LOADED FOR GROUSE — Jack Patterson, Pontiac Press outdoor writer, gives his hunting gear a final check as he prepares to depart for the Upper Peninsula where he will go after sharp-tail grouse. The first of Patterson's articles on his hunting experiences will appear in Monday's Press. The writer plans to spend most of his time in the Seney area.

County Board to Hit Budgets, Salaries Again

Supervisors to Ponder Reports at Meeting on Monday

Proposed 1957 county budget and salaries again will be discussed at the meeting Monday morning of the Oakland County Board of Supervisors, and county officials are hoping the board will accept both proposed reports.

Action on both was delayed at the Board's Sept. 17 meeting after a fierce debate over salaries resulted in sending the salaries report back to committee.

Without a definite figure for proposed 1957 salaries expenditures, action on the final county budget for next year also had to be delayed.

Although a report is scheduled to be presented at Monday's meeting, the Salaries Committee still had not met to discuss revisions in its report this morning.

Although the Salaries Committee met Wednesday to discuss revisions in its report, Chairman Willis M. Brewer said yesterday no results of the meeting will be released until the board meeting Monday.

Controversy over the report centered on raises given to elected County officials. Clerk Lynn D. Allen received a raise of $250, with Treasurer Charles A. Sparks and Sheriff Frank Irons getting $500, and Prosecutor Frederick C. Ziem receiving $1,000.

RECOMMEND NO RAISES

The report recommended no raises for the Drain Commissioner or Register of Deeds. Both offices will be held by new incumbents after the Nov. 6 election.

Sparks, who appeared before the Board Sept. 17 to protest the report, called supervisors' attention to raises given appointive officials amounting to as much as 50 per cent of their 1956 salaries.

"Apparently you don't think your elective officials are worth very much money," Sparks said.

In other action, the board is expected to return control of Lathrup Village drains to the village government, together with a connected fund of $18,000.

The County took control of the drains in 1948.

ON COUNTY JUNKET — Speaking in Holly this morning, Gov. G. Mennen Williams reiterated his plan for a small business agency to aid businessmen of the state. Here he is shown with Charles G. Coggins and Mrs. Joe McCall, before moving on to short stops in Clarkston and Davisburg. He also spoke at the Pontiac Elks Temple.

Tours County, Calls Opponent 'Unfit for Office'

Governor Says Relief Is Tops on His Agenda for 1957

Gov. G. Mennen Williams opened a vote-seeking tour of Oakland County today by telling a breakfast meeting at Holly tax relief for small businesses "will be the first order of business for the legislative session in 1957," if he is re-elected.

And at a luncheon speech in the Pontiac Elk's Temple, he condemned campaign tactics of his opponent, Detroit Mayor Albert E. Cobo. He also said Cobo is "obviously temperamentally unfitted for high office."

Talking to the audience of some 100 Holly area residents, he said small business profits, nationally, have dipped 66 per cent since 1952, while big business profits have increased 46 per cent.

* * *

He cited figures showing small business failures are up 36 per cent, "yet failure represents only 2 per cent of the total number of small concerns going out of business."

Small businesses slowly are being driven to the wall, and it is the governor's duty to help save them, Williams said.

The small business agency he outlined earlier this month in his Pontiac speech would operate in much the same fashion as the county agricultural agent assists farmers with their problems.

NEED BIG BUSINESS TOO

The governor emphasized that his interest in small businesses does not mean he is a foe of big business. He said, "We could never have achieved the standard of living we have, or survived two world wars, without big business."

After brief stops at Clarkston and Davisburg, the governor lunched at the Elk's Temple. Afternoon plans include tours of Pontiac's south end and Keego Harbor, and then an open-air rally at the Sylvan Lake home of Willis Brewer.

Accompanying him on the swing through the county were local Democratic officials and candidates.

Milwaukee Blaze Takes 6 Children in One Family

MILWAUKEE (INS)—Six young children left unattended in a converted barn in the Milwaukee suburb of Oak Creek perished last night when fire gutted their one-story five-room frame structure.

Burned or suffocated in their beds before firemen could reach them were six of the seven children of Mr. and Mrs. Pete Vallariel.

The children were Martha, 12, Stella, 8, Mary Ann 7, Peter, 5, Janie, 3, and Frank, 11-months.

A seventh child, Joseph, 10, was with his mother, Ramona, 36, who told assistant medical examiner Paul Danko she left home to search for her husband, Pete, 36.

She said he had been missing since Thursday morning.

The fire of undetermined origin was first noticed by a passerby at about 10 p.m. A neighbor reported flames seemed to start at one corner of the building and within moments ate through the roof, making entry into the structure impossible.

Mrs. Vallariel found her husband at the home of a friend at about the time the fire was discovered. She said she did not know what could have started the blaze because a coal stove, which is used to heat the five rooms, was not in use.

* * *

The family had lived in the converted barn for about three years.

It was the second fire to take six lives in the past year in the Milwaukee area. Last January six persons perished in an apartment building blaze.

Three Families Vie for Young Heiress

CHICAGO (AP)—A judge has ruled that Robin Sher, 5, orphan heiress, will live with her grandparents until he makes a final decision on her custody.

Judge Daniel A. Covelli said yesterday a final ruling on her custody may be made on Oct. 10. Until that time Robin, for whose custody three sets of relatives are contesting, will stay with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Zitman of Chicago.

* * *

The girl's family was killed in an automobile accident near Fairmont, Minn., Aug. 22. Her father, Harold, left an estate estimated at about one million dollars.

Besides her grandparents, two sets of aunts and uncles, Julius and Betty Levinson of Chicago and Samuel and Blossom Peachin of Highland Park, have asked custody of Robin.

Bullets Kill Somoza

PANAMA (AP) — President Anastasio Somoza, undisputed strong man of Nicaragua for 20 years, died today of an assassin's bullets.

The 60-year-old Central American leader never regained full consciouness after an operation performed Sunday by a surgical team including surgeons sent by President Eisenhower. He died in the U.S.-operated Gorgas Hospital in the Panama Canal Zone, where he was flown following the Sept. 21 shooting. He suffered four wounds.

Under Nicaragua law, Somoza's son, Luis, 34, succeeds to the presidency. As president of Congress, Luis was first vice president designate. The Congress made him acting president yesterday.

Somoza died at 5:05 a.m. EST a few minutes after receiving the last sacraments of the Roman Catholic Church. The colorful, 200-pound strongman had showed steady but slight improvement in the five days following the operation. But at midnight last night his condition took a grave turn.

Dr. Antonio Gonzalez Revilla, Panama neurosurgeon who was a member of the surgical team that operated on Somoza, told newsmen shortly after 5 a.m. "He just died."

Somoza's son-in-law, Guillermo Sevilla Sacasa, Nicaraguan ambassador in Washington, told reporters the body would be flown to Managua, the Nicaraguan capital, today or tomorrow.

The Canal Zone governor, William Potter, ordered flags lowered to half staff.

In Somoza's room at the end were his wife, daughter and President Ricardo Arias of Panama. Gov. Potter and a number of Nicaraguan officials arrived at the hospital just before Somoza died.

He was shot down at a party and dance as he was preparing to seek another six-year term as president.

Cobo Snipes at Williams About Shoes, Mennen Co.

DETROIT (AP)—Detroit Mayor Albert Cobo carries his gubernatorial campaign into the Thumb area today after launching new criticism at the custom-made shoes and family toiletry firm of Gov. Williams.

The Republican candidate said his Democratic opponent would not need $45 shoes for sore feet if he would keep his feet under the desk at Lansing.

He said, too, that the Mennen Co. of Morristown, N. J., "has had its labor troubles" and is now without a union.

Cobo's address here last night was televised over 12 Michigan stations.

He said the Mennen Co. "fled from Newark" to Morristown because of "disagreement with the union and following a series of strikes."

The company has no union now, he continued, and buys automobiles and trucks made in Europe, not Detroit.

Husband Held in Trailer Arson

Wife Tells of Threats on Her Life by Mate After Separation

The estranged husband of a White Lake Township woman who was burned out of her house trailer early Friday is being held for investigation of arson today.

* * *

Lloyd Brewer, 23, of Walled Lake, was locked in the county jail yesterday after his arrest by State Police.

He was picked up after investigation by police and fire officials uncovered the possibility of arson; Mrs. Brewer claimed her husband threatened to "do away" with her and her two children after their separation.

She and two sons, 14 months and two years old, were forced to flee in nightclothes when the fire destroyed part of the trailer and most of their clothing Thursday night.

IN TRAILER PARK

The fire occurred at a trailer park at M59 and Pontiac Lake Rd.

Brewer, a factory worker, is expected to be held until a State Police Arson Squad can complete its investigation probably early next week.

Troopers will run tests on parts of burned clothing, the trailer and the area underneath it, according to White Lake Fire Chief Robert Larsen.

Border Clashes Imperil Peace

Hammarskjold Raps Arabs, Israelis in Word to Security Council

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (INS) —Dag Hammarskjold warned today that recurring Arab - Israeli border disputes and Egypt's failure to lift the Suez Canal blockade against Israel seriously endanger the Palestine cease-fire.

* * *

The U.N. secretary general rapped both Arabs and Israelis in a report to the Security Council expressing concern over the "vicious circle" of armed attacks and retaliations culminating in the raid by Israel into Jordan this week in reprisal for the killing of Israelis by an Arab soldier.

Hammarskjold, who earlier said he would summon the 11-nation council into session unless Israel and Jordan restore peace on their frontiers, said the bloody clashes may completely nullify his peace efforts last spring when he negotiated new cease - fire agreements under a mandate from the council.

Stressing the "sanctity" of the agreements, Hammarskjold said both sides in the Palestine dispute were responsible for maintaining law and order on their frontiers and reaffirmed the right of the U.N. to step into the conflict.

* * *

The Swedish U.N. chief expressed "regret" that both sides had failed to grasp opportunities for easing tension such as a lifting of the blockade against Israeli ships in the Suez Canal and the removal of Israeli restrictions on U.N. truce observers in the El Auja zone on the Egyptian frontier.

North Central Interested; Faster Mail Service Expected

Longer Strip Luring Commercial Airlines to Pontiac

(Editor's Note: This is the last in a series of three articles describing the big expansion program under way at Pontiac Municipal Airport. It deals with the expanded air transportation services which will be made available to the public as a result of the improved airport facilities.)

Regular commercial airline passenger service for Pontiac!

That is the alluring possibility held out for residents of this area by Homer C. Hoskins, manager of Pontiac Municipal Airport.

* * *

Completion during the next two weeks of a 4,000-foot east-west runway will make it possible to bring in twin-engined DC3 planes, such as are used by North Central Airlines and many other commercial lines.

Hoskins already has talked with North Central representatives and reports they are interested in the possibility of adding Pontiac to their passenger line schedules.

These talks have been preliminary in nature, because, until the runway is completed and lighted, DC3's could not safely use the local port. Capital Airlines also is operating through several Michigan cities, and also might be interested in placing Pontiac on its schedules.

North Central maintains regular service with several flights each day between Detroit, Lansing, Grand Rapids, Green Bay, Wis., Minneapolis, Minn., and Grand Forks, N. D. Other flights go north from Green Bay to Marquette, Houghton and Hancock in the Upper Peninsula

* * *

Others go from Detroit through Jackson, Kalamazoo and South Bend to Chicago, Madison, Wis., and Minneapolis, and north to International Falls, on the Minnesota-Ontario border.

Frequent service is provided between Detroit City Airport and Willow Run, between Chicago and Milwaukee, and between Minneapolis-St. Paul and Duluth.

* * *

In Hoskins' opinion it would be quite possible that Pontiac could become a regular passenger stop on both the Detroit-Grand Rapids-Minneapolis and the Detroit-Chicago-Minneapolis flights. At both Willow Run and Chicago, Pontiac passengers would, of course, have access to all of the other airlines flying into those ports.

North Central at present is using Douglas DC3 aircraft on all its flights. It attracts additional vacation business by tapping rich fishing country in northern Michigan, Wisconsin and Minnesota.

* * *

Hoskins has been Pontiac Municipal Airport's biggst booster for 15 years, ever since he became its manager May 12, 1941.

He is confident regular airline passenger service can be brought to Pontiac in the near future. He is also certain the new runway will bring a big increase in the volume of cargo carrier freight that will be handled through the Municipal Airport.

* * *

Start of regular service there will also mean faster air mail service for this area. Letters sent by airmail from Pontiac now have to be trucked to Willow Run. In many cases letters sent by regular mail are delivered quicker than those sent by air.

The start of passenger service and the increased freight service that would be provided by regular cargo carriers will be of service to the people of Oakland and nearby counties, Hoskins says.

Many manufacturing plants in Ferndale, Royal Oak, Rochester, Oxford and other nearby communities already use Pontiac Airport. Their use of it is expected to increase greatly with the improved facilities now being provided.

* * *

"We are facing a golden opportunity," Hoskins says. "Both industry and the traveling public are becoming more interested in air transportation every day. If we continue to improve our airport, we soon will be in a position to make an even more substantial contribution to the growth and development of the whole Pontiac area."

* * *

Hoskins gives much credit to the Pontiac City Commission for sponsorship and support of the airport program.

"These men have had the vision to see how important air travel has become," he says. "They have made it possible for Pontiac to have an airport which can attract regular airline service. They are entitled to the thanks and appreciation of all the people in our whole area who will benefit from their action."

'Grace Period' Given Parkers

Meters Changed to 9; Rule to Be Effective on October 8

The new city ordinance extending the times of on-street parking meters to 9 p.m. will be enforced beginning Oct. 8, City Manager W. K. Willman said yesterday.

* * *

Although the ordinance, passed by the City Commission Sept. 4, became effective Sept. 14, Willman pointed out that meter signs notifying motorists of the change were not available until this week.

All signs have been posted and motorists will have a "grace period" to get accustomed to the new time during the coming week, Willman said.

The ordinance was passed to provide a faster turnover of downtown parking, align the on-street meters with the times of municipal lots, and to add increased revenue to the city treasury.

The three-hour increase is applicable every day except Sundays and seven legal holidays.

Donaldson Names Navy, Marine Month

Mayor William W. Donaldson has proclaimed October as "Navy and Marine Corps Month" in Pontiac.

"It is deemed fitting and proper that we the people of this community should set aside a period to honor those who contribute so much toward the preservation of our democratic way of life," the proclamation states.

In conjunction with the month for the services, the Kresge Store is planning to have a large window display of Navy planes and ships throughout the month.

The display will begin Monday morning on the Saginaw street side of the building and will consist of models of every type of Navy craft.

emphasized "the state of Michigan is a good place to do business. We know this is true — despite what may be said to the contrary for political reasons—because so many business enterprises have come into Michigan in the last few years, or expanded their existing plants in this state."

In his Elk's Temple speech, Williams noted campaign references to his mother, and said Cobo had "dragged" her name through "cheap" political speeches, and "has now begun to campaign against my mother."

"My mother is 73 years old, and a grandmother 10 times over," he said. "She is not involved in politics and bears no responsibility for anything I have done or not done as governor of Michigan."

MENNEN TOILETRIES

Williams did not specifically mention the campaign references he had in mind.

However, Cobo lately has had a good deal to say about the Mennen Co., manufacturer of toiletries in which both the governor and his mother have an interest.

In criticizing policies of the firm Thursday, Cobo said of the governor "Don't let him tell you he doesn't have anything to do with it because his mother is vice president."

Cobo had said of the New Jersey company, it doesn't pay taxes in Michigan, it doesn't use or buy Michigan-made trucks to distribute its products and that it runs a non-union operation.

Expect to Have 2 Floors Ready

Salvation Army to Use Pontiac Unit by February

Two floors of the Pontiac Salvation Army Social Service Center at 118 W. Lawrence St. are expected to be ready by Feb. 1, according to Brig. Byam G. Youngman, manager of the Detroit Service Center.

* * *

Pontiac Architect Leo J. Heenan has been hired to plan the $150,000 remodeling project.

The Salvation Army bought the former two-story Whitfield, Walter & Dawson wholesale grocery warehouse for $180,000 in July.

Salvation Army officials from Detroit and Chicago will confer Monday with architects on the plans.

Youngman said the renovation will be done two-fold. The first two floors, containing the outlet store, garage and shops, will be tackled first. The third floor addition, to house 75 to 100 men, will follow.

Youngman pointed out temporary housing possibly will be installed on the second floor in order that the center might be in operation by February.

The center will become the 120th in the country. Dedication is expected in October, 1957, Youngman said.

Think Tito Trip to Aid Boss

Yugoslavia Calls Jaunt Effort to Support Fight Against Stalinists

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia (AP) — President Tito's surprise trip to Russia is viewed here as an effort to strengthen the hand of Soviet Communist party boss Nikita Khrushchev in a struggle against old Stalinists exerting renewed influence in the Kremlin.

* * *

Informed Communist party sources say Lazar Kaganovich, an intimate friend of Stalin, is leading a group inside the Soviet Communist party seeking to halt Khrushchev's policy of de-Stalinization and a more liberal communism.

These sources say Khrushchev pleaded with Tito to return with him to help line up support from elements in the top Soviet officialdom—principally Premier Bulganin and Deputy Premier A. I. Mikoyan.

They pictured Bulganin and Mikoyan as undecided between the pro-Stalin group and the tiny knot of Khrushchev's supporters.

* * *

Tito went with Khrushchev to the Soviet leader's villa at Yalta on the Black Sea without advance announcement Thursday, stirring speculation throughout the world. Khrushchev had spent eight days in Yugoslavia on what was described as a vacation. His visit here also came unexpectedly. Tito's trip to the Black Sea resort also was called a vacation.

Cruelty Count Jails Father

George E. Lacy, 22, of 150 E. Dallas St., Madison Heights, will be arraigned in Municipal Court there Monday on a cruelty charge involving his five-month-old daughter.

The baby, Vicki Lynn, is in good condition at Beaumont Hospital with a dislocated hip and body bruises alleged to have been caused by beatings administered by the father.

Lacy was arrested yesterday by Madison Heights police following an 18-day investigation of the case by that department.

Somoza was airlifted to Managua and then to the U.S.-operated Gorgas Hospital in the Panama Canal Zone where he underwent four operations.

A team of doctors, sent by President Eisenhower and headed by Maj. Gen. Leonard Heaton, chief of the U.S. Army's Walter Reed Hospital in Washington, removed bullets from his thigh and spine and operated on two wounds in his forearm and upper arm. One bullet was left buried in his right shoulder.

The assassin was killed on the spot by Somoza's guards.

Somoza was undisputed ruler of Nicaragua for 20 years. He was president from 1936 to 1947. Then for three years he ruled through his uncle, President Romany Reyes. The uncle died, and Somoza again assumed the office and was elected for another six-year term in 1951.

During his rule, the country progressed. He imported tractors to replace oxen in the country's backward agriculture, encouraged introduction of new crops such as cotton and rice, stimulated a land-clearing program, and built many miles of country-to-market highways.

Adlai Tears Into School Needs

Aims Plea at Mothers, Blames Lack of Action on Ike Regime

MINNEAPOLIS (INS) — Adlai Stevenson launched a bid for Minnesota's 11 electoral votes today after telling the nation last night the Eisenhower administration has failed to ease America's five-million-pupil classroom shortage.

* * *

He directed his appeal for an expanded federal-aid-to-education program directly at the mothers of the United States.

He warned from Milwaukee Americans must not be "penny wise and pound foolish" in the field of education.

Stevenson planned tonight to climax a full day of campaigning through Minneapolis and St. Paul with a major address on "peace."

CITES SHORTGAGES

He told millions of televiewers last night that under the Eisenhower administration there has been "no action and no results" in alleviating the classroom shortage or in raising teachers' salaries.

Stevenson outlined a three-point program which would channel federal funds into school construction and possibly into salaries for America's teachers, whom he said average 10 per cent less income than factory workers.

The "crisis in education," Stevenson said, has arisen in an "age of abundance in this richest of all nations in the history of man," and "does us a grave injustice."

City Churches Schedule Special Family Events

BIRMINGHAM — Special church programs include a Bible Institute this month at the First Baptist Church and a Family Program tomorrow at First Congregational Church.

"Modern Science and Ancient Scripture" is the theme of the Baptist Church's Bible Institute. Following church suppers each Wednesday at 7 p.m., the pastor will lead the Bible study. A story hour is planned for children and a nursery for little tots.

Both the Rev. Emil Kontz, pastor, and the Rev. Robert A. Macoskey, new assistant pastor, have done special stories here and abroad in the Bible history field.

The Institute, open to anyone without charge, will also feature a Bible display including a large collection of prints and pictures of ancient manuscripts and archaeological findings, loaned by the American Bible Society, plus a variety of Bibles and Testaments and Bible study helps and references.

Doubling of its Church School staff will be noted Sunday, as the First Congregational Church honors the school teachers in a brief service. Another part of the Family Sunday observance will be a Baptism service.

New schedule at the Embury Methodist Church, effective tomorrow, calls for worship at 10 and 11:15 a.m. with coinciding Sunday Schools for children from 3 years to sixth graders. Sunday school for seventh grade through high school will be at 9 a.m. Nursery care will be provided during both worship hours.

Lutheran Church of the Redeemer Women's Society will meet in the church lounge Thursday, for a program on "Practice of Prayer," led by Mrs. LeRoy Kroger.

* * *

The Rev. Glen Harris will talk on Masonry at the Monday evening Hi-Twelve Dinner at 6:30 sharp at the Community House.

Earlier this week nominated for Masonry's highest honor, the 33rd degree, he will mark the guest night program for Masonic Lodge No. 44.

* * *

Longer hours will be in force for those who haven't yet registered to vote in the November election, says City Clerk Irene Hanley.

Weekday hours will be 8 a.m. to 8 p.m., next week and on Oct. 8, except 9 to 1 on next Saturday.

* * *

Planning Board members are working on revision of the zoning ordinance. They begin this week to look at charts, re-read the text and begin discussion of major points, inserting a few minor changes toward the revised ordinance.

Many more meetings will be devoted to it.

Awaits Hearing on Stab Charge

Waives Examination After Reported Dispute Over Taxi Fare

A Walled Lake man is in the Oakland County Jail awaiting a Circuit Court hearing on a felonious assault charge involving the alleged Wednesday night stabbing of a taxi driver in an argument over a fare.

* * *

Harlan Combs, 47, of 501 Decker Rd., waived examination Friday on the charge at an arraignment before Orion Township Justice Helmar G. Stanaback. He is being held under $1,000 bond and is to appear in court Oct. 3.

Combs was arrested by Walled Lake police Wednesday shortly after the stabbing allegedly took place in the driveway of his home. The victim, Jerry Mead, 35, of 407 N. Pontiac Trail, Walled Lake, is being treated by a local doctor for a back wound said to have been inflicted with a pocket knife.

Mead, who with his wife operates a cab business, got into the argument after Combs refused to pay her for a seven mile ride from an area tavern, according to Walled Lake Police Chief Fred Decker.

* * *

Decker said Mrs. Mead called her husband on the taxi radio when Combs reportedly refused to pay a $1.30 fare. Mead rushed to the scene to talk to the man and was explaining the situation to Mrs. Combs, who offered to pay the fare, when stabbed.

