Get Happy! Fair, Warmer Tomorrow

Generally fair and not so cool is the Pontiac area weather outlook for tonight and tomorrow.

For the next five days temperatures will average about four to six degrees below the normal high of 72 and normal low of 53. Only minor day to day changes in temperature are expected. Little or no precipitation is predicted.

The outlook for Sunday continues to be generally fair.

Winds in the Pontiac area at 10:15 a.m. were westerly at 12 miles an hour. The lowest thermometer reading in downtown Pontiac preceding 8 a.m. was 42 degrees. At 1 p.m. the recording was 62.

City Hospital Finances Bright

'We're Not Out of Dark Says Euler, but Picture Best He's Seen

Pontiac General Hospital Administrator Harold E. Euler told the hospital's Board of Trustees last night that "we're not out of the dark yet, but our financial picture is the best since I've been administrator."

In a report to the Board's monthly meeting he disclosed that at the end of the ninth accounting period, which ended Sept. 12, the hospital was operating at 95.75 per cent of capacity.

"Our occupancy is excellent," he said. "For the same period the average for the past two years was 80.68 per cent."

He reported that the hospital had $172,000 in cash on hand. Although final tabulations haven't been completed, the hospital had an estimated income of between $10,000 and $15,000 over expenses during the last 28-day period.

BRADFORD RESIGNS
The sad note at the meeting was the resignation of T. W. Bradford, treasurer of the Board.

Bradford, retired Pontiac Motor Division executive, yesterday submitted his resignation — "due to increased business pressures" — to Mayor Philip E. Rowston.

The Board regretfully accepted his resignation and named board member Robert A. Armstrong to the vacant treasurer's office. The City Commission will fill the opening on the 11-man Board at a later date.

Bradford was named a trustee in July, 1958.

In his financial report to the Board Euler said that the period just closed was the sixth of nine accounting periods this year that the hospital has operated in the black.

It's a Sour Pickle

PERRY, Fla. (UPI) — State road department employees were in a pickle today — ankle deep in a truckload of pickles on a highway near here yesterday, snarling traffic until state troopers could re-route motorists. Road department workers are cleaning up the mess.

'Miss Alaska' at MSUO

BEAUTY IS A COED — "Miss Alaska," 17-year-old Diane Lee, is one of two students from the nation's 49th state who elected Michigan State University Oakland for their college studies. Diane placed fourth in the Junior Miss America pageant last March in Mobile, Ala. She is being greeted here by Loten Pope, assistant to MSUO Chancellor D. B. Varner. The other Alaskan is 18-year-old Wayne Coker. He is the son of Wayne Coker, stationed at Anchorage Air Force Base.

Red Chatter Prisoners Say: Watch That Nikita

COLUMBIA, S.C. (AP) — The prison newspaper pooled convicts at the South Carolina Penitentiary for their reaction to Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev's visit to the United States.

"It's okay for him to come and talk peace," said one inmate, "but keep an eye on him."

Khrushchev said the Soviets made the earth a little lighter and the moon a little heavier by sending a rocket up there. He neglected to say he made this country heavier still. The total weight of the luggage brought by the Khrushchev party adds up to 25,000 pounds.

Along with his other baggage, Khrushchev brought along a bag full of proverbs such as:
Each duck praises his own marsh.
He who comes late must be content with a pickled bone.
He who wants to have eggs must put up with the cackle.

Nina Petrovna Khrushchev, wife of the Kremlin leader, studies English as a hobby. The gray-haired, motherly-looking woman doesn't pretend that it's perfect English, but it has been sufficient for most occasions.

"I want to greet the women in New York and greet all the New Yorkers," she said.

She added: "I don't say so very well, the English."

New York had an air-raid siren test shortly after Khrushchev arrived. Lousy timing. Was the town ever safer from attack?

Nina Khrushchev was the show on Broadway Thursday night. She went to see "The Music Man." A stage manager, watching anxiously for reaction from the famous guest, said Mrs. Khrushchev smiled, laughed and clapped her hands at the show's rollicking hit song "Trombones."

So how come Mrs. Nikita Khrushchev got tickets to "The Music Man" while us loyal, 100 per cent Americans are still waiting?

Has Long Way to Go

KNARESBOROUGH, England (UPI) — Terry Gargon, 14, ran away from home, leaving this note to his parents: "Don't call police. I'll be the first man on the moon." Police found Gargon about 45 miles from home, 238-857 miles short of his destination.

Khrushchev Visits Grave of President Roosevelt

HYDE PARK, N.Y. (AP) — Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev arrived at Hyde Park today on a brief pilgrimage to the grave of President Franklin D. Roosevelt.

The late President's widow, Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt, greeted Khrushchev outside the grave site as he arrived 39 minutes late at 10:09 a.m. after a 70-mile drive up the Hudson valley from New York City.

A pale sun which shined earlier in the morning vanished well in advance of Khrushchev's arrival and a light rain was falling as he and Mrs. Roosevelt walked together into what was once the Roosevelt family's rose garden, where the President was buried April 15, 1945.

Mrs. Roosevelt, who met Khrushchev two years ago on a visit to Yalta, stood by as the Soviet Premier placed a wreath of roses on her husband's grave.

Khrushchev's drive here was through some of the most scenic land in the country.

Late today the great Soviet-American traveling debate moves to the stage of the United Nations Assembly, with Khrushchev, already showing signs of testiness, reported to spring a Soviet surprise.

The Soviet Premier, after three full and rugged days of speaking and touring, lost his temper momentarily in public Thursday night. But he quickly recovered his usual aplomb.

His appearance before the U.N. will be the highlight of another busy day. It is generally expected he will make some new surprise announcement regarding disarmament. Already he has promised a Soviet proposal on the subject.

BELIEVES HIS IDEA BEST
Khrushchev has centered much of his attention in the Communist-Western debate on the idea that the Soviet system inevitably will (Continued on Page 2, Col. 8)

Vanguard Moon Goes Into Orbit

100-Pound Satellite Is Successor to 2 Flops; Helps Regain Prestige

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — The Vanguard III satellite soared into orbit today and in space exploration field.

The 100-pound satellite was boosted aloft by the last of the Vanguard rockets. The Vanguard, once the scapegoat for American space failures, thus ended its hard luck history on a triumphant note.

The success followed two straight American space flops. Just 14 hours before, a Thor-Able rocket fizzled in an attempt to place a 265-pound navigation satellite in orbit. On Wednesday, a Jupiter missile carrying mice and frogs on a space flight exploded 1,000 feet above its launch pad.

