Twisters Bring Heavy Rainfall Across Plains

34 Injured, 1 Missing as Widespread Damage Is Inflicted

DALLAS (AP) — Tornadoes boomed last night and rivers were rising today, but there was a bright side apparently the seven-year drought was about broken in most of the state.

Ten tornadoes lashed from angry storm clouds over the Texas Panhandle and South Plains last night, injuring 34 persons and inflicting heavy property damage. One man was reported missing.

An 11th tornado hit near Cotulla in south Texas but did little damage.

The Trinity River approached the flood stage here and the Weather Bureau warned it would flood lowlands to the south in the next few days.

Thunderstorms also hit central Texas last night and today.

Hard rain accompanied the tornadoes in northwest Texas and heavy rains drenched south Texas last night. General heavy rains have been soaking most of Texas since the middle of February, boosting the morale of farmers, ranchers and city dwellers.

NEARLY BROKEN

State officials expressed cautious optimism that the drought was about broken in all but the western and southernmost portions of the state.

A tornado followed by heavy rain lashed Littlefield yesterday, cutting it off from outside communications for a time.

The Texas highway patrol said the tornado cut through the western side of the South Plains cotton marketing and ginning center of about 8,000.

It said the twister injured several persons and caused heavy damage. A tornado also hit three miles west of Littlefield.

Roads were under water for a time and communications were out.

Reports poured in last night of Unique Easter Offering

MOBILE, Ala. (AP)—Scribbled on the back of an Easter offering envelope found on the floor of a Mobile church:

"The price tag is still on your hat and hanging out."

Caught in Loop of Chain on Swing

Waterford Boy, 4, Strangles

Four-year-old Roy L. Hopewell Jr. happily ran out the back door of his Waterford Township home yesterday afternoon to enjoy the Spring weather.

Forty-five minutes later, Roy's horrified mother found him, strangled to death by the chain of a backyard swing.

The sudden tragedy turned Easter gladness into a day of mourning for the Hopewell family, 3216 Warren Dr.

At about 2:45 p.m., 1½ hours before the family was to attend Easter services at the Jehovah's Witness Kingdom Hall in Drayton Plains, little Roy wanted to frolic in the warm sunshine.

He skipped to the back of the yard, behind an old barn, while Hopewell, a die-caster, and his wife Gertrude, both 23, were at the side of the house washing the family car for the trip to church.

Two younger children, James, 3 and Susan, 2, played by their parents' side.

Although the seat of the swing had not yet been set in place, Roy was not daunted.

He grabbed one of the two 35-feet long chains that hung from a tree bough. At the end of the chain was a foot-wide loop in which Hopewell planned to place a seat for Roy to sit on this summer.

ROY L. HOPEWELL JR.

Roy stood on a three-foot high bench and swung off. How many times the little boy swung off and on the bench, police don't know.

The last time, they theorize, Roy somehow had wrapped the loop around his neck. As he swung off the bench, the boy's hands must have failed in their grip on the chain above his head.

The loop, however, held.

If the little boy called out, his screams were not heard.

His mother, missing him and remembering it was time to get ready for church, went to the back of the barn. She found her son lifeless, his feet five inches off the ground.

The frantic father rushed the child to the nearby fire station in Drayton Plains. Efforts by an inhalator crew proved fruitless. Little Roy was taken to Pontiac General Hospital and pronounced dead.

Funeral service will be at 2 p.m. tomorrow from Coats Funeral home, 3141 Sashabaw Rd. Burial will be at Drayton Cemetery.

Secretary Tells AP Executives of Policy Aims

Points Out Increasing Pressure for Liberation in Soviet Orbit

NEW YORK (AP) — Secretary of State Dulles bluntly told Russia today that the United States seeks "the liberation of the captive nations." He said "the pressures of liberty are rising" within the Soviet bloc.

In an address prepared for the annual Associated Press luncheon, Dulles also appealed to Congress and the American people to preserve the administration's foreign military and economic aid programs against those with "a zeal to economize." He evidently referred to some members of Congress.

He also expressed confidence that Soviet "threats," such as have recently been directed against Allied nations in Europe because of their membership in the Atlantic Alliance, "will not disintegrate" the collective defense systems of the free world.

Dulles' address had the full advance approval of President Eisenhower, who read it at his Augusta, Ga., vacation headquarters. Press Secretary James C. Hagerty said Eisenhower also had discussed it by telephone with Dulles.

The address was Dulles' first major review of U. S. foreign policy since last fall, and also his first speech of Eisenhower's second term.

TOUGH QUESTION

Dulles said the question of how the United States should deal with Communist "despotism" is not an easy one to answer. He declared the United States had set an example to stimulate forces for freedom throughout the world and he assured Soviet satellite coun-

Hamlin Optimistic on 2-County Pipeline

Boosts Huron Water Plan

Water piped to Oakland County by the Southeastern Michigan Water Authority instead of by Detroit was a growing possibility today.

Delos Hamlin, chairman of the Oakland County Board of Supervisors said he was optimistic about a plan to bring water from Lake Huron through a pipeline owned jointly by Oakland and Macomb Counties.

The project was the subject of a a weekend conference with officials of Bechtel and Co. pipeline firm in San Francisco, attended by Hamlin and other county officials, including Royal Oak Mayor Howard K. Kelley, authority chairman.

The Bechtel firm, one of the largest in the country, proposed last fall to build the pipeline for approximately $70 million, and will send a team of experts here May 2, Hamlin said, to conduct final studies.

APPEARS TO BE SOUND

"They're optimistic that the plan is financially sound and so are we," Hamlin said.

If so, he added, the plan would be an attractive alternate to one in the offing from Detroit, whereby water would be piped to suburban users at rates more than twice the amount paid by Detroiters.

"Although the doubled Detroit rate still would be less than many Oakland County residents now are paying, the rates with our own pipeline conceivably could be lower yet and would decrease as the county continues to grow," Hamlin said.

"There are many advantages to the county's owning its own pipeline instead of being in the position of a renter of Detroit facilities," Hamlin added.

Iraqis Hunt American Blown From Plane

ISTANBUL, Turkey (AP) — Iraqi officials combed through desert wastes today for the body of an American apparently blown through the shattered window of a French airliner 18,000 feet above Iraq.

The American — identified by police as J. R. Nash of Memphis, Tenn.—was en route from Tehran to Istanbul. The 31-year-old bachelor with a passion for travel was on the last leg of an aerial round-the-world trip when he disappeared Saturday night.

J. R. NASH

Nash's parents arrived in Paris today aboard the same type plane on whtich their son was a passenger.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Nash of Memphis, Tenn., will leave tomorrow for Istanbul, where authorities are investigating the strange disappearance of their son, Jack.

Although airmen described the accident as extremely rare, an Air France spokesman in Paris said it was "not without precedent."

The Paris spokesman and Air France officials in Istanbul gave this version:

The four-engine Constellation was about 25 miles north of Jirkouk, northern Iraq, when the third window on the right side of the plane burst "with a loud explosion."

Nash, who was asleep in the seat next to the window, was sucked out.

The plane immediately filled with steam as frigid air from outside poured into the heated cabin.

When the air finally cleared, other passengers noticed that Nash was missing.

The plane descended quickly to a lower level while shivering passengers crowded into the front of the craft until it arrived at Istanbul.

Friends in Memphis said Nash was an admirer of the late Richard Halliburton, noted traveler and author who disappeared at sea while trying to sail a Chinese junk from Hong Kong to San Francisco in 1939. Halliburton was a native of Memphis.

Hoffa Files Plea for Dismissal

Teamster No. 2 Boss Claims Prejudice and Improper Procedure

WASHINGTON (AP) — James R. Hoffa, Midwest boss of the Teamsters Union, today asked dismissal of an indictment accusing him of conspiring to plant a spy on the staff of the Senate Rackets Investigating Committee.

Hoffa's contentions in motions filed in U. S. District Court included that:

He was "wrongfully deprived" of a preliminary hearing after his arrest by FBI agents March 13.

The deliberations of the grand jury which indicted him March 19 were "influenced and infested by prejudical and improper publicity directly originating from the government."

In event the entire indictment is not dismissed, Hoffa asked permission to inspect the minutes of the grand jury and dismissal of one of three counts on the ground the statute under which the count was framed is "void for vagueness."

South Pole Base Expects Record —120 Below Zero

WASHINGTON (AP) — The first men to spend the winter at the South Pole expect the thermometer to drop to 120 below zero at midseason, the Navy said today.

The world record for cold in which men have lived is 90 below, recorded in northeastern Siberia in February 1933. The 18 Americans at the South Pole came within a degree of that mark April 2, when they reported by radio a low of minus 89.

Winter comes in the antarctic when summer comes in the Northern Hemisphere.

Altogether, 338 U.S. scientists and military men are spending the polar winter at seven Operation Deep Freeze outposts, scattered over distances of hundreds of miles.

20-Foot Wall of Ice Converges on Homes

CHEBOYGAN (AP)—A wall of ice 20 feet high in places was blown 50 feet out of Mullet Lake yesterday by a strong southeast wind.

The ice moved across lawns bordering the lake and piled up to within eight feet of several cottages. At one cottage, a finger of ice stopped at the lower step. No damage was reported.

State Police Hunt Kidnaper

Saginaw Man Reports Abduction, Release; Girl Assaulted

SAGINAW (AP) — State Police cruisers converged on the Gladwin area of central Michigan today in a search for a paroled convict sought for questioning in the kidnaping of a young Saginaw couple.

The search began after Charles Hardin, 20, reported to Saginaw city police and state police that he and his 19-year-old girl friend were abducted last midnight by a man who later released them after assaulting the girl.

State police said the girl told them she had been raped. They did not disclose the name of the girl.

Capt. Melvin E. Austin, head of the detective division of Saginaw police, said they were looking for Wallace Warner, about 30. Capt. Austin said Warner has a long police record and was sentenced in 1951 to 3-15 years in Southern Michigan Prison for burglary and later paroled.

State Police said the fugitive is believed to be armed but he apparently carried only a knife when he attacked the young couple.

The man fled in Hardin's car from Sanford, 40 miles northwest of Saginaw, after forcing the couple out of the car, police were told.

Hardin gave police this account of the attack:

He and his girl friend were sitting in their parked car on a Saginaw street when a man suddenly put a knife to Hardin's throat.

The man forced the couple to drive him to Sanford. Stopping there, the man forced Hardin into the trunk of the car and then attacked the girl. After that, Hardin and the girl were ordered out of the car and the man drove off in Hardin's car.

The couple hitchhiked back to Saginaw and reported the attack to State Police at the Bridgeport post.

Hardin is the son of Robert M. Hardin, owner of a general insurance agency in Saginaw.

Van Doren's Honeymoon Ends; It's Back to Class

NEW YORK (AP) — Charles Van Doren, Columbia University instructor and winner of $129,000 on a TV quiz show, returns to the classroom today after a honeymoon in the Virgin Islands.

Van Doren, 31, and his bride, the former Geraldine Ann Bernstein, 23, arrived home by plane yesterday.

Fate of Officers Remains Issue

Waterford Groups Seek to Rehire Policemen as Board Sets Meeting

Fate of 10 Waterford Township Police Department employes, dismissed Saturday because there wasn't enough money to pay their salaries, remained an issue as the township board prepared to meet tonight.

Several groups reportedly were circulating petitions asking the board to bring the department back up to its former strength of 16 officers.

Eight officers and two clerical workers were fired Saturday after township officials, reviewing their bank account, discovered only $64,000 cash reserves.

One group circulating petitions wants the board to rehire the employes and borrow money to pay them.

COULD BORROW

"The board could borrow on anticipated revenues. We're one of the largest townships in the county and need all the police protection we can get," a spokesman said.

Supervisor Elmer Johnson said none of the groups had requested time tonight to present the petitions formally.

Main item on tonight's formal agenda was plans for improvement at the Venice of the Lakes Subdivision on Cass-Elizabeth Lake road.

Residents of the area reportedly have agreed with township officials and representatives of the state health department and attorney general's office to finance improvements, themselves.

The health department has condemned the subdivision for having a polluted water system.

A bonding firm representative will be present tonight, Johnson said, to advise on legal means of raising money.

AP Executives Told U.S. Policy Aims

tries that "we shall never make a political settlement at their expense."

He ruled out action by the United States to "incite vilent revolt" and called instead for measures to "encourage an evolution to freedom."

"Let us also make apparent to the Soviet rulers our real purpose. We condemn and oppose their imperialism. We seek the liberation of the captive nations," he said of Russia.

NOT ENCIRCLEMENT

"We seek this, however, not in order to encircle Russia with hostile forces, but because peace is in jeopardy and freedom a word of mockery until the divided nations are reunited and the captive nations are set free."

In describing the "pressures of liberty" which he said are rising within the Soviet bloc, Dulles said there is increasing demand for greater personal security, freedom and economic benefits within Russia; that international communism is beset with "doctrinal difficulties" and that the "cruel performance of Soviet communism in Hungary" had led many Communist party members throughout the world to desert communism.

In the satellite countries, he said, Russia no longer has the "submissive source" of military strength. In fact, he asserted, "Soviet strength, both military and economic, has now to be expended to repress those who openly show their revulsion against Soviet rule."

Dulles also made these other major points:

1. International communism "is on the prowl to capture those nations whose leaders feel that newly acquired sovereign rights have to be displayed by flouting other independent nations." He called that "suicidal sovereignty" and said the United States wants the independence of new nations "to be something better than a brief twilight preceding the blackout of Communist despotism."

Dulles did not mention any country in this connection but he is known to feel that in its handling of the Suez Canal issue, Egypt has disregarded the rights of other countries which rely on the use of the canal.

2. The chief deterrent to Soviet aggression is the "mobile retaliatory power" of the United States but this country also needs strong allies. This is the main argument for military aid. If the "forces and facilities" of Allied nations were taken away from the common defense the American defense the American defense budget would have to be "expanded vastly," he said.

3. The administration's policies governing promotion of international trade and economic assistance to foreign countries are vital to strengthen those countries against Communist pressures and to secure their belief in "the blessings of liberty."

"With the help of the Congress, and with the support of the American people," Dulles declared, "our trade and economic development policies can serve mightily to demonstrate that the peace of free men is not the doomed peace of human stagnation but a peace of such vitality that it will endure."

4. The United States considers "that controls and reduction of arms are possible, desirable, and, in the last reckoning, indispensable." The atomic arms race "is costly, sterile and dangerous" and "we shall not cease our striving to bring it to a dependable end."

5. History suggests that "a conflict as basic as that dividing the world of freedom and the world of international communism ultimately erupts in war" but the United States rejects the notion that war is inevitable and believes that it can be prevented.

Modern Pilgrims to Land at Plymouth

Mayflower Sails for U. S.

ST. KEVERNE, England (AP) — Mayflower II — replica of the Pilgrim fathers' ship—sailed out of sight of the English coast today as she headed for the United States.

Soon after dawn, the little wooden sailing vessel was spotted by the coast guard 15 miles out from The Lizard, southernmost point of England's coast. Half an hour later she was out of sight.

Coast guard officer William Knight said, "On her course she has seen the last land until she approaches her destination."

The ship left Plymouth, England, Saturday, bound for Plymouth, Mass. For more than 24 hours she dawdled in the English Channel with hardly a breath of wind to fill her sails.

Skipper Alan Villiers, Australian seafarer, hopes to land the ship in Plymouth in about six weeks. He has said it all depends on weather conditions in the Atlantic. There is a crew of 32 aboard.

Just before the little ship sailed out of land's sight, Knight flashed the following poem—he said he had composed—to the vessel by signal lamp:

"Sail on, sail on, oh pilgrims free:
"In treasure's chest, man's destiny.
"Your course is true
"On each degree, faith, hope and charity."

Boy, 4, Runs Into Car, Condition Satisfactory

John R. Sutton, 4, of 1911 Tamm St., Rochester, was admitted to Pontiac General Hospital Sunday afternoon after being hit by a car driven by Eugene F. Coon, 375 Rivard St., Pontiac.

The child, with a fractured left arm and lacerations of the head, is listed as being in satisfactory condition by a hospital spokesman.

According to police reports, the child ran into the street in front of his home and Coon pulled to the right trying to avoid him, but the child ran into the side of his car.

ing improper conduct in labor and management.

Attorneys Edward Bennett Williams and Daniel B. Maher, representing Hoffa and Fischbach, also filed a motion for a six-month continuance of the trial, now set for May 27. They argued there exists in the District of Columbia at the present time "great prejudice against" Hoffa and Fischbach as a result of "improper and hostile publicity."

They cannot obtain "a fair and impartial trial in this district at this time," the motion said.

The Day in Birmingham

Finances, Traffic Study on Commission's Agenda

BIRMINGHAM — A 46-page report on city finances for the first quarter has gone to city commissioners for their examination and approval.

Along with tonight's meeting will be a discussion of the recently compiled traffic study, held over from last week's meeting.

Commissioners also will consider alley pavings, street rights-of-way, street repairs and hear several departmental reports. The plan board draft of business C zoning will be included.

From the fire department will come details on the training tower to be erected at the rear of the Adams road station.

The tower will be used to train personnel in fighting fires and rescue work, including emergencies which might arise in the field of civil defense. It will be used by the men of both the Adams and Chesterfield stations.

Assistant city manager Robert S. Kenning indicates the possible participation of the FCDA in construction costs.

Also due for presentation and discussion is the proposed agreement between the City of Birmingham and the South Oakland Water Authority for the latter's use of the city-owned transportable generator in case of emergency power failures at any of the Authority's pumping stations.

An appointment to the faculty of the School of Education at the University of Michigan approved by the regents Friday was that of Paul D. Carter, assistant superintendent of the Birmingham Schools.

Carter was appointed assistant professor of education beginning with the 1957-58 year. The appointment is a joint one with the Extension Service and he will have an office in the Rackham Building, Detroit.

Carter will supervise student teachers in the area as well as teach courses in elementary education.

Easter Parade Hats, as Usual, Feature Nutty Styles

By INTERNATIONAL NEWS

Hundreds of thousands of Michigan Christians attended church yesterday to celebrate Easter, the festival commemorating the resurrection of Jesus Christ.

Unique among the services was the one conducted at Detroit's historic Mariners Church. The rites were radio-beamed to sailors on ships throughout the world.

Easter paraders found pleasant weather, which also drew thousands of motorists onto highways for drives to parks and lakeshores.

HIGHLIGHT PARADE

Crazy hats and decorated dogs highlighted—as always—this year's New York Easter parade.

Police estimated that some 1,300,000 paraders swarmed into the area between 46th and 57th street on Fifth Avenue. The fulk of the crowd remained near St. Patrick's Cathedral, where you stood a chance of being photographed, televised or at least seeing the people who did grab the publicity.

It was New York's hottest day so far this year. The mercury went into the 80s at noon and climbed to 82 in midafternoon.

In general the hats were less daffy and more stylish than in previous Easter parades, with only a few really outlandish designs in evidence. White was the favorite color. Hats were small and much decorated with matching or pastel flowers.

STARTLING HAT

One of the most startling pieces of headgear was a huge pink affair with a brim about two and one-half feet wide. It was covered with loose straw that looked like shredded cocoanut. Flowers, fruits and little chicks hatching from their eggs were the principal decorations.

Another nutty hat fashion was a white, cone-shaped one topped by a clover framework in which a bell swayed. The entire decoration, which stood three feet above the wearer's head, was made of little white flowers.

Hat-wearing dogs were much in evidence, usually in the chihuahua size. One wore a straw sailor hat, another a flowers-and-rhinestones hat perched atop its head. More flowers, ribbons and sparkle were distributed on collars and harnesses.

In Augusta, Ga., President and Mrs. Eisenhower led the Easter parade. They heard the timeless story of Christ's resurrection retold at Reid Memorial Presbyterian Church.

Decked out in Easter finery, the Eisenhowers attended Easter services with Treasury Secretary and Mrs. George M. Humphrey, their weekend guests at the Augusta National Golf Club.

The first lady wore a black and white silk print dress and matching jacket by Molly Parnis, with a corsage of four white orchids. Her Easter bonnet was a flowered white silk creation by Sally Victor. White gloves and black bag and shoes completed her ensemble.

OXFORD GRAY

The President was equally stylish in an Oxford gray silk suit, silver necktie and a red rose in his lapel.

Humphrey, it was disclosed by Presidential news secretary James C. Hagerty, has finally "gotten bit by the golf bug," too.

