Cong Shell Saigon Airport

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — The Viet Cong gave an anti-demonstration early today of their power to strike at will in the Saigon area with a mortar attack on the South Vietnamese capital's huge military and civilian airport.

The shelling killed seven Americans, injured 155 Americans and Vietnamese, destroyed four planes and blew up a fuel dump.

The mortar attack failed to disrupt operations at Tan Son Nhut Airport, nerve center of allied air operations and one of the busiest airfields in the world.

Meanwhile, the U.S. Air Force reported today that the first B52 raid on North Viet Nam set off huge landslides which sealed the strategic Mu Gia Pass through which the Communists funnel men and supplies to the Viet Cong in South Viet Nam.

An Air Force spokesman said aerial reconnaissance showed the pass was "definitely closed by huge landslides touched off by the thunderous explosions."

The dead at Tan Son Nhut Airport were six U.S. Army men and an American sailor. Twenty American airmen, 77 other U.S. servicemen and 58 Vietnamese were wounded.

The mortars destroyed two U.S. C123 transport planes and two Vietnamese C47 cargo planes and damaged several helicopters, an F100 Super Sabre jet fighter and one of the four-engine Constellation used as relay stations for the U.S.-Vietnamese television system.

Other planes were saved by newly built concrete barriers.

Armed U.S. helicopters took off within minutes after an estimated 25 to 30 Viet Cong began laying down their barrage with two to four mortars at 12:30 a.m.

Emergency Housing Plan Asked

An emergency housing program in Pontiac to meet immediate needs of residents was called for today by the housing committee of the Oakland County Commission on Economic Opportunity (OCCEO).

The report, which climaxed a four-month study of the committee, called for repeal of Ordinance 1270 to allow Pontiac's participation in a partially public housing complex.

Also called for in the committee report was passage by the U.S. Congress of the appropriation bill to fund the rent supplement provisions of the Housing Act of 1965.

Additional committee recommendations were for an in-depth study of Pontiac housing, financed either by a federal grant or the City of Pontiac.

Finally, the committee recommended that sponsoring agencies be found for moderate income housing in Pontiac which can be meshed with rent supplement and public-assisted housing to satisfy the comprehensive needs of the community.

May Be Key to City Action

Waterford Pollution Report Is Sought

Future sanitary sewer service or septic tank effluent to the drain.

The drain, in turn, feeds into Crystal Lake.

The existing 1958 agreement which the city will furnish sanitary sewer services to that portion of the township when the township installs sewers.

The notification last fall by the state included a specific timetable, which incorporated a March 1 deadline for preparation of complete construction plans and specifications for the facilities.

In addition, financing arrangements were to be complete no later than June 1 and construction contracts were to be awarded by June 15.

The township requested that a 1958 city-township agreement be amended to provide for the extension, which is to serve a projected elementary school — Cherokee Hills — and 50 residential lots.

While authorizing the city attorney to prepare the amendment, the commission directed the city manager to obtain a report from the township on what steps have been taken to eliminate pollution of the county's West End Drain, which flows into the city.

"This might be an excellent lever to clean the water, so to speak," said Irwin.

Last fall both the city and Waterford Township received notices from the State Water Resources Commission to take steps to correct their respective pollution problems.

The township was notified that an area on its east side was served by the West End Storm Drain with no separate sewer system for the collection of sanitary waste.

The state claimed an undetermined number of properties discharged untreated waste water

You're Great Weatherman

The weatherman is treating us to mostly sunny skies and pleasant temperatures this week. Generally fair with not much change in temperature through Friday is the forecast.

The mercury is expected to dip into the low 30s tonight, then climb to 50 to 55 tomorrow.

Winds will continue east to northeast at 10 to 20 miles per hour.

The low recording in downtown Pontiac was 33 prior to 8 a.m. The thermometer registered 57 at 2 p.m.

WILLIAM S. BROOMFIELD

Residents in the 18th Congressional District oppose higher income taxes to curb rising living costs and back stronger military action by the U.S. in Viet Nam.

They also favor belt-tightening of federal spending on domestic programs and are unimpressed by results of the War on Poverty program.

These were the results of a survey announced by U.S. Rep. William S. Broomfield, R-Royal Oak. He said they were based on over 10,000 replies. Tabulation was by an independent data processing firm.

Three out of four who responded urged either increased air and sea attacks against North Viet Nam or an increase in U.S. ground strength to a size needed to clear South Viet Nam.

Almost 10 per cent asked for withdrawal of all U.S. forces in Viet Nam.

While 41 per cent backed the present containment policy against Red China with no trade and no diplomatic recognition, 32 per cent supported Red China's admission to the United Nations.

U.S. Programs Surveyed in 18th District

Another 10 per cent was in favor of some form of aggressive action against Red China.

Nearly nine of 10 who replied indicated that living costs had gone up in the past year. Broomfield said that letters accompanying the questionnaires complained most about the rise in food prices.

The War on Poverty program was praised by only 14 per cent.

On other issues, those who replied, backed income tax deductions for college expenses, stricter federal handgun laws and increased trade in nonstrategic goods with Russia and its European satellites.

They opposed a minimum wage increase from $1.25 to $1.75, and federal subsidies for low income families.

At the same time, those surveyed favored a

OU May Get Hike in Outlay, Says Senator

Committee Has Given Tentative Approval to Proposal, Levin Notes

Oakland University may receive more state money for operating than recommended in the governor's budget. State Sen. Sander Levin, D-Berkeley, said today.

Levin said that the Senate Appropriation Committee has tentatively recommended an increase of more than 10 per cent for the school.

The proposal requests $4,174,000 for the university, said Levin, a member of the Senate Education Committee.

"This is $473,000 above the governor's recommendation for the school," Levin said.

"In its deliberations, the appropriation committee decided the increase was warranted because of the rapidly increasing student population at Oakland."

City Assessed Valuation Up

$7.6-Million Increase Reported by Official

An increase of more than $7.6 million in the assessed valuation of real and personal property in the city was announced today.

City Assessor James E. Kephart Jr. reported the city's 1966 total assessed valuation at $318,291,600, a net increase of $7,660,700 over 1965.

The assessed valuation is set by the Board of Tax Review.

Despite the increase, however, city officials anticipate the eventual tax base may fall short of financing the 1966 budget. The budget may have to be cut back by $100,000.

About $3.7 million of the increase was attributed to Pontiac Motor Division expansion, specifically the new parts and warehouse building.

ASSESSMENT VALUE

In addition, Kephart said the hike in assessed value came from 168 new single family homes, 21 new commercial structures, 282 residential garages and four multiple dwelling buildings.

Personal property in the city was assessed at $145,510,400 for 1966, compared to $146,216,200 last year.

Kephart credited the drop to a state-directed change in depreciation schedules, which allowed accelerated depreciation of personal property.

In 1965, the city had registered an $11.8 million hike in the assessed value of personal property with most of the increase coming through local General Motors expansion.

NEW SCHEDULES

The new depreciation schedules virtually wiped out any increase for 1966 on personal property, but local industrial expansion did permit the personal property valuation to cushion the loss, dropping $729,600.

The assessed value of local real estate rose $6,827,900 over 1965. The 1966 total real estate

$196,000 Ransom Paid in S. Africa Kidnaping

PRETORIA, South Africa (AP) — A Johannesburg millionaire has paid a ransom of $196,000 to a gang of kidnappers for the return of his wife and their 21-month-old son, the national police commissioner said today.

The commissioner, Gen. Johannes Keesy, declined for the present to disclose the name of the family involved. Brig. H. Van Den Bergh, chief of the police security branch, told a news conference called by Keesy that the case was unprecedented in South Africa's history.

DONALD JOHNSON

UAW Local Elects Chief to 2nd Term

UAW Local 596 reelected Donald Johnson as president today. Johnson polled 1,579 votes. His opponents, Lyman Crowley and Edward Johnson got 444 and 385 votes, respectively, according to a final tally by union officials and auditors.

Johnson, 46, of 540 Auburn, won two years ago in a runoff with Raymond Norman.

A candidate must get a majority of all votes cast for any given office in order to be elected.

For vice president, Carl Sexton received 897 and Albert Lighthall 689. There was no majority as required so there will be a runoff between the two for the office next month. A third candidate for the office, Marge Liddy, received 650 votes.

WINS OFFICE

Leo Fisher won the office of financial secretary-treasurer with 1,971 votes against 318 for William Liddy.

Gary G. Payne was unopposed for sergeant-at-arms. He polled 1,729.

William Spencer was elected guide with 1,299, as against John Mata's 705.

For trustees, Andrew Jackson, with 1,145; Donald Hamilton, 1,227; and John Speer, 1,133, defeated Robert Shilling, R. L. McDonald and Owen O'Brien.

WINS CHAIR

Ralph Affolder picked up 1,288 votes for chairman of the shop bargaining committee. His opponent, Lawrence J. Hartley received 824.

MESC to Seek U.S. Funds for Job Training

$2-Million Program Would Be Run by Pontiac School Board

An application for federal funds for a proposed $2-million Pontiac Occupational Training program will be filed within 24 hours.

The program, which will enroll a maximum of 300 adults and youths, has been developed and will be administered by the Pontiac Board of Education.

The application will be filed by the Michigan Employment Security Commission Pontiac office.

Included in the cost will be renovation of buildings, hiring of a teaching staff, equipment and training allowances for students.

FLEXIBLE PERIOD

It calls for a flexible period of training, extending to as much as 72 weeks, with training to be provided for jobs ranging from low skill to highly skilled occupational classifications.

The center will be located somewhere in the downtown Pontiac area. Bids are currently being considered for the exact location.

Training will be conducted on an eight-hour per day, 40-hour week basis.

A FUNDAMENTAL PART OF THE program will be a 26 week basic education course. Enrollees will have one week of orientation during which they will be tested to determine aptitudes.

JOB TRAINING

Occupational training will be offered in auto mechanics, health services, clerical skills, food service, domestic skills, building services and maintenance.

Employment needs in all these categories have been certified by MESC.

The proposed training program also has been endorsed by the Oakland County Commission on Economic Opportunity.

The program was first proposed over two years ago by Pontiac school officials.

U.S. Craft Said Down in China

TOKYO (AP) — Communist China said today its air force shot down a U.S. warplane over the Red mainland. The U.S. Defense Department admitted a Navy tanker plane is missing, and Pentagon sources said it could have strayed over Chinese territory.

Peking radio claimed Chinese fighters downed an A3B heavy attack plane yesterday on the Luichow Peninsula of Kwangtung Province, which faces North Viet Nam across the Gulf of Tonkin.

The Pentagon announcement said a Navy KA3B, tanker version of the A3B, was overdue on a ferry flight from the Philippines to the carrier Kitty Hawk, stationed off Viet Nam. It made no mention of the Chinese claim.

Peking Radio said nothing about the American plane crew. The KA3B normally carries three men.

The Chinese broadcast said the American plane was downed after it penetrated China's "territorial air space" and ignored repeated warnings from Red Chinese warplanes.

Peking claimed the plane came from southeast of China's Hainan Island and "flew in deep over Luichow Peninsula, engaging in military provocation."

Informants at the Pentagon said the plane could have veered over Red China because of a faulty compass, navigation error or confusion.

Mine Union Officials Call Strikers 'Mad, Belligerent'

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Some striking coal miners were described by union officials today as "angry and belligerent as about 50,000 miners continued a walkout in defiance of union orders."

"They're sort of belligerent. They're disappointed in the fact that they don't have a contract," said Joseph Yablonski, United Mineworkers director at Uniontown, Pa.

Harvey Yunker, UMW director at Johnstown, Pa., said: "We're telling the mine that it is our very honest desire and urgent request that they return to work immediately."

Yunker said some locals have given indication of early compliance with the back-to-work directive, "but others are angry and in no mood to work without a contract."

RESUME TODAY
Negotiations between the union and the Bituminous Coal Operators' Association were scheduled to resume today in Washington.

One western Pennsylvania mine owner said he is not going to enter into negotiations as long as the strike continues. Another threatened court action.

"We still have a contract that's in force, and while the men are out on strike, that's negotiating under duress," said an operator who asked not to be identified.

Another said, "This is strictly a wildcat strike and we are going to go to court to get an injunction."

EIGHT STATES
The walkout, which started early Monday and spread to eight states, is the most widespread and largest work stoppage in the soft coal fields in 15 years.

A handful of strikers returned to work Tuesday in Utah, Indiana, Virginia, West Virginia and Illinois. The majority remained away.

Two mines in Indiana County, Pa., which had remained in operation, were closed down early today by roving pickets. Each employs about 200.

One of the largest locals in western Pennsylvania, the 1,200-man Local 621 at U.S. Steel Corp.'s giant Robena mine in Greene County, moved Tuesday to return to work.

However, when they reported for work early today, pickets showed up and the miners turned around and went home.

They are Margie Ladd, 526; Joseph Zetser, 715; Walter Newman, 561; Gerald Kehoe, 662; Joseph Mendoza, 525; and Carl Sexton, 633.

Robert Wyatt beat Arkie Crismon, 959 to 887, for production shop committee.

For skilled trades shop committee, George L. Perkins won from Gene Affolder, 213 to 130.

Barbers OK an Alternate on Off Day
The State Barbers' Association, Local No. 50 voted last night that Pontiac area barbers shops can close either Monday or Wednesday beginning next week.

Local No. 50 represents most barber shops in the Pontiac area north of Long Lake Road.

Previously, all barber shops represented by Local 50 closed Wednesdays.

About a third of the local's membership had favored more flexibility in the closing policy, according to Arthur Blankenbush, secretary-treasurer.

"It is to be expected that many of the shops will stay on their past pattern of closing Wednesdays, while others will change to Monday closings to suit their own needs," Blankenbush said.

Budget Given to Supervisors Huge Wave Kills 3 on Luxury Liner

Tentative 1967 Figure Put at $23.2 Million
A tentative 1967 Oakland County budget of $23.2 million was submitted yesterday to the County Board of Supervisors.

Board members will take formal action on the proposed budget at their meeting next Monday.

If approved by the supervisors, the budget then will be submitted to the county tax allocation board which will set a tax rate for the county.

When the county's share of the 15 mill tax limitation is determined, the tentative budget will be revised and a final 1967 budget will be prepared for consideration of the supervisors next fall.

The tentative budget calls for nondepartmental appropriations of $4,300,940, departmental expenditures of $10,942,101 and $7,964,811 for salaries.

LOCAL TAXES
In order to balance expenditures, the county must raise $17,227,534 through local taxes. Receipts for county services would make up the balance.

A tax rate of 6.43 mills would be required to obtain local tax revenue to meet expenditures in the proposed budget.

Last year at this time the tentative 1966 budget of $19,428,037 was based on a tax rate of 5.92 mills.

The allocation board, however, allowed only 5.30 mills to the county when it apportioned the 15-mill limitation between the county, school districts and townships.

Fair-Vote Unit Hits Handbill

'Smears City Hopeful on Personal Level'

Distribution of a handbill attacking a Pontiac City Commission candidate has been labeled an attempt "to smear on a personal level" by the Michigan Fair Campaign Practices Commission.

Walter Klein, commission secretary, added that the commission hoped the Oakland County prosecutor would prosecute any violation of state election laws.

Klein said the unidentified sponsor of the leaflet and its content was an effort to smear on a personal level rather than to confront the election issues and enlighten the electorate.

He said the commission had ascertained that the prosecutor's office was investigating distribution of the handbill.

The handbill was signed by the "Committee for Honest Government" and was apparently aimed at Charles M. Tucker Jr., a District 1 nominee in Monday's City Commission election.

Tucker complained to the state commission and the prosecutor.

The handbill reportedly purports to reproduce an affidavit signed by Tucker in 1962.

Osteopathic College Due to Open in '70
The newly created Michigan College of Osteopathic Medicine (MCOM) will open in the fall of 1970 with a charter class of 64 students, it was announced yesterday.

At a press conference on the 164-acre site for the MCOM at Auburn and Opdyke, Dr. Alan M. Potts, president of the college board of trustees, detailed plans for the college.

The college plans an initial class of 64 students and also will train nurses, hospital administrators, laboratory technicians and therapists, Dr. Potts said.

Dr. Potts said the Legislature is being asked for financial help.

"The state subsidizes the education of doctors of medicine. All we ask is equal treatment," Dr. Potts said.

Big Budget Hike Sought in Bloomfield Township

BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP — A 23 per cent increase in township spending has been proposed for the 1966-67 fiscal year by Supervisor Homer C. Case. Case has recommended to the Township Board a budget listing expenditures at $676,100. This year's budget was $714,100.

Public hearing on the new budget has been scheduled for 8 p.m. April 25.

Largest increase recommended by Case is in the general government category, which would go from $219,300 to $278,400.

Included in the amount is $127,000 for the salaries of the supervisor, clerk, treasurer, assessor and clerical employees and bookkeepers in their offices. Five new employees have been hired for these areas.

BIGGEST CHUNK
Accounting for the biggest chunk of expenditures in the recommended budget is the police department.

Case is urging an expenditure of $282,400 for the police department, marking an increase of $47,600 over this year's figure.

The fire department allocation would be boosted from $194,000 to $234,200 and that of the building department from $65,100 to $83,100.

The recommended budget includes no personnel increases in the police and fire departments.

UNSUCCESSFUL ATTEMPT
An unsuccessful attempt was made at the polls last June to increase the millage for these two departments and for road improvement in the township.

The budgets of the two departments would total $516,600. Township Clerk Mrs. Deloris (87).

Little noted the 1-mill tax voted extra to support them nets $171,362, leaving a balance of $345,238 to come from the general fund.

To help balance the budget, the Township Board Monday night transferred a half-mill from the fire department's building and site fund to its operating fund.

Township income from taxes and regular revenue in 1966-67 is expected to be $857,450, with the rest of the deficit being made up from miscellaneous income.

County Quota for Draft: 282
Oakland County was scheduled by State Selective Service headquarters to supply 282 men of Michigan's draft call for the month of May.

The county quota represents almost 10 per cent of the state figure of 2,822.

Draft board officials said it is expected the call will be filled from single men and those married after Aug. 28, 1965.

The figure is an increase of 37 men over April.

The two countywide boards based in Pontiac will call a total of 94 men, Pontiac's single board is scheduled for 39, and Farmington's quota is 10.

The remaining 139 men will come from the three boards in Royal Oak.

Oakland County was second highest in county quotas in the state, five ahead of the Macomb call and well behind Wayne (87).

Car Recall by Chrysler Starts Rift

DETROIT (AP)—A Chrysler Corp. spokesman and a U.S. senator disagreed yesterday over whether safety was a factor in Chrysler's decision to recall more than 17,500 new cars for repairs.

"This problem did not involve any safety factors," the auto firm spokesman said. But in Washington, Sen. Walter F. Mondale, D-Minn., disagreed.

Mondale introduced last week a bill which would require car makers to give owners and dealers immediate warning of defects that could involve safety and to spell out the nature of the defects.

Chrysler cars being recalled are 17,500 Dodge Monaco and Polara models equipped with the 383 cubic inch engine and two-bar carburetor and an undetermined number of Plymouth Furies and Chryslers equipped with the same engine, the firm said.

The spokesman said the cars are being called "defective" as the throttle linkage could be lengthened so as to prevent any possibility of its being stretched by the forward movement of the engine in an emergency stop.

"In an emergency stop," the firm explained, "the engine moves forward momentarily on the rubber mounts. With the shorter throttle linkage of these cars, a stop could result in the engine stretching throttle linkage, causing a fast running engine at idle."

Two weeks ago, Chevrolet Division of General Motors Corp. confirmed that it is recalling 1,500,000 late model Chevelles and standard Chevrolets with automatic transmissions to correct a problem that could cause the accelerator to stick.

Old Packard Plant Is Ravaged by Fire

DETROIT (AP) — A 7-alarm blaze raged through parts of the old Packard plant here Tuesday, destroying a block-long section of the five-story building.

No injuries were reported. Damages were estimated at between $500,000 and $1 million. A radar screen and parts of a guidance system for the Saturn 5 rocket were believed to have been stored in the burning building, spokesmen said.

The fire drew a total of seven alarms, two more than the usual maximum of five. Fire Chief Glen Thom said it was the first fire of this magnitude in five or six years.

Blind Piano Tuner

No Clues of Missing Man

DETROIT (AP) — Mrs. Gerald Henke planned to bake a cake and give her husband a Braille watch to celebrate his 31st birthday.

She still has the box of cake flour. The watch has been returned to the store.

Henke's birthday was March 31. On March 4, the blind piano tuner kissed his partially blind wife goodbye at their suburban Southfield home and set out for a client's house. He never returned.

"I've heard nothing from him. Nothing at all," Mrs. Henke said today. "I'm just heart-sick."

NOT A CLUE

"We don't have a thing to go on. Not a clue," said Southfield Police Detective Ronald Fasbinder.

Fasbinder said no trace had been found of Henke despite a nationwide Associated Press story about the missing man 12 days after he vanished.

Mrs. Henke, 30, is ill with cancer. She said she last heard from her husband the day he disappeared. "I love you, don't worry about me," Henke told her in a telephone call from Detroit.

"There's been nothing since then," she said. "I sit and hope and hope he'll come back. Sometimes I just sit and cry all day. I cry because I think maybe somebody is holding him or that he's hurt and no one will help him. I sit, and cry, and wait. That's all I can do."

SCHOOL ROMANCE

The Henkes were married six years ago on Christmas Eve after a romance at a school for the blind. They are childless.

Fasbinder said he was hopeful a photograph of Henke the police had placed in the trade magazine of the Piano Tuners Guild would turn up a lead to Henke. The ad appeared last week, but there has been no response.

"The magazine has nationwide circulation and, maybe, someone will see Henke's picture and recognize him," he said. "The only thing we can do is wait and see what happens. We've tried everything else."

Fasbinder said, he had checked out dozens of tips and "always it was somebody else."

DESCRIPTION

Despite total blindness, Henke, 6-2½, made his rounds without a leader dog. He carried a folding cane. His appearance, including a widow's peak in his brown hair and a depression over his right temple, would make anyone remember him, police said.

"The bad thing is that Henke had at least $200 when he disappeared," Fasbinder said. "Before he got married he was known to have hitchhiked around the country. Hitchhiking isn't a good idea. But it didn't seem to bother Henke. Only this time something might have happened if he hitched a ride."

Muskegon Worker Dies

MUSKEGON (AP) — Continental Motors Corp. worker Ned Gillette, 33, of suburban Laketon Township was killed Tuesday in a mishap at the firm's military division plant. Corner Basil Young said the victim, was struck by a fan which flew off a truck motor undergoing

Worker for Detroit Held in Bank Theft

DETROIT (AP) — Detroit police and FBI agents Tuesday arrested a 41-year-old inspector for the Detroit Bureau of Health on bank robbery charges.

Richard P. Griffin was charged with the March 8 robbery of a branch of the Detroit Bank and Trust Co., in which a lone bandit escaped with $413.

Griffin, married and father of one child, pleaded guilty at his arraignment before Federal Judge Thomas P. Thornton. He was held in lieu of $2,500 bond. No date was set for examination.

3 Big Days of 'Extra Discounts' for All Our Friends and Neighbors in This Area

SIMMS 'President's Days' Sale

Tomorrow 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. and Friday and Saturday 9 a.m. to 10 p.m. are Simms' President's Days—Our President Mr. Meyer Simon, personally instructed our dept. managers to give you extra discounts with no thought to profit for these 3 days... this is Mr. Simon's way of thanking you for your past patronage and hoping that you'll always think of Simms for the Better buys in the future. We must reserve the right to limit quantities—None sold to dealers.

Only Our "TOP MAN" Can CUT PRICES THIS LOW!

a personal message from Simms President

Dear Friends,

As most of you folks in this area know, Simms has been in downtown Pontiac since 1934. Since that time we've grown from a 50 foot drug store into a 3-floor discount dept. store. And most of you know why — Simms always gives more value for your dollar. Many businesses have come and gone in Pontiac since 1934... anyone can hang-up a discount sign and lower the price for a few days but the only way to discount is the Simms way — that is, to lower the price everyday of the year. And we do this thru tremendous volume, reduced over on item arrives and keep the price lower everyday of the year. And we do this thru tremendous volume, reduced over on item arrives and keep the price lower everyday of the year. And we do this thru tremendous volume, reduced over on item arrives and keep the price lower everyday of the year.

Sincerely,

Meyer Simon Pres.

Vote on Pool, Auditorium Set June 13 in Farmington

FARMINGTON — A high school swimming pool and auditorium package expected to cost $3.5 million is going on the June 13 school ballot, by request of some 3,100 voters.

