Chief Concern for JFK

Berlin Threats Mounting

High Sources Place Cuban Problem 2nd

Say President Wants Call-Up Authority to Handle German Crisis

WASHINGTON (AP) — High administration sources say Soviet threats to Berlin are greater now than in many years, and that it was chiefly this situation—not Cuba—that triggered President Kennedy's request for stand-by authority to call up 150,000 Reserves.

While the current military buildup in Cuba was a factor in Kennedy's decision, these sources said, the Berlin situation is considered infinitely more dangerous because the Soviets seek there to weaken the North Atlantic alliance.

The Berlin crisis was described by these top government spokesmen as worse than last year, when 148,000 U.S. military reservists were called up to help meet Communist threats in Berlin and elsewhere.

Gretel had a tendency to hobby horse in the water, her dipping action more pronounced than Weatherly.

★ ★ ★

The affair had turned into a racing sailor's night mare before the start as picket boats, sirens blasting, chased individual pleasure boats like a sheep dog after errant lambs trying to clear them from the course.

Kennedy's request for authority to mobilize the Reserves is designed as insurance against the worldwide menace of communism, of which Cuba is only a minor factor, they said.

If Congress approves Kennedy's request, it would not mean that reservists will automatically be called to active duty, but it will give the President authority to call them whenever he feels world events warrant it.

The officials indicated any call-up of Reservists this winter would likely involve Air Force tactical units, and probably Navy destroyer crewmen.

BERLIN (UPI)—The Western Allies today formally barred all Russian armored cars from entering West Berlin without prior permission from Western authorities. The ban was announced in a statement issued by the U.S., British and French commandants.

U.S. Ponders Holding Up on Sabin Vaccine

Advisory Committee Meets After Canada Halts Oral Doses

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The government's Polio Advisory Committee met behind closed doors in a special session today to decide whether the U.S. Sabin oral vaccine program should be held up.

The special meeting was called by Surgeon General Luther L. Terry after Canada announced it had temporarily withdrawn the drug because four persons who had taken it contracted polio.

A source said the committee was expected to discuss the matter for about six hours before reaching a decision on "what should be the U.S. course of action' toward the cherry-flavored, live virus vaccine.

The source emphasized that the Public Health Service (PHS) was not making any recommendation to local health officials in advance of the committee decision.

★ ★ ★

He said the service was standing on its earlier announcement for the time being.

Terry made it clear that the United States' inoculation program would continue pending the outcome of the study.

Several officials pointed out that a number of persons who took the dead virus Salk vaccine still contracted polio, since no vaccine is 100 per cent effective.

CHICAGO CASE RECALLED

During an epidemic in Chicago in 1956, 22 of 268 victims had received one or more shots of the Salk vaccine.

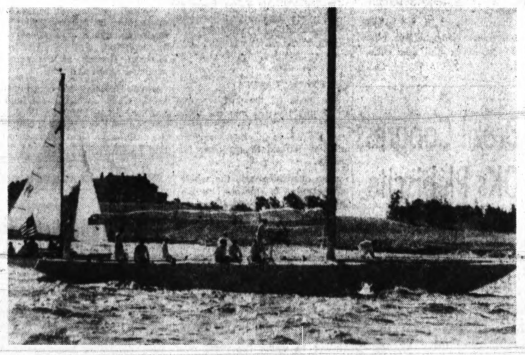

Nevertheless, a number of U.S. communities either stopped or reconsidered their Sabin programs pending the committee's report or their own investigations.

Others continued, pointing out there was no actual evidence to link the vaccine to the Canadian cases.

Canadian Health Minister J. Waldo Monteith announced in Ottawa Thursday that the vaccine would be temporarily withdrawn from use in Canada pending an investigation of the four cases.

Dr. Albert Sabin, who developed the drug, said it was natural to expect such ocurrences, because the victims may have been infected before they received the vaccine.

WEATHERLY AHEAD — The American 12-meter sloop Weatherly, which has been selected to defend the America's Cup against the challenge of the Australian yacht Gretel, swept over the starting line of the opening race today and took the lead in this contest for the world championship of sailboat racing in Newport, R.I.

Kennedy a Spectator

America's Cup Race On

NEWPORT, R.I. (UPI)— Weatherly turned the halfway marker of the America's Cup race today at 1:49:59 p.m. Gretel made the turn at 1:50:08—only nine seconds behind.

ABOARD U. S. COAST GUARD CUTTER OFF NEWPORT, R. I.— Defender Weatherly, in an advantageous windward position, and Gretel, the challenging yacht from Australia, were over the starting mark together at 12:10 p.m. today in the opening of the best-of-seven America's Cup series.

★ ★ ★

President Kennedy, watching from a deck of the Destroyer Joseph P. Kennedy Jr., was among some 20,000 spectators on a flotilla of 1,500 vessels.

The first race was twice around over a windward-leeward course — six miles into the wind, six miles to leeward.

With 30 seconds to go before the start, Bus Mosbacher Jr., skipper of the U. S. sloop, forced Gretel to give up her favorable windward position.

Mosbacher is famous for his starts in match races and this is a favorite tactic of the 48-year-old White Plains, N. Y., skipper.

The sunshine was brilliant and there were winds of 10 knots at the start with a fairly light sea, waves of about one foot and one-half.

Gretel recovered from her bad start and began moving very well. As they sailed to windward on the first of the four six-mile legs, the Aussie boat was five to six boat lengths ahead but on a course less favorable than Weatherly's.

Blue Cross Bid on Aged Nixed

Request for Changes in Some Policies Meet With State Rejection

DETROIT (UP) — State Insurance Commissioner Sherwood Colburn today rejected a proposal by Michigan Blue Cross-Blue Shield for changes in some of its policies covering senior citizens.

Blue Cross-Blue Shield had submitted a revised plan to Colburn Sept. 11 to meet objections raised by the commissioner to a plan presented Aug. 16.

William S. McNary, Blue Cross executive vice president, said the new plan matches the Blue Cross-Blue Shield national plan for senior citizens and urged prompt approval.

Colburn replied, "decisions of the importance attendant to your extended senior citizens plan should not be urged or made in haste."

Declaring the new proposal was not acceptable for use in Michigan, the commissioner gave these reasons:

1. There are serious questions under state laws concerning the extension of Blue Cross benefits to include skilled nursing facilities.

2. Even if the proposal should be found in compliance with law, it "still does not guarantee the availability of a sufficient number of approved nursing home facilities at which a member might obtain care by the time such a member might be eligible for the proposed care."

4 State Candidates to Appear in County

A speech by Democratic candidate for re-election Gov. John B. Swainson in Bloomfield Township Wednesday and a visit by his opponent George W. Romney, to Rochester on Saturday will highlight campaign activities next week in Oakland County.

The week's campaign fare will begin Monday with a debate between Democrat Neil Staebler and Republican Alvin H. Bentley, opposing candidates for Michigan's at-large congressional seat, at 1 p.m. at the Birmingham Community House.

Bentley will campaign in southern Oakland County Monday before and after the debate, while Staebler will visit Pontiac Tuesday, starting out at 5:30 a.m. with a handshaking visit to the Pontiac Motor Division gate on Kennett Street.

Swainson will make a campaign speech at a noon luncheon of the Oakland County Democratic Business and Professional Association at Devon Gables.

Romney is scheduled to address shoppers at the North Hill Shopping Center near Rochester at 12:15 p.m. and follow that with a handshaking tour of the village's downtown area.

The Bentley-Staebler debate is sponsored by the Birmingham League of Women Voters and will concern the United Nations, economic foreign policy and other foreign policy issues.

Bentley will visit the homes of Mrs. Robert Nya, 28656 Crookside Drive, Farmington, and Mrs. Frank Dodge, 1831 Farnum, Royal Oak, Monday morning before making a public appearance at American House in Royal Oak at 11:15 a.m.

He will visit the new J. L. Hudson budget store in Madison Heights at 3:30 p.m. Monday.

Staebler, after greeting workers at Pontiac Motor Division until 7 a.m. Tuesday, will visit the home of Russell Brown, 483 Lynch St., and will campaign door-to-door in the Pontiac neighborhood around Brown's home until about 11:15 a.m.

Tuesday afternoon, Staebler will conduct more door-to-door campaigning in Southfield after visiting the home of Donald Culver, 28233 Larkmoor St., at 2 p.m.

He will then go to the Ford Motor Co.'s Lincoln plant in Wixom at 3:30 to greet workers at the gate.

A committee spokesman said no date was set for the next session.

Astronaut Team to Welcome 9

NASA to Name New Men Monday to Help 7 Get to Moon First

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Nine new astronauts will be named Monday to help the present seven put an American on the moon before the Russians get there.

This was announced Friday by the National Aeronautics and Space Administration as efforts were being made to minimize any differences of opinion between astronauts John Glenn and Walter Schirra.

Schirra said in a television interview Thursday night that outside commitments were causing Glenn, first American to orbit the earth, to fall behind in spacework.

Schirra is scheduled to make a six-orbit flight Sept. 28.

Glenn and Dr. Robert R. Gilruth, director of the Manned Spacecraft Center here, both denied the accusation in prepared statements.

Glenn's said:

"I don't want to add any more statements to a situation that has all the aspects of a tempest in a teapot.

"Scheduling of my time for maximum benefit from a technical and national space program standpoint, has been continually reviewed by both Dr. Gilruth and the management at NASA headquarters.

"Wally (Schirra) and I are good friends and I will certainly continue to support his flight just as well as I possiby can. We are all working together and looking forward to a very successful MA8."

Schirra's flight will be the Mercury-Atlas 8.

Gilruth's statement was substantially the same.

Dotty Clouds to Join Pleasant Area Weather

Clouds will dot the sky tonight, tomorrow and Monday, says the weatherman. Little change in temperatures is expected.

Following a dip to 58 this evening, the mercury will climb to a warm 80 tomorrow.

Today's winds are variable at 8 to 12 miles per hour. They will become easterly tonight and tomorrow.

Fifty-seven was the lowest temperature reading in downtown Pontiac preceding 8 a.m. At 2 p.m. the mercury showed a pleasant 76.

Red China Rips U.S. on U2

Steps Up Drive After Flight

Claims Downed Plane Yank - Backed Despite Nationalists' Denial

TOKYO (AP) — Red China stepped up today the bitter anti-American campaign it launched after announcing a Chinese Nationalist U2 reconnaissance plane had been downed over the Communist-held mainland last Sunday.

★ ★ ★

Powerful radio transmitters on the mainland beamed thousands of words at Asia, charging the flight was U.S.-controlled and part of Washington's "global plans for aggression and war."

The Red broadcasts ignored Nationalist Chinese statements that the American-built U2 was a Nationalist Air Force plane sent on a flight over what the Nationalists claim is their own country.

"It is obvious that a U2 plane could not make any flight without U.S. consent," one Communist broadcast declared.

"The U2 plane incident itself is an important step in the U.S. government's active preparations for aggression against China."

★ ★ ★

The week-long barrage of words has been one of the heaviest in months, but it shed no light on how the U2 was downed or the nationality and fate of its pilot.

Broadcasts have said only that the plane was shot down by an air force antiaircraft unit. They did not indicate whether the unit used rockets capable of reaching an altitude of 90,000 feet—the U2's cruising altitude—or whether the plane, perhaps disabled, had descended to within reach of more conventional weapons.

Peiping said the U2 incident and the current visit to Southeast Asia of Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor, incoming chairman of the U.S. Joint Chiefs of Staff, constitute "a serious challenge by U.S. imperialism to peace."

The broadcasts have warned that "the people of New China are not to be humiliated" and that any attack is doomed to disaster.

Red China's strong language has caused nervousness in Japanese official circles and the press, which hold that Japan cannot risk involvement in East-West quarrels.

Many Japanese showed readiness to accept the U.S. version of the incident—that the plane and another U2 were sold by Lockheed Aircraft Co., to the Nationalists in July 1960 and that the closest America got to involvement was sharing in intelligence data collected.

Trade Bill Jumps Hurdle

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy's trade expansion bill, carrying unprecedented tariff-cutting powers to deal with the European Common Market, has emerged unscathed from the Senate Finance Committee.

Opponents said today they would take their fight to the Senate floor when debate begins on Monday and strive to write in protectionist provisions as well as knock out part of the far-reaching authority.

But free trade advocates were jubilant over the committee's votes, which constituted an unbroken "string of administration victories. They said they now are confident of similar success on the floor.

The committee approved the bill 17-0 Friday, but this surprising tally did not reflect the true lineup.

On key votes the administration had the support of nine Democrats, a bare majority of the 17 members, against a coalition of Democrats and Republicans.

Several of the senators who participated in the unanimous vote to send the legislation to the floor reserved the right to back amendments there.

Both friends and foes of the bill agreed it is the most revolutionary trade proposal since passage of the original Reciprocal Trade Agreements Law in 1934.

It would give Kennedy a right to strike out in new directions in advancing a program that already has seen U.S. tariffs on dutiable items cut from an average 50 per cent to 11 per cent.

The main provisions would:

—Extend the old law another five years.

—Authorize a further 50 per cent cut in all present tariffs.

—Permit the President to negotiate duties down to zero on items for which the United States and the Common Market nations account for 80 per cent of world trade.

—Authorize federal assistance to firms and workers harmed by import competition.

This latter provision was kept in the bill only by an 8-7 vote in the most important test Friday.

It would permit the President to give help to a specific company and its workers without having to invoke broad relief which might mean across-the-board tariff increases or quotas affecting an entire industry.

The committee also voted some discretionary powers to the President which he did not ask.

To counter restrictions on U.S. products which he finds unreasonable, the Chief Executive could raise American duties on the offending country's exports to any level he desired or impose any type of quotas.

Two Found Guilty of Whisky Theft

Truck driver Keith D. Francisco, 36, of 1601½ Oakland Ave., and a Detroit Teamster business agent were found guilty yesterday in federal court in Detroit in the theft of $60,000 worth of whisky.

★ ★ ★

Francisco was found guilty of theft and conspiracy to steal from an interstate shipment.

George J. Cottage, 42, of Gibraltar, secretary-treasurer and business agent of Detroit Teamster Local 902, was found guilty of theft, receiving stolen goods and conspiracy.

A third man, Michael Horowski Jr. of Melvindale, already had pleaded guilty to conspiracy.

880 CASES

The three were charged with stealing 880 cases of Canadian Club whisky, with a retail value of $60,000, in a large truck from Roadway Express Co. in Taylor Township on Nov. 30, 1961.

The shipment was en route from Walkerville, Ont., to Long Island City, N. Y.

The jury returned guilty verdicts after two weeks of testimony and five hours of deliberation.

★ ★ ★

Assistant U.S. Attorney James F. Finn said Francisco was driving the truck.

Francisco had previously served time at Jackson Prison on an armed robbery conviction.

Panel Named to Eye Hospital Labor Dispute

LANSING (UPI) — Gov. John B. Swainson has announced the appointment of a special commission to study a labor dispute at the Bloomfield Hospital in Bloomfield Township.

★ ★ ★

The dispute involved the Hospital and Sanatorium Employes Guild, Chapter 5, Salesmen's Guild of America.

The members of the commission which will be headed by Birmingham attorney Thomas G. Kavanagh are John F. Allen, Royal Oak attorney, and Grady Pinner, Waterford township, business manager and financial secretary of Local 908 of the United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners of America.

Representatives of the parties in dispute will be Leonard Schultz, Detroit, a labor relations consultant to represent the hospital, and Harold J. Russell, Pontiac, a representative of the union.

★ ★ ★

The commission has been ordered to report to the governor within 30 days unless an extension is granted.

Car Strikes Boy, 2, in Front of Home

A two-year-old boy received a fractured skull yesterday evening when struck by a car in front of his Auburn Heights home.

James Wallace, son of Mr. and Mrs. Hezekiah Wallace of 3116 Waukegan Road, is reported in satisfactory condition today at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital.

Oakland County Sheriff's deputies said he was struck about 6 p.m. by a car driven by Mrs. Rosemary Young, 35, of 3021 Waukegan Road.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Young told deputies she was driving west on Waukegan only about 20 miles per hour because she had seen several children playing in the road. She said she suddenly saw the Wallace boy near the front of the car and was unable to stop in time.

Brazil Congress OKs Plebiscite

Move Lessens Threat of Army Takeover in Government less Nation

BRASILIA, (AP) — The Chamber of Deputies eased Brazil's political crisis today by okaying a plebiscite for next January on whether to give executive powers to the figurehead office of President Joao Goulart.

★ ★ ★

The vote on the bill which sets the plebiscite for Jan. 6 was 169-83—five over the majority required. The measure already has been approved by the Senate.

The action apparently lessened the threat of military intervention in Latin America's largest nation, which has been without a government since Prime Minister Francisco Brochado da Rocha and his cabinet resigned Friday over the plebiscite issue.

The nation was still confronted by a general strike, but Goulart was reported ready to fly to Rio de Janeiro to try to persuade labor leaders to call it off.

★ ★ ★

Leaders of the strike — involving 2,000 unions claiming 12 million workers—have insisted that the pebiscite be held Oct. 7, same date as the congressional elections.

Brochado da Rocha's failure to win approval of this date led to his resignation Friday after two months in office.

Congress' action nevertheless was a victory for Goulart, who took over as a figurehead president a year ago after Janio Quadros resigned. Military leaders then feared Goulart was too leftist and backed action to put Brazil under a parliamentary system of government.

Since then Goulart has won over many moderates and has replaced opposition military leaders with his own men.

★ ★ ★

In recent months Goulart has been carrying on a running battle with the conservative-dominated Congress. He has demanded executive powers, complaining that he lacks authority to meet social and economic problems.

Gen. Artur Costa Silva, commander of the 4th Army in Brazil's poverty - stricken northeast area, put his troops on alert Friday because of the strike. The 2nd Army in Sao Paolo was ordered to stand by for an alert.

Farmers Brace for Crucial Fight

CHICAGO (UPI) — The National Farmers Organization (NFO) braced for the fight of its seven-year life today, expecting "one more big punch" from stockyards and meat processors in its battle to put the "family farmer" on a competitive plane with other businessmen.

Midwest packers recalled hundreds of employes laid off since the start of the NFO "holding action" to keep livestock and grains off the markets.

The action was launched by the 16-state farmers group to attain contracts assuring equitable prices for their products.

The president of the rebellious group said the packers were countering with a weekend campaign to "shake loose" livestock that has been held off the market the past two weeks.

"If they get the livestock they seek, it will be their last big punch," said NFO President Oren Lee Staley of Rea, Mo.

"It will clean out the feedlots and pastures of producers under contract to the processors and those who refuse to join our movement.

"Next week we will get down to the real core of the holding action . . . we have the supply down to the bottom of the barrel."

Although the Midwest housewife has noticed higher prices at her meat market, the executive secretary of the National livestock Feeders Association said his group regards the holding action as something that never really started.

Don Magdanz, secretary of the feeders association, said the NFO drive was "doomed to a dismal failure." He said cattle receipts are normal and hogs fairly normal for this time of year.

Receipts reported at the 12 major Midwest stock terminals yesterday showed hogs were down 9,000 from a week ago and cattle down 4,000.

★ ★ ★

High choice and prime steers dropped 25 to 75 cents at Chicago with heifers off 50 cents.

INCREASE AT OMAHA

However, at Omaha, Neb., the nation's meat-packing capital, the cattle run for the week was 12,000 more than during the abbreviated Labor Day week.

The market was scrambled, with prices as much as $1.25 lower on butcher hogs and $1.50 lower on cattle.

At Sioux Falls, S. D., Department of Agriculture economist Cleo Nichols said it was "hard to tell" whether the holding action should be widened to include milk. He said "We'll let our dairy members decide" the issue.

The NFO got some unexpected help from about 400 members of its "womens auxiliary" yesterday during a livestock sale at Colchester, Ill.

The women crowded around the barn and started clapping and shouting when the sale began.

Six of the girls converged on the auctioneer, commandeered the public address system and made speeches promoting the holding action.

Wilson & Co. yesterday announced it was recalling several hundred employes and "resuming normal operations" in Omaha, Kansas City, Mo., Albert Lea, Minn.; and Cedar Rapids, Iowa.

About 200 workers were also to be back on the job at the Jacob E. Decker plant in Mason City, Iowa, which is a subsidiary of Armour and Co.

The Dubuque (Iowa) Packing Co. said it already had called back more than half of the 200 employes it had laid off.

"They'll just be laying them off again sometime next week," said Staley, calling the increase in work forces a "psychological action."

Staley announced that the NFO would meet at 15 sites next week to determine whether the holding

Five Airmen Die in Crashes

Bomber With 3 Aboard Falls in Indiana; Jets Collide Over Texas

BUTLERVILLE, Ind. (AP)—A swept-wing supersonic bomber disintegrated in a fiery shower of metal more than seven miles above this small southeastern Indiana town Friday night, apparently killing all three crewmen aboard.

★ ★ ★

Two bodies were strapped in the burning fuselage, which slammed to the ground on a farm three miles east of here. A third airman was still missing hours after the crash.

Pieces of the flaming jet aircraft rained down along a six-mile stretch. Several chunks of metal knifed into yards at Butlerville, but no houses were hit.

Bunker Hill Air Force Base at Peru, where the B58 Hustler bomber was stationed, withheld the names of the victims early today, awaiting positive identification at the crash scene.

HIT EMPTY CABIN

The nose of the bomber and the wings plunged into an unoccupied log cabin where grain was stored in a woods on the farm of Willard Phelps near Nebraska.

One eyewitness said the whole sky erupted in smoke when the plane blew up at about 8:30 p.m.

Another person reported hearing two large booms in the air, followed by a long rumble. Witnesses said the main portion of the plane exploded again when it hit the ground.

★ ★ ★

The bomber was on a scheduled training flight from Farmington, Mo., to Cleveland. Two families waiting to watch the craft pass over Butlerville were forced to run for cover when the plane broke apart.

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Two jet fighters collided in flight and both pilots were killed as the planes plunged into Mountain Creek Lake Friday.

The accident happened during landing maneuvers at the Dallas Naval Air Station.

Military authorities identified the airmen as Marine Lt. Alexander P. Longdon Jr., 27, Beaufort, S.C., and Air Force Lt. George A. Tiddile, 30, Arlington, Tex.

★ ★ ★

The bodies were found beside their planes, a Navy F8U Crusader and an Air National Guard F86L, Sabre Jet.

Fall Term Art Classes Begin Week of Sept. 24

BIRMINGHAM — The Bloomfield Art Association's fall term of art classes will begin the week of Sept. 24, it was announced today.

★ ★ ★

All the 10-week sessions will be conducted at the Birmingham Art Center, the association's headquarters at 1516 S. Cranbrook Road.

A six-week children's workshop also will be offered from 4 — 5:30 p.m. on Wednesday and Thursday and from 10 a.m. to noon on Saturday. Betty Conn will be the instructor.

Three classes in sculptoring will be taught on Monday by Svea Kline, at 9:30 a.m. for advanced students, 1 p.m. for beginners and 7 p.m. for both.

STUDIO ARTS

The same day, Prof. Albert Mullen of the University of Michigan will instruct a class in studio arts from 7 — 9:30 p.m. Different media, such as oil, water color, charcoal and pen will be used.

Portrait painting will be taught on Tuesday by Mildred Williams beginning at 9:30 a.m. A course in enameling will be given by Barbara Broock at the same time and again at 7 p.m.

Also on Tuesday will be a mixed media class, which is a basic drawing course, taught by Dorothy Siddal as well as a painting course with Clifford West instructing, from 7 — 9 p.m.

★ ★ ★

Wednesday courses are water coloring with Mary Jane Bigler, 9:30 a.m. and 1 p.m. and sculpture, with Jim McCormick teaching, at 7 p.m.

Kathleen Birch will instruct classes in oil painting at 9:30 a.m. and 1 p.m. Thursday. Contemporary jewelry will be taught by Nancy Fanzini at 7 p.m.

Additional information can be obtained by contacting the art center between 2 and 5 p.m. daily, except Monday.

Rev. Frank Evans, pastor of Squaw Valley United Church in California, will be the guest speaker Tuesday at 8 p.m. when the men's fellowship of the Congregational Church of Birmingham resumes its meetings.

★ ★ ★

The California church received international attention in 1960 when it served as the Protestant chapel for the Winter Olympic Games.

The Rev. Mr. Evans is studying at Cranbrook.

JOHN A. SHELDON

Service for John A. Sheldon, 29, a former Birmingham resident killed Thursday in a plane crash near Sandusky, Ohio, will be 3 p.m. Tuesday in the Bell Chapel of William R. Hamilton Co.

Burial will be in Acacia Park Cemetery.

★ ★ ★

Mr. Sheldon, an aeronautical engineer for the Lewis Laboratory of Cleveland, was one of four men killed when a small plane crashed on the Ohio Turnpike.

He had been engaged in government projects for the National Aeronautics and Space Administration.

A University of Michigan graduate with a master's degree in aeronautical engineering, he was a member of St. Olaf's Lutheran Church of Detroit.

★ ★ ★

Girl, Youth Victims in Separate Attacks

An 18-year-old girl and a 20-year-old youth told police they were victims of separate attacks by unknown assailants last night and early today.

Both victims were released after treatment at Pontiac General Hospital.

Patricia Welles of 27 Dwight St. was cut by flying glass when an unidentified man hurled a rock through the window of a car in which she was sitting, according to James Hinojosa, 19, of 126 W. Tennyson Ave.

Hinojosa said the incident occurred about 10:15 p.m. yesterday while he and the Welles girl were in his car on Tennyson Avenue.

Samuel Horbatiuk, 20, of 80 N. Merrimac St. told police he was struck on the head with a rock and beaten by about six youths who attacked him about 1:15 a.m. today on Hollywood Street near Parkdale Avenue.

NATIONAL WEATHER — Showers or thundershowers are expected tonight in the southern Plains and eastward into the Ohio valley with some scattered activity through the Rockies. The Pacific coast may have dense low cloudiness along with fog and drizzle. Warmer temperatures will move into the upper Mississippi valley and hot temperatures will remain throughout the south. Clear skies and cool temperatures are forecast for the Northeast while partly cloudy skies are expected in the central states.

Congress Speeds Up to Win Adjournment

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress, scenting adjournment this month, is picking up steam in its drive to get home for the fall election campaigns.

★ ★ ★

It shoved further along Friday three of President Kennedy's top proposals—the U.N. bond issue, trade expansion and stand-by authority to call up Reserves. Another administration bill, calling for federal aid to traffic-clogged cities, apparently fell by the wayside.

★ ★ ★

Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana dangled the carrot of a Sept. 29 adjournment before the Senate, but noted it is up to the members to get the job done.

★ ★ ★

No adjournment date was mentioned in the House, but that body cleared a major hurdle with passage of the U.N. bond issue bill on a 256-134 roll call vote. There was a possibility the Senate might agree to House amendments, meaning it could be sent to Kennedy next week.

TARIFF ACTION

The Senate Finance Committee approved the President's proposal for authority to slash and in some cases wipe out tariffs reciprocally with other nations, particularly the booming European Common Market. Debate on the bill, already passed by the House, begins in the Senate on Monday.

The House Armed Services Committee gave unanimous approval to the President's request for stand-by authority to call up 150,000 Reserves.

★ ★ ★

However, House Speaker John W. McCormack, D-Mass., said the Reserves call-up bill won't reach the House floor until Sept. 24, a week later than expected.

★ ★ ★

In what he acknowledged was a move to kill the President's proposal for $500 million in federal grants to help cities solve mass transit problems, Sen. Frank Lausche, D-Ohio, won approval of his motion to send the transportation bill to the Commerce Committee. By agreement the measure must come out Sept. 24, but there seems little chance it will be debated in the late rush for adjournment.

The U.N. bond bill was approved by 190 Democrats and 66 Republicans. Opposing it on the final roll call were 46 Democrats and 88 Republicans.

★ ★ ★

The major fight came over an amendment by Rep. John W. Byrnes, R-Wis., which would have held up the loan until the United Nations adopted an advisory opinion of the World Court that special U.N. assessments are bind on all members. Supporters of the bill managed to beat down the Byrnes amendment, pointing out that the United Nations has adopted nine previous World Court opinions.

★ ★ ★

The bill provides that the United States may match the bond purchases of other nations up to $100 million. At present 17 nations have bought $27 million worth of bonds and pledges have been made to purchase $45 million more.

★ ★ ★

The money will be used to pay U.N. debts incurred in peacekeeping missions in the Congo and along the Israeli-Egyptian border. Several nations, including all of the Soviet bloc, have not paid their special U.N. assessments for these activities.

