Pontiac Busiest Shopping Center, Survey Reveals

By L. JAMES BINDER
Asst. City Editor, Pontiac Press

The buildings might be taller, but in the field of shopping the turf south of the county line just isn't as green as it is in Oakland—not, at least, to nearly 15,500 families whose bread-winners indicated in a recent survey that they sow their dollars in 22 area communities.

This was one of the principal discoveries of a University of Michigan study on the shopping habits of more than 19,000 Oakland County families, the results of which were disclosed today following a luncheon meeting of the County Planning Commission in Bloomfield Hills.

The report on the extensive survey made by William C. Carey, assistant director of the university's Bureau of Business Research which conducted the study in cooperation with the commission's Retail Advisory Committee.

Carey explained that the bureau arrived at its findings through distribution of a questionnaire to parents through area schools last year. Besides asking for detailed information about shopping activities, the form also sought answers to queries about community relationships.

Pontiac emerged from the survey as the county's leading shopping area, results indicating that 24.7 per cent of the families polled do most of their buying in the area's biggest city.

Of the four other communities cited as the busiest centers, Royal Oak claimed 17.3 per cent of the customers; Northland, 8.2 per cent; Ferndale, 5.8 per cent; and Birmingham, 5.4 per cent.

The balance of the county accounted for 19.8 per cent. Another 16.9 per cent shop outside of the Oakland County area, mainly in Detroit. Less than 3 per cent of all purchases were made outside of the two areas, while 1.9 per cent shopped by mail order.

The questionnaire listed 36 merchandise items, the majority of which fell into two areas: "convenience goods" and "shopping goods."

More than 90 per cent of all convenience goods (items

Steel Bargaining Talks Continue; Settlement Seen

Industry Now Offering 3-Year Contract With 9 to 10 Cent Pay Hike

NEW YORK (INS)—Top negotiators of steel management and labor resumed face-to-face bargaining talks in New York today amid optimistic reports that settlement of the 25-day-old nationwide steel strike may be imminent.

Entering the conference room, United Steelworkers Union President David J. McDonald told newsmen, "We are continuing to make progress."

McDonald said "no formal new contract proposal" had been made by the steel companies but he added with apparent satifaction that "We are exchanging some ideas."

There was no comment at this stage from the head of the steel management negotiating team, John A. Stephens, vice president for industrial relations for the U.S. Steel Corp.

But the general air seemed to be one of optimism.

Meanwhile, some steel firms made preliminary plans for resumption of production in the light of the New York talks, which re-opened yesterday after collapsing in Pittsburgh Saturday.

Dewey, Javits, Hoffman Predict Unanimous Vote

Stassen Fights Demands He Quit White House Post Over Comment

Former Gov. Thomas E. Dewey said "it's settled that Nixon is going to be renominated, and he has done a great job as vice president.

Paul G. Hoffman, recently named a U. S. delegate to the U.N. said "my assumption has been that Dick Nixon would be nominated almost by acclaim."

Jacob K. Javits, New York attorney general, said the New York convention delegation is on record as favoring the President's choice of a running mate and will "accord the same unanimity of support to Vice President Nixon."

In Washington, Harold E. Stassen, counterpunching against a demand that he quit his White House job for trying to bump Vice President Nixon off the Republican ticket, accused GOP Chairman Leonard Hall today of trying to "foreclose the choice" of a running mate for President Eisenhower.

Stassen, presidential disarmament aide, took his swing at Hall in a letter to Rep. Byrnes (R-Wis), one of 20 congressmen who sent Stassen a get-out message after he proposed Monday that Gov. Christian Herter of Massachusetts supplant Nixon in the No. 2 place.

The letter never did mention the proposal that Stassen step out but thanked Byrnes for a "forthright message" and said:

DENIES THE 'BAG'

"My action would not have been necessary if the national chairman (Hall) had not endeavored to foreclose the choice of the delegates to the GOP national convention before they met, contrary to Republican traditional and wise practice."

In a TV interview, Stassen denied he had been left "holding the bag" and strongly implied the idea that Eisenhower's personal view on the issue is yet to be reported in full.

That was in the face of last night's announcement by Hall that Herter himself had agreed to make the nominating speech for Nixon at the San Francisco convention. Hall coupled that with a reiteration that he is sure the ticket will be Eisenhower and Nixon.

At his news conference, White House press secretary James C. Hagerty was asked whether Stassen has been considered for an overseas post recently.

"Not that I know of," Hagerty replied.

Hagerty also replied in the negative when asked if he knew of any plans for Stassen to leave the government.

M.P. Testifies Against Marine

By JAMES L. KILGALLEN

PARRIS ISLAND, S. C. (INS)—A military policeman testified today that Sgt. Matthew C. McKeon tried to hide a vodka bottle when he was arrested after leading a disciplinary march in which six recruits drowned.

The M. P., Pvt. Fred A. Magruder, said McKeon was "very nervous" that night. The arrest took place on April 8 in barracks 761 after McKeon had come back from the ill-fated march into the swamplands of Ribbon Creek.

"There was some confusion in the barracks room," Magruder related. "One of the recruits was objecting to being put to bed.

"I saw Sgt. McKeon pick up something and dart into the head (bathroom). I ordered him back into the drill instructor's room.

"Then I sent Cp. Lyons into see what McKeon was trying to hide. Cpl. Lyons brought back a bottle of vodka, almost empty."

A previous witness had testified that during that fatal Sunday McKeon had "two or three drinks" with another sergeant.

Cpl. Ronald J. Lyons corroborated Magruder's testimony. Lyons said that when he went to the washroom, he looked behind the commode and found the bottle.

Maj. Charles B. Sevier, the chief prosecutor, introduced the death certificate of the six men who were drowned in the creek, as well as autopsy reports.

Earlier, young marines who had participated in the "Death March," rallied to McKeon's defense by characterizing him as a fine drill instructor. They said he was patient and "human."

Two-Year-Old Drowns in Swim Pool at Picnic

All efforts to save the girl, the youngest of seven children of Mr. and Mrs. John W. Sparks, of 2425 Oakley Rd., proved futile.

Mrs. Loretta Sparks and her oldest son, Mac, 12, pulled the girl out of four feet of water shortly after the fatal fall. They applied artificial respiration before rushing her to the Walled Lake Fire Station, three miles away.

But firemen were out on a call so the child was taken to a nearby doctor's office. All efforts to revive her failed.

The tragedy occurred in a large pool built by the child's father, according to Walled Lake Police Chief Fred Decker.

He said the other Sparks children and their friends were swimming in the pool when the accident occurred.

Decker told the Pontiac Press that Sparks, a building contractor, had planned to build a fence around the pool in hopes of avoiding such an accident but had been busy with a heavy work schedule in recent weeks. The father arrived home from work shortly after the drowning.

Other children surviving Norma Jane are : Shirley, 10, Gary, 8, Kenneth, 7, John, 6, and Henry, 3. She was the granddaughter of retired Walled Lake Justice Logan Sparks.

The drowning was number 17 in Oakland County this year.

Alaska Monster Said to Be Just a Sperm Whale

JUNEAU, Alaska (AP) — That shaggy "monster" lying on a beach south of Yakutat probably is just a sperm whale "turned upside down," E. I. Kiethahn, curator of Alaska's Territorial Museum, said yesterday.

Keithahn said published descriptions of "the thing"—the teeth, movable jaw, dimensions, knobby hump—generally fit the description of a sperm whale.

The "red brown hair" mentioned in several reports of the carcass is actually fibre-like material "common to the decaying flesh of whales," he said. Keithahn, who has not seen the animal, said positive identification could be made if he could get a specimen of the teeth.

The carcass has lain on a beach at Dry Harbor, 60 miles south of Yakutat, for more than two months. It is almost completely covered by sand. Estimates of its length, originally reported to be more than 100 feet, have gradually been scaled down to 60.

Dr. Peter Tack, head of the Fisheries Department at Michigan State University, flew to the isolated beach yesterday. His report is expected later.

Runaways Stir Police Dragnet

2 City Juveniles Try to Hold Up Stores for Bus Fare

Two runaway boys from Pontiac were the objects of a four-hour manhunt by Ypsilanti police, Washtenaw County sheriff's deputies and state troopers yesterday afternoon after the pair had attempted two armed robberies in Ypsilanti, Pontiac Police said today.

The two boys, one 12 years old and the other 16, reportedly ran away from their trailer park home in Pontiac Monday night. Their parents told police yesterday they feared the boys might have taken a sawed-off shotgun and a .22 caliber rifle with them.

Ypsilanti police reported the duo tried holding up two groceries with the weapons, but were frightened away each time.

The younger boy was apprehended in the area of the second attempt, police said, but his companion ran into a densely wooded swamp, carrying the guns.

All available officers were called to the search, which ended four hours later when the older boy was captured without resistance.

Under questioning, police said, the two admitted they tried to hold up the stores to obtain bus fare to Chicago. They also admitted a shoplifting in Pontiac Monday, police said.

Returned to Pontiac last night, the two boys now are being held in Oakland County Children's Home.

Fair, Cooler Tonight, Warmer Thursday

Mostly fair and a little cooler tonight with the low ranging between 60-64 degrees is the Weatherman's prediction for the Pontiac area.

Tomorrow will be fair and warmer. The high will reach 81-85.

Precipitation will total around ½ inch as showers or thunderstorms arrive late Friday and Saturday.

The lowest temperature preceding 8 a.m. was 65 degrees. The thermometer registered 83 at 2 p.m.

Justice Statue on Courthouse Is Embarrassed

PSST! YOU DROPPED SOMETHING — Justice, the eight-foot-high zinc statue on top of Oakland County's courthouse, has been presiding over county courts for 51 years. She still has her traditional blindfold and sword, but the symbolic scales she's supposed to be holding in that strong left arm recently got overloaded with pigeons and fell off.

But wait a minute—don't start calling a grand jury before you've finished this article—the Justice we mean is the eight foot high zinc statue on top of the old Oakland County Courthouse in Pontiac.

For 51 years, the judicial lady has braved the elements on top of the courthouse. Blindfolded to prove her impartiality, she has presided over the courts with a naked sword in one hand and a set of scales raised high in the other.

There's been no noticeable change in her expression, and her hefty left arm still is raised to the sky.

But the bent, corroded and lime-smeared scales were found yesterday lying on the courthouse roof, 25 feet below their proper position.

The two halves of the scales were found about 25 feet apart on the sloping roof by a horrified Pontiac Press reporter, who stuck them together and raised them aloft as a poor substitute for the old lady above.

Justice is embarrassed.

POOR SUBSTITUTE — Horrified at the idea that justice in Oakland County might not be properly weighed, Pontiac Press reporter Bud Martz yesterday picked up the scales and held them over the courthouse as the eight-foot-high zinc statue of Justice has done for 51 years, until she dropped them. But when Martz' arm got tired, he gave up and went home.

Bank Given Approval for Union Lake Unit

Approval of plans to establish a Community National Bank branch at Union Lake has been received from Federal banking officials, according to President A. C. Girard.

The authorization, given by the U. S. comptroller of currency, will enable the bank to go ahead with its plans to construct a building and set up banking operations, Girard said.

Occupancy of the Union Lake unit will bring to seven the number of branches operated in addition to the main Pontiac office. Branches are nearing completion in Bloomfield Hills and Milford.

Cobo Plans Stops

DETROIT (INS) — Mayor Albert E. Cobo headed for Northern Michigan today in his campaign to win the Republican nomination for governor. Cobo's first stop on the five-day jaunt will be at Midland, then he will travel to Charlevoix.

Detroit Council Opens Fluoridation Question

DETROIT (AP) — The question of fluoridating Detroit's water supply was reopened in the city council today.

Councilman Mary V. Beck asked water board officials to report on installation and operating costs of a fluoridation program within 30 days and to take a stand on the matter.

Council President Louis C. Miriani said he thought the issue should go on an election ballot.

Ike's Civil Rights Plan Faces Defeat in Senate

WASHINGTON (INS) — Senators fighting for action on President Eisenhower's civil rights program all but admitted defeat today.

Sen. Herbert H. Lehman (D-NY), made it plain, however, that he and others will "carry this fight to the Democratic Party's national convention in Chicago next month."

Reporter Finds Bermuda 'Hawaii of Atlantic'

Inflated Prices Prey on Tourists

This is the first of a two-part series on Bermuda, this year drawing more American tourists than any other foreign area except Europe.

By JOE HAAS

Back from our fourth visit to Bermuda in a period of 20 years, we love it more than ever before, and consider it to be the "Hawaii of the Atlantic."

Its one large island and 359 smaller ones all are located in an area 16 miles long and six miles wide, the nearest land being the North Carolina coast, 580 miles away. They are 750 miles southeast of New York and 990 miles northeast of Miami, truly a gem in the Atlantic.

HAAS

Only about a dozen of the islands are inhabited, and the 350 is reduced by one-third at high tide. The island of Bermuda proper comprises three-quarters of the land area and nine-tenths of the population of around 40,000.

But in this total population of only about one-half that of the city of Pontiac is concentrated the greatest percentage of people engaged in a single occupation of any location in the entire world. That occupation is "tourist."

Nothing is produced, nothing is done, nothing is in evidence in even the remotest way that does not have a direct bearing on taking care of the tourist and his wishes. And 90 per cent of these tourists are from the United States.

The population is three-quarters Negro and one-quarter White, and the occupation of the former is waiting upon the latter—and the tourists. And on both they do a good job.

UNDER BRITISH RULE

Under the British flag, Bermuda is in charge of a governor appointed by the crown, and a Bermudian never has held this job. The crown also appoints an executive and legislative council, the natives' only representatives being a house of assembly whom they elect and who are allowed to act solely in an advisory capacity. You must be a taxpayer to be entitled to vote.

But in her waning domain, England is too wise to overtax the Bermudians as she has some other provinces. She appreciates their value as a magnet for American tourists, and levies every conceivable tax that can be passed on to the tourists, of which she furnishes less than one per cent herself.

For instance, the Bermuda property tax is almost negligible. But the tax on each taxicab that handles the tourists approaches the $200 mark, which of course is passed on to the tourists.

This also applies to liquor, which

GM Faces Suit by Greyhound

'Scenicruiser' Buses 'Not Up to Standards,' Travel Firm Asserts

NEW YORK (AP)—Greyhound Bus Corporation says it plans to file a multi-million dollar damage suit against General Motors Corporation, charging mechanical defects in a fleet of 1,000 buses purchased from GM.

Arthur S. Genet, Greyhound president, told a news conference yesterday that 570 of the 1,000 "Scenicruiser" buses "were not up to the contracted mechanical standards of Greyhound and the normal commercial production standards of GM." He said the lubrication systems for the transmissions and clutches did not operate properly.

Genet said the company paid about 53 million dollars for the 1,000 vehicles, which make up about 20 per cent of the total fleet.

General Motors declared in a statement, "We cannot make any comment until we see a copy of the pleadings in the suit which Mr. Genet says will be filed by Greyhound."

Genet said Greyhound and GM officials had held several discussions since the matter was first brought up Feb. 20 and Greyhound decided to proceed with the suit when "no satisfaction was obtained" at a conference with GM attorneys July 19. Genet did not say where the suit will be filed, nor would he disclose the exact amount of the suit.

Earlier this month, GM was named in an anti-trust action filed by the Justice Department, charging it with monopolizing the manufacture and sale of buses. Greyhound Corp. was among a number of firms named as co-conspirators, but not as defendants, in the government action.

set annual wage hikes averaging 7.3 cents an hour and fringe benefits including a 52-week lay-off pay plan.

Industry's new proposal was understood to fix the contract duration at three years, with a nine to 10 cent per hour wage increase each year and other improvements.

Total benefits of the package deal would cost the industry up to 25 cents an hour during the first year, according to some estimates, and 50 cents an hour at the end of the three-year period.

The union has never made its wage demands public. Its past contracts have usually been for two years with a wage reopener after one year.

About 79 per cent of those polled bought their shopping goods in the area. (The survey defines these items as ones where customers want large selections and a chance to compare price, quality and styles in several stores).

Of the reasons cited for buying outside of the county, variety led among those queried with 29.6 per cent; price, 21.2 per cent; quality, 10.3 per cent; sales, 9.3 per cent; parking, 6.7 per cent; style, 3.6 per cent; service, 3.6 per cent; convenience, 3.5 per cent; more modern stores, 3.2 per cent; and courtesy, 2.3 per cent.

Miscellaneous reason accounted for another 6.7 per cent.

Friday was the survey's overwhelming favorite as a shopping day, while Thursday and Saturday were rated about equal as second choices. Grocery shopping was concentrated in morning hours and other buying in the afternoon.

Evening shopping preferences again found Friday in the lead, while Thursday and Saturday repeated as the next choices.

Pointing out that only 24 per cent of the residents polled were employed in Oakland County, the study results stated that "there appears to be a high correlation between where workers work and where they shop."

* * *

More than half of those included in the survey had lived in the county less than five years, and nearly one-third moved to the county from the Detroit area.

Although more than 75 per cent of the families found Oakland County "a pleasant and convenient place to live," 38 per cent thought parking facilities were "poor" while 14 per cent thought roads and allied facilities could be improved.

Thirteen per cent indicated that roads had a substantial effect upon their shopping habits.

Communities in which families were polled, besides the five cited above, included: Avondale, Berkley-Oak Park, Clarkston, Farmington, Hazel Park, Holly, Lake Orion, Madison Heights, Milford, Novi, Ortonville, Oxford, Rochester, South Lyon-New Hudson, Southfield Township, Waterford Township, Walled Lake and West Bloomfield.

Marquise Says 'No' to Stabbing

Gotham Cocktail Party Ends With Wounding of Male Guest

NEW YORK (AP)—A blonde former French marquise, wearing a gold-trimmed red cocktail dress, appeared in the police lineup today and denied in French and English that she stabbed a cocktail party guest last night at her apartment.

* * *

"He fell on it," said Mrs. Irene de la Begassiere, 40, apparently referring to an antique gold letter opener with which William Grey, 26, was stabbed.

"I didn't do anything, monsieur."

Mrs. de la Begassiere said she is the ex-wife of a French marquis and now in the public relations business. She was arrested last night on a felonious assault charge soon after the cocktail party at her Manhattan apartment broke up.

Grey is in Roosevelt hospital. His condition was described as fair. He would not discuss the stabbing. He identified himself as the son of the Countess de Beaurepaire.

* * *

Police quoted Mrs. de la Begassiere as saying Grey was an uninvited guest at her cocktail party attended by 200 guests. The party lasted from 7 p.m. until 11 p.m. Grey said he had been invited.

When the party ended, she said, everyone went home except Grey. She said he suddenly approached her with his hand raised, she grabbed the letter opener and that is all she could remember.

Grey sat down on a couch and she called police.

Mrs. de la Begassiere spent the night in a jail cell attired in her deep necklined dress and gold sandals. She was reluctant to step on the police lineup stage.

"Do I have to stand up there?" she asked. "What for? I didn't commit a sin."

Inspector Frank Phillips asked her if she stabbed Grey. There was a torrent of French. The inspector interrupted her, explaining he did not understand the language. In English she said Grey "fell on it."

"He stabbed himself, monsieur," she said.

* * *

She conceded Grey was wounded in her apartment and asserted strongly that she never had been arrested before.

That ended the former marquise's lineup appearance. She still faced the arraignment.

represents over one-half of our tourist spending there. Most of this liquor is made in either England or the United States.

* * *

It is shipped to Bermuda and heavily taxed and often watered down to a great degree, hiked tremendously in price, and sold to the American suckers as something rare, so rare that it is raw.

SOUVENIR TRINKETS

Most of the trinkets and other souvenir bait are made in the mother country or the U.S.A., and sold at highly inflated prices after being labeled with a Bermuda stencil.

* * *

Prices on everyday necessities are usually at least double what they are in either England or the United States. For instance, a pair of shoes that can be bought for $12 in this country have a $25 tag on them in Bermuda.

Natives who can afford to do so make a trip to the mainland once or twice a year and stock up on things.

Dating from the time when the first business was established there, the natives have followed the rule of "Bermuda for Bermudians" in a mercantile way. No store with English or American money behind it can get a foothold, and England is content to have it that way, so long as it still produces a big indirect tax on tourists, and which they seem anxious to pay. It's a good system, and fattens the London exchequer. And that's what Britain must have.

Teachers on Increase

WASHINGTON — This year's class of college graduates will include some 38,700 prepared to take positions as elementary-school teachers — 5,195 men and 33,539 women. This is a 2.7 per cent increase from the 37,700 members of the 1955 class who prepared for elementary-school teaching.

Change Zoning to Fit Buildings

Pontiac Commissioners Give Broader Powers to Board of Appeals

Broader powers were assured the Pontiac Zoning Board of Appeals after the City Commission last night amended the city's zoning ordinance relative to the appeal group.

* * *

Under the new law, the board has authority to grant "variance permits" allowing for the construction of public buildings which deviate from building zone regulations.

Before adoption of the amendment, the City Commission rescinded a previous proposal which would have exempted hospitals and schools from complying with listed regulations in the code.

The proposal was prompted by knowledge that the planned addition to Pontiac General Hospital would have been in violation of the zoning law in height, length of front, side, rear lot lines, and requirement for off-street parking, according to Henry Smith, city planner.

Now the builder of the $3.5 million wing must appeal to the Board of Appeals for a "variance permit" under the new law.

City Engineer Lewis Wrenn said the addition at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital and the new four-unit Cora Bailey School at Cass and Florence Avenues have submitted plans above code limitations. Both must now apply for a variance permit before construction is approved.

Wrenn added that the school is presently under construction because of a state law exempting public schools from applying for a building permit.

Explaining how the two hospitals and school were permitted to proceed while in violation of the building zone ordinance, City Manager W. K. Willman said: "The building inspector had been instructed by the City Commission not to enforce it (the ordinance) pending its proposed change."

The City Planning Commission Monday night recommended to the City Commission the adoption of this new amendment.

Final Money Bill in Senate Today

WASHINGTON (AP)— Congress' last appropriation bill for this session headed toward the Senate floor today carrying 369½ million dollars more than the House voted.

* * *

The Senate Appropriations Committee last night approved the supplemental bill with a total of $2,311,391,438. The House had passed the bill earlier in the evening with a $1,941,895,000 total.

* * *

Most of the Senate additions were for items asked since the House committee prepared its bill. They included funds for a newly authorized atomic merchant ship, for a quicker start on airways modernization, for school construction and operation in districts crowded because of federal installations, for new health research facilities.

The Day in Birmingham

C. of C. Gives Partial Nod to 1-Way Traffic Proposal

BIRMINGHAM — Chamber of Commerce Executive Secretary Charles Mortensen told Planning Commission members last night that his group "approves of some but disapproves of other traffic recommendations from the city's traffic expert."

The planners discussed the traffic recommendations which would create four one-way streets and restrict some left turns and parking on downtown streets. They will be discussed again at later meetings.

Planners recommended that the Lambert property on 14 Mile Road be zoned business C. The property owners had requested business A zoning after a previous request for business C had been approved by the commission.

Two properties at Redding and Woodward were rezoned to business A by planners last night. Both property owners had also requested income bungalow property at the rear of their land be rezoned for parking and this was approved. However, for the Franco property on the southwest corner, planners denied the request for vacation of a 20-foot alley.

There was no decision made on the parking lot behind the Reed building on North Woodward avenue, as planned by City Engineers.

The planning session adjourned at 12:30 without reaching the subjects: Plans for the 66 acre recreation park near the high school and the zoning ordinance revision.

Attending the 14th biennial convention of the American Federation of Soroptimists Clubs, July 29 to Aug. 3 in New York City, will be Helen Larkin, governor of the midwestern region, Mrs. Mary Dewey, Mrs. Maxine Luscombe, Mrs. Mable Sorensen, and Mrs. E. Marian Schmidt, president of the Birmingham Soroptimists.

The following week, also at the Waldorf Astoria in New York, 900 representatives of 27 countries will attend the fifth quadrennial meeting of Soroptimist International. Attending from here will be Miss Larkin, and Nina Noble, who will be a courier, aiding foreign delegates.

Chamber of Commerce President Arthur F. Blakeslee has credited D. C. Egbert, who is leaving the post of city manager, with Birmingham's growth during his years with the city.

His letter, read last night, said: "We believe that, more than any other person, Mr. Egbert deserves credit for the evolution of Birmingham from a country village into the splendid residential city it is today with a population of 23,500 and a thriving business section."

Aug. 7 Election Asks 2-Mill Levy

Bloomfield Twp. Voters Also to Decide Annual Meeting Issue

BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP — Voters of Bloomfield Township will be asked to approve a two-mill levy for extra fire and police protection and for road maintenance at the Aug. 7 election.

The levy will replace the one-mill levy over a five-year period which expires next April 1 and which has provided fire and police funds. The new levy would run for ten years.

Among tentatively planned projects of the township board is the building of three new firehalls. Estimated breakdown in millage use would be one mill for fire, one-half mill for roads and one-half mill for police.

About $120,000 would be earned in the levy.

"The road funds are needed because many of the subdivision roads are in bad repair," according to Supervisor Arno Hulet.

"We need the funds to keep the roads in good enough repair so that people can go over them," Hulet says. "The levy will supplement what the county spends on roads in the township."

Roads not included in the federal, state or primary type of roads are alloted about $300 a year for maintenance by the county, Hulet explains. It is often not enough to fill in holes and keep roads scraped, he says.

Another proposal on which voters are to ballot Aug. 7 is on whether to abandon the annual township meeting.

"The township has grown so that we need a little better representation," says Township Clerk Ann Birrell. She says often annual meetings are attended by only a small group.

"It's not fair to let so few people make decisions. Their elected representatives, the township board members, should be given more authority," she adds.

Ban on Sylvan Lake Extended to Friday

The chemical spraying program to rid Sylvan Lake of weeds has been advanced to tomorrow and Friday. It originally was scheduled for Monday and Tuesday of this week.

Lake patrons have been asked not to use the lake July 26 and 27 or for 30 hours after the job is completed. Residents in the area are also asked not to use lake water for lawn and shrub sprinkling purposes until 30 hours after completion of the spraying.

The work is being done by a biochemical firm from Butler, Wis. and is being financed by contributions totaling $4,400 from nearby residents.

Food Infection Cited for Felling Students

YPSILANTI (AP) — A food infection, described by health authorities as related to typhus, is blamed for felling nearly 40 summer students at Eastern Michigan College.

Dr. Otto K. Engelke, Washtenaw County health director, said the disease is "a type of typhus, but a different and not as serious ailment as typhoid fever."

"It is not fatal, unless other complications set in," he added.

Engelke said Michigan Health Department laboratories at Lansing identified the disease as salmonella typi murium. Dr. Olga Sirolla, head of college health service, rushed cultures to the laboratories when the students were hospitalized.

"The disease usually is spread by a carrier handling food, by eating infected food, or through rodent contamination of food," Dr. Engelke said.

Study Reflects Whims and Views of Shoppers

You're a fairly average parent if you have two children of school age, own your own home and have lived in Oakland County less than five years.

The chances are almost two in five that you work in Detroit, one in 10 that your job is in Pontiac. The latter odds also apply to the possibility that your wife is a wage-earner.

It's possible, too, that you were among the more than 19,000 who helped shape these medians by participating in a survey on shopping habits conducted last year by the University of Michigan with the cooperation of the Retail Advisory Committee of the Oakland County Planning Commission.

These statistics about the family — but most important the answers each gave — are expected to play an important role in determining what kinds of plans civic and business leaders will make in coming months to help along the area's future prosperity.

And while the findings do not pertain to families not having children of school age, the study is regarded as a pretty good cross-section of buying habits in 22 communities.

EXPRESS NEEDS

Comments of families represented indicate that they are almost unanimously pleased with the courtesy extended by the stores in Oakland County.

Those polled, however, spoke freely of the need for a great variety of merchandise, lower prices, better quality, special sales, better roads and more parking area.

In Oxford, for example, nearly 40 per cent gave variety as a reason for shopping elsewhere while only 1 per cent complained about parking. At the other extreme, better than 16 per cent of Avondale's respondents listed parking and only 11 per cent said they were looking for more variety.

Pontiac, with 14.1 per cent, ranked third in the county among those who regarded parking as a deterrent. West Bloomfield, where 17.2 per cent criticized parking, fared the worst in the survey, followed by Avondale with 16.4 per cent.

"Special sales" elsewhere found Pontiac the least affected among the 22 communities, while Southfield, Berkley-Oak Park and Hazel Park lost the most customers to the beckoning windows of stores in other areas.

Pontiac, busiest of the county's shopping areas, ranked high as an attraction in all three of the major classes covering 36 merchandise items: convenience, shopping and specialty goods.

Of those polled, only 18.3 per cent objected to variety in Pontiac, compared to 39.9 per cent in Oxford and 39 per cent in Rochester. Avondale, with 11 per cent casting negative votes, led in this classification.

About 80 per cent surveyed approved Pontiac prices, compared to about 88 per cent in West Bloomfield — the most favorably regarded in this category.

The quality of Pontiac goods received approximately 92 per cent approval, a verdict topped only in Birmingham, Novi, Oxford and Avondale.

The survey indicated that some marketing characteristics are peculiar to each of the major market areas surveyed:

In Birmingham, for example, items purchased most include meats, groceries, farm supplies, boys' clothing, women's sportswear and automobiles. While percentages of purchases were consistently heavy for all items in Pontiac, the greatest weight was given to work clothing, women's house dresses, farm equipment and furniture.

Royal Oak is particularly effective in selling groceries, paint and wallpaper, drugs and prescriptions, building materials, garden equipment and supplies, auto accessories and hardware.

Although the overall importance attached to courtesy as a buying factor was low, it was a relatively important feature in the purchase of individual items such as drugs and prescriptions, cosmetics and toilet articles and hardware.

"Price" was found the most important to buyers of automobiles, appliances, radio and television sets, while "variety" was the major factor in the buying of women's shoes.

"Parking" is an important consideration for frequently-purchased items like meats, groceries, drugs and prescriptions, the survey showed.

