Congress Prepares to Tackle Kennedy Bills

Veil of Grief Hanging Over Thanksgiving

Assassination Casts Pall Over America; Special Services Set

By The Associated Press

Americans throughout the world gave thanks through a veil of grief this Thanksgiving Day. President Kennedy's death appeared to have given deeper meaning to an observance uniquely American.

Christians and Jews prayed together in many services.

President Kennedy's Thanksgiving Day proclamation, issued before his death, was to be read in many churches.

Most public celebrations were canceled and Thanksgiving became essentially a family day.

★ ★ ★

In Plymouth, Mass., descendants of the Pilgrims observe Thanksgiving anew today — as their forefathers did 342 years ago.

PALL IS CAST

But the assassination of President Kennedy, a son of Massachusetts, cast a pall over the reenactment of the first Thanksgiving observance, held at Plymouth in 1621.

Today's exercises originally were intended to mark the 100th anniversary of Abraham Lincoln's proclamation of Thanksgiving as a national holiday.

The plans were changed to include speical tributes to Lincoln and Kennedy.

★ ★ ★

The Pentagon figures the armed forces will eat 2,153,584 pounds of Thanksgiving turkey today.

STATISTICALLY

That, according to a statistical-minded Defense Department expert, would cut up to about eight-tenths of a pound per person in the Army, Navy, Air Force and Marines.

President Johnson, addressing a joint session of Congress on Thanksgiving eve, urged the nation to "resolve that John Fitzgerald Kennedy did not live—or die—in vain."

On the day most Americans have too much to eat, President Johnson has asked more help for those who don't have enough.

★ ★ ★

In a letter to the nation's governors, Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman told of Johnson's request for greater efforts in making surplus food available to the needy.

THANKSGIVING
could be a selfish act. It might be one man thanking God that he is not as another man. These separate men could remain separate. They would be the have and the have-nots, the privileged and the cheated, the educated and the unlearned, the wise and the foolish, the older and the younger.
And Thanksgiving would be selfish.

THANKSGIVING
can break the selfish act. To give thanks truly is to live this thanks. To be thankful is to share thanks. So separate men are united. To be thankful is not to have a kind of inner feeling that allows one to stand in the midst of his own possessions and just feel gratitude; that very fact demands action, gives dynamic to others, moves men into something actual that prays
"O Lord, that lends me life
Lend me a heart replete with thankfulness."

THANKSGIVING
can transform the selfish aloneness. True thanksgiving saves man from his own apathies, his own hungers, his own wealth and his own heartaches. Too often we've given up believing that the world can know this transforming miracle. There's challenge enough this year for all of us who have so great a heritage to declare the Psalm,
"O give thanks unto the Lord for he is good
O that men would praise the Lord for his goodness
Let them sacrifice the sacrifices of thanksgiving
And declare his works with rejoicing."
Ralph W. Loew, D.D.

Area to Be Hit by Chilly Winds During the Night

Northwesterly winds blowing in at 10 to 20 miles per hour will bring temperatures tumbling to below freezing.

The U. S. Weather Bureau predicts lows between 25 to 32 in the Pontiac area with skies partly overcast.

Partly sunny and a little colder, the highs from 38 to 45 is Friday's forecast.

Partly cloudy with little temperature change is the outlook for Saturday.

Thirty-five was the low recording in downtown Pontiac preceding 8 a.m. By 11 a.m. the temperature had climbed to 42.

Chamber Sets Biggest Drive

Plans Membership Campaign for Week

Next week is Pontiac Area Chamber of Commerce Week and the local chamber is ready with a concerted membership drive.

The drive ends Dec. 7. Chamber officials hope to sign up from 100 to 300 new members by then.

"There are prizes for new members and present members," said Max Adams, chamber manager. "It's the biggest membership drive we've ever attempted."

★ ★ ★

Chairman of the drive is Nathan Bressler, president of West Detroit Glass of Pontiac, Inc., 715 Auburn.

EVERYONE WORKING

"We've got literally every one of our 800 members working on this," he said. "It's a real team effort.

"The 'prizes' for becoming a chamber member are really unlimited," said Adams. "Members play an active role in promoting a better business atmosphere for themselves.

"The chamber serves area shopping centers, neighborhood business establishments and downtown merchants on both an individual and group basis."

★ ★ ★

Adams pointed to the Chamber Week motto as an example: "Do business with those who improve your area — they are members of your chamber of commerce."

DUAL SUPPORT

Both the Pontiac and Waterford Junior Chambers of Commerce are supporting the big drive.

Annual dues for new members are $35.

★ ★ ★

A banner will be strung across Saginaw, members are wearing lapel tags and store windows are displaying posters about the event.

First Speech by Johnson Well Received

New President Gets Support, but Actions Not Likely This Year

WASHINGTON (AP)—Responding to a "let us continue" appeal from President Johnson, Congress is gearing for quick action next week on some of the legislation the late President John F. Kennedy proposed.

Johnson is not likely to get final action this year on the key civil rights and tax-reduction proposals he endorsed along with the rest of the Kennedy program in an address to Congress yesterday.

The chances appear excellent, however, that the Senate and House will agree on some pending aid-to-education measure and authorization for the foreign aid program before a Christmas vacation.

These, with passage of two or three regular departmental money bills, would wrap up the record of the first session of the 88th Congress.

★ ★

Applauded 30 times in the course of his speech, Johnson demonstrated expert pacing. His voice was clear and he looked out at his audience with only occasional glances at the text that lay before him.

ISSUES TO WAIT

An expert in "the art of the possible," Johnson knew even before he made his first address to a joint session of the House and Senate that civil rights and tax-reduction measures would have to go over until the election year.

Congressional sources said he originally had planned to ask the legislators to stay in session until the Senate could act on a House-passed $11.2-billion tax reduction.

Told by leaders this was impossible, the President then proposed lifting out of the measure the actual rate reducing provisions and attempting to get Senate action on them.

Finance Committee Chairman Harry F. Byrd, D-Va., wouldn't go along with this shortcut attempt, and it withered.

★ ★ ★

With the administration's civil rights bill bottled up in the House Rules Committee, presided over by Rep. Howard W. Smith, D-Va., Johnson gave his

Joyless Holiday for Kennedys

HYANNIS PORT, Mass. (AP)—The family of President John F. Kennedy gathers this Thanksgiving Day at Cape Cod where they shared the joy of his election in 1960 and now share the sorrow of his death.

Before leaving Washington with her two children, Jacqueline Kennedy, 34, again visited the grave of her husband at Arlington National Cemetery. It was her fourth visit there since Kennedy's burial last Monday.

At dusk on Thanksgiving eve she came with the late President's brother, Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy, who has been beside her since the assassination last Friday.

★ ★ ★

The President's sisters, Patricia Lawford and Jean Smith, were in the cemetery, too, but Mrs. Kennedy, hatless and wearing a black leather jacket and dark glasses, did not see them.

USES HARRIMAN HOME

It was announced last night that Mrs. Kennedy has accepted an offer from Undersecretary of State Averell Harriman to use his Georgetown home on N Street in Washington, not far from a house the Kennedys occupied before moving into the White House.

There was a rumor that Mrs. Kennedy wanted to repurchase her former home at 3307 N St., which was sold for about $100,000. The owners, Mr. and Mrs. Perry Ausbrook, could not be reached for comment.

WASHINGTON (AP) — With worship, a family dinner at home and a Thanksgiving message to the nation, President Johnson observes today the holiday he has asked Americans to mark with memorial tribute to John F. Kennedy.

Johnson, his wife and their two daughters planned to attend Thanksgiving Day services at Mt. Vernon Methodist Church in northwest Washington.

At their home in Washington's Spring Valley section, the new President and his family will have Thanksgiving dinner. Navy Ensign Bernard Rosenbach, fiance of daughter Lynda Bird, 19 is expected to join the First Family at the holiday table.

★ ★ ★

Tonight, Johnson delivers a Thanksgiving message to the nation. It will be televised and broadcast from the White House at 6:15 p.m. EST.

INTELLIGENCE BRIEFING

Johnson also scheduled a morning intelligence briefing at his home, and an afternoon foreign affairs conference at the White House.

The director of the Central Intelligence Agency, John A. McCone, was to brief the President.

After church and dinner, Johnson meets at the White House with Secretary of State Dean Rusk and McGeorge Bundy, special assistant to the President on national security affairs.

Youth Killed in Car Wreck

A 15-year-old Waterford Township youth was killed last night and four companions seriously injured in a smashup on Joslyn north of Scripps in Orion Township.

Dead is James L. Hall, 15, of 536 S. Hospital, Waterford Township.

Hall was in a car driven by Gerald J. Bratton, 17, of Detroit, sheriff's deputies said, when the vehicle struck a tree about 11:30 p.m. and rolled over several times.

★ ★ ★

Bratton sustained serious injuries. Also injured were Ross A. Oliver, 15, of 5044 Libcrest; Larry Kuenzer, 17, of 4607 Forest, Waterford Township; and John J. Husereau, 19, of 42 Park Place.

★ ★ ★

Deputies said the youths had been drinking and admitted they were fleeing from the Guesthouse, a nearby religious home, when their car somehow got off the road as they attempted to turn onto northbound Joslyn from Scripps.

West Leaders Eye NATO Summit Talks

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Western summit meeting in the early part of next year remains a possibility.

High U.S. sources noted that North Atlantic Treaty Organization meetings include gatherings by government heads from time to time, and that four of the five big NATO powers — the United States, Britain, West Germany and Italy — recently have had changes at the top.

President Johnson has displayed a liking for personal diplomacy and has tentative agreements for talks with French President Charles de Gaulle, British Prime Minister Sir Alec Douglas-Home and West German Chancellor Ludwig Erhard early in 1964.

★ ★ ★

Proposals for such a top-level parley have not yet come under active consideration, the U.S. sources said. Johnson first has much domestic business to tend to.

Further in the future is any meeting between Johnson and Soviet Premier Khrushchev.

Launching Smooths U. S. Path to Moon

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) —America's path to the moon appears smoother as a result of the first successful launching of the high-energy Atlas-Centaur program yesterday with a flawless performance on the booster's second development flight.

The Centaur second stage engines burn liquid hydrogen —and, for the first time, this powerful propellant was ignited in space.

The two Centaur engines, with total thrust of 30,000 pounds, functioned 380 seconds and shot the spent upper stage into an earth orbit.

The Centaur proved that liquid hydrogen — a tricky fluid which must be maintained at 423 degrees below zero—is practical as a rocket fuel.

Plan Attack on Reading Ills

By G. K. HODENFIELD
AP Education Writer

SAN FRANCISCO—A massive attack on the nation's greatest single educational problem—the teaching of reading—will get under way next year.

★ ★ ★

It will involve top scholars from the colleges and universities, classroom teachers, psychologists, linguists, and even mathematicians.

Tentative plans for the government sponsored research program were revealed today by Dr. Francis Ianni, director of the U.S. Office of Education's cooperative research branch.

RESEARCH GUIDES

Guidelines for the research were set in three days of meetings preceding today's formal opening of the 53rd annual convention of the National Council of Teachers of English.

"There have been hundreds of projects to determine the best method, or combination of methods, of teaching children to read," Ianni said, "but there has never been such a large-scale attack on the problem as this."

★ ★ ★

Ianni said $1 million or more might be spent on reading research in the first year alone. Proposals for specific projects are to be submitted by March 1.

Educators long have agreed that reading is the most important skill a child can learn in school.

KIDNAPED — Col. James K. Chenault, assistant chief of the U.S. Army mission in Venezuela, is held by Castro terrorists after being captured in front of his home yesterday. Anonymous phone calls have informed the U.S. Embassy that Chenault is only being held for propaganda purposes and will be released Saturday.

Birmingham Area News

Hearing Set on Rezoning Property

BIRMINGHAM — The City Commission has set a public hearing for Dec. 23 on rezoning of Church of Christ property on Lincoln near Floyd.

The property was held over for further consideration when the commission ruled on three other pieces of property in the area bordered by Lincoln, Floyd, Landon and Ann.

Petition for rezoning the church property from three- and four-family residential to five-family residential was filed with the city six months ago.

The other requests from the area were for conversion to business zoning. The Birmingham Planning Commission has recommended that the residential nature of the area be maintained.

SIGN AUTHORIZED

The City Commission authorized the installation of a permanent, lighted sign indicating left turns are prohibited at Maple and Woodward from 4-6 p.m. daily except Sunday.

The possibility of prohibiting left turns at the congested intersection from 7 a.m.-7 p.m. had been discussed.

Following a public hearing, the commission declared the necessity of extending Fairway Drive.

City Manager L. R. Gare was authorized to secure independent property appraisals and negotiate for rights of way.

At the suggestion of Commissioner Charles Renfrew, the possibility of naming something in the city after the late President John F. Kennedy was discussed. The commission decided part of the new city golf course might be appropriate for such a designation.

William R. Beasley of the legal firm Forsythe and Beasley, Ferndale, has been appointed attorney for the Birmingham Board of Education to replace James Thorburn, recently appointed Oakland County Circuit Court judge.

Court Date for Sniper Is Dec. 18

Charles R. Morris, the 16-year-old Walled Lake youth who admitted slaying a construction worker because he wanted police to come and kill him, will face examination on a first-degree murder charge Dec. 18.

The boy will appear before Walled Lake Justice Gene Schnelz, who yesterday set the date for the examination at a preliminary hearing.

The youth's attorney, James Renfrew of Royal Oak, asked that the examination be waived, but Schnelz, after consulting with Oakland County Prosecutor George F. Taylor, declined to to so.

★ ★ ★

Schnelz and Taylor agreed that an examination on the charge should be held because the boy was charged with a capital crime.

WARRANT ISSUED

A first-degree murder warrant was issued against the youth yesterday after Probate Judge Norman R. Barnard waived Juvenile Court jurisdiction to permit the boy to be tried as an adult.

Charles admitted the Nov. 6 fatal shooting of Kenneth Beebe, 18, of Shelby Township, from a second-floor window of his home at 929 Ladd.

Beebe, whom the boy had never seen before, was working alone on a construction project next to the boy's home.

★ ★ ★

Charles told police he wanted to shoot someone so that he would be killed himself. However, he did not shoot at police who surrounded his home and arrested him when he surrendered meekly after an hour's siege.

WAS FORBIDDEN

Police said the youth was despondent over being forbidden to see a 16-year-old girl friend who had gone with him on an unsuccessful runaway marriage attempt.

Long Training Paid Off for Dallas Hero

WASHINGTON (AP) — The moment a Secret Service agent trains for came last Friday in Dallas to Rufus W. Youngblood.

An agent for 13 years, Youngblood was riding with Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson, two cars behind the presidential car, when he heard the shots that mortally wounded President John F. Kennedy and seriously wounded Texas Gov. John B. Connally.

NOT SURE

He could not be positive that the reports were shots, but Youngblood, from his position next to the driver, turned and pulled Johnson to the floor, shouted "get down," and then half-sat and half-sprawled on top of him.

★ ★ ★

"It could have been a firecracker, a bomb or a shot," Youngblood, 39, said in an interview. "I recognized it as an abnormal sound and realized some action had to be taken. I saw quick, unnatural movements in the President's car."

NEAR SNIPER

If the assassin was in the warehouse that the caravan had just passed—as police assume he was—then Johnson's car at this point was closer to the killer than the presidential car.

★ ★ ★

Youngblood said Mrs. Johnson and Sen. Ralph Yarborough, D-Tex., who were riding in the rear seat with the man who became President not many minutes later, also responded to commands and got down below window level.

Youngblood kept the three down during the five-minute drive to Parkland Hospital, where Kennedy and Connally were taken. The next day, Johnson wrote a letter to Secret Service Chief James J. Rowley, suggesting that Youngblood's action "deserves the highest commendation your service can offer for his tremendously courageous action."

Secret Service agents say an act of equal heroism was performed by Clint Hill, an agent who was in the convertible following the presidential limousine.

JUMPS ON

Hill leaped out, caught up with the President's car even though it was traveling at 12 miles an hour and, with an assist from Mrs. Kennedy, climbed onto the trunk and covered the wounded President and Mrs. Kennedy.

Youngblood, now assigned to the detail guarding President Johnson, said of his and Hill's actions: "Any agent in the service would have done the same thing."

"I've been drawing a paycheck every two weeks for years, and I wouldn't want to draw another paycheck unless I would act in the same way next time—and I hope there's never a next time," he said.

Youngblood is a World War II Air Force veteran, a native of Macon, Ga., and a graduate of Georgia Institute of Technology. He has acted as a bodyguard for Kennedy and former President Dwight D. Eisenhower.

Troy Commission to Ask Voter Okay of Pay Raise

TROY — City Commissioners are going to ask their "boss" for a $10-per-meeting pay hike, an increase which if granted will double their present earnings.

★ ★ ★

The commission voted to request the increase, as well as doubling the maximum allowed per year from $600 to $1,200, at its regular meeting.

It is expected the raise, which requires an amendment to the city charter, will be asked for on the April ballot.

★ ★ ★

In other business the commission voted 6-1 to rezone the section east of Livernois and south of Maple.

PROPOSED CENTER

The commission's action, in effect, opens the door for the Tracy Land Co.'s proposed 20-acre shopping and multiple-dwelling center there, and ends Clawson's chances of establishing a park on Troy property.

Acting against the recommendation of planning consultants Vilican-Leman Associates of Southfield, the commission set a hearing for rezoning of a 33-acre site for a K-Mart store and other smaller retail stores at Maple and Stephenson.

The planning commission had split 3-3 on the issue, and Vilican-Leman recommended against the rezoning on grounds that a shopping center would disrupt industrial traffic patterns and the continuity of zoning in the area.

The request will again be aired at a Dec. 16 public hearing.

Developers have said that construction of the 110,000 square-foot K-Mart would begin within 10 days after the commission rezones the property.

Holiday Is Sad One for Kennedys

Mrs. Kennedy also thought of the tourists who flock to Washington for the long Thanksgiving weekend. At her request, the White House will be reopened to visitors, starting tomorrow.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Kennedy did not attend the joint session of Congress Wednesday at which President Johnson declared he would continue her husband's policies.

TALKS TO LYNDON

Afterwards she talked to the President at the White House. Assistant presidential press secretary Malcolm Kilduff said she thanked Johnson for his "many kindnesses and courtesies."

Mrs. Kennedy and Robert Kennedy, arriving at Arlington 15 minutes before the closing, examined the grave and the growing number of floral tributes. Arlington Supt. John Metzler said she told him, "It looks nice."

As they have done for years, all of the Kennedy family headed home for Thanksgiving dinner with the head of the family, Joseph P. Kennedy, 75.

★ ★ ★

Today will be Mrs. Kennedy's first meeting with her father-in-law since the death of her husband. The elder Kennedy remained at his seaside home during the funeral.

RETURNED HOME

Mrs. Joseph Kennedy went to Washington for the funeral but returned home Monday night.

The family cook, Mathilda Dowd, went ahead with preparations for a traditional turkey dinner.

approval to a move to take the measure directly to the House floor.

But this would be a time-consuming procedure, requiring the approval of 218 members. Even if all went well, it could not bring the measure to the floor until Dec. 23. Most members expect to be home for Christmas by then.

Johnson's message had a little of something for everybody in it.

He got applause when he told the world that "those who test our courage will find it strong and those who seek our friendship will find it honorable."

He said the nation will keep its commitments to South Viet Nam and West Berlin and will continue unceasingly its search for peace.

For the budget balancers he pledged "utmost thrift and frugality" in government expenditures.

Woman Is Hurt as Car Crashes Into Utility Pole

A Waterford Township woman escaped serious injury when her car went out of control and felled a utility pole early today. The accident cut off electrical power for the immediate area.

Treated for cuts and bruises at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital was Mae Scruggs, 44, of 4263 Windiate.

She told township police her car went off the roadway as she drove west on Windiate near Sabine.

★ ★ ★

Police say power lines snapped from the pole fell clear of the auto. The break was quickly repaired by utility service crews.

After returning yesterday from Capitol Hill where he told Congress that Kennedy's ideas and ideals "must and will be translated into effective action," Johnson met two foreign leaders and the governor of Georgia and had an unannounced talk with House Speaker John W. McCormack.

CAMBODIAN OFFICIAL

The President's foreign visitors were Prince Norodom Kantol, prime minister of Cambodia and Gens Krag, Denmark's prime minister.

The Cambodian said he and Johnson had a general discussion "in terms of the friendship between Cambodia and the United States."

Krag said he and Johnson talked about international affairs, particularly those involving Europe and the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

★ ★ ★

Then Johnson talked with Gov. Carl E. Sanders of Georgia.

'WILL DO ANYTHING'

Sanders said he told Johnson that "anything in the world we can do in our section of the country we are willing to do" to strengthen the nation's unity in the face of Kennedy's assassination.

★ ★ ★

Jacqueline Kennedy, widow of the late president, and Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy, his brother, spent about 15 minutes with Johnson.

Holiday Toll Hits Five in Michigan

By The Associated Press

Highway accidents killed five persons at the start of the long Thanksgiving holiday weekend in Michigan.

The Associated Press began counting the deaths at 6 p.m. yesterday and will continue until midnight, Sunday.

★ ★ ★

A two-car collision at an intersection on M37 near Grand Rapids killed an elderly Rockford couple last night. The victims, Lyle G. Warner, 79, and his wife, Lorena, 75, were in a car that apparently failed to stop at the intersection, Kent County Sheriff's deputies said.

★ ★ ★

James Hall, 15, of Union Lake, was killed last night while returning from a dance with four other youths, Oakland County Sheriff's deputies said. The teen-agers were in a car that veered off a curve and struck a tree on the north side of Pontiac, deputies said. The other four were reported in serious condition at Pontiac General Hospital.

★ ★ ★

Cornelius Bauw, 56, of Grand Rapids, died last night when his car left an Ottawa County road and rolled over, police said.

Arthur Bowles, 55, of Oscoda, was killed early today in a head-on crash between two cars on U.S. 23 east of Omer in Arenac County, sheriff's men said.

A Prayer of 'Thanksgiving'

(In keeping with our policy of running guest editorials from time to time, our Thanksgiving message has been written by Rev. G. J. Bersche, pastor of Christian and Missionary Alliance Church.)

Thanksgiving is a word with magic and charm. It is a family day. It is a time when we count our blessings, both spiritual and material. It is a day proclaimed by our President as a National Day of Thanksgiving to Almighty God. Many American families will pray a prayer of thanksgiving as they gather around the table. May we suggest a prayer for today:

REV. BERSCHE

"Almighty God our Heavenly Father, we give thanks for salvation that has been made possible, by grace, through faith in our Lord Jesus Christ. We give thanks for the Holy Bible, the inspired Word of God. We give thanks for the Church, where the Word of God is proclaimed. We give thanks for our Christian homes and families. We give thanks for the United States of America, where people have liberty and freedom to worship You.

★ ★ ★

"We thank You for our godly forefathers who passed on to us a great spiritual heritage. We thank You that we are '. . . one Nation, under God . . . , with liberty and justice for all;' and that, 'In God We Trust.' We thank You for national leaders who, in the time of crisis and tragedy, turn to You for help, refuge, and guidance. We thank You for the power of prayer, recognized by our Senators and Representatives in Washington. We thank You for homes and churches where our children are taught the principles and precepts of the Christian religion.

★ ★ ★

"We pray, O God, that You will forgive us of our national sins. We confess that we are a wicked nation, in need of a spiritual awakening. Forgive us for outlawing prayer and Bible reading in our public school systems. Forgive us for forgetting You and for bowing down to the gods of pleasure and materialism. Your Word declares: 'The wicked shall be turned into hell, and all the nations that forget God.' (Psa. 9:17) 'Righteousness exalteth a nation: but sin is a reproach to any people.' (Prov. 14:34) '. . . lovers of pleasures more than lovers of God.' (II Tim. 3:4)

★ ★ ★

"O God, we are ashamed that it has taken a national tragedy, the assassination of our President, to make us conscious of our entire dependence upon You. We pray for Divine help and guidance for our Nation and its leaders during this time of crisis. We pray especially for our President, LYNDON B. JOHNSON, that You will grant him the wisdom that he needs in piloting the Ship of State. This we pray in the Name of Jesus Christ, our Lord. Amen."

A 'Prosperous' Year—for Auto Thieves

This has been not only a bumper year for automobile production, it's been a taking year for automobile thefts.

A total of 249,368 cars — representing more than $22 million — have been stolen in the first nine months, reports the National Automobile Theft Bureau. This is a 13 per cent increase over the same period last year. Locally, a city-county total of 682 cars was reported stolen for the nine months of 1963.

Two contributing factors are cited for the spread of car thievery: population explosions in both automobiles and teen-agers, who take eight out of every ten cars stolen.

Since teen-age theft is usually spur of the moment, the bureau says auto owners could drastically cut the theft rate by simply removing ignition keys and locking their cars whenever they park.

★ ★ ★

Not locking the car door before the car is stolen is as silly as locking the barn door after the horse is stolen.

LBJ Aggressive, Good Organizer

By BOB CONSIDINE

WASHINGTON — Gen. Carl L. Phinney, steely-eyed commander of the Texas National Guard, and long-time friend of President Johnson, was looking for a cab. So were we. We split the one that emerged through the morn.

CONSIDINE

It was a long rain-bombarded ride in from Dulles Airport to the city, almost as long, it seemed at times, as the jet ride from Dallas. But informative.

Gen. Phinney, a famed Dallas lawyer who rose from private to commanding general of the 36th Infantry Division of the Texas National Guard, met Lyndon Johnson when the latter was a boy and Phinney not much older.

Phinney was a page boy in the Texas legislature, where the new President's father served.

★ ★ ★

"I'd say that Lyndon's great assets are his aggressiveness, his drive and his ability to organize. I've never met a more wholesome man."

HARSH WORDS

We reminded him that LBJ had had some harsh things to say about the late great JFK when the two were fighting it out for the party nomination in 1960.

There was one particular caucus of the Texas delegation, to which Johnson invited Kennedy, at which he implied to cheering pro-John delegates that Joseph P. Kennedy Sr., had been pro-Hitler during his days as ambassador to the Court of St. James's.

Why, then, we asked, did LBJ thereafter accept the invitation from Kennedy to take the second place on the ticket?

★ ★ ★

"He took it for two reasons," his friend said. "He took it first because he felt he could be of more use to his country as vice president than as Senate majority leader. Secondly, he took it because he has a sense of loyalty toward his party that can hardly be equalled.

HELPED TICKET

"He felt he could help the ticket, and it goes without saying that he did—notably in the South. It took a big man to do that.

"Lyndon's big. He gave President Kennedy loyalty that I believe to be unmatched in my own time around politics."

It is no great surprise that Gen. Phinney believes that his old friend will make a fine president.

★ ★ ★

"Our country is fortunate to have a man of Lyndon's stature to take over in this terrible crisis," he said. "He has stature in the world and great experience, and the determination to carry on. As you know as well as I do, he has great influence in the Congress.

GREAT AMERICAN

"Above all, he's a great American. Gen. Eisenhower will attest to that. He found in Lyndon a firm and trustworthy friend in the Senate, and he fought his own legislative program through.

"This is only a personal guess, but I would say that basically President Johnson will pursue the over-all policies of President a bit more conservative domestically."

Capital Letter:

The Silent Voice of CIA Retires

By RUTH MONTGOMERY

WASHINGTON — The official "no comment" man for the hush-hush Central Intelligence Agency reluctantly retired this week to join the cardiac club, which boasts such other stellar members as former President Eisenhower and President Lyndon B. Johnson.

RUTH MONTGOMERY

Colonel Stanley Grogan, 72, was the nearest thing to a public voice that CIA Director John McCone and his predecessor, Allen Dulles, could boast.

Until his recent heart attack, Grogan carried the title of assistant to the director. Actually, he was the lone official contact between the subterranean agency and the clamoring outside world.

So secretive is the CIA operation that Grogan was sometimes dubbed "the official nonspokesman" by frustrated but admiring newspapermen.

★ ★ ★

At that, he was better off than most of the (number-is-a-secret) employes, who are not even permitted to tell bosom pals that they work for CIA.

WHAT'S GOING ON?

Suffice it to say that if Stan Grogan didn't know what was going on in the world, it just wasn't happening. Period.

When politicians were heaping abuse on CIA for its role in the Bay of Pigs fiasco, Grogan kept his urbanity and private counsel. In fact, it was his advice which Allen Dulles followed in deciding to offer no defense of CIA's conduct.

Only twice during the past decade has the agency deviated from its policy of public silence.

★ ★ ★

The first occurred after Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy charged that CIA had been infiltrated by Communists, but declined to furnish it the list of alleged suspects. Grogan issued a statement calling the senator a liar.

ALGERIA OVERTHROW

More recently, after French official sources insinuated that the CIA had masterminded the overthrow of Algerian generals, Grogan's was the agency voice which called the assertion false.

Grogan, like Allen Dulles, but unlike John McCone, was an old "pro" in the intelligence field. His colorful career began with the First World War, when he served four years as an intelligence officer with the 49th Infantry Regiment here and in Europe.

While on the War Department's general staff in 1940, super sleuth Grogan went on a secret mission in civilian clothes to Dutch Surinam, holding a rendezvous with the U.S. regiment sent there to guard the bauxite mines.

★ ★ ★

He returned four days before Pearl Harbor, and soon was setting up press background briefings for Secretary Henry L. Stimson, Chief of Staff George C. Marshall and Assistant War Secretary John McCloy, his old buddy with whom he had been commissioned in 1917 at Plattsburg.

When free French leader Charles de Gaulle and escaped Nazi prisoner Henri Giraud came to America on war missions, Stan handled their meetings with the press.

He also introduced General Dwight D. Eisenhower to his first tape recorder, during one of the supreme commander's secret flights to Washington, and persuaded him to tape a speech for European distribution.

Those are the years he can still talk about. Soon after Gen. Bedell Smith took command of CIA, Grogan was tapped as his "man Friday," and he's been practically mute ever since.

★ ★ ★

Now that he's out of government, about the only thing he can still say about CIA is: "It's one of the finest organizations I've ever had anything to do with. The personnel is terrifically good, and they have more Ph.D. degrees than you can shake a stick at.

"The morale is excellent, despite all that secrecy stuff. It's a great outfit."

★ ★ ★

Stan, believe it or not, does not intend to write a book.

Johnson Faces Challenge of Stepped-Up Asia Wars

By JOHN RODERICK

TOKYO (AP)—Red China has thrown down the gauntlet to President Johnson. He faces the prospect of stepped-up warfare in South Viet Nam and Laos and possibly new crises in Korea and Cambodia.

The Peking regime has made clear it is determined to probe for any sign of U.S. uncertainty or weakness in Asian policy following the death of President John F. Kennedy.

The Chinese swiftly denounced Johnson as a supporter of Kennedy's "various reactionary policies." This has been followed by hostile appraisals of Johnson from North Viet Nam and the pro-Communist Pathet Lao of Laos.

North Korea has not reacted officially to the American change of leadership but it has stepped up the virulence and volume of its anti-U.S. campaign.

PROVING GROUND

The war in South Viet Nam is a prime proving ground for China's tough revolutionary theories.

North Viet Nam, which directs and assists Communist s 'version in the south, quickly announced the fighting would continue as it had when Kennedy was directing U.S. assistance to South Viet Nam's anti-Communist forces.

The official Communist organ Nhan Dan said: "Kennedy is dead, but the people (of the world) do not relax in their struggle against U.S. imperialism and for national independence, democracy and socialism."

★ ★ ★

To underline this threat, the Viet Cong guerrillas mounted powerful attacks on strategic hamlets in the south, dealing the young military regime some of the heaviest blows of the war.

ECHO PEKING

In Laos, the Pathet Lao removed all doubts about where its allegiance lies. Once supported by the Soviets, it now echoes Peking's line.

The Pathet Lao radio said: "The U.S. imperialists will continue their policy of intervention in Laos and become more inflexible.

"Under such circumstances the Laotian people should never harbor any illusions about Johnson. No matter who becomes president, the nature of U.S. imperialism remains unchanged and its policy will continue to be aggression and bellicose."

The North Koreans, without apparent reason, have staged several shooting incidents on the 38th parallel in recent months.

Voice of the People:

'Let Foreign Aid Protest Be Heard in Washington'

Foreign aid has created keen foreign competition and continues to subsidize foreign competitors. It is largely responsible for the drop in our gold reserve from $24.5 billion to $15.6 billion and for the amassing of 26-billion foreign held dollar credits redeemable in gold. Consequently, the fate of the dollar rests in foreign hands! Foreign aid has undermined confidence in the dollar.

Aid has become an insufferable tax burden. And the taxpayers' protest is beginning to be heard in Congress. Now is the time for each recipient of this study to wire his AID views to his senators and congressman.

Washington — Citizens Foreign Aid Committee

Writers Tell Feelings About President

Our nation has died this week, died on the wisp of one small projectile spit from the muzzle of hate, violence and confusion. Our nation has died in the eyes of many peoples of many nations. No longer will we be looked upon with reverence, respect and awe.

Our nation has died but it will be reborn and will grow with the vigor of a newborn, and perhaps in this rebirth we can eliminates the hates, prejudices and confusion that has driven nation against nation, and brother against brother.

★ ★ ★

Our nation has died, but in this death a light has shone. A light so bright that it has penetrated the darkest corners and crevices of the world and this light will show us the way to our future, a future of brotherhood, of love and of world peace.

R. R. Fox

"The elements wept with me as the winds mourned through the trees. Across the meadows and the seas all nature wept at the passing of JFK. A man who strove to make right things right. A man who strove to do the things the Lord gave him to do.

The Lord has called him and we must know his work is over here below, but his spirit will linger with us forever.

Mrs. J. V. A.

Somewhere, perhaps in the Bible, there was a bit of advice that may be a consolation to someone at this time. It was the suggestion that we should pray for the dead and concentrate on the health of the living.

Appreciative American

President John F. Kennedy was a dedicated man of deeds and a truly patriotic American. He's not in purgatory because he rates more than an inbetween. John F. Kennedy deserves more than prayers and a pretending world.

Our past President deserves a whole lot of praise. He gave us more than his acquired and conditioned doctrines. He gave us a great perception of patriotism through his never-ceasing deeds and duties. John F. Kennedy had a heart for humanity. Those who really care and will remember him best are those who will carry on his goal for equality and a fighting chance for all.

The Almanac

By United Press International

Today is Thursday, Nov. 28, the 332nd day of 1963 with 33 to follow. Today is Thanksgiving.

The moon is approaching its full phase.

The evening stars are Jupiter, Saturn and Venus.

On this day in history:

In 1520, Ferdinand Magellan entered the Pacific Ocean on his way around the world, the first European to sail that body of water from the East.

In 1863, the United States observed the first Thanksgiving Day set aside by national proclamation.

In 1956, the United States expressed concern to the Syrian government over substantial shipments of Soviet arms to Syria.

ICBM FIRED

In 1958, the United States fired an intercontinental ballistic missile for full range for the first time.

★ ★ ★

A thought for the day — American President George Washington said: "The basis of our political system is the right of the people to make and to alter their constitutions of government."

TV in Taxis

The Grand Rapids Press

We view with decided misgivings the placing of small television sets in the back seats of taxicabs by a Chicago company.

★ ★ ★

The TV sets may indeed delight some of the passengers, as reported, and prompt them to tip the drivers more generously — to the drivers' obvious delight — but if television becomes standard equipment in the nation's cabs an honored institution will disappear from the American scene.

★ ★ ★

We refer to the cab driver—usually described as "garrulous" — who keeps up a running line of chatter, serves as a sightseeing guide for strangers in town, and is always ready with the lowdown on the town's politicians or the presidential race.

One of Eddie Cantor's most famous characters was just such a cabbie. But the real-life article is almost always as interesting.

Tragic Weekend

The Ann Arbor News

This was a weekend which most Americans will want to forget — a weekend of incredible, unbelievable happenings.

But the series of events beginning with the tragic death on Friday of President Kennedy at the hands of an assassin can't easily be forgotten. A hundred years from now historians will be puzzling over some aspects of this stranger-than-fiction four days.

While the single fact of the President's death make other events of the weekend seem unimportant, the grieving nation was not allowed even a period of quiet mourning before the harsh intrusion of another murder in Dallas — the victim this time the accused killer of the President.

At this point it appears that no conspiracy was involved in either the killing of President Kennedy or the slaying of his alleged assassin, but that each was the act of a single individual, motivated by God knows what strange reasoning.

The second of the slayings in Dallas came even as clergymen all over the country were exhorting their congregations to put aside the hate and divisive influences that lead to such things.

In the common grief over President Kennedy's death, they see an opportunity for a rebirth of unity and tolerance which this nation so sorely needs.

It is not too late.

New President

The Jackson Citizen Patriot

The wise men who wrote the Constitution guaranteed continuity of government by providing for a vice president in the structure of the executive branch.

The system hasn't quite worked out as they envisioned it, what with the growth of the two-party system. The line of succession also has been altered to meet the needs of the day.

★ ★ ★

But today the nation again is learning that the Founding Fathers did their work well. Within hours after President John F. Kennedy was cut down by an assassin's fire, Lyndon Baines Johnson raised his right hand and swore to faithfully discharge the duties of the high office into which the tragedy projected him.

This was, first and foremost, a demonstration of the inherent strength of the American system of government. That is also true of the quadrennial elections when a President may step down; control of the machinery of government may pass from one party to another.

Revolutions are unknown in America because they are not necessary. The change of command is accomplished smoothly. The effects of the untimely loss of a President are softened by democratic processes. And so it is today.

Frisco Builds Newest U.S. Transit Unit

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — By 1971, commuters in the San Francisco Bay area will be speeding to their jobs over the nation's newest rapid transit system, a 75 - mile network which will be the most modern in the world.

The system will be financed with $115 million in bridge tolls and $782 million worth of bonds which will be a general obligation on the taxpayers of San Francisco, Alameda and Contra Costa counties.

Construction began this fall with the first passenger operations due in 1968.

The 75 miles will include 16 miles of subways, 31 miles of elevated lines, 24 miles of private right - of - way surface lines, and a 4-mile tunnel under the bay.

RAILWAY USE

Thirty - four miles of the network will use existing railroad right-of-way and 14 miles will be in median strips of freeways.

San Francisco's rapid transit line will be the first fully automated system in the world, run by electronic computers at speeds up to 75 miles an hour with pinpoint stopping.

San Francisco hopes to operate its trains with a one minute headway, 50 per cent faster than the best of existing U.S. systems. Station stops would be limited to 20 seconds and the trains would be programmed to cover about a mile a minute, including a station stop every mile.

* * *

San Francisco is building with the idea of eventual expansion to San Jose, Livermore, Antioch and Novato, Calif.

Economist Kenneth D. Lawson has estimated the system will save residents of the Bay area $84 million a year and stimulate economic growth while preserving "cultural attractiveness."

FOUND DEAD — Richard A. Mack, 53, a member of the Federal Communications Commission from 1953 to 1958, was found dead Tuesday in a hotel room in Miami. He was involved in a FCC scandal in 1958 and has since been a jobless alcoholic.

Take No Action on Retirement

Fixed Age for Bishops Proposed at Vatican

VATICAN CITY (AP) — The Vatican Ecumenical Council will end its second session in a week without taking action on a provocative proposal to make retirement at 75 mandatory for Roman Catholic bishops.

Had such a rule been in effect a few years ago, there would have been no Pope John XXIII —and probably no ecumenical council. The former cardinal patriarch of Venice was 75 in 1956, two years before the College of Cardinals elected him to succeed Pius XII.

★ ★ ★

Pope John reportedly remarked after he moved to the Vatican Palace: "Well, here I am at the end of the road and at the top of the heap." He was 81 when he died last June.

The proposal for a fixed retirement age came up during discussion by the 2,200 council fathers of a topic on bishops and diocesan government. The suggestion was among hundreds a council commission will consider when it puts together amendments to the topic during the recess that begins Dec. 4.

PRIEST REPORTS

The Rev. Paul V. Maloney, a Boston priest who is assistant pastor of the American Catholic parish church in Rome, went through statistics on the U.S. Catholic hierarchy.

★ ★ ★

He published the se figures in a parish bulletin: in the 119 dioceses and 27 archdioceses of the United States, a mandatory retirement age of 75 would remove seven archbishops and nine bishops, including one cardinal, James Francis McIntyre of Los Angeles, who is 77.

Coeds Transported, and Appreciate It

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—There's at least one big reason for the popularity of Beta Theta Pi fraternity men with coeds at Ohio State University—a 30-passenger bus.

★ ★ ★

The fraternity purchased the one-time school bus during the summer, and it's sent out each school day at lunch time to circle the campus and bring the Betas back to their house to eat.

Each week, they also select a sorority to transport, and the bus stops also for coeds from that house.

Bill Seeks Authority for Washington Transit

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. Claiborne Pell D-R.I., has introduced a resolution in Congress to authorize eight states and the District of Columbia to establish a joint transit authority.

The authority would build and operate an "Atlantic Coast Cannonball" high speed rail commuter service at speeds of 130 miles an hour from Boston to Washington.

Negro Cook Asked to Sit With Guests

WASHINGTON (AP) — Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson invited the long-time family cook to sit with her and distinguished guests yesterday to listen to the President's address to a joint session of Congress.

★ ★ ★

The cook, Zephyr Wright, a Negro, has been with the Johnsons for at least 20 years; and "Zephyr's chili" has become renowned among friends and guests of the Johnsons. She is a beloved part of their home-life.

The Johnson daughters, Lynda Bird, 19, and Lucy Baines, 16, were to sit with their mother.

FAMILY GUESTS

The cooks name was in the list of family guests in the executive gallery, released by the White House.

Also on the list was the name of Arthur Schlesinger Jr., a special assistant of John F. Kennedy.

★ ★ ★

Peace Corps Director Sargent Shriver, brother-in-law of Kennedy, also was on the Johnson family guest list.

Others were: Dianna McArthur, niece of Mrs. Johnson; Miss Roxanne George, niece of the President; Abe Fortas, a Washington lawyer who once was an adviser to President Franklin D. Roosevelt; Mayor Robert F. Wagner of New York; Mayor Richard Daley of Chicago; Gov. Carl Sanders of Georgia; former Gov. David Lawrence of Pennsylvania; Mrs. William S. White, wife of a Washington columnist; and Mary V. Busby, wife of Horace Busby, an assistant to Johnson.

Hobby Turned Into Business

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP) — S. A. Osburn, 78, has turned a spare-time hobby into a moderately successful business. He builds miniature churches.

Exhibited for the first time at the Senior Citizens Fair in 1962, the little churches stand 14 inches high from base to steeple.

They are fitted with an interior light socket and bulb which shines through tiny front windows of colored isinglass showing Biblical figures.

★ ★ ★

Artificial evergreen trees lend a landscaped touch to the front entrance.

Buyers use Osburn's churches for decorative purposes, but Osburn uses his as a bird house in his yard.

Electronics Streamline Apartments

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) — Electronics will make life easier for housewives in a new 17-story apartment house here.

A closed-circuit television system will show items in the building's food store and tenants can call in their orders on the house telephone.

Without leaving their apartments residents can keep an eye on their children in the swimming pool and playgrounds by TV, and will be able to see callers in the lobby of the building.

★ ★ ★

Electronics will also speed maintenance service.

ACTIVATE SIGNAL

When a tenant calls service headquarters a dispatcher will activate a signal in small transistor radios carried by the building's repairmen.

The repairman whose call code is broadcast will telephone the dispatcher for his next assignment.

Reds Extend Treaty

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Union and Czechoslovakia yesterday extended a 20-year friendship treaty. The news agency Tass said Premier Khrushchev, President Leonid Brezhnev, Czechoslovak President Antonin Novotny and Premier Josef Lenart signed the document in Kremlin ceremonies.

THANKS HOSPITAL — Patricia Pefley, 7, of Carmichael, Calif., wrote a letter to Parkland Hospital in Dallas, Tex. "Dear President of the Hospital," it said. "Thank you for taking care of President Kennedy when he was hurt. I am very sorry that he had to die. I hope this will help take care of other people." Enclosed with the letter was a dollar from her savings.

'U. S. Belittles Presidency'

Romney Says Stories Disparaged Kennedy

LANSING (UPI) — Gov. George Romney complained yesterday Americans do not hold the office of president in high enough regard.

The governor said at a news conference that before President Kennedy was assassinated "there was developing a spreading of filthy stories tending to disparage the President, false stories regarding his character and motives.

"Things were being spread that were not true, that tended to ridicule, belittle, to destroy confidence and respect," Romney said.

★ ★ ★

The governor said he was not referring to "proper difference of viewpoint and opinion" as might be expressed by one politician viz-a-viz another.

A PARALLEL

To draw a parallel, he said the type of thing he was referring to was the John Birch Society claim that President Eisenhower had been "a conscious tool of the Communist conspiracy."

Romney said, "To me that was just as irresponsible and false as anything that could be charged."

Of the slurs on President Kennedy, he said, "I am referring to those who indulge in false accusations, malicious stories of a humorous or nonhumorous type that tend to destroy the public confidence unjustly. It is the sort of thing picked up by normally respectable people and passed on as something smart—but it tends to destroy," Romney said.

★ ★ ★

In explaining his feelings, Romney said, "My primary point is we need to hold the office of the presidency in greater respect than we tend to hold it and to show greater respect to the individual holding it."

Extra Security for LBJ Trip

Measures Tightened for Move to Capitol

WASHINGTON (AP) — Unusual security precautions apparently were taken yesterday for President Johnson's trip to and from the Capitol to address Congress.