Changes Title to Keep Peace

It's not just George who can't do it alone.

That's what directors of the Oakland Citizens League, a nonpartisan good-government group, have decided, anyway, as they changed the title of the league's membership leaflet.

Previously "George Can't Do It Alone," it is now, "Neither John nor George Can Do It Alone."

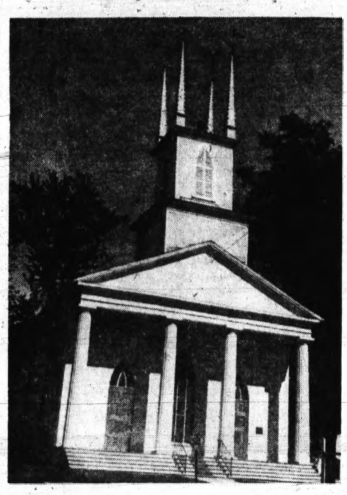

The change was made, actually, to avoid any impression that the league was supporting the candidacy of Republican George W. Romney for governor.

Romney was not active in politics when the literature was prepared five years ago.

The new "John and George" leaflets will be distributed at the group's 25th anniversary membership tea from 3 to 6 p.m. Sept. 23 at Cranbrook House in Bloomfield Hills.

More than 1,000 Democrats, Republicans and independents have been invited.

Mrs. Romney has indicated she will attend the tea, but county Democratic headquarters said Mrs. John B. Swainson, wife of the incumbent governor whose name was added to the leaflet, would not be able to attend.

OUT TO SAVE CHURCH — This is the historical Episcopal church in Tecumseh which 60 community leaders of all faiths hope to save. They have set Oct. 1 as a deadline for raising $100,000 to restore St. Peter's church to its original form of 127 years ago.

Drive Afoot to Save Historical Church

TECUMSEH (AP)—Sixty community leaders all faiths launched a statewide campaign today to save an historic Episcopal church in this southeastern Michigan city.

They have set Oct. 1 as a deadline for raising $100,000 to restore St. Peter's Church to its original form. The 127-year-old structure is said to be the oldest Episcopal church building west of the Alleghenies.

Heading the fund-raising committee is a Roman Catholic, Tom Riordan, Tecumseh publisher. The treasurer is an Episcopalian, James Lincoln, copublisher with Riordan of the Tecumseh Herald. Methodists and Presbyterians are joining in the drive.

The plan is to move the building to a new site and restore the colonial charm of its classic pillars and four-pointed steeple.

The old church is being replaced by a new $210,000 building to serve the 165 Episcopal families here.

The 60 citizens each contributed $1 to the drive and elected a nine-member committee to direct the statewide apeal.

Riordan said, "This has got to be a 'crash' program, and rather than concentrating on big contributions, we are going to ask 100,000 Michigan people to contribute $1 each to preserve the church as a building of great historical importance.

"We want to set up a good base for a statewide campaign right here in Tecumseh, even if it means ringing every doorbell in town. We also are getting every organization in Tecumseh active to prove to the rest of the state that we are willing to do our part."

★ ★ ★

The Michigan Historical Commission describes the church as "the oldest church building in Michigan in which religious services have been held continuously," adding that "It is regarded by leading authorities on architecture as having great architectural significance."

Rail Car Burns; Holds Isotopes

Radioactive Material Aboard Train; Delays Another 6 Hours

CHRISTIANBURG, Va. (AP) — A baggage car containing a small amount of radioactive material burned near here yesterday and delayed a New Orleans-to-Washington passenger train for six hours.

The bagage car, in the middle of the train, was disconnected after a railroad agent noticed smoke pouring from the car.

In Washington, the Atomic Energy Commission said the car's contents included small quantities of radioactive isotopes being shipped from the Oak Ridge, Tenn., national laboratory to the University of Connecticut and Virginia Polytechnic Institute at Blacksburg, Va.

An AEC spokesman said only seven millicuries of radioactive materials were included in the two shipments. He said the isotopes were strontium 85, calcium 45 and sulphur 35, used for research. They were packed in lead boxes surrounded by noninflammable packing material. The spokesman said it was unlikely any serious contamination could result.

Thirty-five Christiansburg area firemen were quarantined temporarily for radiation checks, but the AEC spokesman said a team of experts from Ft. Meade, Md., had checked the firemen's clothing and found no contamination.

The passenger train, the Pelican, is operated in this area by the Norfolk & Western Railway and becomes a Southern Railway train east of Lynchburg, Va.

There's Little Doubt–Rocky Will Win Again

The man who emerges with the nomination for governor at the New York State Democratic Convention opening Sept. 17 probably will have to be satisfied with that one dubious victory this year.

Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, a certain choice of the concurrent Republican State Convention in Buffalo, is regarded as a shoo-in come Nov. 6.

★ ★ ★

The only doubt at this time is whether he will better the 573,034-vote plurality he received when first elected in 1958. A record plurality, of course, would show those who will control the Republican nomination for President in 1964 that his first election was not just a flash in the pan.

Rockefeller has been busy campaigning from upstate New York to Coney Island since early spring to assure for himself the margin that will command nationwide attention.

★ ★ ★

Meanwhile, the candidateless Democrats, through no fault of their own, have been waiting impatiently for the nominating convention. New York's Republican-controlled legislature gleefully passed legislation preventing both major party conventions from being held until mid-September. This gives the Democrats a little less than six weeks to mount their campaign to unseat ROCKY.

★ ★ ★

Much more time will be needed to fully introduce the voters to the probable Democratic nominee. He is Robert Morris Morgenthau (yes, Henry Jr.'s boy), a 43-year-old lawyer who resigned as United States attorney for the Southern District of New York to seek "an opportunity for public service."

There are some, reports the New York Times, "who think that his manner—reserved, showing a trace of shyness, and low key without being especially informal—will make him a political figure of limited magnetism."

We can't help but agree and will cast our lot with ROCKY.

A Sad Anniversary–Hammarskjold's Death

A sad anniversary is coming up. It is the 17th opening of the regular session of the United Nations and it just happens to coincide with the tragic death of former Sec. Gen. DAG HAMMARSKJOLD.

It was just a year ago that Hammarskjold and five other were killed in the crash of a DC6B airliner near Ndola in Northern Rhodesia. This unfortunate accident could not have happened at a worse time.

HAMMARSKJOLD was en route to meet Katanga President MOISE TSHOMBE and arrange a cease fire to renewed fighting between U.N. and Katangan forces. His death came in the midst of a Soviet campaign to abolish his office and replace it with a three-man board, or troika.

★ ★ ★

This scheme subsequently was defeated with the election of Hammarskjold's successor, U Thant of Burma, early in November.

Whether the Congo would have been quieter today had HAMMARSKJOLD lived is a matter for historians to speculate. Certainly he had established a remarkable reputation as a peacemaker, approched in the postwar era perhaps only by that other Swedish U.N. diplomat, Count FOLKE BERNADOTTE of Wisborg, who was assassinated in Jerusalem in 1948. It was only fitting that HAMMARSKJOLD should be awarded posthumously the Nobel Peace Prize for 1961.

★ ★ ★

Mystery still shrouds the crash which took HAMMARSKJOLD'S life. A U.N. investigating commission reported on May 2 to the General Assembly that it had been unable to fix the cause.

It said that no evidence had been found to support or to dismiss theories that the plane had been shot down or sabotaged. The Rhodesian authorities did little or nothing to start an immediate investigation.

★ ★ ★

The plane was not found until 15 hours after the crash, which causes many to believe it was not accidental. However, a North Rhodesian coroner ruled accidental death. We wonder.

WITH reference to the race between NIXON and BROWN, indications seem to be that a large number of Californians will experience a great deal of difficulty in deciding whom to vote against.

"HAVING a date with the same boy seven days a week might lead to their going steady," says a teen-age girl. Analysis of her statement reveals considerable plausibility.

Sports Editor Bruno Kearns is pinch-hitting for the Man About Town columnist and is announcing the MAT annual football contest. Due to illness Mr. Howard V. Heldenbrand is confined to his home but is expected to resume work shortly.

A Man's Game

But Mostly Women Win in Football Contest

Men, it's time to save face!

We're supposed to be the rough, tough creatures on this earth. Football is our game.

Trouble is, you can't make the women believe this. It seems every year the Man About Town runs his football contest, a woman either wins or shares in the big prize.

This year the prize will be a $500 Savings Bond, an increase of $200 from past seasons, and it's time we men show these "weaker" members of the human race who has the football mind in the family.

It doesn't cost you anything to compete in this elimination contest. Every member of your family is eligible, even junior in diapers, but only one entry allowed per person.

There's $500 awaiting you and time is getting short.

The POWER of FAITH By WOODI ISHMAEL

Before his first major league game, baseball's Dave "Boo" Ferris paused in the locker room to ask God for strength and courage.

He went on to become a pitching great with the Boston Red Sox, but in 1949, after five years, a shoulder injury threatened to end his pitching career. His prayers seemed unanswered.

"I grew more and more discouraged," he said. "Little by little, though, I began to see that God had other gifts to give."

Back in the minor leagues he was given a chance to coach, and in a few years he returned to the Red Sox as a pitching coach. He says:

"I'd learned the meaning of the verse: 'All things work together for good to them that love God . . . (Romans 8:28). I learned that God always answers, even when we don't know exactly what to pray for."

Days of All Faiths:

To Celebrate St. Januarius' Day

By DR. HOWARD V. HARPER

You probably can't go to Naples Sept. 19, but if you live in a city where there is a "Little Italy," you should not miss what will be going on there. Everybody will be celebrating St. Januarius' (or in Italian, St. Gennaro's Day. He is the patron saint of Naples, and Neapolitans in this country will make as much of the occasion as those who never left home.

In New York, for example, down on Mulberry Street several blocks will be closed to traffic, festoons of colored electric lights will be strung across the street, and there will be an outdoor shrine of St. Gennaro. There will be a tremendous parade, and when the marching is over it will all turn into a happy, noisy street fair, with booths and push carts and food stands — especially food stands. Everywhere you turn there are sausages and clams and pastries and countless Italian foods that Americans never heard of.

But there is one feature of St. Januarius' Day that cannot be reproduced outside Naples: the liquefaction of the saint's blood. On Sept. 19 and on 17 other occasions during the year, the flask of blood that is kept in the Naples cathedral is brought near the silver bust containing the saint's head (also kept in the cathedral) and as the crowds watch, the hard, dry, opaque mass of blood turns into bright red liquid. Sometimes it even bubbles or froths.

★ ★ ★

This is no legend. It happens. There is no question about it. Anyone who doubts it can go and see it himself.

★ ★ ★

There is little information but considerable tradition about this saint. It is known that a bishop named Januarius was martyred somewhere near Naples around the beginning of the fourth century. The further details with which this story is filled out are not accepted as factual.

It is said that as Bishop of Benevento he went to visit four Christians who were in prison for their faith, thus revealing his own connection with the forbidden religion. Then follows an account of how he was thrown into a furnace but unharmed by the flames, exposed to wild beasts but ignored by them, and finally beheaded. The official in charge of the execution was struck blind, but Januarius restored his sight, and 5,000 witnesses were converted by the miracle.

Spending Disturbs Holly Writer

I voted for a new courthouse and I hope the new one lasts as long as the old. The courthouse wasn't finished when the board of supervisors decided it needed a $5 million addition. We didn't even vote on it.

They are trying to push through this $10 million airport project. They tell me it's only $6 million as the federal government puts up the rest of it, but that is us, too. I've read no good argument in favor of it. Major airlines have notified them they won't use the airport.

Now the supervisors build a $600,000 auditorium. The old courthouse would have been fine for this.

This rate increase for senior citizens health insurance is a fog screen prior to medicare. The government has previously stated that Blue Cross-Blue Shield could take over and handle the government health insurance. The medical profession has taken the stand of "hands off" any interference regardless. The AMA has failed to offer any plan but the Kerr-Mills Plan, which has been a failure and they know it.

England has had government health insurance for the past 14 years and it has proven satisfactory. The AMA does not realize this is the 20th century and people like to govern themselves, think for themselves and not be told by the AMA what to do.

I cannot vote for George Romney. I can't vote for any Johnnie Come Lately who wants to save the country after it's already safe. In World War II we had 20 million men and women in uniform and were scraping the bottom of the barrel for manpower. Governor Swainson gave his time and effort. In fact, he left part of his body on the battlefield. This is the kind of courage I like and can understand. To stop arguments in advance, I am a veteran of World War II and Korea.

When Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy's big Newfoundland, Brumus, traveled with him to Hyannis Port recently, it was the end of a long ordeal for the dog.

With Ethel Kennedy and the seven Kennedy children in Massachusetts most of the summer, Brumus had grown utterly disconsolate. He wouldn't eat, and he could not be comforted.

The rash of news stories about him stemmed from the attorney general's effort to cope with the problem by dragging Brumus down to his office.

But that, too, failed. Brumus was moderately content so long as he lounged at Kennedy's feet. Yet the moment he was shunted to an adjoining room, he moaned in misery.

"He just missed the family, that's all," commented a sympathetic observer just before Brumus hopped the plane for Hyannis Port.

Three brigands were seated on a stone. The youngest said to the oldest: "Tell us a story."

And Edward began:

"Four brigands were seated on a stone. The youngest said to the oldest:

"Tell us a story, Edward'."

And Edward began:

"'Five brigands were seated on a stone . . .'"

On the outside, Washington's new $14 million Federal Office Building No. 6 belies its pedestrian name. It is a handsome structure, featuring an openwork pattern in stone.

★ ★ ★

On the inside, it is still something of a minor nightmare though many months have passed since the National Aeronautics and Space Administration and the Office of Education took up residence there.

In the beginning, some of the elevators didn't work, phone installations were inadequate for the building's size, and various other "bugs" appeared.

Though some of these have been ironed out, complaints go on. Grizzled veterans of the standard government building maze are still puzzled by the complex room numbering system. They get lost often in the many side passages.

And then there's the air conditioning. Going full tilt, it makes a conference room sound like a landing strip at National Airport. Conferees weight down papers, and conduct their business in shouts.

Some of them long for the good old days of the disreputable wartime temporary office buildings that were torn down to clear the site for No. 6.

Laurentian Mountain Honeymoon Follows Moore-Kenyon Nuptials

A honeymoon in the Laurentian Mountains, Quebec, is planned by the James D. Moores who spoke vows before Rev. Alfred Belles this afternoon in the Holy Communion Lutheran Church, Detroit.

The former Sally Ellen Kenyon of Detroit is the daughter of Mrs. Glen D. Smith of South Tilden Avenue and the late Orville A. Kenyon.

★ ★

Chantilly lace and seed pearls accented the bride's floor-length gown of white peau de soie worn with silk illusion veil and petal headpiece. She carried white Fuji chrysanthemums and ivy.

Jane Dovletian, Union Lake, who was maid of honor, appeared in street-length ice-blue chiffon. Her headpiece was a cabbage rose and she held a bouquet of pink pompons.

★ ★ ★

Archie Moore of Wayne was his brother's best man. They are the sons of the late Mr. and Mrs. William Moore of Detroit. William Pascoe of Berkley, brother-in-law of the bride, seated guests.

The bridegroom was graduated from Wayne State University where his bride is enrolled as a senior. They will live in Detroit.

For her daughter's wedding and church reception, Mrs. Smith chose pale green chiffon with lace bodice. Her flowers were pink cymbidium orchids.

Sally Ellen Kenyon, daughter of Mrs. Glen D. Smith, South Tilden Avenue, and the late Orville Kenyon, exchanged vows with James D. Moore, Detroit, son of the late William Moores, today in Holy Communion Lutheran Church, Detroit.

Leaders to Gather

Activities for the 1962-63 year will be planned Monday at an 8 p.m. meeting of the Waterford Girl Scout Leaders Association at the Community Activities Building.

All registered adult leaders are invited to the meeting, which will include a program of folk dancing and singing.

Exchange Vows

A reception in the Bloomfield Hills home of the Elmer C. Wettlaufers followed the marriage of their daughter Joan Susan to Morton D. Stebbins of Flint today in Christ Church Cranbrook.

Rev. John H. Albrecht performed the afternoon ceremony.

★ ★ ★

White phalaenopsis orchids, stephanotis and ivy rested on the small white Bible held by the bride, gowned in French ivory peau de soie.

Sprays of Alencon lace accented the front bodice, sleeves and intermission-length skirt which extended into a chapel train. Her silk illusion veil was fitted to a lace Swedish crown.

★ ★ ★

Yellow chrysanthemums complemented dresses of Romance blue chiffon for bridesmaids Mrs. Ronald O. Kay, Houghton; Elinor Dodge, Birmingham; and the bridegroom's sister Deborah.

Mrs. Royce M. Benjamin of Birmingham, her sister's honor matron, carried rust chrysanthemums.

★ ★ ★

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred K. Stebbins of Flint are parents of the bridegroom who had B. DeWayne Elder of Flint as best man.

David Stebbins seated guests with Ronald Conn of Fenton; George Ramos of Flint; and Royce M. Benjamin.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Wettlaufer chose a French blue silk sheath gown with Alencon lace overlay for the wedding. The bridegroom's mother wore a silver and gold brocade dress.

★ ★ ★

Congregation to Mark Pastor's Anniversary

The congregation of New Bethel Baptist Church will observe the fifth anniversary of Rev. Amos G. Johnson as pastor at the 3:30 service Sunday afternoon. Rev. R. A. Allen of the Chapel Hill Baptist Church, Detroit will speak. James Mathews is general chairman.

Pastor Johnson will preach on "The Abundance of Love for Each Other" at the 11 a. m. service. The public is invited, the pastor said.

Stewardship Program Set

Rev. Maurice Shackell Names Objectives of Eight Week Project

St. Paul Lutheran Church, Third and Joslyn Avenues, will begin an eight week stewardship program tomorrow.

The project will culminate in two loyalty evenings, one on Nov. 4 and the other Nov. 7.

★ ★ ★

Some of the objectives of the program are to demonstrate a spiritual concern for inactive members and to reclaim them for Christian service.

The plan is also to encourage one another to greater faithfulness in attendance at worship services; and to strengthen Christian family life through daily study of God's Word, private and family prayers.

★ ★ ★

Other objectives will be to effect greater cooperation between home and church in a program of Christian training and instruction; to encourage greater use of the Christian's time, talent and treasure; and to keep members informed of the work of the church at home and throughout the world.

★ ★ ★

Rev. Maurice G. Shackell, pastor of St. Paul, will preach on "The Duties and Responsibilities of Church Members" at both services tomorrow morning.

PROVIDENCE

Members of Providence Missionary Baptist Church will observe annual Youth Day Sunday tomorrow. Guest speaker at the 11 a. m. service will be Rev. Ezekiel Wright, associate minister of Trinity Baptist Church.

Young people from various churches of the city will participate in the musical program at 3:30 p. m.

★ ★ ★

Preaching at the special services Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday evenings will be Dr. W. J. Davis, bishop of Philadelphia and Chicago. Meetings will begin at 7:30.

Sermon topics will include "Eagles Stir Nest," "Dry Bones" and "Handwriting on Wall." A special blessing will be given each night.

FIRST CHRISTIAN

The first fall meeting of Christian Men's Fellowship of First Christian Church will be held at 6 p. m. Wednesday with a dinner and program. Rev. Jack H. C. Clark, pastor, will present a travelogue of the "Churches of Europe." The pastor and his wife spent several weeks abroad this summer.

Pastor Clark will attend the International Convention of Christian Churches (Disciples of Christ) to be held in Los Angeles Sept. 30 through Oct. 4.

The opening Communion service of the convention will be in Hollywood Bowl. The theme for the year is "The Power of God."

New officers of the Chi Rho group include Linda Crabtree, president; Nancy Appleton, vice president; Nancy Brown, secretary; Mike Shanholtz, treasurer; and Debbie Hard, corresponding secretary.

FIRST BAPTIST

David Liao of Formosa will be the speaker at 7 p. m. in First Baptist Church Sunday.

Born in China and a graduate of Chinese University, he was prepared to enter the teaching profession but his plans were disrupted by the overthrow of the government by Communists.

Mr. Liao was one of nearly a million who fled to Formosa where he came in contact with Orient Crusades Mission and became a Christian. He served as office manager with a staff of 20 Chinese workers at the mission.

Later he was supervisor of the Navigator's Bible Study Course which is being sent to thousands of new believers in Formosa.

Mr. Liao is in the United States for special Bible training.

CENTRAL METHODIST

Special emphasis will be placed on church and church school attendance at Rally Day services tomorrow in Central Methodist Church. Teachers and workers of the school will be honored at the second worship hour.

All services are currently being held in the Isaac Crary Junior High School, Waterford Township.

Dr. Milton H. Bank will preach on "This Is the Lord's Doing" at both the 9:15 and 10:45 morning services.

The Chancel Choir will sing "Rejoice, Ye Pure in Heart" at the second hour and Beverly Stief will sing "The Lord Is My Light" for the offertory solo.

The Methodist Men will hold the first fall dinner meeting at 6:30 p. m. Wednesday in Fellowship Hall located on the new building site on M-59.

Mrs. P. G. Latimer, president of the Flint District Women's Society of Christian Service, will speak to the men on "Men and Missions."

MEMORIAL BAPTIST

Speaking at the 9:30 morning service in Memorial Baptist Church tomorrow will be Rev. David Liao, director of Orient Crusade Mission.

Edward Justin will sing a tenor solo and the choir will present "Only One Life."

At 7:30 p. m. Jacob Swartz will play a trumpet solo consisting of a medley of hymns. "I'll Be a Soldier for Jesus" will be the choir number.

The evening topic will be "Spiritual Laws in the Natural World." Rev. Gerald Rapelje is pastor.

STONE, AUBURN HEIGHTS

Evangelist R. D. Sandlin of Middleton, Ohio will preach at the coming revival in Stone Baptist Church, Auburn Heights. Services will be held at 7:30 p. m. Monday through Sept. 23.

A nursery will be open each night for the care of babies.

TRINITY, WATERFORD TOWNSHIP

The congregation of Trinity Methodist Church will celebrate the first anniversary of the church tomorrow. Morning speaker will be Rev. Leslie Williams, superintendent of the Flint District who assisted the group in organizing the church.

The Adult Choir will sing "Break Forth Into Joy." Jack Byers, choir director, will present the offertory solo.

Following worship service members and friends of the church will get together for a cooperative dinner at the Communities Center Building with each family bringing a covered dish and table service.

Cochairmen for the occasion are Kuga Kojima and Harold Oertel.

The Junior High Youth Fellowship will meet at the parsonage from 5:30 to 7 p. m. and the Senior High Fellowship will assemble there from 7 to 8:30 p. m. Officers will be elected at both sessions.

At 8 p. m. Thursday the Women's Society of Christian Service will get together at the parsonage for the first fall meeting with Mrs. Ronald Thompson, hostess.

PINE HILL

"Because He Loved Her" will be the theme of Rev. Harry W. Clark's sermon at Pine Hill Congregational Church Sunday. This will be the second in the series of sermons entitled "Adventures in Everyday Living."

Worship and Church School are held at 11 a.m. in the Pine Lake Elementary School on West Long Lake Road.

Church School teachers for the coming year include Mrs. Robert Kusser, Margaret Zalac, Courtney Manning, Judy Richards, Donald Barry and Dr. and Mrs. Bradley Barnes.

COVERT METHODIST

Rev. Wilbur E. Courter will continue his series of sermons on "The Measure of His Prayer" tomorrow with the theme, "The Depth of Devotional Direction."

New officers of the Junior High Methodist Youth Fellowship to be installed at 6 p.m. include Lynn Hamilton, president; Carol Petar, vice president; Linda Hunt, secretary; and Charles Hall Jr., treasurer.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hall are counselors of the group.

Church activities for the week include meetings of commissions on education, worship, Christian social concerns, stewardship and finance.

Choir rehearsals under Donald Riley, the new director, began Thursday. The pastor's wife will lead the Junior Choir.

PERRY PARK

Keith Fisher, visitation director of Perry Park Baptist Church, will give members instructions on making home calls at the dinner following morning service tomorrow.

Pastor Hilding Bihl said more than 100 members would participate in the afternoon project which will include making 3,600 calls.

Visitors will return to the church late in the afternoon to give reports.

John Leeson, of Chicago, a representative of Gideon International, will speak at 11 a.m. and again at 7:30 p.m.

OAKLAND AVE. U.P.

Serving on the contest committee for the fall attendance campaign at Oakland Avenue United Presbyterian Church are William Bowes, Gray Graham, Mrs. Robert Craighead, Don Alexander and Tom Mackie.

The campaign with the theme "A Mountain Top Experience" will begin Sept. 23 and continue for six weeks.

"Ways to Spell Love" will be Rev. Theodore R. Allebach's sermon topic at 10 a.m. Sunday. At the 7 o'clock evening service the pastor will preach on "Apostle Paul."

The Youth Ensemble and Carol Choir will furnish music, Dick Wynn, the new Oakland County Youth for Christ director, will sing a solo. Youth groups will meet as usual at 5:45 p.m.

Rev. John Toroni, visitation pastor at First Baptist Church, will bring an inspirational message on his violin to men of the church at the roast beef dinner at 6:30 Monday evening.

A churchwide cooperative dinner is scheduled for 6:30 p.m. Wednesday. The pastor will lead the discussion on "Soul Winning." For the next five Wednesday evenings members and friends will discuss "Five Important Steps in Soul Winning."

Pontiac Bible College to Open

Dr. Rodger Ketterman, Becomes Director of Student Study Courses

Pontiac Bible College will open for the fall term with a rally service at 2:30 p.m. Sunday. The speaker will be Rev. Fred Wing of Perrinton. The day will also include special music and a fellowship hour.

Dr. Rodger Ketterman, the new director, will fill the vacancy left when Rev. William Myers accepted the call to become a missionary teacher in Indonesia.

Dr. Ketterman will also act as director of the Junior Bible School. He has worked as a missionary with American Indians and Mexican people.

The Pontiac Bible College presents courses for every field of Christian service.

These include preparatory courses, Bible studies, Christian worker's course, ministerial training, and through the National Bible College additional degrees will be offered, Pastor Richard Myers said.

The public is invited to attend the rally and to examine the school curriculum.

Classes starting at 6:45 will be held on Monday, Wednesday and Friday evenings.

In cooperation with the Collier Road Church at 1245 Collier Road which houses the Bible School there will be a revival Monday through Sept. 23 beginning tomorrow.

Rev. Virgil Johnson of Richmond, Ind. will be the evangelist.

KINGDOM HALL — The new Kingdom Hall of the West Unit Congregation of Jehovah's Witnesses located at 1611 Rotsel Road will be dedicated in ceremony tonight and tomorrow. The building of red brick and Ohio sandstone with white trim was constructed at a cost of $12,000. Members of the congregations did most of the labor with an approximate saving of $36,000, Edward C. Thornton, building committee chairman, said. Working with Mr. Thornton were Eric Beitler and Clint Duck.

Witnesses to Dedicate Hall

The Pontiac West Congregation of Jehovah's Witnesses is holding open house in their newly constructed Kingdom Hall, 1611 Rotsel St, today and tomorrow.

The hours are from 8:30 a. m. to 10 p. m. tonight and to 6:30 Sunday evening.

Dedication ceremonies will be conducted by Antone Koerber, Watchtower representative from Washington, D. C. at 8:15 tonight. His subject will be "Building the House of Jehovah."

★ ★ ★

"Building in Troublesome Times" will be the theme of an address by Jack Nathan, supervisor of ministerial activities of the Witnesses in Toronto, Ont. at 7:15 this evening.

Under the leadership of Edward C. Thornton tonight's program will begin at 6:50 with song and prayer. Early evening speakers include Clint Duck and James J. Buchbinder.

Lindall Latimer will give the welcome and lead prayer at 9 a. m. Sunday.

Mr. Koerber will speak at 3 p. m. on "World Crisis Marks the Time of the End." Mr. Thornton will give the Watchtower Study at 4:15 p. m. with sessions closing at 5:15 p. m.

The new 70 by 32 foot hall is located on a 300 by 100 foot site.

The interior consists of the main hall where worship is conducted, a foyer, library, study and lavatories. Walls are white with white fiber glass draperies at the windows. The vinyl asbestos floor covering is off white flecked with brown.

"This Kingdom Hall was built with the volunteer assistance of our own members. Actual construction of the stone and brick building began last September.

"It is our hope to make Kingdom Hall a center of pure worship in the community, contributing to the spiritual uplift and welfare of the city," said Mr. Thornton, presiding minister.

