'Won't Fire 1st Shot' Says Hoffa; 'We Will Defend Ourselves'

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—James R. Hoffa of Detroit, newly-elected president of the scandal-scarred Teamsters Union, promised never to fire the first shot in an American labor civil war.

But the 44-year-old Midwest Teamsters boss, who ramrodded yesterday into the $50,000-a-year job of retiring president Dave Beck, warned that if the Teamsters are expelled from the AFL-CIO "we will be ready to defend ourselves with every ounce of strength we possess."

On the other hand, Hoffa promised to bend every effort to make peace with the AFL-CIO and to try to turn the Teamsters "into a model of trade unionism."

The scrappy five-foot, five-inch labor leader polled 72 per cent of the convention vote to defeat William A. Lee and Thomas J. Haggerty, both of Chicago.

The official count was Hoffa 1,208, Lee 313, Haggerty 140.

Pontiac local 614 did not get a vote in the election of officers. Among the groups challenged, the Pontiac delegation was seated late Thursday morning, but their credentials were withdrawn on Friday before balloting started. The credentials committee declined to make public reason for this action.

A Flint local withdrew its convention credentials after choice of its delegation was questioned by the Senate Labor-Probing Committee, Teamsters union sources said today.

The sources said backers of James R. Hoffa's successful campaign for the International presidency found Hoffa had sufficient strength to win without making an issue of the voting eligibility of Flint Local 332.

Hoffa's Election May Affect Law

Likely to Spur Moves for Legislation Against Labor Racketeering

WASHINGTON (AP)— James R. Hoffa's election as president of the giant Teamsters Union appeared certain today to spur moves for federal legislation to crack down on labor racketeering.

Sen. McClellan (D-Ark), chairman of the special Senate Rackets Investigating Committee, called Hoffa's election a challenge that he said Congress will accept and meet.

"The need for federal legislation is now greatly accentuated," McClellan said shortly after delegates to the Teamsters convention in Miami Beach overwhelmingly elected Hoffa yesterday in defiance of a directive from the AFL-CIO to clean house.

Secretary of Labor Mitchell said in Chicago he saw a strong possibility that Hoffa's election may bring about passage of what Mitchell termed "repressive labor legislation."

Leaders of the AFL-CIO obviously have been concerned about just such a possibility, although a spokesman for the labor federation said that President George Meany would have no comment on Hoffa's election.

In advance of the Teamsters convention, the AFL-CIO Executive Committee called on the union to rid itself of "corrupt influences" and the officers responsible for them, or face expulsion.

The Teamsters were given until Oct. 24 to under take cleanup action, and to report back to the Executive Council.

AP Wirephoto Map

U. S., RUSSIAN ROUTES DIFFER — Diagram shows how the north-to-south orbit of the Russian-launched earth satellite differs from the east-to-west orbit planned for the satellites to be launched by the United States. Russia last night announced launching of a man-made moon, 23 inches in diameter and weighing 123 pounds.

Scientists Report Satellite Invisible

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (AP) — Scientists at the Smithsonian Astrophysical Observatory said today they are quite certain the Russian earth satellite is not visible to observers.

Dr. Fred L. Whipple, director of the observatory, said: "We won the first round with the H-bomb—the Russians have won the second with the space satellite."

He said reports that the man-made moon had been sighted were erroneous; the observers probably saw meteors or high flying aircraft.

Scientists said the satellite is streaking around the world at 18,000 m.p.h. in such a position that the glare of the sun makes it invisible to observers where moon watch stations are set up.

The scientists' announcement came after they had worked through the night to plot the orbit of the 185-pound sphere as it whizzes around the globe 560 miles out in space.

Dr. Whipple said the sun obscures observation of the satellite in all parts of the world except near the poles. In two or three weeks, he added, the satellite might change direction and be visible from the earth.

Some 80 moon watchers, members of the earth satellite optical tracking program in the Western Hemisphere and Japan were notified to cease observation duties after the scientists determined the path of the satellite.

DELIBERATE ACTION

An astronomer, who declined use of his name, said it was obvious that the Russians chose the sun plane angle deliberately in order to thwart observation by scientists outside the Iron Curtain.

Nevertheless reports of seeing the artificial moon were received at the observatory. Spotters reported sighting it over Tere Haute Ind.; Columbus, Ohio; and in California at Whittier, San Francisco and Walnut Creek.

Fletcher G. Watson, Harvard astronomer, explained recently that approximately 24 million visible meteors enter the earth's atmosphere every day and that under ideal conditions a single observer might see as many as 10 in an hour.

In addition, Watson said in his book "Between the Planets," several thousand meteors so brilliant that they could be called fireballs appear over the earth every day.

Most people seldom observe the sky for more than a few moments at a time and they fail to see these shooting stars which are constantly appearing in the atmosphere.

Weight of Sphere Awes Western Scientists

Millions of Americans Hear Satellite Tracked on Radio, Television

MOSCOW (INS)—Soviet Russia, triumphant in its first-step conquest of outer space, went ahead today with plans for launching "bigger and heavier" artificial earth satellites.

The official Soviet news agency Tass announced early today that the Russians had successfully launched the world's first artificial "moon" yesterday. The satellite contains two radio transmitters sending signals back to earth.

The object is now whirling around the earth at an estimated height of 558 miles and a speed of 18,000 miles per hour. It was described by Tass as weighing 184 pounds with a diameter of 23 inches.

(The weight of the satellite was the most surprising element of the announcement in Western scientific circles. The U. S. satellites, to be launched next spring, will, under present plans, weigh only about 21 and one-half pounds.

(The radio signal emanating from the baby moon was first reported picked up in the United States by RCA Communications, Inc., at its Riverhead, N. Y., receiving station.

(The Naval Research Laboratory in Washington later announced that it had recorded three "trips" of the satellite over America. The first confirmed sighting of the object in the U. S. A. came from a "moon watch" team in Terre Haute, Ind.

(The RCA station recorded the "beep, beep, beep" of the satellite, and the sound was heard last night by millions of Americans over NBC and CBS radio and television.

(The satellite, streaking around the earth once every hour and 35 minutes, was hailed as a remarkable achievement by Western scientists.

(The U. S. had originally planned to launch its first satellite this fall but the program was put off until next spring. The Navy plans to fire four test rockets this fall that will carry pint-sized satellites. But it is considered "unlikely" that the objects will be established in orbits around the earth. The major U. S. efforts to establish satellites on courses around the

Police and Troops Smash 2nd Polish Demonstration

WARSAW (AP)—Angry students and other Poles battled police, security troops and militia in Warsaw's streets last night in the second violent antigovernment demonstration in two days.

The street battling rolled up to the doors of Communist party headquarters, where the Central Committee was reported in emergency session, before the demonstration was smashed.

Unlike the fighting of Thursday night, which was confined to an area around the Polytechnic school, the violence this time spread to three sections of Warsaw. And for the first time, other Poles joined the 2,000 students in their defiance of government force.

The demonstrators hurled bricks and shouted "Gestapo, Gestapo," a reference to the Nazi secret police. They tossed back tear gas bombs thrown by the police.

Government forces beat the demonstrators with rubber truncheons, scattered them with tear gas and noise bombs and finally restored order after five hours of fighting.

No figures were available on the number of demonstrators arrested and injured. Many were rushed to hospitals in ambulances.

DEMAND PAPER

The rioting began after students had met peacefully and demanded the return of Po Prostu, a student newspaper banned Wednesday.

The paper had become a symbol of the limited freedom won by Poles when Wladyslaw Gomulka was restored to Communist party leadership a year ago. The government shut down the paper, contending it had gone too far in its criticism of Stalinism.

The students also demanded

Sees Satellite as Necessary Warning to U. S.

The head of the firm that has produced the shells for the United States' yet-to-be launched satellite has described the Soviet satellite as possibly "a blessing in disguise."

E. Howard Perkins of Royal Oak, president of Brooks and Perkins, Inc., expressed this view shortly after hearing of the successful Russian venture into outer space.

"We should realize that everything to come from behind the Iron Curtain is not bluff," he warned.

"This should serve as official notice of the great technological advances made by Russia and curb the lethargy in this country on scientific progress," said Perkins.

Before 8 a.m., the lowest temperature recorded in downtown Pontiac was 44. At 2 p.m. the mercury stood at 64.

Falling Shovel Kills Workman in Pontiac

A Detroit sewer worker was killed yesterday in Pontiac when a cable snapped on a huge power shovel, dropping the bucket on him.

Killed instantly was Fletcie Kirby, 46, Detroit. He was working in a 19-foot excavation in a vacant field between Mt. Clemens and Manhattan streets when the accident occurred.

He was employed by the C. A. Odien Co. of Detroit, laying a sewer from the Perry Park project to the city sewer plant.

Compute Orbit of Red Satellite

U. S. Scientists Predict Time That Baby Moon Will Cross Nation

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. scientists announced early today that they have computed an approximate orbit for the Russian earth satellite.

They predicted the baby moon will whiz over the Philadelphia vicinity about 9:40 a.m. EDT today, with succeeding orbits passing over Midwestern states about an hour and a half later and over the Pacific Coast region a little more than three hours later.

Dr. Richard W. Porter, chairman of the technical panel on earth satellites for the International Geophysical Year (IGY), said the approximate orbit was figured out by piecing together "miscellaneous bits of information from amateur, commercial and government radio receiving stations both in this country and Japan."

Porter said the satellite signals on 20 and 40 megacycles "should be strong enough to be heard on amateur communications receivers throughout most of New England and the north Atlantic states" at 9:40 a.m. EDT.

Porter said the Philadelphia crossing would be "the eleventh orbit since the satellite was launched," according to American calculations.

An orbit is the path traveled by a celestial body in its revolution around another body.

To Eliminate Tiny Towns Choking Off Expansion

Recommend Overhauling Battle Creek Government

BATTLE CREEK (AP) — A complete overhauling of municipal government that would eliminate rings of tiny towns that can choke off expansion of a city has been recommended to Battle Creek.

The report, compiled by the Public Administration Service of Chicago, recommended throwing out time-honored solutions of annexation, consolidation and federation along with the comparatively modern idea of the development of a metropolitan area.

Instead, the report recommended a new city charter for Batle Creek an the five communities that surround it, a legislative realignment to give all areas representation on the city's governing body, and what it called a "pay for what you receive" form of taxation.

Under the plan, the metropolitan area of more than 100,000 persons would be tied together in one city with much of the outlying area under its control.

This, the report said, would facilitate zoning, provide more powerful police and fire departments, open the way to improved public works with uniform planning and standards and offer one tax base for the area.

Battle Creek, with a population of 48,666, is blocked on all sides by smaller communities.

Under its present city government system of five commissioners elected at large, any bordering community joining the city takes a chance of not getting representation.

The City of Battle Creek and Battle Creek Township, the larger of the outlying communities with about 17,000 population, asked the Chicago firm for a report on a possible solution to the dilemma.

The study was financed by a $10,000 grant from the W. K. Kellogg Foundation. The Kellogg Co., maker of breakfast foods, has its headquarters and a plant at Battle Creek.

State legislation and approval by the City of Battle Creek and the five surrounding communities would be needed to put the plan into effect.

Acceptance of the plan by Battle Creek, the town of Springfield and the four surrounding townships would result in a 13-member legislative body—one member from each of the six jurisdictions and seven members at large.

The revamped tax plan would have the entire area of the new city pay for the costs of so-called "general services"—administration of the government, urban redevelopment, engineering services, protective services, and parks and recreation administration.

In the urban districts the taxpayers would provide the money for what the report called "urban functions" — storm sewer construction and maintenance, street lighting and increased fire protection.

The governing body of the city would handle the money and the jobs. No district would have employes of its own.

Claims Girard Suggested Lie

State Soldier Testifies He was Asked to Deny Knowledge of Death

MAEBASHI, JAPAN (INS) — An American soldier testified today that GI William S. Girad begged him to lie about the fatal shooting of a Japanese woman shell scavenger last Jan. 30.

SP. 3 Victor Nickel of Inkster, Mich., who was with Girard at the time of the shooting, told the Maebashi District Court Girard beseeched him to deny that empty brass had been thrown to lure Mrs. Naka Sakai.

Nickel, in some of the most damaging testimony presented against the defendant at his manslaughter trial, repeated his earlier statement that Girard asked him to toss empty brass toward Mrs. Sakai and that Girard called out in Japanese:

"Okay, a lot of brass, eh?"

The Michigan soldier also said Girard suggested after the shooting, "If anything happens, say we heard no shots and threw no brass."

Judge Yuzo Kawachi, who questioned Nickel closely, also examined Girard, who testified that he was on "guard duty" to protect a machine gun and other Army property.

Station Owner Uses Head; Cops Catch Thieves

A cool thinking gas station owner teamed up with Oakland County Sheriff's Deputies late Friday afternoon to quickly apprehend three men who had just rifled his cash register of approximately $72, according to the sheriff's department.

Being held at the Oakland County Jail are Thomas R. McPeek, 23, of 5760 Wright St., Troy; Karl F. Sangle, 19, of 406 N. Alexander St., and Richard C. Hanson, 22, 335 W. Parent St., both of Royal Oak. They are charged with grand larceny.

Two of the men allegedly entered Betson's Service Station, Clarkston and S. Lapeer roads, in Orion Township, on the premise that they wanted to use the men's room. A customer saw them rifling the register and told the owner, Robert Betson.

Betson, not knowing whether the men were armed, calmly took their license number and waited for them to leave before phoning police. This was at 5:30 p.m.

At about 6:10 p.m. the men were stopped near M-24 and Sunset Rd., by deputies James Stites and Ray Pilon. The officers found $67.67 in cash on them plus a $4.31 grocery slip. They were positively identified by Betson.

Know the Weather

No, hurricanes cannot be predicted by weather or meteorology experts. Their cause is something of a mystery, although some of the ingredients necessary for their formation are known.

They are water-spawned cyclones which breed in low pressure areas.

They move in a north and northwest direction and then swing northeast. Their course cannot be predicted and it is not known yet why they veer in various directions.

Usually they move forward very slowly; experience has taught that when they pick up speed they are at full strength or perhaps ready to begin the process of blowing themselves out. In short, very little is really known about the huge counterclockwise circulating storms.

Authorities Smash Rioting in Warsaw

Immediate release of students arrested in the Thursday night demonstration, an investigation of militia interference, and the removal of a Communist Central Committee official who reportedly directed the troop action.

Defying government threats of punishment, the students massed again at the Polytechnic school, where 2,000 students had been routed and 30 arrested the night before. All but eight of those arrested were said to have been freed.

The students assembled in the school auditorium and shouted approval of a letter of protest to Gomulka drawn up by the editorial board of Po Prostu.

DOESN'T APPROVE

Prof. Bukowski, a school official, told the students: "As a member of Parliament, I don't approve of the methods used by the police yesterday. The communique in the press was onesided."

★ ★ ★

NEW OUTBREAK

As the area around the Polytechnic auditorium was cleared, trouble began at Constitution Square and outside the Communist party headquarters.

★ ★ ★

By 11 p.m. crowds in the square had dwindled, streets were closed and night clubs began filling.

(Warsaw radio announced that the Communist party had ordered party punishment for its members on the staff of Po Prostu. The paper presented the political and economic picture in the country in a false light and "proclaimed bourgeois conceptions," the radio said.)

Hoffa Won't Start Civil War in Labor

Hoffa can expect little aid from Sen. McClellan (D-Ark), chairman of the Senate Rackets Investigating Committee. McClellan said Hoffa's election was a challenge "to Congress to enact laws to protect rank and file members from gangsterism and racketeering control." McClellan added that in his opinion, "Congress will accept the challenge."

With Beck and Vice President Frank Brewster of Seattle and Sidney L. Brennan of Minneapolis, the other two officials named in AFL-CIO charges, out of international office, Hoffa plans to woo local labor federations, many of then in which Teamsters are strong, to block any move to cast the Teamsters out of the AFL-CIO.

Denying charges against him, Hoffa said the Teamsters Union has just come through the most vicious attack any group of workers has ever experienced. He pledged a fight against ouster from the family of labor unions and expressed hope that "the hasty threat will be withdrawn as time and what we do prove . . . we are decent trade unionists."

But Hoffa added the Teamsters can go it alone if they are kicked out of the parent organization.

Some of the bitterness of the campaigning for the Teamsters presidency spilled over into post-election speeches. Lee wished Hoffa "good health and all luck," but Haggerty said he would "continue to fight for what I think is right, but within the framework of the Teamsters organization."

Hoffa's slate of candidates for the international executive board was being swept into office yesterday when the convention recessed until tonight.

Already elected vice presidents were Hoffa-supported Harold J. Gibbons of St. Louis, John A. Conlin of Pittsburgh, Gordon Conklin of St. Paul, Minn., John T. O'Brien of Chicago and George Mock of Los Angeles.

New Series in Press Will Probe 'Autocide'

Both bewildering and tragic are the current records on motor vehicles, fatalities and injuries.

Pedestrians and motorists continue to die on the highways of the United States in increasing numbers through their own lack of care, consideration and use of the knowledge they possess.

Beginning in Monday's issue of the Pontiac Press, this newspaper as a public service, will offer the first in a series of 10 articles, written by outstanding authorities in their respective fields presenting their views on how this problem can be met.

The series has been compiled under the direction of The Institute for Safer Living, a division of a Massachusetts insurance company.

Certainly this newspaper does not wish to be a forecaster of bad news, but as this issue goes to press there are people starting out for a drive or a walk who will never come back.

They die by AUTOCIDE, day in and day out, week after week, across the U. S. from Maine to California. What lies ahead?

What and where are the answers? This newspaper believes that there is no one answer to the problem. There are, in fact, many answers.

This series of articles on AUTOCIDE will give us some of these answers. It will behoove all of us to read them.

Thirty rocket bottles spew 30,000 pounds of thrust . . .

Insanity Claimed in Slaying

Charged with the fatal stabbing of his wife, James D. Shepherd, 36, will plead temporary insanity at his trial next week, it was indicated today.

Shepherd's attorney has given notice that he will call expert testimony to show Shepherd was "mentally ill" at the time his wife, Elizabeth, 42, was stabbed in the back in the living room of their Birmingham home, 1509 Pierce St.

Shepherd, charged with first-degree murder, is scheduled for trial at 9:30 a.m. Wednesday before Circuit Judge Clark J. Adams. The attorney, David C. Pence, of Pontiac, has indicated he may waive a jury trial.

The trial was scheduled after Judge Adams granted Pence a two-weeks delay in order "to develop new medical evidence."

Pence said he was studying the combined effect of alcohol and tranquillizing drugs.

Shepherd, who has never admitted the crime, maintains he "blacked out" the night of the stabbing, May 27. He said he had several drinks that day and took "a couple" tranquilizing pills before going to bed.

He said he remembers nothing more until standing by his dying dife about 2½ hours later.

Pence indicated to Prosecutor Frederick C. Ziem that he will call three expert witnesses, presumably to testify about Shepherd's mental condition. Two of them are Pontiac psychiatrists, Dr. L. Jerome Fink and Dr. Maurice E. Willis.

The third was identified as Dr. Heidt, of Ford Hospital, Detroit. Ziem said he believed that this Dr. Heidt is the psychiatrist who examined Shepherd in 1944 and 1945.

The prosecutor said he hopes to have Shepherd examined by two prosecution experts this weekend. They are Dr. Ivan A. LaCore, superintendent of Pontiac General Hospital, and Dr. Clinton Mumby, of Pontiac. Dr. Mumby already has agreed to the examination, Ziem said.

A plea of temporary insanity does not mean that the defense is maintaining Shepherd is insane now.

Find Grouse, Woodcock in Old, Familiar Spots

By JACK PATTERSON

LOVELLS — We mentioned yesterday leaving the Upper in somewhat of a hurry and as a result we missed the opportunity for refreshments off a couple of Birmingham groups, one spearheaded by Henry Houston at Curtis, and another by Bob Cole and Bud Stolberg at Blaney Park. That's one of the disadvantages of this sort of detail. It's pretty hard to be everywhere at once.

Today we had kind of a family reunion in the course of our find - a - bind - in - Crawford-county - exercise. Brothers Dick and Bob Patterson of Birmingham, brother-in-law Roy Corwin, Pontiac an old friend and shooting companion, Glen Sprague of Detroit, rendered valuable (and voluble) assistance to the writer.

Hunting old familiar covers is much like meeting old and honored friends after a long separation. Both tend to age a bit between visits but the important things remain the same.

Through a long day we found shooting and we, and all members of the party, are included in that term, put on a markmanship exhibition that ranged from brief moments of championship calibre to long runs of atrocious and inexcusable misses.

But that's grouse hunting. And then the woodcock, slow, rather straight flying birds after they reach cruising altitude should never be missed unless flushed in a hopeless tangle. Yet the woodcock we missed would cover one of Pontiac's larger municipal parking lots.

But it was a good day after all the excuses were offered and accepted. We still came in with a respectable bag of grouse and woodcock and even one raccoon.

The results of our survey point toward a modest increase in grouse in this area. It isn't the easy birds—everywhere business of the early fifties but there are birds for those who'll get out and work for them.

That's what we did and it was a day to remember. Maybe the nicest part of all was the very last. The sun was about down and the moon nearly full, and bright, and but a few moments until legal shooting ended. It was on "Edgar's Eighty" hard by the North Branch, that the last grouse and pair of woodcocks came to hand.

Rockefeller Speaks Up on TV

Urges End of Arkansas Crisis

By WILLIAM THEIS

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (INS) — Multi-millionaire Winthrop Rockefeller, an influential adopted Arkansan, threw his weight publicly today on the side of "law and order" and a speedy solution of Little Rock's school integration crisis.

He called the dispute "tragic" and said it had already "damaged" the state's industrial development, which he is in charge of promoting.

Rockefeller's televised appeal for all citizens to "subordinate individual feelings to the common good of the country" appeared to be aimed at Gov. Orval Faubus and outright foes of integration at Little Rock Central high school.

But he carefully refrained from mentioning either Faubus or President Eisenhower, central figures in the historic federal-state conflict.

The statement by Rockefeller, who heads the Arkansas Industrial Development Commission, was promptly applauded by a leader of the newly-created business-civic group now working for a compromise settlement of the integration stalemate.

W. M. Shepherd, head of the Little Rock Chamber of Commerce and temporary chairman of the local group, called Rockefeller's appeal a "very good statement" which amounted to an endorsement of his committee's views.

Until last night Rockefeller had remained aloof from the political, legal and military storm raging between Eisenhower and the 47-year-old governor. But he told a nationwide TV audience on the CBS "Person to Person" program:

"There comes a time when every citizen of the state and country who believes in the American constitution must subordinate individual feelings to the common good and unity of the country. And that time is here now."

STATE IS DAMAGED

The man whose interest in Arkansas has helped to bring in new industry and employment said that economically it will be "six months before we can accurately estimate the damage that has been done . . . and damage there has been."

As Rockefeller joined the growing list of business and church leaders working for an early settlement of the integration affair, weekend quiet descended on the troop - surrounded Central high school.

Nine Negro teen agers, whose integration at the 2,000-student school has caused all the furore, finished their second week of incident-marked studies under continuing military escort. Paratroopers of the 101st Airborne division and members of the federalized Arkansas National Guard divided patrol duties at the big school.

School Superintendent Virgil T. Blossom announced that 69 students of Central High have been suspended because of incidents at the school. It was reported that parents of about 50 of these students had already applied for their readmission.

Blossom also reported that 27 students had withdrawn from Central High, but said he did not know how many of these were leaving in protest against the court-ordered integration program.

Local clergymen of all faiths proceeded with plans for a city-wide church service on Oct. 12, Columbus Day, to pray for a solution of the integration impasse.

Faubus was absent from the capital last night attending an annual political-social affair in Morrilton, Ark. He was not reached for immediate comment on the Rockefeller statement.

Earth Satellite Fired by Jubilant Russia

earth will begin about March 1, under present plans.)

With one satellite in outer space, the Russians are now predicting space travel in the not-too-distant future. The Tass announcement said the satellite program "will pave the way for space travel," and added:

"It seems the present generation will witness how the freed and conscious labor of the people of the new socialist society turns even the most daring of man's dreams into reality."

The Russians had announced last Aug. 26 that they got the jump on the U. S. by successfully testing the first intercontinental ballistic missile. The Tass announcement today said a rocket carrier shot the satellite aloft.

The Soviets did not predict when their satellite would "die." But they said there was no chance of its crashing on earth. It will burn up many miles above the earth's surface, the announcement said, by the friction of the atmosphere.

The Russian announcement means that Soviet scientists have won the "race" to get a satellite into outer space before the U. S. American scientists have consistently maintained they were not "racing."

The Tass announcement, outlining the scientific information regarding the satellite, said it was equipped with radio transmitters that sent out continuous signals (These signals are the ones that have been heard throughout the world.)

The signals are three-tenths of a second in duration, with a pause of equal duration in between.

The Soviet announcement said the satellite will be visible in the rays of the rising and setting sun with the aid of simple optical instruments such as binoculars and telescopes.

Tass said the satellite was following an orbit inclined at an angle of 65 degrees to the Equator.

The radio is transmitting on frequencies of 20.005 and 40.002 megacycles and can be picked up by ham operators, Tass said.

