Three From Bloomfield Hills

LOUIS C. GOAD

CYRUS R. OSBORN

ROGER M. KYES

Executive Changes Announced by GM

Louis C. Goad, a General Motors executive vice president, associated for many years with Pontiac Motor Division, has been picked to head all the corporation's general staff activities.

Goad, a Bloomfield Hills resident, fills what amounts to the number three position in the General Motors organization.

Several other organizational changes were announced today by the corporation's Board of Directors, including the election of two new executive vice presidents, one to be in command of Pontiac's automotive industry.

As head of the general staff, Goad has been assigned responsibilities second only to those of President John F. Gordon and Frederick G. Donner, Board chairman.

He will be in charge of distribution, engineering, manufacturing, personnel, process development, public relations, research and styling.

The position has been vacant since 1952 when Harlow H. Curtice was elevated to the presidency, succeeding Charles E. Wilson.

Goad has been associated with Pontiac Motor Division since 1945 when he was named group executive in charge of the Buick-Oldsmobile-Pontiac Assembly Division. He was named general manager of Fisher Body Division in 1946 and group executive in charge of body and assembly plants in 1948.

Since 1951, Goad has been executive vice president in charge of all automotive, body and assembly, and parts divisions.

Named executive vice president replacing Goad was Sherrod E. Skinner, President of the GM accessory group since 1951. Skinner has had the GMC Truck & Coach Division assigned to him, too.

Skinner, therefore, will have supervision over all the General Motors activities in Pontiac.

Two other Bloomfield Hills men were affected by the organizational change.

Cyrus R. Osborn was elected an executive vice president and placed in charge of the engine divisions; the Dayton, Household Appliance and Electro-Motive Group, and the Overseas and Canadian Group.

Roger M. Kyes, a vice president, will replace Skinner as head of the accessory group.

SHERROD E. SKINNER

Goad, Skinner, Osborn and Kyes are all members of the corporation's Board of Directors.

Osborn has been vice president in charge of the engine divisions since 1950.

Since 1954, Kyes has been vice president in charge of the divisions designated as the GMC Truck Group and Dayton, Household Appliances.

In the organizational change, the old GMC Truck Group was split up, with GMC Truck & Coach Division going to Skinner's command and three other divisions being placed under the Dayton, Household Appliance and Electro-Motive Group. These include the Electro-Motive, Cleveland Diesel and Diesel Equipment divisions, as well as General Motors Diesel Limited.

Named vice president of the new Dayton, Household Appliance and Electro-Motive Group was Nelson C. Dezenford, who was also elected to the Board of Directors.

Dezenford has been vice president and general manager of the Electro-Motive Division in LaGrange, Ill. since 1952.

Replacing Dezenford in LaGrange is Richard L. Terrell, who has been Dezenford's administrative assistant one year.

Ike, Macmillan Reveal Summit Policy Split

President's 'Price' Is Higher; TV-Radio Chat Makes It Clear

From Our News Wires
LONDON — President Eisenhower and Prime Minister Harold Macmillan left it clear today that they still do not agree completely on a summit policy.

Although nothing they said in their joint radio-television chat yesterday indicated any serious friction, it was quite clear that Eisenhower's price for formal summit negotiations with Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev was higher than Macmillan's.

pean peace crusade to deal with White House business that has piled up.

He scheduled no more major political talks until he goes to Paris tomorrow to meet with French President Charles de Gaulle and Italian leaders.

Eisenhower probably will stop over in Scotland for several days after visiting De Gaulle, presidential press secretary James C. Hagerty said.

In Bonn, Germany, President Eisenhower was reported today to have said he feels certain he and French President Charles de Gaulle can reach accord on the issues dividing them.

Hagerty told a news conference there will be no new discussions with Macmillan if the President does decide to stop in Scotland.

PLANS CASTLE STAY

It is the President's intention, if he does return, to stay at his own private apartment in Culzean Castle, Ayrshire.

Eisenhower has told Generalissimo Francisco Franco he hopes to be able to visit Spain on some future trip to Europe, informed sources said today.

The sources said this was the gist of the reply the President gave yesterday to Spanish foreign minister Maria Castiella.

Merchants Prepare Gala Festival Days

Retail sales and street attractions are being planned for Downtown Festival Days by the Downtown Merchants Assn.

Carnival rides, bands, dancing and clowns are some of the special features lined up for the three-day sales event, Sept. 17-19.

"Downtown Festival Days is the most active three-day sales period of the year," said Norman F. Pattison, general chairman.

The Merchants Association is going all-out to make this year's festival the most successful ever. Pattison listed some of the new events that are being planned:

A clown band and a cowboy band playing throughout the downtown area.

Area artists in a sidewalk art show, exhibiting their work and doing on-the-spot portraits.

FASHION SHOW SET
Military displays provided through area armed forces organizations.