In the area of community relationships, the South Lyon-New Hudson area and Avondale led in the number who have lived in their communities for over 10 years. In Birmingham, only 8.1 residents had occupied their homes for the same length of times.

Nearly 80 per cent of Pontiac residents polled work in the county, the biggest exception to the overall county figure of 24 per cent. Inversely, Madison Heights had the greatest number of commuters with 92.4 per cent who work in Detroit and other out-county areas.

Regarding the survey, coordinators expressed the hope that it "may be used by local merchants to improve their services and to make each community a more pleasant and convenient place in which to shop."

To this end, the study stated that the various likes and dislikes expressed will assist the merchant in selecting the type, quality and quantity of merchandise to carry.

The report advised owners of larger stores to continue to appeal on a high volume-low margin basis to emphasize price appeal. Smaller businesses, the survey said, should emphasize personalized services while stressing convenience of location.

"Whether large or small in volume," the report stated, "the business should recognize the individual attributes and limitations of his business and then capitalize on the attributes and minimize the limitations."

Constant strengthening of community-store relationships, better service and sales personnel training were cited as major ways of keeping shoppers "at home."

Headed by Charles Mortensen, manager of the Birmingham Chamber of Commerce; the Retail Advisory Committee includes members:

N. R. Heiden, planner for the County Planning Commission, worked with the group in helping to coordinate the study.

Seek to Create Zoning District

Planning Commission Recommends Adding Ninth Classification

An amendment to the city's zoning ordinance which would add new "personal service districts" zoning classification was aired last night at the City Commission meeting.

* * *

A public hearing will be conducted Aug. 14 on the ordinance to amend the code.

The new districts, recommended by the City Planning Commission, would, if adopted, be added to the present eight type districts in which Pontiac is zoned. They are: Residential 1, 2 and 3; Commercial 1 and 2, and Manufacturing 1, 2, and 3.

Under the proposal, the new districts would be limited to one or more of the following uses:

(1) A detached dwelling for not more than three families or housekeeping units; (2) Clubs, lodges, social and community center buildings, except those whose chief activity is a gainful service or activity conducted as a business; (3) Offices of a doctor and other related medical services, but not to exceed four offices per lot or building.

* * *

Other uses would be: (4) Offices of a lawyer, real estate, architects, engineers, insurance, trade union offices, or credit unions; (5) Studios of musicians, artists, and dancing; and (6) Funeral parlor or mortuary chapel.

Buildings in these districts must not exceed three stories or 40 feet in height as outlined in the proposed ordinance.

At last night's meeting, Commissioner Roy V. Cooley commended the action of the plan group as "a very timely move."

* * *

Usage of Land Law Changed

Disuse for One Year Will Mean the End of Zoning Designation

Failure to use land zoned for non-conforming usage during one year will result in the cancellation of the non-conforming designation, under an amendment to the city zoning ordinance passed by the city commission last night.

The new law will also permit the re-construction of a non-conforming structure in case of fire or other damage, if it is damaged 50 per cent or less as determined by insurance appraisals.

If damaged more than 50 per cent, the building must be razed and not restored to its previous non-conforming usage.

If the land is not used for 12 months in the non-conforming use in effect at the passage of the new amendment, the land must be changed to conform with the provisions of the building zone ordinance.

The new law will take effect Aug. 3.

Another provision of the act allows for the change to "another non-conforming use of the same or more restricted classification, provided no structural alterations and no additions or enlargements are made to such buildings."

Indict 'Fixers' for Gas Lobby

Oil Company Attorneys Charged With Bribery to Influence Votes

WASHINGTON (AP)—Two oil company attorneys were under indictment today on six charges of attempting to influence Senate passage of the natural gas bill last winter.

• • •

The indictment, returned by a federal grand jury here yesterday, accused John M. Neff of Lexington, Neb., and Elmer Patman of Austin, Tex., with "unlawfully" offering a $2,500 campaign contribution to Sen. Francis Case (R-SD) in an effort to get his vote.

Atty. Gen. Brownell said the grand jury inquiry is continuing.

The attorneys also were charged with conspiring with Superior Oil Co. of California to violate the Lobbying Act. Superior oil, headed by Howard B. Keck of Los Angeles, was named defendant only to the conspiracy count of the indictment.

• • •

Neff and Patman were charged with working for Superior Oil "for the purposes of attempting to influence the passage" of the bill to exempt independent gas producers from direct federal regulation.

They were accused of failing to register as lobbyists as required by law.

• • •

Sen. Case voted against the bill after announcing the $2,500 campaign contribution offer to the Senate last February. The Senate passed the bill, but President Eisenhower vetoed it with a statement deploring the "arrogance" and "highly questionable activities" of some of its supporters.

Veteran Pension Measure Facing Defeat in Senate

WASHINGTON (AP) — A big pension bill for World War I veterans appeared certain today to die in the Senate Finance Committee as final adjournament of Congress nears.

• • •

The American Legion, the nation's largest veterans organization, is putting on an all-out drive for the measure, with telegrams, longdistance calls, letters and visits to senators.

But there appeared no chance to dislodge the bill at this late date.

Meanwhile, it appeared likely that another House-passed veterans bill, to increase payments to disabled veterans of all wars by 10 per cent, would go down the drain too.

• • •

The latter measure is less costly and less objectionable to senators handling the legislation. But they fear that if it is sent to the floor, the World War I pension bill will be offered to it as an amendment and might get through the Senate under election year pressures.

The pension bill would provide $90-a-month payments at age 65 to all World War I veterans with incomes under certain limits.

Its cost is estimated at 367 million dollars the first year, and 618 million by the fifth year. But senators opposing it say this would be only a small part of the eventual cost, because it would establish a precedent for similar pensions to World War II and Korean War veterans.

The Eisenhower administration is strongly opposed to the bill, which passed the House June 27.

ALEXANDRIA, Va. (AP) — Mrs. Mary J. Childs, city personnel director, wrote for information on an Englishman who sought a job with the city of Alexandria.

The British bureaucrat gave his man a ringing recommendation. He also gave Mrs. Childs a bit of an argument:

"I still say George Washington was born in Durham County, England, and was only on lend-lease to you people," he wrote in a note on the margin of the printed personnel form.

Hospital Plan Snagged

ALLEGAN (AP) — County supervisors must convene July 31 for another vote on the year-old issue of locating and financing a proposed new 140-bed county medical care facility. Prosecutor Dwight M. Cheever said a vote two weeks ago, approving a million-dollar hospital at Otsego, was illegal because of a supervisors' meeting rules quirk. No change in plans is expected at the new vote.

LOWELL (AP) — The 1956 production of the Lowell Showboat, long a West Michigan entertainment favorite, opened Monday before some 5,400 spectators. An outdoor vaudeville-minstrel show staged on a riverboat replica, it is scheduled to contoinue nightly performances through Saturday.

Violence Once More on Island of Cyprus

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP)— Violence erupted last night on the northern and southern coasts of this uneasy British colony.

* * *

Authorities said, however, that one of the incidents—the shotgun slaying of a Turkish Cypriot—was not connected with the campaign of Greek Cypriots for union with Greece.

The Turk was killed by unidentified assailants at Yialousá, on the island's northeastern peninsula. It was thought at first to be a continuation of the friction between the Greek and Turkish communities over Cyprus' political future.

The Greek majority of about 400,000 is opposed in its bid for union with Greece by the Turkish minority of about 100,000.

Stassen Heaves Wrench in Republican Activities

Harold E. Stassen isn't big enough to stagger the Republican party, but he just put his best foot forward in wreaking considerable damage. He gave it all he had.

The White House disarmament adviser declared that he believed Richard Nixon should be shelved as the Vice Presidential nominee in favor of Christian A. Herter, Governor of Massachusetts.

This wasn't an innocent move. It was planned and calculated. Nor did the President accept the challenge lightly. Immediately his news Secretary asserted that the President had pointed out to Stassen that such an announcement certainly would be made purely as an individual and not as a member of the President's official White House family.

★ ★ ★

Surely Stassen has the great American privilege of thinking as he pleases. But the party has the same American privilege of repudiating whomever it pleases. A team must play together and this Stassen is refusing to do.

His future value is dubious.

In baseball parlance, it looks as though he "went down—swinging." No lineup has a key spot for a player who deliberately disrupts the smooth and united action of the group.

★ ★ ★

The Massachusetts Governor is no part of the act himself. In fact he has already announced that he will nominate Nixon for the post in question. This demonstrates his own party loyalty more clearly than anything he could do or say. And conversely, it makes Stassen look that much worse—if it's possible.

The Democrats are properly jubilant and hope Stassen keeps talking. Any split in a united front is to their direct benefit. The President's personal popularity with the voters is such that his opponent must capitalize on these unexpected defections from party loyalty.

The race ahead promises unexpected surprises, elations and disappointments for both sides. That's the way the fortunes of the universe run and political battles are granted no special immunity. The political news ahead promises to be interesting and exciting.

Traffic Fatality Rate Halved Here This Year

There is room for both satisfaction and criticism in Pontiac's traffic accident record for the first six months of 1956.

A report issued by the Traffic and Safety Bureau shows that only three lives were lost on Pontiac streets through June. This is a 50 per cent improvement over the six fatal accidents reported in the same period of last year.

Unfortunately, the 1956 general accident record of Pontiac motorists is not quite as good as last year, with a total of 574 accidents. This is an increase of 51 over the 1955 toll. Last year's accidents resulted in injuries to 268 persons by July 1, or six more than the 262 hurt this year.

★ ★ ★

Motorists owe it to themselves and the community to give special attention to facts emphasized in the report. For example, principal cause of accidents are listed as driving while drunk, speeding, failure to yield right of way and following too closely.

The lower death rate revealed by this report indeed is encouraging. Let's keep up the good work and improve the record further.

For More Air Safety

In requesting an additional $68,000,000 for the Civil Aeronautics Administration (CAA), President Eisenhower reflects the urgency of the need for action to improve air traffic control.

That urgency was emphasized by the Nation's worst air crash in which two giant transports collided over the Grand Canyon. It is highlighted further by the accelerated growth of air traffic. In the last three years that has increased by 125 per cent. Today 90,000 planes of all types operate over crowded U. S. airways.

CAA has drawn up a $246,000,000 five year program to improve airport facilities and air safety. So far Congress has approved only $40,000,000 of it. The additional $68,000,000 asked by the President would be used next year for the extension of traffic control, radar and other navigational aids. Incidentally, some of the money will be devoted to preparation for the era of commercial jet travel now fast approaching.

★ ★ ★

Unfortunately, what has happened on our highways where traffic has outgrown construction, has been happening in the air. Safety control facilities long ago began to fall behind the rate of air travel increase. Congress should make every effort to speed action on this serious problem.

The Man About Town

Valuable Volumes

A History Compiled Nearly 80 Years Ago Was Complete

Dieting: Merely a case of mind over platter.

Nearly 80 years after it was published, copies of the most comprehensive history of Oakland County ever issued still are in the hands of some of our people. Put out in 1877, it is a very substantial volume of nearly 400 pages, each 11x14 inches, with wood cut illustrations and heavily bound. It recounts our early history in a remarkable way, when we remember that the material was gathered by horse and buggy in the pre-phone days.

After many requests to place a monetary value on one of these books, I wish to state that this is a difficult problem. They really are priceless. I have heard of them being sold at prices ranging from one dollar to $100.

Most of our libraries have them. If your library does not have one, here is an opportunity for you to make a donation that will live for generations after you are gone.

David Lawrence Says:

Who Is Stassen Really Backing?

WASHINGTON — Whom is the vice - presidential candidate that Harold Stassen is backing? It certainly isn't Gov. Herter of Massachusetts, who, it now develops, wasn't consulted by Stassen before launching the boom for him. In fact, Gov. Herter will make the speech placing Nixon in nomination at the convention.

The objective of Stassen and those who are in league with him is to bring about the removal of Vice President Nixon from the ticket. It isn't so much a pro-Herter move as an anti-Nixon maneuver. For one thing, there is some doubt as to whether the Massachusetts governor is constitutionally eligible, since he was born abroad. It would take a Supreme Court decision to clear up the doubt, and that would only give the Democrats a campaign argument because no such decision probably could be obtained between August and November.

But who are the people back of the Stassen coup? There are all sorts of rumors afloat, and the finger points to a "left wing" coterie in New York City which put up money for the polls with the avowed object of developing statistical data to force Nixon out of the race.

PRAISES NIXON

This correspondent has known Nixon for many years. He is a modest, hard - working conscientious and straightforward individual whose principal "sin" seems to have been that he helped to expose Alger Hiss and fought the Communists. Another "sin" is that he told the voters frankly what he thought of the Communist infiltration in government. This apparently is the kind of campaigning which some of the Democrats don't like, though Harry Truman never handled any issue with kid gloves and went so far as to question the integrity and patriotism of Gen. Eisenhower in the 1952 campaign — something Nixon never did with respect to any opponent.

The adroitness of the anti-Nixonites is emphasized by the way Harold Stassen referred to his conversation last Friday with the President. He gave at first to the newsmen the impression that Eisenhower had no objection and hence really favored Stassen's move for Herter. Now it turns out that the President made it clear to Stassen that he would be acting as an individual "and not as a member of the President's official family." This was a palpable disavowal.

No sooner was the announcement made on Tuesday afternoon that Gov. Herter would make the speech nominating Nixon at San Francisco than Stassen issued a comment implying it was a kind of cooked-up deal and that one had agreed to nominate the other. No such understanding, however, has been reached with Nixon.

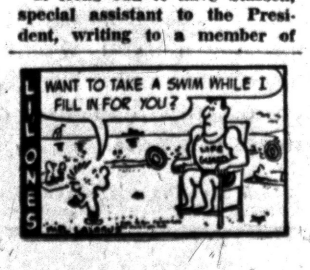

NOTIFIED NIXON

Even more disingenuous was Stassen's statement to the press on Monday. He gave the impression that he had tactfully and politely notified Nixon as a matter of courtesy. Yet the letter sent to Nixon on Monday, a few hours before the press conference, was about as discourteous a piece of writing as has been noted between supposedly friendly members of the same administration.

It looks odd to have Stassen, special assistant to the President, writing to a member of the same cabinet that the nomination of the vice president would hurt the "prospects of a lasting peace" and would not satisfy the "uncommitted nations." This is taken to mean that the speeches made by Nixon about "neutral" nations recently, with the full approval of Sec. Dulles and the President, are opposed by Stassen and his group. It means some kind of declaration of war against the leadership of the President himself.

Stassen assumes that Eisenhower will sit back and let a factional fight develop on a "let the better man win" basis just a few weeks before the national convention. Eisenhower may be unfamiliar with the ways of party politics, but he isn't as naive as the Stassen clique thinks he is. To date many of the friends of the late Sen. Taft, whom Stassen antagonized in the bitter 1952 primary campaign in Ohio, and the members of Congress of every shade of Republicanism have rallied to Nixon's side. It could gain further momentum when the President himself speaks out for Nixon, as he is certainly expected to do before long.

Pamphleteer Cannot Give Any Remedy for Arthritis

"About a year ago I sent for your pamphlet 'Calcium and rheumatiz,' " says a nice, kind Indiana lady—and I thank her and a few others who humor me by NOT changing rheumatiz into rheumatism.

"Previous to that," the lady continues, "I had taken shots—and I refrain from commenting on 'shots' at the moment—for arthritis. They hadn't given me any relief. So I stopped them and followed your advice."

Here, with the nice kind lady's permission, I'd like to mention, for the benefit of readers with joint disability, that the advice I give in the pamphlet is for rheumatiz. The only advice I can give for arthritis is consult a physician.

"My joint soreness," continues the Indiana correspondent, is all gone. Thanks to you. I am fifty-seven years old. Believe me, I shall keep right on . . ." (Mrs. W. S.)

This is a testimonial. Not to be taken seriously. I mean to say a testimonial by itself or a handful of testimonials selected for the purpose of selling bitters should not be taken seriously. I am sure the Indiana lady is perfectly sincere about it. What's more, I believe what she called "arthritis" was really rheumatiz—not inflammation (arthr-itis) but physical degeneration of joint tissues (rheumatiz). And so I file her testimonial with others like it.

On the bowling green a crony noticed that I was pampering my left shoulder. He ticked it at once. "Bursitis. I had it a year ago, and I had a single injection of cortisone," or maybe it was hydracortisone) "and it cleared up in 24 hours."

Now I know George wasn't trying to drum up business for the doctor—in fact he didn't name the doctor, though I think he mentioned the doctor was an osteopath. I had seen many reports of similar effects of cortisone or hydracortisone in the medical journals.

But the shoulder became much less painful in a day or two and entirely normal in less than a week.

I do know enough about cortisone and hydracortisone to hesitate to have such treatment in any circumstance. I'd certainly want such treatment if I had as much pain as I had from bursitis in the right shoulder years ago—I was glad to have several injections of morphine then.

Having mentioned cortisone and hydracortisone, I feel it is only fair to add that to the best of my knowledge these medicines seem to bring prompt cure in some cases, such as Bill's (though the cure in my case, without cortisone, was not unimpressive), extraordinary relief for days or weeks in other cases, and some frightful consequences if continued too long in other cases. I have yet to learn of a cure of chronic joint disability by cortisone or any other miracle medicine.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not to disease, diagnosis, or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

Voice of the People

'Use Franklin Property for New Junior College'

Letters will be condensed when necessary because of lack of space. Full name, address and telephone number of the writer must accompany letters but these will not be published if the writer so requests unless the letter is critical in its nature.

The Beaudette home would make a beautiful library for Pontiac. I was wondering, in view of the great need in Pontiac for a junior college, if Mr. and Mrs. Beaudette couldn't be persuaded to consider the use of the rest of their beautiful property as a junior college, that would bear the name Beaudette Junior College.

The Pontiac Board of Education has shown that the lovely old homes along Franklin boulevard are practical for educational building offices. Franklin boulevard would make a lovely campus and the fine old homes there would be used for college buildings with little change of their outward appearance.

Perhaps the Beaudettes' generous offer may be the very thing needed to spark other property owners in that neighborhood to consider selling or giving their property for use as a part of the junior college.

These homes would bear the donor's name in honor of his generosity, and could be paid for by public subscription. I would be happy to start the ball rolling with a check for $25.00.

A Pontiac Press Reader

Reader Declares Vote Unimportant

After reading Emma Trumble Steffins' letter, all I can say is she is wasting her time and strength in urging people of their duty (?) to vote carefully.

All she has to do is to read about the Courthouse controversy to know that what people want is not what they get. So as long as our votes don't mean a thing, why not stay home and leave everything up to the county supervisors? They go over your head.

If you have a million votes against and they have only 50 for, they will do what they want. Wise up to the fact that the votes of the mass don't count.

Any Slumps in Business Will Have Political Echo

By MERRYLE S. RUKEYSER
INS Economic Commentator

The behavior of stock prices is being examined as a clue to business's impact on voting preferences in the coming 3½ months prior to the presidential election Nov. 6.

An axiom of politics is that good business helps the political "ins," whereas a dip in prosperty can be exploited by the "outs."

This principle is especially applicable this year when the Eisenhower administration is running for re-election under the "peace and prosperity" banner.

Even prior to the steel strike, economic analysts were widely predicting a moderate decline in the third quarter — the July, August and September period.

* * *

Those prognosticators, who believe that such a slowdown would be short-lived, assume that there will be a pickup in the fourth quarter, making the year as a whole another 12 months of maximum economic activity.

TIMING IMPORTANT

If the actual course of business volume should be precisely in accord with these expectations, the time element will be important.

* * *

Any dip, even if only one step backward before the country takes two steps forward, will give political opponents of the administration an opportunity to pooh-pooh the theory that Eisenhower is good for business.

However, if the direction of business is upward in the month or so prior to Nov. 6, such a trend might generate votes for the Eisenhower administration.

This is an illustration of the somewhat immature way that many unsophisticated persons look upon the impact of politics on business, and of business on politics.

* * *

Since the long-term flourishing of the republic depends on an effective two-party system, it is regrettable that many jump to conclusions about which of the two parties is better for business.

History reveals fluctuations up and down were fairly evenly distributed when either of the two parties was temporarily in power.

NEW DEAL RESULT

Thus undue sensitivity on the part of business toward political personalities and trends was an outgrowth of New Deal attacks on the traditional competitive system, with the trend toward over-centralization at Washington.

Maybe, as the late Otto H. Kahn, investment banker, once remarked to me, "Finance is an old lady with shaken nerves."

In this spirit, the stock market reacted dramatically on the unexpected news of Eisenhower's heart attack and again when the Ileitis illness occurred.

Under the American philosophy of government, there is no indispensable man. Eisenhower, however, contributed to a quickening of long-term investment confidence which has been reflected in economic activity on a high plateau. He has created affirmative enthusiasm for the private enterprise system.

Don't Confuse Infatuation, Love

Linda wonders if it is true love or just infatuation that she feels. The two make you giddy and put butterflies in your stomach. But true love is unselfish. Contrast Amnon with Sidney Carton below and you'll see the difference. And to get true reports from your friends, let them maintain their anonymity by the plan I have outlined.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

"Dr. Crane, I am madly in love with a boy," she began, "but my friends tell me it is just infatuation.

* * *

"They say he doesn't love me. My family doesn't interfere but I know they don't care much for this boy.

"In fact, my brother tactfully tried to tell me last week that I should give this boy up.

"But I feel as if I'd die if I couldn't see him every day and hear his voice on the telephone.

"He isn't as nice as I'd like. He gambles some and doesn't have a regular job. And lately he has been demanding that we indulge in trial marriage for awhile just till we are sure we are properly mated.

"How does a person know if it is true love or just infatuation anyway?"

TEST OF TRUE LOVE

True love is unselfish. Infatuation is selfish and demanding.

In both conditions, the victim may feel as if life isn't worth living without the other party.

* * *

And in both conditions, you may feel butterflies in your stomach and that giddy, intoxicated sensation.

But infatuation doesn't last. It may change to hatred even in a few minutes after marriage as King David's son demonstrated after he seduced Tamar.

Amnon had literally been love sick because of his intense craving for the beautiful Tamar. But his supposed love was only infatuation, so he actually drove her out upon the street. (See II Samuel, Ch. 13).

Contrast this case with that of Sidney Carton in Dickens' "Tale of Two Cities." There Sidney Carton took the place of his rival and went to the guillotine because he knew that his sweetheart loved the rival.

CUPID IS DECEITFUL

Cupid is thus very deceitful. He may trick you unless you employ your brain to control your heart.

* * *

One reason for our high percentage of divorces is the fact that the couples are infatuated but not truly in love.

After marriage, therefore, they show their selfishness, instead of unselfishness. And in six months, they may be calling each other vile names in a divorce suit.

So be cautious about marriage. Linda, for example, might truly love this boy friend, yet her friends and brother see that he definitely doesn't love Linda.

* * *

For he knows that such a selfish arrangement does not benefit the girl in the case but only gratifies the boy's own selfish desires. Therefore, that proves he does not truly love Linda.

He is thinking only of himself and not of her ultimate best interests. He is behaving like Amnon instead of Sidney Carton.

LOVE'S TEST

Before you marry, bring your sweetheart home to visit your family. That lets you see him against the backdrop of your own cultural and religious surroundings.

In his own environment his faults may not stand out. But take him into your own home surroundings and soon you will feel it when his words or actions jar or strike discordant notes.

And rate him by the tests mentioned below. Ask your friends for their advice, too.

They may hesitate to tell the plain truth, unless you give them plain white envelopes and let them send you typewritten, unsigned reports. This is about the only way you can get their real reactions.

* * *

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 3c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

Herter Would Bring Varied Political Career Into Race

BOSTON (INS) — If chosen by the GOP National Convention as President Eisenhower's running-mate, Governor Christian A. Herter of Massachusetts would bring into the national campaign an unusual political record.

* * *

He has never been defeated for public office during a career which included service in the Bay State Legislature, Congress and two terms as Governor of Massachusetts.

The governor was born March 28, 1895, in Paris, France, where his parents had met and married while studying art. Herter received his early schooling in France and still speaks French fluently.

He returned to the United States with his parents when he was 10 and attended Browning School in New York and Harvard University.

He intended to become an architect and studied at Columbia University but through a friend became interested in a diplomatic career. He served at the U. S. embassy in Berlin and in 1917, at the age of 22, became acting U. S. minister to Belgium when Consul Brand Whitlock became ill.

He was one of the last Americans out of Germany in World War I and one of the first to return there after the armistice.

In 1918 he was assistant commissioner of a special diplomatic mission to draw up prisoners of war agreements with Germany, and in 1920, at the request of Herbert Hoover, then Secretary of Commerce, became executive secretary of the European Relief Council, made up of relief agencies of the Catholic, Protestant and Jewish faiths.

He also served as secretary of the American Peace Council and for three years served as personal assistant and secretary to Hoover.

Herter discovered the Communists were about to take over Germany in the period following the first world war and his prompt report to Hoover led to the opening of American warehouses in Europe to distribute $356 million worth of food to bolster the tottering German republic and forestall Communist seizure of the nation.

He returned to Boston and published the "Independent" and "The Sportsman" magazines and later taught international law and government at Harvard.

From 1939 to 1942 he served as speaker of the Massachusetts house. He was later elected to Congress to represent a Massachusetts district.

DECORATIONS

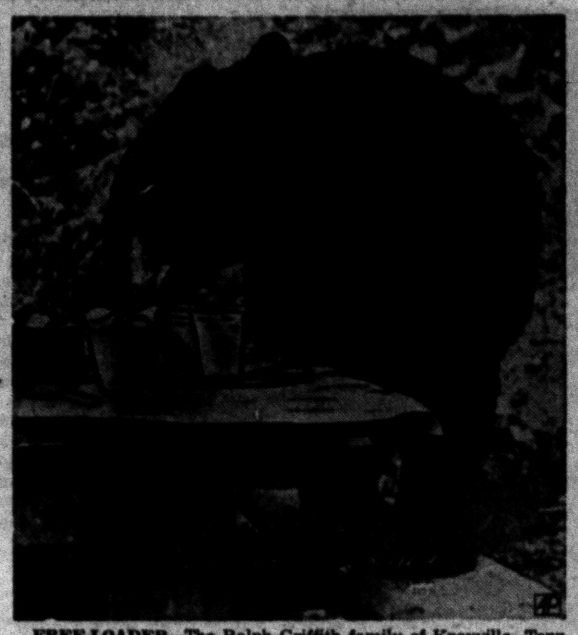

He has been decorated by the Polish, Belgian and Greek governments for his humanitarian work and was selected as one of the top five Congressmen in a poll of 254 newspaper editors throughout the country.

Herter was married Aug. 25, 1917, to the former Caroline Pratt of Brooklyn, N. Y., the daughter of Charles Pratt, founder of Pratt Institute.

They have four children and 13 grandchildren.

Detroit Polio Rate Dips

DETROIT (AP) — Detroit's polio count continues to run below 50 per cent of the total to this date last year. Dr. Joseph G. Molner, city health commissioner, reported 27 cases this year, compared to 61 last year at this time. There have been no fatalities this year, compared to one last year.

Newest TV Fad: DX-ing Stations

NEW YORK — Television engineers are baffled by a phenomenon that is creating a new sport among TV viewers; DX-ing—receiving unbelievably distant stations. This is particularly true in late spring and summer.

* * *

The useful range of most TV stations is 50 miles or so, but programs have been picked up from 6,600 miles away and reception from stations 2,000 miles off is becoming more commonplace. Some DX-ers can get hundreds of stations.

* * *

The answers seem to be atmospheric conditions and sunspots, and the DX-er usually is near a large body of water.

Bedford Brown, Hot Springs, Ark. has logged 234 stations in 40 states —76 in one day.

Joins U.S. Scientists

Gerard, professor of Neurophysiology at he University of Michigan, is one of five scientists who will represent the United States at the first general assembly of the International Physiological Union at Brussels, Belgium, July 30. Ziem to Attend Parley, Serve on Panel There

Oakland County Prosecutor Frederick C. Ziem, who will attend the Prosecuting Attorneys of Michigan convention on Mackinac Island this weekend, will be a member of a six-man panel Friday on Highway Law Enforcement.

Other panel members will include State Police Commissioner Joseph A. Childs, Circuit Judge Steven J. Roth of Flint, Dr. C. W. Muehlberger of the State Crime Detection Laboratory, and the Genesee and Midland County prosecutors.

Walled Lake Resident Gets 30-Day Sentence

Raleigh Spencer, 36, of Walled Lake, was committed to 30 days in the Oakland County Jail Tuesday after pleading guilty to reckless driving.

Spencer was jailed when he failed to pay the court fine and costs totaling $100. He was arraigned before Keego Harbor Justice James Southard.

Immigration Laws Blamed

Escapee Program Failing

FRANKFURT, Germany (AP) — The U.S. escapee program was set up more than four years ago to provide havens for 214,000 refugees from behind the Iron Curtain. It has resettled less than 30,000 so far.

* * *

U.S. officials are reluctant to discuss why, but evidently the big brake has been the heavily restrictive nature of U.S. immigration laws.

Three out of four refugees initially want to go to the United States. More than half the 28,876 refugees who have been sent to new homes have gone there.

The law setting up the program provides that any refugee must come under study two years before he can be sent to the United States. Thus, a man fleeing from Hungary has to remain in West Germany two years. He also must have a stateside sponsor, and a trade he can pursue on arrival.

The refugees are questioned by U.S. intelligence agents, to disclose any Communist "plants," and then shipped to the relocation center at Valka, Germany. Here the escapee program takes over, providing schooling, language training and advice on how and where to resettle.

* * *

A bill to extend it is before the Senate with prospects of passage dim. Neither Republicans nor Democrats are solidly for it.

True Russian Invention -- Raisins in Tires

MOSCOW (INS)—The West hooted when Russia claimed to have invented the steam engine, TV and inside plumbing.

* * *

But the scoffers won't have an easy time challenging the Soviets' latest claim—first to put raisins in auto tires.

The story emerged after the Moscow tire plant production manager called the tire - fabric processing chief on the carpet. According to the newspaper "Moscow Pravda," their conversation went something like this:

"Why has the tire fabric impregnating line stopped?"