The Secret Service maintained its usual silence about the steps it is taking to protect the President.

The Agriculture Department, however, issued special orders to be in effect while the President passes along Independence Avenue. Two major department buildings front on that street.

* * *

The department did not say whether the order was issued on its own initiative or at the request of the Secret Service or municipal police.

OUTLINES PRECAUTIONS

The order, signed by Joseph M. Robertson, administrative assistant secretary, outlines precautions to be taken so that "there may be as complete protection as possible of the President." His order directed that:

- The highest ranking employe in each office fronting on or having a view of independence avenue "shall be acquainted with and know the identity and intent of each person in the room during this period" of the President's travel.
- During and immediately preceding the travels of the President, no persons will be allowed on the roofs of any building on Independence Avenue.

* * *

There was no apparent tightening of restrictions at the Treasury Building, across the street from the White House, although there have been fairly tight regulations in some areas of that building for years.

Boy Named for Kennedy

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Eager of suburban Colonie are changing the name of their 6-week-old boy to John F. Kennedy Eager.

* * *

The baby was baptized Sunday as Daniel James Eager. But, after returning from church, the parents watched the ceremonies in Washington for the slain President.

"I hope some of his greatness rubs off on my son," Mrs. Eager told reporters after arranging to change the boy's name.

Sometimes Nothing Is Really Best Help

OMAHA, Neb. (AP)—Sometimes the best thing to do for patients is to do nothing, a nurse told a symposium of the Nebraska State Nurses' Association.

Mrs. Eleanor Smith, an instructor at the Kaiser Foundation Rehabilitation Center, Vallejo, Calif., was the speaker.

She urged that each patient be forced to utilize all the ability he has, even though it may be hard for a nurse to stand by and watch him struggle without lending a hand.

6 Political Parties Likely on '64 State Election Ballot

LANSING (UPI) — Six political parties very likely will be on the ballot next fall in Michigan, the state elections director said today.

The two major parties gain placement automatically. One minor party has already filed for ballot placement and three others are circulating petitions, said Robert M. Montgomery.

Petitions are already in for placement of the Socialist Workers' candidates names on the ballot with Democrats and Republicans. Circulations throughout the state are also being done by the Socialist Labor, Prohibition and Freedom Now parties.

★ ★ ★

In the last presidential election year, Michigan voters had a selection of seven parties on the ballot in most races. These included the Democratic, Republican, Socialist Workers, Socialist Labor, Tax Cut, Prohibition and Independent American parties.

LARGEST BALLOT

The 1960 seven-party ballot was the largest in Michigan since 1938, when six minor parties joined Democrats and Republicans on the state ballot, Montgomery said.

In 1938 when Republicans elected John Fitzgerald to his second, but not consecutive term, the two major parties had only token opposition from candidates on the Socialist, Socialist Labor, American, Commonwealth, Protestants United, and Square Deal parties. The six compiled only 4,223 votes of more than 1.5 million votes cast.

The 1960 vote saw minor party governor candidates pick up 10,302 tallies. More than 3.2-million votes were cast in the election.

The Socialist Labor, Socialist Workers and Prohibition parties have been regulars on Michigan ballots since the late 1940s; with the exception of the 1956 tally when the only minor party listed was the Prohibition group.

MINOR PARTIES

The variety of other minor parties listed on the ballot the last 20 years included Proletarian, Liberty, Communist, People's Progressive, Farmer Labor, National, and the America First party.

The Freedom Now party, if it succeeds in getting the required signatures on petitions this year, will be a new entry, Montgomery said. The group, organized in Detroit recently, indicated it planned to put up an all-Negro slate in an effort to further the civil rights fight for this minority group.

Under state law any time within six months of a general election, a minor party can gain ballot placement by submitting petitions to the secretary of state.

These petitions must contain the signatures of registered and qualified electors totaling at least 1 per cent, but not more than 4 per cent, of the votes cast in the preceding November general election for the successful secretary of state candidate.

OTHER REQUIREMENTS

Other specifications for the petitions are that at least 100 signatures must be obtained from each of 10 different counties, and that no single county can account for more than 35 per cent of the total signatures.

Start Fund for Officer

EAST LANSING (AP) — Michigan State University's police department is making a collection for the family of J. D. Tippit, the Dallas police officer slain shortly after President Kennedy was assassinated.

Lt. Allen Andrews said MSU patrolmen started the fund among themselves and will send the money directly to the Tippit family.

Ice cream consumption in Italy totaled 36,400 tons in 1959, about 52,500 in 1961. This means that last year Italians on the average ate a little more than two pounds of ice cream each.

SILENT VIGIL—A Fort Worth policeman stands guard over the grave of Lee H. Oswald, 24, accused of slaying President Kennedy, and buried Monday. Oswald, a former Fort Worth resident, was buried in Rose Hill Cemetery on the city's east side. He was slain Sunday in Dallas.

Troy School Principal to Take Teaching Post

TROY — The Troy School District is going to "lose" the high school principal, but gain him back as a teacher next fall.

At its regular meeting the Troy School Board accepted the resignation of High School Principal Roudaulph C. Smith, effective June 30.

"He'll be assigned to a teaching position next fall," Schools Supt. Rex B. Smith said yesterday.

★ ★ ★

Smith said the 56-year-old principal requested the reassignment to be released from some of the pressures of his job and to be able to travel more in summers.

WAYNE STATE GRAD

A graduate of Northern Michigan College in 1926, the high school principal was awarded a master's degree in counseling and administration from Wayne State University in 1954.

From 1950-1957 he was a mathematics teacher and counselor at the high school, and then appointed principal.

In other business, the Troy School Board adopted a new policy of punishing students who are caught vandalizing school property.

★ ★ ★

With the parents' approval, the vandals will be required to pay for the loss, as well as complete menial work duties in the school where they caused the damage.

Troy's juvenile case worker would assign the work.

★ ★ ★

The board reasoned that a student would be humiliated enough by these tasks to think twice before again causing damage to school equipment.

Latest Fashions: Leather

If the man at the top of your gift list is a problem, pack up your troubles in a new leather bag and he'll smile, smile, smile on Christmas morning.

Practical and elegant, leather luggage is a sure-fire man-pleasing gift this Yule season.

The odds are he'll take a business trip, a long weekend or a full vacation this winter and need spacious, durable and lightweight leather bags.

★ ★ ★

With a great variety in size and style available, masculine leather luggage can be found to fit most any purse.

MATCHED SETS

In the luxury class, there are matched sets of soil-and scratch resistant smooth leather bags which include an overnighter, a two-suiter and a 26-inch case.

You can add other matched pieces like a club bag — which packs at the top — as the need or occasion arises.

If his job calls for short trips to distant points, you'd be wise to select a leather "carryon" a compact bag designed to fit under the seat of a plane or tuck into the trunk of a compact car.

★ ★ ★

One practical new piece called a "shuttle bag" is a soft-sided combination of an overnight bag in the middle with two side pouches for papers and flat articles.

LIGHTWEIGHT

Modern flyway leather cases add almost nothing to the weight of his clothes — an asset at the airlines weighing-in counter.

And with the shortage of porters at train stations and airports, he'll bless your thoughtfulness when he lifts the balanced weight of a modern lightweight leather case.

At his destination a bright elegant leather bag will underscore a successful appearance.

★ ★ ★

New developments in leather manufacture keep modern leather bags free of stains and scratches, and scar-resistant longer. A damp sponge or even a paper towel will restore his leather case to brand new freshness.

ATTACHE CASE

An attache case in suntan, saddle or black leather is a smart traveling companion for any man.

There are dozens of different styles to fit his needs.

Many have a side compartment for a clean shirt or an accordion file for papers.

★ ★ ★

The busy executive who works as he runs will find an attache case flipped on its side makes a satisfactory portable desk on plane or train.

THEY'RE OFF — Prior to ticket-tearing time, the race would be brought to the bettors over closed-circuit television in the gambling emporiums. All that remains are a few small stumbling blocks, like New York State approval.

Two-Minute Race Telecast New Idea for Off-Track Bet

NEW YORK (NEA)—"What'll we do today?"

"Why don't we go to the pictures?"

"What's playing?"

"The third at Aqueduct."

★ ★ ★

That conversation is a possibility for New York City in the six-furlong (or not too distant) future.

OK NEEDED

All that remains are a few small stumbling blocks, such as New York State approval.

In a recent ballot, city voters gave a thumbs-up to off-track betting by a 3-to-1 margin.

Once in the clear, it's full speed down the home stretch to the swankiest off-track betting system ever dreamed up east of Las Vegas.

★ ★ ★

Walter Reade-Sterling Inc., a company which owns theaters and produces and distributes movies and television films, has devised a system of telecasting the horse races in several spots throughout the city.

BET WINDOWS

An outer lobby would be equipped with betting windows, tote boards and men eager to take your money.

All this would, in the company's public-spirited plan, be an extension of the race track, a kind of midtown paddock.

Just as at the track, you'd be able to just watch the races if you wanted to, without making a bet (what are you, some kind of nut?) or vice versa.

★ ★ ★

And again, just as though you were out at the track, there would be tote boards, racing forms, a bar at which to celebrate and trash cans for your losing tickets.

COLOR SHOTS

Inside on giant screens the camera would give you the between-race color — visits to the paddock, a look at the crowds—to keep you occupied while you make up your mind what horse is going to lose next.

A spokesman for Walter Reade-Sterling says that they would like to have a chance to telecast the flat races in the afternoon and the harness races at night.

That would just give them time to mop up the tears in the morning.

Technically, the plan would use closed-circuit color television to the various locations.

The company would use complicated electronic devices to tie in the theater betting windows with the master tote board at the track, and back to the theater tote board.

That way, the off-track bets would be figured in on the odds.

The theaters, or auditoriums, would have bars, a restaurant, the works.

★ ★ ★

And the plan calls for free admission to the outer lobby, where the bets are placed, with an admission charge to the theater proper to see the races.

OTHER AREAS?

While the plan, as proposed, is designed for New York City particularly, the company thinks it could be applied in other communities.

And, during those months when New York's tracks are wintered in, they would pipe the races from Florida, California or some other spot.

The whole thing, you see, is designed to give you a virtual year-round, 24-hour-a-day chance to lose your money closer to home than you can now. That is progress.

Kennedy's First Home

Birthplace for Memorial?

BROOKLINE, Mass. (UPI)— A modest, white clapboard home appears destined to become a national shrine.

The nine-room house at 83 Beals St. is the birthplace of the late President Kennedy. It appears only a question of time before it becomes a permanent memorial.

The board of selectmen were expected to give swift approval to such a proposal. However, final approval must await action of the Brookline town meeting in April.

★ ★ ★

The house is owned by Mrs. Louis Pollack, a 74-year-old widow on Social Security. She sleeps in the bedroom where Kennedy slept as a baby.

The late President was born here on May 29, 1917. He lived here three years.

Reminders of Kennedy Are Gone

By DOUGLAS B. CORNELL

WASHINGTON (AP) — The presidential office doesn't look at all like it did last Thursday when John F. Kennedy left it for a tragic trip to Texas.

With one exception, that is. At one end there still is what you might call a reception center for distinguished visitors, with sofas, coffee table and a rocking chair facing the fireplace.

★ ★ ★

But it isn't the rocker that Kennedy and his aching back helped make famous. This is a new one that White House officials said Johnson brought from home.

The cocktail table in this intimate little grouping has a white marble top. The old one was walnut. The telephone now is on an end table at the end of a sofa rather than on the edge of the coffee table.

FEW REMINDERS

Otherwise there is little to to remind anyone of Kenndy. That is true partly because of some Kennedy decisions, rather than Johnson changes.

A redecorating had been planned to start and finish while Kennedy was in Texas. That has been carried out. In the Kennedy days there was a light green sculptured rug on the floor, with the presidential seal. A brilliant red one has taken its place. The White House said Kennedy picked it out.

★ ★ ★

The walls have been repainted a bone-white, lighter than before. White draperies, edged in red, and white mesh curtains hang at the windows.

Old Navy man Kennedy had models of ships and prints of naval battles around the place in profusion. His desk was an ornately carved black piece made from the timbers of a British ship.

MEMENTOS GONE

All these are gone, along with other Kennedy knickknacks and mementos, such as the plastic-encased coconut shell on which he carved a message for help after the PT-boat he commanded in World War II was sunk by a Japanese destroyer in the Pacific.

Johnson has a few mementos around on tables and bookshelves—a scroll and quill awarded him by national business publications and a plaque from the American Heart Association—for a man who suffered a heart attack in 1955.

★ ★ ★

There are pictures of his mother, wife and daughters on desks and tables and one of himself and Kennedy in color on a bookshelf.

The shelves are only partly filled with books, mostly sets of volumes of writings and papers of presidents.

★ ★ ★

There are copies of Kennedy's "The Strategy of Peace," and "Profiles in Courage," former President Harry S. Truman's two volumes on his White House years and former President Dwight D. Eisenhower's "Crusade in Europe."

Britain: Curb Sukarno Arms

Ask for Embargo on Guns to Indonesia

LONDON (AP)—Britain is pressing its allies to embargo the supply of all arms to Indonesia, high government sources report.

The worldwide diplomatic move is part of a vigorous campaign to take some of the heat off the crisis between Indonesia and the newly formed federation of Malaysia.

President Sukarno's regime has vowed to smash the federation which links Malaya, Singapore, Sarawak and North Borneo, all former British colonies. The Indonesian leader considers the new commonwealth state to be a threat to the security of his country.

★ ★ ★

Britain is committed to defend Malaysia.

U.S. IS ONE

The United States is one of the countries the British have been urging to stop the supply not only of arms but also of military spares to Indonesia.

The Americans lately have shipped spare parts for 10 American - built Hercules troop-carrying aircraft to Indonesia. The British have expressed uneasiness over this.

Countries approached by the British include all the members of the North Atlantic alliance, Commonwealth countries and the members of the Southeast Asian Treaty Organization (SEATO).

Informants said that, in seeking NATO's cooperation, the British are following the precedents set by both The Netherlands and France which some years ago sought similar arms embargoes during the crises over West New Guinea (West Irian) and Algeria.

Detroit Firemen to Continue Quiet Policy on Alarms

DETROIT (AP) — The Detroit Board of Fire Commissioners has decided to continue for another two weeks the "silent and limited run" policy on unconfirmed fire box alarms sounded between 6 p.m. and midnight.

The action came despite the objections of Detroit Fire Fighters Association President Robert Tighe and Fire Commissioner Paxton Mendelssohn.

The "silent and limited run" policy was adopted Nov. 12—three days after fire fighter Albert J. Booth was killed and four firemen were injured when a truck on the way to answer a false alarm hit a car.

★ ★ ★

Under the policy, equipment answering box alarms when there is no confirmation of an actual fire are to obey all traffic laws and travel without sirens and bells—only flasher lights.

Consumption of Spirits

A survey by the liquor industry shows that 48 per cent of the female population now drinks distilled spirits, compared with 60 per cent of the male population.

Car Seat Safety Belts

An estimated 16 million pairs of auto safety seat belts will be manufactured this year, Rep. Kenneth A. Roberts, D-Ala., recently disclosed in a House speech.

Agency Miffed Over Tourism

State Unit Insists It Issues Most Data

LANSING (UPI) — Michigan Tourist Council officials are a little miffed over a recent State Highway Department claim that highway tourist information centers are "Michigan's major points of direct personal contact with tourists."

"Technically, they are correct," one tourist council official said. "We don't shake hands with them, we just send them letters and information."

A highway department release said about 1,150,000 pieces of tourist literature, "from private industry and from governmental agencies was distributed" so far in 1963.

★ ★ ★

The tourist council official said "of course they don't say that the large majority of that information from governmental agencies is provided by the tourist council.

NOT A FUNCTION

"We don't have personal contact with the tourist because that is not our function," the spokesman said. "Our job is to get the tourists into the state."

Tourists using the seven highway tourist centers came from all 50 states and 15 foreign countries, State Highway Commissioner John C. Mackie said.

About 250,000 tourists used the centers during the summer season, Mackie said.

★ ★ ★

Last summer, tourist information centers operated at Monroe, Coldwater, Port Huron, Ironwood, New Buffalo, Mackinac City and Menominee.

More than 46 per cent of the travelers using the tourist facilities came from four states—Ohio, Indiana, Illinois and Wisconsin.

STUCK ON BOTTOM — The Norwegian freighter Hermion has been firmly lodged in a shoal a mile off Chicago's Navy Pier in Lake Michigan since Monday. The 12,500-ton vessel has outbound cargo for Mediterranean ports. Tugboats have been trying to work the large ship loose and efforts are continuing.

Fewer Sailors Needed, Italian Shippers Hope

ROME (AP) — The Italian Merchant Marine is trying out its first ship that will have no one in the engine room.

It is the 7,000-ton Esquilino which will operate on the Indian Ocean and Orient run.

The ship's diesel engines are entirely under remote control, operated by the chief engineer from another cabin.

The whole ship will have a complement of only 24 men.

CUT NUMBER

Naval architect Enrico Bocchini, who designed the Esquilino, says, "We will and can cut the number down even lower.

★ ★ ★

"The bridge can also be automatized. Why, it is even conceivable that ships can be run entirely from shore."

Coin-operated laundry machines did a $405,600,000 business last year, according to the National Automatic Laundry and Cleaning Council.

Gifts for Patients Listed

A suggested list of Christmas gifts for patients at Pontiac State Hospital was outlined today by Dr. Donald W. Martin, medical superintendent.

"Although I have only recently assumed the directorship of the hospital," Dr. Martin said, "I had already learned of the wonderful relationship between the hospital and the surrounding counties serviced by it."

Dr. Martin said the deadline for submitting presents would be Dec. 18. He asked that all gifts be unwrapped but accompanied by paper and ribbon. All gifts should be new.

Each gift will then be personalized by hospital employes and volunteers for the individual patient.

The gift list includes:

HIS — washable dress and sport shirts, jackets, trousers, ties, chewing tobacco, shaving cream, pipes, cigars, etc.

HERS — washable dresses (no zippers), cotton blouses, skirts, nylon hose, nightgowns, perfume, purses, sewing materials, bobbie pins, talcum powder, etc.

HIS and HERS — cigarettes, gloves, billfolds, scarves, cakes, books, cookies, soaps, deodorants, cleansing tissues, comb and brush sets, candy, electric razors, parlor games, etc.

A Successor to Romulo Betancourt

Quiet, Stalwart Raul Leoni May Be Next Venezuela President

CARACAS, Venezuela (AP) — Raul Leoni, expected to be elected president in next Sunday's election, is due take office in March when President Romulo Betancourt retires. Second terms are prohibited in Venezuela.

Leoni is a stalwart in Betancourt's political party, the Democratic Action, or AD.

He was nominated unanimously by the party convention although Betancourt, party founder and mastermind, urged the delegates to leave the nomination to a committee.

* * *

This prompted the rumor that Betancourt did not personally favor Leoni.

Outsiders don't really know. Betancourt had promised to avoid any sign of executive interference in the democratic process.

Leoni at 58 is three years older than Betancourt and in their university days was his leader against the dictator of the time, Juan Vicente Gomez.

But Betancourt took command and Leoni has long been one of his lieutenants.

"Leoni has never been a brilliant or strong figure in the party like Betancourt," comments the pro-AD magazine Momento. "He's not an intellectual like some others, nor has he been a fierce political chief.

"He is not one of the young and militant new party contributors. But he's loyal to the party. He means probity in administration. He is closest to the labor union strength in the party and he guarantees the best way for the AD to continue in power."

Many Venezuelans believe AD would win the election no matter whom the party nominated, because it has controlled the government five years and it's the best organized party.

Betancourt has apparently kept his popularity with the peasants throughout five years of left-wing and right-wing attacks.

Leoni was labor minister when Betancourt was provisional president in 1946-47. He organized Venezuela's developing labor unions and helped the oil workers win their first major contract with the North American oil companies.

* *

Critics ridicule Leoni because he speaks slowly and sometimes stumbles over words. But he has a reputation for honesty that has not been attacked.

There are seven candidates. Leoni's major opponent is Jovito Villalba, 55, from the Republican Democratic Union, which has remained to the left while the AD has quietly moved slightly toward the middle of the road.

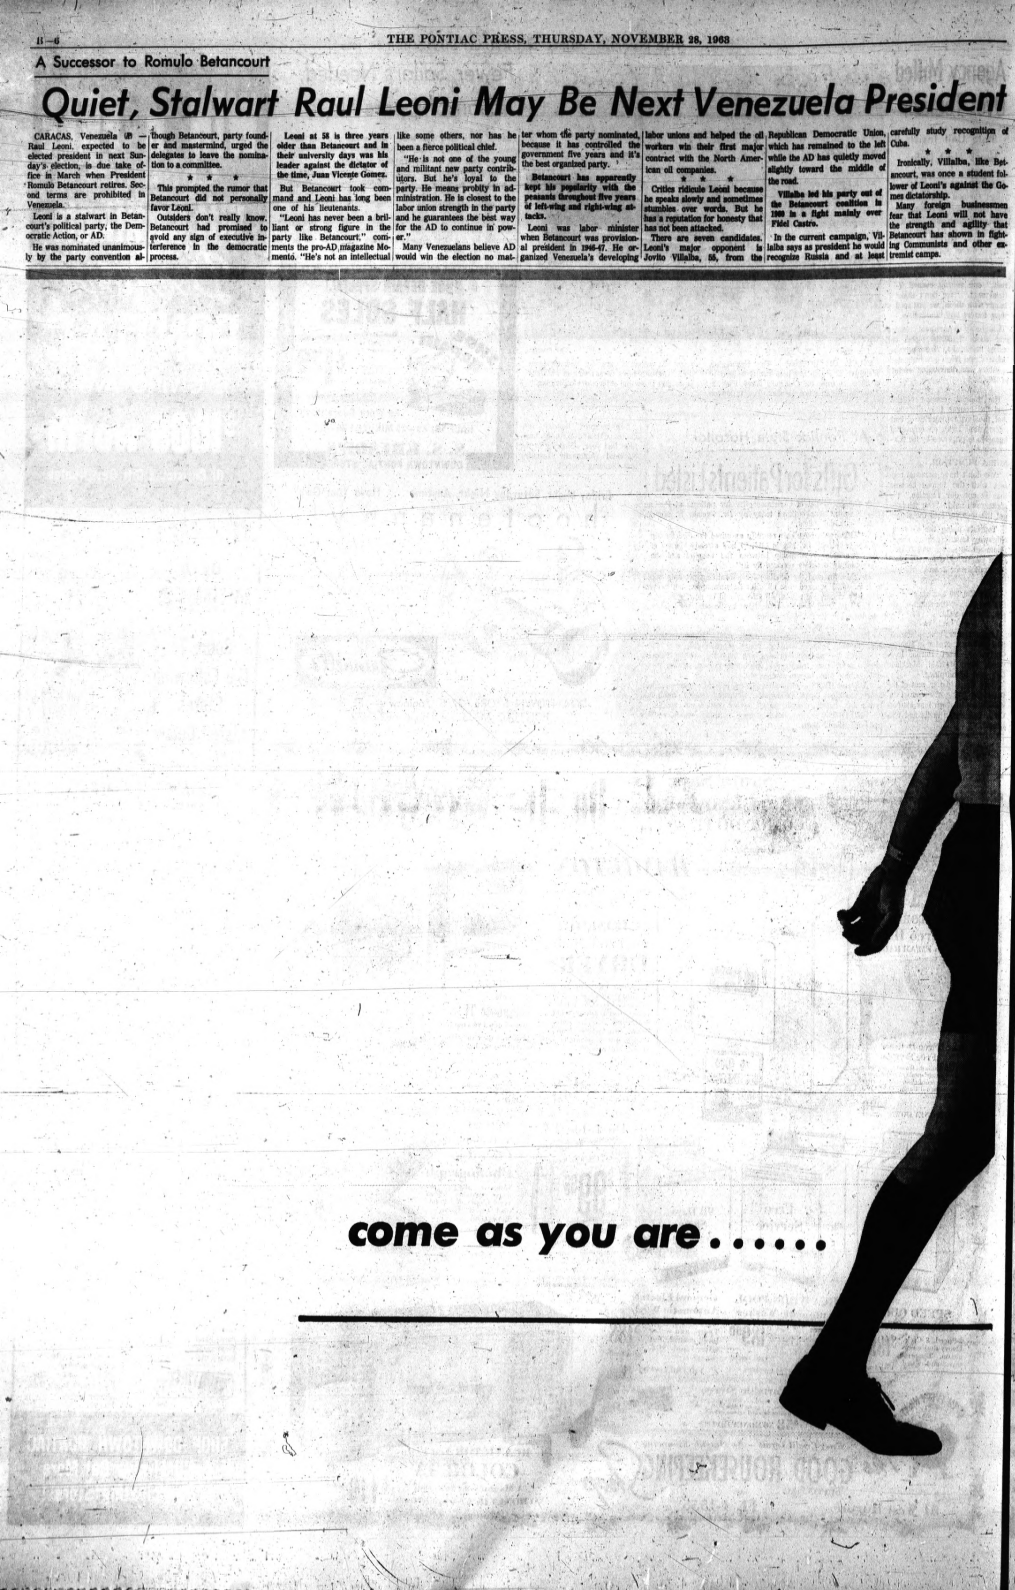

Villalba led his party out of the Betancourt coalition in 1960 in a fight mainly over Fidel Castro.

In the current campaign, Villalba says as president he would recognize Russia and at least carefully study recognition of Cuba.

* * *

Ironically, Villalba, like Betancourt, was once a student follower of Leoni's against the Gomez dictatorship.

Many foreign businessmen fear that Leoni will not have the strength and agility that Betancourt has shown in fighting Communists and other extremist camps.

Conference to Probe Detroit Area Goals

What should be the economic, physical, social, cultural and governmental goals of the Detroit metropolitan area?

Community leaders and public officials from six counties in the area will meet Dec. 3 in Detroit in an effort to specifically define the goals.

The all-day meeting summoned by the Forum for Detroit Area Metropolitan Goals will be staged in the Veterans' Memorial Building in the Detroit Civic Center.

Among those expected to attend from Oakland County are Delos Hamlin, chairman of the County Board of Supervisors; County Public Works Director and Oak Park Mayor R. J. Alexander; and George Catlin, director of area development for Detroit Edison Co.

The Forum is sponsored by 40 prominent Detroit area civic and professional organizations to stimulate the joint interest of citizens and public officials in the area's development plans.

"A basic conviction of the Forum," its executive council president, Paul B. Brown, said, "is that if life in this area is to be worthwhile, its physical, social, cultural and economic patterns must satisfy human values.

The Forum held its first area-wide conference in Detroit last May. The meeting was attended by nearly 1,000 of the area's leaders and public officials.

* *

They agreed at that time to consider what the area's long-range goals should be and present their views at the next meeting called by the Forum.

The keynote speaker for the next Tuesday's meeting will be Dr. James A. Norton, president of the Greater Cleveland Associated Foundation.

The foundation was established in 1931 to encourage research on community problems and seek their solution.

The ensuing program headed by Dr. Norton has won nationwide attention for its initial success, said Brown.

Others from Oakland County expected to attend are former Birmingham mayor Mrs. Florence Willett; Dr. Robert M. Frehse of Ferndale, executive director of the Detroit Round Table of Catholics, Jews and Protestants; and Huntington Woods Mayor David Calhoun.

Brown, an architect, lives in Bloomfield Township.

Work on School Budget for Next Year Is Started

Although it does not take effect for more than six months, Pontiac school officials have begun preparation of their 1964-65 school budget.

Supt. Dana P. Whitmer, who must eventually present the figures to the school board for approval, predicts costs will rise to match the school district's increased enrollments.

Whitmer anticipates a net gain of 185 pupils next year, giving the school district 22,226 pupils.

★ ★ ★

This rise in students should cost the Pontiac system an added $88,000, according to Whitmer.

RISE AND DECLINE

He said both junior and senior high school enrollments will increase in 1964-65, but a decline is expected in the elementary grade enrollments.

School officials have developed a target figure of $10,720,095 as next year's school budget. Whitmer hopes to present this to the school board in February as a preliminary budget.

The school board, because income factors are only tentative until late spring, will not officially adopt the 1963-64 budget until just before its effective date.

★ ★ ★

Whitmer does not expect any cash shortage next year. He said income for operation should be sufficient to meet the projected target.

COSTS HIGHER

As the target budget is now calculated, actual cost estimates are $211,686 over the final budget for the current year of $10,508,409.

Generally, Whitmer will keep the school district's cost per pupil at its present level in his presentation to the board.

He said this enables board members to decide where and what new things should be added, if any.

Costs will have to be adjusted to handle the increase in enrollment, an expected increase in the Consumer Price Index and 1964-65 salary and wage schedules.

Whitmer said about $124,000 of the $211,686 budget hike would go for increased cost-of-living for employes and a corresponding jump in the cost of school supplies.

ADDITIONAL COSTS

The school superintendent indicated that additional costs might have to be worked into the 1964-65 Budget. He said operation of the new Baldwin Junior High School, the new service building and the new administration building were not included.

Whitmer said he could not estimate the total cost of these new facilities right now. However, he expected budget fig-

Engineering Company Is Family Affair

TULSA, Okla. (AP) — W. R. Holway and Associates, a local engineering company, is really a family firm. Holway's wife, Hope, is a partner along with the couple's two sons.

The sons' wives, Polly (Mrs. W.N.) and June (Mrs. D. K.) lend a hand in the bookkeeping department.

LBJ Promises Thrift, Frugality in Spending

Stating his own philosophy toward government fiscal policy, President Lyndon Johnson said yesterday that, "in particular I pledge that the expenditures of the government will be administered with the utmost thrift and frugality."

He said the federal government "will set an example of prudence and economy" and will get "a dollar value for a dollar spent."

In Insurance

State OKs Rate Changes

LANSING (AP) — The State Insurance Department has approved premium rate changes that will increase the cost of some automobile insurance and reduce the cost of workmen's compensation insurance.

The auto insurance rate changes, effective Dec. 4, will increase the cost liability insurance written by companies affiliated with the National Bureau of Casualty Underwriters by 4.8 per cent on a statewide basis.

Insurance Commissioner Allen Mayerson said some 100 firms, writing 15 per cent of the state's auto insurance, are affiliated with the bureau.

★ ★ ★

Physical damage insurance provided by companies affiliated with the National Automobile Underwriters Association will increase 3.6 per cent on a statewide average, and full coverage will increase by about 4 per cent.

WILL VARY

Mayerson said the changes will vary within various sections of the state because costs are based on a relationship of premiums received to claims paid out in certain areas.

Permission for the increases was sought as a result of increased payments of claims by insurance companies for traffic accidents, Mayerson said.

Approved earlier was a rate increase of about 6 per cent by the State Farm Mutual Automobile Insurance Co., one of the largest firms writing direct insurance in Michigan.

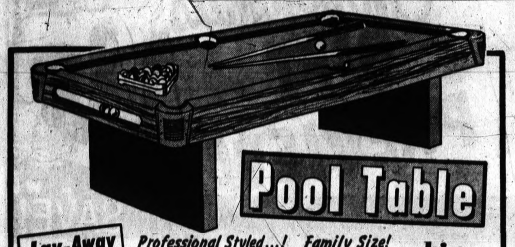

Mayerson said workmen's compensation insurance, meanwhile, will be reduced by about 4.6 per cent on a statewide average, effective Dec 1.

The change was requested by the Michigan Workmen's Compensation Rating Bureau on behalf of all companies furnishing this type of insurance in Michigan.

ANNUAL ADJUSTMENT

An annual adjustment in workmen's compensation insurance rates is made on the basis of experience, or a comparison of premiums paid and losses incurred by the companies.

Mayerson said all of the rate changes will not effect existing policies, but will apply only when the policies are renewed.

Dallas Letter Tells Fear for Kennedy

SAN FRANCSCO (AP) — A San Francisco couple disclosed yesterday that they had received a letter from a Dallas, Texas, relative postmarked an hour before President Kennedy was shot—saying the writer was worried about the President's safety.

Retired Army Major and Mrs. Eugene Lee declined to identify the relative for fear of reprisals.

Mrs. Lee quoted the letter as saying, in part:

"We are worried for President Kennedy when he arrives here tomorrow." The letter was written the night before. It was postmarked in Dallas at 11:30 a.m., an hour before the President was shot.

★ ★ ★

"He is hated by some of the extremists, who are capable of anything," Mrs. Lee quoted the letter. "There are placards all over town calling him a traitor. Can you beat that—They are brainwashed by our newspapers, who are daily hammering about Washington as if it was some sinister foreign power.

GREATER DANGER

"I think Kennedy is in greater danger here than when he was traveling all over Europe."

Mrs. Lee said it could be dangerous to identify the writer of the letter "because there are patriotic Texans down there who might feel our relative is a traitor."

★ ★ ★

The housewife, who said she and her husband moved to San Francisco from Birmingham Ala., said she decided to share the letter "because it is important that the people of this country understand the type of hatred that exists in those parts of the United States."

BIG PROBLEM — Rita Maria Neria, 3, looked strangely alone when police spotted her strolling along a downtown Dallas street. It didn't take long to find out that she was a young runaway with a big problem: "Momma found a new baby at home," she tearfully told a friend and policeman. Mother and daughter were reunited later. Rita's young friend was unidentified.

This Family Self-Sufficient

RULETON, Kan. (AP) — The butcher, the baker and grocer don't get much business from Mr. and Mrs. Martin J. Wilkening, whose 960-acre farm provides the family with almost all its food.

Mrs. Wilkening bakes nine loaves of bread every week, as well as cinnamon rolls, and even makes her own noodles.

She makes butter and buttermilk for her family and cans and freezes about 500 quarts of vegetables from their garden each year.

She cans and freezes her own meat, too. Butchering their hogs and beef to supplement the chicken supply, the Wilkenings make head cheese, liver sausage and regular sausage.

508,675 U. S. Indians; Double Total in 1890

There were 508,675 American Indians, according to the 1960 Census, almost twice the number who existed in 1890 when the first census was made that included Indians on reservations and in territories.

Women Are Majority Among U.S. Nonwhites

Males are outnumbered by females in the nonwhite population, according to the Census Bureau.

★ ★ ★

There are 94.2 males per 100 females in the nonwhite group, and 96.9 males per 100 females among whites.

November Birth Hike

The daily population increase will average 7,200 during November, the Census Bureau estimates, to bring the population to 190,370,000 by the middle of the month.

Yule Adds Fuel to Car Accidents

Longer hours of darkness, more pedestrian activity, signs sometimes covered by snow, slippery streets and the excitement of shopping can lead to traffic accidents that may take the cheer out of your holiday.

December is filled with pre-Christmas activities that include shopping trips, drives to friends' homes, visiting relatives in other cities and many last-minute errands.

It is the most dangerous month for motor-vehicle deaths and every year avoidable accidents spoil many holiday celebrations.

★ ★ ★

With longer hours of darkness and heavier traffic the danger to both drivers and pedestrians is greatly increased.

Whenever possible, night driving should be avoided and shopping excursions and trips to other cities should take place during the safer daylight hours.

BAD WEATHER

In many parts of the country, bad weather makes streets and highways extremely hazardous during the holiday season.

Motorists should try to stay on main highways and turnpikes and avoid back roads that are not equipped with modern warning devices, such as reflective road signs, adequate lighting and highway markings.

Many people drive to other parts of the country, to be with families and friends, encounter weather conditions to which they are unaccustomed.

It is always a good idea to check the weather and make sure your automobile is equipped for bad weather driving.

Differences Needed, Johnson Tells Nation

President Johnson yesterday called for national unity, but he said this does "not depend on unanimity," adding: "We have differences; but now, as in the past, we can derive from those differences strength, not weakness; wisdom, not despair. Both as a people and as a government, we can unite upon a program which is wise, just and constructive."

★ ★ ★

From his experiences at the capitol, Johnson said he had pride and confidence in the ability of Congress to meet any crisis and to "distill from our differences strong programs of national action."

By Late President Kennedy

Thanksgiving Proclaimed

(EDITOR'S NOTE: Here is the text of the Thanksgiving Day Proclamation issued by President Kennedy on Nov. 5, which President Johnson urged be read in the nation's churches today.)

Over three centuries ago our forefathers in Virginia and in Massachusetts far from home in a lonely wilderness set aside a time for thanksgiving.

On the appointed day, they gave reverent thanks for their safety, for the health of their children, for the fertility of their fields, for the laws which bound them together and for the faith which united them under their God.

So, too when the colonies achieved their independence, our first President in the first year of his first administration proclaimed November 26, 1789, as "a day of public thanksgiving and prayer to be observed by acknowledging with grateful hearts the many signal favors of almighty God" and called upon the people of the new republic to "beseech Him to pardon our national and other transgressions . . . to promote the knowledge and practice of true religion and virtue . . . and generally to grant unto all mankind such a degree of temporal prosperity as he alone knows to be best."

★ ★ ★

And so too in the midst of America's tragic Civil War, President Lincoln proclaimed the last Thursday of November 1863 as a day to renew our gratitude for America's "fruitful fields" for our "national strength and vigor" and for our "singular deliverance and blessings."

OUT OF UNKNOWN

Much time has passed since the first colonists came to rocky shores and dark forests of an unknown continent, much time since President Washington led a young people into the experience of nationhood, much time since President Lincoln saw the American nation through the ordeal of fraternal war — and in these years our population, our plenty and our power have all grown apace.

Today we are a nation of nearly two hundred million souls, stretching from coast to coast, on into the Pacific and north toward the Arctic, a nation enjoying the fruits of an ever-expanding agriculture and industry and achieving standards of living unknown in previous history. We give our humble thanks for this.

Yet, as our power has grown, so has our peril. Today we give our thanks, most of all, for the ideals of honor and faith we inherit from our forefathers — for the decency of purpose, steadfastness of resolve and strength of will, for the courage and the humility, which they possessed and which we must seek every day to emulate.

As we express our gratitude, we must never forget that the highest appreciation is not to utter words but to live by them.

HUMBLE GRATITUDE

Let us therefore proclaim our gratitude to Providence for manifold blessings — let us be humbly thankful for inherited ideals—and let us resolve to share those blessings and those ideals with our fellow human beings throughout the world.

Now, therefore, I, John F. Kennedy, President of the United States in consonance with the joint resolution of Congress approved Dec. 26, 1941, 55 Stat. 862 (5 U.S.C. 87 B) designating the fourth Thursday of November in each year as Thanksgiving Day do hereby proclaim Thursday, Nov. 28, 1963 as a day of national thanksgiving.

On that day let us gather in sanctuaries dedicated to worship and in homes blessed by family affection to express our gratitude for the glorious gifts of God; and let us earnestly and humbly pray that He will continue to guide and sustain us in the great unfinished tasks of achieving peace, justice and understanding among all men and all nations and of ending misery and suffering wherever they exist.

★ ★ ★

In witness whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the great seal of the United States of America to be affixed.

Done in the city of Washington this fourth day of November in the year of our Lord nineteen hundred sixty-three and of the independence of the United States of America the one hundred and eighty-eight.

John F. Kennedy

By the President
Dean Rusk, Secretary of State

Brothers and Sisters Have 50th Anniversary

HARPER, Kan. (AP) — It was a real family affair when two brothers who married two sisters observed their golden wedding anniversaries jointly here.

Celebrating a combined century of marriage were Clarence Parker who wed Bertha Hawkins, and Clayton Parker who married Eva Hawkins.

Michigan Plant Begun by New Plywood Firm

KALKASKA (AP)—American Made Veneer Co., a new plywood firm, has started work on a plant which will employ 10 persons here initially, the Kalkaska County Chamber of Commerce has announced.

Production is expected to begin by the end of December. The announcement said the work force will increase to 30 by the end of the first year of operation.

Successful Investing

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q. "In 6 years I retire from work with a small pension plus social security. We have $18,000 in savings accounts and the following stocks: 294 shares of Pacific Gas & Electric; 104 American Telephone; 252 Pacific Power & Light; 220 Portland General Electric; 60 Kern County Land; 23 U.S. National Bank of Portland. We've been adding to these stocks since we inherited them in 1950. We are looking for security and comfort for a modest retirement. Are we doing right?" L.H.

A. I am glad to assure you that you have an excellent list of stocks which should provide a fine cushion for your retirement.

Your present income from this list is $1,405 which should be increased over the next 6 years.

My only criticism is that you are rather heavy in public utility stocks.

I suggest that with future funds you add a strong industrial such as Merck & Company.

★ ★ ★

Q. "I have limited myself to over - the - counter stocks, since I understand that the largest gains are made in unlisted issues. What do you think of this policy?" R.E.

A. I think you are making a mistake to limit your activities to any one particular market.

It is perfectly true that exceptionally big gains have been made in unlisted stocks, but this is largely a matter of expert knowledge and good timing.

American Hospital Supply, for example, quadrupled in price in the five years before 1960's Big Board listing and has shown no gain in price since that time. But the people who bought in 1955 assumed a great deal more risk since the company was relatively unknown then and just beginning its big growth curve.

★ ★ ★

Generally speaking, I believe it is good policy to pick your stock first and regard the market where it is traded as a strictly secondary consideration.

Hints for Shopping

New Products Scientific, Useful

NEW YORK (UPI) — To prod you into at least thinking about early Christmas shopping, some gift ideas gleaned from the new product announcements:

For the stocking of the tape enthusiast, 3M Co.'s unique self-threading reel with a plastic snap ring or collar to permit dust-free, standup storage without a box.

The reel, available in seven-inch size, performs automatically, threading the tape and winding it around the hub.

For the hi-fi fan — especially the music-loving traveler — a new tape player for automobiles that operates through car radio without interruption from commercials, static or fading stations.

★ ★ ★

This AutoMate Tapette, product of J. Herbert Orr Enterprises, Opelika, Ala., is installed under dashboard or anchored to transmission hump.

★ ★ ★

It utilizes Tapette cartridges that play up to an hour and repeat continuously until replaced or until unit is turned off or switched back to radio.

The photo fan who loves to show movies and slides — and his audience — will appreciate Radiant's new AutoMaster projection screen that opens horizontally with a simple pull-apart movement of the arms.

★ ★ ★

Tripod legs spring open at the same time the picture-showing surface is exposed.

The serious suburban gardener or small farmer will appreciate the new Sears Compost Mill, a compact shredder which provides low-cost mulch or compost from bulky organic waste.

The unit employs a new rotating blade principle to grind all normal compost or mulch materials.

Screenless design allows grinding of wet grass clippings, weeds, corn cobs, stalks and other organic materials without clogging.

The unit is easily portable by means of rubber tires and a side discharge slot eliminates second handling of the composted wastes.

For sailors in the family, Reliance Manufacturing Co., New York, has introduced a new line of nautical jackets for men, women and children with patented lining compartments which enable the wearer to stay afloat for an extended period of time.

The "Hydro-Jack" is classically styled in foul weather fabrics in a variety of styles, ideal for wear around water.

The permanent buoyancy is the result of lining compartments of electronically-sealed poly vinyl chloride plastic.

Each section has an insert of specially woven and treated, long staple cotton which allows air to circulate freely when dry but which expands and locks upon contact with water, making the compartments air and water tight.

Walls of the compartments separated by a pad of flexible polyurethane foam. Jackets are said to be warm in winter, cool in summer because of high degree of thermal stability.

Town Has Problem: to Spend $1 Million

RUSSELLVILLE, Ky. (UPI) — Every community should have the problem faced by Russellville's city council. It must figure out a way to spend a $1 million gift.

★ ★ ★

The money represents the bulk of the estate of the late Thomas P. de Graffenried, a native of Russellville who became a successful New York lawyer.

The will, which was not contested by heirs living in New York, stipulated that the money was to be used for all people; regardless of race, age, sex or color.

Wartime Spray Can

The push button spray can was developed during World War II in response to an Army demand for an insecticide to attack the malarial mosquitoes of the South Pacific.

VARIETY—It's the spice of any woman's life, and wise to remember when gift buying. Surprise for ears and eyes is a six-speaker stereo phonograph-radio (top left) housed in an Early American maple coffee table. For a clean sweep, a hand vacuum cleaner (top right) and for catching sentimental moments, a new camera (bottom left) featuring instant loading. And, what better way for Dad to duck dish-pan hands than with a mobile dishwasher (bottom right) available in decorator colors.

Require Cooperation

Portraits in Yule Picture

Predicted for Christmas '63 is a tremendous upsurge in the giving of family and individual portraits as gifts.

The reason is the influence of color and the new technical skills that enable professional photographers to better capture the character and charm of the person photographed.

Today's high speed films and pinpoint control of lighting, plus the greater knowledge of posing and proper techniques, enable portrait photographers to concentrate on the uniqueness of each individual, rather than producing formalized "postage stamp" type portraits as in the past.

* * *

The association urges that Christmas portrait sittings be reserved as early as possible.

The volume of work accelerates right up to Christmas Eve.

NEED SECRECY

Portraits at Christmas time often require cooperation from the studio in keeping the surprise from other members of the family.

Sometimes, a studio has to keep Mom and Dad's portrait plans from each other.

To maintain pre-holiday secrecy, the studio may send the bill in a plain envelope, or set up appointment sittings at odd hours.

Growing trend in holiday portrait giving is to place color proofs under the tree, rather than the completed portrait.

EASES PRESSURE

This permits the gift receiver to choose the photograph he wants — and it also eases the last-minute pressure.

Children are the universal, all-time favorite subject for portraits.

Those made most happy by children's portraits are not parents, surprisingly, but grandparents.

