Johnson Bows on $6-Billion Spending Cut

JOHNSON CITY, Tex. (AP) — President Johnson has reluctantly agreed to accept a $6 billion cut in government spending in order to get the tax increase he thinks vital to the nation's economy.

His decision to bow to Congress' budget-cutting after nearly two years of battling for a 10 per cent income tax surcharge was disclosed at a Memorial Day news conference at the LBJ Ranch.

The President said the tax increase was urgently needed to stave off economic chaos. But he previously contended any budget slash exceeding $4 billion would be against the national interest.

Now, the chief proponent of the $6 billion spending cut, chairman Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., of the House Ways and Means Committee, predicts the President's move assures quick passage for the tax bill when it comes up for House vote June 12.

ALREADY OK'D BY SENATE

The Senate already has passed a bill packaging the President's tax bill with a $6 billion spending cut.

The presidential news conference also produced sobering reports about more heavy fighting ahead in Vietnam, along with continued propaganda, infiltration and terror by the North Vietnamese and no substantive progress so far at the Paris peace talks.

The President, in Texas for the holiday weekend, promised to continue to explore every avenue toward a just and honorable peace.

"If Hanoi will take responsive action," he said, "we are ready to go far and fast with them."

Redistricting Plan for County Upheld

By ED BLUNDEN

A reapportionment plan for the Oakland County Board of Supervisors was cleared through the State Appeals Court today and candidates for the 27 positions have until June 18 to file nominating petitions.

Candidates will run in the Aug. 6 primary and then compete in the November election, according to John Murphy, county clerk.

The reapportionment plan will vastly change the character of the board of supervisors. Membership will be reduced from 87 to 27 and representation will swing heavily to the advantage of the southeastern corner of the county. Communities in the Southfield-Royal Oak area will have 12 members on the board.

The plan was completed in June 1967. It was drawn up by five persons, as required by state law — the county clerk (Murphy, panel chairman), the treasurer and prosecutor and chairmen of Democratic and Republican parties.

ONLY REPUBLICAN

State GOP Chairman Joseph R. Farnham turned out to be the only Republican on the panel and it was he who challenged the reapportionment, claiming it was set up to allow a political advantage to Democrats—gerrymandered.

The suit lost in Circuit Court and was taken to the Appeals Court. While it was pending, election plans remained uncertain.

★ ★ ★

In a ruling in the State Supreme Court the one-man, one-vote principle was upheld May 8. A U.S. Supreme Court decision in 1954 established the principle as it applied to local governments.

In Oakland County the prerogative of each township having at least one member on the board will be done away with. In the sparsely populated northern townships representation will be dramatically cut. Six of the townships — Holly, Groveland, Brandon, Oxford, Springfield and Independence — will have a single representative. Each supervisor will represent approximately 25,000 persons.

BIG QUESTION

A big question will arise among the supervisors as to whether to run for the board or not. According to Clerk Murphy, they will not be able to serve both bodies, the board and their township.

Blank petitions are available in the courthouse on Telegraph and Pontiac Lake in the clerk's office. About 200 signatures will be needed by each candidate.

Return of Rain Likely Saturday

Old Sol is busy blotting up the moisture today and offering at least a temporary respite from rain.

Highs today are expected to be between 69 and 73, with increasing cloudiness toward evening. Lows tonight will range from 50 to 54.

★ ★ ★

The forecast for tomorrow predicts clouds and mild temperatures with a strong possibility of more showers or thundershowers.

There is a chance of showers and slightly cooler temperatures on Sunday.

★ ★ ★

The precipitation probability for today is 5 per cent.

The low temperature in downtown Pontiac prior to 8 a.m. was 52 degrees. By 2 p.m. the mercury climbed to 70.

Governments in County Get State Windfall

Oakland County governmental units are splitting more than $1 million as their share from the state income tax that was not accounted for in many budgets. This represents a tidy sum in some cases.

James E. Seeterlin, county treasurer, has announced that the total county

share of the tax for the first quarter, January to March, is $1,046,620.

The county government keeps one half, $523,310, and the rest is distributed to local governments — cities, townships and villages.

The 1968 county budget was approved last October before the state tax levy was certain. Therefore, the funds were not figured as income in the balanced $21-million budget.

BY THE END OF 1968

So by the end of 1968, the county will have received three quarterly payments from the state which should amount to $1.5 million in unallocated revenue, provided the tax stays at the same level.

Seeterlin points out the allocations are on a per capita basis, based on the 1960 census.

In the original estimate of income it was figured local governments would receive 55 cents per head. However, collections tourned up enough to allocate 76 cents per head, about 20 per cent more than anticipated, he said.

Both Pontiac and Waterford Township estimated their income from the tax fairly closely. It appears for the year they will get about 5 per cent more than expected, however. Pontiac received $61,024 in the payment and Waterford $35,666.

LOWER FIGURE

Many communities, which are on the July-to-July fiscal year, made their income estimate on the lower figure.

For instance, Birmingham calculated receiving $69,000 in its coming fiscal year. However, its quarterly allocation alone was $19,399. This would indicate revenue of about $80,000 in the period for approximately an extra $11,000. The $19,399 for January-March was not counted on at all and is extra income.

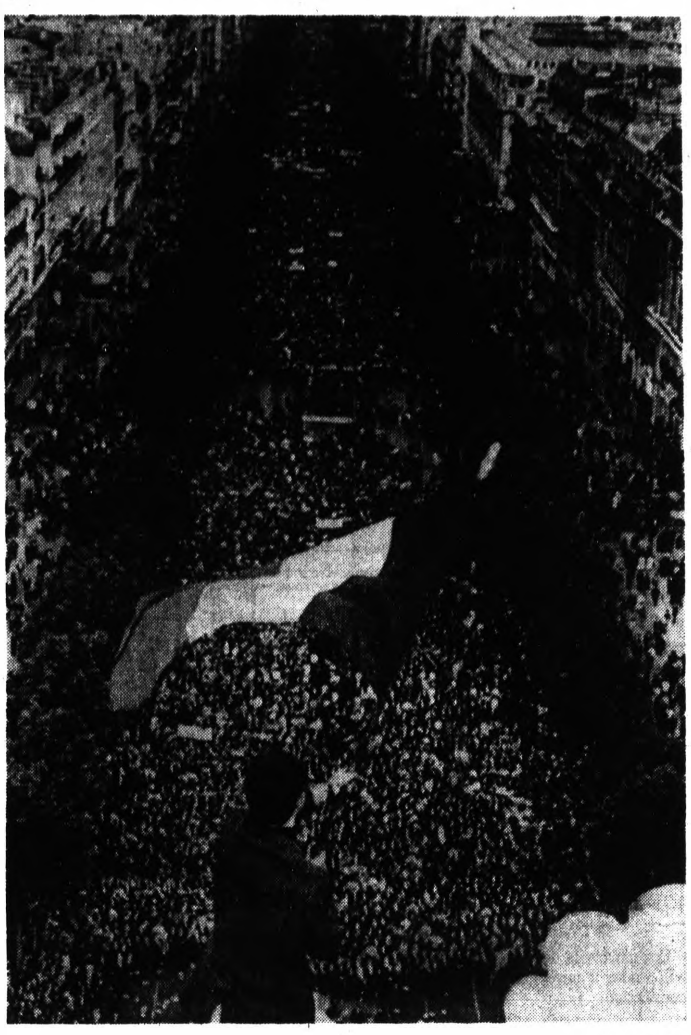

For townships on a April-to-April basis, the expected revenue is generally 10 to 20 per cent underestimated.

Hubert Gets Checkup

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey enters Bethesda Naval Hospital today for a checkup. The 57-year-old vice president underwent an operation for removal of a nonmalignant tumor at the same hospital last June.

A spokesman said Humphrey would be back campaigning tomorrow flying to Detroit for a brunch with Michigan delegates to the Democratic National Convention.

Long Line Marches For DeGaulle

PARIS (AP)—The great French strike wave seemed to be receding today under the countermeasures of President Charles de Gaulle. The chief of state, following up his dissolution of the National Assembly, named a new government with Georges Pompidou back as premier.

Reports of a back-to-work movement flowed in from all parts of the country except the Riviera.

Two gasoline companies announced today they were starting to deliver gasoline to Paris service stations. Activity in the Alsace region of eastern France was reported almost back to normal, except for the railways. Mail was delivered in Angouleme, in south-central France, for the first time in two weeks. Some workers were asking for police protection to thwart efforts of militant strikers to keep them off the job.

De Gaulle's appeal for support, coupled with his dissolution of the National Assembly and institution of temporary monetary controls to protect the value of the franc, sent hundreds of thousands of Frenchmen marching through Paris last night in a massive demonstration in his behalf.

★ ★ ★

The 77-year-old chief of state, rejecting leftist calls for his resignation, had said yesterday he would remain in office to combat an attempt by "totalitarian communism" to take over the stirkebound nation.

Hanoi Nixes U.S. Proposals for Joint Action to Curb War

PARIS (AP) — U.S. and North Vietnamese negotiators clashed today over ways of de-escalating the war in Vietnam. They failed again to make any progress toward breaking their deadlock.

North Vietnamese Ambassador Xuan Thuy rejected all U.S. proposals for joint action to curb the conflict. He said the United States is the "aggressor" in Vietnam and must end the bombing and other military operations against the North without reciprocity.

★ ★ ★

U.S. Ambassador W. Averell Harriman made a new appeal to Thuy to take a different tack and told him President Johnson is prepared "to go far and fast" in a common search for peace.

The meeting lasted three hours and 45 minutes and ended with an agreement to meet again next Wednesday.

'PUBLIC OPINION'

Harriman, returning to the U.S. Embassy after the session, said he felt "public opinion in the world will be brought to bear so that we can bring about a de-escalation of the war.

Thuy told Harriman: "Our position is clear as day. The United States is carrying out a war of aggression against our fatherland in both the North and South zones.

★ ★ ★

"Our people in the two zones must tighten their union for the struggle against American aggression and to save the fatherland. If the United States wants peace, let it halt its aggression and peace will return immediately.

Harriman bore down on one now familiar issue, insisting that North Vietnam must admit the presence of its troops in the South in order to have "meaningful and frank discussions."

"You asserted at our last meeting," Harriman said, "that any Vietnamese has the right to fight anywhere within Vietnam. Whether or not your statements were intended to convey an admission of the presence of North Vietnamese forces in the South, they raise the underlying issue of the war.

RFK, McCarthy to Debate on TV

By The Associated Press

Sens. Eugene J. McCarthy and Robert F. Kennedy, each trying to block the other's bid for the Democratic presidential nomination, will meet face-to-face tomorrow in a nationally televised debate.

The ABC network announced yesterday the pair would meet on a one-hour telecast, entitled "Issues and Answers: A Special Report," originating from KGO-TV in San Francisco.

9:30 P.M. IN EAST

It will be seen live across three-fourths of the nation — at 9:30 in the East (on Channel 7 locally), 8:30 p.m. in the Central states and 7:30 p.m. in the Mountain States. In the Western time zone a taped broadcast will be shown at 9:30 p.m.

Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey, as the third man in the race for the Democratic nomination, was asked to join in the debate but declined, the network said.

County Will Probe Dangerous Corner

By MEL NEWMAN

Following the death of a 40-year-old woman May 21 in a collision at Sashabaw and Maybee, Independence Township, public reaction has centered on requests for installation of a regular traffic light at the intersection.

Most of these requests have been directed to the Oakland County Road Commission.

Robert Osgood, road commission traffic engineer, said a study of the intersection, presently equipped with a flasher light, is planned this year.

A similar investigation, which took into account the volume of traffic at Sashabaw and Maybee and the accident rate for the year, was made in 1967.

NO LIGHT

The result was a decision not to install a regular traffic light.

"The volume count didn't warrant a regular signal as prescribed by the Michigan Manual of Uniform Traffic Devices," Osgood explained.

★ ★ ★

He went on to cite statistics involving accident rates at county intersections, divided into two classifications — those with 10 or more property damage or injury accidents in 1967 and those with from five to 10.

★ ★ ★

Sashabaw and Maybee is one of 93 Oakland County intersections where five to 10 accidents occurred last year.

TIED WITH 13

The nine accidents at the corner tied it with 13 other intersections for 83rd in terms of accident volume.

None of these was a fatal, according to Osgood.

★ ★ ★

Of the 93 intersections, Osgood said, 45 per cent were signalized.

A statistic which casts further doubt on the value of traffic lights alone making intersections safer is one concerning the 82 county intersections where, 10 or more accidents occurred.

Of these, 81 per cent were signalized, Osgood said.

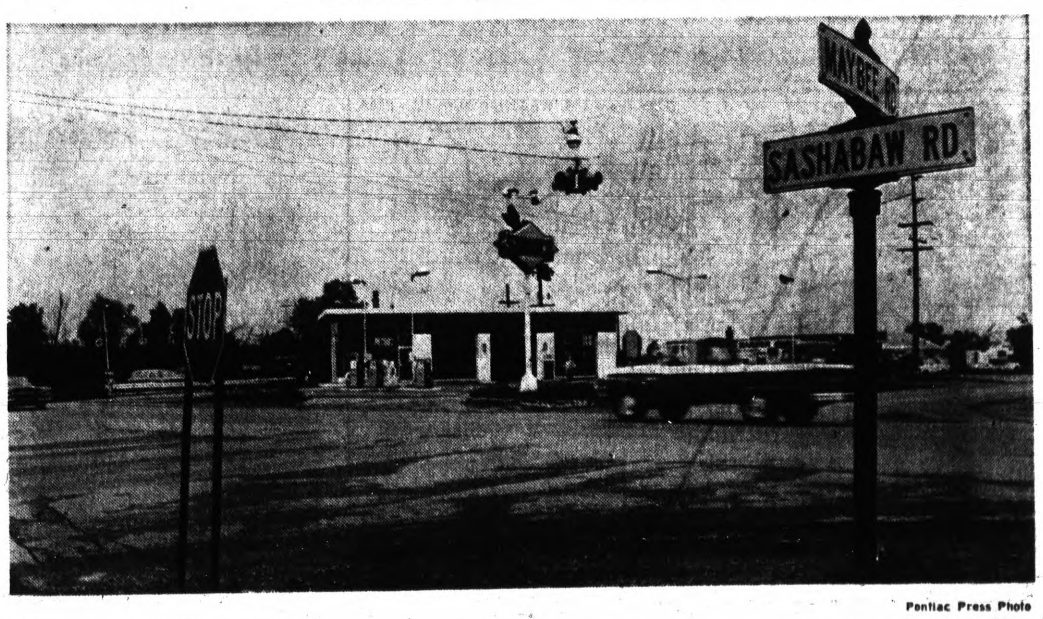

Whether a regular light will be installed at Sashabaw and Maybee depends on the results of the coming investigation.

Last winter, the light formerly used at the intersection was changed for a larger, brighter flasher.

Installation of a regular signal, if one is deemed necessary, would take from six to eight weeks after approval by the road commission.

OTHER MEASURE?

However, the situation at Sashabaw and Maybee, if it is considered serious because of a growing volume of traffic or any other factor, may call for some measure other than a new signal, Osgood said.

Fair-Housing Event Slated for Monday

The Friends of Fair Housing, an organization formed to promote passage of a fair-housing ordinance in the city, will hold a potluck-style dinner at 6 p.m. Monday at Madison Junior High School.

A spokesman said that Dick (Night Train) Lane, former Detroit Lion star defensive halfback and now a coach for the Lions, will speak at the dinner.

Purpose of the dinner, the spokesman said, is to promote the "spirit of brotherhood and to demonstrate that the people of Pontiac are willing and able to work together to improve our city."

Hundreds Line Pontiac Streets To View Memorial Day Parade

Hundreds Honor War Dead

Hundreds of area residents remembered their relatives and friends who died in war with a Memorial Day parade and wreath-laying ceremonies in Pontiac yesterday.

The paraders, led by several bands, marched from Saginaw and Oakland to City Hall, were a wreath was placed at the foot of the Civil War statue.

★ ★ ★

Marchers then proceeded to Perry Mount Park Cemetery, where veterans' group placed wreaths in the veterans' plot.

Some 50 groups and bands participated in the march.

FLAG LOWERED

The ceremony at the cemetery was opened by a call to colors and lowering of the U.S. flag to half-staff by the American Legion Post 377 rifle squad.

The invocation and the benediction were given by the Rev. Charles F. Rooney of St. Michael Catholic Church.

★ ★ ★

The parade is sponsored by the Pontiac Memorial Day Association. The first was organized in 1957 by the association, formed by the late Floyd Cramer who was head of the Oakland County Veterans' Affairs Office.

Kidnap Suspect to Get Mind Test

A 25-year-old Pontiac man accused of kidnaping and rape today was granted permission to undergo psychiatric examination.

Oakland County Circuit Judge William J. Beer authorized the tests and appointed Dr. Jerome Fink to conduct the evaluation of Laurence S. Moore.

★ ★ ★

Moore of 499 W. Huron is charged with the April 29 kidnap and rape of a 19-year-old married Pontiac woman, and the kidnap of her 14-year-old brother-in-law, from the Pontiac Mall Shopping Center.

Beer also will appoint an attorney to defend Moore.

Beer adjourned Moore's arraignment from today until Wednesday, when he will have benefit of counsel.

The psychiatric examination will not be made until after that time, said Beer.

Neutrality of Dems at Stake in Detroit

While state and county Democratic leaders attempt to hold delegates to the state convention in Detroit to a neutral position tomorrow and Sunday, supporters of all three Democratic presidential candidates will vie for a firm commitment.

★ ★ ★

Up to this point, State Chairman Sander M. Levin of Berkley has been able to convince most delegations that they should remain uncommitted.

The Oakland County delegation at its recent convention stayed clear of endorsing any of the candidates, though indications are the majority tends to favor Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey.

★ ★ ★

Humphrey is the only candidate who will make a personal appearance at the convention.

ONE-HOUR STOP

He is expected to make a one-hour stop to address the opening of the convention tomorrow.

Sen. Robert F. Kennedy's supporters will be led by his brother, Sen. Edward Kennedy, D-Mass.; former presidential adviser Theodore Sorenson; and television personality Jack Paar.

★ ★ ★

The Kennedy forces also will have on hand a host of sports figures to boost the New York senator.

★ ★ ★

Backers of Sen. Eugene McCarthy said that there will be no stars or national political figures on hand to put on a show for their candidate.

'SHOW OF STRENGTH'

But they said they expected "a show of strength" by between 300 and 500 delegates at the convention.

During the convention, 102 delegates to the national nominating convention will be chosen. With 96 votes, the state ranks seventh among state delegations to the Chicago convention.

★ ★ ★

Meantime, a group of Macomb County Democrats, charging that the 12th District convention of the party was "rigged," plan to hold a rump convention tonight to select a rebel slate of delegates.

Detroit Paper Talks Reported 'Moving'

DETROIT (AP)—If the 198-day Detroit newspaper strike is going to be settled, "we should have it in the next few days," a specially - appointed mediator said early today after a 17-hour high level negotiating session broke up.

Publishers of the morning Detroit Free Press and the afternoon Detroit News met with officials of the paper and plate handlers union and with University of Wisconsin labor expert Dr. Nathan Feinsinger all day yesterday and into the early hours of today.

★ ★ ★

Feinsinger said negotiations would begin with the second of four striking unions—the pressmen — later today and then would continue with a paper and plate handlers' subcommittee.

"It's moving," said Feinsinger when asked to describe the progress of the special sessions.

A GOOD BET

Only hours before, Feinsinger told newsmen that "there is not a ghost of a chance of us not reaching agreement unless somebody upsets the apple cart."

Feinsinger, who was called into the newspaper strike by Detroit Mayor Jerome P. Cavanagh, later told the Associated Press that the noneconomic issue of hiring practices was the one that was discussued and still unresolved.

★ ★ ★

A source close to the bargaining table said the paper and plate handlers wanted either beefed-up crews, with some featherbedding, or to preserve the former system allowing overtime to members. Sources said the union lost out on these points in arbitration during the expired contract.

The decision, made by arbiter Harry Platt, said the paper and plate handlers union must provide temporary help on a straight-time basis, rather than allow overtime during heavy work loads to permanent employes.

The source said the union during the session yesterday the union was trying to alter the Platt decision by trying to increase the permanent force above what is needed for the normal work load.

Feinsinger earlier said that the striking paper handlers, pressmen, photoengravers and printers were basically divided on three issues, with some other issues peculiar to individual unions.

★ ★ ★

Sources said the three main problems were hiring practices, the wage hikes, and the expiration dates of new contracts.

Feinsinger said sessions in this round of bargaining would first be held with the four striking unions. After that, he said, the publishers would begin meeting with eight other nonstriking unions.

After a dinner break in negotiations last night, Feinsinger said "we've turned the corner."

TENTATIVE FORM

"If you can get an agreement even in tentative form in one case, that will ease the way with the other 12 unions," Feinsinger said.

★ ★ ★

"The publishers and unions have convinced themselves heretofore that there was no chance of settlement" Feinsinger said. He added that if no agreement was reached in these negotiations, he did not think there would ever be one.

"But there is no issue so tough within itself that it is an impediment to settlement," Feinsinger said.

Last week, Feinsinger called the special Memorial Day session after talks and publishers Peter B. Clark of the publishers and the striking unions.

★ ★ ★

Several international union officials and publishers Peter B. Carlk of the News and Lee Hills of the Free Press attended the sessions.

Shantytown Big Mudhole

'Weather Won't Stop the Demonstrations'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Near-steady rain for two weeks has transformed the Poor People's Campaign shantytown into a 15-acre mudhole, but the Rev. Ralph David Abernathy says the weather won't stop the demonstrations.

The rain fell again Thursday but Abernathy, campaign leader and president of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference, told newsmen: "I'm sure it will clear up. It can't get much worse."

★ ★ ★

He vowed the demonstrators will stay in Washington until Congress meets their demands for massive programs to help the poor.

Mrs. Martin Luther King Jr. visited the encampment for the first time.

GREAT MUDHOLE

The rain has made one great mudhole of Resurrection City, the shanties near the Lincoln Memorial serving as temporary home for some 2,000 demonstrators.

But Abernathy said there are no plans to evacuate and added that now that his own A-frame shelter is ready, he and his wife will move in today.

★ ★ ★

The rain reached cloudburst proportions, with high winds, thunder and lightning as a Memorial Day concert at the Lincoln Memorial got under way in memory of King, who conceived the campaign.

The concert was called off as the audience scurried for cover. Many huddled at the base of the statue of the brooding Lincoln.

NEVER APPEARED

Mrs. King was to speak but never appeared before the crowd in front of the memorial, site of her assassinated husband's 1963 civil rights speech, "I Have a Dream." The deluge broke during Abernathy's opening prayer.

But the concert will be held tonight in nearby Constitution Hall. She will narrate Aaron Copland's "Lincoln Portrait."

Mrs. King, dressed in black, visited Resurrection City, chatted with demonstrators and addressed a rally in one of the big tents. The mud reached her ankles.

Some of the old people stumbled and fell in the big puddles as they hurried to get a glimpse of her.

NOW SHE KNOWS

"Now I know what it has been like for you to live here in the mud and water," she told the campers. "But you have been tested before. And we are all going to win."

Before the storm, Abernathy led about 1,000 demonstrators on a quick march up the Mall to the Agriculture Department, a consistent target of protests over food distribution policies for the nation's poor. They circled the building and went back to camp.

Troy School Head Is Hopeful About Millage Vote

By TOM GRAY

TROY — Supt. of Schools Dr. Rex B. Smith views this district's approaching millage election with "more hopes than any previous election."

Residents will cast their ballots June 10 for the fourth time in a year on an operating millage request, this time for 4 mills for two years.

The requested 4-mill boost would cost the owner of a home assessed at $20,000 market value $40 a year in additional taxes; for a $30,000 home the yearly increase would be $60; and for a $40,000 home, it would be $80.

Troy voters earlier turned down proposed increases of 7 mills (June 1967) and 6 mills (September 1967 and February 1968).

SMITH OPTIMISTIC

Smith, however, remains optimistic, pointing out the fact that over 70 citizens attended a meeting last week to organize support for the proposition.

★ ★ ★

The board of education three weeks ago approved a tentative budget calling for cutbacks in many areas, at a saving of about $400,000. However, Smith said at that time that if the June vote is favorable, the board would reconsider the budget with the idea of restoring items cut back and providing for some additional programs.

The spending cuts would result in the following changes:

- Half-day sessions for grades 1-6.
- Elimination of physical education at the elementary level.
- Reduction of the junior high session from six periods to five.
- Elimination of the present "modular scheduling" system at Troy High School, and substitution of the traditional five-period day.
- Elimination of the school lunch program at elementary schools and curtailment of the program in secondary schools.

STATE CONDITIONS

The proposed budget follows conditions Smith said the State Municipal Finance Commission staff had placed upon recommendation of the district's loan request.

The commission recently granted the request, but sliced the amount authorized from the $1 million requested to $800,000. Smith said, however, that the loan would allow the district to maintain operation through Sept. 1.

★ ★ ★

Smith quoted James Barrett, a staff member, as saying before the loan was approved that if the district guaranteed to balance its budget by June, 1970, a favorable recommendation might be possible.

The tentative budget, with its spending cuts, would lop about $255,000 off the present deficit of $600,000, Smith said.

LESS TEACHERS

However, the reductions would result in the elimination of 50 teaching positions —17 planned for growth and 33 present positions—the superintendent added.

"The board hopes to achieve this reduction by attrition," Smith said. "That is, resignations and retirement, not by dismissal. No more teachers will be hired until further notice, except for reimbursed programs and as needed to fulfill the requirements of the adopted tentative budget."

★ ★ ★

The millage increase, if approved, would result in an estimated $440,000 during the first year and $600,000 the second year, for a total of $1,040,000, according to Smith.

★ ★ ★

Board member Harold A. Janes, who has opposed the three previous millage attempts, neither opposes nor supports the June proposal. Janes yesterday concurred with Smith in saying that the 4-mill request stands a better chance of being approved than earlier ones.

The district's tax rate is presently 29.60 mills, seven for debt retirement and 22.60 for operating. Troy ranks 16th of 28 county districts in millage levied.

Loser in Reelection Bid Fills Post

Wixom Appoints New Justice of Peace

WIXOM — Oscar B. Simmons Jr., 2028 Hazel, will be this city's new justice of the peace starting July 4.

He will fill the vacancy to be left by Elwood Grubb, who is resigning because of other duties as Wixom's postmaster. Grubb's term expires this Dec. 31.

★ ★ ★

Simmons, who has served on the City Council eight years, lost his bid for reelection April 1. The justice of the peace post carries a $2,400 salary.

Other reappointments recently approved by council: Thomas Burke, director of parks and recreation, Gene Schnelz, attorney; and Robert Clark, auditor.

Mayor Wesley E. McAtee reported that council continues to look for someone to fill the city assessor's post left open with the death of John C. Finlayson March 19. The assessor's salary is set at $6,500.

STEPS TAKEN

The council has taken steps toward applying for community improvement project funds from the federal department of Housing and Urban Development.

Council acted to make the nine-member planning commission the citizens advisory committee required in order to receive funds.

The committee's functions are to analyze local "inefficiencies," make recommendations for improvements, and inform area residents and groups of progress made.

SOLEMN MARCH—Clarkston Boy Scouts take part in the Village's annual Memorial Day parade yesterday—a scene repeated in numerous other areas of the county. A roster of war victims dating from the Civil War, marking the community's contribution to its country, was read later at Lakeview Cemetery ceremonies.

State Road Toll Climbs to 10 for Holiday Period

By the Associated Press

Ten persons, all but two of them under 25 years of age and all but one in lone cars that went off the road, have been killed on Michigan highways in the first days of the Memorial Day weekend.

The Associated Press traffic fatality count began at 6 p.m. Wednesday and runs until midnight Sunday.

★ ★ ★

Victims included:

William E. Haslom, 39, of Grand Rapids, killed yesterday afternoon when his car went out of control and hit a stone fence in Richmond Township, Osceola County.

Earl L. Goolsby, 21, Warren, killed yesterday afternoon in Oakland County when his motorcycle went out of control into a ditch.

CAR OVERTURNS

James Miller, 21, of Gladstone, who died yesterday evening when his car left the road and overturned in Grand Township, Keweenaw County.

Richard Smith, 20, of Plymouth, killed early yesterday when his car went out of control and hit a parked car in Plymouth Township.

Victoria Taggart, 16, of Brighton, who died near Brighton yesterday when a car in which she was a passenger went out of control and hit a tree.

Carol Ann Laurer, 21, of Alpena, who was injured fatally early yesterday when she was tossed out of an auto which hit a utility pole off U.S. 23 in Harrisville.

AUTO HITS TREE

Marie Sandra Nelson, 19, of Montague, killed yesterday when a car in which she was a passenger hit a tree in Fruitland Township about 13 miles north of Muskegon.

★ ★ ★

Bruce Chamberlain, 22, of Detroit, killed yesterday when his motorcycle struck a parked semitrailer truck on Detroit's west side.

George Young, 54, of Detroit, killed when his car failed to make a turn and struck a concrete abutment on a Detroit dead-end street.

★ ★ ★

Rosemary Wishwell, 16, of Oshtomo, killed Wednesday when the car in which she was riding went out of control and overturned several times at a rural Kalamazoo County intersection.

Sewer Breakdown Has Cost $14,000

PONTIAC TOWNSHIP—The recurring breakdown of a quarter-mile line of sewer in Bloomfield Orchard Subdivision has cost the township more than $14,000 so far this spring, the Township Board has been told.

Supervisor Roy Wahl reported that one fire truck and two auxiliary pumps were needed around the clock over the last weekend to pump out flooded basements on Liverpool and Sheffield.

The use of standby rodding equipment to open up the clogged pipes has cost the township $50 a day, Wahl said. As soon as the weather dries enough to make it feasible, engineers plan to put a miniature television camera through the pipe to see the extent of damage, he reported.

He said that portion of the line which has been breaking was installed the latter part of 1961.

REQUEST DENIED

The Township Board refused a request from the attorney for Sam Gottsman, operator of a car dismantling yard at Taylor and Giddings, that Gottsman be allowed to use both a five-acre parcel and a one-acre parcel for three years, after which he would discontinue the operation on both.

The township recently obtained an injunction prohibiting Gottsman from operating his business on the five-acre parcel. A non-conforming usage license permits him indefinite use of the one-acre parcel.

★ ★ ★

Board action on the dismissal of township patrolman Walter Spencer has been postponed until June 10. Spencer was fired by the supervisor a month ago. He appeared at the regular township board meeting two weeks ago to protest his dismissal.

The board accepted the $1,050 bid of Bud Thompson of Auburn Heights for construction of a drainage system for the township office parking lot. That lot and the one at Fire Station No. 3 on Joslyn Road will be paved. The board had previously accepted the $6,482 bid of A & A Asphalt for the two paving jobs.

Charter Group Chooses Leader

NOVI — Raymond Evans, 23750 Heartwood, has been selected to head the nine-member village charter commission by the other members.

He received the most votes in the May 20 election proposing cityhood and a slate of 14 commission candidates.

★ ★ ★

The commission has 90 days from May 20 to draft a charter for the proposed cityhood of the village. The body has two years from the same date to put the charter to a public vote.

Other officers of the commission are Vice Chairman William L. Duey, who received the third highest number of votes, and secretary J. F. Buck, who finished eighth.

OTHER MEMBERS

Other commission members are Joseph Crupi, Denis Berry, Russell Button, William D. Brinker, Edwin Presnell and David S. Harrison.

The commission set Thursdays at 8:30 p.m. in the Village Hall for its meetings, which are open to the public.