"Try cottage cheese."

* * *

"Then use cream cheese."

"We can't, it's all been eaten up."

"How do you mean, 'all eaten up'?"

* * *

"Shortly before the above conversation took place a 350-pound (160 - kilogram) cask of cream cheese was delivered to the plant. The first to try it were the technical inspectors.

MMMM—VERY TASTY

"Spoonful followed spoonful . . . until the cask was nearly empty."

But the day's planned output quota was saved. As the manager and foreman were wringing their hands, a second truckload of cottage cheese arrived from Moscow's dietetic dairy.

That evening, during a speech at a plant meeting, the production boss boasted of the "urgently taken measures" which had prevented a shutdown in the fabric-processing department.

Mikoyan Continues Visits to Satellites

Mikoyan went to Sovia from the island of Brioni, where he paid a private visit to Yugoslavia's President Tito. Earlier he was in Budapect, where he was reported to have been involved in the ouster of Matyas Rakosi, an old-Tito foe, as boss of the Hungarian Communist party.

There was speculation here that Mikoyan's next stop would be Romania. He apparently is making the same kind of barnstorming, trouble-shooting tour of the satellites as Soviet Premier Bulganin is making in Poland.

Truck Driver Killed

ZEELAND (AP)—Glenn W. Nieboer, 28, of Holland was killed Tuesday when his dump truck smacked into a tree after going out of control on a soft shoulder of an Ottawa County road six miles east of Zeeland. Nieboer, whos wife is expecting their fifth child, had gone to work two days earlier for the West Shore Construction Co. of Zeeland.

FUN ON THE FARM — 3

Polly's Roadside Stand

On most farms, members of the family raise fruit and vegetables for their own use, and sometimes to sell. At the farm where Polly lives an orchard provides apples, peaches, cherries, pears and plums. In the garden there is a strawberry patch, berry bushes, many vegetables and some beehives.

Polly tends a roadside stand where people traveling by can stop and buy these things. Polly's mother strains the honey and puts it in jars. There are fresh eggs for sale too.

Paste it down on cardboard, then cut out the parts carefully. Attach Polly's right arm behind her shoulder with a brass fastener or pin through the indicated holes, so she can hold up the beets.

Fold back the top of the stand and the sides, and paste the flap "A" under the left end of the top. Cut the sign "Fresh Vegetables" on three sides and fold it up on the dotted bottom line. Fit the vegetables into the slots on top.

Fold the bases forward on the dotted lines and the whole picture will stand up and Polly will be ready to sell her vegetables.

(This idea was first contributed by Barbara Mallow, McKinney, Texas, who wins $10. You may gain the Junior Editors award if you send in a useable idea care of this newspaper. Violet Moore Higgins; AP Newsfeatures).

Teenagers Plead Guilty in Theft of Tires

Two teenagers pleaded guilty Monday in Justice Court to a simple larceny charge involving the Saturday night theft of three tires, a tube, and a wheel from a parked car.

Ronald D. Tarjany, 17, of Inkster, and William Livingston, 17, of Dearborn, were sentenced to 15-day terms in the Oakland County Jail for their part in the crime.

The pair were arraigned before Springfield Township Justice Emmett C. Leib. The theft reportedly took place on Shaffer road in that township.

Authorities recognize 18 true varieties of cheese.

Two Youths Pay Fines

Two youths from Detroit and Farmington were released after paying fines for having beer in their possessions Monday.

Bobbie A. Johnston, 17, of Detroit, and Fred Bawden, 17, of Farmington, pleaded guilty to the charge at an arraignment before Justice Allen G. Ingle, of Farmington Township. They each paid a total of $50 in fines and costs.

Draws $50 Fine

Pleading guilty to reckless driving, Gordon L. Whitlock, 22, who is stationed at an Army Camp in Auburn Heights, was fined $50 in Municipal Court Monday. He appeared before Judge Maurice E. Finnegan.

Hal Boyle Reflects:

Good Ole Summertime in New York City

* * *

It is now not only a great place to visit—it's a swell place to live in.

For Gotham, unlike bears, which hibernate in winter does its hibernating during the warm months.

Life slows to a dog trot and finally a lazy walk. All the two-and-three ulcer men, the nervous folk who live on pep pills, have fled to beach and mountain, leaving the city to those who love it for more reasons than the mere fact they make a living in it.

* * *

All the usual social bars are down. No velvet rope halts you in the night clubs. The headwaiter greets you as a human being instead of a sheep it is his distasteful duty to shear of its fleece.

The streets and subways are less crowded. You no longer have to write an indignant letter to the mayor in order to get a cab. Most of the Broadway theaters have seats for sale, and you don't have to go to your banker and float a loan to buy a ticket.

If you go through a revolving door, nobody gets in behind you and tries to come out ahead of you.

Pigeons gossip at your feet, move out of the way unhurriedly, and waddle along after you, hoping for a handout.

* * *

The stores are full of wonderful bargains. Luggage is 50 per cent off, sport shirts are marked down 25 per cent.

Everybody is relaxed and easy-going. The big town has time for all the little niceties that make living in a small town so pleasant.

You can get a haircut without standing in line. The cop on the beat gives you a nod or a cherry "Hello." Old ladies lean out of tenement windows, leaning on fat arms that look like white pillows, and talk comfortably.

Even in traffic jams the truck drivers cuss out the "civilian" drivers in a way that show they don't really have their heart in it.

* * *

There is a half-holiday atmosphere in the offices. The sessions at the water cooler grow longer, as the hired hands brag about the vacation they've just come from, or the one they're going on. They steal an extra 15 minutes at lunch for a little walk in the sun, and the boss doesn't say a word. He can't, since he plans to leave an hour early himself.

The whip of tension that people usually live under here has been put upon the shelf.

The ambitious rest a bit on their oars. The back-biters are at rest. Few want to pick up that first stone and throw it. Too much trouble.

Even the pickpockets take it easy here now. Most of the people with big wallets are out of town. So are the big showoffs and fakers, the cafe society leaders and their toadies, and the gangsters.

* * *

Now is the time for all good people to come to Manhattan if they want to see and enjoy it at its friendliest—in the good old summertime, when every night is like Saturday night back home.

WAGON WHEELS WEST — The Ernest Elfgren family of East Killingly, Conn., is shown near Hannibal, Mo., en route to Nebraska. The Elfgrens started out for California last year, but made it only to Jerseyville, Ill., when they were forced to return home for the fall opening of school. The family includes Mom and Pop and five children.

Waterford Township Man Admits Simple Larceny

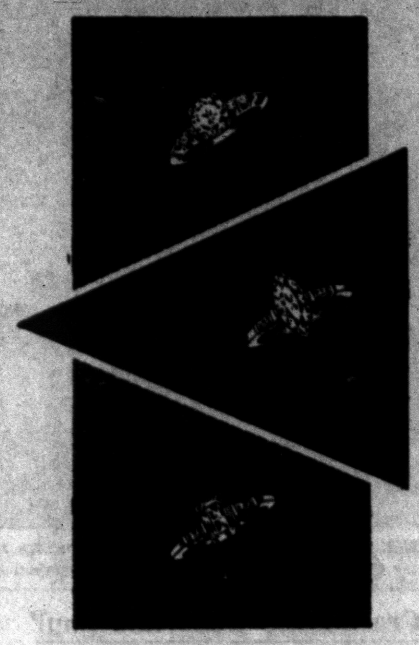

James W. Parker, 19, of 5569 Savoy Dr., Waterford Township, was fined $25 and paid $15 court costs Monday after pleading guilty to simple larceny.

The arraignment was held by Waterford Township Justice Willis D. Lefurgy. Parker was arrested by Township police July 21 after he allegedly took miscellaneous articles from Peter's Service Station at Sashabaw and Walton roads.

Ireland's milk production for 1955 was some 3 per cent below the 1954 record output of 5½ billion pounds.

Leave the covers off your plastic containers when they are not in use. No odors developed this way!

About 20 per cent of the fluid milk processed by dairy plants in Liverpool is sterilized. One firm flies sterilized milk to West Africa.

Which One will it be?

the round - emerald cut - or marquise? Since becomingness is a factor in making your choice of a diamond, do select one that is in proportion to the size of your hand and the joints of your finger - that best typifies you. Here, three styles - all with a personality all their own.

Marines Fall Short of Enlistment Quotas Since January, Clamp on Secrecy Lid

PARRIS ISLAND, S. C. (AP)—The Marine Corps said today overall recruiting, January through June, was 3,653 below established quotas.

* * *

The budgeted figure was 35,820, and the number recruited was only 32,161, a Marine spokesman reported.

The raw recruit input at this training center has dropped off drastically.

RECRUITS DROP 2,000

There is a report from a Marine officer that recruit input here is down by 2,000.

Maj. Ralph Woods, public information officer, insisted the figures are classified.

Normally, such information can be had at the drop of a hat. But this base is, as they say, "real shook." Until today such figures were distributed throughout the recruit command with no classification label.

More and more it is becoming obvious the trial of S. Sgt. Matthew C. McKeon is one court-martial the Marine Corps is going to lose no matter what happens to McKeon.

If he is convicted thousands of ex-Marines are going to scream "foul," judging by the letters, telegrams and telephone calls pouring into this base.

If he is freed there is a fear that mothers—and maybe even some congressmen—are going to be outraged. In any case, as one officer put it, "The corner we've got ourselves into keeps getting smaller and smaller."

MARINES ON SPOT

There is a deep and almost wrathful feeling here that the corps has been put on trial unnecessarily.

The opinion seems to be that the commandant, Gen. Randolph Pate, put them there with one statement in his comment before the House Armed Services Committee.

When he appeared to testify about the disciplinary night march of April 8, led by McKeon, in which six recruits drowned, Pate said:

* * *

Making Marine training methods the issue of the trial, instead of McKeon, Pate opened the door to a highly public airing of Marine training methods.

It is this airing which has resulted in the drastic falloff in recruit input here apparently.

Three Are Named to Planning Board

The appointments of William F. Davis and H. R. Ryerse to positions on the City Planning Commission were confirmed last night by the City Commission.

Commissioner John E. Carry (District 6) was re-appointed by Mayor William W. Donaldson to represent the commission on the plan group.

Davis was re-appointed to another three-year term retroactive other three-year term retroactive pointed for three years to replace Alvin E. Hill. Both appointments were recommendations of City Manager W. K. Willman.

Shock of Family Reunion Causes Fatal Coronary

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP) — Mrs. Theresa Knebel saw her daughter for the first time in 42 years yesterday, and died of a heart attack a few hours later.

* * *

They began discussing plans for a celebration. Seven hours later, Mrs. Knebel collapsed and died.

As we said before—

It's a Great Time to Buy a Buick

WE'VE BEEN SAYING for some weeks now that you really ought to come see us for the buy of your life—and we're not fooling.

There's never been a better time to buy a new Buick than right now—and we list here 3 solid facts that make this gospel.

Fact No. 3: Buick value and Buick prices are at their sweetest right now. They give you more solid automobile for your money than ever before—as witness how Buick outsells every other car in America except two of the well-known smaller ones.

So why hold back another week, another day?

Why pass up the world's most luxurious ride—and the magnificent ease of handling that goes with Buick's great new travel?

Most pointedly, why miss out on the most modern thing on wheels—Variable Pitch Dynaflow*. . .

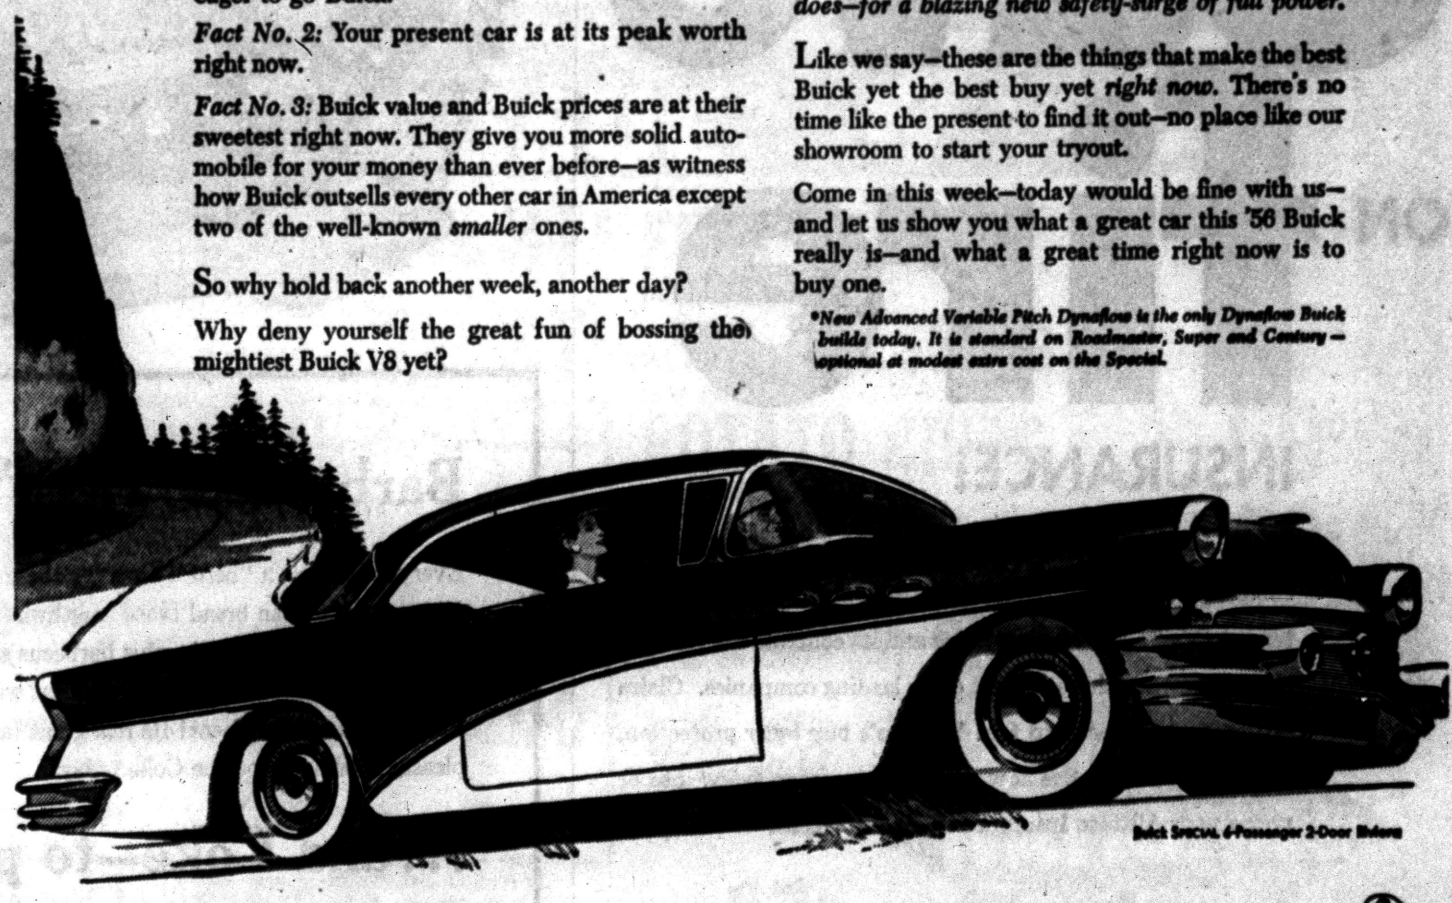

Where the top inch of pedal travel gives you brand-new getaway, plus brand-new gas savings . . .

And where you can switch the pitch—like a pilot does—for a blazing new safety-surge of full power.

Like we say—these are the things that make the best Buick yet the best buy yet right now. There's no time like the present to find it out—no place like our showroom to start your tryout.

Come in this week—today would be fine with us—and let us show you what a great car this '56 Buick really is—and what a great time right now is to buy one.

*New Advanced Variable Pitch Dynaflow is the only Dynaflow Buick builds today. It is standard on Roadmaster, Super and Century—optional at modest extra cost on the Special.

New U.S. Base Commissioned

Largest Overseas Air Station Located Near Manila on Bataan

CUBI POINT, Philippines (AP) — The United States commissioned its largest overseas naval air station today. A top U.S. military leader called the base a vital link in the defense of free Asia.

* * *

Adm. Arthur W. Radford, chairman of the U.S. Joint Chiefs of Staff, described the Cubi Point station as part of a "comprehensive system of regional security in the Pacific area."

"It is part of the Philippines, and the Philippine Republic is a vital part of SEATO (Southeast Asia Treaty Organization," Radford said.

The admiral said SEATO was formed to "convince potential aggressors that aggression will be effectively and immediately resisted." Cubi Point, he added, will strengthen collective capacities to resist interference.

* * *

The United States, he declared, will "maintain at all times powerful forces in the western Pacific as a deterrent to the use of open violence."

The Cubi Point station, located about 50 miles northwest of Manila on historic Bataan Peninsula, was opened after five years of round-the-clock construction. Some 47 million dollars have gone into its development. More than 80 million dollars will be spent before it is completed in 1962.

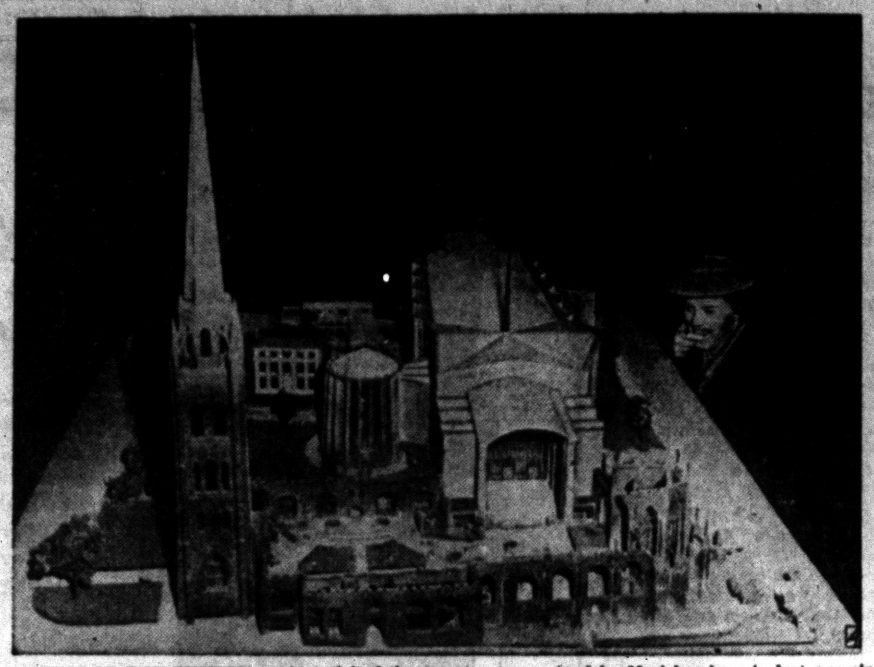

* * *

The base has an 8,000-foot concrete runway capable of handling land-based, carrier-based and amphibian planes. From the air it looks like a giant aircraft carrier cut from the side of a mountain.

Consider Crackdown 'Body and Soul'

Italian Dilemma: Wild Drivers, Old Roads

ROME (AP) — Campaigns have been launched in Italy to punish traffic offenders body and soul.

* * *

The state is talking about "decisive action" to crack down on careless drivers who roar along narrow Italian roads in ever-growing numbers and speeds. The Roman Catholic church has been urged to impose moral penalties.

Italians have been dying in frightening numbers in automobile accidents — about 5,800 a year. This is about three times the U.S. rate.

* * *

Neither laws nor sermons can do much about one of the basic reasons for the bloodshed. Most Italy highways are ancient. Via Aurelia, main coastal road from Rome to the Riviera, was staked out in the third century. Via Flaminia, from Rome to the northern Adriatic, was finished in 220 B.C.

* * *

A foreign tourist, caught in a maze of traffic, soon discovers that city streets were built for medieval horses, not for Fiats or Ferraris—let alone Cadillacs.

That's half the deadly mixture. The other half is the fact that Italian cars are fast, their drivers love to handle them like racers, and there has been insufficient law enforcement to stop them. There is no speed limit.

Two City Men Held on Indecency Counts

Two Pontiac men demanded examination in Municipal Court yesterday when they were arraigned before Judge Cecil McCallum on morals charges.

Richard W. Copeland, 29, and Lambertus H. Prins, 21, both of 105½ E. Huron St., were remanded to the Oakland County Jail under $5,000 bond following the arraignment. Copeland is charged with gross indecency, while the specific charge against Prins is attempting to procure an act of gross indecency.

County Records 8th Polio Case of '56

A polio case was reported in Royal Oak this week bringing the total for 1956 to eight in Oakland County.

Last year at this time there were 17 cases of polio reported in Oakland County by the Health Department.

Some 24 cases of tuberculosis were listed in a report from Dr. John D. Monroe, health director.

Bids for County Home

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — Grand Rapids School of the Bible and Music has offered $160,000 for Kent County Children's Home — the lone bid received for the structure. The home was closed in April. The bid is being studied by the county finance committee, which has approved a new detention home estimated at about $300,000.

Pythians Join August Highway Courtesy Drive

Knights of Pythias units in Pontiac, Waterford Township, and Oxford will join other national and Canadian lodges in sponsoring a "Highway Courtesy Month" drive during August, Grand Vice-Chancellor Harry H. Pattison, of Orchard Lake, announced today.

* * *

The area groups will be among 54 from Michigan participating in the campaign sanctioned by Governor G. Mennen Williams and his staff.

The Governor recently issued a proclamation urging all Michigan residents to cooperate in the program by "the exercise of courtesy and caution in driving and walking so that we may re-emphasize the importance of personal responsibility in the reduction of traffic accidents."

The local lodges to aid in the program will be Lodge 19 of Pontiac, Fellowship Lodge 277 of Waterford Township, and Lodge 108 of Oxford—1,000 county members.

Knights will issue highway courtesy cards to police and sheriff departments, insurance companies, and other firms. These are then passed on to drivers.

* * *

The cards list various hints motor vehicle operators should remember in striving for safety on the highways. Various instructions and slogans are also included on the cards.

BREAD KEPT FRESH FOR DAYS

WHEN I SEE BASKARTS in our stores piled high with loaves of freshly baked bread I can't resist asking "giving a party?" It happens day after day, and imagine my surprise at hearing "no, I buy an extra supply and freeze it. I really like bread better after it's frozen and it saves me time and money. I always have plenty on hand and it costs less at National."

Frozen bread remains as fresh as the day it was baked, and the same is true of coffee cakes, rolls, etc. Frozen baked breads thaw quickly at room temperature, but heat them in the oven for a few minutes for a surprise treat. Toast a slice of your favorite oven-fresh bread from National while it's still frozen and tell me if you've ever eaten tastier toast.

Clovis Point Is Prize Item

GRAND HAVEN (AP) — A Clovis Point, used 10,000 years ago as the business end of a spear, is the prize item in a relic collection owned by Mrs. Ida Yaggie of Grand Haven.

* * *

She and her husband, the late Henry Yaggie, found the relic some 18 years ago near Pigeon River in Olive Township.

They treasured it as an item in their collection, but it was only this spring that its identity was determined.

It includes other spear points, arrowheads, fish hooks, stone drills, beads and pottery remnants. Mrs. Yaggie continues her search for artifacts in fulfilling the wish of her husband, who died two years ago, that she carry on the work.

The search becomes more difficult, she says, as Ottawa and Muskegon counties become more populated.

* * *

Since 1938 the Soil Conservation Service has planted beach grass and pine trees over Ottawa County "sandblows," covering most of the collectors' favorite hunting grounds.

Strawberry Crop Wilts

BENTON HARBOR (AP) — The U.S. Department of Agriculture market news has placed the cash value of the area's 1956 strawberry crop at $1,677,701 — a sharp decline from the record $2,798,226 paid to southwestern Michigan growers last year. Stem end rot and a prolonged early heat wave were cited for the comparatively low harvest of 398,504 crates. The harvest last year produced 526,973 crates. The average 1956 price per crate was $4.21 compared to $5.31 a year ago.

State Teal Travel

LANSING (AP)—Word has reached Lansing that two blue-winged teal banded in Michigan in 1954 have been killed in the Caribbean area. One, banded at Crow Island state game area near Saginaw, was killed last year near Lajas, Porto Rico, and the second, banded at Seney Waterfowl Refuge, in January near Los Villas, Cuba.

The pre-convention jokes are largely about Kefauver. Such as: On a handshaking tour the good senator stopped to chat a bit with a voter and the voter volunteered, "You're my second choice, senator."

Softly, somewhat sadly, Kefauver thanked the man for showing at least that much interest in him. He then said, "May I ask you who is your first choice?"

"Almost anybody else," the fellow replied.

Then there is the Kefauver story about his approaching a man seated on a park bench.

"I'm Estes Kefauver," he said, sticking out his big friendly hand and seizing the man's paw.

"I know," the man said, "now get the hell away from me."

President Eisenhower is in a most difficult position on the matter of his health. Any reference he makes to it provides fuel for his political foes. He said he was tired but carries on, after his arrival in Panama. People have said something like that, on arrival in Panama from far-off places, ever since Columbus dropped by there on his second voyage to the new world, looking for a waterway through the isthmus.

If he had gone immediately to the golf course and played there would have been criticism, too.

There's no question about it: Ike's health is going to be the No. 1 issue in the forthcoming political gales.

Small girl we know who likes to dance with adults had a ball for herself at a party at Allenhurst, N. J., the other night. She latched on to a handsome fellow named Toby and not only could have danced all night but practically did — until led off to her bed. "My girl friends were very jealous," she told me the next day. "They wanted to dance with Toby, but I had him."

"How did you get him?" I asked.

"I ran faster and pushed harder," said the calculating woman.

Nature Hides Its Monster

Shifting, Whispering Sand

YUKUTAT, Alaska (AP) — More than two months after its discovery on a remote Alaska beach, the carcass of an unidentified monster was being buried today by shifting sands.

Only a few inches of the head remained visible on the beach 60 miles south of here.

Estimates of the monster's size were scaled down somewhat yesterday, after first news accounts of the mystifying find stirred interest around the country.

Donald Vent, a Yakutat fisherman who first sighted the carcass May 10, guessed the length at 40 to 60 feet.

* * *

"It would be pretty hard to estimate the length," Vent said. "The head was above ground and it was uncovered for about 18 feet back from the head. Then a section of about 10 feet was covered with sand and then another section six or eight feet was uncovered."

Bob Kederick, reporter for the Juneau, Alaska, Daily Empire, viewed the carcass last week. He said it had reddish-brown hair 12 inches long; a head measuring 5½ feet across and eye sockets 7 to 9 inches in diameter, about 42 inches apart.

At Seattle Trevor Kincadi, retired University of Washington zoologist, said the description didn't fit any known animal.

Two Denver geologists, Paul Vaughn and Virgil eastwood, visited the scene July 6 with a pilot, george Stevens.

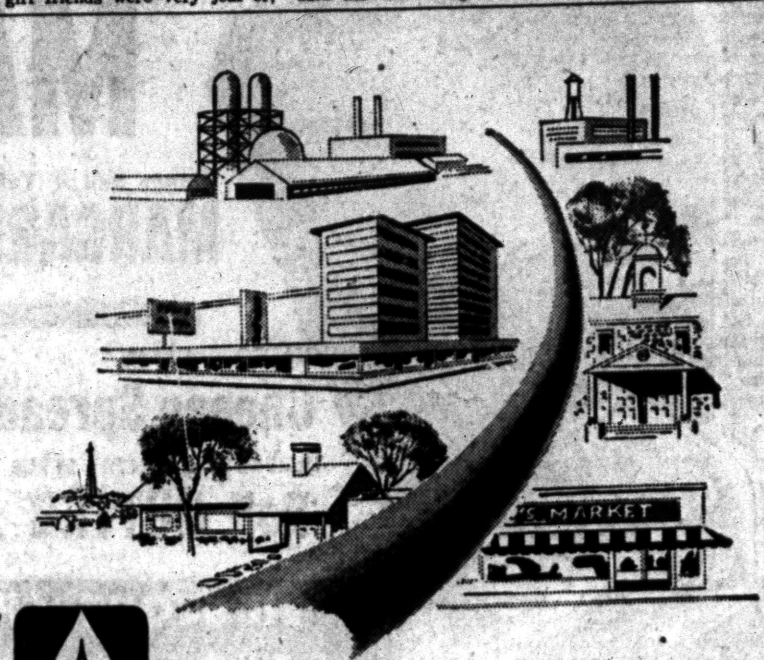

Vaughn and Eastwood said they paced off what they thought was a "conservative" 50 feet of the carcass above ground. The rest then was buried by sand.

"The thing had a head that looked like the head of a baby elephant," said Vaughn. "It didn't look like a whale, I'll tell you that."

Stevens said the spinal bone appeared to be broken and that the carcass was in a U-shaped position with the head toward the beach.

Stassen Says Top Republicans Back Him in Dump-Nixon Drive, Won't Tell Names

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—When Harold E. Stassen gambled his own political future by opposing renomination of Vice President Nixon, he linked other Republicans with him.

* * *

Stassen, special assistant on disarmament to President Eisenhower, denied he was acting as "front man" for anyone in trying to keep Nixon off the ticket.

But he said in an interview at his home last night a group of "Republican leaders" — whom he wouldn't identify — had collaborated with him in using professional pollsters to test public sentiment on the vice presidency.

Stassen said he was not speaking for these "leaders" and that they would speak out and identify themselves in due time. But he said he had consulted with them before making his statement.

* * *

Now the question becomes, Who are they? And how influential are they?

* * *

The polls, Stassen said, had been made repeatedly over the past month. Among whom? Republicans, laborites and others. What questions were asked? A number about possible running mates for Eisenhower.

He said the polls showed the re-election chances of Eisenhower would be 6 per cent better with Gov. Christian A. Herter as his vice presidential running mate than with Nixon on the ticket.

* * *

There can be no doubt the statement did the Republican party no good if its convention in August picks Nixon again. Stassen, in calling for Nixon to step aside, angered many professional Republican politicians.