* * *

There is also a trend toward using color portraits to decorate a living room or basement family room.

Cavanagh Asks Site Be Named for Kennedy

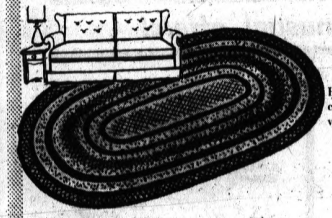

DETROIT (AP)—Mayor Jerome P. Cavanagh and City Council President Ed Carey have proposed that the old city hall site be named for the late President John F. Kennedy "as a constant reminder of his tragic death and his greatness as a president."

In a joint announcement yesterday, Cavanagh and Carey said they will make their recommendation to the city plan commission this week.

BOARD CHIEF—If Pontiac Central is to make any progress in the Saginaw Valley Conference basketball race this season, it will need strong backboard work from the taller players up front like senior Jim Johnson, a 6-3 center. Johnson is the tallest player on the Chiefs' squad this year and is seeking his first basketball letter.

2 Coaches Out on I-L Limb

★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★

Chiefs Have New Coach

High League Regard for PCH

There's a new basketball coach at Pontiac Central this season, but the same old league respect remains.

Fred Zittel has moved up over the head coaching job held for 17 years by Art Van Ryzin at the Huron Street school.

★ ★ ★

Van Ryzin elected to slow his pace this season and is now handling the Chiefs' sophomore quintet.

The Saginaw Valley Conference cage coaches, however, refused to take PCH lightly, sighting the tradition that "Pontiac is always tough in basketball."

However, the Chiefs and Saginaw Arthur Hill (last year's league champion) both are expected to make way at the top of the heap for Flint Central.

Bay City Central and Midland are two other teams that could be troublesome for everyone else.

PCH and Arthur Hill both have lost their big rebounders. Only guard Art Gelow returns from the Lumberjacks' squad that rambled through 16 straight regular season foes.

The Chiefs, on the other hand, will not lack for shooters but will need a playmaker and at least two rebounders.

Gerald Henry, Mel DeWalt (from the varsity) and Walter Moore (of the jayvees) can shoot with the best of them in the SVC.

Henry is an expert driver and has good spring in his 5-11 frame. The quarterback" may be Bill Morgan, if he continues to develop.

The board work will fall on the shoulders of 6-3 Jim Johnson, 6-2 George Cole, 6-2 Les Hanspard, 6-2 John Hooper and 6-2 Willie Adams.

But none of them has shown varsity ability in the past. It may take Zittel a few games to find the right combination. Unfortunately, they will play three of their top league foes in December and the Chiefs may be out of the race before it starts.

They open Saturday night at Grosse Pointe, and they journey to Flint Central Tuesday for a big SVC opener.

PCH may have an advantage against the Flint foe since neither Flint Central nor Flint Northern have had their full squads available for workouts due to their prolonged football season which ends today.

★ ★ ★

Northern's Vikings have only one letter winner back, Larry Mayfield, the team captain. Flint Southwestern is depending on returnee Mike Farmer for much of its strength of front.

Both Midland and Bay City Central boast tall, veteran quintets. Saginaw also rates high in the cage mentors pre-season forecasts.

Clarkston Seen Top Contender for Cage Title

Milford Also Highly Rated; Holly, Hills Dark Horses

Clarkston's Wolves are expected to be howling loud and long before the Wayne-Oakland basketball campaign ends.

The return of Dan Craven, Ken Miskin and Mike Bray earns the Wolves early recognition as the team to beat. Milford, Clarenceville and possibly Holly look like the challengers.

Bloomfield Hills shows promise, as does Brighton, but it could be a long season for defending champion West Bloomfield and Northville.

Craven, an all-County Class A second team choice last season, is one of the top floor generals and scorers in the area. The 5-11 senior guard stuffed in 297 points last season as the Wolves surprised by winning the Class A district after a mediocre campaign.

Miskin, a 6-foot senior, is tough under the boards, and accounted for 238 points last season.

GOOD REBOUNDER

Although he's not noted for his scoring, Bray (6-4) is an excellent rebounder.

Jon Gary (6-1) and Gary Bass (6-1½) are lettermen expected to be regulars.

"Our league should be well balanced this year," said coach Dom Mauti. "Much will depend on the transfer students picked up by several of the schools."

Chuck Schroeder is working with five lettermen at Milford and is high on transfer Pat Schulthels (6-2).

"We will have much better overall size," says the coach, "than last year. Our soph's (now juniors) have improved."

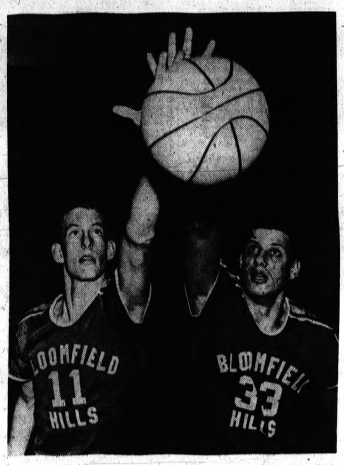

★ ★ ★

Schroeder feels that Tim Barnes, who scored 200 points last season, will have a good year and is counting on newcomer Mike Fremlin (6-2) to help with the rebounding.

Gary Newcomb (5-10), Bill Allen (6-0), Randy Clinard (5-8) and Jim Ward (5-9) are veterans.

Clarenceville has a new coach, Jim Lerry, and four starters from last season's eighth place team.

Dave Graves (6-4) and Gary Gearhart (5-8) are two-year veterans. They are backed by letterwinners Dan Freels (5-11), (Continued on Page C-3, Col. 7)

Pontiac Press Photo

LONG REACH—The Bloomfield Hills Barons quintet is counting on the rebounding talents of Dan Mautte (11) and Gene DiPonio, both 6-3 frontliners, to set its fast break in motion this season. New coach Hal Henderson has promised he'll have the Barons running whenever he can.

Kettering, Lapeer Top Class of Tri-County

Experience, size and speed are three assets of a good basketball team, and Lapeer and Kettering have both — in large amounts.

★ ★ ★

The two Tri-County League powers shared the loop title in 1962-63, and pre-season reports indicate that one of the two will wear the league crown at the end of the cage season.

★ ★ ★

Kettering closed with an 11-5 record last year, and the same squad that fashioned the mark will open the season Dec. 6 at North Farmington.

Although coach Joseph Duby describes the squad as 'small', it still has the height to hold its own in the Tri-County battles.

Kettering has a balanced scoring attack built around Bob Bogert, a 6-0 senior, who led the team in scoring last year with 196 points. The slender forward also owns the school scoring mark of 30 points, set during a 58-40 decision over Walled Lake last year.

SCORING HELP

Providing Bogert with able scoring assistance are Earl Hook, the captain, and Rick Pankey. Hook tallied 170 points and Pankey canned 174 during the 1962-63 season.

Rounding the Captains' first five are center Jim Nyberg, a 6-0 junior, and junior Bill Graham, another six-footer.

Lapeer has the edge in height with 6-4 Ron Starking at center, and Mike Powell, 6-1, and Dick Fellers, 6-2, at the forward posts. The trio combined for 489 points last season.

OXFORD DOUBTFUL

Oxford is making its first appearance in the Tri-County basketball race and it could be a long season for the Wildcats.

They lack size and experience. They lost four of the lettermen who suffered through a 3-13 mark last season.

The Cats have speed in Buzz Cork, at guard, and in Dan VanVleet and Jim Bates and the forward spots. Roger Fox, the tallest member of the team at 6-1, is slated to start at center.

★ ★ ★

Romeo and L'Anse Creuse should battle it out for the third position in the league.

Romeo has three lettermen returning from the 1962-63 squad which posted an 11-8 record.

The three are center Tim Quinn, a junior center, and seniors Larry Bozyk, at forward, and Buzz Smiles at guard.

FORECAST TRI-COUNTY:
1. Kettering
2. Lapeer
3. Romeo
4. L'Anse Creuse
5. Oxford

Tri-County

Capac Again Thumb Favorite

Southern Thumb League teams took revenge on Capac during the football season, but the Chiefs are expected to turn the tide and regain their winning ways on the basketball court.

★ ★ ★

Ken Kobayashi and Dan Petz are missing from last season's team that swept undefeated into state regional play before bowing.

But the opposition will continue to get a double dose of the Japanese - American Kobayashi family. Albert and Robert, twin sophomores, are expected to be the starting guards.

The Capac front line is well stocked with experienced talent.

Ken Adamski (6-2) is the leading scorer from last season with 278 points. John Scheuer (6-4) scored 10 less points. He and Adamski will be starting their third seasons as regulars.

Gary Smith (6-4) moves into the first five after being a top sub.

New Haven is expected to be Capac's chief tormentor.

LEE RETURNS

The Rockets have All-State football star Dwight Lee as their ace on the court. The 6-2 senior averaged 21 points last season as New Haven finished in second place.

Memphis, with 6-4 Don Burns returning in the pivot is given an outside chance. The Yellow Jackets may be hindered by a lack of experienced depth.

Anchor Bay doesn't have a veteran over six feet, but the Tars are expected to fight it out with Memphis for third place.

Dryden, minus high scoring Paul Grondin, appears destined to battle Almont for the basement. Dennis Hilliker is among the returnees in the Cardinals' plans.

Brown City and Armada look like the second division leaders.

★ ★ ★

THE FORECAST

1. Capac	6. Brown City
2. New Haven	5. Armada
3. Anchor Bay	7. Almont
4. Memphis	8. Dryden

Country Day Five Has Better Hopes

Country Day did not win a game at the varsity basketball level last season, and only one at reserve level.

Athletic Director John Hannett has taken over the basketball coaching duties, also, and has hopes of improving last season's dismal showing.

He has three returning players from the quintet that bore the brunt of the assault last season —Paul Sonda, Dave Walker and Steve Serlin.

In addition to the nucleus, the new master will have to rely on 6-1 Mark Greenstone to provide his backboard strength and has Mike Dunn and Jon Marks as possible candidates for the other starting berth.

New Mentor, 5 Lettermen at Waterford

Entire Team Returns for Southfield; WL Shows Optimism

The unheard of has happened in an area high school athletic league!

Two coaches have come out and said their schools will win the Inter-Lakes League basketball crown. It isn't unusual for one to go out on the proverbial limb, but two is a rarity indeed.

Pontiac Northern's Dick Hall likes the Huskies' chances to repeat as champions and he has good reason to be optimistic.

Bob Bolton, however, is thinking about as high as he stands —somewhere around 6-10—in his first season as head coach at Walled Lake. Pre-season reports of the Vikings' workouts indicate Bolton may not be too far wrong.

Southfield, Farmington and Berkley are expected to battle for the middle spots with Waterford bringing up the rear.

STAR GONE

Northern, a state Class A quarter-finalist last winter, is without the services of high-scoring Gary Hayward. Top rebounder Wayne Daniels also has graduated.

The Huskies are counting on 6-3 Dean Souden and 6-4 Dave Sudbury to help the 6-3 Hayward with the rebounding.

Jim DeFlorio is a veteran replacement at guard.

Hayward, who averaged 15 points, and Sudbury earned first varsity letters last season. The others mentioned above are working on their third monograms.

"We have a hustling group of competitors this year," Bolton pointed out, "and we have to be considered the dark horse in league play.

★ ★ ★

"Although I am new here at Walled Lake, we have a good nucleus of fine young men who are shooting for the top."

George Bullock (6-3), John Thomas (6-0) and Jim Grant (6-2) are expected to be the frontliners and supply the board strength. Bolton likes the backcourt play of Jim Broome (5-9), Gary Pachal (6-0) and Rick Hughes (5-11).

Ron Colyer (6-4) and Rick Trudeau (6-0) are letterwinners who may break into the regular lineup.

Southfield didn't lose a regular from last season's team that tied for last place and this is causing concern among other league foes.

ALL RETURN

Coach Bob Neff is working with 10 letterwinners including Joe Considine (6-1) who topped all Blue Jay scorers last winter.

Bob Taylor is the new coach at Waterford and is hoping to improve the Skippers' 3-13 over-all record of last season.

Five lettermen return with Jon Appel (6-2) the tallest.

Bud Brandon and Dick Miller both saw considerable action as starters last year and Chuck Swenson is a double letterwinner. Rick Russ is top scorer among the returnees.

Taylor is taking a close look at newcomers Bill Boroska, Bill Lemaux, Tom Somers, Chuck Sickels and Rick Ziem.

A lack of height and inexperienced reserves could keep the Skippers in the second division.

There are three veterans back at Berkley along with some promising newcomers.

Expected to start are lettermen Gary Ross (6-3), Dan Kelly (6-2) and John Streeter (5-6), Bill Clugston (6-3), Don Cochran (6-3) and Dan Raleigh (5-9) are vying for starting berths.

Graduation stripped Farmington of its regulars and coach Jack Quiggle is faced with a major rebuilding job.

Second stringers from last season who may figure as regulars are Bob Lorenz (6-1) and Dave Schlack (6-3).

The forecast:
1. Pontiac Northern
2. Walled Lake
3. Southfield
4. Berkley
5. Farmington
6. Waterford

Fitzgerald Cage Kingpin of O-A

The Oakland A League football coaches overlooked generally Warren Fitzgerald's Spartans as a threat in the gridiron race this season, but they developed into the class team of the circuit.

The basketball coaches obviously aren't about to make this same mistake.

Fitzgerald was the court king of the O-A circuit two years ago, but fell into only a break even season last year. Now most of the league's hoop mentors see the Spartans ready to return to their championship ways.

Only Troy seems destined to give Fitzgerald any real challenge, if the coaches' predictions can be believed.

However, the Colts role can not be too certain—nor actually can the Warren team's—since the Oakland A loop appears very well balanced for the most part.

★ ★ ★

Avondale and Rochester appear the only two teams without a tall backboard artist, and the former has perhaps better height and experience balance than most league squads.

COURT STAR

Fitzgerald will be led in its title bid probably by court ace (and gridiron star, also) Tom Dobberstein, a 6-4 front liner who can rebound and score with equal facility.

★ ★ ★

The two-year veteran will have front line help from Cliff Rolph, Glenn Cherup and Jesse Jump, all 6-1 letter winners. Randy Chaffin and Randy Mix provide backcourt experience, while 6-5 junior Jeff Plopa should help on the backboards.

★ ★ ★

Troy's hopes will pivot around 6-4 center Ted Bauer. Gay Goodwin, Steve Aulph, Pat Kitchner and Carl Littleson return, but played little last season on the co-championship quintet.

Lake Orion and Avondale both have hopes that last year's experience at the bottom of the standings will pay dividends this season.

George Elias, coach at Lake Orion, plans to continue his platoon style of play from late last season. Nine players are expected to see frequent action in the Dragons fast attack.

All conference guard Jon Cucksey returns along with 6-3 Bruce Fritz and forward Bill Hamilton. Dennis Brophy at 6-4 may contribute to the rebounding.

Avondale has 6-2 Dennis Acker, 6-2 Roger Ratliff and 5-11 Lynn Thorpe, all two-year veterans. Mark Cardona also is 6-2 and saw some action last year, while 6-3 Dan McCloskey lacks necessary experience.

★ ★ ★

Clawson should develop with the season led by 6-4 Ray Hayes and five other returnees from last season's co-champs. Warren Cousino also has a 6-4 center in Jim Fitzmaurice, and hopes of gaining some wins with added experience.

★ ★ ★

There's another 6-4 center at Madison, Bob Barrett, but no other tall veteran to aid the attack up front.

Rochester lacks the big rebounder, with 6-2 Mike Konley carrying much of the backboard burden. Carl Stefanski and Tom Knust are other returnees.

Height Makes Raiders Suburban Loop Choice

North Farmington looks like a solid bet to win the first Northwest Suburban League basketball title because it has what no one else does—height.

★ ★ ★

Among the five teams in the circuit there are very few players over 6-1, and the Raiders have four of them. Leading the group is Mike Fleming, a 6-3 forward who led the team in scoring as a junior last season.

Fleming averaged 14 points per game. He will have backboard assistance from letter winners John Watson, 6-2, and Ronald Bennett, 6-4; while 6-3 Ron Watson is a junior center.

Lindsay Letcher is a two-year veteran at guard and Bill Phillips and Walt Moore also have won letters in the backcourt.

★ ★ ★

Birmingham Groves has 6-2 Bill Stevenson back at center and Hugh McCombs at forward

Other candidates include Russ Seeburger and Ken Kimball, both seniors, and underclassmen Dick Balgenorth, Bill Forrester, Randy Fraser, Doug Jardine, Bill Logan and Rick Whiteman.

Livonia Franklin has most of its players back from last year's 4-13 squad; but Len Buckingham, the tallest at 6-1, is sidelined by an ailment until early January, at least.

Detroit Thurston won only two of 16 last season and has three starters back. Center Rich Stefani at 6-0 is the tallest.

Oak Park lost most of its regulars from last season and must rebuild.

Ortonville 5 Lacks Height

The outlook is not bright for Ortonville in basketball this winter.

Eight letter winners are gone from last year's so-so team, and only Larry Richardson, at 5-9, returns among the starters.

Roger Wills, Paul Pangus and Harold Webb also have varsity experience, but lack height. Among the newcomers, Don Wagner, Dave Myers and Steve Hubbs are the tallest at six-foot.

Melvin McDowell, a junior guard, may give added strength to the backcourt.

Maples Challenge Champs

See Better Balance for Parochial Loop

The Northwest Catholic League basketball race at first glance would appear likely a repeat this season of last year's final standings.

Those found Royal Oak St. Mary one game in front of Orchard Lake St. Mary, and St. Michael three games behind the latter in third place.

St. Frederick held fourth place, two games behind the Mikemen.

★ ★ ★

Royal Oak will probably hold top ranking again this season, mainly because of superior height. The league champs appear well balanced, at least among the top five (including Farmington Our Lady of Sorrows).

Only St. Agatha and Waterford Our Lady of Lakes seem outclassed, but they may give trouble to two of the others, at least.

Emmanuel Looks for 1st Winner

Emmanuel Christian has hopes for its first winning season in basketball this year with an experienced lineup returning led by Ralph Wingate, the county's leading scorer last year.

Wingate, a 6-1 forward, hit at a 23.8 clip last year while the Lancers were winning four and losing 12.

Ron Jackson is the biggest returnee, and will likely move his 6-2 frame under the backboard for rebounding strength after playing guard last season.

Two returning backliners are the Gillespie brothers, Jack and Jim, both 5-7 seniors. Jackson, Wingate and the Gillespies are two-year letter winners.

★ ★ ★

Dave Spiegel and Tom Malone have also earned cage monograms. Unexpected help may be forthcoming from 6-2 senior, Jon Laukner.

Other newcomers who may make contrbutions are Aubrey Grogan, Glenn Holman and Danny Wingate, the latter the 6-1 freshman brother of scoring star Ralph.

Shrine Quint Expects Big Improvement

Royal Oak Shrine will offer a veteran ball club but lacks outstanding height to be a solid threat on the basketball court this season.

★ ★ ★

Still, the Knights have no doubts they will improve upon last season's 1-15 record and last place finish in the Detroit Catholic AA Division.

Jim Seymour, a 6-2 junior, is the top scorer among the returnees, and is also the tallest. However, it is expected 6-3 sophomore Rick Chudy will develop enough to aid with the rebounding.

Bob Peltier, Pat Morey and Ron Ranieri all have won two letters in basketball, while Mike Wentworth and Seymour have one. Only Ranieri is a six-footer.

Other promising prospects include Mike Tamm, Bob McGauley and Doug Turner.

Utica Cagers Start Season Inexperienced

They're not expecting basketball title at Utica this season, unless coach Carlo Muzi can produce the unforeseen with inexperienced players.

★ ★ ★

Only one player, Ken Lane, returns from the Bi-County League co-championship team that produced a 13-2 record. Joining him will be transfer student Mike Kowalski, 6-1.

★ ★ ★

These two provide the bulk of the varsity experience on the Chieftains quintet at present. The other starting berths will go to junior varsity or non-letter winning hoopsters who show well this fall.

Better Goal for Cranes

Last year Cranbrook's Cranes tied for first place in the Inter-State Prep League and had an 11-4 overall basketball log.

This year they expect to do better. The main reason is a veteran starting lineup that is blessed with height and speed.

Doug Fisher, co-captain and 6-5 forward, Jeff Hipps, 6-2 forward, and Jim Bailey, 6-6 junior center, comprise the starting front line that will face most county opponents.

In league games, fifth-year student Bill Estes, the other co-captain and 6-2, will get a starting nod. Estes is the leading scorer returning from last season.

Buzz Mieras is another top prospect back and will handle the guard duties along with senior Bob Heavenrich. Other letter winners include Tom Van Horn and John Kopchick, both 6-1.

Coach Hugh Davisson lost only one regular from last year's team.

St. Michael has good height and could be trouble for any team in the circuit on a given night, but a weak bench will bother coach Jim Niebauer.

★ ★ ★

St. Mike has 6-5 Mike Pope at center, 6-3 Rick Lavoie and 6-3 Mike DeConnick up front, with Rick Steinhelper and Bob Patch in the backcourt.

THIN BENCH

Orchard Lake St. Mary has good shooters and a strong rebound threat in John Stolnicki, 6-5 center, but also is thin on the bench. Frank Rompel and Connie Krogulecki are the regular guards.

ROSM has veteran forwards Rod Bannister and Don Wells, guards Tom Flack and Tom Flack and Tom Wagner, and two 6-4 possibilities at center in Doug Young and Chuck Herron.

Like the Irish, Farmington Our Lady of Sorrows has most of las year's starters back, but unlike the favorites, does not have any noticeable height.

St. Frederick can count on Mike Dean and Bernie Goss, both 6-2, and 6-1 Bob Peoples up front, with Lowry Holland, Herman Lafayette, Larry Walter and Marcelo Gallardo on the back line.

Wes Borys heads the thin crew returning to coach Bob Mineweaser at WOLL. Detroit St. Agatha's top returnee is Mike Steen, and like WOLL, there is little experience after him.

Kimball County Threat

Seaholm Swim Dynasty Strong

This is the year Royal Oak Kimball was expecting to challenge Birmingham Seaholm for swimming honors of Oakland County, but how do you challenge a team with 33 returning lettermen and the addition of a state champion transfer in two events.

The Maples lost some key swimmers including Bob Wolfe, twice the county's outstanding swimmer, and Don Spencer, but All-America breaststroker Dave Zimmer along with transfer from Pershing, Pete Adams in distance events, makes Seaholm again choice for state honors.

Dennis Rozema and Jeff Wallace in butterfly, Tom Coup in sprints, Lynn Smith and Chuck Geggie in distance; Ted Blakesley in butterfly, Ted Bates in backstroke and diver Ken Heft head the long array of lettermen giving the Maples the usual depth.

Heft, an all-county football player, is scheduled to undergo mild surgery of the leg within the next week, but should be ready for thick of the swim campaign.

Kimball is eager to give Seaholm a race for the EML title and in state competition, while Birmingham Groves, Thurston and Warren Fitzgerald are ready to battle it out for the North Suburban Swim League title.

PNH NUCLEOUS

Pontiac Northern has a good nucleous back but not enough to push the top three in the NSSL.

Pontiac Central is primarily a sophomore team that will find it rough in the Saginaw Valley Conference.

Kimball and Groves both have transfers who will help their respective causes.

Chuch Kirsch of Battle Creek and Jim Matthews of Detroit Pershing are in the Kimball fold while Groves has landed a member of the Ohio state championship squad from Buchtel in Akron, Scottie Jones a freestyler.

Coach Dick Heller has distance depth at Kimball with Bill Watts, Tim Cash and Tim Moore along with Doug Webster who was 3rd in the state in the 400 as a freshman last year.

Groves has Dave Meade with Jones in the 50 and 100 freestyle along with Kevin Tuoma in butterfly and Dave Robertson in 200. Little Greg Geiger is ready to be among the best divers in the area.

Northern has 11 lettermen and Garry Forrest a transfer from Central to build its swim fortunes this season.

Captain Skip Ervin and Don Chambers are Huskie distance swimmers, while Carl Cascaddan with a 1:06.3 in breaststroke should again be strong in this event. Bob Basinger, Rick Johnson, diver Alex Hiller, Bob Hayes, Al Anderson and Mike Landers are returnees.

PCH SOPHS

PCH came back strong at the end of last season, but Bob Lorenz is gone and only five lettermen led by Jim Howard in the 50 (23.7) and Mike Mellen, butterfly; Don Miller in 200 free; Dale Quinn, diving; and Dave Shadley, breaststroke return.

There are 18 sophomores on the PCH squad plus a junior transfer from New Jersey, Ed Chase who will help in the freestyle events.

Howard may not be ready when the season start. His hand has been in a cast as result of recent injuries.

Royal Oak Dondero has almost an all-junior team with a new coach Pat Wallace, who formerly had six league champions and a 48 meet league streak at Ecorse.

Leading swimmer is Tom Hunt who holds the school record in the individual medley in 2:22.8. He also swims backstroke and butterfly.

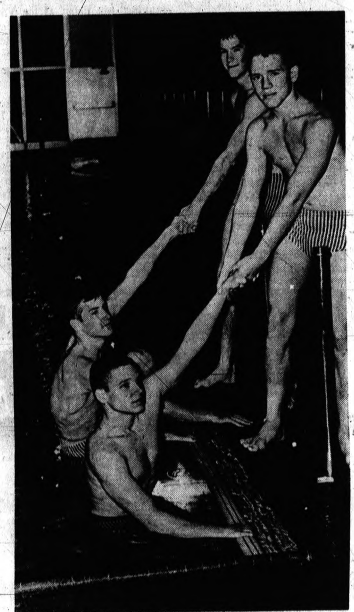

Southfield is looking for its best season with a strong sophomore contingent helping out eight returnees.

Strength lies in freestyle with captain Bill Christian, Dick Scrimageour, Bob Stebbins and Brent Johnson.

Hazel Park is ready to improve its 5-10 record of last season with 13 lettermen led by soph Gary Gauthier in the breaststroke; Dennis Williams and Larry Russell in the butterfly and Wayne Patton and Al Caldwell in freestyle.

Fitzgerald High School will again be strong but short of depth to match Thurston and Groves in the NSSL.

TWIN TANKERS — Pontiac Northern swimming foes may have double trouble with their vision this season. Two sets of twins on the Huskie swim team may be the cause. Front twins are Ron Chambers in the water and Don Chambers giving him a hand. Back twins are Rick Johnson in the water and Dick Johnson standing.

Well-Balanced Wolves Squad Halts Broncos

Title Favorite Races to Comfortable Lead Early in Game

By FLETCHER SPEARS

It's a bit early to talk about titles, league championships and the like, but keep an eye on Clarkston's Wolves. They're loaded.

The speedy quintet took the lid off the 1963 cage season Wednesday night, corraling Holly's Broncos, 72-49, before a large turnout.

★ ★ ★

The game also opened the Wayne-Oakland League race, and the win put the Wolves alone atop the pack pending the outcome of games Friday night.

Milford, one of the teams picked to give Clarkston a battle for the loop crown, travels to Brighton Friday evening, and West Bloomfield journeys to Clarenceville where the two squads will get the new season under way.

Speed and some accurate firing by forward Gary Pearson shot the Wolves into a commanding lead early in the game and they were never in serious trouble.

ACCURATE

Pearson, with a soft, floating push shot, couldn't miss in the first quarter as he ripped the net on four consecutive attempts. The 5-9 junior topped all scorers with 26 points although he sat out most of the final period when coach Dom Mauti turned the chores over to the reserves.

With Mike Bray, Dan Craven and Ken Miskin hauling in the rebounds, the Wolves parlayed a fast break into a 20-8 first-quarter lead and left the floor at intermission with a 36-25 margin.

The Wolves continued their race-horse style in the final half and outscored the Broncos, 36-24.

Craven, who guided the Wolves to a share of the W-O football title, wrecked Holly's defense in the second half with his driving layups. The slender senior bagged 13 of his 21 points in the final two periods.

Miskin and Bray gave the Wolves a scrappy 1-2 combination on the backboards, and Miskin found the range for 11 points.

Holly had a balanced scoring attack, but the Broncos suffered through two cold-shooting periods. They tallied only eight markers in the opening frame and found the lid on the bucket in the fourth stanza when they netted only six points.

★ ★ ★

Guard Tom Fagan led the Broncos in scoring with 13 points, picking up three two-pointers to go along with his seven-of-eight performance at the charity line.

Mark Phalen trailed Fagan in the scoring column with nine points. Bill Stark picked up eight and Jack Bennett added six.

Strong Teams Expected

County Wrestling Competition Gets Bigger

Wrestling continues to gain support on the high school athletic agenda and 13 Oakland County teams are now awaiting the opening of the 1963-64 mat season.

A newcomer to the wrestling clan is Birmingham Groves which has a full slate of matches on schedule with teams in the Northwest Suburban League.

The outlook is rosy for Pontiac Northern's mat team which opens the season Monday at Detroit Catholic Central.

The Huskies, with five lettermen returning to the fold, are favored to tuck away their second Inter-Lakes crown in succession. Northern shares the title with Walled Lake last year.

Northern lost a few top performers to graduation following a 9-2 season in 1962-63, but coach Bill Willson has a lot of power returning.

Anchoring the Huskie squad will be Dave Beebe, who finished fourth in the state's 120-pound division, and Jim Kimmel, who placed third in the 133-pound division of the state finals.

A lot of Northern's power is packed in Dennis Mills, 103-pound class, Don Weyer, 145-pound class, and Larry Cheek, the heavyweight grappler.

Pontiac Central, with seven lettermen returning, is expected to give strong Flint Northern a battle for the Saginaw Valley Conference title.

The Chiefs finished third in the league race with a 6-4 mark last year. Coach Steve Szabo picks the Flint squad as the team to beat in the conference.

Szabo is counting on six seniors and a junior to provide the punch for the Chiefs.

Berkley and Walled Lake should give Northern a tough challenge for the IL title, and the Bears could be the league's big surprise.

The Vikings, coached by by Richard Schneider, racked up a 10-2 record last year, but the loss of nine lettermen left a few gaps in the lineup.

Some of the promising Viking performers include Jack Burnett, a junior 95-pounder; Ted Lindstrom, 112-pound senior; Jim Wright, 120-pound senior; Jean Lagasse, senior co-captain, 127-pound class; Alvie Lawson, 133-pound senior; Gary Pipkin, senior, 138-pound conference champ; Don Berkey, 154-pound senior; and co-captain Pat Fitzgerald, a 180-pound senior.

SKIPPERS IMPROVED

Waterford's Skippers finished fifth in the league mat chase last year with an 0-5 record, and with six returning lettermen, they could pull a few surprises.

Southfield rounds out the I-L schedule and the Blue Jays could be in the thick of the league scrap.

Royal Oak Kimball is eying first place in the Eastern Michigan League race after a second-place finish in 1962-63.

Coach Bob Weber said several of the returnees have looked impressive in early practice including Frank Brandenberg, the 138-pound conference champion; Lance Uhley, one of the top performers in the 154-pound division of the regionals; and Craig Irwin, a heavyweight.

Lake Orion coach Dale Jerrie has five regulars with a lot of experience who are expected to give the Dragons a well-balanced squad.

Carrying the Dragons' hopes in the new season will be Jerry Steffens, 120-pound, Dave Townsend, 154 pounds, Jack Brookens, 133 pounds, Tom Middleton, 127 pounds, and Art Beatty, heavyweight.

Fitzgerald has most of the squad returning that compiled a 6-0 record last year, and the Spartans face Pontiac Central in their opening assignment.

Wrestling Preview

W-O Favors Clarkston Five

Greg Fuller (5-11), Larry Ray (5-6) and Ray Rood (6-2).

Hal Henderson takes over the basketball reigns at Bloomfield Hills and may have going early in the season.

Bob Pence, the defense-minded Holly coach, is looking for rebounding strength.

Guards Jack Bennett and Tom Fagan return, but Pence has to rebuild the entire front line. The current ineligibility of Woody Pierce hasn't helped matters.

West Bloomfield was riddled by graduation and only Dan Grieg, starting his third season as a regular, returns. Jay Williams and Steve Alix are top candidates.

A fractured leg suffered by Denny Hartman during the football season left Brighton without its top cage players. Coach Bob Kucher is hoping newcomer Bruce Evenson (6-5) can help take up the slack.

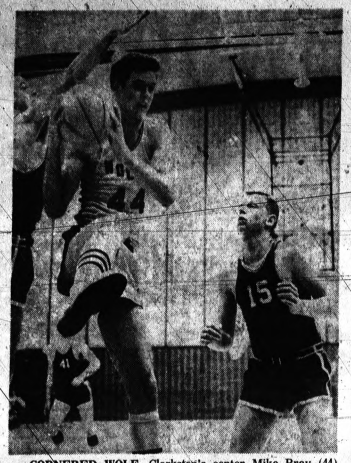

The forecast:

1. Clarkston	5. Holly
2. Milford	6. Brighton
3. Bloomfield H.	7. Northville
4. Clarenceville	8. W. Bloomfield

To Honor Industrialist at Sports Award Fete

DETROIT (AP) — Industrialist Fred Matthaei Sr. will receive the citizen sportsman award next Wednesday at the third annual Detroit awards banquet of the National Football Foundation and Hall of Fame.

Former Michigan State and Detroit Lion halfback John Pingel will make the presentation. Matthaei is being honored as Michigan's most outstanding sports-minded citizen for his years-long efforts to have the Olympic games staged in Detroit.

CORNERED WOLF—Clarkston's center Mike Bray (44) finds himself surrounded after hauling in a rebound against Holly's Broncos Wednesday night in the Wolves' den.

Walled Lake Drops First

By JERE CRAIG

Royal Oak Dondero beat Walled Lake's cagers from the floor, on the foul line and on the backboards last night, and consequently earned a 67-51 season opening victory.

The Oaks' advantage on the backboard was not much, however, permitting the home team to outgun them, 57-41, from the field; but Walled Lake couldn't put the ball through the hoop with any consistency.

The Vikings best showing came in the first three minutes of play when football hero John Thomas sank his first three shots to send the Vikings to 6-0 lead.

Late in the period, Dondero was trailing 8-6 when it went on a spree that lasted into the latter stages of the second quarter before the Vikings could get back on the beam.

The Oaks tallied 17 straight points while holding the Vikings to a minimum of shots for 6:22 minutes of play. Lean 6-6 center Mike Murphy sank two free throws to snap an 8-8 tie and put Dondero ahead to stay with 43 seconds left in the opening period.

BALANCED SCORING

Ironically, Murphy, the tallest player on the court, was the only Royal Oak starter not to hit double figures in the game. John Waters' 16 markers were the visitors' top production.

★ ★ ★

Trailing 23-8, Walled Lake finally cut the cords on a Matt Planck layup with 4:15 elapsed in the second period. The Vikings couldn't trim the deficit significantly, though, until the final stanza.

Jim Broome's free throw with 5:35 remaining lowered the margin to 50-43; but the winners then spurted for 12 points to Walled Lake's one marker and the contest was out of reach.

The two teams were very ineffective with their ball handling, making many mistakes (as is expected early in the season). Dondero did manage to take better shots, generally, than their hosts and it paid off.

★ ★ ★

There were 49 fouls called in the contest, plus two technicals for substitution violations. Dondero cashed in on 27 of 44 attempts as the losers were called for 27 personals and both technicals.

Lanky coach Bob Bolton was making his debut at the Vikings' helm and has a big job cut out for him if the Walled Lake quintet is to threaten seriously in the Inter-Lakes League race.

Farmington Scores Win From Rival

Farmington's Falcons broke open a close game with 22 points in the third quarter Wednesday evening to hand neighborhood rival North Farmington a 78-66 setback.

The teams left the court at intermission with the score knotted at 31-31, but the Falcons caught fire in the third to break the game open.

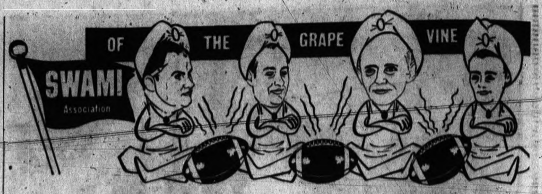

The Raiders lost the range in the third stanza and netted only 11 points.

Neil Warriner paced a well-balanced scoring attack for the Falcons with 18 points, followed by Dave Schlach, with 16, and Ray Leach with 15.

Mike Fleming, the Raiders' 6-3 scoring ace, grabbed scoring honors with 25 markers. Ray Dhue tallied 10 for the losers.

Bids for Boat Record

ADELAIDE, Australia (AP) — Andrew Mustard, project manager for the British speed auto Bluebird, told reporters today work is starting immediately on Lake Eyre in South Australia, to prepare for another world land speed record bid by British ace Donald Campbell next autumn.

The Grapevine has been picked clean. The Swamis have ended their association meeting and this is the last list of forecasts for the season.

Swami Vogel holds a slight lead on Swami Craig and he in turn is two games ahead of Swami Spears. The new Swami president will be known after this weekend.

Until next year, happy cage pickings.

Houston New Stadium Is Named Officially

HOUSTON (AP)—The $24 million stadium here has been officially named the Harris County Domed Stadium.

★ ★ ★

County Judge Bill Elliott had asked the county commissioners Wednesday, to consider naming the stadium after the late President Kennedy, but his motion was defeated 4-1.

Eagles in South Central

Deckerville's high - flying Eagles made themselves at home by picking off the 1963 football crown in their first year in the South Central League, and on paper, it looks as though the birds will walk off with the cage crown as well.

Coach Bruce Glover, has seven lettermen returning from the 1962-63 squad which racked up a 12-6 record and captured the Northern Thumb C title.

The Eagles lack height, but they have speed and scoring punch.

Spearheading the attack will be center Bob Parrott, 6-2, who scored 253 points last year.

North Branch and Imlay City shared the title last year, but both squads were riddled by graduation.

Imlay has three regulars returning while North Branch has five players with some game experience.

Millington's Cardinals are in the midst of a building program and with a little experience the Birds will get stronger.

Hazel Park Nips RO Kimball, 60-59

Guard Estel Stephenson sank a short jump shot with three seconds remaining in the game Wednesday night to give Hazel Park a 60-59 decision over rallying Royal Oak Kimball.

★ ★ ★

The win put Hazel Park into the lead of the Eastern Michigan League since the game was the first one on the 1963 basketball schedule.

The winners led by six points at halftime, 36-30, and held a two-point margin after three quarters, 46-44, but had to come from behind on Stephenson's late heroics.

★ ★ ★

Jim Boreland with 18, Vern Hill with 16 and John Michalski with 11 led the winners, while Kimball had 14 each by Bob Wlodek and Pete McVittie, 11 by Steve Lloyd and 10 by Dick Sanderson.

Vet Matmen at Cranbrook

Cranbrook racked up an impressive 15-4 wrestling mark last year and the Cranes have a number of regulars returning to bolster the ranks of the 1963-64 squad.

Coach John Laskarides is counting on three seniors and two juniors to provide the balance.

Heading the Crane squad is senior captain Tom Barlow, who will grapple in the 175-pound division.

Other top prospects are Johnny Goodman, senior, 138-pound class; Lance Leithauser, junior, 127-pound class; Howard Goldman, senior, 133-pound division; and Leslie Reizen, junior, 154-pound class.

BOUNCE THAT COUNTS — Terry Dischinger of the Baltimore Cullets (43) fights with Oscar Robertson of the Cincinnati Royals for a loose ball in their game last night in Baltimore. Other members of the two teams watch as if hypnotized by the site. The Royals won, 122-119, handing the Bullets their 5th straight loss.

Bowlerama Ends Qualifying Sunday

Preferred squad times are still available at six county bowling establishments as the seventh annual Pontiac Press Bowlerama nears its final qualifying Sunday.

Competition will be primed for an 11 a.m. start on the final day as county bowlers seek berths in the Dec. 1st finals at 300 Bowl.

★ ★ ★

More than 60 entrants have already qualified at six other sites. Those concluding this Sunday are Airway Lanes, Howe's Lanes, Hill North Lanes, Wonderland Lanes, Montcalm Bowling Centre and 300 Bowl.

All those who enter prior to 5:30 p.m. Friday at either the Press or participating establishments will be listed on the squads published in Saturday's paper.

Qualifying scores to date have been low especially at "300," Airway and Montcalm. Thus, entrants have a golden opportunity to reach the finals and compete for the $1800 in top guaranteed prize money.

HIGHER TOTALS

North Hill, Howe's and Wonderland have higher leading totals, but these fall off rapidly, leaving room for better than average scores to slip into the finals.

Presently, a familiar trend in previous Bowleramas has failed to appear. The middle average keglers (140-175) have not been supporting the tournament as in previous years.

This grouping has produced the biggest winners in past events, with no one over 172 ever taking home the first prize (which is $700 this year).

The lack of support from this grouping of bowlers, who comprise a big part of the local bowling community, has put the continuation of the Press' annual affair in doubt.

Future support financially by the Press may depend upon the degree of interest that is forthcoming Sunday, particularly from the middle average group.

★ ★ ★

Although a 5:30 p.m. pre-registration deadline has been levied, bowlers will still be able to register Saturday and Sunday at the site of their choice.

Those pre-registering will naturally receive preference on the squad times.

Name Jones for Award

Hayes Jones, Olympic hurdler from Pontiac, has been nominated by the Michigan Amateur Athletic Union as a candidate for the James E. Sullivan award.

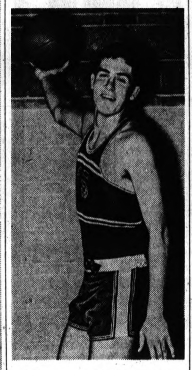

The national award is given each year to the outstanding amateur athlete in the country and will be presented next month.

The only man to participate in all five U.S.-Russia track meets, the 24-year-old Jones was a track star at Pontiac Central and Eastern Michigan University.

HOLDS RECORD

A former school teacher in Detroit, he has won a record 48 straight indoor events and holds the world indoor high hurdles mark. He won a bronze medal in the 1960 Olympic Games.

While prepping for a 1964 Olympic team berth Jones is currently with Detroit youth as a member of the Mayor's Committee.

Hawks Rout Pistons for 12th Victory

DETROIT (AP) — The St. Louis Hawks got nine straight points at the start of the final period and went on to whip the Detroit Pistons 113-105 in a National Basketball Association game Wednesday night.

★ ★ ★

It was the Hawks' 12th victory in 21 games, while Detroit suffered its 11th loss against only five victories.

Holding an 88-87 advantage at the three quarter mark, baskets by Bill Bridges, Zelmo Beaty, Len Wilkens and Richie Guerin and a free throw by Bob Pettit boosted the Hawks lead to 10 points.

The Pistons never threatened seriously the rest of the way.

★ ★ ★

At the outset of the second quarter with the score tied 26-26 the Hawks fired in 11 consecutive points and outscored Detroit 17-1 before the Pistons could muster a field goal.

3-POINT DEFICIT

The Pistons came back, headed by guards Ed Miles and Willie Jones, to close the gap to 62-59 at half time and then bounced ahead 82-78 in the third period on a 10-point uprising.

The Hawks regained the lead, 88-87, by the period's end and won without any trouble.

★ ★ ★

Beaty paced all scorers with 30 points, while Pettit had 28. Bailey Howell and Don Ohl had 18 each for the losers.

Wilt Cracks Record

By The Associated Press

After the San Francisco Warriors lost to Cincinnati Tuesday night, Coach Alex Hannum shook his head. Wilt Chamberlain just won't shoot enough, said Hannum.

The new Chamberlain, Hannum's own product, had the coach shaking his head again Wednesday night. Wilt took only 19 shots.

But he made 18 in a row.

Chamberlain, who has been talked into passing off more by Hannum and is following instructions to the letter, missed his first shot against New York. But he went on to hit a National Basketball Association record of 18 in a row in the Warriors' 118-89 victory over the Knicks.

MISSED ONE QUARTER

Chamberlain made all his shots from within six feet of the basket and wound up with 38 points. His record run still is intact as he sat out the fourth period and had missed only that one shot up until then.

Chamberlain's performance came in the first game of a doubleheader at Boston in which the Eastern Division leading Celtics thrashed Los Angeles' Western pacesetters 114-78. In other games, St. Louis moved up on the Lakers by downing Detroit 113-105 and Cincinnati edged Baltimore 122-119.

Chamberlain had only eight points in the first period but then added 24 in the second as the Warriors built a 74-41 halftime lead. The previous record for consecutive baskets was 13 by Larry Costello of Syracuse, Dec. 8, 1961. Bill McGill was high scorer for the Knicks with 22 points.

The Celtics, now 13-1, completely shackled the Lakers' offense, allowing only 13 points in the second period and 30 for the half. The Lakers now are only .008 percentage points ahead of St. Louis. Sam Jones led Boston with 20 points. Jerry West and Leroy Ellis had 18 each for Los Angeles.

Oscar Robertson and Wayne Embry, who each scored 28 points, paced a Royal comeback that overcame a 14-point deficit. Robertson put Cincinnati ahead to stay 114-113 and Embry clinched it with a field goal and two fouls. The Bullets' Terry Dischinger led the scorers with 29 points.

Dallas-Fort Worth to Change Leagues

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—Tommy G. Mercer, 31, has purchased the Dallas-Fort Worth baseball franchises and pledged 1964 operation in two leagues.

Mercer, 31-year-old Fort Worth businessman, said Dallas probably would play in the Pacific Coast League with Fort Worth in the Texas League as announced Sunday.