The flops came while Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev visited this country, basking in the limelight of Sunday's successful Soviet moon strike.

Also, on Thursday at Eglin Air Force Base, Fla., the Bomarc interceptor missile passed its second test against a Regulus II jet drone target.

The satellite was the third put up in 11 tries by the Vanguard. It includes the 50-pound payload and the 50-pound third-stage rocket, which remained attached. Its job was to measure the earth's magnetic field, solar X-rays, micrometeorite bombardment and temperatures inside and outside the satellite.

OAKLAND, Calif. (UPI) — Carlos P. Romulo, Philippine ambassador to the United States, told an audience last night that if Russia published a "Who's Who" it probably would have to be in two volumes: "Who Is Still Who" and "Who Was Who."

Popular Options Running Lower Than '59 Costs

New 'Ventura' Series in Pontiac Line Also to Be Displayed Oct. 1

Additional features and improvements in the Pontiac automobile and other General Motors Corporation passenger car products will not raise the price line in the 1960 models, it was announced today.

The "stand pat" policy adopted on car prices marks the end of a year-by-year price increase during the past four years.

The corporation disclosed factory list prices on its five models, Pontiac, Cadillac, Oldsmobile, Buick and Chevrolet will not be increased over 1959.

Ford and Chrysler have yet to announce their 1960 model prices.

S. E. Knudsen, general manager of the Pontiac Motor Division and General Motors vice president, said:

"Pontiac prices have not been increased over 1959 levels even though important styling and engineering improvements have been incorporated."

"The 1960 factory list prices of the heater and radio and other optional equipment have been reduced, also."

With these reductions, according to Knudsen, the price of a 1960 model passenger car equipped with "popular options" can be as much as $32 lower than that of the corresponding 1959 model similarly equipped.

An "extra" last year, an oil filter has been added as standard equipment on all 1960 models at no extra cost. The oil filter was available on 1959 models at a list price of $8.

Knudsen also announced that the "Ventura," a new series addition to the 1960 line, will go on sale with other Pontiacs at dealers' showrooms across the country Oct. 1.

The series will be on a 122 wheelbase and will be priced between comparable body types of the Catalina and Star Chief series," Knudsen said.

The "factory list price," it was explained by a GM spokesman, is the price of the car as delivered to the dealer. It does not include extra charges or taxes.

GM list prices range from $2,056 for the lowest-priced Chevrolet to $8,950 for the top Cadillac luxury car.

Ward's Reports, a trade publication, said a holding of the price line of last year would be the car industry's answer to inflation.

Knudsen said many of Pontiac's models in 1960 will be lower in price compared to last year. Prices in the Pontiac line range from $2,390 to $3,175.

Missile Workers Overjoyed at Latest Vanguard

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (UPI) — Parties by missile workers marking the end of the project Vanguard series broke into handclapping and hugging today at the announcement of the latest Vanguard satellite launching success.

The celebration was already under way before the confirmation from the National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA) came early today. Missions were confident the Vanguard III would push the 50-pound satellite into orbit.

Officials of the Martin Company, prime contractors for the Vanguard project who gave many of the private parties for scientists and their wives, shook hands all around at the announcement.

Scientists grabbed their wives and hugged them off the ground in an expression of happiness.

Addresses Bloomfield Dems

McNamara Fires 1st Shots

By GEORGE T. TRUMBULL JR.

Bloomfield Democrats — and there are some — heard Michigan's senior Sen. Patrick V. McNamara explode his first salvo last night as he wasted no time in firing off his campaign shot for re-election in 1960.

With only enough time for a change of clothes in Detroit, McNamara hurried to Bloomfield Hills directly from Washington, where Congress had adjourned Tuesday, and let go his blasts at the Republican-dominated State Legislature and coalition-bound Republicans in Congress.

The silver-haired 64-year-old former union official's bid for another six years was under way.

Recipients of McNamara's first campaign flourish were some 100 members and friends of the Bloomfield Democratic Club, which received its charter into what its chairman nervously termed the "Bloomocratic" party.

RECEIVES CHARTER
The charter, making the club a full-fledged member of the real Democratic Party, was presented to Chairman Mrs. William A. Clemmons of Bloomfield Township by Carlos G. Richardson, Oakland County Democratic Committee chairman.

McNamara praised the club for being able to penetrate the "hard-core" Republican territory of Bloomfield Hills and Bloomfield Township.

The club, formed last December, claims 350 members, 75 of whom are dues paying. Mrs. Clemmons said.

The senator reported to his constituents that a coalition between Republicans in the 86th Congress and Dixiecrats (Southern Democrats) was why "the Democratic Congress failed to achieve the record that voters had every right to expect."

"This coalition isn't some shady sign of the imagination," the speaker said. "It is very real. All too real for it is lying. You can see it appear in vote after vote."

To beat this coalition, which, he said, gives Southern Democrats chairmanships of the most important committees, McNamara put in his first pitch for re-election.

'NEED RIGHT KIND'
"We need the right kind of Democrats — and here in Michigan we've got them — in Washington," he earlier announced he'd be a candidate at a press conference at the Kingsley Inn.

Bloomfield Democrats heard McNamara praise former area resident Sen. Philip A. Hart as among a "new class of freshman who is already making his mark."

Reading from a prepared 15-minute speech, McNamara said (Continued on Page 2, Col. 5)

Nikita's Hands Drip Blood, Mac Says at Bloomfield

Senator Patrick V. McNamara described Nikita Khrushchev as "probably the worst human being on earth."

In a press conference in Bloomfield Hills last evening, the senior Democratic Michigan senator said he would have been "among the missing" had the Soviet premier been invited to speak to Congress adjourned just hours before Mr. K's arrival in Washington Tuesday.

"He comes here not only with dirty hands and bloody hands, but his hands dripping with blood in my estimation," McNamara told newsmen gathered at the Kingsley Inn.

"I don't want to be near such a human being," he added. He said it was a "misconception" that Congress rushed to adjourn so Khrushchev would have no opportunity to speak. He said it was an extra-long session and lawmakers wanted to wrap up their work and get home.

McNamara said he would have been willing to let Mr. K speak to the House and Senate if President Eisenhower and the State Department wanted him to.

He predicted that Khrushchev's talks with Eisenhower might lead to a summit meeting.

Most of the members of the Bloomfield Democratic Club, which received its charter last evening before McNamara's talk, favored the historic visit. Others favored it but said he was being given too much of the red carpet treatment.

Arthur J. Law, Pontiac's state representative, said it depended on what he had to do whether he'd listen to Khrushchev speak if he had come to Detroit or Pontiac.