At the June 6 meeting, the commission will consider retaining an attorney and the method of financing his services.

Savings, Loan Firm Opens Its 10th Branch

WHITE LAKE TOWNSHIP — The 10th office of First Federal Savings and Loan Association of Oakland has opened at 7110 Cooley Lake.

The temporary trailer office is expected to be replaced by a permanent building in October, acting branch manager Samuel Wiscombe said.

Youth, 16, Drowns in Metamora Twp.

METAMORA TOWNSHIP — A youth drowned yesterday in Lake Oscadeta here after the canoe he was in tipped over.

Skin divers rfom the Lapeer County Sheriff's Department reported they recovered the body of Wayne E. Steele, 16, son of Mr. and Mrs. Desmond Steele of Mount Clemens, in 20 feet of water 75 feet from shore.

The drowning occurred about 1:30 p.m. in the part of the lake off the Girl Scout camp of metropolitan Detroit. The victim was one of those readying the camp for the camping season, said police.

Higbie Co. Reports Earnings, Profit Up for Fiscal Period

ROCHESTER — Carlton M. Higbie Jr., president of Higbie Manufacturing Co., Water Street, today announced the following results for the third quarter of the current fiscal year ended April 30.

Net consolidated income, after taxes, amounted to $503,444, equivalent to 40 cents per share, compared to $310,861, equivalent to 24 cents per share, for the same period of 1967.

★ ★ ★

Earnings per share, for the nine months ended April 30 amounted to $1.04 as compared to 89 cents in 1967.

Higbie said sales for the current year ending July 31 should amount to about $18 million and earnings for the year could be anticipated at around $1.50 per share.

Teachers on Lookout

WALLED LAKE — The call is out for homes and rooms for rent by prospective teachers in the Walled Lake School District.

The need has been announced by Joseph Winger, district personnel director. Anyone who can help fill the need is asked to call him.

School Tax Information Service Offered in Huron Valley District

An information service on behalf of the proposed school tax hike in the Huron Valley School District is offered by a local citizens committee.

Group officers include Mrs. Floyd J. Crowley, Mrs. Charles Parks, Mrs. Betty Prather, Mrs. David Horchler and Bruce Hutchins.

They are available to speak before groups.

The committee has discussed before several local groups the 5.5-mill proposed tax increase for two years to be voted on June 10. The current levy is 30.6 mills.

'NEED MILLAGE'

"The schools need the millage if we want to continue the quality education without program cuts," stressed Mrs. Crowley, committee cochairman.

The committee will provide baby sitter service at the polls and transportation to the polls if needed.

★ ★ ★

The millage increase will raise about $401,500. It is planned to eliminate a deficit, and handle salary increases and increasing costs of operation. The tentative 1968-69 budget now carries a $117,000 deficit.

New Troy Post Office

TROY — Plans for a new post office in this city have been announced by U.S. Postmaster General Marvin Watson.

The building will be located south of Big Beaver on Livernois, Watson said, and will be erected under the department's lease construction program.

Subdivision Split on Pool Question

FARMINGTON TOWNSHIP—Residents of the 183-home Old Franklin Towne subdivision disagree on whether to build a community swimming pool on land they own jointly.

About 25 subdivision residents have taken the question to the Township Board. The board is now seeking a legal opinion on the use of the land in the so-called "planned community development."

The board has set a public hearing on the cost of water for Franklin Forest subdivision for June 24 at 7:30 p.m. at the Township Hall.

No estimate of the cost is yet available, said Township Supervisor Curtis Hall.

In Bygone Days

School Picnic: Summer

By JEAN SAILE

Memorial Day, despite all its solemnity, has signalled to the kids that summer is at hand. And while nearly two weeks of school remain, it's downhill for all except those who have to pass final exams.

MRS. SAILE

It was cold fried chicken and new potato salad that marked the advent of my childhood summers.

★ ★ ★

Served at the school picnic, they made up the main fare of a dinner that was spread tablecloth by tablecloth across the yard of a neighbor's home.

The school picnic was a big deal in those days. Every family in the area attended whether or not they had children in school.

ROUSING START

It was a ball game that got festivities off to a rousing start. Sides were chosen up, and while there might be 17 people to each side, it was still serious ball.

I can remember that from my position of far, far right field, I one time flukishly caught a ball that otherwise would have given my older brother a home run. He didn't speak to me for a week.

★ ★ ★

What I was most interested in, however, was getting my father assured of a position on the crank end of one of the many home-made ice cream freezers. Once he was installed there, I could be sure of getting a paddle (the stirring end) to lick.

The pure farm cream concoction dripped sweetened summer forever. With an ice cream paddle to lick, a young girl was queen.

SAVE ENOUGH ROOM

But you had to be careful to save enough room for the feast to follow. A round of contests — the three-legged races, carrying eggs on spoons, skipping races — helped wear off the calories.

By the time the men started getting the car seats out of the cars for ground use and the women started laying their colorful tablecloths on the grass, I was ready.

★ ★ ★

The status symbol was in having frying chickens old enough for eating at the school picnic and new potatoes ready for action.

Oh, the food of the farm! I can still taste it, and it was never better than at the school picnic.

Pontiac Press Photo by Edward R. Noble

UNDER COVER—What's John W. Cockrun Jr. trying to hide? Only 4,000 cantaloupes. At eight cents each, the waxed paper and wire covers protect the fruit from frost and wind on the farm at 42409 Grand River, Novi. The covers were slipped on by hand in the last two weeks and stay there for about one more month, said Cockrun. The fruit will be ready for eating in early August.

Both Sides Hike Viet Action to Get Edge for Peace Talks

By JOHN T. WHEELER

SAIGON (AP) — The U.S.-North Vietnamese talks in Paris have brought sharper action in the Vietnam war. Like two wrestlers, the two sides grope for holds that will lead to a spectacular throw.

The U.S. Command has predicted a further escalation in fighting, and latest allied intelligence seems to bear this out.

★ ★ ★

U.S. sources have said privately that neither side is likely to score a decisive victory in the near future.

Thus neither can bargain in Paris from a position of absolute strength that would force concessions.

PRESSURE URGED

Many in Saigon recall former Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge's recommendation to President Johnson when there were hints that peace talks might start in 1966. Lodge recommended increasing the pressure on the enemy to the maximum should Hanoi or the Vietcong show real signs of wanting peace. Even the most minor concession, Lodge urged, should not be agreed to unless a counter concession was won.

Therefore bigger battles, higher casualties—probably the largest of the war on both sides—and claims of decisive victories are forecast. Indications are that each side also will place increasing importance on victory claims, not so much to strengthen the hands of its bargainers in Paris but to convince the world that its side is winning.

★ ★ ★

The idea, it is believed here, would be to generate pressure from allies and friends on both sides to make concessions that would brin ga settlement on the best possible terms.

News Analysis

The U.S. Command is highly conscious of sentiment in the United SFates and has become increasingly sensitive in its public relations.

U.S. 'VICTORY'

When a U.S. Special Forces camp at Kham Duc was threatened with being overrun recently, a hasty evacuation of the camp was ordered. A U.S. general called this an American victory.

But Kham Duc sat astride a major infiltration route that North Vietnamese engineers are turning into a two-lane road. Evacuating the camp left the enemy with a free hand in the area.

★ ★ ★

On the other hand, Hanoi has boasted of huge victories against the allies in the Saigon area during fighting earlier this month. In fact the enemy forces were mostly turned back at the city's slum belt, along its outer limits.

The most likely battle zones of the future probably are around Saigon, below the demilitarized zone and the central highlands. Rocket and infantry attacks around Saigon prove that the enemy command is capable of piercing the U.S. shield around the capital.

BEST CHANCE

The DMZ and the highlands long have given the enemy his best chance of success. His troops operate out of base areas in North Vietnam and Laos, immune from allied ground attack. The North Vietnamese long have had artillery to back their ground units in the DMZ area, and it appears likely that it might be employed in any new offensive in the highlands.

Greater emphasis on which side holds the initiative also has been a major feature of the war since the beginning of peace talks. The allies held the initiative late last year only to lose it before the onslaught of the Tet offensive in February and the fighting at the surrounded Marine base at Khe Sanh.

★ ★ ★

The allies since have broken the siege at Khe Sanh, pushed most of the big enemy units away from the major cities and carried out a month-long offensive in the A Shau Valley, probably the enemy's largest single base in the South.

Maps are now available on a new kind of plastic, highly resistant to tearing, fading and careless folding.

ON HER WAY HOME—Julie Cherie Rodriguez, a 2-year-old girl who has lived longer with a transplanted liver than anyone else, leaves University of Colorado Medical Center in Denver yesterday in the arms of her mother, Mrs. John Rodiguez of Pueblo. Julie, one of five known survivors of liver transplants, spent 10 months in the hospital after the operation.

Normal Childhood Awaits Liver Patient

PUEBLO, Colo. (AP) — Squealing, "Daddy!" even before he walked through the door, 2-year-old Julie Cherie Rodriguez welcomed her father home from work Thursday.

And that completed a homecoming for a pretty, dark-haired and wide-eyed little girl who has lived longer with a transplanted liver than anyone else known to medical science.

★ ★ ★

"I didn't think it would ever happen," said John C. Rodriguez, after he learned his daughter had been sent home from the hospital more than 10 months after the operation.

"It's really wonderful," he said. "Maybe she can have a more normal childhood now."

125-MILE TRIP

Julie's mother, Louise, said doctors approved Julie's release from the University of Colorado Medical Center at Denver Thursday afternoon. By midevening, they had made the 125-mile trip south to their home here.

"I wanted to shout it from the rooftops: My baby's going home," she said.

★ ★ ★

"Let me tell you, it's great. She's so cute and she's so darned happy," said Mrs. Rodriguez. The youngster, now walking and talikng, still was excited, wide awake and playing a few minutes before midnight when her father arrived from his job at CF&I Steel Corp.

Julie—it's Ju-Ju to her friends—is one of five known survivors of liver transplant operations, all by the Denver transplant team. But on July 23, 1967, when Julie's new liver was implanted, there were none.

FOLLOW-UP CARE

Two of the survivors have been discharged from the hospital, but stay in Denver for follow-up care. Julie will make the trip from Pueblo to Denver twice a week for her checkups.

"God let Julie come home and I can have my two kids together. That's what I'm thankful for," said Mrs. Rodriguez. "We're a family again."

★ ★ ★

Julie's little brother, John Anthony, was born about five months ago. But until now, they have had little time together, with Julie and her mother in Denver and father and son in Pueblo most of the time.

Julie "is a different person out of the hospital," Rodriguez said. "She even hugged and kissed John. She knows he's her brother."

★ ★ ★

A liver transplant was decided upon after doctors found Julie's own liver was being destroyed by cancer, and she faced certain death without the surgery. The donor liver was provided when another child died of causes unrelated to the liver.

Israel, Jordan in Artillery Duel

By United Press International

Israeli military sources said today their troops fought an artillery duel with Jordanian forces in the Jordan Valley last night. It was the 40th clash this month along lines established at the end of last June's Middle East War.

The Israelis said in Jerusalem the Jordanians shelled the settlements of Yardena and Kefar Ruppin, about 18 miles south of the Sea of Galilee, for 30 minutes. The Israelis said they returned the fire and sustained no casualties.

★ ★ ★

Two fire-fights were reported earlier in the day in the Manshieh area, a few miles to the north.

Government sources in Jerusalem said the Israeli ambassador to London had been informed by Foreign Secretary Michael Stewart of Britain that the British were maintaining contacts with the Soviet Union over the Mideast peace mission of United Nations Envoy Dr. Gunnar Jarrying.

NEW PROPOSAL

An Egyptian newspaper reported in Cairo earier in the week that Britain and the Soviets would make a new Mideast peace proposal.

★ ★ ★

Israel has insisted on direct negotiations with the Arab states it defeated in last June's war. The Arabs have refused to talk until Israel withdraws its forces from conquered territory.

★ ★ ★

At Nablus yesterday pupils struck at 11 schools in protest against the dispersal by Israeli forces last week of Arab student demonstrators in Gaza.

International Red Cross officials said today they supervised the repatriation yesterday of 216 Egyptians who had been stranded at El Arish in the northern Sinai Desert since last June's war.

CROSSED SUEZ

The Egyptians crossed the Suez Canal at Kantara while 120 Gaza residents, caught on the Egyptian side during the war, returned in the opposite direction.

• SELECTION? With Simplicity in 1968, you pick from five new tractors (5 to 12 hp) and a 4 hp riding mower. You get "job-tailored" tractor choice.

• NO-SCALP MOWING? If the mower's mounted on the tractor frame, you'll get scalping. By contrast, Simplicity's patented mounting suspends the mower from the front axle. Can't scalp—because the front wheels "telegraph" every change in ground contour.

• ARE ATTACHMENTS MATCHED? Some tractor-makers buy and "adapt" basic attachments. But Simplicity designs and builds its own. When you put a Simplicity attachment on a Simplicity tractor, the combination works in perfect harmony.

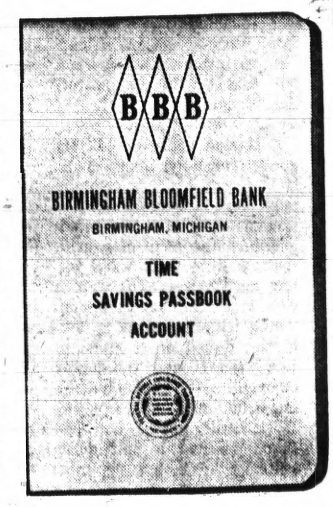

• WHAT'S INVOLVED IN CHANGING ATTACHMENTS? Don't take anybody's word for it. Insist on a demonstration. You'll be amazed at the quick-changing difference that results from Simplicity's made-for-each-other tractor attachment design.

AMA Warns Against Drug Abuse

Drug use in the United States has become an increasingly serious problem, not only from the standpoint of the users but of innocent "bystanders." No one will ever know the number of innocent lives that have been taken in traffic accidents, for example, as the result of auto drivers operating vehicles while under the influence of drugs.

The American Medical Association Council on Mental Health has issued some facts about drugs. It points out that any drug can be harmful if taken in excess or under the wrong conditions. The Council says the problem of abuse usually involves drugs which can cause dependence. It names narcotics such as heroin, morphine, codeine; sedatives, including barbiturates (often called "goof balls"); and the hallucinogens, like LSD and marijuana.

★ ★ ★

Anyone, regardless of age or economic status, can develop a dependence on certain drugs by taking them regularly, particularly if the amount is increased and the indulgence-interval shortened.

Certain clues that indicate growing dependency on drugs can be spotted: Lack of muscular coordination, muddled speech and impaired judgment can indicate excessive use of barbiturates.

Rapid pulse, restlessness, muscular twitches, heavy sweating, bad breath, talkativeness and over-activity are signs of amphetamine abuse.

Marijuana smoking typically leads to increased appetite and a craving for sweets. The abuser of marijuana is often apathetic, listless and careless in his personal habits. Marijuana and LSD also cause the eyes to dilate widely. Pinpoint pupils signal possible use of heroin or other narcotic drugs; so are needle marks on arms or legs.

★ ★ ★

What can you do about drug abuse? The AMA Council on Mental Health suggests: "Try to help the victim seek medical treatment. If you are aware of illegal traffic in drugs, notify police or other appropriate authorities."

Growth of Government Employes a Bumper Crop

In the ten-year period from 1956 to 1966, the number of employes on state and local government payrolls increased 63 per cent and the monthly cost of paying them increased 143 per cent. During the same period, the population of the Country rose 17 per cent.

These figures substantiate what has become a virtual maxim—that demands for the tax dollar increase far faster than people.

Countless "experts" recommend solutions for controlling inflation and stabilizing the value of our money. The most immediate solution of necessity appears to be a Federal tax increase. The increase may be accompanied by some cuts in government spending, but in all likelihood the latter will turn out to be illusory as the pressure for more political spending builds up.

Thus, the cost of government at every level will continue to expand, and inflation will continue to eat away at the value of the dollar. The process will not end until we realize tax-dollar spending increases must one day be brought into balance with population and productivity increases.

Sweden's Welfare Chickens Come Home to Roost

Sweden is considered an advanced welfare state. In Sweden, the government "takes care" of you from birth to death. But the bill for this kind of care comes high.

Those who live in the delusion that government provides free service will find it instructive to compare the taxes paid by U.S. citizens against those paid by their Swedish counterparts.

In the United States, which so far is only partly welfarized, taxes take about 22 per cent of a single person's income and about 18 per cent of a married couple without children.

Social-welfare Sweden is the highest taxed nation in Europe. Total taxes paid by the average worker in Sweden now exceed 40 per cent of his income, according to U.S. News & World Report. Swedish people in the medium-income bracket of about $8,000 a year pay well over 50 per cent if all taxes are added up.

★ ★ ★

No, the security of the welfare state is not free. Moreover, it is provided at the expense of liberty, for certainly there can be little liberty where people have lost the power of decision over their productive efforts.

Entertainment Comes Unassembled

By DICK SAUNDERS

I've stumbled upon a groovy way to entertain dinner guests during the summer months.

SAUNDERS

The name of the game is Grill-o. What you need is a dismantled charcoal grill, a set of impossible instructions and some drinks for the construction crew.

It all started last Saturday when we had some guests for dinner.

Problem No. 1 was that the new grill, completely dismantled and packed tightly in a box, preceded the guests by only about an hour.

★ ★ ★

As the delivery man drove away, I shrugged a confident shrug. After all, a veteran assembler of bicycles, picnic tables and numerous toys can't get too excited over the prospects of throwing together something as elementary as a charcoal grill.

Methodically, I laid out every part on the lawn. Slowly that empty feeling came to my stomach. This was no ordinary grill (the only one I had been acquainted with to date consisted of three legs attached to a pot).

★ ★ ★

This thing was more like a triple decker, with wheels, shelves, immense firetray, all sorts of fancy adjustments, a hood, air ducts, a scientific looking heat indicator, and an electrically driven spit.

Then I opened the parts envelope and out tumbled several thousand assorted nuts, bolts, clamps and thumb screws. At that moment, I knew I was dead.

The first thing on the instruction list was a curt statement warning me to completely assemble the brazier before starting on the hood.

★ ★ ★

I asked my wife if a brazier was what I thought it was. "Certainly not," she replied with a slight blush. "I think it's what you fasten the hood to," she commented. No help.

When the guests arrived I had the back and one side of the hood bolted together. I stopped to serve liquid refreshment.

An hour later, I fumbled for the necessary nuts and bolts for Step No. 4 in the 20-step instruction sheet. My male guest decided to help.

★ ★ ★

Slowly the hood took shape. The hamburg waited. The women made sarcastic remarks, I served more sweet elixir.

Finally, the women came over for a curt inspection. One picked up a screwdriver. The other glanced at the instructions. And the game was on.

Before I knew it, everyone was slapping parts together faster than I could mix drinks. "But the instructions," I cried. "To blazes with the instructions," came a reply.

★ ★ ★

It started getting cold. My guests asked for their coats. It was wild . . . a seething mass of humanity huddled around a pile of metal rapidly taking the form of a grill.

Those little bolts were getting hard to see. The women were giggling. I sat back, contented with my glass of ambrosia, tossed on a stack of jazz records and thoroughly enjoyed the spectacle unfolding before me.

The grill turned out just fine. We had a half dozen bolts left over, but the meal was delicious.

★ ★ ★

Everyone had a ball.

Now, I'm going to dismantle it and put it back in the box for the next dinner party. The record to beat is about two hours and 45 minutes.

Doused!

David Lawrence Says:

Inflation Crisis Stirs Warnings

WASHINGTON — The inflation crisis is building up. The administration is issuing sharp warnings. The emphasis being placed on the need for a tax increase and a cut in the budget is unprecedented.

LAWRENCE

A memorandum from Arthur M. Okun, chairman of the President's Council of Economic Advisers, draws attention to a report from the Bureau of Labor Statistics concerning wage and price development during the first quarter of this year. The memorandum says:

"Reflecting the widespread strength of demand and rising costs, virtually all commodity and service groups registered sharp advances in prices . . .

★ ★ ★

"The rate of increase in prices of manufactured goods more than doubled, reflecting rising costs and strong demand . . . .

"Both wage rates and hourly compensation rose more rapidly in the first quarter than at any time in more than a decade . . . The outlook is for even higher settlements this quarter, as evidenced by the telephone settlement and recent construction bargaining . . . .

PROFITS GAIN

"Profits gained in the first quarter despite the higher labor costs . . . .

"Wage and profit behavior once again demonstrated the self-defeating nature of inflation . . . .

"Fiscal restraint is a must to moderate demand and to achieve a slowdown in price increases. Until a tax increase is enacted, there will be growing strains on prices, costs, imports, and financial markets at home and abroad."

But the chairman of the Council of Economic Advisers says that, even with action on the tax bill, "the route back to price stability will be long and difficult."

SIMILAR OBSERVATIONS

Similar observations have been made for the last year and a half. The pressure for some kind of deflationary measure, such as an increase in taxes, has been steadily growing.

Nobody likes a tax increase — least of all the politicians — but the economists say it is necessary to curb inflation or, at the minimum, to hold down the rate of acceleration.

An economic decline would, of course, affect the general public. It would have effects abroad, too. Once a deflation gets going, it can move faster than the proponents of the tax increase ever thought it would. But, as has happened so often in the past, the remedies that should be applied are better seen in retrospect — after the climax has come.

The President's Council of Economic Advisers sums up the current situation this way:

"The over-all economic environment of booming demand is the main explanation for the acceleration of price and cost increases."

As long as a boom seems to be in progress, it is hard to convince members of Congress that they should enact an increase in taxes. Their excuse, of course, is that the administration has failed to come up with a substantial cut in expenditures.

As a matter of fact, a curtailment of several billions in government spending would tend to slow down the boom in many areas.

NEW YORK — I never thought I'd fall in love with a racetrack again. Then, somebody took the cover off the new Belmont.

CONSIDINE

It's a doll. It's not a silly millimeter longer. It's a quarter of a mile longer than any other track. Everything else is bigger and longer than any other track. Lunch on opening day lasted six races.

★ ★ ★

The bar was a quarter of a mile farther away from our table. Toots Shor made it first but was placed last when the veterinarian in the white jacket behind the bar, Dr. Harry Stevens, detected traces of an earlier Bloody Mary. Toots was set down for the season.

They've got trees at Belmont older than Max Hirsch, waiters that apparently were dressed by Oleg Cassini, swans by Madame Tussaud, beautiful people in the club house who are properly shielded from the players, the finest horses, owners, trainers and, of course, best outdoor food since the Loaves and Fishes.

NO BUMS ENCOURAGED

No horsepark bums are encouraged in the clubhouse. ("Dress for clubhouse patrons will be the same as required in the Saratoga clubhouse.")

It costs a buck to park your car, but the gentleman's club atmosphere prevails even there. "Tipping is strictly prohibited," says a sign which is likely to be about as respected as the signs along the River Jordan which read, "no shooting permitted."

★ ★ ★

Belmont always meant more than mere gambling in the days of yore when it was making horse gambling respectable. And it still does.

Tonight, on the eve of the 100th running of the Belmont Stakes, Mrs. Nelson Rockefeller will be honorary chairman of the Belmont Ball for the benefit of the Heart and Lung Foundation, Skidmore College and the Saratoga Museum of Racing.

The French used to say, when they had a country, that the more a thing changes the more it is the same. They had Belmont in mind.

If you want to lose your money under the happiest possible conditions, with richly flavored overtones of the dear dead days when knighthood and the buck were in flower, don't miss the biggest roulette wheel in America.

Doctor Shortage

Columbus (Ohio) Dispatch

Everyone seems to be aware of the crisis that is developing in the United States health services and for once something appears about to be done about the problem.

Back in 1967 the National Advisory Commission on Health Manpower gave official recognition to the shortage of physicians and predicted that the shortage would worsen in relationship to the growing population's need regardless of the anticipated increase in the number of medical school graduates of the future.

★ ★ ★

Admonition of the commission became one of the five major goals outlined in the President's "Health in America" message early in 1968. In that address he urged Congress "to meet the urgent need for more doctors, nurses and other health workers."

★ ★ ★

Now a joint statement issued by the American Medical Association and the Association of American Medical Colleges has brought the need and their recommendations for meeting it into single focus in a proposed program.

Immediate steps that must be taken, in the informed opinion of the medical profession, include increasing the enrollment in exising medical schools while new teaching facilities are being constructed.

Now all that remains is to find a not too painful way to produce the money which can make all this possible. Once a problem is clearly understood as our shortage of medical people is, the solution will be found sooner or later. Sooner, we must hope.

Defiance . . .

Buffalo Evening News

The action by a New York City parents' group in occupying a Brooklyn school and barring entrance to five "dismissed" teachers has prompted cries of outrage by the city's United Federation of Teachers in newspaper ads demanding the use of police to defend the teachers.

★ ★ ★

What most intrigues us about the teachers' ad, is the heavy emphasis they put on "democratic due process" and respect for law. Undoubtedly they have a point when they protest that the teachers "barred by outsiders from entering their schools" were "illegally fired by telegram . . . no charges . . . no hearings . . . no due process . . . in contravention of state law and Board of Education regulations."

★ ★ ★

Reprehensible, such defiance of due process. But where—last autumn when it crippled the city's schools in a three-week outlaw strike—was the UFT's respect in practice for what it now preaches?

Defiance of the due process of law is contagious — especially so when pupils learn from teachers, more by example than precept, to interpret "law and order" to suit their own purposes.

'Questions on Repairs Remain Unanswered'

During the winter I read two letters in the Voice of the People asking when the long block in front of Washington Junior High would be repaired. No one from the City ever replied. No one from the City has ever lifted a finger apparently to correct one of the worst long blocks on the North American continent. Is it because:

A—The City doesn't care?
B—The Road Commission's asleep?
C—All repair work has ceased?

Isn't it the part of civic decency for someone to answer these questions?

Your picture of the new downtown parking mall was splendid, but did you notice those many useless and vacant benches throughout the block? Mount Clemens Man Held in Slaying of Drag Racer

SOUTHGATE (AP) — A 23-year-old Mount Clemens man was ordered held in Wayne County jail without bond on a first degree murder charge Thursday in the fatal shooting of a St. Louis, Mo., drag strip race driver.

Norman Hilliker Jr., who was arrested after an apparent gun battle early Thursday, demanded a court examination when he appeared before Municipal Court Judge Joseph F. Sutka. It was set for June 6.

Hilliker stood mute on the charge when he was arraigned before the judge.

He was charged with the death of Harry Hovis, 39, who suffered three bullet wounds in the chest in a motel room at Southgate, a Detroit suburb.

ARGUMENT REPORTED

Southgate Detective Frank Toures said Hovis, who was scheduled to enter a drag-strip meet near Monroe, apparently met Hilliker for the first time Wednesday night.

* * *

He said that after eating in a restaurant and having a few drinks, the two men went to Hovis's motel room.

The two reportedly got into an argument while discussing guns, the detective said. Toures said indications were that both men may have fired one or more shots.

* * *

Hilliker, who had a revolver in his hand, was arrested as he left the motel room, police said. He offered no resistance.

* * *

Hovis' body was found on the floor of the motel room. A 45-caliber and a 32-caliber gun were taken to police headquarters for ballistics tests.

Junior Editors Quiz on STALAGMITES

QUESTION: How are stalactites and stalagmites formed?

★ ★ ★

ANSWER: Did you ever hear of a spelunker? There are two in our picture. They are people just like the rest of us except that they have a special hobby of exploring underground caves.

There are many such caves in America and other places, where bats sleep by the thousands during the day and underground water trickles in sluggish streams or collects in pools.

But the most remarkable sight which rewards the spelunker is that of strange-pointed forms hanging down, resembling icicles in shape but actually of enduring stone. These are called stalactites, usually found in caves where there is limestone.

Water, trickling from above through cracks in the limestone, carries calcite, a mineral, along with it. Adhering to the roof, deposits of the mineral cause hanging stalactites, more calcite making them gradually wider and longer.

As water drips from their points, the calcite forms other shapes which build up from the cavern floor; these are stalagmites. The two formations sometimes join, forming a stone column.

Spock Codefendant Denies Conspiracy

BOSTON (AP) — Yale Chaplain William Sloane Coffin Jr. has testified he and Dr. Benjamin Spock scarely knew each other at the time they are charged with starting a conspiracy against the draft.

★ ★ ★

Coffin, first of the five defendants to testify, told an all-male jury in U.S. District Court that he "exchanged a few words" with the pediatrician at a 1965 rally of the Committee for a Sane Nuclear Policy in New York.

★ ★ ★

Coffin said he did not see the 65-year-old Spock again until August 1967, when the government charges the conspiracy started. Coffin, 43, testified he had not met the other three codefendants at the time.

The chaplain testified Wednesday before the trial was recessed for Memorial Day. It resumes today.

The five defendants are accused of conspiring to aid, abet and counsel youths to avoid the draft. Maximum penalty is a five-year prison term and $10,000 fine.

On trial with Coffin and Spock are Mitchell Goodman, 44, New York writer and teacher; Michael Ferber, 23, Harvard graduate student; and Marcus Raskin, 34, a Washington research director.

★ ★ ★

Spock, Goodman and Ferber also are scheduled to testify. No committment has been made by his lawyer, Calvin Bartlett, for Raskin to testify.

Under direct examination by his lawyer, James St. Clair of Boston, Coffin said he became "particularly concerned" about the draft and the Vietnam war early in 1965 when President Johnson committed more U.S. troops to the Southeast Asia country.

Steel Talks Off to Good Start

PITTSBURGH (AP) — A critical phase of the labor negotiations for the nation's basic steel industry is winding up this week, apparently giving bargainers their best start in years for contract talks.

Because of an early start and a switch in format, thousands of local issues have been settled during six weeks of intensive plant and company bargaining.

★ ★ ★

Now labor and industry management teams will be able to start on the basic economic package in New York on Monday without many of the distractions that bottled up past negotiations.

"Theres some real trailblazing going on," said a veteran official of the United Steelworkers of American headquarters team.

CRISIS ATMOSPHERE

He said the decision to put the local negotiations first was unprecedented for the American labor movement as far as he knew. In the past, the industry-wide settlement was worked out first, then the local bargaining began, usually in the crisis atmosphere of an approaching strike deadline.

"This has given us an opportunity to get at the gut issues that used to get people all worked up," he said. As an example, he pointed to the rash of local walkouts that followed companywide settlements in the auto industry this year.

★ ★ ★

Labor and management, both anxious to avoid tempting government intervention with a strike during wartime and an election year, worked out the stepped-up timetable and the procedural change after a proposal for arbitration fell through.

★ ★ ★

Both sides say that nobody gains when the government steps into negotiations as it has 13 times in the 20 major steel settlements since 1937.

EXPIRES AUG. 1

The contract for the 450,000 steelworkers expires Aug. 1. A strike has been predicted by many industry-related insiders, such as purchasing agents. Steel consumers have been stockpiling at record rates.

The number of local issues brought to the bargaining table by the 450,000 steelworkers was huge. One local in Ohio produced more than 4,000. Lists of 800 or more were common in the mills around Pittsburgh.

The rank and file wanted such things as a new parking lot, the washroom painted, brighter lights in the halls, a fulltime doctor, or incentive pay for janitors.

When they couldn't be settled at the plant level, negotiations that began in April were bucked to the company level this month.

There is no count on how many were cleared away. But officials who will talk at union headquarters say the atmosphere is unusually good.

An Associated Press check of district and local officials found more reports of optimism. Some locals reported they had settled days before Monday's deadline.

"I've never seen it go so good," said one district official who asked that his name not be used.

"I guess it doesn't sound like union talk, but we're in real fine shape around here. My boys are happy with what they got. And you better believe I'd hear from them if they weren't."

