DETROIT (UPI)—The auto industry today set a new production record.

Ward's Automotive Reports, the statistical bible of the industry, said some time today cumulative output of the 1963 model year will overtake the 1955 record of 7,131 million cars, the only other model run in which 7 million or more cars were built.

Ward's said by the close of today's operations, the 1963 model total will approximate 7,140 million units. The statistical agency also said it was expected that another 200,000 cars will be made before the

Gas Company to Pay Rebates

150,000 Gas Users Affected in County

Some 150,000 Consumers Power Co. customers in Oakland County will share in rebates to be passed on to 500,000 Michigan customers of the utility firm.

Notice of the refunds, that will average $3.70 for space-heating customers and 70 cents for non-space-heating customers, was given today by the State Public Service Commission.

Approximately 43,000 customers in the company's Pontiac Division will share in the refunds according to division manager Charles P. Brown.

The rebates are a result of a Federal Power Commission ruling that Consumers Power Co. from Feb. 20, 1962, to Sept. 1, 1963, was charged excessive rates for natural gas supplied by Panhandle Eastern Pipeline Co.

Since rebates to utility customers are based in part on rates paid by the utility firm to its suppliers, Michigan state law provides that rebates to the company must be passed on to customers.

The company expects to pay the refunds in the form of credits on its September billings with the amounts to be based on billings in March, April and May of this year.

A public hearing will be held July 29 by the Public Service Commission on this proposed rebate plan offered by Consumers Power Co.

The federal agency found that the utility company had been charged excessive rates for natural gas during the 1962-63 period by Panhandle Eastern Pipeline Co.

A year ago, Consumers Power Co. refunded $3,996,000 to its customers due to excessive charges during the Sept. 1, 1962, to April 30, 1962 period.

This rebate also was due to a Federal Power Commission ruling that the utility company had paid excessive charges to its suppliers.

County's Plan to Spur Industry Taking Shape

Committee Draws Up Economic Objectives, Suggests Coordinator

An economic development program aimed at drawing more industry and creating new jobs in Oakland County is starting to take shape.

A special committee has drawn up four primary objectives and is recommending that the county hire a coordinator to carry out the program.

The committee's goals are:

- Initiate and promote programs that will improve the economic returns to industries and businesses now operating in the county.

- Foster plans designed to give full employment of labor in each community.

- Develop an action program to bring new businesses and industry to Oakland County and at the same time emphasize employment opportunities.

- Coordinate local economic development programs and act as liaison between federal, state and local agencies and communities.

In a report to county supervisors, the committee said its first goal is to attract new business and industry to the county.

A definite and more specific program has yet to be prepared, according to Roy F. Goodspeed, chairman of a subcommittee formed for that purpose.

He said present thinking calls for a coordinator who would utilize as much information as possible regarding the county prepared by the County Planning Commission.

ADDITIONAL INFORMATION

This information would be supplemented with that obtained from the industrial development agencies of Detroit Edison Co., Consumers Power Co. and Michigan Bell Telephone Co., also from the Michigan Department of Economic Development and various boards of commerce, Goodspeed added.

It would appear that there is going to be much competition in the location of industries within the next few years, he said, "because from the information that we can obtain, many governmental and non-governmental organizations are putting forth

Fluoride Ruled OK for Detroit

Pontiac to Get Water Containing Chemical

DETROIT (AP) — Wayne County Circuit Court Judge George E. Bowles today gave the City of Detroit a go-ahead for fluoridation of its water system.

Pontiac is scheduled to receive Detroit water about Aug. 2.

Judge Bowles ruled the Detroit ordinance is "valid and constitutional in all respects."

The ruling was made on a motion to dismiss a suit challenging the validity of the ordinance.

BE THE SAME

"While it is quite unusual to decide an issue of this importance on a motion," Bowles said, "I am convinced that the ruling would be the same if we took six weeks of testimony."

The suit seeking to void the fluoridation ordinance was filed by three Detroit residents representing the Detroit chapter of the National Health Federation and representatives from eight Detroit-area suburbs.

The ordinance was adopted by the Common Council last Nov. 27. It called for fluoridation of Detroit water at an unspecified date.

In addition to the Detroit city proper, the city system is a major water source for the majority of metropolitan area suburbs.

Offer Depends on Acceptance by A-Powers

Negotiators' Meeting in Likely Final Round of Test-Ban Talks

From Our News Wires
MOSCOW — Premier Nikita Khrushchev today offered guarantees to make the African continent a nonnuclear zone if the United States and other nuclear powers agree.

Khrushchev made his offer as American, British and Soviet negotiators met for what diplomats said could be the final round of talks aimed at a limited nuclear test-ban treaty that would be the first major cold war settlement in eight years.

His remarks came in a message to African nations that took part in the recent conference at Addis Ababa, Ethiopia.

In his message, Khrushchev pledged further Soviet efforts to ease world tension.

"We shall go on doing everything to ease international tension, to consolidate peace by implementing the principles of the peaceful coexistence of states," he said.

The official Tass news agency, in reporting the message, said Khrushchev believes East-West agreement to cease nuclear testing in space, in the atmosphere and under water could effect "a radical turn" toward bettering the international climate.

Tass said Khrushchev also wants a nonaggression treaty between the NATO powers and the Communist Warsaw Treaty powers.

Khrushchev said in his message that the Soviet Union agrees fully with the appeal of the Addis Ababa conference to honor the "decisions on the recognition of Africa as an atomless zone."

He said that if the African nations conclude an agreement to this effect, the Soviet Union "is ready to give the necessary guarantees that, in case of any military complications, Africa will be regarded as a continent which is outside the use of nuclear armaments."

"Provided, of course," he added, "that identical guarantees are given simultaneously by the United States and the other nuclear powers."

In the past, Communist Poland's Foreign Minister Adam Rapacki has suggested that a stretch of Central Europe be declared an atom-free zone.

TORCH TWINS — Four-year-old identical twins Jeanine and Janice Willock will be mascots for this year's Pontiac Area United Fund campaign. They are described as tomboys by their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Willock, of 11950 Big Lake Road, Springfield Township. They were selected to symbolize this year's campaign slogan — "Give twice as much and your gift will work twice as many wonders." Jeanine and Janice will serve as torchlighters to launch this year's drive on October 15.

Solons Hold Action to Stall Rail Rules

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate leaders decided today to hold up formal action requesting the railroads to delay posting of new work rules.

Democratic leader Mike Mansfield of Montana told the Senate that he and Republican leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois were not moving at this time "in order to see the trend of events."

Obviously, there was some expectation that the railroads would do this without formal passage of a congressional resolution.

And Columbia Broadcasting System quoted White House sources as saying the railroads had agreed to hold the new rules in abeyance for another month from next Tuesday—the date previously set, and which unions had warned would bring an immediate walkout.

"We've already been delayed today,"

Loomis went on to say another postponement would drain off more of "the life blood of an ailing industry."

MORSE COMMENTS

Mansfield did not expand on his announcement, but Sen. Wayne Morse, D-Ore., put in that he had been in touch with both sides of the rail controversy and was hopeful that a new delay would be announced.

Across the Capitol, at a House Conference Committee hearing on President Kennedy's proposal to put the work rules controversy before the Interstate Commerce Commission, Chairman Owen

Sidney Zagari, testifying for the Teamsters before a House judiciary subcommittee, attacked President Kennedy's civil rights package as "hesitant, limited and loosely drafted."

The Teamster attack came as the Attorney General was appearing before the Senate Judiciary Committee in support of the legislation. He insisted that stronger legal weapons than presently available are needed to break down racial discrimination.

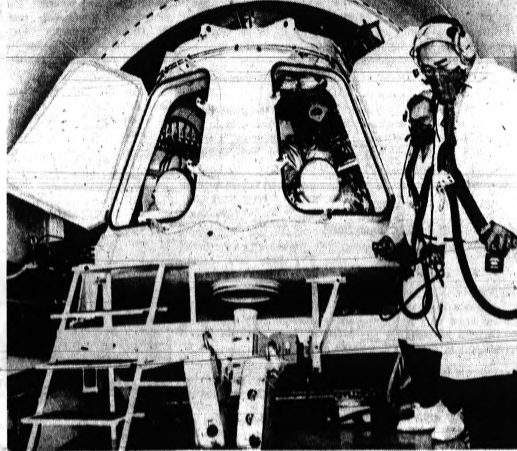

Other Capitol Hill developments on civil rights included:

- Leaders of the nation's three major religious faiths joined in giving unqualified backing to the administration program in testimony before the House Judiciary Committee.

- Labor Undersecretary John F. Henning, urging approval of the President's proposal for fair employment practices legislation,

The leaders, assembled here yesterday for a "summit" meeting to plot strategy for the Aug. 28 march, said last night they would ask Kennedy

Teen-Age Boy Saves Children

A quick-thinking 15-year-old boy is credited with saving the lives of at least three younger children when a speedboat exploded and burned yesterday on Macedonia Lake, Waterford Township.

Oakland County Sheriff's deputies say Thomas McManus, 15, 10000th Lane, Waterford Township, also helped the others remain afloat until rescuers arrived.

GIRL INJURED

The only child badly injured, Roberta Bohcz, 12, of 8780 Wise, Commerce Township, is in satisfactory condition at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital. She suffered first and second degree burns on the lower part of both legs.

Thomas told police he had just finished gassing up the 16-foot family inboard. He warned the girl, her brother Robert, 10, and Hugh O'Brien, 5, of Kenmore, N.Y., not to sit on the engine cover.

No sooner had they scrambled off, than an explosion sent the boat afire and hurled the engine cover 200 feet into the air.

Jerry Bohcz, 8, and Billy

O'Brien, 9, who were sitting with Thomas in the front seat, dove into water with the others.

WATER DEEP

Sheriff's Lt. Don Kratt said Thomas then helped the younger children, most of whom cannot swim, stay afloat in the 110-foot-deep water. A boat operated by Dave Randall, Lincoln Park, pulled up to help the youngsters.

Kratt said the teen-ager credits his actions to the advice of Robert Crowden, a water patrolman, who advised him a few weeks ago not to let passengers sit on the engine hatch.

Lt. Kratt repeated a warning to inboard boaters to remove gas fumes by opening hatch covers after fueling. The McManus boat, valued at $2,000, is a total loss.

Red Leaders Review Ills of Economy

MOSCOW (AP)—Chiefs of the Soviet bloc countries gathered in the Kremlin today for another attempt at synchronizing their strained economies.

Leaders from Poland, Czechoslovakia, East Germany, Romania, Bulgaria, Hungary and Mongolia were in Moscow for the meeting of the Council for Mutual Economic Assistance—Comecon.

Communist sources said the talks with Premier Khrushchev probably would continue until the weekend.

In addition to trying to synchronize their economic programs, the leaders also were expected to review the widening breach between the Soviet Union and Red China and the fruitless talks between them which ended last weekend.

The Communist party secretary and heads of government met in East Berlin. That conclave was generally believed to have been a strategic session on the Moscow valley.

It was boycotted by Romanian President George Gheorghiu-Dej, who was believed nursing a grudge over Comecon efforts to curtail his country's development of heavy industry.

Gheorghiu-Dej was here today. He is believed to be demanding, as a price for abandoning his ostentatiously neutral line in the Soviet-Chinese dispute, that the alliance modify its plan to assign his country the primary economic role of producer of food and raw materials.

Committees have been studying national figures to determine which country produces what most efficiently. The idea is to get each country to turn out for the whole bloc those items it produces most cheaply.

Reveal Plans of U.S. for Laos

Soy Reds on Verge of Massive Push

CHICAGO (AP)—The Sun-Times said today that a last-ditch plan for using U.S. troops to save Laos has been settled upon in the face of signs that Communist China may be on the verge of a massive new push in Southeast Asia.

In a dispatch from Washington, Thomas B. Ross said that the plan was drawn for possible use in the event the Communists were about to overrun Laos completely.

Reliable military sources disclosed Tuesday that the plan calls for a U.S. occupation of Vientiane, the Laotian capital, and the surrounding Mekong River valley.

This is considered the only area of vital military importance in the primitive mountain kingdom. U.S. officials in and out of the Pentagon are determined not to get U.S. troops bogged in the rest of the country.

The story added that the new military plan for Laos also involved a U.S. air—possibly land—strike against Hanoi, the capital of Communist North Vietnam and the staging area for Communist operations in Southeast Asia.

The Hanoi strike would be designed to forestall use of North Vietnam or Laos for a thrust into the neighboring South Vietnam. The paper said.

to receive in person a small delegation of the marchers.

Meanwhile, a reduced force of racial demonstrators returned today to a Brooklyn hospital construction project and demanded more jobs for Negroes and Puerto Ricans in the city's building trades.

Police arrested 12 pickets, five of them women, in the demonstration at the Downtown Medical Center. More than 140 sit-down pickets were arrested yesterday.

Picketing also resumed at the Rutgers housing construction site on the Lower East Side of Manhattan.

A lull in the demonstrations became a possibility late yesterday following a meeting between Mayor Robert F. Wagner and local civil rights leaders.

In Cambridge, Md., the president of this racially divided community's leading business group resigned today after its directors announced their opposition to an equal accommodations amendment to the town charter.

The split threatened to offset the effects of the new agreement signed in Washington yesterday by Negro and white leaders in an attempt to solve the town's explosive racial problems.

Levi B. Phillips Jr., head of the Durbachester Business and Citizens Association, said he was quitting because the association's directors had voted to bring the amendment to a public vote, then to work for its defeat on the referendum.

EXPRESS HOPE

He thereby joined Mayor Calvin W. Mowbray and other town officials who had expressed hope that the amendment would be permitted to take effect next month.

Representing the four Republicans on the group, Gov. Mark O. Hatfield of Oregon prepared a minority report calling for extension of the Kerr-Mills program of federal-state aid for needy elderly persons.

Hatfield wrote anti-discrimination provisions into his report in an effort to bring the civil rights fight back to the floor of the conference.

The governors bypassed any positive civil rights action by voting yesterday to instruct their executive committee to cooperate with Kennedy in a further study in this field.

Cancellation of the endorsement of the President's health care program seemed to indicate some dissension among the Democrats on the Social Security method of financing it.

In a printed report circulated

"We believe that the coordinator should begin by inventorying all the advantages and assets of the Oakland County area. He should have maps showing the existing industrial areas of the county, vacant sites that are zoned and available for industry and also areas that might become available."

"We believe that he should become personally acquainted with the heads of local industries to learn what their problems are and determine the needs of our existing industries."

"He should do everything possible to make a favorable climate for high-class industry to locate in Oakland County."

"Most important of all, he should be a man who can utilize all of this information and go out and sell Oakland County to the various prospects."

Formation of the Economic Development Committee was required for the area to qualify for federal grants and loans under the Area Redevelopment Act.

FEDERAL FUNDS

The act is intended to make federal funds available to stimulate business enterprise and thereby create new employment.

Comprising the seven trustees are Ralph Mann, chairman; Donald Kolmback, vice chairman; Gladys; Charles Brown; R. Clark Cummings; Hollis W. Jeeck; Jr.; Roger Ober; John Richard; Harlan Ritz; Ernest Seaborn; J. Robert Swanson, all members of the County Planning Commission.

Also, ex-officio members of the commission by virtue of their county positions: Public Works Director H. J. Alexander, Drain Commissioner Daniel Barry and Road Commissioner Sal Lomerson, and Fred Haggard, representing labor.

All were appointed to the commission by Debes Hinton, chairman of the County Board of Supervisors.

PICKET'S PLEA—A Negro marcher carries a barrel during a demonstration outside Rochdale Village housing project in New York yesterday, calling for a "barrel full of jobs."

Twenty-seven Negroes were arrested while pressing demands for more jobs in the building industry.

Governors Reconsider

Won't Back Medicare

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—A democratic-controlled committee majority had said: "We support President Kennedy's proposal for Medicare as embodied in the Hospital Insurance Act of 1963 and recommend that the full conference, through this committee, urge the Congress to give approval to this most important program in order that we might be able to care for the nation's elderly as soon as possible and on a sound fiscal basis."

OTHER MEMBERS

Besides Hughes, the Democratic members of the committee are Govs. William Wallace Barron of West Virginia, Frank O. Clement of Tennessee, Bert Combs of Kentucky, Albert S. Harrison Jr. of Virginia, Frank B. Morrison of Nebraska, Grant Sawyer of Nevada and J. Millard Tawes of Maryland.

Besides Hatfield, Republican members are Govs. George Romney of Michigan, John H. Chafee of Rhode Island and Archie Gubrud of South Dakota.

Hatfield said he was not going to let the civil rights matter rest if there was anything he could do about it. But he conceded his chances of getting the minority report before the conference for a vote were slim.

Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson told the governors at their formal state dinner last night that public leaders could not keep their trust "by exploiting the (civil rights) issue for partisan ends or discouraging its resolution for personal advantage."

MIAMI BEACH (UPI)—Govs. George C. Wallace of Alabama and Ross R. Barnett of Mississippi are meeting informally with other governors to drum up support for a plan to block President Kennedy's re-election.

The two Deep South governors said they have had several informal chats with chief executives from other states on proposed "unpledged electors" plan.

Proponents of the move are arguing that state legislators, in a referendum, should be asked to endorse their election laws by making a "preferential presidential primary" mandatory. They say, they would enable a second slate of "unpledged" presidential electors—an anti-Kennedy slate—to appear on the state primary ballots.

Bloomfield Twp. Board Rules on Green Belt Area

BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP—The green belt between the Bloomfield Plaza shopping center and Birmingham Farms subdivision should follow specifications contained in a Circuit Court decree a year ago, the Township Board has decided.