"With Khrushchev in New York, Eisenhower in a fog, and chaos in Lansing, I'm glad to be back in Pontiac," Law said.

Another Oakland state representative, John C. Hitchcock (R-Hazel Park), said he would have liked to hear Khrushchev's "theories on things."

McNamara, questioned after his talk, said mail opposing Acting Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield of "stirring up a big ruckus."

He said he'd have to study Miller's file further before acting on the appointment.

"In the meantime," he added, "he goes along just as though he were a regular postmaster and with the same pay."

Agreeing that such appointments were political footholds, he accused Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield of "stirring up a big ruckus."

He said he'd have to study Miller's file further before acting on the appointment.

45 Men Trapped in Flaming Mine

Short in Ventilator Fan Starts Fire in Scotland; Only Six Rescued

CHRYSTON, Scotland (UPI) — Forty-five men trapped by an electric explosion in a mile-deep flaming coal mine were given no chance of survival today.

"There is no hope," a national coal board spokesman said. A rescue worker said, "It is pure hell down there."

Altogether, 52 men were trapped when wires to a ventilating fan short-circuited early this morning, sending flames and smoke billowing through the mine corridors. Six men were brought out alive by rescue teams. Another man was found dead.

At first, officials were confident most of the men would be saved. But rescue workers taking a breather on the surface said operations underground had been severely hampered by several falls of coal and rock.

The fire was extinguished by early afternoon but officials said it would be several hours, perhaps even overnight, before rescue squads got to the trapped men or their bodies.

Bottom Bulgy? Television at Seat of New Ailment

CHICAGO (UPI) — A new ailment called "television bottom" is distressing the American public.

A trained physician can diagnose the ailment at once, Dr. Wilford L. Cooper told the International College of Surgeons yesterday.

It comes from watching television slouched down in a chair. The condition can also arise from long rides but these come to an end, he said, while television viewing goes on endlessly, often with bad posture.

Cooper, chief of proctology in two Lexington, Ky., hospitals, said a program to teach people to sit up straight also would help.

Cooper didn't suggest the obvious cure for television bottom — disposing of the TV set.

Riding With Tourist in Southfield Hitchhiker Pulls Out Gun

SOUTHFIELD — A Peoria, Ill. man on his way to visit a friend in Warren decided early this morning that he didn't like the reception he received when he got as far as Southfield. He was held up in his car by a gunman in a quiet residential section here, but managed to flee, leaving his car.

When he returned later with Southfield police, he found his assailant had taken an expensive record player and amplifier system from the car. James V. Fletcher, 23, decided then that he didn't like Michigan and headed for home.

Fletcher told police that he had picked up a hitchhiker in a Navy uniform last night on the Pennsylvania turnpike.

The sailor told him he was going to his home in Southfield. As they neared the city at about 3 a.m. this morning, Fletcher offered to drive the sailor directly to his home.

When they came to the intersection of Rouge court and Shawnee street, the hitchhiker stuck a gun into Fletcher's ribs and demanded his wallet. Fletcher said he got panicky, grabbed the keys from the ignition and ran to a nearby home. Residents there called police.

Hummingbird Gets Airline Lift From Cold North

MIAMI, Fla. (UPI) — A hummingbird which forgot to migrate is getting an airlift from the chilly north to Florida.

Audubon Society officials in Miami have prepared a warm reception for the tiny bird, due today by plane. Its $4 fare was paid by Mrs. Eugenia M. Moody, 73, vice president of the North Woodstock, Vt., Humane Society. The $4 represented shipping charges on the bird and its cage.

Mrs. Moody found the hummingbird half frozen in Sunday's low temperatures at North Woodstock.

The bird will be released in Coconut Grove, a Miami suburb.

Typhoon Sarah Kills 64 South Koreans

TOKYO (AP) — Typhoon Sarah bore down on Soviet-held Sakhalin Island today after killing 64 South Koreans, and causing a million dollars damage to American military installations.

Most of the Korean dead were fishermen. An American military policeman missing for a time while on a rescue mission in Pusan Harbor turned up safely.

The Korean dead raised the toll to 87 killed, 116 missing and 121 injured in the storm's four-day, 3,000-mile sweep up the East China and Japan seas.

British Arms Plan Moderate

Presented to Assembly Thursday Before Any Offer by Khrushchev

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Britain's new disarmament plan seems to drop some of the conditions that have hampered East-West agreement in the past.

British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd presented it to the U.N. General Assembly Thursday, thus getting in ahead of Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev who promised to present a Soviet plan during his appearance before the Assembly today.

Lloyd, who spoke in the Assembly's general policy debate, was the first big-power to lay down a plan for discussion in new disarmament talks to start in an evenly balanced East-West committee in Geneva early next year.

He proposed disarmament in three stages—first, agreement to stop nuclear tests and technical study conference on other particular problems; second, a gradual cutback in conventional arms and manpower and a cutoff in production of fissionable material for weapons; and third, "a comprehensive disarmament by all powers"—all "under effective international control."

He did not say the second stage should be carried out only if "there has been progress toward the solution of political issues."

He did not say the nuclear powers would be free to resume testing after 24 months if in that time there had not been satisfactory progress toward setting up an inspection system to police a production cutoff.

McNamara Fires 1st Campaign Shot

tinued to heap criticism on Democrats — not by name — in Congress who, he said, "really aren't Democrats at all."

"If it weren't for regional attitudes," he said, "they would be sitting with the Republicans where they belong."

The coalition works most frequently on public housing, urban renewal, federal airport aid, assistance to education, area redevelopment and unemployment compensation, McNamara said.

The coalition vote stands out like a sore thumb on any progressive issue," he said. "Sometimes it provides the slim margin of victory that the conservatives need."

HEARTSICK ABOUT MICHIGAN

"When we tried to override the President's veto on one of the housing bills," the senator related, "we failed by five votes. Ten Democrats had voted with the Republicans."

But the one-time plumber and president of a Detroit pipefitters union saved his Sunday punch for the situation back home.

"I have seen what has been done to Michigan's good name," he said. "As a senator from a truly great state I have been heartsick over the slanders and lies cast at Michigan."

Not only did the gravel-voiced senator blame this on "a few selfish persons in the Legislature," but newspapers came in for some criticism as well.

"And that sickness turns into real anger when I consider that this situation has been caused by a few selfish persons in the Legislature — and some newspapers that will do anything to get at the Democrats."

Earlier, C. Allan Harlan of Bloomfield Township, member of the Michigan State University Board of Trustees, accused the press of being "dictators of the democracy" by "distorting the truth about the great state of ours."

