Wheat Boycott Continues

DETOUR — What may look like a stock car race at a hairpin turn is really 4:30 p.m. rush hour traffic at the Perimeter Road and East Pike. Motorists can look forward to the major rerouting in the downtown area for the next month or more while the Clinton River is tunneled under Saginaw. A short stretch of the perimeter road was opened to ease the congestion.

Major Debate Shaping Up on Viet Strategy

American Officials Say Decision Still Several Weeks Off

WASHINGTON (AP)—A major debate appears to be building up over U.S. strategy for fighting communism in South Viet Nam, but well informed officials said today a decision is several weeks off.

At the moment, informants said, the Johnson administration is concentrating all its efforts in embattled South Viet Nam on trying to make a success of the strategic hamlet program for ousting Communist Viet Cong guerrillas.

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The White House said today Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara will return to Viet Nam soon to check on progress of the war against Communist guerrillas, but the trip indicates no new crisis.

But if this strategy does not work, the administration will then have to consider whether to adopt a broader strategic concept which could include carrying the war, at least in hit-and-run operations, into Communist North Viet Nam.

Meanwhile, with the future uncertain, pressures are building up within the government over what to do if the struggle continues to go badly from the U.S. point of view.

★ ★ ★

Ideas which have come into the debate so far range from trying to "neutralize" all Viet Nam, at one extreme, to direct and open military attack on military centers in North Viet Nam, at the other extreme.

DEBATE COMPLICATED

The public debate developing over what ought to be done is complicated by the fact that the government itself appears to be building up psychological warfare pressures on the Communist high command in Southeast Asia.

★ ★ ★

The aim of these pressures is to try to get across to the North Vietnamese government in Hanoi and to the Red Chinese leadership in Peking a warning of expanded U.S. and South Vietnamese operations.

★ ★ ★

Much of the speculation about what may happen springs from President Johnson's foreign policy speech at Los Angeles last Friday when he renewed the U.S. commitment to assist the defense of South Viet Nam and said the Communist leadership should understand that it is playing "a deeply dangerous game" there.

Soviet Embassy, Buildings Are Seized by Albanians

MOSCOW (UPI) — The Soviet Union disclosed today that Albania seized the Soviet embassy and four other Russian buildings in the Albanian capital of Tirana.

Russia said the "hostile acts" were unprecedented in international diplomatic practice.

The Soviet government newspaper Izvestia denounced the Albanian action as "provocation" and demanded the buildings be returned immediately.

FIVE BUILDINGS

Izvestia disclosed that the Albanians had taken over five Soviet diplomatic buildings in the Albanian capital — the main Russian embassy building, two administrative buildings and two residences.

It said the seizure occurred last Thursday.

"The provocation of Albanian leaders who do not take into account elementary tact in relations of Socialist countries, nor the norms of international law . . . cannot but arouse the indignation and wrath of all Soviet people," the official Soviet government paper said.

★ ★ ★

The incident kindled smoldering bitterness between Moscow and Communist Albania, which has consistently supported Communist China in its ideological controversy with the Soviet Union.

NO MOVES

Izvestia did not indicate any Soviet retaliatory moves for the Albanian seizure. It made no mention of Albanian embassy property in Moscow.

Albania and Russia had left behind caretakers in each other's embassies after they broke relations in December, 1961.

Last December 27, Izvestia disclosed today, the three Soviet caretakers left behind in Tirana were given two days notice to leave.

★ ★ ★

Exactly one month later, it said, Albania presented the Russians with an ultimatum to remove all property from their embassy buildings.

Union Insists Half of Grain in U.S. Vessels

Negotiations End With No Agreement on Deal With Soviets

WASHINGTON (AP)— The White House said today President Johnson "has a plan of action" if maritime unions continue to boycott loading wheat shipments going to Communist nations. A spokesman would not indicate what the plan might be.

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — A union boycott blocking multimillion - dollar shipments of U. S. wheat to the Soviet Union continued today after the collapse of negotiations between labor leaders and Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz.

Not one bushel of wheat will be loaded in U.S. ports until federal officials guarantee at least half of all grain shipments to Soviet bloc countries will go in American vessels, said President Thomas W. Gleason of the International Longshoremen's Union.

Eight ships are tied up by the boycott in Atlantic and Gulf Coast ports.

Wirtz left for Washington after four futile days of talks, saying the unions demand raised urgent problems affecting U. S. foreign policy, balance of payments and trade policy that could only be solved in highest level conferences in Washington.

★ ★ ★

Wirtz failed in a last-minute plea to union officials to lift the boycott until such conferences could be arranged.

PERSONAL APPEALS

President Johnson's personal appeals to labor leaders also failed to budge the unions.

The longshoremen and other maritime unions had the full backing of the AFL-CIO in resisting the Johnson administration's request to load the wheat.

City Urges Motorists to Avoid Intersection

In an effort to ease rush hour traffic tie-ups in downtown Pontiac, city officials today urged motorists to avoid the area of the Auburn - Orchard Lake-Saginaw intersection whenever possible.

The intersection was closed last week as work began on tunnelling the Clinton River Drain under Saginaw at that point. It will remain closed for 45 to 60 days.

City Traffic Engineer Joseph Koren again outlined detours today. He emphasized that most traffic jams occur late in the afternoon when detours are heavily travelled by homebound motorists.

★ ★ ★

Koren suggested that homebound motorists try to take alternate routes temporarily which completely avoid the detour area.

Saginaw is barricaded at Whittemore and Water. Barricades are up on Orchard Lake at Cass and on Auburn at Perry. Suggested detour routes are as follows:

Northbound: Saginaw to Whittemore to Perimeter Road to Pike to Saginaw.

Southbound: Saginaw to Water to Perry to Perimeter Road to Judson to Saginaw.

★ ★ ★

Eastbound: Orchard Lake to Cass to Patterson to Saginaw to Water to Perry to Auburn.

Westbound: Auburn to Perimeter Road to Pike to Williams to Orchard Lake.

TREASURE ISLAND, Calif. (AP) — Fleet Adm. Chester Nimitz, whose carrier task forces drove the Japanese fleet from the Pacific nearly 20 years ago, observed his 79th birthday today.

23 Indians Missing

New Kashmir Battle

NEW DELHI, India (AP)—Twenty-three Indian policemen are missing after a new outbreak of violence between Pakistan and India in the troubled state of Kashmir.

The Indian Defense Ministry lodged a protest with U.N. observers, charging that troops from the Pakistani sector of Kashmir crossed the cease-fire line dividing the Himalayan state and attacked the Indian patrol Friday.

Indian officials were able to account for only one member of the patrol.

The ambush occurred near Keran, about 70 miles west of Srinagar, Kashmir's summer capital, the ministry said. Pakistani troops crossed the cease-fire line along the Krishen Ganga River and fired on the patrol while other Pakistanis opened a barrage from the opposite bank, the ministry said.

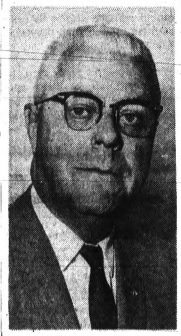

A spokesman for Prime Minister Nehru's Congress party said Pakistan may have deliberately staged the ambush to impress Communist Chinese Premier Chou En-lai, currently visiting Pakistan.

Indian officials expressed no surprise over a joint communique by Chou and Pakistan's President Mohammed Ayub Khan yesterday pledging Red China's support of Pakistan in the Kashmir dispute.

NOTHING STARTLING

A government spokesman said nothing startling could have emerged from a meeting of "the government leaders whose common denominator is dislike of India."

Ayub, who has always pictured himself as a strong friend of the West, held three days of talks with Chou in the old Punjab city of Rawalpindi, 60 miles west of the Kashmir frontier.

Defense Goes to Texas High Court

Woman Becomes 3rd Ruby Trial Juror

DALLAS (AP)—The third juror, a woman, was sworn in today in Jack Ruby's murder trial after defense legal maneuvers delayed the hearing.

The newest juror is Mrs. Mildred McCollum, mother of six children and secretary for a building contractor.

Under questioning, she said she saw part of the televised scene in which Ruby killed Lee Harvey Oswald.

Mrs. McCollum described her feelings when President Kennedy was killed in Dallas, allegedly by Oswald, in the words, "I would say a shock."

Defense lawyers prepared to ask the Texas Supreme Court for a ruling that persons who saw Ruby shoot Oswald on television were witnesses and thus disqualified for jury duty.

A defense representative was to fly to Austin, the capital, to ask the court for a writ of mandamus directing Dist. Court Judge Joe B. Brown to follow this reasoning. A mandamus is a directive from a high court to a lower court.

Mrs. McCollum, called as the 49th prospective juror, said she had the same reaction, shock, when she saw Oswald shot. Assistant defense counsel Joe Tonahill asked whether this made a "profound and lasting impression on her," and she replied, "I would say so."

Mrs. McCollum said she could vote the death penalty, but also, depending on the evidence, she could vote for a suspended sentence.

HOLD TO BELIEFS

She said firmly, when asked whether she would retain her own point of view even though a majority of the other jurors held an opposite view, "I would hold to what I believe."

Texas law provides that witnesses to a crime are ineligible to be jurors in the case, and Ruby's defense contends that this applies to those who watched the nationally televised scene of Ruby shooting Oswald.

Judge Brown has held so far that having watched the shooting on TV did not disqualify prospective jurors.

★ ★ ★

The first two jurors accepted said they had seen TV reruns but did not remember the scene in detail.

'U.S. Ruling May Affect Districting'

LANSING (AP) — The State Supreme Court today termed as "possibly pivotal" the question of whether U. S. Constitution must be considered as the court lays out new legislative districts for Michigan.

Justice Michael O'Hara told a press conference that interpretation of the 14th Amendment of the federal document has been increasingly expanded until "the basic question of apportionment has been equated with it."

The conference, in the office of Chief Justice Thomas Kavanagh, came as the court handed down an order setting forth two questions of timing and one of limitation, which the court said must be considered.

O'Hara said if the issue of apportionment reaches the U. S. Supreme Court, it would more likely be through appeal arising from a federal challenge of the new constitution pending at Port Huron than from an appeal of the apportionment question before the state court.

Man Found in Log, Frozen but Alive

IRON RIVER (AP) — "It's amazing," said Sheriff Edward P. Sandri of 71-year-old Henry Borns' survival after two nights and a day in a hollow log in the frozen woods.

With both legs frozen and his hands frostbitten, Borns was in a hospital in nearby Stambaugh today with doctors watching his condition.

Two skiers found the elderly man lying in the hollowed-out log Saturday in the woods 18 miles southeast of this city in Michigan's western Upper Peninsula.

★ ★ ★

Borns had been there since Thursday when he crawled into the log to rest on a hiking trip by himself.

DISCOVERED HIKER

Out on a ski trip, Rudolph Johnson and his wife, Flora, both in their 60s, came upon Borns, semiconscious, after following his footprints in the snow.

Borns had endured two nights of subzero weather. One night it was 12 below or more.

The area is isolated and heavily wooded.

★ ★ ★

"If those skiers hadn't found him, he probably never would have been found," said Sandri, sheriff of Iron County.

Thant Talks on Cyprus Rift Reach the Crucial Stage

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — U.N. Secretary-General U Thant reached a crucial stage today in diplomatic talks on his plan to ease the crisis on the smoldering island of Cyprus.

Thant brought British delegate Sir Patrick Dean and Cypriot Foreign Minister Spyros Kyprianou together for the first time at a 90-minute Sunday conference in his office. He expressed belief "the picture will be clearer" today.

One U.N. diplomat said Thant had reached a "difficult stage" in his effort to get agreement on an international peace force for Cyprus buttoned up before the Security Council resumes debate on the crisis Tuesday.

SNAGGED ON TREATY

Thant's efforts were reported snagged by a dispute over whether any Cyprus resolution submitted to the 11-nation council should mention the 1960 treaty of guarantee that accompanied the island's grant of independence from Britain.

The treaty says that Britain, Turkey and Greece can intervene independently in Cyprus affairs.

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP) — Government officials thanked the Soviet Union today for supporting Cyprus in the U.N. Security Council debate on a peace-keeping force for the Mediterranean island.

rangements between the Greek and Turkish Cypriots.

The United States, Britain and Turkey interpret this as an authorization for military intervention and want the treaty mentioned.

Greece and the Cypriot government, which is in the hands of the Greek Cypriot majority, oppose any mention of the treaty. They fear it will be used to justify a Turkish invasion to protect the Turkish Cypriot minority. The Greek Cypriot majority wants to end the minority's constitutional rights of veto over various types of legislation.

PEACE FORCE

Thant was also said to be having trouble finding countries to make up a peace-keeping force. Of all those mentioned that might be acceptable, only Canada seemed willing to supply troops.

Archbishop Makarios, president of Cyprus, has said he would accept troops from some British Commonwealth and nonaligned countries.

Dispatches from Cyprus said the Mediterranean island is turning into a vast armed camp as thousands of young men and some women on both sides receive weapons training.

Kelley Asks Denial of GTW Bid

LANSING (UPI)—Atty. Gen. Frank J. Kelley, continuing his war against dwindling railroad service in Michigan, today urged the Public Service Commission to deny a request by Grand Trunk Western Railroad to end commuter train service in Southeastern Michigan.

Kelley said that 73,870 persons would be denied commuter service annually if the Grand Trunk Western is allowed to end its service to Pontiac, Royal Oak, Birmingham and Detroit on the morning runs.

He also asked the PSC to deny another request by the railroad to discontinue overnight passenger service between Detroit and Chicago, saying that about 13,000 passengers now use the service

★ ★ ★

The Grand Trunk presently operates three morning commuter trains from Pontiac to Detroit and two evening commuters from Detroit to Pontiac. The train sought to be abandoned, Kelley said, leaves Pontiac at 6:20 a.m. stops at Royal Oak, Birmingham and Ferndale, and arrives in Detroit at 7:35 a.m.

★ ★ ★

Pointing to the heavy population of the area served, Kelley said, "Public convenience and necessity requires continuance of Grand Trunk's trains. The traveling public would be greatly inconvenienced if they were discontinued."

HIS NEIGHBORS — Arthur J. Holland, mayor of Trenton, N.J., talks to two neighbors in a racially mixed section of the city. The mayor plans to move into the area to aid an urban renewal movement. The neighbors are Mrs. Matilda Wiggins (left) and Mrs. Ethel Blackman.

Mayor's Move to Aid Renewal

TRENTON, N.J. (AP) — Mayor Arthur J. Holland is going to do something personally about urban renewal in the aging, racially mixed Mercer - Jackson section of Trenton.

He is moving into the neighborhood.

★ ★ ★

Holland, 45, said emphatically, "I'm moving in to stay." This despite eyebrow raising in other sections of town and disbelief within his new neighborhood, which is about 50 per cent Negro.

NOT CRUSADE

Holland, mayor since 1959, says his action did not begin as a crusade. He and his wife of two years, the former Elizabeth Ann Jackson, wanted to buy an old home and remodel it in early American style.

They decided on a three-story, century old brick house on Mercer Street.

★ ★ ★

"We began to feel that maybe other people would follow our lead and the whole area would benefit," Holland said.

Holland, his wife and 10-month-old daughter will move into the house on Friday. They bought it for about $7,000, the mayor said, and put $10,000 more into extensive remodeling.

NEGRO NEIGHBOR

A Negro family lives in the house next door. Negroes live in tenements across the street.

"The American tradition is that when you make something of yourself you move to the so-called better section in town. That's West Trenton here. So a lot of people in West Trenton can't understand my moving to Mercer Street," Holland said.

★ ★ ★

"On Tyler Street, where my family has lived for about 50 years, they think I'm going backward. In Chambersburg they say, 'What's he moving down there for?'

"And even on Mercer Street they don't think I'll go through with it. They say, 'He'll move in for a couple of months because he said he would and then he'll move out.'"

NOT NECESSARILY

Holland says "People have to be shown that a mixed neighborhood is not necessarily a run-down neighborhood.

"Maybe other people won't move into this section. Maybe the people here now won't fix up their places. Then our place will become an island.

"But I'm moving in to stay."

FBI Probes Death of Pair

Agreed to Surrender in Bank Robberies

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Two sons of well-to-do parents were found dead yesterday in their sports car. The Federal Bureau of Investigation reported in Los Angeles that they had promised to surrender to authorities in connection with two bank robberies.

The victims, University of Miami student Avie Celender and former student Arthur Tepper, were shot in the chest.

A pistol was between them on the front seat. The car was parked in suburban Key Biscayne.

Police sought to determine whether it was murder or suicide or both.

In Los Angeles, William G. Simon, an FBI agent, said that in a telephone conversation from Miami the two had admitted guilt in connection with bank robberies. Simon said they agreed to a suggestion to surrender to the FBI here.

★ ★ ★

Metropolitan homicide detective Wallace La Peters reported a note in Tepper's pocket said he was ashamed of himself and expressed regret for something he had done.

HE BELIEVED

La Peters said he believed Tepper, of Scranton, Pa., shot Celender, of Indianapolis, then shot himself.

Los Angeles police reported Tepper and Celender left California Dec. 11, the day after a $27,813 robbery of the Bank of America branch in suburban Sherman Oaks.

They said the two had been sought as alleged associates of Warner Edwin Loftus, charged with participation in a dozen California bank holdups since November 1961.

Celender was the son of Joseph Celender, an executive of an Indianapolis wholesale athletic equipment firm.

TIRE COMPANY

Surviving Tepper are his parents, Alex Tepper, owner of a tire company in Scranton, and Mrs. Tepper.

Crash Survivor Listed as OK

A Farmington girl who survived a Saturday auto crash in which her three companions were killed was listed in good condition this morning in a Saginaw hospital.

Linda McQueen, 19, of 22932 Hayden spent the weekend on the critical list at St. Luke's Hospital in Saginaw.

The Ferris State College coed and her three friends were returning from a double-date ski trip when their car struck a bridge abutment on M-46, nine miles west of Saginaw.

Miss McQueen was thrown from the car by the impact. Pinned in the wreckage were her companions, Douglas J. Valone, 21, and Peter M. Mazzara, 20, both of Detroit, and Candance Stark, 18, of Benton Harbor.

Police believe that Valone, who was driving, fell asleep at the wheel.

Assessment Hearing Set for Alley Improvements

BIRMINGHAM —Hearing on the special assessment district for a South Woodward alley improvement will be held at tonight's City Commission meeting.

The $47,700 project was proposed to improve the eight-block alley on the west side of Woodward between Lincoln and Bird. The alley is to be graded and paved with concrete. Necessary drainage work also is included in the plans.

I. J. Giacolone of the Detroit Rubbish Co. has requested that his discussion with the commission be postponed a week.

★ ★ ★

The commission last week told the rubbish contractor to return with figures backing up his claim that his business costs have risen 40 per cent in the last year.

RENEGOTIATION

Giacolone has a $152,000 three-year contract to pick up residential rubbish in Birmingham. He had asked that the contract be renegotiated or dissolved because of increased business costs.

In a letter to City Manager L. R. Gare, the contractor's representative said the additional figures could be prepared for next week's meeting.

A proposed charter revision has been approved by Gov. Romney for inclusion on the April 6 ballot here.

★ ★ ★

The charter change would exclude the city assessor from the board of review.

LISTEN TO APPEALS

Presently, the assessor along with two City Commission-appointed citizens listens to assessment appeals from property owners.

★ ★ ★

There would be three appointees if the amendment is approved. The assessor would be a nonvoting adviser and clerk of the board.

Man Is Given Corpse's Arm

BOSTON (AP) — Two doctors at Peter Bent Brigham Hospital reported today that the first transplant of a human limb from a corpse to a live person has been performed in Guyaquil, Ecuador.

The two Boston surgeons reported that the operation was performed last week on a 28-year-old Ecuadorian sailor who had lost his right hand in an accident.

Dr. Roberto Gilbert, chief surgeon at the Clinica Guyaquil, replaced the missing hand and forearm with one from a man who had recently died in another hospital in Ecuador.

★ ★ ★

Drs. Richard W. Wilson and Robert M. Goldwyn of the Peter Bent Brigham Hospital flew down to the South American country by invitation last Tuesday.

CONTACTED UNIT

Dr. Gilbert had contacted the transplant unit of the famed Boston hospital for advice on the post-operative treatment of the patient. Dr. Wilson and Goldwyn said they believe this is the first homograft of a human limb in medical history. They said that when they left Ecuador over the weekend the patient was coming along fine.

Police Seek Drivers in Death of Boy, 4

A four-year-old Pontiac boy was killed Saturday when he was dragged 168 feet by one car and then run over by another vehicle.

Neither vehicle stopped.

The hit and run victim was Kenneth H. Duncan, son of Mrs. Hattie Duncan, 330 Franklin Road.

Pontiac police were searching for two cars seen leaving the scene of the accident, the Bagley-Wessen intersection about 7:45 p.m.

A motorist told police that a red or maroon 1962 or 1964 Pontiac passed her in the opposite direction just before she saw the boy's body.

GREY CAR

A moment later her passenger saw a grey car, possibly a 1962 or '64 Mercury, drive over the boy. It too was traveling at a high rate of speed, the motorist said.

Police were conducting a door to door campaign in the area in hopes of finding a witness to the accident.

Police said that normally there are quite a few persons walking near the well lighted intersection.

★ ★ ★

The youngster was crossing Bagley when he was struck. The impact was so great he was knocked out of one of his shoes. His other shoe was found 28 feet from the body.

MAN RELEASED

A man with a business in the Pontiac area was stopped by Wyandotte police two hours after the accident because of damage to the front of his car.

He was released after explaining that he was involved in an accident on Wednesday.

Area garage owners have been asked by police to report any person bringing in a late model car to have bodywork done.

71-Year-Old Man Found Alive in Log

They had their skis along for side trips.

The footprints in the snow led them to the log in the woods, about 15 feet in from an old logging road, nowadays little more than a woods trail.

★ ★ ★

"They saw a leg sticking up. At first they thought the man was dead," Sandri said.

ANSWERS IN MOANS

Borns answered the Johnsons' questions in moans.

The Johnsons said they knew they could not help Borns by themselves.

So they raced their jeep three miles back up the road to the nearest telephone and called for help.

★ ★ ★

Sheriff's men and conservation officers reached Borns shortly afterward.