Mercer and Ray Johnston, who has maintained a joint Dallas-Fort Worth operation in the American Association and Pacific Coast League for the last three years, came to terms in a Fort Worth meeting Wednesday afternoon.

Programs at PNH, Kimball Pools

Swim Meets on Local Sports Scene

Swimming moves into the area sports spotlight Saturday with events scheduled at Pontiac Northern and at Royal Oak Kimball high schools.

At PNH all afternoon and evening Saturday, the annual age-group AAU swim meet will be held featuring events for entries from 12 and under to 17 years of age.

The program is being sponsored by the Pontiac Swim Association. The 12 and under events will begin at 11:00 a.m. and those for ages 13-17 will start at 3:00 p.m.

Medals and ribbons will be awarded to the first six places in each event.

At Kimball Saturday, the 7th annual Royal Oak Relays are scheduled with 16 high schools entered.

SEAHOLM FAVORED

Birmingham Seaholm will be favored to win its third straight title and its 5th since the relays were started. In the other two years, Grosse Pointe walked off with the title.

This year, host school Royal Oak Kimball is expected to be Seaholm's strongest challenger with Ann Arbor and Grosse Pointe among the entries. Other schools competing in the eight relay events are Groves, Dondero, Dearborn, Fordson, Thurston, Hazel Park, Ferndale, Southfield, Edsel Ford, Fitzgerald and Madison.

Some of the top prep swim stars in Michigan will be competing including All-America high school swimmers, Ken Wetbeck of Thurston, Pete Adams, ex - Pershing state champ now at Seaholm, along with Dave Zimmer and Ann Arbor All-Americans John Baird and Mike Tefft.

Last year Seaholm won seven of the eight relay events in the most decisive title ever by one team.

Meet director Dick Heller of Kimball said, "Seaholm is a strong favorite, but I don't think the Maples will take seven events again. The competition is stronger this year."

The preliminaries will begin at 2:00 p.m. and the finals are slated to start at 8:00 p.m.

Pontiac Sailing Crew Heads for Lima, Peru

A three-man crew from Pontiac left this week for Lima, Peru, where they will participate in the second International Lightning Class world championship sailing races.

Heading the local crew is Dr. Leo Wasserberger, a Pontiac orthodontist, along with crewmen Dick Crandall of Livonia and Ed Grant of Grosse Pointe.

Dr. Wasserberger's trim, Lightning sail boat is one of 15 U.S. entries transported from New York earlier this month to Chorrillos Bay, near Lima, site of the championship races.

Another area crew, a Fenton threesome, has an entry in the lightning championships. On the team are Herm Nickles, Clarence Holman and Bob Furey.

Dr. Wasserberger's boat was one of 12 from the Pontiac Yacht Club which entered the qualifying trials in the North American championships in the fall of 1962 on Lake Erie near Niagara Falls.

The doctor's boat was the first from the PYC to qualify for the lightning championship.

The six-race series is slated to get under way Friday with the champion decided on the best five of six races. The competition ends Dec. 9.

Twenty-seven countries will be vying for top honors in the races.

Reds Send Vet Freese to Pirates

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Gene Freese has returned to Pittsburgh, the team he began his major league career with eight years ago.

General Manager Joe L. Brown announced Wednesday the Pirates got the 29-year-old infielder from the Cincinnati Reds for a sizable chunk of cash and a minor league player to be named later.

Just how much cash the Pirates handed over was not made public, but Brown said it was the most they have paid for talent in the eight years he's been with the team.

Where will Freese, mainly a third baseman, play for the Pirates? The third sacker last year was Bob Bailey, the $175,000 bonus baby who turned in a disappointing season at the plate.

POOR SEASON

The Pirates had pinned a lot of hopes on Bailey, trading veteran Don Hoak to Philadelphia and giving the 20-year-old rookie an unebstructed shot at the job. But in 154 games, he batted only .228, hit 12 home runs and had 45 RBI.

Freese was a big factor in the Reds' pennant winning drive of 1961, banging the ball at a .277 clip and hitting 26 home runs while knocking in 87 runs.

Due to a broken ankle, he got into only 18 games in 1962. He spent some time in the minors last season but returned to the Reds in mid-July and batted .244 in 66 games.

Idaho Cowboy Leads as Rodeo Finals Near

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Dean Oliver of Boise, Idaho, holds a solid $1,997 lead in the race for all-around cowboy championship as the National Finals Rodeo moves into its third go-round today.

Oliver moved another $103 ahead of Guy Weeks in the second go-round Wednesday night by taking second in calf roping. Oliver already has the calf roping title cinched with rodeo winnings of $27,348 this year.

RESULT COUNTS — Masked goalie Jacques Plante of the New Rangers is down on the ice as he looks into the net to see the puck after a score by Larry Jeffrey (light uniform) of the Detroit Red Wings. Other Rangers are Larry Cahan (5) and Earl Ingarfield (10). The Rangers won, 3-2.

N.Y. Downs Wings, Extends Win Streak

By The Associated Press

The New York Rangers used an unusual four-game home stand to advance to the rarified for them—position of a share for fourth place in the National Hockey League.

★ ★ ★

For Detroit's struggling Red Wings, it was just the other side of the coin—continuing Red Wing road woes.

★ ★ ★

The Rangers, who have made the Stanley Cup playoffs only once in the last five years, edged Detroit 3-2 in the only NHL game played Wednesday night.

UNBEATEN STRING

The victory extended New York's unbeaten string to four, two wins and two ties on the home stand, and pulled them into a share of fourth with Detroit. The Red Wings have yet to win in nine starts off home ice.

Don McKenney was credited with the Rangers' tie-breaking marker late in the third period when he tipped in a 50-foot slap shot by Harry Howell.

★ ★ ★

Don Johns had given the Rangers a 2-1 lead early in the period, but Norm Ullman of Detroit matched it midway through the session. The other scorers were Detroit's Larry Jeffrey and New York's Rod Gilbert, the latter on a rare penalty shot.

★ ★ ★

Jacques Plante, returning to the New York nets after missing two games because of a shoulder injury, made 34 saves in preserving the victory.

UNBEATEN STRING

The Thanksgiving night schedule has Montreal at Detroit, Toronto at Chicago and New York at Boston.

Forfeit or No, They Accept Tough Defeat

SELINSGROVE, Pa. (AP) — Students and townspeople stood as one Wednesday behind the decision of Susquehanna University to refuse a forfeit that would have preserved college football's longest unbeaten streak.

"You win and lose on the field, not in a council meeting," said Jim Garrett, Susquehanna's coach and athletic director. "We lost on the field and that's the way it will go down in the record books."

The Crusaders were defeated for the first time since 1960 by the team that beat them last, Upsala. The 34-12 loss ended a 22-game unbeaten streak.

Later, Upsala reported it unknowingly used an ineligible player and offered Susquehanna a forfeit.

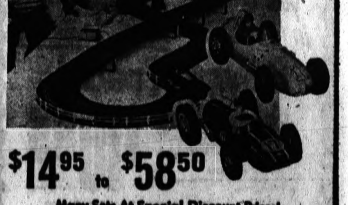

The final ruling was left to the Middle Atlantic Conference. The MAC's eligibility committee gave the loss to Upsala but let Susquehanna decide for itself whether to take the victory.

The Crusaders refused.

★ ★ ★

"I agree with the coach, we shouldn't accept the forfeit," said quarterback Don Green. "We lost the game and that was it. We know we didn't play well and whoever they had wouldn't have made any difference."

World Invitational Meet Starts Keg Finals Today

CHICAGO (AP)—The finals in the $48,000 World's Invitational Bowling Tournament open today with 32 of the nation's top men and women keglers shooting in the first of four days of match game competition.

* * *

The 15 finalists in each of the men's and women's divisions survived the preliminary qualifying rounds and Wednesday's semifinals. The top scorers, from the original field of 128 men and 64 women, are joined in the finals by defending champions Don Carter of St. Louis and Mrs. Marion Ladewig of Grand Rapids, Mich.

Many of the country's leading bowlers failed to reach the finals and a shot at the first prizes, $7,000 for the winner in the men's division and $4,000 for the women's champion.

MEN'S LEADER

Leading the men's field into the finals is Tommy Tuttle, a 31-year-old tobacco worker of King, N.C., who was not regarded as a likely candidate for the semifinals. But he fired a sensational 1,461 in the final six games to post a total of 7,947 for 36 games.

His total, the tournament's second highest series, edged Dick Weber of St. Louis who had led throughout most of the qualifying rounds. But the former All-Star champion finished with 7,915, only 32 pins behind Tuttle.

* * *

Although Tuttle, the southern match game champion, soared to new heights in his bowling career, he ranked second to J. Wilbert Sims of Chicago in the semifinals.

Sims, four-time national Negro bowling champion, posted the highest score in the seven-year history of the world's tourney—1,512 for his six games—which was the second highest six-game block ever rolled in a match game event.

18 STRAIGHT

Sims, 42, had a string of 18 straight strikes, starting from the third frame of game No. 5 to the ninth frame of game No. 6 when he left the 10 pin. He collected 51 strikes out of 72 and his final score boosted him into ninth place in the finals.

* * *

Leading the women finalists is Joanne Chapman of Blencoe, Iowa, making her first start in competition with the nation's leading women bowlers. Mrs. Chapman finished her 24 games with a total of 4,773, leading Olga Gloor of Chicago, the 1959 champion, by 20 pins.

Carter, 37, has won five of the six previous world's events. Mrs. Ladewig, 49-year-old grandmother, has captured the world's title three times.

Cotton Bowl Pitt's Last Hope

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Pitt's football Panthers definitely are out of the running for all post-season bowl games except possibly the Cotton Bowl, Athletic Director Frank Carver said Wednesday.

The fifth-ranked Panthers have been among the top teams in bowl talk in the past weeks. However, Carver feels they will be bypassed in the final selection.

"The Orange Bowl isn't considering us at all, and actually hadn't given us very much encouragement at any time," Carver said. "The Gator Bowl seems to be following the Orange Bowl's lead."

* * *

Carver said that Miami sportswriters and television and radio announcers have been campaigning against an invitation to Pitt by the Orange Bowl committee.

* * *

"They seem to think we haven't played anybody and wouldn't be representative, regardless of what we might do in Saturday night's game with Miami," he said.

"The people in Jacisonville apparently are affected by the adverse publicity in Miami, that's all I know."

Auburn appears to be the choice for the Orange Bowl against Nebraska. The Gator Bowl pairing is less definite.

The Panthers still are under consideration for the Cotton Bowl, "but only if Navy doesn't accept a bid," Carver added.

* * *

Pitt, with a 7-1 record, finishes its season against Penn State Dec. 7 following the Miami contest Saturday night.

The Panthers' only loss was to second-ranked Navy. They hold victories over UCLA, Washington, California, West Virginia, Syracuse, Notre Dame and Army.

Ottawa QB Rated Best in Canada

VANCOUVER (AP) — Quarterback Russ Jackson of the Ottawa Rough Riders has been named the outstanding player and top Canadian in the Canadian Football League for an unprecedented double triumph.

Linebacker Tom Brown of British Columbia Lions is top CFL lineman in the third category of the national football awards announced Wednesday.

Jackson's sweep of two titles is unmatched in the 1-year history of national award voting by sportswriters and sportscasters from the nine CFL cities.

No Canadian ever had won the most outstanding title and no player had ever won two awards in a single year.

Spartans Meet N. Michigan in Cage Opener

EAST LANSING (UPI) — Michigan State's basketball team opens its season here Saturday night against Northern Michigan.

* * *

The Spartan cagers closed last season with a 4-16 record, but coach Forddy Anderson is hoping for an improvement this year as he relies on a group of tested veterans.

Bill Schwarz and Stan Washington were slated to start as guards, Pete Gent and Marcus Anders were top at forward, and Fred Thomann will be center on the first team. Washington is a sophomore. The others return from last year's squad.

* * *

Northern set a 19-8 record last season and will bring eight returning lettermen into the current season.

Scared Girl Bags Big Badger Bear

DANBURY, Wis. (AP) — A 635-pound bear, shot on a deer hunt by a 16-year-old schoolgirl who admitted she was scared to death, may be the biggest ever bagged in Wisconsin, conservation authorities said Tuesday.

* * *

"I walked right up on him," said Linda Lunsman, a high school junior, describing the shooting. "He was half in his den and half out. He was looking right at me. I got scared. I backed up a little ways. Then I shot him."

The huge bear, weighed in at a lumber company's scales here weighed 635 pounds — some 25 pounds over the unofficial state record — and measured 7 feet, ¾ inch from end of the nose to the tip of the tail. One of the hind paws measured 10½ inches cross.

SHOT DEER

Linda was deer hunting with her father and brother about three miles from their home in this Burnett County community. Linda had shot her deer the previous day so was assigned to drive Sunday so that other members of the party could get their deer. Suddenly, she came upon the enormous bear and killed it with a single shot to the head.

* * *

Linda has no idea what to do with the carcass.

"No one in our family likes bear meat," she said.

UAW Sets Tourney

The Ninth Annual UAW Region 1 Bowling Tournament will be held at the Thunderbird Lanes, 400 W. Maple Road, Troy, on Saturday and Sunday, January 25 and 26, 1964.

The American Football league lost more than $2 million in the 1960 campaign but since that time it has been gradually coming into the profit columns.

Halftime Tributes Planned for Slain President

By The Associated Press

Thanksgiving Day, 1963, will have its drumsticks but not its drum majors.

★ ★ ★

For the 26 teams battling on a 13-game major college program, it was a day strictly for football. The usual halftime shows and accompanying hoopla were replaced by memorial programs in honor of the late President Kennedy.

Band music, according to one school, was to be "appropriate to the occasion," with "God Bless America" and "America the Beautiful" listed as the chief components of most halftime shows.

Also scheduled were periods of silence, brief eulogies and other tributes to the late President.

In this subdued setting, and admittedly under some psychological pressure, a bevy of bowl hopefuls took the field—some for games originally postponed from last Saturday.

At East Lansing, Mich., where the halftime show is a John Philip Sousa march, a brief eulogy while the band plays "God Bless America" and a minute of silent tribute, the Big Ten Conference championship and a Rose Bowl berth were to be settled.

The game matched fourth-ranked Michigan State and eighth-ranked Illinois.

SEEK TITLES

At College Station, Texas' top-ranked Longhorns, undefeated, untied and aiming for their first national championship in history, met an arch-rival of 71 years standing, Texas A&M.

The game was to be nationally televised by CBS, starting at 3 p.m., EST.

The Longhorns, who will be the hosts in the Cotton Bowl, are one of only three teams with definite bowl commitments. Nebraska, which will be in the Orange Bowl, and LSU, which has been tapped for the Bluebonnet, are the others.

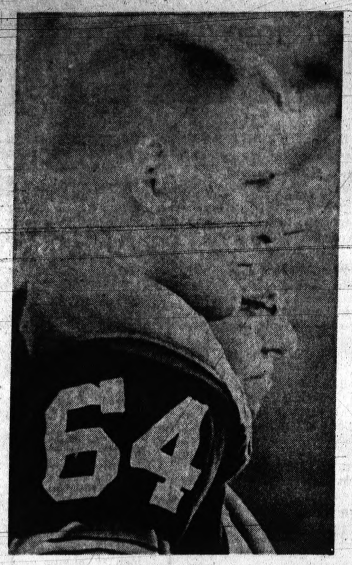

Two other bowl hopefuls, Syracuse and North Carolina, also highlighted today's schedule. The Orange met Notre Dame at New York while the Tar Heels were at Duke.

The remainder of the schedule showed Cornell at Penn, Columbia at Rutgers, Wisconsin at Minnesota, Miami, Ohio at Cincinnati, VMI at Virginia Tech, Clemson at South Carolina, Virginia at Maryland, William and Mary at Richmond and Furman at West Virginia.

Saturday's program spotlights the postponed 80th meeting of Harvard and Yale, along with two West Coast battles, out of which will emerge the other Rose Bowl entry. The two key games are Washington State at Washington and UCLA at Southern California.

CBS has announced a revised television schedule for Saturday due to the postponement of the Army-Navy game to Dec. 7. The service classic will be nationally televised. Kickoff time will be 1:15 p.m., EST.

To fill the Army-Navy spot this Saturday, CBS will telecast three regional games—Harvard-Yale in the East at 1:30 p.m., Baylor-Rice in the South and Southwest at 3 p.m., and probably Ohio State-Michigan in the Midwest and Far West.

Feast or Famine for Spartans

EAST LANSING, Mich. (AP)—There was a feast of Thanksgiving goodies up for grabs today by the winner of the Michigan State-Illinois football game.

There were such tasty items as:

The Big Ten title. . . . A trip to the Rose Bowl on New Year's Day. . . . Enormous prestige for the winning coach. . . . A jump or a dump in the national ratings. . . . Tremendous publicity for any star players to help with All-America recognition or their pro ambitions.

★ ★ ★

Winner takes all — with one exception. Michigan State would win it all in case of a tie. The Spartans have four wins, no losses and a tie in conference play. Illinois has won four, lost one and tied one.

Both teams were under the same phychological pressure because the climax ga me was cause the climax game was postponed from last Saturday due to the assassination of President Kennedy.

DRY FIELD

Coaches Duffy Daugherty of MSU and Pete Elliott of Illinois built up game-winning enthusiasm again after the letdown.

The weather improved from Saturday. The forecast was for cloudy and overcast skies, a mild 50 degree temperature and a dry field.

Big Ten Commissioner Bill Reed promised the Rose Bowl entry would will be announced as soon after the finish as possible.

Illinois hasn't been to the Rose Bowl since after the 1951 season. Michigan State made the coast jaunt following the 1953 and 1955 seasons.

Tittle One Touchdown From Layne's Record

NEW YORK (AP) — If Y. A. Tittle throws one touchdown pass for the New York Giants against the Dallas Cowboys Sunday at Dallas he will tie the all-time National Football League record of 196 set by Bobby Layne from 1948 to 1962.

Actually, Y. A. already has thrown 225 TD passes, counting his days with Baltimore in the All-America Conference, but the NFL does not count them in its record books.

★ ★ ★

Tittle's first scoring pass in the NFL was thrown to Hal Crisler, now a sporting goods salesman in Los Altos, Calif. Both played with the Baltimore Colts at the time.

It was a 31-yard toss against the San Francisco 49ers in the second period of a game played Oct. 29, 1950. Y. A. had just come off the bench. Now, 13 years later, the old bald eagle is zooming in on the all-time record.

NEAR RECORD

Despite the defeat of the New York Giants, Tittle maintained his passing lead with a 60.8 completion percentage. He has thrown 29 touchdown passes this season, only four short of the league record he set last year. The Giants have three games to play.

★ ★ ★

Cleveland's Jimmy Brown also is on the verge of a record, held by himself. He has 1,498 yards rushing compared to his record total of 1,527 in 1958. All he needs is 29 more yards against St. Louis Sunday.

Jerry Kramer of Green Bay tops the scorers with 80 points, just one point ahead of Don Chandler of the New York Giants. Brown's 78 points put him in third position but all of his came on touchdowns. Both Kramer and Chandler are kickers.

★ ★ ★

Bobby Joe Conrad of St. Louis remains the top receiver with 58 for 743 yards, although Bobby Mitchell of Washington has the most yardage, 1,088, and Terry Barr of Detroit has caught the most touchdowns, 10.

49er Receiver Plans Preview of Art Works

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Bernard (Bernie) Casey is taking time out from being the leading pass catcher for the San Francisco 49ers to host a preview of his one-man art show Monday at the Bolles Gallery in San Francisco.

★ ★ ★

Casey bills his paintings as abstracts, but, he said in an interview: "I sort of hate that word abstract. It says nothing. Maybe non - representational, non-objective. It's such a broad field."

★ ★ ★

Casey, a 6-foot-3, 213-pound bachelor, is inviting only men of business and brawn to his preview.

"No women," he said. "If all my teammates and their wives showed up, it would be just a madhouse."

Casey says there's nothing strange about a football player being an artist.

"We're all college graduates," he pointed out.

Casey is more than that. He teaches art at Bowling Green when he isn't playing football.

Lions Donate to Officer Shot in Dallas

DETROIT (AP)—The Detroit Lions players dug into their pockets Wednesday and came up with $2,000 to donate to the family of a Dallas policeman slain by the accused assassin of President Kennedy.

Lion players voted unanimously to have $50 deducted from their salaries for the widow and three children of Dallas Patrolman J. D. Tippit.

Tippit was killed last Friday by Lee Harvey Oswald shortly after the assassination of President Kennedy. Oswald was shot to death Sunday by a Dallas nightclub operator.

SECOND FUND

The Lions fund is the second started by a National Football League club. The Philadelphia Eagles announced Tuesday they were donating funds to the policeman's family.

"If everybody in the league contributes it will amount to about $28,000," Lion defensive end Darris McCord said.

Lion co-captain Joe Schmidt said "a lot of players felt we shouldn't have played our games last Sunday. Since we had to, we felt we should try in some way to express our feelings. This is one way."

WEDNESDAY'S FIGHTS

TOKYO—Yukio Katsumata, 130, Japan, knocked out Duen Absiencia, 128½, Philippines, 8. Katsumata retained Orient junior lightweight title.

Six Games on Sunday

Oakland After 5th Straight in AFL

DENVER (AP) — Oakland tries for its fifth straight victory and Denver seeks a happy ending to its last home game of the season as the teams meet in an American Football League contest today.

The game is the first played under a re-scheduling ordered after the death of President Kennedy. All AFL games last weekend were canceled.

★ ★ ★

The six other AFL teams will play Sunday, with Kansas City at New York, Houston at San Diego and Buffalo at Boston.

The Thanksgiving game will be televised by ABC with the Denver area blacked out.

Last in the Western Division, the Broncos have won two games, tied one and lost seven. Their regular quarterback, John McCormick, was reported in top shape. He was hurt in mid-October.

SECOND PLACE

Oakland, second in the division with six victories and four defeats, was ready with quarterbacks Tom Flores and Cotton Davidson, both good passers, and with halfback Clem Daniels, the league's leading rusher.

Fair weather with the temperature in the mid-50s was expected at game time, 11:30 a.m., EST.

★ ★ ★

The National Football League also has one game today with Green Bay at Detroit. Six games will be played Sunday with Cleveland at St. Louis, New York at Dallas, Minnesota at Chicago, Philadelphia at Pittsburgh, Los Angeles at San Francisdo and Baltimore at Washington

Jewelry Solves Gift Dilemma

Even if your budget doesn't stretch quite far enough to put diamonds in every stocking you plan to fill this Christmas, you shouldn't overlook your jeweler as one of Santa's best assistants.

Watchbands for people who already own fine watches are expected to be popular gift items at around $10.

Cultured pearls at $20 to $35 will probably lead the popularity parade in gifts for teen-age girls.

* * *

Prices for grown-up styles will be slightly higher.

BIG ITEMS

Rings set with rubies, hematite or onyx are expected to be big items for men at $20 to $30.

The jewelry store shopper will find stores less crowded than others even at Christmas. Merchandise isn't "picked over," employes are less harried, and there are fewer temporary helpers behind the counters.

Style - color - size selections are good, too, and the early shopper can usually get special orders from manufacturers if he wants them.

* * *

Here are a few other ideas that may help you fill Santa's sack with quality jewelry gifts this season: AM-FM transistorized radios; bronzed candelabra, cameras, cameos or cuckoo clocks; dinnerware or desk sets; electronic watches or engraving on almost any kind of jewelry.

Also there are fraternity pins, good luck pieces and hors d'oeuvre trays including new musical types.

OTHER SUGGESTIONS

Or you can get identification bracelets, irons, ivory items, ice buckets and Indian jewelry; jade or jeweled jam jars; knives, key-rings, knick-knacks and knife sharpeners; lockets, lamps, luggage and other leather items; military rings, mugs, memory books and motion picture equipment.

Perhaps you are looking for novelties or special watches for nuns or nurses; opera glasses; pens, pencils, pins or portable phonograph (including stereophonic models) and radios.

Quartz, Rosaries, skin divers' and other types of sports timers and stop-watches; as well as trays, telescopes, thermometers, typewriters and tape recorders including transistorized types so tiny they can be tucked into a briefcase are some other suggestions.

* * *

Still more possibilities include ultrasonic cleaning of precious jewlery; vacuum bottles; or weather forecasters, woodenware and wall clocks of all sorts are among other possibilities. And, there are many more, of course.

Idea List Run Cold? Try Warm Slippers

Give Christmas the soft touch this year with comfortable leather slippers.

A thoughtful gift of soft, elegant suede or glove leather slippers will pamper and please every man, woman, and child on your holiday list.

Your choice this winter ranges from soft ankle-hugging leather boots that are suitable for both indoor and outdoor wear to slippers designed chiefly for the path between the refrigerator and the easy chair.

* * *

Gift footwear for people who prefer to view the wintry scene from behind a windowpane boast high fashion and a high degree of comfort.

LAVISH FASHIONS

For the girls there are leather slippers or mules in colorful, lavish fashions. Some are beautifully embossed in gold or silver. Others are embroidered in floral designs.

A harlequin slipper is made up of bright leathers in diamond shapes.

Its corners turn back and are fastened down with tiny silver bells or gay, gold pins.

* * *

The court jester's slipper-boot of soft-leather reaches to the ankle where it is gathered in with a band of jewels, fur or a leather thong.

LEATHER LINING

A new idea in women's slippers is a leather lining in an even brighter shade than the slipper itself, such as geranium lined with turquoise, yellow with citron, and scarlet with bright pink.

Men's easy slippers also come in a variety of styles.

These are leather-lined, low-cut opera slippers in glossy smooth leather for wear with an elegant dressing gown.

For the man who prefers casual dress at home, glove leather moccasin slippers are available in a variety of colors and styles.

One popular moccasin features a folded back, stitched down tongue.

TRAVEL SCUFFS

Another happy Christmas thought is a pair of soft leather travel scuffs that tuck into each other. Wherever he wears them, they'll remind him of hearth and home.

And, don't forget the children. Their slippers should be bright in color, high cut (to make it hard to pull them off), and with resilient leather soles and uppers to help support growing muscles.

Brightly colored leathers and leather linings attract youngsters and make them want to wear their slippers — not trot about barefoot on drafty floors.

2 Couples United ... in Many Ways

CANTON, Ohio (AP)—A recent wedding at First Christian Church in this area called for considerable concentration on the part of the Rev. Harold L. Davis. Identical twins were wed to identical twins.

* * *

May Lou Van Voorhis of Waynesburg, Ohio, married Larry Jay Wayble of Hartville, Ohio. Her twin, Kay Sue, married Larry's twin, Gary Ray.

In addition to the rhyming names and identical looks, the two girls have been working in the same office and the two young men are mechanics at the same service station.

* * *

Wedding gowns and cakes were identical, but one couple went North for a honeymoon, and the other South. And they are residing in separate communities.

What Happened to Teddy Bear?

Space Age Comes to Toyland

This year's toyland is fully in step with the fast pace of the contemporary world. Under the Christmas tree, junior will be building a sky scraper with a helicopter landing and monorail facilities. Space play has matured from science fiction to science fact.

Besides a variety of play items keyed to the latest developments in rocketry, a while new array of science-oriented kits are keyed to study of the earth and atmosphere in up-to-the-minute research terms, reports Mel Freud, president of Toy Guidance Council.

Even the computer age has impact on 1963 toylands. A digital computer that solves problems is being featured for under five dollars to provide basic training for tomorrow's expert in critical path scheduling.

★ ★ ★

The affluent American home is reproduced in faithful miniature down to a well designed dog house and a power mower.

Among the ingenious playroom off-shoots of dad's do-it-yourself hobbies is a kit of miniature power tools geared for purposeful activity by junior and safe against cutting hazards, according to Toy Guidance Council.

A new thrill for homemaking play is a magnetized doll house in which an entire family and pets can be moved around realistically by manipulation of a magnetized wand placed under the floor of the doll house.

AT CONTROLS

This will give Junior and his sister a chance to order the family routine at will. There's an automatic can opener and a spin dry washing machine for the well equipped play room kitchen.

A resurgence of interest in military material is evident, too, in the new toy showings, Toy Guidance Council reports. An army engineer's set of heavy gauge steel provides purposeful equipment for building airfields or army encampments and military highways.

And, there's an operating sand hopper. This set includes working models of the latest style in road construction equipment.

★ ★ ★

New in the military lineup is a cannon that fires only when a command is spoken. New ideas in planes and missiles closely follow the newest equipment of the U.S. armed services.

Toyland abounds in new playroom equipment beamed to interest junior and his sister in basic training for professions or business, Toy Guidance Council notes.

Incentive for the young automotive engineer is provided by an ingenious Cub Set of heavy gauge steel which gives junior the opportunity to custom design a number of smart looking cars by interchanging parts.

CHANGES MODEL

There's a station wagon produced by inserting a special roof. Without the roof and doors a racing car emerges. Another switch and junior has a pick up truck ready for service.

The amazing world of plastics has been translated into purposeful playroom operation, too. Extrusion molding, for example, can be carried out purposefully by the junior businessman.

Side by side with highly practical replicas of the latest developments in science and industry is a wide variety of toys keyed to history and fantasy.

Although the hurdy gurdy has almost disappeared from city streets, there are intriguing new hurdy gurdy toys. The newest version of this classic music maker encourages the youngsters to compose their own tunes on a music roll by inserting pegs.

The roller activates small hammers that tap out notes on colorful metal bars.

A novel addition to toyland's musical toy array is a razz-ma-tazz piano which enables any youngster to play a dozen familiar tunes immediately.

Interchangeable music rolls each with six different songs, are placed in the back of the instrument. A lever in front of the keyboard permits selection of the tunes.

Then each time the keyboard is struck, a different note sounds. Continuous action produces a complete tune. Keys are exposed for viewing.

Among the surprises keyed to science is a novel car which demonstrates solar energy. This comes in kit form, planned for easy assembly without glue or soldering.

When assembled, the battery powered car can be started, stopped and speed controlled by tracking the beam of an ordinary flashlight on the vehicles built in solar cell.

New in the home equipment sector is a hair dryer that can be used by little girls themselves or their dolls. The dryer which blows cool air safely, operates on flashlight batteries.

For the juvenile hobbyists there are kits that provide the makings of the Statue of Liberty or the Taj Mahal.

A series of ingenious kits makes it easy for the juvenile contingent to produce a whole series of primitive masks, all decorative additions to home decor.

To help every young lady experiment with good grooming techniques there is a new cover girl bar with a plastic face for use as a base for experiments. The face can be wiped clean and made up repeatedly. Cosmetics are non-toxic.

'Foreign Aid Must in 1963'

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Rep. Otto E. Passman, D-La., said yesterday it would be "simply ridiculous and a disgrace" if Congress put off passage of the foreign aid money bill until next year.

Passman, chairman of a House Foreign Aid Appropriations subcommittee, said, "I don't think it will be. We should get these money bills behind us," he said.

Passman said his group was ready to act immediately as soon as the House and Senate work out a compromise on an authorization. Negotiations on a compromise were to resume today.

★ ★ ★

The authorization bill sets the ceiling on foreign aid spending. The bill being handled by Passman's subcommittee provides the actual funds.

The House version of the authorization totals $3.5 billion, some $200 million less than the Senate bill. President Kennedy had requested $4.5 billion or a $1 billion more than the House voted.

Girl Returns Favor to Dad

MOLINE, Ill. (UPI) — Kenneth Seelye became the toast of Adams Hall at Northern Illinois University, DeKalb, Ill., when his daughter Kenlyn, a senior, wrote a letter about him.

The letter was selected by the faculty board for special attention. It read in part:

"Who is this man who has given me companionship (he calls me Little Pal), an education, a home filled with the thrill of life and love, and more than that, a part of his name that will be with me forever?

"He is my father, who, because of his great devotion and giving of himself in every way, deserves to be Adams Hall's Dad for the Day.

"It is my little way to say thank you for choosing me."

Kenlyn Seelye

"Explanation for word 'choosing': I am adopted."

Fast Termites Earn Tax Rebate for Home Owner

CHICAGO (UPI)—A home-owner received a tax rebate for termite damage to his home when a federal court judged it a "casualty loss."

The owner's house was razed on the advice of a pest control expert, and he had to burn it down. The owner was paid $21,000.

Termites had done their work within the short period of five months during 1956.

★ ★ ★

Federal tax law requires that in order to deduct a casualty loss on income tax returns, the loss must have an element of "suddenness" such as fires, storms and shipwrecks, Commerce Clearing House, a tax authority, said.

MSU to Train Police on Juvenile Problem

EAST LANSING (UPI)—A three-week research-training program designed to help police officers work more effectively with juvenile delinquents will begin Dec. 2 on the Michigan State University campus.

About 54 police officers from Michigan, Illinois, New York and Missouri will meet to hear MSU faculty members, law enforcement experts, representatives of institutions dealing with juveniles and other authorities, an university official said.

Ex-Cadillac Mayor Succumbs at 60

CADILLAC (AP)—Former Mayor Everett G. Reiser, 60, died early yesterday at Mercy Hospital after a sudden illness. The cause of death was not immediately known.

Reiser served as mayor of Cadillac in the 1958-59 term. He was assistant corporate secretary of Miller Industries of Reed City and the firm's chief accountant. He is survived by his widow, Marie, and two sons, John W. of Wayne and David H. of Cadillac. Services are Saturday at St. Ann's Church.

BURLEY FELLOWS — Auctioneer James Walston of Pinetops, N.C., is not fagged out, he's just on "releaf." He's talking to auctioneers Roy Shepherd and his son, Billy. The trio exchanges some "cutting" remarks as the tobacco selling season burns away in Louisville, Ky. You should see their smoke when they go back to work.

'Boy' Shuns Retirement at 79

BRIDGEPORT, Conn. (AP)—Peter Ross is 79 years old but to people on his route he's their "newspaperboy" who delivers the Bridgeport Post, Telegram and Sunday Post.

Ross retired at 65 and began to sell newspapers in a store he opened in Stratford.

Three years later he closed the store and took a newspaper route, serving some of the former patrons of his store.

As business increased so did his staff. Ross now has three boys and three girls helping him deliver more than 300 papers daily by bicycle.

GREETED BY ROYALTY — The four members of the Beatles ensemble meet Princess Margaret after performing at the Royal Variety Show. Even adults have been victims of Beatlemania, the wave of hysteria sweeping England, caused by the four mop-haired rock and roll singers.

Pop Singer Hysteria

'Beatlemania' Sweeps Britain

LONDON (NEA) — The Royal Family is the latest to fall victim to Beatlemania, the mysterious wave of hysteria which is sweeping Britain, particularly its teen-age population.

Beatlemania is so-called because it is inspired by four mop-haired pop singers who hail from Liverpool, known as the Beatles.

The Beatles have been heading the "Top Ten" record polls for months now. Their pudding basin haircuts and their tight-fitting clothes are slavishly copied by teen-agers. And they provoke hysteria wherever they go.

★ ★ ★

When the Beatles did a one-night stand in Manchester recently, 5,000 fans, most of them school girls, screamed and fought for tickets, and many fainted in the crush.

MOUNTED POLICE

Finally, mounted police had to be called out to control the mob. Many of the youngsters had slept all night on the pavement in order to be first in the ticket line.

Frantic parents searched among the crowd for missing offspring. Similar scenes have been enacted wherever the Beatles have appeared.

Each of the Beatles has his own following. Some girls make a cult of John Lennon, the leather-voiced, assured one. Others go for Paul McCartney with the choirboy face, or for George Harrison and Ringo Starr, his fringed partners.

So far, the Beatles' popularity has been largely confined to youngsters, but indications are that adults are not immune to Beatlemania.

★ ★ ★

The acid test came recently when the Beatles were invited to perform at the Royal Variety Show, attended by the Queen Mother, Princess Margaret and her husband, Lord Snowden. The diamond-and-mink audiences at such charity shows, where the cheapest seats cost $36, are notoriously hard to crack.

BROKE THE ICE

But Lennon broke the ice by remarking, "For our next number we would like those in the cheaper seats to clap their hands."

"The rest of you," he announced, looking up at the Royal box, "can rattle your jewels."

A smiling Princess Margaret leaned forward from the royal box to lead the applause. Soon even the Queen Mother was beating time with her white-gloved hands to the insistent rhythm of "She Loves Me, Yeah, Yeah, Yeah!"

★ ★ ★

The Beatles are proving a headache to the police.

PM AWARE

Even the prime minister, Alec Douglas-Home, is aware of the Beatles' existence.

Not long ago the prime minister's car was held up for 25 minutes at London Airport while 1,500 screaming fans demonstrated for their heroes, who were returning from an engagement in Stockholm. The prime minister was catching a plane to Scotland.

Not only was the premier delayed, but entrants in a Miss World beauty contest, arriving by almost every continental flight, went unnoticed as the crowds shrieked for the Beatles.

★ ★ ★

The Beatles owe their success as much to American and German influences as they do to the foggy atmosphere of the Liverpool docks where they grew up.

STOLEN OUTRIGHT

Their peculiar beat was stolen outright from such an American singer as Chuck Berry. All the Beatles have done is to give it a Liverpool accent.

As for the German influence, this is most evident in their clothes. The Beatles have rejected the Ivy League-Italian look in favor of the ultra-kooky and slightly kinky look of Germany of the 1920s.

Their jackets are tight-fitting and collarless, their boots have elastic sides, and sometimes have Cuban heels.

★ ★ ★

The German vogue among British pop singers like the Beatles puzzles some observers.

RIOTOUS THINGS

"These groups come back from Hamburg," says Bob Wooller, who first discovered the Beatles, "and they tell me about the riotous things they see there. It's sinister in a way, all this black leather."

New Bicycle Christmas Joy

Make-Sure Recipient Knows Riding Rules

Nothing brightens a boy's eyes like seeing a bicycle under the Christmas tree. The gleam of bright new paint, the shine of metal spokes and the flash of handle bars are reflected in his eyes.

As a parent you should make sure that the bike that you buy him has all the equipment that he needs — not the flashy accessories that impress the kid next door, but the basic safety equipment required for safe bicycling.

He also needs to be told or reminded — about bike riding rules:

- Obey traffic laws, signs and signals.

★ ★ ★

- A good bike rider always stays on the right and rides with traffic.
- Always ride single file and in a straight line, never zig zag.
- Night riding is always dangerous and should be avoided. If the child has to ride at night, for some reason, be sure that the bike is equipped with light, reflector, reflective tape and see that the child wears light-colored clothing.

SAFETY CHECKS

- Conduct periodic safety checks on the bike. Public Transit Lines Can Be Income Source

CHICAGO (UPI) — Publicly owned urban rapid transit lines can be a source of revenue for privately owned railroads.

The Chicago and North Western Railway, which operates commuter service in competition with the Chicago Transit Authority (CTA) in some areas of the city, realizes $168,000 annually in rent from the CTA for 2.5 miles of double-track right-of-way.

'Braver Than Dick Tracy'

McQueen Feels Like a King

By ERSKINE JOHNSON

BAY CITY, Texas — (NEA) — Hollywood's "wild one" has gone vegetarian to capture a more "even" disposition.

"I mean it's great, man," says Steve McQueen.

Obviously, it also leaves a fellow hungry all the time. For Steve is wolfing down a huge slice of pumpkin pie a couple of hours before dinner on a movie location here.

"I was always very high or very low," Steve explains about his new health food kick. "Now I've evened off. It's easier now for me to face responsibilities. Man, I'm braver and cooler than Dick Tracy."

★ ★ ★

Long after the pie had disappeared, the wiry, matted-haired Steve was still talking mostly about his role in his latest movie, "The Traveling Lady."

WILD MAN

The "lady" is Lee Remick, and Steve keeps her traveling because of his wild ways. In the film he is a born loser, with the story starting as he is paroled from prison and ending with him back in prison.

There's a chip on his shoulder and fate keeps knocking it off. That's his cue to come out swinging.

"There's a lot of me in the character, yeah," Steve admits. "Until I became an actor I was pretty much a loser, too. But acting shaped me up."

★ ★ ★

He likes the role, he tells you, "because it is an acting part for a change. That's why I'm happy I've evened off and can face responsibility. I want to be a good actor. My personality has carried me along so far, but now I'm interested in becoming a GOOD actor."

TAKES HIS TIME

He has driven cross-country from Hollywood to Texas in his high-powered imported sports car. "I've evened off in that department too," he declared. "It took me four days. Man, I took my time."

He likes to recall his television series (Wanted, Dead or Alive), which launched his movie career. "I don't think about the show exactly, but about what a producer said to me. He said:

" 'McQueen, you're a lot of trouble, but I'm behind you.'

"I don't want no more trouble, though. I've had enough trouble."

GROWING FAMILY

Acting in big time movies only since 1959, Steve McQueen just moved his ever-growing family into a $250,000 Spanish style mansion in Beverly Hills.

"Three acres, a high wall, TWO kitchens and how many rooms I don't know exactly," he said. "It'll take us 30 years to furnish the place IF we hurry. Yes, sir, old Josh has come a long way. But I said to myself about all that money for a big home, 'Why not, kid? You're not a big dresser like most of them big stars'."

With that he flipped his memory book to the time I attended a birthday party his wife gave him in Mexico during filming of "The Magnificent Seven." Everyone in the cast was there.

★ ★ ★

"Man, was I swinging," Steve howled. "Remember those firecrackers I tossed into that fellow's room? He went right through the door. And remember that boulevard stop sign I liberated from a street corner and had in the back seat of the car on the way home?

"I returned the sign, but the police wanted me, too. Well, that's what I mean, man.

"I don't want no more trouble.

"I'm glad I've evened off."

Students Set Record in School Fire Drill

KANSAS CITY, Kan. (AP) — Smoke and the sound of fire engines spurred students of St. Anthony's parochial school to evacuate their two-story building in record time.

When fire broke out in an adjacent building the 193 pupils left in a hurry, clearing the school in 38 seconds — seven seconds faster than during the last drill exactly one week before.

Bank Job a Bust

Cashier Vigilance Test

KREMS, Austria (AP) — A masked man entered the cash room of a bank here, pointed a gun at the cashiers, who were just counting half a million Austrian Schillings ($20,000), and shouted "hands up."

The cashiers did not obey. All five gahged up on the robber and gave him a beating. He was taken to a hospital.

Then the manager of the bank was fired. It was he who had ordered the "bank robbery" to test the vigilance of his employes in an emergency.

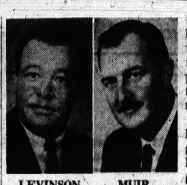

★ ★ ★

The cashiers did not know that the "robber" was one of their colleagues.

Resignation of Bishop Accepted by the Pope

VATICAN CITY (AP)—Pope Paul VI has accepted the resignation of Bishop James Edward McManus of Ponce, Puerto Rico, for reasons of health, the Vatican announced yesterday.

Bishop McManus was a member of the island's Roman Catholic hetrarchy involved in a political dispute with Gov. Luis Munoz Marin of Puerto Rico three years ago.

Soviet Puppets Invade U. S.

Russian Can't Find Friendly Crocodile

By DICK KLEINER
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

NEW YORK (NEA)—Sergei Obratsov had several missions to accomplish in the U.S. Only one of them, remains unfulfilled: he has been unable to find a friendly crocodile.

Obratsov is Russia's top puppeteer. He and his troupe were brought here under the auspices of the U.S.-U.S.S.R. Cultural Exchange Program.

That part of his mission has been accomplished triumphantly; the Obratsov Puppets have been playing to packed houses on Broadway, and Ed Sullivan will devote his entire program to their artistry over CBS on Dec. 1.

* * *

He has also had some private business here — buying presents for his grandchildren, taking pictures, picking up books on American Indians and American primitive art, going to museums, seeing the sights.

TOTAL FAILURE

But the crocodile; that was total failure.

"I love animals," he said. "And I wanted to buy a small crocodile. I went to several dealers in animals and fish and they had crocodiles. But I found you can't make friends with a crocodile. I like to be friends with animals."

Obratsov says that at home in Moscow he has 24 tanks of fish. And they are friendly — they swim up to the top at his approach to get food.

* * *

"In my country place," he said, "I have many cats and dogs. It is just a small country place, of course. But I have many cats and dogs.

ONE ST. BERNARD

"I have one St. Bernard which was given to me when I appeared in Belgium. He loves Russia—he loves the cold and the snow."

Over the years, Obratsov's delightful creations have taken him all over the world.

And, with his artistic sensitivity—he wanted to be a painter, built a puppet as "a joke" and was stuck with it— he has been appalled at much he has seen.

* * *

"I want to make a documentary film," he says, "much like Edward Steichen's photographic exhibit. 'The Family of Man.' But with a difference. That one has the philosophy that everybody should be happy and can be happy. I believe everybody should be happy, but can't be happy.

UNHAPPINESS SEEN

"I have seen their unhappiness. In Bombay, there are people who have no place to live. They were born in the street and they will die in the street. In Iran, I have seen the dead children.

"The men come around at night and shovel them up. How can people be happy when there are things like that?"

Obratsov thinks one positive step is cultural exchanges such as that which has brought him here and sent some of our plays and performers to Russia.

* * *

He feels that if the two peoples come to know each other, eventually they will learn that they hold misconceptions about each other's culture.

CHILDREN'S QUESTIONS

"I visited a school on Long Island," he says, "and I answered the children's questions. I found that they had many wrong ideas about Russia, which means that the parents have the wrong ideas.

"They asked things like, 'Are there any schools in Russia?' You know from that what they must think.

"And we Russians have many wrong ideas about America, too. Our young people like America and want to be like Americans.