The 67-year-old secretary, who has never played before, took some lessons yesterday and then bought a set of golf clubs.

Eisenhower, Hagerty reported, was "greatly amused." It will probably be some time before the secretary is ready to play with the President, though Hagerty said he did "pretty well" yesterday for a new golfer.

The Eisenhowers and Humphreys joined in singing the Easter hymns, including, "All Hail the Power of Jesus' Name" and "Lo, a Voice to Heaven Sounding." The blue-robed choir also sang the traditional "Christ Is Risen" with its chorus of alleluia's.

A small crowd was gathered outside the red brick church for a glimpse of the Eisenhowers, who sat in a sixth row pew.

At Vatican City, Pope Piux XII, in his annual Easter message, hailed the glorious future which atomic science can give the world if mankind can overcome its sins, vices and hatreds.

GREAT VICTORIES

Dramatic advances in nuclear research and in chemistry, the pontiff said, herald great victories in the war against disease and a "new age" in transportation, communication and all peaceful endeavors.

But, the Pope added sadly, "people persist in remaining divided and consequently without social intercourse. And when they do know each other they hate each other, plot against, struggle with and destroy each other."

The keynote of the papal address delivered from the balcony above St. Peter's Basilica to a throng of 300,000 was hope. The speech was broadcast to all the world, and beamed to oppressed peoples behind the Iron Curtain and, for the first time, televised to many nations of Europe.

Spurns Colorful Phrase

Quarles, Wilson Contrast Strongly; Very Congenial

By International News Service

If, as universally predicted, scholarly Donald Quarles succeeds blunt Charles Wilson as defense secretary, the "blooper" will be speedily declared obsolete.

Unlike his explosive boss, the 62-year-old Air Force secretary instinctively spurns the colorful turn of phrase and adheres rigorously to a scientific mode of speech.

From long years of theoretic physics at Columbia University and explorations in advance engineering at the Bell Telephone Laboratories, Quarles has acquired a vocabulary which taxes the most erudite newsman.

But, even though they miss an occasional word, Pentagon reporters admire Quarles' refusal to talk down to them.

Wilson, who speaks in "scatterload" terms and branches off into philosophic, sometimes bombastic, asides, is admired for his courage. Quarles is respected for his accuracy.

SHARP CONTRAST

The two defense officials are sharply different in other respects. Wilson is a lumbering, 200-pounder, Quarles a small, dapper man at 142 pounds.

Wilson is a man of enormous wealth who had to relinquish two and one-half million dollars in General Motors stock to avoid the "conflict of interest" laws. Quarles, a man of moderate mans, was permitted by Congress to retain his ten-thousand dollar a year pension from the Bell system.

But despite the personality contrasts, the two men are uncommonly congenial and appear to share a certain earnestness.

Quarles is to be sworn in next Friday as deputy secretary of defense—Wilson's "alter ego"—and it is widely believed he will succeed the cabinet officer who is expected to resign this summer.

Quarles was born in Van Buren, Ark., and embarked upon his long scientific career in 1912 when he transferred from the University of Missouri to Yale.

But despite his precise professional manner, he frequently exhibits the common touch. One news man who called at his home found him drying the dishes . Another time he was up on the roof fixing a leak.

In addition to seeing that the Air Force is running efficiently, he said, he likes to see that things are in order around the house.

Shooting Spree Takes 5 Lives

Man Kills Estranged Wife, Daughter, Two Louisiana Officers

CHURCH POINT, La. (AP) — A family disturbance erupted into a wild shooting spree yesterday and brought death to an estranged couple, their 14-year-old daughter and two policemen.

State Police Trooper F.J.Comeaux said the shooting was touched off by an Easter visit of Raphael Daigle, 37-year-old carpenter, to his estranged wife, Rena, 35.

Mrs. Daigle, their daughter Nettie, Police Chief Wilbur Landry and Asst. Chief Burley Cormier were wounded fatally at Mrs. Daigle's home, Comeaux said. Daigle later turned his shotgun on himself and committed suicide, the trooper said.

City police said Daigle apparently went berserk during a talk over reconciliation.

Police reported a call from Mrs. Daigle's home asked for police protection, and Landry and Cormier responded. Police theorized that Daigle, who had been arrested before for disorderly conduct, was angered by the call and shot his wife, their daughter Nettie and the two policemen.

People in the News:

'Scout-O-Rama' Project Guided by Tough Campaigner

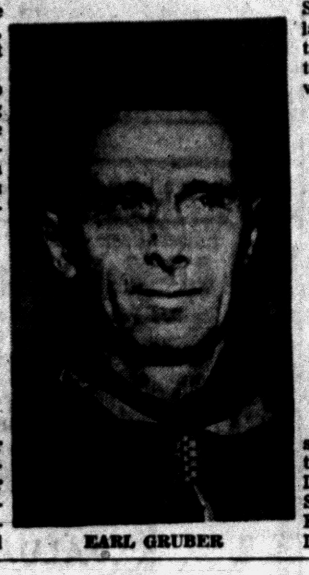

(Special to the Pontiac Press)

Operating a project of the scope which the Ottawa Boy Scout District "Scout-O-Rama" has become is a job for a master promoter, organizer and dedicated Scout leader.

Earl Gruber of Westacres, who holds this tough but interesting assignment, possesses all of these qualifications. He's energetic, inspires people with their part in a project and directs his committees in the manner of a general planning a major battle campaign.

Wiry, slightly grey-haired, Gruber guides his annual project (it's really a personal challenge) with a "hurry up and do it" push on all activities, after first gathering committee chairmen who thoroughly know their field and understand responsibilities of following through on an assignment.

Gruber, with General Motors for 32 years and now in the purchasing department of Pontiac Motor Division, has 20 years of experience in Scouting. He's been Scoutmaster of Westacres troop 36 and has contributed his talents to many council and district activities.

EARL GRUBER

Planning for this year's "Scout-O-Rama," to be held from 2 to 9:30 p.m. Saturday in Walled Lake Senior High School, was begun last October when Gruber started talking with Scout leaders to determine what kind of a show they would like to present to the public.

After approval of preliminary plans by the Ottawa District Committee, Gruber appointed chairmen, began holding meetings with leaders and committeemen and shaped up policies of operation. These meetings settled problems on size and shape of the 41 booths and approved topics for demonstrations by the 56 Scout units. Talent for the two performances of an hour-long stage show was screened, scheduled and rehearsed.

Feeling that safety and security should receive particular attention, the committee asked the Walled Lake, Wolverine and Michigan State Police; Commerce Township Fire and Oakland County Sheriff's Departments to lend assistance in parking, traffic and fire protection. In addition, insurance on the event was taken out.

Promotion activities, such as 25,000 tickets, 550 posters and newspaper stories were lined up. Other problems included securing lumber for booths, transporting stored materials and working out programs with school officials.

On Saturday, Gruber and his team, and more than 3,300 Scouts and their leaders of Ottawa District, will see the results of their efforts to depict 10 years in a boy's life at an "action-packed" show and exposition of Scouting.

Police Grill Man, 23, in Beating, Robbery

Pontiac Police are holding a 23-year-old man for investigation of being one of two men who assaulted and robbed a 55-year-old man in a parking lot Sunday morning.

The victim, Peter Jenson, of 319 N. Saginaw St., was reported in satisfactory condition at Pontiac General Hospital today. He suffered multiple scalp lacerations and bruises.

Police said they arrested the man near the scene after they found blood on his hands and clothes.

Jenson claims two men struck him on the head and then robbed him of his billfold while he was walking through a parking lot next to the Chief Pontiac Restaurant, 78 Baldwin Ave.

Tommy to Wed Chorus Beauty; Wife No. 10

NEW ROCHELLE, N. Y. (AP)—Tommy Manville says a towering Texas showgirl will soon become his 10th bride.

Manville, 63, said he will marry blonde Pat Gaston, 27, in two weeks. She is appearing in the "Ziegfield Follies" at a New York theater.

Manville made his announcement at New Rochelle Hospital. He was there for his annual checkup.

His bride-to-be dropped by to deliver an Easter basket.

Miss Gaston's mother first disclosed the forthcoming marriage in an announcement at San Antonio, Tex., Saturday.

Manville has had 11 weddings and nine wives. He was married twice to each of two former wives.

Manville said he was "lucky" Miss Gaston would have him, and he added: "She's the most beautiful one of them all." Purred Pat, who is almost six feet tall: "He has such a marvelous sense of humor...I get along with him. I don't get along too well with everybody."

Express Drivers Strike

NEW YORK (AP) — The Railway Express Agency said its drivers walked out on strike in five major cities at midnight. A spokesman at the agency's headquarters said Teamster Union pickets promptly were outside company offices in Philadelphia, Newark, N.J., Cincinnati, St. Louis and Chicago.

Italian Consul Prays for Safety of Son

CHICAGO (INS)—Italian Consul General Count Ludovico Barattieri and his wife, bowed with grief, attended Easter services in Chicago's Holy Name Cathedral yesterday to pray for the safe return of their missing 17-year-old son.

The youth, Vittorio, left the consulate Tuesday morning to attend classes at Loyola Academy and has been missing since,

As a nationwide search for the young man entered its sixth day, police said they were without any clues to Vittorio's whereabouts.

Meanwhile, the count and countess said:

"We have heard nothing. We are just hoping and praying."

Earlier, the count said he and his wife are living in an "anguished vacuum" and pleaded for his son to contact him.

Vittorio's seven-year-old sister, Monica, who attended Mass with her parents yesterday, added her personal plea to theirs. The girl, a polio victim, used to play cowboys and indians with tall, handsome brother "Toto."

Vandals Slash Tires on Three Parked Cars

Vandals punctured and slashed tires of autos parked in front of the homes of three Bondale street residents sometime Friday night, according to police.

Six tires on three autos belonging to Michael Kaminski, 212 Bondale St., and Russell Gonzales and Clarence K. Scott, both of 196 Bondale St., were damaged apparently by a knife, police said.

Clashes in Algeria Kill More Than 150

ALGIERS (AP)—Insurgent attacks and weekend clashes between uniformed rebel bands and French forces left more than 150 dead, French authorities reported today.

The bloodiest military engagement took place in western Algeria, where French troops battled 200 rebels in mountainous terrain. Rebel losses were placed at 101 killed. French losses were not given.

French figures showed that 75 soldiers and some 750 rebels were killed in military clashes in the past week.

Junior High to See Science Exhibition

Science in action will be brought to students at Washington Junior High School when Detroit Edison Co. presents the General Electric "House of Magic" show at the school Thursday.

There will be two performances, open to the public, at 1:15 p.m. and 2 p.m.

The show has been seen by millions throughout the United States, Canada, Latin America and Asia. It is designed to stimulate youth's interest in science and engineering careers by demonstrating many unusual scientific effects.

Oxford Boys Find Safe Stolen From Flint Firm

Two Oxford boys, Gary Mann, 14, of 2278 Baldwin Rd. and Billy Hulse, 12, of 1900 Baldwin Rd., found a safe in a creek near their home Sunday afternoon that police believe was taken from a Flint firm.

The safe was found in a creek at Hummer Lake road, about one-quarter mile west of Baldwin road. Police report the safe is one which was stolen from the Detroit Woolen Co. of Flint in a recent break-in there. It is being held for further investigation.

Car Collision Slightly Injures Eddie Fisher

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — Singer Eddie Fisher suffered slight leg and neck injuries when his car got into the middle of a three-way Easter Sunday collision on Las Vegas' hotel strip.

Police said Fisher, 28, drove up to the Tropicana Hotel, where he is appearing, and his car was struck from behind by one driven by Torri Altman, 38, Las Vegas. Fisher's car, in turn, smacked one in front of him driven by Robert J. Kerr, Duarte, Calif.

Miss Altman, who suffered lacerations and had three teeth knocked out, was cited for reckless driving. Fisher was given a ticket for not having a driver's license in his possession. Kerr was not cited and was unhurt.

Jewish Group Raps Oil Firm for Bias

NEW YORK (AP)—The American Jewish Congress has accused the Arabian American Oil Co. of discriminating against Jewish applicants for jobs with the firm in Saudi Arabia.

The AJC said yesterday it had appealed to the New York State Commission Against Discrimination to forbid the alleged practice.

Aramco has an office here for recruiting personnel for work in Saudi Arabia.

The AJC said Aramco has taken the position that the alleged discrimination is necessitated by Saudi Arabian government regulations. Saudi Arabia refuses to grant visas to Americans of the Jewish faith.

Aramco officials were not available for comment.

Class D and Overall Winner
IMPERIAL—64.51 TON-MILES*
For the second straight year, an Imperial walked away with the top honors in the grueling Mobilgas Economy Run. This year a Crown Imperial won by the widest margin in the history of the event—12.17 ton-miles more than the next best car.

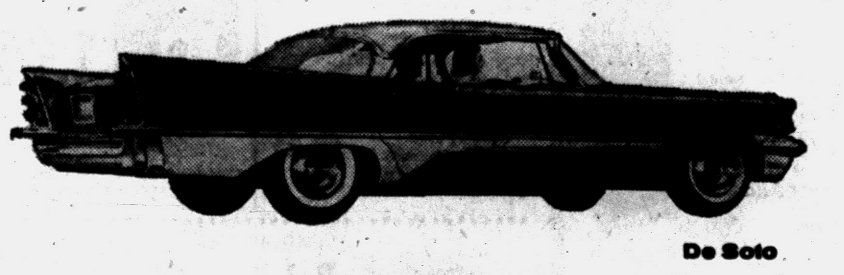

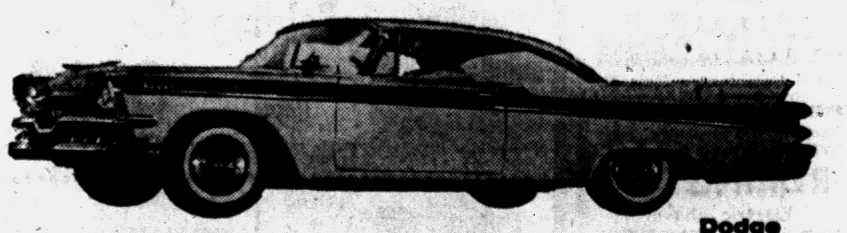

Class C
FIRST CHRYSLER SARATOGA—56.72 TON-MILES
SECOND DE SOTO FIREDOME—56.44 TON-MILES
A Chrysler Saratoga and a De Soto FireDome dominated the medium price and weight class. Chrysler won the event with an average of 56.72 ton-miles with De Soto a close second. No competitive car was even close!

Class B
DODGE CORONET 500—55.89 TON-MILES
Dodge ran away with all the honors in Class B. A Dodge Coronet 500 negotiated the grueling 1500 mile run with a ton-mile average of 55.89.

Class A
PLYMOUTH BELVEDERE—52.62 TON-MILES
Plymouth topped the big low price and weight class. A Plymouth Belvedere 8 swept the field with an average ton-mile rating of 52.62.

*Miles per gallon multiplied by weight of car in tons. This is the official method used by the United States Automobile Club . . . and figured this way so that all cars, regardless of make or size, may be judged on an equal basis.

Foster Parents' Plan Has 20th Anniversary

One of the world's greatest humanitarian efforts, Foster Parents' Plan Inc. is celebrating its 20th anniversary this month.

Since the organization began its work in 1937, more than 87,000 children of 26 different nationalities have been cared for, 11,000 of whom currently are receiving aid. Americans, 600,000 of them, from famous persons to groups of school children, have joined in bringing material help and affection to needy youngsters.

Foster Parents' Plan has completed its missions in England and Holland and will end there in June. The first committee helped orphaned Spanish children who fled Spain then France, to find havens in England. In the first days of World War II Dutch children were taken to England to escape the Nazi invasion. Later they returned home and many of them continued to receive help from the Plan.

Through donations to this cause, horizons have been broadened for these young people—education, trade schools and professions were all made possible. Some, of course, didn't fare so well, but all had food, clothing, shelter, medical care, schooling and the personal interest of a stranger who had become a Foster Parent.

As the Plan expanded there were more and more children to help. Economically poor ones were added to the rolls and the need continues in Western Europe and Korea. A new project is being launched to help the children of Viet Nam.

The Plan's headquarters is at 352 Fourth Ave. New York 10, where a warehouse also is maintained to receive good used clothing for distribution. Foster parents contribute $15 a month for at least a year toward the support of a child and in return receive a case history and photograph of the child.

There also is a general fund made up of contributions not designated for any particular child. This money is used to take care of children over and above the usual needs and assures them uninterrupted care should the Foster Parent withdraw help.

It has been well said that the Plan gives needy children "a mother's love, a father's strength and a brother's hand." No organization is more worthy of assistance.

Major Bills Still Await Congressional Action

The 85th Congress has reached the halfway mark of its first session—the Easter recess—with most major legislation still to be dealt with.

Passage of President Eisenhower's Mideast Resolution and extension of existing excise and corporate taxes through June 30, 1958, are about the only big issues to have been disposed of.

When Congress returns, Civil Rights and Federal Aid to Education will be in the spotlight, with the school bill probably having to wait out the usual filibuster on civil rights. The long delay sure to result will make it even harder for Congress to get through major items requested by the President.

Among these is Atomic Energy. The Democrats want the Government to build demonstration nuclear reactors. Republicans think the Government can stimulate private enterprise to go ahead. In the matter of Foreign Aid both House and Senate are waiting for the President to submit a detailed plan. Despite his request for prompt action on revision of Immigration laws, nothing has been done. The same can be said for Lobby Law changes.

The question of freeing Natural Gas from Federal public utility legislation again has the President's backing as well as that of most of the gas industry. Postal Rates are another piece of major legislation. Although the House has held hearings on rate increases, no bill has gone to the floor.

All this delay is understandable. The first half of a session usually is devoted to discussion and heated arguments. Action will come at the end of the second session and legislation not passed will stay alive through 1958.

The Man About Town

Notable Exception

Oakland County Village Has Reason to Be Proud

Used cars: Only thing not sold in a drug store.

With many of our cities and villages having a downtown business section with store fronts and skyline somewhat in the succotash category, the Pontiac area has an outstanding exception. It is the beautiful and home loving whose business section on the east side of its main street has nothing remindful of a turn of the century vintage.

Among the 54 entries in our

Big Oak Tree Contest

that were received before Saturday's deadline are six that approach the six-foot mark in diameter. These will be turned over to the judges, and the selection of an Oak-land County tree will be in accord with their decision.

Traffic warning in some states:

"Be kind to the center line."

Always ahead of his neighbors in garnering spring vegetables from his garden,

Jasper Worthington

of Keego Harbor, starts them indoors, and his family now are eating snappy fresh radishes.

Americans eat an average of 14 pounds of hamburg apiece each year. Are you above or below average? A Pontiac meat market tells me our city is above it.

From a copy of the Pontiac Weekly Gazette of March 4, 1859, given me by

of Auburn Heights, I learn that the biggest item of news in the Village of Pontiac in that whole week of 98 years ago was capsizing of the Lapeer stage coach on Saginaw Street, with no human or horse injuries.

A sample of the widespread importance of the project is found in a letter from

of Rochester, who writes, "In common with dozen of our neighbors and friends, we're planning on our children getting a university education right at home."

The robins, usually going in pairs, surely are ganging up this spring. The biggest concentration of the birds is reported by of 374 Alberta Ave., who saw a flock of over 50 the other morning.

Visitors to Washington always notice that isn't much of a hill. This observation causes of Rochester to write MAT, asking about its real elevation. We find that the ground on which the capitol building stands is only 88 feet above the level of the Potomac River.

"Capitol Hill"

A continued cold spell and lots of snow in Michigan hurts the Florida fruit and vegetable market. For years in that business below Miami, tells me the shipments fall off when northern housewives cannot get out and check over what comes this way from that state.

David Lawrence Says:

Pearson Can't Coerce Congress

WASHINGTON — Lester B. Pearson, Canadian secretary of state for external affairs, has a likable personality and has gained many friends in official circles in Washington, but lately he has shocked a good many of them. This is because of his tactics growing out of the case of E. Herbert Norman, Canada's ambassador to Egypt, who committed suicide in Cairo on April 4 after having been publicly accused of "Communist associations."

Pearson is engaged at present in the extraordinary procedure of trying to coerce the Congress of the United States by holding a club over all the security agencies of the American government. He has threatened to withhold security information in the future unless congressional committees hereafter adopt the rules which he now prescribes when they deal with information about any Canadian citizens who become involved in security problems affecting the United States.