Harlan introduced McNamara. "The Republican State Legislature has driven the state almost to financial ruin," the senator said. "And with the help of some newspapers they have blackened Michigan's name all across the country."

Sitting near McNamara was State Treasurer Sanford A. Brown, who said the new use tax, if proven constitutional, will "just about keep us current."

Others there were State Reps. Arthur J. Law (D-Pontiac) and John C. Hitchcock (D-Hazel Park).

Oakland County's other Democratic state representative, James Clarkson of Southfield, on the carpet with his party for his stands on taxes in Lansing, sent his regrets for being unable to attend.

McNamara, who said he would travel the state plenty before Congress goes back into session in January, urged Democrats to push for a reappointment of the 22-Republican State Senate.

GOP ATTITUDE 'NEGATIVE'

Back on the national picture, the senator said the "negative attitude" of Republicans, besides their coalition with Dixiecrats, "put the brakes to the entire economy" and kept Congress from solving the needs in housing, education, slum clearance and social security — long known as the Democratic programs.

"At the beginning of the session it appeared nothing needed to be done, and that the administration believed the 1958 recession to be over with," he went on.

"And at the end of the session it was evident that the Republicans still had a complete lack of interest in the future."

Enter Parlors, Not Bedrooms

Khrushchev's Feelings on Total Disarmament Openly Suspicious

NEW YORK (UPI) — "We will invite you to our parlor but not to our bedroom," Nikita S. Khrushchev has said.

This is how the Russian Premier felt at this time about complete disarmament.

He recently told Vice President Richard M. Nixon, a group of nine American governors who visited Moscow this summer and other Americans that Soviet suspicions will not be allayed as long as U. S. bases encircle Russia.

He is expected to assail the American position on disarmament, blame the United States entirely for the continued armament race and demand the liquidation of America's bases in an address to the U. N. General Assembly today.

The Kremlin's new plan is partly predicated on the Soviet premise that the balance of world power has shifted appreciably from West to East since the Russians broke America's atomic monopoly, resulting in a nuclear stalemate.

Khrushchev is convinced that the Soviet Union has absolute rocket superiority over the United States, which considerably enhances his bargaining power around the disarmament conference tables.

Recover 150 Bodies From Flooded City

BOMBAY, India (AP) — Latest official reports said today 150 bodies have been recovered from the flooded Indian city of Surat. Flood waters from the River Tapi swirled into the city Thursday after a restraining wall collapsed.

The ancient walled city is cut off by road and rail from the rest of the country. A special train from Bombay — about 190 miles away — brought disaster squads and motor-boats for rescue work. The train had to stop five miles from Surat.

Dawdler Donates

DUNMANWAY, Ireland (UPI) — The will of Denis Delea, who worked for 67 years in a local store, left 30 pounds—$84—to the firm "to compensate for any time I have wasted in their employment." Delea collapsed at his desk recently and died at the age of 80.

The Day in Birmingham

No August Traffic Deaths, but Accidents Expensive

BIRMINGHAM — Traffic accidents in Birmingham last month didn't claim any lives, keeping the city's slate clean on that score, but they were expensive, according to Police Chief Ralph W. Moxley's monthly report issued yesterday.

He estimated property damage here for August as the result of motor vehicle accidents at $1,530. This is an increase of $3,655 over the same period last year.

It is a drop of only slightly less than a $1,000 from last month's total property damage due to accidents.

Following vehicles too closely and right-of-way violations were factors in a total of 28 of the 49 collisions investigated by Birmingham Police last month, according to the report. Eleven persons were injured in nine of the accidents. Chief Moxley has ordered his men to clamp down on drivers not allow a proper distance between them and the vehicle ahead and those failing to observe right-of-way laws.

Jaycees will be out in force tomorrow on Birmingham's downtown streets. They will be conducting a pedestrian survey from 10 a.m. until noon to determine where shoppers are from.

The survey is intended for information about shoppers' needs, desires and habits. Results will be turned over to the Birmingham Planning Board and the Downtown Merchants Assn. for consideration in planning future development of the downtown shopping district.

Khrushchev Visits Roosevelt's Grave

overwhelm the Western way. It was in a question-and-answer discussion of the two systems that the stocky, 5-foot-5 Russian suddenly snapped back at his audience.

He even threatened to walk out of the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel's grand ballroom, where he was addressing the New York Economic Club. His audience was made up of about 2,000 of the country's top industrial and business leaders.

He had been answering questions with the same show of joviality he had displayed earlier in the day. Then a guest asked him: Why, if he was so intent upon mutual Soviet-American understanding, were not the Soviet people allowed to listen to U.S. broadcasts? Why weren't American newspapers and periodicals allowed to circulate freely? Why were American newsmen's dispatches censored?

Khrushchev parried: He and President Eisenhower had agreed their discussions would not involve interference in each other's internal affairs.

"Answer the question!" somebody shouted, amid groans from the audience. The Premier blew up. His face reddened.

"I have come here not to beg of anything; I come here as a representative of a great country, a great people, who have made a great revolution, and no cries can deafen, can do away with the great achievement of our people."

Milk Price Hike Due in Detroit Monday

DETROIT (UPI) — The price of milk in the Detroit area will go up a half-cent a quart Monday.

John H. Stewart, president of Twin Pines Farm Dairies, said the increase "is all according to a government formula," explaining:

"Every time the retail price of butter goes up one cent, the price we pay for raw milk goes up 4.2 cents a hundredweight. There have been recent butter increases."

He said that under the government formula the price paid farmers for milk has risen to $4.97 per hundred pounds from $4.33 paid last June.

East German
Reds Admit Dirth
of Physicians

BERLIN (UPI) — The East German Communists admitted Wednesday that so many doctors have fled to the West it is now necessary to import physicians from other Soviet bloc nations.

Health Minister Max Setrin blamed the mass flight of doctors to the West on a West German government campaign in which he said doctors are systematically induced to flee. He said the West Germans want to disrupt East German life in this way.

The West has long known there is a serious doctor shortage in the east German zone, but Setrin revealed the shortage is the main health problem there. It was the first time the East Germans admitted the problem.

In West Germany, there is one doctor for every 700 persons. In the Communist East Zone, the proportion is one doctor for every 1,700 persons.

Say Women Demand 'Romance'

Bachelors Incensed by Column

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE
NEW YORK—Bachelors are such sensitive people!

A large group of them are incensed by a column of last week in which I compared them with neurotic children seeking the eternal road to the circus. They do not say that I am wrong in this analogy—they only say it hurts.

