

Celebrezze Proposes New Drug Regulations

Would Contain Power to Halt Trials

WASHINGTON (U) — Secretary of Welfare Anthony J. Celebrezze proposed new regulations today which would give the government a watchdog role in investigational use of new drugs from start to finish, and power to call off the dogs if safety doubts arise.

Acting against the background of public and official concern over safety,

1. That the Food and Drug Administration be put on notice and given the full details about the distribution of drugs to doctors for investigational use on humans.
2. That clinical investigations, or use on humans, be based on adequate preclinical studies to assure safety.
3. That the clinical investigations themselves be properly planned, executed by qualified investigators, and that the Food and Drug Administration be kept fully informed during the progress of the investigations.
4. That if a substantial doubt develops as to the safety of the drug, the Food and Drug Administration and all physician-investigators using the drug be notified immediately. If necessary, the trial could be halted by FDA.

Current regulations have no such provisions.

60-DAY NOTICE

The secretary said interested persons will have 60 days in which to comment on the proposed regulations and final regulations will not be issued until any comments have been considered.

The proposals were a follow-up to a promise Celebrezze last week that tighter regulations would come soon. He said then:

"It seems clear that some tightening up needs to be done, although care must be taken not to interfere with the professional work of competent physicians."

While the proposals are a direct outgrowth of the furor over thalidomide, Celebrezze did not mention that German-developed drug in his announcement.

The sedative never was cleared by FDA for general use in this country but the American license for its manufacture distributed the pills to 123 American doctors for possible experimental use before it was associated with the birth of thousands of deformed babies in Europe.

There have been no reports of malformed babies in this country from that investigational use, but there have been some cases of deformity in which the mothers had obtained the drug otherwise during pregnancy.

Celebrezze pointed out that present regulations require that drugs used in clinical trials be labeled for "investigational use" only, and that manufacturers keep records of distribution.

The regulations also require that investigators have adequate facilities, and that names of investigators be made available to FDA on request.

Present regulations, however, do not require either an initial notice to FDA of a clinical trial of a new drug or subsequent reports on such use.

The K. G. Marks Excavating Co. of Pontiac was granted a $1,039,305 contract as low bidder to construct a service building and pump station and make grounds improvements.

A $382,000 contract to construct a 3-million-gallon elevated water tank at Monticchi and Edison streets went to the Chicago Bridge and Iron Co. of Detroit, the lowest qualified bidder.

Shortly after 6 p.m., one of the brightest rainstorms of the year splashed its way across the eastern sky in the Pontiac area, according to residents.

Thousands of homeowner-bourgeois inched their way through rain-soaked streets throughout the area. During the storm, traffic had slowed to a crawl when large hailstones and powerful winds pelted windshields and made driving hazardous.

Many residents reported some spurs of wind seemed almost to come from the southwest, the lightning the most brilliant of the summer.

The tornado-like funnel near Flat Rock was sighted by an American Airlines 707 jet as it approached Metropolitan Airport near Detroit.

Four residents in Pontiac's District 6 want to stop seeing black spots before their eyes every time they turn on the water faucet.

The spots came from the water, Commissioner Dick M. Kirby told the City Commission last night. And they won't come off bathroom fixtures with any cleaner known, he added.

"We asked for a report on this before and was told the spots weren't harmful," he said. "What I want to know now is what the stuff is."

Four home owners on Belmont Avenue registered complaints. City Manager Robert A. Stierer promised another report on "what the stuff is."

Swainson noted that Romney, his biggest rival in the governor race, said this week that he, too, would have vetoed a republican-sponsored unemployment compensation bill.

The measure would have nullified the State Supreme Court's decision allowing jobless workers laid off by a strike in another plant of the same company to collect unemployment compensation.

With Swainson listening in, Romney made a pitch at the Iowa Free Fair yesterday for sweeping fiscal reform at the state level.

"Given time, Mr. Romney probably will agree with our whole program," the governor said at a news conference.

Swainson said Tuesday's primary election results showed Romney "must work hard to register more votes." Romney picked up 448,298 votes and Swainson 318,296.

"On the other hand," he said, "we showed surprising strength and compared notes on Tuesday's primary election and talk about the main event Nov. 6."

Water System Work Late News

Contracts totaling $3,283,519 for Tank Co. of Chicago, Ill., with a bid of $325,000, had been disqualified because it did not meet specifications that a contractor must have in operation 10 similar structures.

A $345,000 contract to build two 3-million-gallon ground-level reservoirs was given to the General American Transportation Co., of East Chicago, Ind., the low bidder.

The location will be at Odette Road and South Boulevard on property which the city has purchased from General Motors Corp.

The largest contract — $1,312,657 for transmission lines — was awarded to Chris Nelson and Son, Inc., of 415 East Hudson St., Royal Oak, the lowest combination bidder, which also was given a $233,157.50 contract for water lines on Orchard Lake and Mount Clemens streets.

Backyard Pool Claims Girl, 2 1/2

Found by Bloomfield Twp. Mother; Efforts Fail to Revive Tot

A 2 1/2-year-old Bloomfield Township girl drowned yesterday when she fell into her family's backyard swimming pool.

It is believed that the youngster, Beth Tobias, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Tobias, 528 Westbourne Road, had been wearing a life preserver but that it had slipped off in the water, according to Bloomfield Township police.

Mrs. Tobias told police that the child was playing outside the fenced-in pool when she went inside the house to fix lunch.

She said she returned to find her daughter floating near the edge of the pool and the life preserver floating on the other side of the pool.

Attempts to revive the girl by Mrs. Tobias and Bloomfield Township firemen failed.

Firemen estimated the little girl had been in the water about 10 minutes before she was discovered by her mother.

City-Country School Head Sets African Field Study

BIRMINGHAM — George A. Rooper, headmaster of City-Country School in Bloomfield Hills, leaves tomorrow for Africa on a month-long educational field study. He goes as a member of the Comparative Education Society which will conduct studies in Ethiopia, Tanganyika, Southern Rhodesia, the Congo, Nigeria, Ghana and Liberia.

The purpose of this field study is to make a survey of the present educational status in these various countries.

The group, which will meet the highest authorities in education in each country, will visit elementary and high schools as well as those on the college level in both urban and rural areas.

After receiving an overall picture of the educational development, the group will be taken to the schools to observe educational methods and the contents of subject matter taught.

This will be Rooper's fourth educational field study trip. In 1958 he surveyed education in Western Europe. Later that year he traveled to Russia for a field study.

His last tour took him to Japan and Korea in 1959. He authored a chapter on gifted child education in Russia in the book "The Changing Soviet School" as a result of his second trip.

His special assignment this year is to survey what is being done with the talented and gifted child in the African nations.

Birmingham City Commissioner Carl F. Ingraham was elected to the family section of the American Bar Association at its convention in San Francisco yesterday.

Ingraham, 940 Harmon St., also is one of the city's four representatives on the Oakland County Board of Supervisors.

Mrs. John H. Stover, 78, of 524 Hanna Ave. will be 2 p.m. tomorrow at the Manly Bailey Funeral Home. Cremation will be at White Chapel Memorial Cemetery, Troy.

Mrs. Stover died yesterday following a long illness.

She had been an art and music teacher in the Ionia school system, until coming here in 1937. Her late husband had been a doctor.

She is survived by one sister and two brothers.

Official Check of Aug. 7 County Primary Ballots May End by Weekend

The official canvass of votes in Tuesday's primary election is under way in Oakland County.

"We would like to have the canvass completed by this weekend," County Clerk-Register Daniel T. Murphy said today.

"That way we could notify candidates of the official results before party conventions start next Tuesday."

All primary candidates are to be notified of the official results by mail.

The canvass isn't likely to change the outcome of the election except possibly in one instance where initial counting was close.

In the Democratic race for county clerk, the canvass results in the unofficial returns have Roy J. Russell edging out Daniel T. Berry 7,398 to 7,336.

Berry's backers said he probably would demand a recount.

Losses have six days after notification of canvass results in which to file for recounts of the vote.

The vote canvass might uncover a few small errors in addition, but these are not likely to change the outcome of the primary here, Murphy said.

He expected to officially notify elected party delegates in time for them to attend the opening of conventions, during which campaigns for the general state election in November will be launched.

Hint K Planning U.N. N-Ban Pitch

MOSCOW (UPI) — Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev may be planning a spectacular new nuclear test ban proposal for a personal appearance at the United Nations this fall, western observers said today.

Such a visit to U.N. headquarters in New York also would give the Communist leader an opportunity to try to break the Berlin deadlock and seek another meeting with President Kennedy, the sources said.

There have been increasing reports in the West that Khrushchev might attend the U.N. General Assembly session opening Sept. 18, so far the Kremlin has said nothing about it. Similar speculation last year did not materialize.

Khrushchev paid a 25-day visit to the United Nations in 1960. At his instigation the assembly session turned into a semimonthly meeting of Communist and non-Communist government leaders ostensibly to discuss disarmament.

It was at the United Nations in 1959, during his tour of the United States, that Khrushchev announced his program for general and complete disarmament.

Western observers did not exclude the possibility that Khrushchev might use this year's assembly for a dramatic effort to break off the current Soviet tests if the Western atom powers would agree to an immediate ban, on his terms.

Russian military maneuvers in the Arctic, at which nuclear tests are being conducted, are scheduled to last until Oct. 20. If Khrushchev decided to go to the United Nations before that date, he presumably could announce considerable propaganda benefits by proposing a cessation of tests.

The premier told a group of touring American editors here last month that he hoped the United States would agree to a ban after the Soviet tests, Russian negotiators at the Geneva disarmament conference, however, so far have rebuffed U.S. proposals for such a ban.

Khrushchev also might seek to use the U.N. platform for a last-chance offer to the West before carrying out his threat to sign a separate German peace treaty.

The authorities based their views in part on Western efforts to get word of the tests through the iron curtain.

But many Soviets would know about the tests anyway, regardless of Moscow's refusal to announce officially the nuclear explosions so far.

The Voice of America, the U.S. government short-wave radio, figures that more than 10 million of the 220 million Soviet live in on its broadcasts. The Voice featured the Soviet resumption of testing as a lead news item for nearly three days after the huge Novaya Zemlya high altitude blast last Sunday.

The Soviets have been jamming those portions of the Voice's Russian language newscasts reporting the Soviet tests, but Voice officials say the U.S. signal can still get through to much of the Soviet Union despite the deliberate radio interference. And the Soviets do not jam the Voice's English-language programs, which give the news, too.

In addition, the word is beamed at the Soviet Union by Radio Liberty, the British Broadcasting Corp., and others. Visitors also hear in news.

Rejoice at Loss by Two in GOP

Bagwell, Martin Hail Defeat of Morris and Feenstra in Primary

PONTIAC — Two Republican leaders have joined Democrats in welcoming defeat of two members of the so-called Senate "out bloc" in Tuesday's primary election.

Paul D. Bagwell, Republican candidate for governor in 1958 and 1960, and John B. Martin, Republican national committeeman, said yesterday that election results will change the complexion of the Republican dominated Senate.

Without naming them, both referred to members of Sen. Carlton E. Morris, R-Kalamazoo, and Charles Feenstra, R-Grand Rapids.

"It shows there is a revolt in the making," said Bagwell, who won scant support from so-called Senate conservatives during his gubernatorial campaigns.

"The new GOP image that we have been talking about is coming," he said. "It is the image that we need to win elections."

Martin, a Grand Rapids attorney, said election results amounted to an endorsement "of the kind of Republicanism that tries to meet the problems of the state and come up with answers instead of laying land mines in the path of progress."

George Romney, if he is elected governor, should have a Senate willing to back up his programs, Martin said.

"Without that," he said, "a Republican governor could be just about as hamstrung as the Democratic governor has been."

Bagwell happily pointed out that his wife and child had been nominated as a delegate to the GOP convention in the 14th Congressional District of Wayne County, defeating a candidate endorsed by district conservatives.

Her victory over Lorne MacDonald by a 34 margin, he said, was further evidence that "the kind of party we have been working for is at last coming into being."

Seeks GOP Backing to State High Court

CARD — Circuit Judge Timothy Quinn of Card announced today that he will vie for one of two Republican nominations to the state Supreme Court to be made at the GOP convention Aug. 25.

Quinn, 54, asserted that the public has lost confidence in the Democratic-dominated court.

"The present Supreme Court has lost sight of the fact that its authority ultimately rests on sustained public confidence in its moral sanction," he said.

The judge is the second Republican to announce for the high court. Sen. Lynn O. Francis, R-Midland, is another entry.

State Resort Business Flaunting Its Way Up

LANSING 9P—Encouraged by good weather and driving on new freeways, more tourists are bringing more business to Michigan resorts, the Michigan Tourist Council said today.

"While much of the summer season business is yet to come, it seems quite apparent that Michigan is having a much better year than in 1961," said Robert J. Furlong, council director.

Historical attractions, expanded advertising and convention trade helped business, reported James Hall, secretary-manager of the East Michigan Tourist Association.

But, said Hall, the discounted Canadian dollar, recent stock market declines, unemployment, adverse publicity about Michigan and increased competition for vacation business from Ontario and other states provided a damper.

New freeways have rearranged tourist business, Hall said. "Business was up as much as 250 per cent for resort motels near a freeway and was off as much as 50 per cent for a gas station, a motel and a restaurant removed from the freeways."

SEVERAL PROOFS.

Furlong said evidence of better tourist business has come from several indicators:

- Traffic volume during the first six months of the year was up 3.5 per cent over the first half of last year, the Michigan Highway Department said. July traffic was 10 per cent heavier than a year ago.
- Mackinac Bridge crossings were reported up 2.5 per cent for the first seven months of 1962 over 1961 figures. June 1962, recorded 16 per cent more crossings than June 1961.
- Sales of 1962 resident fishing licenses for the first six months were selling at a rate 27 per cent higher than in 1961.
- Southeastern Michigan is enjoying tourist business about 20 per cent better than last year's, said Leonard Thomson, secretary-manager of the Southeastern Michigan Tourist Association.

The Irish Hills area, although away from freeways, "is drawing many travelers from the freeway system, through promotional programs," Thomson said.

IN UPPER MICHIGAN

In the Upper Peninsula, camping has brought 6 per cent more tourists than last year and 20 per cent more have visited tourist attractions, said Ken Dorman, secretary-manager of the Upper Michigan Tourist Association.

"The circle tour around Lake Superior continues to be popular," Dorman reported.

He suggested weather reporters should speak of "cool fronts," rather than "cold fronts," in Upper Peninsula references. "We don't consider 70-degree weather as being cold... our cool weather is welcomed by tourists escaping the hot weather in the cities further south," Dorman said.

Aurey Strohsaul, secretary-manager of the West Michigan Tourist Association, said trade "has been somewhat spotty" in Western Lower Michigan.

Traverse City and Petoskey reported 20 per cent business increases while Cadillac reported a 20 per cent drop in motel business.

"We've been unable to get Cadillac designated on highway signs where we feel it is needed along the U.S. 27 and I-75 route," an official reported.

Hall reported Eastern Lower Michigan recorded a 9 per cent increase over last year in its "June travel index"—which is computed from reports from hotels, restaurants, gasoline stations, retail stores and commercial tourist attractions.

Hall said 32 per cent of the operators reported increases, 36 per cent reported decreases and 12 per cent said business was about the same as in June 1961.

Lake Superior, largest of the Great Lakes, contains 31,820 square miles.

U.S. Economy 'Perplexing'

JFK's Adviser Sees No Crisis but Is Eying Spurs to Business

WASHINGTON (AP) — Walter W. Heller, President Kennedy's chief economic adviser, says present economic trends are perplexing and inconclusive cross-currents but they do not "sum up to a crisis."

But there is a possibility, he added, that the recent slowdown "represents advance warning of an economic decline."

TALKS OF DECLINE

And decline, he told a Senate Economic Committee on Wednesday, was another way of saying recession.

While pointing out the possibility of a recession, Heller said the economic indicators are mixed.

But there's no doubt, he said, "The U.S. economy is still operating considerably short of its potential."

President Kennedy has said he and his advisers were weighing these indicators before he decides whether to ask for a quick tax cut to spur the economy or follow through with his plans to ask reductions later which would be effective next Jan. 1.

The White House announced Wednesday that the President is still waiting for all the data to be collected and studied before making his decision.

NO EARLY CUT
Earlier in the day it was reported Kennedy told a luncheon meeting of labor union officials that he had given up any idea of asking Congress for an immediate tax reduction.

The White House, however, issued a statement that as yet "no decision has been made."

Heller, chairman of the President's Council of Economic Advisers, went through an afternoon of committee questioning without dropping a hint as to what Kennedy's eventual recommendation may be.

Prisoners Help Deputy Sheriff Replace Blood

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — Inmates of Maricopa County jail came to the aid of a jailer when he received a $50 bill for blood transfusions.

Deputy Sheriff Charles Tweedy's son, Randall, 9, recently underwent successful surgery for repair of a leaky heart valve. Tweedy received a bill for 18 pints of blood.

Word went out through the jail grapevine and a petition signed by 165 inmates wanting to replace the blood so Tweedy wouldn't have to pay followed.

Nurses from the Southwest Blood Bank visited the jail and took the blood. They said three pints of blood were replaced for every one used.

Bomb Hoax Gets Man in Dutch With U.S.

DETROIT (AP) — A Minneapolis auto parts salesman couldn't fit his suitcase under his plane seat at Willow Run Airport.

Would United Airlines hostess Carol Houge put it in her locker, he asked.

"No," she said and asked him to try it under the seat once more.

He said he was afraid, since it had a bomb in it. Bernard Silverman, 29, stood mute in federal court yesterday and was placed under $1,000 bond to appear in Minneapolis Federal Court.

MOSCOW (UPI) — The official Communist party newspaper Pravda today published a brief description of the new Soviet atomic submarines.

The description came in a report that an atomic submarine recently returned to its northern Soviet base.

"The vessel, which houses in its huge hold everything from atomic engines to refrigerators, hot showers and cinema room, is designed to move for weeks and months under water at a great speed, carrying missiles on board and designed to reach any point of the globe," the newspaper said.

Pravda did not identify what it called the submarine's "special government mission."

Officers said Gregory A. Wendzel of Waterliet, Mich., attempted to jump on the tongue of a wagon being pulled by a tractor through a watermelon field on his uncle's farm near here. He fell under the wagon wheels and died of a broken neck.

GOP Nominee Romney Off to a Good Start

The results of Tuesday's Republican-Democratic "popularity contest" have left the political crystal ball a bit clouded over as regards portent for the general election next November. The lightness of the vote, 800,000 against an expected 1 million, did nothing to clarify the picture.

The top-billed "race," of course, was between the two unopposed gubernatorial candidates — incumbent John B. Swainson and the political newcomer George W. Romney.

ROMNEY ran up a cheering four-to-three margin against the Governor, but the light vote leaves results inconclusive.

Support for Swainson fell far short, with the smallest vote in Wayne County for a gubernatorial candidate since 1946.

This indifference among Democratic voters could be interpreted as another indication of statewide voter dissatisfaction with incumbents. There were many surprises for both parties in this regard, highlighted by the overthrow of six representatives in Detroit districts that are always Democratic and invariably renominated the incumbents.

Interesting sidelights of the primaries were the unexpectedly strong showing of Alvin M. Bentley of Owosso in drawing 360,000 votes to 200,000 for Democratic stalwart Neil Staebler in the congressman-at-large contest; and the complete rout of Romney's opponents in the 14th Congressional District, headed by Richard Durant, the John Birch Society leader.

Locally, Oakland County ran true to form—Republican candidates topping their opposite numbers by large majorities in most cases.

Sen. FARRELL E. ROBERTS had 17,778, running for nomination against RICHARD D. KUHN and ROBERT J. HUBER with a combined total of 15,764. His Democratic opponent, LELAND H. SMITH garnered 13,060. HENRY M. HOGAN Jr. swamped John F. FOLEY 9,115 to 1,632 for state representative; while neighboring Waterford Township gave LLOYD L. ANDERSON a two-to-one lead for the same office — the winners both Republicans.

Republican William S. Broomfield drew an impressive 32,198 votes against a combined total of 13,328 for his two opponents for Congressman from the 18th District.

Voters administered a sharp rebuke to some of the die-hard Republicans who played a too prominent part in jamming Michigan's legislative program over the past few years. CARLETON MORRIS of Kalamazoo was one of the stalwarts that was swept summarily aside.

It looks as if things will be stirring along the political front for the next three months.

Hiland M. Thatcher

The passing of HILAND M. THATCHER is deeply mourned by all who knew him.

A lifelong resident of Oakland County, he had devoted the past 15 years of his life to public service, serving as West Bloomfield supervisor before his appointment as County Road Commissioner two years ago.

Earlier he had been active for an extended period in Pontiac business circles, being identified with the insurance firm of Thatcher's Inc.

At the time of his death, Mr. Thatcher was directing the County's largest road reconstruction program in several decades, and was working in close association with the State Highway Department's $11-million freeway construction in this area.

Sorely missed will be this able public administrator with his dedication to the welfare of our area.

Our deepest condolences go to the bereaved family in their time of sorrow.

The Man About Town

Symptoms of Age

MAT Gives the Low-Down on Signs of Slowdown

By HOWARD W. HELDENBRAND
Visiting with some aging contemporaries, the conversation veered round to the advance of the years and whether, even though you feel young as ever, there are obvious or veiled signs that your future lies behind, not ahead.

The MAT, who modestly admits being the ultimate authority on everything, offered from his own experience a few warning signals along the highway of his own march into the sixties.

The first of these, and the No. 1 tip-off that you've had it is the growing politeness of young people toward you. Don't let anyone tell you that the younger generation lacks consideration and respect for their elders! As far as I'm concerned, they're too doggone considerate and respectful. They jump to their feet with military precision when you enter the room, they interlard their remarks to you with "sirs," and they have the annoying tendency to break off all conversation, when in a large group you move within their sphere. . . . They're probably been talking about this kind of behavior and been told that you've had high enough security clearance to become a party to such revelatory discussion.

Other unrelated but disturbing signs that the old party with the scythe has added you to his prospect list are these: When, at a cocktail party, you find yourself telling a story later in the evening back to the guy who told it to you earlier.