It may cost Stassen his job. If that happens, his political future looks dark indeed—although he said at his home he didn't think he'd be fired or pressured out. He said he has no intention of resigning.

What he did, Stassen said, was to "fulfill my duty and responsibility as I see it to the President and to our country and to our Republican party." He told Eisenhower Friday what he was going to do yesterday.

* * *

If the Nixon forces think Stassen was doing a hatchet job on him, it at least would not be the first time Stassen has actively tried to shove another man out of the running for high office.

In the 1952 primaries Stassen campaigned hard, particularly against Sen. Robert A. Taft, Ohio Republican, at a time when Taft, not Stassen, was Eisenhower's main opponent.

Before convention time Stassen said he had gone into the race to stop Taft. He said he wanted to stop that "viewpoint of semi-isolation and extreme convervatism in the Republican party from getting to the top."

* * *

At the convention he threw his support to Eisenhower and, after the election, was given a high government job as director of the mutual security program. Later Eisenhower made him his assistant on disarmament.

Although Stassen last night called Nixon a "burden" on the Republican ticket, he would not say precisely why he was so opposed to Nixon. He referred to his statement earlier in the day but that was full of generalities.

It is possible Stassen still retains some presidential ambitions—if he manages to survive this turmoil he caused among Republican politicians.

In a July 9 broadcast—while Eisenhower was still recovering from his operation and before it was announced he would run again—Stassen said that if Eisenhower didn't run he thought the Republicans could win with their Chief Justice Earl Warren or himself as head of the ticket.

Asked last night if he still felt that way — if anything now happened which caused Eisenhower to withdraw — Stassen said he would not discuss this possibility since the party was operating now on the assumption Eisenhower would run.

He was asked flatly if he would say he would not run. But he did not give a direct answer.

U.S. to Send Jets to Manila

30 Sabrejets to Help Buildup of Philippines Air Defense Arm

MANILA (INS) — American officials have announced the United States will give the Philippines 30 F86 Saberjet fighters within a year in addition to undetermined numbers of jet trainers and other planes.

* * *

Among those present were President Ramon Magsaysay, Adm. Arthur W. Radford, chairman of the U.S. Joint Chiefs of Staff, and U.S. Ambassador Albert Nufer.

It was announced they carried out "an exploratory talk" on forthcoming negotiations to turn title of U.S. bases in the Philippines over to the island government.

The squadron of 30 jets will be given to the Philippines in the final quarter of the current fiscal year.

* * *

Jet trainers and amphibious planes will be donated earlier.

The United States will also supply the Philippines with 137,000 gallons of high octane fuel for the jets.

Carnegie Hall Sold; $5 Million Price Tag Taken

NEW YORK (AP)—Carnegie Hall, a musical landmark in midtown Manhattan, has been sold to the tune of about five million dollars.

* * *

Louis J. Glickman, head of the firm, said the Philharmonic-symphony Society has an option to buy the hall from him. But he said the society must decide within four months. He pledged not to make any personal profit on the transaction.

* * *

Judge Moves Court

SAN FERNANCO, Calif. (AP)—Superior Judge Alfred Paonessa, his clerk and attorneys in actress Marie McDonald's divorce suit against shoe manufacturer Harry Karl will convene in her bedroom in Encino late today to hear her testimony. The actress is confined to bed with pregnancy complications. She expects a child in September. She charges Karl with extreme cruelty.

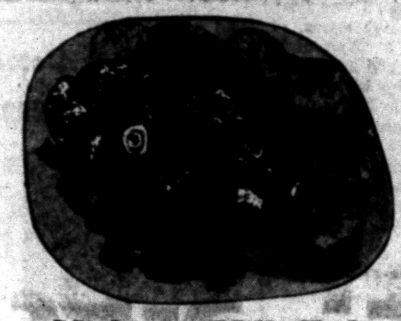

Turn that creamed chicken into an especially delicious dish by cooking sliced mushrooms and thin strips of green pepper in the butter you are using for the sauce; then add flour and milk or light cream and proceed as usual.

$100--It's Yours for the Solution to Puzzle No. 9

Another week — another $100: that's what the Press will pay to the reader who comes up with the correct solution to Pot-O-Gold Puzzle No. 9, the newest challenge in our fascinating summer word game. Other than the clues below, the best advice we can give is to read the rules carefully before sending in your entry. Have fun, and good luck!

The puzzle consists of (1) a number of circles which contain a few scrambled letters, and (2) a corresponding list of clues to these words printed below. The object is to arrange each group of circled letters into a word that best fits its clue. The word which you select for Circle No. 1, then would be the one which you would print in the space to the right of (1) below.

You'll notice that some circles contain $ signs in pots of gold. You may use such a symbol as any letter you wish. However, it and all letters in that circle must be used. The $ sign, of course, can represent ANY letter in the word.

Do the same in all the other circles. Study the clues carefully and arrange all the letters into words that you believe best conforms to these clues. Use your $ signs to help you spell out the right words.

OFFICIAL CONTEST RULES

1. Anyone is eligible to enter the POT-O-GOLD contest with the exception of Pontiac Press employes or their immediate families.

2. A contestant may submit as many entries as he or she wishes but they must be on official entry blanks printed in this newspaper.

3. To submit an entry the contestant must print his answer words in the proper spaces, cut out the area enclosed by dotted lines and attach it securely to a 2-cent postcard. No entries will be accepted if they are in envelopes. Entries for Puzzle No. 9 must bear a Tuesday, July 31, postmark (or before). No entries received after that time, whether mailed or delivered by hand, will be declared eligible. The Press is not responsible for entries lost or delayed in the mail.

4. Sorry, telephone calls or mail concerning details of the contest cannot be answered or acknowledged.

5. The Pontiac Press will award a cash prize of $100 a week to the winner of each weekly POT-O-GOLD contest. If more than one winning answer is received the prize will be divided equally among the winners. If any week or weeks should pass without any winners, the prize will be added weekly until a winning solution is submitted.

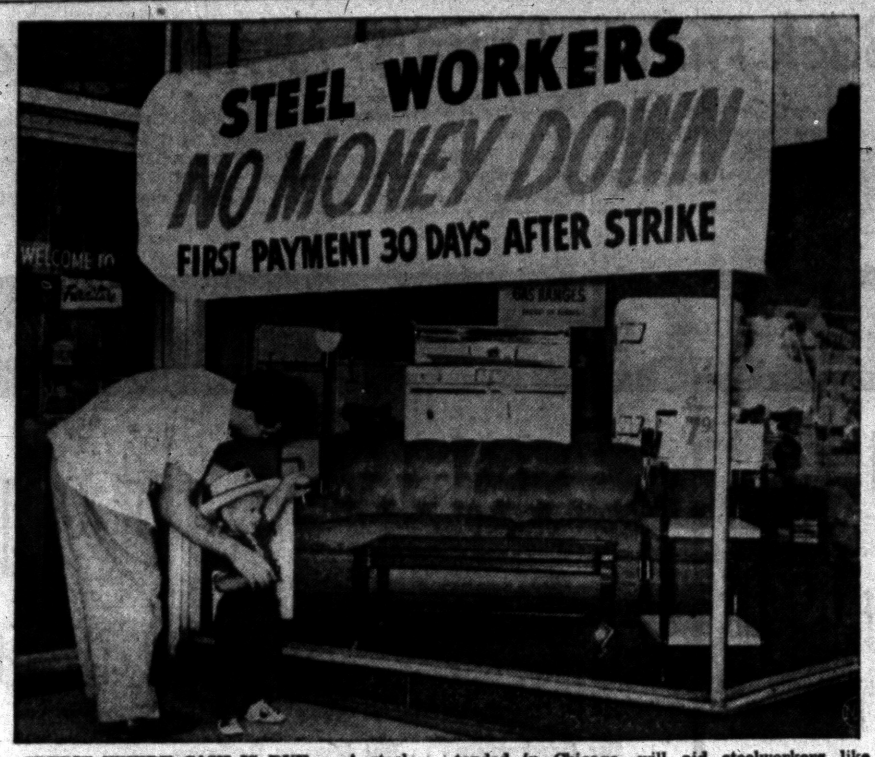

6. Winners will be awarded an extra cash bonus of $25 each if they are Pontiac Press subscribers of record on the day winners are announced. Only one such bonus can be awarded to each prize-winner, no matter how many weekly prizes may accumulate.

7. Each week's puzzle will be published Monday, Wednesday and Friday until the contest's end, Labor Day. Either or all will be considered as official entry blanks.

8. Winners and correct solutions will be announced each Friday of the week following individual contests. Official keeper of answers will be Frederick C. Ziem, prosecutor for Oakland County. Only the General Features Corp., originators of the puzzles, will know the solutions until after each contest is over. Answers will be delivered to the Press judges by Mr. Ziem after the final deadline.

9. There is only one correct solution to the POT-O-GOLD puzzle, and only that correct answer can win. The decision of the judges is final and all contestants agree to abide by the judges' decision. All entries become the property of The Pontiac Press and none can be returned.

10. Completed puzzles must be addressed to POT-O-GOLD, POST OFFICE BOX 58, Pontiac, Michigan. Winners will be notified either by telephone or in the mails.

CREDIT WHERE CASH IS DUE — A steelworker and his son look at a sign in a furniture store window, offering credit to strikers until 30 days after a settlement is reached. As the steel strike wears on, credit such as this, being extended in Chicago, will aid steelworkers like Frank Ocha and their families. Special credit to strikers is now being given in many stores near closed-down mills.

The Blonde Cried MURDER

By Brett Halliday

XXIII

The attendant went to the lower drawer at one end, and pulled it out its ful length on ball-bearing rollers. He flipped back a white sheet to show the naked body lying on its back in the drawer.

* * *

The face was chalk-white. The eyes were closed, mouth sagging open in a macabre sort of grin. The features were even, and had probably been handsome when the young man was alive. There was a wide, gaping wound in his throat, edges of the flesh cut cleanly as though at one stroke, shriveled now by the exposure to bay water.

The three men stood together, silently looking down at the corpse. Gentry said heavily, "Charles Barnes from New York? I wonder."

"Yeh," said Rourke quickly. "Why not Bert Paulson, from Jacksonville? Description fits. It all adds up to the girl's story. If scar-face slit his throat and switched wallets—there's your complete explanation, Mike. So she did see her brother lying there murdered. Didn't you say she told you his coat was folded up under his head? It could have been used to staunch the blood as you suggested upstairs."

Shayne didn't reply. His eyes were narrowed and very bright behind slitted lids as he stared down at the dead man. His left hand went up absently to tug at the lobe of his ear.

Without taking his gaze from the white face, he muttered, "I've seen him some place. Recently. I swear it." He closed his eyes tightly and his rugged features hardened in a mask of concentration.

LIKE QUICKSILVER

Gentry and Rourke waited without speaking. He shook his head slowly, still not opening his eyes. He muttered, "It runs away from me. Like quicksilver. I know I've seen him. Probably just once and briefly. It isn't real familiarity. But it's there. Just beyond my conscious grasp of it."

He opened his eyes suddenly for another long look at the pallid face. He shoot his head disgustedly and turned away. "I have to put it out of my mind. I'll pop up unexpecteedly. I should recognize him, and I know it's important. "Way down deep beyond reason, something tells me it's important. That we'll know some answers when it comes back to me."

Shayne had reached the stairway and started up when he whirled about abruptly, his face lighting with satisfaction. "Got it! And it messes up our nice little theory. That guy couldn't possibly have been murdered in the Hibiscus Hotel at 9:30 tonight. At 10 o'clock he was alive in the Silver Glade."

* * *

He was fumbling in the side pocket of his jacket, and he pulled out the photo the girl had thrust into it in the lobby of his hotel while she was importuning him to accept a retainer from her.

He thrust the photograph at Will Gentry. "Take it back and compare the two. You'll see it's the same man."

* * *

11:12 P.M.

Michael Shayne dropped Timothy Rourke at his office on his way back from the morgue to police headquarters. The reporter was anixous to get out a preliminary story on the "Body in the Bay" as he was already calling it.

Back in Will Gentry's office at headquarters, Shayne found the chief about to interrogate a quiet-faced bronzed man who was clad only in skin-tight swimming trunks and whom Gentry introduced as Norman Raine.

'WON'T HELP'

"Mr. Raine brought the body in from the bay," he told Shayne. "I've got wires out to New York and to Jacksonville. Let's hear what Mr. Raine has to tell us."

"It isn't much and I'm afraid it won't be very helpful," Raine said in a resonant baritone. "I've a boat anchored in the yacht basin and I sleep aboard—alone, only tonight I couldn't sleep." He showed even, white teeth in a smile and nodded thankfully as he leaned forward to accept a cigarette from the redhead, averting his eyes from the black cigar Gentry puffed on.

He drew in smoke and expelled it, leaned bock comfortably and went on, "That's what brought me ashore in my skiff. I was out of cigarettes, and about 10:30 I got to the point where I just had to have a smoke.. So I started rowing in."

"You're anchored off Tenth Street?" asked Gentry.

"Just about opposite the end of Tenth. The tide was running out, but there was a nice breeze behind me and I was pulling along steadily, about half-way to shore I guess, when suddenly my bow struck something in the water.

"It gave me quite a start. It was a funny, solid, dead sort of thud. You know, I was rowing along thinking about nothing at all except about a cigarette and how good the first puff was going to taste, and then—pow! Like that.

"Well, the poor devil was floating face down in the water. I saw he must be a goner right away. Face down and all. I had a little trouble getting him aboard, and then went on in as fast as I could. I tied up and ran to the nearest place I saw a light, and telephoned the police. That's absolutely all I know about it."

* * *

"How far out are you anchored?" Shayne asked him.

"About—oh—a half mile."

"I DON'T KNOW WHAT I WOULD HAVE DONE WITHOUT O-JIB-WA"

"For a lady of 83, I'm in really wonderful health, and am glad to recommend O-JIB-WA BITTERS to others," says Mrs. Blanche Brown, 406 Michigan Ave., Owosso, Mich.

"A couple who roomed with me over 12 years ago in Saginaw, told me about O-JIB-WA BITTERS. The husband was so crippled with arthritis that he used crutches, but after using your medicine, he was all better. For 10 years I had terrible rheumatism and arthritis in my knees and limbs, and it got so I couldn't get around. I was forbidden to climb stairs, and once went three weeks without being able to walk a block. The swelling was real bad in my ankles, and the pain was so fierce I couldn't sleep nights. My kidneys too were bad, and caused me to get up frequently. O-JIB-WA started helping me within two weeks. Even my daughter noticed a big difference in my health, as your medicine helped me all over. My stomach does not burn me now, and I can eat almost anything without the fear of indigestion. One thing I want to urge, and that is that a person take O-JIB-WA BITTERS long enough to help them; a couple of months if necessary, and not for a few days and quit. I will always recommend O-JIB-WA to others, but want them to understand that they won't be better overnight. If you are going to try it, give it a fair trial."

COUNTY—WATERFORD STUDENTS

Waterford Students Begin Camp Weeks

WATERFORD TOWNSHIP — Camp Tomahawk again this summer will offer the thrills of day-camp living and outdoor adventure to Waterford township and school district boys and girls.

* * *

For the fourth year, Camp Tomahawk, under the direction of the Waterford Township Recreation Department, will open at the Highland Recreation Area, 10 miles West of Pontiac on M59.

Boys and girls from nine to fourteen years of age are eligible to attend.

Camp Tomahawk's five-week season is split into five periods of five consecutive days each, with certain school areas assigned to each week.

Campers may register according to the schedule:

July 30 to Aug. 3, Waterford Village, Williams Lake and Pontiac Lake; Aug. 6 to 10, Drayton Plains, Adams and Children's Home; Aug. 13 to 17, Donelson and Covert Schools; Aug. 20 to 24, Lambert and Stringham Schools; and Aug. 27 to 31, Waterford Center and Four Towns Schools.

A bus will pick up campers at certain elementary schools each week at 9 a.m. and return them to the schools at 4:30 p.m.

Camp director will be Paul Atkins, resident of Waterford Township and a teacher by profession. He is returning as director for the third year, and has considerable experience in camp life.

Counselors will be high school and college students with camping experience.

Camp Tomahawk aims to provide a safe and healthful setting for children to play and observe nature and also to promote camping and an appreciation of out-of-door living.

"Over two hundred boys and girls registered last year. Registrations may be doubled this year," states recreation director, Tom Belton.

Commerce Township Sees New Roads in Its Future

By STANLEY BOK
Commerce Correspondent

COMMERCE TOWNSHIP—Thanks to a hard-working Township Road Study Committee, members of the Commerce Township Board have a new answer for the oft-fired question, "When do we (residents) get better roads?"

For years township officials have been forced to come up with the same old answer in these or similar words, "No available funds." Residents were not always satisfied with that reply, particulay after being jolted about on a bumpy dirt road.

The program, which will entail a tax levy of four mills on assessed valuation, would continue for five years, if passed.

The committee was originally formed at the request of James L. Gardner, township supervisor, who needed accurate statistical information on road conditions.

All committee members donated their services for a lengthy period, submitting periodic reports and recommendations to the Township Board. They studied all phases of the road situation within the township, culminating their search for data with a long-range answer to the problem.

The proposed road improvement program was devised on the strength of accumulated information.

At last, this major issue will go before the voters in November.

Concerts From Fall to Spring

Rochester Music Group Offers Sparkling Series

ROCHESTER — Announcement has been made of the forthcoming concert series of the Rochester Civic Music Assn. by Executive Chairman Mrs. Stowell Collins.

Tickets to the series were sold at the opening campaign here in the spring. With the cooperation of area music organizations the sale response went over the top, making possible five concerts in the series rather than the three originally planned.

The first of the series, on Saturday, Oct. 20 will feature Nelson and Neal, talented husband and wife piano team.

The second, Thursday Nov. 1 the Goya and Matteo Dance Team, in "A World of Dancing", will present authentic dances of comedy and drama in costumes of many countries.

Monday March 11, will feature Amparo Iturbi, pianist.

April 2, The Columbus Boy Choir of Ohio will give a varied program of music. The boys range in age from five to teens and are well known to music lovers.

Randy Davissons Establish Home in Ortonville

ORTONVILLE — Mr. and Mrs. Randy Davisson, who wed recently in the Methodist Church here, will make their home at 5821 Sawmill Lake Rd.

* * *

The bride, formerly Mary Ellen Rader, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Marshall L. Rader of 5838 Sawmill Lake Rd., and her bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Lyman Davisson of Oxford.

She wore a floor length gown of ruffled net over white satin. Its bodice was fashioned with a high neck and three-quarter length sleeves. Her veil of illusion was of finger-tip length and was held by a crown of pearls. She carried red roses and white carnations.

* * *

Rustlers Mucho Trouble for Mexican Cattlemen

Cattlemen are crying for more federal help in stamping out the thieving bands. The army claims its small war against rustlers has cut down complaints recently by half.

Cattlemen say they still are suffering tremendous annual losses. One trouble, they say, is that some minor local officials are in cahoots with the rustlers.

'Stockings' to Buy Baby Shoes

Father-to-Be Lex Barker Lands Lucrative Film Deal

By DOROTHY MANNERS

HOLLYWOOD (INS)—Operating, obviously, under the fine old adage that "baby needs shoes" (Lana Turner is expecting), Lex Barker not only gets the star role in "Black Stockings" but asked for (and got) a financial cut in the Howard Koch-Aubrey Schenck picture for United Artists.

Just out from under an exclusive contract with U-I, Lex is free to make outside deals, and this one he found most attractive.

Originally titled "Wanton Murder," the "Black Stockings" screenplay is by Richard Landau and is about a young lawyer who gets involved in a series of murders while vacationing at a smart resort.

At is calls for another long location trip to follow his "War Drums," currently shooting in Utah, it means poor Lana will be alone a lot.

Eddie Fisher's taking a leaf from Bing Crosby's book and will record his songs from "Bundle of Joy" in five languages. You may recall that Bing gained his nickname "Der Bingle" after he recorded "White Christmas" in German.

Eddie goes the groaner one better by doing his songs in French, Spanish, Italian, German and,—hold on, Japanese! He's learning the words phonetically, of course.

Didn't know there was another explorer named Cook except the South Pole one until I learned that Charlton Heston is casting a favorable eye on the George Pal production, "Captain Cook," referring to Capt. James Cook, explorer-discoverer of the Hawaiian Islands.

Pal, who intended to make this for his newly formed independent company, Galaxy Pictures, tells me the story is from a book originally titled "Lost Eden" by Paul McGinnis. Jack Moffitt has been assigned the screenplay.

Roy Rowland is one of the stubborn ones who doesn't believe that Liberace's none too auspicious film debut in "Sincerely Yours" has killed him off for other movies. Rowland has a story, "Make Way for Love," by Joe Markham about a pianist who is a bit of a Beau Brummel that he thinks is right up Liberace's keyboard.

It's a period yarn, set in the 18th Century, which would give Lee a good chance to wear the colorful and belaced shirts and exotic dinner jackets he so strictly prefers in real life.

Red Can Act Broken, Prosecutor Is Told

Violations of the Michigan "red can act," requiring gasoline, benzine and naphtha to be sold in cans painted red and clearly labeled with the name of the contents, have recently been brought to his attention, Oakland County Prosecutor Frederick C. Ziem said today.

Ziem said Pontiac Fire Marshal Charles E. Metz has received some complaints from city residents, "but the vast majority of gas stations are obeying the law, and the few violations may be due to ignorance."

Violation is a misdemeanor, Ziem said.

Jeanne Crain, Husband Divorce Trial Date Set

HOLLYWOOD (UP) — Jeanne Crain's divorce suit against Paul Brinkman has been set for trial Aug. 6.

The couple signed a financial settlement Monday providing for equal division of community property and for payment of $300 monthly support to Miss Crain by Brinkman for their four children.

Brinkman is not expected to contest the action.

Keego Harbor Resident Draws 90-Day Term

Pleading guilty to a charge of simple larceny, Douglas Kennedy, 23, of Keego Harbor, was sentenced to 90 days in the Oakland County Jail yesterday.

The sentence followed his failure to pay fine and costs totaling $40 following the arraignment before Waterford Township Justice Willis D. Lefurgy.

Kennedy was arrested by Waterford police early yesterday and reportedly admitted he took several records and a watch from a home at 340 Hickory Nut Rd. in Waterford Township.

Two City Residents Get 30-Day Jail Sentences

A Pontiac resident began a 10-day sentence in the Oakland County Jail Monday after pleading guilty to driving without an operator's license.

Thomas Miller, 27, of 268 Luther St., was arraigned before Pontiac Township Justice Robert W. Hodge. The original sentence called for five days but his failure to pay $15 court costs resulted in the time being doubled.

GOP Kills Bill on A-Reactor

Democrat Experimental Power Program Downed With Partisan Vote

WASHINGTON (AP) — A 400-million-dollar experimental atomic power program sponsored by Democrats was dead today — smothered by an avalanche of Republican votes in the House.

It would have launched the Atomic Energy Commission on a long-range program of building expensive reactors to develop power for government installations. The idea was to demonstrate the feasibility of producing commercial power from the atom.

Democrats who sponsored it and pushed it through the Senate by a 49-40 vote contended that only the government could afford the risks and the costs of such a program. They said it was needed to pave the way for eventual widespread use of atomic power and to keep the United States in the lead in the world race in that field.

Republicans countered that the AEC already was making progress in the commercial power field, that the United States was ahead in the world atomic power race, and that to force the new program on the AEC would jeopardize the weapons programs which have top priority.

List County GOP Candidates

This is the second of eight articles on Oakland County candidates for local, state and national offices in the August primary election. The first, published yesterday, reviewed Democratic candidates for nomination to county offices.

Thirteen Republican candidates are competing in the August 7 primary election for seven county government jobs.

Contests are promised in only three races, with four candidates unopposed for nomination as prosecutor, county clerk, county treasurer and county surveyor.

Retiring drain commissioner Ralph A. Main will become surveyor by default, since he faces no opposition either in his own or the Democratic party.

Brief biographies of the Republican county candidates follow:

FREDERICK C. ZIEM

Unopposed for nominatioin to his third term as Oakland County Prosecutor, Frederick C. Ziem, 40, of 317 Elizabeth Lake Rd., was assistant and chief assistant prosecutor before his first election in 1952.

He was also named special investigator for the grand jury in 1951.

A graduate of Pontiac High School, the University of Michigan and the University of Michigan Law School, Ziem is a member of the county and state bar associations, Elks, Masons, Amvets, University of Michigan "M" Club and Civitan Club.

* * *

DAVID E. BRANN

David E. Brann, 62, a former Oakland County Sheriff's deputy has a total of 32 years in police work, is one of three candidates for the Republican nomination as sheriff.

Brann, who was with the Sheriff's office for 12 years, holds police work citations from FBI director J. Edgar Hoover, Dearborn, Ann Arbor and Flint. He was removed from his position in the Oakland County Sheriff's office by incumbent Sheriff Frank Irons in 1954.

Married, he has no children.

* * *

FRANK W. IRONS

First elected sheriff in 1954, Frank W. Irons, 56, a county resident for 32 years, previously had served as police chief in Berkley from 1926 to 1954.

Married and the father of two children, Irons holds life membership in the American Legion and the Berkley Chamber of Commerce.

He is a member of the Berkley Lions Club, and a past president of the Southeastern Michigan Police Association. He holds membership in the Michigan Sheriffs' Association.

* * *

ALLAN M. BULLOCH

Allan M. Bulloch, of Southfield Township, has not furnished The Pontiac Press with any biography information.

* * *

LYNN D. ALLEN

Running unopposed for his 13th Republican nomination as Oakland County Clerk, Lynn D. Allen, 58, was born in Birmingham and has been a lifelong county resident.

A graduate of Hill School in Birmingham and Detroit Central High School, Allen attended the University of Detroit and served in the U.S. Navy during the First World War.

He is a member of the American Legion, Elks, past president of the County Clerks Association, and past president of the Pontiac Civitan Club. He also served eight years as secretary of the County Clerks Association.

* * *

Treasurer

CHARLES A. SPARKS

Also running unopposed for the Republican nomination to a 13th term, Charles A. Sparks, 66, has been Oakland County treasurer since 1933.

Born in Knoxville, Sparks received his education in public schools there. He is a member of the Elks Club, where he is a past exalted ruler, and was first president of the Oakland County Sportsman's Club.

* * *

THOMAS MacQUEEN

A Milford resident, Thomas MacQueen, 35, was born in Glasgow, Scotland, and came to this country in 1923. He has lived in the county for eight years.

Seeking Republication nomination as county Register of Deeds, MacQueen, an automobile sales manager, graduated from public schools in Detroit and attended the General Motors Institute in Flint.

A Navy veteran, he is a member of Veterans of Foreign Wars, Cedar Shores Civic Association and Huron Valley Sports Club.

Married, MacQueen has three children.

* * *

DANIEL T. MURPHY JR.

Appointed Register of Deeds on the death recently of incumbent Orrin McQuaid, Daniel T. Murphy Jr., 32, lives at 1023 Berwick Blvd.

A former deputy county clerk under Lynn D. Allen, Murphy has been customer relations executive and salesman for a local contractor. He is married and has four children.

An Oakland County resident for 28 years, Murphy attended liberal arts and law classes for five years after his discharge from the Army.

Past commander of Jimmy Dey Amvets post, Murphy is a Civil Defense representative, a district committee member of the Pontiac Council of Boy Scouts, a member of the Greater Pontiac Youth Advisory Council and a member of the Kiwanis Club of West Pontiac.

* * *

ROY M. WEST

Roy M. West of Berkley, a former Oakland County Sheriff's deputy and constable of Berkley for the past four years, also is seeking nomination as the Republican candidate for county Register of Deeds.

Married and the father of two children, West has lived in Berkley for 15 years and belongs to Oddfellows, Lions and American Legion.

* * *

Drain Commissioner

DANIEL M. BARRY

A likelong county resident, Daniel W. Barry, 33, of Waterford Township, is one of three candidates for the Republican nomination to run for county drain commissioner.

A graduate of Pontiac High School and Michigan State University, Barry now is working for a master's degree in public administration.

Married, Barry is a veteran of World War II.

* * *

CADMUS L. G. GOSS

A civil engineer from Royal Oak, Cadmus L. G. Goss, 34, also is a candidate for nomination as drain commissioner.

Goss, a registered land surveyor and graduate of Pennsylvania State University, now is specializing in land planning and the technical aspects of suburban residential development.

He is a member of the Michigan Society of Professional Engineers and the Industrial Waste Association.

A member of the First Presbyterian Church of Royal Oak, and the Royal Oak Republican Club, Goss is married and has three children.

* * *

JOHN G. SEMANN

John G. Semann of Berkley, chairman of the County Board of Supervisors' Drain Committee, also seeks nomination as county drain commissioner.

Semann, 60, has been a member of the drain committee for eight years. Prominent in Republican circles, he is a former member of the Berkley City Council and past County Republican Chairman.

Formerly in police work, Semann is married and the father of four children.

* * *

RALPH A. MAIN

Retiring this fall as county drain commissioner, Ralph A. Main, 52, of Birmingham, faces no opposition on either ticket in his bid for election as county surveyor.

A graduate of the University of Pittsburgh, Main is a registered civil engineer, land surveyor and land planner.

He is a member of the Oakland County Planning Commission, a director of the Michigan Engineering Society and president of the Southeast section of Michigan Drain Commissioners.

Mau Mau Movement Broken, Says General

NAIROBI—The back of the Mau Mau terrorist movement in Kenya has been broken, Lieut-General Lathbury, Commander-in-Chief in East Africa, said in Nairobi.

The 3,000 remaining terrorists have been forced into two main areas in search of food, he says, and they have lost their battle for the adherence and support of the tribes.

Air attacks by heavy and light bombers have been called off completely because the Mau Mau gangs have been split and splintered to such an extent that they no longer present an air target. General Lathbury fears, however, that the job of "winkling out" the fugitives may take a long time.

CD Mock City Picked

BATTLE CREEK (AP)—A mock city of 10,000 will serve as a site for testing up-to-date civil defense programs Aug. 13-17 in a course sponsored by the Federal Civil Defense Administration at St. Mary's Lake Camp, five miles north of Battle Creek.

