5 Turf Club Officials Skip Track Hearings

Fail to Appear at Morning Talks on Troy Racing

Inglis Says It's Possible Some May Show Up for Afternoon Session

DETROIT — Five officials of a syndicate seeking a license for a race track in Troy Township failed to attend hearings being conducted this morning here before Racing Commissioner James H. Inglis.

Assistant Attorney General Wilbur De Young, who is conducting the inquiry, said the five had been called to explain why the Michigan Thoroughbred Turf Club picked two Troy officials to acquire the 200-acre proposed track site.

One of the officials, attorney Malcolm M. Heber, was fired by the township board at a special meeting Friday night.

At the same meeting the other official, Treasurer Fred W. Hildebrandt, refused to resign. He said as an elected official he could not be dismissed by the seven-man board, of which he is automatically a member.

Inglis said there was "a good possibility" that some of the five would appear at this afternoon's session.

At the morning session, which lasted an hour, a recording of a portion of the Oct. 6 Racing Commission hearing relating to acquisition of land was played.

On the recording, Joseph J. Marshall, attorney for the Turf Club, stated that the Esroh Development Co. obtained the options for the parcels of land at 14-Mile Road and John R.

He testified that there were no members of the Turf Club who were members of Esroh. He said "we don't know anything about their affairs."

SHOOTS MILLIONAIRE HUSBAND — Blonde, 32-year-old Ann Woodward shot and killed her husband, William Woodward Jr., millionaire sportsman and socialite, with a blast from a shotgun early yesterday in their spacious home in Oyster Bay, N. Y. She told police that she had mistaken her husband for a prowler. Death was listed as "accidental pending further investigation." Mrs. Woodward today was under sedatives in a New York City hospital.

'Ad Circular' Was Ignored, — Opening It Means $993

When Mrs. Peter Hoogerhyde Tuesday finally opened a letter which she thought was an advertising circular, she discovered that her husband was a winner of nearly $1,000 in the Irish Sweepstakes.

The family, including daughter Judy, 10, still isn't over the surprise, Dr. Hoogerhyde, a Pontiac dentist, said today.

The prize totals 319 pounds, three shillings and four pence, or about $993, he said.

Marvelling that the ticket he held was drawn, Dr. Hoogerhyde said he thought his chance of winning was about a million and a half to one.

"I bought the ticket—number BQB 43963—several months ago on a horse named Double Red. It cost $3," he said.

Although Double Red didn't run in the sweepstakes race Wednesday, the ticket won a prize anyway in the "unplaced" category, he explained.

"After I bought the ticket I didn't think much about the race until my wife told me I won a prize. There was a lot of excitement around home that day," he added.

Postmarked in Ireland on Oct. 20, the letter lay on a table in the Hoogerhydes' home at 262 Chippewa Rd. for several days.

"The envelope has an Irish air mail stamp and printing on it in the Irish language, Gaelic. But it looked as if it contained advertising. I'm just glad we didn't throw it out," Dr. Hoogerhyde said.

He said he'll frame the letter if he doesn't have to send it back to Ireland in order to get the money.

"Not everybody gets a letter like this one," he said.

What will the Hoogerhydes do with the money? "I'll know that when I know how much the income tax on it is," the doctor said.

Ike Approves Plans for Mail Rate Boost

DENVER (AP) — President Eisenhower today approved plans of Postmaster General Summerfield to ask Congress again next January, for increased postage rates to wipe out a deficit running at the rate of half-a-billion dollars a year.

Summerfield, seventh member of the Cabinet to visit Eisenhower at Fitzsimons Army Hospital, took up routine pkostal problems with the convalescing chief executive.

If Summerfield had any plans to talk politics with Eisenhower, they were a closely guarded secret.

The postmaster general is a former chairman of the Republican National Committee, and will probably be one of the first to know when the President makes his decision on whether to run for re-election.

U.S. Lifts Bans Limiting Travel in Red Nations

Dulles Tells Big 4 That Passports Are Valid in U.S.S.R., East Europe

GENEVA (INS) — Secretary of State John Foster Dulles dramatically announced today that the United States is removing restrictions that had prevented American citizens from traveling in the Soviet Union and Communist-ruled satellite states.

Dulles told the Big Four foreign ministers' session that restrictions were removed starting today in the hope of improving East-West relations.

"Hereafter," he said, "American paassports will be valid for the Soviet Union and all countries in eastern Europe with which the United States maintains relations."

Dulles' colleagues urged the Soviet Union to stop "jamming" western broadcasts and to give reporters free access to information if it hoped to improve relations.

The American minister also proposed that the East and West exchange rights to each other's civil aircraft, meaning that:

"Soviet commercial airplanes might land at Idlewild Airport near New York and United States airplanes might similarly land at the airport serving Moscow."

Dulles' announcement about lifting restrictions on all citizens wishing to travel to the Soviet Union and eastern Europe was aimed to elicit reciprocal action on the part of the Soviet Union.

He expressed hope that controls imposed on the movement of foreigners inside the Soviet Union might be reduced. He said the United States was willing to reduce on an equal basis the controls on Soviet citizens residing in the United States.

The Soviet Union years ago marked off "forbidden areas" to foreign travelers and the United States followed by setting up restrictions on Soviet Nationals in the United States.

Dulles also said that the high Soviet ruble exchange rate should be lowered so travel of individual tourists, and East-West trade, could be promoted.

He will be awarded a combat infantryman's badge, a decoration usually reserved for front-line infantrymen.

Dean earned his infantryman's badge by personally manning a bazooka against Red tanks.

"Your honor," he said, "the job of saving the man's soul took longer than I expected and I'm sure his salvation is worth the price of one parking ticket."

Judge McWhorter tore up the ticket.

UF Still Seeking $146,278 as End of Campaign Nears

The Pontiac Area United Fund crossed the $415,997 line Saturday in its race toward the $562,175 goal, Campaign Manager Robert M. Critchfield said today.

Some $146,278 is still needed before the drive ends Thursday night.

"We all need to put our shoulders to the wheel the last three days to bring in the final 26 per cent," Critchfield stated.

"Every citizen can help by being ready when called upon by the UF volunteer. Remember that, as an unpaid worker, each volunteer is giving many hours in the service of his community."

The Industrial Division leads with 86.3 per cent of quota.

Marked increases, however, were registered in the Residential and Commercial Divisions, with both reaching the 59 per cent point.

Three individual units of the Commercial Division have passed the 66 per cent mark with three others close behind.

Gifts recently tabulated at UF headquarters in the Hotel Pontiac include $500 from Mrs. James Tuttle, Norwalk Truck Lines employes gave $182 and the firm $107.

Meanwhile, 30 women have volunteered to telephone solicitors tonight and remind them the drive's deadline is approaching. They will ask that an increased effort be made to get completed pledges to headquarters.

4 More Yanks Freed by China

Woman Scholar Who Confessed Acts Against Reds Among Repatriates

HONG KONG (AP)—Four Americans, including a Fulbright scholar who said she had made a "full confession" of acts against the Communist government, came back from Red China today.

They were Miss Harriet Mills of New York, who confessed to "acts inimical to the government of China," the Rev. Armand Proulx, 59-year-old Jesuit priest of Lowell, Mass., Mrs. Nadeshda Romanoff, a white Russian who became a naturalized American in 1937, and her 15-year-old daughter, Irene.

Miss Mills, 35-year-old daughter of Presbyterian missionaries, went to China in 1947 to do research for a doctor of philosophy degree and was arrested in Peiping in July, 1952.

The government charge against her was possession of a radio, but details were not known here.

"The Communists have a perfect right to arrest me," she told reporters. "I confessed from the very day I was arrested."

She refused to give details of her confession, but said she believed Americans had waged bacteriological warfare during the Korean War, and that "Americans were warmongers." She said she also had confessed to passing on information to British and American diplomatic establishments.

Miss Mills, who spent four years and three months in a Chinese Communist prison, said she had been handcuffed with her hands behind her back and also was in ankle chains "for several months."

She added this was a form of punishment for repudiating an earlier statement.

"I had myself and myself only to thank for this treatment because the statement was perfectly true," she told reporters.

2 Deputies Hurt in Auto Crash

Perry Earp 'Critical'; Neil Blackmer 'Fair' After Headon Collision

Two Oakland County Sheriff's deputies were seriously injured Sunday while they were speeding to an accident near Bloomer State Park.

Perry Earp, 39, was in critical condition this morning at Pontiac General Hospital, and his partner, Neil Blackmer, 24, was reported in good condition.

Sheriff's deputies said the two were driving north on M24 near Greenshield Road with siren and flasher on, when a car driven by Lynn Polan, 50, of Lake Orion, failed to yield right of way and hit them head on.

Polan's condition this morning was fair. He told deputies yesterday he had been drinking all afternon, and that he had not heard the siren or seen the flasher of the deputies' car. He added that he didn't know what had happened.

Hospital authorities said Earp, a Sheriff's Deputy for eight months, had suffered sever injury to his right hip. Blackmer, who has been a deputy for two weeks, fractured both arms.

Sheriff Frank Irons said Earp and Blackmer had been told by radio that a car had rolled over near Bloomer State Park, and were speeding to the scene at the time of their accident. It was later found out there had been no injuries.

Wife Mistakes Woodward for House Prowler

Millionaire Sportsman Known in Track Circles for Belair Stable

NEW YORK (INS) — William Woodward Jr's widow may be questioned more fully today about how she killed the millionaire sportsman and owner of the famed racehorse Nashua.

The beautiful blonde Ann Eden Crowell Woodward told investigators she fired two shotgun blasts at her husband when she mistook him for a prowler in the darkened hallway outside his bedroom.

The one time model and native of Pittsburg, Kan., was under heavy sedation in New York's Doctor's Hospital. She had become hysterical during preliminary questioning in the Woodwards' Oyster Bay home.

Dr. John M. Prutting, the Woodward family physician, said last night Mrs. Woodward was in a state of "severe shock and hysteria" and that her condition was not good.

Police said the shotgun blasts which killed the 35-year-old owner of the Belair stud in the pre-dawn hours of Sunday "just about blew his head off."

SLAYING ACCIDENTAL

Nassau County District Attorney Frank A. Gulotta, pending further inquiry, termed the slaying accidental.

Woodward and his 32-year-old wife had returned to their Long Island home from a plush party for the Duchess of Windsor only hours before the fatal shooting.

An hysterical and almost incoherent call to a telephone operator summoned police to the Woodward home shortly after 2 a.m.

They found the beautiful, night-gowned Mrs. Woodward in a foyer of their home in a state of hysteria and with her hands covered with blood. The nude body of her husband lay face down on the floor.

Mrs. Woodward told Nassau County Chief of Detectives Stuyvesant Pinnell that she and her husband — who occupied separate ground floor bedrooms — had planned to trap any prowler who might have entered the house.

BIG GAME HUNTER

A big game hunter, she said a series of incidents in the area had made the residents "nervous" and that Woodward kept a pistol at his bedside while she had a British-made 12-gauge shotgun.

BULLETIN

LONDON (AP)—Princess Margaret said tonight she will not marry Peter Townsend.

The princess said in a statement from Clarence House:

"I would like it to be known that I have decided not to marry Group Capt. Peter Townsend.

"But, mindful of the church's teaching that Christian marriage is indissoluble, and conscious of my duty to the Commonwealth, I have resolved to put these considerations before any others.

"I have been aware that subject to my renouncing my rights of succession it might have been possible for me to contract a civil marriage."

In the Mystery Treat Contest, a bicycle, a radio and $5 are the three top prizes for grade school students who are home to answer the Mystery Phone Call at 9 p.m. curfew.

Sounds of Playing Children Gone

Silence Envelops Bereaved Home Today

By WILMA GREENWAY

There is only silence today at the house at 755 Menominee, where last week the sound of children's happy shouts filled the rooms.

Friday the hum of life on the quiet residential street was torn by the screech of brakes, the heavy sound of an impact—and later the wail of ambulance and police sirens.

Glenn Best Jr., 3, and his sister Helen, 4, were both killed when they suddenly darted before the wheels of an oncoming station wagon. In the house, their sister, 20-month-old Barbara, slept unaware.

Today, the parents, Glenn and Louella, are in Oxford for the funeral rites. Little Barbie has been placed in the care of friends.

Does Barbie wonder where her sister and brother, her lifelong playmates, are?

At home Saturday, in the care of a friend of the Bests, the chubby, yellow haired child toddled from room to room, looking. Sometimes she pressed her face to the window, her wondering blue eyes searching the lawn and the street for the two playmates who had never stayed away so long before.

In another home in the city another mother, the driver of the automobile that struck the children, is confined to her bed, under a physician's care for shock and grief. Her own five children, all under 9, have had to be taken to the grandmother's home—the two youngest who were with her at the time of the accident had been asking what killed the little boy.

Her husband, Norman LaLone, his eyes tear-filled, says, "She keeps wondering why she didn't see them when she was driving so slowly. She can't stop blaming herself."

Tonight that street, and others in Pontiac, will be filled with troops of costumed children, gay with the spirit of Halloween. Glennie and Helen won't be with them.

Perhaps drivers, touched by the tragedy, will drive with extra caution, remembering how lightning-fast a child can dart into the street.

Wealthy Sportsman Mistaken for Thief

Haff said that only Saturday night a prowler had broken into the rear of the 12-room Woodward home and ransacked a wing rented to the Cinerama organization for research purposes.

Pinnell related:

"She and her husband had discussed the prowlers in the neighborhood and even at the party they attended talked about it and instituted plans to catch the interloper."

FIRED BOTH BARRELS

Pinnell stated that Mrs. Woodward said she had been awakened by the barking of a dog, went to her bedroom door, "opened it and saw the shadow and fired both barrels."

"She claimed," the statement continued, "her husband made no outcry. She is still in a state of shock and there are still a lot of questions we want to ask. It is more likely an accident than a homicide."

* * *

The incident occurred only two hours after the couple had left the society party at the home of Mrs. George F. Baker, widow of the former Secretary of War.

The Woodwards' two children—William III, 11, and James, 7—were upstairs asleep during the incident. They were taken to the home of their paternal grandmother.

The Woodwards frequently were seen together at racetracks and elsewhere. Only last year they hunted tigers in the Indian jungles.

RED POLKA-DOTS

Woodward's father was one of the outstanding men of racing. He took over chairmanship of the Jockey Club in 1924 from August Belmont and established the white and red polka dots of the Belair stud, the Woodward Stable, as familiar colors to racing fans.

The famous white and red dots were carried by such turf champions as Gallant Fox, Omaha and Granville and more recently by the great 3-year-old Nashua.

* * *

With his father's death three years ago, the younger Woodward began building a reputation and popularity of his own.

His marriage in 1943 to Ann Eden Crowell came as a surprise in some social circles. Just denting the radio and model fields, she was the orphan daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Crowell, an eminent and respectable family—but not wealthy.

Woodward was graduated from Groton School and Harvard University and served in the U. S. Navy during World War II.

Moms' Plan to Keep Students Home Fades

DETROIT (AP) — Edgewood Elementary school said that a threat by mothers of 200 children to keep them at home failed to materialize today.

The mothers had threatened to give their children a vacation from classes rather than let them cross busy Telegraph Road (US-24) to the school in Taylor Township. The mothers are demanding a traffic light at Cypress and Telegraph, where the school is located.

A State Police scout car crew guarded the intersection at school time today. The protesting mothers twice blockaded Telegraph last week.

Mrs. Lucinda Burns, Edgewood principal, said absenteeism was "normal" today, with approximately 700 of the school's 731 pupils in classes.

Whittaker Chambers Suffers Heart Attack

WESTMINISTER, Md. (AP)—Whittaker Chambers, former Communist courier, suffered a "severe heart attack" 10 days ago and is confined to bed, his wife said today.

* * *

The 54-year-old Chambers, chief witness against Alger Hiss, has been ailing since the fall of 1952, when he was stricken by a heart attack. He was confined to a Baltimore hospital several months that time.

Plans Approved by School Board

Activity Centers Slated for Four Elementaries in City District

In a special meeting yesterday the Pontiac Board of Education approved preliminary plans for activity centers to be constructed at Central, Emerson, Hawthorne and Malkim Elementary Schools.

The circular, dome-roofed buildings will cost about $105,000 apiece. The architects, H. E. Beyster and Associates, were authorized to proceed with final plans and specifications.

In all, eight such buildings are slated for completion by next fall. Others will be at Crofoot, LeBaron, McCarroll and Willis Elementary Schools. Preliminary plans for the last four are expected for approval within a month.

In other action, the Board awarded a contract to Groleau Brothers Contractors for grading the Walton Boulevard School site. The firm was low bidder at $6,840.

A plan for laying out a hard-surfaced, all-weather, play and parking area on the Crofoot school grounds was approved. The 220-by-112-foot site will be used for high school and Crofoot physical education classes and also by city recreation leagues.

Nationalist China Holds Festival to Honor Chiang

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP)—With no public holiday declared, Nationalist China today made a festival of President Chiang Kai-shek's 69th birthday.

The aging President, who was reported out of town, showed in a message read to a youth rally that a return to the mainland is still on his mind as much as ever.

The Day in Birmingham

Newcomers Recruiting Donors for Bloodmobile

BIRMINGHAM—Only a few days remain for members of the Newcomers Club to recruit donors for their annual sponsorship of the Red Cross Bloodmobile here.

From 2 to 8 p.m. Wednesday the portable Bloodmobile will be in operation at the Community House, with Newcomers hoping to make their quota of 200 pints of the life-giving substance.

Mrs. Richard Haviland, Newcomers president, and Mrs. Harold Bickner are still taking reservations. Transportation will be provided where necessary, they say, and a nursery operated under the direction of Mrs. Walter Riley.

Club members have been asked to point out the fact that the blood bank here is now getting cooperation from most states on a new "reciprocity" plan.

A spokesman said, "This means that blood given in Oakland County can be credited to a member of your immediate family in another state, or to oneself, if accident or illness should occur while the individual is away from home." In September alone, she said, 18 separate requests were made and met, with 67 pints of blood needed.

"We have had a wonderful response so far," said Mrs. Haviland, and hope that all those who have generously volunteered to give blood will be sure to keep their appointments on time." The Bloodmobile is staffed by the Red Cross with trained medical and technical personnel.

Tonight's City Commission agenda is a short one, highlighted by a report from the Chamber of Commerce off-street parking committee concerning on-street parking in the area surrounding the city's new parking lot which opened on Pierce Street Friday.

Other points under consideration will be flood conditions on Derby between Norwich and Eton Roads, a recommendation that $1,000 be expended for music equipment at the Eton Park Ice Skating Rink and the redemption of $65,000 in bonds for Municipal Parking Lot No. 1.

Two robberies were reported to police over the weekend. In one, Detective Lieut. Merlin Holmquist said $1200 worth of steel scaffolding and tarpaulins were stolen at Cross and 14 Mile Road, where the A.N. Hickson Construction Co. is erecting a Medical center.

The other was a break-in, the eighth to occur since February at a doctor's clinic at 640 N. Woodward Ave., Holmquist said. He said $135 was taken from a cash drawer which had been jimmied open in an office shared by Doctors T. Y. Watson and A. K. Stolpman. How the thief gained admittance to the building has not been determined.

The veil of secrecy will be lifted tomorrow for Exchange Club members who have signed up for one of the Greyhound Bus Co's "mystery trips." Members and their wives will board the bus at 7 p.m. at the Community House.

Taking over a block of 300 seats at Will-O-Way Playhouse on Friday will be the Holy Name School PTA. The theater party will get under way at 8:15 p.m. with the presentation of the new comedy, "Tender Trap." Starring will be Sonny Elliot, Detroit television artist.

Tickets, which will help pay for PTA activities, may be obtained at the door or from Mrs. Robert S. Tate and Mrs. Walter L. Flinn, cochairmen.

Robert G. Lange

Service for Robert G. Lange, 55, 695 14 Mile Rd., owner of Gray-Garfield and Lange, Detroit Commercial Art Firm, will be at 3 p.m. Tuesday at Bell Chapel of the William R. Hamilton Co. Burial will follow in Acacia Park Cemetery. Mr. Lange died Saturday after a three month illness.

He leaves his widow, Doris; one daughter, Jeanne; his mother, Mrs. George A. Lange and two brothers, Paul E. and Gilbert R.

Former Birmingham Boy Killed in Cave-in

ORLANDO, Fla. (AP) — A former Birmingham boy suffocated last night in a cave-in at a construction site where he and five other boys were digging a tunnel.

The victim, Timothy Decker, 16, moved here from Birmingham recently with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ward M. Decker. The body will be returned to Michigan for burial.

Companions said young Decker was lying on his back in the hole and passing out dirt when the tunnel collapsed. He suffocated before he could be freed.

Detroit Contractor Dies After Attack at Game

DETROIT (AP) — Walter G. Albrecht, 72, prominent Detroit contractor and builder, died of a heart attack suffered Saturday during the Michigan-Iowa game at Ann Arbor.

As head of the Albert A. Albrecht Co., he was associated with his father in construction of the Penobscot building. He also was a director and treasurer of the Gabriel Steel Co.

Turf Club Officials Skip Track Hearing

Club's purpose was in dealing with Esroh, instead of obtaining the options directly, Marshall answered:

"Esroh Corporation owns the land. We have options from them, and we've paid this money, period."

Testimony at the hearings Thursday and Friday revealed that Hildebrandt, Heber and Heber's law partner, Harry N. Dell, stood to make a profit of $169,303 by acquiring options on the land and then turning them over to the Turf Club.

"It looks like the Turf Club—or at least someone in the club—was working hand in hand with Hildebrandt and Heber," DeYoung said. "The question is why did they use Hildebrandt and Heber to acquire the land. That's the kind of thing you would think they would go to a real estate broker for."

DeYoung said two of the five officials, plus Turf Club attorney Henry C. Murray, who vowed Friday not to appear today, told him yesterday they "might be able" to appear.

Murray stalked out of Friday's session in anger after Inglis refused to delay the hearings three weeks, as he had asked.