A group called "The Generous Gentlemen of Gotham" writes to wish me a future life which is sans white ties, sans champagne cocktails, sans winter violets, sans buggy rides through Central Park, sans even wolf whistles.

"And see how you feel when the bachelors stop whistling at you occasionally," they sneer. "You'll feel old and weary and desolate and wish for the days when those neurotic children 'used to give you the sweep-off-feet treatment."

"A husband can give a girl dirty dishes and security," they conclude, "but only a bachelor—confident in his confirmation—can give her all the above privileges to remember wistfully the rest of her life."

A New Jersey Benedict writes to lament his new role as husband of a girl 20 years his junior. "For 46 years I was a G.D. Gay dog, that is. Now how the G.D. has come down . . . now it means 'garbage disposer'."

The most plaintive complaint, however, is from a gentleman named David Yarnell, who writes in on the stationery of Radio Station WGBS.

Mr. Yarnell insists that "four out of five bachelors are ready and able to provide the good life for some sensible young lady."

But sense is something young ladies are short on. "In a private survey of bachelor friends," he continues, "I have found that the premise that bachelors are reluctant and that gals are anxious to get married is totally false."

"Instead, what do we come up against? The young lady who has been unduly influenced by glamor magazines, movies, etc., and wants to LIVE before she gives up her freedom."

"Occasionally we do meet a young lady who is anxious to become a wife, but with this type there is no hope of finding a reasonable courtship arrangement, when they want to get married; they pursue the subject at jet speed . . . and the third date is your deadline for decision. Either you get married or you stop 'toying' with her affections. This is the bachelor life, and honey, it's no circus!"

Mr. Yarnell continues by saying that in the bachelors' world, most guys on modest incomes feel like battered issues of playboy magazines. Like me, My wines are never the right year, I feel as though I'm in the middle of a cliché if I stack my hi-fi set with Sinatra and mood music. And I don't mind admitting I still have an awkward moment when I adjust the lights for a more romantic mood.

"So why do I do it? Because, Miss Battelle, I am forced into such nonsense by young ladies who are not looking for marriage, but want instead a vague image of glamorous romance."

The bachelor's problems are compounded by the fact that modern society says the woman would work out more efficiently. Must close now. I have a few chores to perform—restocking the liquor supply, and I understand there's a great new album out called 'Music to Win a Woman's Heart But Not Her Hand By' . . ."

Utica's Novak Faces 7 Charges

Board of 3 Reviews Case Against

UTICA — Was suspended Utica Street Commissioner Sreten Novak, 41, "over-efficient or inefficient" in his job?

The question is being weighed by Utica's three-man Civil Service Commission which reviewed the case at a hearing Wednesday night.

Mayor Edward R. Church listed seven charges in his letter of complaint against Novak, who was suspended from the $4,200-a-year job last month.

The street commissioner is charged with taking several railroad ties without the knowledge of the railroad or the city and transporting them to the city barn.

Novak testified that he had the permission of the railroad gang foreman to take the used ties. He allegedly took several from behind the ball park in Rochester and also from the pumping station at 19½ Mile and Mound roads in Sterling Township, according to Church's letter.

Novak said he had taken the ties to construct bins to hold chemicals, sand and other materials used in street work for the city.

Another charge was that he tore down and removed a furnace from the city barn and transported it to his mother's place of business on Auburn road in Brooklands with city equipment.

His answer was that the furnace was inadequate and that its removal had been approved, but no mention had been made of its disposal.

He told the Commission that he had scrap collectors wouldn't pick it up at the city yards which are adjacent to the city dump.

He added that the furnace is available at any time.

CANNOT AGREE

The four city officials at the hearing could not agree as to whether Novak was authorized to make certain purchases. A number of them occurred when Street Committee Chairman Frank Chapoton was in Japan this summer.

Other charges were that Novak borrowed a pick-up truck without permission, that he depleted department funds, that he used city equipment to grade personal property and that he could not get along with local businessmen or city employees.

Novak presented six letters of backing from prominent Utica businessmen, one from former Mayor Howard Crissman. One city employee among him, 19-year-old Richard Thompson, had been fired for being accident-prone, Novak said.

In each case, the suspended official had an explanation. In summing up, his attorney, John B. Osgood, a former Royal Oak City Commissioner himself, said, "He tried to do everything. He was over-efficient—not inefficient."

Osgood recommended Novak's reinstatement and dismissal of the suspension.

Summing up the city's case, Attorney Hugh Neale said Novak had not realized the limitations of his authority and had shown that he was not fit to be a city employee. He asked the commission to confirm the order of suspension.

The commission, composed of Frank Dean, chairman, Dr. Lloyd Hirth and attorney Henry Gage, said all factors and charges would be evaluated and an early decision made.

Dentist to Speak to Fall Roundup of Organic Clubs

The seventh annual fall roundup of the Federated Organic Clubs of Michigan will be held at the Reo Club House at Lansing Saturday and Sunday.

A Birmingham dentist, Dr. R.L. Girardot of 240 Manor Rd., Bloomfield Township, will be the main speaker Sunday. His topic is "Electro-biodynamic Phenomena Exhibited in Horticulture."

John R. Snell, consulting engineer at East Lansing, also will speak Sunday on "Composting Across the United States."

Irwin Erkfitz, the man who walked across the United States — a stroll of over 3,000 miles — will also give a talk, titled "Exercises — Contributions to our Health."

Lester A. Swan of 530 Mt. Vernon Rd., Royal Oak, will be moderator for a round table discussion Saturday.

Over 100 persons from the Oakland County area belong to the Royal Oak Organic Farm and Gardens Club.

Wolverine Lake Picks President

Oscar Fritz Appointed by Council to Replace James P. Farley

WOLVERINE LAKE — Oscar Fritz has been appointed by the village council as the new village president. He replaces James P. Farley, 42, who resigned earlier this week to take up other village duties.

Fritz, 56, a resident of area for the past 26 years, was elected to his second term as a councilman earlier this year.

He is the only one of the original council members to have remained in office since Wolverine Lake became a village in 1954.

He is retired from business life and resides with his wife Lillian at 626 Wolverine Dr.

Farley will serve the village as building inspector, assessor, road maintenance chief and head of the water department.

Farm Conservation Deadline Is Sept. 30

LANSING — Farmers have been reminded Sept. 30 is the deadline for applying for 1960 payment rates under the conservation reserve phase of the soil bank program.

County committees of the agricultural stabilization and conservation organization will establish rates and farmers must bid under these prices by Oct. 16.

Farmers accepted for the program are assisted through soil bank payments and cost-sharing in establishing practices for erosion control and wildlife habitat improvements.