Rare Rally Well Done

'Kitchen Kabinet' Peppers Dems, Lauds Ike's 'Menu'

LANSING (AP) — About 1,000 Michigan Republican women attending a Kitchen Kabinet session were told Friday about the virtues of the Eisenhower administration as seen through the eyes of seven wives of high ranking, appointive officials in Washington.

What they heard was a mixture of deadly serious, practical politicking and such remarks as "This is my first speech and I don't feel so good."

The latter remark, from the lips of Mrs. James P. Mitchell, whose husband is secretary of labor, drew sympathetic laughter and then a burst of applause.

At three tables for speakers and honored guests there were 36 women and one man—Detroit Mayor Albert E. Cobo, Republican nominee for governor. Cobo spoke briefly and departed for another meeing.

MRS. BENSON KEYNOTES

Perhaps the keynote of the session, billed as a program for sharing political recipes on "what's cooking in Washington," was struck by Mrs. Ezra Taft Benson, wife of the agriculture secretary.

A heavy round of handclapping followed when Mrs. Benson, speaking fast and earnestly, said:

"Those 11 years of unusually good prices for farm products (1941-52) were due to war—to war alone—the insatiable demands and inflation of war."

* * *

The subject of peace and war was brought up repeatedly, and the speakers in a few cases identified themselves as grandmothers with an especial concern in the issue.

Mrs. Arthur E. Summerfield, wife of the postmaster general, was one who touched on the subject. She also had this to say about operations in her husband's department:

"The newly painted red, white and blue mail boxes are more readily seen and not confused with trash containers as formerly."

DOLLAR VALUE

Mrs. David W. Kendall, whose husband is assistant secretary of the Treasury, asserted the dollar has lost 1½ cents in purchasing power in the past 3½ years compared with 48 per cent in the preceding 13 years.

"You housewives know what that has meant—what it means on every shopping day," she said.

Other speakers included wives of these Eisenhower administration figures:

Wilber Brucker, secretary of the Army and a former Michigan governor; Frank Millard, general counsel for the Army Department; and Frederick P. Mueller, assistant secretary of commerce for domestic affairs.

* * *

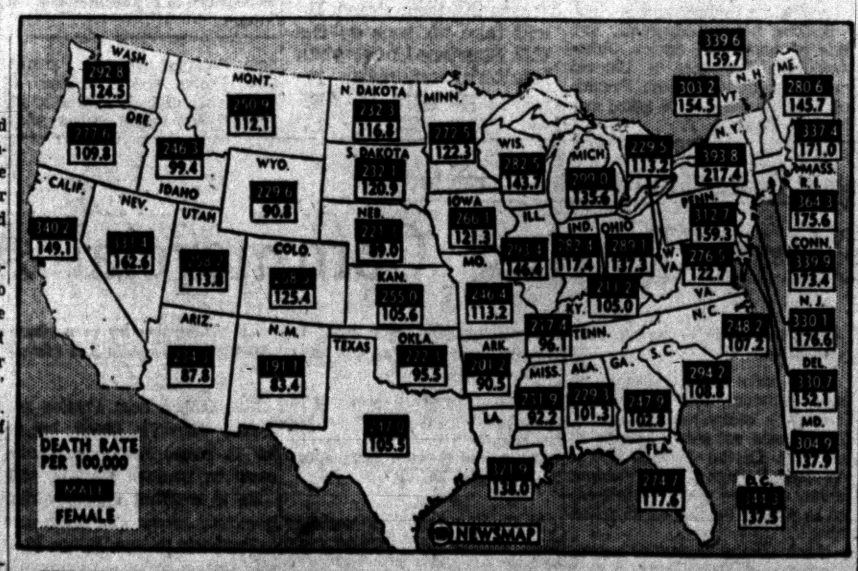

These three, as well as Summerfield and Kendall, all are from Michigan.

It was the second session of the Kitchen Kabinet, which met before in Ohio and plans later to go into West Virginia, Kentucky, Maryland, Delaware and Pennsylvania.

THE GEOGRAPHY OF HEART DISEASE — The U. S. Public Health Service suspects where you live affects your chances of getting a coronary heart disease, according to a report recently published. Newsmap above, from PHS data, shows coronary heart disease death rates per 100,000 population in white males and females, based on the 1950 census. Highest death rates among males (305-394 per 100,000) were found in New Hampshire, Massachusetts, Connecticut, Rhode Island, New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Delaware and Maryland in the East, California and Nevada in the West. Louisiana was the sole Southern state in the 305-394 incidence group. "High count" states were pretty much the same for women, except Vermont and Illinois were added and Louisiana dropped to the 121-144-per-100,000 rate. New York had the highest rate for males, 393.8 and New Mexico the lowest, 191.1.

Flint Auto Workers May Strike Today

FLINT (INS)—Union and management representatives were to meet in Flint today in an effort to avert a strike that could seriously affect current automobile model changeovers.

Some 9,500 hourly-rated employes at the Chevrolet manufacturing unit in Flint were scheduled to go on strike this afternoon unless a dispute over the seniority agreement is resolved.

However, Dean E. Egan, president of Chevrolet Local 659 of the United Auto Workers union, said there was a "strong possibility" the strike deadline might be extended even if today's talks fail.

The two sides have been negotiating since May 14.

Missing Pontiac Boy Found in Stolen Car

A 14-year-old Pontiac boy, missing two days, was held last night after his arrest in a stolen car by Goshen, Ind. police.

Pontiac police said the boy had apparently stolen the car Thursday afternoon in front of a home at 1212 N. Perry St.

The boy failed to attend school after leaving home at 8 a.m. Thursday, his mother told police. Officers were to pick the boy and car up today.

Nixon Heads for Florida

Barbed Inquiry Asks About 'Adlai's Other Kidney

HAGERSTOWN, Md. (AP) — Vice President Nixon turns his airborne campaign toward Florida today, after a barbed inquiry about Adlai E. Stevenson's "other kidney."

* * *

The Democratic presidential nominee's kidney became a campaign topic at Wheeling, W. Va., where Nixon held an airport news conference yesterday.

Nixon was asked how President Eisenhower was getting along. He told the questioner the President is fit and "in fighting trim," then added:

"By the way, I wonder how Mr. Stevenson's other kidney is doing today?"

Stevenson underwent a kidney operation some time ago. Democrats have raised the question of Eisenhower's own health following his heart attack last year and his June 9 intestinal operation.

Nixon, speaking to an overflow crowd of some 1,800 at a Wheeling hall, reiterated what he had said earlier in Cincinnati about Eisenhower administration actions having been good for labor.

Nixon's St. Petersburg address tonight was billed in advance as a "major" exposition of the GOP's program for the nation's elderly persons. It also was expected to contain an attack upon Adlai Stevenson's recent outline of his proposals for improving the standard of living of retired and aging men and women. Stevenson is the Democratic presidential candidate.

Please Don't Send Us Rock 'n' Roll, Comics

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP)—South Africa's foreign minister, Eric Louw, yesterday listed rock 'n' roll, comics and pulp magazines among American exports his country could do without.

He told Johannesburg's American Luncheon Club: "In the past you also sent us the abomination of the jukebox. When I was minister for economic affairs, I put it on the prohibited list of imports. I sincerely hope my successor keeps it there, even if it means contravention of the General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade."

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Westinghouse Electric Corp. has been picked by the Navy to build the atomic "furances" for six new high speed submarines.

New Promotion Program Planned for Classes

EAST LANSING (AP)—"An apple a day keeps the doctor away"—or does it? And if not, just what substance is there in the old adage, anyway?

* * *

Dr. Eugene H. Lucas, a horticulture specialist in human nutrition, says he proposes to find out with the help of Michigan State University students.

More than 30 students came forward Thursday in response to his appeal for volunteers to eat free apples three times a day during the entire school year.

To further his project, Lucas hopes for another 400 or more volunteers before the test gets into full swing next month.

TRANSPLANTED AUSTRIAN

A native Austrian who came to Michigan State in 1939, Lucas already has tested more than 2,000 plant species, ranging from mushrooms to sunflowers, searching for foods which might make you feel better and live longer.

Last spring he was a member of an MSU research team which discovered an antibiotic made from a common ornamental shrub that now appears as if it may surpass penicillin in some ways.

He said he has toyed for some time with the idea of trying to find out what influence a regular intake of apples has on "general health and well being."

* * *

All freshmen and sophomores who live in university domitories and who have good health records are being invited to take part in the experiment.

They will eat different kinds of apples, all free and distributed through dormitory dining halls. Participants will be asked questions and fill out data sheets at intervals.

In all, about 2,000 bushels of apples will be eaten before next summer, Lucas said.

The project may be extended over three years.

* * *

It is being undertaken in cooperation with the National Apple Institute in Washington, D.C., working through the Michigan State Apple Commission.

Red Press Charges U. S. Building Bases

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet Army newspaper Red Star charges the United States is building bases in the arctic for an attack on the Soviet Union.

Liberal Dynamic Candidate Forgot a Few Items

PROVIDENCE, R.I. (AP) — The "Liberal Dynamic" candidate for president won't have his name on the Rhode Island ballot this fall.

Francis L. Weimer of Los Angeles mailed his nomination papers to the secretary of state, but he left blank the space which calls for 500 signatures.

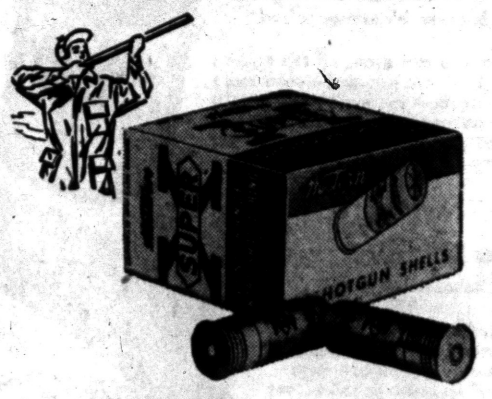

He suggested the secretary have his friends "scribble in the names."

And if there is any further correspondence, Weimer wrote, it should be addressed to him at the White House after the first of the year.

About 77 million acres of forest land need to be replanted over a period of years if the timber production is to be maintained and forest cover assured.

Governor 'Sick' About Dismissal

Says Firing of Health Officer for Eating With Negro Is Evil Act

MONTICELLO, Fla. (AP) — The firing of attractive Dr. Deborah Coggins as county health officer for having lunch with a Negro nurse drew sharp criticism from Gov. Leroy Collins.

* * *

The governor said yesterday he was "sick about it" and declared it was a "by-product of the passion aroused by efforts to coerce integration of the races against the will of the people."

Dr. Coggins was expected to get her official notice today from the Jefferson County Commission of its intention to dismiss her.

The deicision to fire Dr. Coggins was reached Thursday night at a joint meetin g of commissioners of Jefferson, Madison and Taylor Counties all three of which she serves.

"I am sick about it," the governor said. "The action cannot be squared with right and justice and conscience and if I didn't speak up and say so, I feel I would, by my silence, condone an evil act.

"This would never have occured two years ago—it is a by-product of the passion aroused by efforts to coerce integration of the races against the will of the people."

* * *

Commissioner Lester C. Lawrence of Jefferson County said his commission feels that making an example of Dr. Coggins would help in retaining southern traditions and customs.

Death 11 Years Late for 103-Year-Old Man

OVID (AP) — Charles Starr, 103, will be buried today beneath a stone marker that says he died 11 years ago.

In 1942 when his wife died, Starr bought a stone for her grave and another for his own final resting place. He felt at the time he would live "about three more years." So he ordered 1945 carved on his marker as the date of his death.

He died Thursday.

Here's One Girl Who Doesn't Like Presley Antics

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — If you were an attractive, 20-year-old girl and saw your picture in a magazine with Elvis Presley's head on your shoulder, what would you do?

* * *

Well, Robbie Moore threatened to sue. And Presley, the rock 'n' roll singer, paid her $5,500 in an out of court settlement.

Presley told reporters he had known Miss Moore, a Memphis telephone company clerk, "for many years and had no idea she would object to the picture."

The settlement was revealed yesterday when Miss Moore asked Chancery Court to permit her to enter into the out of court agreement as an adult.

* * *

Miss Moore testified she was sitting in a cafe when Presley entered with another girl and a photographer. She said Presley clowned with her, leaned his head on her shoulder and the photographer took their picture.

The picture later appeared in Presley's fan magazine, "Elvis Presley Speaks."

Reflections

My Tomorrow Will Come

A. L. VOORHEES

We have failed today but tomorrow we shall succeed.

Tyranny is rampant. Human beings are slaves to a cruel, wicked Godless group of men; tomorrow will eradicate tyranny and bring a society, not Utopia, but a free society where each member will be judged solely on his worth to his fellow man.

Men are using the church as a cloak for contemptible actions; our tomorrow will correct their crooked, bungling thoughts and actions; they will be a credit to their associates.

M. E. SIPLE

Our tomorrow will usher into this world knowledge and medicines to control cancer and other pestilential diseases that maim and kill.

Our tomorrow will hold out the hand of fellowship extending around the world. Those hands will be stronger than all the H-bombs ever made, and all the cannon ever cast, for tomorrow reason will be seated upon the throne as judge of all mankind.

But now, let us practice reason before we speak, before we act, before anger makes fools of all of us.

Joe Martin Assails Congress Democrats

ESCANABA (UP) — Rep. Joseph Martin of Massachusetts, says the American people have seen enough of Democratic control in Congress, "to know we can do without it, now and in the future."

Martin, Republican minority leader in the House, addressed a political rally yesterday in this Upper Peninsula Democratic stronghold.

Speaking on what he called the evils of Democratic domination in the last Congress, he declared:

"We have seen it (Democratic control) delay a vital highway program. We have watched it manipulated against civil rights; we have seen it muddying the waters of a new farm program . . .

"We have seen enough of it to know we can do without it, now and in the future."

SEATTLE (UP)—William E. Boeing Sr., founder of the aircraft company that builds what is believed to be the world's largest jet bomber, died yesterday of a heart attack.

The millionaire industrialist, who retired some years ago, died aboard his yacht just two days before his 75th birthday.

Boeing founded the Pacific Aero Products Co. in 1916. It eventually became the Boeing Airplane Co., producing first single and then multi-engined planes. For World War II it built the B17 and its successor, the B29.

The company is producing the giant 200-ton eight-jet B52 bomber and the big commercial airliner, the 707, the first of which will be delivered in the near future. Boeing also has a plant at Wichita, Kan.

SCHENECTADY, N.Y. (UP)—Does Schenectady have a zoo? What is the percentage of property tax delinquency? How often does the temperature go above 90 or below 0? How is the population divided with white collar workers?

These searching questions, and many others, were contained in a letter sent to the surprised City Planning Commission by a senior at the University of Wisconsin who said he was "weighing various job possibilities."

He got most of the answers.

Arrest Polish Spies

VIENNA (UP) — Communist Poland has announced the arrest on spy charges of an undisclosed number of Poles it said were "working for a British espionage center." Radio Warsaw said last night the Poles admitted gathering secret military and economic data and transmitting it to a British spy headquarters in Switzerland.

LANSING (UP) — Gov. Williams has reappointed Probate Judge William J. Miller of Escanaba, and Eugene A. Ward of Big Rapids to the Ferris Institute Board of Control. The appointments, requiring Senate confirmation, are for terms expiring June 30, 1964.

Grand Rapids Man Gets State Bar Post

GRAND RAPIDS (UP) — John W. Cummiskey of Grand Rapids was elected president of the State Bar of Michigan and formally inducted into the post at a Friday luncheon.

The elections were part of concluding business matters at the organizations 21st annual meeting.

In keeping with tradition, Cummiskey was elevated from his post as first vice president of the State Bar Board of Commissioners to the presidency, succeeding Albert E. Blashfield of Ann Arbor.

Will the Suez Crisis Bring Gas Rationing?

Will gas rationing in the United States be one result of the political crisis which has arisen over Egypt's seizure of the Suez Canal? That interesting question has been raised by the magazine U. S. News & World Report.

★ ★ ★

It arises out of the proposal by U. S. Secretary of State Foster Dulles that the western nations may find it necessary to bypass the canal if Egypt either closes it to the ships of certain nations or finds it impossible to operate the canal as efficiently as it was operated in the past.

The number of ships handled did drop alarmingly at first, after many British and French pilots quit their jobs, but new pilots have been trained and shipping once more is passing through the canal in substantial volume.

However, the magazine's report, following an interview with a Standard Oil official, indicates that there is no present likelihood of gas rationing. Even the absolute closing of the Suez Canal would not cripple either the United States or Europe, although it would bring serious repercussions to business and industry. However, the loss of both the oil moved through Suez and the Middle East oil that is moved through pipelines would probably result in gas rationing here.

★ ★ ★

The United States now gets about 300,000 barrels of oil daily from the Middle East. That is where the really big known reserve deposits lie. Any time they are cut off there is bound to be a shortage that is serious. That is one reason why the Suez Canal issue is so important.

★ ★ ★

Fortunately, at the present time there is no indication that either Suez or the Middle East pipelines are going to be closed to us. But in the case of any new world war, that is a contingency which the United States and Europe must face. That is why France and Britain have favored an even firmer position than our own government toward Egypt.

We have a fairly substantial supply available near by in Venezuela, in addition to those in our own country. Canada also has fairly large reserves. But Europe is directly dependent on the Middle East.

So, while no danger of gas rationing appears on the immediate horizon, oil has become so important a factor in modern life that it provides the biggest single element in the background of the Suez crisis.

Oil is of vital importance to us in peacetime. In war it is an absolute must.

School Enrollment Rise of 43 Per Cent Looms

Rapid growth in population brings many problems in its wake. One of the spots where this growth is felt most promptly is in our public schools.

More children require more school buildings and more teachers. That in turn means more money.

★ ★ ★

Estimates of Pontiac's growth during the next nine years are contained in the report of Dr. Otto C. Hufziger, assistant superintendent in charge of business. The report follows eighteen months of study. It contains 230 pages, filled with facts, figures and estimates. Such a report requires time to digest.

★ ★ ★

Dr. Hufziger estimates that our schools face an increase in enrollment of some eight thousand pupils between now and 1965. Today's enrollment is 18,500.

This increase amounts to about forty-three per cent. It will require a steadily progressing building program to keep up with the increasing number of children.

★ ★ ★

Dr. Hufziger estimates that, over the period specified, this building will cost some twenty million dollars, in addition to one million for removing existing buildings. No schools are to be torn down or abandoned.

★ ★ ★

Some two years ago the voters approved an increase in the school tax to make possible this building program and a substantial start already has been made. In the past year contracts totaling $2,530,317 have been authorized and a $1,796,000 program for the current school year has been approved.

Dr. Hufziger estimates that the program can be carried on until 1960 by levying the maximum tax authorized by the voters, but after that time some borrowing may be necessary.

The Board of Education has been wise to attempt to look ahead so that it may plan its building program over a period of years to meet the need for more room as it arises. Needless to say, the report's forecasts are estimates. However, they do serve as a basis for planning, even though some changes in the plans undoubtedly will be necessary from time to time.

The People's Business:

Big Names Used

Dem and GOP Leaders Stream Into Michigan

By ROGER LANE

LANSING—There are few things like putting some big name attractions on stage to steam up a political campaign.

This was demonstrated to some extent this week, and fuller proof is in the offing.

U. S. senators, congressmen and Cabinet officers' wives all showed up on the Michigan scene in recent days, led on the Democratic side by Sen. Estes Kefauver, party vice presidential nominee, and on the Republican by Thomas E. Dewey, twice a presidential nominee.

Ex-Speaker Joe Martin and Rep. Charles Halleck, widely known congressmen, also were among Respublican luminaries. The Democrats got an assist from Sen. Hubert Humphrey of Minnesota.

And these were only starters.

★ ★ ★

In the next week alone, the Republicans are bringing in vice President Nixon, and the Democrats former President Truman, Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt and Gov. Frank Clement of Tennessee.

AROUSES INTEREST

There is a cumulative effect to this activity. It gets the people talking politics. They know these big name outsiders, at least by impression, and many admire or despise them.

★ ★ ★

From that point, it's an easy thing for the political consciousness to shift to the state candidates, and the issues that have local impact.

Another sign that the campaign is warming up appeared in the increasing use of strong words.

For example, Democratic Gov. Williams, seeking re-election, was called by Republicans—among other things— a "vote seeking pretender," "two-faced" and a "profiteering economic royalist."

Detroit Mayor Cobo, the Republican governor candidate, was told he stood by while a "colossal theft" was perpetrated "under his nose" in 1936.

FROM HIGH TO LOW

Many campaigns start out on a political "high road." Few end up on the same thoroughfare.

★ ★ ★

Adlai Stevenson found out in 1952 that it is one thing to win applause for making lofty speeches and another to ponder the election returns.

Reporters who rifled through an avalanche of post-election mail received by Stevenson four years ago can attest that thousands who said they liked his speeches, and took the trouble to tell him about it, owned up to voting for his opponent.

Few persons in close touch with politics and politicians would be surprised to hear that President Eisenhower is being counseled accordingly.

Days of All Faiths

Christian Education Week Begins

By DR. HOWARD V. HARPER

This fall 39 million pupils will be enrolled in U. S. Sunday schools, with more than three million volunteer teachers looking after their religious instruction. Sunday school have been growing over the last five years at the rate of 3.5 to 8 per cent annually.

Attention is focused on this vital part of American religious life during the first week in October each year, when the National Council of Churches sponsors Christian Education Week. The purposes of the Week are to give an inspirational send-off to the new term now beginning, to get the new year's program under way as rapidly as possible, and to provide the setting for a concerted nationwide drive for new enrollments.

This year the theme of Christian Education Week is "The Christian leader and his spiritual enrichment," which means the emphasis is on the teacher rather than on the pupil. The teacher herself, says the National council, is more important than the courses and more important than any amount of professional technique.

* * *

Christianity is not subject matter to be learned: it is personal relationship that the child comes to understand the meaning of the Christian faith, and this is dependent primarily upon the teacher's own spiritual life.

Practically all Protestant denominations will observe Christian Education Week.

GUARDIAN ANGELS

Tuesday, Oct. 2 — Although no church requires it, Christians of many communions believe in guardian angels. In the Roman Catholic Church Tuesday is Guardian Angels Day.

Theologians have long taught that angels are pure spirits, persons but bodiless, created by God with more power and intelligence than mankind. Their functions are threefold: To praise God, to be His messengers (angel means messenger), and to watch over man.

The idea that a particular angel is assigned to watch over a particular human being is easily inferred from many passages in Scripture, as for example, Psalm 91, verse 11: "He shall give His angels charge over thee, to keep thee in all thy ways."

From as early as the ninth century, honor was paid to the angels along with the archangel Michael on Sept. 29 (St. Michael and All Angels Day). But devout people were not quite satisfied with such anonymous homage—they wanted to thank their own personal guardians.

In various countries and on varying dates the custom grew up of honoring guardian angels, not only those of individuals but also those of cities and provinces. In 1672 Pope Clement X set Oct. 2 as the universal day for such a festival.