The two officials are Dr. Benjamin T. Bratt, a Royal Oak optometrist, and James Chapman, the club's public relations counsellor. The other three are Edward Rosenberg, club treasurer; Dr. Jack I. Winshall, Detroit dentist and subdivision developer, and Sidney R. Berman, a former automobile salesman.

A meeting of the five, scheduled for late morning, was canceled because of the death of Berman's mother last night, according to a spokesman.

The spokesman said he could not say whether the five would appear. Purpose of the meeting of the five was to decide whether they will appear at the hearings.

"I am surprised the officials are not clamoring to be heard," said DeYoung, who is assigned to Inglis office.

Testimony last week showed that Dr. Bratt had approached Hildebrandt and Herber last spring asking them to assemble a 200-acre site at 14-Mile road and John R.

It was stated by an investigator for the attorney general's office that the two officials, who later set up a corporation with Dell known as the Esroh development Co., obtained options for the needed eight parcels of land for $430,697.

Trial Detained 3 Years

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Three years ago Arthur R. Walizer, 36, was arrested for drunk driving. His attorney had his trial postponed six times. Finally, when Walizer's case was called for trial it took Judge Thomas M. Marshall 10 minutes to find him guilty and place him upon probation for two years.

Top Tourist Bill: Food

NEW YORK — The American Hotel Association estimates that about 49 cents of every tourist dollar is spent for food and lodging—29 cents for meals and 20 cents for lodging. The rest goes as follows: transportation, 21 cents; admission to travel attractions, 5; retail purchases, 18; theaters and other amusements, 7.

Iceland Moving to Replant Trees

Animal Grazing Halts Growth of Woodland in Arctic Island

WASHINGTON — Forestless Iceland is striving to cover its rugged landscape once more with trees. It has a good chance of success, thanks to aid from friendly countries.

* * *

Shorn of woodlands for generations, Iceland now is shopping the forests of America, Alaska, Norway and the Soviet Union for seedlings under a stepped-up reforestation program, the National Geographic Society says.

New forests in years to come will replace the woodlands seen by the Vikings upon discovery of the North Atlantic island in the 9th century. Then, the Norse sagas say, birch forests covered the lowlands between the coast and the interior mountains.

The birches eventually disappeared under the axes of settlers. New forest growths were devastated by the grazing of sheep, goats, cattle, and horses—livestock long linked to Iceland's economic welfare.

EXPERIMENTS CONTINUE

Plantings, consequently, have included Englemann spruce and alpine fir from Colorado and Oregon mountains, lodgepole pine from British Columbia, Siberian larch from Russia, Pacific poplar and Norwegian elm from Alaska and Norway, Sitka and white spruce, Scotch pine, and mountain and western hemlock.

Some early experiments were unpromising. Seed imported from areas with more temperate climates than Iceland's failed to prosper. Public interest in reforestation slumped. Then in the early 1930's plantings on a large scale were resumed.

Ships now bring in wood and almost all of the coal used in Iceland. Wood is so scarce that many houses are built of reinforced concrete. Driftwood industries thrive.

French Actress Prefers Movies to Stage Career

PARIS (INS)—Francoise Rosay, France's "grand old lady" of stage and screen, prefers movie studios to theaters.

"It's very simple and prosaic," she said. "I like to go to bed early and get up early."

Motion picture work, she pointed out, required players to be early risers.

"That suits me perfectly," she remarked.

"Besides, she continued, "I like the team spirit that prevails in movie studios."

Madame Rosay, now 64 years old, has also other reasons why she would rather act before film cameras than in public.

"I like the atmosphere in the studios, the isolation in which you place yourself to play the part of the character you are portraying.

"And there is constant change in cinema work.

"On the stage, you are tired of the monotony of doing the same thing over and over every day. After a 30-day run, you've had enough."

Steel Hits Peak Output

NEW YORK — The nation's steel industry's furnaces poured steel at the rate of more than 3.8 tons a second during May to set a monthly production record of 10,328,000 tons. That's enough, in terms of finished steel, to make more than two automobiles of a popular model every second.

Science Cures Insomnia by Juggling Temperature

NEW YORK (INS) — Scientists have dreamed up a new idea for curing insomnia—controlling nighttime temperatures to match a person's sleeping characteristics.

Studies show there is a definite relationship between bedroom temperatures and how well we sleep.

Research director Dr. Finn H. Larsen said scientific studies show that by controlling nighttime atmosphere it enables us to fall asleep more easily with the result that we then enjoy a deeper, more restful sleep throughout the night.

Smelt catches in Michigan reach almost-unbelievable size. In one case 15 tons of the small fish were dipped by hand from a Michigan stream in 10 minutes.

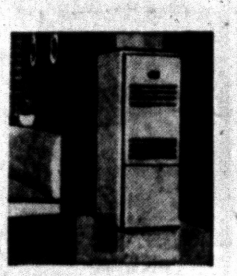

Well over 20,000,000 persons in the United States rely solely on natural gas for heating and cooking. More than 2,000,000 industrial firms are using gas as a major source of energy in their manufacturing operations.

It Makes Me Hopping Mad...

Farmer Fined for Crop

OIL CITY, Pa. (AP)—John Harmon didn't pay a bit of attention to government agents who told him to plant nine acres of wheat. He went ahead with plans to plant 24 acres. Now he's in trouble.

* * *

The government has placed a lien on his farm for $404.28, accusing him of violating regulations restricting his farm acreage. Harmon, 46, a Venango County dairy farmer, said he won't pay. He added:

"I have never had any part of subsidy. I have my own way. I'll be darned if I think this allotment and subsidy business is right or American.

"I have my own ideas about American rights. It sometimes makes me awful hopping mad and at other times, it just takes the heart out of you."

Farmer Harmon's trouble started last year. The government with its "blasted forms . . . and all kinds of red tape," as he put it—told him his wheat acreage allowance was nine acres. Harmon put in 24 acres.

* * *

The Venango County Agricultural Stabilization and Soil Conservation Commitee sent two of its members around to talk to Harmon. Then the committee—duty bound—reported to state headquarters. From there the information was passed to Washington.

* * *

Washington officials decided Harmon owed $357.28 in penalties. The U.S. attorney in Pittsburgh tacked a $47 bill on for costs.

Now both sides have stated their positions. Harmon said he won't pay. The government said it will sell his farm if need be, to collect. After that both sides sat down to wait. They still are at it.

* * *

In Washington a legal official for the Department of Agriculture said that while he is not familiar with the case he believes Harmon would be subject to the Agricultural Adjustment Act of 1938, even though he had not accepted any subsidies.

* * * *

Harmon, his wife and their 12 children—nine girls and three boys—are continuing to work the farm and feed the dairy herd.

Public Strongly Favors Highway Safety Program

Governor WILLIAMS was wise in breaking precedent by making public in advance his message to the special session of the Legislature.

It gave the lawmakers more time to study the final draft of his recommendations for increased highway safety and long overdue care for mentally retarded children.

★ ★ ★

About one thing the Governor and Legislature can be certain. The public wants action to reduce the toll of highway deaths and injuries and is willing to pay for it. Letters to Lansing reveal strong support for a State speed limit, 200 more State Police for highway patrol service and more stringent driver licensing regulations.

★ ★ ★

Because he considered them too controversial, the Governor has shied away from two of his previous proposals. One is transfer of licensing authority from sheriffs and police officials to State Civil Service employes. He now advocates better equipment and instruction for licensing officials.

The other is a commission to study the advisability of a speed limit. There is so much sentiment in favor of fixed limits that he now is recommending a 65 mile day rate and a 55 mile night rate.

Proposals for expansion of State facilities for the care of mentally retarded children deserve careful legislative attention. These include purchase and remodeling of Farmington Children's Hospital and the use of Fort Custer Station Hospital.

Enactment would provide 1,450 much needed additional beds. The present waiting list of 1,221 reportedly does not reflect the total number needing institutional care.

There isn't any doubt about the need for non-political action on these problems now. What the people want and should get is maximum possible benefits consistent with sound financing.

Viet Nam Now a Republic

Events have followed a logical course in the wake of the referendum in Viet Nam which deposed Emperor BAO DAI as chief of state and replaced him with Premier NGO DINH DIEM.

The victorious premier now has proclaimed South Viet Nam a republic and is its first president. A constitution will be adopted next month and soon thereafter a general election will be held to create the first legislature.

Diem's victory reflected the people's reaction to Bao Dai's preference for life on the French Riviera to work at home as chief of state. More than 98 per cent of the voters favored the premier.

BAO DAI was born a Prince of Annam, formerly a French protectorate. When he succeeded to the throne its power and his patrimony had shrunk. Yet the prestige of his family caused the Japanese to continue him in power after they had invaded his country.

The Chinese Communist HO CHI MINH forced him to abdicate in 1945 but kept him as "political adviser." After BAO DAI broke with HO CHI MINH the French called him back to the throne he wanted less than his pleasant life in France.

No one in the free world is going to weep for the ousted BAO DIA or the blow that ouster was to the emperior business. But it should be realized that President DIEM's difficulties are many. Besides his enemies inside and outside Viet Nam, there are tough economic problems to solve and the Communists in the north always pose a threat.

Cotton Surplus Zooming

Latest Department of Agriculture figures for 1955 cotton production emphasizes the difficulties Secretary BENSON encounters in trying to reduce crop surpluses.

Last Fall the Department cut cotton planting by 14 per cent, to 18.1 million acres, the lowest in 75 years. This reduction is not reflected in current crop prospects, however.

Instead of any reduction, the October 1 outlook was that the 1955 crop will exceed last year's production by 232,000 bales or two per cent.

Apparently what happened in Maine's potato growing area a few years back, happened this year in cotton. Less fertile land was withdrawn from production and growers resorted to more intensive cultivation and greater use of fertilizers and insecticides.

As a result average production per acre has reached an all time high of 405 pounds, or 64 pounds over last year's previous record. This not only occurred when the cotton carryover was almost equivalent to a full year's consumption, but it promises to raise the surplus to a new all time high of 29,049,000 bales.

One doesn't have to be an agricultural economist to know that this is bad for cotton and cotton farmers.

IN THESE days of high taxation, the old compliment to a girl should be amended to, "You look like a million dollars—after taxes."

Old Man of the C-Notes

David Lawrence Says:

Groucho Marx and Traveling Senators Among Victims of Unintentional Injustice

WASHINGTON — Fragmentary dispatches, abbreviated because of lack of time to get the complete story on the same day, can sometimes be responsible for unintentional injustices to individuals. These can be far more serious to their reputations than the alleged abuses of constitutional rights so often made the subject of emotional discussions.

Two instances of injustice occurred recently—one in connection with the income taxes of a well-known actor, and the other in relation to a special plane and $10,000 of expense to fly some senators back home from Europe.

Groucho Marx was the actor who was headlined last week as owing the government some back taxes. It wasn't emphasized, however, that he had a legal right to dispute the tax bill rendered him by the Treasury. He had, of course, disclosed all details of his income as required by law, and had taken his case to the U. S. Tax Court on an appeal. If he loses the case, he not only pays all the taxes but interest at 6 per cent for the time elapsing from the day the tax originally was due.

There is nothing improper in what Marx has done. It is a civil suit that has been filed by him and it is not in any sense a criminal case. Yet, the innuendo has been conveyed that maybe he was doing something wrong in declining to pay the taxes assessed against him before getting a final adjudication of his claims against the Treasury. Reputation with public audiences is very important to an actor.

* * *

The second instance of injustice developed with respect to the U. S. senators for whom a special plane was ordered by an overzealous U. S. air officer. The impression in the first day's dispatches was that the senators were responsible for an alleged extravagance of $10,000 of taxpayers' money. Two days later the press reported that the two senators had not asked for a special plane at all.

PROPER EXPENSE

What the public was not given to understand is that, even if the senators had asked for special transportation, they would have been well justified so far as taxpayers' money is concerned. This form of expenditure has been held proper in other agencies of the government.

Time and again the American people — and particularly Congress — have been criticized abroad for an alleged tendency toward "isolationism."

So, when any member of Congress will take time to go to other countries to study conditions there, it is a gain for America. It means that the legislators will be better able to understand just what financial aid shall be given and what shall be subtracted. Some members of Congress have come back recently from abroad convinced that such aid to foreign countries can be tapered off now.

TOP NOTCH MEN

Both Sen. Stennis of Mississippi and McClellan of Arkansas, Democrats, who figured in the mix-up over the special plane, are men of outstanding ability. They are two of the finest men in Congress. They are conscientious to the extreme. When they decided to spend a part of the recess of Congress in other countries, it was to their credit, and the American people of course, will be benefited by their studies.

The recent solicitude, however, over the spending of $10,000 of taxpayers' money for a special plane—which it turns out wasn't used for the purpose, after all—is hardly in keeping with the indifference that so many persons seem to show when our government spends millions on the natives of Indochina or of some other remote area of the globe.

Then there's the question of the expense to the government in taking a senator's wife along on these trips. Should the government pay for it? Many commercial companies do so because they find it better and less expensive than paying for a clerk to go along to handle visitors' calls and other business detail for their traveling executives.

If the government shouldn't pay the expense of a wife of a senator, should it pay the expense of the wife of the Secretary of State, who usually travels with him, or the wife of the President, who went along to Geneva last summer? The government should do so because the wives become a part of the official ceremony so often necessary abroad in developing close friendships with representatives of other governments and their families.

The same reasoning holds good, therefore, for the wives of members of the coordinate branch of the government—the Congress — which has become a constant participant with the executive in making foreign policy during the last two decades.

Fear Plays Starring Role in Male 'Change of Life'

By WILLIAM BRADY, M. D.

Fear plays a star role in many real or imaginary ailments encountered in the menopause or the male "change of life."

* * *

In the first laps of our second forty years comes the slowing down and cessation of reproductive powers. For folks who are fully informed as to what to expect—nothing at all in most instances—there will be no fear.

Movies have made it abundantly clear even to children that the male's waning sexual vigor can lead him sadly astray. The astray part is the movie; the return home is tucked on at the finish to satisfy the PTA.

But knowledge of his own motives should protect all but the gullible from resorting to ladies of the cocktail set, monkey or goat glands, or kindred experiments in the foolish hope of retarding a process common to all. Such experiments can only empty the wallet and or the home. Nature proceeds on her way, unimpressed.

A few men suffer from emotional disturbances at this time. But remember that this is also a point at which they begin to scrutinize their lives. Suddenly they wonder what they've really accomplished.

They may fear that younger fellows will wangle their jobs. They worry about forced retirement. Such thoughts can cause great emotional turmoil. This turmoil is not the result of the "change of life," but of the man's own wrong attitudes about his life.

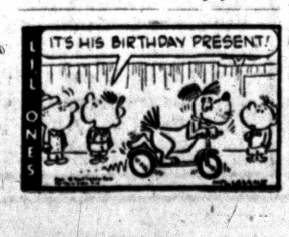

Wise men, so suffering, will seek expert help. The foolish will seek vainly for a fountain of youth.

* * *

Expert help is primarily the advice of a physician who has made a careful physical examination or, if you prefer, call it a health examination. If the physician's advice and remedies alone are not adequate the aid of a psychiatrist may be necessary, even though the patient is not at all off his rocker.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long, pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not to disease, diagnosis, or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped self-addressed envelope is sent to the Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Mich.

'Italy Builds Huge Statue While We Send Dollars'

Letters will be condensed when necessary because of lack of space. Full name, address and telephone number of the writer must accompany letters but these will not be published if the writer so requests unless the letter is critical in its nature.

I wonder how many thought, as I did, about the huge statue of Christ that is to be built at Rocca Di Popa, Italy. Just think, it's so huge that it will accommodate 600 worshipers in the uplifted arm alone.

It will cost a fabulous amount of money. What I would like to know is who is going to pay for it? It seems to me if people are believers they can worship in a less costly structure.

After all the money that we have poured into Italy to fight communism, I don't think they are showing good sense. Even if it is a private concern building it, it would be more effective to fight communism by slum clearance and feeding the hungry.

No wonder the governor of Utah is withholding a portion of the income tax that is sent to other countries which are taking us for suckers.

'Regular Reader' Advises 'Concerned' Read Peale

Recently a letter signed 'Concerned' appeared. I wonder if it shouldn't have been signed 'Disgruntled'.

She said she had followed all of Dr. Crane's advice. I wonder if she ever joined his Compliment Club. I would like to recommend that she bring herself to participate wholeheartedly in it. After that, if she, with or without her husband, could read and live by Dr. Norman V. Peale's Power of Positive Thinking' and Dr. Billy Graham's 'Peace With God', I feel confident that someday she would be able to sign a letter 'Happy' or 'Contended'.

Personally, I find the pictures accompanying the Earl Wilson column far more demoralizing than anything Dr. Crane ever said. Dr. Crane plainly teaches pure living for our youth. I sincerely hope Earl Wilson's contract with the Pontiac Press soon expires and will never be renewed.

Politics Shouldn't Govern Nation's Taxation Problems

By MERRYLE S. RUKEYSER
INS Economic Commentator

Much of the "realism with which the prospects for tax reduction in 1956 is discussed is cynical indeed.

* * *

The frame of reference is almost entirely political, with little regard for the scientific merits of improvement of the revenue system.

Some apparently take it for granted that it is the right of politicians in both parties to play fast and loose with the basic economic foundations of the country in order to "buy" votes in a presidential election year.

In fairness, Secretary of the Treasury George M. Humphrey has put the emphasis on balancing the budget in the current fiscal year, and has indicated that prospects of tax reduction must depend on whether a budgetary equilibrium can be achieved.

* * *

From the standpoint of developing a scientific and meritorious tax system, as contrasted with an emotional and demagogic one, the question of timing can be overdone.

SNYDER CRITICIZED

Thus during the Truman administration, this writer criticized a remark by John Snyder, then secretary of the treasury. Snyder was testifying as to the desirability of a comprehensive recodification of the federal tax laws.

He said, in effect, that, while the objective was desirable, he felt that it was then premature to attempt the job. (This was before the Korean War and before the big stepping up of post-World War II defense expenditures.)

It has always seemed to me that now is the time to detect inequities, and to correct them. Such a job should not be deferred to some indefinite future when politicians feel that they don't need the money. It is Robin Hood economics to justify unthical and unfair procedures on the ground that the government needs the dough.

Furthermore, it is an axiom of politics that office seekers will find ways to expend all that they can get their hands on. Recognizing this, some of the states and localities have put mandatory constitutional ceilings on spending.

* * *

There are at least two widely circulated fallacies in discussions for the outlook for tax cuts.

'TAKE' INCREASED

First, there is the unwarranted assumption that onerous and high tax rates necessarily bring in more revenue than moderate incentive rates. The late secretary of the treasury, Andrew W. Mellon, in the 1920s disputed this doctrine, and showed that by reducing rates to an incentive basis the government actually increased its tax "take."

* * *

Tax receipts depend on the total volume of national economic activity and resultant business profits, not merely on the rate at which profits and other income are taxed.

Secondly, there is the untenable assumption that, because large revenues are needed, bad taxes and unsound tax practices must be continued and frozen into the system. In a dynamic society, good fiscal management should continuously review the disirability of substituting new and better modes of taxation for those deemed harsh or inequitable.

Instead of purely political bipartisan shadow boxing in the area of taxation, why does not someone stand up and advocate a new look at the whole subject?

* * *

It would be a good posture for a group in Congress to represent itself as interested in the fundamental merits of taxation rather than in the superficial impact on immediate votes.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Businessman Couldn't Write in Public Until He Started Using His Left Hand

Wendell has a complex that is a first cousin to stuttering, yet it involves his right hand. Since complexes are very specific, just alter the total pattern and you can trick your own unruly muscles. Never be a slave to any segment of your anatomy, so free yourself from complexes by the methods outlined below.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case P-385: Wendell H., aged 37, is a business executive.

"But I have a serious problem," he confessed, "though I hesitate to admit it publicly.

"Whenever I try to sign a letter or any other formal document while people are watching me, my fingers simply will not work!

"My right hand actually seems paralyzed. So I finally consulted a famous neurologist, who checked me thoroughly and said there was nothing wrong with me organically.

"He said my trouble was all in my mind. But I still have the 'functional paralysis,' as he called it, whenever I must write in public.

"It embarrasses me, for my secretary will lay a sheaf of urgent transcribed letters on my desk, yet I can't sign them as long as she stands there waiting.

"So I manufacture some excuse to send her to the files. While her back is turned, I can sign them O. K. Dr. Crane, how can I write in front of people?"

DON'T BE A SLAVE

First, declare a revolt! Tell yourself you are not going to remain a slave to any segment of your body.

Cigarette smokers also need to do the same thing, for it isn't their basic craving for tobacco nor even the chemical hunger for nicotine that keeps them sucking on cigarettes.

No, it is the muscle hungers of the arm and hand which are accustomed to wave around in the act of smoking.

Regardless of how Wendell's complex started, the cure is about the same. For complexes are very specific.

* * *

For example, his finger muscles don't go into spasm when he holds his spoon or knife and fork. And they perform normally when he baits a fish hook with people looking on.

He can also play the piano before spectators and his fingers will operate smoothly.

It is only when he handles a pen or pencil before onlookers that his hand goes into a spasm.

* * *

So I told him he could practice writing with his left hand, for his complex affected only his right hand.

It is as specific as the stutterer's complex, for a man who has become a stutterer in English, can usually speak French or German without stuttering.

OUTWIT YOUR MUSCLES

One of the quickest ways to outwit your muscles, therefore, is to imitate the football quarterback and call a new play.

If Wendell's fingers "freeze" when he tries to write with his usual hand, then surprise them by using the other hand.

Or he can vary the act of writing with his usual hand by any artificial stunt that will change the total pattern.

For example, he can bear down hard on the heel of his palm until he exerts approximately 25 pounds pressure. Then, while still bearing down hard, do his writing.

* * *

Or he can vary the manner of holding his pen by sticking it between the middle and ring fingers. Or he can roll his hand on the muscles of his forearm and not move the fingers at all.

* * *

By extroverting his attention, too, as by looking for virtues in his companions and then phrasing compliments thereon, he can also gain more poise and meanwhile turn the spotlight on other people instead of himself.