Women Back Women

BIG RAPIDS (AP) — The board of directors of the Michigan Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs, Inc. has adopted a resolution endorsing the candidacies of Martha Griffith (D-Mich) representative of the 17th congressional district, and Ruth Thompson (R-Mich), representative of the 9th district. The resolution cites both as "qualified women" with "excellent records in the United States House of Representatives."

4,000 Workers Strike at Two De Soto Plants

DETROIT (AP) — Some 4,000 workers at two De Soto plants of the Chrysler Corp. were idled today by a strike stemming from a dispute over work rights.

* * *

The strikers are 250 skilled tradesmen who set up picket lines yesterday in protest against the hiring of outside men to convert equipment to production of 1957 models.

Musician Saves a Life

NEWPORT, Ky. (AP) — A Cincinnati Symphony Orchestra percussionist saved a life yesterday. Glenn Robinson of Dayton, Ky., who works as a life guard between orchestra sessions, heard a boy's plea that his sister was missing. He dived into a swimming pool, found the girl, brought her to the surface and revived her with artificial respiration.

Lady, You'll Eat Those Words

Wouldn't Wear It to a Dog Fight?

By JUDITH L. CLEMENCE
Women's Editor, The Pontiac Press

Wait a minute. Don't flip over these pages. And don't wonder what's happened to The Pontiac Press Women's Department.

We just want to answer some charges made that we use outlandish fashion pictures, and advocate the purchase of the styles shown.

The most severe charge came from our own household, when a certain member asked, "Have you lost your mind? What woman would wear such a hat?" And, "I wouldn't walk down the street with you if you put on such a thing," etc, etc.

Now we want to show this person, and any others who feel the same way, some of the material we didn't use because we felt it too bizarre or just too "advanced" to be acceptable in our area.

* * *

We want you to keep in mind one thing. Some of the fashions (hats included) which you viewed two years ago, (in The Pontiac Press) and about which you said to others, "I wouldn't be caught dead in such a thing," you are buying now and you are feeling quite dressed up. Isn't this true?

RAGED AT 'EMPIRE'

You said that about the Empire waistline, too, remember? "What!" you said, "Me go around without a waistline?"

And your husband added his bit, "That may be all right for New York, but thank goodness women in Pontiac don't fall for that stuff."

Then—two years later, when you brought home a copy of the same dress, he admired you and said, "Now you're dressing like I always wanted you to."

* * *

The point is, should we just refuse to make style changes on the basis that we conclude all designers have gone berserk and just simply change styles at the slightest whim—just to keep us changing our wardrobe?

AFRAID TO BE FIRST?

Or should we be more fair-minded and admit that we're afraid to be the first to come out with the "new look"?

Why should we wait until New York is tired of the "old look" before we begin to accept it as our "new look?"

One male reporter used some of this very space in the Women's Section to rap current women's fashions. He later retracted his statements (publicly), which was some consolation.

SATISFIED

But real satisfaction came when he proudly introduced his wife who was wearing an up-to-the-minute sheath dress with flaring back panel—one designers all agree is just good styling.

We refrained from saying, "I told you so," but then we bear no grudge.

Now don't get the idea we think you should buy or wear the fashions shown on this page. We don't. What we want to point out is that we are showing you trends.

Some of the ideas could never materialize in this part of the country or in any other.

* * *

But really, not all "high" fashion is obnoxious. If you have vision and imagination, you're bound to find some of the designers' products satisfactory.

And don't forget, they spend much time and money in a constant search for ideas to enhance the beauty of women.

Cecil Beaton designed this two-tone, double lace tunic for Samuel Winston. Beaton, famed British artist, photographer and author, designed costumes for the Broadway hit, "My Fair Lady." The gown has a draped bodice finished with a huge purple flower at one shoulder.

Emilio Puts Emphasis on Color

Italian Shows End With Blazing Hues, Bizarre Silhouettes

By CELE WOHL

FLORENCE, Italy (AP) — Italian fashion shows wound up in a blaze of color and a profusion of strange silhouettes.

The fashions shown last night were by Emilio Pucci, best known by his first name, and by Capucci.

Emilio found inspiration for his famous Capri clothes in the parti-colored banners and medieval costumes of Siena. He named his collection "Palio," for a traditional amateur horse race run twice yearly by entries from Siena's 17 rival districts.

Emilio borrowed the colors and coats of arms of the districts called Eagle, Ram, Wave, Owl and Dragon, and interpreted them in vivid cotton prints and solid color velvet.

For the first time, Emilio presented a dual collection, having come off Capri to examine civilization. His town clothes, toned down and tasteful, were a successful first try.

He showed gray flannel suits, slim black afternoon dresses and handsome hobble-skirted sheaths for evening.

Roman Roberto Capucci, Italy's youngest designer who made fashion history with unique black draperies at the last showing, disappointed his admirers a little. Striving too hard to maintain his reputation for originality, Capucci came up with some exceedingly impractical cocktail and evening clothes.

The globes either finished just below the knee or formed overskirts for too-tight floor length skirts. The narrow sheaths that permit only mincing and inching along simply aren't for active females.

Capucci showed his old flare, however, in good-looking suits and coats. His jackets were often double, that is abbreviated boleros over hip length jackets. Coats, too, had a double look, with extra back panels or floating panels falling from under the arm to the hemline.

There are six pages in today's Women's Section

Rome adds its bit to the unusual with this frilly and fancy lilac chiffon sheath dress. A removable "tail" of draped chiffon terminates in pleated fringes of flower-like tufts. The matching shawl piece adds further back interest. Garnet of Rome is the designer.

Lee Graves, R. E. Martz Speak Vows

In a double-ring ceremony at St. James Episcopal Church in Birmingham, Saturday, Lee Graves of New York City and Richard E. Martz of Bloomfield Hills were united in marriage.

* * *

Lee is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Starr of New York City, and Richard's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence E. Martz of Bloomfield Hills.

For the ceremony, performed by the Rev. Harold E. Towne, Lee wore a street-length dress of white cotton.

* * *

Co-Eds Should Consider Basics in Dressing Up

Mary Parks, a designer of junior basics, has some foundation pointers for the co-ed who knows how she wants to look but isn't sure of her fashion ABCs.

* * *

Admit your faults. Take off your rose-colored glasses and look hard at yourself in the fitting room mirror. Then let the fitter prescribe for you. If you have heavy thighs, a pantie girdle with longer legs is just your dish.

Try on. You're a growing girl and what fitted your figure four months ago, my be a misfit today. Give your new girdle the sit-down test before you buy.

Go light on color. Unless you're financially equipped to buy dozens of basics, stick to practical pastels and whites that go well under any color dress. Exception: the college girl who frequently wears black, needs one black girdle and bra.

Irish Designer Goes Russian in Fall Fashions

DUBLIN (INS)—Irish designer Sybil Connolly has gone Russian for fall—but in name only.

* * *

The noted designer has labeled her new silhouette the "Cossack," but the clothes still feature Irish fabrics and colors.

Miss Connolly's "Cossack" line is best shown in suits that combine a long tightly belted jacket with a narrow skirt. The jackets have sloping shoulders and flaring peplums.

For evening, this "Cossack" line turns into tunic dresses. Both suit peplums and tunics drop low, sometimes to within 8 inches of the skirt hem.

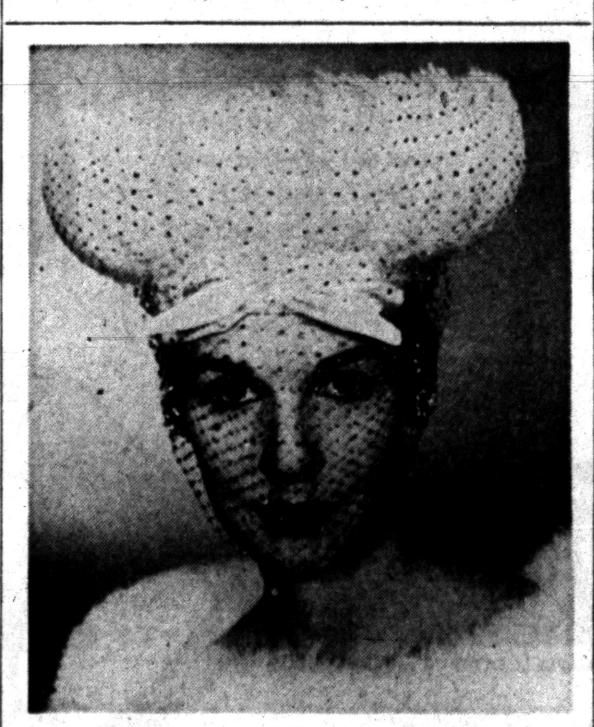

Miss Connolly's featured evening shape is a strapless bodice with definite waist and spreading skirt. This was shown in fine Irish linens and in hand crochet.

The newest hand-woven fabric used by Miss Connolly is a shaggy wool that has tufts and tassels woven into it.

Women's Section

WEDNESDAY, JULY 25, 1956 PAGES 21-26

Things are looking up . . . this "cuffed lotus" silhouette mounts snowy hackle on a head-hugging satin band. Over all this is draped an iridescent rhinestone-studded veil.

Manzanello-Judy Vows Spoken in Church Rite

Arrangements of white gladioli, chrysanthemums, stock and palms decorated Joslyn Avenue United Presbyterian Church for the evening wedding of Donna Judy and Delmonto Manzanello.

* * *

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Judy of East Beverly street. Mr. and Mrs. Alfonzo Manzanello of Hulbert are parents of the bridegroom.

As she approached the altar, the bride was wearing a waltz-length crystalette gown. A crown of seed pearls secured her fingertip veil of silk illusion and she carried a cascade arrangement of white roses.

* * *

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Eaton were hosts at their home on Green street for the reception, held immediately following the ceremony.

Deodorant Tip

What should you look for in a deodorant other than its effectiveness and its ease of application? In the summer particularly, your choice should be safe under normal conditions to use immediately after shaving. Sleeveless dresses, bathing suits and the like make this a necessity.

John Steggall Engagement to Hope Latta Announced

Coming E. S. Nichols Family Reunion, Visits Spark Bloomfield Hills Activities

By RUTH SAUNDERS

BLOOMFIELD HILLS—Of interest in the Hills is the announcement of the engagement of Hope Latta to Ensign John W. Steggall, USNR, of Bloomfield Hills.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard B. Steggall of Wilson drive, and is a graduate of Cranbrook School and Yale University.

His fiancee is the niece of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Oliver Semon Jr. of Vero Beach, Fla., who made the announcement, and the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. John Latta of Rye, N.Y.

She attended Westover School and was graduated in June from Smith College.

VISITORS FOR E. S. NICHOLS

Mr. and Mrs. Elliott S. Nichols are looking forward to visits from two daughters and their families who have been living in foreign countries.

* * *

Mrs. Arthur D. Foley and her three children are expected early next week from Washington, D.C., where Mr. Foley is at present on diplomatic duty. Before this year they had lived in Europe and South America.

Mrs. Foley is the former Ann Nichols. The Foleys also will visit his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry M. Foley of Birmingham.

Mrs. William P. MacEaneaney (Elizabeth Nichols) is coming from Salzburg, Germany, with her five children. Mr. MacEaneaney already is in Washington, D.C., where the family will be living next year.

Mr. and Mrs. Elliott S. Nichols Jr. will come from their home in Cambridge, Mass., some time during the summer to be part of the family reunion.

BREECHES RETURN

Mr. and Mrs. William H. Breech came down Monday from Wequetonsing where they had been visiting Mr. Breech's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest R. Breech, at their summer home "Woodsmere."

Mrs. Daniel Cunningham has come from her home in Boston for a visit with her son and daughter-i-nlaw, Mr. and Mrs. Marcus E. Cunningham, in their Brady Lane home.

Ensign and Mrs. Thomas Goad came on a surprise visit from his station at San Diego, Calif. They spent part of the time with Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Goad of Lone Pine road and with Mrs. Goad's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas H. Adams of Birmingham.

They drove East in a charming 1934 Oldsmobile that Ensign Goad acquired in the West and which he left at home until his Navy release in a few months.

Does Double Duty

While sun bathing, protect your eyes from the sun and give yourself a beauty treatment at the same time. Place small cotton pads, soaked in good quality witch hazel over the eyes. You can actually feel the nerves and muscles around the eyes relax. Frown lines disappear. But don't overdo on the sun.

Coming Events

Camp Nesbitt 11, Ladies National League, will meet with Mrs. William Vandruska, 811 Cameron St., Thursday with a 1 p.m. luncheon.

The Friends Prayer Group will meet with Mrs. Mattie Jackson, 27 Miller St. Thursday at 7:30 p.m.

Deanna Mielke Names Bridal Attendants

Deanna, the daughter of Mrs. Donna Mielke of Sedum Glen drive, will marry Kenneth Ish July 28 at Gravé Lutheran Church. His parents are Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Ish of Dover road.

Deanna has asked Jeanette Pierce to serve as her maid of honor. Other attendants will be Mrs. Robert McCallum, Gloria Rose and Starr Linda Featherstone. Sally Featherstone will be flower girl.

Don't Forget Safety When Buying Toys

NEW YORK (INS)—Parents are advised to pick out toys that will appeal to their tots as well as to themselves, but they should never neglect the safety aspect.

Infants up to one year, according to the Toy Guidance Council, should be provided with playthings that are non-toxic, cleanable, too big to swallow, smooth-edged and light and easy to grasp.

This will do much to safeguard the infant who explores each new object with every sense, and insists on testing toys for edibility.

Mrs. F. Chapman Resigns

Resigning as International Chairman of the Michigan Division of the Woman's National Farm and Garden Assn. this year is Mrs. Frank R. Chapman of Rochester. She has held the post for seven years and has served as Michigan Division chairman for three years.

She was recently recognized for her work in 4-H through the Michigan Division which has helped send 27 students from MSU to other countries, since 1948 as their part in the International Farm Youth Exchange program.

The Michigan Division has contributed to a UNESCO training school for women and girls in Ceylon. The school is being supported by UNESCO and the Constituent Societies of the Associated Country Women of the World. They also help financially the Associated Country Women of the World, by means of a fund called "Pennies for Friendship." Their assistance is also given Louise Carpenter's "Adventures in World Understanding," a Christmas entertainment of foreign students from other colleges, at MSU.

Men, Unpack Suits at Destination

When you arrive at your travel destination try to unpack immediately. Don't use wire hangers, even if they are lighter to carry, and even if they are provided in the closet of your hotel room. They give a jacket a bad shape and will leave creases in trousers.

If your first attempt at good packing technique wasn't over successful, hang your suits at well-spaced intervals in the closet, leaving the door open for air circulation.

Check the Sand Box

Inspection of play equipment periodically is important. Check the sand box for nails or sharp objects, wooden toys for rough spots or splinters, the coaster wagon for loose wheels or protruding screws, the baby's rattle for cracks which may free the little pellets inside the rattle and allow the baby to put them in his mouth. If satisfactory repairs cannot be made, the play article should be immediately discarded.

How's This for a Low, Low Diet?

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

A reader sent the following diet to me. She did not sign her name and therefore I do not know whom to credit for the fun. I think that the rest of you will enjoy reading these menus.

After thinking of these meals, your own reducing diet will seem less skimpy.

REDUCING DIET

Monday

Breakfast — Weak tea
Lunch — 1 boullion cube in ½ cup diluted water.

Tuesday

Breakfast — Scraped crumbs from burned toast.
Lunch — One doughnut hole (without sugar)
Dinner — 2 jellyfish skins — 1 gallon dehydrated water

Wednesday

Breakfast — Shredded eggshell skins
Lunch — Navel from an orange.
Dinner — 3 eyes from Irish potato (diced)

Thursday

Breakfast — Boiled-out stains from tablecloth.
Lunch — ½ dozen poppy seed quito knuckles, sauteed with vin-
Dinner — Bees knees and mos-egar

Friday

Breakfast — 2 lobster antennae
Lunch — 1 guppy fin
Dinner — Fillet of soft shell crab claw.

Saturday

Breakfast — 4 chopped banana seeds
Lunch — Broiled butterfly liver
Dinner — Jellyfish vertebra a la bookbinders

Sunday

Breakfast — Pickled humming bird tongue.
Lunch — Prime ribs of tadpole
Dinner — Aroma of empty custard pie plate — tossed paprika and clover leaf (one) salad.
Note: All meals are to be eaten under microscope to avoid extra portions.

Borgia Ring 'Loaded' With Scent

PARIS (INS) — Some elegant — and wealthy — women in Paris are playing at being latter-day Lucretia Borgias by wearing medieval "poison rings." But instead of lethal venom, the Parisian Borgia rings are filled with perfume.

Paris jeweler Sterle has come up with 1956 versons of this Italian jewelry of the 15th century. Two years ago he started the fashion for bulky rings, now worn by smart women of the international set.

The "Borgia ring," to be worn on the little finger of the left hand, is three-quarters of an inch high. Made of gold wire in a dome shape, it is studed with turquoises, amethysts and diamonds. The dome opens to disclose a small vial of perfume.

Sterle said that during the summer period many of his Parisian clients as well as rich tourists ask for special jewelry to be worn with summer clothes. So he has desig precious ornaments to give even casual vacation garments a touch of luxury.

* * *

A gold and diamond clip, for instance, is just the thing to wear at the seaside. Sterle uses very fine gold thread for a fringy ornament, shaped to look like waves. A sprinkling of diamonds represents the surf.

Centenary to Put New Light on Amours of G. B. Shaw

Wife's Letter to 'Other Woman' Slated for Reading at Chicago Tribute Festival

CHICAGO (AP)—What did playwright George Bernard Shaw's wife think of the many love letters he wrote to other women?

Chicago's centenary tribute to Shaw tomorrow may provide the answer with the reading of a letter Mrs. Shaw wrote to one of the "other women."

* * *

The letter also gives promise of identifying a previously unknown woman in Shaw's life, one apparently overlooked by his biographers.

* * *

The playwright was known as a prolific letter writer. His exchange of amorous notes with actress Ellen Terry is already a matter of wide knowledge. The Chicago festival will reveal Mrs. Shaw as quite a letter writer in her own right.

Diverse activities attending Shaw Day — proclaimed as an official observance by Mayor Richard J. Daley — include the dedication of a hotel room, which will be permanently festooned with Shaw menentos; a George Bernard Shaw purse at Arlington Park race track; and a vegetarian luncheon just like Mrs. Shaw used to serve at Ayot St.Lawrence.

* * *

The letter written by Mrs. Shaw will be read at an evening theater tribute by Eleanor O'Connell of Washington, D.C., long-time Shaw friend who will discuss the women in Shaw's life. She wrote the sponsors that one of the women "is most interesting because I do not believe any biographer has mentioned her or indeed knew of her. To this lady, Mrs. G. B. Shaw wrote a letter which . . . is most revealing about her feelings in the matter of women who fell madly in love with her husband, and it is so courteously, primly Victorian."

* * *

Shaw, who died in 1950, never visited Chicago. However, the Adult Education Council of Chicago, principal sponsor of Shaw Day, considers the city the logical place to celebrate the centenary of the playwright's birthday.

Shaw's "Candida" had its American debut there in 1899. Two years later, it boasted the first showing anywhere of "Caesar and Cleopatra." In 1903, "You Never Can Tell" received its American debut in Chicago.

If you use a cake type make-up foundation, sheerness comes from dipping sparingly into the cake and stroking flower-petal color over face and neck with a wet sponge. Buff off any powdery excess with a tissue.

Chiffon shows up importantly in fall collections, used for a blouse with a tweed suit, for the skirt of a casually styled dress with elegance, or for a ball gown. This casual fashion in an elegant fabric is most flattering for the mature.

Everyday 'kerchiefs take on a glamorous look when trimmed with these lacy crocheted edgings and pretty pink-blue-and-green flower-basket motifs that just need to be pressed on. (Nice for gift-giving or bazaar donations!)

Send 25c in coins, your name, address and the pattern number to Anne Cabot, Pontiac Press, 372 W. Quincy street, Chicago 6, Ill.

Now available — the colorful 1956 Needlework Album containing dozens of lovely designs from which to choose more patterns in crochet, embroidery and knit — plus 3 gift patterns, directions printed in book. Only 25c a copy!

Don't let the hot water in which you soak clothes get cold, since this will cause the fabric to hold the dirt.

Make Blues Serve Good Purpose

By ANNE HEYWOOD

"If insomnia is inevitable," a friend of mine once said, "I figure I might as well relax and enjoy it."

He went on to tell me that during a 10-month stretch of it, he had spent the time learning Spanish!

"I decided to stop tossing and turning and to put on the light and get at irregular verbs.

"Several things happened.

"First, I did learn Spanish. Second, whereas I had previously tossed and turned for a good two hours, it got so after 40 minutes of studying I was sleepy as could be."

* * *

That, I think, is an intelligent approach to insomnia or to any of the ills we are all occasionally heir to.

Instead of deploring them and wishing they would go away—all too often a futile business — we should put them to good use.

SOME LONELINESS

For example, there isn't a creature alive who doesn't occasionally suffer from loneliness. My mail is full of letters from lonely people—not all spinster business ladies in furnished rooms, either!

Happily married women with three children, happily married men with families, life-of-the-party type girls, extroverted teenagers —all of them refer to periods of great loneliness.

A wise and wonderful philosopher friend of mine said, "There are large areas in the soul of any human being which no other human being can enter."

Others turn to alcohol, overwork or meaningless romances. They don't work, either—at least, not for long.

RECOGNIZE FACT

The right solution, according to my philosopher friend, is this:

First, realize that all your life there will be periods of loneliness.

When this feeling comes, don't get suicidal, blue and morbidly self-analytical. Learn to take such periods for granted.

Second, try to use such periods constructively — in reading or meditating as you perform your chores.

The human mind and soul are mysterious things, in spite of our increasing knowledge of them.

Reach out for answers to the mysteries, for a religion or philosophy which will shed light on life and therefore on your own self.

* * *

If you'd like to make a start, send me a stamped, self-addressed envelope and I'll send you a list of books on philosophy which will help you make the first inroad on your loneliness.

New Rug Fabrics Present Challenge to Housewives

NEW YORK (INS)—The new rug fabrics present a challenge to the housewife—how should she clean them.

* * *

Any rug, says Jack Hosid, president of a firm that makes rug and upholstery cleaner, should be cleaned four times a year to remove accumulated grime and stains and prevent them from imbedding themselves permanently into the rug.

This is especially true, claims Hosid, inventor of a rug cleaner ("Easy-Glamur") of pale-colored rugs which soil quickly and of nubby pile rugs which play host to deeply imbedded dirt.

Another rug highly susceptible to soil is the area rug, because it is usually placed in the "heavy traffic" area of the room.

For nylon rugs or any of the nylon blends always use a cleaner with an anti-static ingredient to resist the building up of static electricity.

Don't use powdered cleaners for high-priced spongy rugs because particles of powder can become imbedded in the fibers in such a way that no vacuum cleaner can get them out. This residue attracts and retains dirt.

Check to be sure your cleaner doesn't have fumes, is non-toxic in case the child or dog might taste it by mistake, and that iit is non-inflammable.

If you use a cleaner with a soil-resistant or retarding finish you may lessen the accumulation of dirt between cleanings.

Bracelet Charms Break Out New Trinket Styles

Movable charms—some in the form of oil wells that actually pump, and TV consoles that open to expose a record player—will be the vogue for charm bracelets this autumn.

Other fall favorites will be:

Trinkets bearing the flags of foreign countries and emblems of the 48 states. These charms will be made for the vast number of traveling Americans who wish souvenirs of the places they have visited.

More leisure time and new hobbies bring charms shaped as tennis racquets, sailing ships, and multi-colored artist's palettes.

For the sentimental person, there will be miniature marriage certificates, high school diplomas, and charms that display a small picture of a loved one.

Fashion rule: If you wear a sweater, you don't wear a hat ever. The two were not meant to keep company.

Feminine — but Not Fussy

NEW YORK (INS)—A room can be feminine without being a fussy affair filled to the ceiling with frills and flounces. Just a few touches of a bright, feminine color can make all the difference.

* * *

For example, you can decorate a room in a nice, neutral gray—grey walls, carpeting and a dotted grey bedspread and upholstery—as was done in a New York display.

The furniture was walnut with copper hardware and a black vanity table and black wrought iron chair patterned after an ancient Egyptian seat filled one corner. Drapes had a white background and featured an oriental print in brown, olive, gold and a touch of pink.

The feminizing factor was pink. First of all, the cushion on the vanity chair was covered in bright pink corduroy. Then, although the bedspread was tailored, right down to the flat, thin bolster, it had a womanly touch added with a couple of bright pink pillows.

The final factor that showed a feminine feeling were the lamps. The bases were pink, as were the shades. As a result, they threw off a pink-tinged light which changed the complexion of the entire room to a softer tone.

Sugar Doughnuts With This Method

Doughnuts can be "sugared" by placing a few in a paper bag of sugar and shaking. The same method can be used to flour foods.

Just put the flour in a paper bag, add a few pieces of the food at a time, and shake. The excess flour may be used in making gravy or saved for another "flouring."

ARE YOU A REDHEAD?

Whether by nature, or by choice, you've been blessed with hair everybody looks at. And there are as many stories about redheads as there are pages in the history book. For instance, did you know there is an old Russian proverb that says there never was a saint with red hair? History's favorite vixens have had auburn tresses, or so the rumor goes. This list includes Meduse, Cleopatra and Helen of Troy, to mention a few. If your tresses are brighter than autumn leaves: one thing is certain you're going to have to keep them see-worthy at all times. This means flattering, always neat, hair styles. Your face is bound to be looked at when your hair is noticed. So you'll want a hair style that is just right for you. Call for an appointment.

Hubby Fails to Introduce His Friends

By EMILY POST

A wife writes: "The other evening my husband had several of his friends in for a game of cards. I had gone out to the movies and when I returned I had to go through the living room where they were playing cards to get to the kitchen.

"I said hello and stood there for a few seconds waiting for my husband to introude his friends to me. But he made no attempt to do so.

"I feel that he was very discourteous to me not to have introduced them. He says that as they were in the middle of a hand, it would not have been right to hold up the game for introductions. What is your opinion?"

Answer: Your husband was perfectly right—you should not have disturbed everyone while in the middle of the game. You should have gone quickly into the kitchen and then returned for introductions when the game was over.

"Dear Mrs. Post: After having lived in our present neighborhood all of our lives, we just bought a house in the suburbs. The seller of the house told me how very friendly all of the neighbors are and how they called on her when she moved there.

"Since this will all be very new to me, please tell me what is expected of me when neighbors call. Do I offer them refreshments? Do I return their visits or wait to be asked to come to see them? I was never one to call on anyone without first being invited."

Answer: After they have come to see you, you then return their visit. It is not necessary to offer them anything.

"Dear Mrs. Post: Will you please tell me whether a man is supposed to take off his hat when he goes into a store?"

Answer: No, not on the ground floor or at any counter. Should he be seated in a "salon," he would be expected to take it off, because these surroundings are those of a room rather than a passageway.

Gayle Joyner Lists Attendants for Wedding

Gayle, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wallace R. Joyner of Garland avenue, will marry Leslie Hartzman in a ceremony at Bethany Baptist Church, Aug. 31. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence M. Hartzman of Monterey boulevard.

Gayle has asked Mrs. Toteff to serve as her matron of honor. Bridesmaids will be Jane Webster, Nancy Welch, Dianne Hartzman and Linda Winton.

Attending the recent shower were Mrs. Arthur Lewis, Mrs. Gerald Maxfield, Mrs. Peter Toteff, Mrs. Hoyt Joyner, Mrs. Wally Rennback, Mrs. Clyde Ryan, Mrs. Henry Schlaefer and Mrs. James Heathcott.

Others were Mrs. Roy Rathburn, Mrs. C. M. Hartzman, Mrs. Horace Morrill, Mrs. C. J. Cadieux, Mrs. Lyle Schrieber, Dianne Maxfield, Henrietta Schlaefer, Pat Heathcott, Miss Hartzman, Miss Webster and Miss Welch.

Sweater Is Versatile

Women find the sweater an indispensable fashion. In some form, it goes to the office, shopping, out to dinner, on weekends. Handy protection against weather changes and air conditioning.

How to Take Sting Out of Rejection

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

Writes a mother: "About a child who had suffered a social rejection, you recently said his mother should recover from her fear of it. You said that if she did, she could remove its sting from the child.

"But you didn't say how to remove it. What, for instance, would you say to a youngster who tells you she dreads school recess because other children ignore her and leave her out of games?"

What would I say? Nothing — not for a bit, anyway. I'd just take the child in my arms. Then I might say, "How mean, how mean" — and propose some cookies and chocolate milk in the kitchen.

But in my manner would be no acceptance of the child's fear that her social rejection was unique, dangerous and very important; as her senior in experience, I'd know it wasn't.

* * *

The sting of social rejection is always one thing — our fear that it's been evoked by some nastiness peculiar to us alone.

DENY THIS FEAR

We remove it by denying this fear. As we mix our child's chocolate milk, we begin to confide some of our own experiences with social rejection to her.

As the most competent, trustworthy, attractive adult female in her whole world, we confess the reassuring news that we, too, have been found undesirable.

We describe our misery on the visit to the aunt who couldn't stand us; the despair of our first weeks at a new school. We recall our feeling the day the girl in the third grade said, "No — and Ethel isn't asking you to her birthday party either."

Our work is not just talk, however — but the serenity of heart infusing the talk.

For it is this serenity, and not words, that illustrates our own recovery from the self-accusing tensions produced by our rejections — and relaxes the wounded child into hope that her own are temporary.

SELF ENCOURAGEMENT

While we're giving this strength, we may need some encouragement for ourselves. So let me remind us that Jesus, the most loving person, experienced rejection continually. That clinches the point that although rejection always seeks to discredit our desirability, it never touches it at all.