Also to be considered by voters is a 1-mill tax increase to provide operating funds for the facilities.

Local Jaycees have presented petitions for the election to the board of education.

The bonding and millage propositions now are being drawn up to be approved by school trustees at their April 25 meeting.

The proposed building program would add swimming pool, and auditoriums to Farmington School District's two existing high schools and the one to be completed in 1968.

1,100 MORE

Jaycees collected 1,100 more signatures than the 2,000 needed to constitute 10 per cent of the district's electorate.

News of the Area

"This is a good indication the people want it," Asst. Schools Supt. James M. Read said.

More persons signed the petitions than voted in the last school election in November 1965, when a $6.2-million bond issue and two millage propositions were approved.

The Jaycees started their petition drive two months ago after analyzing results of a community attitude survey they conducted last fall.

RESPONSE LIGHT

Although response to the survey had been light, Jaycees saw a clear indication that swimming pools and auditoriums were wanted.

A further sampling of opinion verified their deduction.

Jaycees noted that the median age in the community is 18 and that one-third of the population attends public schools.

While they expect the facilities to be widely used by the community at large, they said the pools and auditoriums also would allow expansion in academic areas and school sports.

COST ESTIMATES

Preliminary cost estimates were prepared by architects at Linn Smith and Associates of Birmingham and are to be turned up by the school board's next meeting.

The three pools will cost about $2 million and the three auditoriums about $1.5 million.

As proposed, each of the 600-seat auditoriums could be divided into teaching stations for classes which could take advantage of the stage.

Approval of the bonding proposition would not increase the district tax rate because the building funds could be borrowed from the state at a low interest rate.

SPREAD DEBT

The loan would allow the district to spread the debt over a longer period of time while maintaining the bond retirement levy at 7 mills.

Current district levy totals $2.50 per $1,000 of property valuation as compared to $2.00 for the city of Farmington.

Swimming pools and auditoriums traditionally have not been included in bonding propositions because the board of education kept classrooms as its foremost concern.

Board trustees have maintained that such a request should be initiated by the people.

Two Appointed as Principals Will Fill Vacancies in Walled Lake Schools

WALLED LAKE — The board of education has appointed two new elementary school principals for the 1966-67 academic year.

Named to principalships were William B. Brown, a Pontiac School System reading specialist, and Bruce Moody, sixth grade teacher at Commerce Elementary School.

They will fill vacancies created by a resignation and the construction of a new elementary school.

The board of education Monday night accepted with regret the resignation of Decker Elementary School principal Cecil Scott, who has been an educator for 38 years and connected with the Walled Lake system for 12.

The other vacancy was created when William Poggett, Twin Beach Elementary School principal, was appointed to head the faculty of Oakley Park Elementary School, which will open in the fall.

START IN AUGUST

Brown and Moody, who will begin their new jobs in August, have not yet been assigned to specific schools.

Brown, 37, of 3614 Mark Waterford Township, earned his bachelor's and master's degrees from Wayne State University.

He taught instrumental music in the Pontiac schools from 1958 to 1963 and then taught fifth and sixth grades for one year before becoming a reading specialist.

Brown has completed an administrative training course co-sponsored by the Pontiac Board of Education and Michigan State University for future school administrators.

Moody, 27, of 1775 Queen, Milford, holds bachelor's and master's degrees from Central Michigan University.

He taught in the Breckenridge Community Schools for two years before coming to Walled Lake in 1962. During the summer of 1964, Moody was elementary school coordinator for the Walled Lake School System.

At Walled Lake Nurses' Aide Course Set

WALLED LAKE — Girls who want to become nurses' aides will get on-the-job as well as classroom training in a program to be initiated here in the fall.

A group of 22 Walled Lake High School senior girls will be enrolled in the program, which will include academic studies and work at local nursing homes.

The girls will attend regular classes in the morning and work as nurses' aides in the afternoon.

They will participate in a special health occupations class to learn about the mechanics of the human body, patient care and other nursing basics.

Working in a specially equipped classroom, they will learn to operate hospital equipment and become acquainted with hospital routine.

COORDINATOR

Program coordinator is Mrs. John Ashby, a registered nurse who has cared for Walled Lake students attending the outdoor education program at Proud Lake Camp since 1959.

A University of Michigan graduate, Mrs. Ashby recently received a Michigan vocational certificate allowing her to coordinate the course and teach the related health class.

Mrs. Ashby has been Walled Lake PTA Council health chairman for five years and is chairman of the Oakland County disaster nursing service for the American Red Cross.

Outside the classroom, Mrs. Ashby will work with nursing home administrators to set up the training programs and will be responsible for placing the students in positions at the homes. She also will visit them as they work during the school year.

PURPOSES

Lester G. Carlson, vocational education director for Walled Lake Schools, said the program has three purposes.

In addition to giving vocational training, it will provide an exploratory experience for girls who are considering careers as professional nurses.

"Finally, we hope to give the students an insight into career opportunities in allied phases of nursing — such as practical nursing, physical therapy and medical technology," he said.

Carlson noted there are plans to have persons from these fields speak to the classes, explaining their work and its requirements.

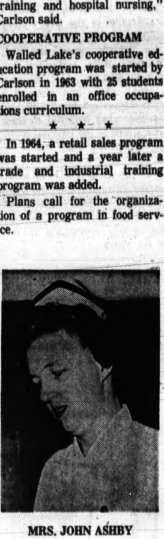

REQUIREMENTS

Girls enrolled in the program must have good scholastic and attendance records, Carlson said, and preferably a background of home economics, general science, biology and chemistry.

The Walled Lake program will be one of few in the state providing training in a nursing home situation, Carlson said.

In developing the program, he and Mrs. Ashby worked closely with the Michigan Vocational Education Department, the Michigan Nursing Home Association, the Oakland County Department of Health and the local nursing home administrators.

"We hope to eventually add cooperative courses in order to

Apartments Rise On The Mill Pond Site

Building Under Way

Rochester Land Taking on Look of '60s

ROCHESTER — By next fall, the 20 acres at the end of University Street will no longer be recognizable for what they once were—the site of an old mill pond.

Construction is already under way on the first of 14 apartment buildings planned by the A. D. Becker Building Co.

A spokesman for the company said a regional shopping center will also be built in the area at some future date.

Although not part of the development project, the Rochester Elks are planning a lodge hall in the same area south of University.

The village has a stake in the development to the extent that it has agreed to spend up to $75,000 for a bridge across Paint Creek and a railroad crossing with signals where the New York Central Railroad tracks cross the property.

ASSET TO COMMUNITY

Village Manager William Sinclair said the extension of University through the property will be an asset to the community because it encourages development and will help increase the tax base.

The extension of the street is also expected to alleviate traffic congestion at the Main and University intersection and decrease traffic on Romeo and Parkdale streets.

The development, which will contain 112 two-bedroom units, will be known as Leisure Valley, according to A. D. Becker of the development company.

He said the project is expected to cost about $2 million.

Kiwanis Gets Pavilion OK in Rochester

ROCHESTER — An open pavilion for community use may be constructed on the Art 'N' Apples Festival site behind the municipal building.

The Village Council has approved a request from the Rochester Kiwanis Club to build such a structure on the site.

Village Clerk Maxine Ross said the pavilion would be used by the Kiwanis Club and other community groups and during the Art 'N' Apples Festival.

According to plans it would be a 40-foot by 60-foot concrete foundation with a shingle roof.

Village Manager William Sinclair was authorized to work out specifications with the Kiwanis Club and representatives of the Festival.

UTICA — The board of education has named four principals to head new elementary schools which are scheduled to open next fall.

Frank Wendryhowski, a teacher at Dresden Elementary, was appointed principal of the Rose Kidd Elementary School.

Mrs. Margaret Skull, principal of Auburnshire Elementary, was named head of the J. V. Messmore Elementary.

The Edward A. Schwartzoff Elementary School will be under the administration of Richard LaBare, now a teacher at Sterling Elementary.

Leonard Morrison, principal of Sterling Elementary, will head the Harry Morgan Elementary.

The board also appointed former Assistant Schools Supt. Floyd Ebeling as principal of Jack Farley Elementary. Ebeling asked for a transfer for health reasons.

Oakland Township's Officials Discuss Master Plan for Area

OAKLAND TOWNSHIP — A master plan to insure orderly growth in the township is being considered by the Township Board.

At its meeting last night, the board discussed the pros and cons of such a plan with Thomas Fitzgerald of the Oakland County Planning Commission.

"This is all very preliminary right now," said Mrs. Lucy Alt, township clerk, "but we have been thinking that we should have some sort of a plan."

She said the township was formerly in a development plan with Avon Township and Rochester but dropped out "because we weren't getting anything out of it."

In other action the board discussed means of ridding the township of junk cars.

TO CHECK ORDINANCES

Township Attorney Frederick B. Darden was instructed to investigate ordinances in other townships and give an opinion at a future meeting.

In the meantime, the board will send letters to owners of the junk cars asking them to dispose of them.

Improvement Group in Troy Sets Election

TROY — New officers will be elected at the meeting tomorrow night of the Northeast Improvement Association of Troy.

The meeting will be held at 7:30 p.m. at Troy Union School, 1340 E. Square Lake.

Church Plans Dinner

LAKE ORION — The Reorganized Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-Day Saints will hold a family dinner from 5 to 7 p.m. tomorrow at the church. Proceeds will go toward the building fund.

By Romeo, Bruce Officials

Solution on Sewers Is Sought

ROME — Officials of the village and of Bruce Township will try again to straighten out their sewer problems.

Both groups met with the Macomb County Board of Health last week after Bruce Township was cited by the Water Resources Commission for contributing to the pollution of the Clinton River.

Village Clerk Norman Engel said no date has been set for a meeting with township officials but that some solution should be presented to the board of health by the middle of May.

Annexation of 1,000 acres of the township to the village was seen as one solution to the township's sewer problem. The move was vetoed by township residents in a straw vote last November and subsequently by the Macomb County Board of Supervisors.

It has also been suggested that the village sell sanitary sewer service to the township or annex a smaller portion immediately north of the village.

At a council meeting this week it was decided to relocate parking meters to provide needed revenue for the village. The meters were taken out in 1962.

A group of merchants recently tried to set up a special assessment district for parking to avoid the meters but were unable to get the necessary 50 per cent approval from other merchants.

The meters provide about $10,000 a year in income.

Eastern Star Event Set

SPRINGFIELD TOWNSHIP — Austin Chapter No. 398, Order of the Eastern Star, will hold a luncheon and card party at 12:30 p.m. tomorrow at the Davisburg Masonic Temple on Andersonville Road.

At Troy Church Mother-Daughter Fete Slated

TROY — St. Stephen's Episcopal Church will hold its first Mother-Daughter Banquet at 6:30 p.m. Monday.

Following the dinner in the parish house there will be a program of songs by the Auburn Heights Boys' Club Choir and a fashion show by Episcopal Churchwomen and their daughters.

George Cripps of the choral music department at Oakland University will lead a singing along.

Chairman of the dinner is Mrs. Roger Blackwood, 2580 Charnwood.

Social Studies Topic for High School PTA

COMMERCE TOWNSHIP — "Previewing Social Studies" will be the topic of the Clifford H. Smart Junior High School PTA meeting at 7:30 p.m. Thursday. The program is designed to acquaint members with new trends and approaches in the social studies field.

Loan Sharks Feed on the Helpless

Interest rates that practically amount to stealing are known throughout the Country. Loan sharks swarm wherever there is business and wax fat on the innocent and those who place blind faith in everyone.

J. EDGAR HOOVER's powerful FBI organization is currently alerted anew by its director to the scandalous practices of these bloodsuckers.

He says:

"Loan sharking," the underworld's practice of collecting usurious interest on loans, is one of the most vicious crimes facing our society today.

Many Americans have little knowledge of this extortionary crime which, with its strong-arm tactics, is a throwback to the crime-ridden prohibition era. It is an action of greedy men who seek power and influence and who have no respect for human rights and decency. Financially, it ranks as one of the most lucrative sources of illegal income available to crime lords today.

Desperation causes most people to borrow money from racketeers at exorbitant rates. But instead of gaining relief, they sink deeper into despair. Faced with unforeseen expenses and declining profits, small businessmen often spread themselves so thin financially they cannot obtain money from legitimate sources. Caught in this predicament, they are vulnerable to loan sharks. Many are unaware of the outrageous interest rates — usually around 20 per cent per week — and the dire consequences which may befall them if payments are missed. Others will risk the gamble, hoping to meet the demands and save their businesses. Most fail, and the hoodlums take over.

Loan racket victims are not the only losers. The public pays as well. When the "squeeze" is applied and the musclemen command, "pay or die," the victims frequently turn to robbery, burglary, theft, and looting, trying to extricate themselves. Broken bones, loss of teeth, and torture await those who protest. Some are murdered.

Local, State, and Federal authorities are working to stop this vicious racket. Potential witnesses are afraid to testify. Most transactions are on a cash basis or are covered by manipulations which all but eliminate incriminating evidence. Meantime, blood-stained money is being poured into other illegal operations and into legitimate business, and racketeers are using their wealth and influence to add to their holdings.

A few States are seeking new laws to curb syndicate loan sharks. Recent Federal legislation has opened some additional avenues of prosecution. Loan sharking cannot withstand the persistent efforts of effective law enforcement together with opposition from an indignant public. We must not relent until loan sharking literally becomes a crime that doesn't pay.

Retailer Gets Only Crumbs of Food Dollar

It's only human nature to complain about the ever-rising prices we must pay for most of the things we buy. And it's only human nature to place some of the blame on those who sell them to us. It's very easy to charge — without evidence — that this merchant or that is profiteering.

But, when viewed in the cold light of fact, this won't hold up. The average family spends $1,170 a year for its food. The average retailer has operated on a $15 profit each year from that family. Putting it another way, he earned as a profit, just 7.5 cents on each shopping trip the family made to his store. And that profit, from the family's point of view, worked out to 4/10 of one cent for each meal served.

Last year, to carry on with some revealing statistics, Americans spent 18.5 per cent of their take-home pay for food. In 1912, it accounted for 40 per cent of the average family income. And we are far better off in this respect than the people of other nations. In England, for example, 29 cents out of each income dollar goes for food; in France the figure is 31 cents and in Russia 53 cents.

Retailing, in all its branches, is among the most competitive of enterprises. The seller of wares, like the buyer, is the victim, not the creator of inflation.

Viet Holds Disaster for LBJ

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON — President Johnson had it pretty much his own way up till now. But now what he faces in Viet Nam may be the greatest disaster of his political career.

At home things were going well. The country was prosperous. He kept putting the heat on Congress to pass his legislation and on business and labor to keep wages and prices down.

It meant a lot of bone-aching work, of course; telephone calls from dawn till midnight; conferences at the White House day and night; the endless attention to details.

But this was all duck soup for him. In one way or another he had been doing the same thing for years as the Democrats' majority leader in the Senate before he became vice president, then president.

And even with Viet Nam, despite some intense criticism and demonstrations at home, he had broad public support for the administration's policy of using U.S. money and troops and planes to keep the Viet Cong from taking over South Viet Nam.

This was going well, too. And, further, he was backing the military government headed by Premier Nguyen Gao Ky. There didn't seem to be a cloud in the sky. Then the sky fell in, pulled down by the Democrats.

They have a different kind of mind, unfamiliar to Johnson, and bit by bit, by marches, riots, protests, and denunciations they began to topple the government headed by Ky.

REGIME SURVIVAL

The Johnson administration's aim was said to be the survival of the military regime, with or without Ky. But as time passed the whole military leadership seemed in danger of being thrown out.

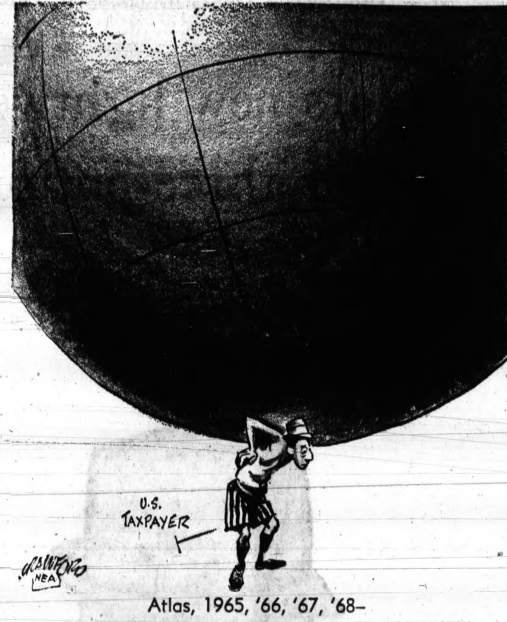

But if the North Vietnamese Communists have worked out a deal with the South Vietnamese Buddhists to depose the present government and make way for the Communists, this is more than just a political squabble between some Vietnamese in the south.

If the Buddhists get control, whether or not they turn the government over to the Communists at once, they may ask the Americans to leave. And, if they do, it is certain the Communists will get control, for the South Vietnamese among themselves couldn't stand them off.

For the Americans, to be asked to leave, after the billions of U.S. dollars spent there and the many U.S. lives lost there, such a request would in effect be an American defeat and an American embarrassment without parallel.

DESPERATE DAMAGE

Johnson would have a hard time living it down. It undoubtedly would be used against him if he ran for reelection in 1968. And it might cause desperate damage to the Democrats in this year's congressional elections.

David Lawrence Says:

Teen Riot Tarnishes D.C. Image

WASHINGTON — The national capital is supposed to be the showplace of America. It is presumed to symbolize free government and the enjoyment of individual security — the highest ideal of a civilized society.

But something happened here on Easter Monday which tarnishes the image of an orderly community.

Hundreds of LAWRENCE teenagers from Washington rioted at a nearby amusement park, damaging property and looting some of the concession stands. Then the youths moved into the city, throwing rocks and bottles at windows of homes, businesses and cars.

The amusement park formerly was segregated, but was desegregated in 1961. It now is largely patronized by Negroes, and on Monday the majority of the capacity crowd came by buses from Washington.

When individual acts of misconduct and vandalism began to grow into mob action, the operators of the amusement resort shut down the park about six hours before its normal closing at midnight. This is believed to have angered some of the crowd, touching off the riot.

While most of the participants were Negroes, this does not explain the phenomenon. For there have been riots in other cities where many whites have been involved.

The basic cause of it all is not just the passions that are aroused over racial questions. It is plainly the result of a feeling that has grown up that the "right to demonstrate" is absolute and that, if violence starts in a crowd, everybody may get into the fight in some way.

Why, in many cities in free America, is there so little respect for law and order, and why at any moment can mob action flare up without any cause whatsoever and threatens the lives and property of other persons?

Maybe it's because in recent years the courts have upheld the "right to demonstrate" and, even though disorderly conduct is involved, have found some excuse for omitting any punishment.

The press has been filled with stories of how the "civil rights" movement has been making progress because of "demonstrations," and the idea has penetrated cities with large populations that there is an inherent right to express dissatisfaction by physical means.

Many of the preachers who are to be telling their congregations how to behave are, in effect, inciting them to take part in riots and "demonstrations." Irrespective of whether these result in violence.

Bob Considine Says:

School-to-School Plan Making Friends for U.S.

NEW YORK — You'll find no "Go Home, American" placards in Conakry, Guinea, or Casablanca, Colombia, or at Santa Isabel de Sigüenza, deep in a remote valley in Peru.

In those and many other places, the schoolkids of America have built schools.

They have reached out their hands with the simple and eloquent idealism of America's youth and given fresh hope and expanded horizons to children they'll never see but somehow know.

It is probably this nation's least expensive venture in foreign aid, but it could be one of the most rewarding. It is the Peace Corps' School-to-School program. It is making more friends for the U.S. than most of the buy-friends-for-billions projects combined.

It started in 1963 when a young man named Gene Bradley, then editor of General Electric's house magazine, became president of the Rosendale Elementary School Parent-Teacher Association in Niskayuna, a suburb of Schenectady.

Bradley had a disquieting problem on his hands. Rosendale friends for the U.S. than most of the buy-friends-for-billions projects combined.

Then, during a visit with a Washington friend who works for a U.S. foreign aid mission, Bradley asked, "What would you do with $10,000?"

HAS A PLAN

"I'd build a school," the fellow said. "I don't mean that I'd send in a U.S. construction crew. I'd give the local people some supervision and let them do the work."

Bradley put the question before his PTA. It voted that it had the right to send its money abroad.

Now came the matter of fundraising. Rosendale's Girl Scouts sold cookies; travelogues on Colombia flickered in the school auditorium; the U.S. Embassy in Bogota sent sample Colombian costumes for a fashion show; a New York importer loaned Colombian art. Total gate: $1,150.

There's no end to it now. Schools all over are staging everything from taffy-pulls to hootenannies, and the resultant dollars are enriching minds of hundreds of faraway children who in all probability would never have had such a break.

'Disability Pensioners Need Tax Reduction'

I urge all who receive Social Security Disability Pensions to write the Governor and Senators asking for a bill for a property tax reduction, the same as those 65 and over get. Reader Seeks Definition of 'The People'

In his Freedom Awards speech, LBJ said: "Men ask who has a right to rule in South Viet Nam. Our answer there is what it has been here for 200 years: The people must have the right." The people? The Buddhists (75 per cent of the population) who are protesting U.S. takeover, and the South Vietnamese Communists who have fought to reclaim their own country for 12 years, must be happy to hear the good news.

U.S.A. gave France $2 billion to keep "the people" from the right to rule. Then "the people" were kept from voting to have a Communist government by American supported Catholic Ngo-Dinh-Diem and the nine military dictators since 1963.

"The people" are the Pentagon and the President. Now I understand this war!

Believes Teachers Should Correct Papers

For students' papers to be corrected by other students is a good indication that the teacher is failing in her responsibility to the students. It is the teacher's duty to motivate, guide and evaluate the students. Giving a test is good motivation, but for proper guidance the instructor must correct the mistakes and evaluate the effort. Teachers should take the time and effort, and their red pencils to correct papers and then go over the papers with the students.

Yes, the people on other planets may look alike. But we don't all look alike here. We might have come from another planet. Long ago, people might have been so mean and bad on other planets that instead of locking them in jail and prisons as we do, they put them aboard space ships and flew them down here. The ships we are seeing are real and have been flying around for a long time. Maybe someday we'll get to go home.

Questions Local Union's Decision to Strike

I wonder how the Local at GMC came to the "conclusion" that speedups and other issues are the cause for a strike at GMC when GMC has only been on a five-day week? Workers at GMC can thank your new union slate for a strike. But don't expect to be supported like the last strike was a check from your local for food for kids during the strike. Pontiac Motors has been on a seven-day workweek for over a year. I don't hear them striking over speedups.

Safety Plan
The Hilldale Daily News

Newspapers receive literally tons of mail. A great deal of it is junk . . . propaganda . . . pleas for free advertising posted by disguised as "news" . . . plugs for this and that remote cause . . . appeals for support of various projects of little general interest, et cetera, et cetera.

Most of this lands in the voluminous wastebaskets newspapers provide for this specific purpose. But occasionally . . . and only occasionally . . . the postman delivers a bit of intelligence or a pertinent observation worth passing along. A couple of instances:

From an address on traffic safety by Dr. Kenneth McFarland, a guest lecturer for General Motors:

" . . . It would be wonderful if we could hear safety talks while we are driving. It has been suggested that a tape be installed in every car that would be connected with the speedometer and play music through the radio speakers. At 50 to 60 miles per hour the music would play 'Highways Are Happy Ways.' At 60 to 70 the time would change to, 'I'm But a Stranger Here, Heaven Is My Home.' When the speedometer reaches 70 to 80 the music would automatically switch to, 'When the Roll Is Called Up Yonder, I'll Be There.' And when the needle goes above 80 miles the driver hears soft organ music accompanying a lovely voice singing, 'Lord, I'm Coming Home.'"

The railroads are not the proper parties, as we see the matter, to take revenge on Gilbert's 8,000 followers and the other rail workers who respected Gilbert's picket lines.

We think the group to take revenge is the U.S. Congress, and that it should make law leaders who pull such strikes against the public safety liable to heavy fines, or long jail sentences, or both. Given the evidence, Congress could enact such a law, which should operate to protect the people and the Nation from characters like Gilbert. The only question is: Has Congress the needed courage?

Have Counselors, Will Travel

By LESLIE J. NASON, Ed. D.
Equality of educational opportunity demands that every high school be able to supply counseling services. But this is not always practical for a number of reasons.