My Head Is Spinning'

Mrs. K's in a Whirl

NEW YORK (AP)—The grey-haired wife of Russian Premier Khrushchev admitted Thursday that after only three days of their American visit the pace of receptions and entertainment had her in a whirl.

"How do you say I am dizzy?" she asked her interpreter in halting English.

Shifting to Russian, she told a group of women reporters in a 90 second interview, "Please make it very short. I am very tired. My head is spinning."

Mrs. Khrushchev was guest at a luncheon given at the Waldorf-Astoria by Mrs. Robert F. Wagner, wife of New York's mayor.

Photographers stood on chairs amid floodlights and clamor in a small room adjoining the Louis XVI suite where the luncheon was held. The session got out of hand as reporters shouting questions surrounded Mrs. Khrushchev and her two step-daughters, Rada and Julia. Radio interviewers pressed microphones in front of them, trying to get comment.

Tall, blonde, Mrs. Nelson Rockefeller, wife of New York's governor, tried to steer them through the crush, and at one point told Rada to say "You don't understand."

Through it all, Mrs. Khrushchev, wearing a black suit with white blouse, smiled and seemed unruffled.

She was given a pin, symbolic of the key to the city, by Mrs. Wagner, and posed with her and Mrs. Rockefeller.

In the brief interview after the picture-taking, she expressed her thanks for "the cordial greeting" accorded her, and explained she couldn't give her impressions of New York because "we hardly saw it."

Tass Prints Nikita's Press Club Replies

By The Associated Press

Tass Thursday night published questions and answers that followed Premier Nikita Khrushchev's speech Wednesday before the National Press Club in Washington.

The text of his speech had been published and broadcast in Moscow Wednesday but the questions and answers were not reported by Soviet organs at that time.

Automation Fails; Elevator Stalls; Nikita Gloats

NEW YORK (AP)—Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev's private

elevator in the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel stalled Thursday as it was taking him up to the Presidential Suite on the 35th floor.

The operator fussed with the controls but couldn't get the elevator to budge beyond the 30th floor.

Khrushchev waited patiently for several minutes, then strode up five flights of stairs.

Grimacing, he turned to his escort, Henry Cabot Lodge, U. S. ambassador to the United States, and said: "A capitalistic malfunction."

Mr. Sam Doesn't Want to Preside at Convention

WASHINGTON (AP) — House Speaker Sam Rayburn says he doesn't want to be chairman of the 1960 Democratic National Convention. He wants to be free to do more active politicking. Rayburn said Thursday he would like to "enjoy one convention" and "be in the meeting rooms and cloakrooms, circulating among the delegates, trying to get them to do what I might want done."

Carnegie Hall Jammed by Anti-Nikita Rally

NEW YORK (AP)—A capacity crowd, wearing black armbands and carrying black flags, jammed Carnegie Hall Thursday night in a Khrushchev protest rally. Police estimated 2,500 persons attended the rally. It was sponsored by National Review, a conservative weekly, and Crusade for America, an organization with the aim of "exposing Communists and Communist fronts."

Dr. Clarence E. Manion, former law dean of Notre Dame University, said the purpose of the rally was to "underscore our continuing active, open support and sympathy for more than 20 captive nations."

U.S. Immigration to Canada Forces 2 New Offices

OTTAWA (UPI) — So many Americans are immigrating to Canada that two new immigration offices will be opened in Minneapolis and Los Angeles, the Canadian government has announced.

The department of immigration said the temporary offices will "deal with the increasing number of enquiries from businessmen, farmers and others who are thinking of establishing themselves in Canada."

The flow of Americans across the border has increased some 30 times in the last decade. Immigration offices in the U.S. first were established two years ago in New York and Chicago.

Nikita Told Peace Good for Business

NEW YORK (AP)—A group of leading industrialists, financiers and educators told Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev that a continuance of the "cold war" was not in the interests of American capitalism.

Twenty-seven business and education chiefs had a 90-minute meeting with Khrushchev Thursday at the home of W. Averell Harriman, former New York governor and onetime U.S. ambassador to the Soviet Union.

Big business representatives told the Soviet leader that more profits could be gained from consumer production than from relying on government defense expenditures.

Khrushchev proved a good listener. He answered questions, but posed none of his own.

Bridge game conversation: "I wish you'd pay attention to the game, dear. We're discussing Irene's divorce, not Helen's new fur coat!" ... The worst thing about money is that there are a million ways to spend it, and so few ways to earn it. —Earl Wilson.

Robert Cummings Has a Theory . . . Is TV Destined to Topple From Its Own Weight?

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — It's Robert Cummings' theory about the inverted pyramid, and you can make of it what you will. "It's unbalanced," he muses. "Every time I get into a new field of entertainment it dies under me — and always in the same pattern."

THOMAS

Folks are always amazed at how far back Bob's career goes. Though he looks the sophomore, he's an unabashed 49 and began as a stage actor in 1930. Those were the days when Broadway was thriving with 300 shows annually.

"When I started, a play with a single star was enough for the public," he observes. "As business got worse, the shows got bigger and bigger. You had to have a Ziegfeld Follies or Earl Carroll's Vanities, or George White's Scandals, loaded with stars to draw a crowd."

The legit field faded, and Bob leaped to vaudeville, playing straight man with Milton Berle.

"In the old days, a vaudeville show needed only six or seven fair acts—Fink's mules, some acrobats, a funny guy and so forth," Bob said. "As vaudeville started to slip, the theaters added a movie, then piled up the stars. The climax was a bill at the Capitol in New York with George

Burns and Gracie Allen, Bing Crosby, Milton Berle, a pit band, a stage band, George Olsen and Ethel Shutta and Greta Garbo in "Mata Hari."

Bob had the distinction of tossing straight lines to Berle on the final vaudeville bill at the Palace. On to radio!

"Once again it was the same thing," Bob sighed.

As radio progressed, it began lumping more and more stars together, he said, until TV pushed big time radio over the brink.

Cummings plunged into the movies in 1933, starring opposite Margaret Sullivan in "So Red the Rose"—for the first 20 minutes of the picture, until I was killed. His film career thrived.

"But I could see the movie industry was starting to die around 1939," he remarked. "The war came along and kept the business going until 1946 or 1947, when the movies began to hurt. They started throwing six or seven stars in a picture, but that didn't help."

Ever agile, Cummings leaped into yet another medium, television. After the tepid "My Hero" series, he scored with a five-year run of the Bob Cummings Show. Now he's worried.