EVERYBODY'S SAINT

The one saint on whom the whole world agrees — Catholics, Protestants, and even non-Christians—is St. Francis of Assisi, the happy lover of all creation. What appeals to everyone are actually only the "trimmings" of his dedicated and basically serious character.

His gay approach to life, even under extreme suffering; his easy comradeship with the chattering birds, who stopped their racket to hear him preach; his romantic way of expressing himself, as, for example, the statement that Lady Poverty was to be his beautiful bride—Such things capture people's minds and hearts.

But under all this was a tough, disciplined soldier of Christ who held himself and his flowers to the strictest of rules. At a time when many monastic orders had drifted far from their original purpose and mode of life, Francis and his new order of monks hewed to the line of poverty, humility and preaching the love of God. He is said to have done more than any other single individual to save the medieval church from decay and revolution.

St. Francis was born in 1181 or 1182. He died saying, "Welcome, Sister Death!" on Oct. 4, 1226.

Dr. William Brady Says:

Belly Breathing—A Wonder

Did you ever have angina pectoris? I doubt it, because if you ever had an anginal attack, you'd know you just can't "inflate the bellows" as your article advised. When the pain comes you are in such agony that you can't breathe . . . (D. S.)

Answer — Now see here, my friend, I have to bump myself to write this column, answer the mail and keep my commitments on the bowling green (three afternoons in the week). I can't take time out to have everything I write about. I'll take your word for it. But the few inflations of the bellows I advise are prophylactic. Don't wait for the attack. Do your Belly Breathing exercises regularly to prevent attacks.

A few years ago I made the concoction. It was so good that I would like to use it again. It made my hair, which is white, a steel or charcoal grey. Thank you. — (M. E.)

Answer — I'm not sure which concoction you want. Perhaps you'll know when you read about two or three concoctions in booklet THE HAIR AND SCALP, for which send me in care of this paper 35c and stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Sister now living in Italy, left Cairo, Egypt, last year and still suffers from the persecution of the natives against her. She insists they must have used hypnotism, magnetism, and witchcraft against her . . . (Mrs. L. L.)

Answer — She should have the advice of a psychiatrist — a doctor who limits his practice to mental disturbances. Any doctor you or she knows will refer her to one.

Sent for your pamphlet on Varicose Veins but never received it. Taken iodin ration and CaD for over a year now and sure feel lots better . . . (Mrs. S. V. L.)

Answer — Ask for pamphlet on VARICOSE VEINS AND VARICOSE ULCER and inclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Is it true that drinking milk hardens the arteries of older persons? (Mrs. N. H.)

Answer — On the contrary, it tends to keep 'em soft.

Your column has been extremely helpful to me in rearing our five children — saved so many trips to the doctors and so much needless worry. I find it difficult, though to get people to listen when I try to tell them the ills they complain of may be due to their deficiency diet of coffee, doughnuts, tea, and toast, with maybe a pack or two of cigarettes a day. (Mrs. C. M. D.)

Answer — Don't I know?

Appreciate it if you will send in stamped, self-addressed envelope inclosed your pamphlet "WHY HAVE HEADACHE?." Have derived much benefit from your booklets, also from your column in the paper. (W. L. S.)

Answer — Mine is the number of readers who ask for free pamphlets but do not inclose stamped, self-addressed envelope. They think I should pay the freight, too.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not to disease, diagnosis, or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Gives Facts About Sex Education

Ronny is just like other toddlers. He looks out at life through a mental one-way street. He hasn't enough mental age to permit him to think complicated thoughts. That's why toddlers usually stop with that first sex query mentioned below. Send for the booklet if you have children in your home, or are teaching them in school.

By D R. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case S-378: Ronny D., aged two-and-one-half years, likes to play games with his parents.

"Dr. Crane, we play hide-and-seek," his daddy informed me. "And Ronnie will hide by sticking his head under a pillow on the davenport.

"All the rest of his body is out in plain sight. But he seems to think he is entirely invisible.

"So his mother and I look all over the room, meanwhile exclaiming in loud tones, 'Where do you suppose Ronny is hiding?"

"At last we lift the pillow and he shouts with glee. Dr. Crane, why doesn't he realize that we can see him all the time?"

We psychologists have learned that a child's mental age keeps advancing till about 16 years.

Then his mental horse power or I.Q. reached its zenith though his knowledge may increase till death.

* * *

But there are gradations or stair steps, so to speak, in his ability to comprehend.

For example, Ronny can't see his parents when his head is covered by the pillow on the davenport.

So he feels hidden. "I can't see them so they can't see me," is his immediate reaction.

But that is one of those many rules that doesn't work both ways. A few years more of mental growth will permit him to realize the foolishness of his present behavior.

But right now, he fails to see anything illogical in his deduction.

BINET'S DISCOVERY

Alfred Binet published the first acceptable intelligence test for children in the year 1905, which is a landmark in the history of psychology.

* * *

And on the Binet scale, we find that a normal four-year-old can copy a square but cannot draw a diamond.

"Both are four-sided figures," you might exclaim, "so why can't he draw both of them at the age of four years?"

Apparently, he needs more mental age to perceive the differences in the acute vs. the obtuse angles of the diamond.

And that is proved by the fact he can't draw the diamond at the age of five nor at the age of six, but must be seven to perform this task.

This same gradual growth in his ability to perceive, is revealed in the usual sequence of questions which a toddler starts asking concerning where babies come from.

"Mommie, where did I come from?" asks the usual toddler.

"You came out of Mother's tummy," is the approved answer.

WORRIED GRANDMOTHERS

"But Dr. Crane," some grandparents have asked me when I have been conducting marriage and family clinics in their churches, "suppose he then asks how he got out and also how he got into his mother's tummy!"

* * *

Well, if he should, be sure to answer him correctly. Don't deceive your children.

But the usual toddler is content with that one question. It may be a couple of years before he finally brings up the second query and asks:

Mommie, how did I get out?"

His mother has meanwhile forgotten that first question years earlier, so she probably inquires, "How did you get out of what?"

Furthermore, it may be another year or two before he finally asks the third question: "How did I get into your tummy?"

* * *

For specific advice on "How to Answer a Child's Sex Queries," send for the booklet of that name, enclosing a stamped return envelope plus 20 cents.

You need the correct scientific data to be good parents nowadays.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac Michigan, enclosing a long 3c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

'No Holiday Is Necessary in Memory of Roosevelt'

Letters will be condensed when necessary because of lack of space. Full name, address and telephone number of the writer must accompany letters but these will not be published if the writer so requests unless the letter is critical in its nature.

This is to remind Herb J. that Roosevelt doesn't need a holiday in his memory. The good things he brought into existence are everyday reminders of him.

Over 250,000 Michigan workers have reason to remember him today, as they live on unemployment compensation.

The old people and dependent children can remember him and thank God they have been provided for.

These are worthwhile memorials. His day is everyday on the calendar. Everyday thousands benefit from his good works.

A tree is known by the fruit it bears and the fruit of Roosevelt's labors will fever die.

Benign Influence Can Keep Emotional Balance

By NORMAN VINCENT PEALE

One of the greatest things that can come to a human being in this world is sound, sturdy health. To have your heart functioning right, blood pressure normal and all your organs in proper working order is a priceless blessing.

* * *

An important aid to physical health is the depth therapy of faith. By that I mean that faith has the power to send its benign influence to the very center of your being and keep it functioning the way God meant. If you can get enough faith into your mind, you can overcome much sickness. It will help to maintain emotional balance so necessary to health.

DR. PEALE

A committee of distinguished physicians appointed by the British Medical Assn. recently conducted an investigation into spiritual healing. Their report was cautious, but did admit that what they called "conversion" has been known to accomplish remarkable results in changing the entire physical aspects of men and women.

And what did they mean by "conversion?" Simply a change in thinking and living by getting faith, deep faith, the kind that hits you hard when you get it and stays with you because you live by it.

AMAZING POWER

The sort of faith that merely bounces off the top of the mind without penetrating it does not have the spiritual and psychological potency to which we are referring. But deep faith has such amazing power that it not only changes people morally and spiritually, but also is a powerful foe to disease and a creator of health.

I recently read a book, "Stay Alive All Your Life," by a minister, the Rev. Dr. Alston Smith. The Rev. Dr. Smith writes about an occasion on which a doctor asked him to come to see a boy who was dying. The doctor said that he had done all he could, unless the minister could stimulate a new faith in the young man's mind.

* * *

The Rev. Dr. Smith arrived about 2:30 in the morning and found the doctor drinking coffee in the kitchen. "I don't believe Joe will live until morning," he told the minister. "But there is something about this case which baffles me. The boy ought to live, if only he would fight, but he won't. It's up to you to re-inspire his will to live."

"What can I do?" the minister protested.

"Go in and give him a transfusion of faith. That's the only thing that can save the boy."

He went into the bedroom and found the whole family gathered around the bed. Not knowing what else to do, he sat by the bed and opened his Bible. He read aloud the 23rd Psalm, the 121st Psalm and other passages of faith.

As he read, a deathlike stillness reigned in the room. He felt the power of the Scripture's words. As he continued to read, tears were rolling down the cheeks of the family. The power of God was present.

He read for perhaps an hour, then returned to the kitchen and spent the remainder of the night waiting with the doctor. At dawn, the doctor came from the sickroom with a look of awe on his face. "He has passed from coma into rest. His pulse is better. The indications are that he will live."

And the boy did live. Although he had been unconscious during the Bible reading, the power of faith had penetrated his subconscious. It had stimulated the will to live and perhaps had performed other functions within the organism to help restore him to health.

I could write about case after case like this. There are many of them. And what they mean to you is very simple. If the therapy of faith can work in such dire extremity, just think what it can do for you in the ordinary business of daily living.

Ban on Unfit Literature Sought in Wayne County

Action by the Wayne county prosecutor's office to ban public display of morally objectionable magazines and pocket-size books from newsstands where young people may have easy access to them was sought Wednesday by the Citizens Committee for Better Youth Literature.

The committee, 15 persons reptizens Committee for Better Youth was sought Wednesday by the Cresenting civic and religious organizations, met with Joseph G. Rashid, assistant prosecutor. Fr. Paul J. Hickey of the National Organization for Decent Literature, presented the joint request.

Fr. Hickey said the group was seeking a clear understanding with the prosecutor's office and the police on the type of material covered by state statues and city ordinances. Some of the publications presented in evidence, he said, tend to incite and corrupt youthful morals.

Mr. Rashid conceded that objectionable publications were a public responsibility and also of magazine distributors and retailers. He promised that a specific written legal opinion would be given on each magazine cited. On this legal opinion the police then would be able to take action at the point of purchase.

POLICE SCRUTINIZE

Insp. Melville Bullach of the police censor bureau said his 13-man force was unable to check all publications, but had a working agreement with distributors to submit their wares providing for police scrutiny prior to sale here.

Five major distributors who handle 98 per cent of Detroit magazine sales volume will be invited to meet with the committee at its next meeting, Oct. 17.

Christian Council Plans Merger of 3 Movements

Plans for the proposed merger of three of its twelve member-movements have been hailed by the United Student Christian Council, the nation's largest cooperative student organization.

In a resolutino representing its first official judgment on the matter, the USCC 13th general assembly meeting last week at Green Lake, Wisc., termed the plans indicative of "an emerging pattern of unity" fully consistent with the basic aims of the organization.

* * *

The three movements contemplating merger are the Disciples Student Movement, the Westminster Fellowship of the Presbyterian Church in the U.S.A., and the United Student Fellowsip of the Congregational Christian Churches and the Evangelical and Reformed Church. The new group is to be known as the United Campus Christian Fellowship.

It warned, however, that the merger must "be seen as one, but one necessarily the only pattern of unity," and that if consummated, the new movement must not be considered the student Christian movement in the U.S. "with other movements on the outside."

* * *

In another action the assembly called upon USCC executives to convene "a small consultation" problems of racial conflict, tension during the current academic year "to analyze and suggest strategies to help USCC and its member movements help local student Christian groups . . . face the and apathy."

Aldersgate Group Seeks Understanding

The Aldersgate Fellowship of Central Methodist Church, a group of young people who are single and over 18 years of age, will have as its guest speaker Sunday at 8:00 p.m. Dr. Edwin B. Jones, a general administrative officer of the Reorganized Church of Jesus Christ of the Latter Day Saints.

* * *

The Aldersgate Fellowship, which extends an invitation to all interested persons to join them in this program and other of their activities, is having a series of Sunday evening meetings to study other Christian denominations for the purpose of gaining understanding and increasing brotherhood.

Dr. Jones, head of the tractor division of The Ford Motor Co., is qualified by his background, his education, and his present position in the church to speak about his church and to answer the questions which will be put to him by the group.

Church of Canada Votes Merger Talks

The General Council of the United Church of Canada has voted unanimously to continue union talks with the Anglican Church of Canada. It said these talks should proceed not only at top levels, but also locally, particularly in church extension and home mission work.

It also voted to explore the possibility of merger with other denominations "where there are prospects of early union." Similar interest in the proposed union had previously been voiced by Anglican Church officials.

PLAYING THE CARILLON — Dr. Maurice A. Garabrant, organist and director of music at Christ Church Cranbrook, will present a carillon recital at 4 p.m. Sunday. Instead of keys like an organ or piano, the carillonneur strikes mahogany levers with his fists. Gloves are worn and usually the little finger has an extra padding. The 62 bells in the tower, tuned to the chromatic scale are stationary and played from an eight foot long clavier which is similar to the manuels and pedals of an organ. Roads in the area and parking space near the church provide parking for hundreds in their cars. The concerts will continue through October.

Artist Teaches Africans Mass Communications

A young Methodist missionary's experiments in a new field, training Africans in some of the techniques of mass communications, have been so successful he has been released from other duties for a year that he may continue his specialized work.

* * *

Hall Duncan, a former Oklahoma City commercial artist and advertising executive, has been teaching African Christians in the Belgian Congo how to draw educational and evangelistic posters and to write articles for publication.

The principal aim of his work is to train Africans to write and illustrate Christian literature that could eventually reach millions of persons in central Africa.

* * *

Duncan who once worked for the Daily Oklahoman and Times, arrived in the Southern Congo about a year ago after a year's study in Belgium and was assigned to teaching duties at Springer Institute, a Methodist missionary school at Mulungwishi.

WORK WITH AFRICANS

As one phase of his teaching, and on the side, he began to work with African students in the techniques of mass communications. Most of the work was on an experimental basis, since mass communications are a new thing to the African of the Congo.

* * *

The principal technique Duncan has been teaching has been the drawing and lettering of posters by the silk screen process. The first project was the production of a series of health posters dealing with the problem of intestinal parasites.

* * *

Duncan and his students worked in consultation with the medical staff of Springer Institute.

Duncan comments this way on the ability of his students to learn the new techniques, "It's amazing that it took only two and a half months for African students, who knew nothing about printing, to learn to design and print posters.

"Let these African Christian youth express themselves, and millions of Africans still unreached by the church can be reached and their lives freed from superstition to take on real meaning. Africans can be reached most effectively by their own people."

* * *

The attitude of the Africans themselves toward the new project is perhaps best expressed by a tribal chief Duncan visited recently. The chief said, "I must come and see the work. It is very good for my people."

Alcoholism Experts Request Church Aid

Religious leaders and experts in the problems of alcoholism have called upon the nation's churches and schools to set up expanded educational programs to combat drunken driving.

* * *

Meeting last week for the six annual North Conway (N.H.) Seminar, they also urged states to adopt more stringent laws dealing with drunken drivers and the strengthening of existing public and private agenices concerned with the issue.

The resolution grew out of a two-day meeting jointly sponsored by the North Conway Foundation, an interfaith organization established in 1951 to study alcoholism, Gov. Lane Dwinell, of New Hampshire and by various state and church groups. It was the first such meeting ever held. In attendance were some 100 officials of several faiths, national traffic safety officers, insurance company executives, attorneys, public officers and others.

* * *

Foundation officials said a smaller meeting to plan ways of implementing Conference recommendations is scheduled in October.

Catholics Report Success in Burma

BHAMO, Burma—The Columban Fathers' mission in northern Burma, the scene of recent penetrations by Red Chinese forces, has had the most successful year on record.

According to Msgr. Patrick Usher, perfect apostolic, the Catholic population has increased in the last year by 1,444, bringing the total to 10,156. This is treble the number in 1946. In addition 6,194 catechumens are under instruction.

* * *

According to Msgr. Usher, the activities of the Chinese Communists have not affected the Columban mission. The main penetrations seem to have taken place in the north near the district of Kengtung, which is staffed by Italian missionaries.

Bhamo, which has a total population of about 750,000, is staffed by 28 Columban missionaries.

Common Sense Will Eventually Settle Integration

CHICAGO—"American common sense" will eventually settle the segregation issue in the United States, a Negro bishop from West Africa said here.

Bishop Joseph Bowers, SVD, of Accra, African Gold Coast, said, however, that he saw "no immediate solution to American racial problems."

The bishop told newsmen here that Gold Coast natives look upon America as the promised land and are puzzled when they hear about segregation incidents.

He noted that in the Gold Coast itself, which has a population of about 4,500,000, "there is a remarkable lack of racial tension." The Gold Coast, now a British colony, expects to gain its independence from England in a year.

Bishop Bowers, 46, joined the Divine Word missionaries at age 18. He received his theological training in Rome and at Divine Word seminaries in Bay St. Louis, Miss., and East Troy, Wisc.

Catholic Women Off for Alaska

Lay Workers Volunteer to Assist Missionaries in Northern Wilds

SEATTLE, Wash.—Three vivacious young women visited here while on their way to Alaska where they will serve for a year, without pay, in the Alaska mission field—the first young Catholic lay women to volunteer for that activity.

Shirley Richard, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Richard, Springfield, Mass.; Rosemary Bobka, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John W. Bobka, Clinton, Mass., and Jacqueline Langlorias, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest J. Langlorias, Worcester, Mass., are the young pioneers. Each of the girls is 21.

"When people hear what we are going to do," said one, "they either think we are crazy, looking for husbands or planning to enter the convent. They are all guessing wrong."

These young women are anxious to give part of their lives in the service of God. They do not feel that they have religious vocations. All have long been interested in Catholic Action and the lay apostolate.

JESUITS BUILD

Their destination is Copper Valley school, 200 miles east of Anchorage in the heart of the Alaska wilderness. The completed school may cost as high as $5 million.

It is being built under the direction of Fr. John Buchanan, SJ, entirely by donations of cash, materials and labor from people all over the United States and Canada.

The three girls are looking forward to a rough winter in Alaska. They will live in an uncompleted building and their food will be of the plainest.

They won't be "going places and meeting people" on weekends. But they said they anticipate their work will be the greatest experience of their lives.

* * *

The following officers will be installed: Charles Jacobs, president; Milton Ressler, 1st vice president; George Surowitz, 2nd vice president; Melvin Goldman, 3rd vice president; Ed Avadenka, treasurer; Alvin Jacobson, financial secretary and Jerome Weiss, recording secretary.

The Rev. David Mortensen extends an invitation to the public.

3,000 Christians Confer in Ohio

33 States Represented at Laymen Convention in Cleveland

Upwards of 3,000 Christian laymen from 33 states and the District of Columbia met recently in Cleveland, O., for a three-day session which church leaders have predicted will have far-reaching influence in strengthening the U. S. laymen's movement.

* * *

The event was the first National Convention of Christian Men, (Sept. 14-16) sponsored by United Church Men, a unit of the National Council of Churches. In a program designed as one of inspiration, and not to take action or pass resolutions, the men representing scores of business and vocational interests heard some of the nation's top Christian leaders in a series of speeches on the general theme, "You shall be my witnesses."

In a public session, Evangelist Billy Graham cautioned an overflow audience of some 7,000 persons that you can't "short-cut your way through life or your assurance into heaven."

"There are four things for which people pay high prices," he declared. "These are sin, salvation, Christian commitment and witness. A person buys sin on the installment plan, salvation comes by the cross, commitment by self-denial and witness by honesty, integrity and right relations of man with man."

UNITY BEST DEFENSE

Congressman Walter Judd, of Minnesota, told the laymen that the U. S. is in effect defaulting to the Communist in the struggle for the hearts and minds of men. The best offense the country has, he declared is "to marshall the strength and unity of millions of dedicated Christians of the free world."

National Council president, Dr. Eugene Carson Blake, warned that unless the church is actually ruled by Christ it is but one of the many societes and organizations of our culture.

"The Christian cannot just stick to religion and leave other matters to politicians," he declared, for "that kind of tame cat' church is exactly what the Communists are trying to produce in Russia."

The American Tree Farm System, sponsored by the nation's wood-using industries, embraces more than 39 million acres of privately owned timberland.

Churches Gain in Membership

100 Million Americans Now Belong to Some Denomination

Church members in the United States for the first time in history number more than 100,000,000.

Church membership gains in the past year again outstripped population gains, continuing an upsurge that goes back to World War II. There are 2.8 per cent church members as against 1.8 per cent more people:

The figures covering all faiths in continental U.S. were released today by the National Council of Churches.

Other notable gains shown in the new annual statistics on America's religious life include:

Sunday school enrollments—up 3.4 per cent for a new total of nearly 39,000,000.

Local churches—a total of 305,449, representing an increase of 5,393 or 1.8 per cent.

Pastors with charges—222,018, a substantial gain of 8,051.

Per capita contributions—$48.81 annually, up seven per cent.

The latest annual compilation of the Yearbook of American Churches to be published Sept. 15 by the National Council of Churches, also shows there are now 100,162,529 members of all faiths in the United States. In the previous year the total was 97,482,611.

Of the 100,000,000 plus with religious affiliation, 58,448,000 are Protestant, 33,369,000 are Roman Catholic and 5,500,000 are Jewish. In addition there are 2,386,000 members of Eastern Orthodox Churches in this country.

Translated into percentages, the grand total shows that 60.9 per cent of Americans belong to churches, the highest percentage on record. By comparison, it was 57 per cent in 1950; 49 per cent in 1940 and 36 per cent in 1900. One hundred years ago less than 20 per cent of the American population belonged to a church.

The new church membership figures are based on official reports furnished by 285 religious bodies of the 268 listed in the Yearbook—the nation's only authoritative source of religious statistics of all faiths. Most of these bodies are small in numbers. The compilation shows that more than 98 per cent of all members are concentrated in 82 religious bodies while 53 church bodies account for over 96 per cent of the members.

To WHICH CHURCH did the APOSTLES BELONG?

There is much unnecessary confusion about the beginning of the Christian Church—the early New Testament Church to which the apostles belonged.

Much of this confusion is rooted in the fact that some segments of Christianity in the twentieth century have claimed the early New Testament Church as their own exclusive ancestry. In so doing there has inevitably been distortion in presenting the picture of the early Church.

The fact is, the early Church did not have various "faiths" and "denominations." It was simply composed of those who came to believe in the risen Saviour, Jesus Christ. Through their faith in Christ they knew that they would be saved from the wrath of God. The Bible says that "the Lord added to the church daily such as should be saved." (Acts 2: 47)

Bible-believing Christians today do not maintain that the Church is made up of just one sect or denomination. The basis of membership in the Church has not changed since the first century. The Church is still composed of all those who believe in Jesus Christ as Saviour. It is still made up of all those who are saved.