* * *

"But they have the wrong ideas about what Americans are like— they dress up like Teddy Boys and think that is American."

HIGH COSTS

He has, he says, learned another surprising thing about America—the high cost of certain items. Books, he says, cost too much.

And film for his camera —"in Russia, I never think twice about buying a roll of film, but here I must think twice." Only clothing impressed him as inexpensive.

"Even so," he says, "I and most of us in Russia and America are fortunate. Compared to much of the world, we are rich.

* * *

"Most of the people have nothing. But I have much. So have you. Compared to much of the world, I am Rothschild."

OBRATSOV AND FRIEND—Puppeteer Sergei Obratsov, with one of his many creations, meets U. S. television personality Ed Sullivan. Obratsov puppets will be featured on the entire Sullivan show Sunday, Dec. 1.

What Comes After Moon? Other Probes

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) —The United States' No. 1 goal in space presently is landing astronauts on the moon by 1970. But what comes after that?

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration has outlined this tentative schedule:

- A lunar base in 1970 to support a crew of 12 to 24 men who would rotate back to earth every six months.
- An orbiting space station, also scheduled for 1970, which would be used for long-term observation of space and earth and the effects of prolonged weightlessness on the 12-to-24-man crews, who also would rotate every six months.
- A three-to-five-man mission to the vicinity of Mars and Venus in the 1971-73 time period.
- Landing a three-to-five-man crew on Mars or Venus in 1975.

Greek Coin in Hemline

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Mrs. Wilson Beatty is still wondering how a Greek coin found its way into the hem of a tightly stitched dress.

After the dress was dry-cleaned once, she noticed an unusual weight, investigated and discovered the coin. There was no tear anywhere in the garment.

The coin was a 10 drachma, worth about 3½ cents in U.S. money.

Approximately 100 million tax returns are filed every year with the Internal Revenue Service.

First Dictating Machine From Sewing Parts

The world's first dictating machine was manufactured in 1888 in a sewing machine factory at Bridgeport, Conn.

It was powered by a sewing machine treadle, with sound recorded on a beeswax and paraffin cylinder.

Education and Jobs Stressed by LBJ

In addition to calling for top-priority action on civil rights and tax cut legislation, President Johnson yesterday said action also is needed on pending education bills, the youth employment opportunities bill, the foreign aid program and the remaining appropriation bills.

"We will carry on the fight against poverty and misery, ignorance and disease—in other lands and in our own," he pledged.

"We will serve all of the nation, not one section or one sector, or one group, but all Americans."

Kent Citizens Reactivate; Eye Rights

GRAND RAPIDS (AP)—The reactivated Kent County Citizens for Kennedy and Johnson, with a wartime rescuer of the slain President among its officers, is turning its attention to a proposed fair housing code here.

Mrs. Howard Bement, chairman, said at an organization meeting Tuesday night that the group will meet Dec. 9 to hear City Human Relations Commission Director Alfred Cowles.

The meeting precedes by two days a public hearing on the HRC-proposed ordinance to ban discrimination in Grand Rapids housing. "We will decide Dec. 9 the action to be taken regarding that hearing," said Mrs. Bement.

★ ★ ★

The citizens group was formed in 1960 with William F. Liebenow of Alto as treasurer. Liebenow was skipper of the PT boat rescuing the former President and crew of PT109 which was run down by a Japanese destroyer.

REACTIVATION

On the day of President Kennedy's funeral, Mrs. Bement announced reactivation of the Kent County citizens group to devote "energies to the implementation of the ideals for humanity as advocated by our late president . . . and the new President, Lyndon B. Johnson."

'Cave Moved' Just for Safety

STARK, Kans. (AP) — Wayne Yoho set some sort of a record when he moved a cave one and a half miles from one farm home to another.

Some people may call the caves storm cellers, but tornado-conscious Kansans have called the one room underground structures "caves" since pioneer days.

A bulldozer was used to excavate the reinforced concrete shell then, with two trees as the roadbed, the cave was dragged to the new site.

★ ★ ★

By the time the cave reached the pit dug for it at the new home the trees were little more than king-sized toothpicks, but it arrived without a crack.

Even the door's glass window was intact.

Saturn Moon Rocket Largest U. S. Booster

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) —The mammoth Saturn 5 rocket which will ferry the first American astronauts to the moon, hopefully before 1970, will stand 360 feet tall, weigh 3,000 tons and produce 7.5 million pounds of thrust.

For comparison, the Atlas rockets which boosted four United States astronauts into orbit were 82 feet tall, weighed 130 tons and produced 360,000 pounds thrust.

No Rooms for Negroes

Son Gets Lesson in Bias

LANSING (UPI)—Albert Taylor, the 20-year-old son of Hobart Taylor, knows quite a bit about the racial bias his father has been fighting as executive vice chairman of the President's Committee on Equal Employment Opportunity.

Last summer the younger Taylor, a student at Wayne State University, took a job at the Department of Interior's shellfish research laboratory in Milford, Conn.

He tried to find a place to stay in the New England town but was turned away from several boarding houses, he said, because he was a Negro.

★ ★ ★

Eventually Albert, who hopes to be a doctor, found a room at the home of a Negro and stayed there through the summer.

Guard System Studied for Philippine President

MANILA (AP)—A fresh study of the system for guarding President Diosdado Macapagal has been ordered by Gen. Alfredo M. Santos, chief of staff.

"Dynamic leaders who are strongly opposed to Communism are favorite targets of Communist liquidation units," said Santos. "Any attempt by such units must be foiled at its planning stage."

Wartime Debt Paid in Full

CEDAR RAPIDS, Iowa (AP) — Jack Gladfelder, World War II private, has received the $10 he loaned his sergeant 20 years ago, plus $5 interest.

The soldiers were serving with the 85th Division near Florence, Italy, and Gladfelder was shipped out suddenly before the money could be repaid.

Louis Cesaletti of Silver Springs, Md., apologized for the delay.

★ ★ ★

He had written to the mayor of Gladfelder's old home town, Centerville, Iow., to get the former private's address.

Town Votes Return of Prayer to School

WYOMING (AP) — The City Commission of this Grand Rapids suburb has adopted a resolution calling for restoration of prayer to the classrooms of its public schools.

* * *

Action came Tuesday night on proposal by Commissioner Jack A. Magnuson who also suggested that copies be sent to the U.S. Supreme Court, the Michigan Congressional Delegation and state legislators.

* * *

City Attorney William J. Halliday Jr., told the commission that the Supreme Court ruling on classroom prayer was only interpreting the law now in force and that Congress could amend the existing legislation.

It is believed that Martin Luther introduced decorating Christmas trees with lighted candles.

Did Assassin Alter Slugs For Maximum Wounds?

WASHINGTON (AP) — The assassin who murdered President Kennedy may have purposely fashioned outlawed "dumdum" bullets to produce the maximum-sized wounds, an expert on wound ballistics said today.

A Dallas doctor's report on the character of at least one of the President's two wounds suggests this possibility, said Dr. James Beyer of Arlington (Va.) Hospital.

He is a civilian pathologist, formerly with the armed forces institute of pathology, who wrote the section on wound ballistics in the Army's official medical history of World War II.

* * *

The White House disclosed today that a post-mortem examination had been performed on the President's body at Bethesda Naval Hospital, but it gave no immediate word about the wounds.

FLATTEN TIPS

Dumdum bullets are conventional military-type bullets purposely deformed—by filing or hammering the nose—so as to flatten the tips and thus cause the target to be struck by a larger surface. This makes for a larger and more destructive wound.

Such bullets flatten out even more after striking tissue and, because of their deformity, may turn sideways after entering the body. That presents still more surface and transfers still more of the bullet's energy to the target tissue.

Dum Dum bullets are now barred from warfare by the Geneva Convention.

* * *

SAME OBJECTIVE

Beyer said in an interview that if the President's slayer didn't use Dum Dum bullets, he may have used hunting-type bullets—with the same large wound objective in mind.

He said those two alternatives—dumdums or hunting bullets—appear to offer the only satisfactory explanation for the "large gaping wound" which a Dallas doctor said was in the back of the President's head.

No description has been released of the bullets that felled the President—if, in fact, the bullets were recovered.

* * *

But Beyer said that with the type of high-velocity rifle reported to have been used—and the range of some 75 yards between the slayer and his target—a conventional bullet would have made only a relatively small hole at the point of entry.

Beyer said hunting type bullets are those which are not fully jacketed, as conventional military-type bullets are. Upon impact, the hunting type spreads out at its soft tip, producing a jagged and relatively wide-area wound.

The wounds expert said that even with conventional bullets, the effects inside a struck surface—such as the skull—go far beyond what appears on the surface.

"This is especially true in the head," he said.

The murder weapon has been described by Dallas Police as a 6.5mm bolt-action rifle, apparently of Italian make.

Flood Control Project Urged for Thumb River

CHICAGO (AP) — Investigating officers for the Army Corps of Engineers have recommended a $830,000 project that would "eliminate about 97 per cent of the anticipated annual flood damages along the lower Kawkawlin River."

The project would widen and deepen about 1.8 miles of the river, which empties into Saginaw Bay.

Nation's Cities Hope Mass Transit to End Traffic Nightmares

By BARNEY SEIBERT
United Press International

The nation's dozen or so largest cities are preparing to gamble $10 billion against the automobile in the next 17 years.

The money will go for rapid transit facilities which the cities hope will lure the American commuter out from behind the steering wheel of his car and into a seat in a bus or subway coach.

Stakes are high and the cities are at a disadvantage. For, while they are spending their $10 billion, three times that amount will be spent on urban freeway construction.

★ ★ ★

But most big city planners feel the investment must be made. Unless the commuter can be lured back to public transport, the planners foresee cities meeting the fate of Los Angeles, where a third of the downtown area is given over to parking lots, expressways and streets.

MUST DECIDE

"A city and a region have to decide if they want to save their central core," said John Bailey, who distributes Philadelphia's municipal subsidies to privately operated rail commuter lines.

City planner C. W. Griffin Jr. of New York put it more bluntly:

"We should treat the commutist as a public nuisance."

★ ★ ★

Despite a 131 per cent population gain in 20 years, department store sales in downtown Los Angeles dropped 32 per cent in a 12-year period, Kaiser Industries figures show. Downtown property values sagged and tax collections along with them.

TRAFFIC JAM

The Kaiser study found that despite Los Angeles' hundreds of miles of freeways—the most elaborate such network in the world—the traffic jam has become a way of life.

The sight of a driver in a stalled car shaving, reading a newspaper or dictating into a portable recording machine while he waits a break in traffic has become common.

For the urban complex of a million or more persons, many city planners say, rapid transit is the only answer.

In the metropolitan area of half a million, they believe, city fathers should begin now to plan right-of-way acquisition for rapid transit and to provide interim solutions such as express buses or limited tramways.

CENSUS ESTIMATE

The U.S. Census Bureau estimates that within 30 years 43 American cities will have a population of a million or more and will, presumably, be facing these problems.

Rapid transit is the mass movement of people on multi-passenger vehicles along an exclusive or "private" right-of-way.

It most commonly implies use of rails (monorail or dual rail), as opposed to automotive, ferryboat or aircraft transport.

★ ★ ★

Traffic engineers say rapid transit's chief advantage over the expressway is that one vehicle occupying the same space as four to six private cars can carry up to 60 persons while the autos would carry nine.

RUSH HOUR

Studies show the average rush hour commuting auto has 1.5 persons inside.

And rapid transit cars, moving along an exclusive right-of-way of their own at precise, controlled intervals, creates no traffic jams.

That may be the reason rapid transit expansion plans in such cities as New York, Chicago, Boston, Cleveland, Philadelphia and San Francisco have met surprisingly little resistance from automotive interests — so long as funds for highways aren't tapped.

PETROLEUM USE

Standard Oil Co. of California said in one of its publications, "Rapid transit might temporarily reduce our company's sales of petroleum products . . . but in the long run the company's prosperity is tied to the healthy growth of the communities we serve.

"Rapid transit should contribute to this growth."

The American Automobile Association said in a policy statement, it recognizes the "desirability of adequate public transportation system."

★ ★ ★

The automobile Manufacturers Association told the House Public Works Committee that rapid transit provides important peak hour service to downtown areas in large cities and urban freeway system requirements are relatively independent of transit to the downtown area.

NO OBJECTION

The Highway Users Conference, like the AAA, has no objection to rail rapid transit but opposes diversion of highway funds to construct such facilities.

Boston's Jenny Oil Co. bought advertisements to further the cause of rapid transit in Massachusetts.

In 1906 a horse-drawn carriage could average 8 miles an hour through the streets of New York.

★ ★ ★

In 1963 the average speed of a car through the streets of New York is 6 miles an hour, traffic engineers have found.

MOST SOPHISTICATED

New York has the nation's most sophisticated rapid transit system. Without it, the engineers say, traffic might come to a complete halt in the city.

Chicago's annual $68 million commuting bill could be cut by $205 million if one of three persons who drive to work could be induced to ride mass systems, according to an estimate of the city's First Federal Savings and Loan Association.

San Francisco, Los Angeles, Atlanta, Pittsburgh and Washington are facing serious commuter problems and are drafting plans for their first rapid transit systems.

★ ★ ★

New York, Chicago, Boston, Philadelphia and Cleveland — the only U.S. cities presently operating rapid transit systems —have mapped major expansion of existing facilities.

But recognizing the need for rapid transit is only a first step. Money must be found to build it, and the commuter induced to use it.

Gene R. Schaefer, director of the WABCO Mass Transit Center, an information library on rapid transit at Pittsburgh, said, "No major system may be financed out of the fare box alone. It must have a certain degree of subsidy.

"The return is not great enough to interest private enterprise. One by one, the major systems operating without some type of subsidy are going under."

Walter J. McCarter, president of the Institute for Rapid Transit, Chicago, said government officials in Washington must provide the stimulation "to get people to vote to pay for rapid transit."

MORE THAN MONEY

Making rapid transit popular could be a greater problem than financing.

A survey of one Chicago suburb showed that to entice auto commuters to leave their cars at home you would have to pay them 55 cents a day, even though it was costing them about 3½ times as much to drive as to ride a bus and twice as much as to take the train.

However, planners noted that the same study showed that to be attractive to auto commuters, rapid transit would have to provide (1) greater convenience, (2) greater economy, (3) greater speed.

If any two of the three factors were present the auto commuters said they would give up driving to work.

DETROIT TEST

The planners also cite a Detroit test of better service under a federal experimental subsidy which brought a 17 per cent increase in bus use. A similar test at Boston, Mass., involving better service and lower rates drew a 25 per cent increase in commuter train use.

Rapid transit began in 1863 when London built a 3.5-mile subway to connect three of its railway stations.

Work began in 1898 on New York's first subway, the 76-mile Lexington Avenue line, which is still in use. he same year the French government began planning the first five lines of Paris' Metro.

ROUND WORLD

There are rapid transit systems in operation on all the world's inhabited continents.

The most modern rapid transit system in the world is the semi-automated subway under Stockholm, Sweden.

However, the Stockholm subway will be outdated by San Francisco's $972 million, fully automated rapid transit system, upon which work will begin this year. A new system also is under construction at Montreal, Que., and Toronto, Ont., is adding to its system.

★ ★ ★

Most of the world's rapid transit systems and all but one of those in the U.S. (Cleveland's) are integrated networks using subways in congested areas, elevated lines through outlying areas and grade or below grade level routes through suburban areas.

NEW VARIATIONS

There is a growing number of new tangled variations.

A Texas department store is currently using a closed loop system to carry its customers to and from its parking lot.

Among the cities with modern central distribution systems in operation are Tacoma, Wash., which has moving sidewalks in its central business district, and Dallas, Tex., with moving sidewalks at its airport.

★ ★ ★

Within 10 or 15 years, light, comfortable rapid transit trains controlled by electronic brains could be speeding through some U.S. cities at 100 miles an hour.

CONGRESS DECIDES

A lot depends on what Congress decides.

Many of the cities' rapid transit plans hinge on some type of federal aid.

Legislation now before Congressional committees would provide $100 million for federal grants in each of the first two years and $200 million in each of the last two years of a four-year program to aid cities in building transit facilities.

Under terms of the bill, a federal grant for a specific project could not exceed two-thirds of the cost of a project.

★ ★ ★

Congressional observers see little chance that the bill will pass this year, but such rapid transit plans as San Francisco's $790 million project or New York's proposed subway addition will be constructed with or without federal aid.

KEY WORD

"Compatibility" is the key word in the rapid transit plans.

It prevents cities such as New York and Chicago, which already have rapid transit systems from switching to the fully automated planned by San Francisco.

In cities which do not presently have rapid transit systmes, the compatibility problem may stall introduction of such "wide blue yonder" ideas as compressed air propulsion or air levitation vehicles.

★ ★ ★

Gene R. Schaefer, director of Pittsburgh's WABCO mass transit center, which has assembled as much information on the subject as is possible to obtain, believes that most rapid transit systems and most additions to them in the next decade or so will be similar to the systems now in existence.

EXISTING UNITS

Any new system or addition to a present facility must be compatible with existing mass transit in the area. Revolutionary advancements are likely to require junking of all previous facilities.

Further, the hard-eyed underwriters who pass upon bond issues may look askance at new, untried methods.

Schaefer sees five future markets for rapid transit.

- Downtown distribution systems to disperse the commuters after they arrive in the central business area.
- "Closed loop" (no intermediate stops) distribution systems to connect two large shopping areas.
- High speed shuttle services to connect central business areas with airports or exposition grounds.
- Flexible systems employing either express buses or limited tramways on both public and private right-of-way, adaptable to passenger density of zero to 30,000 an hour, fir cities in the 500,000 to 1 million population bracket.
- High speed conventional two-rail rapid transit systems using private right-of-way to bring commuters to the central business area.

Downtown distribution might involve shuttle buses, as it does in Chicago and as proposed in Pittsburgh; moving sidewalks, as in Tacoma, Wash.; or a belt system of individual cars, seating one or two persons each and moving at low speed at the second story level.

The latter method would give retailers and window shoppers a second level of show windows.

The closed loop distribution system would operate at speeds higher than that of the downtown distribution network.

It might involve conventional two-rail vehicles, buses, or air support vehicles, propelled on a thin cushion of air expelled from tiny jets.

★ ★ ★

The high speed shuttle service might employ express buses using freeways, conventional two-rail vehicles, or monorail.

It would be much faster than the closed loop system.

THANKSGIVING
The festival of Thanksgiving began with the specter of hunger. Our Pilgrims planted grain; it did not mature. The second year they knew it was either a big crop or face a long, hard, hungry winter; a friendly Indian told them, "Plant a fish head with your seed," it sounded fantastic but they did as they were told and the crop was bountiful. A Thanksgiving festival was held.
We recognize a wealth of human attributes as laws of human behavior: loyalty to ourselves and to one another; wisdom of sharing our material wealth with less fortunate individuals; strive for the most precious gift of all—friendship; our harvest is a treasure chest brimfull of loyalty.
Our harvest is bountiful; we are rich! Our coins are sunshine, glowing aliveness, friends, keen pleasure with them and scintillating jewels of acceptance.
Have a glorious day.

At County Service Center

Supervisors Reject Research Lab Bid

The county supervisors' buildings and grounds committee yesterday turned down a request by a Pontiac physician to establish a medical research laboratory at the County Service Center.

Dr. Jack Kevorkian of Pontiac General Hospital was seeking a site to continue experiments in "the transfusion of blood from the dead into living human recipients."

Committee members agreed that the request couldn't be considered now because the housing of county governmental services at the center has first priority.

PLANS INDEFINITE

Furthermore, they said, plans for future land use at the center are indefinite at this time.

"This would be letting down the barriers for others to come out here," committee chairman Luther Heacock declared. It could result in covering the county center with a multitude of nongovernmental services, he added.

Dr. Kevorkian said his request was only an attempt to find an economical site to continue his research.

★ ★ ★

We will probably will look for another site because our projects are getting too large to handle at the hospital, and research should be separate from routine hospital procedures," he said.

PONTIAC GENERAL

According to Dr. Kevorkian, experiments in the direct transfusion of whole blood from corpses were carried on for the first time outside of Russia at Pontiac General Hospital in July and August.

The transfusions were given to three volunteers on the hospital's lab staff, he said.

Bottled whole blood from corpses has been given to seven dying patients at the hospital over the past three years, Dr. Kevorkian added.

He said the transfusions were authorized by attending physicians and patients where possible, or by their relatives.

DOESN'T CLOT

Whole blood from corpses is advantageous inasmuch as it doesn't tend to clot, according to Dr. Kevorkian.

He also sees a great military advantage in the direct transfusion of blood from corpses on a battlefield.

He admitted that public reaction has prevented experiments in this field of research elsewhere in the United States.

★ ★ ★

Dr. Kevorkian said the atmosphere for research locally has been "extremely favorable."

His experiments have been written up extensively in recent medical journals.

Wife's OK Needed to Purchase Paint

DES MOINES, Iowa (AP)—The other day a woman dashed into the Standard Glass and Paint Store in Des Moines and asked, "Has my husband been here yet?"

Proprietor Mark Woods nodded.

"Oh, did he buy paint for the bathroom?" the woman asked.

"I wouldn't sell it to him," Woods replied, and pointed to a sign on the cash register saying: "Husbands picking out paint colors — you bring note from wife."

Negro Pupils Majority

DETROIT (AP) — The Negro population of Detroit public schools has increased by 5 per cent over 1961 to 51 per cent of the enrollment it was reported in results of a survey yesterday. There are about 10,000 more pupils in city schools than in 1961, the report said.

A TYPICAL SYPHILIS EPIDEMIC

11 CHILDREN AND YOUTHS UNDER AGE 20

HOW IT SPREADS — Lack of supervision and VD awareness makes youths under 20 prime targets for syphilis infection. This chart illustrates a typical "epidemic" situation, spreading quickly from one adult into agers. Smaller figures represent babies morn large numbers of the younger age group. White figures represent adults, dark are teenagers. Smaller figures represent babies born with congenital syphilis.

VD Plague Hitting Youth of the Nation

By RAY CROMLEY
Newspaper Enterprise Assn

WASHINGTON — Dr. William J. Brown, of Atlanta, Ga., has the job of seeing that syphilis is eradicated in the United States within the next 10 years. He thinks it can be done at a cost of around $100 million.

As chief of the venereal disease branch of the U.S. Public Health Service, his chief line of attack will be to get thousands of state public health investigators tracking syphilis in the United States.

This means visiting 100,000 doctors every six months and another 130,000 doctors once a year for the next 10 years, persuading them to report all their syphilis cases.

It means personal interviews with every one of the 20,000 new syphilis victims now reported each year and tracing and interviewing the estimated 40,000 to 80,000 other new victims each year who keep their illness a secret. This will probably mean 500,000 to 750,000 interviews in the next decade.

FIND AFFLICTED

It means finding, one way or another, the quarter of a million or more who secretly — many perhaps unknown even to themselves — have latent or congential syphilis.

It may involve requiring hospitals to routinely give blood tests to all patients, stiff new lectures in the public schools and selling tougher parent-imposed standards for teen-agers.

Dr. Brown has no illusions about the size of the problem before him and the 50 state public health organizations:

"So far we have failed to locate, treat and properly follow up enough primary and secondary cases. Private physicians have been reporting only about 11 per cent of their infectious syphilis cases to local health authorities.

"This blocks us from reaching the sex contacts of their patients. We would like physicians to encourage their patients to talk with health department representatives who are trained in interviewing techniques."

★ ★ ★

Brown ticks off these disturbing facts:

- Between 3,000 and 4,000 people will die this year of syphilis.
- New cases reported are up 252 per cent since 1957. For six consecutive years the incidence has increased.
- The "increased promiscuity of teen-agers" is a major problem. One out of five new syphilis victims is a teen-ager. The infectious syphilis rate among youth has tripled in five years.

In one year alone there was a 59 per cent increase of infectious syphilis in the 15-to-19-year group, a 73 per cent increase among 20-to-24-year-olds.

- Syphilis is moving up in the social-education scale to families with higher incomes and more education. It's now growing in the $8-to-$10,000 income class and upward.

Less than 5 per cent of the cases reported are blamed on prostitutes. Teen-age VD is no longer confined to slum neighborhoods or to juvenile delinquents. It is invading "good" neighborhoods and "nice" families.

Among possible other reasons for the disease's increase Brown mentions:

- Homosexuality is increasing. There's a possible rise in homosexual transmission.
- Increased urbanization has caused "a breakdown of social restraints."
- The population has greater mobility — one out of every four cases of syphilis is contracted out of the home state.

Gonorrhea and syphilis are now No. 3 and 4 on the infectious disease list, led only by measles and streptococcal infections.

Among untreated syphilitics, one in 200 will go blind, one in 50 go insane, one in 25 become crippled and one in 15 develop heart trouble — perhaps a decade or two after the signs of syphilis have disappeared.

Men who contracted syphilis, perhaps unknowingly, during World War II are now becoming victims of these delayed effects.

Medical men have been trying to develop a vaccine for syphilis. So far, Dr. Brown says, they've had no major breakthrough which promises an early success.

But, he explaines, syphilis is easy to cure if caught in time. It can be cured, even if caught late, but the cure won't undo the damage the disease has already done.

Dr. Brown recommends that everyone include a blood test for syphilis routinely with every regular physical examination.

He says that the young should routinely have a test every year.

Children Can Create Them

Try These Easy-to-Do Package Bows

Two things always happen in the weeks before Christmas. 1) You promise faithfully to do your holiday shopping earlier than last year, to avoid last-minute buying and giftwrapping. 2) One of the children gets bedded down with the virus or flu.

While the two don't seem related, they are, according to Margaret Drummond, giftwrap stylist.

"Instead of just reading comic books, coloring or watching television while ill, a child can be given an enjoyable and creative crafts experience. Showing him or her how to make beautiful fluffy bows will be fun . . . and will help you when Christmas comes.

★ ★ ★

"Like many other simple crafts projects, this one can be learned quickly and easily — even by 7-year-olds," the Papercraft expert asserts from experience.

SIMPLE TO FOLLOW

The child-tested instructions are simple to follow. Demonstrate them once and then supervise the making of one big bow. You'll be surprised how readily the unwillingly confined patient gets the knack of it . . . and enjoys the pretty results.

With only half an hour's concentration a day, a dozen bows can be made easily in a week's time and stockpiled against the holiday giftwrapping rush.

Papercraft's giftwrap creator says, "I guarantee that no loving aunt or doting grandparent will ever notice an imperfection in the gaily decorative bow when told who created it."

★ ★ ★

The only supplies necessary are a selection of ribbon; LePage's white paste (safe to use in bed because its container is unbreakable); and a pair of scissors with safely blunted edges.

The reason for providing several kinds of colors of ribbon is so your "artiste" can use imagination in creating many attractive combinations.

★ ★ ★

To make a wide, fluffy bow: 1) Cut six-inch lengths of ribbon in the colors and styles you and your youngster prefer.

As a base for the bow, cut off the round end piece from the ribbon reel.

2) Fold one length of ribbon in half. Paste the tips together to form a loop.

(To get just the right amount of white paste, make a cardboard spreader about the width of a pencil.)

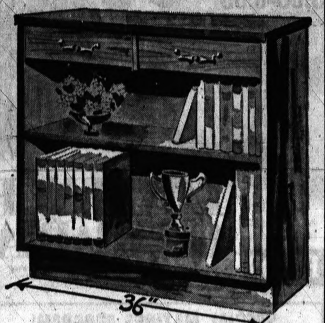

3) Start first level of bow by pasting loops around rim of cardboard circle.

Continue procedure until there is a full circle of ribbon loops radiating out from cardboard.

4) To make the second level paste a ribbon loop over each space between ribbon loops on the first level.

A full bow is achieved by adding several levels, in smaller and smaller circles, toward the cardboard's center.

Change Asked in Fee Offices

State Tells Hare to Apply Civil Service

LANSING (AP)—The Civil Service Commission yesterday called for Secy. of State James Hare to replace 35 of his fee branch managerships with 21 salaried offices under civil service.

State Personnel Director Franklin DeWalt said the effect of this would be to apply civil service to fee offices with enough volume to support full-time operation.

He said the plan would leave 195 smaller offices on a fee basis, and would end the present policy of operating or opening new fee offices near salaried offices, which he said reduces the business done by the salaried office.

★ ★ ★

The plan proposes that branch operations covering 21 areas which received a total of $422,000 in fees last year be consolidated with 14 other fee offices which received a total of $154,000 in fees.

OFFICES LISTED

The 21 are: Bay City, Berkley, Detroit-Forest, Detroit-Livernois, Detroit-Mack Ave., Detroit-Michigan Ave., East Dearborn, East Detroit, Ferndale, Grand Rapids N. E., Hamtramck, Home Acres, Lincoln Park, Muskegon, Plymouth, Pontiac, Redford, South Flint, Wayne, West Dearborn and Van Dyke.

The 14 fee offices: Detroit-Greenfield, Detroit-Joy Road, Detroit-Redford, Detroit-12th St., Flint-Dort, Grand Rapids S. W., Grandville, Highland Park, Kalamazoo-West, Lansing-Frandor, North Detroit, North Flint, Saginaw-West and Warren-Livernois.

DeWald said Hare's office has established 14 new fee offices in recent years and closed five salaried offices.

★ ★ ★

"The commission wants to reverse this trend," DeWald said, "and the most economical way to do it is to discontinue those fee offices which compete with nearby salaried offices, and consolidate operations."

LEAVE FOR PARIS — Two of the four children of Mme. Ngo Dinh Nhu, sister-in-law of South Viet Nam's late President Diem, wait in Rome for a flight to Paris, where they will attend school. Their uncle, Archbishop Pierre Martin Ngo Thuc (left) accompanied Le Thuy, 18, and her brother, Trac, are living in Rome, following the death of her husband and brother-in-law in the Viet Nam revolt.

To Nation's Theaters

Cary, Disney Give Yule Gifts

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer

HOLLYWOOD — Those two canny film makers, Cary Grant and Walt Disney, have wrapped up a pair of dandy Christmas packages for the nation's theaters.

THOMAS

The attractions are "Charade" and "The Sword in the Stone," and they show the two old masters at their ingenious best.

"Charade" is the type of thing that no one does better than Grant—the sophisticated comedy-adventure. This one turns up four dead bodies before the killer gets his. But even death is treated lightly and doesn't impinge on the general fun.

★ ★ ★

In his 61st starring film, Grant is once more caught in the middle, with danger on all sides and a gorgeous girl clinging to him.

The girl this time is Audrey Hepburn. She plays a recent widow, whose husband spirited $250,000 of Nazi loot away from OSS buddies during the war. His former pals converge in Paris to scramble for the missing money, and the mayhem ensues. How Grant figures in all this I'd better not say, since the preview program implored reviewers "please do not disclose the surprise developments."

GREAT STYLE

There are lots of surprises, some rather far-fetched, but the whole thing is carried off in such great style that you don't care.

Mostly, there is Grant, whose gloss becomes richer and more mellow with the years. He is the last and greatest of the sophisticated stylists, and long may he endure.

★ ★ ★

"The Sword in the Stone" is the first new Disney cartoon feature in two years and one of the better ones. Three years in the making, it is taken from the T. H. White book detailing the formative years of King Arthur.

It is the kind of thing that the Disney artists do best. While the action is principally about humans, there are scenes in which young Arthur is turned into animals by his mentor Merlin and the wicked wizardess Mim; they transform themselves from one creature to another in a brilliant sequence that ranks with the best in animation history.

EXCESSIVE TALKINESS

If there is a lack of attention during early parts of the film, it is because of excessive talkiness. But this is perhaps necessary in a cartoon with a more sophisticated plot than those of the past.

Giant Satellites to Record Path of Space Objects

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—The National Aeronautics and Space Administration plans to launch two giant satellites late in 1964 and 1965 to record micrometeoroids streaking through space.

Once in orbit, the 3,400-pound satellites will fold down two panels like butterfly wings to a span of more than 100 feet.

They will present a broad target for micrometeoroids to hit—and be counted by instruments.

The satellites will help determine how big a threat these fast-moving particles pose to men and machines traveling far into space.

Detroit Transport Plan Calls for Monorails

DETROIT (UPI) — A mass transportation plan drawn here five years ago recommended a primary system of six monorail rapid transit routes radiating from the central business area.

The plan also reommended 11 secondary routes. If given authority by the Michigan legislature for a Metropolitan Transit authority, Detroit officials have indicated they will consider the 1958 plan.

TB Tests Offered to Children

About 5,180 Pontiac school children, grades one, five and nine, will be given tuberculin tests Jan. 7-17, 1964, announced Miss Josephine Seeley, R.N. school health services coordinator.

Miss Seeley said no child will be given a TB test without a signed parental consent card returned to the school. Consent cards will be sent home with the children, she said.

A tuberculin test is a simple skin test which shows if a person has been exposed to tuberculosis, Miss Seeley added.

★ ★ ★

She emphasized that a positive reaction does not necessarily mean the child has active tuberculosis.

FREE EXAMINATION

Free Xrays will be given by the health deapartment to all positive reactors and adults in close contact with those students.

The testing program is jointly planned by the local and school health departments and the Oakland County Tuberculosis Association.

"Tuberculin testing is an effective and economical method of discovering children who have been exposed to tuberculosis," Miss Seeley said.

She urged parents to cooperate by signing the consent cards.

Irish Playwright Behan 'Going Off the Bottle'

DUBLIN, Ireland (UPI) — Boisterous, hard-drinking Irish playwright Brendan Behan looked at his baby daughter and said he hoped she would be a teetotaler.

"I am going off the bottle," the tousle-haired Behan said on his visit to a hospital to see his wife, Beatrice, 34, and their daughter, born Monday.

Rockets Aid U. of M.

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Two rockets carried instruments more than 80 miles into space this week to help University of Michigan scientists learn about the upper atmosphere.

A Nike Apache rocket carried a 70-pound instrument payload 103 miles up and a half-hour later a Nike Cajun rocket launched a 56-pound payload to an altitude of 81 miles. They were launched from Wallops Island, Va.

The first instrument package was designed to measure the density and composition of the air at various altitudes.

The second ejected three 26-inch plastic balloons at intervals and the balloons, after inflating in space, were tracked by radar.

* * *

Data on their drift and rate of descent will help scientists learn wind direction and velocity and atmosphere density at various levels.

The balloons were coated with aluminum on the inside and outside to simplify radar tracking.

Here's Advice to Stay Young

NORTHPORT, N. Y. (UPI) — "Keep busy." That's the advice Mrs. Carrie Hallock offers for staying young, and the 101-year-old woman practices what she preaches.

Twice very sunday she attends church. Wednesday mornings she visits a blind friend and Wednesday afternoons she goes to the Salvation Army.

Every Friday she visits the shut-ins at a nursing home in Smithtown, L.I. She does some cooking, and braids rugs from old stockings.

She is a member of the DAR, and still votes in elections.

Elect Ex-Ford Official

DETROIT (UPI) — James O. Wright, a former Ford Motor Co. group vice president, has been elected president of Federal - Mogul - Bower Bearings, Inc.

Sought Entry in Rights Unit

NEW YORK (AP) — The American Civil Liberties Union says that 18 days before President John F. Kennedy was slain by Lee Harvey Oswald, his accused assassin, applied for ACLU membership.

The organization said a clerk came across Oswald's application Tuesday among 351 others. None had been entered on membership lists, the ACLU said.

Sunday, after Oswald was shot to death, the organization said it found no record of Oswald's name on its enrollment lists. Oswald had said he was a member.

The Dogs Work Fine, but Hunter's Real Flop

GATESVILLE, N. C. (UPI) — John Baines, one of Gates County's most experienced and enthusiastic deer hunters, rounded up his dogs and rushed off to the hunting grounds.

Almost immediately the dogs picked up a scent and went to work on the the trail. It was then that Baines discovered he had forgotten to bring along his shotgun.

JACOBY

The time to do your serious thinking about the play of a hand is before you commit yourself to a line of play. Once you get yourself into trouble no amount of cerebration is likely to rescue you.

South won the first trick with the ace of clubs and promptly led three rounds of diamonds. His idea was to get rid of his club loser and if diamonds had gone around three times everything would have been pleasant.

Unfortunately for South's plan East dropped the nine of hearts on the third diamond.

Now South started to think but the boat had sailed. He still discarded his losing club and ruffed East's club return, but he was doomed to defeat.

He led the king of trumps. East rose with the ace and led the jack of diamonds. South ruffed with his last low trump, played his queen of trumps and started on spades.

If spades had gone around twice he would have been able to discard dummy's last club, but West ruffed the second spade and set the hand with a club trick.

How did South go wrong? He didn't stop to think at trick two. If he had done so, South would have led the king of hearts. East would take his ace and play clubs. South would ruff the second club and lay down the queen of hearts.

Then he could play either spades or diamonds. It wouldn't make any difference. West would get his jack of hearts, but that would be all.

Teachers Over Goal in Petitions

LANSING (AP)—The Michigan Education Association's petition drive for mandatory statewide teacher tenure soared far over the top yesterday.

Nearly 310,000 signatures were filed with county clerks around the state, MEA spokesmen said, well in excess of the 250,000 goal set Oct. 5 as the drive began.

Present state laws allow school districts, at their option, to adopt tenure provisions covering dismissal procedures.

★ ★ ★

Fifty-nine school districts employing just under 30 per cent of the teachers in the state, now have such provisions.

OVER MINIMUM

MEA strategists say a minimum of about 221,000 valid signatures is needed to place their tenure proposal before the 1964 legislature.

The MEA proposal would put present tenure provisions into effect across the state regardless of the feelings of individual school districts.

If lawmakers pass the proposal and the governor signs it within 40 session days, no further action is needed.

★ ★ ★

If lawmakers balk—either by ignoring the measure or passing an amended version—the original MEA proposal goes before the voters in November, 1964. The legislature's amended version would also be submitted for a popular vote.

PERMANENT JOB

An MEA spokesman said that under the tenure system, once a teacher passes a probationary period of from two to three years he or she attains a continuing employment status.

The teacher than may be dismissed only if officials prove good and efficient service no longer is being provided, the spokesman said.

Lawyer Heads Adult Aid Unit

A Birmingham attorney, Patrick O'Connor, has been named to head a new countywide Committee on Protective Services for Older Adults.

O'Connor was appointed chairman by Mrs. Harvey B. Greene, chairman of the Oakland Planning Division, United Community Services of Metropolitan Detroit.

The committee will explore the need for increased supportive health and social services for older adults.

★ ★ ★

Other committee members include: Mrs. George P. Coronis, Dr. Mark Hrushka, Mrs. Adelaide B. Layman, Leonard Jagels, Robert J. James and George Williams, all of Pontiac; Mrs. Anyce Gillette, R.N., Rev. William W. Sutterlip, Dr. Luther Leader and Mrs. Robert Watt, all of Birmingham.

Other committee members are John A. Gilray Jr., Bloomfield Township, and Dr. Donald Green, Bloomfield Hills.

Groceries, Cash Taken From City Side Market

An unknown amount of groceries and money were stolen early this morning in a burglary of City Side Market, 1716 Joslyn.

Police discovered the break-in at 3 a.m. A plate glass window was broken to gain entry, police said. Groceries and change from the cash register were the only things stolen.

Red China Hits Japan for 'Giving In to U.S.'

TOKYO (AP)—Communist China has accused Japan of bowing to U.S. pressure in rejecting a Pakistani request to extend Pakistan International Airline's route over Red China to Tokyo, Peking Radio reports.

It said the Japanese rejection "under pressure from the United States runs contrary to public opinion and jeopardizes China-Japan friendship."

Share of Population

Asia has the largest share of the world's people—1.8 billion, or 56 per cent, according to the Population Reference Bureau.

U. of M. Man Admits Thefts

A University of Michigan student from Pontiac has admitted stealing more than $1,000 worth of university-owned property, in addition to $6,290 in cash, according to Ann Arbor Police Detective Sgt. Richard G. Hill.

Galen L. Baril, 22, of 94 S. Francis had earlier admitted taking the cash from the cashiers office at the U. of M. student activities building, police said.

He was awaiting circuit court arraignment Friday on a grand larceny charge stemming from that theft.

★ ★ ★

Yesterday, police said Baril, a psychology major, had also admitted stealing:

- a $600 oriental rug weighing 150 pounds
- a $400 light fixture
- two sets of drapes from a university building
- two large easy chairs taken from a men's lounge.

★ ★ ★

The rug and light fixture were found hidden in an abandoned fraternity house. Police said $5,000 of the stolen cash had been recovered in a bag.

They said Baril had given the bag to a coed for safekeeping.

Dollars Roll In for Tippit Kin

DALLAS (AP)—Thousands of dollars are piling up at Dallas Police Headquarters, most of them earmarked for the family of Patrolman J. D. Tippit, shot down by President John F. Kennedy's alleged assassin.

Although the majority of the money is for the Tippit fund, officers said contributions also are being received for the widow and two children of Lee Harvey Oswald, the accused killer. Oswald was slain by Jack Ruby, owner of a Dallas nightspot.

★ ★ ★

The money and pledges are being counted in an office in City Hall adjacent to that of Police Chief Jesse Curry.

Police Lt. Verne K. Hipsking said the total amount donated probably never will be known because of the many places — and various funds — to which persons are sending money.

YOUNGSTERS

Contributions range from those of two New York City youngsters who sent their monthly allowances of $1 each to the gift of Abraham Zapruder, Dallas clothing manufacturer, who donated the $25,000 he received for film rights to his amateur motion picture of the assassination.

Wanted by Police

Acting Is His Ticket

LONDON (AP)—"I was prepared," said the grandson of the founder of the Boy Scouts, "and I hope everything works out."

Late yesterday 26-year-old Lord Baden-Powell marched into the Nottingham police station to protest a seven-pound ($19.60) parking ticket.

★ ★ ★

"When I started talking," he reported, "Someone said, 'That's it You've got just the voice for the part of the colonel.' "

Taken aback, his lordship asked for an explanation.

"I got one from Constable Robert Allred," Baden-Powell continued. "He asked me, 'Are you free on Tuesday and Wednesdays?' "

Asked for further information, the constable continued:

"You see, sir, the police are putting on a play. It's called 'Sweeney Todd.' We desperately need someone to play the part of the colonel. Are you prepared to take on the part?"

★

Lord Baden-Powell thought for a moment and replied:

"Yes, I'm prepared to take it on."

A police spokesman said the seven-pound fine was under review.

Better Watch Out!

Santa Claus Is Coming to Town

The season's busiest man comes to town tomorrow to officially establish his four-week reign over the imagination of the young and memories of the old.

Santa Claus, red suit and white beard unchanged since we last saw him, will hold forth at downtown department stores and area shopping centers.

Santa will begin regular hours tomorrow morning at downtown stores of Sears, Roebuck & Co., Waite's, and Federal's.

★ ★ ★

A horse-drawn sleigh will bring Santa directly into the Pontiac Mall at 10 a. m. He will present children with candy canes as he enters his igloo in the center of the Mall.

CARTOON PARTY

A 10 a. m. cartoon and film party at Huron Theater will climax with Santa's appearance. Afterwards, youngsters will receive favors as they accompany Santa to nearby Tel-Huron Shopping Center where he will be installed in a special trailer.

★ ★ ★

A helicopter will swoop down at 11:30 a. m. beside the Kroger store at Bloomfield Miracle Mile for Santa's arrival at the center. He will pass out candy and head for his igloo to begin visiting hours.

'Reactionaries'

Fidel Sees Plot

HAVANA (AP)—Fidel Castro charged Wednesday night that "U.S. reactionaries plotted President John F. Kennedy's assassination to implicate Cuba.

Adopting the line previously taken by Soviet and European Communist propagandists, the Cuban prime minister said in a radio speech: "In the eyes of the world it is clear that the reactionaries of the United States wanted to make our country the victim of their criminal designs, even at the price of assassinating the President of the United States."

★ ★ ★

He recalled that Lee Harvey Oswald, accused of being the assassin, had applied in Mexico last September for permission to visit Cuba en route to Russia.

"How strange!" Castro shouted. "Why go to Mexico to request a visa to Russia by way of Cuba? Ideal to make the American people believe the assassin had been an agent of Cuba and the Soviet Union.

WHY ANNOYED?

"Why did he become annoyed when the Cuban consulate denied him the visa? No friend of Cuba does that."

Castro said Oswald seemed to be leaving a trail of clues deliberately.

★ ★ ★

Castro also said the slaying of Oswald while in police custody was part of the same plot.

"Those guilty of Kennedy's death wanted at all costs to eliminate the accused to keep him from talking," he said.

'EXPERT ON GUN'

Castro, describing himself as an expert on the gun allegedly used in the assassination, cast doubt on whether it was the murder weapon.

He said a telescopic sight is used only to shoot 300 yards or more.

★ ★ ★

"It is strange that someone who was going to make an attack from 80 yards from a window would acquire a gun with a telescopic sight," he said.

"It shows that it is not a case of a fanatic. A fanatic using a telescopic sight would be the last in this history. Fanatics have used revolvers, pistols, hand grenades, etc."

★ ★ ★

He also questioned whether an assassin would fire "from the place where he worked, where within five minutes he would be pursued on all sides."

Parole Backed for Escapee

An early release from prison is recommended for the thief who fled a Pontiac trusty camp ten years ago and began life anew in Colorado.

The possibility of an early release on parole for Alonzo Gunsell, has been suggested to the parole board by State Corrections Director Gus Harrison.

"Unusual circumstances in the case warrant leniency," Harrison said.