Dr. Alexander Wolf is a leading authority on "group therapy" — a psychiatric technique that exposes the reassuring commonness of hurtful experiences by encouraging patients to exchange them. He's given me a message for this mother:

"The illusion is always that our hurt is unique. As we share our hurts with children, they gradually recover from the illusion.

New Taste Is Given Old Recipe

Mrs. Ferree Adds Applesauce to Her Brownie Cookies

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

Mrs. Ferree has three small children and lives in a house trailer. She has, according to reports, made an excellent recovery from polio which hit her a few years ago.

APPLESAUCE BROWNIES
By Mrs. S. L. Ferree

½ cup shortening
2 squares unsweetened chocolate
1 cup sugar
2 eggs, beaten
½ cup applesauce
1 teaspoon vanilla
1 cup sifted flour
½ teaspoon baking powder
¼ teaspoon soda
¼ teaspoon salt
½ cup chopped nuts

Melt shortening and chocolate over hot water. Blend in sugar, eggs, applesauce and vanilla. Sift dry ingredients and stir in. Grease and flour an 8x8" pan. Pour in cookie mixture.

Bake 35-40 minutes in a 350-degree oven. Cut into bars while hot.

Dache Suggests Whole-Woman Look of Beauty

Lilly Dache is always concerned about the look of the "whole woman" and it is logical that she gives hints as reminders to contribute to the sheltered beauty look:

1. Grooming—shining hair styled with dignity and kept in place by a good spray, protected from direct sun by beach hat, parasol, or pretty printed silk head covering; well manicured nails tipped in a paler shade of polish to match the lipstick, and not chipped; meticulously starched and pressed cottons; clean white gloves; frequent bathing in a cosmetic bath oil to keep the skin from drying out; and a definite flower fragrance generously used.

2. Covering up — not all the time but certainly during the hours when the sun is directly over head; lotions will help but they won't do the whole job.

3. Fashionable feminine touches — flowers and bows in the hair; flower jewels; printed parasols on the street; fragile open sandals; and all the chiffon you can find, either in dress or floating scarves. Softness is the cue, but be careful not to go overboard and wear all the pretties at once.

Glove Compartment Aids the Motorist

Suggestions for the glove compartment include facial tissue, soap in a soap dish, hairnet or scarf, aspirin, flashlight, whisk broom, notebook and pencil, sunburn lotion, first aid kit, sun glasses, small jar of water for wiping hands, camera and extra film and road maps.

White shellac may be colored by adding alcohol-soluble aniline dyes dissolved in alcohol, say paint experts.

Better Buy Government Bonds

Diamonds Give Value but No Profit

NEW YORK, N. Y. — A person buying a diamond with the idea of making a profit on the transaction in a few years, or even breaking even, will probably be disappointed.

* * *

An article in a current magazine states that as an investment, putting money into a government bond is a much better idea than purchasing diamonds.

The article points out that $750 invested in a bond 10 years ago would yield $1,000 today.

A diamond bought at the same time would in all probability be worth only about $425 at the present time, because generally the re-sale value is around 42 per cent of the retail price.

Diamonds however, have many other advantages. For example, they are a lasting token of affection, remain fairly stable in a depression, and do not decrease in beauty with age.

Among the diamond buying tips listed are:

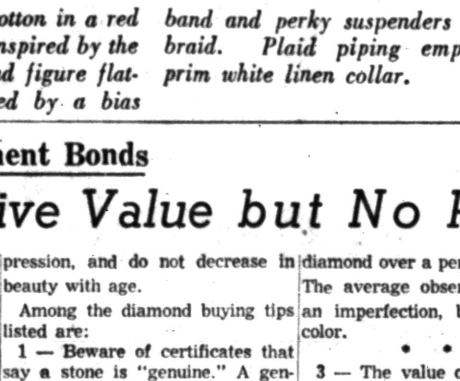

1 — Beware of certificates that say a stone is "genuine." A genuine diamond may often be inferior in quality.

2 — Buy even an imperfect white diamond over a perfect yellow one. The average observer cannot see an imperfection, but he can see color.

* * *

3 — The value of the diamond should be at least 10 times the value of the setting. Settings go quickly out of style.

Got Ulcers?—Then Try New Approach

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK (INS)—It is becoming more and more obvious, as the national ulcer rate rises sharply in spite of modern drugs and homogenized milk, that a new system must be devised to curb anger.

* * *

For one thing, in a sudden dispute it takes too long. A "count-10" man figures to be belted before he reaches five.

In a smouldering-type rage, it is equally dangerous. By the time one gets to 10 he has worked his wrath up from spark to white heat.

Besides, the man who can put one and two together at times like these is either a banker or he's not really so angry as all that—and in either case, he's not the person we're worried about.

NEW APPROACHES

There are several new and realistic approaches to the problem of facing anger with reason, which have been submitted to this corner by men of long lividity.

None of these techniques will apply to ALL cases of sudden rage, of course, for a man generally cannot refrain from blowing up at his wife with the same method he uses to avoid slugging his drinking associate.

It is for each surly mind and churned stomach to select the system which seems most effective for his own temper, always remembering to suit the system to the situation.

1. When the first glow of wrath appears it generally expresses itself in a flushed face and a clutching sensation under the belt . . . turn immediately and leave the room. If capable of speaking, throw back the phrase "I've gotta take a pill." If equipped with pills, take one.

2. When anger is red hot, reach for the nearest inexpensive and breakable object (e.g. swizzle sticks, pencils, old 78-RPM records) and destroy it as inconspicuously as possible.

Note: This is dangerous when arguments occur in the home, as men, women, children have varying conceptions of value, particularly regarding records.

3. When the sizzle starts, smile. This may not do much for you, but it'll drive your opponent crazy. It is a system widely used by restaurateurs and saleshadies.

4. When the argument is hot and you know you are right, say gently, "Oh well, my lawyer needs the work."

5. When the argument is hot and you sense you are wrong, pay back the money you owe him.

6. When the dispute is about politics or religion, leave immediately and tell your theories to the nearest dumb blonde.

7. When you are a woman, cry.

8. And when the withholding of your inner thoughts is a superhuman feat, your opponent is unarmed and your cause is just—give him a large piece of your mind.

Even the psychiatrists, who would prefer to have that piece to themselves, will tell you that a load off your chest is the most respectable way to cheat an undertaker of an honest living.

City Resident Starts 10-Day Jail Sentence

Two Pontiac residents were sentenced to 30 days each in the Oakland County Jail Monday after pleading guilty in Justice Court to being minors in possession of intoxicating beverages.

John C. Milliron, 20, of 176 N. Jessie St., and Robert A. Simmons, 19, of 307 N. Perry St., were jailed for failing to pay fine and costs totaling $40 apiece. The arraignment was held by Waterford Township Justice Willis D. Lefurgy.

Mexico celebrates her day of independence on Sept. 16, because Higuel Hidalgo, a parish priest, issued a declaration of freedom on that date in 1810.

Burke Beats Kroll for PGA Crown

CANTON, Mass. (AP)—The victory was Jackie Burke's in the 38th Professional Golfers Assn. championship, a whopping big one that proved this young man from Texas finally has become the great golfer everyone said he could be.

But the story might be Ted Kroll's, a story of utter frustration.

* * *

It must have brought a lot of satisfaction to the 33-year-old Burke, once tabbed as the "perennial rookie of the year," when he beat Kroll 3 and 2 in yesterday's tough 36-hole final and won his second major tournament within a year.

* * *

He was threatening to quit tournament golf and stay at home with his family in Houston before he broke through to win the Masters last April. Now he's established with Sam Snead as the only players who ever won these two major titles in the same season.

Burke still says he's going to curtail his playing activities. He has two children, is expecting a third, and operates a flourishing real estate business in Texas and Florida with Jimmy Demaret. He doesn't want to travel all the time and says he'll only play in about a dozen tournaments a year hereafter.

A little more than a month ago the 37-year-old Kroll, who never has won one of the big championships, had a chance to capture the National Open just by shooting pars on the last few holes. He "blew" to a tremendous 7 on the 70th hole and finished four strokes behind winner Cary Middlecoff.

* * *

Yesterday he was 3 up on Burke after 12 holes and 2 up at the end of a morning round in which he shot a great 35-33—68 over the 6,634-yard, par 36-35—71 Blue Hill course.

* * *

Then came a tremendous string of birdies by Burke on the front nine in the afternoon and Ted found himself unable to match it.

With a grim good humor, Kroll explained afterward: "I was just too tired and he played like a gangbuster." A moment later he turned to Tony Penna, who works for the same sports goods company, and said: "I think I'll shoot myself."

Burke credited his afternoon comeback to "an amazing round of chipping" plus a few other factors that made a tremendous difference in this head-to-head match play. Three down again after the 19th hole, Jackie suddenly regained his birdie-shooting touch and reeled off five sub-par scores on six holes. That put him 2 up and he never let Kroll off the hook.

"Those birdies kinda pepped me up," Burke explained. "Then I had a system of putting that I lost for a while. I square my club not with the hole but with the line I want the ball to take. If there's a 2-inch break I'm putting for 6½-inch hole."

Burke sank some good putts during the afternoon, but it was principally his chipping and short iron shots that put him close enough for all those birdies.

Burke plans to play next in the Tam O' Shanter tournaments in Chicago. He'll be back to defend the PGA title next year and expects to continue playing in this tournament.

Asked about his reaction to the gruelling grind, that called on him for 155 holes of golf to win the title, Jack said:

"You've got to be extremely lucky to win. All week I felt as if I was on the edge of a cliff waiting for someone to push me off."

MADE IT — Jack Burke, winner of the PGA, registers determination as he sinks putt on the 34th hole in the final match with Ted Kroll yesterday. Burke defeated Kroll, 3 and 2.

WINNER AND LOSER — Jack Burke (right) of Kiamesha Lake, N. Y., is congratulated by Ted Kroll of Ft. Lauderdale, Fla., after winning the 38th National PGA championship at Blue Hill Country Club in Canton, Mass., yesterday. Burke is the second player to win both the Masters and PGA in same year. Sam Snead did it in 1949.

Taylor TKO Winner Over Eli Leggett

WINDSOR Ont. (AP)—Underdog Chuck Taydor, in command from the second round on, showed surprising strength in scoring a technical knockout over Eli Leggett in the 8th and last round of their locally televised lightweight bout last night.

It was Leggett's 1st defeat in 18 starts. Taylor has a 5-3 record.

Boys' Club 9 Loses 1st Tilt in Two Years

Tuesday's defeat (4-1) of the Boy's Club No. 1 team in Class F of the City Junior Baseball League was the first handed this team in two years. The four runs scored against Boy's Club by W. Side Kiwanis Club equalled the two year total against this team which has had it so much its own way prior to the defeat.

* * *

Coach Bill Coulacos said this was the best thing that could happen, for two reasons. One, it made the Boy's Clubbers realize they could be beaten and second, it was good for the league, as many teams felt it could not be done.

Women's Golf Test Saturday

Annual Ladies' Medal Tournament Scheduled at Municipal Links

Pontiac Municipal Golf Course is being readied this week for the annual city Women's Medal Golf Tournament, which will be held Saturday afternoon.

Starting at 12 o'clock noon, a field of talented feminine shotmakers will attack Municipal's north and south layouts in hopes of beating the rolling and frequently rugged women's par of 37-38—75.

Pairings and tee-off times will be posted only for those golfers who register before 6 p.m. on Thursday. Post entries will be accepted, however.

* * *

Trophies will be awarded to the winner and runner-up. Third and fourth place survivors in the 18-hole tourney will receive golf balls.

The tournament is sponsored by the Pontiac Parks and Recreation Department.

Emmanuel Team Forfeits

Emmanuel Baptist decided all was lost in Tuesday night's Waterford Junior League softball game and walked off the field in the 7th inning for an automatic forfeit to Drayton Drug. The Drayton team held a 14-1 lead in the contest, which was played at Williams Lake School.

Olympic Tryouts in Detroit August 7th

11 Veterans in Swim Trials

DETROIT — Six men and five women who were members of the 1952 United States Olympic swimming teams are expected to compete in the final 1956 American tryouts here Aug. 7-10 when this year's Olympic swimmers and divers will be determined.

Three of these 11 aquatic stars won individual crowns at Helsinki four years ago, with Pat Keller McCormick of the Los Angeles Athletic Club bringing home two gold medals herself as she triumphed in both springboard and platform diving.

Mrs. McCormick and her 10 teammates of 1952 will compete against more than 250 other hopefuls for the 46 places available on the two teams, 25 on the men's squad and 21 on the women's team.

The action will take place at Brennan Pools in Rouge Park on Detroit's west side, where the 1948 United States finals also were staged.

In addition to graceful Mrs. McCormick, who has won more national diving titles than any other woman in history and who recently swept all three AAU championships, the 1952 Olympians seeking to prove they have lost none of their touch will include:

Ford Konno, great Hawaiian freestyler who once starred for Ohio State and who captured the 1500 meters at Helsinki in record time as well as placing second at 400 meters.

Yoshi Oyakawa, another human fish from Honolulu who also starred at Ohio State and who set an Olympic record as he won the 100-meter backstroke crown at Helsinki.

Robert Clotworthy, a third ex-Buckeye, now in the Army, who placed third in the men's springboard diving finals in 1952.

William Woolsey, holder of three NCAA and two Big Ten titles, co-captain of next season's Indiana University swim team who will compete in the 200 and 400-meter events here.

Frank Chamberlain, formerly of Yale, now in the army, who qualified for the 200-meter freestyle four years ago but went unplaced in the finals.

Dick Cleveland, another one-time Ohio State freestyler who once held the world record for 100 yards but who went unplaced at Helsinki after making the U. S. team at 100 meters.

Paula Jean Meyers, lovely mermaid who helps Pat McCormick maintain the Los Angeles A. C. reign of the diving boards. Miss Meyers was second to Pat in the 10-meter platform competition in the 1952 Olympics.

Carolyn Green, tireless Fort Lauderdale swimmer who has won five successive national AAU 1500-meter titles and who placed fourth in the women's 400-meter freestyle at Helsinki.

* * *

Four years have produced a host of new record breakers on the swimming horizon, but these 11 Olympic veterans still have hopes of seeing Australia in November.

Jets Rap Out Easy Victory

Hit 4 Fowler Hurlers for 14 Runs in City Baseball League

The Anderson Jets pounded four pitchers for 13 hits and romped to an easy 14-4 victory over Fowler's Fine Foods in a Class A City Baseball League game last night at Wisner Field.

Starter Jim Featherstone, Harlen Warden, Bill Shell and Lynn Wright were all treated alike. The Jets accounted for all of their runs in the 1st four innings with six counters in the 3rd their lustiest output.

Sam Woodmore led the attack against the last place Fowler club with three hits in three trips to the plate. LeRoy Baines, Hurston Avery, Don Russel and Herb Moore each picked up two safeties.

Monroe Moore hurled until the 7th inning for the Jets when he was relieved by Vernon Rains. Moore was credited with the win.

Swaps, Eight Others in Sunset Handicap

INGLEWOOD, Calif. (AP) — California's Swaps and eight lesser lights held the spotlight today as Hollywood Park ended its 55-day racing season with the $100,000-added Sunset Handicap.

* * *

Owner Rex C. Ellsworth plans to air ship Swaps to Chicago for the first of a series of major stakes engagements in the Midwest and later in the East.

Swaps was a prohibitive favorite to win the Sunset, running a mile and five-eighths for the first time in his brilliant career.

Named against the handsome 4-year-old were a collection of lightweights, including Alidon, Honeys Alibi, Beau Busher, Huzzah, Tordito, Adam's Apple, Mary Machree and Blue Volt.

Parker Pleased With Turnout

Contact Begins for Lion Rookies

YPSILANTI, Mich. (AP) — Coach Buddy Parker scheduled contact work today for the 30-odd rookies and half a dozen veterans at the Detroit Lions training camp at Eastern Michigan College.

He used most of opening day yesterday getting the kinks out of the squad with routine drills.

"We've got a big job to do and can't afford to lose any time," he said. "We'll get down to the rough stuff right away."

Parker said he was pleased with the physical condition of the players. "We seem to have better size than last year," he said. "Other than that there isn't much you can say."

Two-a-day sessions are planned until the rest of the veterans appear next Wednesday. The exhibition season opens Aug. 17 with a game against the Pittsburgh Steelers in Toledo.

Of the three servicemen returning for the early drills, Gene Gedman arrived late and missed the first workouts. But Yale Lary a defensive back,and tackle Oliver Spencer were on hand and both said they were in good condition.

Barry Basel, a big tackle who played at Michigan Normal (now Eastern Michigan College) last season, failed to report. But five other players with Michigan backgrounds were in uniform and ready to hustle for available positions.

They were Jarv Walz of Central Michigan, halfback Ed Mapes of Dearborn, halfback Marv Frankel of Hillsdale, Linebacker Embry Robinson of Michigan State University and end Keith Emerson of Central Michigan.

There was some bad news. First-string offensive guard George Atkins sent word through quarterback Harry Gilmer that he did not plan to report. No explanation was given.

* * *

But there were encouraging reports also. Fullback Bill Bowman, a standout on the 1954 team, and tackle Gerry Perry will be back in time for regular season play starting Sept. 30 against the Green Bay Packers. Both are in the service.

Ameche Physically Fit for Uncle Sam

MADISON, Wis. (INS) — Alan (the Horse) Ameche has found out what any National Football League player could have told him long ago — he is physically fit.

The former Wisconsin All-American and rookie sensation of the Baltimore Colts last season when he won the league rushing honors, said yesterday he passed a physical for military service last week.

However, he does not expect to be called until after the coming football season. He is qualified for an officer's commission because of R.O.T.C. training at Wisconsin.

Late Gidley Rally Wins but Baptists Fall Short

Gidley Electric came from behind to edge White Brothers, 6-5, and the VFW staved off a 7th-inning rally to nip Emmanuel Baptist, 7-6, in Waterford Township League softball games Tuesday night at Drayton Plains.

Trailing by a 5-1 margin entering the bottom of the 5th inning, Gidley tallied three times to cut the deficit to one run, then scored twice in the 6th to win. Jim Lesar's single, a triple by Dick Goyette and a muffed 3rd strike accounted for the tying and winning runs.

Two runs in the 6th stanza resulted in the VFW's mild upset over the Baptist squad. Pitcher Mike Hanes won his own decision with a two-run single. Jim Hodges, pinch-hitting for Emmanuel in the 6th, slammed an inside-the-park home run with one man aboard. The losers left two runners stranded in their 7th-inning uprising.

THE POWERHOUSE

By Jimmy Powers

The disturbing question in the wake of the sale of the Tigers by the Briggs family to an 11-man group is—are syndicates good for sport?

In the old tradition of the Connie Macks, Rupperts, Wrigleys, Yawkeys, Griffiths and Stonehams the average fan could visualize a single entity or single family group and address himself to them with his praises or complaints. The responsibility was concentrated.

A sort of minor dynasty developed through the years. The same pat figures appeared in our sports cartoons. Diamond Jubilee dinners were duly held.

The eldest son became sole heir when the original founder or supporter of the franchise passed on. There was an individual stamp on each project. Barney Dreyfuss' little eccentricities were accepted and as equally beloved as those of the "Old Roman," Comiskey.

But then, gradually, through the years confiscatory taxes took their toll. The Ruppert heirs were faced with such a terrific tax bite they were forced to choose between retaining the brewery or the ball club.

In the case of the Briggs family the elder Briggs created a trust for the grandchildren. Unfortunately the courts ruled a ball club is not quite the proper investment for a trust for minors. The club was ordered sold, so in marched another syndicate.

In addition to the pressure of tax laws we have a mounting inflation in land values and professional franchises of all sorts. A National Football League franchise selling at $1,000,000 today could have been purchased for about $75,000 around Pearl Harbor time.

What single individual could personally afford to risk $5,500,000 to buy the Tigers?

SYNDICATES IN SPORT ATTRACT MONEY

Now, as to whether syndicates are good or bad I certainly don't know at this time. My first impression is that they are good for the simple reason that syndicates attract men with money to sport.

Money is the life blood of professional sports. Men with money, all things equal, are men with brains. Certainly in our American way of life the one rough index we have to a man's ability as a business man is the volume of business he does and the profit he banks.

A good newspaper sells a lot of copies. A good book or magazine ditto. An inferior product has an inferior sale. Most of the businessmen currently in sports have established their business acumen in other and equally competitive fields.

Ford Frick has already put his stamp of approval on the 11-man syndicate in Detroit. Two of the chief backers carved out a radio business from scratch. Sports can well afford to have shrewd business brains at the top.

Three Shutouts Are Registered

Bats Silent in City Softball Action

Three City Softball League teams probably felt like singing a massed chorus of "I've Got Plenty of Nothin" after 21 innings of futile swinging Tuesday night.

Pitchers John Helisek of Bicmar Inn, Pete Mihay of Elks No. 810 and Lloyd Harper of Richard's Tavern played the tune and Sam Benson, Royal Bar and the North Side Merchants all danced the jig as each hurler turned in a sparkling one-hit shutout last night at Beaudette and North Side parks.

A single in the 2nd inning by Bob Overcashier was the only hit permitted by Helisek as Bicmar nosed out the Benson team, 1-0, in the opening game at Beaudette. The Bicmar pitcher not only mowed down the opposition, but scored the winning run as well. He doubled in the 4th and raced home on Maynard Reed's single to gain the verdict over Benson's Jack Amy, who yielded just two hits.

Mihay was equally invincible for the Elks during their 4-0 whitewashing of Royal Bar. Royal's Bill Allen garnered the lone safety, a 4th-inning single. Russ Hester made two of the Elks' six hits in the Beaudette encounter. Cal Atwood and Roger Reynolds twirled for Royal with Atwood suffering the loss.

Art Harrison's 6th-inning single was all the Merchants could muster against the offerings of Harper as they were blanked by Richard's Tavern, 7-0, at North Side. Harper struck out 14 batters. The Tavern club collected eight hits off Bill DeRousse, two apiece by Al Hayward and McNamara.

GMC's mound ace, Doug Hall, hurled a two-hitter as the Coachers defeated Stadium Inn, 5-3, on the North Side diamond. A three-run rally in the 5th stanza handed GMC the decision over pitcher Verle Sheldon, who was touched for nine hits.

Keego Wins Class D Tilt

The Keego Harbor Boys Club scored a 4-1 triumph over the Pontiac Boys Club in a Class D attraction and Ron Burnstrum pitched a one-hit shutout in Knothole League action to feature Tuesday's Junior baseball program in Pontiac.

Keego tallied once in the 4th inning to break a 1-1 tie, then iced the verdict with a two-run outburst in the 6th. Keego's Wolfe hurled a four-hitter to best Bob Reeves. LaPratt and Neeley collected two hits apiece for the winners.

Burnstrum issued a 4th-inning double to Smith during his masterpiece as Joslyn Market blanked the Indians, 17-0, Mahan Realty outslugged the Senators, 18-8, in the other Knothole encounter.

Roger Williams and Nick Niera combined to toss a two-hitter as Gingellville trounced the Clarkston Merchants, 14-2, while the Oxford Wildcats and the Auburn Heights Boys Club battled to a 6-6 deadlock, with darkness halting play at the end of eight innings, in Class E activity.

In Class F games yesterday, Don Nicholie outscored the Clarkston Wolves, 15-12, and pitcher Fred Staley allowed two hits to spark West Side Kiwanis to a 4-1 decision over Boys Club No. 1.

SEEK NEW TITLE — Already the Michigan and Great Lakes regional juvenile pair dance champions, 8-year-old Gale Ensminger and Dennis Horrall, 9, (above) are on their way to the big national roller tourney at Richmond, Va., to seek bigger honors. Gale is daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Ensminger of Elizabeth Lake road, and Dennis is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Junior Horrall of Clarkston. Both are members of the Rolladium team taking part in the nationals. They have skated together since December, 1955.

Tigers Split Twi-Night Card

DETROIT (AP) — The manager of the 6th-place Detroit Tigers, Bucky Harris, says his pitching staff "is in far worse shape than it has been all season long."

The workout the staff received last night while the Tigers were splitting a twi-night twin bill with the Baltimore Orioles did nothing to ease the problem.

The Tigers won the opener, 9-7, and used only two pitchers to do it. But as they dropped the finale, 11-5, Harris sent six hurlers into the contest.

In addition to the arm troubles of long-ailing Ned Garver, two other pitchers—reliefers Al Aber and Walt Masterson—have complained of soreness.

* * *

Home runs and the relief pitching of sidearmer Steve Gromek carried the Detroiters to victory in the opener.

Al Kaline with his 16th, Charlie Maxwell with his 18th and Frank House with his 6th provided the home run noise and batted in two runs apiece.

Kaline's drive came in the 4th inning and brought the Tigers from behind against starter Connie Johnson and reliefers Morrie Martin and Mike Fornieles to wrap up their 11th Briggs Stadium victory.

The Tigers have lost 28 times on their home grounds.

* * *

Oriole pilot Paul Richards sat out most of the first game after disputing Johnson's balk which brought in the Tiger score in the first inning. Richards, who had been ejected five times previously, argued with plate umpire John Stevens for nearly five minutes before Stevens thumbed him out.

Richards, who matches Casey Stengel for juggling his lineup, used five pitchers in the first game and four in the second.

His club got the jump in the second contest at the expense of young Bob Miller. The 21-year-old southpaw, recalled from the Charleston club of the American Association a few days ago, lasted for just one inning.

Today, Virgil Trucks goes for Detroit against Ray Moore of the Orioles. Another afternoon contest is scheduled for Thursday before Washington comes in for a weekend series.

SMALL IS OUT — Jim Small, Detroit Tiger right fielder is out sliding into the plate in the first game of the twi-night doubleheader against the Baltimore Orioles at Briggs Stadium yesterday. Nick Triandos, Oriole catcher, took the peg from George Kell after Harvey Kuenn's grounder. The Tigers won the first game, 9-7 and lost the second, 11-5.

Return Meeting Quiet Between Adcock, Gomez

NEW YORK (AP)—The return engagement between hard-charging Joe Adcock, 210, of Milwaukee, and fleet-footed Ruben Gomez, of New York, started off on a promising note last night, but ended in an aura of peace and friendship.

Before the start of the Giants-Braves game, a photographer asked Adcock and Gomez, participants in the now famous hit-and-run affair in Milwaukee last week, to pose together for a picture. Adcock, who had charged Gomez after the Giant pitcher had hit him twice with a ball, readily agreed.

When Gomez had regained his composure, he was asked whether he still intended to pitch "Tight" to Adcock, as he had done in Milwaukee.

* * *

"Sure," he replied unhesitatingly. "That's the book on him. Pitch him high and tight. What you think? I pitch to his powerhouse?"

The first time Gomez faced Adcock, the expectant fans, some 12,000 of them, let loose with cheers and boos. There was no other disturbance, however, although it was reported that 20 plainclothes detectives had been stationed at strategic points throughout the stands in case of trouble.

* * *

Gomez was as good as his word. His first two pitches to Adcock were inside and "tight." Adcock fouled off the first pitch, then grounded meekly to third. Ruben fooled Joe in the next round with a third-strike curve. He got Adcock again, the third time they came face to face, via a foul out. In the ninth however, he threw four straight balls.

Adcock was asked after the game, won by the Braves 4-3, whether any untoward incident occurred between him and Gomez during the game.

* * *

"Yes," the good-natured Southerner said with a straight face. "When Gomez arrived at first base on his second-inning single, I turned to him and said, 'Hello, Ruben, how are you?'"

And what was Gomez' retort? "He said, 'Okay, Joe, and you?'"

Spahn After 200th Victory

Braves Pad Margin in NL

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Warren, Spahn, the southpaw veteran tabbed "over the hill" by some folks a year ago, now is within seven victories of becoming the National League's first 200-game winner in a decade. And if the Milwaukee Braves can keep up the part of a pennant winner, it may be a breeze for their one-time ace.

Milwaukee's championship machine continued to hum last night as the Braves came from behind after being held hitless for five innings to nail the New York Giants 4-3 with a two-run ninth. Spahn, 35, went all the way, homering for Milwaukee's first hit in the sixth, for his 193rd career victory and 10th of the season.

It gave the Braves 13 successes in the last 15 games and the third in a row, padding their first-place margin to 3½ games, the widest edge enjoyed by any of the numerous contenders this season.

Brooklyn's third - place world champs had a hand in puffing up Milwaukee's lead, battering the runner-up Cincinnati Redlegs 10-5 as Sandy Amoros drove in five runs with two triples and Duke Snider batted home three with his 22nd and 23rd home runs.

Philadelphia took over sixth place from Chicago, defeating St. Louis 7-3 while the Cubs were losing to Pittsburgh 6-2.

* * *

In the American League, the New York Yankees' lead "dwindled" to 8½ games as the Chicago White Sox beat the Bombers 11-5 while the second-place Cleveland Indians coasted past Washington 11-0. Boston defeated Kansas City 3-2 on Mickey Vernon's ninth-inning home run. Detroit and Baltimore split a twi-night pair, the Tigers winning 9-7, then losing 11-5.

Billy Pierce won his 15th to become the majors' winningest pitcher, handing the Yankees their fifth straight defeat at Comiskey Park. The game had several hot moments, with New York second baseman Billy Martin forced out of the game after being spiked by Larry Doby and loser Tom Sturdivant drawing a beanball warning after hitting two batters.

Doby and Minnie Minoso each homered for the Chisox, driving in six runs between them. Gil McDougald, Bill Skowron and Bob Cerv homered for New York.

* * *

Mike Garcia three-hit Washington while the Indians ran wild with seven runs on three hits and five walks in the eighth. Rocky Colavito, just recalled from the minors, socked a bases-loaded triple and two singles for the Tribe.

* * *

Vernon's homer followed a walk to Ted Williams, the only pass given up by rookie Wally Burnette who had three-hit Boston after allowing a first-inning run. Ike Delock won it in relief.

13 Mares, Fillies in Matron Handicap

CHICAGO (INS) — Thirteen top fillies and mares shoot for the $35,000 top money today in the 23rd running of the $50,000 added Matron Handicap at Arlington Park.