The tendency to say with increasing frequency, "The trouble with young people today is . . ."

The inclination when dining out in a restaurant to look at the menu before looking at the waitress.

The growing habit when reading a newspaper to peruse the obituary column before turning to the sports pages.

The belief that you are rather fascinating to attractive young women, and that their good-natured indulgence of your oral capering is in reality but a cover-up for a deep and burning yearning for you! Incidentally, your wife will be glad to shed further light on this typical hallucination of the aging male!

It is the time that barbers stop asking you how you want your hair cut, and you have become reconciled to detachable teeth.

It is when life insurance salesmen begin having trouble remembering your name, and undertakers begin discovering what a great guy you are, and look at you with a friendly and speculative eye. And finally, if at mention of Lady Godiva, you think first of a horse . . . then you are eligible for full membership with all voting rights in the Past Sixty Club.

The MAT's apologies to Rickie Ann Hoxie of Willow Grove, for omitting in a recent column to mention her as presiding Queen of the 4-H Fair. He got the King in all right—but missed the Queen. . . . Just another item to add to the list of danger signals above!

Postual last call for giving us your temperature! Win a $100 bond by most accurately predicting date and time of highest reading between now and 6 p.m. on Labor Day. Noon tomorrow is closing time for entries.

The Pontiac Press will judge all entries and its decision will be final. The contest is open only to employees of The Press, or their relatives.

How to Compromise With the Russians

David Lawrence Says:

'Management' Wants to Unionize!

WASHINGTON — When a labor union speaks out forthrightly against any attempt by labor to monopolize power—even though it be inside a union—it becomes news of paramount importance.

There seems to be a lesson in this for some unions which have gone even to the point of threatening strikes unless supervisory personnel are forced into joining the union.

It would appear to be a truism that no part of management should be integrated into a labor union or participate in shaping the policies of the union. But in a current controversy, that's precisely what one group inside a national labor union has been trying to do.

The union involved is the International Ladies' Garment Workers' Union, of which David Dubinsky, one of the ablest of American's trade union leaders, has long been a public proponent.

In a recent announcement, Mr. Dubinsky and other officers of the union declare that they are unwilling to grant recognition to a union of "business agents," even though they would be willing to recognize a union of errand boys and all along have recognized unions of their own office employees.

Mr. Dubinsky's statement says in part: "The business agents are in a special position within the union to make union policy. They provide the leadership to the worker in the shop."

"To the rank and file, the business agent is 'Mr. Union.' He is not only eligible to run for convention delegate and to run for union office, but is also in a specially favorable position to influence choice of convention delegates that elect top union officers and decide basic policy."

"It is obvious that if these same business agents were granted union recognition by the International Ladies' Garment Workers' Union they would be in the position of participating in the choice of the ILGWU officers with whom they would bargain. This is splitting on both sides of the bargaining table."

"The ILGWU holds that a 'union' of business agents is not a union of employees. It is a faction of officers with all the elements of a dual union—trying to impose its policies from the outside and even going to seize control of the ILGWU."

"It is for this reason—not at all because we will not deal with unions of our employees or even our organizers—that we oppose a union of officers, known as business agents. It is for this reason that the AFL-CIO officially stands with us and actively supports our position."

There's some cholesterol in every cell and tissue of the body, and the amount varies widely from day to day or hour to hour, so the charlatan who pretends to regulate your diet to suit the level of cholesterol in your blood at a particular moment is exploiting your credulity—or maybe his own. In either case it is taking money under false pretenses, in my opinion.

Once, a lady told me her two old-lachelor brothers or brothers-in-law were dead set on keeping heart and arteries from getting all clogged up with cholesterol.

When she served roast beef or steak, they were at great pains to dissect out every bit of fat they could find before they ate the lean.

I have to chuckle when I think of that picture. But then, some people are not quite happy unless they have some such silly

The taste arises only sporadically, but it is nonetheless the subject of considerable controversy. It breaks out mainly in fields where craft unions are involved.

The Taft-Hartley Act does not prevent foremen from being in union, but it does not allow unions to compel employers to bargain with foremen. For they are not considered "employees" within the meaning of the law. Thus, the National Labor Relations Board will not hold an election to force an employer to bargain with a union of foremen.

In the printing industry, foremen and even superintendents of composing rooms will often be members of the union.

In some instances, unions have tried to compel employers to force their foremen to join unions. The National Labor Relations Board has ruled that a union cannot force the employer to require supervisors to join a union.

Dr. William Brady Says:

Damage by Cholesterol Has Yet to Be Proven

A reader, who probably means well, says her husband had some sort of a mild heart attack two years ago. He loves whole milk, but will not drink skim milk (nonfat milk), as the reader calls it—which is like calling legs "limbs" or the belly "diaphragm."

She gives the poor fellow whole milk occasionally, but doesn't know whether she should. I have touched on the question of animal fats in the diet of persons with heart or artery trouble or the tendency to develop such conditions, but she does not know my opinion of low cholesterol diet for such persons.

It makes a sad picture—the poor soul, licking his chops, thinking of that delightful music made by pure fresh warm milk squirting into the milk pail.

I have said here many times that if I had heart or artery trouble or a predisposition to develop such trouble, I'd eat what I liked.

I feel sorry for all the credulous customers who are concerned about cholesterol in their diet.

I feel sorry too for doctors who would like to be honest but feel they must prescribe low-cholesterol diet, periodic chemical measurements of the amount of cholesterol in the blood, and even one of the outrageously expensive nostrums purporting to keep the blood cholesterol at a low level, for if they don't do so their smart-aleck patients will change to some doctor who does.

All along I have tried to tell you that the cholesterol business is purely theatrical. No one has brought forward scientific evidence that animal fats high in cholesterol are not as good food as fruit, nut or vegetable fats high in cholesterol.

'CHARLATAN'

There's some cholesterol in every cell and tissue of the body, and the amount varies widely from day to day or hour to hour, so the charlatan who pretends to regulate your diet to suit the level of cholesterol in your blood at a particular moment is exploiting your credulity—or maybe his own. In either case it is taking money under false pretenses, in my opinion.

Once, a lady told me her two old-lachelor brothers or brothers-in-law were dead set on keeping heart and arteries from getting all clogged up with cholesterol.

When she served roast beef or steak, they were at great pains to dissect out every bit of fat they could find before they ate the lean.

I have to chuckle when I think of that picture. But then, some people are not quite happy unless they have some such silly business to concern themselves about.

One reader, asking about cholesterol, said he thought his doctor was on a cholesterol kick. I told him it was not just his doctor. A lot of trick specialists, "clinic" racketeers and general merchants of medicine are on the same kick.

Guinea pigs who follow a low-cholesterol diet and/or take a fancy nostrum which purports to keep blood cholesterol level low may learn in 20 or 30 years whether the punishment is worthwhile.

Slender letters not more than one page in length, dealing with personal health and diet, disease, diet, diet, or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, M.D., a licensed, well-addressed response is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

In Washington:

Aid Could Still Face Scissors

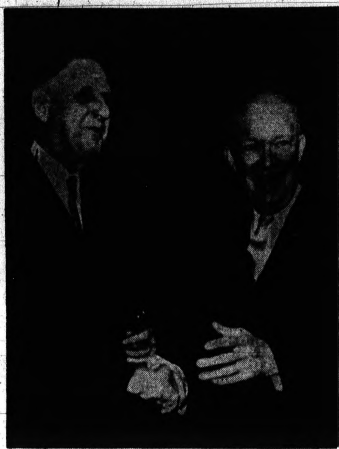

WASHINGTON (NEA) — The threat by House Appropriations sub-committee Chairman Otto Passman, D-La., to cut $2 billion off the $16 billion authorized for foreign aid this year is considered no empty gesture. He has increasing support for it from both Democratic and Republican conservatives.

They might not make a $2 billion cut, but $1 billion is possible.

Sentiment in Congress is running strongly in favor of a repeat operation of this kind. It has the Kennedy administration worried, for several reasons.

Foreign aid will probably be the last of the appropriation bills to clear Congress. Earlier money bills haven't been cut too heavily. The $74.3 billion national defense appropriation was increased $225 million. Making up for some of this by a big back cut of foreign aid has political appeal.

LUNCHEON GUEST — French President Charles De Gaulle greets former President Eisenhower yesterday at the Elysee Palace where they had lunch together.

Sees Weakening in Test Stand

Rocky Claims Kennedy Has Moved Toward Red Position on N-Ban

NEW YORK (AP)—Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller says the Kennedy administration has "moved steadily toward the Soviet position" on testing and control of nuclear weapons.

He charges that a continual weakening of this country's position "has been accompanied by a growing Soviet intransigence which has seen the Soviets withdraw many points already agreed to."

REFERS TO 'CONCESSIONS'

Rockefeller listed charges he said have been made in the U.S. position since President Kennedy took office in January, 1961. He also referred to reports that a new U.S. proposal embodying concessions is contemplated.

"In short," he said, "weakening the proposals of March, 1961, by the Kennedy administration even further seems to me to run a high risk of endangering our national security."

Rockefeller, a possible Republican presidential contender in 1964, made the charges in a written statement issued by his office here as he was campaigning upstate for election to a second four-year term in November.

Rockefeller said he was "compelled by conscience and a sense of responsibility" to speak out because of the Soviet resumption of nuclear tests last week and the completion of the U.S. nuclear test series "except for two or three high-altitude tests which could not be carried out because of the failure of equipment."

Rockefeller's criticism came after Kennedy told a news conference last week he and his aides had been attempting to bring the U.S. position into line with new scientific data on the detection of underground tests that became available only last June. Kennedy said the U.S. proposals included on-site inspections of suspicious seismic occurrences and international control of inspection stations.

Arthur H. Dean, U.S. delegate at the 17-nation disarmament panel at Geneva, was reported to have told the United States is willing to reduce control posts to 80—less than half the number previously proposed.

Small Object Photographed Near X15 in Flight

EDWARDS AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (AP)—Space agency officials released photographs of a mysterious hand-sized object seen tumbling above the X15 rocket plane as it streaked to a record 314,750-foot altitude last July 17.

They said they could not identify or explain the object's presence in space.

The pictures were released after Air Force Maj. Robert Rushworth completed a routine X15 flight to 90,000 feet Wednesday and told newsmen he saw bits of insulation floating between the twin panes of the rocket plane's windshield.

The photographs, taken by a movie camera in the tail of the X15, show a gray-white object. They were taken as the plane, piloted by Air Force Maj. Robert White, roared up at 270,000 feet on his way to the record.

Hoffa to Face Trial in Tennessee Oct. 22

NASHVILLE (AP)—Teamster Union President James R. Hoffa will face trial on conspiracy charges in federal court here Oct. 22. Hoffa's move to transfer the trial to Detroit was refused several days ago.

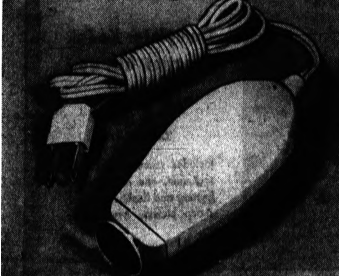

Trial date was set by Judge William E. Miller at a conference yesterday with Justice Department lawyers and Hoffa's counsel.

Hoffa was indicted May 18 on charges of conspiring to violate the Taft-Hartley act and illegally receiving more than $1 million from a Detroit trucking firm.

Enlarges Categories for War Damages

WASHINGTON (AP)—The House yesterday passed a bill to enlarge the categories of losses for which World War II damage could be filed. The roll call vote was 334 to 15.

The chief spokesman against the bill was Rep. John B. Bennett, R-Mich., who said it established a "regrettable principle" whereby the seized assets of private citizens of foreign countries are used to pay private citizens of another country.

The bill adds four new categories to the provisions in the War Claims Act of 1948.

Bandit Put Hand in Till—Almost Left It There

BALTIMORE, Md. (AP)—County police said a neatly dressed young man entered a dairy store Wednesday and asked Amanda Darnall, the clerk, to change a dollar bill.

Mrs. Darnall complied, but balked when the man pulled a gun from beneath a coat he was carrying and demanded she turn over the larger denominations. "I mean it, lady," he emphasized, reaching into the cash drawer.

So did Mrs. Darnall. She slammed the drawer shut on the hand. The gunman fled.

Old Steamboat Wheel Found on Road Project

GRAND RAPIDS (AP)—A wheel of an old steamboat was unearthed at Grand Rapids recently when the State Highway Department was building a bridge for the Interstate 96 freeway.

Experts identified it as belonging to a vessel, the Hummingbird, which exploded and sank on the Grand River 112 years ago. The department said archaeologists are called in whenever highway builders turn up such finds, such as Indian relics or reminders of pioneer days in Michigan.

JFK's Pluses and Minuses Stack Against Each Other

EDITOR'S NOTE — President John F. Kennedy is approaching the half-way point in his term in the White House. What's his score in foreign affairs? In this fourth article in a five-part series, Associated Press reporter Robert M. H. Jones notes the pluses and minuses and the abundant "X" factors.

BY BELMAN MORIN
WASHINGTON (AP) — During the conference between President Kennedy and Nikita S. Khrushchev in Vienna last year, the Soviet premier suddenly grunted out: "If you want war over Berlin, you'll get war."
History does not record a more blunt, bull-dozing threat from one head of state by another.
Khrushchev's design may have been to shock Kennedy off-balance. The President replied:

A COLD WINTER
"It looks like a cold winter."
The two men, having measured each other, went their separate ways.

Kennedy held firm on Berlin. Khrushchev set no new deadlines for signing a treaty with East Germany. He told a delegation of American newspaper editors last July 18 he still intends to sign such a treaty, but he said:

"When shall we do it? I will not set any time limit."

Some observers consider this a plus on the administration's credit and debit ledger for foreign affairs. For the moment, it may be no new formula.

But Kennedy, who says "Berlin is our big interest," does not expect Khrushchev to remain quiet indefinitely about this problem. No new formula for solving it is in sight. So Berlin is an X-factor, an "X" quantity, in the foreign equation.

What are the pluses and minuses? Few developments in foreign affairs fit completely into this clear-cut definition.

Cuba, to be sure, was a disaster for the administration.

The Berlin Wall was a shocker. At home and abroad, people asked why the Western Allies were not prepared for a contingency when the Americans criticize Kennedy for not having ordered American tanks to knock down the wall.

at the moment the Communists began erecting it. Whether the other Allied governments would have supported such a move, is, of course, still another question.

The Congo is still snarled. The United States, with money and other support, backs the United Nations effort to force Katanga Province into the Leopoldville government. Some Americans bitterly criticize this policy. Only last week, the U.N. secretary-general termed the situation "particularly critical."

The problem with France, held over from 1959, remains unsolved. The French are determined to develop their own nuclear weapons. The Kennedy administration refuses to provide technical assistance. Time alone will tell whether the policy was the right one.

No formulas have been found for an agreement to disarm or to stop nuclear tests. When Kennedy decided the United States must resume nuclear testing, picket lines formed in front of the White House in protest.

On the other hand, developments in Southeast Asia appear to warrant at least some cautious optimism.

An agreement was hammered out for a tripartite coalition government in Laos. The question is whether it will hold.

Before this agreement, Kennedy ordered American forces, including nearly 3,000 Marines, to Thailand to forestall a Communist guerrilla move out of Laos. The Marines were withdrawn as the tension lessened.

MADE IN AMERICA
Government forces in South Vietnam, using weapons and new tactics stamped "Made in America," seized the initiative from the Communist Viet Cong. The picture appears much better than it did a year ago when this correspondent toured the country.

The issue, however, is likely to remain touch-and-go for a long time. It took years to extinguish a smaller and more manageable Communist fire in Malaysia.

American diplomats worked out the formula for settling the dispute between the Netherlands and Indonesia over West New Guinea. It contains guarantees to insure the right of self-determination for 700,000 Papuans living there.

Finally, in Latin America, the Alliance for Progress has been launched. Its objectives:

1. To foster economic growth at a minimum annual rate of 2 1/2 per cent.
2. Tax reform.
3. Land reform to increase productivity.
4. Improved public health, housing and education. American aid totals $10 billion over a 10-year period and assistance in obtaining an additional $10 billion from other sources in Europe and Japan.

Last week, on the first anniversary of the Alliance, Kennedy was asked whether he was satisfied with the progress. He replied:

"Measured by what has to be done, I think we have to do much better."

Meanwhile, the administration says American military power—the vital factor behind foreign policy—is being beefed up steadily. In May, Secretary of Defense McNamara reported some of the details of the build-up to the White House conference on national economic issues. Among other things, he listed:

NATIONAL BUILDUP

1. A 50 per cent increase (from 19 to 29 submarines) in the Polaris force scheduled for deployment in late 1964 or soon after.
2. A similar increase in the portion of the strategic bomber force to be maintained on 15-minute ground alert.

The Red offset came in a China news service dispatch from Fukien Province, opposite Formosa, which reached here today.

The Communists have repeatedly claimed the United States has equipped President Chiang Kai-Shek's Air Force with the spy planes but there has never been confirmation.

While building up the military strength of the United States, McNamara also launched a program to cut the costs of it. He expects to economize by $1.5 billion by fiscal year 1963, and to reduce expenditures $2 billion more by 1967.

Death of Thor Sounded as New Missile Is Born

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The death knell of an historic missile and the birth pangs of a new concept in space age warfare were recorded on the same day on opposite sides of the Atlantic.

On that day, Aug. 1, British Defense Minister Peter Thorneycroft announced in London: "Arrangements under which Thor missiles are stationed in this country should be brought to an end during the course of the next year."

On the same day the U.S. Air Force announced in Washington the award of contracts for development of a Mobile Midrange Ballistic missile (MMBRM).

The days of the 1,500-mile Thor, the Western world's first weapon capable of hurling atomic retaliation across the Iron Curtain, thus have been numbered. By the close of 1963 its usefulness as a ballistic missile will be ended.

Never intended to span the Atlantic or Pacific from continental U.S. bases, the intermediate range Thor was designed for launching from European sites. Some 60 were set up at four bases in England.

BEST FOR WHILE
Stored above ground, they were vulnerable but were the best the United States had until the intercontinental Atlas and Titan, with four times the range of the Thor, were rushed to operational status.

Great Britain plans to replace the Thor as soon as possible with the less vulnerable Skybolt.

a 1,000-mile missile launched from jet bombers. Later the Skybolts may be supplemented by the midrange ballistic missile.

The midrange missile is more than a follow-on version of the intermediate range Thor—it is a new concept that extends the mobility of the submarine-launched Polaris missile to land launchings.

When perfected the midrange missile will have many advantages, most of them based on the fact that it is propelled by solid fuels rather than the liquid fuels of the Thor.

Solid fuels, molded into the rocket at the factory, mean that the midrange, like its sister-stored big brother Minuteman, can be fired on an instant's notice. There is no need for fueling at the site before launching.

Solid fuels mean that the midrange missile, like its older sister Polaris, has mobility. No sitting duck chained to a permanent launch site, it can be fired from trucks or surface ships.

HALF COST
Solid fuels mean that the midrange will be cheaper to build, cheaper to launch. Some experts figure the cost per pound of payload, delivered on target at half that for liquid rockets.

The midrange missile could be given the same range as Thor—1,500 miles—but strategists figure 1,000 miles will reach

Engineers Talk of Climate, Underground TV, Planes

By The Associated Press

Scientists and engineers talk of our future climate, a neutrino telescope, an underground TV eye, and airplane safety.

WARM SPELL

Man's present balmy climate, free of ice ages, looks good for another 20,000 years, and the seasons may even grow warmer.

This is the outlook indicated at least by study of tiny fossils embedded in ocean floors which give a record of climatic changes. Says David B. Erickson and Goesta Wollin, geologist and research associate at Lamont Geological Observatory.

The fossils of one-celled animals indicate the last ice age ended 11,000 years ago, rather than 20,000 as previously assumed. And the last part of the last great spread of glaciers began about 60,000 years ago, after a mild spell lasting some 30,000 years, they wrote in Scientific American.

TELESCOPE

Physicist Philip Morrison of Cornell University would like to see a "neutrino telescope" come into being.

Neutrinos are fundamental atomic particles, and tremendous streams of them fly continuously from the sun and other stars in the universe. But there's a catch—they are so close to being, nothing at all, and they react so weakly with any kind of matter at all, that it takes heroic measures to detect them.

If there were some way to "catch" the neutrinos, to know that they were there, men then might have a revealing new view to tell what goes on deep inside stars, where neutrinos are born. Neutrinos may hold answers to many puzzles of the universe, he says.

AIRPORT SAFETY

Under test is a new kind of altimeter designed to increase air-traffic safety at airports, where as many as 60 planes may be approaching at a given time.

At a signal from ground control, this altimeter would automatically flash back the plane's altitude and identity. Radar supplies only the direction and distance of aircraft until radio contact is made with each plane.

The altimeter was designed at Case Institute of Technology, using a photographic disc made by Eastman Kodak Company. The disc registers altitude in terms of black-and-white patterns, which could be transmitted electronically to the ground. Each plane carries an identifying piece of equipment.

UNDERGROUND EYE

An improved television eye is peering into the bottom of oil wells several thousand feet deep to report on rock formations and conditions or troubles in the well.

The compact camera has a cylindrical shape, high light sensitivity, very low power needs, and requires a minimum of equipment in the operating cable. It can be operated at a maximum depth of nearly a mile. Shell Development Co. reports.

Rival Argentina Leaders in New Tug-of-War Feud

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (AP)—Rival army leaders engaged today in a new struggle for leadership of the nation's ground forces and the commanding voice in President Jose Maria Guido's military-dominated regime.

The rumored intra-army feud broke into the open Wednesday when dissident commanders rebelled at the leadership of Gen.

Juan Bautista Loza, war minister and army commander in chief.

Loza and both pasts Wednesday night, and the dissidents said they were satisfied the crisis would not erupt into open conflict. The roots of the crisis—deeply divergent views within the army on the future course of the nation—remained.

Defense Minister Jose Luis Cantillo took over temporary command of the war ministry and summoned top army commanders to a conciliation meeting today.

Each of the several army factions was expected to press Cantillo to name a commander in chief from among its ranks. Several army generals already were resentful that Cantillo, a civilian, had taken over the war ministry, even temporarily.