The decree set the width of the green belt at 80 feet, including a 30-foot drive and a 5-foot cyclone fence with a 5-foot shrub.

Subdivision residents, however, had sought an agreement with shopping center owner, Irwin Cohn which would include an 8-foot stockade fence.

The shopping center is on the southwest corner of West Maple and Telegraph.

Township trustees discussed another green belt—this one bordering the proposed shopping center on the southeast corner of Maple and Lakeside.

The green belt is to be 30 feet wide with a 6-foot cyclone fence and 5-foot shrub. A building permit for the shopping center has been issued to Schmier and Schmier, Pontiac law firm.

For the first time in its history, the Township Board has agreed to pay for a sewer easement.

Trustees reversed their earlier decision and agreed to order Standard Oil Division of the American Oil Co. $300 for an easement north of the Standard service station at Telegraph and Square Lake Road.

The township requires the easement for construction of a sewer line.

Construction of a $1.5 million Holiday Inn in Bloomfield Township is scheduled to begin late this month.

The two-story building with about 120 units will be located on the east side of Telegraph, a half mile north of Square Lake Road.

The main building will contain a 240-seat dining room, a coffee shop and a cocktail lounge. A class-B liquor license for the establishment tentatively was approved by the township board this week.

Units will include executive suites and single and double connecting rooms.

Facilities will also include a 25 by 60-foot swimming pool in the central courtyard and a nine-hole par 3 golf course. There will be parking spaces for 300 cars.

The new Holiday Inn is being developed by Harold A. Sey, owner of Lavach, Detroit builders, and Waite Stoddard of Bloomfield Township.

North emphatically denied any conflict of interest in the multi-billion dollar contract awarded last November to General Dynamics Corp., in his hometown of Fort Worth, Tex., and said he resented such implications.

"I repeat that I believe I am a man of integrity," he told a Senate investigating subcommittee last week.

The influence issue arose as the subcommittee questioned North yesterday in his final day of prolonged testimony. Transcripts of the closed hearing were made public today. Air Force Secretary Eugene Zuckert is scheduled to testify tomorrow.

Not Indispensable

Rude Office Awakening Greet's Returning Vacationer

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — There's nothing quite like a vacation to teach a fellow his place in the office.

It was Smythe's first day back after three weeks spent listening to his wife and building sand castles for the kiddies at good old Quagmire Cottages by the Sea, a family meals a special-ty.

Smythe was the first man into the office. He went to the wash-room, combed his hair, straightened his necktie, practiced in the mirror his "gee but it's great to be back again" grin.

Then he went to his desk, methodically tore off the pages necessary to bring his calendar up-to-date—and collapsed on his swivel chair, completely exhausted.

"I didn't think it would be quite this bad," he murmured to himself.

PAPER-BARE DESK

In the next hour 37 fellow workers passed Smythe's paper-bare desk.

"Glad to see you back — been sick?" asked 25.

The other 12 made such remarks as:

"If I'd of known you'd of been out this long, I'd of sent you a get-well card."

"What hospital were you in?"

"They must have kept you under a sun lamp a lot. You gotta nice tan there."

"How'd the nurses treat you?" After each remark—nobody asked him about his vacation—Smythe made a lonely round trip to the water cooler.

TO REPORT

At 10 o'clock he went over to report to the chief accountant.

"I guess I better start catching up with the situation," said Smythe. "Who handled my work while I was gone?"

"What work?" inquired the chief accountant.

Smythe trudged back to his desk and busied himself neatly arranging the paper clips in the top drawer.

At noon he went to lunch with three old cronies. He pulled out some snapshots taken during his vacation, but nobody seemed interested in them. One of his pals had just got back from a vacation, too, and the others were leaving next week, and wanted to talk about their plans.

After lunch Smythe, re-sharpened his pencils until 3 o'clock when he received a surprise-summons from the big boss.

Handing him a cigar, the big boss said:

"Smythe, you've been doing a splendid job for the firm the last few weeks, and I just want to let you know first-hand there'll be an extra $20 on your next paycheck."

"But, sir, I've been on vacation for the last three weeks."

"Aren't you Ed Smythe in sales?"

"No, sir, I'm Jim Smythe in accounting."

member, no matter what department you're in—keep up the good work."

As he left, he heard the big boss bawling out his secretary:

"Can't you even find me the right Smythe when I want him? Do I have to do everything around here?"

Back at his desk, Smythe rearranged his paper clips again and sharpened his pencils until quitting time.

Upon leaving the office Smythe walked alone to his favorite tavern.

"Well, well, well—welcome back, Mr. Smythe," said the bartender. "Sure did miss you. Did you have a nice vacation?"

Smythe leaned his forehead on the shiny mahogany bar and plucked back his cigar, and said, broke into tears.

"My mistake, Smythe. But very late getting home that night."

U. S. Won't Return Pole Pilot, Family

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The United States has refused Poland's request for return of a Polish Air Force major who defected to West Germany recently in a training plane with his wife and two children.

Official sources said yesterday that the State Department last week turned down an oral request by a Polish Embassy official for the return of Maj. Richard Olszewski.

The Polish representative was told the United States would not return the major except under terms of the extradition treaty between the two countries and that these did not appear to apply in this case.

She Finally Can Relax

MOBILE, Ala. (UPI) — Mary Reinsch said she considered her 100th birthday yesterday a milestone because "after 99, I think a woman can relax."

Immigrant Plan Stalled a Year?

Likely to Postpone Action on Proposal

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Congress is likely to put off until next year action on President Kennedy's proposal for a more flexible program to admit immigrants to the United States.

The President proposed yesterday what would amount to an annual "world quota" plan to replace the 35-year-old "national origins" system that restricts the number of immigrants from any one country to a specific quota.

Kennedy said that the present immigration law was discriminatory and "without basis in either logic or reason." He asked that it be phased out over a five-year period.

The administration's long-awaited proposal was received with little fanfare by a Congress preoccupied with such high-priority problems as the railroad labor dispute, civil rights and tax reduction.

Chairman Emanuel Celler, D-N.Y., of the House Judiciary Committee, introduced the administration bill with a warm endorsement yesterday.

Sen. Philip A. Hart, D-Mich., who earlier this year led a bipartisan group of 37 senators in sponsorship of legislation to repeal the national origins system, planned to introduce the Kennedy bill today.

However, there was no immediate indication of a rush to start the bill through the congressional mill. Celler's committee is unlikely to start hearings before fall, and the plan apparently is to seek no chamber action this year.

The Kennedy bill would eliminate the national origins quotas over five years, with 20 per cent of the present 157,000 total going into a pool for redistribution each year.

'No Peter Lorie,' Says Court Suit by Peter Lorre

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Although friends say Eugene Weingand, 20, looks and talks a bit like Peter Lorre, the actor isn't sympathetic.

Lorre, 58, acting through attorney Robert H. Shuman, opposed a petition by the real estate salesman to change his name to Peter Lorre.

Shuman said Tuesday his client didn't want Weingand or anyone else to trade upon the actor's name.

Shuman told Superior Court Judge Philbrick McCoy that Weingand, advised by his friends to enter show business, originally expressed a desire to be called Peter Lorre Jr. The case was set for a hearing Oct. 3.

Motor vehicle production in the United States during 1962 approximated 8.1 million units valued at $15.3 billion.

Looks as Though Nikita's Switched Monroe Doctrine

Khrushchev has captured the Monroe Doctrine. For 135 years we told the world to keep its hands off the American continent — now we hear Khrushchev telling the American continent to keep its hands off Communist Cuba. This is our Monroe Doctrine in reverse.

'Be A Big Brother; Rewards Are Great'

My son has belonged to Big Brothers of America for three years. He joined, not because he showed any signs of becoming delinquent, but I felt I would do him an injustice by not providing him adult companionship for him. No woman can take the place of a father, but Big Brothers of Oakland County has inserted into his life a man to be his friend. This preventive measure fills an emotional void in my son's life and in no way reflects on his conduct or upbringing.

One's affluence or lack of it has nothing to do with a boy's need to be accepted for what he is nor does a man have to be a counselor to be a friend.

Is there a man who cannot spare two hours a week to become part of this venture? The rewards are immeasurable. Many such dedicated men are needed.

"Mother of a 'Little Brother'"

Can you reprint the following from the Monroe Doctrine?

"We owe it to candor and to the amicable relations existing between the United States and those (European) powers to declare that we should consider any attempt on their part to extend their system to any portion of this hemisphere as dangerous to our peace and safety. With the existing colonies or dependencies of any European power we have not interfered and shall not interfere. But with the governments which have declared their independence and maintained it, and whose independence we have... acknowledged, we could not view any interposition for the purpose of oppressing them, or controlling in any other manner their destiny, by any European power, in any other light than as the manifestation of an unfriendly disposition toward the United States."

Firemen and Police Saved Restaurant

Last week there was a fire at our restaurant. If it hadn't been for the alertness of the policemen and firemen our place would have been completely destroyed. The firemen tried not to damage anything and used no more water than necessary and they cleaned up afterwards.

The Almanac

By United Press International Today is Wednesday, July 24, the 265th day of 1963 with 160 to follow.

The moon is approaching its first quarter.

The morning stars are Jupiter and Saturn.

The evening star is Mars. Those born today include American aviator Amelia Earhart, in 1898.

On this day in history: In 1847, Mormon led by Brigham Young arrived at Great Salt Lake Valley in Utah.

In 1966, Tennessee became the first Confederate state to be readmitted to the Union.

In 1923, President Herbert Hoover declared that the Kellogg-Briand treaty which renounced war was in effect.

In 1958, Vice President Richard Nixon and Russian Premier Nikita Khrushchev carried on a kitchen debate at an American exhibition in Moscow.

A thought for the day — French author Alexandre Dumas said, "Great is truth. Fire cannot burn, nor water drown it."

The Country Parson

"Rich folks and poor folks seem to be in so much trouble these days that it's hard to know which to feel sorry for."

Reasons Obvious?

The New York Daily News

Crime in the United States, reports the Federal Bureau of Investigation, is increasing four times as fast as the population. All sorts of fancy explanations no doubt will be dreamed up by assorted serious thinkers. We prefer a non-fancy theory. Our theory is that the crime carnival is due mainly to lenient judges, police whose claws have been clipped, and numerous court decisions making it harder and harder to arrest, examine and convict criminals. Anybody know of a better theory?

Teen-Agers

International Stereotypes and Electroluxes' Union Journal

The following advice to teen-agers probably will become a classic in our literature. It was originated by Judge Phillip B. Gilliam, veteran jurist of the Juvenile Domestic Court, Denver, Colo., and was based in part on a letter written him by the father of a boy in trouble with the law. It has been widely reprinted since then.

Always we hear the plaintive cry of the teen-agers: "What can we do? Where can we go?"

The answer is... Go home.

"If the storm windows, paint the woodwork, rake the leaves. Mow the lawn. Shovel the walk. Wash the car. Learn to cook. Scrub some floors. Repair the sink. Build a boat. Get a job."

Help the minister, priest or rabbi, the Red Cross, the Salvation Army. Visit the sick. Assist the poor. Study your lessons. And then you are through—and not tired—read a book.

Your parents do not owe you entertainment. Your village does not owe you recreation facilities. The world does not owe you a living. You owe the world something. You owe it your time and energy and your talents so that no one will be at war or in poverty, or sick, or lonely again.

In plain, simple words (Grow up, quit being a cry baby; get out of your dream world — start acting like a man or a lady).

Stacked Deck

The Flint Journal

Those who consider themselves masters of the art of playing poker could be excused for wondering how they might play the hands if they were sitting in on the nuclear test ban party in Moscow.

The United States knows from past performances that Khrushchev and his crew play rough and play for keeps. They can play it smooth and play it gentle. And they have a beautiful change — up this keeps their opponents off balance.

When the fate of the world and the lives of millions of human beings may well be riding on how well we play each hand — can you imagine the stress and strain on every American around that Moscow table?

Are the Russians for real in their new-found camaraderie?

Let's hope the Soviets are playing this high-level poker on a high level. Let's hope they're not eye on the deck.

Patterson-Liston Fight Was Absolute Farce

What a farce!

The PATTERSON-LISTON encore was even more ridiculous than the premiere. Festivities lasted two minutes and six seconds opening night and it took four seconds longer Monday. The "preliminaries" on the radio hit an all-time low for time-killing and time-wasting. They ran a boring and exhausting 50 minutes which tired the bulk of the "listeners" into a painless and blessed dreamland.

Even the dummy that sang the National Anthem should have been chloroformed and the spectacle of Evil triumphing over Virtue without even raising a light perspiration is too depressing to justify elaboration. To those of you who were fortunate enough to miss this absolute epitome of fatality we sum it up as succinctly as possible by saying: "It was gosh awful."

Swimmer's 'Wolf' Cry Falls on Deaf Ears

Updating the object lesson of the lad who cried "wolf" once too often was the recent death by drowning of a good swimmer.

Disporting in the Gulf, a Tampa man had been playing pranks on his friends by simulating distress and calling for help.

After responding to a couple of calls for "rescue," his pals wearied of the charade and ignored another SOS.

Tragically, this one was for real. The hoaxer had suffered a stomach cramp, and went down in 12 feet of water.

The moral is not hard to find. With many organizations and interested individuals carrying on ceaseless programs for water safety against inherent hazards, to extend the risks by one self-imposed is both lunatic and, as was demonstrated, potentially fatal.

'Rocky' Road Ahead for N.Y. Governor

Political pundits are pretty cagey about posting opinions as to whether New York's Gov. NELSON ROCKEFELLER can regain popularity ground lost last spring in going for the 1964 GOP presidential nomination.

But the Governor himself is not waiting for the tide to change.

In recent weeks he has taken a militant stand for powerful civil rights legislation. Fundamentally, this represents no shift for Rockefeller. But in much of his political utterances, ROCKEFELLER from mid-1962 until evidence of his declining popularity showed up, he seemed to play down advocacy of civil rights action as he appealed for conservative Republican support.

Evidently he has decided that the conservative surge in the direction of Arizona's Sen. BARNEY GOLDWATER largely undercuts his own earlier efforts.

He is now acting like a man who believes his presidential hopes lie only in a course ranging from middle of the road to progressivism.

Perhaps the big conservative push for GOLDWATER left ROCKEFELLER no choice but to move forward. Certainly the right has been quite thoroughly pre-empted by the Arizona.

In his earlier attempts to woo Republican conservatives, he managed to make very few happy. A good many were prepared to accept him as the nominee when they believed that prospect inevitable; but they were not real Rockefeller fans, and the wooing cost him some of his moderate to liberal backing.

Today he is fairly close to being a free agent. He can fight with the belief that the worst probability is behind him—the impact of his re-marriage, the liquor scandal, his budget trouble.

But if this proves unsound, his political bet that the center-left is the place to be for 1964 could be a wasted effort. On the other hand, if his image is somehow restored, his gamble will be watched as one of the decade's most fascinating maneuvers.

JFK Must Force Railroad Solution

By JAMES MARLOW Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON — President Kennedy's message to Congress on the labor dispute which has threatened a nationwide railroad strike is essentially fair in every respect. It affords little comfort, however, to either the unions or the railroads because it merely postpones until a later day the final solution of the problems involved.

Will both sides come to realize — as well as many unions and employers in other industries — that national union power could be approaching the end of its rope?

The huge cost and widespread injury that could result from a railroad strike are well understood throughout the country, and the American people are in the mood to go along with any solution that will spare them such a hardship.

But the fact remains that nationally organized labor unions now wield such economic power that, to avert tragic strikes, the government has to step in and do more than merely mediate a dispute.

Labor — union leaders never dreamed that any such situation would come to pass. They always assumed that, by strikes in local areas and "collective bargaining," they could achieve their ends without such intervention of government.

The Interstate Commerce Commission heretofore has exercised its powers in the rail industry primarily in regulating rates for freight and passengers, but in recent years has also been authorized to protect the job security of employees when there are mergers.

From this, it now is being inferred by President Kennedy that the commission has authority to deal with the impact of the new work rules which the railroads wish to apply because of automation and other developments which have cut down the need for as many employees as before.

The Interstate Commerce Commission is to be given two years in which to work out an agreement. It will listen to the proposals of both sides in the dispute and take into account any agreements they might reach in the interim.

As far as the cost of the transition is concerned, the President says that "the nation as a whole, which shares in the benefits, would also bear part of the burden imposed by advancing rail road technology." The President adds:

"The government has some obligation to assist those adversely affected by governmental decisions which are required in the national interest; and there is little logic in protecting the economy by methods which also lead to increased unemployment and more distressed areas."

The unfairness of placing the entire burden of readjustment costs upon either the carriers or the workers is an additional reason son why legislation is particularly appropriate in this case.

Mr. Kennedy is convinced that there will be problems of this nature coming up in other industries and that the principle of government intervention and assistance should be recognized as necessary.

So, despite all the talk about "compulsory arbitration" and other devices that have been launched in the past, it is plain that a new factor has entered the scene — namely, governmental intervention and governmental designation of the rules that must be followed in settling labor disputes.

Disappointment will be felt by labor unions generally which had believed that they could exercise national power on a private basis without being subjected to governmental discipline.

The enormity of the problem, however, and the helplessness of the labor unions themselves in dealing with the rise of unemployment due to automation have brought a change that nobody really wants but that has become inevitable.

Bob Considine Says:

Negro Rebellion to Persist Until Demands Granted

NEW YORK — The most difficult fact for the segregationist — north, south, east and west — to swallow is that the American Negro has launched a genuine revolution which he will not abandon in the next one.

Here have been countless hosts of brushfire uprisings by CONSIDINE Negroes in the century that has passed since Abraham Lincoln signed the Emancipation Proclamation. These surges, rarely if ever properly organized, were put down mainly by force.