Sidewalk fashion shows for the ladies and square dances in the street for the whole family.

As usual, Pattison said, mer-

Tax Law Faces Legality Suit

Detroit Attorney Will Ask Supreme Court to Throw Out New Levy

LANSING (P)—Michigan's new use (sales) tax law, only one day old, faced a State Supreme Court test of its legality today.

The law went into effect today, in effect adding a penny to the three-cent sales tax.

But even as millions of taxpayers started paying the higher rate, Detroit Attorney Charles P. Lockwood prepared to ask the high court to throw out the act as unconstitutional and restrain the State Revenue Department from collecting it.

Atty. Gen. Paul L. Adams, learning of the suit, announced at a news conference last night that his office would take part in the court test.

Adams assigned two three-man teams to the case. He personally will direct one group which will intervene in the name of the people of the state, contending the act violates a three-cent constitutional ceiling on the sales tax.

The other team will represent the Department of Revenue and argue for the tax on the ground that it actually is two separate taxes. Its captain is Stanton S. Faville, chief assistant attorney general.

Adams, a Democrat, guessed the court might make a decision "in six weeks or two months."

"We will move heaven and earth to help it make an early decision," he said.

The announcement met a blast from Republican legislators, who led a successful fight to meet the state's financial troubles with a use tax boost. Democrats fought a losing battle for personal and corporate income tax.

Committee Cuts $608,700 From Social Welfare

Oakland Closes Lessen; Guidance Clinic Given Restricted $32,500

Slashing $608,700 from its April appropriation of $2,733,700 for social welfare, the Oakland County Board of Supervisors' Ways and Means Committee yesterday completed balancing of the county's 1960 budget.

Supervisors on Sept. 14 will receive their revised copies of the budget of $12,626,784 — some $1,279,800 less than the preliminary allocations they approved in April. They'll meet Sept. 21 to take final action on the revamped figures.

Robert Y. Moore, chairman of the Board of Auditors, and Leo M. Halfpenny, deputy chief accountant, have added and subtracted figures during five budget slicing hearings, necessary because the county didn't get the $6.47 of the 15 mill taxing limitation the preliminary budget was based on.

The Allocation Board handed the county $5.62 same as last year's rate.

Smith supported the welfare fund cut on continued reports that Oakland's huge welfare program has been lessening.

"We hope it will continue," he said. "If it doesn't, we're going to be in the red just that much."

In a complete turnaround, the seven-member W.M. Committee met in an unscheduled session yesterday morning and voted unanimously to give the Child Guidance Clinic, which treats emotionally disturbed children $32,500 next year. Earlier it had been cut out of the '60 budget entirely.

Only last Thursday the committee voted 5 to 2 to stick to its guns because of a legal ruling casting doubt on providing public (Continued on Page 2, Col. 2)

GOP Regains Split in House

Count Now 55-55 in State Legislative Body as Farmer Wins Vote

GRAND RAPIDS (P)—Dairyman Martin D. Bush smothered his opponent with nearly a 5-to-1 vote margin yesterday, apparently ending the Democrats' slim three-month grip on the Michigan House of Representatives.

Bush, 41-year-old Republican, led Democrat George Murray 4,002 to 868 today with 43 of 44 precincts reported in the third district's special election.

The suburban Comstock Park dairy farmer's apparent triumph restored the House to a 55-55 split. The Democrats had held a 53-54 margin since June 1 when Rep. Glenn Hunsberger (R-Grand Rapids) died of a heart attack.

The special election was called to fill Hunsberger's vacancy.

Bush is not expected to be sworn into office until Sept. 16 when the House reconvenes after a recess called last Saturday when the Legislature enacted a new set of taxes.

Bush had not previously held state office. He recently resigned as a member of the Plainfield Township Board of Supervisors to wind up his campaign for representative.

Murray, 50, is a resident of Kent City and is an employee of a Muskegon automotive firm.

Brother-in-Law Explains Plight of Hermit Student

ANN ARBOR (UPI)—A Chinese student who hid for nearly four years in a church attic because he was flunking college courses went back into hiding today to think things over.

This time, however, 28-year-old Cheng Guan Lim of Singapore, was in seclusion at a private home near the University of Michigan campus.

Philip Loh, 34-year-old U. of M. research associate professor whose brother is married to Lim's sister, said:

"It must be hard for you people to understand how someone could survive that long... the pressure on him was terrific from his family."

Extra New York Officers Battle 'Cancerous' Youth Crime

City Rushes In 1,400 Policemen

Commissioner Orders Action After 4 Teens Are Killed in Week

NEW YORK (AP)—Voicing alarm over mounting teenage violence in the city, Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller stepped into the situation today to see if the state can help local authorities combat it.