All meetings at Kingdom Hall are open to the public and no collections are ever taken, the minister said.

Service Announced

"A Great Meeting" will be the sermon theme of Boyd Glover, minister of Pontiac Church of Christ, 1180 N. Perry St. at 10:50 a.m. Sunday. Fred Alexander will lead the singing and Otis Lang will offer prayer.

Conference Set for Marimont

Rev. George Livesay to Conduct Christian Education Sessions

Conducting a Christian Education Conference Sunday through Tuesday at Marimont Baptist Church is Rev. George B. Livesay, consultant for Baptist Publications in Denver, Colo.

Sessions will be held at 1:30, 6:30 and 7:45 p. m.

★ ★ ★

Rev. Mr. Livesay is a graduate of Bob Jones University, Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary and U. S. Public Health Service Psychiatric Training Program.

He has been a pastor, Christian Day School administrator and a director of Christian education.

"Who Is Responsible for the Sunday School" will be his theme at the Sunday morning service and "Shall I Go Alone" will be his evening subject. He will also be heard at the 3:30 p. m. service.

Philip Somers Jr. will speak to the junior high young people at 6:30 p. m. and Bob Gavette will lead the discussion with the Teens and Twenties group at the same hour.

Robert Gavette will summarize the impact of the Christian Education Conference at the Wednesday evening prayer service.

The church will be host for the roller skating night at 7 p. m. Thursday in University Skating Rink on West Walton Boulevard. The board of deacons will get together at 7 p. m. Friday.

19th Fall Festival Set for Sacred Heart Parish

Sunday is the big day for the 19th Annual Fall Festival of Sacred Heart Parish, Auburn Heights.

The feature of this year's festival will again be a roast beef dinner with all the trimmings. Sacred Heart has developed a reputation for its festival dinners over the past years. Chef Roy Biehn will again preside over the kitchen.

In addition, there will be activities to delight the whole family. Pony rides, games, carnival rides, booths and refreshments will be there for the children.

A country store, candy booth, handiwork booth, bakery goods and many, many others — over 25 attractions in all — will add to the festivities.

All proceeds will go toward furnishing the new convent now under construction.

31st Annual Convention at Missionary Alliance

The 31st Annual Missionary Convention of the Missionary Alliance Church, 220 N. Cass Lake Road at M-59, will be held Sunday through Sept. 23.

★ ★ ★

A special feature of the convention this year is the missionary education exhibit.

Twelve rooms are given over to objects representing all phases of life in countries of Africa, Asia and South America.

★ ★ ★

The exhibit is open until 9 p. m. today and every night next week from 6:45 until 7:20. There is no admission fee.

The convention will open with a worship service at 11 a. m. Sunday. Rev. Kenn W. Opperman, missionary to South America, will speak.

Rev. Mr. Opperman lived in Lima where he opened a new church for the Missionary Alliance Foreign Board. He initiated "Operation Evangelism" which includes both radio and television for reaching people in all areas of the city.

He will also speak at 6 p. m. to Alliance Youth Fellowship.

★ ★ ★

Norma Hart of Omaha, Neb. who has been serving in the Congo and Rev. S. T. Sutherland of Santa Cruz, Calif., missionary to Viet Nam, will speak at 7 p. m. Sunday.

The weekly schedule includes morning meetings with two missionary speakers from 10 a. m. to noon. These sessions will be informative and informal. Opportunity will be given for questions.

FILMS, SLIDES SLATED

A special feature will be missionary films and slides every evening at 7 followed by the regular service at 7:30 p. m. with two missionaries speaking. The musical program will be under the direction of Rev. Melvin Maurer.

★ ★ ★

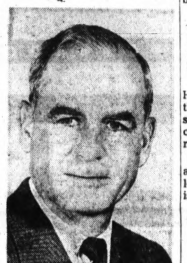

The Missionary Alliance is celebrating its 75th anniversary. According to the local pastor, Rev. G. S. Bersche, the denomination has twice as many converts in foreign mission fields as it has members at home.

★ ★ ★

It is an evangelical body with 60,000 members in 1,200 churches in the United States and Canada, and more interested in expanding in pioneer fields of Christianity than in areas already reached by others.

★ ★ ★

The Alliance church group ranks seventh among Protestants in foreign mission activities.

REV. G. S. BERSCHE

Columbia Ave. Revival Meeting Closing Sunday

The week of revival meetings at Columbia Avenue Baptist Church will close Sunday evening. Services will be at 7 tonight; 11 a.m. and 7 p.m. tomorrow.

Rev. Laney McReynolds, pastor of First Baptist Church in Thorsby, Ala. and evangelist at the meetings, is a graduate of Junior College Southern Baptist College in Walnut Ridge, Ark.

He also received training at Baylor Univyersity and South Western Baptist Theological Seminary. Before taking up work in Thorsby, he was pastor of the Morning Star Baptist Church of Shreveport, La.

Special music has been provided by singing groups from throughout the state as well as by the Columbia Church choir.

Ministers' Meetings Set for 1st Thursday

Rev. Theodore R. Allebach, president of Greater Pontiac Evangelical Ministers' Fellowship, announced meetings will be held the first Thursday of each month in the Oakland Avenue United Presbyterian Church, 404 Oakland Ave.

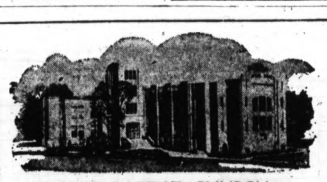

Sessions will begin with business from 8 to 8:30 a. m. Breakfast is scheduled from 8:30 to 9 a. m.

Pastor Allebach said meetings will close promptly at 10 a. m. Reservations for the breakfasts should be in the day before.

Committee chairmen include Rev. Gordon Lindsay, evangelism; Norman Clothier, youth work; Rev. Jack Van Allen, publicity; Rev. Robert Shelton, radio; Rev. Robert Gavette, Christian education; Rev. G. J. Bersche, social action; and Rev. Mr. Allebach, membership.

Other officers consist of Rev. Mr. Bersche, vice president; Rev. Eldon P. Mudge, secretary-treasurer; and Rev. Philip W. Somers, member at large.

Your Neighbor's House

Jayno Heights Home Has Charm

BY JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Women's Editor

With a family devoted to music it was only natural for the John Wileys to want a music room in their new home.

Ray Rapaport included that room in the plans he made for the Wileys. They built on a 100x150-foot lot on Francesca in Jayno Heights. The exterior of the tri-level house is red brick and white siding. Shutters are black.

Michael who's ten plays the violin. His younger brother, David, is a budding pianist. Baby sister Bridget just pounds things. She's only a year old.

Mrs. Wiley is a music teacher during the school year. We photographed the house in summer when she can be a full time homemaker.

Inside the front door is a long slate entrance hall. Stairs to the bedroom level go up at the right and just beyond, down to the family room.

The sunken living room has beige carpeting and off white walls. White cafe curtains hang in the bay window. There are hand hooked rugs in front of some of the furniture.

All furniture is Early American. There's a sapphire blue wing sofa with red, blue and yellow throw pillows. A smaller sofa near the hall has a documentary print covering.

One wing chair has tweed upholstery in blue and gold. A smaller similar chair is covered in gold with a colonial print design. The coffee table has a leather top; lamp tables are marble topped.

UNUSUAL LAMP

The lamp at the end of the sofa is interesting. In the first place, it's enormous. The base is maple. Above that is a round glass globe filled with artificial fruit. The white shade is trimmed with gold braid.

Up one step and you're in the small dining room. Carpeting and walls are the same as the living room's. The draperies across the sliding glass doors are gold and brown.

Drop leaf table and chairs are pine. The chair cushions are gold, brown and orange in a small scale print.

Folding louvered doors close off the kitchen. A "pebble" tile floor combines shades of sandalwood and beige. Cabinets are fruitwood.

For informal meals there's a round maple table and matching chairs. In this eating area the walls are papered in a blue and white print. The sheer cafe curtains at the bay window have a aqua blue trim.

Copper molds hang on the wall.

* * *

The kitchen has pink counters and splashbacks and sandalwood appliances.

In the family room on the lower level the tile floor is gold and white. The large window wall opens to the outside cement patio. The fireplace is set into the red brick wall. The raised hearth is slate topped. Other walls are paneled.

The red and brown braided rug carries out the Early American scheme. A harvest table is placed against one wall. On it is a gay rooster lamp. The sofa and draperies match in a flowered design.

A tiny lavatory down here is papered in white with Early American designs.

MUSIC ROOM

It is on this level that the Wileys built their music room. It is connected to the family room through the lavatory and through a short hallway where there is storage space.

Short white curtains with musical instruments printed on the material are used at the small windows. Walls are cream. In addition to the olive green Lawson sofa there are two chests of drawers. Musical instruments include a walnut baby grand piano and an organ.

Wiley has a minute den on the lower level too. It's just big enough for a desk, chair and a planter. An inner room, it has sliding doors to the family room.

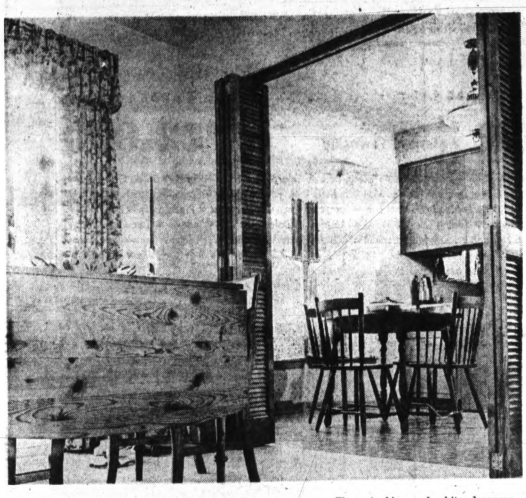

The upstairs hall is large and square. In the area above the basement stairs a bookcase with planter top is built. Opposite is a little round table with mirror and candlestick on it.

Baby Bridget has a pink room with maple furniture. Her curtains are flowered pink ones.

SITTING ROOM TOO — The master bedroom has the look of a sitting room too with the white Boston rocker and the tall pine bookcase. The tester bed has fringe for a canopy. The spread is heirloom type. Curtains have a pink and purple flowered design. Walls are a very light grayed lavender.

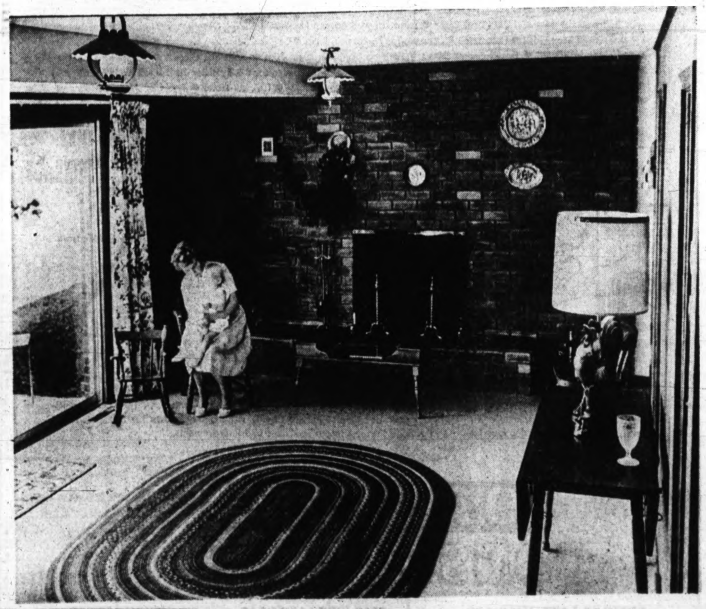

TWO EATING AREAS — At the left is the pine dining room table. At the right you can see the round maple table and chairs in the breakfast room. Folding louvered doors divide the two areas. There is blue and white documentary print wallpaper on the walls of the breakfast room. The floor is tiled in the pebble pattern.

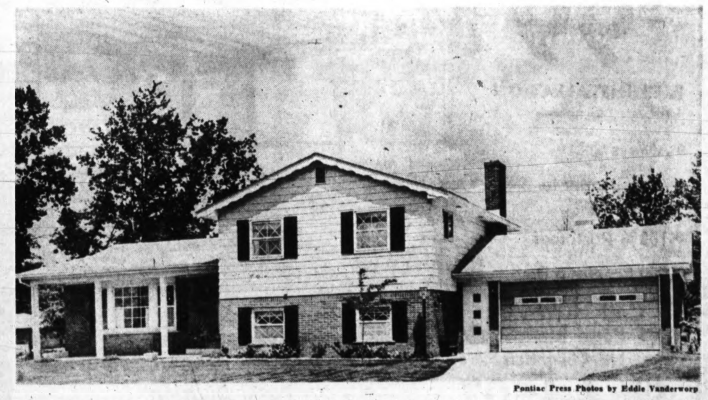

ONE, TWO THREE—Michael draws his bow across the strings while David plays the piano accompaniment. The boys have a pleasant room in which to practice. The Wiley's music room is on the lower level of the house. The floor is light tan tile and walls are cream color. There are musical instrument printed on the white curtains.

FULL OF COLOR — Mrs. Wiley has used lots of color in the living room. With neutral walls and carpeting, this is possible. The sofa is blue, with throw pillows in the primary colors. Pictures above the sofa, especially the center one, repeat the blue. One of the wing chairs has tweed upholstery in a blue shade; the other has a colonial print in gold. Artificial fruit adds a spot of color to the lamp; the glass globe below the shade is full of it.

THE DISTAFF SIDE — Mrs. Wiley holds Bridget as they pose in the family room. Just outside is a cement patio and a picnic table. One wall of this room is red brick; the others are paneled. A braided rug, the harvest table and maple captains chairs carry out the Early American theme. The man of the house has a tiny den opening off this room.

Pontiac Press Photos by Eddie Vanderwerp

IN JAYNO HEIGHTS — The John Wileys enjoy life in this red brick and white siding tri-level home. The living room section at the left balances the garage section at the right. Shutters are black. Ray Rapaport did the building. The Wileys' lot is 100x150. Before moving to their new home the Wileys lived in Drayton Plains.

Wine sales in the United States in 1960 were estimated at $66 million.

Luxury Apartments Going Begging

Landlords, rental gents, lenders and a few builders in most of the country's major cities, are echoing the complaint of a Denver apartment owner: "This is the first time I've run an ad and not had any calls. It's really rough."

Landlords are having a harder time renting new apartments. Vacancy rates are rising and markets are going soft though apartment construction still continues apace. The trouble is that a vast inventory of apartments is piling up and casting a pall on the market, reports a national business magazine.

In a few cities, landlords have no complaints, but its likely that elsewhere the "to let" signs will increase in the months ahead and continue into 1963. Plans made while builders were feeling bullish a year or so ago are just now showing up in steel and concrete. This means a flood of new apartments is still rushing onto the market. Los Angeles builders, for example, are putting up 60 per cent more apartments than last year, and "are racing toward an overbuilt situation," one observer said.

If you've been looking for an apartment for some time, without luck, and are particularly cheered by the situation just described, a word of caution; the apartments that are going begging, for the most part, are in newly built luxury buildings where rents begin at $40-$50 a room a month. As one builder in Chicago admits, he could "fill up in a minute by lowering rents." But he can't do this without taking a loss.

The other segment of the market under pressure is the outmoded, old apartment building.

* * *

But, there's a vast middle market between the luxury apartments and the outmoded dwellings (which usually carry low rents) that certainly is not overbuilt or saturated. Most builders, however, have not been able to hold and, labor and materials costs low enough to build for it. Yet, the few that have been able to do so have found themselves with extremely low vacancy rates and a very strong market.

Typically, builders today believe the soft market in rentals is temporary. They point out that the population is rising and that in a few years the great number of youngsters born during World War II will be marrying and forming families. It is a market, clearly, that they are relying on.

Getting Ready to Paint? Try a Few Handy Tips

The touchdown season is the touch-up season around the house. Painting ranks high on the pre-holiday preparation list. Just about everyone can—and does—paint, so just about everyone can—and will—benefit from a brief review of general painting information, starting with the CEILING: Patch cracks if and where necessary and let dry hard—at least two days before painting. If you use a latex paint, first paint a margin around the entire ceiling where it meets the walls. Then paint across the width of the ceiling.

Apply paint in strips about two feet wide. Work from a dry area into a wet area. If you use an alkyd paint, don't paint margin around the ceiling. Applying paint in two feet wide strips, use a piece of cardboard as a guard around the walls.

WALLS: Dust and fill where necessary. An easy method is to begin on the upper right hand corner and work toward the left. Paint, downward, covering an area of about two feet at a time. Here too, work from a dry area into a wet area.

WOODWORK: Remove any smudges with soap and water. If you're using the same paint on the woodwork as you used on the walls, you can start painting this area while the walls are still wet. However, if you're using a different paint or enamel on woodwork, wait until the walls are dry before you paint.

DOORS: Clean. Then begin with the panels. Next, paint the center rail, then the top and bottom rails, and finally the vertical stiles and edges. If it's a flush door, begin in upper right hand corner, working toward the left and painting from a dry area into a wet one.

WINDOWS: Professional painters use a special method which can be modified for do-it-yourselfers. But first, be sure windows are clean and all loose or peeling paint is removed. Prime bare wood spots with enamel undercoat. On metal windows, remove any rust and prime bare metal spots with a good metal primer. Protect glass with masking tape or use a metal shield as you paint.

Raise the bottom sash and lower the top sash so there are a few inches clearance at each end. Paint bottom sash first, covering as many areas as possible, but do not paint its bottom horizontal. This must be unpainted until later. Now begin painting the top sash. Here again, paint everything possible, with the exception of its top horizontal.

Now, take hold of the unpainted bottom horizontal or lower sash and move to normal position. Raise upper sash, by pushing its unpainted top horizontal. Leave a slight space between sash and window opening. Paint unfinished parts of upper and lower sashes.

FLOORS: The tough floor enamels, available in decorator colors and natural wood tones, are handsome camouflage for worn soft-wood floors and worn linoleum, too. Painting technique? Just don't paint yourself into a corner. But if you do, rest easy. Modern quality paints dry in a couple of hours.

On her canopy bed there is a white tester and a white heirloom spread. Her crib occupies one corner.

The boys have a light green room with white curtains. Their furniture is oak. A pole lamp between the beds provides light for both. Spreads are a pinky sandalwood.

In the master bedroom the walls are a very light lavender that has been grayed down. On the polished oak floor there are gold throw rugs. Curtains are flowered in pink and purple.

In one corner is a tall bookcase with storage below. Next to it a white Boston rocker with a purple pillow invites relaxing.

The bed, like the bookcase, is pine. It is a tester bed with fringe around the canopy. The heirloom spread is creamy white. One cerise pillow is an accent spot.

The attached bath is in matching colors. Curtains are aqua.

Heating Unit Up in Air Today

Heating and cooling equipment is up in the air today—atop buildings, and often skillfully hidden by upward extensions of the outside walls.

★ ★ ★

Where once major heating system components were largely buried in the basement, they are now joining cooling towers and other items on the roof of skyscrapers and other large structures, according to the National Better Heating-Cooling Council.

Conservation of site space and the need to get equipment up high for effective cooling has led for years to placing some equipment on the roof of buildings.

The council points out that the elimination of a basement, or other use of that space has literally pushed other items up to the roof. Today it is not uncommon for even the boiler to be placed above ground.

★ ★ ★

The same trend extends to many other types of structures. Even garden apartments are found with heating and cooling equipment above ground, freeing all ground level and second-story space for useful occupancy.

★ ★ ★

Hydronics, the science of heating and cooling with liquids, is the key to many of these advances in contemporary design and construction, the council points out.

Airport Black Topped

The largest black-top sealing project ever undertaken in Chicago was recently completed on the parking areas of O'Hare Airport, according to Allied Chemical's Barrett Division which supplied 29,000 gallons of coating to cover the 1.3-million-square-foot area. This was enough to surface about 2,000 average home driveways.

Canada's first railway, a 15-mile connecting link in the water transportation route between Montreal and New York, was completed in 1836.

Kids Are Finest of Gifts but House Must Expand

By JULES LOH

There was a young couple, the Smiths,
Who felt kids were the finest of gifts.
But their house was no mansion,
And with family expansion,
They were soon forced to live there in shifts.

★ ★ ★

Some would consider it most unsympathetic, if not downright cruel, to poke fun at the plight of the Smiths.

As nearly everyone knows — usually from woeful experience — an outgrown house isn't something you can laugh off easily.

Fortunately we have something a good deal more comforting than a limerick to offer all the overcrowded Smiths across the land: House of the Week J-39. It was designed by architect Herman H. York.

ONE-STORY

The model is basically a one-story design containing three bedrooms, two full baths and a lavatory, living room, dining room, kitchen and adjoining dinette, and a dramatic early American style family room. It also contains a full basement and two-car garage.

But the bedroom area has been designed with rafters high enough to provide room for two future bedrooms and a third full bath without making any structural changes.

If the two additional bedrooms aren't needed, the space still is ideal for a guest room, or perhaps a den — someplace to go to get away from it all, or watch the ballgame on TV, or write limericks.

★ ★ ★

The expansion area adds 528 square feet to the 1,916 square feet of living area in the basic house. The garage adds another 400 square feet, and the covered portico 102 square feet.

The over-all dimensions of the home are 74'6" wide by 43'8" deep.

The plans show the garage doors located on the side of the house, but if the lot isn't wide enough to accommodate a side driveway the doors could as easily be put in front.

ADDITIONAL DETAILS

Having bedrooms located on different levels of a home usually isn't a satisfactory arrangement, but in this house it works out perfectly. Its design, viewed either from the inside or outside, is such that the bedroom area in effect is a separate wing set at right angle to the housekeeping section and removed from all the noise.

The expansion feature, however, is only one of many advantages this home offers. Throughout, it is the product of real craftsmanship.

The family room, down two steps from the main level, is a warm and cozy spot for informal relaxation. It has a beam ceiling, huge fireplace with a wood box in brick, and architect York suggests random oak floors and wood finished walls.

FURNISH WITH CARE

"The owner also should take extra care in furnishing the room," York said, "to retain the early American flavor."

The kitchen of this house is in front, and the window over the sink offers a view of the front yard through the covered portico.

The kitchen work area is a model of efficiency with plenty of counter space and no less than 40 lineal feet of base and wall cabinets.

The foyer features a double door framing the opening into the living entry with an open railing stair room. Note also that the coat closet door doesn't swing open into the foyer.

★ ★ ★

All this attention to decor and detail doesn't mean architect York has overlooked economy in construction. For example, the bathplaced back to back, and the bathrooms in the bedroom area are ance of the plumbing — laundry, lavatory and kitchen — is likewise neatly grouped for economy.

★ ★ ★

York's exterior shows a minimum of brick (on the portico only, adding a bit of class to the main entry) though brick could be used for the entire sidewall finish if desired.

★ ★ ★

Also, his design shows asphalt roof shingles, but wood shingles probably would be better in this design if they are readily available.

★ ★ ★

What it all boils down to, is that this house is unusually versatile, adaptable to both the taste and the need of almost any size family.

There's Plenty New in Realm of Roofs

Contrary to the old expression that there's nothing new under the sun, there are many new developments ranging from methods of smashing atoms to cultivation of zucchini.

★ ★ ★

One thing that is very much "under the sun" is a roof — and Clarence Hausmann, a roofing authority for Allied Chemical's Barrett Division, makes the point that there are plenty of new things going on in roofs these days.

★ ★ ★

He maintains that new colors, designs and improved weather-protection features have resulted in a wide variety of asphalt shingles which help home owners combat the elements. For instance:

— The last word on what kind of shingles to use when a new roof is put on a house is said more and more often by the woman of the household. Hausmann says women often insist on roof colors that conform with the color scheme of the rest of the house. As a result, a record number of shingle colors are on the market.

— Dark colors have been giving way to lighter shades on residential roofs, with snow-white asphalt shingles a particular favorite of new home owners. The light colors reflect the rays of the sun better, keeping the house cooler in the summer, as well as providing an attractive appearance.

— Shingles that have a built-in adhesive to keep tabs in place so they won't rip away even in hurricane-force winds have been developed for areas where high winds and gales constitute a problem for home owners.

See, No Electric Cord, Says Clock on Wall

Big decorative clocks to hang on the wall, one or two feet in diameter, are now available without unsightly electric cords. They're powered by two mercury cells designed to provide uniform current for one year. One clock looks like grandfather's gold "turnip" pocket watch. They're made by Sessions Clock Division of Alliance Manufacturing Co. Inc., Alliance, Ohio.

Conveniences Breed Noise

Population shifts of the past 1[illegible] years have been toward the su[illegible] burbs and quiet relaxation, away from the clatter and clangor o[illegible] the city.

★ ★ ★

"Home owners have been seeking comparative quiet after a day's work amid the bustle of the city—and with the pace at which many have to work—they need a quieter atmosphere," says a sound-conditioning specialist.

"But often it seems that as the suburban home owner prospers, he creates new types of the noise he thought he wanted to escape," says a representative of one of the nation's leading producers of building materials.

"For example, his power lawnmower can be heard rattling across Suburbia on Saturday mornings; his power-driven tools in his home workshop, the outboard motor he tinkers with in his garage and all the other motors and engines add to cacophony he thought he was leaving behind him," he says.

NOISE INSIDE

There also are noises inside the home that shatter the solitude.

The whirr of an electric dishwasher, the drone of an automatic can opener, the thump of a clothes washer and the hum of a dryer all result from conveniences that are supposed to make living more pleasant, if not less noisy.

"There are two things a home owner can do," Herbert explains. "He can stop everything that makes a noise, or he can attempt to control the volume."

★ ★ ★

Many home owners have found that while they cannot stop the noises, they can somewhat muffle the volume by softening the sound-reflection surfaces inside a house.

★ ★ ★

Installation of fiberboard acoustical ceiling tile can reduce 70 per cent of the excess sound striking it, according to Insulation Board Institute, a group of manufacturers who designated September as "Home Quiet Month."

Indoor Temperature Should Vary Slightly

The difference between floor and ceiling temperature in your home should not be more than 4½ degrees when the outdoor temperature is 30, or 8 degrees when the outdoor temperature is zero, according to American Furnace Company.

★ ★ ★

If the variation is greater in your home, check with a reliable heating contractor.

HALL OF FAME PLANS — Artist's conception embodies plans for a National Journalism Hall of Fame. It is to be erected on South Mountain in Gathland State Park near Hagerstown, Md. Lighted portions of the globe atop the hall will designate nations which have a free press. The arch to the left was erected in 1896 as a monument to writers and artists who covered the Civil War.

Laundry Room Has Potential

It's become quite the usual thing for owners of older houses to install an extra bathroom or powder room in unused 'waste' space somewhere in the home, to convert the attic into an apartment, or to remodel the old basement into two or three rooms.

Here is another such space-saving and time-saving suggestion: turn your laundry room into a combination laundry and "mud" room.

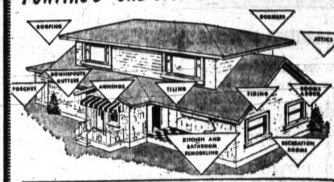

By proper arrangement of the laundry equipment and by installing a shower cabinet and perhaps a water closet, lavatory and medicine cabinet, the laundry room achieves a practical dual purpose.

The "mud" room will prove equally valuable in summer and winter. With access from outside the house, or nearly outside, it will provide the perfect place for cleaning up from outside work or play without tracking dirt through the house.

If this combination laundry and mud room is in a basement you've remodeled into a semibedroom for guests, they can have their own bathroom.

Shower cabinets, you will learn from your plumbing contractor, come in varying sizes and qualities to meet any need. Lavatories and medicine cabinets, too, are available in any size and model you could want.

Zoned Heating Answer for Split-Level Homes

Zoned heating helps to overcome the "stratified air" effect common in split-level dwellings in which the upper level tends to become overheated and lowest level tends to become uncomfortably cold, according to the National Better Heating-Cooling Council.

Zoning is a method of controlling temperatures in different areas of the house at the same time. Bedrooms, for example, are heated by one zone while the kitchen and dining areas are on a second zone. Other rooms can be heated by a third zone.

The Council says zoning is most effectively accomplished with a hydronic (modern forced circulation hot water) heating system. Piping is simply installed in separate "circuits," each controlled by its own thermostat.

ONE BOILER REQUIRED

With a zoned hydronic heating system, bedrooms can be maintained at 65 degrees for comfortable sleeping while a corner den is 74 degrees. Only one home heating boiler is required for the most efficient zoning with hydronic systems. One boiler can handle two or three zones or more.