Pearson's behavior has also shocked members of the Canadian Parliament who now openly accuse him of threatening to penalize the United States and of straining the relations between the two countries.

The Canadian foreign secretary at first implied in his statements and speeches that the executive agencies of the United States government leaked certain information to the Senate Subcommittee on Internal Security. Now he absolves all the security agencies of any blame and concedes that the Senate subcommittee did not get its information from any security agency but got it elsewhere.

Yet Pearson, in a series of notes, threatens the American government with a loss of security information from the Canadian government. He would penalize the security agencies of the United States which have kept the faith and he argues theoretically that, because some information might be wrongfully used some day in the future, congressional committees in Washington must give up their prerogatives or else reprisals will be visited upon the security agencies of the United States government. This bold attempt by a foreign government to encroach upon the constitutional operations of Congress ignores the fact that the executive departments in our government have no constitutional right to tell the committees of the Senate and the House how they shall function.

Pearson has been somewhat ambiguous himself in dealing with the Norman case. Thus even when his embassy in Washington issues a statement denying the authenticity of two notes allegedly left by the late Canadian envoy at Cairo—as obtained from Cairo police and as published by the Reuters' news agency and the New York Daily News—there is still a refusal to let the public judge for itself how the latest version compares with the text of the original notes which the Canadian government says it has had in its possession since the time of the suicide. One reason for the secrecy, it is reported, is that the notes Pearson has do not mention the Senate subcommittee disclosures at all though he has built his entire case on the unverified assumption that the testimony at the Congressional hearings and the suicide are cause and effect.

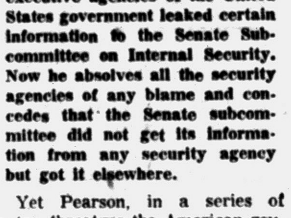

PARIAMENT AROUSED

The real issue, however, is not what motivated the suicide but why Pearson is attempting to punish the American government by withholding security information from it unless Congress hereafter changes its procedures to suit the Canadian government. The reaction to such a course of reprisals has already aroused resentment inside the Canadian Parliament.

The debate has raged for several days with Pearson plainly on the defensive not only because of his threat to take reprisals against the United States security agencies but because of his clumsy handling of the Norman case. He evidently did not reveal in 1951 when Norman was publicly "cleared" that there had been a Communist background in Norman's career. Also while the Royal Canadian Mounted Police furnished in 1950 two reports and did the "checking," opposition members of the parliament have drawn the admission from Pearson that he and possibly one of his associates in the cabinet did the "clearing."

Members of the Canadian Parliament now are demanding to know more about the circumstances surrounding the 1951 "clearance." This doubtless will become an issue in the forthcoming political campaign in Canada where some of the leading newspapers in Montreal and Toronto have been accusing Pearson of a lack of candor and tact in the whole Norman affair.

THOUGHTS FOR TODAY

Forbear to cry make no mourning for the dead, bind the tire of thine head upon thee, and put on thy shoes upon thy feet, and cover not thy lips, and eat not the bread of men. — Ezekiel 24:17.

Many a smiling face hides a mourning heart; but grief alone teaches us what we are.—Schiller.

Dr. William Brady Says:

Doc's Foolproof Medicine Still Staggering Coughs

When I was a very young doctor, a druggist in the neighborhood did me out of many a fee by prescribing his own remedies for people who aimed to economize.

Many of those customers became patients, I was sure, only because they took the druggist's medicine. That is to say, they became alarmed and called the doctor when the morphine or other opium derivative in the druggist's "cough medicine" or the adetanilide or other coal tar derivative in the druggist's "cold," "flu" or "grip" medicine proved poisonous.

It was with such cases in mind that I introduced—or tried to introduce—the Homemade Foolproof Cough Medicine. Instructions for whipping up a batch and administering it to grampa or the baby whenever something for cough is needed are given in the booklet Call it CRI, for which send 35 cents and stamped, self-addressed envelope.

I say I tried to introduce this home remedy. But the druggists didn't like it. The principal ingredient was all a customer had to purchase in a drugstore—sodium citrate (citrate of soda).

For years, followers of this column could purchase an ounce or a pound of sodium citrate in any drugstore and arouse no unpleasant reaction. Today, if you try to buy enough citrate of soda to whip up a batch of Ol' Doc Brady's Homemade Foolproof Cough Medicine, the clerk will probably shake his head reprovingly and show you the legend on the sodium citrate can: To be sold only on prescription.

HOW IS MYSTERY

How this federal aid to the nostrum business was engineered is one of the mysteries of modern medicine.

What good is the recipe for the foolproof cough medicine, if you can't get the makings without procuring a prescription? And what doctor would give you such a prescription if he knew or suspected you were a follower of mine?

For those who may have used the Homemade Foolproof Cough Medicine with satisfaction at one time or another in the past 20 or 30 years, I am happy to suggest a good substitute for sodium citrate in the recipe—namely potassium citrate (citrate of potash).

At this writing, potassium citrate is available without prescription. Maybe we can keep it so if you folks will stagger your purchases or go to different stores for each succesive purchase. If the druggists print that "To be sold only on prescription" on the potassium citrate can, we're out of business.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not to disease, diagnosis or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

Question of Salary Raise Receives Mayor's Reply

Letters will be condensed when necessary because of lack of space. Full name, address and telephone number of the writer must accompany letters but these will not be published if the writer so requests unless the letter is critical in its nature.

Recently a letter appeared in your column over the name of Paul A. Kern, Jr., of 71½ N. Saginaw St. The telephone directory lists his home as 4450 Dow Ridge, a very exclusive subdivision overlooking Orchard and Cass Lakes. The letter listed a series of questions, the answer to several of which would be unnecessary to a resident of Pontiac who had kept himself informed and who probably voted for some of the propositions. Complete answers to all the questions would be impossible in one letter, for in editing a long communication part of the context would be lost.

City Commissioners' salaries were set when the City Charter was adopted in 1920 when Pontiac had a population of 34,273. From that time until April of 1956 the Mayor and City Commissioners each received $5.00 for each regular or special Commission meeting he attended, not to exceed a total of $300 he might receive in one year. The Mayor proposed a resolution to the effect that "as long as the positions are so close to being honorary, make it honorary and dispense with all remuneration."

After lengthy discussion, a committee, composed of James F. Spence, Arthur J. Law, John C. Cowe, Harold W. Dudley and Harcourt S. Patterson, was appointed to study the situation and recommend a more realistic compensation. These former Mayors and Commissioners recommended an increase to $25 per meeting and $1,300 limit per year for the Commissioners and a flat $2,000 per year for the Mayor, payable in equal monthly installments.

This proposal was submitted to the voters as a Charter Amendment at the primary election in March, 1956, and they approved the raise effective in April when a new Commission was elected.

Yes, City Commissioners still receive allowances for expenses while attending out of town meetings and conventions, the same as during the six years Mr. Kern's father served as City Commissioner. When their presence is required at a dinner meeting held in Pontiac, the City pays for the meal, but does not pay the $25 mentioned in the salary schedule shown above. This practice was established many years ago and follows a policy found in business and in many clubs and organizations where officers are required to attend.

Has Novel Idea for City Pigeons

The following was sent to us as a suggestion for getting rid of the pigeon problem:

"A scientist invented a serum to bring inanimate objects to life. Secretly, he tried it out on the statue of a general in a park. Sure enough, the general gave a quiver and climbed down from the pedestal. The scientist was overjoyed.

"'Tell me, general,' he said, 'what's the first thing you're going to do in your new life?'

" 'That's easy?' rasped the general, ripping a gun from his hoister. 'I'm going to shoot several thousand of these darned pigeons?' "

'We Need Police to Protect Youth'

Does this sound like anything you recognize? "100 Hoodlums Crash Party — Bring Beer." It doesn't come from a Detroit paper, it could apply right here at home.

If your teenage youngster attended a party on a recent Saturday, you probably thought, as we did, that it would be a nice, innocent party. Yet it was referred to later as a "beer brawl." The parent and youngster in question were victimized by a mob of hoodlums who heard there was to be a party and who moved in without invitation. The house was badly damaged, and beer cans littered the yard.

Parents can be naive and careless and believe that kids wouldn't do this sort of thing. Decent kids wouldn't, but hoodlums are not above pushing into someone's home. When are we going to band together to look after each other's youngsters?

Our Waterford Township Police Department has done a magnificent job in helping out the youngsters. They have worked tirelessly to get kids on the right track. The recent criticism of them should be shouted down by every law abiding parent of a teenaged child in this township. A great many more hours have been spent on kids than on traffic patrol. We need not let ourselves be intimidated by hoodlums. Our police stand ready to help, if called.

We can ill afford to cut our police department, even one man, as our present township board proposes. The loss of justice court revenue doesn't mean that we're too cheap to support a necessity. We are sure that there are enough people in Waterford who value many things above the almighty dollar—namely the welfare of our children.

Mother Gives Another Advice

My heart aches for a young mother who gave her child away in desperation, but it aches even more at the thought of a young couple that has lived with and loved this child for almost years and may lose it.

Mrs. Hill has never seen her infant daughter since its birth. Whatever decision is made, someone is heartbroken.

Think it over, Mrs. Hill, and be even a more wonderful mother than you ever dreamed of being. Leave your child with the parents who love her so much and try to find happiness with a new family of your own. Good luck to you.

Nurses' Release Shocks Reader

During a recent visit to the county infirmary, I was shocked when told they had gotten rid of some of the older nurses because they weren't so efficient as some of the younger ones. Experience in the nursing profession is the big factor, and I am sure some of the nurses that have been employed there for 28 or 30 years know what they are doing. They certainly understand the patients better. I wonder just what is the reason for all the recent changes?

Questions Losses of Bridge Players

Will some Pontiac bridge players explain to me how the American bridge teams get licked by the French, Italians and English every time they meet in international matches?

If it only happened occasionally, I'd say it was luck, but the U.S. has been trounced about ten times in the last ten matches. Why can't we learn as much about bridge as the English and the Italians? What do they know that we don't. We're unhappy about it.

'Television Ruined Golf Tournament'

The Masters Golf tournament was ruined by television. I like TV but they ought to keep it in its place which isn't too high at best. TV wanted a small field the last two days so they persuaded the bosses to drop all players beyond a certain score. Well, out went Cary Middlecoff and Ben Hogan. The greatest golfer in the world was tossed into the ash can by some silly TV interference. Let's wash that sort of trash out of the TV business for good and all.

Cruel Blow for Overcrowded Nation

Japan Loses Land to Sea, Quakes

TOKYO (INS) — Overpopulated Japan, where the earth is priceless, is being dealt a cruel blow by nature. Its teemed land is sinking.

The ocean is nibbling at Japan's coastlines as the nation's four main volcanic islands continue shrinking.

Studies released by Tokyo University's earthquake study institute show that in one area of Tokyo the ground level sank about 7½ feet between 1942 and 1950.

The encroachment of the sea has become so serious that storms and tides are causing unprecedented damage throughout the nation.

The Tokyo University study listed three reasons for the sinking:

Natural movement of the earth's crust, earthquakes and diminishing underground water supplies.

Tall, heavy buildings in industrialized areas like Tokyo and Osaka push down on loosened strata of the earth. One of Tokyo's largest office buildings has sunk 12 inches since its construction, making additional steps necessary to reach the front entrance.

MOUNTAINS RISE

Ironically enough, Japan's mountains, which rob the nation of farming areas, are getting taller due to the same unsettled earth conditions.

Earthquakes have played havoc with Japan's real estate. Often after a big temblor, such as the tragic 1923 Tokyo earthquake, the ground will sink in some areas and be pushed up in others.

After a gigantic earthquake near Tokyo in the 1802's, Nosima Island was joined to the mainland by the rising of the Pacific sea floor.

Often an earthquake will correct a sinking condition. After the 1923 quake, for example, nearby Chiba Peninsula began to gain height after a history of sinking.

The Tokyo University report said depletion of underground water is most acute in large industrial cities. As factories and plants pump up the water, the earth below becomes slack, causing the land to settle.

The connection between using up water and the sinking is pointed up in Tokyo. Pumping of underground water was halted for a short time after the war and the earth not only stopped sinking, but actually began to rise.

Natural gas concentrations in Nigata prefecture, along the Japan sea coast, have loosened the earth and made it settle, the report said. As a result there are hundreds of areas which are in danger of being swallowed up by the advancing seas.

Work Begins on Fund Budget

200 Michigan Citizens Gather in Lansing for Two-Day Meeting

LANSING (AP)—Some 200 citizens from throughout the state are meeting in Lansing today to hammer out a budget for the 32 health and welfare agencies which draw their financial support from the Michigan United Fund.

Out of the two-day meeting will come the 1958 spending program for such organizations as the Michigan Heart Assn., the United Cerebral Palsy Society and the United Service Organizations (USO).

Delegates to the conference, representing 90 United Fund communities, also will consider requests of any new agency seeking to join the organization.

Aim of the Michigan United Fund is to lump all health and welfare fund raising campaigns in the state into one package and apportion the load to all areas.

Wayne County, for example, contributed $1,826,000—more than half the total — to the goal of $3,286,930 last year. Its share came from more than 16 million dollars contributed to the county torch fund drive.

General chairman of the meeting next week will be Joseph H. Carey, treasurer of the Kelsey-Hayes Co. of Detroit.

Institute for Builders

ANN ARBOR (AP) — The 20th annual institute for building officials will be held Thursday and Friday at the University of Michigan. Feature topics will be housing code enforcement and new developments in the building industry.

Hal Boyle Says:

Tycoons Distrust New Holiday Idea

NEW YORK (AP) — The business world is buzzing with a proposal that has stirred the canyons of commerce more than anything since some unknown invented the expense account.

The proposal is to protect that little shepherd of the till, the business executive, from wrinkling cares by forcing him to take every seventh week off with full pay.

Bart Schwartz, a textile company president, has just put the executives of his own firm on this program of compulsory leisure after testing it for four months himself.

"It works," he said, "we'll all live longer, work harder, be happier, make more money."

I wonder.

The idea of a week of vacation for every six weeks spent on the treadmill sounds like seventh heaven to the ordinary office employe. It may please the wives of executives, too. But how about the executives themselves?

They are excited by the thought of getting paid 7½ weeks out of the year for doing nothing except improve their health. But they are inclined to look for the thistle hidden beneath this latest fringe benefit.

"Great suggestion," said one executive I talked to. "Our work load is terrific. It'll keep a lot of us from killing ourselves if it becomes widespread in industry. But in my own case, I don't feel that I really need it or want it."

That is a typical reaction. Every executive is sure that a vacation every seventh week is fine medicine — for the other fellow, not him.

Why? Let's explore the situation.

The proper care and feeding of its heroes has been a problem with all civilizations.

But in the old days, when the warrior was the hero, the solution was simple. If the hero won a crucial battle, he was rewarded with a big slice of the defeated enemy's tax money, a palace or two, and a couple of dozen more girl grape-fetchers to enlarge his harem.

Today we have a different brand of hero. The real hero of 20th century America is neither the warrior nor matinee idol, neither Gen. Douglas MacArthur nor that troubled troubadour with the talented sideburns, Elvis Presley.

Our national hero is that magician of the marketplace, the business executive. And no hero in history has been harder to keep healthy or compensate adequately.

The present-day business executive seems to be as sensitive as a Swiss watch, likely to get wound up and break down with everything from ulcers to athlete's foot, from heart attack to hernia.

Every possible reward of a materialistic society is held out on a platter to cheer the tired tycoon and keep his hormones humming. He is often given a high salary, a fat expense account, an office-paid car, office-paid "business" trips to Florida that are in reality vacations, stock deals, bonuses, free insurance, medical benefits for him and his family, and pensions that would match a king's ransom.

Some firms even provide a staff psychiatrist and he can lie down on a couch and talk about his troubles on company time.

Why, showered with all these goodies, do executives fall prey to more physical and emotional ills than you can find in the average clinic. Is it all because of the responsibility of their jobs?

There could be another answer: That the executive enjoys so many golden benefits he worries himself sick for fear that someone will take them away, or when he dies he won't be able to take them with him. He has so much security it makes him feel insecure. After all, what can heaven promise him that his firm hasn't already given him?

Which brings us right back to why most executives are leery of Mr. Schwartz's daring idea of multiple vacations for executives. It's simply too good to be safe.

As an executive said frankly: "If I thought my boss felt he could get along without me one week out of seven, I'd never really be able to rest in my swivel chair again."

Viennese composer Johann Strauss ("The Blue Danube" his work) wrote his first waltz at the age of six.

$500 is Waiting for Right Entry to Pot-O-Gold

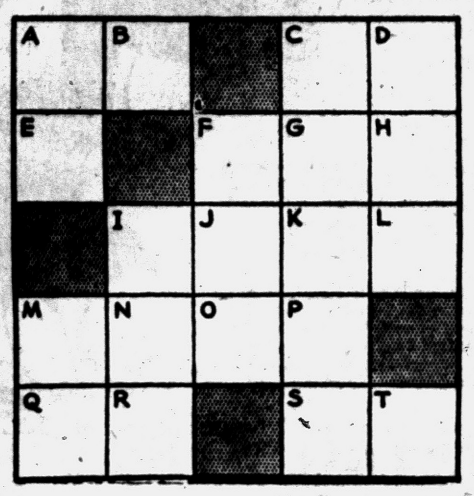

The bills will soon be coming in for all those fine Easter duds you and your family got, and here's a painless way to pay for them. Just pick out the right numbers to this week's Pot-O-Gold puzzle, write them in the proper squares, and you're all set. This puzzle's worth $500 if a winner isn't found for last week's Pot-O-Gold.

The new puzzle contains a series of squares which are alphabetically lettered and a corresponding list of sentences with two clue words. Each of the words is numbered. The object is to select the word which you think best fits the clue sentence. You then place the number of that word in the square which has the same letter as the clue sentence.

In other words, you will read the clue labeled A and decide which of the two words makes the most sense in the sentence. You then write the number of that word in the puzzle square marked A.

Do the same with all other squares. Read all the clues carefully and be sure the right numbers are in the right squares.

OFFICIAL CONTEST RULES

1. Anyone is eligible to enter the POT-O-GOLD contest with the exception of Pontiac Press employes or their immediate families.

2. A contestant may submit as many entries as he or she wishes but they must be on official entry blanks printed in this newspaper.

3. To submit an entry the contestant must print his answers in the proper spaces, cut out the area enclosed by dotted lines and attach it securely to a 2-cent postcard. No entries will be accepted if they are in envelopes. Entries for Puzzle No. 47 must bear a Tuesday, April 30 postmark (or before). No entries received after that time whether mailed or delivered by hand, will be declared eligible. The Press is not responsible for entries lost or delayed in the mail.

4. Sorry, telephone calls or mail concerning details of the contest cannot be answered or acknowledged.

5. The Pontiac Press will award a cash prize of $100 a week to the winner of each weekly POT-O-GOLD contest. If more than one winning answer is received the prize will be divided equally among the winners. If any week or weeks should pass without any winners, the prize will be added weekly until a winning solution is submitted.

6. Winners will be awarded an extra cash bonus of $25 each if they are Pontiac Press subscribers of record on the day winners are announced. Only one such bonus can be awarded to each prize-winner no matter how many weekly prizes may accumulate.

7. Each week's puzzle will be published Monday Wednesday and Friday until the contest's end. Either or all will be considered as official entry blanks.

8. Winners and correct solutions will be announced each Friday of the week following individual contests. Official keeper of answers will be Frederick C. Ziem, prosecutor for Oakland County. Only the General Features Corp., originators of the puzzles, will know the solutions until after each contest is over. Answers will be delivered to the Press judges by Mr. Ziem after the final deadline

9. There is only one correct solution to the POT-O-GOLD puzzle, and only that correct answer can win. The decision of the judges is final and all contestants agree to abide by the judges' decision. All entries becoming the property of The Pontiac Press and none can be returned

10. Completed puzzles must be addressed to POT-O-GOLD, POST OFFICE BOX 58, Pontiac, Michigan. Winners will be notified either by telephone or in the mails.

Security for You

Notify SS of Planned Address Change

By RAY HENRY
Associated Press Writer

From L. A. of Pine Bluff, Ark.: "I'm planning to move to Memphis within the next two months to live with my daughter's family. I don't want to miss a Social Security check by the move. How do I change my address and how soon should I do so before I make the move?"