Mayor Upset

DECATUR, Ill. (AP) — Mayor James H. Rupp was upset Thursday in a nonpolitical battle with City Manager W. Robert Sample. Sample topped Rupp in a canoe-jousting contest on Lake Decatur, part of a Memorial Day celebration.

What would your wife say if you came home with an Olds tonight?
You've probably talked new cars, and shopped the low-priced names. So it's mainly the fact that it's an Olds she'll be reacting to, right? So . . .
If she's the practical type, she'll blow a gasket. Because she thinks an Olds is more car than you were planning to buy.
You'll have to talk fast and make the point that this Cutlass cost less than many of the low-priced "names" you looked at. (Even with the Tilt-Wheel you ordered just for her.)
Now, if she's the emotional type, she won't care about details. She'll take one look at Cutlass and kiss you. Then she'll look at that plush Cutlass interior, and kiss you again.
Either way, you'll be a hero by the hearth tonight.

Artist's Talent Not a 'Sometime' Thing

By JEANNE NELSON

Artistry is the prevailing mood of decor at the John Steinhauser home in Bloomfield Village.

Its total significance is expressed in a number of ways. Often to be found in many fine old-world pieces of furniture, then moving on the intricately-carved works in ivory, its final form is discovered in the choice oils and watercolors displayed throughout.

★ ★ ★

For one-time professional artist, Pat Steinhauser, many of these treasures represent memories as an art student in Florence, Italy. "Too bad," Pat recalls of those days 'the old building which had been turned into a student residence was so cold she and the others couldn't manipulate the brushes.

★ ★ ★

Seeking out warmer climes and new adventures, the youthful group found Spain and Egypt boundless treasures for new subject matter. Their wanderings took them to a number of countries and whether by design or otherwise, a few arrivals coincided with politically exciting times.

AWARENESS

Pat, being the daughter of Montreal's George S. Mooney, noted humanitarian and political administrator, was keenly aware of these choice opportunities at first hand observances.

Her father's work for many years as head of the United Nations Relief and Rehabilitation Association had provided the sensitive young art student with an insight into other peoples' struggles.

But when a letter bearing John's proposal finally caught up with the group, carefree student days were ended and a new life begun. Most of the Steinhausers' married life has been spent in England and Switzerland where John, marketing executive of the Far East and Africa, had been assigned by Chrysler Corporation.

★ ★ ★

Four children later and the demanding role of corporation wife has taken its toll of artistic talent. Tools had long been packed away until just recently when a cry for help came from the Meadow Brook Fair committee. Out came the brushes and up came the daisies. With the completion of all the art work for this event, once more they're relegated to the basement.

Lucky for family and friends, Pat's creativity isn't limited to canvas for she's also an artist in the kitchen. Gourmet foods are a specialty and the lady's quiche Lorraine is a true compliment to the land of its origin.

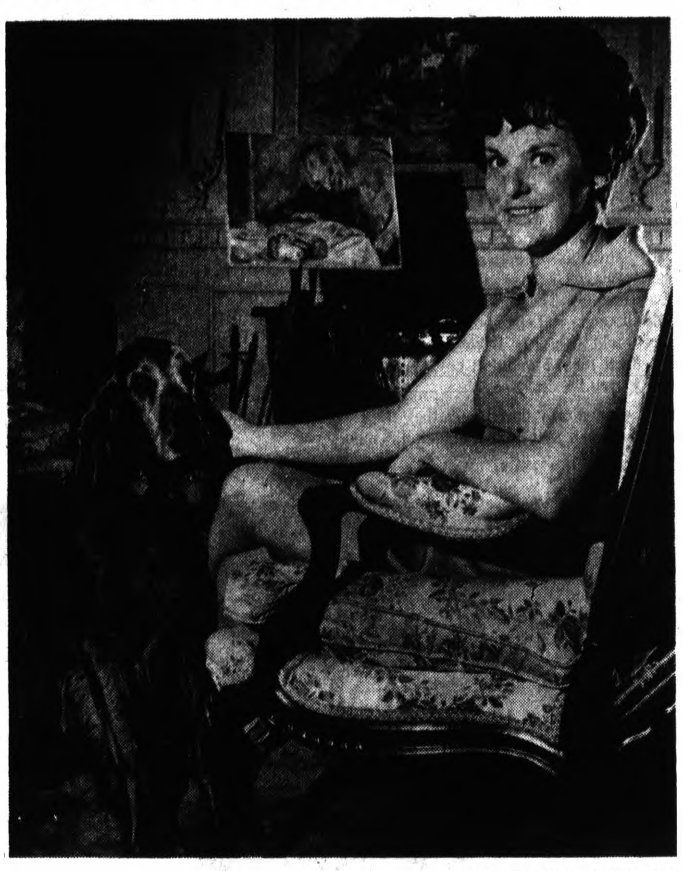

WOMEN'S ROLE

Recounting differences in living here and abroad, the attractive redhead listed the attitudes of women as an important one. "In Europe they are less apt to become so involved in community affairs as they are here.

"And they spend more time in the kitchen where most foods and sauces are made from scratch. Homemakers there would never dream of using the prepared foods so available here."

On schools, Pat relates that the boys, John, 10; Chris, 8; and Mark, 6 have all adjusted well, in fact have forgotten most of their French. Two-year-old Sharon couldn't care less.

I couldn't help but notice that the old life hasn't been quite forgotten when Mark started hunting for his cricket bat.

MRS. JOHN STEINHAUSER AND BRANDY

'No Applause' Letter Writer Gets Comments

By ELIZABETH L. POST

Dear Mrs. Post: I wish to comment on the letter and answer printed under the heading "No Applause" in one of your recent columns.

It has long been realized that the suppression of applause at concerts in church is a detriment to the success of these performances. Many churches are now encouraging audiences to applaud, and, in a few instances, encouraging their congregations to make spontaneous exclamations during the course of worship.

★ ★ ★

No doubt this offends the sensibilities of those who feel that established social conventions are paramount and immutable. The solemnity of silence is a valuable element in public functions, but when it is used to prevent people from displaying their appreciation for a performance, its value may be weighed with care.

In the instance cited in the letter, the audience was undoubtedly careless in violating the program instructions, but the concert management probably displayed the greater insensitivity in issuing them in the first place. The cultivation of sound habits of public behavior is not enhanced by adherence to outworn customs. — Perry T. Marshall

★ ★ ★

Dear Mr. Marshall: I have no desire to adhere to outworn customs, nor do I feel that established conventions are paramount or immutable. But I am glad that not all churches encourage "spontaneous exclamation." To many of us, our religion is a personal and private thing, and we find reverent and respectful meditation more meaningful than the unrestrained participation in the service of other parishioners.

FLOWER GIRLS

Dear Mrs. Post: I'm planning to be married in June. I will have a matron of honor and two bridesmaids. Would it be proper to have two flower girls? They are my nieces, ages four and a half and six and a half, and are well-behaved.

Are long dresses proper on little girls at summer weddings if the bridesmaids wear them? — Jane

★ ★ ★

Dear Jane: I see no reason both nieces should not be flower girls. If they are almost the same size they would be adorable walking together; otherwise, have the shorter one walk ahead of the other.

They may, and should, wear long dresses similar to those of the bridesmaids, but modified in style to be becoming to little girls.

Miss Shorey Weds in California

The Presbyterian Church of Bellflower, Calif. was the setting Thursday for vows between Lorraine Evelyn Shorey and Timothy John Gordon of Bellflower.

Their parents are the Robert B. Shoreys of Wenonah Drive and Mr. and Mrs. John A. Gordon of Archdale Street, West Bloomfield Township.

★ ★ ★

For the afternoon rite, the bride chose a white day length dress of lace and organza with three-quarter puff sleeve, jewel neckline and shirtwaist ruffle. Her short illusion veil was capped with a petal cluster. She carried a white orchid bouquet centered in orange blossoms.

ATTENDANTS

The bride's sister, Mrs. John A. LeClair of La Grange, Ill., and Robert Rives of Whittier, Calif., were honor attendants for the couple.

★ ★ ★

Before departing for a honeymoon in Palm Springs, Calif. the newlyweds greeted guests at a reception in the Robert Rives' home in Whittier.

New Officers Elected to PSH Citizens' Unit

Bill Heaton will assume the office of president of the Oakland County Citizen's Committee of the Pontiac State Hospital with Francis Grady as vice president.

★ ★ ★

Also elected during Saturday's meeting, at the new Fairlawn Center, were Mrs. James Johnson, secretary and Mrs. Joseph Kochan, treasurer. Hortense Riddick will serve as chairman of the board with members Jchn Hill, Mike Cirka, Helen Ostrander and Anna Wurm.

Directors finishing out their two year term were Mrs. Fred Varnum and Melvin Schuett.

Alumnae Set Potluck

The University of Minnesota Women's Club has scheduled a potluck luncheon June 7 at 12:15 p.m. at the Peabody Drive home of Mrs. Robert Hefty. Cohostesses will be Mrs. M. S. Alsager, Mrs. John Strang and Mrs. H. R. Melin.

★ ★ ★

Following the meal, the installation of officers for the coming year will take place

They are: Mesdames Harold Nyberg, president; Spencer White and T. E. Olson, vice-presidents; Robert Cunningham and Steven Eckholm, secretaries, and John Joyner and Robert Hefty, treasurers.

A Free Country

Reader Defends Modern Movies

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: "Sold Out" had her say about dirty movies, and you let Jack Valenti have his say. Now I'd like to have my say:

ABBY

The movie industry is not in business to lose money. They make dirty movies because people go to see them. (They also made "Sound of Music," "Mary Poppins," "Dr. Doolittle," and Walt Disneys, which didn't exactly put them in the hole, either.)

However, this is a free country, and I never yet saw a theater manager standing outside with a gun, forcing people to go inside.

★ ★ ★

Furthermore, what is "dirty?" If they can show cold-blooded murder, torture, crime and violence in every conceivable form, for my money, they can show lovemaking.

LIKES THE MOVIES

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY: My husband never graduated from high school but he has a very good job at the mill. His name keeps coming up for promotion as he is very smart, but here is the problem:

★ ★ ★

He never learned how to read and write. Somehow he managed to get by anyway. He's no dummy. He can figure out mathematical problems in his head and knows history dates and events like a college graduate. He listens to the news on the radio and is up on everything, but when it comes to reading, he doesn't know dog from cat.

★ ★ ★

I have tried to teach him, but it's hopeless. His boss keeps after him to take tests for advancement, but my husband keeps ducking them because he doesn't want anyone to know he can't read or write. I filled out the job application for him. That's how he got his job in the first place. How can I help him? He feels so ashamed because of his ignorance.

HIS WIFE

★ ★ ★

DEAR WIFE: Your husband's problem is not as unusual as you think. He could have a "mental block" due to an emotional problem, which is nothing to be ashamed of. Find out what is available for adults through your local board of public education. If your husband is too self-conscious to attend classes, perhaps private tutoring can be arranged.

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY: Is it all right to ask for gifts back that were given to a girl for a wedding that never took place?

The teen-age daughter of a friend of mine was going to be married rather suddenly four months ago, so to help out, some friends and I got together some blankets, linens, towels and dishes so she could start housekeeping.

★ ★ ★

The wedding was called off as suddenly as it was announced and the girl is back in school again like nothing happened.

★ ★ ★

Naturally, we all expected our gifts to be returned right away, but they weren't. One of the other women who contributed said she asked the girl's mother for her gift back and all she got was a blank stare. Should I ask for mine?

PUZZLED

DEAR PUZZLED: You may ask, but don't be surprised if you, too, are ignored. People who must be dunned aren't above ignoring their obligations indefinitely.

★ ★ ★

CONFIDENTIAL to Musician's Wife: Don't judge all single women by the kind who proposition your husband. Musicians are constantly "on stage" and therefore are pursued by aggressive women. But the musician who doesn't want to be bothered need only to ignore the overtures, and the dames out front will soon get the pitch.

Mr. and Mrs. James E. Warrick of Wagon Wheel Drive announce the betrothal and upcoming October marriage of their daughter, Margaret Starr, to Dennis Malcolm Cox. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Horace V. Cox of Detroit. Miss Warrick recently graduated from Carroll College, Waukesha, Wis.

An Aug. 17 wedding is planned by Pamela Ann Goller of Alpha Street, West Bloomfield Township and Gaylen E. Decker of Milford. The bride elect, a graduate of Defiance College, Defiance, Ohio, is the daughter of the Url Gollers of New Bavaria, Ohio. Her fiance, an alumnus of Wayne State Teachers College, Wayne, Neb., is the son of the Robert Deckers of Humboldt, Iowa.

St. Dunstan's Guild Presents Comedy in 'Teahouse of the August Moon'

Bob Woodruff of Bloomfield Village rehearses a scene from "Teahouse of the August Moon" to be presented by St. Dunstan's Guild of Cranbrook in five performances beginning June 7. The play, by John Patrick, will be done in the Greek Theater on Lone Pine Road. Curtain time is 9 p.m. Woodruff plays Sakini, the interpreter.

A live goat and a jeep driven on stage will contribute to the hilarity of the proceedings during presentation by St. Dunstan's Guild of John Patrick's comedy "Teahouse of the August Moon."

Performances are scheduled June 7 and 8, 13, 14, and 15, with curtain going up at 9 p.m. each evening.

★ ★ ★

The plot revolves around the contest between military bureaucracy versus native Okinawan interpretation of the rules, in the building of a pentagon-shaped school house, which somehow turns into a teahouse.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Roger Craton is playing Lotus Blossom, a geisha girl who speaks only Okinawan. For their roles, she and other players have learned Okinawan words from a Japanese priest who also taught Mrs. Craton the formal tea service.

★ ★ ★

Mogens Klopp is directing the comedy, assisted by Mrs. Otis Thompson. Mrs. Tobin Rote is producer, assisted by Mrs. Richard Guilford.

PERFORMERS

Other performers are Bob Woodruff as Sakini, the interpreter, Dick Guilford as Col. Purdy; Bill Everson as Capt. Fisby, Stanford Stoddard as the army psychiatrist.

★ ★ ★

★ ★ ★

The children are portrayed by Polly Jo Wheaton, Susan Hammond, Mimi Page and Peter Guilford.

★ ★ ★

Stage hands, under direction of Ira Wilson, will be dressed as Okinawan villagers.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Ira Wilson and Mrs. William Holmes have handled the costuming.

Tickets are available at Grinnell's or through Mrs. Richard Hartle.

'Women Alone' Face Problems Both Practical, Psychological

In the United States today widows far outnumber widowers and many more divorced females remain single than their male counterparts. Once a woman loses her husband — either through death or divorce — she leaves the main stream of American society and becomes an outsider. Americans over twenty-five normally live in a society of couples. How does the woman — once part of that society and now cut off from it — survive?

Isabella Taves, herself a recent widow — her husband was Dan Mich, former editor of "Look" — traveled all over the United States interviewing widows and divorcees to find the answer. She also questioned women alone in the Far East, South America, and Europe. In "Women Alone," published June 5, 1968, by Funk & Wagnalls, she tells how such women fill their social, economic and sexual needs, and provides some remarkable and startling insight into the world of the female "outsider."

★ ★ ★

Generally, women live longer than men and are less susceptible to the acute diseases that kill men in the prime. "Men alone" remarry faster than their female counterparts, and normally they seek new partners much younger than themselves. The "woman alone" has an additional problem: University of California scientists estimate that three to four million adult single males are homosexuals. A divorcee from New York said to Miss Taves ". . . If a man doesn't make a pass by the third or fourth date, you think he's a homosexual."

The "woman alone" — with her new freedom — has a powerful appeal to men. Not only single, she is experienced — and presumably lonely. This tends to terrify and alienate her best (female-married) friends, but it attracts men. A divorcee from Kansas City said, "Then there's the wife who does invite you, and you spend all evening fending off her husband's passes."

LOSE SELF-ESTEEM

One Wisconsin widow commented, "When I was left alone, I felt worthless. Even when people invited me to dinner, I didn't think they wanted me, they just did it for Joe's memory." An Iowa widow said, "Living alone in a Middle Western town, I've almost forgotten that there are two sexes." Most of the women quizzed were all as anxious to talk as Isabella Taves was to listen, although a Long Island divorcee told her, "If I knew how to meet men, I wouldn't be talking to you."

Many women are dazed and bewildered when they lose their husbands. One widow said, "I considered suicide. The first three months after my husband died, I checked the medicine cabinet every night to be sure my secret cache of sleeping pills was still there." A divorcee said, "It was like the building was on fire and I had to rush out and grab the first man — that if I didn't remarry within a year I would die."

★ ★ ★

But while most women survive the initial shock — in fact, better than most men — it is not until later that the real problems set in. A major one is sex. How, for instance, can an experienced woman tell a man she does not want to sleep with him? Will it increase his interest or will he drop her and hurry to someone else? Miss Taves concludes, "The woman alone must know what she wants," and believes that it isn't what happens to the woman that matters, but rather what she does about what happens to her.

★ ★ ★

"Women alone" relates how widows and divorcees react to their new lives, how they travel, where they find men, what adjustments they have made in their moral code, how they cope with their children and those of prospective husbands, where they find jobs, and how they handle money.

Post Office Serves All of 27 Patrons

AGATE, Neb. (AP) — Mrs. Margaret Cook is the postmistress of a post office here in a building that measures only 12 by 15 feet. She has been in charge since 1942 at the fourth-class post office on the Cook ranch in the Nebraska Panhandle, midway between Harrison and Mitchell.

★ ★ ★

Twenty-seven patrons are served by the postage-stamp-sized facility, which does about $500 worth of stamp business a year. Most receive their mail from a route handled by Mrs. Irene Taylor of Harrison, but a few come to pick up their letters. Mrs. Cook admits her job is not very pressing.

Helps Her Understand

DEAR POLLY — When our daughter was 16 months old, we learned that she needed glasses. To help her get used to the idea and the feel of glasses, and so she would understand that she was to wear them all the time, I bought a pair of child's sunglasses, removed the glass and had her wear the empty frames. When her real glasses arrived, the novelty of wearing glasses had worn off.—CYNDI

★ ★ ★

DEAR POLLY — Spring is here, and with it the many invitations to bridal showers and weddings. I used to worry about gifts and what would be suitable or wanted. Now I decided what I want to spend, then choose three or four magazines within the amount.

I make a list of them and include it in a letter to the bride-to-be and ask that she and her fiance make their selection and include their permanent address after marriage to send in with the subscription. I am certain that my gift will not be duplicated and have to be exchanged. — ELLEN

DEAR POLLY — I hope some clever reader can tell me why it is necessary to line dresser drawers. Is it really necessary? — MRS. D. W.

DEAR POLLY — When making drop cookies, I use the same amount of dough in each cookie by using a melon ball scooper. This forms the dough into balls. It is especially good if you have a young child learning to cook or who wants to help. — B.C.

DEAR POLLY — I tailor my own clothes and am forever buying beautiful materials when I see them on sale. Storing them for quick availability was a problem until I bought two see-through shoe holders which contain 10 shelves. I now see what I want when I need it. Sewing Machine Should Be Tried Before Purchase

UNIVERSITY PARK, Pa. (UPI) — Persons considering purchasing a new sewing machine should test it thoroughly beforehand, says Mrs. Ruth Ann Wilson, extension clothing specialist of Pennsylvania State University.

Mrs. Wilson advised buyers to take pieces of fabric they like to work with or expect to use when visiting a dealer because store samples often are basic fabrics.

★ ★ ★

From the standpoint of operation, see if the machine runs well at all speeds and if it starts and stops smoothly. Also find out if threading and bobbin winding are simple procedures and see if adjustments are accessible and that light focuses on the work area.

Miss Dianne Fay Becomes Bride of Jerry Seiling

Following a reception recently at White Lake Township Hall, Jerry Lee Seiling and his bride (nee Dianne Marie Fay) departed for a honeymoon trip to southern Indiana.

The daughter of Mrs. Rose Fay of Pontiac Lake Road and Raymond Fay of Miami, Fla., and son of Ralph Seiling of Edison Street and the late Mrs. Seiling were married earlier that afternoon in St. Michael's Catholic Church.

★ ★ ★

Attended by Michelle Livermore, the former Miss Fay was attired in an A-line organza sheath accented at the neckline and wrist with Chantilly lace. A matching tiered organza train complemented her ensemble.

Rose petals, trimmed with matching lace, capped the bride's veil of illusion as she carried white carnations with Star of Bethlehem.

Dawn Seiling and Chris Bowker were flower girl and ring bearer with Frank Wooliver ushering. Best man honors were performed by James Seiling.

25 NORTH SAGINAW STREET

Susan Lynn Cinowa is engaged to marry George Rollin Tuttle in February, 1969. The engagement is announced by her parents, the Joseph J. Cinowas of Dearborn Heights. Her fiance's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Rollin J. Tuttle of Walled Lake. He attended Lawrence Institute of Technology and Oakland Community College.

The betrothal is announced of Trisha Gayle Spaysky to James Clark Roe, by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Spaysky of Midland Street. Parents of the bridegroom - to - be are Mrs. Elaine Roe of Baybrook Street and Allison Roe of Troy. A late summer wedding is planned.

Fete Planned for Fiftieth

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Rottmann are planning a golden wedding anniversary dinner Sunday, with open house all afternoon, in honor of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Jacobs of New Haven.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Rottman's two brothers and their wives, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Jacobs of Armada and Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Jacobs of Mount Clemens, will be attending the event in the Bonnie Briar, White Lake Township, home of their sister.

The elder Jacobses were married June 5, 1918. They have six grandchildren and seven great-grandchildren.

A charcoal tablet placed in water that holds cut flowers will help to keep the water pure.

Lenore Romney to Be Honored

LANSING (AP) — Mrs. Lenore Romney, wife of the governor, will receive an honorary doctor of humanities degree from Eastern Michigan University at commencement exercises June 8.

Fluff-Dry Diapers to Avoid Chafing

Dryer tumbling after laundering fluffs diapers to comfortable softness, shakes out wrinkles and makes folding easier.

If diapers are to be line-dried, a fabric softener is desirable to prevent chafing and increase baby's comfort. This should be used periodically during laundering.

Why Others Must Carry Dr. King's Burden

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

As the man used to say, "This Is Your Life," dear Bertha, my black-skinned friend.

At 5:30 a.m. every day, six days a week, your alarm clock wakes you. In your ghetto's 1½-room apartment, you wash and dress in your street clothes. Then you check the bag containing the clothes of labor. Is there time to kiss your sleepy baby into wakefulness? I wouldn't know how he knows you love him, so little time do you have together.

★ ★ ★

But he does know, the sleepy small one. So he gets up, yawning, not fussing, as you wash, dress, feed and otherwise prepare him for philanthropy's day nursery and his motherless day of finger-painting, of story hour and whatever other "educational" experiences that the too-tiny crania of the welfare system's dinosaurs have been able to conceive.

Meanwhile, you struggle for space on buses crowded with other black mothers on their way to the cleaning of white women's houses, the polishing of their silver, the waxing of their floors, the shining of their bathroom fixtures — and whatever else they can think of to avoid doing for themselves. At 5:30 p.m. is it over?

It has just begun, hasn't it? There's the too-crowded bus again, recovery of the baby from his "educational" experiences, to be followed then by shopping for food and the cooking of it. Then, not unusually, the small one turns himself into a "bedtime" problem.

Sometimes you can remember that he won't go to sleep because he has had so little of you that he can't stand losing you again in sleep. But mostly you cannot remember this, too tired as you are, bone-tired, heart-tired now. So heart-tired now that the shadow life of shadow people in your television screen is the only life you have strength to live.

★ ★ ★

I want this no more for you. I am sick unto death of the sentence passed by this society on poor, husbandless, working mothers — solitary confinement within four walls night upon endless night.

Marine Convicted on Lesser Charge in Viet Slaying

QUANTICO, Va. (AP) — Marine Cpl. Stanley J. Luczko Jr., 22, has been convicted of voluntary manslaughter in the fatal shooting of an elderly Vietnamese woman while Luczko was on a patrol.

The eight-officer Marine court-martial which found Luczko guilty Thursday night meets today to set sentence. The maximum sentence would be 10 years at hard labor and a dishonorable discharge.

★ ★ ★

A Marine legal officer said the character references from Luczko's neighbors in Gardner, Mass., plus his "outstanding" service record could weigh heavily in Luczko's favor.

★ ★ ★

It was even possible, he said, that Luczko might walk free after a sentence equal to the 15 months he has spent in the Portsmouth, N.H. Naval Prison since his first trial where he was convicted of premediatated murder.

EARLIER TRIAL

That trial, in Da Nang, Vietnam, led to a sentence of life imprisonment, but the conviction and sentence were overturned by a Navy Board of Review which found legal errors in the proceedings.

The woman, Nguyen Thi Co, was slain while Luczko was leading a combat patrol near Chu Lai on Sept. 22, 1966.

★ ★ ★

Formal testimony in the retrial wound up after Luczko took the stand to dispute prosecution testimony that he had slain her.

He denied statements from two members of that patrol who testified that Luczko speculated on the size a .45-caliber bullet would make in the woman, shot her through the forehead with his service automatic, then ordered another Marine to "finish her off."

WITNESSES HIT

Defense attorney Frank J. McGee Jr., of Marshfield, Mass., stressed that the two major prosecution witnesses, former Pfc. David Michael Moore of Casper, Wyo., and Pfc. Billie Don Eakins of Houston, Tex., had reported that the woman slumped forward after Luczko shot her.

A shot through the forehead with a .45, McGee said, would have knocked the woman backward and left a gaping wound in the back of her head. He said Eakins and Moore had made no mention of such a wound.

★ ★ ★

Luczko admitted shooting at the woman, but said he did so as an "automatic reflex" after the woman suddenly squatted beside a haystack while he was questioning her and thrust her arm into the straw.

The highest wind velocity ever recorded atop Mt. Washington, N.H., was 231 miles per hour.

WILLIAM R. McANDREW

NBC News President Is Dead at 53

NEW YORK (AP) — William R. McAndrew, president of NBC News and a innovator in network television news coverage, died Thursday at Lawrence Hospital in Bronxville. He was 53.

Innovations by McAndrew, director of the network's news since 1951, included teaming Chet Huntley with David Brinkley, expansion of the network's evening news program from 15 to 30 minutes and the NBC White Papers.

★ ★ ★

Network executives said news programming increased tenfold during McAndrew's tenure and made NBC competitive with the Columbia Broadcasting System in over-all coverage.

McAndrew, who was struck by television's power to reveal the character of a political candidate as well as report his platform, also expanded NBC's coverage of national political conventions.

★ ★ ★

McAndrew and NBC News received a Peabody Award in 1963 for "outstanding contributions to electronic journalism."

He suffered an injury last week in a fall in his Bronxville home.

Pupils Quizzed in U. S. Survey

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — "I don't know enough about arithmetic to know when I've been cheated in a store. I (1) Strongly agree, (2) Somewhat agree, (3) Neither agree nor disagree, (4) Somewhat disagree or (5) Strongly disagree (with this statement)."

★ ★ ★

About 16,000 high school pupils—mostly Negro and Puerto Rican—are being asked this question and 76 others. The questionnaire is part of a $13,500 community survey by the Council of the Federal Model Cities program in North Philadelphia.

Some other statements:

"School turns me off."

"This school has really given me a good education."

★ ★ ★

"I can explain myself in a letter well enough to apply for a good job.

"School people look down on my parents.

"Teachers usually feel that students from a poor family cannot do good work.

"Negro teachers usually treat Negro pupils better than other pupils.

Great Lakes Water-Level Bill Is Signed

LANSING (UPI) — Confusion among shore-line owners, surveyors, land developers and state officials came to an end this week when Gov. George Romney signed a bill which established an ordinary high-water mark for Michigan's Great Lakes.

Until now, property lines along the Great Lakes have been clouded by constantly fluctuating water leveles.

★ ★ ★

Among other things, establishment of the marks tightens control over dredging, filling or building on lands which are temporarily exposed below the mark. Any such projects may only be undertaken after approval from local units of governemtnt and state permits have been issued.

The new law set the ordinary high-water mark at 601.5 feet for Lake Superior, 579.8 feet for Lakes Michigan and Huron, 574.7 feet for Lake St. Clair, and 571.6 feet for Lake Erie.

Integration of Kindergarten Viewed as Antibias Factor

CHARLOTTE, N.C. (AP) — No matter how prejudiced his parents may be, a white child may develop relatvely free of racial prejudice if he gets into an integrated school system at the kindergarten level.

This is a major conclusion of an experiment conducted in Charlotte by Dr. Louis Diamant, chairman of the psychology department at the University of North Carolina's Charlotte campus.

Diamant used white-faced and black-faced dolls in the study of 60 children attending private kindergartens in lower-, middle- and upper-middle-income neighborhoods of Charlotte. North Carolina has no public kindergarten system.

The children had IQs from 92 to 140.

TWO GROUPS

The children were divided into two groups—one with white mother and father dolls and a white baby doll, the other with white mother and father dolls and black baby dolls.

Diamant found no significant difference between the two groups in the time the children took to decide that the dolls were father, mother and child in one family. Nor was there an attempt to reject the black doll by children with prejudiced parents, high IQs, or both.

Several psychologists and psychiatrists, when they heard what Diamant planned, had predicted he would find at least some white 5-year-olds already marked by prejudice.

"It appears that no matter what the child hears at home, if he gets into an integrated school soon enough, he may still be able to develop relatively free of prejudice," Diamant said in an interview.

EMOTIONAL EFFORT

He says racial prejudice "stunts a child's development because it requires constant emotional effort to justify attitudes that basically go against nature."

★ ★ ★

Before beginning the experiment with the children, Diamant tested their parents for feelings of racial prejudice. Sample questions included:

—Should persons be allowed full voting privileges regardless of race?

—Equal access to jobs and job training programs?

—Equal accommodations in all hotels and vacation resorts?

—Equal access to barber shops and beauty parlors?

★ ★ ★

"Results showed parents to run the gamut from slight to high prejudice," Diamant said.

Diamant said his experiment's conclusions represent an argument for public kindergartens and full integration of schools at the earliest stage.

Nigeria, Biafra End Cease-Fire Meetings

KAMPALA, Uganda (AP) — Nigerian and Biafran negotiators broke off their cease-fire talks today, and a Biafran spokesman said his side was "definitely leaving."

Conference sources said it looked like the end to the talks which have failed to bring any letup in the Nigerian civil war.

A Nigerian delegate said that although his side was ready to continue, the Biafrans insisted on a cease-fire without conditions.

"This we are not willing to accept," he said.

MOSTLY REVIEW

The two sides met for 1¾ hours in the Uganda parliament with much of the time used to review minutes of the last plenary session Tuesday night. Since then the delegates have talked separately with British Commonwealth Secretary-General Arnold Smith and Uganda Foreign Minister Sam Odaka.

★ ★ ★

Both sides appeared extremely gloomy on entering the meeting room. President Milton Obote, who saved the talks last weekend when the Biafrans wanted to break them off, was in parliament but did not address the delegates.

Flooded State River Ebbing

MIDLAND (AP) — Clear skies gave the Tittabawassee River a full day's chance Thursday at draining off its rainwater which overflowed its banks in Midland Wednesday.

Police said only a few area roads remained covered with water after the river rose .13 of an inch above its 24-foot flood level Wednesday before starting to subside.

Observers at Dow Chemical Co. said the flood threat was over, unless there were heavy rains, similar to the downpour earlier in the week.

Rose Society Offers 1968 Handbook

The American Rose Society announces a new publication for the home gardener. The "Handbook For Selecting Roses" offers a wealth of information on all roses currently available in the United States. The handbook is the result of continuous expansion of the Society's ever-popular Guide for Buying Roses.

