUR ME!

SOMETIMES A SHORT MAN SWINGS FLATTER THAN A TALL MAN... BUT IT DEFINITELY USED TO BE A LITTLE TOO FLAT!

007-Types Dotting Roster of Cuban Team

WASHINGTON, (AP) — There's suspicion here that the biggest squad on Cuba's latest international sports roster consists of detective-types whose main job is to make sure their athletes don't run too far away.

The suspicion is nurtured by a preliminary check of some 364 visas, or entry permits, issued for the Cuban delegation to the 10th annual Caribbean and Central American Games being held in Puerto Rico Saturday under Olympic auspices.

According to U.S. officials, the Cuban roster shows approximately a 3-1 ratio between the number of athletes and the number of trainers, coaches, "sub coaches", or other non-playing personnel on the list.

By comparison the Mexican delegation, next largest visiting team in the 17-country event, was said to have more than 200 athletes on a total roster of about 250.

In mustering a big entry list, prime minister Fidel Castro is shooting for a high showing in this year's contest — and he presumably wants to avoid the propaganda beating taken by Havana on some past occasions when his performers refused to return to their communist island homeland.

Deals Cards 9-1 Setback

Pirate Sharp Shuffler

By the Associated Press

Harry Walker's biggest problem this month has been keeping four of the National League's top five hitters busy in a three-man outfield.

The problem disappeared Tuesday night. Two of them couldn't see.

But the two who could — Roberto Clemente and Willie Stargell — combined for five hits as the Pittsburgh Pirates blasted St. Louis 9-1 with an eight-run eighth-inning explosion and extended their June winning streak to six games.

The Cardinals' Bob Gibson threw invisible baseballs for seven innings, striking out 12, before the Pirates caught him in their sights. Clemente triggered the eighth-inning rally with a single, capped it with a three-run homer and finished with three hits in five trips.

Stargell, whose string of consecutive hits was snapped at nine by Gibson in the first inning, picked up two hits after a pinch runner into the game as a mola gotner and finished in center field but did not bat.

Mota leads the league in batting with a .345 average while Alou and Stargell are tied for third at .329 and Clemente shares the No. 5 spot with Houston's Joe Morgan at .328. Dave Nicholson of the Astros is second with a .336 mark.

Jim Bunning won his eighth straight as Philadelphia's 12th pitched Cincinnati 5-1; Nicholson, John Bateman and Sonny Jackson led Houston past San Francisco 10-9; Los Angeles topped Chicago 8-6 on 10th inning homers by Al Ferrara and Jim Lefebvre, and Atlanta bombed New York 11-6 in other National League action.

Bunning, now 8-1, struck out 14 Cincinnati batters and allowed only three hits as the Phillies breezed to their eighth triumph in the last nine games.

Three hits apiece by Jackson, Nicholson and Bateman helped Houston outlast the Giants, who have dropped four of their last five. Dave Giusti won his seventh in 10 decisions but needed relief help when the Giants scored three runs in the eighth, two on a homer by Tom Haller.

Clippers Leading League

Another big inning late in the game has carried the Clippers to the top of the city men's recreation baseball league race.

The Clippers, who won their first start with a six-run sixth inning, made it two straight by erupting for five runs in the eighth frame and defeating Cranbrook, 7-2, last night.

Jim Broome, a late substitute slapper, a home run leading off the first extra inning; and two outers later the Clippers blasted three doubles and a single, plus drawing two walks to put the game out of reach.

Pharmacy 9
Takes Lead
in Waterford

The hotly contested lead in the Waterford Township Men's Recreation Softball League is safe for at least one week.

Lakeland Pharmacy grabbed command of the circuit's top spot with a 5-4 eight-inning conquest of Day's Sanitary last night in the Drayton Plains diamond's nightcap contest.

Earlier, the Rev. Harold Hughes blanked McAnnally's Auto Sales, 3-0, on one hit to put Hillcrest Nazarene in a secondplace tie with the second-game loser.

Hughes fanned 13 and was touched for only Pat May's two-out single in the fifth.

The league is idle now until Monday, and Lakeland doesn't play again until Tuesday night.

Memorial Golf Tourney
Honors Ex-City Athlete

The first Dixie Howell Memorial Invitational Golf Tournament sponsored by Pontiac VFW Post No. 1370, will be held Saturday July 9 at Waterford Hill Country Club.

All bona-fide VFW members and their guests, are eligible to participate in the tournament, which is being initiated in honor of one of Pontiac's most outstanding athletes.

