

Unto Us A Child Is Born

Good news circles the planet again.
A Child is born.
Shepherds heard of it and came to worship.
Wise Men learned of it and came to ponder.
The common people heard
Him gladly.
Rulers there were who found new meaning for life.

So Christ is born for our moment.
Christmas is meant for this year.

This is no time to despair.
This is no hour for lament.
Nor can we remain, unmoved, unchanged.

For—unto us—
a Child is born
And life can never be the same again!

New Showdown Looming Over Katanga's Split

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP) — Another showdown over Katanga secession loomed today after refusal by the provincial cabinet to act on President Moïse Tshombe's unity pact with the central Congo government.

The Katanga cabinet declared itself incompetent to authorize Tshombe's agreement with Congo Premier Cyrille Adoula after listening Friday to a report on their meeting at the U.N. base at Kitona. A communiqué said it had "decided to put it (ratification of the accord) before the National Assembly — the sole valid authority on such matters."

Rail Car Plunge Kills 68 in Italy

Coach Snaps Loose
From Crowded Train,
Falls 100 Feet to River

CATANZARO, Italy (AP) Sixty-eight persons were killed today when a railway car jammed with Christmas shoppers and workers snapped loose from the end of a train and plunged 100 feet into a river bed, police reported.

At least 33 persons were injured, many seriously.

Police originally had said 34 died and thought all bodies had been removed. Then they cut back to seven bodies. This led them to continue their grim work, fearing even more victims may be found.

The last car of a three-coach train broke loose on a trestle and crashed into rocks at the foot of a river embankment.

The train was jammed with travelers heading to Catanzaro—in Calabria in the toe of the Italian boot—for work, school and last-minute Christmas shopping.

More than 80 persons were in the death car.

It came loose as the train was crossing a bridge on the River Plumarella just outside Catanzaro. The first two cars—one a self-propelled diesel passenger car that was pulling the others—continued across the bridge.

The third had barely touched the bridge when it went off the tracks and plunged to the rocky river bed.

The train was traveling from Soveria-Mannelli to Catanzaro, a distance of 25 miles.

Soldiers joined police and firemen in the hours-long rescue operations in a steady rain.

West to Promote Berlin Talk Bid, 'Summit' States

Ambassador to Soviet
to Lead U.S.-British Try
at Negotiations

WASHINGTON (AP) — In about one week, orders will go to the U.S. ambassador in Moscow to take the lead in a new U.S.-British effort to promote East-West negotiations on Berlin.

Some months hence, the United States may announce, with Britain's backing, the resumption of nuclear tests in the atmosphere.

These were highlights emerging from the two-day Bermuda meeting between President Kennedy and Britain's Prime Minister Harold Macmillan that ended Friday.

Macmillan returned to London with his top aides, Kennedy went to Palm Beach, Fla. Secretary of State Dean Rusk headed for Washington to work on the agreed diplomatic moves.

Kennedy and Macmillan were reported to be pleased with the results of their fourth meeting, a relaxed get-together at Bermuda's Government House. Both were said to have found much to concur in and little to disagree over.

Kennedy was described as convinced the United States could take positive steps toward easing East-West tensions without disrupting the Atlantic alliance.

Macmillan was portrayed as hopeful that progress toward a peaceful solution of the Berlin situation would soon be made.

He said on his return from talks with President Kennedy in Bermuda "at the end of a year that has had some rather grim moments, we look forward, not without hope, to the year that is to come."

"And at any rate, he added, 'I think, sitting here just before the greatest festival we celebrate Christmas Day — that we did try to look forward to a sense of perhaps being able to contribute something to the happiness and peace of the world.'"

He characterized the talks as frank and fruitful.

SNOW AND MORE SNOW — Des Moines, Iowa, was as near snowbound this morning as it has been in years. It was all because of 11 inches of new snow Friday and Friday night, which topped 6 inches already on the ground from previous early season snowfalls. Normally busy streets carried little traffic. A good reason was the one pictured here. An unidentified man is shown digging out the car he abandoned Friday night.

County Crashes Kill Three; State, National Tolls Climb

The death toll from highway mishaps in Oakland County and the rest of the state edged steadily upward today in the opening hours of the long Christmas holiday weekend.

Three persons died in Oakland County auto accidents while seven other traffic fatalities and two fire deaths were reported in other parts of Michigan.

Snow, which began falling over most of the state this morning, was expected to increase driving hazards. The U.S. Weather Bureau forecast a 1 to 3 inches of new snow for most of Lower Michigan.

The Automobile Club of Michigan estimated that 3 million motorists would crowd the state's highways during the 78-hour period. One-hundred national guardmen teamed with state police troopers to beef up traffic safety and law enforcement in the state.

In a period which began at 6 p.m. Friday 120 persons reportedly were killed in the nation, 14 died in fire and six others were fatally injured in miscellaneous mishaps.

A Waterford Township man, Carl E. Lebo, 34, 6955 Mason Drive was killed at 3:15 a.m. today when his auto struck a guard rail and crashed into a tree on Williams Lake Road less than a mile from home.

Shortly before 6 p.m. yesterday Avon Township Trustee Wayne C. Frink, 58, 322 W. Farnham St., Rochester, died in a two-car collision at Rochester Road and Nakawaka Street.

HIT REAR OF CAR
Oakland County Sheriff's deputies said Frink's auto struck the rear of one driven by Cecil H. Monger, 37, 137 Nakawaka St., Avon Township, who was unhurt.

Frink's car veered off the left side of Rochester Road, struck a sign post about 65 feet away and then traveled another 38 feet across Nakawaka Street, where it crashed into a tree. Frink was dead at the scene.

A Troy woman, Mrs. Berdella Loutschmeyer, 52, of 6478 Livernols Road, was injured fatally last night when the car in which she was riding crashed with another car in Royal Oak.

Also injured and taken to William Beaumont Hospital were her husband Russell, who was driving the car, and the driver of the other car, LeRoy C. Denison, 25, of 2280 Annabell St., Ferndale.

Mail---More Than Ever--- Flows Smoothly in City

Your Christmas mail, if you live in the Pontiac area, is likely to reach you on time this year—despite record mail volumes.

Postmaster William W. Donaldson today announced his Pontiac district offices were "practically caught up with current, normal mail."

He attributed this to early mailings, a steady flow instead of sudden surges and to overtime work by postal employees.

"We appreciate the cooperation of the public in mailing early and in making allowances for some delays during this season," Donaldson said. "Unless we get a sudden drop in mail, we hope to be on time with it."

Total mail volume in the first 19 days of December this year was up 11.5 per cent for Pontiac Post Office, with 9.35 million pieces handled as compared to 8.4 million handled in the same period last year, Donaldson said.

The record local mail volume was handled with fewer employees than ever before under new programs which emphasize overtime benefits for regular career employees of the local post office, and a minimum use of inexperienced Christmas temporary helpers, he said.

Only 119 temporary employees were used compared to 174 last year.

Area mail volume was in keeping with the trend over the nation, Donaldson reported.

ALL-TIME RECORD
Post Office Department headquarters advised that more than one-billion pieces of mail — an all-time record — were handled nationally by 35,000 post offices on the two days of Dec. 18 and 19 alone.

During those two days, the Pontiac Post Office handled its largest load in history with 1,321,948 pieces as contrasted with 1,512,366 handled in a similar period in 1960.

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. (AP)—Work was resumed Friday on construction of an underground operations center for the North American Air Defense Command following settlement of a three-day strike.

Blizzard Hits Midwest, At Least 10 Are Dead

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
A snowstorm swept across the Midwest today, stranding hundreds of school children and Christmas holiday travelers.

It swirled eastward, rearing drifts and raising fears for what the snowflakes may uncover when they reach trapped vehicles.

At least 10 deaths were reported. "We figure there are more than 200 persons stranded within a 20-mile radius of Maryville, Mo.," said Sheriff James Tucker.

"I don't know what we'll find when the snowflakes get through."

Drifts up to 7 feet blocked roads in Northwestern Missouri. Hundreds of motorists and school children jammed into farm houses and service stations or huddled in stalled automobiles in that area.

The snow ranged up to 10 inches in Iowa and 12 in Illinois as blinding snow whipped eastward from the Plains region into the Great Lakes area and the Ohio Valley.

Yule Spirit Rises Over Tense World
By The Associated Press
The spirit of Christmas rose over a troubled world today despite anxiety and apprehension that cast shadows over far points of the globe.

There was a quiet and sadness, humor and frustration — but an overtone of faith in mankind and hopes for peace were evident with the approach of the day of observance of the birth of Christ.

The first snow of the season, fell on Berlin bringing prospects for the city's first White Christmas in 30 years.

Along the Communist wall, 800 lighted Christmas trees glittered through the falling snowflakes and muted the starkness of the brick and wire barrier. The trees — sent from all over western Europe — looked one leader of the Red East German regime who complained, "They serve the cold war."

But Red restrictions remained in force. For many Berliners, Christmas reunion promised only a walk to the wall to wave at relatives on the other side.

INVITE SOLDIERS
West Berliners showered the 11,000 U.S., British and French garrisons with Christmas dinner invitations, the Americans high in demand.

President Kennedy, who returned to Palm Beach, Fla., Friday from Bermuda talks with British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan, will send Christmas greetings to West Berliners and other European citizens in a European television broadcast Christmas night.

Elsewhere about the world, many cast aside everyday routine heading for a Yuletide in the sun and the snow.

France's state-owned railways made up special trains to move an estimated 300,000 holiday vacationers to the Riviera, ski resorts and to family reunions in the provinces.

A White Christmas Now Seems Likely
Hundreds of automobiles stalled on Des Moines streets, delaying snow removal work. Many Des Moines streets, delaying snow removal work. Many Des Moines workers, unable to get to suburban homes, spent the night in offices and hotels.

Roads in southeastern Nebraska were blocked.

Some roads were drifting in Illinois where a foot of snow piled up in Ottawa.

O'Hare International Airport and Midway Airport in Chicago halted arrivals and take-offs because of heavy snow on the runways and poor visibility. The fall measured 8 inches at Midway.