NEW YORK (UPI)—The City of New York has declared war on teenage terrorism with an army of 1,400 extra policemen who will battle juvenile crime.

Authorities today waited to learn whether the move will curb the "cancerous growth" of rising youth violence.

Police Commissioner Stephen P. Kennedy ordered the action yesterday after a week that saw four teenagers killed and a number of others injured in street clashes.

"The brutal murders by young people dramatize the rising tide of youth violence in New York City," Kennedy said. "These are not isolated cases."

Top city officials meanwhile prepared for a special City Hall conference on the rash of violence that Kennedy described as a "cancerous growth."

Mayor Robert F. Wagner summoned them to a meeting tomorrow to discuss what steps could be taken to counter the upsurge.

A number of officials, including city councilmen, already were receiving talk of a curfew to keep youths off the streets during the violent nighttime hours.

TOLL RISES
Kennedy said there had been 30 per cent more youth murders so far in 1959 than in 1958. Last week's four murders were not included in this figure.

The police commissioner announced he was reinforcing the street force in areas troubled by juvenile outbreaks shortly after an angry crowd gathered outside a police station where four youths were charged with homicide in the knife slaying of two 16-year-old boys early Sunday morning.

Police had to move in to keep the insult-shouting crowd away from two youths held in connection with the crime who were riding in a police vehicle. The crowd apparently was made up of friends of the slain boys.

Sunday's attack took place in a darkened playground between 45th and 46th streets and 9th and 10th avenues—an area once known as Hell's Kitchen, but which had been relatively peaceful recently.

Nation's Weather Fairly Pleasant With Some Rain

By The Associated Press
The nation's weather showed only minor changes today, with temperatures fairly pleasant in most areas and rain across wide sections.

Thunderstorms rumbled through parts of the western plains, the mid-Mississippi and Tennessee valleys and in southern New England. Some fog covered parts of the lower Mississippi Valley and in sections of the Northeast.

Nearly 2 1/2 inches of rain doused Farmington, Mo., in a six-hour period during the night, while about 1 1/2 inches fell at Pine Bluff, Ark. Earlier Monday heavy rain fell in many sections in the eastern third of the country.

Three Indicted for Radio Help

Ex-Official of Mutual Network Linked With $750,000 Propaganda

WASHINGTON (AP)—Three former officials of Mutual Broadcasting System were accused today of accepting $750,000 to put out political propaganda favorable to the Dominican Republic over the radio network.

The accusation was made in an indictment charging them with failure to register with the Justice Department as agent for a foreign principal.

Atty. Gen. William P. Rogers announced that the indictment, returned by a federal grand jury, named the following:
International financier Alexander L. Guterman who was Mutual's president during the early months of this year;
Hal Roach Jr., former Mutual chairman; and Garland L. Culpepper Jr., one-time director of the MBS radio system.

Sunday's attack took place in a darkened playground between 45th and 46th streets and 9th and 10th avenues—an area once known as Hell's Kitchen, but which had been relatively peaceful recently.

Pare County '60 Budget by Slashing Welfare Fund funds for private corporations like the clinic.

The first vote came amidst criticism by clinic officials and several organizations for being left out.

Noel A. Buckner, chairman of the Clinic's Board of Directors, attributed the sudden change of heart to publicity given the omission.

AGREES TO RULES

However, Fred W. Smith, chairman of the W-M Committee and a former clinic director, said supervisors switched when Buckner consented to certain stipulations laid down before the money would be put back in the budget.

Major among the clauses was that the Board of Auditors would have "satisfactory budgetary control" over how this money is spent. Supervisors also asked and received Buckner's consent that the clinic should improve its administrative functions.

"These stipulations will be very beneficial for us," Buckner said. "Any help the auditors can give us in making our operation more workable will be most helpful."

He said a meeting already has been scheduled for Sept. 9 at which time a proposal to create one large board of directors, instead of separate ones for three branches, will be considered.

"All in all," he added, "we're very pleased with the interest the supervisors have taken in their reconsideration."

India Defense Chief, Military Heads Quit

NEW DELHI (UPI)—India's Defense Minister V. K. Krishna Menon and the heads of India's army, navy and air force resigned today.

The resignations caused grave concern throughout the country, and threw the government and Parliament into turmoil.

The service chiefs quit because they said Krishna Menon was playing politics with the armed forces.

FAA Deadline Date Extended

Three Months More to Ask for Federal Aid on Airport Construction

Pontiac and other United States cities will have a little more time than anticipated in which to submit their plans for airport expansion next year under the federal aid-to-airports program.

The Federal Aviation Agency has granted a three-month extension of the deadline on requests for federal aid for building airports.

The FAA said it would receive requests until Nov. 30 for aid in the fiscal year beginning next July 1. The earlier deadline had been today.

Pontiac had sent in its application last January, but may make a few minor changes now that there is more time, said Homer D. Hoskins, airport manager.

