'McKeon Drank From a Bottle'

'Death March' Boot Testifies to Use of Vodka

Recruit Praises Also Drill Instructor Under Court Martial Charges

PARRIS ISLAND, S. C. (AP) —A crisp young Marine said today he saw S. Sgt. Matthew C. McKeon "raise a bottle to his lips" just before he led the disciplinary march of six recruits to their deaths.

However, Pvt. David H. McPherson of Chatham, N. J., said he was unable to say that McKeon actually had taken a drink.

McKeon is facing a general court-martial for leading 74 members of Platoon 71 into a marsh last April. Six drowned.

Just prior to McPherson's appearance the defense sought to call 108 ex-Marines as witnesses —and earned a mild reprimand.

In his testimony the day's first witness said he was called to McKeon's room about 8 p.m., April 8. The march began about 8:30 p.m.

"Sgt. McKeon was standing out in the hallway," McPherson said. "He followed me in. He asked me, 'What is wrong with you McPherson? Why aren't you doing something to help the platoon become better disciplined?'

"He slapped me once or twice with the back of his hand. Then he told me to sit down."

McPherson said they then quietly discussed the platoon.

"I told him I felt the platoon had it too easy right from the beginning. He told me he planned to take the platoon into the swamps and asked if I thought that would help discipline the platoon. I told him in my opinion it would."

As the discussion continued, McPherson said, McKeon walked across the room and picked up a bottle. The witness continued:

"He brought the bottle over. I saw him raise the bottle to his lips. It was a clear bottle with a label marked vodka. He asked 'Would you like some?' I said it was up to him, it didn't matter. He said, well I couldn't have any anyway. He asked me if I liked vodka. I told him I did."

"What did he do with the bottle?" McPherson was asked.

"I'm not sure, sir. I guess the 'Little Things Are Big to Me'

Crash Victim Spreads Joy

CHICAGO (AP) — Cornelius Bud Koster, who has been lying face down for nearly 14 years, hasn't much to look forward to.

He remarked today to Fred Hertwig, warden of the Cook County Hospital, "Life is mostly a lot of little things; and little things are big things to me."

A former electric sign attendant, Koster was paralyzed from the waist down in an automobile accident in 1942. A score of operations have failed to rehabilitate him even to the extent of being able to sit up without pain.

But friends, who say Koster has grown tired of his self-imposed title, "the Real Life Humpty-Dumpty," are planning a little ward party on his birthday, which may be a big thing after all.

Murderer Loose 11 Hours Trying to Flee Alcatraz

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Another attempt to escape from grim Alcatraz prison ended early today like the others—in failure—when murderer Floyd Wilson was found crouched behind a rock barely 150 yards from the spot where he disappeared.

Wilson, serving a life term on the famed Rock, surrendered meekly 11½ hours after he slipped away while working on the prison dock.

His capture ended an intensive foot-by-foot search by FBI agents and prison guards of the small island in San Francisco Bay. Federal officials have called it escape-proof ever since the prison was set up 22 years ago.

Associate Warden J. B. Latimer said Wilson was found near the water's edge on the east end of the island.

"He had nothing to say," Latimer reported.

Guards immediately hustled Wilson inside the prison for questioning.

Wilson, sent to Alcatraz in 1952 for the murder of a Washington, D. C., grocery store manager, probably will be placed in isolation pending filing of escape charges, Latimer said.

The prisoner was captured as Coast Guard patrol boats circled the island, located about a mile offshore, playing searchlights on both the shore and the water.

Wilson disappeared from the Rock about 3:30 p.m. yesterday—about the time a water barge departed for the mainland. He failed to answer a prison check at 3:45.

Eleven other desperate men have attempted to escape in the 22 years since Alcatraz was established to hold the federal government's most hardened criminals.

Of the eleven, two were shot to death. Two tried to swim to shore and are presumed to have been lost in the surging tide. The others were recaptured.

Wilson was sent to The Rock in 1952. He was convicted in Washington, D. C., of murdering Milton E. Loew, 46, manager of a grocery chain.

Squabble Over, 'Met' Definitely to Open Season

NEW YORK (AP)—The Metropolitan Opera will "definitely" have a 1956-57 season after all, a mediator's spokesman announced today.

Cancellation of the season was announced last week. It stemmed from a lengthy labor-management dispute.

Dowdy? Not Marilyn

LONDON (AP) — Marilyn Monroe says she never dresses to please women.

Her reaction came in reply to criticism from a London fashion expert — a woman — that Marilyn is a "dowdy dresser." Marilyn explained she dresses to please men—only.

"It seems to me that any woman who dresses to please women is only fooling herself — not other women," said the blonde American movie actress.

Senate Grants $4 Billions for Foreign Aid Use

Anti-Tito Amendments Hold Up Final Passage of Appropriation Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) —The Senate voted to grant the administration $4,110,920,000 in foreign aid appropriations today after rejecting an attempt to slash $126,600,000 in economic assistance money.

The funds in the foreign aid bill, including $2,300,000,000 in military assistance, were approved by a 57-33 roll call vote.

This action came after a 54-36 vote rejecting Ellender (D-La) calling for a 10 per cent cut in President Eisenhower's requests for defense support and development assistance abroad.

Final passage of the bill, however, awaited action on other amendments.

The vote which followed the rejection of the Ellender amendments buttoned down the committee's recommendations for economic assistance. The Senate last week approved the $2,300,000,000 in military assistance funds.

Still pending was an amendment, opposed by the administration, to prohibit President Eisenhower from shipping additional jet fighters planes to Yugoslavia and to limit future military aid to President Tito for maintenance and spare parts for equipment he already has.

The Senate defeat of Ellender's proposal for a 10 per cent cut in most of Eisenhower's itemized requests for defense supports and development assistance abroad was a major victory for the administration.

But Senate Democratic Leader Johnson of Texas predicted later adoption of an administration-opposed ban on shipment of jet fighter planes and all new arms to Yugoslavia.

The administration asks that the Senate leave the question of further shipments to Marshal Tito to the President's discretion.

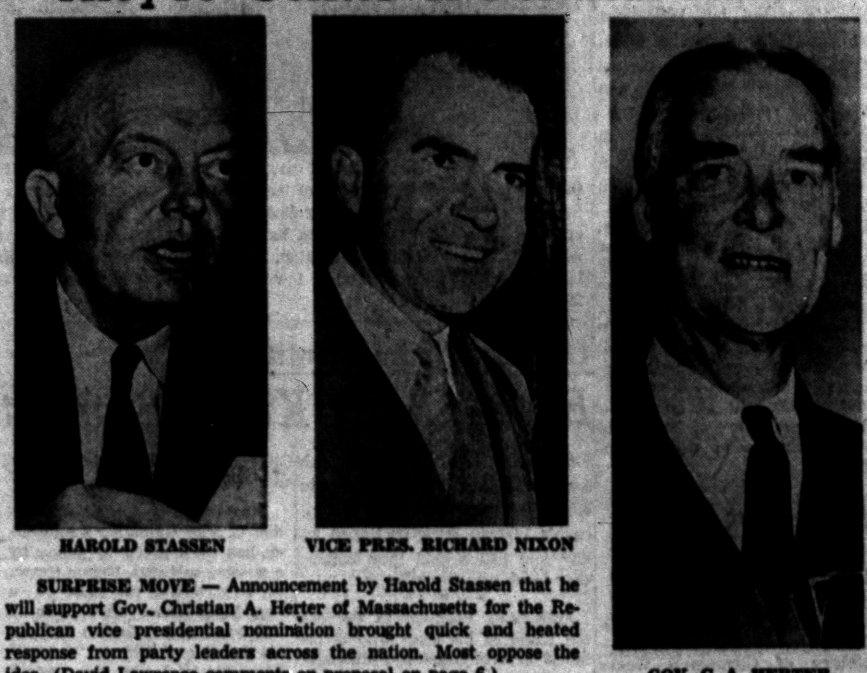

Get the Umbrellas! Rain Is on the Way

The U. S. Weather Bureau predicts scattered showers and thunderstorms for the Pontiac area tonight with a low of 64 to 68 degrees.

Scattered showers and thunder showers is also the forecast for tomorrow with a high of 80 to 84 degrees.

The lowest temperature reading before 8 a.m. in downtown Pontiac was 62 degrees. The thermometer registered 87 degrees at 2 p.m.

They're Center of Political Hassle

HAROLD STASSEN — VICE PRES. RICHARD NIXON — GOV. C. A. HERTER

SURPRISE MOVE — Announcement by Harold Stassen that he will support Gov. Christian A. Herter of Massachusetts for the Republican vice presidential nomination brought quick and heated response from party leaders across the nation. Most oppose the idea. (David Lawrence comments on proposal on page 6.)

Stassen Urges Gov. Herter Replace Nixon

Chief Executive Shows No Sign of Irritation Over Aide's Proposal

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower returned today silent on the growing ruckus within his official family over whether Vice President Nixon should again have the No. 2 spot on the GOP ticket.

But the President, on his arrival by plane from Panama, had a warm greeting for Nixon. He gave a smile and a handshake to Harold Stassen, his disarmament aide, who came out yesterday for Gov. Christian Herter of Massachusetts as a replacement for Nixon.

Stassen, seemingly unconcerned over the party uproar he has touched off, tried to put more steam into his dump-Nixon move.

He called a news conference, hurled a triple challenge to GOP Chairman Leonard Hall, who is backing Nixon, and said he hopes to have a meeting with Hall today or tomorrow.

President Eisenhower will not hold a news conference this week.

Press Secretary James C. Hagerty said today the President will meet instead with Republican legislative leaders tomorrow, his usual news conference day.

In Boston, Gov. Christian A. Herter of Massachusetts said today he still isn't a candidate for vice presidential nomination despite Harold E. Stassen's announced support of him.

However, Herter reiterated at a news conference his willingness to "do anything the President asked me to do."

Stassen had told a news conference yesterday that "in loyalty to President Eisenhower" he would work to replace Nixon on

Area Republicans Critical

Blast Dump Nixon Suggestion

Prominent Oakland County Republicans today expressed indignation at President Adviser Harold E. Stassen's suggestion yesterday that Vice President Richard M. Nixon be dropped from the November ticket in favor of Massachusetts Gov. Christian A. Herter.

County Republican chairman Chad M. Ritchie called Stassen a "political opportunist."

"I think Mr. Stassen's remarks were in very poor taste, and he was out of order," Ritchie said.

"I very definitely prefer Nixon for the nomination, unless President Eisenhower indicates Nixon is not acceptable to him.

"I do not believe Stassen's statement indicates anything of the sort. I sincerely hope Nixon will be nominated."

Former county chairman Edward Wilson joined in condemning the Stassen statement, saying:

"I don't think the statement was very timely, and I don't think someone like Stassen, in his capacity as Presidential Adviser, should have made it.

"Personally, I am a very staunch supporter of Dick Nixon, and was before he was nominated in 1952. He has done an able job, and I think he has a lot of support.

"I'm not familiar with Herter's qualifications, and I don't know him personally.

"I predict Dick Nixon will be the next vice president."

Fluoridation Given Praise

Public Health Service Report Shows 'Striking Reduction' in Cavities

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Public Health Service reported today that a 10-year study at Grand Rapids, Mich., has shown a "striking reduction" in tooth decay among children as a result of fluoridation of drinking water.

A special study at Grand Rapids was undertaken in 1944-45, to run 10 to 15 years. It is being conducted by the Health Service, the Michigan Department of Health and the city.

Muskegon, Mich., was initially used as the control area for comparison of results. Muskegon in 1951 also began to fluoridate its water.

The findings were written by Dr. Francis A. Arnold Jr., director of the National Institute of Dental Research, and three associates — Drs. H. Trendley Dean, secretary of the Council on Dental Research of the American Dental Assn.; Philip Jay, professor of dentistry at the University of Michigan and John Q. Knutson, chief dental officer of the Public Health Service.

Their report said:

"There has been a striking reduction in the amount of dental caries in both the deciduous teeth and permanent teeth."

Milton Eisenhower Takes College Post

The 56-year-old educator, diplomat and expert in many phases of governmental operations accepted the post in a telephone conversation from Panama, where he was attending a Pan-American meeting with his brother.

Strike Strands Tourists

Permits Agencies to Sue

House OKs Bill to Guard Car Dealers' Franchises

WASHINGTON (AP)—The House yesterday passed 146-45 a disputed bill to allow dealers to sue car maunfacturers if they do not act in "good faith" in carrying out the terms of a manufacturer-dealer contract.

The measure stems from lengthy hearings involving dealer complaints that the big auto manufacturers held the whip hand in giving and taking away dealer franchises, and that they used this power to force more cars on dearlers than dealers profitably could sell.

The bill would allow damages against manufacturers for "coercion, intimidation or threats of coercion or intimidation" in carrying out franchise agreements.

The bill was passed by standing vote and readied for adjustment with a similar Senate-passed bill after chairman Celler (D-NY) of the House Judiciary Committee argued in its favor.

A number of Republicans contended the measure would violate constitutional provisions on the sanctity of a contract, would be only a one-way street because manufacturers could not similarly sue dealers for their "bad faith" on franchise agreements and would introduce a new principle of federal involvement in private contracts.

Kroll Holding to Early Lead

(From Our Wire Services)

CANTON, Mass.—Unemotional, rock-steady Ted Kroll of Ft. Lauderdale, Fla., led an uncertain-putting Jackie Burke, two up at the end of the first 18 holes in their 36-hole final match in the Professional Golfers Assn. Championship today.

Kroll led at the turn of the morning round. He carded a one-under par 35, while Burke was even par 36.

Burke dropped to two down at the 10th.

Kroll went three up at the 12th when Jackie missed a two-footer. They halved the 230-yard 13th with one-over fours, and 15th also. The trapped iron shot at the short 16th cost Kroll the hole.

The dogleg 17th was halved in birdie threes, and Kroll and Burke also halved the 498-yard, par 5 18th in birdie fours.

Kroll was three under par with a 35-33—68, while Burke was one under par with 36-34—70.

Out
Burke	444	255	34—35
Kroll	444	344	354—35
In
Burke	448	244	234—37—70

Avon Township Man Killed in Crash

Glenn A. Phillips, 27, of Avon Township, died today in Lowell General Hospital, Lowell, Mass., of injuries suffered last night when his car left the road and hit a tree in Tyngsboro, Mass.

According to Rochester police, Phillips is a former employee of the Rochester Paper Co.

Rita Hayworth Bruised

LONDON (AP)—Actress Rita Hayworth was bruised today by collision of an automobile in which she was riding and a truck. Her bruises were described as minor.

Eligibility in Doubt?

WASHINGTON (INS) — The fact that Massachusetts Gov. Christian A. Herter was born in Paris probably would not keep him out of the vice presidency.

Legal authorities have long held, however, that a child born of American parents living abroad is considered a native American if he is promptly registered with the U. S. Consulate — as Herter was.

The jurists point out, nevertheless, that the issue has never been tested in the courts.

However, the governor has concluded that he meets the "natural born" prerequisite. He pointed out recently that the Constitution says "natural born" and not "native born."

Bandsman Caught Again

HOLLYWOOD (INS) — Bandleader Freddie Martin, 48, will be arraigned next week on a charge of drunk driving—his second such charge in nine months.

Landmark Razed After 47 Years of Service to City

DOWN SHE COMES — After 47 years of use, the original Pontiac General Hospital building is coming down to make way for a $3.5 million addition. The structure, constructed in 1909, supplied some 15 beds at the start. Later additions increased the capacity to 65 beds in 1929, when construction began on the main hospital building at West Huron and Johnson Streets. All facilities of the razed edifice have been moved into the present building while a home on Johnson Street has been purchased for storage of supplies. To make way for a delivery room formerly in the old structure, two wards on the third floor have been eliminated for the new delivery room.

MRS. L. D. HALL

Former Pontiac Teacher Dies

Mrs. Livingston Hall Was Resident of Pontiac Area for 25 Years

Mrs. Livingston DeVere (Mamie D.) Hall, 54, of 2155 Highfield Rd., Drayton Woods, former teacher of the Pontiac Public School System, died yesterday afternoon in St. Joseph Mercy Hospital of a chronic heart condition.

* * *

She was born in Pentwater, Oct. 7, 1901 and was married in Detroit on March 24, 1923. Her parents were the late Dr. Samuel B. and Anna F. Blakely Degnan.

Mrs. Hall was a direct descendent of John and Priscilla Mullins Alden who came to America on the Mayflower in 1620.

She attended Albion College and was graduated from the University of Michigan in 1923.

A resident of the Pontiac area 25 years, she came here from Detroit where she had been a substitute teacher in the Highland Park High School for six years.

* * *

Mrs. Hall was a teacher in the Daniel Whitfield School from 1939 to 1953 and taught in the Baldwin School from 1953 to 1955. She was a member of the Presbyterian Church, Alpha Chi Omega sorority, Michigan Education Association and the Pontiac Federation of Teachers.

She leaves her husband; a daughter, Mrs. Miles Wedeman and one granddaughter, Sara Capen, of Alexandria, Va. A brother, Dwight A. Degnan, is living in Pasadena, Calif.

Service will be at 11 o'clock Wednesday morning from the Donelson-Johns Funeral Home with Dr. William H. Marbach of the First Presbyterian Church officiating. Cremation will follow a private committal service at White Chapel Memorial Cemetery.

A-Power Bill Moves to House

Outcome Still in Doubt; GOP Wants 'Protective' Amendments

WASHINGTON (AP) — A partisan fight over launching the government on a speedup program of building atomic power plants moves to the House floor today.

* * *

Just how it would come out was anybody's guess, but indications were the vote would be close. Meanwhile, Republicans pushed for adoption of what they call "protective" amendments.

The fight centers around a bill passed July 12 by the Senate by a 49 - 40 votes over administration opposition.

The bill would direct the Atomic Energy Commission to start a 400-million-dollar program of building large atomic reactors to develop electric power for several of its own installations. No number is specified. Smaller experimental plants would be built elsewhere in this country, and the AEC would be directed to conduct a "vigorous program" of helping to develop reactors in other countries.

Weeks Says Sales to Soviet Increases

* * *

His review, which normally would have come out in Washington, was released at this hideout press headquarters in line with an announced plan to give out some "hard" government news here along with "reports" on the theoretical enemy air strike which triggered the current nationwide civil defense test.

Weeks said license approvals for Soviet bloc destinations in the second quarter included such relatively new items as grain sorghum, nonstrategic synthetic rubber, phonograph records, medical research instruments and equipment and farm machinery.

* * *

He pointed out that U. S. exports of strategic goods continue under strict control, and that the total embargo against U. S. exports to Communist China and North Korea is unchanged.

Young Fliers to Hold International Meeting

WASHINGTON (AP) — Five young men from Mexico and five from Cuba arrived early today for the annual international air youth exchange of the Civil Air Patrol.

Twenty-five Canadian youths arrived from Montreal Sunday. Another 115 foreign youngsters — 25 from England and 5 each from 18 other countries in Europe and Latin America — were en route.

The young men, ranging in age from 15 to 19, and their 44 adult escorts will be assigned to separate groups and will be flown Saturday to various state capitals where they will be guests of CAP state organizations.

They will reassemble in New York Aug. 7, and will fly home on Aug. 12.

Meanwhile, 150 U. S. cadets are enjoying the hospitality of aviation organizations in the 22 nations represented in the exchange. They are to return home Aug. 16.

DERAILED CHIEF — All 13 cars and two of the four diesel locomotive units of the Santa Fe's San Francisco Chief were derailed when the crack streamliner struck an iron bar as it was coming into the station at Carrollton, Mo. An iron ladder, two iron beams and a tow cable were found later.

Investigators said they believe the ladder, cable and two 100 pound beams "fell off an east bound freight train onto the west bound tracks."

They said the train pushed them about 100 yards where they hit and opened a switch, causing one wheel of the train to leave the track.

Chicago Victim Identified

Bare-Chest Killer Sought

CHICAGO (INS) — The search for the slayer of a 50-year-old sunbather who was slain in Chicago's Lincoln Park continued today and police said they believe they know who the killer is.

* * *

Authorities declined to disclose the name of the man who is believed to have murdered Margaret Gallagher, part owner of a beauty shop, pending his arrest.

Meanwhile, a second description of Miss Gallagher's murderer has been given to police by a passing motorist, Halton Grant, 19, he described the killer as "a big, hairy-armed man with a flat head and a foolish look on his face" and added: "I would know him if I saw him again."

Authorities got their first description of the slayer from the only known witness, Arthur Kirk Besley, 55, who saw the murder take place through high-power binoculars from his 15th-floor apartment a half mile away Sunday.

It was Besley and his wife who sped to the scene and summoned police. Besley said he saw a man bare-chested spring out of a clump of bushes near where Miss Gallagher was sitting, loop a shirt about her neck and drag her into the bushes.

An examination showed that her skull had been fractured by a heavy blow and that her assailant had attempted to molest her sexually. A pair of shorts she had been wearing was found near the body.

Pleading guilty to drunk driving, Billie K. Smith, 22, of Oxford, was fined $100 and $25 costs yesterday. He was arraigned before Justice Helmar G. Stanaback, of Orion Township.

Renew Steel Strike Talks

NEW YORK (AP) — Union and company negotiators sit down for new contract talks today in hope of ending the 24-day-old nationwide steel strike.

* * *

There was speculation that the companies would make a revised contract offer to the United Steelworkers of America.

USW President David J. McDonald said on arrival from Pittsburgh that he had no idea whether the steel companies had a "new offer."

"Please God, that this visit to New York will be more fruitful than the last," he said.

* * *

Earlier contract talks here ended in a stalemate that signaled a walkout of 650,000 steelworkers. Nearly 90 per cent of the national steel capacity has been idled by the strike and about 103,000 workers in allied industries have been laid off.

* * *

There was speculation in Pittsburgh that the companies might be prepared either to revise their basic proposals or to modify them within the framework of the long-term pact they say is necessary for industry stability.

A bicycle-car collision slightly injured two Waterford Township children last night, township police said. Both were treated by a doctor.

Mark J. Galardi, 5, and his sister, Sheila A., 3, of 4805 Ross Dr., were riding on the bicycle which collided with a car driven by Jay Kuenzer, 36, of 4607 Forest St.

Enters Plea of Guilty to Breakin of Market

Charged with the nighttime breakin of a Pontiac market July 15, Basilio Rocha Ortega of 381 Irwin Ave. pleaded guilty yesterday at his arraignment in Oakland County Circuit Court.

Judge Clark J. Adams will sentence Ortega July 30.

Woman's Wrist Watch Taken From City Home

Mrs. Stanley Regier, of 112 Cottage St., told investigators the watch had been kept in the cupboard in her bathroom.

Stassen Endorses Herter Over Nixon

Stassen said private polls had shown an Eisenhower - Herter ticket would be 6 per cent stronger than an Eisenhower-Nixon combination. The added strength, he said, might mean the difference between Republican and Democratic control of Congress.

In a solicitous tone, Nixon said he had noted how Eisenhower had had a busy time in Panama, including several hours of listening to speeches at the meeting of American presidents. Nixon offered this word of advice to the President: "Take a little time off now."

Eisenhower appeared fully rested and alert as he alighted from his plane. The Columbine has sleeping accommodations and there was opportunity for nearly a full night's rest on the flight north.

Nixon, interviewed separately, renewed his statement of last night that he stands on his announcement that he is available for a second term bid but that the matter is one for Eisenhower and the GOP convention.

The White House quickly disavowed the idea with a statement that cast some doubt on Stassen's continuing in his Cabinet-rank post. Many Republicans regarded Stassen's attempted bombshell as a dud, and quickly predicted Nixon would be renominated despite the move against him.

* * *

Stassen said he had informed both Eisenhower and Nixon in advance of his proposed action.

In Lake Tahoe, Nev., Adlai Stevenson predicts President Eisenhower will retain Vice President Nixon as his 1956 running mate.

If Eisenhower was doing anything active about the vice presidential flurry there was no outward sign of it.

City Police Investigate Weekend Gasoline Theft

Some 30 gallons of gasoline valued at $9 was reported taken from trucks and other vehicles parked in the company yard.

Albert Marsh, company manager, told police the incident occurred over the weekend. He said the trucks were slightly damaged and an electric line was crushed when driven over.

City's Bedroom Burglar Gets Term in Jackson

Gerald Lenz, 21 of 120 Raeburn St., identified by police as the "bedroom burglar" responsible for more than 35 Pontiac breakins this year, was sentenced yesterday to 3-15 years in Jackson State Prison by Oakland County Circuit Judge Clark J. Adams.

Lenz pleaded guilty last week to breaking into a house at 451 S. Paddock St. and stealing $75 and a bus ticket.

Stands Mute on Charge

Demands Examination Upon Arraignment

Arraigned before Waterford Township Justice Willis D. Lefurgy yesterday on a charge of unlawfully driving away an auto yesterday, Jack Spears, 40, of 144 N. Telegraph Road demanded examination.

He was remanded to Oakland County Jail when he failed to post $2,500 bond. Examination was set for August 2.

Building Changes Up for Action

Action on three proposed amendments to the city's building zone ordinance is expected tonight as commissioners meet to act on a 13-point agenda.

* * *

Adoption is expected on amendments pertaining to the Zoning Board of Appeals and non-conforming uses in the city; and, introduction of an ordinance to add personal service districts to the city's zoning areas is also scheduled.

City Manager W. K. Willman is expected to present a report concerning appointments to the Planning Commission.

City Attorney William A. Ewart is slated to report on the Sallee Woods Plat action deferred from last week's session.

Scheduled for first reading is an ordinance to rezone to Commercial 1 lots 1, 2, 97, and 98 of Joslyn Gardens subdivision.

SPECIAL ASSESSMENT

Confirmation of the special assessment roll for curb, gutter, and related work for Hazel Avenue from Telegraph to Starr is on the agenda.

A resolution declaring curb, gutter, grade, gravel and related work for Herndon and Selmer Avenues from Orchard Lake to Clinton River Drive a public necessity also will be considered.

A letter from Motron L. Schlonick regarding improvement of the South Park Subdivision will be read by the city clerk.

The Cook-Nelson Post 20 of the American Legion has submitted a letter asking transfer of property they own at the Oakland-Saginaw intersection in exchange for other city owned property.

* * *

A Detroit Edison Co. communication regarding construction of a sub-station on the south side of Featherstone Road, will also be acted on tonight.

Pontiac Deaths

Frank Benny

Frank Benny, 67, of 18 Lexington Place died at 9 p.m. yesterday of cerebral thrombosis in Veteran's Hospital, Grand Rapids. He had been in the hospital eight years.

He was born in Cleveland, Ohio on May 4, 1889, the son of Frank and Margaret Burke Benny.

Coming here from Detroit 41 years ago, Mr. Benny was a member of St. Vincent de Paul Church and had been the local representative for the American LaFrance Co. He had attended the St. Malachi School in Cleveland.