The navy and air force remained on the sidelines, rejecting overtures from the rival army groups.

TROOPS IN COMMAND

Army troops occupied power plants, radio stations and other key points in the Buenos Aires area to prevent disturbances.

The wobbly Argentine peso tumbled again under the day's uncertainty, and Economy Minister Alvaro Carlos Alagiar expressed deep concern for the effect the army conflict might have on his drive to get Argentina's stagnant economy moving again.

The army crisis stems from the military's ouster of President Arturo Frondisi last April and the subsequent forcible recess of Congress and annulment of the March elections in which followers of ex-Dictator Juan D. Peron scored sweeping victories.

The move split the army into several factions. One opposed the move altogether as unconstitutional. Another endorsed the hard line against the Peronists but pressed for an early return to constitutional rule. Still another urged an outright military seizure of power.

Gas Firm to Spend $5 Million in Building

DETROIT (AP)—Michigan Consolidated Gas Co. announced yesterday it will add some $5 million worth of new facilities and equipment to its 1962 construction program.

Hugh C. Daly, company president, said the additional construction will push the firm's physical expansion budget for the year to a near-record $32 million.

About $4.6 million of the increase is destined for natural gas production and underground storage operations in St. Clair, Custer and Mead counties.

Some $376,000 will go for facilities to be used in extracting gasoline and other hydrocarbons from natural gas produced in the St. Clair County field, and $180,000 for a receiving station near Detroit.

Denies GM Bid to Kill Directive

Federal Judge Won't Quash Note Requiring Records Stockpiling

NEW YORK (UPI)—A federal judge yesterday denied a move by General Motors Corp. to quash a Justice Department letter calling on the auto making firm to produce all its records and to save a veritable mountain of documents which normally would be discarded.

The Justice Department wants the records available for study by a grand jury conducting an anti-trust investigation.

A GM attorney argued the company records would cover five football fields.

He said the firm amasses 250,000 file cabinets of documents each year and discards of them at the same rate at stated intervals.

GM contended it would undergo "undue and unreasonable hardship" if forced to save every "scrap of paper" asked for by the Justice Department.

District Judge Dudley B. Borsari ruled that the "letter is not a process of this court and the court has no jurisdiction to quash it."

However, the judge noted, "There is no doubt that the anti-trust investigation being undertaken by the government is an extremely broad one."

Jumps Into the Aegean Holding MM's Picture

IZMIR, Turkey (AP)—Clutching a picture of Marilyn Monroe, a Turk jumped into the Aegean Sea Wednesday. Passersby rescued him.

The man was identified as Bayram Kandenir, 36, married and the father of three children. Friends said he had been in an acute state of depression and had been drinking since reading of Miss Monroe's death.

Last Report to Kennedy

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Llewellyn Thompson, who just ended a five-year stint as ambassador to Moscow, made his final report to President Kennedy yesterday and then told reporters he is confident the United States will be able to live in peace with Russia.

Ma Duncan Executed

Gas Chamber Ends 'Love' Story

SAN QUENTIN, Calif. (AP)—A triple execution in San Quentin Prison's gas chamber Wednesday wrote the final chapter in a grotesque story of obsessive mother love.

Elizabeth (Ma) Duncan, 58, was executed for plotting and paying for the murder of her pregnant daughter-in-law four years ago so she could keep her youngest son to herself.

It was a futile killing. For Frank Duncan, now 33, married again.

Yet her love was reciprocated. Frank, with his present wife and law partner, Elinor Chandler Duncan, fought through the courts, trying to save her life, until two minutes before the execution.

But no tears were shed in San Quentin's little "bag-in-the-room" when Ma Duncan died, shortly after 10 a.m., tight lipped and staring straight ahead into nothingness.

The tears came three hours later for one of the two small-time criminals who said Ma Duncan promised $5,000 and paid $399 for the November 1958 killing of Olga Duncan, 30, near Santa Barbara.

A half-brother wept when cyanide gas choked off the inaudible laughter of Augustine Baldonado, 28. Strapped beside Baldonado and talking with him was his fellow killer, Luis Moya, 23.

"It's all right," Baldonado had assured Daniel Ledesma, 35, of Port Huermes, Calif., only moments before. But it didn't stop the tears.

Last words before entering the execution chamber were:

Baldonado: "Warden, lock the door tight."
Moya: "I'm getting what I deserve."

Ma Duncan: "I am innocent. Where is Frank?"

WON'T SEE HER

She had asked to see her beloved youngest son again, and had been refused. Frank had visited her late the night before, between last-minute appeals reaching from Washington state to Los Angeles. She had also asked for, and been denied, sedation just before entering the gas chamber.

Sedatives, and her addiction to them, had played a prominent part in the tragedy.

Frank Duncan had met Olga Kuczyk, a Canadian-born nurse, when he took his mother to a Santa Barbara hospital suffering from an overdose of sedatives. They married June 24, 1958, against his mother's wishes.

And Frank's final appeals to save his mother's life were based on the contention she was so doped up from sedation she did not know what was going on in her 1959 trial.

In a final filial gesture, Frank Duncan reclaimed his mother's body. It was being held at a San Francisco funeral home pending burial arrangements. Moya had willed his body and eyes to Stanford University Medical School.

13 Scientists Named to Drug Safety Unit

CHICAGO (AP)—Thirteen scientists were named today to the prescription drug industry's newly organized commission on drug safety.

Dr. Lowell T. Coggeshall, chairman of the commission and vice-president of the University of Chicago, announced the names of the commission members at a news conference.

The commission was set up in July to study and protect the reaction of humans to drugs.

The commission members included Dr. Thomas Francis Jr., chairman of the Department of Epidemiology at the University of Michigan Medical School, Ann Arbor.

GRAND RAPIDS (AP)—Clarence Yriesenga, 53, a Grand Rapids petroleum company employee, was killed yesterday in a work accident.

Police said his head was crushed by a 275-gallon oil heating unit tank which toppled while he and a fellow worker were moving it to a new location. The victim was dead on arrival at Butterworth Hospital.

U.S. to Boycott Red Trade Fair

Commerce Department to Keep Businesses From Taking Part

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Commerce Department said yesterday it will, in effect, bar American businessmen from displaying their wares at Communist East Germany's annual trade fair in Leipzig next month.

The department's office of export control said it will refuse to grant licenses to ship American-made goods to the fair. Similar action was taken last year because of international tension over Berlin.

An announcement said that "East German officials have attempted to exploit for political purposes the presence of U.S. businessmen at Leipzig fairs." Furthermore, it said the United States government is unable to extend consular protection to its citizens in East Germany because there are no diplomatic relations between the two countries.

2 Head West Pioneer-Style: by Horseback

LANSING (AP) — Two college students left Lansing yesterday determined to make it to the World's Fair at Seattle the hard way — by horseback.

Attempting the trek are Carl F. Reghan of Lansing, 20-year-old junior at Michigan State University, and Charles G. McKelvey of Detroit, 19-year-old sophomore at Central Michigan University.

The colleagues are packing all their supplies on two horses loaned by a riding stable. They hope to make the trip in two months by riding 50 to 60 miles a day.

Would Deny Israel Immigration to U. S.

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Rep. Frank E. Walter, D-Pa., yesterday proposed a bill to ban immigration from Israel until the Israeli government cooperates in returning convicted Russian spy Robert A. Soblen to the United States.

He also introduced a bill to deny U.S. landing rights to Israel's El Al airlines unless it flies Soblen from London to this country.

Animals Listed at $10,000 Killed in Pet Shop Fire

HILLSIDE, N.J. (AP) — Fire took the lives of scores of animals valued at $10,000 by the owner of the Hollywood Pet Shop here.

The animals lost Wednesday included a dozen chinchillas, a rare magpie priced at $1,000, several pedigreed dogs, tropical fish and 60 canaries and parakeets. Anthony Katakiewicz Jr., owner of the shop said.

Two snakes, believed harmless, were missing. Firemen rescued about nine puppies and a white angora cat.

Charge Pro-Nasser Plot to Kill Jordan's King

AMMAN, Jordan (AP) — Premier Wafdi Tell yesterday accused pro-Nasser elements of plotting to assassinate King Hussein during the Jordan monarch's recent visit to Morocco.

Moroccan police earlier reported that two men, described as Palestinian Arab terrorists, were arrested July 27. Tell gave their names as Zuhair Taher and Sobhi Shabee.

Federal Help Renews Negro Hopes in Albany

By DON MCKEE
ALBANY, Ga. (AP) — Federal intervention in Albany's long and bitter integration fight renewed the hopes of Negro leaders today after city officials again slammed the door on biracial talks.

Clergymen from other states continued a pilgrimage to Albany, joining local Negroes and about a dozen outside organizations in the sustained desegregation thrust.

days came Wednesday in the form of a lunch counter sit-in, resulting in the arrest of two Negroes. There have been more than 1,200 arrests since last December, with 403 during the past month.

Elliott also said he could set no date for hearing suits by Negroes to enjoin enforcement of segregation ordinances and to bar police interference with peaceful protests.

Long-sought federal help materialized Wednesday in the closing hours of a seven-day hearing on the city's effort to outlaw marches, boycotting, picketing and other protest activities.

URGES PRIORITY
Chief defense counsel Constance Baker Motley of New York had urged Elliott to "give the utmost priority to hearing this case."

Justice Department attorneys argued against the injunction in a brief filed with U.S. Dist. Judge J. Robert Elliott.

The Justice Department move brought a denunciation from city officials and praise from Negro leaders.

QUESTION ACTION
The attorneys questioned Elliott's jurisdiction and said even if he had authority to proceed, injunctive action "would still be precluded by fundamental principles of equity."

Integration leader Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. said the federal move "further vindicates the position of the Albany Movement in its insistence on the right of citizens to peacefully demonstrate."

City officials, the brief contended, should be required to comply with desegregation rulings "before the court further considers the complaint."

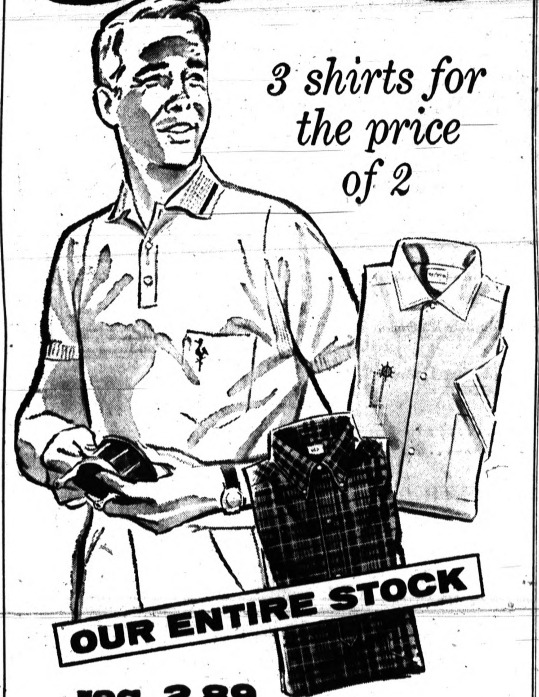

The hearing ended with Elliott announcing: "At this moment, I'm not sure exactly when I will decide this case. It might be within a couple of days, within a week or within a month."

In a statement for the City Commission, Mayor Asa D. Kelley Jr. said, "This is an affront to those of us in the South who are prepared to stand fast for law and order."

Colorful Parade Depicts 4-H Principles, Projects

Green and white took over downtown Pontiac for a colorful half-hour yesterday afternoon with a parade of floats and marching bands decorated in the traditional 4-H colors.

Highlighting the 1962 Oakland County 4-H Fair, the annual parade depicted the 4-H principles and projects of 1,500 boys and girls in 4-H clubs throughout the county.

The fair today entered its third day of exhibits, contests and other activities at the fairgrounds on N. Perry Street near Walton Boulevard.

A green and white float on the theme, "4-H fourleaf clover and four young 4-H'ers portraying 4-H activities was judged the best float. It was entered by the Bloomfield 4-H Club.

CAPTURES SECOND

Second place was awarded to the Oak Hill Club's entry, also green and white float. It's theme was "4-H, A Key to Success," and carried the 1961 4-H queen, Carolyn Ruggles, holding a giant golden key.

First prize was worth $29 and a trophy donated by Dr. Earl Davis, Jr. of Oxford. Second prize was $15. Third prize of $10 went to the East Orion Club for a green and white float commemorating the 50th anniversary of 4-H.

Judged the best walking unit was the "Walking float" entered by the Ortonville Club. Consisting of ten marching club members, it bore out the theme, "Shooting Ahead with 4-H."

Winners were selected by a panel of 30 judges who viewed the parade from a stand in front of the old court house. They were Mrs. Cassius Teague of the Oxford Garden Club, Max Adams of the Pontiac Chamber of Commerce and Bill Dean of Pontiac Jaycees.

Announcing the entries as they passed the reviewing stand was a pair of emcees, Eric Woodward, 16, of the Bloomfield Club, and Marilyn Palshaw, 17, of the Ortonville Club.

Parade marshal was R. Clare Cummings, Pontiac Federal Savings and Loan member and of the Oakland County Board of Supervisors.

Mr. and Mrs. William Scramlin of Holly were cochairmen of the parade. Today's events at the fair were to include interviewing of more than 50 4-H junior leaders to select the county's outstanding 4-H'er in junior leadership, junior and senior beef showmanship awards, a dress revue by 4-H girls, and a livestock auction sale.

Scheduled for Friday are Junior and senior dairy showmanship, dog obedience competition, a leader dog demonstration and halter and trail classes for horses.

Group Seeks Ouster of 4 on School Board

A move to oust the four officers of the Avondale Board of Education was launched last night by a newly formed School District Improvement Association.

Thomas B. Rocker, 1254 Ashover Drive, Bloomfield Township, president of the group, said today the unit's action was prompted by the resignation Monday of Supt. LeRoy R. Watt.

Watt's resignation was brought about by the school board's refusal to grant him a new contract in advance of the expiration of his present contract, according to Rocker.

Petitions were being printed for circulation in a recall movement against school board President Floyd L. Cobb, Vice President David W. Hackett, Secretary Raymond N. Baker and Treasurer Mrs. Genevieve Porter, Rocker said.

Watt, on a vacation in Lake City, was unavailable for comment today. He said Monday he resigned in order to accept a position at school superintendent in Wooster, Ohio.

His contract was due to expire July 1, 1963, Rocker said.

It was customary to give school superintendents a new contract in advance, especially when a millage program and bond issue has just been approved by voters and must be put into effect by school administrators.

Avondale voters recently approved a $1.25-million bond issue for additions to all the district's schools and a five-year operating tax-bond of five mills for three years to be followed by three mills for two years.

WOULDN'T GIVE IT

Rocker said board members had indicated they would never grant Watt another contract.

The new group, composed of 26 members who also served on the citizens' study committee that proposed and backed the bond issue and millage hike, was formed when Watt's resignation left in doubt the status of an agreement between the citizens' group and Watt, according to Rocker.

This agreement was that the tax increase would be used for improvement of educational standards, Rocker said.

The four board members under attack refused to give a reason for refusing Watt a new contract. Rocker said, except to point to personality clashes between Watt and his staff.

A number of people in the school system were working against Watt in behind-the-scenes politics, Rocker charged.

Rocker said a petition signed by more than 80 residents urging a new contract for Watt had been ignored by the school board.

NOT CONDUCTIVE

The membership of the present board is not conducive to good administration regardless of who is superintendent, Rocker said. His group's aim is to put the school system back on a business-like basis, he said.

Other officers of the newly formed group are Jesse H. Holmes, 6539 Dublin Fair St., Troy, vice president; Mrs. William M. Bergin, 1664 Ledbury St., Bloomfield Township, secretary; and Robert Lodewyck, 6832 Kilbuck St., Troy, treasurer.

BEST FLOAT — "4-H Is a Challenge" was the theme of the first prize-winning float in yesterday's 4-H parade in downtown Pontiac. Entered by the Bloomfield 4-H Club, the float carried four club members costumed to portray some of the challenging activities in 4-H work. First place was worth $29 and a trophy presented last night at the 1962 Oakland County Fair. It marked the second year in a row that best float honors were won by the Bloomfield Club.

2 Councilmen Are Appointed

Walled Lake Names Pair to Fill Vacancies Left by Resignations

WALLED LAKE — Two new city council members have been appointed here to fill vacancies created by recent resignations.

The new members are Norman H. Smith, 302 Withersall St., and V. Douglas Meredith, 1400 Beverly Blvd.

They succeed Marshall E. Taylor and Clyde A. Mottor. The appointments of the city council will occupy their new positions until April when they will have to seek election.

Smith, 66, is a former member of the City Plan Commission, resigning in February after serving eight years.

FOR 27 YEARS

Mrs. Amaden also appeared in grand and comic opera and several musical comedies and was with the old Manhattan Opera Co. in New York.

She and her husband retired in 1928 and settled in Albion, where she taught dramatics and directed amateur shows. Her husband died in 1939.

WHOPPER OF A HOPPER — This New Zealand white rabbit, weighing between 13 and 15 pounds, was awarded a prize ribbon at the 4-H Fair yesterday. Holding the bunny is Cecil C. Beno, 1955 Ford Road, White Lake Township, whose brother, Bob, 15, found the animal in the Highland Recreation Area the day after Easter.

PIE-EATING CHAMPS — Cecil Caverly, 13, and his brother, Alan, 10, each has a fatful of pie after winning the pie-eating contests last night at the 4-H fair last night. Cecil in the 12 to 14 age group and Alan in the 7 to 11 range.

PLACES SECOND — Judged runner-up in the 4-H parade yesterday was this float by the Oak Hill Club. Carrying out the theme, "4-H, A Key to Success," it showed a giant gold key and a big replica of the 4-H four-leaf clover. Holding out the key is Carolyn Ruggles, 1961 Oakland County 4-H queen. The parade on Saginaw Street in downtown Pontiac yesterday afternoon highlighted the second day of the 4-H fair.

Revolt Not Expected

Red Chinese Just Endure Hunger

WASHINGTON (UPI) — How much more hunger and economic privation can the Red Chinese take before pressure under the lid of tight Communist control reaches a breaking point?

If unrest does reach a critical point, what forms will a blow-up take?

Though they force no dramatic developments very soon in China, U.S. analysts are increasingly asking themselves these questions as they look at evidence of continuing Red Chinese troubles on almost every front.

The following summary is based on reports by U.S. officials specializing in Chinese affairs:

Red China has had three bad harvest years and it is unlikely that this year's crop, the bulk of which comes in October, will be much improved.

The Chinese diet, estimated at from 1,500 to 1,800 calories a day, as compared with the "Far East" average of 2,100, is better than starvation, but there undoubtedly are pockets of malnutrition.

China's bitter political and ideological rift with the Soviet Union, in which Russia has withdrawn

Boosts Own Competition

TULSA, Okla. (AP) — A radio station presented radios to new District Judge Robert Simms and new County Atty. David Hall for use in the courthouse. But due to structural qualities of the building the only station picked up by the sets is a competing station.

most of its aid, appears to be getting worse rather than better.

One of latest incidents involved Chinese protests against Russian efforts to provide jet fighters to India, the country with which China has a border dispute.

In London yesterday the Chinese Association, which represents British firms trading with Red China, reported that Chinese-Soviet trade is now half what it was in 1959 and is balanced against China.

Soviet exports to China in 1961 were placed at $366.5 million against $55.5 million which China shipped to Russia. Moscow has been relentlessly pressing Peking to begin this year repaying $300 million in old trade debts.

Red Chinese foreign exchange used to trade with the free world is believed near the dwindling point.

DEMORALIZING MOVE

China's "great leap forward" in which peasants were ordered from the farms to the cities several years ago in an attempt to build an industrial state has failed and millions of peasants are now being ordered back to the farms.

Last spring they arrived in the countryside in the season of greatest food shortage. This apparently was one factor which led to the flood of refugees to Hong Kong last May.

Western intelligence reports indicate the migration from city to the farm is taking place in a psychological atmosphere of demoralization and apathy.

Each return of a one-time city worker is an event of personal and national failure. The Peking regime seems to have found no way to overcome this demoralization.

Various efforts to revive public spirit have been tried. More private sale of home-produced crafts was permitted. Peasant farmers recently were allowed to grow food in private plots for consumption or sale.

But farmers have found there is little benefit in marketing food in a country with no industrial base where there are few goods to buy with the proceeds.

The army traditionally has been better fed than the peasants, and therefore more content. But there have been indications army morale has suffered as soldiers receive letters describing how their families are faring. The Chinese are great letter writers.

REVOLT UNLIKELY

The central government appears to have publicly blamed local Communist leaders for national failure, and this has created friction between these officials and the people in some areas.

Although this adds up to a grim picture, U.S. officials do not believe the Peking regime is in any immediate danger of overthrow.

They point out that the Chinese are among the most schooled of all people in enduring hardship and tend to withdraw into themselves under adverse conditions rather than revolt.

Officials feel evolution is more likely than revolution—that is, gradual changes in government policies which have brought about the plight. But when this might begin to appear, no one can guess.

The possibility that these difficulties might lead Red China's leaders into reckless adventure in aggression in Southeast Asia is not ruled out.

Much thought has been given in the Kennedy administration to ways in which the United States might increase China's difficulties economically. But with trade already completely cut off, no one has come up with any very practical means.

Therefore, U.S. policy at the moment is to keep its own defenses up, to make clear that it would resist any Red Chinese military moves, and continue to let China stew in its own juice.

JFK Addresses Latin American Labor Students

WASHINGTON — Welcoming a group of Latin American labor students to the White House, President Kennedy said yesterday "you cannot maintain a free society without a free trade union movement."

About 50 men who plan careers as union leaders in Latin American and Caribbean countries are in the United States on a three-month program sponsored by the AFL-CIO and U.S. business leaders to study trade unions, economics and social development, and business and industrial affairs.

"We put great hope in you, those of us who believe in freedom and social progress," President Kennedy told the group, gathered in the White House rose garden.

Soviet Grain Arrives at Port in Algeria

ALGIERS — Soviet Charge D'Affaires Sergei Gaverin formally handed over to Algerian authorities today 6,500 tons of wheat. It was brought to Algeria in the grain ship Ugleborsk, first Soviet vessel to dock in Algeria since the nation became independent.