'Twas the Night'...Born in Greenwich Village

"His cheeks were like roses, his nose like a cherry!" That's Santa the way American children have pictured him ever since Clement C. Moore penned his immortal Christmas poem 129 years ago in New York's Greenwich Village.

It was Christmas Eve, 1822. Prof. Moore was returning by sleigh from Washington Market—where he had bought a plump turkey for the family's Christmas dinner.

His horses moved easily over packed snow on the rough country road—where walnut and apple trees bloomed in fair weather.

The night was crisp and cold—the air merry with sleigh bells and holiday greetings called between friends.

"'Twas the night before Christmas, when all through the house not a creature was stirring, not even a mouse." Amusing couplets began taking shape in the learned churchman's mind.

"The stockings were hung by the chimney with care, in hopes that St. Nicholas soon would be there."

By the time Prof. Moore reached his home and his six small, bright-eyed children... America's completely new version of Santa Claus had been created... and was ready for its first delighted audience!

Moore's imaginative description gave Santa a horse reindeer and a sleigh full of toys... dimples, a white beard and a pipe... a paunch and a hearty laugh... plus a costume of fur "from his head to his foot."

Some say this St. Nicholas was modeled on a round, jovial Dutchman who also lived on Union Boulevard in these days.

Moore wrote the poem only as a Christmas surprise for his family. It had no name—nor future—until a friend copied the verses and submitted them to a newspaper editor.

Just before Christmas 1822, the poem was published... under the editors' heading, "An Account of a Visit from St. Nicholas."

No one knew Moore wrote it until a decade went by—and the verses had grown nationally popular!

The poet gave America its modern picture of what Santa should look like, yet Moore himself never referred to St. Nicholas as "Santa Claus," a name known here since the mid-1700s.

The Christmas stockings, chimney, nightcap, shutters, fireplaces, ashes and soot were all part of the American scene in the Village in Moore's time.

MANY FIREPLACES

Preserving its aura of Victorian charm, Greenwich Village today probably has more fireplaces in use than any other section of New York! Santa still finds landing room among the chimney pots spiraling smoke above quaint streets. Aboard the Village's bright red and still believes in Santa as he was explained to her by a kindly editor, so many years ago.

Departing from 42 East 11th Street at frequent intervals all day and evening, the Village bus rolls first to historic Washington Square.

Here, under the fabled Arch, a mammoth tree symbolizes the "old world feeling" of the Village. Ceremonies accompanying the lighting of the tree about 10 days before Christmas start the caroling traditional to Washington Square.

Last year, choristers charmed listeners by performing in colorful Dickensian costumes!

Among the carolers who annually gather under the 40-foot tree, you might meet Mrs. Virginia Douglas of "Yes, Virginia, there is a Santa Claus" fame. A Village resident, she's in her 70s now...

size figures pay silent tribute to the Holy Night at Bethlehem.

Midnight and candlelight religious services are held throughout the community, in some of New York's oldest churches. St. Mark's in the Bowery presents hymns of many nations... imparting a world-brotherhood air to festivities.

International and bohemian in flavor, tiny shops tucked away in the Village's winding lanes display gifts and remembrances from every country where Christmas is loved and celebrated.

Peering into the wintry dark, you can see a tall, bright cross silhouetted among Manhattan's towers.

At New York University, cultural landmark of the Village, the cross is formed by lighted windows. All lights in the main building are turned off, except those giving shape to the symbolic cross.

As in small towns across America, lamp posts on residential streets here are hung with fragrant wreaths. Community awards have been won for the most beautifully decorated private homes.

Not to be outdone, streets and avenues dotted with shops like a plum pudding is dotted with railings, den lights and garlands for holiday finery.

A quiet and gay little world preserved from another era... Greenwich Village, more enchanting than ever at Christmas time. Does any place in America have more right to take the season to its heart? Santa Claus, that "right jolly old elf," was born here—and childhood's Christmas lore will never forget it.

Daughter Home
for Mother's Last Christmas

DETROIT (AP) — Volunteer workers at the Michigan Cancer Foundation took up a collection among themselves as 9-year old Gayle Peterson could fly home from California and spend Christmas with his mother.

Beatrice Peterson, 52, a widow on a pension, has had four operations since last summer. She knows this may be her last Christmas.

When she became ill, Gayle was sent to live with his married brother, Wayne in San Francisco.

Mrs. Peterson voiced a wish. She said the house would be much more cheerful — just like in the old days — if Gayle could be home for Christmas.

Gayle flew home Wednesday. Polio deaths in the U.S. in 1954 were about the same number as in 1953.

J.F.K.-Macmillan Talks Deal Nikita Double Blow

An AP News Analysis

By WILLIAM L. RYAN

HAMILTON, Bermuda (AP)—A challenging statement from the Anglo-American summit in Bermuda threw a two fisted wallop in the direction of Soviet Premier Khrushchev.

It extended an olive branch on two fronts—the nuclear testing issue and the Berlin situation—but it pinned on him any blame for failure to find a way out, and labeled him responsible for the decision to resume testing in the atmosphere.

Probably these were the most important results of the two days of calm, frank conversation between President Kennedy and British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan.

But there was one aspect of the meeting that leaves little for the West to cheer about. That is: Allied unity, the conference had the effect, in a sense, of spotlighting disunity.

CONSECUTIOUS ABSENCE

French President Charles de Gaulle was highly conspicuous by his absence here, U.S. and British spokesmen of course insisted there had never been any intention to have anything but a two-way Anglo-American parley.

That, however, is beside the point. Conversations here clearly underscored De Gaulle's stony opposition to any approach to Khrushchev on the Berlin issue, smacking of outright negotiations.

Budget Shows Surplus

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy's budget message to Congress next month will show a surplus of about $200 million or $200 million, officials indicate.

President Starts Florida Holiday

Hurries to See Father at Hospital; Condition Improved but Serious

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP)—President Kennedy, once again near his stricken father, begins a Christmas holiday with his family today.

The President hurried to St. Mary's Hospital Friday immediately after winging in from two days of talks in Bermuda with British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan. He found his father, Joseph P. Kennedy, had improved since he left two days ago.

Hospital medical authorities said they were confident the elder Kennedy would survive the stroke that felled him last Tuesday. But they expressed concern over whether he would recover from the paralysis that affects his right leg and arm and the left side of his face, including his speech.

The 73-year-old former ambassador's illness left the big, closely knit family's Christmas plans up in the air.

TO VISIT HOSPITAL

The President, with no business scheduled for today, was expected to visit his father, his brothers, Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy and Edward Kennedy, returned to the hospital Friday night during a rain. They kept a vigil there along with their cousin, Anne Gargan of Boston, who had been playing golf with the elder Kennedy the day he was stricken.

Old Courthouse Going on Sale

City Fathers Hopeful as Building, Annex to Be Put on Block Jan. 4

The old county courthouse and annex downtown Pontiac will go on sale Jan. 4, Oakland County Auditor John C. Austin announced today.

Any prospective buyer probably would want to tear down the aged buildings and use the site for a new business enterprise.

At least Pontiac city fathers are hopeful the buyer will notice such a venture to downtown Pontiac. They consider the combined sites at the major intersection of Saginaw and Huron Streets as two of the city's choicest.

In fact they offered the county $200,000 for the property to control the future of the downtown corner. But county officials hope to get over $400,000. The money would be used for a proposed county auditorium next to the new courthouse.

TO ADVERTISE

The downtown property will be advertised for public sale in four metropolitan area newspapers including The Pontiac Press, and the Wall Street Journal.

The sale will be conducted strictly on a sealed bid basis, said Austin. Separate bids can be made on the two parcels involved or one bid to cover both.

Terms are cash or 25 per cent down and a year to pay.

The sealed bids will be opened by the board of auditors Feb. 14 at 10 a. m., Austin added.

County Board of Supervisors Chairman Delos Hamlin assured that county officials will survey the old buildings for any property of historical value prior to the sale.

Hepatitis Cases Grow in Oakland County

Hepatitis in Oakland County again appeared on the upswing this month with 34 new cases reported in the first 22 days.

This brings the year's total to 350. Last year's total was 113.

The infectious form of the disease appeared to decline during October and November, with 24 and 29 cases reported in these months, respectively.

This fall's high had been reached with 31 cases reported in September, and health officials were reportedly anticipating a decline.

2 Tots Die in Blaze While Mom Shopping

SAGINAW (U—) A baby girl and her brother died in an apartment fire Friday night while their mother was on an errand.

A Christmas tree was destroyed along with other property. However, firemen and police said it was impossible to tell whether the Christmas tree caused the blaze.

The children, Linda Oliver, 3 months, and Terry, 3 years old, suffocated when they were trapped in a bedroom off a combined kitchen-living room.

The mother, Mrs. Helen Oliver, said she had gone to a store. The fire broke out in the living room where the Christmas tree stood. Mrs. Oliver was hospitalized for shock.

Love of Democracy Told by Frondizi in Address

SAN FRANCISCO (U—) "I am one of millions committed to the cause of democracy in the Western Hemisphere," President Arturo Frondizi of the Republic of Argentina declared Friday night in a major address on the eve of his suddenly arranged meeting with President Kennedy at Palm Beach, Fla.

He flies from San Francisco for New Orleans at 9 a. m. today. He is due to fly on to Palm Beach, arriving there at 5 p. m. (Pontiac time) for his conference with President Kennedy.

None of the things children are to learn should ever be made a burden to them, or imposed on them as a task. Whatever is so imposed presently becomes irksome; the mind takes an aversion to it, though before it were a thing of delight.

Martha Hopkin, daughter of the John H. Hopkins of Lane Pine Road, Bloomfield Hills, is also assisting with the project.

Susan Hallas has been making posters for the Student Education Committee of the College Government Association at Wellesley in addition to sewing doll clothes. Her parents are Mr. and Mrs. Howard E. Hallas of Orchard Lake. All three girls are freshmen.

They will tell of their college experiences at a tea next Wednesday in the Puritan Room, home of Mrs. Robert Henry of the Birmingham-Wellesley Club. Area undergraduates and local high school who are interested in Wellesley have been invited.