'HARDLY MOVE'

Sandri said Borns could "hardly move" when the men reached him. He was taken out of the log.

A fire was built. He was given coffee and brandy and he revived, Sandri said.

An ambulance which followed the rescuers out to the woods took Borns to Stambaugh General Hospital in Stambaugh.

★ ★ ★

Doctors said they might have to wait a few days before learning whether Borns' legs could be saved.

GOING FOR A WALK

Sandri said Borns seemed uncertain of what he had been up to except that he was "just going for a walk."

Little is known here of Borns.

He has lived alone in a small hotel on a pension.

★ ★ ★

Sandri said he might be a onetime woodsman or miner.

Clay, Liston vs. Symphony

Bitter Fight in New Orleans

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP) — Scowling and flexing their lawbooks, the fighters shuffle in their corner, eager for tomorrow's opening bell.

They will stage the New Orleans preliminary to the heavyweight championship bout at Miami Beach. Some say it may be the better fight.

The bitter issue:

Can music lovers endure a concert mixed with bloodthirsty roars from fight fans in an adjoining hall. Civil District Judge David Gertler has been asked to decide the thorny question.

The New Orleans Philharmonic-Symphony Society contends its rental contract for one side of Municipal Auditorium Tuesday night guarantees a "quiet, peaceful performance."

OTHER HALF

Then, along came Bonny Geigerman, who promotes boxing matches when he isn't tending bar. He rented the other half of the auditorium.

So while the orchestra is presenting the Macumba Suite, the other half will be the site of a closed-circuit television showing of the Sonny Liston-Cassius Clay fight.

The sliding partition between the two sections is hardly soundproof — a factor which has led to memorable situations in the past.

★ ★ ★

Leopold Stokowski, acting as guest conductor, once stopped the orchestra with an imperious flourish. He stood, radiating outrage, listening to a jazz band echoing from the other hall.

NEVER AGAIN

It was after a second incident that the society had the "quiet peaceful performance" clause inserted in its contract. Mayor Victor Schiro promised it would never happen again.

Otis Guichet, secretary of the Louisiana Athletic Commission, said the symphony society really has no problem.

"Let them take a 15-minute intermission at 9 o'clock," said Guichet, who has great respect for Liston's punching power. "It will all be over when they get back."

Then they disclosed that the queen, 46, had developed chills, a high fever and lung congestion, with pains in the chest.

Equal Amount Goes to Curb Flood

$500 Million a Year Spent in U.S. on Pornography

(EDITOR'S NOTE — This is the first article in a five-part series on pornography in the United States, written by UPI reporter Harry Ferguson.)

By HARRY FERGUSON

WASHINGTON (UPI)—About $1 billion a year is spent in the United States in the unending battle over what we shall be allowed to read, see and hear.

The production and distribution of pornography — in books, films, magazines and phonograph records — is big business.

U.S. Post Office officials think the annual turnover may be as high as $500 million. Government agencies and private organizations spend an equal amount trying to cut off the flood of pornography and in policing the arts and entertainment in other ways.

★ ★ ★

Nobody defends what is called "hard core pornography" — smut for smut's sake — except the people who produce, distribute and buy it. The courts almost invariably deny it the shelter and protection of the Bill of Rights. The main censorship battle rages on a field removed from hard core pornography.

CENSORSHIP QUESTIONS

It involves such things as whether "Lady Chatterley's Lover" is art or obscenity, whether narcotic addiction is a suitable subject for a movie, whether white and Negro actors should appear in the same play and how low is too low on the neckline of the gown of a television actress.

Censorship does not occupy itself exclusively with sex. In its most repressive form, it can be purely political as it was when Adolf Hitler publicly burned books that dissented from his theories about racial matters.

One of the first recorded cases of censorship occurred in 35 A.D. when the Roman emperor Cali-Gula tried to suppress Homer's "Odyssey" because he thought it contained subersive ideas about the freedom of the individual.

★ ★ ★

Over the years and around the world, censorship has manifested itself in strange and contradictory ways:

● In 1905 the Lord Chamberlain barred a London production of Gilbert and Sullivan's "The Mikado" for fear it would antagonize Japan. This bewildered the Japanese because bands aboard their warships were playing the score of the show to entertain the sailors.

CONDEMNED NOVEL

● In 1930 the Superior Court in Boston condemned Theodore Dreiser's novel "An American Tragedy" and fined the publisher $300. Across the Charles River in Cambridge, the book was required reading in a Harvard English course.

● In 1931 the governor of China's Hunan Province banned Lewis Carroll's "Alice in Wonderland." Asked if he thought the book was indecent, he replied no. What he objected to was the idea that animals should talk like human beings.

● In 1961 Les Ballets Africains, a dance troupe from the Republic of Guinea, toured the United States. The female members were puzzled because they were allowed to perform their primitive dances without brassieres in Chicago but were forced to wear them in Los Angeles.

★ ★ ★

If you have the urge to be a censor, the door is wide open. You do not need a license, a badge or a uniform.

FIRM CONVICTION

All you need is a firm conviction that somebody is performing or encouraging actions that you consider to be either illegal or immoral. It helps if you have money and a good lawyer.

The basic decision to make is what kind of censor you intend to be. The most effective ones concentrate on a fairly narrow field—either movies, books or magazines, and some restrict it even more by working, for instance, only in the field of paperback books.

Then you must decide whether you are going to be a preventive censor or a punitive censor. The difference is that a preventive censor tries to stop material from getting onto the general market.

★ ★ ★

He sees motion pictures before they are released, reads novels in galley proof, inspects the manuscripts and pictures that are going into magazines before the material is sent to the printer. This is a difficult field because few producers and publishers will consent to having their material inspected before it is offered to the general public.

MUCH EASIER

It is much easier to be a punitive censor — meaning that you try to punish a man for something he already has done.

This requires nothing more than walking into a bookstore and seeing something on the shelves of which you do not approve. Or coming out of a movie theater after seeing a film you consider obscene and deciding to take action against it.

There is a formidable body of laws on your side. Every state has, in one form or another, statutes against obscenity. At least 150 cities have passed ordinances which can be used by the censor. The sending of obscene matter through the mails is a federal offense.

So how can the censor lose? He can lose because there has been a startling change in the moral climate of the United States in the last 15 years.

MORE TOLERANT

The general public has become more tolerant and the courts more lenient. Movies are being shown that would not have been tolerated in 1954. Books that were under-the-counter items a decade ago are being sold openly.

And, as we shall see later, television — the most heavily censored and most inhibited medium of entertainment — is doing things today that would have turned network executives into mental cases a decade ago.

Tomorrow: Books? Are they art or obscenity?

Foreign visitors spent an average of $375 per person in this country last year.

Farm Program 'Has Merits'

Explains Procedure for Grain Growers

Growers who participate in the 1964 feed grain program will find definite advantages over growers who elect not to participate, according to Robert H. Long, chairman of the Oakland Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee.

One advantage, Long explained, is that the participating grower earns a diversion payment for reducing his 1964 acreage of corn or barley therbey assuring himself of a substantial income from the diverted acres regardless of drought, flood, insects, hail or crop disease.

This is also true of the price-support payment which is made on the acreage planted in 1964 to one or more of the feed grains. No matter what disposition is made of the crop, the price support payment is assured.

★ ★ ★

Also price - support loans and purchase agreements will be available on a participating farmer's entire 1964 production of the feed grains.

ADVANCE PAYMENT

If the participating farmer requests it, an advance payment of one-half of the diversion payment will be made within a week or 10 days, or as soon as possible after that time.

Growers take part in the feed grain program by diverting at least 20 per cent of the farm's feed grain base acreage into an approved conserving use and carrying out other provisions of the program.

If more than the minimum acreage is diverted, a higher rate of payment will apply.

★ ★ ★

Farm operators may file applications to take part in the 1964 feed grain program, at the Oakland County ASCS office, 63 Oakland Avenue, Room 3, Monday through Friday from 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. through March 27.

Food costs in the Soviet Union take about 50 per cent of the average family income, compared to less than 19 per cent in the United States.

Fast Getaway From New Hampshire

Rocky, Barry Plan Quick Switch to California

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP) — Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller and Sen. Barry Goldwater are not going to lose any time shifting their GOP presidential nomination battle to California after the New Hampshire primary.

The New York governor already has disclosed plans to begin a swing through California on March 11, while the tellers still may be counting the previous day's votes in New Hampshire.

* * *

Denison Kitchel, Goldwater's campaign manager, said the Arizona senator will hop to the coast shortly thereafter for some intensive campaigning in a state that will select an 86-vote delegation to the party's nominating convention in San Francisco in its June 2 primary.

NOT SAME STORY

Kitchel said his reports from California are that "things look good for Goldwater there." He quoted former Sen. William F. Knowland, who is plugging the Goldwater campaign, as saying that if the primary were held now the Arizona senator "would win by a half million votes.'

Sen. Thomas H. Kuchel, R-Calif., who will head a Rockefeller delegate slate, said in a separate interview that isn't what he hears.

"From all of the reports I am getting," he said, "Rockefeller is coming up and Goldwater is going down. I think it's going to be a ring-tailed battle."

Some unbiased political pros are crediting New York's national committeeman, George L. Hunman, with an expert organizing job for Rockefeller in California.

Kuchel said he was highly pleased with a list of prospective Rockefeller delegate-candidates, adding that they include "most of the well-known Republican names in the state."

PERSONAL CAMPAIGN

Kuchel, who won reelection in 1962 by a wide margin while former Vice President Richard M. Nixon was being defeated for governor, said he will campaign personally with Rockefeller unless his presence is required in the Senate at the time.

The New York governor has a date in Sacramento March 11 for a closed meeting with Republican members of the state legislature. After a bus trip he speaks at Concord and goes on to Oakland, where he will meet with San Francisco Bay area Negro leaders and address University of California students at Berkeley.

* * *

He will campaign in the San Fernando Valley and fly from Los Angeles to Fresno, where he will address the California Republican Assembly.

* * *

Although Goldwater's managers have recently got him into the streets for handshaking tours in New Hampshire, they are planning a heavy television-radio schedule for the windup campaign.

* * *

Kuchel indicated that something of the kind will be in order in California at the proper time.

Meeting Set With Negroes

Maryland Town Body to Air Racial Protests

PRINCESS ANNE, Md. (UPI) — Angry Negro students may meet today with members of the town commission to discuss the racial strife here that flared into demonstrations and violence during the weekend.

But there was some doubt that the tentative meeting would forestall more civil rights protests against racial discrimination in public accommodations, such as restaurants.

About 250 students, from predominately Negro Maryland State College here, marched down the main street of the town yesterday after authorities refused to drop charges against four demonstrators arrested in a clash with state police.

* * *

A crowd of some 200 farmers, teen-agers and other white persons milled in the business district while the students chanted integration slogans and sung "We Shall Overcome."

STRUCK DEMONSTRATOR

One white man reportedly struck a demonstrator in the stomach. State police took his name and then released him. Also, someone threw eggs at the marchers.

However, with the help of some 30 state troopers and deputy sheriffs, the demonstration remained fairly orderly. The Negroes returned to the college campus after 30 minutes.

The demonstration was held after leaders of the Student Appeal for Equality (SAFE) met with members of the Princess Anne biracial commission.

* * *

The students demanded that a public accommodations law be extended to Somerset County, which includes Princess Anne, and that charges against their four companions be dropped.

FREED ON BOND

Police refused to drop the charges although they did release them under bonds of $1,000 each for two of them and $500 each for the other two.

* * *

The four were seized on Saturday when about 300 students held a demonstration at a restaurant which allegedly refuses to serve Negroes.

It Seems to Me . . . .

Stronger Dem Candidates Enter Various Political Races

Highway Commissioner JOHN C. MACKIE and Detroit's Mayor JEROME CAVANAGH, plan to continue in public service. Mr. MACKIE has already announced that he'll be a candidate for the House of Representatives.

★ ★ ★

These two men deserve a warm round of applause. All too frequently the Democratic slate over the years has presented a dismal array of political mugwumps. A few decades back when the Republicans carried almost everything in sight, it was unimportant. The fact a few more undistinguished Democratic pretenders were dumped by the wayside was irrelevant.

Then things changed.

Democrats began to get elected.

★ ★ ★

However, the character of their slate often failed to keep abreast of the new times. Too often incompetent and untrained individuals were voted into office. This defection didn't stop with minor and marginal spots. Many times I have complained vigorously to Democratic leaders such as Judge CLARK ADAMS, former Governor MURRAY D. VAN WAGONER, WILLIS BREWER, HARRY WHITFIELD, WILLIAM DEAN and others. Usually they suggested: "the candidates you mention were self-starters."

★ ★ ★

With the Democrats in Michigan and elsewhere electing men to office in a widening circle it's high time the leaders took a vigorous and assertive hand and regulated the ticket. Hence, the encouraging word from Messrs. Mackie and Cavanagh suggests that strong, capable and eminently worthwhile men are entering the jousting circle. Democrats have been proud of men such as Sen. Hart and Neil Staebler who had sound and established reputations before they sought public office. But there aren't enough of them here and elsewhere.

★ ★ ★

The announcements about MACKIE and CAVANAGH are heartening. The Mayor of Detroit has compiled an enviable record during his tenure and has proven to be a strong and assertive administrator. NEIL STAEBLER has long ranked as a qualified citizen and businessman, well known through the Wolverine commonwealth.

Voters can feel reassured when they learn strong men are appearing on each ticket in various races. It means the commonwealth will be in capable hands, irrespective of who wins.

I spent a week with Mayor Cavanagh in Germany last fall and developed a high respect for him personally and for his ability. Recently he was voted one of the outstanding young men in America. John Mackie has distinguished himself in Lansing. The Democrats have cause for rejoicing.

Favorable Response . . . .

Tremendous enthusiasm greeted "C" University. Even "a million in admiration"—rolls in from the perceptive and discerning DOROTHY HUTTENLOCHER. And there's a start toward the 2,000 acres: a flower pot two inches square holds a mysterious seed, plus 40 acres near Ortonville.

★ ★ ★

One mother told me with tears in her voice that her daughter graduated with a good average and yet couldn't stay in a Mid-Western university. Two other parents phoned that their sons were exceptionally fine young men but they couldn't do the work in a well-known college. Many parents have phoned. All are sympathetic. Well, Thomas Edison never passed any entrance exams.

Neither did Henry Ford.

Without exception the parents are very proud of these splendid young people and what they stand for — and so am I.

Everyone wants "C" U.

The appeal is universal.

★ ★ ★

The criticism and jeers haven't appeared but they may be imminent. A mass meeting of enthusiasts would fill Michigan's football field. My phone has rung—and rung. People have approved on the street and in writing. Two said we should cancel the moon shot and put the money into old "C" U. We could double the original size at a cost of one one-thousandth of the moon shot.

That's simply challenging.

★ ★ ★

Everyone agrees it's high time SOMEONE paid attention SOMEWHERE to the millions and millions of boys and girls who'll soon be the backbone of the Nation. They'll fight our wars, carry us to a greater peace-time glory and assure us of an over-all religious, economic and educational future. These are the stars of tomorrow. These are God's chosen people — and yours and mine.

If some mysterious angel or sunshine fairy would just "happen along" and deposit a pot of gold or that "acre of diamonds" we'd be off and running.

And in Conclusion . . .

Jottings from the well-thumbed notebook of your peripatetic reporter:

Because of recent muggings and robberies, night subway trains in New York find passengers huddled tightly into a few cars with some running empty. Can you picture our forefathers surrendering to criminals like this? . . . . . Some British firms insist that girls with spiked heels wear a small rubber glove. . . . . Note to ice fishermen: carry a small awl and then if you break through you'll have something to use as a lever to help climb out.

BETTY

Purely personal nomination for an especially attractive young lady in the area: Betty Emmert. . . . . . Overheard: "Judging from results, the U. S. Winter Olympic team must have been coached by the State Department." . . . . . The Labor Department estimates that just under 4 million workers hold two jobs — a sharp increase from a year ago. . . . . . Can you read the following:

■

The first six phoning the correct answer to FE 5-3102 between eight and nine tonight will get four tickets each to a Tiger ball game. . . . . . Pan American uses freight carriers that average 575 miles an hour. I still recall a remark by the late C. E. Wilson: "what's an hour to a ton of coal?"

★ ★ ★

True Magazine ran a ballot on a national lottery. The "yes" answers were 98.4%. . . . . Take this to heart; a check by Chicago police shows 50% of stolen automobiles had the keys in the locks. . . . . If JACKIE GLEASON broadcasts from Florida next year, he'll charter a boat and tour back and forth with a whole troop including dancing girls and musicians. He did it once to California from New York on a special train. . . . . Dept. of Cheers and Jeers: the C's — Old "C" U.; the J's—the devious ducking and delays in this BAKER case.

"Service" has become the byword in the banking business. The latest example of customer convenience is reported in Canada where a bank is urging borrowers to "dial a loan—day or night."

No one thought it unusual until the Toronto Star observed that banking by the light of the moon could have a profound effect on the tactical position of the courting male.

Since time began, it was noted, promises made during the witching hours were frequently forgotten in the cool light of dawn. With the price of a ring or a wedding no further away than the nearest telephone, man becomes almost defenseless.

The conclusion was that some calculating female must be behind the whole idea of nighttime bank borrowing.

The Jackson Citizen-Patriot

The come-ons used by transient peddlers to make a sale are almost as numerous as the people who fall for them.

★ ★ ★

There's the well-worn bit about "being one of the few in this area" being invited to buy at "special" prices. Or that "you can qualify" by agreeing to "demonstrate" or "advertise" the product by having it in your home.

Other lines attempt to lure a buyer with throwing in extras — usually useless and worthless — "at no extra cost."

None of these devices would be effective come-ons if people understood that any salesman offering for free something of obvious monetary worth is simply being misleading.

But it's the hope for something for nothing, or for, at least, a bargain, that makes a person ripe for the fast sales pitch.

Some of the products being pushed by door-to-door salesmen using such high-pressure pitches are of good quality and worthy of a customer's consideration.

★ ★ ★

Other merchandise and services are out-and-out frauds, which an unwary customer can be legally trapped into accepting and paying for if he signs papers.

One way to put the brakes on this sort of cad is to first refuse to consider doing business until you've checked out the salesman through a Better Business Bureau or Chamber of Commerce. Secondly tell him you never make such decisions without "sleeping on it" first.

If he objects to either request, all you've lost is a good chance of being stuck with some goods you'd wish later on you hadn't been suckered into buying.

Capital Letter:

Candidates in '64 Race Are Rolling in Money

By RUTH MONTGOMERY

WASHINGTON — To paraphrase an old saw: The Lord must love rich presidential candidates because he made so many of them.

It seems a long time since that gray day nineteen years ago when Harry S. Truman, suddenly elevated to the presidency, had to borrow money from the bank to see him through until his first White House pay check arrived.

RUTH MONTGOMERY

But today's crop of leading presidential possibilities is blessed with a hefty slice of wordly goods.

This is fortunate, since total expenditures for the 1964 election campaign have been estimated at $200,000,000.

★ ★ ★

By all odds the richest of this year's presidential aspirants is Gov. Nelson Rockefeller, grandson of fabulously wealthy John D. Rockefeller, whose personal fortune is estimated at $200,000,000.

DARK HORSES

Wealthiest of the dark horses is Gov. William Scranton of Pennsylvania, who inherited approximately $10,000,000 from his mother.

Michigan's Gov. Romney came into his reported millions by exercising a stock option on a vast chunk of shares in American Motors.

Sen. Barry Goldwater insists that he is "not in the millionaire class," reportedly received one-third of the approximate $2,250,000 sale price of the three Goldwater department stores last year.

★ ★ ★

In addition, his wife, Peggy, is an heiress in her own right through her family-founded Borg-Warner Corp.

LEAST AFFLUENT

Least affluent of the five Republicans who are leading in the public opinion polls is Richard M. Nixon, but he is moving up fast.

This sad fact-of-life is one of the reasons why few political "pros" take the candidacies of Sen. Margaret Chase Smith and perennial presidential hopeful Harold Stassen seriously. Neither has personal affluence.

It's sad but true that the chances for a poor man winning the presidency this year are about as remote as threading a camel through the eye of a needle.

★ ★ ★

Perhaps President Johnson should take this matter under consideration in launching his new "war on poverty."

Voice of the People:

Law's Flogging Proposal Creates Local Interest

Three cheers for The Press editorial endorsing Rep. Arthur Law's bill authorizing public flogging! It is far past the time when society should have taken extreme measures to halt these brutal young punks who find pleasure in stabbing, raping and beating helpless women and children.

Our contemporary psychology is perverted and abnormal in having far more concern for the hardened criminal thug than it has for the innocent victims. The African jungles would be safer to walk than the streets of large cities.

Parent

We are in accord with Rep. Law's bill on flogging, but feel we should use the same method on parents when they are negligent in bringing up children.

★ ★ ★

Mr. Kelley thinks flogging is degrading, but isn't it also degrading for the American public to be taxed beyond endurance in order to build schools, jails and reformatories for delinquents.

★ ★ ★

Mr. Law should be commended for his stand and if parents don't know what their children are doing, they should be up for sound punishment.

A Disgruntled Taxpayer

Finally we have someone who is trying to do something about discipline problems. However, the unfortunate and ironical fact is that Rep. Arthur Law is trying to refute 100 years of human behavioral study—the science of psychology.

Wouldn't it be better to offer introductory psychology to parents who are open-minded enough to accept new concepts in child rearing?

Angry Father and Student

"Whipping posts" aren't the solution to juvenile delinquency. Parents raising their children by the following mythical standards can't help either.

The myth: That when a child passes 16 the parents' job of guidance is done; that in order to understand your child, you condone his actions; that rewarding the child with material objects is an adequate substitute for love; that, in order for Johnny or Mary to be popular, they must be pushed into smoking, drinking, and going steady; that following the philosophy of "everybody's doing it"; that teen-agers are emotionally prepared to act like 21 at 16; that "fun morality" is an adequate substitute for traditional moral codes; that being completely permissive leaves a child with a sense of security; that young people can live a wholesome, purposeful life without any spiritual values; that there are more delinquent youths than delinquent parents.

George P. Caronis, Director
Youth Assistance Department

Hurrah, hurrah for our editor.