To change your address, you should notify your local Social Security office or the office from which you get your check. You may do this either by letter or with a special change of address postcard which you can get through any Social Security office. Chances are there will be no delay in your payments if you give notice during the first two weeks of the month before your move.

From Mrs. O. W. of Burbank, Calif.: "I've been getting payments from Social Security because my husband who died six years ago was covered by Social Security. So has our daughter. She's 16½ and is planning to get married. I'm 53, and I have no other children. When my daughter gets married will my Social Security payments stop?"

Yes. However, you'll probably be eligible for widow's payments when you reach 62.

From C. D. of Fort Collins, Colo.: "I'll reach 65 next June, but plan to continue on my job. I've been paying Social Security tax on this job ever since 1937. Can I stop paying the tax after I reach 65?"

No. As long as you're employed or self-employed in work covered by Social Security, you must pay the tax regardless of your age.

From Mrs. Y. B. N. of St. Petersburg, Fla.: "My husband died three years ago. I've been receiving Social Security payments as a survivor as have our three children. I understand that there is a limit on the amount anyone can earn and still get Social Security. If I should go back to work and make more than the limit, will the payments to the children be affected?"

No. Only your check will be affected.

From S. E. R. of New Orleans, La.: "I'm 72 years old and have owned and operated a grocery store since 1930. I understand I can continue my business and get Social Security checks each month because of my age. What papers should I take to the Social Security office when I apply for the payments?"

You should bring your tax return for 1956 and proof that the Social Security tax has been paid. Proof that you've paid your Social Security tax may be a cancelled check, money order stub or other evidence. In addition, you should bring something to prove your age or date of birth.

From Mrs. B. P. of Fall River, Mass.: "I'm now 63 and have been working for many years. My husband is 72 and draws Social Security payments of $80 per month. I plan to work until I reach 65. What will my payments be?"

You'll be eligible to receive payments based on your own work under Social Security or on your husband's record, whichever is the highest. If your own payments figure out to be $40 or more, you'll draw this. Otherwise, you'll get $40 due to your husband's record.

(Questions on Social Security problems may be addressed to "Social Security," in care of The Pontiac Press. Questions will be answered by mail from the Pontiac office of the Social Security Administration. There is no charge for this service.)

Radio Telescope Makes 1st Contact With New Comet

COLUMBUS, Ohio (INS) — The first contact by radio telescope has been made with the new comet Arend-Roland, now heading out of the solar system.

Using a special antenna designed by Richard McFarland, graduate student in electrical engineering at Ohio State University, a hissing noise originating in the comet tail has been picked up since mid-March.

Dr. John D. Kraus, head of the Ohio State-Ohio Wesleyan radio observatory near Delaware., said "11-meter wave-length radiation originates in the tail of the comet, rather than the head."

He believed the sound was caused by "turbulence of the ionized gases of the comet's tail."

The tail streams millions of miles long and maximum radio radiation. Dr. Kraus stated, comes from a point about five million miles from the head.

At present, the comet is moving rapidly away and may be out of radio range in a few weeks. It was at its nearest on April 8 but was too close to the sun to be observed visually.

Spain now has its first TV service, in Madrid, where there are about 1,000 sets.

Neurologists to Gather

DETROIT (AP) — More than 500 neuro-surgeons and neurologists will attend the 25th annual meeting of the Harvey Cushing Society in Detroit April 25-27. The society was founded in Boston in honor of Dr. Harvey Cushing. Symposiums on head and hand injuries and auto accident preventive measures are scheduled during the meeting.

Cadillac

Listen to What Its Silence Says!

Ever hear a motor car tell its own story?

Well, just get behind the wheel of a new 1957 Cadillac—head for your favorite stretch of highway—and listen!

Of course, the truth of the matter is that you won't actually hear anything. For a 1957 Cadillac in operation is as quiet as human skill and ingenuity can make it.

But imagine, if you will, all the wonderful things the car will be telling you through the voice of its own silence!

First of all, it will speak—and most eloquently so—of the soundness of Cadillac styling. For even the onrushing wind is held to a gentle whisper.

It will tell you of the genius of Cadillac engineering. For every aspect of the car's brilliant performance goes about its work in soundless harmony.

And it will reveal the care and the skill of Cadillac craftsmanship. For even when it travels the most neglected of byways, the car remains wonderfully silent.

And imagine, too, what this quiet promises by way of driving satisfaction.

It promises rest and relaxation . . . with complete freedom from distraction.

And it promises dependability . . . for a Cadillac's silence is a telling tribute to its quality of materials and to the character of its workmanship.

If you have yet to sit at the wheel of a 1957 Cadillac and hear this wonderful story for yourself, then we urge you to delay no longer in doing so.

We hope you will visit your Cadillac dealer soon—spend an hour on the highway—and listen to the most eloquent message a motor car ever delivered on its own behalf!

Bob Considine Says:

Newspapers Bring History to Life

NEW YORK (INS)—The annual gathering of the American newspaper publishers in New York is as good a time as any to bury an obsolete metaphor. It's the one that runs, " . . . dead as yesterday's newspaper."

There are deader jewels in the crown of America's freedom of speech and communication. A live TV or radio show is deader one second after presentation is completed than, let us say, the bound copy of the Dec. 23, 173, edition of the Massachusetts Gazette and Boston Newsletter—which carried well-written accounts of the dumping of 342 chests of tax-bearing tea.

Freshly printed copies of those papers, carried to New York and Philadelphia by a courier named Revere, and dispatched thence as far south as Georgia, united and strengthened the will of the colonies as much as did the Massachusetts Spy's stories of May 3, 1775, covering the action in the battles of Lexington and Concord.

The historian winces and knows no solace when he considers the events in ancient history which will forever remain obscure as to origin and other details because there was no newspaper there to blot up and retain the details.

The Gospels are but scattered, halting, half-recalled memories of events which changed the shape of earth and thought and will affect billions yet unborn.

Save for what would surely seem their inspired phases, the story could have been covered better by any one of America's 1,700 odd daily newspapers. No cub would have neglected to do an obit on Joseph, a memorable oversight on the part of the sainted Evangelists.

WHAT STORIES!

Think of the unrecorded, unpublished features, sidebars, interesques and boxes which would have attended the descent from Mt. Sinai of Moses, tablets under his arm! Or the flight of Mohammed to Mecca, the building of the pyramids, the circle of Stonehenge, the temples of Yucatan, the palaces of Crete, the towers of Ankot-Wat!

Who were architects? What was the work week, the take-home? What did it mean then? And who was the millionth visitor who had his hand shaken by the mayor?

Because there were no newspapers we'll never know really what happened in England in 1066, in Virginia in 1607, and in Massachusetts in 1620.

But nothing much has happened since then that went unnoticed. Newspapers, and the knowledge they spread and—once read—enabled others to spread by being passed on, fanned freedom's fire into independence from Britain.

We are not in the dark today about what Lindoln did and said at Gettysburg because the story that day was covered by dozens of reporters.

SPUR PROGRESS

If there had been no newspapers, say, from 1897 to the present could there have been the development and acceptance of the automobile, electric light, airplane, telephone, highway system, radio, TV, modern medicine?

Could there have been comprehension of the forces that brewed into the wars of that period, clear focus on the leaders, dedicated and despotic, who strode the world?

Newspapers make a big difference in people's lives every day. They translate the incomprehensibly complex nature of the world today into language and pictures that most children can understand and by which the intelligence of the adult will not be offended.

They explain Suez to the reader, and the best way of inflating a souffle. They probe the antarctic and the atom, shed light on cancer and calypso, take you to the White House and the White Tower hamburger place, the Kremlin and the Klub Kit-Kat, delineate Einstein and Epstein, illuminate budget and baseball, range through acidosis to zither-playing.

There will be more of this tomorrow.

More Meat, Less Lard

Cigar-Shaped Porkers Praised by Breeders

MONTROSE (AP)—Bob Blanford's Danish hogs are a friendly lot. They will come at his whistle and like to be petted.

But the qualities that have endeared the Landrace breed to Blanford have little to do with their friendly nature. His cigar-shaped pigs have two more ribs than other types and they produce more meat per pound.

The Landrace breed was developed in Denmark about 50 years ago for the English bacon mrket after the demand for lard animals diminished. Denmark banned their exportation in 1928, but the pigs are often smuggled across the border—sometimes by buggies.

Blanford, a Virginian who specialized in history at William and Mary College, has about 200 Landraces on his 200-acre Kee-Wah-Din Farms along the Flint river. He has shipped his pureblooded animals as far as Montana and Florida to enthusiastic hog breeders.

LOW ON LARD

Blanford guarantees the Landraces he sells will produce no more than 3 per cent lard. Barbecue fans and sparerib lovers prefer it that way.

As a heritage from the Danish ancestors, the Landraces are a robust breed that can withstand a Michigan winter. Blanford keeps his outdoors throughout the year and has never had a weather loss.

Already Michigan's largest Landrace producer, Blanford plans to expand to about 600 head. To assure the best bloodlines possible, he imports breeding stock from Sweden, England and Canada.

Although he started out as a teacher, Blanford got into accounting after coming to Saginaw from Virginia several years ago. He built up the farm as a sideline before taking up hog breeding on a full-time basis.

Former Mayor Dies at Lyon

Businessman Also Was on Council, Supervisor; Service Tuesday

SOUTH LYON — Service for former mayor James Benjamin Calhoun, 62, of 516 East Lake St., will be at 2 p.m. Tuesday from First Presbyterian Church. The Rev. Lewis Bender will officiate and burial will be in Wixom Cemetery. His body is to be at Phillip's Funeral Home until 1 p.m. Tuesday.

Mr. Calhoun died Saturday night in Milford.

Mr. Calhoun served South Lyon as mayor from 1948 to 1952 and was a member of the Oakland County Board of Supervisors. He also was a former city councilman and member of the First Presbyterian Church. At his death he was the oldest member of the South Lyon F&AM Lodge.

He had owned and operated a coal yard here for 31 years and previously was employed as telegraph operator and agent for the Pere Marquette Railroad for 18 years.

Mr. Calhoun is survived only by his wife.

Ike Calls Him Unsurpassed

Dulles Dedicated to Job

By International News Service

President Eisenhower calls John Foster Dulles "the best secretary of state I have ever known."

Many political leaders, Republican and Democratic alike, disagree with the chief executive on that point.

But there is virtually no disagreement with the contention that the United States has had few public servants who could match Dulles' whole-hearted, selfless, indefatigable dedication to his job.

The 69 - year - old native of Washington, D. C., a grandson of President Benjamin Harrison's secretary of state, John W. Foster, has shaped his whole life toward the position he now holds.

He has allowed nothing, not even massive illness, to swerve him from his task.

Last November, at the height of the Middle East war crisis, Dulles underwent a cancer operation so serious that those who did not know him well feared it would end his career as a public servant.

But Dulles, within hours after the surgery, was making momentous decisions, shaping policy, and playing to the hilt his major role on the world stage.

He came into the Eisenhower cabinet at the suggestion of ex-Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York, to whom he had been foreign affairs adviser during Dewey's two unsuccessful presidential campaigns.

In the last four years he has been involved many times in raging controversies, ranging from his so-called "brink of war" policy to his sharp conflicts with Britain and France in the Suez troubles.

Foes on Capitol Hill have denounced him. Some Democrats say of him, "He has done something that our party never seemed able to do — make ex-Secretary of State Dean Acheson look good."

All of this meant nothing to Eisenhower, who told a news conference earlier this year that Dulles had "acquired a wisdom and experience and knowledge that I think is possessed by no man — no other man in the world."

Dulles has traveled more miles, in his ceaseless pusuit of peace, than any other U. S. official. He has been relentless in his determination to thwart the communist scheme of world conquest.

Regardless of what the future holds for him, his place in history is assured.

Report Humphrey to Stay in Cabinet

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP)—Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey has no present plans to resign from the Cabinet. And at age 67 he has decided to take up President Eisenhower's favorite game, golf.

That is the word, on both matters, from White House press secretary James C. Hagerty. Hagerty last night denied a published report that Humphrey had canceled the lease on his Washington home and would leave the Cabinet soon.

"The secretary has no plans to leave the government," Hagerty told newsmen after checking with Humphrey, who is the vacationing Eisenhower's guest at the Augusta National Golf Course.

As for golf, it took Humphrey more than four years of occasionally watching the Prsident play before deciding it's the game for him, too, Hagerty told newsmen.

Troy Girl Injured as Auto Hits Tree

ROMEO—A 16-year-old Troy girl was injured yesterday when she appearently lost control of the car she was driving and hit a tree on Dquindre road near 31 Mile Road.

Marilyn Davis of 2119 Chancery St., was taken to St. Joseph Hospital, Mt. Clemens, with cuts and bruises. Owner of the car, Carl Poor, of Attica, who was a passenger, was unhurt, State Police of the Romeo Post said.

Chicago Janitor Admits Slaying

Sims, 29, Confesses Strangling One Woman, Raping 4 Others

CHICAGO (AP)—Police said today a University of Chicago janitor admitted slaying a 62-year-old housewife and raping at least four women employes of the university.

Detective Donald Moriarity said that George Sims, 29, orally admitted strangling Mrs. Jeannie Johnson in her South Side home April 2.

Police said all of the women except Mrs. Johnson had some connection with the university, where Sims has been employed as a janitor since last May. They said he previously had worked as a hospital aide in Jacksonville, Ill.

Police said the names of 21 women were found on a list in Sims' apartment and they said he told them he took the names of single women off records in the university rooms which he cleaned.

Moriarity said two of the women Sims admitted raping are nurses and a third is a university psychologist.

Police said a rope which they found in Sims' locker was used to strangle Mrs. Johnson, who lived in the general vicinity of the university.

He was held without charge for further questioning.

Pontiac High Auditorium is the scene of the Saturday concert by the MacDowell Male Chorus. Soloists appearing on the program are Robert Williams (left) and Edward Banghart.

Golf Group Schedules Weekly Play

Fairway Golf Club members held a meeting to organize the year's activities at Pontiac Country Club recently.

Mrs. John Heitsch, president, announced that weekly golf play will begin May 2 at the country club.

Welcomed as members were Mrs. Merlyn Mathews, Mrs. Earl Stevenson and Mrs. Clifford Maison.

Committee members appointed included Mrs. Keith Tarlton, Mrs. Frank Syron and Mrs. Ray Hoover, rules; Mrs. Robert Boles, social; Mrs. Robert Bradley, party, and Mrs. John Shoemaker, publicity.

Officers assisting Mrs. Heitsch are Mrs. Robert Boles, vice president; Mrs. Glen Hickson, treasurer, and Mrs. Lee Lysinger, secretary.

Franklin Players Pick 'Kind Lady' for Production

"Kind Lady" a suspense drama by Edward Chodoroy, is the choice for the annual production by the Franklin Village Players, to be presented at Franklin Community Hall May 2-3-4.

In addition to lending his artistic talents to the production, Don Odle plays the part of Henry Abbott around whom most of the plot revolves. The character of Mary Herries is portrayed by Marian Bates.

Other cast members are Betty Odle, Marian Baker, Phyllis Dozier, Sally Roseberry, Anita Hard, Puff Hampson, Oliver Garwood, John Baker, Leonard Madge, Phil Price and Leonard Lawton.

Eleanor Treadway is directing the play, assisted by Ruth Carr.

PTA Planning Banquet, Fair

Dr. Robert Martin of the State Department of Education addressed members of Will Rogers School PTA Thursday evening. Musical selections were presented by students of the third, fifth and sixth grades.

During the business meeting plans were completed for the school banquet to be held at 6:30 p.m. Thursday in the school.

A PTA dance is scheduled for May 4, and on May 22 the all-school fair will be held.

Serving on the social committee for the evening meeting were Mrs. Robert Cartier, Mrs. Ernest Rhodes, Mrs. Allen Reamer and Mrs. Robert Boyd.

Sylvan Lake Girl Speaks Nuptial Vow

Elvira Jean Bisogni and Richard B. Cole were married Wednesday. The 7:45 a.m. ceremony was performed at St. Michael Church.

Mr. and Mrs. Varese Bisogni of Greer road are parents of the bride, and Richard is the son of Mrs. B. M. Cole of Dearborn.

For the service, the bride wore a full-length gown with a bodice of Chantilly lace and a skirt of crystalette over white satin. A tiara type headpiece secured her fingertip veil of French silk illusion.

She carried a prayer book and a bouquet of white roses and white hyacinth blooms.

Mrs. Eugene Wydra of Detroit was matron of honor, wearing a dress of pink crystalette. Eugene Wydra was best man.

Following a breakfast at Rotunda Inn, the bride changed to a powder blue suit with white and black accessories. She wore the rose corsage from her bridal bouquet.

Following a honeymoon in Washington, D.C., the newlyweds will make their home in Birmingham.

Elvira Jean Bisogni became the bride of Richard B. Cole Wednesday. Mr. and Mrs. Varese Bisogni of Sylvan Lake are parents of the bride and Richard is the son of Mrs. B. M. Cole of Dearborn.

Male Vocal Group to Appear at Pontiac High

Recital Saturday to Include Talented Soloists

The MacDowell Male Chorus will feature some of its talented soloists when it presents its Spring Concert at 8:15 p.m. Saturday in Pontiac High Auditorium. A number of these voices have not been heard in recital by Pontiac concertgoers.

The Rev. Roy Lambert, pastor of Lakeland United Presbyterian Church, will sing "the Prize Song" (from Wagner's opera "Die Meistersinger"). He also will present the tenor solo from Franz Schubert's "The Omnipotence."

The Rev. Mr. Lambert is a graduate of Wheaton College and Westminster Seminary, Philadelphia, and has made numerous appearances with musical organizations of these schools.

As another special feature, Edward Banghart will appear in a group of folk songs, with guitar accompaniment. Mr. Banghart studied at De Paul University and University of Michigan. He has had extensive experience on radio and TV with his unique presentation of Michigan folk songs.

Another newcomer to MacDowell Chorus is Robert Williams, tenor, who has appeared in Pontiac numerous times. He also is soloist at Bethany Baptist Church.

Mr. Williams will sing an art song, "Last Night the Nightingale Woke Me" (Kjerulf), and the solo part in "Set Down Servant," a spiritual.

Also featured will be Gordon Wilder, another newcomer, who has appeared as soloist both in Pontiac and Detroit in the musical programs of the Reorganized Church of Latter Day Saints. Mr. Wilder, a graduate of the University of Michigan, was a member of the Michigan Singers and the Bach Choir.

Former MacDowell soloists, whose voices are well familiar to Pontiac, will be Paul Miller, tenor, singing "Lonesome Road" by House; Kenneth Young, bass, who has chosen "When the Bell In the Lighthouse Rings" (Solman), and Ralph Bergemann, bass baritone, who will sing "De Glory Road" by Jacques Wolfe.

Others will include William Betts singing a solo in "Carry Me Home to the Lone Prairie" (Guion), and Earl Crawford who has the bass solo in "Set Down Servant."

TO GIVE DIALOGUE

Palmer Strang, Neil Hunter and John Pohlman have been chosen to give the dialogue in "My Soul's Gonna Rise Again," (Louchette).

George Putnam is conductor of the chorus and Jerry Smith is the accompanist.

In addition, Mr. Smith will play "Rondo Capriccioso" (Mendelssohn). Sue Eckley will assist in the two-piano accompaniment of the Bohemian folk song "The Reaper's Song," arranged by Davison.

The chorus will be heard in three groups of songs which have a wide variety of interest and appeal for male voices.

Bride-Elect Diane Euler Is Feted

Mrs. Milo J. Cross and Mrs. Arthur R. Young were cohostesses at luncheon and a kitchen shower Saturday honoring bride-elect Diane Euler. Forty guests attended the affair held in the Cross residence on North Hammond Lake road.

Arrangements of pink sweetheart roses, alstroemeria, white fugi pompons and ivy, centered the luncheon tables.

Diane, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold B. Euler of Ottawa drive will become the bride of Lewis E. Wint in a ceremony to be performed May 18 in First Congregational Church. Lewis is the son of Mrs. Russell C. Barrett of Holly and Lewis Wint of Farmington.

Out of town guests for the luncheon and shower were present from Joliet, Ill., Holly, Durand, Birmingham, Brighton and Lansing.