There is close fellowship today among Bible-believing Christians in numerous Protestant groups, just as there was close fellowship among the various groups of believers in the days of the apostles. Among these believers the Bible has always stood as the supreme authority in spiritual matters.

Through the Bible message of salvation these Christian believers have come to know a newness of life which was known to the apostles—and to all believers of their day. The Bible says that "if any man be in Christ, he is a new creature: old things are passed away: behold, all things are become new." (II Corinthians 5: 17)

Sewage Plan in Marlette Is Assigned

MARLETTE—R. W. Petrie and Associaties, Inc., of Benton Harbor, was engaged Wednesday night to develop working plans for a sewage dispoal plant for Marlete.

* * *

Petrie, present at the Council meeting, said he hoped plans can be completed by around the first of 1957, possibly before. In a separate contract, the Petrie Associate were authorized to make preliminary survey of the water situation.

Plans will be for a population of 3,600 people, plus the industrial requirements. They will entail handling both sanitary and storm water through a single set of mains.

Although the proposed plant would be somewhat over-size for the present population of the village, the council feels that it is none too big for the foreseable growth of the town.

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (INS) — Yale University—long a stronghold of militant masculinity—is reported to be seriously considering throwing open the doors to women.

The Yale Daily News, undergraduate newspaper, disclosed that William C. Devane, dean of Yale College, had concurred with a recommendation by Arthur Howe, dean of admissions, to transform the institution into a coed school.

Howe noted that women who have been admitted to many other all-male colleges have created "higher academic standards." Many "outstanding students," he said, are often lost to Yale in competition with coeducational colleges.

Mrs. Beck Is Local Field Director

Takes Post With Camp Fire Girls

BY MARGARET COLE

When Mrs. Donald Beck assumed her duties as field director of the Pontiac Council of Camp Fire Girls last week she was by no means entering a field of work that was new to her.

Born in West Virginia, she spent the early part of her childhood there and in Ohio. Her family moved to Detroit when she began school and her entire education was received in Detroit.

She attended Wayne University where she was graduated with a bachelor's degree in history. Since her graduation she has completed one year of graduate work.

Her keen interest in people led her to first work with a public relations service in Detroit and later to newspaper work where she served as managing editor of a Wyandotte paper.

With this background of experience, Doris Beck began her work with Camp Fire Girls, accepting the position of field director and public relations coordinator for the Detroit Council.

It was from this position, where she served for one and a half years, that Mrs. Beck came to Pontiac to serve in her present capacity with the Pontiac council.

She is married and makes her home in Birmingham. Her work here includes the training of leaders, council leaders, arranging workshops for refresher courses and for new workers.

The first Camp Fire leaders' training course will be conducted by Mrs. Beck on Wednesday evening. The sessions will be held for six consecutive Wednesdays from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. at the Camp Fire office in the National Building.

"I will be most happy to talk with women who are interested in becoming leaders," Mrs. Beck said.

"Women need not have had previous youth experience to take this training for group leadership, the only qualifications necessary is to like girls, to want to work with them, and to have a sense of humor."

Mrs. Beck feels that being a leader isn't all work. Besides getting a personal feeling of satisfaction from helping girls grow into mature and happy women, she says leaders gain new friends, learn new skills, develop closer family ties and have a lot of fun with the girls and other adults in the program."

In speaking of the persons whom she has met since beginning her work in Pontiac, Mrs. Beck remarked that she has found everyone very loyal, alert and most interested in helping girls have a better experience for their spare time.

"The size of the community plays an important part in the Camp Fire program and I feel Pontiac is a town of ideal size in which much can be accomplished," Mrs. Beck said.

"The new director will be most valuable to the local council with her background in public relations and newspaper work," Mary Ellen Wyngarden, executive director of Camp Fire Girls, said.

She will not only be in charge of the training of leadership but will work on the Day Camp program and serve as director of the two-day camp.

Mrs. Beck replaces Mrs. Phyllis Zanorski who came here in May of 1954 and resigned Sept. 15 to work with the Bureau of Social Aid.

Camp Fire Girls is a non-profit national organization offering leisure-time activities for all girls from 7 to 18.

Camp Fire Girls carry on such activities as the day camp mentioned by Miss Wyngarden, candy sales, council fires, community service, cook-outs, trips and dramatic presentations.

Tricks to Make Powder Room Fit Decor

Even a very modern powder room, filled with 20th century fixtures, can be right at home in a house decorated in Early American style. Cotton kitchen towels can help do the trick.

Make cafe-style window curtains of a yellow and red kitchen towel printed with spinning wheels, rocking chairs and other Early Americana. Paint the walls a yellow to match that of the towels and put up a Colonial-style mirror of wood instead of a chromium medicine cabinet.

Six Tips on How to Sit With Poise

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

The way you go upstairs and come down, sit in a chair or get up out of it, makes a big difference in the impression you make on others.

Today let's think of the way we sit in a chair. I am sure that you have seen women who remind you of cartoons because of the manner in which they sit. Here are a few suggestions:

1. If possible choose a chair which fits your height and weight and the length of your legs. If you are overweight do not select a light, dainty chair. If you are short do not choose a tall chair or a deep divan.

If you are tall do not sit in a very low chair if you can help it. You will be more comfortable and look more attractive in a higher or deeper one.

DON'T REACH

2. Some women begin sitting down before they are close enough to the chair. They reach for it. Walk toward the chair you are going to sit down in. Turn around, touch the chair with the backs of your legs, tuck your hips under, bend your knees and sit down. Don't fall down into it!

3. If you are going to sit down in a deep divan or chair do not try to make the whole distance with one dramatic plunge. Sit on the edge of the chair or divan. Place your hands lightly on the arms or the edge, lift your hips and push back until you are sitting correctly. Your hips should touch the back of the chair and your back should be straight.

If possible choose a chair which fits your height, weight and the length of your legs.

4. Keep your knees and feet together or with the toe of one foot by the instep of the other. Do not have the knees too tightly bent. Place the feet a little forward.

5. If you cross your knees, do so at the knee instead of the calf. The latter makes your legs look large or out of shape. If you are overweight you will look more attractive if you do not cross your knees.

6. Your arms can rest lightly on the arms of the chair or in your lap.

* * *

If you would like to have my leaflet "Grace," send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for leaflet No. 57. Address Josephine Lowman in care of this newspaper.

If you're tall and thin, a blousing top for dresses is good. But your thinness will look hopelessly lost in bulky, too loose effects.

A silhouette that includes top fullness achieved by wide raglan, kimono or bat sleeves and waistline tightened by wide leather or fabric belt, gives curves to the thin figure and shows off a tiny waistline. Keep your hemlines short.

Cinnamon sticks are fun to use as stirrers for iced coffee. The two flavors—cinnamon and coffee—are ones Italian culinary artists often team.

Rules to Help Teenager Learn Good Taste

A teenager's learning about what is in good taste may be a tortuous path, strewn with mistakes, but if she learns from each mistake, it will never cost her money or pride again.

There are some working principles that will help teenagers eager to learn good taste.

A pattern should be suitable to what it's printed on. A large picture of a marlin being hooked by a man in a rowboat may be fine on draperies, but it is unsuitable on a shirt.

A border pattern is wonderful on a skirt, but may look strange cut into a blouse.

EFFECT OF STRIPES

Stripes that go up and down make a skinny girl look skinnier. Stripes that go around make a fat girl look fatter. But it won't necessarily work vice-versa.

Lines that go around the fattest part of the hips are out, no matter how thin you are.

Organ Society Holds Meeting in Auditorium

Service Wife Can Give Decor Tips

OMAHA (INS) — The average service wife, who must constantly change her address as her husband is shifted from military post to isolated base, can teach her more settled sisters a thing or two.

* * *

The service wife is forced to develop her homemaking talents to the fullest, using creative ingenuity to put up a good front with few permanent possessions.

For instance, one army wife put three old footlockers to use —and out of sight—by covering them first with several planks, and then with a light cotton mattres. Over this she placed a chic spread, topped by pillows, for a comfortable sofa.

Old, broken-down folding camp chairs became comfortable lounge seats after the canvas had been replaced, the arms and legs sanded and the whole painted to match the sofa cover.

As every woman knows curtains can make a room.

End tables and book case foundations of salvaged bricks, their broken corners squared off and the whole brick sanded down, supported varnished boards as bearing surfaces.

Need Seen for Extra Living Room

American housewives are demanding a revival of the old-fashioned "back parlor" as a peaceful retreat from noisy children and household chores.

Many are converting little-used dining rooms into "family" living rooms, convenient to the kitchen where the youngsters can watch television, hold dances, play games and generally raise a ruckus.

The living room is then turned into a back parlor and a refuge from clatter and bang.

This trend appeared evident during a conference of "one hundred housewives" called by Housing Administrator Albert M. Cole in Washington this year. In a series of discussion groups, the women gave their ideas for the dream home of the future.

Conversion of the dining room into an attractive family room can be achieved by removing the dining table and redecorating with colorful cotton fabrics, the National Cotton Council suggests.

Personality Beats Beauty

How important is a good personality?

"It's the most important asset a girl can have" according to one popular young male student. "If she happens to be good looking with a nice figure too, more power to her. but my experience is that beautiful girls depend on their looks to carry them on to social success."

* * *

Pretty girls, he says, are not always the most popular because they think the world owes them some sort of special adoration.

"Take a girl I dated recently" this 18-year-old student says, 'she delayed us 15 minutes at home even though we were late for our date with another group waiting somehwere for us. Then she pouted because she didn't like the evening's schedule, although she had nothing more constructive to suggest in the way of entertainment, even if we could have changed our plans."

When you are out with a beauty she is likely to spend a good deal of time gaincing in the mirror, powdering and re-finishing her makeup. She worries about her looks constantly, this young man says.

He insists too, that pretty girls are usually bad sports. "The mere fact that they are good looking." he says, "seems to make them determined to shun any form of entertainment that will even muss their hair."

His examples include swimming, skating, skiing.

SIT AND OOK PRETTY

"Oh, yes, they'll sit around in a bathing suit and look pretty but they don't want to get their hair wet or ruin their makeup" he says. "Also they may corral the most tremendous wardrobe, riding clothes, ski stuff, skating skirts that are owrn like a fashion show rather than to contribute to the activity planned for them.

* * *

This young man seems to feel that a girl with a winning personality automatically is entertaining, that she makes a sincere effort to be gay on a date, and that it just sort of goes with her type.

She is likely to be a better sport too, he says, enjoying any entertainment planned by her date, he says.

* * *

What does the average male dater like to do, this young man was asked, "and whatever happened to the idea that when a man dated a girl he was supposed to take her to the place of her choice, regale her with his own sparkling wit and generally try to impress her with his charm, while she played it coy and feminine."

* * *

He doesn't think men want that kind of companionship any more, he says.

* * *

"There isn't time for all that," he says, "not with everybody hopping off to get married before they scarcely know each other. A man wants to know whether a girl will go on a fishing trip with him, whether she'll criticize his interest in baseball and hockey, whether she'll demand his presence in the home all the time, or whether she's the type who will respect him as an individual after they get married, enjoying the things he is interested in as well as the things she likes."

* * *

So it boils down to this girls, You'll be popular with the opposite sex if you let them have their own way in most things which is exactly what they seem to resent in you.

Clowns at the circus are funny, but on the highway they're murder.

Mother Drowns Three Children

Louisiana Authorities Try to Find Reasons for Baffling Case

ELIZABETH, La. (UP) — Baffled authorities sought today to learn why a frail, 28-year-old mother drowned her three young children and then tried to take her own life.

* * *

Sheriff Ralph Thompson of Allen Parish (county) said Mrs. Ruth Wilson was found mumbling "I killed my babies" as she wandered in the woods late yesterday.

Her three children, Walter 3, Janet Ann, 15 months, and Katherine, 2 months, were found floating in about 18 inches of water in the bathtub of the Wilson home. They had been dead from 12 to 14 hours, the sheriff's office said.

Coroner Rigsby Hargrove scheduled an inquest today.

Thompson said the children's father, Sgt. 1.C. William Wilson of Fort Polk, La., was brought to Elizabeth from the field where he had been on maneuvers for two days. Thompson said Wilson "went to pieces" as he tried to call his mother in Atchison, Kan.

* * *

The sheriff said Mrs. Wilson tried to commit suicide by slashing her wrists. She was placed under guard at a clinic where her condition was believed not serious.

Ike to Participate in Church Dedication

WASHINGTON (INS) — President Eisenhower has accepted an invitation to participate in cornerstone laying ceremonies next Sunday at the new cathedral of the St. Sophia Greek Orthodox Church in Washington.

The Chief Executive will attend services formally opening the 13th biannual clergy-laity conference of the Greek Orthodox Church in North and South America. The invitation was extended by Archbishop Michael.

Rubber Union Pushes for Shorter Hours

LONG BEACH, Calif. (UP) — The United Rubber Workers of America is going ahead with its drive for a shorter work week.

The union wound up its convention yesterday by defeating a resolution which would have urged 50,000 members in the Akron, Ohio, area, now working six hours a day six days a week, to go to an eight-hour, five-day week.

Opponents of the resolution said the union should not abandon any of its gains and the goal should be a 30-hour week.

Sees 'Joe Smith' Voting for Dems

Kefauver Warns GOP 'Common Man' to Back Adlai at Polls

HUNTINGTON, W. Va. (UP)—Sen. Estes Kefauver predicted today the Republicans are going to discover in November that the Joe Smiths have made a "shambles" of their re-election hopes.

* * *

The Democratic vice presidential candidate, winding up a 16-day campaign tour, defined Joe Smith as "the common man," as "the plain, everyday, average American."

He also called him "the most important figure in this campaign."

Kefauver's speech, prepared for a Huntington rally, harked back to an attempt by Terry Carpenter, a Nebraska delegate at the Republican National Convention, to nominate a mythical "Joe Smith" for vice president.

* * *

Kefauver said "Joe Smith and the unceremonious way he was booted out of the Republican National Convention epitomizes just what is wrong with the Republican party."

"When the people of America saw that there was no place in the Republican party for the Joe Smiths of this world," he added, "they started asking themselves whether there was any place in the Republican party for them."

* * *

The rally here, after a flight from Williamsport, Pa., was the first on the day's schedule for the Tennessee senator in a one-day swing through West Virginia before returning to Washington late tonight.

Snow-Making Machine to Stretch Boyne Skiing

Driver Slaps Spider, Rams Tree, Rider Dies

DETROIT (INS) — A Michigan highway death was traced today to a spider.

Mrs. Louise Hill, 81, of Detroit, was killed in Livonia yesterday when the car she was riding in struck a tree.

Police said the driver, Charles B. Havens, 65, of Highland Park, lost control when he tried to kill a spider on the instrument panel.

Hollywood Headlines

Desi, Lucy Set to Launch 6th TV Season Monday

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — These all-time TV champs, Lucille Ball and Desi Arnaz, are swinging into their sixth season Monday with a whole new bag of tricks.

* * *

Lucy and Desi have never been ones to rest on their ratings. When the novelty of their domestic tangles began to wear off, they took a trip to Hollywood and brought guest stars into the show. When that gold mine had been exhausted, they journeyed to Europe.

The Ricardos of "I Love Lucy" will be back in their old apartment this season—but not for long.

* * *

"We will be taking off for Florida," Desi explained. "Then we will go to Cuba, where Ricky will have a triumphant return to his native land—it's sort of like my life. We'll visit New Orleans and later in the season we'll move to the suburbs."

The suburb episodes will be taken largely from life, he indicated. He and Lucy regaled each other with tales of their ranch in nearby Chatsworth. Such as the time Desi bought a hundred chicks, then discovered he had to have an incubator to keep them warm. So he sheltered them in the unused guest room.

* * *

I met the Arnazes in the fancy new office Desi has at Motion Picture Center, which he now owns. Before lunch, he insisted on showing me the set where they film the show every Thursday night. I found a cabin cruiser floating in a studio tank.

"This will be beach over here and cabanas over there," he said, pointing at the sides of the tank. "And think of it—last night our apartment stood on this spot."

* * *

Little Ricky will appear in more of the scrips this year. He'll be played by talented five-year-old Richard Keith.

"We hunted almost a year for the kid before we found the right one," said Desi. "This boy is really great. We have a scene in the show where I go back to Cuba. The boy puts on a drum and does Babalu' with me. It's a killer."

Federal Jobholders Increase in August

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Byrd (D-Va) reported today that the number of federal civilian jobholders increased in August for the eighth monthly hike in the last year.

The increase as compared with July was small, only 1,897, but it took the employment total up to a mark of 2,400,570.

* * *

Byrd, chairman of the Senate-House Committee on Reduction of Nonessential Federal Spending, said the number of workers in civilian agencies decreased 877 in August to a total of 1,213,390.

But, he added, civilians employed by military departments in the month went up 2,774 as compared with July to a total of 1,187,180.

Music Teachers to Meet

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — About 500 religious and lay teachers from Catholic schools of the 29-county Grand Rapids Diocese are expected today at Music Day, sponsored by the Diocesan National Catholic Music Educators Assn. to promote school participation in music studies.

Two trillion cubic feet is now the U.S. underground storage reservoir for natural gas. Pennsylvania, Ohio, West Virginia and Michigan are principal storage states.

Areas to Make Time Switch

Some Change Sunday; Others Go to Standard on Oct. 28

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Some areas in the nation return to standard time this Sunday, Sept. 30, but the majority continue "fast time" until the last Sunday in October—this year it's Oct. 28.

* * *

Returning to standard time on the September date are California, Nevada, Maryland, Northeastern Ohio, and some sections of Indiana, Pennsylvania and Delaware.

Observing the Oct. 28 date are New York, Vermont, most of Pennsylvania, St. Louis Metropolitan area in Missouri, Rhode Island, New Jersey, Chicago and other metropolitan Illinois areas, sections in Virginia adjacent to Washington, D. C.; Washington, D. C.; Maine, Massachusetts, New Hampshire, and Connecticut.

The overwhelming majority of states and communities using daylight time started it last April 29.

A state-by-state breakdown (where daylight time was not adopted on an overall basis) includes:

Indiana: A few small cities in southwest area returned to Central Standard Time Sept. 2 and 24. Evansville, Vincennes and most of rest of Southwest area switch back Sept. 30; Northwest area—including Gary, South Bend, Lafayette, Terre Haute—waiting until Oct. 28. Indianapolis and most of Eastern half of state stayed on Eastern standard Time by local-city option.

Ohio: Northeast areas only adopted daylight time (Cleveland, Akron, Youngstown, Canton, etc.). Remainder of state never had it.

Wisconsin: State law forbids any local government from adopting daylight time.

Re-Election of Ike Disaster Says Truman

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (AP)—Democratic former President Harry S. Truman says the re-election of election of a Republican Congress "would be a two-fold disaster."

"It would be a disaster for Eisenhower and a disaster for the country," the ex-president told a joint meeting of the Harvard Law School Forum and the Massachusetts Institute of Technology lecture series committee last night.

Braves Lose, 5-4; Spahn on Hill Today

ST. LOUIS (AP)—The old 1948 refrain of the champion Boston Braves, "Spahn and Sain and a Day of Rain," now gives way to the Milwaukee Braves' jingle — "Spahn and Burdette with two to get."

Warren Spahn, the 35-year-old lefthander whose clutch pitching has kept the Braves in the race during these anxious hours of late September, faces St. Louis tonight in another "must" game. Lew Burdette, the early season ace, figures to get the call in Sundays finale.

The Braves must win their two remaining games to be sure of a tie with Brooklyn if the Dodgers win their three games from Pittsburgh. In case of a tie, the best-of-three playoff will start Monday at Brooklyn.

"My roomie (Burdette) and I will decide our fate," said Spahn last night, piercing the gloom of the Milwaukee clubhouse after the Braves' 5-4 defeat by the Cardinals.

"They used to say Spahn and Sain," joked Spahn. "Now it's Burdette. Look at his uniform number 33, (John) Sain's old number. We'll get 'em yet."

Spahn owns a lifetime record of 44-23 against the Cards who always have been packed with left-handed batting power down through the years. He has a 2-1 mark against them this year on the way to his 20-10 record as he joined the 20-win club for the seventh time.

Herm Wehmeier (11-11) is his right-handed opponent, a strapping gent from Cincinnati who played for the Redlegs and the Phillies before he came to the Cards in one of the controversial early season deals by Frank Lane, general manager.

Wilmer (Vinegar Bend) Mizell (14-13) probably will face Burdette (18-10) Sunday although Manager Fred Haney hasn't made a positive choice.

Although Manager Fred Hutchinson of the Cards said he saw no signs of the Braves being jittery, it appeared to many in the crowd of 20,742 the boys were pressing too hard after sitting around the hotel lobby since beating Cincinnati Tuesday afternoon.

"We just gave 'em too many runs," said Haney softly in the Braves' quiet clubhouse. "They got three runs they shouldn't have had in the first inning. Four runs we gave 'em in all."

Asked about his strategy in the eighth when Eddie Mathews bunted with Hank Aaron on first, nobody out and the score 5-4 in favor of St. Louis, he said, "I was going to have him hit away on the next pitch after I saw them charging the plate."

Mathews bunted directly back to the pitcher of the moment, little Jackie Collum, and Aaron was forced at second. Larry Jackson who replaced Collum then struck out Joe Adcock and retired the side on Andy Pafko's foul pop to catcher Ray Katt. That was the Braves' last threat for they went quietly in the ninth, one-two-three.

Brooks, Bucs Want to Play

Rain, Rain Go Away

BROOKLYN (AP)—Did last night's postponement which forced Brooklyn to schedule a doubleheader with the pesky Pittsburgh Pirates today benefit or hurt the Dodgers in their desperate bid to overtake the league leading Milwaukee Braves?

The answer, of course, will be given late today.

Right now, however, there are two schools of thought on the issue.

Walter Alston, manager of the Dodgers, thinks the postponement was a break for his team. On the other hand, Bobby Bragan, the Pittsburgh manager, felt it would hurt the Dodgers.

The decision to call off last nights game, and make this afternoon's schedule game into a twin bill was made by Umpire Jocko Conlan. After consulting with the Weather Bureau, and learning the rain was not expected to let up, Conlan called it off a half hour before game time.

* * *

"I think we're better off playing two tomorrow," Alston said immediately after the postponement, "than playing one tonight and one tomorrow.

* * *

"It gives me a chance to use Sal Maglie against Bob Friend. With due respect to Roger Craig, who was going to pitch tonight, I'd rather have my best going going against Pittsburgh's best."

Either Craig or Clem Labine will pitch the second game," Alston said. Bragan seemed pleased to learn Alston hoped to pitch Maglie against Friend.

"You can tell Mr. Alston that I'll be happy to accommodate him," he said. "Friend against Maglie it is. You can also inform Mr. Alston that Mr. Friend will also be available for relief in the second game. Mr. Friend will also be in the bullpen Sunday."

* * *

Friend has faced the Dodgers five times this season. He has completed all five, winning four and losing one.