At last, someone has enough sense to see that our youth is in need of something besides parents who are becoming "The Child Worshipers." Of course, all teen-agers aren't bad. We have some mighty fine ones, but the ones who are the misunderstood, heaven help us.

★ ★ ★

They need more of that traumatic measure the parents wouldn't dream of inflicting on the poor dears. Such as a good tanning on the bottom when they act up, beginning at the kindergarten age on up.

I received my last spanking when I was 18 and all it did was teach me to respect my parents a little more than I had. Children who are not taught to respect their parents, teachers, etc. will, of course, not respect the law. Maybe the threat of an old-fashioned spanking might, just might, halt them in their tracks.

★ ★ ★

Oh, oh—I can hear the hue and cry now from the horrified parents and armchair book-waving psychologists. Let them open one book and read Proverbs 22-15 and Proverbs 23-13-14.

Just 36

This Parent Favors a 'C' University

I am in agreement with "C" University and hope you will accept my praise. I have three teen-agers in college: two at Michigan State and one at Middle Tennessee State. The one is in Tennessee because in her words: "I get more consideration as a 'C' student down there than I do up here." One of them runs close to a "B" average and the other here at Michigan State has a "C" average, and does he have problems!

It's a problem with me to keep the morale of at least two of them up to where it should be because of the emphasis placed on the higher-rated students.

It would be easy for me to use much stronger language than you have in your editorial, so keep hitting at this. I wish I had enough capital to get into this good cause.

Earl Parrish

Writer Sees Salvation as Social Remedy

I try to see, hear or read both sides to satisfy my way of thinking especially where children are concerned. I can see changes in people. Our laws are inconsistent and we do have propagandists in our midst so what do we expect of today's youth? We reap exactly what we sow. I believe when Jesus said "We must be as pure and innocent as a child of truth." To inherit the earth He meant just that. The truth shall set you free.

'Duty to Uphold Christian Principles'

Some people question the need of going back to the Bible. But man cannot live by bread alone. Either we get back to the word or we perish and die in our sins. This nation was born under God and it is our national duty to God and man to uphold the Christian principles.

Discuss Bill for Longer Trucks in State

Mr. N. N. Card is confused on the matter of longer trucks in Michigan. SB-1055 clearly states a proposed length of 60 feet with the load extending 3 feet beyond the front OR rear of the truck, making a total of 63 feet.

Trucks of this length, even longer, are permitted in 23 states and the National Safety Council of these states cite these trucks for an excellent safety record. Passage of SB-1055 would result in a boost in employment and Michigan's economy.

Mrs. H. L. Daley

5650 Hickock

In reply to Mr. N. N. Card, the bill is asking for 60 feet length of trucks with 3 feet overhang on either the front OR back. The State Police says these trucks are not dangerous and it will only take a motorist doing 60 m.p.h., three-tenths of a second longer to pass a truck doing 50 m.p.h.

States surrounding Michigan have this extra length. Why should Michigan stay behind and lose this revenue? Passage of this bill will save jobs and create jobs for new men.

Test City Is Standing Up Well Under Sonic Booms

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla. (AP)—Ah Oklahoma City woman says her furniture is shrinking.

A man is worried that fish may take to deeper than usual water this spring and affect his favorite sport.

★ ★ ★

Still another person chides: "You think you're driving us nuts with those booms? Well, we're gonna drive you crazy with calls."

An average of 30.6 telephone calls, frequently along these lines, has jammed a special switchboard within minutes after a faster-than-sound Air Force jet plane breaks the sound barrier.

SONIC BOOMS

Sonic booms from the speeding F104 jets split through the center of Oklahoma City eight times a day for one main purpose: to determine public reaction to the sudden bursts. The program is scheduled for 26 weeks.

The tests began Feb. 3 and apparently most of the affected 750,000 Oklahoma City and surrounding area residents seem to be adjusting rapidly to the joint Federal Aviation Agency and Air Force project.

★ ★ ★

"There's a definite decrease in the number of telephone complaints we're getting now," an FAA official said recently.

Oklahoma City, home of the FAA's aeronautical center, is the first heavily populated area to become a testing laboratory to determine if public objections might restrict or stop future use of commercial jet cargo planes.

Four homes, all less than 10 years old, are equipped by the FAA with highly sensitive devices which measure the stresses created by sonic booms on the structures.

"We've found that effects of the sonic booms on them are no greater than from a thunder clap—and a distant one at that," said J. K. Power, coordinator of the FAA program. He said the stresses also have been compared with slamming garage and front doors of the homes and there's little differences.

Scores who have complained about property damage have been sent claim forms. So far, an FAA spokesman said, few have returned them.

★ ★ ★

One federal court suit has been filed. Woodrow W. Bussey, a plumber who ran for the U.S. Senate in 1962 alleged in behalf of himself and his 5-year-old daughter that their constitutional rights are being violated by testing without their consent. He also said his daughter's hearing has been impaired and that the booms aggravated an existing condition in his ear.

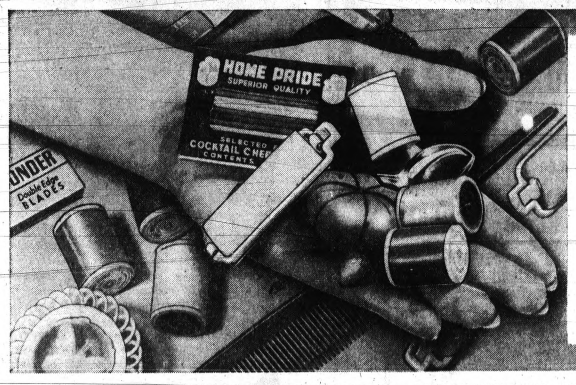

Many callers have complained about headaches and earaches.

A woman called to say thanks for the booms. Since they started, she told the FAA, "My television reception is much better." She didn't realize that the station to which she referred had just switched to a bigger transmitting antenna closer to the city.

Force of habit may be responsible for some calls. The FAA received about 30 one afternoon — but the callers quickly dropped the phones when told that tests were canceled because of inclement weather.

SOLDIER-DIPLOMAT: U. S. Gen. Hamilton H. Howze, commander of the Eighth U. S. Army and United Nations forces in South Korea, should be credited with saving ROK-American relations from possible crisis over recent fatal shootings of Korean intruders on American bases by U. S. Army sentries.

NEWSOM

Howze's bold statement that Korean authorities are to blame for failing to keep thieves away from military camps calmed down the Korean press and public.

Danger of possible public protests seems to have passed and the situation is under control.

SLOW GOING: The Genevan Disarmament Conference is expected to recess for about six weeks starting at Easter.

By then officials believe East and West will have completed their position statements on where to go next.

By late May or June, it is hoped, concrete negotiations will get underway on specific measures. Few people expect the Russians to agree to sit down to concrete negotiations before then.

DIVIDED INTERESTS: West Berlin Mayor Willy Brandt took over his new job as head of the West German Socialist Party on condition that he also could remain as West Berlin's mayor, a post in which he is assured of keeping his name before the German people.

But Western allies are concerned, both that the burden may be too heavy for Brandt's health and that he will be away from Berlin too much of the time.

Brandt is the Socialists' hope for next chancellor of West Germany.

AMNESTY FOR TERRORISTS: President Charles de Gaulle is said to be thinking of granting amnesty to second-ranking former Secretary Army Organization (OAS) terrorists now serving various jail sentences.

De Gaulle also is said to feel that this is not the time to release ex-Gen. Raoul Salan or other top leaders serving life sentences in Tulle jail in central France.

Meanwhile, talk of de Gaulle trips to Russia and Scandinavian can be ruled out for lack of time.

His program already is filled. But officials say they are in the cards for 1965, along with a probable African tour.

EASTER MESSAGE: Vatican sources expect Pope Paul VI to make some dramatic Easter move in connection with Christian unity.

It could come in an announcement of commissions for theological dialogue, it also could come in an Easter message proposing new contacts in the Christian world or in an encyclical on unity and the modern scientific world.

At any rate, something big is expected.

Safety Action Honored

A certificate of achievement cited department action in the 1963 National Vehicle Safety Check program.

State MD to Start Africa Leper Clinic

NEW YORK (AP)—A Michigan doctor will set up a leprosy clinic near Liyingston, Northern Rhodesia.

Dr. Joseph W. Christie, 59, Northport, Mich., left New York last night on an airliner for Dublin.

From there, he will go to Northern Rhodesia, after conferring with missionaries of the Capuchin order, who will help in setting up the clinic.

Christie, a widower with three grown children, had been chief of staff at a Northport hospital.

Before coming to Michigan in 1929, he served at the leper colony in Carville, La.

Election Fever High in Egypt

Plea for Moderation Ignored in Villages

CAIRO (AP) — Election fever has begun to run high in the villages along the Nile and in the shadows of the great pyramids of Egypt. President Gamal Abdel Nasser has indicated he doesn't want it to get too high.

The parliamentary elections Nasser promised almost two years ago are scheduled March 10. At least 1,000 approved candidates are expected to be in the running.

★ ★ ★

At the opening round election rally in suburban Giza, site of the Sphinx, Vice President Kamal Rifaat set Nasser's tone. He expressed fear that some candidates "might be tempted to engage in forms of conflict with each other which create grudges."

Pettiness, he warned, would lead to expulsion from the Arab Socialist Union, meaning political Siberia in Nasser's one-party state.

KEEP IT CLEAN

In short, the candidates have been told to keep it clean, socialist, and close to the vest.

In the cities there is hardly evidence of campaigning but in villages strung out along the Nile the prospect of winning a trip to Cairo and political fame, however relative, is stirring activity.

★ ★ ★

Nasser has decreed that at least half the 350-member National Assembly will be workers and peasants.

In a decade of Nasser rule, Egypt has had two broken constitutions and ineffective parliaments.

★ ★ ★

The last National Assembly, which was jointly elected with Syria during the days of union, was ignored by Nasser when he issued the 1961 socialist decrees. It was dissolved when the merger with Syria collapsed the same year.

Expect Israel Minister

LONDON (AP)—Israel's Foreign Minister Golda Meier is expected in London March 2 for informal talks with British leaders, government sources disclosed.

Frightening Asthma Attacks End In Minutes As New Formula Unblocks Lung Passages Fast

New Medical Formula Restores Free Breathing Without Vaccines, Shots Or Narcotics. Calms Anxiety. No Prescription Needed.

New York, N.Y. (Special)—A team of scientists has announced a new formula that stops frightening asthma attacks in minutes and unblocks lung passages fast.

Medical tests prove this formula promptly restores free breathing, so calms anxiety and relieves the worst symptoms of asthma—the straining for breath, the gasping, the wheezing, the terrible fear of suffocation. All without vaccines, painful shots or habit-forming drugs. This formula is so safe when used as directed, it can be sold without prescription, in tiny tablets called BRONITIN®.

Doctors know that when asthma strikes, breathing tubes become swollen, lung passages become blocked, so air is "trapped" inside lungs and less and less oxygen can enter. Now BRONITIN, with two asthma relieving medicines that doctors prescribe for their patients, acts quickly to open bronchial tubes and loosen the mucus that blocks lung passages. Trapped air is released and new vital oxygen enters the lungs.

The result is: free breathing is restored, tension eased and so fears are calmed in minutes. Sufferers can now look forward to restful sleep.

Get BRONITIN—available at all drug stores without prescription.

Junior Editors Quiz on SAILING SHIPS

QUESTION: How could old fashioned square-rigged ships sail in different directions?

ANSWER: The square sail were attached to "yards" which went across the masts and these yards were freely attached so they could be pivoted around, according to which way the ship was sailing.

When the ship wanted to sail toward the wind (top picture) the yards would be pulled edgewise to the ship as far as they could go.

No sailing ship can sail directly into the wind; but this arrangement of yards permitted a square rigger to head partly into the wind and take another slant or "tack" on the side opposite to the first one.

In this way a ship would zig-zag up to windward.

The middle picture shows the yards turned more across the ship, which was the best arrangement when the ship was "reaching," or sailing across the wind.

When sailing directly before the wind (lower picture) the yards would be trimmed across the ship. Sometimes square riggers sailed this way for many days, making great speed.

Even now, when we have something nicely arranged, we will say "it's all squared away."

FOR YOU TO DO: Make a fine picture of a square rigger either tacking, reaching or running, and figure out the right position for the yards to be in according to the direction you choose.

1 Good Turn Gets Another

WICHITA FALLS, Tex. (AP) — A good deed performed last year has caught up with C. C. Green of Wichita Falls.

When Green found a wallet containing $1,100 at Brownwood, Tex., in 1963, he handed it over to police for return to the owner.

Saturday he received a telephone call from Wichita Falls police headquarters. Somebody had found Green's wallet with $430 and turned it in.

Green didn't even know he'd lost it.

Credit Unions work for people

...not for profit

And people are the credit union. People like you, your neighbor, your fellow employees, fellow church members. People having a common bond . . . who join together in a non-profit corporation to provide a better means of saving money and obtaining low cost credit when needed.

Yes, people are the credit union. They own it. They run it. They—the members—tailor its policies and services solely to meet the needs of the members—not to make a profit on them.

And credit union members are getting the benefits of low cost loans, higher savings dividends and greater financial security.

Are credit union loans really low cost? They certainly are! For most people, the credit union offers the most favorable rates they can get anywhere . . . lower than so-called "bank rates", substantially lower than small loan companies, department or appliance stores and automobile dealers. For many, the credit union is the only place they can turn for emergency help. And most credit unions charge just one interest rate on loans to everyone.

Savings dividends are higher, too. The 76 credit unions in Oakland County paid an average of over 4% interest this past year, providing more than two million dollars in dividends to members in the area. And there are bonus dividends . . . such as life insurance matching members' savings, and full life and disability protection while repaying loans—all provided at no extra cost.

If you do not already belong to a credit union, you and your family may be able to qualify for one in your community. Now is a good time to inquire about your eligibility, and also learn many ways to stretch and protect the dollars you earn. How? We'll send you FREE, without obligation, a year's subscription to Everybody's Money, the authoritative, handy pocket-size, national publication on everyday personal and family finance. It's interesting, useful, colorful and yours for the asking.

Sinatra Jr. Case Nears Final Days

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The prosecution's case against three men accused of kidnaping Frank Sinatra Jr. goes into its final stages today with about eight FBI agents scheduled to testify.

Asst. U.S. Atty. Thomas R. Sheridan said the testimony would concern events leading to the capture of John Irwin, 42, Joseph Clyde Amsler, 23, and Barry W. Keenan, also 23. Young Sinatra allegedly was abducted from a Stateline, Calif., motel last Dec. 8.

The FBI said at least 26 agents were involved in the capture of the three men and recovery of the $240,000 ransom paid for Sinatra's release.

★ ★ ★

Eight other witnesses are slated to testify before the government ends its case, probably tomorrow afternoon.

Defense attorneys indicated they will demand both young Sinatra and his father return to the witness stand.

Sinatra Jr., 20, testified for four days, then left for Europe, where he is appearing with the Tommy Dorsey band.

The Continental Congress met in eight different cities before the Constitution was adopted.

Ocean Landings Likely to Continue

By ALVIN B. WEBB JR.

HOUSTON (UPI)—U. S. astronauts returning home from orbit must trust to the mercies of the four winds and the seven seas for a while to come.

The day when spacemen will bring their capsules back to the land-based strip, it develops, is not around the corner. It doesn't even seem to be anywhere in the neighborhood.

So when the first two Gemini astronauts come plummeting back through the atmosphere after a three-orbit trip a year from now, they will do exactly as John Glenn did two years ago—plunk down in the middle of the Atlantic Ocean and wait for someone to dredge them to safety.

* * *

And, said Charles M. Mathews, Gemini program chief, there is a possibility that all 12 flights now planned in this newest manned space flight project will similarly end up in the salty drink—unless someone comes up with a proven method to bring space capsules back to land.

JOLTING EXPERIENCE

This is not to say that the Gemini capsule, a 7,000-pound machine shaped roughly like an old-fashioned television tube, could not return to land. It could, and will—if an emergency develops. But it would be a jolting experience for the astronauts inside.

Water, at its hardest, is softer than land—particularly to something that comes in contact with it at 25 feet a second.

Scientists and engineers are giving thought to the possibility of bringing Gemini capsules in for a terra firma touchdown, said Mathews.

* * *

In fact, he added, "we've looked at many potential areas of land, but only on a preliminary basis."

RANGED U.S.

These "preliminary" looks have ranged across the southern United States, from Florida to California.

Mathews declined to pin down the most ideal-looking spots. But most prominently mentioned have been the vast desert area around Edwards Air Force Base, Calif., barren stretches in New Mexico and expanses of flat, treeless coastal plain in Eastern Texas.

The Mississippi-to-Georgia band can be crossed out—too many trees and an adverse number of hills. Ditto Florida, which has so many swamps and lakes that one might as well go back to landing in the ocean.

* * *

Outside the continental United States, said Mathews, "there is Australia, which might be the best." Other areas, if one looked into it seriously enough, might also qualify, he added.

NOT ELABORATE

A spacecraft landing base on land would not have to be very elaborate. "Existing airfield could be modified easily enough," Mathews said. "In fact, the world is filled with airfields that are qualified. We would need primarily to augment the facilities for ground control approach."

The difficulty, therefore, is not with preparing earth for the spaceship, but preparing the spaceship for its abrupt contact with earth.

Several proposals, involving the addition to landing aids to the Gemini capsule, have been made. Perhaps the most promising and certainly the "most energetic," said Mathews, is the paraglider—a weird, batwing structure that looks like a cross between a glider and a parachute.

Theoretically, the paraglider would be deployed by the capsule to give the astronauts a set of wings for maneuvering and controlling their approach to home base.

North American Aviation has gone to work on development of a suitable paraglider, said Mathews, and a series of glide tests are scheduled at Edwards AFB to try out the finished product.

He said the problems that have cropped up have been "the details—such things as actuation (of the paraglider, to release it from the capsule.)"

But even after a flyable paraglider is produced, there is still the matter of training astronauts to use it. And, as any pilot who has had the experience will tell you, gliders can be tricky birds.

So back to the question of when a space capsule landing on land can be expected, Mathews replied "It is too early to say. But it would be worked in rather late in the Gemini program."

Which means astronauts must plan on bobbing around as part-time corks until 1966 at the earliest.

Expecting a Dinner

ARMA, Italy (AP) — The farmer was suspicious of a bulge, but Gypsy Piera di Claudio said, "it's nothing. I'm expecting a baby." Just then the bulge crowed, and the farmer called police, who recovered three stolen chickens.

Galleries in the upper section of the House of Representatives contain seats for 624 visitors.

The smallest fish is believed to be the goby of Luzon, Philippines. It is approximately two-fifths of an inch long.

Not Wrong in Leaving for Movies

By The Emily Post Institute

Q: Yesterday, my brother and his wife visited us. They usually come every other week or so. I am unmarried and live at home with my parents.

While they were here, a friend called and asked me if I would like to go to the movies with her. I said "Yes" and went out later in the day.

★ ★ ★

My mother made quite a to-do and said I was very discourteous to go out while they were here.

Inasmuch as they came primarily to see my parents and I did spend some time with them, was I wrong to have gone out?

★ ★ ★

A: Under the circumstances you describe, I see nothing wrong in your having gone out.

It would, however, have been more polite if you had asked them if they minded your going to the movies with your friend.

Q: Is it in good taste to wear diamonds in the daytime? I have been told that diamonds, except a diamond ring, are properly worn in the evening.

★ ★ ★

A: Diamonds are worn in the daytime. One does not, of course, wear them on the street or to do marketing, but they may be worn when dressed for a lunch party, an afternoon reception or at a wedding.

A conspicuous display of diamonds is never in best taste at any time.

Q: I am a man in the late 30s and have just been given an executive position.

Should I rise from my desk to greet other businessmen who come to my office to see me? Do I shake hands with them?

A: Yes, to both questions.

★ ★ ★

The correct wording and addressing of wedding invitations and announcements are described in the new Emily Post Institute booklet entitled "Wedding Invitations and Announcements."

Ways to Quit Smoking

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: About two years ago you had a whole column of letters on how to quit smoking. Would you please consider running it again?

"NEEDS IT" IN PHILLY.

DEAR "NEEDS IT": With pleasure!

DEAR ABBY: My man smoked three packs of cigarettes a day and used up a whole box of snuff, too.

He said that his mouth felt like the bottom of a bird cage.

He got a prescription from his doctor for something that was guaranteed to curb his desire for smoking.

I don't know what it was, but I know I saw a miracle happen because my husband hasn't smoked in four years.

OLLIE'S WIFE

ABBY

DEAR ABBY: One day, 12 years ago, I decided that smoking was a filthy, stupid and expensive habit, so I made up my mind to quit.

This is what I did. The moment I walked into a room I announced, "I'VE QUIT SMOKING."

★ ★ ★

After that I couldn't very well bum a cigarette off anyone, and I didn't carry them myself. I knew that I didn't dare beg a smoke or I'd make myself look like a real jerk.

It was a matter of pride.

NO JERK

DEAR ABBY: I sat down one day, at the age of 48, and started to add up the amount of money I had spent for cigars since I started to smoke them at the age of 24.

When I realized that $5,000 had gone up in smoke, I lost my appetite for smoking.

SMART TOO LATE

White Flowers Set Off Red Velvet in Ceremony

White altar flowers and red velveteen gowns for her attendants set a color theme for the marriage of Judith Perry House to David Richard Ragatz.

Rev. Robert D. Winnie performed the Saturday evening ceremony in the Waterford Community Church and guests were received in the V.F.W. Hall, Drayton Plains.

Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold L. House of Davisburg, the bride appeared in candlelight peau de soie appliqued with re-embroidered Alencon lace. Her princess - line gown swept into a chapel train.

Imported silk illusion fashioned the bouffant veil topped with a crystal tiara. White roses and Stephanotis were arranged in a bridal cascade.

★ ★ ★

With maid of honor, Ann Dakesian, were bridesmaids Mrs. Joseph Koch, Clarkston, and Mrs. Larry McLeod, Auburn Heights. They carried garnet roses and white carnations.

Flower girl and ring-bearer were Kimberly Kay Koch, and Carman J. Ragatz II.