On Sept. 22, Bob will emcee NBC's Salute to Jerome Kern with costars Howard Keel, Patricia Munsel, Carol Channing, Louie Prima, etc.

"The inverted pyramid," he said. "Each of the industries I've been in started small and built up and out until it toppled of its own weight. Is it happening to TV?"

Will Eden Spill British Secrets?

Hurries His Memoirs to Answer Charges of Randolph Churchill

LONDON (NEA)—Is Sir Anthony Eden about to join the exclusive "Publish and Be Damned" club of memoir-writing British generals and politicians?

Is the former British prime minister about to join company with Field Marshal Montgomery, Lord Alanbrooke and Major General Sir John Kennedy, who have been titillating the public with their "now it can be told" stories? Politicians are wondering whether Eden will spill any secrets of the Suez war which, combined with his own bad health, led to his downfall as premier in January 1957.

Concern for his health reportedly is not the real reason why Sir Anthony has chosen Acapulco for a winter holiday.

Eden is carrying out a bitter feud with Randolph Churchill, son of Eden's oldest and closest friend, Sir Winston Churchill.

The feud flared into the open when Randolph Churchill allowed chapters of his forthcoming biography, "The Rise and Fall of Sir Anthony Eden," to be serialized in the London Daily Express.

In the published portions, young Churchill has unflattering things to say about Eden and the Suez invasion of 1956, which he describes as "ill-planned, ill-timed and abortive."

As a result, Eden has now moved the deadline for completion of his own memoirs ahead in order to provide a definitive answer to Sir Winston's son.

Finding himself unable to work in his Wiltshire country home, where he is subject to constant interruptions from visitors, Eden decided to go to Mexico.

Two British newspaper giants, The Times and Lord Beaverbrook's Daily Express, waged a furious battle over serial rights to Eden's autobiography.

The Times of London finally won out, reputedly offering Eden $300,000 for the exclusive rights to his story, whereupon Beaverbrook signed up Randolph Churchill, who began his biography of Eden in 1956.

Meanwhile, the state of Eden's health is causing concern to his friends here. At 61, Eden is bronzed and still handsome, but he is gaunt to the point where his clothes flap on his frame.

State Shows Decrease in Forest Fire Scars

LANSING (AP)—Michigan's forest fire damage area this year is running about one-third less than the acreage burned over in the same period last year.

The State Conservation Department reported that the toll stands at 3,594 acres against 9,800 acres at this time last year.

Bicycle Tourist Home; Reports on 11,000 Miles

COLUMBIA, S.C. (AP)—Robert Perez has arrived in Columbia—seven worn-out tires and 11,000 miles from Santa Fe, Argentina, where he started his bicycle tour 19 months ago.

Perez, 23, says he pedaled all the way, except for a one-day boat trip around headhunters in Central America. He plans to go on to New York, stopping in Washington "to shake hands with Mr. Eisenhower."

Diesel Fuel Use Jumps

LANSING (AP)—Consumption of Diesel fuel in Michigan in the first eight months of the year jumped 37 per cent over the like period last year, Secretary of State James M. Hare reports.

Khrushchev to Talk Over TV Sept. 27

WASHINGTON (AP)—Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev will wind up his American tour with a nationwide television speech a few hours before he takes off for his return trip to the Soviet Union Sept. 27.

A news conference will precede the speech. The Premier will spend 42 hours with President Eisenhower at the President's Camp David retreat in the Catoctin Mountains of Maryland during Khrushchev's last weekend in the United States. The two are expected to have intensive talks on cold war problems.

'Woman!' Proves Nothing With Study of Femininity

By FRED DANZIG
NEW YORK (UPI) — I stopped washing the dishes long enough to watch yesterday's CBS-TV daytime special — the one that asked, "Is the American Woman Losing Her Femininity?"

This program, second in a series titled "Woman!" dabbled for an hour with that needless question, repeating itself with great persistence and very little substance.

I say the question is needless because this is, after all, the land where a gal like Marilyn Monroe embodies femininity on-camera and worries about the tax bite off-camera.

Or where a gal like Esther Williams can rise out of a swimming pool to become head of a large manufacturing corporation. By sheer coincidence, Miss Williams was the hostess on yesterday's show; the feminine portion of her, that is.

The question, "Is the American woman losing her etc.?" seemed to be borrowed from the high calorie Sunday afternoon TV ovens, but the presentation was sauced, buttered and sugar-coated to meet tastes that are presumed to be sophisticated.

As a result, the needed spice was lacking. Nothing happened to perk up our senses. Because the answer was so obvious from the start, we were left with a curiously ineffective, almost vacuous program.

A repetitious hash of brief filmed interviews and carefully prepared "ad lib" discussions didn't help. And there was no humor.

Maybe that should be another topic some day: "Is the American woman losing her sense of humor?"

The women on the show — all from the San Francisco area — either were sorry to see femininity decline or were pleased about it. None saw fit to ask "So what?"

I think this was because the women interviewed appeared to have some choice: They could choose between careers or home, intellectual "fulfillment" vs. domestic "stagnation."

The views of women without a choice in the matter — those who must work to pay the bills — would have been worthwhile.

How important is femininity to them? To their husbands? Do their children put a high value on femininity?

The senselessness of the program was exemplified by Miss Williams' summation. It seems the question about loss of femininity can be answered yes and no. Yes, if you mean in terms of Victorian era concepts: no, if you mean modern woman's fulfillment as a human being. Uh huh. And so what?

30 Bridges Hold Paris Together

Have Become Part of Way of Life for French Capital City

WASHINGTON — The city of Paris has more than 30 bridges to link its famous divisions — the Right Bank and the Left Bank. Busy people may regard the bridges merely as a way to get across the Seine River. But to the down-and-out, they give shelter. To painters, they offer beauty. To lovers, they provide a romantic setting.

Without bridges, Paris could hardly be the city it is today, the National Geographic Society says. The great "city of light" began very modestly as a village on a small island in the Seine, the Isle de la Cite. To expand the town, the ancient Parisians turned to bridges.

Houses were built on the early bridges, because the city was walled for protection and every available bit of space had to be used. Furthermore, the belief had arisen that houses strengthened a span.

All that changed after the Pont Neuf (New Bridge) was erected at the end of the 16th century. The bridge astonished Parisians by its size — it is large enough for modern traffic — and its sidewalks. At that time, Paris streets had none.

Uncluttered by houses, the spacious Pont Neuf became a carnival and market. Peddlers, dancers, jugglers and acrobats attracted crowds of shoppers and onlookers. Theatrical productions were staged.