The new booklet describes more than 1,000 roses including height of plant, color, horticultural classification and the valuable American Rose Society rating.

★ ★ ★

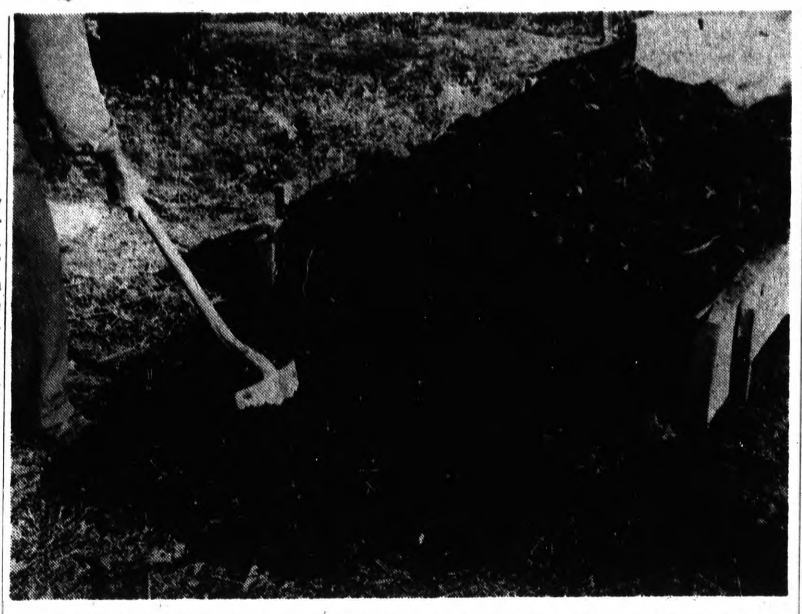

Each rose is assigned a national rating based on a 10 point scale. These ratings are obtained through an annual survey of the 17,000 American Rose Society members who report on roses they are currently growing.

★ ★ ★

This handy pocket-size booklet also lists the highest rated roses according to color classification. Other features include complete descriptions of the 1968 All-American Rose Selection winners, valuable information on the American Rose Society and some of its important services to the home gardener.

★ ★ ★

To receive the new Handbook For Selecting Roses, send a self-addressed, stamped, standard size envelope, and 10 cents in coin to the American Rose Society, Dept. B, 4048 Roselea Place, Columbus, Ohio 43214.

WHAT A MIX!—Springtime is mixing time for compost piles. Just like slicing a cake, one slice is cut down the side of the pile with the shovel, mixed, another is cut, mixed, until the entire pile is turned. Note simplicity of enclosure's construction, easily seen since one end wall has been removed.

To remove that unsightly brown film from vases, place a few pieces of finely chopped raw potato in the vase. Add half a cup of vinegar and shake well. Wash with warm soapy water. Rinse well and dry.

Take Orchid Course

Delicate, long-lasting flowers and reasonably easy culture make phalaenopsis (fay lee a nop sis) orchids good houseplants for careful gardeners, says Walter Haldeman of the Pennsylvania State University.

According to a Penn State correspondence course on house plants, phalaenopsis orchids want warm temperature (60 degrees at night and 80° in daytime), an abundance of moisture (never allow the potting medium of fir bark or tree fern to dry out), and only a medium amount of light (little direct sunlight).

★ ★ ★

The plants grow well in windows facing east or south. In spring and summer protect them from direct sunlight by shades or move plants back two or so feet from windows.

NOT EXPENSIVE

Orchid growers offer reasonably priced plants bearing white, yellow, pink, or pink-and-white flowers.

The blooms range in size from one to five inches and are borne on long spikes, usually in winter and spring.

Well grown plants purchased in early autumn can be expected to bloom by late winter.

★ ★ ★

To learn more about orchids and their care study the Penn. State correspondence course. You enroll by sending your name and address with $3 to House Plants, Box 5000, University Park, Pennsylvania. Make checks to PENN STATE. A course copy comes to you by mail.

Dethatch Lawn to Benefit Grass

Some bluegrasses, such as Park, and most fine fescues, do not thatch heavily. Heavily fertilized Merion may become a problem more quickly.

Dethatching makes a smoother sod by thinning old stems at the crown of the plant.

★ ★ ★

Creeping bentgrasses thatch more strongly and benefit from regular thinning.

Highland, a popular bentgrass, does not thatch quickly but benefits from an occasional dethatching.

Special Corn for Popping

It takes a special kind of corn to make good pop corn—corn with little hull so there will be on hard center after it is popped.

★ ★ ★

One of the newer varities is a hybrid hulless corn called Minhybrid, developed by the Minnesota Experiment Station.

Higher yield and greater expansion when popped are other virtues.

Semishade for Begonias

The 2½ inch flowers of the Semperflorens Papillon Butterfly are the largest known to fibrous begonia, resembling huge bright colored butterflies.

The center of each flower is a fluffy sparkling ball of canary yellow stamens.

★ ★ ★

The flowers are borne in clusters or strong stemmed shiny green foliaged plants 10 to 12 inch tall. In semishady beds or in pots, they present a riot of color from early spring until frost.

When plants are through for the season and harvested don't leave the land idle.

Experts advise sowing rye which turned under with your spade next spring quickly decays to furnish an abundance of humus and nutrients.

Fungus Diseases

Fungus Spray Is Developed

The New York Botanical Garden reports that a new formula spray effectively prevents certain fungus diseases of trees and ornamental plants.

In an experiment on a big horse chestnut tree and two tulip trees, the unsprayed half of each tree showed typical symptoms of leaf blotch, a fungus disease that browns leaves, which die prematurely in rainy seasons. The other halves were free of the disease.

Dr. P. P. Pirone, garden plant pathologist, also reported the spray effective in preventing purple spot on American hollies and controlling fungus diseases in lawns.

★ ★ ★

The commercial preparation is a coordination product of zinc iron and manganese ethylene dithiocabamate. (It is sold as "Fore," by Rohm and Haas, Philadelphia.)

AVOID CONTACT

Care should be used to avoid contact with or inhalation of the spray, which also may harm fish if used near water.

The preparation was intended primarily as a fungicide for turf.

The maker also says it is effective in preventing blackspot of roses, botrytis petal spot of chrysanthemums and leaf and flower spot of gladioli.

Lawn treatments with it should begin in spring, for major effectivenes.

Gloxinia Introduced to Flower Growers

George Park Seed Co. has a new Gloxinia, Royal White.

The color is pure white, but if the light is intense, a light pink blush appears, making the flower even more attractive.

★ ★ ★

The blooms are large, very fully double, one of the most perfect and pleasing in this family.

Fifty to seventy-five per cent of the plants produce exquisite double flowers with an interesting variation in form. Twenty-five per cent produce attractive giant single flowers.

Never change water in the container that holds a cut flower arrangement. Instead, it's best to just add water as it is needed.

Snapdragon Is Available

F-1 Starsnap is an entirely new and different snapdragon, with unusual round florets consisting of five evenly spaced petals slightly incurved.

The center is made up of five yellow tipped segments. Twenty to twenty-five florets are borne on a single stem. The base branching plants are very vigorious and produce three-foot tall cutting stems.

This unique snapdragon is available in five gorgeous colors: Bronze, rose, rusty red, white, yellow and a well blended mixture.

Plant Growth Under Lights

In growing plants under artificial light, you will have a problem of uniformity unless the plants are of the same variety.

You can remedy the situation to a degree by lifting smaller plants on an inverted clay pot base to bring them as close to the light as taller plants.

MASSEY-FERGUSON

You won't want to settle for less than the Massey-Ferguson 7 and its 7 H.P. engine . . . with electric starter, 3-speed gear shift, adjustable cushioned seat with comfortable back rest.

House Plant Troubles Can Be Prevented

Sickly leaves on foilage plants is often due to poor light and over-watering. A green thumb seems to be one of the best cures.

Gradual fading of color, elongated leaf stems and progressively smaller leaves are typical when poor light is the problem. Opening the drapes and pruning outside shrubbery sometimes provides adequate light.

Awnings, north exposures and inside walls usually is certain disaster. When plants can be rotated to a bright or sunshine area, they generate a surplus of food and return to the glossy beauty you desire.

★ ★ ★

If rotation is not possible and these plants cannot be moved to bright locations, these plants will gradually decline.

DON'T OVERWATER

Drowning is another common stop growing and the lower leaves turn yellow, then overwatering (drowning) is probably the cause.

Watertight pots and planters can become a pond if you add too much water. Just one overwatering can kill most of the rooots. Unless the plant can grow new roots, the plant quickly declines, (the off-color foilage and progressive yellowing).

The yellowing and leaf drop is a balancing process to adjust for root loss.

An ideal way to avoid overwatering is to use pots with drain holes. Each time you water, apply enough to saturate the soil. The surplus will appear in the pan beneath the pot.

Instead of watering on a schedule use the finger test. Feel the top of the soil before watering. If you can feel moisture, the plant has enough. When the top of the soil feels dry, add enough water to saturate the soil and produce a surplus in the pan.

★ ★ ★

When a yellow leaf develops every time a new leaf appears, then extra fertilizer is necesary. Florists may fertilize every month, but they add very small amounts. You will have a problem deciding how much, and how often to add fertilizer.

The amount to apply depends on the size of the pot, sensitivity of plant, and the kind of fertilizer you use.

Talk with your garden store manager, florist or follow the suggestion of a friend who has proven success with house plants.

★ ★ ★

If you do "get carried away" with your fertilizing, then place the plant in the kitchen sink and intentionally over-water.

The surplus water from the bottom of the pot will contain some of the fertilizer and help reduce the overload.

Cigarettes Becoming King-Size Habit for Today's Kids

By TOM TIEDE

"No one under 21 shall purchase or possess tobacco in any form."

—A city ordinance

EVERETT, Wash. — (NEA) — Not far from a local high school recently, a customer rushed into a store, summoned a clerk and pointed a finger at a shelf.

"Gimme a pack of cigarettes."

★ ★ ★

"Menthol or regular?"

"Menthol."

"Filter tip or plain?"

"Come on, hurry, I'm late for class already."

NOT ISOLATED

The incident is not an isolated one. It happens every day in perhaps every town in the nation. Although there are state and city statutes which forbid juvenile smoking, the regulations are almost always ignored.

Such law violations are without number. Enforcement of tobacco laws is slim. In many, if not most, areas of the United States, both parents and police admit they have given up, as one authority sighs, "trying to fight the inevitable."

★ ★ ★

It's a pity they have.

Cigarettes have become a king-sized addiction among kids. Once the whispered recreation of a few pinheaded delinquents, teen-age smoking has become the 100-millimeter mode among an astonishing percentage of the younger population.

SPREADING HABIT

Big and small town corners are crammed with two-pack-a-day prepsters. Grade school janitors are finding more and more ashes in the lavatories. Rare is the mother who washes junior's shirts anymore and never finds nicotine stains.

According to educators, some of the kids start as early as 10 years of age. It's hit and miss at first. Roll their own if they can't swipe them. Smoke. Get sick. Smoke again. Get sick again . . . but not as much as the first time.

★ ★ ★

From then on it's perhaps 10 to 40 smokes a day, 210 a week, 6,300 a month, and 75,000 a year, often before a lad reaches full puberty.

Addiction, of course, increases with age.

BOYS ESPECIALLY

According to the American Cancer Society, high school boys are especially hooked to the habit. National surveys indicate that from 40 to 50 per cent of all males, 15 to 18 years old, indulge in cigarettes to one extent or another.

The result of such indulgence is ugly to contemplate. ACS is convinced that youngsters who smoke regularly, especially if they inhale deeply, stand a good chance of falling victim to lung cancer within a period of 25 to 30 years, or earlier.

★ ★ ★

And if not cancer, then something else — emphysema and blood vessel woes. Other things — such as the radio-active tobacco element plutonium 210 —may cause even more serious, but as yet unknown, bodily hazards.

"The evidence is overwhelming," says pathologist Emanuel Bitar, who has lectured over 25,000 teen-agers on the subject. "And kids who smoke today are very apt to become part of the future evidence."

LAW LOOKS AWAY

Meanwhile, however, the law looks the other way.

In Everett, as example, authorities can't remember the last time they arrested a juvenile for smoking violations. It just isn't done any more. Some officials even admit they have "forgotten all about the law."

★ ★ ★

Reason for the laxity is not clear. However, private opinion is that the police and judicial officials consider tobacco laws too trifling to worry about.

"We're full up with all kinds of juvenile violations," says veteran detective Howard Sweeney. "And I believe if we suddenly started to arrest kids for smoking, we'd just get laughed out of the courts."

HONOR SYSTEM

Thus, Sweeney admits, Everett tobacco laws assumed the preposterous aspects of a community honor system. Merchants are pledged not to sell cigarettes to minors and minors in turn are pledged not to buy them.

"We hope," says Sweeney lamely, "everyone complies."

In fact, few comply. Kids can pick up packs or cartons almost anywhere, including, ironically, the concessions stand in the city's court house.

Merchants here feel that if they don't sell smokes to the teen-agers somebody down the street will profit by the business. Many assert that "Salesmen aren't policemen" and just don't have time to question customers about their age.

THEY'RE AVAILABLE

"Anyway," says a drug store owner, "what if I don't sell cigarettes to the kids? They can go right outside and get them from any vending machine in town."

So much then for the honor system.

★ ★ ★

As of now, there is no evidence of any reversal in the national trend of teen-age smoking habits. Nor is there any evidence that judicial authorities are waking up to the fact that kids are making a mockery out of law enforcement.

Feeling everywhere is liberal and permissive.

THEY GIVE UP

Parents say they can't control today's generation. Educators who smoke in school hallways shrug their shoulders. Police believe the problem doesn't concern them.

★ ★ ★

"It's a damn shame," grumbles one Everett physician. "We all want to lock a kid up if he grows a beard or something. But we'll stand by and say nothing while he smokes himself into the grave."

How old am I? I was born in Armenia back when people didn't keep records. Now I'm retired and want to collect my benefits.—K. L.

You're 61, and you start collecting benefits Aug. 8. Social Security is sending back the two bags full of conflicting birth date records you sent, has decided to believe your real birth date was Aug. 8, 1906. Your records showed three different birth dates between 1905 and 1907, but the feds bought the middle one when Action Line showed them a faded inscription in your aunt's family bible. Anyone who can prove the lack of official birth date records can satisfy S.S. with a variety of other documents—from midwives' statements to hospital bills—but be sure the date's the same on all of 'em.

I win $10 from a pal if you answer this question the way I did: In the Sherlock Holmes stories, what was Dr. Watson's first name?—R. L.

Elementary, dear sir: John. Most of the time that is. Sir Arthur Conan Doyle himself slipped up once or twice on the detective's sidekick's first name. In one story he had Watson's very own mother calling the doctor "James."

I have two Army discharges—one honorable and one dishonorable—and I'd like to use just the good one in applying for a job. Trouble is, I'm afraid the employer would check the Army and they'd foul it up for me. What should I do?—F. G.

Rip up the dishonorable one. Any employer who checked far enough would find out what Action Line learned: That you were wounded in Italy in '44; that a doctor later declared you'd recovered and were fit for active duty, but that you disagreed and went AWOL for 111 days; that you were court-martialed, sentenced to five years, and were dishonorably discharged; that after two years your CO revoked the dishonorable discharge on condition that you re-enlist; that you went back to active duty and earned the honorable discharge. Good luck on the new job.

I think some smart cop is pulling a fast one on me. I cut through a parking lot to get around a red light and he gave me a ticket. Can he do that?—G. P., Bloomfield Hills.

He can—in your town and 247 others in Michigan, including Detroit. You can't zip through private property, gas station service drives, or alleys to beat traffic lights. One guy beat the rap: He was charged with roaring through a gas station at 60, passing a cop car on the wrong side, crashing into a gravel pit. Jury let him off, saying they just didn't believe that much could happen to ANYONE.

I drove through Burnside, Ky., and they've got signs at the city limits saying "The First Boy Scout Troop in America Originated Here." Do they have the right to make that claim?—R. R., Plymouth.

As much right as West Philadelphia, Baltimore, New York City, Cincinnati, Lansdown, Pa., and Elizabethtown, Pa.—which also claim the first troop. Boy Scouting started in England in 1908, spread quickly to America with several groups doing good deeds—including a bunch in Burnside. But the National Boy Scouts of America didn't consolidate and start keeping records until 1910. Girl Scouts were tidier bookkeepers. Their first troop was started by Juliet Low, March 12, 1912, in a stable behind her home in Savannah, Ga.

Bobby Unser Roars to Victory

Three Turbines Falter in 500-Mile Race

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP) — Bobby Unser had a big grin on his face and an undetermined amount of prize money in sight as he discussed his victory—and the failure for the second consecutive year of the imposing turbines—in the Memorial Day 500.

"I couldn't believe it," Unser said after whipping across the finish line in front after the three powerful turbines entered by Andy Granatelli had faltered and failed—one within sight of the finish line. They included the leading qualifiers and the race leader for 32 laps.

★ ★ ★

"I feel they missed the best chance they had in their lives," Unser said. "I said before the race if Granatelli didn't win this one he ought to pack up and go home. The best I can figure, the good Lord just didn't want them to win."

AWAITS PRIZES

Unser's prize money will be announced tonight at the traditional victory dinner.

It depended on attendance, cut by prolonged rain that made the infield a quagmire, and on the accessories Bobby carried on his American Eagle and its turbocharged Offenhauser engine.

★ ★ ★

Fans, meanwhile, to whom the $750,000-or-so purse has only an academic interest, marveled at how close Thursday's script came to following that of 1967, and how true it is that a race driver who won't be beaten often isn't.'

The 34-year-old Unser, who has had two racing brothers, a racing father and two racing uncles, simply charged until his strongest competitors—notably the favored Lotus turbines—fell apart. He has done that—beating whoever faced him—in four straight U.S. Auto Club championship races.

The stick for his own low gear failed, costing him precious seconds on the three compulsory pit stops. He saw his brother Al crash in the southwest turn, noted he was apparently unhurt, and continued charging.

HAS MEMORIES

These Unser boys were running on the track where their brother Jerry was killed in 1959. They also lost an uncle in a stock car test run.

Bobby, winning for the first time, led three times in the race but appeared hopelessly behind Lotus turbine driver Joe Leonard with the end almost in sight. Then, with 20 miles to go, Leonard's turbine died and he coasted off the track, just as Parnelli Jones did last year in the original turbine with 7½ miles to go.

★ ★ ★

S. A. Silbermann, head of the speedway technical committee, said the Pratt & Whitney turbines have a governor which shuts off the engine if the throttle is advanced too quickly. Leonard's trouble came when he got the green light atfer a minor accident had slowed the pace.

Tigers Make Impression on Angels' Manager

Jim Northrup Leads 7-3 Win Over California

DETROIT (AP) — "The Tigers looked like the best team in the American League for the past four games."

Thus spoke Bill Rigney, manager of the California Angels, in praise of the league-leading Detroit club after a four-game series in Anaheim, Calif., which was climaxed by a 7-3 Tiger victory Thursday.

The triumph gave Detroit the series, three games to one. It left them at the top of the heap in league standings, with a 1½-game edge over second-place Baltimore.

GOOD PERFORMANCE

Tiger Manager Mayo Smith, happy over his team's performance, cautiously said the club "has a lot of potential."

★ ★ ★

But, he added, "43 games are a long way from 162, and every time somebody gets hot in this league, they talk about them running away with it."

Detroit has won 27 of those 43 games, for a season average of .628.

In winning the Memorial Day encounter, Tiger right fielder Jim Northrup drove in three runs and Fred Lasher shut off a California rally after winning pitcher Joe Sparma was knocked from the box in the eighth inning.

The Tigers jumped on loser Rick Clark, forging a 3-0 lead in the first 3½ innings.

Sparma is 4-4, and Clark 0-4 for the season.

A walk to Bill Freehan and a double by Willie Horton cost Clark a run in the second inning. A triple by Dick McAuliffe and a sacrifice fly by Northrup added another in the third.

★ ★ ★

In the fourth, a walk to Freehan, a single by Horton, a passed ball and a wild pitch let in Detroit's third run.

Freehan and Northrup hit solo homers in the sixth and eighth innings, respectively, and both had run-scoring singles as the Tigers picked up two more in the ninth.

CHICAGO (AP) — Gerald Bocci of Detroit won the Capt. Ron Zinn Memorial 10-kilometer Race walk at Hanson Park Thursday.

Bocci's time was 48:36.5. Matt Raityna and Jim Clinton of Chicago were next at 49:39.5 and 52:25.0, respectively. Fourth place went to Larry Larson of Milwaukee in 57:38.5.

Forward Pass Ready for Shot at Triple Crown

NEW YORK (AP) — A grueling 1½ miles and eight colts—these are the obstacles Forward Pass must conquer Saturday to win the Belmont Stakes and become the first Triple Crown winner since 1948.

The Calumet Farm colt's march on the Triple Crown was launched when he was placed first in the Kentucky Derby after Dancer's Image was disqualified, and was kept alive when he romped to victory in the Preakness.

★ ★ ★

His main competition in the 100th running of the Belmont is expected to be Mrs. Adele Rand's Call Me Prince and Greentree Stable's Stage Door Johnny.

OTHERS ENTERED

The other probables are Gustave Ring's Ardoise, Anne Ford's Jade Amieol, C. V. Whitney's Chompion, Millard Waldheim's T.V. Commercial, Ray DuFour's and Joseph Richards' Sir Beau and Robert J. Kleberg's Draft Card, who will run as an entry with Call Me Prince.

PCH vs. Rochester in Tourney Tonight

By JERE CRAIG

Pontiac Central and Rochester meet tonight at Jaycee Park in the first quarter-final contest of the seventh annual Pontiac Invitational Baseball Tournament after gaining decisions early Memorial Day.

PCH's Victor Quince backed his own four-hit pitching with a two-run single en route to a 5-1 opening game conquest of Royal Oak Kimball.

★ ★ ★

Rochester then followed with a 3-2 victory over stubborn Waterford Kettering on Stan Babiuk's king-size home run in the seventh inning.

★ ★ ★

In the other half of the upper division bracket, Walled Lake downed Ferndale, 2-1, on the strikeout pitching of Chuck O'Brien; and Clawson trimmed Milford, 5-1, as Dave Frezza hurled a three-hitter.

★ ★ ★

Clawson will meet Walled Lake at 2 p.m. tomorrow.

A triple by Clyde Duncan and a double by Rich Vine were sandwiched between singles by Dale Houston and Terry Villereal as Central rallied for a 3-1 lead over Kimball.

★ ★ ★

Fred Shellnut's run-scoring three-bagger had handed the Knights a brief lead. But Quince choked off their attack and gave himself two final insurance runs in the fifth. He whiffed nine ROK batters.

★ ★ ★

Rochester's Tom Hering, meanwhile, gave himself a 1-0 lead with a second-inning safety, but WKHS tied the score on Bob Earl's long double in the sixth.

Babiuk then unloaded on a 3-1 fast ball with two out in the top of the last inning with a blast high over the fence (near the scoreboard) that covered at least 375 feet.

FINAL THREAT

It followed a single by Mike Scally. Scally had to relieve Hering in the bottom of the inning after the Captains put the tying runs on base with none out. A wild pitch let in one run but two strikeouts and a foul pop ended the rally.

★ ★ ★

Walled Lake's O'Brien missed tying the tournament record by one when he whiffed 17 Ferndale batters and yielded just two hits and an unearned run.

★ ★ ★

Ron Thompson singled home the Vikings' first run, and tallied the deciding run on a wild pitch after doubling in the last inning.

★ ★ ★

A two-run double by Mike Heist started Clawson on its victory drive. Batterymates Frezza and Bill Miller doubled and singled for two more runs, and Randy Ross tripled in the final tally against Milford.

Frezza struck out 10 while allowing only an unearned run.

Memorial Day Memorable for Yank Superstar

Cards Rebound; Mets Take Pair

By the Associated Press

National League baseball consumed 12 hours, 52 minutes on Memorial Day from the time the first pitch was thrown at Pittsburgh until the last out was recorded at St. Louis.

★ ★ ★

In between, some interesting things happened.

—Like the St. Louis Cardinals scoring six runs—their highest total in three weeks.

—Like the New York Mets sweeping a doubleheader.

★ ★ ★

—Like Bob Aspromonte driving in two runs on a force out.

—Like Ed Kranepool driving in two runs.

CARDS AWAKEN

The Cards, locked in a hitting slump that dumped them to fourth place with 11 losses in 13 games, woke up with a 6-0 victory over San Francisco. Houston battered Atlanta 11-0, Nw York swept a twinbill that started in mid-morning from Pittsburgh 6-3 and 5-4, and Los Angeles dropped Cincinnati 5-3. Chicago's game at Philadelphia was rained out.

Thirteen doubleheaders had come and gone since the Mets last swept one. But the ingredients were right Thursday.

First, the opponents were the Pirates, victims of the last Met sweep back in August, 1967. Then there was the bizarre 10:30 a.m. starting time. And then, perhaps most startling, there was Kranepool driving in two runs.

Kranepool had been up 95 times without an RBI this season. The Pirates were so confident they could handle Ed that they walked rookie Kevin Collins intentionally, loading the bases in the third inning of the first game.

But Kranepool singled for two runs and New York was on its way to the victory— eighth in 10 decisions for rookie Jerry Koosman.

ASTROS GO WITH

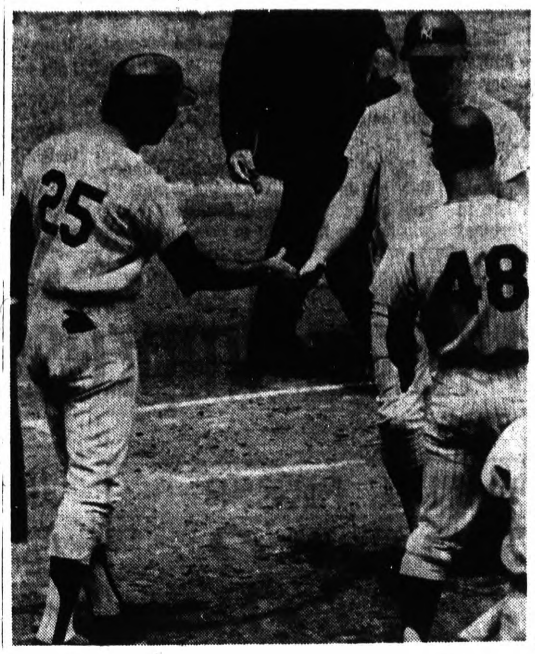

Houston had almost as much fun against the Braves, collecting 15 hits—three each and three RBI apiece by ex-Braves Denis Menke and Lee Thomas.

Aspromonte also had three runs batted in.

The Cardinals busted loose in the first inning against the Giants with consecutive home runs by Mike Shannon and Tim McCarver keying a four-run rally.

★ ★ ★

That was plenty for Steve Carlton, who breezed to his sixth victory of the season and first ever over San Francisco. The four-run single-inning flurry matched the Cards' total production in all but two games this month and the six runs were the most they managed in any game since May 4.

MIGHTY MICKEY — Mickey Mantle is greeted at home plate in the first inning of yesterday's opener of a doubleheader by New York Yankee teammates Joe Pepitone (25) and Roy White (48) after swatting a two-run homer. Mantle collected another homer, two singles and a double as the Yankees won, 13-4, over Washington. The Senators took the nightcap, 6-2.

Mantle Stars in 13-4 Win

Oakland Trips Bosox; Baltimore Triumphs

By The Associated Press

Memorial Day against Washington usually gives Mickey Mantle something to remember. Most any day against Oakland give the Boston Red Sox something to forget.

The mighty Mickey, last of the New York Yankee superstars, enjoyed one of the most productive days of his illustrious career Thursday.

He whacked two home runs, a double and two singles and drive in five runs as the Yankees walloped Washington 13-4 in the opener of a doubleheader. The Senators bounced back to take the nightcap 6-2.

BOSOX SLUMPING

While Mantle was slugging, the defending American League champion Red Sox were slumping.

The upstart Oakland A's shelled them 6-2 behind Lew Krausse's four-hitter and pulled into a fifth-place tie with the Sox and Yankees. Oakland has beaten Boston six of seven this season.

★ ★ ★

Elsewhere, Baltimore blanked the Chicago White Sox 5-0 and Cleveland nipped Minnesota 3-1.

Mantle began his big day with a two-run homer in the first inning. He singled and scored in the third, homered again in the fifth, doubled home a run in the sixth and singled in another in the eighth.

The homers were his fifth and sixth of the season and gave him a career total of 524, 10 behind Jimmy Foxx, No. 3 on the all-time list.

BOMB HOMERS

The A's pounded 13 hits, including Sal Bando's third homer as the Red Sox absorbed their fifth loss in the last six games.

The Orioles kept pace as Dave Leonhard fired a two-hitter at the White Sox, who have lost seven of their last eight games.

★ ★ ★

Baltimore, which has won seven of eight, scored three times in the third inning off Bob Priddy on one hit and five walks.

Cleveland jumped back into third place by a half-game over Minnesota. Sam McDowell hurled a four-hitter and fanned 10 Twins. Tony Horton drove in all the Indian runs with a first-inning single and a two-run homer in the third.

Late-Starting Pro Golfer Gains Reprieve at Atlanta

ATLANTA (AP) — Eldridge Miles is a versatile Texan who has fallen in love with the pro golf tour at the ago of 34.

Spurned at times, rejected often and well aware of the pitfalls of the game, Miles is determined to succeed despite his late start.

"I felt I just had to go on the tour," the former Dallas schoolteacher and stock broker said after a three-under-par 69 in the first round of the Atlanta Classic Golf Tournament Thursday.

That left him only a stroke off the lead taken by lanky Tom Weiskopf, and it erased "the biggest disappointment I've ever had as a golfer."

HAS SETBACK

The setback came last Monday, when Miles and scores of other also-rans on the tour had to try to qualify for the tournament. Miles shot a 74, not good enough to win him a berth but sixth on the list of alternates.

★ ★ ★

"I got in my car after I found out I was the sixth alternate and drove back to Dallas," Miles said. "It took 16 hours, and it was the longest ride I've ever had. I went over that 74 a hundred times.

"That was as low as I've ever been. I was really disappointed."

★ ★ ★

Disaster turned into happiness late Wednesday afternoon when a friend on the tour called to say that Miles had been moved into the tournament because several players dropped out.

★ ★ ★

"I got on a plane and flew back to Atlanta," said the former captain of the Texas Christian golf team.

★ ★ ★

His best showing has been a tie for ninth, and he has collected about $4,000 in tournament checks.

LACK OF EXPERIENCE

The lack of tour experience didn't hurt him on the tough Atlanta Country Club course, however, because he was one of only 16 players to break par of 72.

★ ★ ★

Only Weiskopf—who has won $85,000 already this year—beat him. Jack Nicklaus, Tommy Aaron, Ray Floyd, Chris Blocker, Bert Yancey and Don January matched Miles' 69.

Pro Netters Win

PARIS (AP) — Pros Billie Jean King of Long Beach, Calif., and Rosemary Casales of San Francisco defeated their amateur opponents Thursday and moved into the third round of the French Tennis Championships.

A Mercury outboard is designed to catch fish.

Not weeds.

The lower unit of a Mercury outboard is streamlined like a fish to go after fish. No protruding nose to catch and hold weeds. And it's built on a slant to slice through instead of getting hung up. Up above, the tilted powerhead keeps a Merc running smoothly, whether you're trolling slowly or speeding home with your limit. Mercury's shearproof drive eliminates vulnerable shear or drive pins, gives on impact, then resumes running. It also has full gearshift, remote fuel tank and an all-metal cowl. Mercury's exclusive System of Silence and Jet-Prop exhaust make it the quietest fishing motor ever built. Mercury fishing motors come in 4 sizes: 3.9, 6, 9.8 hp . . . and a new 20 hp with optional electric starting. Eye-catching, fish-catching . . . one of 'em is just right for your kind of fishing. Pick it out at your Mercury dealer's!