A veteran of World WarI, he was an honorary member of Pontiac Lodge BPOE No. 810 and the Knights of Columbus.

He is survived by a brother, Vincent J. Benny of Pontiac; four sisters, Mrs. Walter Nichols of Menden, Mrs. Joseph Bradley of Ferndale, Mrs. Arthur LaFave of Pontiac and Mrs. George Merstik of Cleveland.

An Elks Lodge of Sorrow will be held at 8 p.m. Thursday in the DeWitt C. Davis Funeral Home. The Knights of Columbus will recite the Rosary immediately following at 8:30 p.m.

The funeral will be at 10 o'clock Friday morning from St. Vincent de Paul Catholic Church with burial in Mount Hope Cemetery.

John O'Neil

John O'Neil, 77, a former resident of 1175 Atkinson Ave. died Friday of a heart condition. He had been in ill health two years.

Born in Boston, Mass. on May 30, 1879, he was the son of Simon and Margaret McGovern O'Neil. A gardener, he had been a resident of Pontiac 30 years.

Service will be at 2:30 p.m. Wednesday from the Kirkby Funeral Home with the Rev. John W. Burgess of the Beulah Holiness Church officiating. Burial will follow in Oak Hill Cemetery.

John W. Rawlins

John W. Rawlins, 75, of 2881 St. Clair St., Auburn Heights, a former resident of Pontiac, died yesterday after an illness of three months.

Born in Raleigh, Ill. on Oct. 3, 1880, he was the son of Zachary and Margaret Bishop Rawlins and married the late Margaret Abney Dec. 31, 1900, in Raleigh.

He came to Pontiac 29 years ago from Harrisburg, Ill., where he was a member of the Church of God.

He leaves five children, Mrs. John Wiedman and Mrs. Theodore Schlappi, both of Auburn Heights, James Newcomb of Harrisburg, Mrs. Gladys Bishop and Mrs. Al Norman, both of Pontiac; ten grandchildren and nine great-grandchildren.

Living in Pontiac are a brother, Edgar Rawlins, and a sister, Mrs. Carrie Olvin.

A prayer service will be held at 11 a.m. Wednesday from the Voorhees-Siple Chapel with Dr. Tom Malone of the Emmanuel Baptist Church officiating. Mr. Rawlins' body will then be sent to the Turner Funeral Home in Harrisburg for service. Burial will follow in the cemetery at Raleigh.

McKeon Had Vodka, Witness Testifies

last time I remember seeing the bottle it was in his hand."

Before McPherson's appearance, defense attorney Emile Zola Berman was told by the court to see if he couldn't iron out his witness problem with the prosecutor, Maj. Charles B. Sevier of Jacksonville, Ill.

The Navy law officer, Capt. Irving N. Klein of New York City who functions as a judge, asked Berman if he had complied with the technical provisions of the law in asking the government to call such a large number.

When Berman said he hadn't because of a previous indication that Sevier would not agree to call a list of 17 witnesses previously requested, Klein said:

"It is not wholly fair to say that the trial counsel (prosecutor) has not complied with the request when you have not complied with the provisions of the code."

By the time the trial reopened today eight survivors of Platoon 71's death march had testified they were "goof offs" and McKeon was a Marine they admired.

VFW Members Attend Eaton Rapids Meeting

The group combined with representatives of other posts in providing a program of entertainment for children of disabled veterans residing at the home.

Ralph M. Dean, adjutant of Post 1008, presented a $50 check to the home as a gift from the Pontiac unit. Other local men attending were Loren Beach, Earl Parmenter, Leroy Boelter, E. M. Harbin, and William Weaver.

Gets Term in Jail

James Hicks, 42, of Detroit, who pleaded guilty last week to stealing two rings worth $150 from a house at 137 Wall St., was sentenced yesterday to six months in Oakland County Jail by Oakland County Circuit Judge Clark J. Adams.

The Day in Birmingham

City Downs Handbill Law; Lets Alteration Contract

BIRMINGHAM — A proposed ordinance banning tossing of handbills has been dropped by city commissioners.

Suggested by Commissioner Carl Ingraham to prevent litter of handbills being left on automobiles parked in city lots, it included bans on throwing of handbills onto public and private properties.

Ingraham moved to pass the ordinance, without the bans on private property, but his motion lost, 4 to 2.

L. R. Gare was directed at last night's meeting to gain more details on the Twelve Town Drain plans. Action on the drain's proposed share in costs for Birmingham was postponed.

The county drain commissioner pointed out that tentative approval of the assessments would speed start of work on the drain. He asked an Aug. 1 decision.

The amendment of Section 1001, zoning ordinance, was approved with no objections. It will allow the Birmingham Eccentric newspaper to build a new plant between Adams and Hunter on East Maple, and authorizes newspaper and printing operations in all business A zoning.

Contract was given to the Richard Eiserman Company, which bid $55,178 for alterations to the municipal building.

The work will provide offices for the engineering department, building department and planning department in the second floor of what is now the fire department wing.

There will be an office for the city attorney in the northeast corner of the building, and space will be provided for the clerk of the court to operate as a separate unit under the guidance of the court.

Offices will be provided on the second floor for the city manager's staff and the finance department. The latter will be consolidated with all its bookkeeping and accounting services.

The expenditure will leave the city's capital fund with a balance of about $80,000, according to Egbert.

* * *

August 20 hearings have been set for special assessment districts for the Ferndale and Park streets right-of-way and pavement projects.

Estimates of costs are for $25,000 for Park right-of-way, $16,000 for Park paving from Hamilton to Oakland, $39,000 for Ferndale right-of-way, and $14,450 for its paving from Hamilton to Oakland.

Paving another section of Park street was subject of a petition last week, that asked abandonment of a special assessment project.

Egbert told commissioners last night that after assessments are voted, the work should not be abandoned. Commissioners took no action.

Jaycees Open Public Office With Celebration

Another milestone in Pontiac Junior Chamber of Commerce history will be marked tonight as the group moves into its new office at 86½ N. Saginaw St.

To celebrate the opening of the new Jaycee office, some 200 people, mostly members and their families, are expected to attend an open house at the office at 7 p. m. The public is invited, Leslie W. Langford, second vice president, said.

Since the early 40s the Jaycees have operated out of officers' homes and the Pontiac Chamber of Commerce office at 34 E. Pike St. In 1936-37, both groups shared an office where the present Wyman Furniture Store on East Huron is today.

The group has leased the two-room office for five years. Materials to re-decorate the office were furnished by local merchants while the work was performed by Jaycee members.

Langford said the executive board of the Jaycee organization would run the office. The auxiliary will also use it for their activities, he added.

Judge Gives Sentences on Indecency Count

Two men who pleaded guilty July 9 to committing an act of gross indecency with a 17-year-old boy July 2 in Independence Township were sentenced yesterday by Oakland County Circuit Judge Clark J. Adams.

William Scoot, 27, of Keego Harbor, was sentenced to 2-5 years in Jackson State prison.

Kenneth Spicer, 17, of 31 Ellwood St., was placed on probation for three years and ordered to obtain psychiatric aid and pay $100 in court costs.

Chicago Asks for Nurses to Help in Polio Epidemic

An urgent appeal for registered nurses for polio duty in Chicago is being made by Midwestern Area, American National Red Cross in St. Louis, Mo., says Mrs. Mildred E. Bennett, executive director of Oakland County Chapter.

* * *

Kathryn Fitzpatrick, Midwestern Area nursing director, said nursing reserves in Chicago are already strained and the need is increasing.

"There are over 290 polio cases reported in the Chicago vicinity, and new cases are being admitted to hospitals at the rate of 10 to 15 patients each day," Miss Fitzpatrick said.

"To assure adequate care, nurses must be recruited at once. The immediate need is at Cook County Contagious and Municipal Contagious Hospitals in Chicago.

Mrs. Bennett said, "It is not our intention to drain nurses from our own community from duty in which they are vitally needed.

"However many registered nurses are not active in the profession and perhaps some can arrange their personal affairs to serve during this period when death or serious crippling may yet be prevented."

PAY TRANSPORTATION

Miss Fitzpatrick reports that the recruit request was made by hospitals and the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis.

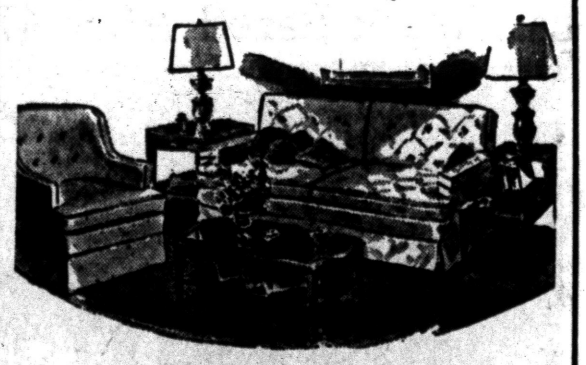

The foundation will pay cost of transportation to Chicago and provide maintenance in addition to salary while the nurse is to serve in polio work, Miss Fitzpatrick said.

Detailed information may be obtained by contacting the local chapter house, 118 Franklin Blvd., Pontiac, Mrs. Bennett added.

Texas Soil May Become Land Without a Country

* * *

A Texan, movie actor Audie Murphy, stepped into the mounting controversy today over what to do with the soil, which Japanese customs authorities would not allow beyond the airport here.

It had just about been decided to sprinkle the package of Texas dirt over the Pacific, but Murphy offered to pay the air freight back.

Whereupon Pan American World Airways said it would ship the soil to California at its own expense if Murphy would get it the rest of the way to Texas. It was loaded aboard a Pan American plane.

Murphy, winner of the Medal of Honor in World War II, is in Japan making a movie.

* * *

The dirt was consigned by a Dallas booster to the Tokyo Foreign Correspondents' Club "Texas Night" party. It arrived two weeks too late and meanwhile ran afoul of the Japanese quarantine law banning import of foreign soil.

The feeling at the press club, however, was that the shipment really had accomplished its mission more successfully than the Texans could have dreamed.

"And there's more publicity to come," glowed one member of the club.

"What happens when this dirt reaches the California state agricultural inspectors? If those Californians have any state pride at all, they certainly will refuse to allow this questionable Texas soil to be brought in.

"And it will become land without a country."

Probers Rap Hiring Outside Consultants

WASHINGTON (AP) — House investigators today criticized as too uncontrolled and possibly dangerous the present government practice of hiring outside consultants and experts.

A Government Operations subcommittee hit particularly at the temporary federal hiring of newsmen, suggesting this creates "governmental influence" over journalism.

It also alleged there is "lobbying" within the government by experts and consultants, and said there is evidence specialists have been employed for political reasons.

The subcommittee findings were approved by the parent Government Operations Committee. Rep. William L. Dawson (D-Ill) is chairman of both groups.

Jeanne Craine, Husband Agree on Property Split

HOLLYWOOD (AP)— Actress Jeanne Crain and her husband, Paul Brinkman, have reached a property settlement and an agreement for a quiet divorce which she will seek without contest from him.

Miss Crain's publicity agent announced the agreement and said the actress, charging extreme cruelty, probably will have a divorce hearing within three weeks.

Miss Crain filed for divorce last March 29 and in an amended complaint accused Brinkman of caveman tactics in displaying affection. Brinkman's cross-complaint charged her with adultery which she denied.

Roxy Theater Sale May Bring 6 Million

NEW YORK (INS) — The deal to turn the Roxy Theater property in New York into a "TV City" hasn't been closed but here's where it stands now: Real estate representative, apparently of Rockefeller Center, has paid $250,000 for an option on the property, which must be acted on by Aug. 15. This gives the prospective buyer the right to take inventory of Roxy assets. The inventory is now on . . .

It includes Roxy Theater equipment and warehouse on 11th avenue, where the Roxy's valuable theatrical stuff is stored . . .

The deal will total six million dollars plus or minus whatever is up to or below expectations in the audited inventory . . .

The deal will be a "sale-and-leaseback" affair in which the theater operators would lease back the property for a minimum of three years with options to a maximum of 10.

Bob Considine Says:

Conventions Turning Into Talent Scrambles

NEW YORK (INS)—Historians are a bit vague on just who entertained at the conventions which produced Washington, Jefferson, Jackson, Lincoln, Teddy Roosevelt and Wilson. Let us say the Federalist Party spent comparatively little to whoop things up for candidate Washington, and A. Lincoln slipped through, somehow, without the aid of George Murphy, the Republican actor, just as W. Wilson eked out a win while Phil Regan was still dreaming of making the police force.

But today, the floor show is as much a part of a national political convention as the windy speech from the stout woman delegate (in the half - empty and irreverent hall) and the smoke-filled room at the Blackstone.

Frank Sinatra announced from Madrid the other day (and the New York Times duly reported same) he will sing the "Star Spangled Banner" at the Democratic convention in Chicago.

Stung to the quick, sensing disaster in November unless this coup could be nullified and blunted, jolly George Murphy retaliated with Ethel Merman. Ethel is going to sing for the Republicans at San Francisco. Several political pundits agree this may be the first presidential race in the history of the Republic that ended in a tie. The Constitution is a bit flabby about such a possibility, by the way—passes it off as if it could never happen. But according to the various TV ratings, the difference between this and that star must be measured in decimals. So get set.

WHAT ABOUT A TIE?

What's to prevent Eisenhower and the Democrat each from getting 28,719,403 votes? If it happens, who breaks the tie? Will we have to bring home a Hollywood actor from Rome to cast the deciding vote, or would that louse up his patriotic gesture of saving Uncle Sam all that trouble of collecting income tax from him? It's a dinger of a puzzler.

The political convention entertainer must be as impartial as a new sultan. He must stick to the supremely patriotic ("God Bless America" let's say) or something sweet from Rodgers and Hammerstein or Jerome Kern.

He can't touch "Old Man River" because of the trouble each party is having writing a civil rights plank. He can't sing "Beautiful Ohio" at the Republican convention without reopening the whole question of whether Bob Taft was the victim of a fast double play in '52. He can't very well sing "Chicago" at the Democratic convention, or "Sidewalks of New York" or "The Tennessee Waltz" without calling attention to his personal reference. "The Missouri Waltz" might stampede the delegates.

* * *

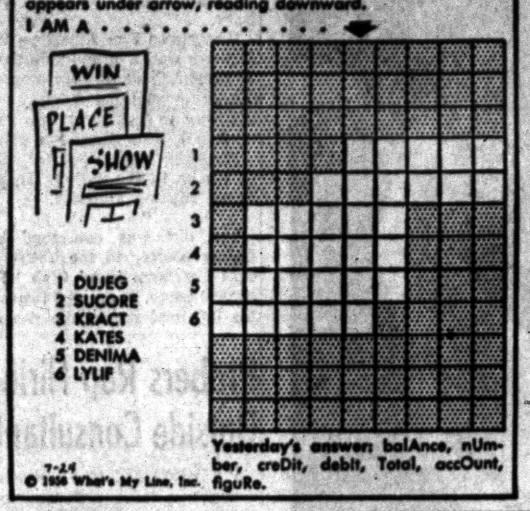

Phil Regan has the edge on Murphy, it seems to me, because he can sing "When Irish Eyes Are Smiling" louder. This little number has become as acceptable and desirable at political conventions as "Dixie" was before the South walked out on old Har' S. Truman. Smiling Irish eyes are as welcome around convetion times at the Smiling Irishman is when you want to unload the old bucket of bolts. On the other hand, or foot, George can tap-dance better than Phil. This could mean the difference, and alter the turbulent stream of history. There was a day when issues mattered almost as much as good lighting and makeup. But those were the days when the square was rampant.

The TV audience cannot be offended by a dull evening during the conventions. Woe to the party who lays an entertainment egg even though the party may be presenting a supernatural candidate and a puncture proof program. The foreign aid program, taxes, the steel strike, integration and the control of atomic energy are arresting items, but the candidate who brings Martin and Lewis back together, on live compatible color, might sweep aside the plodding soul who counters with solutions of all these problems plus gless glub from the Y.W.

Plane Executives' Salaries 'Shock' Congressman

WASHINGTON (INS)—The chairman of the House Armed Services Investigations subcommittee described himself today as "stunned" when he heard the large salaries paid aircraft executives.

Rep. F. Edward Hebert (D-La) who heads the investigating group, stated:

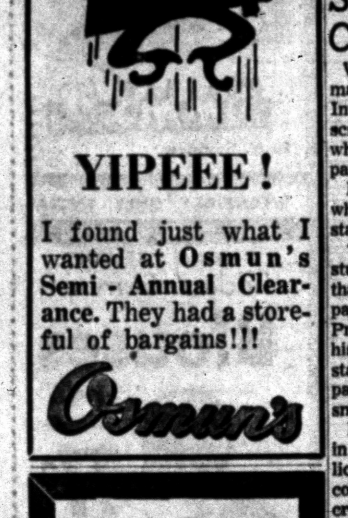

"I can say unreservedly I was stunned when I read the salaries that some of these companies were paying their executives. Why, the President of the United States and his cabinet and the White House staff don't even have an executive payroll the size of a few of these smaller companies. . ."

Hebert's views were expressed in a statement shortly after publication of a report by his subcommittee which cleared the aircraft industry of charges it was reaping excessive profits on government contracts. The House group has conducted an extensive investigation of the activities of 12 major aircraft concerns.

Girl, 7, Shot by Neighbors

Accidentally Wounded by Quarreling Couple; in Serious Condition

CHICAGO (AP)—A 7-year-old girl was shot and seriously wounded last night when she walked into a neighbors home where a couple reportedly were quarreling.

* * *

Sheriff's police said Warthen L. K. Hobbs, 51, admitted he fired the shot from his .45-caliber automatic pistol which struck Joan Marie Wood as she entered the Hobbs' front door in their suburban Northfield home. She was reported in critical condition.

Police said Hobbs was charged with assault with intent to commit murder and was held in jail in $25,000 bond, pending arraignment in court Aug. 4.

* * *

Sheriff's Capt. John Roche said Hobbs related that during a quarrel with his wife Helen, 53, she threatened to kill him. Roche said Hobbs told him he took his pistol from a drawer, loaded it and told her to shoot him. He said he fired a shot from the gun to show her it worked. The bullet struck the neighbor girl in the abdomen.

Mrs. Hobbs was charged with disorderly conduct and released on $200 bond.

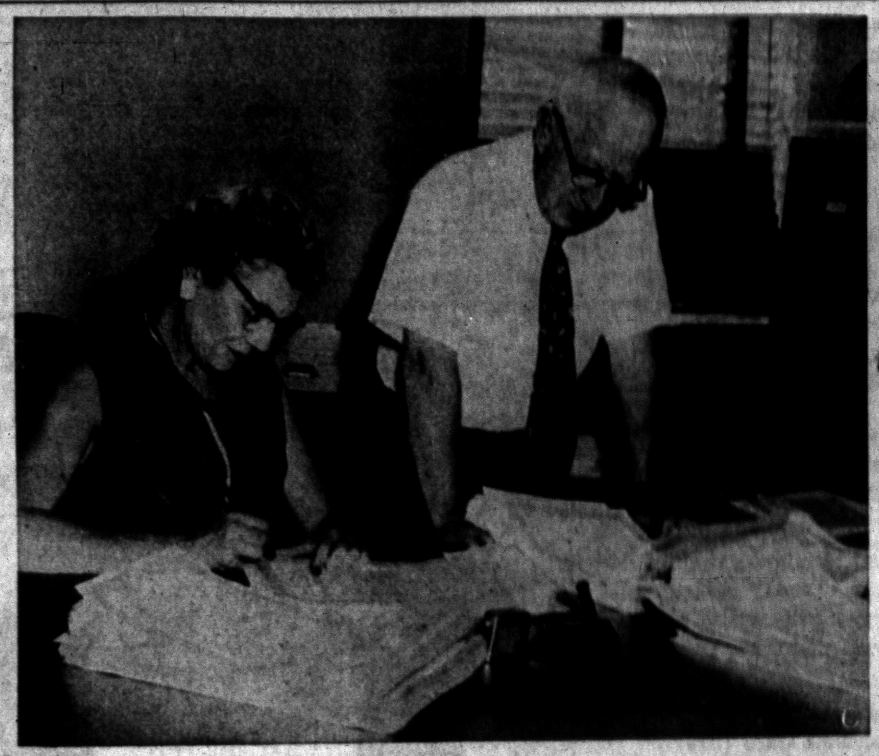

Hubbard Presses Plea to Disqualify Opponent

LANSING (AP) — Mayor Orville Hubbard of Dearborn asked the Michigan Supreme Court yesterday to reconsider his request for disqualification of an Aug. 7 primary rival for circuit judge.

In a petition filed by Atty. Gregory M. Pillon, Hubbard said Frank P. Darin, Wyandotte lawyer, should be disqualfied from the race because his nominating petitions contained fraudulent signatures.

The court last week denied Hubbard's original petition. Hubbard asked for a rehearing.

The court's action of last week drew an angry protest on procedural grounds from Justice Eugene Black of Port Huron, who said he was not consulted in the case.

2,900 TIMES — When you hear City Clerk Ada R. Evans (left) complaining of a sore hand today, she has plenty of reason to complain. Stretching into the late hours last night, she was putting her signature on 2,900 $1,000 general obligation bonds to finance part of the Pontiac General Hospital addition. Mayor William W. Donaldson has had to sign his "John Hancock" the same number of times. Watching the clerk yesterday was Oscar Eckman, director of finance for Pontiac. She signed approximately 1,000 yesterday and expects to complete the task today.

Pontiac Amvets Post Slates Open Meeting

An open meeting for all veterans in Pontiac and surrounding areas will be sponsored Sunday by Pontiac Amvets Post 113, it was announced today. The event will be held at the Post home.

The meeting has been arranged in order that veterans can become better acquainted with new parts of the Veterans Administration policies. Several speakers will be on hand to explain policies and answer questions.

Two other events being planned by Post 113 will be held the first week of August. They will include a trip to a Detroit baseball game and a post picnic.

Radford and Magsaysay Discuss Area Security

MANILA (AP)—Adm. Arthur W. Radford, chairman of the U.S. Joint Chiefs of Staff, conferred for an hour today with President Ramon Magsaysay on the U.S. military aid program to the Philippines.

* * *

"They reviewed the security situation in this country, as well as this part of the world," a government press spokesman said. "Adm. Radford was updated on the progress of U.S. military aid to the Philippines."

The spokesman said the Philippines early next year will receive a squadron of 30 F86 Sabre Jets, four SA15 amphibian planes for air rescue operations and a number of T33 trainer jets under the aid program.

Michigan Campaigners Offer Drive-In Politics

DETROIT (AP)—In this day of drive-ins, they're offering something new in the way of political super service in Michigan's 14th congressional district.

Here the vote-minded citizen can drive into a political campaign headquarters, receive campaign literature, have stickers put on car bumpers and shake hands with the candidate, all without leaving the car.

Kavanagh Rules on 15-Mill School Tax

LANSING (AP)—Atty. Gen. Thomas M. Kavanagh has held that persons living in territory annexed to a school district can be taxed beyond the 15 mill limitation only if they participated in a referendum for taxation above that figure before annexation.

"The people in the area annexed cannot be saddled with an increase above the 15 mill limitation which depends for its validity on an election in which they were not qualified to vote," Kavanagh advised Clair L. Taylor, state superintendent of public instruction.

Annexation provisions of the School Code do not alter the situation as it has existed in the past, Kavanagh said.

New Recreation Area

Residents of this area have a hard time realizing the growth in population that is taking place, and the greater growth that lies ahead. We are used to the changes that take place every day. It is the person who comes back after an absence who notices the tremendous strides that have been made while he was gone.

Utility companies chart their forecasts, and these are impressive indeed regarding the increasing numbers of people who will occupy Oakland County and the adjacent areas in 1960 and 1970.

One of the indications of this steady increase in population is the announceemnt by the Huron-Clinton Metropolitan Authority that it is going ahead with plans for a huge new recreation area bounded by Mound Road, Twenty-six and Twenty-eight Mile Roads and Sheldon Road.

The park will include 3,500 acres, and an 800-acre lake. Some residents in the area protested against it, but a committee of supervisors from the boards of the six counties in and around Detroit recommended it highly. They said the growth in population means more park facilities will be greatly needed later.

The Authority already has options on about 1,000 acres and it will now seek to acquire the rest of the property. Development may not start for five years.

Some county residents fear the Authority will increase tax levies unduly by reason of the fact they are taking so much land off the tax rolls in the various counties in which the Authority functions.

Clare Cummings, Oakland County's representative on the Authority has a rather convincing reply to this fear, however. He points out that creation of the public parks each time has so increased the value of surrounding property that instead of a loss there has always been a gain in the assessed value of lands remaining on the tax rolls.

Kensington Park cost an average of $206 an acre. Property values around it have risen to from $800 to $1,000 an acre since the park was developed. Later efforts to enlarge the park have been delayed because it has been impossible to obtain the land at anything like the original figure.

Land in the Lower Huron Park cost an average of $348 an acre, including condemned parcels. Last month a small parcel needed to straighten out a boundary line cost the Authority $650 an acre. Nearby land now is said to be held for $1,000 or more.

The site of the new park lies east of Rochester. It will help to provide recreation facilities for the millions of people who will live in Detroit and the surrounding area in future years.

Members of the Authority have no fear that they are providing too much land for this purpose. They have studied the growth figures. Their only fear is that they will someday be accused of providing too little play area for the people of Southeastern Michigan.

Our 49,000,000 Families

One aspect of our national growth, the increase in the number of households in the United States, receives less attention than it deserves.

Back in 1946 there were some 38,000,000 American households. Since that time another 11,000,000 have been added, increasing the overall total to nearly 49,000,000. This reflects an impressive gain of 22.2 per cent.

It also helps explain why business has continued to expand and why the population has soared above the 167,000,000 mark. Every new household means that another family will be buying furniture, rugs, household appliances, utensils, sheets and towels and radio and television sets.

If and when that family moves from an apartment to a house it will face many other needs. Among them will be garden tools, home repair equipment and materials, paint and so on.

In other words, the increase of 11,000,000 households since 1946 is one of the real keys to the prolonged boom in the American economy.

That's a mighty fine suggestion. Let's ponder upon it. In connection with the recent roundup here, I have it direct from their national headquarters that it was the

David Lawrence Says:

Stassen Blunders on Gov. Herter

WASHINGTON—Harold Stassen, once governor of Minnesota and now a special assistant to President Eisenhower in charge of "disarmament," has made the biggest faux pas of his political career and set in motion a movement that could result in such a serious cleavage inside the Republican Party as to destroy the chances of re-electing Eisenhower.

Merely to have announced that he favors Governor Herter instead of Vice President Nixon for the second place on the ticket would not in itself have caused a big sensation.

But the grounds on which Stassen put it reveals to the nation that there may be some serious dissension inside the Eisenhower administration and that what's been regarded as an Eisenhower Dulles pro-American policy is really being threatened from within by proponents of a pro-European and pro-Asian policy.

