Officers Slate Holiday Vigil

All Law Enforcement
Units Joining in Effort to Hold Down Accidents

Law enforcement officers throughout Oakland County will begin a three-day vigil on county highways and lakes beginning tomorrow noon, in a concentrated effort to hold down Independence Day weekend fatalities.

The Automobile Club of Michigan has estimated that more than 3,000,000 cars will jam Michigan highways during the weekend.

All days off at the Oakland County Sheriff's Department have been canceled for Friday and Sunday, expected to be the peak periods.

Detectives will hold down desk jobs in order to free deputies for road patrol. The department's 25 special uniformed lake deputies will be out in full force patrolling lakes which are expected to be crowded, with warm weather forecast.

State Police at the Pontiac and Redford Posts will begin 10-hour shifts at noon Thursday with the aid of National Guardsmen to free more cars for patrol.

The special shifts will continue through the official holiday period until midnight Sunday. Two guardsmen will supplement the regular Pontiac Post force.

In many areas unmarked and semi-marked cars will supplement the State Police road patrol. A total of 20 persons were killed in traffic accidents over the 102-hour holiday period in 1957 throughout the state.

But None of 9 County Victims Swimmers

'58 Drowning Toll Higher

Six-month figures released today show an increase in drownings on Oakland County Lakes this year as compared to 1957.

Although temperatures have been considerably cooler this year, which might keep would-be swimmers away from area lakes, there have been four more drownings in 1958, according to figures at the Oakland County Sheriff's Department.

Through June a total of five persons drowned in county lakes last year. Nine have drowned so far this year.

Temperatures this spring and summer have thus far averaged four to five degrees lower than those of last year.

Oakland County Sheriff's Deputy Bill Jackson, department skin diving expert, has an answer for the strange figures.

LESS RAIN

"It is true that the cooler weather so far has kept people out of the water, but the lack of rainy days hasn't kept them away from it."

None of this year's victims drowned while swimming; four drowned while playing "near" water, having fallen in, and two drownings occurred from boating mishaps.

Of last year's six-month total, two victims were swimmers, two were boating, and one was water skiing.

Weatherwise, figures show a total of 10.71 inches of precipitation during the first six months of 1958 as compared to only 4.64 inches this year.

Jackson's theory is that, "With more cold weather we've cut down on swimming fatalities, but the greater number of fair weather days has given more children the chance to play near water and fishermen the chance to get out in boats."

"Actually, rain keeps people away from area lakes more than cool weather does," he added. "Therefore, we've had much more lake activity with the clear weather so far this year."

START EARLIER

This is supported by the fact that in 1957 all five drownings in the first six months occurred in June. So far this year there have been three in April, four in May and two in June.

Because drownings on area lakes began occurring earlier this year, authorities fear the possibility of a record number by the end of the summer.

Last year, July was the worst month, counting a total of eight victims. With stepped-up lake patrols to curb reckless and careless boating practices, the sheriff's department hopes to keep the number of 1958 drownings under control.

Canadian Holiday Claims 102 Lives

TORONTO (UPI) — Canada's four-day birthday weekend cost the nation 102 accident deaths.

A Canadian Press survey of the Dominion Day holiday period listed 50 traffic deaths and 47 drownings.

Two men were killed in the crash of a light plane at Perth, New Brunswick. In Ontario, one man was hit by a train and another was killed in a holiday motorcycle race. A woman fell 75 feet to her death down a mountainside in British Columbia.

Last Dominion Day weekend 54 were killed on the roads and 31 were drowned. The Canadian Safety Council had predicted 45 traffic deaths this year.

Oakland County Sheriff Frank Irons cautions persons to swim in pairs and observe usual safety precautions. He also urged parents to keep a sharp eye on tots wandering near the water.

Warnings to boaters include never operating a boat while under the influence of liquor, keeping speeds down, never overloading a boat of any kind, and confining boating and fishing trips to daylight hours.

Of the five drownings from boating mishaps this year, four of the victims came from two separate boating mishaps. Both mishaps occurred after dark when few, if any other people were on the lake.

Henry Reprimanded for Part in City Suit

Following a reprimand by fellow City Commissioners on questions of "ethics and propriety," Commissioner Milton R. Henry today was to withdraw his name from a suit against the city and two of its top officials.

Henry, an attorney who filed the suit last week against City Manager Walter K. Willman and Police Chief Herbert W. Straley, said last night he was "perfectly amenable" to another attorney taking over the case.

His acquiescence came after other commissioners indicated they were prepared to adopt a strongly worded resolution condemning his action and ordering the city attorney to seek a court ruling disqualifying him from the suit.

The resolution accused Henry of attempting to represent "conflicting interests" and of acting in a "dual relationship." It called his part in the law suit "illegal."

Henry denied these allegations, stating that he was trying "to uphold the Constitution, which I am sworn to do, both as an attorney and as a commissioner."

He agreed to ask a former law partner, Henry Cleage, of Detroit (Continued on Page 2, Col. 5)

Judge Moore Urges:

Transfer Senile Patients

Oakland County Probate Judge Arthur E. Moore has proposed that many senile patients be transferred from state hospitals to make room for mentally ill children.

Judge Moore, in a resolution presented yesterday to the Michigan Probate Judges Assn. meeting in Gaylord, said "children should be given emergency preference in this matter."

He cited figures to the association showing that "there must be at least a total of 200 insane children in Michigan who need hospitalization as an emergency matter."

His resolution called for the appointment of a statewide committee "for the purpose of formulating a plan for the correction of the deplorable inadequacy in mental hospitalization and care of the feeble-minded and epileptic of this state."

The older patients, Judge Moore

believed, could be placed in new boarding or rest homes constructed by the counties, thereby releasing beds for the children in state hospitals.

The judge told the association that state officials, over the past 20 years, have failed to come up with an answer to housing mentally ill patients.

"Is Michigan humane and civilized, or are we unwilling to help sick children," he asked. "They are just as much entitled to hospitalization somewhere in Michigan as is the boy with the broken arm or other physical ailment."

Social welfare agencies throughout the state should be asked to join with the association in formulating a plan to attack the problem, Judge Moore added.

2 U.S. Consuls Overdue From Rebel Parley

No Word Received by Embassy From Pair in Hills of Cuba

HAVANA, Cuba (AP) — There has been no word from two U.S. consuls who went into the hills of eastern Cuba to seek release of kidnapped North Americans.

That fact aroused speculation today that Fidel Castro's rebels might be holding the diplomats also.

The U.S. Embassy in Havana had expected the consuls to return by yesterday with some report on the 47 Americans and three Canadians seized by rebels in east Cuba since Thursday.

Park Wollam, consul at Santiago, was reported to have made contact with rebels near the town of Moa, where 12 engineers were kidnapped, after going into the hills Sunday morning.

Robert Wiecha, vice consul at Santiago, reportedly entered the back country around Guantanamo Bay Sunday afternoon to seek release of 30 servicemen from the U.S. naval station at Guantanamo.

The rebels also are holding two American managers of a nickel plant and two sugar mill executives, an American and a Canadian, picked up over the weekend, plus four American agricultural experts for United Fruit Co. seized on a raid Monday night.

Escapee From Hospital
Describes Slaying Man
on Metamora Farm

An escapee from the State Mental Hospital at Northville told Pontiac State Police last night that he killed Metamora farmer Pearl H. Snover, last April.

Flint State Police and Lapeer County sheriff's detectives today said that Paul Sims Jr., 23, voluntarily told them he shot and killed the 71-year-old bachelor because Snover wanted to send him back to the hospital.

Trooper Conny Snyder, of the Pontiac Post, picked up Sims Tuesday afternoon at the home of a relative, Thomas Sharpe, 2925 Rattalee Lake Rd., Springfield Township. Police were following up a report of a suspicious man in the area.

Sims had been committed to the hospital due to excessive drinking. He was granted a convalescent leave in the summer of 1956, and came to work at the Metamora Girl Scout Camp where he became acquainted with Snover, he told police.

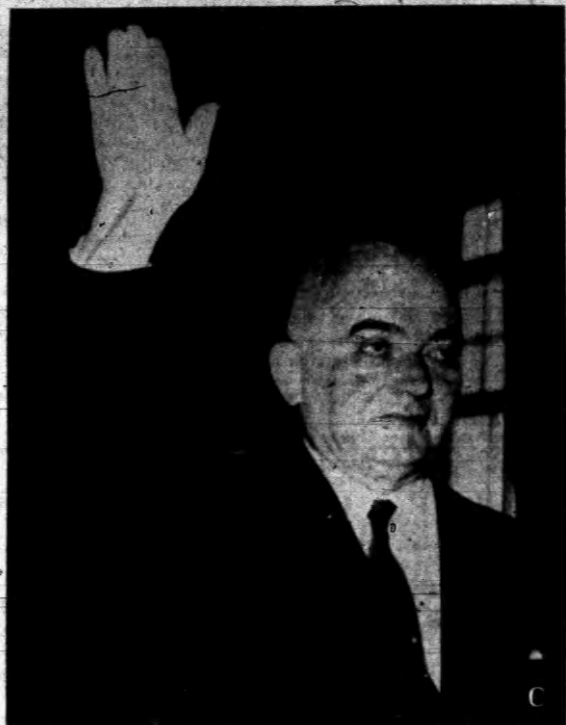

Sims, a trusty at the hospital, said he escaped on April 25 and went to Snover's home. When Snover threatened to call police, Sims loaded a .22 caliber rifle in the kitchen and fired point-blank at Snover, he told police.

Sims was found in Ohio June 5 and returned to the hospital. He escaped again last Monday.

According to Lapeer County Sheriff William J. Porter, Sims will be charged with first degree murder if the hospital will release him.

Authorities also plan to question him in connection with the unsolved axe slaying of a Springfield Township widow, Mrs. Florence Norton, in October 1956.

Lebanon Rebels Assaulting Key Tripoli Bridge to Syria

BEIRUT, Lebanon (UPI) — Rebel forces launched an assault today on a major bridge in Tripoli controlling all traffic northward toward Syria. The army moved up tanks to defend it.

The rebel attack on the Bahsas bridge, some 600 yards north of the Tripoli city limits, came after a night of heavy firing inside and outside the northern port city.

Says U.S. Ready to Send Troops Into Lebanon

DETROIT (AP) — Gen. Nathan F. Twining says the United States is prepared to send troops into Lebanon if the need arises.

"I don't think it would start an all-out war," he said.

But he added: "If we go into Lebanon, we go for a purpose and we are prepared for any eventuality. We are ready for any eventuality — all-out war or limited war — right now."

If U.S. troops intervene in the seven-week-old rebellion in the tiny Middle East country, they probably would do it without nuclear arms, he told a news conference.

Twining, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, was here last night to address the closing session of the Industry Missile and Space Age Conference sponsored by the Aero Club of Michigan.

Brands as Lies That Ike Aide Was Influenced

Reads Long Statement to House Committee
Probing Friendships

WASHINGTON (AP) — Bernard Goldfine denied today there was anything out of line in his gift-studded relationship with presidential aide Sherman Adams.

He said his family considers it has received more in gifts from the Adams family than it has given.

The 67-year-old Boston industrialist, long-time friend and patron of Adams, branded as lies charges that Adams swung federal favors to him.

His hospitality and gifts to Adams, President Eisenhower's principal assistant, were not intended and did not result in special favors from government agencies for his business interests, Goldfine said.

"Why doesn't somebody write about the things Gov. Adams gave to my family over the years?" he asked.

Goldfine came before a House investigating committee with a long prepared statement denying any wrongdoing and hurling a charge that embraced many Congress members that:

"All these expressions of horror about what I asked Mr. Adams to do and what he did are hypocrisy."

But he departed from his statement to elaborate on the point of gifts from the Adams family.

Today's session started at 10:30 a.m. in a packed hearing room. The Russian-born Goldfine took the oath and started reading his statement at 10:25 a.m. He read slowly and loudly.

However, the hearing was forced to adjourn at 12:48 p.m. until tomorrow morning so members could take part in House floor action on the foreign aid bill.

Goldfine had finished reading 22 of the 25 pages in his prepared statement when the hearings ended for the day.

Goldfine arrived three minutes early for the hearing. About 500 men and women were crammed into the room.

The hallway outside the room was crowded with those hoping to get in.

Goldfine walked stiffly and slowly up the building steps. He marched into the room with a family escort. With him were Mrs. Goldfine and two sons, H. Maxwell and Sol.

Mother Asks Examination

Charged With Leaving Girl, 3, Locked in Car 3 Hours Monday

Examination was demanded yesterday by Mrs. Jack L. Voss, 24-year-old Pontiac mother accused of leaving her three-year-old daughter locked in a car for more than three hours Monday while she shopped.

West Bloomfield Township Justice Elmer C. Dieterle released Mrs. Voss, of 500 Kuhn St., on a personal bond. Examination was set for July 8.

The Oakland County prosecutor's office Tuesday issued a child cruelty warrant against Mrs. Voss after a clerk in a Miracle Mile Shopping Center store signed a complaint.

Bloomfield Township Police Chief Norman Dehnke, who was called to the center, said Mrs. Voss returned to her small Isotta car some three hours and 15 minutes after she had locked her daughter, Jan, in it for punishment.

Dehnke said the woman locked the child in the car parked out in front of a store at the center when she reportedly became irritated after the child followed her into a store.

The child, with only panties on, was then locked in the car, which has only one door, with only two side window vents left open, he said. "The child could have baked to death," he added.

Clerks from the store attempted to comfort the girl by passing glasses of water and wet towels through the vents until police were summoned.

The child was suffering from a heat rash when released from the car, Dehnke said.

Circuit Judge Holland Weds in Maryland

Oakland County Circuit Judge H. Russell Holland yesterday married his secretary of 10 years, Mrs. Nell Rogers, of Pontiac, in a family ceremony in Cumberland, Md.

The wedding was performed by Judge Holland's nephew, Rev. Archie C. Prevatte at First Baptist Church in Cumberland.

Attending the ceremony were Judge Holland's daughter, Sharon, and Mrs. Rogers' daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Jay A. Wagner, of 546 W. Ingalls Rd.

After a brief honeymoon in Virginia, the Hollands will attend a family reunion and then spend the rest of July in Florida. They are expected to return to Pontiac around the first of August.

Supervisors Ask Circuit Court to Set Lake Levels

The Oakland County Board of Supervisors has petitioned Circuit Court to fix the levels of Oakland and Woodhull Lakes in Waterford and Independence Townships.

In a request filed yesterday for a hearing, the county stated that property owners on the two lakes had asked the Oakland County drain commissioner to establish the normal height and levels of the lakes.

Judge Clark J. Adams set Sept. 12 for the hearing. "If water is drawn down to low, mud flats are exposed and noxious, offensive and unhealthy odors escape," the request for the hearing said.