CHECKERED FLAG — Bobby Unser's car is a blur of speed as it crosses the finish line first in the 500-mile race at Indianapolis. Unser outlasted three favored turbine cars and overcame some low gear trouble to take the checkered flag.

'Just Died Out,' Said Leonard

Flameout Halts Race Leader

pace.

"I thought I had the race won when I got the green," Leonard said. "Then, it happened. As the green flag came out, my car went out—just died out on me, like a flameout."

A national organization of race writers and broadcasters had picked the three turbines to finish one-two-three. They were driven by Graham Hill of London, Leonard, of San Jose, Calif., and Art Pollard of Medford, Ore.

NEWS IN LEAD

Hill, the 1966 winner, never led and crashed after 111 of the 200 laps after losing a wheel. Pollard's turbine quit after 188 laps. The technical committee called it a gear box failure.

★ ★ ★

Nobody was hurt in the race, which brought sunshine for the first time in eight days. The lead changed eight times in furious competition.

Leaders were Leonard, first seven laps; Bobby Unser, laps 8-56; Lloyd Ruby, Wichita Falls, Tex., 57-89; B. Unser, 90-112; Leonard, 113-119; B. Unser, 120-165; Ruby, 166-174; Leonard, 175-191, and B. Unser, 192-200.

As the turbines crashed or died, turbocharged Offenhausers, perfected only this year, powered nine of the 11 cars which were still running when Bobby Unser crossed the finish line.

It was a great day for Grand Prix racer and All American Eagle auto builder Dan Gurney, Santa Ana, Calif. He applauded as Bobby Unser set a race record of 152.882 m.p.h. and followed him across the line in second place in an Eagle.

★ ★ ★

World road racing champion Denis Hulme of New Zealand finished fourth in another Eagle behind Mel Kenyon of Lebanon, Ind., who had a Gerhardt-Offy.

Unofficially, others running at the finish were Ruby, fifth; Ronnie Duman, Indianapolis, sixth; three rookies—Billy Vukovich, Fresno, Calif., seventh; Mike Mosley, La Puente, Calif., eighth, and Sam Sessions, Nashville, Mich., ninth—Bob Grim, Indianapolis, 10th, and Bob Veith, Santa Rosa, Calif., 11th.

★ ★ ★

Vukovich, whose father won the 500 twice, and Gary Bettenhausen, whose father was a longtime 500 contender, were impressive newcomers. Gary was eliminated by hitting debris from Al Unser's wreck. Both their fathers died in Indianapolis accidents.

★ ★ ★

A. J. Foyt Jr. of Houston, who won last year when Jones' turbine quit, missed a chance for an unprecedented fourth 500 victory when engine trouble stopped him after 87 laps.

There was one front-engine car in the line-up, a Mallard-Offenhauser driven by Jim Hurtubise of North Tonawanda, N.Y., former qualification record owner. The engine quit after nine laps.

Ill Luck Dogs Famous Names in Race Classic

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP) — Rookie sons brought the names of Vukovich and Bettenhausen back to the Indianapolis 500 Thursday. Ill luck dogged them but didn't discourage them from wanting to try again on the oval track where their fathers died.

Bill Vukovich Jr., who finished seventh after being black flagged off the track by error early in the race, and Gary Bettenhausen, who wound up 24th after a freak accident eliminated him, said they'll be back for next year's Memorial Day classic.

Vukovich, 24, of Fresno, Calif., said, "I took it too easy at the start. I didn't realize I could have run a lot harder. Next year I'll run harder at the start."

Bettenhausen, 26, of Tinley Park, Ill., said he was a victim of wreckage strewn on the track when Al Unser, brother of winner Bobby Unser, crashed into the wall.

Oregon Runners Top 4-Mile Mark

EUGENE, Ore. (AP) — Four University of Oregon runners bettered the world four-mile relay mark by four seconds Thursday in an inter-squad meet before 7,000 spectators at Hayward Field.

The time was 16:05.0, compared with the world record of 16:09.0, set by a University of Oregon team at Fresno, Calif., in 1962.

Indianapolis Too Long for Turbine?

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP) — The heralded turbine racer is beginning to look like a gymnasium fighter on the Indianapolis Speedway.

Either the flaming-red swooshmobile conceived by Andy Granatelli leaves its reputation on the practice track, or the Indy 500 should be trimmed to 450 miles for hard-luck Andy.

Thursday, for the second straight year, a turbine fizzled with victory within easy grasp of pole-sitter Joe Leonard, who watched Bobby Unser whip past him for a record-breaking triumph in a turbocharged Offenhauser.

In 1967, Parnelli Jones had Granatelli's controversial pioneer turbine conk out 7½ miles from victory in its debut at Indy.

★ ★ ★

Actually, the supposedly antiquated piston-engined contingent Thursday struck out all three turbine entries, which were supposed to swish to a 1-2-3 sweep in the $750,000 motor classic.

★ ★ ★

Graham Hill, 1966 Indy champion and former world road racing titlist from London, couldn't be faulted for failure in one of the three "flying wedge" turbines.

★ ★ ★

Hill banged into a wall while losing a wheel after 111 of the 200 laps.

★ ★ ★

But Granatelli could have taken that lonely walk you often see him take down the greasy Indy Strip on television commercials when Leonard's turbine snuffed out with only 20 miles left to victory lane. The third turbine, driven by Art Pollard, quit after 192 laps.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP) — Here is the unofficial chart of the Indianapolis 500-mile race Thursday, subject to revision Friday when a check of timing tapes is completed:

1. Bobby Unser, Albuquerque, N.M., No. 3, Eagle turbocharged Offenhauser, 152.882 miles per hour. Record: old record 151.207 m.p.m. by A. J. Foyt Jr., 1967).

Gophers Rally for Victory

Prep High Jumps 6-9½

KALAMAZOO (AP)—Ron DeVries of Erie Mason High School, Erie, was named outstanding athlete Thursday at the 13th annual Champion of Champions invitational track meet at Kalamazoo.

★ ★ ★

DeVries set a meet record in the high jump, clearing 6 feet, 9½ inches. The mark was described by meet officials as the highest jump ever made by a Michigan high school youth. The previous record was 6-8½ set by John Mann of North Farmington High earlier this year.

Andrew Johnson of Battle Creek Central High was the only doubles winner in the meet, winning the 120-yard high hurdles event in 14.3 seconds and the 180-yard low hurdles in 19.6.

Two other meet records were set.

★ ★ ★

Kalamazoo Central High School chalked up a record in finishing the 880-yard relay in 1:29.3, bettering the old mark of 1:29.5 also set by a Kalamazoo Central team in 1963.

★ ★ ★

Gary Harris of Kalamazoo Loy Norrix High posted a record in running the two-mile event in 9:31.1. The previous mark was set last year by Kim Hartman of Southfield High, who covered the distance in 9:37.8

Valpo, Ohio Lose Contests

Minnesota '9' Plays So. Illinois Tonight

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Host Minnesota fought back from the brink of defeat and Southern Illinois was outhit but made its clutch hits pay off as the Gophers and Sulukis posted first-round victories Thursday in the NCAA District 4 Baseball Tournament at Bierman Field.

★ ★ ★

Minnesota stole home with the tying run in the ninth inning, then whipped Valparaiso University 6-4 in 11 innings, while Southern Illinois bounced Ohio University 6-3.

★ ★ ★

Valparaio and Ohio meet in a losers' bracket game this afternoon. Minnesota and Southern Illinios play the first game tonight, with a second night game pitting the afternoon winner against the loser of the first game tonight.

★ ★ ★

The two survivors then meet Saturday afternoon for the championship.

Grand Rapids '9' Whiffs Chance in J.C. Tourney

GRAND JUNCTION, Colo. (AP) — Mike Houk struck out 16 batters and didn't walk a single one Thursday as he pitched Hudson Valley of Troy, N.Y., to a 3-1 victory over Grand Rapids, Mich., in the first round of the National Junior College Baseball Tournament.

★ ★ ★

Hudson established its lead when Mike Hetman hit a run-scoring double in the fourth and Sam Fitzgerald singled in Carlo Spartano who had hit safely and stole second.

★ ★ ★

Tom Nauta doubled in Grand Rapids' only run in the fifth inning.

Pick Broncos on All-League

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Western Michigan, Ohio University and Kent State dominate the 1968 All-Mid-American Conference baseball team selected by the league's coaches.

The first team:

Pitchers — Ken Bratherton, Western; Steve Stone, Kent, and George Fannin, Miami.
Catcher—Thurm Munson, Kent.
First base—Mike Murphy, Ohio.
Second base—Pete Locanto, Western.
Shortstop—Rich McKinney, Ohio.
Third base—Rick Trudeau, Western.
Outfielders — Marty Barski, Western; Bill McGowan, Kent; John Morlan, Ohio, and Dan Godby, Bowling Green.
Western shortstop Jim Redmon and Western pitcher Dalbert Mackie made the MAC second team, as did Toledo pitcher Al Diffenhoeffer.

MUDDY SIESTA — Two racing fans, backers of driver Graham Hill, ignore the mud and water in the infield and early arrivals at the Indianapolis Speedway yesterday to catch a few extra winks before the start of the 500-mile race. A week of rain turned the infield — favorite parking and picnic area for the race — into a quagmire.

Racing Fans Enjoy Role of Mudder on 500 Infield

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP) — It was like a picnic in a pig sty.

Although several inches of infield mud spoiled the traditional Memorial Day picnic grounds and parking lot for most of the 250,000 persons, there were those who just couldn't resist the challenge.

★ ★ ★

The infield on 500-mile race day at the Indianapolis Motor Speedway was a massive mud pie — with rain on 23 days in May.

Panic was dropping a car key.

Happiness was burying a chicken bone with the press of a foot.

★ ★ ★

Those who inhabited the infield took a bit of Indianapolis home with them.

Officials estimated the automobile population in the infield at one-third of normal — down to 7,000, and those slithered haphazardly into position.

★ ★ ★

Fans who traditionally spread their blankets and unpack picnic lunches had to bring along boards or face the prospect of sinking in the ooze. Some youngsters played touch football in the mire.

★ ★ ★

The mud even kept the unusual brawls to a minimum. A special trouble detail of state troopers was never needed.

★ ★ ★

A deputy sheriff said, "Business is so bad I feel lonesome."

Perhaps it was just as well. The special bus brought to the track to haul prisoners to jail each year was stuck in the mud, too.

Cranes End Season Defeating Maples

Cranbrook closed the baseball season on a happy note Wednesday by defeating long time rival Birmingham Seaholm, 5-3.

★ ★ ★

The victory also put Cranbrook over the .500 mark with a 11-10 record.

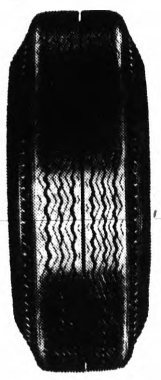

★ ★ ★

The big hit in the game came with two outs and the bases loaded in the 5th inning. Ron Fonda, with a 3-2 count, singled home two runs and a third run followed on an error.

Vaulter Gains Track Honor

NAIA Tabs Pennel for Hall of Fame

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M. (AP) —Pole vaulter John Pennel was inducted into the National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics Hall of Fame Thursday night.

Pennel, the first man to ever vault 17 feet outdoors, watched his roommate Bob Seagren become the first man to ever go that height here indoors three years ago.

★ ★ ★

Pennel is just getting back to competition after a two-year layoff, hoping to represent this country in the Olympics. He says he has done 16-0 in competition and 16-6 in practice since starting his comeback from traffic accident injuries.

★ ★ ★

Inducted into the Hall of Fame along with Pennel were George Marshall, Eastern Michigan University track coach, and Wallace M. Diehl of Sioux Falls, S. D.

★ ★ ★

Marshall coached hurdler Hayes Jones. Diehl was meet director during the past nine years the NAIA Championships were held in Sioux Falls.

NOT GOING VERY FAR — Clarkston catcher Jeff Keyser (left) draws a bead while preparing to whip off his mark after Southfield's Dave Wieland lofted a pop fly near the plate in the third inning yesterday of their Pontiac Invitational Tournament meeting. The receiver made the catch for the second out in the inning and Southfield proceeded to win, 8-0.

Two Blank Rivals in Openers

Waterford, Jays in Quarterfinals

Waterford and Southfield set up a quarter-final showdown Saturday afternoon with impressive triumphs yesterday in the Pontiac Invitational Baseball Tournament at Jaycee Park.

★ ★ ★

Waterford's Rod Kennedy blanked West Bloomfield, 4-0, and Southfield's Garu Betrus shut out Clarkston, 8-0, in their opening round outings.

★ ★ ★

In the same bracket of the seventh annual tournament cosponsored by the city Parks and Recreation Department and The Press, Pontiac Northern trimmed Bloomfield Hills Andover, 6-1, and Birmingham Brother Rice thumped Madison, 7-1.

Brother Rice will meet PNH tomorrow night in the last quarter-final contest.

MINIMUM OUTPUT

Clarkston batters could manage only two hits and fanned seven times while leaving no one on base and failing to score against Betrus.

Third sacker Lance Pesci cracked a single, double and triple to drive in five runs (two shy of the tournament one-game record) for Southfield.

Rocky Roe and Paul Hunt sandwiched Pesci's hard hitting with a single and double apiece as the Blue Jays won their 13th straight game in the last four tournaments.

Waterford tallied three times in the first inning with Frank Ballard's two-run double the only blow. Teammate Kennedy then limited West Bloomfield to three more base runners while striking out 12.

He retired 10 batters in a row, allowed back-to-back singles in the sixth, and then got the final six Lakers in order as the Skippers won their 18th game and ninth straight.

The winner of their meeting with Southfield will be a strong favorite to take home the tournament title trophy.

Brother Rice managed seven runs on only five hits, also starting with three runs in the first inning. The first tallied on Marty Sudz's single, and two were walked across.

The final four markers for the Warriors in the last two frames were unearned. Madison could garner just three singles off the slants of Bob Wollenburg and Marv Dudek.

PNH closed out the eight-game Memorial Day slate behind the long-ball slugging of Don Hayward and the stingy relief hurling of sophomore left-hander Jerry Reddeman.

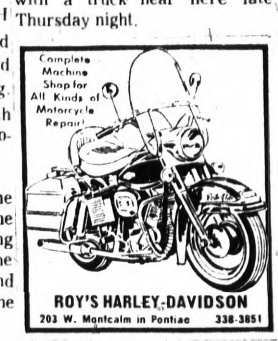

Hayward slammed a triple to score Mike Clancy (who had singled home the first PNH run) in the opening inning; and his solo homer in the third capped a three-run uprising. Bill Vandagriff started both rallies with a walk and two-bagger.

★ ★ ★

Reddeman entered the game with two out in the fourth, the Huskies ahead 5-1 and the tying run at the plate. He ended the trouble with a strikeout and blanked Andover the rest of the way on no hits.

Mechanic Killed in Greek Race

PIRGOS, Greece (AP) — An Italian mechanic was killed and another was injured when their service car assisting the Lancia team in the International Acropolis Motor Rally collided with a truck near here late Thursday night.

WARRIOR ON LOOSE — Baserunner Brian Gromek (8), son of ex-Detroit Tiger hurler Steve Gromek, takes off for second base on a successful steal in the sixth inning Thursday for Birmingham Brother Rice. Madison first sacker Jerry Caudill (12) and umpire Maurice Stack watch the delivery to the plate. Gromek reached second and scored the Warriors' fourth run moments later on Dave Fournier's single. Brother Rice won, 8-1, in its tournament opener.

World Marks Face Assault

Top Track Athletes Seek New Records

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — World records in the pole vault, high hurdles and sprints are in jeopardy Saturday when one of the year's strongest fields of athletes gathers for The Champions Meet.

The meet, in Balboa Stadium, is a new concept in track and field, limited to only 11 open events for world-class competitors. Field events begin at 1 p.m.

LOOK TO TRIALS

The world's best in several events will attempt to improve standards and hold off challengers with Americans also getting set for the Olympic trials late this month.

★ ★ ★

Bob Seagren heads a list of 17-foot pole vaulters. He's gone 17-6¼ this year, one inch under the world record.

★ ★ ★

Earl McCullouch, Willie Davenport and Richmond Flowers — the nation's best hurdling trio — compete in the 120 highs. McCullouch has a share of the world mark at :13.2, while Flowers' best time this year is :13.3.

Minor League Pitching Curse Nats' Epstein

By The Associated Press

It looks as though International League pitching is just what Mike Epstein needed to cure his ailing batting average.

The big first baseman slammed his third home run Thursday in seven games since he was sent down by the Washington Senators as the Buffalo Bisons knocked over Rochester's league-leading Red Wings 5-2.

Both Columbus and Louisville pulled to within a game of first place. The Jets divided a doubleheader with Richmond—they won the nightcap 5-2 after dropping the opener 4-1. The Colonels whipped the Jacksonville Mets 8-6. The Toledo-Syracuse game was rained out.

I'm Smiley Wins Stake

HAZEL PARK (AP) — I'm Smiley, winner of the Illinois Handicap two weeks ago, captured the $25,000 Decoration Day Allowance Stake Thursday at the Hazel Park Race Track.

With Craig Perret in the saddle, I'm Smiley knifed through on the inside to move up from fourth on the back stretch, crossing the wife three lengths ahead of Scurry Back. Hy Forst was third by another length.

It was the third consecutive victory for the Chicago thoroughbred, who paid $16, $9 and $5.80. He raised his winnings this year to more than $40,000.

Doolittle Will Speak

Arias Declared Panama Victor

Rival Rejects Ballot Count for President

PANAMA (AP) — Dr. Arnulfo Arias was declared winner of Panama's presidency for the third time Thursday and voiced confidence that this time he may hold onto the post for a while.

Rival candidate David Samudio rejected the result of the ballot count, but Arias was bolstered this time by support of Panama's army, the National Guard.

Arias, 67, polled 41,545 more votes than Samudio, the government candidate, the National Election Board said in a report on the May 12 election.

Samudio challenged the honesty of the count and claimed that the National Guard had committed "an act of force" in supporting the opposition.

DECLARED VOID

Another electoral tribunal controlled by the government said the election board's count was void and Samudio should be declared the winner. But without National Guard backing, this had no effect.

Born Aug. 15, 1901, in Rio Grande in western Panama, Arias is a member of one of the country's most distinguished families.

His brother Harmodio was president from 1932 to 1936. He completed his undergraduate studies at the University of Chicago in 1921, took a medical degree from Harvard in 1925, and interned at the Boston City Hospital.

But upon returning to Panama, after postgraduate work in France, the young doctor soon found his real love was politics and in 1927 joined a faction known as Accion Communal that overthrew the government in 1931.

Elected president in 1940, Arias introduced Panamanians to his private ideology, which he called "Panamenismo."

To many Panamanians this was the birth of their nationalism, the first effort to give the people a sense of identity. This, some historians say, is the basis of the Arias appeal.

Village Is Aglow

QUINAULT, Wash. (AP) — Things are all aglow in the nearby Indian village of Queets. A year ago the federal government built 21 all-electric homes for the indians, but the nearest power line was 13 miles away. The homes were finally hooked up to power Wednesday.

Powerful Astrolite Developed as Liquid Land Mine

ISSAQUAH, Wash. (UPI) — Astrolite, the most powerful known conventional explosive, has been developed into a liquid land mine that can be poured directly on the ground.

Scientists at Explosives Corp. of America, a subsidiary of Rocket Research Corp., said Astrolite's unique properties permit it to be transported and handled so easily in the field that a soldier can carry it in his canteen.

★ ★ ★

Once applied, it cannot be detected by standard mine-detection equipment. And it deactivates itself after four days.

Astrolite can be detonated by a standard blasting cap and eventually is expected to be employed in mining, petroleum and heavy construction industries. Currently it is available only for military use.

And the military is finding it a revolutionary concept in mine warfare.

In a recent demonstration, a two-ton truck was parked over a spot on a remote mountain road where eight pounds of the powerful chemical explosive had been poured. The Astrolite was fired remotely, and all that was left of the van truck was its wheels.

★ ★ ★

If the mine were set on Vietnam's Ho Chi Minh Trail, a pressure fuse would be used and the Astrolite would blow up under the weight of the vehicle.

The liquid soaks a few inches into the earth, giving it tremendous upheaval power.

SURVIVES RAIN

Astrolite is the first explosive developed that can be poured directly on the ground. Under typical test conditions conducted by the company it remained usable up to four days, even with rain.

★ ★ ★

The liquid's automatic deactivation would eliminate dangerous mine-field clearing operations.

Teamsters Stepping Up Efforts to Organize Public Employes

By NEIL GILBRIDE

WASHINGTON (AP) — The giant Teamsters Union is stepping up its bid to organize public employes ranging from garbagemen to school workers, the nation's most rapidly growing field of labor organization.

"We are organizing them, accepting them as members and representing them vigorously," said Frank E. Fitzsimmons, acting president of the Teamsters.

★ ★ ★

The organizing effort puts the independent 1.9-million-member Teamsters in increasing competition with the AFL-CIO American Federation of State County and Municipal Workers, long the most active union in the field.

★ ★ ★

"We have been having battles with them right along," said Jerry Wurf, president of the 400,000-member State, County and Municipal Workers.

But Wurf said his union—with membership he said is soaring by some 1,000 a week—isn't worried about the competition.

"We beat the pants off them" in most election contests for union membership, Wurf said in an interview.

★ ★ ★

The Teamsters, despite its greater size; represent a far smaller proportion of public workers than Wurf's union.

The two most notable strikes of the two unions this year involved garbagemen.

NEW YORK, MEMPHIS

The Teamsters represent New York City sanitation workers, who struck for nine days in February. Wurf's union represents Memphis garbagemen, whose long strike sparked major civil rights demonstrations during which Dr. Martin Luther King was slain by a sniper.

The two unions also compete to organize school, hospital, welfare, police and fire department employes in many areas.

Fitzsimmons, in an article in the Teamsters Union magazine, said public employes are "catching up on a public debt" in demanding higher pay and better working conditions.

★ ★ ★

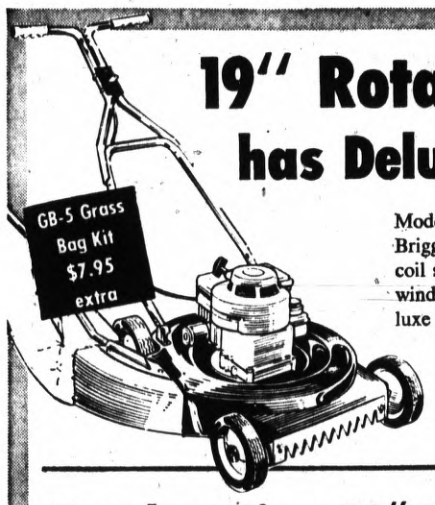

Both Fitzsimmons and Wurf contend most public workers should have the right to strike, except possibly police and firemen in some cases. Many states forbid public employes from striking.

About 1800 A.D. the population of the world passed the billion mark. By 1930 it had reached two billion.

Area Students at MSU Involved in White Group for Rights

(EDITOR'S NOTE — Joy A. McReynolds, a former Pontiac Press high school correspondent now a student at Michigan State University, submitted the following civil rights article to point up the positive action being taken by Pontiac area residents who are students at MSU.)

Six area residents are among some 900 student members of a white civil rights group at Michigan State University. The East Lansing organization, Students for White Community Action (SWCA), was born in the aftermath of Dr. Martin Luther King's assassination.

★ ★ ★

The movement took shape under the direction of Dennis Rittenmeyer, head resident adviser of North Wonders Hall on campus. Among those expressing concern over the growing racial tension at the organizational meeting were MSU juniors John Hoffmeister, 1712 Hamilton, Bloomfield Township and Gary Sipperly, 145 Oakmont, Pontiac Township.

As basic principles the SWCA states: "The aim of our group is to reach the mass of white middle-class America. We feel we can do this as no other group can because we are white middle-class Americans ourselves, and thus have contacts and knowledge one can only get by being a member of white middle-class America."

The organization received endorsements from MSU President John Hannah and a representative number of faculty members. From the public sphere Lt. Gov. William Milliken and Secretary of State James Hare added their endorsements.

Other politicians include Sen. Edward Brooke of Massachusetts and Fred R. Harris of Oklahoma and former Illinois Gov. Otto Kerner.

Stressing as the real solution to the civil rights problem a recognition of the way things are and knowledge of why they are, the group arranged a series of open discussions on the Kerner Report.

Consideration of the report of President Johnson's National Advisory Commission on Civil Disorders reportedly drew a substantial number of students, student leaders and interested citizens.

EXPECTED ACTIONS

Among the positive actions SWCA expects to take is to request the State Board of Education to endorse and recommend a course in minority group studies to be taught in Michigan's public high schools.

★ ★ ★

Support also is being given to a program of fellowships to graduating black seniors at MSU to obtain the qualified instructors, with emphasis on the area of Afro-American studies.

★ ★ ★

A variety of books concerning the racial issue has been collected and will constitute the SWCA library under the direction of Sipperly.

Other Pontiac area students supporting the organization include freshmen Karen Kieppe, 756 Henley, Birmingham, and Donna Christman, 485 N. Cranbrook, Bloomfield Township; sophomore Samuel Underwood, 1384 S. Bates, Birmingham; and junior Donald Chambers of 817 N. Perry, Pontiac.

OU Noncredit Summer Adult Classes Listed

Tune up your musical ear for Meadow Brook, learn more about yourself and others through group dynamics or put on ballet slippers this summer.

Area residents will have a chance to do these things and more through the Continuing Education Division of Oakland University, which is sponsoring a summer program of noncredit courses beginning the week of June 24.

★ ★ ★

The Music of Meadow Brook V, Group Dynamics and Basic Ballet are three of the courses being offered on the campus.

No special training is required for the introduction to this year's Music of Meadow Brook being taught by John Dovaras, OU choral director and lecturer in music.

CLASS DATES SET

The class meets on Tuesdays, preceding the Thursday through Sunday concerts of the Meadow Brook Festival which opens its fifth season June 27.

Group Dynamics and Basic Ballet are two courses being offered for the first time during the summer at Oakland. Other new classes are in Vocabulary Development and Cost Control in Manufacturing.

★ ★ ★

The remainder of the summer program includes classes in creative writing and efficient reading and courses in the fields of art, management and languages.

The Group Dynamics session, limited to 15, is similar to sensitivity training. The purpose is to clarify ideas and feelings. The goal is increased interpersonal skills, sensitivity and effectiveness in personal and professional relationships.

BALLET FOR FITNESS

Basic Ballet is aimed at the young and mature women who want to gain a knowledge of classical ballet while improving their physical fitness. No previous knowledge of ballet is required.

Besides the regular classes, two special programs are scheduled for midsummer and early fall by the Continuing Education Division.

★ ★ ★

A precollege study center will operate from July 8-Aug. 2. The center upgrades students' reading speed, vocabulary comprehension and library research skills.

Optional is an enrichment program of composition skills which includes diction, standard usage, theme organization and logic of exposition.

COMPUTER STUDY

The other program is an orientation course for those interested in the computer industry as a career. This class, which runs from Sept. 3-19, includes private counseling and a course development plan for each student.

Registration for the division's classes may be handled by coming to the campus or by mail or telephone.

★ ★ ★

Special hours for registration will be from 8 a.m. to 7 p.m., June 17-21; and from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m., June 22. Those enrolling should go to the Office of Continuing Education, Room 263, South Foundation Hall.

Opening lead—♠ Q

By OSWALD AND JAMES JACOBY

If you like to overbid, go right ahead provided you restrict your overbidding to good hands and have learned to play your dummies resourcefully.

JACOBY

Midge (Mrs. Sewall) Cutler of Dallas followed these precepts with today's hand. Her seven clubs was quite an overbid but she had become unduly encouraged when her partner had first bid diamonds and then followed with spades.

Midge did have a good hand but when she looked over dummy she didn't like what she saw. She had no chance to make seven unless the diamond diamond finesse worked. On the other hand, if it did work she apparently was one trick short unless the king of diamonds would drop doubleton or unless a squeeze could develop.

There was no reason to cross

the squeeze bridge until she got to it. In the meanwhile Midge started by drawing trumps with three leads and discarding one heart from dummy on the third trump.

★ ★ ★

She had decided that if there were a squeeze it would be in spades and diamonds. Next she took the diamond finesse. It worked and business was looking up.

★ ★ ★

She cashed dummy's remaining high spade and ruffed a spade in her own hand. When East dropped the nine things began to looks as if West had started with five spades. If that were so the squeeze was there. Midge led a heart to dummy's her ace. Then she played out her last two trumps.

West was able to jettison a heart on the first of these trumps. On the second he had to let a diamond go in order to keep his high spade. A diamond to the ace dropped West's king and the jack of diamonds was the 13th trick.

What do you do now?

A—There may well be a slam but you have a minimum opening and should pass. Be satisfied to take the sure heart game.

Negroes Aided

EAST LANSING (AP) — Michigan State University students donated $3,135.72 in a campaign this week for a project to help Negro students at Rust College in Holly Springs, Miss., this summer. Officials of Student Educational Project STEP said Thursday that the additional funds will enable them to send 31 MSU students to the Mississippi college for five weeks.

Astrological Forecast

By SYDNEY OMARR for Saturday

"The wise man controls his destiny . . . Astrology points the way."

ARIES (March 21-April 19): Day features pleasurable activity. Excitement of discovery is accented. Evening features romantic interests. Your creative resources come to fore. Personal magnetism soars.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20): You may be questioned about your plans. Stick to principles — back up argument with facts. Stick close to home base if practical. Stress effort to attain greater domestic harmony.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20): Be analytical in connection with messages, letters, telephone calls. Means find out motives. Check between the lines. Your mind is alert. Satisfy intellectual curiosity by asking questions.

CANCER (June 21-July 22): Accent on enlarging scope of activity, interests. By doing plenty of listening tonight you gain valuable insight. Utilize past knowledge. Something is brewing, meaning money for you.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22): Your lunar cycle moves up; you are better able to make right decisions. Realize this — be confident. Get ready for new project by tying up loose ends. Don't leave job half-finished.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22): Excellent evening for lecture, theater. Get involved in something outside yourself. Avoid selfpity. Relate to experiences of others. Study possibility of special, constructive activity.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22): File information. Study GEMINI message. Evening favors meeting with friends. Socialize. Evaluate some of your hopes, wishes. Don't ask for more than you can handle. Overcome petty feelings.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21): Be flexible where work methods are concerned. You can relax today, but keep in mind your basic goal. Information volunteered by one you meet during social outing proves significant.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21): Written material commands attention today. Check facts. Be thorough. Communication from one afar could brighten emotional atmosphere. Fine for making travel plans.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19): Permit others to make money decisions. You tend to want quick action, but mate, partner may come up with facts which necessitate reasonable delay. Don't be in too much of a hurry.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18): Accent on marriage, partnership, legal agreements. Family members, home, domestic situation spotlighted. Kind of day in which you find out what those close to you really think.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20): Give attention to health — and be ready for unusual visit. Your aid is solicited by member of organization. Heed inner feelings. Do what you know to be right. Forego any other action.