GREAT ATHLETE
Howell, once called the most versatile athlete in Pontiac, was in the Armed Forces since his entry during World War II, and last winter at the age of 39, he died following surgery in a military hospital in Washington, D.C.

Paul Parks, chairman of the tournament, and recreation director for Post 1370, said, "there isn't a long-time sports fan around Pontiac who didn't know Dixie and his tremendous talents in all sports."

Entry fee for the tournament is $12.00. This will include 18 holes of golf, luncheon at the course, dinner at the VFW Post 1370, a prize for every golfer, along with trophy to the winner and awards for medal and low handicap.

Tee off times will begin at 9:00 a.m. and close at noon, thus closing entries when all times between these hours are taken.

Golfers can enter by calling the Post at FE 5-4201 or the pro shop at Waterford Hill at 625-2609.

NEW LEADER — This 5-pound, 11-ounce largemouth black bass being held by Donald J. Morley, 1040 W. Long Lake, Bloomfield Township, is the new leader in The Pontiac Press Big Fish Derby's bass division. Morley said he caught the fish from "a small lake off Long Lake Road" while using a flatfish. The prize division leader remains at 7½ pounds. The Derby ends Sept. 5.

Ruled 'Too Dangerous'

Motors Banned on Wildwood Lake

The use of boats with motors will be prohibited at Wildwood and Valley lakes in the Holly recreation area starting Monday, June 13.

"It's getting too congested," said Alfred Masini, Conservation Department district parks supervisor, in announcing the ban.

"The lakes are too small for the heavy volume of water skiers and big powerboats that are being used on them. Last weekend, there were several near accidents.

Wildwood and Valley are connecting lakes and among the favored camping, swimming and boating spots in the county. The combined water area is 84 acres, a little over one-third the size of Maccady Lake.

"A couple of boats even had 90-horsepower motors," Masini reported. "I don't know how they had room to turn around in that heavy traffic. It's simply getting too dangerous."

Only car-power will be permitted.

Bass Activity Slow in Area

Bluegills, Trout Good; Walleyes Quiet

Bass, moving onto the spawning beds later than normal, continue to generally ignore the efforts of area fishermen. Fair results are reported from Pine, Union, Pettibone, Orion and Kent on bass. Wiley Lewis of Leonard took a five-pounder Sunday from Lakeville Lake.

Pike haven't been over cooperative, but there aren't too many fishing for them. Bass and bluegills are the big targets these days.

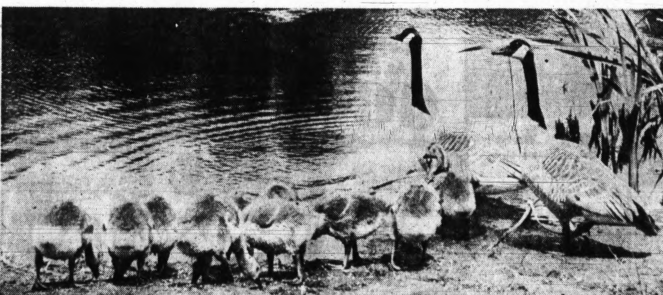

Casmer S. Starch of Dearborn Heights landed a 9½ pound northern last Friday at Pontiac Lake.

Bluegills are hitting very well on poppers in shallow water with good catches reported at Silver, Schoolhouse, Davison, String, Lakeville, Orchard, Union and Oxbow.

Rainbows are biting on Little and Upper Silver and Maccady. There is no activity on walleyes on the St. Clair River. Heavy concentrations of alewives are the main reason. Bass fishing along Saginaw Bay has been hampered by foul weather. Smallmouths are reported hitting along the Cass River between Vassar and Caro.

Note Changes in Horse Show

The annual, prestigious Detroit Horse Show at the Bloomfield Open Hunt June 20-26 will have some changes this year but the average spectator won't notice them.

The format and the features of the largest outdoor show for jumpers and hunters will be the same generally.

The intense youngsters in their dressage competition, the well-built hunting horses tackling the outer course, the keen sense of the equitation events, the handsome jumping steeds and the extra entertainment of the new car parade and professional performers still are at the schedule.

But show officials have avoided the embarrassment of staging the third Fort Riley Classic with all the United States Eque-trian team in Europe and many other highly regarded mounts unwilling to travel East for the one show by suspending the event until a more favorable situation.

Instead, the first North American Jumper Classic will utilize the prize-winning Fort Riley course and serve as the climactic event Saturday night June 25.

Reflecting the increased popularity of jumping events featuring teenage riders, the show officials have also initiated a junior jumping event that night on the same course.