For further advice, send for my booklet, "How to Control Your Emotions," enclosing a stamped return envelope and 20c (non-profit).

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane, in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 3c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

Hal Boyle Says:

Memories Can Crack Middle-Aged Minds

NEW YORK (AP)—Death gets to be less of a stranger as you grow older.

As He harvests more and more of your friends and enemies, your gloating sense of survival becomes smaller. You are suddenly aware that more than 50 per cent of the people you've met in your lifetime are no longer with you.

I have the uncomfortable feeling some days that I have at least reached the 40 per cent figure, though I do my heart's best to create fresh loyalties as I move along.

Some days this is hard to do. Old loyalties have a way of creeping back into your mind.

There are some memories a man can't afford. It is too perilous a self - indulgence. Some remembrances will crack the average middle-aged person's mind unless he turn his thoughts away.

But the past always churns in every brain, and I think at times of "Shorb" Schultz.

How the little man does come back, and I don't know why!

Back in 1928 I was a green copy boy and one of my duties was to carry late Saturday night copy from the Associated Press office in the Kansas City Star building to the AP office in the Journal-Post.

Shorb, to whom I delivered the copy, was one of my boyhood heroes. He was a telegrapher. He was about 5 feet tall and 5 feet around the midde.

Schultz left nothing to chance. He was a bachelor. He made money playing the grain market on the side. His girl friend sold magazine subscriptions, so he got his reading matter free.

Food was an obsession with him. He always brought his own lunch and dinner. His endless sandwiches and pieces of fruit were separately wrapped, and he unwrapped each small tidbit as if he were unveiling the Taj Mahal. After each meal he took a big swig from a bottle of mineral oil he had handy. He felt his program kept him healthy as well as fat.

* * *

To fetch him the copy I had to cross a viaduct. Often on a cold Missouri night I'd stand there and watch the steam floating up and listen to the long "whoo-whoo-whoo" of locomotives setting out for old St. Louis or neighing in pause on the long road to Los Angeles.

The night held a magic glamor. Big black cars drove by and I could hear the sound of feminine laughter floating back. I dreamed that some time one of the big black cars would halt and an older woman with blonde hair and ruinous eyes would call in a throaty voice, "Won't you come in?"

* * *

Progress caught up with Shorb. The Morse wire was replaced by an automatic printer machine that forced him to punch first 40 words a minute, then 60 words.

His two flying pudgy fingers couldn't quite keep up with the tape. He took a job between midnight and morning when news was scarce so that he could fight out the problem of adjusting to a new system. He never really quite made it.

* * *

He still brought his food in neat parcels. He drank more deeply of the mineral oil. He never complained. But one day the little gallant fat man stood up, then fell over dead. Something in his heart or head had burst.

Still at times I think of Shorb and the long-gone time when I fetched the news copy to him across the viaduct where the trains cried "whoo-whoo-whoo."

* * *

Supposing I did walk that way again and this time one of the big black slinky cars really did stop and a girl with a throaty voice called, "Where are you going — can I give you a lift?"

What would I do? I know. I'd say:

"No, thank you, ma'am. I'm just out for a bit of fresh air."

Inter-American Newsmen Meet

Freedom for the Press in Latin America Takes Discussion Spotlight

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—Some 1,000 Inter American Press Assn., delegates meet today for the opening general assembly as the question of freedom of the press in Colombia held the spotlight.

The 11th annual meeting of the association opened Saturday. The first two days were limited to meetings of the board of directors.

The agenda and the discussions at the board of directors sessions indicated freedom of the press will be the main topic at the convention.

Gustavo Gomez Mejia, publisher and editor El Frene of Bucaramanga, Colombia, charged in an interview yesterday the "IAPA has given a false impression of our problems and has created another difficult problem in causing poor relations.

"The action of the IAPA has focused the attention of all the world on Colombia," he said.

Gomez Mejia said papers in Colombia may print anything they think is in the public interest.

"We have no censorship," he said.

John R. Reitemeyer, publisher of the Hartford, Conn., Courant, and chairman of the IAPA's executive committee, in his report to the board of directors compared the recent closing down of the newspaper El Tiempo by President Pinilla to incidents which occurred in Argentina under the regime of former President Juan Peron.

Reitemeyer called the Colombian government's announcement Sept. 23 that it had lifted press censors from newspaper offices "just a smoke screen designed to confuse critics of Colombia's press policy."

AIMING AT HIS BROTHER'S MARK — Being coached on the rifle range at Fort Ord, Calif., is Pvt. Joseph P. Murphy, brother of World War II's most decorated soldier, Audie Murphy. Audie's life story is told in the film, "To Hell and Back." Correcting the shooting position of the younger Murphy is Capt. F. R. Alviar, commander of Company D, 1st Infantry Regiment. He says Murphy, 20, is "a conscientious man, alert, intelligent." At left is Pvt. Robert E. Hinds.

Bob Ryan Hopes to Bring Saint's Life to the Screen

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS

HOLLYWOOD (INS) — Robert Ryan tells me that ever since he read G. K. Chesterton's book, "St. Francis of Assisi," he has wanted to bring the life of St. Francis to the screen.

"I couldn't play St. Francis myself," said Bob, "because physically he was a much smaller man than I, but I would like to make it independently."

I told Bob that I visited St. Francis Church in Perugia some years ago and said prayers in the great church which is built over the smaller one which St. Francis built in his lifetime.

Bob also told me that he's making his TV debut in Christopher Morley's "Lincoln's Doctor's Dog" for the screen Directors Playhouse. He reports to the Roach studio Nov. 3.

"First TV script I've liked," said Robert.

BOOK ACQUIRED

"The Sixth of June," the Linonel Shapiro book which is crowding for a place as a best seller, has been acquired by 20th Century-Fox.

It is also wispered that Buddy Adler gets the property and that he already has penciled in Dana Wynter. Her future as a star on this lot is assured. Now all that has to happen is that the public takes to her as much as has everyone in Hollywood.

At the Merle Oberon party, Charles Brackett told me that he's flying to New York, and while he didn't say so, I'm told he's going East to bid on Shirley Booth's new vehicle, "The Desk Set."

I was interested when I heard this because at its Broadway opening 10 days ago it received only fair notices, but 20th Century-Fox isn't letting that stand in the way of making the purchase.

I hear through the grapevine that Lauren Bacall is the choice for the role of the career girl who goes into competition with a mechanical brain.

THE LAST LAUGH

Herman Wouk writes to say: "An arthor's vanity compels me to write that the critics didn't tear my novel, 'Marjorie Morningstar,' to pieces. They split about two-thirds for, and one-third against.

"However, you are dead right that the againsters were really against. About the mildest recommendation of the majority was that I be boiled in oil for writing 'Marjorie Morningstar'."

Well, Herman, you can have the last laugh.

Socially speaking: Fred Astaire made one of his few appearances at Merle Oberon's party honoring Lord and Lady Dalkeith. But then there was the greatest turnout of stars I've seen in many a day.

Frank Sinatra, who used to avoid these parties, was very much the center of attention. I had a long talk with him about Gloria Vanderbilt. He said that she photographs beautifully and he believes she's different.

Mrs. Jules Stein's gown was the most admired, a short, white Paris creation embroidered with green leaves. I noticed most of the women wore short, cover-up dresses.

Norma Shearer has let her hair grow, thank goodness, and wears it fluffy. She showed me the scar she got skiing and says she won't ski again. Her husband, Marty Arrouge, says she will.

Snaps: Rita Hayworth and Raymond Hakin are a steady twosome in Paris. While Rita is dating the oldest of the Hakims, Prince Aly Khan is seen nightly with Bettina, the model.

Nat King Cole is crowding them in the Copacabana. But the surprise of the week was Greta Garbo, who slipped in to hear "King."

Youths Questioned in Housewife Injury

DETROIT (AP) — Police said they will question two 12-year-old boys in the shooting of suburban Dearborn Township housewife.

* * *

Mrs. Veronica Miller, 41, was critically wounded Saturday when she was shot in the abdomen as she was working in the kitchen of her home.

Wayne County sheriff's deputies said yesterday a 12-year-old boy admitted to his mother that he fired the shot from a .22 caliber rifle which wounded Mrs. Miller. Another 12-year-old was with him at the time, deputies said. Neither was identified.

* * *

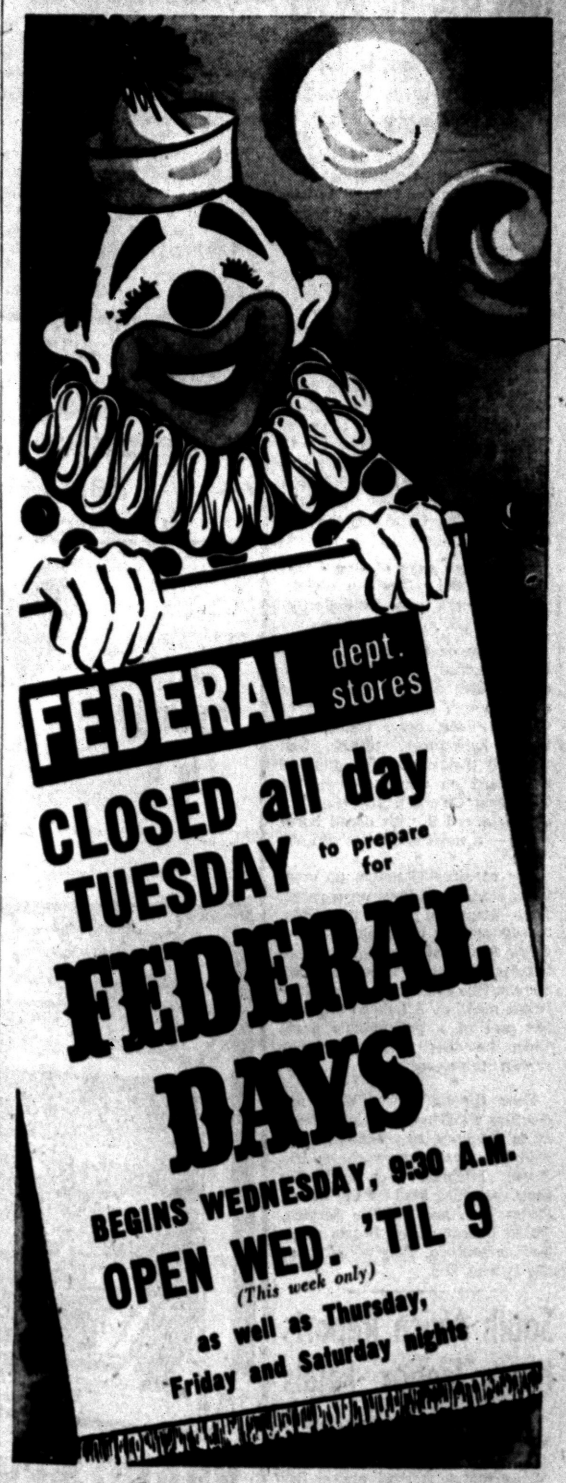

Officers said the shooting apparently was accidental.

Mrs. Miller was reported still in serious condition at Wayne County General Hospital.

Dies of Crash Injury

STURGIS (AP)—David F. Failor, 16, of Howe, Ind., died Saturday of injuries received when he was struck by a car on U. S. 112 in Sturgis. The car was driven by James Holt, 28, of rural Sturgis.

Runaway Beasts Not Really Wild

Excitable People Often Cause More Trouble Than Animals

WASHINGTON — Wild animals that break out of circus, pet shop or zoo usually don't prove as wild —at first — as the human beings they excite by their chance meetings in the open.

Taxing the Washington police recently, an ocelot slipped from a pet shop and stalked for over a week among homes and woods around the Naval Observatory, the National Geographic Society recalls. The tropical American Wildcat nimbly dodged police shotgun blasts, dashed in and out of yards. Woodland traps were baited with halibut fillet; but all the police caught was a strong downwind whiff of fish. Coon dogs were put on the cat's tail. They found only the fish-laden traps.

After nine days of free - top freedom, the will-o-wisp ocelot, its sleekness gone, voluntarily limped back to the pet store.

Big cats on the loose have always worried police. Circus escapees have mauled people, even taken human lives. Thousands of volunteer searchers, police, Marines, helicopters, planes, and specially trained dogs failed to find a leopard on vacation from the Oklahoma City zoo. The staff finally captured it with doped horse meat — a meal it did not survive.

* * *

For carefree abandon, no creatures outdoo monkeys on a spree. They disregard property rights, to say nothing of human rights—throw fruit and vegetables; stage barefaced jungle antics on city streets. One even broke up a corporation meeting. A baboon removed the seat of a policeman's pants while he was chasing another simian miscreant.

* * *

Four timber wolves gave authorities a different problem. Reared in captivity, they refused to go wild in a special preserve on Isle Royal, Michigan, set aside for their vanishing kind by the United States Fish and Wildlife Service. Twice liberated, the beasts nonetheless returned. They wound up at the Detroit Zoo.

South Africa Reports More 'Icebox' Fatals

CAPETOWN—So many children are being trapped and suffocated in abandoned refrigerators in South Africa that a general appeal has been sent outto people to remove the locks or doors before they aba don such equipment.

The first such case occurred several years ago and as modern refrigeration equipment replaces the old-style types, more cases have been reported.

Lieut.-Colonel Jan Taillard, head of the Johannesburg police, reminded the public that "in America the situation became so bad in some places that special laws were passed to make it an offense for people to abandon refrigerators without first removing doors or locks."

Employment May Climb to Record High in Flint

FLINT (AP) — R. C. Atkins, manager of the Flint Bureau of the Michigan Employment Security Commission, said today the outlook for employment in Flint during the next 60 days indicates it will likely surpass the all-time high of 149,600 set last May.

He also said automotive model changeovers were largely to blame for a drop in employment to 129,600 from Sept. 15 to Oct. 15.

Oregon Attempts to Shave Costs on Construction

SALEM, Ore. (INS)—School directors in Oregon are trying to shave construction costs on new buildings in an attempt to stretch their already strained budgets.

* * *

The department of education reports that traditional forms of architecture are steadily losing ground in the big building program in the state which has averaged an annual expenditure of $25,000,000.

Ingenuity of architects has in many cases enabled the districts to meet the rising costs of construction.

The department says lighter buildings are used and they are built to last 50 years instead of the traditional 100.

In one community, the district saved hundreds of dollars by pouring concrete walls on the ground, then raising them into place.

Another community used the "sandwich board" method of construction for a new school. This involved the use of asbestos material with a core of concrete.

Still another district drastically cut interior costs by dividing one large room into five classrooms with cabinets acting as partitions.

Ticket-Punch Corneas

STOCKHOLM — A new instrument for transplanting corneas, a device that works much like a ticket punch, has been invented by a Swedish eye surgeon, Dr. Henrik Sjoegren, Joenkoeping. Using his invention, Dr. Sjoegren punches a piece about a sixth of an inch in diameter out of the sightless cornea. He cuts an identical chunk out of a good cornea, inserts it, and stitches it. He says his "punch" greatly simplifies the operation.

Aussie Ram Prices Up

SYDNEY — Polled (hornless) Merino rams brought record high prices at a recent sheep show and sale in Sydney. Top price paid for a ram was the equivalent of $8,200.

An average of $1,800 was paid for each of 13 rams sold by one leading rancher. Over-all prices for the stud rams ranged about 50 per cent above 1954 prices.

Canada Aids Children

OTTAWA—Canada is currently paying some $380,000,000 a year in family allowances to assist in providing equal opportunity for all Canadian children.

During July 1955, allowances totaling $31,674,809 were paid 2,220,578 families on behalf of 5,248,557 children. The commonwealth's basic social security measure has cost about three billion dollars since it was started in July 1945.

Ireland Discontinues Tobacco Production

DUBLIN — Ireland has discontinued commercial production of tobacco — none of rthe leaf was grown in 1955.

Comercial production was stopped because the only two rehandlers in the country, who were also growers, were unable to make rehandling profitable.

They said profitable rehandling requires production of at least 100,000 pounds a year and production during 1953 and 1954 totaled 2,884 and 5,900 pounds, respectively.

Nyet-Man Molotov All Smiles at Geneva; Life-of-the-Party at the Conference Bar

By EDDY GILMORE

GENEVA (AP) — Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov — the grim nyet-man of many international meetings— is behaving at Geneva like a Jolly Volga boatman on a Saturday night off. He smiles. He laughs. He even makes jokes.

* * *

"I've never seen him so relaxed," said an American delegate who has known Molotov for at least nine years, "and while he still says 'nyet' (no), he says it with a smile."

"I've watched him at many conferences," said a French delegate, "and he's never before behaved like this. He acts as if he hasn't a care in the world."

British Foreign Secretary Harold Macmillan is reported to have commented to his ministerial colleagues about Molotov's easy manners around the conference table—and his mellowness in the conference bar. After Macmillan followed French Foreign Minister Antoine Pinay in the conference chairman's chair, Molotov is reported to have quipped:

HE LIKES TO TALK

"Mr. Macmillan is a better chairman — he let's me talk. Mr. Pinay shuts me up."

Asked if anyone at the conference table has questioned Molotov about his reported intention to reveal at Geneva his plans about retiring, the spokesman for the American delegation said:

"No, that question hasn't come up."

* * *

Members of other delegations who have been talking to Molotov say he hasn't given the slightest hint of imminent retirement.

"He's always joking," explained one delegate. "Yesterday, when he saw another delegate drinking orange juice during the 'tea break,' Molotov came up and said—'You'd better order something stronger for I'm going to make a speech.'"

Molotov, one Western delegate pointed out, is the life of the party in the conference bar.

"He started out on fruit juice," he explained, switched to strong tea and his latest move was to march up to the bar and say in very good French:

"Un scotch et seltz, s'il vous plait, mademoiselle."

Casual Water Cruises Via Dreamboat Auto

DETROIT (AP) — Spectators along Lake St. Clair shores strain their necks when Leonard LePage takes his family for a casual cruise in his sleek, red "boatmobile."

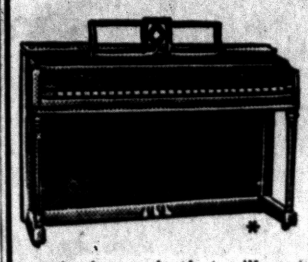

The "boatmobile" is an amphibious, 22½ foot auto that slides through the water with all the majesty of a yacht.

"It's just my 'dreamboat,'" LePage explains to bug-eyed spectators. "We've been sailing it in the Black River basin about two months."

LePage, a tool and die maker, built the 6,000-pound oddity out of the carcass of a '48 convertible.

Grange Is 'Pat' on Policy

By ED MARKAITY
Associated Press Farm Writer

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — The Michigan State Grange has dispersed its 82nd annual convention with a "pat" stand on an agricultural policy statement formulated last year at its Adrian meeting.

Nearly 1,000 members attended the convention which ended last Friday at Ludington.

The policy committee reaffirmed its last year's statement advocating a narrowed range of flexibility in government price supports at 82½ to 90 per cent of parity for basic farm crops, plus adoption of a maximum amount of price support payment to individual farmers or farms at $25,000 a year.

In resolutions adopted at the convention, the Grange asked the state legislature for more appropriations for agricultural research by Michigan State University. They also demanded a "deep study" of causes in the widening spread between farm and retail food prices.

Grangers also supported adoption of the hundredweight as the standard measure for selling grain.

In other resolutions, the Grange proposed establishment of a state speed limit of 60 miles an hour in the daytime and 50 at night. It proposed laws compelling drivers to stop both ways for stopped school buses. It seeks to have railroads mark sides of train cars with lights or reflecting tape at night.

The Grange proposed prohibition of advertising signs or lights on highways and laws requiring roadside stands to provide off-highway parking spaces. It sought no changes in motor vehicle driver licensing laws.

Grangers proposed social security for totally disabled persons of 50 years and older.

They favored exemption of farmers from payment of a two cents a gallon federal tax on gasoline and also opposed "any change in the present form of township government."

Detroit Lauded for Safe Traffic

Muskegon Also Leading Cities in Its Category for Fewest Car Fatals

CHICAGO (AP) — Detroit and Muskegon, led cities of their population group in traffic safety records for the first nine months of 1955, the National Safety Council reported.

* * *

In cities of over one million population Detroit had three traffic deaths for each 10,000 registered vehicles from January to December. Los Angles ranked second with 3.2 deaths and Philadelphia third with 3.4.

Muskegon, Tucson, Ariz., and Vancouver, Wash., led the 25,000-50,000 population group. All reported no traffic deaths in the period.

Nationally, the council reported that 3,530 persons died in traffic accidents in September, the greatest number of auto deaths in September since 1941, when 3,746 died.

A continuing growth of motor vehicle travel was blamed for the high toll by the council. Traffic mileage for the first eight months of 1955 ran 8 per cent ahead of 1954, and deaths were up 5 per cent in comparison with the same period last year.

However, the death rate per 100 million miles of travel dropped from 6.1 in the first eight months of 1954 to 5.9 for the same period this year.

Flood Danger Lessens in East

Area Inundated Twice This Year Is Drenched in Heavy Downpour

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A strong wind and rain storm hit the Northeastern States yesterday. For a time there was fear of floods, but latest reports today indicated this danger had subsided.

The heavy downpour, particularly in parts of New Jersey, New York and Connecticut, raised flood fears in an area made jittery by two flood disasters earlier this season.

Connecticut, hardest hit by previous floods, was put on a preliminary flood alert last night. However, early today state police reported "nothing much materialized" and there seemed to be little danger.

The Weather Bureau forecast improved weather today, with partly cloudy skies and scattered showers.

Two deaths by drowning were blamed on the storm and four other persons died in traffic accidents during the downpour yesterday.

In New York State more than four inches of rain fell in some parts of the Catskill Mountains from late Saturday through yesterday.

A short, violent storm with winds up to 100 m.p.h. tore through Nedrow, a Syracuse, N.Y., suburb, breaking windows and ripping airplanes from their moorings at an airfield.

Police Seek Check Artists Duping Station Attendants

Pontiac detectives who are trying to track down 31 bogus checks passed last weekend today cautioned Pontiac merchants to be more careful in cashing checks for customers.