★ ★ ★

Gunsell appealed to Gov. George Romney for help after he was apprehended this summer by the Federal Bureau of Investigation in Colorado.

ALLOWED RETURN

A Colorado judge allowed him to return to Michigan to seek his freedom from Michigan authorities. He was returned to Southern Michigan State Prison at Jackson.

Cook Plans Dixie Fixin's for 1st Family

WASHINGTON (AP) — What Mrs. Zephyr Wright, the Lyndon Johnsons' cook of 21 years, was planning to go with today's turkey had a flavor of the dishes that people of the South and Southwest prepare for Thanksgiving.

★ ★ ★

The dressing was to be made with corn bread. The dessert planned was ambrosia, a Southern dish of orange sections, pineapple and coconut.

The rest — "I imagine something like dressing with giblet gravy, whipped sweet potatoes, French green beans amandine," said the cook.

"And I usually have cranberry salad. Hot rolls of course."

When reporters asked her what time dinner would be served, she answered, "that's the $64 question."

Strike Threat for Holiday Air Travelers

WASHINGTON (AP)—A strike that could tie up one-fourth of the nation's holiday air passenger traffic is scheduled against United Air Lines a week before Christmas.

There are no more procedures under the law for settling the dispute with the AFL-CIO International Association of Machinists, an airline spokesman said.

★ ★ ★

"They can negotiate," said a union spokesman after the machinists rejected a presidential emergency board's recommendations and set a strike for 12:01 a.m., Dec. 19.

The airline accepted the presidential board's report on the dispute.

PAY INCREASES

The board recommended pay increases of 36 cents an hour over a 43-month period for most United employes and 30 cents for the others. Journeymen mechanics average $3.13 an hour, the airline said. The union is asking a 39-cent increase over three years.

★ ★ ★

United carries about 25 per cent of the nation's air passenger traffic on its 87 jets and 151 propeller craft, the spokesman said.

In Memoriam 2

IN LOVING MEMORY of A DEAR and loving wife, mother, grandmother and great grandmother, Elizabeth T. Beane, who passed away 12 years ago today, Nov. 28, 1951.

Just a token of loves devotion
And our hearts still long for you.
Sadly missed by Husband, Children, Grandchildren, and Great-Grandchildren.

IN LOVING MEMORY OF OUR BELOVED daughter, Janet M. Olsen, who passed away 2 years ago, September 29, 1961.

Deep in our hearts lies a picture
Of our Loved One tried and true;
In memory's frame we shall keep it
Because she was the best.
It's only a grave, but it needs care
For the one we loved is sleeping there.
God gave us strength to bear it
And courage to bear it each day,
But what it means to lose her
None will ever know.
—Sadly missed by Mom, Dad, Sister Joanne and Family.

IN LOVING MEMORY OF ANNE Spencer who passed away November 25, 1954 and Kelley Spencer, who passed away November 27, 1959.

Dear Mom and Dad, you're not forgotten,
Tho' on earth you are no more.
Still in memory of you are with us,
As you always were before.
—Sadly missed by your six Daughters.

YE OLDE WAY — Most families will enjoy a prefrozen, preplucked, scientifically raised turkey on this Thanksgiving. Lest we forget what early Americans went through, this scene is enacted at Plimoth Plantation, Plymouth, Mass. The lady of the house had the pleasure of cleaning and preparing the entire meal. There's something to be thankful for today.

Guardian of the Park Not Asleep on the Job

SARAJEVO, Yugoslavia (AP) — The guardian of the city park in nearby Ilidja awakened a man he found sleeping peacefully on the greens and pointed to a nearby sign that read: "Guests are kindly invited to keep off the grass."

"I'm no guest," the awakened man insisted. "I was born right here in Ilidja."

Dem Chief Defends Record of Congress

WASHINGTON (AP) — Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana said yesterday "No senator need be ashamed" of the legislative record made by the present 88th Congress at the halfway mark — its first year.

In an 11,000-word statement, he gave a detailed account of what the Congress, and particularly the Senate, has accomplished and of his role as majority leader.

Mansfield said he realized that some already have consigned this Senate "to the waste heaps of history" and have found that its leadership "is to be pitied if, indeed, it is not to be scorned."

★ ★ ★

As for criticism that has been directed at him as a leader, he said that he is what he is.

AMBITION'S HEIGHT

"I achieved the height of my political ambitions when I was elected senator from Montana," he said. "When the Senate saw fit to designate me as majority leader, it was the Senate's choice, not mine and what the Senate has bestowed, it is always at liberty to revoke."

"I have tried to treat others as I would like to be treated and almost invariably have been," he said, adding it is for the Senate to decide "whether that characteristic is compatible with the Senate leadership."

Mansfield's statement on the Senate and its leadership was prepared before President John F. Kennedy's assassination last Friday. Mansfield had planned to deliver it in the Senate on Monday.

★ ★ ★

But today he just placed it in the Congressional Record after brief introductory remarks.

'NO HEART'

"In the light of what has happened," he told his colleagues, "I have no heart to read this report to the Senate."

Because of last week's tragedy, he said, it now has become "a final report on the Senate and its leadership during the presidency of John Fitzgerald Kennedy and an indication of what remains to be done under the administration of President Johnson."

Mansfield said he would be the first to recognize there are inadequacies in the record, but he added that in his judgment the most serious are not the status of the civil rights bill and the tax bill—both still in committee.

★ ★ ★

"The most serious, in my judgment, have to do with the day-to-day financial housekeeping of the government," he said.

AS A RITUAL

"We have got to face the fact that if we are going to have an orderly fiscal administration of this government," he said, "we cannot long continue with the practice of raising every few months, as a ritual, the legal debt ceiling.

"Nor can we expect a rational administration of the vast and far-flung activities of the executive branch of this government if the basic appropriations bills do not become law until months after the fiscal year begins."

★ ★ ★

So far, Congress has passed only four of the 12 regular appropriations bills for the current fiscal year that began last July 1.

World's Fair Freeloading Evokes His Fond Memories

NEW YORK—The New York World's Fair of '64 . . . well, here we go again!

Hardly a man is now alive . . . hardly a newspaperman, anyway . . . who remembers Grover Whalen's 1939 New York World's Fair as vividly as I do.

WILSON

"Freeloading" was born out there at Flushing Meadows . . . and by the second year, when they were calling it "the Forty Fair," some of us were experts.

You take a bunch of leg-strong young reporters who've been beer-drinkers, and you send them every lunch time over to Perylon Hall to some function saluting a dignitary from a foreign country. Waiters are passing around everything from martinis to champagne; that's at the striped-pants reception preceding the luncheon. You then sit down to a luncheon with three kinds of wine. You're lucky if you're able to phone the city desk after to tell them there's nothing going on and can you have a Good Night.

What a gang of reportorial talent there was covering that fair!

★ ★ ★

Three of the guys holed up in the little offices we had in the Press Building later won Pulitzer Prizes: the late Meyer Berger, Malcolm Johnson of "Waterfont" fame and Frederick Woltman, my confreres and competitors in those joyous years.

Mike Todd got famous at that Fair; Elizabeth Taylor was then a little girl of 7.

"I'm putting together a place called 'Gay New Orleans,'" Mike told me a year before the Fair opened. "I'm gonna have a place called Beale Street."

"Beale Street," I mentioned to Mike, "is not in New Orleans. It's in Memphis."

"Yuh see!" crowed Mike, waving his huge cigar. "I never been to New Orleans. But I know what the public thinks they got in New Orleans."

★ ★ ★

So crowded was his restaurant that Monsieur Soule understandably liked America. He remained here with the Fair closed to found Le Pavilon, one of America's greatest restaurants . . . where, in later years, Joe DiMaggio courted Marilyn Monroe.

But it wasn't all laughs.

I remember on Sept. 1, 1939, toward the end of that first year of the Fair, all of us running to the telegraph printers in the Press Building, which seemed to be going crazy with bells ringing, announcing flashes and bulletins.

Hitler was invading Poland.

★ ★ ★

WISH I'D SAID THAT: Discussing Doberman Pinschers, Woody Allen said: "They're the kind of dogs that chase automobiles—and bring them back."

EARL'S PEARLS: Pamela Tiffin has the last elephant joke. "Why do elephants drink? . . . To forget."

A sign in an expensive New York antique shop, reported by Sy Kogan: "If you don't see what you want—be grateful." . . . That's earl, brother.

Youth Sentenced: Sweep the Street

ALBUQUERQUE (AP) — A 22-year-old youth spent 45 minutes recently sweeping the sidewalk and gutter on both sides of Copper Street NW, between Fourth and Fifth, rather than spend 10 days in jail for breaking beer bottles in the area.

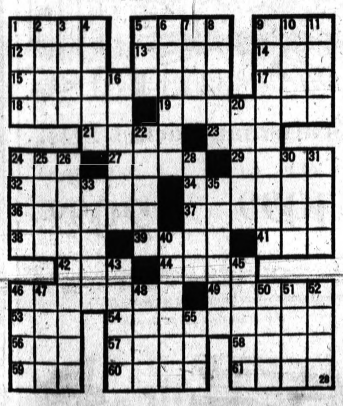

The young man, charged with violation of the antiliter ordinance, was given his choice of sweeping a sidewalk or spending a few days in jail, by Municipal Judge James A. Maloney.

He chose to sweep and the city provided him a broom.

Ohio U. Has Alumni Week

ATHENS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio University is developing a unique adult education program called "Alumni College."

It's a week-long series of courses in contemporary art and literature, interior decorating, personal finance and communications.

★ ★ ★

The first was conducted during the past summer and attracted persons who had graduated 20 or more years ago.

Tentative plans call for two Alumni College weeks in 1964, one in each of the five-week summer school sessions.

Dow Chemical to Build Plant in Latin America

MIDLAND (AP) — The Dow Chemical Co. will build a plastic production plant in Cartagena, Colombia, Macauley Whiting, president of Dow Chemical International S. A. has announced.

The Styron Polystyrene plant will be the first of its kind in the Latin American country. Construction will start within 90 days on a 50-acre site, Whiting said. The plant represents an investment of nearly $3 million, he added.

Many Japanese industrial firms retire employes with a pension at the age of 55.

Kennedy's Funeral Reported in China

TOKYO (AP) — Communist China's official new China News Agency for the first time reported without comment yesterday the funeral services of President John F. Kennedy.

In a broadcast monitored here, the agency said briefly that the services were attended by world dignitaries.

It added that President Johnson conferred with President Charles de Gaulle of France and other world leaders after the funeral.

Respect for Legislature

President Johnson promised yesterday to always respect "the independence and integrity of the legislative branch"—something he said is "deep in the marrow of my bones" after 32 years on Capitol Hill as House member, senator and vice president.

Ladies' Lunch Is Harrowing

By HOWARD HELDENBRAND

When future historians picture the phenomena of our times, one classic institution that will be depicted is the ladies' Dutch treat luncheon.

Heldenbrand

But these chroniclers will be as mystified by the purpose of these repasts as are today's spectators. Apparently, as a raison d'etre, eating is far down the list.

Usually the luncheons precede or follow attendance at some doings. The main item on the agenda is preview or review of the business that has taken the ladies from hearth and home.

Getting a food order from a table of distaff diners is an occupational hazard with which waiters have contended since the first one spilled coffee into a saucer.

MUST TRAP THEM

The difficulty lies, you see, in trapping the girls simultaneously at the table. For a prolonged period of time, there won't be an eating quorum in position because of:

* * *

- Revolving traffic to powder room.
- Telephone calls home to check on assorted domestic crises.
- Departure to chat with friends sighted at nearby tables.
- Tardiness of one or more never known to be on time.

But eventually, and by coincidence, the group is all present and accounted for — and ready to order.

Discussion then ensues to determine tentative choices of all other members of group before each individual makes final selection.

Nothing short of a computer could record the orders with any chance of a passing grade —but waiters have so far held out against automation. It would be a gustatory miracle if the orders were not well scrambled—and miracles are not on the day's menu.

* * *

But if chaos has marked the ordering, it is nothing compared to the turmoil that sets in as payment of the check is undertaken.

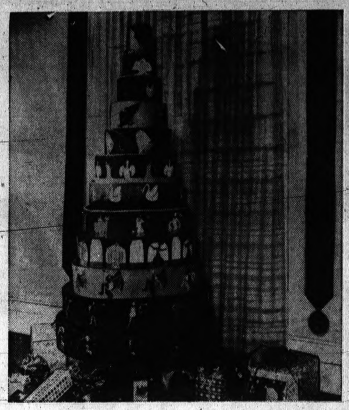

DISCRETELY ABSENT

From long experience, the waiter discreetly disappears while each diner picks out her items from the hieroglyphics on the check — then wrestles with the arithmetic involved in adding sales tax and tip.

Having finally and exhaustingly arrived at a rough estimate of what each owes, there follows the shattering necessity of making change all around and, at the same time, keeping the correct total in balance.

* * *

But for scholars, present and future, to look for meaningful social implications in these female luncheons would be only time killing — like what the girls are doing.

THE 12 DAYS — This "tree" of round boxes covered with felt represents the old carol "A Partridge in a Pear Tree." Each tier contains figures symbolizing the gift "my true love gave to me" on each of the 12 days of Christmas.

Grandparents Escape Woe

Christmas Could Tire Old Folks, but . . .

The obvious joys of having numerous grandchildren around during the holidays are shared by all grandparents everywhere.

But there are stresses and strains, too, when children and grandchildren pour in.

Two Atlanta grandmothers who count 41 grandchildren between them, have found a delightful solution to the deluge of kiddies—at Christmastime they take off on a winter cruise.

* * *

They preferred anonymity. "I wouldn't hurt my children's feelings for anything," said one.

Whose idea was the Christmas cruise? It was one of the grandfathers.

WEAR DOWN

"We're proud to death of all our grandchildren. We'd give them anything they wanted," one said. "But we just can't take all the excitement of the holidays. They wear us down.

"So, when the cruise was suggested, we snapped it up. The four of us have been taking them for several years now.

"No, our children don't mind. They understand. And we see our grandchildren often during the year."

* * *

Another grandmother, who has 21 grandchildren, says, "You just have to lay down certain rules.

TOO OLD

"For example, now that we've moved out of the big house into an apartment, my husband has a rule that we can't have the grandchildren in the apartment at Christmas. Sheer numbers rule this out.

"The children are all most attractive and we adore them. But we're too old to cope with them. We simply visit their homes, and when we're tired, we leave."

Another grandmother said she solves the problem of a house overflowing at Christmas with children by moving out to a hotel and letting them have the house.

* * *

"I visit them on Christmas Day, then go back to a quiet room," she said, with a chuckle.

LOOK FORWARD

But, Mrs. S. Lewis, whose nine grandchildren range from 4 months to 12 years, says, "It wouldn't be Christmas without them. We look forward to it.

* * *

"They usually stay about three weeks. The first week you wonder how you'll survive; the second, you get used to the hullaballoo, and the third, you relax and enjoy them."

Snow Thrower a Gift for That Aching Back

Snow shoveling can be tough. Give both your husband and son a break. Make their Christmas gift a snow thrower.

* * *

A self-propelled model with winterized engine comes with 24-, 30-, and 36-inch augers, depending upon the snow removal problem.

Hair Dryers Just for Dolly

For the young hair stylist, a miniature beige and dark red hair dryer is available this Christmas.

The unit closes into a beautifully styled case when not in use.

All the accessories necessary to keep a doll's hair well groomed are supplied, including a comb, brush, mirror, bottle of hair set, four curlers and a plastic bonnet.

Get Furniture Out of Leather

Natural Product Does Much for Your Home

After he makes his rounds on Christmas Eve, Santa is happy to take his ease at home. Logically enough, a favorite Christmas gift for Santa's family — and yours — is leather furniture which makes an evening at home an occasion.

Leather beautifies the home, is easy to care for, and lasts for many years — more treasured the longer you live with it.

A natural product whose beauty is enhanced by modern or traditional design, leather in chairs, sofas, tables, lamps and headboards combines old-fashioned elegance with up-to-the-minute practicality.

LOOK HANDSOME

For example, dining room chairs look handsome to Dad, accentuate a pleasing decor to Mom, and the kids don't have to be reprimanded for food stains that wipe away with a damp cloth.

* * *

Interior decorators frequently use occasional chairs in leather to counter-balance the main color theme of a room. Rich orange hues, deep reds, or vibrant greens are a few of the available color hues in new leathers.

So supple it drapes over any shape, modern upholstery leather has sufficient "body" to give firm support to a tiny housewife or a husky householder.

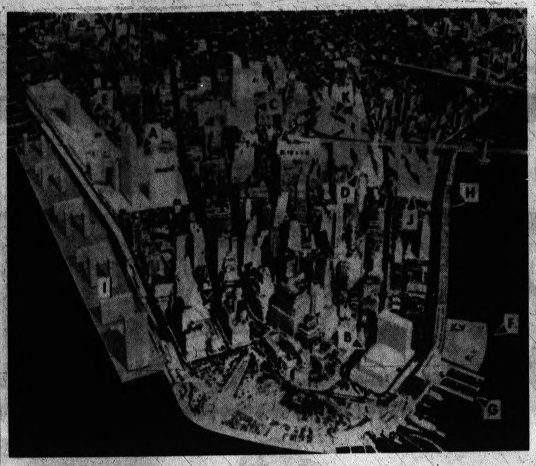

The big comfortable leather chair dad likes in his den still doubles as an ideal place for mom to relax from daily chores.

LOUNGE IN IT

And the kids can lounge in it over a favorite book without fear of a reprimand when restless feet go acrobatic. No matter how many contortions youngsters get into in these big chairs the leather won't soil, sag or scratch.

* * *

Leather headboards are favored by everyone in the family. There are gentle pastel quilted leather headboards to give a bedroom a softly feminine look. New bone and off-white or beige tufted headboards have a luxury look with a practical personality, for they resist soil and clean easily.

Husband Should Prepare for a Battle of the Antiques

By LOUIS MILLINER
Written for Hal Boyle

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP)—Antique shopping is one of the hazards a husband must expect when he takes his wife to a convention in New Orleans.

Antique stores are not on the sightseeing tours but any woman can find them.

Set a woman down in an uncharted wilderness and in a few minutes she can be found pricing spinning wheels at Ye Olde Shoppe in some hamlet. Place her blindfolded in New York City and soon she will be at a 3rd Avenue antique shop.

By the time the husband has found the convention headquarters here and has an identification label pinned to his coat lapel, his wife already has window - shopped half a dozen stores and earmarked items for further consideration.

While the delegate is being exhorted by the convention speakers to put his shoulder to the wheel or help put his house in order, the wife is rummaging through silver inkwells, brass firescreens and marble-topped tables.

RULES OF GAMES

Among some groups, antique buying is a game with a definite set of rules.

If you play the game, rule No. 1 is not to announce your intention upon entering the store. Go in casually. You are "just looking, thank you."

The next move is to price one or more items, depending upon how much time is left. Then start to leave. Now is the time to start to work.

"Oh, by the way, how much are those old pewter candlesticks?"

The dealers, relieved to learn the actual object of affection, quotes a price. There may be discussion, offers, counter-offers before the ultimate sale.

But the shopper now not only has pewter candlesticks but an accompanying story, which undoubtedly will be embellished, to relate when she returns home.

A bit of advice—be on guard. A shopper once entered a store with the intention of working up to a quotation on a large mirror in a gilded frame.

Observing rule No. 1, she asked the price of the first object in sight, an enormous bookcase. Then, stunned by an unexpectedly low price, she forgot her battle plans and bought the bookcase.

Ghost Airport 'Still Alive'

CHICAGO (AP) — The noisy starts and warmup roaring of huge four-engined planes no longer is heard at Midway Airport.

Gone, too, is the once-familiar picture of big airlines planes hovering over the airport waiting their turn to land.

Waiting rooms are empty and the restaurants are shuttered.

But there still is some life in the ghost port.

* * *

Small private aircraft buzz on and off the huge runways in greater numbers each month.

'STILL ALIVE'

"We're still alive," says airport manager, Michael Barry.

Barry has worked at the 640-acre airport on Chicago's Southwest Side for 24 years, the last nine as manager. Despite decreased operations, he bosses a staff of 50 persons.

"What's so noticeable here since scheduled airlines have gone is that you don't see as many people around as before," Barry said. "I still think, though, we are going to revive Midway with scheduled operations."

Midway, a $100-million installation, is dormant because the large, scheduled airlines moved their operations to O'Hare International Airport on Chicago's far Northwest Side. The move was made in late 1961 and early 1962.

* * *

Midway's runways were constructed and later extended for planes requiring no more than one mile for take-off or landing area. O'Hare's huge landing strips were built to accommodate four-engine jets, many of which need greater length.

BEGINNING OF DECLINE

Midway began its decline when 15 major airlines, almost in a body, had completed their move by early 1962 to O'Hare. The lines accounted for some 3,300 daily take-offs and landings at Midway Airport.

Within five months, operations at Midway dropped to an average of 236 take-offs and landings daily, all by industrial aircraft, nonscheduled flights and by privately owned planes.

However, in July 1963 take-offs and landings began to rise and averaged 350 a day for the month. In October, these operations averaged around 500 a day.

* * *

A helicopter service now is the only regularly scheduled operation at Midway. It makes 36 landings and take-offs daily. When Midway was the city's major 'port, the service made nearly 100 take-offs and landings a day.

CONTINUE BY CAR

Most helicopter passengers rent a car at the airport and continue trips by highway. Barbara Zorbanos, a car rental agent, says five cars now are rented a day. Four years ago five cars were rented in 30 minutes every day.

Goldwater Cause Severely Hurt by Johnson Strength in South

EDITOR'S NOTE—NEA's roving political correspondent Bruce Biossat here reports the results of a broad survey of political sources concerning the effects of President Kennedy's death upon the 1964 election campaigns of both parties. Biossat writes from the viewpoint of a reporter who has traveled from his home base in Washington to most of the states during his political swings of recent years.

By BRUCE BIOSSAT
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

WASHINGTON (NEA)—President Lyndon B. Johnson is the almost certain Democratic standard bearer for 1964, but his likely presence on the ticket may dampen chances that front-running Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona will be the Republican choice.

The new President will have going for him all the advantages accruing to an incumbent, plus perhaps additional factors.

Working against Goldwater is the fact that his entire strategy is based on a near sweep of the south. With the assassination of John F. Kennedy that strategy has lost its prime stimulus. The great target of segregationist southerners is gone.

* * *

Here are the evident prospects for Johnson at this moment:

To do otherwise than nominate him as the incumbent would be for the Democrats to accept serious rebuke of their White House stewardship.

Few think this likely even though Johnson admittedly is far less suitable than Kennedy was to the northern liberal-big city-labor taste.

SEVERE CHARGES

Yet for the liberals to suggest dumping Johnson would open them to severe charges of party irregularity. A better bet is that they will try to influence him through party platform and other pressures.

Moreover, Johnson himself, presumably with 1968 in mind, had been steadily trying to alter his earlier southern-western image and build a new one as a more broadly national figure.

When he was making ready for his 1963 trip to Scandinavia, an aide privately told a Washington observer:

* * *

"Better come along, or you'll miss the boat for 1968."

PLAIN INFERENCE

The inference was plain that Johnson's foreign forays as vice president were viewed by him as part of the new image-building process.

In the next 11 months Johnson will also enjoy something of a "honeymoon" period such as all new incumbents generally are accorded.

If his performance in this span is even moderately good, it could strengthen him not only within his party but also in the nation.

* * *

One Washington veteran makes another point. Kennedy is the first president to be assassinated close to an election year.

SYMPATHY VOTE

To the extent he might become a martyr in some voters' eyes, a strong sympathy vote conceivably could benefit Johnson.

A Southern Republican was skeptical. While acknowledging the chance of a "sympathy" wave, he questioned whether it would transfer to Johnson or anybody else.

Finally, Johnson as Senate majority leader was a master maneuverer in the U.S. Senate, with strong connections in the House.

* * *

It is assumed he will try hard, by methods sharply different from the late John Kennedy's to push important bills to passage in the months ahead.

REAL RUB

But the real rub is what he will do on civil rights. A southerner widely known for his careful judgments thinks this is where Johnson will truly be measured.

"If he goes for Kennedy's civil rights bill with its public accommodations feature, he will alienate the south even more than he has already," this man says.

Johnson as vice president supported the Kennedy bill, and has taken other civil rights positions disapproved by southerners.

* * *

Yet in the south, the southern source added, Johnson as a Texan — thought of also as more conservative than his predecessor — might still have some edge over Kennedy as a nominee.

NOT THE MAN

Even at best, it is widely agreed, Johnson would not be the man to beat what Kennedy was. Says one politician: "There just wasn't anybody tougher than Kennedy."

This was an acknowledgment of the late president's admitted "star quality" which made many voters favor him on the basis of personality alone.

Johnson's plain - spoken, drawling, "old shoe," style is not figured to have such impact.

* * *

On this basis and his expected less effective northern appeal, politicians generally are upgrading Republican presidential chanecs for 1964.

NO ADVANTAGE

But it is felt that, barring too sweeping a Johnson commitment on public accommodations in civil rights, the Goldwater candidacy is not advantaged.

Supporters of the senator here and in the South concede this.

Recent sampling among southern Republican leaders showed they had little taste for another try by the 1960 GOP nominee Richard M. Nixon, now a New Yorker.

But even he is being upgraded in some minds. Still one southern man registered this reservation:

MAYBE NIXON?

To the extent there is in 1964 a strong "Kennedy" sympathy vote for Democrats, Nixon might only sharpen it. "Every time the voters look at him, they may think of Kennedy."

Alternatives to Nixon as a moderate choice are no clearer than before, though a feeling exists that the changed picture may embolden northern big-state GOP leaders who do not want Goldwater.

In St. Louis, almost at the time of the tragedy in Dallas, Michigan's Gov. George Romney took issue with Goldwater's outlook on civil rights, "right to work" laws and other matters.

* * *

Almost nobody thinks New York Gov. Nelson Rockefeller, avowed candidate tagged as the most liberal and handicapped by divorce and remarriage, is better off now. One Washington man was an exception: "Nothing is out of the window right now."

BETTER PROSPECTS

This same source disagrees with the majority which figures GOP prospects automatically bettered by the turn of events. Says he: "I don't know if the Republican nomination has become more valuable.

"With all the factors accruing to a new incumbent, I think that's debatable."

Even Kennedy was given a chance by many observers to bite into the South next year and take perhaps Georgia, Texas, North Carolina and Louisiana.

* * *

With Johnson as nominee, it is considered possible that South Carolina, Tennessee and maybe one or two other southern states might also go Democratic.

LITTLE LEFT

This would leave very little for Goldwater beyond Florida and Virginia, which have gone Republican in presidential tests ever since 1952.

Totally unanswered at this stage is what 1968 may bring. Here Attorney General Robert F. Kennedy, the late President's politically sharp brother, must be considered.

Nothing is known today of his intentions, nor have his prospects been soberly appraised.

But strong feeling exists among politicians that he may soon go down the road toward high elective office.

* * *

It is accepted he could be a powerful attraction as the young inheritor of all that John F. Kennedy stood for.

WEIGHT OF WORLD — President Lyndon B. Johnson, his car windows spattered with rain and his face wearing the anxieties of the preceding tragic hours, leaves his home in Washington the day following President John F. Kennedy's assassination to begin his first full day of duties as Chief Executive of the nation.

Chess Club at OU Sets Tournament

A chess tournament for high school students will be held this weekend at Oakland University.

Sponsored by the OU Chess Club, the two-day tourney will include teams from Oakland, Macomb and Wayne counties.

"The purpose is to create interest in competition among high school teams," said Chess Club President Rody Yezman.

Competition will begin at 8:30 a.m. Saturday.

FELINES — Walter Chandoha's photographic speciality for the past dozen years has been cats and kittens. From his collection of 50,000 pictures, a selection of 240 of his favorites have been gathered for a feline fanciers book.

Fine Photo Album Is Devoted to Cats

By IRVING DESFOR
AP Newsfeatures

Cat lovers have a treat in store . . . a book of their favorite subject with hundreds of superb photos by the country's best-known cat photographer.

It's "Walter Chandoha's Book of Kittens and Cats" (Citadel Press, N.Y., $8.50), a selection of his favorite pictures from 50,000 taken in the last 12 years.

Not everybody appreciates cats or understands the devotion of feline fanciers. Like the fellow in the train alongside Chandoha as they discussed odd occupations.

* * *

"I heard of a chap who makes a living raising earthworms in his cellar," ventured Chandoha. "He sells the worms to fishermen and organic gardeners."

PICTURES, TOO

"That is not peculiar," his neighbor shot back. "Take this fellow in Annandale, N.J., who does nothing but take pictures of cats and dogs all day long. Dogs I can understand — but who in his right mind would want a picture of a cat!"

* * *

Chandoha has discovered it's a full-time job all right to supply the right kind of cat photographs to magazines, advertising agencies, book and calendar publishers and to all cat-ophiles — cat lovers all.

But if you want to provde a bit of competition or wish to take your own cat pictures, Chandoha adds some helpful hints for other photographers.

* * *

You need four things: 1) a reflex camera; 2) flash — either bulbs or strobe; 3) an assistant; 4) lots of patience.

PATIENCE FIRST

You can use substitutes for the first three items but you can't replace infinite patience.

If you have a camera other then a reflex, you can still get good pictures. Instead of flash, you can shoot with available light or use reflector floods.

If there is no one around to assist, you can work by yourself. But patience is the key, the secret ingredient, for good animal photographs.

* * *

A twin-lens reflex camera is recommended because you can follow the antics of a pet on the ground glass and know what you are shooting.

FAST ACTION

You can focus it quickly, shoot, turn to the next picture and shoot again to make a series, when the action is right.

A fast shutter speed of 1-250 or 1-500th of a second is advisable to stop a moving head or an upraised paw. To get the entire zone of action sharp, the lens should be set at f-16 or f-22.

This makes it imperative that flash be used to get enough light for the combination of fast shutter speed and small lens opening.

* * *

However, since you'll be working at very close distances — around three feet — the smallest flashbulbs may be used or one of the new small speedlights.

QUIET CORNER

Use any quiet corner of your home for your shooting, making sure that the background is simple and nondistracting visually.

If the subject can be confined to a small area, such as on a table or bench, it will be easier to keep in focus.

To evoke expressions, the photographer can use a battery of sounds or noises. Bark, whistle, sing or groan, crinkle cellophane, snap your fingers or bets a tattoo — anything to arouse the curiosity inherent in all cats.

* * *

As soon as a certain sound gets a reaction from the subject, even if he looks suspiciously out of the corner of his eye—shoot! And keep on shooting.

BETTER PICTURE

In pet photography, the slightest difference in expression or body action may make the picture you're after.

"But good expression or bad," Chandoha sums up, "none of your subjects will ever complain that the pictures aren't flattering.

* * *

"You'll hit 100 per cent satisfaction — something you'll never get with pictures of people!"

Rebuilding Job Begins for Italy's 'Town of Tragedy'

BACKGROUND OF THE NEWS — AP SPECIAL REPORT

LONGARONE, Italy (AP) — Six weeks ago a wall of water slammed down upon this North Italian town and almost erased it from the map, along with a half-dozen nearby villages.

One side of towering Mt. Toc collapsed into the huge reservoir behind the 873-foot Vaiont Dam. Millions of cubic yards of rock and dirt filled a third of the man-made lake and sent a 150-foot wave over the dam onto sleeping village below.

Nearly 3,000 persons perished. Railway cars and buildings with thick stone walls were swept away.

Bulldozers and giant cranes have started rebuilding Longarone. The first prefabricated homes have been put up at neighboring Codissago.

★ ★ ★

The few hundred survivors of the 4,636 people of Longarone and neighboring villages are helping rebuild. But even their dogged determination leaves unanswered the question:

Who will live in 500 new residences?

HOMES UNNEEDED

One civic official of the few who survived comments bitterly: "The dead need no homes."

Or will the homeless from other towns partly destroyed in the disaster, or evacuated because of still-present danger, risk coming here to start anew?

The dam still stands. The collapsed mountainside fills the reservoir from side to side. Behind that, the flow of rivers swollen by rain is raising the water level of a backed-up lake eight inches a day.

★ ★ ★

Officials see no danger, but survivors walk in fear conquered only by attachment to the land.

TIES WERE CLOSE

Here lived a people closely bound to their homes. Hundreds of residents had emigrated to the United States and other countries. Many, after putting aside savings, came back to their home town to die. Most died here the night of Oct. 9.

Bodies still are being found. A few days ago two young men and two girls were found dead in the sands of the Piave River. They had been eating at the Longarone Hotel when the flood struck.

One still had a knife and fork clutched in his hands.

★ ★ ★

In all, more than 1,550 bodies have been recovered. Soldiers and firemen expect to find 100 to 200 more. Hundreds never will be recovered. Some were washed as far as the river mouth on the Adriatic, almost 100 miles away.

In a makeshift schoolroom in Longarone town hall, one of the few buildings left standing on a slope above the rest of the town, 40 children have gone back to studies. They lost 180 schoolmates, along with 12 of 16 teachers and the town's parish priest.

Aid had poured in from the government and from organizations and individuals all over the world. Some survivors get more money now than the incomes they had before the disaster.

The Italian government is paying each head of a surviving family $2 a day, plus 70 cents for each member of the family. Few families have many surviving members, however.

Each head of family also gets an allowance to cover rent and heat so he may house his family in some other town through the winter.

LOOK TO FUTURE

Mario Laveder, town secretary, says state and private donations mean "We have enough money to look to the future."

Surviving town councilors decided to distribute the money according to need. A surviving father who lost his children gets no cash aid.

"To try to pay for the deaths would only offend the survivors," the town council agreed.

Children left without their father or without their mother are to get enough aid "so that they will have no financial problems until they are grown."

One problem is a deep fear of other dams in the area.

NONE TO BUILD

"Until these are neutralized not a single resident will rebuild a single house in the whole Piave Valley," the Longarone town council has declared.

It referred to nearby hydroelectric power dams at Pontesel and Scottoscatello. If the state takes these dams out of operation, the area will lack nearby sources of electric power.

The Vaiont dam is not likely to be used again. The landslide choking its reservoir makes it almost useless.

On the far side of the mass of mud and rock that plugged the reservoir, there still is danger. One shoulder of weakened Mt. Toc hangs over the dammed-up waters.

NEW PERIL

A massive new landslide would pose no danger to Longarone and the ruined villages below the dam, but would peril the towns of Erto and Casso.

These towns along the reservoir bank were hit by the giant wave which the Oct. 9 landslide splashed hundreds of feet up the mountainside.

That swept away 160 of their people. Authorities ordered evacuation of 1,677 survivors who may never be allowed to come back. Emilio Mellaro, a state official sent to Erto, showed why.

He took the correspondent to the edge of the huge lake steadily deepening at the far end of the clogged reservoir.

To the right was deserted Erto — its new school, its stone homes, its villas inhabited only by pigeons and a few cats.

RAW WOUND

Across the lake was the raw wound of the October landslide, and a huge shoulder of Mt. Toc still towering above the waters. From time to time the rumble of shifting earth and falling rock could be heard.

The road linking Erto and Casso with the outside world was washed away, and there are no plans to rebuild it.

Most of the evacuees were taken to Cimolais, eight miles up the reservoir valley from Erto. Cimolais could be endangered if the lake above the rockslide continues to back up the valley.

Engineers are planning to cut a channel to stop the backup of water.

CAN'T HANDLE

Even Cimolais is not regarded as a community which can permanently house and employ the evacuees from Casso and Erto. Hundreds of families forced to abandon homes along the reservoir bank may make up the new population of Longarone.

That is, if their fears can be overcome; if they can be persuaded that they would be safe in the town of tragedy.

For Do-It-Yourselfer

Handymen Always Need Tools

One gift that is sure to score with a home handyman or craftsman, is a new tool.

No matter how many tools he now has, there's always room and need (to his mind) for one more! As witness the fact that it is virtually impossible for him to pass a display of tools in a hardware store window without stopping to give it a long and longing look.

Certainly if you have a confirmed do-it-yourselfer on your Christmas list, you can't do better than to nose out his special needs and wants, toolwise, and take these as your gifting cues.

★ ★ ★

A tool gift can be geared to budgets of all sizes.

TAP BANK

Junior can tap his piggy bank to buy Dad a new hammer, saw, plane or set of screwdrivers.

Or, the whole family can get together on a complete set of hand tools in its own metal carrying case, or a major power tool.

If your handyman seems to be pretty well fixed for hand tools, he's probably just about ready to step into the power tool class.

★ ★ ★

Your gift of a power tool will make his home repair jobs easier and quicker to do and enable him to take on projects which are beyond the scope of his present equipment.

FIRST TOOL

For the man just entering the power-tool class, the electric drill is usually the most wanted first tool. This comes with a kit of attachments to adapt it to a host of useful jobs about the house.

For outdoor jobs, where there is no house current available, there are now cordless drills, which are powered by rechargeable battery packs.

After the electric drill, the next most wanted power tool is usually either a sander or sabre saw, depending on the type of project the handyman would like to tackle.

★ ★ ★

Another useful tool is the portable router, essential for such advanced projects as fine cabinetmaking and furniture building.

FOR THE HOME — Home handymen will enjoy getting a power block plane for Christmas. They have many uses in repair and hobby work.

A Present Only You Can Give

One Christmas gift you can be sure won't be duplicated is a portrait photograph. If you're planning to have one taken, now is the time to make an appointment.

Eastman Kodak suggests these ways to be more photogenic:

FOR MEN: Dark gray or medium blue suits photograph better than black and navy blue ones.

A man should wear a conservative tie, shave no more than two hours before the faces the camera, and he should forget the face powder, as it makes the face look chalky in a photograph.

BETWEEN HAIRCUTS

He should be about midway between haircuts and wear his glasses if that is how people recognize him.

★ ★ ★

FOR WOMEN: Cocktail-type dresses usually have flattering necklines and are perfect for photographs.

★ ★ ★

Steer clear of stripes, plaids and bold prints that will detract from the focal point: your face.

Johnson Brings Wealth of Experience to Presidency

(EDITOR'S NOTE: To one of the most demanding offices on earth, President Johnson brings a wealth of experience in vital areas of U.S. interest. How he stands on major domestic and foreign issues is described in the last in a series of three articles by Relman Morin, an Associated Press Pulitzer-Prize winner.)

By RELMAN MORIN

WASHINGTON (AP) — The towering domestic problem in the United States today, and a tricky political issue in the battle for the presidency next year, is the question of full equality for the Negro.

President Johnson is a Southerner.

★ ★ ★

But speaking on the Gettysburg battlefield last Memorial Day, Johnson said: "Until justice is blind to color, until education is unaware of race, until opportunity is unconcerned with the color of men's skins, emancipation will be a proclamation but not a fact.

"The Negro today asks justice.

NO ANSWER

"We do not answer him—we do not answer those who lie beneath this soil—when we reply to the Negro by asking 'patience'."

The U.S. ambassador to Finland, Carl T. Rowan, is a Negro. At a dinner in Helsinki last September, Johnson called him "one of our most outstanding young Americans."

★ ★ ★

He went on to say: "Today, Americans who are a racial minority—those of Negro ancestry—are petitioning in our land for greater fulfillment of the promises of our democratic system. Their petition is being heard and heeded."

Johnson helped guide civil rights legislation through the Senate in 1957 and 1960.

COSTLY POSITION

As a political realist, he knows his position on civil rights can cost him votes in the likely event that he is the Democratic nominee in 1964. In Texas, only a few hours before President John F. Kennedy was assassinated, Johnson said, "The civil rights issue is going to hurt us."

★ ★ ★

It may be a factor in parts of the North too. Some Northern politicians call civil rights an "iceberg issue"—meaning there is more hidden than visible opposition to Kennedy administration proposals in this field.

Where does Johnson stand on other issues?

He has described himself as both a liberal and a conservative.

Political labels are slippery. However, over the years, he has spoken out on virtually every major foreign and domestic issue. His votes are on the record.

Here are some of his statements.

Cuba — "We shall not be content until the last of Soviet forces are withdrawn from foreign soil. The members of the Organization of American States are mutually determined that the Cuban people shall have the opportunity to choose their own government freely and without oppression."

Foreign aid—"No nation can long enjoy affluence when all the other nations are impoverished."

Defense—"We cannot be done with our dangers or even our duties by next weekend or next year. We are in for a long pull and it is our duty to begin pulling."

Communist China—"America stands firm with her Chinese (Nationalist) allies and we shall continue to do so until freedom is secured."

Disarmament—"We now face the prospect of destroying ourselves. I am calling for an open curtain for full discussion of the immediate, urgent problems facing our people. We should insist on the right to state our case on disarmament in detail to the Soviet people."

★ ★ ★

He said this in 1957, before the agreement to ban nuclear testing.

Latin America—"We must revitalize our diplomatic corps with ambassadors who know and understand our neighbors and their language and have qualifications other than contributing to campaign chests.

"We must offer to the people of Latin America the very best technical know-how which will help them to develop their skills and to make and sell their own products."

VOTING RECORD

Johnson's voting record shows:

Labor—In 1947, he voted to override President Harry Truman's veto of the Taft-Hartley Labor Relations Act. In 1953, he voted to request the President to invoke the injunction provisions of the Taft-Hartley Act in the steel strike. In other votes, he opposed requiring unions to elect their officers by secret ballot every four years and requiring a majority vote, by secret ballot, before a union could call a strike.

★ ★ ★

Education—In 1949, he voted for a $300-million federal aid to education bill and against an amendment to restrict aid to public schools. In 1960, he voted to provide $917 million a year for two years for school construction and teachers' salaries.

Agriculture—He voted for the Democratic program of high, rigid farm price supports. During President Dwight D. Eisenhower's administration, Johnson voted against the sliding scale urged by the then secretary of agriculture, Ezra Taft Benson.

Taxes—In 1948, Johnson voted against the tax reduction bill passed in the Republican-controlled Congress over President Truman's veto. He had supported a move to send the bill back to committee with instructions to raise personal exemptions to $700 and increase corporate taxes. In 1951, he voted against a tax bill amendment to provide for a withholding tax on dividends.

Welfare — He voted for area redevelopment legislation, disability benefits under Social Security, extending Social Security coverage, increased grants for public assistance, establishing a Youth Conservation Corps, larger appropriations for federally sponsored medical research, slum clearance and low-rent housing legislation.

As vice president, Johnson visited 33 countries and traveled more than 118,000 miles on various missions abroad.

One of these took him to West Berlin where, in a reference to the Berlin wall, he said in a speech: "Lift your eyes from these barriers and ask yourselves: who can really believe that history will deny Germany and yourselves their natural unity?"

'WE'RE WINNING'

In a 1961 speech in Wichita Falls, Tex., Johnson said, "The free world is winning the cold war — make no mistake about that."

Johnson now brings his experience to one of the most demanding offices on earth.

In his first statement, he said: "I will do my best. That is all I can do. I ask for your help—and God's."

Johnson: Unknown Hand on West Helm

By TOM A. CULLEN
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

LONDON—European political leaders are frantically racking their brains for impressions of President Johnson, but the tragic fact is that he is virtually unknown here and on the Continent.

Many Europeans have met Johnson during his extensive travels and have been won by his southern charm, but few take American vice presidents seriously. There is no European equivalent for them, no assistant prime minister of Britain nor vice president of France as next in line of succession to Sir Alec Douglas - Home or Charles de Gaulle.

Meanwhile, newspaper files are being combed for facts about Johnson; his speeches are being scrutinized in London, Paris and Bonn, and attitudes are being formed on the basis of available information.

One Briton I talked to described President Johnson as "a dark horse galloping off into the great unknown on a moonless night."

This pessimism is not typical. On a deeper level, however, European confidence in America as the leader of the free world is severely shaken by the Kennedy assassination.

Politically, it could not have happened at a worse time.

Two of America's Atlantic partners — Britain and Germany — have just changed their leaders. Neither Douglas-Home no Chancellor Ludwig Erhard has had time to play himself into office properly. In Italy, the government is shaky and the left recently has made significant gains. The Common Market is having teething trouble and Europe is far from being united, either politically or economically.

To make matters worse, Britain faces a general election in less than one year, with Douglas - Home leading a Conservative party whose fortunes are waning.

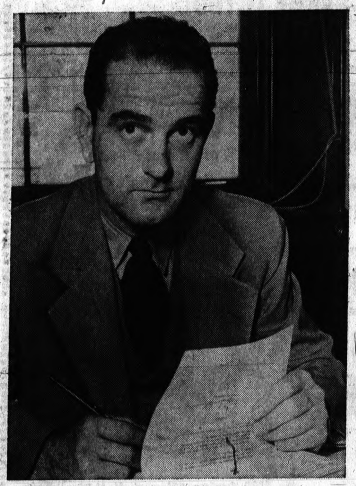

The Tory government built its platform on recognition of the United States as the free world leader. Now that this concept has been dealt a rude blow by Kennedy's death, British voters may turn toward the neutralist policy advocated by the Labor Party.

★ ★ ★

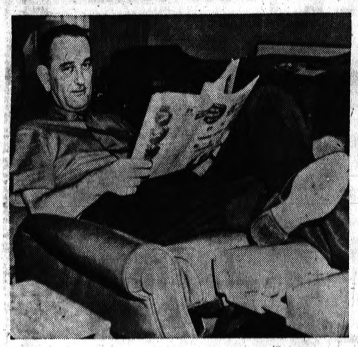

De Gaulle would appear to be the only political leader this side of the Iron Curtain who stands to gain from the presidential change - over, at least from the short-term viewpoint.