Christmas Enchants Little Ones

GAILE DUGAS

Newspaper Enterprise Assn. — Complaints about the commercialism of Christmas existed even in the days of Charles Dickens. This has not altered the fact that Christmas remains the one enchanted holiday.

No doubt they'll be caught by doing relatives as gifts. Or by doing parents who want to present the tots at their best to doing relatives.

This country is the only one in which children's fashions steadily reflect adult fashions. This year, the kiddies will be turned out in tunics, robe little sandwich board popovers and pinafores.

There are even pants for tiny toddlers. No, not dappers. These are chic. The crib set gets long pants extending in a complete footie shaped like a kitten's face. Or like lace booties. There are even pastel lozenges.

For little dresses, the fabrics are rich: velveteens in glowing colors, fine dacron batistes and novelty weave cottons.

PEO Sisterhood Hears of Carols

Mrs. Charles L. Coppersmith and Mrs. Harry Pearce were hostesses in the Coppersmith home on Woodland Drive to Chapter AW, PEO Sisterhood.

The program for the Monday evening Christmas meeting, narrated by Mrs. Walter Treuwalder, featured the story behind many of our Christmas gifts.

Gifts were exchanged after group singing of carols.

Christmas in Hospital

Christmas cheer—in the form of gaily striped packages and candy canes—was brought to Pontiac General Hospital out-patient clinic children Friday and Dec. 15 by hospital women's auxiliary executive board members. Happily helping distribute the gifts was Emma Reeves, 9, Moreland Avenue, surrounded by volunteer chairman Mrs. Howard W. Waider, Linden Street, holding Kenneth Wood of Drayton Plains, 6 months old; Mrs. Ross Elliott, Oneida Road; and Tom Hinkle, 6, Wolfe Street.

Seed pearl applique accented the bouffant bridal gown of white satin, styled with

SISTER IS HONOR MAID

Mrs. Donald Kendeigh of Bloomfield Hills, her sister's maid of honor, and the bridesmaids Elizabeth Andree, Port Huron, Bonnie Mitchell, Rochester, with Joan Hollister and Karen Adams of Detroit, appeared in emerald green satin.

Each wore a soft green rose veiled headpiece and held a white fur muff topped with miniature red roses and Happiness roses.

Donald Wareham stood as best man for his brother. They are the sons of the Harry O. Warehams of Willow Valley, Orchard Lake. Seating some 250 guests were the bride's brother James, with Gary Eynon, Frederick and Alexander Clark, of Bloomfield Hills.

The newlyweds, presently honeymooning at a Northern Michigan ski lodge, will resume their senior year studies at Albion College. The new Mrs. Wareham is president of Alpha Xi Delta Sorority and her husband is affiliated with Alpha Tau Omega.

Brown cymbidium orchids accented Mrs. Collins' gold lace sheath dress. The mother of the bridegroom chose a sheath dress of violet organza over taffeta. Her flowers were pale green cypripedium orchids.

Put a Note on Cards of Gratitude

By The Emily Post Institute

Q: My father died recently and we received well over a hundred mass cards and quite a few flower pieces. It will be quite a chore to acknowledge each one by hand and while I know you do not approve of them, we are sending out printed cards which we received from the funeral director reading: "Your kind expression of sympathy is gratefully acknowledged." These cards require a signature and I would like to know how they should be signed to include all members of my family consisting of mother, two brothers and a sister. Would Mrs. John Jones and Family be correct?

A: Mrs. John Jones and Family would be impossible as a signature. If you insist on the printed cards, it will not be very much trouble and will make them infinitely more appreciative and warmer if each one of you took part of the cards and wrote a short message such as, "Mother loved your roses," or "Your wreath was lovely," or simply "Thank you so much," and then signed it Mary Jones, Henry Jones or whichever one is writing that card.

Q: I will be getting married in the near future and have a problem I would like your advice on. My fiancé would like his young sister to be a flower girl at our wedding and I also would like my young niece to be a flower girl. I am very close to both of them and would not want to cause hard feelings. Would it be proper to have both of them in the bridal party? One is four and the other is five.

A: It will be entirely proper to have both your niece and your fiancé's young sister as flower girls.

Q: I am giving an engagement party for my daughter and her fiancé. I'd like to have a special cake decorated for the occasion. Will you please tell me what marking is customary for the top of such a cake?

A: Although there is no prescribed marking, the long favorite one is their two first names enclosed in a heart.

Will Yule Date Your Wardrobe?

Gilbert Youth Service The party season's on. "Come over and help us decorate our Christmas tree."

It's open house on New Year's Day. Bring a date if you like.

"There's a formal at the club. Are you going?" If you have a heavy social calendar this holiday time, your clothes budget may be quickly devastated. Avoid it by keeping the glitter on the tree, and yourself in a collection of dresses that won't be dated after Christmas.

DOUBLE DUTY? Will the formal serve double duty at an early-spring school dance? If can, if you choose a dress without a mid-summer twist. Pastels as well as dazzling white are effective now, turn springward later.

The versatile knit now adopts soft lines to fashion holiday informals with a texture you'll swear was wool. Black dressed up with your most handsome costume jewelry goes partying with ease, returns for later school dates unruined. Or select bright red, for now and later.

Party Is Given by Sylvan Lake Unit, WNFGA

The Oakland County Boat Club was the setting for the Yuletide meeting of the Sylvan Lake Branch, Woman's National Farm and Garden Association Thursday afternoon.

Lyle Vette played marimba selections and the members sang Christmas carols. Cakes were presented to past presidents of the Sylvan Garden Club and of the Sylvan Lake Branch, WNFGA. Members exchanged Christmas cookies during the social hour.

Refreshments in the holiday motif were served by Mrs. Thomas Lyons, Mrs. Robert L. Dickie, Mrs. Thomas Whitfield, Mrs. John Royer, Mrs. Ray Howard and Mrs. Orin Lettner.

A group of members presented individual trees and holiday snacks to residents at the Pine Knob Convalescent Home following a Christmas program. Other members participated in a party for Pontiac State Hospital patients.

Highlighting the Jan. 18 meeting, will be the identification of color flower slides by the group.

January vows are planned by Linda Rae McBride, daughter of the Robert E. McBrides of Third Avenue to Richard K. Plourde, son of the Kenton W. Plourdes of Drayton Plains.

Members of the Sylvan Manor Branch, Woman's National Farm and Garden Association, gathered for a cooperative dinner Thursday in the home of Mrs. Raymond Eddy on St. Joseph Road. Cakes for the Christmas party were Mrs. Edward Schutler and Mrs. Clark McPhail.

Mrs. Dorothy Brooks will show new trends in flower arrangements techniques Jan. 11 meeting in the home of Mrs. Jack E. Kirksey on Littlefield Street.

and clubs who have attended the play, based on the original story by Hans Christian Andersen, believe that the musical will produce at least three hit songs, including "I'll Play Heart" and the title song "The Little Matchgirl."

Dr. William A. Gregory, managing director of Vanguard, is negotiating for national syndication of TV rights to the musical.

Sherry Kaye, who plays the charming lead, is a favorite of audiences who heard her in "Under the Gaslight," "Leave It to Jane" or the MGM road show "Flower Drum Song."

Trim Home Artistically This Year

Arrange a Focal Point for Most Dramatic Items

Try gold and blue if you're tired of trimming your home in traditional Christmas green and red. This is how it works, according to a leading interior designer.

The famous decorator also says that you'll get the most out of your decorations if you save the focal point of the room for your most dramatic trims. Smaller bits of tinsel and greenery can be reserved for less important spots.

The focal point might be a fireplace mantel, the wall behind the sofa, a large hanging room chest on table. The entry hall or foyer, no matter how tiny, are also important. These are the places to meet the guest's eye, says the internationally-known interior designer.

MINIATURE TREES For the mantel or buffet, local florists make up miniature Christmas trees with blossoms and ornaments which dramatize cool or warm color schemes. Tinted candles complete the grouping, and the holders should be trimmed to blend with bright blooming trees. These unusual floral trees are also wired as Christmas gifts to friends out of town. In this instance, it's best to select white blossoms for the tree as they will blend with any room setting or Christmas trim.

GREENS GALORE

The wall behind the sofa can also become a Christmas showplace with an attractive festoon of greens draped in metallic dust and trimmed with Christmas bells. Lights can also be included for an extra festive touch. The glittering swirls of metallic dust and trimmed with Christmas bells. Lights can also be included for an extra festive touch.

If the entry hall space is limited, the designer advises hanging your decorations from the ceiling. "Old-fashioned kissing rings of blossoms, mistletoe and greens suspended from heavy velvet ribbons are charming in any foyer."

"Even houseplants can take on a holiday air," says the designer. You can loosely drape tinsel or icicles from the stems of the larger potted-begonia varieties. He adds that the pots of smaller ivy or philodendrons can be wrapped in gleaming foil to complete the Merry Christmas effect.

Co-Op Dinner Held by Garden Branch

Members of the Sylvan Manor Branch, Woman's National Farm and Garden Association, gathered for a cooperative dinner Thursday in the home of Mrs. Raymond Eddy on St. Joseph Road. Cakes for the Christmas party were Mrs. Edward Schutler and Mrs. Clark McPhail.

Mrs. Dorothy Brooks will show new trends in flower arrangements techniques Jan. 11 meeting in the home of Mrs. Jack E. Kirksey on Littlefield Street.

Dinner Served by Newcomers

The Hills and Lakes Newcomers Club entertained its members recently at a progressive holiday dinner.

Mrs. and Mrs. Richard Jacobs of Middle Belt Road served the dinner at the W. Frederick Nibbelink's of Shore Hill Drive.

Hostesses for the main course, Cakes were Mrs. Donald Lamb and Mrs. Russell F. Kalberg.

Dessert and entertainment followed in the home of the Rex Mackerchens of West Point. Guests of the group included the Harry Wynn, Mr. and Mrs. John F. Ivory Jr. and the Charles Unbehauen.