★ ★ ★

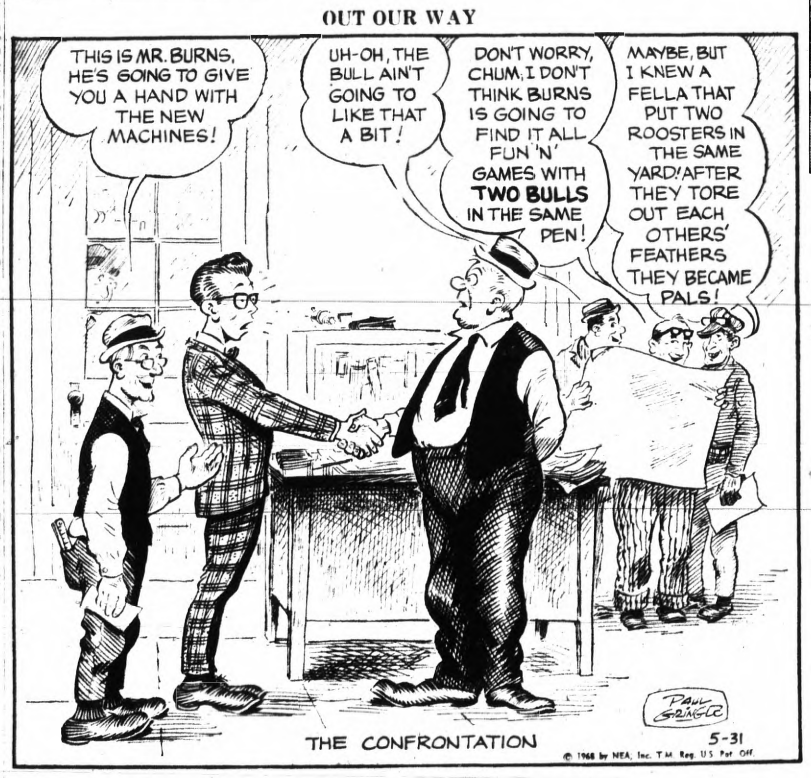

IF SATURDAY IS YOUR BIRTHDAY you are independent, often restless, not happy unless putting forth full energy. Currently you may feel bogged down with deails — but this is merely a passion phase.

★ ★ ★

GENERAL TENDENCIES: Cycle high for LEO, VIRGO, LIBRA. Special word to AQUARIUS: be diplomatic — then others will lean over to appreciate your point of view.

Outlook Bright for Tax Hike

Brisk Rally by Stock Market

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market rallied briskly early this afternoon as prospects seemed brighter for congressional adoption of a tax increase linked with a $6-billion spending cut. Trading was heavy.

Gains outnumbered losses by nearly 600 issues on the New York Stock Exchange.

The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was up 6.62 at 901.83.

Wall Street saw a major psychological factor as President Johnson's acceptance of a 6-billion spending cut to win approval of Congress for a 10 per cent income tax surcharge. Wall Street has been rooting for passage of the tax surcharge as a means of preventing further tightening of credit by the Federal Reserve Board.

RALLY AS GROUP

The savings-and-loan holding companies, hoping for easier money and more profitable conditions for them thereby, rallied as a group. Steels responded strongly to forecasts of greater profits as a result of record spending for capital improvements in recent years.

The price level swept higher on the American Stock Exchange, but the pace of trading was well below the Wednesday's near-record rate. Up around a point were such active stocks as Hercules Galion, Rapid American and Louis Sherry. Pancoastal Petroleum was ahead of the list on volume but took a loss of about a point.

Humphrey Exudes 'Politics of Joy' on Campaign Trail

(EDITOR'S NOTE — Hubert Humphrey, the No. 2 man in the White House, has set his sights on the top job. What made him decide to run for the presidency? Where does he fit in the Democratic picture? AP Special Correspondent Saul Pett traveled with Humphrey on the campaign trail for this personal look at a man who seems to be having the best time of his life running for president of the United States.)

By PAUL PETT

EN ROUTE WITH HUBERT HUMPHREY (AP) — Walking down a drab hotel corridor in Omaha, after another strenuous day of campaigning, the vice president of the United States suddenly clapped his hands and sang out, to no one in particular:

"I feel good! Yes, sir. I feel good! I haven't felt this good in years!"

★ ★ ★

What he felt good about, Hubert Humphrey explained later, was that he was finally out on his own and doing what he wanted to be doing, that he had come of age. He felt, he said, like the son who is finally told, after years of being in business with his father, that soon he would be running the firm.

★ ★ ★

He had given up hope of having a crack at it, but now he does, a real solid shot. And nobody could be happier than Hubert Humphrey, freed from the parental nest, now in full swing and flying like a songbird in the race to become president of the United States.

'GOOD TO SEE YOU'

"My goodness, it's good to see you!" he exclaimed to an airport crowd, large or small, ecstatic or dead. And arms akimbo, high freckled dome gleaming, blue eyes popping with light even on gray days, he invites them to share with him the "politics of joy," to soar with him in what John Adams described as "the spirit of public happiness . . . the joy of American citizenship" involved in discussing and participating in public events.

"It's exciting to be an American! . . Do I love to come here! . . It's fun to be a Democrat; on our worst days we have more fun than Republicans . . . America is not sick! It is growing and changing and groping for answers but it is alive! . . . We can do anything! The impossible dream is always being fulfilled in this country!"

★ ★ ★

So says this uncommon common man, who feels and lives between exclamation marks, this most upbeat of candidates, this old-fashioned spellbinder with the master's degree, this barefoot boy from South Dakota with the monogrammed shirts, this old-line liberal who helped pass much of the nation's social legislation and is now scorned by many liberals as a "company man," this happy salesman with the compeling, if not always contagious, spirit.

PLAN AHEAD

"I speak of the politics of hope, of a new democracy for all! . . . You don't have to tear the party apart or the country down to build yourself up! . . . Let's plan ahead and not relive yesterday. . . I am an organization man and proud of it. I run on the record of the Kennedy-Johnson administration and the Johnson-Humphrey administration. But we're going to build on it, not rest on it!

★ ★ ★

". . .Let's stop talking about black power or white power and talk about people power! . . . Responsibility excludes deliberate divisiveness . . . Let's turn protest into progress! . . . I don't say we shouldn't talk about what's wrong in America. But let's give equal time to what's right in America! . . . You're as old as your fears, as young as your competence, as old as your doubts, as young as your hope! . . ."

So says Hubert Humphrey, an instinctive politician of 57, ever conscious of Robert Kennedy, who is 42. Hubert Humphrey who senses a public hunger for good news among the bad, who walks the classic tightrope of the heir of the incumbent administration, with one eye on its admirers and the other on its critics.

★ ★ ★

If, among the Democratic candidates, Robert Kennedy reminds you of an intense boy prosecutor and Gene McCarthy of a detached philosophy professor, Hubert Humphrey compels the vision of a happy old-time drummer, liked and well-liked, who sails into town with a shine on his shoes, a smile on his face and a sample case full of notions. Trouble in River City? Sure, there's trouble in River City, folks, but it can all be fixed.

Selling unity or trombones, progress or motherhood, social idealism or the power of positive thinking, Hubert Humphrey remains eternally the happy salesman. Give him an order and he's happy. Don't give him an order and he's still happy. But try to stop him from giving his spiel and you'll surely wipe out that smile and tie him up with a double hernie.

This man, as every schoolboy must know by now, loves to talk, loves the contest, loves to campaign, loves to feel a rapport with his audience. Although he is capable of short eloquent speeches with substance and polish, he generally emerges in this campaign as far less sophisticated than Kennedy and less intellectual than McCarthy. He acknowledges the nation's problems in race, poverty, education, housing and welfare but so far has deliberately avoided specific solutions.

★ ★ ★

As of now, he apparently doesn't need to. He is the frontrunner. Kennedy is getting the frenzied crowds, McCarthy is getting the approving murmurs of the intellectuals and Humphrey is quietly collecting the people who count most before the convention, the delegates.

He can be as folksy as a backyard barbecue.

In Rawlins, Wyo.: "I want to thank you good people of Wyoming for sending Gale McGee to the United States Senate. And I want to thank Lorraine for marrying him."

★ ★ ★

In Denver: "I want you to know that Muriel is fine and getting out of the hospital soon. I know she's better because she's getting sassy again and giving me orders."

And like Kansas in August.

In Rawlins: "I've seen such wonderful children today. Children are God's testament to the future."

PRODUCT OF THE PEN — The cartoonists may draw him in many styles, but Vice President Hubert Humphrey (center) still is able to join in their humor during the Association of Editorial Cartoonists convention in Washington earlier this month. With the vice president are (from left) Jack Jurden of the Wilmington (Del.) Journal-News, L. D. Warren of the Cincinnati Enquirer, Karl Hubenthal of the Los Angeles Herald Examiner, John Morris of the Associated Press and Richard Hodgins of the Orlando (Fla.) Sentinel.

'Outstanding Senior' Award Is Presented at Waterford

By MARY JERGOVICH

Surprises, smiles, tears and applause were all a part of the annual Honors Convocation Assembly held earlier this week.

The highest honor given to anyone at the assembly, "Outstanding Senior Citizen," went to Denise St. Dennis.

★ ★ ★

Denise was a varsity cheerleader and corresponding secretary of Student Council.

One of her duties as secretary included being chairman of Waterford's March of Dimes campaign. Denise helped the student body raise $2,600 for the organization which is the largest single high school donation in the United States.

SPECIAL PLAQUE

The March of Dimes gave Denise a special plaque and announced her name will be submitted for the Lucy Baines Johnson Award.

Another high award given is the "Andrew Miceli Outstanding Senior Athlete."

★ ★ ★

For the first time in the 13-year history of the award, two boys, Mike Vidor and Dave Galloway, shared the honor.

Mike is a three-year man on the varsity football and baseball teams and Dave is a three-year track and cross-country runner.

SCIENCE AWARD

Bob McAllister received the "Cecil Myers Science Award" given to the science student the teachers feel has excelled in this field.

Kathy Welch and Colleen Scheett were named "Outstanding Senior Journalists," Lynda McLaughlin and Liz Patrick, "Best Thespians," and Pam Best received the band's highest award, "The John Philip Sousa Award."

★ ★ ★

There were two awards given for the first time this year.

Don Creger received the first industrial arts award, "The Golden Hammer."

ART AWARD

The school's first Art Award of Merit went to Charles Fenlon.

Gary Edwards and Denise St. Dennis were presented the "I-Dare-You Leadership Award."

★ ★ ★

Waterford had seven recipients of the Alumni Scholarship annually presented to one student in the high schools by University of Michigan.

Tapped were Lois Dohner, Stuart Frenkel, Robert McAllister, Thomas Ott, Christina Plaicher, Phyllis Ranke and Sharon Terry.

TWO SCHOLARSHIPS

Pam Best received the Michigan State University Club of Oakland County Scholarship and Sheri Seiber was presented with the Carol Gray Memorial Scholarship.

The senior prom, "L'Amour Est Bleu," (Love is Blue) will be held Thursday, from 9 to 12 midnight.

The formal dance will be held at Botsford Inn in Farmington.

Avondale Picks Cheerleaders

By JAN MALANE

Cheerleaders of Avondale High School have been chosen for next year. The captain for the varsity is Marcia Connors. Other members of the squad are Pat Andrus, Jan Auten, Terry Ferguson, Marcia Gee and Mary White.

Junior varsity cheerleaders are Kathy Cassidy, Vanessa Haley, Val Hewett, Kathy James, Tessie Milewica and Sharon Somers.

★ ★ ★

Tuesday was the last school day for seniors. Wednesday caps and gowns were distributed to seniors in preparation for baccalaureate services Sunday evening.

GRADUATION WEDNESDAY

Graduation exercises will be held at AHS Wednesday at 8 p.m. The ceremony will be held in the football stadium providing the weather is good. The speakers will be the top five seniors.

The AHS band is one of 12 bands that will participate in the Michigan Day festivities at Cedar Point Amusement Park in Ohio June 8.

★ ★ ★

Following the parade the band members will be able to take part in the fun at the park.

Campaigning is under way for class officers for next year. Campaign speeches are given over the school's public address system.

Elections Take Spotlight at Pontiac Northern High

By BETTY ATWELL

Elections claimed attention at Pontiac Northern High School this week.

Juniors competing for senior class president next year are Greg Adsit and Pat Griffin.

★ ★ ★

Other juniors in the competition are Gerry Woods, John Wygoski and Bruce Klineschmidt, vice president; Larry Helthsley and Kaye Williamson, treasurer; Joanne Woodside, secretary; and Dale Barton, historian.

Sophomore candidates Scott Hasted and Tim Mash are in the junior class race for president.

VIE FOR VP

Tom Anderson, Jeanne Atkins, Tom Mash, Peggy Teague and Jill Watts vie for vice president; Marlene Fowler, secretary; and Dick Sumpter, treasurer.

★ ★ ★

The Catalina Swim Club elected Debbie Tenjeras as next year's president; Paula Rampart, vice president; Mary Robinson, secretary; Kitty Boyd, treasurer; and Kathy Dougherty, historian.

★ ★ ★

The Catalinas will give their annual banquet Thursday, at Club Rochester.

Everyone who participated in the May production of "Tales from Fairyland" is invited to the banquet.

AWARDS

"Kooky" or "crazy" awards will be given to the different girls in the club.

The club is sponsored by Mrs. William Mooney and Mrs. Donald Maxim.

★ ★ ★

The orchestra and band banquet, sponsored by A. Roger Welton and Alonzo Seabolt, will be given Monday.

Band letters will be awarded to two-year members and seniors will receive pins.

Groves Thinks About Summer

By KIM SEROTA

As the end of the school year approaches, thoughts have turned to graduation and summer at Wylie E. Groves High School.

The changing atmosphere was accented Wednesday when members of the Class of '68 held the annual Senior Seche', or Skip-Day.

Senior Skip-day, which is the first major activity leading up to graduation, was held at Camp Dearborn.

YEARBOOK ARRIVES

Also part of the end-of-the-school-year feeling was the arrival of the yearbook, the Talon.

This year's Talon, edited by Kris Rowan and Margaret Browning, is the product of a year's efforts to capture life at Groves.

★ ★ ★

Seniors are busy practicing for graduation ceremonies. Last Friday, lineup and rehearsals for senior assembly and graduation began. Further practice exercises will be held until the time of those activities.

Caps and gowns were distributed Monday. This year, girls will be wearing white gowns while boys will wear green. Besides the caps and gowns, National Honor Society members will be distinguished by a special sash.

FIRST EXCHANGE STUDENT

The first of Groves' American Field Service (AFS) foreign exchange students for next year was announced this week.

Maryvonne (Suzanne) Simon, who will stay with Laura Elvig and her family, is from Grenoble, France. She is interested in math, engineering, and the English language. While she is described as serious, Maryvonne enjoys swimming, skiing and volleyball.

Groves traditionally has three AFS students, brought to the school by funds raised from many activities. The three exchange students will be assigned to this year's three top money-raising homerooms.

Sophs' Exam-Day Test

No Word From Novi Girls

By THOM HOLMES

Monday ought to be a quiet day at Novi High School. It is ribbon day, and every girl who chooses to wear a special ribbon for the sophomore class will not be allowed to talk with any boy during the day.

If a girl does, she must surrender her ribbon to the guy, and the guy who collects the most ribbons will win a prize.

It's a good day to have such an event because it is exam day, and students need all the peace and quiet they can get.

The first junior prom for Novi High May 25 was a great success. For their hard work, Gloria Soulliere, the guidance counselor, and Sharen Snyder, junior class sponsor, received bouquets of flowers. The prom is another stepping stone in the growth of the young Novi High School.

★ ★ ★

Student Council officers have been elected. They are Candy Zarish, treasurer; Carol Bruce, secretary; Thom Holmes, vice president; and John Van Wagner, president.

W. Bloomfield Seniors Testy

By BOB BROWNE

Next week is the last week of school for West Bloomfield School's seniors, who will take their finals Wednesday and Thursday. Graduation will be June 12.

During the graduation ceremonies, valedictorian Dianne Binder and salutatorian Kerry Kappes will give their farewell addresses.

★ ★ ★

Both girls plan to attend Michigan State University next fall, with Dianne majoring in art and Kerry in education.

When students arrived in school Wednesday, after their "rain" vacation, they were greeted with the announcement that the student yearbook, "Exodus," had arrived and would be passed out to seniors during the homeroom period and to underclassmen after school.

'NOT A SCHOOL'

The book began, "A Building Is Not a School. . . .", and showed life as it was during our first year at the new school. It brought back memories of heatless days, continual construction, flooding, work and fun.

This year's book was the product of the school's first journalism class and new yearbook publishing company.

Tomorrow the annual Junior-Senior Prom will be held at the Red Coach Inn in Detroit. The prom is sponsored by the juniors.

Monday night a Spring Athletics Assembly honored participants in basketball, track, golf and baseball. Students and their parents were present.

SENIOR BANQUET

Wednesday night, seniors held their annual senior banquet. Featured during the program after the meal was the reading of the senior will and the senior giftatory.

★ ★ ★

Yesterday the baseball team played Waterford Township in The Pontiac Press-sponsored Memorial Day tournament. Bill Mason is the coach.

Spring Concert Held at WLHS

By JOANNE SANDERSON

The annual Spring Concert was held Tuesday at Walled Lake High School. This was the last concert of the year and probably the most nostalgic for seniors.

The Student Council held its annual banquet recently. The Group sang at the banquet and other entertainment was provided by the outgoing officers, who put on a skit for the other members attending. Joseph Malonis, counselor, spoke on "Worth." Also there was the installation of the new officers.

Sophomores chose their class rings recently.

Bermuda Day will be held Wednesday. This is the day when students are able to wear bermudas or culottes. There will be some limitations on dress. It is a day students have been looking forward to.

Next Friday will be Swing-Out. This is one of Walled Lake's many traditions. This is the time when the juniors turn their rings around and are officially seniors. Also the sophomores give the seniors a "tea" or reception afterwards.

★ ★ ★

The "Varieties," supplement to the yearbook, will be distributed Wednesday. This includes the mock elections, the senior class history, roll call and prophecy.

Students who paid for them in advance will receive them first. Extra copies will be sold at lunch hour.

Prom, Skip-Day Held at Our Lady

By CHRIS GINGRAS

In a flurry of end-of-the-year activities, Our Lady of the Lakes' junior-senior prom was held Wednesday night at the Northland Inn.

The day of the prom was chosen by the seniors to be their annual skip-day, to give them time to get ready for the dance. To the music provided by the Soul Searchers, Nancy Hartman was crowned OLL's prom queen for 1968 by last year's queen, Theresa Thill.

★ ★ ★

Members of her court included Pat Conlon, Barb Roberts, Pat Macuga, and Rosie Mauro. The prom followed a theme of "Moonlight and Roses."

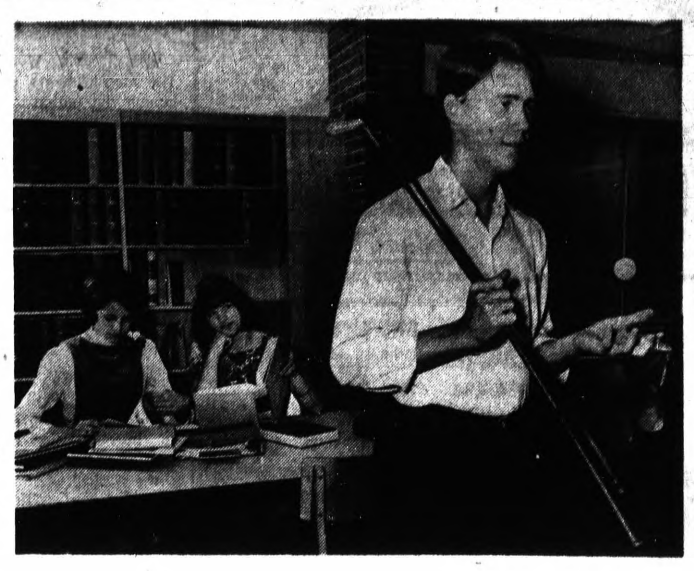

Next year's Student Council officers have been chosen. Serving on the executive board will be Doug Ritter, president; Dave Tait, vice president; Pat Benning, secretary; and Barb Mayworm, treasurer. The new council met with the outgoing officers to discuss plans for next year.

OFFICERS ELECTED

Class officers and representatives to the Student Council will be elected in September.

Lakes held its first Field Day Friday.

The trophy went to the freshman class, which beat the juniors by 3 points. In third place were the sophomores, with the seniors taking last place.

School News Roundup

Mott

By GEORGIA ROSEWALL

Waterford Mott students have gone all out on "Project: Appalachia." The purpose of the project is to collect clothing and canned goods for the people of Appalachia.

A float was built to represent the project in a parade on Memorial Day in Lake Oakland Heights subdivision.

★ ★ ★

Six students from Mott will participate in the Appalachia Volunters Program in Kentucky over the Memorial Day weekend. The students are Lena Scheet, Denise Marks, Alice Hunt, Steve Kinch, Tom Burgess and Sid Lewis.

Miss Harriet Davidson, a drama teacher at Mott, will accompany the students.

OFFICERS CHOSEN

Student Council officers have been chosen for the 1968-69 school year. Elected were Jim Durnbaugh, chairman; Larry Gibons, vice chairman; Cindy Ewer, recording secretary; Georgia Rosewall, corresponding secretary; and Connie Crawford, treasurer.

★ ★ ★

The junior varsity cheerleaders for next year are Kathy Toles, Diane Vincent, Ruth Laturneo, Casey Hale, Debbie Jones and Jane Western.

★ ★ ★

Final cuts for Mott's varsity cheerleaders will be Monday.

Pontiac Catholic

By DEBBIE ROCHON

Sportsmen were in the limelight as Pontiac Catholic High School held its first athletic banquet.

Students who participated in sports received awards for their contributions.

★ ★ ★

Chosen as most valuable football player, most all-around athlete, and as athlete with the highest scholastic average was senior John Guillean.

Most valuable basketball player is Maurice Finnegan while Althea Barnes captured that honor in the girls' basketball division.

TRACK, BASEBALL

Tom Jamnik was voted most valuable baseball player, and Kelley Dean was chosen most valuable in track.

Two athletes were given special recognition by receiving the Griffin Sportsmanship Award. As cocaptain of the girls' basketball team, Maureen Daugherty, junior, and Gary Roediger, senior, a member of the varsity basketball team, shared the award.

★ ★ ★

Both will have their names engraved on the Griffin trophy which was presented to the school.

★ ★ ★

The Junior-Senior prom was held Wednesday at Cobo Hall. Sponsored by the junior class, the theme for the formal dance was 'Tender is the Night." Entertainment was provided by the Dick Stockwell Orchestra.

Holly

By MARCIA CLARK

High honors students have been determined for the class of 1968 at Holly High School after an evaluation of their scholastic records over the four-year high school period.

HHS chooses high honors students from those having a better than B average instead of selecting one or two students to serve as valedictorian and salutatorian.

★ ★ ★

Listed in alphabetical order they are Linda Jordan, Kathleen Laughter, Gloria Lawson, Linda Rose and Linda Wolverton.

At commencement ceremonies the high honors and honor students will be identified by scholastic braid to be worn on their robes.

YEARBOOKS TO ARRIVE

The yearbooks for the 1968 school year will arrive Monday. Students are reminded to have their deposit slip and final payment handy.

The class of 1970 elected its officers Monday. Jeff Caryl was elected president; Garry Adams, vice president; Pat Colebank, secretary; Robin Ennis, treasurer; and Roger Downing, historian.

★ ★ ★

The girls' softball team won its first game of the season. The girls beat Lake Fenton 11 to 7 at Lake Fenton. Tuesday, the team will play Fenton.

Wednesday, the faculty awards were awarded for outstanding scholastic achievement and ability.

Dominican

By ANDI BARNES

"And the tears came." And the tears did come Tuesday night at Dominican Academy. This is a special time of the year for all seniors with graduation approaching.

Tuesday night, the Junior-Senior Banquet was held. It is an annual event sponsored by the junior class.

★ ★ ★

The cafeteria was decorated in the senior class colors of light blue, dark blue and silver, with bouquets of daisies, the class flower on the tables.

Speeches were given by various seniors giving tribute to teachers, parents and friends. Valedictorian, Dianne Morse, and salutatorian, Sue Riharb, also gave addresses.

The class will and prophecy was presented as well as a tribute to the seniors given by junior class president Betty Kazen.

Lake Orion

Lake Orion High School will hold its baccalaureate at 8 p.m. Sunday in the high school. Giving the address will be the Rev. Elmer Snyder of Howarth Methodist Church, Lake Orion.

The Rev. Snyder Hawthorne of Gingellville Baptist Church will give the invocation and the benediction.

Minuteman Crews Launch College Degree Countdown

CHEYENNE, Wyo. (AP) — The men who are prepared to launch the nation's Minuteman missiles at a second's notice have a lot of time on their hands during a 24-hour shift in a silo, 50 feet underground and miles from their missile.

But do they waste it? Well about 150 officers and men at Warren Air Force Base are working toward college degrees as they sit and wait for an order they hope never comes.

★ ★ ★

Their military job is simple. Should the word be given, they would press the button to launch the missiles toward predetermined targets in various sectors of the world.

Two men at a time pull 24-hour stints in their underground homes, with one constantly monitoring the intricate apparatus and both participating in drills held continually to keep the operation alert. But time is also available for study, and about 150 are currently enrolled in the Air Force Institute of Technology Education program —AFIT.

PROGRESS TO DEGREE

Such a program guarantees a bachelor's degree for the officers who entered the military under cadet programs. It appears to be a successful venture, both for the men involved and the Air Force. Professors from the University of Wyoming in Laramie conduct classes on the average of three times every two weeks at Warren AFB, with the remainder of the time devoted to private study which is usually done in the launch facility.

After enough college credit hours have been obtained to bring the student within one year of graduation, the final time must be spent on a college campus. The largest number plan to continue their schooling at the University of Wyoming, but several will go to San Diego State in California and the University of Oklahoma.

The most common courses being studied are general engineering, electrical engineering, mathematics and industrial management.

Capt. Richard J. LaPorte, Pawtucket, R.I., is one of the proponents of the program. When he was assigned to Warren AFB three years ago, he had completed 30 hours of college credit during 9½ years as a noncommissioned officer. Since then LaPorte has satisfactorily completed an additional 75 college hours, and in another year he will move onto a college campus to finish studies for his bachelor's degree.

OPPORTUNITY CITED

LaPorte, who is majoring in mathematics, says the college degree program is "a tremendous opportunity and can be a tremendous advantage if one takes the time to get into the program."

"It's the best investment I have ever made," he added.

How much studying is done while spending the 24-hour stints in the underground launch facility? LaPorte says "50 to 60 per cent of all my studying is done in the capsule."

Another officer pursuing the bachelor's degree is Capt. John L. Allred, formerly of Worland, Wyo., who has been a navigator in the Air Force for eight years. He had completed about three years of college—two at Casper College in Wyoming and one at Brigham Young University in Provo, Utah—before entering the aviation cadet program and being commissioned.

Since being assigned to Warren, Allred has completed an additional year of schooling in the mechanical engineering field and now needs to return to the campus to complete the remaining courses leading to the degree.

"'PLANET OF THE APES' is an enthralling thriller ...a science fiction mind-bender, hypoed by the tingling realism of the camera work and the action sequences. Extraordinary photography giving a chill of suspense...a new frightening perspective!"—Kathleen Carroll, New York Daily News
"SCIENCE FICTION WITH A REAL STINGER IN ITS TAIL. A startling reversal of things as we know them on earth. Evolution has turned out differently. The great apes are in charge; mankind is regarded as speechless, brainless primitives who overbreed, must be periodically hunted in order to reduce their numbers, and supply a kind of sport. There is a shocking commentary on the destiny of this earth, making this a picture that could focus more self examination than most science fiction. Fascinating, imaginative, and painstakingly produced."—Archer Winsten, New York Post

Peaceful Israel-Lebanon Frontier Heats Up

MENARA, Israel-Lebanon Frontier (AP) — The movie bullfight scene was so noisy that most kibbutz members never heard the mortar shells thudding outside the dining hall.

The makeshift movie house quickly emptied when the word was passed.

The shells, 10 by Israeli count, landed harmlessly in nearby fields.

★ ★ ★

Five nights later, another kibbutz to the north also was splattered by mortar fire. Again there were no casualties or damage. But this time the Israelis lashed back.

The terse and enigmatic army communique merely said the target was "the sources of the firing." In this case, it was later learned, the "sources" was the sleepy little Lebanese village of Hula, a couple of miles across the border from Menara.

The reverberations were heard as far away as the United Nations headquarters in New York.

The shelling of this 300-member kibbutz, high above the Sea of Galilee on the western side of the Israeli thumb jutting up between Lebanon and Syria, was the first such incident in more than a year.

★ ★ ★

The Israeli retaliation against Lebanon also was news.

Lebanon, in a letter to the U.N. Security Council, accused the Israelis of premeditated aggression. Israel's ambassador to the United Nations pleaded self-defense and added:

"It was regrettable that Arab regular and irregular forces frequently choose to emplace their firing positions within or adjacent to inhabited points, thus exposing the local civilian population to the hazards of Arab aggression."

REMAINED QUIET

For 20 years, the 50-mile Lebanon border has remained the quietest of all the borders Israel shares with its Arab neighbors. Beirut remained on the sidelines in the 1956 Suez campaign and the June war last year.

There have been border incidents, of course. And they have been followed by Israeli warnings—through friendly embassies. For the most part, Lebanon has obliged, barring Arab guerrillas.

The last attack on this agricultural settlement was on May 6, 1967, a month before the war, when a mortar shell hit one of the kibbutz dwellings.

"It has been a silent border," says Rachel Rabin, secretary of the kibbutz and sister of the former Israeli chief of staff, Maj. Gen. Yitzhak Rabin, now Israeli ambassador to Washington.

★ ★ ★

As one of the founders of Menara 25 years ago, she recalls when Arab and Jew traded openly across the border. Kibbutz members were even permitted to pass through Lebanest territory to haul in materials to build Menara.

"Before the mortaring this month, the Lebanese farmers often waved to us across the border as they worked in the fields," she said.

CUT OFF

Menara was cut off for several months in the 1948 Arab-Israeli war. At one point they had to evacuate the kibbutz children by night. The babies were packed in old boxes and placed on the backs of older children or adults. American author Leon Uris used this incident in his book "Exodus."

One reason for the heating of the Lebanon border may be pinned to the success Israel has had against infiltrators from Jordan in recent weeks.

★ ★ ★

"Now the guerrillas are trying to use Lebanon," says one knowledgeable Israeli.

"I don't know about that," says Rachel Rabin. "We want to live here peacefully. So do the Lebanese."

★ ★ ★

She pointed to a twisting black ribbon weaving through the soft Lebanese hills. "You see that highway? That goes to Beirut. One could easily get there in an hour or two," she added wistfully.

$7 a Month Not Fast Enough

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP) — Ricardo Cagnacci, a fitter and turner, was paying off a damages claim at the rate of $7 a month.

The damages were awarded to Miss Joan Barbara Card in 1964 for injuries she received in an accident while a passenger in a car driven by Cagnacci.

★ ★ ★

Now Acting Supreme Court Judge C. S. Margo has ordeed Cagnacci, who has a net monthly income of $284, to increase his monthly installments fourfold.

At this rate the $18,200 damages will be paid off in 54 years instead of 216 years.

Airline Service Okay Sought

WASHINGTON (AP) — Wright Air Lines, a Cleveland, Ohio, air taxi company, has asked the Civil Aeronautics Board for a certificate to operate as a scheduled airline.

The company proposed to provide regular service over a route including Cleveland's Burke Lakefront Airport, Columbus, Dayton, Detroit's City Airport and Pittsburgh, Pa.

The application asked for the authority also to operate nonstop between any two of the cities named.