De Gaulle had adopted a patronizing attitude toward Kennedy, treating him as a jumped - up leader who had yet to learn his trade. By inference, De Gaulle regarded America as being too young and too immature to assume free world leadership.

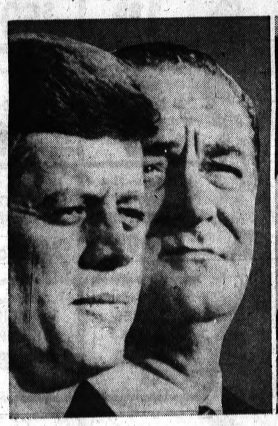

De Gaulle may now claim that he has been justified by events.

CONGRESSIONAL DAYS — President Johnson studies some documents during his second term in Congress as a representative from Texas, in 1940.

RECUPERATION — Hit by a heart attack in 1955, Johnson, then Senate majority leader, had to curtail his strenuous schedule to recuperate at his ranch in Texas.

1960 TEAM — John Fitzgerald Kennedy and Lyndon Baines Johnson accepted the Democratic nomination at Los Angeles in 1960, then carried the party on to victory. The world-roving vice president met Bashir Ahmed in Pakistan and later entertained the suddenly famous camel driver in Texas.

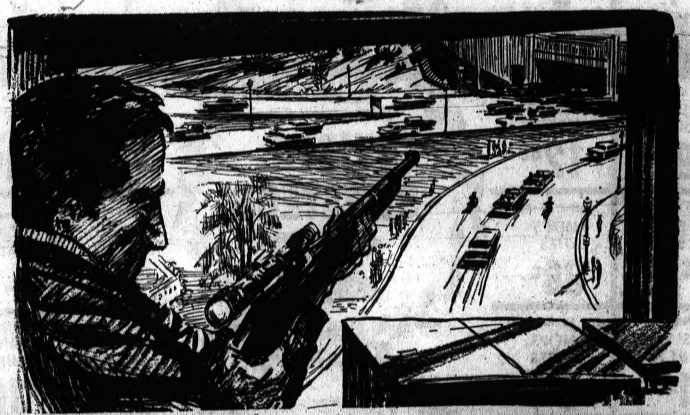

VICTORY WAVE — It was premature, but Johnson gave a victory wave in 1941 when he made a bid for the U.S. Senate and lost. Seven years later, he won the seat.

FANCY DRESS — His wife Lady Bird likes Johnson best in a top hat, but one Texas wag warned him that the fancy Washington dress could cost him 10,000 votes back home.

APRIL 14, 1865—Abraham Lincoln was the first president to be assassinated. Shot by John Wilkes Booth, in Ford Theater, Washington, he died the next day.

NOV. 22, 1963: Assassin Zeros In On His Target—President John F. Kennedy

SEPT. 6, 1901 — William McKinley, 25th president, was fatally wounded by Leon Czolgosz, an anarchist, at the Buffalo Pan-American Exposition. He died Sept. 14.

JULY, 2 1881 — James A. Garfield was shot down by an unbalanced office-seeker, Charles J. Guiteau, in a Washington railroad station. He died on Sept. 19.

OCT. 14, 1912 — Theodore Roosevelt, ex-president on his "Bull Moose" campaign, escaped assassination by a lunatic in Milwaukee when a manuscript deflected the bullet.

NOV. 1, 1950 — Harry S. Truman was napping when two Puerto Rican radicals stormed Blair House in an assassination attempt. One was killed, the other wounded.

FEB. 15, 1933 — Franklin D. Roosevelt was the target of anarchist Joseph Zangara at Miami, Fla. Zangar missed Roosevelt, but the bullet killed Chicago Mayor Anton Cermak in Roosevelt's car.

Teddy Bear Still Young at Age 60

That favorite of favorite toys — the Teddy Bear — is having a birthday this year, its 60th.

Ever since the first stuffed bear was produced in 1903 in Giengen, Germany, millions of little bruins have been dragged by adoring pint-sized owners.

These cuddly bears have often been the first real toy children have received.

* * *

But the Teddy bear was not the first stuffed animal ever made.

That honor belongs to a felt elephant — fashioned by a polio - paralyzed seamstress, Margarete Steiff, and originally used as a pin cushion.

The toy company she founded began making stuffed animals in 1880.

ART STUDENT

The original Teddy bear was designed by Miss Steiff's art student nephew, Richard, from sketches of cubs in the Stuttgart Zoo.

Not until 1907, after the toy got its name at a White House reception during Teddy Roosevelt's administration, did it really catch on.

The naming resulted from a hunting expedition in Mississippi when the future president refused to shoot a bear cub and shooed it back to its mother.

* * *

Clifford Berryman, a political cartoonist who witnessed this gesture, was so moved that upon returning to his drawing board he captured the incident in a drawing.

From then on, the little bear cub showed up in every cartoon Berryman did on Roosevelt and he eventually named it "Teddy's Bear."

Ring Brightest at Christmas

The brightest star on the Christmas tree is a diamond engagement ring.

Most June brides get engaged at Christmas time. It's such a festive, sentimental season, and also the ideal time for giving diamonds.

In addition, Christmas brides grow more numerous every year, with the holiday season second only to June as the favorite wedding date, so the Christmas diamond is in high demand.

Whether it's a wedding or engagement ring, it's a once-in-a-lifetime gift that must be selected with care and with the aid of a fine jeweler, who can give expert advice on the choice of the perfect diamond.

TOP CHOICE

The diamond solitaire is still the one top choice for an engagment ring, and it need not be a large stone to have brilliance and beauty.

New "diamond point" white gold settings are almost as brilliant as the stone itself and can enhance the smallest diamond.

New and beautiful also are engagement and wedding ring combinations, designed to fit together so that the two can give the effect of one striking ring.

The combination of white gold and diamonds is always effective and popular, even more so this year in engagement and wedding rings.

Whatever the style, whatever the size, the gift that outshines them all is the Christmas diamond.

Home Movies--a Lasting Gift

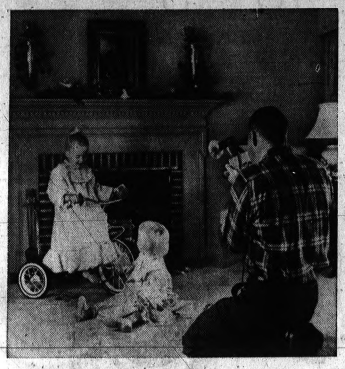

The saga of Christmas is a moving story that is retold year after year without losing its enchantment.

Christmas, too, can be a home movie story that preserves the colorful climax of the family year which can be shown year after year.

For some, Christmas is a one day film story which starts only after the gifts are opened. That is, if one of the gifts is a movie camera and the recipient puts it to work immediately.

★ ★ ★

The wise gift giver these days will plan for such practical and immediate application by adding such vital accessories as film and light equipment along with the camera.

INDOORS — The Christmas home movie should feature natural action and then come in for dramatic close ups. Really good views of how people look become more valuable in later years, especially in the case of children.

READ INSTRUCTIONS

But even then, filming shouldn't start until the newly created camera fan has read the book of instructions and understands the camera operations.

For those who already have a movie camera, the story of Christmas should start much earlier. The film could begin with the focus on an outstanding holiday store window display.

You'll probably find appropriate ready-made titles on billboards or in window displays. Perhaps, as a switch from the usual shopping by mother, you could follow a youngster's search for suitable gifts.

★ ★ ★

If some of the items are ludicrous or ridiculous . . . . wouldn't that be film fare fun?

TRICK EFFECTS

When the film story moves indoors to show supposedly secret wrapping and hiding of presents and the tree trimming, some trick effects might be tried as a change of pace.

By shooting at eight frames a second, the final result will be speeded up in normal visual effect, as well as the projection. In this way, the visual effect, as well as the subject matter, will indicate last minute, hectic preparations.

With much of the holiday picture taking going on indoors, it is advisable to use indoor type color film for all filming.

★ ★ ★

Such Type A film can be used outdoors also by adding a daylight filter over the lens. Some cameras have the filter as a built-in feature and it takes just a flick of a lever to switch from one type of lighting to the other.

★ ★ ★

Such an arrangement takes advantage of the full normal film speed of ASA 40 for Type A film and ASA 25 for daylight with the filter over the lens.

There are many elements that make a home movie more interesting for viewers. For one thing it should tell a story.

A Christmas home movie starts with this plus factor because everything is related to the Yuletide theme.

★ ★ ★

Another element, one that becomes even more important in later years, is to shoot close-ups — lots of them. Close-ups are dramatic and eye-catching and there are never enough of them in the usual home movie.

ACCURACY

Close-ups do require more accuracy in focusing and framing than all other type of shots but with modern reflex cameras. they are easier to accomplish

With these you view the scene and focus through the lens itself, so you get what you see. For extreme close-ups such as a greeting card, a tree ornament, a hand clutching a toy, etc., it is necessary to add an extra close-up attachment to cameras.

Movies are more interesting when a variety of camera angles of viewpoints and different shooting distances are used. In addition, the home movie maker can vary the duration of each scene to give the film a change of pace.

★ ★ ★

Average scenes usually run about 10 seconds. To avoid the monotony of all - 10 - second scenes, some can be short and staccato — about 5 seconds— and others can run 5 or more seconds if continuous, interesting action is going on.

SOME DON'TS

Some don'ts should be added to the do's. Don't jiggle the camera and don't pan. These two rules are at the top of the list because unsteady movies and bad panning are the commonest faults with most amateur movies.

You must make a conscious effort to hold the camera firmly and it takes will power to refrain from panning.

Panning does serve a useful purpose at times and it can be done properly. The camera must swing s-l-o-w-l-y and e-v-e-n-l-y from side to side on an even keel either on a tripod or with the body acting as a human tripod.

★ ★ ★

It should follow the action from the least to the most important part of the scene and hold still for a few seconds at start and finish.

FINAL PHASE

The final phase of a Christmas movie is the editing. It has to be drastic, if necessary, to make a really good movie. because home filmers have a tendency to hang on to everything they shoot.

They just can't bear to part with the faintest glimmer of Junior or Aunt Sophie.

Make up your mind to snip away all faulty frames and you'll be spared the necessity of apologizing every time you show the film thereafter.

★ ★ ★

When it's all done, your Yuletide home movie will bring the joy and spirit of Christmas throughout the rest of the year.

OUTDOORS — Switch easily from indoors with Type A film by using a dalight filter. Cameras with a built-in filter and zoom lens make it easy for home movie fans to mix indoor and outdoor shooting and to make instant close-ups.

Isn't Christmas Without Tasty Egg Nog Treat

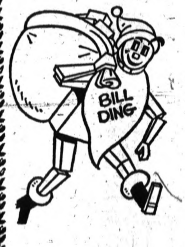

For many of us, Christmas just isn't Christmas without the tasty treat of egg nog.

A welcome holiday sight in the traditional silver punch bowl at Christmas gatherings and an equally welcome quick refreshment for friends who've dropped in unexpectedly, egg nog is the perfect holiday drink for young and old alike.

If you're planning a party or expecting friends and family over on Christmas Eve, bring out the punch bowl and stock up on bottled egg nog from your favorite dairy.

★ ★ ★

You'll find today's ready-made egg nog better than most home-made versions and it saves so much extra work.

America Returns Hospitality Given Pilgrims

On Your Mark

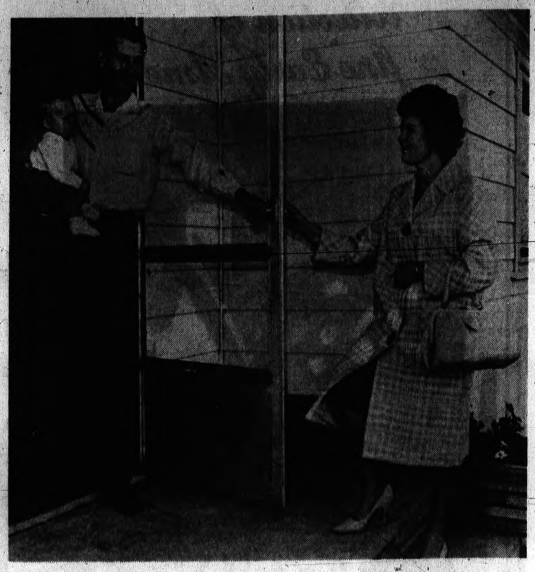

From these pictures one would assume we were eavesdropping on the most typical of American families. (The only exception might be the over-enthusiasm of four-year-old Max.)

At the right, Gerrit Hoogenstryd and 11-months-old daughter, Anita, welcome Mrs. Hoogenstryd home as she returns from church services.

But if you note any special glow on the faces of the mother and father, it is because this is their first Thanksgiving as American citizens.

To the kids, it's just Thanksgiving with a capital 'turkey.' To their parents, it's Thanksgiving with a capital 'American.'

New Citizens Celebrate Today

By MIRIAM NEAL

Holland history books contain the story of the first Thanksgiving. But years ago when two neighbor children read it in a Dutch schoolroom, they never dreamed that they would follow the Pilgrims. (Members of the Plymouth Colony lived 11 years in Holland before coming to America.)

★ ★ ★

Today, for the first time as American citizens, Mr. and Mrs. Gerrit Hoogenstryd of Lehigh Street, will sit at a table in the home they built themselves and give thanks for the United States.

★ ★ ★

Years ago in Rotterdam, Gerrit Hoogenstryd and his parents were visited by his American aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Peter Vander Hoek who live on East Beverly Avenue here in Pontiac.

★ ★ ★

These relatives from the land of automobiles and television tried to convince their nephew to come to Pontiac, Michigan in the country that was more than 200 times larger than his own.

CAME AND LEFT

In the spring of 1954 Gerrit left Holland for America as the Pilgrims had almost 300 years before. Soon after he arrived he was drafted and stationed in Germany for year and a half.

★ ★ ★

During his term of duty, he returned to Holland to marry the girl he'd left behind. In 1957 he came to America with his new wife. This time he stayed.

★ ★ ★

Knowing little English and used to outdoor work, Gerrit found his first few months in his new world very difficult. He started work in an automobile factory. To be associated with automobiles at all was, as Gerrit said, "something in itself for me."

★ ★ ★

Once he became used to the work and his English improved, he began to build an American home. He started the house which stands today in silent tribute to his hard work.

BORN AS CITIZENS

By the time he and his wife decided to make America their permanent home and become citizens, their own children had beaten them to the punch, simply by being born in the United States.

★ ★ ★

Undaunted, the Hoogenstryds attended citizenship and English classes at Pontiac Central High School and officially became Americans this July.

★ ★ ★

Today, Thanksgiving, 1963, Mrs. Hoogenstryd will attend special services in a now familiar church. On Lehigh Street the specially decorated table waits for the good smelling foods in the kitchen and Gerrit Hoogenstryd watches Max and Anita play in the warm, bright living room he built himself.

★ ★ ★

When Mrs. Hoogenstryd returns, four American citizens will gather around the table to celebrate America's 300th Thanksgiving by eating an American turkey cooked in an American manner.

★ ★ ★

And little Max will want three drumsticks.

Cheryl Hegwood, Blaine Street, places a hat on the tiny snowman she has made from salt modeling clay. Shown also is a Christmas tree ornament made the same way.

Eldon Adams, Moreland Street, swipes a cookie from the container held by Beth Miller, Washington Street. This Santa Claus cookie "jar" is easily made from an oatmeal box.

How to Create Beauty With Salt

Here are directions for salt modeling:

2 cups salt
½ cup cold water
1 cup corn starch
2-3 cup cold water

Mix salt and ½ cup water in saucepan; place pan over low heat, stirring constantly until mixture is thoroughly heated. This will take about 3 to 4 minutes. Remove saucepan from heat.

Mix corn starch and 2-3 cup cold water and add all at once to hot salt and water mixture. Stir in quickly to combine. The mixture should thicken to about the consistency of stiff dough. If mixture does not thicken, place pan over low heat again and stir about 1 minute or until mixture starts to thicken.

Turn out on wooden board or a work surface and knead with hands as you would bread dough, to form a smooth pliable mass. The base may be used immediately or will keep pliable indefinitely if stored in a tightly closed container, or wrapped in a household plastic or foil. Makes 1¾ pounds.

★ ★ ★

To make a 3½ pound batch: Double recipe ingredients. Follow directions above with one exception. Keep saucepan over heat when the corn starch and water are added to the hot salt and water mixture.

HOW TO COLOR: Use vegetable colors such as regular food colors used in the kitchen. Add coloring material in the amount desired to the pliable base and knead to blend color evenly. Modeled objects may also be painted with water colors or decorated when hard and dry to give surface color.

WHAT TO MAKE: Model a variety of objects . . . small animals, fruit, vegetables, doll furniture, ash trays, jewelry, coasters, miniature houses, wall plaques, etc. Simple forms can be shaped with hands and fingers. To produce detailed effects, tools such as tooth picks, tongue depressors or a small spatula may be used. Modeling base can also be flattened with a rolling pin and cut into shapes for holiday ornaments or mobile decorations.

HOW TO DRY: Modeled objects will dry and harden at room temperature in approximately 36 hours, depending on thickness of object and humidity. Place objects to be dried on wire rack or screen to allow air circulation. When thoroughly dry, surfaces may be smoothed by rubbing with medium-coarse sandpaper, then finished with fine sandpaper.

All the objects above were made by salt modeling. The children can make their own creche figures or other holiday items. After proper drying, the articles are durable and may even be painted.

Modern Bouquets

Bridal arm bouquets, a natural companion to the empire gowns now enjoying a return favor, are becoming popular for modern day weddings. Today's arm bouquets are fairly small and light, in contrast to the old-fashioned heavy arm bouquets with streamers.

Tiny Button Has Power to Destroy an Enemy City

BACKGROUND OF THE NEWS — SPECIAL REPORT

RAPID CITY, S. D. (AP) — The button you would push to launch a city-killing rocket at an enemy country, if that were your job, is a little thing, about an inch square. It glows red or green, depending on its readiness to be pushed.

It is the left-hand button in a row of a dozen or so extending across a panel near chest height. The other buttons get the rocket ready to fire. The one on the end fires it.

The instrument panel sits in the center of a large room, shaped like an inverted bowl. The room is the control room of an operational Titan Intercontinental Missile site dug in beneath the prairie near this western South Dakota city.

* * *

A three-man crew is always on duty in this room. Recently when a group of civilians were admitted to the tightly guarded base, the crew consisted of a major, a captain and a master sergeant.

Each was wearing white coveralls and a bright blue scarf at his throat. Phones in the room, which rang frequently, were answered quickly and unsmilingly.

POINTS OUT BUTTON

The major knew what the visitors most wanted to see.

"This is the button we'd push if we had too," he said, giving the covered firing button a tentative poke. The firing button, unlike the others, has a hinged piece of plastic over it.

Lifting the plastic is the last of many things that would have to be done before the button could be pushed in anger.

One of the other safeguards was visible to the visitors. On another instrument panel, above eye level, were printed two words, "disable" and "enable."

A green light would have to glow under the word, "enable," before the men in the control room could fire their rockets. It cannot be turned on by anyone in the base.

* * *

Other safeguards exist, of course.

3 MISSILES

The major's instrument panel actually contains three rows of buttons, because this incredibly complex little underground city is armed with three Titan missiles, ready to fire on 15 minutes' notice.

Called a complex, the site is one of three under the wing of the Strategic Air Command at nearby Ellsworth Air Force Base, which makes a total of nine Titan missiles ready to go in this vicinity.

The complex is dug into the prairie. There's not much above ground for a visitor to see. A guarded wire fence surrounds each site. A few small towers carry wind gauges, radiation detectors, and closed-circuit television cameras that scan the entire area.

* * *

Flush with the ground are three large concrete aprons, some distance apart. Each marks the site of a missile silo.

At a signal from an escorting officer, who is being observed from the control room below on television, a pair of concrete trapdoors open. A loud horn blasts a warning as they rise.

When they are open, it is possible to catch a glimpse of the business end of a 98-foot Titan ICBM.

Sitting on its nose is what appears to be a whitish, porcelain-like object. It is shaped like an elongated bulb, appears to be around 12 feet long and 3 or 4 feet thick.

It is either a hydrogen bomb or an atomic bomb. You presume it is the former, because of the Titan missile's greater payload in relation to smaller rockets. The officer-guide says only that it is a nuclear device.

* * *

Earlier, an officer has told you that the bomb cannot be armed — i.e., triggered to explode—until it is actually in the air en route to an enemy target.

SPEEDY OPERATION

Were the silo doors opening in earnest, the rocket would be quickly and automatically fueled with liquid oxygen and kerosene below ground, raised to the surface by giant elevators, and sent on its way.

The Titan site was designed to survive anything but an improbable direct hit, then be able to fire back.

The 30 or so Air Force men who run the base descend to their posts by elevator or by a stairway which can also serve as an emergency escape route.

* * *

Below ground, they have their own water supply, from wells, power supply, air-conditioning, and kitchen and sleeping facilities, together with food for many days. Pool tables, commercial television, and other recreational facilities are at their disposal.

ENORMOUS DOORS

Enormous blast doors below ground separate the three missile silos, so that if one is hit the others can still be fired.

In the huge liquid oxygen storage and fueling areas, which man can enter only in pairs, because of the danger of deadly, odorless gases, tubing coils endlessly from tank to tank.

Automatic valves emit a shrill little "peep" every few seconds as pressures adjust themselves. A shower bath labeled emergency shower is available in case of liquid oxygen burns.

* * *

Back in the control room, a visitor asks the major if his kind of duty doesn't have a high mortality rate in terms of a man's nervous system.

CONTINUING PROCESS

The major smiles, and indicates that Air Force screening for this kind of job is rigid, and a continuing process.

Someone wonders why the major and captain are armed with pistols.

The replies are good-natured but add up to this obvious conclusion:

SAC intends to take no chance that orders from the highest authority would not be executed in the control room.

County Eyes Legislative Action on Election Dates, Procedure

By JIM DYGERT

In the eyes of Oakland County, election dates and procedures will share the spotlight with Gov. Romney when the State Legislature resumes its special session Dec. 3 to implement the new State Constitution.

While one eye watches how Romney fares in another stiff test of his leadership, the other will be fastened on measures dealing with election of county officers, Circuit Court and appellate court judges.

★ ★ ★

What the legislature does with four study committee recommendations on these matters

News Analysis

could kindle some political fireworks in the county.

★ ★ ★

The four proposals are:

- To double the two-year terms of incumbent county officers and postpone elections for their posts from 1964 to 1966.
- To likewise put off until 1966 the previously scheduled 1964 elections to fill Circuit Court seats now held by 1963 Romney appointees.
- To give appointed judges an incumbency designation on the ballot even though the new constitution grants it only to elected judges.
- To set up a new state appellate court of nine judges to be elected by threes in each of three districts.

LIVELY DEBATE

Predictions of lively debate over the first three are in the wind, and all four could affect the political futures of numerous county officials and residents.

Extending county terms has been recommended by an interim legislative committee despite an opinion from Democratic State Atty. Gen. Frank J. Kelley that it would be unconstitutional.

County Democrats have come out strongly against it, and so, presumably, will most Democratic legislators. Court challenges are expected if it's approved.

★ ★ ★

The idea is to begin the new four-year terms of county officers in 1966 instead of 1964. This would put them on the ballot with state officers, whose four-year terms begin in 1966, instead of with presidential contests.

NO SPECIFICATION

The constitution does not specify when the new county terms were to begin as it does with those for state officers.

If approved, the term extension would smooth the road for any county officeholder aspiring to a higher post. He could run knowing that he'd still have his old job if he lost.

One in such a position, Republican County Prosecutor George F. Taylor, might not be so appreciative of the legislature, however, if it also extends the terms of appointed judges or gives them the incumbency designation.

★ ★ ★

In fact, Taylor may be as vehement an opponent as any Democrat to the appointed judge proposals, though probably not publicly.

PASSED OVER

A possible candidate for the GOP nomination for Congress in the new 19th district, Taylor also has had an eye on the county's three appointed Circuit Court posts and is still smarting over his failure to be appointed to one of them.

If the appointed judges' terms are extended, Taylor would not be able to seek election to one of the posts. If they get the incumbency label, he would be at a disadvantage.

Elected Circuit Court judges are assured of having their terms extended from Dec. 31, 1965, to Dec. 31, 1966, because the new constitution abolishes the spring election and prohibits the shortening of any elected official's term.

★ ★ ★

Reasoning behind likewith extending the appointed terms is to start all Circuit judges anew in 1966 with staggered terms designed for later overlapping of six-year-terms.

BOTH PROPOSALS

Both recommendations have been pushed by State Sen. Farrell E. Roberts, R-Oakland County, chairman of an interim subcommittee on implementing the constitution's judicial section.

In Taylor's view, Roberts has become his political foe as a result of this and the likelihood that Roberts will be a candidate for the appellate court, still another race that Taylor has been eyeing.

The appellate court plans are not expected to encounter difficulty in the legislature.

★ ★ ★

Most of the fighting is anticipated to come as Democrats try to accomplish through implementing legislation what they failed to achieve on behalf of their viewpoints at the constitutional convention.

EMBARRASS ROMNEY

Democrats also may be tempted by the opportunity to embarrass Romney again so soon after his tax reform defeat, especially since they opposed the Romney-backed constitution in the first place.

The biggest battles may come in the areas of changing executive agency structure, use of highway funds, and the Civil Rights Commission.

Squabbles are certain over working arrangements and authority of the new state highway commission and board of education while the highway commissioner and superintendent of public instruction remain in office under the provision that no elected official's term can be shortened even when his office is abolished.

★ ★ ★

Considerable confusion and agony will be generated by the task of reducing and streamlining some 120 administrative agencies to the 20 allowed under the new constitution.

AGREE ON OTHERS

Department heads have been free with suggestions on chopping and merging, but all agree their own must remain intact.

Implementing the new leeway allowed in the use of highway funds may bring demands to raise the state's gasoline tax, which is now six cents per gallon.

★ ★ ★

No action is expected on provisions for county home rule at the special session. Unless the big counties get together soon on what they favor, indications are there may not be any next year, either.

Johnson Can Expect Same

Kennedy's Leadership Tested Early

By PHIL NEWSOM
UPI Foreign News Analyst

A terse announcement issued simultaneously in Washington, Moscow and London on May 19, 1961, disclosed that the then-President Kennedy and Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev would hold their first face-to-face meeting some two weeks hence in Vienna.

For Kennedy, the timing was not especially propitious.

The position of U.S. - supported forces in Laos NEWSOM had deteriorated steadily to the point where Kennedy and his advisers had decided that a neutral Laos provided the best way out of an impossible situation.

In April had occurred the disastrous Bay of Pigs invasion of Cuba.

And out of that somber meeting in Vienna came another severe test for the new President. The Soviet leader laid down a new ultimatum on the Berlin and German question — either agreement to a separate peace treaty for East Germany and the transformation of West Berlin into a "free city" or the Soviets would proceed on their own and give to the East Germans control over the access routes to West Berlin.

Khrushchev also demanded a nuclear test-ban treaty on Soviet terms which included a built-in veto over its control commission.

In neither was he successful and in succeeding months Khrushchev came to have a grudging admiration for Kennedy.

WANT MEETING

Over the weekend, Communist diplomats let it be known that Khrushchev, disturbed by the death of President Kennedy and fearful of a switch in U.S. policy, would like a meeting with new President Lyndon B. Johnson.

Whether or not the meeting occurs, the possibility remains that one of Johnson's early tests may come from Soviet probing attempts to determine both his strengths and his weaknesses.

But this will be only one facet of the burden suddenly thrust upon Johnson. Throughout the world for many months ahead events will be colored by the sudden change in U.S. leadership.

* * *

When the black Africans of Kenya wept over Kennedy's assassination, theirs was an emotion which swept the world. And part of it, whether or not in tangible form, was fear which came from the knowledge that for however brief a period of time, the leading nation of the free world itself stood leaderless.

WORLDWIDE CRISIS

In effect, it was creating a worldwide crisis of confidence.

But at the same time, West German leaders felt it necessary to reassure Germans that there would be no change in U.S. policy and to remind West Berliners that Johnson himself had pledged to Berliners "our lives, our fortunes and our sacred honor."

As Britain approaches its general elections, a campaign which was to be based primarily on domestic issues, already is taking a turn as Britain studies anew its future role in world affairs and its relationship with the new President.

In France, the passing of President Kennedy undoubtedly will reinforce President de Gaulle's determination to remain in office at least until 1970 in order to preserve for the West an image of unchanging leadership.

* * *

From South Viet Nam to New Delhi and from Moscow to Paris, a pressing task for the new President will be to still the waves of fear and prevent a crisis of confidence.

Japan 'Rikes' 'Clis Craus'

It's Yuletide Spirit in Eastern Culture

TOKYO (AP) — Japan may be a nation of Buddhists and Shintoists, but at Christmas time the Yuletide spirit is everywhere.

Department stores and shop windows are gaily decorated. Santa Clauses roam the streets. Gifts are wrapped with elaborate care.

In fact, Christmas in Japan now is practically a national institution—despite the fact that only 700,000 of the nation's 94 million people follow the Christian faith.

Until 1945, Christmas went by relatively unnoticed. But in the postwar drive toward economic recovery and prosperity, commercial possibilities of Christmas semed to businessmen too good a thing to pass up.

OLD HOLIDAYS

Department stores formerly looked forward mainly to June, when Japanese observe the traditional Buddhist holiday of "O-Bon" by exchanging gifts, and late December, when gifts are exchanged again by tradition to welcome the new year.

Except for Japan's Christians, Christmas here is devoid of any religious connotations.

But if Japanese kids don't know the meaning of a religious Christmas, they certainly know about Santa Claus, the bearded man who brings them presents.

* * *

A single department store may have as many as 100 Santa Clauses. Even elevator attendants and saleswomen are turned into girl Santas.

SPECIAL PARTIES

Night clubs stage special parties, and the revelry fits in well with the traditional merry-making that precedes the Japanese New Year, a period of rest and quiet.

Dec. 25 is not a national holiday. It's work as usual. But that doesn't matter.

What counts is the man with the white beard and the gifts he brings as he sings out with a heavy accent:

"Merry Ku-Ri-Su-Ma-Su!"

Disguised Christ Legend Behind Holiday Charity

The tradition of alms-giving at Christmas began with a legend, as did so many other holiday customs.

It was believed at one time that the Christ Child went from door to door during the holiday season, disguised as a beggar, and asking alms, in search of kind and deserving souls.

Since no one knew when or where He might appear, Christians feared to turn beggars from their door lest they unknowingly turn away the Christ Child.

* * *

Thus began the custom of charity to the poor at Christmastime; today this charity is still practiced, but not out of fear . . . rather, it is done out of love, generosity and thankfulness by those who have been materially blessed.

The death rate among America's nearly 100 million ordinary life insurance policyholders remained relatively unchanged last year at about six per 1,000, continuing at the level held for the past decade.

Tandem Tub

Put in Plug for Togetherness

By DICK WEST

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The spirit of togetherness appears to have hit a new peak of sorts in Great Britain.

WEST

According to a news item published here the other day, a manufacturer in that country has started producing a double bathtub. It's all the rage, my dear.

Actually, only four have been sold thus far, but I think you'll agree that four double bathtubs add up to a rage.

In one model, the bathers sit side-by-side and in another toe-to-toe. Trust the British to think of something like that.

I suppose the really prudent thing to do would be to order one of each. That way you're prepared for any eventuality.

A couple of years ago, the Neiman-Marcus store offered its customers "His" and "Hers" airplanes. And this year, I hear, it has been featuring "His and "Hers" dueling pistols.

But neither, to my noting, is in the class with "His" and "Hers" bathtubs. Which goes to show how truly ingenious the British are.

A bit over - sexed perhaps, but ingenious.

Double bathtubs would not, of course, be practical in every home. For example, mine. If we attempted togetherness of this type, we would wind up in a divorce court.

I like to bathe in the morning. She takes her bath at night. I like a shower. She prefers immersion. I bathe in water that is barely tepid. She likes it scalding hot.

A double bathtub at our house would just be a waste of water.

Nevertheless, I salute the British for creative thinking. There has been a tendency in some quarters lately to sell the Empire short. This should put an end to talk that Britain is about finished as a world power.

Any country that could produce the RAF in one generation and double bathtubs in the next will always be a factor to reckon with.

While I'm about it, I would also like to tip my hat to the Japanese, who have recently developed a device called a "mother's heart."

* *

"It induces sleep in infants by making sounds like a mother's breast," says the literature I received. "It feels like it, looks like it. All battery operated."

Sounds like a wonderful product.

How Can Secret Service Protect Our Presidents?

By BRUCE BIOSSAT
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

WASHINGTON (NEA)—President Kennedy's assassination stirs strong prospects that vastly tighter Secret Service safeguards and new limits on presidential freedom may quickly be in order.

The assassin in Dallas had a clear shot from a high vantage point along the crowded route the late President followed.

The bullet-proof bubble top on the presidential car, flown to the Dallas scene at considerable expense, was down — exposing Kennedy to just as much danger as if he had used an ordinary convertible.

Not only Kennedy but at least two of his predecessors often chafed at Secret Service restrictions, and sometimes overrode their precautions. Reporters, including the writer, have frequently commented on the risks.

REFUSES ESCORT

Only a short time ago Kennedy refused the customary local police escort on a New York City visit, exposing himself to all the hazards incident to rush-hour traffic delays.

In New York a young girl, camera raised high, raced past all barriers, right up to the window of the presidential limousine, and snapped his picture. Commented a Secret Service man sharply:

"It could just as well have been an assassin."

Months ago the late President, shaking hands with a well-wisher as he rode in an open car, was pulled off his feet as the man failed to let go.

Again and again veteran White House reporters watched Kennedy on tour as he shook hands at close range with citizens along fenced areas at airports and other points.

Secret Service men, in the judgment of many, would have been powerless to prevent the quick flash of a gun.

Even around the White House, generally thought of as the most impregnable security zone, presidents now and then are subject to unreasonable risk. Kennedy had a habit of mingling with veritable hordes of visitors, any one of whom could have shot him or thrust a knife into him.

* * *

Newsmen traveling with presidents in recent years have been stunned at the ease with which would-be assassins now and then have had access to them.

FULL PROTECTION

Ground routes seldom are fully protected at surface level. High vantage points, unguarded, are common along such routes as Kennedy used in Dallas.

It was not always so. In the tight security of World War II high spots were patrolled with extraordinary caution. When Franklin D. Roosevelt paid a wartime visit to Chicago, I noted that every overpass and high building was lined with guards.

Washington observers foresee now that far stricter regulations will govern such points. They believe also that the Secret Service may be given stiffer authority to control the president's movements — no matter what his personal urge for freedom.

* * *

Police escorts supporting these efforts in official tours and campaigns may have to develop sharper techniques for keeping all people, including the thronging well-wishers, away from the presidential entourage.

APPEARANCE LIMIT

A president's public appearances may hereafter also be more limited in number.

But veteran newsmen suggest that, even with stricter controls on all sides and more cooperative public behavior, no safeguards are totally foolproof.

* * *

There will always be the risk that some fanatic will work his way through the protective screen.

Stand-Up Model for Shoe Polishing

For the guy who can't or the one who won't bend over to shine his shoes — a stand-up electric shoe polisher.

Twin polishing bonnets, one for black and one for brown shoes, removes dust and buff shoes.

The polisher is powered by a 110-120 volt AC motor.

First Card Designed by Youth

Today we take the sending and receiving of Christmas cards as amatter of course.

Actually, they didn't come into existence until the 19th century.

Prior to that, no one thought of greeting friends and family at Yuletide through cards.

* * *

It remained for a sixteen-year-old English engraving apprentice, William Maw Egley, to design a card in 1842 illustrating scenes of a formal banquet, a party dance and skaters.

LEGEND INSCRIBED

Below the illustrations was the legend "A Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year to You."

Later another Englishman, Henry Cole, commissioned the artist John Calcott Horsely, a member of the Royal Academy, to paint an illustration which ultimately depicted a Victorian family gathered around the holiday table, in addition to depicting customs giving to the poor.

Cole had lithographed copies of Horsely's work struck off and mailed the cards out in December of 1846.

In 1874, Louis Prang printed the first American greeting cards in his lithograph shop in Boston.

These cards were noted for their artistic quality and were sold all over the United States.

Thus was begun a holiday tradition which is now an accepted part of the season . . . receiving warm greetings of love and good will through the mail at Christmas time.

Sounds Like Both Made Good Points

BELGRADE (AP)— A shoe factory here sent two experts to Africa to look into the possibilities of expanding Yugoslavia's shoe trade there.

They came back with two highly different viewpoints.

"There are no chances to export shoes there. The people go barefoot," one reported.

"Prospects to sell shoes are excellent because everybody is barefoot," reported the other.

Figures Rank as Top Items

Ceramic Statues of German Craftsmen

Authentic "Hummel" ceramic figurines have been top-ranking collector's items among fans of all ages for nearly a quarter-century and a favorite gift item.

★ ★ ★

Made exclusively by the W. Goebel Co. of Bavaria, West Germany, they are instantly recognizable by the meticulous craftsmanship, subtle coloring, and the indented "M. I. Hummel" seen on the base of every piece.

The secret of these figurines' appeal lies in their unaffected, childlike, caught-in-action feeling.

Be it a little girl clutching a few wilted posies, a young boy merrily on the way to market, or a child frolicking with pets, their moods and manners are typical of tiny people the world over, and reflect the timeless dreams of eternal childhood.

ARTIST'S LOVE

This wide-eyed, ingenious charm emanates from the artist's deep love and understanding of children.

Berta Hummel, whose original sketches have been the basis for these ceramic figurines made by the W. Goebel Co., was one of six children who grew up in a home in Massing, Bavaria, where music and art were as natural as air and water.

Born in 1909, she demonstrated her talent and imagination at an early age, beginning by sketching and painting portraits of her young school friends.

★ ★ ★

Throughout her formal art training, including the Academy of Fine Arts in Munich, Berta Hummel continued her warm interest in children, artistically as well as personally.

ART, RELIGION

An outstanding example of the fact that art and religion often go hand in hand, Berta Hummel entered the Convent of Siessen near Salgau and took her final vows as a Franciscan nun in 1934.

In the convent, as Sister M. Innocentia, she continued to make the sketches of children that have since made her and the convent famous throughout the world.

Exclusive rights for reproduction of three-dimensional figurines from the original art were given to W. Goebel in Bavaria, where a skilled staff of artists began to translate the sketches into the life-like, beautifully colored, hand finished figures.

Have Family Share Fun

An important part of the fun of Christmas is in preparing for it and since Christmas is for children, you'll want your youngsters to participate as much as possible in all the activities that the Yule season brings.

Not only will it be an excellent opportunity for them to gain a sense of responsibility and to express themselves creatively, it will also afford your family many hours of being together and getting to know each other better.

W. German Children Get Ready

Santa's 'Der Weihnachtsmann'

By GEOFFREY ATKINS

FRANKFURT, Germany (AP) — Candles will burn in the windows of many West German homes on Christmas Eve.

Their flickering flames are a symbol of divided Germany and are lighted as a reminder of fellow countrymen living behind the Iron Curtain.

So, even Christmas has its political significance in present-day Germany. But this still does not keep it from being the most exciting time of the year for children.

★ ★ ★

For them it is a time of secrets, surprises, lots of good things to eat and, of course — "Der Weihnachtsmann" — (The Christmas man).

KRIS KRINGLE

Like America's Santa Claus, the bearded old man in long, red robes who carries a sack of toys is still very much a reality to your West Germans children.

But in parts of southern Germany children believe they get their presents from the "Christkind" (Christ-child). It is from this word that America's Kris Kringle is derived.

Although customs vary throughout the country and the Christmas tree plays an important part everywhere, the tradition of the tree in Germany is at least 400 years old.

★ ★ ★

It is hard to find a German home without a Christmas tree. And with her vast pine forests Germany has no trouble in meeting the demand.

CANDLES ON TREE

Candles are the main decorations. Only comparatively recently have the Germans copied other countries in decorating their trees with tinsel, electric light bulbs and colored glass ornaments.

Presents are either hung on the tree or placed around it.

Presents are exchanged on Christmas Eve after the family has attended evening church services.

★ ★ ★

By tradition children do not see the tree until the very moment on Christmas Eve when they are allowed to receive their presents.

NO STOCKINGS

The Christmas stocking is virtually unknown to German children because for them the tree is the source of all their gifts.

On Dec. 6, St. Nikolaus Day, children put out their candies and other small gifts.

And while Hans' presents this year may well include a space gun and a model of the latest moon rocket, they will be fitted into the old-fashioned traditions of a family gathering around a candle-lit fir tree.

President's Holiday to Be Spent at Home

WASHINGTON (AP) — President and Mrs. Johnson plan to have a family dinner at their home on Thanksgiving Day.

★ ★ ★

The White House said their two daughters, Lynda Bird and Lucy, will be there and so will Lynda's fiance, Bernard Rosenbach.

Christmas Eve Buffet in Order

Last minute holiday preparations mean a busy Christmas Eve. To reward hungry tree trimmers, a buffet supper is usually on the agenda.

For a table festive as the season, prepare a dessert centerpiece. Cover any large oval platter, preferably one with a flat rim, with spangled tissue paper. Place candles in small flat holders around the rim.

Space miniature tree ornaments between candles. Use pieces of greenery from the tree under the centerpiece, and have chocolate Santas standing guard.

Fill platter with holiday candies — marzipan and chocolates for a dessert that's pretty and easy on the hostess, too.

Illinois highway officials plan to test stretches of red, yellow and off-white asphalt paving. The colored surfaces are supposed to eliminate pavement glare, extend headlight vision and warn of dangerous intersections.

Get in Swim With Hobby

For their piscine pets, sea divers, buried treasure chests and other aquatic novelties give them something to do.

Slightly offbeat is a Lazy Susan for their food or a colony of sea horses with a real sea tree to which they can attach themselves.

BE CREATIVE—Christmas fun comes from doing things. This little girl is making her own holiday greetings using a felt nib pen to draw designs on outlines she cut from foam rubber sheeting.

Let Your Children Join in Christmas Festivities

Christmas is the time when we knock ourselves out trying to make the holiday pleasant for children.

And we find all these activities are fun. So why not let the children in on the joys of the season by letting them take part?

For instance, children love to help ice Christmas cookies. Even if their designs are messier than yours, they'll have fun and get the experience to do better next year.

★ ★ ★

Or, let them create their own Christmas cards. You can put them to work cutting out designs from colored paper or clipping pictures from magazines to paste onto their cards.

PRINT ON CARDS

If they aren't old enough to do anything else, very little children get a kick out of just printing their names on cards.

Glistening greetings can be made by turning the children loose with glue bottles and glitter paint, and colored paper.

Another idea is to trace patterns of snowmen or Santas on brown paper and let the kids use them as outlines for cutting out colored paper or foam rubber sheeting.

★ ★ ★

Then the children can add finishing touches to their decorations, such as coloring the snowman's hat, and filling in his eyes, nose, mouth and the buttons down his front.

They can add a bit of bright ribbon and perhaps a printed greeting cut from an old Christmas card.

On the rubber sheeting, felt nib pens can be purchased with red or green ink to add the finishing touches.

Make a giant Santa to hang on your front door from the rubber sheeting. Then let the children glue on pieces of felt or plastic for facial features.

After Christmas this Santa can be rolled up and stored in the attic for next year.

★ ★ ★

The children will also enjoy being allowed to help wrap presents for Grandma or Grandpa or other relatives.

SPRIGS OF HOLLY

And you can provide them with leftover greens, sprigs of holly and ribbon so they can create holiday decorations for their own rooms or a family room.

The kids also might like to help arrange Christmas cards you receive in a display.

The cards could be tacked to a bulletin board covered with festive paper, or pinned to a large piece of green or red felt or a commercial cardholder.

★ ★ ★

If you stop and think of all the holiday preparations you do make around the home you'll surely find some patrons in which the kids can participate.

New Slide Projector Uses Remote Control

The proud photographer in the family will have to do little work with a new remote control slide projector.

It is designed for trays of different sizes — 35mm or super slides — the slides can be intermixed with adapters.

A Man Who Cooks May Win $1,000 for Recipe

By popular request a two week extension of the closing date for entries of recipes for the Men's National Cooking Championship has been announced by officials of the competition.

* * *

The new date, December 16, 1963, is to allow more time for amateur male cooks who have not yet managed to get their recipes finished because they are limited to evening hours and weekends in this hobby.

* * *

The files of this highly popular contest contain many a dramatic story arising from this spare time activity, some of them as full of surprises as a Hollywood movie script.

"For example, take what happened to the Lutheran minister from the town of Lena, Illinois," says Harvey F. Noss, executive vice president of the Potato Chip Institute which sponsors the contest.

Every word of this story about Reverend Armin G. Weng Jr. is true. The Reverend Weng desperately wanted one thing above all others, a modern kitchen for his wife where her work would be more pleasurable and easier. The $1,000 prize going with the Men's National Cooking Championship title would buy such a kitchen, and, since Reverend Weng was a superb amateur cook, the opportunity seemed heaven-sent.

* * *

Reverend Weng entered the competition with a recipe he'd created. Although he won the State Championship with it, and was also selected from the 50 State Champions as one of the 4 regional finalists who had to prepare their dishes for the judges before the television cameras with the whole nation watching, he did not win the $1,000.

FOURTH PLAE

He came in fourth, which, of course, meant he'd created the fourth best recipe out of tens of thousands of entries. But, it didn't win him a kitchen for his wife.