Zoning saves up to 20 per cent on fuel bills since it allows the heating boiler to send heat only where heat is needed, the council notes. Temperatures can be set lower to effect savings in rooms not used during the day.

The Federal Housing Administration in many areas of the country now requires a zoned heating system in houses of split-level construction.

★ ★ ★

While the FHA regulation is not universal throughout the country, the fact that FHA has in many areas come up with regulations covering the heating in split levels indicates there is a comfort problem in this type of construction that must receive special attention.

Farm Defined by U. S. Dept.

Commerce Survey on Home Improvements Lists All Projects

What is a farm?

The answer is a little more tricky than "just a piece of dirt someone tills." Maybe it's all pastureland or a chicken farm where land is not tilled.

The Department of Commerce, in conducting a recent survey on home improvements, defined farm properties as:

(1) Those having 10 acres or more with sales of farm products in the past year valued at $50 or more.

(2) Those under 10 acres with sales of farm products in the past year valued at $250 or more.

The survey found that $13.8 billion was spent in 1961 for all residential additions-alterations, maintenance and repairs and replacements. Of the total, $852 million was spent on "farm" residences and $13 billion on non-farm residences.

Typical of home improvement projects is the addition of a second bathroom or improvement of existing bathrooms by surfacing them with quality materials, such as ceramic tile. Other surveys have shown that two out of three new homes have more than one bathroom, and that ceramic tile is the preferred surfacing because of its beauty, ease of maintenance and durability.

★ ★ ★

The burgeoning home improvement market, including do-it-yourself projects, is seen by some observers as an ever-increasing market that may reach $15 billion this year, Commerce Department surveys put the figure at $13 billion in 1960. The figures do not include the value of do-it-yourself labor.

Electric Furnace Offers Advantages

If you are building a new home or remodeling an old one this fall, it might pay you to consider a modern electric furnace when it comes time to decide on your heating system.

In addition to the advantages of clean, flameless heat and maintenance-free operation, the electric furnace provides for economical addition of central air conditioning and electronic air cleaning.

An electric furnace almost thinks for itself. When heat is called for by the thermostat, a series of elements is energized to provide the precise amount needed, and no more.

Temperatures in the home are automatically balanced for maximum comfort, regardless of outside conditions.

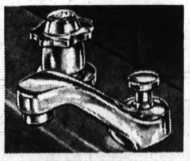

Make Sure Thermostat Isn't Behind the Times

The nerve center of a good heating system, the thermostat on the wall, can cause inefficient operation and discomfort for the home's occupants if it is out of date.

According to the Plumbing-Heating-Cooling Information Bureau, approximately 13 million obsolete thermostats are in use in America today. Technical advances have made modern controls more sensitive and durable than any made several years ago.

Counter-Tops Saved by Chemical Adhesives

There's a new solution to overcoming the unattractive sight of scratched and scorched kitchen counter-tops. New epoxy (chemical) resin adhesives now make possible the installation of ceramic tile directly over softer plastic laminate materials which sometimes were substituted for real tile in home construction.

The epoxies not only have superior bonding strength and durability, but also have excellent resistance to chemicals, heat and stains, thus making them ideal for use with ceramic tile in home kitchens. They are also used for filling the joints between the tiles.

First Methodist Church Announces Assistant

REV. JOHN H. HALL

Rev. John H. Hall, new assistant pastor, will serve as minister of visitation at First Methodist Church.

Among his assignments will be teaching an adult Bible class in the Sunday School and helping to direct the work of the commission of membership and evangelism.

★ ★ ★

Dr. and Mrs. Hall make their home at 324 S. Winding Drive, Waterford Township.

Rev. Carl G. Adams, minister of First Methodist, will preach on "Consecrated Hands" at both the 8:30 and 11 a.m. worship services Sunday.

Marlene Beale will sing the offertory solo at both hours. The Sanctuary Choir will sing at the second service.

Rev. Mr. Adams will start the membership training class at 9:45 tomorrow morning. At 6:15 p.m. senior and junior groups will meet.

Bible study and prayer fellowship is scheduled for 7:30 Wednesday evening with the pastor in charge.

Rev. Wayne Brookshear of St. Luke Methodist Church will conduct the first quarterly conference in the upper church parlors at 7:30 Thursday evening.

At 7:30 p.m. Saturday the Booster Class will meet at the Wesleyan Foundation.

1st Presbyterian Returns to Two Worship Hours

Rev. Galen E. Hershey, pastor of First Presbyterian Church, has chosen "Purposeful Accidents" as his sermon subject for worship services tomorrow morning.

The church will return to its regular schedule of simultaneous services of worship and church School at 9:30 and 11 a.m. The Chancel Choir, directed by Lyndon Salathiel, will sing "The Lord is My Light" by Protheroe.

John Ward, baritone, will present "The Beatitudes" by Malotte as an offertory solo.

Following worship, hosts and hostesses at the coffee hour will be Mr. and Mrs. Richard J. Wright and Mr. and Mrs. Larry McDowell.

Youth groups of the church will resume their fall program Sunday with the Senior High Tuxis Society meeting in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Everett, 6458 Lotus Court, Waterford Township and the Junior High Pioneer Society meeting in the church under the direction of Albert Riddering.

Child Evangelism Fellowship to Meet

Rev. Wright Van Plew, former pastor of Waterford Community Church and Sunny Vale Chapel, Waterford Township, will speak at the Fall Fellowship Meeting of the Oakland County Child Evangelism Fellowship in First Baptist Church at 7:30 Friday evening.

Children from a local Good News Club will provide special music.

Rev. Mr. Van Plew is vice president of Independent Fundamental Churches in Southeast Michigan and chairman of the Michigan Child Evangelism Fellowship Committee.

Esther O'Neal, director of the Fellowship, said the public is invited to the meeting, which opens the season of the Good News Club home Bible classes for children.

KISS FOR IKE — Former President Eisenhower bends low as 6-year-old Ginny Lynn Meadows gives him a smacker yesterday. The girl from Des Plaines, Ill., is "Little Miss Peanut" for the Chicago Kiwanis Clubs. Ike was there for a testimonial breakfast for House minority whip Rep Leslie Arends.

Eisenhower Pushes On Into Pennsylvania Race

SCRANTON, Pa. (AP)—Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower, after campaigning in the heavily Republican Midwest, gave a boost Friday night to the GOP in Pennsylvania, where the Democrats have held the governor's office for eight years.

★ ★ ★

Obviously buoyed by his reception at rallies for congressional candidates in Indiana and Illinois, Eisenhower was greeted by a cheering crowd of 10,000 in this city where Democrats outnumber Republicans two to one.

★ ★ ★

It's the home town of the GOP candidate for governor, William W. Scranton, 43-year-old congressman from whose family the city took its name.

In a statewide telecast, Eisenhower said, "I come to endorse a highly qualified man for the post of governor of our state."

Eisenhower has adopted Pennsylvania as his home state. After the rally he flew to his farm near Gettysburg.

NOT IN TEXT

Eisenhower's prepared text made no mention of U.S. Rep. James Van Zandt, R-Pa., who is seeking to win Sen. Joseph S. Clark's seat. However, during delivery Eisenhower mentioned him three times.

Eisenhower reviewed Scranton's war record and his part in efforts to revitalize Scranton's economy.

"Unhappily," he said, "these days more and more decisions are made by the bureaucrat and fewer and fewer by the people. Unless we do something to change the trend toward Washington's concentration of power over local matters, we shall lose the self-reliance and self-determination which revitalized this city."

★ ★ ★

Earlier in his tour, he urged party unity at rallies for GOP House leaders Charles A. Halleck of Indiana at Rensselaer Thursday and Leslie C. Arends of Illinois at Kankakee on Friday.

He said a united party would put into office "the kind of people who will eliminate the Alice-in-Wonderland thinking," which, he said, is prevalent under the Democratic administration.

Lutheran University Leader Will Speak

Rev. Theodore K. Bundenthal, campus pastor of Martin Luther Chapel and Student Center, Michigan State University, East Lansing, will speak at both services Sunday at Grace Lutheran Church.

Rev. Mr. Bundenthal, the leader of Lutheran university work at MSU graduated from Concordia Seminary, St. Louis, Mo. with a bachelor of divinity and holds a M. A. from Washington University.

He is presently enrolled in a doctoral program at the University of Chicago.

An Air Force chaplain (Capt. USAFR), he is assigned to the 9622 Air Rescue Squad, Lansing. His sermon topic will be, "Void, If Detached."

The Women's Choir under the direction of Mrs. James Parsons will sing "Lead Me Lord" at the 9 a. m. service.

Grace Lutheran Sunday school teachers and staff members are attending a special Lutheran Sunday School Convention in Cobo Hall, Detroit, this weekend.

Hint Use of Federal Marshals

Mississippi-U. S. Showdown Nears

JACKSON, Miss. (AP) — The State of Mississippi and the United States fast approached a showdown today over whether the University of Mississippi will be desegregated.

The Department of Justice was reported considering the use of federal marshals if the state defies a federal court order to admit James Howard Meredith, 29, a Negro, to the all-white school at Oxford next week.

Gov. Ross R. Barnett, 64, an ardent segregationist, Thursday night invoked the doctrine of interposition. Under this, the sovereignty of the state was placed between the school and the federal government. Since 1792 courts have held repeatedly that interposition has no force.

U.S. Dist. Court Judge Sidney Mize disclosed Friday that he had handed down an order, on instructions from the 5th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals, directing the university to admit Meredith.

'NO ALTERNATIVE'

The Department of Justice made no official statement in the case but a department official at Washington who declined to be identified said, "the federal government has no alternative. We must enforce the orders of the court."

The source said that the use of marshals would most likely be the first step if school officials obey Barnett's orders to defy the government.

The State College Board held a two-hour closed session Friday. Afterwards it announced that no action had been taken but that it would meet here again Monday and probably act then. There was no hint of what would happen at that time.

The board reportedly faced a decision on whether it had constitutional authority to control the University of Mississippi and all of higher learning independent of any authority which may be held by the governor. Barnett indicated that he felt that he had taken control of the university invoking interposition.

Pastor Burton to Speak

Rev. Malcolm K. Burton, pastor of First Congregational Church, will preach on "He That Is Not With Me" at the 10:30 morning service tomorrow. The Chancel Choir will make its first appearance after the summer vacation.

Program at St. James

The Senior and Junior Usher Boards of St. James Missionary Baptist Church will sponsor the 3:30 Sunday afternoon service. Dr. Rigoberto M. Guzman and Julian Cook Jr. will take part in the program as will the Male Chorus and Senior Choir of St. James.

Musicale at Southside

The Woods Sisters of Saline will present a musical program at 3:30 Sunday afternoon in the Southside Church of God. Miss Mary Woods will be afternoon speaker. Missionary societies throughout the city are invited, Pastor H. C. Shankle said.

Expect Verdict on Handlers

Waterford Board to Resume Talks on Food Workers Ordinance

With two hours of discussion on a proposed food handlers ordinance still fresh in their minds, Waterford Township Board members will resume talks on the proposal Monday. A decision is expected.

★ ★ ★

The proposed ordinance, designed to tighten restrictions on food handlers in the township, resulted in such a lengthy discussion at last Monday's meeting that Township Supervisor Elmer Johnson asked that it be tabled a week so other business could be handled.

Also slated for board attention Monday will be a suggested ordinance covering itinerant merchants and patterned after a recently passed ordinance in Independence Township.

A license would be required for the intinerant sales people.

A hearing on the blacktopping of Midland Street also is scheduled. The $14,294 project involves 62 residences.

★ ★ ★

In other business the board is scheduled to take action on bids for a new trailer to haul water department equipment. Three bids were submitted last week and referred to the clerk.

Discussion of a suggestion by the road commission that speed limit and stop signs be installed on Bentler Street also is slated and the board will consider purchasing a hose washer for the fire department at an approximate cost of $850.

America wound up the fourth session of the world title match just as they started, with a disastrous hand. It only cost six International Match Points, and it put them seven IMPs behind. It was a needless loss.

Italy with the East-West cards bid a nice comfortable one no-trump and made two. The American East-West bidding is shown in the box.

★ ★ ★

West's opening spade bid is reasonable although most top level bidders would open with one club. East's two club response is an example of the Drury convention which a few of our players use. It asks partner to show if he has a full opening bid. A two diamond rebid denies this, any other bid shows it. So when West bid two no-trump, East raised to three.

★ ★ ★

Usually 14 points opposite nine are not enough to make game and this hand was no exception. North opened a club. South took the ace and returned the suit. West won with king and played ace and jack of hearts. North went up with the king and cleared his club suit with another lead. He still had to get in with the ace of diamonds to cash the last two clubs and set the hand one trick.

Pretty Gals in Basement at City Hospital

You won't be able to walk in the lobby of Pontiac General Hospital and look at the pretty switchboard operators anymore.

They won't be there.

They're being moved to a more isolated room in the basement.

The hospital's board of trustees voted Thursday night to make the change after studying a report from Michigan Bell Telephone Co. engineers.

Last May, the board okayed a $5,000 automatic dial phone system for patients that would "put a dial phone at every bedside."

Thursday, they found out it would also put the pretty girls in the basement.

The space needed to install new equipment in connection with the switchboard, said engineers, was insufficient.

All work is expected to be done by early next year.

Ernest Borgnine Sued in Separation Case

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Actress Katy Jurado yesterday sued her Academy Award-winning husband Ernest Borgnine for separate maintenance.

In the latest development in the stormy marriage, Miss Jurado, 35, asked $1,145 monthly support as well as $6,500 attorney's fees.

Astrological Forecast

By SYDNEY OMARR

For Sunday

"The wise man controls his destiny. Astrology points the way."

PCH-Flint Central Play to 7-7 Standstill

Rivals Unable to Make Best Use of Breaks

Humphrey Tops Chiefs', Offense but Defensive Unit Stands Out

By BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

Call it a misfortune, call it a jinx or call it whatever you may, but Pontiac Central just can't seem to find a way to beat Flint Central.

The Chiefs didn't lose the game, but a 7-7 tie just can't be put into the record books as a victory. The long series now stands 34-10-3 for Flint Central.

Both teams had good scoring opportunities, especially the visiting Indians, but Pontiac Central's defensive wall was outstanding.

Led by tackles Dick Richards, Julian Spires and defensive back Chuck Stein, Flint Central's offense just couldn't penetrate the PCH defensive wall in the goal line shadows.

SIX FUMBLES

Pontiac's scoring chances were snuffed on 6 fumbles, penalties and 4th down inches.

The Chiefs showed zip and class in the early part of the game and scored on a 60-yard drive in 11 plays. The touchdown came on the 5th play of the second quarter when Chuck Humphrey went over from the one and Richards made it 7-0 with a low kick that just cleared.

Flint Central wasted no time coming back after the kickoff. Aided by a 15-yard penalty for mask-grabbing, the Indians needed only five plays for the 62-yard drive with Jewell Baxter scooting around for a 11-yard tally. Bob Langenau converted.

★ ★ ★

For the rest of the game there were plays that should have caused Flint Central coach Bob Leach to pull his hair and PCH coach Paul Dellerba pull the tie right off his neck.

Just before the half ended Paul Oliver had to punt out from his own end zone. Flint's Wesley Moore took the ball on the 40 and went down the sidelines for the goal line.

A PCH tackler had a clear shot at him only two yards after he took the ball but missed him completely. During his run red flags were dropped all over the field and the TD was nullified for clipping.

★ ★ ★

The second half kickoff caused plenty of excitement. Baxter took the kick on the 20, raced to the PCH 40, fumbled, and a half dozen players pounced for the ball. Big tackle Joe Peacock finally scooped it up raced to the PCH 18 and the Chiefs were then penalized for piling on.

This started the series for the Indians on the nine, but in three plays they managed only five yards and Langenau tried for a field goal from the seven. The kick was blocked by end Ray Salin.

PCH had its back to the wall throughout the third quarter. A punt try was low and Oliver tried to run it out and missed the first down by six inches giving the ball to Flint on the 14.

★ ★ ★

Coach Dellerba was especially happy with defensive play, Humphrey had 112 of Pontiac's 180 yards, and neither team showed any kind of passing game.

Midland Crushed

Flint Northern Zips

It isn't literally speaking, but Flint Northern actually ran away with Midland last night, 40-7, in one of the Saginaw Valley games.

In the big game of the SVC, Bay City Handy, No. 1 team of Michigan last year, defeated spunky Arthur Hill, 20-12 while Flint Southwestern edged Port Huron, 7-0.

Bay City Central and Saginaw play tonight.

Flint Northern scored on runs of 38, 29, 46, 44, 3, and 39 yards by speedsters Dalton Kimble, Arnold Brown, Lane Ellis and Ken Scott. Kimble got the first two and Brown those for 46 and 44 yards.

Cliff Finklea had five conversions.

★ ★ ★

Midland led 7-6 when Ray Tucker went one yard in the second quarter and Paul Martin converted. Then Northern's speed took over and ran away from the big Midland team.

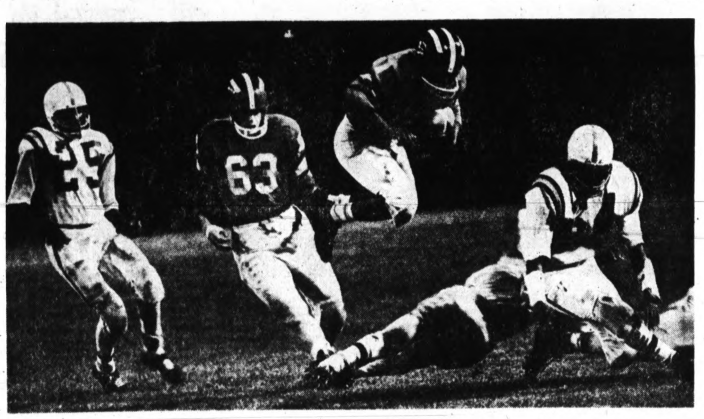

★ ★ ★

Handy quarterback Kerry Townsend passed to Ken Wingeier 27 yards in the 1st period and to Cly Wilhite 12 yards in the second quarter. He then ran one yard with 2:29 left in the game for the final tally as Wilhite added the points.

Arthur Hill scored in the first period on Jim Flora's six yard run and in the third quarter on a two yarder by Flora.

Southwestern got its lone TD in the second quarter on a pass from Bob Reed to Gary Ward seven yards after a 53 yard run by Randy Adams. Reed made the point.

Next week all the SVC schools except Flint Northern are in league play.

No Yard Markers, but Romeo Finds Goal Line

BY DICK POINTON

The officials couldn't find the field markers and Richmond couldn't find the goal line last night in the season opener on the Romeo field. The hosting Bulldogs handed stubborn Richmond a 14-0 defeat.

The game was fifteen minutes late because no one could find the field markers. But when finally found, they were used on a field void of any marked yard lines.

★ ★ ★

John Hanley of Romeo ran around left end from the ten yard line for the first TD. Mike Doyle kicked the point in the first period.

★ ★ ★

The second touchdown drive began at the Richmond 14-yard line where a fumble was recovered by Romeo. The Bulldogs took the advantage of the break and worked their way to the Richmond one-yard line where Mark Johnson crashed over center to score. Doyle again kicked for the PAT and it was 14-0 at halftime.

Only serious threat to the Romeo goal was a third quarter drive by the Blue Devils to the Bulldog 32-yard line where they lost the ball on downs.

Early in the fourth quarter Romeo made a scoring and passing attack which carried it to the Richmond one-yard line. An illegal procedure penalty stopped the drive and Richmond took over on its own one foot line. Richmond however failed to get any sustained drive going.

★ ★ ★

Roy Stiles did an outstanding job of passing and Mark Johnson did well on the ground for Romeo. Richmonds' Rod Delany and Ed Searich led the Red Devils' grand attack.

Holly Outlasts St. John, 19-12

Bronco's Jim Ray Hits Pay Dirt for Winning Touchdown

There were some anxious moments in Holly last night before the Broncos pulled out a 19-12 opening game victory over Flint St. John.

★ ★ ★

The visitors, capitalizing on an interception and a long pass play, slipped ahead 12-7 at the half. But the Broncos stormed back in the third quarter to score twice and then held St. John at bay the rest of the way.

Holly took the opening kickoff and marched 60 yards for its first half score. Jim Ray went the final eight yards and then ran the conversion.

St. John got that one back before the first quarter was over with a touchdown on a 5-yard interception run. In the second period a 60-yard pass clicked for another score.

The Broncos took a third quarter St. John punt and marched 50 yards with Dick Canfield bootlegging the last eight. A recovered fumble on the visitor's 20 paved the way for Ray's eight-yard burst for the final six points.

★ ★ ★

Tackle Dave Young played an outstanding game for Holly. Ray led the Bronco ball carriers.

Ortonville's First Victory Almont's Woe

Ortonville overcame a case of fumblelitis last night to hand Almont a 25-6 setback in the opening game for both teams.

The Black Hawks blew four scoring chances because of fumbles but still had enough power to down the home team.

★ ★ ★

Ortonville struck for two touchdowns in the first quarter with Bill Atkins sprinting six and 10 yards to the goal line. Two more TDs were added in the third period as Steve Hubbs went seven yards and Jerry Cleveland returned an intercepted pass 40.

★ ★ ★

Atkins passed to John Myers for the lone PAT.

Almont broke into the scoring column on John Hough's five yard run in the fourth quarter. Almont lost the ball three times on fumbles and had three passes pilfered by the alert Hawk secondary.

Adkins and Hubbs topped the Ortonville offense while Roger Cascadden, Joe Spress and Mike Moore spearheaded a defense that limited Almont to three first downs.

Aerials Lead Way for Both Chieftain TDs

Interceptions Prevent Falcon Drives Despite Big Yardage

By HERB PETERS

A highly successful passing attack and a crafty pass defense carried Utica to a 13-6 victory over Rochester at home last night as both schools opened their football seasons.

★ ★ ★

Two Ron Paschal-to-Bill French scoring aerials did the trick for the Chieftains and enabled Coach Ralph LaParl to chalk up his first win over the Falcons in three tries.

The sharpshooting quarterback hit his right end with a 14-yard touchdown shot on his first attempt at 7:12 to play in the opening period and the Chiefs had a 7-0 lead for the first half when Tom Harrington converted from placement.

Rochester closed the gap on a 51-yard scoring jaunt by halfback Carl Stefanski early in the third quarter, but failed to get the tying point when Tom Mitzelfeld's place kick was short.

★ ★ ★

Utica matched that tally two minutes later, however, when Paschal again found French clear downfield and completed a 51-yard TD pitch with the rangy flanker.

★ ★ ★

At the finish Paschal had a four-for-eight completion record with two going all the way and 110 yards gained. Then to make it worse for the Falcons, the Chiefs' alert secondary intercepted three Rochester passes to halt drives.

FALCONS STOPPED

Two of the thefts stopped the Falcons inside the Utica 20 in the second half. The second one was picked off by Nelson Bock on the 19 yard line with only 18 seconds remaining in the game.

Captains Close Losers, 7-0

Walled Lake Nips Kettering

By BOB BEEDLE

One look at the final score — 7 to 0 — and it would appear a couple of old rivals had been at it again.

★ ★ ★

But that wasn't the case in Waterford Kettering's final-quarter loss to Walled Lake last night. For this was only the first meeting on the gridiron between Kettering, in just its second year, and long-time power Walled Lake.

The net result of the near-standoff was a moral victory for the Captains, and a possible indication that Walled Lake, which lost 20 lettermen from last year, may be in for a tougher time of it in 1962.

The game matched Dave Smith's Inter-Lakes League champions who compiled an 8-0 mark last year, against Jim Larkin's Kettering crew, 1-6 in its inaugural season. And only a Walled Lake secondary which came "alive" in the fading minutes saved the victory.

Within a nine-minute stretch in the second half, the Vikings picked off four straight Kettering passes by Mel Patterson. The second of these four was by Laurern Gigho at midfield with 11 minutes remaining.

Four plays later, slick and cool junior quarterback John Thomas, son of former Detroit Lion lineman Russ Thomas, tossed a 38-yard aerial of his own to George Bullock for the game's only touchdown, the loss barely escaping defender Earl Hook's reach. Bob Vreeland converted.

The TD was set up by a 26-yard pass from Thomas to Steve Pitcher.

Linebacker Dave Rickard dropped back to intercept two more of Patterson's throws to frustrate Kettering drives, once on WL's 20. And Kettering could ill afford losing possession of the ball with the foes' 22-yard-line marking its furthest penetration of the contest.

Sparking the Captains' deepest, drive (in the second period) was a first-play pass from Patterson to Hook good for 43 yards. But a holding penalty later and some solid line play by the victors stopped Kettering at the 22.

Minutes later, near intermission, Kettering had a touchdown called back by an illegal use of the hands, nullifying a 19-yard pass from Patterson to Orvil Mullins.

Another "almost" play cost the Captains a possible TD in the second stanza when defensive end Steve McCallum nearly grabbed—but couldn't hold — a Walled Lake fumble in mid-air with clean sailing in front of him the 65 yards or so to the goal line.

Thomas, though deprived of protection by his mates, completed 10 of 19 passes for 264 yards. Junior fullback Dean Cherre topped the WL groundgainers with 37 yards in six tries. Bill Haviland of Kettering picked up 42 in four carries.

Southfield Laced Kimball Triumphs, 37-0

Southfield got a taste of future league competition last night in receiving a 37-0 lacing from visiting Royal Oak Kimball.

The Blue Jays announced this week that they plan to withdraw from the Inter-Lakes Conference and join a new Southern County class A league of which Kimball will be a member.

An 85-yard kick-off return for a TD by Kimballs' Dick Sanderson got things rolling for the Knights.

A three yard run by Dennis Granzow put the first quarter score at 13-0.

Lloyd Harper went over from the 15-yard line to score early in the second quarter. Sonny McDonald ran 12 yards for a halftime score of 25-0.

The Knights remained scoreless in the third quarter, however Steve Welson and Tom Bekemeyer scored on consecutive runs of 48 and 44 yards in the final quarter.

Kimball gained 433 yards rushing and 28 yards passing.

West Bloomfield Torpedoes Waterford, 34-20; Avondale Trims Milford, 6-0

Keego Lakers Show Muscles in First Tilt

Danny Greig Is Sharp in Guiding Win Over Waterford

By DON VOGEL

West Bloomfield has a full head of steam for its run on the Wayne-Oakland football championship.

The Lakers fueled for the race in their opening game by steam rolling over Waterford 34-20 last night in a non-league game at Keego Harbor.

Coach Art Paddy's team, a top contender for W-O honors, impressed a standing room only crowd of 2,000 fans with a strong running and passing attack geared around the quarterbacking of Danny Greig.

The junior signal caller displayed deceptive ball handling and sharp passing as the Lakers made five long marches for touchdowns. Halfback Vaughan McGraw crossed the goal line twice for West Bloomfield on one yard off-tackle slants. Fullback Jay Williams scored on a 16-yard trap up the middle and halfback Dick Sweetman ran 14 yards over tackle for touchdowns. Greig passed one yard to halfback Chuck Robinson for the other TD.

OPENING DRIVE

Waterford took the opening kickoff and marched in for a six-point-er with fullback Tom Grile sweeping the final 35 yards around left end. The Lakers were in command the rest of the way.

Two last period scoring passes of 8 and 36 yards from quarterback Bob Readler to flanker Harold Brandon made the final point spread more respectable.

An indication of the Lakers' offensive punch is the fact they scored five of the six times they had the ball. The one failure was the result of a lost fumble that set up Waterford's second touchdown.

West Bloomfield piled up 272 yards rushing on the way to 19 first downs. Greig completed 11 of 16 passes for 83 more yards.

It was Greig's ball handling while executing the plays sent in by Paddy that wrecked the inexperienced Skippers.

Greig's trickery on handoffs had the Skippers repeatedly chasing the wrong back and set up some excellent blocks for the West Bloomfield linemen.

His double fakes on pass plays pulled in the Waterford secondary with such effectiveness that the patterns worked to perfection.

With 275-pound center Ken Victor, tackle Bill Eliason and end Dave Helmreich leading the blocking corps, the Laker backs ate up plenty of yards.

RUSHING LEADER

Robison led the assault with 80 yards in 9 carries. Fullback John Nemyer was next with 63 yards in 7 tries.

The Lakers scored in every quarter, marching 62, 62, 59, 63 and 69 yards to paydirt. West Bloomfield carried a 28-6 margin into the last period.