The checks, apparently all passed by the same two men, have been drawn on two construction companies, the Clayton W. May Roofing and Siding Co. of 8588 Cooley Beach Dr. and the Robert J. Bruce Construction Co. of 1270 Malcolm Rd.

Amounts of payment, all near $50, have been punched into the checks by a "check protector," but the names and addresses of the issuing company in the upper left hand corner have been typed in capital letters.

Detective Olin Hoffman, in charge of the case with Det. Ray Meggitt, said today:

"Most of the checks have been passed at gas stations, and in most cases the stations have cashed $50 checks for strangers on the the strength of $3 purchases.

"Nobody can give definite descriptions of the men. In most cases they walk in, buy two gallons of anti-freeze which they don't even have put into the car, cash the check and walk out.

"One attendant even cashed a check which wasn't endorsed with the name of the payee. In another case the endorser misspelled what was supposed to be his own name.

"Very few attendants who cashed the checks even bothered to take down license numbers of the cars these men were driving."

AMERICAN FOLK LORE—1

American Indians — Hiawatha and the Maize

The American Indians were our first story tellers. They told this story about Hiawatha, a lengendary chieftain, who asked the Great Spirit to provide a food that could be stored through the winter months when his people often were hungry.

There came to his teepee a tall young man in green and gold, with green plumes in his golden hair. He called on Hiawatha, weak with hunger during the winter famine, to wrestle with him.

Hiawatha finally won. Following the stranger's command, he buried him where the sun could warm him and the rain fall upon him.

In spring a small green feather pushed up through the earth. It grew and grew and grew into a tall plant of green and gold, with ears of fruit upon it. It was maize, the Indian corn that can be stored for winter grinding.

Hiawatha had won a precious gift for his people.

Paste this page on cereal box cardboard and color with crayons. Cut out the parts. Fold the lower panel forward, and the small panel back. Cut the slit indicated. Push the corn up through it from the back, and fold back the tab at the bottom. Now the maize will stand up.

Census Report Explodes Accepted Myths of Today

WASHINGTON (INS)—The Census Bureau decided it was time to explode a few myths about such varied subjects as Chicago, divorce, Georgia and food.

* * *

The agency announced publication of its 1955 statistical abstract of the United States—a 1,064-page document that contains facts and figures about 1953 and 1954 — in which it destroyed several popular conceptions.

For instance, Chicago is nicknamed the "Windy City." But it turns out that Wichita, Boston, Minneapolis, New York, St. Louis, Oklahoma City and Cleveland are more blustery. In March, for example, the average wind speed in Wichita was 14.9 miles an hour and in Chicago it was 12.4.

When you think of divorce, you usually think of Nevada. But the western state isn't even in the first ten leading divorce states. Tops on this list are California and Texas.

Consider food. Most people think the U. S., with all of its surplus farm commodities and bulging granaries, eats more and better than any other country.

* * *

But leading the U. S., in terms of calories consumed per day are Australia, Canada, Denmark, Finland, Iceland, Ireland and New Zealand.

Maybe Georgia should be called the "Pimiento State" instead of the "Peach State." It produces more pimientos than any other state. But California grows ten times as many peaches as Georgia.

Subway Train Follows Motorist Into New Tunnel

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The Philadelphia Transportation Co. officially opens sections of its multi-million dollar extensions of the Market St. Subway today but one motorist got an inadvertent and unwanted preview of the underground tunnel last night.

* * *

Miss Fannie Dukes, 34, told police she mistook the new tunnel entrance for an automotive underpass and had a rough and nerve wracking ride undergroundnd.

She entered the tunnel at 40th St., and stopped at 37th St. Miss Dukes said she wanted to keep on going—there was a subway car coming along right behind her—but her car stalled. The subway car stopped in time.

* * *

Both the subway car and Miss Duke's vehicle backed out of the tube—Miss Duke's car on the end of a tow rope.

The Number One Salesman in America Is a Woman

Editor's Note: This is the first in a series of 10 by a famed reporter who has travelled through the fabulous world of fashion, face, figure and fortune. He tells what models have to do to reach the top of their profession and the sort of private lives they lead.

By JAMES L. KILGALLEN
(World Copyright 1955 by International News Service)

The No. 1 salesman in America today is a woman.

She is the professional girl model—in that select group of good-looking and photogenic young women who glamorize feminine wearing apparel in the newspapers and magazines and who, by virtue of their specialized talents, can sell practically any product from cigarettes to motor cars.

* * *

These svelte beauties exert a terrific impact on the country's economy. Fashion, which happens to be their specialty, is the third largest industry in the United States—if you consider every aspect involved: Clothes, underclothing, fashion textiles, shoes, cosmetics, millinery and accessories.

They also "sell" all kinds of other commodities—by means of photographic persuasion. The old-time song has it that "A Pretty Girl Is Like a Melody," and you find big business and advertising executives utilizing the talented models to sell toothpaste, diamond necklaces, perfume, nail polish, beverages, typewriters, sewing machines, home appliances and even heavier goods such as pianos, motor boats and automobiles.

Their "sales appeal" accounts for billions of dollars in business income annually. They are saleswomen de luxe.

I have interviewed many of the most successful of these beautiful girls. I have taxied from studio to studio with them on their appointments, watched them make up in their dressing rooms, obtained their own personal stories of their trials and triumphs and learned, first hand, what makes them click.

N'CE GIRLS

They are almost without exception "nice girls," not unlike "the girl next door" in any given community in America. In fact, most of the models now working in New York—the "style center of the world," Paris notwithstanding—are from other cities and towns all over the country.

I have in mind the top fashion models such as the sleek Jean Patchett, whose first job was in a grocery store in Preston, Md., and who tells me her current rate of pay is "92 cents a minute"; the brunette beauty Nancy Berg, who hails from Kenosha, Wis.; the photogenic Suzy Parker, a dimpled Texas-born glamor girl; the slim, well-groomed Garbo-ish-looking Joan Pederson of Morristown, N. J., and TV-model actress Roxanne, who used to be Dolores Rosedale of Minneapolis.

The city of New York, with its fast pulse beat, draws ambitious young models like a magnet. It is estimated that New York has 3,000 models gainfully employed at salaries ranging from $100 a week to $50,000 a year.

Fashion centers in Los Angeles, Chicago, Dallas, Miami and elsewhere also have their share of modeling beauties.

FABULOUS SALARIES

Fabulous salaries are earned in Manhattan by the cream of the crop—the ten or twenty top fashion models. Their rates run as high as $40 to $60 an hour. Some of them reject a higher rate because that would put them in a higher tax bracket. Most of the top notchers make more money than senators or bank presidents.

They are self-sufficient, fresh-faced, clean-living, ranging in age from 18 to 30. They are typical American girls" who resent the implication in some quarters that models, per se, must lead wild, adventurous lives, frequent shady night clubs and get their names in the Broadway columns.

The private lives of New York's top models can stand favorable comparison with the lives of other career girls—those in business, on the stage or in the movies. The fortunate models who have achieved real success are a close-knit group and quite normal. Many of them are married, have a child or two and in their off hours enjoy cooking and sewing as much as any woman.

TV—A GOLD MINE

Occasionally some of the models in the lower brackets "date up" out-of-town buyers and whoop it up a bit. But they are not going anywhere. The stars of the modeling profession have no truck with such frivolity.

The best models are forward-looking and tremendously ambitious. Many of them have their eyes on TV. They recognize television as a potential gold mine for girls with their looks, talent and ability.

They have in their mind's eye models such as the famed Betty Furness and Jinx Falkenberg, who have made good on TV and radio in a big way. Some of them dream of having a TV program of their own, or of becoming another Arlene Francis or Dorothy Kilgallen, the well-known TV panelist. Model Nancy Berg now has her own TV program.

THRESHOLD TO FAME

A few of the ambitious young models long for Hollywood or the Broadway stage. They realize, for example, that Grace Kelly, the Philadelphia socialite, who won an academy award in the movies, was once a photographic model, and that blonde, blue-eyed Joan Caulfield went from modeling to fame and fortune on the stage and screen.

Modeling is an exciting career full of concealed disappointments and not without its pitfalls—its ups and downs, its tragedies as well as triumphs. Some career girls are touched by the magic wand of success and others sink into oblivion as a result of hard luck, bad publicity or other factors.

Now and then stories appear in the press in which women who fall into the hands of police list themselves as "model" or "former model." In more cases than not, such women aren't and never were legitimate models.

Today's top models are proud of their profession and resent any slurs on modeling. That's why many of them, when asked what they do, say they are "in the advertising business," or hedge a bit by saying "I'm a Powers model," or "A Conover cover girl."

INDEFINABLE SOMETHING

They are smart, ultra-modern and know the score. They have their heads set levelly on their shapely shoulders. They work and study for the goals they have in sight.

America's top models also have an "indefinable something." It isn't just beauty.

A lot of them are definitely not the "pin-up" type. Ninety-five percent of the male population size them up as "too thin." Movie producers don't "flip" over them.

But women love the way these ultra-slim girls look in the newspaper and slick magazine advertisements, wearing next season's styles or sitting nonchalantly at the wheel of a motor car. Many women, forgetting their own poundage, visualize themselves looking as glamorous.

HAVE SALES APPEAL

In real life the high fashion models often are somewhat on the skinny side. ("Get fat and you're dead in front of the camera, which puts on 10 pounds anyway," one of them told me.)

What they do have, however, is "sales appeal" and a certain class that enhances their particular style of beauty.

They are photogenic, they have good facial bone structure, and all the good ones have camera technique. They are adept at striking any variety of poses. One minute they are aloof and langorous, the next animated and vitally interested. At a moment's notice they can flash the toothpaste smile of a college co-ed or look as solemn and regal as a queen.

USE WAIST PINCHERS

Even the skinniest models wear "waist pinchers." Beautiful, ash-blonde "Sunny" Harnett showed me her waist pincher while she was "making up" in her studio dressing room.

This belt-like contraption is designed to make the wasp-waisted models look even thinner. Then, chances are, the photographer retouches the picture and takes a couple of inches off the waist. This is to exaggerate the silhouette in a year when waistlines are important.

Most models diet all the time. I know one who never has more than a hard-boiled egg for lunch, a cup of coffee during the afternoon. Then she has a regular dinner—but no potatoes, desserts or bread.

There's a difference between model-beauty and movie-star beauty.

OPPOSITE TASK

A dress is made for a movie star like Elizabeth Taylor or Maureen O'Hara. It has to be her type, "do something" for her.

A top grade fashion model like Jean Pachett or Dovima has to "do something" for the dress—whether it is a $10.98 Henry Rosenberg or a $1,500 Mainbocher. Everything has to be her type.

Models I have interviewed said the hardest part of their job is not posing for the camera but in organizing themselves so they can keep four or five appointments a day in different parts of town.

* * *

They taxi from one studio or "location" to another carrying a big bag or a hat box which contains their make-up and other accessories. They must always appear relaxed and untired when posing. That's why they can't afford to dissipate or stay out late nights. They are expected to look as fresh at their last appointment as their first.

* * *

But New York's top models don't complain—not when they're being paid off at $40 to $60 an hour.

At Junior League Follies

Old-Time Show Business Coming to Life

Famous show people, songs and dances will be recalled at the Birmingham Junior League Follies, Nov. 9 and 10 at the Birmingham Theater. The show begins at 8:30 p.m. and tickets may be obtained at the Birmingham Theater box office, the League shop on Hamilton street and the Bargain Box.

* * *

The Follies, produced and directed by Torrey McKenny, will include a cast of 150 people and will have 28 separate acts. Remember Marie Dressler, Sam Bernard and Leon Errol in "The Century Girl?" They will be 'on stage' again in "The Ballet Rough" featuring local Birmingham folk. Clever acting of Birminghamites will also make Zelma O'Neill and Jack Haley of "Good News" 1927 day fame live again.

Big name stars such as Beatrice Lillie, Carol Channing, the Gibson Girl, Gilda Grey, John Steele of Ziegfeld Follies fame and Ethel Merman are just a few of the many being impersonated by local talent.

Individual leads will also be from shows like "Fi Fi," "Follies of 1915," "The Merry Widow" of 1906, "Sally" of 1921 and also leads from "Nights of Madness," and "The Flickers of 1912."

TO BENEFIT CHILDREN

Many of the songs are original and the dances are all staged and directed by Mr. McKenny. Costumes were all professionally designed.

* * *

The proceeds from the Follies will benefit the Birmingham Branch of the Oakland Child Guidance Clinic, which the Junior League will establish in Birmingham next month. The clinic will help emotionally disturbed children in the Bloomfield, Birmingham and Franklin area. The clinic is the result of a year long study by the League to determine what project would be most beneficial to the community. It was decided the Child Guidance Clinic was the most needed project the League could undertake for the community.

Girl Hides Behind Heavy Makeup

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

Last year in the eighth grade Helen M. was allowed to wear lipstick to school. This year she's taken to using pancake makeup. It's the cause of much friction with her mother who says that Helen's complexion is in no need of this cosmetic.

* * *

She writes, "But I'm tired of nagging about it. Do I put my foot down? I understand that several other youngsters in her class wear this type of makeup. I just don't understand it as in my day you didn't even start lipstick until your middle teens . . ."

This is Helen's day, not her mother's. But if Mrs. M. will listen to it closely with me for a minute, it can tell us why Helen has to cover her face with skin-colored grease to be comfortable.

Nearly every moment of this day of hers is filled with a clamor that cries out to her, "Helen, the human body in its natural state is a horrid thing! Remember that we've warned you. Its nasty insides can betray you by getting oily, putting pimples on your face, generating perspiration, shaming you with evil odors.

* * *

"If you do not keep this unpredictable and dangerous enemy of a body carefully deodorized shaved, depilated, powdered, greased and watered with pleasant-smelling chemicals, it can make you so socially loathsome to other people that you might as well be dead."

NEW PRUDERY

This is our New Prudery. In its way, it's harder on people of Helen's age than the Victorian kind that merely frowned on the body's sexual functions as horrid. The New Prudery frowns on all the body's functions as horrid.

* * *

Where the Victorian miss had only to see that the sight of her legs didn't offend her prudes, poor Helen has to keep check on all of her lest an enlarged pore, a naked fingernail or some other equally disgusting betrayal offend her prudes.

Under these harrowing circumstances, I don't wonder she seeks the shelter of facial grease any more than I wonder that the Victorian miss used a billowing crinoline to hide her nasty legs from view.

So, please let's not put the foot down on Helen's effort to protect herself against hostile attention. Frankly, I think it would be just as mean to get rigid and tough about this makeup as it would to get mad at a porcupine for extending his quills.

* * *

Let's wait a little. The moment a porcupine is sure that he's going to be able to manage his environment, his quills lie down. If we can just given Helen a little more time to get surer of the changing body life is issuing to her, she will outgrow her need to hide under the pancake makeup

MRS. RICHARD F. LUCAS

Mr. and Mrs. Richard F. Lucas were married Saturday evening at First Baptist Church. She is the former Bonnie Lee Frederick, granddaughter of Mrs. Charles J. Ostrander of South Paddock street. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank G. Lucas of New Port Richey, Fla.

Bonnie Frederick Wears Gown of Lace Over Satin

Bonnie Lee Frederick and Richard F. Lucas exchanged nuptial vows Saturday evening in a candlelight ceremony in the First Baptist Church. The Rev. H. H. Savage performed the wedding service before an altar banked with white chrysanthemums and white snapdragons.

* * *

The bride is the granddaughter of Mrs. Charles J. Ostrander of South Paddock street. Mr. and Mrs. Frank G. Lucas of New Port Richey, Fla., are the parents of the bridegroom.

A gown of lace over satin was chosen by the bride. The scoop neckline was accented by seed pearls. The gown featured a chapel-length train. A crown headpiece trimmed with seed pearls and sequins secured her fingertip veil of illusion.

Her only jewelry was a single strand of pearls, and her bridal bouquet was composed of white orchids and shattered carnations.

* * *

Mrs. Ralph E. Stanton, sister of the bride, wore an emerald green gown of crystallette. The ballerina-length dress was styled on princess lines with boat neckline and pleated bodice. She wore a jacket with a Queen Anne collar and three-quarter-length sleeves.

OTHER ATTENDANTS

The other bridal attendants, Mrs. Richard Guy and Esther Thomas, wore gowns of moss green and Nile green, respectively. Their hats matched their gowns.

* * *

Daniel Richard Veazey Jr. served as best man assisted by Wallace E. Baumann, DeVere W. Games, Ronald H. Terry of Mount Clemens and Ralph E. Stanton who seated the guests. Howard M. Skinner Jr. of Upland, Ind., sang the bridal recital.

For the reception in the church parlors, Mrs. Ostrander wore a light blue suit with black accessories. Mrs. Lucas wore a pansy-colored two-piece dress with black accessories. Their corsages were of orchids.

The new Mrs. Lucas changed to a moss green suit with black accessories for their honeymoon trip to the Smoky Mountains and the Eastern states. She also wore the orchid corsage from her bridal bouquet.

On their return the couple will reside on South Edith street.

Gamma Phi Beta to Commemorate 81st Anniversary

Mrs. Cowden Fortenbaugh of Bloomfield Village will be hostess to Gamma Phi Beta Alumnae of North Woodward Nov. 8.

* * *

The occasion will be the 81st anniversary of Gamma Phi Beta and a Founders' Day ceremony will be held following the dinner. A white elephant sale will also be part of the evening's activities.

The sorority was founded in 1874 at Syracuse University, Syracuse, N. Y., and was one of seven founders of the National Panhellenic Conference in 1902. Gamma Phi Beta became an international sorority in 1919 and has active chapters in Hawaii, Canada and the United States.

Two camps for the underprivileged children are maintained by the group and local campships are also awarded each year. The sorority is also giving aid to retarded children.

New members of the sorority in the area have been asked to contact Mrs. James McGuire for reservations.

Hoedowners Sponsor Round-Up

A true western atmosphere surrounded the members and guests of Hoedowners Square Dance Club when they held their round-up party Saturday evening at Owen School. A special feature of the evening was the singing calls led by Robert Crites and Roy Burch.

Others calling the quadrilles were Howard Hatfield, Harvey Gilchrist, Dewitt Hart, Waldo Ashley, Arthur Thomas and Earl Groenburg.

Cecil Elholtz, master of ceremonies, introduced Mr. and Mrs. Robert Rhyndress, Patricia Rhyndress, Mr. and Mrs. Emery Butler and Mr. and Mrs. Earl Groenburg, guests of the evening. Mr. and Mrs. Henry Kuechle and Mr. and Mrs. George Helzer were new members of the group introduced.

Decorations were arranged by Mr. and Mrs. Frank Smith.

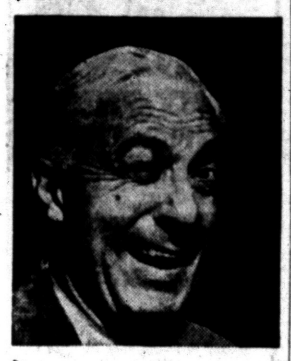

WCTU to Celebrate

The seventh district Diamond Jubilee convention of the WCTU will be held at the Romeo Baptist Church Nov. 3 and 4. The opening session will begin at 10 a. m. Thursday afternoon. Speaker of the evening will be Mrs. Glenn Hays of Evanston, Ill., national president.

Undergoes Surgery

Mrs. James S. Johnson of Prospect street is a patient at Pontiac General Hospital following her recent surgery there.

"Smart gal, my Susie!"

▶ A lot of wives complain about housework, but not my Susie. She uses her head instead of her muscles. For example, some women spend a whole day just scrubbing and waxing wood floors. My Susie cleans and waxes them in one easy operation with Bruce Cleaning Wax. It takes only half the time and a lot less work. Yet our beautiful wood floors are the envy of her friends. My hat's off to Susie and her Bruce Cleaning Wax for making a tough job so easy. And I can't help but feel proud of both of them.

▶ P.S. For lighter waxing on linoleum and wood, Susie uses Bruce Floor Cleaner.

Why Hesitate? That Boy Sounds Promising

By ELIZABETH WOODWARD

"Dear Miss Woodward: I've liked Pat for three years, but I don't really know how he feels about me. His best friend tells me Pat never really liked me much, while my girl friends tell me he does like me but doesn't want a girl friend.

"There's another boy who likes me, so my friends tell me. Should I keep on liking Pat (I can't get him off my mind) or forget him and so with this other boy, or forget them both and look for somebody else?"

Answer: You can't help feeling the way you do about Pat—it's been going on that way for some time now. But since he doesn't want to be bothered with a girl friend (even you) you'd better not let him spoil all the fun for you.

There's another boy who likes you, so you hear. So why hesitate? Get acquainted with him. Find out what fun you can have knowing him. If it doesn't add up to much, someone new will come along.

"Dear Miss Woodward: Recently I broke up with Bill because I couldn't decide whether I liked him or Michael better. After I stopped seeing him around I realized that I was missing him a lot.

"Last night Bill called me and told me he still liked me and was sorry about the whole thing. I told him I was sorry, too, so we made up.

"But now I'm right back where I started from, only more so. Michael is just wonderful and is about to ask me to go steady, and I've been told that Bill is going to ask me to go steady with him, too.

"Believe me, I don't want to hurt either boy, but I'll lose them both if I keep this up. Can you help?"

Answer: You've a lot of deciding to do, so don't shilly-shally. Get right down to it. First, make a list on Bill. What do you like about him? What don't you like? How would you feel about going with him only?

Do the same for Michael. List the pros on his personality, habits, background, interests and point of view about you! Then list the faults you see, if any.

Next, list the arguments for and against going steady. How does it come out? And how does your score match up with the scores on your two boy friends?

* * *

Some subconscious something made you decide once against Bill. Can you figure that out? But now you're willing to start it up again. Why?

My solution would be to decide against going steady. To fend off the invitations from both boys. To make it clear that you aren't ready for it yet.

And thereby keep both boys for your friends until you can make up your mind which boy really fills the bill.

Help to Protect Your Cookbook

Cook books can be indispensable in the kitchen, but unless they can be protected from vanilla, chocolate, milk and other ingredients, they don't remain readable very long.