Consolidation of such services necessitates transporting hundreds of students to the central location. An alternative is to transport the services to the students.

And Indiana University's Office of Counseling and Guidance, under a DR. NASON contract with the North Lawrence Community School System, has established a Mobile Counseling Center to provide vocational and educational guidance for students of 17 high schools located in a four-county Southern Indiana area.

A mobile unit, a trailer specially designed by members of the Counseling Center, consists of three offices, three testing booths, an occupational-educational information library and a reception area.

This trailer-based program is being financed through a grant from the U. S. Office of Education to the Bedford school agency. Administrative director of the grant is Dan A. Schafer, superintendent of North Lawrence Community Schools.

"The project is designed to supplement the existing counseling services of the four-county school system," said Schafer, "and will be available to each of the 17 schools on a rotational schedule according to need."

The Center will provide supplementary educational and vocational counseling to some 6,000 high school students in Lawrence, Martin, Orange, and

Washington Counties during the remaining part of the 1965-1966 school year, and in 1966-67.

Indiana University officials anticipate making two complete circuits before school ends this June.

While the unit will operate within usual school hours helping individual students by appointment, the staff also will consult with parents, teachers and other members of the four-county area community.

Rather than place the opportunity for education in a centralized spot not readily available to the parents and other interested citizens of widely separated communities, this operation will function directly in the community schools.

If successful, an additional three or four trailer units may be added to the program in the future, in order to make services available to a larger number of Hoosier high schools.

WITHOUT DELAY

This scheme of bringing services to the student can be put into operation without delay; no need to wait for consolidation elections, bond issues, or new buildings.

ENVOY DELIVERS NOTE — Charles Bohlen, the U.S. ambassador to France, clutches an envelope as he arrives at the French Foreign Office in Paris yesterday to deliver a diplomatic note. The U.S. rejected President de Gaulle's one-year outer deadline for a military pullout from France and set a two-year time limit. The U.S. also warned that French NATO units stand to lose quickly their access to American atomic arms.

France Nixes Ceremony in Paris for U.S. Dead

PARIS (UPI) — The French government has refused for the first time for 20 years to permit a ceremony in Paris this year in memory of American soldiers killed in the city's liberation in 1944.

Miss Marcelle Thomas, organizer of the annual ceremony, said today she had received a "brusque" letter from Defense Minister Pierre Messmer informing her the ceremony could not be held this year at the Invalides, shrine of France's military heroes and tomb of Napoleon.

Messmer gave no reason for the transfer, she said. She said she has now transferred it to the American military cemetery at Suresnes, near Paris.

The ceremony, held in cooperation with the American Legion's Paris Post No. 1, has been held each June 10 since 1945.

It has become known as "Sergeant Kelly Day," after the first American to fall in the liberation of Paris.

Sgt. Laurence Russell Kelly of Altoona, Pa., fell on the outskirts of Paris on Aug. 25, 1944. Miss Thomas, a pharmacist, was the first to reach him.

A spokesman for the American Legion, Mrs. Kathryn Bruce, said "Everybody is very upset about this."

"We just can't understand why the French government would be so petty," she said. "I suppose it's all part of the wider Franco-American relations, but why insult the dead?"

At the Defense Ministry a spokesman hinted the matter was "still under study."

NO DOUBT

But Miss Thomas said there was no doubt in her mind that Messmer's letter had been final.

"I believe Gen. de Gaulle told him to do it," she said.

Members of the American Legion and representatives of the French government normally attend the ceremony at the Invalides, a historic building on the left bank of the River Seine which contains the tombs of many French military heroes, including Napoleon.

Citizens Radio Service Troubles FCC

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Citizens Radio Service is a giant party line for 800,000 Americans. It is also chaos on the kilocycles to the Federal Communications Commission.

Consider the problems that would result if a city of 800,000 persons — about the size of Washington or St. Louis — had only 23 party lines for all its telephone calls. Then you've got some idea of the problems the FCC faces in trying to control the Citizen's Band — CB as it's called.

The problems began in 1958 when there were about 40,000 CB stations, mostly business firms, all using the sparsely populated ultrahigh frequency. Equipment was too expensive for the average person.

In 1958 the FCC gave the service 23 channels in a wavelength for which equipment could be manufactured at a relatively little expense.

800,000 LICENSEES

The change was almost immediate and far beyond the expectations of FCC officials. Today there are 800,000 licensees and the commission receives more than 20,000 applications a month — at $8 apiece — for new licenses.

And it's big business. The average CB licensee has three units costing $100 to $150 apiece. Some sources say CB means more than $50 million yearly to the electronics industry.

The reasons for the popularity are the low cost of equipment and the ease of getting a license. You can get into CB activities for as little as $29 for a one-channel build-it-yourself kit.

And any citizen, 18 or older, can get a license by filing an application and paying the fee.

MUST PASS TESTS

This is different from amateur radio operators who must pass examinations in Morse code, electronics and FCC regulations. Amateurs are hobbyists and experimenters — CB operators are supposed to be neither, but often are both.

"Our biggest problem has been with people who use it just for the sake of talking to somebody else by radio — the hobbyists," an FCC spokesman says. They clutter the channels and jam legitimate communications.

The Citizens Radio Service, he says, "is a communications tool to carry out some business or personal activity of the licensee." This means brief transmissions between a garage and a tow truck, a farmer's wife and her husband in the fields, a businessman and his office.

"It does not mean one licensee gassing with another," he says.

DIFFICULT PROBLEM

The problem of the talkers is difficult to solve. With only 18 listening stations and 24 field offices, the FCC believes, "there's obviously a problem of enforcement," even though officials say many CB operators don't know the regulations and don't even bother to purchase copies — even though they are required to have them.

Since 1958 the FCC has revised its CB regulations twice — in 1960 and 1965 — both times to eliminate the talkers by declaring idle chatter illegal. But officials say many CB operators don't know the regulations and don't even bother to purchase copies — even though they are required to have them.

The FCC depends largely on voluntary compliance for enforcement of its rules. But, in the case of CB, as one official said, "I don't think we've gotten the degree of voluntary compliance we'd want."

The FCC has even considered eliminating the service, "to the extent that enforcement problems become the most important aspect of a radio service, the basic utility of the service becomes questionable."

one commission report said. It added that if the most recent rule changes do not clear up the chaos "the fundamental question as to whether the public convenience, interest, or necessity warrants the continuance of the service will be again considered."

Crisis Is on Paper Only

JUNEAU, Alaska (AP) — The Alaska Legislature is faced with a crisis—a paper shortage.

The dilemma was disclosed in a note to legislators Tuesday from John C. Doyle, executive director of the Legislative Council.

"We have begged, borrowed, scrounged and bought at ungodly prices what paper is available locally," he wrote, adding that the supply will barely last out the week.

Doyle said there has been an unusual amount of amending this year, requiring a rerun of the bills.

A total of 864 bills, including a 500-page insurance code bill, have been introduced in the two houses.

'GOP Can Gain Dixie Foothold With an Active Biracial Group'

WASHINGTON (UPI)—An active biracial organization in the South is a means of gaining a long-term Republican foothold in that Democratic stronghold, according to a report from a Liberal GOP group.

The group, Republican for Progress, offered as proof Monday the statistics which show the 1964 unregistered Negro vote exceeded GOP victory margins in the area.

The report said that these voters may well be registered and voting in future elections.

The report's statistics were taken from figures issued by the U.S. Civil Rights Commission in 1965.

These figures showed the following margins for Republican Barry Goldwater, compared to the number of unregistered Negroes of voting age:

Alabama, 268,353-vote winning margin, 388,583 unregistered Negroes; Georgia, 94,043 margin, 445,247 unregistered; Louisiana, 122,157 margin, 349,955 unregistered; Mississippi, 300,856 margin, 380,736 unregistered; and South Carolina, 93,348 margin, 232,560 unregistered.

The report did not include any up-to-date registered figures. The Republicans for Progress, headed by Charles P. Taft, of Ohio, said this means the Dixie GOP future interest lies in biracialism.

"If the Republican party bets on the forces on the way up—the Negro, the white middle class, the young professional—it will continue to grow," the report said.

One Crane Is a Holdout

WASHINGTON (UPI) — All but one of the 44 whooping cranes in the world's last live flock have left their winter home at the Aransas Wildlife Refuge on the Texas Gulf Coast for summer nesting grounds near Canada's Great Slave Lake.

The Interior Department reported yesterday that the hold-out crane, known to refuge employees as "Scarneck" because of the irregular arrangements of his neckfeathers, was sighted on Matagorda Island, near Aransas, after the other birds had left.

Tabbed as an individualist, Scarneck usually is the first to arrive at Aransas in the fall and the last to leave for Canada in the spring. Last year the big bird didn't take off until the second week of May.

School Job Riff Grows Critical

LANSING (UPI) — The board of education has reportedly reached a critical juncture in its nine-month search for a state superintendent of public instruction.

The eight-member board is split, 4-4, on appointing Dr. Ira Polley to the $30,000-a-year post.

Polley, 45, is executive director of the Michigan Council of State College Presidents, a research and coordinating organization.

Board members met privately yesterday and will be in formal session tomorrow.

If these meetings don't produce the fifth vote needed to win Polley the job, the board reportedly will reopen its search for a superintendent.

The superintendent's job was vacated June 30 by Dr. Lynn M. Bartlett, who left the state to accept a federal post.

Female Influence Is Playing Major Role in Automobile Industry

By PHIL THOMAS
Associated Press Writer
DETROIT — Forty million American women have jumped out of the back seat and behind the wheel, and the U.S. auto industry is doing everything it can to make them comfortable.

The female influence is felt day," Miss Hazard said. "I'm convinced no man in his right mind would spend $3,000 on anything without consulting his wife."

MANY CHANGES
Richard Teague, American Motors Corp. vice president-automotive styling, agreed, noting "many items have been changed because of the taste of the distaff side."

He said the recessed push-button door handle was dropped because it caused broken fingernails; stretch seat fabric was changed because fur coat hairs caught in the weave and pulled out; "thicker, more durable carpeting and floor mats" were introduced because narrow spike heels were poking holes in the old carpeting, and the same heels "necessitated repositioning of the accelerator pedal on many cars."

Damon C. Woods, a chief stylist for Ford Motor Co., cited the female influence as being largely responsible for the wide acceptance of such features as automatic transmissions, power brakes, power steering and the six-way seat—accessories which have so dramatically taken the work out of driving."

GM, Mitchell said, hired the first woman designer in the auto industry in 1943 because she is "the one who will be first to change a control knob position that would be hard for a woman to reach, a foot pedal angle that would be awkward for high heels, or anything that might snag a stocking."

All of the auto firms now have women designers, Miss Hazard said.

Be Selective About Pals on Vacation

By the Emily Post Institute
Q: I am a secretary in my twenties and I recently went on a cruise with my girlfriend. Starting the first night out, an older woman who was seated at our table attached herself to us and followed us everywhere.

She was a real bore, and we finally had to resort to hiding to avoid her. This almost ruined the cruise for us, and we would like to know how we could have gotten rid of her tactfully in the beginning.

A: I'm afraid that, not realizing the problem you were running into, you were too friendly the first night out. Next time, take a second look before you decide which passengers you'd like to get to know.

If someone is overly friendly, try to arrange amusements with other passengers which would exclude the hanger-on: bridge, deck tennis doubles, and, if possible, dates in the evening, will automatically discourage a hanger-on.

Q: My daughter was married very quietly in the chapel of our church with just the members of both families present. No invitations were sent out but announcements were mailed to everyone.

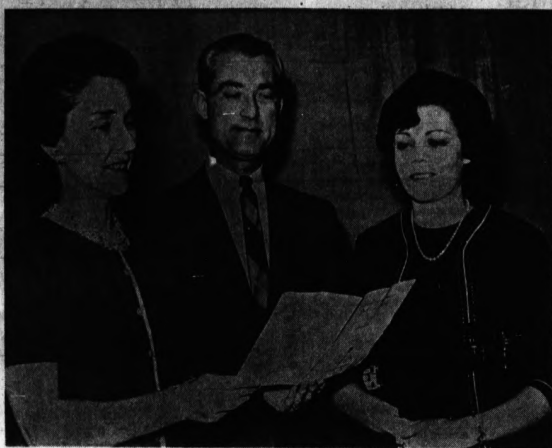

Up to the present time, she has received very few presents. I am very hurt. Throughout the years I have given many of these people lovely gifts on various occasions and I feel that, even though they were not invited to the wedding, they should have at least acknowledged the announcement by sending a little something to my daughter. I would like your opinion.

A: Strictly speaking, a wedding announcement required neither a wedding present nor an acknowledgment. However, the fact that some relatives and close friends could not be invited because of the smallness of the wedding, is no reason why they should not have sent a wedding present.

The gesture of sending a gift should come from the heart and not depend on whether or not one was invited to the wedding.

Q: I am going steady with a boy in my class and since we are only juniors in high school, he doesn't have much spending money, so I have been paying for my own colas, movie tickets, etc.

A: I think that when he asks you on a date to a specific entertainment, such as a dance or a movie, he should pay for the tickets.

They're Close-Knit Family

Sisters Share Everything

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I have two sisters. Both are over 40, married and have families.

Last Friday sister number one went to a bingo game with the sister of number two, while sister number two stayed home watching television with sister number one's husband. Cozy?

The next thing I knew, sister number one and husband number two went bowling together, while husband number one and sister number two took in a movie. I have been seeing my sisters with the wrong husbands more and more lately and I don't know what's coming off.

I told mother and dad about it, and they called both sisters and asked what kind of switching business was taking place. The girls denied it, but now, neither of my sisters nor their husbands are speaking to me.

Was I wrong to tell our parents? I was only trying to head off trouble.

MEANT WELL

DEAR MEANT: Reporting two married sisters (over 40 yet) to mother and dad for what you considered "nauseous conduct" could hardly be called constructive.

If you really wanted to be helpful, you should have spoken to your sisters directly. Even though your intentions were the best (and perhaps better than your sisters') you can expect to be in family exile for a while.

DEAR ABBY: What should a girl do when a boy calls her at 7 o'clock and asks her if she wants to go out at 7:45? I really wanted to go, but I turned him down because a friend of mine told me I should play hard-to-get.

HIGH SCHOOL JUNIOR

DEAR JUNIOR: If you wanted to go, you should have gone. There is nothing to be gained by playing "hard-to-get" if you're sitting home longing to go out.

DEAR ABBY: I am now a college freshman. Last year I played football for my high school and I was quite good. I received many trophies and such. After the last game some of us were awarded our game shirts. This is a big honor.

My mother was very proud of me and she said, "Now, don't go giving that shirt to any girl." Well, the summer before I left for college, I met a girl, and we really went for each other, so like a dope, I gave her my shirt. I didn't tell my mother for obvious reasons.

Now this girl and I aren't as serious about each other as we were and I want my shirt back. How do I get it without hurting her feelings?

DEAR SORRY: Ask her for it. (Nicely, of course.) Since you aren't as "serious" about each other as you were, she might surprise you and return it cheerfully.

Of course, she might not, but you're nothing to lose by asking. And next time, listen to your mother.

CONFIDENTIAL TO DINO: When you are going to learn that no horse can go as fast as the money you bet on him?

Problems? Write to Abby, care of The Pontiac Press. For a personal reply, inclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

OES Slates Smorgasbord

Pontiac chapter No. 228, Order of Eastern Star is planning a smorgasbord Saturday at 7 p.m. in the Masonic Temple on East Lawrence Street.

Assisting Mrs. Russell Kneale are Mrs. V. E. Newton, and Mrs. T. D. Richie.

Others serving on committees are Mrs. Sylvan Clark, Mrs. Samuel Smith, Mrs. Thomas Hexco and Floyd Levely.

Catherine McCrindle has announced that tickets may be obtained from members and at the door.

PTA Hears 'Headstart' Story

Dr. Lee Haslinger, coordinator of Operation Headstart, was speaker for the Pontiac PTA Council's April meeting Tuesday evening at Jefferson Junior High School.

Initiated on a small scale last summer, Operation Headstart is made possible through the Economic Opportunity Act of 1964.

It will have two phases this year, the first beginning April 18 and running for nine weeks at eight centers throughout Pontiac. A second summer program begins June 27.

The U.S. Government provides 90 per cent of funds needed for the new educational program, with the remaining ten per cent coming from the local participating area.

Youngsters who may participate include: those receiving Aid to Dependent Children or welfare assistance, Oakland County Assistance participants, children from large families or strictly low income homes.

GOALS SET

Five areas of goals have been established for the program. These are: self-concept formation, intellectual and language development, stimulation of imagination and creativity and understanding of literary heritage by listening and learning.

A visiting teacher and school nurse will be available for the Headstart sessions. Each child will have health and dental examinations and, if necessary, treatment.

Classes will be limited to 15 students, working with three adults, one an accredited teacher, to insure more personal help. Field trips and snacks also are planned for the classes.

More information may be had by calling any Pontiac public school or Mrs. Pearlina Butler at Bagley School.

PTA TRAINING

Mrs. Robert Tratchet announced the annual leadership training program for interested PTA officers and chairmen being conducted Monday evenings at Pontiac Northern High School.

Coming events also include the Presidents' Breakfast at 9:30 a.m. April 19 in First Congregational Church and the state convention of the Michigan Congress of Parents and Teachers April 28-29 in Detroit's Pick-Fort Shelby Hotel.

Pontiac Council will host the District 5 spring conference May 11 at Madison Junior High School.

Mrs. William Mihalet announced April as PTA scholarship month.

Dr. DiChiera Traces Past of Baroque Opera

Oakland University will present "An Afternoon of Baroque Opera," produced and staged by Dr. David DiChiera Sunday, at 3:30 p.m. in the Gold Room of Oakland Center.

With gentle humor, DiChiera will trace the development of opera from its beginnings in Italy through its European development to the end of the Baroque period.

The performers will be Dorelene McNeilly Davis and Roma Riddell, soprano; Edward Kingless, tenor; Russell Smith, baritone; and Lawrence LaGore, pianist.

The program will include selected arias, duets and motets by di Lasso, Peri, Monteverdi, Cavalli, Sartorio, Krieger, Lully, Rameau, Blow, Purcell, Handel and Bach.

Single tickets for the performance are available through the Meadow Brook Festival office at Oakland University.

Will Fete Pair at Pre-Bridal Dinner Friday

A dinner in the Orchard Lake Country Club for Julie Cameron Bennett of Birmingham, her fiancé, Benton Davis Curtis, and their attendants, will follow the wedding rehearsal, Friday, in Christ Church Cranbrook.

Mrs. Arthur M. Curtis of Branford, Conn. and C. Marvin Curtis of New York City, mother and uncle of the bridegroom-elect will be the hosts.

Miss Bennett gave the spinster dinner for her attendants in her home following a Saturday afternoon kitchen shower in the Bloomfield Hills home of Mrs. Richard H. Kelly and daughter, Judy Coward.

Cohostesses at a recent luncheon and linen shower in the Birmingham home of Mrs. Richard Wollenberg were her daughter Sue, also Mrs. J.P. Judd and daughter Nancy.

Mrs. J. Joy Andreae will give a dinner for the wedding party and out-of-town guests in her Bloomfield Village home, following the reception in the Bloomfield Open Hunt Club. The bride's parents Mr. and Mrs. Edward T. Bennett Jr. will be cohosts.

P. F. Lorenz Heads Exhibit

Paul F. Lorenz, Ford Motor Company vice president and general manager of Lincoln-Mercury Division, has been named general chairman of the fifth biennial National Religious Art Exhibition, it was announced today.

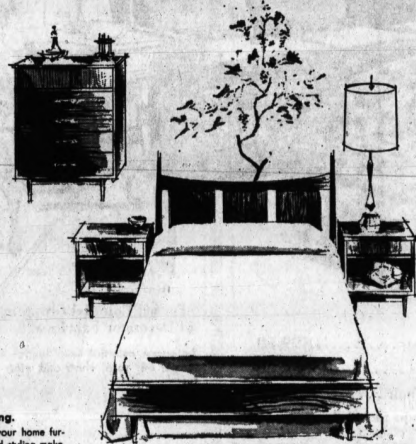

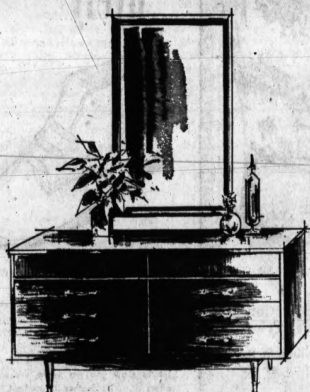

The exhibit, which had its beginning in 1958 under sponsorship of the Holy Name Parish, Birmingham, will be held for four weeks this fall, Oct. 7-30.

Lorenz said the show will be put on exhibition at the Galleries of the Cranbrook Academy of Art.

A non-denominational activity, the National Religious Art Exhibition has been conducted on an invitational basis in prior years but will be open to all artists in 1966 and is expected to attract works from some of the best-known American professionals throughout the world, Lorenz said.

Frank Perron, director of the exhibition, said an announcement will be mailed next week to approximately 2,000 artists, galleries and museums inviting participation. The deadline for application is June 1.

Miss Hendley Honored Before Her Marriage

A recent bridal shower in the home of Mrs. Rex Harris on Kohler Street honored Kathleen Hendley, daughter of the Lester B. Hendleys, of East Longfellow Avenue. Mrs. Lee Harris was cohostess.

The prospective bridegroom, James Thomas Bramble Jr. is the son of the James T. Brambles of Emerson Avenue.

Know Your Type

Try not to be carried away by eccentric high jinks as you flip through your favorite fashion magazine. Many slick fashions appear becoming and colorful but on the wrong type girl they can prove grotesque.

Mrs. Richard Dant also entertained at a shower in her home on East Ypsilanti Avenue.

A reception in the Italian-American Club will follow the April 23 nuptials in St. Michael's Catholic Church.

Three Units of Sorority Will Meet

Mrs. Roberta Grayson will present "Jewels in your Home" at the Kappa Kappa Gamma Alumnae Association meeting on Tuesday.

Mrs. Gordon Boling of Birmingham will be hostess for the 12:30 p.m. event.

Assisting Mrs. Boling will be Mrs. Robert Wessels, Mrs. Conrad Lam and Mrs. James Hughes.

AFTERNOON GROUP

That same day at 4 p.m. the evening group will meet at the Orchard Lake home of Mrs. N. Howard Herbat to hear about "Fashions and Fabrics" presented by the Detroit Edison Co.

Assisting the hostess will be Mrs. John F. Taylor and Mrs. Jon H. Klingsepp.

MORNING GROUP

The morning group will meet the following day at 9:30 a.m. in the Birmingham home of Mrs. F. W. Allen.

Rules Soften Social Path

CHAPTER 21

Continuing with the P's and Q's of table manners and talk, here are a few more important how-to's which will help you attain that poised and at ease feeling when dining:

Bring your cheeriest self to a meal. No one wants to hear about your latest headache, or that you failed a final. Save bad news for after dinner — it'll be better for everyone's digestion (including yours).

Never discuss squeamish things like snakes, ladybugs, and centipedes at the table. And don't go into a detailed description of the latest case of Virus X, either. Parts of the anatomy are out, too.

Sit up straight at the table. Don't imitate an airplane with your elbows, hunch over your plate like Oliver Twist, or tilt way back in your chair as if you were about to doze off.

Don't do affected little things like sticking out your pinky when you hold a glass or cup. Act natural.

Keep an eagle eye out for a particularly gracious eater. Watch the way he or she uses knives, forks and so on, take mental notes, and practice in private.

Never play piggy and talk with your mouth full or chew with your mouth open.

Sit coffee or tea "once-around-lightly" — you're not mixing cake batter. Place the spoon on your saucer after stirring. Ditto long stirrers and spoons — remove after stirring.

NO FINGERS

Don't munch chicken, lamb chops, etc., with your fingers unless you're at an outdoor picnic or your hostess indicates that you may.

Stay calm and poised. If you splash water all over the tablecloth, apologize quietly and quickly. If you drop a fork, leave it alone and pick up another, or ask your hostess for a new fork.

Never remove food from your mouth with your napkin. If you've nabbed an "unchevable," place it on your fork and then on the side of your plate. Fish bones, pits and nut shells are easier — just remove them with your fingers. Place your knife and fork together in the upper middle of your plate when you've finished eating.

Keep your plate in front of you until it's removed. Pushing it away from you or to one side is the worst.