At a ceremony in the ship's wardroom, Gaverin said the grain, a gift of the Soviet government to the people of Algeria, would be followed by another shipment including 3,500 tons of wheat, a million cans of fish, a million cans of milk, 5,000 tons of sugar and 500 tons of rice.

But 1962 is taking a back seat to no other year when it comes to the many extra items being taken by the buyers.

A survey of factory installed equipment on all 1962 model cars built between last fall and June 30 showed definite increases in every item.

Five items on the survey by Ward's Automotive Reports are available on every domestic car built, either as standard equipment or extra cost options.

These are automatic transmissions, radios, heaters, white sidewall tires and windshield washers. All five are running ahead of last year.

ON TRANSMISSIONS

For example 83.5 per cent of all standard size cars were equipped with automatic transmissions, up from 80.4 per cent a year ago. And the installation rate for compacts has risen from 58.3 per cent to 60.3 per cent.

Radios were up in 14 makes, including the big volume Chevrolet and Ford Galaxie, and were down in eight makes.

Heaters, which were made standard equipment on General and Ford models for 1962, came as close as any item to showing up on 100 per cent of the cars built.

Twenty-two of the 26 makes surveyed put white sidewall tires on more than half of their cars. Lowest volume for this option was Rambler with 42.2 per cent.

ON POWER STEERING

Power steering installation is at an all time high as is air conditioning. Power steering is used on 43 per cent of all cars, whereas only 35.3 per cent of the 1961 models used it.

State GI, 21, on Leave in Italy, Drowns in Sea

HEIDELBERG, Germany — The Army says PFC David William Crane, 21, drowned Monday while bathing in the Tyrrhenian Sea off Genoa, Italy. He is survived by his mother, Mrs. Beatrice Crane, Rockford, Mich.

Crane was stationed in Germany and on leave in Italy.

Air conditioning is booming in all price lines but especially in the luxury range. Lincoln installed it on 49 per cent of its cars in 1960, on 45 per cent in 1961 and on almost 75 per cent this year. Cadillac and Imperial have shown similar gains.

Other equipment being used in increasing volume includes V8 engines, power brakes, bucket seats, four-speed transmissions, tinted glass, backup lights, dual exhausts and limited slip differentials.

Lincoln includes more of the equipment as standard than any other car. It is the only line which makes a radio, power windows and white sidewall tires standard.

British Papers Pounce on London's Handling of Soblen

LONDON (AP) — The British government came under mounting fire from its home press today as the deadline continued over the fate of Dr. A. Soblen, the runaway spy.

Several newspapers questioned Home Secretary Henry Brooke's insistence that the Israeli El Al airline fly the psychiatrist back to the United States to serve a life sentence for spying for the Soviet Union.

The home office extended the deadline on its order to El Al to fly Soblen, 61, to New York from a London spokesman for El Al last midnight until midnight Friday.

A foreign ministry spokesman in Jerusalem said the 48-hour extension of the deadline had not changed the Israeli government's position on Soblen.

"We are ready to take Soblen back to Israel, if asked by the British to do so, but we will not send him on one of our planes to the United States or anywhere else," the spokesman said.

Soblen jumped $100,000 bail in New York in late June and fled to Israel on a dead brother's passport. Israel expelled him as an illegal immigrant and put him under the British law dealing with an El Al plane for New York with a U. S. marshal. The airline landed him in Britain after he slashed a wrist and plunged a knife into his abdomen during the flight. Two British courts ruled that he had no permission to remain in Britain and could only stay until he was able to travel.

The independent Times of London noted that in ordering El Al to take Soblen to the United States the home secretary was ignoring the fact that Soblen is an illegal immigrant and put him under the British law dealing with aliens refused permission to land in Britain.

The law says the owners or agents of the plane on which the alien arrived may be required to take him either (1) to the country of which he is a national, (2) to the country where he embarked or (3) to a third country willing to receive him.

"There is no priority among these three choices, so presumably the home secretary is entitled to go on saying that it must be number one or nothing," said the Times.

But, it asked, "Is he wise to do so?"

The Guardian noted Soblen's contention that he has leukemia and has no more than a year to live.

"If it were true that he was almost bound to die within a few months—and this is by no means established—there would be a good case for letting him go wherever he pleased," said the Guardian.

The Laborite Daily Herald called the home secretary "Brooke the blunderer."

"He has angered the Israelis; main there as a Jewish inmate, and frustrated the Americans—grant. If the Israeli courts won't let him stay and don't send him back to America, he will probably go to Communist Czechoslovakia, which has offered him asylum."

If El Al fails to act, the British must get a deportation order for Soblen. His attorneys have said they would challenge such a move in the courts, contending that he cannot be deported to the United States because the U.S.-British extradition treaty does not cover espionage.

If El Al takes him to Israel, Soblen plans a court fight to re-peatly.

From the hospital in London's Brixton Prison, Soblen appealed to the British government as "a small man (against) sending me back to die in an American jail." And his lawyers expressed hope that President Kennedy would grant Soblen a pardon or am-

Pretty Pills Called Kevadon in U.S.

By DAVID SMOTHERS
CHICAGO (UPI) — "They're beautiful, pale blue pills, round, a bit smaller than aspirin, scored on one side, with a double circle and an 'M' on the other side."

"They're lovely. If I didn't know what they were I'd take them myself."

Mrs. Trudy Whitman happens to have a bottle of the pretty blue pills because she is an employee of the New York City Health Department.

The bottle is labeled "Kevadon" and comes from the highly reputable pharmaceutical house of William S. Merrell Co. of Cincinnati, Ohio.

Until a month ago, most of the nation's doctors regarded "Kevadon" as a promising sedative and tranquilizer which had proved highly popular from Europe to Australia.

Today the Food and Drug Administration (FDA), together with state and city health departments and medical associations, was grimly at the job of locating and confiscating every one of the blue pills in the nation.

For "Kevadon" is the American trade name for thalidomide, the sleep-inducing drug which has caused thousands of babies abroad to be born deformed.

The records of the FDA showed that William S. Merrell Co. had made the drug available to 1,231 physicians throughout the country.

"The doctors were asked to test the drug's effectiveness and safety. There was nothing wrong with this practice. It is routine, because testing on humans is required before a new drug can be approved by the FDA."

It was two years and eight months after the Merrell Company first asked FDA clearance to market thalidomide that the drug's tragic potential became public knowledge.

Many — perhaps most — U.S. doctors had little idea of thalidomide's cruel effect upon unborn infants until they read in the newspapers in mid-July of the dogged fight of an FDA investigator, Dr. Frances Kelsey, to keep thalidomide off the market — and why.

SOME HYSTERIA
There was nationwide concern and even occasional hysteria when Dr. Kelsey's story was told. The fears of pregnant women were dramatized by the plight of Mrs. Sherri Finkbine, a Phoenix, Ariz., housewife and television personality who had taken thalidomide during the early months of her pregnancy. Mrs. Finkbine preferred an abortion to a deformed child.

In New York, psychiatrist Richard H. Hoffman revealed he had obtained thalidomide pills from Baden-Baden, West Germany, and given them to 10 patients.

One of the patients gave birth to a deformed baby July 21. The child died 41 minutes later. This was the only known case of death caused by thalidomide obtained in the United States. But in San Antonio, Tex., a woman who had bought thalidomide in Germany had a deformed baby who lived only five days.

There were six more cases of deformed births blamed on thalidomide in the New York area and two unconfirmed reports still under investigation in Chicago.

A Garden, Calif., housewife who had obtained thalidomide while her husband was in the Army in Germany, gave birth to a deformed child June 15. The housewife, Mrs. William J. Webb, 25, said "after I got out of the hospital and held the baby in my arms I knew everything was OK."

She said an abortion to prevent the birth would have been "entirely wrong."

Barring future tragedies, that was the worst of it. Health authorities could list these positive factors in the nation's thalidomide scare.

The FDA reported that thalidomide had been distributed to 207 pregnant women in this country and nearly all of them had given birth to normal babies. The FDA estimated a total of 15,900 Americans had received thalidomide from their doctors.

The FDA had contacted 1,897 of the 1,948 doctors who had supplies of thalidomide.

A total of 74 doctors still had supplies of thalidomide on hand when FDA inspectors contacted them and 22,948 tablets were collected. The remaining doctors who had the drug were on vacation, the FDA said.

There was not a single record of case of a baby deformed by thalidomide which had been obtained in the United States. In all cases of deformity, the drug had been brought from abroad or had been ordered from a foreign source.

As far back as last November, thalidomide was taken off the market in West Germany. Yet federal and state agencies in this country took no action to prevent the drug's circulation until late July.

CREDITS FIRM
There had been danger signals and the Merrell firm was credited by the FDA with acting "with reasonable diligence."

Last December, the company warned doctors who had received the drug not to give it to women of child-bearing age. In March, Merrell asked the doctors to return all their supplies of the drug.

Yet, last Friday, the Chicago Health Department announced it had confiscated 7,385 thalidomide pills within the previous week.

The FDA said at least 67 doctors still had supplies of thalidomide in hand as late as July 27. Investigators turned up a doctor in Virginia who had put a bottle containing 1,000 pills on a shelf and then forgotten about them.

Despite the precautions of the Merrell Company, the New York Health Department had no official word of thalidomide's danger until Dr. Kelsey's statement on the drug July 15. It had to wait until July 27 for the names of doctors who had the pills.

The Dallas Public Health Department began investigating when it received letters from the manufacturer June 11 and June 26. Illinois health authorities said they woke up to the thalidomide danger when a newspaper story appeared July 20.

The American Medical Association (AMA) put the investigation on a long-term basis, announcing it would conduct a "careful analysis" of the effects of thalidomide upon unborn babies.

The AMA noted that thalidomide had been under clinical evaluation in this country for six years but there had been no reports published in scientific journals of deformities caused by the drug in the U.S.

Most health authorities said the emergency was over by this week. Dr. K. F. Meyer, director emeritus of the Hooper Foundation at the University of California, said testing of unlicensed drugs should be restricted to the pharmacology departments of universities.

"Giving the drugs to doctors is not the safest way to do it," he said. "Sometimes observation periods of a year are needed. And the drug houses are in such a rush."

Being Out of Step Doesn't Bother Him

De Gaulle's Not Getting Mellow

By JOSEPH W. GRIGG
PARIS (UPI) — French President Charles de Gaulle has proved once again that the odd-man-out role does not bother him in the least.

It was shown again in the abortive Brussels talks last weekend on Great Britain's request for acceptance into the six-nation European Common Market.

After an all-night session, with all seven delegations already punch-drunk with fatigue, French Foreign Minister Mau-

British Deport Fascist Leader

Rockwell Gives Salute as He Boards Plane; Threats Delay Flight

By EDDY GILMORE
LONDON (AP)—American Nazi leader George Lincoln Rockwell gave a Hitler salute today as Britain deported him to the United States.

Bareheaded and wearing a brown suede jacket and sun glasses, the fugher of the American Nazi party was escorted by Scotland Yard detectives to the steps of a Pan American jetliner bound for Boston.

BOMB THREATS
Shortly before takeoff time, several persons with muffled voices called the airport to say bombs were aboard the plane.

"I advise you to search that plane," said one, "or Rockwell is going to have an unpleasant surprise."

The bomb threat delayed the plane's departure only 12 minutes. "They appeared to be cranks," said a Pan American spokesman of the callers.

A quick check was made of the plane but no trace of a bomb was found. The airliner had been under guard since it arrived early this morning.

GIVES SALUTE
Just before entering the plane, Rockwell, 41, turned at the top of the steps, shouted "hitja, boys" to the cluster of photographers below and raised his right arm in the Nazi salute.

He was seated in the economy section of the plane, ahead of the other 38 passengers. The Home Office said he paid for his own ticket, which cost $270.06.

A request by Rockwell for an audience with Queen Elizabeth II went unacknowledged.

"His letter was handed to the police," said a Buckingham Palace spokesman.

rice Couve de Murville suddenly handed Britain's chief negotiator Edward Heath a long, highly complicated financial document and told him he must sign it on the spot if he wanted agreement then.

The result was that the talks were recessed until October and Britain's entry into the Common Market was delayed by several more months at least.

BORE HIS STAMP

Although De Gaulle was not present in the Brussels conference room — he was in fact vacationing at his country home in eastern France — Couve de Murville's tactics bore the hallmark of De Gaulle's inspiration.

Couve de Murville is a completely faithful agent and interpreter of De Gaulle's foreign policy. He went to the Brussels talks with written instructions to act as tough and uncompromising as possible.

This put France considerably out of step with the other Common Market members, most of whom would like to see Britain join as soon as possible.

Not that De Gaulle apparently wants to keep the British out of the Common Market for ever. But he considers that they are the askers and that there is no reason to make things easy for them, regardless of what the other member nations may think.

This was a typical De Gaulle stance.

He was the odd-man-out in the Atlantic Alliance last winter when he alone flatly opposed Berlin peace talks or even diplomatic "probing" with the Russians.

He was the odd-man-out again when he refused flatly to send a French delegation to the Geneva disarmament conference.

He set himself at odds with his Common Market partners when he rejected their idea for a closely integrated political union of Western Europe and refused to go for anything stronger than a loose federation of sovereign states.

De Gaulle is pushing 72—an age when many men mellow. But there is nothing to show any disposition on his part to make himself less stubborn or difficult to deal with.

MTA Chief Chases Ted Kennedy Away

By The Associated Press

Edward M. Ted Kennedy, Democratic candidate for one of Massachusetts' seats in the U.S. Senate, got in hot water with Boston's Metropolitan Transit Authority while waiting for the Forest Hills train station.

MTA Manager Thomas J. McLerran came by and told Kennedy, brother of the President, there were rules against such things. McLerran asked Kennedy to leave and said later he would have done the same with any candidate. Kennedy walked off without protest.

Joe G. Smith of San Mateo, Calif., became concerned when he learned that the 1,650,000 Smiths on file at Social Security headquarters in Woodlawn, Md., 12,000 of them were named Joe Smith.

Joe G. decided to make sure his records weren't being mixed up with other Smiths. So while on vacation—he traveled to Woodlawn with his wife and two children.

They were given a personally escorted tour of Social Security headquarters, and Joe G. was assured by officials that he is identified by number as well as name, and that electronic computers keep the records straight.

Allegan Approves Levy for New Detention Home

ALLEGAN (AP)—A proposed one-half levy for one year to finance construction of a juvenile detention home was approved by an Allegan County vote of 4,500 to 3,370.

Officials said the temporary tax is expected to yield about $70,000 which, with $10,000 left from the county jail fund, will permit construction and furnishing a 15-room juvenile detention facility.

United Nations Acting Secretary-General U. Thant predicts that by the end of this year six more countries may join the U.N.

The world organization now has 104-member nations, or 53 more than it had when founded in 1945.

Sen. Russell B. Long, D-La., says that under provisions of a bill passed by the Senate and sent to the House, military veterans could get term life insurance until age 50 and then convert it into modified life policies.

The bill would extend for a year the time in which veterans of World War II and Korea can apply for government insurance.

Will Help in Learning About Yourself

Keep an Honest Diary, It Could Make You Famous

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP)—Do you want to win lasting fame and the gratitude of future generations? Well, you can hardly do it by piling up wealth.
You could do it by writing a perfect poem or song, but that is far harder than making $100 million. The luminous gift of imaginative creation is denied to all but those of genius.
But there is a simple available way for you to earn a place in history. That is—to keep an honest, detailed diary throughout your life, and leave it in your will to some university library.
WILL BE GRATEFUL.
A hundred years from now, some historian seeking to find out what life was really like in the mid-20th century, will stumble on that diary in some dusty stack. Opening and reading it, he will call your name blessed.
This has been called the "Age of Anxiety" and the "Age of Crisis." But it may finally go down in history as the "Age of the By-stander," a period when people were so busy watching the exciting spectacle of life—or were so numbed by what they saw—that few bothered to put down how they felt about it all.

Later historians will find no lack of material to study about this generation. There will be tons and tons of official papers to peer through.
Mankind en masse probably never before has been probed by so many specialists—doctors, sociologists, psychologists, political scientists, and the takers of opinion polls.
Yes, the public pulse is being well taken indeed. But what about the private pulse?
The chronology of wars and diplomatic conferences makes up only the dry bones of human history. It is like learning about extinct animals by studying their fossils.
The only way to make human history really human is to find out how the individual person reacted to existence. What stirred him to dream, what caused him to despair? What did he really think about himself and others while he lived?

In the past men were more eloquent about themselves. Our ancestors were more frank about their reaction to life. They kept diaries; they wrote long letters and did not hesitate to speak freely what they thought and felt.
Such outspoken documents as the diary of Samuel Pepys, or the letters between John Adams and Thomas Jefferson, illuminate their times in a way no treaties or proclamations can.

From them we learn how it really felt to be alive then.
Today we seem to be losing the ability to write as well as to walk. We celebrate our anniversaries by sending each other cheap comic greeting cards bearing a rented wisecrack.
Few of us bother to record in any permanent way problems of our hearts and minds—as if we were ashamed to show our private feelings. We run the risk of having future generations decide we actually had no feelings, and stalked dumbly through our time on earth like stumbling zombies.
So, why not keep a diary? It'll help you find out yourself what kind of person you are while alive—and it could make you famous after you're gone. It might make you more important later than you feel you are now, and isn't that worth a gamble?
Arkansas was a state for more than 75 years before it adopted an official state flag.

She's Eager to Start Brand New Career

Mrs. A. T. Liu, recipient of a masters degree 25 years ago at the University of Michigan, will begin a teaching career this fall in the Waterford Township school system.

The housewife-turned-teacher had been entertaining thoughts of becoming a teacher for some time but deferred her plans until she felt her husband and their two daughters no longer needed her in the home on a full-time basis.

Two years ago when the older daughter, Ann, graduated from the University of Michigan and her younger sister, Louise, was starting her sophomore year at the university, Mrs. Liu decided she would enroll at Wayne State University.

"It was quite an adjustment after being away from the classroom for 25 years," Mrs. Liu commented. "But I soon became accustomed to the schedule and probably studied harder than while I was at the U. of M.," she added with a smile.

46 CREDIT HOURS

Mrs. Liu needed 30 credit hours to obtain a teacher's certificate. She took 46, indicating both a strong interest in teaching and an intense desire to make a success of it. The newly appointed school teacher undoubtedly received some inspiration from a home environment where education predominates.

Her husband, Dr. A. T. Liu, is vice president of the Detroit Institute of Technology and dean of the engineering college. The couple, who met at the University of Michigan, were married to Ann Leber.

Ann, the older daughter, teaches English and speech at Washington Junior High School in Pontiac while Louise, now a senior at the U. of M., also has teaching aspirations.

Mrs. Liu, who "loves people," is especially fond of youngsters. As a student teacher last year she taught third graders in Highland Park and in September she will have a second grade class at the Leggett Elementary School.

Mrs. Liu had planned to return to her native Shanghai, China, in 1937 when her work at the University of Michigan was completed; however, the war was in progress and the trip was postponed nearly 10 years to 1946.

When the family entered China, they were forced to perform changes effected by the spread of communism were immediately apparent to them. Red propaganda promised a good life for all and the Communist movement was gaining momentum.

The Lis stayed only three years, leaving New Year's Eve, 1949.

Their departure proved timely as they later learned that there was the last ship allowed to leave by the Communist government.

"We still have many relatives in China," Mrs. Liu said. "But it's very difficult to correspond with them due to the rigid policy of the government."

An aunt of Dr. Liu, who is a University of Michigan dental graduate, tried to leave the country but was held by Communist authorities and is forced to perform dentistry for the government.

Though Mrs. Liu is embarking on a new career, she is by no means a stranger to work.

During her three years in Shanghai she served as assistant manager of the International Business Machines Co. office, instructing customers in the use of the various IBM machines.

In addition to maintaining her home at 2185 Harvard Court, West Bloomfield Township, Mrs. Liu has worked part time for the past ten years for the University of Michigan Alumni Club of Detroit.

Despite the great amount of reading all members of the family do to keep abreast of the changing times, the Lis are essentially sociable people who enjoy entertaining their friends.

Mrs. Liu likes nothing better than having a group in for dinner or just for an evening of conversation.

Last Christmas was the most memorable of all for the new school teacher.

"It became a citizen of the United States," she beamed when explaining why the holiday held a special significance. Now that she is a citizen Mrs. Liu is looking forward to "doing something worthwhile."

Her enthusiasm coupled with a fine educational and cultural background seem to assure that something worthwhile will be accomplished when the school bells ring again.

No Photos of Jackie? Italy Lensmen Scoff

RAVELLO, Italy (UPI)—The "paparazzi," free-lance Italian photographers who recognize no ground rules, vowed today to disregard restrictions placed on picture taking during the visit here of Mrs. Jacqueline Kennedy and her daughter Caroline.

"There will be some confusion but we will get our pictures," said Elio Sordi, one of the lensmen from Rome who wander about Italy in search of the off-beat shot of a celebrity. "We have never failed."

Sordi and about 75 of his colleagues were nearby as 4-year-old Caroline explored the Old World with some new playmates after arriving at this Mediterranean village yesterday. The children romped along a rugged stretch of the Amalfi coast once ruled by pirates.

The President's daughter seemed blissfully unaware of the excitement generated by the First Family's presence in this centuries-old village. She and her mother are staying in Villa Sangro, built in 1086 as a residence for the first bishop of Ravello, as the guests of Mrs. Kennedy's sister, Princess Lea Radziwill of London.

Caroline's playmates during her first visit in Europe are her cousins, Antony, 3, and Anna Christina, 2, who frolicked with her in the vine-covered grounds 1,277 feet above the Bay of Salerno.

The children waded in the crystal blue Mediterranean yesterday, but Mrs. Kennedy rested after the long trip from the United States by plane.

Sharp Cheese Nuts and Ham Fill Twisters

"Let's Twist Again!" this time a sandwich variation to serve the young folks at a party or backyard cookout! To make "Twisters," just fill buns with a spicy deviled ham and cheese mixture, twist in aluminum foil and heat on the grill or in the oven.