Three powerful two-horse entries head the big field and may go off at about co-favorites. They are Claiborne Farm's Delta and Doubledogdare, Calumet Farm's Princess Turia and Amoret, and Hasty House Farm's Queen Hopeful and Fighting Jury.

* * *

Most of the fish in northern U. S. live in a state of total darkness several months of the year.

Weather Aids State Woods; Bass Fishing Gets Raves

By JACK PATTERSON

The crazy mixed-up combination of rain and cool weather that has raised hob with so many vacation and fishing plans this summer has had one effect that is strictly on the plus side. The forest fire hazard, usually a rather acute problem by this time, hasn't been a problem at all to date. The green lushness of northern woodlands these days is every man's ideal of a forest in midsummer. We made a mental note the other day, while jogging (slowly) through the eastern Alcona County woods aboard a mare of mature vintage, to suggest to readers that a trip to the north country is worth the effort, if for no other reason than to see the summer woodlands at their best.

* * *

A note from Atty. Ed Barrett at the Straits suggests that fly-fishing for herring is more than a sometime thing these evenings. As a worthy fly rod opponent to his finny brethren, as we've discovered on more than one occasion.

While herring are occupying the time of light-tackle enthusiasts around the Straits, smallmouth bass are getting most of the rave notices and fishing for this species is about at its peak in the area.

East of Mackinaw City, from Cecil Bay around Waugoshance Point to Sturgeon Bay lies one of the best smallmouth areas in the state, to our notion. Fish don't run too big—a five-pounder is a big one—but what's wrong with that? One additional advantage is that the area is relatively lightly fished.

* * *

Perhaps one reason that the stretch isn't fished more heavily is that many an angler believes that a boat is necessary and small craft are not always available. It's true that fishing from a boat is the most comfortable way to catch bass in these waters, but it is by no means the only way and not necessarily the best.

The wading angler has a choice of two general approaches, depending on time of day and other factors that bear on fish movements.

The first, a sure-fire early morning and evening deal, is to concentrate on pockets of open water in the bullrushes which line much of the shoreline, particularly on the south side. These open, sand or marl bottomed pockets may be anywhere from 10 to 50 feet or more across and taper down in spots to five or six feet deep.

* * *

The profusion of rushes and frequent hanging up of lures calls for a stout line and all but rules out spinning gear. Casting outfits with surface plugs—a black Jitterbug is our No. 1 choice—are the best bet here.

The other method calls for wading offshore in open water. Dry wading is all but impossible because in order to get out to the submerged rocks where fish hang out, it is usually necessary to wade about two inches above wader tops.

Actually, because the water is shallow, it is not as cold as offshore water and swimming trunks (and shoes) are sufficient wading gear most days. The caper is to wade out near a rock which lies in somewhat deeper water—five or six feet—and cast a single unweighted worm or fly or spinning tackle to the rock. The worm settles slowly and naturally and it probably will never get to the bottom. Fish pay little attention to the wader and it's often possible to take fish little over a rod-length away.

Western Girls Net Tourney in Quarter-Finals

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—Top-seeded Carolyn Wikoff of Middletown led the way into the quarter-finals of the Western Girls Tennis Tournament here today, but two girls expected to give Miss Wikoff her stiffest competition are still around.

* * *

Both Miss Wikoff and Sue Hodgman of Kalamazoo, Mich., advanced yesterday by identical 6-1, 6-1 victories, Miss Wikoff defeating Nancy Fahy of Springfield and Miss Hodgman whipping Nancy O'Connell of Chicago. Miss Hodgman last Sunday carried Miss Wikoff to three sets before letting her have the Kentucky junior championship 6-2, 3-6, 7-5.

* * *

Also expected to provide competition for Miss Wikoff in play at the Virginia Hollinger Memorial Tennis Club is Phylis Saganski of Hamtramck. Mich., who defeated Sue Metzger, Kalamazoo, 6-0, 6-4.

Death Takes McMahon

CHICAGO (AP)—Frank McMahon, 65, traveling secretary for the Chicago White Sox baseball team for 13 years until his retirement last year, died Tuesday night after a brief illness.

McMahon was a brother-in-law of Mrs. Grace Comiskey, president of the White Sox club. His wife died three years ago. They had no children.

Ted Williams' best year for runs batted in came in 1949 when he drove in a total of 159 to set a playing record.

Pontiac Press Photo

BIG SMALLMOULTH — What looks like an extra-big smallmouth bass s displayed by its captor, Charles Pulliam, 84 North Roselawn, Pontiac. The fine fish was taken Saturday morning on White Lake, on nightcrawlers. However, it weighed only 4 pounds 12 ounces. It was 21 inches long. Charles Elie, 265 Oakmont, Auburn Heights, was fishing with Pulliam. They took several other nice bass as well as other fish.

6-Year-Old Angler Gets 6-Pound Fish

Handling his own baiting, and most of the landing jobs, fishing in Green's Lake, Clarkston, 6-year-old Bobby (Robert Lee) Branston fought a 6-pound, 21½ inch dogfish to a standstill the other day. His dad, Charles L. Branson, 585 Hillcrest, helped him land the ugly specimen, which was taken on a bluegill hook. The fish cracked Bobby's cane pole in the battle.

A sister, Joy, four, is also an enthusiastic angler and frequently accompanies Bobby on piscatorial expeditions.

Favorite for Aces

Twin Lakes' Golf club's No. 4 hole is becoming the favorite for shotmakers with ambitions for aces. Third hole-in-one on this green was carded yesterday by young William K. Barnett of Detroit. A five-iron shot did the trick as his father, William C., and Detroiters Don A. Barnett and Al Lindstrom watched. They were members of a foursome.

Barnett had a 41 for the 9-hole round.

Game Recruits Get 'Seasoning'

LANSING — The 42 recruit conservation officers now taking part in the Conservation Department's six-month training program have been assigned to districts throughout the state for two weeks of field seasoning with veteran officers.

The recruit class got under way July 1 at Higgins Lake training school and for the first two weeks spent most of its time studying law, firearms, field methods and related subjects.

The 42 recruits were picked from a field of several hundred applicants and had to pass stiff physical, mental and character tests before being chosen for the training.

State Troopers Aid in Patrol Jobs at Parks

LANSING — Michigan State Police troopers will visit state parks during routine patrols this summer to help calm the enthusiasm of rowdies and vandals.

The State Police recently agreed to take on the patrols to help beleaguered park managers, most of whom work alone and unarmed. In cases of trouble, local police are often summoned, but park officials feel the occasional presence of state troopers will do much to ease tensions that sometimes arise, especially in the more crowded parks.

Free Food Ended; Bears Raid Cabins

MARQUETTE (AP) — Cabin owners near here have had a run of trouble since workers at a fruit company warehouse quit trucking wastage to the woods for bears to feed on.

Within four miles of the former feeding point, 14 hunters' cabins have been broken into this spring, conservation department agents reported.

Hungry bears were blamed. Since the depredations began, five bears have been trapped in the neighborhood and one shot by a hunter.

Fuentes Beats Vejar

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Ramon Fuentes, 154¼, Los Angeles, won a split decision over Chico Vejar, 154½, Stamford, Conn., in a roaring 10-round fight at the Olympic Auditorium Tuesday night.

BIGGER, BETTER — Finest bass of the season, as far as The Pontiac Press "big fish derby" is concerned, is that displayed in the above picture by Max Waldrup, 6451 Elmwood, Drayton Plains. Waldrup's "bigger and better" large mouth bronzeback tipped the scales at 5-pounds 12-ounces, and is the new contest leader. It was taken Tuesday morning on a private lake near Ortonville.

Bass Entries Grow

But Bluegill, Pike Lagging

Most active division of The Pontiac Press 1956 fishing contest, which runs through Labor Day, is currently the bass, with many fine fish being reported. Rate the poundage of the latest entries has gone up, points to the possibility of some six, or even seven-pounders before the "derby" winds up.

Tuesday's new bass leader is a 5-pound-12-ounce fish, the best from both size and weight, and also one of the most perfect specimens coming to this department during the season.

Max Waldrup's fish was 22½ inches long, 16 inches in girth. It was taken on a homemade nightcrawler harness fished deep, just at the stepoff in a private lake. The fish put up a 15-minute battle Waldrup reported.

Previous leader was a 5½-pounder.

Dave Nance, Keego Harbor, and Jim Gruber, 97 East Fairmount, Pontiac, were fishing with Waldrup. The party took several other bass and a limit catch of bluegills, plus a small pike.

Solunar Tables

Best times for fishing, in the Pontiac area, according to John Alden Knight's solunar tables, will be about as indicated in the following timetable, prepared especially for this section, for the next week the tables shows:

	A.M.		P.M.
	Minor	Major	Minor	Major
Thursday	8:10	2:00	8:40	2:28
Friday	8:50	3:40	9:20	3:08
Saturday	9:35	3:25	10:00	3:45
Sunday	10:15	4:05	10:45	4:30
Monday	11:05	4:55	11:35	5:20
Tuesday	11:55	5:45		6:15
Wednesday	12:35	6:40	12:50	7:10

11-Year-Old Angler Lands 3-Pound Pike

Youngest entry in The Pontiac Press "big fish derby," 11-year-old Linda Pearlman, daughter of Dr. Abe and Mrs. Pearlman, 4930 Sherbourne, Elizabeth Lake, is also about as avid an angler as any.

Linda caught the 23 inch long fish from a boat on Elisabeth lake, near her home. It was her biggest fish and its capture created a lot of excitement in the Pearlman household.

Linda's 8-year-old sister Judy is also a keen fisherman, and both may be found most any day out on the lake trying for a good catch.

Logart, Ex-Spartan Collide in Ring

CHICAGO (AP) — Isaac Logart, one-time sparmate of Kid Gavilan, tries for his 10th straight ring victory tonight against Jed Black, and up-and-coming welterweight prior to serving a 2-year Army hitch.

Logart, a product of Camaguey, Cuba, Gavilan's hometown, probably will be better than a 3-1 favorite in the nationally televised 10 rounder, ABC, 9 p.m. EST, at Chicago Stadium. He is rated No. 3 among welterweight contenders in the latest Ring Magazine rankings.

Black, former NCAA champion while at Michigan State, hasn't fought since Oct. 12, 1955 when he won over Bobby Elliott in 10 rounds. At that time he was serving as a first lieutenant at the Red Stone Arsenal in Huntsville, Ala.

Same Caddy, Not Name

CANTON, Mass. (AP) — Jackie Burke Jr., the 1956 National PGA champion, called his caddy by the wrong name throughout the 5-day tournament at the Blue Hill Country Club.

"Everyone knows me as Al, but Jackie kept calling me Lou," said Italo Amicangioli of Newton.

"I passed it over and let it stand," Al-Lou added. "I wasn't going to take any chances on changing our luck."

It's His Own Punishment

A middle-aged Little League baseball coach here in Memphis, Tenn., deals five running laps around the field as punishment for players arriving late for practice.

Three Anglers Show Teeth Marks

Muskies Biting--on Fishermen's Feet

TORONTO, Ont. (INS) — The muskies are biting in Ontario and there are several persons limping around today to prove it.

* * *

The "muskie bites man" cases were reported by R. E. Whitfield who wrote to the Ontario department of lands and forests from Tweed, Ont., in the southeastern section.

He said three people are known to have been attacked by big Muskalonge — two at Trout Lake in the North Bay area and more recently, an Arnprior man was bitten by a muskie in Lake Chats.

In all three cases the victims were dangling their feet in the water.

* * *

Usually, Mr. Muskie will lie quietly, sometimes in the shade of docks and other such shore installations, when not searching for food.

Whitfield reports the Arnprior man was bitten while sitting on a log boom well out from shore and was trying to cool off by "dunking" his feet in the waters of the Ottawa River when "wham!" the poor man now has the prettiest set of muskie teeth marks around his ankle.

It is commonly accepted that both pike and muskalonge are known to devour water-fowl, large frogs and other large items—but these are the first reports of man-eaters! No doubt, to the big-mouthed fish, the human foot must resemble some juice morsel of food. And to top it off, the motion of the dangling foot would seem to invite a strike.

There have been other reports of hungry fish from the Detroit area. For example, a young girl was severely bitten on her leg by "a large fish" in Kent Lake on Rt. 16 about a month ago. She had to be given medical attention.

Farmers Aid Game Plan

LANSING — Southern Michigan farmers have shown a growing willingness to make use of the Conservation Department's farm game habitat program.

The department provides free trees, shrubs, grasses and other plantings to farmers to make more cover and food for small game.

Sportsmen pay for the plantings out of taxes they pay on sporting arms and ammunition.

* * *

But farmers, who know a good bet when they see it, find the cover plantings serve not only w i l d life, but farm purposes as well. Trees form windbreaks, shrubs and grasses halt erosion, other plantings help hold water on the land.

At present, 4700 southern Michigan farms have planting programs under way and requests from others are received in Depaprtment offices daily.

State Pays $20,110 for Animal Bounties

LANSING (AP) — Michigan hunters and trappers received bounties in June on 46 coyotes, all but two bagged in the Upper Peninsula, the state conservation department reports.

* * *

One coyote was bountied in Cheboygan county and one in Missaukee.

The department said 41 bobcats and 3,817 foxes were presented for bounty during the month. Payments on all three types of animals amounted to $20,110.

SALLY SHARP WINS WITH EASE IN FIRST ROUND

Ex-Champs Clash in Women's Amateur

MUSKEGON (AP) — A pair of former champions, Mrs. Harold Marquardt of Detroit and Flint's Mrs. Don Weiss, square off today in the top match of the Michigan Women's Amateur Golf tournament.

They were among 16 entrants who survived opening round play at the Muskegon Country Club yesterday in matches that went pretty much according to the form sheet.

Most favorites won with ease, led by 19-year-old medalist Sally Sharp, who never lost a hole in disposing of Mrs. Frank Kardas of Grand Rapids, 7 and 6.

Mrs. Weiss, who won the first of her four titles 20 years ago, played on fairly even terms with Mrs. S. E. Gawne of Bloomfield Hills, before pulling away to win 5 and 4. Mrs. Marquardt, the 1953 titlist, ousted Mrs. W. L. Mosher of Orchard Lake, 3 and 2.

Bothersome winds sent scores soaring well above par on the hilly par 74 (women's) course, with Merle Meyers of Muskegon and Mrs. V. E. Ryden of Flint turning in the best rounds of the day. Both carded 82's.

Miss Meyers beat Mrs. Francis Kihm, Kalamazoo, 5 and 4, and Mrs. Ryden turned back Margaret Watkins of Detroit, 3 and 6.

* * *

Lansing's Mrs. E. O. Reynolds, who swings from the left side, led from start to finish in eliminating another Lansing entrant, Mrs. Nels Michelson, 4 and 2. Mrs. Reynolds won the amateur crown in 1954.

* * *

Two other teenagers besides Miss Sharp made it into the second round. Seventeen-year-old Phyllis Pruess of Detroit lost only one hole in routing Mrs. Almon Smith of Grand Rapids, 3 and 6.

Carolee Evertse of Grand Rapids had it nearly as easy in eliminating Mrs. J. R. Shutts of Lakelands, 6 and 5.

Helen Grinnell, Detroit Golf Club, defeated Virginia O'Connor, Manistee, 6 and 5; Mrs. John Labenzky, Port Huron, defeated Mrs. R. R. Haeussler, Detroit Golf Club, 4 and 3; Mrs. Jack Scripsema, Grand Rapids, defeated Mrs. Virginia Cunningham, Grand Rapids, 3 and 2; Mrs. Floyd Schoonover, Plum Hollow, defeated Mrs. Charles Gibson, Muskegon, 4 and 3; Mrs. Keith LeClair, Ypsilanti, defeated Mrs. Elliot Payson, Detroit, 3 and 2; Mrs. John Brandt, Pontiac, defeated Mrs. A. J. Redmond, Western, 6 and 5.

TODAY'S PAIRINGS
Sally Sharp of Forest Lake meets Mrs. Richard Babcock of Spring Lake.
Mrs. Donald Weiss of Flint meets Mrs. Harold Marquardt of Detroit.
Mrs. E. O. Reynolds of Lansing meets Carolee Evertse of Grand Rapids.
Mrs. V. E. Ryden of Flint meets Merle Meyers of Muskegon.
Mrs. Jack Scripsema of Grand Rapids meets Mrs. Floyd Schoonover of Detroit.
Mrs. Keith LeClair of Ypsilanti meets Mrs. C. P. Mehas of Pontiac.

Now It's Official

Fleetwood Gets 2 Awards

* * *

The trim 38-footer skippered by Dick Geib crossed the finish line Monday night in 6th place behind five bigger Class A entries. Its corrected (handicap) time of 40 hours and 10 minutes gave it a comfortable two hour edge over Copperhead for overall honors.

* * *

All the fleet had completed the 333-mile haul up Lake Michigan by nightfall last night. The four class winners all came from among the early finishers.

* * *

Copperhead, a 46-foot yawl sailed by Charles Kotovic of Milwaukee, finished 5th and picked up Class A honors. The Class B title went to Harvey Nedeau's Romahajo II, a cutter out of Muskegon, Mich.

* * *

Moore Favored in Toronto Bout

Archie Rated 'Shoo-In' Over Parker Tonight in Outdoor Scrap

TORONTO (AP) — Archie Moore, self-crowned heavyweight king, is a "shoo-in" favorite to whip unranked James J. Parker of Toronto tonight in an outdoor bout that only the promoters recognize as a title fight.

* * *

Promoter Jack Solomons of London talks glibly of a crowd of 19,000 and a $140,000 gate for the 15-round match at Maple Leaf Stadium, the Toronto baseball Park. But more cautious estimates slice the house to 12,000 and receipts to $100,000. The forecast was for widely scattered showers and late clearing.

Although the scrap will not be carried on radio or television in the United States, it will be broadcast over a 31-station network of radio stations in Canada, starting at 9 p.m. EST. The radio broadcast supposedly will add $12,000 to the gate.

* * *

Solomons' plush promotion threatens to outdo the action in the ring. A 35-piece bagpipe band will pipe the men into the ring as they walk over a rented red velvet carpet. White dinner jacket and black tie will be the accepted dress in the front rows.

Parker is expected to be stretched on the ring deck sometime during the evening according to the prefight odds ranging from 3-1 to "out." There is little wagering.

Mele on Waiver List

CLEVELAND (INS)—The Cleveland Indians have placed Sam Mele, 33-year-old journeyman outfielder, on the waiver list to make room on the roster for rookie Rocky Colavito.

Nod to Crocker in Ladies Open

DULUTH, Minn. (AP)—Wise-cracking and cocksure Fay Crocker shouldered aside all self restraint today and in a rush of enthusiasm labelled herself "the player to beat" in the Women's National Open Golf Tournament, opening here tomorrow.

"If you've got any money," quipped the fast-talking South American, "put it on me or Marilyn Smith. We've got as good chances as anybody in this tournament."

Miss Crocker, defending the title she won last year at Wichita, Kan., gave short shrift to a field that includes such notables as Patty Berg, Louise Suggs, Beverly Hanson, Marlene Bauer Hagge, Betty Jameson, Betsy Rawls and other established money winners.

Seixas, Brough Remain Favorites

Seeded Survive Penn Tennis Meet

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The 57th annual Pennsylvania State Lawn Tennis Tournament is running true to form. All the seeded players still are in action as the show moves into today's third round with Vic Seixas and Louise Brough the favorites in the men's and women's divisions.

Seixas takes on Myron Franks, Los Angeles, today as the result of a hard-earned victory yesterday over Jon Douglass, San Francisco, 2-6, 6-2, 6-3. Franks moved up on a 3-6, 6-4, 6-1 victory over Arthur Andrews, a leading junior player from Iowa City.

Most of the seeded men had to play two rounds yesterday as they were in Chicago opening day, Monday, competing in the U.S. Clay Court championships. They included second-seeded Art Larson, third-ranked Gil Shea, fourth-rated Sammy Giammalva and sixth-seeded Grant Golden. All prevailed, although Larson, Shea and Giammalva each dropped sets in the doing.

* * *

Larson meets Richard Gaines, Edgartown, Mass., in today's third round. Gaines toppled Al Harum, Coral Gables, Fla., yesterday 6-4, 8-6, while Larson was eliminating Jose Ochoa, Mexico City, 6-2, 6-4, and Australia's Bob Marks, 6-8, 6-4, 6-2. Shea whipped A. J. Clayton, Oxford-Cambridge, 3-6, 6-2, 6-2, and Reynaldo Garrido, Cuba, 7-5, 6-2. He meets Cliff Mayne, Fort Monmouth, N.J., who moved into the third round with a 6-3, 10-8 win over Francisco Contreras.

In the women's division, Miss Brough, who coasted to a 6-1, 6-0 victory over Mrs. Joseph Gordon, Merion, Pa., meets Karol Fageros, Miami, Fla., in today's third round. Miss Fageros won 6-3, 6-2 over Katherine Hubbell, Conway, N.H.

* * *

Althea Gibson, New York Negro star, seeded second to Miss Brough, came in from Chicago and won two matches yesterday. She eliminated Jeralyn Shepherd, Los Angeles, 6-1, 6-1, and Beverly Tolan, St. Louis, 6-1, 6-3. She meets Mary Ann Mitchell, San Leandro, Calif., who advanced by defeating Mrs. Laussat Clement, Merion, Pa., 6-2, 6-3.

Doctoring Your Golf Game

By DR. CARY MIDDLECOFF

By DR. CARY MIDDLECOFF

PATIENT'S COMPLAINT: Left hand opens

DIAGNOSIS: Sweep too short

TREATMENT: When we speak of gripping the club firmly we don't mean that it's to be held tight, as if to bend still or pull a rope. By no means that. You should feel only a slight pressure in the grip; almost loose enough so the club could be pulled out of your hands.

Grip it tight and the reflexes in your forearm will become taut, and of course that will restrict the entire swing. You'll feel locked at the top. And chances are you'll be forced to relax the grip of the left hand when the wrists break—if you get wrist break at all. So that even with the all-important sweep of the clubhead, straight back from the ball, the backswing will be retarded. The swing will be too short to generate power through pivot, because there'll be hardly any pivot.

Heston Applies for Marriage License at 77

DETROIT (AP)—At 77, William M. (Willie) Heston, one of the University of Michigan's all-time football greats, is going to marry again.

Heston applied for a license yesterday to marry Sarah E. Williams, 56, of Bay City. She was his secretary for 18 years before he retired from the real estate business in 1946.

A stubby full back who doubled as a tackle, Heston starred on the fabulous point-a-minute Michigan teams coached by Fielding H. Yost. He scored a total of 92 touchdowns from 1901-04 and was the first Michigan player to win All-America honors.

2 Schools in Grid Squabble

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—The University of Houston said today it not only hadn't invaded Mississippi to recruit a star athlete away from the University of Mississippi but that the latter school was trying to entice a Texas athlete away from the University of Houston.

Johnny Vaught, Mississippi coach, charged that the University of Houston had lured Claude King, 165-pound Vicksburg, Miss., schoolboy star after King signed a letter of intent to enroll at Mississippi.

Vaught insinuated that Houston was trying to run under Mississippi although that school had offered to sponsor Houston's bid for a place in the Southeastern Conference.

* * *

But Bill Meek, Houston coach, said the Mississippi offer of sponsorship wasn't made with the reservation that "we not contact any boys in Mississippi."

* * *

Stewardess Injured in Wayne Major Fall

DETROIT (AP) — A German airline stewardess was seriously injured yesterday when she fell from a plane's open door to a concrete runway as the plane prepared to take off.

* * *

Dorothy von Reibnitz, 29, of Berlin, suffered a fractured skull, several fractured ribs and back injuries in the 10-foot fall at Wayne Major Airport.

Miss von Reibnitz, a stewardess for Pan American airways, lunged to aid an airport employe who toppled at the plane's door when the loading ramp was mistakenly pulled away.

Grains Dealings Show No Rise

CHICAGO (AP)—Grains churned in an erratic fashion on the Board of Trade today, failing to make such forward progress despite active dealings.

At the outset corn and oats scored substantial gains on more reports of greater than expected participation in the soil bank. But they lost most of this upturn as trading progressed.

* * *

Soybeans turned weak after a mixed opening. This grain, as well as wheat and rye had to absorb fairly aggressive selling brought out by yesterday's brisk rally.

Wheat near the end of the first hour was unchanged to ¼ lower, September $2.17⅝; corn ¼ to ½ higher, September $1.47 oats ¼ to ½ higher, September 72⅝; rye ¼ to ¾ lower, September $1.33¾; soybeans 1½ to 2¼ lower, September $2.41; lard unchanged to 8 cents a hundred pounds lower, September $11.17.

* * *

Some of the early buying in corn and oats was traced to reports that farmers in the Midwest were signing up for the soil bank in larger than expected numbers. The crop reduction was expected to take place in oats, which would reduce the total supply of all feed grains.

Island Expulsion for U.S. Definite

New Iceland Premier Says He'll Follow Move to Oust Troops

REYKJAVIK, Iceland (AP) —Premier Hermann Jonasson says his new government will follow up Parliament's move to oust American troops and turn maintenance of the U. S. Keflavik Air Base and radar installations over to Icelanders.

* * *

The Progressive party leader succeeded Conservative Olafur Thors in the premiership yesterday as an aftermath of Iceland's June 24 election. Heading a coalition of Progressives, Social Democrats and Communists, Jonasson told of his aims in a broadcast last night.

* * *

Over Conservative opposition, Parliament adopted a resolution last March declaring that armed forces should not be stationed in Iceland in peacetime and proposing revision of a treaty under which possibly 6,000 American officers and enlisted men are based in this NATO nation of 160,000.

Under the present agreement, the U. S. force need not move out until Feb. 1, 1958. The United States proposed a week ago that Iceland defer a decision on talks about the withdrawal until the new government was formed. Iceland has no troops of its own.

* * *

Jonasson told his people, whose economy is largely bound up in the fishing industry, the government will try to obtain a foreign loan to buy 15 new trawlers. He also wants to obtain a loan to build a new power station on the river Sog, on the south coast.

Business Notes

Harry E. Curtis, of 2230 Lancaster Rd., topped all Michigan Life Insurance Co. agents in sales for the first half of 1956, Vice-president O. W. Osborn announced today.

Curtis also led in life insurance volume during 1955, Osborn said.

Eleven agents of The Columbus Mutual Life Insurance Co.'s Pontiac office will receive awards for boosting the agency's June insurance sales 150 per cent over its quota during a drive honoring the firm's president, Frederick E. Jones.

The agents, each of whom will be guests at a special dinner tonight, include H. W. Kruger, R. H. Wilkinson, B. F. Boyd, R. J. Zimmerman, K. W. Young, R. L. Cover, W. A. Schmitz, C. F. Durrant, A. G. Flesher, L. E. Ludeman and James Naum.

Applications Available for Trooper Positions

LANSING (AP)—State Police today said applications now are being accepted for the 168 new trooper positions authorized by the last regular legislative session.

Applications must be in the mail or in the hands of the State Civil Service Commission by Aug. 22. Civil Service examinations will be conducted Sept. 22.

Women Laborers Killed

TOYAMA, Japan (AP)—Five women laborers were killed today when a river embankment crumbled near the town of Asahi. Authorities said seven other women and two men were injured when they were buried beneath a slide of earth and rocks. The workers were repairing the embankment.

S'DOM, Israel — A Post Office was opened at S'dom in a special ceremony here recently. It's 1,285 feet below sea level—located on the Dead Sea at the world's lowest point. A special first-day postmark commemorated the occasion.

Market Shows Early Advance

NEW YORK (AP) — The Stock Market moved ahead briskly early this afternoon under leadership by steels and rails.

Pivotal stocks rose from fractions to around 2 points generally. Some advanced beyond that range. There were some small losers.

* * *

The news that settlement of the 25-day steel strike appeared imminent sparked steel shares to a rise from the start. They rouched off a decisive advance by rails, which have suffered from the drop in steel mill shipments and will profit when the plants re-open.

The trading pace was farily active and the rise in prices was steady but not sensational.

U.S. Steel and Bethlehem were up a point or better, Youngstown Sheet & Tube around 2 points, Republic Steel and Allegheny Ludlum fractions.

Motors and most oils were steady. General Motors and Chrysler gained fractions as did Sinclair, Texas Co. and Royal Dutch. Gulf Oil was down around a point despite record earnings.

Italy's Trains Rolling After 24-Hour Strike

ROME (AP)—Italy's heaviest tourist and vacation traffic in history began moving again today as the state-owned railway system resumed service after a 24-hour nationwide strike.

But the government's problems with eight railway unions demanding higher security pay and other benefits were not over. The big, Communist-led Italian Federation of Labor warned that unless demands are met another strike may be called soon.

Ike Critic Quits Subversive Post

Harry P. Cain Resigns Control Board Position; President Lauds Work

WASHINGTON (AP) — Harry P. Cain, frequent critic of the administration's federal employe security program, resigned today as a member of the Subversive Activities Control Board. The resignation is effective Aug. 9 when Cain's three-year term expires.

* * *

The resignation was announced at the White House which made public a brief letter from President Eisenhower accepting it, but expressing hope Cain would continue to serve until a successor qualifies. The resignation was submitted July 17.

Eisenhower thanked Cain for his "conscientious and devoted service" and wished him the best of health and happiness in the years ahead.

* * *

The White House said a successor would be named soon.

Cain, a former Republican senator from Washington, said in his letter of resignation that under a new law a retiring member of the board may serve an additional 10 months until a successor qualifies.

* * *

He added, however, that since he was named to a fixed term he was offering his resignation effective Aug. 9 "should you wish my assignment then to expire."

Mollet Receives New Vote of Confidence

PARIS (AP)—Premier Guy Mollet today won a vote of confidence from the National Assembly for his 9½-billion-dollar ordinary budget for this year. The vote was 285 to 115 with 38 abstentions.

Mollet's Cabinet still is trying to find new revenues for financing the war in Alberia. This is estimated to have cost an unexpected 720 million dollars in the first six months of the year. Yesterday an Assembly committee turned down a government proposal for a 10 per cent income tax increase and an alternative proposal to float a loan.