(Within a few hours after the Moscow announcement, official watchers over the world reported seeing and hearing the object. The signals were clear and strong.)

(S. I. Gale of the Hayden Planetarium in New York City said the satellite, traveling in a north-south orbit while the earth turns on an east-west axis, will pass over every area of the earth each day as long as it remains aloft. The object has a life expectancy of about three weeks.)

The Soviet satellite was sent aloft as part of the International Geophysical Year program. Nations around the globe are participating in the program which began last July 1 and will run until the end of 1958.

Textiles Course Offered Here for College Credit

Pontiac area residents interested in the production and marketing of textile products will be able to further their knowledge by enrolling in a course Tuesday offered by Michigan State University.

The course, entitled "Problems in Textiles," will be taught by Mrs. Margaret C. Hearn, instructor at the MSU College of Home Economics. It will be conducted each Tuesday from 7 to 10 p.m. at Pontiac High School, to early December.

The Day in Birmingham

Carleton Smith Will Open Baldwin Library Season

BIRMINGHAM—Carleton Smith, noted traveler and speaker, will open the 1957-58 season for Friends of the Baldwin Public Library next Wednesday.

He will speak in the library auditorium on "The Battle for Men's Minds."

Smith began his travels at the age of 5, when he ran away from home to hear his first opera. He has been traveling and "collecting people" ever since that time.

Before World War II, he traveled over 40,000 miles in the Soviet Union. Twice within the past year he has visited behind the Iron Curtain talking with leaders, scientists, artists, planners and "ordinary citizens."

Extensive trips in Hungary and Poland, as well as other satellite countries also have been on his itinerary.

3 HONORARY DEGREES

Trained as an economist and journalist, Smith holds honorary degrees from three universities. His work as head of the National Arts Foundation brings him into close contact with many of the world's most outstanding men and women.

★ ★ ★

The film "Passion for Life," will be shown at the Poppleton PTA meeting, at 8 p.m. Thursday, in the school's all-purpose room.

Mrs. Ada Campbell, visiting teacher, also will speak to the parents, explaining her work with the children.

Each person attending is going to have another chance to open the "Treasure Chest." If no one has the lucky key, the chest will be carried over until next month and the prize within will be doubled. Last month, Mrs. Yocom, a second grade teacher, opened the "Treasure Chest" and received a radio.

Refreshments will be served by the sixth grade room mothers.

Past Chiefs of Birmingham Pythian Sisters will hold offices when "Past Chiefs Night" is observed Oct. 15. Mrs. Joe Davidson will be in charge of the 8 p.m. meeting in the Birmingham Community House.

Charles W. Doerr

Service will be at 2 p.m. Monday from Manley Bailey Funeral Home for Charles W. Doerr, 67, of 1869 Long Lake Shores, Orchard Lake. Burial will be in White Chapel Memorial Cemetery.

Mr. Doerr died yesterday in St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, Pontiac. A native of Michigan, he was a graduate of the University of Michigan, with a civil engineering degree. He came to Orchard Lake last March from Pennsylvania.

Since graduating from college in 1912 he had been associated with U. S. Steel Corp. When he retired two years ago, he was vice president of the American Bridge Division.

He was a member of Ben Avon Methodist Church, in Pittsburgh, a member of the Masonic Lodge there as well as past president of the Avonworth School Board and Kiwanis Club.

He is survived by his wife, Margaret; three daughters, Mrs. Harry Dicher of Houston, Texas; Mrs. Fred Wilson of Birmingham, Mrs. Richard Bullis of Leesville, La., a son, William Doerr of Pontiac, and two sisters, Georgia Doerr of Lansing and Evangeline Doerr of Saginaw.

Marion Hamilton, Bell Employe, Dies

Marion E. Hamilton, assistant business manager of Michigan Bell Telephone Co., in Pontiac, died yesterday in St. Joseph Mercy Hospital after a brief illness. She was 50.

HAMILTON

A graduate of Tawas High School and Cleary College of Ypsilanti, she came to Pontiac in 1928.

She was appointed to her present position in 1952 and was the second Michigan Bell woman to be given the post.

Miss Hamilton was a member of Bethany Baptist Church and the Telephone Pioneers.

Surviving are her mother, Mrs. Laura Hamilton with whom she made her home; a sister, Mrs. Wilbur Johnson of Milford, and a brother, Robert B. Hamilton of Van Nuys, Calif.

Service will be at 2 p.m. Monday from the Farmer-Snover Funeral Home with her pastor, Dr. Joseph I. Chapman, officiating. Burial will be in Oak Grove Cemetery, Milford.

Rex Beadle Promoted by Conservation Dept.

The Michigan Department of Conservation today announced the promotion of Rex H. Beadle, formerly of Ortonville, as radio technician at the department's Newberry district headquarters Beadle was formerly assistant park manager at the Rochester-Utica Recreation Area

The department also said that Robert G. Strong, son of Mr. and Mrs. Milton J. Strong of Oxford, has accepted the position of biologist trainee with its game division.

Drag Strip Fund Dance Hailed as Big Success

The first fund-raising affair for the Oakland County Timing Assn., which is seeking money to build a drag strip in the county was hailed today as a success by Cec Wells, secretary.

Other attractions were the recording group, The Enchanters, and Kenny Master and his Rolling Rockets. The Harmonica Dons plus local talent also entertained.

Cases Increase in State

Flu Epidemic at U. of M.

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

An influenza outbreak has spread to "epidemic proportions" at the University of Michigan while continuing to increase in the state as a whole.

The university health service reported Friday an estimated 1,800 students of the 23,700 on the campus had been taken ill since the start of the fall term Sept. 19.

Morley B. Beckett, health service director, said four of 12 students tested for Asian flu were found to have contacted that type of the disease.

Over a 24-hour period, school absenteeism in Detroit nearly doubled because of the flu.

Dr. Joseph G. Molner, city health commissioner, reported some 56,000 youngsters absent compared with 30,000 Thursday.

The outbreak hit the city three weeks ago.

Molner said the school absentee rate Friday jumped to 17 per cent after holding steady at 15 per cent for most of the week. The normal absentee rate for this time of the year is 5 per cent.

Molner said 95 per cent of Friday's absentees were respiratory cases, compared with 80 per cent Thursday.

He said it is reasonable to assume that most of the ill children have Asian flu.

Boston Erupts in Racial Row

BOSTON (AP)—Forty police officers battled 1,000 punching, pushing whites and Negroes last night before stopping a racial fight with the arrest of 23 persons, four of them teen-age girls.

Police Lt. Patrick Connolly of the Dudley Street Division in the Roxbury section, said all will be charged with inciting a riot and affray and disturbing an assembly.

Connolly said the brawl began at a dance hall and spread until participants spilled out into the street and into a subway station. At one point, Connolly said, about a thousand persons were slugging it out.

The lieutenant said the fight began when a white girl and a Negro girl began slapping each other in a dispute about the Arkansas integration situation. In a few minutes, he said, members of both races were engaged in a brawl.

A short time after police broke up the disturbance a white youth was found critically beaten in the Roxbury section. He told police he was "jumped" by six Negro youths.

James O'Malley of South Boston, was found a mile from the scene of the fight. But police quoted him as saying he had been near the riot scene and theorized he might have been followed from there.

O'Malley's name was placed on the danger list at City Hospital. Doctors said he suffered fractures of both hands and knees and scalp wounds.

But Will Cost Pontiac More Than That to Operate

New City Jail to Cut County Fees $24,000

The opening shortly of Pontiac's new city jail will have little or no effect on the operations of the Oakland County Jail, Sheriff Frank Irons said today.

"We will still have plenty of prisoners, maybe a few less overnight lockups, but it will make no difference to us," the sheriff said.

The county, however, will lose some $24,000 a year in city payments for housing prisoners arrested by Pontiac police or jailed for violations of city ordinances.

The city has been paying the county $4 a day per prisoner of which $1 is for bedding and $3 for meals. In addition, a $1 fee for registering each new prisoner is paid the county.

Robert Y. Moore, chairman of the county board of auditors, said that in making up the 1958 Sheriff's Department budget no real consideration was given the loss of city prisoners at the jail.

WON'T ALTER COSTS

"We might save a little on food, but overall costs will remain about the same, with or without the city prisoners. There is no profit in handling them anyway," Moore said.

For the city, however, the $24,000 saved in county jail fees will not even cover the cost of operating the jail in the new Public Safety Building.

The city jail will include nine cells plus two six-bed dormitory cells for men and women, giving a total capacity of 21. In addition there will be a bullpen and two juvenile cells in another part of the building.

Two of the nine regular cells will be of the maximum security type.

Jailers will have to be hired for 24 hours a day, seven days a week. Food, bedding, medical attention and toilet articles will have to be supplied the prisoners.

According to City Manager Walter K. Willman, the cost of operating the city jail will be offset to a great extent by the more efficient operation permitted by its location in the same building with the city courts and police department.

"When you consider the man-hours spent in taking arrested persons to the county jail, then back to the station, then to court, then back to jail, you can see where the police are going to save a lot of time and money," Willman said.

Like the county jail, prisoners will do most of the work in the kitchen and in cleaning and maintaining the city jail.

But, as it now appears, the city will spend more actual cash to run its own jail than it will save by not using the county facility, while the county will lose its income from the city, but will spend just as much as before on running its jail.

Baby Moon Gives Reds Worldwide Prestige

By ALTON L. BLAKESLEE
Associated Press Science Reporter

NEW YORK (AP) — Russia has won a race to step first into space with a baby moon. It brings her enormous popular prestige, and worldwide congratulations of scientists.

Something fashioned by human hands and minds is whirling around the world as a Columbus of space. That's the tremendous initial impact. A link is broken in the chain binding humans to earth.

Baby moons are the first messengers to tell us what space is like, to answer some mysteries of the void between earth, sun and stars.

Now the burning question is: Just how elusive is this first messenger, and what will it actually tell us about space?

It can be valuable only if:

A: Scientists or amateurs in Russia or anywhere else can spot it often enough to learn its orbit, to predict where it goes next, and so learn what happens to it.

B: It radios back information about what it learns.

Answers to these critical points are still awaited.

It will take at least several pretty accurate and separated "fixes" of the moon's position to learn its orbit, to predict when you might see it in the dawn or dusk sky with binoculars.

Its path must be known before changes in its path have solid meaning. How much it is slowed down will tell scientists how dense —though terribly, terribly thin— the earth's air is at such high altitudes. Or how many meteorites or cosmic dust the moon is bumping into.

Moscow, announcing its triumph only hours after the launching, has not yet reported success in accurate tracking.

This moon is broadcasting on relatively low radio frequencies—20 and 40 megacycles. These, say U. S. experts, may be "bent" by the earth's high air and so make it more difficult accurately to judge the moon's "real" position. Planned U. S. moons will send signals at a much higher frequency.

Russia has not indicated that she has telescopic cameras which —once the orbit is known—could detect the slightest variations in its path and their meaning.

Reflections

Spice Smells Mean Autumn

When I smell the aroma of spices arising from a kettle of cooking pickles I am aware that the end of the season is at hand. Also, I am keenly aware of the motives of Columbus sailing into the unknown to find the source of those delectable aromas.

J. L. VOORHEES

M. E. SIPLE

An apple pie may have all the ingredients, except a dash of cinnamon, and be at the best only mediocre. I can't imagine a more insipid concoction than a pumpkin, or squash pie without its quota of delicious spices. A kitchen without its row of little cans of spices would be nude; the cook would be as helpless as a person without hands.

Spice aroma is a harbinger of bristling winds; sharp, clear nights; angry roar of shot guns as they bring down ducks; moth balls and delightful parties; Thanksgiving, with family, is close on the heels of spice-time.

I'm glad it is spice time. Are you?

Police Answer to Ad Destroys Timely Business

CHICAGO (AP)—A newspaper advertisement answered by police proved to be the downfall of a timely business operation.

Policeman Joseph Joyce answered the classified advertisement which appeared in a morning newspaper last night. It said: "World Series tickets, Milwaukee, Oct. 5-6-7. Euclid 3-5135."

Joyce telephoned the number and said he was told to contact "Case" at a downtown restaurant. The party who answered used the name "Lewis Case" and was asking $50 for a $7 ticket.

Joyce met his contact and arrested Frank Parker, 43, who he said offered the high priced tickets.

Kinsey Institute in Business Again

U.S. Footing Bills for Sex-Research

By EDWIN DIAMOND
(INS Science Writer)

The outlook is bright once again for scientists at the late Dr. Alfred G. Kinsey's Institute for Sex Research—thanks in large part to Uncle Sam.

For a time last year it looked as if the institute's monumental 15-year-long inquiry into American sex practices would be abrutly halted.

LITTLE SUPPORT

Science foundations, apparently responding to pressure, had withdrawn financial support for the institute's work. Operating funds were at a low ebb.

Then Dr. Kinsey, quiet-mannered biologist who had switched his attention from the gall wasp to human sex, died of a heart attack.

Detailed case histories of thousands of American men and women, collected over the years in long, intimate interviews, lay coded in locked steel file cabinets in the institute's new quarters at Indiana University.

LAKE OVER

Dr. Kinsey had foresightedly prepared for his younger associates to take over the institute's operations, but without funds they could not analyze and publish the accumulated data.

Indian University provided the suite of rooms used by the institute but no operating funds.

At the institute's darkest hour, the U.S. Public Health Service came through with a $151,693 grant for a three-year-long study of what factors produce a sex offender.

The project was passed upon by the PHS' National Institute of Mental Health. The reviewing committee, certainly aware of the strong opposition stirred by the two Kinsey reports on the American male and female, showed no hesitancy in approving the grant.

According to Dr. Paul H. Gebhard, the institute's new executive director, the sex offender study, has, as its aim a "discovery of those personality and environmental backgrounds that lead to the sex offense."

Case histories of some 1,755 male and 485 female sex offenders will be analyzed. Rapists, perverts, prostitutes, homosexuals are included.

★ ★ ★

These histories were compiled over the last five years on the basis of court records and personal interviews.

Interviews were conducted in prisons throughout the nation, patricularly in California.

The material is now in the institute files, along with the interviews with 6,000 non-offenders. Gebhard points out that previous studies of sex offenders have dealt with only a few cases.

The current study will be the largest ever made.

Speaks From Experience

Newsboy Ike Hails Lads

WASHINGTON (INS)—President Eisenhower, who once delivered newspapers in his hometown of Abilene, Kans., paid tribute to the nation's newspaper boys today with the following statement:

"To the newspaper boys of America:

"In appreciation of your faithful service to the public, your friends set aside one day in each year in your honor. This year, on Saturday, October fifth, I am happy to join them again in paying tribute to your enterprise.

"Delivering papers has been part of the early chapters of some of America's greatest success stories. From this youthful experience, requiring the industry and loyalty of each newspaper boy—and girl—I know you are gaining a sense of responsibility which will serve you in good stead for the rest of your lives.

Russia Called Uncooperative in Satellite Move

TOKYO (AP) — A Japanese scientist said today Russia "failed to live up to the spirit of the International Geophysical Year (IGY)" by launching its earth Satellite without advance warning.

Dr. Masaji Miyaji, chairman of the artificial satellite committee, said "I am not going to instruct Japanese moon watchers to track the Russian moon."

"I am not hesitating to offer congratulations to the Russian scientists for the success," Miyaji added, "but I do regret that they failed to provide advance information to us.

★ ★ ★

"Observation of an artificial moon by world scientists is significant only if they can cooperate. The Soviet Union has failed to supply us any pertinent information as to the orbit, the launching site and other details. This is against IGY understanding."

FIRE PREVENTION IS A CONTINUING RESPONSIBILITY OF EVERYONE!

Fire Prevention Week OCT. 6-12th

But Here Is a WARNING on FIRE PREVENTION SCHEMES

From time to time, fire extinguishers have been offered to the public which have proved to be useless and even dangerous. Extinguishers should be purchased only from firms of known reliability.

Salesmen for home fire alarm systems have sometimes gained entrance into homes by posing as "OFFICIAL INSPECTORS," or by alleging that they wish to make "FIRE PREVENTION TALKS." Once they have secured entrance to the home, they frequently use "SCARE TACTICS" and "HORROR PICTURES," in an effort to frighten the home owner into making an immediate purchase of the equipment being offered by the salesman.

It Seems to Me . . .

National Lottery Is Debatable

From time to time your humble scrivener sees references to a national lottery.

Once this was frowned upon as a bold endorsement of gambling in its worst and most wicked forms. It was reasonably synonymous with lending governmental approval to plush red light districts in convenient locations.

But times change.

And we change with them.

England has already underwritten a national lottery. I take a dim view of professional gambling in which well-heeled syndicates pocket the lush profits and rub slimy hands together and greedily await the next "take."

Golf, bridge, gin rummy, poker and a hundred other games for modest stakes are daily events all over this nation. There is always a small percentage of "big" games where someone gets hurt and the next payment on a home fades away in the light of four unexpected eight spots, but these are relatively few.

Small gambling has gone on forever.

Probably it will continue.

Tickets for the Irish Sweepstakes are sold all over the world. The big dough goes to hospitals and the winners are faithfully paid off whether they live across the street or in the far reaches of Samoa. For years, churches conducted bingo games in the United States. The gambling instinct claims most people and nearly always it's a modest, well controlled desire.

Should these people be offered a chance to take part in a national lottery? Almost every country in the world—except this one—does. Our government could sell a billion dollars worth of chances and apply the money on the national debt. There could be huge prizes, tax exempt. The winning totals could run into millions of dollars.

Supporters insist that over 50 billion dollars is bet each year right now in wagering of all sorts. Participation would be voluntary and no one would have to enter.

The possibility of reducing our enormous and staggering national debt offers food for thought. One lottery a year for 50 years could cut 50 billion dollars off the debt and two a year for the same length of time could reduce our national obligations $100,000,000,000.

★ ★ ★

Nevada is the only state in the Union legalizing gambling and the state's percentage is sufficient to pay all highway, school and hospital costs. Oddly, lotteries are the only form of gambling that Nevada bars.

The POWER of FAITH

by Howard Brodie

Faith has helped Alcoholics Anonymous change the lives of 200,000 human beings in America and other parts of the world. Sharing their "experience, strength and hope with each other that they may solve their common problem and help others recover from alcoholism," these men and women have had before them a 12-step program. Included in it: "We came to believe that a power greater than ourselves could restore us to sanity. We made a decision to turn our will and our lives over to the care of God, as we understood Him. We sought through prayer and meditation to improve our conscious contact with God . . . praying only for knowledge of His will for us and the power to carry that out."

Days of All Faiths:

Observe Worldwide Communion

By DR. HOWARD V. HARPER

The first Sunday in October has, since 1940, been designated by many Protestant denominations as World-Wide Communion Sunday.

All over the world Protestants will unite in spirit by celebrating the greatest of Christian sacraments: the Holy Communion, or Lord's Supper. There are few countries left where Protestantism is not represented — tomorrow's observance will be practically universal.

Each denomination follows its own form and ceremony for the Communion. There is no attempt to make the day's services all alike. Rather, it is a demonstration of the fact that unity does not require regimentation. There is a togetherness of spirit which lies much deeper than uniformity of ritual.

HARVEST FESTIVAL

Thursday is the beginning of the Jews' happy Feast of Tabernacles, called Sukkoth in the Hebrew language. It is basically an agricultural festival, a time of thanksgiving for the fruit harvest, which occurred at this season of the year in Palestine.

But it has also a historical meaning as a reminder of the long years when the Jews, wandering in the wilderness between Egypt and the Promised Land, had to live in the flimsy Sukkoth.

In Leviticus, chapter 23, verses 42 and 43, God directed that during the festival "ye shall dwell in booths (a synonym for tabernacles) that your generation may know that I made the children of Israel to dwell in booths when I brought them out of the land of Egypt."

In the days before the Jews were driven out of their own country, every family did literally build a specially constructed booth and move into it for the duration of the festival. The little structures were simply built but often elaborately decorated.

Their outstanding feature was the roof, made of branches of trees, still bearing the leaves and arranged to allow the sky to be visible through them. Fruits and vegetables were hung from these branches, providing decoration appropriate to a harvest festival.

In modern times the real booth has in most instances been replaced with a small replica which is kept on the family table during the seven days. As the real booths were symbolic of the hardships and insecurity of the early Jews, so these present-day miniatures symbolize the exile of the modern Jew from the land of his fathers.

But in spite of this somber note, the Feast of Tabernacles is by no means an unhappy time in Jewish life. In His instructions God said, "And thou shalt rejoice in thy feast, because the Lord thy God shall bless thee in all the work of thy hands, and thou shalt be altogether joyful."

'Precocious' Child Suffers From Parents' Fussing

"Child 3 years old has had two years of croup attacks. Even a week ago a short attack occurred. She is precocious, does not eat well and tires very easily. Parents trying everything for the health and happiness . . . (H.G.C.)"

Answer—Parents' fussing perhaps main factor. Child needs playmates who are not precocious (in plainer language, spoiled). Does not eat well and tires easily — a widely prevalent state of American children who get too many calories from pap, pop and other cheat foods. The tendency to croup is a manifestation of calcium and vitamin D deficiency. Any child who drinks less than 1½ pints (3 full glasses) of milk daily or the equivalent is probably deficient in calcium and vitamin D.

Answer—I'd keep the tooth if I were in your place.

The Country Parson

"Learning the right way to live is like catching the measles—first you have to be exposed to it."

Case Records of a Psychologist:

H-E-L-P Is Formula for Gay Talk

Arlene memorized the "quickie" formula below and before her next date, she had transformed herself from a tongue-tied Sphinx into a gay conversationalist. Boys quickly fall for girls who thus make it easy for them to maintain spritely repartee. Conversational skill beats beauty in winning you a husband.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case W-312: Arlene K., aged 18, is the coed mentioned yesterday who had good looks but was a "clam" as a conversationalist.

"Dr. Crane," she smiled, "You say that H-E-L-P is the quickie formula for keeping up gay conversation with a boy friend.

DR. CRANE

"L"—LIFE SAVER

As a rule, you may not need the "L," but it can be a life saver in an emergency.

For "L" is the key letter indicating "Literature." This is a broad heading and covers more then highbrow stuff. Comic books also fall under this category.

"Do you think comic books actually incite children to become criminals?" Arlene can inquire.

Please notice the fact that she fades out with that question mark, for it is even shaped like a fish-hook, employ it to "hook" your companion's interest and thus pull him back into animated conversation.

It is better to end your part of the dialogue with that question mark (?) than with a period (.) for the (?) serves as a cue to your companion.

Under this "L" category, probe around with deft questions to find if he likes mystery stories or adventure tales.

Inquire if he ever used the good comic versions of great novels as the basis for his book reviews in high school (our Crane children used to do so).

And if you ever should require a second life saver, you can shift to "P," which stands for "Politics."

It isn't tactful to engage in a bitter partisan debate over the merits of the Republicans vs. the Democrats, but you can still use this wide field for pleasant conversation by asking:

"Do you think 18-year-olds should be allowed to vote?

"Do you think the drafting of American boys in peace time is causing delinquency and more drinking?"

"Should a U. S. Senator or Representative be allowed more than two terms, especially since the President cannot have more than two?"

There are many other variations of these questions that technically fall under that "P."

DERIVE YOUR AID

Most people, even polished adults, sometimes grow mentally stale and can't think of a thing to say.

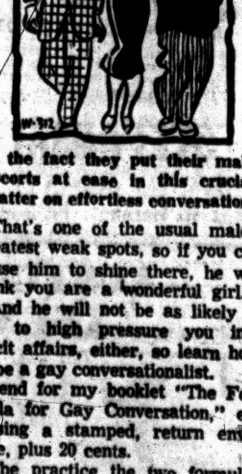

"Help! Help!" is the usual thought in such a delimma.

So derive your own aid. Seize that very word "H-E-L-P" and use it to your own advantage as the key formula for a quick means to gay effortless conversation.

Girls who are rated as top "date bait" aren't necessarily very pretty. Most of them wouldn't even be entered in beauty contests.

Yet they are admired and much and much sought after. For they have charm. Part of this charm

That's one of the usual male's greatest weak spots, so if you can cause him to shine there, he will think you are a wonderful girl.

And he will not be as likely to try to high pressure you into illicit affairs, either, so learn how to be a gay conversationalist.

Send for my booklet "The Formula for Gay Conversation," enclosing a stamped, return envelope, plus 20 cents.

The practice the two formulas fully described thereon, for they can win you both a sweetheart as well as a salary boost.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 3c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

Voice of the People

More Readers Give Ideas About Integration in South

Did you ever read of the Emmett Till killing in Mississippi? Yes, I do think some southerners are rotten. And I go along with another writer who says there's more segregation in Michigan than Louisiana. Real estate is one of the big matters. But we still preach and teach freedom and Christian brotherhood in our great nation.

Wondering

Prejudice, superstition and religious intolerance are the most difficult ideas to alter in human society, whether through fear of what neighbors or friends might think or through sheer, stubborn ignorance. Through the ages races have looked at one another with prejudice and contempt, sometimes from ignorance of others' customs, sometimes to bolster egos.