Surveys taken by Drain Commissioner Daniel W. Barry's department show the proper level of both lakes to be 957.50 above sea level.

NEW LOOK — For the first time in 54 years, Oakland County residents are seeing the true color of their courthouse. Sandblasting crews from Detroit have recently completed a $990 cleaning job on the Saginaw and Huron street sides of the building. Next to get a scrubbing and painting are the window and door frames, roof domes and trim, and, last but not least, the high clock tower. County officials are even considering replacing the missing scales for the Lady of Justice at the top.

Thomson Takes 1-Stroke Lead

Australian Pro Shoots Red-Hot 66 in British Open Golf Tourney

ST. ANNE'S-ON-SEA, England — Peter Thomson of Australia took the first round lead in the British Open Golf Championship today with a dazzling five-under-par round of 33-34-66 that left America's Gene Sarazen far behind.

Thomson, winner three times and runnerup three in the last six British Opens, came in late in the day one stroke ahead of Ireland's Christy O'Connor, who had 35-35-67. Thomson had set a record for the 6,635 yard Royal Lytham and St. Anne's course with a 65 and he won the qualifying medal with a record 133 aggregate.

The 56-year-old Sarazen, America's main hope, fired a steady 36-37-73, finishing just after a drenching morning rain ended. That appeared to be a good score then, but Sarazen, winner in 1932, was left seven strokes behind as the round neared its end.

The only other American qualifier, Army Private Monte Bradley of Hillsboro, Tex., and Germany, was even farther back with 39-37-76.

Two strokes behind Thomson with 68s were England's 51-year-old Henry Cotton, a three-time champion; Max Faulkner, the 1951 winner; and Young Gary Player of South Africa.

Police Captain Alarmed

'Syndicate' in Labor Unions

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A Los Angeles police captain testified today that underworld elements on the West Coast have formed "a definitely established pattern" to penetrate both labor unions and such businesses as the shoulder pad industry.

James E. Hamilton, head of the intelligence division of the Los Angeles Police Dept., appeared before the Senate Rackets Committee as an expert witness on crime syndicate operations in his area.

Hamilton said he is "thoroughly convinced" there exists in this country a "very tight" organization which rules over much of the underworld activities.

"Call it the Mafia or call it the Bird Watchers Society, it's the same thing," he said. He said the crime federation, controlled by persons of Sicilian origin, is so closely knit it is almost impossible for a police undercover agent to get information on its activities.

Hamilton urged the committee to consider a 1952 proposal by the National Association of Police Chiefs that a federal agency be assigned the task of coordinating information about the syndicate.

Asked for examples of the criminal penetration in the labor-management field, Hamilton cited the case of Louis (Scarface) Lieberman and Louis Flano of New York.

He testified they reportedly arrived in Los Angeles with a supply of heroin which they sold to finance the Lucky Trading Co. He said Lieberman bragged to a police undercover agent that he would be living in a $100,000 house within a year.

Hamilton also mentioned the activities of James Iannone, who was known as Danny Wilson, who was on the payroll of a couple of another passenger remarked that it looked like another of Washington's hot summer days.

"In more ways than one," Mrs. Goldfine remarked with a laugh. Goldfine wore a dark business suit. His soft Panama hat bore a brilliant blue band. His blue tie was solid except for a tiny "B" in a lighter shade of blue.

Mrs. Goldfine sat in an adjacent chair. They chatted between themselves.

Before the hearing was called to order, Mrs. Goldfine moved off and attorneys Samuel Sears of Boston and Roger Robb of Washington moved in to counsel Goldfine.

When Goldfine began telling the House subcommittee about "gifts he had received from Adams," he took from his wrist and passed up to Chairman Oren Harris (D-Ark.) a round gold watch, saying it was one of two Adams had given him.

Goldfine said he particularly treasured it because of the date — Jan. 20, 1953, Eisenhower's first inauguration day.

And he said Adams would often give him such things as a billfold, a "beautiful Swiss music box," a painting by Mrs. Adams.

House investigators wanted particularly to know whether Goldfine charged off his favors to Adams as business expenses. Their advance information was that Goldfine did.

If so, some congressmen contend, that proves the gifts were not just tokens of friendship as Adams said — but favors Goldfine took in his prepared statement. He said, "Paperwork has been out of my line."

OUT OF HIS LINE

Goldfine himself didn't talk about taxes in his prepared statement. He said, "Paperwork has been out of my line."

And he pictured fellow Boston millionaire John Fox, his principal accuser, as a sick man who has told many lies "and will tell many more, I am sure."

"All of us remember how this whole miserable massacre of character began, and who started it. . . . Isn't it too bad that a sick and bitter man like Mr. John Fox can defame and slander a man like Gov. Adams all around the world? . . ."

"He has come to blame all his troubles — losing the newspaper, tax troubles, lawsuits for not paying his employees — all on Goldfine. I think the man is sick and that he has made up these stories because he is sick."

'DIDN'T SAY IT'

"He has told lies about statements he said I have made about Gov. Adams. I never made such statements."

The maneuver of putting out the Goldfine statement long in advance — even recording it for TV — obviously had tempers of some of the Congress members smoldering.

Goldfine worked with his wife, son and two attorneys into the early hours of the morning today polishing his testimony.

There was a report Goldfine had retained television personality Tex McCrary to handle public relations during his expected three days of testimony.

Henry Reprimanded for Part in City Suit

to take the case, but refused to withdraw the proceedings he has already filed. Henry also reserved the right to act as consultant in the suit.

Commissioners accepted these stipulations during a half-hour discussion that took place privately during a recess at the end of last night's regular meeting.

They later returned to the commission chambers, where the settlement was made a matter of public record.

VOICES DISAPPROVAL

Commissioner John A. Dugan voiced the strongest disapproval of the attorney.

"It is the most unethical thing I've ever heard of in this city," he said flatly. He believed it was "out of this world" for a commissioner to drag administrative officials, "whose appointment he partially controls," into court as defendants in his own case.

Philip E. Rowston, another attorney, stated that his private policy was to "steer clear" of legal matters involving the city.

QUESTION POSITION

Rowston and Mayor William W. Donaldson both questioned the propriety of Henry's position. "I'm sure it would be best for the city to let an associate take the case," Donaldson said.

Willman said privately, "I believe I'm the first city manager in history to be sued by a member of his own commission. I expect either support from my commission or discipline. But I do not expect to be sued."

The suit is one in which four police officers are seeking promotions on grounds that civil service procedure is being violated. They say they should have been promoted several months ago and are seeking back pay of the higher ranks.

City Attorney William A. Ewart ruled that this latter demand constituted damages. If so, he said, Henry was violating a charter provision prohibiting commissioners from being personally interested in city contracts or expenditures of money.

Henry disagreed with this opinion, saying that he would not profit personally if the officers won the back pay they say is due them.

"I would heartily condemn any kind of finagling for profit on the part of a commissioner," he said. "But in this instance, I believe the civil service act is being violated and am honor-bound to try to uphold the constitution, even if it is the city which is violating it."

Ewart included these remarks in his legal opinion of Henry's action.

"It is definitely against sound public policy to permit this case to be carried to its completion for the reason that it is unfair to the officials involved and would subject them to severe criticism if they remained quiescent and proceeded with the court case without settling the issue of conflicting interests."

After accepting Henry's promise to withdraw from the case, Commissioners passed the resolution against him anyway, so as to go on record against such practices, Donaldson said.

Then they told Ewart to drop the matter as far as further court action was concerned.

In the past 50 years 80 per cent of the U.S. iron ore came from north Minnesota's Mesabi range.

The Day in Birmingham

More Aerial Displays for Fireworks Viewers

BIRMINGHAM — Children in the Birmingham area, and a great number of adults, too, are awaiting one of the city's biggest annual events—the Fourth of July fireworks display at the high school parking lot, sponsored by the Birmingham Chamber of Commerce.

Charles Mortensen, chamber manager, said today the two previous displays were the biggest attractions ever staged here, topping even the attendance of children and adults at the annual Halloween party.

Last year it was estimated that about 10,000 persons saw the display, not counting those who parked on side streets.

The show this year, Mortensen said, will feature more aerial displays than in the past. He said this change is made for the benefit of those persons who remain in their cars, since the high school grandstand can accommodate only a few of the spectators.

Scheduled for 9 p.m., the display will be handled by a member of the Birmingham Fire Department.

Auxiliary police will be on duty to handle traffic in the area.

Birmingham's latest traffic safety award has been turned over to the Police Department to be displayed with the numerous other plaques and certificates.

The new addition to the safety gallery at the Police Station is a certificate from the Michigan Safety Commission for Birmingham's support in the statewide campaign to reduce traffic accidents.

Mayor Carl Ingraham said he felt any credit coming to Birmingham belongs to the Police Department for its fine record in traffic safety.

The Senior Men's Club, sponsored jointly by the Birmingham Community House and Recreation Board, will not hold its customary weekly meeting Friday. The "vacation" is to avoid conflict with the July 4 holiday.

The Congregational Church of Birmingham will adopt its summer service schedule Sunday. Both worship service and church school will begin at 10 a.m. Regular schedules will be resumed Sept. 10.

William F. Royer, 45, of 1161 Birmingham Blvd., will be held at 10 a.m. tomorrow at Bell Chapel of the William R. Hamilton Co. Burial will be in Bellefontaine, Ohio.

All Flag Manufacturers Up in the Air; They Don't Know What to Plan For

NEW YORK 48 — The question of what to do about Alaska's 48th star has flag manufacturers up in the air and flag buyers in a tizzy.

The manufacturers, who turn out an estimated seven million Star-Spangled Banners each year, don't know what to plan for. Some say they'll keep making flags with 48 stars until the design of the new 49-star flag is officially decided.

This may not happen for another year.

"We wish the government would make up its mind," says a big New York flag producer. "But whatever they decide, we'll be ready for it. If we have to, we can work three shifts."

Less enthused about a prospective change in design are dealers with large quantities of 48-star flags on hand.

"The easiest way out," says a Providence, R. I., dealer with three dozen flags in stock, "is just to burn them and forget them."

Also far from happy are owners of office buildings, amusement parks, banks, hotels and other big users. Frank W. Kridel, executive vice president and general manager of the Hotels Astor and Manhattan here, bemoans the fact that his hotels have 49 flags on hand that cost $3,000.

He wants President Eisenhower to approve a simple change — like sewing a blue star on the white stripe directly under the blue field — that would save existing flags.

Flag manufacturers, with a fortune tied up in 48-star flags, insist that the present version of Old Glory, even without addition of an extra star, can be flown legally for years to come.

"That goes even if Hawaii is admitted as a 50th state," one manufacturer asserts. "There's nothing that says you have to have a definite number of stars. Any flag that has ever been officially adopted is all right. You can even fly the Betsy Ross flag."

The armed services, the postal service and other federal government agencies are expected to set a stricter interpretation.

"What will we do about our 48-star flags? When we get the order, we'll just burn 'em all," says a U. S. Navy spokesman here.

The change to a 49-star flag has other economic ramifications. Parker Bros. Inc. of Salem, Mass., a leading producer and publisher of games, foresees overnight obsolescence for thousands of its games which are based on a nation of 48 states and an electoral college with 531 votes.

Map makers face similar problems.

One special problem confronting flag manufacturers is the possibility that Hawaii may soon be admitted as the 50th state. That would make the 49-star flag obsolete.

"Lots of folks may not buy the 49-star flag," explains one manufacturer. "They may hold off until Hawaii is admitted and we get a flag with 50 stars."

War-Painted Indians Marching on Caracas

CARACAS, Venezuela (AP) — Brandishing bows and arrows, five war-painted Indians invaded the "White Palace" headquarters of Venezuela's provisional government last night.

The deputations represented five big tribes living southwest of Lake Maracaibo. They appealed for farm implements and protection from marauding Indians they said were raiding from neighboring Colombia.

Government spokesmen promised their demands would get urgent attention.

He Gave Statehood Big Shove

Alaska Should Erect Statue of George Lehlleitner

By ARTHUR EDSON
WASHINGTON (AP)—As soon as Alaska officially becomes a state, it should erect at least a small statue of George Lehlleitner.

For Lehlleitner, a New Orleans businessman, has carried on one of the most unusual civic love affairs of all time. Far away from his beloved territories, his faith unshaken by many a disheartening setback, Lehlleitner has worked steadily since World War II for both Alaska and Hawaii statehood.

Since Lehlleitner isn't large, the statue needs to be either. Five feet, five inches tall, a friendly man of 52 with his sports shirt collar open over his wash suit, Lehlleitner doesn't look like one who could move the mountains and valleys of Alaska to statehood.

Yet Alaskans credit him with playing a major role in the campaign. And his friends say he has spent up to two-thirds of his time, and more than $40,000 of his money, trying to push Alaska and/or Hawaii into the union.

Like most love affairs, the start of this one is fairly involved. It includes Lehlleitner's hitch in the Navy, his service on a transport that took him to Hawaii, and, curiously, a drunken Marine.

"I guess I had the average misconception of Hawaii," he said, "as a place where everyone went around barefooted, all bananas and coconuts. I had even a shallower conception of their form of government."

During World War II, martial law was declared on the islands, and Lehlleitner is convinced it was kept on far longer than if Hawaii had had state's rights.

Lehlleitner seems particularly depressed by the memory of a Marine who went into a small grocery store and had himself a ball by the simple process of buying soft drinks and vanilla extract and mixing same.

"He got plastered," Lehlleitner said. "They hauled the poor woman who owned the store into a military court, and as well as I can recall, she got a six-month jail sentence."

"It was a shocker to me."

His reaction was immediate. "I resolved that when I went back into civil life I would make

More Minerals Needed
DENVER — In 1870 only 35 minerals were needed to support the United States economy. Now more than 100, most of them indispensable to industry, are required.

my civic project statehood for Hawaii — and eventually Alaska." Lehlleitner still believes Hawaii should have come in first, right after World War II. He thinks admission of the Hawaiians, with their close ties to Asia, would have been dramatic proof that this nation truly believes in democracy for all peoples.

"We missed the boat," he says. "I really believe that if we had brought Hawaii in then, the history of the Far East might have been a little different." Well, along the way Hawaii suffered setbacks, and Lehlleitner switched his first allegiance to Alaska. He sold the Alaskans on the Tennessee plan, a scheme whereby a territory elects pseudo congressmen and sends them here to holler until full statehood is granted.

They've hollered, while Lehlleitner has been busy whipping up cheers from the sidelines. And yesterday the Senate agreed with the House that Alaska should be in New Orleans.

"But I'll be back," he said. One battle won, Lehlleitner prepared to grab a plane for his often neglected floor-covering business in New Orleans.

"Next time — Hawaii!"

Don't Let Holiday Fun Bring Tragic Accidents

July Fourth is just a day or two away. True, it is time for celebration, but not necessarily wholesale slaughter. Too many times in the past this has been the unfortunate case.