The key sentence in Stassen's strange declaration is this: "The independent people at home, important portions of the population abroad, and the uncommitted nations in the world would have greater confidence in an Eisenhower-Herter ticket."

It will be a surprise to most Americans to learn that European and Asian leaders have to be satisfied before the Republican National Convention can pick a vice-presidential nominee. For undoubtedly Nixon doeesn't please Messrs. Nasser, Nehru and Tito.

GIVE DEMOCRATS AN ISSUE

This would give the Democrats, of course, a lively issue, as the voters in the past have shown themselves very sensitive about any suggestions that they must consider foreign influences in deciding an American election.

The innuendo in the Stassen statement about "important portions of the population abroad and the uncommitted nations in the world" liking Herter so much could split the Republican Party. For obviously many Middle West Republicans are bound to look with suspicion on any movement that is tied up with foreign economic or financial intrigue.

Stassen himself is vulnerable on this phase of present-day policies. Only last week Senator McClellan of Arkansas, Democrat, issued a report bitterly criticizing Stassen for helping the Russians get materials they can use in armament preparations. McClellan wrote:

* * *

"As is clearly documented in the report (concerning the relaxation of international controls over trade with the Soviet bloc), the American people and Congress were misled about the results of this 1954 agreement (with the Allies) by the statements of Harold Stassen while he was Battle Act administrator."

The report itself says:

"The Battle Act (mutual defense assistance control act of 1951) calls for termination of aid to nations that knowingly ship items of strategic significance to the Communist nations. . . .

"Harold E. Stassen, as Battle Act administrator, in effect circumvented the Battle Act by determining that items of manifest strategic significance, and which had been so regarded prior to the 1954 revision, were not strategic for purposes of Allied trade with the Communist bloc."

The report goes on to accuse Stassen of having "misrepresented facts," and as having been "an arrogant, evasive and uncandid witness" when he testified. It says that he "is to be severely criticized for his conduct in the matter."

The big question now will arise as to what group or groups were behind Stassen, both in this country and in Western countries, in trying to soften the embargo on strategic commodies and whether any of the same influences now are behind his sponsoring of Herter as a vice-presidential candidate.

For a move such as Stassen made was no spur-of-the-moment decision, but the carefully conceived plan of a group of New York business and financial men who hate been trying all through the present session of Congress to get vast appropriations for foreign aid "without any strings."

Stassen says an Eisenhower-Herter ticket "will run at least six per cent better than a Eisenhower-Nixon ticket." But he has overlooked the prospect that, by dropping Nixon, there would be at least a 20 per cent defection of regular Republicans who wouldn't go to the polls at all if President Eisenhower goes back on his pledge to support Nixon.

It's strange how the applecart can be upset overnight, and what looked like a sure thing for Eisenhower now becomes a big question mark until he himself clears the air.

Dr. William Brady Says:

Man Should Be at Side of Wife at Birth of Baby

"Is there some way in which I can locate a doctor who would be willing to deliver a baby at home? I have talked to several but they are much against it. Having had one baby in a hospital, I'm afraid to go to the hospital again." (Mrs. M. H.)

Many such queries in the mail these days.

I'm sorry I can't afford to maintain a directory service, to help these people keep their dignity. I can only urge them not to be intimidated by the vehemence of the doctors who are "against it." Despite anything they or their gullible customers may say or imply, I assure you, without fear of contradiction, that home is the safest place to have a baby. If any physician or specialist who likes obstetric patients to be incarcerated in an institution can cite vital statistics or other evidence to refute this statement, it is his duty to do so.

In this column in the past year or two I have quoted the words of some well-known young mothers who have had babies at home. First there was the movie star, Coleen Gray (Mrs. Bill Bidlack), who, like the correspondent, had borne her first baby in a hospital and didn't want any more of that atmosphere.

"Having a baby is one of the most wonderful experiences in a woman's life, I wanted in on it," said Miss Gray. In the hospital they had given her "a shot of something—and the next thing I knew I had a baby. They told me I should have been grateful. I wasn't."

Another movie star, Jan Sterling (Mrs. Paul Douglas), said, "One Hollywood doctor said he'd deliver my baby for $2,000 and I know another who quoted a $5,000 fee to one of my friends. You know how much my doctor is charging? — $300!"

Mr. and Mrs. John Boyd (Buck) Rodgers Jr., of Wilmette, Chicago suburb, didn't want hospital routines or being separated by delivery room rules or having their baby exiled behind a nursery window in the first week of the child's life. So they began a systematic canvass of doctors around Chicago. They heard all the old familiar arguments against childbirth at home, of course including that frightful one about not having at hand all the equipment for transfusion, etc. Someday, I suppose, such an emergency will actually occur, but I'll probably not hear about it because I will have been eliminated by a drunken driver on my way to the bowling green. At last the Rodgerses found a Chicago doctor who gave his enthusiastic approval to their plans.

"There was some discomfort, but no actual pain," recalled Mrs. Rodgers. "I had no anesthetics and felt no need for any . . . Of course there was some fear of the unknown . . . I wanted to have our second baby at home, too . . . this time was easier, for there was no unknown element . . . "

I hope every prospective parent who reads this piece will get the idea that a husband who is not a mouse or a rat is naturally as interested, as concerned, and as responsible for the baby as his wife may be. So I repeat, a man's place is at his wife's side when she is bearing their baby.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not to disease, diagnosis, or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

'Soapy State's Smartest,' Expresses Republican

Letters will be condensed when necessary because of lack of space. Full name, address and telephone number of the writer must accompany letters but these will not be published if the writer so requests unless the letter is critical in its nature.

Republicans chuckled when Governor Williams was "slapped down" at the recent Atlantic City conference, but he has shown repeatedly that he is smarter at this game of politics than any other state leader in either party.

He has wanted a Democratic State Highway Commissioner, so he talked George Higgins, a recognized Republican "Party Man," into heading the Michigan Turnpike Authority.

The Turnpike is right where it started, but "Soapy" hasn't complained, nor has he lifted one finger to help, for he had set the stage for the most bitter fight among Republicans that this county has seen for some years.

Reader Questions Island 'Paradise'

I read with interest your article in the Press last Monday about White Lake and Dawson's Island.

It is inconceivable to me that such an island could be the paradise that you write about. It could be all that you say, but what about the effect of such a paradise upon the rest of the shoreline? Inasmuch as Mrs. Dawson has only 120 feet of main shoreline, it seems to me that accessibility to the island would be difficult.

We have owned a piece of property across from the island for about 65 years. What assurance do we have that our interests will be protected? What kind of haven do long time residents have to look forward to? What is to stop strangers from trespassing upon private property?

For the best interests of the community, perhaps Dawson's Island could be used as a camping site or a bathing beach rather than multiple dwellings. In any case, I think it should be carefully considered for the best interests of everyone who lives there.

Explosives Expert Gets Cypriot Terror Bombs

By ROBERT TUCKMAN

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP)—They call him "The Bomb Man."

Sooner or later, Maj. William C Harrison of the British Royal Army Ordnance Corps gets his hands on all the bombs tossed on Cyprus by Greek Cypriot extremists in their violence campaign.

When it's "sooner," it means the bomb is either a dud or has been discovered before it could explode.

When it's "later," Harrison is working with fragments.

His job as head of a flying squad of explosive experts is to get to the scene in a hurry, find out all that can be learned about the bomb, relay the information to civil police and in case of arrests, give expert testimony in court.

If a bomb is found unexploded, his first task is to render the missile safe, then examine it for fingerprints and other data.

* * *

Since the Cypriot extremists in the EOKA underground organization launched their campaign in April 1955, Harrison and his four-man team of noncommissionerd officers have dealt with 1,600 lethal devices.

These range from the early type Molotov cocktail—bottle filled with gasoline—to the more recent time bombs, fragmentation grenades and land mines.

Harrison, a wiry, weatherbeaten man of medium build, has been in the Ordnance Corps since 1934. He is 45, married and has two sons, one 15 and the other 7 years old. The Harrisons have a home near Stratford-on-Avon.

* * *

Harrison's first experience with terrorist bombs was gained in Malaya in 1945. He arrived in Cyprus in January, 1955, and on April 1 the EOKA underground opened its campaign. On that day, some 200 bombs were planted or thrown, although 81 did not go off.

Harrison believes EOKA techniques in bomb-making are still poor.

One major incident he investigated was the attempt last March to blow up a transport plane at Nicosia airport. Three time bombs had been planted in the plane. Twenty minutes before the passengers—68 British service personnel, their wives and children—were to have boarded the plane, it burst into flames in the pantry section. Two bombs were found later in the wings.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Relax by Teaming Up With God

Opal tested my suggestion about teaming up with God Almighty. So have millions of other Americans. And God doesn't let you down if you get on His team and play the game according to the rules. But you must do your full share on the day shifts if you wish God to take over the night shift for you.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case S-320: Opal S., aged 29, is a public school teacher who attends my Bible Class regularly in the Chicago Temple.

* * *

"Dr. Crane, I get so tense at times that I can't drop off to sleep at night," she confessed.

"But I tried your suggestion about asking God to take over the night shift.

"It worked so quickly and completely that I was astonished. Last night, for example, I lay on my bed tossing and fretting and growing more irritated because I couldn't fall asleep.

"Then I remembered what you had said and I decided to test it. So I said a little prayer. I told God that I was worried and uncertain what to do about a certain problem.

"And I asked Him to help me. Then I concluded my prayer by promising I would try my very best to be a good Junior Partner of God's, and so I asked Him to look after me through the night while I slept.

* * *

"Well, Dr. Crane, the tension left me at once and I must have fallen asleep right away for I don't remember anything else until I awoke this morning more rested than I have felt in months."

GOD'S PARTNERS

Millions of Americans are beginning to team up with God in this fashion, and they find that it benefits them immediately.

When I addressed the Aid Association for Lutherans at the big Miami Beach Convention last year, I mentioned this simple prescription of teaming up with God as a method of giving us greater relaxation.

"Dr. Crane, it certainly does work wonders," a middle aged woman in the audience later informed me.

"During the war I was almost a nervous wreck because of my son's crash in a war plane. I knew he was at death's door. And I was so distraught I couldn't sleep.

* * *

"Alternately I cried and tossed and fretted. Finally I adopted your idea and said: 'Lord, it's all in your hands. I am at the end of my rope, so please look after my boy.'

"And no sooner had I said that, than I was sound asleep. In fact, I overslept the next morning.

"And before I had breakfast, I received a telegram saying my boy had passed the crisis and was now on the road to recovery."

PSYCHOSOMATIC MEDICINE

The power of the human mind is phenomenal. In modern medicine we are developing a new specialty called "Psychosomatic Medicine" to deal with such ailments largely rooted in emotional and mental disturbance.

* * *

God is still the best medicine that we physicians can ever prescribe. But he expects us to team up with him and utilize our wits, plus all the available drugs and other techniques that scientists have developed.

"God helps those who help themselves," is an old adage, which means that he doesn't want us lazily to ask him to do all the curing when we have insulin and other proved aids.

But when we get out of our depth, God often steps in and produces miraculous cures, as every experienced physician can attest.

Incidentally, the average physician has a shorter life span than does his average patient! And clergymen outlive all professional groups!

* * *

The physicians need to take some of their own medicine more regularly as regards relaxation and letting God help with the night shift.

Clergymen probably have much longer lives because they talk with God more often and have cultivated this ability to lean on God in a crisis.

Don't insult God, moreover, by deliberately irritating your lungs and thus producing cancer via cigagettes; then asking God to grant you long life.

You must play fairly if you wish to be on God's team.

The War Against Dope

Will 'Get Tough Policy' Cure Drug Addicts?

This is the last of two articles on the narcotics addiction problem in the U. S. and the new federal law aimed at ending the menace.

By ARTHUR KRANISH

WASHINGTON (INS) — Two sharply conflicting views have split the ranks of those in the U.S. who want to end the scourge of illegal narcotics.

* * *

All law and health officers agree narcotics are responsible for half the crime in our large metropolitan areas and that addiction costs hundreds of millions of dollars and uncounted lives each year.

But they differ on how best to meet this problem in the U.S.—a country which according to United Nations figures has more drug addicts than all other Western nations combined.

One group of experts, led by U.S. Narcotics Commissioner Harry J. Anslinger, advocated a "get tough" policy of stiff jail terms and maximum medical treatment.

* * *

Another group, led by the respected New York Academy of Medicine, believes the drug traffic can be stamped out by providing free drugs to confirmed addicts, thereby eliminating the profit motive for the underworld.

WANT CLINIC PLAN

Under this so-called "clinic" plan special treatment centers would be established, staffed with doctors, employment counsellors and others whose task would be to rehabilitate the addict and help him find a suitable job.

During these rehabilitation efforts the addict would receive a minimum drug supply at little or no cost. Gradually, attempts would be made to withdraw drugs and help the addict "kick the habit" through aid and treatment.

Anslinger and most health officials bitterly condemn this plan. A Senate Judiciary subcommittee, which spent months looking into the narcotics trade, declared:

"The so-called clinic plan for legal distribution of narcotics is totally unworkable, completely contrary to accepted medical practice and theory, and would aggravate rather than solve the problem of drug addiction."

Congress followed the subcommittee's lead and scrapped this approach in favor of a "get tough" policy which will soon have a chance to prove its worth.

PROVISIONS OF LAW

Last week President Eisenhower signed into law one of the severest measures ever adopted in the fight against crime. Anslinger and others believe it can wipe out the bulk of the narcotics traffic within a few years.

Among other things, the law provides:

1. A mandatory life sentence for anyone convicted of selling heroin to a juvenile. If the jury so recommends, the peddler can be put to death.

* * *

2. Upon conviction all other first offenders must receive jail terms of five to 20 years and a possible $20,000 fine. The jail term increases to 10 to 40 years for second and subsequent offenders.

* * *

3. Probation or suspension of sentence is allowed for first offenders, but jail terms are mandatory for those convicted two or more times.

* * *

Under the new law all possessors of heroin must surrender their supply to the U.S. Treasury within four months. Then, the government will distribute the drug for approved medical uses only.

The same severe penalties applying to sellers of narcotics apply to the underworld "importers." And conviction is simplified by a provision in the new law which makes possession sufficient evidence of importation.

* * *

Federal officials confidently believe this statute will have two major effects. It will frighten off the importer and peddler and make it almost impossible for the addict to obtain supplies.

Anslinger says this has been the experience in most of the South and in states such as Ohio which have virtually wiped out the drug traffic through the use of "get tough" penalties.

The commissioner predicts no dramatic nationwide "raids" under the new law. Instead, he says, his agents will make arrests as soon as they can build a strong "case."

COMMUNIST TACTIC

Meanwhile, agents abroad will step up their attempts to cut down on the flood of illegal narcotics smuggled in from such trouble spots as Communist China, Turkey, Lebanon and Mexico.

Particularly vicious is the trade from the Chinese mainland. Senate investigators recently reported:

"Subversion through drug addiction is an established aim of Communist China. Since World War II, Red China has pushed exportation of heroin to servicemen and civilians of the United States and other free nations of the world."

Narcotics agents working with friendly governments abroad are gradually closing down foreign sources of supply. Through international agreements the U.S. hopes to severely limit all types of narcotic production. And government agencies working together are intent on closing U.S. borders to drug traffickers, and deporting known peddlers and addicts.

FORMIDABLE TASK

But actually important today is the treatment and rehabilitation of the addict, an area where state, local and federal governments have fallen down badly in the past.

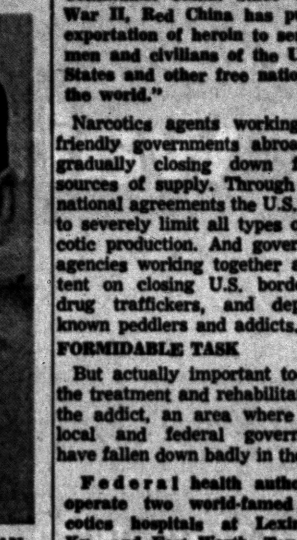

Federal health authorities operate two world-famed narcotics hospitals at Lexington, Ky., and Fort Worth, Tex., but their task is formidable and results have been discouraging.

Senate investigators reported that less than 15 per cent of the victims of drug addiction are being successfully cured today. One out of three addicts treated comes back for another "cure" and 75 per cent of the addicts who volunteer for treatment demand to leave before they fully benefit from medical and psychiatric treatment.

* * *

Such remains to be done at every level of government. The sub-committee flatly declared: "Existing procedures and facilities for the treatment and rehabilitation of drug addicts are inadequate and require substantial improvements."

But with more money going to treatment and research, with increased international control, and with a tough new law on the statute books authorities believe they can close the gates on narcotics—the "Highway to Hell."

RABBI ISRAEL GOODMAN

Jewish Temple Selects Leader

Assumes Spiritual Helm of B'nai Israel Flock on August First

Coming to Congregation B'nai Israel as spiritual leader on Aug. 1, will be Rabbi Israel Goodman.

* * *

For the past two years, Rabbi Goodman has served as chief rabbi in San Juan, Puerto Rico and as auxiliary chaplain to U.S. Armed Forces in San Juan.

A Rotarian for the past 11 years, he previously served as spiritual leader in Washington, Pa., where he also served on the Red Cross and Community Chest Board.

Rabbi Goodman received his B.A. degree in 1938 at Yeshiva University and was ordained by Rabbi Isaac Elchanan in 1941 at Yeshiva. He is married and has two daughters.

Checked Pants Worn by Duke at Wedding

Several other young men at the wedding of Teresa Crossley and Alain Camu, of Belgium, wore checked trousers instead of the usual striped greys.

Asked about the checks with morning dress a member of the wedding party explained:

Sammy Davis Jr.---Slow Man in a Hurry

BY PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK (INS) — A lot of people have Sammy Davis Jr. pegged for the TNT type. Can't slow down. Born in a trunk and been packing life with wallops ever since.

"I s'pose some people even think that book 'What Makes Sammy Run' was named after me. Very flattering, in a way, because all show people like to give the impression they're supercharged," he says.

Sammy spoke softly from the depths of a sofa. There was mood music easing out of his hi-fi.

"Actually, though, I take it pretty easy. I had an accident, and it helped me personally and professionally. Professionally it picked me up, and personally it slowed me down," he said.

The small, wiry singer-dancer referred, of course, to the auto smash three years ago in which he lost his left eye and gained — after 20 years of entertaining — a great new public.

"I was 27, and you know you go around pretty fast when you want to get somewhere," he recalled in a matter of fact voice. "So this was the shocker. I thought, 'Here it is — it could've been it.' I decided to take it slow and easy."

He used to read "Variety" and, when there was time, pocket mysteries.

* * *

Today, on the coffee table beside Sammy, there is a copy of Churchill's History of the English-Speaking People. Lining one wall are hundreds of record albums; altogether, here and in his California house, he has 20,000.

An aura of peace and snail's pace wafted over Sammy.

"So what are you going to do with your life in the future, besides sit and rock?" he was asked. And, with the speed of light, Sammy was sitting up.

"Eventually, I aim to be a director and I want to do movies — already lined up for two," he said. "Then, when I'm ready, maybe in three or four years, I want to do some serious acting on Broadway. I want to do some more professional photography, naturally, and I'm going to be married." He shrugged, grinned. "I think that's a man-sized job because I don't like that broken marriage bit."

MARRIAGE IN FEBRUARY

(Sammy is "unofficially engaged" to Cordie King, a Chicago model, and expects to marry her when his Broadway show "Mr. Wonderful" closes next February.)

He supposes, also, he will do some writing and TV shots and continue making records. After all, since he was born to a vaudeville family 30 years ago, he has been singing, dancing, playing the trumpet, piano, bass, drums, etc. he explained.

This sounded like Sammy Davis Jr., is what people thought he was —supercharged, with legs of liquid lightning. But Sammy explained that, too, as he lay back beside Churchill's history.

"I'll do those things," he said carefully. "Only I'll do 'em nice and easy."

Music, Culture Good in Russia—Peerce

NEW YORK (AP)—Opera star Jan Peerce said today that musically and culturally the Russians "are a wonderful people."

Returning from a singing tour of the Soviet Union, the tenor said however that "it came as a great surprise" to Moscow opera performers when he told them he was a product of American training.

Peerce said he met Nikita Khrushchev, communist party secretary. Khrushchev expressed regret at missing his concert, Peerce added, but declared "I would much rather listen to your voice than some voices I have to listen to."

Dem Senator Chides Dulles' Quotes on Reds

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Mansfield (D-Mont) said today Secretary of State Dulles is making statements about events in Russia which are not "fully responsible."

Mansfield told the Senate that Dulles is indulging in "wishful thinking" by attempting to set a date "for the completion of the Communist reformation."

* * *

"The truth is that nobody really knows what will happen," Mansfield said.

"If we ever start calculating how many years we have to go until we can rest," he added, "we will have started down the road to extinction."

Mansfield said he believes that the Soviet society and Soviet state "have undergone significant changes in recent years" but he cautioned against becoming "smug and complacent."

He said, "We tend to concentrate on the military threat which emanates from the Soviet Union."

"The threats arising from the world revolution against poverty are more subtle, more difficult to comprehend," he added.

The Blonde Cried MURDER

By Brett Halliday

XXII

Outside the hotel, Tim Rourke and Shayne got into Shayne's car while Gentry sent one of his men up to watch outside 316 and called headquarters over the two-way radio in the police car.

Shayne pulled away slowly, and Rourke slouched down beside him and lit a cigarette, speaking for the first time since the entered the hotel:

"What do you make of it now?"

Hunched over the wheel, Shayne growled, "Let's take a look at what's waiting for us in the morgue before we do any more guessing. You know every bit as much about all of it as I do. I don't hold out anything on Will."

"Only difference is—you talked to the girl personally and we didn't. If she isn't nuts—"

"Doesn't it begin to look more and more as though she isn't?" demanded Shayne. "It sounded haywire at first when she claimed she'd seen her dead brother and then scar-face claimed he was her brother. Now we know he isn't. And with this body picked up in the bay, there's a mighty good chance we'll discover he was in 316 just as she said, and was shoved out the window while she was looking for a phone."

"By scar-face?"

"It looks reasonable," said Shayne. "If he is the murderer and knows she's the only one who's actually seen the body in 316, it would give him a good motive for tracing her to my place and then trying so desperately first to make me think she's nuts and then to get his hands on her. Without her to testify about her brother's body, the corpse might well have drifted out to sea and never been found—at least, not until it was unrecognizable."

WHY DIDN'T SHE TELL

"Yeh. And it would explain how he came by Bert Paulson's wallet. If he killed the guy. But what's the Roney Plaza angle she handed you? Why didn't she tell you she was staying at the Hibiscus?"

"That's one of several things," said Shayne earily, "that I want to ask her the next time she and I have a tete-a-tete."

Will Gentry's official car wasn't in sight as they went up the steps to the morgue entrance.

The night attendant was a wizened man with a wide gap in his front teeth that showed when he grinned at the detective and reporter from behind a scarred desk with a bright light overhead. Dr. Martin, the police surgeon stood beside the desk as they entered, and he frowned, looking past them.

Shayne said, "We want to see the stiff that was pulled out of the bay tonight, Doc."

"Not much to look at."

The doctor loked past Shayne as another car stopped in front. A door slammed and solid footsteps sounded on the stone steps. Will Gentry came in heavily, nodding to the police doctor and attendant. "Been over him, Doc?"

THROAT CUT

"Superficially. Throat cut all the way across with a sharp knife or razor. One to two hours ago. I'd say he went in the water quite soon after death."

"Lots of blood?" asked Gentry matter-of-factly.

"Lots."

"What Will wonders," said Shayne, "is whether the job could have been done in a hotel room, say, without leaving blood behind it if he were shoved out a window fast."

Martin's eyes were bright with speculation. "It would have spurted," he said doubtfully. "If a pillow or blanket had been held ready and shoved over the wound fast, it might have soaked up the blood without a trace."

"Or a man's coat?" Shayne asked sharply.

SAME NAME

The attendant opened a desk drawer and drew out a manila envelope. The chief tore it open and withdrew an obviously expensive sealskin billfold that was still heavy with water. There were two credit identification cards from well-known hotels in New York, an accident insurance identification card.

All gave the name of Charles Barnes, and the insurance card gave an address on East 63rd St., New York City.

"That's everything we found on him," said Martin. "Not even a buck inthe wallet. He's 20 to 25. Healthy. No distinguishing marks. Five-ten or eleven, at a guess. Around 150 before the blood drained out of him. You want anything else from me tonight, Will?"

"I guess not, Doc. Unless something comes up. That remind you of anything, Mike?"

"Nothing except the description we had from the Jacksonville police tonight on Bert Paulson." Shayne's gray eyes were very bright. "Let's go down for a look."

The attendant got up hastily and preceded the three men to a heavy door in the rear opening onto a flight of stairs leading down into the concrete-lined cold-room. A dank chillness came up the stairs to meet them as they started down.

There were two white enamel tables under a glaring light in the center of the room, a bank of white, over-sized filing cabinets along one wall. Each cabinet had three drawers about six feet long and three feet square.

Appeal Draws GOP Slogans

Republican Dissatisfied With Current Phrases; 3,000 Suggestions Sent

WASHINGTON (AP)— Aides to Rep. Oliver P. Bolton (R-Ohio) reported in some amazement today he has received about 3,000 suggestions for a 1956 GOP campaign slogan.

They were submitted in response to an appeal by Bolton just last week.

* * *

The Ohio congressman, expressing dissatisfaction with current GOP phrases, offered a $25 savings bond to the winner—still to be picked.

Some of the suggested slogans emphasize candidates. For example:

"All in favor say Ike." "Keep that Eisenhower look—a fat pocketbook." Peace and power with Eisenhower." "Eisenhower, man of the hour." "Better an ill president than an ill country." "Ike and Dick are sure to click."

Other Republicans like the "Peace and prosperity" theme with such variations as: "From gloom to boom." "Grin and share it party." "A chicken on every corner." "We will not lower the boom." "Well heeled? You ought to know!"

* * *

Just what Bolton will do with the winning slogan hasn't been decided upon, but the GOP National Committee has expressed interest.

"Actually," said a committee spokesman, "we think now we'll go right down to the wire with 'Peace, prosperity and progress' but we haven't closed our minds."

How Michigan Voted on Civil Rights Measure

WASHINGTON (AP) — Following is the vote of the Michigan congressional delegation as the House yesterday passed the Civil Rights Bill:

Democrats against — None.

Republicans against — Bennett, Hoffman, Johansen and Wolcott.

Who is building Michigan's new roads?

Nor everybody in Michigan. Neither is it only highway contractors and their crews. It is you millions of car, truck and bus owners who pay state gasoline taxes on every gallon you buy—you are building the roads of which your state is proud.