Paris's most elegant bridge is the Pont Alexandre III, which connects the famous Quai d'Orsay on the Left Bank with the exhibition palaces (Grand Palais, Petit Palais) on the Right.

The foundation stone was laid in 1896 by Nicholas II of Russia, son of the Czar for whom the bridge was named. The ornate span, with figures in blazing gold, has huge pillars surmounted by Pegasus and trumpeting Glories.

The Pont de l'Alma, built in the 1850's, is decorated with statues of four French soldiers, including a Zouave. Ordinarily, the Zouave is above the waterline, but in river-rising periods the water may lap his knees, waist, neck, or head. Parisians describe the Seine's level by reference to the Zouave's body.

For Americans one Paris bridge offers a special reminder of home. A reproduction of the original Statue of Liberty, which the French people gave to the United States, stands on the Pont de Grenelle.

Nikita Will Meet Stars at Hollywood Luncheon

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev will eat quaff and quaff California wine with scores of world-famous movie stars Saturday, but he probably will recognize few, if any, of them.

Ironically, one that he might familiarly spot is Johnny Weissmuller. But the onetime screen Tarzan didn't rate an invitation to the plush luncheon at 20th Century-Fox studios.

Until a recent movie cultural exchange, the only American movies shown in the Soviet Union were of prewar vintage with most of them Weissmuller's Tarzan pictures. Another big favorite among Soviet moviegoers was former child star Deanna Durbin, who now lives near Paris.

A fan mail service reports that Weissmuller is the only actor in town who gets sizable mail from the Soviet Union. Cary Grant and Bob Hope both reported that they walked the streets of Moscow unrecognized last year.

Hope, along with Gary Cooper, Glenn Ford, Danny Kaye, David Niven, Kim Novak, Gregory Peck, June Allyson, Leslie Caron, Maurice Chevalier, Rita Hayworth and Richard Burton are but some of the names who have accepted. Zsa Zsa Gabor, who appeared at Hungarian freedom fighters' benefits after her native country's shortlived revolution, sent an acceptance.

There were some turndowns by militant anti-Communists in Hollywood such as Ronald Reagan, Ward Bond and Adolphe Menjou. Bing Crosby also turned down his invitation, but Crosby never attends public functions.

After the luncheon, the Soviet leader will tour the set of the movie "Can Can." Frank Sinatra will sing "C'est Magnifique" and then introduce Chevalier, who also will sing.

Apartment Collapse Deaths at Least 53

BARLETTA, Italy (AP) — The toll of recovered dead in this port city's apartment house disaster reached 53 today.

Squads of men and bulldozers continued to probe the rubble of a five-story building that collapsed Wednesday.

Thursday night Mayor Michele Palmitezza said a recheck showed about 72 were in the building at the time of the disaster.

The building had once been a one-story garage. The four stories of apartments were added several months ago. City officials believed the foundations were too weak for the additional load.

500 Detroiters Mourn Visit of Khrushchev

DETROIT (AP)—Five hundred anti-Reds of Detroit's foreign colony dined on black bread and water Wednesday night at a banquet protesting Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev's visit to the United States.

The gathering, billed as a "mourning banquet," also commemorated what sponsors called the victims of Communist aggression in Russia and central Europe. Bread and water was the sole fare.

Former Rep. Charles J. Kersten, Wisconsin Republican who headed a house inquiry into Red occupation policies, said in a speech that if Khrushchev wants trade from the free world he should "take down the 1,300 miles of barbed wire from the Baltic to the Adriatic."

Special Session Not to Be Called

He Will Await Regular Meeting, Then Hit Hard for Aid and Interest

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower plans to hit Congress in January with strong demands for an increase in foreign aid funds and for action to lift long-term bond interest ceilings.

Republican leaders said Eisenhower had been dissuaded from calling a special session of Congress to act on these subjects partly because the next regular session opens in a little more than three months.

Eisenhower is expected to sign the $3,225,813,000 foreign aid bill with some pointed references to the $704,182,000 Congress cut the amount below his estimates.

The President was reported particularly concerned with the reduction of 300 million dollars Congress made in his $1,600,000,000 request for military assistance funds.

Eisenhower told his news conference Thursday he hopes the Democratic-dominated Congress will "feel the heat of truth" and act next year to raise the present 4 1/2 per cent interest ceiling on long-term bonds.

Reshuffle May Add Toughness in China

TOKYO (AP)—The military reshuffle in Red China places Mao Tse-tung's army under the direct control of a policeman. It may mean a tougher domestic policy.

Some observers here believe the changes had little or nothing to do with Communist China's external affairs.

COMMUNE TROUBLE

They speculated the shuffle was connected with army opposition to the revolutionary commune system and the industrial "leap forward" program.

Many parts of the huge economic program have been under the supervision of the military.

Princess of Belgium Expecting First Baby

Tattoo Needle Infects 3 With Serum Hepatitis

MINEOLA, N. Y. (AP)—County health authorities say there is strong evidence that three youths contracted serum hepatitis from being tattooed at New York City's Coney Island. One is in serious condition.

Serum hepatitis, an infection transmitted through the bloodstream, reportedly kills 1 in 10 victims.

New York Friendly and Hostile Nikita Meets an Enigma

NEW YORK (AP)—New York was a brooding Sphinx as it looked at Nikita Khrushchev.

No ticker tape showered down for the Soviet leader Thursday. But there were no mob scenes either.

Waves of hostility smote him at some points. Waves of applause and laughter welled up around him at others.

Standing on Park Avenue, one man clapped as the closed black limousine swept past. Another booed as hard as he could. And a woman said, "I wouldn't have stayed if I'd known you couldn't see him."

The blood-red Soviet flag with its hammer and sickle floated beside the Stars and Stripes on one hotel and a man said, "That's a good sign."

Outside another hotel, hostile pickets held up placards that said, "Welcome Khrushchev, why not Heil Hitler?" and "You can reach the moon but you can't reach America." One, bearing Khrushchev's photograph said, "Wanted for murder."

So it went all day, wherever Khrushchev went.

Asks Law to Govern Trading Stamp Firms

LANSING (AP)—A Senate study committee has called for a law to govern the operation of trading stamp companies in Michigan.

The committee headed by Sen. John Minnema (R-Traverse City) said such a law would "insure that only responsible persons and companies engage in the trading stamp business and protect the public against default in the redemption of their stamps."

The group said, however, that it would not back any law aimed at hampering or limiting the use of trading stamps or the operation of responsible trading stamp companies.

The Senate and House have approved separate special committees to continue surveys of the trading stamp field when the current legislature adjourns.