The bridegroom, son of Mrs. Curtis E. Persinger of Lotus Drive and the late Carman J. Ragatz, had Stephen Colwell for best man. Daniel Ragatz and Phillip L. Ragatz II ushered for their uncle.

After a wedding trip to New York City, the couple will live on Saline Drive.

Carpet Shopping Calls for Careful Plans

(EDITOR'S NOTE — Mary Feeley's brand new booklet on Savings is now available, and is free for the time being. Send self-addressed, stamped envelope to her in care of The Pontiac Press.)

By MARY FEELEY
Consultant in Money Management

Buying new carpeting or a new rug calls for some careful planning in any household. There's more to be considered than price and color.

MARY FEELEY

Before you try to make up your mind on either of these points, ask yourself why you're buying it. To beautify the room? To impress your husband's business associates? To meet an emergency? To reduce the traffic noises as the children come trooping in?

Any one of these reasons is thoroughly legitimate. Just be sure you keep certain basic facts in mind so your money will buy what you really need and want.

This is not the time to go "bargain hunting" in the usual sense of the term. The price tag is a pretty good indication of what you're getting. What may seem an expensive purchase right now may be a real investment.

* * *

The carpeting that goes into the living room this year may very well live another life years from now, after you've moved it into the bedroom or the study.

EASE OF CLEANING

Ease of cleaning will be a major importance—and that means whether you can wash away the spills and spots when they occur, so that your floor covering doesn't grow old too soon from soil.

How the carpeting looks under both daylight and artificial lighting should be considered. The style and scale of your furnishings should also influence you. Take your time before you put your money down.

How carpeting is made — the amount of fiber put into the square yard — will mean a lot to you after you start living with it.

* * *

Density is the key to good quality. Maybe you can't count the number of loops to the square inch — 8 to 11 indicate quality — but feel it. A sturdy pile means it can take a lot of wear. There have been so many interesting developments in carpeting, you aren't confined to any one particular type of fiber.

TAKE CHOICE

You can take your choice: wool, nylon, acrylics, cotton, rayon blends, and so on. Each has its own characteristics. Wool wears like iron. Nylon can be kept clean with plain detergent suds. The acrylics and rayon take beautiful colors and variations of tones. Cotton is soft underfoot, and can take repeated washings.

If the carpeting you're buying is for a heavy-traffic area, you want something that isn't going to show every foot print. The tweedy blends can stand up under rigorous use.

But don't get the idea that a pale color under foot is too fragile to be practical. Did you know that certain shades, such as putty beige, often show less wear and tear and soil than a deep tone? A neutral color is a good choice, too, when you're thinking in terms of using the carpeting in some other room late on.

* * *

In order to judge the price of carpeting, consider the number of years you expect it to last. If one kind of carpeting costs $5 per square yard and can be used satisfactorily for about two years, then that carpeting will cost $2.50 per square yard per year. Another carpeting at $10 per square yard, lasting ten years, will only cost $1 per square yard per year. This is the sort of preliminary mathematics you should apply.

The term "broadloom", incidentally, is not actually a weave, as some people think. It is used only to describe the size of the loom that the rug or carpeting is woven on—wider than 36 inches. It doesn't necessarily indicate quality.

And this leads to another point for consideration: Maybe wall-to-wall carpeting is not what you really want and need. Maybe a rug would better serve your purposes.

Rugs can be used in rooms of different sizes over the years, turned around to equalize the wear, taken up for easy care and cleaning, and can give the impression of wall-to-wall without the problems of installation.

* * *

Other "carpet-words" well known in most households are Axminster and Wilton, which take their names from the locales in which they were first made. Axminster is a cut-pile carpet, with wool or wool and man-made fibers used in the pile yarn. Height of the pile varies from a quarter inch to one and three-eighths inch.

COMPLEX LOOM

This type of carpet is made on a complex loom, and is notable for its unlimited number of colors and intricate designs.

Preparing for the Tuesday night meeting of the Waterford Township Faculty Wives are Mrs. Sheldon Root of Dill Road and Mrs. George Kressbach, of Ross Drive, (rear). Mrs. Root, art consultant for Waterford elementary schools, will demonstrate copper enameling and provide the group with a chance to fashion their own jewelry. Mrs. Kressbach is chairman of the meeting scheduled for 8 p.m. in Pierce Junior High School.

The Carson Looneys of Joslyn Avenue announce the engagement of their daughter Betty Lou Strevel to Douglas John Smith, son of the Thomas Smiths of Scottwood Avenue. An Oct. 10 wedding date is set.

Music Group Hears Solos

Beethoven piano solos were performed at the Sunday afternoon meeting of the Chopin Music Club.

Diane Haskill was hostess to the group in her Woodbine Drive home. She was assisted by Mary Stewart and Donna Luenberger.

The performances were recorded on tape by Mrs. Carl Clifford and played back later in the meeting.

Polly's Pointers

Water Plants Slowly

By POLLY CRAMER

DEAR POLLY — When watering house plants such as vines that climb a pole, use a paper cup with small holes punched in the bottom.

It may be placed on top of the pole so the water feeds through slowly and can soak into the pole. Liquid fertilizer can be given to plants in this manner. — A.K.R.

DEAR POLLY — Patterned Argyle socks are often crisscrossed by single lines of color which require their corresponding number of dangling bobbins.

I reduce the number of bobbins by omitting the crisscross lines. When the main design is finished, I embroider these lines with a small blunt upholstery needle.

This lessens the annoying tangling of so many bobbins and makes these lines, on the right side, stand out better. The wrong side looks much neater and less bulky, too. — FREDA

DEAR POLLY — I am just 11 years old but I have a hint.

When I give a gift to a little child, I spell his or her name with shiny pennies on top of the package.

They can be taped or lightly pasted to the package. — GAIL

DEAR POLLY — I saved the tubes that came inside of the Christmas wrapping paper I bought last year and pushed them well back between the padding of chairs and sofa to keep the slip covers in place.

They work better than the rolled-up paper or magazines I used to use. So now I save every cardboard tube that comes my way. — L. W.

DEAR POLLY — Plastic tablecloths seem so porous that it is hard to keep them looking new without rubbing the design off with household cleansers.

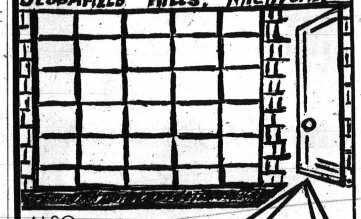

Try using some hair shampoo on a wet sponge. It gets the dirt off but not the design.

Put rings and watches in your pocket instead of laying them on wash basin when you wash your hands.

Cone shaped paper drinking cups make perfect funnels. Simply snip off the tip to size needed.

Three Local Freshmen Receive Nursing Symbols

Three area freshmen at the Hurley Hospital School of Nursing received their caps Friday in the I.M.A. Annex in Flint.

They are: Patricia Ann Hogan, daughter of the Harold J. Hogans of North Johnson Avenue; Marilyn Sharette, daughter of the Donald J. Sharettes of Liberty Street and Bonita Louise Ashton whose parents are the J. Walter Ashtons of White Lake Road.

A reception followed the impressive Florence Nightingale candlelight ceremony.

KALAMAZOO

Among parents of Kalamazoo College students who attended the second annual Parents' Day, Saturday, on campus are the William Coffings of Pontiac Drive. Their daughter Marilyn is a sophomore.

An August wedding is planned by L. Carol Thompson, daughter of the Clarence E. Thompsons of Clarkston and Carl Laverne Sallee Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl L. Sallee of East Beverly Avenue.

The Clifford S. Randolphs of Lake Orion announce the engagement of their daughter Marilyn Jeannette to Francis Lewis Wheaton Jr., son of the senior Wheatons of Joslyn Road. A late June wedding is planned.

Erase the Rust

Rust spots can be removed from metal tools safely and easily with a typewriter eraser.

Don't Wring Out

Men's woolen socks should not be wrung out after washing. This may cause a breaking of the fibers and bring about shrinkage. If you have any clamp trouser hangers, use them. The weight of the trousers, suspended from the cuffs, can stretch out most wrinkles.

Leap Year Day Dangerous for Bachelors in Illinois City

OTTAWA, Ill. (AP)—For residents of Ottawa, the next and wackiest holiday this year is Leap Year Day when a man may be jailed for being unmarried.

★ ★ ★

It's Saturday, Feb. 29, and even the victims—the bachelors—are excited.

The single ladies will take over this northern Illinois city of nearly 20,000 persons for the once-in-a-quadrennium event.

GIRL MAYOR

Miss Joyce Hayne, a secretary in the accounting department of Ottawa Silica Co., will be inaugurated mayor for a day. The role falls to her as president of the Ottawa Junior Women's Club.

Other girls will take the other city jobs — police chief, judge, fire chief, city prosecutor, and the City Council posts. After that, the male population must watch its step—and its pocketbook.

★ ★ ★

This year the girls are raising funds for a new mobile rescue unit which will go either to the fire department or the river rescue unit that patrols the Illinois River.

Dorothy Bender, who was mayor four years ago, said the money will come from the men—or else.

COURT OPEN

Contributions are collected in open court from men who are summoned by the dainty arrest notices of the day. The City Council chamber, specially decorated for the occasion, will be the courtroom.

★ ★ ★

"Oh my!" says Miss Hayne. "We couldn't hold court in a stuffy ordinary courtroom. I think we'll do it over in red and white—at least as much as we can with lots of gay plastic ornaments and ribbons."

Miss Bender said that the summonses went into the mail today.

HAULED IN

"Those who don't come in voluntarily will be arrested and brought to court," said Miss Bender.

Asked how a 110-pound woman can drag a 180-pound man into court, she smiled. "Oh, it's been done before. Really, the boys don't resist too much."

★ ★ ★

Nancy Hilton is police magistrate for the day. She said already there is bribery afoot.

"Some men have sent flowers to some of our prospective city officials," she said. "We'll deal with those fellows."

HIS IDEA

If there is one man who is apt to get off lightly, it is Phil Bailey, two-time mayor now out of office. Bailey thought up the leap year doings 12 years ago.

"I hope they aren't easy on me or anything," he said. "It's kind of nice being hauled to court and tried in the midst of all that pulchritude."

★ ★ ★

There has been some talk of a move to organize bachelor resistance.

Bailey's advice: "Don't do it, fellows. You just can't win."

Pretty Girls Perform in Protest of Imports

TURIN, Italy (AP) Pretty farmers' daughters in gay peasant costumes gave away 70,000 free bags of potatoes and onions Sunday to anyone who wanted them.

★ ★ ★

They sought to dramatize peasant protests that they can't sell their vegetables because of unrestricted imports from other European Common Market countries.

Tormenting Rectal Itch Stopped In Minutes

Science Finds New Healing Substance That Promptly Stops Itching and Pain of Piles

New York, N. Y. (Special) — One of the most common afflictions is a condition known as "itching piles." It is most embarrassing for the victim during the day and especially aggravating at night.

No matter what you've used without results — here's good news. For the first time, science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to promptly stop the burning itch and pain. It actually shrinks hemorrhoids — without surgery. Medical science has proved this substance produces a remarkably effective rate of healing. Its germ-killing properties also help prevent infection.

In one hemorrhoid case after another "very striking improvement" was reported and verified by a doctor's observations. This improvement was maintained in cases where a doctor's observations were continued over a period of months! Among these sufferers were a wide variety of hemorrhoid conditions, some of 10 to 20 years' duration.

The secret is this new healing substance (Bio-Dyne®) — discovery of a world-famous research-institution. This substance is now obtainable in ointment or suppository form known as Preparation H®. Ask for Preparation H Suppositories (convenient to carry if away from home) or Preparation H Ointment with special applicator. Available at all drug counters.

Tax Tips

(EDITOR'S NOTE — The following income tax information is supplied by the Internal Revenue Service as a public service.)

Q): I understand that some taxpayers purposely claim less exemptions than they are entitled to on their withholding certificate filed with their employer, so that they obtain a refund at the end of the year. Is this permissible?

A): Yes, you may claim a lesser number of exemptions for withholding purposes than you are entitled to in filing your income tax return. This results in the additional withholding of tax by your employer and most likely a refund at the time of filing your income tax return. However, you may not claim more exemptions than you are entitled to on your income tax return.

The Lenten Story

BY WOODI ISHMAEL

THE WIDOW'S MITE

Shortly after driving the money changers from the temple, Jesus stood in the doorway and watched people coming to make their contributions. He saw that some of the rich gave a great deal, while others were not generous.

Then a poor widow approached and dropped two mites, the smallest denomination possible, into the box.

Calling His disciples, Jesus explained to them the true meaning of charity:

"Verily I say unto you, That this poor widow hath cast more in than all they which have cast into the treasury; For all they did cast in of their abundance; but she of her want did cast in all that she had, even all her living." (Mark XII:43-44)

3 in Flint Are Cleared of Charges

FLINT (AP)—Three Flint officials were cleared of negligence charges Saturday and two will go back to work today, with all mention of their dismissals wiped from their records.

The third, also to be given a clean record, will be able to have his request for a retirement pension processed without prejudice.

After hearing testimony from 11 witnesses, the Flint Civil Service Commission said it found the charges "have not been sustained by the evidence."

Theodore D. Moss, 65, director of the Department of Public Works; City Planner Gerald E. Childers, 38, and Purchasing Director Albert C. Hull, 58, were fired Feb. 13 after a one-man grand jury investigation of Flint's property acquisition for a Lake Huron water pipeline.

The one-man grand jury, Genesee County Circuit Judge Donn D. Parker, indicted Samuel M. Catsman of Flint on a charge of obtaining $33,000 by false pretenses from the city in the land acquisition.

Nuclear Ship Goes Into Port for Scraping Job

GALVESTON, Texas. (AP)— The nuclear ship Savannah, which underwent successful weekend trials in the Gulf of Mexico, will go into dry dock about April 1 to have tons of barnacles scraped off.

* * *

"We have a dirty bottom," said Capt. David B. McMichael, skipper of the $55-million vessel. "The year the ship was docked at Galveston didn't do us any good."

McMichael said he didn't think the ship would reach its 22 knots capacity because of the barnacles and sea growth. Top speed in the trials was 18 knots, but the ship's reactor was operated at only 80 per cent power.

The weekend shakedown was the first time the ship had been to sea since May 1963. Next weekend the ship will undergo a full speed power run.

TELEPHONE INSTALLER HELPS A MOTHER AND HER SICK CHILDREN

Michigan Bell Installer Richard Bruske was on a routine assignment. His job was to remove a telephone from a house where the family was moving out. But instead of finding the family moving, he discovered the mother frantically trying to care for her three children who were sick with the flu.

The father had driven their car to the new home several hundred miles away to prepare for the family's arrival. Just before leaving, he had called Michigan Bell to cancel the telephone service, so the phone had been disconnected at the central office.

As a result, the mother was unable to telephone a doctor or even send for food. The nearest house with a telephone was nearly a mile away.

Richard Bruske immediately drove to the closest phone booth and called his foreman to reconnect the woman's telephone at the central office. Then he drove back to the house to make sure the phone was working and that the family would be all right.

The mother was able to call a doctor, order food, and notify her husband.

Installer Richard Bruske's helpfulness in this situation was not unusual. You see, with Michigan Bell, friendly service is a way of life.

Equals Father's Feat

Petty Wins 500 Daytona Race

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Now that he has matched his father's accomplishment of winning the Daytona 500 stock car race, Richard Petty seems ready to go after another milestone — the National Association for Stock Car Racing Grand National point championship.

* * *

Petty's father, Lee, won the first Daytona 500 in 1959 and was NASCAR champion in 1954, 1958 and 1959. He retired after an accident here in 1961.

The younger Petty was second last year in the point race to the late Joe Weatherly.

After winning Sunday's 500-mile race at a record speed of 154.334 miles an hour, Richard said now that he had won his "big race," maybe it was time to aim for the point championship.

Petty made six pit stops, three while the cars were under the yellow caution flag, on his way to the victory and a purse of $35,300, including $9,700 in lap prize money.

* * *

The crowd of 82,460 was a record for the speedway and believed the largest ever watching a sports event in Florida.

Pushed through the early part of the race by Paul Goldsmith of Mexico City and Bobby Isaac of Catawba, N.C., the Randleman, N.C., veteran lapped the field before the race was half over and lapped it a second time before taking the checkered flag.

The lead changed hands six times before Petty took the lead for keeps.

Petty said his blue 1964 Plymouth handled beautifully despite the fact that it was running with a new engine that had not been tested "until we took the parade lap."

Jimmy Pardue of North Wilkesboro, N.C., also in a 1964 Plymouth, finished second, while Goldsmith was third in still another Plymouth.

* * *

Marvin Panch of Daytona Beach, Fla., followed the Plymouth triumvirate by finishing fourth in a 1964 Ford.

Petty, at 26 the youngest man ever to win the 500-mile race, explained that his pit crew — with his father's crewchief — changed at least one tire on his car during every pit stop.

The three wrecks put out David Pearson of Spartanburg, S. C., who hit the wall when his tire blew; John Rutherford of Fort Worth, Tex., and Ned Jarrett of Camden, S.C., when they collided; and Jim McElreath, who hit the rail on the west turn of the 2.5-mile tri-oval.

Petty's record speed erased the record of 152.529 which Glenn Fireball Roberts of Daytona Beach set in a 1962 Pontiac.

Twenty cars finished from the original field of 46.

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla. (UPI) Here are the top 20 finishers in the Daytona 500 (all cars are 1964 models unless otherwise noted):

Captains Play Township Rival Tuesday Night

Cranbrook Triumphs at Madison, 65-59; St. Paul Wins

Waterford High is the last major hurdle between Kettering and an unbeaten basketball season.

The Captains will be favored to clear the barrier Tuesday night when the teams clash at Waterford. Kettering won the initial encounter this season with ease.

* * *

This will be the next to last regular season contest for Kettering. The Captains are 13-0 and a win over the Skippers would put them in a position to beat L'Anse Creuse at home and go into the state tournament as one of the few undefeated squads in the state.

Waterford is 3-10 for the season.

The poor mark can be attributed to inexperience early in the season and inconsistent play in recent contests.

SCORING HIGH

A personal prep scoring mark by Bob Heavenrich paced Cranbrook to a 65-59 victory over Madison Saturday.

Heavenrich scored 21 points to lead the Cranes' attack. Jeff Hipps hit 15 and Jim Bailey 14. Jim Combs netted 20 and Bob Barrett 14 for the losers.

Cranbrook carried a commanding lead into the fourth period, but Madison closed the gap to 59-55 before Heavenrich hit six straight free throws to ice the game.

Grosse Pointe St. Paul, the No. 1 rated Class C prep basketball team, defeated Detroit Holy Redeemer, 51-49, last night to win its third Catholic League title in a row.

* * *

Bill Bigham fired a long shot with one second remaining to break a 49-49 tie and give St. Paul the win over Redeemer, the No. 8 Class B team.

Detroit St. Charles, the No. 3 Class C team, defended its second division Catholic League title with a 69-54 win over Detroit All Saints.

* * *

It was the 30th win in a row in Catholic League competition for St. Charles, now 15-0 and one of the state's few remaining unbeaten teams.

Sonny Liston Predicts Early Finish

Clay Confident on Eve of Bout

Ticket Sales Lagging for Title Scrap

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — "Between one and three, you'll be on the way home," a confident but edgy Sonny Liston predicted today after finishing training for his Tuesday night's heavyweight title defense against the brash and boastful Cassius Clay.

* * *

"I'll just hit him hard enough to put him away," the muscled, awesome-looking champion added after a fast-paced, 45-minute final workout at the Surfside Civic Center, "and that should be soon. I have never been sharper for a fight in my life."

If Liston's nerve-jarring words had any effect on the rival camp, Clay and his handlers were doing a superb job of being completely unimpressed.

'CLAY IN EIGHT'

"I'll outbox him in seven rounds and knock him out in the eighth," said Clay, the poem-spouting Louisville Lip whose fast fists and glib tongue have brought him to threshhold of boxing's richest prize.

The 22-year-old, handsome descendant of a Kentucky slave, completed his training routine Saturday, a day earlier than the champion, and confined himself Sunday to a leisurely stroll over the Miami Beach front—with his perennial cane.

"This kid is completely unafraid," Angelo Dundee, Clay's trainer, said of Clay. "He is so anxious to get at Liston, he is about to jump out of his skin.

"I'll be the most surprised man in the world if he doesn't beat Liston and take the championship."

Unfortunately, Dundee's opinion is not shared by the boxing public and, as a result, the fight scheduled for 10 p.m., EST, at the modernistic, pink Convention Hall looms as a certain financial flop at the gate.

SALES DRAG

Bill MacDonald, the millionaire promoter who had to guarantee $625,000 for the event, acknowledged that so far sales had amounted to only $330,000 and that a late rush would be necessary to meet the $800,000 "net."

Ticket prices are scaled from $20 to $250. Those at these two extremes have gone well but there is an overwhelming disinterest in those tickets in the $100, $150 and $200 range in the 16,000-seat auditorium.

Liston has been established a 7-1 favorite in the betting, with even money, or 6-5 and take your choice, that Clay doesn't answer the bell for the sixth.

For $5, Unsmiling Champ 'Muscles Up' for Visitors

By WILL GRIMSLEY

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—I felt Sonny Liston's muscle for $5. "How ya, champ," I said nervously, trying to start a conversation.

The hulking, phlegmatic heavyweight champion gave me a cold, animal-like stare that sent icycles dancing up my spine.

"Get going," a man on the stage said brusquely, hustling me out a side door.

"Next."

I was No. 7 in a queue of 32, who lined up in the bustling Surfside Civil Center training quarters to have their picture taken—at $5 a throw—with the sullen ring killer.

BOY SCOUTS

I was between Boy Scout Troop No. 18, a group of bug-eyed youngsters in green uniforms, and a giggling housewife in a pink sack dress, who kept gushing, "Isn't this just too exciting for words?"

Having a picture taken with Liston has been one of the privileges of the spectators attending his workouts for the Tuesday night title defense against loud - mouth Cassius Clay.

The tense line formed at the wooden steps, leading to the stage. Liston, who has just finished 45 minutes of almost unbroken shadow - boxing, bag punching and rope skipping, wrapped himself in a white robe and took his stance against the wall.