* * *

Ronnie Kline was the definite starter for the second game for Pittsburgh with Vernon Law, another righthander, going Sunday. Don Newcombe, who did not come to the park last night because of a heavy cold, is expected to start for Brooklyn Sunday.

Big 10 Steps Up Recruiting

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP)—Big Ten schools have stepped up athletic recruiting to an "unhealty degree" and are spending more money at it than ever before, faculty committee has decided.

* * *

Prof. Marcus Plant of the University of Michigan discussed the committee report publicly for the first time last night in a speech to the University Press Club of Michigan.

Plant said the committee had found "no overt violation of existing conference rules" on recruiting.

* * *

But, he said, "the report makes it clear we have come a long way from what most of us consider the sound principle that the student should select his school on the basis of its educational resources. We must point our steps back toward that principle."

* * *

Plant said the committee found that 246 of the 256 football lettermen on 1955 conference teams were interviewed and screened by university football staffs while they still were in high school.

Mikes, Rams Clash Sunday

St. Frederick's badly crippled Rams and St. Michael's Shamrocks will fight for possession of the Steve Griffin Memorial Trophy Sunday afternoon in a Suburban Catholic League football game at Wisner Stadium. Kickoff time is 2:30 p.m.

* * *

Head coach Gene Wright will field a makeshift lineup due to injuries as the Rams prepare for the 22nd annual battle with their northside rivals. St. Mike has won the last six outings.

Co-captain John Bradley, hampered by a knee injury, may see action at right end for St. Fred, replacing freshman Phil Bierel. Jack Lyon, a speedy sophomore, will get the call at fullback for the Rams.

Bob Mineweaser's only anticipated change for the Shamrocks is the insertion of sophomore Ron Call at an end position in place of Paul Amman. Call snared the touchdown pass that beat St. Benedict last Sunday.

Orchard Lake St. Mary resumes its quest of a 2nd straight SCL title against St. James at Ferndale. Other league games Sunday send Royal Oak, St. Mary to St. Benedict and St. Clement to St. Rita, Shrine meets Lourdes in Detroit.

Hoeft Misses 20th Win In 2-1 Loss to Tribe

CLEVELAND (AP) — The Detroit Tigers labored under a double disappointment today. Hopes of a singlehanded grip on a first division finish are obliterated and southpaw Billy Hoeft has failed to win his 20th game.

A 2-1 loss to Cleveland last night left Detroit two games behind 4th place Boston with only two more to play in the season—both with the second-place Indians.

The most the Tigers can hope for is a tie for the bottom spot in the first division. And to do it they must whip the Tribe today and Sunday, while the Red Sox must lose their last two games with New York. Boston also lost last night to the league-champion Yankees.

Hoeft, hoping to become Detroit's second 20-game winner and the 5th in the American League, had a shutout going until the 6th inning when the Indians staged a two-run uprising on three hits.

Singles by Joe Caffie and Al Smith followed by Al Rosen's sacrifice fly and a double by Rock Colavito accounted for the Cleveland runs.

The lone Detroit run came in the second inning and was unearned.

Frank Lary, Detroit's first 20-game winner since Hal Newhouser turned the trick in 1948, was slated to face another 20-game winner in Early Wynn, Cleveland's knuckleball specialist, in today's game.

A single game tomorrow in Cleveland will wind up the season for both teams.

Giardello Rips Boyd in Kayo

CLEVELAND (AP)—"What makes Joey jump?" Someone asked last night as Joey Giardello leaped joyfully and high above the canvas of the Cleveland Arena ring where Bobby Boyd lay on his stomach, out cold, with blood flowing from his mouth.

The ringside someone said he could understand all that glee if the knockout assured the 26-year-old Philadelphia Italian a shot at Sugar Ray Robinson's middleweight title. But if such a chance does come, it won't be for months.

But to Giardello, the bad boy battling back, that moment at 2:25 of the fifth round was, in his own words, one of the happiest in his life.

Last night Giardello demonstrated speed and conditioning and held the upper hand all the way on the lanky Boyd, rated behind Gene Fullmer of West Jordan, Utah, as No. 2 contender.

Romeo Scuttles Troy at 24-19

BY JERRY BARNFATHER

ROMEO — Romeo captured its 3rd consecutive victory last night by out-lasting Troy, 24-19. The defeat was the first for the visiting Colts with Romeo in full command throughout.

Highlight of the see-saw battle was the running of John Fowler, who sat out two previous contests.

The shifty back accounted for 18 points, with two other touchdown jaunts nullified.

Bulldogs' other tally came in the waning seconds of the 2nd period, with Ray Ritter looping a short aerial to Fran Schapman in the end zone.

* * *

Troy bounced back immediately following the kick-off which Dave Stokes returned to the Romeo 24-yard stripe. Dick Kelly leaped over for the marker from one yard out.

Moments later, Jack Fifield grabbed a kick-off and galloped 90 yards for pay dirt as Romeo's Ted Engdahl substituted freely in the waning moments.

Colts climaxed the scoring with a desperation pass from Dave Stokes to Wayne Figley which covered 85 yards.

Kelley blasted over for the lone extra point.

Maple 11 Wins 12-6 Scramble

BIRMINGHAM — Carl Lemle's Birmingham high Maples ran up against a "one-man team" in the Mt. Clemens Bathers, last night on the home lot here and were lucky to escape with a 12-6 victory. Game marked the start of play in the Eastern Michigan League.

All the way the home club had to battle burly, 175-pound Jack Smooth, who did about everything for the Bathers, Smoot not only made the Bathers' lone TD, but lugged the ball 22 times in the 1st half, passed for several completions and was a big share of the Mt. Clemens defensive lineup.

Both clubs missed several scoring opportunities. Maples were stopped twice near the goal line, the 1st time six inches away as time for the 1st half ran out.

Maples' tallied 1st, early in the first frame on a pass from Dale Burrows to big Bob Isbell in the end zone. The winning marker came in the 3rd period when Tony Evangelista went over from the three. The TD was set up by Jim Sechrist's punt return to the 14. Score followed in five plays.

Viking Harriers Win 2nd Straight Match

Walled Lake Viking harriers six of the first nine runners in yesterday's match at Walled Lake, for an easy 22-35 win, their 2nd straight in three times out. Bill Hosley led the pack against Milford with a time of 10:55 for the two miles. Milford's first man in was Carlton Joerin, in 3rd place.

Other Vikings in the first 10 finished were Charles Wilson (2nd), Bob Schoenberger (4th), Jim Wilson (7th) and Mike Kerrigan and Bob Chettleburgh (9th and 10th).

Obedience Exhibition Set Week from Monday

This will be the group's 2nd year at Bloomfield. The 1955-56 training period was a most successful one, officials report.

Heavy Salvoes on College Gridirons

NEW YORK (INS)—The college football season is under full sail today with national champion Oklahoma and the Big Ten Conferences firing opening salvoes.

The Sooners "risk" a 30-game winning streak against North Carolina in their own back yard and the experts predict Jim Tatum will be no luckier against them as a tarheel than he was as a Marylander in the Orange Bowl.

Bud Wilkinson's machine is picked to win going away but five more of the "top ten" teams run afoul of competition usually reserved for late season.

Two of them should come out winless. Syracuse's 7th-ranked conquerors of Maryland journey to 10th-ranked Pittsburgh and second-listed Michigan State locks horns with 6th-ranking Stanford in California.

Georgia Tech's Sugar Bowl champs, tied with idle TCU for 4th place, will try to escape the fate that befell Notre Dame last week in a night game at Southern Methodist.

Ninth-ranked Michigan provides another early test of Pacific Coast conference vs. Big Ten power by welcoming UCLA while Minnesota goes to Washington and California invades Illinois.

Iowa rides to Indiana in the only conference game, Big Ten champ Ohio State hosts Nebraska, Purdue entertains Missouri, Iowa State heads for Northwestern and Marquette visits Wisconsin.

Other major games include: Auburn at Tennessee, Arkansas at Okla, A&M, Mass. at Boston U., College of Pacific at Kansas, Kansas St. at Colorado, New Hampshire at Dartmouth, Dayton at Holy Cross and Villanova at Detroit in a pair of Sunday games, Duke at Virginia, Idaho at Oregon, Kentucky at Mississippi, No. Carolina St. at VPI, Rutgers at Princeton, Richmond at W. Va., and Texas at Tulane.

250,000 Hunters Are Ready to Open Season Monday

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

An estimated 150,000 hunters will be up before dawn Monday for the opening of the 1956 season on ducks, grouse, small game and deer hunted with bow and arrow.

* * *

The state conservation department predicts duck hunting will be about the same as last year, a good season. Grouse hunters, however, will have less luck.

* * *

Duck hunters will be shooting mostly at native birds. The big flights of Ducks from Canada will not arrive for another three or four weeks.

Dr. S. C. Whitlock, chief of game research for the department, says ruffed grouse are at the bottom of their 10-year cycle although there are reports of numerous birds at Beaver Island, Bois Blanc Island and in the western part of the state.

* * *

The season also opens on sharp-tailed grouse and prairie chicken in the Upper Peninsula, on cottontail rabbits and snowshoe hares, geese, coots, rails, jacksnipes, and woodcock.

* * *

Deer hunting with bow and arrow will be open throughout the state. An estimated 41,000 archers are expected to take part in the bow and arrow season.

Blocked Punt Saves Milford

With all of the soring in the 4th quarter Milford and Northville battled to a 7-7 tie in a wayne-Oakland League game last night.

After a 40 yard pass play from Bud Bell to Bill Yahne, Bob Wagenshultz plunged from the 1 for Northville.

Dick Waters blocked a Northville punt with 2 minutes to play and it was recovered on the two from where Bob Kauppi scored.

Bill Kelley converted.

Giants Tagged as NFL Gets Going

NEW YORK (INS) — A wide open National Football League race opens Sunday with the crystal-ball gazers picking the New York Giants to meet the Chicago Bears in the title game Dec. 30.

The Giants, favored at San Francisco opening day, are viewed as the strongest contenders for Cleveland's Eastern Conference championship.

Jim Lee Howell has reinforced an all-veteran offense platoon and obtained three regulars from other clubs for defense gaps. He's knee deep in quarterbacks too with Chuck Conerly, Don Heinrich and Bob Clatterbuck.

The Browns, who have won 10 straight conference titles good for six league championships since they were founded, are favored to knock off the Chicago Cardinals Sunday. But without quarterback Otto Graham for the 1st time since 1946, the Browns are reduced to just another strong club.

The Bears, who open at Baltimore, failed by half a game to win the Western title last year but they're a stronger club and should wind up on top this time.

Paddy Driscoll takes over the Bears for George Halas, who retired, and is the only new coach expected to come away with a win tomorrow. Hugh Devore, who succeded Jim Trimble at Philadelphia, is the underdog at Los Angeles and Frankie Albert, a replacement for the late Red Strader, may have tough going against the Giants tomorrow at San Francisco.

Detroit Lions, making a strong comeback this season, open at Green Bay in a tossup game and Washington is the choice at Pittsburgh.

FERNDALE — It's an augmented fact that in football you must have possession of the ball to score and also to keep the other team from scoring.

Upset-minded Ferndale followed this truth to the tee in gaining a 7-7 tie against favored Pontiac at the Jefferson Field "dusty bowl" in Ferndale last night.

The Railsplitters played control football in utilizing short dive plays throughout the game.

Pontiac took the opening kickoff and after holding the ball for one minute with three unsuccessful plays, Art Poe punted to Ferndale's 27-yard line.

The Dales never gave up the ball until they scored with only 23 seconds remaining in the quarter. Halfbacks Larry Wepling and Larry Brown hit the line a total of 19 times with Wepling going over from the 1 to score.

* * *

Quarterback Dick Serfozo was the only other Dale to carry the ball in the 1st period and that was for the extra point.

The Chiefs got one play in before the quarter ended, and then marched down to the Ferndale 4 where Jim Shorter fumbled after 3 minutes of the second stanza.

PHS got a break a moment later when Bob McDonald intercepted Serfozo's pass on the 23. Pontiac got to the 1 where a 4th down sneak by Dick Whitmer failed and again Ferndale took over.

* * *

Three plays failed and Jim Dietrich's punt was then blocked by Bob Holloway who fell on the ball in the end zone to give Pontiac a touchdown. Marv Cagle converted and it was 7-7.

Ferndale held the ball most of the second half, seemingly satisfied on picking up 3 and 4 yards at a crack.

A pass by Whitmer to Cagle who stood alone on the 22 yard line was dropped to snuff out Pontiac's lone scoring chance in the 3rd period.

* * *

With 4 minutes left in the game Pontiac got to Ferndale's 31 but after a penalty, incomplete pass and a fumble, the Dales took over and held the ball, getting to Pontiac's 24-yard line as the gun sounded.

To show Ferndale's strategy in holding possession of the ball, the Dales had 54 rushing and 3 pass plays from scrimmage while Pontiac had only 23 rushing plays and six pass plays. Ferndale's longest rushing gain was 8 yards.

The Chiefs were on the offensive for only 19 of the 48 playing minutes.

"We had the opportunities and we couldn't take advantage of them," said coach Ed Grabiel, "and we were lucky to gain a tie out of it."

The defensive work of McDonald, Larry Lamphere and Dick Kors were outstanding factors for Pontiac. The Chiefs found their running game to the outside was more successful than trying to penetrate the stubborn Dale middle line.

Next Friday Pontiac meets the state's second ranked team Bay City Central in the opening of Saginaw Valley play at Wisner Stadium.

55-Yard TD Run

Skippers Nip Abes, 21-19

BY PAUL RIPLEY

A sparkling 55-yard run by halfback Lyndie Salathiel with two minutes left to play gave the Waterford Skippers a 21-19 thriller over Lincoln Van Dyke eleven at Waterford last night. Van Dyke had taken the lead just two minutes earlier.

The Abes again roared back after Salathiel's blockbuster and had a first down on Waterford's 10-yard line when the final gun sounded.

* * *

Waterford picked up the only score of the first quarter when Salathiel tallied from four yards out. Clayton Roth converted.

Tom Thorpe evened the score in the second quarter with a 10-yard run climaxing a 62-yard drive.

After the opening kick-off of the second half, the Skippers hammered to their second touchdown when Terry Kaines plunged from the one. Roth's kick was good.

* * *

Thorpe again led the Abes back as he dove over from the one after another 50-yard drive. Roy Abbott's crucial extra point was wide and Waterford held a 14-13 early in the fourth quarter.

Abbott passed Van Dyke into the lead, hitting Thorpe with a 14-yard pass to put the Abes ahead 19-14 with four minutes left to play. Abbott's placement was blocked by Jim Larkin.

Salathiel's dramatic run came two minutes later to win for Waterford and it was Roth's extra points which proved to be the winning margin.

* * *

The win was Waterford's third in a row; they are host to Farmington next Friday. The loss gave Van Dyke a one win, two loss record.

WATERFORD	7	7	0	7	—21
VAN DYKE	0	7	6	6	—19

The Scoring: WATERFORD—Salathiel 2, Kaines. Extra Points: Roth 3 (placement). VAN DYKE—Thorpe 3 (one on pass from Abbott). E.P.: Abbott (placement).

Dryden Edges Capac, 13-6, to Show 3-0 Mark

Dryden made it 3 straight for the seson by taking a 13-6 squeeker from Capac. The Cardinals are now 2-0 in the Thumb League.

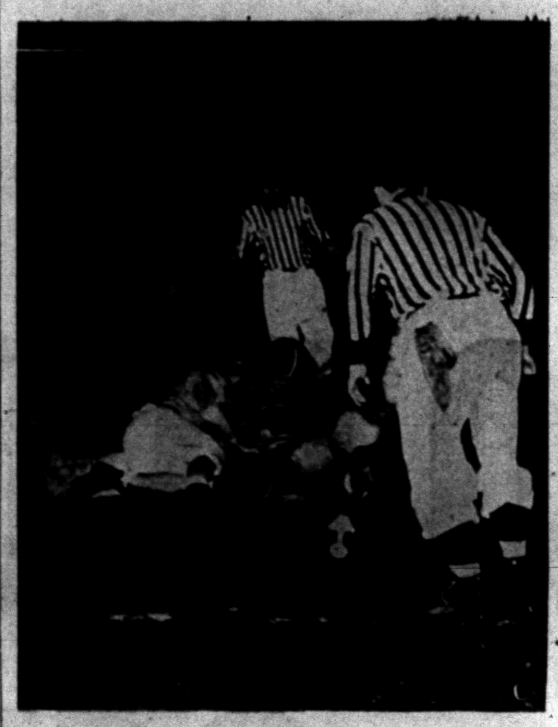

Willy Avery went 35 yards early in the 3rd quarter and then scored the winning TD with a 70 yard dash in the final stanza.

Capac knotted the score at 6-6 when Kobayashi hit 5 yards to score after an 80 yard march.

Curtis Flater who set up the first Dryden score by picking up a fumble, took a pass for the extra point.

OCSC Turkey Shoot

First turkey shoot of the season for OCSC's shotgun and rifle addicts is set for Sunday at the club's ranges. It will be an all-day affar with the running deer target also in action. OCSC's Rifle Club is the sponsor for the shoot.

TD SCRAMBLE — A wild scramble followed this 1st period fumble by a Waterford Skipper, but the suburbanites wound up wtih their 1st TD. Arrow points to the Waterford player, Warren Miksch, hugging the ball that had rolled into the end zone, with every player on both squads in pursuit. Waterford defeated Van Dyke 21-19 in this encounter at Waterford, Friday night.

Holly, Bloomfield Hills Lose

Avondale, Oxford Win Loop Games

By H. GUY MOATS

Area prep football circuits Friday moved into the 3rd week of competition with some surprising results, such as the walloping Avondale's Yellow Jackets handed Madison high, and the close call for Oxford in a game at Millington.

Avondale dumped the Madison outfit 27-7 on the later's gridiron, for its first victory in the Oakland-B loop.

Oxford, a new member this fall in the South Central league, edged Millington 6-0, for its 2nd loop success.

Madison escaped a shutout with a TD by Roy Hill in the final 30 seconds. 'Jackets had sent Sven Blomberg over in the 1st period. Ron Elmy in the 2nd on a pass play. Blomberg on a pass in the 3rd session and Jim Greenless in the finale. Greenless recovered a Madison fumble in the end zone. Two 'Jacket TDs were nullified by penalties.

Oxford's Bob Harris passed to Bill Noles in the 3rd period for a 20-yard TD play, and the victory.

Bloomfield Hills fell victim to a last period surge by Huron Township 14-7 in an afternoon game at Huron. Hurons got two TDs and a safety to offset the Hills' touchdown by Dave Drury and point after by Jim Kearney. It was the Hills' 1st defeat in three games.

New Haven smothered Armada 25-0 with 19 points in the 2nd period and final TD in the 3rd.

Lapeer swamped Owosso 20-7 at Lapeer with Ralph deBeaubien going 70 yards for the 1st marker. Tom Wilson and Dennis Troy accounted for the other tallies. Wilson got two extra points, passed to Troy for the latter's counter.

St. John of Flint edged North Branch 13-6 in a non-league encounter at North Branch.

Holly lost its Wayne-Oakland opener to visiting Brighton, in a 25-19 heart-breaker. Herb Snider, Brighton end, grabbed a long pass with two minutes left of the game, with Holly leading 19-18. Dan O'Brien got two Holly markers, Amos Bradsher the other. Win gives Brighton a 1-1 loop record.

Imlay City dropped its 1st game in three starts last night to Almont, 7-6 when it missed a conversion try in the 1st period. Almont came back in the 4th to get a TD and won on Jim Griffith's kick. Bob Lindsey scored on Larry Dorow's pass in the 1st period, but midway in the finale Alex Illoncia ran 11 yards to tie the count.

John Uloth and Al Dickerson led the Ortonville Blackhawks to their 3rd straight win, a 26-0 shellacking of Flint Hoover. Each collected two TDs and Uloth added a pair of extra points.

Playing its 1st Oakland-B loop contest at Roseville, Clawson Trojans scrambled ahead of their hosts in the last four minutes for a 26-20 victory. ... ...

5 Players Cross Goal

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — Five players scored a touchdown apiece in Grand Rapids Junior College's 32-0 football victory over Joliet (Ill.) College yesterday. It was the second straight win for Grand Rapids.

Miami, So. Cal in Victories

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Don Bosseler, fleet-footed fullback, led Miami to a 14-6 triumph over South Carolina, the team which upset Duke last week. A turnout of 44,184 at the Orange Bowl saw Bosseler gain 97 yards in 22 cracks at the South Carolina line. On Miami's touchdown marches of 66 and 54 yards he continually carried the ball and scored one of the TDs himself.

* * *

Southern Cal whipped Oregon State 21-13 in their Pacific Coast Conference game before 53,714 at Los Angeles. Halfback Jon Arnett gave a brilliant exhibition of running, scoring two touchdowns for USC and helping to set up the third. In addition he booted three conversions.

Ground Attack Too Strong

Vikings Rip Berkley, 34-6

By BILL CORNWELL

A powerful ground attack proved too much for Berkley to handle as Walled Lake opened its drive for an Inter-Lakes Conference football title with a 34-6 victory over the Bears last night at Walled ake.

Striking effectively around the flanks, the Vikings raced into a 21-6 lead at halftime and breezed through the final two periods to hand Berkley's victory - starved team its 12th consecutive setback.

Frank Fink, a swift halfback, was the central figure in Walled Lake's easy win. Fink hit paydirt twice and three other backs each crossed the goal as the Viking land forces pounded Berkley into submission.

Fink scored on end sweeps of 15 and 5 yards, his 2nd touchdown climaxing a 46-yard march. Fullback John Walker tallied on a 17-yard smash through the middle and Don Yeargan chalked up the game's 1st touchdown with a 35-yard jaunt.

* * *

Dick Greig's 43-yard gallop on the last play of the 3rd quarter gave Walled Lake its final TD. Bob DeSormier booted four conversions.

Berkley's only touchdown came in the 2nd quarter when Fritz Eilber bucked over from the one-yard line to complete a 47-yard drive.

Fair Challenger for 100-Lap Honor

Pontiac's Joy Fair will be one of the top challengers for the 100-lap old model championship at Motor City Speedway tonight. He will be in the front line with favorite George Cooper, according to promoter Andy Barto.

Cooper has the pole spot, with other top race drivers lined up according to their point totals.

The Intruder Wins

LEXINGTON, Ky. (INS) — The Intruder, surprise winner of this year's $100,000 Hambletonian stake, returned to the racing wars today by winning a heat of the $7,800 Owen Trot at Lexington, Ky., in 2:02 1-5.

The Cardinals won the National League title eight times.

Clarkston Trims Lakers

By CHUCK ABAIR

CLARKSTON—An injury-riddled but determined Clarkston team overcame a scoring drought of 10 quarters of football, to hammer out a 14-6 victory over West Bloomfield in a Wayne-Oakland tussle last night.

It was the first triumph in three starts for Clarkston which crossed the goal line for the first time this year in the 3rd period.

The Wolves, with a squad sliced to 19 men by injuries, had a fine offensive night sparked by the return of ailing halfback George Lang who tallied both TD's.

It was a scoreless first half, but following intermission the Wolves began a march of 78 yards paced by the running of Lang, Bergy Bergman and Dale Alexander with Lang going the last five.