WAIT A BIT

Don't dash away from the table when you've finished eating. Wait until your hostess indicates that the meal is over. If you have to leave in the middle, ask to be excused, and push in your chair when leaving.

If conversation at the table lags, you might bring up a pleasant subject of current interest — not a strongly controversial one or you'll have people screaming and throwing soup bowls at each other. And don't ignore either dinner partner, even though the boy on your right looks like Troy Donahue and the boy on your left looks like a buck-toothed beaver. Divide your attention equally.

When dining out don't annoy other diners by talking or laughing loudly, or commenting on the quality of the food. Be discreet. You may be horrified by frogs legs and snails, but others consider them gourmet delights; don't spoil their fun.

Beware of gossiping or mentioning names in public places. You never know whose best friend is sitting right behind you.

BE CONSIDERATE

Don't comb your hair at the table, or place purse or other personal belongings on any table or lunch counter. And don't read or dawdle if people are waiting for tables — they're mean and hungry!

Even if you're having coffee at a lunch counter, a minimum tip should be left (unless there's a "no tipping" sign, of course). Fifteen percent of the total bill is the accepted minimum tip in this country. Twenty percent is considered fairly generous.

From the book published by G. P. Putnam's Sons. (C) 1965 by Emily Wilkens. Distributed by King Features Syndicate.

Bedrooms Today Are Fashionable

Do you know that you no longer make a bed? Now you "dress a bed." That word comes from leading textile and dye manufacturers. According to the Textile Dye Institute, fashion has taken over the boudoir in a big way.

As representatives of the nation's leading dye and textile manufacturers, the Institute found an increasing acceptance of the complete color concept for bed linens, draperies and rugs in bedroom decor. (Does this mean you might even read a teen-age daughter into action by saying "Go dress up your bed, dear?")

SEW SIMPLE

By Eunice Farmer

Thanks for all your wonderful letters; you make me feel so "needed." I hope I can always be your humble teacher.

May I turn the tables and ask you to come to my rescue? Our annual Flea Market (proceeds for a worthy charity) will be held in May and guess what—they asked me to work in the Button-Booth. I'm fresh out of ideas for boxes and boxes of unmatched buttons and I'm sure there must be some clever ideas (besides button brackets).

Please send me any ideas you have and I'll promise to pass the best ones on to you for possible use in bazaars, etc. Thanks!

Dear Eunice Farmer:

I lined my spring suit in a print silk. When I put it on for the first time to wear it I was upset because I could see the shadow of the print through my sleeves. How can we avoid this, or am I overly fussy? Mrs. B. F.

Dear Mrs. B. F.:

This is a very important point to check on before beginning with the lining. Usually with fabrics that aren't too closely woven they would be underlined, which is probably why you weren't aware of this when lining the entire jacket. Since it is seldom that we underline the sleeves, it would naturally show up in this area.

I would suggest using a solid-colored lining, the background color of the print for the sleeve lining. It is usually not too noticeable to have a contrasting sleeve lining. If you don't care for this idea, you could underline the sleeve lining with a light-weight soft fabric before applying to your garment.

TAILOR TRIX WINNER

Mrs. Irma Rhodes, Fort Worth, Tex., is this week's winner of a Tailor Trix Pressing Board for this great suggestion.

"If your little girl is just like mine, she grows inches every time I turn around. I had six practically new full-skirted slips for her. They never wore out; just got too short. I came up with a real winner and money-saver.

"I bought some fine white cotton, used an old slip for a pattern and cut a bodice for the slips, allowing at least six inches more than necessary in length. Starting just below the armbands, I sewed a series of tucks all around the bodice, then I attached an old full skirt.

"It is not too bulky and gives me six inches of growing before it will be discarded. Just let out one of the tucks at a time!"

Would you sew more if you could fit yourself? You can, with the aid of my newest booklet "Your Pattern and You." This detailed booklet covers almost every possible figure problem and how to change your pattern the easy way. Send 25 cents and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope with your request to Sew Simple in care of The Pontiac Press. Your copy will be sent to you in time for your spring and summer sewing.

By MARY FEELEY
Consultant in Money Management

If you're young, single, head of your own household and have your own income, you're generally known in today's jargon as one of the growing group of "Primary Individuals."

This means something to a lot of merchants, who MARY FEELEY buy a lot of merchandise because you have any responsibilities. The theory is that you don't have any responsibilities simply because you're young and single, and there are no older relatives around the place to tell you how to handle your money.

Well, consider me your older relative for today. I maintain that with your first paycheck, your first head-of-household venture, you do have responsibilities. And I hate to hear this year of 1966 called the "age of self-indulgence."

From the letters you write to me, I think a lot of you young singles — men and women — are more or less marking time to see how the pattern in life will shape up. Will you marry or will you not?

Whether you do or don't, you have responsibilities to assume the minute you become one of these "Primary Individuals."

Your major responsibility —

Measles Are Still Threat to Children

More than 11 million children are now protected against common measles infection and the threat of serious medical complications or even death. Still, between nine and 10 million still have to be inoculated before measles can be eradicated.

INCREASES

The reported cases of measles for 1965 are down, but 17 states reported increases: Massachusetts, Rhode Island, Connecticut, Wisconsin, Minnesota, Missouri, South Dakota, Delaware, West Virginia, Georgia, Arkansas, Louisiana, Idaho, Wyoming, Colorado, Utah, and Hawaii.

Less than 300,000 cases were reported to the Public Health Service for 1965 but this is believed to be only a fraction of the real total. The Surgeon General's Advisory Committee on Measles Control estimates that "in an average year, 4 million children in this country contract measles."

Effective vaccines have been available for two and a half years and since the introduction of the new one-shot Schwarz strain vaccine a year ago over 7 million children have been vaccinated — more than double the total for the previous year.

Primary Individuals, Watch Those Pennies

to yourself as well as to the discussing with a reliable agent people who may influence your life — is to look upon money as a building material. You can now and later. Weigh the advantages and disadvantages of money. I don't say "don't spend." I'm all in favor of spending, because that's how you make money do the things you want it to do.

But give some thoughtful attention to HOW you spend. And remember that spending involves "savings" — because in the final analysis, the definition of proper spending is wise distribution of your income.

As a Primary Individual, you also have the responsibility to pay taxes, establish a good credit rating, contribute to community projects in some way, handle your own medical costs, further your business career through some form of study if possible.

I urge you to project your thinking — and spending. For example: Insurance. Put your mind to

Classic Films Coming to Community House

A Classic Film Series with three separate showings is planned at The Community House in Birmingham.

The educational and entertainment series will offer movies dating to the film industry's inception and include more recent films.

The three programs are: "An Evening With Chaplin," Wednesday; "The Jazz Singer," with Al Jolson April 27; and "Public Enemy," May 4, starring James Cagney, Jean Harlow and Joan Blondell. The latter includes the famous "grapefruit scene."

The shows begin at 8 p.m. in The Community House's main auditorium. Series and single program tickets are available now.

FOR CHILDREN

Returning to The Community House by popular demand is Detroit television's Jerry Booth who will bring his children's show "Fun House" for two performances Saturday.

An added attraction will be "LaThom, the Magician." LaThom has appeared on television and for many organizations, school and club programs. His disappearing act has become a trademark.

Tickets are on sale now at The Community House. Show times are 10:30 a.m. to noon and 1:30 to 3:00 p.m. Adult chaperones will be in attendance. The number of tickets is limited.

What? Can 007 and Pals Be Slipping?

LONDON (UPI) — Britain's secret service is in for a big overhaul following several serious intelligence failures, the London Daily Express reported today.

The newspaper said the secret service people have been caught napping several times during the last few months, and this was seriously embarrassing Prime Minister Harold Wilson.

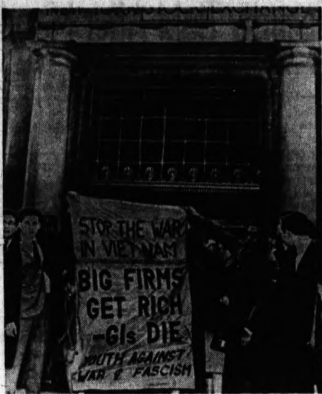

It said the director general of the secret service — known only as "C" for security reasons — is due to retire this year in any case, and consideration was being given to reducing the retirement age from 60 to 55.

The story listed the following intelligence slips:

- The secret service had no idea of what was coming when Singapore suddenly broke away from Malaysia eight months ago.

- Prime Minister Wilson was in Nigeria two days before the coup there and the assassination of Nigerian leaders, including federal Premier Sir Abubakar Balewa. The secret service was not tipped off.

- There was no advance warnings when Ghana's president Kwame Nkrumah was deposed.

Students at Waterford Schools Participating in Science Exhibit

Students from Mason and Pierce Junior High Schools are participating in Waterford's annual science display which began today at Pontiac Mall.

The exhibit, which will continue through Saturday, also features works of students from Waterford Township and Waterford Kettering High Schools.

Two or three entries are expected from Mason. Included is a machine designed to measure the accuracy of the trial and error method of solving a problem.

Most of the Pierce projects are in the areas of biology and physics, according to science teacher Bobby Joe Grider.

Included is a handmade computer that works and a study of the adverse effects that bleaching and other color treatments have on hair.

RESULTS OF TESTING

One of the featured high school projects is a study of thermoluminescence which consists of results of testing with a method used to determine age and origin of various rocks with crystalline structure.

Entries will not be judged, according to Arthur Lake, a Waterford Township High School chemistry instructor.

Lake added that the change was made to discourage student from spending large amounts of money for a prize-winning project and because a fair selection could not be made with high school and junior high displays together.

Director Wyler Wins Award From Academy

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Veteran director William Wyler has been voted the Motion Picture Academy's Irving C. Thalberg Award for his consistently high level of film making.

The academy also named Edmund L. de Patie, vice president of Warner Bros., for the Jean Herschell Award, honoring humanitarian service.

U.S. to Buy Europe Meat for Military

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government plans to seek supplies of beef and pork in Europe to help feed American military men there.

The Defense Department disclosed today that its procurement officials will work with the Agriculture Department in bartering American crop surpluses for supplies of European meat.

Such procurement would reduce military demands on American supplies of meat at a time when the administration is interested in bringing down food prices, particularly pork, in an effort to combat inflation.

The government also would utilize the foreign currencies this country has accumulated by selling food surpluses to needy countries under the Food for Peace program. This would save defense dollars not only for the purchase of meats but for their transportation overseas.

Defense Department officials said the amount of meat obtained in Europe would be small compared with total U.S. meat production.

The foreign procurement plan is an extension of a Feb. 17 Defense Department order cutting in half its purchase of pork — particularly bacon — for servicemen in this country.

The annual purchasing power of America's approximately 22 million Negroes this year has been estimated at $27 billion.

Crisis Shakes Greek Regime

ATHENS, Greece (AP) — Greece's six-month-old government was left badly shaken to day following the resignations of two Cabinet members. Premier Stephanos Stephanopoulos, however, said he was confident it would survive.

Within 24 hours Stephanopoulos had his foreign and social welfare ministers quit in a bitter dispute over the government's Cyprus policy, and his slim parliamentary majority was swept away.

But after a conference with King Constantine Tuesday night the premier said he felt sure the government would win a confidence vote in Parliament if opposition forces asked for one.

Parliament is scheduled to convene April 19. Stephanopoulos' three-party coalition held a majority of three seats in the 300-member House before the crisis erupted over who would control Cyprus' National Guard.

THREE SUPPORTERS

Today the government held only 150 seats, but there were unconfirmed reports that at least three deputies from the opposition Center Union party would back Stephanopoulos in a showdown.

The premier's meeting with the king followed an emergency Cabinet meeting Tuesday night. The remaining ministers unanimously supported Stephanopoulos and said "there was no serious disagreement on the handling of the Cyprus question."

Stephanopoulos had warned that if the Cabinet did not back him, his government would resign.

TROUBLES BEGAN

Stephanopoulos' troubles began Monday when his foreign minister and deputy premier, Elias Tsirimokos, resigned to protest the government's support of Gen. George Grivas, commander of the Cyprus National Guard. Social Welfare Minister Michael Galinos resigned for the same reason in a surprise move Tuesday night.

Grivas was sent to the Mediterranean island by the Athens government two years ago when fighting broke out between Greek and Turkish Cypriots.

Cyprus—President Makarios has been trying to dislodge Grivas and place the 12,000-man National Guard under the Cyprus Defense Ministry. Stephanopoulos said he would take over the Foreign Ministry portfolio temporarily and that Deputy Premier George Athanasiadis would fill the social welfare vacancy.

The Republic of Indonesia, which covers 777,000 square miles of land, is almost three times the size of Texas.

Blowing Up Bagel Bakery Bad Business

NEW YORK (AP) — An arsonist in staged "shorts" now knows that blowing up a bagel bakery is a hazardous business.

The fire marshal's office said Tuesday the arsonist's trousers were burned off in a bungled attempt to blow up the Tri-Boro Bagel Bakery in Queens, and he fled in his undershorts.

Fire officials said five dynamite blasting caps were found inserted into flour sacks which had been drenched with gasoline.

A man was seen running from the bakery in his undershorts before firemen arrived.

Security Tight After Maryland Jail Riots

BREATHEDSVILLE, Md. charged through recreation rooms, hallways and dormitory, smashing furniture, windows and light fixtures. Peppersack estimated damage at $20,000.

Officials sought the cause of rioting in which three prisoners, four guards and two state troopers were injured.

Commissioner of Correction Vernon L. Peppersack said work details and recreation breaks were curtailed in the medium security prison raked Tuesday by gunfire and violence.

Inmates, apparently still smoldering from two Monday night incidents in which guards were attacked, rioted in the dining hall during the breakfast period Tuesday.

They hurled trays, metal pitchers and tableware, then

Coast Tribes Said Isolated

By Science Service
CHICAGO—The Indians of Southern California may have lived in more isolation and been less disturbed by pressures and influences of productive civilization than even the African Bushmen or Pygmies or the Eskimos.

Three tribes still existing today offer valuable material for helping reconstruct information on how prehistoric man lived: the aboriginal Australians, the Ge tribes of eastern Brazil, and to a somewhat lesser extent, the aboriginal Californians.

Dr. James Deetz of the University of California at Santa Barbara reported this in a panel discussion before the symposium on "Man the Hunter." The four-day symposium, held at the University of Chicago's Center for Continuing Education, was sponsored by the Wenner-Gren Foundation for Anthropological Research of New York.

Other primitive tribes such as the Bushmen, Pygmies or Eskimos who still hunt game for their food, were influenced in some way by other people throughout the ages.

Epilepsy Can Be Curbed by Proper Drugs

Q—Are you born with epilepsy or can it be caused by an injury?

A—Both. The cause of idiopathic epilepsy is unknown but in many victims heredity appears to play a part. Symptomatic epilepsy may be caused by an injury to the brain, a brain tumor or an infection involving the brain.

BRANDSTADT

Q—Is any medical research being centered on finding a cure for epilepsy? What are the chances that a cure will be found?

A—The American Epilepsy Society (330 Ninth Ave., Salt Lake City 2, Utah). The Epilepsy Foundation (1729 F St. N.W., Washington 6, D.C.) and The National Epilepsy League (206 N. Wells St., Chicago, Ill. 60606) are voluntary health organizations that promote general education regarding this disease and support various research projects. Although no permanent cure has been found there are several drugs which, taken in the proper dosage for the individual epileptic, will effectively control the seizures in a large portion of cases.

You must remember, however, that epilepsy is not a single disease but a group of diseases with many causes and no one treatment can be applied to all.

Q—Can convulsive seizures with amnesia or syncope with amnesia be caused by an emotional upset when brain wave tests fail to show any evidence of epilepsy and treatment with an anticonvulsant (Dilantin) has not been effective?

A—Convulsions or fainting, with or without a loss of memory for the period covered by the attack, may be caused by hysteria which is essentially a disorder of the emotions.

The pattern of such convulsions is quite different from that of epilepsy; the brain wave findings are different, and the drugs used to control epilepsy would be of no value.

National Computer System May Soon Aid All Patrolmen

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Sacramento but the alleged policeman on the beat may soon be augmenting his traditional tools of the trade—gun, night-stick and handcuffs—with a lightning-quick national crime information system virtually at his fingertips.

A patrolman in Portland, Maine, may spot a suspicious-looking car bearing California license plates. He telephones his dispatcher, who operates a typewriterlike device that puts him in instant contact with Washington.

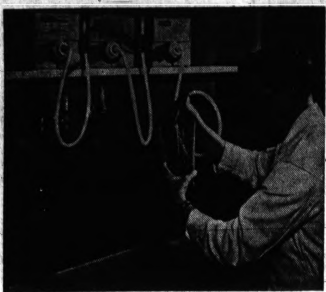

Here, the FBI's computerized National Crime Information Center grinds out a speedy reply. Within a minute, the Portland patrolman is told that not only has the car been stolen in

While the bureau acknowledges it may be several years before the highly complex computer systems are fully developed at local levels, it hopes to go into business next January in cooperation with several existing local systems like those in California, St. Louis and New York City.

Eventually, the network is expected to link all 50 states and the District of Columbia and to be supplemented by an information exchange with Canada.

The goal is to make available to every law enforcement agency a nationwide crime information service in a matter of seconds. The electronic network is seen as an effective weapon against the increasing mobility of let-age criminals.

"No longer," the FBI says, "will the mobility of today's criminal element afford a sanctuary, even temporary, as in automobiles, other stolen property, and some wanted persons."

Projectors Lead Dual Life

By IRVING DESFOR
AP Newfeatures

Change in the home movie field to the new Super 8 format is a great success but the photographic industry at its recent trade show in Cleveland reveals a practical concern for its fans and our huge prior investment in regular 8mm home movies.

They unveiled more projectors capable of leading a dual life in film projection to join the models previously introduced by Kodak and Honeywell/Elmo.

Among them, two DeLur Versatile models switch instantly from standard Super 8 film to the Full Single-8 film format, even when they are spliced together on the same reel.

The projectors have simplified sprocketless film feed whereby a mere dial turn makes the change in screening. Another DeLur feature is a compact, built-in preview screen.

Karl Heltz showed an import from Liechtenstein, the Carena 8mm Convertible for sound and silent projection. It also has a simple lever to convert from regular to Super 8 film format.

MOVIE CAMERA
Honeywell introduced an innovation in movie camera design whereby any one of the three film formats, now available may be used in the same camera.

In its Tri-Filmatic 8 camera, the rear one-third is detachable and a magazine added which accepts Super 8 film; another magazine uses the Single-8 and a third magazine is for regular 8mm film.

In its Dual-Filmatic, Honeywell provides a choice of either a Super 8 or Single-8 film magazine to be added. The cameras have manual or automatic exposure control with a 9 to 36mm f1.8 power zoom lens.

In the still camera field, the 35mm Konica Auto-Reflex claims to be the first fully automatic single-lens reflex with interchangeable lenses and a focal plane shutter.

SHUTTER SPEED
The photographer selects a shutter speed first, sets the lens on its "EE" position and the meter on "ON."

The viewfinder then shows the correct "F" stop for the scene pictured. The lens will close automatically to that stop when the picture is snapped... then reopen to full aperture.

The automatic feature remains undisturbed when lenses are interchanged but the photographer can override the electric eye at will while referring to the exposure reading in the viewfinder.

Another unique feature of the Auto-Reflex is a selection lever which permits half-frame or full frame use of the camera.

MOVE INTO PLACE
Curtains move into place and a portion of the viewfinder, shown by fine etched lines and two pointers which appear, indicates the half-frame format.

A Hexanon 47 to 100mm 1/2.5 zoom lens for half-frame operation is one of the interchangeable lenses available.

This is roughly equivalent in coverage to that of a 70 to 150mm lens for full-frame 35mm.

In the accessory field, Kallmar of St. Louis introduced auxiliary telephoto and wide angle lens units to fit all Instamatic cameras and the Polaroid 20 Swinger.

MORE AREA
They bring objects a bit closer or include more area than normal lenses do.

Kallmar also offers a refillable, reusable flashcube unit which accepts less costly AG1 or more powerful AG 3B flashbulbs.

After a Kent PC/AG flash unit is fired four times, a built-in ejector removes all four used bulbs at once, the unit is reloaded and ready for four more flash pictures.

Congo Votes April 25
LEOPOLDVILLE, Congo (AP) — Elections for governors of the Congo's new unified provinces will be held April 25, the interior ministry announced yesterday. The most important test is expected in Elisabethville where Godfried Mumongo, a close ally of former prime minister Moise Tshombe, faces strong opposition.

Vote Is Near on Hospital Group Curbs

LANSING (AP) — Corrective legislation prompted by charges of misuse of public funds in the People's Community Hospital Authority (PCHA) advanced Tuesday to the final voting stage in the Senate.

In preliminary debate the measure was amended to provide that PCHA's $3-million surplus would be returned proportionately to its 23 member communities in Southeastern Michigan.

The amendment also provided that anyone on the authority's board of trustees within the past three years could not be part of any group purchasing the assets of PCHA.

Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley has charged Kenneth Grenier, former executive director of PCHA, with irregularities in handling PCHA funds.

EXCESSIVE RATES
Later, State Treasurer Allison Green reported patients in the four PCHA-operated hospitals were paying excessive rates while PCHA accumulated "an excessive cash reserve."

The Senate bill would: —Provide for one trustee from each participating community, rather than allowing additional trustees according to population. The present provision makes for an unwieldy board, backers say.

—Pay trustees $25 a day, removing the need to use expense accounts to compensate them. —Require the board "to ascertain that the administrative officers of the authority carry out the policies of the board."

—Specify that a trustee may not be an employee, physician or anyone doing business with the hospital.

—Provide that if the authority conveys its assets to a nonprofit corporation, all funds paid by each member unit will be repaid to them and the authority dissolved. Present law provides for conveyance "without monetary consideration."

Army Activation Set
WASHINGTON (AP) — The Defense Department will activate the Army's 190th Infantry Brigade in June at Ft. Benning, Ga. It is the second of three new brigades being activated by the Army.

No Tax Hike in Budget of Detroit Mayor

DETROIT (AP) — Asking no new taxes, Mayor Jerome Cavanagh Tuesday asked Common Council to approve a balanced $400.2-million budget for 1966-67, up $23.8 million from the budget of the current fiscal year.

Included in the increase was a previously announced $17.3-million pay raise for city employees, 104 new buses and a new terminal; a citywide leaf pick up next fall, and an expanded juvenile delinquency program.

All city employees would find their pay increased 3 percent or 15 cents an hour, whichever was higher. Police and firemen would get added boosts.

"Because of the city's high level of prosperity and with sound management of city affairs," Cavanagh said, "we are able to expand our present programs in many fields while remaining fiscally sound."

INCOME REVENUE

The budget estimates city income tax revenue this year at $47 million and for next year at $51.7 million. Sales tax was estimated at $17.5 million, up $2.6 million, and traffic court fines were reported up $1.4 million for a total of $7.5 million.

A merger of welfare service effective in December 1966, was expected to cut costs by $1 million.

Businessmen to Honor State's Congressmen

WASHINGTON (AP) — Some 400 Michigan business leaders have been invited to attend a dinner honoring Michigan's congressional delegation during the annual U. S. Chamber of Commerce meeting May 2.

Robert P. Gerholz of Flint, retiring president of the U. S. Chamber of Commerce, and Sen. Philip A. Hart, D-Mich., are expected to address the affair.

Lesson Proves Expensive
in Law Student's First Case

ANN ARBOR 1P — A crusading University of Michigan law student who lost a challenge to a utility company over a $25 fee admits "It was a very expensive lesson."

"But I haven't lost a thing experience-wise," philosophized Perry Christy, who still is thinking of appealing his case to the State Supreme Court.

The Court of Appeals upheld the Washtenaw County Circuit Court yesterday in the first case Christy formally argued. He estimates the fight over the $25 cost him more than $200—plus his time.

"All you learn in law school is the words," said Christy. "There is nothing like finding out what life is all about."

Christy objected when he was told by the Detroit Edison Co. he would have to leave a $25 security deposit for electrical service when he moved to Ann Arbor from Cincinnati, Ohio.

SUED FOR RECOVERY
He paid under protest and sued for recovery of the money. After the Circuit Court ruled for the utility Christy took his case to the Appeals Court.

Christy started his case in his first year of the U. of M. law school. Now he's 23 and midway through his senior year.

Christy said it is every law student's dream to win his first case.

He didn't win, but it did take Chief Appeals Court Judge T. John Lesinski to write the verdict affirming the decision of the Circuit Court.