The city is planning a $356,000 program, to be financed one half by the federal government and one quarter each by city and state.

The new deadline for 1960 funds won't affect the Sept. 30 deadline the FAA has placed on 1959 funds the city wants for financing a new terminal and tower. Hoskins said.

City and state officials hope to have contracts awarded within 20 days after the state opens construction bids Sept. 10.

Senate Prober Will Testify

On Stand Tomorrow in Scott Versus Barbers' Union Case

An investigator for the Senate Rackets Committee was among the witnesses scheduled to be called as the $150,000 damage suit case of Robert P. Scott versus the International Barbers' Union, AFL-CIO, opened this morning before Oakland County Circuit Judge William J. Beer.

Scott, 53, of Waterford Township, charges he was booted out of the union because he had testified before the committee against Teamsters President James R. Hoffa.

The investigator, Pierre Salinger, is expected to take the stand tomorrow to tell how he was with Scott May 19, 1958, before Detroit Local 552 of the International, when Scott allegedly was denied legal counsel and services of a court reporter during an appeal of his ouster before the Local.

Scott, a former vice president of Pontiac Teamsters Local 614, said he called Salinger to the hearing because Robert F. Kennedy, chief counsel for the Senate committee, had promised him protection while he was still under subpoena.

FEARS FOR SAFETY

Scott said he feared for his safety "on account of what I said about Hoffa." He said his expulsion last year was Teamster-inspired.

Scott, of 4390 Monroe St., today was to take the stand himself, according to his attorney, Gene Schnelz of Walled Lake. Mrs. Scott also is expected to testify.

The one-time candidate for Democratic state representative filed suit in Circuit Court here a year ago seeking reinstatement with the union and $150,000 damages.

He charges the International, the Local and two union officers of denying him his constitutional rights under the union's charter. He said he was ousted because he once was a lobbyist for the rival state Barbers Assn., Inc.

The union claims it found Scott guilty of dual-unionism.

Schnelz said he would call the former president and secretary-treasurer of the association to testify that Scott was not a member at the time of his expulsion.

Assure Little Leaguers of 4th Baseball Diamond

BIRMINGHAM—Little Leaguers in the Birmingham area are assured of a fourth baseball diamond at Eton Park to meet a demand posed by their growing ranks.

City Commissioners voted unanimously at last night's meeting in favor of the new ball diamond. Construction is scheduled for completion this fall, so that it can be used in the spring.

Estimated cost of the diamond, complete with dugouts, bleachers and backstop, is $3,975. The Little League is giving $1,250 from donations toward this amount.

The Little League in Birmingham is open to boys living in the school district. This encompasses areas in surrounding communities as well as the city.

In other business, the commission agreed to split the contract for rock salt to be used on city roads this winter.

Both bidders, the Morton Salt Co. and the International Salt Co., will receive half of the contract. They both bid $8.90 a ton.

Commissioners agreed that this plan would enable the city to compare service and value offered for consideration in awarding next year's contract.

No action on bids for construction of an addition to the Baldwin Library was taken by the city commission last night.

The bids were received Friday, too late for analysis by city architects.

In each case, bids submitted ran over the city's estimate of $151,800 for the job. The lowest bid was for $195,000, including architects' fees, but no landscaping.

The commission requested city architects to consider eliminating some parts of the project, to reduce the cost, in time for next week's meeting.

A public hearing on the proposed vacating of the alley between Merrill and Townsend streets was set by the commission for Sept. 28 at city hall, with the time to be announced later.

Two zoning requests brought before the commission were referred to the City Planning Board for consideration.

One of the requests is for rezoning of property at the southeast corner of West Maple road and Westchester way from one-family to two-family residential classification. It was submitted by Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Quinn of 3450 Burning Bush Dr., Bloomfield Township, owners of the property in question.

The other request, from Mr. and Mrs. Edmund Brennen of 209 Daines St., is for a zoning map change.

They wish to have the east half of lot 18 of Brown's Addition changed to permit a non-retail business. It presently is zoned multiple family residential.

Mrs. Robert D. Bird Service for Mrs. Robert D. (Anna) Bird, 89, of 627 Purdy St., will be held at 3 p.m. Thursday at Bell Chapel of the William R. Hamilton Co. Burial will be in Acacia Park Cemetery.

Mrs. Bird died yesterday at her home following several weeks' illness.

She was a member of the First Methodist Church and Order of the Eastern Star, Chapter 220.

She was the daughter of the Rev. Jesse Kilpatrick, who once was pastor of the Methodist Church. Her husband is the son of the minister who built it.

Surviving besides her husband are three daughters, Mrs. Emil G. Olin of Birmingham, Mrs. Ralph E. Ryder of Bradenton, Fla. and Mrs. John Hale of Royal Oak; three grandchildren and six great-grandchildren.