Exec Is Promoted

DETROIT (AP) — Robert Griffin, assistant general manager of Kmart operations, has been promoted to the position of general manager of the Kmart operations, a division of the S. S. Kresge Co.

The Gourmet Adventures of Jayson's

The name for the hamburger sandwich is derived from Hamburg, Germany, a city that once enjoyed prosperous commerce with the Baltic Provinces in Russia, where shredded raw meat (we now know it as steak tartare) comprised a large part of the cuisine. It is from them that Hamburg developed an appreciation of "hamburger," though it was left to Americans to place the meat in a bun and create what is now considered an American specialty. Salisbury steak came into being at the turn of the century, promoted by the physician and food faddist J.H. Salisbury.

Meat is just one part of our large cuisine. JAYSON'S RESTAURANT AND SUPPER CLUB, 4195 Dixie Highway, "where Dining Pleasure and Hospitality Go Hand in Hand" has a large selection of quality food and wine. Dancing and entertainment Tues. through Sat., featuring the Jerry Libby Trio. Call 673-7900 for reservation.

A letter to a young man considering a newspaper career.

In 1947 the late John H. Sorrells, then Executive Editor of the Scripps-Howard Newspapers, wrote this letter to a young man considering a career in the daily newspaper business. As a model of wise and thoughtful advice, the letter is a classic of its kind. Its age has not dimmed its timeliness or relevance. For John Sorrells newspaper work was a sacred trust. For Sorrells, each day in the newspaperman's life brought excitement and an opportunity to report the joys and tragedies of mankind. His career was a tribute to his professionalism.

Any young man should try to determine the direction and staying qualities of the business or profession in which he is interested; and that should apply with particular emphasis to newspaper work, because our business has been singled out in recent years for special treatment by the cynics.

Yet it seems to me, based upon my own observation and experience, that newspapers today are more interesting, more intelligently edited, more faithful to the general public interest than at any time in my knowledge. I firmly believe that newspapers enjoy a greater measure of public confidence today than they did back in the days of "the Thunderers" like Henry Watterson, Horace Greeley, etc.

Assuming that a young man has some reasonable assurance of the staying qualities of the newspaper business, from a material point of view, I think he should ponder the matter from a different point of view. It seems to me that the newspaper business would prove inadequate and unsatisfactory to anyone who considers it as merely the means of earning a living, because the newspaper is more than a business or a trade or a profession; it's a way of life.

One who goes into newspaper work ought to consider that he is enlisting in a cause, is dedicating his life to something. He should inquire not only about the material rewards, but also ask about the spiritual rewards.

What a man will put into the newspaper business, if he is in earnest, will be hard work, a rigid mental discipline, a certain self-denial, an unglorified anonymity. What he will get out of it, materially, can be easily disposed of. Despite sneers and charges and accusations to the contrary, newspaper work pays well.

The newspaper business is annual, not seasonal; it is stable; it provides year-round employment, at an annual wage. The hours are decent, the working conditions good. Newspaper people are invariably persons of size in their communities. They have high standards of living; they live in the reflected prestige of their institution.

I have referred here almost constantly to the "newspaper business." Some may wish to call it a "profession." I don't think it matters whether it is called a trade or a business or a profession: what counts is a man's own concept of the obligations inherent in it. Those very obligations identify the newspaper business, to me, as one of the noble callings.

The law is a noble profession. So is medicine, and the profession of arms. The lawyer, the doctor, the soldier—the essence of their business is to serve the interests of others; they are engaged in a career of selflessness in which the greatest rewards are spiritual. That is no less true of the newspaper business.

There are, of course, cowards and traitors among soldiers. There are quacks among doctors, and shysters among lawyers. There are also newspaper "merchants" with pawnbroker souls. But for every quack there are a hundred sincere and honest doctors whose lives are dedicated in self-denial and compassion to healing the sick. For every shyster, there are a hundred earnest lawyers dedicated to the preservation of an orderly society and the securing of justice for the common man. And for every journalistic sharper, ther are a hundred sincere newspapermen whose primary determination, whose fiercest instinct, is to serve, to improve the society in which they live.

While journalism is a way of life, it also must be a business in the accepted definition of the term. It must prosper. It must have profits. It must prosper because it must remain free. It cannot remain spiritually free unless it is financially free. It cannot be free even when it is endowed, because then it is dependent upon its endowment.

That question of a "free press" can lead to endless discussions. It has been an overworked and, in many cases, an abused term. Some chiselers have used it as an excuse, or a refuge; and some of the radical critics of the press have used it in derision. Yet we know that in a society such as ours—if it endures—there must be a free press. It is not necessary to debate the term, to understand that our whole concept of American society rests on the proposition that our press must be free to print all the news, and to criticize the actions and designs of our public servants.

I do not think, however, that the term should be limited to the narrow proposition of freedom to criticize. The American newspaper is evolved from, and is part of, the folklore of this country. A free press, in its day-by-day performance, is the composite of a lot of little things. It is an item about a birth or death or marriage; it's a piece about the opening of a new store, or what is the price of this or that; a story about a heroic cop, or a falce and malicious arrest. It is an article about health, or a bad slum condition; it's a bit of scientific information. A free press is a vast collection of items which gives a community knowledge of itself. It is an institution that enlightens, and, by virtue of that enlightenment, a community is freer to know, to ponder, to appraise, and to judge.

A newspaper gives cohesion and direction and purpose to community life. It agitates; it creates demands; it articulates wants and needs; it establishes and preserves standards of public morals. It is the community's physician, father confessor, and advocate.

I think I am entitled to give personal testimony about the newspaper business. I have been in it all my adult life. My maternal grandfather founded a newspaper and edited it. I started on that paper. Until my brother died recently, he was a newspaperman for twenty-odd years; my sister has been a newspaper woman for twenty years, and still is. Most of my people were farmers—the rest were so-called professional people. My father was a lawyer, as his father was before him. The influences on me were far greater to go into newspaper work, or into the law, than to seek a career in some other line; nevertheless, I did make a deliberate, studied choice. I have done well in the newspaper business, in material ways; possibly better than I might have done in some other business. Yet when I made a deliberate choice of newspaper work, I did it with a willingness to assume that my rewards would be preponderantly spiritual, rather than material. I have never regretted the choice. I know that there is no other business from which I could have derived the soul-satisfaction I have gained.

I can remember when I first started, working a night trick. For a while I felt a bit resentful that other people could live normal lives—could go to shows, play bridge, and so on—while I had to sit out some dreary hours serving their interests. I also remember that I once felt that way when I walked a post, on sentry duty, while the rest slept snug in their blankets. But after a while, in both cases, I got a new concept. I realized in both instances—and I think they are somewhat analogous—that I was occupying a post of honor. In the one case, the lives of my comrades depended upon my vigilance; and in the second, the welfare and interests of the community.

I have felt that to be a newspaperman was a post of honor; I have felt that it lifted me above and beyond the common run of men. I have felt that its obligations and responsibilities were of such character as to command something extraordinary in the way of human behavior. I have felt that it requires that a man not merely be honest, but that he think with integrity; I have felt that mine is a noble profession, because I feel that primarily I am serving interests other than my own.

Journalism is a profession for gentlemen. I suppose there are different definitions for a gentleman. But breaking the word apart, it would seem that a gentleman is a man of compassion and tolerance; a man of honor, bound by something inside himself, to a cause of selflessness. He is a man who considers it his obligation to protect and defend the weak; to give utterance for those who are inarticulate. He would consider that whatever strength and power he has are endowments, not to be used primarily for his own gain, but for which he is merely custodian, and must use for the general welfare.

Under that definition, I think the newspaper business classifies as a Gentleman. Not all in it are gentlemen; there are greedy, dishonorable, selfish stinkers in journalism, as in all lines. But it is a business that calls for gentlemen; and among the many hundreds whom I know in this business, most of them are gentlemen.

I am not greatly troubled about the criticism we hear of the newspaper business. That's not new. The newspaper business is hardy enough to stand it, and flexible enough to profit by it. Granting the significance of other media of communication, such as radio, I do not believe the newspaper is going to be supplanted by such media.

There is a curious and enduring affinity between men and the written word. We record, and preserve in writing, our most cherished thoughts. I believe the written word is all-powerful, and that writing will be the chief means of communication between men as long as men endure.

The newspaper business is not decadent; it has not lost its purpose or direction; it has not lost its ideals or its idealism. How long it continues that way does not lie with me, or men of my age; it rests with men your age. It lies with the younger men who are asking themselves what it has to offer, and must decide whether the rewards are commensurate with what they must put into it. Journalism's vitality can feed only upon the vitality of new energy and new ideas.

The newspaper business is, in a sense, a greedy and insatiate business: it will absorb the eagerness, the vision, the energy, and the imagination of young men. It will drink thirstily of these things, but it will issue a great dividend from them in public service. The newspaper business will endure so long as there are young men who are willing to subordinate themselves to the common good; who are willing to use their strength and their power to defend the weak and give voice to the hopes and aims of the inarticulate. So a young man has to consider whether it's worth it.

It has been my life; it has been a life in which I have never been required to cheat or to steal or to lie; one in which I have never been required to dishonor my own concept of personal integrity, or to dispossess anyone for my personal gain. It has given me the satisfaction of feeling that I occupied a post of honor in the community, that I was a man apart, that I was engaged in a superior undertaking. It is the aristocrat of trades, the profession of gentlemen.

I think there will always be young men with the spirit of adventure in them, young men bound by something within them to take the role of gentleman in our society. So long as there are such men, nobody has to worry much about the enduring qualities of journalism.

People in the News

By The Associated Press

James A. Farley, former postmaster general and associate of President Franklin D. Roosevelt, celebrated his 80th birthday yesterday in New York by taking two grandchildren to a doubleheader at Yankee stadium.

The Yankee ball club presented Farley with the seat he used to occupy before the seating was changed. It will be sent to the Baseball Hall of Fame in Cooperstown, N.Y.

The players inscribed a bat in honor of "one of the oldest Yankee fans" and presented it to Farley.

At a family birthday party at the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel later, Farley reversed custom and presented birthday gifts instead of receiving them.

LBJ Serves 'Light Lunch' to Australian Guests

JOHNSON

President Johnson served what re called a "light lunch" to visiting Australian Prime Minister and Mrs. John G. Gorton and ranch guests yesterday.

The Mexican-style midday meal included enchaladas, tacos, beans, tamales, chile conqueso, guacamole salad, strawberries with whipped cream and cookies.

Coed Gives Up Her Bedroom on Wheels

Cherie Gordon's four-wheel bedroom has been beached and now she's living in a dormitory just like any other Sacramento State College coed.

The shapely 21-year-old California physical education major drew nationwide attention after newsmen learned she was sacking out in a sleeping bag on the floor of her station wagon, "The Old Green Goose," to save money.

The chairman of the women's physical education department was not enthusiastic, however, and wrote Cherie a memo strongly hinting the faculty might not approve her teaching credentials unless she changed her ways.

Cherie says that even before the memorandum arrived, she had given up sleeping in the station wagon and moved into the dorm.

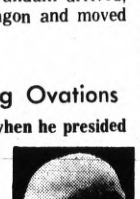

Pablo Casals Wins Two Standing Ovations

Pablo Casals won two standing ovations when he presided at the opening night of the 13th annual Casals Music Festival in San Juan, P.R.

The 92-year-old self-exiled Spanish cellist directed the third and final number of a program Wednesday that featured the works of Mozart.

On the podium he rose from the conductor's stool and impatiently stamped his foot at the slightest hesitation by any member of the 75-piece festival orchestra.

He was greeted with a standing ovation before he began and again when the number was over. The festival continues through June 12.

Only 'Small Units' of Russians Taking Part

PRAGUE (AP) — Officers of Warsaw Pact armies have begun arriving in Prague in preparation for joint maneuvers next month that the Czechoslovak Defense Ministry says will involve "only small units" of Soviet troops.

An announcement said they include a number of specialized signal corps men.

★ ★ ★

Foreign Minister Jiri Hajek said Thursday that no Soviet combat units would take part.

The maneuvers—under the direction of Marshal Ivan Yakubovsky of the Soviet Union, commander in chief of the East European military alliance—will range through Czechoslovakia and parts of Poland. Foreign observers have called the exercises an attempt to pressure Czechoslovakia's liberaliza-

SMALL UNITS

Defense Minister Martin Dzur said small Russian units would be used to simulate larger ones.

"For example," he said, "a division has several thousand troops but in this exercise it will be represented by two or three hundred men.

"Not all types of units will be represented as we must bear in mind that the crops are just ripening and orders have been issued to the effect that no damage to the crops may occur."

★ ★ ★

Dzur said the Soviet troops were bringing communications equipment "which we ourselves will use for our own maneuvers later in the year."

SOVIET OFFICERS

A Defense Ministry statement noted that "mainly Soviet officers will be involved" in "staff movements."

It described the maneuvers as "one of the regular working measures to raise the fighting potential and integration of staffs, to increase cooperation and strengthen friendship among the armies of the Warsaw treaty countries."

Ex-President of Lebanon Is Wounded

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — Camille Chamoun, former president of Lebanon, was shot by an unknown assailant today but his condition is not serious, the hospital reported.

Chamoun was shot at his party's headquarters in Beirut. Unconfirmed reports said his bodyguards cut down the assassin.

★ ★ ★

The identity of the gunman and the motive for the shooting were not known.

Chamoun, 58, reentered political life earlier this year when he was elected to Parliament. His election was protested by left-wing groups, which claimed he was planning to push neutral Lebanon into the Western camp.

★ ★ ★

Chamoun called in the U.S. Marines in 1958 to check the threat of civil war.

★ ★ ★

Members of parliament who saw Chamoun in his hospital room said he was "doing fine." They said he was hit by four bullets in both arms and in the face.

Suspect Held in Bar Holdup

A warrant charging a Pontiac man with the armed robbery of a bar was to be sought today by Pontiac police.

The suspect, Frank E. Sidelinker, 32, of 1361 Nakomis, was arrested minutes after the Avenue Bar, 137 Oakland, was robbed yesterday morning.

★ ★ ★

When taken into custody at Cass near Sanderson, Sidelinker had $237 in his pocket and a woman's stocking.

The bar owner, Virginia E. Sesti, told police that the gunman had worn a stocking over his head when he entered the bar shortly before 8 a.m.

★ ★ ★

Police later found a starter pistol under a pile of wood near where Sidelinker's car was parked.

More Apprentices --Few Are Negroes

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Labor Department says about 275,000 persons were undergoing apprentice training in the United States at the beginning of 1968 but only 2.7 per cent of them were Negroes.

★ ★ ★

In a report yesterday, the department said the number of apprentices in nongovernment programs, operated jointly by labor and management or only by management with no government assistance, was the highest in 19 years.

★ ★ ★

Only 15,000 of the apprentices were members of minorities, including 7,400 Negroes, 4,950 Mexican-Americans or Puerto Ricans, 1,925 Orientals and 825 American Indians.

Trout Planters to Get $5,000

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) —The finance committee of the Grand Rapids City Commission has agreed to pay $5,000 to a group which intends to plant 100,000 trout in the Grand River.

★ ★ ★

The Citizen Action Committee on Clean Water for Michigan said it has raised an additional $5,000 and plans to put the first trout in the river June 14.

★ ★ ★

Dr R. C. Schwaiger of Grand Rapids, chairman of the citizens committee, said planting the fish would "cement" the river's position as a trout stream and lead to stricter antipollution controls for industry using the river as a waste disposal.

Mother Set to Buy Dozer to Free Son

BOONE, N. C. (AP) — Mrs. Albert L. Tester of Boone says she will buy a bulldozer herself if the government won't ransom her son from a Cambodian prison.

★ ★ ★

Her son, Pfc. Jerry Albert Tester, 20, and an unidentified companion were arrested May 20 when a Philippine tugboat on which they were serving in the Mekong Delta of Vietnam strayed into Cambodian waters.

★ ★ ★

The Cambodian government announced it would swap the two military policemen for a pair of bulldozers.

★ ★ ★

"If the government won't trade a bulldozer for him, I'll borrow the money, buy one and make the swap myself," Mrs. Tester said. "I want him back."

★ ★ ★

Tester is the son of the Rev. and Mrs. Albert L. Tester. His wife, Barbara Anne, also lives in Boone.

To Lower Taxes

WALKER (AP) — The city of Walker, a Grand Rapids suburb, has announced it will lower property taxes starting July 1. The reduction is due to a $6-million boost in its tax base, largely through commercial and industrial development. The taxes will be dropped from four mills to 3.8 mills.

RUNNING OUT OF TIME — Archaeologists dig at what they believe to be the earliest evidence of man's presence in the Western Hemisphere despite an onrushing deadline—sundown tonight. The deadline was imposed by Glen S. Gunn, a miner holding claims to the federally owned property. Gunn has offered his claims on the land to the scientists for $25 million. The site is located 10 miles east of Barstow, Calif.

Archaeologists Fight Time at Scene of Key Discovery

YERMO, Calif. (AP) — Deep in the barren Mojave Desert, archaeologists say they think they've found the earliest evidence of man's presence in the Western Hemisphere.

Now, the painstaking task of proving their find faces a deadline—sundown tonight.

★ ★ ★

The work at the diggings in the Calico Mountains, 10 miles east of Barstow, halted when Glen S. Gunn, a miner holding claims to the federally owned property ordered the scientists off the land. Gunn values his claims at $25 million and has offered them to the scientists for that sum.

But the archaeologists say they'll resist his demand for them to leave the land.

PLAN TO STAY

"We've moved all specimens, all notes and records just in case we should have to grab our hats and run," said Ruth Simpson, expedition director. "But our plan is to stay on at the site despite Mr. Gunn's ultimatum."

Their belief that they have found stone-age relics at the site, some 106 miles northeast of Los Angeles, is upported by Dr. Louis S. B. Leakey, who discovered, in Africa the earliest known human remains, which may be as old as 1.3 million years.

★ ★ ★

Leakey has said the evidence gathered at the Yermo diggings, including more than 100 man-made tools, warrants continued research until the age of the relics is proved.

But Gunn said the presence of the researchers is keeping him from digging bentonite, a rare earth from volcanic ash, on claims he has held since the early 1950s.

ASSAYING DEPOSITS

At the request of the archaeologists, the Bureau of Land Management is assaying the deposits to determine whether the claims are worth mining. If they aren't, bureau officials say, the claims can be nullified.

The bureau also has suggested that the five-acre diggings be set aside for further study and possibly opened to the public.

★ ★ ★

Meetings have been proceeding for several days between representatives of the scientists, Gunn and his attorney seeking an arrangement which would enable the research to continue.

The original discovery which led to the dig, sponsored by the San Bernardino County Museum, was made in 1963 by Miss Simpson.

WORKED SINCE '63

The researchers have worked since then, using linoleum knives, dental picks, chisels and pick hammers, excavating several pits, each 20 feet deep, in a prehistoric alluvial fan—a deposit formed where debris spilled from a stream at the end of a gorge.

They say more than 550 pieces of chalcedony—a translucent, microcrystaline variety of quartz—showing evidence of being worked on by men, have been removed from the pits.

Dr. Thomas Clements, retired chairman of the geology department of the University of Southern California and a member of the dig team, said the fan was formed at least 50,000 years ago but may date back another 30,000 to 50,000 years.

Clements said the chalcedony fragments are "definitely not naturally made, so therefore, they must be man-made."

HAND-HEWN TOOLS

Leaky said at least 16 of the more than 550 fragments found definitely are hand-hewn tools, with the remainder showing evidence of having been worked on with tools.

He called the discovery "tremendously important—one of the major archaeological finds in the Western Hemisphere."

★ ★ ★

"We believe this discovery opens a whole new chapter in archaeology," said Miss Simpson. "It is imperative that the scientific fraternity come here to examine the site, to inspect what we have identified as tools of early man.

"We hope Mr. Gunn has a last-minute change of heart," she added.

GIVING THANKS—Harvest worshipers in central India go to the temple for thanksgiving. The tiny wicker baskets and earthen pitchers, with a crop of green ears of corn, are emptied into the sacred river after saying prayers at the temple.

Fire Hits Home in White Lake

A fire of unknown origin early yesterday gutted the living room and caused heat and smoke damage throughout the home of J. J. Dirker, 8565 Cooley, White Lake Township.

Damage is listed as $6,000 to the structure and $3,000 to contents, according to the township fire department.

Dirker, his wife and children were asleep when an unidentified person reported the fire at 3:54 a.m. The family was not injured.

Firemen put out the flames in the one-story house in 20 minutes.

Car-Deer Mishap

Sylvia Hinton, 21, of Detroit is in satisfactory condition at Pontiac General Hospital after the car she was driving hit a deer that jumped into the path of her car on I-75 in Pontiac Township last night.

State Removes Limits on Vote Registration

LANSING (UPI) — Voters can now register at any time other than a Sunday, legal holiday or election day because of an act signed by the governor.

In the past, all registration was closed for 30 days prior to any election.

"When a community had several elections, one after another," said Secretary of State James M. Hare, "registration could be closed for months.

"There was a case in a community on the west side of the state where registration was closed for five months.

COULD GIVE UP

"It would be understandable if a citizen just gave up trying to register after being rejected several times."

The present act allows a qualified citizen to register at almost any time and if it is too close to an upcoming election, the clerk—village, township or city — will give the person a written notice telling him on what date he will be eligible to vote.

To be eligible for a specific election, a voter must be registered five Fridays prior to that election to give clerks the time necessary to handle paper work.

The registration deadline for the Aug. 6 primary for July 5 and the deadline for the Nov. general election is Oct. 4.

Contributions for Poor March Asked in Area

Rev. Matthew M. Scott, president of the Oakland County Ministerial Fellowship, said today that contributions of area residents to the Poor Peoples campaign will be trucked to Washington, D.C., in two weeks.

Rev. Scott asked that any donations of cash, clothing, blankets, shoes or food be sent to the East Side Church of God, 343 Irwin, or the St. James Missionary Baptist Church at 345 Bagley.

Rev. Scott said those participating in the campaign in Washington are suffering from many shortages.

He said the organizing committee in Pontiac is asking that area residents join in a "meatless Sunday" this Sunday.

He said persons doing so could refrain from eating meat and send contributions that would presumably be saved from not eating meat to the Ministerial Fellowship at either of the two churches.

Officers Hunt 'Jingling' Men

NEW YORK (AP) — Investigators face the problem of figuring out how a band of hijackers plans to dispose of five million dimes—a shipment weighing more than 12 tons.

The gang of at least three thieves seized the $500,000 shipment in a Railway Express Agency truck near Fort Lee, N.J., at gunpoint Wednesday.

★ ★ ★

The shipment of newly minted dimes in 500 sacks was en route from the U.S. Silver Depository at West Point, N.Y., to the Federal Reserve Bank in Oklahoma City.

The driver, Charles Depew, 52, of Newburgh, was released at about 4 p.m. Wednesday near the town of Esopus, about 75 miles north of New York. He flagged down a state police car to report the hijacking.

TRUCK FOUND

The empty truck was found abandoned at 2:30 a.m. Thursday at the railroad station at Blue Point, about 50 miles east of New York on the south shore of Long Island.

A Treasury Department spokesman in Washington said such shipments are made routinely to Federal Reserve banks around the country. He said the shipment was insured and the government would suffer no loss.

★ ★ ★

The FBI, and New York and New Jersey state police were conducting a joint investigation.

Depew said that at one point his captors, apparently tired of driving, stopped in Kingston and took him to a movie theater where they saw about an hour of "Yours, Mine and Ours."

The hijackers paid his way in.

Home in Waterford Looted by Thieves

An estimated $1,285 worth of goods was reported stolen from a Waterford Township home yesterday.

Township police said there were no signs of forceable entry to the residentce of Mervin T. Hoover, 1401 Rossdale. They said entry may have been made through the unlocked front door.

★ ★ ★

Among the items reported missing were two revolvers, two television sets, two record players and 50 records and personal items.

MRS. MARY LENHART

Service Slated for Waterford Woman, 103

Mrs. Mary Lenhart, believed to be the oldest woman in Waterford Township, died yesterday at 103.

Service will be 2 p.m. Sunday at the Coats Funeral Home. Burial will be 10 a.m. Monday at the Salem Cemetery in Carriers Mills, Ill.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Lehnart, who spent the last few weeks at the Seminole Nursing Home, lived with her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred B. Coleman, of 2395 Mann.

Mrs. Lenhart reportedly was the oldest person on Medicare in the Pontiac area. She was one of the few Medicare applicants over 100 in the country, according to a spokesman for the Social Security office.

BROKEN HIP

She lived alone until she broke her hip in 1958. She then moved in with the Colemans, but still took frequent trips to visit her other children.

The mother of seven, she outlived all but three of her children.

★ ★ ★

Survivors include two daughters, Mrs. Coleman, Mrs. Harold Kroahe of Braceville, Ill.; a son, Orvil B. of Homestead, Fla.; seven grandchildren; seven great-grandchildren; and seven great-great-grandchildren.

Clothing Store Looted in City

The theft of numerous items of clothing from a men's store in Pontiac was under investigation today by police.

The store, King Briggs Importers for Men at 45 N. Saginaw, was entered through the basement after an alley door was forced open yesterday, according to police.

★ ★ ★

The value of the clothing taken in the burglary won't be known until an inventory is taken, police said.

Police were told that the thieves were selective in taking only certain sizes of clothing.

★ ★ ★

A witness told police she saw four or five youths with armfuls of clothes flee in a car from behind the store.

Answer to Previous Puzzle

Two Sides of Saigon Pressed by Vietcong

SAIGON (AP) — Viet Cong troops pressed hard on two sides of Saigon today in a new outburst of fighting in the capital, as other enemy forces trained big Russian guns on allied bases in the central highlands.

★ ★ ★

Enemy pressure was maintained as North Vietnamese and U.S. negotiators prepared to hold their sixth session of cease-fire talks in Paris.

★ ★ ★

In a news conference today the second-highest Viet Cong ever to defect, Col. Phan Mau, 38, said the Communist strategy was to keep up attacks on South Vietnamese cities to improve the bargaining position in Paris.

★ ★ ★

South Vietnamese bombers plastered Viet Cong troos trying to push into the city from the northeast. Aerial observers estimated the strikes killed as many as 200 enemy troops, but the figure was not confirmed by body counts.

★ ★ ★

More serious than the guerrilla surge from the northeast, however, was the infiltration of small squads of Viet Cong into Cholon, the Chinese quarter in Saigon's western sector.

Earlier South Vietnamese marines and rangers thought they had contained the Viet Cong outside the capital's western outskirts. After five days of skirmishing near the U.S. satellite communications station in Phu Lam, the government troops appeared to have the situation in hand. But the infiltrators moved in, and several hundred frightened refugees streamed from crossfire. Some were wounded.

★ ★ ★

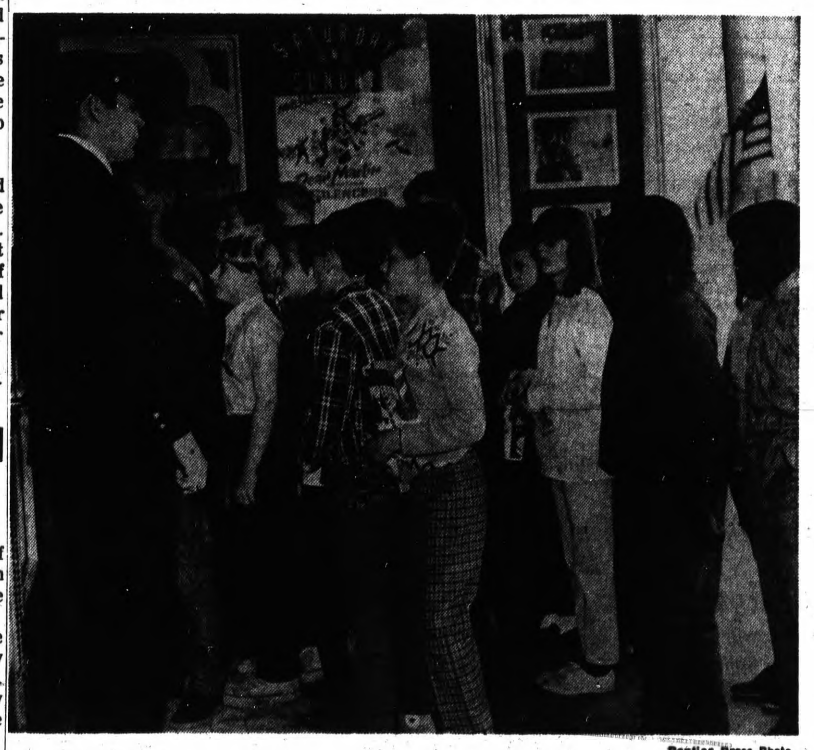

Government troops said they killed 30 Viet Cong early today in suburban Gia Dinh, and they were moved in tanks to block the guerrillas' exits.

★ ★ ★

On the northeastern edge of Saigon, meanwhile, infiltrators slammed bazooka-type rockets and grenades into a U.S. motor pool and a National Police center. Eleven Americans and six government policemen were wounded, but there were estimates of 30 to 40 Viet Cong killed. One U.S. Army gunship helicopter was shot down as it worked against the Viet Cong.

★ ★ ★

From the central highlands came reports that enemy troops had hauled 100mm Soviet-made artillery down the Ho Chi Minh trail into Laos and Cambodia, and were blasting allied bases from a range of possibly 13 miles.

FIREMEN'S SHOW FOR KIDS—Pontiac youngsters line up in front of the Eagle Theater, 13 S. Saginaw, yesterday morning to attend a theater party given for them by the Pontiac Fire department. The children were treated to a movie, cartoons and demonstrations of fire equipment. Herding the youngsters in is fireman Gerald Buckmaster. The show was part of the Junior Fire Inspectors' program of the department.

A Look at Television

Ad-Award Show Is Suggested

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

NEW YORK (AP) — One awards ceremony of interest to television viewers is unlikely to get on camera: The presentations for commercials that recently won for their makers "Clios," the advertising agencies' equivalent of the motion picture's Oscar.

Messages from the sponsor do, after all, occupy the television screen at least one-sixth of all air time. Most viewers react more violently to commercials they dislike than to shows they don't like. They can skip the show, but must just suffer through a minute commercial.

★ ★ ★

A half-hour roundup of the season's award-winning commercials would be interesting. But since the major networks are in fierce competition for sponsors and since air time is purchased at great cost, it is highly unlikely such a program will ever make the channels.

At the "Clio" award ceremonies of the American Television and Radio Commercials Festival last week, about 60 statuettes were passed out. But since a commercial must be seen or heard to identify, most of them, even with titles, are difficult to recall.

HEADACHES

This viewer recognized from titles and brief descriptions a few of the top awards winners. One was that series of bitterly funny case histories of the buildup of king-size headaches. Another was the cartoon commercial showing a nagging dialogue between a man and his unhappy stomach. A third was the series of tongue-in-cheek dramas plugging pitted prunes.

Meanwhile, the television code committee of the National Association of Broadcasters has recommended that certain restrictions on advertising products for personal use be relaxed and that instead of banning the product, the commercials be judged individually on the basis of taste.

Involved specifically is advertising two hemorrhoidal preparations and one personal hygiene product. The recommendations will be acted upon by the NAB board in mid-June.

The industry code currently bars advertising of "particularly intimate products which ordinarily are not freely mentioned or discussed."

DISCUSSED IN DETROIT

The channels are liberally sprinkled with sales pitches for mouth washes, deodorants, antiperspirants, shampoos and salves and such subjects as bad breath and dandruff are discussed in detail. More than discussed, they are usually the plot of 60-second dramas in which the boy gets the girl or the girl gets a date once the cure-all is used.