TOWN IS STARRY-EYED — Mrs. Annabelle Martin applies the finishing touches to a big painting of astronaut Neil Armstrong as his home town of Wapakoneta, Ohio, prepared for today's big "welcome home" celebration. Downtown stores are draped with flags and posters honoring Armstrong, who was command pilot of the Gemini 8 mission.

Tornadoes Hit
Arkansas Area

By United Press International
A system of violent weather which spawned at least two tornadoes in Arkansas, spread from the mid-Mississippi Valley to the Mid-Atlantic Coast today. A tornado which was posted for extreme southeast Arkansas, portions of central and north Mississippi, west and mid-Tennessee and extreme north-west Alabama.

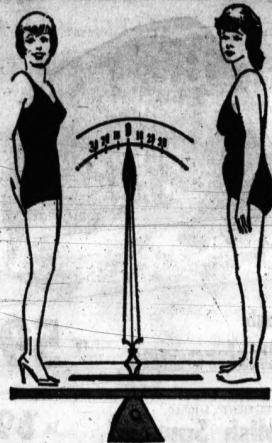

An area north of Sheridan, Ark. was hit by a tornado late last night.

At least seven homes were heavily damaged when the twister touched the ground along U.S. 187 about six miles north of Sheridan.

Another tornado touched down at Searcy, Ark., and 20 miles east a Pine Bluff policeman reported another funnel cloud but neither apparently did little, if any damage.

Junior Editors Quiz on SNAKES

QUESTION: How can serum cure a bite from a poisonous snake?

ANSWER: Poisonous snakes inject a powerful poison or venom through their fangs when they bite someone. Such a bite can prove fatal unless treated in some way.

The best treatment is to use anti-venom serum, which is often carried in first aid kits.

This material is made by injecting large animals with repeated small amounts of snake venom, until their bodies build up resistance to the poison by producing what are called antivenoms.

Blood from the treated animals is taken and the serum or watery part of the blood separated. When this is injected into a person, it enables his body to resist the action of the poison.

Our picture shows the four main kinds of poisonous snakes living in the U.S.A. You will often hear rules as to how to tell these apart from the harmless snakes.

But these rules cannot be trusted, for there are so many resemblances between poisonous and harmless snakes that only an expert can be trusted to tell them apart.

Our picture shows some of these resemblances. Notice the thick bodies of both rattlesnakes and hognose snakes, for one example. It is best to leave them all strictly alone.

FOR YOU TO DO: If you or someone else is bitten by a snake and you have a snake bite or first aid kit, follow directions exactly and call a doctor. If without a kit, there are other things you can do. If you live where there are poisonous snakes, find out about first aid remedies.

Winds of Discontent Chill Pakistan Chief

LAHORE, Pakistan (AP) — Strongman President Ayub Khan, for years safe from political winds, is being chilled by strong breezes of discontent. Many of his foreign and domestic policies are being criticized openly.

Here in the West Pakistan city of Lahore, and elsewhere, Ayub has replied with arrests.

Local Youth Wins Eagle Scout Rank

Fred Travis, 16, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Travis, 80 Cherokee, has been awarded the Eagle Scout rank from Troop 5, Boy Scouts of America, here.

Travis won the highest rank in Scouting recently at a troop meeting in the First Congregational Church. He is a Junior at Pontiac Central High School.

that make it unlikely the breezes will grow into a gale. But many Pakistanis and foreign observers feel the 58-year-old ex-soldier may have to rely less on his field marshal's charm and more on adroit politics to keep things in hand.

Interviews with always volatile students and experienced opposition politicians indicate two elements are behind the unrest:

Pakistanis believe Ayub when he claimed victory in last September's war with India over Kashmir and they cannot understand why he signed the Tashkent declaration, which some regard as a conference-table surrender of battlefield laurels.

West Pakistan's control of this divided nation's military and government angers East Pakistan, which has more than half the country's 110 million population. Eastern demands for autonomy are growing.

Ayub is handling the anti-Tashkent agitation with an iron glove on one hand, a soft glove on the other.

Student demonstrations against the declaration soon after it was signed were subdued by police. Five youths were killed. Many opposition politicians who attack the declaration are being arrested.

At the same time, Ayub is forcibly restating Pakistan's claim to Indian-held Kashmir. This is aimed at quieting fears that he renounced the claim at Tashkent.

East Pakistan's unrest seems

Boy Scouts to Seek Underground Mark

NEW YORK (UPI) — A Boy Scout troop will do battle with the underground today in an attempt to cover every inch of New York City's subway system in less than 24 hours.

The scouts, from troop 90 in Whitestone, Queens, will attempt to shatter the existing record of slightly more than 29 hours, set in 1964.

A group of mathematics scholars from Massachusetts Institute of Technology covered the complex labyrinth without buying an extra subway token last week but failed to break the record.

Nicotine Plays Double Role

By Science Service
NEW YORK — Smokers who use cigarettes to calm their nerves should be aware that nicotine can be both a depressant and a stimulant. Nicotine injections slow down rats during the night, when they are normally active, but in the daytime when they usually rest, the injections increase their activity.

Researchers told a conference on the effects of nicotine on the central nervous system that in strains of rats with a very high level of performance, nicotine has an impairing effect. Strains with a low performance are helped to a certain kind of learning.

Dr. D. Bovet and F. Bovet-Nitti of the University of Sassari in Italy and Dr. A. Oliverio of the University of California School of Medicine, Los Angeles, reported the rat studies at the conference, which was sponsored by the New York Academy of Sciences.

Various approaches to the question of why people smoke tobacco are being taken in animal experiments.

4th Star With Mate Tentatively Found

By Science Service
WASHINGTON — A fourth star has been tentatively identified as having an unseen companion, either a large planet or a small star.

The provisional identification was made by Dr. Peter van de Kamp, director of Swarthmore College's Sproul Observatory, where observations of the other three stars having unseen companions were made.

Dr. van de Kamp told Science Service in a telephone interview that the 10th magnitude star is relatively close to the sun, 118 plus five degrees 1966, as the star is known, is 13 light years away, or 78 million million miles.

The possible unseen companion was detected only by pushing measurements to their limit. Astronomers hope future observations will confirm the tentative identification.

Unseen objects circling a visible star are detected by measuring the amount of wobble they produce in the motion of the main star. The companion of 1968 appears to have twice the mass of Jupiter, but this figure may have to be changed, Dr. van de Kamp said.

OTHER PLANETS
Confirmation of this calculation would strengthen the belief of many scientists that there are other planets in the universe besides the earth and the eight others in the solar system.

Discovery of a planet named Barnard's Star B, which is a dark, lifeless giant half again as heavy as Jupiter, was reported by Dr. van de Kamp on April 17, 1963.

Identifying this object as a planet indicated that the universe abounds with planets. Some astronomers estimate that at least 100 million of them have some form of life.

The two stars besides Barnard B known to have unseen companions are the 61 Cygni system, discovered in 1943 by Dr. K. A. Strand now director of the U.S. Naval Observatory, and Lalande 21185, discovered in 1960 by Dr. Sarah Lee Lippincott.

The problems involved in measuring the motions of stars were reported by Dr. van de Kamp to the Pennsylvania Academy of Science meeting in Bethlehem, Pa. He cited the 1968 object as an example of the difficulties involved in deciding whether or not the variations measured on photographic plates were real.

The Salvation Army was established by William Booth in the slums of East London in 1865. In 1965, the Director Robert A. Yerkes said.

YOU SAY YOU READ THE WANT ADS, BUT YOU HAVE NEVER USED ONE?

If that is the case, you have been missing a good bet. Did you know that, on the average, there are about five times every year when a person could profitably use a Want Ad? Now what you use the ad for will vary according to many circumstances. But Want Ads can help out in so many different ways that almost everyone can use them.

Anytime you want to deliver a message to many people, whether it be to sell something, find something, rent a vacant room or property, or buy something, no matter how unusual your communication need may be, Want Ads are ready and able to help you. And the cost is most reasonable.

For more information, or to place your ad, call a friendly, well trained Ad-Visor by dialing 332-8181

'Can't Happen to Me' Is Smoker Rationalization, Survey Finds

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Why do people continue to smoke even though they are convinced it may be harmful? Dr. Bernard Mauser, after a four-year study financed by the U.S. Public Health Service, believes it is because they reject as intolerable the idea that their own health could be affected.

"Most people will agree with the proposition that smoking may be injurious to health," Mauser, a psychologist at Beaver College in suburban Jenkintown, said today.

But, he went on, "No smoker really can visualize himself as suffering from any of the major diseases associated with smoking."

"To think of one's self as a victim of lung cancer or coronary artery disease is inconceivable."

WILL KEEP PUFFING

Thus, he believes, most people will keep puffing away.

In interviews and reports covering his studies, Mauser describes how subjects were shown the chain of reasoning that leads scientists to the conclusion that smoking is bad and what the consequences are.

"Our hypothesis was that if they were shown this information they would quit smoking," he said.

However, at the end of the experiments, he found that although most smokers agreed smoking was harmful and something should be done about it, "Nobody stopped smoking on the basis of the changed attitude — although a small proportion cut down."

THREE REASONS

Mauser believes there are three basic reasons why people smoke:

— "The self-image. I think people are always proving to themselves and to the outside world. And you can prove to yourself, by the gestures you make smoking, that you're sophisticated, or tough, or thoughtful, or nervous, or placid and calm."

— "Enjoyment, tension relief, the general emotional rewards."

— "Social reasons: It's a kind of cement that ties people together."

Aspirant: Call U. N. Into Viet

U.S. Senate candidate James L. Elisman, a Birmingham attorney, said yesterday that the United Nations should be called into Viet Nam.

Elisman, 175 N. Adams, is seeking the Democratic nomination for the seat held by retiring Sen. Patrick V. McNamara.

Elisman said the U.N. should "halt hostilities and seek a peace settlement and eventual elections, which Viet Nam should be prepared to accept, however they turn out."

"A South Viet Nam with North Vietnamese control would be preferable to driving the whole country into the hands of the Chinese as nearly happened in North Korea, and risking the big nuclear war."

Elisman, whose speech was titled "Why Run for the Senate," concluded that "if our moral position in Viet Nam was stronger, I would not be so willing to leave or if the people wanted us to stay genuinely."

Washtenaw Chairman

ANN ARBOR (AP) — Ypsilanti Township Supervisor Roy Smith was elected chairman of the Washtenaw County Board Tuesday. Named vice chairman was Bent F. Nielsen of Ann Arbor.

AFTER AN ACIDIC WALK — Mrs. Judy Vance, 23, a secretary at the U.S. Air Force Aeronautical Chart and Information Center in St. Louis, Mo., changes her stockings after a noon walk yesterday. Sulfuric acid mist in the air around the chart center causes the stockings to disintegrate after a short time.

At GOP Dinners

State to Hear Ike by Phone

LANSING (AP) — Former President Dwight Eisenhower will not be in Lansing April 23 for a Republican fund-raising affair.

But he has agreed to speak to a network of GOP banquets by telephone from Indio, Calif., where he is resting, Republican spokesmen said yesterday.

Eight dinners will be held April 23 to honor the birthday of Gen. Lucius Clay, GOP national finance chairman.

Speakers and sites:

Alpena, Sen. Thurston Morton of Keweenaw; Battle Creek, Robert Taft Jr. of Ohio; Cadillac, former Congressman Walter Judd of Minnesota; Lansing, Clay, Gov. George Romney, Col. John Eisenhower, son of the former President, and Mrs. John Eisenhower; Marquette, Rep. Gerald Ford of Michigan and Rep. John Byrnes of Wisconsin; Midland, Republican National Chairman Ray Bliss; Saginaw, Gov. John Love of Colorado; Sault Ste. Marie, Gov. John Knowles of Wisconsin.

Sen. Morton will speak again at Jackson May 10, and Gov. John Chafee of Rhode Island will speak at Lansing May 16.

Sen. George Murphy, R-Calif., will speak April 20 in Flint.

'SHRAPNEL APARTMENTS' — Airman 2.C. William Charles of Oakland, N.J., calmly washes clothes atop an underground concrete bunker dubbed "Mortar Square, Shrapnel Apt." at the "Little Alamo" radar installation near Dong Ha, South Viet Nam, a scant five miles from the demilitarized zone that marks the border with North Viet Nam. The outpost monitors air strikes in both Viet Nams.

Viet 'Little Alamo' Helps Control Planes

AP Special Report
DONG HA, South Viet Nam (AP) — The "Little Alamo" is closer to Hanoi than to Saigon, and it has 200,000 sandbags stacked around it to show it knows the geographic difference.

The "Little Alamo" helps to control air strikes in both North and South Viet Nam, and acts as an early warning system against enemy fighter planes from the North.

Like the historic real Alamo at San Antonio, Tex., this little outpost is under siege. And there is another parallel — every one of the Air Force technicians and U.S. Marine guards there is a volunteer.

The camp has been under mortar attack three times. The commander of the group, Maj. Lawrence Cumming, Baytown, Tex., says:

"It's only a matter of time before the Communists attack us on the ground."

OUTPOST COMPLEX

The outpost with its complex of trenches, bunkers and underground command system sits just five miles south of the demilitarized zone that marks the border between North and South Viet Nam.

It contains $7 million worth of radar and electronic equipment. The work that this equipment performs is highly classified, but it is known to monitor all air strikes in both Viet Nams.

The Air Force unit based there is the 630th Tactical Control Squadron, Detachment I.

FOUR MONTHS

The humid and dusty camp has been in existence four months.

"None of the men want to be transferred, even though we know that a North Vietnamese division is sitting outside somewhere," Cummings said.

Airman 2.C. James H. Schneider of Sloatsburg, N.Y., recalls how he manned a 50-caliber machine gun during a mortar attack last month:

"I was frightened, but I feel like I am needed here. And it's a heck of a lot better than guarding planes."

LOVES JOB

Airman W.C. William Charles, an air policeman from Oakland, N.J., who recently volunteered for duty in "Little Alamo," said "I wouldn't have it any other way. I love this job and defending this place."

Cummings has a project under way to combat the dust that pervades the whole camp and the mined barbed wire entanglements outside. Each man in the camp is writing home for two pounds of grass seed.

"It will help dress up the place," Cummings said.

The camp members are also helping out the nearby hamlet of Dong Ha, sending food, clothing and medicine to the people.

RECRUIT CHILDREN

To help clean up the camp, and to wash clothes and serve food, Cummings has recruited 18 Vietnamese children who have lost a mother or father in the war.

A touch of humor lightens the stark nature of the camp.

Massachusetts Sees

Little Sales Tax Harm

BOSTON (AP) — State Commerce Commissioner Theodore C. Schulenberg says Massachusetts won't lose tourists because of the sales tax and may even gain some industry.

He said Massachusetts had "joined practically every other state in adopting the sales tax."

Refugee Centers House About 500,000 Vietnamese

BEN LUC, Viet Nam (UPI) — Nguyen Can Che is a farmer. He, his wife and his three children used to live in Luong Hoa village, 20 miles southeast of Saigon.

Each day Che would awaken early in the morning, eat breakfast and go out to the rice fields. He and his family were relatively happy.

There were some Viet Cong in the area, but there were many Vietnamese soldiers as well. There appeared to be no reason to fear the Viet Cong.

One evening 10 months ago, the Communists shelled the Luong Hoa district. One of the shells fell on Che's home, killing his wife.

Left alone with three children, Che moved from Luong Hoa to Ben Luc district where there was a temporary refugee shelter.

Che now has been living at the refugee center for five months in a many-sectioned long house along with 44 other refugee families.

Che is more fortunate than some of the other men living in the compound. At least he has a job.

He works in a nearby rice field where he earns about 100 piastres a day (less than a dollar).

The camp Che lives in is one of three at Ben Luc.

In all of Viet Nam's 44 provinces, there are nearly a million refugees. Nearly half a million live in temporary camps.

The government gives them seven piastres a day for the first two months they are there. It gives them housing. It gives them a meager ration of rice. And that is all.

The shelters have cement floors and wooden frames. The walls are mostly straw and the roofing is mostly galvanized corrugated sheet iron. They look like squatter's shacks.

The cement and the sheet iron come from the U.S. aid mission. Whatever else the refugees get comes mostly from private agencies, like CARE, the Catholic Relief Organization and others.

During the month of January, private agencies donated 450 tons of rice, maize, sugar, dry milk, clothing, blankets and oil to the refugees. Spread out among a million people, that did not go very far.

Including the sheet iron and cement, U.S. aid gave 3,925 tons of goods. Even that didn't go very far.

Another refugee center, Tra Ba I, had been set up outside of Pleiku, with the idea that families could live there for four or five months, at the most, until they got on their feet again.

Tra Ba I was meant to be a temporary center, until the people could return to Le Thanh district and pick up their lives where they left off or set up homes elsewhere.

After a few months it became apparent that this would be impossible. So a study was made by Vietnamese and Americans and the present site for Tra Ba I resettlement area was chosen. It was close to a water system and near to Pleiku City, providing reasonable security for the people who settled there.

How do you measure growth?

Like this.

$975,000,000

These figures tell a growth story as exciting as Billy and Suzy's measurements marked on the door jamb. And it's a story vitally important to YOU and your family.

They portray the spectacular climb of credit unions. Today, there are over 1,200 in Michigan alone. These credit unions have more than 1 1/2 million members. And current assets now total a whopping 975 million dollars.

Big? Of course . . . but it's why they are big that's important. Credit unions fill a basic need for millions of families all over the free world. They offer services you can get nowhere else . . . things like life insurance on savings to all qualified members as an extra dividend at no extra cost. Credit unions often pay an interest rebate to borrowers at the end of the year.

They lend you money at low rates when you need it. They pay good dividends on savings (all earnings go back to the members). They are in business to help YOU. Sort of explains their fantastic growth, doesn't it? And that raises another question: Isn't it time YOU joined?

For further information, contact the C.U. where you work—or the one in your parish or neighborhood—or write Michigan Credit Union League, 13235 Woodrow Wilson, Detroit, Michigan 48238

U.S. Aid for Planning Sought

Elderly-Housing Funds Asked

An application for federal funds to plan 250 senior citizen apartments was approved last night by the City Commission.

In a 5-1 vote with Commissioner Robert C. Irwin dissenting, the commission okayed the preliminary application, which would give the city $42,500 to plan up to 250 units.

As in past votes on the public housing proposal, Irwin opposed the project on the basis that the city had not adequately studied the proposal and did not know if there was a need for housing for the elderly.

Commissioner Leslie H. Hudson, main advocate of the senior citizen housing, disputed Irwin's view. He added that a definite site had not yet been determined.

City Manager Joseph A. Warren pointed out that the application asks for 250 units, but this would probably be trimmed by federal officials to somewhere around 100.

OTHER BUSINESS

In other business last night, a proposal was approved for the sale of 29.6 acres of city-owned land for $65,000 to the E.R.E. Corp. of Detroit.

The land, located south of the Michigan Air Line railroad tracks on the east side of Orchard Lake Avenue near Berwick, is a former city landfill site.

The Detroit firm, developers of the Grand Prix Apartments on Telegraph, plan to build 300 apartment units and construct a neighborhood-type commercial center.

The city, as part of the land sale deal, is to construct a storm drain the length of the property frontage and extend a sanitary sewer stub to the land.

TOTAL COST

Total cost of these improvements is estimated at $22,000 with sewer tap-in fees expected to bring $65,000 to cover the cost of the improvements.

The commission vacated three alleys: The alley in the block bounded by Paddock, Osmun, Perkins and Wall; the alley bounded by Park, O'Riley, Osmun and Hovey; and the alley bounded by Walton, Hollywood, Colgate and Baldwin.

The vacating of Perkins, Autum south 143 feet, and Center Park to Osmun, was also approved.

Deleted from last night's agenda was consideration of a proposal for the sale of 30 scattered lots in the R20 urban renewal project.

NO APPROVAL
Proposed for residential development, these lots were to be sold to Detroit Construction Co. Action was deleted when federal approval of the sale failed to arrive.

The commission approved the replat of the urban renewal block bounded by Paddock, Wall, Perkins and Osmun.

A petition was received for construction of curb, gutter, grade and gravel and asphaltic concrete on Cameron, Featherstone to Mount Clemens.

Pensions and disciplinary action to a five-member appeals board.

This board will consist of two members of the board of supervisors appointed by the board chairman with board approval, two members selected by county employees and the fifth member selected by the other four.

Competitive examinations will be the basis for filling positions under the merit system. However, present employees will not be required to take examinations.

PROMOTIONAL EXAMS
Promotional examinations may be requested at the discretion of department heads who have a vacancy to be filled.

A previous merit system proposal was rejected by the board last November. Many supervisors objected to the haste with which it was prepared.

Hamlin then named a seven-member study committee to develop the revised proposal approved yesterday.

County officials said that the altered somewhat during its developmental stage in an effort to improve the document before it is put to a vote of the people for formal approval.

The vote on the merit system probably will be scheduled next year.

Food Editor Returns From Texas With New Recipes

By JANET ODELL

Pontiac Press Food Editor

Can you think of any better place to have spent last week than away from Pontiac and its cold and snow showers?

We took advantage of spring vacation and flew to Pharr, Texas for a delightful seven days in the hot sunshine. I can see why Texans brag about their state.

We're not fond of Mexican food so by-passed that. But we did have some excellent seafood the day we visited Padre Island; and we had an excellent Italian meal.

However, most of our meals were home cooked. We were staying in a trailer park where, I think, the women spend half their time thinking up new dishes to prepare.

Each winter when they arrive in the south, they have some special recipes to pass around the park. The Pontiac Press cookbook published the first day of our cooking school is very popular there; I always send down about a dozen copies for my mother to give to her friends.

A new idea I've brought back to try is for a snack food. As soon as mom got the recipe she went right back to the trailer to make some Crunchy Sticks.

CRUNCHY STICKS

10 slices white bread
¼ cup smooth peanut butter
¼ cup salad oil
Remove crusts from bread and cut each slice into five even strips. Place crusts in one pan, strips in another and brown them slowly in a 250-degree oven.

Roll browned crusts with a rolling pin into fine crumbs. Thoroughly mix peanut butter and oil. Dip each strip into this mixture and roll at once in the crumbs.

They are good to serve with a salad or as a snack alone. They will keep indefinitely in a closed tin.

Just as apples, peaches or cherries are not treat for us, fruit, oranges and lemons don't impress the Texans.

But I couldn't take for granted a tree with two dozen grapefruit hanging from its boughs and a myriad of blossoms that perfumed the entire area. I was thrilled to pick and eat kumquats right at a tree.

There were a few foods in the local supermarkets that differed from ours here — like mangoes, cans of refried beans and all that white cornmeal.

Knowing what we've paid for lettuce all winter, I wanted to lay in a supply of the large beautiful heads at three for a quarter.

But when I saw that milk is 90 cents or a dollar a gallon, I decided we aren't in such bad shape after all.

One afternoon we visited a local food processing plant. A subsidiary of United Fruit Company, this plant dries food.

The blueberries, strawberries and peaches that come mixed with cereal are some of their products.

The day we were there they were drying shrimp — tons of it.

All the food comes into the factory frozen. The shrimp is cooked, cleaned and then processed in vacuum machines to extract all moisture. When it comes out, it weighs only about a fourth of its original weight.

Young girl workers in immaculate white uniforms and white boots which made them look like a bunch of Correges' models packed the shrimp into cans or made it into shrimp salad mix. They also make crabmeat, chicken and tuna salad mix.

Already in a limited market

(not the metropolitan Detroit area yet), this salad mix has found instant acceptance. All you need to do is add cool water, wait 10 minutes and your salad is ready except for the mayonnaise.

We tasted several samples of the salads, also some freeze-dried ice cream, banana slices and saw puddings, avocado and dozens of other experimental foods. I brought home a can of the crabmeat.

In a cookbook I purchased on Padre Island (I always buy cookbooks on vacation) there is a fish recipe that the Better Half had for lunch one day.

If flounder is not available in the frozen food section, substitute trout or any other s m a l l fish.

Spread over top of fish. Pour on melted butter. Bake 15-20 minutes at 350 degrees or until fish flakes with a fork. Serve garnished with lemon slices. Makes 4 servings.

STUFFED FLOUNDER

4 flounders or other fish
1 package prepared stuffing mix
¼ cup chopped green pepper
¼ cup chopped onion
¼ cup finely chopped celery
1 cup cooked shrimp, chopped
Garlic salt
Salt and pepper
½ cup melted butter
Lemon slices

Prepare stuffing according to directions on the package. Mix with seasoning and shrimp. Stuff cavity of each fish, saving four good spoonfuls.