And if you don't twist, try them anyway. Use tiny buns, if you want to serve them as a snack; generous size ones when they are the main feature of refreshments.

"Twisters" are easy to fix, have terrific flavor and are sure to make a hit with any crowd!

- ★ ★ ★
- Twisters
- 1/4-ounce can deviled ham
 - 1/2 cup chopped peanuts
 - 2 tablespoons chili sauce
 - 1 jar sharp cheese spread
 - 4-6 hamburger buns
- Combine deviled ham, nuts and chili sauce. Spread on one cut side of bun. Spread cheese on other cut side. Wrap in Reynolds Wrap and heat in moderately hot oven (400 degrees) for 15 minutes or over barbecue fire 15 to 20 minutes. Makes 4-6, depending on size of buns.

Veal Chops Need High Seasoning

A rangy meat dish, with wonderful flavor, that doesn't take long to cook.

Savory Veal Chops

- 6 loin veal chops (about 1 1/2-inch thick)
- 1/4 cup olive oil
- 1/4 teaspoon oregano
- 1 small clove garlic (crushed)
- 3 tablespoons flour
- 1/4 teaspoon salt
- 1/4 teaspoon pepper

Cut part of the fat away from around chops. In a flat container stir together the oil, oregano and garlic; add chops in one layer; cover tightly. Allow to stand at least an hour, turning half way through period so both sides of chops are treated to marinade. Remove chops from marinade.

On a piece of waxed paper, mix together the flour, salt and pepper; dip chops in mixture. Heat olive oil in moderately hot oven (400 degrees) for 15 minutes or over barbecue fire 15 to 20 minutes. Makes 4-6, depending on size of chops. Heat until tender - about 20 minutes.

Old Recipe Misspelled Roulade—Idea Was Good

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

"Why can't Johnny spell as well as children once could?" ask the critics and modernists of teaching children the three R's.

Well, maybe years back Johnny could spell. But we're mighty sure his sister Janie had a hard time at spelling bees.

Our conclusion is based on the Janes, grown to woman's estate, who contributed to and compiled cook books in our grandmothers' day.

Here, gathered from one of those old-fashioned cook books published by a group of New York ladies, is a slight sampling of spelling boners they made.

Misspelled: To scallop. The phrase is to scallop, and according to Webster it means to bake a food with buttered crumbs or in a sauce topped with crumbs. Originally such a dish was baked in scallop shells, hence the name.

Misspelled: Neapolitan. The word is Neapolitan and it means of or pertaining to Naples, Italy. Neapolitan cakes and ice cream, with their dashing layers of different flavors and colors, were once in high style.

Misspelled: Amis. The word is amice, and it's an herb with a sweet aromatic flavor. Aniseed, the fruit or seeds of anise, is sometimes sprinkled over cookies and sweet breads before baking.

Misspelled: Rollard. The word is French and it's roulade. According to Larousse Gastronomique, a roulade is a thin slice of meat - usually veal or pork - rolled around forcemeat. In present-day American cooking, the roulade idea is sometimes used with beef and the result called birds, roulage or rolls.

Here's our version of such a recipe. It's good, no matter how it's spelled!

Vegetable-Stuffed Beef Rolls

- 1 1/2 pounds round steak
- Flour and salt and pepper
- 6 teaspoons prepared mustard
- 1 rib celery (halved crosswise and cut into 6 strips)
- 1 carrot (halved crosswise and cut into 16 strips)
- 12 large scallions (root ends and a little of green top removed)
- 1/4 cup butter or margarine
- 1 can (12 ounces) vegetable cocktail juice
- 1 can (6 ounces) sliced mushrooms

Have steak cut into 6 portions and flattened with a cleaver so each is about 8 by 4 inches and between 1/4 and 1/2 inch thick.

Mix together 1/4 cup flour, 1 teaspoon salt and 1/2 teaspoon pepper. With a very heavy saucer, pound seasoned flour into both sides of meat so as to break meat fibers and flatten to about 1/4 inch.

Spread 1 teaspoon of the mustard over top side of each piece of meat. Over mustard on each piece place 1 celery strip, 3 carrot strips and 2 scallions with green tops protruding; roll up and secure with toothpicks.

In a large skillet heat the butter and brown meat rolls on all sides. Add 1/4 cup of the vegetable juice; bring to a boil; cover and simmer, adding 1/4 cup vegetable juice twice more at 15 minute intervals. Continue simmering until meat is tender - about 1 hour and 15 minutes.

Remove rolls; keep warm. Stir 1 1/2 tablespoons flour into skillet. To remaining vegetable juice add liquid drained from mushrooms plus stock or water to make 1 1/2 cups; add to skillet. Cook over low heat, stirring constantly with wooden spoon to get up brown particles; until thickened; strain.

Add drained mushrooms to sauce and reheat, seasoning to taste, or with 1/2 teaspoon sugar and 1 teaspoon instant minced onion. Serve sauce over meat rolls. Makes 6 servings.

Mix Beets, Cream for Smooth Salad

An interesting vegetable - relish that is usually served with beef.

Creamy Beet Salad

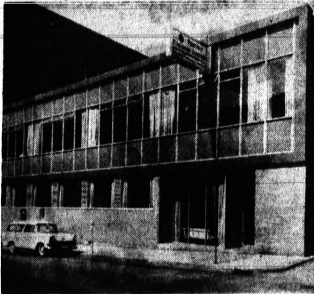

- 1/2 pint cultured sour cream
- 1 can (1 pound) julienne beets
- 1 tablespoon bottled horseradish

Drain beets thoroughly; mix with sour cream and horseradish. Add salt if needed. Refrigerate in covered container until serving time. Serve on salad greens. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

Q: What can a hostess do when guests in her home get into a heated argument on politics? The other evening after dinner this very thing happened in my house and I was really at a loss as to know what to do.

I tried several times to change the subject, but to no avail — instead the argument grew more heated and I thought they were going to come to blows. I would appreciate any help you have to offer in handling a situation of this kind.

A: After your attempts to change the subject had failed, you would have been fully justified in telling your guests in language as forceful as necessary that you are not interested in politics and will please stop arguing about them in your house.

Q: My husband and I will soon be celebrating our golden wedding anniversary with a small dinner party for our family and a few close friends. I plan to call the guests on the telephone and invite them verbally. I do not want them to send us presents. Will you please tell me how I can let this fact be known?

A: When you telephone your friends and relatives simply say that you would love to have them come to dinner on such and such a date to help you and your husband celebrate your golden wedding anniversary, and add that you are requesting everyone please not to send presents.

Q: My fiancé and I are going to be married very quietly in the minister's study. No one will be present except the best man and maid of honor.

After the ceremony, we intend to take them to a hotel for dinner before leaving on our wedding trip. The best man is married. I would like to know if in this case it is necessary to join the best man's wife to him.

A: Unless the best man tells you that his wife is dining with someone else that evening, she must be invited.

She's Out of Her Mind

Do Talk to Your Son at Once

BY ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: What would you do if you saw your daughter-in-law hit her two-year-old son over the head with a curtain rod? And what was his crime? He said, "Hungry, Mummy."

I think this girl is mentally ill. I am not the meddling kind, but I don't think this should go by unnoticed. If she did this with me, I stand by her, I wonder what she does when no one is looking?

The baby always carries bruises, bumps and black eyes. She says he is clumsy and rough. What should I do, Abby?

NO MEDDLER. DEAR NO: Would you stand by and let a stranger abuse a dog? Then give your grandchild the same break. TELL YOUR SON AT ONCE. No mother in her right mind would treat a child that way.

DEAR ABBY: I stand corrected. I had planned a baby shower for my daughter when a letter appeared in your column stating it was NOT proper for a mother to give her daughter a shower.

I promptly called the shower off. Now will you please tell me what you think of a person who would clip an item like that from a newspaper and mail it to me anonymously?

VERY, VERY HURT. DEAR HURT: An "Anonymous" message is a coward's way of expressing himself. He wants to be heard, but needs to hide. All anonymous communications deserve to be ignored.

DEAR ABBY: My cousin has been married long enough to have learned how to cook.

but I wish you could see some of the "meals" she puts out for her husband and family.

A bowl of cold cereal for breakfast. A can of soup and sandwiches for supper. They are all as thin as rails, have colds all winter and catch everything that comes along.

Their doctor bills are bigger than their food bills. How can I tell her to get busy and learn how to cook a decent meal? I like her a lot and hate to hurt her feelings.

COUNTRY COUSIN. DEAR COUSIN: Cooking a "decent" meal today takes no longer than opening a can of

Jealousy Is a Symptom

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

CASE M-488: Helene J., aged 32, is an attractive wife of a dentist.

When I address a state dental or medical convention, the wives usually have me talk to them at luncheon in a closed session so they can ask any questions they wish.

"Dr. Crane," Helene inquired in our discussion period, "what makes a man insanely jealous?"

"Although I try to be cooperative and we have two wonderful children, my husband grows insanely jealous if I even buy a magazine from a house-to-house salesman.

"In fact, he resents my going to the supermarket without him, lest I might flirt with a clerk.

"And he grew almost apoplectic last Sunday when we entered a pew at church where a man was sitting. This man courteously offered me a song book. But when I got home, my husband almost raised the roof.

"Yet I have never even looked at another man since our marriage! And he must surely know that, so is he losing his mind or what?"

GREEN-EYED MONSTER

Jealousy usually is a symptom of an inner feeling of sexual inferiority on the part of the person who does the accusing.

There may actually be no inferiority but if the victim of the green-eyed monster imagines there is, then the same unhappy results may follow.

Perhaps what prompted Helene to inquire about her own case was the joke that a doctor had told during his address at the morning session.

"Do you know what an optimist is?" asked this doctor.

"Well, an optimist is a man who thinks his wife has given up cigarettes when he begins to find cigar butts around the house!"

Helene's husband is not that dense, but he is picking up innocent clues and working himself into a jealous rage.

And the entire basis of this is the fact he has absorbed the wide-spread idea that women are passionate creatures, even exceeding men in their erotic appetite.

Dr. Kinsey's famous reports abetted this false notion. And the Kinsey report, erred scientifically by taking the opinion of women and then using it as if it were a fact.

Many a woman may enter our medical offices and tell us she has appendicitis, but we doctors don't use her opinion as a fact. For we often find she has nothing wrong with the appendix.

But the Kinsey interviewers fell into this error of using the women's stated opinion of themselves as an actual fact.

HUNGER UNSATISFIED

Those women with so-called exaggerated erotic hunger were just unsatisfied wives whose appetite had been mildly whetted but then they had been left unsatisfied.

Suppose a wife, who would be satisfied on 2,500 gastric calories per day, were given only 500. If she were then asked if her appetite for food was as great as her husband's, she'd instantly say "Yes, even greater!"

But that would not be true, for her husband would probably demand 3,500 calories of vitamins daily to her 2,500.

The Kinsey sex-mad women were simply those who had figuratively received only 500 "erotic calories," so their ardor was constantly whetted, though their actual capacity was far less than the normal male's.

Helene's husband firmly believed she should be ardent and wildly eager for physical affection. She wasn't. Nor is any other normal female.

Watch for tomorrow's follow-up, but meanwhile see for the booklet "Sex Differences between Men & Women," enclosing stamped return envelope, plus 20 cents. It will answer the falsehood in the Kinsey data.

What Young People Think About Prayer:

Most Youths Oppose High Court Decision

By EUGENE GILBERT
President, Gilbert Youth
Research, Inc.

Fifty-seven per cent of America's high school students, most of whom have recited prayers in their classrooms regularly since elementary school days, disagree with the recent Supreme Court decision regarding school prayer.

According to our latest nationwide survey, however, a majority of students (54 per cent) felt the decision did not weaken religion in the nation despite the fact that most students found real religious meaning in their daily school prayers.

"Religion which most depend on the nation, for its strength is already weak," said 16-year-old Lora Schelsinger of Hollywood, Calif.

Cheryl Park, 16, of Los Angeles, said she had attended schools which offered daily prayers and schools which did not and, for her part, could detect "no difference in the strength of religion."

A strong minority of 44 per cent felt differently.

PRAYERS IMPORTANT

Kaye Kuper, 18, of Delwin, Iowa, noted that "children attend school five days a week and church only one." Removing prayer from the classroom, she felt, would "create a generation believing religion isn't important."

A bare majority, 55 per cent, said prayers had been offered regularly in their schools, and 67 per cent of those who had experienced daily school prayers said they were of more than routine significance for them.

"Those prayers made me feel closer to God," said 15-year-old Patti Griffler of Oklahoma City, Okla. She added that most of us fail to appreciate the fact that "God and religion was why the first people came to this country."

One 15-year-old girl from Delwin fairly well summed up the feelings of the 33 per cent who considered the prayers routine:

"I feel prayers have more meaning when said privately. Many times, when prayers are said in school," she observed, "a great majority of the students just stand there saying nothing."

Of the survey group, 92 per cent (94 per cent of the boys and 90 per cent of the girls) had heard about the Supreme Court decision. When we asked what they thought was the reason for the decision, we received a variety of replies.

Few, however, gave as studied a reply as 15-year-old Robert Field Tredway of Oklahoma City:

SAFEGUARDS LIBERTY

"It was to safeguard our religious liberties by prohibiting the government from forcing pupils to repeat a prayer written by the state," he said.

George Coriveau, 15, of Jacksonville, Maine, said the decision was handed down "because there was so much hollering about the matter."

Susan Lawrence, 16, of Pompano, Fla., said the reason for the action was because "the Supreme Court didn't want our prayers to become too routine;" and Rosanna Corvino, 13, of San Francisco, answered simply, "It's beyond me!"

A surprising number — from such diverse points as Iowa, California and Florida — felt the decision had something to do with President Kennedy being a Catholic.

The majority, 57 per cent (60 per cent of the girls and 54 per cent of the boys) disagreed with the court decision.

"I think that if they [the justices] had sought the help of God in this decision," said 14-year-old

Phyllis Sharpe of Orange, Tex., "it would have been much different." Pamela Sharpe, 14, of Tiffin, Ohio, said, "I believe that a simple prayer to God by a nation under God should not be stopped no matter where it is said or by whom."

The ones who agreed with the court (38 per cent) also supplied sound reasons for their approval:

"The government has no right to compel or dictate prayers," said 16-year-old Nicholas Grover of Winter Park, Fla., adding, "it is up to each student in prayer."

the individual schools and classrooms to supply them."

Larry Johnson, 17, of Oklahoma City, felt likewise. "I believe that a school should only give opportunity for prayer," he said, "and should not, prescribe or control it."

The Fair Way

Accuracy Needed With Woods Too

By SANDRA HAYNIE
Written for NEA

Woods are the big guns of golf, but that's no reason they should be fired willy-nilly. Accuracy is as important with them as it is with any club.

The backswing is the fuse that fires the big gun. If it fizzles, so will the shot. The club should be taken back in a low, straight line from the ball, slowly and with the hands doing the job in coordination.

TAKE IT SLOW

The real body action starts around the time the clubhead goes into the arc of the swing. Starting it too soon can pull the body out of line and force a chopping action. Swing the club along the line. Don't pick it up with the hands.

This is a good time to remember the admonition not to use all your power in the back swing. The takeaway should be the slowest part of the swing, even deliberately slow if you have a tendency to hurry.

Even though the driver ordinarily is used less in a round than a putter, or even some of the other irons, the drive is the start of nearly every hole and can make or break prospects for a good score.

Start the backswing with a slow, low, straight-back takeaway and you've won about 25 per cent of the battle.

Truck Plows Into Ditch, Killing Driver in Ohio

WAUSEON, Ohio (AP)—A tractor-trailer plowed into a ditch about U.S. 20 east of Fayette yesterday killing the driver, Ernest A. Pennock, 38, of Sycamore.

The Fulton County sheriff's office reported that Pennock apparently fell asleep. The truck glanced off a culvert before going into the ditch.

Pennock was crushed to death when the truck's load of steel shifted forward, smashing the cab.

Telstar Notches First Business Telephone Call

NEW YORK (AP)—A transatlantic flight reservation was confirmed Wednesday in what American Telephone & Telegraph Co. described as the first business telephone call made via Telstar, the communications satellite.

The call from the Paris office of Air France to the New York office of the airline booked a flight from Paris to Mexico City via New York for a French businessman.

Rat Test May Prove Old Pregnancy Tale

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. (AP)—The idea that a mother's state of mind during pregnancy can affect the unborn child may be more than an old wives' tale, two Wesleyan University psychologists report.

The offspring of such mothers showed a definite depression in their activities, the psychologists told a convention here.

Paratroopers Pull Mock Strike Against 'Renlo'

CAMDEN, S.C. (UPI)—Invading forces pressed for a quick overthrow of the tiny nation of Renlo today in the mock "war" of Swift Strike II.

More than 2,500 paratroops of the 82nd Airborne Division hit the swift yesterday, signaling the start of full-scale action in the massive peacetime maneuver, biggest since 1941.

The exercise, with 70,000 soldiers and airmen, is a test of the capability of the U.S. Strike Command, a unified Army and Air Force unit with the duty of handling limited war actions.

The first photoelectric cell, forerunner of the television transmitter and receptor was developed in 1888.

Estes Lawyer Asks Favor, Is Denied

DALLAS (UPI)—A federal grand jury, visited by Billie Sol Estes, will hear more subpoenaed witnesses today in a probe of the farm tycoon's financial affairs.

Eight of 23 subpoenaed witnesses testified yesterday. The testimony came after Billie Sol, his three brothers, and two lawyers popped into the courtroom.

In a tactic he had used before, one of Estes' lawyers, John Cofer, asked U.S. District Judge T. Whitfield Davidson to let him question individual grand jury members about whether they are prejudiced against Estes.

Davidson refused the request.

Lucky the Duck Returns Home After Adventure

LINDEN, N.J. (AP)—Life is lucky again in the household of Joseph Gordon now that Lucky is back.

Lucky, the Gordons' fat, friendly pet duck, walked out of the back yard Tuesday. Fearful lest he wind up in a cooking pot, Mrs. Gordon called police, who searched the neighborhood.

But it turned out no foul play was involved. A local boy had found Lucky in the street. He brought the white duck to his mother and the mother took it to a farm. The farmer called the Gordons Wednesday and soon Lucky was home, being fed by the Gordon children—Neil, 5, Gail, 14, and Ricky, 16.

Subdivision Reports on Traffic Problem

City administrators last night were asked to prepare a solution to traffic problems in the Pioneer Subdivision by the Sept. 11 City Commission meeting.

A petition from the neighborhood was received by the City Commission and referred to the administrative staff.

The petition asks the city to stop cars from using the subdivision's streets as cut-offs to avoid the intersection of Telegraph and Vooheis roads.

A present traffic light at the intersection does not allow enough time for turns and stacks up traffic. The main solution to the problem was indicated by residents to be a combination of green-arrow and regular traffic light signal at the corner.

The administrative report on the issue was ordered prepared in time for the Sept. 11 City Commission meeting.

Commissioners sent back to the City Plan Commission a request to rezone lots at 26, 30 and 36 Union Street from residential to commercial.

The request had originally been denied by the plan commission on the basis that no specific use for the rezoned property was proposed and that the owners did not show up for a public hearing.

Commissioner Dick M. Kirby asked for an adjournment of the denial when the report came to the City Commission for action a month ago.

The adjournment ended last night. None of the owners was present. However, a representative of the owners, Robert Jackson of 1121 Main St., contended the present zoning was obsolete.

He pointed out that the property was surrounded by commercial property.

Kirby added he hoped the rezoning might stimulate a developer to come in, since the property is within a block of the future perimeter road.

However, Commissioner William H. Taylor pointed out that the land was set aside for multiple housing on the city's plans.

OTHER USAGE

Kirby countered that a commercial rezoning would permit commercial use such as pharmacies, drugstores, doctors' offices, beauty shops in connection with such housing.

Commissioner Charles H. Harmon suggested the owners "should appear before the plan commission and tell us more of what they want."

Kirby supported Harmon's motion to that effect, and a rehearing was set before the plan board.

Approved was a month-to-month rental agreement for car storage on Lots 7 and 8, Assessor's Plat No. 67, with Jerome Motor Sales, near its present location at 280 S. Saginaw St.

A resolution was approved cancelling the lease of Lot 6 at Pontiac Municipal Airport by Albert Wohart, who said he didn't intend to rebuild three hangars damaged by the April 30 windstorm.

The commission also approved a recommendation from the City Plan Commission for rezoning of the northern 350 feet of Lot 2, Assessor's Plat No. 37 from residential to commercial for expansion of the Federal Savings and Loan Association of Oakland main office building at 701 W. Union St.

In other business, the City Commission:

1—Held hearings on intention to construct curb, gutter, grade, gravel and related work on Stanley Avenue from Chicago Avenue to Walton Boulevard and on the south side of Florence Avenue from Cass Avenue to Close Street.

Resolutions were approved authorizing the city assessor to prepare assessment rolls by Aug. 14.

2—Set a public hearing for Aug. 14 after approving a resolution to accept a special assessment roll for sidewalk and related work on both sides of Alton from Motor to Bagley Street, and on the north side of Northway Drive from East Boulevard to Astor Street.

3—Set a public hearing for Aug. 14 after accepting a special assessment roll for sidewalk replacement on the east side of Lull from Houston to 100 feet north of Western Street.

4—Approved the special assessment roll for curb, gutter, grade and related work on Third Avenue from Fuller Street to Arlene Avenue. Confirmation was deferred.

5—After accepting engineer's estimates for construction of curb, gutter, grade, gravel and related work on Chicago, Scottwood, and Second avenues, and Western Street's north side.

The commissioners also gave tentative approval on a request of Ellen Felice for transfer of the location of 1962 SDD and SDD-11 commercial business from 435 Elizabeth Lake Road to 429 Elizabeth Lake Road.