* * *

The solution to this problem is a sturdy recipe book holder. The home craftsman can put one together in a half-hour or less.

It will hold the book open to the desired page and keep it in easy reading position.

* * *

For the base, use 1-inch lumber. For the back and narrow lip at the front, use hardboard of the leather-wood type. This will make the rack decorative as well as serviceable.

Round the corners of the two panels and bevel the edges lightly with a file, plane or sandblock.

* * *

The entire rack can be primed and painted to match your kitchen color scheme, or stained by applying a penetrating sealer or liquid wax.

The dramatic influence of the Far East in fashion has left its mark on shoe fashion. Rich and glowing leathers reflect the splendors of the East and make for subtle elegance on the unadorned pump for this winter.

Dior's new line bulk muffling the shoulders, Fath's ballooning sleeves, will build out upper figure and minimize hips.

Shoulders are wider. Big wrapped stoles, shoulder-fitting capes, deep cape-collars. For evening the new wider shoulder is managed by ballooning sleeves. This eye-catching shoulder movement makes the hips appear slimmer.

Suede Jacket Trick

Suede jackets need the simplest of care to keep the garment "store-new" in appearance even after considerable wear.

Try this: after each wearing, brush the suede in an up and down motion with a smooth finished sponge: before each wearing sponge-brush lightly in a downward motion so that all the suede fibers lay flat.

Personality Important in Home Job

By ANNE HEYWOOD

Personal characteristics are more important, really, than aptitudes and skills. This is particularly true of the woman who wants to make money at home from a product, say, for example, a food product.

* * *

It is important, of course, for her to be a good cook and to make the product delicious and attractive. As a rule, she will meet these qualifications.

But it is in personal characteristics that she sometimes falls down.

Before you begin such a project, better check yourself and see if you have what it takes personally. If not, get to work on yourself before you launch Aunt Matilda's pickle relish.

* * *

Are you naturally orderly and well organized? Can you allocate your time and stay free from interruptions? Can you say No to friends and neighbors who would like to drop in and chat?

Do you keep promises rigidly? If you promise to have an order ready at 2 in the afternoon on Wednesday, can you absolutely guarantee to have it ready?

Are you meticulously neat and clean? Is your kitchen always in apple pie order, so that if customers drop by to pick up an order they will like what they see?

* * *

Are you patient and good-tempered? When things go wrong, can you pick up the pieces cheerfully, or does it throw you into a mood?

When customers make outrageous demands—as people sometimes will—can you, in a firm but friendly way, put them in their place? Or do you go off on a "the nerve of some people" tangent?

Do you keep records? Can you figure costs accurately and stick to them? Can you handle simple bookkeeping and keep a card file up to date and accurate?

Unless you can pass on all of these five counts, don't start a home business.

Delay it for a while and work on your own habits and character.

Otherwise, even if your product will melt in the mouth, your project will be a dismal failure!

Simmering Necessary for Pea Soup

Mrs. Elliott Says Ham Bone a Must in Her Version

By JANET ODELL

It's good weather for a hearty dish like pea soup. In some families it's almost a tradition to make pea soup with the remains of the ham. Mrs. Millard Elliott thinks that a ham bone or at least some ham bits are all-important in making her recipe.

Mrs. Elliott is a dedicated homemaker, one who has few interests outside her home. She's fond of antiques; likes to acquire them; likes to refinish antique furniture; likes to think up new uses for the old things she has.

PEA SOUP

By Mrs. Millard Elliott

½ cup dried split peas
1 medium onion, diced
1 tablespoon flour
2 tablespoons melted butter
Salt and pepper
¼ cup cream
Ham bone, or bits of ham

Soak dried peas in 2 quarts of water overnight. Add onion and ham and simmer until peas are tender, about 3 hours. Press through a sieve. Bring to boiling point. Blend flour with melted butter. Add the soup and stir until well mixed. Add salt and pepper to taste. Add cream and heat very hot. Serves 6-8. This is esentially good served with slices of melba toast.

Baptist Missionary Group Hears Talk

Mrs. William Dunkeld, president, conducted the recent October meeting of the Missionary Group of First Baptist Church.

The prayer was given by Mrs. Ethel Kennedy. Marcelyn Reed spoke of her missionary work in Africa and Mrs. Kyle Willson sang a solo and was accompanied by Mrs. H. L. Stout at the piano. Orville Dunkeld conducted group singing.

Mr. and Mrs. Alph Gould were guest speakers at the meeting and a farewell reception was given for them. They are leaving for South America to help organize a service for displaced Chinese.

Group Entertained by Mrs. Haskins

Mrs. Robert Haskins of Orchard Lake was hostess to the Mary Lyons Group of the First Congregational Church.

Ten members attended the recent meeting. Mrs. Malcolm Burton gave devotions. Plans were discussed for a money-making project Nov. 11. The group will also continue to collect clothing for the Sioux Indians in South Dakota.

Ina Astrida Sprogis Wed in Congregational Church

Ina Astrida Sprogis became the bride of Harold Gene Andrews in a candlelight ceremony Saturday evening in the First Congregational Church.

* * *

The service was performed by the Rev. Malcolm K. Burton in the presence of 200 guests.

The bride, a resident of Royal Oak, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Sprogis of Rochester. Mr. and Mrs. Charles Andrews of North Joslyn avenue are the parents of the bridegroom.

A gown of Chantilly lace over satin trimmed with seed pearls was chosen by the bride. The hem of her gown was fashioned with scallops which were repeated in the long sleeves ending in points at the wrists. The illusion veil fell from a crescent-shaped cap of Chantilly lace and seed pearls.

* * *

She carried a bouquet of stephanotis centered with a white orchid.

ATTEND BRIDE

Her bridal attendants, Mrs. Anthony Delehant Jr. of Wayne, Roselyn Francis of St. Clair Shores, Loretta Engler of Kalamazoo and Barbara Baldwin of Rochester, wore gowns of burnt orange in crystallette. Their scooped necklines were accented by shawl-type collars of a deeper shade of burnt orange. They carried bouquets of bronze and yellow pompons.

* * *

Catherine Delahant wore a frock of mint green crystallette with a matching headpiece and carried a basket of yellow and bronze pompons for her duties as flower girl.

Richard Secrest of Berkley was best man. Ushers were Richard Goodrow of Dearborn, William Anderson of Lake Orion, Gunars Sprogis of Cleveland, the bride's brother, and Anthony Delahant of Wayne. Gregory Delehant served as ring-bearer.

Mrs. Allen Churchill of Livonia sang the bridal recital accompanied by Charles Wilson.

* * *

For the reception held in the church parlors, Mrs. Sprogis wore a waltz-length dress of navy blue with pink accessories. Mrs. Andrews wore a beige dress of silk with brown accessories. Both mothers wore corsages of orchids.

* * *

For their honeymoon trip through the Smoky Mountains, the new Mrs. Andrews changed to a seafoam green English wool dress with brown accessories and the orchid from her bridal bouquet. On their return the newlyweds will reside in Royal Oak.

MRS. HAROLD GENE ANDREWS

Following the service, a banquet was served to 90 members, husbands, and guests by the Fellowship Guild of the Church.

Mrs. Michael Gallo, president, welcomed the group and introduced Mrs. Earl Atkinson, mistress of ceremonies.

Life Insurance Sells

NEW YORK—The face value of all life insurance in force in the United States now totals nearly 340 billion dollars compared with 7½ billion in 1900. Four-fifths of all American families own life-insurance protection.

Bob Turley fanned 185 batters in the 1954 season.

The United States Bureau of Mines reports that the 1954 U.S. consumption of 33,026 long tons of tin in the production of tin plate was the largest since 1950.

Dark Antarctic to Be Invaded

Adm. Byrd to Precede Explorer Group Intent on New Discoveries

WASHINGTON—Antarctica, earth's coldest, emptiest, most unliveable continent, will spring to life in coming months as the greatest invasion in its history ends its isolation, perhaps forever.

* * *

Explorers and scientists from all over the world, are preparing assaults on Antarcitic secrets during the forthcoming International Geophysical Year in 1957-58, the National Geogprahical Society reports.

United States Navy Task Force 43 will leave in November on "Operation Deepfreeze," under Rear Admiral Richard E. Byrd. The famed polar explorer recently added meaning to the project's name by proposing that Antarctica be used as a giant freeze locker for storing surplus food.

Operation Deepfreeze will establish four bases, one at the South Pole, for use by American scientists in the world-wide study of meteorology, glaciology, cosmic rays, and other earth sciences.

With three cargo ships, three icebreakers, one oiler, two fuel barges, 19 aircraft, and about 30 tons of equipment per man the preliminary naval task force will take more than 1,800 men to Antarctica.

* * *

Some of them will stay through the long dark winter, February to October, 1956, prior to arrival of IGY scientists in January, 1957. Early in 1959—autumn in Antartica—the last scientists and military personnel wil be picked up and brought home.

Thus during the next four years perhaps permanently, Admiral Byrd hopes—the United States will have manned bases in the Antarctic. Ships will come and go. Supply planes will cross 15,000-foot mountain ranges to the polar plateau.

Late in December, possibly on Christmas Day, Deepfreeze's planes wil make an unprecedented 2,250-mile flight nonstop from New Zealand to Antarctica. Below them spaced 250 miles apart, task force ships will act as radio beacons.

The Antarctic continent covers nearly 6,000,000 square miles—almost as much as the United States and Europe together. A large part is less well known than the sunlit side of the moon, even though Admiral Byrd, on four previous expeditions, mapped more than 1,000 square miles.

The top southpaw strikeout artist in major league history was Rube Waddell who fanned a total of 2,375 batters.

When someone's counting on you...

you can count on life insurance

Have you ever noticed how some older persons seem to have a way of smiling that's all their own? Sometimes it's almost a twinkle . . . sometimes simply an expression that says they're at peace with the world.

Your own later years can be happier because you own life insurance. Hundreds of thousands of older persons are now enjoying their retirement because of their life insurance and annuities. Last year, annuities alone provided more than $400 million to the American people. And in fact, more than half of all life insurance benefits now go to the policyholders themselves.

This is one of the reasons why you can count on life insurance . . . and why it is America's most widely used form of thrift.

Yours free!

You may be able to arrange your present life insurance to provide a regular income when you retire. The best person to show you how this can be done is your own life insurance agent.

You'll also find helpful suggestions on retirement, family protection and other uses of life insurance in the new booklet. Your Life Insurance—and How to Use It. Your free copy will be mailed promptly; simply send your name and address on a postcard to Dept. B.

'American Tragedy' Witness Dies at 89

PORT LEYDEN, N.Y. (AP) — James A. McAllister, 89, a key witness in the "American Tragedy" murder trial of Chester Gillette in 1906, died yesterday in a nursing home in this Adirondack village.

* * *

McAllister, driver of a horse-drawn stage between the railroad station at Big Moose and Big Moose Lake, testified at the trial in Herkimer that he had waited long past departure time for Gillette and Miss Grace Brown to board the stage on the day she was killed. He said he left without them. Her body was found later in the lake.

* * *

Gillette was convicted and executed. The case generally is believed to have inspired Theodore Dreiser's novel, "An American Tragedy."

Daughter of Producer Dore Schary Will Marry

LOS ANGELES (AP)— Film producer Dore Schary's daughter, Jill, 19, and Navy Lt. Jon Zimmer, 25, plan to marry, probably Jan. 8.

They obtained a marriage license Saturday. The wedding must await Zimmer's return from a cruise aboard a seaplane tender. They met on a blind date four months ago.

Named to Band Post

Frederick N. Weist, instrumental music instructor in Washington Junior High School, was elected president of the University of Michigan Alumni Band association Saturday in Ann Arbor.

New York Enthusiast Imitates Pied Piper

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK (INS)—What every one needs in his soul is just a touch, only a whisper, just a soupcon of the sincerity of Hans Hacker.

* * *

Mr. Hacker is surely the most enthusiastic in the world.

He arrived in this country from Vienna 17 years ago. Less than 5 feet tall, with not the remotest idea of how to speak English, his only way of communication was a grin and the tipping of the hat on his glossy bald head.

In blase New York City, this was a sight to be compared with a daisy in the desert.

* * *

For two years he poked noiselessly around the tourist spots, including the Empire State Building, Radio City and the Staten Island ferry, and in so doing he picked up a few words of English.

When he ran out of tourist spots, he turned bold. One day he strode into the manager's office of a ritzy Manhattan hotel, took off his hat, grinned, and put a few words together as spiritedly as possible.

* * *

"What does he want?" whispered the manager to his assistant, blushing.

"I'm not sure," said the assistant, "but I think he wants you to show him through the hotel."

FREE LUNCH TOO

So aghast was the manager at the wonder—rather than the gall—of Hans Hacker, that he gave him a personally conducted tour, with a free lunch in the kitchen.

And Hacker has been touring out-of-the-way places ever since. Behind him now, buoyed up by his constant curiosity about the city and its crannies, are more than 400 other persons. He calls them, and they agree to it, the "New York Enthusiasts."

"We're the average people," says the little man, still bald, still grinning, "and these things mean a lot to us. We see everything—go on about 40 trips a month—to know what's going on in New York City. Because you don't need to travel around the world, you know, when the whole world is here."

Gotham's Pied Piper, who leads his followers by subway and bus routes and signals the strays with a small toy horn, insists that he has lived all over Europe; that he's been bored in Vienna and bored in London and bored, even, in Paris. "But never in New York. Here you can see everything from everywhere."

* * *

In the decade of his career as head of "N. Y. Enthusiasts," Hacker has taken field trips to every type territory from auto factories to spiritualists' seances to artists' studios and ballet rehearsal halls. Their latest visit was to the Schenley Distilleries.

SEE EVERYTHING

"I waited four years for permission to go there. I would like to point out we are not a group of whisky drinkers, but we like to see the what, when and how of everything."

He waited eight years for the okay to take his eager 400 on a backstage tour of the Metropolitan Opera House, and it was nine years before Hacker got permission to take his group to police headquarters.

"And we needed six years to get permission to see Horn & Hardart's (Automat) commissary, where they make 100 pies a minute. Isn't that terrific?"

Not quite so terrific, we felt, as Hans Hacker, enthusiast.

"Oh madame, please," blushed Hacker, "Thank you," he added, lifting his hat, shining his head and his grin for an instant, and then rushing out to visit the School of Speech Disorders.

Elderly Girl Fudges, She's Actually 103

DOWNEY, Calif. (AP)—It was disclosed at Miss Judie McKellar's birthday party that she isn't really the age she always claimed to be.

More than 250 friends and relatives gathered yesterday at the home in which Miss McKellar has lived for 85 years. It was supposed to be a party for her 100th birthday. But a nephew, Wallace McKellar, decided the time had come to disclose her closely guarded secret.

He told her friends that somewhere along the line she had fudged a little and actually she is now 103.

Is Something Brewing Between Eva and Ty?

By EARL WILSON

GUYS & GALS & GAGS & GOSSIP. . .

WISH I'D SAID THAT: "Women who claim they haven't a thing to wear usually need their husband's closet to keep it in" —Town Journal.

★ ★ ★ ★

NEW YORK—That was a high old time we had at the Metropolitan Club—and Eva Gabor may still be mad at me for innocently squatting in a seat beside her she was saving for Tyrone Power.

★ ★ ★ ★

At this club, women mustn't walk down the stairway at night—gotta take the elevator . . .

I soon sensed—when Mrs. Gilda Dahlberg, giving a birthday party for Radie Harris, led me to a vacant seat beside Miss Gabor—that all wasn't well. How did I know that Tyrone had left just a moment before, and was to return quickly? When he came back and settled three seats away from Eva—beside another pretty girl—Eva wasn't happy. Surprisingly, I didn't seem to be the same as Tyrone Power to her. I wonder why.

EVA

"Vy don't ve all change seats?" Eva suggested timidly.

"Oh, I have to look around, let Ty take my seat," I said.

Eva was terribly sorry to see me go . . . but, well, nobody but Ty got that seat the rest of the evening!

Later Noel Coward, Arlene Dahl, Joanne Dru, Elaine Stritch, Nancy Andrews, Julie Wilson, Vinton Freedley, Raymond Massey and everybody sang "Happy Birthday" to Radie.

★ ★ ★ ★

One voice led all the rest.

As Tyrone Power put it, "Just my luck, when they sing 'Happy Birthday,' I have to be at the same table with Lawrence Tibbett!'"

Tibbett's Happy Birthday Song was never better, by the way.

★ ★ ★ ★

Larry Puck and Marion Marlowe celebrated his firing by Arthur Godfrey by dining at the Little Club. It seems when Marion was fired by Godfrey they dined there, when they got engaged they dined there, when they met they dined there. We suppose when and if Larry goes to work for Ed Sullivan, they'll also dine there. They were the happiest two fired people seen around in a long time.

The Duchess of Windsor and Charles F. Cushing saw "Damn Yankees." One spectator said, "She was so close to the stage, she was practically playing first base."

All these TV rating systems are a little silly. My barber, Frank Garzaniti, judges programs according to how he likes the stars' haircuts, since haircutting's his busfness. Well, Gleason and Como may not like this, but on Frank's Haircut Rating System, first place is firmly held by Garry (Crew Cut) Moore.

★ ★ ★ ★

Vic Perry brought this from England: "A celebrity is a nonentity who has been on television twice."

LAUREN

Jackie Gleason, after filming three more shows, will be enough ahead to give his "Honeymooners" cast 9 weeks' vacation. He's chosen Joe Bigelow of Hollywood as "story editor" . . . Dore Schary'd like to get Ray Walston, the devil in "Damn Yankees," into pictures.

Noel Coward got Lauren Bacall for "Blithe Spirit," his next TVer, in January. (Coward, 56 in December, first came here in '21, lived in Wash'n Sq., borrowed money from Lynn Fontanne, paid it back by writing a short story and she thanked him for paying it back, "the last time she ever thanked me for anything," he says.)

Betty and Jane Kean expect to go into the Copa with Howard Keel due to their joint success in Las Vegas . . . Atty. Noah Braunstein, counsel for glamour girls, again a grandfather, is taking off for LA to celebrate with his dtr., Mrs. Gianna Di Luzio, wife of a Howard Hughes radar specialist.

Bobo Rockefeller was at El Morocco with Ted Peckham, who's writing a book called "Ladies Prefer Bums" . . . Billy Eckstine leaving MGM Records? . . . The bobbysox gang thought Marion Brando'd be at the sneak preview of "Guys & Dolls." Bernard Baruch, no great movie-goer, plans to attend the premiere Nov. 4.

EARL'S PEARLS . . .

"Will power is seeing a friend with a black eye and not asking him how he got it."

TODAY'S BEST LAUGH: "Many people call a doctor when all they want is an audience"—Charley Jones' Laugh Book.

★ ★ ★ ★

"There are two kinds of colleges in America—those that wish they'd fired the coach last fall and those that wish they hadn't" . . . that's Earl, brother.

Porky's Big Tail Ruins Intruders

Spiny Porcupine Swats Victims With Its Quills, Says National Society

WASHINGTON — When a porcupine rustles its bustle, its adversary had better retreat. The rodent doesn't actually shoot off any of its spiny armament, but it does swat with its tail, leaving a mass of quills stuck in its victim like so many pins in a cushion.

Though damage from quills hurts and even kills — a dog or coyote, muzzled by a mouthful of quills, may starve to death — it represents by far the least of the mounting destruction this chunky little mammal works, the National Geographic Society says.

In Harney National Forest in the Black Hills of South Dakota, porcupines cause more damage to trees than do fires. In Mesa Verde National Park, Colorado, 85 per cent of pines 4 inches or more in diameter show scars from the animals' teeth. In Cabot, Vt., a five-acre demonstration farm forest was nearly wiped out by the vandals.

In getting at inner bark, the main source of their winter food, porcupines often kill trees by gridling them completely. One porcupine can kill or maim 100 trees in a winter.

Especially fond of salt, these nonmeat - eaters also chew ax handles, golf clubs, canoe paddles and similar items that absorb human perspiration.

A solitary tree-dweller, a porcupine may spend a week alone on the end of a limb. It usually sleeps sitting up but often suns itself full-length. An agile climber, it braces itself with its tail when gnawing, a dental exercise that trims its chisellike incisors lest they grow into the opposing jaw

Youth's Body Found After Year's Search

POWERS LAKE, N. D. (AP)—The body of a 4-year-old farm boy, missing more than a year, was found yesterday in a slough where an estimated 3,000 men once linked arms to comb the area shoulder-to-shoulder.

* * *

Found in 10 inches of water was LaVerne Enget, the object of a sustained search since he wandered off his parents' farm Oct. 17, 1954. Some 50 men participated in yesterday's hunt.

Sheriff Martin S. Ryan said the slough where young Enget was found was one "combed many times by searchers walking shoulder-to-shoulder" last year. He said it was "inconceivable" that the body was not found in the mammoth search undertaken by an estimated 3,000 men.

* * *

Cause of the boy's death was not known, Ryan said, but the possibility of foul play "has not been ruled out." The body was taken to Minot for examination by a pathologist.

No team since Wisconsin in 1912-13-14 has won three consecutive Big Ten basketball championships.

Sudden California Fog Blamed for Two Deaths

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — Three beached boats and two deaths were the known toll today of a sudden Sunday fog and treacherous breakers off Mission Beach.

The fog, suddenly blotting out brilliant sunshine, rolled onto the coast about 10 a.m. yesterday. By noon visibility was limited to a few feet.

Rufos Nix, 41, electrician, and his wife, Marie, 40, were drowned when their new 12-foot fiber glass outboard motor boat was swamped in the heavy surf.

Egyptian Jets Zoom Over Israeli Lines

JERUSALEM (AP) — Egyptian planes yesterday made four sorties over Israel territory, an Israel military spokesman announced today.

* * *

He said the planes were seen over the demilitarized El Auja-Nitzana area and over a settlement three miles east of the southern section of the Gaza Strip.

The planes flew at different times and one was identified as a Vampire jet, the spokesman said.

An Israeli Military spokesman charged that Egyptian troops twice fired mortars and automatic weapons at an Israeli patrol yesterday in the Irim-Beeri sector.