Explain Why, Abby Advises

DEAR ABBY: I have a brother who is at one of those "honor camps." I want to see him and found out that someone else had used my name to get in to see him.

You see, they only let the immediate family visit. My married brother and his wife went to see him and she used my name to get in.

When I went and found out my name had been used, I used my married sister's name. Now, if SHE goes to visit him, they won't let her in because there is no name left for her to use. They fingerprint all the visitors so it is really a big mess.

I know I shouldn't have used my sister's name, but I wanted to see my brother and there wasn't any other way to get in. What do I do now?

FALSE NAME: DEAR FALSE: Write to the honor camp and tell them exactly what you did and why.

DEAR ABBY: I have an adorable 5-year-old granddaughter who has a brother younger than she is. This child bites her little brother whenever he does something she doesn't like. The mother shows partiality to the girl, and when the boy complains, all the mother says is, "Bite her back."

The poor little lad walks around with his sister's teeth marks on his arms and legs all the time. I remarked on it when I visited them last. My daughter-in-law threw up her hands and said she gave up. I raised four of my own and never had this to contend with. Can you help her?

GRANNY

Tell Camp You Used Name of Sister on Last Visit

DEAR GRANNY: Tell your daughter-in-law to put some teeth in her own discipline. A human bite can have serious consequences.

DEAR ABBY: A mutual friend recently told me a shocking rumor about my mother-in-law. She said she heard my mother-in-law cheats at cards! I have no intention of accusing her of this, nor do I intend to ask my husband about it—if he doesn't already know it. My husband often plays cards in the same game with his mother (the whole family are great card players) and I'm sure if his mother cheated he would be wise. How can I find out (without asking my husband and causing a family crisis) if his mother really cheats, if he is in league with her, or whether it is just a lot of talk?

CURIOUS: DEAR CURIOUS: I would dismiss the rumor as just a lot of talk. And I certainly would question the intentions of a "friend" who would bring such a rumor to my attention.

Your Neighbor's House

House Gives Family Elbow Room

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

There will be an extra ration of seed for the birds on Christmas morning. The L. Jerome Finks have left a small wilderness spot in their back yard where birds flock all day. Set in the middle of this uncultivated area is a large piece of sculpture done by Mrs. Fink. A couple of years ago the Finks bought a partly finished house and had it completed. Brown and Cici were the builders.

The house, set on a two-acre lot on Quarton Road, is red brick with white board and batten trim and white shutters. At one end is the attached double garage and at the side of the wide parking area is a basketball hoop for the Fink boys.

There are three boys, aged 11 to 18. Russ is the youngest, then come Bob and Fred. Sherry, the oldest child and only daughter, is away at college.

This is an attractive house, a convenient house and one that bears the stamp of the individuals living there. Even George, the German short haired pointer, has spots he thinks he owns.

On either side of the front door there are small paneled windows. In each of the little squares Mrs. Fink has hung one of her fused glass pictures. This is an art form with which she is now experimenting.

The floor of the entry is brown, red and green slate. Walls are hung with grass cloth. At one side is a very narrow console table.

The living room at the rear of the house is one step down from both vestibule and dining room. Carpeting in these two rooms is sandalwood. Walls are a pale shade of the same color with draperies at the picture windows even lighter. At one end is a fireplace framed in green marble. The wooden frame and simple mantel are painted to match the walls.

A pair of cherry arm chairs with green and white upholstery is set at right angles to the windows. Opposite is a beige leather wing chair with brass tack trim. Between the chairs is a low table from Hawaii. A piece of glass covers the intricately carved top.

Other chairs in the room include a tufted back leather chair in a fawn shade and a rosy beige upholstered wing chair.

Near the folding louvered doors that close off the dining room is a cherry desk. The upper shelves hold Dr. Fink's collection of ivories.

Walls in the dining room have a painted dado and beige and aqua wallpaper above. Furniture is cherry. The table is gateleg style. Chairs are Hitchcock. There's a corner cupboard, a small buffet and a large buffet for storage.

Between the dining room and garage is Dr. Fink's den. Here walls are cherry and the floor slate. Rugs are Orientals. One wall is completely given over to built-in bookcases. At the other end is a louvered door closet.

On the inner wall is a mounted Canadian goose. Dr. Fink shot two years ago at Cassville.

A beige studio couch provides a good bed. Two deep leather chairs invite relaxation. One is brown, the other red. The shade on the lamp above the brown chair is covered with the same leather.

There's a small lavatory between this den and the utility room in the back hall.

AT FRONT

The kitchen is at the front of the house. The floor is beige Tessera tile. Wallpaper is beige and gray. Counter tops are white with gold speckles. The curtains are made of white eyelet.

Cupboards are cherry. Appliances are Monel metal. We were interested to note that the refrigerator is double size. With three growing boys, that's probably none too large.

In the breakfast room there is a built-in buffet. On either side is a floor-to-ceiling closet. The lower walls in this area are paneled. Green leather chairs are placed around a round birch table. Curtains here are cafe style.

On the lower level there is a bedroom, bath and family room. Although the bedroom is Sherry's, her youngest brother takes it over during the school year.

Sherry wanted an orange and pink room. She settled for a neutral sandalwood carpeting. But she got her wish with the wallpaper.

This is an Arabian Nights scene and combines the exact colors Sherry wanted. The store had only enough to cover the end wall and the panel between the two closets at the other end. Painted walls are sandalwood. Curtains are cream color with an orange and gold braid trim. The throw rug is orange. Bedspreads are quilted beige ones.

Her furniture is maple. It includes a slant top desk, bookcases under the windows and small benches at the ends of the beds.

There's a red, gold and black area rug in the family room in front of the red brick fireplace. The floor is corkstone tile.

FAMILY ROOM

Two sliding glass doors open out onto the over-size patio.

Walls are paneled in cherry. The furniture is comfortable looking and varied in style. Mrs. Fink's art work is visible everywhere. It's a room that can take rough house from the boys and informal living. Behind louvered doors in one corner is a small bar.

Under part of the house is a basement. Here the whole family has space for individual hobbies. We noticed a kiln, woodworking tools, hamster cages and a ping pong table. What impressed us as much as anything was the row upon row of small glass jars above the workbench. These contained screws, nails, bolts and all the miscellany a do-it-yourselfer collects. But it was so neat!

There are three bedrooms above the ground level. Fred has the first one. His carpeting is brown tweed. Three walls are painted with the fourth one papered in turn-of-the-century sporting print. Cafe curtains are beige with brown fringe trim. The furniture is maple.

DOUBLE ROOM

Bob and Russ share a room. They have Wells Fargo paper on one wall. Their beds are oak with St. Mary's blankets used as spreads. One wall is filled with open shelves for their current hobbies.

The boys' bathroom has a walnut Formica vanity with two basins. Tile and fixtures are beige. There is a glassed-in shower.

Light green walls and draperies set the color note of the master bedroom. Furniture is cherry. On the low poster bed is an heirloom type spread. Victorian globe lamps with painted roses are used on the night tables.

In one corner is a Boston rocker. A carved camphor chest (companion piece to the living room table) stands near the foot of the bed.

Both Dr. and Mrs. Fink have worked long and hard on their home. They enjoy working in it and the whole family enjoys living in it.

LIVING ROOM — George, the family dog, thinks he has as much right in the living room as anyone. This is a sandalwood room with furniture and accessories ringing in more color. The glass topped table has a beautifully carved top; it is Hawaiian. In the rear is the dining room. Walls in there are papered above the dado.

WATCHFUL LION — Sherry's stuffed lion lies patiently on one of the beds as if he were waiting for her to come home. Just a bit of the orange and pink Arabian Nights wallpaper can be seen between the closets. The painted walls and carpeting are sandalwood. Quilted spreads are beige. Sherry's slant top desk (left foreground) is a bit out of the ordinary.

ON QUARTON ROAD — The L. Jerome Fink home on Quarton Road is a tri-level brick home. Board and batten trim on the porch and white shutters contrast with the red brick. There is a double garage at the left. The Finks have about 2 acres of land, part of which they have left in its natural state as a wild life refuge. The Finks bought the house partially done and had it finished to their specifications.

FOR FUN — This room can take it. It's informal and comfortable. Chairs are big — necessary for a family of large boys. The rug makes a brilliant spot of color. It's red with gold cross lines and a black frame. That star shaped thing on the window at the right is one of Mrs. Fink's fused glass pieces. At the right of the fireplace is Dr. Fink's gun collection.

TROPHY — The Canadian goose mounted on the paneled wall of Dr. Fink's den looks as if he's really flying. Walls are cherry. The leather chair at the left and the lamp shade above it are made of the same material. The rugs are Orientals. This room has the same view as the living room of the back lawn and the rear of the property left wild for the birds.

Check Into Hidden Costs of Purchasing New House

WASHINGTON (UPI) — What does it cost to buy a house? The price that's listed? No. The price plus interest on the mortgage? Closer. Price plus interest plus closing costs? That's more like it. How much are closing costs? What are they?

The amount varies. Approximately $100 appears to be a typical sum. But it may be lower or higher, depending on money market conditions and other factors.

A good rule to remember is this: Check carefully into closing costs before signing to buy. They may exceed your budget, forcing you to forfeit your deposit or to obtain costly secondary financing. Closing costs, paid by the buyer, are expenses of getting a loan, title search and insurance, and transfer of ownership. These are general categories. Often they have many sub-categories, each with a price tag. Depending on local practice and state law, the sub-categories have different names.

Most commonly they are, or are similar to, the following:

Title search or examination. A title company digs into municipal or county records and other sources to see if the seller has free and clear title to the house. It may find, for example, that the city has slapped a lien on the property for non-payment of property or water taxes.

If the lien has not been satisfied when you become owner then paying it is your headache. Title search fees vary. They may run as high as $100.

Title insurance, protection against future challenges to your ownership. Ask if the insurance protects you, the owner, as well as the lender. Insurance, say the companies who sell it, is desirable because title search cannot guard against all possibilities. For example, mislaid heirs may turn up, or a wife of the former owner nobody knew about who claims dower rights.