Before sundown on the Fourth, some millions of cases of soda pop and beer will be consumed at picnics and cook-outs across the nation. This is fun. It is as it should be with one exception.

Too much celebrating and driving do not mix.

A little caution, plus some forethought will save many unnecessary accidents.

In advance of the weekend, news services will be predicting how many deaths will occur. Over the holiday, traffic casualties will climb to ghastly heights rivaling that caused by a fair sized war.

Several persons will have maiming injuries to prove that it's still possible to buy fireworks for private use.

Other scores of holiday merry makers will die or be crippled in numerous other fun-inspired activities. The swimming season will be at its peak, and the beaches will be jammed.

Most everyone will be outdoors having fun. But that ill-timed slogan "We-gotta-have-fun-on-our-day-off" should be tempered.

Have fun, but live to talk about it the next day.

Touchy Lebanon State Is United Nations Issue

This Lebanon situation isn't particularly cheering.

Premier SAMI SOLH requests United Nations troops to act as a buffer for NASSER's forces. This places the United States and Russia at sword points. The Reds have threatened to send their own troops into this area if any attempt is made to block NASSER. We'd be on the opposite side.

This places the matter right before the United Nations and this organization should face the music. The United States should not tackle this delicate and ticklish problem all by itself. As The Press has said time and again, our single nation can't act as a world police force and ride herd on two and a half billion people.

We lack the man power, the resources and the cash.

Cheese Deal Refunds Are Ordered by Courts

Last week, following a precedent set by a Baltimore court, a Federal Judge in Wisconsin directed eight cheese companies in that state to return to the Government a total of more than one billion dollars.

The case grew out of a 1954 transaction when the Department of Agriculture was cutting dairy support prices from 90 per cent to 75 per cent of parity. The Commodity Credit Corporation bought more than 86 million pounds of cheese from companies at the higher support price of 37 cents a pound.

Then when the supports were lowered, the CCC sold the cheese back to the companies at 34.75 a pound. These firms made a profit of 2.75 cents a pound for a total of $2.5 million and the cheese never left their warehouses.

A year ago a committee headed by Rep. FOUNTAIN (D-N.C.) found that the cheese transactions were recommended by industry members of the Agriculture Department's industry committee. One of those members who advised the purchase and resale of the cheese was a vice-president of the biggest buyer of the cheese and his company made a huge profit.

As a result of the investigation a bill was passed requiring the Government to inform Congress of appointments to advisory committees thereby preventing industry or other representatives from helping their own companies from inside the government.

The Department of Agriculture has stoutly maintained that our tax money was properly used. Fortunately the courts don't think so.

PERHAPS in these day of H-bombs and ICBMs, the Navy ought to change its slogan to, "Join the Navy and See the World—but Hurry!"

The Man About Town

Put on Our Honor

We Are Asked to Make a Proudful Traffic Record

July 4: Next after Dec. 25, our most significant holiday.

In this coming weekend we're being put upon our honor by Sheriff Frank W. Irons, who asks us to make a record in traffic safety during what Harry N. Rogan, the AAA top road consultant, says will see more cars on our highways than ever before.

Irons says, "If each driver stays sober, starts a little early, and observes speed limits and traffic rules, we'll show the world that we know how to handle cars in the area where most of them are made—and I'll have extra men on duty to help us do it."

With her chrysanthemums now all out in bud,

Phyllis Littlefield of 3574 Overton Road, wonders if the continued cool weather didn't make them think autumn had arrived.

Displaying its usual foresight, our suburban Oxford had its main street (Washington) widened and paved before the coming of the rebuilding of the Pontiac-Lapeer super highway, now in progress through that village. So, it is business as usual, according to Banker Harold Pickford of that beautiful community, instead of going through the torn up mess usually incidental to such work.

Under the direction of their teacher, C. C. Lundgren, a Pontiac orchestra of grade school pupils,

"Three Strings Plus One," is dispensing real harmony. I've heard them and marvel at their perfect rhythm. In most of the current stuff I cannot detect any rhythm at all. You can learn more about them by contacting Mr. Lundgren, FE 8-6776, or

Mrs. J. I. Hughes, 444 Marion St.; phone FE 2-4359.

A letter just received from Mrs. Joseph Smith of rural Milford, says there are some rattlesnakes and blue racers in her neighborhood.

Quite adept at carving pictures and other artistic work was Herbert R. Justman of 174 South Edith St., who died last week. Some of his work, which he gave me, is better than any of the so-called "modern art" that has been inflicted on my vision. He sent a sample to President Dwight D. Eisenhower, and received a letter of commendation from him.

"I'm Giving You a Choice—Get Out or Else . . ."

David Lawrence Says:

Alaska a Land Full of Opportunity

WASHINGTON — It isn't often that a state is admitted to the Union.

The last time it happened was 46 years ago when Arizona and New Mexico came in.

The event caused a lot of excitement, then—and the boom isn't over in those states yet. The admission of Alaska will bring the same kind of excitement—new hope and new adventure.

For a new state means new opportunities for millions of people. It means some hardship, of course, for new settlers. But it means also a chance to make money—and that's a motivation which has stirred men many times in American history.

Thus the "gold rush" to the Klondike area in Alaska in 1896 took on the same pattern as the "gold rush" to California in 1849. What does the entry of a new state really mean? It affects not merely those who want to set up a stake in the 103,000,000 acres previously owned by the government that will be thrown open to settlement.

Our own Pacific Northwest will benefit by the increased trade, and indirectly there will be an impact commercially on the people of the United States as a whole.

For if Alaska—which in area is twice the size of Texas—becomes more heavily populated, it means a new market for many products.

Likewise, if the valuable oil resources of Alaska are developed, it could mean that the American consumer of oil will be less dependent on the oil that comes from the troublesome Middle East.

It could mean that tankers some day will go from Alaskan ports direct to some Asian countries. Oil means a chance for industrialization of regions not now able to buy cheap fuel.

Politically, Alaska will add a few electoral votes. There will be 98 United States senators instead of 96, and 436 members of the U.S. House of Representatives instead of 435.

In a close situation—as, for instance, in the Senate where in recent years there has been almost a tie between the two parties—the two Alaska votes could be decisive on many questions of public policy.

Internationally, the addition of Alaska to the union should not mean much change. But there is perhaps a sentimental difference when one of our states becomes the border of the mainland of Russia, and it is no longer an area of just territorial or colonial status.

The Country Parson

"We make life easy for our children when we should be making our children rugged for life!"

Certainly there will be more of a national consciousness now that the United States is actually adjacent to Soviet Russia in the Siberian region.

To many Americans Alaska is something remote, a place that's very cold in winter. It's true that Alaska is the first state of the Union that reaches across the Arctic Circle, but its resources are fabulous. It isn't so certain that Hawaii's fate will be. One group argues that there is too much communistic activity in Hawaii, and the other thinks a good way to get rid of it would be to admit Hawaii into the Union.

Looking northward, in between the 48 states and the 49th, there is the vast area of western Canada. A good highway goes from our Pacific Northwest to Alaska, and the trip takes about seven days by automobile. Airline planes cover the distance in a few hours.

Dr. William Brady Offers:

Health Tips, Teachings Reduced to Capsule Size

A few days may be sufficient time to "try" a medicinal remedy. It takes a few months to "try" a nutritional remedy.

Every functionally efficient tooth, your own or your dentist's, is worth at least $1,000.

The common respiratory infections (colds, flu, pneumonia, etc.) for short, which in most cases spread from person to person via conversational spray, account for most of the everyday work of doctors.

Exhaustive study of current medical literature does not reveal just why or when the merchants of medicine (trick specialists and "clinic" racketeers) discarded the old fashioned name for chronic joint disability and adopted the new name. In the late, great Dr. Osler's day, it was simply chronic rheumatism. For $300 snobs it is "arthritis."

Arthritis does occur occasionally but in 9 out of 10 cases of chronic joint disability there is no joint inflammation (arthritis) but only degeneration of joint tissues.

Progress Note: In 1846 the Professor of Obstetrics in Jefferson Medical School outrageously castigated Dr. Oliver Wendell Holmes for telling the world the truth about childbed fever, that it was caused usually by the unclean hands and instruments of the doctor. In 1938 the Professor of Obstetrics in Jefferson Medical School says the place for the husband is at his wife's side when their baby is being born. Of course the professor assumes they love each other.

Sherman said: The ordinary mixed diet of Americans and Europeans is probably more often deficient in calcium than in any other chemical element. I (Brady) say high-calcium diet plus a good daily ration of Ca and D corrects more of the everyday complaints of Americans than does any other treatment.

A real doctor learns more about a patient's metabolism by observation and ordinary examination than a trick specialist can learn by using the "Rube Goldberg" machine.

Twentieth century atrocity: Subjecting a child with enlarged tonsils to tonsillectomy.

Costly error of hygiene: Riding to school, work, office or shop when one can afford to walk.

I won't say they're all out of step but Brady, but I do say health and nutrition authorities are ambiguous. On the one hand they assert that a "reasonably varied and well balanced" diet supplies all the vitamins and minerals any one needs, while on the other hand they approve the practice of doctoring oleomargarine with provitamin A (carotene), enriching flour with a shotgun combination of vitamin B1 (thiamin), B2 (riboflavin), nicotinic acid (niacin), calcium, iron etc., and fortifying milk with vitamin D. Anyway they're out of step with each other.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not disease, diagnosis, or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Are You Lacking in Horse Sense?

Although Andy is a brilliant college graduate, he shows signs of emotional immaturity. And that is often true of college students, for they haven't been taught enough "horse sense." They may stampee like sheep into smoking the latest brand of cigarettes or wearing the latest fad in clothing.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

CASE Y - 351: Andy X., aged 22, is a Purdue graduate who now holds a very good research position with the government.

Recently a Counter Intelligence man called at our house, inquiring to see our son Daniel, who was not home at the time.

So Mrs. Crane asked if she could be of help. And the agent informed her that he was making a routine check-up on Andy X., since Andy was in some confidential work for Uncle Sam and it is customary to double check such people most thoroughly.

Andy had listed our son Daniel as his "Credit Reference."

Well, Daniel was a college senior himself at the time and without any of those "handles" on his name which I recommended yesterday.

The investigator wondered if Daniel had lent any money to Andy in college and if Andy had ever been negligent in repaying his loans.

Voice of the People

'Don't Blame the Children for Juvenile Delinquency'

Children are born innocent, helpless and free of sin. Most delinquents are just unfortunate in being brought into the world by parents unfit to raise them.

Politicians and money grabbers such as divorce lawyers have made laws so a woman is better off getting a divorce than living with her husband. I am ashamed to say this country is a hotbed of sin and corruption.

Men think nothing of running around with other men's wives and all too many women seem to think it's cute to break up as many homes as possible. Laws tend to encourage this and what are our churches doing about it?

Education's Still Discussion Topic

In his last missive, Mr. Very Small stated my arguments about wages and vacations "were shown to be wrong in Tuesday's paper." Mr. Very Small would rather listen to secondary sources. Dr. Whitmer, superintendent of schools, would assure Mr. Small that teachers never receive a paid vacation and that teachers' salaries are incredibly low in comparison to salaries paid other professional people.

No one refuted my basic argument that teaching is the second most important profession in the world. Certainly Mr. Very Small's astute contention that I tried "to prove that teachers are really next to Jesus" doesn't refute any position. His irrelevant and superficial rebuttal merely proves that he missed the whole point, that he failed to see the importance of distinguishing between teaching and teachers.

To condemn teaching is to condemn its end purpose, namely perfection of the powers of the human intellect. Admittedly, this is quite an unsound reason for condemnation, but at least it is a reason. But what reason can one have for making a general condemnation of teachers? To make a derogatory judgment about a single, specific teacher is humanly possible because it is physically and rationally possible to know a specific teacher. How many teachers does Mr. Very Small know—maybe one or two, maybe even three? This hardly constitutes grounds for a general condemnation of teachers.

Finally, what qualifies Mr. Very Small to act as judge of teachers? There are not so many juvenile delinquents, Mr. Very Small. Actually juvenile delinquents constitute less than 10 per cent of our adolescent population. Therefore, if "low grade teachers" "make" the juvenile delinquents, who "makes" the remaining 90 per cent of our adolescent population? Don't give all the credit to teachers. Parents exercise the major influence. This is my last reply to Mr. Very Small.

Friend of Pedagogues

When will criticism cease to be considered heresy? Poor but Enlightened missed the point of my letter. I, too, feel education is our only hope for survival. That's why I'm so concerned about raising teaching standards. I'm willing to pay anything for good educators, but only if we get what we pay for.

Refusing to admit shortcomings won't make them disappear. And there are many. Poor but Enlightened is sadly mistaken when he says requirements are tough in this field. Ask anyone outside the field who has taken education courses. Whether we like it or not, it's easy for unqualified people to obtain teaching certificates. That is not to say all who teach are unqualified. Far from it.

Standards of teaching have improved immensely over the past few decades, but there is still much room for improvement. No one respects teaching as a profession any more than I, but only if it's handled professionally. If we continue to put any and all teachers on a pedestal, above reproach, there can never be improvement. The field of education must be willing to meet criticism and improve its shortcomings if it is to meet the needs of our nation.

College Graduate

'How Can He Ask Such a Question?'

A recent letter about closing taverns on Sunday asks what difference does it make? According to figures released by the National Safety Council in 1955, 26 out of every 100 traffic fatalities involved a person who had been drinking. According to the FBI, 1,780,547 people were arrested in one year for law violations that involved drinking.

Many people who start by taking a little drink think they can't do without alcohol, drink more and more and become alcoholics. Alcoholism is now a major sickness in the U.S. It ranks above cancer, TB and polio. For every polio patient, there are 135 alcoholics. Can you imagine anyone saying "What difference does it make?" about polio, cancer or TB?

Why do we casually legalize the cause of all these arrests and auto accidents? Why do we permit advertising of anything so harmful? Why do we permit sale of liquor at all? Why don't we drop all the other drives and make one big effort to save the five million who are doomed to become alcoholics this year?

THOUGHTS FOR TODAY

My brethren have dealt deceitfully as a brook, and as the stream of brooks they pass away.—Job 6:15

There is no killing the suspicion that deceit has once begotten.—George Eliot plying for a job? Do they dress in flamboyant colors?

Do they think that smoking a cigar or pipe will make them rugged men?

Are they naive enough to list a college student as a Credit Reference?

A lot of college graduates act like immature teen-agers because nobody has steered their attention along practical lines. Alas, few people seem to be discoverers for themselves.

No, they must be told what to read and what movies to enjoy and what records are tops, etc. They fail to form their own deliberate judgments but often stampee like sheep.

If you are thus interested in seeing how you rate on a scale for emotional maturity, then send for my "Behavior Test for Teen-agers," enclosing a stamped return envelope, plus 20 cents.