A man in a three-button suit and striped tie, the executive type, strode over and took Liston's hand.

BOXING POSE

The champion gave him an expressionless stare.

A pot-bellied truck driver struck up a boxing pose. Liston obligingly raised his hands in a similar pose, but didn't blink an eyelash.

This one will go over big with the gang down at Joe's Bar.

A luscious dish in white toreador pants and dyed silver hair was next.

Liston grabbed her, picked her off the ground in a swoop and held her in his arms like a bridegroom ready to carry his bride across the threshold.

* * *

When No. 7 came, I decided I'd try to crack the champion's frigid interior.

I got only that withering glare. I shivered, and passed on as flash bulbs popped.

The muscle? It felt like a ham hock back in Tennessee. Tham hock back in Tennessee.

Finley Tries to Slip From Brink of Ouster

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (UPI)—Charles O. Finley, embattled owner of the Kansas City Athletics, jumped from the clutches of the American League back into the collective lap of the city council today.

The unpredictable owner pulled the unexpected again last night by accepting the city's demand for a four-year lease on Municipal Stadium, a lease he repeatedly had vowed never to sign.

* * *

But the city was in no hurry to put its signature on the dotted line. Finley, who has threatened to sue the American League, made it clear he was accepting the lease in the face of a league threat to kick him out of baseball.

Mayor Ilus W. Davis, to whom Finley addressed his telegram of acquiescence, said he was happy that the owner had accepted the city's proposal.

But the mayor and other city officials declined further comment until after a meeting today of the city council's baseball committee.

Davis said he also would confer with Joseph Cronin, president of the American League, to determine the league's reaction to Finley's latest move. Cronin received a copy of Finley's telegram.

* * *

Finley's announcement of acceptance last night followed by two days the American League meeting in Boston at which the other club owners agreed that the city had negotiated fairly with Finley on a lease.

The league then voted to take steps within 10 days to expel Finley and take away his franchise because the owner had disregarded its directive to sign a lease here by Feb. 15.

EASILY MADE

"As a rsult of this meeting, I had no alternative but to sign up immediately or be thrown out of baseball," Finley said in his announcement from his home in La Porte, Ind.

"Since I have such a great love for the game, my decision was easily made."

Finley, who attempted unsuccessfully to move the Athletics to Louisville, Ky., and Oakland, Calif., after lease negotiations began Dec. 19, declined comment on whether he would continue his efforts to transfer or would carry out his threat to sue the league if such permission is not granted.

"Other than I have agreed to sign a four-year lease, I have no other comment," he said.

* * *

Two of Teall's teammates also managed to move to the top of the standings board. Robert Petto assembled a nine game total of 1,804 to claim the all events lead and he paired with Ellis Bye for a 1,201 first place doubles score.

The Kalamazoo bowlers are all members of the Bowlatorium team which took second place in the regular team divison Saturday night with 2,776.

Eagles Study 2 Candidates for Field Boss

Kuharich, Trimble Top Contenders as Van, Brown Pass

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Joe Kuharich or Jim Trimble reportedly will be the new head coach of the Philadelphia Eagles but owner Jerry Wolman insists there is nothing definite just yet.

★ ★ ★

The Philidelphia Inquirer reported today that Wolman has swung back to the two names high on his original list of candidates after failing to obtain Norm Van Brocklin of the Minnesota Vikings and learning definitely that Paul Brown, former coach of the Cleveland Browns, is not interested in the job.

The Inquirer said this was what it was told by a well-informed source in the National Football League.

Wolman said from his home in Chevy Chase, Md., that there will be an announcemnet this week.

Asked if Kuharich, former Washington Redskins and Notre Dame coach, and Trimble, head coach of the Eagles from 1952 through 1955, were the two top prospects, Wolman said:

NO COMMENT

"I'd rather not comment. Until we have something definite and complete with whom we're working with, practically no one's eliminated."

Wolman would not identify the one prospect whom he's working and he again declined comment when asked if it would be Kuharich or Trimble.

Asked if he talked to Kuharich or Trimble recently, he said: "I've talked to a lot of people recently. Let it go at that."

Kuharich, now supervisor of officials for the NFL, said in New York that he doesn't know what the Eagles' plans are.

"I have no knowledge of what's intended to happen. I spoke with them long ago, about 30 days," said Kuharich.

★ ★ ★

Trimble, coach of the Montreal Alouettes in the Canadian League, said: "I've never spoken to Jerry Wolman or any Eagle official."

Red Wings Nip Montreal; Black Hawks Tie for 1st

DETROIT (AP)—The Detroit Red Wings yanked the Montreal Canadiens back into a tie with the Chicago Black Hawks for the National Hockey League leadership by trimming the Canadiens Sunday night 3-2.

The Wings, a double winner on the weekend for a change, beat Montreal in a contest enlivened by a two-player fist fight. It also was marked by Canadien Bernie (Boom Boom) Geoffrion's 356th career goal, making him third highest scorer in NHL history.

★ ★ ★

As the Wings were taking Montreal's measure, the Black Hawks swept into a first place tie by beating the last-place Boston Bruins 2-0 at Chicago.

Third-place Toronto kept pace with Detroit in their playoff position fight by trimming the New York Rangers 4-3 at New York on a last minute goal by Dave Keon, his second of the game.

Detroit achieved its victory, following Saturday night's 3-2 conquest of Boston, on scores by Wing players whose names don't often figure in the goal-making.

Geoffrion's goal, coming in the third period with the Canadiens down 3-0, left him behind only Gordie Howe and the retired Maurice Richard in career scoring.

SCORE POINTS

The Wings' points came on shots by Irv. Spencer, recalled from the minors Saturday; Pit Martin, scoreless in 16 games beforehand, and Larry Jeffrey, his first in eight games.

★ ★ ★

Ralph Backstrom scored for Montreal in the last five minutes, making it 3-2.

Though handicapped by a broken cheekbone and fractured rib from previous games, Detroit's Doug Barkley outpointed Montreal's Dave Balon in the third period. Both drew five-minute major penalties.

★ ★ ★

Chicago, which lost its share of first place in bowing to Montreal Saturday night, won from Boston on goals by Chico Maki and Bobby Hull. It was Hull's 36th goal and goalie Glenn Hall's sixth shutout.

Top Performer at AAU Meet Lauds Pacer

Aussie Ron Clarke Praises U. S. Teen; Jones Wins Title

NEW YORK (AP) — Gerry Lindgren is a shy, skinny little kid who seemed a bit awed by the Big Town. Awed, that is, right up until the starter's gun sounded for the three-mile race in Madison Square Garden.

Then the frail-appearing, 17-year-old, 115-pounder from Spokane's John Rogers High stepped out to a quick lead, repulsed a couple of early challenges by Australia's Ron Clarke, ran most of an international field into the boards and paced Clarke to an indoor record.

Clarke's brilliant 13:18.4 effort, which clipped six full seconds off the listed record, won him honors as the outstanding athlete in the 76th national AAU indoor track and field championships Saturday.

In addition, Pontiac's Hayes Jones equalled the meet record of 7 seconds flat in the 60-yard high hurdles, NYU's Gary Gubner set a meet mark with a 63-2½ shot put and Maryland State's mile relay team broke the meet record at 3:16.2.

Earlier, burly Bob Hayes, a sometimes football player from Florida A&M, bolted to a long-awaited 5.9 record in the 60-yard dash, eclipsing the 6 flat he shared with several others.

BIG WHOOP

But the Garden crowd of 15,017 saved its biggest whoop and holler until the muscular Clarke doubled back from the finish line, threw his arms around Lindgren's slim shoulders and, standing almost a head taller and 60 pounds heavier, waltzed the Spokane youngster around the track on his victory lap.

"I told him I couldn't have done it without him," Clarke said after chopping down the 3:24.4 record held jointly by fellow Australians Al Lawrence and Albie Thomas.

★ ★ ★

Lindgren, making his first attempt ever at three miles indoors, ran third behind Clarke and New York veteran Pete McArdle, who was timed in 13:32.6. Lindgren was caught in 13:37.8, just eight-tenths of a second over the American citizen's listed mark.

A third indoor record was set by the North Carolina College sprint medley relay team, finishing in 1:51.3. Andrew McCray, Norman Tate, Robert Johnson and Edwin Roberts ran legs of 440, 100, 220 and 300 yards.

Flint Northern Mat Champion

Flint Northern walked off with five individual titles Saturday in winning its fourth consecutive Saginaw Valley Conference wrestling crown.

The Flint squad finished with 6 points, Flint Central took the runnerup spot with 67 points and Pontiac Central picked up 60 in finishing third.

In the Northwest Suburban League tournament, Detroit Thurston piled up 124 points to win the title for the second year in a row.

The SVC champions dominated the lower weight classes and had the crown wrapped up going into the final match.

Grabbing first-pace points for Northern were R. Flynn (103), A. Collins (112), C. Flynn (120), B. Viverette (127) and L. Lyle (165).

PCH CHAMPS

Clarence Thompson (95) and co-captain Harold Whiting (138) won individual titles for Pontiac Central. Nailing down runnerup positions for the Chiefs were Arturo Cordova (120), Willie Nelson (127), John Cato (133) and Paul Thompson, heavyweight.

The Chiefs suffered a big blow early in the competition when Bill Roach (112) and Dan Rodriguez (145) were defeated.

The two were undefeated in Saginaw Valley competition and were counted on to give the Chiefs a shot at the title.

But Roach finished third and Rodriguez settled for fourth place.

Detroit Thurston garnered individual honors in seven events in taking the Northwest Suburban crown. Livonia Franklin finished second and North Farmington placed third.

Baltimore Five Halts Pistons

Boston Celts Invade Detroit Tonight

DETROIT (AP)—The Detroit Pistons, still going nowhere fast, face their almost certain defeat No. 50 on home court tonight after two weekend setbacks.

Tonight's foe is Boston, Eastern Division leader of the National Basketball Association. The Pistons are home from a 129-104 licking in Baltimore Sunday night. Saturday, they lost to New York 125-119 in overtime.

★ ★ ★

Detroit's loss to Baltimore was the Piston's seventh defeat from the Bullets in nine games this season.

The Bullets, with Walt Bellamy scoring 32 points and Terry Dischinger 24, easily bested the Pistons. Detroit hit only one field goal in the first three and a half minutes of the second half as Baltimore ran up a 71-57 lead.

Don Ohl was high point man for Detroit with 23. Ray Scott had 19.

Freehan Waves Hot Bat

One Tiger Roars in Camp Contest

LAKELAND, Fla. (UPI) — Roar!

Here's fair warning to the rest of the American League. Their franchise in Detroit has a player who's acting like a tiger in the midst of a den of polecats.

It's Bill Freehan — remember the name.

Freehan played just like he was ready for the season to start yesterday as he blasted away at the Tigers early camp.

The redoubtable catcher from the University of Michigan campus stole the show by banging in five runs in an intra-squad game.

Freehan hit a three-run triple and a two-run homer in two trips to the plate. But alas, despite his efforts, the game ended in an 8-8 tie.

BOSS SMILES

Freehan, counted on to become the Tigers' No. 1 catcher this season, flashed the form that's crinkled the corners of manager Charlie Dressen's cheeks occasionally.

Last year Freehan, 22, had a weak .243 batting average with 73 hits in 300 at-bats.

But the promise of power has always been there for Freehan. In 1962 the muscular catcher blasted a .283 average at Denver with 111 hits in 392 at bats.

His home-run hitting power has also been there but he just hasn't a lot of opportunity to flex his muscles. In 1962 Freehan collected nine of the round-trippers at Denver and matched the effort in only 92 less at-bats with the Tigers in '63.

Freehan, one of those rare ballplayers who happens to be playing with the team in the town where he was born, stands 6-foot-3 and weighs 205 pounds.

The right handed backstop for the Tigers has also collected 34 doubles and four triples in the past two seasons.

★ ★ ★

He's no flash on the bases but his power makes up for lack of speed.

★ ★ ★

His catching is good, too. In 100 games for the Bengals last season he had a respectable .995 fielding average.

If Freehan clicks during the regular season it'll give the Tigers a needed boost in a department that has been lamentably weak during the past few years.

3 Japanese Players Ink Giant Pacts

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The San Francisco Giants, already a leader in tapping the baseball resources of the Caribbean, is the first U.S. major league team to sign native Japanese players.

The National League club announced Saturday that three high school standouts have been acquired from the Osaka Hawks of Japan's Pacific League and will play in the Giants' minor league system this year, probably with Fresno of the Class A California League.

★ ★ ★

Those of the three who demonstrate the potential to crack the majors here will be placed on the Giants' roster after the first year to protect them from the first-year draft.

Any who don't show such potential will be returned to the Hawks—and at least will have had the benefit of the year's experience.

★ ★ ★

"I'm ready to be surprised," said Giants farm administrator Jack Schwarz. "We'll be able to judge how far the youth of Japan has advanced in baseball."

BEST PROSPECTS

Giants scouts have seen none of the three, but they were recommended by Hawks representative Cappy Harada as the three best high school players in Japan. None has professional experience.

★ ★ ★

Masanori Murakami is a 19-year-old, 6-foot, 179-pound left-handed pitcher. Third baseman Tatsuhiko Tanaka is 17, 5-10 and 179. Horoshi Takahashi is a 5-7, 167-pound catcher who will be 18 when the three and Harada arrive here March 10. All three have made the All-Japan senior high school team.

State Ski Jumpers Score in Tourney

ISHPEMING (AP) — Michigan's Upper Peninsula skiers took a good share of their own Paul Bietila Memorial Tournament honors though Duluth's George Kotlarek won the main event.

★ ★ ★

Saturday's jumping, in which Kotlarek won the seniors title while breaking the Suicide Hill record, found stars of Ishpeming and Iron Mountain in the limelight.

Ralph Bietila of Ishpeming and Tom Peterson of Iron Mountain won the veterans and junior class titles, respectively. Several other UP men placed high in all the events.

★ ★ ★

Kotlarek, Olympic team member, made a 253-foot leap, breaking the hill record by two feet. He scored 214.4 points. His other jump was 242 feet.

Snead Eyes Return to British Event

PALM BEACH GARDENS, Fla. (AP)—Eighteen years ago at the peak of a brilliant career, Slammin' Sam Snead won the British Open crown. Now he is going back to England, this time as the 51-year-old king of America's senior golfers.

★ ★ ★

Snead won the PGA Seniors title Sunday with a nine-under-par 279 over the new PGA National Golf Club course, after shrugging off late challengers by John Barnum and the old Arkansas Traveler, Dutch Harrison.

His victory brought him $2,500 and the Teacher Trophy, which includes a trip aboard to play the British Senior champion, yet to be decided. This match will be played July 5. The following week, if he desires, Sam can again play in the British Open.

THREE AHEAD

His last round 71 left him three strokes ahead of Barnum, who had fired a 69 to move up from fourth place to second and win $2,000. Harrison had a 74 for 285 and $1,500.

★ ★ ★

Sunday's victory came on Snead's first venture into the senior ranks. The veteran West Virginia Mountaineer qualified to play in this distinguished group last year but had to refrain because of a sore foot. He will be 52 May 12.

★ ★ ★

Snead, although winning the 114th tournament of his career, a record unmatched by any other golfer, declared ruefully:

"I still can't putt. I hot a 10-footer today and that was the longest one I had the whole tournament."

Baptist Five Wins No. 10

Pontiac's Midwestern Baptist Seminary and Grace Bible College of Grand Rapids sped toward their championship showdown Saturday with weekend victories.

The Michigan Christian College Athletic Association leading quintets will clash at 7:30 p.m. Saturday on the Emmanual Christian Court with Grace attempting to stop Midwestern's unbeaten string at 10 straight.

Midwestern reached the decade figure last Saturday with an 88-77 triumph over Baptist Bible College. Grace Bible, meanwhile, pushed its record to 8-1.

The defending champions topped inter-city rival, Grand Rapids School of Bible and Music with a come-from-behind 74-68 triumph as Larry Erickson scored 30 points.

Midwestern rallied early to overcome a seven - point deficit against Baptist Bible College. The winning Falcons took the lead at 21-20 and never trailed again.

George Minton hit four straight baskets to put Midwestern ahead and had 25 points in all. Mike Montgomery had his highest total of the season with 16 for the Falcons.

Ozzie Thacker replaced absent frontliner Larry Thompson and played a strong floor game for the Pontiac quintet. The Falcons hit 51 per cent of their shots in the game.

By The Associated Press

Michigan and Michigan Tech breezed to easy victories Saturday in the Western Collegiate Hockey Association to complete weekend sweeps over Minnesota and Michigan State.

The Wolverines boosted their league-leading record to 9-1 with an 8-2 victory over Minnesota and Tech trounced the Spartans 11-1.

★ ★ ★

Tom Polonic sparked a Michigan rally, which overcame a 2-0 first-period deficit, with a goal and three assists. Teammates Barry MacDonald and Gordie Wilkie counted two goals each. The Wolverines beat the Gophers 6-3 Friday. Minnesota now stands 7-5.

Pine Knob Squad Downs Ann Arbor

Pine Knob's All-Star table tennis team trimmed Ann Arbor, 9-5, Friday on the losers home ground.

Jerry Saunders sparked the Pine Knob squad with a victory over Larry Ault, the U.S. senior men's novice champion.

Perc Secord picked up two markers for the winners by downing D. F. Liu of China in three games. Carol Wolverton came through with an easy decision over Ann Arbor city titlest Mary Movvis.

Football Coach at Lake Orion Resigns Post

Frank Kownacki, head football coach at Lake Orion High School since 1957, has resigned the grid post and accepted a coaching position in Montgomery County, Maryland.

Taking over the Dragons' reins will be Dale Jessie, who has served as assistant football coach for the past two years.

★ ★ ★

Kownacki joined the Lake Orion staff in 1955, following his graduation from Kings College in Pennsylvania. He took over the head football post two years later and compiled a 21-29-3 won-lost record during his term at the Dragons' helm.

U-M Needs Spartans' Help in Big Ten Title Bid

By The Associated Press

Michigan isn't any better off in the Big Ten basketball standings for the 103-59 drubbing it gave Wisconsin Saturday.

And the Wolverines' title bid could be decided by neighbor Michigan State, which climbed into a fourth-place tie in the conference with a 107-89 victory over Iowa.

★ ★ ★

Ohio State also won Saturday, 72-61 over Northwestern, and stayed in a first place tie with Michigan. Both teams have 9-2 records with three games remaining. They don't face each other again, but OSU's final game is against Michigan State.

In other games on Michigan's heavy schedule Saturday, Canisius defeated Detroit 93-82, Bowling Green of Ohio dumped Western Michigan 101-81, Hope edged Olivet in overtime 94-91 and Ohio Northern nipped Hillsdale 61-60 in another overtime thriller.

OTHER ACTION

Northwood Institute outlasted Soo Tech 103-99, Kalamazoo defeated Elmhurst of Illinois 77-69, Calvin blitzed Taylor of Indiana 110-93, Ferris State tipped Lawrence Tech 82-73, Alma dumped Albion 107-87, Central Michigan bombed Illinois State 105-80, Case Tech beat Wayne State 74-67 and Adrian leveled Aquinas 107-84.

In out-of-state action, Winona State of Minnesota defeated Michigan Tech 86-71 and Washington & Jefferson of St. Louis edged Eastern Michigan 63-61.

Michigan, No. 2 ranked nationally, pushed its over-all record to 18-3 and its Big Ten mark to 9-2 behind Bill Buntin's 28 points and 26 from Cazzie Russell. Russell turned an ankle early in the game but returned after a two-minute rest. Wisconsin is 2-8 in the Big Ten and 8-12 over-all.

The Spartans topped the 100-point mark for the ninth time this season and evened their league record at 6-6 in bombing Iowa. Pete Gent's 26 points paced MSU. Iowa, now 2-7 in the Big Ten, got 28 points from Jim Rodgers.

★ ★ ★

Bowling Green's Howard Komives scored 49 points, and held his scoring rival, Manny Newsome of Western Michigan, to 27. Komives, the nation's leading scorer, boosted his average to 36.3 points a game. Newsome ranks No. 2 in scoring.

Bowling Green, never threatened, led by as much as 29 points at one time. The victory gave it a 5-5 Mid-American Conference record and 10-8 over-all mark. Western is 4-6 in the league and 8-14 overall.

WAY BEHIND

Canisius built up a 64-60 first half lead, which was enough to outweigh Detroit's 42-29 second half scoring edge. Al Cech's 26 points led Detroit, which now is 13-11. Tony Gennari, with 28, was high for Canisius, now 9-12.

Jerry Pettway scored 35 points in Northwood's victory over Soo Tech. Stan Ojala had 32 for Tech.

Kalamazoo's Bob Pursel helped his team even its season record at 10-10 with a 21-point effort.

Senior guard Jim Van Eerden scored 30 points in Calvin's rout of Taylor to set a school single season scoring mark. He now has 446 points in 18 games with two left to play. The old mark of 443 was posted in 1952.

Lawrence Tech's Blue Devils gave the Ferris Bulldogs a battle before losing their 14th game against 11 victories. The Bulldogs, trailing 40-36 at the half, fought back to post their 16th triumph against only three losses. Bernie Kilpatrick led Ferris with 34 points. Jerry Wnuk had 22 for LIT.

ACTON STARS

Bud Acton's 38 points powered Alma past Albion. The victory was Alma's ninth in MIAA action against two losses. Albion, now 3-8, got 18 points from Larry Colburn.

Olivet blew a seven-point lead in the last 90 seconds of regulation time before losing to Hope in an extra session. Phil Potter's goal tied the score 86-86 at the regulation buzzer and he scored the clincher in the overtime.

★ ★ ★

The victory gave Hope a 4-6 league mark. Olivet is now 0-10.

Case Tech led most of the way in downing Wayne State in a PAC game. Fred Wolcott had 21 points for WSU.

Meets Washington Tonight

Top-Ranked UCLA Gunning for Playoff Berth

By The Associated Press

UCLA, whose previous NCAA basketball tournament performances have been almost as perfect in reverse as its unbeaten record this season, can clinch the Big Six title and another berth in the post-season play tonight at Washington.

By winning their 23rd game against Washington, a team they've whipped twice already, the Bruins can go into the tournament for the third straight year and sixth time altogether.