The Cas Was Clothed When Story Told

MIAMI (UPI)—A sympathetic jury yesterday cleared Leroy Maroney, 18, of riding a bicycle while nude after he told them he couldn't help it.

Weather Battle Wilts Fans

Pontiac and vicinity came within three-tenths of a percentage point of tying a record nobody wanted. The clouds and the rain defeated the sun in the closing stages of the contest to make last month only the second hottest August in the history of this area.

Since weather data began to be compiled in 1873, the swiftest August occurred in 1947.

The scoreboard reads:
Average temperature for August, 1947 . . . 76.6 degrees.
Average temperature for August, 1959 . . . 76.3 degrees.

The confeder put up a dogged fight. The average high last month was 85.5 degrees, the average low, 67 degrees.

The August 5ers turned on the heat with the help of pressure from the humidity on August 20th in a blazing race for the flag.

There began seven straight days of 80-or-above temperatures. Maximum effort sparked the mercury to a peak of 94 degrees on the 25th and 26th.

The number of above-90 days for the month totaled 11. Normal above-90 days for an August is 4. Then it happened!

The 27th broke the streak with a high of 88. The fight was on! The 28th fought back with another high of 88.

The mercury was knocked from its perch on the following day to an 89. A supreme try netted the 5ers their last 90 of the month on the 30th.

A crushing blow was dealt on the 31st with a high of only 77 degrees.

A U. S. Weather Bureau spokesman for the losers explained it this way:

"We got off to a slow start. We had too many high-70 days scattered in the first part of the month. And rain! That really dampened our spirit."

It rained on 10 days of the month with a total precipitation of 7.07 inches. This figured to be 4.45 inches above normal rainfall for an August.

It was a close race, but the fans didn't enjoy the contest.

Tax Hike Not Enough to Buy Quart of Milk

In yesterday's story of comments by local residents on the sales tax increase, it was stated that "the sales tax on a $5 purchase would buy a quart of milk."

The existing sales tax of three cents on a dollar was 15 cents on a $5 purchase, and under the new sales tax, it will be 20 cents on the same purchase. This is an increase of only five cents, and the increase alone would not equal the price of a quart of milk.

'Temporary Job' at Kalamazoo Gazette

KALAMAZOO (AP) — A one-year job that lasted for 47 ends today when John K. Walsh retires as editor of the Kalamazoo Gazette. The 72-year-old Walsh announced his retirement Saturday. He will be succeeded by Associate Editor Dan M. Ryan.

Walsh came to the Gazette in 1912. He was 25 then and agreed to accept the editor's post for "just one year" because he planned to return to his native Australia.

Walsh left Australia in 1904 for a tour of Europe that grew into a trek through the South African back country and then to the United States.

He attended the University of Illinois and Eureka (Ill.) College, before breaking into the newspaper business on the Peoria (Ill.) Herald Transcript. From there he went to the Galesburg (Ill.) Mail as news editor and then to the Gazette.

Walsh was a pioneer in pictorial journalism and was credited with introducing Associated Press wirephoto facilities in Michigan.

Ryan, 38, is a native of Kalamazoo, married and the father of two children. He graduated from St. Augustine High School and Kalamazoo College, with post-graduate studies in journalism at Michigan State and Columbia universities.

100 miles southeast of Oran. De Gaulle is scheduled to confer with President Eisenhower Wednesday as the President continues his visits to European leaders before the Khrushchev get-togethers.

Paddle Only Way Some Understand

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—"A paddle speaks the only language some students understand," says Florida's state superintendent of education, Thomas Bailey told a teachers meeting that "I wouldn't be a school principal again if I couldn't use a paddle."

Recently permission was given for Florida school officials to paddle pupils and some parents have threatened a court test. Bailey said a basic need today is to teach children respect for authority.

"If we don't do it in the school system, God knows where the children are going to get it," he said.

U.S. Spends This Fund
for Aid to Illegitimate
Dependent Children

WASHINGTON (AP) — The federal government spends more than 181 million dollars for aid to dependent children in cases where illegitimacy is the cause of the dependency, according to statistics compiled by the Library of Congress legislative reference service.

This has led Sen. Herman Talmadge (D-Ga.) to call for a Senate investigation to find out whether federal welfare payments may be encouraging an increase in illegitimate births.

The mounting rate of illegitimacy, Talmadge said, is one of the greatest social problems of our time.

He suggested a study by the Senate Finance Committee to provide recommendations for "whatever changes may be needed in the law to eliminate any sanction or encouragement of illegitimacy through federal welfare assistance."

TRENTON, N.J. (AP) — Okay, you pesky mosquitos — you win. They're throwing in the towel. State Sen. Charles W. Sandman, bowing to the inevitable, has introduced a bill to change the title of county mosquito extermination commissions to county mosquito control commissions.