Getting your money's worth? We think so. Look at it this way. A gallon of STANDARD RED CROWN Gasoline in mid-Michigan areas, for example, typically costs you 24 1/10 cents—excluding direct taxes, of course. For that, we find oil, transport it hundreds of miles, refine it to the finest quality gasolines you can buy for your car, and deliver it to your independent Standard Dealer. And your dealer's mark-up, which must cover his costs and what he earns for serving you, is included in the same 24 1/10 cents. Pretty reasonable, isn't it?

Then add your 6-cent state gasoline tax. Your state uses this tax, all of it, for maintaining and building better, safer highways.

Uncle Sam adds 3 cents more. That's the current federal tax on gasoline in all states. Under the new Federal Highway Bill, the federal government will be spending all this money on highways, too.

Finally your state sales tax amounts to more than 8/10 of a cent per gallon. This money helps support general governmental services, state and local.

These direct taxes you pay on gasoline total more than 9 8/10 cents a gallon

Remember, every time you pay the gasoline tax most of your money is buying better, safer roads in Michigan. And the next time you fill up at your Standard Dealer's you're getting one of the best bargains of any commodity you buy today—the highest quality, most powerful RED CROWN Gasoline we've ever made for only 24 1/10 cents per gallon, excluding taxes.

County Democratic Primary Candidates Are Listed

This is the first of eight articles on Oakland County candidates for local, state and national offices in the August 7 primary election.

Fifteen Democratic candidates have filed for nomination to six county offices in the August 7 primary election.

Two are unopposed, but hot contests are developing in the races for prosecutor, sheriff, register of deeds and drain commissioner. Democrats did not muster a candidate for the office of county surveyor, which will go to the GOP's sole candidate, Ralph A. Main, by default.

Brief biographies of the Democartic county candidates follow.

Prosecutor

ARTHUR W. KOLLIN

Pontiac attorney Arthur W. Kollin is one of three candidates for the nomination to run in November for the office of Oakland County prosecutor.

Kollin, 35, has lived in Pontiac since infancy. He is a graduate of the University of Michigan and Wayne University Law School.

Assistant prosecutor under Clyde D. Underwood and incumbent Frederick C. Ziem until 1954, he is now village attorney for Wolverine Lake.

Married and the father of three children, Kollin is president of the Pioneer Highlands Civic Association, a member of Elks Lodge 810, the Democratic Club of Pontiac, West Pontiac Kiwanis, Amvets, Pontiac Junior Chamber of Commerce, B'nai B'rith, Temple Beth Jacob, and the county, state and national bar associations.

* * *

DAVID E. UTLEY

David E. Utley, also seeking nomination as county prosecutor, has been a Pontiac attorney since 1934.

Utley, 49, is married and the father of four children.

He is a member of the Elks, Masons, Shrine, Temple Beth Jacob, the Pontiac United Nations group, the Metropolitan Club, and B'nai B'rith.

He belongs to the Oakland County and State Bar Associations.

* * *

WILLIAM A. WELSH

William A. Welsh, 57, of Royal Oak, is the third Democratic candidate for nomination as Oakland County prosecutor.

A Royal Oak resident since 1939, Welsh is a veteran of World War I and a member of the Delta Chi fraternity, the American Legion, Knights of Columbus, Royal Oak Exchange Club and the County and State Bar associations.

Born in Savannah, Ga., he attended public schools there and graduated from the University of Georgia before taking two law degrees at Georgetown University in Washington, D.C.

Married, Welsh is the father of three children.

Sheriff

WILLIAM S. DAHLERUP

William S. Dahlerup, 37, of Ferndale is one of three candidates for the Democratic nomination to run for the office of county sheriff in the November election.

Dahlerup, constable of Ferndale since 1949, now is serving his fourth term in the Post. Born in Iowa, he moved to Royal Oak in 1921.

Married and the father of three children, Dahlerup is a graduate of Wayne University and the U. S. Military School in Berlin. A veteran, he served with the 18th Infantry Division in England, France, Belgium and Germany.

President of the Ferndale Northeast Improvement Association and the Ferndale Labor Club, he is a member of the National Sheriff's Association and a Mason.

* * *

GEORGE D. HICKS

Also a candidate for sheriff, George D. Hicks, 50, of 16 N. Johnson Ave., was a Pontiac policeman for 22 years. He has been a plant protection officer, and now is employed by a local trucking firm.

Hicks was a Democratic candidate for sheriff in 1952 and 1954.

A graduate of Pontiac High School, Hicks is a member of Elks, Eagles, Moose, United Auto Workers, American Federation of Labor, United Plant Guards Workers of America and the Pontiac Democratic Club.

He is a past president of the Pontiac Metropolitan Club, Spirit 6. Married, he has three children.

* * *

DONALD O. MENZIES

Donald O. Menzies, a former Oakland County Undersheriff, is the third Democratic candidate for nomination as sheriff.

Menzies, 48, first joined the Oakland County Sheriff's Department in 1926 on his graduation from Clawson High School. He served as a uniformed deputy and detective before being named undersheriff in 1947.

Married and the father of three sons, Menzies is a Mason, a Shriner, and Elk, an Eagle, and a member of the Sportsman's Club.

* * *

ODIN H. JOHNSON

Unopposed in the Democratic race for nomination as Oakland County Clerk, Odin H. Johnson, 51, a Pontiac attorney, is certain to oppose incumbent Lynn D. Allen in the November election. Allen also is unopposed.

Johnson, married and the father of two children, was appointed Pontiac Municipal Judge in 1954, but lost the ensuing election. He is a member of Eagles, Moose, Knights of Pythias and the county, state and national bar associations, and a graduate of the University of Michigan and Detroit College of Law.

* * *

Treasurer

ROBERT W. STEVENS

Robert W. Stevens, 42, a Madison Heights wholesale milk dealer, is unopposed in his bid for the Democratic nomination as county treasurer, and will oppose Republican incumbent Charles A. Sparks in November.

Stevens, a graduate of Madison High School, studied law at the University of Detroit. He is married and has three children.

* * *

Register of Deeds

B. J. (JACK) HABEL

One of four candidates vying for the Democratic nomination as county Register of Deeds, B. J. Habel, 38, of 22 Miami Rd., has been a Pontiac resident nearly all his life.

A graduate of the University of Michigan, Habel also attended classes in accounting and commercial law in the School of Business Administration there.

An Air Force veteran and former auto dealer in Pontiac, Habel is now a real estate salesman for a local agency. Married, he has two sons.

HAZEL A. KUSCHINSKY

Hazel A. Kuschinsky, 49, of Troy, a housewife and vice-chairman of the Troy Township Democratic Club, was educated in Port Huron and took special courses in business administration.

She was Democratic candidate for the office in 1954.

* * *

WILLIAM O. MURPHY

A 43-year-old department manager of a Royal Oak business, William O. Murphy has lived in Oakland County for 15 years.

Born in Massachusetts, he attended public schools there and graduated from Berkshire Business College in Massachusetts, Pennsylvania State Teachers College, and the Detroit Sales Training Clinic. He has also attended courses in residential and commercial building cost analysis and estimates.

Married and the father of eight children, Murphy is active in Boy Scout affairs, a member of American Federation of Musicians, and a member of the Building Fund Drive Solicitors of St. Bede Church, Southfield Township.

* * *

ELWOOD G. WEST

A Bloomfield Township resident and superintendent's clerk at Pontiac Motor Division, Elwood G. West, 32, is the fourth Democratic candidate in the race for nomination as county Register of Deeds.

A graduate of Pontiac High School, West attended the Pontiac Business Institute for two years and has taken a six-month management training course at Pontiac Motor and studied business administration in the General Motors schools.

He is a member of Pontiac Lodge 21, F&AM and Oakland County Chapter 5, Royal Arch Masons. He is chairman of the Pontiac Demolay Advisory Board.

Married, he has one son.

* * *

Drain Commissioner

MELVIN ELLER

A general contractor and parking lot operator in Pontiac, Melvin Eller, 35, of 45 W. Lawrence St., is one of three Democratic candidates seeking nomination as county drain commissioner.

A graduate of Pontiac High School, Eller attended the Pontiac Business Institute. An Air Force veteran, he is a member of Elks, Temple Beth Jacob Men's Club and a worker for Pontiac Area United Fund.

Married, Eller has two children.

* * *

HARRY D. RANDALL

Also seeking nomination as the Democratic candidate for county drain commissioner, Harry D. Randall, 63, of 64 Union St., has lived in Pontiac since 1939.

He is a member of the Oddfellows, and is a past president of the Pontiac Letter Carriers Association.

A high school graduate, Randall is married and the father of three children.

* * *

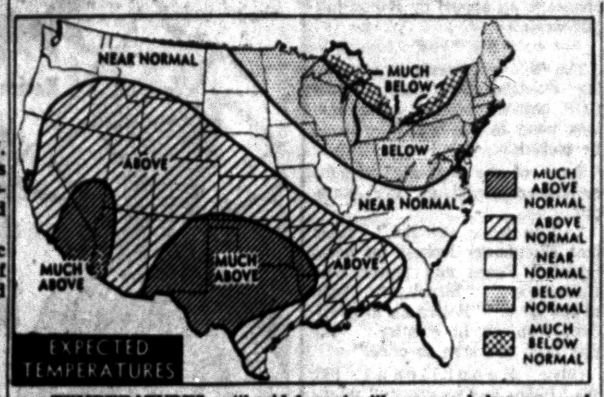

WALLACE E. (BUD) RICE

Wallace E. Rice, 49, of Birmingham, an excavating contractor since 1944, has lived in Birmingham for 40 years.

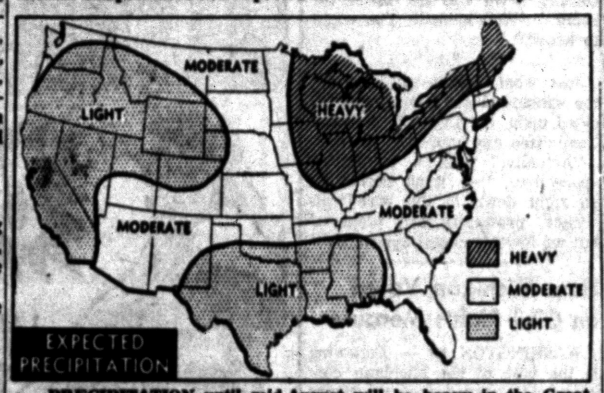

A graduate of Royal Oak High School, he attended Henry Ford Trade School in Highland Park and Lawrence Institute of Technology in Detroit.

A member of Elks and Oddfellows in Royal Oak, Rice is a lifetime member of the Oakland County Sportsman's Club. Married, he has two children.

TEMPERATURES until mid-August will average below seasonal norms in the northeastern quarter of the nation. Except along the northern and western borders and in the South Atlantic states, above normal temperatures are expected in the rest of the country.

PRECIPITATION until mid-August will be heavy in the Great Lakes region and the Midwest. Light rainfall is expected in the West Gulf states, the Far West and the Northern Rocky Mountain states.

Stricken Pedestrian Nabs Drunk Driver

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Ralph Sachs, despite several broken ribs, assisted in apprehending a motorist who had knocked him down at a midtown intersection and then failed to stop his car.

* * *

Police gave this account:

The 53-year-old Sachs got up and ran after the vehicle, securing a hold of the door. The car still didn't stop and Sachs finally lost his grip and fell to the pavement.

Just then a police patrol car arrived. Sachs climbed in and within a few minutes the fleeing motorist, George Hunt Jr., 35, was halted. He was charged with drunken driving and leaving the scene of an accident.

* * *

Says Reds Under Orders Not to Fire on U.S. Planes

MOSCOW (AP)—The chief of staff of the Soviet air force says Russian pilots have orders not to shoot at foreign planes that cross the Soviet Union's borders casually.

* * *

But, Marshal S. I. Rudenko told Western newsmen, "if the penetrations are deliberate and persistent, their (the Soviet pilots') superiors will advise according to circumstances."

He also said the United States would be responsible for any incidents resulting from flights by American-made planes over Soviet territory.

Rudenko was asked at a reception at the Egyptian Embassy about Russia's charge that U.S. from West Germany flew over Russian territory east of Poland July 4, 5 and 9. The United States has denied the charge.

Rudenko said: "They were flying at tremendous altitude. Our planes flew alongside and signaled them to land, but the American planes disregarded the signals and continued on their courses . . .

"They (the Soviet piolets) did not see any markings, but our fliers know U.S. planes, we know the types."

An American reporter suggested the planes could have been sold by the United States to another country. Rudenko replied:

"That's your responsibility. The United States knows whom it sells its planes to and where they are."

* * *

To avoid incidents, he said, Soviet pilots have orders not to shoot until they receive instructions from their headquarters.

Pacific Forces 'Ample' to Defend Asian Nations

MANILA (AP) — Adm. Arthur W. Radford said today the United States has "ample forces in the Pacific" for protection of the Philippines and other free countries in the area.

The chairman of the U. S. Joint Chiefs of Staff arrived in the Philippines on the first leg of a Far East tour. He told a news conference the United States did not contemplate a change in its combat strength in the Far East.

Asked if the United States is considering a cut in over-all armed forces, he replied, "We should keep the forces necessary for our own security and for the part we play in the security of the free world."

Radford will attend the commissioning of the giant Cubi Point Naval Air Station northwest of Manila Wednesday.

He said Cubi has facilities for the hydrogen bomb but declined to elaborate.

Learn How to Manage the Menfolk

By DOROTHY ROE
AP Women's Editor

The most important job in every woman's life is to get along with men, says Mrs. Florence Pew, who has made a life work of teaching women of all shapes, sizes and ages to be happy, charming and successful.

* * *

"Any woman who wants to be successful in life, whether it is in marriage, a career or running a house, has to know how to manage men. A woman must deal with men all her life. She starts by learning how to get along with her father. Next she must learn to be popular with the boys at school.

"Later her life still is ruled by men. She must know how to help her husband, make him happy, aid him in his work and keep him devoted.

* * *

"If she has a job, she must get along with her boss. And in everything she does there is some man to be met and won over—the doctor, the butcher, the grocer and the milk man."

Mrs. Pew is vice president of Dale Carnegie Publishers and founder of the firm's special courses in human relations for women.

* * *

Mrs. Pew gives some well-tested advice on her favorite subject—how to get along with a man:

"Help a man to be gallant. Let him light your cigarette and open doors for you. Seek his advice and respect his opinions. No man likes to have a woman take charge, flag down her own taxicab, order her own meal, try to manage his life as well as hers. The charming woman never lets her efficiency show, even if she heads a worldwide corporation during working hours.

"If your husband or your best beau wants to take you out on the town, or suddenly gets an urge to do some foolish things such as going to Coney Island or taking a ride on the ferry, always be ready. Fall in with his mood.

"Don't short-ration your man on sugar. Nobody ever had too much love. So if you love him, don't be afraid to show it.

"Let him be a knight on a white charger, and school yourself to be a helpless and adoring helpmeet — even if you have the muscles of a mule and steel-trap mind. Just don't let them show."

E. T. Calver Appointed to Faculty

Dr. Edward T. Calver, formerly of Pontiac, has been appointed to the faculty of Flint Branch of the University of Michigan. He will serve as associate professor of English, effective Sept. 1.

Dr. Calver received his Bachelor of Arts degree from the University of Michigan in 1932. He holds a Master of Arts degree (1933) and a Doctor of Philosophy degree (1944) from the U. of M.

He was an instructor of English at U. of M. from 1944-1947. Dr. Calver was assistant professor at Central Washington College, in 1947-48; visiting assistant professor at Teachers College, Columbia University, for the 1948-49 year; engaged in writing during the 1949-50 period; and was then director of basic English courses at Wayne University from 1950-53. He was assistant professor of English at Michigan College of Mining and Technology, 1955-56.

Italy Brings 'Medici' Style Trend

Intriguing Designs Stress High Collar, Pointed Waistline

Mingolini-Gugenheim, the Rome fashion house that designs many of the costumes that make Gina Lollobrigida look so luscious, has turned out a fall line with historical inspiration.

* * *

Even career girls can wear these renaissance styles to the office. They stress the standup collar and the down-pointed front waistline—as opposed to the highwaisted Empire line so popular in recent seasons in Paris and New York.

The waistline is outlined with a band of embroidery or leather piping on comfortable dresses that leave room for movement.

'BORGIA' GOWN

The most spectacular ball gown was called "Lucrecia Borgia"—a gleaming satin number in a strictly non-poisonous green with dark blue sequin embroidery and a short black velvet cape.

* * *

Eleanora Garnett feels the new woman should wear "fantasia" clothes such as smart, sleek daytime coats with fur collars, topped by "Incognito" hats worn down at nose level.

These gowns, her specialty, are expertly draped and twisted, often with a single, supersized pouch sleeve or a one-sided, puffy bustle.

Married Saturday at Emmanuel Baptist Church were Lois Fern Blanchard and Edmund Donald Liden Jr. Her parents are Mr. and Mrs. William B. Blanchard of Baldwin avenue. Edmund is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Edmund Liden of Northfield street.

MRS. EDMUND DONALD LIDEN JR.

Lois Blanchard Becomes Bride of E. D. Liden Jr.

The Rev. Tom Malone of Emmanuel Baptist Church officiated at the candlelight cermony uniting Lois Fern Blanchard and Edmund Donald Liden Jr. The service was held Saturday at 8 o'clock.

For her wedding, Lois, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William B. Blanchard of Baldwin avenue, wore a gown of lace and tulle over satin. Her fitted bodice featured a V neckline, and the ballerina-length skirt was fashioned of panels of lace and tulle. The shoulder-length veil was secured by a crown of seed pearls.

Mrs. Kenneth Liden of Oxford was matron of honor and J. Bonnie Schlatow was bridesmaid. Their dresses were of crystalette in pink and blue respectively.

Candy Vaughn wore a frock of yellow tulle over taffeta for her duties as flower girl.

Edmund, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Edmund Liden of Northfield street, asked Kenneth Liden of Oxford to serve as best man.

The bride changed to a rose beige dress with matching accessories for a wedding trip to northern Michigan. The newlyweds will reside on Mechanic street on their return.

American Women Adopt 'Helpless,' Fragile Look

1912 Fashion Revival for Fall Stresses Fluffy, Flowing, Flowery Styles

NEW YORK (INS) — The new fashions for fall give every American woman her inalienable right to look like a fragile flower—the kind that men leap to open doors for.

The "helpless" look in clothing is back, and even the girl who could wrestle a Marine two falls out of three now can look as if she's too frail to lift a marshmallow.

It's all due to the "1912" fashion revival, bringing back some pretty Edwardian ideas: Draperies, panels, floating fabrics, flowers, ribbons and overskirts.

Last year's sleek, unadorned sheath is draped and girlish now. Skirts are fuller, longer. Petticoats have been replaced by flowing folds. Bodices are high-busted and youthful.

LIKE A BONBON

Coats have gone voluminous, so that a woman is wrapped to her eyelashes like a bonbon in a candy box. The bigger coats make the girl inside look two sizes smaller than she is.

* * *

The comeback of "helpless femininity" got unanimous approval from visiting fashion editors who saw a week-long display of new styles by the Couturier Group of the New York Dress Institute.

The editors liked the "1912" idea because it's good for almost any figure type.

If you're heavy, they blur the bulges.

* * *

The new "softened sheath" is also easy to wear. Many of the new clothes are bloused on top, even in dance dresses, and skirts are eased with godets and panels and folds to make sitting down possible.

PRETTY FASHIONS

Best of all, the fall, 1956, fashions are pretty fashions. In addition to black or brown, there are soft beiges, ruby reds, sapphire and larkspur blues, pinks and mauves.

* * *

Fabrics are used for eye-appeal as well as wearability, and combinations are many: Velvet with satin, wool with chiffon, crepe with lace.

* * *

Shower Honors Dorothy Cadieux at Breen Home

Mrs. Don Breen of Berwick boulevard and Mrs. Edward Trancik of Ann Arbor were cohostesses at a shower honoring bride-elect Dorothy Cadieux. The shower was held at the Breen home.

Dorothy's parents are Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Cadieux of Berkley avenue. She will marry Max E. Evans, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Claude Evans of South Johnson street, Sept. 8 at Bethany Baptist Church.

Guests at the recent shower were Mrs. Cadieux, Mrs. Evans, Mrs. William Martyn, Mrs. Dale Moats, Nancy Moats, Shirley Peterson, Mrs. Robert Martin, Mrs. Glenn Armstrong, Mrs. Harold Ward and Mrs. Turris McCully.

Mrs. Warren Stout, Mrs. Roy Jolly, Mrs. Edna Stout and Mrs. William Knisley also attended. Out-of-town guests were Mrs. Chris Anderson and Mrs. William Blue of Flint, Mrs. Stuart Allen of Tecumseh and Mrs. Kenneth Ferguson of Lansing.

Mrs. Max Clymer was chairman of the picnic supper held at Oakland Park Saturday for members of the Business Institute Women's Club and their families. The blessing was asked by Mrs. S. E. Minard.

Then Select Cosmetics Wisely

Flying Overseas in the Near Future?

When you assemble your wardrobe and your cosmetics for an airplane trip, particularly if your destination is a foreign country, the more self-control you exercise when you start to pack the better off you will be.

If you are flying tourist class, as thousands of travelers to Europe are doing this year, the weight allowance will be 44 pounds. This will include any small hand luggage you may carry as well as the bags you check. If you are going first class the weight limit will go up to 64 pounds.

The first thing to do is to coordinate your wardrobe colorwise so that one set of accessories will serve for all of your daytime ensembles. A two-color wardrobe—gray and black, brown and black (a combination the French gave an A-1 rating for chic) or blue and gray—will solve the major part of your weight problem. If you like suits —and who doesn't? — you can build a whole travel wardrobe with them. A black or charcoal gray wool suit that can be "dressed up or down" is almost a must for a busy traveler. A silk suit that can serve for cocktails and dinner and can be worn in the morning with tailored accessories will be infirtely useful.

For hot weather wear don't overlook the nylons, which pack without wrinkling and can be dunked in a basin at night to be fresh for another day. One nylon suit or dress preferably in a dark color should go into every travel wardrobe.

With nylon underwear you will need only one change but take plenty of hose as you probably will find these difficult to buy in many foreign countries—include at least six pairs in your wardrobe.

EASY TO PACK

The handbag you carry will serve most occasions and for dressier wear take a smaller bag.

If you will have need of an evening gown (many travelers feel that a black silk suit will be dressy enough for all occasions) consider lace, which packs easily and will not rumple. Here again black or one of the darker colors would be a wise choice.

When you plan your cosmetics kit put items that are packaged in fold-up metal tubes at the top of the list. The tubes are easy to pack, light in weight, keep the products fresh and are insurance against leaks and spills in your bag. The majority of the products which will go into your cosmetics case can be found in tubes—cleansing and nourishing cream, toothpaste, depilatory, deodorant, eye make-up and hair cream. Put the liquid products, eye wash, skin tonic and mouth wash in plastic bottles.

If you are planning to buy new luggage be sure to ask for bags designed for plane travel and have the clerk weigh it for you; most luggage stores have scales now so that they can tell a customer exactly what each piece weighs. Have a small scale handy when you are packing and weigh your cosmetics and your clothes, then you will be sure to get the right answers to your travel arithmetic.

Sorority Holds Box Picnic at Area Park

Members of Alpha Alpha Chapter of Epsilon Sigma Alpha Sorority held a box picnic at Cass Dodge Park. Guests for the evening were Mrs. Jack Holler, Mrs. Henry McCandless and Mrs. Jack Andrews.

Heading the committee for the recent affair were Mrs. Ralph O. Allen and Mrs. Donald Moore. They were assisted by Mrs. Edmund Smith, Mrs. L. L. Schiefler, Mrs. Robert Hasse, Mrs. Fred Baumgartner, Mrs. Donald Giordano, Mrs. Robert Earl, Mrs. Norman Nelson, Mrs. Fred Mueller, Mrs. Edward Hummel and Mrs. Eugene Burdette.

Following the supper, the members were guests of Mrs. Allen at her home on Cooley Lake road for an informal evening.

Weddles Entertain Griffin OES Club

Mr. and Mrs. Bert Weddle were hosts to 28 members of the Griffin Proficiency Club, OES 228, for a picnic dinner Saturday evening at their home on Oxley road.

A large birthday cake was presented those having birthdays this month. Mrs. William Sherwood assisted the hosts during the evening.

Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Kilby of Hazel Bend avenue announce the engagement of their daughter, Lionell Imogene, to Jack Reneaud. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Everette Reneaud of Clawson. No date has been set for the wedding.

Job Agencies Must Have Routine

By ANNE HEYWOOD

The ability to put onself in the other person's place is rare, but it is one that pays off better than almost anything one can think of.

If you have it, you have a magic wand which will revolutionize your social life, family relationships and your business encounters.

Unfortunately, Mrs. G. hasn't a smidgeon of it. And that is her trouble in job-hunting.

* * *

"They insist on all that red tape, making you fill out those silly cards, before you can even see or talk to anybody.

IMPOSSIBLE JOBS

"Then they send you to the most impossible jobs, things you know in advance you wouldn't be interested in!

* * *

"At the last agency, they even insisted I take a typing test.

"Don't they believe me when I say I know how to type? Why don't they listen to what kind of job I have in mind? But no—they throw a card at you and then send you on an impossible job."

Let's take it from the point of view of the "whippersnappers." Let's put ourselves in the place of the employment agency interviewer.

If the employer wants a certain type, Miss Blank has to send that type or the employer will take his business elsewhere.

Secondly, Mrs. G. is over 40.

There are some places which have no age limits and others which do.

Mrs. Blank cannot take time off to educate the employer on the virtues of the older worker.

She would be unable to pay her rent if she devoted her time to that worthy cause.

Third, Miss Blank has to have a card filled out by you, partly because the contract is there and must be signed if she is to do business with you and partly because, after you've left, she must have some record of you in case the right job for you should come in.

* * *

She has to send you to the things she has open, whether you think they are the most divine jobs in the world or not.

SHE'S SUSPICIOUS

Furthermore, she has learned to suspect the close-minded type who knows in advance that a particular job is no good, without even investigating it. That kind of close-mindedness might make you unplaceable.

* * *

And last, some employers insist that typists be tested, because many so-called typists cannot type!

If you are having trouble with employment agencies, send for my pamphlet, "The Older Woman Goes to Business."

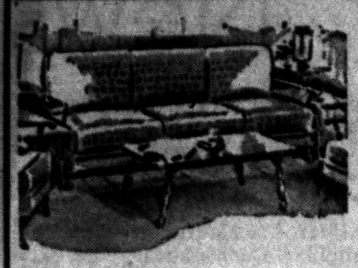

A stamped, self-addressed envelope sent to me care of The Pontiac Press will bring it to you.

Mrs. Griswold Talks at GOP Club

Outlines Austria Parley

Mrs. A. S. Griswold, who recently returned from the World Power Conference in Austria, spoke of her travels, before members of the Pontiac Republican Women's Club Monday.

Mrs. W. E. C. Huthwaite opened her home on West Iroquois road for the afternoon meeting.