A New York state legislative committee found, according to House & Home Magazine, that some title companies pay the attorney or lender recommending their service a percentage of the insurance premium. Sometimes the attorney or lender rebates the money to the buyer.

Appraisal fee and credit report. The lender invariably insists on an independent assessment of the house's value and the buyer's ability to pay the proposed mortgage. On VA and FHA loans the appraisal fee is $30 or $25. Conventional loan appraisal may run up to $100.

Origination fee. Charged by the lender to cover the cost of making the loan. The charge usually runs about 1 per cent of the loan. They may be the lender's way of raising his return on the loan through a suggested discount. FHA and VA prohibit the buyer's paying discounts but permit origination fees up to 1 per cent.

Placement fee. Paid to a broker or other person who secures loan money for the buyer. Sometimes the placement fee is charged to the builder or seller. Then, it probably is added to the price of the house — a hidden cost. Like origination fees, placement charges tend to be more common, among when mortgage money is tight.

Prepayment of real estate or other taxes.

Amateurs Can Get Selves in Lots of Trouble

Little things like the wrong adhesives can ruin a project. The adhesives recommended for a particular material should be used. If they aren't available, postpone the project. The bucking of wall materials often is due to the wrong adhesive or speed of application.

New type wall fabrics and tiles have different requirements for application. When it comes to application, it takes only a little longer to get the wall fabric sized and cut properly for a smooth fit.

Plastic tiles can slip as the result of hasty application as one man found after tiling a bathroom area. And then just try to repair that damage!

Ceramic tiles are best left to professionals unless one is a meticulous worker, willing to spend the time researching the job.

Floor tiles must be laid on a proper surface. If the floor is uneven the tiles will buckle. Plywood may be required as a surface to insure smooth footing. If a checkerboard pattern is planned, it should be sketched out on graph paper before laying it on the floor.

or taxes. Strictly speaking this is not a closing cost since the taxes would have to be paid anyway. But on top of everything else this payment can be especially burdensome. Moreover, the buyer loses the interest the money could learn until the taxes are due.

Other expenses are mortgage recording fee, notary's fee, revenue stamps, lawyer's fee and real estate broker's commission.

FHA and VA spokesmen say there has been no recent increase in closing costs. But the Federal Home Loan Bank Board found that on purchase of new houses with conventional loans, fees charged by savings and loan associations jumped from 0.99 per cent in September to 1.23 per cent in October — a big increase. Interest rates also moved up. The hike in fees probably was in the main discounting under another name to give the lender a bigger return on his money.

Ceramic Tile Walls Don't Mind Weekly Steam Bath

Most laundry utility rooms have one thing in common: they are subject to excess amounts of steam. Steam, when it comes in contact with the cooler walls of the room, condenses and creates a moisture problem. Even rooms that are specifically vented for steam should have walls that are impervious to moisture.

An easy way to solve the moisture problem is to have utility room walls surfaced with real ceramic tile. Moisture drying on ceramic tile walls will not leave a permanent water stain, and can be wiped clean with a damp cloth.

was the night before Christmas
When all through the house
Not a creature was stirring, not even a mouse
The stockings were hung by the chimney with care
In hopes that St. Nicholas soon would be there,

The children were nestled all snug in their beds,
While visions of sugar-plums danced in their heads
And mamma in her 'kerchief, and I in my cap,
Had just settled our brains for a long winter's nap.

When out on the lawn there arose such a clatter,
I sprang from the bed to see what was the matter.
Away to the window I flew like a flash,
To open the shutters and throw up the sash.

The moon on the breast of the new-fallen snow,
Gave the lustre of mid-day to objects below.
When, what to my wondering eyes should appear,
But a miniature sleigh, and eight tiny reindeer.

With a little old driver, so lively and quick,
I knew in a moment it must be St. Nick.
More rapid than eagles his coursers they came,
And he whistled, and shouted, and called them by name.

Now, Dasher! now, Dancer! now, Prancer and Vixen!
On! Comet, on! Cupid, on! Dunder and Blitzen!
To the top of the porch! to the top of the wall!
Now dash away! dash away! dash away all!

As dry leaves that before the wild hurricane fly,
When they meet with an obstacle, mount to the sky,
So up to the house-top the coursers they flew,
With the sleigh full of toys, and St. Nicholas too.

And then, in a twinkling, I heard on the roof
The prancing and pawing of each little hoof.
As I drew in my head, and was turning around,
Down the chimney St. Nicholas came with a bound.

He was dressed all in fur from his head to his foot,
And his clothes were all tarnished with ashes and soot.
A bundle of toys he had flung on his back,
And he looked like a peddler just opening his pack.

His eyes how they twinkled! his dimples how merry!
His cheeks were like roses, his nose like a cherry!
His droll little mouth was drawn up like a bow,
And the beard of his chin was as white as the snow.

The stump of a pipe he held tight in his teeth,
And the smoke it encircled his head like a wreath.
He had a broad face and a little round belly,
That shook when he laughed, like a bowlful of jelly.

He was chubby and plump, a right jolly old elf,
And I laughed when I saw him, in spite of myself,
A wink of his eye and a twist of his head,
Soon gave me to know I had nothing to dread.

He spoke not a word, but went straight to his work,
And filled all the stockings; then turned with a jerk,
And laying his finger aside of his nose,
And giving a nod, up the chimney he rose.

He sprang to his sleigh, to his team gave a whistle,
And away they all flew like the down of a thistle.
But I heard him exclaim, ere he drove out of sight,
MERRY CHRISTMAS to all and to all a good night!

First Class or Tourist

Airline Industry Losing Money at Jet Speed

By DICK WEST

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The airline industry has been losing money at jet speed this year. Things are so bad that even some sky-writers are using red ink.

As I understand it, one of the main causes of the financial plight is the design of these new transcontinental flagships. The trouble is that the rear compartments of these planes travel just as fast and go to the same places as the front compartments, barring, of course, the unexpected.

This makes it difficult for the airlines to sell first class tickets. Passengers have discovered that they can pay the lower tourist fare without sacrifice of speed or convenience, give or take a cocktail or two.

The ideal solution would be a jet transport that could whisk its profit-making wing section across the country a couple hours ahead of its uneconomical tail section.

This would encourage passengers to travel first class, but thus far it has proven to be aerodynamically unsound. Switching the first class section to the rear of the plane doesn't help much either.

Confronted with the dilemma of an indivisible airship, the industry has sought other means of relief, such as eliminating excursion rates and cracking down on "no-shows."

These measures, however, have drawn criticism from members of Congress, many of whom travel by air a lot and some of whom occasionally must pay for their own tickets.

In a statement issued Thursday, Rep. Frank Thompson Jr., D-N.J., came forth with a counter-plan to the airline proposal to levy $5 to $50 fines on customers who reserve seats and then fail to show up.

Thompson conceded that "no-shows" inconvenience the airlines and customers who might be waiting for seats. But, he said there should be a "reciprocal deal" that would give the customer equal rights.

"For instance, why don't we have the airlines pay a $5-an-hour fine for time spent waiting in terminals for delayed flights?" Thompson suggested.

"And how about a $50 fine for cancellations? There should certainly be a remuneration for the new shirts a man must buy when his baggage does not show up."

Thompson, who sounded somewhat embittered in a jocular sort of way, topped off his proposal by offering his own jet age motto: "Breakfast in London, lunch in New York, cocktails in San Francisco, and baggage in Buenos Aires."

He may have a point there, but unfortunately for the airlines a flight includes both ends of the plane.

Saginaw Products Engineers Solve It

Problem: How to Raise Missile Onto Launching Pad

SAGINAW (AP)—Ever wonder how Air Force engineers had such alchemical conditions such as sand, a 6-ton, 80-foot-long missile like the problem once, complicated by the storms, ice or winds of hurricane. Air Force's Atlas-ICBM is raised fact that the raising might have velocity. Upright on its launching pad? . . . to be accomplished under extreme . . . Under a contract from General Dynamics Astronautics, the problem was solved by technicians at the Saginaw Products Corp.

They designed a ball-screw drive actuator that can raise the huge missile and set it on end with an impact that would barely crack an egg.

The ball-screw drive principle has many applications in industrial and commercial hoists, but engineers weren't sure it could be applied to a missile of Atlas size.

The process is similar in theory to what happens when one steps on the upturned prongs of a garden rake, causing the handle to rise into a verticle position.

WEIGHS SIX TONS

But the "rake" in this case weighs six tons and exerts loads of 75,000 pounds in tension and compression on the screw and nut as it rises from the handling trailer to the pad.

The drive unit operates off a 7.5-horsepower engine with the screw, three inches in diameter and 111 inches long, traveling only 100 inches as it raises the missile through a 90-degree arc into firing position.

The engine is equipped with a magnetic disc brake and other safety features that enable engineers to halt the missile at any point in its arc without fear of it falling—even in the event of power failure.

Before installation at the missile firing site at Cape Canaveral, Fla., the drive unit was put-through eight static and operational tests.

Conditions in the tests exceeded specified requirements. The lifting process was carried out in a simulated sandstorm, under salt saturation in a 60-m.p.h. wind and under extreme cold with a quarter-inch of ice coating the screw.

The question was finally settled by a test to determine whether the unit could raise the Atlas into position without damaging it.

An egg was placed under the erector mechanism's movable frame and the switch turned on. The 15½-ton erector mechanism was retracted until it touched the egg. The shell cracked under the weight but remained intact as the retraction process was stopped.

Fruit Production Sets New Record in Price, Weight

LANSING (AP)—Production of major fruits in Michigan set a record this year, both in tonnage and value, the state crop reporting service said Friday.

Growers harvested 652,900 tons, 16 per cent above last year and 8 per cent over the previous record set in 1959, the agency said. Value of the output was $55.6 million, up $59,000.

The apple crop was estimated at 16 million bushels, third highest in the nation and up 4.7 million from 1960. It was valued at $24 million.

Tart cherry production again led the nation, totaling 89,500 tons and bringing in $14.85 million compared with $12.32 million last year.