Russia's Surgery Lags Behind U. S. Standards

GRAND RAPIDS (U)—A medical expert Monday said Russia may be leading the United States in size of satellites but not in medical and surgical science.

Dr. W. H. Steffensen, consultant in plastic surgery at Blodgett Memorial Hospital, commented on his recent return from a two-week tour of surgical institutions in Leningrad and Moscow.

He was among five representatives of the American Society of Plastic and Reconstructive Surgery and the American Assn. of Plastic Surgeons.

Except for a few special areas of surgery and clinical care of patients, Russians would appear to be lagging far behind American standards, said Dr. Steffensen.

The American group concluded that the Russians were dedicating their energies toward a breakthrough in discovering the cause of cancer and its cure.

They estimated about 60 per cent of all Russian doctors are women. Dr. Steffensen said Russian hospitals appeared "old and did not reflect the evidence of the expansion programs of American hospitals since World War II."

He noted some areas of Russian leadership in surgical and medical techniques.

"Surgical instruments devised by them," he reported, "have made possible some spectacular surgical procedures such as creating a two-headed dog; preserving a dog's amputated leg for a maximum of 25 hours... and re-attaching it."

Dr. Steffensen said similar operations were performed many years ago in the United States, but not with the success that Soviet surgeons can accomplish with their new "gadgets."

He said these instruments soon will be available in this country through the sale of manufacturing rights to a Cleveland engineer.

Dr. Steffensen also believed Russians probably "could more readily care for mass casualties... because of their technique of using cadaver blood for transfusions..." The technique, he added, reportedly has been used in Russia since 1929.

He described hospitals very crowded and said new building apparently lagged in priority behind factories, apartments and exhibition halls. "We saw no evidence of the private hospital room as we know it in America," Dr. Steffensen said.

Others on the tour were Dr. C. R. Straatsma of New York Medical College; Dr. Clifford L. Kiehn of Western Reserve University; Dr. Truman Blocker Jr. of University of Texas, and Dr. Herbert Conway of Cornell University.

YELLOWSTONE NATIONAL PARK, Wyo. (U)—The west entrance to Yellowstone National Park, closed since a jolting earthquake Aug. 17, was reopened Monday.

Pan American said foreign airlines have been given or promised permission to fly across the United States on flights to the Pacific.

It did not mention specifically Eisenhower's recent approval of such flights by British Overseas Airways with stops in several U.S. cities.

Pan American said it was the only airline, domestic or foreign, a jumping off point for Pacific which was limited to California as flights.

42 Injured by Bears in Yellowstone Park
YELLOWSTONE NATIONAL PARK (U)—Forty-two persons have been clawed or bitten while attempting to feed the park bears this year.

None of the injuries were serious, park ranger Jim Valder said today. Only one person was hospitalized. Valder said it was a man with a weak heart who suffered minor scratches and a heart relapse when he allowed a bear to climb on his dinner table.

Movie Theater to Help Cardinal Fight Reds

BOSTON (AP)—New England's second largest movie theater will play a major role in Richard Cardinal Cushing's plans to fight communism in South America.

The showing of religious films will be one function of the 3,583-seat Loew's State Theater under the guidance of church leaders who have been critical of some commercial motion pictures.

Built in Boston's Back Bay in 1922 at a cost of two million dollars, the big theater was bought in August by the Boston Roman Catholic archdiocese for an undisclosed price.

The cardinal announced then it would be used for conventions, lectures, meetings and the showing of religious motion pictures.

Later he disclosed at the golden jubilee of the Teachers' Institute for the Boston archdiocese that the theater will be an instrument in warning Catholics in Latin America against "the false prophets of communism"—until more priests and nuns can be sent to those countries.

Cardinal Cushing said he plans to run a movie entitled "The Rosary" at the big theater. He termed it the masterpiece of all Catholic films, and said he expects a million dollars will be realized by its showing in Boston.

This money, he said, will make possible his plans to motorize Ireland's Legion of Mary for a spiritual crusade against communism in the Latin countries.

The cardinal said he hopes to equip the Legion with jeeps and movies and provide motorized missionaries to move as a teaching task force from town to town.

Judge Denies Pleas for Mercy

2 Women Embezzlers Find Excuses to Avoid Sentences Ineffective

TYLER, Tex. (AP)—A federal judge Monday assessed five-year prison terms against two women who admitted embezzling $130,516 from a Jacksonville, Tex., bank.

Both women pleaded for mercy. Mrs. Weldon Conner, 34, told Judge Joe W. Sheehy one of her two adopted children had 104 degrees of fever in the morning. She said she feared the 6-year-old had polio.

Miss Yola Renfro, 59, former assistant cashier of Jacksonville's Texas Bank & Trust Co., pleaded that she already had suffered greatly.