Defense Pact Quiz Urged by Pentagon

WASHINGTON (INS)—The Pentagon wants Congress to force corporations holding defense contracts to reveal the names of stockholders so that the control of foreign investors over a company can be checked.

At the present time, a defense official told Congress yesterday, it is often impossible to tell how much of a U.S. firm handling defense work is owned by aliens.

Jerome D. Fenton, director of the department's office of personnel security policy, told the Senate Internal Security subcommittee that as far as he knows no American firm engaged in doing secret work for the government is under the domination of overseas investors.

Michigan Solon Blasts Pre-Adjournment Rush

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Ford (R-Mich) said today Congress' pre-adjournment rush of legislation "is a lousy way to run a railroad."

Ford objected to instances where he said bills were brought before the House without printed reports on what they mean, without copies of hearings on the legislation or even without a printed version of the bill itself.

Evers-to-Chance Play Broken Up by Shotgun Blast

Three teenagers were lodged in the Oakland County Jail early today under investigation for larceny from a building following an incident at an Avon Township market in which three youths fled from the scene after a shotgun-wielding employe caught them stealing watermelons.

* * *

Truman Bridges, a part-time employe of Ritter's Farm Market at 2500 Auburn Rd., told investigating county deputies he shot twice at the youths' getaway car in hopes of hitting a tire but only succeeded in shooting a hole through the right front fender.

Bridges, who lives next door to the market, said he was lying down by a tree with a shotgun shortly after the market closed at 10:15 when the thieves arrived.

"They drove into the yard and cut their lights. Two of them jumped out and began tossing watermelons back to the other fellow in the car. I jumped up and ordered them to hold it as they were getting back into the car—then I shot."

Vote Expected on Housing Bill

Ike May Win a Victory if Widnall Proposal Gets House Approval

WASHINGTON (INS)—The house votes today on the housing bill and President Eisenhower is expected to chalk up another major legislative victory.

With a gag rule in effect, the House has a choice between two bills which differ principally in the number of public housing units to be authorized.

The first vote will be on a measure backed by leaders of both parties which would clear the way for the President's proposed program—to build 70,000 federal government financed units in the next two years.

If the House approves the proposal—introduced by Rep. William B. Widnall (R-NJ) then the fight is over. Most leaders predict this will happen.

* * *

But if it should be defeated, then the vote will be on the measure approved by the House Banking Committee and backed by most Democrats. This bill calls for 60,000 public housing units a year for three years.

* * *

Except for the public housing provision, the two proposals are not much different. the committee measure authorizes a new program of federal loans to nonprofit groups to build housing for the elderly. The Widnall proposal substitutes special mortgage insurance aids for private housing to be built for older persons.

Under procedure dictated by the House Rules Committee, no change can be made in either proposal. The House must vote them up or down as they are.

Indian Town Reports Another Quake Tremor

BOMBAY, India (AP) — A small tremor gave another shaking today to the town of Anjar in northwest India, knocking over several mud dwellings cracked in last week's big quake.

Camp Program Told

INTERLOCHEN (AP) — The National Music Camp's combined university choir and 65-piece university orchestra will highlight the camp's fifth week of activities Friday with a performance of the "Magnificat" by the German composer, Pachelbel. A faculty art exhibit of sketches, ceramics and unusual jewelry continues through July 29.

GOP Confident on Tito Voting

Expect House to Down Military Aid to Yugoslav Country

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate's two ranking Republicans expressed confidence today the House will accept their amendment to bar new military assistance money for Yugoslavia.

* * *

The $4,110,920,000 foreign aid appropriations bill, embodying the amendment, was passed by the Senate last night 60-30.

But the Senate rebuffed 50-42 plea for a free hand to deal with the situation created by Marshal Tito's newly resumed friendship with Russia.

* * *

While the administration won its senate battle to retain in the bill virtually the full amount of the ceilings carried in a previously enacted authorization measure, the money total faced a possible sharp cut in the conference committee. The Senate bill carries 685 million dollars more than the House allowed. In normal practice the two houses frequently split differences on money items.

News in Brief

Giles Curry, 32, of 212 Branch St., paid $5 in costs Monday after pleading guilty to driving without an operator's license on his person. He was arraigned before Springfield Township Justice Emmett C. Leib.

A billfold containing $60 in cash and personal papers was lost by a city resident yesterday in the southeast part of town, Pontiac Police reported today.

British Merchant Killed on Cyprus

By ROBERT B. TUCKMAN

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP) — Edward Bonicci, a pro-British executive of Nicosia's biggest store, was shot dead while walking to lunch today with his fiancee.

* * *

Two bullets in the back and one in the head felled Bonicci on Hippocrates street, often called "Bloody Alley" because of a series of slayings there officially attributed to gunmen backing the Greek Cypriot movement for union of this British colony with Greece.

* * *

His Greek Cypriot fiancee sank weeping beside the body, crying: "Why did they do it? What did he do to them?"

Belleville Boy Killed

YPSILANTI (AP) — A car which failed to stop Tuesday struck and killed 10-year-old Arnold Hargraves, who was delivering newspapers with two other boys riding his bike. The accident occurred near the boy's home just outside Belleville. His two companions escaped injury.

Martin, Lewis Comedy Team Calls It Quits

NEW YORK (INS) — The riotous $4,000,000-a-year comedy team, Dean Martin and Jerry Lewis, sang "Pardners" for the last time, skipped off the night club stage perspiring and winded and went to their separate dressing rooms.

Martin and Lewis as a team went out ad-libbing, escorted off the stage by the deep-down laughter of the just plain fans who somehow managed to squeeze into the club and the standing, applauding tribute of some of the top names in the show world.

The onetime Steubenville, Ohio, steelmaker and the skinny lad from Irvington, N. J., who went form nobodies to the 90 per cent plus income tax bracket in less than a decade, couldn't carry the load any longer as partners—conflict of interests and personality.

IT WAS OVER

They split once, patched it up, were reported rifting again and made it official a few weeks ago. Each would go his own once they ended their contracted engagement.

And they closed it out as if they were just beginning.

The insulting quips and other gags were all in the act—the same as the night an Atlantic City, N.J., club owner combined the single-act ballad singing Italian and the joking Jewish boy into a team.

* * *

It was over. Dean rushed to his dressing room, Jerry to his—not like the days in the past when they shared one.

Iron Age Predicts Pressure in Steel Row

NEW YORK (INS) — The magazine Iron Age said today that if the steel strike is not settled this week, negotiators will be called to Washington, "where government pressure — already strong — will be intensified."

* * *

"That's why negotiations were resumed yesterday only three days after an apparently hopeless deadlock. Both parties are expected to move off dead center in a last-ditch effort to effect settlement."

* * *

The national metalworking weekly estimated that 30 per cent of steel's customers are in serious trouble and the effect on industry will be felt as long as December or early 1957.

Punishment Fits Crime

GREENSBURG, Ind. (INS) — When Greensburg police found the two teenagers who had broken 30 bottles and left a trail of broken glass along a highway, they made the punishment fit the crime.

The juvenile vandals were each given brooms and spent an hour and a half sweeping the road.

LONDON (INS) — The Warsaw radio has announced establishment of centers for sobering up. But in the "workers paradise," the drunkards will have to pay for transportation and medical costs.

Truce Agents Hurt in Israel

Canadians in 'Serious Condition' From Hurts Taken in Explosion

JERUSALEM (AP)—Two Canadian U. N. truce observers wounded by an explosion in the demilitarized zone were reported in serious condition today, but doctors said "there are good hopes" for their recovery.

* * *

The incident caused Maj. Gen. E. L. M. Burns, U. N. truce supervisor, to again call on Israel and Jordan to refrain from military action at Mt. Scopus, a height overlooking Jerusalem near where the blast went off yesterday.

Mt. Scopus is an Israeli-occupied enclave in territory held by Jordan. It commands the city from the northeast.

* * *

The Israelis demand free access to it to supply their 80-man garrison. The Jordanians will permit only one supply convoy a week, saying that free access would endanger defenses of their sector.

The U. N. truce organization is investigating whether an old land mine or some other kind of explosive caused the explosion.

Injured in the blast were G. A. Fling, 44, of Outremont, Que., and Marcel Breault, 37, of St. Hyacinthe, Que. A Jordan member of the Israeli-Jordan Mixed Armistice Commission was wounded slightly.

* * *

They were investigating an exchange of gunfire between the Israel police garrison on Mt. Scopus and Jordan troops nearby.

Cost Surveys Urged on Straits Ferry Fleet

MENOMINEE (AP)—Detailed cost cost survey should be made before any decision is taken on whether to refit the Straits of Mackinac ferry fleet for duty elsewhere on the Great Lakes, in the opinion of state experts.

Witnesses testifying before a House interim committee yesterday said it might be more economical to build new boats than to refurbish the present 50-year-old vessels for possible ferry service across Lake Michigan.

It has been suggested a ferry line could run between Menominee and Frankfort, reducing the trip between the Upper and Lower Peninsula by 250 miles.

Marion Youth Drowns

MARION (AP) — Benjamin A. Keehn, 9, drowned Tuesday in the village swimming pond in this Osceola County comfunity. He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Orville Keehn of Marion. Witnesses said the boy, who was learning to swim, went down in five feet of water and failed to come up.

British Planes Sold to Capital

14 Comets Scheduled for Delivery in '58, '59 at Cost of 53 Million

WASHINGTON (INS) — Capital Airlines announced today the purchase of 14 British Comets which it plans to put into service at least six months before any American-made jet airliners are available.

Delivery is scheduled from November 1958 through December 1959, and Capital president J. H. Carmichael told a news conference that the first one should be in use by January 1959.

Most other major U. S. airlines have placed orders with three American manufacturers for jet airliners to go into service by mid-1959.

Capital will pay 53 million dollars for the 14 Comets, each powered by four Rolls Royce Avon engines. The planes are made by the veteran British firm, De Haviland Aircraft Co.

Capital now has in service 30 of the 75 Vickers Viscount Turbo-prop airliners which it bought in England for 88 million dollars.

The Comets will be able to seat 74 first class passengers or 92 in coach service.

Carmichael said they would be able to operate at present airports because of their smaller size and maneuverability and will be used initially on New York-to-Chicago and Chicago-to-Washington routes.

Joan Crawford Chooses Gable, Garbo as 'Best'

LONDON (AP) — Joan Crawford looked back on 30 years of movie-making today and nominated Clark Gable as the all-time king of Hollywood. The queen? Greta Garbo.

* * *

"When you think of the top movie actor, there's only one — Clark Gable, the king himself," said the svelte 49-year-old star. "No one today has that excitement, not even Marlon Brando.

"As for actresses, it's Greta Garbo. She's the only one who has ever been really mysterious. No one really ever got to know this woman."

* * *

Miss Crawford arrived yesterday to make her 73rd film — Nicholas Monsarrat's "The Story of Esther Costello." She was accompanied by her fourth husband, Alfred Steele.

Miss Crawford got a nice welcome in London's morning papers. "Durable and amazing," the Daily Express called her.

* * *

"She arrived in the almost forgotton style of the great stars," said the admiring Daily Mail. "She brought 28 suitcases, 48 film costumes, one trunk of suits, one trunk of furs and a millionaire husband."

Mother, Son Married, but Not to Each Other

MONTPELIER, Vt. (AP)—A mother and son were married yesterday.

Kenneth LaFlam married Carol Ann Rollins. The attendants were LaFlam's mother, Mildred LaFlam, and Harry B. Badger.

Refer Service Request to Manager

A request for increased municipal services from the planned developers of the South Park Subdivision in the city's southeast corner was referred by City Manager W. K. Willman for further study by the City Commission last night.

Morton L. Scholnick appeared before the governing body and outlined a request for improved sanitary sewer usage and establishing an assessment district in the area bounded generally by South and East Boulevards, the Grand Trunk Railroad on the north, and Bradford Street on the west.

He told the commissioners his firm's primary problem rested with construction of a pumping station and a "determination by the city engineer whether the sanitary sewer could be used."

City Engineer Lewis Wrenn explained there was water available in the area, in addition to a 15 inch sanitary sewer, and some graded and graveled streets.

Other action taken up on a short 13-point agenda, which was acted on in one hour, included the first reading by title only of a proposed ordinance to rezone to Commercial 1 lots 1, 2, 97-98 of Joslyn Gardens Subdivision. A public hearing will be conducted on the proposal Aug. 14.

The commissioners approved a bond for sidewalks, grading, and graveling and the plat for the Sallee Woods Subdivision. The plat had previously been approved by the City Plan Commission and the city attorney.

Commissioner Floyd P. Miles (in the temporary absence of Commissioner Philip E. Rowston) confirmed in three payments the special assessment roll to finance curb, gutter, and related work on Hazel Avenue from Telegraph to Starr.

The city engineer was instructed to prepare a planfied profile and estimated cost for curb, gutter, grading, graveling, and related work for Herndon and Salmer avenues from Orchard Lake to Clinton River drive. The project was accepted as a public necessity by the commission.

Willman will study a request from the Cook-Nelson Post 20 of the American Legion for the suggested exchange of the post's parcel of land at the Oakland-Saginaw intersection for other city-owned property. The plot is situated just south of the First Baptist Church.

"The city or the First Baptist Church—especially the church—should be the interested parties," Mayor William W. Donaldson said.

The City Planning Commission was directed to receive a request from the Detroit Edison Co. for construction of an electrical substation on Featherstone Road.

A communication from the company said "due to increased demand for electrical service it is necessary the station be constructed on these premises." The area is zoned Residential 1.

Commissioner John E. Carry offered a resolution in commemoration of Ferdinand N. Thiefels, former president of the Pontiac Board of Education and retired supervisor of the Wilson Foundry and Machine Co., who was killed in an auto accident July 17.

Pontiac Township Girl Hurt in Hit-Run Accident

Ann C. George, 19, of 424 Fremont St., Pontiac Township, suffered cuts of the right arm and shoulder when she was struck down by a hit-and-run driver at a city intersection yesterday, Pontiac police said today.

The girl was able to treat herself for the minor injuries following the accident at Franklin and Pearsall Streets.

She told police she started to cross the intersection and could see no cars coming either way, but was struck upon reaching the middle of the road. The car involved made a turn on Franklin and kept going, according to Miss George's complaint.

Cherry Pickers Needed

TRAVERSE CITY (AP)—Ray Olney, area crop supervisor for the Michigan Employment Security Commission, today called for 2,000 more cherry pickers to help in the Traverse City area harvest.

Rammed Freighter Sinks at Gravesend

NEW YORK (AP)—The freighter Fairisle, rammed by a tanker Monday at the entrance of New York harbor, sank today in 13 feet of water in Gravesend Bay.

The Coast Guard said the ship now lay 240 feet off shore from Fort Hamilton and Coney Island, part above water.

Man Loses His Shoes

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—A broke and barefoot man told police a sad story yesterday. He said he was robbed of his billfold, wristwatch and diamond ring. The robbers also took his shoes, commenting "they just fit fine."

Teenager Held in Dad's Death

Father's Objections to Youth's Marriage Plan Believed as Cause

UNIONDALE, N. Y. (AP)—A teenage youngster is charged with beating and kicking his father to death in a row over the boy's efforts to marry a 15-year-old girl.

* * *

Robert Gunn, who will be 17 tomorrow, was booked last night on a charge of manslaughter in the death of his father, Peter, 50. Police gave this account:

Robert, a mechanic's helper, hoped to marry Maureen White next Saturday. They had eloped last month, but changed their minds and returned. For two weeks they have stayed at the home of the girl's parents.

Robert knocked his father unconscious with fist blows and kicks, and ran back to the girl's house. The father was found dead by Robert's mother shortly afterward.

Hoffmann Resigns From Detective Post

Veteran Pontiac Police detective Olin E. Hoffmann, who was suspended by the department last July 19 for violating police rules and regulations, handed in his resignation yesterday, it was announced today by Chief Herbert W. Straley.

Hoffmann was suspended last Thursday by Capt. Oliver Lemeaux on orders from Straley, after Hoffmann's superior officers had reported the violations. Drinking on duty had been among the complaints, Straley said.

Hoffmann had been a member of the police force since 1942. He is 41, married, and the father of five children.

2 Teenagers Injured by Homemade Bomb

John Kolarick, 16, lost a finger in the explosion of the bomb he and a cousin, Richard Seibert, 15, of Detroit, had made by stuffing an iron pipe with charcoal, saltpeter and an unknown chemical.

Michigan Law Stymies Treasury Tapping

LANSING (AP) — The Michigan State Treasury is protected against illegal raids by safeguards lacking in Illinois, scene of official looting that may top one million dollars. This was agreed today by officers in key fund handling posts of the state government.

An effective barrier to at least one phase of the scandals which are rocking Illinois was raised in Michigan with creation of the State Department of Administration in 1948 under the regime of the late Governor Kim Sigler.

* * *

In Illinois, state and federal authorities are waist deep in investigations to determine the nature and extent of embezzlement in the office of Orville E. Hodge, recently deposed state auditor.

The first major thefts discovered were engineered through issuance of bogus warrants, or official state checks, that were used to divert funds appropriated to Hodge's own office. Nobody knows yet exactly where the money went.

SAFEGUARD EXPLAINED

While details and motives are still lacking, this much has been established — that phony warrants running into the hundreds of thousands of dollars were cashed at a Chicago bank with improper or forged endorsements.

The Michigan safeguards were explained by Alfred H. Lawrence, deputy state auditor general; James W. Miller, state controller, and F. M. McLaury, director of the Accounting Division in Miller's Department of Administration.

The Auditor General, who exercises virtually exclusive check writing authority against the state treasury, can by law draw a check only on a certification from the Administration Department approving the voucher supporting it.

Thus, if the Auditor General wants to spend from his own legislative appropriation, the voucher detailing the proposed expenditure must go through a pre-audit in the administration department.

CORRECTED SYSTEM

Before the Administration Department was established, McLaury said, "we had exactly the kind of situation you have in Illinois" regarding expenditure by the auditor of the funds alloted to his office.

The auditor formerly was authorized to initiate an expenditure document, and as disbursing officer, to draw the warrant that actually removed funds from the treasury.

Miller, McLaury and Lawrence all said that because of the cross checks required any conspiracy to loot public funds would have to embrace a larger number of persons than apparently was the case in Illinois, where thus far only one state agency has been involved.

What might be regarded as a second line of added protection in Michigan is the near 100 per cent employment of Civil Service personnel in government.

300th Victim Reported

West Side Chicago Fights Vicious Battle With Polio

CHICAGO (AP) — West of Chicago's Loop, where the wealth of LaSalle Street rapidly gives way to railroad yards, warehouses, factories and crowded low-rent housing, Chicagoans today fought the 13th day of a vicious battle against polio.

* * *

Eighteen new cases yesterday brought Chicago's 1956 total to 300, the highest in the nation. There have been eight deaths. Nearly half of the cases are in a near West Side rectangle encompassed by LaSalle Street on the east, 22nd Street on the south, Kostner Street on the west and North Avenue on the north.

* * *

The neighborhood has nearly as many classes and races of people as it does types of buildings. Some live in up-to-date housing developments, while many live in substandard flats and rooming houses sandwiched between rundown stores and warehouses.

Board of Health officials call it "the high incidence area" and frankly admit they can't explain why it is. They report that youngsters in such areas usually develop more natural and earlier immunity to the disease, but it hasn't been so this year.

Since Dr. Herman N. Bundesen, president of the Chicago Board of Health, declared war on the outbreak 12 days ago, seven free inoculation centers have been in almost continuous operation. Additional centers will be opened by the City Welfare Department today to fight the enemy with the only weapon known — Salk vaccine. Another 44 new clinic sites will be opened within the next two weeks to give free shots.

The 300 cases and 8 deaths compared to 45 cases and 2 deaths in the same period a year ago. Bundesen said only 23 of the 300 cases had received Salk shots.

Stars Possess Great Durability

By CHARLES MERCER

NEW YORK (AP)—It has become a cliche that television consumes talent at an outrageous rate, that with many programs and entertainers it's here today and gone tomorrow.

* * *

While a few programs come and few go each season, a great majority appear to be going on forever.

Listen to a few names and programs and then tell us what year it is: Patti Page, Dinah Shore, Julius La Rosa, Arthur Godfrey, Groucho Marx, Janet Blair, Ed Sullivan, "Disneyland," "I Love Lucy," "The $64,000 Question," "Dragnet," "Ford Theater" . . . The list can grow extraordinarily long—and the year is 1955. The same list is still with us in 1956.

* * *

It seems that no entertainer with a relatively high degree of popularity in July of 1955 has disappeared from the home screen a year later except Jimmy Durante. Even Liberace, who faded for a while, is staging a comeback.

New drama programs have appeared in the past year, and at least one — "Playrights '56 — has gone. But the great majority of regulars—"Climax," the Robert Montgomery Show, "Studio One" —have long been with us and show no signs of leaving.

* * *

Although there have been some newcomers to the lists of most widely viewed programs, it's surprising how many at the top a year ago are still listed up there: Sullivan, "I Love Lucy," "The $64,000 Question," "Disneyland," "Ford Theater," "I've Got a Secret" . . . Who started this rumor that it's here today and gone tomorrow in television?

* * *

True, some regular weekly programs have bloomed and faded. But the faces of vanished programs almost invariably reappear in the trames of new programs. It's really quite amazing how practically no one ever permanently disappears.

Bergman Doubts Trip to States for TV Show

LONDON (AP)—Film actress Ingrid Bergman said today she doubts she will be able to go to the United States this autumn to take part in a television show.

"But final decisions haven't been made," she added.

ED Sullivan, TV showman now in France, saw Miss Bergman here several days ago, but she said she told him her engagements make it difficult to go to America.

* * *

On Nov. 15 a play in which she is to appear will open in Paris, several weeks of rehearsal will be necessary. She might get to America for a short time in September, she said, but would prefer to go to Rome to see her children, a 6-year-old son and 4-year-old twin daughters.

Crazy, Mixed Up Nation — That's What Russia Is

ROSTOV, U.S.S.R.—Russia's "rolling out the Red carpet" for tourists . . . but we're going to be happy to leave it in a few days. It's a crazy mixed-up country.

They work 46 hours a week, the men wear bell bottom pants and get a new suit every five or 10 years, yet they feel sorry for the "underprivileged" Americans who work 35 or 40 hours and get a new car more often than they get a new suit.

* * *

"You won't see any dogs in Russia," we were told.

Untrue! We saw about 20—and heard another one barking. Maybe it's the food scarcity. The cats are the skinniest, the women the fattest anywhere. Evidently the women feed the scraps to themselves instead of to the cats.

Three or four families crowd into one small apartment sharing the same bath (if any), due to "losing so much living space in the war"—yet new state buildings have massive, spacious halls, and in our suite at the Odessa Hotel we had one huge room furnished only with a hatrack and cuspidor.

In three blocks on Pushkin St. in Odessa I saw only five cars. Buying a car's not easy even if you have $10,000 for a Zim, the Buick-type. "You sign a paper—and wait," I was told. "You don't get to drive the car first." A circus clown told a joke about his 16-year-old son ordering a car. By the time he was 40, it would be delivered.

I asked a woman barber for a shampoo. She sprayed something on my hair, put cotton in a comb, ran it through my locks. End of shampoo. She and the boss barber gave me such a short trim, a cab driver asked me, "Are you Chinese?"

* * *

Down in Armenia, 300 Americans who went Commie in the late 1940s talk freely of their sad mistake. They cry openly. Some are wearing the same suits they arrived in. A young girl showed where an ear had almost been torn off in a food riot and put back on by surgery.

Millions of tons of paper for propaganda, but almost none for bathrooms. Also, no plugs for Russian washbasins. Official reason: It's "unsanitary" to wash in still water. Plugs are thus unsanitary. Yet there are plugs for bathtubs.

* * *

Intellectuals and artists sneer down their noses at workers who live in hovels and work as menials—and, "Comes the NEXT revolution," the workers contend, "it'll be the intellectuals who'll be beheaded."

* * *

The Russians hunger for reading material—a fashion magazine even though a couple years old is a delight to the women. One woman who'd once lived on Riverside Drive greedily accepted a whodunit my wife was about to throw away, quietly explaining, "Our books are only for nutrition of the mind."

* * *

Doctor Shortage Hits Satellites

Top French Surgeon Says He'd Rather Die Than Work for Reds

ANN ARBOR (AP)—One of the top surgeons in Europe, France's Dr. Rene Fontaine, says, "I'd rather die than have to practice medicine and teach under the Communists."

Fountaine said in a visit to the University of Michigan communism and medicine are having their troubles in the satellite countries and in Russia as well.

Despite the problems, he said, satellite countries are producing some pretty fair surgeons when you consider their lack of freedom and medical faculty shortage.

Of all the satellites, Poland is suffering the worst, Fontaine reported. Most medical school teachers are in their 70s. The next age level below this is 35.

World War II took its toll of the ages between — the times when doctors reach their prime. To make up for this shortage, the Communist government in Poland is allowing persons to practice more routine medicine and simple surgery with only one year of study—usually after high school.

Doctors too find they must adhere to certain Russian "discoveries" and are not allowed to plan any experiments contrary to those discoveries. Physiologists, for instance, may not perform experiments contrary to those of the Russian physiologist Pavlov.

Even Communist doctors are not having an easy time of it, said Fontaine. The only doctor he knows of in Czechoslovakia who owns a car is the lucky one who performed a successful operation on a high government official.

Fontaine said he learned Communist ways through student exchange programs and as one of the four-power commissioners in Vienna after World War II.

Begins Life Sentence for Fatal Beating of Son

OWOSSO (AP)—Ledren Dewitt of nearby Durand starts serving a life term at Southern Michigan Prison today for the fatal beating of his 3-month-old son last March 31.

Dewitt, 42-year-old Grand Trunk Western Railroad worker, was sentenced yesterday by Circuit Judge Michael Carland after pleading guilty to second degree murder.

He had admitted striking the child "to stop it crying" while the mother was away on a shopping trip.

Let's Be National!

CAIRO, Egypt (AP)— Wives of Egyptian diplomats have been told not to encourage men to kiss their hands at official functions. The custom smacks of foreign influence, says the Ministry of Social Affairs.

Charges Mount Against Hodge

Number of Counts Hits 330 Mark; Jury Returns 46 Indictments

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP)—Formal charges naming deposed State Auditor Orville E. Hodge were piled high today as prosecutors pressed a "colossal" list of grievances against him.

* * *

The exact number of counts on which he has been named because of a million-dollar shortage in his office was 330. More may follow.

* * *

A Sangamon County grand jury yesterday returned 46 separate indictments against Hodge, once a big man in the Republican state administration. Each indictment, in turn, carried six counts. Three were for embezzlement, each with a 1 to 15 year prison sentence possible. Two were for forgery which carries a 1 to 20 year term, on conviction, and one was for confidence game, which carries a 1 to 10 year sentence.

A federal grand jury in Chicago last Saturday named Hodge and two associates in 54 indictments charging conspiracy to defraud the state in mishandling $872,000 in bank funds.

* * *

The indictments returned here yesterday covered 46 state warrants (checks) which State's Atty. George Coutrakon said were fraudulently issued and cashed for a total of nearly $650,000.

Coutrakon, who asked the indictments here, told newsmen, "It doesn't look like we're ever going to get to the bottom of this."

They Both Can't Wear Them at the Same Time

PORT HURON (AP)—Sheriff's deputies may have to consult dental experts to find out who owns the set of false teeth found on a Lake Huron beach last week.

Albert Allen says they're his and so does Henry Albert.

Allen first claimed the teeth at the St. Clair County sheriff's office, saying he had lost them five years ago while swimming. His new set of "uppers" seemed to match those found.

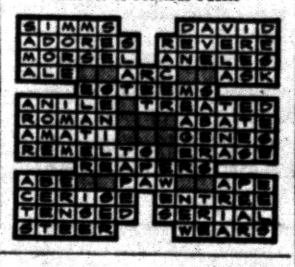

Now Albert says the dentures may be the ones he lost while swimming three weeks ago.

'Parade of Peaches'

ALLEGAN (AP) — A new Allegan County festivity — the Parade of Peaches — is set for Aug. 25 with western Allegan County orchardists planning it as the first in a proposed annual series to promote the use of peaches by householders.

County 4-H Seamstresses Are Busy

Between 150 and 200 4-H girls throughout the county are sewing feverishly these days to complete ensembles for the annual 4-H Dress Review, Aug. 9. The show begins at 8 p.m.

Mrs. Bennett serves on the Dress Review planning committee with 4-H leaders, Mrs. James Marble of Milford and Mrs. William Scramlin of Holly and Sue Sturgis, county 4-H agent.

Live music will accompany the girls as they model their handiwork in the natural amphitheater at the fairgrounds, Mrs. Bennett said. A rustic bridge built by Alfred Smithling of Rochester will add to the wishing well scene, she added.

MANY COSTUMES

Costumes Thursday night will include aprons and skirts by first year girls; simple cotton dresses by second year entries and pajamas and lounging robes by the fourth year girls.

Fourth year girls will display more complicated handiwork including wool and corduroy separates and combinations.

Local 4-H leaders Mrs. John Winship of Lake Orion, Mrs. Russell Pickering of Franklin and Mrs. Scramlin will be judges.

Muskegon Accepts Sketch

MUSKEGON (AP)—The Muskegon County Board of Supervisors yesterday received an architect's sketch of a proposed $104,000 juvenile detention home for possible acceptance in the county's building program which will ask extra millage at the November election.

Some 760 million dollars has been appropriated for three dams and 11 supplemental irrigation and reclamation projects to force increased service from the 1,700-mile Colorado River.

Nagasaki Wife Dies but Her Baby Lives

NAGASAKI, Japan (AP)—Doctors at Nagasaki University Hospital said an autopsy confirmed today that leukemia caused the death of a mother whose baby was delivered by Caesarian operation five minutes after she died.

* * *

Dr. H. Mitani said, however, the autopsy did not itself show whether the mother's leukemia resulted from the 1945 atomic bombing of Hiroshima. Hospital records showed she suffered severe atomic radiation in the blast, he said.

Mitani said the four-pound baby girl is healthy.

* * *