Pythian Sisters Plan District Convention

Plans were completed for the district convention of Pythian Sisters when members of Mispah Temple 7 met in Fellowship Hall recently. The convention will be held May 2 at Elks temple.

Special guest at the meeting was Mrs. Carolyn Kaufman, district deputy, from Port Huron. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Reino Perkio, Mrs. Ronnie Voorheis and Mrs. Clifford Neville.

Make Conversation Piece —Vegetables Bouquetiere

CHICAGO (INS)—If you want to give your guests food for talk, vegetables are one of your best bets.

Serve more than two vegetables during a meal and people are bound to be impressed, according to one of Chicago's top maitres d' hotel.

Fred Kaye said that vegetables bouquetiere—in other words a bouquet of different vegetables—is one of the best-received foods at the swank banquets and dinner parties he plans

Women who want to try this at home should build an array of cooked vegetables around a head of cauliflower and serve it on their best silver platter. For example, a woman can offer guests peas, bundles of string beans, carrots either sliced or in sticks, and asparagus. Any vegetable can be included except cabbage which would infringe on the flavor of the cauliflower.

This idea not only saves table space, said Kaye, but also allows guests to choose their own favorites. Because "few people like the same vegetable, if they have a choice," the portions of the individual vegetable should be limited to one or two helpings, Kaye advised.

Besides being a decorative way of serving vegetables, Kaye says the bouquet approach is also practical. "Any leftovers on the serving platter can be used later, mixed and diced and served either hot or as a salad cold."

Chefs also use up the vegetables in soups, he reported.

Mauve Tint for Flattery Leads Style

The mauve shades of spring's ready-to-wear are delicate and flattering. They're to be had in clothes for daytime and evening, in feathery tweeds, silk sheaths and chiffon dinner dresses. They also appear in accessories.

But mauve takes special make-up. And so does spring. Just as you're glad to cast off your winter clothes when the first spring days come along, so are you glad to put on a brand-new make-up.

Knowing this, one well-known beauty house has brought out a complete make-up series in shades of crimson lilac to wear with the new mauve fashions.

You can start with face powder and go right on through pressed powder, lipstick and rouge to finish up with eye shadow in lavender blue with a violet cosmetic to tip the eyelashes.

To go along with this fragile and lovely make-up, there's a gray eyebrow pencil in place of the customary black or brown.

Luncheon Planned

Phi Alpha Kappa Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi will host a Mother's Day luncheon May 11 at Hotel Waldron. Sandra Johnson and Maureen Clark will serve on the welcoming committee. Plans were made at a recent meeting, held at the home of Miss Johnson on Edison street.

Blast 'Stuffy Look' With 9-Day Diet

Trim 10 Pounds for Spring Fashion Tonic

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Spring has a special feel and smell and sound all its own. Like an unusual dish which has a subtle and provocative flavor, the mood of spring is difficult to analyze.

However, in its ensemble of sound we can recognize the gentle patter of rain on a roof, children's voices raised in gladness at being outdoors again, the twittering and singing of birds—and the roar of vacuum cleaners!

When nature begins to re-do herself, we women are seized with an intense urge toward housecleaning and house decoration. Spring cleaning is as familiar a part of this season as spring fever.

This is a time of bewilderment for the man of the house. Even though he sees it happen over and over again, he always is disturbed when the far away but zealous look of a crusader suddenly appears on the face of his wife.

Then one night he comes home to find the curtains down, the furniture piled in the middle of each room and a blend of floor wax, detergents and furniture polish pervading the atmosphere, and he knows that all is well.

WASN'T A-BOMB

This is home in the spring of 1957. It wasn't an atomic bomb! It wasn't Superman! It was just the little woman enjoying her work in an imaginative way!

So, the man of the house settles down in his favorite chair with a delightfully smug sigh.

He is living dangerously but he does not know it! No matter how long a man has been married, he is never prepared for the hurricane of self-improvement which spring and spring house cleaning set off in his lady. Even he may be dragged into it as a fringe effect!

There is something about spring which sets off a chain reaction in self improvement. It is a rebirth, a return to a younger outlook and a more youthful appearance.

Once we have spruced up our houses and gotten rid of some of the clutter and dust, we want to fit into the picture. Why remain cluttered ourselves—with those extra pounds?

HOW ABOUT IT?

With spring bursting out all over with a new look, why don't we? Why not approach life with a more vibrant viewpoint? A loss of even a few pounds, which makes us feel stuffy and look as though we had stuffed too much, would be a great help!

Often a woman is just 10 pounds away from a lovely figure. Since she is not greatly overweight she is apt to allow these 10 extra pounds to linger on. This is too bad because these can make the difference between a youthful silhouette and one which appears middle-aged.

Each spring I bring you my 9-Day Reducing Diet? In nine short days you can lose from five to 10 pounds if you follow the menus.

TUESDAY'S MENUS

Breakfast

Half grapefruit
One thin dry piece of whole wheat toast, black coffee

Mid-Morning

Glass of tomato juice

Luncheon

Green salad with lemon or reducing dressing
1 slice lamb roast (don't eat the fat)
One glass skimmed milk
One thin dry piece of whole wheat toast

Mid-Afternoon

Dinner

One piece of lean meat, steak or roast (five or six ounces)
One-half cup squash (yellow preferable)
One-half cup string beans
One glass skimmed milk. One apple

All the menus will appear in this column for nine days. So come on—there's no excuse for missing the chance to lose 10 pounds!

* * *

If you would like to have my 9-Day Diet booklet send 10 cents and a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for it to Josephine Lowman in care of The Pontiac Press.

Tomorrow: "Carrying 'Winter Pounds'? You Can Lose Them Now."

The sounds of spring — rain on a roof, children's voices, the birds' songs — AND the roar of vacuum cleaners as spring cleaning sets in.

Kaolin Is Used in Lovely China and Beauty Clay

When the Chinese discovered kaolin, a fine clay, they literally unearthed the basis for two beauty secrets — one for dishware, the other for skin care. Kaolin comes from the Chinese word, kao-ling, which means "high hill." It was on a high hill that the first pure white porcelain clay was found. Fine chinas today are made from the skillful blending of several kinds of clay.

A fine beauty clay can be made easily and inexpensively at home by mixing enough kaolin and good quality witch hazel to form a creamy paste. Apply to the face and throat and allow to dry.

* * *

When the "drawing" sensation has subsided, remove with warm water and soap. Now pat the skin briskly with witch hazel and dry. Circulation is encouraged and normal skin tone restored. Kaolin can be bought at any drug store.

Mrs. Sparnes Makes Her Chocolate Cake Right in Baking Pan

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

No dessert tonight? Want to have chocolate cake and make it in a hurry? Then try Mrs. Burl Sparnes' recipe for a Jiffy Devils Food Cake. Though odd sounding, the directions are correct.

As a nurse who is also a homemaker and mother of three small boys, Mrs. Sparnes has little leisure time. She hopes soon to find enough extra hours to attend meetings of the nursing association to which she belongs.

JIFFY DEVILS FOOD CAKE
By Mrs. Burl Sparnes

Sift directly into an 8x8x2 ungreased pan:

1½ cups flour
1 cup sugar
3 tablespoons cocoa
1 teaspoon soda
½ teaspoon salt

Make three holes in the dry ingredients and add 1/3 cup salad oil in first hole; one tablespoon vinegar in second; and one teaspoon vanilla in third.

Pour one cup water over all the mixture and mix with a fork until lumps are gone.

Bake 30 minutes in 350-degree oven. Serve warm from pan.

Gold Star Mothers Dedicate Banner

The Gold Star Mother's Banner was dedicated Friday evening at a meeting of Oakland County Gold Star Mothers Chapter 34. Chapter rules were adopted when the group met at Adah Shelly Library.

Plans were completed for attending the state convention at Battle Creek. Peggy Ann Briggs gave several selections on the saxophone. Mrs. Clarence H. Sutton, and Mrs. Leone Hagburg were cohostesses.

Teen-Age Is Time of Turbulence

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

On Friday night 15-year-old Shirley saw an Elizabeth Taylor movie. On Saturday morning she announced that she was sick of her pony-tail hairdo and planned to get an Italian haircut. On Saturday afternoon she went to the beauty parlor.

As soon as she reached home, she burst into tears. To her mother, in the kitchen, she sobbed, "Just look at the mess they've made of me! I can never go out until it grows in again, that's all. Look at these wisps! Oh, Mother, did you ever see anyone look so awful . . . ?"

Her mother said all the comforting things she could think of. She told Shirley her short hair would be easier to manage. She reminded her it would be cool for summer.

She said that it would grow in again soon. But no comfort she could give was able to lift the burden of gloom from Shirley.

MOTHER WORRIES

So her mother slept badly. Until almost morning she lay awake worrying about Shirley's inability to take discouragement. Every setback was tragedy to the girl, from a classmate's slighting remark to losing the part she wanted in a school play.

"Is she insecure?" her mother asked herself apprehensively. "How will she ever learn to stand up to real disappointments if she's going to collapse like this over a hairdo?"

The worry was a waste of good sleep. In the morning, a radiant Shirley appeared at the breakfast table, her new haircut softened into a most becoming frame for her face. "It's sort of cute, isn't it?" she asked her astonded parents happily. "Can I have another piece of toast?"

In adolescence the young often take us on these roller coaster rides from blackest gloom to rosiest rapture. Finally, we refuse to go along.

NATURAL REACTIONS

We begin to realize that Shirley's over-intense responses to everything reflect an uncertainty of herself that is quite proper to her age.

But since we are past her age, we stop sharing her responses. After comforting her, we are able to fall comfortably asleep, thinking, "If this is insecurity, it's the kind that time will take care of."

This serenity in us is, of course, exactly what our turbulent teenager needs. It is our refusal to be overwhelmed by his self-doubting emotions that is his deepest reassurance.

Boy-Into-Man Transition Real Puzzler for Parents

Don't Worry if You Can't Understand; Leave Him Alone to Grow Like Weed

BY RUTH MILLETT

Like weeds in the garden he seems to grow overnight. Every day he looks a little taller than the day before.

One day you notice with a start that his boy's face is changing into the face of a man. The eyes seem to be set farther back, the nose is a real nose, no longer a pug, the jawbone has a sharp, cleancut look, the skin over the cheeks looks tightly drawn, the chin juts out.

Things that once didn't matter to him are now important. The front page of the newspaper, news broadcasts, hot-rod magazines. Shirts suddenly have to have collars that button down in in the back.

Only one barber in town, he claims, knows how to give a proper haircut that is almost scalping, but not quite.

He has learned the art of seeming to be aloof to girls — while never missing a word of their chatter, or letting them forget that he is around.

ALWAYS ON THE GO

He is always busy. There is no moment when you can ask him to do a chore or an errand without interrupting important business.

TV bores him. There are programs that appeal to adults and programs that appeal to kids. But few in any way seem to touch the life of a boy fast turning into a man.

The old car you hated to see him buy with money saved up from a summer job doesn't keep him gallivanting most of the time, as you feared it would.

It is more often jacked up in the driveway, with two or three pairs of long, blue-jeaned legs sticking out from under it.

Though you are his parent you realize that you really don't understand him at all.

But that's all right. He doesn't want to be understood. He just wants to be let alone while he grows like a weed from a boy into a man.

Bathtub Elevators Luxury of Future

Among the contemplated luxuries of future bathing is a bathtub elevator — a platform to lower and raise the bather in and out of the suds.

While it's hardly what most of the world is waiting for, this "invention" might indeed be a godsend to the handicapped and aged, who are sometimes deprived of the soothing refreshment of an all-over bath.

The newest coat (stopping short of the skirt-hem) gives a taller look than the straight, full-length coat.

Chicago Sun-Times Syndicate

The new longer skirt-length-narrow under the briefer coat does not square your silhouette and so creates a taller, chic, new look. New reasons for the shorter coat: It suits much weather for year-'round travel.

'Impossible' Is a State of Mind!

By ANNE HEYWOOD

Our whole progress in life may depend on whether we think in terms of the possible or the impossible. That is, when a difficult project presents itself, do we see only that part of it which is "impossible," or do we see the part which is "possible"?

Frequently, in my work at the church job clinic, I will recommend a list of books to certain people. They'll be important books, books I want them to read. And I know they're all available in the public library.

Some of them will come back the next week and claim that it's "impossible' to get hold of the books. They're out and will "never" be back, or the branch they went to doesn't have them and they didn't bother going to the main branch. And so forth.

Others will have read all the books.

They went to the main branch when they couldn't get them at their local library. When they found a long waiting list on certain books, they bought them in paperback edition for a quarter. Nothing to it.

Martha L. reminds me of this. Martha is a young mother, at home all day with a small baby. Furthermore, her husband has to go to a special training school his company runs, four nights a week, for the next six months.

Most young mothers would weep and complain about the boredom and the loneliness—alone all day and all night, too. They would consider their situation "impossible."

But not Martha.

"I just decided to get an evening job, four nights a week, from six until eleven," she told me. "That's the hours Bob is working.

"I made an arrangement with the lady next door to stay here. She usually reads and watches television in the evening. And she refused to charge me more than a dollar a night—she kind of likes babies, anyway.

REGISTERED FOR JOB

"Then I registered at our state employment agency, just in case they had anything for those hours. I'm not a steno, so it isn't too easy to find work.

"Then I went to the library and read some vocational books.

"For the first time, I discovered something about market research. It sounded like something I could do. It seemed that some companies preferred evening hours, so that representatives could call on people who work during the day.

GOT POSITION

"I asked the librarian how to go about finding the addresses of companies who hire market researchers. I wrote to several—and got a job! A perfectly fascinating one, and just the hours I wanted.

"Bob is thrilled, too! He doesn't have a whining, lonely wife, but an excited gal with money in her pocket."

If you have a problem which you think can be solved with a job in market research, send me a stamped, self-addressed envelope care of this newspaper and I'll send you my pamphlet on the subject.

'Suds Cure' Saves Table From Rings

A very successful homemaker swears by the "suds cure" for the ugly white ring that occurs when a thoughtless guest sets a wet glass on your fine tabletop.

Our expert advises you to rush to the rescue with a cloth dipped in heavy suds—more soap than water—and rub the ring until it disappears.

Some 70,000,000 passengers traveled in 1955 on the world's scheduled airlines.

Margaret Hall Is Bride of Christopher Michael Drew

Margaret Fry Hall of Birmingham became the bride of Christopher Michael Drew April 7 in a ceremony performed at Botsford Inn by the Rev. Russell Lincoln.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Robert Hall of Three Rivers and the late Mr. Hall. The bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Harold Drew of Bloomfield Hills.

For the ceremony, the bride chose a ballerina-length dress of white lace featuring a Sabrina neckline and a bouffant skirt.

Her headpiece was a coronet trimmed with seed pearls and sequins caught to a fingertip veil. Her flowers consisted of white tulips, white carnations and white narcissus.

Elizabeth A. Makielski of Birmingham was her only attendant, wearing a cocktail-length dress of deep turquoise. Streamers from a big satin bow in back, fell to the hemline of the bouffant skirt. She carried a bouquet of pink roses.

Charles K. Hawke of Detroit was best man.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Hall chose a gray blue silk suit with navy accessories and a corsage of pink roses, and Mrs. Drew chose a navy and white silk print dress with navy accessories and a corsage of red roses.

Diamonds Create Stir in Capital

Officials' Wives See $3,000,000 in Gems, Famed Hope Stone

BY JANE EADS

WASHINGTON — Mrs. Arthur Summerfield, wife of the postmaster general, went home from a recent tea brimming with feminine enthusiasm over the afternoon's happenings.

"I told my husband I saw something I liked," she related with amusement.

"Why don't you get it?" Summerfield replied indulgently. "You probably earned it pouring tea."

"It was a near miss," the Cabinet officer told me later. The "something" his adored wife liked was the famous Hope diamond!

Mrs. Summerfield was among the cabinet and congressional wives who were dazzled by a three-million-dollar diamond collection sent to Washington for Harry Winston. Winston purchased the fabled blue 44-carat Hope diamond from the estate of the late great Washington hostess, Evalyn Walsh McLean.

All the women had a yen to touch the stone, just as they used to in the days when Mrs. McLean wore it continually as a good luck charm despite the bad luck legend attached to it.

NO ILL FORTUNE

Mrs. McLean once told me the diamond had never brought her any ill fortune. "Besides," she offered, "I can always hock it when I need some extra cash." This she did, too, on several occasions.

The fabulous hostess was used to having women come up to her and ask permission to touch the stone.

During World War II years, when she used to invite servicemen stationed in the area to her home for weekly parties, she would take off the diamond and pass it around for close-up examination.

I remember one late evening when lingering guests at a white-tie shindig gathered in the bar and fell to discussing the gem. The hostess, with usual carefree spontaneity, whipped off the stone and tosed it to her friend across the small room.

It rolled under a divan while the guests in evening attire scrambled around on their knees to retrieve it, and two plainclothesmen stationed at the door looked fit to be tied.

LONDON (INS)—Queen Elizabeth II celebrated both Easter and her 31st birthday in a quiet family get-together in Windsor castle.

Bands of the famed guards regiments played "happy birthday" to the queen as thousands of subjects and visitors thronged about the castle. The queen and other members of her family sat at a window to hear the serenade and wave and smile at the crowd below.

At one point, curly-haired princess Anne, 6, got carried away by the music and did an impromptu dance.

Among the gifts the queen received were two small bouquets which Anne and her big brother Charles, 8, bought with their allowances.

The official observance of the Queen's birthday is June 13.

Flowers Adorn New Lingerie

NEW YORK (INS)—Lingerie is blooming like a flower garden this spring, and even the most severe dresses probably will conceal rosebud printed slips.

Underwear and nightwear, usually solid pastels, are turning floral. Besides the rosebud slips, there are nighties dripping in lilac blossoms, and magnolia-covered negligees.

"Women are a little tired of plain colors," explained Etta Kolsky, lingerie designer for Elizabeth Arden.

As a result, the Arden spring lingerie adds flowers wherever possible. Solid-colored nighties are covered with color-matched floral negligees. Slips are solidly flowered from strap to hem. And robes, even the plainly tailored ones for traveling, are completely floral.

Printed nylon chiffon is a favorite fabric for the new posy-patterned lingerie. One luscious item in the Arden line is a misty nylon chiffon long nightgown in pink and mauve wisteria on white. This comes with a matching robe that reaches only to the knee.

Miss Kolsky likes short robes with long nighties because "a woman can open the door and be decently covered, but not smothered in yards and yards of fabric."

Camouflage Flaws

If your hands aren't really pretty, you can camouflage their defects. Let your nails grow sufficiently long so that you can use nail polish. This will take care of stubby fingertips.

Cream them regularly at night. And wear the prettiest, most sparkling rings you can find. But not too many of them.

Encourage 'Kitchen Harmony'

Pots 'n' Pans Make Music for Tots

By JOHN BARROW
INS Staff Writer

Most of us who grew up in an age when each parlor (as they were called) sported a piano can sympathize with a growing child's instinct to make "music."

Kettles become gongs. Water glasses become chimes. Dish pans become drum. And musical programs on television keep feeding new ideas which the smallfry are bound to imitate.

With our youngsters of under school age, the key word is do-it-yourself. They seem to get a bigger kick out of a thing-a-ma-bob they put together themselves than a store-bought instrument. At least our homemade things last longer. Cost less too.

Margaret Steffen, child development intructor at the University of Wisconsin, agrees that a lot can be done with kitchen paraphernalia.

Miss Steffen says that behind the toddler's delight in stroking a rat-ta-tat across the play pen bar with a stick may lurk deep love of music.

STARTS WITH RHYTHMS

Before sounds become notes, the child deals with rhythms. Pot lids with good handles make acceptable cymbals. Empty cans with pry-off lids can be partly filled with gravel to rattle like maracas seen on Latin American programs.

Blocks of wood, the size of school blackboard erasers, wrapped with sandpaper can be rubbed together for the wish-a-swish of anything from dancing feet to steam locomotives.

As soon as a child begins "carrying" a tune by mouth, it's a normal step to try to pick it out on an instrument. A toy xylophone or chimes helps acquaint a child with different notes, even scales. If you happen to have a piano, Miss Steffen says let the children "play" it, if they have learned not to bang it like a toy. She says:

"Picking out a very simple melody on the piano pleases children. Sometimes they may play by ear, but even then the child isn't ready for formal note teaching until he's in about third or fourth grade."