It's good discussion material for parties, but is also a solid way to screen out the men from the boys!

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 30 stamped self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

Commissioners OK Car Insurance Bid

The Western Casualty & Surety Co., of Fort Scott, Ky., last night won renewal of its insurance coverage of city-owned vehicles.

City Commissioners accepted its low bid of $8,930, submitted through the Wilkinson Insurance Agency, 847 W. Huron St.

The only other bid was $12,580, submitted by the Michigan Mutual Liability Co., through its local branch at 73 W. Huron St.

Commissioners, in other action, went through public hearings on two improvements without opposition. One was on assessment rolls covering the installation of sewer stubs on 17 vacant lots along the Perry street widening project.

The other was on assessment rolls for the proposed repaving and curbing of Telegraph road between W. Huron street and James K. boulevard.

Four other assessment rolls received confirmation, while a new project calling for a sanitary sewer on Lounsbury avenue, from Stanley towards Blaine, was placed upon the improvement program. Nearly 55 per cent of the affected property owners had petitioned for it.

Commissioners decided to vacate an alley paralleling East boulevard for use by the Detroit Edison Co. for more overhead lines. The alley is between Midway street and the alley south of Irwin in the South Park Subdivision. A public hearing on the proposal was scheduled for Aug. 12.

Commissioner Milton R. Henry opposed renewing a billiards and tobacco license for the Motor Inn Recreation, 18 S. Perry, but the six other Commissioners voted for it.

Henry, an attorney, said the establishment was one named in a suit he brought on charges of discrimination.

Four other proposals, all brought up by Henry, were referred for further discussion to an informal meeting July 10. One called for performance bonds covering city policemen; the second would allow dancing in establishments that sell liquor; another would allow bonding of prisoners over the weekend; and the fourth would instruct police not to interfere in integration.

Dear Sir: Cut Your Weeds

Commission Decides to Send Registered Letter Before Crews Move In

Pontiac will use registered mail to notify property owners that city weed-cutting crews are about to move in.

This provision was one of three adopted by the City Commission last night to bring the local weed-cutting ordinance into line with recent changes in state law.

The notices will give property owners 10 days in which to cut weeds themselves. After that, the city intends to cut them and bill the owners for the expense.

Also adopted was a provision making the cost to the city a lien on the property, recoverable by special assessment.

The third provision caused some debate, but it was passed as recommended by City Attorney William A. Ewart. It provides for city weed cutting only on subdivided property on which 60 per cent of the lots are built up.

Some commissioners objected, saying that less heavily populated sections should not be exempted from the ordinance.

Ewart observed, however, that unless the local ordinance complies with state law, it might not stand up in court. His position was upheld.

Department of Parks and Recreation crews have already begun this season's weed cutting. Department head David R. Ewart urged property owners to cut their own weeds.

He did not believe the 60 per cent limitation would affect the weed-cutting program much.

Horse Slams Door at Diefenbaker, Wife

SASKATOON, Sask. (AP)—Four horses bolted at ceremonies here yesterday, slamming a carriage door against Prime Minister Diefenbaker and his wife, but the couple were not hurt.

The Diefenbakers had just alighted from a carriage in front of the grandstand at the Pion-Era Western exhibition when the band struck up "O Canada."

The carriage team reared and plunged forward. The vehicle's open door caught Mrs. Diefenbaker and threw her against her husband, then swept the two forward several feet before the horses were quieted. The Diefenbakers quickly regained their composure and stood at attention for the finish of the national song.

Holiday Postpones Rubbish Collections

City rubbish collections that normally would occur in northeast Pontiac Friday, have been postponed until Monday because of the July Fourth weekend.

The Department of Public Works said the area affected is bounded by the city limits on the north, Perry street on the southeast, Montcalm avenue on the south and on the west by the Grand Trunk Railroad industrial spur east of Baldwin avenue.

The department stressed that the collections will not take place on Saturday, which is when they traditionally would have occurred in the past when a holiday falls on a Friday.

Police Heartily Endorse Sam Browne Belt Ban

DENVER (AP)—Policemen heartily endorsed an order by the manager of safety banning the Sam Browne belt as standard uniform equipment.

The belt and shoulder strap had been in use since 1932. An ordinary belt is all that's required now to hold the officer's pants and pistol.

Det. Julius Olsen, a 42-year veteran of the force, said he was especially happy to see the Sam Browne go.

"When you're patrolling a beat," Olsen said, "every time you try to break up a fight or arrest a drunk, the guy grabs you by the shoulder strap and tosses you around."

Startled by Dry Falls, Abandons Suicide Try

NIKKO, Japan (AP)—Toshiyuki Fukushima of Osaka hiked up to the head of the 330-foot egon Falls to commit suicide.

Japan is having its worst drought in 52 years. Toshiyuki, 18, found the falls had dried up.

"It startled me so much I decided not to jump," he told police.

Train Is Rammed as Riders Depart

ALEXANDRIA, Va. (AP)—A train letting off passengers was rammed from behind yesterday by a second train pulling into Union Station. About 30 persons were hurt slightly or shaken up.

A Seaboard Air Line train was standing in the depot when it was struck by a Chesapeake & Ohio train. Both were northbound for Washington, across the Potomac River from Alexandria.

William W. Roberts, 73-year-old engineer of the C&O train, said the brakes failed. He estimated his speed at between 8 and 10 miles an hour at the time. All the injured were aboard the struck Seaboard train.

Two Quakes in Italy

CATANZARO, Italy (AP)—Two earthquakes three minutes apart gave this region of extreme southern Italy a hard shaking early today. No damage was reported.

Barefoot Actress Chases Husband Up Madison Ave.

NEW YORK (AP)—Actress Betty von Furstenberg was running along Madison Avenue barefoot before dawn yesterday when police spotted her. She was chasing her husband

Guy Vincent. He was carrying a pair of women's shoes. The couple got into a car, Vincent at the wheel, and drove away at high speed, according to the patrolmen.

When overtaken, Vincent was arrested on a charge of drunken driving. The actress bounded into the patrol car after her husband, the patrolmen said, and later jumped out shouting: "You crazy cops, you idiots, Hitler!"

This led to her appearance in court — wearing shoes this time — for arraignment on charges of disorderly conduct and obstructing a policeman. Vincent, 38, still appearing calm, was released in $500 bail for a July 15 hearing on the drunken driving charge. His wife, released without bail, gets a hearing July 18. Both pleaded innocent.

Official Song About Big Texas Needs Revising

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP)—William J. Marsh, co-author of the Texas state song, "Texas, Our Texas," has been busy answering phone calls since congressional approval of a measure to make Alaska the 49th state.

The callers wanted to know what he planned to do about the line referring to Texas as the "Largest and grandest" state, since Alaska is 2½ times as large.

Noting that Alaska isn't officially a state yet, Marsh told a reporter: "You can say the word 'brightest' can be substituted."

'We're Moving Too Fast'—Navy Chief

Missile Race Outpacing U.S. Production

DETROIT (AP)—The missile race, a boon to many industrialists, has no place for the long comfortable production run.

"We're moving too fast," says Rear Adm. Kleber S. Masterson, director of the Navy's guided missile division. "We have a race with obsolescence."

The weapons of past wars—bombs, bullets, rifles—could be designed and turned out by the millions.

But not so with missiles, say the scientists and military production chiefs attending a satellite and space age conference in Detroit.

There are two reasons: 1. Yesterday's missile, which sounded at first like something out of a science fiction comic strip, today may be parked next to the Model-T Ford, ready for a museum.

2. Who needs a million missiles when one, carrying the right warhead, can get the destructive job done?

"Equipment is becoming obsolete so fast," said Lt. Gen. C. S. Irvine, Air Force production chief, "that this rate would have been unbelievable five years ago."

An example of the changing situation in missiles was given by Bernard J. Meldrum, special assistant to the general manager of Chrysler missile division. He said:

"In the course of one year in the Redstone system, Chrysler missile division processed over 160,000 releases and changes in the documentation, or an average of one every 200 seconds for 24 hours a day, 365 days per year."

Dr. John C. Eppard, a member of the National Advisory Commission for Aeronautics and research supervisor for Lewis Flight Propulsion Laboratory at Cleveland, said the defense never would catch the offense in missiles.

If the defense reaches a point where it can shoot down nine out of ten missiles fired in an attack, it won't be enough, he said. The one that gets through would do the job.

In missile warfare the defense would have to be 100 per cent right, he said, and added: "Civilization has never done 100 per cent in anything."

Eppard told the 300 engineers and industrialists attending the two-day conference that there is a chance Russia's Sputnik III is a superspy able to watch the movement of U.S. troops and Naval vessels.

"Observational satellites can be built to locate roads, highways, general map characteristics and such instrumentation included." The conference, which ends tonight, is sponsored by the Aero Club of Michigan.

Local Tuba Player Singing in Europe

By JOEL RIPPA
Suburban News Editor

WALLED LAKE — "Talented" and "enterprising" are two words that might best describe Franklin Crawford Jr., 16-year-old Wallied Lake High School senior, now touring Europe with the Michigan Chorale.

PLAYS TUBA

Frank, as he is known to his family and friends, is a accomplished tuba player, having been a member of the Youth Symphony at Ann Arbor and the South Oakland Symphony, and a first place winner at the Senior Solo Festival in East Lansing.

For this reason many of his acquaintances were surprised he had been selected to go to Europe as a singer with the Youth for Understanding group, sponsored by the Michigan Council of Churches.

But Frank is a surprising young man. Besides his musical activities, he has been an honor student in high school while tripling the number of subscribers on his Pontiac Press route in the two years he has been delivering the paper in the Commerce Lake area.

MOST TRAVELED

The oldest of seven children of Mr. and Mrs. Franklin G. Crawford, of 704 Commerce Rd., Frank is by far the most traveled member of the family, his mother said.

A little more than a year ago, he won a Pontiac Press trip to Washington, D. C., in competition with other newsboys. He has also won a bicycle.

He and Mary Thibideaux of 1710 Pontiac Trail, another Wallied Lake High student, left Wayne Major Airport June 24 with 73 other southern Michigan high school students for Amsterdam, Holland. Before returning home Aug. 29, the mixed ensemble of young voices is scheduled to give concerts in 11 German cities besides Amsterdam and Brussels, Belgium.

Selected for vocal talent, scholarship and leadership ability, each was recommended for the chorus by his high school principal and minister. Most of the students are paying their own way, but some of those unable to do so are being assisted financially by partial scholarship grants by anonymous donors and money raised by concerts presented in Michigan prior to leaving for Europe.

Frank, coming from a large family, was one of those given scholarship aid. Yet, his mother said, "If he hadn't the paper route, he couldn't have made the trip."

He'll be a senior next fall, she the paper route because he is aiming for a scholarship, she said, and feels he can earn more money in less time than with another type of part time job, and not neglect his studies.

As an indication of the importance of the route to Frank, his parting words to his brothers, heart.

Mike, 15, and Terry, 13, were to "take care of that paper route." Meanwhile, between performances as first tenor in the chorale, Frank is looking for a new tuba in Germany.

Clinical tests show that those calories used up in the body are non-fattening. And that when your body needs energy, the calories from sugar supply it fast—faster than any other food.

Actually, the 18 calories in a level teaspoonful of Michigan Made Pure Sugar are used up in just 7½ minutes of normal activity. That is why modern, sensible diets call for cutting down on food without cutting out fast-acting energy-producing foods.

So there is no need to starve yourself for sweets. At your grocers, get Michigan Made brands—Pioneer or Big Chief. Each gives you only 18 calories in a level teaspoonful.

6 Months Car Output Near 2 1/2 Million

DETROIT (AP)—Only American Motors Rambler and Ford's Thunderbird models showed production totals above mid-1957 for the first six months of this year.

The combined six-month auto production totals for General Motors, Ford, Chrysler, American Motors and Studebaker-Packard totaled 2,342,039 units.

In the same six-month period last year the combined total was 2,370,941 units.

Last year the nation's auto makers built a total of 6,115,467 cars—313,695 more than they built in 1956.

GM's five divisions—Chevrolet, Pontiac, Oldsmobile, Buick and Cadillac—turned out 1,222,286 cars, compared to 1,543,523 units in the first six months of 1957.

Ford production totaled 591,014 against 1,015,310 last year.

Chrysler output for this six-month period was less than half last year's. The company built only 216,237 cars compared to 721,082 last year.

LEG CRAMPS?

One of the most common causes of leg cramps is lack of calcium. It is a mineral which is essential for the proper functioning of the muscles. It is also necessary for the proper functioning of the nerves. If you are suffering from leg cramps, you may be lacking in calcium. DYNAL-CAL Tablets contain the calcium you need. They are easy to take and they work fast. They are also very economical. Each bottle contains 90 tablets. $1.50.

To Probe Voting, Education, Housing

Ike's Civil Rights Group Favors Vigorous Study

EAST LANSING (AP)—Northern and southern members of the President's Civil Rights Commission voted yesterday in favor of a vigorous study of racial and religious equality in the fields of voting, education and housing.

The unanimity prompted an optimistic statement from Dr. John A. Hannah, Michigan State University president and commission chairman.

"I am much more optimistic about what the commission may be able to accomplish than at any time since I was appointed," Hannah said.

Hannah said extension of the commission's study to education and housing was a matter clearly left up to the Commission by Congress. He said legislation setting up the Commission earmarked only civil rights problems in voting for study and left a certain area of study up to the Commission itself.

The full Commission attended the closed session on the MSU campus.

The Commission, starting the new fiscal year with a budget of $750,000, is due to make a report and recommendations to Congress and the President in September 1959.

The next commission meeting was scheduled for Aug. 20 at Washington, D.C.

Members of the Michigan Advisory Committee met for an organization meeting here today. Named to the committee were:

Charles E. Wilson, former secretary of defense and former president of General Motors Corp., Birmingham; Louis J. Berman, publisher of the Whitehall Forum; Magr. Arthur F. Bukowski, president of Aquinas College, Grand Rapids; Frank Manley, director of the Mott Foundation Program, Flint;

Mrs. Thomas F. McAllister, member of the Grand Rapids Human Relations Commission; Mrs. Jessie Jai McNeil, president of the Michigan Council of United Church Women, Detroit; Frank Merriman, Deckerville farm leader; August Scholle, president of the Michigan AFL-CIO, Detroit; and Edward M. Turner, president of the Michigan Conference of Branches of the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People, Detroit.

Alaska will make the 49th star in the United States flag. Michigan was the 26th.

Hollywood Headlines

'Hole in Head' to Co-Star
Edward G. With Sinatra

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS

HOLLYWOOD — Lucky Frank Sinatra gets Edward G. Robinson as his co-star in "Hole in the Head" which goes before the cameras Oct. 15 in Miami. There are few actors as good as Eddie, who has been absent from the screen for two long years while he starred in "Middle of the Night" on the stage.