Lee Keiser was the workhorse of the Waterford backfield, gaining 79 yards in 12 carries.

The Skippers moved the ball well on the ground but until Readler connected twice in the last period the passing left much to be desired. Poor tackling hurt Waterford in the first half.

Brown City Wins 6-0

A 13-yard pass from Al Nagy to Al Martus on a fourth down gamble put Brown City ahead for a 6-0 victory last night over Deckerville.

Nagy's first completed pass went 30 yards to Bill Michalac who went over but the play was called back by a penalty.

The game was a battle of lines, neither team having a completely successful ground drive.

Bloomfield Hills Tips Oak Park 11

Stopped on the ground by a stiff Oak Park defense, Bloomfield Hills took to the airways and gained a 13-6 opening game victory yesterday afternoon.

Roger Stewart passed 35 yards to setup one touchdown and James Miller connected with a 48-yard scoring aerial. End Bill Calhoun caught both tosses.

The Barons sputtered and faltered on offense the entire first half. Host Oak Park was no better with the result neither team could get inside the other's 40-yard line.

The break through came in the third period when Stewart hit Calhoun with a pass to move the ball to the Oak Park 10. Stewart swept around right end for the game's first touchdown.

Coach Don Hoff's Barons increased the margin to 13-0 in the fourth quarter on Miller's pass. Miller ran the conversion.

LAST MINUTE

Oak Park finally dented the goal line with one minute to play. And the Redskins had to use the passing weapon, too.

Quarterback Marshall Shencopp saw Lewis Jordan open behind the Hills' secondary and lofted a strike. The play covered 67 yards.

Bloomfield's Ron Stalilworth kept Oak Park penned in its own territory by punting out of bounds twice inside the 10-yard line.

The Barons were so impotent rushing in the first half that they gained only 25 yards and one first down. Stewart, a breakaway threat, was limited to 32 yards in 13 carries during the game.

Seaholm 31-0 Winner Over Nearby Groves

By DICK BUCK

It looks as if a few more years must pass before Birmingham Groves can sternly challenge its older city rival, Seaholm.

The Maples thoroughly steamrollered the visiting Falcons, 31-0, before an overflow throng on the Seaholm Campus last night.

Bob Drothler and Ken Heft each had two touchdowns, Brant Conley scored the other one. Bret Miller added one extra point with his toe.

Groves never came closer than 32 yards from paydirt. The visitors nevertheless had strong backfield efforts by Bill Stephenson, Lloyd Lewis, Tom Dashiell and Neil Granader.

* * *

Probably the most electrifying play came when Seaholm's Heft leaped into the air to flag down an enemy pass on his own 33, cut to the right sideline as blocking formed and outran the opposition to score the Maples' fourth TD.

This came only seven seconds before the first half ended.

The game also had a foul rarity on the second tally. Seaholm had an astounding four chances to make the point after touchdown but failed—when it counted.

* * *

On the first try, Miller's kick was good. But a teammate was caught holding and the ball was placed 15 yards back. Quarterback Jim Foster then connected on a pass for the point. This time it was illegal procedure against the Maples and the ball took another backward journey.

Foster tried another pass and overshot the mark. But pass interference by Groves was spotted and the officials said "Try again, boys."

Miller reappeared with a kicking effort and was wide. And, at last, no red flags. The play stood.

QUICK TALLY

Seaholm scored the first time it had the ball to set off a 25-point first-half splurge.

Drothler dashed five yards around left end to cap a 52-yard march. A 29-yard gallop around that same end by the swift halfback was a key play in the drive. This first tally came with 6:19 left in the first quarter.

Jack Harvey nailed a Groves fumble on the opening play of the second period. It took the victors two plays to travel eight yards, with Conley cracking over from the four. The extra point mayhem followed.

Another 20-yard scamper, this one by Heft, sparked the next touchdown drive. He burst around right end in much the same fashion he was to do a few minutes later on his punt with the pass interception.

* * *

After Heft's ramble put the ball on Groves' 37, Drothler carried to the 32 and Heft took his turn, rolling to the 20. From there, Drothler exploded up the middle from a mass of players for his second counter.

Heft's interception return nearly six minutes later closed out the first-half scoring.

Heft provided the only score—a rather dull second half as he cruised 28 yards to score at the 6:15 mark in the third stanza.

* * *

From there on, as both coaches substituted freely, Seaholm's Carl Lemle used everyone in uniform and Groves' Jim Kinnison used 33 of his men), the game sagged into a general exchange of mistakes.

Losers Amass Yardage, but Can't Score

Jackets Cross Goal Line in First Series Then Defenses Take Over

By CHUCK ABAIR

A game that winds up 6-0 can normally be described as a defensive battle but that wasn't the case last night at Avondale.

The Yellowjackets won the season opener over Milford in a contest packed with offensive success for both schools.

They combined for 368 yards, 331 of it rushing. As a matter of fact, the losing Redskins led the way with 215 on the ground and 42 passing.

Both winning coach Frank Crowell and disappointed loser Jerry Ganzell expressed surprised at the low score.

The affair started out like it would be a wild point battle. Avondale went to its TD from the opening kickoff and Milford charged right back to reach the three-yard stripe before stalling.

2 OTHER THREATS

Action was between the 20s the rest of the way except for one more penetration by the losers and one by Avondale which reached the Milford 10 but was stopped on a final running play.

Capt. Roger Bauer got the Jackets rolling towards the end zone by running the 1st kickoff back 47 yards to the 'Skin' 43. The Ball brothers—Mike and Roger—took charge alternating gobbling up yardage to paydirt. Bauer got in one eight-yard scamper in the drive.

Mike gained seven on 1st down and Roger, who is only a sophomore, added four for a good start but a nine-yard loss put the Jackets in a hole. Mike dashed for 15, Roger six, Mike four, Bauer eight, Mike four, Roger three and then two for the tally.

* * *

Milford advanced down the field with little trouble following the ensuing kickoff featuring the bull-like rushes of 220-pound Gary Anderson and runs by Jim McFarland, Jim Conzemius and Skip Miller.

An 18-yard gallop by Conzemius, who started in place of ailing Jim Ward, made it 1st down at the Avon 10. Three plays were good for only five yards as the 1st quarter ended. Quarterback Miller was stopped at the three on a rollout on the opening play of the 2nd quarter.

Milford got to the Jacket 17 five minutes later after a short punt but lost possession on an interception. The Redskins made a similar steal late in the half but ran out of gas after reaching the home 29.

FUMBLE HURTS

A final bid by the Wayne-Oakland team was ruined by a fumble at the Oakland A school's 22. Clutch pass completions by Miller to Tom Sheffler and Scott Lovejoy featured the last threat.

Milford did get the ball one more time at midfield, the rugged Anderson ploughed for seven on 1st down but was hurt and left the game. Avondale held, took over and ran out the clock putting together a threat in the process. Roger Ball went 32 yards to the 10 after a 15-yard penalty. The game ended after one more run—a loss.

Crowell lauded the work of sophomores Lynn Thorpe and Dennis Acker who operated at quarterback with veteran Romy Lucero injured. He said his team made two mistakes than usual" for the 1st game.

Dondero Wins Opener

Royal Oak Dondero managed to ward off two East Detroit drives within the ten-yard line and emerge a 12-0 victor last night at East Detroit.

Dondero scored six in the first and third quarters following fumble recoveries.

Gary McKee went 17-yards over the middle and 24 yards off tackle to score the touchdowns.

John Cheshanky and Dick Lambert were defensive standouts.

Oxford Whips Clarkston, 26-7

Wildcats Outclaw Wolves

By JERRY BARNYATHER

Clarkston ushered in it's '62 gridiron season on somewhat of a sour note last night, falling to a vengence minded Oxford aggregation, 19-7.

The victory was, without a doubt, a little on the sweet side for Oxford boss Walt Braun, as the affair was almost a complete reversal of last season's outcome in which Clarkston whiped his outfit 26-7.

* * *

Entering his 3rd year at Oxford, it was only his 5th victory after having faced a major rebuilding chore during the past couple years.

The guest Wildcats needed only 5 plays to register their initial tally and fullback Barry Wheeler and halfback Cork Sandor, both seniors, were highly instrumental in so doing.

Sandor, whose ability to carry opposing linemen perhaps 3 or 4 additional yards, and Wheeler, who can really step, bulled over, under, around and thru a rather pourous Clarkston defense to the 1 yard stripe.

Sandor hurdled the line with 4 minutes remaining in the quarter. Jim Bates' conversion try was wide.

* * *

The Wolves did bounce back reaching their own 41 yard line thru the combined efforts of halfback Randy Armstrong and fullback Dan Jenks.

NO PUNT

On a 4th down situation, the Wolves elected not to punt and Armstrong found a king-sized hole directing him to the Oxford 13.

John Williams stumbled over 4 plays later on a quarterback sneak. Sure footed Ken Miskin booted the extra point and Clarkston acquired new incentive with a temporary 7-6 edge.

Oxford regained it's lead early in the 2nd period following a Clarkston punt.

On the 4th play from scrimmage, Sandor sped thru the dazed Wolves once more and sprinted 78 yards to the goal line.

Bates' kick went astray and Oxford had the upper hand at half time, 12-7.

Following an exchange of punts, Clarkston had hardly pulled itself together before Oxford was trespassing inside its territory again.

Largely thru the aid of penalties and Wheeler's runing, the final Oxford score called for a 4th down power play from 3 yards out. Wheeler provided the punch and Jim Bates' toe climaxed the scoring, 19-7.

Clarkston threatened twice in the 4th stanza, reaching the visitor's 34 and 11 yard lines; the later being stymied by a pass interception.

Coach Walt Braun attributed the fine victory to a potent offense, but criticized the defense, commenting "It's surely something to be desired, as leaky as it appeared." Although elated at the conquest, he bemoaned the fact that the defensive signal caller Jim Bates will be confined to the side line.

The versatile junior suffered a broken wrist midway in the final period.

Plymouth Puts an End to Northville's Streak

An old saying goes, "All good things must come to an end."

Northville fans, who watched their Mustangs roll through a perfect season in 1961, had their hopes for a repeat dashed by Plymouth 19-6 last night.

* * *

Another Wayne-Oakland League school also went down to defeat as North Farmington of the Tri-River Conference blanked Clarenceville, 12-0. It was the two-year-old school's first varsity victory.

Northville started fast, running up a 6-0 lead in the first quarter on Ron Rice's two-yard run.

Plymouth scored in each of the last three quarters. Dick Schryer went one yard and passed eight yards to Dick Egloff for another. Ed Walasky got the third Plymouth TD on a two-yard burst.

SCORING THRUSTS

Two long marches, one in the opening period and one in the last quarter, produced touchdowns for North Farmington.

Jim Ayetlli capped a 64-yard march in the first quarter by plunging over from the three. He galloped 33 yards to the end zone for the final TD to climax a 48-yard drive.

The first touchdown was setup by a 35-yard pass from Lee Marzilla to Glen Lansberg who was hauled down on the three. The Raiders, all sophomores and juniors, reached the Clarenceville 12 once but the half ended before they could push across.

Walled Lake, Skippers Win X-Country Meets

The Walled Lake harriers scored their second victory 23-34 last night over Waterford Kettering between Halves of the Viking-Captains football game at Walled Lake.

It was the Vikings second victory in as many starts.

Richard Speck of Walled Lake paced the night event in a time of 10:28.9 followed by John Popovich of Kettering.

Behind Popovich was; Tom Fagan (WL) Dick Strait (WL) Mark Tanaker (K) Bruce Bedmer (K) and Don Balkwell (WL).

Tigers Nip LA in Charity Turnabout

4th Angel Error Sets up Clincher of 3-2 Triumph

Colavito Wins Game With Single in 10th; Fox Gains Victory

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The charity the error-prone Tigers have been giving their oponents all season was returned in part last night.

In a turnabout, the Tigers were the recipeints of a giveaway. They edged the Los Angeles 3-2 in 10 innings when they should have lost 2-0 in nine.

The jittery Angels, their pennant hopes almost extinguished, committed four errors and all three Tiger runs were unearned.

The victory enabled the Tigers to stave off elimination from the Pennant race for another day. The Yankees lost and fifth-place Detroit's magic — or tragic — number for elimination remained at one.

Manager Bob Scheffing wasn't around to watch his Tigers accept the gift victory. He was ejected in the seventh after a strenuous argument with first base umpire Red Flaherty.

It happened after Earl Averill struck out and catcher Mike Roarke dropped the ball. Averill raced to first, arriving safely because the Detroit catcher threw the ball to third. Scheffing maintained Roarke held onto the third strike.

Rocky Colavito drove in the winning run in the 10th with a single. It upped his American League runs batted in lead to 109. The game-winning rally started when Chico Fernandez' grounder was booted by shortstop Jim Fregosi.

Billy Bruton dropped a sacrifice bunt toward third and was safe when Felix Torres fumbled the ball. Al Kaline followed by bouncing into a double play. But Fernandez went to third and scored on Colavito's single to left.

Two other unearned runs enabled the Tigers to tie the score in the seventh. Fregosi let Colavito's grounder go through him and Norm Cash and Dick McAuliffe singled, loading the bases.

The Detroit offensive continued until the score was tied. One run was forced in when Vic Wertz was hit with a pitch and the other followed on a walk to Larry Osborne.

Terry Fox picked up his third victory by holding the Angels to two hits over the last four innings. Hank Aguirre went the first six innings, surrendering the Angels' two runs in the fifth. The two runs boosted Aguirre's league-leading earned run average from 2.23 to 2.25.

The Tigers have another chance at the merciful Angels tonight. Paul Foytack will pitch for Detroit against Eli Grba.

Radatz Bidder as AL 'Rookie'

By the Associated Press

They want 'em big at Boston, where skyscrapers like Gene Conley and Frank Sullivan fit the pitching mold. Now they've got Dick Radatz, just a bit shorter, a bit wider, and apparently a bit more effective from that towering perspective.

Uncorking his fireballs with overpowering speed, the 6-foot-5 rookie right-hander made another spectacular relief appearance Friday night as he shut out the American League-leading New York Yankees for 2 1-3 innings in a 4-1 Red Sox victory.

The triumph slowed the Yankees' drive for their 12th AL pennant in 14 years, cutting the defending world champions' edge over second-place Minnesota to four games. The Twins used home runs by Vic Power and George Banks plus Dick Stigman's seven-hitter for an 11-1 triumph over Cleveland.

The third-place Los Angeles Angeles, however, were unable to benefit by the Yankees defeat, losing to Detroit 3-2 in 10 innings. The Angels remained 5½ games behind with 13 games to play. The Yankees and Twins have 12 games remaining.

Radatz, 24, is making a strong bid for rookie of the year honors. He came on in relief of starter Bill Monbouquette in the seventh inning with two on and one out. He struck out Mickey Mantle, and after waling Roger Maris, struck out Elston Howard.

In the ninth, Bobby Richardson's double and a walk again put two Yankees on with one out. The husky 240-pound Radatz then struck out Mantle before ending it by getting Maris on a fly ball.

It was the 58th appearance of the season for Radatz and the 50th game he's finished. The tall tosser has posted a 9-5 record, struck out 140 batters in 119 2-3 innings and compiled an eye-catching 1.95 earned run average.

In the other AL game, The Chicago White Sox blanking Washington 2-0 as Joel Horlen and Dom Zanni combined for a three-hitter. The Baltimore-Kansas City game was rained out.

Lu Clinton, Russ Nixon and Frank Malzone paced the Red Sox. Clinton had a double and two singles and scored three runs. Nixon drove in two runs with a pair of grounders. Malzone singled in a run and made two fine plays afield as the Yankees left 13 base runners stranded. Ralph Terry (21-11), was the loser.

The Twins jumped on Indians' starter Dick Donovan (19-9) in the first inning, getting four runs on two-run homers by Power and Banks. That wrapped it up for Stigman (10-5).

Horlen limited the Senators to a pair of pinch hit singles for eight innings before Zanni completed the shutout. The White Sox runs came on Floyd Robinson's two-run sixth inning homer off Dave Stenhouse (11-12).

Detroit Eleven Wins Game After Coach Dies

DETROIT (UPI) — Detroit St. Cecilia High School's football team won one for their coach Friday night.

★ ★ ★

Moments before their game with St. Gregory, the players were informed by Father John Echlin, the school's athletic director, that coach Jim O'Leary was dead.

★ ★ ★

O'Leary, 31, former University of Detroit star halfback, suffered a ruptured blood vessel in his head Aug. 26. He was operated on to relieve the pressure on Sept. 6 and never regained consciusness.

★ ★ ★

O'Leary, survived by his wife and three young children, died Friday at Mt. Carmel Hospital.

His team said a silent prayer for O'Leary and then upset St. Gregory, 12-0.

Steelers 1st Lion Loop Foe

Season Opener Set for Detroit Park Sunday

Full Schedule on Tap Around NFL Circuit; 3 Games in AFL

Hoping to pick up where they left off during the exhibition season, the Detroit Lions swing into another championship season meeting fellow western conference member Pittsburgh in one of several National Football League openers tomorrow at 1:30 p.m. at Tiger Stadium.

Detroit turned in an impressive home exhibition triumph over Buddy Parker's Steelers but is ranked only a seven-point favorite because Pittsburgh has been coming along fast in recent weeks.

Both teams are considered contenders to Green Bay for division and loop honors.

Injuries to quarterbacks Milt Plum and Earl Morrall will be top concern of the Lions brass right up to game tine. Plum will likely start although he has been favoring an injured hand. Morrall is a question mark due to the recent power mower accident which cost him part of a toe.

Green Bay is picked to open up in top notch style at home against Minnesota. Los Angeles will visit troubled Baltimore, the San Francisco 49ers host the Chicago Bears and Washington is at Dallas in some of the other contests.

Green Bay will present its safe strong offense. The Vikings are improved with a revamped defense. Colts Joe Perry and Lenny Moore are out but John Unitas is healthy. The Cards also have injury problems. The Eagle defense is a question mark. Dallas has a new defense and Washington a new offense.

The Eastern Conference is pitting its four strongest teams against each other in a three-week round robin-type setup. Tomorrow, the Browns will entertain the conference champion Giants as St. Louis plays at Philadelphia.

Clawson Rolls in Easy Win

The preseason forecasts said Clawson would be strong and Lamphere's Rams found out why, 34-0, last night.

Brodie Burton scored three touchdowns on runs of 10, 17 and 10 yards. Rick Satow sprinted one yard and Bud Trexler two for the other TDs.

Three Clawson touchdowns were called back by penalties. Doug Padgett ran two extra points and Mike Bradley booted two through the uprights.

Tackle Bill Hayes led a Clawson defense that limited Lamphere to a minus two yards rushing. The Rams total offense showed 45 yards, all passing. They crossed the 50 only once, late in the game, and reached the winner's 10. John Miller blocked two Lamphere punts.

Burton led the Clawson attack with 122 yards in 11 carries. The winners gained 371 total yards, but was hampered by 125 in penalties.

Anchor Bay Strong in Opening Game

Sparked by Dennis Folan, Anchor Bay opened its grid season with a 19-0 conquest of Algonac last night.

Folan passed to Larry Teller 11 yards and Al Godin nine for touchdowns and scored the other on a 20-yard run. George Torney ran the only successful conversion. Dave Moore helped the cause with runs of 27 and 38. Torney ran well all the way.

Teller, Godin and Dan Halley starred on defense.

Lapeer Happy With Victory

Lapeer pulled a mild but pleasant upset last night by defeating the Genesee County Class B champion Flushing, 12-6 with a strong defensive game.

Flushing crossed the goal line in the second period after Lapeer fumbled on its own 10 yard line. Gary Rowe went over on the first play and the try for point was no good.

Twice in the first period, Lapeer fumbled but withstoood Flushing's attack.

After the TD, Lapeer took the kickoff and marched 80 yards on short passes and dives and George Schwerin passed six yards to Rod Montgomery.

In the second half Lapeer settled down and let Flushing make the mistakes. The Panthers recovered a Flushing fumble on the 10 and in two plays, Francis Yeich went in from the six. Passing try for point was no good.

Yeich was Lapeer's top runner and John Bird, 229 pound tackle along with Mike Powell 6-3 end stood out on defense.

City Battle Sunday; Eaglets, OLL Away

One of the highlights of the new football season will be staged on this very 1st weekend when old rivals St. Frederick and St. Michael match touchdowns at Wisner Stadium Sunday at 2:30 p.m.

It will be their 28th meeting with the Shamrocks holding a 16-8 edge. Three games have been ties.

Besides the city parochial championship, a brand new Steve Griffin trophy will be on the line. St. Mike retained a previous award by winning a 3rd straight contest last fall. Rose Griffin will present the new rotating trophy to the winner immediately following the action.

INJURY PROBLEMS

Injuries have hindered both squads in preparing for the big opener and coming season.

St. Michael is favored to contine its domination of recent years but the charges of coach Jim Niebauer will likely be missing three starters.

Veteran tackle Nick Schlicht has a badly sprained ankle and sophomore linebacker Roger Cook has a pulled groin muscle. They will not be in uniform. Big letterman lineman John Clark will see limited service, if any, due to bruised ribs.

★ ★ ★

Spunky quarterback Fred Medina is a question mark starter for St. Fred. Big end and punting ace Charley Dean has also been hurt.

The Shamrocks will have one of their youngest and smallest starting lines in many years. Dick Drake will be the only senior with guard Bob Taylor just a freshman. Two others are sophomores. Only boys with size will be end Mike Pope and guard Dan Loviska, both 190.

Veteran backs are Larry Sonnenberg, Bill Harding and Dick Ghastin. Dick Steinhelper will be playing offense after being a defense ace.

St. Fred will have the weight edge along the line mostly due to 240-pound guard Dick Rodiguez. Dean weighs 200 and tackle Fred Landry 190.

★ ★ ★

Backfield size will be about even. Teaming with Medina for the Rams will be Mike Windey, John Poet and Marcello Gallardo, a transfer with good potential.

Sonnenberg, Harding, Ghaston and Clark combined for 36 points in a 63-6 St. Mike romp a year ago—the most one-sided game in the history of the meetings. Sonnenberg and Harding scored two touchdowns each.

★ ★ ★

Both schools have been hot-and-cold in recent workouts but should be at fever pitch by game time. Spirit is reportedly the best of recent seasons on the St. Fred eleven under new coach Chuck Lewis.

EAGLETS PLAY

The city game will be one of three tomorrow in the new Northwest Catholic League. Orchard Lake St. Mary goes to Royal Oak St. Mary and Farmington Our Lady of Sorrows goes to Detroit St. Agatha in the others.

★ ★ ★

It's early for title talk but that contest at Royal Oak could have much to say about the 1st championship in the NCL. Larry Janiszewski will direct the Eaglet offense behind a line headed by Ken Kowalski.

★ ★ ★

Waterford Our Lady of the Lakes starts with a non-loop affair at Utica St. Lawrence. George Sharpe, Lou Mettler & Company could be headed for a good season. Birmingham Brother Rice will host Our Lady Lourdes.

Dodgers Gain Game on Giants

By the Associated Press

They caught Maury Wills, but it doesn't look like they'll catch the Los Angeles Dodgers.

Wills swiped his 91st base, and was nabbed trying for his 92nd, as the Dodgers trampled the Chicago Cubs, 13-7 Friday.

That moved National League-leading Dodgers three games in front of the San Francisco Giants, who fell to Pittsburgh 5-1.

It was only the 16th time in the last eight years that a Giant line-up did not include the name of Willie Mays. The Giants have lost all 16.

The flickering hopes of the defending champion Cincinnati Reds all but died at the Polo Grounds in New York, amid a swirling rhubarb over Choo Choo Coleman's home run near the right field foul pole in the bottom of the ninth. The New York Mets won, 10-9, on Coleman's blast and the sinking Reds fell six games behind the Dodgers. Manager Freddie Hutchinson led the violent screams of "foul."

In other games, the Milwaukee Braves closed to within two games of the first division with a 3-1 decision over Houston, as the St. Louis Cardinals dropped a 2-1 game to the Philadelphia Phils.

The Dodgers jumped off for seven runs in the first inning against the Cubs. Wills walked and stole second, as he continued his assault on Ty Cobb's record of 96, set in 1915. Wills was caught in the eighth, on a pitch out called by catcher Dick Bertell. It was only the 11th time in 102 tries that he had been nailed.

★ ★ ★

Frank Howard led the 13-hit Los Angeles attack with three single and his 28th home run, for four RBI. Duke Snider homered and Tommy Davis had three hits to boost his average to .341.

Larry Sherry picked up his seventh victory in relief of Johnny Podres, who was bombed out by the Cubs in the fourth. The Chicago defeat, No. 95, was a club record.

Right-hander Earl Francis shut the door on the Mays-less Giants, with a four-hitter. It was the third straight loss for San Francisco. Francis put the game out of reach with a three-run homer in the eighth to cap the Pirate scoring.

Mays was in uniform but did not play. He is recovering from the mysterious fatigue which caused him to faint on the bench Wednesday night in Cincinnati.

★ ★ ★

The Mets jumped off to a 7-1 lead, but the Reds stormed back on Vada Pinson's inside the park home run to take the lead. The Mets again went in front, 9-8, but Pinson tripled home the tying run in the top of the ninth. Then came Coleman's disputed blast which landed on the grandstand roof.

Pinson's homer was the 186th off Met pitching this year, a National League record.

TV Star Has Formula: Work 28 Weeks a Year

By EARL WILSON

HONOLULU — Tennessee Ernie Ford takes himself 10 vacations a year . . . each two weeks long.

I met him here on the beach at Waikiki while he was taking one of the vacations.

"Ten two-week vacations a year," I said. "You must get pretty exhausted just vacationing."

WILSON

"We love it. We find a lot of things to do," Ernie said. "The past year I've enjoyed my family more than in all the years before.

"You see," he added, "Betty and I've planned on this for 17 years . . ."

And the more remarkable thing is that Ernie proved to the broadcasting bosses that you don't have to do a TV program from either New York or Los Angeles — because Ernie lives and works (when he isn't vacationing) in his favorite city, San Francisco.

★ ★ ★

I was thinking of asking Ernie something silly like "Don't you get any vacation from your vacationing?" Maybe he anticipated me.

"Oh, yes, then there's four weeks a year I'm not seen on the show at all," he said—so it would appear that Ernie has about 24 weeks off a year—approximately half a year.

"We go to ball games, or to the races, or go fishin'," Ernie said. "This'll let us do some duck and pheasant huntin' this fall."

"Do you ever go back to Hollywood?" I asked.

"In the year since I moved to San Francisco, I've only been down to LA twice. Once to sing at a friend's wedding. I really shook the dust of Hollywood off of me," he said, "and I don't miss it a bit."

THE WEEKEND WIND-UP IN NEW YORK . . .

Lloyd Bridges says he's writing a play, hopes to produce, direct and star in it . . . The Tommy Dorsey orchestra, led by Sam Donahue, is still going strong; it's being booked through 1965 . . . Jack E. Leonard introduced baseball manager Hank Bauer, of the ninth place Kansas City A's, at a party and said, "Hank will make a speech—maybe he ought to make it from the cellar."

★ ★ ★

TODAY'S BEST LAUGH: Sending a daughter to college isn't so expensive, points out Herb Sherry: "Look what you can save on the phone bill in four years."

WISH I'D SAID THAT: By the time a man is successful enough to buy his wife dresses for a fancy figure, she no longer has one.

★ ★ ★

EARL'S PEARLS: Any bachelor will tell you, his favorite dish is a clean one.

Phyllis Diller complains at the Blue Angel that her husband's always resting: "Once I lay down alongside the couch. Just to see what he'd look like standing up." . . . That's earl, brother.

DAUGHTERS CHOOSE — Above, Edie Adams, widow of the late Ernie Kovacs, hugs the comedian's two daughters after she was granted their custody. Mrs. Bette Kovacs (below) is in tears after losing the bitter court fight. "This is the way Ernie would have wanted it," Miss Adams said. Although both women were found fit and proper guardians, the girls were ruled "of sufficient age to form an intelligent preference." They are 15 and 12.

U. of M. Parley to Eye Arms

U. S., Foreign Experts Expected to Attend 1st 'Control' Symposium

ANN ARBOR (AP) — Top American and foreign officials and specialists are expected to attend an international arms control symposium — believed to be the first of its kind — here Dec. 17-20.