A lynching of one man, the beating or jailing of another, might put the other Negroes of an area "in their place" for years.

Bull Connor's firehoses and dogs in Birmingham, which smeared the image of America throughout the world, would have restored the white man's supremacy in that city for perhaps a decade — a couple of decades ago.

But when it happened it did nothing but speed the progress of the overall rebellion — as did British bullets intended to disperse the colonists.

The segregationist will go down fighting, as do all forces which resist change. He will retreat, block, and maybe throw a rock at the thing he fears. He will vote for politicians who profess to know how to make his mind less troubled.

He will — as Gov. Ross Barnett did last week before a senate committee — attempt to enslave the support of fellow whites by damming Negro demonstrations as "un-American Communist inspired."

Junior Editors Quiz on THE HARP

QUESTION: What family of musical instruments does the harp belong to?

ANSWER: The harp is the oldest of the family of stringed musical instruments. Primitive hunting bows produced slight sounds when their cords were twanged (1) and louder sounds if a hollow object like a gourd was attached (2).

The next step was to use more strings and a box, narrow at the top and wide at the bottom to increase the sounds of the different length of string (3).

After this, some stringed instruments were made with necks so the players could make different tones by shortening the strings with their fingers, and others were sounded with a bow or by little hammers from below — these become violins and pianos.

But the ancient instruments shown in (3) continued to be used and became known as the harp. The Egyptian harp we shown has more strings but is very similar in the older one. The front pillar shows in the Irish harp was another improvement.

The harp's great weakness was that there were not enough strings to give all the in-between notes, or semi-tones. The modern harp has overcome this, for the performer uses foot-pedals which turn little stoppers just below the string pegs, shortening the strings so the in-between notes can be sounded.

FOR YOU TO DO: The thing that makes the harp different from every other musical instrument is the soft, rippling beauty of its sound—something like the tinkle of raindrops. Try to find a record which includes harp music and listen carefully. It is a sound to be enjoyed and never forgotten.

Blind Teacher in Viet Nam Wins Presidential Medal

By PETER ARNETT

SAIGON, Viet Nam (AP)—When the American Embassy in Saigon told blind Genevieve Caulfield, 72, that she had been awarded the Presidential Medal of Freedom, she gasped and said, "My goodness, whatever is that?"

She was genuinely astonished as the embassy told her that she was America's highest civilian peace-time honor, and read off the names of some other recipients this year—Pablo Casals, Thornton Wilder, George Meany, Ralph Bunche.

"But why pick me?" Miss Caulfield asked in her soft, carefully modulated voice. "How could I be grouped with these famous people for doing something that anyone else would have done in my case?"

The answer lies not in her dedication to a cause, like George Meany, or to the arts, like Casals and Wilder. In an age of the big gesture, Genevieve Caulfield, 72, is a small figure.

She was born in New York City, and her father, a steel mill worker, died when she was 10. She was raised in a family of 10 children, and she was the only one to survive.

She was invited to Viet Nam when a doctor blinded her of the school's budget. The rest by the Saigon government in 1958 and now continues regularly from Thailand. In Saigon she established "The Friends of the Blind of Viet Nam," and got a tiny school going for blind girls.

The school, with its handful of students, is cramped and facilities are poor. But Miss Caulfield is not pressing the government of either Thailand or South Viet Nam to build more imposing schools.

"My work has always been on a small scale, as much as an example to the people here as anything else. If I can make the public realize that the blind can be taught to lead useful lives, I will have achieved enough."

In Thailand, her blind students have become telephone operators, typists and teachers. Nine have been sent abroad for study. Some American servicemen have offered to finance a group of young blind girls in Viet Nam to go to the United States for advanced study. But in line with its general policy, the South Vietnamese government is proving reluctant to grant exit visas.

Miss Caulfield still takes an active part in the welfare of her students, but she leaves the running of her schools to highly trained locals. She is a familiar figure in Saigon and Bangkok, walking slowly by herself or on the arms of friends.

"I have never used a stick to walk with," she says, "because when I was young they never used them."

Occasionally, she revisits the United States on self-imposed "lecture cruises." Last year she had a book, "The Kingdom Within," published.

She intends to stay in Asia as long as she is able to get around. "So much is to be done," she says, "I will stay here as long as I am able."

Fun, Fatigue, Fatheads

3 Causes of Accidents

(Editor's Note—This is the seventh in a series of nine articles on traffic safety in Michigan by F. Granger Weil, editor of the Port Huron Times Herald and chairman of the Traffic Safety Committee of the Michigan Press Association.)

By F. GRANGER WEIL, Editor
The Port Huron Times Herald
PORT HURON (AP) — You may not like this, but accident causes can be pretty well classified under three headings: Fun, Fatigue and Fatheadedness.

While this is largely true for all accidents, it probably is particularly true of our young people up to age 25. This article will not attempt to detail these three headings.

It is easy enough for anyone who thinks about it for a few seconds to make up his own definitions.

You may not like it, but it's true. Nevertheless, I think it is largely people who cause accidents — and you and I are those people.

Safety experts are extremely concerned over the recent rise in the accident rate for our young people driving alone.

L. Jerome Fink, M.D., Pontiac psychiatrist, and Julia Ann Goodman of Port Huron, his consulting psychologist, give this analysis of the problem.

"Frequently, the driver who is alone is more apt to allow his unconscious drives to take over. The term 'auto' means self, and thus the automobile becomes the symbol of self, and the unconscious aggressions, which are usually released through dreams and fantasies, are acted out behind the wheel of the car."

"For example, there is the individual who is labeled the psychopath who acts out his aggressions for kicks and this is the individual who shows his feelings of self-superiority on the highway by his lack of regard for the safety of others. This is the self-centered individual who does not think of others."

"Then, there is the person with feelings of inferiority and inadequacy who identifies with his car as a power symbol. The car becomes the instrument by which this person expresses his feelings of frustration and anger."

"This individual operates his car at excessive speed and frequently loses control of his car."

"The third category involves an individual who is depressed and who consciously or unconsciously uses his car as a means of self-destruction — a suicidal implement."

"There is the problem of high speed hypnosis. This is an inherent built-in booby trap, an ever-present danger when a person drives alone and does not use common sense and good judgment by taking a periodic rest stop, coffee breaks, etc."

If the above are rough analysis, keep in mind that the problem is so serious that it has become an emergency: soft words just won't do.

McCone Asks CIA Benefits

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Central Intelligence Agency Director John A. McCone asked a House Armed Services subcommittee yesterday for a better retirement system for U.S. agents.

McCone said the system should be similar to that of the Foreign Service.

He did not reveal any more details of his proposal in public session, and after he announced it the subcommittee went into closed session.

Prize-Winning Critic Expires in Wisconsin

STURGEON BAY, Wis. (UPI) — Richard S. Davis, drama and music critic for the Milwaukee Journal until his retirement in 1961, died yesterday following a series of strokes.

Davis, 73, joined the newspaper in 1918. He once wrote an editorial on a Milwaukee concert by Marian Anderson, the Negro singer, which led to a series of articles in the paper about Negro housing. The series won the 1945 "Courage in Journalism" award of Sigma Delta Chi, professional journalism society.

A U.N. report claims one of every eight human beings in the world goes to bed hungry every night. The total is 390 million persons. Another one billion subsist on what nutritionists call inadequate diets.

'Goldwater Will Announce Candidacy'

TULSA (AP)—Arizona Sen. Barry Goldwater will announce early in 1964 that he is a candidate for the Republican Presidential nomination, a supporter said here yesterday.

Feix O'Donnell Jr., 38-year-old Dallas businessman who heads the national Draft Goldwater for President Committee, told Goldwater supporters that the conservative Senator leads other Republican hopefuls and "is by far and above the most popular man in politics today."

O'Donnell said Goldwater will enter state presidential primaries in order to convince Republicans he can win.

O'Donnell said Goldwater's nomination would give voters a choice between a "Kennedy-managed society" and a "Goldwater-free society."

'Area Farmers Sell Raw Milk'

Sanitarian Charges Public Health Threat

Grossly contaminated raw or unpasteurized milk is being sold in Oakland County, charged Oscar Boyce, county department of health sanitarian, today.

Boyce said the milk was being sold by farmers directly to the public.

He warned anyone who drinks such milk was taking a serious health risk.

The health department, according to Boyce, has tested samples of the unpasteurized milk and it contains "bacteria too numerous to count."

Dr. Bernard D. Berman, deputy director of the health department, said, "The best way for people to be sure of a safe milk supply is to purchase pasteurized milk from reliable distributors or stores."

"Purchasing unpasteurized milk from farmers when they do not have the equipment to process and pasteurize it," Dr. Berman added, "is taking an unnecessary health risk."

Boyce said that people may get many diseases from drinking unpasteurized milk, including undulant fever, tuberculosis, diphtheria, dysentery, typhoid and scarlet fever and septic sore throat.

He said great care is taken to safeguard milk supplies. This includes periodical inspection of dairy herds by state and federal authorities.

Karen Wheeler of Murphy Avenue will be honored at a bridal shower Thursday in the Commerce Lake home of Mrs. George Smith.

Mrs. Olive Schram of Rosewood Place and Mrs. Edward Wright were cohostesses at a recent shower in the former's home and Mrs. Lawrence Rolfs of Clarkston also honored her future daughter-in-law.

Miss Wheeler is the daughter of Mrs. Mary Valley of Commerce and Jay Wheeler Cooley Beach Drive. Her fiancé is James Lawrence Rolfs.

Is Shower for Couple Too Late?

By The Emily Post Institute
Q: A friend of mine has been married over two years but always lived with her parents because her husband has been going to medical school. Now that he has completed his internship they are to have a house of their own which will be completely furnished.

Would it be proper for me to give a shower for her at this late date? She was married quietly and had no showers at that time.

A: It will be quite proper, even at this late date, to give a shower for "Mary's new house."

Q: My parents have been separated for six months. It was not a bitter separation and, in fact, they still see each other occasionally. I am hoping that there will be a reconciliation.

Their 25th anniversary will be coming up soon and I would like to know whether I should acknowledge it either by card or a gift. I have always remembered their anniversary in the past.

A: You cannot, of course, send them cards wishing them a happy anniversary, but you might send flowers to your mother and perhaps a gift to your father enclosing cards with both, saying: "With my love as always on this day, which I hope will be a happier one next year."

Q: I have invited a boy to go to a church dance with me. Tickets will not be available in advance and admission will have to be paid at the door. Will you please tell me the best way to handle this without causing embarrassment to the boy?

A: Say to him when you start out, "Father has given me this money for the dance tonight. Will you please pay the admission charge with it?"

Who pays for what at the wedding? The new Emily Post Institute booklet entitled, "Wedding Expenses" answers this question in detail. To obtain a copy, send 10 cents in coin and a self-addressed, stamped envelope to the Emily Post Institute, in care of The Pontiac Press.

Raising Kids Is Special

Anyone Can Grow Grass

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN
DEAR ABBY: Why do people think that because you have a large family, your yard is a public playground?

Right now 12 kids are playing—ball in my back yard, and only seven of them are mine. The children are not allowed to play in other yards because they ruin the grass.

I really don't mind, but it wouldn't hurt some of the other parents to share the noise with me.

At night they ask me to turn on my yard lights so they can play after supper.

ABBY

When, oh, when will I have peace and quiet again?

JUST WONDERING

DEAR JUST: Too soon. And you can take my word for it. Count your blessings. Your children are occupied in healthy, wholesome play, and you don't have to worry about where they are — or with whom.

Anybody can raise grass. It takes special qualities to raise children.

DEAR ABBY: I am 14 and my mother and I have been fussing over something very silly. We were all at the ball game and I was with a very nice boy.

He took my hand. My mother then leaned over and told me to quit holding hands with him. Abby, couldn't she have waited until I got home?

She had to make a big scene in front of everybody. I don't see anything wrong with a boy and girl holding hands at a ball game, do you?

WONDERING

DEAR WONDERING: Your mother could have told you quietly to quit holding hands, but I think she was right to tell you. A display (even a minor one) of affection is out of place in public.

DEAR ABBY: Someone suggested to "Ma" (who was upset at seeing "Pa's" choppers grinning at her from the dresser top while Pa was outside mowing the lawn) that she "steal" Pa's choppers and leave in their place $3.20 from the "Good Fairy."

Well, a set of dentures contains only 28 teeth. So at the rate of 12¢ per tooth, Pa should be left only $2.80.

Sincerely
DENTAL ASSISTANT

CONFIDENTIAL TO PAUL: Never drink on an empty wallet, baby.

Tell your troubles to Abby. For a personal, unpublished reply, please send a stamped self-addressed envelope.

Getting married? For Abby's booklet, "How To Have A Lovely Wedding," send 50 cents to Abby, care of The Pontiac Press.

Bride-to-Be Honored by 3 Showers

A trio of recent bridal showers honored Darlene Marie Wilcox, daughter of the late Arthur Wilcox of Hazel Avenue, and fiancée of Airman 2 C. James LeRoy Garver.

Mrs. Neil McClellan of Albetra Drive entertained Sunday afternoon with Mrs. Charles Hutterford and Mrs. Edward McArthur sharing hostess honors.

Arriving from Brown City for the party were Mrs. Alfred Stevens, daughter Shirley, and Mrs. Donald Senko and Cheryl.

Among shower guests in the home of Mrs. Robert Pierson, Orchard Lake, was Mrs. George Brude of Zephyrhills, Fla., who is visiting in the area.

Mildred Schroeder, Linda Lawrence and Karin Mueller also fired the bride-elect in the Schroeder home on Dwight Avenue.

Handy "Scrap" Book for Sewers

If you do a lot of sewing at home, you probably think ahead and save left-over fabric for future use. It's handy to have—but, the last time you opened your sewing drawer, was it a jumble of bits and pieces?

We've picked up a smart trick from a gal who sews constantly and wants to be thrifty by saving left-overs, yet likes to have them right at her fingertips. She has started a "scrap" book to keep all these odds and ends in order. You can easily make one for yourself by placing samples of material in a scrapbook and holding them in place with strips of tape. This tape is invisible and will not turn yellow or peel off with age, so you'll have a permanent file in which you can quickly find a flat piece ready for use when you need it. Larger scraps or left-overs can be rolled into small bundles and taped together for easy storage.

This "scrap" book also comes in handy for those who can't resist fabric sales.

Tape a small sample of your purchase in the book and mark the yardage under it to remind you of what you have on hand and how much.

You'll also have a neater sewing basket if you tape the loose ends of bindings and eick-rack braid to the card before placing them in the basket. Even those tangled spoils of thread will behave if you secure the thread ends to the spoils with invisible mending tape. Knowing that your sewing drawer and basket are uncluttered, you'll look forward with more enthusiasm in your next sewing project.

A scrap book is just the thing for keeping track of left-over sewing fabrics. Tape a sample of each fabric in the book and mark the yardage under it to remind you of what is on hand and how much. This is a great organizer for the lover of sewing.

Long Skirts a Bomb

PARIS (UPI) — Designer Jacques Heim's long-skirt bombshell is a dud, American buyers said. After Heim opened the fall-winter Paris fashion shows Monday, a cross-section of merchandising experts from New York indicated almost complete indifference.

The experts conceded that the new heavy tweed walking suits and knee-high boots that are blossoming all over Paris could stand a skirt an inch or two lower than usual.

But otherwise, the buyers said, they have no intention of stocking department stores this fall with longer skirts that will force a worldwide wardrobe overhaul.

"I didn't like the long Heim skirts. Women never will wear them, not this year, anyway," commented one New York fabric manufacturer at a party given by the Dior Salon for designer Marc Bohan last night.

The head of a leading New York department store, however, confessed that the real reason the long skirts will not be adopted by stores is not consideration of women, but the fact that Heim is "not a pace-setter."

"Balenciaga, Givenchy, Dior and, to some extent, Yves St. Laurent set the style," he explained.

In other words, women's legs are not out of the woods until the Givenchy-Balenciaga-Dior votes are in within the week.

But if Heim's long skirts are dumbed down, the "covered leg" and tweedy look appeared here to stay.

SEW SIMPLE

By Eunice Farmer.

Dear Eunice:

"There are so many different lengths of shorts that when they are advertised or sketched on patterns, I'm never sure which length they will turn out to be. Can you give us some data on the correct length of the various types of shorts?" Mrs. V. M.

Dear Mrs. V. M.:

There probably are more acceptable lengths than you ever dreamed. How wonderful that we can all choose the length most becoming to our legs.

Summer is a great time for sewing—especially if you have some summer fun sewing ideas. I will suggest some ideas for you, starting with this popular one-piece skirt-shorts combination.

This is a pair of shorts with a skirt attached at the waistband but slashed almost to the waist for freedom of action with a "covered up" look.

1. Make shorts to fit. However do not insert a slide fastener. They should be left open seven inches below the waistband at the center back seam.

2. Make a slim skirt, preferably with darts at front and back. See cutting notes before cutting your skirt.

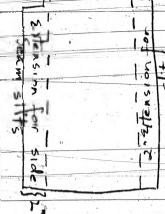

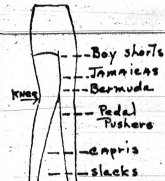

FOLD BACK

3. Sew side seams together about 5 inches below waistline. Fold back—extensions on side seams and hem by hand.

4. Insert the slide fastener at the center back of your skirt.

5. Pin the skirt over the shorts, matching the waistline, and baste together. The raw edges of the shorts opening at the center back may be hand whipped to the fastener tape of the skirt.

6. Apply a waistband (remember, the two have been basted together first). Presto, you're finished and you have one of the neatest and most practical sports wear ensembles yet devised.