Woman to Give Niles New Public Library

NILES (AP)—Mrs. Francis J. Flynn, widow of a Niles industrialist, publisher, Friday announced she is donating a new public library to the city.

Plans call for a building of 15,000 square feet at an approximate cost of $187,500 to be erected in a developing civic center immediately east of the Niles downtown district. Already located there is the city hall, a museum and the board of public works building.

Mrs. Flynn's husband was founder of the Kawneer Co., manufacturers of aluminum products, and former publisher of the Niles Daily Star.

Her gift will replace the present library which was erected at the turn of the century by the Carnegie Foundation.

"THE PRESENCE" — As a Christmas gift to Orchard Lake Community Church, Presbyterian, Pastor and Mrs. Edward D. Auchard, daughter Joanne and Yasuko Yamamoto of Japan presented a copy of the painting, "The Presence." There are two centers of light in the picture. The slanting rays of sun fall on the resplendent altar in front of the church where the priest presides and a couple is at prayer. The second center of light is at the back of the picture where a figure kneels in utmost humility in shadow. Immediately behind the penitent is a bright figure of The Christ with hand outstretched toward the kneeling worshiper. Yasuko is an American Field Service exchange student.

Auchards Give Copy of Painting

Instead of giving 800 or more Christmas cards to friends, Rev. and Mrs. Edward D. Auchard in charge of the pastorate of Orchard Lake Community Church, Presbyterian chose to purchase a copy of the painting, "The Presence."

"The reason for the picture," said the pastor, "is that we place so much emphasis on the institutional life of the church such as buildings, budgets, curriculum, comfort, rituals and real estate. These are all necessary, of course, but we must not forget Jesus came primarily to meet the needs of human persons. He is not the prisoner of our liturgies but He comes in love to each one where that one is," added the Orchard Lake minister.

The pastor will preach on "The Word Was Made for Christmas" at both the 9 and 11 a.m. services tomorrow.

The Westminster Choir will sing "The Carol of the Shepherds" by Johnson at the early hour. Pat Lysinger and Dodie Duckwitz will sing Handel's "He Shall Feed His Flock."

The Chancel Choir will present "As It Fell Upon the Night" by Lavis at the second service. Fred Fuller will sing "Sweet Little Jesus Boy."

The Sacrament of the Lord's Supper will be observed at 11 p.m. Sunday. The Chancel Choir will present "Lo, How a Rose E'er Blooming" by Praetorius and day evening.

Children Offer Yule Pageant

The children of St. Paul Lutheran Sunday School, dressed in brightly colored costumes, will present a still life pageant at 7 o'clock on Christmas Eve in the main sanctuary.

Portraying the Christmas story, the pageant will be divided into five scenes. "A Home in Nazareth," "The Home of Zachariah and Elizabeth," "The Inn," "A Field Near Bethlehem" and "A Stable in Bethlehem."

The Senior Club and entire Sunday School will participate in carol singing.

Following the program the children will assemble in the basement to receive gifts.

St. Paul Lutheran plans a Candlelight Service for 11 p.m. Sunday.

A candle will be given each member as he enters the sanctuary. Candles will be lighted as lights are lowered.

Rev. Maurice Shackel will light a large candle from one on the altar. The ushers will light their candles from the pastor's candle.

In turn ushers will light the candle of the first person in the pew, who then lights the candle of the person next to him. During the singing of "Silent Night" candles will be raised and lowered following the minister's direction.

A Christmas Day Festival Service will be held at 10:45 a.m.

When ready to leave they may say a prayer with their parents before going to bed on the greatest night of the year, Rev. Gerald O'Grady said.

A service of Holy Baptism is scheduled from 5 to 5:45 on Christmas Eve.

Christmas carols will be sung and Scripture read at the 7 p.m. service tomorrow. Red and Blue Choirs will sing.

Christ Church Cranbrook Holds Children's Hour

Open House for children will be held at Christ Church Cranbrook from 4 to 5 p.m. Sunday. The children may look at the five Nativity Tablets in St. Paul's Chapel and listen to the familiar Christmas music played on the organ.

They are free to explore the church and see how the organ is played, or how it feels to stand in the pulpit, or sit in the choir stalls.

Holy Baptism at Presbyterian

Infants and children will be presented for the sacrament of Baptism at the 9:30 and 11 a.m. worship services Sunday in First Presbyterian Church. Rev. Galen E. Hershey will preach on "Earth's Most Enduring Event."

Chancel, Youth Choirs Offer Christmas Music Morning, Evening

The Youth Choir, directed by Mrs. Charles Buck, will sing "Hear the Good Tidings" by Handel and "Sing Alleluia, Christ is Born" by Dretka. The Chancel Choir with Barbara Harris, soloist, will present "O Thou That Teltest Good Tidings" and "For Unto Us a Child is Born" by Handel.

At both worship hours Dr. Philip Proud will sing "Blest Christmas Morn" by Root.

The Chancel Choir will present the annual Vesper service of Christmas music at 5 tomorrow. The 46-voice choir will sing nine selections under the direction of Lyndon Salathiel, organist and chormaster.

Included in the repertoire are an organ solo, "Moto Perpetuo," played by Mr. Salathiel; a vocal solo, "O Holy Night," to be sung by Mrs. Michael Siano, and "Adrenus to Christ" by the octette.

Hosts and hostesses for the coffee hour following worship will be Mr. and Mrs. Robert Lazelle and Mr. and Mrs. Larry Shelton, members of the board of deacons.

Statistics are no substitute for judgment. —Henry Clay.

Christmas Eve will be observed at 11 p.m. Sunday. The Chancel Choir will present "Lo, How a Rose E'er Blooming" by Praetorius and day evening.

Reports Abuses of Funds for CD

GAO Finds Training Center Used as Place of Entertainment

WASHINGTON (AP) — Wide spread abuse by state and local governments in the use of federal Civil Defense funds has been reported by the General Accounting Office.

In one case the GAO found the government spent nearly $70,000 toward a Civil Defense training center that actually was used for dances, dinners and entertainments.

The congressional watchdog agency said federal matching funds were also used, among other things, for:

- Helicopters, supposedly for Civil Defense purposes, but used by a state forest service for profit-making logging operations.
- Communications equipment for police, fire and other local services, supposedly to meet almost all emergency requirements, but actually planned for before application was made for federal funds.
- Emergency electric power generators for hospitals that were used to meet day-to-day needs. In one case, the GAO found the government twice for the share of a generator through two agencies.
- A duplicating machine acquired by a county solely for Civil Defense operations but used in the normal operations of the county library.

The GAO survey covered the federal contributions program of the Office of Civil and Defense Mobilization. From 1951 to 1959, Congress appropriated $115.5 million for the program. It provided for federal funds to be matched by states and local governments — for up to 50 percent of the cost of certain equipment.

The program was taken from the OCM this year and put under the Defense Department.

The GAO recommended that the Secretary of Defense suspend most of the federal contributions for Civil Defense projects until adequate safeguards can be established.

Chrysler Eyes Jet Car

NEW YORK (AP) — A jet-powered car may be placed on the market next year by the Chrysler Corp., it was reported today.

The New York Herald Tribune said Chrysler's present plan call for production of a jet-powered car, possibly on a limited basis, probably in the fall.

The newspaper said these plans were approved by the directors earlier this year and the story stressed that the decision to make the big move is still tentative.

The Herald Tribune said it learned the story from suppliers of the auto firm and sources close to the directors.

In Detroit, a Chrysler spokesman said a new conference would be held Wednesday dealing with the advanced turbine engine. Beyond that, Chrysler declined comment.

The car first would be sold to a number of fleet operators, the newspaper said, then offered to the public as an option along with the corporation's regular line of piston-driven cars.

COULD REDUCE COST

The company's engineers were said to believe that high production costs of the power-

DETROIT (AP) — The state may take a hand in the Detroit area's gasoline price war.

State Sen. Stanley G. Thayer, R-Ann Arbor, who heads the Senate Public Utilities Committee, said Friday he favored public hearings on what he described as a critical problem.

Michigan retail gasoline dealers may propose putting the oil industry under control of the State Public Service Commission.

John Nerlinger, executive secretary of the Retail Gasoline Dealers Association, said Friday an oil industry control bill is being prepared for the 1962 legislature. He said association directors will decide early next year whether to present the bill.

DANVILLE, Va. — Two fliers from the Warrington Air Force Base in Michigan died in the crash of their T33 jet trainer a mile east of the municipal airport Friday night.

A spokesman for the oil industry said state controls would mean higher costs for motorists.

Some retailers complained that "cut-throat competition" is forcing many station operators out of business.

The ship was formerly the Nassau, sailing between New York and Jamaica, B.W.I., for the Liberian flag. It was purchased recently by the Nigerian Maritime Administration, of which the Nigerian government owns 50 percent.

Secret Satellite Launched by AF; Nobody's Talking

PONTIAC, Mich. (AP) — The Air Force says it launched a satellite Friday, but won't disclose any details.

It was launched at the Point Arguello naval missile facility, adjacent to Vandenberg Air Force Base.

The Air Force recently has been close-mouthed about launchings of so-called sky-saw satellites designed to orbit over Russia and detect missile launchings and photograph military bases.

The satellite launched Friday is presumed to be a military spacecraft.

The Air Force's terse announcement said only that: "A satellite employing an Atlas Agena B booster combination was launched by the Air Force today at Point Arguello."

"It is carrying a number of classified test components."

Watson canceled his call after refusing to bow to a demand by East German border guards that three civilian aides accompanying him identify themselves.

The incident occurred at Fredstrasse, the only crossing point for the Allies into East Berlin.

Will Elect Man to Rayburn Seat

Expect Yule Chores to Keep Voting Down in Texas District

BERNARD, Tex. (AP) — Voters in the late Sen. Rayburn's congressional district sought to elect a conservative today.

Political observers expect last-minute Christmas cheer to keep many away from the polls.

Only 14,600 of the expected 24,000 voters are expected to vote in the 4th District congressional election.

The seven-county 4th District is the sixth least-populous in the nation with 143,571 residents. Rayburn for years surrounded the legislature to keep the district intact. He died Nov. 16 of cancer.