Spread over top of fish. Pour on melted butter. Bake 15-20 minutes at 350 degrees or until fish flakes with a fork. Serve garnished with lemon slices. Makes 4 servings.

Corn Meal Dough

Rolls, Deep Fried

Try Corn Crisps with your favorite dip: sift together ½ cup enriched corn meal, ½ cup sifted all-purpose flour and ¼ teaspoon garlic salt. Stir in ½ cup water and 1 tablespoon liquid shortening.

Roll out to ¼-inch thickness on lightly floured board or canvas. Cut in 1-inch strips. Fry in hot deep fat (375 degrees) until golden brown; drain. Sprinkle with salt. Makes about 2½ dozen.

Raisins Plus Rice

Raisins for dessert in the Indian manner: a small bowl of them, alone or with up sugar 60C.
• Same with ¼ cup half-and-half 140C.
• 2 canned peach halves, water pack 40 C.

Plain Food Has Fewer Calories

If you're trying to cut down on calories, buy food that has been processed without extra high-calorie ingredients. When you're buying fruits and vegetables, choose the fresh or plain frozen or canned ones.

Fruits that are in heavy syrup or vegetables that are buttered or in cream sauce have those extra calories you don't need. Make it a habit to read the food labels.

The way in which foods are prepared and cooked can make a difference in their calorie content. Look what can happen to the calorie content of peaches:

• 1 fresh peach ½ cup slices 30C.
• 1 fresh peach, 2 teaspoons of sugar 60C.
• Same with ¼ cup half-and-half 140C.
• 2 canned peach halves, water pack 40 C.

• Same with syrup 100C.
• Frozen sweetened peaches (¼ cup) 105C.

The way potatoes are cooked is another example. A half cup serving of plain boiled potato has 59 calories; when mashed with milk and fat it has 99 C; and when pan fried it has 230C.

Different Potatoes Are Good for Each Method

When buying potatoes, remember that the best ones are firm and clean, have shallow eyes and no cuts, decay or green spots.

For good mashed or baked potatoes, use a mealy, flaky variety of potato; for salads, creaming, and the like, use firm, waxy kinds that hold their shape.

ALOHA BURGERS — Aloha burgers are distinctly seasoned beef, broiled to perfection, served on sliced pineapple and topped with Macadamia nuts. Mighty elegant burgers!

Pineapple Sauce Gives Burgers Aloha Touch

There's absolutely nothing like a burger for good eating. Tender, juicy and delicious. Most Americans agree, because millions of pounds of ground beef are sold in the United States each year, and that's a heap of meat.

If you're a burger fan, you'll like Aloha Burgers. Delicious food, or as they say in Hawaii, ono ono kaulaui!

To make Aloha Burgers, season ground beef with soy sauce, ginger, a bit of garlic and onion. Broil and serve on delicately browned pineapple slices. And for a truly elegant touch, top with crunchy, toasted Macadamia nuts — those tempting morsels that come to us straight from Hawaii.

If you are having a party, why not give it an island flavor? It would be just the way to forget chilly weather. Serve Aloha Burgers on an attractive platter top it or gayle leaves and garnish with clusters of green or red grapes.

Curried or fruited rice and frozen fruit salad would go well with the burgers. For dessert serve coconut cake with coffee or one of the island-type fruit drinks.

ALOHA BURGERS

Sauce:
1 can (1 pound 14 ounce) sliced pineapple
½ cup soy sauce
1 teaspoon ginger
2 small cloves garlic, thinly sliced

Burgers
2 pounds ground beef, chuck or round
½ cup finely sliced green onion
½ cup finely crushed corn flakes
2 eggs
¼ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
¼ cup chopped Macadamia nuts
1 tablespoon butter or margarine

Drain pineapple; save 1 cup sirup. Combine sirup, soy sauce, ginger and garlic.

Combine beef, onion, corn flakes, eggs, salt, pepper and ½ cup of the sauce; mix well. Shape meat into eight 4-inch patties. Place patties in shallow pan; spoon remaining sauce over meat. Cover and refrigerate 1 hour, turning patties once.

Drain patties and broil 3 to 4 inches from heat source 12 to 14 minutes, turning once. Broil pineapple slices during last 2 to 3 minutes of cooking time. Brown nuts lightly in melted butter or margarine. Serve burgers atop pineapple slices and spoon nuts onto patties. Yield: 8 servings.

When a muffin recipe calls for a small amount of melted butter or margarine, you can't if you like—substitute cooking oil.

Sour Cream Cabbage Goes with Sausage

Cabbage, a good source of vitamin C, makes crispy good eating. Shredded and combined with raw apples, it makes a pleasant salad. Cut in wedges, steamed briefly, it makes an interesting vegetable dish.

But always remember — do not overcook cabbage. Better a little undercooked than overcooked.

Try it combined with onion and sour cream and serve with delicately browned pork sausage and you have a very satisfying dinner.

Don't forget the rye bread, fresh from the nearest bakery.

Cabbage With Sour Cream And Pork Sausages

1 medium firm head cabbage (2½ lbs.)
¼ cup chicken or beef stock
1½ teaspoons salt
1 slice of a large onion

Beans, Tuna in Casserole

Cook contents of 2 (9 ounce) packages of frozen Italian green beans according to instructions, steaming for only 6 to 8 minutes. Open 2 (7 ounce) cans of tuna and drain. Flake the tuna into a medium-sized bowl.

Drain beans and add to tuna, tossing the ingredients lightly. Place half of this mixture on the bottom of a 1-quart casserole.

Mix together ½ cup Bleu cheese dressing and 1 cup prepared sour cream. Drizzle half of it over the layer of beans and tuna. Add another layer of beans and tuna; cover with remaining sour cream mixture.

Blanket top with 2 cups of buttered, soft enriched bread crumbs and bake for 15 minutes in a moderate oven (350 degrees). Serves 6 to 8.

Oswald starts out today's discussion by asking Jim: "What would you say is the most important thing to bear in mind when you use suit preference signals?"

Jim: "That the signal is a sort of junior partner of your regular signals. Almost all of the time the lead of a deuce merely means that you are leading fourth best, not making some mystic call for partner to play clubs later on, or when you drop a ten spot it does not mean that you are showing strength in spades but merely that you have strength in the suit of the ten spot."

Oswald: "Could you put it this way? A play will only constitute a suit preference signal when there is no other reason for it."

Jim: "You've hit the nail right on the head. This also means that frequently you will be able to read a high card as a suit preference signal when a low card play would be dismissed as just following suit."

Oswald: "Today's hand falls into the category. East opens the bidding with a nonvulnerable preempt. South jumps to the spade game and West raises to five clubs. Five clubs would be down one trick but North pushes on to five spades."

"West would have gone further with his sacrificing except that he sees a good chance to beat five spades. He passes and opens the nine of diamonds."

"His plan is to get in with the ace of spades and then try to put his partner on lead for a

5 Small Forest Fires in the Lower Peninsula

CADILLAC (P) — State conservation officers said five small forest fires were reported in northern Lower Michigan Tuesday—near Manistee, White Cloud, Baldwin, Wellston and Muskegon. The Manistee fire, largest of the five, destroyed 15 acres.

To Air College Plans

MANISTEE (P) — School authorities from Lake, Manistee and Mason counties meet here Thursday. They are to consider plans to apply to the state to establish a community college at Manistee.

Extra Funds Needed by Detroit Schools

DETROIT (AP) — The city's public schools face an operating deficit of $12.3 million next year unless voters approve extra millage, a citizen's group warned Tuesday.

The group, a subcommittee of the Citizens Committee on School Finance, said expenses would rise by nearly $7 million while revenues are expected to drop.

A millage vote is scheduled for May 9.

Grant Is Given NMU for Work-Study Plan

MARQUETTE (UPI) — Northern Michigan University said today it has received a $98,325 grant from Washington for continuation of its college work-study program.

The plan, supported by the U.S. Office of Education, enables students to earn while continuing their education. Preference is given to students whose combined family income is $3,200 or less.

Many Staking
Desert ClaimsVacationers Finding
Eden in Wastelands

WASHINGTON—A new breed of American pioneer — the vacationer — is staking his claim in desert wastelands of the West.

Hardy people, anxious to get away from it all, are seeking out empty deserts and rocky hills far from civilization.

Regions too dry or rough for farming have become increasingly popular as fishing, hunting, and camping retreats, the National Geographic Society reports.

Throughout the year, the United States Department of Interior's Bureau of Land Management auctions off thousands of small tracts unsuited for public development. These scattered parcels are within the federal government's 460 million acres of public-domain land mostly in 11 Western states and Alaska.

The tracts vary from one to 1,200 acres. Bidding, which must begin at the appraised fair market value of the land, starts anywhere from $100 to $900 per tract.

NO WATER

The usual site is without water and utilities; it may be a day's ride by burro from the nearest road.

Nevertheless, city folk find that a tract in the California desert is a Shangri-la during the winter. Places of seclusion in the mountains do double duty as summer homes and ski lodges.

A few owners build elaborate homes, bring in utilities, and build access roads. Most people are satisfied with lean-tos, tents, and A-frame cabins.

Several small-tract owners near Phoenix have so much faith in Arizona sunshine that they built huts out of cardboard.

AMPHIBIOUS TRAILER

One enterprising couple used an amphibious trailer as their vacation retreat in Alaska. They propelled the vehicle across Cook Inlet, then towed it five miles up a mountain trail to their site.

Some people who purchased government tracts as holiday refuges have settled down on a year-round basis. The champion commuter may be the Michigan businessman who built a home for his family in the California desert, and commutes every week by private plane to Detroit.

Wolverine Trademark

ROCKFORD — A new trademark picturing a snarling wolverine to denote a rugged, action-poised posture, has been adopted by the Wolverine Shoe & Tanning Corp. of Rockford.

Lillian Gish, at 69, Not Easing Her Heavy Schedule

AP Movie-Television Writer HOLLYWOOD — Lillian Gish neither looks nor acts like a museum piece.

Her history would indicate that she should be put on display at some repository of movie history.

After all, she appeared in her first film in 1912 and starred in D. W. Griffith classics: "Birth of a Nation," "Intolerance," "Broken Blossom," etc.

Yet the soulful Gish eyes remain as alert as a teen-ager's, and she has an outlook to match.

"I don't believe I had more than two weeks off in the year," she remarked. "I did a season of Shakespeare up in Stratford, Conn., then I came right out here for 'Follow Me, Boys' at the Disney Studio."

THOMAS

Lillian (Right) With Designer Edith Head

"After that, I went back to New York to begin rehearsals for 'Anya,' which George Abbott directed. It was a beautiful play which lasted only a month in New York because of three bad reviews. I think it will have the same fate as 'Foggy and Bess,' which did poor business because of reviews when it opened, then was revived to become an American classic."

Miss Gish flew here from an Italian vacation to appear in "The Warning Shot" with David Janssen. During her stay here she will visit with old friends and co-workers. If there is any time left over, she may do some work on the memoir she is writing about her great mentor, Griffith.

"But that is terribly hard work for me," she admitted, "and I usually have to hole up in a room in Switzerland to get anything written."

Her schedule may seem remarkable for a 69-year-old, but it doesn't seem so to Miss Gish. She asked about a star who had been a contemporary of hers and has recently been ailing.

WRONG TO QUIT WORK

"That is too bad, but then, it has been years since she has worked," observed Miss Gish. "It's a mistake, I think. When you have been working since the age of 5, as I have, it is wrong to quit. You remain more attuned to life when you work."

Fortunately for her, she is not required to maintain an income. During her heyday on the screen, from age 12 to 30, she managed herself well. She never succumbed to the grand living that consumed the assets of many stars.

"I never even bought a home in California," she explained. "New York was always my home and still is. The money I made went into the bank, not into acquisitions."

And it was big money. She pooh-poohed the suggestion that huge salaries for stars are a recent development.

"Does anyone get 15 per cent of the gross nowadays?" she asked. The answer is no, although Elizabeth Taylor, Marlon Brando and a few others have been able to draw 10 per cent of the gross — meaning 10 cents for every dollar accruing to the distributor.

Cherries Provide Colorful Food Note

There's more to tart red cherries than meets the eye, says Michigan State University Consumer Marketing Information Agent, Mrs. Josephine Lawyer. Michigan's red tart cherries add color to winter meals when served as the appetizer, with the main dish, as the salad or as the dessert.

Approximately ninety-five percent of Michigan's red tart cherry crop is canned or frozen. Most of the canned product is packed in water or light sugar syrup in 303 size cans. Most of the processed cherries go into 30-pound tins for large institutional users.

Federal standards regulate the proportions of cherries and juice in all canned and frozen cherry containers, and all Michigan processed cherries are inspected and graded by Federal-State inspectors.

A 303 size can of water pack cherries must weigh 16-17 ounces net and must contain at least 11 ounces of fruit. A number two size can of syrup pack cherries must weigh 20 ounces net and contain at least 12 1/2 ounces of fruit.

QUANTITIES

A one pound can of water pack cherries (a 303 size can) holds one and one-half cups of drained cherries and two-thirds cup of juice. Take two to make a nine-inch pie.

A number two size can of frozen tart cherries will measure two cups of drained fruit and one cup of juice. One number two size can of cherries will make an eight-inch pie.

One 303 size can of water pack red tart cherries will make delicious sauce for main dishes such as baked ham, turkey, roast pork, chicken, and roast beef. Or use the sauce for panache topping. Add a bit more sweetness and spice to the sauce and serve it over rice pudding, cake squares, meringues, custard pies, cheese cake, or ice cream.

Cherry sauce may be served hot or cold, and the seasonings may include almond, cinnamon or nutmeg, mincemeat, lemon juice, prepared mustard, or horseradish, depending upon the intended use.

Cherry Meringue Bars guarantee a colorful finish for winter meals:

Cherry Meringue Bars

1/4 cup butter
1/2 cup confectioners' sugar
1 cup sifted all-purpose flour
2 egg yolks
3/4 cup sugar
2 1/2 tablespoons cornstarch
1 1/2 pound can red tart cherries, drained
1/4 cup cherry juice
1 tablespoon lemon juice
2 egg whites
1/2 cup sugar
Sifted almonds
Cream butter and confectioners' sugar; blend in flour and egg yolks. Spread on bottom of

Saute Pears in Butter and Brown Sugar

For a scrumptious brunch, serve spicy golden pear rings with fluffy scrambled eggs and Canadian bacon or ham. Simply core the pears and slice, then toss with 1/4-inch thick rings. Leave the peel on the pears for the lovely flavor it gives, as well as for holding the shape of the rings.

Then saute slowly in butter, turning the pear rings once to make them golden brown on both sides. Sprinkle with brown sugar and spices and simmer gently until tender.

Anjou pears are a perfect choice for this special breakfast treatment. The fragrant full flavor of fresh Western pears makes them ideal for baked desserts and broiled meat accompaniments, as well. And for eating out of hand, they're unsurpassed.

You will want fully ripe pears, both for eating out of hand and cooking so use this simple test for ripeness. Hold the pear in the palm of your hand and press gently. If it yields slightly, it is ready to eat.

If not, keep fresh Western pears at room temperature and in a few days they will be ready to use. After pears ripen, the refrigerator should be their home until they're served.

Golden Pear Saute

3 fresh Anjou pears
2 tablespoons butter
1/2 cup brown sugar
1/4 teaspoon nutmeg
1/2 teaspoon cinnamon
Core pears and slice in rings, 1/4-inch thick. Melt butter in skillet. Add pear rings and saute until golden, turning once. Combine brown sugar and spices and sprinkle over pear rings. Cook 3 to 5 minutes longer or until pear rings are tender, turning once to glaze.
Serve hot with Canadian bacon or ham for breakfast or supper. Makes 6 servings.

GOLDEN PEAR SAUTE—Thick slices of Anjou pears are sauteed in butter until golden, then glazed with brown sugar and spices. Serve with ham or bacon and scrambled eggs for an appetizing breakfast or supper.

Brown Sugar Taste Nice in Frosting

If you like brown sugar flavor, you'll enjoy this cake frosting.

Southern Frosting

1/4 cup (1 stick) butter or margarine
1 teaspoon vanilla
2 cups firmly packed light brown sugar
1/2 cup heavy cream
Cream the butter and vanilla. Gradually and alternately beat in the brown sugar and cream; continue beating, if necessary, until very fluffy.
Makes a generous amount of frosting to use as filling and covering (top and sides) of 2 layer cakes baked in round 9-inch pans. Store filled and frosted cake in refrigerator.

TOFFEE COFFEE TORTE—Chocolate covered toffee bars are chopped fine and added to dessert topping. The mixture is spread between layers and on the sides of pound cake. After a chilling session, a scrumptious dessert is ready to serve.

Crushed Toffee Flavors Dessert

For that special "coffee and toffee" occasion, here's an easy make-ahead dessert that tastes as unusual as it looks.

Its surprise flavor is Old English Toffee—distinct, moderately sweet, and found in—of all things—a well-known candy bar.

Here's an elegant Toffee Coffee Torte that needs no cooking. You can whip it up in 15 minutes and your guests will talk about it for hours.

Toffee Coffee Torte

1 envelope (2 ounce) whipped dessert topping
1/4 cup sugar
1 tablespoon instant coffee
1/2 cup milk
1/4 cup finely chopped English toffee bars (three 1 1/2 oz. bars)
1 commercial pound cake (12 ounce), cut in three even layers

Combine topping, sugar, coffee and milk; beat as directed on topping package. Fold in finely chopped bars. Spread mixture between layers and on top and sides of cake.
Chill several hours or overnight before serving. Extra chopped bits of candy may be sprinkled on top. Yield: 8 generous servings.

Toast Rounds of Bread for Appetizers

As a punchy go-along for bouillon or cream of potato soup, you can't beat "Date-Cheese Half Dollars." These broiled eaten-out-of-hand delights are equally delicious with tossed green salads.

Date-Cheese Half-Dollars

1/4 cup fresh dates
1 cup creamed small curd cottage cheese
2 tablespoons grated Parmesan cheese
2 teaspoons finely chopped onion
1/2 teaspoon grated lemon rind
1/4 teaspoon dill weed
White or whole wheat bread
Finely cut dates. Mix with all remaining ingredients except bread.
Cut bread into 24 rounds with 1 1/4-inch cookie cutter. Place rounds on cookie sheet and toast on 1 side; turn and spread untoasted side with date mixture.
Broil until mixture is bubbly and rounds are golden around edges. Serve at once.

For a quick salad, spoon chutney into canned peach halves on lettuce.

Fill Omelet With Chili

Many hostesses find morning an ideal time to entertain. They plan a simple brunch, invite their friends for ten o'clock, and relax while entertaining.

To plan a leisurely brunch, select an easy-to-prepare main course such as Southwestern chili omelet made with a can of chili con carne and a standard recipe for six-egg omelet.

Pour a half can of heated chili on top of the cooked omelet, then fold the omelet in half. Pour the rest of the chili around the omelet and serve piping hot.

USDA Gives Tips on Eggs

Having a Lenten Party this year? If so, then hard cooked eggs may likely be a feature of your salad. But peeling them for a crowd can be quite a chore.

However, there is an easy way to preparing these eggs, without peeling one. According to the U.S. Department of Agriculture, you start by greasing a baking pan. Next, break eggs and pour into the pan. Pile eggs in no deeper than two inches. Then cover the pan and set it into a larger pan containing boiling water. users of eggs.

we're knocking the starch out of competition!

When you buy spray starch, it pays to read the label on the can. Not just the brand name, but the ounces.

You see, many brands sell for 69c, and give you 21 ounces. EASY MONDAY gives you practically the same size can—20 ounces—for only 49c... a saving of 20c. If you prefer the 15-ounce can, most other brands charge 49c but EASY MONDAY'S price is only 39c. That's what we call knocking the starch out of competition!

Does EASY MONDAY's better mean cutting corners on quality? Never! Besides getting more starch for your money, laboratory tests prove EASY MONDAY quality is equal or superior to the finest brands on the market.

Jet speed EASY MONDAY contains silicones for easier ironing. Your iron glides smoothly and effortlessly over all fabrics. EASY MONDAY also contains ASTRUM—the magic additive that makes white clothes whiter and colors brighter.

So look for the red and blue EASY MONDAY can on your grocer's shelf when you buy spray starch. And as an added inducement, clip the money-saving coupon in this ad. It saves you 10c off the regular price on either the 15-ounce or 20-ounce can. We're sure that once you've tried EASY MONDAY, you'll never go back to any other kind. It's a knockout!

Score Same, but as Tigers Win, Red Wings Lose, 2-1

Cash Singles Home Winning Run in Ninth

Lolich Gives Yankees Six Hits in Opener at New York

DETROIT (AP)—"He had a lot of juice on the fast ball, and his sinker was working real well," said Detroit Tiger catcher Bill Freehan.

Norm Cash slammed a line single off Whitey Ford with two out in the ninth to score Don Wert from third with the winning run.

The Yankees had grabbed the lead in the bottom of the fifth with Joe Pepitone's towering home run into the rightfield seats.

HIGH PITCH
"The pitch was up around his eyes. I don't know why he swung at it," said Lolich.

Detroit tied it in the sixth. Mickey Stanley slammed a ground rule double and Wert followed it with a single off shortstop Ruben Amaro's glove to score Stanley.

In the ninth, Lolich led off with a single. Wert singled, and Lolich was cut down trying for the throw. Jerry Lumpe grounded out, but Cash followed with his game-winning single.

"Believe me, I was just trying to hit it somewhere," said Cash. "That's about all you can do with Ford."

The Tigers were buoyant afterward, talking about the pennant.

LOOKING AHEAD
"Why not?" asked Cash. "We know we've got the hitting. We know we're going to score runs. If we get the kind of pitching Mickey gave us today..."

Tiger Manager Charlie Dressen said he'll pitch Dennis McLean against the Yankees today and Bill Monbouquette Thursday, then come back with Dave Wickham in the home opener against the Washington Senators in Detroit.

Ford in Feud With Dressen

NEW YORK (AP)—Whitey Ford had this little plastic bottle carry handkerchiefs, resin and in his back pocket. No, it wasn't filled with Irish mist or cough syrup. Just plain old hot water.

Whitey had the jug with him Tuesday when he pitched his 11th opener for the New York Yankees and lost 2-1 to the Detroit Tigers. That is, he had the jug at the start of the game.

Ever since Ford underwent an operation a year ago for a circulatory condition in his left arm, the fingers in his left hand have had no feeling in cold weather. It was cold Tuesday at Yankee Stadium, 66 degrees at the start and much colder in the late innings.

After Ford threw two pitches to Don Wert, the Tigers' leadoff man in the first inning, play suddenly was halted. Out came Charley Dressen, the dandy little manager of the Tigers, making motions toward the umpires.

UMPS AGREED
"You can't use it," Dressen said, looking directly at Whitey. The umpires agreed because there is a rule against carrying anything in your pocket that might contain a foreign substance.

"You ain't gonna win no pennants that way," said Ford to Dressen in an expurgated version.

Johnny Keane, the Yankee manager, came to the mound and departed for the dugout with the bottle in his hand. The umpire had ruled that Dressen was right. It is permissible to warm a pitcher's hand on the bench but not on the field.

In the clubhouse after the game, Ford was talking about the incident. He showed newsmen a little bottle, the kind you buy at a drugstore with after shaving lotion in it. Whitey tossed it on the floor.

"Do you think Dressen wanted to aggravate you?" a writer asked.

"He irritated me," said Ford. "There is something about a manager that aggravates people and makes them try a little harder."

Ford pointed out that batters carry handkerchiefs, resin and pine tar in their pockets to get a better grip on the bat and asked why pitchers couldn't do the same.

"It would be different if it was cheating," he said. "If I was using pine tar or something it would be another thing but this was just hot water."

"I'm going to call up Joe Cronin (American League president) to see if he will let me use it. There must be a rule about it. They wouldn't let me do it."

Judge Misses 1st Deadline

Decision Due Today in Braves Case

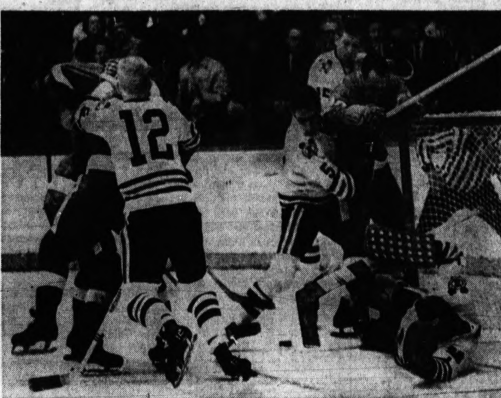

MILWAUKEE (AP)—A Milwaukee judge who missed his opening day deadline for a verdict in Wisconsin's antitrust battle against the Braves and baseball struggled again today to complete the decision.