Robert C. Miller, Republican candidate for Representative to the State Legislature from district two, spoke briefly of the successful operation of the Court of No Record.

In favor of the formation of a Michigan State Youth Commission, Miller stated that steps must be taken to prevent juvenile troubles before they reach the stage of becoming adult criminals.

Mrs. Maurice Cole presided at the tea service during the social hour. Serving on the committee of hostesses were Mrs. Maude Place, Agnes Hilton and Mrs. Lula Luby.

Even Ankles Will Be Furred for Fall Glamor

* * *

Fur-collared evening boots are the latest high-priced fashion idea for next season. They're really high-throated, ankle-hugging fancy shoes intended to make your feet as flashy as your evening dress or theater suit.

Jim Josephi, the Delman designer who thought up the "theater boots," makes them two ways: In brocade and glitter kid for $75, and in satin and fur for $150.

* * *

The fur is displayed at the ankle, in a "collar" that moves from a bow in front along both sides of the instep.

The fur reaches its highest point at the back of your foot, contrasting nicely with a high heel that measures a sliver-thin three-sixteenths of an inch.

Start planning your fall wardrobe right now. This is the time to judge what you'll carry over from last season, what needs to be added. Then shop at leisure.

Exercises Relieve Office Tension

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Whenever I teach classes of businesswomen I discover that while they are interested in correcting figure defects, their main concern is with nervous tension which is reflected in muscle tension. This is even truer of the businesswoman than of the one in the home.

* * *

The woman in the home moves about more. Many women in offices sit in the same position much of the day. Also, the woman in the home can lie down for a few minutes when she wants to, no matter how hectic her day may be.

This tenseness from which office workers suffer usually is centered in the shoulders, the upper spine, or the back of the neck. There are wonderful exercises for this discomfort. Today I want to give you a few of them.

1. Stand erect with the feet separated and the arms at the sides. Bend at the waist, letting the trunk, head and arms drop forward. Lift the trunk, bring the arms to shoulder height, sideward position and let the arms and head flop backward. Continue doing this in a very lazy manner—slowly.

* * *

2. Sit on the floor with your legs out in front of you, resting on the floor. Lean back on the hands. Very slowly arch your back and lower your head backwards. Lift the head and lower forward until the chin touches the chest. Continue slowly.

3. Stand tall. Let your arms hang limply at your sides while you make circles with your shoulders. Circle forward for a while and then backward. Do this slowly and make the circles as large as you can.

Now as you circle your shoulders backward drop your head forward. As the shoulders move forward drop your head backward. Continue. If you will do this slowly you will find that it gives your shoulders and the back of your neck a refreshing and splendid massage.

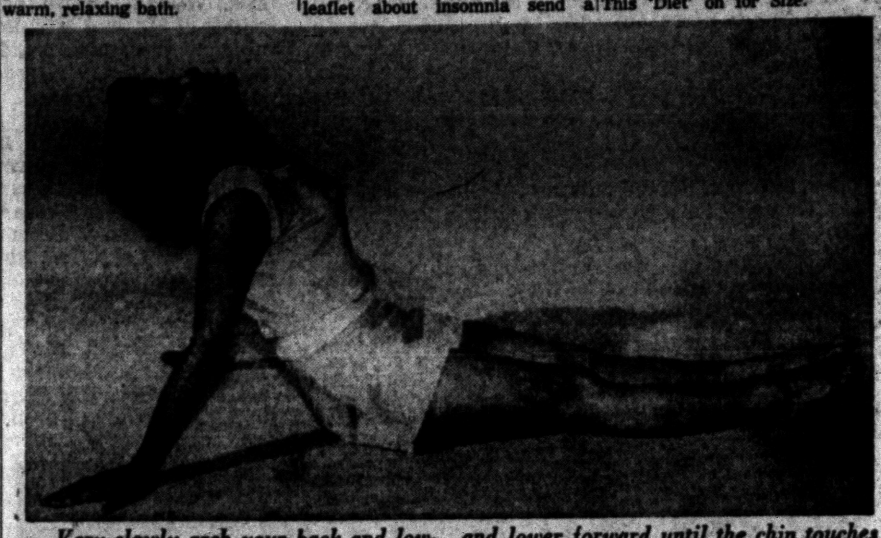

After you have done these exercises lie down for 15 minutes with a heating pad under your neck and shoulders. You will find yourself feeling like a different person if you will follow this routine with a warm, relaxing bath.

After this, put on your favorite negligee or hostess gown or the dress you are going to wear for the evening and enjoy yourself.

Hubby Calls Wife 'Dear' in Business

She Believes That Public Endearment Shows Bad Taste

A wife tells me: "My husband and I own and operate a small store. Very often my husband will have to ask me a question about something and he always calls me 'dear'—even in front of customers.

"I have tried to tell him that this is in bad taste in business but he persists in doing it. Perhaps if I can show him something from you about it being bad taste, he will stop doing it."

Answer: Terms of endearment are not in best taste in the business world. Before personal friends, and customers you know very well, it would be permissible. But even so it is best to avoid use of any endearing terms.

"Dear Mrs. Post: The other evening my husband and I had guests in to dinner. After dinner several of them took out cigarettes and started to smoke without asking our permission.

"I thought this was very rude on their part as my husband and I do not smoke. Shouldn't one ask permission before smoking?"

Answer: It would be very nice if they would, but it is not necessary because smoking has become too universal.

"Dear Mrs. Post: In the case of divorce, will you please tell me what is the proper thing for a divorcee to do with her wedding ring?

"Should it be changed to the right hand, worn as it is, or discarded altogether? I am particularly interested in cases where children are involved."

Answer: It is entirely proper that she continue to wear her ring as she always has, especially if she has children.

If she wishes to show that she is no longer married she may change the ring to the right hand.

Members Greet Rev. Paul Hart

Speaking for the classes were Mrs. Ethel Proffitt of the Booster Class, Mrs. Clare May, Aurora Class; Paul Brown, Wesleyan; Mrs. Dudley Colby, Board of Education; Mrs. Clayton Rule, WSCS; Benjamin Church, official board; and Chester Arnold, lay leader.

Mrs. Morton Jorgenson and Merlin Asplin gave several solos and community singing was led by Mr. Asplin. A playlet was presented by Mr. and Mrs. David Cowan, Mrs. Stanley Colby, Mr. and Mrs. Joe David and Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Butler.

Cairo Women Fight Lack of Marriageable Menfolk

CAIRO (AP)— Egyptians may be allowed four wives but right now they are not making much of it. There are over a quarter million women in Cairo without husbands. From the looks of it most of them are on the manhunt.

* * *

This city of 2½ million suffers from one of the most acute marriage problems in the world. More than a third of the population is single, national census figures say.

In a Cairo University questionnaire almost all the coeds said they wanted to be married and 80 per cent declared they would leave the university if they found a husband.

* * *

The problem is not scarcity of males. In Cairo 88 per cent of the men are bachelors. Only one out of every seven gets married during any one year.

The number of polygamous marriages, permitted under Moslem law, in Egypt's capital is less than 7 per cent.

* * *

What causes the marriage freeze?

The men blame the economic and social system. In Egypt it's the bridegroom who settles a dowry on the bride, not her parents. A marriage without such a grant is almost unheard of. And parents insist their daughters do as well as any sisters who might have preceded them into matrimony.

* * *

The ladies also require expensive diamond wedding rings as a measure of social status. But the average Cairo man earns no more than $60 a month. He is not financially independent until his late 20s.

The peak marriage age for the men is 28, while most girls marry in their teens. A girl past 20 years has a lot to worry about.

Cairo is a tough town for widows—only 2.4 per cent ever marry again. Divorced women have a slim 22 per cent chance of remarrying.

Sociologists believe Cairo's marriage problem will not be solved until more women work and dowries are abolished. Both these suggestions are looked upon unfavorably in this conservative Moslem country.

Country Festival Readied

Plans are completed for the Lake Angelus Guild's Country Festival to be held Saturday on the church grounds at St. Mary-in-the-Hills, at Joslyn and Greenshields Rds.

Mrs. Halsey Davidson, general chairman, announces that St. Mary's Guild, under the chairmanship of Mrs. Lawrence Giddings, will serve a baked ham supper and will supervise a hot dog stand for those with smaller appetites. Proceeds from the affair will be placed in the church building fund.

Michael Patterson, legerdemain of note, will perform his "Magic Mysteries" act for children and adults alike, and Mrs. Dean Spitler will open her Penny Arcade to the curious.

Mrs. James Fuson, chairman of children's amusements, and Mrs. Howard Hite announce the addition of the six-pony palomino hitch from a polo club in Detroit, for sightseeing excursions in the immediate vicinity.

Pony rides, kiddie merry-go-round, animated cartoons and special games have also been planned. Dr. Daniel McGeen will have charge of the balloon concessions.

PHOTOGRAPHY ARRANGED

Newton Skillman has arranged for "photographers-at-random," while Clayton Leach and Richard Gould will handle the archery events.

George Hodges and Robert Lake will set up a shooting gallery while Bernard Zinn will offer special instruction to golf enthusiasts who visit his putting range.

A novelty this year will be the "Old Hat Rack" belonging to Mrs. George Hodges. Everything from Civil War bonnets to battered sports caps of dubious origin will be included in this colorful display.

Under the co-chairmanship of Mrs. Newton Skillman and Mrs. Merle Yockey, bazaar tables and refreshment stands have been assigned to George King and Merle Yockey. Mrs. Donald Schults will introduce her specially flavored candied apples.

* * *

Baked goods, ice cream and homemade cake wil lbe featured at the tea table, arranged by Mrs. Alton Deutser, Mrs. A. W. Dickinson and Mrs. Grant Watt.

Mrs. Leonard Grinnell and Mrs. Kelso Taeger will be at the "white elephant booth" and Mrs. Robert Lake will be in charge of the "Treasure Chest," a table devoted to gift items and handicraft.

A "must" for the small fry is the fish pond that will be repeated again this year. Overbrimming with gaily wrapped packages for the careful angler, Mrs. Richard Gould and Mrs. Charles Kern promise many surprises.

Mrs. Henry Duffield is in charge of admission tickets and Mrs. Allan Malconson will serve as door chairman.

Shirley M. Adams and Garry L. Looney were married Saturday in a garden wedding. Mr. and Mrs. Herbert T. Hampton of West Rundell street are parents of the bride. Garry is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Elbert L. Looney of West Walton boulevard.

MR. and MRS. GARRY L. LOONEY

Looney-Adams Nuptials Spoken in Garden Rite

Shirley M. Adams became the bride of Garry L. Looney Saturday in a garden wedding at the Looney home on West Walton boulevard. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Tom Guest.

* * *

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. Herbert T. Hampton of West Rundell street. Mr. and Mrs. Elbert L. Looney of West Walton boulevard are parents of the bridegroom.

Shirley's only attendant was her sister, Carolyn Ann Hampton, who wore a gown of ice pink crystalette. Her flowers were pink roses and pink carnations arranged on a fan.

Dick Womack was best man.

Packing Helps for Men, Women

Here are some packing tips for men and women. Shoes should be placed in shoe bags so they don't get other clothes dirty; if you don't have shoe bags, use socks or drizzle boots.

Lay tissue paper into the folds of garments to avoid wrinkles and creases. And sweaters take up less space if rolled instead of folded; they wrinkle less, too.

To pack a suit or slacks and a sport coat, lay the trousers out flat and place the buttoned-up coat on top. Then fold the trouser legs over. Fold the bottom of the coat up and over the trousers. Then, place the compactly folded suit flat in the bag to form a second layer. The first layer should include heavy items such as shoes and shaving kit.

Top Frost Quickie Coolers

BY KATHRYN KENNEDY
Wrigley Food Reporter

"Come on in—the refreshments are fine" is an invitation easy to issue when you keep your freezer stocked with a selection of Top Frost quick-frozen concentrated fruit juices and fruit ades.

The juices, when reconstituted with three cans of water, make one and one-half pints of pure, fresh-flavored juice; the ades call for more water to make a full quart of refreshing beverage.

Serve them solo in tall glasses over tinkling ice cubes, mix two flavors together or try them in compatible combinations such as ice cream, gingerale or sherbet.

* * *

FROSTY COOLERS can be made without reconstituting the frozen juices when crushed or shaved ice is used. To prepare for guests ahead of time make up a dozen or so of these drinks using all the Top Frost flavors.

For your rainbow of finished frosteds you can have orange, grapefruit, a blend of the two, tangerine, lime, lemon, or grape. All available in the handy storage six ounce cans that take up so little freezer space.

* * *

TO PUT your drinks on a production line basis spoon three tablespoons of any desired concentrate, undiluted, into several tall glasses. Fill each glass almost to the top with crushed or shaved ice then add one-fourth cup of cold water and stir vigorously. Garnish each glass with fresh mint sprigs and maraschino cherries if you wish.

To add a special touch of elegance to your Top Frost coolers, you might like to know about this trick of frosting the edges of the glasses.

POUR TWO tablespoons lemon juice into a one-pint bowl. Place two tablespoons of fine granulated sugar in another bowl. Dip each glass rim first in lemon juice and then quickly in the sugar. Place glasses in the refrigerator to chill and harden the sugar. The mixture is enough to frost eight glasses.

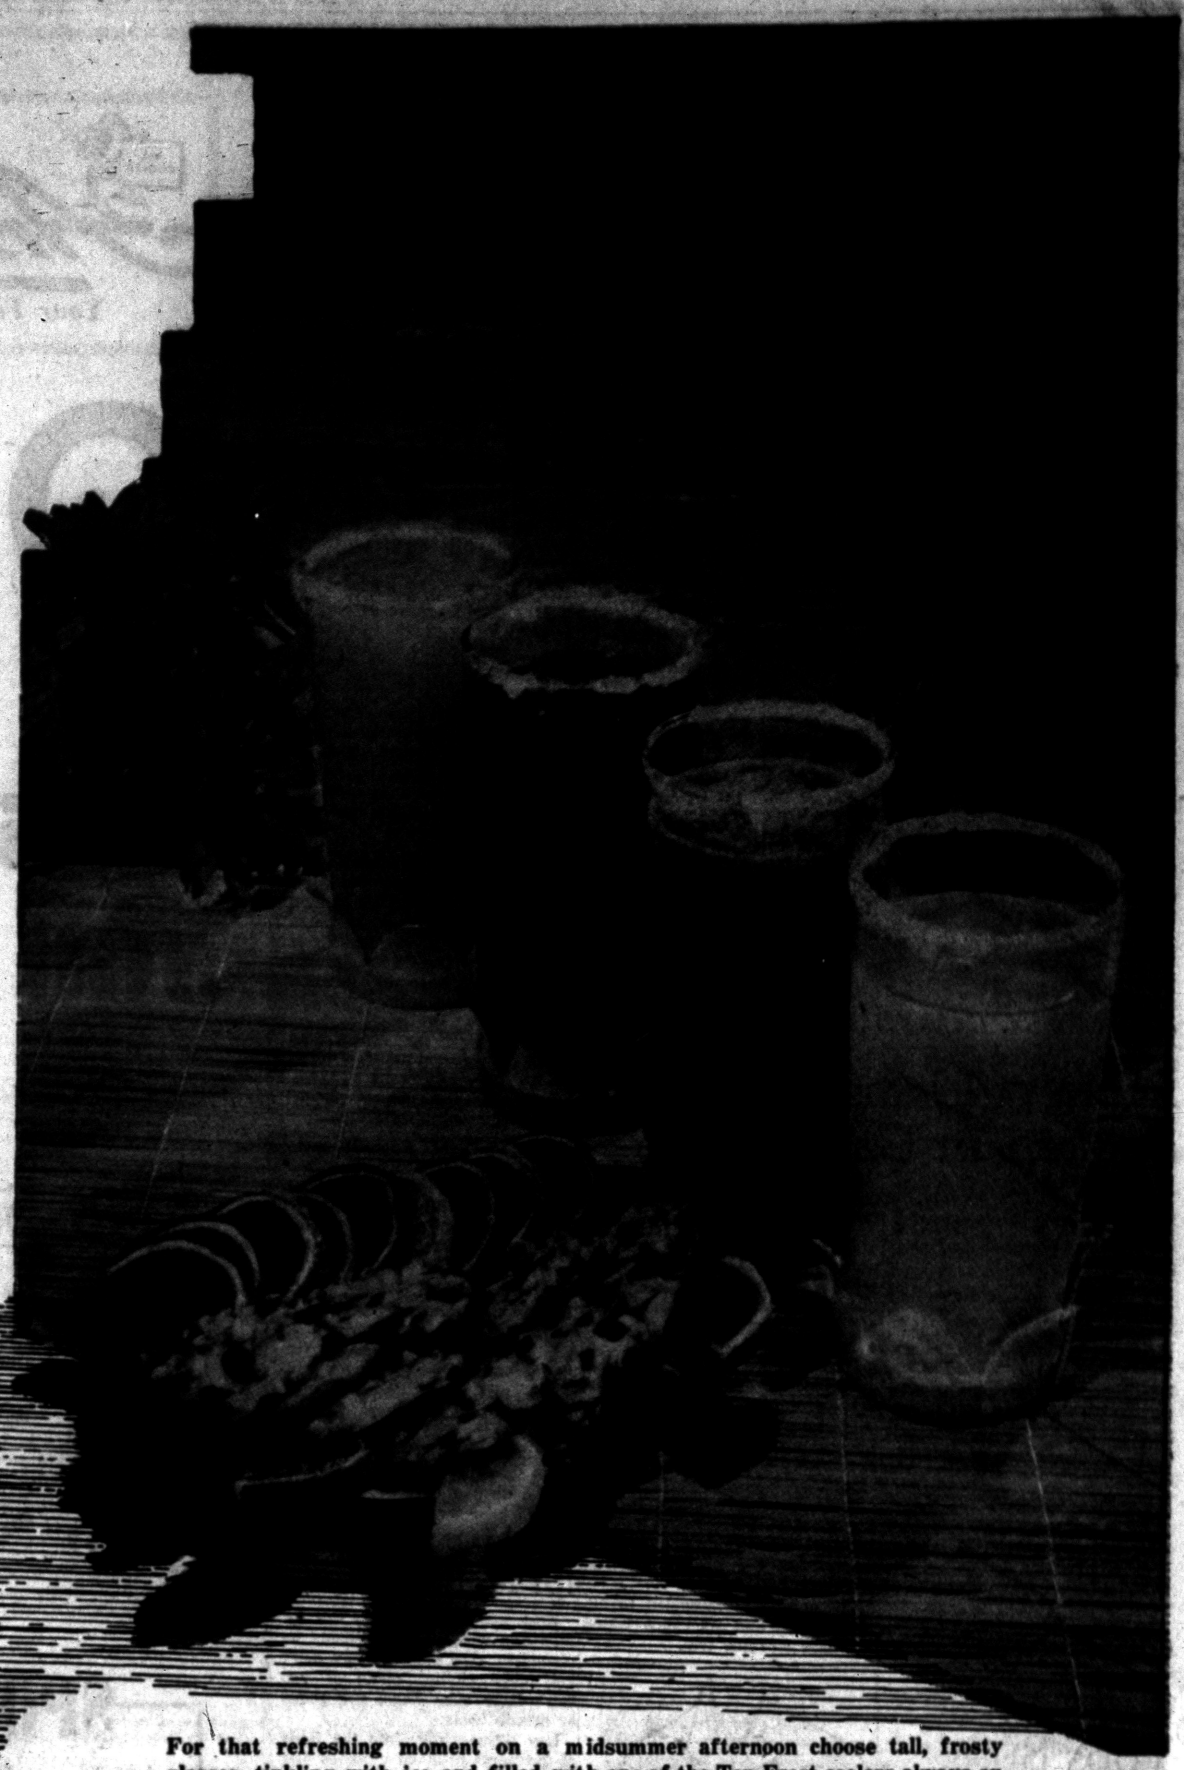

* * *

For garnishing your cold drinks use fresh mint sprigs, lime wedges, whole strawberries, slices of orange or lemon, fruit kabobs (spear toothpicks with melon balls, lime wedge, berries or cherries).

Two favorites join refreshingly in Frosted Grape Juice Whip when you combine Top Frost vanilla ice cream and Top Frost frozen concentrated grape juice.

Empty one six-ounce can of the concentrated grape juice into a one-quart container and add three cans of cold water, stirring to blend well. For each serving place a liberal scoop of Top Frost vanilla ice cream in a glass, add three-fourths cup grape juice and whip together until ice cream is thoroughly dissolved.

* * *

For that refreshing moment on a midsummer afternoon choose tall, frosty glasses, tinkling with ice and filled with one of the Top Frost coolers always on tap in the freezer in a variety of fine fruit flavors. Orange, grape, tangerine and lime make up the quartet here — an inviting reason to rest on the porch or in a shady spot. Make your drinks attractive with icy rims on the glasses.

Pink lemonade made with Top Frost concentrated lemonade and either cranberry juice or maraschino cherry juice for coloring is a favorite refresher.

For That Refreshing Moment

Long Live Pink Lemonade!

As welcome as a summer breeze for sailing is a chilled punch filled with a tasty combination of Top Frost concentrated frozen juices or ades.

For a party occasion, make it pink lemonade. This simple variation on the lemonade theme calls for cranberry juice to give a delicate color, a delightful flavor.

Combine two cans of Top Frost concentrated lemonade with water according to label directions on the can. Add two bottles of cranberry juice, one bottle Kool Sip chilled gingerale and pour over ice ring in a punch bowl.

To make the ring pour a little water into a ring mold and freeze solid. Arrange strawberries, cherries, mint leaves in the ring and carefully add a small amount of water. Freeze again then add water to fill up ring and freeze solid. Unmold and float in punch bowl.

Garnish the punch with fresh lime slices or other fruits.

Another inviting idea is to transform an ice cube by freezing it around a red cherry or a pale yellow lemon slice. Green minted cherries, mint leaves, curls of oranges or lemon peel or raspberries also make enticing garnishes.

Some Tricks to Try For Kiddies' Parties

"Mom, can we have a party?" is the persistent echo from small fry and it's a wise mother who is prepared to meet the demand.

To insure a good party with no "tummy" aches, keep the food on the simple side. Many mothers are coming to the sensible conclusion that as long as youngsters are going to eat, it might as well be food that is good for them.

Decked out cookies, milk or fruit juice beverages, ice cream, sandwiches made with a variety of breads and fillings and simple cake add up to a successful party.

FOAM

1 can Top Frost Limeade
Water
3-4 drops green food coloring
2 unbeaten egg whites

Blend Top Frost Limeade with water, following directions on can. Add green food coloring and unbeaten egg whites. Place in shaker, cover closely and shake vigorously until mixture foams. Pour into four or six tall glasses and serve with colored straws.

GM Develops Spectroheliometer

It's a Car Finish 'Sun Sleuth'

Tracks Rays for 8,104 Hours to Find Effect on Auto Paint Jobs

A "sun sleuth" that has kept its automatic eye glued on the sun continuously for two years at Miami, Fla., for General Motors Research Staff may help unravel the mystery of what some of the sun's rays do to auto finishes.

* * *

Called a Spectroheliometer, the device recently tracked the sun from dawn to dusk for 8,104 hours, recording the amount of intensity of certain parts of the sun's light that are known to have a weathering effect on paints, lacquers and enamels.

It automatically transfers the "evidence" on graph paper for researchers to study. Data from hundreds of feet of graph lines are still incomplete, but GM researchers have uncovered some incidental intelligence.

For example, the Spectroheliometer indicates the Miami Chamber of Commerce may claim one point in favor of its sunshine. The GM instrument reports it five times brighter or more intense than Detroit area sunshine.

FIRST RECORD

Also, a so-called solar "twinkle" appears in Detroit's industrial atmosphere, apparently caused by invisible puffs of smoke floating through the air.

Developed in 1952 by GM Research Staff's Physics & Instrumentation department, the "sun sleuth" underwent a year's trial near the GM Building at Detroit before it was shipped to the Florida Test Field near Miami, which is operated by GM Research Staff's Chemistry department.

So far as GM researchers know, the instrument has produced the first continuous spectral record of the sun's daily behavior.

It was used at Miami to find out first how much sunlight falls on the Florida Test Field in a year. This gave researchers a measurement yardstick for indoor laboratory tests with a so-called "Little Florida" device in which paint samples are exposed to artificial sunlight from a 1,200-watt high pressure mercury vapor lamp.

RESEARCH BONUS

By knowing how much sunlight drenched Miami annually, researchers could expose paint to similar amounts of intense laboratory "sunlight." In a period of weeks they hope they may duplicate many months of outdoor exposure at Miami, and any speedup of testing tempo is a research bonus.

Meantime, while the Spectroheliometer was in service, Chemistry Department reasearchers put new auto finish sample panels on exposure racks each month at Miami. This was done to find out how much paint weathering varied from month to month.

The amount of weathering on each new panel each month is being correlated with the Spectroheliometer's reports of varying intensities and amounts of the sun's radiation, rain or shine.

Later, a research project was set up to determine how much sunlight varies in amount and intensity from sunrise to sunset through the four seasons of the year. This indicated that at Miami's latitude a paint sample panel in a fixed position took its worst "beating" from the sun either during spring or fall.

* * *

The GM instrument follows the sun's path in the same manner that astronomical telescopes follow paths of the stars. It picks up the sunlight and passes it through a spectrograph. This breaks the light into a color band stretching from the "red" to the "blue" light of the sun's spectrum.

TOWARD BETTER FINISHES — A member of the General Motors research staff checks over the Spectroheliometer, a unique instrument which has made a continuous record of intensity of sun-light in various parts of its spectrum over the past two years. The record is correlated with the weathering of automotive finishes (on exposure racks in the background) at the corporation's test field in Miami, Fla. Purpose of the tests are to find out which parts of the sun's spectrum cause finishes to deteriorate.

Army Homes, Apartments

Housing Gets a 'New Look'

There's a new look in housing facilities for married men stationed at antiaircraft units in the country —and 12 soldiers and their families of the Nike battery at Auburn Heights are profiting from it.

* * *

The Department of the Army has complied with an Anti-aircraft Command request made early this year that the army lease apartments and homes and pay for the rent and ultilities on these units. The soldier in turn forfeits his quarters allowance.

Battery officers and top-graded enlisted men at Delta Battery, 516th AAA Missile Bat., have recently moved into homes within 15 minutes from the Auburn Heights base.

* * *

"This program has been very successful from coast to coast," Gen. O'Connor commented. "We have had an upward trend in reenlistment in antiaircraft untis, and although it is too early to determine exactly, we attribute this in part to the new program."

* * *

"This new program is putting our men on the same basis as if they were assigned to a regular Army post with government quarters," Capt. Harold E. Strong, commanding officer of Delta Battery, said.

He reported that "wives were tickled pink" and the morale of his men boosted because of the arrangement.

HELPS MORALE

The homes are leased for five years. After officers and radar and missile specialists are housed, units are distributed according to grade or rank. Quarters for single soldiers are provided on the base.