"Hole in the Head," based on Arnold Schulman's stage play, is to be made by Frank's own company, Jobart Productions, for United Artists Release. Eddie plays Frank's older brother, and they'll have veteran director Frank Capra, another gifted Italian, to direct them.

Jacques Bergerac won't be dating the belles in Paris this summer as he planned, because he's just signed with Ray Stark for the third starring role with Susan Hayward and Jeff Chandler in "The Gun and the Arrow" starting July 14. So, on his native Bastille Day, Jacques will be on location with the Russell Rouse and Clarence Greene company.

It's been a good year for Bergerac in Hollywood despite his disappointment that his part in "Gigi" was cut down. He received good reviews in "Les Girls." Also, he and his ex-wife, Ginger Rogers, who parted so bitterly, have met at several big parties recently and were so friendly they danced together.

I hope I'm not jumping the gun, but I happen to know that Susan Kohner gets the role of the mulatto girl in "Imitation of Life" for which so many other young actresses were tested.

Ed Muhl, after seeing Susan's tests, made the decision. Producer Ross Hunter had told me how good Paul Kohner's daughter is in her tests, and director Douglas Sirk was pulling for Susan, too. Lana Turner, whose costumes are of the period of the 20's, has already had fittings, and will wear some eye-filling clothes.

When I talked with Cary Grant he was busy packing, getting ready to go to Chicago and London. He was in great spirits and said he would be in Chicago one day when "Indiscreet" is shown. Then he goes to London to be there to attend the preview.

Cary said in all the years he's made pictures he has never had such a reaction as he has to "Indiscreet" — so many letters and it's still playing at the Music Hall in New York. He certainly deserves this acclaim because it's delightful. Cary expects to see Ingrid Bergman, his co-star, who is still in London.

Harry Joe Brown sends a newsy letter from London—"God bless America and God bless Walt Disney and Ford Motor for their display at the Brussels Fair. It's great, with a picture of the U. S. from the Statue of Liberty to San Francisco in a complete circle." That's all today. See you tomorrow!

Says U.N. Control of Cyprus Agreeable

ATHENS, Greece (AP) — The newspaper Ethnos said today Greece would agree to Cyprus being placed under U.N. control for 5 to 10 years because of the deadlock with Turkey over the British Mediterranean island.

The newspaper usually reflects the Greek government's views. Britain recently proposed that Greece and Turkey join her in joint administration of Cyprus for seven years and in holding sovereignty thereafter. Both Greece and Turkey rejected the plan. About 400,000 of the Cypriots are of Greek descent, while 100,000 are of Turkish extraction. Greece has been demanding independence for the island so that the Greek majority could unite it with Greece. Turkey demands partition of Cyprus between the two communities.

Prosperity is something we feel, fold and send to Washington. . . The trouble with some Hollywood personalities is that they can't seem to stay married or un-

Wives are unpredictable. You never know just what they are going to spend too much money on. . . It's been said before, but it's as true as ever: "Nothing is opened by mistake as often as the human mouth." —Earl Wilson.

Hoover Defends Police Agencies

Calls Nation's Record Magnificent in Refuting 'Gestapo' Charges

WASHINGTON (AP)—FBI director J. Edgar Hoover said today American law enforcement has a magnificent record of accomplishment which refutes charges that it functions as a Gestapo.

In a signed editorial in the July issue of FBI's Law Enforcement Bulletin, Hoover expressed resentment that "an unscrupulous few, through studied insults and calculated distortions, would besmirch and disgrace this world-renowned record of democratic achievement."

Hoover mentioned no names. However, his editorial followed a recent TV interview in which Cleveland industrialist Cyrus S. Eaton said that Adolf Hitler at the height of his power "never had such spy organizations as we have in this country today."

Eaton described the FBI as one of a number of agencies engaged in "snooping, in informing, in creeping up on people." After the broadcast, Hoover said Eaton's statements about the FBI were "vicious and completely untrue."

Hoover said he was a firm believer in the American tradition of free speech, but asserted: "To utter inaccuracies in the exercise of free speech is to do a grave disservice to democratic society."

After Eaton's TV interview, the House Committee on Un-American Activities discussed the possibility of summoning him to testify. The idea was voted down yesterday.

Keeps Poland Half-Free

Gomulka Saves His Job by Softly Criticizing Tito

By CHARLES M. McCANN
UPI Foreign News Analyst

Polish Communist leader Wladyslaw Gomulka has saved his job by criticizing President Tito of Yugoslavia.

In doing so he has also preserved at least some measure of the independence from Russian dictation which he won as the result of the 1956 Polish revolt.

For months, Gomulka had resisted demands that he join Russia, Red China and the east European satellite countries in their savage attack on Tito as a Communist renegade.

He had made it plain, too, that he strongly disapproved the execution of Hungarian revolt leaders Imre Nagy and Pal Malter.

It is now disclosed that Gomulka was told last week that he must either come out against Tito or face overthrow.

There is one report that Russia gave him 72 hours to make up his mind.

Gomulka was forced to give in. Had he refused, not only would he have been forced out as Poland's leader but his country would have been given over to the "Stalinist" elements of his party.

Gomulka has been under increasingly strong pressure from Moscow ever since the Communist revision toward the harsh rule of the Josef Stalin era started.

He has resisted as stubbornly as he could. He refused to join in the anti-Tito campaign. He has tried to stop the general trend toward Stalinist policy in the Communist world.

He has been compelled to give in bit by bit, and to tighten up his own liberalized rule.

Finally came the flat demand that he come out against Tito. The alternative was that Russia would take every possible means, political and economic, to overthrow him.

There was no direct threat of Russian military intervention against him. But apparently authentic reports say that in recent weeks strong forces of Russian troops have been moved close to the East German and Russian frontiers of Poland.

The implied threat apparently was that Polish "Stalinists," if necessary, would engineer an uprising that would give Russia an excuse to intervene.

Gomulka's problem is that Poland cannot get along without Russia. Its economic situation is difficult. And nearly all of the raw materials used in Polish industry come from Russia.

Gomulka made his surrender in a speech last Friday at the Polish Baltic Sea port of Gdansk.

France Will Explode Her First Atom Bomb

LONDON (AP)—France is to explode her first atom bomb in the next two weeks or so, the London Daily Mail reported today.

The test weapon will be a "small content" bomb of about 20 pounds of plutonium and will be set off in the Sahara, the newspaper said.

The Mail added: "The French are said to be still worried as to whether their bomb is fully ready. They fear a failure, yet cannot ask directly for American help."

Greek Cypriot, 60,

Shot in Turkish Area

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP)—A 60-year-old Greek Cypriot was shot and killed in Limassol today as he drove his car through the town's Turkish quarter. The killer escaped.

It was the fourth fatal shooting in Limassol in 10 days and the 20th death since communal clashes between the island's Greek and Turkish communities began June 7.

Hal Boyle Says:

All Leading Statesmen Should Have Gout

NEW YORK (AP) — Sidewalk

scrawls of a Pavement Plato:

There is one simple recipe for world peace that has never been tried. That is, to give the leading statesmen of every nation the gout.

I think it's worth a try.

The theory that an epidemic of gout among the great men of our time might lead to a war-free world isn't as idle as it sounds.

There is some pretty solid reasoning behind it.

There is a bond between victims of the gout like unto no other bond in the world. It is stronger than the bonds of love, passion, matrimony, friendship, patriotism, or the desire for wealth.

Gout unites mankind as the common cold divides it. No enemy is possible between two men once each finds the other has gout. An invisible tie binds them indissolubly. They are knit forever by the knowledge they have survived a suffering beyond the ken of lesser men struck down by paltrier ailments.

War between statesmen who are afflicted with gout is inconceivable. Men who have known Armageddon in their big toe are not interested in fighting each other on battlefields. They'd rather meet in peace and discuss remedies. They have a vast and natural respect for one another.

They realize that anybody can get pneumonia, the dullest of diseases. But it takes a guy with class to get gout.

Many an ignorant tout, jealous because he cannot acquire gout himself, laughs loudly at this most aristocratic of diseases. He decries it as a penalty for loose living. But he knows in his heart he could live like a bum on the Bowery for 1,000 years and never get gout himself. He doesn't have the character.

The truth is that gout, like money, is largely inherited. It runs in families. But what families! They have been the cream of every civilization. Anyone who looks up his family tree and can't find a few cases of gout among the limbs would do well to keep quiet about his ancestry.

It may be, here and there, that someone, somehow did get gout as a price for galloping down the primrose path.

But, as the Encyclopedia Britannica sagely points out, the disease affects also persons "who observe the strictest temperance in living. And whose only excesses are in the direction of overwork, either physical or intellectual."

Naturally, this is the kind of gout that runs in families. Well, anyway, in my family.

Gout is one of the oldest, if not the oldest, of human diseases.

Symphony Members in Summer Activities

When summer comes to the area, local Pontiac Symphony Orchestra musicians can be found engrossed in a great variety of hobbies—some are related to music—and others are not.

Skill and time is involved in all of these hobbies and none are mere whims or pastimes. This is especially amazing when one considers the time these musicians must also spend practicing on their respective instruments—as well as many of them holding full time jobs.

Although we have pictured only a few of the hobbies of local musicians, you can be sure that the hours of the other orchestra members are well and interestingly filled.

Be Sure to Write the Note

By EMILY POST

"Dear Mrs. Post: When wedding presents cannot be acknowledged promptly because of an extended wedding trip or when the bride has received several hundred wedding presents, would a printed form such as the following be in good taste?"

Miss Mary Jones wishes to acknowledge the receipt of your wedding present and will write a personal note of appreciation at an early date. "These cards are not in any sense to take the place of a warm sincere handwritten note, but just to let those who sent presents know that their presents have been received and not keep the givers wondering whether or not their present arrived and even possibly going to the trouble of having it traced."

Answer: Since the printed cards are not to take the place of written thank-you notes but rather to let people know that their gifts arrived safely, they may be used in the instances you describe.

"Dear Mrs. Post: A friend of mine tells me that after my divorce becomes final, which will be in another month, that I have to discard my wedding ring. I have a child and because of this thought it would be correct to continue wearing my ring. Will you please tell me what is proper in this situation?"

Answer: You may continue wearing it if you want to. Usually, because of its unhappy symbol, a divorcee discards her husband's ring and replaces it with another one. If she wishes to show that she is no longer married she puts it on her right hand.

Dale Carlson is a Pontiac Symphony Orchestra trumpet player. His hobby is the hi-fi set shown above. He and his father have spent the last five years developing and constructing this highly complicated and complex machine.

Change Your Pace
Find, Ride Hobby for Relaxation

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

The way we spend our leisure time is becoming more and more important since we have so much more of it than we had in the past. Modern appliances and gadgets have given women in the home more time for indulgence in personal interests and activities and the work week has shrunk greatly.

A little more time away from the routine responsibilities can add a bonus to life and the way we spend it has a great impact on our health and happiness. We all need a hobby or avocation to make this special time rewarding.

There are so many fields which beckon one. There are painting or ceramics or woodcarving and all sorts of other handicrafts. Many men find cabinet making extremely fascinating and are very skilled. I know one scientist who makes the most beautiful inlaid furniture I have ever seen. It would be sky high in price in a New York Fifth Avenue shop.

However, creative hobby is always satisfying skill or no skill. If you have a yen for one of these, do not let the fact that you are unskilled stop you!

Then of course there is the world of music. Whether you make up little tunes and pick them out on the piano, or collect records or learn to play a musical instrument, the pull of music is fundamental and stimulating and soothing. You CAN learn to play the piano or violin, saxophone or guitar at any age. The ukelele is fun to play and is easy to learn.

Sports can be very healthful hobbies. These are especially valuable for those who do not have superlative health and wish to improve it.

It is always a good idea to have a hobby which is completely dissociated from your work. One famous portrait artist I know has the hobby of breeding and training bird dogs. He shows them at trials and wins blue ribbons. This outdoor hobby is a lifesaver for him after such detailed and demanding work.

Rich leisure hours add health and pleasure to your days rather than fatigue or boredom!

SUN BLEACHED HAIR

If you are one who collects a summer tan, remember, the effect of sun is blurring to your skin but not to your hair. Keep your head covered at least during intense noonday sun. You might use this period to pin up your locks.

If you swim often, find a hairdo that requires only a few well placed curls after each dip. Use plenty of spray to keep hair calmed down, after all, it will wash right out while swimming.

If the sun does work overtime on your hair, don't worry about permanent damage since its effect is only on the current growth of hair.

Pontiac Couple Are Wed

Oakland Avenue United Presbyterian Church was the scene of the Saturday evening wedding of Sharon Lea Knickerbocker and Lawrence Allen Dean. The Rev. Theodore R. Allebach officiated at the 7:30 o'clock candlelight ceremony before 350 guests.

Parents of the couple are the Donald R. Knickerbockers of Lowell street and Mr. and Mrs. Leslie H. Dean of Close street.

IN LACE AND SATIN

The bride wore a gown of Chantilly lace over skinner satin with a chapel train and long pointed sleeves of lace. Her fingertip illusion veil fell from a headpiece of matching lace and she wore pearl earrings, a gift from the bridegroom. Her bouquet consisted of white carnations and lilies of the valley.

Jo Ann Lambert, the bridegroom's sister, was matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Pauline Lowery, cousin of the bride of Rochester, and Barbara Gustafson of Williams Lake. The attendants wore dresses of white lace over blue taffeta with heart-shaped blue picture hats and they carried bouquets of yellow roses and white carnations.

Donna Jo Knickerbocker, the bride's sister, was flower girl. She wore a dress of blue nylon net over taffeta with a matching heart-shaped headpiece, and carried a basket of yellow roses and white carnations.

ASSISTS BRIDEGROOM James Dean of Detroit was his brother's best man. Ushers were Joe Knickerbocker, brother of the bride, and Rudolph Narkter. David Knickerbocker, the bride's younger brother, was ringbearer.

To receive guests at the reception held in the church parlors, the bride's mother wore a tiered beige lace sheath dress with matching accessories and a tallman rose corsage. The bridegroom's mother wore a silk crepe dress with white accessories and a corsage of red American Beauty roses.

For her going away outfit, the bride wore a white organdy dress trimmed with navy blue velvet, with navy accessories and a corsage from her bridal bouquet. The couple will honeymoon in Northern Michigan.

Too Late for Father-in-Law

Better Finish Job on Hubby

DEAR ABBY: Unfinished things seem to run in my family. My husband and I bought an unfinished home three years ago and it is still unfinished. That isn't all. His father bought an unfinished home 27 years ago and it is still unfinished because he laid in the bars drunk for 27 years. Both my husband and his father seem to have enough money to buy the most expensive fishing equipment and also, the highest priced hunting guns they can find, but they never have the time or money to finish a house. Why is this?