An official Egyptian source in Cairo said he had no information on any incident.

Refinery Explosion Shakes Entire Area

WARREN, Pa. (AP) — Fire—started by an explosion and fed by oil—swept a $500,000 path of destruction through the Seneca division of the United Refining Co. yesterday.

The explosion — a blast that rocked the neighborhood and shattered windows—occurred in either a chilling tank or the pump house. The cause has not been determined. No one was hurt.

Black smoke and orange flames leaped into the air nearly 2½ hours.

Vice President Harry Logan Jr. made the damage estimate.

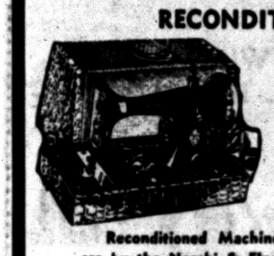

The 1955 Canadian barley crop is placed at 269,000,000 bushels, 53 per cent above the 1954 yield, 46 per cent above the 10-year average, and the second largest on record. In 1954, about the same amount they spent for beauty preparations, haircuts and other items of personal care.

Wants to Test GOP Candidates

Knowland Thinks if Ike Won't Run, Party Needs Time to Get Top Men

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen Knowland (R-Calif) said today that if President Eisenhower isn't going to run again "the Republican party and the country are entitled to have sufficient time to make an appraisal of other possible candidates."

* * *

Knowland, who has been mentioned as a potential aspirant for the GOP nomination, said in an interview he thinks anybody who wants to be the party standard-bearer ought to be willing to test his strength in state primaries and conventions.

To allow time for campaigning before such contests, he made it clear—although he didn't say so directly — he thinks Eisenhower ought to announce his intentions not later than Jan. 1.

Knowland declined to say whether he will be a candidate if Eisenhower steps aside. But he indicated strongly that if he does decide to run, he may challenge Gov. Goodwin J. Knight for control of California's 70-vote delegation to next year's GOP convention.

* * *

Knowland said he isn't going to tell his future plans until Eisenhower recovers sufficiently from his heart attack to be in a position to assess the political situation.

Sen. Kefauver (D-Tenn) told a Democratic rally in Muskegon, Mich., Saturday night that some Republicans in what he described as the party's "right wing" are "scheming to get President Eisenhower out of office before his term expires."

Kefauver will be one of the speakers at a Democratic meeting in Chicago Nov. 17-19 when 1956 convention plans will be discussed. Also on the program are Adlai E. Stevenson, the 1952 presidential nominee, former President Harry S. Truman and Gov. Averell Harriman of New York.

* * *

Sen. Douglas (D-Ill), who has announced support of Stevenson for the 1956 nomination, said he thinks Stevenson ought to make a formal announcement of his plans before the Chicago rally.

3 Tots, Collie Pup Losing Their Tonsils

RICHMOND, Va. (AP)—The three children of Earl Williams, plus the family dog, will have their tonsils out today.

Mama Williams stayed at the Richmond Eye Hospital to comfort Earl Jr., 11; David, 8, and Elizabeth, 4.

* * *

Papa Williams, a bread salesman, went over to the animal hospital nearby to be with 9-month-old Danny, a collie pup.

How come a dog needed his tonsils out?

* * *

"Well, he had a sore throat and was losing his appetite just like the kids," said Williams. "Seems like the thing to do."

Sleeping Motorist Robbed of $250 in Parked Auto

LOUISVILLE, Ky (AP) — Brandt Dierman had a costly nap in his parked car early Sunday.

He reported to police that when he fell asleep he was comforted by an unidentified companion and a $250 bankroll.

When he awoke he was chilled by the absence of both.

60 Miles a Day of Highway Lines Painted by Device

PROVIDENCE, R. I.—The Rhode Island Highway Department is using a $5,800 paint-spraying machine to lay white lines on highways, covering about 60 miles a day at 6 to 8 miles an hour and spreading 100 gallons of paint an hour.

Previously the job of laying the white lines on the state's 875 miles of highways was done by walking crews pushing wagons, and they were hard pressed to finish in a year. Now, with the machine, officials expect to line all the highways and even re-do the most-used ones every nine months.

A small wheel placed nearly 20 feet in front of the moving machine on the end of a beam serves as a sight for the driver. Beside him rides a man who operates an intercommunications set and directs two painters on the machine's paint-gun trailer.

Give Blood Account

A September report of blood collections by the Oakland County Red Cross chapter showed 703 pints collected, and 614 pints released. Fifty per cent of the collection was used by patients in Oakland County. The remainder went to Oakland County patients in out-county or out-state hospitals.

Political Unrest Fails

SRINAGAR, Kashmir (AP)—Kashmir, despite political unrest and the unsettled Indian-Pakistan dispute for its control, is still India's top tourist attraction. A record 40,000 tourists visited Kashmir valley last season. There were only 1,480 foreigners, the rest Indians.

It has been the queen of summer resorts in India for 400 years. It was first discovered by the Moghul emperors. The British preferred nearby, easily-accessible Simla, 200 miles north of Delhi, for their summer capital; but went to Sringagar for a real holiday.

Disaster Help Hearing Begins

Senate Banking Group Starts Probe to Provide Insurance for Victims

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Banking Committee starts public hearings today in a search for ways to provide better protection for citizens against floods, hurricanes, atomic attacks and other disasters.

Sen. Lehman (D-Lib-NY), acting as chairman, said the committee would consider proposals for federal insurance against natural and man-made disasters. It plans also to inquire into action taken by the federal government to help local authorities "in meeting the impact of recent floods in the northeast."

From here the committee will go to New York City for a hearing on Thursday. Later it will conduct hearings in Boston, Providence, R. I., and Hartford, Conn.

President Eisenhower said during the August floods in New England that the government would look into the possibility of both flood prevention and flood insurance. But he did not go into detail at the time.

When new floods damaged the same areas in mid-October, he said again the administration is determined "to assist the states and people of the northeast in developing adequate protections against future flood and hurricane losses."

The Commerce Department yesterday published a final summary of the August disaster. It put the damage total at $457,674,044. The figure included damage to commercial, industrial and residential property, roads and highways, public utilities, farms, crops and lands. It said the floods killed 179 persons, seriously injured 6,992 and destroyed 813 homes.

Mexicans Mark Holidays With Grisly Customs

MEXICO CITY (AP)— Mexico doesn't observe Halloween, but it has a reasonably grisly facsimile.

* * *

Tomorrow is All Saints Day. Wednesday is the day of the dead when bakeries become gruesome with sweets in the form of skeletons and skulls. There will be bizarre costume balls, and street vendors will sell "calaveras," free verse compositions satirizing politicians and others.

* * *

The custom is said to date back to Aztec empire times—almost a thousand years ago. Indian peasants saved milk and honey to provide departed spirits with the best of their products. After the dead had "eaten" the peasants consumed what was left amid carnival festivities.

Wolverines Come From Behind Three Times to Down Fighting Iowa

ANN ARBOR (AP) — Michigan's wonderous Wolverines have reached the point where two victories in their final three games will put them into the Rose Bowl Jan. 2.

This was a certainty today following the Wolverines' great 33-21 comeback victory over disillusioned Iowa Saturday.

The victory was the sixth straight for Michigan. It gave the Wolverines a 4-0 record in the Big Ten.

The big obstacle in Michigan's path to Pasadena is Michigan State, a rank outsider at the start of the season, but now one of the most potent teams in the nation.

IOWA		U-M

50	Passing yardage	289
8	Passes attempted	21
3	Passes completed	11

32	Punting average	40
0	Fumbles lost	1
40	Yards penalized	47

Iowa ..... 7 7 7 0—21
Michigan ..... 0 0 13 20—33

Iowa Touchdowns—Vincent (24, run); Dobrino 2 (1, run; 27 pass run from Reichow. Conversions—Freeman 3.

Michigan: Touchdowns—Baldacci (1, plunge; Kramer (65, pass run from Maddock; Maentz 2 (33, pass from Branoff; 60, pass run from Maddock; Branoff (30, run). Conversions—Kramer 3.

Following their 27-0 victory over Wisconsin, the Spartans have a 3-1 record in the conference. Their lone setback was a 14-7 to Michigan. That game, second of the season, now appears as perhaps the most important of all. Had it gone the other way, Michigan State undoubtedly would be making plans today for its second Rose Bowl trip in three seasons.

Playing before a national television audience, Michigan scored 20 points in the final 9 minutes to deal Iowa a staggering defeat.

For more than 50 minutes, it seemed as though Iowa was ready to give Coach Forest Evashevski his greatest victory—the one he wanted more than any other—a triumph over his alma mater.

The Hawkeyes broke into a 14-0 lead in the first half and still held a 21-13 advantage with the game 51 minutes old.

Then, with striking suddenness, quarterback Jim Maddock pitched a 65-yard touchdown pass to Ron Kramer, and another of 60 to Tom Maentz.

Those two passes preserved Michigan's perfect record and silenced the doubters who questioned the Wolverines' ranking after their close calls against Northwestern and Minnesota in the previous two games.

Kramer, who had been out with broken ribs since the Army game, was rushed into action after Iowa rolled up its 14-0 lead. Although seemingly bent over by the injury, the giant end responded with an inspiring performance. Playing with a plastic "vest," Kramer injected new life into Michigan's sagging defense and caught two passes for 79 yards.

Maentz, who has operated in Kramer's shadow, emerged as an individual star in his own right. He caught five passes for 169 yards, two going for touchdowns.

Ohio State, with a 3-0 record, has a chance for the Big Ten title, but conference rules prohibit the Buckeyes from returning to the Rose Bowl a second straight year.

So, essentially, the situation is this: Michigan can wrap up the Rose Bowl trip by taking two of its last three games against Illinois, Indiana and Ohio State. That will give the Wolverines a 6-1 record in the conference.

Michigan State couldn't match that even if it won its last two games against Purdue and Minnesota. The best the Spartans can do is 5-1, and therein lies a shortcoming in the Big Ten schedule.

It seems unfair that a team can get into the Rose Bowl merely by playing, and winning, one more game than the next contender. On the other hand, the extra game could be detrimental if it were lost.

In last week's Associated Press hind Maryland and Oklahoma, while Michigan State ranked fifth behind Navy.

The Spartans can expect to move up a notch after Navy's loss to Notre Dame. But it's questionable whether Michigan will advance, even though it staged one of the greatest rallies in big ten history to beat Iowa. Both Maryland and Oklahoma rolled up easy victories Saturday against meek opposition and the nation's experts seem impressed by thumping victories.

BIG TEN FOOTBALL STANDINGS

Harris Has Attack Set for Watkins

DETROIT (AP) — Duke Harris of Detroit has mapped his strategy for a 10-round bout with Andy Watkins, Indianapolis welterweight, at the Olympic tomorrow night.

Harris says he will pound away at his opponent's midsection in the early rounds and then try to finish him off with blows to the head.

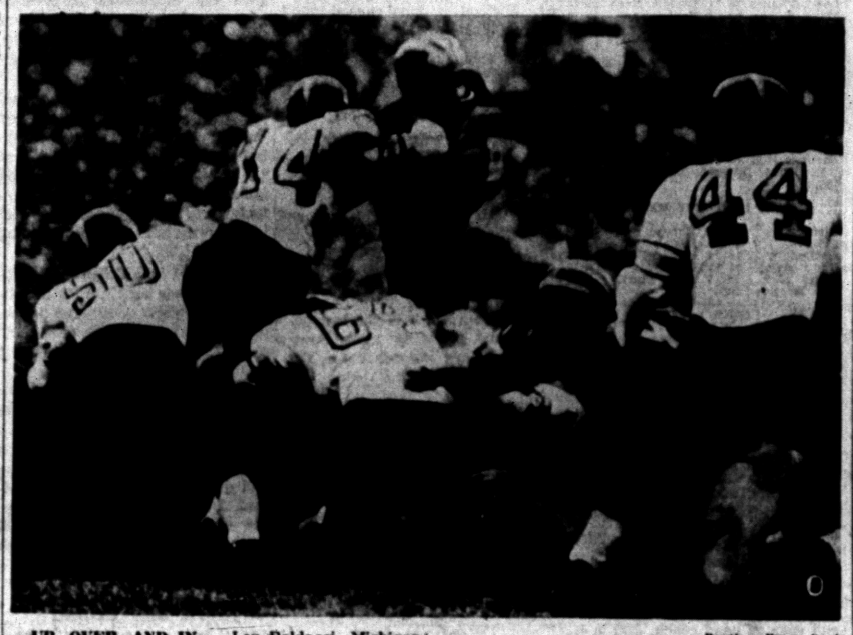

Other 10-rounders will be Johnny Summerlin vs Ben Thomas, Marty Marshall vs Stan Mylinski and Ken Mike Hammer vs Larry Watson.

Cranes Trample University 11

Cranbrook Posts 53-6 Victory at Cleveland in Inter-State Game

Cranbrook's football team took a giant step toward winning the Inter-State Prep League title Saturday at Cleveland with a resounding 53-6 victory over defending champion University school.

Win gave the Cranes a league mark of 2-0-1 and an overall season record of 4-1-1. Cranbrook can win the loop crown by downing Shady Side this Saturday at Cranbrook.

Cranes racked up eight touchdowns against the host school. Pete Bedford scored three of them on passes from Pete Hubert and Dave Cooper.

Hubert scored twice on runs of 16 and three yards and Bob Swats added two more on dashes of six and 26 yards. Del Andrews scooped up a fumble and ran 42 yards for the other tally. Bob Machus booted five extra points.

University School opened the scoring on a pass from Gary Meddinger to Paul Taylor. The 27-yard play came in the 1st quarter. Then the Cranes broke the game wide open.

Cranbrook's soccer team was defeated by University School, 2-0. Harley Gheen and Carl Doerge kicked goals in the 2nd and 4th periods respectively.

ABC Tourney Expects to Draw 30,000 Men

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP) — About 30,000 men will compete in the 53rd annual American Bowling Congress Tournament starting March 3 at this city's big, new War Memorial Building.

A prize list exceeding $450,000 is in the offing for the 6,000 teams from over the country taking part in the event. The tourney will last 79 days.

New Star for State

EAST LANSING (AP) — Michigan State's 27-0 shutout Saturday was the worst beating ever handed a Wisconsin football team coached by Ivy Williamson.

It also marked the first time tha a Williamson-coached team ever had lost three in a row.

Against Notre Dame, it was fullback Jerry Planutis, and against Illinois it was quarterback Earl Morrall.

Wal Kowalczyk, sophomore right half from Westfield, Mass., had his big day of the season against Wisconsin.

Kowalczyk served notice early it was going to be his day with a 72-yard touchdown run in the first period. The big sophomore skirted end and straight-armed the last Wisconsin defender between him and the goal line.

A short time later, Kowalczyk made his pass interception and Clarence Peaks busted over to score from the 2.

Kowalczyk added the convincer with a 24-yard touchdown run in the fourth period.

The final MSU score came on a 16-yard end zone pass to Bob Jewett, thrown by Jim Monowski, third string quarterback from Detroit.

Embry Robinson, senior tackle from Pittsburgh who has been calling the defensive signals this year was hurt early in the game and is expected to be sidelined for the remainder of the season because of a torn ligament in his left knee.

St. James Gridders Down Rams, 25-0, in SCL Tilt

Ferndale St. James took a commanding 18-0 lead at halftime and coasted to an easy 25-0 win over St. Frederick in a Suburban Catholic League football game Sunday afternoon at Ferndale. It was the 23rd consecutive game without victory for the St. Fred gridders.

Dales scored twice in the 1st quarter. They marched 65 yards for their 1st touchdown with Chuck Fromm crashing over from the seven-yard line.

After St. Frederick punted the Dales struck again. Ron Steiner sprinted 35 yards for a touchdown.

In the 2nd period St. James tallied touchdown No. 3 on one quick thrust. Dick Bordnowski hit Tom Ortballs with a scoring pass which covered 50 yards, handing St. James an 18-0 advantage at intermission.

St. James scored its last touchdown in the 3rd period with the same combination that produced the 3rd tally. Bordnowski passed to Ortballs for a 70-yard scoring strike. The extra point was added from placement.

Gene Wright's Rams were held scoreless yesterday for the 1st time this season. The only serious threat by the Rams came in the 2nd quarter when they moved to the St. James 10 before losing the ball on a fumble. They never came close after that.

Giovanelli, Melis Clash in TV Battle

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Paolo Melis, former Italian welter champ, and Danny Giovanelli, a Brooklyn lad who once beat Vince Martinez, are rated all even for tonight's 10-round bout at St. Nicholas arena in New York.

Giovanelli is returning to the welters after an excursion into the middleweight ranks. The bright star in his record (26-5-1) still is the victory over Martinez, May 22, 1953. In three 1955 starts he stopped Jimmy Martinez, outpointed Chris Christensen and lost to Ray Drake.

The Italian upset Rinzi Nocero at St. Nick's, Aug. 22 after being stopped because of cuts by Chico Vejar in Syracuse, April 29. His record for 43 fights is 33-8-2.

The match will be televised Dumont, 10 p.m., EST).

Solid Sanity Shown

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—An escapee from the Arizona State Hospital was picked up and returned to custody at the mental institution. Police asked him why he escaped. He replied, with admirable sanity: "I wanted to."

Michigan, Oklahoma, Terps, Still Unbeaten

The Associated Press

The frantic race for the national college football championship had narrowed today to three mighty monsters of the nation—Marlyand, Oklahoma and Michigan.

For Maryland and Oklahoma, both of which have been rolling along like well-oiled diesel engines, the road ahead for a titantic clash in the Orange Bowl New Year's Day appears clear.

At the moment, each is tied for the lead in its respective conference, the Atlantic Coast and Big seven. But the remaining games are mere details to be attended to in due course.

* * *

Maryland has a date with Clemson, like the Terps undefeated in league play, on Nov. 12, while Oklahoma anticipates no argument from Nebraska the following week—should the Cornhuskers keep their league record clean by getting past tough Colorado.

That leaves only Michigan with a worry and a major one it is—Ohio State.

* * *

The Wolverines have had trouble in their last three games — they had to come from behind to lick Iowa 33-21 last Saturday — and there is no assurance that they'll survive their clashes with Illinois and Purdue before meeting the Buckeyes three weeks hence.

If they do finish with a spotless record they'll have to be given serious consideration for the national title because their schedule appears stronger than either Maryland, the current No. 1 team in The Associated Press poll, or Oklahoma. They play seven Big Ten foes, plus Missouri and Army.

* * *

The Wolverines also are almost certainly to get the Rose bowl nomination if they don't lose more than one of their three remaining games. Ohio State is ineligible, having played there last New Year's Day.

West Virginia, the only other major team still undefeated, faces a future fraught with danger. The Mountaineers play George Washington this week, but then on successive Saturdays, go against Pitt and Syracuse, two of the toughest outfits in the East.

* * *

Notre Dame can't be considered for the national title because its record is marred by a loss to Michigan State. But the Irish certainly rate close to the top by virtue of their 21-7 victory over Navy.

In addition to Navy, Auburn, Boston College and Holy Cross all toppled from the unbeaten list Saturday. Auburn, once tied, fell before Tulane 27-13, while Xavier of Ohio whipped Boston College 19-12, and Syracuse thrashed Holy Cross 49-9. The East doesn't have an undefeated team left.

* * *

Yale and Princeton still are tied for the Ivy League lead with 4-0 marks and headed for a showdown battle in two weeks. In the Southwest Conference, Texas A&M still leads with 2-0-1 after being tied by Arkansas 7-7, but still must play Southern Methodist, Rice and Texas.

On the Pacific Coast, UCLA continues to flex its muscles for all to see. Its latest was a 47-0 shellacking of California. Whether Washington and Southern California will roll over and play dead for the Uclans remains to be seen.

Missouri Alumni Seek New Coach

Don Faurot's Ouster Is Asked in Petitions After Seven Defeats

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Petitions seeking the removal of Don Faurot, creator of the split-T formation and football coach at the University of Missouri since 1935, are being circulated in the state, the Post-Dispatch says.

* * *

The petitions, not bearing the names of their originators, reportedly originated with the school's alumni in Kansas City and St. Joseph in Western Missouri and have spread to St. Louis, the newspaper said yesterday.

Faurot is dean of the Big 7 Conference coaches. Missouri defeated Colorado 20-12 Saturday to end a seven-game losing streak, the longest of any Missouri team under Faurot.

At Kansas City, alumni association officials said they knew of no anti-Faurot petitions.

Eaglets Crush Bens, 52-6, With Eight TD Avalanche

A powerhouse football team from Orchard Lake St. Mary virtually wrapped up the Suburban Catholic League championship for 1955 Sunday afternoon at Highland Park with a crushing 52-6 victory over St. Benedict.

Rev. John Rakoczy's undefeated Eaglets, now boasting a 6-0 season record, need only to defeat hapless St. Frederick next Sunday to win the 1st SCL football title in St. Mary annals.

Eaglets ran wild yesterday with a parade of eight touchdowns. They powered to three in the 1st quarter, two in the 2nd, and three in the last stanza. The scoring as follows:

First quarter — Quarterback Ted Kopacki dashed two yards around end for the 1st touchdown and halfback Paul Franckowiak placekicked the extra point. Kopacki passed to end Pete Madelans for a 35-yard tally. Fullback Gerry Leszczynski took a pitchout from Kopacki and galloped 78 yards to score.

Second quarter — Franckowiak plunged over from the four-yard line. Kopacki hit Madelans with a six-yard touchdown aerial.

Fourth quarter — Stan Majewski returned a St. Benedict punt 57 yards for a touchdown and Franckowiak converted. Art Giodzinski intercepted a pass and raced 35 yards to score with Franckowiak converting again. Kopacki ran 83 yards for the final touchdown and once more Franckowiak booted the point.

Highland Park's Bens scored their lone touchdown in the 1st period when halfback Larry Gacki circled end for a 43-yard jaunt.

Sam Snead Captures Pro-Member Tourney

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (AP)—Sam Snead has won the $10,000 Thunderbird Country Club pro-member tournament, a tune-up for Ryder Cup play between British and American teams next weekend.