Running for his seat are three conservatives and four liberals pledged to carry on the tradition of Rayburn, who held the seat 45 years.

If no candidate receives a majority over all others, a runoff must be held before Feb. 12 between the two top men. Politicians say a runoff is likely.

American and Eastern Studying Airline Merger

NEW YORK (UPI) — Top executives of two United States airlines — American and Eastern — were reported by the New York Times today to have indicated they are studying a merger.

The Times added, however, the study was far from the stage of any definite proposal of one airline to the other.

A spokesman for Eastern Air Lines, which was formed by UPI, said he had heard nothing either "officially or unofficially."

One source said, however, that when reports of the merger rumor were raised at Eastern's New York office Friday, they were "brushed off."

No spokesman for American Airlines could be contacted for comment.

New Showdown Looming Over Katanga's Split

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP) — Another showdown over Katanga secession loomed today after refusal by the provincial cabinet to act on President Moise Tshombe's unity pact with the central Congo government.

The Katanga cabinet declared itself incompetent to authorize Tshombe's agreement with Congo Premier Cyrille Adoula after listening Friday to a report on their meeting at the U.N. base at Kilona. A communiqué said it had "decided to put it (ratification of the accord) before the National Assembly — the sole valid authority on such matters."

Rail Car Plunge Kills 60 in Italy

Coach Snaps Loose
From Crowded Train,
Falls 100 Feet to River

CATANZARO, Italy (AP) — Sixty persons were killed today when a railway car jammed with Christmas shoppers and workers snapped loose from the end of a train and plunged 100 feet into a river bed, police reported.

At least 32 persons were injured, many seriously.

Police originally had said 34 died and thought all bodies had been removed. Then they cut behind twisted steel and found seven more bodies. This led them to continue their grim work, tearing even more victims may be found.

The last car of a three-car train broke loose on a trestle and crashed into rocks at the foot of a river embankment.

The train was jammed with travelers heading to Catanzaro in Calabria in the toe of the Italian boot—for work, school and last-minute Christmas shopping.

More than 80 persons were in the death car.

It came loose as the train was crossing a bridge on the River Fiumarello just outside Catanzaro. The first two cars—one a self-propelled diesel passenger car and the other a flat car—were still on the bridge when the third car plunged to the rocky river bed.

The third car had barely touched the bridge when it went off the tracks and plunged to the rocky river bed.

The train was traveling from Soverato-Mannelli to Catanzaro, a distance of 25 miles.

Soldiers joined police and firemen in the hours-long rescue operations in a steady rain.

West to Promote Berlin Talk Bid, 'Summit' States

Ambassador to Soviet
to Lead U.S.-British Try
at Negotiations

WASHINGTON (AP) — In about one week, orders will go to the U.S. ambassador in Moscow to take the lead in a new U.S.-British effort to promote East-West negotiations on Berlin.

Some months hence, the United States may announce, with Britain's backing, the resumption of nuclear tests in the atmosphere.

These were highlights emerging from the two-day Bermuda meeting between President Kennedy and Britain's Prime Minister Harold Macmillan that ended Friday.

While Macmillan returned to London with his top aides, Kennedy went to Palm Beach, Fla., Secretary of State Dean Rusk headed for Washington to work on the agreed diplomatic moves.

Kennedy and Macmillan were reported to be pleased with the results of their fourth meeting, a relaxed get-together at Bermuda's Government House. Both were said to have found much to concur in and little to disagree over.

Kennedy was described as convinced the United States could take positive steps toward easing East-West tensions without disrupting the Atlantic alliance.

Macmillan's postscript was hopeful that progress toward a peaceful solution of the Berlin situation would soon be made.

He said on his return from talks with President Kennedy in Bermuda "At the end of a year that has had some rather grim moments, we look forward, not without hope, to the year that is to come."

"And at any rate, he added, "I think, sitting here just before the greatest festival we celebrate—Christmas Day—that we did try to look forward to a sense of perhaps being able to contribute something to the happiness and peace of the world."

He characterized the talks as frank and fruitful.

He said on his return from talks with President Kennedy in Bermuda "At the end of a year that has had some rather grim moments, we look forward, not without hope, to the year that is to come."

SNOW AND MORE SNOW—Des Moines, Iowa, was as near snowbound this morning as it has been in years. It was all because of 11 inches of new snow Friday and Friday night, which topped 6 inches already on the ground from previous early season snowstorms. Normally busy streets carried little traffic. A good reason was the one pictured here. An unidentified man is shown digging out the car he abandoned Friday night.

County Crashes Kill Three, State, Nation's Toll Climb

The death toll from highway mishaps in Oakland County and the rest of the state edged steadily upward today in the opening hours of the long Christmas holiday weekend.

Three persons died in Oakland County auto accidents while seven other traffic fatalities and two fire deaths were reported in other parts of Michigan.

Snow, which began falling over most of the state this morning, was expected to increase driving hazards. The U.S. Weather Bureau forecast 1 to 3 inches of new snow for most of Lower Michigan.

The Automobile Club of Michigan estimated that 3 million motorists would crowd the state's highways during the 78-hour period. One-hundred national guardsmen teamed with state police troopers to beef up traffic safety and law enforcement in the state.

In a period which began at 6 p.m. Friday 84 persons reportedly were killed in the nation, four died in fires and six others were fatally injured in miscellaneous mishaps.

A Waterford, Carl E. Lebo, 34, 6665 Manson Drive was killed at 3:15 a.m. today when his auto struck a guard rail and crashed into a tree on Williams Lake Road less than a mile from home.

Shortly before 6 p.m. yesterday Avon Township Trustee Wayne C. Frink, 38, 323 W. Fourth St., Rochester, died in a two-car collision at Rochester Road and Nawaika Street.

HIT REAR OF CAR

Oakland County Sheriff's deputies said Frink's auto struck the rear of one driven by Cecil H. Monger, 37, 157 Nawaika St., Avon Township, who was unhurt. Frink's car veered off the left side of Rochester Road, struck a sign post about 65 feet away and then traveled another 38 feet across Nawaika Street where it crashed into a tree. Frink was dead at the scene.

A Troy woman, Mrs. Berdella Loutschman, 52, of 6475 Livermore Road, was injured fatally last night when the car in which she was riding crashed with another car in Royal Oak.

Also injured and taken to William Beaumont Hospital were her husband Russell, who was driving the car, and the driver of the other car, LeRoy C. Denison, 25, of 2280 Annabell St., Ferndale.

Paul T. Patterson, 45, and his wife, Patsy, 27, were fatally injured last night in a three-car crash on U.S. 27 about 4½ miles south of Garrett, Ind. They resided at 40571 Rockhill Lane, Novi.

Indiana state police said a car driven by William A. Thrush, 18, of Route 1, Garrett, was turning into a farm lane and was struck in the rear by another auto. Thrush's car was pushed into the path of Patterson's oncoming vehicle, police said. The driver of the third car was not identified.

Another storm, which had nearly blown itself out during a three-day rampage in Utah and Montana, pushed across the Northern Plains with renewed fury. Blasts of cold arctic air gave it new punch as it sent temperatures adding below zero in the Dakotas and Minnesota. Readings during the night included -9 at Minot and Bismarck, N.D.

READ EASTWARD

Both storms wheeled eastward toward the Great Lakes and Ohio valley, assuring a vast central region of a cold, white Christmas.

The new blizzard in the Midwest dealt a surprise blow Friday to Kansas and Missouri, dumping up to 10 inches of new snow in some sections. The storm was originally forecast as rain, possibly changing to snow. Buses were stalled at Faucett, Gower and Maryville, Mo., by drifting snow.

Most of the roads in Northwest Missouri north of St. Joseph were blocked at one time Friday night.

Blowing snow stranded 125 school children in Turko, Mo., where 8 inches was measured. More than 25 school buses were unable to reach their rural destinations in Southern and Central Iowa even though many schools let out early.

Packed snow made driving hazardous in most of the storm area where roads were passable. Parts of Iowa, Minnesota, and the Dakotas were glazed with ice that formed when drizzle was frozen by icy blasts.

Buses and trains, loaded with homeward bound travelers, were running hours behind schedule in the storm area. The job of clearing highways was hampered by stalled vehicles.

The high temperature tomorrow will be 32. It will continue cold Christmas Day.

The U.S. Weather Bureau said Southern Lower Michigan can expect 1 to 3 inches of snow through today with scattered snow flurries Sunday and Christmas Day. Tonight's low will be near 22.

Thousands of Travelers Stranded by Huge Drifts

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A crippling blizzard howled across the Midwest into Iowa, Illinois and Wisconsin today, whipping up 6-foot drifts that blocked roads and stranded thousands of holiday travelers.

The storm's fury was felt during the night in Eastern Iowa and Northern Illinois, where it dumped more than six inches of snow. Midway Airport at Chicago, where air traffic was halted shortly before midnight, reported 7 inches.

Winds blowing at 25 m.p.h. drove the snow into drifts that showed traffic to a crawl. The weather bureau extended its hazardous driving warnings to include Northern Indiana and Ohio, directly in the blizzard's path.

The storm, which struck on the first day of winter, was as violent in parts of Southern Iowa and Northern Missouri that snowplows were pulled off the roads for several hours. Hotels and motels were jammed with stranded motorists.

Snow whipped by winds up to 45 miles per hour piled up the eaves of houses in Des Moines where traffic was paralyzed. Airports were closed and power telephone lines fell.

Blasts of cold arctic air gave it new punch as it sent temperatures adding below zero in the Dakotas and Minnesota. Readings during the night included -9 at Minot and Bismarck, N.D.

Rabbi Volunteers to Play Santa—as Sheriff's Deputy

WILMINGTON, N.C. (AP) — Rabbi Samuel A. Friedman is all set for his annual volunteer job as the Christmas day relief man in the New Hanover County Sheriff's Office.

"To me, Christmas means a peaceful day," said Rabbi Friedman Friday after completing arrangements with Sheriff Marion W. Mills. "I give the day's work as a peaceful gesture."