There was no assurance, however, that this timetable would be met either as the courtroom crew pressed past midnight, still trying to put the finishing touches on a document that ran an estimated 300 pages.

Wisconsin has asked Circuit Judge Elmer W. Roller to order the Braves returned to Milwaukee unless the city is given an expansion team. The Braves opened in Atlanta Tuesday night with a 3-2 loss in 13 innings to the Pittsburgh Pirates.

State attorneys had stressed in court the importance of a ruling before the Braves' opener if the team were to be ordered back here. Any such order after that time, they conceded, would be difficult to enforce.

Judge Roller had said during the 30-day trial that a decision by opening day was vital if the state were to be granted the relief it was asking—the return of the Braves. He had promised a decision by Tuesday.

failed to capitalize on the situation. Holding off two wings is Pat Stapleton (12) of Hawks while teammate Matt Ravlich shoves a Detroit player against the net. The Hawks won, 2-1.

Chicago Takes 2-1 Lead in Stanley Cup

Playoffs to Continue Thursday; 2 Hawks Suffer Injuries

DETROIT (AP)—The Detroit Red Wings continue to dominate the battle of the bruises in their Stanley Cup semifinal playoff series with Chicago, but the Black Hawks have the edge in the more important category—games won. Chico Maki and Eric Nesterenko scored in the second period to lead the Black Hawks to a 2-1 victory in the third game of the best-of-seven series Tuesday night. The Black Hawks have a 2-1 edge in the series.

Montreal moved to a commanding 3-0 edge in the other semifinal by drubbing Toronto, 5-2.

Maki and Chicago defenseman Elmer Vasko were forced to leave the game, but Detroit Manager Coach Sid Abel reported his charges were in good physical shape.

Maki suffered a sprained right knee and possible torn ligaments after colliding with Detroit defenseman Bill Gadsby near the Chicago bench in the third period. He was not expected to play Thursday but was to undergo examination today.

OWN DOING
Vasko's injury — an eight-inch cut on the back of his right thigh — was his own doing. He was cut while stopping Norm Ullman's breakaway attempt in the first period.

"This was a big one to win and a bigger one to lose," Abel said. "We had a number of opportunities early but didn't take advantage of them, then didn't cover up well enough and allowed Maki to get his goal."

"I couldn't ask Peter Henderson to make a better play on Nesterenko, but he is a little taller and just had enough of a reach to send the puck into the net."

Chicago Coach Billy Reay, admittedly happy to see his team bounce back after the 7-0 drubbing before a national television audience Sunday, said it was a "great reversal of form" and hoped the Black Hawks could keep it up.

THE SHADOW
Bryan Watson, playing the role as Bobby Hull's shadow and drawing the high-scoring Black Hawk star into penalties — one with the game just 40 seconds old — put the Red Wings in front with a rising 50-foot goal late in the first period.

The two teams play here again Thursday, then move to Chicago for the fifth game Sunday.

At Toronto, the Canadiens spotted the Maple Leafs two goals, then stormed back with goals by Ralph Backstrom, Boby Rousseau and Terry Harper in a three-minute span of the second period.

John Ferguson and Jean Beliveau scored for the Canadiens in the final period, the latter going into an open net with 10 seconds remaining.

Eddie Shuck and Tim Horton notched the Maple Leafs goals in the first period.

Port Huron '66 Leads Series
PORT HURON (AP)—Paced by Frank Golembowski, International Hockey League rookie of the year, the Port Huron Flags parlayed a blitz attack into a 5-3 playoff victory over the Dayton Gems Tuesday.

Golembowski scored twice as Port Huron slugged 38 shots at Dayton Goalie Pat Rupp. The Flags took a 2-1 lead in the best-of-seven playoff series.

Tom Clark and Larry Mavety also scored for Port Huron before Bill LeCaine dropped the Flags' fifth tally into an open net. Bob Bailey scored two and Pat Donnelly one for the losers.

The two teams clash again Friday at Dayton.

SPORTS

Romeo Tops Marysville

Avon, Rochester Lose

Avondale and Rochester were victims of one-run decisions yesterday as they opened the 1966 Oakland A League baseball race.

Clawson came up with a run in the bottom of the eighth inning to nip Rochester, 9-8, and Troy picked up its winning run in the sixth in downing Avondale, 5-2.

In other games, Romeo planned a 10-1 setback on Marysville, and Brother Rice routed Cranbrook, 14-2.

Clawson managed only three hits off two Rochester pitchers, but the winners took advantage of 14 walks and four Falcon errors.

The Falcons moved out in front, 8-5, in the top half of the sixth inning, but Clawson came back with three to deadlock the game in its half of the frame and put the game away two innings later.

The winning run came when Jim Burton uncorked a wild pitch. Jim Ball paced the losers with three hits, while Dick Perrand and Bob Mills picked off two sacrifices.

HITS SINGLE
A two-out single by John Shitt brought home the winning run for Troy after Avondale had deadlocked the game at 2-2.

Both of Avondale's runs came home on a double in the fifth by Les Saunders.

In another O-A outing, Carl Olson tossed a four-hitter as Madison planned a 4-1 setback on Warren Cossino.

Homers Help Wayne 9 to Win Over Olivet

OLIVET (AP)—Powered by three-run homers from Bill Pyles and Larry Bruno, Wayne State University hammered out a 17-6 second game victory Tuesday over host Olivet.

Olivet took an insurmountable 1-0 lead in the second inning of the first game, scoring four earned runs. The host club hung on to win the opener 5-3.

The purse this year is up to $100,000.

Dig in deep
In a triangular golfmatch yesterday, Gary Ballet carded a 79 over wind-swept Birch Hills to earn medalist honors but he and his Avondale teammates (385) finished second to Garden City West (386). Garden City East was third (412).

Oxford 78, Ranney 81, Long Jump — Bob Craig (R), Tom Heard (O), 52 feet 10 inches.

Shot Put — Mike Lantry (O), Ben Felt — Mike Lantry (O), Ben Felt — Mike Lantry (O), 5 feet 2 inches.

Discus Throw — Dave Emerson (R), Ken Marsh (O), 166 feet 2 inches.

Hammer Throw — Mike Lantry (O), Tom Heard (O), 158 feet 10 inches.

Dwight Ford wielded a big stick for Romeo. He lashed out a single and double and knocked in four runs.

Royal Oak Dondero posted 64-4 victory over Cranbrook's track team. Richard Eaton paced the Dondero victory with

In tennis match, Cranbrook blanked Fraser, 5-4.

Rochester 9-8, Troy 5-2, Avondale 5-2, Cranbrook 14-2, Brother Rice 14-2, Warren Cossino 4-1.

Wayne State 17-6, Olivet 1-0, Garden City West 386, Garden City East 412.

Long Jump — Bob Craig (R), Tom Heard (O), 52 feet 10 inches.

Discus Throw — Dave Emerson (R), Ken Marsh (O), 166 feet 2 inches.

Hammer Throw — Mike Lantry (O), Tom Heard (O), 158 feet 10 inches.

Mike Lantry won three events in leading Oxford's track team to an easy 76-33 victory over Romeo yesterday. The win was the second in a row for the Wildcats.

Lantry won the shot put with a heave of 55 feet, 1 1/4 inches, and high hurdles in 17 1/2 seconds and he took the low hurdles in 16 1/2 seconds.

Paul Skinner won the high hurdles and long jump and placed second in the low hurdles to pace Milford in a 57-52 loss to Howell.

GOLF VICTORY
In a triangular golfmatch yesterday, Gary Ballet carded a 79 over wind-swept Birch Hills to earn medalist honors but he and his Avondale teammates (385) finished second to Garden City West (386). Garden City East was third (412).

Oxford 78, Ranney 81, Long Jump — Bob Craig (R), Tom Heard (O), 52 feet 10 inches.

Discus Throw — Dave Emerson (R), Ken Marsh (O), 166 feet 2 inches.

Hammer Throw — Mike Lantry (O), Tom Heard (O), 158 feet 10 inches.

Mike Lantry won three events in leading Oxford's track team to an easy 76-33 victory over Romeo yesterday. The win was the second in a row for the Wildcats.

Lantry won the shot put with a heave of 55 feet, 1 1/4 inches, and high hurdles in 17 1/2 seconds and he took the low hurdles in 16 1/2 seconds.

Twins, Orioles Win

Victory Margins Slim in AL

By the Associated Press

It was a one-run day Tuesday as the balance of the American League opened the 1966 baseball season.

All four games narrowed down to the one-run difference, including a 13-inning, 5-4 decision by Baltimore over Boston and a 1-inning struggle in which Chicago downed California 3-2.

In the other openers, Minnesota's Twins edged Kansas City 2-1 and Detroit nipped New York 2-1. Cleveland and Washington, who played the traditional Presidential opener Monday were not scheduled Tuesday.

The four games drew a total of 102,225, all in cool weather. The Twins opened defense of their league title with a squeaker. They managed only four hits off loser Jim (Catfish) Hunter, but two of them were run-scoring singles by Sandy Valdespino in the last a tie-breaker in the ninth.

WEST DISTANCE
Jim (Mudcat) Grant, a 21-year winner last season, gave up six hits and went the distance for the victory. Hunter retired 16 batters in order over one stretch.

Tom McCraw's bases-loaded glove broke up the 14-inning, four-hour, 23-minute affair at Chicago. White Sox rookie Tony Ameg sent it into extra innings with a two-run homer in the seventh. Joe Adcock had a homer for the Angels, who have not won in Chicago since July 22, 1964.

Jim Lonborg's bases-loaded, two-out balk allowed Bob Johnson to stroll home with Baltimore's winning run in the 13th at Boston. Lonborg had pitched three perfect innings of relief before Johnson singled and moved to third on a sacrifice and fly ball.

Frank Robinson, the former National League, had a homer and a single, while Brooks Robinson drove in three runs on a homer and two singles, one of them a bases-loaded, two-out drive to left that scored pinch runner Russ Snyder with the run that tied it 4-4 in the ninth and forced it into extra innings.

Chisox Expect Ailing Catcher Back in Week
CHICAGO (AP)—Johnny Romano, Chicago White Sox catcher who was knocked out by a swinging bat in Chicago's baseball opener Tuesday, is expected to be back in action this week.

Romano was felled and carried off the field in the fifth inning of the game with the California Angels.

Joe Cardenal, Angels' centerfielder, swung and missed a pitch and the backslash of his swing struck Romano on the left side of his head.

Romano crumbled to the ground, rolled onto his stomach and lost consciousness. After treatment on the field, Romano was carried off in a stretcher.

New York Keglers Take Over Third

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (UPI)—Globe-Silo of Ithaca, N.Y., moved into third place in the booster team standings at the American Bowling Congress tournament Tuesday night with a 2736 score.

A 65-year-old farmer, Don Zimmerman, led the Ithaca team with a 601 series. He had games of 196, 211 and 196.

In the only other standings change Tuesday, Marty Piraino of Syracuse, N.Y., a 42-year-old lefthander, rolled a 651 series to claim seventh place in the classic division series. Another lefthander, Nin Angelo of Buffalo, leads the category with a 724 series.

Pirates Spoil Braves' Southern Debut

By The Associated Press
At County Stadium in Milwaukee, 62-year-old Florence M. Murray, who had never missed a Braves' home opener, took her regular seat in box 11, Tier 21, holding the scorecards of 13 past seasons.

But there wasn't much going on.

"It was lonely," she admitted. At Atlanta Stadium deep in Dixie, 24-year-old Willie Landers, another baseball fan, took his seat in aisle 340, Row 23, 21, holding the scorecards of 13 past seasons.

But there wasn't much going on.

But Landers was getting lonely. "Too many ties here for these people to be real baseball fans," said Landers, who watched the crowd begin to sift out of the new $18 million dollar arena when the game went into extra innings.

DEBUT RUINED

And by the time Willie Starzell slugged a two-run homer in the 13th inning, giving Pittsburgh a 3-2 victory and ruining the Braves' Dixie debut, half of the crowd of 50,671 had left.

But then it had been a long day for many of the fans, who had taken part in a day of celebration heralding the Braves' official arrival. Schools and businesses were closed and a holiday atmosphere took over.

the city as the Braves paraded down Peachtree Street.

And the crowd at the ball park, though 200 less than capacity, exceeded season-opening attendance in either Boston or Milwaukee, the Braves' last two homes.

"It was a great day and a great night," said Braves' President John McHale. "I wasn't disappointed some of the crowd left when the game was tied. That's a normal thing at this hour."

Leo Durocher's debut as manager of the Chicago Cubs also was ruined with Willie Mays' spilling his former boss' return with a 415-foot homer that propelled San Francisco to a 9-1 victory.

In the only other National League game played, Ron Fairly drove in all three runs as the world champion Los Angeles Dodgers defeated Houston 3-2. The New York-Cincinnati and Philadelphia-St. Louis games were rained out.

TWO HOMERS

Joe Torre hit two homers for the Braves, the first off Pirate starter Bob Veale in the fifth inning. Jim Pagnallano then tied it in the eighth inning with a homer off Braves' starter Tony Cloninger and it stayed that way until the 13th when Matty Alou beat out a bunt and Starzell connected.

Torre got one run back in the Braves' half with his second homer, but it wasn't enough. Cloninger, who went all the way, allowed 10 hits and struck out 12 while absorbing the loss.

Juan Marichal got the victory for the Giants, hurling six innings of perfect ball and finishing with a three-hitter. Marichal struck out eight and walked none.

Mays' homer, with one on off Larry Jackson, broke up a scoreless game and started the six-run fourth inning rally that put it out of reach. Len Gabrilson also homered for San Francisco.

Fairly twice singled home Mays' hits and broke open a 1-0 tie in the sixth inning when he drove in Wes Parker with a sacrifice fly. Parker had walked, moved to second on a bunt and reached third on a passed ball by catcher John Bateman.

Claude Osteen checked the Astros on six hits for the victory while veteran Robin Roberts marking his 11th opening-game assignment, took the loss.

Ex-Army Griddler After Cadet Job?

WEST POINT, N.Y. (UPI)—Bobby Dobbs, rumored by many to be the next Army football coach, visited the academy Tuesday, presumably to talk about the vacant coaching job.

Army officials declined to say whether Dobbs, presently head football coach at Texas Western, was being interviewed, only that he was "visiting."

Floyd Thornton of Wolverine Entertainers had 228-221-631; while Richard Beamer (215-211) of All-Star Bud and Dick Children (223-307) of Triple XXX each hit 630.

BOWLING

The unusual — a team triplicate — highlights the classic league report from 300 Bowl last week, while North Hill's top loss went without a 700 series for the second straight week.

The first Federal Savings of Oakland team hit 951-951-951 last Thursday at "300" while the individual honors went to Walt Costa and Les Smith.

Costa rolled a 219-212-643 and Smith hit 258-265-622. Ed Hummel had a 254, Ray Bishop 225-245 and Larry Crake 234-265-610. The First Federal squad leads the race by seven points over Johnson Asphalt paving and Kego Cab.

At North Hill, Antolich Heating's Ed Szot bowled 235-229-62 as the team knocked Morley Drugs out of third place with a four-point sweep.

The losers' A Swee rapped the pins for 278-206-667. Tom Canterbury hit 254-211-673. Hazelton Lettering added to its small lead over the pack: Pottery Funeral Home stayed second; and National Bank of Rochester slipped into third led by Frank Nash's 233-215-663.

Celtics Capture Division Crown

PHILADELPHIA (U.S.—To 24 point lead, helped us. This Coach Red Auerbach and Big Bill Russell tell it, the Boston Celtics won the National Basketball Association's Eastern playoff finals over the Philadelphia 76ers took the 76ers last night.

Auerbach, smoking his famed victory cigar, and Russell, who spoke after Boston beat Philadelphia 120-112 Tuesday night to close out the best four-of-seven game Eastern series 4-1, and on the loser's home court.

Auerbach, who admitted he never expected to win in five games, said "I don't want to rub it in but I seem to recall that Irv Kosloff (owner of the 76ers) said his team would win the entire playoffs in eight games. Now he can't win anything."

Russell, the Celtics 6-foot-9 star, said he and his teammates felt the 76ers took them too lightly because Philadelphia won the regular season Eastern title by a game over Boston and held a 64 edge in the season play.

"We didn't have any newspapers in Boston because of the strike," said Russell. "So, we read New York and Philadelphia papers. We got the impression from these papers that the 76ers were adding up the money, figuring us as dead."

Russell, who scored 18 points and took down 31 rebounds in the latest Boston victory, said the 76ers didn't wake up until after Boston had a 2-0 lead. He said Philadelphia "saw me out" in the third game, and even though the 76ers won, the fact that we cut 23 points off a

New Product Catches Fish

No 'Brash Statements' on Lure

By DON VOGEL

"I'm not going to make any brash statements about this bait. It won't catch fish all of the time; others won't either." Roger St. Amant did admit, however, that he is a "little bit prejudiced" in favor of the spoon-type lures that are prominently displayed in his office at Service Plating, 24 W. Rundall.

Any drum-beating by the 59-year-old veteran angler is understandable.

St. Amant has just started marketing the Bayou Special, a lure he designed three years ago. The Reb Manufacturing Company of Pontiac was formed to produce and distribute the new product.

"I had been using the old stand-bys for years," he said. "Then I decided to see if I could make a spoon that would do just as well or better."

The trial and error method was used until St. Amant felt that he had a lure that satisfied him more than the others in his tackle box.

"There is only one real test for any bait," he pointed out. "Does it catch fish?"

The Bayou is designed primarily for lake trout and pike. But St. Amant feels it "should be good on lakes and streams for rainbows." He claims that he and his friends have been successful with the spoon when others failed.

"I would use my spoon and they would use their long-time favorites," he explained. "I seemed to catch fish when they couldn't get a strike. There were other times, too, when all of us connected or no fish were caught."

The original Bayou Special is 5 1/2 inches long. A 3 1/2-inch model is being produced and St. Amant is working on a smaller version for use with spinning tackle.

"The two models we now have are for use with standard or spin-casting equipment," he said. "They are too heavy for lightweight spinning tackle." Tests were conducted in

HOLDS PROOF—Roger St. Amant, 15 Gage, holds two large lake trout he caught on Bayou Special lures while jigging at Elk Lake last winter. The veteran angler designed the lures (lower photo) three years ago. After extensive testing, it was placed in production this spring. There are two sizes and six color patterns. The laker on the left weighed over 11 pounds dressed.

Seven County Men on Deer Panels

Seven Oakland County men and Thomas C. Hanson, Birmingham, have been named to Citizen's Advisory Committees on Deer.

They are among 120 approved by the Conservation Commission who will participate in studying the deer situation in eight Northern Michigan districts.

The committees will advise the commission on setting deer regulations, including the quotas for taking antlerless deer. Eighty other people will be named to the committees by the Legislature.

Selected by the commission from this county were W. Joseph Rhoades, Clarkson, Baraga district; Andrew Montgomery, 24 W. Tennyson, and Dr. Kenneth M. Campbell, Birmingham, Gaylord district; Charles S. Sifton, 3505 Richmond, Escanaba district. Named to the Mio district committees were H. Delos (Bud) Nicollie, 21 Mt. Clemens, Thomas Roby, Madison Heights.

Three new conservation of deer school recruits began working out of the Pontiac Lake district office this week.

Rex Schmelzer, Wyandotte; Harry Schultz, Detroit; and John Riggs, Petoskey, will work with regular officers.

The new recruits are among 26 rookie officers being assigned to temporary duty around the state. They will return to the Legislature.

Hunting Rules for Whitetails May Be Same

Legislative Statement Appears Likely; Bill
Approved by Senate

Unless there is some out of the ordinary maneuvering, the 1966 deer season will be the same as last year.

Near failure of the omnibus deer bill to pass the Senate coupled with refusal by opposing senators to give it immediate effect just about killed the hopes of many people for a change this year.

Approved on a second try by one vote, the Senate bill calls for a two-year moratorium on shooting antlerless deer and changing the opening day to Nov. 15 for the entire state.

Bills approved by the Legislature and signed by the governor do not go into effect until 120 after the Legislature adjourns. Although this is an election year and the lawmakers are expected to quit early, it is doubtful if a deer measure would become law before the split seasons are scheduled to open.

The House Conservation Committee has reported out its version of a deer bill.

It does not call for a moratorium, but does give the Legislature some control over quotas set for harvesting antlerless deer. It also calls for changing the opener to Nov. 15.

But the bill will not become effective until 1967.

Under the present setup, the firearms season in the Upper Peninsula will open Saturday, Nov. 12. The L. P. opener will be a week later, Nov. 19.

PIGEON HOLES

If the House bill is approved and sent to the Senate, indications are that the Senate Conservation Committee will kill it. The same fate appears to await the Senate passed version in House committee.

Rep. Joseph Snyder (D-St. Clair Shores), chairman of the House Conservation Committee, is confident that he has enough votes to get his committee's bill passed by the House. If this is true, then he successfully kept the Senate-approved measure bottled up in his committee.

A lot of deer hunters have been calling for a moratorium on the taking of antlerless deer. Strong support from many quarters is being heard for changing the opener back to Nov. 15 on a statewide basis.

Anything can happen when lawmakers start wheeling and dealing on various pieces of legislation. Measures expected to breeze through can be torpedoed and others expected to go down the drain manage to pass.

Once defeated legislation occasionally turns up as an amendment or rider to some unrelated bill and makes it through that way. This could conceivably happen to one or more of the deer bills this year.

But it doesn't look like it at this time.

Spring Duck Count Completed

Now is the time for duck hunters to get out and study the different species.

This is the advice of Howard Greene, district game biologist at the Conservation Department's Pontiac Lake office. Department workers have just completed the annual spring waterfowl count for Oakland County.

"There are a lot of divers on area lakes," said Greene. "They are in full plumage and can be easily identified. But they won't be here too long before heading north."

He recommended Walled Lake because the road circles the shore and makes viewing easier than on most lakes.

Heavy concentrations of divers—canvassbacks, redheads, ring-neck and goldeneyes—were seen on Walled, Lakeville, Cooley, White, Pontiac, Stony and Voorheis are other good lakes to check.

The count for all lakes check by the department: canvassback — 831; redhead — 372; scaup — 791; ringneck — 374; goldeneye — 100; bufflehead — 147; ruddy — 2; mallard — 68; black — 7; wood — 3. Baldpate—24; green-wing teal — 2; shoveler — 4; merganser — 45; coot — 72; Canada geese — 70; Total — 2,591.

The run is expected to gain momentum in the next 10 days. Conservation Department experts are predicting that the runs won't be as heavy as usual. No runs are reported at Port Huron.

Light Run of Smelt at Whitney Drain

A light run of smelt has started in the Whitney Drain (Singing Bridge) south of Tawas.

The run is expected to gain momentum in the next 10 days. Conservation Department experts are predicting that the runs won't be as heavy as usual. No runs are reported at Port Huron.

3 Are Killed on Luxury Ship by Huge Wave

Liner Caught in Same
Storm That Claimed
5 on British Freighter

NEW YORK (AP) — A mountainous wave that crashed over the Italian luxury liner Michelangelo in a violent storm yesterday claimed three lives, including an American, a company spokesman said today. Eleven other persons were injured.

The ship is expected to arrive in New York Friday, one day late.

Five men also were lost in the same Atlantic storm from a British freighter 600 miles off Newfoundland.

A spokesman for the Italian Line, the government company which owns the Michelangelo, said at Genoa that the victims were an American and German passenger and a crewman.

The dead passengers were John Steinbach, 56, a Chicago insurance executive, and Werner Berndt of Hamburg.

Umberto Nordi, a line director, said the captain told him the wave was more than 130 feet high and caused considerable damage to deck areas and cabins when it washed over the liner.

RADIO MESSAGE
The report on the size of the wave arrived in a radio message from the ship.

The master of the 4,000-ton queen of Italy's passenger fleet, Capt. Giuseppe Saletti, said in a radiotelephone interview last night that the wave struck the line about 10:20 a.m. (6:20 a.m. EST) yesterday as "a fierce wind of about 70 knots was blowing."

At that time Saletti was quoted as saying the wave was 30 feet high. But Nordi said Saletti estimated to him the wave was four times higher than that.

