Alumni Admissions Ambassador Opportunities

New opportunities are available for alumni to serve as Alumni Admissions Ambassadors during the winter months. Local and out-of-state recruitment fairs are continually being added and posted on the AAAP Web site.

Remember the anticipation you felt when you first arrived at OU? Campus Welcome Receptions for admitted incoming students are fast approaching. The AAAP is recruiting alumni hosts to meet and greet the admitted future students and their families during these receptions. Visit www.oakland.edu/aaap for more information regarding Welcome Receptions and to register to participate in this great volunteer opportunity.

Additionally, alumni who live out-of state have the opportunity to expand the university's presence on a national level and provide a valuable, genuine connection with future generations of Golden Grizzlies.

For more information on how to become involved in the AAAP in your area, visit www.oakland.edu/aaap or e-mail Luke Fleer, Program Coordinator, at fleer@oakland.edu. Please include the city in which you wish to represent Oakland University in the future.

Alumni ambassador John Horwarth, CAS '84 and Indiana resident, teamed up with OU admissions adviser Darrien Rice at the Calhoun County College Night in Battle Creek, Mich.

SUMMARY

New opportunities are available for alumni to serve as Alumni Admissions Ambassadors during the winter months. Local and out-of-state recruitment fairs are continually being added and posted on the AAAP Web site. Remember the built-up anticipation you felt when you first arrived at OU? On campus Welcome Receptions for admitted incoming freshman are fast approaching. The AAAP is interested in alumni hosts to meet and greet the admitted future students and their families during these receptions.