For "harmony" with the rest of the family, Miss Steffen adds, it's a good idea to set a time and a place for the youthful music-making.

Paste-Pot, Scissors Needed

Easy Hobby for Tiny Tots

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeatures Writer

Any adult who wants to find a pastime has no trouble lining up a hobby.

Whole books are devoted to the subject, and the man with time and money on his hands can dispose of both on anything from building a yacht to collecting cigar bands.

But what about the swarms of small children too small for a real "hobby" who make pestering Mommy for "something to play with" their favorite sport? Aren't there hobbies for these youngsters, the one segment of society with a real "crying" needb

The answer, of course, is yes, and many of them are given by June Johnson in a book recently published.

She recommends the old-fashion scissors and paste-pot as a prime way to keep a child's hands and head busy.

"Many 3-year-olds are not ready for cutting and pasting and will lose interest quickly," she says. "They will need help, but it is worth it. They are so proud of their efforts and find real learning in the doing."

PASTE IS BETTER

Paste, she suggests, is more satisfactory than glue. Tongue depressors, wooden ice-cream spoons or cotton-tipped swabs may all be used to apply the paste.

You can easily make your own paste in a jiffy by adding ¼ cup of water to one-third cup of flour and pouring in a few drops of oil of peppermint or wintergreen for preservative.

Here are some projects which may keep your child busy:

Paper Chains — This is an old favorite with children. Give the child heavily-ruled craft paper and have him cut strips ¼ to ½ inch wide. Then give him paste and show him how to press hard to hold each circle until it sticks, and how to loop the second circle inside the first, and so on.

PAPER DESIGNS

Cut-paper design — Give a youngster black or white craft paper, and several sections of other gaily-colored papers that he can cut into shapes and sizes of his choosing. Let him cut and paste a picture or design made of paper scraps to the black or white background. Any colors may be used as long as there is contrast.

Paper-laced design — Fold a piece of plain paper in half, then fold it over once more to make quarters. Then let the child cut along the four edges, just nipping in and out to form "lace" when unfolded.

Wants to Go to Party She Refused

Earlier Engagement Fell Through; Is It OK to Tell Hostess?

By EMILY POST

Today's first letter asks: "If one declines an invitation to a party, may she call the hostess at a latter date and accept the invitation? I was invited to a party at a friend's house and declined because of a previous engagement.

"However, this engagement fell through and I find that I can now go to the party. May I call the hostess and tell her that I will be able to come to her party after all, or having regretted must I leave it that way?"

Answer: If it is a general type of party and you know the hostess well, you could perfectly well call her and say that you find you wil be able to come to her party after all and would love to do so if it still would be possible to include you.

Dear Mrs. Post: "Will you please tell me if it is correct to display wedding checks along with the other wedding presents, and if so, how is this done?"

Answer: Originally, it would be in very bad taste to display gifts of money. But because it would be unfair to a generous check-giving relative or very intimate friend of the family to have it supposed that he, or she, sent no gift at all, it is quite proper to display checks with amounts concealed. This is done by laying them out under a pane of glass one above the other so that the signature alone are disclosed.

Dear Mrs. Post: "I have been invited to an engagement party for my nephew and his fiancee and would like to take her a present. Would a very beautifully jeweled compact (synthetic stones of course) be an appropriate engagement present to give or should the gift be one that can be used by both?"

Answer: The present that you suggest for her alone would be perfect as a welcoming gift to her.

Public Primping Wrecks Illusion

One of the most unattractive things a woman can do is to make up her face in public, particularly in a restaurant. Yet countless women do it daily.

At the end of luncheon or dinner, they whip out compact and soiled puff, lipstick and sometimes a comb and do a thorough and thoroughly disillusioning (to those who see it) job. Then the compact is snapped shut with a businesslike click and dropped back into the handbag.

But the woman has lost, not gained, in the eyes of those who watch her. The powder room is the place and the only place for such repairs, for there's another angle to this unsightly habit.

For the sake of the skin, fresh make-up should never be applied over stale. In the powder room, you can do a quick and complete job without robbing your audience of illusions about your charms.

Sorority Meets

Beta Alpha Chapter of Sigma Beta Sorority met at the home of Phyllis Ginell on Linda Vista street recently to continue a philanthropic project of the sorority.

Foam Rubber Pillow Needs Warm Suds

Foam rubber pillows should be washed in lukewarm soap or detergent suds, using a squeezing motion to circulate suds through the millions of little air cells.

At least three rinses are needed to be sure that no sudsy residue remains. Next, place each pillow between two large bath towels, kneading it to squish out most of the moisture. Then let it dry in an airy place away from heat.

It's a good idea when furnishing a home to stick to first things first. Consult a store decorator or buy a decorating book so that you do not make some fatal errors that will be costly in time and money.

Policemen Patrol the Deep to Solve Crimes

Seattle Waters Yield Corpses, Clues

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

SEATTLE (INS)—Seattle, Wash., used to be a rather ideal place to plot a crime.

With lakes all over the landscape, and bays splashing over into the best backyards, there was always a convenient place for a burglar to dispose of "hot" evidence. And when an undesirable was "taken for a ride," as we say in slaughter circles, it was generally by boat.

In other words—and this is not to take anything away from Chicago's South Side or New York's waterfront—Seattle was a veritable Shangri-la for mobsters, due to the convenience of concealment of booty or body.

But the police realized all this, and saw that when the underworld and underwater world started working hand-in-hand, something must be done.

So two years ago they formed a most unusual detail in the crime detection business: The "Underwater Search and Recovery Unit"—informally known as the "frogman detail."

There are five patrolmen assigned to the duty, but the true skin-diving specialists are Ted Yerabek and Ron Faires. So far, in their excursions into the deep, they have brought up enough corpus delecti to solve several major crimes in Seattle.

STOLEN PROPERTY

In the city's watering grounds—Lake Washington, Green Lake, Lake Union, Pudget Sound—the officers have recovered thousands of dollars worth of water-logged stolen property, including typewriters, money-equipped safes, chest protectors and "hot rods" (guns dropped in lakes to cool off after a job too well done).

According to Mrs. Jean Selvidge, a policewoman with the Seattle squad, the skin-diving patrolmen's most fascinating case was solving a famous mystery about town.

For seven years, Seattleites wondered what had happened to Hennessy and Cassidy—two local morticians who simply disappeared into thin air one deep night.

Had they been kidnapped? Being most successful men, had they picked up their money and left to start business elsewhere? Had they tired of their funeral business and taken a boat to cheerier climes?

Seven years after their mysterious disappearance, the "frogman detail" discovered their car, and whatever else was left of Hennessy and Cassidy, at the bottom of the busy Washington Ship Canal. Apparently they had backed over a retaining wall, following an entertaining party.

Case was closed.

OTHER ASSIGNMENTS

Officers Faires and Yerabek still have "beats" in the department; Yerabek walks the beat in suburban Bell Town, and Faires rides a prowl car.

But when underwater investigation is necessary, usually after nightfall, they're rushed to the scene of crime or drowning, strapped into their gear and they swim to work.

Though the job often is hazardous—the floor of Seattle's waters is, by police admission, frequently tangled with wires, logs and other debris left over from a century of criminal, or careless, property disposal—they ask no extra pay.

Naval Airman Dies After 3 Years in Coma

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—A 26-year-old naval airman from Scranton, Pa., is dead after three years of unconsciousness.

John Cipriano was injured in an automobile accident Jan. 5, 1954. He was knocked unconscious. He died here Friday, without ever coming out of the coma.

Doctors fought a continuing battle to restore Cipriano's senses. He was kept alive by feeding through a tube into his stomach.

Worth a nickel to keep your dollar sound?

Here's a practical way to keep living costs from climbing—for just an extra nickel.

One of the main causes of rising prices is overspending. If each of us will save only an extra nickel out of every dollar we earn, we will put a strong brake on inflation.

For these extra nickels will produce billions of dollars in savings—money which is urgently needed to finance more factories, homes and schools.

And, of course, you get a personal bonus from your extra savings—the feeling of independence and security that a growing nest egg brings . . . the feeling that your house is in order.

As a second step to fight inflation, all of us should support every reasonable move to reduce government spending—federal, state and local.

Sure, all this means a sacrifice. But isn't it worth it, if this means continuing our prosperity—and keeping it sound?

Largest Easter Turnout Streams to City's Churches

By MARY ANGLEMIER
Press Church Editor

"The strife is o'er, the battle done;
The victory of life is won;
The song of triumph has begun,
Alleluia."

Thousands of worshipers heard the story of Christ's Resurrection in song and sermon, as they filled city and county churches to overflowing Easter Sunday morning.

The joyous services began before dawn and continued through the day ending with evening programs of Easter music.

Church leaders said Sunday saw the greatest number of churchgoers they had ever known here on Easter Day.

As the sun peeped over the horizon, the deep tones from the bell of St. Vincent de Paul Church called parishioners to prayer.

Throughout the morning, church bells rang out from all sections of Pontiac, announcing the Easter services in celebration of the Resurrection of Jesus Christ centuries ago.

The earliest service reported was at 5 a. m. in Providence Missionary Baptist Church. From 6 until 8 a. m. Sunrise services were scheduled with breakfast following in most churches.

Before altars banked with lilies and other floral decorations sent by members and friends in memory of loved ones, there were baptisms and receptions of members.

Children's, Junior and Senior Choirs were heard in traditional, well loved anthems and songs. At All Saints Episcopal Church, Handel's "Hallelujah Chorus" was sung as an offertory number.

"Christ the Lord Is Risen Today" was given by Sunday School children at Waterford Township Lutheran Church.

Other familiar melodies were "In Joseph's Lovely Garden," "Open the Gates of the Temple," "The Holy City," "When I Survey the Wondrous Cross," "Bells in the Steeple" and "He Is Risen."

A Consecration Service was held in the new Baldwin Avenue Methodist Church with Bishop Marshall R. Reed of the Detroit area speaking.

Sermons in both Protestant and Catholic Churches dealt with Christ's rising from the tomb with His promise of life everlasting.

The festive Easter Day with its triumphant music, pageants, plays, and pantomimes drew to a close with pictures of the Holy Land being shown in Emmanuel Baptist Church by Dr. Tom Malone, the pastor.

AP Urges China Reporting

NEW YORK (AP)—The Board of Directors of The Associated Press said today, "Qualified newsmen should be allowed to report first hand from the mainland of China."

Comment on the State Department's refusal to permit U.S. newsmen to travel to Red China, the board told the annual meeting of members of The Associated Press, worldwide news cooperative:

"The most noticeable gap in our coverage, and one that has caused much controversy, is Communist China.

"We were invited by the Chinese, along with others, to send a reporter into the country. The United States Department of State refused permission and threatened serious sanctions.

The Associated Press disagreed with the government's action and the board at this time states again that it believes qualified newsmen should be allowed to report first hand from the mainland of China."

The directors observed that, despite the ban, The AP "did get first-hand reporting from China by commissioning a Canadian newspaperman (David Lancashire) to make a tour of the country."

Newsmen have protested that the travel ban infringed on the right of people in the United States to know, through their own reporters, about conditions in China. Secretary of State Dulles said recently that he and President Eisenhower have considered dropping the ban but have failed to find a formula for doing so.

Dulles speaks today at the AP's annual luncheon in the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel.

The White House announced in Augusta, Ga., yesterday that Dulles would "outline the broad principles of American foreign policy."

TIGER TAGGED — Frank Bolling didn't quite make it in the 10th inning trying to score on Ray Boone's single. He was tagged at the plate by Cleveland catcher Hal Naragon. Umpire is Nester Chylak. Detroit won 3-2 in 12 innings.

Dittmer's Pinch Hit Wins for Tigers

Bloop Single in 12th Nips Indians, 3-2

Paul Foytack Slated to Face Kansas City in Today's Game

DETROIT (AP) — Sleepy-eyed Jack Dittmer is no Wee Willie Keeler at the plate, but no one — not even the old-timer himself — ever put Keeler's theory about "hitting 'em where they ain't to better use.

"They won't need a tape measure for that one," said the utility infielder after his 12th-inning, two-out blooper trickled off the outstretched glove of George Strickland to score the winning run in the Detroit Tigers' 3-2 decision over the Cleveland Indians.

It was a soft popper behind second base that scored pinch runner Jim Small from third base to conclude the three hour and 37 minute Easter Day struggle attended by 16,806 spectators.

Dittmer's base hit gave lanky Jim Bunning his first victory of the season. Bunning and Bill Hoeft combined to throttle the Indians on one scratch hit for nine and one-third innings after the Clevelanders got to starter Steve Gromek for a pair of runs and five hits in less than three innings.

The Tigers planned to use righthander Paul Foytack in the first of a two-game series against Kansas City starting today. He'll be followed by rookie Don Lee on Tuesday as the club winds up its brief home stand.

Tighe will have Frank Lary, who worked Saturday, available for use against Chicago and Cleveland.

Chiefs Bow in Ohio

Ray Wins High Jump Title

By H. GUY MOATS

MANSFIELD, Ohio — A new championship track team was crowned down here in this north-central Ohio city Saturday, as Pontiac High School's squad from Michigan bowed out after holding the exalted spot during the last year. The Chiefs just didn't have enough all-around power to stave off the challenge of athletes from 118 high schools in Michigan, Ohio, Pennsylvania and West Virginia.

A band of determined youngsters from Pittsburg Central Catholic barely won the team title with 22 points to 21½ for Mt. Lebanon, Pa. Winner was not determined until the pole vault was over, a half hour after rest of the day long competition had ended.

Pontiac, which won the event a year ago, with a 34½ total compiled 10 points this time. Nine were collected by 6 foot-6 inch Hudson Ray who won the high jump and took a third in the broad jump. Hudson's 3rd in the broad jump was a surprising 22 feet 2⅛ inches, by far the best the long-legged cage and high jump star had ever done. "Goose" had one jump of 22-10 tossed out as he barely toed the dirt in the preliminaries. This event also produced one of two new records. Ray took the high jump at 6 feet 1¾ inches.

Willie Prewitt of Willow Run HS, a powerfully muscled lad with terrific speed and a fin kick erased Jesse Owens' 23 feet 3 inch mark with three tries all better than the 25-year-old record. The new mark is 24 feet 3¾ inches. Ray missed 2nd place by 1½ inches.

Ray's jumping, the fine effort Larry Beamer made in the half mile, Joe Hill's courageous try in the very fast 100-yard final, Roger Coates mile run and the close miss for the shuttle hurdle relay team were all good tries.

Larry appeared to have grabbed off 4th place in the 2:03.3 race won by Pittsburgh CC's Pat Murphy. He fell at the finish line and judges ruled that he did not have all his body over the line. That cost PHS 2 points. Beamer set the fast pace up to the last 75 yards.

Coates, 5th in the mile, added the 10th point for Chiefs.

Pontiac had to return home without a trophy, but only because it didn't have any luck in a 3-way draw for the special field events award. Pontiac, Merton O., and Cleveland Glenville had tied with 9 points. Mentor won.

Flint Northern also compiled 10 points. Tying Pontiac for 11th place.

Jerry Meyer, fine hurdler from Berkley gave the south end school 9 points with a 1st in the high sticks at 15.4 and 3rd in the lows.

Rochester and Farmington teams were shut out. Bill McFarlane, ace Maple vaulter went out at 11-9 where he had been doing 12 feet or better. He took 1-12th point. Wind and rain squalls made vaulting a tough matter.

A big Cuyahoga Falls O. muscleman, Val Jekkals, set a new shot mark of 56 feet 2¾ inches, eight feet beyond Mike Hardiman's best toss.

Top half-dozen teams were, besides the two Pennsylvania squads; Springfield O. 19; Connelsville Pa. 18; Lakewood 0.13.

The Chiefs received a warming telegram from Miss Fitch of the PHS school staff, wishing them good luck.

Coaches Dean Wilson and Ray Lowry were pleased with the efforts of the squad. Said Wilson, "we'll have most of these boys back next year, and we should be a lot stronger all the way around. We just lost too many of our 1956 point-makers to have proper balance this time."

The Chiefs will be working hard all week to defend their Central Michigan College outdoor title this weekend at Mt. Pleasant.

TOP ACTUAL SCORE — Bill Johns of Pontiac, had the best actual score of 608 in the finals of the Bowlermam, but he finished in 9th place with a handicap total of 623. He took home $15.

Touchdown Parade

'M', MSU Hold Scrimmages

ANN ARBOR (AP)—The University of Michigan's football team held its Easter parade a day early.

There were 18 touchdowns scored Saturday as coach Bennie Oosterbaan scrimmaged his hopefuls for the third day in a row of spring practice. Fullback Jim Buers led the parade with three scores, one on an 80-yard run.

Two sophomores, Darrell Harper and Chuck Teunchner, scored twice each. Harper is a halfback; Teunchner an end.

EAST LANSING (AP)—Coach Duffy Daugherty summed up a full-throttle scrimmage of his Michigan State football squad Saturday thus: "There were a lot of good things but some bad things."

The MSU varsity punched across four touchdowns in the scrimmage that marked the midway point in spring practice. The second team was stalled four times, but finally got two touchdowns.

Blanche Martin, for the varsity, and Bob Handloser, for the second stringers, scored on 40-yard runs. The No. 1 team was quarterbacked by Jim Ninowski, the No. 2 by Mike Panitch.

MSU Freshman in World Mark

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Willie Atterberry, 23-year-old Michigan State freshman who wears sun glasses even while running, covered 600 yards in the fastest time in history to highlight the 15th annual Ohio relays over the weekend.

His time was 1:08.5. The world record, 1:09.2, was set by Ben Eastman of Stanford in 1935.

Officials at the meet considered the time so incredible they rechecked not only the stopwatches but the distance to make sure Atterberry ran the full 600.

Wiffi Smith Is 3rd in Lawton Tourney

LAWTON, Okla. (AP) — Wiffi Smith, formerly of St. Clair, Mich., finished in a tie with Ruth Jensen of Seattle for third place in the Lawton Open Golf Tournament over the weekend. Each had 220 for the 54 holes and collected $484 apiece.

Marlene Bauer Hagge of Delray Beach, Fla., won the tournament with 216 and pocketed $880. Betsy Rawls of Spartanburg, S.C. was second with 219 and collected $616. Miss Smith now plays out of Orange, Texas.

Each year outstanding student-football players are nominated by various newspapers. His essay on "Why I Want a College Education" was adjudged the best.

Lawrence Welk, famed band leader who also sponsors a Little League baseball team in Brentwood, California, was named to the National Board of Directors of the Little League.

Perry Richards, star 6-foot-2 pass-grabbing end for the University of Detroit, has been signed by the Pittsburgh Steelers of the National Football League.

When the PHS track team found the sun shining brightly early Saturday, at Mansfield O., they figured they were in for a good day. But the weatherman spoiled those hopes in mid-afternoon when a thunderstorm drenched athletes and spectators (including the Chiefs' coaches Dean Wilson, and Ray Lowry) . . . converted the infield into a sticky mess, forced Hudson Ray to win his high jump gold medal in a drizzle. It wasn't too bad, however, for the jumpers took off from an asphalt runway . . . Fred Brooks tightened up in this, his first big meet, and failed to get over 5-10 which he usually clears easily. Ray won at 6-1¾.

Littler Wins 3rd Straight Tournament of Champions

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—No one really thought Gene Littler had a ghost of a chance to win the $40,000 Tournament of Champions golf extravaganza for the third straight year.

Included in the non-believers was Littler himself, as he candidly admitted.

But today the 26-year-old professional from San Diego, Calif., headed for Louisville and the Kentucky Derby tournament richer by the $10,000 first prize, and nearly as much more.

Littler led off with mild rounds of 73-73, took the lead in the third round with a 69 and yesterday his 70 for 285, three under par for 72 holes, hit the target.

Gene's conquest on the Desert Inn County Club course, a 7,102-yard, par 36-36—72 test, was close in the final phases.

He started out just one stroke ahead of young Don January. During the afternoon, seasoned Dick Mayer was within one shot range. Then Dow Finsterwald threw a challenge. So did Jimmy Demaret, and never far out of consideraton were Ed Furgol, Cary Middlecoff and Bill Casper Jr.

But one by one the threats faded and Littler sewed up matters with a 10-foot putt for a birdie on the 17th hole.

He didn't need it because he was home free by three strokes over his nearest four.

They were Demaret, Finsterwald, Casper and Billy Maxwell, who closed with his second straight 69.