Religious groups have promoted and condoned superstitious practices to further their own aims. They've had little tolerance among themselves as groups. This gives meaning to the statement that iniquity of the father is visited upon the children unto the third and fourth generation. Exodus 20:5.

We are perpetuating these iniquities and adding to the burdens of succeeding generations. We're making it difficult for humanity to weed out these mistaken ideas and to live without fear and with tolerance and understanding.

Still Discussing Bus Problem

Lover of Life says the reason transportation is needed to and from high schools is so parents won't have to worry about the kids getting killed or picked up. Something is mighty wrong if parents still have to worry about such things when their children are practically grown. I see no reason why I have to pay taxes just because other people didn't teach their offspring to stay out of the way of cars and not to get into cars with strangers.

Waterford Resident

Walking is excellent exercise, but I object to my children walking on roads that have narrow shoulders and a 45-mile speed limit. I walk my children to school every day, and I helped picket. All I want is safety for my children. And think of winter when we have to clean salt and chloride off our children's shoes.

I also want to extend my appreciation to the patrol car that stopped and gave us a lift when my daughter turned her foot on the pebbles and couldn't walk.

Concerned Mother

Our own law enforcement agree children are a hazard on the highway. And not only will children have to sit through school in wet clothes in winter, but parents will have to make two round trips daily.

I would be glad to walk my children to school, if I thought it would answer the safety problem, but only a fool would push a wheelchair a mile or less down an icy highway. And having taking the responsibility of being two parents to my children, I can't see putting their lives in the hands of a neighbor with possibility of their being critically hurt. I couldn't blame the neighbor, but he would never live it down.

Exercise would do them good, but it would be good for the school board, too. If parents are voting for school board members, they have a right to voice opinions.

Evergreen Sewer Up for Question

I feel it my duty to call to the attention of the registered voters of Bloomfield Township that on Tuesday, October 8, they will vote on a resolution approving or disapproving a one mill tax for sewer bonds for the Evergreen Interceptor.

It has been stated that no citizen will be forced to join the new sewer system unless 51 per cent or more of the residents in that area petition for that purpose.

In my opinion, the word residents is a misnomer and in error implying that in order to obtain the sewer services only those lots with existing structures or 51 per cent of them would be required.

However, such is not the case. Residents should be interpreted as lot owners and registered voters so that if 51 per cent of the entire lot owners in a given subdivision did petition, the sewers would be installed.

This would be true despite the fact that less than 51 per cent of the present residents living in existing structures would be against the project.

It has been estimated that cost of laterals, tap-in and connections would be approximately $1,000 per lot owner.

Italy Blockades Divided Country

San Marino's Reds and Anti-Reds Await First Hostile Move

SAN MARINO (UP) — An Italian blockade cut supplies of food today in little San Marino where armed bands of rival governments waited fearfully for the other to attack.

Anti-Communists threw up barbed wire barricades around headquarters of their government in a steel mill near the border. They had from 50 to 100 guards.

About 200 Communist militia held control of the rest of this little mountaintop country, the world's smallest and oldest republic. Road blocks were thrown up throughout the country's 38 square miles.

A blockade of all roads leading to San Marino, which is surrounded by Italy, continued for the seventh day. Italy has recognized the anti-Red government and is bent on keeping Italian Communists from aiding their San Marino comrades.

One of San Marino's two public markets closed yesterday because it had nothing to sell. There also was a shortage of gasoline.

The Communists, who controlled the country for 14 years in a coalition with left-wing socialists, lost their majority in the 60-member guard council last week because of defections. The Reds then dissolved the council, calling for an election in November.

But their opponents, contending no election is due until 1959, set up their own provisional government in the steel mill. The United States as well as Italy recognized it.

Only reporters were allowed to move between the Communist and anti-Communists bands last night. Guards on each side expressed fear of an assault and asked newsmen when their opponents would attack.

Earth Satellite First Stage in Flight to Moon

LONDON (UP)—A Soviet jet propulsion expert said today the launching of the first earth satellite means flights to the moon will be possible within a few years.

Speaking over Moscow radio, Dr. K. P. Stanyukovich told Soviet listeners:

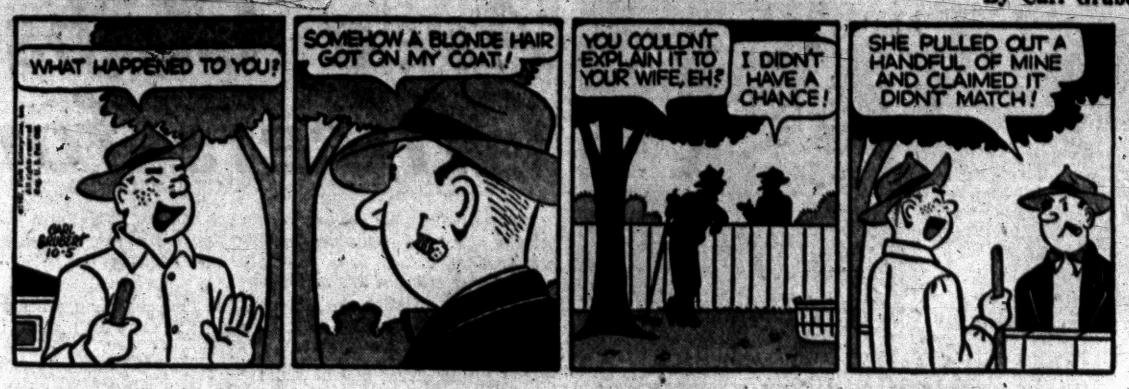

"It can now be said with confidence that in a few years flights to the moon with instruments will become as much a reality as the launching of the first artificial satellite.

"The launching of the artificial satellite is not only a tremendous scientific event in the life of mankind but is also the necessary first stage in the flight to the moon."

Security for You

Payment Not Raised Because of Illness

By RAY HENRY

From J. A. of St. Petersburg, Fla.: "For the past two years, I've been drawing $93.50 in monthly Social Security payments. My wife drew $46.80 — or roughly half of my payments. My wife is an invalid and medical expenses have been running very high. Am I eligible for an increase in my payments because of this?"

No. Social Security payments can be raised only in cases where retired persons return to work and work for at least a year at wages higher than they made before retirement.

From Mrs. R.D.P. of Mitchell, S. D.: "Next January I will be entitled to a widow's railroad pension because I'll be 65. My husband worked for the railroad for over 40 years. I also plan to quit working on the job on which I've been earning my own Social Security retirement rights. Will I be eligible to receive both the railroad pension and my Social Security?"

Yes.

From A.O. of Albany, N.Y.: "I've been hunting for a job since June and I haven't had any luck. It seems that a person 64 years old just isn't a good risk on a job these days. Naturally, I need money very badly. Is there any chance that I might be eligible for Social Security payments now?"

The Social Security law requires that men must be 65 to draw Social Security payments unless they're disabled.

From C.W.C. of Waukegan, Ill.: "I guess I just don't understand this Social Security business very well. About three years ago, I started collecting Social Security because I was 65. A few months later, I went back to work and worked until two months ago. I applied again for Social Security payments and have started getting them. How come I'm getting exactly the same amount this time as I drew the first time? It seems to me that my payments should be higher."

Without knowing more about your situation, I can't give you a concise answer. But, the mere fact that you put in additional time working doesn't increase the amount of your payments. Your payments are based on your average monthly earnings. Unless your average monthly earnings were higher during your most recent period of work, your payments would be the same as they were before. However, for your own protection, I suggest you inquire about your case at the nearest Social Security office.

From F.B. of Los Angles: "My husband died four years ago and I've been collecting Social Security for myself and our daughter. Will my check stop when our daughter reaches 18? I know that hers will. Will I be able to draw Social Security again when I reach 65?"

The payments to you and your daughter will stop when she reaches 18, unless she is disabled. Provided you don't remarry you'll be able to collect widow's payments at 62.

From L.M.T. of Washington, D. C.: "My husband was 72 in February and he has been receiving $108.50 a month since March. He's still working full time. Is it true that there is no limit to his earnings?"

Yes, since your husband is past 72.

Brisk Arctic Air Holds Icy Grip on the Northwest

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Brisk Arctic air maintained an icy grip on the Northwest today, shrinking thermometer readings to the 20s as far east as the western Dakotas.

★ ★ ★

Except for a fringe of scattered thundershowers just ahead of the advancing cold air and spotted areas of rain in the Southeast, the balance of the nation's weather prescription was one of fair skies and generally mild temperatures.

Nearly perfect weather with temperatures in the mid 60s and a 15 m.p.h. breeze was in prospect for the third game of the World Series in Milwaukee.

The wintry influx of weather from Canada had penetrated into the Northern Plains as far south as northwestern Nebraska and extended into Colorado. Scattered precipitation, with traces of snow, sprinkled an area from southeast Wyoming into central North Dakota.

East of the Continental Divide fair skies were the rule in most areas.

23 Per Cent of Students Ill With Flu in Denver

DENVER (UP) — Flu may have taken as many as 19,000 pupils out of Denver classes yesterday. Some schools reported half their student body was absent.

Dr. Lloyd Florio, city health manager, said an average of 23 per cent of the students were ill at home. This would amount to 19,000 youngsters across the city.

Says Asian Flu to Last 3 Months

Detroit Health Official Calls End of Outbreak Far Away

DETROIT (UP) — No hope is offered for an immediate end to the influenza outbreak in many lower Michigan communities.

In fact, Detroit's Health Commissioner Dr. Joseph Molner says he doesn't expect a noticeable slackening off for three months.

Dr. Molner said the flu bug is just getting a strong grip on Detroit and it will probably be Christmas before "the worst is over."

School absenteeism has increased sharply in affected communities during the past three weeks. Several high school football games scheduled for the weekend have been postponed.

While the "upper respiratory" ailment has hit school children hardest, a large number of adults are also reported to be coming down with it in increasing numbers.

The flu-type ailment affecting several victims has been definitely diagnosed in some cases as Asian flu. But doctors have been reluctant to place all the blame on the Asian variety.

Two flu deaths have been recorded in Detroit.

UAW to Formulate Demands in January

DETROIT (UP) — The United Auto Workers Union announced its special convention to shape demands to be made on the auto companies next year will be held Jan. 22-24 in Detroit.

★ ★ ★

The convention also will consider levying special dues on UAW members to build up the union's strike fund. The fund now has about 25 million dollars.

The convention was authorized by the union's 16th constitutional convention in Atlantic City last April. The same delegates will attend the special convention.

Zaslewsky, Zee to Zeemont; All Confusion Ends?

Originally Milton Zaslewsky, he had it changed to Milton Zee in 1941.

"People had too much trouble spelling Zaslewsky," said the 45-year-old plumbing supply contractor from Fair Lawn.

He was back in court yesterday, asking Bergen County Judge Benjamin Gallanti to change the last name again.

"People get the name mixed up with the last letter in the alphabet," said Zee.

Former Defense Aide Not Awed at Satellite

BUFFALO, N.Y. (UP)—Clifford C. Furnas, former assistant secretary of defense for research and development, said last night that the Russian launching of an earth satellite was "not of earth-shaking consequence."

Furnas, who was responsible for America's earth satellite program before he resigned early this year, said he felt the West suffered "a little loss of pride" because the Reds launched theirs ahead of the scheduled U.S. blast off.

Furnas, who served as assistant secretary for a little over a year while on leave as chancellor of the University of Buffalo, said he felt "slight personal disappointment" but no great surprise.

Color television was put on the air for the first time in 1941 in a test conducted from the Empire State building towers in New York.

Walled Lake Hosts Foreign Students

Four Families Eager to See Guests

By ELEANOR DUCKWITZ
Walled Lake Correspondent

WALLED LAKE—Four families in the Walled Lake School district are eagerly awaiting the arrival of Oct. 17, for on that date each will acquire another member of the family.

These four families have volunteered to act as foster parents to four of the 88 students from Europe who will live in Michigan under the "Youth for Understanding" program sponsored by the Michigan Council of Churches.

To three of the four families, being involved with the exchange student program will be a reversal of a previous experience as their children have spent summers in Germany during the three years that Michigan students have been sent abroad.

Until next August Elizabeth Clarke of Marden, Kent County, England will be the guest of Mr. and Mrs. William Duckwitz of Westacres whose son Bill, now a sophomore at the University of Michigan, was with the first group of students to live in Germany in 1955.

Living with the Bernard Nelsons of Reed Lake will be Gabriele Hinzman of Munich. Karen Nelson who has enrolled at Michigan State for her freshman year spent the summer of 1956 in northern Germany.

Returning the hospitality extended by the Lenuweit family of Marne, Germany this past summer to their daughter Peggy, a Walled Lake High School senior, the John Emmerts of Westacres will welcome as their guest, Ina Lenuweit.

GUEST FROM ITALY

The fourth family to play host to an exchange student is that of the Ralston Claverts of Commerce Lake who have invited Mario Giorcelli of Milan, Italy to share their home.

Get acquainted letters have been flying back and forth across the Atlantic for the past few weeks as the families exchanged information, asked questions and offered advice.

The German contingent of the group sailed from Bremerhaven on the Seven Sisters, which stopped at Southhampton, England on Oct. 7 to pick up the other students before setting sail for Montreal. The students are accompanied on their voyage by Mrs. Arvid Andresen of the Ann Arbor Washtenaw Council of Churches who selects the students for the exchange program and places them.

When they disembark they will board a Greyhound Scenic cruiser for the final lap of their trip to Ann Arbor where their foster parents will meet them and escort them to their homes on the eventful day.

West Bloomfield Drive Begins

Community Chest Sets Goal at $16,271 to Aid 15 Local Agencies

WEST BLOOMFIELD — The West Bloomfield Community Chest drive will get under way Saturday October 5th and continue through Friday Oct. 25th., according to Martin Lee, fund chairman.

A goal of $16,271 has been announced by Emmett DeConick, board chairman, as the figure arrived at by the board at a recent meeting.

Literature has been distributed to captains of over 200 workers who will canvas the area. Over 15 local agencies receive aid through the fund — the West Bloomfield Boys Club having been added this year.

Lee said "It is important that West Bloomfield township residents give where they live as well as where they work, since Pontiac and Detroit United Funds contribute to some but not to all of our local agencies."

Community Chest Drive Oct. 15 in Imlay City

IMLAY CITY — The Community Chest drive here will open Tuesday, Oct. 15. On the previous day, Monday, all participating in the drive will meet at the Methodist Church for coffee hour. At this time they will be given materials needed and instructions. Quota this year is $6,700.

'One Saturday Doesn't Make Entire Season'

(Prof. Joseph Kaplan, U.S. International Geophysical Year official, who also is UCLA's football faculty representative to the Pacific Coast Conference, offers his views on the announcement that Russia has launched the first man-made "Moon.")

By DR. JOSEPH KAPLAN
Professor of Physics, UCLA

WASHINGTON (INS) — About the best perspective I can give to the Soviet announcement is to draw an analogy between this event and a football team's fortunes.

One Saturday doesn't make an entire season. In this game there are still many more Saturdays to go.

I am not taking anything away from what the Soviets have achieved.

Since the IGY is an international cooperative program in geophysics, I feel the Russians have cooperated well in putting up a satellite and I congratulate them.

If the atmosphere of future cooperation in the IGY is as good as the atmosphere and feeling that existed tonight at this multinational gathering at the Soviet embassy, then the IGY really will fulfill the great promise that all of us had hoped it would and all of mankind will benefit from it.

To Honor Safety Patrol

MOUNT PLEASANT (AP) — More than 1,000 Safety Patrol boys from 38 Michigan counties will be honored by Central Michigan College Nov. 2 for their school safety program work.

Supervisors to Air Charges

May Meet as Committee of Whole to Discuss Modernization

Oakland County Supervisors will consider meeting as a "committee of the whole" Monday to air charges that county government needs modernization.

A resolution that the supervisors go into a committee huddle will come after a regular session in which the Committee on Local Taxes makes its annual report.

If supervisors agree to tackle the charges, at least two main points probably will be covered.

One involves a recommendation that the Board of Supervisors go on record against any of its members accepting appraisal assignments from Probate Judge Arthur E. Moore.

The other is a proposal that advance notice of committee meetings be made public from now on.

Another issue that may be brought up concerns the recent appointment of Harold K. Schone as director of the new Department of Public Works.

Schone himself has never been criticized, but the fact that as a supervisor he was instrumental in creating the new job has been questioned. There may be a recommendation that the Board bar any of its own members from appointed positions.

Some supervisors indicated they would ask for a study of legislative changes in the state laws governing boards of supervisors.

President of GM Given Economic Award by France

PARIS — France's highest economic tribute, Commander of The Order of National Economy, was conferred Friday upon Harlow H. Curtice, President of General Motors.

The presentation was made by Ivan Cabanne, cabinet director of the secretary of state for economic affairs, at the headquarters of General Motors France at Gennevilliers.

Cabanne congratulated Curtice and General Motors for creating new jobs and contributing importantly to the economy of France. He added that France was grateful to General Motors for the introduction of American production methods which had contributed to lowering overall prices of household appliances in France.

Corn Price Support Rate Goes to $1.40

WASHINGTON (INS) — Rising parity prices have pushed the final corn price support rate up four cents to $1.40 a bushel while agriculture department action has increased supports for barley, grain sorghums, oats and rye.

The department has announced the final $1.40 rate for the 894 county commercial corn area. It applies only to the farmers who have complied with acreage allotments.

The rate in the rest of the country is $1.27 a bushel. Farmers in the commercial area who ignored allotments can obtain support loans at $1.10 a bushel, as announced last week.

Under the legal formula that determines support rates, corn must be supported at 77 per cent of parity — the price calculated to keep income for any crop abreast of current production costs.

Pontiac Market Owner Fined for Bad Practice

John H. Davis, owner of the J. Davis & Son Market at 3915 Auburn Rd., yesterday was fined $100 and $7.90 costs on two counts each of allowing unsanitary conditions to exist in the store.

Davis was found guilty on one count of offering decomposed fruits and vegetables for sale, and a second count of offering for sale decomposed tomatoes sprayed with aluminum paint, according to James McCollum, food and standards inspector for the Michigan Department of Agriculture.

He was sentenced by Pontiac Township Justice Robert W. Hodge. If the fine is not paid in a week, Hodge ordered Davis to spend 30 days in jail for each count.

County Calendar

Imlay City

The Imlay City Rotary Club will have a smorgasbord dinner in the high school gym, Thursday. Serving will start at 5:30 p.m.

The WSCS will meet at the Methodist Church Wednesday, at 2 p.m.

The annual meeting of the Lapeer County Agricultural Assn. will be held in the high school vocational building at 8 p.m. Wednesday. The financial report of the 1957 fair will be given by Al Piercsall, treasurer. Fair's secretary and manager, Kenneth Ruby, will make his report on the 1958 fair and give plans for the 1958 Fair.

The Lapeer County Audubon Society will meet Monday, at 8 p.m. in the Community Room. Mrs. Alice Miller, Leonard, will talk on "Bird Banding." Mrs. Miller is a member of the Detroit Audubon Society and has been banding birds for thirty years.

Area Churches Announce Plans

Lutheran Congregation of Farmington to Hold First Service

Several churches of this area are announcing special plans for Sunday and the forthcoming week. One, the Antioch Evangelical Lutheran Church of Farmington, will hold its first service of worship.

Farmington

The opening service of Antioch Evangelical Lutheran Church will be held at 11 a.m. Sunday in the O. E. Dunckel Junior High School on 12-Mile road near Farmington road.

The new United Lutheran congregation will meet at the school until such time as a church is constructed in that vicinity.

A staff of Sunday School teachers, with John Starkey as superintendent, plans to begin Sunday School sessions at the school on Oct. 20 at 9:30 a.m.

Lathrup Village

Community Congregational Church here will celebrate World Wide Communion at its 9:30 and 11 a.m. services on Sunday. The Rev. John D. Rose will preach on the "Sense of Adequacy."

Women's Association of the church will meet Wednesday, with the main feature of its program to be a panel discussion on "The Problem of Juvenile Delinquency."

Panel members will be the Rev. Lorenzo S. Todd, Leonard Watchowski, Lathrup city administrator, Southfield High School. Mrs. Paul Hunsicker will act as moderator.

Dryden

St. John Episcopal Church here lists Holy Communion and a sermon for 9:30 a.m., with church school at the same hour. A coffee hour will follow at 10:30.

In the afternoon, at 6:30, the UMCY group will meet for a hayride.

Pontiac Credit Union Loses Cash, Checks

The Pontiac Municipal Credit Union was looted of $316 in cash and $138 in checks early yesterday morning by a burglar.

The credit union, which is located on the first floor of the city hall was not broken into, police say. The thief apparently had a key to the door.

Avon Photo Club Will Hear Guest From Detroit

Lehmback will present the main feature of the evening when the group meets at 8 p.m. Thursday at the Rochester library.

He will show a number of his salon prints, conducting a discussion on black and white photography. He also will analyze monochrome prints. Members are asked to bring in their prints for the session.

Soviets Told of Satellite Hours Later Than Rest

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet people today learned of their country's successful launching of an earth satellite several hours after the rest of the world.

The first word received by the world at large was in a Tass statement broadcast by Moscow radio.

More than an hour later the statement was distributed by Tass teleprinters. Many Russians learned of the satellite on 4 a. m. domestic news broadcasts. Others did not know until they read Pravda and Izvestia.

In 1953 Sweden imported 570 tons of fruit and berry juices from the United States, but in 1955 these imports jumped to 5,000 tons.

Dr. Tuttle Tells of African Mission

Three new buildings in the hospital compound, fresh paint and shining new equipment greeted Dr. and Mrs. Glen W. Tuttle on their return last week to Kimpese.

Dr. Tuttle, physician in charge of Protestant Union Medical Training Center in the Belgian Congo, and Mrs. Tuttle recently completed a year's furlough in this country.

In his report to the annual meeting of the Africa Committee of the National Council's Division of Foreign Missions, Dr. Tuttle wrote that he had also found 33 new students enrolled — 25 young men in nursing and eight girls in midwifery — bringing total enrollment to 95.

Since ground was broken in 1950 for the joint Protestant medical mission, 118 buildings have been built and hundreds of nurses, laboratory technicians and medical assistants trained "to preach Christ's message as well as to treat their sick countrymen," Dr. Tuttle declared.

A highlight of the return trip, he added, was a visit with Dr. Albert Schweitzer at his famous mission in Lambarene, where they found "an unusual spirit of friendliness between the staff and the patients."

If any man will come after me, let him deny himself, and take up his cross daily, and follow me. Luke IX: 23

Ministers, Church Groups Deplore Contempt of Law

Ministerial associations, church women and Christian student groups "depored the disregard for national law" in some U. S. cities last week as public schools reopened. In official statements and telegrams to President Eisenhower and the governors concerned, they were outspoken in expressing "shock at the contempt for law and order."

Speaking for the Ministerial Association of Little Rock, where Arkansas Governor Orval E. Faubus called out the National Guard when Central High School opened, association president, the Rev. Dunbar H. Ogden, appealed to citizens "to set a right example for every child of our community."

Mr. Ogden was one of four white ministers who escorted Negro pupils to the school. In their statement, the Little Rock and North Little Rock Council of Church Women declared "enforced segregation is un-Christian."

Condemning "actions repugnant to the Christian principles held by the vast majority of responsible Southerners," United Church Women of Atlanta, Ga., nevertheless expressed their "heartfelt gratitude for the peaceful and orderly manner in which some communities are solving problems of school desegregation."

In Nashville, Tenn., where a school was bombed, Protestant leaders joined in condemning acts of violence in that city and elsewhere and offered prayers "to restore a sound mind to members of this community."

As they concluded their 14th General Assembly in Wooster, Ohio, Sept. 11, United Student Christian Council delegates sent telegrams to the governors of Arkansas, Tennessee and Alabama urging "all lawful means of securing peaceful integration." The USCC is a unit of the National Council of Churches.

Other young people representing millions of the nation's Protestant youth in the United Christian Youth Movement, at their annual meeting at Estes Park, Colo., directed their statement to President Eisenhower next day.

Expressing concern for "those of our constituents caught in circumstances of tension," the UCYM asked the President to make a nation-wide TV address, visit areas of tension personally and call a White House conference of leaders of the states concerned.

Gladden Schrock of Napanee, Ind., newly elected president of the UCYM — also a National Council unit — the same day sent urgent messages to local UCYM chapter presidents throughout the South. Reiterating the Christian commitment to the brotherhood of all, he assured Southern student groups of the support of the organization in "undergirding those who are in need of strength in the midst of turmoil."

Pontiac Pastors to Hear Talk on General Hospital

Warren Simmonds, assistant director of Pontiac General Hospital, will speak at the 10:30 a.m. meeting of the Pontiac Pastor's Assn. Friday in the First Presbyterian Church. His subject will be "Pontiac General Hospital; Present an Future."

The group of ministers meets the first Friday of each month at First Presbyterian for fellowship, discussion and study. The Rev. Galen E. Hershey stated pastors of all faiths are welcome to membership.

First Move in Merger

CHICAGO (AP) — Four Lutheran denominations have agreed tentatively on a joint doctrinal confession and several other basic matters in planning a four-way merger that will bring into being a new Lutheran church with nearly three million members.