* * *

The Lakers got their only score following a fumble recovery, with John Lucadem completing the 65 yard march with a 15 yard flip to Larry Hollister. It was 7p6 as the point failed.

Moments later Leroy Parks hit Dubats with a pass, and he lateraled to Lang who went all the way for a 57-yard TD.

Dubats converted both points.

Remodel Barn Into Two Apartments

background for LIVING

BY JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

In Oakland County they do the strangest things with apple barns. Down at Will-O-Way they used to take the apples out "to let the hams in." Out in Milford they took out the apples and put in tenants.

* * *

The Roger Hubbells had an apple orchard and a storage barn on their land. For a number of years they did a thriving apple business every fall. Mrs. Hubbell added an antique shop to break the monotony of just one apple after another.

Then they decided to get out of the apple business and to convert the cement block storage building to some other purpose. Apartments seemed a good idea.

There wasn't much to take out inside. But there were partitions to add, utilities to put in and decorating to do. Walter C. Tressler did the remodeling and the Hubbells and their son, Tom, the painting.

* * *

The work was started in March; the tenants moved in June first. In the front apartment there is a young couple. In the rear apartment, Reed Mathis, a Milford High School teacher, lives.

It was unusual to go into a stranger's home when he was not present, take pictures of his place and try to learn something about him by so doing.

* * *

Mr. Mathis had given Mrs. Hubbell permission to photograph any part of his apartment. The women readers of this page might like to know that it was in apple pie order. Mr. Mathis has been in the Army. He makes square corners on his bed.

* * *

There are three rooms in each apartment. The heavy walls of the apple barn lent themselves well to easy heating. Each apartment has a furnace in a front closet.

Mrs. Hubbell says she fought for lots of closets and plenty of electric outlets. She got both; furthermore, she put lights in the closets!

* * *

Mr. Mathis' living room is almost square. There is a gray rug on the floor, white, black and gold curtains at the windows. One wall is paneled in knotty pine.

* * *

The small black sofa has brass-tipped legs. On it are gray pillows. The white leather armchairs have black corduroy pillows.

The desk is black with a beige plastic top. It is ornamented in brass. The desk lamp is brass with a black shade. The tables and record-book rack are wrought iron. The latter has a glass top. Mr. Mathis' reading lamps are brass with white shades—handsome lamps.

The throw rugs are black and white. The only touch of color in the room came from a bouquet of gladiolus on the television set.

* * *

Walls throughout the apartment are rosy beige. It is a shade that changes color, depending on the kind of light shining on it.

In the kitchen there are red counter tops and birch cabinets finished in a natural tone. All the flush doors are natural birch.

For meals Mr. Mathis has a wrought iron table with a glass top. The center of this top is frosted. The wrought iron chairs have red and white striped seat and back covers. Backs and seats are round.

* * *

The bedroom has one large sliding door closet and one regular closet. Mr. Mathis built bookcases across one complete wall. Here and there, among the books, he has placed a vase or a small piece of statuary. This wall is definitely a decorative feature of the room.

In addition to the ceiling light there are two spot lights for reading; one is near the bed, the other on the bookcase near a modern plastic armchair.

* * *

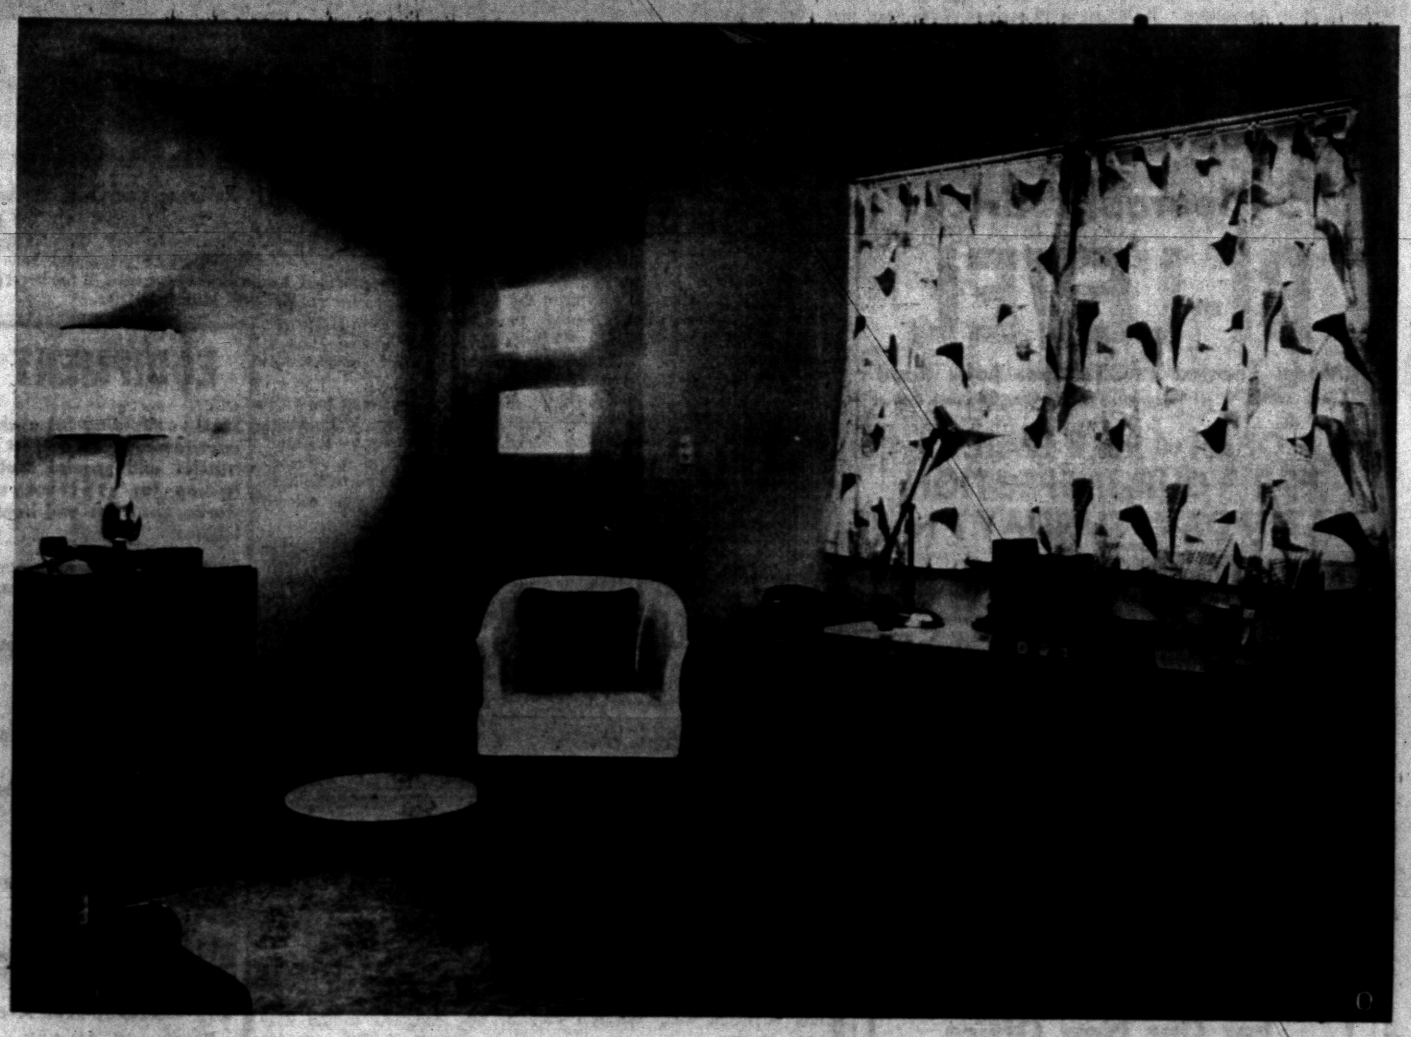

Two chests of drawers are painted gray. The curtains are the same material as those in the living room. The floors throughout the three rooms are covered with a splatter print asphalt tile.

* * *

The outside of the building has been painted, appropriately enough, a barn red. Mrs. Hubbell found some shutters from an old house in Dearborn. These she scraped and sanded, then painted white to match the trim.

Two old hearse lamps have also been repainted and wired for electricity. One of these is mounted on either side of the doors to the two apartments.

Once this sturdy cement block structure on South Milford road held 8000 bushels of apples. Now it is the home of three people who are well content with their apartments. Some day the antique shop next door, says Mrs. Hubbel, will also become an apartment. Then she'll move the antique shop to the chicken coop.

HIS LIVING ROOM IS MODERN — Clear simple lines are in evidence all through the Reed Mathis' apartment, and most especially in the living room. The walls are rosy beige, the rug gray. The white armchair is covered in leather. The record player and TV set are the only two pieces of furniture not strictly modern; but they also have simple lines. The curtains are white with a black and gold design. Lamps are brass.

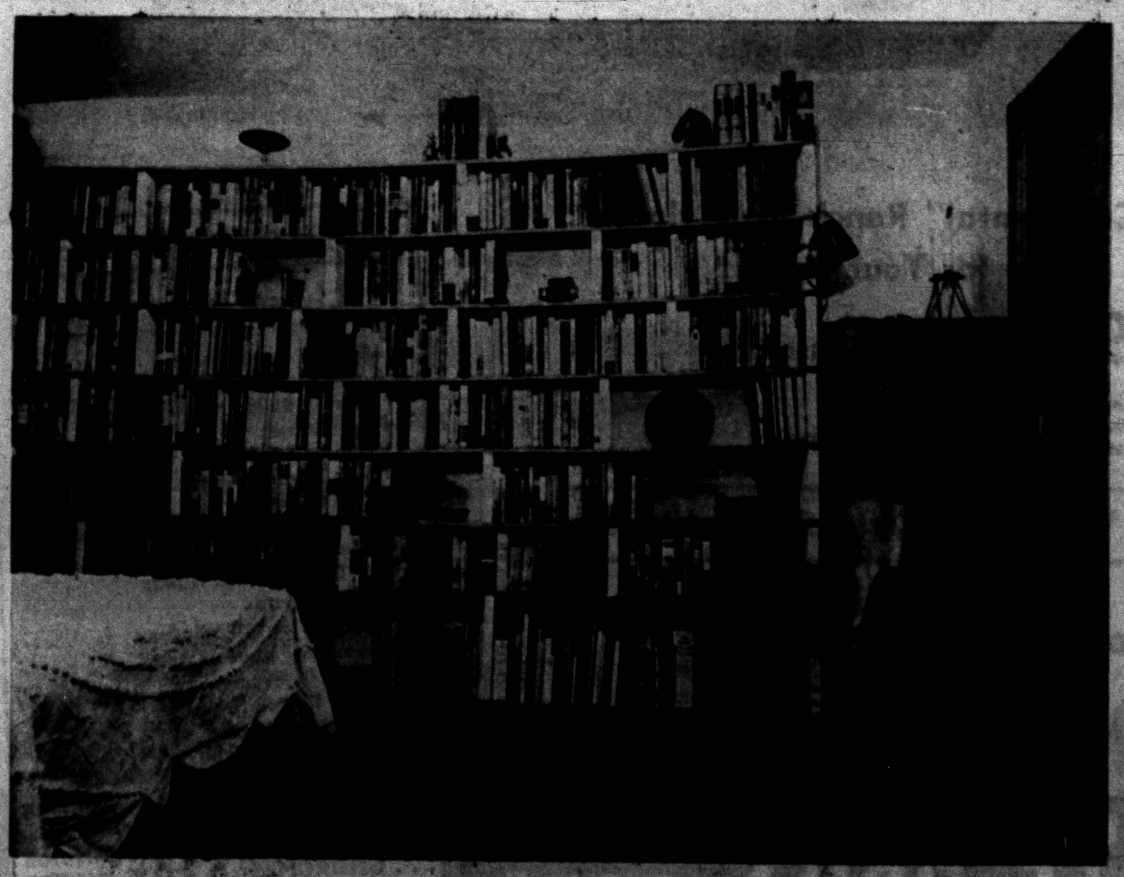

LAST MARCH — Reba Heintzelman, our Milford correspondent, took this picture of the old apple barn last March. Workmen were just beginning the job of converting the structure to apartments. Note the thickness of the walls. This has been an advantage in making the building easy to heat.

Pontiac Press Photos

QUITE A CHANGE! — Mrs. Hubbell stands in front of the "apartment house," made from the apple barn. It is painted a cheerful red — appropriately — with white shutters. Above the door farthest to the left can be seen one of the old hearse lamps Mrs. Hubbell found, cleaned up and had wired for electricity.

HE LIKES TO READ — Mr. Mathis added these bookshelves to the bedroom himself. They reach almost to the ceiling and add a colorful note to the room. A spotlight mounted at one end of the shelves provides light for reading in the gray plastic chair. There is a large sliding door closet in this room.

HE LIKES WROUGHT IRON — This attractive table and chair set in the kitchen is wrought iron with a glass table top. Part of the glass is frosted. The seat covers are red and white striped fabric. In the background is the door to the bedroom. This shows plainly the beauty of the natural birch. The floor has a spatter-print linoleum on it.

Warm Atmosphere Desirable in Home

How do you achieve that feeling of gracious living that some homes seem to have naturally? Is it the architecture or the furnishings, or a combination of factors?

* * *

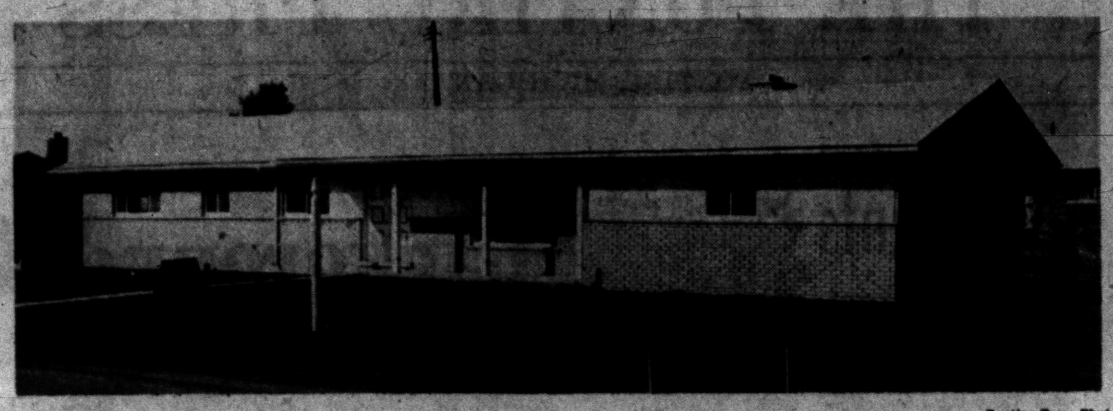

Many helpful suggestions for achieving an atmosphere of warmth in homes through use of western pine paneling are given in a new booklet entitled "Friendly Home Ideas" prepared by the Western Pine Association. It is available free to readers who request it from the Western Pine Association, Yeon Building, Portland 4, Oregon.

Eighty-five illustrations, many in color, give a wide variety of modern and traditional interiors and ideas for clever storage cabinets and closets.

Reflects Sun's Warmth

Owens-Illinois Glass Co., has developed a new prismatic glass block which reflects light and heat from the sun when it is at critical angles.

In the winter, when the sun is at lower angles, the block accepts a higher percentage of the light and in all seasons of the year, the block transmits practically all of the cool ground-reflected light.

COLBERRY PARK MODEL — One of the Bloomfield Township homes being shown is this model above, shown by builder Richard R. Friedman. The homes are located east of Woodward Avenue at Square Lake Road, and are priced at $26,500 and up. The homes have numerous built-in features, and all will have attached two-car garages.

Four Builders Pool Skills to Create Colberry Park

Four Detroit builders pooled their skills and experience to produce the Colberry Park homes being shown in Bloomfield Township daily.

Located east of Woodward Avenue at Square Lake Road, the homes are nestled in rolling land, and offer a variety of designs.

Close to school, shopping and commuter transportation facilities, the area will have winding hard-topped roads, with water and sewer system provided by the builders.

Prices range up from $26,500 for the three and four bedroom homes, which include many custom features.

The four designs are called "Medallion," "Magnifique," "Fountainhead," and "Chateau Royale." Each home will have an attached two-car garage, and all baths have colored ceramic tile plus colored fixtures.

Other features in the homes are built-in ovens, ranges and dishwashers, and garbage disposals. Some of the structures have full basements and paneled kitchen nooks.

Builders of the project are Felix Winsen, Richard R. Friedman, Donald Schwartz, and Sidney Nanes and Marshall Tobin.

Show House at Best

Good use of paint-color can show your house at its best. It can accentuate the best architectural features and conceal the less attractive ones so they will hardly be noticed. If the windows and doors are well placed and in good proportion, they can be painted a color that contrasts to the body of the house. If they are too large, too small, or awkwardly placed, a matching color will bring them into better line.

Use Glass Extensively

Americans use glass containers at a rate of more than 450 per person each year. This includes single-purpose containers and the reusable type used in the beverage and milk industries.

New Product Aids Scarred Tabletops

If the tops of your tables have received rough treatment during the summer and are scarred with light scratches and rings, don't feel that you have to get them refinished.

There's a new product on the market that will help. It's easy to use and comes in a collapsible metal tube.

All you do is squeeze a little on a soft rag and rub the spot or the scratch with the grain of the wood.

When the scar has disappeared or further improvement is impossible, give the table top an application of liquid wax, and it'll be good as new.

Marshmallow Sofas Great for Small Rooms

Marshmallows, once thought of as only candy, make themselves "palatable" in the living room to give equal delight as a loveseat. This eye-catching piece has a seat and back that consists of a series of small circular cushions covered in a bright yellow textured fabric. Giving ideal seating comfort, the "marshmallow" small-scaled sofa lends itself to limited-sized living rooms where "airness" in furnishings is desired.

Detergent Cleans Tile

Many persons clean the ceramic tile floor and wainscots of their bathrooms with ordinary soap and water. This is all right unless you live in a region with hard water. If hard water is used, the soap reacts with the soluble calcium and magnesium salts in hard water to form insoluble scums and films, which dull the beauty of the tilework.

Double Glass Rod Use

Glass towel bars make ideal curtain rods for French doors or casement windows. They will not rust and the smooth surface of the glass prevents snagging or tearing of delicate materials.

HOW TO READ A FUSE — A fuse plug with an "H" shaped filament as shown at the left makes it easy for you to diagnose your trouble when the fuse blows out. When you look through the glass cover and see merely the center of the filament melted away as shown in the center sketch, it means an overloaded circuit. When the glass cover is burned as shown at the right, call an electrician — you have had a short.

Reinforced Glass Roof Might Change Industry

The glass roof—the first major innovation in the roofing industry in 50 years—is promising to revolutionize the industry and put glass atop millions of American buildings within a few years.

* * *

The glass is in the form of porous sheets of fibrous glass containing thousands of tiny glass fibers which reinforce the asphalt in built-up roofs. The fibers are formed into a product called Perma-Ply which was developed by Owens-Corning Fiberglas. This new product was introduced last fall after extensive laboratory development and ten years of experience on the West Coast and in selected localities in all North American climates.

Ever since the advent of built-up roofs (asphalt or tar and reinforcing rag felts over bare wood, steel or concrete) the roofing contractor has faced the problem of applying material which will withstand the ravages of weather.

But the roof always loses the battle. Changes in temperature, rain and other ravages of the weather, over a period of years, damage roofs. Eventually this "skin" wears out and may blister, crack, split, peel and develop pin holes. The owner of the building then finds himself calling a roofing man for a repair or re-roofing job. Perma-Ply insures a better long-term control of these problems which have plagued roofers for many years.

This new glass-reinforced material is put down easily, will take great punishment and costs no more than old-fashioned roofs, according to Harold Aronow, president of the Aronow Roofing Company, a major roofing contractor for over 50 years in Philadelphia and New Jersey.

"I've seen all the major developments in roofing," says Aronow, "but this glass reinforcement concept is certain to capture most of the roofing market within five years."

Calling it "the answer to a roofing man's dream," Aronow explained that some of the country's best known manufacturing plants, hotels, schools, churches, civic centers, bowling alleys, warehouses and other establishments have glass roofs.

"Glass can't burn, rot, crack or deteriorate in any way," says Aronow, "and it is in the roofing field to stay. In fibrous form, together with asphalt, it can reinforce your roof just as it strengthens armored vests for use in wartime or the bodies of today's sports cars and boats."

Conventional roofing felts separates layers of weatherproofing asphalt or tar thus forming planes of weakness in the built-up roof. Weathering and temperature changes result in buckling, warping, blistering and alligatoring.

On the other hand, Fiberglas Perma-Ply is a porous fibrous glass mat: It allows the asphalt to seep through the pores and when the built-up roof is finished it is really a monolithic slab — a single solid mass of asphalt, reinforced throughout by fibers of glass which do not rot and possess exceptional strength.

Take Chill Off Outdoor Water Jobs With Gas

In addition to their big job supplying hot water within the home, household models of gas water heaters are taking up a new task — supplying it for outdoor use. With an outdoor tap, or a hose connection via a cellar window, the householder can speed that car washing or shutter cleaning job.

When mixing valves or faucets are used, it's easy to take the chill off wading pools or hose-shower frolics.

A Mess Is Better

After a party, stack the overflowing ash trays on the sink overnight. Makes a mess to face in the morning, but a mess is better than fire which could start in a wastebasket from smoldering butts.

Brighten Room With Strip Light or Wood Valance

A home improvement project that brightens a room is the installation of valance lighting. In addition to its utilitarian aspects, the new lighting can be an excellent decorative feature, particularly if it is shielded by a valance made of natural hardwood.

* * *

Fluorescent fixtures of the desired length are applied to the ceiling, about nine inches out from the wall if the lighting is over window drapes.

Unless you are a skilled home electrician, you would be well advising to turn over the wiring to a professional—but you can install the valance.

It should be about seven inches in depth to hide the fixture. Lumber core hardwood plywood, ¾-inch thick, does the job both structurally and decoratively. The species can be chosen to match your hardwood furniture, whether it be birch, mahogany, maple, oak or walnut. If the valance is to be painted, gum plywood should be used. It will take paint without grain raise and without need of a filler.

The valance also can match other hardwood plywood installations such as flush doors, wall paneling or built-in cabinets. In making built-ins, you would also use ¾-inch-thick hardwood plywood, and oftentimes there will be leftover pieces to handle smaller jobs like a valance.

PLASTIC DISPOSAL CAN — A versatile new new step-on disposal can, made of Bakelite polyethylene, combines the advantages of being silent, non-breakable, sanitary and colorful. It is light in weight, easy to clean, and its soft resilient surface will not mar adjacent furniture or floors. The sanitary liner has an eight-quart capacity—ample for the average household and easily emptied. Pedal-operated lid, liner and outer can together weigh about three and one half pounds and the unit is about 12 inches high. The new disposal can with molded-in colors makes a bright, attractive addition to any kitchen or bathroom. The outer can is available in red, yellow, turquoise, blue or pink. The cover is white and the liner is frosted polyethylene. The new disposal can is ideal for use in a nursery or sickroom since the closing of the lid is practically noiseless. In addition, the watertight, easy-to-rinse out liner will hold 10 baby diapers (left photo). A quick cleaning in hot water with soap or detergent is all the maintenance that is necessary. The resilient can eliminated by making the liner all in one piece without seams (right photo).