Start of a Baseball Rhubarb

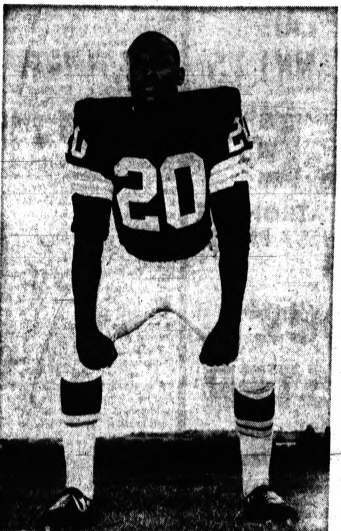

SAFE — Baltimore outfielder Jackie Brandt steps on home plate to score as New York catcher Elston Howard puts the tag on him in a very close play. Brandt was called safe by umpire John Flaherty and this started a big argument with Howard protesting. Brandt came home from third after Brooks Robinson hit a sacrifice fly to Tony Kubek in the 7th inning. The decision stood and the Yankees still won the game, 3-2. The Orioles, however, won the nightcap in New York, 4-3.

Browns to Start Shorter

STARTER AGAINST LIONS — Former Pontiac Central and University of Detroit football and track star, Jimmy Shorter, has been named by coach Paul Brown of the Cleveland Browns to start at defensive right halfback Saturday night against the Detroit Lions in Tiger Stadium. Shorter stands 5-feet-10 and weighs 180 pounds.

Ex-Titan Given Nod on Defense Against Lions

Former Pontiac Central Football and Track Ace Impressive

By BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

With all the mammoth sizes of football players filling pro football camps, the "little" man still has a chance. In pro football the 180-pounder is often called "little."

Pontiac's Jim Shorter, who is listed at 180 but is closer to 175, has the one big asset which has given the "little" man the best chance of staying with an NFL team — speed.

As dashman as well as a football player at Pontiac Central and the University of Detroit, Shorter was drafted by the Browns and was named today by coach Paul Brown to start at the right defensive halfback slot against the Lions Saturday night at Tiger Stadium.

It will be the first exhibition game for both teams and Shorter will be one of two rookies listed to start. The other is Sam Tidmore of Ohio State who will also be in the defensive unit as a linebacker.

"Shorter has done a real good job for us in training camp," said coach Brown, "he's a little too light for offense, but has great speed for defense."

With Shorter in the defensive backfield will be veterans Bernie Parrish, Don Fleming and Tom Frankfurter.

LIONS TO GIVE TEST

Being a rookie and playing his first pro game, the Lions are certain to give Shorter a good test with Milt Plum using Terry Taylor, Jim Gibbons and Carl Cogdill as his three top receivers.

Shorter may have to defend against one of his former teammates at U. of D. last year, Larry Vargo, who is expected to see plenty of duty at end. Vargo has been impressive as a pass receiver.

The Lions have cut workouts to afternoon sessions today and Friday.

Game time Saturday night is 8:30 p.m. and a crowd of 30,000 is expected. Tickets are still available and will go on sale at the windows at Tiger Stadium starting at 6:30 p.m.

World 'Shoe Champion

GREENVILLE, Ohio (AP) — Paul Focht of Dayton, Ohio, won a pressure-packed windup match from defending champion Harold Reno of Sabina, Ohio, Wednesday night and became the world's horseshoe pitching champion.

Focht's key triumph in the final event of the National Horseshoe Pitchers' Association Tournament gave him 22 wins against 3 losses in the round-robin match play finals.

WHAT? — Elston Howard makes a quick dash toward umpire John Flaherty after the call at home on Jackie Brandt. Of course Howard, Yankee catcher, thought he tagged Brandt in time. Flaherty thought differently.

OH, PROOF — After arguing his best, Howard turns away in disgust and Yankee pitcher Bill Stafford (32) comes in to continue the rhubarb with Flaherty. Nothing Stafford could do changed Flaherty's mind.

Mann Service Today

ANN ARBOR (UPI) — Memorial services for Matt Mann, Michigan's longtime swimming coach, are being held today at Memorial Chapel.

Following, Christian Science rites, the body will be cremated.

Tigers End Latest Frustrations

Sweep Senators 6-5 and 10-3 Getting 23 Hits

Cash, Wertz, Rocky and Roarke Homer; Kline and Regan Win

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Detroit Tigers ended their current frustrations with a bang last night, sweeping a two-night doubleheader from the Washington Senators with a 23-hit outburst that included four home runs.

The Tigers barged eight hits, including homers by Norm Cash and Vic Wertz, in the opener to win, 6-5, and came back with a violent 15-hit attack in the nightcap to win in a walk, 10-3.

The double win was especially good for Detroit because, although the Senators are the doormats of the American League, the Bengals had managed only one win in six starts at D.-C. Stadium prior to the doubleheader.

WERTZ CONNECTS

Starting fast, the Tigers routed Washington's ace, Don Stafford, in the first inning. The big blow was Wertz' two-run homer. The inning also saw four walks and singles by Steve Boros and Cash.

Washington came back and hit starter Don Moss for a run in each of the first two innings and finally chased him with a third run in the third inning. Boros Kline came on to close out a threat and was on base in the fourth with a single when Junior circuit home run leader Cash banged out his 31st round-tripper of the season. That made the score 6-3. The hit went into the mezzanine in right field.

Kline, who got the win, his third against three losses, was relieved in the eighth when singles by John Schieve and Chuck Hinton were sandwiched around the first out. Terry Fox came on and gave up a two-run single to pinch hitter Ken Reiter before retiring the side.

GOOD NIGHTCAP

Encouraged by their first game victory, the Bengals went all out in the nightcap. Chico Fernandez was the only starter who did not drive in a run.

In the assault were the two homers, three doubles and a triple. Bobo Morton noted two singles and a triple and Roarke had two one-base hits along with his homer.

Calvinio got things going in the opening inning by banging his 24th homer of the season with one on. Winning pitcher Phil Regan helped his own cause in the second, singling home a run, and Roarke brought in two tallies in the fourth with his round-tripper.

The Senators did not score their three runs until the seventh inning after the Tigers piled up a 10-0 lead. It marked the Washington team's fifth straight loss.

Calvinio, Boros and Billy Bruton all connected for doubles in the nightcap.

Regan, although held homerless, managed to hit his eighth triple to the plate to continue his torrid batting streak. In the Tigers' two losses to Minnesota at the Twin Cities, the Flint third baseman homered four times in two games.

The Tigers will be out to make it three in a row tonight against the Senators. Manager Bob Scheffing named Paul Foytack, who has won eight and lost four, as his probable starter. Tom Cheney, 4-6, was slated to pitch for Washington.

Tiger Boxes, Page 47

SECOND BASE HOLDUP — Shortstop Ed Brinkman (38) of the Washington Senators tries to avoid the tag of Tiger second baseman Dick McAuliffe with his hands raised high. The double play was completed when McAuliffe threw to first to get Pete Burnside who hit an easy grounder to start the play. The Tigers won the first game, 6-5, in the two-night doubleheader at Washington, and also took the second encounter, 10-3.

31 FOR CASH — Norm Cash (25) of the Detroit Tigers crosses the plate after hitting his 31st homer of the year in the 4th inning of the first game against the Washington Senators yesterday. Rocky Calvino and plate umpire Charlie Berry are in the picture along with Senator catcher Bob Schmidt (12).

NFL 'Hall' Work Set to Start

CANTON, Ohio (UPI) — Back in 1920 in a dimly lit garage the National Football League was born. Franchises currently worth millions were a paltry $100.

Now at a peak of popularity after more than two score years of ups and downs, professional football pauses Saturday to start construction of a sanctuary for some of its most highly prized players and possessions.

Pete Rozelle, youthful commissioner of the NFL, will turn the first spadeful of earth at 10 a.m. on the spot where an ultra modern Hall of Fame will rise within a year.

This community, football hobbled for half a century, raised $200,000 from 1,100 donors for the new structure. Each league team gave $10,000. The building will cost $360,000, not counting the ornate furnishings, and an annual budget of some $70,000 will perpetuate the shrine.

From all over the country, exhibitors of the olden golden days of the game have been pouring in to Dick McCann, $200,000-per-year director of the Hall of Fame, who served 16 years as general manager of the Washington Redskins. All will have their place in the Hall to be constructed on a 16-acre park plot just north of the city's Fawcett Stadium.

Saturday's festivities will wind up under the Fawcett Stadium lights as the New York Giants and St. Louis Cardinals stage their first exhibition game of the season. Each club gets a $15,000 guarantee, but McCann said the total of $100,000 should wind up with at least a $25,000 profit from the $5-per-ticket gate.

Jim Thorpe, the famous Indian athlete who died in 1953, was the first president of the old professional league. Some of his backfield mates from the Carlisle Indian days will be on hand for Saturday's ceremony along with such veteran gridiron luminaries as Harry Stuhldreher of Notre Dame's Four Horsemen; Jim Cozadman, the crucial phrase maker from St. Louis, and Al Nesser, the former New York Giant lineman and one of professional football's famed Neanderthal brothers from Columbus, Ohio.

The league organized here as the American Professional Football Association changed its name to the National Football League in 1922. Charter members were the Canton Bulldogs, with Thorpe as the feature attraction, the Cleveland Indians, Dayton Triangles, Akron Professionals, Massillon Tigers, Rock Island, Ill., Independents, Staley's of Decatur, Ill., Chicago Cardinals, and Rochester of the Muncie, Ind., and Hammond, Ind.

Of those cities, only Cleveland and Chicago are still in the loop — the Hall of Fame is being set up among newspaper, radio and television personnel in each of the NFL cities. T

Packers to Face Test at Dallas Tomorrow

By The Associated Press

When Green Bay beat the Col lege All-Stars 42-20 in Chicago last week, Paul Hornung of the Packers said, "A pro team would have beaten us by five touchdowns."

The National Football League champion Packers get their first pro test in a pre-season game with the Dallas Cowboys Friday night at the Cotton Bowl in Dallas.

Vin Lombardi, coach of the Packers, was not too happy about the failure of his running game to make dents in the All-Star line. However, the Packers have a long way to go before the NFL season opens Sept. 16. They must certainly have been working on their running game during the past week. Both Hornung and Jim Taylor will be sharper with a week's work.

The Packers may find Dallas more vulnerable in pass defense, however, for coach Tom Landry has two seasoned backs on the sidelines due to injuries. They are Glyn Gregory and Bob Berich, a starter in 1961. To man the defensive backfield spots, Landry will use two rookies, Mike Gaeche of Oregon and John Chaisson of

Amazing Angels Regain 2nd Place

By The Associated Press
Those Los Angeles Angels just won't cooperate in the American League.

"They'll never last," sobriety pronounced the experts as Manager Bill Rigney somehow placed his oddly assorted crew in first place on July 4 ahead of the champion New York Yankees.

"See," chortled the pundits in a 1-told-you-so sort of way when the Angels went into a slump, the Yankees got hot and regained the top as Los Angeles quietly slipped back to third.

But now, all of a sudden, the Angels are back in second place, trail New York by 4½ games and once again have to be considered a major factor in the race. They regained second Wednesday night by sweeping a double-header at Chicago, 5-1 and 7-3.

Phoenix Driver Dies of Race Injuries

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — Race driver Don Davis of Phoenix, Ariz., injured in a sprint car feature at the New Bremen, Ohio, Speedway Sunday, died Wednesday.

A spokesman at Good Samaritan Hospital said the 28-year-old Davis suffered brain damage. The condition brought on respiratory complications which were relieved by a tracheotomy Monday night and he rallied, raising hopes for his recovery.

His condition took a turn for the worse again Tuesday, however. Davis' wife was at his bedside. First plans were to return the body to Phoenix for service.

During the racing season, Davis had maintained headquarters at Indianapolis, where he placed fourth in the "500" this year. Davis was hurt when his car, finishing 12th in the New Bremen event, looped to avoid a swerving car ahead of him, rammed into a guard rail and flipped over.

Granny Hamner Quits A's After Three Tries

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Granny Hamner, 35, the former Philadelphia Phillies shortstop who tried a comeback with the Kansas City Athletics as a pitcher, called a halt to his baseball career Wednesday.

A's General Manager Pat Friday said Hamner telephoned him that he was retiring.

In three appearances with Kansas City, all in relief, Hamner had an 0-0 record and was ineffective in two of the games.

while Kansas City chalked up its sixth straight, a 4-3 triumph over Minnesota. The Yanks split a pair with Baltimore, winning the first 3-2 and losing the nightcap 4-3. Boston beat Cleveland 6-0 behind Gene Conley's four-hitter while Detroit took a pair from Washington, 6-5 and 10-3.

The Angels won the opener on a four-run eighth inning in which they got only two singles. Three sacrifices and two Chicago errors helped the Angels break a 1-1 tie. Lee Thomas' single drove in two with the bases loaded.

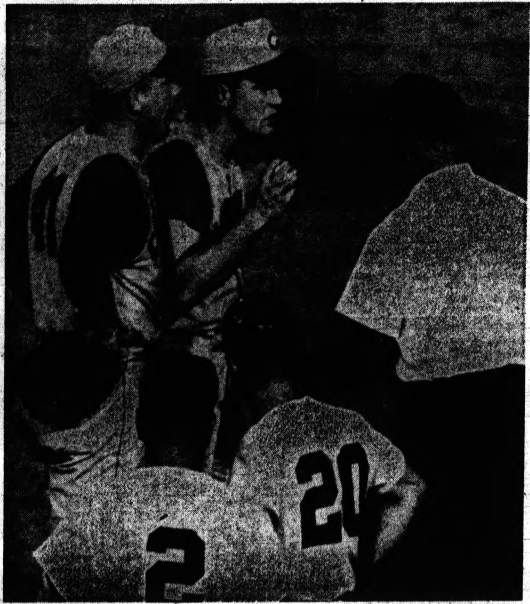

Don Lee (9-8) got credit for the nightcap victory, but needed help from Dan Olski and Bob Botz, and finally from Ryne Duran, who entered after Sherm Lollar's two-run homer drove Botz to cover in the eighth. Charley Maxwell also homered for the losers.

At Kansas City, Ed Charles stole home with the winning run with two out in the ninth inning as the A's dropped Minnesota to third. Harmon Killebrew's 30th homer of the season had tied it for the Twins in the top of the ninth.

Bill Skowron's two-out single in the ninth drove in Roger Maris with the winning run as the Yanks won the first against Baltimore. The Yanks and Orioles were tied 2-2 when Maris drew a walk, moved to second on a ground out and scored on Skowron's hit. Marshall Bridges (5-4) got credit for the victory after taking over in relief in the ninth.

Baltimore won the nightcap on a four-run fifth inning and four innings of no-hit relief pitching by veteran lefty Billy Hoelt. Hoelt came on in relief of Jack Fisher in the sixth with two on, two in and none out. A run scored on an infield out, but that was all for the Yanks.

Conley (10-10) struck out six, walked only two and retired 13 men in order over one stretch in pitching Boston past Cleveland. Gary Geiger led the Red Sox attack with two singles, a double and three runs batted in.

DISAGREEMENT — Cincinnati first baseman, Gordy Coleman (18) argues with first base umpire Angie Donatelli when he called the Houston centerfielder Carl Warwick (20) safe.

Donatelli said Coleman was pulled off the sack when he took the throw from third. Backing up Coleman is pitcher Joe Nuxhall.

Rejuvenated Nuxhall Stars Again

By The Associated Press

At age 35 Joe Nuxhall exchanged his knickerbockers for a major league baseball uniform. Now, 19 years and some gray hairs later, the knuckleballing left-hander has turned into somewhat of a phenomenon for the Cincinnati Reds in the National League.

The 34-year-old veteran, re-claimed from the minors recently, hurled 71.3 innings of shut out ball before giving way to relief. place Reds made it three consecutive whitewash jobs against Houston with a 4-0 triumph Wednesday night.

Nuxhall's second start, and second impressive performance, extended the woeful Colts' scoreless innings streak to 34 and gave the former boy wonder an eye-lifting 0.82 earned run average. He allowed six hits before Broman finished with hitting relief. The shutout brought the Colts within range of the major league record of 48 straight scoreless innings set in 1908 by the Philadelphia A's of the American League. The Colts haven't crossed the plate since the sixth inning of the game with a Sunday double-header with St. Louis.

DODGERS PAD LEAD

Meanwhile, the first place Los Angeles Dodgers moved 5½ games in front by making the most of four hits for a 3-1 triumph over Philadelphia while the New York Mets used the home run weapon to subdue second-place San Francisco 5-2.

Elsewhere in the NL, Bob Gibson's fourth shutout, a three-hitter, gave St. Louis a 2-0 triumph over Pittsburgh, and the Chicago Cubs belted Milwaukee 12-4.

Nuxhall, who became the youngest player to perform in the majors when he joined the Reds in 1944, was taken out in the eighth after Joey Amalfitano singled and Roman Mejias was hit by a pitch. The Reds put it away against Bob Bruce (6-7) with two in the second on a walk, Vada Pinson's triple and a single by Leo Cardenas. Jerry Lynch's homer made it 3-0 in the third and the Reds wrapped it up in the ninth on a walk and Johnny Edwards' triple.

The Dodgers went ahead to stay in the second when Johnny Roseboro homered after a single by Frank Howard, and closed out the scoring when Murry Wills singled, stole second and eventually scored on a sacrifice fly by Willie Davis. Wills has stolen 50 bases, more than any National League player since Max Carey, who stole 63 in 1916. Stan Williams (11-7) won it with a seven-hitter, blanking the Phils after allowing a first inning run on Tony Taylor's triple and an error by Ron Fairly. Jack Hamilton (6-10) was the loser.

NO. 37 FOR THOMAS
Frank Thomas and Felix Mantilla each hit a two-run homer in the fifth inning, and that was enough for the Mets as Roger Craig (7-11) went the distance and checked the Giants on seven hits. It was Thomas' 27th homer. Orlando Cepeda hit his 22nd for San Francisco and Al McMillan (11-8), McBean lost it when the Cardinals pushed across the game's two runs on an error in the sixth. With two out in the inning, Ken Boyer beat out a slow roller, Ken Charley James followed with a single. Both scored when the ball got by center fielder Bill Virdon.

AAU Meet Set for Big Field in Ohio Pool

Ben Donaldson, Norvell for Brennan Tank Team Starting Friday

Two former Pontiac Central High School swim stars, Bruce Norvell and Ben Donaldson, will compete against some of the world's fastest swimmers in the Men's National AAU outdoor championships starting Friday at Cuyahoga Falls, Ohio.

After a summer-long training program at Brennan Park in Detroit, Norvell and Donaldson departed this morning along with Jeff Longstreth, former Edsel Ford High School swim star now attending the University of Michigan and residing near Loon Lake.

Norvell will compete in the 100-meter breaststroke and Donaldson in the 200-meter freestyle and Longstreth in the 100-meter butterfly.

All three hope to compete in the 400-meter medley relay team representing Brennan Park.

CLOSE COMPETITION
Gerhard Hitz, West German ace, and Ted Stickle, Indiana University student from San Mateo, Calif., will highlight the opening activities in the 400-meter individual medley.

They have been trading records across the ocean all year with under-5 minute times. Hitz bettered Stickle's record with a 4:53.8 but Stickle has since been clocked at 4:51.8 twice spring.

World record holder in the 100-meter and 200-meter breaststroke, Chet Jastremski, on the Indianapolis Athletic Club team, will meet Yoshiaki Shikishi, to whom he lost by a touch in the 200-meter event in the Japanese nationals last month.

His team is expected to carry off the championship once again. The meet continues through Sunday.

Former Golf Great Compton Dies at 69

LONDON (AP)—Arlene Compton, one of the golfing greats of the past, died Wednesday in a hospital at Northwood, Middlesex. He was 69.

Compton was for 14 years professional at the Mid-Ocean club of Bermuda. He was for many years a golfing partner of the Duke of Windsor and gave former President Dwight D. Eisenhower lessons on his visit to Bermuda.

In 1928 he beat America's famed Walter Hagen in a 72-hole challenge match at Moor Park, England, by the massive margin of 18 and 17.

Forgotten Cut 'N Shoot Teacher Picks Liston Over Patterson

HUNTSVILLE, Tex. (UPI) — A man who lost to Floyd Patterson and put Cut 'N Shoot, Texas on the map predicts that Sonny Liston will upset the heavyweight champion in their Sept. 25 bout in Chicago.

The forgotten Texan is Roy Harris, now working on a master's degree at Sam Houston State College in Huntsville.

Harris owns a double distinction. He lost to Liston, too.

Harris, 29, is just four years from when he went night in 1958 when he lost 12 rounds with Patterson at Los Angeles — and knocked him down once — before

Prep Gridders to Drill in U. P.

MARQUETTE (UPI) — Prep football is on the march already in the Upper Peninsula.

Coaches were issuing calls for their candidates to receive physical checkups prior to the start of practice sessions Aug. 15.

In addition to the usual physical, gridders are being fitted with mouth guards — mandatory equipment this season under a new Michigan high school athletic association regulation.

Most schools in the Upper Peninsula will get an early start on their 1963 campaign, Aug. 31 or Sept. 1, earliest dates permitted by the MHSAA. Lower Peninsula schools will follow a week later.

Wakerfield, the 1960 U. P. champion, will have a new coach — Dewey Lane, a former Wakefield player. He succeeds Roman Yatchuk, who has moved to Lower Michigan.

Hugo Bohm, 30, a native of Czechoslovakia, is a ski instructor at Mt. Frederick. He has been in the U.S. 12 years and has resided until recently in Detroit.

Texas town of Conroe this fall, believes Liston's weight is too much for Patterson.

A year later, Harris lost to Liston at Houston and faded from the fight game except in the memory of his friends in the "big thick" area of East Texas just north of Houston.

A TEACHER
Harris, who will teach eighth grade mathematics at the East

"But I believe Liston is too strong. If Patterson were the size of Liston, Patterson would take him."

"Liston will probably try to get up another inside attack. 'Liston should win.'"

Harris — who should know — gave these thumbnail comparisons of the two heavyweights.

Patterson — "A fast man with both his hands and feet. He throws good combinations and boxes good. But he is easier to hurt and get off balance."

Two Hope for Success at St. Joseph's

2nd Union Tries to Organize at Hospital

A second labor union today revealed it was attempting to organize non-professional employees at Pontiac's St. Joseph Mercy Hospital.

The move is being made by the Public Employees Council No. 77 of the American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees, an affiliate of the AFL-CIO.