OIL SLICK MATERIAL

"When sewing with plastics or any slick, smooth material, the teeth on the machine bunch up the plastic. You can prevent this if you will dampen a piece of cloth with machine oil and rub it on the smooth surface as you stitch, and presto, your material will move along like magic."

This helpful tip by Mrs. Albert Gilbert, North Miami Beach, Fla., wins her this week's Tailor Trux pressing board award.

Dear Eunice Farmer

Can you tell me what angle you cut the sleeve of a man's shirt when you make it into shorter sleeves? Mine usually seems to be cut on the bias and won't lay flat. Mrs. V. T.

Dear Mrs. V. T.:

I think you will find that all patterns for men's and boy's sleeves, both short and long, are cut with the lower end of the sleeve perfectly straight. Since the sleeve is cut on the lengthwise grain of the fabric, the lower edge would be the cross-grain. To cut your sleeves straight, pull threads as you do when straightening your fabric.

Mrs. M. A. J. says: A cute and practical idea for a mending basket. Decorate an old wicker doll buggy by painting, then pasting on designs in felt, etc.

Keep all your mending and sewing supplies in it and it's so easy to move about wherever you will have a few minutes time while watching TV, on the patio, or even in the kitchen while keeping an eye on cooking.

You'll find yourself actually getting caught up, sounds dreamy, doesn't it?

Swim Suits Show Lace

What a ruffled up, lacy season this summer promises to be! Even swimsuits follow this trend toward feminine frills.

Simple, sheath-like suits made of pastel Orlon knit are bedecked from stem to stern with rows and rows of narrow baby lace.

To keep such a suit at its flutty best, wash it after every wearing in warm soap or detergent suds—and then finger stretch the ruffles to shape as it dries.

Wash, Then Wax

No floor should ever be waxed until it has first been washed with suds and water, rinsed thoroughly, and allowed to dry.

This caution applies to wood, marble, and terrazzo as well to resilient tile or sheet flooring.

Trouble Brewing in Hot Springs, South's Gambling Mecca

By WICK TEMPLE

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP) — For nearly a century, this resort city has been an oasis of gambling and whiskey in a conservative, Bible-belt state. It has been the hideout of gamblers. Its night clubs draw top talent. Across its gaming tables flow millions of dollars.

Hot Springs has a moratorium on Arkansas' stringent gambling laws and on regulations that allow only packaged liquor sales. The rest of Arkansas, except for critical church groups, merely winks. But there are rumblings of trouble in Hot Springs.

A bomb exploded in the plush Vapors night club and injured 12 persons. When Prosecutor David Whittington began a crackdown on prostitution, his car was dynamited.

Whittington and city officials have been feuding over prostitution. The prosecutor says it is rampant. Mayor Dan Wolf and Police Chief Millard Sanders say there is no serious problem.

The last prosecutor who stirred up Hot Springs was Sid McMath, an ex-Marine who closed the casinos and bars in 1947. He was elected governor the next year and the places reopened. They have been going strong since.

Some gamblers say privately that Las Vegas or Chicago gambling syndicates are trying to move into Hot Springs and that the unsolved Vapors bombing Jan. 4 was their warning shot.

A strong talking point of pro-gambling forces has always been that the casinos are owned and operated by local people. U.S. Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy says he is checking that claim.

New federal laws prohibit bringing equipment or people across state lines to engage in gambling. A federal grand jury investigating Hot Springs gambling in the light of the new laws, but returned no indictments.

LEADING SPOKESMAN
Leading spokesman for the gambling forces is State Sen. Q. Byrum Hurst, son of a Hot Springs preacher. Only legal betting in the state is on horse races at Hot Springs' Oaklawn Park and at a dog racing track in West Memphis.

Hurst, who has been indicted on federal income tax evasion charges, earlier this year announced he would introduce a bill to legalize gambling. The churches put pressure on Gov. Orval E. Faubus and Faubus announced he would veto such a bill. Hurst didn't introduce it.

Rural legislators then offered a bill to establish a special state police division to crack down on gambling, but Faubus' lieutenants killed it with a filibuster.

The governor says gambling, liquor and vice in Hot Springs are local problems and he won't step in unless he is asked.

Hot Springs' mystery man is Owen (Owney) Madden, prohibition era beer baron and New York gang lord who moved to the resort in 1933 after serving time in Sing Sing. He lives an outwardly quiet life and claims he is retired.

OTHER GANGSTERS
At one time such underworld figures as Legs Diamond, Pretty Boy Floyd and Lucky Luciano had the run of the city.

Lansing Pair Progresses on Alaska Trek

WHITEHORSE, Yukon Territory (AP) — Two Lansing, Mich., youths hiking along the Alaska highway from Dawson Creek, B.C., to Fairbanks, Alaska, passed the 915-mile point today in the 1,352-mile journey.

Ted Struble and Keith Convey, both university students, left Dawson Creek June 21. They were accompanied by teacher Park Seller and John Hall, also a student. They, too, are from Lansing.

Seller started the trip walking but blisters, swollen ankles and bleeding feet forced him to give up after 101 miles. He joined Hall, who has been driving a bus ahead of the hikers and setting up camp for them.

"It's a helluva long road," Struble said on arrival here. "Our legs are in pretty good shape but the bottoms of our feet are sore. The blisters and blisters stage was passed long ago."

Swiler was filming a travelogue on the journey but he wasn't too sure how it will turn out.

"We ran over his camera with the bus," Struble said. The four hope to reach Fairbanks Aug. 10.

BACKGROUND OF THE NEWS SPECIAL REPORT

Things have changed. When this year, Whittington met three Chicago hoodlums showed them at their hotel and told them to be out of town by dark. They went.

Now John L. McClellan, D-Ark., put a crimp in Hot Springs' thriving bookmaking business when his investigations subcommittee closed the racing wires. Now the bookies operate on a bet today-pay tomorrow basis.

Hot Springs also is one of the leading cockfighting centers of the South. Several pits operate clandestinely from time to time.

It has more per capita church construction than any other city in Arkansas. Its Easter sunrise service atop Hot Springs Mountain draws thousands, as does a candlelight Christmas ceremony. It is the home of the Miss Arkansas pageant and draws a large share of conventions, including church meetings.

The beautiful Ouachita Mountain city of 30,000 is a bit cluttered with signs and is somewhat overrun with characters during the 43-day spring racing season. But it retains a unique atmosphere. Three big lakes nearby are havens for outdoor enthusiasts.

Hot Springs is a national park, and the government controls the privately owned bath houses along magnolia-shaded bathhouse row. Many doctors send patients to bathe in the thermal waters from springs deep in the earth.

Integration Set One Day a Week in Oklahoma

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—Recently integrated Wedgewood Village Amusement Park will be open to Negroes on Thursdays only, its owner said yesterday after telling the Mayor's Committee on Community Relations he faces bankruptcy unless he changes his policy.

Maurice Woods said the park will be fully integrated on Thursdays, but will be open "only to non-Negro customers" the rest of the week.

"Tomorrow (Wednesday) will be the first non-Negro day and Thursday will be the first integrated day under the new operation," he said.

E. Melvin Porter, president of the local chapter of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, said Woods' plan is insulting to Negroes and "we're not going to take any spoon-fed days at Wedgewood."

Forty centuries before Christ, people live in mud-brick villages and tilled the soil of the relatively fertile northern Negev.

Nonunion Firm Loses
Job to Union Company

LANSING (AP)—A state decision to withdraw a construction subcontract from a nonunion firm and give it to the unionized second-low bidder will be subjected to inquiry by the Senate Labor Committee.

Sen. Robert Vanderlaan, R-Grand Rapids, chairman of the committee, has asked for a full report on the incident and says committee hearings may be scheduled to broaden the study.

Ultimately, Vanderlaan said, the result could be introduction of legislation "to assure every citizen of Michigan the right to work on state projects."

The State Administrative Board agreed July 2 to withdraw a subcontract from Veltin Contractors, Grand Rapids, and give it to J. D. Armstrong Landscape Co. of Fraser.

State officials said they feared a work stoppage by union employees at other firms on the project at Grand Valley State College might occur if the Veltin contract was not withdrawn.

This could have halted construction of a $1.7-million project involving two classroom buildings and a student center slated for opening in the fall.

Veltin, a nonunion firm, was low bidder at $41,801 and Armstrong, a union-affiliated company, was second-low bidder at $143,250.

3 Youths Arrested

in Detroit School Fire

DETROIT (AP)—Three boys who police said, admitted setting a $25,000 fire in the Tilden Elementary School, were arrested Tuesday. Police said two 14-year-olds and a 13-year-old admitted breaking into the school late last Saturday in a search for money. They poured an inflammable liquid on the wood floor of a first floor hall and ignited it, police said.

PUNCH AND COOKIES — Frozen concentrates are the base of this handsome party punch. Any summer day is a good one for punch. With it pass a plate of Coconut-Chip Shortbread Squares.

Frozen Concentrates Base of New Punch

A cool, cool beverage is a "must" for summer entertaining. Fortunately, the frozen food cabinet of our markets are full in overabundance with frozen concentrates and there are carbonated beverages by the dozen. There are hundreds of ways to combine them in refreshing summer drinks, but none better or more attractive than Rosy-Lemon Party Punch.

Frozen concentrated orange juice, now in short supply, is happily extended with frozen concentrate for lemonade, ginger ale and grenadine — and that sometimes under-estimated ingredient, water. Altogether they add up to a marvelous thirst-quencher. Scoops of lime or lemon ice or sherbet added to each glass of punch are pretty and deliciously cool.

Be Imaginative With Box Lunch

Pontiac Press Food Editor
Probably very few of our readers have gone to a box social. The only one we ever attended was given by a women's organization. But it was fun.

This coming Saturday night the Men's Club of Four Towns Methodist Church on Cooley Lake Road is holding a box social and a bachelorette—both open to the public.

Those who are planning to attend may be wondering about that box lunch. Maybe we can help with a few suggestions.

Since it will be everyone's evening meal, you will want to pack a hearty lunch. You will want variety in color, texture and taste. And you will want to be sure that the food won't spoil.

We're against potato salad for this menu unless it is made German style, without mayonnaise. We're also against meat or egg salad sandwiches for the same reason. All these foods need refrigeration to remain safe.

What can you pack? Oh, lots of things.

FRIED CHICKEN
You can fry chicken early in the day and chill it thoroughly before putting it in your box. You can even fry it several days in advance and freeze it. Wrapped in foil, it can go directly from freezer to broiler.

You can make hearty sandwiches of cold beef, well chilled ham or sliced turkey or chicken.

Or how about a Dagwood sandwich?

Slice a frankfurter bun in half, lengthwise; brush cut sides with French dressing. Place 4 triangle slices of American cheese across bottom half of bun.

Top cheese with 3 slices of tomato, 1 lengthwise slice of raw carrot, 1 slice of bologna, cut in half and 2 tablespoons chopped lettuce. Cover with bun top and secure sandwich with toothpicks.

In place of a hearty sandwich and relishes, you might put a covered jar of Frontier Salad in the box. Fresh buttered rolls would complete the main course.

Frontier Salad
Mix a cup each of finely shredded cabbage and lettuce with strips of sliced boiled ham, Swiss cheese and turkey. Garnish with olives and parsley. Include a small container of Thousand Island dressing.

Don't forget a plastic fork for this age.
Relishes of all kinds are suitable for the meal. For fun you might core and stuff a dill pickle with cream cheese.

Pickled peaches or crabapples so does cranberry sauce or jelly. Use a couple of paper muffin cups to hold the latter.

Dessert shouldn't present much of a problem, not with all the good fresh fruit available at this time of year. Pack a few of your best cookies or a slice of the cake in the recipe below. If you're good with pastry, make an individual pie in a foil pan.

Use a show box for a container and let your imagination go to town when you decorate it. This cake is one you'll probably make often.

HONEY PICNIC CAKE
1 cup shortening
2 cups honey
2 eggs
4 cups sifted all-purpose flour

1½ teaspoons baking soda
1 teaspoon baking powder
1 teaspoon salt
1 cup buttermilk

Cream shortening. Beat in honey, then eggs one at a time. Sift together flour, baking soda, baking powder and salt. Beat into first mixture alternately with buttermilk starting and ending with flour mixture. Turn into greased and floured 9x13 pan.

Bake in a moderate oven 350 degrees 50 minutes. Leave cake

LONDON (AP) — Marilyn (Mandy) Rice-Davies has a one-line, one-kiss role in a new movie, "Hide and Seek," starring comedian Ian Carmichael.

"The Daily Mirror said today that in the film, to be released later this year, Mandy kisses Carmichael and recites: 'I told him I may be rich and dishonest, but I still have my pride.'"

Ex-Romeo Peach Queen

Starlet Recalls Early Glory

By LEE OLSON
Area News Editor

ROMEO — People in Romeo are saying, "I remember her when..." a new Hollywood movie queen.

They knew Nancy Kovack when she wore another crown.

Back in 1955, Nancy, then 19, was chosen Romeo Peach Queen. From Flint, she won the title over 10 other area beauties in the annual August competition.

New — as the date for this year's contest approaches — Nancy is again in Michigan. This time she is making personal appearances to publicize her latest film, "Jason and the Argonauts," currently being shown in Detroit and Flint.

She is starring with Todd Armstrong in the role of the enchantress Medea, whom Armstrong, as Jason, fishes out of the sea after a shipwreck.

The movie is based on a tale told in Greek mythology of Jason's journey aboard the Argos in quest of the Golden Fleece.

Called a "striking brunet beauty" by Detroit drama critics, Nancy adds glamour to the film, which is filled with cinematic thrills ranging from collapsing cliffs and giants to six-headed monsters and fighting skeletons that rise out of the ground.

VARIED CAREER

Nancy, who was crowned twice in 1955 by Gov. G. Mennen Williams, has had an interesting and varied career since that year.

The first time she reigned as queen — outside of the University of Michigan from which she was graduated that June — was as Miss Page One in Detroit.

It was shortly after this that she won the Romeo title and was crowned a second time by Gov. Williams during the Romeo Peach Festival held annually over Labor Day weekend.

Immediately following the local celebration, she went on to New York City where she was picked to be in a chorus line for the then-popular Jackie Gleason Show.

Next she appeared as a regular on "Beat the Clock" and the "Today" show and did several commercial "spots" on television before getting bit parts on the Broadway stage.

She also was featured in two television plays.

From there the next step was to movies, and she was sent to location in Italy for the filming of "Jason." She said she'll "never forget it — the people there were so warm and charming."

Nancy has made five movies now and said she wished she could stay in Michigan for the Peach Queen contest Aug. 9 in Romeo.

She won't be available, however, because she is going back to California to try out for a part in Jack Lemmon's new picture, "Good Neighbor, Mr. Sam," a comedy.

Speaking of romance, Nancy said she has no plans for marriage in the near future even though she has been going with Mike Nichols since last March for years.

She admits to being awed and touched by the homage being paid to her upon return to her home state as a star.

But, she said, she'll never forget those first two big contests — with their moments of both fright and delight — that come about like "a thousand years ago."

8 Beauties Competing for 'Miss Ortonville' Title

ORTONVILLE — "They're all beauties."

That's how Mrs. Douglas Grovesteen, chairman of the contest to pick Ortonville's candidate for Romeo Peach Queen, described the eight entrants in the local competition.

The winner — Miss Ortonville — will be selected Friday. She will go on to compete against queens from neighboring communities for the honor of reigning over the Romeo Festival Labor Day weekend.

Applications will be accepted up to 7 p.m. the night of the judging. Mrs. Grovesteen noted. However, she urged all planning to enter to do so as soon as possible.

The actual judging starts at 8 p.m. in the high school gymnasium.

Entered in the competition so far are Faye Annschmidt, 18, 166 Church; Mary Jo Atkins, 17, of Mill St.; Georgia Coleman, 17, of Cedar St.; and Sharon Holm, 20, 456 Ortonville Road.

Also competing are Marilyn Palshan, 18, 319 South St.; Geri Smith, 379 E. Glass; Jo Sutton, 125 Ortonville Road; and Linda Flint (AP) — A federal court judge and jury today convicted two former officials of the Davison State Bank of 22 counts of bank law violations, primarily checks drawn on insufficient funds.

After nearly seven hours of deliberation, the jury convicted George A. Greenlee, former cashier of the bank, on three of four counts, and Mrs. Joan A. Phelps, former assistant cashier, on 11 of 14 counts.

The jury then returned to consider 27 more counts against Greenlee. Greenlee pleaded guilty rather than its charter as error-Stephen P. Roth accepted a guilty plea published in The Pontiacer. The council authority to make decisions regarding hospitals and nursing homes.

The code was amended after a public hearing. The city charter can be amended only by popular vote.

Pentecostal Church Sets Sunday Revival Meeting

INDEPENDENCE TOWNSHIP — The Old Fashioned Pentecostal Church, 5765 Clarkston, will hold a revival meeting beginning Sunday at 8 p.m.

Rev. and Mrs. H. H. Winans of Hazel Park will be the evangelists at the services which are open to the public. Omer Brewer is pastor of the church.

Milk Producers Set Expansion

DETROIT (AP) — Major expansion moves in their specialty areas were announced today by the Michigan Milk Producers Association (MMPA) and the Ira Wilson and Sons Dairy Co. of Detroit.

Wilson will acquire the Dairyland division of MMPA, at Carson City. MMPA will acquire Wilson's Sarnac plant and all its transportation equipment.

The announcement of the exchange of properties, valued at $3 million, was made today by Stanley Wilson, of the Wilson Dairy Co., and Glenn Lake, president of the MMPA.

Lake said the acquisition of Wilson facilities will strengthen MMPA's over-all bargaining and marketing position. MMPA is a dairy farmer bargaining cooperative supplying most Michigan dairies with milk.