REV. V. L. NEIGENFIND

Mission Pledge Sunday, Oct. 6

Missionary to Indonesia, Treasurer of Stations, to Bring Message

The Rev. Vernon L. Neigenfind, missionary to Indonesia, and the Rev. B. S. King, treasurer of the Christian and Missionary Alliance fields, will be speaking tomorrow at the Christian and Missionary Alliance Church, Cass Lake road at M59.

The Rev. Mr. Neigenfind has taught in the Makasser Bible School; conducted radio programs in the Indonesian language six times weekly from Manila; made field trips to the islands of Sumbawa, Bali and Alor and been editor of the field magazine, "The Pioneer."

★ ★ ★

All of the money of the 22 missionary stations is handled by the Rev. Mr. King. He flew into the Baliem Valley, Shangri-La, shortly after the missionaries had made contact with the natives.

★ ★ ★

Last year the local congregation gave more than $12,000 to missions. The Rev. G. J. Bersche, pastor, anticipates the pledge offering to reach $15,000 tomorrow.

★ ★ ★

Sunday School is scheduled for 9:30 a.m.; worship service, 11 a.m.; Alliance Youth Fellowship, 6:15 p.m. and the evening service, 7:30 p.m.

Confident Living

Quakers Use Meditation to Solve Tough Problems

By NORMAN VINCENT PEALE

I once attended a Quaker meeting for a very special reason. The Quakers call their religious services "meetings," and in their meetings they practice the art of spiritual silence.

There is no minister. People sit in silent meditation and prayer. It is a practical demonstration of the truth in that principle of the Bible—"Be still, and know that I am God," and "In quietness and in confidence shall be your strength." After a while, even to the unpracticed, the deep silence has its own creative way with you.

DR. PEALE

My reason for attending on this occasion was that I had a very perplexing problem to contend with and I had not been able to get an answer to it. I thought that, in these particular spiritual surroundings, I might use the power of creative silence to get the answer I needed.

Among the Quakers, it is the custom for anyone who feels moved to break the silence to get up and speak. At this particular meeting, the first man to get up started off by saying, "If anybody here has a problem, let him drop it into this deep pool of quietness."

I had never heard a more apt description because that silence was truly deep and it was indeed like a pool. So I took the problem which had been troubling me and I said to myself: "All right. We'll see what happens."

And I let the problem "drop" into that pool of quietness.

Then the speaker said: "Now, just sit quietly and prayerfully resting the matter that troubles you in God's quietness. Believe that He will break up your problem into its component parts and give you the answer, perhaps even before this meeting is over."

We continued to sit and wait and listen to the silence. I don't know how long a time elapsed before another man arose and said, "Amen." And that was the end of the meeting.

RIGHT ANSWER COMES

All of a sudden, as clear as crystal, came the answer to my problem. And never in my life have I had as right an answer. The particular answer was different from that which I had been expecting, for I had been thinking and searching for my answer in another direction. But intuitively I recognized this for what it was—God's answer.

A trouble with many of us is that we haven't learned the valuable lesson the Quakers know so well. We do not use silence enough. Yet, it is creative. It is potent. It is dynamically powerful.

Can you find this creative silence outside a Quaker meeting? Certainly you can. How do you find it? Simply by consciously endeavoring to live with God and by humbly placing your problem before Him. Create through prayer and meditation your own "pool" of spiritual quietness. Insights will develop there which will bring clarity and understanding to you.

"Oh Lord; in the morning will I direct my prayer unto thee, and will look up," the Bible tells us. Look up into His great silence, up into His great wisdom, up above all the confusion and haze of daily life, into the source of all true problem-solving. The power of creative silence is one of the most effective techniques of prayer.

BIBLE QUIZ

QUESTION: What does "handwriting on the wall" mean?

ANSWER: "The handwriting on the wall" phrase comes from a Bible story. Belshazzar, ruler of ancient Babylon, held a great feast. During the wild celebration, strange handwriting appeared on the wall. "Mene, Mene, Tekel, Upharsin" it read. The king was worried and asked his wise men what it meant. They couldn't tell him. Then he asked Daniel who before had been able to explain the king's dreams. Daniel said the handwriting meant his days were numbered and that his kingdom would be divided among his enemies. That very night Belshazzar was slain and his kingdom taken by Darius, a Mede. So "the handwriting on the wall" is used as a sign of approaching doom.

Pakistan Caught in Severe Flood

Churches Rush Food, Drugs, Clothing in Relief of Devastated Area

The news in the cable from its Pakistan representative to Church World Service last week was tragic: Floods now cover 5,000 square miles, five million homeless, disease on rampage, starvation imminent, worse than 1955 flood which devastated Punjab area.

Officials of the Protestant and Orthodox churches' relief agency went to work immediately and on Sept. 20, food staples, blankets and clothing were on their way by sea and air. Drugs to combat eye diseases, malaria and dysentery, which left by air the same day, were carried free of charge by the airlines.

At the same time, CWS got on the phone to officials of CROP, its rural food collection department, and 1,000 tons of U.S. surplus wheat, 10,000 gallons of cottonseed oil, dried milk and other staples are now speeding on their way.

"The flood crisis in West Pakistan built up during the first two weeks of September," Dr. R. Norris Wilson declared, "and more supplies will be earmarked for the area if the situation worsens."

★ ★ ★

Dr. Wilson is executive director of Church World Service, through which 35 major denominations pool resources for emergency relief and reconstruction.

One Parishioner Attends Services of Greek Pastor

CENTER LINE (INS) — Early every Sunday morning white-haired Rev. Fr. Nicholas Mulonas clothes himself in the silk and brocaded robes of the Greek Orthodox Church and chants a two-hour Mass.

The 78-year-old former barber is pastor of probably the smallest church in the country. It is 15 feet long and 30 feet wide and was built by the Rev. and Mrs. Mulonas in Center Line.

At 70, Mulonas was ordained in St. Nicholas Cathedral, N. Y.

"I was too old and sick to take a regular church assignment," he said, "so I decided to say the Masses in my own church."

The absence of a congregation has not discouraged the tiny old man. On occasions, his four grandchildren attend services. Once he conducted the lengthy, colorful baptismal rite for one of his grandchildren.

His ambition, he said, is to perform a marriage ceremony before he dies.

Two chanters, according to tradition, normally play an important part in the Mass ceremony, but Fr. Mulonas performs these tasks too.

Director in Far East

The Rev. Wallace C. Merwin, executive director of the National Church Council's Far East Committee, arrived in Hong Kong last week for a three-months tour of the Far East that will include meetings with Christian missions and relief officials in ten countries.

All belong to the Bethany youth groups.

Bethany Baptist to Observe Day

Minister of Education to Assume New Duties Tomorrow

Bethany Baptist Church will join other Protestant churches in celebrating World Wide Communion Day at both the 9 and 11 a.m. services tomorrow with the pastor, Dr. Joseph I. Chapman, speaking on "The Race Against Time."

His evening message will be "What's In a Name?"

The Lord's Supper will be observed the first Sunday of each month at the 11 o'clock service and on the second Sunday at 9 a.m. Church School is held each Sunday morning from 9:50 to 10:50.

The special offering to be taken tomorrow will be used to help the work of American Baptists in 11 foreign mission fields.

At the quarterly business meeting of Bethany, it was voted to extend a call to Percy M. Walley Jr. of Ottumma, Iowa to become minister of education.

He will succeed Miss Reita I. Smith who resigned in June to devote full time to public school teaching and to give leadership to the camping program being developed by the Pontiac Public Schools.

WINS RECOGNITION

Miss Smith's youth program won denominational recognition as one of the best in the state. Continuing her services to Bethany as lay worker she is presently serving as sponsor for the Senior High Youth Fellowship and as a teacher of a leadership training class.

A graduate in January from the Berkeley Baptist Divinity School in California, Mr. Walley received his A.B. degree from Central College in Iowa and served as a teacher before entering the ministry. He will assume his new duties Sunday.

Mrs. Forrest E. Brown, president of American Baptist Women in Michigan, has accepted the call to join Bethany staff as church caller.

A member of the church for many years and graduate of Hillsdale College, she will assist in the pastorial calling program. Her work will begin Nov. 1.

Plan Crusade Followup

NEW YORK (AP) — An estimated 40,000 clergymen and laymen are expected to take part in a massive door-to-door Visitation Evangelism program in New York City this month, as a followup to Billy Graham's crusade here. Plans are that the visiting teams will reach some 180,000 unchurched persons.

Plan TV Prayer Series

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Producer Lew Kerner has completed a series of 365 color films called "A Minute of Prayer," which shortly will be put in use on many television stations throughout the country. Various backgrounds—landscapes, city scenes, people in everyday activities—are shown as the inter-faith prayers are sung, chanted or recited.

PINNING THE PROGRAM — Richard Mann of 127 Washington St. receives the first name tag program from Jeanette Ohanesian of 316 Prospect St. Young people of First Presbyterian Church have been busy this week making tags for the Westminster Fellowship Workshop to be held at the local church Sunday afternoon and evening. The senior high school age group from nearly 20 area Presbyterian churches will be present and participate.

Worldwide Communion to Be Observed Sunday

World Wide Communion will be observed at 9:30 and 11 a.m. Sunday in the First Presbyterian Church.

The choir will sing the Welsh Chorale, "Holy Lord of All" and the men's quartet will be heard in Buck's "Lead Kindly Light." Comprising the quartet are Charles Sherwood, Leo Yocu, Royce Everett and Lane Vander Hoek. Lyndon Salathiel is organist and choir director.

A Westminster Fellowship Workshop will be held at First Presbyterian from 3:30 to 8 p.m. Sunday.

Young people of senior high age of the following Presbyterian churches will be present: Drayton Avenue, First of Royal Oak, Greenfield, Winchester Village, Ladd Center and Kirk in the Hills.

Others are First of Birmingham, Troy Center, Christ of Royal Oak, Farmington, Northminster of Birmingham, Milford, Orchard Lake, Centerline and Sashabaw.

The Rev. Galen E. Hershey will be adult co-ordinator. The 200 delegates will be served supper at 6:15 p.m. by the Women's Assn.

Albert A. Riddering, vice moderator of Detroit Presbytery and youth director at Redford Ave. Presbyterian Church will present the closing message.

Mrs. Harry H. Pattison, president, and several women of the Women's Assn. will attend the Detroit Presbyterial meeting at Fort Street Church, Detroit on Tuesday.

The Yomar Group of women will meet at the church Tuesday; the November Group at the home of Mrs. Robert Boggs, Wednesday; on Friday Mrs. Don Cotterman will entertain the February-December Group; Mrs. John Livingstone, the April-May and Mrs. Robert Heitsch, the June Group.

Others opening their homes Friday will be Mrs. Bartlett Wager, the September-October Group; Mrs. Harold Blackwood, the July August and the Flora Shelly Group will meet at the church for dinner.

Rally Day Sessions at Both Services

St. Stephen's Lutheran Church (Missouri Synod) of Drayton Plains will observe Rally Day tomorrow.

During the 9 a.m. service, the children of the Sunday School will sing "I Am Jesus, Little Lamb." Those presently enrolled will receive a gold pin for membership.

At the 10 o'clock Sunday School service, children will be assigned to classes for the coming year.

CARE Aid to Hungary Totals $1,900,000

VIENNA — A CARE mission, established in Austria when the exodus of refugees from Hungary began, distributed $750,000 worth of supplies, ranging from 500 pairs of plastic baby panties to 500 tons of food. The mission recently was closed after seven months' operation.

In all, $1,900,000 donated for Hungarian relief was spent by CARE in a number of countries.

Film to Be Featured

Christian Temple's monthly youth rally to be held at 7:45 p.m. Saturday, October 12, will feature the gospel film, "Seventeen," a movie depicting the plan of Salvation. The public has been invited.

The Lord is my light and my salvation; whom shall I fear? the Lord is the strength of my life; of whom shall I be afraid? Psalm 27:1.

Evangelistic Series at Parkdale Church

The Rev. John N. Nielson of Long Island, N.Y. is preaching in a revival series at the Parkdale Church of the Nazarene, Parkdale at Hollywood street. The 7:30 evening services will continue through Oct. 13.

A former district superintendent of Pennsylvania and New England, he is now devoting full time to evangelistic ministry.

Mr. and Mrs. John Burton, teachers in the Pontiac Public School System, are conducting the music and bringing special songs for the program. They are graduates of Eastern Nazarene College in Wollaston, Mass.

Believes 128 Million Attend U.S. Churches

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Although official figures show only 103 million Americans are affiliated with churches, a leading religious journal says that the number actually surpasses this by 25 million—for a total of 128 million out of the country's 170 million population.

The magazine, Presbyterian Life, in a detailed analysis of membership computation systems, says additional church-affiliated persons are under age 13, but not counted under policies of some denominations.

Boston Minister Now Full-Blown Disk Jockey

BOSTON (AP) — The Rev. John DeBrine of Quincy, Mass., now holds a full-fledged academic degree in his role as a "religious disc jockey."

Rev. DeBrine has received a Master of Science degree in radio broadcasting from Boston University. The minister has a program on a Boston radio station. He spins records, gives time, news, and weather along with bits of inspirational verse and homespun philosophy.

Close Stores on Sunday After Prelate's Remarks

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — In the weeks since Archbishop Edward D. Howard told the 120,000 Roman Catholics within his archdiocese that Sunday was no day for work, there has been a steadily growing movement for Sunday closing of stores.

So far much of it has been in the planning stage, but action is expected shortly.

The archbishop, whose province embraces Oregon, Idaho and Montana, directed Catholics to refrain from nonessential Sunday work and from Sunday shopping as well. He said violation of this ban would be a subject for the confessional.

The immediate reaction among the general population was slight. Some small towns whose largely Catholic populations already refrained from most Sunday work, became well closed on Sundays. There were instances of closures elsewhere.

Few merchants reported fewer shoppers, though.

"It takes time," said the Very Rev. Thomas J. Tobin, vicar general for the archdiocese. "Things don't happen overnight. But people become aware of their duties."

The Sunday work ban for Catholics brought quick approval from Protestant groups. Scores of ministerial associations throughout the Northwest adopted resolutions calling for an end to all nonessential Sunday business activity. The Portland Council of Churches called this a "sound moral principle."

Seventh-Day Adventists, who observe Saturday as the sabbath, quickly cautioned against turning to legislation to enforce a ban on Sunday work. "It is not the right of any group or church to influence the state to pass laws which will infringe upon the God-given right of man to worship or not to worship. . . ," said the North Pacific Union Conference president, Elder C. A. Scriven.

Immediately after the archbishop's letter was read in all Catholic churches on Sept. 1, the eight Portland IGA stores — a group of mostly medium sized food stores—announced that they would be closed on Sundays.

Within four weeks, five of these reopened to Sunday trade. "Loss of business," said one of the owners. "There was no cooperation."

A committee is in the process of formation aimed at getting that cooperation, first in Portland, then throughout Oregon, and then in the other states.

They have a successful model. Seattle, a city of more than half a million population, has few open stores on Sundays. That is because last January Archbishop Thomas A. Connolly in the Seattle archdiocesan newspaper called attention to the long-standing rule of the Catholic Church against unnecessary Sunday work, and directed that it be observed.

National Council to Mark Anniversary

On October 4, some 400 of the nation's leading industrialists, labor leaders, educators, sociologists and economists will join ministers in celebrating the tenth anniversary of the Department of Economic Life, of the National Council of Churches.

"Momentous economic developments both here and throughout the world have marked the 10-year period since we held our first meeting in Philadelphia," declared the Rev. Cameron P. Hall, who announced the department's "birthday" plans this week.

"The meaning for the church people of this vast new technology will be the core of concern of the anniversary program." Mr. Hall has been executive director of the department since its organization on Oct. 2, 1947. (The Department's work was taken over by the National Council of Churches in 1950.)

Bible Scholars Pass Milestone

Offer New Translation of the Apocrypha, to Go With Revised Bible

Another milestone in American biblical scholarship was reached this week with the publication of a new translation of the Apocrypha, Monday Sept. 30 And the same day marked the fifth anniversary of publication of the Revised Standard Version of the Bible. Both projects were completed by National Council of Churches' committees of scholars under the chairmanship of Dr. Luther A. Weigle, dean emeritus of Yale Divinity School.

The Apocrypha are the 15 books and portions of books which appear in the Latin Vulgate, but which are not in the Hebrew Bible. Martin Luther, who translated them into German in 1534, described the Apocrypha as "books which are not held equal to the sacred Scriptures, and nevertheless are useful and good to read." Commenting on the new translation, Dr. Weigle declared:

"A generation that has witnessed the discovery of the Dead Sea Scrolls will probably agree that modern historical interest is putting the books of the Apocrypha in their true place as significant documents of a most important era in Christian history."

The Revised Standard Version of the Bible, published just five years ago, has had a record-breaking five million-copy sale. A total of 32 Protestant denominations are using RSV texts in their Christian education programs, some exclusively and others in conjunction with the earlier King James version.

Meanwhile two new projects are under way: a four to six-volume Bible dictionary, and a massive "New Testament Octapla" which will contain the texts of eight major Bible translations in parallel columns.

SELECTING SONGS — Mrs. George Gaches of 60 Moreland Ave. (left) and Sarah Paull of 148 Oliver St. are shown as they choose selections which they will play on the chimes of First Congregational Church next week. Every afternoon from 4:30 to 4:45 the bells ring out melodies of familiar hymns over the downtown area. They may be heard for several blocks.

Orchard Lake Church to Observe Communion

The Orchard Lake Community Church, Presbyterian will observe World Wide Communion Day at both 9 and 11 a.m. worship services tomorrow.

★ ★ ★

The pastor, the Rev. Edward B. Auchard will preach on "One Family at the Father's Table." New members will be received.

The Evangelism committee will meet Tuesday to make plans for the Communicants Class of young people and the Inquirers Class for adults.

The Communicants will hold the first class at 10:30 Saturday morning with the pastor teaching.

Parents of Church School children are invited to the Autumn Parents' Night Wednesday when religious training will be discussed with emphasis on parents' opportunities.

Presbyterian curriculum materials for parents and teachers will be distributed and John Emmert will present the "key parent," a program for the church.

When officers and circle chairmen of the Women's Assn. met recently, they set the date for the annual Harvest Home Festival of the Orchard Lake Church for Nov. 7.

Mrs. Wendell Strait will be chairman of the planning committee.

The Rev. Mr. Auchard will present the Bible study at the Retreat for Presbyterian women of the Detroit area on Oct. 12 at Waldenwoods.

Pontiac Witnesses Ask Ban Be Lifted

Jehovah's Witnesses of the three Pontiac congregations met recently to approve a petition asking the Dominican Republic to lift its ban of last July 25 restricting the religious activity of the movement there.

★ ★ ★

According to A. J. Kizer, presiding minister of the East Congregation, the lengthy petition cited specific names and places of police brutality that were personally authenticated by eight of the ten American missionaries deported August 3 from the Dominican Republic.

The missionaries related their experiences at a regional assembly in Baltimore, where the petition was originally adopted August 24 by 33,091 of Jehovah's Witnesses in attendance.

The petition was addressed to Generalissimo Trujillo, acknowledged dictator of the Caribbean republic, and named the Roman Catholic Church as sharing the blame for the government's action.

Church Schedules Teenagers' Activities

The youth program of the Lakeland United Presbyterian Church in Waterford Township, is being expanded to include regular Youth Night every Thursday, from 7 to 9:30 p.m. with the exception of the third Thursday, which is the regular family night.

Youth night will include singing, recreation, and refreshments for teenagers. The Sunday evening youth activities are now divided between two groups, The Pioneers for ages 12 to 14 and The Builders for ages 15 to 18.

A second session of Sunday school, which is necessitated by increased enrollment, will begin at 10:45 a.m. Sunday.

There will also be classes for pre-school children through Junior age groups.

Sunny Vale Members to Hear Evangelists

Joe and Marion Talley will conduct an evangelistic campaign from Oct. 8 to 20 in Sunny Vale Chapel, 5211 Pontiac Lake Rd. Services will begin each night at 7:30.

Mrs. Tally will be pianist and organist. Mr. Talley will speak, play trombone, banjo and electric guitar. The public has been invited.

Membership Contest On

Young people of the Assembly of God Church on Scott Lake road at Chrysler, are having a membership contest to increase church attendance. The Rev. Orville J. Windell has announced everyone is welcome.

Organ Chimes Familiar Tunes

Mrs. George Gaches, Sarah Paull Play Daily at First Congregational

Shoppers in the downtown area may hear the organ of the First Congregational Church chiming familiar hymns every afternoon around 4:30.

Mrs. George Gaches of 60 Moreland Ave. and Sarah Paull of 148 Oliver St. play on alternate days just because they love music and the organ.

President of the Plymouth Group and vice president of the Women's Fellowship of her church, Mrs. Gaches is also active in PTA work and vice president of the Pontiac Toastmistress Club. Her hobbies are painting, cooking and sewing.

She started music lessons at the age of six with Kenneth Aiken who is now with the Detroit Conservatory of Music. Later she studied with Mrs. Shirley M. Poole and Dr. F. Dudleigh Vernor in Jackson.

PLAYS IN BAND

Seventeen-year old Sarah is a senior at Pontiac High School. She plays flute in the Pontiac High School Band and studies both voice and pipe organ.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon S. Paull, she is a member of the Chancel Choir of First Congregational Church. When she enters college next fall, Sarah plans to specialize in dietetics.

The carillon was given and dedicated in 1954 as a memorial to Mrs. Maxine Dearing, Ruth Evans, Carl J. Malkim, Virginia Ricamore, Mrs. Kessell, Harry J. Richards and David R. Wilson.

Adults, Young People to Partake in Services

The Oakland Park Methodist Church will mark World Wide Communion Sunday with an adult service at 10 a.m. tomorrow.

During the Sunday School Hour at 11:15 a.m. a special service will be held for children and young people to explain the meaning of Communion. The Junior Choir will sing. The Rev. James W. Deeg, pastor, will conduct both services

Leaders Commend Stand of Women in Little Rock

The executive committee of the national women's organization of the Methodist Church September 24 sent a telegram to Methodist women leaders in Little Rock, Ark., encouraging them in their continuing efforts to achieve interracial understanding in the face of the school integration crisis.

The wire was sent to six women, both Negro and white, by the executive committee of the Woman's Division of Christian Service, meeting in New York, and was signed by Mrs. J. Fount Tillman, Lewisburg, Tenn., Division president.

The Woman's Division is the national body which represents almost two million Methodist women in 31,000 Woman's Societies of Christian Service across the United States.

The 21-member committee said in the wire, in part:

"The executive committee . . . sends love and gratitude to you and all Methodist women there (in Little Rock) for your continued devotion and courage in the creation of a climate where all people will be free and equal and where none will suffer rejection. The members of this body come from every part of the nation and share with you a common concern and responsibility. Our prayers are with you."

★ ★ ★

Recipients of the wire were: Mrs. E. M. Scott, El Dorado, Ark., president of the Woman's Society of Christian Service of the Little Rock Annual Conference; Mrs. B. H. Rumph, secretary for Christian social relations of the Woman's Society of the Southwest Conference in the Central (Negro) Jurisdiction; Mrs. Don Cameron Sr., president of the Woman's Society of the Little Rock district; Mrs. James H. Rice St., secretary of promotion of the Woman's Society in the Little Rock district; Mrs. Earl Cotton, secretary for Christian social relations of the Woman's Society in the 8-state South Central Jurisdiction (white), and Mrs. J. Russell Henderson, a member of the Woman's Division.

'The Day Christ Died' on Records for Blind

NEW YORK — The American Foundation for the Blind has released the first Talking Book records of the best-seller, "The Day Christ Died." The book, distributed by the Library of Congress, is now available to America's blind people free of charge.

Jim Bishop, author of the book, when advised recently that "The Day Christ Died" would be made into a Talking Book, said, " 'The Day Christ Died' has been selected by six book clubs. This is pleasing—flattering, I suppose—but it doesn't give me the gleeful thrill of knowing that it has been picked as a Talking Book.

"For the sake of my late mother, who was blind, as well as for America's 333,000 blind persons, I feel that the story will be more readily understandable as a Talking Book."

The book was recorded by Alexander Scourby, well-known stage and television actor, who has read the entire Bible as a Talking Book for blind people three times.

Any blind person is entitled to have these Talking Book records, as well as records of 2,500 other books, delivered to him free on a loan basis, or they can be procured at the nearest distribution point for Talking Books. The United States has 28 regional libraries for Talking Books.

The American Foundation for the Blind which, together with the American Printing House for the Blind in Louisville, makes the Talking Book records, is a private national, non - profit research, educational and service agency, acting as a clearing-house for problems concerning America's estimated 333,000 blind people.

Elders to Assist in Communion Service Sunday

World Wide Communion will be observed at the Oakland Avenue United Presbyterian Church Sunday morning at 10 and at 7:30 in the evening.

Others will be Alex McAllister, Robert McCormack, Eldon Powley, Gerald Schultz, C. W. Seaman, Earl Shepherd, Leon Verwey and Howard Webb.

Silvercrest Baptist to Present Awards

"More than 50 boys and girls will receive awards as they advance to their classes Sunday morning" said Russell Dennis, superintendent of the Sunday School at Silvercrest Baptist Church, Dixie Highway and Rosemary.