LBJ Will Visit Mexico City

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — President Johnson will travel to a foreign capital tomorrow for the first time since taking office. He will fly to Mexico City for an informal 24-hour visit.

The trip will feature a couple of ceremonies — notably the unveiling Friday of a statue of Abraham Lincoln — and a private meeting with Mexican President Gustavo Diaz Ordaz.

Johnson decided to make the trip as a goodwill gesture. He is no stranger to the country south of the Rio Grande, where he spent his honeymoon and enjoyed several holidays while serving in Congress. He has met often with Mexican leaders.

By making the jet-jet journey, Johnson will upstage wife Lady Bird and Secretary of State Dean Rusk. Originally he had tagged them to head the American delegation at the unveiling of the $150,000 Lincoln statue — a gift from the United States.

7 Yanks Killed

VC Blast Key Airport

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — The Viet Cong gave another demonstration early today of their power to strike at will in the Saigon area with a mortar attack on the South Vietnamese capital's huge military and civilian airport.

The shelling killed seven Americans, injured 155 Americans and Vietnamese, destroyed four planes and blew up a fuel dump.

The mortar attack failed to disrupt operations at Tan Son Nhut Airport, nerve center of allied air operations and one of the busiest airfields in the world.

Meanwhile, the U.S. Air Force reported today that the first B52 raid on North Viet Nam set off huge landslides which sealed the strategic Mu Gia Pass through which the Communists funnel men and supplies to the Viet Cong in South Viet Nam.

An Air Force spokesman said aerial reconnaissance showed the pass was "definitely closed by huge landslides touched off by the thunderous explosions."

The dead at Tan Son Nhut Airport were six U.S. Army men and an American sailor. Twenty American airmen, 77 other U.S. servicemen and 58 Vietnamese were wounded.

The mortars destroyed two U.S. C123 transport planes and two Vietnamese C47 cargo planes and damaged several helicopters, an F100 Super Sabre Jet fighter and one of the two four-engine Constellations used as relay stations for the U.S.-Vietnamese television system.

Other planes were saved by newly built concrete barriers.

Armed U.S. helicopters took off within minutes after an estimated 25 to 30 Viet Cong began laying down their barrage with two to four mortars at 12:30 a.m.

The helicopter gunners

JOINED THE HUNT

Premier Nguyen Cao Ky, who also commands the Vietnamese air Force, went aloft in his own helicopter to join the aerial hunt for the raiders. He lives at the heavily guarded installation, and some of the mortar shells exploded within pistol range of his residence.

U.S. Craft Said Down in China

TOKYO (AP) — Communist China said today its air force shot down a U.S. warplane over the Red mainland. The U.S. Defense Department admitted a Navy tanker plane is missing, and Pentagon sources said it could have strayed over Chinese territory.

Peking radio claimed Chinese fighters downed an A3B heavy attack plane yesterday on the Luichow Peninsula of Kwangtung Province, which faces North Viet Nam across the Gulf of Tonkin.

Charge Miriani in Tax Count

Former Detroit Mayor
Says He Is Innocent

DETROIT (AP) — A federal grand jury yesterday charged former Mayor Louis C. Miriani with evading payment of income taxes totaling $162,621 over a four-year period.

Miriani, a lawyer and common councilman, immediately said he was innocent of the charges and "confident that a fair trial will result in my complete exoneration."

The jury's indictment charged Miriani failed to report and pay taxes on income of $258,495 from 1959-62.

Most of this income — $220,334 — was earned while Miriani was mayor, the indictment indicated.

Miriani did pay taxes on income totaling $125,339 during the period, the government said.

Government attorneys said arraignment was expected this week, probably Friday.

U.S. attorneys did not pinpoint the source of the extra quarter-million dollars they said Miriani received.

Auto Recall by Chrysler Starts Feud

DETROIT (AP) — A Chrysler Corp. spokesman and a U.S. senator disagreed yesterday over whether safety was a factor in Chrysler's decision to recall more than 17,500 new cars for repairs.

"This problem did not involve any safety factors," the auto firm spokesman said. But in Washington, Sen. Walter F. Mondale, D-Minn., disagreed.

Mondale introduced last week a bill which would require car makers to give owners and dealers immediate warning of defects that could involve safety and to spell out the nature of the defects.

Chrysler cars being recalled are 17,500 Dodge Monaco and Polara models equipped with the 383 cubic inch engine with two-barrel carburetor and an undetermined number of Plymouth Furies and Chrysler's equipped with the same engine.

The spokesman said the cars are being called in to dealers "so the throttle linkage could be lengthened so as to prevent any possibility of its being stretched by the forward movement of the engine in an emergency stop."

"In an emergency stop," the firm explained, "the engine moves forward momentarily on (Continued on Page 2, Col. 1)

U.S. Programs Surveyed in 18th District

Residents in the 18th Congressional District oppose higher income taxes to curb rising living costs and back stronger military action by the U.S. in Viet Nam.

They also favor belt-tightening of federal spending on domestic programs and are unimpressed by results of the War on Poverty program.

These were the results of a survey announced by U.S. Rep. William S. Broomfield, R-Royal Oak. He said they were based on over 10,000 replies. Tabulation was by an independent data processing firm.

Three out of four who responded urged either increased air and sea attacks against North Viet Nam or an increase in U.S. ground strength to a size needed to clear South Viet Nam.

Almost 10 per cent asked for withdrawal of all U.S. forces in Viet Nam.

While 41 per cent backed the present containment policy against Red China with no trade and no diplomatic recognition, 32 per cent

Waterford Pollution Report Is Sought

Future sanitary sewer service, the commission directed furnished by the City of Pontiac for a portion of Waterford Township may depend on what steps have been taken to eliminate pollution of the county's West End Drain, which flows into the city.

This was the view indicated last night by the City Commission.

Raised by Commissioner Robert C. Irwin, the pollution question arose during consideration of a township proposal to extend city sewer services to an area near Marion and Scott Lake Road in the township.

The township requested that a 1958 city-township agreement be amended to provide for the extension, which is to serve a projected elementary school — Cherokee Hills — and 50 residential lots.

While authorizing the city attorney to prepare the amendment, the commission directed the city manager to obtain a report from the township on what steps have been taken to eliminate pollution of the county's West End Drain, which flows into the city.

Young Will Speak to Urban League

Whitney M. Young Jr., executive director of the National Urban League, will speak at the Elks Temple tonight at the 16th annual dinner of the Pontiac Area Urban League, at 6:30.

A veteran of World War II and author, Young writes a newspaper column that appears in The Pontiac Press.

Rev. Emil Kontz and E. Eugene Russell, are cochairmen of the arrangements.

"This might be an excellent lever to clean the water, so to speak," said Irwin.

Last fall both the city and Waterford Township received notices from the State Water Resources Commission to take steps to correct their respective pollution problems.

The township was notified that an area on its east side was served by the West End Storm Drain with no separate sewer system for the collection of sanitary waste.

The state claimed an undetermined number of properties discharged untreated waste water or septic tank effluent to the drain.

INTO CRYSTAL LAKE
The drain, in turn, feeds into Crystal Lake.

The existing 1958 agreement provides that the city will furnish sanitary sewer services to that portion of the township when the township installs sewers.

The notification last fall by the state included a specific timetable, which incorporated a March 1 deadline for preparation of complete construction plans and specifications for the facilities.

In addition, financing arrangements were to be complete no later than June 1 and construction contracts were to be awarded by June 15.

230 HOMES
Previously, a township spokesman indicated about 230 homes and 30 vacant lots were in the affected township area.

The streets involved include Myrtle, Lakeview, Boston, LaSalle, West End, Fremont and Pioneer.

City Assessed Valuation Up

$7.6-Million Increase
Reported by Official

An increase of more than $7.6 million in the assessed valuation of real and personal property in the city was announced today.

City Assessor James E. Kephart Jr. reported the city's 1966 total assessed valuation at $318,291,600, a net increase of $7,660,700 over 1965.

The city's total assessed valuation last year was $310,630,900.

The assessed valuation is set by the Board of Tax Review.

About $3.7 million of the increase was attributed to Pontiac Motor Division expansion, specifically the new parts and warehouse building.

ASSESSED VALUE

In addition, Kephart said the hike in assessed value came from 168 new single family homes, 21 new commercial structures, 282 residential garages and four multiple dwelling properties.

Personal property in the city was assessed at $145,510,400 for 1966, compared to $146,215,200 last year.

Kephart credited the drop to a state-directed change in depreciation schedules, which allowed accelerated depreciation of personal property.

In 1965, the city had registered an $11.8 million hike in the assessed value of personal property with most of the increase coming through local General Motors expansion.

NEW SCHEDULES

The new depreciation schedules virtually wiped out a any increase for 1966 on personal property, but local industrial expansion did permit the personal property valuation to cushion the loss, dropping $729,600.

The assessed value of local real estate rose $6,827,900 over 1965. The 1966 total real estate assessed value was $172,781,200.

The city's Board of Tax Review, a five-member panel that rules on appeals on assessed valuations, trimmed the city assessor's total recommended valuation by $630,700.

Last year the board cut over $1.5 million from the assessor's figures.

CUT LESS

However, Kephart said the rules on appeals on assessed valuations of the tax relief granted senior citizens under a new state law.

He said the city received 1,571 applications for such tax (Continued on Page 2, Col. 4)

Mine Union Officials Call Strikers 'Mad, Belligerent'

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Some striking coal miners were described by union officials today as angry and belligerent as about 58,000 miners continued a walkout in defiance of union orders.

"They're sort of belligerent. They're disappointed in the fact that they don't have a contract," said Joseph Yablonski, United Mineworkers director at Uniontown, Pa.

Harvey Yonker, UMW director at Johnstown, Pa., said: "We're telling the men that it is our very honest desire and urgent request that they return to work immediately."

RESUME TODAY

Negotiations between the union and the Bituminous Coal Operators Association were scheduled to resume today in Washington.

One western Pennsylvania mine owner said he is not going to enter into negotiations as long as the strike continues. Another threatened court action.

"We still have a contract that's in force, and while the men are out on strike, that's negotiating under duress," said an operator who asked not to be identified.

Another said, "This is strictly a wildcat strike and we are going to go to court to get an injunction."

EIGHT STATES

The walkout, which started early Monday and spread to eight states, is the most widespread and largest work stoppage in the soft coal fields in 15 years.

A handful of strikers returned to work Tuesday in Utah, Indiana, Virginia, West Virginia and Illinois. The majority remained away.

Two mines in Indiana County, Pa., which had remained in operation, were closed down early today by roving pickets. Each employs about 200.

PICKETS SHOWED UP

However, when they reported for work early today, pickets showed up and the miners turned around and went home.

In refusing to work, the strikers claim they were left without a contract Friday when the union signed a new agreement with three independent producers. The agreement calls for paying to the miners $20 a day with another $1 raise April 1, 1967.

The association has taken the position that the current contract is an open-ended and still in effect.

The miners on strike had received a base pay of $26.25 a day.

Two weeks ago, Chevrolet Division of General Motors Corp. confirmed that it is recalling 1,500,000 late model Chevelles and standard Chevrolets with automatic transmissions to correct a problem that could cause the accelerator to stick.

British Man Driven to Run-Down Condition

LONDON (UPI) — A British housewife was ordered into court today on charges of trying to kill her husband by running him down with the family car.

Police said Elizabeth Wilson, 38, ran over her husband in the Tottenham section of London yesterday. James Wilson, also 38, suffered head injuries and was reported in critical condition.

Budget Given Boost in OU Outlay to Supervisors Tentatively Offered

Tentative 1967 Figure Put at $23.2 Million

A tentative 1967 Oakland County budget of $23.2 million was submitted yesterday to the County Board of Supervisors.

Board members will take formal action on the proposed budget at their meeting next Monday.

If approved by the supervisors, the budget then will be submitted to the county tax allocation board which will set a tax rate for the county.

When the county's share of the 15 mill tax limitation is determined, the tentative budget will be revised and a final 1967 budget will be prepared for consideration of the supervisors next fall.

The tentative budget calls for nondepartmental appropriations of $4,300,940, departmental expenditures of $10,942,101 and $7,964,811 for salaries.

LOCAL TAXES

In order to balance expenditures, the county must raise $17,227,534 through local taxes. Receipts for county services would make up the balance.

A tax rate of 6.43 mills would be required to obtain local tax revenue to meet expenditures in the proposed budget.

Last year at this time the tentative 1966 budget of $19,428,037 was based on a tax rate of 5.92 mills.

The allocation board, however, allowed only 5.30 mills to the county when it apportioned the 15-mill limitation between the county, school districts and townships.

The board slashed a total of $627,600 in real estate valuations and allowed relief for only $3,100 on personal property valuations.

DOWNTOWN PROPERTY

Kephart recommended a drop in real estate values on downtown property totaling about $465,000.

Establishing the city's assessed valuation is the first step in a series toward final budget adoption and the city's 1966 tax rate.

The county will equalize the assessed valuation about May 1. That recommended county equalized valuation will then go to the state for revision or final approval about June 1.

The difference between the city's assessed value and the state equalized valuation is the equalizing factor, which is officially set by the state and rarely stays the same from year to year.

ADJUSTED DOWNWARD

At this early date, city officials anticipate that the 1966 budget—projected on a SEV of $406 million—may have to be adjusted downward.

Emphasizing that the equalizing factor has not been set, City Manager George A. Warren said it would appear the city will not get the anticipated $20 million hike in equalized value.

City officials drafted the total 1966 budget of $9.2 million on the projected increase in the tax base.

Warren said that the indications are that the increase may be $10 million short or about $100,000 in general operating revenue.

Using last year's equalizing factor, the city's eventual tax base could total $385,800,000 of SEV, which is under the $406 million on which the 1966 budget was based.

At that time the Legislature felt Oakland University had been slighted in the past and the governor's veto of supplemental funds last year also hurt the school.

The university stood to benefit by nearly $250,000 under the supplemental incentive appropriation that was approved twice — but vetoed both times — by the governor during the 1965 session.

CHANCELLOR APPEARED

Chancellor Durward B. Varner appeared before the appropriation committee last month.

At that time he said a minimum of $481,767 was needed beyond the governor's $3.7-million budget recommendation for 1966-67.

Levin commended Varner for his "diligent efforts in explaining the needs of the school to the Legislature, and for tirelessly fighting for programs that will fill the requirements."

Police Disband Demonstration Turns Into Scuffle

Viet Protest Rally

BERKELEY, Calif. (AP) — A Viet Nam Day Committee demonstration against U.S. policy in Southeast Asia erupted into a scuffling, fist-and-club-swinging melee Tuesday night with police pitted against a tense, angry crowd.

Police Lt. Bruce Baker said some demonstrators were hurt and at least one hospitalized. He said six arrests were made on charges including assault on police, resisting arrest and interfering with police.

A riot threatened when police moved in on a Telegraph Avenue apartment near the University of California campus in downtown Berkeley and attempted to seize loudspeakers they said were used without a permit. VDC headquarters moved there after the old one was mysteriously bombed last week.

CROWD GATHERS

A crowd of about 3,000 persons gathered at the building for a rally to support demonstrators in South Viet Nam. Demonstrators hung an effigy of President Johnson.

VDC leaders strung a banner across an apartment building that read: "Withdraw U.S. troops."

Officers tried to enter the building from which an amplifier was used. Demonstrators started throwing punches at police elbowing through. Police used riot sticks. After about five minutes police got into the building and confiscated the equipment.

After the Telegraph Avenue rhubarb demonstrators marched 10 blocks to the Berkeley City Hall for a rally.

Some demonstrators tried to enter the building to attend a City Council meeting then in session. About 30 Berkeley police barred their way and prevented all but officials and newsmen from going in. Baker said the VDC had been offered the chance to send a committee in to the council but had refused.

Another police-demonstrator scuffle started after 10 p.m. when the rally, at which VDC leaders spoke from a sound truck, started breaking up.

Ten thousand Americans are housed at the field, which handles U.S. and Vietnamese military squadrons as well as serving as Saigon's international airport. It is four miles from the heart of the capital.

Americans quartered at the field immediately turned off lights and ducked for cover.

30 EXPLOSIONS

"I heard more than 30 explosions," said Airman 2 C David B. Smith of Orlando, Fla. "Shrapnel bounced off the roof of the building and one of our buses got hit."

An Air Force MP, Jerry Haas of High Point, N.C., was standing guard in a supply area and had just told a companion, "We don't know if they'll ever hit here." The first mortar round landed nearby, knocking him off his feet. He strained his neck.

The last major Viet Cong hit-and-run attack on the Saigon area occurred 13 days ago when a terrorist squad killed three Americans and wounded 143, including 113 Americans, at the Victoria Hotel officers' billet in the city.

Birmingham Area News Big Budget Hike Sought in Bloomfield Township

BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP — A 23 per cent increase in township spending has been proposed for the 1966-67 fiscal year by Supervisor Homer C. Case.

Case has recommended to the Township Board a budget listing expenditures at $878,100. This year's budget was $714,100.

Public hearing on the new budget has been scheduled for 8 p.m. April 25.

Largest increase recommended by Case is in the general government category, which would go from $219,300 to $278,400.

Included in the amount is $127,900 for the salaries of the supervisor, clerk, treasurer, assessor and clerical employees and bookkeepers in their offices. Five new employees have been hired for these areas.

BIGGEST CHUNK

Accounting for the biggest amount of expenditures in the recommended budget is the police department.

Case is urging an expenditure of $282,400 for the police department, marking an increase of $47,000 over this year's figure.

The fire department allocation would be boosted from $194,900 to $234,200 and that of the building department from $65,100 to $83,100.

The recommended budget includes no personnel increases in the police and fire departments.

UNSUCCESSFUL ATTEMPT

An unsuccessful attempt was made at the polls last week to increase the millage for these two departments and for road improvement in the township.

The budgets of the two departments would total $516,600.

Township Clerk Mrs. Deloris (Bryce) Little noted the 1-mill tax voted extra to support them nets $171,362, leaving a balance of $845,238 to come from the general fund.

To help balance the budget, the Township Board Monday night transferred a half - mill from the fire department's building and site fund to its operating fund.

Township income from taxes and regular revenue in 1966-67 is expected to be $257,450, with the rest of the deficit being made up from miscellaneous income.

County Quota for Draft: 282

Oakland County has been scheduled by State Selective Service headquarters to supply 282 men of Michigan's draft call for the month of May.

The county quota represents almost 10 per cent of the state figure of 2,822.

Draft board officials said it is expected the call will be filled from single men and those married after Aug. 26, 1965.

The figure is an increase of 37 men over April.

The two countywide boards based in Pontiac will call a total of 94 men, Pontiac's single board is scheduled for 39, and Farmington's quota is 10.

The remaining 139 men will come from the three boards in Royal Oak.

Oakland County was second highest in county quotas in the state, five ahead of the Macomb call and well behind Wayne (873).

Have Counselors, Will Travel

By LESLIE J. NASON, Ed. D.

Equality of educational opportunity demands that every high school be able to supply counseling services. But this is not always practical for a number of reasons.

Consolidation of such services necessitates transporting hundreds of students to the central location. An alternative is to transport the services to the students.

And Indiana University's Office of Counseling and Guidance, under a DR. NASON contract with the North Lawrence Community School System, has established a Mobile Counseling Center to provide vocational and educational guidance for students of 17 high schools located in a four-county Southern Indiana area.

A mobile unit, a trailer specially designed by members of the Counseling Center, consists of three offices, three testing booths, an occupational-educational information library and a reception area.

This trailer-based program is being financed through a grant from the U. S. Office of Education to the Bedford school agency. Administrative director of the grant is Dan A. Schafer, superintendent of North Lawrence Community Schools.

"The project is designed to supplement the existing counseling services of the four-county school system," said Schafer, "and will be available to reach of the 17 schools on a rotational schedule according to need."

The Center will provide supplementary educational and vocational counseling to some 6,000 high school students in Lawrence, Martin, Orange, and Washington Counties during the remaining part of the 1965-1966 school year, and in 1966-67.

Indiana University officials anticipate making two complete circuits before school ends this June.

While the unit will operate within usual school hours helping individual students by appointment, the staff also will consult with parents, teachers and other members of the four-county area community.

Rather than place the opportunity for education in a centralized spot not readily available to the parents and other interested citizens of widely separated communities, this operation will function directly in the community schools.

If successful, an additional three or four trailer units may be added to the program in the future, in order to make services available to a larger number of Hoosier high schools.

WITHOUT DELAY

This scheme of bringing services to the student can be put into operation without delay; no need to wait for consolidation elections, bond issues, or new buildings.

Guideposts Stronger

(EDITOR'S NOTE—What are the government's economic guideposts? What are the pros and cons? John T. Cuniff will analyze the changing guidepost story in a four-part series.)

By JOHN T. CUNIFF
AP Business News Writer

NEW YORK — The war in Vietnam is not the only thing that has escalated dramatically in the past few years. The administration's voluntary guideposts have also.

The guideposts, first proposed in 1962 as "aids to public understanding," now sometimes have the practical power of laws.

Voluntary restraints are asked on a variety of economic endeavors. But the best known and most specifically stated restraints are the wage-price guideposts, whose aim is avoidance of inflation.

In the name of guideposts, industry has been forced to restrict price increases, unions have been urged to lower wage demands and both companies and unions have been chastised publicly.

The guideposts tie wages and prices to the average gain in output per man-hour—estimated at 3.2 per cent in recent years. Wage increases above that figure are considered inflationary. And industries with good profits and a productivity gain in excess of that figure aren't expected to raise prices.

When the President's Council of Economic Advisers introduced guideposts it described them as a "guide rather than a rule," a "contribution" to public policy.

By 1964, however, they were referred to as a "standard."

Aluminum allegedly crossed the standard in October 1965 by raising the price of primary aluminum 4 1/2 cents a pound to $1.25, bringing it over the standard in the escalation: enforcement by government stockpile.

Stockpiles were designed to assure an adequate supply of materials in case of war. There are some 20 materials stockpiled, a reserve valued at more than $8 billion.

SELL STOCKPILE
Secretary of Defense Robert McNamara announced Nov. 6 that the administration would sell 200,000 tons of aluminum.

On the witness stand, Kreger insisted he never had information to indicate the tank mortgages were unsecured, much less visited Estes.

Kreger called then at his home in Pecos, Estes said, and two days later they conferred at Plainville, the center of Estes' vast grain operations.

Leon Hickman, an executive of Aluminum Co. of America, replied that Alcoa had "no intention" of rescinding.

The next day, Nov. 8, the administration, strengthened its 100,000 tons of aluminum would be sold immediately and another 200,000 tons in 1966.

Said Hickman now: "The government stockpile stands like a sword over the aluminum industry." Aluminum had little choice.

GAVE IN
John Harper, Alcoa president, went to Washington, spoke with McNamara and gave in on the evening of Nov. 9. McNamara made the announcement; Alcoa's came five minutes later. The stockpile threat was retracted. The guideposts had escalated.

(Copper then met a similar confrontation. But copper was in short supply, the industry welcomed the stockpile and gave up its increase.)

The power of the guideposts still was not clear, however. On New Year's Day Bethlehem Steel Co., apparently without consulting the administration, raised the price of structural steel $5 a ton.

Estes Gives Statements

Testimony Conflicts in Bid for Release

EL PASO, TEX. (AP) — U.S. Dist. Judge Leo Brewster weighed contradictory statements by Billie Sol Estes and a witness testifying against him on the bankrupt West Texas promoter's bid to get out of prison today.

More testimony was due from Hilbert Kreger Jr., a Chicago loan company official engaged in the dispute with Estes.

Court observers expected the hearing on Estes' motion for a new trial, which started Monday, to end during the day.

Since Judge Brewster has said he intended to reread all eight volumes of the record from Estes' 1963 fraud trial, it was uncertain whether the court would rule immediately.

Estes told the court that his 15-year term for mail fraud and conspiracy should be canceled for at least two reasons: Kreger had lied at the trial three years ago, and that there was no fraud in his multi-million-dollar dealings in fertilizer tank mortgages because all those engaging in the transactions knew there was no security for the loans.

Just as he had testified at the 1963 trial Kreger maintained Tuesday he had never seen or talked with Estes prior to that trial.

Estes, breaking four years of courtroom silence on the mortgage deals because of criminal charges against him in several other cities, testified earlier he and Kreger had worked out a business deal about May 24, 1961.

Kreger called then at his home in Pecos, Estes said, and two days later they conferred at Plainville, the center of Estes' vast grain operations.

On the witness stand, Kreger insisted he never had information to indicate the tank mortgages were unsecured, much less visited Estes.