By working in the office answering the telephone, keeping records and operating the police radio, Rabbi Friedman allows three deputies to spend Christmas at home.

Sheriff Mills said the rabbi, who has served as the Christmas relief for 20 years, has "grown to be a pro."

Year Santa: Be Good to Everyone in Sports

This is about that time of the year when the spirits are high and we would like to send out cheers to our friends in the sports world.

It has been a pretty rough year for a few of our good coaches. If these "hangings" continue they may find it better to get out of coaching and get into the rope business.

We'd like for you Santa to take all the rope you can find and deliver it to the other side of the world to the hammer and sickle men. They have better neck sizes for the nooses.

Be especially kind to our football coaches this year. It was a rough season. Take the noose off DUFFY DAUGHERTY and leave him a nice green and white West-coast traveling tie; Give BUMP ELLIOTT an etching of the 50-20 Ohio State game so he can take it to Columbus with him next year; give GEORGE WILSON and the Lions plenty of sunshine for the next three weeks; leave JIM MILLER a package full of linemen to go with a healthy Gross; make MUDDY WATERS president of the one team league which includes Hillsdale; leave ED HEIKINEN a scale that rings a bell when it hits 200 pounds; and present PAUL DELLERBA with "prestige" certificate for winning three Saginaw Valley Conference games. Give STU THORELL a chisel so he can remove the first score off the Waterford record of last season; let JIM LARKIN at Kettering be recognized for his big win over the Skippers; let FRANK CROWELL at Avondale forget his trip to Oak Park; give PIN RYAN, coach-of-the-year a pat for a job well done; be kind to CARL LEMLE, he's running out of Maples; leave Rudolph with TOM KENNEDY so he can start next season with a veteran speedster; put 7 Shamrocks about 200 pounds each in JIM NIEBAUER'S stocking; and put more kielbasa on the training table for FATHER RACKOCZY'S boys.

Don't forget DON HOFF, TOM TAYLOR, ART PADDY, DON HORWATH, FRANK KOWNACHEL, WALT BRAUN, BOB MCLEZATH, BOB ACTON, IVY LOFTIN, CARL PENDRACKI, JERRY-GANZEL, RAY FIGO, GENE KOWLEY, ERNIE MAULE, MONTE CHARLES, JACK HAYES, IRV WILSON, CHUCK SKINNER, FRANK JORANKO, JOE BOROVIC, JACK FITZPATRICK, ED TALLMAN and all other fine prep football coaches.

TURNING TO BASKETBALL—DICK HALL could use a good night's sleep December 28th and ART VAN RYZIN would like a captive Trojan and Lumberjack among his souvenirs; leave BOB PENCE at Holly a record called "Memories"; and ditto for GENE WRIGHT; give LEW PARRY a refund on his cross-town bus ticket to Groves; and fine a way to make January with a pleasant day for both GUS EICHORN and JOE DUBY in Waterford.

Couple small 6-6 guards and average-sized 6-11 centers would be welcomed by DICK STE, DOM MAUTI, DERRY BOYLE, JIM HOREIN, PEYTON GOODWIN, BOB MERTH, MATT FOLEY, RALPH VANZO, ED BATTANI, GENE HEPPESTALL, DAVE PARKS, WILL STEINKE, ACE SOORAPHOS, GEORGE GLIAS, HARVEY FLETCHER, DUANE CAIN, DICK SNYDER, VINCE SMOORE, ERY QUEEN, ROY BURKHARDT, ALEX KISH, RON MORSE, BOB MINNEWATER, TOM MALONE, HUGH DAVIDSON, TOM CARSON and all our local prep coaches.

A state swimming title for COREY VAN FLEET, a couple more NORVELLS and DONALDSONS for DOUG TREMBLE, a few more victory baths for ED DAUW, and pool records would be nice for the swim coaches.

BILL WILSON and STEVE SZABO would like stronger holds for more victories, and DEAN WILSON wants those track years to return from 1955 to 1959.

Send a few light bulbs, 50,000 watts each to WINNER STADIUM; present the local schoolboard with a book on WHY PCH SHOULD LEAVE THE SAGINAW VALLEY and save taxpayer's money; and put a helicopter under the tree at PCH for easier travel to Midland, Bay City and Saginaw.

Don't forget those 275-yard per drive golf balls for BOB ISORIGIO, CHARLIE BARKER, AL DRAKE, GLEN HARDING, KIP INMAN, PAUL BADA, NEIL MANSFIELD, CARL ROSE, HUD POWERS and LYNN SPEES.

A few acres on the 19th hole for GAY HARRINGTON, DICK WOLFE, CHUCK MANE, CLINT PLYMPTON, MUTT MOORE, AL DRAKE, DAVE SHERING and a new power shaft driver for DICK ROBERTSON to straighten out those anemic 300 yard drives.

All the 1962 BOWLERAMA entries want only 600 actual series, and for MONROE MOORE, JAY LOVETT, BOB GORMON, BILL BULL, JIM WALKER, PAUL GEORGE, CARL BISHOP, MIKE SAMARDZJIA, LOU KOPRINCE, ARCHIE MOORE, ECHO CHICOVSKY, JOE POSTER, and the other bowlers leave no scores under 298. For the PONTIAC AREA Setup a Bowling Association.

JACK ADAMS wants the recording "I Love You Truly" for NHL officials and ditto EDWIN ANDERSON for his Lions. BOB SCHEFFING needs some sharp claims for the Tigers around the infield; and the Pistons want an ANTI-CHAMBER-LAIN basket erected at Convention arena.

FORDDY ANDERSON wants to do away with the last second field goal. BOB ALIHAH wants the SRO sign for the Motor City journey. DAVE STRACK needs more cage-minded Wolverines and college coaches need permanent fixers for the cage fixers.

To FERG SECOND and city tennis table players leave more winning paddles; put an all-purpose water ski lake in NANCY MESSLER'S backyard and give 100-foot jumping ski for all our water skiing friends, then FUDGE ADLER to go "fly a kite."

JOY AIR wants his racing bomb with the new Pontiac motor to set all track records next season; JOE KOSIK, MORT GRADDES, FRED MOLITOR, BOB JACKSON and the O'BSTRANDERS want a promissory note from the weatherman for more snow at the local ski areas; BERT ANSELMY wants more championship wheels on the Rolladum streets; PAUL PARKS wants more grunts and less for more $$$ groans from the Pontiac Army rollers; leave bulleseye arrows for DAVE KRAIGOT and area archers; a big bat for '68 for CHUCK OERTEL, stronger eye-opener choice for BOB BEEDLE; good thick ice for CHUCK CARTWRIGHT and the ice-boaters; and more bottled cheers for our GOYA painting donors in Kaege's Coney Island;

And Dear Mr. Claus, as you breeze across our sports world tomorrow night, be ever kind to the fine men in the publicity field. They pound their fingers to the bone and for who? INK! So to each of them one gallon bottle — to BUD ERICKSON, FRED STABLEY, LES ETTNER, WALT DAUGHERTY, BUCK JERRY, GEORGE MASKIN, ELLIOTT TRUMBULL, HAL MIDDLEWORTH.

For GENE BONE leave a paddle ball and three rubdowns to be ready for the 1962 golf season; for RED WILSON, a diary of success in his new job; for MIKE ANDRONIAN, a big tournament victory; for LOYD SYRON, a fast start in '62; for all the Michigan golf pros a big year on the circuit.

Remember DAVE SWALT, LEN BUZZ and JOHN STREET at the Recreation Department. BERT BOWEN, JOHN MILLER, MOREAU, BILL BLOWER, FRANK BOWEN, JOHN MILLER and TED SLOSSER at the YMCA; the boys at all the Boys' Clubs; our sport-minded Jaycees, Elks, Optimists, Kiwanis, Moose, Eagles, Knights of Columbus, Lions, Civitans and the other service clubs; to our fellow sportswriters around the state; to our friends in radio and TV and to each and every sports fan — the most WONDERFUL CHRISTMAS with the LORD'S BLESSING for SUCCESS.

Houston Sunday Choice in AFL Title Battle

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — The defending champion Houston Oilers are settled down on the battle site today, still favored to defeat the challenging San Diego Chargers for the 1961 American Football League title.

The game between the Eastern and Western Division winners is the last AFL race meet on Sunday before a capacity house of 54,500 in Balboa Stadium and a national television audience (ABC network).

The Oilers, who must rely on the passing talents of shrewd quarterback George Blanda and the power running of former All-American halfback Billy Cannon, remained a 3-point pick to score a repeat title.

Sayers, 23, of Farmington, Minn., was Detroit's 11th choice in the recently completed National Football League player draft.

Warm Wishes for The Holiday Season Cage Powers Play Tonight

By BOB GREEN

Ohio State and Southern California, two of the nation's best, in six games and No. 1 in the nation, are at home in Penn State (5-1) while the sixth-ranked Trojans visit unbeaten Utah State (7-0).

The games are the last warm-up for Southern Cal and Ohio State before next week's Los Angeles Classic, which also features such powers as Utah, eight-ranked Purdue, fifth-ranked West Virginia, Washington, Army and UCLA.

John Rutenfranz, who owns the Southern Cal career scoring record, tossed in 23 more and grabbed 23 rebounds in the victory at Laramie, Wyo. His efforts helped the Trojans to a 22-11 lead midway through the first half and Wyoming wasn't close again.

Kentucky finished Tennessee 95-69 and Kansas State dropped Xavier 75-61 in first round games and gained the finals of the Kenyon Classic, while Utah, coached by Bill McCall, knocked Arizona State 102-89 in last night's other top games.

McCall, 46-year-old center who owns the country's best collegiate scoring average of 37 points, popped in 47 of 62 shots and scored 30 points as Utah, eighth-ranked, threw against him by the slumping Stan Devlin.

Arizona State had started the week tied for 10th in the nation, but lost to Indiana and Minnesota before running into Utah on its current tour. Utah's only loss in eight games was 78-76 to the same Arizona State team earlier in the season.

Mike Wroblewski was the big gun as fourth-ranked Kansas State remained unbeaten in seven games. He contributed 31 points in the last half, and including