He was speaking of the annual Rally Day program at 10 a.m. tomorrow. The Rev. Harry Robinson, a missionary to France, will speak and show films of his work among refugees of France and Spain.

The Rev. James H. Luther, pastor, stated the public has been invited.

First Methodist Banquet Friday

Proceeds to Be Used for Special Purposes of Church

Dr. Chester A. McPheeters, Flint District Superintendent of Methodist Churches, will be the speaker Friday evening at the annual Harvest Home Banquet in the First Methodist Church.

The annual affair began as a College Day Banquet with proceeds given to Albion College, a Methodist institution. In recent years the church has continued the event with the harvest theme.

The various organizations work throughout the year to earn gifts to be presented in unique ways for a part of the program. The funds are used for other than regular operating expenses, such as a new heating plant, parking lots and building additions.

A Methodist minister for 40 years, Dr. McPheeteers was pastor of Metropolitan Church in Detroit prior to his present position.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Clayton Rule, general chairman, announces Mrs. Howard Bone will be chairman of the decorating committee and Mrs. Sig Chimiloski, chairman of the dining room. Reservations may be made by calling the church office.

Installation Service at Columbia Baptist

The Rev. Marion F. Boyd Jr., pastor, will install 65 Sunday School workers tomorrow at Columbia Avenue Baptist Church.

Included will be the following officers and department heads: Haskell Kennedy, general superintendent; Garland Hughes, asst. superintendent; secretary, Mrs. Virginia Tharp; assts secretary, Mrs. Flo Hughes; Carroll Hubbs, choir director; Mrs. Edith Lockwood, pianist and Larry Tate, asst. pianist.

Houston Lovett will be adult superintendent and Mrs. Dorothy Kennedy has been named juior superintendent; Mrs. Wilsie Doolin, primary; Mrs. Kathleen Curson, beginner, and Mrs. Jeanne Keel, nursery.

Annual Homecoming Sunday will be Oct. 20.

9th Anniversary Services Closing Tomorrow Night

Mrs. Louise Edwards will be chairman of activities in Providence Missionary Baptist Church Sunday.

This will be the closing day of the week's celebration of the ninth anniversary of the church and pastor, the Rev. T. Walter Harris.

At the 11 o'clock morning service, the pastor will preach on "One Lord, One Faith and One Baptism." The Senior Choir under the direction of Vergia Chance will furnish the music.

At 3:30 Sunday afternoon, Bishop C. J. Johnson and the Church of God in Christ will conduct the service with Bishop Johnson preaching the sermon.

A fellowship tea will follow at 5:30 p.m. with Obessa Amerson singing a solo. Presentation of gifts will follow.

A Baptismal Service is scheduled for 7:30 p.m. The congregation will observe World Wide Communion Day at 8 p.m.

The Business Day Of Your Pontiac Press Newspaper Boy...

When school lets out Jerry Patterson, James Joyce, Donald Lankford, Charles Bray and James Dotson do as 876 Pontiac Press Newspaper Boys do . . . begin their business day activities of delivering the Pontiac Press to their customers. Each is an independent business man in his own right.

First stop is the distribution point where each carrier meets the truck bringing his papers from The Pontiac Press. Here are Edward Sturgeon, Robert J. Mooney and Bobby Thorne, all of the Walled Lake area checking the receipt of their "stock." Accuracy of count is a must for each is responsible for the papers charged to his account.

Service to his customers is of prime importance to each Newspaper Boy Businessman. Michael Nyeberg has learned this principle well and knows how much his customers depend upon him for daily service in having their Pontiac Press at the door for them.

Financial matters are the concern of every business man. Having delivered the paper your newspaper boy collects for his services in order to meet his obligations, to get his profits for his savings. James Garver meets Mr. William Spencer, one of his customers. During the collection contact the Newspaper Boy learns what his customer likes and expects from him.

Today Is National Newspaper Boy Day!

We Salute These Independent Businessmen

It is fitting and most appropriate that we dedicate this day in tribute to the hundreds of thousands of Newspaper Boys. Collectively they are doing a gigantic task. Who can estimate the total weight of the nation's papers being delivered by them today? Who can guess the miles walked? How tremendously important to millions of homes is the receipt of today's newspaper! Collectively these Newspaper Boys are doing a real man-sized job. To the Pontiac Press' eight hundred plus Newspaper Boy Businessmen we pay tribute "For Faithful Service and Outstanding Performance of Duty."

Crivea - Walton Nuptials Solemnized

Vases of white snapdragons and pompom chrysanthemums banked the altar of Donelson Baptist Church for the 8 p.m. wedding last night of Sharon Dawn and J. Levi Crivea. The Rev. Lee F. LaLone performed the candlelight ceremony before some 300 guests.

The John T. Waltons of Preston avenue are the bride's parents, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Levi Crivea of Myrtle street.

ASSIST BRIDE

Mrs. Orton Armstrong of Ann Arbor was matron of honor. She wore a waltz-length toast taffeta gown with beige back panel, cummerbund and bustle.

Attendants were Mrs. William Thurmond of Detroit, a former college roommate of the bride; Ruth Goodwin and Patricia Crivea. They wore beige taffeta dresses with toast back panels, cummerbunds and bustles. Jane Walton was the flower maid. All attendants carried semi-cascade bouquets of feathered birds of paradise.

William Goodwin acted as the best man, and the guests were seated by Stanley Rock of Walled Lake, Orton Armstrong of Ann Arbor and Thomas Walton. The ringbearer was Bruce Walton Jr.

MRS. J. LEVI CRIVEA

RECEPTION GIVEN

For a reception in the church parlors the bride's mother chose a navy dress of lace over taffeta, with ash rose and navy accessories and a rose cymbidium orchid corsage. Mrs. Crivea wore a charcoal brown faille suit with beige and brown accessories and a corsage of buff cymbidium orchids.

Before leaving on a northern Michigan trip, the new Mrs. Crivea had changed to a beige wool worsted suit with brown accessories and a pale green cymbidium orchid corsage. The couple will live in Clarkston.

The bride is a graduate of Detroit Bible Institute. The bridegroom attended Detroit Bible Institute and was graduated from American Floral Art School in Chicago.

Old Room Becomes Chic Flat

WOODSIDE, Calif. (INS) — The young career woman or man whose salary doesn't stretch to a stylish address can convert an old bedroom and bath into a smart apartment.

★ ★ ★

Decorator Bernice Seymour of Woodside, south of San Francisco, illustrates this theory by transforming two rooms of an elderly residence into a sophisticated apartment for one.

MAYAN THEME

Using a Mayan theme, Miss Seymour interprets it in grays and blacks with yellow accents. Vinyl tile squares in the three colors cover the worn floors.

★ ★ ★

High Hopes for U. of M. Victory

Students From Area Join in Excitement Over First Game

By MARCIA THOMAS

Football begins today at the University of Michigan. The mighty Wolverines host the University of Georgia team in the first home game of the 1957-58 season.

Hopes for a winning season have risen after the Michigan 16-6 victory over University of Southern California last week.

Also planning to enjoy the first game of their college years are Melvin White, son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard White of Avondale avenue, and David Drury, son of Mr. and Mrs. Asa L. Drury of Mt. Vernon street, Bloomfield Township.

Both boys are also active in the University's intramural sport program. David is now playing on the Huber, South Quad, football squad. Melvin will be participating on the Huber swimming team, the tennis squad, and other sports.

I-HOP TONIGHT

I-Hop, an independent dance, will be given tonight from 9:30 to 12:30 in the Michigan League Ballroom. The sponsoring group for the dance is composed of students not affiliated with any fraternity.

One of the university students planning to participate in the evening's festivities is Judy Elwell, daughter of Mrs. Grace Elwell of Dick avenue. Judy is a freshman student in journalism. She also is active in the Stockwell Dormitory Choir.

Due to the illness of Lily Pons, Rise Stevens, Metropolitan Opera Company mezzo soprano, substituted at the Choral Union concert, sponsored by the University Musical Society this week.

Mary Ann Thomas, graduate student, was one of many who enjoyed the evening's entertainment. Mary is working on her master's degree in political science, specializing in the Near Eastern area.

For the next two weeks, men on the University campus are going through a period of rushing. During this time fraternities open their doors to all male students who wish to look over the houses and pick the one of their choice.

Zonta Club Hears Talk by Student

Thursday's meeting of the Zonta Club at the Hotel Waldron featured an account of the experiences as an exchange student in Germany, given by Esther Bentley, Waterford High School student.

Miss Bentley, who lived at Witten in Germany's Rhur district, discussed the etiquette, education, fashions and other daily life patterns of the German family with whom she dwelt this past summer.

A very special privilege granted to her during the summer abroad was a two-hour drive through the Russian Sector, even though her camera was sealed, and she was allowed neither to stop, nor to leave the car.

Following the talk, Mrs. Brownie Mellinger, club president, announced invitations to club members were available for an Inter-City dinner meeting at Bedford, Ohio, Oct. 15, and another at Bay City on Oct. 22.

The group's next meeting will be held Oct. 10 at Kingsley, Inn.

Sorority Chapter Plans Card Party

Mrs. Richard Maier has been named chairman of a card party to be held Nov. 21 by Phi Kappa Tau Chapter of Pi Omicron sorority.

Assisting her will be Mrs. Donald Steele and Mrs. Robert Angel, refreshments; Mrs. Thomar Roe, tickets; Mrs. Robert Young, publicity; Mrs. Stuart Hutchinson and Mrs. Maynard Holmes, prizes, and Mrs. John Voorhees, cleanup committee.

Laundry Tips on Fine Blouses

In laundering blouses, use two sudsings. Instead of rubbing folds of fabric together, use a well-lathered soft brush or your sudsy fingertips to cleanse soiled spots.

A few tricks at the ironing board will pay off in keeping blouses looking new and important. Let your ironing routine go like this for a professional looking job: press armhole seams first, then sleeves. Next press the left front, the back, the right front. Then press the yoke, if any, and the collar last.

Interviewers Aren't All Monsters

By ANNE HEYWOOD

To read my mail, you would think that the average agency, whether private or state, is a many-headed monster.

★ ★ ★

But I know a great many interviewers, and they're not at all like that. The trouble lies mostly with the applicant.

SOME POINTERS

1. Don't begin by resenting the idea of the agency. If you can get a job on your own, do. If you need the agency, don't resent it.

2. Remember that while your job problem is the most important thing in the world to you, it isn't to the person who interviews you.

She has dozens of others to think of as well as her own problems, and cannot give your problem the kind of absorbed attention you can.

She may seem rude or hasty, but she is probably just overworked and trying hard to do her best by a whole lot of people.

If you'll bear this in mind, and give her a little attention, you'll be one in a million and she will adore you!

3. Do as you're told. If you were a guest at a party, and the hostess said, "Now everybody come out on the terrace and Susie you fix the rolls!" you would do it.

Well, you're a guest at the agency. If you have any good manners, use them. The red-tape regulations may irritate you, but then, so might fixing the rolls for an al fresco supper.

If you don't ever want to be irritated by others, stay in an ivory tower!

4. Be open-minded. If a job is suggested, at least go on the interview. Don't say "No" until you've at least investigated it. It makes you look pigheaded beyond belief.

Furthermore, the job might turn out to be a good one, far better than it sounds!

BE COOPERATIVE

5. Let the right hand know what the left hand is doing. If you have an interview, call back and tell the agency about it.

This kind of cooperation will make them your friends for life.

April-May Group Meets

Meeting Friday for a luncheon at the First Prebyterian Church were members of the church's April-May Group. Hostesses for the affair were members of the January-March Group.

Guest speaker was Mrs. James C. Covert, president of the Detroit Presbyterial, who discussed and showed pictures of the Presbyterian Fellowship Caravan which has led to the formation of Prebyterian missions and institutions in the Southern states.

On Tuesday the Detroit Presbyterial will meet at the Fort Street Presbyterian Church, Detroit.

The local church's first Family Night dinner will be held on Oct. 23.

Elizabeth II—Symbol, Woman, Queen

EDITOR'S NOTE — Queen Elizabeth and Prince Philip arrive in Canada next Saturday for a state visit, then continue to the U. S. for a much-heralded tour. This is the woman millions will see and read about; but, because of the screen of palace protocol, little is known of the true nature of the queen, of the royal role she fills, of her personal life. Now a famed International News reporter brings you an intimate closeup of Queen Elizabeth and her family. This is the first of six articles.

By BOB CONSIDINE

The world's most important woman, Elizabeth II, will be the first reigning British queen ever to visit this land her forebears once owned and lost by force of arms.

In an age when the image of Big Brother enslaves or beguiles a huge block of the peoples of the world, the beautiful 31-year-old monarch is a symbolic Little Mother to a Commonwealth whose peoples number a whopping 640,000,000.

Her visit to Washington, New York, Jamestown and Williamsburg will be the most momentous ever undertaken by this hard-working young queen.

SYMBOL OF UNITY

Elizabeth II and her attractive 36-year-old consort, Prince Philip, the Duke of Edinburgh, come here as symbols of the slack but strong units of a great and farflung world power. Theirs is at once a mission of peace and a royal tour with wide screen and technicolor, a time for ticker tape and yet an occasion to ponder, quietly, the ties that bind free men everywhere.

Behind the tinsel will be the solid meat-and-potatoes realism of survival in a world where her enemy, and the enemy of all who profess freedom, is lost with hydrogen bomb and intercontinental missile.

Her goal is to promise closer ties between the British Commonwealth and the United States, strained a year ago during Suez, better now, certain to be improved further by her mingling with Americans of all sizes, shapes, shades and degrees of importance.

For a monarch whom the ages have stripped of authority and empires, a woman who reigns but does not rule, Elizabeth II comes with distinguished credentials. At the White House and elsewhere, Her Majesty will be paid homage which scarcely could be greater if she could autocratically command the arms and industry of her teeming millions with a wave of her jeweled sceptre.

STANDS ON PINNACLE

Elizabeth's strength is that she is respected, revered, loved and looked up to by Britons, Scots, Welsh, Northern Irish, Canadians, Australians, New Zealanders, Newfoundlanders, Nova Scotians, Africans, Indians, Pakistani, Ceylonese . . . and the subjects of the skyscraping Queen of Tonga. She is the personal model of a scattered yet combined people who hold the balance of control in the world today.

★ ★ ★

It would be difficult to find shoulders more willing to accept that role than those of Elizabeth Alexandra Mary of Windsor, current end product of a thousand years of rulers.

The role was thrust heavily upon her with the death of her father. Philip was chosen to break the news to Elizabeth, Feb. 6, 1952, at the Royal Lodge, Sagana, in Kenya. Destiny's child was Queen.

★ ★ ★

Edward VIII had gone off with the Woman I Love. George VI had been taken away by lung cancer in the prime of his life. A new Elizabethan age had dawned, and no one questioned the girl's ability to lead it. At the London Airport there was a letter from the ramrod-straight old Queen Mary, who had dedicated years to schooling her for queendom. It was signed:

"You're loving grandmother, and subject."

WHAT KIND OF WOMAN

What kind of woman is the Queen, when she slips out of her shoes and puts away her tiara?

She is 5 feet 4 inches tall, four inches taller than her sister Margaret, four inches taller than Queen Victoria, the great-great grandmother she shares with Philip. She wears a size 10 dress, can smile like an angel for desperately long periods. She is without wrinkles.

Her hair is several delicate shades of brown, and she has it dressed conventionally. Her teeth are fairly large, well-shaped, and sparkle like an advertisement for a good dentifrice. The hardy cliche, peaches and cream, must be utilized again to describe her complexion.

Her lips are the full lips that came into the family with prim Victoria's hell-raising but beloved heir, Edward VII.

She has an astonishing cadence to her walk, as if she was aware of a distant sound of trooping the colors. Her adoration of her husband, of Prince Charles and Princess Anne, her 9 and 7 year old children, is open and frank and enormously touching to millions of her people.

Stoke Furnace for Morning's Work

Everyone Needs Good Breakfast

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

For some time now experts in nutrition have been emphasizing the importance of an adequate breakfast. Observation and experimentation have proven that those who eat a real breakfast are much more efficient than those who "let it go" with coffee and juice or maybe a piece of toast.

Even if folks get the vital foods such as eggs, juice and cereal and breadstuffs later on in the day, they experience fatigue because they did not stoke the furnace for the morning's work. Also, more often than not they miss these essential foods altogether.

So, it is very bad business for the woman who works outside or inside her home to skip breakfast or make a travesty of it. Yet the working woman is one of the most usual offenders.

Women who are reducing often skip breakfast or have only juice and coffee or coffee and toast. It has been proven over and over again that the most successful reducers eat a real breakfast.

If you miss one meal, you are almost certain to make it up and more at another. Also, no breakfast or a token breakfast is discouraging because it makes you feel weak and hollow and uncomfortable. The best way is to divide your allowable calories between three meals.

Teenagers constitute another group which is likely to skip the morning meal or choke down a very little bit of it. Girls do this more often than boys although the latter are often at fault also.

It is really too bad since this is the age of rapid physical maturity when the body so desperately needs the essential foods. Damage can be done to future health if nutrition is abused at this age.

Mothers can help a lot if they will make breakfasts attractive. They should be varied. Orange juice and a poached egg and a piece of toast or oatmeal every morning become boring. Vary the juice and the manner of preparing the eggs. For instance, many persons like an egg baked with cheese on top of it.

There are myriad opportunities in the cereal and bread world. Switch from bacon to sausage and from pancakes to waffles. Variety is a big help in tempting the family to eat that first all-important meal.

It has been proven that the most successful reducers eat a real breakfast.

Tea, Program Scheduled by Birmingham Musicale

BIRMINGHAM — The Birmingham Musicale will open its season with a program and tea Thursday, Oct. 10, at the Community House. Featured will be Virginia Person, soprano; Harriet Preston, pianist; Donald Ritter, violinist, and Lois Holmes, accompanist.

Mrs. Whiting Raymond is chairman of the day, assisted by Mrs. John Wright Jr., Mrs. John Abbott, Mrs. Thomas Hewlett and Mrs. Ralph Fox as hostesses.

On the tea committee are Mrs. Emerson Brown, Mrs. William T. Orlund, Mrs. Earl Cannon, Mrs. Robert C. Gibson, Mrs. Frye Ayers and Mrs. Louis M. Randall Jr.

Mrs. William G. Busch and Mrs. William Simpson will plan the staging. Presiding at the tea tables will be Mrs. Robert D. Lynd, Mrs. Harold L. Walker, Mrs. Robert F. Killeen and Mrs. Elwin C. Greer.

FIRST APPEARANCE

This will be Mrs. Person's first appearance as a new member of the Birmingham group. She was soloist six years with the Detroit Symphony, and has been official soloist for special events in Detroit. Mrs. Holmes, her accompanist, is a well known member of the Musicale.

Donald Ritter is a junior in Birmingham High School and was this year's winner of the Club's scholarship for Michigan State University Summer Music program.

Mrs. Preston, of Flint, is well known in musical circles as a pianist, and also as a copywriter and radio writer. She is music reviewer and assistant to the editor of "Music News."

MRS. ROBERT KUKLINSKI

Married this morning at Our Lady of the Lakes Church were Jane Elizabeth Webster and Robert Kuklinski. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clergue Webster, and he is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Julius Kuklinski.

Jane E. Webster Weds in Our Lady of the Lakes

The Rev. Frederick Delaney performed a Nuptial Mass at Our Lady of the Lakes Church today, uniting Jane Elizabeth Webster and Robert Kuklinski. Three-hundred guests witnessed the 10 a.m. ceremony.

Mr. and Mrs. Clergue Webster of Silverside drive are the bride's parents, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Julius Kuklinski of Woodbine drive.

The bouffant skirt cascaded into a chapel train, and her fingertip veil was secured to a crown of seed pearls and rhinestones. She carried an arrangement of white roses, stephanotis, and ivy.

Mrs. Andrew Lindsey, the bride's sister, served as the matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Gerald Bauer and Charlotte Wyss of St. Clair. Mary Webster, a niece of the bride, was the junior bridesmaid, and acting as flower girl was Debbie Newcomb, a niece of the bridegroom.

The attendants were gowned alike in cotillion blue crystalette dresses with matching shoes. Their small caps were fashioned with veils trimmed in sprinkles of rhinestones, and their flowers were white fugi chrysanthemums in a cascade arrangement.

ASSIST BRIDEGROOM

Serving as best man was Ralph Wesolek of Chicago, the bridegroom's cousin. Ronald Newcomb, Carl Beaubein and Terry O'Dell seated the guests. A nephew of the bride, Michael Webster, was the ring bearer.

Following the ceremony a breakfast was served at Devon Gables, and the Oakland County Sportsmen's Club will be the scene of a reception at 7 o'clock this evening.

Prior to leaving on a trip to Florida the new Mrs. Kuklinski changed to a black wool suit trimmed with Persian lamb and a white feather hat and gloves, with other accessories in black.

The bride is a graduate of Mercy School of Nursing, Detroit. The couple will live on Seminole avenue.

Don't Tell About Flaw in Present

Recipient Advised to Try Exchanging Torn Blouse

By EMILY POST

"Dear Mrs. Post: For my birthday I received a very pretty blouse from a friend. Upon opening the package I discovered that there was a tear in the blouse. I am sure she did not notice it when she bought it.

"Would it be proper to tell her about this so that she can exchange it for a perfect one? I don't want to embarrass her, but it does seem a shame not to be able to wear it. Will you please tell me what, if anything, I can do about this?"

Answer: If the blouse was in the package of the store it came from, or if you know where your friend bought it, take it back yourself and try to get a perfect one. Otherwise I am afraid you cannot say anything to her without risk of embarrassing her.

"Dear Mrs. Post: We're soon to celebrate our wedding anniversary. Our guest list really falls into two categories—those who drink cocktails and those who don't.

"The combined list is very long anyhow and we wondered if it would be better to invite the drinkers to come between certain hours and the nondrinkers between certain others. We wonder if anyone could think the segregation had unflattering implications?"

Answer: I would suggest letting them segregate themselves. For example, stipulate on the invitations: 5 to 6 Tea, 6 to 7 Cocktails. Those who do not like anything strong to drink will come in at tea time and the others will come in later.

"Dear Mrs. Post: I am going to give my fiancee an engagement ring in the very near future. My mother, who is a widow, has offered me her engagement ring to give to her. It is a very beautiful one and much nicer than one I could afford to buy. Would it be proper to give her this ring?"

Boy-Chasing Girl Insists Mother Is Old-Fashioned

But Mom Knows Best — Ladylike Air Wins Male Respect, Admiration

By RUTH MILLETT

"I am having trouble trying to teach my 15-year-old daughter that girls don't chase boys," writes one harassed mother.

"If she has several dates with a boy, she thinks it is perfectly all right to call him up, to drive past his home and honk the horn every time she gets in a car with other girls. When she has a date at home, instead of letting him leave when he first suggests going, she teases him to stay longer.

"When I point out that none of that is ladylike behavior, she says I am old-fashioned and that all girls today 'chase' boys—if that is what I want to call it.

"Is my daughter right? Have mothers quit trying to make ladies out of their daughters?"

Apparently a lot of them have. But that needn't influence you. Even though a lot of girls do openly chase boys today, it still doesn't put them in a good light.

BIG ADVANTAGE

The girl who learns early the feminine art of making a boy work to please her instead of throwing herself at him still has a big advantage over other girls.

She appears to be more feminine and she gets more respect from the boys she likes.

Furthermore, she is learning how to be a lady. There will always be a place in the world for a real lady—a woman who can be gay without being loud, friendly without being pushy, win a man's respect along with his admiration, make a man want to look after her.

So don't give up in your attempt to teach your daughter the ways of a gentle and charming woman. Some of your teachings are bound to sink in and make a lasting impression.

If you'll think back you may recall that your own mother had quite a struggle to make a lady out of you. But she won it— or you wouldn't be so determined to see that your own daughter is a lady, too.

If you are invited to a dance and cannot go, be sure to let your hostess know ahead of time.

Sport Cars Call for New Car Coats

Distinctive Styling, Big Pockets, Vents at Side Essential

There's more fun in your life when you drive a sports car. You can choose from either domestic or foreign makes, but whatever the car, you'll marvel at their high-powered engines, their precision race car steering and unmatched maneuverability. When out sports car driving, you'll want to keep warm these cool fall days in one of the new wool car coats—tailored especially to fill the needs of sports car drivers.

Information from the Sports Car Club of America tells us that sports car owners are increasing by leaps and bounds in all 48 states. You'll find such fans in town and country as well as on leading campuses—and in all income brackets.

Nowadays, it's protocol to dress a certain way, and since sports car drivers are considered a special clan, outerwear manufacturers have designed a whole new range of outercoats for them. Properly called "car coats," their good looks and distinctively different details make them stand out from any other suburban coat.

In his outerjacket, the sports car driver looks for such features as roomy pockets set at the right angle for maps and other paraphernalia he finds useful, deep side vents that prevent the coat from crawling up in back, and collars with hoods to use when the car top is down and breezes blow cool. The new "car coats" blend all these essential details—deep pockets, side vents and hooded collars—as part of a new concept in outerjackets designed for a specific purpose.