Use for Coffee Cans

Save your empty coffee cans—the ones with the wide openings. They make good storage containers for nails, screws and other cellar items. They're good, too, as paint cans when two or three of the family are working out of the same gallon.

Gas Gives Good Glow

Steady sales, year after year, attest to the popularity of gas heaters made in the form of fireplace logs. Their cheery glow never is diminished by an empty wood box, and can be enjoyed by many who would have to undertake expensive masonry construction to have a real wood-burning fireplace.

Seek to Ease Tight Mortgage Market

The National Association of Real Estate Boards applauds as a constructive move the steps taken recently by the Administration to ease the tight mortgage market, Clarence M. Turley, St. Louis, president of NAREB, commented.

* * *

"They are particularly welcome because they are focused on relief for the home seeker of modest income who has been hardest hit by the money situation and whom the real estate industry has always sought to serve well," he said.

"These four steps involving three separate government agencies made in unison should have a decided psychological effect in dispelling signs of apprehension that the nation may be in danger of overbuilding.

"Studies have shown that three of the most important elements conducive to home ownership are present in our economy:

"1. The highest rate of employment in history.

"2. The highest wages in history.

"3. A strong demand and desire for home ownership.

OUTLOOK BRIGHTEN

"The action of the federal government to reduce the prime barrier coupled with these three factors, should brighten the outlook considerably for home seekers and contribute to the healthy advance of the National economy," Turley declared.

1. Sellers of home mortgages to the Federal National Mortgage Association will be required to buy the Association's stock at the rate of only 1 per cent of the value of the mortgage sold, instead of 2 per cent as previously.

2. The Federal National Mortgage Association will issue advance commitments to buy home mortgages at prices more favorable to the seller than heretofore (94 instead of 92).

Press House of the Week Features Ranch Comfort

ONE STORY HOME IS TOPS — One-story ranch homes continue to be tops. This one has stone veneer, vertical siding and handsplit shakes for its interior. They give the house its distinctive appearance.

BIG KITCHEN FEATURED — Abundant cabinet space, built-in oven with separate top burners, an electric sink and a wide window facing the backyard feature this big kitchen.

SPACIOUS PLANNING — Look at all the room in this convenient plan. There is a separate dining room, a walk-in pantry, three bedrooms, a study and two and a half baths. No basement is needed in this house.

A one-story house, planned to show why the so-called ranch house has stolen the spotlight from more economical two-story styles, is featured as Design HW-18 for The House of The Week.

* * *

Luxuries made possible by the single floor layout are packed into this design. Herman H. York, architect specializing in private dwellings, says he planned HW-18 "an an explanation for the continued hold of the ranch house on first place in all surveys."

The split-level is in second place, the architect admits, and there are signs of a strong comeback nationally for the two-story house. But the one-story plan, in spite of its larger land requirements, is the style most people are building in all parts of North America.

Many reasons for this popularity are apparent in HW-18. One of the most important and the least noticeable in this plan is the practicability of basementless construction. This can be a distinct economic advantage. It fits the house to every climate and makes savings in excavation possible in any location, whether the lot is low and has water handicaps, or high and embedded with rock problems.

HIGHLIGHTS

One-story homes are naturals for building over big basements, part basements, shallow crawl spaces, or on a concrete slab on the ground.

Building costs differ from one city to another, from one side of town to another. Eliminating a basement may cut $1 per square foot from the cost of a house in some areas. The quality of materials used can be a big factor.

The architect who designed HW-18 estimates that it could be built for about $14 per square foot, with basement, in the New York suburban area. The house covers 2,050 square feet without garage, measures 65'8" wide and 40'8" deep. A two-car gaarge adds 19'8" to the width as shown on the plan.

Highlights of Design HW-18, which illustrate some of the general disadvantages of one-story planning, include:

1. A central foyer which not only commands sweeping views of the living area, but also provides direct access to all bedrooms without any stairs to climb.

2. Lavatory facilities are convenient to every room in the house without having bathrooms removed by half a flight or a full flight of stairs.

* * *

3. A spacious living area that would be difficult to contrive in a standard two-story house—including a 26-foot living room with a broad bowed window and two-way fireplace. This room continues on into a large study or family room and it opens into a dining room facing the rear garden.

* * *

4. A 33-foot garden terrace with a glass door opening from the dining room and another door from the master bedroom.

5. A 25-foot kitchen that skimps on no space for luxury of appointments. It has a semi-circular breakfast nook and a big walk-in pantry.

6. Two service entrances — one in front of the garage, between study and kitchen and leading directly to stairs to the basement, if you have one; the other in the garage with a service hall adjoining lavatory, laundry and kitchen.

* * *

7. An exterior that is long, low and charming in appearance, making the house look as though it grew on its site.

Any practical home builder can build this house without a basement. It can be built over a crawl space or on a concrete slab without change in the layout. Space occupied by the cellar stairs will take a modern heating or air conditioning plant adjacent to the chimney, provide for a hot water storage tank and still allow for surplus storage.

With the laundry already located on the main floor, another necessity for basementless planning is taken care of.

The third provision needed when omitting a basement is additional storage space. The garage corner allotted to garden tools on this plan makes a fine place for storage cabinets with close to 200 cubic feet capacity.

"This is not a luxury house," says Architect York. "It has no maid's room or other servant quarters. It is a house for a modern family. It's planned throughout for easy housekeeping. Wide kitchen windows give the mother full supervision of her children playing in the backyard. It is a size of house that is becoming steadily more popular throughout the United States and Canada — not too small, not too large."

But it is not a low-cost house. It covers an area of 2,050 square feet without its two-car garage—an adjunct that is figured separately at lower rates in building estimates. The width of the house is 65 feet, 8 inches. The garage stretches this out to more than 85 feet. It's the type of house that calls for a half-acre or so in grounds. But the architect contends:

"Modern highways and modern motor cars, combined with rising taxes in crowded communities, are prompting families to move farther into the country, where they can enjoy the freedom of elbow room."

In many ways this plan glorifies the ideals expressed by housewives at the Women's Congress on Housing in Washington last spring. They wanted, when they could afford them, three-bedrooms, more than one bathroom, a separate dining room, a family room, a kitchen on the rear with a window overlooking the backyard, a main floor laundry, a clean-up lavatory near the back door, plenty of closet space, a basement in some locations, no basement in others.

All of those features and more are included in HW-18.

Lighted Valance Gives Home Spacious Look

Have you ever wished that some good fairy godmother could wave a magic wand over your living room, dining room or bedroom and suddenly make it appear more spacious?

* * *

Today's trend toward smaller more compact houses leaves many a homemaker wishing that her rooms didn't look "quite so small" in spite of the many advantages to compact living.

A new type of magic—lighted window valances that almost seem to push back the walls and create an air of spaciousness, are now within the reach of th average household budget.

Not only do these new lighted valances add a fresh decorative touch to rooms but also, they serve the very practical purpose of giving generous amounts of soft general lighting throughout the room.

STYLES BLEND

Several ready-made styles now available are designed to blend with modern or traditional decorating schemes. They are completely wired and need only be attached to windows and plugged into the nearest electrical outlet to operate.

For the home handyman there are valance units completely wired and equipped so that a shielding board fashioned in the basement workshop may be used.

* * *

Other styles have their own smart shielding face boards in wood or plastic that are quickly fastened in place as illustrated in the photograph at the top right above.

Whatever style of lighted valance you choose, be sure that the inside of the face board is painted white to reflect the most light, advise General Electric home lighting specialists.

This is particularly important for those who build their own shielding boards.

Keep in mind, too, that your own ingenuity can often give any lighted valance a personal touch to harmonize with your personal decorating scheme.

* * *

Shielding boards on valances may be painted to match or contrast with walls; covered with paper or fabric; or, as one clever homemaker did, covered with wide upholstery fringe as shown at the lower right above.

Use Enameled Bulbs to Softly Diffuse Light

To avoid the same harsh lighting effect of bare, unshielded bulbs, choose lighting fixtures with frosted, ceramic-enameled or opal glassware. There types of glass shields softly diffuse the light for most comfortable, easy-on-the-eyes lighting.

Clear or thinly frosted glass can't possibly "smooth" the light and conceal the bare bulb. Avoid those heavily painted or other heavy glassware that are so dense the light actually can't get through.

MAKE IT IN SECTIONS

Center shelves with curved end sections added make a credenza to fit any wall space. Pattern 270, which gives an actual-size cutting guide and illustrated directions for making the three sections from stock sizes of lumber, will be mailed for 25c. This pattern is one of five in the Complete Living-Room Packet for $1.

Painting in Light Brings Out Artist in Housewife

Most everyone will agree, there's something of an artist in every woman. Especially when she's choosing colors for home furnishings, make-up, clothing, or even color combinations she most prefers in the family car.

* * *

Now, she can even "paint with light." General Electric's new "Coloramic" line of "Sky Blue," "Dawn Pink," "Sun Gold," and "Spring Green" bulbs gives her a completely new choice of color in light. By merely changing all the light bulbs in a room to a set of the new colored bulbs, today's modern homemaker can create changes in color, atmosphere and seasonal effects.

This totally new way to achieve even more glamour in home lighting at last makes it possible to change the decor of rooms with light, according to Eugene W. Commery, General Electric home lighting authority who has spent many years researching family lighting needs and opportunities for combining lighting glamour with good seeing.

Whether she chooses "Dawn Pink" which gives an intimate feeling to her room; "Sun Gold" that glows like sunset; "Spring Green" with its soft, cool result as gentle as this verdant season, or "Sky Blue" with its cool, soft yet flatteringly warm effect, colors in the room's decor will remain related to colors as you remember them under ordinary light.

The change is one you feel as well as see, because room colors are vitalized and made more interesting.

* * *

Now, with the new "Coloramic" bulbs which are luscious pastels when unlighted and give soft tinted light when turned on, homemakers can transform translucent white shades into harmonizing pastel tones with the mere flick of a switch. Best of all, the average living room can be transformed with light for a new personality with a complete set of bulbs for about $1.50.

Gas Heating Enjoys New Success Among Builders

In days of old, heating considerations exercised a strong influence over building design. Now it's the other way around, and the most sought-after fuel for central heating — gas — owes its popularity in large part to the fact that it can provide perfectly for whatever anyone has to build, or modernize.

* * *

Whether it's a long, one-story ranch house or a compact Cape Codder, a rambling old mansion or a new efficiency cottage, there's gas central heating equipment ideal for it.

The three "branches" of this central heat family are gas-fired furnaces, boilers and conversion burners.

All start with one big advantage in common — that the fuel they burn does not have to be stored. All benefit from the advantage that gas can be piped easiy to any part of a dwelling, and burns without dust or smudge nuisances. Moreover, because flue temperatures are lower than in the case of other fuels, it often is possible to make substantial savings through elimination or reduction of masonry work.

GAS FURNACES POPULAR

Gas furnaces, particularly those of the forced warm air type, have enjoyed spectacular growth. Their extreme compactness and economy has made them popular in small homes, and they've invaded bigger dwellings too. In the latter multiple furnace installations sometimes are made, permitting different degrees of temperature in different parts of the house.

Gas furnace blowers, ducts and filters can do double duty as parts of an air conditioning sistem. Whole-house air conditioning often is installed with a gas furnace, or it may be an add-on-later proposition. In any event, the compactness of gas equipment, and the fact that it can be installed in almost any spot selected, greatly facilitates the air conditioning operation.

* * *

Gas-fired boilers, too, are highly compact, and can become attractive parts of modernized basements. Steam and hot water systems fired by gas can meet the highest standards of comfort and convenience in any type dwelling, and with a wide variety of heat outlet equipment. Currently baseboard installations are proving especialy popular.

Super-efficient gas boilers are credited by many for the "comeback" of hot water heat in some sections where its use had diminished. Many hot water heat systems are equipped with water chilling devices to provide summer air conditioning.

The home owner who wishes to change from another fuel to gas often may do so at surprisingly low cost by merely replacing part of his present system with a conversion burner. While retaining most other features of his existing plant, he gains the advantages of the engineering and technical skill which have gone into perfecting gas combustion.

Wherever natural gas has become available in sufficient quantity there has been a swift upsurge in gas central heating. For the country as a whole, seven out of 10 new dwellings have gas heat, and in some sections it's practically 10 out of 10. Vast pipeline construction and underground storage projects are constantly making gas heat available to more home owners.

Building Contracts Up From Year Ago

DETROIT — Contracts awarded for future construction in Southern Michigan in August reached $117,121,000 or 36 per cent higher than August 1955, Marvin J. Brokaw, district manager of F. W. Dodge Corporation, reported today. This was the biggest dollar volume of awards for any August ever recorded.

According to Dodge Reports, individual August awards by major construction categories showed: total building classifications at $97,012,000, up 32 per cent over August 1955; and in addition, heavy engineering at $20,109,000, up 54 per cent over the like month 1955.

The cumulative total award figure for the first eight months was $912,315,000 or eight per cent above the like 1955 total. This was also a record first eight months dollar volume Brokaw stated.

Individual first eight month categories compared with the like totals of 1955 showed: total building classifications at $753,814,000, up two per cent; and in addition, heavy engineering at $158,501,000, up 52 per cent.

Use Leftover Wall Paneling

Scraps Have Many Practical or Decorative Values

After completing a wall-covering job with Marlite predecorated hardboard panels, don't throw away the scraps; the leftovers can be put to many practical uses.

* * *

A circle or square in an attractive marble finish makes a perfect base for a flower vase. Moisture resistant, it will remain beautiful for years. Ordinary carpenter's tools may be used to cut the desired shape.

Small storage cabinets may be easily fitted with sliding doors made of scraps. Small-size quarter-round molding can be used for tracks.

Pantry shelves lined with this paneling will save a busy housewife many hours of cleaning time. A damp cloth removes all dust and food stains in a jiffy.

A decorative touch is added to the Marlite-paneled kitchen when shelves of cabinets are lined with leftover scraps. If desired, scalloped shelf edging may be added. An ordinary coping saw will do the work easily.

USE AS SPLASH PANEL

Leftover pieces from a wall or ceiling installation can be used as a splash panel at the kitchen sink or behind the bathroom lavatory. They are applied easily with a strong-bonding adhesive.

Stationary laundry tubs may be converted into laundry sorting tables or hobby work areas with leftover pieces. A one-by-two lumber framework, built to fit the inside dimensions of the tub, then fastened to a large square of Marlite, will hold the work table surface in place.

Window sills which receive so much abuse in the average home can be protected by covering them with leftover pieces of this material.

Besides matching the room's decor, the window sill will be protected from damage caused by using the sills for shelves. A damp cloth will pick up spilled liquids. Rain can't hurt the plastic-sealed surface.

A large piece of the predecorated hardboard, left over from a wall installation, can be used as a cover for an unused fireplace. A frame of one-by-two lumber, made to fit the fireplace opening, may be attached to the back of the Marlite panel, holding it snugly in place.

HOMES FOR AMERICANS

A NEW TYPE SPLIT-LEVEL — This house has two stories in front, one story in the rear, with a living room ceiling rising with the roof slope. A balcony on the bedroom level overlooks the living room. This is plan Y-7469AP by Herman H. York, architect, 90-04 161st St., Jamaica 32, N. Y. The house covers 1,140 square feet without its two-car garage, which is figured separately at a lower building rate. It can be built without a basement by locating a modern horizontal heating plant in a crawl space.

Reveal Russian Plumbing Too Old

Russian plumbing is 50 years behind ours, concluded Ed Schiller, a Midwestern plumbing contractor, on his recent return from a three-week inspection tour of Russia and satellite nations. He made the trip with other American building industry laders.

For example, they pointed out, most Russian buildings smell of sewer gas, because waste-pipe joints are sealed with a compound that breaks even before use.

Standard U. S. practice since the early 19th century has been the installation of cast iron soil pipe with lead-oakum joints. These provide both strength and flexibility even during earthquakes and floods.

One particularly destructive tornado that made headlines across the country recently leveled many buildings. A widely published photo showed a pile of rubble that had been a church with the main cast iron soil stack still standing.

Brighten Long Wall Expanses

A common problem among homemakers today is how to make long stretches of wall area interesting and livable.

* * *

Here's how one homemaker solved the problem—and it may offer ideas for you. Assembling "ingredients" as if she were baking a cake, she found she had:

1. A large expanse of uninteresting wall;
2. A need for interesting placement of the family musical instrument, the chord organ;
3. A need for shelves for books;
4. A need for a writing ara;
5. Not much money to spend.

The solution was simple, easy and inexpensive. Metal shelving strips were attached to the wall above the chord organ. Shelves for books and accessories were added. A concealed light tube was attached to the underside of the bottom shelf to provide playing light for the chord organ.

Finally, the writing desk was placed at right angles to the book and music nook to make a new grouping that had good decorating knowhow, inviting utility, and a warm appeal for both family and friends.

* * *

It's an idea adaptable to a small wall space, or a section of a long wall. A recessed area can be used, but is not necessary to create this livable use of wall space.

A lady in Baltimore was distressed but not defeated when a stand of cedar trees on her property died three years ago. She had them sprayed with a thin green enamel, and they still stand today, giving her pleasure in their attractive new garb.

NEW SCISSORS — An amazingly comfortable grip, which eliminates "finger fatigue" and eases the toughest cutting jobs, is the outstanding feature of a new line of scissors and shears being offered for home, office and school use. A cushioning effect is produced by coating the handles with a foamed plastisol based on Bakelite vinyl resins. Soft and resilient to the touch but not slippery, this coating adheres firmly to the forged steel. The new line includes blunt scissors, sewing scissors, straight shears and bent shears in a variety of sizes from five inches to eight inches long (left photo). The plastisol coating is available in blue, yellow, green and red. Since the color is dispersed throughout the foam, it will not wear off with use. For the home sewer, the new coating means the end of indentations in the thumb and forefinger produced by unyielding metal pressing against the skin (right photo). According to the manufacturer, the rings of the new scissors and shears are not rough on the fingers even when used for lengthy cutting jobs.

Convert Table, Desk to Family Work Center

Most homes commonly lack one important thing—a family work center for all sorts of hobbying tasks, the children's homework and Mom's sewing. Such a center may be built by the home handyman to meet specifications, but usually it's easier to convert an old desk or table.

* * *

Such a desk or table will be an asset to the home if its scarred and battered surfaces are refurbished with an attractive covering such as predecorated hardboard.

It is available at lumber yards and building materials dealers in a wide variety of attractive pastel colors, eight wood grain patterns and five marble patterns.

Covering the desk or table with this hardboard, available in planks, blocks and panels, is an easy task since it may be worked with ordinary carpenter's tools.

APPLY ADHESIVE

A special adhesive with which the panel is applied provides an excellent bond. Simply cut the panel to fit the desk or table areas to be covered ,and apply. A wide assortment of molding for edges and corners is available.

Leftover pieces may be used to build a cabinet on the top of the new home work center.

* * *

The cabinet could hold Mom's needles and thread, the children's pencils, erasers and paper, and Dad's stamp album or ship-in-a-bottle. Sliding doors made of it will help keep the center neat.

Floor Coverings Steal Home Furnishings Show

NEW YORK—Bound to be a fall redecorating step in the right direction this year is the one that leads across a new floorcovering.

Among the pleasant surprises that greeted visitors to the 1956 National Homefurnishings Show, which recently concluded a 16-day run at the New York Coliseum, was the way in which floorcoverings held the spotlight as the focal point of interest in so many exhibits.

Never before, it seems have the floorcoverings manufacturers devised so many fresh, new ways of achieving elegance underfoot—in carpets, rugs, or hard coverings fashioned from natural or man-made resilient materials.

The versatility of vinyl and similar plastics was among the most gratifying of floorcoverings trends to emerge from the homefurnishings shows. Effectively simulated in plastics were the richness of parquet, marble, mosaic tiles and ceramic patterns, and the sparkle of gold, silver, copper and other metal tones.

OUTDOOR EFFECTS USED

Significant, too, was the prevalence of outdoor effects that created a spacious illusion in the small room. Most unique of these was a "Floor of Flower,s" used in a breakfast room setting, in which multi-colored metal "flowers" were inlaid in an all-white vinyl floor by William Gold.

Another illustration of the dramatic possibilities of white as a background color was offered by decorator Ellen McCluskey in a room she designed for Franchot Tone. Here, the floor suggests the random width and peg construction of early American flooring. The planks are of white vinyl, outlined by dividers and simulated nail heads in black.

At the Armstrong Cork Company exhibit—showing a family room that converts into a formal dining room—the flooring had to be practical enough for the hard wear of family recreation, yet elegant enough to grace a dinner party.

The choice was ivory mosaic plastic sheet flooring, in a pattern adapted from hand-crafted mosaic tiles. Small squares of browns, tans, blues and greens, scattered over an ivory background, gave the floor a rich, textured effect.

Texture figures importantly in the rug and carpet department as well. How a rug can elevate the quality of an entire room, yet remain unobtrusive, was illustrated at the homefurnishings show by decorator Hector Grant in a man's study for actor David Wayne.

Handsome in a masculine sense was the specially designed rug—a blending of coarse, tweedy textures in yellow, tete de negra and off-white.

Area rugs, too, were shining lights from the floorcoverings presented. Sheer luxuriousness was the effect of a lush rectangle of vicuna in a dressing room for Gwen Verdon executed by Beverly Reitz. Decorator Barbara Joseloff chose two white nylon "fur" rugs as dramatic exclamation points on a deep, wine color lacquered floor in a bedroom setting.

Home Builders Depend on Satisfied Buyers

A builder's job is finished when the buyer signs the sales agreement. Is this statement true or false?

The answer to that question depends on whether the builder wants to continue selling homes in the same community. One way to insure a sound reputation—and sustained sales volume—is to continue an interest in the buyer and his satisfaction with the product.

Tell him, for example, how to take care of permanent materials. One instance — clean ceramic tile surfaces with detergent and water instead of hiding its natural beauty under waxes or polishes and spoiling its ideal walking surface.

Sees Comeback of Basements

Basements are staging a comeback that is remarkable in its scope.

* * *

More than half of all new homes started in the latest months for which figures are available included basements, according to the U.S. Bureau of Labor Statistics.

* * *

This is turnabout of the trend toward basementless homes which developed immediately following World War II when materials were scarce and speed to get shelters up were motivating forces in home building.

* * *

In commenting on this sensible return to the more useful homes with basements, H. V. Simpson, national lumber authority, said the basement in a single-story home almost doubles usable floor space and at a cost of not much more than ten or fifteen per cent over the slab type floor.

SEVERAL METHODS

There are several ways to build basements to get additional living space at low cost, Simpson points out. By exposing the basement three or four feet above ground level, the windows will provide plenty of light for playrooms, bedrooms, utility rooms.