The judge assessed terms on each of two counts, charging false entry in the bank's records. The terms will be served concurrently.

Committee Named to Eye Phone Bills

LANSING (UPI)—House speaker Don Pears (R-Buchanan) Monday named a six-man watchdog committee to keep an eye on telephone, telegraph and mailing expenses of House members.

The committee will study procedures of various states and Congress on such expenses.

The House speaker would also be able to ask the committee to investigate apparent excessive use of such privileges.

Earlier this session, several members were shown to have been quite high in such bills, especially telephone bills. Under the present system, there is no limit on these privileges.

Another Xway to Open between Grand Rapids and Kalamazoo will open Thursday from ALLEGAN (UPI)—A six-mile section of the U.S. 131 limited access expressway being built said today.

Vote on Library in Bloomfield

Special Election Will Decide if Township Is to Get $90,000 Building

WEST BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP — Whether a new public library will be built in the township is being decided by the polls today.

If approved by voters in the special election, the library will be built on a one-acre site on Orchard Lake road just north of Walnut Lake road.

It would cost an estimated $90,000 and would provide 3,000 square feet in the one floor building with an additional 1,000 square feet in the basement for storage space, utilities and a garage should a bookmobile be added to library facilities at some future date.

Taxpayers would be assessed an additional one mill to be spread over the next three years if the project gets a green light from voters.

This would amount to a $1.75 levy per $1,000 valuation of property each year.

Bid for Xway Loses Again

Southfield City Council Registers Split Vote, Needs Majority

SOUTHFIELD — The State Department's bid for approval of a section of the proposed east-west expressway, between 12 and 12 1/2 mile roads, lost again at last night's meeting of the Southfield City Council.

The city's Highway Committee had recommended at last Monday's meeting of the council that they approve the proposed section. At that time there were only five councilmen present and their 4-1 vote was held in abeyance.

At last night's meeting six members were present. Three voted for the recommendation and three against. City Attorney James J. Allen told the council that a two-thirds vote was necessary to make it legal. The matter was then turned over to the Planning Commission.

The City of Southfield has continuously withheld approval of the small section of the proposed expressway from Detroit until it has been decided by state highway authorities, which route the traffic will take beyond 12 1/2 mile road.

CROWN FITS — Trying on the crown she won last night as the Michigan Mushroom Queen is Carol Sue Kirkindall, 18, of Roseville. She was chosen over 17 other contestants at Utica. Letting the new queen see how the crown fits is the 1958 Queen, Gail Barney, 18, of Utica.

Carol Sue Kirkindall to Reign Pick State Mushroom Queen at Utica

UTICA — A lovely blonnet, Carol Sue Kirkindall, 18, of Roseville last night won the title of Michigan Mushroom Queen at the annual Michigan Mushroom Queen coronation at Utica. Letting the new queen see how the crown fits is the 1958 Queen, Gail Barney, 18, of Utica.

The competition was held at La Honda Lounge, regular meeting place of the Utica Kiwanis Club. This local service club and the Mushroom Growers Assn. are cosponsors of the annual celebration.

All of the contestants were judged on personality, appearance, and intelligence.

After considerable deliberation the five judges, composed of the local Kiwanis Club, the Michigan Mushroom Growers Assn., and the Utica Kiwanis Club, picked Carol Sue Kirkindall as the new queen.

Approximately one and a half million pounds of mushrooms are produced annually in this district. A marked increase in production has been noted during the past year because of the installation of new conditioning units in mushroom houses, industry officials said.

JUDGES LISTED — Contest judges were Solve Zan, president of Shelby Township, president of the Mushroom Growers Assn., Joseph Boyce of St. Clair Shores, lieutenant governor of Michigan, and Fred Mathiak, both of the Utica Kiwanis Club, and Fred Hahn, president of the Roseville Kiwanis Club.

The other six girls, who were finalists in the competition, besides the queen and her two maids of honor, were Rose, Mary, Bennett, 17, of Utica; Cathleen, 18, of Richmond; Joyce Catherine, 18, of Utica; Patricia Ann, 17, of Utica; Joanne Noel, 16, of Roseville; and Patricia Barney, 18, of Warren.

Heavy Rains Refill Ponds at Milford—What Next?

MILFORD — The three-million-gallon water level rising back to normal once again.

These people were shocked one weekend in April when they woke up to find that the owner of the ponds and the controlling dams had opened the sluice gates to let the waters run off.

Gaping mudholes replaced the picturesque ponds and the river than a trickle. Mosquitoes moved in to breed more mosquitoes.

Just as swiftly and quietly as the water poured out, so has it returned.

THE RAINS CAME

James Robbins, who gained possession of the ponds and dams when he purchased the old Ford Motor Co. plant and property here for his plastics processing firm, shut the dam gates over a month ago. But his action went unnoticed until recent rainstorms quite suddenly restored the water level.