FED UP TO THE GILLS DEAR FED TO T.G.: There is more "unfinished business" in your family than a couple of houses. It might be too late to do anything about your father-in-law, but your husband hasn't grown up yet. Pick up where his mother left off — and finish the job.

DEAR ABBY: May I say a few words to the ELVIS PRESLEY FAN CLUB? Please give me one good reason why somebody should go up and pin a rose on Elvis Presley just because he didn't expect any special privileges? And what "pretty hair" are you speaking of when you say he LET them cut it off? Do you mean that greasy mop he had? I had nice hair, too, when I went into the service, but it fell to the floor like everybody else's. Why didn't Col. Parker take his training for him? He does all of Elvis' thinking anyway. I dig Pat Boone the most.

ANTI-ELVIS DEAR ANTI: Just because you "dig" the one doesn't mean you have to "bury" the other. I dig both Elvis and Boone. Long may Elvis wave!

DEAR ABBY: I am 26 years old and am going with a man a few years older who is in the process of getting a divorce (not because of me). He lives two hundred miles away. I would like to get a job in his city and live there so we could see more of each other. What do you think?

VIOLA DEAR VIOLA: Better stay where you are and be content to see as much of him as you can on this basis. Until a man is divorced — he is married.

DEAR ABBY: We have a son 19 who was a model boy up until three months ago. He was interested in sports, never drank or smoked or ran around with girls. My wife thought he should be more social so she got together with her next-door neighbor and together they arranged a date for him with this neighbor's younger sister. She was a young widow of 29 who needed companionship. Since those two got together he hasn't been in bed before three in the morning. He smokes and drinks and has lost his moral standing. What should we do about this?

VERY TROUBLED DEAR VERY: You can't buy back the introduction, but can try to talk some sense into his head. This woman is too old for him. Appeal to the woman's sense of decency (if she has any) and ask her to throw him back — he's hardly legal size.

DEAR ABBY: I am an unmarried girl 47 years old. I have been keeping company with a divorced man in his early fifties. We both work in a large plant, but in different departments. During the six months we have known each other, he has never taken me anywhere. He just comes to my house for meals and watches TV.

Last night he said he couldn't him my savings, $3,200, to go in business for himself. I worked 16 years to save that money, Abby. His last words were, "Think it over and call me up when you decide." I hate to pass him up because as the song goes, "A good man is hard to find." Please help me.

POLLY DEAR POLLY: Yes, a good man is hard to find. You haven't found him yet, so leave your money in the bank and keep looking.

DEAR ABBY: I am 22 years old and my mother drummed it into me that all men were no good because she was deserted by my father before I was born. Well I met a man whose argument made better sense than my mother's and now I am pregnant. He is on the road and isn't due to come back for two months. I know the firm he is working for.

"Should I try to get in touch with him now or wait until he comes home? I don't know him well enough to say whether this is love or not. Please suggest something."

JANE DEAR JANE: It is time you got acquainted. Put in a long distance call and tell him Jane is busting out all over. He'll understand.

For a personal reply, write to ABBY in care of this paper. Enclose a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Virginia Deeg Weds Robert F. Stasiuk

Married Saturday were Virginia Charlene Deeg and Robert Freeman Stasiuk. She is the daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. James Walker Deeg of Lowell street and his parents are Mr. and Mrs. William Stasiuk of Nelson street.

The bride's father performed the rite in Oakland Park Methodist church before 300 guests.

A gown of Dupioni silk accented with Alencon lace and a finger tip veil held by a headpiece of sequins and pearls was worn by the bride. Her bouquet was of white stephanotis, carnations and orchids.

Mrs. Paul Stanford Closson was matron of honor and Marsha Jeneane Deeg was maid of honor. Other attendants were Mrs. Robert R. Bower of Ann Arbor; Mrs. Ronald N. Walter of Detroit and Jeanette Deeg of Detroit.

They wore princess style dresses of aqua silk organza with aqua picture hats. Their bouquets were of white daisies.

Best man was William Edward Stasiuk and ushers were Paul S. Closson, Clifford J. Stasiuk, Everett L. Williams, Lowell Webster Satterlee and Jerome B. Libby.

Following a reception in the church fellowship hall, the bride changed to a light blue dress with white accessories and the orchid from the bridal bouquet. The couple left for a honeymoon in northern Michigan.

Bob Considine Says:

Klaus Fuchs Exemplifies the Mad Genius

LONDON — Percy Hoskins of the Daily Express, the finest crime reporter in a country where such journalism often can be literature, has written a book for the Scotland Yard man whose duty it was to arrest, after certain extraordinary interviews, Professor Klaus Emil Julius Fuchs.

Between reporter and cop, they present a fascinating word picture of the mad genius for whose future services, soon available, both East and West are quietly bidding with an almost equal divorcement from conscience. Fuchs, the foremost atomic spy, will be released from Wakefield Prison in October, having served a legally sufficient portion of his preposterously light 14-year sentence to warrant parole.

In his curious schizophrenic way the Communist scientist has never been able to understand during his imprisonment why he could not continue working for Harwell, the British atomic research center where his studies once gained the attention of Nobel Prize judges.

In the West there are developing two schools of thought about Fuchs' future after his release. The first is that he should be kept if possible on the free side of the Iron Curtain, watched carefully, and permitted to continue (as he did in prison) the nuclear theorizing and development which in the 1940s made him one of the top contributors to the creation of the American (and Soviet Union's) A-bomb and H-bomb. Toward that end he has been privately offered jobs on both sides of the Atlantic.

The second view is that he should be shot.

There are, of course, no feasible plans for the latter alternative except a feeling among Fuchs' former associates that mankind in general might benefit from his absence.

Fuchs was able between 1942 and 1949 to accept employment, security and honors from the West, and take assorted oaths of allegiance, yet still feed full details of his own and his fellow physicists learning to the Soviet Union through convicted courier Harry Gold and others.

From the view of him presented by Hoskins and the arresting officer, and our own knowledge of the remarkable case, Fuchs might be a desperate security risk for whatever, ideological side gains his services when his prison days are done. He would sell out the Russians as readily as he sold out his American hosts.

Fuchs, 47 now, was born near Frankfurt and forbidden by his pacifist father, then a minister, to cheer goose-stepping troops leaving for the front. He joined the Young Communist League in 1932 while at Kiel University. The Nazis imprisoned his father (by then a Quaker) for nine months and persecuted his sister until she committed suicide by throwing herself under a train.

Fuchs escaped to France, then England, became a brilliant student in math and physics at Bristol University. The Royal Society printed his penetrating papers on nuclear physics. Edinburgh University made him a doctor of science.

help our best scientific brains develop the A-bomb. As quickly as he could, he began giving what he knew to the Reds.

After Hiroshima he returned to England and won a high place at Harwell. He was named to the committee charged with investigating the size and type of the first Russian A-bomb!

The British knew at all times that he had been or was a Communist but trusted him explicitly. Our FBI first picked up his spoor, Scotland Yard did the rest. They treated him with huge respect as they questioned him, then, as the book shows, bore down suddenly—and Fuchs told all, at exhausting length.

Klaus "Two Compartment" Fuchs will soon be back with us. God save both friend and foe!

NOT A KNOCKDOWN — Don't score this as a knockdown by umpire Charles Berry as it appears. Tiger catcher Red Wilson took a throw at home plate, tagged Bill Tuttle of Kansas City and then made a gesture to throw to second base. The Tigers lost, 5-1.

Dalrymple-Woodard 1st at Lakepointe Home Team Pro-Am Victor

The home course was kind to professional John Dalrymple and amateur Gene Woodard in the 36-hole Michigan Pro-Am golf tournament Tuesday at Lakepointe.

Playing over the friendly confines of Lakepointe's par 70 layout, Dalrymple and Woodard combined for a best-ball score of 131 to win the annual state pro-am tourney. The victory was worth $300 for Dalrymple.

Dalrymple, the ex-Keego Harbor athletic ace who is now the head pro at Lakepointe, and Woodard, the Detroit District champion who served as the host amateur yesterday, fired a 68 on their morning round and added a sizzling 63 in the afternoon.

How About Garver for 'Comeback' Tag?

Braves Get 4th Straight Win

Burdette Shuts Out Redlegs

By Associated Press
Are the Milwaukee Braves back in the groove now that they've managed to beat Los Angeles? Or is that 3½-game National League lead only a momentary margin while they have their hands on the Cincinnati Reds, their favorite patsies?

Either way, nobody but the champs has been that far ahead, and the Braves made it for only the second time on a shutout by Lew Burdette and a home run by Eddie Mathews that beat Cincinnati 1-0 last night. That gave Milwaukee a four-game streak ending a nine-game Dodger jinx with two victories last weekend.

The Redlegs are old pals, both to the Braves and Burdette, now 6-6. Milwaukee is 8-2 against Cincy for the season and has a 26-6 bulge since 1956. Since the Braves quit Boston, they're 78-42 against the Reds — their best showing against any club.

The Dodgers contributed to Milwaukee's lead with a 9-3 victory over second place St. Louis, and the Chicago Cubs knocked off third place San Francisco 9-5. Philadelphia defeated Pittsburgh 4-2.

Burdette, now 15-7 lifetime against the Redlegs after losing a pair to 'em this season, gave up eight singles, walked but one and struck out two. It was his first regular season shutout since he beat the Reds 1-0 with a six-hitter April 18, 1957—although you can't overlook those 24 consecutive zeroes he pitched against the Yankees in the World Series.

One-Run Softball Thrillers

Two thrillers decided by a single run, one lasting for 10 innings, featured Tuesday night's four-game City League softball program at Beaudette and North Side parks.

Beaudette Park was the scene of both one-run contests. The 10-inning affair ended in a 3-2 victory for Deni's Corner over the American Legion while the Pontiac

Which Chicago Baseball Team Most Popular?

CHICAGO (UPI) — One of the pet arguments of Chicago baseball fans was "settled" yesterday. Or was it?

The question: If the Cubs and White Sox played at home on the same day, which team would draw the largest crowd? The answer: The White Sox, but only 16,639 fans against 16,549.

Yesterday's home games by the two teams, the Cubs by day against the giants and the White Sox by night against the Indians, marked the first time the two Chicago teams had been at home on the same day in more than a quarter-century.

Merchants edged Spence Rambler, 4-3, in regulation distance.

Dave Johnston's lead-off double, Warren Mosher's single and a catching error delivered Johnston with the decisive run in the bottom of the 10th to break up a sterling mound battle between Deni's Chuck Long and Ken Spears of the Legion.

Jack Turner's single in the top of the 7th scored Lynn Van Alstyne from 3rd with the winning marker for the Merchants. Jerry Larson hurled a two-hitter for the winners, one a two-run homer by Dawsey Reed.

Free-scoring games were featured at North Side. The Lakeside Royals outscored Franklin Products, 10-7, and Autos of Europe handed Pontiac State Hospital a 12-6 licking in the nightcap of the twin bill.

Union Lake 'Ruthers' Absorb First Defeat

Walled Lake's Babe Ruth league club yesterday handed Union Lake's their first league defeat of the season, 4-3, in a tight contest, the only loop game of the day. Winning run was scored in the 6th to break a 3-3 tie. Win for Walled Lake puts it in a first place tie with Union Lake (3-1).

3-Run Uprising Brings 6-5 Win at Drayton Park

Jim Wall's Service rallied with three runs in the bottom of the 6th inning for a 6-5 triumph over the Pontiac Lake Merchants in Waterford National League softball action last night at Drayton Plains.

Joe Orsey doubled home the 1st run, Jack Pote singled to deliver another and then Orsey tallied the winning marker on a wild throw. Don Waterman had three hits in three tries for the losers.

Lakeland Pharmacy dumped Nomes' Drive-In, 9-5, in a free-hitting American league game. The Pharmacy had seven runs after three innings and scored at least once in every stanza except the 5th. Chuck Cooper made two doubles for the winners.

In Little League activity, Brown smacked a two-run homer as Pankey's Hangar Grill thrashed Jacobson's Market, 13-5, and Johnson & Anderson gained a forfeit victory over Ruth & Sybil's Draperies.

CIO Strikes Early to Win

Union Scores Six Runs in 1st and 2nd Frames to Beat Jewelers, 6-3

CIO Local 594 jumped on starting pitcher Jim Jones for six runs and four hits in the first two innings to chalk up a 6-3 victory over Shaw's Jewelers yesterday in a Class A City League baseball game at Wisner Field.

Don Picman relieved Jones with only one man out in the bottom of the 2nd inning, but by that time the Union club had collected all the runs it needed and the damage was done.

Pitcher Jim Addis of the CIO hurled his way past six errors by his teammates to toss a steady five-hitter. He blanked the defending city champions until the 4th inning.

The winners made eight hits against the combined offerings of Jones, the loser, and Picman, with Addis himself getting two and Chet Woodmore another pair. Jerry Taylor had two safeties for the Jewelers.

Game time is 12 noon, EST, with a series of alternate starting times in the event of a postponement. If it should be rained out Tuesday afternoon they would play Tuesday night at 7 p.m. EST. If it rained again, the game could be played Wednesday morning or afternoon.

Expect Contest at Baltimore to Be Mound Duel

AL Hurlers Considered to Have Edge Over NL Rivals Tuesday

NEW YORK (UPI) — The All-Star game moves into the pitchers' paradise called Memorial Stadium at Baltimore next Tuesday and from here it looks like an American League triumph in what well may provide the stingiest pitching contest has been in 18 years.

Memorial Stadium with its vast acreage and distant fences is not a slugger's ball park. To top it off, the American League undoubtedly has the edge when it comes to pitching this time around.

Awarding the American League pitching staff the accolade of superiority, a survey of the Baltimore records this season has to make the American League the decided favorite.

Baltimore, as example, has hosted 33 games this season as of yesterday. Pitching was the key factor two-thirds of the time with a number of brilliant performances.

Of those 33 games at Memorial Stadium, 10 were decided by one run and 10 others were shutouts. Pitchers laboring on the Baltimore hill had pitched a one-hitter, a trio of two-hitters, a three-hitter, six four-hitters and six five-hitters.

Which means that outstanding pitching featured 17 of the 33 contests.

Both sides undoubtedly will now shower down with a record number of baseruns come Tuesday. But, considering the record, this park should produce a tightly pitched affair with the accent on getting one run across. Maybe the tightest.

The silver anniversary game is sure to draw a capacity crowd of about 47,000 with 60 per cent of the gate receipts and 60 per cent of the radio-television money going to the player pension fund.

The game will be beamed on network, NBC, radio and TV across the nation as part of the five-year contract by which baseball gets $2,250,000 per year for the All-Star and World Series games.

Tryouts to Be Held for Follies' Diving

Tryouts for men and women divers between ages of 18 and 25 will be held in conjunction with the Water Follies of 1938 when they appear at Pontiac's Wisner Stadium July 11-13.