★ ★ ★

Code board members refer to "changing taste tolerances of the American public," in connection with broadening the base of industry self-censorship. There certainly is evidence in the popularity of broadcast movies and the swinging humor in variety shows that indicates audiences are less squeamish than they used to be.

Young Know Tax Collector

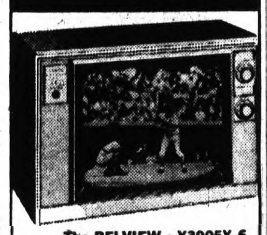

WASHINGTON (AP) — Even the small fry are more conscious these days of the tax collector.

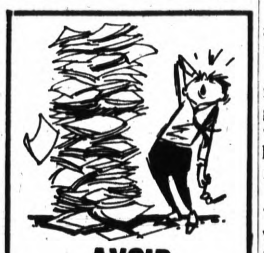

Internal Revenue Service officials said a Virginia first grade teacher asked her pupils what each would do if he had 24 hours and all the money he needed.

One 7-year-old boy replied: "I'd take a trip around the world, buy two dogs and a parakeet, and I'd save some out for my income tax."

Lifer at Large, 2nd Con Caught

JACKSON (AP) — One escapee from Southern Michigan Prison was apprehended Thursday, but a second — a convicted murderer — remained at large today, State Police at Jackson reported.

Still free was Paul Spinner, 40, who was serving a life term for a murder in Eaton County. He disappeared from the prison's trusty camp Thursday, about 24 hours after the absence of 23-year-old Marvin Junior Patrick was discovered.

★ ★ ★

Patrick was apprehended late Thursday south of Munith, near Jackson, where he was hiding under a pile of hay in a barn. He surrendered without a struggle, State Police said.

★ ★ ★

Patrick had been sentenced to 3½-to-5 years for auto theft and 5-to-20 years for statutory rape.

★ ★ ★

Meanwhile, State Police reported that two 17-year-olds who walked away from a work detail in Benzie State Park Wednesday had been taken into custody.

X-RAY RADIATION IN COLOR TV SETS?
Very often we are confronted with reports of alleged dangers which have not been properly researched. The case of x-ray radiation in color TV sets is a classic example. Actually, there is little knowledge of the permissable limits of exposure to x-rays. Because of the very size of TV sets and the fact that x-rays "disintegrate" at about 2 inches away from their source, any danger is very unlikely. The radiation level would not even equal that emitted by a luminous dial wrist watch. Fear not, but do make certain your set is checked out by a TESA, of Oakland County Service Dealer and then enjoy the miracle of COLOR TV.

Kelley Rules Legislators Are Legally Exempt From Tax

LANSING (AP) — Legislators have a legal and constitutional right to exempt themselves from paying the Lansing city income tax, Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley has ruled.

★ ★ ★

The lawmakers are in the process of doing this by passing a bill requiring them to pay a city income tax on their salaries as legislators only in their cities of residence.

★ ★ ★

The measure has passed the House and Senate but currently is back in the House for concurrence in Senate amendments.

Both the Senate Republican and Democratic leaders, meanwhile, have urged Gov. George Romney to veto the bill. The appeal was made in a letter signed by Sens. Emil Lockwood, R-St. Louis, and Raymond Dzendzel, D-Detroit.

★ ★ ★

"Without expressing myself on the wisdom or motive, or the justice or fairness of this legislation," Kelley said in his ruling, "I am of the opinion that House Bill 4144 (the tax exemption measure) does not violate the uniformity and equal protection provisions of the Michigan Constitution of 1963."

★ ★ ★

Rep. Thomas Brown, R-Lansing, asked for the ruling. He said it appeared to be "class legislation" and in violation of a constitutional provision that a tax "shall be uniform upon the class or classes on which it operates."

★ ★ ★

Kelley said in his opinion that in Michigan "the Legislature has the power of prescribing the subjects of taxation and exemption, notwithstanding the Constitution of the state requires the Legislature to provide a uniform rule of taxation...."

Kelley noted that the proposed law does not relieve lawmaker salaries from city income taxes that might be imposed at their places of residence.

Postal Savings Still Serviced

Deadline Is Extended for Uncashed Deposits

Postal savings accounts will be served beyond the June 30 date originally set for transfer of all accounts to the Treasury Department, Postmaster General W. Marvin Watson announced today.

Postmasters will retain uncashed postal savings accounts for a limited period at their offices, and applications for the savings may be made directly to them, according to Watson.

★ ★ ★

The postal savings system was abolished April 27, 1966, and since that time postmasters have been encouraging holders of outstanding accounts to withdraw their money.

No accounts have earned interest since April 1967. There are still an estimated 550,000 accounts yet uncashed, involving a total of about $30 million.

ORIGINAL OFFICE

To cash certificates, holders of accounts should go to the post office where their account records are maintained, taking their postal savings certificates with them. The post offices have the necessary forms.

If a depositor can't go in person, he may arrange for withdrawals by writing to the postmaster at the office housing his records.

★ ★ ★

Post offices will send the application forms for payment to the Treasury which will make final payments by checks mailed to the depositor.

Newspaper Mogul to Get NMU Degree

MARQUETTE (AP) — Lord Thompson of Fleet, international newspaper and television magnate, will receive an honorary degree from Northern Michigan University Sunday.

John P. McGoff, Williamston, president of the NMU Board of Control, said the degree of doctor of laws will be conferred upon Roy Herbert Thomson during Northern's commencement exercises.

★ ★ ★

Speaker for the commencement ceremonies will be Robben Fleming, new president of the University of Michigan.

Born in Toronto on June 5, 1894, Thomson ended his formal education when he was only 14 but became head of one of the largest mass communications empires in the world.

ELEVATED TO PEERAGE

Thomson was elevated to the peerage on Jan. 1, 1964, by Queen Elizabeth II. The name Fleet in his title Thomson took from London's famed newspaper row, Fleet Street.

He was then 70 and owned 125 newspapers and 105 magazines in Great Britain, the United States, Ireland, Canada and Africa. Since then he acquired the world-renowned London Times and the Brush-Moore chain of newspapers in the United States.

Boy Faces Surgery --Swallowed Turtle

BOUNTIFUL, Utah (AP) — Two-year-old Brad Haines may have to undergo surgery—to have a pet turtle removed.

Brad swallowed the turtle, Myrtle, earlier this week. X rays Wednesday showed it to be alive.

His mother, Mrs. Russell Haines, said X rays Thursday were unable to confirm if it was still alive, but a doctor had advised surgery if the turtle did not pass through the boy's system today.

At first, Brad just laughed and said, "It tickles." But now he has had "one too many X rays and one too many trips to the hospital," Mrs. Haines said, and he no longer laughs about it.

Stop Own Pay

WESTMORELAND, Calif. (AP) — City Council members have voted unanimously to suspend their own salaries and those of part-time firemen for the next three months in an effort to balance city books. Mayor E. H. Cain said the city owes $3,000 in past due bills.

Johnson Bows on $6-Billion Spending Cut

MAKE OVER PAGES

JOHNSON CITY, Tex. (AP) — President Johnson has reluctantly agreed to accept a $6 billion cut in government spending in order to get the tax increase he thinks vital to the nation's economy.

His decision to bow to Congress' budget-cutting after nearly two years of battling for a 10 per cent income tax surcharge was disclosed at a Memorial Day news conference at the LBJ Ranch.

The President said the tax increase was urgently needed to stave off economic chaos. But he previously contended any budget slash exceeding $4 billion would be against the national interest.

Now, the chief proponent of the $6 billion spending cut, chairman Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., of the House Ways and Means Committee, predicts the President's move assures quick passage for the tax bill when it comes up for House vote June 12.

ALREADY OK'D BY SENATE

The Senate already has passed a bill packaging the President's tax bill with a $6 billion spending cut.

The presidential news conference also produced sobering reports about more heavy fighting ahead in Vietnam, along with continued propaganda, infiltration and terror by the North Vietnamese and no substantive progress so far at the Paris peace talks.

The President, in Texas for the holiday weekend, promised to continue to explore every avenue toward a just and honorable peace.

"If Hanoi will take responsive action," he said, "we are ready to go far and fast with them."

Governments in County Get State Windfall

Oakland County governmental units are splitting more than $1 million as their share from the state income tax that was not accounted for in many budgets. This represents a tidy sum in some cases.

James E. Seeterlin, county treasurer, has announced that the total county share of the tax for the first quarter, January to March, is $1,046,620.

★ ★ ★

The county government keeps one half, $523,310, and the rest is distributed to local governments — cities, townships and villages.

The 1968 county budget was approved last October before the state tax levy was certain. Therefore, the funds were not figured as income in the balanced $21-million budget.

BY THE END OF 1968

So by the end of 1968, the county will have received three quarterly payments from the state which should amount to $1.5 million in unallocated revenue, provided the tax stays at the same level.

Seeterlin points out the allocations are on a per capita basis, based on the 1960 census.

In the original estimate of income it was figured local governments would receive 55 cents per head. However, collections tourned up enough to allocate 76 cents per head, about 20 per cent more than anticipated, he said.

Both Pontiac and Waterford Township estimated their income from the tax fairly closely. It appears for the year they will get about 5 per cent more than expected, however. Pontiac received $61,024 in the payment and Waterford $35,666.

LOWER FIGURE

Many communities, which are on the July-to-July fiscal year, made their income estimate on the lower figure.

For instance, Birmingham calculated receiving $69,000 in its coming fiscal year. However, its quarterly allocation alone was $19,399. This would indicate revenue of about $80,000 in the period for approximately an extra $11,000. The $19,399 for January-March was not counted on at all and is extra income.

For townships on a April-to-April basis, the expected revenue is generally 10 to 20 per cent underestimated.

Long Line Marches For DeGaulle

Paris Throngs Rally in Support of 5th Republic

PARIS (AP) — President Charles de Gaulle's appeal for support sent hundreds of thousands of Frenchmen marching through Paris last night in a massive demonstration on his behalf.

Down the Champs Elysses they surged, the middle class of France in a dramatic backlash against the student rioters, striking workers and Communist agitators that threaten the 77-year-old general's Fifth Republic.

★ ★ ★

The outpouring was prompted by de Gaulle's broadcast warning that France faced the threat of Communist dictatorship. He served notice that he intended to resolve the crisis and use whatever force necessary to curb elements that have brought France to its worst postwar crisis.

★ ★ ★

De Gaulle dissolved the National Assembly, slapped tight temporary controls on the movement of the franc and hinted that he might use the army to break the general strike by some 10 million of France's 16 million workers.

HE WON'T QUIT

To those who had hoped he would quit under the combined pressure of the strikers and rioting students, de Gaulle declared: "I will not withdraw...the Republic will not abdicate."

★ ★ ★

De Gaulle also said he was keeping Georges Pompidou as premier and that he had authorized him to replace Cabinet ministers as he saw fit.

The president ordered new assembly elections and announced that he was postponing the referendum he had set for June 16 to endorse economic and university reforms.

SEN. ROBERT F. KENNEDY

SEN. EUGENE J. McCARTHY

Two Dems to Debate

By The Associated Press

Sens. Eugene J. McCarthy and Robert F. Kennedy, each trying to block the other's bid for the Democratic presidential nomination, will meet face-to-face tomorrow in a nationally televised debate.

Until he lost to McCarthy Tuesday in the Oregon primary, Kennedy had been ignoring his opponent's daily challenges to join him before the cameras.

★ ★ ★

Oregon boosted McCarthy's stock at Kennedy's expense and suddenly made it harder to say no to a debate.

The ABC network announced yesterday the pair would meet on a one-hour telecast, entitled "Issues and Answers: A Special Report," originating from KGO-TV in San Francisco.

9:30 P.M. IN EAST

It will be seen live across three-fourths of the nation — at 9:30 p.m. in the East (on Channel 7 locally), 8:30 p.m. in the Central states and 7:30 p.m. in the Mountain states. In the Western time zone a taped broadcast will be shown at 9:30 p.m.

Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey, as third man in the race for the Democratic nomination, was asked to join in the debate but declined, the network said.

★ ★ ★

Under the ground rules, Kennedy and McCarthy will not engage each other in direct exchanges, but whenever one answers a newsman's question his opponent will have a chance to jump in immediately afterward with comment and criticism of what has just been said.

National tremors are likely but the debate is almost certain to have immediate impact in California, where Kennedy and McCarthy are pitted against one another in Tuesday's state presidential primary.

County Will Probe Dangerous Corner

By MEL NEWMAN

Following the death of a 40-year-old woman May 21 in a collision at Sashabaw and Maybee, Independence Township, public reaction has centered on requests for installation of a regular traffic light at the intersection.

Most of these requests have been directed to the Oakland County Road Commission.

★ ★ ★

Robert Osgood, road commission traffic engineer, said a study of the intersection, presently equipped with a flasher light, is planned this year.

A similar investigation, which took into account the volume of traffic at Sashabaw and Maybee and the accident rate for the year, was made in 1967.

NO LIGHT

The result was a decision not to install a regular traffic light.

"The volume count didn't warrant a regular signal as prescribed by the Michigan Manual of Uniform Traffic Devices," Osgood explained.

★ ★ ★

He went on to cite statistics involving accident rates at county intersections, divided into two classifications — those with 10 or more property damage or injury accidents in 1967 and those with from five to 10.

★ ★ ★

Sashabaw and Maybee is one of 93 Oakland County intersections where five to 10 accidents occurred last year.

TIED WITH 13

The nine accidents at the corner tied it with 13 other intersections for 83rd in terms of cacident volume.

None of these was a fatal, according to Osgood.

★ ★ ★

Of the 93 intersections, Osgood said, 45 per cent were signalized.

A statistic which casts further doubt on the value of traffic lights alone making intersections safer is one concerning the 82 county intersections where, 10 or more accidents occurred.

Of these, 81 per cent were signalized, Osgood said.

Whether a regular light will be installed at Sashabaw and Maybee depends on the results of the coming investigation.

Last winter, the light formerly used at the intersection was changed for a larger, brighter flasher.

Installation of a regular signal, if one is deemed necessary, would take from six to eight weeks after approval by the road commission.

OTHER MEASURE?

However, the situation at Sashabaw and Maybee, if it is considered serious because of a growing volume of traffic or any other factor, may call for some measure other than a new signal, Osgood said.

News Flash

The State Court of Appeals has upheld a redistricting plan for Oakland County, it was announced today in Lansing. This means petitions will be available for supervisor candidates in the 27 new districts. The county primary will be held Aug. 6, along with the general primary, according to officials.

Rain May Return Tomorrow

Old Sol is busy blotting up the moisture today and offering at least a temporary respite from rain.

Highs today are expected to be between 69 and 73, with increasing cloudiness toward evening. Lows tonight will range from 50 to 54.

★ ★ ★

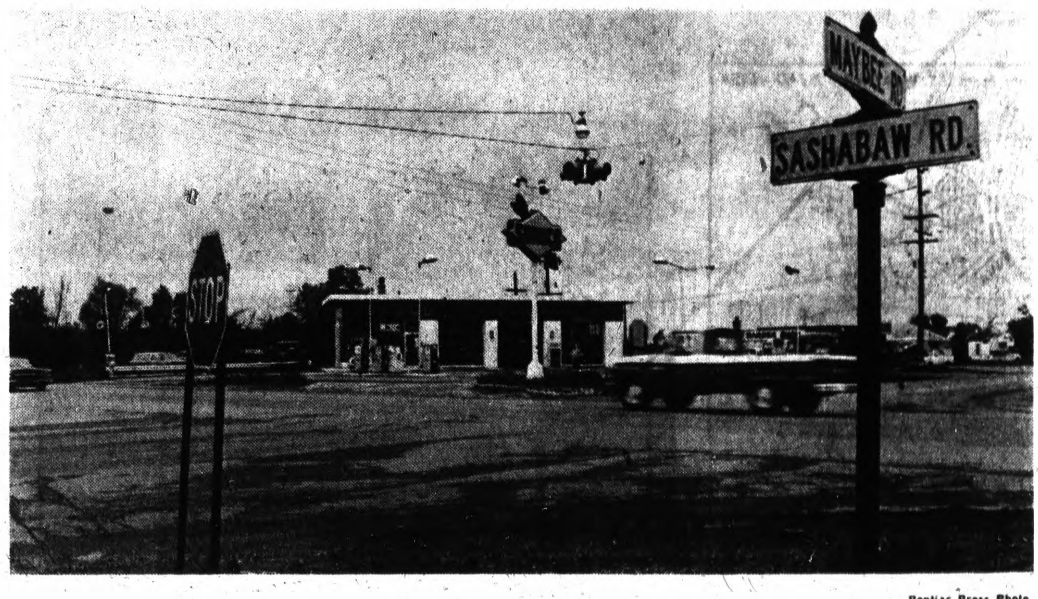

The forecast for tomorrow predicts clouds and mild temperatures with a strong possibility of more showers or thundershowers.

There is a chance of showers and slightly cooler temperatures on Sunday.

★ ★ ★

The precipitation probability for today is 5 per cent.

The low temperature in downtown Pontiac prior to 8 a.m. was 52 degrees. By 1 p.m. the mercury climbed to 67.

Vietnam Peace Talks Again in De-Escalation Deadlock

BULLETIN

PARIS (AP) — U. S. and North Vietnamese negotiators clashed today over ways of de-escalating the war in Vietnam. They failed again to make any progress toward breaking their deadlock.

PARIS (AP) — U.S. Ambassador W. Averell Harriman planned to appeal again to Ambassador Xuan Thuy of North Vietnam today to end the propaganda battle of the Paris peace talks and negotiate on ways of scaling down the Vietnam war.

Harriman held little hope of early success. North Vietnam is pressing its campaign to compel the United States to stop the rest of the bombing and shelling of its territory, and the U.S. government is admantly refusing unless North Vietnam reduces infiltration into the South.

U.S. officials say privately that they hope the impasse can be broken eventually. And while the North Vietnamese are saying the United States would be to blame for any future failure of the talks, they are carefully avoiding any threat to walk out.

Harriman and Thuy scheduled their sixth meeting for today after a three-day recess. They are now near the end of their third week of discussions, and all they have been able to agree on so far is when to meet and when to adjourn.

★ ★ ★

Cyrus R. Vance, Harriman's deputy, has reported on the state of the talks to President Johnson and evidently been told that Johnson's policy is to keep trying. Vance flew to Washington Monday and is expected back this weekend.

Canadian, Latin Receive Hearts

A 59-year-old Canadian and a 54-year-old Argentine received hearts from two stroke victims today, becoming the first transplant recipients in their countries.

In Montreal, surgeons grafted the heart of a 38-year-old woman into the chest of Albert Murphy, a butcher. The director of the Montreal Heart Institute, Dr. Paul David, said the heart was beating at a "satisfying rhythm."

★ ★ ★

The donor, Mrs. Gerard Rondeau, died just before the operation, David said. The surgery was performed by a team headed by Dr. Pierre Grondin, the institute's chief surgeon.

In Buenos Aires, Antonio Enrique Serrano received the heart of Emilio Tomasetti, a 54-year-old businessman who died this morning.

★ ★ ★

The operation was performed in Clinica Modela, a small private hospital. The names of the doctors who performed the surgery were not announced.

This brought the total number of heart transplant operations to 19.

Fair-Housing Event Slated for Monday

The Friends of Fair Housing, an organization formed to promote passage f a fairhousing ordinance in the city, will hold a potluck-style dinner at 6 p.m. Monday at Madison Junior High School.

A spokesman said that Dick (Night Train) Lane, former Detroit Lion star defensive halfback and now a coach for the Lions, will speak at the dinner.

Purpose of the dinner, the spokesman said, is to promote the "spirit of brotherhood and to demonstrate that the people of Pontiac are willing and able to work together to improve our city."

Hundreds Line Pontiac Streets To View Memorial Day Parade

Hundreds Honor War Dead

Hundreds of area residents remembered their relatives and friends who died in war with a Memorial Day parade and wreath-laying ceremonies in Pontiac yesterday.

The paraders, led by several bands, marched from Saginaw and Oakland to City Hall, were a wreath was placed at the foot of the Civil War statue.

★ ★ ★

Marchers then proceeded to Perry Mount Park Cemetery, where veterans' groups placed wreaths in the veteran's plot.

Some 50 groups and bands participated in the march.

FLAG LOWERED

The ceremony at the cemetery was opened by a call to colors and lowering of the U.S. flag to half-staff by the American Legion Post 377 rifle squad.

The invocation and the benediction were give by the Rev. Charles F. Rooney of St. Michael Catholic Church.

★ ★ ★

The parade is sponsored by the Pontiac Mcmorial Day Association. The first was organized in 1957 by the association, formed by the late Floyd Cramer who was head of the Oakland County Veterans' Affairs Office.

Pontiac Woman Killed in South

A Pontiac woman was killed and her husband and son injured yesterday in a three-car accident in Kenton County, Ky.

The victim was identified as Mrs. Diane Hager, 20, of 245 W. Hopkins.

Her husband, Robert, and 8-month-old son, Jeffrey, were treated and released from a Covington hospital.

Police said that the Hager car was struck from behind by a car driven by Richard Gillette, 18, of Florence, Ky. Gillette was charged with involuntary manslaughter.

After the initial impact, the Hager vehicle careened the median strip of I-75 and then struck a third vehicle.

DeGaulle Visits Troops

BONN, Germany (AP) — President Charles de Gaulle paid a secret visit Wednesday to Baden-Baden, site of the French military headquarters in West Germany, the West German government said today.

There were rumors yesterday that de Gaulle planned to bring half of the French troops in West Germany back to their troubled homeland. These rumors were denied by the French Defense Ministry in Paris.

Neutrality of Dems at Stake in Detroit

While state and county Democratic leaders attempt to hold delegates to the state convention in Detroit to a neutral position tomorrow and Sunday, supporters of all three Democratic presidential candidates will vie for a firm commitment.

Up to this point, State Chairman Sander M. Levin of Berkley has been able to convince most delegations that they should remain uncommitted.

★ ★ ★

The Oakland County delegation at its recent convention stayed clear of endorsing any of the candidates, though indications are the majority tends to favor Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey.

Humphrey is the only candidate who will make a personal appearance at the convention.

ONE-HOUR STOP

He is expected to make a one-hour stop to address the opening of the convention tomorrow.

Sen. Robert F. Kennedy's supporters will be led by his brother, Sen. Edward Kennedy, D-Mass.; former presidential adviser Theodore Sorenson; and television personality Jack Paar.

★ ★ ★

The Kennedy forces also will have on hand a host of sports figures to boost the New York senator.

★ ★ ★

Backers of Sen. Eugene McCarthy said that there will be no stars or national political figures on hand to put on a show for their candidate.

'SHOW OF STRENGTH'

But they said they expected "a show of strength" by between 300 and 500 delegates at the convention.

During the convention, 102 delegates to the national nominating convention will be chosen. With 96 votes, the state ranks seventh among state delegations to the Chicago convention.

★ ★ ★

Meantime, a group of Macomb County Democrats, charging that the 12th District convention of the party was "rigged," plan to hold a rump convention tonight to select a rebel slate of delegates.

Detroit Paper Talks Reported 'Moving'

DETROIT (AP)—If the 198-day Detroit newspaper strike is going to be settled, "we should have it in the next few days," a specially - appointed mediator said early today after a 17-hour high level negotiating session broke up.

Publishers of the morning Detroit Free Press and the afternoon Detroit News met with officials of the paper and plate handlers union and with University of Wisconsin labor expert Dr. Nathan Feinsinger all day yesterday and into the early hours of today.

★ ★ ★

Feinsinger said negotiations would begin with the second of four striking unions—the pressmen — later today and then would continue with a paper and plate handlers' subcommittee.

"It's moving," said Feinsinger when asked to describe the progress of the special sessions.

A GOOD BET

Only hours before, Feinsinger told newsmen that "there is not a ghost of a chance of us not reaching agreement unless somebody upsets the apple cart."

Feinsinger, who was called into the newspaper strike by Detroit Mayor Jerome P. Cavanagh, later told the Associated Press that the noneconomic issue of hiring practices was the one that was discussued and still unresolved.

★ ★ ★

A source close to the bargaining table said the paper and plate handlers wanted either beefed-up crews, with some feather-bedding, or to preserve the former system allowing overtime to members. Sources said the union lost out on these points in arbitration during the expired contract.

The decision, made by arbiter Harry Platt, said the paper and plate handlers union must provide temporary help on a straight-time basis, rather than allow overtime during heavy work loads to permanent employes.

The source said the union during the session yesterday the union was trying to alter the Platt decision by trying to increase the permanent force above what is needed for the normal work load.

Feinsinger earlier said that the striking paper handlers, pressmen, photoengravers and printers were basically divided on three issues, with some other issues peculiar to individual unions.

★ ★ ★

Sources said the three main problems were hiring practices, the wage hikes, and the expiration dates of new contracts.

Feinsinger said sessions in this round of bargaining would first be held with the four striking unions. After that, he said, the publishers would begin meeting with eight other nonstriking unions.

After a dinner break in negotiations last night, Feinsinger said "we've turned the corner."

TENTATIVE FORM

"If you can get an agreement even in tentative form in one case, that will ease the way with the other 12 unions," Feinsinger said.

★ ★ ★

"The publishers and unions have convinced themselves heretofore that there was no chance of settlement" Feinsinger said. He added that if no agreement was reached in these negotiations, he did not think there would ever be one.

"But there is no issue so tough within itself that it is an impediment to settlement," Feinsinger said.

Last week, Feinsinger called the special Memorial Day session after talks and publishers Peter B. Clark of the publishers and the striking unions.

★ ★ ★

Several international union officials and publishers Peter B. Carlk of the News and Lee Hills of the Free Press attended the sessions.

Dow-Jones Average Up 4.99

Wall Street Active in Rally

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market rallied in active trading early today.

Twice as many stocks rose than fell, and the Dow Jones Industrial Average rose 4.99 to 900.20.

★ ★ ★

Prices were on the rise right from the opening bell.

Gains of a point or so were made by U.S. Steel, Occidental Petroleum, First Charter Financial, Raytheon, Merck, Procter & Gamble and Polaroid.

★ ★ ★

Commercial Credit lost more than a point.

The ticker tape was late in the initial buying rush.

★ ★ ★

Imperial Corp. and California Financial were other savings-and-loans to gain, both adding fractions on heavy volume.

Among prominent fractional gainers because of high volume were Bethlehem, American Telephone, TWA, Hooker Chemical, National General and Standard Oil (New Persey).

★ ★ ★

President Johnson's acceptance of a $6 billion spending cut to win approval by Congress of a 10 per cent income tax surcharge was regarded by brokers as a bullish piece of news, long desired by Wall Street as a step to prevent further tightening of credit by the Federal Reserve Board.

Steels were responding strongly to a report that steel industry profits were expected to spurt as a result of the record spending for capital improvements in recent years.

The savings - and - loans apparently responded to hopes that enactment of the tax boost and easing of credit would make their profit picture more bullish.

Humphrey Exudes 'Politics of Joy' on Campaign Trail

(EDITOR'S NOTE — Hubert Humphrey, the No. 2 man in the White House, has set his sights on the top job. What made him decide to run for the presidency? Where does he fit in the Democratic picture? AP Special Correspondent Saul Pett traveled with Humphrey on the campaign trail for this personal look at a man who seems to be having the best time of his life running for president of the United States.)

By PAUL PETT

EN ROUTE WITH HUBERT HUMPHREY (AP) — Walking down a drab hotel corridor in Omaha, after another strenuous day of campaigning, the vice president of the United States suddenly clapped his hands and sang out, to no one in particular:

"I feel good! Yes, sir. I feel good! I haven't felt this good in years!"

* * *

What he felt good about, Hubert Humphrey explained later, was that he was finally out on his own and doing what he wanted to be doing, that he had come of age. He felt, he said, like the son who is finally told, after years of being in business with his father, that soon he would be running the firm.

* * *

He had given up hope of having a crack at it, but now he does, a real solid shot. And nobody could be happier than Hubert Humphrey, freed from the parental nest, now in full swing and flying like a songbird in the race to become president of the United States.

'GOOD TO SEE YOU'

"My goodness, it's good to see you!" he exclaimed to an airport crowd, large or small, ecstatic or dead. And arms akimbo, high freckled dome gleaming, blue eyes popping with light even on gray days, he invites them to share with him the "politics of joy," to soar with him in what John Adams described as "the spirit of public happiness . . . the joy of American citizenship" involved in discussing and participating in public events.

"It's exciting to be an American! . . Do I love to come here! . . It's fun to be a Democrat; on our worst days we have more fun than Republicans . . . America is not sick! It is growing and changing and groping for answers but it is alive! . . . We can do anything! The impossible dream is always being fulfilled in this country!"

* * *

So says this uncommon common man, who feels and lives between exclamation marks, this most upbeat of candidates, this old-fashioned spellbinder with the master's degree, this barefoot boy from South Dakota with the monogrammed shirts, this old-line liberal who helped pass much of the nation's social legislation and is now scorned by many liberals as a "company man," this happy salesman with the compeling, if not always contagious, spirit.

PLAN AHEAD

"I speak of the politics of hope, of a new democracy for all! . . . You don't have to tear the party apart or the country down to build yourself up! . . . Let's plan ahead and not relive yesterday. . . . I am an organization man and proud of it. I run on the record of the Kennedy-Johnson administration and the Johnson-Humphrey administration. But we're going to build on it, not rest on it!

* * *

". . . Let's stop talking about black power or white power and talk about people power! . . . Responsibility excludes deliberate divisiveness . . . Let's turn protest into progress! . . . I don't say we shouldn't talk about what's wrong in America. But let's give equal time to what's right in America! . . . You're as old as your fears, as young as your competence, as old as your doubts, as young as your hope! . . ."

So says Hubert Humphrey, an instinctive politician of 57, ever conscious of Robert Kennedy, who is 42. Hubert Humphrey who senses a public hunger for good news among the bad, who walks the classic tightrope of the heir of the incumbent administration, with one eye on its admirers and the other on its critics.

* * *

If, among the Democratic candidates, Robert Kennedy reminds you of an intense boy prosecutor and Gene McCarthy of a detached philosophy professor, Hubert Humphrey compels the vision of a happy old-time drummer, liked and well-liked, who sails into town with a shine on his shoes, a smile on his face and a sample case full of notions. Trouble in River City? Sure, there's trouble in River City, folks, but it can all be fixed.

Selling unity or trombones, progress or motherhood, social idealism or the power of positive thinking, Hubert Humphrey remains eternally the happy salesman. Give him an order and he's happy. Don't give him an order and he's still happy. But try to stop him from giving his spiel and you'll surely wipe out that smile and tie him up with a double hernie.

This man, as every schoolboy must know by now, loves to talk, loves the contest, loves to campaign, loves to feel a rapport with his audience. Although he is capable of short eloquent speeches with substance and polish, he generally emerges in this campaign as far less sophisticated than Kennedy and less intellectual than McCarthy. He acknowledges the nation's problems in race, poverty, education, housing and welfare but so far has deliberately avoided specific solutions.

* * *

As of now, he apparently doesn't need to. He is the frontrunner. Kennedy is getting the frenzied crowds, McCarthy is getting the approving murmurs of the intellectuals and Humphrey is quietly collecting the people who count most before the convention, the delegates.

He can be as folksy as a backyard barbecue.

In Rawlins, Wyo.: "I want to thank you good people of Wyoming for sending Gale McGee to the United States Senate. And I want to thank Lorraine for marrying him."

* * *

In Denver: "I want you to know that Muriel is fine and getting out of the hospital soon. I know she's better because she's getting sassy again and giving me orders."

And like Kansas in August.

In Rawlins: "I've seen such wonderful children today. Children are God's testament to the future."