DIANE GONSALVES

The engagement of Diane Gonsalves to Theodore F. Follis has been announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph W. Gonsalves of Peekskill, N.Y. The prospective bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Follis, 477 Ball, Ortonville. A winter wedding is being planned.

Oxford Votes to Postpone Action on Village Lights

OXFORD — Which comes first: preventive maintenance on the village's water storage tank or new electric lighting for the central business district?

For the moment at least the answer is the water tank.

The village council last night decided to postpone action on the new lights.

While there is $3,000 in the budget for repairs on the tank, there is nothing for lights, village president Allen E. Valentine revealed.

"If we can possibly dig up the money, we're still going to do it," Valentine said.

Work on the lights was tentatively scheduled for completion before Christmas. However, Valentine noted that "we'd have to start now to get them done by then."

Installation of the new lights would more than double the light power in the downtown area.

In other action, the council awarded Frank Toles of Oxford a $800 contract to paint the exterior of the village hall.

Again it will be white, trimmed in gray and black.

AREA NEWS

SCENE FROM FILM — This is how Nancy Kovack appears in her latest film, "Jason and the Argonauts," in which she stars as Medea opposite Todd Armstrong in the title role. A veteran of television and the Broadway stage, Nancy says she much prefers working in the movies.

Discuss Lake Level in Commerce Twp.

COMMERCE TOWNSHIP — The proposed new level of Commerce Lake would make the water one foot deeper than it is now, property owners were told last night.

Approximately 170 persons attended the meeting in the Commerce Township Fire Hall to learn implications of the recommended level.

At the end of the two-hour meeting, about 95 per cent of them indicated their approval of the recommendation in a show-of-hands vote.

The level proposed by Kieft Engineering of Clarkston is 907.1 feet above sea level.

Level of the lake yesterday was 12 inches below that.

According to the engineering report, establishment of a new level would not damage low-lying properties, nor would it interfere with adequate operation of septic tanks.

Circuit Court hearing on the matter will be Aug. 1.

If the proposed level is approved, it will be controlled by a dam constructed on the

PRETTY PEACHY STILL — At a luncheon in her honor yesterday at Hawaiian Gardens Restaurant near Holly, movie star Nancy Kovack recalls her reign as Romeo Peach Queen eight years ago. Here she holds a picture of herself taken when she presided over the Labor Day weekend festival back in 1955.

Should the world's smoothest gin... be lavished in a Gin Rickey?

YES!
To make the best-tasting Gin Rickey (or any other tall refreshing gin drink), you need the best-tasting gin. Seagram's Extra Dry Gin.
This gin is the result of a costly extra step: a mellowing process that imparts a smoothness, a crackling dryness not found in other gins.
This gin doesn't overpower any drink it is mixed in. (As a matter of fact, it is so delicious you can drink it straight or on the rocks.)
This gin is the only gin good enough to make a gin drink worthy of your taste.

Teens Won't Get Out of Hand

Firm Child Discipline Shows Value Later

By DR. LESLIE J. NASON
What do you do when teenagers get out of hand?
For instance, consider the case of May.

As a result, through the first year of high school, they hardly ever disciplined her. Then, when summer activities started, she began to do the right thing. She took good care of her younger brother and chose her own activities so well that her parents never felt the need to be strict with her.

"You will be in by 11 o'clock" if discipline is built up gradually they told her. "You must keep over a period of years."

May reacted explosively. Accustomed to making her own decisions, she was unable to accept the sudden application of parental control. It was two years before the situation was finally straightened out.

The obvious trouble was of course that May hadn't learned discipline right along.

Summer is a good time for parents to set up activities for their teenagers and see that they are carried out. Proper attitudes towards work prescribed by parental authority lead to proper attitude towards discipline by other authorities in later life.

Here are a few suggestions for a starter:

Boys as well as girls can learn to cook and prepare family meals under a mother's supervision.

Each child can be given responsibility for some part of the greeting and entertaining of guest, including the preparation of refreshments.

Chores and repair jobs about the home can be assigned for their training value as well as their disciplinary value.

Assigned reading during the summer will take time and effort but will help provide an absolutely essential skill as well as a means of discipline.

(You can write Dr. Nason in care of The Pontiac Press. He will answer questions of most interest in his column.)

There are so many good habits a bridge player can acquire it is a shame to find them picking up bad ones.

One of the worst is that of playing singles. West had all the aces, plus the queen of clubs and jack of diamonds so when South was mean enough to open the bidding in front of him West wasn't really disturbed.

After all, he had bid 60 on score and it seemed sound strategy to bid a no-trump and try to get in 150 honors, plus the rubber bonus.

South continued his nasty way with a bid of two hearts and now West realized that maybe the singleton ace of hearts was not really good for no-trump and he tried three clubs.

He had no problem after South went to three hearts. Surely East could take a trick or so and West had those four aces. He doubled and opened his four of spades.

South's queen won the trick and a heart lead fell to West's ace. Now West panicked and for some reason led his ace of clubs. When East could not trump the second club South showed his hand, conceding the last two aces. Where did West go wrong? He failed to let his partner get into the act. West should have doubled one heart to ask East to bid. East would have obliged with two diamonds. West could have raised to four if necessary and there would have been no trouble making four, or even five, clubs.

Q—The bidding has been:
South West North East

Under New Constitution

Committee Working Out Details of Court System

Oakland and Washtenaw counties will be partners in one of nine state appellate districts, according to court districts, according to preliminary plans for the new intermediate court established by Michigan's new constitution.

The probability was pointed out today by Sen. Farrell E. Roberts, R-Oakland County, chairman of a joint House-Senate interim committee working out recommended legislation to implement the new constitution's judicial provisions.

Roberts said the committee's job is complete except for the final details for the appellate court system.

The committee's current thinking envisions three divisions of three districts each to make up the total of nine districts.

DIVISIONS

Oakland and Washtenaw would comprise one of the three sub-urban division districts, Roberts indicated. Three districts in Wayne County would constitute out in a committee session sched-another division and there would be three districts in the outstate division, he said.

The districts are being shaped according to population, Roberts said. Michigan's 5.4 million population is being divided into nine districts as close as possible to 880,000 each, he said.

Final district boundaries to be recommended to the State Legislature this fall will be worked out in a committee session scheduled to begin Aug. 1, Roberts said.

The new court's jurisdiction also will come up for final recommendations. Roberts said the area include where to draw the line between appeals as a matter of right and appeals only when the court agrees to consider them, Roberts indicated.

The committee already has decided to recommend a one-step appeal system for criminal cases.

"A convicted person will have the right to appeal to the next higher court but from there on it will be up to the discretion of the succeeding courts whether to hear further appeals," Roberts said.

MATTER OF RIGHT

Justice and Municipal court misdemeanor convictions would be taken to Circuit Court and Circuit Court felony convictions could be appealed to the nine-man appellate court as a matter of right.

"We could have made the right of appeal carry all the way up to the Supreme Court," Roberts said. "But, as a right, the chief importance is to see that the trial judge was not swayed."

"With the one-step appeal, he will keep in mind that there is a body that can review his action."

He added that limiting the right of appeal to only the next higher court would keep court calendars from being cluttered with needless pleas.

Under the present constitution, the Supreme Court is the only court of appeal from Circuit Court and there is no guarantee the high court will take the case.

Roberts said the work already completed by the committee would result in some 20 to 25 bills to put the new constitution's judicial section into effect.

TERMS LENGTHENED

Among them are bills providing that judicial terms that do not end with an even-year election would be lengthened by one year, and enabling Probate, Circuit and Supreme Court judges to gain the ballot for re-election merely by filing an affidavit.

The change in length of terms is required by the new constitution's elimination of spring elections and provisions that no judicial term be shortened by any of its changes.

Under the new rule, Supreme Court-justice terms will be extended one year.

Roberts said the committee also is considering plans to replace the judges of the present system of lower courts. The new constitution would automatically end the system after five years, but gives the legislature authority to do it sooner.

One proposal would provide for full-time justices elected in districts within a county.

Ceylon Draws Fire From U.S.

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The United States today accused the government of Ceylon of wailing on its promise not to drive private American oil companies entirely out of that country.

The U.S. statement, issued by the State Department, was prompted by the Ceylon government's introduction in parliament last Wednesday of a bill which would turn over to a government corporation all international distribution of petroleum products.

Ceylon last year seized 20 per cent of the distribution facilities of the two American companies there, Caltex and Standard Vacuum, and so far has failed to pay compensation.

The United States earlier this year cut off its aid program to Ceylon under a congressional mandate requiring that within a certain period when U.S. private property is seized without adequate compensation.

Turtle Party Set Aug. 5

PORT LAUDERDALE, Fla. (AP)—August 5 is official turtle watching day on Port Lauderdale beaches. Prizes go to those in organized turtle watching parties.

Purpose of the looking, besides spotting the turtles, is to watch the females—ranging from 250 to 2,000 pounds—lay their eggs in the sand. Four thousand persons turned out for turtle watching last July, the Chamber of Commerce said.

He has accepted invitation to visit Virginia, Illinois, Massachusetts, West Virginia, Indiana, Oregon, Idaho, Utah and California, but a detailed itinerary has not been announced.

Miss Marple Further Explains the Mystery

STORY BY PAUL — Miss Marple, the famous detective, has been seen in a new light. In a recent episode of the television series, she was shown in a more human way. She was seen to be a woman who was not only a detective but also a woman who was loved and loved by others. This new episode of the series was a great success and it was well received by the audience. Miss Marple's character is one of the most popular in television history and this new episode has only added to her popularity. The episode was a great success and it was well received by the audience. By AGATHA CHRISTIE

"I think you know how simple it is," said Miss Marple. There was a peal on the bell below. "I don't think," said Jason Rudd. "I quite understand." He looked down the stairway. There was a sound of voices.

"I know that voice," said Miss Marple. "It's Inspector Craddock's voice isn't it?"

"Yes, it seems to be Inspector Craddock."

"He wants to see you, too. Would you mind very much if he joined us?"

"Not at all as far as I am concerned, if he will agree," said Miss Marple. "There's really not much time now to be lost, is there? We've got to the moment when we've got to understand just how everything happened."

"It was so simple," said Miss Marple. "That one just couldn't see it."

The butler arrived at this moment up the stairs.

"Inspector Craddock is here, sir," he said.

"Ask him to join us here, please," said Jason Rudd.

The butler disappeared again and a moment or two later Dermot Craddock came up the stairs. "You!" he said to Miss Marple. "How did you get here?"

"I came in, in," said Miss Marple, producing the usual confused effect that that remark always caused.

From slightly behind her, Jason Rudd tapped his forehead interrogatively. Dermot Craddock shook his head slightly.

"I was speaking to Mr. Rudd," said Miss Marple. "Has that butler gone away?"

Dermot Craddock cast a look down the stairs.

"Oh, yes," he said. "He's not listening. Sergeant Fiddler will see to that."

"Then that is all right," said Miss Marple. "We could, of course, have gone into a room to talk, but I prefer it like this. Here we are on the spot where the thing happened, which makes it so much easier to understand."

"You are talking," said Jason Rudd. "Of the day of the fête here, the day when Heather Badcock was poisoned."

"Yes," said Miss Marple. "and I'm saying that it is all very simple if one only looks at it in the proper way. It all began, you see, with Heather Badcock being the kind of person she was. It was inevitable, really, that something of that kind should happen some day to Heather."

JASON'S CONFUSED

"I don't understand what you mean," said Jason Rudd. "I don't understand at all."

"No, it has to be explained a little. You see, when my friend, Mrs. Bantley who was here, described the scene to me, she quoted a poem that was a great favorite in my youth, a poem of dear Lord Tennyson's, The Lady of Shalott."

"She raised her voice a little. 'The mirror cracked from side to side. The curse has come upon me, cried the Lady of Shalott. That's what Mrs. Bantley saw, or thought she saw, though actually she misquoted and said doom instead of curse, perhaps a better word in the circumstances. She saw your friend speaking to Heather Badcock and heard Heather Badcock speaking to your wife and she saw this look of doom on your wife's face."

"Haven't we been over that a great many times?" said Jason Rudd.

"Yes, but we shall have to go over it once more," said Miss Marple. "There was that expression on your wife's face and she was looking not at Heather Badcock but at that picture. At a picture of a laughing, happy mother holding up a happy child. The mistake was that though there was doom foreshadowed in Marina Gregg's face, it was not on her the doom would come."

"The doom was to come upon Heather. Heather was doomed from the first moment that she began talking and boasting of an incident in the past."

"Could you make yourself a little clearer?" said Dermot Craddock.

Miss Marple turned to him. "Of course I will. This is something that you know nothing about. You couldn't know about it, because nobody has told you

"German measles? What on earth has that got to do with it?"

SLIGHT ILLNESS

"It's a very slight illness, actually said."

"They've told me over and over again. Several people have told me," Dermot said.

"Yes," said Miss Marple, "but you don't know because you see Heather Badcock didn't tell it to you."

"She could hardly tell it to me seeing she was dead when I arrived here," said Dermot.

"Quite so," said Miss Marple. "All you know is that she was ill but she got up from bed and came along to a celebration of some kind where she met Marina Gregg and spoke to her and asked for an autograph and was given one."

"I know," said Craddock with slight impatience. "I've heard all that."

"But you didn't hear the one operative phrase, because no one thought it was important," said Miss Marple. "Heather Badcock was ill in bed with German measles."

"German measles? What on earth has that got to do with it?"

what it was Heather Badcock reality," said Miss Marple. "that cause it was not a case of inherited insanity or anything of that kind. He was trying to be helpful but I don't think it helped her much. She never knew how, or when or from whom she had contracted the disease."

"Quite so," said Miss Marple. "She never knew until one afternoon here, when a perfectly strange woman came up these stairs and told her the fact, told her, what was more with a great deal of pleasure! With an air of being proud of what she'd done! She thought she'd been successful and brave and shown a lot of spirit in getting up from her bed, covering her face with make-up, and going along to meet the actress on whom she had such a crush and obtaining her autograph. It's a thing she has boasted of all through her life."

"Heather Badcock had meant no harm. She never did mean harm but there is no doubt that people like Heather Badcock are capable of doing a lot of harm because they lack — not kindness — but any real consideration for the way their actions may affect other people. She always thought of what an action meant to her, never sparing a thought to what it might mean to somebody else."

(Conclusion Tomorrow)

She turned to Jason Rudd.

"I think I am correct in saying, Mr. Rudd, that your wife had a child who was born totally afflicted and that she has never really recovered from the shock. She had always wanted a child and when at last the child came, this was the tragedy that happened. A tragedy she has never forgotten, that she has not allowed herself to forget and which she ate her as a kind of deep sea, an obsession."

"It's quite true," said Jason Rudd. "Marina developed German measles early in her pregnancy and was told by the doctor that the mental affliction of her child was due to

of inherited insanity or anything of that kind. He was trying to be helpful but I don't think it helped her much. She never knew how, or when or from whom she had contracted the disease."

"Quite so," said Miss Marple. "She never knew until one afternoon here, when a perfectly strange woman came up these stairs and told her the fact, told her, what was more with a great deal of pleasure! With an air of being proud of what she'd done! She thought she'd been successful and brave and shown a lot of spirit in getting up from her bed, covering her face with make-up, and going along to meet the actress on whom she had such a crush and obtaining her autograph. It's a thing she has boasted of all through her life."

"Heather Badcock had meant no harm. She never did mean harm but there is no doubt that people like Heather Badcock are capable of doing a lot of harm because they lack — not kindness — but any real consideration for the way their actions may affect other people. She always thought of what an action meant to her, never sparing a thought to what it might mean to somebody else."

She turned to Jason Rudd.

totally afflicted and that she has never really recovered from the shock. She had always wanted a child and when at last the child came, this was the tragedy that happened. ### Volunteer Quits Island Trenches

FAIR ISLE, Scotland (AP)—A 33-year-old West Berlin woman has left this desolate Scottish island after more than three months digging trenches free of charge.

She is a Polish-born bookkeeper, Miss Renata Janushenko, who was one of a group of the unteers the islanders would still have to depend on oil and paraffin lamps.

"I love the life for I believe it is one way toward reaching better international understanding," said Miss Janushenko.

Iroquois Indian lacrosse teams practiced for weeks before a big game. Betting was heavy at the games and, as at present-day college sports events, there were rival cheering sections.

Nitrogen Kills Lab Employee

OAK RIDGE, Tenn. (UPI)—An employee of the Oak Ridge National Laboratories died yesterday while checking a recently completed nuclear reactor.

Officials said James C. Stewart Jr., 24, Knoxville, apparently was suffocated by nitrogen gas.

Another employee, Dennis Dowling, 34, also was overcome by the gas but responded to emergency treatment at a hospital.

The home of French bronchitis is a 'melancholy wilderness called the Camargue. Its 266 square miles in the Rhone River delta consist of salt flats, swamps and sheets of brackish water, shallow streams, spiky grass and clumps of scrub trees.

Ohio Medics Teach on FM Radio

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Not all of the medical programs are on television. Ohio State University has one on FM radio.

Every other Wednesday at noon, some 1,150 doctors gather in a dozen hospitals in eight Ohio cities to participate in an hour's post-graduate training conducted by faculty members of Ohio State's College of Medicine.

It is broadcast from the university's educational station and also from a commercial station. The 12 hospitals are tied into the control center in Columbus by telephone line, so the audience may participate.

Insect Repellent Bomb Skunks Resort Owner

WISCONSIN DELLS, Wis. (UPI)—Resort Owner B. H. Adams decided the best way to get rid of a skunk was to load his fogging machine with insect repellent and stick the nozzle under a motel unit.