Singer Frankie Laine bought him in the Calcutta auction. Frankie won $95,634, not counting the $15,500 he paid for Gene. Littler, Laine said, will get 10 per cent of the gross at a round figure—or nearly $10,000, or roughly $20,000 in all for roughing it expense free for a week in Las Vegas.

Yanks, Dodgers Lose 1st

Wilson Hurls Easter 3-Hitter

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

When baseball historians grope through the records of Sunday, April 21, 1957 at some distant date they'll mark it down as the day that . . .

1. A "day" doubleheader at Washington was called because of power failure.

2. Don Newcombe tied a record he'd like to forget by throwing home run balls to three successive Pittsburgh batters.

3. Don Hoak, a Cincinnati baserunner, "fielded" a grounder between second and third and tossed it to Johnny Logan, Milwaukee shortstop, thus, in effect, retiring himself.

4. The Cincinnati Redlegs, picked by many to win the pennant, still hadn't won a ball game.

5. Jim Wilson pitched 6 2-3 perfect innings for the Chicago White Sox and didn't allow a Kansas City hit until there was one out in the ninth.

6. Frank Lane gnashed his teeth as a man he traded to Chicago on Saturday, Bobby Del Greco, came through with a base hit that helped beat the St. Louis Cardinals, and then patted himself on the back for engineering the deal that brought Sam Jones, a 6-3 winner in the second game, to St. Louis from the Cubs.

All in all Easter Sunday was a day to be remembered if for no other reason than the fact that the New York Yankees and Brooklyn Dodgers finally lost a game.

After one week of play, the Milwaukee Braves and the Chicago White Sox are the only unbeaten teams in the majors and the Cincinnati club is the only non-winner.

President Will Harridge has a problem on his hands after the second game at Washington was called because of power failure after five innings with Washington on top 2-1.

Since American League rules do not cover such a situation, Harridge will make a ruling after he gets the complete report from his umpires.

Baltimore won the first game 11-9, a wild affair that lasted three hours and 50 minutes and wasn't decided until the Orioles came up with two in the tenth inning. A total of 39 players, including 13 pitchers, saw action with George Zuverink getting the decision over Dick Hyde.

The Yanks lost their first, 5-4, to Boston, when a wind-blown pop fly fell for a single between pitcher Bob Grim and the first base line with catcher Yogi Berra in pursuit. Gene Mauch dashed home from second while Sam White's fly was falling for a game-winning single, giving Dave Sisler the verdict over Grim.

Bill Skowron of New York hit two homers, making it four for him in two days at Fenway Park.

Wilson, who pitched a no-hitter while working for Milwaukee in the National League in 1954, retired the first 20 Kansas City batters to face him. He finally walked Gus Zernial with two out in the seventh. Hector Lopez broke his no-hitter with a single in the ninth and Harry Simpson also singled.

Hoak, running toward third, fielded a ground ball hit by teammate Gus Bell and was declared an automatic out. Bell was given a hit by the scorer although the umpires and Manager Birdie Tebbetts of the Redlegs differed on whether "interference" should have been called.

Pontiac Setter Is Winner of Field Trial Derby Test

One Pontiac Irish setter broke into the winner's class Saturday to become the only area entry to win an event at the two-day Irish Setter club's field trials at the Highland Recreation area. The lone victor was Tom Moffat's "Moffat's Appache Bill" which won the derby stake on Saturday. Detroit and out-of-state entries dominated the event.

Only double winner was "Ike Jack Kendrick", owned and handled by W. E. LeGronde of Douglasville Pa., "Ike Jack" is reputed to be the "winningest" Irish setter in history, with more than 50. He won the open gun-dog event on Sunday and the amateur gun-dog test.

Other winners included "Verber Meath Aagh", owned by Emily Switzer of Chicago in the novice event.

Trial results:

Derby stake — Moffat's "Apache"; 2nd "Red Lady of Loughree" (Bob Schmidt, Detriot); 3rd "Duke" (Dr. Monprize, Ontario); 4th "Seruton Yet" (Kelly, Mt. Clemens).

Open all-age — won by "Hobi"(LeGrande; 2nd "Ike Jack Kendrick"; 3rd "Cliffwoods' Lady Pat" (William Bean, Ashley O.), 4th "Shane" (LeGrande).

Open gun dog — won by "Ike"; 2nd "Lady Pat"; 3rd "Red Mike (Earl Morrison, Detroit), 4th "Judy's Gentleman Mike" (Morrison).

Amateur gun dog — won by "Ike"; 2nd "Kay Star" (Levi Summers Detroit; German short-hair); 3rd "Cookie von-Neild Jorgerson (J.W. Herron, Detroit); 4th "Dandy Jim Van Valstrom' (Dr. Lemley, Detroit).

Novice — won by "Verber Meath; 2nd "Sally of Hagadone" (Walden); 3rd "Cork O'Dea (Givers); 4th "Tulia of O'Dea" (Volligette).

Chiefs Divide Double-Header

First loss of the season for Pontiac High's baseball club was administered Saturday afternoon at Wisner field by Port Huron's Big Reds 2-1. Defeat was in the 2nd game of a double-header, first home appearance of the Chiefs this season.

Ed Heikkinen's nine won the opener 11-0 on a fine two-hitter by Terry Zellhart. But Hayward had 3 for 3, including two doubles. Dave Simmons banged the 1st pitch for a 350 foot homer to score the winning run.

Reds won the 2nd game in the 6th when Fred Smith walked, (one of 3 passes by Pontiac's hurler) and scored on a sacrifice, Falkner's single and a infield error on Lee's roller. Chiefs loaded the bases twice (in the 6th, 7th frames) with no one down, but couldn't move the runners.

Line scores:

First game:
Port Huron	000	000	0—0 2 1
Pontiac	404	120	x—11 11 2

Zellhart and Johnson; Smith Limberton (4th) Christensen, Reed (4th)

Dodger Rookie Pitcher Wise to Old Trick

BROOKLYN (AP)—The next time Pittsburgh's Frank Thomas tries an old semipro trick he'll be sure his intended victim is not wise to such goings-on.

The Pirates' third baseman tried to pull one on the Dodgers' rookie pitcher, Rene Valdes, yesterday and it backfired.

Thomas, on third base in the fifth inning of the first game at Ebbets Field, called for the ball. The Cuban righthander, making his major league debut, called "time" and then threw the ball toward third.

The Pittsburgh veteran stepped aside and let the ball roll to the stands. If Valdes hadn't called "time", Thomas would have scored.

Baseball Drills Planned

Griff's Grill Class A baseball team will hold practice sessions on Tuesday and Thursday of this week at Jaycee Park at 5 p.m. Griff's is looking for young players only. Interested persons should attend the workouts or call Ray White, OL 2-5304.

17-Year-Old Wins Bowlerama

Pontiac Junior in 1st Tourney Wins Top Prize

Drayton Plains Woman Captures Championship in Ladies' Division

A 17-year-old Pontiac High School athlete who was bowling in his 1st tournament and a Drayton Plains woman who just squeezed into the finals on a tie were crowned champions of the 1st Pontiac Press Bowlerama Saturday.

Joe Tinson, sparked by a 275 game, and steady scoring Donna Verhey romped to easy victories with 676 and 674 in their respective divisions.

Tinson was awarded $425 and a handsome desk-calendar set for rolling a 577 actual to go with his 99 handicap. Mrs. Verhey, who had tied for the last qualifying place at Dixie, defeated runnerup Pat Donner by 42 pins for $205 and a desk set. She had a 572 actual and 102 handicap.

All 51 contestants in the finals took home some part of the $1,635 in prize money with six others adding Press trophies for being the top qualifiers in the race to reach the big last round at Huron Bowl.

However, only one of the six who had been high qualifiers finished in the "Big Six" in the two divisions. That was women's 5th placer Lois Fletcher. Frank Pavlinac was highest among the men finishing 13th. The others took big drops from their previous showings.

Lanky Bob Pickett of Pontiac took home the fine $220 men's runnerup prize with a 664 score hitting a 562 actual. Local softball ace Louis Seay was close behind at 662 for 3rd place.

W. Misiewicz, also of Pontiac, took 4th place honors with a 648. George Howard and Stan Bott staged quite a battle for the No. 5 spot with Howard winning out with 635. Bott rolled 633.

Pat Donner's runnerup showing made it an all-Drayton Plains finish in women's play. She hit 632. Ranking 3rd was Pontiac's Mrs. Marion McNair at 605. She edged another Drayton Plains' ace Marion Urich by one pin. Lois Fletcher had 587 for 5th and Helen Smith's 680 completed the top six.

Bill Johns of Pontiac posted the best actual series in the finals with a 608 but a slim handicap prevented him from ranking higher than 7th. Mrs. Verhey's 572 paced the women.

All awards were presented at a post-tournament ceremony held at the 300 Lounge with Press Sports Editor Bruno Kearns serving as master of ceremonies. Les Rothbarth, tourney manager, made the presentation of awards.

Texans Set Tempo in Kansas Relays

LAWRENCE, Kan. (AP) — Cinder-blistering baton teams from Texas and Kansas set the tempo for tremendous record-breaking performances in the 32nd Kansas Relays Saturday.

The Texans, besides running the 440-yard relay three-tenths of a second faster than the 40.2-seconds world record they set in 1952, hung up two more new marks for the Kansas relays—1:24.2 for the half-mile and 10:04.3 for the distance medley.

Altogether, 13 meet records fell.

Kansas accounted for two of them in winning three relay events. Hal Long, Tom Skutka, Jan Howell and Jerry McNeal stepped the four-mile relay in 16:57.8. The recognized intercollegiate record was set at 17:08.6 in 1952 by Michigan.

The Jayhawks set a new mark of 7:32.3 in the two-mile relay and won the one-mile in 3:12.6.

Billy Tidwell, of Emporia (Kan) State, was voted the outstanding performer after anchoring his team to meet records in the college sprint medley at 3:22.6 and the college mile relay at 3:15.1. He was clocked at 1:49.5 for his half mile trick and in :47.5 for the quarter.

Howard - Payne College of Brownsville, Tex., set a college division meet record of 7:41.2 for the 2-mile relay and won the college distance medley in 10:20.6.

Cranbrook Shuts Out Flint Northern, 9-0

Freshman Andy Billesdon and Dave Campbell combined to pitch a five-hit shutout Saturday as Cranbrook's baseball team defeated Flint Northern, 9-0, on the Crane diamond. It was Cranbrook's 2nd win in four starts and the 1st loss of the season for Northern.

Billesdon hurled the 1st five innings and gave up only three safeties while striking out eight to receive credit for the victory. Outfielder Chuck Grube paced Cranbrook's eight-hit attack with a single, double and triple for two RBI's.

Expect Senate to OK Envoys

Posts Appear Certain for McLeod, Bohlen Despite Opponents

WASHINGTON (AP) — Early Senate confirmation of President Eisenhower's ambassadorial appointments of Scott McLeod and Charles E. (Chip) Bohlen appeared likely today despite some opposition.

The Senate Foreign Relations Committee has ordered a hearing April 30 on McLeod's appointment to Ireland and Bohlen's transfer to the Philippines from Russia.

Sen. Knowland of California, a member of the committee and the Senate GOP leader, said before he left on an Easter vacation he believes there will be insufficient opposition to block speedy approval of the two nominations.

However, Sen. Bridges of New Hampshire, chairman of the Senate Republican Policy Committee, said he is going to oppose Bohlen's confirmation. He contends that Bohlen has been "disloyal" to Secretary of State Dulles' policies while serving in Moscow.

Bridges had led an unsuccessful fight against confirmation of Bohlen to the Moscow post in 1953.

On the other hand, Bridges is plugging for approval of McLeod's appointment, which has been criticized by some English and Irish newspapers. McLeod is a former FBI man and a former administrative assistant to Bridges.

Bohlen's nomination apparently will draw "no" votes from a relatively small group of conservative Republicans.

Citizen Phones Police to Check 'Shady' Corner

BALTIMORE (AP)—A man called police and demanded:

"Send a plainclothesman to Baltimore Street and Franklintown Road right away."

The officer jotted down the address and replied:

"Okay. What's the trouble up there?"

The reply:

"I just don't like that corner."

Japan Seeks Trade

TOKYO (AP) — Japan is taking still another step to increase its world trade. Prime Minister Kishi plans to send five roving ambassadors, recruited from business circles, abroad to study economic conditions and bid for orders. They are going to North and South America, Southeast Asia, the Middle East and Europe.

Pakistan is to buy $16,900,000 of American rice, Karachi learns.

As Jaycees' Show Gets Set to Open

Home Improvement Gets Spotlight

If you are still puzzled how you're going to tackle those many home projects this spring, the Pontiac Junior Chamber of Commerce will have the answer for you at its fourth annual Home Improvement Show opening next week.

The show will be held April 25-28 at the Tel-Huron Shopping Center parking area to the south of the center. Plenty of parking space will be available, Jaycees report.

Forty-one city-area business firms have purchased booths in which to display their latest wares, most of which will show the homeowner the most modern innovations in home improvements.

Howard Weedon, co-chairman of th show, said a few booths are still available and may be obtained by calling him at FEderal 4-2597.

This will be the first time the Jaycees have not held their show in the Armory. Providing more space for both exhibitors and spectators will be a large 60 by 180-foot tent erected at the center.

The show will open Thursday at 4 p.m. and close at 10. Friday hours are 1 to 10 p.m., Saturday, 10 a.m. until 10 p.m., and Sunday 10 a.m. until 8 p.m.

The admission will be 50 cents for adults. There will be no charge for children. Proceeds will go to the Jaycee youth fund.

Rules Set Down for Sidestepping Tornado's Path

COLUMBIA, Mo. (INS) — Want to stay out of the path of a tornado?

Here is a set of twister safety rules given by V. W. Phillips, meteorologist in charge of the Weather Bureau at Wichita, at a weather reporters' course at the University of Missouri today:

1. Best procedure in rural areas is to go to a tornado (storm) cellar, cave, or an underground excavation having an air outlet to help equalize air pressure.

2. If in open country, move at right angles to the tornado's path, twisters usually move forward about 25 to 40 miles an hour. If there is no time to escape the onrushing tornado, lie flat in the nearest depression — such as a ditch or ravine.

3. If you are in the city, seek inside shelter — preferably in a strongly-reinforced building. Stay away from windows. In homes, the southwest corner of the basement usually offers greatest safety, standing against the inside wall on a lower floor of an office building offers some protection.

BIRD SANCTUARIES

1. Why They Are Needed

Spring is just around the corner — and that means a heavy travel season for birds. As you know, birds travel — or "migrate" — by the thousands each year, going south for the winter and north for the summer. This week we'll have an interesting time studying some of those birds, and how to help them out on their long, hard trips.

Travelers, whether people who go by car or birds who go by wing, must stop for food and rest. Motorists do this at motels and hotels. For the migrating birds, there are bird sanctuaries. A sanctuary is a place of peace and safety. There birds can rest and find food in perfect security.

Some sanctuaries are large areas set aside by the government. But you can also help the feathered tourists by making a sanctuary for them in your garden or backyard.

Here is a picture of a little pond sanctuary for traveling ducks. You can see by the sign that it is well protected.

Color the picture. Cut out the square panel and mount it on stiff cardboard. Cut the indicated slits. Hang up the panel with a string from the holes in the upper corner. Paste the birds down on stiff construction paper, then cut out the ducks carefully. Slit the tabs up to the dash-folding line, and put each bird in its proper place, the smallest in the background. The "A" part of each tab goes down in the slot; leave the shorter strip outside.

Army to Court-Martial 6 on Maltreatment Charges

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. (AP) — An Army court-martial this week will try six noncommissioned officers on charges of beating a trainee who challenged any one of them to a fight, Ft. Carson officers said today.

The trial will be either Wednesday or Thursday.

Capt. Jack Vermuel, public information officer, said the recruit, Pvt. Daniel Chuebrich, 18, Chicago, was treated at the base hospital for cuts and bruises suffered in the fight Friday in a day room at the fort. He will be held at the hospital two more days for observation.

Those to be tried, Vermuel said, are M.Sgt. Billy C. Short, first sergeant of Battery C, 60th Field Artillery Battalion; Sergeants Billy Fowler, Clinton, Tenn., and James E. Ramage, S.C.; and James E. Harding, Murfreesboro, Tenn., Claude E. Owens and Robert G. Parker specialists third class. Short is charged with "conspiracy to commit assault and cruelty and maltreatment," he said. The penalty upon conviction is demotion in rank.

Vermuel gave this account:

Chuebrich, a former amateur boxer, was ordered by the acting platoon sergeant into a "leaning-rest" or pushup position as punishment for disregarding an instruction.

Chuebrich refused. The recruit was then taken before the battery commander, who ordered the matter dropped.

The entire company was lined up later in the afternoon, and Short asked the company whether Chuebrich should be punished. The vote was for punishment.

Chuebrich was taken to the barracks room before five of the noncommissioned officers to discuss he punishment.

Chuebrich challenged any one of them to a fight. Parker accepted the challenge. However, as Chuebrich, described as "big and strong," started winning the fight, the other noncoms joined in and "subdued" Chuebrich.

Short was not present at the fight, but was held responsible for the actions of the other noncommissioned officers beneath him in rank.

Short was charged with cruelty and maltreatment and with conspiracy to commit assault and battery.

Hollywood Headlines

Julie London Signed Up for Her Best Role to Date

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS

HOLLYWOOD (INS)—If I were asked to name the actress who has made the biggest dent in Hollywood the past year I'd choose Julie London, who not only proved she can act in "The Great Man," but whose record albums are selling like hotcakes.

Because of all this Julie gets herself her best motion picture job to date. She will play opposite Robert Taylor in "Three Guns" for MGM. It goes before the cameras the last of May.

The story is an original by Rod Serling who won an Emmy for his "Requiem for a Heavyweight." Julie will have not only Bob but John Cassavetes in love with her. John plays Bob's brother.

Talked with Otto Preminger, who is here to spend Easter with his wife. He tells me that Francoise Sagan, 21-year-old author of "Bonjour Tristesse" who was so seriously injured in a Paris automobile accident, will be all right.

"She is so young," Otto said, "that she will recover. But what makes these young people go so crazy over fast driving, I don't know."

Otto returns to Paris to prepare for the film version of "Bonjour Tristesse." Deborah Kerr, David Niven and Jean Seberg join him there in July when the picture starts. He brought over a print of "St. Joan," which he says he'll have ready to show this coming week.

ASTAIRE ALONE

Vincente Minnelli is convinced that Fred Astaire and only Fred Astaire is right for "The Life of Nijinsky" although Fred's modern and tap dancing is a far leap from the classical form of the great ballet star.

"After all, this picture has to be acted as well as danced," says Vince, "and Fred has the same lean grace as Nijinsky."

While Minnelli is abroad, and he leaves the last of this month, to work with producer Arthur Freed and scripter Alan J. Lerner, he will also do a lot of research on Nijinsky's life. He'd like very much to activate the dancer's story by early next year.

Ginger Rogers was expected back this weekend to have it out with Jacques Bergerac but instead she went to Palm Beach and won't be back in town for another week.

When I talked with Ginger she told me things were getting worse between her and her French-born husband. Whether or not he's going to Europe nobody seems to know. He did pretty well here, thanks to Ginger, who went all out to help him.

There was a long line of Ginger's admirers in New York, among them Walter Trautman, but she is very careful never to concentrate on one escort.

DATE WITH STORK

Snapshots of Hollywood collected at random: Blonde actress Marilyn Erskine and her insurance executive husband, Charles Curland, will be three in October. They have been married two years and are very happy.

At the party given by the Jack Bennys honoring Merle Oberon and her fiance, Bruno Piaglai, Bruno whispered to friends that Merle will be a June bride. He leaves tomorrow for Mexico and comes back in two weeks.

Tony Bartley, who arrived in town to spend Easter with Deborah Kerr, was having a grand time in spite of a bad cold. Kay and Clark Gable were others who enjoyed the Bennys' hospitality.

Ginny Simms, who looks great these days, opens at the Statler Hotel Thursday. Mitch Leisen has designed a yummy wardrobe for her.

Dean Martin and director Leo McCarey have reached a mutual decision that the songs in "Marco Polo" are not right for Dean. Wise of them to discover it in time.