Sam Snyder, producer of the Follies, brings the swimming troupe here from the Brussels World's Fair under the sponsorship of the Pontiac Area Chamber of Commerce.

Six internationally famous divers, headed by South American champ Charlie Altin will highlight the program.

Teeing Off

By BILL CORNWELL

Mary Kathryn Wright, better known as Mickey, belts a golf ball the proverbial "country mile" off the tee. In fact, long-distance hitting ability was her first claim to professional golfing fame.

There are many husky male golfers, the guys who play almost daily as well as the weekend variety, whose masculine pride would be painfully embarrassed by this gal's driving skill.

Mickey's booming drives average between 235 and 240 yards. These distances actually enable her to hold her own with a sizeable number of her male counterparts in the world of professional golf.

The 23-year-old blonde now has a few additional claims to fame, such as the LPGA title earlier this month and, most recently, the U.S.G.A. Women's Open crown last Saturday at Forest Lake Country Club.

Be that as it may, golf fans think of Mickey Wright in the same breath with George Bayer, Paul Harvey, Gay Brewer and Mike Souchak. They love to see the little ball take a long ride and whenever Mickey steps to the tee, they watch with great anticipation.

Mickey is the provider of the mighty tee shot in women's golf and she rarely disappoints the gallery. Two summers ago, when Forest Lake was host to the LPGA tour, Mickey swatted the small white pellet 272 yards MISS WRIGHT to win the driving contest hands down.

Relaxing in press headquarters and visiting with reporters following her lopsided National Open victory late Saturday afternoon, Mickey was asked how she accounted for her power off the tee.

Miss Wright replied, "I believe I get my distance from the long arc of my swing." The lanky pro then added that she was hitting the ball 40 yards further now than she did two or three years ago — "on the fly."

The personable young lady could think of no particular reason for her increased power. "Maybe I'm just getting stronger," she remarked.

Reflecting on her triumph in the U.S. Open tourney, Mickey said, "Everything worked together here from the woods through the putter. I hit the ball squarely all the way, my pitching wedge was real kind to me — it was the best part of my game — and I've never putted so well."

Yes, it was Mickey's well-rounded game that won the Open championship. But the next time Mickey tees off, someone will say, "Wow! She hits that poor helpless thing a mile!"

SHORT PUTTS
Mrs. Marlene Bauer Hagge has signed a contract to play from Pittsburgh's Churchill Valley Country Club, site of the 1959 Women's Open.

U.S. Golf Is at Low Ebb in Britain

Gene Sarazen

Small Purse Offered as Reason for Poor Field of Pros

ST. ANNE'S-ON-SEA, England (AP)—American influence in the British Open golf championship today is at its lowest point in 40 years.

Some three or four decades back, Americans were the big winners in the hallowed tournament once considered the last word in international golf competition.

There was Bobby Jones, for example, who won the championship in 1926—when the first four finishers were American — 1927 and 1930.

And they're still talking at St. Anne's of Walter Hagen, the flamboyant winner in 1922, 1924, 1928 and 1929.

The last U. S. winner was Ben Hogan, who brought tremendous control to bear to win a nip and tuck battle in 1953.

Then there is Gene Sarazen, the 1932 winner — and the only American professional left in the 1958 tournament.

Carrying the flag with Sarazen, as the tournament proper got under way today after two days of qualifying rounds is a young Hillsboro, Tex., golfer on leave from army duty in Germany.

He is Montie Bradley, who racked up an aggregate 148 that hit the qualifying score on the nose.

Why don't more Americans show up for the open these days? There seem to be two big reasons: money and timing.

Rose Ousts MacKay

WIMBLEDON, England (AP)—For the second consecutive year, the Wimbledon Tennis Tournament goes into the men's semifinals with the entire U.S. delegation sitting on the sidelines.

And for the first time since the end of World War II, the United States has failed to place at least two entries in the semifinal round of the women's division.

Defending champion and the heavy favorite, Althea Gibson of New York, is the lone remaining Yank in this tournament that once was dominated by the Americans.

In the men's division, there remain three Australians, Ashley Cooper, Neale Fraser and Mervyn Rose, and one Dane, Kurt Nielsen. Besides Miss Gibson in the women's division, there are two Britons, Ann Haydon and Angela Mortimer, and one Hungarian, Mrs. Suzy Kormoczy.

The semis lines up like this: Rose vs. Cooper, Nielsen vs. Fraser, Gibson vs. Haydon, Mortimer vs. Kormoczy.

Barry MacKay, who dropped a 6-2, 6-4, 6-4 decision to left-hander Rose yesterday—his own doubles partner—took his reversal in good grace, and refused to use his blistered racket hand as an alibi.

"You have got to lose to learn," he observed. "I have no excuses for my performance. Rose played too well for me, that's all. My blistered hand was fine and it didn't cramp my style at all."

He was the only American who even advanced as far as the men's quarter-finals.

Mrs. Margaret du Pont of Wilmington, Del., who won the title back in 1947, and pint-sized Mimi Arnold, both were knocked out in the quarter-finals.

Mrs. du Pont no longer plays seriously and it was a tribute to her old-time skill that she progressed as far as she did before bowing to Miss Mortimer, 4-6, 6-3, 10-8.

Miss Arnold, the giant killer who licked Britain's second-seeded Christine Truman earlier, was a 6-1, 5-7, 8-6 victim of Mrs. Kormoczy, a slick player of 34.

California Board Adds Stake Races for Next Season

ARCADIA, Calif. (AP)—Four traditional $100,000-added stakes and six $50,000-added races for the Santa Anita park 1958-59 racing season were approved Monday by the California Horse Racing Board.

The net stakes distribution will be $1,140,000 out of the total estimated purse distribution of $3,275,000 for the 22nd Santa Anita season of 55 days from Dec. 28 to March 11, 1959.

The San Felipe Handicap for 3-year-olds, at a mile and one-sixteenth, has been increased in value to $50,000. It will be on Feb. 21 and should become a major attraction for horses being brought up to the $100,000-added Santa Anita Derby, at a mile and one-eighth, on March 7.

PBI Comes Back for 6-5 Victory

Pontiac Business Institute spotted Talbot Lumber a 5-0 lead, then roared back for a 6-5 victory in yesterday's Class B City League baseball action at Jaycee Park.

Leroy Nicholas came through with the big blow, a three-run homer in the 6th inning to provide the margin of triumph, after PBI had broken the ice with one run in the 4th and two more in the 5th to tie the count at 5-5.

Talbot scored all of its runs in the 3rd inning, with Bob Crandall accounting for two of them on a homer with a man aboard. Greg Meadows was the winning pitcher in relief while starting hurler Allen Stone absorbed the defeat.

PBI outlasted Talbot, 8 to 7, with Lester Smith and Carroll Orr getting two apiece for the winners. Crandall made two safeties for Talbot.

Hydro Races Mark Holiday

By H. GUY MOATS

Sylvan Lake's broad surface will be the site, Sunday, for the final round-up of the three-day Great Lakes International Inboard regatta that swings into action July 4.

Second "leg" of the event, expected to attract the greatest field of power boats in the limit classes from 48 through 280 cubic inch motor displacement, ever assembled in this area, is set for Swan Boat Club at Swan Creek, Saturday, near Monroe.

Algonac is a deep-water course. Swan Creek near Monroe is landlocked and offers opportunity for national hydro records. The Oakland County Boat Club location provides the best man-to-man, boat-to-boat challenge, says American Power Boat Association officials who will conduct the races.

There was a possibility today of either a shift in site for the Swan Creek "leg" of the race, or a new course layout, made necessary by low water. APBA sanction was withdrawn yesterday for "safety reasons," but is OK for the other sites. An entry list of 140 boats was reported this morning, including drivers from Florida and Canada.

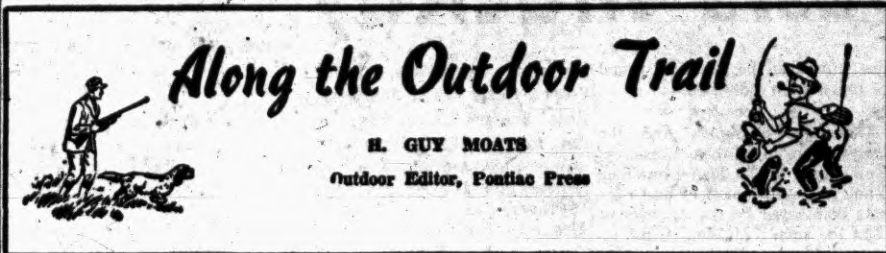

Sunday's hydro races at OCBC highlight a busy weekend for area boat clubs. There will be sailing races at Pontiac Yacht Club on Cass Lake. Watkins Lake Yachting association plans races also on Independence Day and Sunday, and the Dancer Trophy race for 14-foot Marconi riggers is set for the holiday at Lake Orion, for the 2nd event of the 3-race series expected to be reached by 5:30 p.m. All awards will be presented at OCBC. A regatta ball has been arranged for Saturday night at OCBC, to which the public is invited.

Great Lakes drivers will confer at OCBC at noon Sunday, with the opening heat of the finale, for the event, said today he would have his unlimited - class hydroplane, Bil-Der, a big racer, out for an exhibition run, if conditions are right.

Public may view the races from the Sylvan shore at OCBC, or other non-restricted vantage points.

Park Survey Aids Future Planning

Dodge No. 4 state park and Ortonville state recreation area and Sterling-Monroe Park will be included in a cooperative survey of park users in southeastern Michigan during July and August.

The survey is designed to determine what park visitors are from, what type of facility attracts these people to parks, and what improvements are desired.

The survey, which will cover 13,000 persons, was organized by the Detroit Metropolitan Area Regional Planning Commission, in cooperation with the Michigan Conservation Department, Huron-Clinton Metropolitan Authority, Wayne County Road Commission and the Detroit Department of Parks and Recreation.

In addition to Sterling-Monroe, Dodge No. 4 and Ortonville, the survey will be conducted at Belle Isle, Rouge Park, Middle Rouge Parkway, Kensington Metropolitan Park, and St. Clair Metropolitan Beach.

Survey questionnaires will be handed out to a random sample of visitors at these units on July 4, July 10, Aug. 3 and Aug. 12. Alternate dates have been selected in case of bad weather on the original dates.

Organizers of the survey said the planning of new park areas will be aided greatly by this study.

The agencies conducting the survey urge full cooperation of all persons receiving questionnaires at the parks so that competent results can be obtained.

Algonac Gets Ready for Big Pickerel Derby

Parade, Dancing and Fishing Mark 4-day Celebration

ALGONAC (UPI)—Residents of the Algonac area are putting on their dancing shoes and oiling their fishing gear in preparation for "the biggest celebration of the year in the Blue Water area"—the Algonac Pickerel Tournament.

A big weekend is planned in the area beginning at 6 p.m. Thursday night with grand opening ceremonies that will set the pace for the fishing tournament, parades and celebrations that will continue until Sunday night.

W-D-O-G radio station of Marine City, the electronic voice of the big affair, is being put in the "dog house" by the Fisher-Inley Corporation of Marine City. The company has built a giant, portable dog-house shaped trailer so the station can broadcast from the scene of each event during the weekend.

Running throughout the weekend will be parades, band concerts, fireworks displays, beauty queens, and—of course—the awarding of prizes to fishermen catching the largest pickerel.

BIGGEST BASS—Changes in lead for The Press fish derby bass division today boosted the leader to a 5-pound, 12½-ounce specimen. The big one was taken by Roland Dixon, Rochester. Dixon couldn't come in for a picture, so his pretty wife, Jeanne, displays the prize fish above.

Little Stories About Outdoors

The old saying about lack of privacy "enjoyed" by the denizens of a goldfish bowl has a new twist today.

This bit of outdoor information might be entitled "the private life of Mr. and Mrs. Nighthawk." A determined pair of these unusual nocturnal flying, insect-eating on-the-wing feathered flitters took up residence during a heavy rain and wind squall the other day, on the flat roof of a State avenue commercial building. Now they (rather the female) are trying to start a family on a bare, hot roof, sans nest of any sort.

All day long, the ladybird sits on one (maybe two) mottled eggs, oblivious alike to noise of passing traffic, and the inquisitive sort of sparrows. At dusk, the beautifully marked male swoops up, and then "buzzes" his mate with an implied "get up off that job and do a bit of hustling for your meal."

Glasses bring the action close up. Observers are keenly interested in when, and if, any chicks will emerge from the eggs, laid on the bare gravel.

Queer places some creatures take to bring up their young, such as the pigeon that built a nest and is trying her best to hatch two eggs, atop a metal type cabinet in the Press composing room.

There are "lots of fishermen" in the Lac Seul (Ontario) country says returning Pontiac angler, Lawrence Mitchell. Weather was fine and the big northerns and walleyes responded well, Mitchell reports.

A three-day quail hunting season may be in store for state hunters this fall for the first time in many years. Rose Lake station may be site of the hunting, according to Harry Ruhl, state game chief. If approved the season would be an experiment to determine feasibility of restoring quail hunting in Michigan. Just back from a Rocky Mountain vacation, this corner is reminded of one among many thrilling experiences. In one mountain meadow (8,500 feet elevation), counted and photographed more

Low Water Also a Plague

Windy Days Hurt Fishing

By JACK PATTERSON

The publisher of this newspaper has publicly promised that July is going to be a dryer, brighter, warmer month than June, for which Allah be

Praised. Only thing is he didn't make any guarantee about a little less wind, or maybe none at all, for the next 30 days. Ask any fisherman if he's had enough and prepare to duck. PATTERSON

Aside from living in the middle of a perpetual hurricane what there's most of is low water. Not only locally but all over. Our Drummond Island correspondent, John Donaldson, reports very low water in the area with a consequent almost total lack of small-mouth fishing. Since times are recessed John is also doubling on the Port Austin beat and natives there don't recall ever seeing lower water, John avers.

Well, if the big lakes are having their problems, one can imagine what the small ones are doing, and they are. What to do? Wait for winter and lots of snow, which seems to be the thing that is primarily charged with the duty of keeping water levels up.

One man's loss is another man's gain and lakeside dwellers who quickly weary of picking up 15 pounds of mud with each step can take comfort from the fact that low waters and goosey shorelines make a snipe shooter's paradise practically a certainty when October shuffles around. This arrangement seems fair enough.

Living conditions under water were better than up above during June, if the surprising number of big bass that are being taken is any indicator. Neighbor Joe Bennett came in with a near-winner the other night. Joe lost out by half an ounce.

Speaking of diabolical plots, in certain areas of a neighboring state where a big to-do is made about muskies, it is not at all uncommon to "feed" a big fish on a two or three pound sucker before weighing, just in case. Not that anyone locally would try such a stunt, but one can never tell about these anglers from out of town.