The insecticide mixture exploded, lifting the entire building off its foundation and splitting the flooring.

This Clean-Up Program*Saved Civic Finances

NOGALES, Son., Mexico (AP)—Mayor Francisco Cano said a clean-up program resulted in a considerable financial saving for this northern Sonora city.

Instead of paying contractors to haul the bricks and lumber away from razed buildings, city residents were encouraged to take what they wanted for home improvements.

House Cleaning? Here Are Some Tips

Here are some housecleaning tips from the North Carolina Agricultural Extension Service:

Store the vacuum cleaner where it's easy to get at, and make effective use of it and its attachments.

Use the new lightweight brooms.

Use long-handled dust pans, mops and brushes.

Use cellulose sponges for washing surfaces and wiping up.

After using tools, clean them and put them in their place.

Use good posture and don't push yourself too hard. Try to clean well but don't insist on spotless house.

Neighbor Rings In; Telephone Rings Out

MEMPHIS (AP)—John L. Anthony of Memphis says a neighbor dropped in the other day and asked to borrow the telephone. Anthony said sure.

The next thing he saw, said Anthony, was the neighbor going out the back door clutching a screwdriver in one hand and the telephone in the other.

Composer's Best Is Yet to Come?

EDINBURGH, Scotland (AP)—mark my death as a composer.

Dmitri Shostakovich, the noted Soviet composer, was asked what he considered his best work.

The question was put to Shostakovich, 56-year-old Lenin Prize winner, at the Edinburgh Festival where he was guest of honor.

He replied: "If I say I have written my best composition then it would be a child may be cross-eyed, but it still would be dear to its mother and father."

"As father of my compositions I love them dearly. But of course I am very critical about them."

The Mekong River rises in the Tibetan highlands and runs southward for 2,000 miles, through the Southeast Asian peninsula.

People of the northeastern part produce only 3 per cent of its meat animals, 15 per cent of its vegetables and melons and 10 per cent of its fruits and nuts. Kenova, W. Va., gets its name from Kentucky, Ohio and West Virginia. It is located on a point where the three states converge.

Dr. Wayne G. Brandstadt Says:

Body Adjusts to Changes in Temperature

How does the body adjust itself to hot weather? When I was a boy people thought that the blood got thicker in winter and thinner in summer. But there is very little evidence to support such a belief.

A hormone called aldosterone secreted by the adrenal glands is now known to play an important role in our adjustment to a warmer environment, because it regulates salt and water balances in the body.

If a man is transferred sud-BRANDSTADT deny from a cool climate to a hot climate, he is unable to accomplish as much physical work as formerly. But within 10 to 20 days his work capacity returns to its former level.

This process of acclimatization requires a change in the function of the heart, blood vessels, and sweat glands. The output of the heart is increased even when the body is resting.

Furthermore the volume of blood shunted to the skin is increased. This allows more of the body heat to be dissipated through radiation and sweating.

Normally perspiration carries a great deal of salt out of the body. Until acclimatization takes place it is often necessary to add a large amount of salt to the diet.

After acclimatization, even though more water is lost through sweating than formerly, the amount of salt lost drops back to the normal level—or less than 5 per cent of that lost at the initial exposure to heat.

All these mechanisms are very important to our survival and are controlled by the releases of more aldosterone through the adrenals in hot weather.

In some persons with diseases that affect the adrenals these glands are stimulated to produce more aldosterone than is needed. This condition is called hyperaldosteronism and is manifested by weakness, high blood pressure, increased output of urine and an abnormal thirst. The most usual cause is a nonmalignant adrenal tumor.

If this disease is not recognized and treated uremia is likely to develop. The treatment is removal of the diseased adrenals. Because the adrenal secretions are essential to life they must be given by injection to anyone who has had these glands removed.

Q—What is uric acid disease and what is the cure for it?

A—Uric acid disease is not a common term but it undoubtedly refers to gout which is a disorder of metabolism. In this disease uric acid crystals form in the skin (especially of the ear) and in the joints (especially of the great toe).

Many drugs have been used in the treatment of this disease, but in recent years probenecid has been found to be the best.

Q—I have a fatty tumor. It is painless. What is the cause of this and should it be removed?

A—Fatty tumors or lipomas are very common. As long as your tumor is painless and not so large as to be unsightly or get in your way it should be left alone. If it ever becomes necessary to remove it you should know that this is a relatively simple operation.

Annual Intra-Squad Game Slated

First Preview of Lions at Wisner Stadium, August 3rd

By BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

New faces, new assistant coach and even new positions mark the opening of the Detroit Lions training camp at Cranbrook in just 19 days. Pontiac area pro fans will be the first to get a preview of the 1963 squad.

It will be 3rd annual Lions' intra-squad scrimmage, sponsored by the Community National Bank and Pontiac Jaycees, and camp.

tickets have gone on sale for the Wisner Stadium grid clash.

A squad of 34, including 17 rookies, took physicals yesterday at the Cranbrook training camp with all the remaining veterans slated to report next Sunday.

The rookie crop is the largest in recent years and it is considered one of the best groups of newcomers in many training camps.

The three top rookies, offensive lineman Daryl Sanders, back Larry Ferguson and defensive lineman Roy Williams are the college All-Stars who will meet the Green Bay Packers, Friday night August 2nd in Chicago.

They will see limited action in the intra-squad activities at Wisner Stadium the following night.

The big question mark naturally is the gaping hole left by Alex Karras, who will miss the 1963 campaign because of his suspension by NFL commissioner Pete Rozelle.

The two veterans who will take a crack at the defensive tackle slot are Mike Bundra and Floyd Peters. Peters came to the Lions from Cleveland after the trade involving fullback Kenny Webb.

The Lions are expected to come up with a new alignment in the offensive line positions. The coaches have thought about a switch in positions for couple seasons and with the paper work completed the new innovations are ready to be put into practice.

It has been the thought of coach George Wilson and his assistants, which now includes Don Doll, replacement for Don Shula who is now head coach at Baltimore, that offensive guards at 230 pounds are just too small to compete against the mammoth defensive lines throughout the NFL.

The Lions feel they must match the defensive weights and therefore big offensive tackles such as Dan Ryan and Dan LaRose at 280 will be made guards.

This means the offensive line will actually have four guards and a center, all or anyone of which can be used for pulling out and blocking purposes.

novations will get primary attention this week and next week.

Photography day for press cameras is scheduled for next Monday morning with two daily drills scheduled up to the August 3rd scrimmage.

Last year for the first time in five years, the offensive team led by quarterbacks Milt Plunk and Earl Morrill defeated the defensive before 7,300 fans at Wisner Stadium.

Also part of the intra-squad game program are a list of events including running, passing, kicking with money awards going to the winners.

Coach Wilson will outline the events and competitors and the Plunk rules of scoring for the scrimmage.

Cash Deposits Twin Bill for Tigers

Chisox Twice;
Aguirre Wins

1st Sacker's Homers
Take Opening Game,
Start Nightcap Rally

DETROIT (AP) — The account has been overdrawn for a long time but Norm Cash finally looked like money in the bank again last night.

Cash, whose nickname of 1961 "Stormin' Norm" has almost been forgotten, looked like the Cash of two years ago last night as he collected four hits including two homers — one a grand slammer — to give the Tigers their second doubleheader sweep of the season.

The Tigers downed the Chicago White Sox, 5-1 and 4-1, to move above the 500 mark for manager Charlie Dressen (16-15) and move within one game of eighth place and four games out of sixth in the American League "race."

The only unfortunate item was that the Tigers played like Yankee fans as they helped the Yanks stretch their whopping American League lead to nine full games.

Cash, who hit 243 last year after winning the American League batting title with a .361 average, went into the twin bill with a .240 marked but cracked the fourth grand slam of his career to win the opener and started the Tigers off with a solo homer in the second game.

Cash came up eight times in the doubleheader and had four hits plus a walk and knocked in five runs. Al Kaline also collected four hits and batted in three runs. The two players knocked in eight of the 11 Tiger runs.

But a questionable decision by White Sox manager Al Lopez helped set it all up. Ed Fisher, who had relieved starter Johnny Buzhardt in the fifth, was locked in a 1-1 pitching duel with Hank Aguirre when Kaline doubled with two out in the eighth inning. Lopez then pulled Fisher even though Kaline's hit was only the second off him in 3½ innings of work.

Taylor Phillips came in and intentionally walked Rocky Colavito and unintentionally walked Billy Branton to lead the bases. Cash, who isn't supposed to hit left-handers, then cracked a towering drive into the second deck in right on the second pitch for the grand slammer.

Deve De Busch, who came off the campus of U. of Detroit to star in basketball and baseball at the pro level, showed in the second game for the Sox. But he lasted only two innings as Cash homered leading off the second and Kaline cracked a bases-loaded single in the inning to put Detroit ahead for good, 5-1.

Entry Deadline Today

Time Nears For Net Tourney

Today is deadline time for entries in the annual Oakland County Open tennis tournament sponsored by The Pontiac Press and Pontiac Recreation Department.

Play in five and possibly six events will begin Friday and continue for the next two weekends.

Pairings will be drawn up after the 4:00 p.m. deadline today and announced in Thursday's Press.

Largest fields are expected in the men's singles, doubles and novice divisions. Other events include the junior boy's singles, mixed doubles and possibly a woman's singles division if entries warrant.

The tournament will be played at Pontiac Central, Pontiac Northern and Oakland Park courts. Only post entries to be allowed will be in the novice division.

Novice players, who have not won a vacancy letter or have won more than two rounds in any tournament, qualify. They can enter up to one-half hour prior to the first novice match Saturday morning.

Keen competition is expected in men's singles and doubles. Defending champion Leon Hibbs is back in the field along with past champion Ralph Ale.

They are also the defending champions in doubles play.

Hibbs will find a new contender for the men's title with Sam Walker III, Cranbrook netter from Birmingham, moving into the field after winning the junior title last year.

Walker also won the mixed doubles title with Mrs. Ann Holmes in the 1962 tournament. Interested players for any of the divisions can still enter the tournament by submitting entry blanks with fees this evening to The Press sports department or to Jim Agee, tennis director for the city at the courts at Pontiac Central or Oakland Park.

Entry fees are $1.00 per doubles team, $1.00 per men's singles; 50 cents for juniors and no entry fee for novice players. The women's singles event will be held only if enough entries warrant.

Trophies will be awarded to winners and runnersup in each event.

Hamtramck Girl Wins

LAKE BLUFF, Ill. (AP) — Top-ranked Peaches Bartkowicz of Hamtramck, Mich. and seven other seeded players won Tuesday night. Diego Segui posted his first shutout in the majors, pitching Kansas City over the Red Sox 10-0. Detroit took the White Sox twice, 5-1 on Norm Cash's eighth-inning grand slam and 4-1. The Francona's homer in the 12th gave Cleveland and Jim (Mudcat) Grant a 3-2 victory over the Twins, ending the Indians' losing streak at nine games. The Orioles blanked Washington 4-0 behind left-hander Steve Barber.

Miss Bartkowicz, 14 eliminated Barbara Rollins of Springfield, Ohio, 6-2, 6-1. (Second-seeded) Lynne Adams of Orinda, Calif. defeated Gloria Sullivan of St. Petersburg, Fla. 6-4, 1-6, 6-1.

Beat Pittsburgh, 6-0

By The Associated Press
You can't beat the Los Angeles Dodgers' formula for winning. Just keep the opposition from scoring.

The Dodgers turned in their 17th season shutout Tuesday night as left-hander Johnny Podres protected their six-game National League lead with a 6-0 victory over the Pittsburgh Pirates.

Already ahead of their previous Los Angeles shutout record of 14 set in 1960, the Dodgers need only five more runless victories to equal their all-time Brooklyn high of 22 in 1908 and 1916.

Six of their shutouts have been by 1-0 scores. Only once since 1890 have the Dodgers won more by the lowest of shutout margins. That was in 1907 when the Dodger staff fashioned seven 1-0 victories.

Podres was not particularly overpowering spinning his fifth shutout of the campaign and 10th victory in 16 decisions. The 34-year-old outpaw permitted seven hits, walked three and allowed a Pirate runner in every inning but one. Three double plays, however, pulled him out of as many jams. John Fannick six.

Second place St. Louis' Cardinals defeated Milwaukee 5-1 for their fourth straight victory. Jim Maloney pitched a one-hitter for Cincinnati, beating the Chicago Cubs and Larry Jackson 1-0. Willie Mays cracked a pair of homers in the Giants 8-1 rout of the New York Mets and Houston snapped a six-game losing streak beating Philadelphia 6-5 in 15 innings.

Bob Friend, Pittsburgh's hard-luck, right-hander, allowed the Dodgers only five hits and one run before bowing out for a pinch hitter in the seventh inning but absorbed his ninth defeat, four via shutouts.

2nd Place Race
in AL Is Close

By The Associated Press

The battle may be over for the top spot in the American League — but that's quite a skirmish going on for second place.

There are no less than four teams in a virtual deadlock for the runner-up spot behind New York's surging Yankees, whose latest drive has carried them to a whopping nine games ahead of the pack.

Here's how the also-rans in the first division stand—Boston is second, one percentage point ahead of Chicago and Minnesota and three in front of Baltimore.

All but the Orioles lost ground Tuesday night. Diego Segui posted his first shutout in the majors, pitching Kansas City over the Red Sox 10-0. Detroit took the White Sox twice, 5-1 on Norm Cash's eighth-inning grand slam and 4-1. The Francona's homer in the 12th gave Cleveland and Jim (Mudcat) Grant a 3-2 victory over the Twins, ending the Indians' losing streak at nine games. ## YANKS AGAIN

And the Yankees? They won again, naturally, riding John Blanchard's home run slugging and the shutout pitching of Stan Williams and Steve Hamilton to a 7-0 romp over the Los Angeles Angels.

The Los Angeles Dodgers maintained their six-game lead in the National League, whipping Pittsburgh 6-0. St. Louis' second-place Cardinals beat Milwaukee 5-1. San Francisco chuted the New York Mets 9-1. Cincinnati edged the Chicago Cubs 1-0 on Jim Maloney's one-hit pitching, and Houston milled Philadelphia 6-5 in 15 innings.

Blanchard, the reserve outfielder or filling in for the ailing Roger Maris, kept up his heavy hitting with a pair of homers for the Yankees, who clinched it with a six-run cluster in the fifth inning against the Angels' ace, the laser Hamilton, relieving Williams in the eighth with the bases filled. Killed that threat by striking out three straight and completed the shutout by getting out of another bases-loaded situation in the ninth. Paul Foytack was the loser.

Segui's breaking pitches and low fastballs checked the Red Sox and kept the right-hander's fifth victory in his last six decisions. He's now 6-3. The Athletics netted the game's only run in the first inning off rookie Bob Melton on a

Wayne Causey's double and Jerry

Lunney's single.

Both Grant and curvballing Camilo Pascual went all the way in the Indians-Twins marathon at Cleveland, ended by Francona's homer with two out in the last of the 13th. Grant, 7-8, allowed nine hits and blanked Minnesota on four over the last 19 innings. Pascual gave up seven hits, including a homer by Willie Kirkland in the sixth after a double by Francona.

Barber won his 13th of the season and first in four weeks with a four-hitter as the Orioles beat the Senators for the ninth time in 10 meetings this year. Baltimore nipped Claude Osteen for a run in the first inning, and nailed it down with three more in the sixth, the final two riding in on John Orsino's homer.

U.S. Coach Analyzes Soviet Track Meet

WARSAW (AP)—Never again, recommendation that we have at least one time-up meet before the team goes to Moscow for the annual dual meet with the Soviet Union without stopping off for a warm-up meet first.

That seemed certain today, after the coaches and officials had finished their analysis of the recent American invasion of Moscow that turned out only slightly better than Napoleon's.

"I am making the very strong

The team spent a week in Moscow this year before the meet. The girls' team suffered one of the humiliations in American international sports history.

Actually, the team went to Moscow a week in advance to meet objections that they had been going there in the past without proper time to become accustomed to the food and water.

It didn't work.

"They went too long without competition," Jordan said. "It was a young team, and had very little international experience. A team like that can explode, or can sag. This one sagged, at least the first day, although I am proud of the way they came back and pulled out the meet on the second day."

The athletes did a lot of sight-seeing, and some of the girls especially—may have spent more time signing autographs or admiring Russian youngsters than training. The girls' devil-may-care attitude may have washed over to the men's team.

There was a possibility that one or two of the girls might be sent home.

However, women's team coach Margaret Ellison of Abilene, Tex., said, "I think it's better to give them another chance."

"They were nervous, and it was obviously a mistake to send them into the meet without international competition."

The girls may not do much better here—Poland has a strong women's team—but the men are expected to try to pour it on.

However, the Poles have a good sprinter in Marian Folk, winner of the 200 at Chicago last year, and Andzej Badenski, a 46.1 man in the 400.

The hosts have an almost certain winner in Josef Schmidt in the triple jump and Janusz Sidlo in the javelin.

49ers' Conner Injured

MORAGA, Calif. (AP)—Clyde Conner, seven-year veteran offensive end with the San Francisco 49ers, fractured his left collar bone in a fumble drill Tuesday and will be out of action at least six weeks.

Conner, who operates at split end or flanker back, hit his shoulder against the ground when he dove for the ball.

New Bass Leader in Press Contest

Results will normally make a bigger impression than words, so says Sonny Liston and Cassius Clay.

Local angler William H. McKinney of Oxford will go along with that philosophy.

The 29-year-old county maintenance worker, who claims he has a fishing rod in his hand almost as much as a fork, had company over the weekend from Massachusetts in the person of his brother, Dick.

They were testing the possibilities in Oxford Lake Sunday afternoon when the local resident had a "light" strike.