In fact, the junior jumpers will be featured the nights of June 23, 24 and 25. The popular groomers' bareback jumping contest will conclude the program as usual Sunday night June 26.

BIGGEST — More than 80 classes have been scheduled this year and the OBH limit of 400 stalls is expected to be filled making this the biggest Detroit Horse Show.

Many of the familiar names from the Bloomfield Open Hunt riding club won't be competing. Foremost among the missing will be Crystine Jones.

The fast-rising Bloomfield Hills resident is with the U.S. Equestrian team in Europe. She qualified for a team try-out at BOH following last summer's Detroit Horse Show.

Also missing will be perennial winners Alison and Rick Cram, talented brother and sister, and Robert M. Lambert Jr., all of Birmingham.

Two other club members, Devbie Willson and Linda Brandt likely will compete although they have moved their horses to Virginia.

HOPEFUL — Dick Schuster, Larry Glefke, Penny Mitchell and Jane Foley are experienced BOH riders who expect to do well this year. Most are preparing now for the Grosse Pointe Horse Show June 16-19 which precedes the Detroit show.

Expected to enter from the BOH stables, also, are Cathy Shinnick, Sarah Zimmerman, Scott Niederlander, Craig Newlander and Mark Troughton as junior riders.

Senior entrants may include Dr. Ina Rother and Kathy Hohmeier.

A new trophy this season is the Charles D. Pierce Memorial Trophy to the Champion of Champions Hunter from all hunting divisions in the show.

The competition will begin 8:30 a.m. Monday June 20 and run right through to late evening each night except Tuesday June 21.

Canoe Association Discusses Marathon

RAY CITY (AP) — The Michigan Canoe Racing Association reports it has been holding meetings to consider taking over sponsorship of the canoe marathon race, held annually on the Au Sable river.

The association said it has been discussing the possibility of forming a private, nonprofit corporation to sponsor the race. Grayling, Mio and Oscoda, the association said, have announced they are no longer interested in cosponsoring the race.

The association also said it is considering moving the location of the 240-mile race to the Manistee or Grand Rivers.

'Took No Chances'

Big One Didn't Escape

"I lost one earlier and I wasn't going to let this one get away," said Richard Bolton, 14, of 3255 Wormer, Waterford Township, before I could take care of it."

Spear and bow and arrow fishing for rough fish, including carp, is legal on many area lakes until Aug. 15. A list of open waters is available from the Conservation Department's district office.

He was explaining how he shot a 20-pound carp and finally beached it Monday morning.

The Mason junior high school student was walking along the shore in front of his home on Wormer Lake. He spotted one carp in the shallows that was "smaller than the one I got" and hit it with an arrow.

But the line running from the bow to the arrow became fouled and the carp pulled off.

"Then I saw the big one and got as close as I could. I hit it through the eyes. This time I wasn't going to take any chances."

I waded out, grabbed the arrow, then worked the fish to the shore. I laid it away from the water, but it started flopping

Surveyor 1 Gets Rest on Moon

Photography Halted;
Other Tests Begin

PASADENA, Calif. (UPI) — Surveyor took the first of two days rest today from its task of photographing the moon as scientists around the world conducted extensive tests on the craft.

While the robot was vacationing, scientists at tracking stations in Johannesburg, South Africa, and Canberra, Australia, took over operation of the spacecraft. They were checking Surveyor's condition and testing its unused secondary communications equipment.

Measurements of temperatures around the craft also were being made. Scientists hope eventually to devise a profile of temperatures and humidity on the lunar surface from these measurements.

Meanwhile, scientists and technicians at the Jet Propulsion Laboratory here said there were three primary reasons for the decision to give Surveyor a two-day break from its picture-taking duties:

- Fatigue of the operators who have been busy guiding the spacecraft's activities since it made its "perfect" soft landing on the moon last Wednesday.
- A considerable amount of glare that made picture-taking impractical at this time.
- The camera no longer is in the shadow of its antenna.

The photographing will resume late tomorrow night, scientists said.

During its five picture-taking missions since landing, the craft has relayed 4,000 "beautifully clear" television pictures.

In its final mission before the vacation which began early yesterday morning, Surveyor transmitted 1,048 photos after responding to more than 9,345 commands from the JPL.

Copper Lack Stalls New Japan Palace

TOKYO (AP) — The world copper shortage is delaying construction of Emperor Hirohito's new palace.

The plans call for 800 tons of copper, mostly for roofing, but the copper shortage has jacked the price up to as high as $2,500 per ton compared to $888 last year.

Officials estimate they'll have to add another million dollars to the construction budget — or wait until the price goes down.