"It's a wonderful idea and helps morale a lot," SFC. Jodie C. Jackson, the lucky occupant of the DeSota residence, said. The Jackson's lived in a motel while hunting a home after being transfered here from Fort Bliss, Texas.

SYLVAN LAKE LANDMARK — Towering 129 feet above Sylvan Lake is this new water tower which is nearing completion. Started July 2, the huge steel structure is the last step toward completion of the city's $275,000 water system. Situated behind the Sylvan Lake city office building on Inverness, the tower is being constructed by the Pittsburgh-Des Moines Steel Co.

Mystery Ailment Hospitalizes 30

9 Others Sick in Bed at College in Ypsilanti; Conditions Fair to Good

YPSILANTI (AP)—Thirty Eastern Michigan College summer students were hospitalized today and at least nine more were confined to dormitory beds by a mysterious illness that hit the group during the weekend.

All were stricken with diarrhea accompanied by high fevers, vomiting and severe headaches. Those hospitalized were reported in "fair to good" condition at University Hospital in Ann Arbor, Ypsilanti's Beyer Memorial Hospital and the College Health Service Infirmary.

Dr. Olga Sirola, chief of the College Health Service, said cultures had been sent to the State Health Department in Lansing for analysis but she had been told the report would not be received before tonight at the earliest. Both Beyer and University Hospital also are running tests.

"At this stage we don't know whether the illness is contagious, but we are taking the necessary precautionary steps," Dr. Sirola said.

Dr. Eugene B. Elliott, college president, said it was believed the ailment might be "some kind of an intestinal upset."

The stricken group, including 37 women, mostly are Michigan teachers working toward advanced degrees. The women lived in Jones, Goddard and Goodison Dormitories, the two men in Munson Dormitory.

Dr. Elliott said health authorities advised him that no quarantine would be necessary.

"We were told that whatever it is, it is not overly serious," he said.

Pop Joins Club: Loses Appendix Like the Others

NORTHRIDGE, Calif. (UP) — The appendectomy box score in the Loveless family stands at seven out of eight today.

Papa James Loveless, 34, a policeman who lives, fortunately, only three blocks from Northridge Hospital, became the seventh to undergo the operation last night. Five of his six daughters preceded him in the last 22 days.

Here's the score:

Daughters Kenna Sue, 10, July 2; Carol Jean, 5, July 11; Judy, 12, and Esther, 9, last Friday; Carol Mignon, 6, last Saturday night. Papa Loveless returned to the hospital Sunday, as a patient, this time.

Tuscola County Crash Kills Woman, Injures 3

CASS CITY (AP) — Mrs. Aletha Scharick, 39, of Cass City, was killed last night in a two-car crash that injured three persons. The accident occurred three miles west of Cass City at a Tuscola County intersection.

Riots Rock Cruiser as Dancers Roll On

BOSTON (AP) — A rock 'n' roll party aboard a Boston harbor excursion vessel turned into a near riot last night when numerous fights erupted among the 2,600 persons aboard.

* * *

Eyewitnesses reported fighting began among the passengers almost as soon as the vessel Boston Belle left its dock and continued during the more than two hours of the cruise while an orchestra played rock 'n' roll rhythms.

* * *

Eyewitnesses said further that as soon as one fight subsided another began almost immediately among others in the organization which had chartered the diesel-engined ship.

* * *

Nearly 50 policemen were dispatched to the scene, but police reported no arrests were made.

Pig Stages Jailbreak

WARREN, Maine (AP)—State Police issued an alarm that Armand Vigue, 23, had escaped from the state prison farm.

* * *

The alarm was recalled when Vigue returned to the farm with a pig in his arms.

* * *

Vigue explained he had run into the woods to catch the porker, a 2-hour job. The pig, he said, had broken out of the pen at the farm.

Car Radio Dials Glow

FLINT, Mich. — Electroluminescent dials have found their way into automobile radio receivers. They glow constantly, deriving their power from the car's transformer, and replace the pilot light.

Jan's Squirrel Loves Watching TV

* * *

The squirrel is nicknamed "Peanuts" because of its diet. It has been around the Martell home about four years and started going inside the house to watch television last summer.

* * *

The growing friendship between the girl and her pet reached its highest peak during the past two months with Janice now able to hold the squirrel on her lap when she sits on the porch.

* * *

Janice, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Martell, has tamed the animal gradually through kindness and the steady feeding of peanuts over the years. Mrs. Martell handles the feeding if Janice is away when Mr. Squirrel wants to eat.

FEED HIM ON PORCH

The feeding usually is done on the porch although the popular pet occasionally eats in the house. "If I don't want to go outside I leave the door open and the squirrel comes in to eat," Janice explained. On one of the early house visits she tried to feed the pet some bread but it would not eat so they have fed it only peanuts since.

* * *

Despite Peanuts' surprising tameness around the Martells, the situation usually changes when strangers are around. The squirrel gets frightened and runs away when others get too near, the Washington Junior High School student pointed out.

* * *

She says the squirrel never runs from her but will get mad if teased during feeding. "I often get scratched on the hand then," Janice said.

* * *

Being an only child, Jan has sole claim to Peanuts. There are two other pets in the home, a canary and a goldfish. The three reportedly get along famously. They have had ample opportunity to get accustomed to each other since Peanuts has never been away from the Martell household for longer than a week at a time.

* * *

There never has been any trouble among the pets although the squirrel and canary have had some long staring sessions, according to Janice.

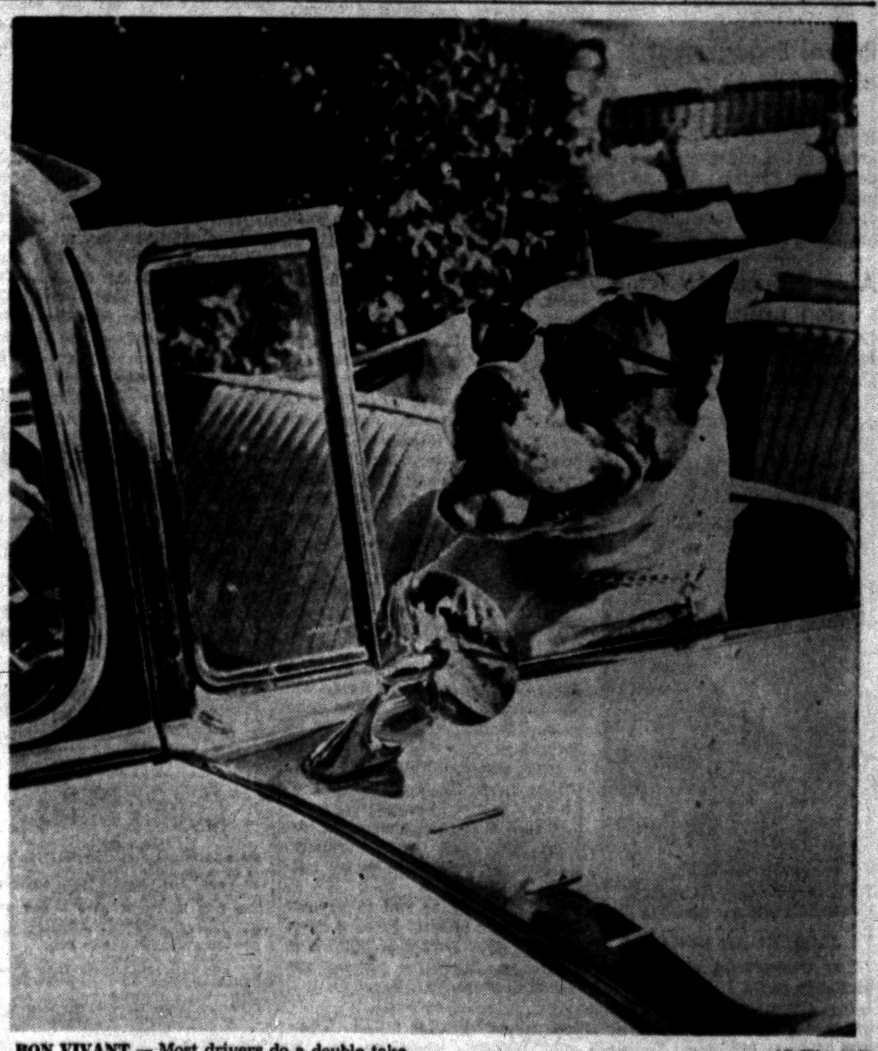

* * *

The Martells have had many humorous incidents to tell their friends since Peanuts became a TV fan. One of their favorites concerns a time when they were watching an animal show with Peanuts squatting on the floor looking on. "A dog started barking as part of the program and Peanuts ran right out the door," Janice remarked.

DROPS IN ANY TIME

The Martells never know when the friendly squirrel will pay a visit but say he always manages to attract the attention of anyone inside by climbing up on the porch swing and looking in the window or by scratching the door. Once inside, the squirrel will either watch television or roam around the house.

Watching Janice feed the squirrel by hand has become a favorite pastime of workers going to and from nearby Pontiac General Hospital. The nine-inch long brown pet knows no special tricks but is considered an expert at putting away the peanuts by all who have stopped to watch.

BON VIVANT — Most drivers do a double take when they pass the parked car of John Keeners, Peoria, Ill., resident. The sight which does the trick, and throws traffic into confusion, is Keeners' 90-pound boxer "El Chico Toro" who often sits in the driver's seat with a pair of sun glasses on. The animal cannot as yet shift the gears and sometimes is confused by the difference between red and green lights.

Walled Lake District OKs 2-Mill Operating Levy

Approve Issue in Second Vote

805 More Voters Go to Polls Than on June 11; Yes Majority 98

WALLED LAKE—School electors here approved a two-mill operating levy by 98 votes yesterday.

The totals were 1,234 "yes and 1,136 "no."

Votes by precincts were as follows: Walled Lake yes, 429 no, 319—Union Lake, yes, 470; no, 168—Commerce, yes, 149; no, 127—Wixom, yes, 70; no, 119—Glengary, yes, 116; no, 143.

The second time the proposal was submitted, 805 more voters went to the polls. When the issue was defeated on June 11, only 1,565 ballots were counted. Of these there were 820 no votes and 745 yes votes.

The operational levy is for a period of two years only and will enable the Board of Education to pay for a $16,000 deficit incurred during the past year and to follow its proposed budget for the coming year.

Ortonville Youth Camping at Ocqueoc

ORTONVILLE—A group of 35 Bible students, comprising the seniors of the youth group of the Ortonville Baptist church, are spending this week at Camp Ocqueoc. They left yesterday morning for the camp.

Orion Wins New Family's Enthusiasm; Wife Gives Slogan for 15 Road Signs

By LAOMA SANFORD
Lake Orion Correspondent

LAKE ORION—"For Fun, Family, Fortune" the slogan that marks 15 roads entering Orion Township, is the key to her feeling for her new "hometown" according to the slogan's author, Mrs. Frank Mills.

The slogan is written in black and white on new signs placed last week by the township board.

Mrs. Mills earlier won a contest conducted by the board, which had sought a four-word motto expressing a resume of the area.

She drew from her own experience as a new resident in the area, she says, creating in the motto a feeling of her enjoyment.

Mr. and Mrs. Mills, who live at 235 Indianwood Rd., have no family here, and have lived here only two and a half years. Previously they were in Toledo, Detroit and Cleveland.

"People were so friendly right from the beginning that in no time at all we belonged to the Methodist Church," recalls Mrs. Mills. "Then, soon I was in the Woman's Club and Extension, and my husband became a Rotarian."

They built their new home on Indianwood about a year ago, to secure more privacy than in the village or on the lake. But they can get their boat from the channel in the back yard out to the lake in about two minutes, the Mills say.

The home has a lovely view of the arm of the lake.

It was this view, and the friendliness of families that put Mrs. Mills to thinking one night of the contest.

"All the friendliness of families living here and vacationing here needed expression," she says she reasoned. "Then I remembered that many had come for fun, and had stayed on to build churches and schools, and to creat happy families."

And so, "For Fun, Family and Fortune" was worded.

No one was more surprised than she when she was awarded the $25 savings bond by the judges, Herbert Erikson, Mrs. Clare Chapin and Roderick Wiley, she reports. Their choice was from over a hundred entries.

Troy Rezones for Church

Neighbors Claim Road Is Inadequate During Springtime

TROY — Three Trombley street lots were rezoned for erection of a Church of Christ over objections of residents that the street washes out for three weeks in springtime.

Numerous Trombley residents told councilmen that there is no access to the street because of spring rains for several weeks each year. The street dead ends about a half mile off Rochester road at about 16½ Mile road.

Church traffic on the street would make a street maintenance problem as well as a traffic hazard, residents said.

The church, being promoted by a Ferndale congregation, has a membership of 30 families now, councilmen were told.

Troy Questions Drain Prices

City Seeks Alternative to Twelve Town Project; Proposes Own Sewers

TROY—City officials debated for two hours last night on possible ways to avoid the $1,945 an acre assessment for over 900 acres within Troy which would be drained by the proposed Twelve Town Drain.

No definite way to avoid the sharing of the Twelve Town drain and its financing was agreed upon by councilmen, however.

A city-wide sewer system in Troy was eyed as a possible alternative to having the 900-acre section included in the proposed Twelve-Town drain's area.

The city sewer, talked of by officials for some time, would probably cost less than the $1,945 an acre estimated for the Twelve Town Drain, officials estimated.

But the city sewer is not feasible at the present, officials agreed.

"The city's prospects of avoiding going along with the Twelve Town Drain plans don't look too favorable," says City Clerk Lawson Lockhardt.

The council feels that for the small area to be serviced by the drain, that the Troy assessment is far above what it should be," Lockhardt says.

* * *

City officials will gather again tomorrow night to discuss a possible water agreement, the possiblity of buying additional highway equipment, and approving of bonds for some subdivisions.

'Musical Betts' Plan Concert Tomorrow

ORTONVILLE — "The Musical Betts" of Jackson will present a message in music at the midweek meeting tomorrow at 7:45 p.m. at the Baptist Church.

They are the Rev. and Mrs. Clarence R. Betts, who have traveled through the U.S., and parts of Canada and Cuba presenting sacred concerts. They always include some of the older, best-liked hymns in each service.

Many instruments, including the marimba, vibraharp, mandolin, guitar, saws and bells, are played by the couple.

Church Near Las Vegas Grows to Surprising Size

By BOB THOMAS

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—Twenty-three years ago, a young Irish priest just out of seminary in New York, told a friend he had chosen Nevada as the place to start his church career.

"Nevada!", the friend exclaimed. "Why in heaven's name would you go there? Why, there's nothing but a few houses next to the highway. Your church will look like a mission in China.

Nevertheless, Father John Ryan went west. After being stationed in most of the sizable towns in the state, he is now pastor of St. Anne's, the closest church to the great show capital, the Las Vegas strip.

On a recent Sunday, Father Ryan could look down at mass and see such famous faces as Jimmy Durante, Danny Thomas, Dennis Day and Teresa Brewer, stars, chorus girls, pit men, croupiers and plain citizens fill St. Anne's. The congregations are so sizable that six masses are held.

* * *

Father Ryan, a big, broad-shouldered man with a tanned Irish face and a touch of brogue, came to Las Vegas four years ago to find St. Anne's out in the desert without even a road before it. Now there is a road, a thriving church, a grammar and high school.

His latest enthusiasm is a youth center to provide healthful recreation for children of all sects. Last weekend the town pitched in for a gala barbecue, auction and entertainment to pay off the $30,000 debt on the center.

Las Vegas is always proclaiming that it has "heart," and such events would support that claim. "You won't find more generous people anywhere than those in Las Vegas," agreed Father Ryan.

But, of course, all is not sweetness and light here. The priest admitted that there are problems.

"This is the place of 'fun in the sun,'" he remarked. "People are here for pleasure, and the climate contributes to a lax attitude. Certainly all the temptations are here.

Harriman Raps GOP 'Raw Deal'

Says Ike Broke Pledge of 90 Per Cent Parity for Farmers

ABERDEEN, S. D. (AP) — Gov. Averell Harriman of New York said last night that the New Deal and Fair Deal for farmers under former Presidents Roosevelt and Truman have "given way to the raw deal of President Eisenhower."

Quoting a campaign address he said Eisenhower made at Brookings, S. D., in 1952 promising 90 per cent parity supports, Harriman declared: "Eisenhower broke that pledge."

The New York governor addressed a barbecue audience of South Dakota Democrats shortly after Kentucky's Gov. A. B. (Happy) Chandler had launched a similar attack against the Eisenhower administration before the same group.

The two governors, both bidding for South Dakota's eight votes at the Democratic National Convention, now pledged to Sen. Kefauver (D-Tenn), did not meet. Chandler was driving out of Aberdeen as Harriman landed at the local airport.

* * *

Chandler said the Republicans had "betrayed the farmers of America" in repudiating the 90 per cent support formula.

Harriman said that the net income of farmers was down a third, that farm equities are down by 11 million dollars while farm mortgages are up four billions and interest charges up 100 million a year.

"Farmers always have been ready to do battle with the elements—drought, hail, wind and flood—but they can't cope with all these and Eisenhower too," Harriman concluded.

VFW OKs $145,000 for Extended Programs

LANSING (AP)—Veterans of Foreign Wars officials are drawing plans for programs during the coming year costing $145,000.

A budget of that amount was approved over the weekend at meetings of the council of administration, 25-man VFW governing body, in Grand Haven.

Extended program are being worked out in the areas of community service, civil defense, youth activities, employment, hospital work, and legislation.

Red Inventors Flubbed — in Making Ice Water

By EARL WILSON

They just don't dig ice-water hereabouts.

It's probably not serious to anybody but an American who likes to cut the dust once in a while with some cold aqua pura.

We first noticed it while riding the Soviet's crack train—aptly named "the Red Arrow"—through the peasant country from Moscow.

Old women were doing "section hand" work on the railroad. We passed unforgettable slums—then we arrived at the swank Astoria Hotel here where we were given a surprisingly lush four-room suite fit for a Bulganin—all on our tourists' ticket.

But ice-water you couldn't get.

On the "Red Arrow"—same name as a train on the Pennsy—we had no beef about anything except the bathroom [illegible].

Each compartment was equipped with a small white utensil famous in grandfather's day. For that matter, the new log houses which we saw the peasants building had the once-familiar outdoor plumbing.

"Could we get some ice or an ice drink?" I asked. The train was hot, with electric fans whirring.

"Third car," I was told, and rushed down there. Yes, they had beer. Ah, for a cold beer!

But it was warm beer.

On Sunday night we had dinner at the Hotel Europa where we saw a couple hundred young Russians . . . artists, students, Army officers . . . Living it up and gulping Russian champagne.

"That young guy belting champagne and holding his gal's hand will fall on his face," someone predicted . . . but he didn't.

A 6-piece orchestra without neckties played "Charmaine" and "You Belong To Me" . . . a crooner crooned and nobody listened . . . just like home.

We had excellent pojarsky—but the ice water never came.

Over the phone it was no good. I tore downstairs to the "service bureau."

"Speak slow," a man said. "I speak English some."

While others stood about us in the lobby listening, I told with gestures that we craved some vada (water), cold (kolodnai), with ice, yet (marajanadveh).

"Oh, is that all?" the man exclaimed.

He laughed. It would be right up. "Please," I pleaded, "a bolshoi (big) supply." He promised. And it quickly came. One glassful.

THE MIDNIGHT EARL IN N.Y. . . .

Edward G. Robinson flew to L.A. and concluded the divorce settlement . . . Frank Sinatra returns from Europe July 30; he'll rest for a week. Johnnie Ray will undergo more surgery on the foot he jabbed with a toothpick three years ago . . . Monroe took 6,000 vitamin pills ($720 worth) along to England.

★ ★ ★

The "Li'l Abner" producers decided against Elvis Presley for the lead role. (Elvis drawled, "I guess they expect me to talk hillbilly.") . . . Jayne Mansfield, a TV panelist on "Down You Go," said, "I'll wear demure Peter Pan collars and prove I have mental dimensions that haven't been explored yet" . . . Farouk refused to rent his yacht for scenes in the Marlene Dietrich movie in Monaco? . . . Valerie Allen, whose next is "Funny Face," signed a seven-year Paramount contract.

★ ★ ★

Joan Crawford's daughter, Christina, will enroll at the Carnegie Tech drama school . . . Frederic March tells friends he may quit, after 35 years of acting . . . Cole Porter was so impressed with "My Fair Lady" that he wept through part of it . . . The ABC is testing atomic radiation at the South Pole, to see if it'll melt the ice cp . . . After his current movie commitments, Burt Lancaster will be a film exec 70 per cent of the time; for the rest, he'll make his own pictures.

Mae West's newest suitor is a 27-year-old shoe heir . . . Summer stock note: TV stars are outdrawing movie stars . . . Rin Tin Tin's press agents, Don Garrett, starts sharing the same kennel with actress Lila Paris this week, when they get hitched . . . Dick Contino and Leigh Snowden say they'll wed in January.

EARL'S PEARLS . . .

WISH I'D SAID THAT: A lot of wives will tell you it's easier to separate the men from the boys than to separate the men from the girls.

★ ★ ★

TODAY'S BEST LAUGH: Red Buttons will act in a Shakespeare Festival, and Jack E. Leonard cautioned him, "Careful, Red—if you blow him you'll have not writers left."

Walter Slezak met an actor-friend and asked how he'd gotten such a great suntan. "Easy," said the pal. "— I have a terrible agent." That's earl, brother.

Burke, Kroll Collide in PGA Finale

CANTON, Mass. (AP) — According to golfers who play in it — and some who won't — the Professional Golfers Assn. Championship is the toughest of all major tournaments because of its length and the unceasing pressure.

Two players well fitted physically and temperamentally to withstand this grind — Jackie Burke and Ted Kroll — met today to battle it out over 36 holes of a woodsy, country-type golf course for the title and the $5,000 top prize.

* * *

Burke, 33, apparently is just reaching the peak of his competitive game after a too-long apprenticeship in which he was regarded as a perennial great prospect. Kroll, 37, is a wiry, weather-beaten tournament campaigner who plays every week on the pro tour and never seems to turn a hair whether the going is good or bad.

* * *

Since play began in the PGA last Friday, Burke already has played 121 holes of golf, almost without a breathing spell. Kroll didn't have a letup either until yesterday's semifinals, when the upset king of the earlier rounds turned out to be just a "pigeon" for a real tough competitor.

Kroll, shooting relentlessly steady golf, won by a near-record 10 and 8 margin from Bill Johnston, the 31-year-old club pro from Provo, Utah, who had beaten such players as Jay Hebert, ex-champion Walter Burkemo and Henry Ransom in the 18-hole duels.

Johnston was outclassed and soon realized it.

* * *

Putting was a big factor in Burke's 37-hole victory over Ed Furgol in about as exciting a match as this 38-year-old tournament has seen.

* * *

The lame-armed Furgol, who lashes out at the ball in a jerky, vicious-looking way and achieves surprising results, moaned: "I should have beaten the man 9 and 8 or 7 and 6 if I had putted. I found the greens here hard to putt. They're not uniform."

The Blue Hill Country Club — a sort of Boston version of Tam O' Shanter — has a rolling course 6,634-yards long, with rocks and trees a little way off in the rough and some greens that were badly damaged by weather last fall and winter.

* * *

Burke played it amazingly well up to yesterday. Then he had all kinds of trouble on the early holes.

* * *

He came from 5 down at the 14th to 2 down at the 18th and then 2 up at the 28th after he had won five straight holes. The grim, crooked-armed Furgol caught him at the 35th and pulled off a couple of fine shots on the 36th to stay alive. A 12-footer on the 37th hole saved Burke.

MUSKEGON (AP) — Blonde Sally Sharp, a long-ball hitter with a deadly short game, led 31 other amateur finalists into the opening match play round of the Michigan Women's Golf Assn. tournament today.

* * *

Miss Sharp, a 19-year-old sophomore at Michigan State, University, had trouble with her fairway game but came up with some fine chipping to take medalist honor with an 82 in qualifying rounds yesterday at the Muskegon Country Club. She paced 84 other entrants in the 40th annual tourney, the largest field ever to compete outside the Detroit area.

Sally, runnerup to Wiffi Smith in last year's competition, carded a 44 on the front nine, then came home with a 38 on the tough women's par 74 Muskegon CC layout.

Tied for runnerup honors at 86 were Mrs. Helen Grinnel of the Detroit Golf Club, Miss Margaret Watkins of the Country Club of Detroit and Mrs. Keith LeClair of Ypsilanti.

Two other former champions, Mrs. E. O. Reynolds of Lansing and Mrs. Harold Marquardt of Detroit, easily made it into the finals, posting a 90 and 93 respectively. Wiffi Smith, recent winner of the British and French Women's amateur crowns, is not entered this year.

From The PRESS BOX

Pine Lake CC last weekend settled its senior championships. Len Anderson is the new champ of the 45-60 year division, while long-time veteran Bob Dawson took the 60 and over title.

Season's 2nd ace at Pine Lake was carded Saturday when Pete Booth of Birmingham holed out his five-iron tee shot on No. 2 (165 yard par 3). Jerry Kraus aced the No. 12 hole earlier this season. It was Booth's 1st hole-in-one.

Thoroughbreds go to the starting gate to open a 55-day meeting at the Detroit Race Course, Schoolcraft and Middlebelt roads beginning August 1st.

Topping the list of races will be the 8th annual running of the $50,000 added Michigan Mile, September 15th. Post time is 2:45 p.m. on week days.

Whether the Cincinnati Redlegs continue as one of the "hottest" teams in the Major Leagues is a matter for conjecture, but one thing is certain and that is they will be one of the coolest teams.

Mickey Mantle has become associated with a new business. He will take part in the sales promotion for a ready-to-pour pancake batter called "Batter Up."

* * *

Jim Skinner's home run in the Milford ball park, during Sunday's game between Boys' Club of Pontiac and Milford, is rated one of the longest ever hit in the park's seven years. It was only the 6th hit in the park, and cleared the center field fence at the 402 foot mark. It didn't help much as PBC lost 7-2. Skinner pitches against Birmingham in Wednesday's game.

Pontiac's annual Women's Medal Play golf tournament will be held this Saturday at Municipal Golf Course. Tee-off time is 12 noon and play will be conducted over 18 holes. Trophies will go to the winner and runner-up.

GMC's winning streak in the Class A City Baseball League, which has now reached 18 games, may be a new loop record. Fowler's Fine Foods became the Coachers' 18th straight victim Sunday.

Greenberg, Cronin Honored at Hall of Fame Program

COOPERSTOWN, N.Y. (AP)—"It must be a wonderful country when a boy from the Bronx and a boy from San Francisco can win such honors with a baseball bat."

* * *

Hank Greenberg stood on a platform in front of Baseball's Hall of Fame, talking to those who came to honor him and Joe Cronin as its newest members.