"It's a funny thing," Bill related later. "Dick (the brother) been talking most of the time about the ones he catches in Massachusetts; but, when this one shot straight out of the water, his mouth just dropped open."

"This one" happens to be the newest leader in the black bass division of the Press summer fishing contest. The big mouth beauty weighed in at six pounds, 10 ounces, almost one full pound heavier than the previous entry.

County residents have six weeks in which to better McKinney's effort.

Other contest leaders are an 11-pound, 9-ounce entry in the Northern pike-walleye-muskie class; a 1-pound, 3-ounce bluegill; and a 6-pound, 3-ounce rainbow trout.

The bass and pike winners will receive $50 savings bonds, and $25 bonds will go to the other two top catches. All entries must be weighed at the Press and must be caught in Oakland County public waters.

Robin Winner; Yachts' Speed for 'Birds'

MACKINAC ISLAND, Mich. (AP)—The Chicago cutter Robin is the official over-all winner of the Port Huron to Mackinac yacht race—a race so slow the first finisher averaged only three miles an hour.

The Milwaukee yacht Blitzen, winner of last week's Chicago to Mackinac race, was first across the finish line with a time of 74 hours 35 minutes 41 seconds for the 23-mile race up Lake Huron.

But Blitzen's corrected time was three hours slower than the 69 hours one minute 41 seconds posted by Robin, a class B yacht.

WIND NIL

Only 35 of a field of 106 yachts had finished by dawn. Winds at the finish line were almost at a standstill. The race was the slowest since 1925, when the first boat needed 88 hours to finish.

The Detroit yacht Apache clinched class A honors. Falcon was second, 17 minutes behind, and Vitesse II was third. Both are Detroit based.

Behind Robin in class B were Meteor III and Wind Song, both of Detroit.

All-Stars Work Hard to Improve Defense

CHICAGO (AP)—Football success depends on a balanced combination of offense and defense and that's what the College All-Stars hope to develop before meeting the Green Bay Packers in Soldier Field Aug. 2.

The All-Stars are not too worried about their offense, which will be led by some of the nation's top quarterbacks of 1962 to find nothing of a host of speedy backs.

But the All-Stars suddenly find they might have a defense which can contain the National Football League champions.

Head Coach Otto Graham and some expert observers watched the All-Stars hold two drills Tuesday and agreed the team appears to have a stronger defense than the 1962 squad which fell apart in the fourth quarter and lost to Green Bay 42-20.

Red Sox Sign Bob Turley

BOSTON (AP)—Boston Manager Johnny Pesky admits "I'm quite surprised we got Bob Turley."

If the 32-year-old right-hander can inject more life into a tiring pitching staff he could mean the difference between second place and lower for the Red Sox in the American League race.

In the wake of a 1-0 loss to Kansas City Tuesday night, Pesky said if Turley is fit and ready "he'll probably pitch against Los Angeles over the weekend."

Turley was signed as a free agent by vice president Mike Huggins Tuesday only a few hours after the waiver time had expired.

Mother Shoots Husband 13 Times in Indiana Park

BEDFORD, Ind. (UPI) — "I think God will forgive me for what I have done," the attractive 42-year-old mother said.

Mrs. Geneva Brewer was held today on murder charges after she admitted she shot her husband 13 times at a road side park near here.

Troops Hold Riot Drills in Viet Nam

SAIGON (UPI) — Five thousand Vietnamese troops ran through riot drills at a parade field near Saigon today in the government's largest show of force since the Buddhist crisis erupted in South Viet Nam 10 weeks ago.

But the streets of the capital remained quiet, and no anti-government demonstrations were reported.

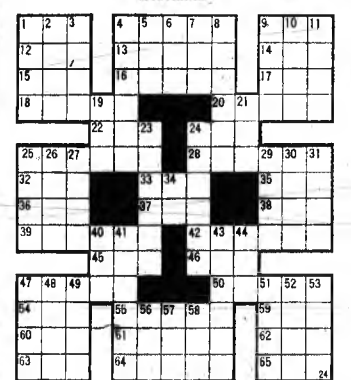

Buddhists in South Viet Nam, who constitute about three-quarters of the population, have charged that they are discriminated against by president Ngo Dinh Diem's regime. Diem is a Roman Catholic.

Buddhists have demanded more rights for themselves in protest demonstrations, sit-downs and, in at least one case, by committing suicide in public. Reports have indicated that U.S. officials are concerned that the religious-political split in South Viet Nam may hamper the country's fight against Communist guerrillas.

Yesterday 400 wounded war veterans, widows and others turned out in a counter demonstration to urge the Buddhist leaders not to disrupt the war effort against the Viet Cong.

Today's drill, near Saigon airport, was considered an indication of how seriously the government viewed the current situation. Paratroop battalions have been alerted against possible disorders in the past, but this was the first time such large numbers were assembled as a precaution.

CLEAN SWEEP — Street cleaner Sweeney Tabin pushes his broom on London's Westminster bridge, after receiving a "hearty welcome" from New York's Mayor Robert Wagner to give Times Square a going over in September. Tabin requested the job, saying he had swept every important square in London and several foreign countries.

SIDES RIPPED OFF — The interiors of three railroad passenger cars are exposed after passengers injured early this morning sidesawed a diesel engine early this morning.

2 Killed, 30 Injured in Train Wreck

HARRISON, N.J. — A man sideswiped the diesel, tearing off the sides of three of its cars as 30 other passengers injured early this morning when a Port Authority Trans Hudson line train collided with a parked diesel engine east of the Harrison station.

The diesel, with 10 cars coupled behind, was stopped on a spur but the train car was stuck into the path of the train.

The last stop before the crash was Newark on a run from New York City, where the collision occurred about 1 a.m.

Police said the passenger train was the hospital reported.

The dead man was Quinton Villaneuva, 63, of Irvington, N.J. He died at a Newark hospital. Another passenger, Louis Galluccio of Newark, was reported in critical condition.

The accident occurred within a half mile of Harrison station, two miles from Pennsylvania Station in downtown Newark.

35 PASSENGERS

There were 35 passengers on the train. The parked diesel had a four-man crew, but police said none of them was injured.

"The impact knocked the engine back into the second car," said a passenger.

About 15 of the injured were taken by train to the Newark station.

"There was a terrible impact," said one. "I don't know what happened. I'm still shocked."

The accident stopped temporary service between Journal Square in Jersey City and Newark. Harrison is the only stop between those two points.

"Mary tough to work with." I put the question to Howard Dietz and Arthur Schwartz, the old youngsters, the adult kids, who wrote the songs and the book for Mary, all about Laurette Taylor back in 1901.

"Yes, all stars are tough," Dietz nodded.

"I don't think so," Schwartz, the straight man, said.

"Mary is but it's hard for her to be tough with us; we give her such brilliant material," Dietz smiled.

"She'll win every award," Schwartz volunteered. "Our publisher thinks we have several hit songs."

THE MIDNIGHT EARL ...

Perry Come hopes to film each of his TV shows in a different city.

Bob Cummings' son, Bob Jr., will fly his hand around the country to plug his dad's film, "Booth Party." Earl Lancaster's due here for his "Leopard" premiere Aug. 12.

TODAY'S BEST LAUGH: There's one Hollywood couple so incompatible they can't even agree on what color the water should be in their swimming pool.

WISH YOU SAID THAT: The average American knows the names of all the major league ballplayers and about half the U.S. Presidents.

EARL'S PEARLS: Today's suburbanite spends a fortune for interior decorations then chokes and rals in the backyard — That's Earl, brother.

Pontiac City Affairs

Loan Gets Approval

The City Commission approved commissioners approve a resolution calling for a transfer of the City Commission, Langtue Municipal Employees' Retirement Fund to finance the city's half of the proposed $338,000 community center.

The $338,000 loan, which will be repaid in 20 years, will include plus 40 per cent interest from the city's capital improvement fund, matches a grant from the federal government.

The community center will be constructed on the old water works property at Walnut and Wesson.

The proposed recreation center will include a swimming pool, bathhouse, and activities building.

In other business, the City Commission approved a contract with the Home and Housing Finance Agency for a $24,830 federal grant to acquire land for the proposed Gateway Park.

The total cost of the park is estimated at $174,150. The federal grant covers about 20 per cent of the cost.

He must make periodic reports to the City Commission, Langtue Municipal Employees' Retirement Fund to finance the city's half of the proposed $338,000 community center.

The school board will deed the school district for urban renewal purposes for $320,000, while selling a 3.2 acre site in the Civic Center, south of the city hall, for $55,000.

The school board will erect new administration offices on the Civic Center site.

A preliminary contract with Charles L. Langtue, of 3611 Dwyer Lane, Waterford Township, was approved. Langtue, 51, is exclusive developer of urban renewal lands in the central business district.

The 12-month contract gives Langtue the exclusive option to develop and purchase urban renewal lands in the downtown district at a "fair market price."

Hospital Suite Set for Jackie

WASHINGTON (UPI)—A wing of the base hospital at Otis Air Force Base, Mass., has been specially prepared as a maternity suite for Mrs. Jacqueline Kennedy at a cost of more than $12,000.

It was understood that the facilities were set up for Mrs. Kennedy to have her baby next month at the hospital, 18 miles from her summer home at Hyannis Port, if she should decide against returning to Washington for the birth.

Original plans were for the First Lady to go to Walter Reed Army Hospital here. This still has not been ruled out, but the arrangements are being made for her care at Otis AFB on an "if needed" basis.

The wing being reserved for Mrs. Kennedy was reported to contain seven or eight rooms, connected by a corridor to the main hospital building. Her room would be about 100 feet from the delivery room.

The suite includes a room for the President, which is said to have bullet-proof windows. Other features are a special kitchen, a nursery, a medical room and a doctor's room.

Delay Launch of Syncom 2

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—Spacecraft technical problems today forced an indefinite postponement in the scheduled attempt to launch the Syncom 2 communications satellite into a 22,300-mile-high orbit where it would appear to hang over one area of the earth.

The trouble cropped up only a few hours before launching while the countdown was under way.

Would-Be Scotch Thief

Will Go Pretty Thirsty
SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Dr. Joan Shipley complained to authorities that someone broke into her rented locker at San Francisco International Airport and stole three wooden boxes filled with textbooks on embryology, histology, physical diagnosis and other technical subjects.

Authorities had a strong clue to the reason for the theft when Dr. Shipley told the boxes bore the markings of their original contents: "Cutty's Scotch."

Envoys Confer in Final Rounds of Ban Talks

Red Leader Pledges Further Efforts to Ease World Tension

From Our News Wires
MOSCOW — Premier Nikita Khrushchev today offered guarantees to make the African continent a nonnuclear zone if the United States and other nuclear powers agree.

Khrushchev made his offer as American, British and Soviet negotiators met for what diplomats said could be the final round of talks aimed at a limited nuclear test-ban treaty that would be the first major cold war settlement in eight years.

His remarks came in a message to African nations that took part in the recent conference at Addis Ababa, Ethiopia.

In his message, Khrushchev pledged further Soviet efforts to ease world tension.

"We shall go on doing everything to ease international tension, to consolidate peace by implementing the principles of the peaceful coexistence of states," he said.

The official Tass news agency in reporting the message, said Khrushchev believes East-West agreement to cease nuclear testing in space, in the atmosphere and under water could effect "a radical turn" toward bettering the international climate.

Tass said Khrushchev also wants a nonaggression treaty between the NATO powers and the Communist Warsaw Treaty powers.

NIK AGREES
Khrushchev said in his message that the Soviet Union agrees fully with the appeal of the Addis Ababa conference to honor the "decisions on the recognition of Africa as a stemless zone."

He said that if the African nations conclude an agreement to this effect, the Soviet Union "is ready to give the necessary guarantees that, in case of any military complications, Africa will be regarded as a continent which is outside the use of nuclear arms."

"Provided, of course," he added, "that identical guarantees are given simultaneously by the United States and the other nuclear powers."

In the past, Communist Poland's Foreign Minister Adam Rapacki has suggested that a stretch of Central Europe be declared an atom-free zone.

This view has been endorsed by the Soviet Union, and Khrushchev himself has repeated the suggestion on several occasions and even has suggested the Mediterranean and other places be similarly designated atom-free areas.

Senate Attitude Appears Hazy

Uncertain Reception Awaiting Document

WASHINGTON (AP)—An uncertain reception in the Senate awaits a nuclear test-ban treaty which U.S. sources say is all but completed in Moscow.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk and disarmament agency director William C. Foster sought to blaze a path for the treaty yesterday by showing a draft of the proposed agreement to the Senate Foreign Relations Committee.

Afterward, committee Chairman J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., said it was possible the Senate would approve it this session but declined to go so far as to predict that would happen.

Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois would predict only that the treaty would set off lively debate. He said he would not know until he had seen all of the provisions whether he would oppose it or not.

Informed sources said American, British and Soviet negotiators had virtually completed their work on the test-ban pact and were preparing to issue a final communiqué soon, perhaps later today.

Signing of the treaty would send it to the Senate, which must ratify it by a two-thirds vote before it becomes binding upon the United States.

Harris said he'd not consider the request unreasonable and hoped the railroad would go along with the request.

Then Loomis arose to say that the railroads are very concerned with a request for what he termed today postponement.

He said the railroads have been trying to negotiate a work rules settlement for years and charged they are still being forced to make unnecessary payments for work not performed.

Loomis said that has "become intolerable under present conditions."

He reviewed the last year of maneuvering.

"In all there have been six postponements growing out of legal moves for voluntary agreement at the request of the administration," he said.

"The record is crystal clear that the railroads have been completely cooperative. But how much longer can we continue this and survive?"

Auto Industry Sets Model-Year Record

DETROIT (UPI) — The auto industry today set a new production record.

Ward's Automotive Reports, the statistical bible of the industry, said some time today cumulative output of the 1963 model year will overtake the 1955 record of 7,131 million cars, the only other model run in which 7 million or more cars were built.

Ward's said by the close of today's operations, the 1963 model year will approximate 7,140 million units. The statistical agency also said it was expected that another 200,000 cars will be made before the 1964 model changeover early next month.

Of the 7.34 million cars projected for the year, Ward's said, General Motors will account for 33.4 per cent; Ford 26.4 per cent; Chrysler Corp. 12.8 per cent; American Motors Corp. 4.3 per cent and Studebaker 1.1 per cent.

Auto sales this year have been highlighted by a record showing Chevrolet and Pontiac of the General Motors Corp. line and strong resurgence by Chrysler Corp. Ford Division of Ford Motor Co. also has contributed to the robust sales figures with the introduction of its 1963-1/2 model cars.

The biggest sales increase this year has been posted by Chrysler. During the first six months of the current year, Chrysler posted a total sales of 313,425, or 12.79 per cent of the market.

During the same period last year Chrysler sales totaled 321,749 cars, or 8.89 per cent of the market.

BEST YEAR
Pontiac already has turned out more cars this year than any year in its history. The division hopes for total sales of about 500,000 before the model year is out.

Chevrolet posted two records in the week ending July 21 along with surpassing the total number of cars and trucks it produced during the entire model run last year.

During the week, Chevrolet produced a total of 55,089 passenger cars, breaking the previous high for a single week of 51,577. That figure was produced in the week ending June 18, 1963.

CAR-TRUCK UNITS
Combined car-truck units totaled 69,670, topping the previous weekly high of 62,962 cars and trucks produced in the week ending Jan. 31, 1960.

Edward H. Kelley, general manufacturing manager in charge of the division's 35 national plants, said the total 1963 Chevrolet passenger car and truck total surpassed last year's mark Monday.

At the week's end production for the 1963 model year stood at 2,330,804 units. Last year's record model run totaled 2,470,632 units.

The refunds are the result of a Federal Power Commission ruling that Consumers Power Co. for several years, was charged excessive rates for natural gas supplied by two pipeline companies.

PASSED ON
Because the rates to utility customers are based in part on rates paid by the utility to its suppliers, Michigan state law provides that rebates must be passed on to customers.

A public hearing will be held July 25 by the Public Service Commission on the plan proposed by Consumers Power Co. for rebating the money to its customers.

Consumers said it expects to pay the refund in credits on September billings, with the amounts to be based on billings in March, April and May of this year.

The federal agency found that Consumers Power Co. had been charged excessive rates for natural gas by Panhandle Eastern Pipeline Co. from February, 1962, through August, 1960.

Tax Commission Sets Tuesday for Appeal by GM

A public hearing on the General Motors Corp. appeal of its 1963 assessed valuation in Pontiac has been set for 10 a.m. Tuesday.

The State Tax Commission announced today that the hearing will be held at the Pontiac City Hall.

General Motors appealed to the tax commission asserting its valuation was some $32 million too high.

The city has delayed levying the 1963 city taxes until the General Motors appeal is settled.

Area to Share in Gas Rebate

Consumers Power to Refund $2.4 Million

Some 150,000 Consumers Power Co. customers in Oakland County will share in $2,353,000 in rebates to be passed on to 500,000 Michigan customers of the utility firm, according to a report today by the State Public Service Commission.

Included will be some 43,000 customers in the company's Pontiac Division, according to local Consumers Power representative Charles Brown.

The refunds are the result of a Federal Power Commission ruling that Consumers Power Co. for several years, was charged excessive rates for natural gas supplied by two pipeline companies.

Sprinkling Ban Still On

Highs to Stay Near 90

High temperatures will continue in the Pontiac area through Saturday. The weathermen predicts highs near 90 and lows near 60.

Occasional scattered showers measuring about 1/4 inch may be expected mostly over the week end.