Although rugged styling highlights many car coats this fall and winter, the appearance avoids a bulky look that makes so many short outercoats cumbersome and uncomfortable. Experienced drivers will marvel at the lightweight comfort of the new "car coats," made possible by the new lightweight woolen fabrics. This lightweight comfort is most important for greater safety on the road.

Now let's get down to the business of "car coat" styling. Men will welcome the wide selection of wool car coats they can choose from this fall and winter. There are elegant dress-up models with all the "trimmings" for drivers of sleek Jaguars and more functional models stripped to the essentials, for drivers of low-bodied Corvettes, Thunderbirds and M.G.s.

New concept is the two-tone wool fleece car coat. With a belted back, it's sporty in appearance. Its 35" length is just about right for drivers, too. And it's comfortably warm in all-wool.

Another new wool "car coat" sports a double-breasted front. The double-breasted look is back in greater numbers this fall, and it shows up in wool polo coats for the football stadium, slim-shouldered double-breasted wool-worsted suits for business in town—as well as in outercoats for sports car drivers. You'll feel right at home in the driver's seat in the double-breasted "car coat." Its slanting pockets, commonly called "hacking" pockets, are part of the unobtrusive styling, along with a deep center vent, and the double-breasted "car coat," on the whole, is designed in a lighter weight wool fabric to prevent annoying bulkiness.

The truest greatness lies in being kind; the truest wisdom in a happy mind.
— Ella Wheeler Wilcox

Spadea's American Designer Pattern

Mollie Parnis

Design Drops Off the Belt but Clearly Defines Figure

Mollie Parnis throws away the belt in this model in the currently accepted manner but because she knows that her devoted American following prefers no looking like a sack but rather like a woman who cares about her figure, she shapes the bodice, gives definition to the waistline and bosom, allows the skirt to flare.

The peaked gores of the skirt are precisely fitted into the bodice and are cut so that the hemline will never sag.

For the double collar, use a contrasting texture, satin or wool for example, and repeat it for the cuff trim. Mrs. Parnis used leather buttons on the original and a ribbon tie.

Choose wool crepe, faille, alpaca, silk and wool mixtures or even winter cottons. For contrast—pique, linen or taffeta are suggested. From this chart select the one size best for you:

10	34	24	35	16½
12	35	25	36	16¾
14	36½	26½	37½	17
16	38	28	39	17¼
18	40	30	4.	17½

Size 12 requires 3¾ yards of 54-inch material for dress and five-eighths yard 36-39-inch material for contrast.

To order Pattern 1194, state size, send $1. For new jumbo 96-page Pattern Booklet 14, send 50 cents, or airmail service in U.S., add 25 cents per pattern, 50 cents per booklet. Sales tax extra.

Soft silk blouses are a major fashion and achieve a costume look with skirt and suit. Silk crepe shirt is smart college and career girl wear.

Would Prefer Longer Stay

Queen Eager for U.S. Trip, Her 5th State Visit in '57

LONDON (INS) — Queen Elizabeth of England looks forward today with eagerness and some excitement to her whirlwind official visit to the U. S. Oct. 16-21.

She wishes it could have been longer, and made at a time when her official year is less rushed than now.

If she had followed her own inclination, Elizabeth would have made her first visit to the U.S. as queen a little later.

It would have permitted her enough time to take a tourist's look at the U.S., and particularly to have had a longer "private" stay in New York City. She also would have liked to have visited the middle west and the west coast.

★ ★ ★

Nevertheless, the queen yielded gracefully to those who felt the American state visit should be made this fall instead of next year. She readily has approved the exhausting round of official and other engagements planned for her.

DEMANDS OF DUTY

The tiny 31-year-old queen has a highly-developed sense of duty and would never let on that she wonders whether too much is being asked of her in one year. She already has made the unprecedented number of three state visits to foreign nations this year to Portugal, France and Denmark.

★ ★ ★

Five years ago, shortly after she came to the throne, Elizabeth was shown a draft plan for a tour of the English provinces. She exclaimed: "Don't they realize I am a woman." Yet she went through with the trip from beginning to end.

And she is reported to have said after her exhausting (but highly successful) state visit to Paris last spring that she obtained a proper idea of all she had seen and done there only when she watched the newsreels.

There are many around the royal court who believe that five state visits in one year are too much for anyone, and particularly for a young queen.

For Elizabeth has been under some strain all year, and has been tense. It is reported that some of those around her have pressed her strongly to get more rest. Yet it is difficult for her under normal circumstances to take a really complete vacation from work.

★ ★ ★

But no one in England who knows her and has watched her doubts that Elizabeth will give a solidly impressive professional performance both in Canada and the U. S.

When Silence Pays

When a friend or acquaintance shows you through her new home don't make such remarks as "I was wondering why you didn't do this" or "You know you could have done such and such." Just admire the house as it is. Never mind the things you notice that might have been improved upon.

'Convertible' Jewelry Is Style

PARIS (INS) — There's a piece of jewelry in Paris you can wear around your waist like a belt, around your neck like a necklace, scarf or dog collar or around your arm like a slave bracelet.

It's one of the creations of Countess Maria Assunto Zoltowska, whose costume jewelry designs are displayed in such fashionable Parisian salons as those of Balenciaga, Balmain, Patou and others. Under the trade name of "CIS", her things are exported all over the world, including the United States.

"Cissy" — as the Countess is called—hails from Central Europe. Hardly five feet tall, her clothes, shoes and gloves seem elfsize. But her talent is big and the jewels she creates looks as if it were dreamed up in fairy-land.

"Costume jewelry should not be a mere ornament," Cissy said. "It should be an 'accessory,' functional as well as a conversation piece."

Consequently she has come up with a series of new ideas in jewlery designs enabling women to wear the same piece in different ways according to their own fancy and mood.

One of her creations is a silver metal band made of mesh links and interset with jeweled cabochons. Although designed as a belt, it can be worn as a necklace, knotted around the throat like a scarf or as a bracelet wound many times around the wrist.

Another of her convertible jewelry creations consists of an inch-wide band of pastel colored rhinestones in an antique setting. There are matching medallion-shaped earclips and two larger medallion-pins to complete the set.

The four medallions can be hooked to the necklace to fill in the decollete of a low-cut evening gown like a bib, or two medallions can be attached together to be worn as dangling earrings. And each piece can, of course, be worn separately as a single ornament.

JEWELS ON PLAIN GARB

"You bet the best effect if you wear special jewel pieces on the simplest clothes possible," the Countess advised. "You can't add much jewelry to a printed dress lest it look fussy. But take a plain colored, basic sheathdress and you can make it look gorgeous and different by dressing it up with original and sparkling jewels."

A big success with the Paris fashion designers were Cissy's "Russian Easter eggs." She made gold chain necklaces with three or four inch-high jeweled "eggs" in regular intervals. Other little eggs are mounted to dangle on a short chain fixed to a pin.

Some of Cissy's new designs seem to come straight from fairy-land. There is a large "key" covered with turquoises and mounted as a pin, and two "keyhole" shaped ear-clips. There is also a "tea-pot" brooch, glittering in red and brown sequins with miniature "tea-cups" as ear-clips.

The largest jewel pin this season is a "sun-burst" design three inches in diameter. Its center is a cabochon covered with pearls, while the "sun-rays" are paved with rhinestones.

No. 8100 with Patt-O-Rama is in bust sizes 32, 34, 36, 38, 40, 42, 44, 46. Size 34, short sleeve, short length, 5¼ yards of 35 inch.

Texans in Kountze Secede for a Day

KOUNTZE, Tex. (AP)—This part of the South seceded all over again today, but without any grim overtones. The Stars and Bars flew in memorial tribute to the boys in gray.

For 24 hours Kountze, in south Texas, proclaimed itself capital of the Confederate States. On the program were the unveiling of a monument of flowers and a rebel yell contest. Confederate uniforms will reappear in a grand review tonight.

Provide Parking Space

KALAMAZOO (AP)—The city commission has approved a new ordinance which requires owners of new dwellings, stores or industrial buildings to provide adequate loading and parking space for their tenants, customers and suppliers.

U. N. Delegates Hope for Peace

Dulles, Gromyko Talk Could Clear Way for Assembly Action

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — U.N. delegates were hopeful today's meeting between Secretary of State Dulles and Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko will clear the way for Assembly action on disarmament and other key issues.

Diplomats felt the meeting — coming just ahead of next week's crucial arms debate — might set the stage for a discussion relatively free of the usual countercharges between Russia and the West.

The main point of contention in the arms debate will be rival resolutions entered by the Western powers and Russia.

The Western plan specifies suspension of nuclear tests only when agreement is reached to stop using atomic material for weapons, reduce armed forces, and evolve a comprehensive system of inspection.

Some diplomats felt the talks might cause the United States to relax its reported opposition to referring the Soviet scheme and companion plans by India and Japan to the disarmament subcommittee, which wound up deadlocked in London recently.

Satellite Stations at Orlando Closed

ORLANDO, Fla. (AP) — None of the earth satellite tracking stations in the vicinity of the U.S. Missile Test Center at Cape Canaveral was in operation last night to track the Russian earth satellite, the Orlando Sentinel reported.

It said it checked the four stations in Brevard County, Fla. — site of the test center — and found none of them in business.

The stations reportedly were completed three or four months ago, the newspaper said.

Vivien Leigh's Battle to Save Theater Fails

Huntington Hartford, an American millionaire and theater buff, offered 35,000 pounds ($98,000) and Sir Winston Churchill promised 500 pounds to save the venerable London playhouse whose site is earmarked for an office building.

★ ★ ★

But C. C. W. Glossop, chairman of the association that tried to save the St. James's, told a luncheon yesterday that those were the only two offers above 100 pounds —and to put the theater in shape would cost 'considerably more than half a million pounds."

★ ★ ★

"It is naturally a bitter disappointment," said Miss Leigh, who paraded the London streets ringing a bell, made speeches and was ejected from the House of lords for appealing from the visitors' gallery during a session.

"I cannot see this meeting end without saying thanks to my wife," said Sir Laurence Olivier, Britain's No. 1 actor and Miss Leigh's husband. "She was at the head of an extraordinarily gallant fight."

70 Police Rookies Sent Against Teens

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Police have assigned 70 rookies from the police academy to join a concerted effort against teen-age violence, which has taken on racial overtones in recent weeks.

The student policemen went on foot patrol last night in sections where disturbances have been most frequent. The rookies would be sent out again tonight.

Yesterday a court trial was set Nov. 7 for six South Philadelphia youths involved in one of the racial incidents.

The six, all Negroes, are accused of dragging a 17-year-old white girl into the yard of Audenreid Junior High School and severely beating her. Each pleaded innocent at their arrangement.

Expert in Portraying Mean Cusses

Strange Actor Assumes 'Public Defender' Role

By BOB THOMAS

Yet he's doing it on NBC's new show, "Court of Last Resort," every Friday night. Bettger plays the investigator for the group of citizens who review cases of prisoners who claim they are innocent of the crimes they were sentenced for.

The paradox is that Bettger is an expert in portraying mean cusses on the screen. You'll remember him as the sadistic animal trainer in "The Greatest Show on Earth" and the outlaw leader in "Gunfight at OK Corral." Of his 18 movies, only one showed him as a nice guy—"The Carnival Story."

So how did he get the TV series?

★ ★ ★

"It was a matter of chance," he related. "Two years ago, I did a half-hour film for the Reader's Digest series about a successful businessman who goes off his rocker from overwork. It was a very tense role, but at the beginning and end I was interviewing a woman whose husband had also blown his top. Then I told my own story.

★ ★ ★

"Well, the producers of 'The Court of Last Resort' were looking for a director and saw my Digest film as an example of the work of Peter Godfrey. They liked the way I interviewed the wife, and I got this role. Undoubtedly, they never would have thought of me for it if they had seen any of my movies."

Skippers Fall, 27-0; Walled Lake Beaten, 19-0

By BILL CORNWELL

Waterford and Walled Lake dreamed of winning the Inter-Lakes Conference football championship before the 1957 season began, but they had nothing except nightmares Friday afternoon.

Both schools received severe setbacks to their title hopes yesterday as the Inter-Lakes campaign got under way.

Farmington dominated play from start to finish while handing the Skippers a 27-0 licking at Farmington. Southfield was equally in charge of the situation for a 19-0 victory over Walled Lake.

Berkley, considered a strong threat for the crown, got off to a triumphant start with a 25-13 decision over Van Dyke last night as halfback Franz Neubrecht scored three touchdowns.

The combination of Farmington's Dave Catherman and the flu bug was too much for the Skippers. Catherman, a swivel-hipped halfback, tallied three times as six Waterford regulars sat out the game due to illness.

Waterford's offense was completely punchless. The Skippers gained a skimpy total of 35 yards, 18 by rushing, and the alert Falcons recovered five fumbles, two of which led to paydirt.

Farmington scored twice in the 1st quarter, Catherman getting both tallies. He scampered eight yards for the 1st TD and cracked over for the extra point. Then George Fawcett spotted a fumble on the Skipper 19 and the Falcons capitalized as Catherman tallied from the one-yard line. Neil Stevenson converted.

The Falcons took the 2nd half kickoff and marched 62 yards in nine plays with Catherman shooting across from the four-stripe. Tom Grimshaw ran for the extra marker.

Frank Clappison recovered Jim Preston's bobble on the Waterford 17 in the 4th quarter to set up Farmington's final touchdown. Aided by a 15-yard penalty, the Falcons went all the way with Russ Byron going one yard for the counter.

Jim Zurcher, 250-pound fullback, and halfback Tom Ridley sparked the Southfield attack as the Jays snapped a 10-game Walled Lake winning streak. The victory stamped the surprising Jays as stout contenders in the Inter-Lakes race.

Southfield recovered a Viking fumble on the opening kickoff and scored on the 1st play. Quarterback Bob Filar hit end Ken Yauch for a 35-yard TD pass after just 40 seconds of action.

The Jays drove 64 yards in nine plays for their 2nd touchdown with Ridley scoring from the seven. Hank Kopek converted and Southfield had a 13-0 1st quarter lead.

Filar's pass to end Tom Dobbertin in the end zone, a play covering 16 yards, accounted for the Jays' final TD early in the 4th period.

Berkley's flashy Neubrecht tallied on runs of 65, 40 and 2 yards and he had an 80-yard touchdown jaunt nullified by a penalty. Neubrecht also had a hand in the other TD by passing 15 yards to Tom Ranck.

BLOOMFIELD SCORE — Jim Kearney of Bloomfield Hills, Oakland County's 2nd leading scorer last fall, scored his 3rd touchdown of the season on this play yesterday as the Barons bowed to unbeaten Milford, 25-12. He plunged through the center from the one for the tally.

CATALOGUING THE COACHES

Milford Rolls On; Holly-Keego Tie

By CHUCK ABAIR

The Milford Redskins were looking for more fields to conquer in the Wayne-Oakland League race today after whipping Bloomfield Hills 25-12 for their 3rd straight loop victory.

Milford and Holly are considered the chief threats to defending champion Northville although Holly failed to look anything like a contender in a home game last night.

Clarkston, one-point victim of Milford last week, got on the winning side downing Clarenceville 12-7 while Northville was blanking Brighton by a 26-0 count in other W-O action.

Milford displayed two of the fastest backs in the area in the win at Bloomfield Hills. John Zeeman and Jerry Hackett divided the four 'Skin touchdowns and piled up most of the 230 yards gained rushing.

Zeeman went 43 and 17 yards for his tallies. Hackett rambled 69 for one and caught a pass from Pat Kelley for the other.

★ ★ ★

Bloomfield came to life in the final quarter scoring on a short plunge by Jim Kearney and a Doug Danziger-to-John Leslie pass.

Lucadam filled the cool Holly air with passes and had the fans on the edges of their seats throughout the evening despite lacking able receivers.

He hit 12 of 19 aerials for 136 yards. Four of his misses were caught and dropped, including one in the end zone. Another completion was good for a 1st quarter TD but was nullified by a penalty.

Only a stern Holly defense, led by 210-pound tackle Ken Leece, kept the home club from being upset. Three Laker drives were stopped inside the Holly 10 and the game ended with West Bloomfield back to the 9.

★ ★ ★

The very last play might have won the ball game but for the fact pass receiver Jim Ramsey bumped into one of his teammates after taking a Lucadam flip. The collision slowed him up long enough for two big Holly linemen to catch him.

★ ★ ★

Jim Jensen scored twice on 5-yard runs to spark Clarkston to its second win in three starts and its first victory in the Wayne-Oakland.

★ ★ ★

★ ★ ★

Northville romped over Brighton highlighted by Dick Biery's 54 yard run, Bill Walker's 20 yarder and Nick Stuber's 18 yard dash with a fumble. Bob Starned scored the other from the one.

Avondale Bows, 26-12; Orion, Troy Both Win

Avondale's football team went down to its 3rd straight defeat Friday night, a 26-12 setback at the hands of Madison, while the Lake Orion and Troy expresses rolled merrily along.

With halfback Jim Drake staging a sensational one-man show, Orion romped over Fitzgerald 26-6 for its 2nd Oakland B League victory of the season. Troy turned back stubborn Roseville 13-7 in a non-league game.

Drake scored all four Orion touchdowns, three on passes from quarterback Nick Niera, as the Dragons fired up their enthusiasm for the Oct. 18 showdown with Clawson, the defending champion.

Inexperienced Avondale had a statistical edge and held a 6-0 halftime lead, but two pass interceptions and a disastrous fumble enabled Madison to turn the contest into a rout. It was Avon's first Oakland B encounter this fall.

The Jackets had two touchdown threats repulsed in the 1st half, once on the 10-yard stripe and again on the two, but between times they managed to score. Fullback Chuck Nurek did the damage with a 40-yard jaunt midway through the 2nd quarter.

Avon couldn't score again until the cause was hopelessly lost. Halfback Dick Smith bulled across from the two-yard line in the final minute of the game for a consolation TD.

Madison tallied the tying touchdown near the end of the 3rd period on a nine-yard burst by quarterback Leroy Hill.

A 20-point spree in the 4th quarter doomed the Jackets. Tackle Ivan Kokotovich put the Eagles ahead to stay when he fell on a fumbled pitchout in the end zone.

Dave Robinson intercepted Gary Acker's pass on the Madison 45 and raced to the Avon two from where George Collier smashed over for the Eagles' 3rd touchdown. Hill rambled 25 yards on a keeper play for their last TD following another interception. Jim Campbell, the armless placekicker, booted two extra points.

The Niera-Drake aerial tandem scored on plays covering 50, 22 and 41 yards and Drake swept 53 yards around end for the other TD. Orion broke the game wide open in the 4th period after being held to a 7-0 advantage for three stanzas.

Fitzgerald's lone touchdown was an electrifying one as Bobby Kline returned an Orion kickoff 85 yards for six points in the waning moments of play.

Romeo Routs Oxford, 39-6

Proper Leads Scoring in 3rd Straight Win for Bulldogs

A passing attack that netted over 200 yards and some steady ground gaining by Dave Proper, Ray Rinke and Angus Stirling led Romeo to a 39-6 walloping of Oxford in non-league play last night.

The Bulldogs were held to a 13-6 advantage until late in the initial half but dominated the play from then on.

Proper, who has scored in all three Romeo victories, finished with 15 points on two touchdowns and three conversions. Gary Douglas scored twice and Bud Dodge once on pass plays and Angus Stirling dashed 14 yards for the other.

Dick Duncan went 35 yards for the Oxford TD, the 1st of the season for the winless Wildcats.

REDSKIN ROLLS — Little Larry Hudson reeled off good yardage on this play as Milford won its 3rd straight to retain the Wayne-Oakland League lead yesterday afternoon. Tom Sharp (39) is the Bloomfield player charging in for the tackle.

Youngstown Eleven Beats Hurons, 13-6

YPSILANTI (AP) — Youngstown University plunged for a touchdown in the last 80 seconds of play to beat Eastern Michigan College in football last night 13-6.

Raymond Carter drove four yards for the winning score minutes after Eastern Michigan forced a 6-6 tie on Tom McCormick's one-yard touchdown plunge.

Eastern Michigan	0	0	0	6	— 6

Youngstown Scoring — Touchdowns: Kimmel (61, run). Carter (4, plunge). Conversions: Higham.

Imlay City in Rout, 32-13

Imlay City started defense of its South Central title by routing Millington 32-13 with Jerry Billiet going 40 yards in the first period and 60 yards in the second quarter.

Jim Ward on a keeper went 21 yards in second quarter and Dick McKee hit 4 yards in the third quarter. The final TD was a 70-yard dash by Don Conen.

Southern Thumb Leaders Still in Three-Way Tie

None of the three unbeaten Southern Thumb conference leaders gave way in yesterday's gridiron action, and each chalked up its 2nd loop victory.

Almont, one of the favorites for the ST title, ran all over its 1956 rival and co-champion, New Haven, 38-14. Brown City disposed of Dryden 24-0 and Armada barely got by Memphis 7-6.

The Almont-New Haven scrap was a succession of long runs, mostly by Raider backs. Larry Ostrander started the scoring in the 1st period with a 62-yard jaunt. He also added TDs of 26 and 15 yards. Frank Hartway scored twice from 55 and 20 yards. Dick Howe added the final tally on a 5-yarder. Lee went 80 yards and Petty 65 yards for New Haven's counters.

Ron Irish counted three times and Bob Fisher got the other TD that produced Brown City's 2nd victory. Fisher went 65 yards, Irish 46, 20, and 3 yards for their tallies. Irish totalled 136 yards and Fisher 111.

Armada escaped a tie when Memphis failed to convert a buck into an extra point after its 3rd period TD by Pete Likins. Tigers got their extra point on a run by Jesse Placencia following a 1st period TD by Ed Thompson on a 31-yard jaunt. Armada muffed another scoring chance as time ran out in the 2nd period with the ball on Memphis' one-foot line

Utica Gets Beat, 19-12

Center Line scored one tally in the first period, watched Utica grab two counters in the 2nd and 3rd frames, then roared back to collect a pair of TDs and the victory 19-12. It was Center Line's 1st Bi-County win and Utica's 2nd defeat.

Paul Shaddock and John Gretz scored on passes and Dennis Rutkowski went 65 on a pass interception. Bill Rohnkohl, on a pass and Jim Luittack, on a run, tallied for the losers.

Pontiac Press Photo

PASSER DELUXE — West Bloomfield quarterback Johnny Lucadam turned in an outstanding passing performance as the Lakers held heavily favored Holly to a 0-0 tie last night. The talented junior completed 12 of 19 passes for 136 yards. One other for a TD was nullified by a penalty.

Role of Hero Robs Brave Ace of Needed Sleep

MILWAUKEE (AP) — The role of hero for the Braves in the World Series has cost Milwaukee leftfielder Wes Covington his sleep.

★ ★ ★

"I just haven't been able to stay in bed," he said last night. "The phone kept ringing until the wee small hours this morning. And telegrams? Shucks, I've gotten at least a hundred so far."

★ ★ ★

To get some sleep, Covington, now a resident of Milwaukee, had to pack up his family and go back to the house they recently vacated when they bought a new home.

Lamphere Gains 1st Win Beating Capac

Madison Heights Lamphere scored two touchdowns in the 1st period and went on from there to hand Capac of the Southern Thumb League an 18-7 beating in the only home game of the season for Lamphere.

The Rams, playing only their 2nd game as the newest school in area grid ranks, turned in an impressive showing in evening their record at 1-1.

Jack Donegan sparked the triumph with a pair of six-pointers on jaunts of 5 and 8 yards. Jerry Sylvain went 15 for the other. Rick Lazarno scored for the losers.

Parkers Edge Eaglets

Current wave of influenza in this area probably cost Orchard Lake St. Mary's cross-country squad it's 2nd victory, Friday at Oak Park. Absence of Bob Kula, who was ill, could have made the difference in the 26-29 win for the Parkers. Eaglets' record is now 1-2.

Eaglets' Chet Wlodkowski was first home in 10:57, followed by Oak Park's Mike Kaczander. Don Donakowski of St. Mary was 4th and the Eaglets also has three others in the top 10.

Bout Set for Oct. 29

BOSTON (AP) — A 15-round fight between challengers Tony DeMarco and Virgil Akins has been fixed for Oct. 29 at Boston Garden which will have an important bearing on the now vacant welterweight title.

Made Top in 9 Years

NEW YORK (AP) — Calument Farm apparently is headed for another money winning championship in thoroughbred racing. The late Warren Wright laid the foundation for Calumet's fabulous success in 1832 when he invested $182,000 in broodmares and yearlings. Besides, he spent $16,000 in stud fees.

In 1933 his horses won only $22,055. But nine years later, in 1941, Calumet Farm set a money winning record with $475,091, and since has led the list in eight other years. On five occasions Calument Farm has earned more than $1 million in purses.

A Fish Out of Water

Her car struck and killed the fish which was in a shallow pool on a road covered by flood waters.

E. Detroit Rips Edsel, 30-0

Maples Stop Bather Rally to Win, 13-12

Birmingham started off on the right foot in Eastern Michigan League play last night by nipping Mount Clemens, 13-12, while defending champion East Detroit was trouncing Edsel Ford, 30-0.