The symposium, jointly sponsored by the University of Michigan, the Bendix Corp. and the Bendix Systems Division, was announced by Dr. Russell D. O'Neal, a Bendix Corp. vice president and cochairman of the symposium. The other cochairman will be Dr. Roger W. Heyns, a U. of M. vice president and dean of the literary college.

More than 700 are expected to attend.

★ ★ ★

Eight speakers, to be named later, are expected to define broad arms control policy problems, recommend solutions and suggest possible roles of government, industry and universities, they said in a joint statement.

★ ★ ★

"Hopefully," O'Neal said, "if a good job is done at the symposium, it might be an aid to national policy."

★ ★ ★

Panels will deal with strategy in arms control, policies and negotiations, inspection and verification, sanctions and international organization and industry research in arms control.

Auto Firms Turning Copycat This Year

By BEN PHLEGAR
AP Automotive Writer

DETROIT—For the Chinese this year is the year of the Tiger. For Detroit's auto moguls it appears next year will be the year of the copycat.

Basically 1963 is a year of refinement. Nobody is trying anything radically different. Two of the most unusual cars are the Corvette coupe and the Studebaker Avanti. These two, in being different from the others, look considerably like one another. The Corvette, especially, bears a strong resemblance to the Jaguar XKE.

COPY STYLING

All of the companies have been quick to adopt styling and features which have proved successful elsewhere. There is the squared-off roof, with blind side panel. Often it's called the Thunderbird roof because the T-bird held to this style until, by 1963 when Chrysler uses it, it will be universal.

Lee Iacocca, general manager of Ford division, told his press preview more Thunderbird cars will be sold in 1963 than ever before "only many of them won't be ours." He said this was a great compliment to Ford styling.

Chrysler borrowed heavily from General Motors and American Motors (for Valiant) as well as Ford. Consequently its cars have lost their different look of 1962. It can be costly to be different in the automobile business if that difference is not what strikes the public fancy. Chrysler found that out with its airflow models of the mid-30s and again with its European styling of 1962.

Lincoln-Mercury says the big new styling feature of its 1963 Mercury Monterey is a reverse slant rear window which opens. The Lincoln Continental used an identical window from 1958 through 1960.

The look-alike trend in exterior styling isn't new. Last year Ford jibed that Chevrolet should have named its new compact the "me too" instead of the Chevy II. And Chevrolet recalled that Ford's 1960 model was a direct effort to copy the 1959 Chevrolet.

BORROW IDEAS

The companies don't limit their idea borrowing to the outside. Ford, for example, is using crank handles on its front vent windows in 1963, a feature General Motors cars have had for years.

General Motors, in turn, has borrowed the idea of a movable steering column. The Thunderbird introduced one in 1961 and for 1963 it also will be available on the Ford Galaxie. The GM version is optional on everything except Chevrolet.

Ford and General Motors also will be using alternating current generators as standard equipment for the first time. These showed up on Chrysler's Valiant in 1960 and were extended to the full Chrysler line in 1961.

Chevrolet finally has come around to some of the extended care features which Ford has been bragging about. For Chevrolet these include a 6,000-mile interval between major lubrications and between oil changes.

Several ideas which were new last year have not been copied yet, and may not be. Chevy II remains the only car using the single leaf rear springs. American Motors and Ford continue alone in their use of long life coolants in place of the conventional anti-freeze.

Judge Moore Panel Member at State Confab

Oakland County Probate Judge Arthur E. Moore will be one of four panelists who will discuss municipal programs on youth problems during the 64th annual convention of the Michigan Municipal League in Detroit Wednesday through Friday.

The county's "Protective Services for Children" program, in which community leaders take the lead, has been credited with cutting juvenile delinquency in half since 1957 when Judge Moore instituted the program.

Another major topic of the convention will be the controversial issue of a municipal income tax.

Royal Oak Mayor William Hayward and Berkley Mayor George Kuhn will be among the panelists discussing the income tax issue.

Mayors, village presidents, city and village managers and other municipal officials from throughout the county plan to attend the three-day convention.

How About Starring Liz in 'Better Rice'?

By DICK WEST

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Among the visitors in the capital this week was John Frankenheimer, a young show biz whiz who has been winning all sorts of awards for television and motion picture direction.

★ ★ ★

Feeling that he might have something to contribute to world affairs, I sought out Frankenheimer for an interview. Oddly enough, my hunch was right.

Frankenheimer said he didn't think the government was doing enough about using movies as an instrument of foreign policy to build goodwill for America.

Among other things, he proposed that an international film festival be held in Washington each year.

★ ★ ★

No sooner had I returned to my desk than the long arm of coincidence reached out and knocked me over with a feather.

ONE COMING

There I found a press release announcing that a film festival would be staged here this very autumn—Nov. 7-9 to be exact.

How's that for speedy action, Frankenheimer?

Sponsor of the festival will be Agricultural Department, which arranged the event as part of its centennial observation.

More than 100 films have been entered from the United States, Canada and Latin America. I stopped by the department to get a list of the entries and from all indications the festival will be a real gasser.

One film that should do well is entitled "The Tonganoxie System of Milking Cows." I don't know who, what or where Tonganoxie is, but you'll have to admit it's a catchy title.

★ ★ ★

Another film I'm looking forward to seeing is "Breeding Better Corn," which was produced by the Funk Brothers Seed Co. If it wins an award at the festival, it could establish Funk Brothers as a rival to Warner Brothers.

In retaliation, Warner Brothers could go into the seed business.

The list also includes a film called "Beef Up Feed Lot Profits" and one called "How to Beef Up Feed Lot Profits." Festival judges may be hard pressed to choose between them.

OTHER TITLES

Other titles that caught my eye include "Feed Automation Through a One-Inch Pipe," "Fire Fighting in Country Elevators," Modern Trends in Swine Production" and "An Introduction to the Arabian Horse."

This may not be exactly the kind of festival Frankenheimer had in mind, but it shows that the government is more alert, film-wise, than he suspected.

★ ★ ★

If Frankenheimer would be willing to direct it, I have an idea for a film that I believe would create a sensation at the festival. It would be titled "The Billie Sol Estes Story."

JANET LEIGH, FIANCE — Actress Janet Leigh is joined by the stockbroker she plans to marry as she talked to newsmen at Los Angeles International Airport yesterday. He's Bob Brandt, 35 and twice-married. She divorced her third husband, actor Tony Curtis, in Mexico yesterday. Janet and Bob plan to marry today.

Janet Leigh Weds Today After 'Quickie' Divorce

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (UPI) — Actress Janet Leigh planned to marry for the fourth time today. She obtained a "quickie" Mexican divorce yesterday from actor Tony Curtis.

Miss Leigh, 35, and Hollywood stockbroker Robert Brandt were to be wed this afternoon in the Sands Hotel "Presidential Suite," occupied by Dean Martin and his wife Jeanne.

The Martins were arranging the ceremony. It was Mrs. Martin who introduced Miss Leigh and Brandt.

The actress charged incompatibility in her petition to the court in Juarez, Mexico, yesterday.

MOBBED IN JUAREZ

"I thought this was going to be a nice quiet Juarez divorce," she said, laughing when she was mobbed by autograph seekers and urchins selling chewing gum and candy.

She bought some of the gum from the children before entering the courtroom of the Municipal Palace.

Judge Miguel Gomez Guerra sped the divorce action for Miss Leigh. The normal time to obtain a Mexican divorce is two days.

★ ★ ★

Her California decree does not become final until July 17, 1963. She wanted the Mexican divorce to marry Brandt who she has been dating frequently in Hollywood.

It was a mutual consent divorce. Curtis signed a wavier and property settlements already have been made.

The settlement in the California decree provided that Miss Leigh would retain their Beverly Hills home and one half of all community property in addition to $1 monthly alimony and reasonable child support until their children, Kelly, 6, and Jamie, 3, are 23 years old.

Curtis, 37, was afforded reasonable visitation rights to the children.

State Man Imprisoned by Russ Reported Well

MOSCOW (AP) — Marvin William Makinen of Chassel, Mich., the only American imprisoned in the Soviet Union, appeared to be in good health when he was visited by an official of the American Embassy two weeks ago, an embassy spokesman said yesterday.

The visit took place in Moscow, where the 22-year-old Makinen was brought from a prison in Vladimir, northeast of here.

Two Raids Net 34 Within Hour

Pontiac Police Arrest Area People on Illegal Liquor Charges

Two raids by Pontiac police within an hour early today resulted in the arrest of 34 persons on illegal liquor charges.

Vice squad officers struck first about 5:15 a.m. at 478 S. Sanford, a home raided just a week ago.

Police charged Lawrence Gamble, 39, with operating and maintaining an illegal liquor establishment at that address. He is awaiting examination on the same charge resulting from last week's raid.

Carruthers Hayes, 47, was charged with aiding and abetting the illegal liquor operation. Both men gave the South Sanford Street address as their residence.

★ ★ ★

Fourteen other persons were apprehended for loitering.

About 6:15 a.m., police nabbed 16 others for loitering in an alleged blind pig at 548 Wyoming Ave.

Oscar Atkins, 38, was accused of operating the illegal liquor place and Mildred Hall, 33, was charged with aiding and abetting. Each gave 584 Wyoming Ave. as his home address.

GOP Canvass Trimmed to 3 Days This Year

Oakland County Republicans plan to conduct their previously month-long annual neighbor-to-neighbor drive in three days this year.

The door-to-door campaign to stimulate interest and participation in political affairs, explain Republican philosophy and raise some $40,000 to augment campaign funds and help pay expenses of the county Republican organization is scheduled Monday through Wednesday throughout the county.

Mrs. George W. Romney, wife of the GOP candidate for governor, will speak at a "report dessert" following the drive Friday at St. John's Episcopal Church in Royal Oak.

Chairman of the drive, to be conducted mostly by women volunteers, is Mrs. Philip Moon, 1020 Brookwood St., Birmingham.

Widow of Founder of Insurance Company Had Long Illness

Service for Mrs. Hiland H. (Grace) Thatcher, business partner for 29 years with her husband, in the insurance business, will be at 2 p.m. Monday in Sparks Griffin Chapel. Burial will be in Oak Hill Cemetery.

Mrs. Thatcher, 91, of 75 Cherokee Road, died yesterday after an illness of several months.

In their early married life the Thatchers bought an insurance agency and while her late husband was traveling Mrs. Thatcher took over the office routine. The business is now known as Thatcher, Patterson & Wernet.

She was a past president of Business and Professional Women's Club, a member of National Woman's Farm & Garden Club, All Saints Episcopal Church and Guild II of her church.

★ ★ ★

She was responsible for organizing the Auburn Heights Section of Needlework Guild which was later named the Grace Section in her honor.

The Thatchers celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary in 1940 at their home, Cherrylands in Auburn Heights. In 1950 the couple observed a 60th anniversary and in 1959 their 69th wedding anniversary at home.

Their only son H. Morris Thatcher died during the summer.

'Business Stall' in August Eyed

Economists Study New Indication Expansion Halted 1st Time in '62

WASHINGTON (AP) — Economists studied today a new indication that expansion of the nation's business stalled in August.

The Federal Reserve Board reported Friday that industrial production last month remained unchanged from the previous month for the first time this year.

★ ★ ★

This followed previous reports that retail sales failed to rise in August, that personal income rose by the smallest margin of the year and that building activity declined slightly.

An increase in the unemployment rate had also been reported.

BRIGHT SPOT

One bright spot, however, was a Commerce Department report last week showing manufacturers expect sales to rise through the end of this year to carry factory sales to a record $102.25 billion in the final quarter.

★ ★ ★

The Federal Reserve Board report said output of mines, factories and utilities dipped one-tenth of 1 per cent last month to 118.6 per cent of the 1957 average, while business equipment industries increased activity slightly and production of materials remained steady.

Continuing declines in the production of television sets, furniture and some other home goods was reported, indicating consumer reluctance to spend.

★ ★ ★

Automobile production dropped slightly, the board said, while there was a moderate increase in output of iron and steel during the month.

Tax Committee Meeting Today to Plan Drive

DETROIT (UPI) — The Vigilance Tax Committee will meet at Warren today to draft plans for an Oct. 2 door-to-door petition drive in the suburban Detroit area in an effort to outlaw community collection of income taxes from non residents.

Committee president George Kuhn, Berkley Mayor, said the group will also launch the outstate phase of the petition drive at the meeting.

★ ★ ★

Meanwhile a reciprocity mendment to the city of Detroit's one per cent income tax is expected to be proposed before common council next Tuesday.

It is aimed at preventing residents of Detroit from being taxed twice if they work in Hamtramck. Hamtramck's one per cent income tax is scheduled to become effective Oct. 1.

Borgnine Re-Enlists in Navy, but This Time It's for Laughs

By DORIS KLEIN
(For Bob Thomas)

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—After 17 years, Ernest Borgnine is back in the Navy.

"It's not exactly the Navy I remember," Ernie reminisced. "I don't think we could have won the war if we'd had one like this. But it's a lot more laughs."

Ernie wound up 10 years in the Navy as a chief gunner's mate in 1945. He re-enlists as a lieutenant commander in "McHale's Navy," a comedy television series on ABC starting Oct. 11.

It's in the same zany style that made Phil Silvers' Sgt. Bilko series. "I only hope it does as well," said Borgnine.

Ernie's new Navy consists of three PT boats—one war surplus, tied up at nearby Balboa Bay, and two full-size mockups.

The backlot beach of Borgnine's tropical island has a native village of grass huts, complete with islanders.

SET IN PACIFIC

"The show's set in the South Pacific during World War II," Ernie explained. "I was in the Pacific, but before the war—I joined the Navy in 1935. About as far out in the Pacific as I went was Hawaii.

"In 1941, I quit the navy to go to work in a factory in New Haven, Conn.—1941, what a year to quit the Navy. I was back in in a few months.

★ ★ ★

"In the beginning, we had only three boats patrolling the entire Atlantic Coast and I was on one of them.

"Then they sent me to Hollywood, Fla. I was assigned to a PY, patrol yacht.

★ ★ ★

"The PY was a converted yacht, the SS Intrepid. It used to be owned by the Murphy who invented Murphy beds. He took it to Europe and all over before the war. You should have seen what the Navy did to it!"

CHANGED HIM

The Navy made a lot of changes in Ernie, too. He went in, at 17, weighing 135 pounds. He came out 100 pounds heavier.

He also met his first wife, Rhoda, in the Navy. She was a Wave. They had a daughter, now 10. The marriage broke up, after nine years, in 1958. A year later, Borgnine wed fiery Mexican Katy Jurado. That marriage, too, is on stormy seas. The pair is separated and Borgnine sees little hope for reconciliation.

It's a long way from the Navy in Hollywood, Fla., to the Navy in Hollywood, Calif. Did Ernie ever think he'd make it when he was mustered out in 1945?

"You know, it's a funny thing," he said. "We had a big party at the end of the war and someone asked me what I was going to do when I got out of the Navy. I laughed and said, 'Oh, I'm going to Hollywood and be a big movie star.' You know, what's happened since surprised me more than anybody.

COULD HAVE RETIRED

"This really dates me, but if I'd stayed in the Navy, I could have retired in 1955. That was the year I won the Oscar for 'Marty.'

"Those were good days in the Navy. But I wouldn't have changed what's happened since for anything. I love my work. Friends of mine are always saying, 'Ernie, why don't you take up sailing or something?' Why should I? My work's my hobby.

"And look at all the fun we have around here. They're a great bunch of guys. We're kidding around on the set all the time."

ICC to Study Joint Rail Bid

Sets Date for Debate on Whether to Make 1 Ruling on 3 Mergers

WASHINGTON (AP)— The Interstate Commerce Commission yesterday set Oct. 23 for oral arguments on whether it should make a joint ruling on all three of the big eastern railroad unification plans.

The effect of such action would be to treat all the proposals as a package, in their relation to each other.

The merger applications involve the Chesapeake & Ohio Railway's proposal to gain control of the Baltimore & Ohio, the proposed merger of the Pennsylvania and New York Central railroads, and the move by the Norfolk & Western to unite with the Nickel Plate and lease the Wabash.

Separate hearings on the three proposals have been held by examiners for the ICC. The last of these sessions, involving the Pennsy Central, recessed two weeks ago until Oct. 15. Hearings on the other two plans have been completed.

★ ★ ★

Officials of several major railroads testified at the hearings they believe the ICC should act simultaneously on all three proposals to set up a competitively balanced three-way system which they contend would at least temporarily solve the problems of financially stricken eastern railroads.

The arguments on whether the decision should be consolidated will be held before the full 11-member commission in Washington.

Proposed Amendment Goes to Governors

WASHINGTON (AP)—The proposed antopoll tax 24th Amendment to the U.S. Constitution was submitted Friday to the governors of the 50 States.

Bernard L. Boutin, general services administrator, announced that he had put the formal ratification process into action by sending the necessary papers to the governors.

West Cautious as Reds Yield

Soviets Agree to Use Buses in Berlin to Transport Guards

BERLIN (UPI) — The Western Allies were pleased but cautious today about winning a second round in the cold war over Soviet armored cars in Berlin.

Some Western officials, accustomed to recurrent Communist pressures, feared the Russians' quiet acquiescence on the armored car issue might be a lull before another storm.

Yesterday the Soviets bowed to an allied demand and stopped transporting their guards in armored cars to the Soviet War Memorial in the British sector of the divided city.

They used a bus in compliance with an allied order.

SECOND YIELDING

It was the second time within 10 days that the Russians gave in to the West on a border question.

On Sept. 4, they obeyed an allied order forbidding them to send their armored cars through "Checkpoint Charlie," the crossing point through the Berlin wall into the American sector.

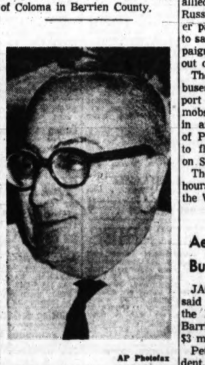

Some Western officials felt the allied successes might cause the Russians to create trouble in other parts of the city in an attempt to save face and further their campaign to get the Western powers out of Berlin.

The Russians switched from buses to armored cars to transport the guards after West Berlin mobs stoned some of their buses in anger over the fatal shooting of Peter Fechter, 18, as he tried to flee East Berlin to the West on Sept. 17.

The Soviets made the switch 24 hours before the deadline set by the West.

Farm Worker Dies

SYRIAN PREMIER — Khaled El Azem took over yesterday as Syria's premier. The veteran politician, once dubbed Syria's Red millionaire, is leading his fifth government in 21 years, a record in Syrian politics.

Aeroquip of Jackson Buys Illinois Firm

JACKSON (AP)— Aeroquip Corp. said yesterday it has purchased the Barco Manufacturing Co. of Barrington, Ill., for an estimated $3 million.

Peter F. Hurst, Aeroquip president, announced the purchase. He said Barco Manufacturing Co., a leading producer of flexible hose and hose fittings, will be operated as a division of Aeroquip.

Barco has 13 plants including two in West Germany. The Illinois firm's estimated net sales this year totaled some $5 million.

Senate Probe on Estes Halts Temporarily

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Senate's Billie Sol Estes inquiry was temporarily closed today, but not so tightly that it couldn't be reopened quickly for Billie Sol himself.

★ ★ ★

The Senate Investigations subcommittee's hearings, which began on June 27, ended for the time being late yesterday.

It was the 38th day of hearings on Estes cotton allotments, and 66 witnesses had been heard.

★ ★ ★

Chairman John L. McClellan, D-Ark., said, however, that the hearings will be resumed promptly if Estes' fraud trial, scheduled to start in Tyler, Tex., Sept. 24, should be postponed for a substantial period.

City Hospital Filled to Limit

Pontiac General Is Forced to Cancel Admissions

The Pontiac General Hospital Board of Trustees was told Thursday night that the hospital has again been forced to cancel admissions daily because of high occupancy.

★ ★ ★

Administrator Harold B. Euler told trustees at their September meeting that "we are again using hall beds and canceling patients daily."

Euler said the hospital had to cancel 16 patient admissions Thursday, eight of whom were surgical cases. Yesterday, 374 of the hospital's 381 beds were occupied.

The unoccupied beds are in the mental health unit and obstetrics where the hospital is required to have some empty beds available at all times since unscheduled admissions are frequent in these departments.

NEARLY CONSTANT

"Occupancy has been a problem most of this year, Euler noted. "We've been free of the problem for only four or five weeks all year, those immediately preceding this week.

"Average occupancy last week was 88.34 per cent. So far this week it's 96.27 per cent. We had no cancellations last week."

For the hospital's ninth accounting period which ended Sept. 8, occupancy was 94.24 per cent, compared to 90.8 per cent for the same period last year.

★ ★ ★

For the year to date, occupancy has averaged 96.26 per cent, compared to 91.94 per cent as of this date in 1961.

Pakistan President, DeGaulle Confer

PARIS (AP) — President Ayub Khan of Pakistan arrived here today for a one-day visit which will include a meeting with President Charles de Gaulle and luncheon at his Elysee Palace.

Ayub Khan flew here from London where British Commonwealth leaders have been discussing Britain's desire to enter the six-nation European Common Market.

The Pakistani leader suggested in London yesterday that the economic aspects of the Common Market be vastly enlarged. He said he hoped to discuss the idea with de Gaulle today.

Water Project Work to Begin

Break Ground Monday to Officially Signal Construction Start

City commissioners and administrators will officially signal the start of construction of Pontiac's $3.9-million water system improvement project Monday with ground - breaking ceremonies at the the new water plant site.

★ ★ ★

The ceremony is scheduled at 5:15 p.m. at the site on Opdyke Road near South Boulevard.

Work on the $1,039,305 pumping station, service building and ground improvements should begin before the end of this month.

It is under contract to the K. G. Marks Excavating Co. of Port Huron.

2 STORAGE TANKS

Two ground-level storage tanks, each with a capacity of 500,000-000 gallons also will be constructed on the site by General American Transportation Co., of East Chicago, Ill., at an estimated cost of $341,500.

★ ★ ★

The site was purchased early this year from General Motors Corp.

Work at the site and on transmission lines and reservoirs elsewhere in the city must be completed before the city can begin using Detroit water next July.

All projects are under contract and will be financed by a $3.77-million revenue bond issue awarded Tuesday by the commission.

Ground - breaking ceremonies were scheduled at an informal meeting of commissioners last night.

Three Children Rescued From Burning Auto

DETROIT (AP) —A fire in an automobile trapped three small girls yesterday.

A woman rescued the trio.

★ ★ ★

Anthony Viera, 39, of Warren, left his daughters, Beth Ann, 2, and Marie, 9 months, and a step daughter, Penny Compton, 4, in his car while he visited a shopping center.

Viera was buying flowers and a get-well card for his hospitalized wife.

Mrs. Marie Barr, 36, heard the children scream from the car. Fire had broken out. Mrs. Barr ran to the car, snatched open a door, and smothered the flames with a blanket.

★ ★ ★

Police said the children apparently had played with matches found in a glove compartment.

★ ★ ★

Marie and Beth Ann suffered minor burns. Penny was burned seriously and was hospitalized.

RIDE A HOBBY

Hobbies provide pleasure, develop new interests and occasionally bring financial independence. Betty McDonald was bored, kept a diary of scenes, amusing incidents and people who lived around her isolated chicken ranch; she write "The Egg and I", as a hobby, that hobby made her famous and wealthy. John Adams, retired and bored, watched birds hunt nesting places, built bird houses, filling his hours with constructive labor; he was happy and so were the birds. Dr. Alvin Hubbard tinkered with a painless drill, as a hobby, used air to gain supersonic speed and painless dentistry. Alice Peterson taught school, retired, was bored, restless and unhappy. She visited a children's hospital, began teaching those crippled children simple skills, as a hobby and realized love and appreciation. A young businessman took his worries to his hobby shop, forgot them as he turned a table leg; his subconscious mind brought answers, correct answers.

Hobbies are avocations that bring a wealth of mental and physical relaxation, stimulation of ideas and time to reflect. Ride A Hobby to better health and greater happiness.

TRADING IS TERRIFIC

LAKE PRIVILEGES, CITY FLAIR, SOUNDS LIKE PIONEER HIGHLANDS and it is! Certainly this is one of the most complete homes we've seen in some time. Brick, 3 bedroom, bath and a half and 2 car garage. No typical basement, but actually over a 1000 sq. ft. of additional living space. Its almost a second home even to kitchen and bath facilities, a little extra den and the beautiful big rumpus room Real value at $17,500. Extras galore: terms to suit.

ESTABLISHED NEIGHBORHOOD: a particularly good school district. Aluminum exterior enhanced by brick trim. 3 lovely bedrooms. Family dining room. Modernized kitchen. Recreation space in basement plus separate laundry and furnace room. Gas heat. Wall to wall carpeting included in price of $12,700. 10 per cent plus closing costs down. Leaving state and will give quick possession.

WALLED LAKE AREA: One of the best kept 3 bedroom brick ranch homes it has been our privilege to offer. There is a beautiful "rec." room with fireplace in the basement. Absolutely no weeds in the exquisite lawn, nothing but gorgeous trees, shrubs and fencing to keep it just that way. $16,950. 10 per cent plus costs. Owner might consider vacant land as partial down payment.

OWNER SAYS "CUT THE PRICE TO $11,750 and the down payment to $1350." Here's your opportunity to own a well-built 3 bedroom, plastered walls and hardwood floors at terms to easy to turn down. Very neat, painted basement, gas heat. One of the prettiest yards you'll ever see, shade trees, flowers, grapes and berries. Elderly couple are Arizona bound for reason of health: again it's quick possession if needed.

MARK STREET, TWO BLOCKS FROM WEBSTER. Large 4 bedroom family home with 7 ample closets, an extra half bath and a 3 car garage Very economical gas heat. Has been used as rooming house for teachers and nurses. Full price $10,950.

2-3 ACRE IN THE CITY. 2 bedroom bungalow, enclosed sun porch. All kind of berries and fruit trees. Double garage. Owner says sell with $1,000 down, $60 a month and immediate possession.

Farm Body Denies Snubbing Unions

LANSING (UPI)—The Michigan Farm Bureau yesterday denied that it snubs labor representatives as speakers at its meetings.

In an open letter to Michigan AFL-CIO President August Scholle, Clarence Prentice, secretary-manager of the Farm Bureau, said "It has been the policy to invite candidates from both political parties to present their platforms before our members."

★ ★ ★

Scholle had previously stated that the AFL-CIO would begin inviting Republican candidates to appear at its meetings when the farm bureau reciprocated by inviting labor officials who were Democrats.

'Plenty of Sleep' Keeps Lad, 104, Going Strong

DETROIT (AP) — Celebrating his 104th birthday yesterday, Frank Perry boasted, "I'm still going strong."

Also, he added, he gets recreation playing pinochle, roughhousing with his pet cat Tiger and keeping up with the Detroit baseball team.

The Tigers, he predicted, "will make a comeback next year."

The former Saginaw County farmer lives two blocks from Tiger Stadium.

At the age of 8 he got a job piling barrel staves at a salt block and at 15 he hired on as a lumberjack near Clare. He saved his money and bought a farm. After many years on the land he sold his farm and moved to Detroit in 1912.

Nephew of Killer Gets 14-Year Term

CHICAGO (AP) — Detroiter William Triplett, 37, whose testimony helped convict his uncle of the gangland-style murder of a Chicago labor leader, was sentenced to 14 years in prison yesterday for his part in the killing.

In sentencing Triplett, Criminal Court Judge Alexander Napoli said, "Without the testimony of Triplett the state could never have proved the case against Dana Horton Nash."

★ ★ ★

Nash, 41, also of Detroit, was convicted by a jury Thursday of murdering John A. Kilpatrick, 55, Kilpatrick, president of the United Industrial Workers Union, was shot to death in his parked auto in a South Side alley Oct. 20.

Pearls were used as legal currency for more than a century in colonial Venezuela.

Bus Experiment in Detroit Cited as Successful

DETROIT (UPI) — Mayor Jerome P. Cavanagh has termed an eight-week test in which bus service was doubled on Grand River "very successful."

He said the passenger load increased by 16 per cent during the test period and added that a program is being drafted to increase service on the Joy Road, Greenfield, Chalmers and Vernor feeder lines.

The feeder line program will be submitted to the federal government for possible grants.

★ ★ ★

The federal government contributed two-thirds towards the cost of the eight-week test on Grand River which cost $336,000.

The feeder-line tests are expected to cost $300,000 and Detroit hopes to get a government grant covering two-thirds of the cost.

U.S. Ponders Holding Up on Sabin Vaccine

Advisory Committee Meets After Canada Halts Oral Doses

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The government's Polio Advisory Committee met behind closed doors in a special session today to decide whether the U.S. Sabin oral vaccine program should be held up.