Snead won the top $1,000 prize by edging Harry Weetman of the British team. Snead's score was 70-67—137 to Weetman's 69-69—138. Weetman's second place was worth $750.

Gene Littler and Mike Souchak led the first round but faltered at the finish. Souchak posting a third-place 67-72—139 while Littler's card was 67-73—140. Also in the 140 bracket were Cary Middlecoff, Chandler Harper and Doug Ford.

Hazel Park Cyclist Wins Annual Acorn Run Sunday

Ted Johnson of Hazel Park won the Pontiac Motorcycle Club's annual Acorn Run Sunday afternoon over a 150-mile route in northern Oakland County. Johnson compiled 952 points in the race, which began and finished at he Gingellville Community Hall.

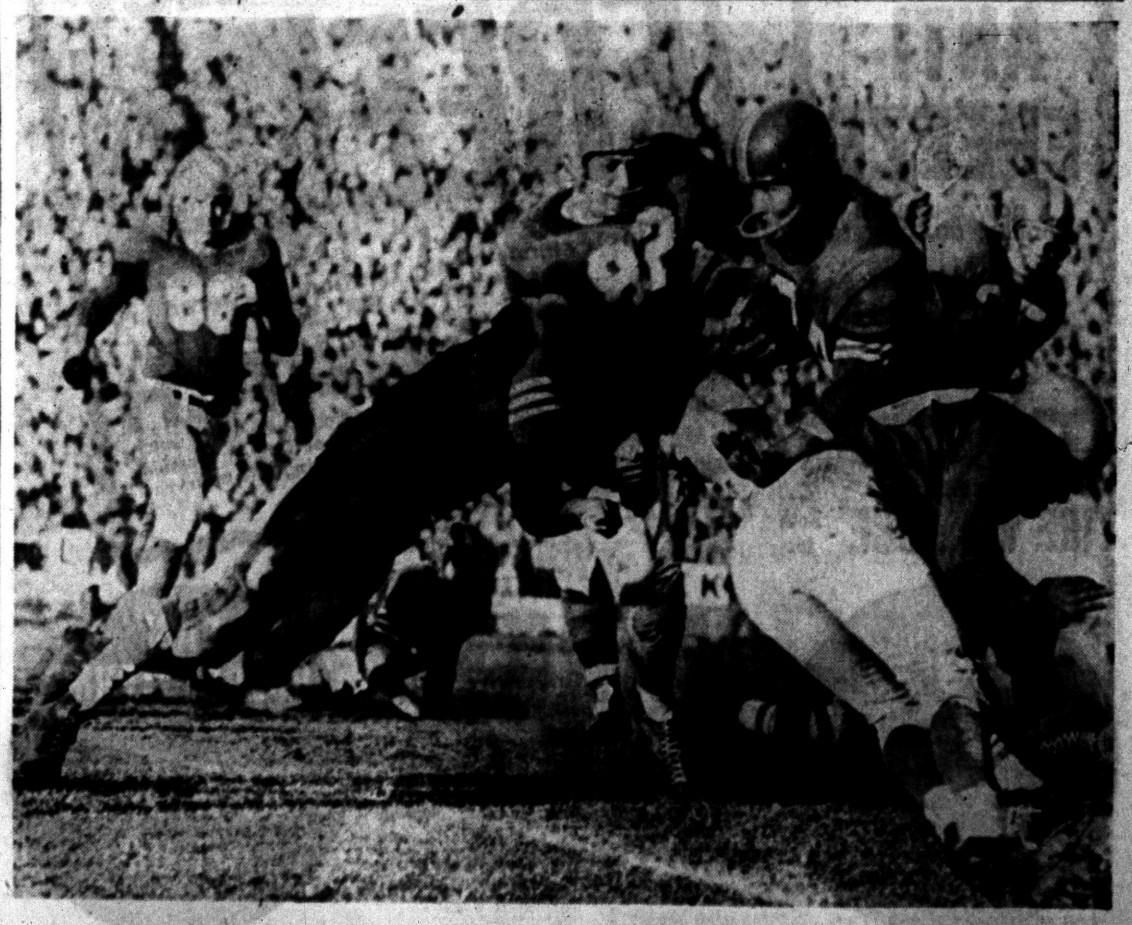

Entry field was less than expected because of chilly temperatures. Oakland County Radio Club supervised the races at 14 check points along the route and kept officials and spectators well-informed of the latest score.

Walter Moleska of Detroit won the Class A division with a total of 924 points, followed by Stan Cupp of Saginaw and John Hamburg of Detroit. Class B winner was Ron Williams from Flint with 854 points, pursued by Harold Harkless of Pontiac and William Hooten of Detroit.

Harlow Hecko of Flint won the Class A lightweight race with 769 points, while Howard Pond of Jackson and George Stemen of Toledo took 2nd and 3rd places respectively.

Low point trophy, awarded to the rider who lost the most points and completed the run, went to Bob Allen of Ferndale. First check trophy, given to the cyclist who checks in at the most accurate time, was awarded to Gardner Durfee of Detroit. Tom Smith won the door prize, six quarts of oil.

At the end of the races the "Moms" unit No. 33 of Gingellville served chicken dinner in the community hall.

TRAFFIC JAM — Joe Perry, 49ers fullback, breaks through the Detroit Lions line for 14 yards in the fourth quarter of their game in San Francisco yesterday. The 49ers handed Detroit their sixth straight loss, 38 to 21, to remain in contention for the western division title. No. 28 is end Leon Hart of the Lions.

Lions Drop Another — to 49ers

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The National Football League season is half over and the once proud and once feared Detroit Lions still are gunning for their first victory.

The baffling and bedeviled Detroiters hardly looked like Western Division Champions of 1954 in losing their sixth straight game yesterday, 38-21, to the San Francisco 49ers.

San Francisco, exploding for 31 points in the first half, completely dominated the game to win their first home encounter before 47,431 delighted fans in Kezar Stadium. The victory gave the 49ers a 3-3 record and threw them into a tie for third place in the division with the Green Bay Packers and the Chicago Bears.

Los Angeles and Baltimore are tied for the lead with 4-2 records.

Yesterday's game was no contest from the start. The 49ers capitalized on early breaks and smashed the Lion line into submission with a powerful ground game and Y. A. Tittle's sharp passing.

The 49ers scored 14 points in the first quarter, gave up one to Detroit in the second and then went on a 17-point scoring splurge in the closing five minutes of the first half.

Two rookies—All-America Dicky Moegle of Rice and Carroll Hardy of Colorado—sparkled in the second period outburst.

After Gordy Soltau booted a field goal, Moegle intercepted a Bobby Layne pass and ran it back 37 yards to the Detroit 23. Four plays later he skirted left end for a touchdown.

After the return kickoff the Lions punted to the San Francisco 32. On the first play Quarterback Tittle heave da 38-yard pass to Hardy, who ran 40 more yards for a touchdown with 12 seconds remaining in the half.

Joltin' Joe Perry, who gave the 49ers their game-winning touchdown in the closing two minutes of their last game with Detroit, scored two San Francisco touchdowns, one on a three-yard plunge, the other on a 14-yard pass from Tittle.

Ailing Hugh McElhenny, crippled by injuries, also got into the scoring act, plunging for his first touchdown of the year from one yard out.

Layne, back into the Detroit lineup after missing a game and a half with torn knee ligaments, passed for two Detroit touchdowns. The first came in the second quarter on a 24-yard heave to Doak Walker and another in the third on a seven-yarder to big Leon Hart.

Lew Carpenter gave the lions a consolation score in the waning minutes of the game when he plunged over from the three following Detroit's recovery of Bud Laughlin's fumble. Walker kicked all three extra points.

San Francisco	14	17	0	7	—38
Detroit	0	7	7	7	—21

Detroit scoring — Touchdowns: Walker (24, pass from Layne); Hart (7, pass from Layne); Carpenter (3, plunge). Conversions: Walker 3.

San Francisco scoring—Touchdowns: Perry 2 (3, plunge; 14, pass-run from Tittle); Hardy (78, pass-run from Tittle); McElhenny (1, plunge); Moegle (12, run). Conversions: Soltau 5, placekicks. Field goal: Soltau (25 yards).

College All-Stars Stop Knickerbockers 101 to 98

NEW YORK (INS) — The College All-Stars, coached by Duquesne's Dudey Moore, have done to the New York Knickerbockers what no other National Basketball Association team has been able to do this year.

The Knicks rolled over Syracuse, Boston and Rochester but yesterday ran into their first defeat as basketball returned to Madison Square Garden.

A crowd of 11,245 fans watched the Collegians open up a 17-to-5 lead and hang on for a 101-to-98 victory. Ken Sears, former Santa Clara ace, and Maurice Stokes of St. Francis of Loretto, Pa., paced the winners with 15 points apiece.

Ex-Fordham flash Ed Conlin and Dick Ricketts of Duquesne had 14 each. Jack Twyman of Cincinnati had 13 and Corky Devlin of George Washington, 12.

The Knicks took the night contest, however, 102 to 74.

Colgate Athletic Head Dies of Heart Attack

Reid had been ill recently with a spinal ailment but he had recovered enough to assume most of his duties again. He attended the Colgate-Army football game at West Point Saturday.

The 1916 Athletics lost 116 games, a major league record.

TEMPORARY ADVANTAGE — Ron Elmy, shown above lugging the pigskin, rams through the St. Rita forward wall from the four-yard line for St. Michael's 2nd touchdown in yesterday's SCL game at Wisner Stadium. The hard-running fullback's tally, scored on the 1st play of the 4th quarter, handed the Mikes a temporary 14-7 lead. Vikings tied the count moments later, but Shamrocks won, 20-14.

Dad's Day Successful

Late Touchdown Run by Dropps Brings Shamrocks 20-14 Victory Over Vikings

By BILL CORNWELL

An intercepted pass in the late stages of the 4th quarter brought St. Michael a hard-earned 20-14 victory over St. Rita of Hazel Park in the annual Dad's Day football game Sunday afternoon at Wisner Stadium.

St. Mike was a heavy favorite over its Suburban Catholic League foe, winner of only one game this season, but the Shamrocks were forced to pull out all the stops to please yesterday's traditional gathering of fathers.

Halfback Dan Dropps, with the aid of teammate Ron Elmy, snared an enemy aerial at the five-minute mark in the last period and raced 40 yards down the sidelines untouched for the decisive touchdown.

St. Rita had just received a Shamrock punt and was trying to start a winning drive of its own. Quarterback Chet Laabs, son of the former Detroit Tigers' baseball player, aimed a pass into the right flat. Intended for Dennis Marcola, the oval was batted in the air by Elmy. Dropps grabbed it and had free-wheeling to the goal line.

Yesterday's hard - fought win gave the Shamrocks an overall season record of 4-3 and put them even at 3-3 in the Suburban conference. It was St. Rita's 5th setback in six starts.

A bad case of "fumbleitis" hampered the Mikes throughout the 1st half and also enabled the Vikings to hold a 7-0 advantage at intermission. Marcola recovered Mike Lyons' fumble on the Shamrock 27 to set up the visitors' 1st touchdown late in the opening quarter.

Two plays later Laabs, a standout performer for St. Rita all afternoon, pitched a 21-yard touchdown aerial to Jim Jacobs. Nary a hand was laid on the Viking left halfback as he sprinted into paydirt at 2:47 of the 1st stanza. Fullback Joe Oliver placekicked the extra point.

Bob Mineweaser's charges threatened to score twice in the 2nd quarter, but neither materialized. Don Chinn recovered a fumble by Lyons on the Viking 16 to thwart one bid after the Mikes had driven 64 yards. St. Rita's defense stopped a 2nd attempt on the Viking nine.

Shamrocks got right down to business in the 2nd half. They took the opening kickoff and marched 69 yards in five plays for the tying touchdown. The hard-running Dropps ripped through tackle and galloped 38 yards for the six-pointer, then converted from placement to tie the score at 7-all.

Mikes weren't finished yet as they tallied again to take a 14-7 lead. Using sheer power the Shamrocks rolled 69 yards in 14 plays to chalk up a touchdown. Elmy rammed over from the four on the 1st play of the last quarter and Dropps again booted the point.

One lightning thrust put the Vikings right back in the game. Laabs received the ensuing kickoff and raced 75 yards before Dropps knocked him out of bounds on the Mike five. On 3rd down Laabs hit end Bill Klausing with a four-yard scoring pass and Oliver converted to knot the count once more, 14-14.

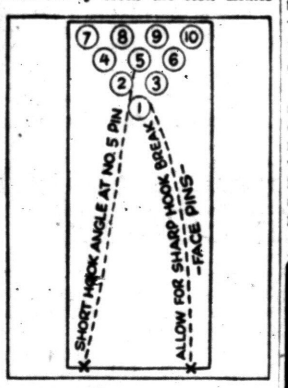

Then followed Dropps' deflected interception and game-deciding run, making Dad's Day at St. Michael a success.

CHERRY LEAVES — Angle spares, with the back pin to the right, are tough ones. Such as the No. 3 behind the head pin, the No. 6 behind the No. 3, the No. 5 behind the No. 2, the No. 9 behind the No. 5, or the No. 8 behind the No. 4.

They're all optional angle shots, from the normal right side, or across-alley from the left. Either way, they're shots that demand pin point aim. They're cherry shots. How to play them? From left or right? Fast ball or slow? Hook, reverse or straight ball? It's up to the individual—and practice.

Stars like Bud Momar, Joe Wilman, and Ned Day shoot all the spares mentioned from the left, as sketch shows, using hooks with normal speed. Buzz Fazio, Don Carter, and Con Schwoegler shoot them from the right side, with a little more than usual speed to cut down their hooks.

Personally, I prefer the right side shots, with a short hook, because angling at the pin on the right, the back pin, seems to invite less chance of a chop. Yet it's up to each bowler to pick his angle—then practice it to get confidence. Stick to one pattern.

Chiefs' Streak Snapped After Two Year Reign

Vikings Defend 'B' Title; Set Sights for State Meet

The Pontiac Chiefs, kings of the Class A cross country ranks for the past two years, felt the sting of ineligibility of two of its top harriers as they were unseated from their throne Saturday morning by an inspired Birmingham Maple harrier outfit which ran away with the 1955 regional crown.

Before the Class A harriers took to the rain-soaked Birmingham High School course, the Vikings from Walled Lake soundly proved their domination of the Class B schools as they defended their 1954 title with their 2nd consecutive regional title.

Pontiac High School's squad entered the Saturday meet strong favorites as the result of 37 consecutive dual meet wins with eight during the present campaign. They also captured the regional title in Class A competition the past two years.

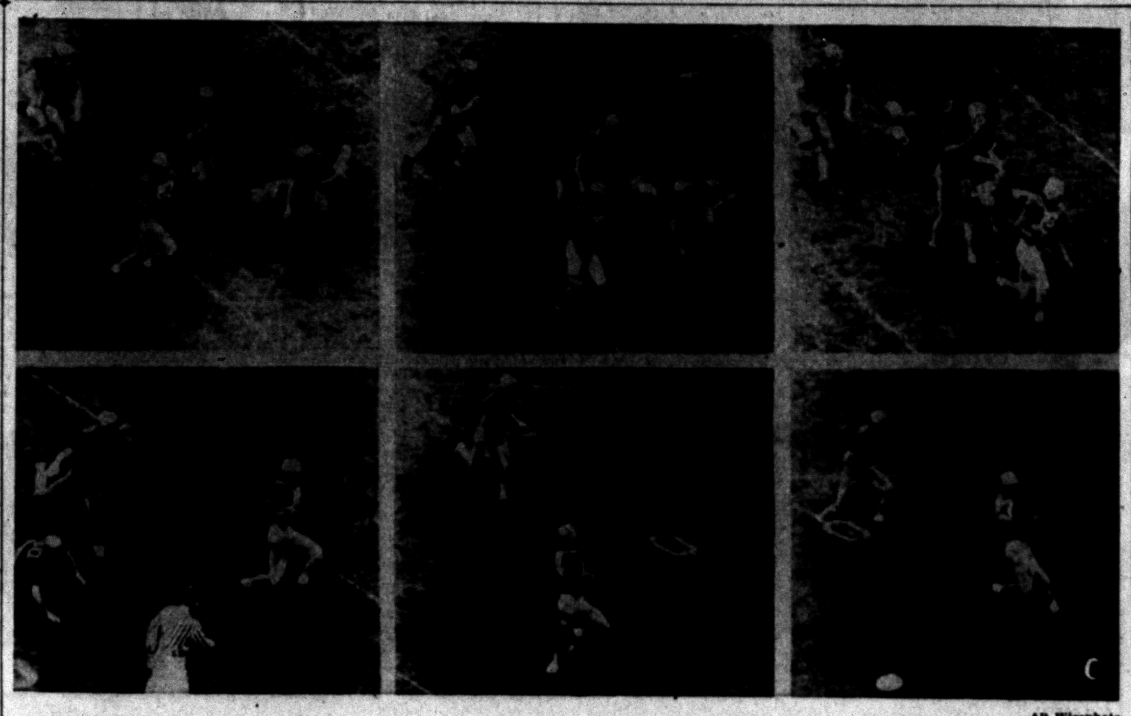

But the study axe of ineligibility cut down the Chief's favorite roll considerably when number one man Perry Williams and teammate Alex Barge were ruled out.

When the final points were tabulated, Birmingham had 41, Pontiac 58, Hazel Park 91 and Southfield 4th with 118. All four schools qualified for the state meet coming up this Saturday at Ypsilanti.

Doug Wuggazer of Birmingham finished 1st for a time of 10:17. Pontiac's Bill Douglas was 2nd, Dennis Carrigan of Redford Union 3rd, Roy Vivian of Hazel Park 4th and Gene Cretal and Rod Treais of the Chiefs finished 5th and 8th respectively.

Pontiac's Don Evans crossed the line in 19th position while Hasting Martin brought up from the junior varsity squad to plug the vacant slots, pulled in 24th. Pete Cox failed to finish.

In Class B running, Walled Lake captured the title with 43 total points while Farmington was 2nd with 49 and Milford 3rd with 58. Milford's Jim Cook was number one finisher in a time of 10:43 and Donald Shuster of Farmington 2nd while Joel Bailey of the winning Vikings placed 3rd.

Clark Griffith Is Buried Today

Floral Tributes Come From Eisenhower, Rocky Marciano, Lone Ranger

WASHINGTON (INS) — Funeral services for Clark Griffith, an institution in baseball for 70 years, will be held today.

Last rites for the 85-year-old president of the Washington Senators will be conducted at 11 a.m. (EST) at Washington's Hamline Methodist Church. He is to be buried in Fort Lincoln Cemetery.

Baseball's biggest names were to pay final respects to the "Old Fox" who became a member of the game's Hall of Fame because of his pitching prowness and went on to manage and then head the Senators.

He became manager in 1912, and an executive eight years later.

Among those attending the services was Charles Comiskey III, whose grandfather and Griffith founded the American League in 1900. Others included George DeWitt of the New York Yankees, Hank Greenberg of the Cleveland Indians, Clarence Miles of the Baltimore Orioles, Spike Briggs and Bucky Harris of the Detroit Tigers. Griffith's son-in-law Joe Cronin of the Boston Red Sox.

Floral offerings came from President and Mrs. Eisenhower, Ted Williams, heavyweight boxing champion Rocky Marciano, Sen. and Mrs. Herman Welker, and Brace Beemer — better known as the Lone Ranger — Griffith's favorite radio character and many others.

Hank Greenberg had a lifetime batting average in the majors of .313.

Driving Range Helped Ford Start in Golf

NEW YORK (AP) — Doug Ford, who has earned more than $32,000 in golf prize money this year, says in his book "Start Golf Young," that he got his chance because of his father's driving range near Van Cortland Park. Ford says: "When he moved to an indoor range I went over whenever I had the chance. It was there that I found out what a pleasure golf is —even on a big city driving range."

Johnny Dundee had a string of 307 fights and lost only 29 of them.

Browns Gain Customary Spot

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The National Football League season was at the half-way point today and the only question unanswered was: which way should Cleveland head for pro football's championship playoff game?

Thrown off stride by a loss in their opening game, the Browns took over their customary sole possession of first place in the Eastern Conference yesterday with a 26-20 victory over the Chicago Cardinals. Until then, they had been in a tie for first with the Pittsburgh Steelers, who were blanked by Philadelphia 24-0.

* * *

Now the Browns, on a five-game winning streak, seem like money in the bank for their 10th successive conference crown in the NFL and the old All-America Conference. Then it's off to the home city of the Western Conference champ for the playoff.

* * *

In the Western Conference, however, all was confusion, with only the suddenly-fangless Detroit Lions out of the championship picture. Chicago's rampaging Bears threw the race into a deadlock by clawing the Los Angeles Rams 31-20 for the Bears' third straight victory.

This left Los Angeles with a 4-2 record and in a deadlock with Baltimore, which nipped Green Bay 14-10 Saturday night. San Francisco stayed in the thick of it with a 38-21 romp over Detroit, the Lions' sixth loss in as many games. San Francisco, the Bears and Green Bay all have 3-3 marks, only a game behind the leaders with six left to play.

New York trounced Washington 35-7 in the day's other Eastern Conference game.

* * *

Defensive ace Don Paul stole the Hero's mantle from Otto Graham for a change, but the end result was the same—another Cleveland victory. Paul returned a punt 60 yards for a touchdown in the second quarter and moments later intercepted a pass to set up the Brown's third score, a 4-yard Graham pass to Ray Renfro. That made it 21-6 at the half, and Cleveland's defensive stalwarts made it stand up, even though the Browns were held to a safety and Lou Groza's 44-yard field goal in the second half.

Harlon Hill, who learned his football at little Alabama Teachers, was the whole show in the Bears' victory before 69,587 disappointed Los Angeles fans. He caught three passes for touchdowns, each one from a different passer. He took quickies of 5 yards from George Blanda and 4 yards from Rick Casares, and in between teamed with Ed Brown on a scoring play covering 86 yards, the longest of the NFL season.

* * *

Blanda, who also contributed four conversions and a booming 48-yard field goal, hit on six successive passes in an 81-yard march which ended with Hill's first score.