★ ★ ★

The Maples and Bathers battled to a scoreless first half. In the third period Dave Ritchie passed to Jim Sechrist on a 55-yard play to break the ice. Ed Estes converted and Birmingham led 7-0.

In the fourth period the Maples made it 13-6 when Estes went over from the one after a march of 64 yards highlighted by Chuck Gibson's 28-yard gain and a 23-yard pass from Ritchie to Bob Stephenson.

With seven minutes left, Mount Clemens scored when Smoot went 37 yards. He then tried to pass for the point and it failed.

The Bathers then reached the Maple six-yard line with a minute to play, but Smoot fumbled and Birmingham recovered to end the threat.

This made Birmingham's record at 2-1 for the season and 1-0 in EML play.

Chuck Williams passed to Ray Dries 13 yards in the second quarter and in the third period Gary Ballman scored twice on five and 11 yard runs.

Hazel Park won its third straight by trimming Royal Oak Kimball, 25-0. The Parkers have their showdown game against East Detroit next week.

Hazel Park's scores came when Bill Murphy raced 37 yards with a fumble; with Ron Pearce going 8 yards and Larry Clyma going three and with Pearce going 36 yards in the third quarter.

Ortonville in 14-12 Win

Ortonville spotted Flint Hoover a 12-0 lead and then rallied for two touchdowns in the third and fourth quarters to win 14-12 with Arnold Hungerford and Earl Richardson scoring.

In the 4th period Graves passed to Earl Richardson 25 yards for the score. Graves kicked one point and Pat McNulty passed to Ted Follis for the other.

Third Contest Looms as Key to Series

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Baseball-mad Milwaukeeans, many of whom had waited on long lines for days, jammed County Stadium for the first World Series game in the city's history today. They saw the third game of the classic, a righthanded fireball duel between a pair of Bobbies — Buhl of the Braves and Turley of the New York Yankees.

Everything appeared to be in perfect setting for what may turn out to be the key game of the series. The Yankees remained a 6-5 favored following Milwaukee's victory at Yankee Stadium Thursday which evened the set at one game apiece.

A breezy but sunny day with the temperature in the upper 60's was predicted with southeast winds that should help the right-handed hitters. If that is true, another pitchers' duel was in the making because both managers have stacked their lineups with lefthanded power against right-handed pitching.

The nationally televised game (NBC) was to start at 2 p.m. (EST). A crowd of some 47,000 was expected. The attendance record in this six year-old park is 47,-604, set Sept. 3, 1956.

History has shown that the winner of the third Series game usually takes it all. In the 53 previous October clashes. The third game winner went on to capture the series 33 times.

This is supposed to be the game the Yankees should win, according to the analysts. The reasoning is that Buhl is a fast ball pitcher and the Yankees murder fast ball pitching.

★ ★ ★

No one apparently has taken into account that the Braves are the best fast ball hitting club in the National League and if Turley is not a fireballer than Yogi Berra is a Hindu wrestler.

Both have good sliders and changes and each has improved his control somewhat this past year. Turley finished the regular season with a 13-6 record, striking out 144 and walking 81 in 144 innings. His earned run average was 2.77. Buhl won 18 and lost 7, the best winning percentage on the club, walked 119 and fanned 186 in 212 innings. He wound up with a 2.80 ERA.

★ ★ ★

Turley has appeared in six World Series games since joining the Yankees in 1955, has started two and lost both, one of them a 1-0 defeat by Brooklyn in 10 innings. Buhl has never pitched in a World Series.

★ ★ ★

The Braves, who arrived Thursday night, via a chartered plane, worked out first, occupying the field from 11 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. Manager Fred Haney did not even bother to come out on the field.

★ ★ ★

The little skipper, after employing the righthanded shock troops of his two-platoon system against southpaws Whitey Ford and Bobby Shantz in the first two games, will present a revised lineup against Turley, with the accent on left-handed hitting.

Manager Casey Stengel of the Yankees also will have a line-up change. Enos Slaughter, who got one of the Yankees' seven hits off Lew Burdette Thursday, has been benched. His place in left field will be taken by the Tony Kubek, 20.

Casey said Kubek will bat second, Gill McDougald fifth, Harry Simpson sixth and Lumpe seventh. Otherwise the lineup and batting order will remain the same.

The Yankees, who arrived around noon yesterday, after an all-night train ride from New York, held an hour-long workout at County Stadium. Only three balls were hit over the stadium fences. Mickey Mantle, Yankees slugger, hit two and Berra hit the other.

Lions Must Clear Selves

GREEN BAY, Wis. (AP) — Win or lose, the Detroit Lions must clear up a lot of questions Sunday when they meet the Green Bay Packers in the Packers' spanking new stadium.

The Detroit club, during an in-and-out exhibition schedule, and especially in last week's 34-14 pasting at the hands of the Baltimore Colts, stirred up a lot of talk about what will happen between now and Dec. 15.

In the way of games, the Lions have a long way to go before they wind up the 1957 National Football League season on that date against the Chicago Bears.

After the Baltimore loss, one of the most decisive in years for the Lions, there was the feeling in some quarters that the club had gone too far down the line with its players — that the men being counted on most were "over the hill."

Buddy Young, long-time NFL back and now doing public relations work with the Colts, said he could see that the Lions for the most part have become "old men" — a step or two slower than in the past few seasons.

Head coach George Wilson of the Lions disputes that. He says the club is not too old and maintains it still can finish well up, if not first, in the Western Conference standings.

"We had a bad against the Colts, that's all," said Wilson. "I don't know why everyone is so despondent about it. The players know what they did wrong and the coaches know the team's faults and its weaknesses.

"I don't think anybody better count us out just yet. We have had some damaging injuries and some bad breaks.

It is likely that Wilson will have both Leon Hart and John Henry Johnson available for duty Sunday. Both have been injured and some Lion officials have felt that both may have "babied" their injuries too much.

The Lions coaches feel the Packers are "ready" to be taken. The Green Bay club upset the Chicago Bears last Sunday. "They'll have a rough time getting the club 'up' for the second straight week," said scout Lou Zarza.

The veteran scout said Vito (Babe) Parilli apparently has retained his magic touch at quarterback as the replacement for Tobin Rote, now with the Lions. And he said Ron Kramer, the rookie slotback from Michigan, is helping the packers considerably.

Three former Lion players — Jim Salsbury, Norm Masters and Ollie Spencer, have won regular jobs in the Green Bay offensive line.

Kroll Sidelined by Sore Feet in Ryder Singles

LINDRICK, England (AP) — Ted Kroll, of Fort Lauderdale, Fla. was forced to withdraw from the Ryder Cup golf singles competition today because of sore feet.

Wiffi Sets the Pace

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Wiffi Smith, 21, in her first year on the ladies professional golf circuit, carried a two-stroke lead into the second round of the United Voluntary Services open today.

The gal from St.Claire, Mich., carded a 73 in the opening 18 of the 54-hole tournament yesterday, one under women's par and equalling the Presidio course record.

British Cuppers Leading

LINDRICK, England (AP)—Eric Brown of Scotland defeated Tommy Bolt of Los Angeles 4 and 3 today in the first of eight 36-hole singles matches, as the British Ryder Cup golf team apparently headed for a major upset over the American professionals.

LINDRICK, England (AP) — The British, given only a faint hope of winning, surprised today by taking the lead at the halfway mark of the eight 36-hole singles matches in the Ryder Cup golf competition.

At the end of the morning round of 18 holes, the British led in five matches, trailed in two and were all square in the other.

Dick Mayer, the U. S. Open champion from La Jolla, Calif. who lost the first three holes to Harry Bradshaw, rallied brilliantly to hold a 1 up edge at the end of 18. Fred Hawkins of El Paso held a similar edge over Peer Alliss.

Dow Finsterwald, Tequesta, Fla. and Christi O'Connor were all square when they went to lunch, but the other Americans, Tommy Bolt, Jack Burke, Lionel Hebert, Ed. Furgol and Doug Ford, Mahopac, N. Y. were all down to their British opponents.

Tigers to Hold Baseball School at Florida Site

DETROIT (AP) — The Detroit Tigers' two-week baseball school before the opening of spring training will be held at Lakeland, Fla., Jan. 27-Feb. 10.

Gen. mgr. John McHale said high school graduates between 18 and 24 years old will be accepted. Payment of $98 is required to cover room and board. Enrollment will be limited to 135 youths.

The school will be held at Tigertown, the Detroit system's training ground.

Mikes Go to St. Benedict

Ram, Eaglet Tilt Cancelled

St. Michael's invasion of Highland Park St. Benedict was the only Pontiac area highlighted contest for Sunday in the three-game Suburban Catholic League. Where yesterday four games were slated, there were only three today following cancellation of the St. Frederick-Orchard Lake St. Mary's encounter.

St. Fred, which won its first football game in 35 starts two weeks ago, then returned to its losing ways last Sunday, had a 2:30 engagement Sunday with defending champion Eaglets. Early today St. Mary athletic officials announced the game had been cancelled. The reason, influenza, which had struck both elevens.

Rams had six regulars ill, and the Eaglets reported a number out of action. Game is expected to be rescheduled for later in the season.

St. Mike seeks a return to the win column, but the task will be difficult. The Shamrocks are meeting an undefeated team which gets its spark from ace halfback Larry Gacki. Kickoff time is 3 o'clock.

In other Suburban Catholic games tomorrow, unbeaten Ferndale St. James plays host to St. Clement of Center Line and Royal Oak St. Mary faces St. Rita, also undefeated, at Hazel Park.

Maples Trample Bather Harriers

Boost Winning String to 17, Mark Up Sixth Victory This Fall

Birmingham harriers yesterday invaded Mt. Clemens for an Eastern Michigan League meet and chalked up its 17th straight win with a 15-46 count over the Bathers The victory was the 3rd for league action in as many starts and the 6th straight of the season.

Coach Kermit Ambrose's junior varsity also added a little more lustre to its unblemished record with its 3rd win of the season 18-45. In four years Ambrose's Jayvees have never been beaten.

Four Maple runners, Lee Tout, Bob Benson, Bill Landis and Rich Riley, finished together at 10:40. Fifth Maple home was Bill Ingraham at 10:54 and the 1st Bather in was Bernard Crannon with 10:54 in 6th place. Next four were Mt. Clemens boys.

Mt. Clemens set a fast pace in the first mile and a half of the varsity race, but from there on Maples took over.

Bay City Wins, 53-12

Only 1 SVC Team Beaten

Except for Saginaw, league members of the Saginaw Valley Conference had successful grid games last night, with powerful Bay City Central heading the list by trouncing flu-bitten Bay City Handy, 53-12.

Arthur Hill downed Alpena, 34-13, Saginaw lost to Midland, 54-6 and Flint Central surprised Ann Arbor in a 14-14 tie.

Bay City had a 47-0 halftime lead. Scores were by Ken Carey, 9 and 8 yards; Ken Swincicky, on 8, 7 and 4 yarders, Gary Nuttell from 5 yards, Butch Kokely 33 yards and Bob Bishop 25 yards on interception.

Bay City's Jerry Gross hit 7 of 11 passes to bring his total to 17 of 24 in three games and six touchdowns.

Thrash capped a 70-yard Central drive with a seven-yard scoring run in the final five minutes of the game, and gave Flint Central the tie by running the extra point over.

Rockslide Buries 3 on Snoqualmie Pass

SEATTLE (AP) — Hundreds of thousands of tons of rock towering above a main cross state highway in the Cascade Mountains broke away with but a few seconds snuffed out the lives of three road workers.

Another man was injured critically but a score or more of motorists escaped because an alert flagman saw dust spurting from the mountainside and trees "swaying in a crazy pattern."

The giant slide of rock broke loose at 5:09 p.m. at a point 60 miles east of Seattle on a section of U.S. Highway 10 known as the Snoqualmie Pass Road.

It was at a point where traffic was limited to one-way movement because construction of a new section has been going on for some time. Workmen had quit four hours before the slide but some men still were on maintenance and other duties.

May Offer a 'Bounty' for Frisco Litterbugs

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The city may declare open season on litterbugs.

All the advantages of lake living cannot be described by real estate ads. For instance, have you ever read one that said, "You will be enchanted by watching a flock of ducks come regularly past your property, hoping to be fed?" Or, "there is a swan living on the lake who sails majestically by as you are busy working with your flowers."

These are attractions the J. Ross Dodges could tell about if they were the kind of people who bragged about their house. To the contrary; they needed a little persuading to let us come to photograph their new home on Coseyburn street, at Loon Lake.

Their red brick ranch home is situated on a 75-175 foot lot with canal frontage. The island they can see on the other side of the canal belongs to all the residents of Loon Lake Estates.

More cherry paneling covers the entire west wall of the living room, around the fireplace. The fireplace itself is beige Roman brick with a slate covered raised hearth. Edged with black marble, this slate has been treated with a liquid compound that gives it a sheen. The simple mantel is made of wood.

Aqua and beige tweed carpeting is underfoot in both living and dining areas. Walls are light mocha in color. Woodwork and window frames are birch. The draperies have a gray background with aqua, apricot and black designs on them.

There is a pleasing mixture of furniture periods in the living room. For instance, an antique rosewood chair sits next to a modern glass topped table with black legs and a planter on the lower shelf. The Dodges like antiques and have used them in various places throughout the house.

There are two sofas in the living room. The smaller one in front of the windows that look out on the road is upholstered in green. Next to it is a Danish modern chair with brown cushions and a walnut frame. The sofa on the lake side of the house is a modern one with a beige pad and back. Near the fireplace there's a deep red leather armchair and matching footstool.

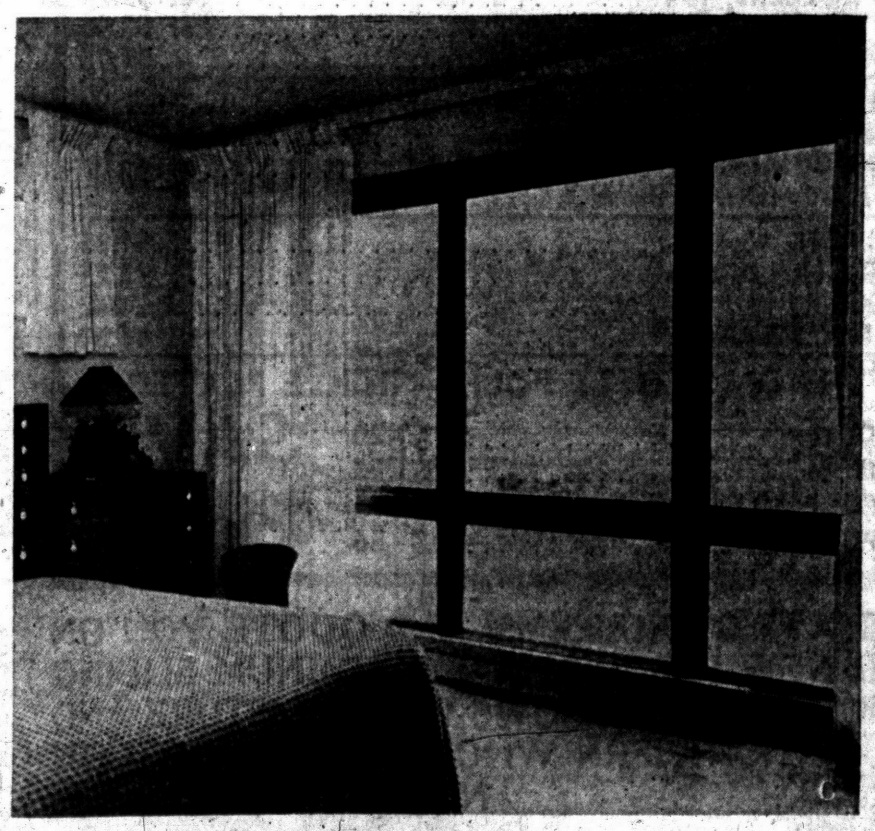

Separated from the hallway by a divider wall, the dining area has green scenic wallpaper on one wall. There is a wainscoting of cherry underneath and on the half wall. Dowels to the ceiling complete this wall.

LAKESIDE BEDROOM — In flower tones of pink and violet this master bedroom offers relaxation with a view. The wide picture window has pink draperies with stencils of violets on them. Floors are bare polished oak. The cherry furniture is Johnson, Hanley and Johnson. Mrs. Dodge has a green thumb which is evidenced in the flourishing ivy plant on the lower chest of drawers. Just visible over the end of the bed is the child's upholstered chair which is a charming decoration in this room.

YOUNG VISITORS — The Dodges' two young nieces, seven-year-old Mary and ten-year-old Susan, just love to visit their aunt and uncle. Here they are in front of the living room fireplace. They are the daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Elliott of Drayton Plains. This view of the living room shows the cherry paneled wall and the picture window that overlooks the garden on the road side of the house. The sofa is upholstered in green.

Express Yourself, Man

The man or woman who lives alone, can easily use in the home setting a color scheme which will be a definite reflection of personality. When the home is for family use, that is another matter, with several persons to be equally pleased. In this case it is usually the woman of the house who expresses herself in her choice in paint colors and furnishings.

VARIETY OF LIGHTS — Representative types of outdoor lighting equipment are pictured here in suggested settings.

Light Up Outdoors for Leisure Hours

It seems as though electric light so essential to the indoor living pattern of the nation's homeowners — has been suddenly rediscovered. Now the Biblical injunction, "Let there be light," is being applied to yards and gardens, as well.

As a result, houses and grounds have become unified and more families are getting more living value out of both. By lighting up the outdoors they gain, each day, several hours' more enjoyment of the land in which they've invested so much.

General Electric lighting experts explain it this way: You can light up the outdoors for the sake of beauty, fun, convenience or safety — or all four.

Flowers, shrubbery and trees can be even more colorful and attractive under artificial light. Lighting can be arranged for sports, games and barbecues.

It helps prevent accidents and discourages trespassers.

Ten areas you can light effectively are: steps and walks, porches and terraces, dining and cooking areas, work areas, trees and flowers, play areas, pools, driveways, fences and gates, entrances.

An increasing number of manufacturers are developing lighting equipment to serve the many purposes of outdoor living. Some units are designed for specific applications, others for general use.

Mushroom-type units come under the special purpose heading. Equipped with short, spike-tipped stems, they may be stuck in the ground and used for lighting low and medium height flowers or plants, walks and steps.

With four-to five-foot stems and flat bases, some mushroom units are adequate for general lighting on terraces and porches and for visual tasks.

Also in the special purpose category are flush or surface-mounted units designed to be built into walls for lighting paths, steps and walks near buildings, and for low illumination of terrace or porch floors. Light direction may be controlled by lenses or louvers.

In addition, there are weather-proof fluorescent units for illuminating fences, buildings or other projections, the units may light narrow flower beds or paths next to buildings.

Underwater units include a decorative shield which clips to a 25-to60-watt bulb. It floats on the water held by the buoyancy of the lamp, and waterproof PAR-38 spotlights. Watertight sockets and cords are essential.

Equipment that can be suspended from poles, trees and roof overhangs may be used in lighting planting or game and dining tables. One such decorative unit has a diffusing globe surrounding a 10-to-40-watt bulb; another resembles a bird house.

Equipment that's usable for any and all outdoor lighting purposes includes the PAR-38 projecter bulbs, which are self-contained spot and floodlighting lamps, and the weathertight floodlights called "handy floods," which use 100-to-300-watt bulbs. Both can be equipped with adjustable holders, available with a spike for ground placement, or a clamp attachment for use on trees or poles.

For sports, area floodlighting or spotlighting, garden or yeard work the PAR-38s and enclosed floodlights can be mounted on specially designed telescopic poles. One type fits into pipe sleeves driven into the ground; another has a flat, floor-standard base.

In making your choice of outdoor lighting equipment, the experts advise keeping in mind such considerations as ease of installation, appropriate appearance, personal tastes, circuit capacity and, of course — cost.

Hospital Issued Building Permit

Addition to St. Joseph Helps Double August Construction Figures

A $621,890 addition to St. Joseph Mercy Hospital helped push building permits issued in September by Pontiac to more than double the August figures, Carl F. Alt, city building inspector announced.

★ ★ ★

During the month there were 127 permits worth $1,311,129 approved as compared to 151 totaling $623,235 issued the previous month.

Construction of only nine new homes in the city ($81,500) last month compared to 27 in August totaling $203,580.

Home owners were busy with repairs last month also as Alt reported 62 permits granted for $43,683. Garages were popular too as totals showed 31 new ones going up, worth $20,021.

Included in the September totals were $400,000 and $40,000 permits issued for additions to St. Michaels Parish church and rectory and the First Church of the Brethren, respectively.

Four new commercial buildings and an addition to the Fraternal Order of Eagles 1230 building at 289 W. Montcalm St. amounted to $81,000 of the month's totals.

Other permits included: two for commerical alterations and repairs ($7,900); installation of five tanks ($5,100); and construction of five fences ($1,325).

Baseboard Heat Is Comfortable

The end zone of cold around a bay window often reduces the liveable area of a room. Not even a sunny exposure can compensate for the lack of heat at this point.

Baseboards around the bay window extension of a room send up a curtain of warmth against outside walls and windows. This prevents "cold reflections," which otherwise would produce chilling drafts.

Put them in the living room and arrange furniture at will about the walls. There's no danger of warping. Put them in the kitchen. It doesn't take much baseboard to keep a kitchen comfortable, with all the extra heat generated by cooking. Put them in the bedroom and get rid of the bulky old-fashioned radiators.

Heating baseboards are installed where wooden baseboards ordinarily are found, and look their twin. Painted to harmonize with the wall above, they are a decided addition to the decor of any room, traditional or modern.

New Acoustical Tile Ideal for Ceilings

Less noise means less fatigue. Homeowners can follow pioneering of industry and use acoustical tile to sound-condition noise areas such as the family room.

Your lumber dealer has a new-type woodfiber acoustical tile called Forestone which brings beauty to sound-absorbent ceilings. This new tile is less expensive than perforated acoustical tile, yet has a richly textured, highly decorative surface.

Tongue and groove edges and an extended flange permit rapid, error-free application by the home handyman. Forestone for a 10' by 12' ceiling costs around $31.

Put Flooring Overhead for Interesting Ceiling

Many families have found that distinctive wall and ceiling effects can be created by employing hardwood flooring for those applications. In wall treatments the flooring usually is applied horizontally. Mixed widths often are used.

These can be either the strip style of flooring, which comes in widths of 1½ inches to 3¼ inches or plank flooring, produced in widths from 3 to 9 inches. Either style can be obtained unfinished or prefinished.

Narrow Rooms Are OK

How does one furnish a narrow room so that there is still room to walk and hold a conversation?

Decorator Pat Harvey, secretary of the National Society of Interior Designers says "a narrow room requires decorating ingenuity, but it can be made livable and comfortable as any other room if you'll just make the effort."

Light flooring and light walls are necessary to the scheme, she says. If wood paneling is used it should be light pine paneling, not heavier woods. Ceilings must take to the light look too, and a little blue in a white painted ceiling will lend height to your room, she says.

Paintings across the long wall may help create depth. A large painting should be chosen if you'd achieve that effect. A mirror on one of the long walls can help give the illusion of a wider room too, "if it is the kind of room that can take a mirror."

"Avoid heavy drapery materials in a narrow room," she advises, "particularly if the windows are at the narrow end of a room. These will offer a heavy effect, and give the appearance of closing in the room even more."

Deep colors such as red, green, blue should be avoided in decorating the very narrow room, in favor of pastels or off-white, she says. Delicate patterns in wallpaper or fabrics may be used, but it is a good idea not to use dramatic patterns in a small room, particularly in upholstery or drapery materials.

Small scale furniture adds width to the room. Take advantage of light dining room or living room pieces such as those popular in American, Danish and Swedish design.

These may be integrated into a room with traditional furnishings for a handsome effect, particularly with Early American pieces. Pine dry sinks, small Welch cupboards, tuck-away tables may all add charm to a narrow room without everwhelming it.

It's a good idea not to put the sofa under the window as this will only give you additional wall space to fill up, whereas the window itself may serve to break up wall space.

"Picture windows," says Miss Harvey, "are wonderful to lend enchantment to the narrow room. The only trouble is that some people acquire a picture window that does not give them a pretty outlook. Make sure you have a lovely view before you have a new picture window put in your living room or move into a house with a large window that just overlooks another house."

It may be a good idea too, if the room is very tiny, to skip extraneous furnishings such as coffee table or end table unless these are absolutely necessary to the scheme of things.

Be Your Own Decorator With New Free Booklet

No home-maker needs to suffer with old out-moded living-rooms these days. It's just a matter of knowing how to make the most of what you have. With know-how and planning even an amateur in such matters can achieve fine results and happiness for the whole family.

"Decorating the Really Living Room," is a pamphlet filled with good suggestions and instructions on how to make an enjoyable living room. It's yours for the asking. Send your name and address and the name of the pamphlet to The National Paint, Varnish and Lacquer Association, 1500 Rhode Island Avenue, N.W., Washington 5, D. C.

Flagstone Wallcovering Copies the Real Thing

Flagstone, often used for making an attractive to-the-front-door path, is also right in the house—on the wall! A wallcovering bearing the texture of cement and smoothness of slate has been introduced by Timbertone Decorative Company to give a smart and fascinating treatment for playroom or den.