★ ★ ★

The nation's No. 1 team clinched at least a tie for the conference championship with a come-from-behind 100-88 triumph over Stanford Saturday night.

Among the other Top Ten teams, Michigan, Kentucky, Duke, Wichita, Oregon State and Davidson won while Villanova and Drake were upset. DePaul didn't play.

Of the five tournament starts UCLA has made, it has lost the first game in four of them—1950, 1952, 1956 and last year. The Bruins' only success came in 1962 when they won two games before bowing in the semi-final round 72-70 to eventual champion Cincinnati.

GOOD POSITION

The Uclans certainly are expected to do better in the upcoming tournament. Barring a shocking upset, they should finish the season undefeated for the first time in school history. They also should wind up first in the nation, as they have been for much of the season.

Leading UCLA's attack have been senior Walt Hazzard and junior Gail Goodrich. They did it again Saturday night, scoring 53 points between them. Hazzard had 27 and Goodrich 26.

Each, however, was outscored by Stanford's Tom Dose, who pitched in 38 points. In fact, the Bruins' had to throw up a full-court press in the second half before they could overcome a 42-37 halftime deficit.

★ ★ ★

Elsewhere in conference fights for tournament posts, Kentucky and Michigan appear to be on the threshold of entry, Davidson and Duke must survive conference tourneys and Wichita and Drake face a possible playoff between them.

Kentucky, 20-2, moved into the lead of the Southeastern Conference, ripping Auburn 99-79 while Georgia upset Georgia Tech 81-68. Kentucky and Georgia Tech had been tied for first, but now a Wildcats' victory coupled with a Yellow Jackets' defeat would end the race.

Both teams play tonight, Kentucky at Alabama and Georgia Tech at Florida.

TOURNEY PLAY

Davidson, 21-3, opens its bid for the Southern Conference spot Thursday against The Citadel, which it beat 86-78 Saturday night. The tournament ends Saturday.

Duke, 18-4, must wait until next week before battling in the Atlantic Coast Conference tournament. The Blue Devils clinched first place in regular season play, walloping Maryland 84-63.

Speed Skating Champs Dash Off With Honors

DETROIT (AP) — Michigan's two state speed skating champions, Tom Augustitus and Jeanne Omelenchuk, dashed off with the men's and women's titles of the Midwest Tournament Sunday.

The fleet Detroit pair, who won their state crowns just a week ago, were tops in a field of more than 400 entries in several classifications of events in a two-day show.

Augustitus, 26-year-old credit clerk, and Mrs. Omelenchuk, 32, arts teacher in public schools and onetime Olympics skater, won almost everything in sight.

WON FOUR

Augustitus, nearly doubling the point scoring on his nearest rival, won four of five events. Mrs. Omelenchuk swept all five women's races.

Mike Carey of Detroit, second in the midwest, won the special one-mile Silver Skates race, a separate event, while Beverly Shomo of Detroit, won the women's Silver Skates mile.

★ ★ ★

Beverly and Barbara Best of Midland both spilled at the tape in a near photofinish in their mile duel. Miss Shomo won by inches.

Invaders from other states copped some laurels in the midwest competition.

Kathy Sullivan of Cheboygan, a racing veteran at 17, won the intermediate girls title.

★ ★ ★

Eleven-year-old Bob Knight of Chicago won in bidget boys, edging out Ray Timpone of Urbana, Ill., national outdoor champion, on points, 11-9½.

The Strongsville, Ohio, Fish sisters, Jennie and Debbie, mopped up in their fields. Jennie won the junior girls title and Debbie the midget girls championship. Jennie and Debbie won all their races.

Took Hobby Seriously

ROME (AP) — Police say Giuseppe Minutolo combined his job as postman with his hobby as a stamp collector.

They said that for months he failed to deliver letters from abroad to residents along his route and took the foreign stamps for his collection.

He was charged yesterday with non delivery and destruction of mail.

There are more than 4,000 varieties of barley in the collection of the U.S. Department of Agriculture.

Head-On Collision Takes Four Lives

CAMDEN, N.J. (AP) — An automobile went across three lanes of the Benjamin Franklin Bridge and collided head - on with a Philadelphia-bound car carrying three persons Sunday. All four persons in the cars died.

Police said the driver of the first car, Gordon Martorano, 20, Camden, may have fallen asleep as he came downhill toward the toll booths on the New Jersey side of the eight-lane bridge that links Camden and Philadelphia.

In the Philadelphia-bound car were Craven L. Goodman, 39, a tailor from Camden; his wife, Maxine, 33; and Mrs. Carmel F. Gardner, 33.

Over 9 Million Youths Play Instruments

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

America is on a great cultural kick. More than 9 million of our youngsters play a musical instrument. And recently on a bus I saw one looking at an opened book.

BOYLE

Everybody is interested in what happens to women, and one of the things that has happened to them since 1935 is that their average shoe size has increased from five to seven.

★ ★ ★

The sweet tooth industry has decided this the year to celebrate the 50th anniversary of the candy bar in America.

Since 1914 we have eaten 3 trillion candy bars.

NEW BUSINESSES

Prosperity note: New retail businesses are being started at the rate of 170,000 a year.

The other side of the picture: Although more Americans live higher on the hog than ever before, some 30 million of us dwell in families with an annual income of less than $3,000 a year.

★ ★ ★

Our quotable notables: "Women are our mothers, and paradise is always found at their feet; those who wish to have the benediction of God must first gain the benediction of their mothers."—Muhammad.

More about women: They are now buying 20 per cent of new life insurance policies, half the U.S. white collar working force wears petticoats, and we have 266 lady coal miners, 101 lady blacksmiths, 85 lady locomotive engineers, 301 lady stevedores, and 1,000 lady lumbermen—if I may use such a phrase. As a matter of fact, since 1950 the federal census of occupations has listed no jobs held exclusively by men. About the only thing a woman can't become is a widower.

NEED HELP?

Who needs help? Well, in New York City about 75 per cent of those who receive public assistance are children under 18 or adults who must care for them, 10 per cent are over 65 and 10 per cent are disabled.

Folklore: A horseshoe over your door will protect you from witches. But if you nail it there with the curve upward instead of downward your luck will be bad, not good.

★ ★ ★

Speaking of superstitions, they still unconsciously influence many of our choices. The Hotel Edison here, for example, has found that most guests prefer odd-numbered rooms to those with even numbers.

History lesson: Can you name the only U.S. president who was sworn in both by his father and a former president? He was Calvin Coolidge. His father, a justice of the peace, first administered the oath to him when he succeeded to the office after Warren G. Harding's death. After his subsequent election in 1924, Chief Justice William Howard Taft swore Coolidge to his duty.

ABOVE CLOUDS

Those who journey above the clouds will find in the near future there'll be a longer distance between hiccups. One now travels 150 miles while sipping a glass of champagne aboard a modern jet. Passengers on the upcoming supersonic jets will zip 495 miles while imbibing the same quantity of bubbly.

Worred that age is slowing you down. Take heart from Michelangelo. A genius in his youth, he still produced art after 80. Benjamin Franklin fought the ravages of time by inventing bifocal glasses when he was 78.

Home Blaze Takes 2 Lives

Girl, 7; Boarder, 27, Die in Nankin Twp.

DETROIT (AP)—A 7-year-old girl and a young woman boarder died in a fire that swept a home in suburban Nankin Township early yesterday.

Fire Chief Ralph Savini said the girl, Barbara Moore, possibly died in an effort to save Martha Weir, 27, who also died.

Barbara's father, Arnold Moore, 46, and mother, Grace, survived along with two sons, Gary, 9, and David, 18 months.

David was rescued by a neighbor, Robert Cocprum, who entered the flaming home by a ladder he put up to a second story window. The other three escaped on their own.

DISCOVERED BLAZE

Chief Savini said Barbara, first to discover the blaze, apparently reentered the house to help Miss Weir after being taken outside by her father. Barbara had awakened her father to tell him of the fire.

As a boarder in the home of the former Tennessee family, Miss Weir served as babysitter.

* * *

Barbara's body was found in an upstairs room. Miss Weir's body was found beside her bed in another upstairs room.

Moore suffered burns and cuts in breaking the glass pane of a door on an outside stairway when going back into the house. He said flames drove him out.

The blaze apparently started in the living room from an unknown cause.

3 BLOCKS AWAY

The township fire house is only three blocks from the home. An alarm was delayed, however. Moore said he instructed Barbara to run to a neighbor's home for help when he took her outside but that the girl, unknown to him, reentered the house.

Neighbors said the Moores came here from Tennessee in 1951 and had purchased a farm near Hohenwald, Tenn., planning to go there in the future.

Bartenders' Hearts Are in Right Place

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP)—About 100 bartenders and bar owners, many of them wearing aprons, strode along this resort's famed boardwalk Sunday to raise money for the 1964 Heart Fund.

* * *

Among them was former middleweight boxer Rocky Castellani, wearing a Beatle wig and gym attire. He operates a resort bar.

* * * *

The 4½-hour march in nippy, 35-degree weather netted $2,000 for the Heart Fund.

CAMPUS COMEDY — Norman Grabowski (left) and Tommy Kirk battle over books and vie for the affections of Annette in "The Misadventures of Merlin Jones," the latest Walt Disney comedy, now playing at the Miracle Mile Drive-In. Leon Ames and Stuart Erwin costar in the movie, about an oddball college student whose mental experiments get him in all sorts of hilarious situations.

Dr. Wayne G. Brandstadt Says:

Bad Back Sufferers Must Be Careful

A slipped disk, a ruptured disk, a prolapsed disk, a herniated disk all mean the same thing.

A disk is a soft cartilage between two vertebrae. It sometimes protrudes beyond its normal bounds and impinges on the spinal nerves.

This happens most frequently in the lower back and is the cause of about 90 per cent of the complaints that used to be called sciatica.

BRANDSTADT

The condition is seen more often in middle-aged housewives and office workers than in well-developed laborers.

The immediate cause is not always easily identified, but often it is a sudden twisting of the back that is accompanied by a sharp pain.

The victim usually feels the pain most acutely when he gets out of bed in the morning. He is most comfortable lying on his back on the floor or some other unyielding surface.

He would rather sit erect on a hard chair than to slouch in an overstuffed chair. Coughing and sneezing aggravate the pain.

Given these symptoms, your doctor can confirm the diagnosis with an X ray.

★ ★ ★

For the acute case five to 10 days of bed rest is often all that is needed for a cure. The less the victim uses his back during this time, the better will be the results.

HEAT UNCERTAIN

Heat from an electric pad helps some victims, but appears to make others worse. Massage and other forms of manipulation may be definitely harmful.

When the victim has recovered, it is essential that he remember at all times that his back is not as good as new and that it may act up again if he doesn't refrain from heavy lifting, especially if he attempts to lift with his back rather than his legs.

This is always dangerous, and may have been the cause of his trouble in the first place. He must also avoid sudden twisting or bending movements.

★ ★ ★

Exercises to strengthen the muscles of the hips, back and abdomen (but no twisting exercises) will help to prevent a recurrence.

LITTLE VALUE

Back supports are of little value except as a reminder that the wearer has a trick back.

If rest fails to give complete relief or if the victim has repeated attacks, his best course would be to have the protruded portion of the disk removed surgically.

Some persons so greatly fear an operation that they would rather put up with the pain. But the operation is not particularly formidable and the results are almost uniformly good.

Clergyman's Life Box Office?

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer

HOLLYWOOD—How's this for negative thinking? Norman Vincent Peale has doubts that his film biography will be a box office success.

THOMAS

Dr. Peale, the Ohio clergyman whose "Power of Positive Thinking" sold 2.5 million hardcover books and a million in paperback, is the subject of a new movie, "One Man's Way."

"I hope it's a success because I think it's a fine picture with a powerful message," he said. "But I would be inclined to doubt it's chances. It doesn't seem to be the kind of film that the public is going for these days."

★ ★ ★

"Oh, I think you're wrong, dear," said Mrs. Peale more positively. "I think it will be very popular."

If "One Man's Way" doesn't succeed, it won't be because Dr. Peale didn't try to help it. He was here near the end of a 12-city tour with his attractive wife, during which he spoke on behalf of the film.

GOOD CHANCE

At an $850,000 cost, the Frank Ross production stands a good chance of paying off. However, it does go against the current trend of film fare, in which sex comedies predominate.

Dr. Peale got a look at the opposition on his flight west. He was subjected to an in-flight showing of "Sunday in New York."

★ ★ ★

"I tried to watch it for a while, but I found it disgusting," he said. "Since the lights were turned down so we couldn't read, I looked out the window at the moon and the stars and the lights of the cities."

"Because we were a captive audience, I decided to see what the younger generation was seeing in films today," said Mrs. Peale. "I was shocked."

MORAL SHAPE

Today's movies, said Dr. Peale, reflect the moral shape America is in.

★ ★ ★

"Morally, this country is in a tailspin—or perhaps I should say a downward spiral," he said. "It reminds me of France, where men would come up to you in a cafe and try to sell you postcards. Now you can buy such material from any newsstand in this country."

★ ★ ★

"I used to be appalled at the kind of movies that were made in France. Now we're making the same kind here.

"I see no hope for coming out of this downward spiral until we hit bottom. When that happens, there is only one way we can go—up."

Libya Says It Won't Renew Base Agreements With U.S.

TRIPOLI, Libya (AP)—Libya says it does not intend to renew agreements permitting the United States and Britain to retain military bases on its soil. The U.S. agreement runs through 1971 and the British until 1973.

The Libyan government issued its statement in reply to criticism from President Gamal Abdel Nasser of the United Arab Republic.

Nasser called in a speech for an end to foreign bases like those in Libya. They include Wheelus Air Base, the last big American military installation in Africa, and British army and air force depots at Tripoli, Benghazi and El Adam.

★ ★ ★

Political circles in Britain said Libya's decision was no surprise. They said Libya's King Idriss has been drawn steadily into the U.A.R. orbit.

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP)—A band of 30 spear-carrying rebels killed two Belgian teachers in an attack on a Roman Catholic mission in the Congo's turbulent Kwilu Province Sunday.

★ ★ ★

Since the revolt was launched by the Congo's former education minister, Communist trained Pierre Mulele, six months ago, six whites and more than 120 Congolese have been killed.

In the attack at the Makunzika mission, 30 miles south of the provincial capital of Kikwit, the rebels also wounded two Canadian priests and a Belgian teacher with arrows and clubs.

LIBREVILLE, Gabon (AP)—President Leon Mba, unseated briefly last week by a military revolt, dissolved his Cabinet Sunday night and again postponed election of a new National Assembly, until April 12.

★ ★ ★

Mba said government affairs will be handled by a group of technicians.

The elections, for which Mba's party has entered the only slate of candidates, were originally to have been held Sunday. After French troops put down the revolt, Mba rescheduled the voting for March 1.

ACT AS ARBITER

Mba told a meeting of diplomats, high civil and religious personalities and newsmen that he would remain apart from the elections to act as an "arbiter."

LONDON (AP)—The sale of six helicopters to the South African Navy is threatening to touch off a political rumpus in the British House of Commons.

Labor party members charge that the helicopters — although designated for an antisubmarine role—could be armed and used against African opponents of the South African government's racial policies.

HONG KONG (AP) — Red China has mobilized a million workers to build a canal that could supply fresh water to the parched British colony, the newspaper China Mail reported today.

★ ★ ★

Arrivals from the mainland said the canal would be able to supply Hong Kong with 28 million gallons of fresh water a day.

The canal will bring water from the East River to a reservoir on the Chinese side of the border. An existing pumping station there could send it on to Hong Kong.

WATER SHORTAGE

Hong Kong is suffering the worst water shortage in its history. Household water supplies have been cut to four hours every four days.

The Chinese Communists have been selling about 12 million gallons of water daily to Hong Kong at the equivalent of 4 cents per 1,000 gallons. The canal supply, according to the report, would be sold at about 14 American cents per 1,000 gallons, or about $4,000 per day for 28 million gallons.

SEOUL, South Korea (AP)—Two South Korean youths were found dead Sunday on a firing range of the U.S. 7th Infantry Division north of Seoul.

★ ★ ★

A U.S. Army spokesman said the pair, 16 and 17, were believed to have been victims of an explosion of a dud. The range was cleared of all personnel Sunday morning in preparation for its use by units of the 1st Cavalry Division, he said.

Last year 125,000 resident aliens became citizens through naturalization proceedings.

Ask Evidence on Districting

Court Tells State Unit to Eye Timing, Limits

LANSING (AP) — The Michigan Supreme Court today set forth two questions of timing and one of limitation, which it said must be considered in a decision on legislative reapportionment.

The court issued an order asking the members of the State Apportionment Commission to be "prepared to discuss" the questions during oral arguments March 2.

The court asked that the arguments include:

—Whether or not the court may act now "with due propriety," in view of the fact that the U. S. Supreme Court has yet to rule in a suit challenging the apportionment of the Senate under the old state constitution.

—Whether it may properly act before, rather than after, a three - judge U. S. District Court renders a decision in another suit challenging Senate apportionment under the new constitution.

The court's order asked that the questions be presented "in the early part" of the oral arguments. Chief Justice Thomas Kavanagh said two days had been set aside for the verbal debate.

The court is expected to rule in mid-March on which of four plans submitted by the bipartisan apportionment commission must be adopted.

Man Is Dead 16 Days After Crash Injury

A Pontiac Township man died Saturday from injuries suffered Feb. 6 in a traffic accident which killed two women.

Charles Waltman, 51, of 2215 E. Walton died in St. Joseph Mercy Hospital at 3:25 p.m., 16 day after a two-car crash in Avon Township.

He had been in critical condition since the accident, which killed Mrs. Arden Bigham, 31, of 490 Emerson, and Elaine M. Allen, 25, of 296 First.

Waltman was a passenger in a pickup truck driven by Samuel Funderburk, 32, of 28 Whitfield when it collided head-on with the women's car on Walton, just east of Shagbark.

SUSPECT CHARGED

Funderburk has been charged with manslaughter in the two earlier deaths.

State Recruit Dies

LA JOLLA, Calif., (AP) — Marine Corps spokesman say the death of a Michigan recruit during physical conditioning at Camp Matthews was attributed to bronchial pneumonia.

'Odd' Items to Be Auctioned

By DICK HANSON

How did thieves get a hold of eight bar stools? (It's hard enough for patrons to do sometimes.)

Who ran off with a bowling ball, or a pin-ball machine or a complete public address system?

These are among recovered stolen goods left unclaimed at the Oakland County Sheriff's Department for at least six months.

★ ★ ★

Sheriff Frank Irons is planning to put 127 such items on the public auction block April 30.

'EVERYTHING GOES'

"Everything goes," he said. "It's a sort of a spring-cleaning project here at the jail." The prisoners will stay, however.

Some of the recovered loot piled high in the jail basement stirs curiosity regarding the taste of thieves.

For instance, there's the bottom half of an outboard motor, which is all right if you just happen to have a spare top half lying around in your basement.

★ ★ ★

How about a bag of golf balls, five gallons of rubber coating, or maybe an empty five-gallon can?

FAST GET-AWAY

Then there's a suitcase full of clothing (someone must have left town in a hurry not to miss it) and the radiator for a '57 Ford. (Maybe you better check under your hood.)

On the more practical side, perhaps, are 15 bicycles likely to attract bargain-hunting small fry to the auction.

And, if you are really curious, there are two paper bags full of unlisted items to go to highest bidders.

★ ★ ★

The auction will be held, subject to approval by the County Board of Supervisors, in the jail garage on Warren Street — time to be announced later.

Gunman Robs Bar, Escapes With $29

A gunman held up the Florida Bar, 522 S. Saginaw, shortly before 1 a.m. today and escaped with $29.

The bartender, Raymond Hernandez, 64, of 204 Harrison told police he was alone when the bandit, in his mid-20's, came in and ordered him to hand over the money.

★ ★ ★

Hernandez said the man wore a hooded black sweat shirt. Hernandez was made to lie on the floor behind the bar as the man fled.

Learning to Listen Is Important Skill

By LESLIE J. NASON, Ed. D.

Educators sometimes look for someone to blame rather than for the source of trouble.

DR. NASON

They search only for personal and social situations outside the control of the school, instead of looking within the school itself.

Such was the situation in a California Elementary School District where efforts to find out why children didn't listen effectively led to bitter arguments.

No one objected to their manner of selection of "good" and "poor" listeners from grades five, six and seven for comparison. Scores on the Sequential Tests of Educational Progress were used, but their proposed search for causes (or scapegoats) brought angry protests from the community.

The researchers' plan was to assess the intelligence, personal and social adjustment, physical maturation, hearing ability, acceptance by peers and teachers, and socio-economic background of the selected children.

* * *

Once test scores were available, they would be correlated with listening ability to determine what relationships, if any, existed between them.

Of the seven proposed tests only one, hearing ability, is a direct investigation of a child's listening. No wonder the citizens objected. The researchers should have been looking first to themselves and the schools, for the sources of failure.

It is the teachers' responsibility to help students develop listening techniques. The study should have been of the pupils' habits of listening, the teachers' procedures in developing good listening habits, and the understanding of both pupils and teachers of efficient learning procedures.

LEARNING SKILLS

Such an investigation could have led to improvement! Listening skills are learning skills—and important ones. Some estimates place listening inefficient as it may be, as the source of 75 per cent of the knowledge gained by high school and college students.

Since it takes only one tenth of his thinking power to hear the words, how a pupil uses the remaining nine tenths of his thinking power to hear the words, how a pupil uses the remaining nine tenths of his thinking to study what is being said, is the important element.

Where did the school programs miss in developing listening skills? What provisions have been made to repair the damage?

Closely associated with listening ability is the knowledge of precise meanings of words.

MENTAL PICTURES

A third closely associated factor is the training the pupil has had in bringing up mental pictures from spoken stimuli.

Pupils do not develop these skills automatically. Good teachers instruct their pupils in what to think about while listening, in such a way that they develop skill in learning through listening.

No one would be critical of investigation in these areas.

* *

When the several avenues of search for the causes of poor listening have been exhausted, two or three pupils may not have responded.

I recommend that for these, parents seek professional help regarding possible social or personality problems so severe as to interfere with learning.