The ordinary joist-type floor of Douglas fir or west coast hemlock forms an adequate ceiling structure which can be paneled in a variety of woods.

Basements solve several problems which were readily apparent in the tiny one-floor home of post-World War II. They give that extra storage space for trunks, luggage, old furniture, lawn furniture and garden tools.

* * *

They also generally have room for a warm work shop and a place where the general handyman can do ordinary repair work on screens, doors, furniture and tools.

* * *

The housewife has a main floor of wood to walk on which is easy on her feet and saves backache and foot trouble.

TRANSFORMED WALL — A concrete block wall pierced with glass block creates a handsome, yet functional, combination of materials in a modern home. Soft daylight floods the area and lends a cheery note to the interior. Of special interest is the pair of glass block set at the base of the rock wall to daylight growing plants. Effective use of modern materials, sometimes in the simplest manner, can transform an ordinary decor into a value of beauty — with permanence.

Sleep Strategy Needed to Plan Baby's Nursery

The new baby will sleep better—and so will his parents—if care is taken in planning his nursery. A little sleep strategy can make the room one which even the most stubborn sandman won't be able to resist.

* * *

Although there are many whims which the proud parents may want to indulge in baby's bedroom, good, practical furniture should be the first consideration. Of all the pieces of furniture, however, the crib is by far the most important, for here the infant will spend most of his time, asleep or awake.

For baby's health as well as his disposition, a firm, level crib mattress is essential. In addition to eliminating much fitful tossing, turning and squalling by promoting truly restful sleep, a good mattress will give proper support to his still-developing muscular and skeletal structure and help him to grow straight and strong.

Since the constant use given a mattress by one child will cause even the best to lose its firmness and levelness, hand-me-downs should be shunned. The new mattresses provide plenty of eye appeal as well as comfortable service, for they have colorful, gay water-proofed tickings.

In decorating the nursery, parents should be sure to choose a restful color scheme of light pastels that will not over-stimulate the child's emotions. the ceiling should be a soft-non-glaring color that won't reflect light in his eyes, to help save time in keeping everything spotless and germ-free, all items in the room—including furniture, curtains, rugs, and wallpaper —should be washable.

Brighten Up Doors

Doorknobs and escutcheons can become smart accents on a colored door.

If they are solid brass, remove them, give them a high polish and then finish with lacquer to prevent them from tarnishing. If they are plated and worn beyond hope of polishing, remove them and paint them with a good grade of enamel, which will wear for a long time.

Poor Mattress May Cause Back Trouble

More than 30 per cent of all of the people in the United States have bone and joint structure in their backs that isn't normal, according to medical authorities. The majority of them were born with it.

However, doctors reassure, the fact that their backs are different shouldn't cause most of them any serious trouble — provided they don't strain or injure their backs.

It's well to remember that backaches can be both caused and aggravated by worn-out or inferior bedding. Consequently, bed boards are a poor solution. They do nothing to change the lack of support in a poor mattress — they simply cancel the action of the bedspring.

* * *

Anyone plagued with frequent backaches should consult a specialist. If a thorough examination reveals no injuries, his best bet is to try switching to extra-firm bedding which provides additional support and helps take the strain off of "weak" backs. Extra-firm mattresses are now carried by nearly all dealers.

When you have to remove paint from a vertical surface, use a paste type of paint remover rather than a liquid one—it won't run down and make a mess.

Have Contract With Plumber

Plan Should Cover 8 Points, Says Industries Bureau

If you are installing a new bathroom, modernizing plumbing, or building a new house, it's wise to have a separate and specific contract with the plumber.

* * *

Some points that should be covered in such a contract have been listed by the Plumbing and Heating Industries Bureau, as follows:

1. A legal form of contract, selected and signed by owner and plumber.

2. Before contract is signed, the plumbing contractor should submit proof that he carries compensation and liability insurance to cover injury to a workman or other who happened to be on the premises. An owner also can ask for special fire insurance and the contractor's bond guaranteeing performance and materials for one year.

WORK WITH PLANS

3. Contract term should call for all work to be done in accordance with an approved set of plans and specifications.

* * *

4. A plan showing the location of all plumbing fixtures and equipment, should also show the location and size of piping for sewers, soil stacks, vent, wastes and water supplies. Such a plan is handy for any future work done by another plumber.

* * *

5. The kind, type and quality of materials should be specified.

6. Valve locations should be shown and tagged.

* * *

7. After work is completed, the plumber should show proof that it complies with local plumbing codes —a crtificate of inspection and approval from local authorities.

8. The contract should provide for the method of payment, after the work has been finished and approved.

The contractor should give the owner a waiver of lien to insure that all labor and materials supplied by the contractor have been paid for in full.

Twin Beds Offer Healthier Sleep

"The modern girl sleeps in a single bed instead of with her sister in a double one," a national magazine reported 50 years ago. This sudden knowledge that sleeping alone is more restful and hygienic may have been the beginning of the great swing toward twin beds.

The trend has grown to such proportions that twin beds now outsell double beds 6 to 4.

The reason for the ever-increasing popularity of the twin bed is that more and more couples are discovering double beds aren't large enough for two. For thorough relaxation and comfortable rest, doctors recommend everyone should have a sleeping space at least 39 inches wide (the width of a twin bed). Half of a double bed, however, is only 27 inches.

Twin beds have other advantages too. Solo sleeping permits each person to have the kind of bedding he prefers. A woman may sleep on a soft mattress while her husband uses a firm one. she can pile blankets high while he dozes under one thin cover. And, blanket-snatching is eliminated.

Most popular among today's young marrieds are twin beds with a single headboard to give them a double bed look. They provide proximity and individual sleeping comfort at the same time.

Easy Wall Cleaning

When cleaning rough plaster walls use the dusting brush of the vacuum cleaner, if they are not greasy. If they are, wash with a mild soap and water and rinse with clear water.

WOOD BASKET — To enjoy a fireplace, you need to have plenty of wood on hand. It's no fun to have to go outside in the cold to get more logs every time the fire burns low. The thing you need is a wood basket that will hold an evening's supply. One like you see pictured here with N B C's lovely television actress Pamela Jayson. Building this wood basket is no trick at all when you use the full size pattern. All you need do is trace the pattern on wood, then saw out the parts and finally put them together. Simple hand tools are all that you need. To obtain the full size wood basket pattern No. 78 send 25 cents in coin to Steve Ellingson, Pontiac Press, Van Nuys, California.

Checking Roof Regularly Saves Time, Trouble

Trouble with most roofs is that no one worries much about them until they begin to leak and by that time you've not only got a job to do on the roof but you've also got to repair the damage the leak has done to ceilings, walls and interior finishes.

* * *

It's wise, therefore, to check over the roof from time to time to see how it's getting along.

One major cause of roof troubles is the metal flashing used to make watertight joints between the roof and chimney and other surfaces and to make a joint where two different roof angles meet.

Some types of flashing are subject to corrosion which will produce holes. These spots can be fixed up with an application of roofing cement. Where the metal flashing joints the chimeny or other masonry surfaces, the procedure is to set the edge of the flashing into the mortar joint.

If it has pulled out, remove the old mortar from the joint, wet down the seam and then pack it with fresh mortar. Force the flashing into the fresh mortar. When the mortar becomes hard, you'll have a nice tight joint.

Loose shingles made of wood or asphalt are easily nailed secure. Coat the head of the nail with roofing compound to prevent leaks. With asbestos shingles, you'll first have to drill a hole through the shingle and then one under it before a nail can be inserted without cracking the shingle.

Curled wood shingles should be split and then a strip of roofing paper or non-corrosive metal inserted under the shingle. After this, nail down the two halves of the shingle.

Water Heaters in Big Demand

Every working day about 10,000 automatic gas water heaters are installed in American homes. Of all the mass production items we have, there's none making a greater contribution to health and comfort.

* * *

The gas water heater is an overwhelming favorite among builders of new homes, and is the backbone of countless home modernization projects. It has grown bigger and faster to keep up with the ever-increasing demand put upon it in the typical home.

When families grow bigger, more hot water is needed, especially for baby's first months. Every time a dishwasher, washing machine or extra bathroom is installed, the water heater has a bigger job to do.

That's why production of these hard-working, automatic gas water heaters is at a record pace of about three million a year. And even this statistic, reminds the Gas Appliance Manufacturers Association, doesn't tell the whole story of how these heaters are serving to raise living standards and accommodate our rising population.

LARGER TANKS FAVORED

For one thing, GAMA points out, there's increased favor for larger tank sizes. And, size-for-size, the gas heater can do more now than ever before, because of further stepups in recovery rate. This is simply the technical term for the speed with which the heater makes more hot water as some is used up.

* * *

Manufacturers and dealers have worked out charts which make it easy to "rate" a dwelling as to present and prospective hot water needs, and to provide a suitable heater.

With new metallic and color combination finishes, the water heater can be a good-looking addition to a kitchen or improved basement. The choice among sizes and shapes is unusually great.

The same speed, economy and "set it and forget it" convenience which appeal to the homeowner holds for an ever increasing number of industrial and commercial installations of gas water heaters.

Torrents of hot water go for plant washrooms, showers, cleaning and production operations. Restaurants keep their big gas heaters busy providing scalding water to make mountains of dishes safe and sparkling.

Prepare for Painting

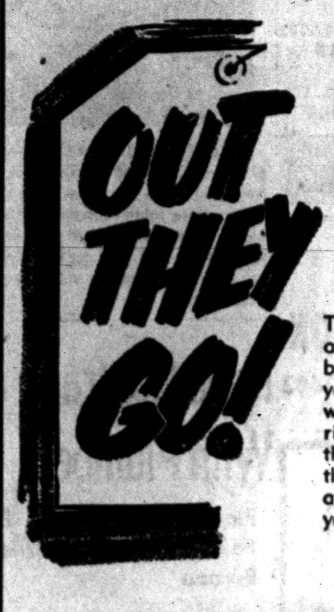

Before starting to paint the exterior of your house, remove all screens and cover shrubbery that is close to the walls. Select a moderately cool, dry day for your project and work in the shade as much as possible. Unless you're using a cement-base paint on masonry, be sure that all surfaces are thoroughly dry.

Business Bureau Warns Auto Buyers

DETROIT (INS) — Auto buyers are warned the National Better Business Bureau to be careful of collision insurance overcharges which have been occurring throughout the nation because of misclassification.

The BBB said car owners probably are paying the correct charges if they were asked the age of drivers and the use to which the auto is put, and if any of the drivers are under 25.

The bureau said substantial refunds of such overcharges are being made but urged policyholders to consult their insurance agents to varify their classification.

Agricultural products accounted for 64 per cent of Denmark's total 1955 exports.

First Crash, None Hurt; Second Crash, 2 Killed

MEXICO CITY (AP)—A bus carrying 36 passengers crashed into a tree yesterday near Toluca after its brakes failed. No one was injured.

Minutes later the driver was maneuvering the bus back onto the highway. It collided with a truck. Two persons were killed and 18 injured.

Penologists to Gather

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — The Michigan Probation, Prison and Parole Assn. has scheduled its 25th annual convention Tuesday through Thursday in Grand Rapids. About 300 members are expected. R. C. Young, director of admissions of the Atlanta Division, University of Georgia, has been named principal speaker at the banquet.

8 Die in Kentucky From Encephalitis

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — State and local health officials have launched a study to discover the source of an outbreak of sleeping sickness in Louisville.

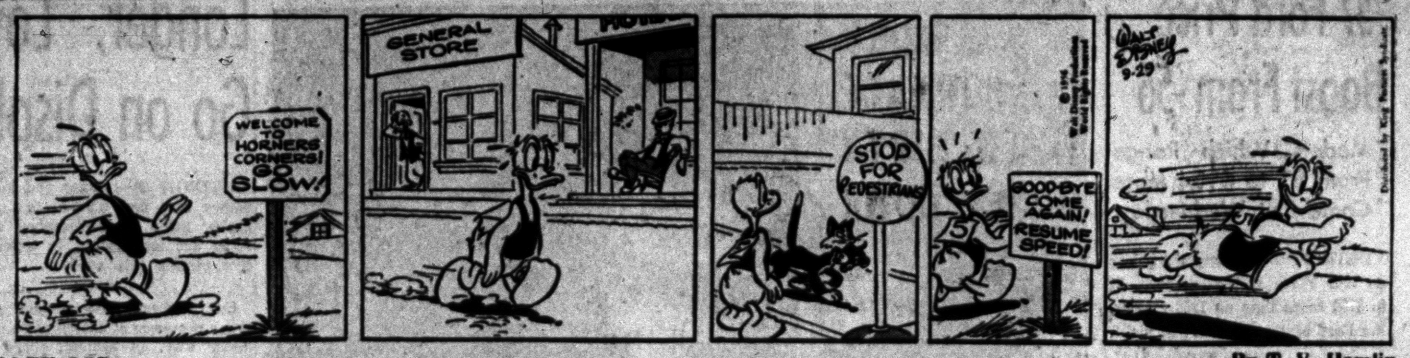

The death toll from the disease, medically termed encephalitis, has risen from four last week to eight. The latest victim, Mrs. Nannie J. Hodges, 77, died Wednesday.

Most of the deaths occurred more than a week ago. Reported cases now stand at 70.

Encephalitis, and inflammation of the brain, usually hits older persons. There is no specific treatment for it.

Officials said fowls and birds are chief sources of the diease and that mites or mosquitos carry it from birds to other animals, including humans.

'57 Ford Price Boost From '56

Models Which Range From $1 to $104 More Come Out Wednesday

DETROIT (AP)—Factory list prices on 1957 Fords will range from $1 to $104 more than on 1956 models, the Ford Motor Co. said last night.

* * *

The company said this represents an average price boost of 2.9 per cent.

Ford said the Fairlane Tudor Victoria and the Fairlane Fordor Victoria, two models which are expected to account for more than 20 per cent of the Ford division's 1957 production, will go up $1 and $11 respectively.

The factory list for the Fairlane Tudor Victoria with V-8 engine will be $2,104. The tudor model will be $2,165.

FORDS OUT WEDNESDAY

Ford, whose 1957 models go on sale next Wednesday, is the first of the big volume producers to announce prices.

R. S. McNamara, Ford division general manager, said that although automakers do not determine retail prices for car dealers, it is customary to announce suggested list prices, F. O. B. Detroit. These are based on factory wholesale charges plus a traditional retail markup.

* * *

"Our prices are increased no more than our actual costs for materials and services have gone up," McNamara said.

The company said its prices on major accessories will be about the same as last year.

Suggested list prices for Ford's 19 models will run from $1,685 for the six-cylinder business tudor model in the Custom Line to $2,495 for the V-8 Country Squire station wagon.

FORT HURON (AP) — The Mueller Brass Co. reports profits of $565,384 for the quarter ended Aug. 21, equal to $1.01 a share. This compared with $724,371 or $1.30 per share in the comparable period of 1955. For the first nine months this year earnings totaled $2,116,634 or $3.79 a share, compared with $1,799,849 equal to $3.22 per share a year ago.

Longer, Lower '57 Cars Go on Display Next Week

DETROIT (AP)—Longer and lower bodies new fuel systems and higher price tags furnished material for speculation in automotive circles this week.

* * *

Car makers have dealer and press previews of 1957 models well under way. In almost every instance the cars are longer and lower; some of them are less than five feet high. To achieve this lower silhouette some makers are lowering the floor to between the side rails of the frame.

Many industry experts say American-made cars have reached the point where they cannot be lowered further. The slight increase in over-all length was essential to maintain a balanced appearance.

The fuel system speculation was set off by Chevrolet which will offer fuel injection as an optional feature in 1957. So far Chevrolet is the only maker to say it will have such a system. It is generally believed, however, Cadillac will offer a similar system in the Eldorado Brougham, newest of the industry's so-called "prestige" models.

INJECTION ON ALL MODELS

There also is a growing conviction among experts that fuel injection, developed by General Motors, was not conceived solely for Chevrolet. Some authorities say they believe it, or a modification of it, will be made available by other divisions of GM — perhaps eventually by all.

Speculation is that, having the system available for the Brougham, Cadillac may offer it as an optional item later in 1957.

The Brougham is scheduled for presentation at the national Automobile Show in New York early in December. It may not reach the production stage until sometime in January. The car will be a limited production model.

Most industry sources now are agreed price tags on all 1957 models will be higher. Ford has reported its retail prices will show an increase averaging about $70; Chevrolet has said prices will be higher, but has not disclosed how much.

Probably more important than the certainty of price increases is the most, if not all, of the increase will be passed on to the buyer.

The industry's merchandising division will be in excellent shape to ask for full list price on new models. All models so far displayed have greatly enhanced eye-appeal as well as engineering improvements. And most retailers have few, if any, outgoing models left over to embarrass them in their efforts to sell the incoming 1957 units.

First of the 1957 models to reach the market will be the wholly new Fords. They are scheduled for public presentation Wednesday. With introduction by the dealers will come the first of the new model pricing schedules.

The Chevrolets go to the market Oct. 19.

WEST BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP — Members of the Sylvan Manor Assn. are being urged to attend the Monday meeting, at 8 p.m. in the West Bloomfield Township Hall, since two bylaw changes are to be voted on if a quorum is present.

'Wiggles' Wants a Man; Stardom No Attraction

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—"I'm not out in Hollywood lookin' for a career," giggled blonde blockbuster Barbara ("Wiggles") Nichols, the latest dumb blonde and current pet of the Hollywood set. "I'm lookin' for a MAN"!

★ ★ ★

"And believe me"—she noisily chewed her gum—"Hollywood is the worst place to look for one.

"I mean," tittered the so-called young Mae West, the heroine of an entrancing success story, "the few eligible guys are spoiled. Girls call them. Dames pick up their checks. They don't pick you up at your house now—you're supposed to pick them up at their house!

"Funny, isn't it"—Wiggles was wiggling a little even as she lolled back on a divan sipping a vodka—"me being an old-fashioned girl?"

BARBARA

And off she sailed into gales of laughter.

★ ★ ★

Making more crackling little explosions with her gum, the beauty from Huntington, L. I., informed me in a lazy, languorous voice that she's still resisting stardom—and winning the battle.

"Like I said, I'm too busy concentrating on husband - hunting," Wiggles waggled. "I don't want to be a leading lady. They get such dull parts. Anyway, my family doesn't appreciate me.

"I called my mother to tell her I was in a picture with Clark Gable.

"She says, 'But are you going with anybody?' She'd be so happy if I got married and settled down. So," sighed Barbara, "would I."

★ ★ ★

"I guess I'm not lucky," she yawned politely. "In 'The King and Four Queens,' I'm the only girl who isn't kissed by Clark Gable.

"Oh, don't worry—I complained!"

Horrified by her kisslessness, I found it was due to the script. As I dug back into my memory, I found I'd dug Wiggles for half a decade . . . back to when she was a nobody with some body.

"Miss Figleaf" and "Miss Loew's Valencia" had, at 17, become a model, and, though slow to get to Hollywood, she captured the town because of her inability to be serious about a girl named Barbara Nichols.

"Do you consider yourself an actress?" I asked her now.

★ ★ ★

Her black poodle Samson nestled on her chest. Hugging him, flashing me an "Are you kiddin'?" glance, she confessed, "I think I'm more of a personality.

"Oh, I studied acting at the Neighborhood Playhouse. But I didn't learn anything. The nasty teacher yelled at me. He thought I'd quit. He hated me because I combed my hair and didn't come in like a slob."

I asked if she remembered playing Taffy Tuttle on a TV show I did . . . and getting fired because of a low neckline. And hadn't she walked out of Sid Caesar's show once because she didn't hit it off with Phil Foster?

"How olr do you say you are?" I asked.

"Aw, how old do you want me to be? That's what I told Clark Gable."

★ ★ ★

"Can you sing?"

"Clark Gable says I'm a new sound. He doesn't know what sound it is, but it's new."

"But I got to get a man," she reminded me. "I don't like this young crop. I just like the old guys with lines in their faces—that dissipated look. But they're spoiled, too."

"Spoiled?" I asked. "By whom?"

"Their wives, darn it!"

THE WEEKEND WINDUP

Abbe Lane complained at the Venice Film Festival that her tight Italian gown "felt like four men holding me." She added, "I'd much rather have four men holding me." (Who wouldn't?) . . . Sammy Davis Jr. now imitates Al Hibbler in "Mr. Wonderful," and Al boasts, "Always knew I'd be in a B'way show!"

★ ★ ★

George Brent, the former star, has a tiny role in "Death of a Scoundrel" . . . Doris Helf, a swim teacher at Miami's Shore Club, flies to Boston every two weeks to date Ted Williams . . . Artist Albert Carlo refused a role in "Hatful of Rain"—'cause he'd have to shave off his goatee . . . Tony Bennett will do the sketches for his new album cover.

WISH I'D SAID THAT: "The ideal '57 car will come with safety belt for the front seat driver and ejector seat for the backseat driver."—Art Moger.

TODAY'S BEST LAUGH: Buddy Walker tells of the boastful woman who said she was staying at "next year's hotel" in Miami Beach. She explained, "It's named 'Under Construction.'" That's earl, brother.

Charges General Forgot to Pay, Asks $1,000

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Gen. John C. Fremont took his grandfather's blacksmith shop,—and the government still owes $1,000 for it, says a 77-year-old Los Angeles man.

George V. Martin contends that Gen. Fremont confiscated a blacksmith shop, wagons, horseshoeing tools and a brand new pine fence from his grandfather, William Martin, in Tipton, Mo., during the Civil War.

Martin's grandfather filed a claim for $1,000. When he died at 66 it hadn't been paid. Martin's father, Columbus, pressed Washington for the claim, too, but when he died—at 76—it was still unpaid.

The grandson, who still owns the farm in Tipton, has now enlisted the aid of Rep. Gordon L. McDonough.

TV's 'Stanley' Must Rely on Hackett's Personality

By JACK O'BRIAN

NEW YORK (INS)—"Stanley," the new Max Liebman series starring Buddy Hackett, will have to rest its case on the impact of its star's personality, by the evidence on its NBC premiere.

It was loaded with old, familar material, most of it flagrantly derived from "Guys and Dolls," even several performers enlisted from the stage or screen productions of the Runyon musical.

Hackett's personality, a sort of low-Broadway comedy type, was strained to its limits to make anything resembling a first class TV comedy out of fourth-rate writing, characterization and direction.

Hackett is an ample, lumpy, baked-potato-shaped young man who voiced his comedy cliches in a disciplined, well-rehearsed fashion. He knew his part very well.

It was not his fault if the writing and direction were in less assured hands.

"September Bride" had its Monday premiere plans canceled and will return to NBC-TV Oct. 8 instead. The GOP pre-empted the earlier date for an address by Ike.

Wife Charges Actor With Threat to Kill

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Actor John Carradine is being sued for divorce by former actress Sonia Sorel Carradine, who charged he threatened to kill her if she filed the suit.

Mrs. Carradine, 35, his second wife, in a complaint filed yesterday, sought the decree on grounds of cruelty and habitual intemperance. She asked for an order restraining her 50-year-old husband from molesting her.

She asked $1,000 monthly alimony and $250 monthly support for each of their three children, Christopher, 9, Keith, 7, and Robert, 2.