A pair of rookies, All-American Dickie Moegle of Rice and Colorado's Carroll Hardy, sparked San Francisco to 17 points in the closing 5 minutes of the first half against Detroit. Moegle intercepted a Bobby Layne pass and returned it 37 yards, then a few plays later skipped 12 yards around end for a touchdown. When the 49ers got the ball again, quarterback Y. A. Tittle threw 38 yards to Hardy on the Lions' 40 and the fleet youngster simply outran the Detroit defenders for a 78-yard scoring play.

* * *

Jolting Joe Perry, running in his old form, scored once on a three-yard plunge and took a 14-yard pass from Tittle for another touchdown.

The 49ers can pull even with their bitter rivals from down the Coast next Sunday, but both the 49ers and Rams may find themselves looking up at Baltimore in the standings, for the Colts meet Detroit Saturday. The Bears try for their fourth straight against Green Bay. A mathematician probably could tell you how many first-place possibilities there are in that schedule.

* * *

Philadelphia's rugged defensive line completely bottled up the Steelers hitherto potent offense. Ted Wegert, a highly-outed rookie sidelined earlier by injuries, ripped off ouchdown runs of 29 and 2 yards, set up a third score with a 38-yard dash and gained 82 yards in 12 carries in the game. Three players were thrown out of the bitterly-fought game, which wound-ed up in a flurry of fist fights and impromptu wrestling matches which would have put the TV "wrestlers" to shame.

* * *

Jim Patton started New York off right by sprinting 98 yards for a touchdown with the opening kickoff against Washington. Later he showed that run was no fluke when he galloped 69 yards to score after taking a punt. The Giants, winning their second game, also got two touchdowns from Alex Webster, who suffered a concussion last week.

Webster, who was cut by the Redskins two years ago, broke away for a 52-yard scoring dash and took a pass from Chuck Conerly on a 42-yard play. Vic Janowicz scored the Skins' seven points and now has 49 of Washington's 103 points on the season.

Baltimore's victory Saturday night, giving them four on the season, assured the Colts of a new record for season victories.

First Victory Slips Away

Red Wings' Brief Lapse Gives Canadiens 2-2 Tie

DETROIT (AP) — But for a brief, 40-second lapse, the Detroit Red Wings would be celebrating their first victory of the season over the Montreal Canadiens today.

In those 40 seconds Montreal's Floyd Curry and Bert Olmstead whipped in two goals to give the Canadiens a 2-2 tie last night in the second game of their weekend series with the Red Wings.

The league-leading Canadiens, who edged Detroit 2-1 Saturday night, thus collected three of the four points for the series and moved four points ahead of the second place New York Rangers. Last place Detroit gained two points on fifth place Toronto.

The Red Wings flashed much of the brilliance that carried them to seven straight National Hockey League titles against the Canadiens and appeared to have the game sewed up until the final 10 minutes.

Bill Dineen opened the scoring when he netted a rebound at 7:32 of the first period. Alex Delvecchio converted a power-play tally at 6:21 of the second period to boost the Detroit lead to 2-0.

Montreal's two goals came while both teams were at full strength. Curry broke the ice when he sailed in unchecked to convert Ken Mosdell's setup pass at 10:53.

After a change in lines, Olmstead and Rookie Claude Provost swept down the ice and Olmsted rapped in Provost's pass from close range in 11:33.

Detroit chalked up a slim 37-34 shooting edge. Montreal's Jacque Plante handled 29 of his saves in the first period and Detroit's Glenn Hall stopped 24 in the second period.

Both clubs played a rough brand of hockey, hitting hard and checking tightly.

Herbert Hoover Aids Truman's Library

ta12 eeeessIbyI Library bu31

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Former President Herbert Hoover will be a sponsor for a dinner to raise funds for the Harry S. Truman library being built at Independence, Mo.

Prominent California Democrat Edwin W. Pauley made the announcement Saturday that the former Republican President will help in the project. Pauley is fund raising chairman for the Truman library committee in the southwest.

Construction began last spring. The library will cost two million dollars.

Nearly 10,000,000 television picture tubes were sold by American manufacturers during 1954. Seventy-six per cent of them were 21 inches or larger. In 1949 more than 80 per cent of the picture tubes sold were smaller than 14 inches.

Lonardi Undergoing Hospital Treatments

BUENOS AIRES (AP)—Provisional President Eduardo Lonardi is receiving medical treatment in a Buenos Aires hospital.

Lonardi, 59, entered the hospital yesterday, the government press secretariat announced.

Government circles said Lonardi tends to suffer from high blood pressure but added they did not know immediately whether his current treatment was related to that condition.

OLDS HOLIDAY COUPE FOR 1956—Accent is on grace and beauty in this 1956 Oldsmobile "98" Deluxe Holiday coupe with new Starfire styling and a completely new power train. The two-tone styling that Oldsmobile introduced to the industry in 1954 is different in its 1956 version, with a body-long sweeping side moulding to provide the color separation. Front end treatment is brand new, incorporating a new airfoil grille, restyled bumper, and new hood contour. The new Oldsmobiles will be shown here by Jerome Motor Sales, 280 S. Saginaw St. They will be on public display Thursday.

The traffic lane was closed an hour for repairs. The car was driveable afterward.

'56 Oldsmobile Out Thursday

New Models Feature Safety Engineering and Increased Horsepower

LANSING (INS) — The 1956 Oldsmobile goes on display in dealer showrooms Thursday, featuring increased horsepower in both the Super "88" and "98" models and engineering improvements designed for greater driving safety.

Also being introduced as standard equipment on the Super "88" and "98" series is jetaway Hydra-matic drive. The new transmission is optional on the "88" model.

Horsepower in the above models has been raised to 240. The "plain" "88" will develop 230 horsepower.

Jetaway hydra-matic drive introduces a new second fluid coupling in the drive train that blends the changes in the gear ratios into a single continuous flow of power.

The new added safety features, in addition to the padded instrument panel which has been available since 1953, are:

Inter-lock safety door locks, and the new so-called "safety-aim" sealed beam headlights. These new headlamps extend about 80 feet further down the road on low beam and minimize glare and upward light diffusion in fog and rain.

Seat belts, offered in the new models as optional equipment.

Other optional accessories offered for 1956 include a new automatic six-way front seat and the dual exhaust system. In addition, the "98" Holiday Coupe and Starfire models have front seats which slide back automatically when the front door is opened and slide forward for easier rear seat entry when the front seat back is tilted forward.

The "rocket" engine has also undergone several improvements. Some of the new features are a higher lift camshaft, larger valves and revised ports in the cylinder head, a new quadri-jet carburetor and new intake manifold.

The cars go on display in dealer showrooms Thursday, Nov. 3.

Vehicle Sales Over Last Year's Record

DETROIT — Motor vehicle factory sales in the first three quarters of the year reached 6,908,079, exceeding the full 12-month total of all but two previous years, the Automobile Manufacturers Assn. said today.

Only in 1950 and 1953 did the full year's total go higher.

Sales in the record-breaking three quarters included 5,973,920 passenger cars and 934,159 trucks and coaches. The total topped the comparable 1954 figure by nearly one million.

As a result of model changeover shutdowns, sales in September fell below the spectacular monthly average of 793,515 established in the first eight months of the year, the AMA reported. The month's sales of 467,845 passenger cars and 92,117 trucks and coaches, however, exceeded the total for the same month last yar by more than 190,000 units.

Grains Recover Early Losses

CHICAGO (AP)—Grains dipped a little at the start and then reversed their trend on the Board of Trade today. Most futures contracts got back up above the previous close.

There was some hesitancy at the start. Cash corn receipts were large. The government reported a bigger carryover of soybeans than had been anticipated.

After the scattered initial selling was out of the way, however, the market found a firm footing. In part it responded to indications of government action to bolster prices.

Wheat near the end of the first hour was ½ lower to ⅝ higher, December $2.02½; corn ⅝ to 1⅛ higher, December $1.27⅞; oats ⅛ to ⅜ higher, December 63⅜; rye unchanged to ¼ higher, December $1.09¾; soybeans ¼ to 1 cent higher, November $2.33½ and lard unchanged to 7 cents a hundred pounds lower, November $11.25.

Lions Asking Waivers on Lineman Jim Ricca

DETROIT (AP) — The distraught Detroit Lions, losers of six straight games, today gave up on Giant Jim Ricca and asked waivers on the hulking lineman who was supposed to take the place of the retired Les Bingaman.

The 6 foot 4, 270-pound Ricca was acquired from the Washington Redskins along with end Walt Yowarsky in a trade for Laverne Torgeson, co-captain of the Lions last season.

Several weeks ago the Lions asked waivers on Yowarsky, who was claimed by the New York Giants. Now they are asking waives on Ricca, who had shared Bingaman's middleguard spot with Jim Salsbury, UCLA rookie.

The Lions also announced that Ted Topor, former Michigan linebacker, has replaced Ricca on their roster. Topor had spent the last two seasons in service and returned to the Lions at the start of the season. Detroit had no room for Topor then, but told him to stand by.

State VFW Advocates WW I Veteran Pension

BENTON HARBOR (AP) — The Michigan Veterans of Foreign Wars ended its 27th annual Lower Peninsula meeting yesterday in Benton Harbor with promises of an all-out fight to win pensions for Word War I veterans.

State Commander Don M. Draher, of Royal Oak, said the organization seeks a pension program of $100 monthly for World War I veterans when they become 60 years old.

5.5 Million Seen in Market for New Cars in '56

DETROIT (AP) — The annual Crowell-Collier survey says 5,480,000 individuals will be new car prospects in 1956.

The survey just issued, covers private cars only; it does not include cars bought by governmental and business agencies. Industry statistical sources say such purchases come to around 300,000 annually.

In its survey of the 1955 market, issued a year ago Crowell-Collier put the number of individual new car prospects at 5,600,000. Sales reports compiled by the various manufacturers indicate that total already has been exceeded.

The current survey reports 82 per cent of the car owners feel that cars are safer than they have been in the past.

Among new car prospects, it adds, 69 per cent want automatic transmissions; 46 per cent want power brakes; 40 per cent power steering; 20 per cent power seats and 16 per cent power windows.

Buying Surge Boosts Stocks

NEW YORK (AP) — A surge of early buying sent the stock market ahead today.

The rush to get into the market at the opening gave way to quiet trading in later dealings.

Most price increases held, however, and there was some improvement in laggard stocks. Gains went to around 2 points at the best while losses as a general rule were fractional.

Among higher stocks were Standard Oil (NJ), Kennecott Copper, Allied Chemical, DuPont, Westinghouse Electric, Pittsburgh Metallurgical, Textron, Bethlehem Steel, General Motors, Studebaker-Packard, Boeing, Douglas Aircraft, Curtiss-Wright, Bath Iron Works, and General Dynamics.

Lower were Philco, Dow Chemical, New York Central, Southern Railway, United Air Lines, Distillers Corp., and RCA.

Business Notes

American Airlines set an all time record in September when it carried 6,653,000 ton miles of airfreight.

Increases in other traffic categories have been announced by District Sales Manager Jack A. Tompkins.

The September ton mile total represented an increase of 34 per cent over the same month last year. Another upswing was noted during September when 667,000 passengers were flown by American. This figure is a 22.5 bulge over the 1954 period.

Recently appointed sales representative of the De Vilbiss Company, was Robert F. Hasse, 170 N. Opdyke Rd., announces Harold C. Cunningham, the firm's Michigan divisional manager.

Hasse has completed a training course at the De Vilbiss main plant in Toledo, when he studied spray painting techniques and equipment. A Marine Corps veteran and a graduate of the University of Notre Dame, Hasse is married and has two children.

McManus, John & Adams Inc., recently was appointed advertising counsel for Huron Milling Company of Royal Oak and Harbor Beach, said James R. Adams, agency president.

Huron Milling processes food and allied products. The firm moved its executive and sales offices from New York to Royal Oak.

Len Underhill, of Pontiac Millwork Co., has been elected to the Board of Directors of the Architectural Woodwork Institute.

Some 300 fellow industry members elected him at the third annual convention of the trade group, held in Chicago.

Florence Halop Looks 50 at 31

'Mother' and 'Daughter' of TV Comedy Series Are Same Age

By CHARLES DENTON

HOLLYWOOD (INS) — Despite all that's said about the strategic use of padding by glamor girls, Hollywood's top authority on over-stuffing is a pint-sized blonde who never so much as bats an eyelash at a leading man.

* * *

"Padding," sighs Florence Halop, "is the story of my life."

Florence is the actress who plays the role of Elena Verdugo's mother in the "Meet Millie" television series.

But, in case her fans haven't figured it out for themselves yet, Florence isn't 50, isn't gray-haired, has no wrinkles and is, in fact, quite a pulse-quickening little dish—even by the standards of movieland.

* * *

To conceal the fact that she is a mere 31—the same age as Elena—a perfect size 10 and a blonde, Florence rigs herself up every week to look like a middle-aged size 16—"but a stylish 16."

AGED WITH MAKEUP

This is accomplished with some artificially applied lines of care in her face, a bit of powder in her hair and a padded, one-piece, bathing suit-like unmentionable that she wiggles into at show time.

* * *

"Frankly, I wouldn't look at myself on TV for the first three months of the show," she confessed. "I saw some of the publicity pictures of myself in that get-up, and I just flipped. It was a thing of ego, I guess.

"Finally, my husband (theatrical agent George Gruskin) insisted that I watch myself so I could improve. There were several things I was doing wrong—wrong for a 50-year-old woman, that is."

Florence started out to be a dramatic actress doing "some pretty heavy stuff." She was infected by the acting bug by her brother, Billy Halop, one of the original Dead End Kids, and quickly became a leading child radio performer.

* * *

She took over Shirley Booth's job as Miss Duffy on "Duffy's Tavern," and it was there that she was first introduced to padding.

"I was padded on that show, too," she recalled. "It's the story of my life all right—just padding along."

PRODUCER'S IDEA

Florence landed in "Meet Millie" on the stretch of a producer's imagination. She retired from show business after the birth of her first daughter, Georgianna, and came to California to dodge the heat of New York.

* * *

Producer Frank Galen persuaded her to try out for the part of Millie's mother and grabbed her for two reasons—her obvious talent for comedy and because a woman of the correct age probably could not have stood the gaff of a weekly "live" TV show.

That was three years ago, and Florence has yet to have a vacation from her motherly chores, either at home or at work.

"The rest of the cast had one," she said with just a trace of regret, "but I worked right up until my last child was born—thanks to the stuffing. So everyone else had a ball while I was having a baby."

Some 30,000,000 persons ride public transportation each day. Fares have doubled in the past 10 years and have climbed three times as fast as the cost of living.

U.N. Still Gropes for Exact Cause of Youth Crimes

PARIS (INS) — United Nations' experts are still groping in the dark for the exact causes of juvenile delinquency.

* * *

A lengthy report recently made public disclosed that despite much talk on curbing juvenile delinquency in the world, preventative programs have been nothing but experiments.

No known program has yet proved completely effective, it added.

The 84-page global report, "Prevention of Juvenile Delinquency," was given before the First United Nations Congress on the Prevention of Crime and Treatment of Offenders which met at Geneva.

The reports was composed of studies of various UNO agencies and non-governmental groups.

The question of juvenile delinquency in the world was one of five topics examined by the Congress.

Teen-age comportment is a problem in every country, the report said.

The report said juvenile delinquency is very slight or non-existent in areas where the family is the center of community life.

Delinquency is prevalent, it added, where the "traditional way of life" has largely disintegrated and where there has been a simultaneous growth of towns and industries.

Garages for Frankfurt

FRANKFURT — The first of a number of four-story garages to be erected in Frankfurt will be completed soon. Each one will accommodate 100 passenger cars and 10 motorcycles on each floor. Frankfurt, with 60 cars to each 1,000 persons, has the largest number of cars per capita among the West German cities.

Pro hockey teams started playing for the Stanley Cup, emblematic of supremacy on the ice, in the season of 1908.

General Puller Retires at 57

Often-Decorated Hero of Marines Honored in Ceremonies Today

CAMP LEJEUNE, N.C. (AP) — Maj. Gen. Lewis B. (Chesty) Puller, 57, the only marine to win the Navy Cross five times for heroism and gallantry in action, retires in ceremonies here today after more than 37 years of active service, 27 of them at sea or overseas.

Gen. Puller's retirement becomes effective tomorrow. He will be retired as a lieutenant general.

* * *

One of the most colorful and highly decorated marines in the history of the corps, Gen. Puller participated in World Wars I and II, the Korean War, and the Haitian, Nicaraguan and Chinese campaigns. He commanded the 1st Marine Div. in its offensive operation as a division at Hoesong, Korea, in 1951.

Excluding medals from foreign governments, Gen. Puller has won 14 personal decorations in combat, plus 39 campaign medals, unit citation ribbons and other awards. He holds five Navy Crosses, a step below the Medal of Honor, the Army Distinguished Service Cross, the Silver Star, the Legion of Merit with one star, the Bronze Star, the Air Medal with two clusters and the Purple Heart.

* * *

Gen. Puller was promoted to his present rank in 1953 and took command of the 2nd Marine Div. here, serving as commanding general until he was named deputy commander of Camp Lejeune in February of this year. Gen. Puller suffered a stroke last year and was in critical condition several weeks.

Gen. Puller was born June 26, 1898, at West Point, Va., he attended Virginia Military Institute and enlisted in the Marine Corps in August, 1918.

Bob Considine Says:

Too Much Leisure? How About Solitaire?

NEW YORK (INS)—The passing show . . .

Allison F. Stanley, an old Cincinnati Enquirer boy who made good in a field not unknown to journalism — cards — sends me some new facts about an old topic.

* * *

The president of the U. S. Playing Card Co. is dedicating himself these days to the task of bringing back solitaire in a new dress. The American worker finds himself with more and more liesure time on his hands, and the retired person is living longer. Stanley wants them to know more about the comforts of solitaire.

"My efforts are not entirely unselfish," he writes, in good, honest Enquirer prose. "If a larger percentage of this tremendous population group should turn to playing cards as a means of recreation, well, a lot of us would be pretty happy.

"About six months ago I became more and more conscious of the pathetic situation of those who had not prepared for retirement and those who had extra time on their hands without anything especially to do.

Not everyone likes to hunt, fish, watch baseball, garden, etc . . . Too many people are sitting around looking out the window."

THE FACTS, MA'AM

This Stanley, searching not for Livingstone but facts, comes up with such as these:

By 1960 our population over 65 years of age will total more than 15,000,000, a million more than the entire population of Canada . . . The four-day work week is on the not-too-distant horizon.

* * *

Paid holidays and vacations continue to go up as the work week shortens . . . Notre Dame has added contract bridge to its list of sports . . . four million more people retire this year.

Stanley's answer: A package containing two decks (made, curiously enough, by the U. S. Playing Card Co.) and a book "150 Ways to Play Solitaire." As far as I know this exhausts every known way of playing solitaire except the most popular—cheating.

"The (Old) Farmer's Almanac(k)," as it has called itself for 164 years, comes out today, by cracky. Well, sir, we're in for a heap of good and bad weather during 1956 and we'd better take one more little look at planting systems.

* * *

Two days before the full moon is the best time to plant plants which bear fruit below ground: Potatoes, beets, etc. But above ground fruits do better when planted on the day of the new moon . . . except, naturally, corn.

WATCH FOR WEBS

Planning a picnic? Then look on the lawn for spider webs. If any have been spun, it won't rain. New ant hills mean a good weather spell, too. Some real dingers in the "Anecdotes and Pleasantries" department this year, such as:

"The three wonders of women—wonder 1st at 15, they wonder whom they shall take; 2nd at 25, they wonder whom they shall get; and 3rd at 35, they wonder who will take them."

Can't wait to get snowed in for the winter so I can light the lamp and curl up with the Almanac(k).

About 85 per cent of all Americans who must travel 1,500 miles or more now use the nation's airlines. The acceptance of this form of travel increases daily and will get its next big impetus with the arrival of the jets and increased use of radar.

* * *

Last year the airlines flew 35,000,000 passengers 20 billion passenger miles with a fatality rate of .07 per hundred million passenger miles.

"At this rate, says Brig. Gen. Milton W. Arnold, vice president of the Air Transport Association, "a passenger could fly safely more than a billion miles, or one average flight every day for 5,766 years without being killed." (Impossible, the food would kill him.)

Will Rogers used to say, "When I die, I want engraved on my stone just this: I joked about every prominent man of my time but I never met a man I didn't like."

Rogers, who would be 76 years old next Friday, never got his wish. His stone simply says "Born: Ologah, Okla., Nov. 4, 1879; died: Point Barrow, Alaska, Aug. 15, 1935."

How About That!

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — A woman who had to stand up, wouldn't pay her city bus fare. "When I sit, I pay. When I stand, I don't", she said. She didn't, either.

Cold Tap Water Aids Burn Pains

Medical Tests Indicate Treatment Eases Hurt From Flame Injuries

CHICAGO (AP)—Quick use of cold water looks good to reduce pain and danger from bad burns, a team of surgeons reported today.

Just cold tap water does the trick—it needn't be ice water. It's best if your burned finger or other area is treated within one minute. Even if you delay for up to five minutes, the cold water may be helpful.

BRINGS RELIEF

The cold water treatment brought immediately, almost complete relief of pain, in four human burn cases, said Drs. Levi E. Reynolds, C. Reed Brown and Philip B. Price, of the University of Utah College of Medicine.

In animal experiments, the prompt cold water treatment—continued 10 to 15 minutes—drastically reduced bad after effects, they told the opening session of the Clinical Congress of the American College of Surgeons.

Among other reports to a forum on fundamental surgical problems were:

A new method of pinpointing trouble within the heart—such as caused President Eisenhower's heart attack—has been worked out successfully on dogs.

By injecting a dyestuff into the blood circulation, and then taking X-ray pictures which show where the dye is collecting, the place where the blockage is occurring can be pin-pointed, said Drs. Jack A. Cannon, Charles A. Clifford, Gautan Diesch and Wiley F. Barker, of the University of California School of Medicine, Los Angeles.