Opening lead—♣6

By OSWALD JACOBY

The "avoidance" play did not get its name because it is something to avoid. Instead it is designed to avoid letting the wrong opponent into the lead.

JACOBY

Usually it occurs in combination with another play known as "loser on loser."

With this information you should have no trouble fining the correct way for South to play his contract of five hearts doubled against the spade opening.

South should figure out that West's six of spades was a singleton and that he held ace and another trump. Otherwise he would surely have opened a diamond or club.

Thus South should win the spade lead with dummy's king and play the king of clubs. If East should produce the ace South would ruff and lead a low trump, but East would play small whereupon South would discard his losing diamond.

West would be back in the lead and would have no way to get his partner in.

The actual declarer did not find this play. He won the spade in his own hand and played the jack of trumps. Had West ducked, everything would have been fine, but West hopped up with the ace and underled his ace of diamonds. East won the trick and returned a spade to set the contract.

What do you do?

A — Bid four spades. Your three-heart bid showed that you had a good hand. It is up to your partner to make a move toward a slam if there is one.

TODAY'S QUESTION

Your partner continues to five clubs. What do you do now?

Trading Heavy

Mart Goes Irregularly Higher

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market moved irregularly higher early this afternoon as it neared the significant 800 level in the Dow Jones industrial average. Trading was heavy.

First-hour volume was a big 1.77 million shares compared with 1.11 million on Thursday, the last trading day before the three-day Washington's Birthday weekend.

A generally higher tone prevailed among motors, steels, rubbers, rails, airlines, chemicals and mail order-retails.

Building materials, aerospace issues, nonferrous metals and tobaccos were mixed.

Continued strength in steel demand and good business news provided the market's framework. It was enhanced by prospects of imminent passage of the $11.5 billion tax cut bill which is expected to put extra money into the hands of the public within weeks.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up .8 at 296.4 with industrials up 1.2, rails up .6 and utilities up .3. The average was above its latest record closing high made Thursday.

PRICES MIXED

Prices on the American Stock Exchange were mixed in active trading. Syntex rose 4 points and Page-Hersey Tubes more than that.

Corporate bonds were mixed. U.S. Government bonds declined.

ICE-PRESSED DUCK — Caught in New York's Central Park Lake without the use of its paddles, this duck had a legitimate squawk. Workers of the Park Department first tried to free the duck by breaking the ice with a ladder, but to no avail. Rescue came finally when Robert Parker rowed out and broke the ice around Mr. Duck with an oar.

Red Chinese Envoy Begins French Job

PARIS (AP) — Red China's first diplomatic representative to France began his first full day on the job today but remained silent on his plans.

Charge d'Affaires Sung Chih-kuang, 48, who arrived in Paris yesterday with five aides by train from Switzerland, settled into the Hotel Continental, one of the better Right Bank hostelries.

Sung, who has for three years been assistant director of Red China's foreign ministry department on Western Europe, arrived at about the same time his French counterpart, Charge d'Affairs, Claude Chayet, reached Peking.

The two men will make preparations for the exchange of ambassadors and must find suitable embassy quarters.

NATIONALIST EMBASSY

Diplomatic observers believe Sung will try to claim the million-dollar Nationalist Chinese Embassy on fashionable Avenue Georges V.

Before diplomatic ties were severed between France and Formosa, the Nationalist regime turned the embassy building over to its delegation to the U. N. Educational Scientific and Cultural Organization (UNESCO).

UNESCO, which has diplomatic status, still recognizes the Nationalist government.

★ ★ ★

The French government holds that any dispute over the embassy building, which has been owned by the Chinese Republic for 27 years, should be decided by French courts.

GOVERNMENT OFFICES

The French Embassy building in Peking was abandoned by French diplomats in 1950 when they followed Chiang Kai-shek to Formosa. French visitors to Peking say the Communists took over the building and it now houses governmental offices.

There is speculation that the Chinese will hold on to it until they get possession of the embassy in Paris.

When Sung arrived yesterday, he made a statement in Chinese, and a translation in French was handed to newsmen. Sung said he was happy to be in France and hoped for close ties between France and China.

There were no Soviet bloc delegates on hand when Sung and his party arrived at the Gare de Lyon. He was welcomed by a group of French and foreign diplomats, including the Albanian diplomatic representative in France and a member of the Cuban Embassy.

Panama Chief Predicts Riots

Old Canal Treaty Is Said Dispute Cause

NEW YORK (AP) — President Roberto F. Chiari of Panama says steadily worsening riots and demonstrations against the United States will break out in Panama unless the two countries adopt a new Panama Canal treaty.

Last month's riots and bloodshed were rooted in the 1903 treaty, he said, adding that unless it is revised there will be new disorders.

Chiari discussed the dispute that led to the riots in an appearance yesterday on a U.S. television program. It was filmed in Panama last week.

★ ★ ★

He said he would be glad to confer with President Johnson, and such a meeting might "pay dividends."

HOW FAR?

Chiari said "The question is how far can the President (Johnson) go and really how far he is willing to have an open and frank discussion and negotiate with Panama on a treaty, on a new basis."

Chiari said relations between the United States and Panama were cordial in 1961.

The situation got worse because the U.S. ambassador wasn't replaced after he left last August, Chiari said.

Chiara said the two countries should "make a frank analysis of the whole situation and forget what (has) happened" and talk frankly like two partners in the Panama Canal enterprise.

VOICES CRITICISM

The U.S. ambassador to whom Chiari referred, the resigned Joseph S. Farland, yesterday criticized U.S. handling of the negotiations seeking to end the crisis over the 1903 Canal treaty.

Farland was interviewed by Sen. Kenneth B. Keating, R-N.Y., in a program taped by Keating in Washington for television and radio broadcast in New York State.

Farland said some of the U.S. officials seeking to solve the problem have not been fully informed about its ramifications.

SOME CONSOLATION — Mrs. Erma Thompson, 55, of Houston, Tex., lies in a Houston hospital yesterday after having the end of her finger bitten off by a horse at the Houston Livestock Show rodeo. The horse belonged to Michael Landon, known as Little Joe on the Bonanza television show, who dropped in to console her.

Dallas Contributes for JFK Memorial

DALLAS (UPI) — Citizens of Dallas mailed first donations today to build a memorial to the late President Kennedy near the spot where he was assassinated in their city just over three months ago.

Plans for the probably white marble structure, although not complete, were announced on the three-month anniversary of the Nov. 22 assassination by a committee of 25 civic leaders Saturday.

Mrs. Jacqueline Kennedy endorsed their unanimous desire for a monument in Dallas to her late husband, and a gift by the memorial committee to the $10-million library being built near the scene of the president's youth in Boston.

★ ★ ★

Contributions to both memorials from residents of Dallas, as well as the state of Texas and other mourners over the world, began arriving at Box 434 of the Dallas post office.

CORRECTLY ROUTED

Letters addressed incorrectly or simply to "Kennedy Memorial Fund" were routed correctly by postal workers.

They had already handled more than 700 such letters sent during the past three months with suggestions for the memorial, rather than cash or checks.

Still, a spokesman for the committee said about $800 was already in the memorial made of the form the tribute would take.

★ ★ ★

Dr. Luther Holcomb, executive director of the Dallas Council of Churches, was a spokesman for the memorial committee appointed by former Mayor Earle Cabell.

SEIZED WITH GRIEF

Holcomb said that all the members "were seized with grief because we lost a president."

"The spirit of everyone was to show the utmost consideration for Mrs. Kennedy," he said.

Her wishes were conveyd to the committee through Stephen E. Smith, brother-in-law of the late president.

★ ★ ★

Holcomb explained that neither Mrs. Kennedy nor the committee wanted a statue or an elaborate monument.

The Baptist minister said committeemen unanimously agreed on "a very modest monument — one that will reflect the sincerity of the feeling in this committee as a spiritual expression."

Peggy Lee Plans April Honeymoon

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif. (AP) — Friends of singer Peggy Lee and bandleader Jack Del Rio say the couple, wed Saturday, will not honeymoon until mid-April.

Miss Lee, 43, got a marriage license Friday when a clerk came to her Beverly Hills home, where she is recuperating from a respiratory ailment.

Her marriage to the 39-year-old Del Rio took place there.

★ ★ ★

It is the second marriage for Del Rio, a native of Argentina, and the fourth for Miss Lee. Her previous husbands were actor Dewey Martin, actor Brad Dexter and composer Dave Barbour.

Savings, Loan League Elects Yearly Officers

DETROIT (AP) — The Michigan Savings and Loan Staff League elected James Thorne of Kalamazoo president at its annual conference in Detroit Sunday. Francis R. Mercer of East Lansing was elected first vice president; George S. McColl, of Detroit, second vice president; and Lila Lee Mudge, of Detroit, secretary.

Ups Win String to 53

NEW YORK (AP) — Michigan's hurdler Hayes Jones now has his 53rd consecutive indoor victory. He won the 60-yard highs in 7 seconds flat in the National AAU Indoor Championships Saturday night.

Ex-Mental Patient Held in Killing of 3

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — Police said Anthony G. Misetich, 34, a former mental patient shot and killed his brother, sister, and sister-in-law Sunday because he said they were persecuting him by having him committed for mental treatment.

★ ★ ★

Misetich went to police headquarters and turned himself in. He was charged with first-degree murder.

Chicago Rights Leaders Split on School Boycott

CHICAGO (AP) — Freedom Day II, Chicago's second public school boycott in four months, is set for Tuesday despite what many Negro leaders describe as a major breach in the city's civil rights movement.

★ ★ ★

One prominent boycott opponent, the Rev. Joseph H. Jackson, president of the 5-million member National Baptist Convention, said he hopes the dispute "will draw a distinct line between the honest fight for civil rights and the use of children."

★ ★ ★

The scheduled one-day boycott is sponsored by the Coordinating Council of Community Organizations, an association of civil rights groups. Its leader, Lawrence Landry, 28, estimates 100,000 or more students will stay away from classes. Other CCCO spokesmen predict the total will be much higher.

FIRST BOYCOTT

In the first boycott last October, some 225,000 pupils—about half the public school enrollment—stayed away from classes.

The boycott has been called to protest what civil rights leaders call de facto segregation in the city's public school system. They say it is the result of the Board of Education's neighborhood attendance policy.

★ ★ ★

The CCCO said the demonstrations are in protest of the school board's failure to meet a list of demands, which include the immediate ouster of Supt. Benjamin C. Willis and a city-wide program of school integration, regardless of neighborhood racial patterns.

★ ★ ★

Many civil rights leaders privately admit they agree with the CCCO demands, but, as Chicago Urban League President H. B. Law said, "It's a question of how to deal with the problem."

"The CCCO," Law said "thinks that the only way to do anything is by a punch in the nose."

★ ★ ★

The list of antiboycott organizations includes, along with the Urban League and the National Baptist Convention, the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, the Presbyterian Interracial Council, the Catholic Interracial Council and the 100,000-member Africa Methodist Church.

★ ★ ★

The most rigorous boycott opposition has come from the Rev. Mr. Jackson, who has organized a committee of about 100 Negro ministers to escort children to school Tuesday.

"The real victims of the boycotts are the children and not the officials of the school board," he said.

★ ★ ★

The Rev. Mr. Jackson said "the time has come to draw a distinction between an honest fight for civil rights and these grandstand plays for publicity, personal popularity and power."

Susan Oliver's Lucky Star Sees Her a Star in 1964

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — It's only fair that I notify you that Susan Oliver, the girl who got a man away from Liz Taylor—the man was Eddie Fisher and it was in "Butterfield 8"—becomes a great big star in 1964.

WILSON

"Honey" — a prominent Hollywood astrologer told her—"This is going to be a year of major emergence for you."

Then the astrologer kissed her.

Which was all right, as the astrologer was one of the tops in America, and her mother, Ruth Hale Oliver.

Susan often says "Phooey, mother, on your astrology," but she told me when she was here doing a TV role for "The Defenders" that she couldn't say phooey to that. Further, the stars forecast marriage . . . but her mother told her, "Please don't tell anybody about that."

"It puts men off if they think you know all about them and what's going to happen. They run like thieves."

Susan's major emergence may be in the Joe Pasternak picture with Connie Francis, "Looking for Love," due out in June.

So remember you heard it here that Susan's going to be a blockbuster. And gee, if she took Eddie Fisher away from Liz maybe she could take Richard Burton away from her and . . . WOW . . .

Travel by Air Said Cause of Nehru's Stroke

NEW DELHI (AP)—Air travel was responsible for Prime Minister Nehru suffering a mild stroke Jan. 7, three eminent physicians of an Indian system of medicine were quoted Sunday.

★ ★ ★

Experts of the Ayurvedic system from the Hindu holy city of Banaras examined Nehru for 40 minutes and said he would fully recover within two weeks by following their prescriptions.

These consist of rubbing his weakened left limbs with medicated oil, fomentation of affected parts with herb-mixed hot water, and strict dieting.

SPEED LIMIT

The doctors asked Nehru not to undertake air travel. Even automobiles should not exceed a certain speed when he is traveling, they said.

2 Republicans Disagree

Will Senate Halt Civil Rights Filibuster?

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Two Republican senators were in disagreement today over whether President Johnson could swing enough Senate votes to shut off an expected filibuster against the civil rights bill.

Senate GOP leader Everett M. Dirksen, Ill., told a reporter that "no amount of arm-twisting" by the President would turn up the two-thirds majority of the senate needed to gag debate.

But Sen. Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y., said in a television interview "there are enough votes to invoke closure against a southern filibuster, provided that the President puts the same kind of strength behind it as he is credited with putting behind the tax bill."

★ ★ ★

The House-passed bill to bar discrimination in voting, employment, unions, public accommodations, education and use of federal funds is expected to come up in the senate late this week.

MEDICARE PLAN

With the civil rights struggle sidetracked for the moment and the $11.5 billion tax cut wrapped up, the administration was reported to be pressing for action on some modified plan of medical care for the aged.

The Medicare measure is bottled up in the House Ways & Means Committee, which expected to hold closed hearings in about two weeks.

Congressional sources indicated that Johnson was not satisfied to let the issue lie over until after the November elections, however.

★ ★ ★

The President was reported to be anxious for some action this session that could be pictured to the voters as at least a step toward the plan to provide hospital and nursing home care for persons over 65 financed through higher social security taxes.

CIVIL RIGHTS

On the civil rights bill, Javits said that Republicans would have to produce 22 to 25 votes to get the required two-thirds for cloture.

"I think it can be done — certainly on our side — and I think it will be very heavily up to the President on the other side," Javits said.

Javits said that if the bill is not enacted, "we will not have a reasonable answer for Negroes who feel that in order to get justice they must demonstrate in the streets."

★ ★ ★

Dirksen said he would not again sign a cloture petition, as he did in 1962 on the communications satellite bill when debate was gagged. To do so, he said, would "drive a wedge" in GOP ranks.

CAN'T GET IT

"I don't think that, as of now, they can get cloture," he said, "and no amount of arm-twisting on Lyndon's part is going to get cloture."

Senate GOP whip Thomas H. Kuchel, Calif., urged in a separate interview that the house bill be strengthened.

Kuchel said the measure should be made to apply to all elections, state and local as well as federal, and should be amended to prevent unfair use of state judicial processes to protect segregated practices and harass individuals trying to end racial discrimination.

DETOUR — What may look like a stock car race at a hairpin turn is really 4:30 p.m. rush hour traffic at the Perimeter Road and East Pike. Motorists can look forward to the major rerouting in the downtown area for the next month or more while the Clinton River is tunneled under Saginaw. A short stretch of the perimeter road was opened to ease the congestion.

Want to Help? ---Stay Away

City Urges Motorists to Avoid Intersection

In an effort to ease rush hour traffic tie-ups in downtown Pontiac, city officials today urged motorists to avoid the area of the Auburn - Orchard Lake-Saginaw intersectin whenever possible.

The intersection was closed last week as work began on tunnelling the Clinton River Drain under Saginaw at that point. It will remain closed for 45 to 60 days.

City Traffic Engineer Joseph Koren again outlined detours today. He emphasized that most traffic jams occur late in the afternoon when detours are heavily travelled by homebound motorists.

★ ★ ★

Koren suggested that homebound motorists try to take alternate routes temporarily which completely avoid the detour area.

Saginaw is barricaded at Whittemore and Water. Barricades are up on Orchard Lake at Cass and on Auburn at Perry. Suggested detour routes are as follows:

Northbound: Saginaw to Whittemore to Perimeter Road to Pike to Saginaw.

Southbound: Saginaw to Water to Perry to Perimeter Road to Judson to Saginaw.

★ ★ ★

Eastbound: Orchard Lake to Cass to Patterson to Saginaw to Water to Perry to Auburn.

Westbound: Auburn to Perimeter Road to Pike to Williams to Orchard Lake.

23 Indians Missing

New Kashmir Battle

NEW DELHI, India (AP)—Twenty-three Indian policemen are missing after a new outbreak of violence between Pakistan and India in the troubled state of Kashmir.

The Indian Defense Ministry lodged a protest with U.N. observers, charging that troops from the Pakistani sector of Kashmir crossed the cease-fire line dividing the Himalayan state and attacked the Indian patrol Friday.

Indian officials were able to account for only one member of the patrol.

The ambush occurred near Keran, about 70 miles west of Srinagar, Kashmir's summer capital, the ministry said. Pakistani troops crossed the cease-fire line along the Krishen Ganga River and fired on the patrol while other Pakistanis opened a barrage from the opposite bank, the ministry said.

A spokesman for Prime Minister Nehru's Congress party said Pakistan may have deliberately staged the ambush to impress Communist Chinese Premier Chou En-lai, currently visiting Pakistan.

Indian officials expressed no surprise over a joint communique by Chou and Pakistan's President Mohammed Ayub Khan yesterday pledging Red China's support of Pakistan in the Kashmir dispute.

NOTHING STARTLING

A government spokesman said nothing startling could have emerged from a meeting of "the government leaders whose common denominator is dislike of India."

Ayub, who has always pictured himself as a strong friend of the West, held three days of talks with Chou in the old Punjab city of Rawalpindi, 60 miles west of the Kashmir frontier.

JACK C. BRANNACK

UF Leader Picks Aide for Drive

In his first major appointment as campaign chairman for the 1964 Pontiac Area United Fund drive, Bruce J. Annett today named Jack C. Brannack as commercial division chairman.

Brannack, co - owner and secretary - treasurer of J. L. Van Wagoner insurance agency, will head the second largest unit of United Fund's annual appeal.

"I feel very fortunate to have a man of Brannack's experience in this important campaign post," said Annett.

★ ★

He explained that Brannack will oversee solicitors dealing with "chapter plan" business firms of 10 or more employes, "small team" firms with less than 10 workers, as well as government, professional and educational groups.

HEADED TEAM

Brannack has headed the small team and chapter plan groups during the last two campaigns.

He succeeds Stuart Whitfield who last year led the division to 110.7 per cent of its goal, raising $225,317.

Brannack, of 2043 Lakeward, Bloomfield Township, is active in Pontiac City Club, and both the Pontiac and Michigan Association of Insurance Agents.

Rockefeller Seeks Replies on Viet Crisis

Demands That LBJ Tell Nation Facts; Charges Cover Up

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller is demanding from the administration of President Johnson "a full accounting of the situation in Viet Nam and Southeast Asia."

Rockefeller, a candidate for the Republican presidential nomination, issued the call yesterday.

He asserted in a statement that "a process of news management by the administration has kept the hard facts of the military situation from the people."

His statement, among the hardest-hitting criticisms of the handling of foreign affairs, came as he entered the final two weeks before a key test for his presidential hopes—the New Hampshire primary on March 10.

★ ★ ★

The statement posed a series of questions to President Johnson.

ROCKY'S QUERIES

Among them were:

● What are the actual facts on the war in South Viet Nam?

● What American military commitment is necessary to win the war?

● Does the United States still intend to withdraw all its military forces from Viet Nam by the end of 1965?

● If the war in Viet Nam has not been going well, how does the administration explain the optimistic statements extending well over two years?

★ ★ ★

"The American people have a right to know the whole truth about what has been going on in Viet Nam," Rockefeller said. "I asked the President and his advisers to give full and complete answers to the questions I have posed."

His statement on Viet Nam followed an overseas telephone call the governor made to Henry Cabot Lodge, U.S. ambassador to South Viet Nam.

The governor said he had placed the call to explain personally to Lodge comments he

Pair Is Found Dead After Calling FBI

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Two sons of well-to-do parents were found dead yesterday in their sports car. The Federal Bureau of Investigation reported in Los Angeles that they had promised to surrender to authorities in connection with bank robberies.

The victims, University of Miami student Avie Celender and former student Arthur Tepper, were shot in the chest.

A pistol was between them on the front seat. The car was parked in suburban Key Biscayne.

Police sought to determine whether it was murder or suicide or both.

In Los Angeles, William G. Simon, an FBI agent, said that in a telephone conversation from Miami the two had admitted guilt in connection with bank robberies. Simon said they agreed to a suggestion to surrender to the FBI here.

★ ★ ★

Metropolitan homicide detective Wallace La Peters, reported a note in Tepper's pocket said he was ashamed of himself and expressed regret for something he had done.

HE BELIEVED

La Peters said he believed Tepper, of Scranton, Pa., shot Celender, of Indianapolis, then shot himself.

Los Angeles police reported Tepper and Celender left California Dec. 11, the day after a $27,813 robbery of the Bank of America branch in suburban Sherman Oaks.

They said the two had been sought as alleged associates of Warner Edwin Loftus, charged with participation in a dozen California bank holdups since November 1961.

Celender was the son of Joseph Celender, an executive of an Indianapolis wholesale athletic equipment firm.

TIRE COMPANY

Surviving Tepper are his parents, Alex Tepper, owner of a tire company in Scranton, and Mrs. Tepper.

Celender recently reentered the University of Miami after having left in 1962. Tepper was suspended in 1963 for disciplinary reasons.

Man Found in Log, Frozen but Alive

IRON RIVER (AP) — "It's amazing," said Sheriff Edward P. Sandri of 71-year-old Henry Borns' survival after two nights and a day in a hollow log in the frozen woods.

With both legs frozen and his hands frostbitten, Borns was in a hospital in nearby Stambaugh today with doctors watching his condition.