Some years ago a 50-odd pound lake trout, taken off the south shore of Lake Superior seemed to the judges to have rather a remarkable abdominal development. A bit of shaking by the tail produced a number of sash-weights, not normally a forage species for lakies. It brought his weight down to a run of the mill thirtyish. The fellow that caught it still lives in a small town in the Upper and the townspeople are still kidding him about it.

Top O'Michigan Race for Outboards July 20

Tenth annual Top O' Michigan outboard marathon takes place July 20 over the famous inland waterway course. Race starts at Topinabee Hotel, Mullet Lake, covers 87 miles of twisting lake and river waters. A five foot deep channel has been dredged in the rivers.

A big trophy and $2,700 in cash awards have been provided for winners. All classes will be raced, a new one, Class 36 being added this year. Entries close July 15. They should be sent to Top O' Michigan Marathon Assn., Cheboygan, Mich. All must have APBA credentials.

Solunar Table

Solunar tables for this area may be used to determine the best periods for that fishing junk one has in mind at Oakland County lakes. The periods below cover the ensuing week. They were prepared by outdoor authority John Alden Knight.

Yacht Race for 4th

SAUGATUCK (UPI) The sailing of the Chicago to Saugatuck yacht race will end here early Friday, as part of Saugatuck's fourth of July festivities.

Yachts were to leave Chicago at 7 p.m. tomorrow and cross the finish line before daybreak—if weather doesn't slow the race.

Fish Derby Speeds Up

Several days of warmer weather has stepped up the production of entries for the Press' big fish derby, and some really big lunkers have come along.

A new leader took over today in the bass division. Roland Dixon of Rochester hooked a 5-pound, 12-ounce largemouth, in Bald Eagle lake Monday night, using a crawler harness with a spin rig. Dixon's fish displaced one of 5-pounds, 2-ounces, entered by Bill Green of Pontiac.

"Another nice fish was listed by Mrs. William Rescoe, 6645 Lanman, Drayton Plains (4 lbs., 15 oz.) who took her biggest, and first bass, at Williams Lake. "It was my biggest fishing thrill," she said.

Youthful anglers did all right, also. Four-year-old Richard Rossetto, son of Andrew Rossetto, 2425 Walce, West Bloomfield township, caught a fat, 14-inch-long, 1-pound-6-ounce perch at Michigan game, where his parents were fishing for walleyes. Frank Woolver, 12 year old, son of Mrs. Constance Woolver, 124 Gladstone, took a 2-pound, 16-inch rainbow trout at the Clinton river end of the hatchery. The fish almost got away, but two unidentified youngsters shot it with a BB gun, says Frank's mother.

Five fishermen, four from Pontiac, have just returned from a Canadian pike fishing jaunt at Lac Seul. They brought back 30 northerns and 30 walleyes, none smaller than five pounds. The anglers were George Bishop, Lawrence Mitchell, Bert Colpus and Gust Schmittler and his brother John, from Ohio.

Restoration Plan Progresses

Wild Turkeys Making Comeback in Michigan

ANN ARBOR — Wild turkeys, gone from forests below the Saginaw Bay-Allegan County line since the turn of the century, are enjoying a comeback in a southern Michigan forest preserve, according to a recent report delivered at the University of Michigan.

Stocked and protected by the Michigan Department of Conservation, the birds wander through the sanctuary much as they did the entire state when early settlers enjoyed them for Thanksgiving and Sunday feasts.

The wild turkey flock was established in 1954 in Allegan Forest and Swan Creek Wildlife Experiment Station, near Allegan, for "esthetic, educational and scientific reasons," said H. Lee Wilson and James Lewis, of the Swan Creek station.

In 1954, 202 wild turkeys were released in the area, which is most nearly like that recommended for wild turkey management in Pennsylvania, and contains adequate acreage, escape cover, natural food sources and drainage patterns.

Survival the first winter was fairly good, with some loss to predators, mainly foxes and human poachers, farming and highway accidents. The banded birds were studied for mating, movement and flocking habits.

The number of individual birds observed, during the summer, increased from 21 in 1955 to 32 in 1957, at which time 370 wild turkeys were located, according to the conservationists.

Land use and drainage systems have influenced the rate and pattern of range extension, they said. The birds now inhabit a 218 square mile area, about the limit, because they cannot extend beyond the limits of favorable habitat.

Weather during the past winter has been a good test of the turkey's firm establishment, they concluded, as the temperature dropped to 17 degrees below zero and snow was 26 inches deep, serving as a hindrance to the birds.

Shiawassee Refuge Will Be Expanded

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Four new national wildlife refuges will be established and 12,410 acres will be added to nine existing refuges.

Secretary of Interior Fred A. Seaton reports land for the new refuges will be purchased with duck stamp funds.

Refuges to be expanded include Shiawassee in Saginaw County, Mich.

Goldfine's Attorneys Coach Him

Congress Eyes Adjournment

Both Parties Hopeful of Winding Up Session on Aug. 2

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Styles Bridges (R-NH) said today Republicans would like to see Congress wind up its work and go home Aug. 2.

Sen. Mike Mansfield of Montana, acting Senate Democratic leader, said it might be possible to conclude the session at that time unless unexpected controversy crops up over some of the major legislation yet to be acted upon.

Bridges, who heads the Senate Republican Policy Committee, said that with the Alaska statehood bill out of the way, he does not believe there will be extended Senate debate on any remaining measure.

The Senate has yet to act upon reciprocal trade, defense reorganization, foreign aid appropriations, housing and farm bills, among the major controversial pieces of legislation.

The House has ploughed through some of these but still faces the necessity of acting on a bill to replace the omnibus farm measure it killed recently. The House also may originate legislation which would increase Social Security benefits 10 per cent, in line with the pay raises given to government employees.

It probably will have to wrestle with the question of increasing the 200-billion-dollar debt limit, another measure which would have to originate in the House before the Senate could act upon it.

Sen. Karl E. Mundt (R-SD) told the Senate there is no longer any hope that the House will pass a labor regulation bill similar to that approved by the Senate. Many House members agree, although some profess to think action still is possible.

Although Republicans have been plugging for action on a bill to grant statehood to Hawaii there appears little likelihood of any final action on that measure in this Congress.

Hey, My O'coat Was Stolen Last Christmas!

ST. JOSEPH, Mo. (AP)—Arthur Broce reported to Sheriff C. A. Jenkins this sultry week that his overcoat had been stolen from his home.

Furthermore, said Broce, there were two $20 bills in the coat. When was it stolen? Shortly before last Christmas.

Broce didn't explain his delay in reporting the theft.

dential assistant Sherman Adams has been heavily coached for days by his lawyers—and perhaps others—on how to handle himself before a congressional subcommittee.

This subcommittee is investigating the relations between Adams and Goldfine, a Boston industrialist, and the relationship of both with the Federal Trade Commission.

The fate of Adams will depend heavily on the testimony and performance of Goldfine and his willingness to answer questions. He distributed presents and favors to Adams and at least presents to other men in positions of political power.

Already many Republicans — Yet some of his lawyers them-mainly those running for election this year—have called on President Eisenhower to sack Adams, his No. 1 man in the White House and one upon whom Eisenhower leans more than any other in running the country.

Goldfine's case, before he ever got near the witness chair, developed an almost comical complexion.

His lawyers were so afraid of letting him face newsmen's questions that they hovered around him when he arrived here Sunday like a bunch of beekeepers. They carried this so far they wouldn't even let him say he was glad to be here.

Goldfine had a prepared statement to make to the subcommittee today.

But handing out a prepared statement, worked over by lawyers, is far different from answering directly and freely the questions fired at him by the subcommittee. It remained to be seen how much answering Goldfine would do.

Grains Trend to Weakness

CHICAGO (AP)—Early dealings in grain futures were light to moderate today on the board of trade and prices held mostly within minor fractions of previous closes.

Dealers said the usual harvest-time pressure on wheat was somewhat reduced and that most offerings were well taken. Most of the grains trended toward weakness, but rye was firm.

Wheat was 1/4 cent a bushel lower to 1/2 higher near the end of the first hour, July $1.81 1/2; corn 1/4 to 1/2 lower, July $1.34 1/2; oats 1/4 to 1/2 higher, July 64 1/2; soybeans unchanged to 1/4 higher, July $2.23 1/2; soybean meal 3 cents a hundred pounds lower to 2 cents higher, July $12.32.

Michigan Girl Joins Wilson Girls Ranks

By EARL WILSON

REYKJAVIK — Arrivederci, Roma; good morning, Iceland!

He's now rooting for the 1960 Rome Olympics which'll have baseball.

"In Naples once," he reported, "a catcher bawled out his pitcher so furiously for a bad pitch, that he didn't see the winning run steal in. That's Naples!"

"That used to be Brooklyn," I said.

"Where are you from, Jeanne?" I asked Pan Am's answer to Kim Novak.

"Forsyth, Mich.," she smiled. "It claims 200 people but I've never seen that many there. Its excuse of existence is that the Chicago and Northwestern and Lake Superior and Ishpeming RR's form a junction there."

"Where have you been on your trips?"

"Bangkok twice, Karachi, Istanbul, Beirut, and, of course, Paris and Rome and Brussels."

"Is being a stewardess a good way to get a husband?"

"Contrary to popular opinion I think it's one of the poorest ways," she said. "Most men who fly overseas are pretty well settled down. Anyway, I've got mine picked out and I didn't meet him on a plane. He's ex-Navy."

"Do you get kidded about Kim Novak much?"

"All the time!" laughed Jeanne, a shapely brunette who attended the University of Michigan. "One pursuer announced my name as Kim Novak as a joke. The passengers started jumping up and down and saying, 'Is she aboard?' I had to say, 'I'm sorry I'm Jeanne Novak.'"

Anyway, at 3 o'clock in the morning, in Iceland, without a topcoat on, I photographed Jeanne—without a flash. Tomorrow we'll be home Arrivederci, Iceland!

ARMED WITH DYNAMITE — Paladin (Richard Boone) prepares to face a lynch mob stirred into action against one of his clients charged with a Wyoming homicide on "Have Gun, Will Travel," on the July 12th program. The western is presented from 9:30-10 p.m. Saturdays over the CBS-TV network.

Editor's Note: The writer of this column is the star of "Have Gun, Will Travel."

By RICHARD BOONE

NEW YORK — A little more than a year ago, a certain observation was made in a screening room on Madison Avenue, CBS and advertising executives were viewing the pilot episode of "Have Gun, Will Travel."

In the darkness, someone said: "Say, that damn doctor can really ride a horse."

That Madison Avenue observer was seeing me for the first time as Paladin — a gentlemanly sort of rogue, circa Old West, 1870's. Until then he knew me from TV for the most part as Dr. Stynes.

Well, an actor is always looking for a change of pace. The meatier the role, the better the actor's feast. Having been with Paladin for over a year, I feel right at home with him and the show. I've never had so much fun.

As for that Madison Avenue observer's surprise at seeing me on a horse — well, Boone and horses have been on neighborhood terms for a long time.

I've ridden them as a boy working summers in Montana, and they have carried me across landscapes through a score of western feature pictures.

In fact, one of the requirements I have for actors in a dramatic group I conduct is that they learn to ride a horse. Where is an actor in Hollywood today, if he can't swing aboard Old Paint?

Getting back to HGWT. People often ask, now that the show is a success, how long the series will run. This is a tough question that I wouldn't try to answer. There are so many unknown factors in the run of any show on television. Well, they then ask — How long will TV westerns be popular? This brings to mind the Indian chief who asked Gen. Phil Sheridan for a cannon.

"Why — so you can kill more soldiers?" demanded Sheridan.

"No," said the chief. "Use cannon to kill cowboys. Kill soldiers with a club."

From TV's Godfrey, GM's Curtice General Steals the Show

DETROIT (AP) — Arthur Godfrey, Gen. Nathan F. Twining and Harlow H. Curtice sat together last night in as diverse a news conference lineup as you would ever hope to find.

The entertainer, the soldier and the world's biggest maker of automobiles were brought together at the Industry Missile and Space Age Conference sponsored by the Aero Club of Michigan.

Before the three arrived for the news conference the question was which subject would the newsmen prefer—talent scouts, war or automobiles.

War was an easy winner.

Nobody asked Godfrey any questions. His only public comment was, "Where do you want us?" The red-haired and freckled television personality, who was toastmaster at a dinner later that ended the conference, said hello to "Nate" and "Red" and sat down.

Curtice, president of General Motors Corp., one of the Aero Club's sponsoring organization, got two questions.

Yes, he hoped General Motors would get some missile contracts in the future.

No, he didn't want to talk about anything outside the missile field—such as contract negotiations with the United Auto Workers Union and whether GM plans to put out an undersized sports car to fight the influx of foreign cars.

Twining, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff and the featured speaker at the dinner that followed the news conference, took most of the questions.

The questioning took a turn to the light side when newsmen tried to pin Twining down on a detail about the military budget.

"That's up to the service chiefs," he said. "I'm not a service chief. In my job I just preside and try to keep order."

"Do you succeed?"

"No trouble."

Hawaii State? Perhaps in 1959

Time Is Running Out
This Year, but Issue
Hangs on Calendar

WASHINGTON (AP) — Hawaii statehood? Next year, perhaps, but not this year.

That was the appraisal today of members of Congress close to the situation in the wake of final congressional approval of statehood for Alaska.

In the Senate, where a committee-approved Hawaii statehood bill hangs on the calendar, Democratic Whip Mike Mansfield (D-Mont) conditioned further Senate action on House passage of the Hawaii bill.

In the House, Rep. Leo O'Brien (D-N.Y.), chairman of the Territories subcommittee, said a favorable vote in the House Committee on Interior and Insular Affairs is the most that can be hoped for this year.

Considering prior commitments, that vote is expected about July 9, or possibly a week later.

In the view of O'Brien and other House members, that does not leave enough time in the present session to get the bill through the House and to outlast a possible talkfest in the Senate.

O'Brien said in his judgment it would be wise not to try to force the Hawaii bill through this year, and thus risk failure that might hurt the now excellent chances of bringing Hawaii into the Union as the 50th state next year.

Delegate John A. Burns (D-Hawaii) clung to some hope that Congress could act on the Hawaii bill this year, but he conceded it would be optimistic to expect it.

Flames Threaten Stores in Owosso

OWOSSO (AP) — Fire destroyed a garage in a main business block in the village of Vernon 10 miles west of Owosso yesterday and threatened adjoining stores.

However, the Shiawassee sheriff's office reported at 1 p.m. the blaze was under control. Fire departments from nearby Durand, Corunna and Owosso joined Vernon firemen in fighting the flames.

The fire started in a garage from a cutting torch flame. The garage owner, Harold Harmon, shouted a warning to Mr. and Mrs. Wes Claypool, occupants of an apartment over the garage.

Mrs. Claypool made it to safety down the stairs. Her husband was cut off by flames and had to jump from a window but was unhurt.

Shortly after their escape the garage collapsed.