The special meeting was called by Surgeon General Luther L. Terry after Canada announced it had temporarily withdrawn the drug because four persons who had taken it contracted polio.

A source said the committee was expected to discuss the matter for about six hours before reaching a decision on "what should be the U.S. course of action' toward the cherry-flavored, live virus vaccine.

The source emphasized that the Public Health Service (PHS) was not making any recommendation to local health officials in advance of the committee decision.

★ ★ ★

He said the service was standing on its earlier announcement for the time being.

Terry made it clear that the United States' inoculation program would continue pending the outcome of the study.

Several officials pointed out that a number of persons who took the dead virus Salk vaccine still contracted polio, since no vaccine is 100 per cent effective.

CHICAGO CASE RECALLED

During an epidemic in Chicago in 1956, 22 of 268 victims had received one or more shots of the Salk vaccine.

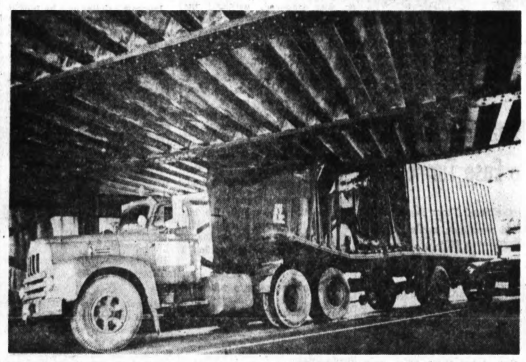

Nevertheless, a number of U.S. communities either stopped or reconsidered their Sabin programs pending the committee's report or their own investigations.

Others continued, pointing out there was no actual evidence to link the vaccine to the Canadian cases.

Canadian Health Minister J. Waldo Monteith announced in Ottawa Thursday that the vaccine would be temporarily withdrawn from use in Canada pending an investigation of the four cases.

Dr. Albert Sabin, who developed the drug, said it was natural to expect such occurrences, because the victims may have been infected before they received the vaccine.

MISFIT — Here's the scene that dismayed truck driver Juan M. Baervil, 29, of Bay City yesterday when he found out — the hard way — that his 11-foot high semitrailer wouldn't fit under the 10½-foot-high railway overpass on Orchard Lake Avenue at Cass Avenue. He told Pontiac police he failed to notice the posted dimensions on the overpass as he drove up to it. The crumpled rig was towed away.

High Sources Place Cuban Problem 2nd

Say President Wants Call-Up Authority to Handle German Crisis

WASHINGTON (AP) — High administration sources say Soviet threats to Berlin are greater now than in many years, and that it was chiefly this situation—not Cuba—that triggered President Kennedy's request for stand-by authority to call up 150,000 Reserves.

While the current military buildup in Cuba was a factor in Kennedy's decision, these sources said, the Berlin situation is considered infinitely more dangerous because the Soviets seek there to weaken the North Atlantic alliance.

The Berlin crisis was described by these top government spokesmen as worse than last year, when 148,000 U.S. military reservists were called up to help meet Communist threats in Berlin and elsewhere.

President Kennedy's current request for authority to mobilize the Reserves is designed as insurance against the worldwide menace of communism, of which Cuba is only a minor factor, they said.

If Congress approves Kennedy's request, it would not mean that reservists will automatically be called to active duty, but it will give the President authority to call them whenever he feels world events warrant it.

The officials indicated any call-up of Reservists this winter would likely involve Air Force tactical units, and probably Navy destroyer crewmen, rather than any large units of the Army Reserve or National Guard.

In playing down the current threat of Premier Fidel Castro's regime, the high government sources said Cuba is regarded as less of a worry to the Western Hemisphere than a year ago.

Has Best Seat — on Destroyer

JFK at Yacht Cup Race

From Our News Wires

NEWPORT, R.I., — President Kennedy, a sailing enthusiast since childhood, today reaped a rich reward for his high office — the best seats for the America's Cup yacht races.

Kennedy took to the sea today aboard a destroyer named for his brother who was killed in World War II.

The President and First Lady took a host of notables along as guests on the U.S.S. Joseph P. Kennedy Jr. for a close look at the U.S. defender, Weatherly, and the Australian challenger, Gretel, set out to battle for the cherished sailing cup.

The destroyer's bridge should tower over most of the hundreds of other craft bobbing in the Atlantic nine miles offshore as the ships duel in the wind over a 24-mile course.

KENNEDY QUIPS

At a dinner given in his honor last night by Australian Ambassador Sir Howard Beale, Kennedy quipped that the crewmen of the Gretel were challenging for a trophy the United States "has held for centuries, unlike the Davis Cup."

"But we have an American motto, one cup at a time," Kennedy added.

Sir Howard said both sides want to win the race, but "the most important thing" is to get to know each other better.

Regardless of their contests at sea, Kennedy said, the United States and Australia are "united by a common devotion to the sea."

★ ★ ★

Between his arrival at Quonset Naval Air Station and his departure for the dinner, Kennedy issued a statement expressing pleasure over House passage of the United Nations bond issue.

★ ★ ★

He said the bipartisan nature of the vote "was a demonstration of the commitment that all Americans have to the future of the United Nations as an instrument devoted to preserving peace throughout the world."

Among the President's sailing companions were U.N. Ambassador Adlai Stevenson, Rhode Island Gov. John Notte and his wife and Senate and House members.

Brazil Congress OKs Plebiscite

Move Lessens Threat of Army Takeover in Governmentless Nation

BRASILIA, (AP) — The Chamber of Deputies eased Brazil's political crisis today by okaying a plebiscite for next January on whether to give executive powers to the figurehead office of President Joao Goulart.

The vote on the bill which sets the plebiscite for Jan. 6 was 169-83—five over the majority required. The measure already has been approved by the Senate.

The action apparently lessened the threat of military intervention in Latin America's largest nation, which has been without a government since Prime Minister Francisco Brochado da Rocha and his cabinet resigned Friday over the plebiscite issue.

The nation was still confronted by a general strike, but Goulart was reported ready to fly to Rio de Janeiro to try to persuade labor leaders to call it off.

Leaders of the strike — involving 2,000 unions claiming 12 million workers—have insisted that the pebiscite be held Oct. 7, same date as the congressional elections.

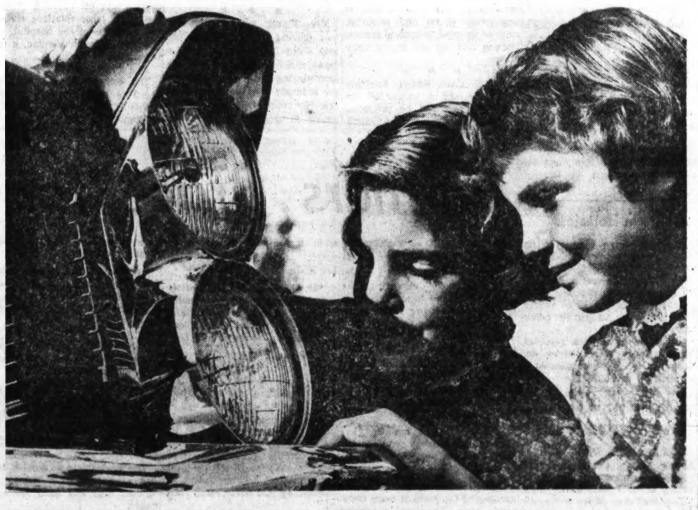

Brochado da Rocha's failure to win approval of this date led to his resignation Friday after two months in office.

Congress' action nevertheless was a victory for Goulart; who took over as a figurehead president a year ago after Janio Quadros resigned. Military leaders then feared Goulart was too leftist and backed action to put Brazil under a parliamentary system of government.

Since then Goulart has won over many moderates and has po-

4 State Candidates to Appear in County

A speech by Democratic candidate for re-election Gov. John B. Swainson in Bloomfield Township Wednesday and a visit by his opponent George W. Romney, to Rochester on Saturday will highlight campaign activities next week in Oakland County.

The week's campaign fare will begin Monday with a debate between Democrat Neil Staebler and Republican Alvin H. Bentley, opposing candidates for Michigan's at-large congressional seat, at 1 p.m. at the Birmingham Community House.

Bentley will campaign in southern Oakland County Monday before and after the debate, while Staebler will visit Pontiac Tuesday, starting out at 5:50 a.m. with a handshaking visit to the Pontiac Motor Division gate on Kennett Street.

Swainson will make a campaign speech at a noon luncheon of the Oakland County Democratic Business and Professional Association at Devon Gables.

Romney is scheduled to address shoppers at the North Hill Shopping Center near Rochester at 12:15 p.m. and follow that with a handshaking tour of the village's downtown area.

The Bentley-Staebler debate is sponsored by the Birmingham League of Women Voters and will concern the United Nations, economic foreign policy and other foreign policy issues.

Bentley will visit the homes of Mrs. Robert Nya, 28656 Crookside Drive, Farmington, and Mrs. Frank Dodge, 1831 Farnum, Royal Oak, Monday morning before making a public appearance at American House in Royal Oak at 11:15 a.m.

He will visit the new J. L. Hudson budget store in Madison Heights at 3:30 p.m. Monday.

Staebler, after greeting workers at Pontiac Motor Division until 7 a.m. Tuesday, will visit the home of Russell Brown, 483 Lynch St., and will campaign door-to-door in the Pontiac neighborhood around Brown's home until about 11:15 a.m.

Tuesday afternoon, Staebler will conduct more door-to-door campaigning in Southfield after visiting the home of Donald Culver, 28233 Larkmoor St., at 2 p.m.

He will then go to the Ford Motor Co.'s Lincoln plant in Wixom at 3:30 to greet workers at the gate.

Judy Garland Better After Kidney Attack

CARSON CITY, Nev. (AP) — Actress Judy Garland was reported on her way to "a rapid and smooth recovery" today after being rushed to a hospital yesterday suffering from a kidney infection.

★ ★ ★

Dr. Richard Grundy of Carson City said Miss Garland, 39, was taken here after an attack at the Lake Tahoe home where she had been staying with her two children.

★ ★ ★

He denied published reports she was felled by an overdose of barbiturates.

Cancel Saturday Airing of Kefauver-Steel Fight

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Senate Judiciary Committee today canceled plans to hold an unusual Saturday session to hear more about Sen. Estes Kefauver's fight with four reluctant steel companies.

A committee spokesman said no date was set for the next session.

Astronaut Team to Welcome 9

NASA to Name New Men Monday to Help 7 Get to Moon First

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Nine new astronauts will be named Monday to help the present seven put an American on the moon before the Russians get there.

This was announced Friday by the National Aeronautics and Space Administration as efforts were being made to minimize any differences of opinion between astronauts John Glenn and Walter Schirra.

Schirra said in a television interview Thursday night that outside commitments were causing Glenn, first American to orbit the earth, to fall behind in spacework.

Schirra is scheduled to make a six-orbit flight Sept. 28.

Glenn and Dr. Robert R. Gilruth, director of the Manned Spacecraft Center here, both denied the accusation in prepared statements.

Glenn's said:

"I don't want to add any more statements to a situation that has all the aspects of a tempest in a teapot.

"Scheduling of my time for maximum benefit from a technical and national space program standpoint, has been continually reviewed by both Dr. Gilruth and the management at NASA headquarters.

"Wally (Schirra) and I are good friends and I will certainly continue to support his flight just as well as I possibly can. We are all working together and looking forward to a very successful MA8."

Schirra's flight will be the Mercury-Atlas 8.

Gilruth's statement was substantially the same.

Dotty Clouds to Join Pleasant Area Weather

Clouds will dot the sky tonight, tomorrow and Monday, says the weatherman. Little change in temperatures is expected.

Following a dip to 58 this evening, the mercury will climb to a warm 80 tomorrow.

Today's winds are variable at 8 to 12 miles per hour. They will become easterly tonight and tomorrow.

Fifty-seven was the lowest temperature reading in downtown Pontiac preceding 8 a.m. At 1 p.m. the mercury showed a pleasant 75.

Red China Rips U.S. on U2

Steps Up Drive After Flight

Claims Downed Plane Yank-Backed Despite Nationalists' Denial

TOKYO (AP) — Red China stepped up today the bitter anti-American campaign it launched after announcing a Chinese Nationalist U2 reconnaissance plane had been downed over the Communist-held mainland last Sunday.

★ ★ ★

Powerful radio transmitters on the mainland beamed thousands of words at Asia, charging the flight was U.S.-controlled and part of Washington's "global plans for aggression and war."

The Red broadcasts ignored Nationalist Chinese statements that the American-built U2 was a Nationalist Air Force plane sent on a flight over what the Nationalists claim is their own country.

"It is obvious that a U2 plane could not make any flight without U.S. consent," one Communist broadcast declared.

"The U2 plane incident itself is an important step in the U.S. government's active preparations for aggression against China."

★ ★ ★

The week-long barrage of words has been one of the heaviest in months, but it shed no light on how the U2 was downed or the nationality and fate of its pilot.

Broadcasts have said only that the plane was shot down by an air force antiaircraft unit. They did not indicate whether the unit used rockets capable of reaching an altitude of 90,000 feet—the U2's cruising altitude—or whether the plane, perhaps disabled, had descended to within reach of more conventional weapons.

Peiping said the U2 incident and the current visit to Southeast Asia of Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor, incoming chairman of the U.S. Joint Chiefs of Staff, constitute "a serious challenge by U.S. imperialism to peace."

The broadcasts have warned that "the people of New China are not to be humiliated" and that any attack is doomed to disaster.

Red China's strong language has caused nervousness in Japanese official circles and the press, which hold that Japan cannot risk involvement in East-West quarrels.

Many Japanese showed readiness to accept the U.S. version of the incident—that the plane and another U2 were sold by Lockheed Aircraft Co., to the Nationalists in July 1960 and that the closest America got to involvement was sharing in intelligence data collected.

NO CHOICE — A government truck loaded with commuters pulls away as other suburban-bound people await other trucks in strike-bound Rio de Janeiro. Railway transporation was halted as a general strike was called by labor unions a few hours after Prime Minister Francisco Brochado da Rocha and his entire cabinet resigned. (Story on Page 1.)

Trade Bill Jumps Hurdle

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy's trade expansion bill, carrying unprecedented tariff-cutting powers to deal with the European Common Market, has emerged unscathed from the Senate Finance Committee.

Opponents said today they would take their fight to the Senate floor when debate begins on Monday and strive to write in protectionist provisions as well as knock out part of the far-reaching authority.

But free trade advocates were jubilant over the committee's votes, which constituted an unbroken string of administration victories. They said they now are confident of similar success on the floor.

The committee approved the bill, 17-0 Friday, but this surprising tally did not reflect the true lineup.

On key votes the administration had the support of nine Democrats, a bare majority of the 17 members, against a coalition of Democrats and Republicans.

Several of the senators who participated in the unanimous vote to send the legislation to the floor reserved the right to back amendments there.

Both friends and foes of the bill agreed it is the most revolutionary trade proposal since passage of the original Reciprocal Trade Agreements Law in 1934.

It would give Kennedy a right to strike out in new directions in advancing a program that already has seen U.S. tariffs on dutiable items cut from an average 50 per cent to 11 per cent.

The main provisions would:

—Extend the old law another five years.

—Authorize a further 50 per cent cut in all present tariffs.

—Permit the President to negotiate duties down to zero on items for which the United States and the Common Market nations account for 80 per cent of world trade.

—Authorize federal assistance to firms and workers harmed by import competition.

This latter provision was kept in the bill only by an 8-7 vote in the most important test Friday.

It would permit the President to give help to a specific company and its workers without having to invoke broad relief which might mean across-the-board tariff increases or quotas affecting an entire industry.

The committee also voted some discretionary powers to the President which he did not ask.

To counter restrictions on U.S. products which he finds unreasonable, the Chief Executive could raise American duties on the offending country's exports to any level he desired or impose any type of quotas.

Two Found Guilty of Whisky Theft

Truck driver Keith D. Francisco, 36, of 1604½ Oakland Ave., and a Detroit Teamster business agent were found guilty yesterday in federal court in Detroit in the theft of $60,000 worth of whisky.

★ ★ ★

Francisco was found guilty of theft and conspiracy to steal from an interstate shipment.

George J. Cottage, 42, of Gibraltar, secretary-treasurer and business agent of Detroit Teamster Local 902, was found guilty of theft, receiving stolen goods and conspiracy.

A third man, Michael Horowski Jr. of Melvindale, already had pleaded guilty to conspiracy.

880 CASES

The three were charged with stealing 880 cases of Canadian Club whisky, with a retail value of $60,000, in a large truck from Roadway Express Co. in Taylor Township on Nov. 30, 1961.

The shipment was en route from Walkerville, Ont., to Long Island City, N. Y.

The jury returned guilty verdicts after two weeks of testimony and five hours of deliberation.

★ ★ ★

Assistant U.S. Attorney James F. Finn said Francisco was driving the truck.

Francisco had previously served time at Jackson Prison on an armed robbery conviction.

In recent months Goulart has been carrying on a running battle with the conservative-dominated Congress. He has demanded executive powers, complaining that he lacks authority to meet social and economic problems.

Gen. Artur Costa Silva, commander of the 4th Army in Brazil's poverty-stricken northeast area, put his troops on alert Friday because of the strike. The 2nd Army in Sao Paolo was ordered to stand by for an alert.

Gov. Carlos Lacerda of Rio de Janeiro, a bitter political foe of the president, ordered out 6,000 police to meet possible disorders.

★ ★ ★

Effects of the strike were widespread. Airline flights were delayed or halted in Rio de Janeiro. In the big coffee port at Santos, transportation, utilities, factories and dock operations were affected.

Five Airmen Die in Crashes

Bomber With 3 Aboard Falls in Indiana; Jets Collide Over Texas

BUTLERVILLE, Ind. (AP)—A swept-wing supersonic bomber disintegrated in a fiery shower of metal more than seven miles above this small southeastern Indiana town Friday night, apparently killing all three crewmen aboard.

★ ★ ★

Two bodies were strapped in the burning fuselage, which slammed to the ground on a farm three miles east of here. A third airman was still missing hours after the crash.

Pieces of the flaming jet aircraft rained down along a six-mile stretch. Several chunks of metal knifed into yards at Butlerville, but no houses were hit.

Bunker Hill Air Force Base at Peru, where the B58 Hustler bomber was stationed, withheld the names of the victims early today, awaiting positive identification at the crash scene.

HIT EMPTY CABIN

The nose of the bomber and the wings plunged into an unoccupied log cabin where grain was stored in a woods on the farm of Willard Phelps near Nebraska.

One eyewitness said the whole sky erupted in smoke when the plane blew up at about 8:30 p.m.

Another person reported hearing two large booms in the air, followed by a long rumble. Witnesses said the main portion of the plane exploded again when it hit the ground.

★ ★ ★

The bomber was on a scheduled training flight from Farmington, Mo., to Cleveland. Two families waiting to watch the craft pass over Butlerville were forced to run for cover when the plane broke apart.

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Two jet fighters collided in flight and both pilots were killed as the planes plunged into Mountain Creek Lake Friday.

The accident happened during landing maneuvers at the Dallas Naval Air Station.

Military authorities identified the airmen as Marine Lt. Alexander P. Longdon Jr., 27, Beaufort, S.C., and Air Force Lt. George A. Tiddlie, 30, Arlington, Tex.

★ ★ ★

The bodies were found beside their planes, a Navy F8U Crusader and an Air National Guard F86L Sabre Jet.

The Day in Birmingham

Fall Term Art Classes Begin Week of Sept. 24

BIRMINGHAM — The Bloomfield Art Association's fall term of art classes will begin the week of Sept. 24, it was announced today.

★ ★ ★

All the 10-week sessions will be conducted at the Birmingham Art Center, the association's headquarters at 1516 S. Cranbrook Road.

A six-week children's workshop also will be offered from 4 — 5:30 p.m. on Wednesday and Thursday and from 10 a.m. to noon on Saturday. Betty Conn will be the instructor.

Three classes in sculptoring will be taught on Monday by Svea Kline, at 9:30 a.m. for advanced students, 1 p.m. for beginners and 7 p.m. for both.

STUDIO ARTS

The same day, Prof. Albert Mullen of the University of Michigan will instruct a class in studio arts from 7 — 9:30 p.m. Different media such as oil, water color, charcoal and pen will be used.

Portrait painting will be taught on Tuesday by Mildred Williams beginning at 9:30 a.m. A course in enameling will be given by Barbara Broock at the same time and again at 7 p.m.

Also on Tuesday will be a mixed media class, which is a basic drawing course, taught by Dorothy Siddal as well as a painting course, with Clifford West instructing, from 7 — 9 p.m.

★ ★ ★

Wednesday courses are water coloring with Mary Jane Bigler, 9:30 a.m. and 1 p.m. and sculpture, with Jim McCormick teaching, at 7 p.m.

Kathleen Birch will instruct classes in oil painting at 9:30 a.m. and 1 p.m. Thursday. Contemporary jewelry will be taught by Nancy Fanzini at 7 p.m.

Additional information can be obtained by contacting the art center between 2 and 5 p.m. daily, except Monday.

Rev. Frank Evans, pastor of Squaw Valley United Church in California, will be the guest speaker Tuesday at 8 p.m. when the men's fellowship of the Congregational Church of Birmingham resumes its meetings.

★ ★ ★

The California church received international attention in 1960 when it served as the Protestant chapel for the Winter Olympic Games.

The Rev. Mr. Evans is studying at Cranbrook.

JOHN A. SHELDON

Service for John A. Sheldon, 29, a former Birmingham resident killed Thursday in a plane crash near Sandusky, Ohio, will be 3 p.m. Tuesday in the Bell Chapel of William R. Hamilton Co.

Burial will be in Acacia Park Cemetery.

★ ★ ★

Mr. Sheldon, an aeronautical engineer for the Lewis Laboratory of Cleveland, was one of four men killed when a small plane crashed on the Ohio Turnpike.

★ ★ ★

He had been engaged in government projects for the National Aeronautics and Space Administration.

A University of Michigan graduate with a master's degree in aeronautical engineering, he was a member of St. Olaf's Lutheran Church of Detroit.

★ ★ ★

Surviving besides his wife Judith are his parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Sheldon of Birmingham, and a brother, Richard A. of Birmingham.

Girl, Youth Victims in Separate Attacks

An 18-year-old girl and a 20-year-old youth told police they were victims of separate attacks by unknown assailants last night and early today.

★ ★ ★

Both victims were released after treatment at Pontiac General Hospital.

Patricia Welles of 27 Dwight St. was cut by flying glass when an unidentified man hurled a rock through the window of a car in which she was sitting, according to James Hinojosa, 19, of 126 W. Tennyson Ave.

Hinojosa said the incident occurred about 10:15 p.m. yesterday while he and the Welles girl were in his car on Tennyson Avenue.

★ ★ ★

Samuel Horbatiuk, 20, of 80 N. Merrimac St. told police he was struck on the head with a rock and beaten by about six youths who attacked him about 1:15 a.m. today on Hollywood Street near Parkdale Avenue.

Panel Named to Eye Hospital Labor Dispute

LANSING (UPI) — Gov. John B. Swainson has announced the appointment of a special commission to study a labor dispute at the Bloomfield Hospital in Bloomfield Township.

The dispute involved the Hospital and Sanatorium Employes Guild, Chapter 5, Salesmen's Guild of America.

The members of the commission which will be headed by Birmingham attorney Thomas G. Kavanagh are John F. Allen, Royal Oak attorney, and Grady Pinner, waterford township, business manager and financial secretary of Local 998 of the United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners of America.

Representatives of the parties in dispute will be Leonard Schultz, Detroit, a labor relations consultant to represent the hospital, and Harold J. Russell, Pontiac, a representative of the union.

★ ★ ★

The commission has been ordered to report to the governor within 30 days unless an extension is granted.

Car Strikes Boy, 2, in Front of Home

A two-year-old boy received a fractured skull yesterday evening when struck by a car in front of his Auburn Heights home.

★ ★ ★

James Wallace, son of Mr. and Mrs. Hezekiah Wallace of 3116 Waukegan Road, is reported in satisfactory condition today at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital.

★ ★ ★

Oakland County Sheriff's deputies said he was struck about 6 p.m. by a car driven by Mrs. Rosemary Young, 35, of 3021 Waukegan Road.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Young told deputies she was driving west on Waukegan only about 20 miles per hour because she had seen several children playing in the road. She said she suddenly saw the Wallace boy near the front of the car and was unable to stop in time.

Course in Safety on Boats Slated by Coast Guard

A "Small Boat Handling and Safety A-Float" course will be offered by the U.S. Coast Guard Auxiliary Flotilla 12-18, starting Thursday at the U.S. Naval Reserve Center, 469 S. East Blvd.

The eight-week course will be held each Thursday from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. Registration will begin at 6 p.m. preceding the first session.

The course will include instruction in nautical language, boat construction, seamanship, aids to navigation, charts and compass, rules of the road, knots and splices, boating courtesy and safety regulations.

★ ★ ★

A U.S. Coast Guard Auxiliary certificate and a watercraft operators permit will be presented to those who complete the course.

NATIONAL WEATHER — Showers or thunderstorms are expected tonight in the southern Plains and eastward into the Ohio valley with some scattered activity through the Rockies. The Pacific coast may have dense low cloudiness along with fog and drizzle. Warmer temperatures will move into the upper Mississippi valley and hot temperatures will remain throughout the south. Clear skies and cool temperatures are forecast for the Northeast while partly cloudy skies are expected in the central states.

Rain, Cool Readings Prevail in Nation

By The Associated Press

Rain and cool temperatures were prevalent over most of the nation today as autumn waited in the wings for summer to run its course.

★ ★ ★

Most of the Midwest, Southern Plains, Gulf Coast and Western Plains were hit by late summer rains.

Flooding was reported in districts of Kansas City, Mo., as up to 4 inches of rain were recorded. The same amount was reported in Springfield, Mo.

★ ★ ★

Cloudbursts dropped almost two inches on Wichita, Kan., and 3½ inches accumulated in Omaha, Neb.

Army Kin Homeless in Viet Nam Camp Fire

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) —Fire raged through a camp of Vietnamese army dependents 380 miles northeast of here Friday, leaving at least 300 families homeless.

No deaths have been reported. Many persons were burned and first aid has been administered to at least 150 persons.

50th N-Test in Series Fired at Nevada Site

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Atomic Energy Commission fired a nuclear explosion underground Friday at its Nevada testing area.

The test—the 50th to be announced in the Nevada series and the first since Aug. 24—was described as a low-yield explosion, having a blast force of less than 20,000 tons of TNT.

Farmers Brace for Crucial Fight

CHICAGO (UPI) — The National Farmers Organization (NFO) braced for the fight of its seven-year life today, expecting "one more big punch" from stockyards and meat processors in its battle to put the "family farmer" on a competitive plane with other businessmen.

Midwest packers recalled hundreds of employes laid off since the start of the NFO "holding action" to keep livestock and grains off the markets.

The action was launched by the 16-state farmers group to attain contracts assuring equitable prices for their products.

The president of the rebellious group said the packers were countering with a weekend campaign to "shake loose" livestock that has been held off the market the past two weeks.

"If they get the livestock they seek, it will be their last big punch," said NFO President Oren Lee Staley of Rea, Mo.

"It will clean out the feedlots and pastures of producers under contract to the processors and those who refuse to join our movement.

"Next week we will get down to the real core of the holding action . . . we have the supply down to the bottom of the barrel."

★ ★ ★

Although the Midwest housewife has noticed higher prices at her meat market, the executive secretary of the National livestock Feeders Association said his group regards the holding action as "something that never really started."

Don Magdanz, secretary of the feeders association, said the NFO drive was "doomed to a dismal failure." He said cattle receipts are normal and hogs fairly normal for this time of year.

Receipts reported at the 12 major Midwest stock terminals yesterday showed hogs were down 9,000 from a week ago and cattle down 4,600.

★ ★ ★

High choice and prime steers dropped 25 to 75 cents at Chicago with heifers off 50 cents.

INCREASE AT OMAHA

However, at Omaha, Neb., the nation's meat-packing capital, the cattle run for the week was 12,000 more than during the abbreviated Labor Day week.

The market was scrambled, with prices as much as $1.25 lower on butcher hogs and $1.50 lower on cattle.

At Sioux Falls, S. D., Department of Agriculture economist Cleo Nichols said it was "hard to tell" whether the holding action by the NFO could be blamed for a drastic dip in hog receipts.