Robbins had told the village council in April that he was draining off the ponds for inspection of controlling dams by his firm's insurance company, and that he was not certain about refilling them.

For more than four months, village officials — spurred by aroused public sentiment — were trying to figure out what would become of the unexpected eyesore near Main street.

They found out that Robbins owned the water rights and legally could do as he wished with the ponds.

Village Manager Oliver Taylor and the village council admitted that they were stumped. "I'm still totally confused as to what's going on regarding these dams and ponds," said Taylor yesterday.

After touring the site, Taylor reported that the dam on the Huron River has been partially closed and that the water has risen about four feet.

Robbins said that engineers are working on land-filling estimates and that several groups of businessmen were interested in purchasing the ponds and property, after possible land-fill operations had been completed.

Robbins concluded, "There is absolutely nothing definite at this time, regarding what is to be done with the mill ponds on a permanent basis."

He and other studio employees grabbed hoses and helped confine the fire until the city fire department arrived.

CUSTOMER PARKING IN BACK OF OFFICE

Small Cars Will Tempt Kiddies, Too

JACKSON (AP) — A new small car will be appearing in Chevrolet showrooms around the country this week, but it won't be the company's much talked about Corvair.

The Corvair still is a month away from public showings. This new one is a miniature Corvette.

Actually this car is designed for the kiddie trade, something to amuse the youngsters while salesmen take the grownups on demonstration rides in new, normal sized cars.

The car is designed for off-street use. It's powered by a four-cylinder two-horsepower engine, with a recoil starter and chain drive. Top speed will be 8 to 11 miles an hour.

The miniature cars are being built here by Yard-Man, a company whose major product is power lawnmowers.

Roy Crutchfield, a Jackson Chevrolet dealer, is president of Pro-Mo Sales Co., which is handling national distribution of the little cars. He said they will be used by Chevrolet dealers for promotion and will not be sold separately.

News in Brief

Richard L. Parks, of 22 McNeil St., reported to Pontiac Police Sunday that someone had stolen clothing valued at about $230 from his auto while it was parked at 22 Kennett St.

About $20 was reported stolen from the cash register of the Tom Thumb Restaurant, 2446 Williams Lake Rd., Waterford Township, scene of a break in over the weekend.

Thieves broke into Ted's Market, 7371 Orchard Lake Rd., West Bloomfield Township, yesterday and stole $7 worth of stamps, an estimated $10 in money orders and about $15 cash, according to Oakland County sheriff's deputies.

Arnold R. Larm, 19, of 742 Central St., Lake Orion, yesterday pleaded guilty to a drunk driving charge before Municipal Court Judge Cecil B. McCallum. He was sentenced to pay a $100 fine plus 7 days or 25 days in the Oakland County Jail.

Six windows were broken by vandals at Bagley Elementary School, 320 Bagley St., Pontiac police reported Monday.

Scientists agree that there is no life on planet Mercury.

Edward Gray, former Army automotive expert, was named to succeed Thrasher.

George Vichos, 27, stood mute at his arraignment yesterday. Southfield Municipal Judge Clarence Reid Jr. entered a plea of innocent for him. Vichos was returned to the Oakland County Jail when he was unable to post $2,500 bond.

Vichos is accused of duping the manager of a furniture store into depositing his day's receipts in a box he carried instead of using the night deposit box at the Detroit Bank & Trust Co. branch at Northland Shopping Center.

Vichos told the man the lock on the deposit chute was jammed and that the bank had sent him over to collect the night deposits. Police said Vichos used an Army ammunition box stenciled with the name of the bank to carry the deposits.

Police arrested Vichos after the furniture store manager became suspicious and called police when Vichos refused to give another bank customer a receipt for a night deposit.

Vichos is on parole from a 1½ to 15 year term in Jackson Prison in 1956 for burglary.

SAGINAW (AP) — Ground breaking ceremonies were held yesterday for a 236,000 square foot addition to the Saginaw Steering Gear division of General Motors. The new unit, an addition to the division's No. 4 plant, will be completed next April.

GM officials said the division's current work force of 4,200 will be increased by 800 when the new unit goes into operation.

SAINT CLAIR (AP) — The truck industry has sold more trucks than it expected to in 1959 and will sell even more next year.

This is the official view of the truck division of Chevrolet, which previewed its 1960 models here yesterday.

Norman P. Sattler, head of Chevy's truck sales, estimated the 1959 market at 1,675,000 including some 50,000 imports. For 1960, he said, the total should run around 1,700,000, including 55,000 imports.

Although Sattler made no particular point of it, the import figure, mainly Volkswagen, has been growing steadily. Still not as spectacular as the increase in foreign passenger cars, the continued growth of the import truck population could become a significant factor in the industry.