The first campaign to organize the employees was started two months ago by an independent union, the Hospital and Sanitarium Employees Guild with a chapter in Pontiac.

Today representatives of both unions said they expected to obtain sole recognition for their respective organizations.

The AFL-CIO affiliate has "in excess of 200 signatures" among employees asking the union to represent them, according to Samuel A. Baker, president of Local No. 100.

However, Harold Russell, president of the independent union's Chapter No. 5, commented that, "Even if the State and County Employees union got signatures, we'll still have a substantial majority."

He added that, "we've been very active within the last few weeks — more active than before" in organizing the employees.

Asks City Move in Dirt 'Floods'

Ledford Urges Action to Stop Wash of 'Fill Soil' Back of Plaza

City Commissioner Loy L. Ledford has asked the city administrative staff to help stop floods of dirt onto property at Motterey and Court streets.

The problem is created by a house-high mountain of "fill" dirt piled up and behind backyard level of the residential area.

During heavy rains Tuesday and Wednesday afternoons, water from the Glenwood Shopping Plaza and the fill-dirt mountain gushed down for over 1,000 feet onto backyards in the area.

In one place, a ravine three feet deep has been dug out by the rushing torrent which then plunges another 15 feet onto lower lying property.

"NOW A MOUNTAIN" Residents say the dirt was piled up to "fill in" a swampy area. But, Commissioner Ledford explained last night, "first they had to little dirt, now they've got a mountain of it."

Residents say the mountain was supposed to have been brought down to grade level.

The land on which the fill dirt was dumped belongs to Kenneth H. Hempstead, a Pontiac realtor, according to Ledford.

Ledford said Hempstead had urged for several months that the owners of the plaza level out the dirt, without success. The owners are Herman Ross and Irving Stulman, Ledford said.

Ledford asked City Manager Robert A. Shiver and City Atty. William A. Ewart "to do everything possible within the next three or four days to solve this situation."

Reports Motor Stolen

An outboard motor owned by Joe Nouse, 6309 Motorway St., Waterford Township, was reported stolen yesterday. Value of the missing five-horsepower unit was estimated at $75.

Russell's union also is asking recognition at the Bloomfield Hospital, 1200 Woodward Ave., Bloomfield Township. The case is now pending before State Labor Mediation Board, officers in Detroit.

WRITES SISTER, XAVIER Baker said his union had sent a letter to Sister Mary Xavier, administrator of the hospital, asking recognition.

He added that the local organization attempted to represent the start of a campaign to organize other hospitals in the area—including Oakland, Wayne, Macomb and St. Clair counties.

A dozen private hospitals have already been organized, he said; however, the union stayed its campaign pending a recent State Supreme Court decision permitting organization, contested by Oakwood Hospital in Dearborn.

The employees affected include maids, janitors, custodial help, kitchen and dietary workers, nurses and orderlies.

The independent union also has expressed its aim to organize private hospitals through the metropolitan Detroit area.

Hungary Works on Alcoholism

Red Country Fighting Increasing Crime and Traffic Accidents

BUDAPEST (UPI) — Communist Hungary has launched something like a state-directed "Alcoholics Anonymous" in a national drive against excessive drinking.

Hungarians are not hard-drinking people and there are few drunkards to be seen in streets and bars.

Authorities apparently are concerned at a rise in the number of crimes committed by people who have been drinking and of industrial and traffic accidents caused by intoxication.

The government campaign ranges from warning all school children against the dangers of drink to trying to rehabilitate chronic drinkers in alcoholic clinics where they can receive free medical treatment, advice and companionship.

CLOSE SHOPS Other measures include closing down many thousands of low-class "drink-shops" and purging radio and television of material which might encourage Hungarians to drink.

Instead, these media now will promote natural fruit drinks put on sale especially for the campaign.

Legislation will be passed to protect the families of alcoholics and stiffer penalties for crimes and accidents involving drink already have been introduced.

The government has scheduled completion of 17 permanent alcoholic clinics throughout Hungary by the end of 1962.

Ten already are working, seven in Budapest and three in important provincial centers.

These clinics treat less-advanced alcoholics who attend regularly while continuing work, wherever possible, and living at home. Treatment is voluntary for the present.

Sylvan Lake Cuts Bond Issue for 2 Projects by $8,000

The proposed $35,000 bond issue for the Woodlawn storm drain and black-topping projects was trimmed by $8,000 last night by the Sylvan Lake City Council.

A cost estimate submitted by engineers indicated that the two projects would require a total expenditure of approximately $27,000.

Councilman Clement F. Cleveland made the motion to lower the bond issue and it carried unanimously. Advertising for bids will be repeated.

One bid, received on the assumption that the $35,000 bond issue would be approved, was rejected by the council when the lower figure was set.

In other business the council voted to repeal ordinance No. 59 amending the water revenue ordinance and to add the phrase "careless driving" to the uniform traffic code.

Motor Parts Stolen

Two four-barrel carburetors valued at $140 were reported stolen yesterday from the inbound motor of a 1940 boat owned by Jack Watkins, 481 Baywood St., Waterford Township.

The contract being sought covers cooks, bartenders, waiters, waitresses and checkroom help.

Mrs. Mary Wolfgang, president of the union's Local 705 said some 45 employees walked out of Oakland Hills yesterday.

Today groundskeepers, as members of the Teamsters Union, and maintenance men, members of the Firemen and Oilers Union, stayed off the job at the club because of picket lines, she said.

Union demands include a dollar-a-day pay hike and equalization of wage rates for employees.

Negotiations between the union and the club managers association were scheduled to resume again today in Detroit.

20 Were Stung BUDD LAKE, N.J. (AP) — Firemen dashed into a burning farmhouse Tuesday night — and dashed back out again. A swarm of bees, angered by smoke and flames, routed the firemen.

"They were going down our necks, through our coats and into our trousers," said Fire Chief George D. Smith. About 20 firemen were stung.

The chief said the bees apparently had built a hive in the unoccupied building. The fire burned out the interior of the house.

Pontiac Offers $1,000 for Killers of Store Owner

The Pontiac City Commission last night voted unanimously to offer a $1,000 reward for information leading to the killers of store owner Efthimis Vasilou.

The 59-year-old Vasilou was robbed and shot to death July 30 in his store at 309 Orchard Lake Ave. Robbers took an estimated $1,500 from him.

Two women's stockings, found not far from the store's back door, led police to check the possibility that the murder was tied to other recent "stocking bandit" holdups in Pontiac.

Singer's Wife Dies in Sleep

Ida Cantor, 70, Victim of Heart Attack; Eddie Collapses at Death

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Ida Cantor, wife of comedian Eddie Cantor, died of a heart attack last night at her home in New York City.

The 70-year-old Cantor, who had been suffering from a heart ailment for several years, collapsed in a state of shock when her husband was pronounced dead.

She was placed under sedation in their Beverly Hills home. A nurse remained at her bedside.

The couple, childhood sweethearts on the streets of New York, married 48 years ago while Cantor was struggling vaudeville comedian.

They had five daughters who with Mrs. Cantor played prominently in much of the banjo-eyed comedian's humor. The eldest daughter, Marjorie, died of cancer in 1950.

Mrs. Cantor died in the family home where she had been suffering for some time with a heart ailment.

Her maiden name was Ida Tobias. Her father tried to get Cantor to quit show business and go into the clothing business with him.

But the orphaned Cantor's widowed grandmother, Esther Cantor, put her foot down. Being a comedian, she said, was just as important as selling suits.

"Anybody who can make you laugh," Eddie quoted her as saying, "is like a doctor. Laughter cures a lot of ills."

Cantor remained in show business, became a millionaire and lost it in the stock market crash of 1929 and then rebuilt his financial fortunes.

Republicans Hit JFK Proposals on N-Test Ban

GENEVA (UPI) — The United States today offered to conclude a nuclear test ban treaty based on a worldwide network of internationally supervised national monitoring posts if Russia would accept the principle of on-site inspection.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Republicans have closed ranks for a politically significant attack on President Kennedy's modified proposals for a nuclear test ban.

In language so similar as to indicate a prior meeting of the minds, Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois, House Republican Leader Charles A. Halleck of Indiana and Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York contended yesterday that Kennedy is retreating toward the Soviet position.

At Geneva, Big Three delegates to the 17-nation disarmament conference met today for their first formal session after the U.S. proposals for nuclear test ban control.

The projected compromise on the number of world control posts and yearly inspection trips by an international team within the Soviet Union rests now with a conference subcommittee made up of U.S. Ambassador Arthur H. Dean, British Minister of State Joseph E. Goss, and Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Valerian A. Zorin.

ZORIN COLD
Zorin has displayed a cold attitude.

Dirksen and Halleck charged in a news conference that Kennedy had sent U.S. negotiators to Geneva "with in hand" with concessions to the Soviets that were promptly rejected.

They added that the nation now was witnessing "another example by the Kennedy administration of how not to deal with the Russians."

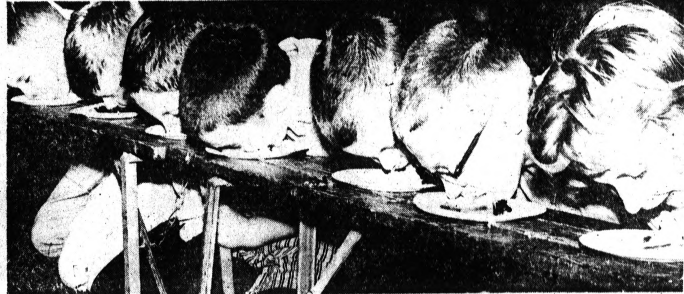

A few hours later Rockefeller said in a statement the Kennedy administration had "moved steadily toward the Soviet position" in efforts to get a treaty on nuclear weapons testing and control.

Marilyn Buried in Dignity

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — "Marilyn Monroe 1926-1962." The plate on the crypt reads simply, but it tells little of a Hollywood legend — or of her funeral, unique for such a personality.

For instance, there was former baseball great, Joe DiMaggio who married the film goddess — the second of her three husbands.

Before Marilyn, who was found dead in bed Sunday from an overdose of sleeping pills, went to her final resting place Wednesday, the famed New York Yankee slugger bent over her coffin.

Tearfully, he kissed her and poured out from his heart: "I love you, I love you, I love you."

It was out of character for the reclusive DiMaggio, but perhaps that made it all the more sincere.

Later he drove through Westwood Memorial Park, stopped once more at her crypt and then drove on.

Then there were the fans. During the service, many of them threw their hats, and some of them threw their hats.

Chrysler Offers Long Warranty

Competitive Firms May Follow With Five-Year, 50,000-Mile Upkeep

DETROIT (UPI) — Surprised consumers studied today a decision by Chrysler Corp. to offer the auto industry's first five-year, 50,000-mile warranty starting with 1963 models.

Other manufacturers may follow suit, but it was expected to be a while before they analyzed the announcement made by Chrysler President Lynn A. Townsend last night.

Townsend said his firm's new warranty would cover the principal components of its cars and trucks — the engine, transmission, drive shaft and rear axle.

The five-year, 50,000-mile guarantee on the "power train" will be in addition to the standard industry warranty of 12 months or 12,000 miles which covers major components such as body and chassis.

Townsend explained that the new warranty includes parts and labor needed to fix troubles requiring removal of the engine head or pan, or disassembly of the transmission, drive shaft or rear axle.

He said the warranty was made after studying data compiled on "millions of miles of operation and every possible road condition."

The results are said to be these: major components will live up to this new warranty if they are properly used and maintained.

Rains Damage City Telephone, Electric Lines

Tornado Cited Near Flat Rock in 2nd Day of Severe Weather

Telephone and electric services were disrupted for the second time in two days in the Pontiac area as weather went on a rampage throughout lower Michigan late yesterday afternoon.

A tornado was sighted near Flat Rock while rain, hail, high winds and lightning battered Pontiac and much of the state's Lower Peninsula.

At least one person died and several others were injured in storm caused mishaps outside.

The fierce storm struck the Pontiac area about 1 p.m. Two inches of rain, highest one-day total of the summer, was dumped on downtown Pontiac during the storm.

The basement of the Strand Theater, 12 N. Saginaw St., was flooded, resulting in a short circuit of the air conditioning system.

Bel Telephone Co. officials in Pontiac said more than 750 customers were without service following the storm. The breakdowns, caused mainly by wet cables, occurred at scattered locations in this area.

About 90 phone users in the Drayton Plains area were without phone service. Bell Telephone Co. repair crews had most service restored last night. The 80 remaining breakdowns were to be repaired by 3 p.m. today, phone company officials said.

WRECKED THURSDAY
A Michigan Bell Co. spokesman said yesterday's storm was much more damaging to phone lines than the one that struck Tuesday evening.

However, officials of Consumer Power Co. and Detroit Edison Co. reported fewer storm-caused breakdowns yesterday.

About 25 homes and business places in the Orchard Lake area and another 25 in the Leoni Lake area were without service for more than an hour yesterday evening, according to Edison officials.

Consumers Power Co. reported a momentary breakdown of its Franklin Road Circuit. Residents in the southwest section of the city were without electricity for only three minutes, Consumers officials said.

Shortly after 6 p.m., one of the brightest rainbows of the year splashed its way across the sky. The rainbow was seen from the city of Pontiac, according to residents.

Thousands of homeowners and motorists inched their way through rain-flooded streets throughout the area. During the storm, traffic slowed to a crawl when large hailstones and powerful winds pelted cars.

Even Cooler Tonight, Says Weatherman

Cooler temperatures will reign in the Pontiac area for the next few days, the low dropping to 38 tonight.

The weatherman predicts fair and continued cool Friday, the high near 78. Partly cloudy with little change in temperature is the outlook for Saturday.

Morning northeasterly winds at 8 miles per hour will become 10 to 20 m.p.h. northeast to east tonight and Friday.

The low temperature prior to 8 a.m. in downtown Pontiac was 39 degrees. At 1 p.m. the reading was 71.

Hostess Sonny Horeff at 26,000 feet

In these days of lightning speed, haste and even hysteria, The Pontiac Press believes it has come up with an unchallenged "first."

"Can you hear that?"
"Can you hear that?"
"Can you hear that?"
"Can you hear that?"

"We're at 26,000 feet," she said clearly, "how high are you?" And she giggled.

"Four feet, three inches," replied Lillian solemnly.

"What's your temperature?" queried the angel aloft.

"It was exactly eighty degrees when we left The Press. What's yours?"

"A scant twenty below," replied Sonia. "But that's outside. It's lovely in here."

"Where are you?" asked The Press representative.

"Just passing east of Pennsylvania," replied the hostess.

"How fast are you going?"
"Free hundred and sixty miles an hour. What's your speed?"

Lillian consulted the speedometer. "Forty-five. Another 515 miles an hour and we'll equal you."

"What was the temperature when you left New York?"

"It was 85 and very muggy. Can you hear me please?"

"Really good. Does the pilot know we're talking?"

"Yes, he does."

"Can I talk to him?"

Captain Charles Dault's voice came in and after the preliminary he said: "I read you. I read you easily. I swear I don't think this has ever been done before."

It's a small world and it's getting smaller. Think of a passenger in a speeding car talking to the occupant of an airplane several hundred miles away at 26,000 feet altitude, winging through the upper heavens at 560 miles an hour.

What would Orville Wright say? What would Hannibal have said as his elephants plodded across the Alps?

Celebrezze Proposes New Drug Regulations

Would Contain Power to Halt Trials

WASHINGTON (U-P) — Secretary of Welfare Anthony J. Celebrezze proposed new regulations today which would give the government a watchdog role in investigation of new drugs from start to finish, and power to call off the trials if safety doubts arise.

Acting against the background of public and official concern over the sedative thalidomide, Celebrezze proposed:

1. That the Food and Drug Administration be put on notice and given the full details about the distribution of drugs to doctors for investigation use on humans.

2. That clinical investigations, or use on humans, be based on adequate preclinical studies to assure safety.

3. That the clinical investigations themselves be properly planned, executed by qualified investigators, and that the Food and Drug Administration be kept fully informed during the progress of the investigations.

4. That if a substantial doubt develops as to the safety of the drug, the Food and Drug Administration and all physicians-investigators using the drug be notified immediately. If necessary, the trial could be halted by FDA.

Current regulations have no such provisions.

60-DAY NOTICE

The secretary said interested persons will have 60 days in which to comment on the proposed regulations and final regulations will not be issued until any comments have been considered.

The proposals were a follow-up to a promise by Celebrezze last week that tighter regulations would come soon. He said then:

"It seems clear that some tightening up needs to be done, although care must be taken not to interfere with the professional work of competent physicians."

While the proposals are a direct outgrowth of the furor over thalidomide, Celebrezze did not mention that Genetec developed drug in his announcement.

The sedative never was cleared by FDA for general use in this country but the American licenses for its manufacture distributed the pills to 1,231 American doctors for possible experimental use before it was associated with the birth of thousands of deformed babies in Europe.

There have been no reports of malformed babies in this country from that investigation, but there have been some cases of deformity in which the mothers had obtained the drug otherwise during pregnancy.

Celebrezze pointed out that present regulations require that drugs used in clinical trials be labeled "investigational use" only, and that manufacturers keep records of distribution.

The regulations also require that investigators and the lighting facilities and that names of investigators be made available to FDA on request.

Present regulations, however, do not require either an initial notice to FDA of a clinical trial of a new drug or subsequent reports on such use.

Taylor Says He Plans No Drastic Revisions

WASHINGTON (U-P) — Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor told senators today he plans no drastic or radical revision of this nation's defense policy or top military organization.

Candidates Campaign at Ionia

Romney, Swainson Meet at Fair

IONIA (U-P) — With primary election formalities behind them, Gov. Swainson and George Romney are off and running hard in their race for Michigan's top political prize.

The governor and his Republican opponent met in the same arena for the first time in more than two months yesterday and gave some 4,000 Ionia Free Fair patrons a sampling of their campaign styles.

Earlier, they sat together at the annual governor's day luncheon and politely sparred with each other on a few of the issues they will campaign the fall campaign.

Most of the big names of both political parties jammed the Ionia High School gymnasium to watch and compare notes on Tuesday's primary election and talk about the main event Nov. 6.

MIX WITH VOTERS

The late Gov. Fred Green, who lived here, starred at the first governor's day 36 years ago, using his chiefly as a podium to report on his record. Recent governors have done more mixing with voters and fellow politicians than speechmaking.

While the crowd opted nine beauty queens rounded up for the event, Romney worked his way through the grandstand at the fair, shaking hands and signing autographs.

Then he moved out to the midway directing four teen-age "Romney Girls" to precede him with campaign literature.

Swainson and his wife, Alice,

cratic officials, gave the crowd the same treatment.

In his prepared speech, Romney inferred to the bipartisan luncheon audience that Swainson had not done well in his first term as governor.

In apparent revival of his charge that labor unions control Michigan's Democratic party, he said the governor ought to be "absolutely free from control or domination by any narrow interest or group of interests."

"Some conflict is normal and even healthy in any society," he added. "But the governor must do everything he can to avoid an extreme depth of hostility between the governor and legislature, between labor and industry, between urban and rural areas."

A good chief executive, he said,

Water System Work Contracts Approved

Contracts totaling $3,283,519 for Tank Co. of Chicago, Ill., with a bid of $325,000, had been disapproved because it did not meet specifications that a contractor have in operation 10 similar structures.

A $341,500 contract to build two 2-million-gallon ground-level reservoirs was given to the General American Transportation Co., of East Chicago, Ind., the low bidder. The location will be at Opdyke Road and South Boulevard on property which the city has purchased from General Motors Corp.

The largest contract — $1,312,657 for transmission lines — was awarded to Chris Nelson and Son, Inc., of 415 East Hudson St., Royal Oak, the lowest combination bidder, which also was given a $213,157.50 contract for water lines on Orchard Lake and Mount Clemens streets.

The K. G. Marks Excavating Co. of Port Huron was granted a $1,639,305 contract as low bidder to construct a service building and pump station and make grounds improvements.

A $332,000 contract to construct a 2-million-gallon elevated water tank at Montclair and Edison streets went to the Chicago Bridge and Iron Co. of Detroit, the lowest qualified bidder.

But when she got here she found that neither she nor Peter was invited.

"I'm shocked," said Lawford. "We were not invited. I don't know who's responsible but the whole thing was badly handled."

NOT INVITED EITHER — The Lawfords were very close friends of Miss Monroe's as were Frank Sinatra, Clifton Webb and Dean Martin.

None of them was invited.

Marilyn's half sister, Bernice Mirabile, and DiMaggio handled the guest list. No movie stars were invited — and none showed up.

Those in charge of the arrangements explained that if they invited one star, they would have to invite many, and to have a big crowd would mean a circus-like funeral.

Backyard Pool Claims Girl, 2½

Found by Bloomfield Twp. Mother; Efforts Fail to Revive Tot

A 2½-year-old Bloomfield Township child drowned yesterday when she fell into her family's backyard swimming pool.

It is believed that the youngster, Beth Tobias, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Tobias, 538 Westbourne Road, had been wearing a life preserver but that it had slipped off in the water, according to Bloomfield Township police.

Mrs. Tobias told police that the child was playing outside the fenced-in pool when she went in the house to fix lunch.

When she returned she found her daughter floating near the edge of the pool and the life preserver floating on the other side of the pool.

Attempts to revive the girl by Mrs. Tobias and Bloomfield Township police failed.

Firemen estimated the little girl had been in the water about 10 minutes before she was discovered by her mother.

City-Country School Head Sets African Field Study

BIRMINGHAM (U-P) — George A. Roepker, headmaster of City and Country School in Bloomfield Hills, leaves tomorrow for Africa on a month-long educational field study.

He goes as a member of the Comparative Education Society which will conduct studies in Ethiopia, Tanganyika, Southern Rhodesia, the Congo, Nigeria, Ghana and Liberia.

The purpose of this field study is to make a survey of the present educational status in these various countries.

The group, which will meet the highest authorities in education in each country, will visit elementary and high schools as well as those on the college level in both urban and rural areas.

TO VISIT SCHOOLS

After receiving an overall picture of the educational development, the group will be taken to the schools to observe educational methods and the contents of subject matter taught.

This will be Roepker's fourth educational field study trip.

In 1958 he surveyed education in Western Europe. Later that year he traveled to Russia for a field study.