This wallcovering— almost as durable as its outdoor counterpart—does not involve the major construction problems of flagstone. The new textured effect is achieved by a simple hanging process.

Bright New Finishes Developed for Bath

People who take a morning shower in a bathroom that is bright and cheerful are more likely to wear a smile at the breakfast table than a frown. This fact, combined with the increasing popularity of wood paneling in bathrooms, has resulted in the development by the Western Pine Association of six striking new finishes for paneled bathrooms.

Kootenai Copper is a rich, deep brown tinged with red. Fine for lightening dark rooms is Silver Bow, an off-white. If this finish is used without sealing the knots, the knots will burn through, leaving an attractive tinted configuration. If this effect is not wanted, a sealer put over the knots will allow a solid off-white effect to be achieved.

For those who like really bright colors, Sawtooth Sun is ideal, a full-toned orange. Tioga Tan and Klickitat Cloud are in the beige family, the former a deep beige and the latter presenting a touch of gold. For a dark brown with a gilded glint, there is Gunnison Gold which has a rustic feeling.

These new finishes are shown in color in a newly prepared folder which also contains detailed instructions for achieving them. Readers who would like suggestions for finishes are invited to write for this free folder to The Western Association, Yeon Building, Portland 4, Ore.

Simple Trick Insures Safety of Floor Lamp

Preventing a youngster from tipping over floor lamps often is a serious problem but one that is quite easily solved. Using a scroll saw, cut a disc 30 inches in diameter from a piece of masonite and paint it to match the lamp base.

Center the lamp on the disc and fasten them together with screws. Screw holes may already appear in the lamp base. If not, they can be made with a power drill.

Farmer Turns Cistern Into Storm Shelter

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — A nearby Sparata farmer has solved a problem of a tornado shelter by pumping an old cistern dry and converting it into a safe underground place for tornado weather.

Lyle Anderson said the project didn't cost a cent. He pumped the cistern dry with a fruit spray rig and stocked it with drinking water, blankets, tins of farm and personal records plus a transistor radio.

Automatic Heat So Satisfying

Having the entire house uniformly warm, enjoying the luxury of a warm room to dress in on a cold morning, and not having to do any more than to set a thermostat or throw a switch—these are some of the many advantages of automatic heating.

Whether a new home is to be large or small, there is an automatic oil heating plant exactly the right size to fit the requirements of the house and its occupants.

Small, compact units are available to fit into a space-conscious utility room, garage, kitchen, or other suitable location, as well as the traditional basement.

Builders of new homes as well as owners of middle-aged homes with heating systems that need to be brought up to date are in a position to take advantage of the many new developments in oil burners, in fuel oil, in controls, and in boiler-burner units.

In the modern boiler-burner unit, the burner and boiler are built for each other. The flame from the burner fits the combustion chamber of the boiler exactly. The result is quick heating and fuel economy.

COLEBERRY PARK — John Kinzler, Realtor, is handling open house at the new subdivision, Coleberry Park, located south of Square Lake road and east of Woodward. The three-bedroom brick homes are built on 120x120 foot lots. All roads are being black topped. Features of the homes are 2½ tile baths, plastered walls (including the two-car garage) and perimeter oil heat. Each home occupies over 1,500 square feet. In the family room which is paneled in Philippine mahogany there is a fireplace. Houses are open afternoons and evenings. The price is $26,900.

Plan Being Considered to Ease Home Buying

Developed by the United States Savings and Loan League, the plan has been introduced in the United States Senate as S.2791 by Senator John Sparkman, (D-Ala) and chairman of the Senate Housing Subcommittee. In introducing the plan, Senator Sparkman urged members of the Senate to study its merits thoroughly during the Congressional recess.

The League plan is aimed at providing more higher-percentage conventional home loans. It would establish a privately-financed Home Loan Guarantee Corporation which would insure the "risk" portion of home loans and thus enable lenders to make bigger and longer loans, and buyers to acquire homes with lower down payments.

"This basic idea," said Senator Sparkman, "merits careful consideration by the Congress, particularly at a time when we are all concerned over the fall-off in housing starts and the committees of Congress are searching for new means of stimulating housing credit.

"We must keep in mind that the GI loan program may taper off and terminate and that even now more than half of the loans made each year are outside of the FHA and VA programs.

"A sound plan for liberalizing the terms of a conventional loan and bringing such a loan within the reach of more families is therefore desirable."

Under the plan, a Home Loan Guarantee Corporation would be established as a constituent agency of the Federal Home Loan Bank System. It would insure the top 20 per cent, or "risk" portion of conventional loans, with the lender assuming the risk on the remaining 10 per cent.

Such an arrangement would mean that on a single family home appraised at $10,000, a maximum loan of $9,000 could be made. The insured portion would be 90 per cent of the top 20 per cent ($1,800) or $1,620, and the lender would have a risk on such a loan of $7,380 ($7,200 plus $180—the 10 per cent of the top 20 per cent).

By enabling buyers to acquire homes with small down payments, the new plan would add between 175,000 and 250,000 new families to the home buying market in the first year of its operation, according to the League.

Other advantages were listed by the League as follows:

—1. The new Corporation would not involve any government funds. The initial $50 million capital required would be supplied by the 11 district Federal Home Loan Banks, the capital stock of which is owned by savings and loan associations.

—2. The new Corporation would insure the "risk" portion of the loan, and not the entire loan, a feature which would enable the borrower to acquire insurance at a lower cost than under government mortgage-insurance programs.

—3. The plan would work in both "tight" and "easy" money periods because conventional loan interest rates can be readily adjusted to meet the dictates of the market. Lack of such flexibility is one of the drawbacks of present government-morgage insurance programs.

NEWS VIEWS

Looks like one of these days your favorite TV shows will move right along without a break for commercials. This doesn't mean there won't be any commercials ...it just means that you won't know you're getting them. They'll slip up on you like a cat on deep-piled rug.

The new sales pitches are called "subliminal advertising." When they're flashed on a screen they go by so fast you don't even know you're seeing them . . . but your subconscious eye picks them up, and you get the word. It was tried out recently in a theater ... advertising Coca-Cola and popcorn. Coke sales jumped 18.1%, popcorn popped up 57.7%. No one mentioned what picture was showing. That might have had something to do with it.

After the jail keys and $942 were stolen in Oswego, Kan., the sheriff said, "What bothers me most is that I have a thief in my jail." Yep, that's downright annoying.

Why be annoyed by the endless details of a complicated business transaction . . . when our staff is experienced at handling those details for you with the greatest of ease? Loon Lake Home for Dodges Family chiars which are antiques, the dining room furniture is made by Johnson, Hanley and Johnson. Both the round table and the low buffet are cherry.

The kitchen has three doors: one leads to the dining room, a second to the hall and an outside door to the porch overlooking the lake. Painted yellow with a white ceiling, the work area has an L-shaped cupboard section. The lower birch cupboards are topped with a coral Formica counter.

In one corner there is a glass topped table with wrought iron frame and legs. The matching black chairs have coral seats. Some of the roses Mrs. Dodge loves and grows so well were arranged on the table; in color they matched the chair seats exactly.

In the bedroom wing of the house there is first of all a utility room with yellow walls. From here, a door leads into the garage.

The bath is pink and white, with a pink floor, pink tile on the lower walls and white upper walls and fixtures. At the high windows there are plaid curtains in pink, white and black.

The guest room is pale green with a birch storage wall on one side. Above the closet there are little storage cupboards. The floor is polished oak with hooked rugs on it. Furniture is dark. The draperies have an interesting border on them, wide at the bottom and a narrow one at the top.

Cherry Mr. and Mrs. chests have unusual brass drop pulls on the drawers. There is a matching bed table. Next to the chest is a miniature upholstered chair that was Mrs. Dodge's as a little girl. More appropriate to adults is an armless rocker with a cushioned seat.

Both the Dodges work. Their lakeside home is a refuge every evening and a continuous source of delight whenever they are in it.

Child's Education Is Home Job, Too

Mothers may heave a big sigh of relief to get the youngsters out from under foot. But the fact remains: children spend only 900 hours in school during the year and up to 4,500 wakeful hours at home.

If Johnny asks, "What was Babe Ruth's batting average?" the answer is found in the almanac. Or if he wants to know about airplane history, the encyclopedia is the source.

When the meaning of a word is the problem, then a dictionary must be used. Recently a dictionary has been created especially for the 8-to-12 age group.

Particle Board Utilizes Former Waste Material

ANN ARBOR — Michigan can share in the wood industry's newest bonanza, says a University of Michigan wood technologist.

The new product is particle board, whose impact upon the world's forest industries has been phenomenal, says Alan A. Marra, an associate professor in the U-M School of Natural Resources.

Particle board, Professor Marra explains, is wood reduced to small particles — flakes, chips, slivers, sawdust, planings, shavings, splinters — and bound together with glue under high heat and pressure. It is used like plywood for wall materials, underlayment in floors, and furniture.

Raw material for such panels is not restricted by size, shape, or species. Hence, it is possible to utilize not only low grade logs, but material which has in the past been wasted, the professor says.

He believes development of particle board will mean greater decentralization of the panel wood industry from the Pacific Northwest to all over the world.

He says that Michigan has a lot of low grade timber — jack pine, aspen, and scrub oak — suitable for making particle board, and several companies are building or planning to build in the state, although the only particle board plant so far is the Hartwood Products, at Hart.

"Expanding even more rapidly than plywood, which demands the highest grade timber and is now becoming more and more scarce, this new industry has swept through the wood industry like it was the answer to all problems," Professor Marra says.

He adds that particle boards made from fiberized materials have been known for many years as Masonite, Celotex, or insulating board, but the introduction of resin adhesive binders removed many manufacturing limitations on this type of product.

"There is renewed interest in developing cheaper special glues for particle board because glue represents a high percentage of the cost and affects many properties, even though it comprises only about five per cent of the finished product," the professor notes.

Particle board, he says, gives wood-using companies an opportunity for increased profits by utilizing material that used to be wasted. As a means of utilizing low-grade timber, it gives forest managers the chance to introduce forest improvement practices under profitable circumstances. Ultimately, the result appeals to conservationists who see a more complete utilization of our resources.

The professor says current yearly production of particle board would cover 50,000 acres — more than two townships.

Be Particular on Height of Built-In Ovens, Broilers

Built-in ovens are becoming popular because they can be installed to custom-fit a kitchen. A big feature of the built-in oven is that it can be installed at a comfortable working height.

For the average-size woman, an oven with the broiler inside should be placed so that the bottom of the oven interior is 32 inches from the floor. If the broiler is below the oven, the interior oven bottom should be 34 inches from the floor. For the tall or very short woman, place the oven so that the top of the opened oven door is about three inches below the bend of the elbow.

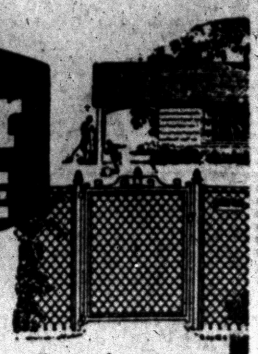

$35 Billion Spent on Building in U.S.

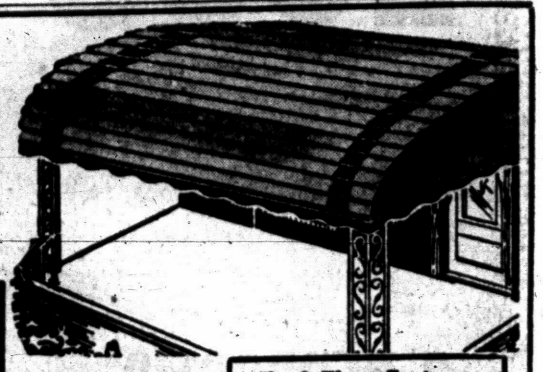

WASHINGTON (INS)—The government reported today that the nation's builders expended 35 billion dollars on construction during the first nine months of this year.

This was two per cent above the similar period of 1956 and was at an annual rate of 47 billion, 400 million dollars compared with actual outlays of 46 billion, 100 millions in 1956.

Total private building was at record peaks in August and September because of major increases in public utilities. Public construction also was at a new high in September with increases in highway work, military facilities and conservation projects.

Lower Costs Aid Families

Nat'l Home Builders Jubilant Over 1957 Housing Act

NATIONAL HOME WEEK goes into action this year with the most favorable home-purchasing terms ever to be put into effect by the FHA.

This opportunity for moderate income families to buy a home of their own comes as a result of the Housing Act of 1957, recently signed by President Eisenhower. The Act reduced down payments on new homes financed through the FHA to the lowest levels since the enactment of the FHA law in 1934.

John M. Dickerman, Executive Director of the National Association of Home Builders, sponsors of National Home week, points out these examples of the reduction in FHA down payments: On a $10,000 home, the requirement had been $700, and now is $300. On a $12,000 home, the former $1,200 down payment becomes $600. On a $15,000 home, the previous $1,950 is now $1,050.

"One of the major obstacles to buying a home in recent years has been the relatively large down payments," Dickerman said. "Now, under the new regulations, this has been substantially lowered. Most families can afford the monthly payments as part of their budget, and now with low down payments home ownership can become a reality for thousands of more families. This has long been a goal of the Home Builders in the United States."

Along with the reduction of down payments, the new law set FHA interest rates at 5¼ per cent, making them more competitive in the money market. This should attract more investment in this type of mortgage.

Radiant Heat Screen Individualizes Comfort

A new heater that takes the form of a beautiful three-panel screen and provides individualized comfort is the most sensational and revolutionary development in portable electric heaters in decades.

Richly styled in black quilted vinyl with silver embossed metalized plastic trim and a golden hued frame, this radiant heat screen has just been introduced by Arvin Industries, Inc., which is celebrating its 25th anniversary as a manufacturer of portable electric heaters.

Because of its beauty, the screen can add a major decorative accent to any room. It is very similar in appearance to the old-fashioned dressing room screens which have been making such a comeback recently.

An outstanding feature, besides its styling, is that the heater can be focused directly on an individual by turning in the "wing" panels. Infra-red type heat rays emitted from the screen keep a person comfortably warm while the temperature of the room is only slightly affected.

The screen panels, which are less than an inch thick, never become hot to the touch and will not burn or scorch anything coming in contact with them.

An ideal use for the screen is in a nursery where the heat can be focused on a child being bathed or in bed while the screen blocks all drafts. Used by a person drying off after a bath shower, the radiant heat from the screen supplants that lost through radiation from the body. Thus a person is kept warm instead of cooling off as water on the body evaporates.

Doors to the kitchen should be located so that there can be a free movement of traffic without interference with activities at the major work centers.

Rec Room Ideal for Youngsters on Rainy Day

A rainy day at home can be less trying on the housewife if the youngsters have a recreation room in which to release their pent-up energies. Recreation rooms also are ideal for adult entertainment in the evening once the elements force you to retreat inside from the patio.

Homes don't necessarily need a basement in which to build a recreation room. An extra bedroom, if large enough, or a garage or utility room that can be spared are readily converted into a permanent play area with the use of durable materials such as glass, ceramic tile and hardwood.

There is only one must in designing a recreation room; it should have a floor easy to clean and impervious to marks and stain caused by roughhouse play and spilled soft drinks.

Stain and waterproof quarry tile is the ideal material for such a project. Matter of fact, a builder or architect may advise using real tile not only on floors and walls, but also on snack bar counters.

Homemakers can have a lot of fun themselves on a rainy day by decorating such a room. Nautical motifs, with deep blue denim draperies, will help to make the "Captain's Cabin" more attractive. Rustic, early American themes which call for the simplest of furnishings and accessories also are easy to do on a budget.

Use of Color Can Enlarge

Light colors can create a feeling of spaciousness even in the smallest of bathrooms. An illusion of added height is accomplished by surfacing walls in rectangular ceramic tile with the long side vertical. Use of the same color tile on window sills, on the edge of floors and fixtures, also contributes to the illusion of spaciousness.

The reverse is true of dark colors. They have a tendency to pull walls together visually and make barnlike rooms look cozier.

Asks Restriction on Gas Heaters

Consumers Power Co. Claims Shortage of Fuel in Area

LANSING (AP)—Consumers Power Co. asked the State Public Service Commission to continue restrictions on the number of space heating customers the company may serve.

The utility, replying to a commission show cause order, said the shortage of gas in its service area necessitated a limitation on distribution.

Three other utilities have responded by asking the commission to lift restrictions initiated in wartime and continued ever since.

Two months ago, the commission ordered all gas distributing utilities, By Oct. 6, to give any reasons they had why the state agency should not withdraw from regulation in this field.

Consumers recently was authorized by the commission to attach 20,000 new space heaters. However, it said gas shortages prevented the company from taking on additional 144,000 applicants.

The company said it is seeking additional gas supplies but does not expect to obtain any in time for the winter heating season.

★ ★ ★

Consumers has nearly 450,000 customers in and around Kalamazoo, Marshall, Lansing, Flint, Jackson, Bay City, Saginaw, Pontiac, Northville, Plymouth, Wayne, Mt. Clemens, McBain, Marion, Breckenridge, St. Louis and Alma.

The commission reported today that Michigan Gas Utilities Co. has asked that restrictions be lifted.

The company serves 31,000 customers in Monroe, Coldwater, Hillsdale, Sturgis, Allegan, Benton Harbor, South Haven and Grand Haven.

Changeover Brings Low Auto Output

DETROIT (AP) — The auto industry will build 22,725 cars and 6,047 trucks this week, Ward's Automotive Reports said today The low level reflects the model switchover of both General Motors and Ford.

Last week the industry built 51,552 cars and 9,242 trucks. In the like week a year ago 59,367 cars and 19,926 trucks were produced. Ward's said GM's Chevrolet, Pontiac, Buick and Oldsmobile divisions are set to start 1958 model output next week.

By mid-October, the agency added, Ford division and Cadillac will be in 1958 model output, putting the entire industry on 1958 car production.

Canadian factory output this week is placed at 1,175 cars and 261 trucks, comparing with last week's 1,105 cars and 268 trucks and the 1956 comparable week's 3,619 cars and 1,201 trucks.

Car Seller Sentenced

DETROIT (AP) — James Stafford, 29, of Taylor Township was sentenced to nine years in prison Thursday on charges of selling stolen automobiles. Recorder's Judge Joseph A. Gillis heard tesitmony that Stafford sold 24 stolen cars, using titles of wrecked autos he bought from junk yards. Police said Stafford changed motor numbers on the stolen cars to conform with the numbers on the titles.

Patti's Folks May Not Condone All She Does

By EARL WILSON

If the local paper calls at 7 a.m. when Patti's home on a visit and she whispers to her mother, "I'm not here!" her mother hands her the phone and says, "YOU tell them you're not here! I'm not lying for anybody."

WILSON

And now we find Patti in the big, sinful city, starring in CBS' costliest TV show, "The Big Record" and involved in assorted minor deceits which are common in Show Business.

Patti's against the practice—which caused a scandal when Mario Lanza denied he did it—of "pre-recording" a song and then "mouthing" it on the air, although Eddie Cantor did it recently to "bravos."

"I don't like it for myself," frowned Patti. "For Janis Page, I thought it was fine, for they found the secret of 'authenticity.' They showed her when she should look out-of-breath!"

The budget for "The Big Record"—reportedly biggest in TV—didn't include clothes for Patti, who's a clothes-horse.

"You see, before this, they've had mostly men singers — and one necktie was all they had to buy every week. Well, I'm moving into a bigger apartment next week, for all the clothes they've got to give me."

CHARLES and PATTI

HOSPITAL BOND ORDINANCE—TO the electors of the City of Pontiac, Michigan.

Notice is hereby given that there shall be submitted to the electors of the City of Pontiac at the Special City Election to be held Monday, October 28, 1957 Ordinance No. 1345 providing for the issuance of $950,000 Hospital Bonds.

The following is Ordinance No. 1345:

ORDINANCE NO. 1345

An Ordinance to provide for the borrowing by the City of Pontiac, Michigan, of the sum of $950,000 and for the issuance of the full faith and credit bonds of said city therefor, to defray the cost of completing the construction and equipment of the city hospital.

The City of Pontiac Ordains:

Section 1. The City Commission of the City of Pontiac, Michigan is hereby authorized to borrow the sum of Nine Hundred Fifty Thousand Dollars ($950,000) for the purpose of defraying the cost of completing the construction and equipment of the city hospital, and to issue therefore the full faith and credit bonds of the city in the aggregate principal sum of Nine Hundred Fifty Thousand Dollars ($950,000), said bonds to be in the denomination of $1,000 each, to bear interest at a rate to be determined after competitive bidding for the purchase of said bonds but not to exceed 6% per annum, payable semi-annually, except that the first installment of interest may be for a period of less than six (6) months, and shall mature on the first day of April in each year as follows: $34,000 in each of the years 1959 thru 1968 and $32,000 in each of the years 1969 thru 1988. The said bonds shall be paid from taxes to be levied therefor in each year beginning with the year 1958.

Section 2. The City Commission shall have power to adopt such resolutions and ordinances as may be necessary to carry out the purposes of this ordinance. The bonds herein authorized may be issued in one or more series at the same or at different times.

Section 3. This ordinance shall be submitted to the electors of the city qualified to vote thereon at a special municipal election to be held on the 28th day of October, 1957, and if three-fifths of the votes cast at said election upon the question of the adoption of this ordinance and the issuance of said bonds shall be in favor thereof, then this ordinance shall be considered as adopted and shall take effect immediately upon its publication subsequent thereto.

WM. W. DONALDSON, Mayor
ADA R. EVANS, City Clerk

This Ordinance is published in accordance with provisions of Section 3, Chapter X of the City Charter. Dated this 25 day of September, 1957.

VOCATIONAL COUNSELING SERVICE

Command Decision!
DON'T WASTE ANOTHER MINUTE. START FRESH IN A NEW CAREER.

OUT OF THIS WORLD $225
Never, but never, have you seen offices like these. You can be a RECEPTIONIST there, if you are neat, personable and can type 45 w.p.m.

BY YOURSELF $250
You'll be strictly on your own as STENOGRAPHER in a small 1-girl office. The atmosphere is informal and the location ideal. Right in your own back yard. Average skills.

IT'S SO PEACEFUL $250
in the country and that's where this plant is located. They are looking for a FIGURE CLERK with good handwriting, accurate but not fast typing, and some office experience. Over 21. Must have own transportation.

GOOD NEWS $240
Working as RECEPTIONIST in a newspaper office, has just got to be fun. The lucky girl who gets this must be neat and attractive and type 50 w.p.m.

SMILING VOICE $275
That's what this JR. STENO must have, plus good typing and some shorthand. She'll be sending out publicity releases and do some public relations.

YOUR OWN OFFICE $375
Only a real SECRETARY rates that, and that's what we want. She must have good typing and shorthand, be efficient, responsible and capable of dealing with top brass in her company.

S'WONDERFUL $385
An exclusive and glamorous restaurant nearby is looking for a competent qualified BOOKKEEPER, between the ages of 30-50, who is capable of handling a 4-girl office. Good typing.

ALL IN THE EAR

What you see in this girl's ear is Sonotone's new hearing aid — complete. IT'S WORN ENTIRELY IN THE EAR — no cord, no extra "button." Weighs only half an ounce.

Evans Seeks Stage Cast for 'Dial M for Murder'

By JACK O'BRIAN

Bing Crosby's TV spectacular for Edsel will cost almost a million; his half-hour weekly CBS radio show has a price tag of $10,000.

WORKING FOR DAD

James Mason turned down the Mr. Brink role in "On Borrowed Time" for Hallmark Theater for large moolah.

Pert Kelton, first and funniest of Gleason's early-TV Alice Kramdens, is sought for the top feminine role in Nat (Bilko) Hiken's next TV goldmine, "The Magnificent Montague," starring Dennis King.

"To Tell the Truth" gets about the same rating as the Herb Shriner Show it replaced and costs just half as much ($22,000).

Jon Provost, the new little lad of "Lassie," should be the biggest little-boy star since Jackies Coogan and Cooper. The role's a warm, lovable little cliche.

Mickey Cohen Sued for Libel in TV Show

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A two-million-dollar libel suit has been filed against ex-gambler Mickey Cohen as a result of his television interview on the Mike Wallace Show last May.

The action, brought yesterday by former Police Chief C. B. Horrall, was the third big lawsuit filed against Cohen because of the interview. Others were filed by Police Chief W. H. Parker and Capt. James Hamilton of the police department intelligence detail.

ABC to Telecast Queen in Canada

NEW YORK (AP)— The American Broadcasting Co. said today it will televise two public appearances of Great Britain's Queen Elizabeth II during her forthcoming visit to Canada and the United States.

The network said it will carry a telecast Sunday, Oct. 13, from 9 to 9:30 p.m., of the Queen's message to Canada, and another Monday, Oct. 14, from 3 to 4 p.m., of the ceremonial pageantry when the Queen opens the Canadian Parliament in Ottawa.

GI Rips Through School

FT. CARSON, Colo. (AP) — Pfc. J. R. Weatherly of Ft. Carson's 9th Infantry Division wasted no time completing his high school education. He finished five years of schooling in one month. Weatherly had only a seventh grade education when he joined the Army. By passing tests, he achieved the equivalent of a high school diploma.