Wilson & Co. yesterday announced it was recalling several hundred employes and "resuming normal operations" in Omaha, Kansas City, Mo., Albert Lea, Minn.; and Cedar Rapids, Iowa.

★ ★ ★

About 200 workers were also to be back on the job at the Jacob E. Decker plant in Mason City, Iowa, which is a subsidiary of Armour and Co.

The Dubuque (Iowa) Packing Co. said it already had called back more than half of the 200 employes it had laid off.

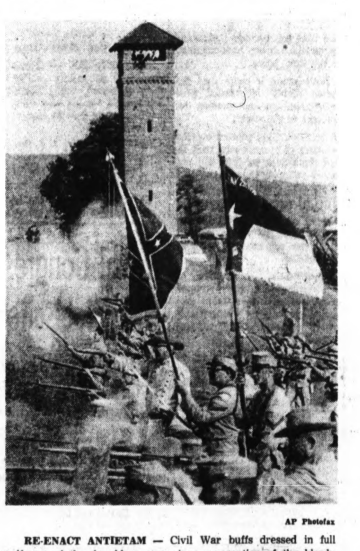

"They'll just be laying them off again sometime next week," said Staley, calling the increase in work forces a "psychological action."

Staley announced that the NFO would meet at 15 sites next week to determine whether the holding action should be widened to include milk. He said "We'll let our dairy members decide" the issue.

The NFO got some unexpected help from about 400 members of its "womens auxiliary" yesterday during a livestock sale at Colchester, Ill.

The women crowded around the barn and started clapping and shouting when the sale began.

Six of the girls converged on the auctioneer, commandeered the public address system and made speeches promoting the holding action.

MAKE OVER PA

There's Little Doubt–Rocky Will Win Again

The man who emerges with the nomination for governor at the New York State Democratic Convention opening Sept. 17 probably will have to be satisfied with that one dubious victory this year.

Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, a certain choice of the concurrent Republican State Convention in Buffalo, is regarded as a shoo-in come Nov. 6.

★ ★ ★

The only doubt at this time is whether he will better the 573,034-vote plurality he received when first elected in 1958. A record plurality, of course, would show those who will control the Republican nomination for President in 1964 that his first election was not just a flash in the pan.

Rockefeller has been busy campaigning from upstate New York to Coney Island since early spring to assure for himself the margin that will command nationwide attention.

★ ★ ★

Meanwhile, the candidateless Democrats, through no fault of their own, have been waiting impatiently for the nominating convention. New York's Republican-controlled legislature gleefully passed legislation preventing both major party conventions from being held until mid-September. This gives the Democrats a little less than six weeks to mount their campaign to unseat ROCKY.

★ ★ ★

Much more time will be needed to fully introduce the voters to the probable Democratic nominee. He is Robert Morris Morgenthau (yes, Henry Jr.'s boy), a 43-year-old lawyer who resigned as United States attorney for the Southern District of New York to seek "an opportunity for public service."

There are some, reports the New York Times, "who think that his manner—reserved, showing a trace of shyness, and low key without being especially informal—will make him a political figure of limited magnetism."

We can't help but agree and will cast our lot with ROCKY.

A Sad Anniversary–Hammarskjold's Death

A sad anniversary is coming up. It is the 17th opening of the regular session of the United Nations and it just happens to coincide with the tragic death of former Sec. Gen. DAG HAMMARSKJOLD.

It was just a year ago that Hammarskjold and five other were killed in the crash of a DC6B airliner near Ndola in Northern Rhodesia. This unfortunate accident could not have happened at a worse time.

HAMMARSKJOLD was en route to meet Katanga President MOISE TSHOMBE and arrange a cease fire to renewed fighting between U.N. and Katangan forces. His death came in the midst of a Soviet campaign to abolish his office and replace it with a three-man board, or troika.

★ ★ ★

This scheme subsequently was defeated with the election of Hammarskjold's successor, U Thant of Burma, early in November.

Whether the Congo would have been quieter today had HAMMARSKJOLD lived is a matter for historians to speculate. Certainly he had established a remarkable reputation as a peacemaker, approched in the postwar era perhaps only by that other Swedish U.N. diplomat, Count FOLKE BERNADOTTE of Wisborg, who was assassinated in Jerusalem in 1984. It was only fitting that HAMMARSKJOLD should be awarded posthumously the Nobel Peace Prize for 1961.

★ ★ ★

Mystery still shrouds the crash which took HAMMARSKJOLD's life. A U.N. investigating commission reported on May 2 to the General Assembly that it had been unable to fix the cause.

It said that no evidence had been found to support or to dismiss theories that the plane had been shot down or sabotaged. The Rhodesian authorities did little or nothing to start an immediate investigation.

★ ★ ★

The plane was not found until 15 hours after the crash, which causes many to believe it was not accidental. However, a North Rhodesian coroner ruled accidental death. We wonder.

WITH reference to the race between NIXON and BROWN, indications seem to be that a large number of Californians will experience a great deal of difficulty in deciding whom to vote against.

"HAVING a date with the same boy seven days a week might lead to their going steady," says a teen-age girl. Analysis of her statement reveals considerable plausibility.

Sports Editor Bruno Kearns is pinch-hitting for the Man About Town columnist and is announcing the MAT annual football contest. Due to illness Mr. Howard V. Heidenbrand is confined to his home but is expected to resume work shortly.

The Man About Town

A Man's Game

But Mostly Women Win in Football Contest

Men, it's time to save face!

We're supposed to be the rough, tough creatures on this earth. Football is our game.

Trouble is, you can't make the women believe this. It seems every year the Man About Town runs his football contest, a woman either wins or shares in the big prize.

This year the prize will be a $500 Savings Bond, an increase of $200 from past seasons, and it's time we men show these "weaker" members of the human race who has the football mind in the family.

It doesn't cost you anything to compete in this elimination contest. Every member of your family is eligible, even junior in diapers, but only one entry allowed per person.

There's $500 awaiting you and time is getting short.

Clip the above list of 15 games, check the teams in each instance which you think will win. Or, if you think it will be a tie, leave the squares blank.

All entries must be in to The Pontiac Press, Man About Town, Football Contest by noon Friday, Sept. 21 to be eligible.

You can make a list of these games on a plain piece of paper and enter, and they can be mailed or delivered to the Man About Town.

The POWER of FAITH

By WOODI ISHMAEL

Before his first major league game, baseball's Dave "Boo" Ferris paused in the locker room to ask God for strength and courage.

He went on to become a pitching great with the Boston Red Sox, but in 1949, after five years, a shoulder injury threatened to end his pitching career. His prayers seemed unanswered.

"I grew more and more discouraged," he said. "Little by little, though, I began to see that God had other gifts to give."

Back in the minor leagues he was given a chance to coach, and in a few years he returned to the Red Sox as a pitching coach. He says:

"I'd learned the meaning of the verse: 'All things work together for good to them that love God . . . (Romans 8:28). I learned that God always answers, even when we don't know exactly what to pray for."

Days of All Faiths:

To Celebrate St. Januarius' Day

By DR. HOWARD V. HARPER

You probably can't go to Naples Sept. 19, but if you live in a city where there is a "Little Italy," you should not miss what will be going on there. Everybody will be celebrating St. Januarius' (or in Italian, St. Gennaro's Day. He is the patron saint of Naples, and Neapolitans in this country will make as much of the occasion as those who never left home.

In New York, for example, down on Mulberry Street several blocks will be closed to traffic, festoons of colored electric lights will be strung across the street, and there will be an outdoor shrine of St. Gennaro. There will be a tremendous parade, and when the marching is over it will all turn into a happy, noisy street fair, with booths and push carts and food stands — especially food stands. Everywhere you turn there are sausages and clams and pastries and countless Italian foods that Americans never heard of.

But there is one feature of St. Januarius' Day that cannot be reproduced outside Naples: the liquefaction of the saint's blood. On Sept. 19 and on 17 other occasions during the year, the flask of blood that is kept in the Naples cathedral is brought near the silver bust containing the saint's head (also kept in the cathedral) and as the crowds watch, the hard, dry, opaque mass of blood turns into bright red liquid. Sometimes it even bubbles or froths.

★ ★ ★

This is no legend. It happens. There is no question about it. Anyone who doubts it can go and see it himself.

★ ★ ★

There is little information but considerable tradition about this saint. It is known that a bishop named Januarius was martyred somewhere near Naples around the beginning of the fourth century. The further details with which this story is filled out are not accepted as factual.

It is said that as Bishop of Benevento he went to visit four Christians who were in prison for their faith, thus revealing his own connection with the forbidden religion. Then follows an account of how he was thrown into a furnace but unharmed by the flames, exposed to wild beasts but ignored by them, and finally beheaded. The official in charge of the execution was struck blind, but Januarius restored his sight, and 5,000 witnesses were converted by the miracle.

Question on Epilepsy Answered by Address

BRADY

Ans. — American Epilepsy Foundation, 77 Reservoir Road, Quincy, Mass., supplies pamphlets, statistics, information relating to treatment centers, employment, education, insurance, etc. All free. Perhaps there's an affiliated league, society or information center in your city.

Your advice about the use of potassium for allergy has been a blessing to my husband for 20 years — he has never failed to get quick relief from those awful headaches he used to have . . . (Mrs. E. M.)

Ans. — I'm glad to hear from you, Ma'am. Pamphlet No. 11, "Relief for Allergy," is available free to anyone who provides stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Druggist agrees it is absurd, but he says federal law will not permit him to sell pure grain alcohol unless the purchaser has a prescription from a physician who has a federal permit to prescribe it. (W. R.)

Ans. — That's true, and I agree with the druggist. But when pure grain alcohol is not available, ordinary rubbing alcohol may be used to prepare the drops for running ear — half teaspoonful of boric (boracic) acid in a fluidounce about two tablespoonfuls) of rubbing alcohol. Drop two drops of this solution in the ear each night and morning. Have the solution fairly warm — by standing the vial in hot water. Wear no cotton or other plug in ear.

Do you still maintain that no drug, medicine, food or poison can be absorbed into the system through the unbroken skin? If you do, I have news for you . . . (T. R.)

Ans. — I do. Your "news" is legendary. If you can find a physician of standing or a physiologist or a scientist who doesn't agree — but you can't.

Six years ago our doctor poohpoohed the "vitamin craze," insisting that a "well balanced" or "reasonably varied" diet gives one all the vitamins one needs. Yesterday he recommended that we supplement our regular diet with the very same B-complex which you usually suggest. Further, he says innumerable common complaints are . . . (Mrs. O. R. F.)

And. — And the "well balanced" hokum has gone to the museum? No question about it, medicine is making giant strides these days.

Commends Appointment to Planning Commission

Congratulations to the City Commission for appointing Mr. Robert C. Irwin as a member of the Planning Commission. His training, experience and dedication should make him a valuable member.

He has a very large pair of shoes to fill. William F. Kalwitz, who resigned because of illness, was one of the anchor men on the team for many years. His resignation was a serious loss to this city.

Spending Disturbs Holly Writer

I voted for a new courthouse and I hope the new one lasts as long as the old. The courthouse wasn't finished when the board of supervisors decided it needed a $5 million addition. We didn't even vote on it.

They are trying to push through this $10 million airport project. They tell me it's only $5 million as the federal government puts up the rest of it, but that is us, too. I've read no good argument in favor of it. Major airlines have notified them they won't use the airport.

Now the supervisors build a $600,000 auditorium. The old courthouse would have been fine for this.

'Can't Collect Compensation'

I was laid off on Aug. 11 and told to return Sept. 4. On Aug. 24 I received a telegram to disregard previous notice. On checking I was told I was notified by telephone on Aug. 21. I received no such call. Is a telephone call legal notification?

I checked with Local 653 and was told I could be in the backyard and not hear the phone and that would disqualify me for compensation. Is our union doing its duty?

Calls Rate Hike a "Fog Screen"

This rate increase for senior citizens health insurance is a fog screen prior to medicare. The government has previously stated that Blue Cross-Blue Shield could take over and handle the government health insurance. The medical profession has taken the stand of "hands off" any interference regardless. The AMA has failed to offer any plan but the Kerr-Mills Plan, which has been a failure and they know it.

England has had government health insurance for the past 14 years and it has proven satisfactory. The AMA does not realize this is the 20th century and people like to govern themselves, think for themselves and not be told by the AMA what to do.

Says He Cannot Vote for Romney

I cannot vote for George Romney. I can't vote for any Johnnie Come Lately who wants to save the country after it's already safe. In World War II we had 20 million men and women in uniform and were scraping the bottom of the barrel for manpower. Governor Swainson gave his time and effort. In fact, he left part of his body on the battlefield. This is the kind of courage I like and can understand. To stop arguments in advance, I am a veteran of World War II and Korea.

JFK Plans for Long Stay in D.C.

WASHINGTON (NEA) — President Kennedy expects to be in the White House for a second term, all right. He has just agreed to serve as honorary chairman of the Tenth International Games for the Deaf, which will be held in Washington under the auspices of Gallaudet College for the Deaf, with 800 deaf athletes from 33 countries participating June 27 to July 3, 1965.

When Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy's big Newfoundland, Brumus, traveled with him to Hyannis Port recently, it was the end of a long ordeal for the dog.

With Ethel Kennedy and the seven Kennedy children in Massachusetts most of the summer, Brumus had grown utterly disconsolate. He wouldn't eat, and he could not be comforted.

The rash of news stories about him stemmed from the attorney general's effort to cope with the problem by dragging Brumus down to his office.

But that, too, failed. Brumus was moderately content so long as he lounged at Kennedy's feet. Yet the moment he was shunted to an adjoining room, he moaned in misery.

"He just missed the family, that's all," commented a sympathetic observer just before Brumus hopped the plane for Hyannis Port.

Rep. Daniel J. Flood of Wilkes-Barre, Pa., recently learned you should never underestimate the perception of a constituent.

Being chauffered to Washington from Andrews Air Force Base with a group of congressmen in a military car, Flood asked driver Pvt. Walter Sarnosky where he was from.

Sarnosky answered, "Wilkes Barre, Pa." Flood then asked the young man if he knew who his congressman was, expecting the usual embarrassed "I don't know" reply.

"Yes, sir," Sarnosky told Flood. "I'm driving him right now."

New frontier definition for democracy, circulating in Republican cloakrooms:

"You can vote for the Kennedy of your choice."

Defense Secretary Robert McNamara's new methods in the Pentagon have caused wary officials to pass this British-imported story from corridor to corridor:

"I try to identify the inevitable and then I co-operate with it."

On the other side of the fence, some of McNamara's top aides complain they can't get military and civilian briefers to come to the point. They compare the wanderings of too many of the briefers and report-writers to the old French tale of the "Three Brigands," modernized.

Three brigands were seated on a stone. The youngest said to the oldest: "Tell us a story."

And Edward began:

"Four brigands were seated on a stone. The youngest said to the oldest:

"'Tell us a story, Edward'."

And Edward began:

"'Five brigands were seated on a stone . . .'"

On the outside, Washington's new $14 million Federal Office Building No. 6 belies its pedestrian name. It is a handsome structure, featuring an openwork pattern in stone.

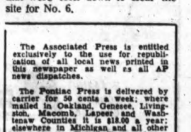

★ ★ ★

On the inside, it is still something of a minor nightmare though many months have passed since the National Aeronautics and Space Administration and the Office of Education took up residence there.

In the beginning, some of the elevators didn't work, phone installations were inadequate for the building's size, and various other "bugs" appeared.

Though some of these have been ironed out, complaints go on. Grizzled veterans of the standard government building maze are still puzzled by the complex room numbering system. They get lost often in the many side passages.

And then there's the air conditioning. Going full tilt, it makes a conference room sound like a landing strip at National Airport. Conferees weight down papers, and conduct their business in shouts.

Some of them long for the good old days of the disreputable wartime temporary office buildings that were torn down to clear the site for No. 6.

Two Raids Net 34 Within Hour

Pontiac Police Arrest Area People on Illegal Liquor Charges

Two raids by Pontiac police within an hour early today resulted in the arrest of 34 persons on illegal liquor charges.

Vice squad officers struck first about 5:15 a.m. at 478 S. Sanford, a home raided just a week ago.

Police charged Lawrence Gamble, 39, with operating and maintaining an illegal liquor establishment at that address. He is awaiting examination on the same charge resulting from last week's raid.

Carruthers Hayes, 47, was charged with aiding and abetting the illegal liquor operation. Both men gave the South Sanford Street address as their residence.

★ ★ ★

Fourteen other persons were apprehended for loitering.

About 6:15 a.m., police nabbed 16 others for loitering in an alleged blind pig at 548 Wyoming Ave.

Oscar Atkins, 38, was accused of operating the illegal liquor place and Mildred Hall, 33, was charged with aiding and abetting. Each gave 584 Wyoming Ave. as his home address.

'Business Stall' in August Eyed

Economists Study New Indication Expansion Halted 1st Time in '62

WASHINGTON (AP) — Economists studied today a new indication that expansion of the nation's business stalled in August.

The Federal Reserve Board reported Friday that industrial production last month remained unchanged from the previous month for the first time this year.

★ ★ ★

This followed previous reports that retail sales failed to rise in August, that personal income rose by the smallest margin of the year and that building activity declined slightly.

An increase in the unemployment rate had also been reported.

BRIGHT SPOT

One bright spot, however, was a Commerce Department report last week showing manufacturers expect sales to rise through the end of this year to carry factory sales to a record $102.25 billion in the final quarter.

★ ★ ★

The Federal Reserve Board report said output of mines, factories and utilities dipped one-tenth of 1 per cent last month to 118.6 per cent of the 1957 average, while business equipment industries increased activity slightly and production of materials remained steady.

Continuing declines in the production of television sets, furniture and some other home goods was reported, indicating consumer reluctance to spend.

★ ★ ★

Automobile production dropped slightly, the board said, while there was a moderate increase in output of iron and steel during the month.

Tax Committee Meeting Today to Plan Drive

DETROIT (UPI) — The Vigilance Tax Committee will meet at Warren today to draft plans for an Oct. 2 door-to-door petition drive in the suburban Detroit area in an effort to outlaw community collection of income taxes from non residents.

Committee president George Kuhn, Berkley Mayor, said the group will also launch the outstate phase of the petition drive at the meeting.

★ ★ ★

Meanwhile a reciprocity mendment to the city of Detroit's one per cent income tax is expected to be proposed before common council next Tuesday.

It is aimed at preventing residents of Detroit from being taxed twice if they work in Hamtramck. Hamtramck's one per cent income tax is scheduled to become effective Oct. 1.

Borgnine Re-Enlists in Navy, but This Time It's for Laughs

By DORIS KLEIN
(For Bob Thomas)

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—After 17 years, Ernest Borgnine is back in the Navy.

"It's not exactly the Navy I remember," Ernie reminisced. "I don't think we could have won the war if we'd had one like this. But it's a lot more laughs."

Ernie wound up 10 years in the Navy as a chief gunner's mate in 1945. He re-enlists as a lieutenant commander in "McHale's Navy," a comedy television series on ABC starting Oct. 11.

It's in the same zany style that made Phil Silvers' Sgt. Bilko series. "I only hope it does as well," said Borgnine.

Ernie's new Navy consists of three PT boats—one war surplus, tied up at nearby Balboa Bay, and two full-size mockups.

The backlot beach of Borgnine's tropical island has a native village of grass huts, complete with islanders.

SET IN PACIFIC

"The show's set in the South Pacific during World War II," Ernie explained. "I was in the Pacific, but before the war—I joined the Navy in 1935. About as far out in the Pacific as I went was Hawaii.

"In 1941, I quit the navy to go to work in a factory in New Haven, Conn.—1941, what a year to quit the Navy. I was back in in a few months.

★ ★ ★

"In the beginning, we had only three boats patrolling the entire Atlantic Coast and I was on one of them.

"Then they sent me to Hollywood, Fla. I was assigned to a PY, patrol yacht.

★ ★ ★

"The PY was a converted yacht, the SS Intrepid. It used to be owned by the Murphy who invented Murphy beds. He took it to Europe and all over before the war. You should have seen what the Navy did to it!"

CHANGED HIM

The Navy made a lot of changes in Ernie, too. He went in, at 17, weighing 135 pounds. He came out 100 pounds heavier.

He also met his first wife, Rhoda, in the Navy. She was a Wave. They had a daughter, now 10. The marriage broke up, after nine years, in 1958. A year later, Borgnine wed fiery Mexican Katy Jurado. That marriage, too, is on stormy seas. The pair is separated and Borgnine sees little hope for reconciliation.

It's a long way from the Navy in Hollywood, Fla., to the Navy in Hollywood, Calif. Did Ernie ever think he'd make it when he was mustered out in 1945?

"You know, it's a funny thing," he said. "We had a big party at the end of the war and someone asked me what I was going to do when I got out of the Navy. I laughed and said, 'Oh, I'm going to Hollywood and be a big movie star.' You know, what's happened since surprised me more than anybody.

COULD HAVE RETIRED

"This really dates me, but if I'd stayed in the Navy, I could have retired in 1955. That was the year I won the Oscar for 'Marty.'

"Those were good days in the Navy. But I wouldn't have changed what's happened since for anything. I love my work. Friends of mine are always saying, 'Ernie, why don't you take up sailing or something?' Why should I? My work's my hobby.

"And look at all the fun we have around here. They're a great bunch of guys. We're kidding around on the set all the time."

ICC to Study Joint Rail Bid

Sets Date for Debate on Whether to Make 1 Ruling on 3 Mergers

WASHINGTON (AP)— The Interstate Commerce Commission yesterday set Oct. 23 for oral arguments on whether it should make a joint ruling on all three of the big eastern railroad unification plans.

The effect of such action would be to treat all the proposals as a package, in their relation to each other.

The merger applications involve the Chesapeake & Ohio Railway's proposal to gain control of the Baltimore & Ohio, the proposed merger of the Pennsylvania and New York Central railroads, and the move by the Norfolk & Western to unite with the Nickel Plate and lease the Wabash.

Separate hearings on the three proposals have been held by examiners for the ICC. The last of these sessions, involving the Pennsy Central, recessed two weeks ago until Oct. 15. Hearings on the other two plans have been completed.

★ ★ ★

Officials of several major railroads testified at the hearings they believe the ICC should act simultaneously on all three proposals to set up a competitively balanced three-way system which they contend would at least temporarily solve the problems of financially stricken eastern railroads.

The arguments on whether the decision should be consolidated will be held before the full 11-member commission in Washington.

West Cautious as Reds Yield

Soviets Agree to Use Buses in Berlin to Transport Guards

BERLIN (UPI) — The Western Allies were pleased but cautious today about winning a second round in the cold war over Soviet armored cars in Berlin.

Some Western officials, accustomed to recurrent Communist pressures, feared the Russians' quiet acquiescence on the armored car issue might be a lull before another storm.

Yesterday the Soviets bowed to an allied demand and stopped transporting their guards in armored cars to the Soviet War Memorial in the British sector of the divided city.

They used a bus in compliance with an allied order.

SECOND YIELDING

It was the second time within 10 days that the Russians gave in to the West on a border question.

On Sept. 4, they obeyed an allied order forbidding them to send their armored cars through "Checkpoint Charlie," the crossing point through the Berlin wall into the American sector.

Some Western officials felt the allied successes might cause the Russians to create trouble in other parts of the city in an attempt to save face and further their campaign to get the Western powers out of Berlin.

The Russians switched from buses to armored cars to transport the guards after West Berlin mobs stoned some of their buses in anger over the fatal shooting of Peter Fechter, 18, as he tried to flee East Berlin to the West on Sept. 17.

The Soviets made the switch 24 hours before the deadline set by the West.

Aeroquip of Jackson Buys Illinois Firm

JACKSON (AP)— Aeroquip Corp. said yesterday it has purchased the Barco Manufacturing Co. of Barrington, Ill., for an estimated $3 million.

Peter F. Hurst, Aeroquip president, announced the purchase. He said Barco Manufacturing Co., a leading producer of flexible hose and hose fittings, will be operated as a division of Aeroquip.

Barco has 13 plants including two in West Germany. The Illinois firm's estimated net sales this year totaled some $5 million.

Chairman John L. McClellan, D-Ark., said, however, that the hearings will be resumed promptly if Estes' fraud trial, scheduled to start in Tyler, Tex., Sept. 24, should be postponed for a substantial period.

City Hospital Filled to Limit

Pontiac General Is Forced to Cancel Admissions

The Pontiac General Hospital Board of Trustees was told Thursday night that the hospital has again been forced to cancel admissions daily because of high occupancy.

★ ★ ★

Administrator Harold B. Euler told trustees at their September meeting that "we are again using hall beds and canceling patients daily."

Euler said the hospital had to cancel 16 patient admissions Thursday, eight of whom were surgical cases. Yesterday, 374 of the hospital's 381 beds were occupied.

The unoccupied beds are in the mental health unit and obstetrics where the hospital is required to have some empty beds available at all times since unscheduled admissions are frequent in these departments.

NEARLY CONSTANT

"Occupancy has been a problem most of this year, Euler noted. "We've been free of the problem for only four or five weeks all year, those immediately preceding this week.

"Average occupancy last week was 88.34 per cent. So far this week it's 96.37 per cent. We had no cancellations last week."

For the hospital's ninth accounting period which ended Sept. 8, occupancy was 94.24 per cent, compared to 90.8 per cent for the same period last year.

For the year to date, occupancy has averaged 96.26 per cent, compared to 91.94 per cent as of this date in 1961.

Pakistan President, DeGaulle Confer

PARIS (AP) — President Ayub Khan of Pakistan arrived here today for a one-day visit which will include a meeting with President Charles de Gaulle and luncheon at his Elysee Palace.

Ayub Khan flew here from London where British Commonwealth leaders have been discussing Britain's desire to enter the six-nation European Common Market.

The Pakistani leader suggested in London yesterday that the economic aspects of the Common Market be vastly enlarged. He said he hoped to discuss the idea with de Gaulle today.

Water Project Work to Begin

Break Ground Monday to Officially Signal Construction Start

City commissioners and administrators will officially signal the start of construction of Pontiac's $3.9-million water system improvement project Monday with ground - breaking ceremonies at the the new water plant site.

★ ★ ★

The ceremony is scheduled at 5:15 p.m. at the site on Opdyke Road near South Boulevard.

Work on the $1,089,305 pumping station, service building and ground improvements should begin before the end of this month.

It is under contract to the K. G. Marks Excavating Co. of Port Huron.

2 STORAGE TANKS

Two ground-level storage tanks, each with a capacity of 500,000-000 gallons also will be constructed on the site by General American Transportation Co., of East Chicago, Ill., at an estimated cost of $341,500.

★ ★ ★

The site was purchased early this year from General Motors Corp.

Work at the site and on transmission lines and reservoirs elsewhere in the city must be completed before the city can begin using Detroit water next July.

All projects are under contract and will be financed by a $3.77-million revenue bond issue awarded Tuesday by the commission.

Ground - breaking ceremonies were scheduled at an informal meeting of commissioners last night.

Three Children Rescued From Burning Auto

DETROIT (AP) —A fire in an automobile trapped three small girls yesterday.

A woman rescued the trio.

Anthony Viera, 39, of Warren, left his daughters, Beth Ann, 2, and Marie, 9 months, and a step daughter, Penny Compton, 4, in his car while he visited a shopping center.

Viera was buying flowers and a get-well card for his hospitalized wife.

Mrs. Marie Barr, 36, heard the children scream from the car. Fire had broken out. Mrs. Barr ran to the car, snatched open a door, and smothered the flames with a blanket.

RIDE A HOBBY

Hobbies provide pleasure, develop new interests and occasionally bring financial independence. Betty McDonald was bored, kept a diary of scenes, amusing incidents and people who lived around her isolated chicken ranch; she write "The Egg and I", as a hobby, that hobby made her famous and wealthy. John Adams, retired and bored, watched birds hunt nesting places, built bird houses, filling his hours with constructive labor; he was happy and so were the birds. Dr. Alvin Hubbard tinkered with a painless drill, as a hobby, used air to gain supersonic speed and painless dentistry. Alice Peterson taught school, retired, was bored, restless and unhappy. She visited a children's hospital, began teaching those crippled children simple skills, as a hobby and realized love and appreciation. A young businessman took his worries to his hobby shop, forgot them as he turned a table leg; his subconscious mind brought answers, correct answers.

Hobbies are avocations that bring a wealth of mental and physical relaxation, stimulation of ideas and time to reflect. Ride A Hobby to better health and greater happiness.