His last tour took him to Japan and Korea in 1959.

He authored a chapter on gifted child education in Russia in the book "The Changing Soviet School" as a result of his second trip.

Hint K Planning U.N. N-Ban Pitch

MOSCOW (UPI) — Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev may be planning a spectacular new nuclear test ban proposal for a personal appearance at the United Nations this fall, western observers said today.

Such a visit to U.N. headquarters in New York also would give the Communist leader an opportunity to try to break the Berlin deadlock and seek another meeting with President Kennedy, the sources said.

There have been increasing reports in the West that Khrushchev might attend the U.N. General Assembly session opening Sept. 18. So far the Kremlin has said nothing about it. Similar speculation last year did not materialize.

Khrushchev paid a 25-day visit to the United Nations in 1960. At his instigation the assembly session turned into a semicommunist meeting of Communist and non-Communist government leaders ostensibly to discuss disarmament.

It was at the United Nations in 1959, during his tour of the United States, that Khrushchev announced his program for general and complete disarmament.

GOP Nominee Romney Off to a Good Start

The results of Tuesday's Republican-Democratic "popularity contest" have left the political crystal ball a bit clouded over as regards portent for the general election next November, against an expected 1 million, did against an expected million, did nothing to clarify the picture.

The top-billed "race," of course, was between the two unopposed gubernatorial candidates — incumbent John B. Swainson and the political newcomer George W. Romney.

ROMNEY ran up a cheering four-to-three margin against the Governor, but the light vote leaves results inconclusive.

Support for SWAINSON fell far short, with the smallest vote in Wayne County for a gubernatorial candidate since 1946.

This indifference among Democratic voters could well be interpreted as another indication of statewide voter dissatisfaction with incumbents. There were many surprises for both parties in this regard, highlighted by the overthrow of six representatives in Detroit districts that are always Democratic and invariably renominate the incumbents.

Interesting sidelights of the primaries were the unexpectedly strong showing of Alvin M. Bentley of Owosso in drawing 360,000 votes to 200,000 for Democratic stalwart Neil Staehle in the congressman-at-large contest; and the complete rout of Romney's opponents in the 14th Congressional District, headed by Richard Durant, the John Birch Society leader.

Locally, Oakland County ran true to form—Republican candidates topping their opposite numbers by large majorities in most cases.

SEN. FARRELL E. ROBERTS had 17,778, running for nomination against RICHARD D. KUHN and ROBERT J. HUBER with a combined total of 15,764. His Democratic opponent, LELAND H. SMITH garnered 13,060. HENRY M. HOGAN Jr. swamped JOHN F. FOLEY 9,115 to 1,632 for state representative; while neighboring Waterford Township gave LLOYD L. ANDERSON a two-to-one lead for the same office — the winners both Republicans.

Republican William S. Broomfield drew an impressive 32,198 votes against a combined total of 13,238 for his two opponents for Congressman from the 18th District.

Voters administered a sharp rebuke to some of the die-hard Republicans who played a too prominent part in jamming Michigan's legislative program over the past few years. CARLETON MORRIS of Kalamazoo was one of the stalwarts that was swept summarily aside.

It looks as if things will be stirring along the political front for the next three months.

Hiland M. Thatcher

The passing of HILAND M. THATCHER is deeply mourned by all who knew him.

A lifelong resident of Oakland County, he had devoted the past 15 years of his life to public service, serving as West Bloomfield supervisor before his appointment as County Road Commissioner two years ago.

Earlier he had been active for an extended period in Pontiac business circles, being identified with the insurance firm of Thatcher's Inc.

Sorely missed will be this able public administrator with his dedication to the welfare of our area.

Symptoms of Age

MAT Gives the Low-Down on Signs of Slowdown

By HOWARD V. HELDENBRAND
Visiting with some aging contemporaries, the conversation veered round to the advance of the years and whether, even though you feel young as ever, there are obvious or veiled signs that your future lies behind, not ahead.

The MAT, who modestly admits being the ultimate authority on everything, offered from his own experience a few warning signals along the highway of his own march into the sixties.

The first of these, and the No. 1 tip-off that you've had it is the growing politeness of young people toward you. Don't let anyone tell you that the younger generation lacks consideration and respect for their elders! As far as I'm concerned, they're too doggone considerate and respectful. They jump to their feet with military precision when you enter the room, they interlard their remarks to you with "sir," and they have the annoying tendency to break off all conversation, when in a large group you move within their sphere... They've probably been talking about the birds and bees, and don't think that you've had high enough security clearance to become a party to such revelatory discussion.

Other, unrelated but disturbing signs that the old party with the scythe has added you to his prospect list are these: When, at a cocktail party, you find yourself telling a story later in the evening back to the guy who told it to you earlier.

The tendency to say with increasing frequency, "The trouble with young people today is..."

The inclination when dining out in a restaurant to look at the menu before looking at the waitress.

The growing habit when reading a newspaper to peruse the obituary column before turning to the sports pages.

The belief that you are rather fascinating to attractive young women, and that their good-natured indulgence of your oral capering is in reality but a cover-up for a deep and burning yearning for you! Incidentally your wife will be glad to shed further light on this typical hallucination of the aging male!

It is the time that barbers stop asking you how you want your hair cut, and you have become reconciled to detachable teeth.

It is when life insurance salesmen begin having trouble remembering your name, and undertakers begin discovering what a great guy you are, and look at you with a friendly and speculative eye.

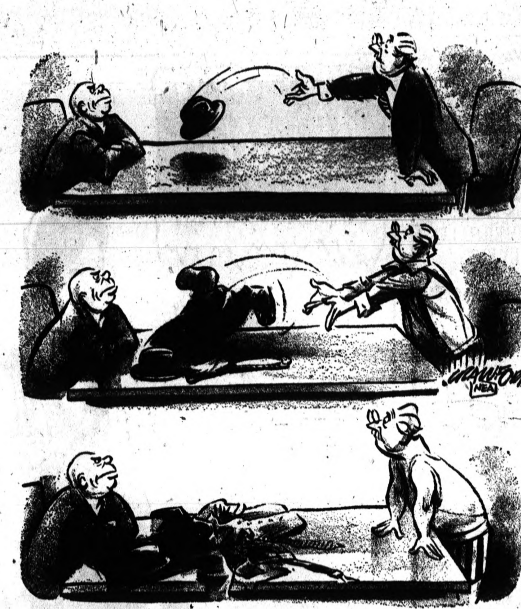

And finally, if at mention of Lady Godiva, you think first of a horse, then you are eligible for full membership with all voting rights in the Past Sixty Club.

How to Compromise with the Russians

David Lawrence Says:

'Management' Wants to Unionize!

WASHINGTON — When a labor union speaks out fearfully against any attempt by labor to monopolize power — even though it be inside a union — it becomes a subject of considerable controversy. It breaks out mainly in fields where craft unions are involved.

The Taft-Hartley Act does not prevent foremen from being in unions, but it does not allow unions to compel employers to bargain with foremen. For they are not considered "employees" within the meaning of the law. Thus, the National Labor Relations Board will not hold an election to force an employer to bargain with a union of foremen.

In the printing industry, foremen and even superintendents of composing rooms will often be members of the union.

In some instances, unions have tried to compel employers to join unions. The National Labor Relations Board has ruled that a union cannot force the employer to require supervisors to join a union.

Dr. William Brady Says:

Damage by Cholesterol Has Yet to Be Proven

A reader, who probably means well, says he has heard that some sort of a mild heart attack two years ago. He loves whole milk, but will not drink skim milk (modified milk, as the reader calls it—which is like calling "legs" "limbs" and the belly "diaphragm").

She gives the poor fellow whole milk occasionally, but doesn't know whether she should. I have touched on the question of animal fats in the diet of persons with heart or artery trouble or the tendency to develop such conditions, but she does not know my opinion of low cholesterol diet for such persons.

It makes a sad picture—the poor soul, licking his cheek, thinking of that delightful music made by pure fresh warm milk squirting into the milk can.

I have said many times that if I had heart or artery trouble or a predisposition or tendency to develop such trouble, I'd eat what I liked.

I feel sorry for all the credulous customers who are concerned about cholesterol in their diet.

I feel sorry too for doctors who would like to be honest but feel they must prescribe low-cholesterol diet, periodic chemical measurements of the amount of cholesterol in the blood, and even one of the outrageous expensive nostrums purporting to keep the blood cholesterol at a low level, for if they don't do their smart-aleck patients will change to some doctor who does.

All along I have tried to tell you that the cholesterol business is purely theatrical. No one has brought forward scientific evidence that animal fats high in cholesterol are not as good food as fruit, nut or vegetable fats low in cholesterol.

'CHARLATAN'
There's some cholesterol in every cell and tissue of the body, and the amount varies widely from day to day or hour to hour, so the charlatan who pretends to regulate your diet to suit the level of cholesterol in your blood at a particular moment is exploiting your credulity—or maybe his own. In either case, it is taking money under false pretenses, in my opinion.

Once, a lady told me her two old bachelor brothers or brothers-in-law were dead set on keeping heart and arteries from getting all clogged up with cholesterol.

When she served roast beef or steak, they were at great pains to discard not every bit of fat they could find before they ate the lean.

I have to chuckle when I think of that picture. But then, some people are not quite happy unless they have some such silly

Voice of the People:

These Hunters Don't Want an 'Any Deer' Season

The Conservation Commission decides whether or not deer hunting should be legalized. The game division will recommend that an "any deer" season be opened in Michigan this fall. They reason the excess deer will die when winter comes because of starvation. This way the hunters and the Conservation Department will profit as more deer will be available and more license will be sold.

When deer hunting was opened in 1960, the meat hungry hunters in our area (Mio and Prudenville) were killing deer so young they weren't old enough to have their "sense of the woods." If the deer population continues to dwindle, cabin owners will sell and go to other states or Canada. Last year when "any deer" was not in effect license went down 25,000. This indicates that a great number are interested only in getting meat and the only time they go hunting is when they are fairly sure that meat will be available. Let's eliminate these clowns and leave the woods to the true sportsman.

They say we have to kill deer to balance the herds. If this is true, then why are the deer herds getting smaller? As landowners in Mio and Prudenville, we hope deer hunt in the same area for many years. We also hope that the commission, with all this bloody slaughter so we can start to get the deer back.

Voice Interest in Space Editorial

I read with interest the editorial on the mysteries of outer space; the almost numberless planets and how incomprehensible their distances from our little earth.

This knowledge should humble and make us feel pretty insignificant. However, I do not believe we are of no importance in God's sight. On the contrary He loves us so much that He sent His only Son down to our little planet to die for us so that we might spend eternity with Him.

I believe He and the angels are anxiously waiting and longing for each of us to accept His invitation to finally dwell with Him.

Readers have written about the changing weather. The best place to get our answer is in the Bible. Is the famine mentioned in Ezekiel and Matthew coming soon? The reader, thinking man might cause the earth to be flooded with water, can know that this will not happen by reading Genesis.

The super scientists mentioned in the editorial Monday, who think this civilization might totally destroy itself, are right. We could, but it won't happen. The answer is in Matthew. It is time to prove ourselves that this manner is correct and find out what to do about it.

Poetic Words Apply to Murder

While watching a magnificent performance of Shakespeare's "Hamlet" last Friday at the U. of D. in Detroit, two epigrams struck me as fast as a lightning bolt. The first, by Ethelias Vassiliou. The first, bear in mind "For murder though it have no tongue, will speak with most miraculous organ." If you doubt it, remember, "There are more things in heaven and earth than our dreams dreamed of in our philosophy."

Aid Could Still Face Scissors

By PETER EDMON
WASHINGTON (NEA) — The threat by House Appropriations subcommittee Chairman Otto Passman, D-La., to cut $2 billion off the $4.6 billion authorized for foreign aid this year is considered no surprise.

He has increased support for it from both Democratic and Republican conservatives. They might not make a $2 billion cut, but $1 billion is possible.

Senate in Congress is running strongly in favor of a meat as operation of this kind. It was the Kennedy administration worried, for several reasons.

Foreign aid will probably be the last of the appropriation bills to clear Congress. Earlier major bills haven't been cut too heavily. The $17.5 billion national defense appropriation was increased $29 million. Making up for some of this by a big back cut of foreign aid has political appeal.

It would be a final bid to economy-minded voters who don't like foreign aid anyway, just before Congress adjourns to campaign for re-election.

With support from 72 Republicans in the House and 23 in the Senate, the preliminary foreign aid authorization bill sailed through Congress with only a $300 million, 4.5 per cent cut. The $100 million U.N. bond issue was left in. Restrictions on aid to Yugoslavia, Poland, India or other nations that have been playing fast and loose with the Russians were watered down. Cuts on countries that expropriate American properties overseas without compensation and on claims of 6 months were softened.

This was hailed as a great Kennedy administration victory when the President signed the bill. The Republicans who had voted for it as bi-partisan foreign policy. Many got highly critical mail from their districts.

Some of them, like Rep. Walter Judd, R-Minn., have already notified the State Department that they will have to vote for foreign aid cuts just to square themselves with the home folks. Congressmen constantly walk on eggshells.

Many Republicans say they have voted for foreign aid since the Greek-Turkish crisis and the Marshall Plan in the Truman administration. They couldn't vote for foreign aid in the Eisenhower administration.

But they say now it gets harder every year. In the past they felt they had the President pitching in with White House press conference statements, radio and television broadcasts. They explained the importance of foreign aid to national security and sell the people on it.

This year they feel that Kennedy was not made as strong an appeal as he should have and they are resentful. At his last press conference the President did make a pitch for the U.N. bond purchase plan.

When the President signed the foreign aid authorization bill, he also indicated willingness to tighten the conditions under which the United States would buy U.N. bonds. This gesture is intended to ease passage by the House.

From a strictly partisan approach it can be argued that a Democratic president doesn't care if some Republicans are defeated. From a more viewpoint of getting across a foreign policy measures passed, he needs some Republican support. He doesn't have full support of his own party.

There were 80 Democrats in the House, 13 in the Senate who voted against the foreign aid authorization bill—only 4 fewer than the number of Republican representatives and 10 fewer GOP senators than voted for foreign aid.

Foreign Aid Administrator Fowler Hamilton has worked hard to develop good congressional relations. He has made personal calls on many congressmen as he could. He has entertained Foreign Affairs and Appropriations Committee members at his home in groups of half a dozen at a time. Incidentally, Passman declined one of these invitations.

Hamilton has impressed congressmen by his forthright nature and direct dealing. But he hasn't swept them off their feet. And Republicans who are for him feel that he hasn't had the White House and State Department support that might mean the difference between full appropriations and severe cuts in his budget.

Gather for an Old-Fashioned Picnic

SHUFFLE'N' ALONG — Two members of the Second Horizons Club get in some recreation at the Senior Citizens Picnic. They are Harry Bryan of 324 E. Third St. and Mrs. Merle Cobb of 3203 Sylvan Drive, both of Royal Oak.

GOOD HAND? — Mrs. Lola Reed, 2842 Sunnyknoll St., Bertley, doesn't seem to care for the looks of that last card.

OLDTIMERS' PICNIC — Oakland County's citizens over 60 years old met yesterday to picnic, play games, dance and just get together at Hawthorne Park. Over 200 of the oldsters participated in the third annual event.

Young hearts and enthusiastic minds got together yesterday afternoon at Hawthorne Park for a good old-fashioned picnic.

The picnickers were members of the eight senior citizens groups in Oakland county.

About 250 youngsters of 60, some claiming to be "39 and not a day over," gathered for a very active afternoon.

The picnic, sponsored by the Oakland County Senior Citizens Council, was planned entirely by the group comprised of members of each of the clubs. And it was planned to keep everyone moving!

The afternoon began with a picnic followed by a song fest.

The leaders and banjo plunkers were from the Southfield Senior Friendship Club, where "the singing isn't the best, but it's loud," according to Mrs. Bessey Miller, the oldest member of the club at 73.

Mrs. Miller, typical of the spunky old gals, was raring to go at the slightest indication of some fun.

A self-designated ambassador for the city of Southfield, she led the cheers everytime the city was mentioned over the loud speaker.

PROUD OF AGES

Sporting badges with names like "Going Like 60 Club," the oldsters were anything but ashamed of their ages.

"I'm just sorry," said one man, "that more people didn't come out, I know that there are probably 4,000 more senior citizens than this in Oakland County."

They just don't know what they're missing."

The loud speaker boomed out "Square Dancing. Everyone for Square dancing!"

That was just what many of the oldsters were waiting for. Two squares were formed and they were off.

The "do-a-dos" were called and the "swing your partners" slowed that the lively grandmothers and grandfathers could throw each other around as good as the best of them.

One of the women complained as she ran to the bingo tables after the dancing, not of her back or legs bothering her, but that "the grass was too thick to get going fast enough."

The clubs meet once a year in mass, apart from their regular weekly meeting, and show off some of their talent along with the other festivities.

Such skills as an impression of Charlie Weaver, a TV personality; and a man from the old country complete with accent, telling about baseball, were presented to the receptive audience of senior citizens by some of their peers.

Several men in the group didn't seem to give a darn for the singing or the skits and sat poised with shuffleboard cue in hand waiting for the show to end.

DIFFERENT IDEAS

The women had different ideas. Before the men could get away from them, they had to move the bingo tables into place near the prize at the picnic. The fun was in living, and this group was really home.

"B-4 . . . I-74 . . . Bingo!" With that, another energetic young lady is a winner of a gift wrapped can of something-or-other.

But all the fun wasn't in winning

Someone was watching out for the old folks, too, for not a drop of yesterday's cloud-burst fell until all of the picnickers were in their living.

Some left earlier than others because, they explained, "there is a square dance tonight and we've got to get ready for it." Ahh, to be in their young again!

MAN TO MAN — Getting away from the chatter of women, Charles Topham (left) of 343 S. East Blvd., and George Dietrich of 271 Preston St., Waterford Township, relax and reminisce after lunch.

Firm Drawing Plans for Drainage Work

A Toledo, Ohio, firm is drawing up plans, specifications and cost estimates for the $2.5-million Pontiac plan for Clinton River drainage improvement, according to City Manager Robert A. Stiver.

The plans are to be filed with and Oakland County drainage board in January.

An order of final determination was issued by the board following a public hearing Monday. The Toledo firm, Jones, Henry and Williams, serves as consulting engineers for the city.

Early next year, the board will tentatively establish the apportionment of the cost to be borne by the city, state and county, although the city will be assessed nearly all of the expense.

Subdivision Reports on Traffic Problem

City administrators last night asked for a solution to traffic problems in the Pioneer Highland Subdivision by the Sept. 11 City Commission meeting.

A petition from the neighborhood was received by the City Commission and referred to the administration.

The petition asks the city to stop cars from using the subdivision streets as cut-offs to avoid the intersection of Telegraph and Vooheis roads.

A present traffic light at the intersection does not allow enough time for turns and stacks up traffic. The main solution to the problem was indicated by residents to be a combination of green-arrow and regular traffic light signal at the corner.

The administrative report on the issue was prepared in time for the Sept. 11 City Commission meeting.

Commissioners sent back to the City Plan Commission a request to remove lots at 26, 30 and 32 Union Street from residential to commercial-1.

The request had originally been denied by the plan commission on the basis that no specific use for the rezoned property was proposed and that the owners did not show up for a public hearing.

Kirby supported Harmon's motion to that effect, and a rehearing was set before the plan board.

Approved was a month-to-month rental agreement for car storage on Lots 7 and 8, Assessor's Plat No. 65, with Jerome Motor Sales, near its present location at 280 S. Saginaw St.

A resolution was approved canceling the lease of Lot 6 at Pontiac Municipal Airport by Albert Wohart, who said he didn't intend to rebuild three hangars damaged by the April 30 windstorm.

The commission also approved a recommendation from the City Plan Commission for rezoning of the northerly 395 feet of Lot 2, Assessor's Plat No. 37 from residential 3 to commercial-1 for expansion of the Federal Savings and Loan Association of Oakland main office building at 761 W. Huron St.

In other business, the City Commission:

1—Held hearings on intention to construct curb, gutter, grade, gravel and related work on Stanley Avenue from Chicago Avenue to Walton Boulevard and on the south side of Florence Avenue from Cass Avenue to Close Street.

Resolutions were approved authorizing the city assessor to prepare assessment rolls by Aug. 14.

2—Set a public hearing for Aug. 14 after approving a resolution to accept a special assessment roll for sidewalk repaving for sidewalk and related work on both sides of Alton from Motor to Bagley Street, and on the north side of Northway Drive from East Boulevard to Astor Street.

3—Set a public hearing for Aug. 14 after accepting a special assessment roll for sidewalk repaving on the east side of Lull from Houston to 1007 1/2 north of West Street.

4—Approved the special assessment roll for curb, gutter, grade and related work on Third Avenue from Fuller Street to Arlene Avenue. Confirmation was deferred.

5—Set public hearings for Aug. 14 after accepting engineer's estimates for construction of curb, gutter, grade, gravel and related work on Chicago, Scottwood, and Second avenues, and West Street's north side.

The commissioners also gave tentative approval on a request of Ellen Felice for transfer of the location of 1962 SDD and SDD license business, from 655 Elizabeth Lake Road to 629 Elizabeth Lake Road.

Teamster Rival Asks AFL: Fight Membership War

WASHINGTON (AP)—An AFL-CIO leader, whose union is an organizing target of the rival Teamsters Union, said today it is time all AFL-CIO unions combined in an open membership war against the teamsters.

Joseph A. Beirne, president of the AFL-CIO Communications Workers of America, said he plans to propose at the quarterly meeting of the AFL-CIO executive council beginning Monday in Chicago the formation by the federation of a Teamsters organizing committee.

Beirne said Teamsters President James R. Hoffa has increased the union's membership.

DRIVE MOUNTED

The Teamsters recently established a communications division and mounted a well-financed drive to take from Beirne's union some 17,000 telephone installation workers employed by the Western Electric division of the American Telephone & Telegraph Co.

Some 2,000 phone installers in nine Southern states have expressed preference for a switch to the Teamsters. Any formal shift of bargaining and union representation rights would be subject, however, to a nationwide vote of all the phone installers. This could not be held before November.