Week to Emphasize Medical Education

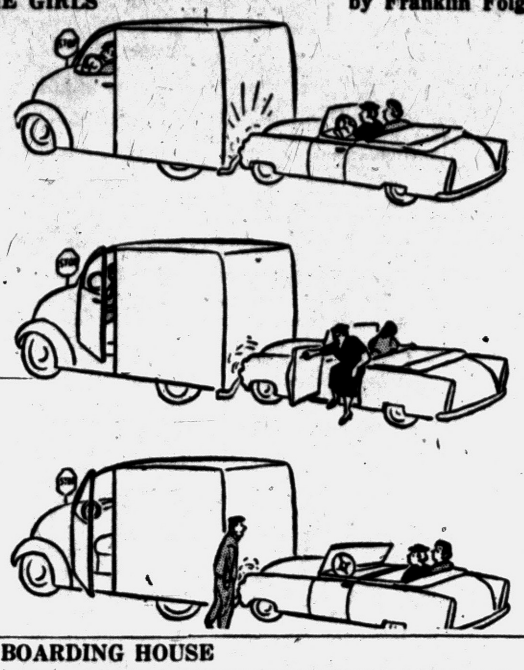

LANSING (AP) — Gov. Williams today proclaimed the week of April 21-27 as Medical Education Week in Michigan, calling on citizens to "inform themselves of the continuing needs for expanded and even better medical education facilities in our state."

Williams, in his proclamation, said the number of medical students graduating from Michigan's two medical schools has increased by 67 per cent in the past five years as compared to the national average of 12 per cent.

Nevertheless, he said, "there are still areas in Michigan lacking in sufficient medical attention simply because there are not enough physicians and medical associates to meet the demand.

Bryn Mawr to Get Estate—Antique Clock

BRYN MAWR, Pa. (AP) — The trustees of Bryn Mawr College can have an estate of $50,000, if they promise to install a 150-year-old grandfather's clock in an appropriate place at the college.

Dr. Florence Chapman Child of Deerfield, Fla., a former Philadelphia physician and graduate of Bryn Mawr, made the unusual bequest. It was disclosed when her will was filed for probate here.

Dr. Child bequeathed her entire estate to Bryn Mawr College, but conditioned the gift on acceptance of the grandfather's clock made by her great-grandfather in 1810.

She stipulated the trustees are to "install it in an appropriate place, keep it in proper condition and repair, make no changes in the fundamental appearance and are not to have it electrified."

If the college does not accept the clock, the entire estate will be given to two nephews.

Officials o the college were not available for comment.

Ford Sales Set Season Record

But Profits, Number of Cars Sold in 1955 Were Higher

DETROIT (AP) — Ford Motor Co. says that its sales in the first three months of 1957 totaled $1,569,500,000, the highest for any quarter in company history.

But both profits and the number of cars and trucks sold in the first quarter of 1955 were larger.

The year 1955 was a record one of both profits and sales for the auto industry.

Ford's net profits for 1957's first quarter were $100,500,000, compared with $73,700,000 in the same 1956 months and $102,500,000 in the first 1955 quarter.

Factory sales of Ford cars and trucks in the first quarter of 1957 were reported as 626,206 units, compared with 523,392 in the same 1956 period and 657,714 units in the first three months of 1955.

Total 1957 first quarter sales of $1,569,500,000 compare with $1,203,100,000 in the first quarter of 1956 and with $1,410,400,000 in the first three months of 1955.

Until 1957 Ford's quarterly sales record belonged to the final three months of 1955, when the total was $1,551,400,000.

Based on the average number of shares of capital stock (as reclassified) outstanding during each period, Ford said profits per share amounted to $1.85 in the first quarter of 1957; $1.37 in the first 1956 quarter, and $1.93 in the first three months of 1955.

Ford reported its total assets as of last March 31 were $2,909,400,000, compared with $2,792,634,918 at the end of 1956.

Wheat Futures Break Sharply

CHICAGO (AP) — Wheat futures prices broke rather sharply on the Board of Trade today under active liquidation influenced by government announcement of lower support prices.

A government announcement that it will export wheat from its own stocks under special circumstances also was a bearish influence.

Near the end of the first hour old style wheat was 1 to 2¼ cents lower, May $2.23¾, new wheat 2¼ to 2½ cents lower, July $2.11⅞, corn was ½ to ¾ lower, May $1.28½, oats were unchanged to ⅝ lower, May 71, rye was 1⅜ to 2½ lower, May $1.28¾, soybeans were ¾ to 1⅛ lower, May $2.40⅛, and lard was 17 to 20 cents a hundred pounds lower, May $14.20.

Girl Hurt in Accident; Police Arrest Father

Ten year old Helen Hrymecki, of 140 Wall St., suffered a fractured jaw and right leg when she was involved in an accident while riding in an auto with her father, Tony Stanley Hrymecki, arrested by Pontiac Police accused of being drunk and disorderly.

Hrymecki pleaded innocent to the charge and was freed on a $100 bond until trial Thursday. He was arraigned before Municipal Judge Cecil B. McCallum, this morning.

His daughter was reported in satisfactory condition at St. Joseph's Mercy Hospital today.

The father told police he was driving south on Paddock street near Wilson avenue when the auto in front of him stopped suddenly. He said he applied the brakes but skidded into a telephone pole in front of 520 S. Paddock St.

Motorcycle Patrolman Hurt on Way to Accident

Pontiac Patrolman Guy White Jr., 29, of 2356 Anders, Drayton Plains, received minor injuries while driving a motorcycle Saturday to the scene of an accident.

White was treated for facial bruises and then released from Pontiac General Hospital after the motorcycle flipped as he was turning from Montcalm onto Young streets. He said the front wheel hit a stone, causing the upset.

Special Issues Stride Ahead

NEW YORK (AP) Specialties raced ahead in early trading today as the stock market advanced moderately in early trading.

Key stocks generally moved ahead from fractions to around a point in lively turnover at the start. But special issues made bigger strides.

Outboard marine added more than 2 on news of a proposed 3-for-1 stock split. Lukens Steel follow-up its 11¼-point advance of last week by running-up more than 4 today. It was traded heavily.

Chrysler rose around a point at the opening on word that the five-week strike at its Maywood, Calif., plant had come to an end. Then it lost much of this gain.

The aircrafts drew some attention on news of bomber orders by the air force, favoring the Convair B-58 built by General Dynamics which rose around a point. Lockheed dropped a fraction as the air force announced no new orders for this firm's F-104 "Starfighter." Boeing also fell back a bit.

of 1115 River St., will be at 1:30 p.m. Tuesday from the Richardson Bird Funeral Home, Milford, with burial in Oak Groye Cemetery. Mrs. Stewart died at her home Saturday after a long illness.

She is survived by her husband; two sons, Clinton of Los Altos, Calif. and Harvey of Milford; and a brother, Bob Burns of Milford.

Tractor Runs Over Boy; Youth Escapes Injury

Michael Boyes, 5, of 2835 Clark Rd., Springfield Township, escaped serious injury Saturday when he was run over by a tractor driven by his father, Paul Boyes.

The boy fell off a tool box where he had been sitting and the left rear wheel ran over his legs before his father knew his son had fallen. X-rays at Pontiac General Hospital disclosed no broken bones and the boy was treated and released with bruised legs.

A nurse in an Auckland, New Zealand, hospital, in an examination paper, defined rigor mortis as "a condition of the body following an operation."

STATE OF MICHIGAN—In the Probate Court for the County of Oakland, Juvenile Division.

In the matter of the petition concerning Yvonne Kobe alias Marsac, minor. Cause No. 15146.

To William Kobe, father of said child.

Petition having been filed in this Court alleging that the present whereabouts of the father of the minor child are unknown and the said child is dependent upon the public for support, and that said child should be placed under the jurisdiction of this Court.

In the name of the people of the State of Michigan, you are hereby notified that the hearing on said petition will be held at the Oakland County Service Center, Court House Annex, 1260-B West Blvd., in the City of Pontiac in said County, on the 30th day of April, A.D., 1957, at one o'clock in the afternoon, and you are hereby commanded to appear personally at said hearing.

It being impractical to make personal service hereof, this summons and notice shall be served by publication of a copy one week previous to said hearing in The Pontiac Press, a newspaper printed and circulated in said County.

Witness, the Honorable Arthur E. Moore, Judge of said Court, in the City of Pontiac in said County, this 18th day of April, A.D., 1957.

(Seal) ARTHUR E. MOORE, Judge of Probate

Mechanic Faces Homicide Count

Brooklyn Man Accused of Murdering 2 Women; Admits Other Assaults

NEW YORK (AP)—A husky young mechanic accused of the bludgeon murders of two women showed no emotion yesterday as a judge verbally lashed him in court.

Thomas Joseph Higgins, 22, was impassive as he was arraigned on a homicide charge in one of the slayings. His heartbroken fiancee Ann Elizabeth Tighe sat silently at the rear of the room in Brooklyn Felony Court.

Magistrate Albert D. Schanzer glowered at the blond, 220-pound defendant and said:

"Of all the most gruesome crimes conjured in a girl's hideous dreams, you are charged with the most macabre."

Meanwhile, police asked the Army for medical reports on the 6-foot-2½ Higgins. His father has said he had a brain operation while serving with the Army in Japan and had a history of fits before that.

Police nabbed Higgins Saturday on a tip from a man who lived in the same apartment building in the Bay Ridge section of Brooklyn.

Higgins quickly confessed, police said, to the hammer slaying of pretty Patricia Ruland, 19, in the back seat of his car last Wednesday night. They said he also admitted bludgeoning Mrs. Dorothy Campbell, 50, to death in the back seat of her car last Jan. 29.

He told police he was engaged in petting parties with each woman and when they resisted further advances he struck them, detectives said.

"Attacking these girls was an outlet for myself," he was quoted as saying.

Higgins, an oil burner serviceman, also reportedly admitted assaulting nine other women in Brooklyn.

Prowler at Home No Joke to Lewis

PACIFIC PALISADES, Calif. (AP)—There was nothing funny about a scene comedian Jerry Lewis played with a prowler at his home Saturday night.

Lewis told police that a man rang his back door bell, handed him an unintelligible note, then went to the front door and tried to enter. Lewis pressed a silent burglar alarm, alerting police, and took a pistol with him to the front door. The man fled.

Lewis said he saw the man hiding behind a parked car, so he held him at gunpoint until police arrived. Officers booked George W. Sheffield, 25, Los Angeles, on suspicion of burglary.

Second Career Delights Comic

Ed Gains New Fame as Dramatic Actor in TV and Movies

By LEE BELSER

HOLLYWOOD (INS)—Ed Wynn, the famous giggling "fireman" of yesteryear who recently made such a sensational comeback in films, said today retirement at 65 is for the birds.

"I'm over 65 myself," the comedian declared, "and I don't feel I'm ready for the junk heap!"

In recent months, Ed has whizzed past the old rocking chair like "Seabiscuit" after a dose of benzedrine.

"All my life I had been a stage comedian," he said, "and then suddenly my son, Keenan, asked me why I didn't go in for straight drama."

Wynn admitted he was moping around looking over some Broadway shows and shuddering at the thought of again going through the routine of seven legit shows a week when he got the offer to appear in a straight movie role in "The Great Man."

SENSATIONAL PART

Then came another sensational role in TV's "Requiem for a Heavyweight." Since then he has become as popular as Jayne Mansfield in a prisoner-of-war camp.

During an interview in his penthouse apartment in Beverly Hills the telephone rang constantly — all lucrative offers to appear on this or that show.

"It's reached the point where it worries me to think that I am a 'star' again," Wynn confessed. "I don't know that I want to work quite that hard!"

Nevertheless he has accepted offers to appear on the Jack Benny Show, the Alcoa Hour, the 20th Century-Fox Hour and the Perry Como Show, and he's considering the uncle role in "Marjorie Morningstar."

The jovial comedian definitely believes in working—before and after 65.

LET 'EM CHOOSE

"It does things to a man to be told he has to sit out the rest of his life like a third-string rookie," Wynn declared.

"I feel that a person ought to be able to choose his own retirement age. Undoubtedly, there are some people who work in offices or factories or similar places who are perfectly willing to retire at 65.

"But there are thousands of others in exciting jobs who just aren't ready for the old rocking chair."

Wynn pointed out health should be an important factor in determining the retirement status of the working man.

Ailment Can Be Cured if Treated Early

Thousands Needlessly Die of Cancer by Not Knowing Truth About Disease

Exploding the many myths about cancer is the first step in a sane, sensible and life-saving approach to this disease. The president of the American Cancer Society sweeps away superstition about cancer in the following first of six frank articles that tell what you should know about cancer in men, women and children.

By DAVID A. WOOD, M.D.
President of the American Cancer Society

Ignorance about cancer may be as dangerous as the disease itself. If we add procrastination to ignorance we have the reason why 75,000 American lives were needlessly lost to cancer last year.

The great objective of the educational program of the American Cancer Society is to prevent that tragic loss of life; we want everyone to know the truth about cancer, especially women, for they are the natural guardians of their families against disease.

Ignorance is not only lack of information; it implies misinformation. So what better way to tell the truth about cancer than to explode untruth?

A miasma of myths has obscured the word "cancer" throughout the centuries. The cause of cancer is still a mystery and mystery breeds rumor, distortion and needless panic. A disease that strikes one in every four of us is to be respected and feared, but morbid preoccupation with cancer is unhealthy and unnecessary. Let us look at those myths.

Some people of our "age of enlightenment" actually believe the ancient notion that cancer is a shocking penalty for immorality, "the wages of sin." Many people still cling to the general idea that the disease is something shameful, "something nice people don't get," something to be kept dark.

Let us use a brisk broom on these cobwebs of superstition: cancer is no more shameful than appendicitis; it strikes "nice people" and all kinds of people, in fact two out of every three American homes; by being asked and keeping it dark, you are gambling with life.

And things brings us to another dangerous attitude—the acceptance of doom, the fatalistic belief that if you get cancer "there is nothing you can do about it." This cobwebbed notion persists in spite of heartening statistics.

One half of all cancer cases could be saved if the disease were always discovered and treated while still localized. Actually, one-third, or almost 150,000 cancer patients are being saved every year. It is a tragic fact that doom-thinkers stand little chance of being counted among them.

The "theory" of contagion is easier to understand. Germs cause many diseases, why not cancer? The answer is that 80 years of research have not produced a germ for this disease; there is not a single cancer case on record which proves that the disease is "catching."

Viruses, those disease breeders smaller than germs, may play a complex role in citing human cancer, but here, too, nothing suggests the simple transmission of cancer from a sick person to a well person.

One of the most common misconceptions about cancer is summed up in the phrase, "it's in the family." This cannot be answered with a simple "no." It is true that specially bred strains of female mice will develop cancer of the breast nine times out of ten. But it is not true that if your mother had breast cancer you are "sure to get it."

Heredity may create a certain tendency in a few types of cancer; it is not a major influence in most human cancers.

So don't live in secret fear of "inherited cancer." Don't avoid a visit to the doctor because you are "afraid what he will find." That kind of fear will rob you of your 50-50 chance of survival against cancer, should it happen to strike you.

Probably the most common "theory" is that injury causes cancer. If this were true, stop and think how many people would get cancer! Think of all the bones broken daily, yet cancer of the bone is very rare.

However, this is a good place to note that repeated sunburn, long exposure to sunlight is a widespread cause of skin cancer; it used to be called "sailor's cancer" or "farmer's cancer."

We come now to a group of cancer myths we can deal with briefly:

Aluminum cooking utensils and aluminum foil do not cause cancer.

Normal use of alcoholic drinks does not increase the likelihood of cancer.

Fluoridation of water does not cause cancer; on the contrary, fluorine would seem to restrain the disease!

And finally, in a general way, believe nothing that food faddists tell you about cancer. Canned goods, preserves, spices, cheese, refined sugar and flour (to mention a few!) do not cause cancer. Blackstrap molasses does not ward off the disease; nor do grapes cure it!

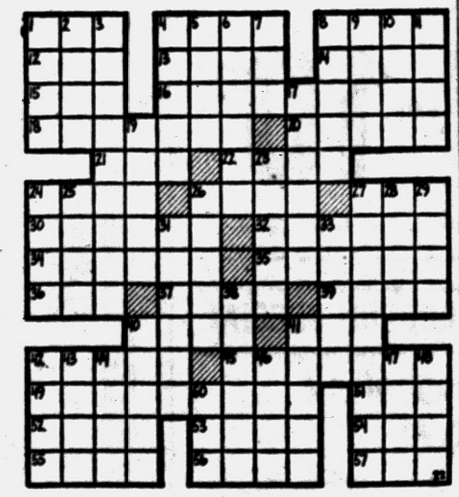

(Tomorrow: breast cancer—"Your chances depend upon your not taking a chance.")

Rich Children Wolf Candy — Monopolize Doctors' Time

Swedish Sweet Tooth Threat to Free School Dental Program

STOCKHOLM (INS) — Candy-craving youngsters with money to spare are putting a big cavity in Sweden's free school dental program.

Rich school children with weekly allowances as high as $6 are spending most of their money on sugar drops, chocolates, coconut balls and two-cent lollipops, the favorite item.

As a result, this 10-to-15 per cent fraction of Sweden's 200,000 school children gets more than half of the nation's free school dental care.

According to Stockholm dentist Sten Arnell, "those children come to my office sometimes with as many as ten cavities at one time."

The ambitious dental program already has been slashed once, and expansion plans for 1958 or 1959 have been dropped.

Until last year the plan included all children up to 15 years old. But when the well-to-do youngsters started to develop multiple cavities, the strain on dentists became too great. The plan was cut to include only children born after 1944.

CANDY KIOSKS

At least three times a day children swarm around the candy kiosks situated near every school. Arnell says, "they gladly tell me they buy sweets for as much as $6.00 a week."

Professor Ernst Abramson of the State Institute of Community Health figures that school children wolf down 25 million dollars in candy a year. He adds that the richer kids are spending sums that would stagger even their American cousins.

Abramson estimates that the school dental plan in Stockholm alone cost more than one million dollars in 1956. "And still," he adds, "the lines in front of dental offices everywhere are so long that a great majority get no treatment at all."

Stockholm's board of education thinks the kiosks are the root of the problem. It tries to prevent construction of any new ones near schools. But the government won't touch the kiosks already in operation. Any action against them would violate private enterprise, which Sweden guards as carefully as its program of socialization in other spheres.

Statistics show, however, that the real root of the problem is a national "sweet-tooth."

In 1955, for example, Swedish children and their parents devoured a staggering 643 million pounds of sugar in their bread, chocolates, sweets and fine pastries. That comes to 1.7 pounds of sugar every week for every one of Sweden's seven million inhabitants.

Report Soviets Eye Show Trial

May Make Example of Ex-Premier Nagy Before Satellites

BERLIN (INS) — A Communist source said today that Soviet leaders and their Hungarian puppets are planning a big show trial of former Hungarian Premier Imre Nagy.

However, he said the trial would not take place until the situation in Hungary is "stabilized."

He indicated the trial would be designed as a show of Soviet strength to impress the restless populations of the satellites.

Nagy, premier of the short-lived free Hungarian government, was captured by the Russians Nov. 23 when leaving the sanctuary of the Yugoslav embassy in Prague. He and 26 others were sent to forced exile in Sinaia, Romania.

OFTEN QUIZZED

The source said Nagy has frequently been interrogated during his exile. The chief of the Soviet secret police, General Ivan Serov, visited Sinaia several times to conduct the questioning personally, the source said.

Nagy has been whisked three times to Russia with the hope that he would make statements blaming the destruction in Hungary on himself and the counter-revolutionaries, the source stated. However, Nagy has refused to make any such statements.

The former premier is living in a villa separated from the other exiles and guarded by armed Russians.

Hungarian Marxist theorist, Prof. Georgy Luckas, and his wife are lying ill in a sanatorium near Bucharest. The Communists have tried without success to persuade Luckas to return to Hungary, the source admitted.

The other exiles, including the widow of Laszlo Rajk, the former foreign minister hanged eight years ago as a Titoist, are living in the former royal castle of Sinaia.

To celebrate her stamp centenary, Ceylon will issue four new stamps in Colombo.

Yugoslavs Enter Austria

VIENNA, Austria (INS) — Austria, already sheltering more than 31,000 refugees of the Hungarian revolution, is asking international help to handle a growing stream of refugees from Yugoslavia. Officials expect 1,000 Yugoslavs to enter Austria each month this spring and summer. The Yugoslavs say they are lured by the west's higher living standards.