Both men are general managers now, Greenberg at Cleveland and Cronin at Boston, but the big crowd that stretched across main street to the post office steps came to hear them talk of their playing days. Both men obliged.

"I didn't think I would be nervous standing up here," said the 45-year-old Greenberg, who was born in New York's Bronx. "But I have the same butterflies as when I used to anticipate hitting against Lefty Grove, or Red Ruffing with the bases loaded.

* * *

"When I played in the first game at Cooperstown when the Hall of Fame was dedicated in 1939 with men like Walter Johnson, Ty Cobb and Babe Ruth being honored, I little dreamed I would be on the same platform."

* * *

When Cronin, 49, spoke, he also said this was the greatest thrill of his baseball career.

"There were a lot of heartaches along the way," said Cronin.

Baseball Commissioner Ford Frick dedicated the plaques to Greenberg and Cronin.

Tigers at Home After Dropping Exhibition Tilt

Lose to Giants 11-10 at Cooperstown; Meet Orioles in 2 Games

DETROIT (AP) — The Detroit Tigers, 21 games out of 1st place, moved back into home territory today for what they hope will be their first successful stand at Briggs Stadium this year.

This time the Tigers brought with them a record of eight games won and eight lost on the road, not as good as the 11-5 record they piled up on their last tour. Then still a strong contender for a 1st division finish, Detroit now has fallen far off the pace, seven games behind 4th place White Sox.

Tonight southpaw Bob Miller will try to improve Tiger fortunes in a pitching assignment against the Baltimore Orioles.

Yesterday, the Tigers performed at Doubleday Field in historic Cooperstown, N.Y., losing an exhibition game to the New York Giants, 11-10. The Giants' Dusty Rhodes hit his 2nd homer of the day with a man on base in the 12th inning to provide the victory in a loosely played, free-hitting game.

Rhodes tied the score in the 10th inning with another homer, coming on the heels of a home run by pitcher Billy Hoeft of the Tigers in the top of the inning.

The two clubs jumped on the pitchers for 32 hits. The Giants picked up 17 blows, plus five errors.

Bender, Rondo Shine

Two One-Hitters Recorded

A pair of near no-hitters were tossed by City Softball League pitchers Monday night to spotlight the four-game program at Beaudette and North Side parks.

Ed Rondo of Pontiac Select-a-Drink twirled a one-hitter to lead his team to a 2-1 decision over Franklin Products and Gerry Bender turned in a one-hit performance as the North Side Auto Parts girls edged Pulver Tire, 1-0, in attractions at North Side.

Opposing pitcher Bob Briggs picked up the only safety against Rondo, a single in the 4th inning when Franklin scored its lone run. The run was unearned. PSAD tallied once in the 1st and once in the 2nd to nail down the triumph.

A single by Joanne Tibbitts with two out in the 7th inning ruined Bender's bid for a no-hitter as North Side nipped Pulver in their battle for 1st place in the girls league. Katy Boykins singled and scored on an error in the 4th stanza for the winning run off Jackie Thrasher, who yielded six hits.

Louie's Tavern collected 12 safe blows during its 14-2 rout of Drive-In Cleaners and Gerald Long and Jerry Taylor smashed home runs to spark Walled Lake Market to a 9-2 verdict over Oxbow Pavilion.

Five-Run Stanza Wins for Grill

Uprising in 6th Frame Overpowers Union Nine in Class A Battle

Griff's Grill exploded with five runs in the top half of the 6th inning to chalk up a 10-4 victory over CIO Local 594 in a Class A City League baseball game Monday night at Wisner Field.

Three walks, two errors and only one hit, a bases-loaded triple by Dick Ayling, broke a 4-4 deadlock and pinned defeat on pitcher Jim Wagner, who relieved starter John Wagner in the 5th inning. Griff's tacked on another run in the 7th for good measure.

Bob Johnson started on the mound for Griff's and received credit for the win, although he gave way to pinch-batter Ray White during the 6th-inning uprising. Zeke Morris took over to preserve the margin.

Ted Wharry, Al Hayward and Ayling each made two hits for the winners. Jim Day smacked three safeties and Dave Sebring added two more for the CIO.

40 Cagers Out for Summer Play on New 'Field'

Pontiac High School basketball coach Art Van Ryzin is well pleased with the turnout of youngsters interested in playing summer basketball at the new Crofoot "blacktop" play area.

Van Ryzin is directing the activities at this newest play spot in the school system and has split his group of more than 40 boys into informal teams that play Monday and Wednesday nights from 6:30 p.m. until dark.

There is not yet any formal division into stated teams, and no schedule has been arranged. "We just play basketball," says Art. "We may form a league later on."

Any boy interested is invited to take part. Every one that comes out will have a chance to play, Van Ryzin says.

Groups include at present boys of the 7th, 8th grade and high school levels. Smaller boys will come in later on.

Lions' Rookies Get Under Way

YPSILANTI (AP) — The Detroit Lions get the 1956 practice season under way today with the opening of rookie camp at Eastern Michigan College.

Twenty-eight newcomers to pro football were expected to report.

Coach Buddy Parker, who starts his 6th season with the Lions, also asked nine veterans to turn out for the early drills. The nine are either returning to the Lions after military service — like Gene Gedman, Yale Lary and Oliver Spencer — or are being called in for special instructions.

The last category includes holdovers Harry Gilmer, Jim Doran, Jim Salsbury, Ted Topor, George Atkins and Gil Mains.

Parker said he may try several of these players at new positions. Rest of the squad reports Aug. 1.

Lakeland 9 Scores 8-5 Softball Win

Lakeland Pharmacy scored two runs in each of the 1st, 3rd, 4th, and 7th innings Monday night to defeat White Brothers, 8-5, in a Waterford League softball tilt at Drayton Plains.

Bill Troyer paced Lakeland's consistent eight-hit attack against two pitchers with a triple and single in four times at bat. St. Amour drove in three of White's runs with a bases-loaded triple in the 4th stanza.

Briggs Sets Pace

Takes 3 Places in Race

Led by three 1st places accumulated by H. S. Briggs, Pontiac "drivers" of miniature racing cars Sunday grabbed the lion's share of honors in the national race at Oakland Park.

Sponsored by the Pontiac Miniature Race Car Assn., the event attracted little cars from a half dozen Midwest cities, and the competition was very tough, as speed marks for the day showed. PMRCA cars took eight places.

Briggs set the pattern with his 108.17 m.p.h. rate in the .29 class, sent his .19 class racer to 91.28 m.p.h. and "drove" his .09 class car 56.39 m.p.h. for top places. He also handled Johnny Heitsch's .19 class entry for 2nd place in that class, at 89.46 m.p.h. and took another 2nd, for Phil Sauer's .29 class job at 102.74 m.p.h.

Other place winners included:

For .19s—G. Kermale, Pontiac, 89.46; B. Ream, Detroit, 87.55; Sauer, Pontiac, 85.39; Martin, 80.36; F. Kunke, Chicago 70.22; L. Kitts, Kokomo, 75.36; J. Parlgen, Kokomo, 74.67.

For .09s—J. Stahl, Kokomo, 81.96.

Lions Sign Creekmur

He will be starting his 7th season with the Lions. Louis is an offensive lineman.

Pitchers Star in Junior Play

Two Knothole League pitchers, Roger Hayward and Pete Vasquez, turned in sparkling performances and a handful of other stellar mound jobs were recorded to highlight Monday's Junior baseball action.

Hayward twirled a no-hitter to pace the Tigers' 21-1 rout of Earl's Market and Vasquez issued only one safety as the Boys Club trimmed Wing Lake, 18-4.

Jerry Pointer hurled a three-hit gem in leading the unbeaten Pontiac Police to a 9-1 triumph over Waterford in Class D activity. First baseman Bill Hayward homered for the winners to open the 2nd inning.

Joe Tinson allowed only one hit while the Boys Club was downing the Oxford Wildcats, 3-1, and Tom Selhost gave up two safeties as the Auburn Heights Boys Club tripped the Mets, 5-3, in Class E play.

In Class F games yesterday, Richie Lamphere pitched a two-hit shutout while Don Nicholie was posting a 9-0 decision over Boys Club No. 2; GMC bowed to Boys Club No. 3 by an 8-5 margin; North Side Kiwanis dumped the Clarkston Wolves, 9-6, and Tel-Huron spanked Arnold Drugs, 9-3.

3 Named Among Top 'Clutchers'

Del Ennis, Big Klu, Jim Piersall Rated Highly for Winning Blows

NEW YORK (AP) — Del Ennis is nowhere near the leading batters in the National League. But the veteran Philadelphia Phillies' outfielder along with Cincinnati's Ted Kluszewski and Jim Piersall of Boston is among the major leagues' best clutch hitters this year.

Ennis, batting only .253, has driven in the winning run in six games — tops in the majors. This was disclosed today in an Associated Press survey, which also showed that Piersall has produced five game-winning blows to head the American League.

Credit for a game-winning blow was given to each player who knocked in the tally that put his team ahead to stay in the sixth, seventh, eighth, ninth or an extra inning.

Kluszewski, slugging first baseman of the pennant-conscious Redlegs, and Rube Walker, a catcher who has seen limited service for the Brooklyn Dodgers, each have come up with five clutch hits in the late innings.

Light Major Fare

A's Upset White Sox

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Cincinnati Redlegs, the National League's "ugly ducklings," stubbornly continue to hover within sight of the pot o' gold despite snubs by Milwaukee and Brooklyn.

* * *

Although the Redlegs trailed front-running Milwaukee by only 2½ games after last night's 4-3 triumph over Pittsburgh, Braves officials still regard the third-place Brooklyn Dodgers as the team to beat for the pennant.

* * *

The Dodgers, in turn, have eyes only for the Braves, who lead them by six games.

Only two games were scheduled yesterday, both at night, one in each league. In the American League's only encounter, the last-plac Kansas City Athletics upset the White Sox in Chicago 3-2.

Cincinnati's victory last night came when Johnny Temple singled home Bob Thurman in the eighth inning with the deciding run. The triumph went to Brooks Lawrence in relief. Lawrence, who won his first 13 decisions, now owns a 14-1 record.

Elroy Face was charged with the defeat, his sixth. Thurman, who scored Cincinnati's winning run, kept the Reds in the game with a sixth-inning home run.

Kansas City scored all its runs inside the first three innings, then held off the White Sox on strong relief pitching by Tom Gorman and Bobby Shantz. Hec Lopez drove in the A's first two runs in the second, and Vic Power singled in what proved to be the winning run in the third.

* * *

Gorman replaced starter Jack McMahon with the bases full in the second and forced Nellie Fox to hit into an inning-ending double play. He limited the Sox to three hits until the ninth when he walked Jim Delsing, who scored Chicago's second run on pinch hitter Ron Northey's double. Shantz then came in to retire the next three batters.

* * *

City Open Tennis Tourney Offered as Saturday Fare

Pontiac's annual Open Tennis Tournament, sponsored by the Pontiac Parks and Recreation Department, will be held this Saturday at Oakland Park.

The tourney is open to all Oakland County residents and anyone 15 years of age or older is eligible to participate.

If enough entries are indicated, competition will be held in five divisions — men's singles and doubles, women's singles and doubles, and mixed doubles. Four players are required in each division. Trophies will be awarded to all winners.

A trophy fee of one dollar will be charged, payable at the Department of Parks and Recreation office in Pontiac's new City Hall, 35 Parke Street. The deadline for registration and fees is Wednesday at 5 p.m.

* * *

No post entries will be accepted. Players must furnish their own tennis balls. For further information, call the Parks and Recreation Department, FE 3-7131.

THE POWERHOUSE

By Jimmy Powers

Joe Adock makes our rather sophomoric baseball world look a little more adult by offering to shake hands and forget the Gomez incident.

This is all the more magnanimous because it comes from a man who was beaned four times in recent years. I doubt if the average person, after suffering a cracked skull or arm fracture, would be as forgiving.

Lou Nova, after a poetry recitation before a particular tough audience sighed: "You don't have to have talent in this business—you just have to be strong!"

Del started as a carpenter's helper at 10, signed a baseball contract at 17 and for a time worked as a full fledged carpenter in the winter and played baseball in the summer.

His pet office motto: "People, like boats, toot loudest when they're in a fog." Also, "It's easier to do a job right than to explain why you didn't," is another one he likes.

Necessity!

Fry, Flam U.S. Champions

CHICAGO (AP)—Wimbledon champion Shirley Fry says she "just had to" win her first National Clay Courts tennis championship yesterday to save face at a hometown banquet later this week.

Miss Fry, trailing badly in the first set, rallied to defeat Althea Gibson of New York City, 7-5, 6-1.

Herb Flam of Beverly Hills, Calif., also came from behind to win his second men's title with a long, drawn out 3-6, 6-3, 1-6, 6-3, 6-3 triumph over Ed Moylan of Trenton, N.J.

Miss Gibson jumped into a 5-2 lead over the St. Petersburg, Fla., girl before Miss Fry rallied to win the next five games and coast in easily in the second set.

Miss Fry and Dorothy Head Knode of Forest Hills, N.Y., the 1955 singles champion, won the women's doubles title by beating Yola Ramirez and Maria Hernandez, Mexico City, 6-2, 6-1.

Moore, Parker Ready for Wednesday Bout

Moore, who is expected to weigh about 185 pounds for the match, took his final boxing workout yesterday. Parker, who reported his weight at 208, limited himself to road work.

Santa Anita Plans Richest Winter Card

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Santa Anita racetrack has announced that its 1956-57 winter meeting will be the richest in its history, with $3,275,000 in stakes and purses for the 55-day session opening Dec. 26 and closing March 11.

The Santa Anita Handicap will be worth $135,000. There will be three other $100,000 races, the Maturity Jan. 26, the Derby March 2 and the San Juan Capistrano March 9. The Handicap will be run Feb. 23.

Pontiac Trotter Third in Northville Feature

Olympic Rowing Coach

SPEAKER—Ross "Lefty" Wilson (above), veteran assistant trainer and emergency goalie for the Detroit Red Wings, will be the guest speaker at tonight's meeting of the Jimmy Dey Amvets Post. The colorful Wilson will show film highlights of the 1955-56 Stanley Cup hockey playoffs. The meeting will be held in the American Legion hall at Paddock and Auburn at 8 o'clock.

Giovanelli Stops Poirier With TKO

NEW YORK (AP) — Danny Giovanelli has himself a winning streak of one today and a solid reputation as a comeback guy among the middleweights.

The 24-year-old New Yorker came back from a near knockout midway through the 8th round and nailed Gene Poirier for a technical knockout before the round was over last night in their scheduled 10-rounder at St. Nick's Arena.

Seeded Stars Keep Moving in Boys' Test

CHAMPAIGN, Ill. (AP)—The seeded favorites came through about as expected in yesterday's opening rounds of the Western Junior and Boys Tennis tournament.

* * *

Only Wayne Peacock of Wauwatosa, Wis., seeded No. 10 in the junior division, was beaten by an unseeded opponent. Peacock lost to Lloyd Moglen, Mt. Vernon, N.Y., 7-5, 6-4.

* * *

Norm Perry of Los Angeles, seeded No. 1 in the junior division, and Paul Palmer, top rated among the boys, both breezed into the third round.

Pine Lakers Qualify for Annual Tourney

Race for championship flight places in Pine Lake's annual golf tournament began yesterday, with qualifying rounds under way all this week, through Sunday. Match play begins next week and finals are scheduled for Labor Day.

After 6th Title

Seixas in Second Round

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Top-seeded Vic Seixas of Philadelphia, pressing his bid for another Davis Cup berth, moved into the second round today of the 57th annual Pennsylvania State Men's Lawn Tennis Tournament.

* * *

Seixas, who has won this crown six times and last year was runerup to Tony Trabert, whipped James Schmidt, a stout-hearted Texan yesterday, 6-1, 6-4, to earn a clash today with Jon Douglass, Stanford University football player. Douglass, of San Francisco, eliminted Henry van Rensselaer, New York City, 6-3, 6-3.

* * *

Seixas will have to be at the top of his game to prevail over Art Larson, former National champion; Gil Shea, Sammy Giammalva, Sid Schwartz, Grant Golden, Allen Morris, and Hugh Stewart, seeded behind Vic in that order and all with that Davis Cup team glint in their eyes.

The only other seeded players to play in yesterday's opening round were Schwartz of New York, who bested C. G. Daniels of the combined Oxford-Cambridge team from England, 6-4, 6-1, and Morris of Atlanta, winner by 6-3, 6-3 over Harry Hoffman Jr., 19-year-old Philadelphian.

* * *

Chicago Yacht Has Best Time

Fleetwood Tabbed for Top Honors in Race to Mackinac

MACKINAC ISLAND, Mich. (AP)—Fleetwood, a trim, 38-foot yawl out of Chicago, today had all but the official designation as winner of the 49th annual Chicago-to-Mackinac Island yacht race.

* * *

Fleetwood, a Class D entry, finished yesterday behind five big Class A boats in the 333-mile run up Lake Michigan, but its corrected time was well under any of the early finishers. Race officials said no other entry appeared to have a chance to win the overall competition.

* * *

Skippered by Dick Gelb of Chicago, Fleetwood skimmed across the finish line in an elapsed (actual) time of 51 hours, 13 minutes and 17 seconds, but its corrected time was 40:10:03.

Sixteen other entries finished before midnight, EST, last night.

* * *

Hilaria, owned by Hugh Schaddelee of Macatawa Bay, Mich., was the first yacht across the finish line at 2:15 p.m. yesterday. It was followed a minute later by Sabre, out of Sheboygan, Wis., largest sailing vessel on the Great Lakes.

Alaskan Hunting Theme of Film at OCSC Meet

Members are permitted guests for this meeting, new or prospective members. Program is set for 8 p.m.

Final Inning Run Wins for Yankees

Yankees scored one run in the final frame to defeat the stubborn Indians 5-4. This marked the 3rd straight win for the Yankees in the 2nd round of the Federal Savings Midget Baseball League and puts them in a strong position to win the 4th spot in playoffs scheduled for next week.

Randy Stiles doubled in the 5th frame, advanced to third on a ground out and scored when an attempted pick-off on him went astray.

Oldest person to win an American Bowling Congress medal was Robert Watson of Los Angeles, who rolled a 300 game on October 19, 1947, when he had attained an age of just 70 years.

Doctoring Your Golf

By DR. CARY MIDDLECOFF

PATIENT'S COMPLAINT: Cramped at top

DIAGNOSIS: Hold the wrist break

TREATMENT: Generally lacking strong hands, women too often break the wrists almost immediately in the backswing. That tightens them up; makes them feel cramped at the top of the swing.

Men with powerful hands and arms, big fellows with youth on their side, can get away with a lot of hand action. But with the years it runs its course. They'll do well to change their style immediately into swinging ease and reap the benefit later on.

The very first move is the key to it all—the little move that

Work on it and you'll surprisingly soon get the feeling of rhythmic winding up and unwinding of the body. Note in the sketch the dotted line that runs from the clubhead up to the left shoulder. The start of the one-piece swing. Keep the head still, and when the backswing reaches a point approximately opposite the right hip you'll feel the hips start to turn, the left side following around smoothly and willingly.

3 Contracts Awarded for County Building

Pontiac Builder Arthur C. Linney recently was awarded the contract for an addition to the County Board of Education Bldg. His bid was $18,777, Robert Y. Moore, chairman of the Board of Auditors, said today.

Two other contracts on the building were awarded to Sylvan Plumbing and Heating Co., with a bid of $3,950, and Electrician James K. Martin who bid $2,302.02.

Bids totalled $25,029.02, nearly $5,000 under the estimate, Moore said.

The new wing, with interior dimensions of about 35 by 25 feet, is planned for the north end of the building. It will match a similar wing added to the south end last year.

Market Prices Nudge Higher

Leading stocks went ahead fractions to around a point. There was a scattering of losers. Here and there wider gain was registered.

Rails were a little more actively traded than the rest of the list but did not provide the strong leadership they gave yesterday.

Among opening blocks were Westinghouse up ¾ at 54¼ on 1,100 shares, American Telephone up ⅛ at 184½ on 2,500, General Electric up ⅜ at 64⅞ on 4,000, New York Central up ¼ at 40 on two blocks of 1,000 each and American Cyanamid up ⅝ at 75¼ on 1,500.

Gulf Oil stretched ahead around three points and Royal Dutch was a one-point gainer.

U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, Republic and Youngstown Sheet & Tube were up fractionally. Motors and aircraft were firm with Douglas up around a point.

Santa Fe, Baltimore & Ohio and Chesapeake & Ohio gained fractions.

In the American Stock Exchange prices were mixed with New Jersey Zinc up, Crole Petroleum down and Bunker Hill unchanged. Corporate bonds were mixed.

Everyone's Investing, Poll Shows

'Little Men' Spurring Common Stocks

NEW YORK (INS)—Wall Street has reached Main Street, U.S.A.

* * *

The survey showed the number of individuals owning shares in publicly held companies has jumped 33 per cent in the past four years to a total of 8,630,000.

Funston disclosed two-thirds of all shareowners have incomes of less than $7,500 annually and the median income is $6,200.

FROM ALL CLASSES

He declared:

"Shareowners in public corporations come from every walk of life, every occupation and every income group throughout the 48 states.

* * *

1. Women outnumber men. Housewives and non-employed women constitute the largest single group of owners.

2. The greatest growth in ownership since a similar 1952 stock exchange survey has taken place in communities with 2,500 to 25,000 residents. These small cities now contain 31.3 per cent of all adult shareowners, compared with 17.7 per cent four years ago.

3. The typical stockholder is 48 years old, compared with an average age of 51 in the last study.

4. As might be expected, the ratio of stockholders to the total population in any age group increases substantially as income rises. For example, one of every three persons in the $7,500 income group is a shareowner. For those in the $5,000-$7,500 bracket the ratio is one in nine and for the $3,000 to $5,000 group, only one in 17 owns stock.

On a geographic basis, New York state has the largest number of shareholders—1,699,000, followed by California with 1,011,000 and Illinois with 732,000.

Measuring share ownership against population, the New England states make the best showing with more than 10 per cent of the population in New Hampshire, Massachusetts and Rhode Island listed as stockholders.

Funston noted that about half of the 2,140,000 new stockholders since 1952 made their first share purchases last year.

The study did not cover owners of private firms whose securities are unavailable to the general public. Funston estimated there are 1,400,000 persons in this category, bringing the shareowner total to more than 10 million.

Weak Soybeans Scatter Grains

CHICAGO (AP)—Scattered selling caused grains to ease for small fractional losses on the board of trade today. Dealings were rather slow.

The selling appeared to be brought out by the pronounced weakness displayed in the previous session, particularly in soybeans, corn and oats. But it wasn't very heavy. At the same time no aggressive demand appeared.

Soybeans, which were weakest in yesterday's market, had a somewhat firmer tone than the rest of the grain list at the start. But they soon lost their small gains.

Wheat near the end of the first hour was ¼ to ½ lower, September $2.15⅝; corn ¼ to ⅝ lower, September $1.45¾; oats unchanged to ⅝ lower, September 72; rye ¼ to one cent lower, September $1.36 ¼; soybeans ¼ to two cents lower, September $2.38¼; lard unchanged to 10 cents a hundred pounds lower, September $11.30.

Bank Wraps Up New Stock Sale

The sale of 10,000 new shares of Pontiac State bank common capital stock has been completed, President Milo J. Cross announced yesterday.

The stock, offered after shareholders approved the increase in April, raises the bank's capital structure to $1,400,000, Cross said.

The 10,000 shares, priced at $30 each, were first offered to stockholders at the rate of one share for each three held. 65 new holders were added as a result of the issue, Cross reported, boosting shareholders to 257.

The sale increases common capital stock from 40,000 to 50,000 shares. Each share has a par value of $10.

Business Briefs

DETROIT (AP)—Rowden R. Reynolds has been named Chrysler Corp. Plymouth Division Western Zone sales manager with headquarters in Los Angeles.

Reynolds, central zone sales manager in Detroit since October, 1955, fills a vacancy left by the recent death of R. C. Burlam.

Three Goebel Brewing Co. distributors from Pontiac were among 80 representatives who attended a sales and business management meeting at the company's main offices in Detroit, Saturday.

The trio included Walter Lacey, Arthur Schwagerle and Glen R. Bullock—all associated with Gold Label Distributors. More than 80 distributors from three states were at the conference.

Gordon M. McLeod, assistant cashier and auditor at the Community National Bank, is among 300 banking executives who are currently attending a training session for auditors and comptrollers at the University of Wisconsin.

The two-week course is sponsored by the National Assn. of Bank Auditors and Comptrollers.

Dearborn Youth Saves Friends —by Long Swim

DETROIT (AP) — Three Michiganders could be thankful today that the fourth member of their boating party was a strong swimmer.

Orlan Haskill, 18, spent two hours swimming two miles in Lake St. Clair Sunday night to bring help to his three companions, who were clinging to an overturned boat.

Haskill, a varsity swimmer on the Lowrey High School team in Dearborn before his recent graduation, was riding in the boat with Frank Brant, 43, of Dearborn and Brant's son, Frank Jr., 17, and Lester Clair, 45, of Blaine. The boat flipped over when they tried to pull across some waves.

The four were unable to attract the attention of passing vessels because the green boat blended so well with the background. So Haskill put on a life preserver and struck out for shore.

Haskill, who starts work on a construction job today at St. Johns, said:

"The next time I go out in a boat, I'm going to make sure the others can swim too."

Mrs. Kenny Lane Lets Husband Take Bows, She Stands Back

The Muskegon southpaw enhanced his fistic opportunities recently with a 10-round decision over the pride of the Kajun country, Ralph Dupas of New Orleans. It was a reversal of an earlier win by Dupas.

Kenny wants his wife—Ruth Sokoloski Lane—to share the laurels that are his. But she wants no part of it. Not that she objects to his profession, but as she puts it:

"I don't see where I fit into the boxing picture. It's Kenny who does the fighting. Of course, I want him to win, but I don't want to discuss boxing. Naturally I would be very proud if he became champion."

Kenny, who has made a rapid climb from a second-rate amateur to a fighter who is battling for recognition among the world's best lightweights had his first professional bout in April 1953.

'Take an Aspirin,' Lawmaker Urges Capitol Newsmen

Cederberg issued a press release saying, "I have no personal plans for long winded speeches or verbose press releases that might contribute to cranial distress" among the newsmen. He added:

"If our oratory or parliamentary maneuvering should cause you to want to take a pepper, take a pastel aspirin instead."

Attached to Cederberg's written statement was a vial of pastel-colored aspirins made by a company in his home district.

Automobile Club Distributing Parks Booklet

Automobile Club of Michigan this week will begin distribution of its 1956 Michigan State Parks booklet Arthur Bogue, Pontiac division manager, announced today.

The 36-page booklet lists the 61 state parks and recreation areas, gives their location and describes facilities for tourists, campers and fishermen.