Two skiers found the elderly man lying in the hollowed-out log Saturday in the woods 18 miles southeast of this city in Michigan's western Upper Peninsula.

★ ★ ★

Borns had been there since Thursday when he crawled into the log to rest on a hiking trip by himself.

DISCOVERED HIKER

Out on a ski trip, Rudolph Johnson and his wife, Flora, both in their 60s, came upon Borns, semiconscious, after following his footprints in the snow.

Borns had endured two nights of subzero weather. One night it was 12 below or more.

The area is isolated and heavily wooded.

★ ★ ★

"If those skiers hadn't found him, he probably never would have been found," said Sandri, sheriff of Iron County.

Union Blocks Shipments as Talks Collapse

Longshoremen's Chief Demands Half Grain Go on U. S. Vessels

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — A union boycott blocking multi - million - dollar shipments of U. S. wheat to the Soviet Union continued today after the collapse of negotiations between labor leaders and Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz.

Not one bushel of wheat will be loaded in U.S. ports until federal officials guarantee at least half of all grain shipments to Soviet bloc countries will go in American vessels, said President Thomas W. Gleason of the International Longshoremen's Union.

Eight ships are tied up by the boycott in Atlantic and Gulf Coast ports.

Wirtz left for Washington after four futile days of talks, saying the unions demand raised urgent problems affecting U. S. foreign policy, balance of payments and trade policy that could only be solved in highest level conferences in Washington.

★ ★ ★

Wirtz failed in a last-minute plea to union officials to lift the boycott until such conferences could be arranged.

PERSONAL APPEALS

President Johnson's personal appeals to labor leaders also failed to budge the unions.

The longshoremen and other maritime unions had the full backing of the AFL-CIO in resisting the Johnson administration's request to load the wheat.

"They are just fighting for bread and butter for their people," said AFL-CIO President George Meany in backing the boycott.

★ ★ ★

The unions argue that the wheat going to the Soviet Union is partially subsidized by taxpayers funds and that the government should provide more jobs for American workers by guaranteeing at least 50 per cent shipment in U.S. vessels.

Order Recess in Ruby Trial

Defense Attorneys File Bill of Exception

DALLAS (AP) — Dist. Judge Joe B. Brown recessed the murder trial of Jack Ruby today after a conference at the bench with opposing attorneys.

The length of the recess was not immediately known.

Defense attorneys handed the judge some papers.

★ ★ ★

It was understood that they filed a bill of exception in order to pave the way for seeking a writ of mandamus in the Texas Supreme Court.

BENCH CONFERENCE

The conference at the bench lasted about 10 minutes.

The technical move was forecast last week by assistant defense attorney Joe Tonahill. He said he would go into the State Supreme Court and possibly the United States Supreme Court.

The defense contends that, under Texas law, a witness to a crime is not qualified to serve as a juror. Ruby's lawyers are attempting to extend this definition of "witness" to anyone who saw the televised scene in which Ruby killed Lee Harvey Oswald. Two days earlier, Oswald was charged with assassinating President Kennedy in Dallas.

★ ★ ★

The defense is also attempting to stop the judge from quashing the defense subpoenas of prospective jurors who witnessed Oswald's slaying.

★ ★ ★

Ruby's lawyers contend that persons who saw the televised scene of the shooting could be competent witnesses, and therefore could not sit on the jury.

Thant Talks on Cyprus Rift Reach the Crucial Stage

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — U.N. Secretary-General U Thant reached a crucial stage today in diplomatic talks on his plan to ease the crisis on the smoldering island of Cyprus.

★ ★ ★

Thant brought British delegate Sir Patrick Dean and Cypriot Foreign Minister Spyros Kyprianou together for the first time at a 90-minute Sunday conference in his office. He expressed belief "the picture will be clearer" today.

One U.N. diplomat said Thant had reached a "difficult stage" in his effort to get agreement on an international peace force for Cyprus buttoned up before the Security Council resumes debate on the crisis Tuesday.

SNAGGED ON TREATY

Thant's efforts were reported snagged by a dispute over whether any Cyprus resolution submitted to the 11-nation council should mention the 1960 treaty of guarantee that accompanied the island's grant of independence from Britain.

The treaty says that Britain, Turkey and Greece can intervene independently in Cyprus

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP) — Government officials thanked the Soviet Union today for supporting Cyprus in the U.N. Security Council debate on a peace-keeping force for the Mediterranean island.

★

to preserve constitutional arrangements between the Greek and Turkish Cypriots.

★

The United States, Britain and Turkey interpret this as an authorization for military intervention and want the treaty mentioned.

Greece and the Cypriot government, which is in the hands of the Greek Cypriot majority, oppose any mention of the treaty. They fear it will be used to justify a Turkish invasion to protect the Turkish Cypriot minority. The Greek Cypriot majority wants to end the minority's constitutional rights of veto over various types of legislation.

PEACE FORCE

Thant was also said to be having trouble finding countries to make up a peace-keeping force. Of all those mentioned that might be acceptable, only Canada seemed willing to supply troops.

Archbishop Makarios, president of Cyprus, has said he would accept troops from some British Commonwealth and nonaligned countries.

★ ★ ★

Dispatches from Cyprus said the Mediterranean island is turning into a vast armed camp as thousands of young men and some women on both sides receive weapons training.

Several Die in Skid Row Hotel Fire

KANKAKEE, Ill. (AP) —Several residents of a skid row hotel were believed to have perished in a fire which destroyed the old three - story building today.

But, 'said Fire Chief John Marquart, "we won't know how many for a long time."

Several hours after the roof and floors of the Alamo Hotel dropped in clouds of flame and sparks into the basement, 15 of the 36 listed occupants were not accounted for.

★ ★ ★

A foot - by - foot search of the charred debris will be required to establish the death toll, the fire chief said. No bodies were found up to midmorning, as hose crews continued to soak the still hot ashes of the building's interior.

THIRD FLOOR

Firemen were not able to reach the third floor, where half the tenants lived. Several persons were taken from the second floor, down a rear fire escape.

Five residents of the hotel suffered burns. Four were treated at a hospital and released. The fifth, John White, 69, remained in the hospital.

Marquart said the skid row hostelry, tenanted mainly by men, has been the scene of more than a dozen minor fires in the past five months. Most of the alarms resulted from careless cigarette smoking, Marquart said.

★ ★ ★

Marquart said the entire building was in flames when firemen reached the scene.

★ ★ ★

Peter Barbee, owner of the hotel, said at least 36 persons were in the hotel, perhaps more.

HIS NEIGHBORS — Arthur J. Holland, mayor of Trenton, N.J., talks to two neighbors in a racially mixed section of the city. The mayor plans to move into the area to aid an urban renewal movement. The neighbors are Mrs. Matilda Wiggins (left) and Mrs. Ethel Blackman.

Mayor's Move to Aid Renewal

TRENTON, N.J. (AP) — Mayor Arthur J. Holland is going to do something personally about urban renewal in the aging, racially mixed Mercer - Jackson section of Trenton.

He is moving into the neighborhood.

★ ★ ★

Holland, 45, said emphatically, "I'm moving in to stay." This despite eyebrow raising in other sections of town and disbelief within his new neighborhood, which is about 50 per cent Negro.

NOT CRUSADE

Holland, mayor since 1959, says his action did not begin as a crusade. He and his wife of two years, the former Elizabeth Ann Jackson, wanted to buy an old home and remodel it in early American style.

They decided on a three-story, century old brick house on Mercer Street.

★ ★ ★

"We began to feel that maybe other people would follow our lead and the whole area would benefit" Holland said.

Holland, his wife and 10-month-old daughter will move into the house on Friday. They bought it for about $7,000, the mayor said, and put $10,000 more into extensive remodeling.

NEGRO NEIGHBOR

A Negro family lives in the house next door. Negroes live in tenements across the street.

"The American tradition is that when you make something of yourself you move to the so-called better section in town. That's West Trenton here. So a lot of people in West Trenton can't understand my moving to Mercer Street," Holland said.

★ ★ ★

"On Tyler Street, where my family has lived for about 50 years, they think I'm going backward. In Chambersburg they say, 'What's he moving down there for?'".

"And even on Mercer Street they don't think I'll go through with it. They say, 'He'll move in for a couple of months because he said he would and then he'll move out.' "

NOT NECESSARILY

Holland says "People have to be shown that a mixed neighborhood is not necessarily a run-down neighborhood.

"Maybe other people won't move into this section. Maybe the people here now won't fix up their places. Then our place will become an island.

"But I'm moving in to stay."

71-Year-Old Man Found Alive in Log

They had their skis along for side trips.

The footprints in the snow led them to the log in the woods, about 15 feet in from an old logging road, nowadays little more than a woods trail.

★ ★ ★

"They saw a leg sticking up. At first they thought the man was dead," Sandri said.

ANSWERS IN MOANS

Borns answered the Johnsons' questions in moans.

The Johnsons said they knew they could not help Borns by themselves.

So they raced their jeep three miles back up the road to the nearest telephone and called for help.

★ ★ ★

Sheriff's men and conservation officers reached Borns shortly afterward.

'HARDLY MOVE'

Sandri said Borns could "hardly move" when the men reached him. He was taken out of the log.

A fire was built. He was given coffee and brandy and he revived, Sandri said.

An ambulance which followed the rescuers out to the woods took Borns to Stambaugh General Hospital in Stambaugh.

★ ★ ★

Doctors said they might have to wait a few days before learning whether Borns' legs could be saved.

GOING FOR A WALK

Sandri said Borns seemed uncertain of what he had been up to except that he was "just going for a walk."

Little is known here of Borns.

He has lived alone in a small hotel on a pension.

★ ★ ★

Sandri said he might be a onetime woodsman or miner.

Police Seek Drivers in Death of Boy, 4

Two hit and run drivers were being sought today by Pontiac police in connection with the death of a 4-year-old boy.

Police have descriptions of cars seen speeding away from the Bagley-Wessen area immediately after Kenneth H. Duncan was killed at the intersection Saturday night.

The youngster was the son of Mrs. Hattie Duncan, 330 Franklin Road.

★ ★ ★

A door-to-door search was under way in the vicinity of the accident for anyone who might have seen the boy hit by the first car.

SECOND CAR

A second car ran over the boy as he laid in the roadway, 168 feet from where he was struck by the first vehicle.

A woman-motorist and her passenger have been the only ones to provide police with any description of the cars leaving the scene.

She told police she was traveling north on Bagley about 8 p.m. when an oncoming red or maroon 1962 or 1964 Pontiac sped past her.

Just then, according to her companion, a grey car, possibly a '63 or '64 Mercury with white wall tires ran over the the boy's body.

MALE OCCUPANT

He said the lone male occupant was traveling at a high rate of speed.

The boy was dead at the scene, according to police.

At 10 p.m., a little more than two hours after the accident, Wyandotte police stopped a damaged car driven by a man with a business in the Pontiac area. He said the damage to the car occurred earlier in the week. He was released after questioning.

Garage owners in the area have been notified to contact police if anyone brings in a car for repairs on the front end. No car part was found at the scene.

Police said the intersection where the boy was killed is well lighted.

Tax Cut Bill Up This Week

Congress to Forward Measure to Johnson

By WILLIAM F. ARBOGAST

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress plans to send the $11.5-billion tax cut bill to President Johnson this week before the opening round of the Senate's civil rights battle gets under way.

Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana intercepted the House-passed 11-point rights measure when it arrived at the Senate last Monday to prevent it from being sent to the Judiciary Committee—long a graveyard for civil rights proposals.

As soon as Mansfield moves to bring the bill up for consideration, probably late this week, Southern opponents are expected to start their filibuster.

BLOCKED BILL

Before that, Senate Democratic leaders hope to bring up a cotton-wheat bill, which some Republicans blocked from debate last Friday.

Quick approval is expected in both houses of the compromise tax bill, agreed on last Wednesday by Senate-House conferees.

★ ★ ★

The timetable calls for House action on the compromize Tuesday, with the Senate poised to consider it the following day. The reductions, largest in history, will be reflected in more take-home pay starting in mid-March for taxpayers subject to withholding from wages and salaries.

The tax measure, originally proposed by the late President John F. Kennedy, shares top billing on the Johnson administration's program with the civil rights bill.

Otherwise, the floor programs for the week include House consideration of some relatively minor measures and a bill dealing with the length and frequency of broadcast commercials.

The Senate also has on its docket a House-passed $16.9-billion defense authorization bill.

★

Headlining Senate committee activity will be resumption Tuesday of the Senate Rules Committee investigation of the financial activities of Bobby Baker, former secretary to Senate Democrats.

Crash Survivor Listed as OK

A Farmington girl who survived a Saturday auto crash in which her three companions were killed was listed in good condition this morning in a Saginaw hospital.

Linda McQueen, 19, of 22932 Hayden spent the weekend on the critical list at St. Luke's Hospital in Saginaw.

The Ferris State College coed and her three friends were returning from a double-date ski trip when their car struck a bridge abutment on M-46, nine miles west of Saginaw.

Miss McQueen was thrown from the car by the impact. Pinned in the wreckage were her companions, Douglas J. Valone, 21, and Peter M. Mazzara, 20, both of Detroit, and Candance Stark, 18, of Benton Harbor.

Police believe that Valone, who was driving, fell asleep at the wheel.

Clay, Liston vs. Symphony

Bitter Fight in New Orleans

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP) — Scowling and flexing their lawbooks, the fighters shuffle in their corner, eager for tomorrow's opening bell.

They will stage the New Orleans preliminary to the heavyweight championship bout at Miami Beach. Some say it may be the better fight.

The bitter issue:

Can music lovers endure a concert mixed with bloodthirsty roars from fight fans in an adjoining hall. Civil District Judge David Gertler has been asked to decide the thorny question.

The New Orleans Philharmonic-Symphony Society contends its rental contract for one side of Municipal Auditorium Tuesday night guarantees a "quiet, peaceful performance."

OTHER HALF

Then, along came Bonny Geigerman, who promotes boxing matches when he isn't tending bar. He rented the other half of the auditorium.

So while the orchestra is presenting the Macumba Suite; the other half will be the site of a closed-circuit television showing of the Sonny Liston-Cassius Clay fight.

★

The sliding partition between the two sections is hardly soundproof — a factor which has led to memoriable situations in the past.

★

Leopold Stokowski, acting as guest conductor, once stopped the orchestra with an imperious flourish. He stood, radiating outrage, listening to a jazz band echoing from the other hall.

NEVER AGAIN

It was after a second incident that the society had the "quiet peaceful performance" clause inserted in its contract. Mayor Victor Schiro promised it would never happen again.

Otis Guichet, secretary of the Louisiana Athletic Commission, said the symphony society really has no problem.

"Let them take a 15-minute intermission at 9 o'clock," said Guichet, who has great respect for Liston's punching power. "It will all be over when they get back."

Assessment Hearing Set for Alley Improvements

BIRMINGHAM — Hearing on the special assessment district for a South Woodward alley improvement will be held at tonight's City Commission meeting.

The $47,700 project was proposed to improve the eight-block alley on the west side of Woodward between Lincoln and Bird. The alley is to be graded and paved with concrete. Necessary drainage work also is included in the plans.

I. J. Giacolone of the Detroit Rubbish Co. has requested that his discussion with the commission be postponed a week.

★ ★ ★

The commission last week told the rubbish contractor to return with figures backing up his claim that his business costs have risen 40 per cent in the last year.

RENEGOTIATION

Giacolone has a $152,000 three-year contract to pick up residential rubbish in Birmingham. He had asked that the contract be renegotiated or dissolved because of increased business costs.

In a letter to City Manager L. R. Gare, the contractor's representative said the additional figures could be prepared for next week's meeting.

A proposed charter revision has been approved by Gov. Romney for inclusion on the April 6 ballot here.

★ ★ ★

The charter change would exclude the city assessor from the board of review.

LISTEN TO APPEALS

Presently, the assessor along with two City Commission-appointed citizens listens to assessment appeals from property owners.

★ ★ ★

There would be three appointees of the amendment is approved. The assessor would be a nonvoting adviser and clerk of the board.

Farm Implements Gain

Steels, Motors Lead

NEW YORK (AP) — Steels, motors and farm implements were on the upside in a mixed stock market early today. Trading was heavy.

★ ★ ★

Most gains and losses were fractional. A few stocks rose 1 or 2 points.

International Harvester, still responding to a dividend hike, rose more than a point. Sears, Roebuck added about a point. These key stocks bolstered the averages.

NARROWLY HIGHER

All Big Three motors were narrowly higher. Fractional advances predominated among the leading steels, Bethlehem, U.S. Steel and Jones & Laughlin being among the gainers.

★ ★ ★

IBM picked up a couple of points, U.S. Smelting 1.

On Thursday the Associated Press advance of 60 stocks rose .8 to 295.6, a new high.

Prices were mostly higher on the American Stock Exchange.

ICE-PRESSED DUCK — Caught in New York's Central Park Lake without the use of its paddles, this duck had a legitimate squawk. Workers of the Park Department first tried to free the duck by breaking the ice with a ladder, but to no avail. Rescue came finally when Robert Parker rowed out and broke the ice around Mr. Duck with an oar.

Red Chinese Envoy Begins French Job

PARIS (AP) — Red China's first diplomatic representative to France began his first full day on the job today but remained silent on his plans.

Charge d'Affaires Sung Chih-kuang, 48, who arrived in Paris yesterday with five aides by train from Switzerland, settled into the Hotel Continental, one of the better Right Bank hostelries.

Sung, who has for three years been assistant director of Red China's foreign ministry department on Western Europe, arrived at about the same time his French counterpart, Charge d'Affairs, Claude Chayet, reached Peking.

The two men will make preparations for the exchange of ambassadors and must find suitable embassy quarters.

NATIONALIST EMBASSY

Diplomatic observers believe Sung will try to claim the million-dollar Nationalist Chinese Embassy on fashionable Avenue Georges V.

Before diplomatic ties were severed between France and Formosa, the Nationalist regime turned the embassy building over to its delegation to the U. N. Educational Scientific and Cultural Organization (UNESCO).

UNESCO, which has diplomatic status, still recognizes the Nationalist government.

* * *

The French government holds that any dispute over the embassy building, which has been owned by the Chinese Republic for 27 years, should be decided by French courts.

GOVERNMENT OFFICES

The French Embassy building in Peking was abandoned by French diplomats in 1950 when they followed Chiang Kai-shek to Formosa. French visitors to Peking say the Communists took over the building and it now houses governmental offices.

There is speculation that the Chinese will hold on to it until they get possession of the embassy in Paris.

When Sung arrived yesterday, he made a statement in Chinese, and a translation in French was handed to newsmen. Sung said he was happy to be in France and hoped for close ties between France and China.

* * *

There were no Soviet bloc delegates on hand when Sung and his party arrived at the Gare de Lyon. He was welcomed by a group of French and foreign diplomats, including the Albanian diplomatic representative in France and a member of the Cuban Embassy.

Panama Chief Predicts Riots

Old Canal Treaty Is Said Dispute Cause

NEW YORK (AP) — President Roberto F. Chiari of Panama says steadily worsening riots and demonstrations against the United States will break out in Panama unless the two countries adopt a new Panama Canal treaty.

Last month's riots and bloodshed were rooted in the 1903 treaty, he said, adding that unless it is revised there will be new disorders.

Chiari discussed the dispute that led to the riots in an appearance yesterday on a U.S. television program. It was filmed in Panama last week.

* * *

He said he would be glad to confer with President Johnson, and such a meeting might "pay dividends."

HOW FAR?

Chiari said "The question is how far can the President (Johnson) go and really how far he is willing to have an open and frank discussion and negotiate with Panama on a treaty, on a new basis."

Chiari said relations between the United States and Panama were cordial in 1961.

The situation got worse because the U.S. ambassador wasn't replaced after he left last August, Chiari said.

Chiara said the two countries should "make a frank analysis of the whole situation and forget what (has) happened" and talk frankly like two partners in the Panama Canal enterprise.

VOICES CRITICISM

The U.S. ambassador to whom Chiari referred, the resigned Joseph S. Farland, yesterday criticized U.S. handling of the negotiations seeking to end the crisis over the 1903 Canal treaty.

Farland was interviewed by Sen. Kenneth B. Keating, R-N.Y., in a program taped by Keating in Washington for television and radio broadcast in New York State.

Farland said some of the U.S. officials seeking to solve the problem have not been fully informed about its ramifications.

Romney Set for State Day at World Fair

DETROIT (AP) — Michigan will have a special day at the New York World's Fair—May 18 —and Gov. George W. Romney will head a delegation of thousands going to the fair to promote the state.

* * *

Leaders of business, industry and education will fly to the fair "to make some impact on the New York market," explained Dale Sellers of Detroit, general chairman of 1964 Michigan Week.

GIANT BREAKFAST

"Michigan Day originally was scheduled for July but we had it moved up to be part of our Michigan Week observance," he said.

Michigan Day at the fair will start with two giant breakfasts for alumni of Michigan, Michigan State, Wayne State and the University of Detroit.

Win Schuler of Marshall is general chairman of the day's program.

Exec Downgrades Track Wins

'Chrysler Cars Built for Public'

Despite Chrysler's impressive showing at the Daytona 500 stock car race, a company official today said open competition is still considered a secondary activity.

His remarks shed light on the company's official attitude following Sunday's race in Daytona, Fla., where Plymouth swept the first three places.

Vice President Robert Anderson, 995 Glenhurst, Birmingham, told a meeting of mechanical and automotive engineers in Pittsburgh that developing cars for the general public still ranks first.

★ ★ ★

"Automobile men argue about the value of racing in terms of its effect on sales of conventional cars and no one has come up with a definitive measure of that value," said Anderson, who is the corporation's director of product planning.

AIRS RECORD

"We do feel sure at Chrysler, however, that for a company with traditional emphasis on engineering and our long record of automotive innovation, it is to our advantage to make a respectable showing in competitive events."

He said Chrysler does not look on racing as the most effective test for normal passenger car use. He said developing high performance cars calls for different skills and outlook.

Anderson stated there is a growing market for specially designed cars and equipment built for competition, "and we like the public to know Chrysler can supply the winners."

★ ★ ★

Looking at regular sales, Anderson said the compact car boom was not a buyer's search for economy, but simply a demand to diversify the number of models and types available.