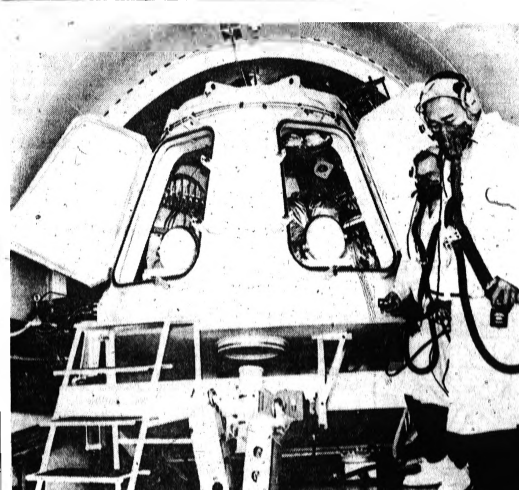

City Manager Robert A. Stierer said the sprinkling ban is still on.

The water level is at an all-time low, 130.7 feet below ground level at the Walnut Street water plant. This is due partially to the need to fill and coordinate the Moncalm water tank before the arrival of Detroit water the first of August, he said.

The city started filling the Moncalm tank yesterday and continued through the night. It will be drained and refilled over the weekend to function as a standby for the northside of the city.

Twenty of the city's 22 wells are now in service.

New Program to Aid Industry

County Committee Sets 4 Objectives

An economic development program aimed at drawing more industry and creating new jobs in Oakland County is starting to take shape.

A special committee has drawn up four primary objectives and is recommending that the county hire a coordinator to carry out the program.

The committee's goals are:

● Initiate and promote programs that will improve the economic returns to industries and businesses now operating in the county.

● Foster plans designed to give full employment of labor in each community.

● Develop an action program to bring new businesses and industry to Oakland County and at the same time emphasize employment opportunities.

● Coordinate local economic development programs and act as liaison between federal, state and local agencies and committees.

In a report to county supervisors, the committee said its first goal is to attract new business and industry to the county.

A definite and more specific program has yet to be prepared, according to Roy P. Goodspeed, chairman of a subcommittee formed for that purpose.

He said present thinking calls for a coordinator who would utilize as much information as possible regarding the county prepared by the County Planning Commission.

ADDITIONAL INFORMATION
This information would be supplemented with that obtained from the industrial development agencies of Detroit Edison Co., Consumers Power Co. and Michigan Bell Telephone Co., also from the Michigan Department of Economic Development and various boards of commerce, Goodspeed added.

"It would appear that there is going to be much competition in the location of industries within the next few years," he said, "because from the information that we can obtain, many governmental and non-governmental organizations are putting forth strong efforts to bring industry to (Continued on Page 2, Col. 3)

Teen-Age Boy Saves Children

A quick-thinking 15-year-old boy is credited with saving the lives of at least three younger children when a speedboat exploded and burned yesterday on Maccady Lake, Waterford Township.

Oakland County Sheriff's deputy says Thomas McManus, 15, 5501 Dewberry Lane, Waterford Township, also helped the others remain afloat until rescuers arrived.

GIRL INJURED
The only child badly injured, Roberta Bohez, 12, of 8720 W. Commerce Township, is in satisfactory condition at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital. She suffered first and second degree burns on the lower part of both legs. Thomas told police he had just finished gassing up the 16-foot family boat. He warned the girl, her brother Robert, 10, and Hugh O'Brien, 5, of Kenmore, N.Y., not to sit on the engine cover.

No sooner had they scampered off, than an explosion set the boat afloat and hurled the engine cover 200 feet into the air.

Say Reds on Verge of Massive Push

CHICAGO (AP) — The Sun-Times said today that a last-ditch plan for saving U.S. troops in Laos has been settled upon by the face of signs that Communist China may be on the verge of a massive new push in Southeast Asia.

In a dispatch from Washington, Thomas B. Ross said that the plan was drawn for possible use in the event the Communists were about to overrun Laos completely. "Reliable military sources disclosed Tuesday that the plan calls for U.S. occupation of Vientiane, the Laotian capital, and the surrounding Mekong River valley," the Sun-Times said. "This is considered the only area of vital military importance in the primitive mountain kingdom. Top U.S. officials in and out of the Pentagon are determined not to get U.S. troops bogged in the rest of the country."

The story added that the new military aid for Laos also involved a U.S. air—possibly land—strike against Hanoi, the capital of Communist North Vietnam and the staging area for Communist operations in Southeast Asia.

"The Hanoi strike would be designed to forestall use of North Vietnam or Laos for a thrust into the neighboring South Vietnam," the paper said.

Meanwhile, a reduced force of racial demonstrators returned today to a Brooklyn hospital construction project and demanded more jobs for Negroes and Puerto Ricans in the city's building trades.

12 ARRESTED

Police arrested 12 pickets, five of them women, in the demonstration at the Downtown Medical Center. More than 140 sit-down pickets were arrested yesterday.

Picketing also resumed at the Rutgers housing construction site on the Lower East Side of Manhattan.

The split threatened to offset the effects of the new agreement signed in Washington yesterday by Negro and white leaders in an attempt to end the town's explosive racial problems.

Levi B. Phillips Jr., head of the Dorchester Business and Citizens Association, said he was quitting because the association's directors had voted to bring the amendment to a public vote, then to work for its defeat on the referendum.

"We believe that the coordinator should begin by inventorying all the advantages and assets that the Oakland County can offer. He should have maps showing the existing industrial areas of the county, vacant sites that are now zoned and available for industry and also areas that might be available.

"We believe that he should become personally acquainted with the heads of local industries to learn what their problems are and determine the needs of our existing industries.

"He should do everything possible to make a favorable climate for high-class industry to locate in Oakland County."

Most important of all, he should be a man who can utilize all of this information and go out and sell Oakland County to the various prospects."

Formation of the Economic Development Committee was required for the area to qualify for federal grants and loans under the Area Redevelopment Act.

FEDERAL FUNDS

The act is intended to make federal funds available to stimulate business enterprise and thus create new employment.

Comprising the committee are Ralph Main, chairman; Donald Kalmback, vice chairman; Goodspeed; Charles Brown, Jr.; Clare Cummings; Hollis W. Jewell, Jr.; Roger Ober; John Behard; Harlan Ritz; Ernest Seasholtz; J. Robert Swanson, all members of the County Planning Commission.

Also, ex-officio members of the commission by virtue of their county positions. Fred Work Director R. J. Alexander, Drain Commissioner Daniel Barry and Road Commissioner Sol Lomerson, and Fred Haggard, representing labor.

All were appointed to the committee by Delos Hamlin, chairman of the County Board of Supervisors.

Governors Battle Again

MIAMI BEACH (UPI) — Republican Kerr-Mills state program now under the traditional rotation between the parties.

Gov. Mark O. Hatfield of Oregon, told newsmen there would be at least some "language" on civil rights which could draw floor fire.

Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller started the last day off with a civil defense report. It was the first defense report it was the first time a Republican in the office of governor had led the conference into making a formal declaration on civil rights.

But it was a Democratic proposal by a 38 to 3 vote with only three Democrats dissenting. Three Democratic governors were recorded for it and five were absent.

There was little doubt, however, that the heat generated by Rockefeller had resulted in approval of the compromise plan instructing the conference to give "top priority" to civil rights in the coming year. It also appeared to have warmed his presidential hopes considerably.

MEETING TO END

The governors' meeting ended today after two more business sessions which may cause an anticlimactic argument over more Republican civil rights proposals.

These were reported coming in a minority report from the Public Welfare Committee in the form of demands that federal aid be withheld from states permitting racial discrimination in state-federal programs.

Election of a new chairman was also on today's agenda with the job going to a Republican.

Bloomfield Twp. Board Rules on Green Belt Area

by Bernard Edelman on the west side of Telegraph.

BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP — The green belt between the Bloomfield Plaza shopping center and Birmingham Farms subdivision should follow specifications contained in a Circuit Court decree a year ago, the Township Board has decided.

The decree set the width of the green belt at 80 feet, including a 30-foot drive and a 5-foot cyclone fence with a 5-foot shrub.

Subdivision residents, however, had sought an agreement with shopping center owner Irwin Cohn which would include an 8-foot stockade fence.

The shopping center is on the southwest corner of West Maple and Telegraph.

Township trustees discussed another green belt — this one bordering the proposed shopping center on the Southeast corner of Maple and Lahser.

The green belt is to be 30 feet wide with a 5-foot cyclone fence and 4-foot shrub. A building permit for the shopping center has been issued to Schmier and Schmier, Pontiac law firm.

For the first time in its history, the Township Board has agreed to pay for a sewer easement.

Trustees reversed their earlier decision and agreed to offer Standard Oil Division of the American Oil Co. $800 for an easement north of the Standard service station at Telegraph and Square Lake Road.

The township requires the easement for construction of a sanitary sewer to serve Miracle Mile Shopping Center and the currently undeveloped property owned by Standard.

Southern Governors Plan to Block JFK

MIAMI BEACH (UPI) — Govs. George C. Wallace of Alabama and Ross R. Barnett of Mississippi are meeting informally with other governors to drum up support for a plan to block President Kennedy's re-election.

The two Deep South governors said they have had several informal chats with chief executives from other states on their proposed "unpledged electors" plan.

Proponents of the move are urging that state legislatures make a "preferential presidential primary" mandatory. This, they say, would enable a second slate of "unpledged" presidential electors — an anti-Kennedy slate — to appear on the state primary ballots.

Detroit Will Close Sale

DETROIT (AP) — Detroit officials planned today to close the sale of 23 acres of downtown land to International Village Inc. The buyers say they'll develop a retail shopping center, restaurants, and motels.

The influence issue arose as the subcommittee questioned Korth yesterday in his final day of prolonged testimony. Transcripts of the closed hearing were made public today. Air Force Secretary Eugene Zuckert is scheduled to testify tomorrow.

GROTON, Conn. (UPI) — Lt. Cmdr. John W. Harvey, captain of the ill-fated submarine Thresher, has been commended posthumously for "meritorious achievement" for his role in a 1962 historic submarine feat.

Harvey was executive officer of the nuclear sub Seadragon when it rendezvoused with the nuclear sub Skate at the North Pole last summer.

Work to Begin on Holiday Inn

Construction of a $1.5 million Holiday Inn in Bloomfield Township is scheduled to begin late this month.

The two-story building with about 120 units will be located on the east side of Telegraph, a half mile north of Square Lake Road.

The main building will contain a 240-seat dining room, a coffee shop and a cocktail lounge. A class "B" liquor license for the establishment tentatively was approved by the township board this week.

Units will include executive suites and single and double connecting rooms.

Cribbs, baby strollers and a playground will be provided for youngsters and kennels will be available for traveling canines.

Facilities will also include a 35 by 60-foot swimming pool in the central courtyard and a nine-hole par 3 golf course. There will be parking spaces for 300 cars.

The new Holiday Inn is being developed by Harold and Betty Ann Lutzsch, Detroit builders, and Walter Stoddard of Bloomfield Township.

By JOSEPH E. BRANT

SAO PAULO, Brazil (UPI)—Early this month 1,000 peasants armed with rifles and sticks seized 5,000 acres belonging to the Coqueiro Sugar Mill in Brazil's explosive northeast.

They are still squatting there as the government gingerly negotiates their resettlement.

Present in the isolated peasant action were all the elements which make the northeast a revolutionary tinder-box: hunger, unemployment, semi-feudalism, absentee land ownership and Marxist-Leninist agitation.

"Anyone trying to dislodge us will be met by bullets because the land belongs to the peasants and we shall defend it," the squatters' leader said.

He is a 22-year-old law student, Joao Alfredo Dos Anjos, a master of Marxist dialectics who has lectured the peasants on Mao Tse-Tung's handbook on guerrilla warfare.

Many of the leaders of the 100 peasant leagues in the northeast are in Brazil, with total membership around 45,000, are urban lawyers. Most are Marxist-Leninists. Some have been trained in Havana, Moscow, Prague and Peking.

The leagues have spoken so far that the Communist leadership of Brazil plans "urban leagues" to bring organizing agitation to the thousands of "favelados," or slum-dwellers, of the nation's cities.

The peasant leagues originally were organized as social assistance entities. Their present leadership seeks to destroy existing property rights and establish a Cuban-Chinese pattern of collective ownership and party dictatorship.

Lawyer Francisco (Chico) Juliao, is regarded as the father of the peasant leagues, but he really rose to prominence by defending in court a benevolent society of sharecroppers from an absentee landlord sugar baron.

Juliao, an obscure Recife attorney and Pernambuco state deputy, became a hero of the northeast's landless peasants overnight by winning the 1955 case. Almost from that date the benefit to political objectives of the tenant societies can be charted through his "helping to support the sick and pay over-due debts."

Juliao, now an admitted Communist, is a federal deputy who has made frequent trips to Havana and Cuba. He has been in being educated in Cuba. He inherited a sugar mill, but like to state he is "a born socialist."

The northeast comprises 17.5 per cent of Brazil's territory and about 32 per cent of the population.

Contributing to its poverty are perennial droughts, the greed of the sugar barons, a dangerous birth-rate explosion of an economically unproductive populace and a low rate of industrialization.

Most of the sugar barons of Pernambuco live in palatial residences in Recife, Natal and Fortaleza and commute to their feudal estates in their private airplanes.

They are largely indifferent to the plight of their sugar workers, who earn an average of $8.00 U.S. a month, are paid with vouchers good only at plantation stores where prices are exorbitant, and who work under the direction of overseers called "capangas," many of whom are hated and feared.

"OUTRIGHT FEUDALISM"

Sugar plantation employees must still submit to the "camalao," or yoke, a vestige of outright feudalism. It means the worker must give his landlord one free day of labor per week to augment the yearly monetary rent he pays for the hotel he lives in on the estate.

Some of the younger and more enlightened sugar barons have initiated social reforms of their own, but these are a minority.

Other democratic forces are at work to improve the life of the northeast and prevent delivery of the region and Brazil into the hands of the Communists.

The Roman Catholic Church has founded rural unions to challenge the peasant leagues. An estimated 35,000 peasants have joined so far. The Church has set up 1,350 "radiopeasant schools," teaching an estimated 25,000 semi-literate and illiterate pupils by radio to read and write and handle basic arithmetic with the help of scattered instructors.

The government's Superintendent for the Development of the Northeast (SUDENE) has launched its five-year economic development plan for the region. The federal government has earmarked $70 million for road building, rural electrification and improvement of natural resources in the region between 1963 and 1968.

A corollary organization, Fide, grants financial advantages to national and foreign firms willing to invest in the northeast.

The U.S. Government, under the Alliance for Progress, has delivered $83 million for northern projects from July 1, 1961 to June 30, 1963. Of the amount, $74.1 million was made available during the past 12 months.

A major objective of the alliance funds has been to stimulate progress through tangible developments such as irrigation facilities, rural electrification, home and school construction and public health institutions.

Only time will tell how successful these efforts have been.

MISS RICE-DAVIES SAID yesterday during the London vice trial of Dr. Stephen Ward that she had been intimate with Fairbanks, currently a resident of Britain, who has entertained royalty at his home.

Miss Rice-Davies, when asked why she brought Fairbanks' name into the case, said it was because she did not like him.

Following her testimony, Fairbanks issued a statement of denial through a spokesman here because British law temporarily prevents him from speaking out in London.

"I was shocked to hear a report about what I had remembered as a perfectly innocent acquaintance," Fairbanks said through the spokesman.

"My meeting with both Miss (Christine) Keeler and Miss Rice-Davies occurred as a result of their wanting an opportunity in films in which, as I was no longer producing, I could not really assist them. I suggested agents and others they might contact."

"Whereas I at no time was involved in the matter stated in court, and under English law am prevented from making a statement in London until after the case is completed, I can say I am not only astonished at the statement, but vigorously deny it."

He said there would be no change in policy or personnel at the Roseville company.

Announcement of the transaction was made by Paul H. Travis, president of the Rochester firm.

He said there would be no change in policy or personnel at the Roseville company.

Market Trade Mixed

Oils, Motors, Steels Edge Up

NEW YORK (AP)—Oils, motors and steels edged higher in a mixed stock market early today. Trading was moderate.

Concern over a possible rail strike next week still overshadowing the market, and Wall Street was still unsettled by the SEC proposals and the sharp drop in the price of a seat on the New York Stock Exchange.

The relative cheapness of some stocks after the straight daily market declines, however, was enough to spark moderate investment demand.

Fractional gains were made by Jersey Standard Texas, Royal Dutch, Standard of Indiana and other blue chip oils.

All the big three automakers edged up to the upside. Studebaker was firm, despite the unloading of big blocks of the stock yesterday.

The "glamour" issues in office equipment, photography and electronics were mostly higher. Xerox added a couple of points.

IBM, U.S. Smelting and Electronic Associates gained about a point each, while Polaroid and Control Data advanced fractionally.

Realty steadied somewhat after yesterday's sharp decline, showing a mixed pattern over-all. Pennsylvania Railroad rose a fraction.

Drugs, nonferrous metals, and chemicals moved generally lower. But most changes were very small. The major steelmakers were steady — unchanged to a shade higher.

Aerospace issues recovered somewhat on balance. Small gains were posted for United Aircraft, Douglas Aircraft and General Dynamics. Boeing lost a fraction.

Down a bit were Du Pont, Union Carbide, General Electric, Lorillard, Kennecott, American Telephone and Southern Railway.

Opening blocks included: General Motors, up 1/4 at 7 1/2 on 3,000 shares; Lone Star Cement, off 1/4 at 20 1/2 on 4,000; Pennsylvania Railroad, up 1/4 at 17 1/2; and Unilever Ltd., up 1/4 at 23, both on 3,000 shares.

Yesterday, the Associated Press average of 60 stocks declined 10 to 28 3/4.

Corporate bonds were unchanged to slightly lower.