Michigan parks and recreation areas should set new attendance records this year, Bogue predicted. In 1955, they entertained nearly 18 million visitors while over 99,000 campers enjoyed the state-owned facilities.

As a public service, the booklet will be made available to all Pontiac-area motorists through the Auto Club office.

Despite Fires, Law Suits, Taxes

Ringling Tradition Packed Color

SARASOTA, Fla. (AP)—When rambustious old John Ringling—last of five founding brothers — died in New York at the age of 70, he left oil wells and gold mines, hotels and beach property, railroads and grazing lands scattered throughout seven states.

He also left a 30 per cent interest, estimated to be worth $650,000 in the Ringling Bros. and Barnum & Bailey Circus—the most gigantic tented amusement enterprise in American history—plus $616,000 in other circus properties.

* * *

But the entire estate, valued at $22,366,000, was buried in an avalanche of claims and lawsuits, largest of which was an income tax bill for $3,753,138.01.

At the time of Ringling's death on Dec. 2, 1936, the circus had just returned to winter quarters in this resort town and would not go out again until the following spring.

Into this confusing scene stepped young John Ringling North, a vest-pocket edition of his uncle, to carry on the family tradition.

ATTENDED YALE

North, born in the circus town of Baraboo, Wis., to Ida Ringling North, the only sister in a family of seven brothers, had polished off his formal education at the University of Wisconsin and at Yale. He had helped his uncle look after his numerous affairs, usually working in the office.

North, 33 at the time, saw his uncle laid to rest in Englewood, N.J., then hurried to Sarasota to raise some cash. He, with his younger brother Henry, had been named executor of the estate. They and their mother were trustees.

* * *

North soon negotiated a loan of $825,000 to pay off a note left when John bought the American Circus Corp. in 1929 for two million dollars. That took him most of two years.

He then made a move that stamped him as a master showman of the stature of Barnum himself. He bought a gorilla which Henry promptly named Gargantua the Great, changing it from the Buddy tag the beast had worn for most of its seven years up to that time.

WORTH $100,000

Gargantua proved to be the greatest feature in the history of the Ringling circus. His very name became a household word. Asked how much he paid for Gargantua, North cannily replied:

"He's worth $100,000." And he was.

Four years after Gargantua joined the show in 1937, North imported a female gorilla and staged an elaborate "wedding" for the beasts.

By this time North had become president and a member of the board of directors of the circus. His brother was elected a vice president.

* * *

By 1942, the estate's total debt had been reduced to $649,340 and the income tax claim had been settled.

Meanwhile, the circus was having its ups and downs. Labor disputes forced it to close in Scranton, Pa., late in June 1938. In the fall of 1941, 11 elephants were mysteriously poisoned and died.

CLEVELAND FIRE

Then, on the afternoon of Aug. 4, 1942, in Cleveland, Ohio, fire leveled the menagerie tent, burning to death two score costly animals which the show valued at $200,000.

World War II was on and in those years of rationing and uncertainty the future of the circus was in doubt. North wanted to turn it over to the government for the duration, but the directors disagreed and voted him out as president.

* * *

North's cousin, Robert E. Ringling, took over the helm. James A. Haley, an accountant who had handled many of John Ringling's business dealings, became first vice president and assistant to the president.

The show was playing Hartford, Conn., on the hot, sultry afternoon of July 6, 1944, when a tiny tongue of flame appeared above the sidewall near the entrance end of the 520-foot-long big top. Suddenly, the flames raced along the tent and the crowd of 6,789 patrons scrambled for exists.

Panic reigned as the world's largest tent settled to the ground, smothering and burning everybody caught beneath it. One hundred and sixty-seven persons died and 487 others were injured.

FIVE JAILED

Six of the circus' key men were charged with criminal negligence. Five went to jail.

Prompt action in posting bonds enabled the show to leave Hartford nine days later and go back to winter quarters, there to rehabilitate and return to the road Aug. 4 in the Rubber Bowl at Akron, Ohio.

By 1945, John North, as executor, had reduced outstanding claims against the John Ringling estate to $584,000 with salable property worth $5,769,973.

Two years later North was returned as vice president of the circus. Haley, who is now a congressman, was president.

CONTROLLING SHARES

North, who owned 7 per cent of the circus, also controlled the estate's 30 per cent. When Haley and his wife sold their share, North bought 14 per cent of it to bring his holdings to 51 per cent and give him controlling interest. The other 49 per cent was owned by Mrs. Charles Ringling and later went to her heirs.

In November 1947, North took over as president again. He has directed the show ever since, streamlining it, glamorizing it, modernizing it in a desperate attempt to keep many features of the circus of old but striving always to meet the challenge of changing times.

Now a combination of circumstances has forced the big top to fold in midseason at Pittsburgh. It came into winter quarters while a crowd stood glumly by with tear-filled eyes.

North has said the show will go out again and open in Madison Square Garden in New York City next April as it has done down through the years, but will appear only in air-conditioned auditoriums. He added that the big top, as we know it, is finished.

Others close to the circus disagree. They say the great tented amusement enterprise is too big to die; that anything that has been so much a part of the American scene for more than 100 years will rise again, to bring thrills and merriment to children of all ages.

Southern White Man Joins 31 Negroes to Better Conditions in Negro Colleges

NEW YORK (AP)—Around the table sat 31 Negro men, all of them college presidents. Before them sat a blue-eyed Southern white man who never went to college.

"I imagine at first I was under close scrutiny," says the white man, wealthy industrialist Thomas A. Morgan. "But now we all know each other. We're friends. We believe in each other's sincerity and honesty of purpose."

Together, this unusual team has become probably the nation's most adept and vital agency for supporting higher education for Negroes in the South.

"We've got a long ways to go and a lot to do," Morgan said. "But it's one area in which we're on the right track—more education and better education for more citizens."

11 YEARS, $33 MILLION

For 11 years, Morgan has served as chairman of the United Negro College Fund. During that period, it was raised nearly 33 million dollars to help hard-pressed Negro colleges.

Morgan, a warm, courtly and keen-minded man of 68, minimizes his own role. "A whole lot more has gone into this thing than the rather small part I've played," he said. "Many good people have never let us down."

Nevertheless, ever since the first year of this nationwide venture for Negro education, it has been led by Southerner Morgan, who grew up a poor farm boy in North Carolina to climb to the top in the business world.

There's a rare quality to the board he heads—the scholarly Negro presidents of 31 colleges, steeped in learning but short on cash, and Morgan, an intimate of financial titans but not of college classrooms.

To him, the program is part of a process of overcoming a once "closed-door situation" regarding higher education for Southern Negroes. He knows how it feels to be left out, even if for other reasons.

"It's close to my own days as a boy," he said. "In my experience, I didn't have the opportunity for all the education I wanted. How in the heck could I go to college? I couldn't go rob a bank to go.

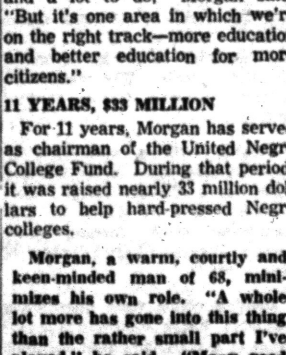

LEAN YEARS

"Now these colleges represent a big proportion of the higher educational facilities available to many people. There have been years when they didn't have much.

"It's a case where a lot of citizens, particularly in the South need and want higher education. We're giving them more than they had."

The program was started in 1944 in an era when economic changes had reduced large individual philanthropies and brought a crisis to private Negro colleges. Deficits, inadequate staffs, run-down buildings imperiled them.

The united fund, first of its kind to link a group of colleges in tackling a mutual financial program started small, but has grown into an annual national enterprise, in which some 5,000 volunteers lend a hand.

Woman Slightly Injured in Bloomfield Collision

Mrs. Leona J. Carter of Mt. Clemens suffered minor bruises in a two-car accident late yesterday morning in Bloomfield Township.

She was treated for cuts and bruises at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital.

Mrs. Carter was riding with her husband, William D., when in collision with a car operated by Dorothy C. Sewell, of Birmingham.

Carter told Oakland County deputies he could not avoid the crash at Maple and Franklin roads. Miss Sewell said she did not see the Carter car.

Given Probation Time

Coley Smith, 31, of Oxford, who pleaded guilty July 16 to passing a bad check for $65 in Oxford Township June 26, was sentenced yesterday to two years' probation and payment of $150 in court costs by Oakland County Circuit Judge Clark J. Adams.

3 Suffer Cuts, Bruises in 3-Way Collision

Three persons suffered cuts and bruises in a three-car pileup at Commerce and Union Lake Roads, Commerce Township, last night, according to the Oakland County Sheriff's Department.

Lester D. Kollinger, 30, of Milford, one of the drivers, Ferdinand O. Bowden, 34, also of Milford, and Daisy E. Hunt of Ecorse, were all released after treatment at Pontiac General Hospital.

Other cars involved were driven by Harold M. Smith, 52, of Walled Lake, and Hubert T. Hunt, 55, of Ecorse.

Smith told investigating deputies the Kollinger car struck the Hunt car causing it to collide with him. Kollinger said he couldn't stop in time to avoid an accident when Hunt started suddenly.

Rochester Woman Hurt in Pontiac Collision

A Rochester woman received minor neck injuries and her daughter was shaken when the car they were riding in was in collision with another vehicle at Florence and Norton Streets last night.

Mrs. Margaret Morris, 26, and Diane, 6, were released after treatment at Pontiac General Hospital. They were passengers in a car driven by Roy Morris, 29. The other car was operated by Louis B. McEndarffer, 32, of 9765 Elizabeth Lake Rd., Waterford Township.

A bullet flies out of a gun so rapidly that no eye can see it go past. Cameras, however, have been made which photograph a bullet in flight.

Columnist Finds Little to Laud in Summer TV Shows

Singer Morgan Earns Laurels

But Farrell, Damone and Many Others Get Black Marks

By JACK O'BRIAN

NEW YORK (INS)—Each year we capsule the warm weather substitute shows, and each season add the comment: Summer replacements, summer not.

The Ernie Kovacs Show: Kovacs as sub for Sid Caesar captures the comic spirit in inspired but erratic explosions, in a show about as undisciplined and tattered looking as any production anywhere. It just doesn't seem to be nighttime TV fare.

* * *

The Charles Farrell Show: While "Lucy" vacations, the 8 p.m. Monday time on CBS-TV also seems to be vacationing from show business. Dull, vapid and humorless.

ORDINARY VARIETY

The Vic Damone Show: A mildly ordinary variety program of a sort that hasn't even done too well daytimes in such lightweight hands; we never thought we'd see the day when "December Bride" would look so good in contrast with anything. But it does in comparison to this aimless whatzis.

* * *

"This Is Show Business": When the Paul Whiteman Show flopped before it got onto the NBC-TV air, there was Irving Mansfield standing ready with a contract for his early-TV carload of phony problems and gimmicky entertainment.

This one could have provided a true period piece had its panel been peopled with Fayesie, Dagmar, Kyle MacDonald, Roberta Quinlan, Eloise McElhone, etc.

* * *

"Press Conference": Martha Rountree's expanded reflection of her own old (sold to Lawrence Spivak) "Meet the Press." Has merit, though early programs lacked discipline, but got started on the wave of criticism for Attorney General Brownell's bad public relations judgment in announcing a big story on the show rather than at a general press conference.

BUT NOT VERY GOOD

* * *

Arthur Murray Party: Every year the arrival of this splashy riot of eager monotony means the humid days are upon us. We sincerely wish Kathryn Murray had as much of Imogene Coca in her makeup as she somehow suspects.

Pantomime Quiz: As dependable as Casey Stengel, Mike Stokey's charade parade drops back into the channels when the weather warms up. This year, in company of some pretty horrible substitute shows, Mike's show is jake.

* * *

Julius La Rosa Show: Does better with Perry Como's time than Patti, in good voice and better personality.

* * *

The Russ Morgan Show: Started out a shambles but with warm, though corny ingredients; has one heckuva chance to make like Lawrence Welk. Helen O'Connell is very pretty and Russ is a hearty big-bear friendly soul.

Aunt, Uncle Win Custody Suit for Actor's Son

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A judge has ordered that Nicholas Newton, 5, son of the late actor Robert Newton, make his home in London with his uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Sylvester Gates.

The decision ended an involved legal controversy over custody of the boy, whose father was "Long John Silver" of movies and television.

* * *

A University of Southern California professor, Sidney Benson, and his wife, Natasha, who cared for Nicholas for several weeks after his father died last March 25, wanted custody of the boy.

They claimed that Nicholas' stepmother, Mrs. Vera Budnick Newton Green, approved but the women denied it. Mrs. Newton and Mrs. Green had asked for joint guardianship.

Answer to Previous Puzzle

TVs Being Sold to Inmates of Mississippi Penitentiary

PARCHMAN, Miss. (AP) — Television is coming to Mississippi penitentiary inmates on the same time payment basis the free world knows so well.

* * *

A furniture dealer was warned he was taking his own chances in regarding the prisoners—some serving time for society's worst crimes—as good credit risks.

* * *

Supt. Bill Harpole approved a prisoner request for permission to buy and install TV receivers in each barracks of the 18 camps scattered throughout the 18,000-acre penal farm.

* * *

Harpole warned the dealer, City Furniture Co. in nearby Drew, that neither the state, the prison nor any state official would be responsible for the monthly payments.

* * *

So far, six receivers have been installed. Two are in white male camps, one in a camp for disabled prisoners; and four in a camp where some of the prison's toughest convicts are housed.

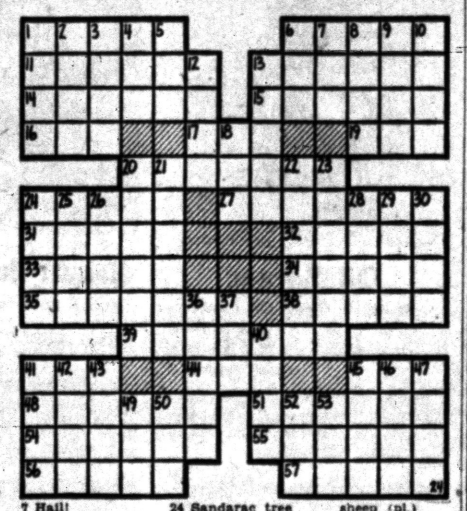

* * *

The prisoners, most of whom receive money from relatives or from the sale of souvenirs, pooled their resources and made the down payments.

The dealers contracts directly with a spokesman chosen by the other prisoners for the payments which run about $19 a month for each receiver. This includes installation and repair service.

* * *

Hospital Releases Nixon's Father, 77

FULLERTON, Calif. (AP) — Vice President Nixon's father, Frank Nixon, has gone to his home in Whittier from Cottage Hospital in Fullerton, where he was confined a week ago by stomach hemorrhages.

Because of his arthritic condition, the 77-year-old Nixon probably will be confined to his bed and chair, hospital officials said. They said the ulcer condition had responded well to treatment.

'Operation Alert' Smoothes Wrinkles in Nationwide Communication System

That's the conclusion of officials running the show and those watching it from emergency press headquarters far away from Washington.

There was no pattern to follow. Communications were confused. One official didn't know what another was doing. Coordination between the various emergency hideaways often did not even exist.

The 1955 operation clearly indicated the nation would be in a bad way in the event of a surprise—and real—enemy attack.

BUGS REMOVED

This year, much of this confusion has been cleared up. There are still growing pains of course. But with the six-day operation about one-third over, many of the bugs have been found and removed.

Assistant White House News Secretary Murray Snyder, who ran the press headquarters last year as well as this, had a hard time figuring out what his biggest problem is this time.

He told a newsman: "Last year, at best, the communications were incapable of handling the needs. The facilities were inadequate and were manned by inadequately trained personnel. There was no experience to serve as a guide line.

"This year, even with twice as many government agencies on the communications network, everything is moving smoothly."

Acting Welfare Secretary Bradshaw Mintener said valuable lessons were learned last year in what his agency can do to help alleviate the suffering that would result from a broad-scale attack, such as the one simulated in the operation.

He told newsmen: "I think the department's operations so far are moving along smoothly. Our plant facilities are much improved, our equipment is better, and there has been tremendous improvement in our communications."

Earlier, Defense Mobilizer Arthur S. Flemming made a preliminary evaluation and said the whole schedule is "far ahead" of last year. He said: "The entire situation in Operation Alert 1956 shows marked progress over last year's test exercise. Nevertheless the test is bringing to light a number of rough spots which are in the process of ironing out."

One impressive fact noted by all officials was that this year's operation was hampered in its initial phase by bad, in some cases severe, weather—a handicap that did not exist last year.

East coast storms knocked out communications in many cases but alternate circuits were ready.

All in all, officials concerned with the problem are much less worried about what would happen if an attack came than they were a year ago.

FUN ON THE FARM — 2

Ragtag Guards Tommy's Corn

Ragtag, the big scarecrow, stands watch day and night over Tommy's corn. He has a fluttering scarf that waves in the wind, a tuft of straw hair sticking out of his hat, and a swinging right arm, with the hand in a big yellow glove.

The birds are scared when they see his arm waving, and fly away.

Paste an additional upright strip of cardboard behind both Ragtag and the stalks to re-inforce them.

Attach Ragtag's right arm behind his shoulder through the indicated holes with a brass fastener or a bent pin. Fasten the circle behind the corn in the same way through the holes shown.

Turn the circle so that birds can be seen, as though flying towards the field. Then raise Ragtag's arm, turn the circle and the birds will disappear. Fold the picture forward on the dotted line and it will stand up.

(For being the first to suggest this Murna Lou Baumgarten, Schulenburg, Texas, wins $10. Send in your ideas care of this newspaper. Violet Moore Higgins; AP Newsfeatures).

Oppose Red China

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate completed unanimous congressional action yesterday on a resolution declaring the "unaltered opposition" of Congress to admitting Red China to the United Nations. Congress has adopted similar resolutions every year since 1951. The 86-0 Senate vote followed a 391-0 House vote July 18.

U.S. Ends Hydrogen, Atomic Test Blasts

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States has completed its 1956 series of atomic and hydrogen blasts in the Pacific, but certain unspecified test activities will continue a while longer.

* * *

"The final test shot . . . has been fired," said a joint announcement yesterday by Chairman Lewis Strauss of the Atomic Eenergy Commission and Secretary of Defense Wilson.

* * *

The announcement said the tests were "successful" included "further development of methods of defense against attack," and advanced the "development of weapons with reduced fall-out and weapons for tactical purposes."

No information was given on the number of test shots in the series that began last May.

Marion Davies Released

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Former actress Marion Davies has been released from Cedars of Lebanon Hospital, where she has been under treatment after suffering a slight cerebral stroke. Her secretary said she had been in a state of exhaustion from social and other activities.

Recent surveys reveal that six out of 10 Americans prefer to pay on the time-payment plan for anything that costs over $100.

HOW MR. J. HOMEOWNER SECURED PEACE OF MIND PROTECTION FOR HIS FAMILY'S MOST IMPORTANT POSSESSIONS WITH MML HOMEOWNERS POLICY

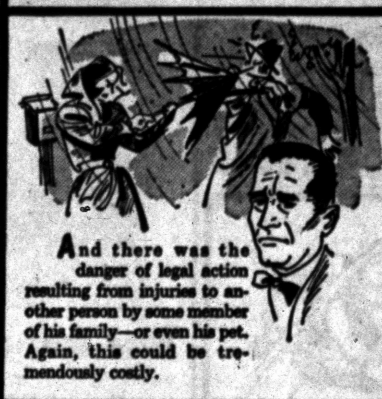

Mr. Homeowner, naturally was concerned about the threat of fire and explosion—the fact that they could wipe out his family's investment in their home.

He knew that storm damage could be serious. That a tornado could result in almost total loss. So he insured his home against hail and windstorm.

But what about legal suits if someone should be injured on his property? The costs could be greater than his family's equity in its home. He had always meant to insure against this hazard.

And there was the danger of legal action resulting from injuries to another person by some member of his family—or even his pet. Again, this could be tremendously costly.

Burglary and vandalism—these were still other threats to Mr. Homeowner. Thieves can strip a house. Vandals can ruin one. Both can be costly.

Modern appliances may cost thousands to replace—thousands more for other furnishings. A Homeowners Policy insures against such loss.

And then Mr. Homeowner.... heard about Michigan Mutual Liability's new Homeowners Policy—a single policy that affords protection against all the risks mentioned above and more!

Yet this Homeowners policy, one of the most discussed in the insurance field, is available at low cost because the risks are combined. Important, too, you get full credit for the fire insurance you may now have in effect with any reputable company. Phone your Michigan Mutual representative for full facts and rates.

Boys Iron Out Their Stuttering

Spend Summer Drilling to Overcome Handicaps and Learn to Talk

NORTHPORT (AP)—No one laughs at the stuttering, halting speech of some 99 boys who are spending the summer on the shores of Grand Traverse Bay.

Some of the speech can barely be understood. But for the youths, aged 7 to 22, this is a chance to overcome speech defects that could handicap their lives.

This is the Shady Trails Speech Improvement Camp. It was founded 25 years ago by John Clancy, who heads it now under the University of Michigan.

Every year, boys with serious speech defects come to the shores of the bay to begin a struggle against their twisted tongues. It's a job that possesses them from their heads to their toes.

EXERCISE HELPS

One reason is that speech, like other muscular and nervous action, is dependent to some extent on the condition of the body as a whole. Physical conditioning is a big part of the work on the 26-acre camp.

Then there are special speech exercises by correctionists, many of them teachers at the university. Finally and most important is "talking."

Clancy, who used to stutter himself says, "Talking is like swimming. You can read all the books you want to, but you've got to get into the water to really learn how. My boys talk."

Painful as the speeches are, they are made. Some of them are short, perhaps only a few sentences, achingly hung together. To control their stammer and halt, they try breath control and lengthening their vowels.

Some of them manage to clear up their speech. Some don't. But all of them stay standing until they have finished and introduced the next speaker. There's no need to feel embarrassed or ashamed because 98 other boys are trying right along with the speaker.

It's frustrating and they do get mad at themselves. One 14-year-old tried hard to say a poem beginning "If." He continually failed. Finally in disgust he slammed a table and said, "If I could say 'if' " I could read this this thing."

In his anger, he had done it—twice.

Happy Is The Day When Backache Goes Away . . . .

Nagging backache, headache, or muscular aches and pains may come on with over-exertion, emotional upsets or day to day stress and strain. And folks who eat and drink unwisely sometimes suffer mild bladder irritation ...with that restless, uncomfortable feeling.

If you are miserable and worn out because of these discomforts, Doan's Pills often help by their pain relieving action, by their soothing effect to ease bladder irritation, and by their mild diuretic action through the kidneys — tending to increase the output of the 15 miles of kidney tubes.

So if nagging backache makes you feel dragged-out, miserable, with restless, sleepless nights, don't wait, try Doan's Pills, get the same happy relief millions have enjoyed for over 60 years. Ask for new, large, economy size and save money. Get Doan's Pills today!

'Who's Going to Build Nile Dam?' Egypt Asks

CAIRO (INS)—Who, if anybody, will help Egypt build the Aswan Dam appears to be developing into a first-class international mystery.

The United States and Britain last week withdrew offers to aid in the construction of the 1.3 billion dollar project, and Soviet Foreign Minister Dmitri Shepilov says Russian does not plan to help.

Egyptian Sunday newspapers, reporting the latest development, led readers to believe Shepilov on his recent visit had promised support of the huge Nile project anytime the Egyptian Government asked.

One newspaper, Alak Hbar, described the Anglo-American move as "a stab in the back."

A spokesman promised a "full report" on the Aswan situation would be delivered by President Gamal Abdel Nasser in a speech at Alexandria Thursday.

All Egyptian newspapers, which are no longer censored but are still subject to official guidance, carried this version of Shepilov's statement:

That he pledged Soviet willingness to consider economic aid for building the dam without any political or non-political strings attached.

The papers carried an identical direct quotation from Shepilov:

"If the Egyptian Government asks us for economic aid on the high dam project, we would give the matter favorable and friendly consideration."

STILL COUNTING ON RUSSIA

Sources close to the government continued to express confidence Moscow will pick up the tab dropped by U. S., Britain and the World Bank.

They were still suggesting that Soviet Ambassador to Egypt Eugeny Kisselev carried such a message to Nasser at a hastily called conference that followed Shepilov's remarks in Moscow.

Moscow Radio said the Western refusal to grant aid on the dam project was a "new attempt to bring pressure to bear on peace loving Egypt."

The broadcast said events had proved that Anglo-American offers to aid the dam were not made "with a genuine desire to help Egypt," but because "ruling circles" of the United States had hoped to obtain Egypt's submission "through the power of the dollar."

Alabhbar said:

"We will not lost our temper nor our head. We will continue along our path. We will neither fall into the arms of the East nor kneel in front of the West. We will march forward. We will build the high dam."

Look Out, Mayor, He's Off to Get His Loaded Gun

KAMPALA, Uganda, East Africa (AP) — If the lord mayor of Paraa does not mend his manners, he is in danger of being shot.

The lord mayor is a friendly wild elephant—too friendly for the liking of John Mills, warden of Uganda's newly created Murchison Falls national game park.

The elephant has attached himself to the safari lodge for visitors to the park. At first he was a great attraction, but now he is going too far.

He pops his head into tents at night and steals visitors' belongings. He twitched the sheet from the bed of Dr. Gordon Brown of Kampala, while the doctor was in the bed. He swiped a lady's dress from the chair at her bedside.

The lord mayor has also learned to turn on faucets in the camp when he wants a drink, but he has not learned to turn them off again.

Waving a stick, Mills remonstrated, but he had got no further than "You naughty elephant" when the animal chased him into his house, smashed his chicken coops and tore up his garden.

"He really is an extraordinary elephant," says Mills. "We shall try to teach him proper manners, but if he resents being corrected, what can we do? It looks very much as though the lord mayor will have to be shot."

Air Force Investigates Damaged Plane Cause

The C131D went into a vertical dive and plunged 9,000 feet downward before it was righted and landed safely on one engine at Kern County Airport late Sunday.

The mysterious accident occurred while the plane was en route from Hamilton Field, near San Francisco, to San Antonio, Texas.

Muscular Dystrophy Funds Given Approval

NEW YORK (INS) — The Muscular Dystrophy Associations of America, Inc., has announced that 15 scientific studies totaling $156,836 have been approved to battle the muscle disease.

According to the organization's president, William Mazer, three of the projects are newly-launched experiments, while 12 are for continuation of studies already under way through previous grants-in-aid.

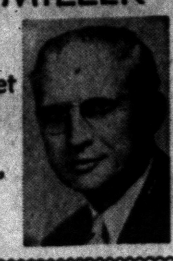

518 Measles Deaths

WASHINGTON (AP) — The U. S. Public Health Service lists only 518 measles deaths in the country in 1954, last year for which there are full reports. In 1953 the figure was 462 and in 1952 it was 618.