Rather depressed, the Reverend Weng and his wife went home figuring, as ministers are apt to do in such circumstances, that it was time to count their blessings, and realize if God wanted him to have that kitchen God would have let him win.

When he arrived at his home station there was a huge crowd waiting to greet them. The whole town had come out for the arrival. And when the Reverend Weng and his wife came home another big surprise awaited them.

Not only had their house been freshly painted inside and out, but the kitchen was completely changed, and the living room completely refurnished. All the equipment was shining new and beautifully modern. It was a gesture of affection from their congregation and the townspeople.

Reverend Weng's State of Illinois Championship recipe is as follows:

Corned Beef and Chip Casserole

1½ cup broken noodles (cooked)
1 cup cream of mushroom soup
½ cup evaporated milk
1 7-oz. can corned beef
1 cup grated American cheese
1-3 cup cut up onion
½ cup broken potato chips

Mix cooked noodles, soup, milk, corned beef, cheese and onion. Pour into 1½ quart greased baking dish. Top with potato chips. Bake 15 minutes at 450 degrees. Serves 4.

All 4 regional finalists selected from the State Champions win a week's vacation for themselves and their wives, which this winter will be at the luxurious Americana Hotel in Miami Beach. The champion also gets $1,000. In addition, the three runners-up receive cash awards.

Any single or married adult male may submit any number of original recipes for main dishes using potato chips as one of the ingredients. Professional chefs are barred. Judging is done by a jury of noted women cooking authorities, headed by noted nutritionist Marni Wood.

The new closing date for recipe entries is December 16, 1963 and recipes should be sent to Men's National Cooking Championship 331 Madison Avenue, New York 17, New York.

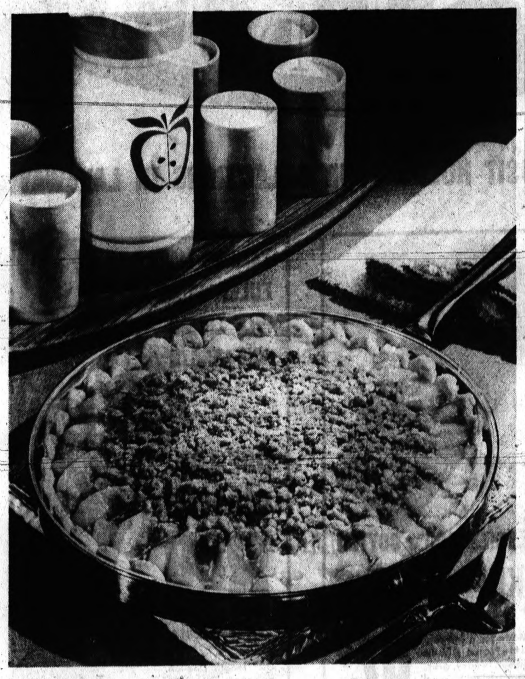

Multi-Fruit Cocktail

Drain syrup from a 1 lb. 14 oz. can of fruit cocktail into a saucepan; add ¾ cup fresh cranberries and cook about 5 minutes until berries begin to pop open. Remove from heat and stir in fruit cocktail and chopped nuts. Serve warm or chilled with turkey or ham.

Top Mixed Fruit Dish With Sour Cream

Peel and section 1 large orange, and cut the sections in half. Add 1 cup seeded grapes, 2 large bananas, peeled and sliced, 3 tablespoons of sugar and 1 cup (½ pint) of commercial sour cream. Toss lightly and chill.

Serve in sherbet glasses garnished with a sprinkling of grated fresh orange rind. Serves 6.

APPLE PIZZA PIE—Apple pie with a teen-age appeal and a splendid idea for a snack. Dough patted into a pizza pan is briefly baked, then topped with prepared apple pie filling, cheese and sugar. Another short baking and it's ready to serve.

Prepared Filling

Snack on Fruit Pizza

It looks like pizza; but it's really an apple pie! Lucky the popular teen-queen who is able to bring her crowd home to an after-school treat like this. Hot from the oven though not too hot to bite into, Apple Pizza Pie makes a nutritious as well as a mighty satisfying snack.

It is an easy dish to prepare and quick too, for the busy mom who will be called on to make it again and again. We think she might be well advised to teach her young high-schooler her tricks right off; for this is sure to be a certain hit.

The crust is crisp and sweetly flavored with confectioner's sugar and butter or margarine if you like. The simple filling comes from a can; the trick of the dessert is the apple pie filling.

Convenient fruit pie fillings like these make so many desserts easy to create in minutes. They're so handy, it's a good idea to keep several flavors in your cupboard all the time. Try apple, of course, and any of your other favorite fruit flavors, such as blueberry, strawberry or cherry.

The topping for this pizza is a blend of sharp, shredded cheddar cheese, brown sugar and a bit of cinnamon to spice. We think it's best served warm, with plenty of well-chilled milk and perhaps an additional wedge of cheddar for nibbling.

Apple Pizza Pie

½ cup butter
¼ cup confectioners' sugar
1 cup sifted all-purpose flour
2 No. 2 cans or 2 1-pound 4-ounce cans Apple Pie Filling
1 cup shredded cheddar cheese
¾ cup all-purpose flour
½ cup brown sugar
½ teaspoon cinnamon

Cream butter and confectioners' sugar; add 1 cup flour to make a soft dough. Pat evenly into a 12-inch pizza pan. Bake at 350 degrees for 15 minutes. Remove from oven and spread Apple Pie Filling over crust.

Combine cheese, ¾ cup flour, brown sugar and cinnamon; sprinkle over apples. Return to oven and bake 30 minutes longer. Serve warm topped with additional cheese, if desired.

Potato Chowder A Hearty Soup

The fat left from breakfast bacon helps flavor a homemade soup.

Homemade Potato Chowder

4 cups pared diced potatoes
1 cup chopped onion
2 cups boiling water
2 teaspoons salt
2 cups milk
¼ teaspoon pepper
2 tablespoons bacon fat
Minced chives or parsley

In a medium covered saucepan or kettle gently boil the potatoes, onion, water and salt until the potatoes are tender; there should be about 1½ cups liquid plus the potatoes. Add the milk, pepper and bacon fat; reheat. Sprinkle with chives or parsley. Makes 6 servings.

Blueberry Sauce Is Gourmet Food

The two-fruit combination in this sauce is delicious.

Blueberry Sauce

1 tablespoon cornstarch
½ cup sugar
1 cup orange juice
1 package (12 ounces) frozen blueberries, thawed

In a 1-quart saucepan stir together the cornstarch and sugar; gradually stir in orange juice, keeping smooth. Add blueberries and their juice; cook and stir constantly over low heat until thickened and clear. Serve with Quick Pancakes.

* * *

Quick Pancakes — Put 2 cups milk, 2 eggs, 2 tablespoons salad (not olive) oil in a mixing bowl; add 2 cups pancake mix; whisk or stir until fairly smooth. Bake on a hot lightly greased griddle. Makes 14 to 16 pancakes using ¼ cup batter for each.

Poor Home Canning Can Cause Botulism

EAST LANSING — In spite of the fact that recent cases of botulism poisoning were caused by commercially canned or smoked fish, the greatest number of botulism outbreaks result from home canned foods.

One study shows as much as 90 per cent of the botulism outbreaks are caused by home canned foods, according to Dr. Portia Morris, nutritionist with the Michigan State University Cooperative Extension Service.

"To be safe," she says, "foods should be canned according to reliable procedures. The most important point is to use a pressure canner with an accurate gauge for all foods except fruits and high acid vegetables such as tomatoes."

The greatest dangers arise from improperly processed low-acid foods, such as beans, peas, corn and meat. Dr. Morris says botulism from home canned foods can be avoided if you:

1. Never use or taste any food which is suspected of spoilage. Some indications of spoilage are a bulging cap or lid, leaking can or jar, rancid or putrefied odor, jar or can that foams or spurts when you open it.

2. Use a pressure cooker and adequate processing time for canning all non-acid vegetables and meats. U.S.D.A. Home and Garden Bulletin No. 8, "Home Canning of Fruits and Vegetables," offers reliable home canning guides. The booklet is available free from your county Cooperative Extension Service office.

3. Take care to cover with liquid and boil for 15 minutes all non-acid foods canned by any method not using a pressure canner. Do this after opening and before tasting. Dr. Morris warns that a shorter boiling time will not destroy possible botulism toxin.

* * *

4. Since the organisms causing botulism are commonly found in the soil, be sure to use only fresh, firm fruits and vegetables that are well cleaned for home canning. Can them as soon after picking as possible.

Add Cheer With Small Extra Gifts

Christmas will be more than twice as much fun for her if Santa makes every gift two gifts. Adding an extra small gift to each of those big, special gifts doesn't add much to the cost and can add greatly to her Christmas happiness.

A pair of travel scuffs could be tucked into the gift box if Santa is presenting a robe. With her Christmas fur, include the gift of her favorite fragrance.

Fashion gifts such as sweaters and blouses can be enhanced by scarves and pretty pins or other jewelry. Put purse accessories or smart gloves into her gift handbag.

★ ★ ★

She'll not only like the extra gifts, she'll know that Santa was really thoughtful.

Ladies' Purse Is Handy Gift

She'll Carry This Item Throughout the Year

Yuletide pleasure to carry with her through the year is hers when Santa gifts her with a fashionable handbag.

This holiday season, the selection of textures, colors and styles in handbags is calculated to please every woman on Santa's list.

Included are handsome grains, glossy smooth and velvety suede leathers, delicate lustre and gleaming patent leathers.

★ ★ ★

With the sportive look the big trend in fashion these days, a smart gift choice would be a casual style — pouch, tote or satchel — in grained, brushed, waxy or antiqued leathers and deep rich colors.

WITHOUT HANDLES

If she prefers her handbags without handles, a disarming gift is a good-look leather envelope or clutch.

Especially effective with late-day costumes, this handbag style comes in smooth, suede, lustre and other beautiful leather finishes and is most often trimmed with a simple burnished florentine gold closing or other ornament.

For a really gala gift, choose one of the new evening bags in suede or lustre leather, either simply styled or with a jewel ornament.

Santa can be certain she'll put it to immediate use during all the festivities of the holidays.

★ ★ ★

For added pleasure, Santa can combine pretty purse accessories with his gift of a handbag.

Gift in Mind? How About a Brush for Wig

Wigs are expensive enough to be classed as valuable possessions.

And whether or not they're high style, owners have invested enough in these extra coifs that they're going to take good care of them.

Like human hair, wigs look best when free from dust and oily matter. So why not consider giving a wig brush as a novel Christmas gift?

A wig brush helps keep a wig naturally clean and well-groomed. Brushing keeps the wig hairs from snarling and breaking, and reduces the need for drycleaning, shampooing and setting.

D.C. Tree Symbol of Hope for Peace

CAPITAL GLOW — Lights on the National Christmas Tree and on small trees that line the main walk of the Pageant of Peace run into the thousands. Scene of this annual display is the Ellipse, a park between the White House and Washington Monument.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Forty years ago, in 1923, President Calvin Coolidge began what has become one of America's favorite observances — the dedication of a national Christmas tree near the White House.

This year, once again, the tree-lighting dedication will be part of an elaborate Pageant of Peace Dec. 23-30.

The pageant has been presented since 1954, drawing large numbers of visitors to Washington at a time of year when the capital is not otherwise much of a tourist attraction.

★ ★ ★

It is a time for "oohs!" and "ahs!", when the great tree bursts into brilliant colors at the touch of a presidential finger on a master control switch.

It is a time of solemnity, too.

TO PROMOTE PEACE

The pageant's articles of incorporation say it was formed "for the promotion of world peace and the fostering of understanding and friendship of the peoples of the world with the American people."

Many embassies share in the occasion, through sponsorship of individual smaller trees set out in rows forming a Pathway of Peace.

These trees bear messages from the people of the various nations.

Also, children of embassy personnel take part in a festival in which they wear the costumes of their native lands, and present appropriate tableaux.

★ ★ ★

Choruses, bands, bell ringers, carol singers have pageant role too. There are even live reindeer, first sent here from Alaska in 1958.

PRESIDENT SPEAKS

Peace, naturally, is a main theme of the presidential remarks at the lighting.

Last Christmas for instance, President John F. Kennedy made reference to the near-brush with war that came in the 1962 Cuban-Russian-missile crisis, and said: "The peril was faced and reason ruled."

Therefore, he went on, Americans could feel "a little bit more confident of peace on earth, good will to men."

★ ★ ★

And President Dwight D. Eisenhower said in inaugurating the Pageant of Peace nine years ago:

"To all the dwellers of the Earth, I speak for this Republic, and directly from the heart of every one of its citizens, when I say that this nation prays for you, all of you, the fullness of the Christmas spirit, peace and goodwill."

EVERGREEN

It was the National Geographic Society that pinned down the origin of the special national tree as a Coolidge administration first. That tree was an evergreen from Coolidge's native Vermont.

Coolidge had been in the White House only about four months, having succeeded to the presidency at the death of Warren G. Harding, Aug. 2, 1923.

Perhaps contributing to Coolidge's decision to have the tree was the presence in the White House of the two young sons of President and Mrs. Coolidge. (One, Calvin Jr., died the following year.)

★ ★ ★

The first national tree was placed on the Ellipse, south of the White House grounds.

The Ellipse is still the scene, although in some intervening years the tree has been set up in Lafayette Park, across Pennsylvania Avenue from the White House.

TOWERING FIR

On occasion, too, large living evergreens on the White House south lawn have been used.

In recent years the choice has usually been a towering spruce or fir, brought by rail from points as far away as Maine and Washington state. A height of 60-70 feet is usual.

★ ★ ★

In recent years the thousands of colored lights on the big tree have been controlled from an electronic console that transforms the musical notes into impulses that change, impressively, the colors and degree of brightness of the lights.

The harmattan is a hot, dry wind that sweeps in from the desert of Upper Volta. It dries up plants in the capital city, Ouagadougou and sprinkles them with dry powder.

Do-It-Yourself Doll Furniture

You can give a little girl doll furniture for Christmas and spend almost no money.

Use a cigar box to make her a "cedar chest."

Cover it carefully inside and out with wallpaper or gift-wrap paper.

★ ★ ★

Make a wardrobe to match by covering a shoe box. Stand the "wardrobe" upright and make a hole on each side in the center of the box about an inch from the top.

INSERT YARN

Insert a piece of yarn through the holes, knot each end. Then cut hangers for doll dresses from pasteboard and hang on the pole.

You can glue together several large match boxes and cover with the same decorative paper, making a chest of drawers.

Once you start making furniture, you'll probably be able to think of uses for lots of boxes you've been saving "to use someday."

Automobile Makes Good Yule Present

Although a new car for mother, eligible son or daughter, would be a superb gift for Christmas — what with the new 1964 models now available — used cars also enter the gift giving category in especially fine style this year.

This is due to the fact that trade-ins now in stocks of new car dealers include not only fine models of recent vintage, but cars that are exceptionally "clean," to use a perfectly understandable trade term.

New and used cars both are expected to figure significantly in this year's Yule gifts picture, especially where there are responsible children in their upper teens. They too now need cars to get around to schools and jobs.

How to give an automobile for Christmas and still make it a surprise? One way is to arrange with the dealer to make delivery, in the name of the correct person, Christmas morning.

Another way is to present the keys for the car, handsomely wrapped in a jewel box.

Use Razor-Sharp Knife

Turkey Carving Has Its Rules

Treat your turkey with tender loving care and a sharp knife and your carving results will be cause for pride.

There are really more don'ts than do's in the proper slicing of a gobbler but it is an accomplishment that anyone can achieve.

Proof of the desire to be able to carve the bird in neat and traditional style is provided by the demonstrations that have been taking place at Hess', Allentown, Pa. nationally known department store. For the past three years the store pioneered this type of demonstration and demand has literally kept it going.

Mothers send their newlywed daughters to learn how to separate the thigh neatly from the carcass of the turkey. New husbands, anxious to do right at their first family Holiday feast, take time off from work to learn the tradition of the carving knife.

Former Hess students return to polish their techniques. Max Hess even received personal notes enclosed with customers' monthly checks asking when the demonstrations were scheduled.

★ ★ ★

The students at Hess' turkey carving school are first of all advised to attack the bird with zest and be sure to use a razor sharp knife.

PLACE IT RIGHT

The next step is to place the turkey parallel to yourself with the drumsticks on your left. Take a good grasp on the drumstick farthest from you. Rid your mind of any notions of etiquette about the use of fingers at the Holiday dinner table.

The drumsticks come off first. Get at the dark meat and then the white meat comes easy.

Now stand closer with your knife at the bird's thigh, as you pull the drumstick away. Hear that pop? It's the joint breaking off. The bird's leg and joint are then placed on the serving platter.

SLICE DRUMSTICK

Separate the drumstick from the thigh bone by cutting through the middle of the section. Start slicing the drumstick — still holding it in your left hand, if you're a right handed carver. You can obtain several slices of meat from the drumstick before cutting strips from the thigh.

At this point the carver should pause a moment to sharpen his knife before he starts on the white meat. It is suggested that you leave the wings on the bird to serve as a base for holding the bird securely with the breast up.

Anchor the bird with your fork. Make your first cut at a point just below the keel- or breast bone. Keep your knife behind the meat. Don't be a cut-up. Cut downward, and let the lucious white slices "peel" off so your guests can see the meat. Don't keep them in the dark and you'll hear them say . . . ahhhh.

★ ★ ★

Make nice even slices, cut them short and keep some of the browned skin on the slices to make them look attractive.

You can keep slicing right through the center of the bird.

The sweetest bit of meat in the bird is known as the oyster. It is just back of the turkey's thigh bone. Now dig your knife in deep, drop your fork, grab it with your fingers and spear it out. Continue the cut above the thigh and start spooning dressing from the innards.

And here you have two platters of meat, dark and white and a platter of dressing to serve your guests and give them a bit of everything.

★ ★ ★

You have one side of the turkey cleanly shorn and are ready to tackle the wings. Place the bird wing side up and remove the wing tip by lifting it up with your fingers and cutting it between the first and second joint. Cut away from yourself.

The drumstick on the second side is ready to be cut off. Next comes the breast. You begin from the front end until you reach the breast bone.

Poach in Syrup

Dress up the meatloaf or roast with a bracelet of rosy apple balls. Peel two pounds of juicy Red Delicious apples and cut out balls with a ball cutter. Poach apple balls until tender in one cup sugar, one cup water, and ½ cup red cinnamon candies.

Cheesed Onions

Fry 2 cups thinly sliced onions in butter over medium heat until lightly browned. Sprinkle 2 tablespoons flour over onions. Add about 1 cup of coffee cream. Season with salt and pepper. Sprinkle ½ cup crumbled American blue cheese on top and cook slowly for 2 minutes.

Prices Effective Thru Sat., Nov. 30th. We Reserve the Right to Limit Quantities.

Nuclear Test Ban Treaty: Fitting Kennedy Memorial

By LEON DENNEN
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

NEW YORK—President Kennedy's outstanding achievement in international affairs lives after him; it is the nuclear test-ban agreement he recently concluded with Russia.

Though he never trusted the Russians, Kennedy's foreign policy was based on the possibility of coexistence with them in one world.

He saw the bitter conflict between Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev and Red China's Mao Tse-tung as an opportunity to convince the Russians their future and the future of the entire world depended on cooperation that excluded the possibility of an atomic holocaust.

★ ★ ★

Will the new President Lyndon Johnson continue President Kennedy's foreign policies?

HISTORICAL THOUGHT

Historians still speculate on what the world would have looked like had President Roosevelt been alive when the last war ended in 1945.

It is a known fact that his successor, the then Vice President Harry Truman, never participated actively in the conduct of foreign affairs.

Thus, when Roosevelt died there was a vacuum in American foreign policy.

★ ★ ★

Truman, in faithfully carrying out the Yalta Agreement of 1944, enabled the Russians to extend their domination to all of eastern Europe and East Germany.

RUSSIA THOUGHT

Historians assent that toward the end of his life President Roosevelt realized that Russia never meant to keep the agreements reached at Yalta.

President Lyndon Johnson is in a different situation. He is no newcomer to foreign affairs. He has been Kennedy's close collaborator.

Nevertheless, there probably will be important changes in foreign policy under the new President. Lyndon Johnson is more conservative than Kennedy, has less faith in the Russians.

★ ★ ★

He is expected to try to re-establish friendly relations with French President de Gaulle and strengthen NATO and other western alliances which were in a sad state of disintegration in recent months.

LESS ATTENTION

Johnson doubtless will pay less attention to the academic advisers who were part of President Kennedy's entourage and seek to exploit to the advantage of the free world the conflict between Russia and Red China.

The United States is the most powerful country in the western alliance and the world's freedom in the foreseeable future will depend a great deal on President Johnson's foreign policies.

There is no doubt that for Russia President Kennedy's death has raised a hornets' nest.

★ ★ ★

Nikita Khrushchev, for all his duplicity, wanted to come to some agreement with the United States. He needs a breathing spell in the Red world to mend his political fences and to come to grips with Mao Tse-tung.

EXPLOITED TALKS

He exploited his on-again and off-again negotiations with President Kennedy in an effort to display his peaceful intentions.

Kennedy's death is likely to unleash the anti-Khrushchev and pro-Chinese forces in Russia. In recent weeks, Mao Tse-tung has even appealed to Red generals to "eliminate" Khrushchev.

Until now Khrushchev has been able to outmaneuver his enemies.

The death of Kennedy may give his enemies their long awaited opportunity to strike again.

Tip for Fingers: Get Her Gloves

Leather Gauntlets in Different Sizes

Here's a tip for Santa: Put fashion at her finger tips this Christmas with a gift of lovely leather gloves.

Fashions in gloves go to every length this winter, so you can't go wrong no matter which length you select.

And, you'll find hundreds of styles and colors in smooth or finely grained kid leather, soft suede and doeskin leathers and textured pigskins.

★ ★ ★

Since most coats end between the wrist and the elbow this year, your gift will be welcome whether it's a six-button kid gauntlet, an eight-button doeskin musketaire or a 12-button elbow-length glove.

FUR, LACING

Though most leather gloves will depend on their soft, supple elegance for fashion effect, some styles feature a thin strip of fur at the wrists, contrasting leather lacing around the cuffs, or contrasting color stitching on the fingers.

If, after all these years, you still don't know her glove size, get her a pair of the new leather stretch gloves that fit most women.

The leather glove color range covers all the shades in winter's fashion spotlight such as cranberry, winter blue, bright gold, pine needle, and all tones of brown and beige from bitter chocolate to bone.

★ ★ ★

In the evening, when the full-length glove lends formal grace to an evening ensemble, leather gloves—smooth or suede—are smart in either white or black.

Frequently, a white glove has black beading or other detailing and vice versa.

PIGSKIN

For the suburbanite and sportswoman, pigskin gloves complete a casual ensemble.

★ ★ ★

For sure, frost-free control of her car wheel, select gloves of smooth or textured leather lined in wool.

Smooth Gift: a Mink Coat

One Woman in 1,666 Will Be Proud Owner

Whether it be a coat, stole, jacket or wrap, furriers this coming Yuletide season have made gifts of a mink even more tempting.

According to the Emba Mink Breeders Association, the organization of American ranchers who produce the high quality mink in twelve natural colors, one lucky woman in 1,666 will own a mink fashion this year.

There is a wide variety of styles from which to choose gifts, and the twelve Emba shades give every woman the added gift of choice of color — to suit her complexion, hair color or personal taste.

* * *

High on the list of fur fashions this year are those with casual styling. For example, a trench coat of Morning Light, Emba natural blue-beige mink, is considered "in," whether over a skirt and sweater or over a long crepe dinner gown.

CASUAL WHITE

Jasmine, Emba pure white mink, long considered to be an evening fur, has gone casual.

One designer has styled the elegant fur into a notch-collared, double-breasted coat with patch pockets and labeled it a day-time fashion.

Yet another designer has fashioned the luscious white fur into a triangular shape, and as an added fillip, it has been edged with white ostrich feathers.

Honey of a Job, Says Teen-Aged Keeper of Bees

UMATILLA, Fla. (AP) — "The bees don't sting me much anymore . . . now that they've gotten to know me," says 15-year-old Jerry Latner, who has 60 hives of bees now and hopes to have 300 by his graduation day three years from now.

At times Jerry has been treated for as many as a dozen bites on one hand.

He has built up an immunity to the stings and wouldn't find them as uncomfortable now as he did in the beginning when the bees attacked him frequently.

* * *

Introduced to the bee business by his vocational agriculture teacher, Jerry eventually hopes to have 800 hives in production.

* * *

He builds his frames for the hives and does his own extracting of honey from the combs.

Baker Sought Big Time, House on Hill

By BILL McCORMACK

WASHINGTON (NEA) — Who and what is Robert Gene Baker?

Where did he get the $2 million he is supposed to have amassed on a government salary?

How did this small-town boy become so big as a handyman in federal affairs that his hasty resignation lit a fuse which, despite some frantic efforts to stamp it out, threatens to touch off the biggest bang since Teapot Dome blew its lid year ago?

What makes Bobby run?

"Bobby Baker is the boy who couldn't stop wanting to live in the big house on the hill," is the way one veteran Washington correspondent who knows him well described him.

* * *

Baker, who abdicated his $19,000-a-year post as Secretary for the Senate majority when the Rules Committee looked into his affairs, is a native of Pickens, S.C.; (pop. about 2,000).

ALL OVER SOUTH

"I've never been to Pickens," said the correspondent, "but almost every southern town has such a house and it becomes a symbol.

The man who lives in it is the wealthiest and most influential person for miles around. Every kid with any ambition wants to grow up to live in that house."

Until he received a political plum in Washington when he was 14, Bobby lived in the modest clapboard house where his parents reared eight children.

* * *

His father, Ernest, became a letter carrier in 1929 — one year after Bobby was born — was promoted to clerk 10 years later, made assistant postmaster in 1960, "while the Republicans were still in the White House," he likes to point out.

GOT HIS HOUSE

Baker got his big house on the hill, a $125,000 residence near the home of his sponsor and friend, President Lyndon B. Johnson, just before the bubble burst.

The summer he was 13, Bobby went to work as a soda-jerk in Bird Lewis' drug store, where he quickly established himself as a take-charge guy.

"Bobby made it his business to know everybody and everything in the store," Lewis has said. "Before long he was doing everything but filling prescriptions."

* * *

Baker almost didn't get to the nation's capital. The late Sen. Burnet Maybank asked Pickens businessman Harold Holder to recommend someone for a senate page appointment, having in mind Holder's son, Dwight.

BOBBY GOT JOB

Dwight didn't want it and the chance to go to Washington in the well-paying job with free schooling fell to young Bobby.

By the time he was 16 Bobby was chief page.

When Lyndon Johnson came to the Senate from the House in 1949, Bobby latched on to his coattails and rode with him to become secretary for the Senate minority when the President was minority whip and secretary for the mapority when the Texan became majority whip.

Baker didn't put all his faith and favors in one man. He ingratiated himself with such important senators as the late Robert S. Kerr, the tremendously wealthy Oklahoman, George Smathers of Florida, a long-time personal friend of the late President Kennedy, and just about everybody of high or potentially high capital status.

* * *

"There's somebody like Bobby in every political setup," said an old hand. "They run errands, keep track of details that nobody else wants to bother with, know everything and everybody.

GUYS YOU CALL

"They're the guys you call when you don't know who else to ask to do something."

Baker's influence expanded. During the last presidential campaign Bobby did everything but handle the throttle on the locomotive that pulled vice president - to - be Johnson's special train through the Southland.

The train stopped long enough for Johnson to make a side trip by bus to Pickens.

As an "inmate," Baker got deeply involved in "running the asylum." It has been reported that he furnished wrong information to Democratic senators which helped defet Kennedy's pet medicare bill.

* * *

Baker himself has said he borrowed $40,000 from Senator Kerr, one of the chief opponents of the legislation a short time before the bill was sunk in the Senate by two votes.

BREW BUBBLED

The brew bubbled over when an old friend of Bobby's named Ralph Hill sued Baker for $300,000. Hill Claimed Baker took a cut for putting Hill's vending machines in an electronics plant.

He charged Baker then double crossed him by trying to kick out Hill's machines in favor of machines from a company in which Bobby had a financial interest.

That loosed the flood waters. The Senate Rules Committee started rooting into Baker's affairs and it quickly developed that the interests of what Rep H. R. Gross, an Iowa Republican, called "thin Ponzi from Pickens," were far-flung and colorfully varied.

* * *

Baker was until this spring half-owner of the Carousel, a nigh club-motel in Ocean City, Md., whose opening wat attended by 200 Washington nabobs, including Lyndon and Ladybird Johnson.

FIRM PRESIDENT

He was president of the Blue Ridge Development Corporation, which has about 30 acres near Pickens and had an interest in Greenville Memorial Gardens, a perpetual care cemetery.

Until he sold out to his sister, Mrs. Betty Chapman, and her husband, Baker owned the credit bureau in Easley, near Pickens, and he holds a few shares in the Bank of Pickens, founded by the same Dwight Holder who didn't want to go to Washington, and a couple of other local people.

Bobby also had a piece of an insurance agency, a law firm, a travel agency and a Howard Johnson motel.

* * *

So far, the people of Pickens are still solidly behind their wonder boy.

OUTSMARTED THEM

"Most people down here think Bobby outsmarted them up there and they flared up at him," is the way Chief of Police Wesley Stone expressed it.

One fact brought out by the investigation is that Bobby Baker bought another house, this one not on a hill.

It was a town house near the Capitol tenanted by Bobby's private secretary, curvacious blonde Carole Tyler, 24, and Mary Alice Martin, one of Senator Smather's staff.

Bobby, his wife Dorothy and their five small children attend the Main Street Baptist Church every Sunday when they are in Pickens.

If it turns out that Bobby has been guilty of other than financial or ethical misconduct, the people of his home town may change their minds about him.

PERENNIAL FAVORITES — Bicycles also win smiles as Christmas presents. Lightweight models, like these, are equipped with hand brakes and gears that give racers up to 15 speeds.

Dining Areas Can Take On Christmas Air

Give your dining area a festive air by coordinating your table setting and window shades.

Sewing experts suggest you make place mats of white linen and border them with narrow edges of green and white checked gingham.

Fold the napkins flat in the shape of a stylized Christmas tree. Then slip these through an appliqued napkin holder. Tie with perky red velvet bow.

Coordinate window shades by cutting matching green and white gingham trees in various sizes and paste them as a border on your shades. Satin stitch to finish raw edges.

* * *

Accentuate your holiday decor. Properly arranged light can soften or highlight trees, creches or other special decorations.

USE FLOODLIGHTS

After trimming and fireproofing your tree, place three or four floodlights at its base. Aim the lamps at the ceiling.

Tinsel and spangles will glisten and the shadows will give a filigree pattern on the ceiling.

HARMONIZING — As the girls of the family sing Christmas carols, big sister is dressed in an iridescent cotton chambray dress with a mandarin collar and long sleeves. Little sister wears a plaid dress of royal blue and emerald green orlon and viscose, with bodice trimmed in white linen.

First U.S. Quints to Live

HOW THEY GREW — James Andrew Fischer (left) is just 6 days old here as a nurse feeds him through a nose tube while he rests in the temperature and humidity controlled environment of his Isolette. Ten days later, his sister, Mary Catherine (right), is bottle fed in her Isolette. Mary Catherine and James Andrew were third and fourth of the Fischer quints to be born.

BIG BROTHER — James Andrew was the first quint to leave his Isolette for a regular incubator. His sisters, still in Isolettes when this picture was taken, are shown in the background. The biggest and strongest of the babies, he was the first scheduled to go home. This is the latest photograph of the quints to be released.

Quiet Fischer Doctor Had a Full Hour

By Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

For an event which happens once in every 54 million chances, the birth of the Fischer quintuplets was over in a deceptively short time.

The first, Mary Ann, was delivered a few minutes before 2 a.m. on Saturday, Sept. 14. There followed in rapid sequence, Mary Magdalene, Mary Catherine and James Andrew. Mary Margaret arrived a little after 3 a.m.

Into that hour were poured all the skill of a tall, quiet doctor, all the courage of a 30-year-old mother and all the efficiency of 225-bed St. Luke's Hospital.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Fischer entered St. Luke's on Wednesday, Sept. 11, for a checkup on the advice of her doctor, Dr. James N. Berbos, 41, is a general practitioner who delivers more babies than many obstetricians.

X RAY PROOF

X rays disclosed five tiny skeletons. Mary Ann and Andy, 38, were told what to expect that day.

After learning of the expected quintuplets, St. Luke's administrator, Sister M. Stephen, immediately bought a third Isolette and arranged to rent two others.

These special and expensive ($1,200) incubators for premature babies control temperature and humidity and filter out bacteria.

★ ★ ★

By the time Mrs. Fischer's labor began around midnight Friday, three doctors, five nurses and an extensive array of equipment stood ready.

For the safety of the quints, who were arriving two months early, Mary Ann agreed to go through the delivery without drugs or anesthetic. She was conscious the entire time.

All five are now healthy, out of the incubators, and seemingly thriving in new bassinets.

Mary Ann, the smallest at birth, is now reaching toward six pounds and James Andrew is now a strapping nine-pounder.

★ ★ ★

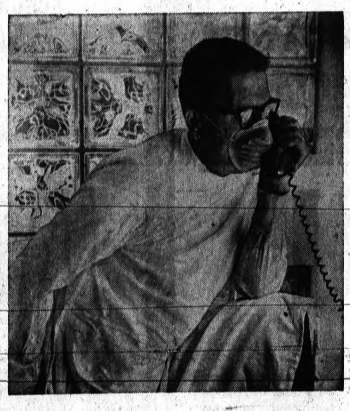

Dr. Berbos, who has been practicing in his home town since 1949, skillfully kept out of the limelight.

PAY TRIBUTE

But those in the delivery room paid tribute to his masterful handling of the birth.

★ ★ ★

Perhaps the only irony of the quintuplet story is that the doctor with experience unique to living North American practitioners will very likely never have a chance to put it to work again.

DOCTOR ON CALL — Dr. James Berdos, who delivered the Fischer quintuplets, makes a telephone call at St. Luke's Hospital in Aberdeen, S.D., during the early days of the quint's life.

FISCHERS AND THEIR FIVE — Parents and quints get together in the nursery of St. Luke's Hospital for their first group picture. The babies, in Isolettes, are (from front): Mary Ann, Mary Magdalene, James Andrew, Mary Margaret and Mary Catherine.

Pioneer Stock, Religion Got the Family Through

BY NEWSPAPER ENTERPRISE ASSOCIATION

In the age of the promoter and the fast buck, Andrew and Mary Ann Fischer have blown through this year's headlines like a cool wind off the prairies of their native Dakotas.

They determined at the start that no one would make a circus out of their family just because they had produced quintuplets.

They have seemed particularly concerned about the effect of the event on their five older children. One of the first comments Andy made after the birth on Sept. 14, was:

★ ★ ★

"The Fischers now have 10 children, not quintuplets and five others."

GUARDIANSHIP SET UP

A financial guardianship was set up to protect the interests of all the children, not just the five new Fischers.

The parents have rejected or returned all gifts which had commercial strings attached. The only major contracts were with the Curtis Publishing Co., for the family's picture and story rights and with Brown & Bigelow Co., who will publish a calendar featuring the babies.

But even the unattached gifts and money that have come to them apparently were not expected. In his copyrighted story in the Saturday Evening Post, Andy writes of his reaction when told Mary Ann was carrying five babies.

"I was probably the most worried man in the United States. It never occurred to me that the birth of quintuplets would make news around the world . . . The big question was: How can I possibly earn enough to take care of 10 all at once?"

MOTHER WORRIED, TOO

Mary Ann cried most of that same night with the same worries.

Those concerns have now largely vanished. The Aberdeen Chamber of Commerce will build the Fischers a house. Meanwhile, they have moved into a large rented house in town where a nursery for the quints is being readied. It is here they will start their real life as a family.

Why have the Fishchers been able to handle the pressures of their new situation without losing their sense of values?

The rigors of living on Andy's $76-a-week shipping clerk's salary may have helped. Their pioneer stock could be a plus, too.

The Fischer Family Is of German Descent

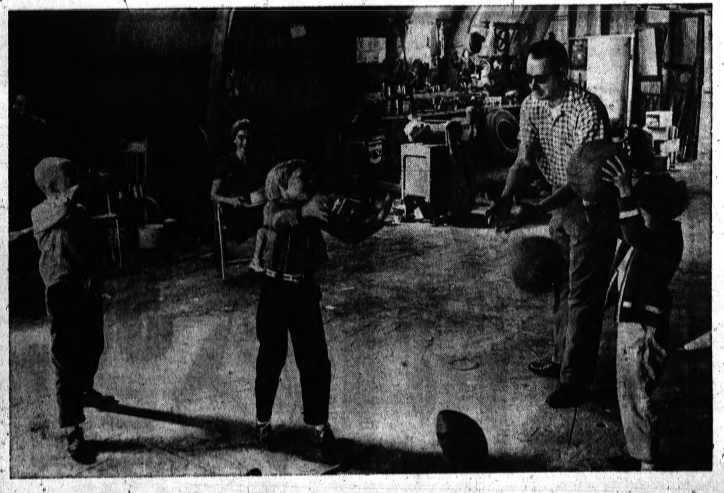

The Fischer family is descended from emigrant German farming families who carved their living out of the often inhospitable Dakota land.

As Andy writes in the Post of his thoughts just before the quints were born:

"We are a religious people—I prayed that God would give both of us the strength and wisdom to handle the responsibilities we would have to be facing very soon."

REASON FOR THANKS — Mr. and Mrs. Fischer share a festive turkey with their five older children and Mrs. Fischer's mother, Mrs. Elmer Brady. Seated around the table (clockwise) starting with Andy, wielding the knife, are: Daniel Patrick, 8; Evelyn Kay, 4½; Julie Renee, 6; Mary Ann; Denise Joyce, 3½; Mrs. Brady; and Charlotte Ann, 7.

FAMILY OF 10 — The Fischers are determined their older children will not be overshadowed by their famous sisters and brother. A few days after Mary Ann came from the hospital, the seven Fischers visited the home of Mrs. Fischer's parents in Hecla, S.D. Here in the machine shed, Andy plays ball with (from left) Danny, Charlotte and Julie, while Mary Ann watches.

COSMORAMA — It's a new kit which becomes a miniature planetarium when put together, duplicating features and workings of a real one. It projects 29 constellations, including 159 stars, on a 26-inch dome. Illuminated sky charts are synchronized with the star projector. Any "star" navigator over 10 will be thrilled to dial the full 24-hour cycle. It operates with three C-type flashlight batteries.

The dazzling, delightful season, the season of Christmas gifts shopping, is getting away to an early start. It is spreading its wonders before the young in years and the young at heart.

Masterminding it all is Santa, that jolly old fellow with the long white beard and the colorful red suit.

Yes, Santa has arrived, with an important message for one and all. He's here to share what he has learned in years of joyful, generous giving. It's "Wrap up This Christmas early."

★ ★ ★

There are many reasons why Santa says it pays to wrap up Christmas early, but the one that covers all others is — for the fun of it!

Both Christmas gifts shopping and Christmas itself are more fun when early shoppers take advantage of the opportunity to see all the exciting gifts ideas in full, fresh array and select unhurriedly just the right gifts for every name on the list.

For early shoppers, stores offer the conveniences of layaways and credit plans. Following the rule of "Layaway a Gift a Day" makes Christmas gifting both easier and better.

This year especially, Santa cautions, it's urgent to make a point of shopping early.

★ ★ ★

The late Thanksgiving, November 28th, shortens the "traditional" shopping season to the extent that unwary gifts seekers may be caught in a last-minute rush unless care is taken to get started on the gifts list at the earliest opportunity.

DAZZLING DELIGHT

That opportunity is here! Santa has stationed his assistants in the gaily decorated stores of the city, where the wider-than-ever gifts array is indeed a dazzling delight.

Truly a joyous beginning to the wonders of the Christmas season is a visit to Toyland. Parents as well as children will be wide-eyed when they behold the ever-amazing advances in the field of toys, dolls and games.

Surprisingly lifelike dolls not only walk and talk, they can "learn," through tape-recording devices, and help to teach or amuse their proud owners by telling stories or reciting the alphabet.

★ ★ ★

Toys and games, which first added educational features to their entertainment advantages, now help encourage creativity, too.

ADULTS EXCITED

Adults get a full share in the news and excitement of Christmas gifting this season.

For women, a world of fashion gifts brings pride and pleasure, with practicality. This is a year of great variety in fashion design, which makes it even easier for Santa to select gifts that appeal to her special interests, taste and personality.

Personal interests are always a good guide to gifting, and this is particularly true in the case of men, who have the reputation of being something of a problem when it comes to getting the right gifts inspirations.

Happily, this situation has changed, for now men's widening range of interests and the growing number of products to serve those interests make gifts shopping for a man a real pleasure.

COUNTLESS GIFTS

Business, hobbies, sports, travel, leisure are just a few of the areas that offer countless ways to gift a man.

For Christmas, the season when home means more than ever, gifts the whole family can enjoy are especially appropriate.

Furniture and furnishings to increase home comfort and beauty get a warm welcome, and so do the major appliances, which make life easier for every member of the family.

★ ★ ★

Small appliances offer wonderfully varied gifts ideas, as they are available to do everything from drying hair and brushing teeth to shining shoes. Even the old standbys take on a new look — for instance, multiple-slice toasters.

ENTERTAINMENT ARRAY

The widening array of entertainment gifts ranges from TV-stereo console sets decorator-designed to serve as handsome pieces of furniture to new tiny TV sets and smaller-than-ever transistors.

Allied to the entertainment category are hobby gifts, where a significant increase in interest is seen.

Photographic gifts, for example, include not only many new cameras but important gadget innovations galore, each designed to serve specific practical purposes.

★ ★ ★

Early shoppers will see for themselves. It's easier than ever to wrap up Christmas.

So don't waste a minute! Begin now!

From Wife to Career Girl

Fashions to Fit Roles

Fashion gifts delight a woman's good taste, compliment her, keep her comfortable and save her time.

To all this is added the special, personal pleasure they give her, for the range of fashion gifts is as wide as a woman's interests.

Gifts to please her in many roles as homemaker, wife, mother, career woman, hobbyist, sports enthusiast — to name a few of the "roles" — all are available from the world of fashion.

★ ★ ★

The glamour gift to pamper for carrying out so many roles and please, and to reward her so well, is fur, and this Christmas season sees a wealth of new ideas for fur giving.

With the sports-and-fun furs high in fashion favor, Santa finds opportunities to give the flattery of fur at moderate cost.

The fun furs — kit fox, lynx, guanaco, monkey, tiger, for example — are moderately priced, yet prized as gifts. They make perfect second — or third, fourth and fifth — furs for the woman who already has a mink.

Any fashion gift, however, can mean glamour for her, and often it is glamour at little cost.

The current popularity of sportive fashions puts separates in the limelight as gifts choices.

Sweaters, shirts, skirts, jackets, vests and jumpers all have the double advantages of multiplying her wardrobe and satisfying her interest in fashion.

FASHION IMPETUS

Gifts to delight her in her private life also receive impetus from fashion.

The long skirt stars for at-home lounging and might be a different, fashionable gift for her. Enchanting robes, as warm and practical as they are elegant; pajamas and gowns; and a variety of slips, pettis and panties are all designed for successful giving.

★ ★ ★

Easy care aspect of many fashions, from shirts to slips, make them particularly acceptable when discovered under the tree, since time-saving is an important factor in her busy, varied life.

ACCESSORIES

Accessories are at hand to accent every phase of that busy life.

Handbags, gloves, belts, scarves, stockings, stoles and head warmers present a pleasing selection of gifts ideas, each appreciated for the assistance it gives her in planning a wardrobe to serve at all hours and occasions.

The fashion craze for leather, particularly suede, might inspire Santa to gift her with a coat or jacket, dress or separates in one of the new supple leathers.

★ ★ ★

If he isn't sure about her style preference, classics are especially good this season.

TO WARM HER HEART

Beauty aids and fragrances come under the category of fashion gifts, enhancing her and her outfits and giving her a welcome lift in the midst of her busy rounds.

★ ★ ★

From aprons to car coats to all-weather boots, even the most functional of gifts has an air of fashion that warms her feminine heart.

★ ★ ★

Santa needs only to check hometown stores to see for himself. There's a world of pleasure for her in fashion gifts.

Federal aid represented about 44 per cent of the $7 billion of public road and street construction in the United States in 1961.

Different Actions May Affect Selection of State Legislature

LANSING (UPI) — The question of how Michigan's Legislature will be chosen in 1964 gains in importance daily as actions progress on three fronts that could vitally effect the answer.

To begin with the original suit challenging the present frozen district lines of the State Senate remains unresolved before the U.S. Supreme Court.

Another suit, testing the apportionment formula of the new constitution, should reach trial state in the U.S. District Court in Port Huron by early next year.

Finally to be considered are the deliberations of the eight-member State Apportionment Commission created by the new constitution.

COULD UPSET WORK

Either court could issue a ruling that could completely upset the work of the apportionment commission and, if, by some political miracle, the four Republicans and four Democrats trying to work out Senate and House district lines under the complex formula of the new constitution do reach agreement new legal challenges could take their decision into the State Supreme Court.

What legislators from both parties are now beginning to fear — and it would be a nightmare for the voters too— is that the apportionment question will become so muddled that the only way out come 1964 will be at-large elections for all seats.

One of the more interesting developments in the over all question of fair legislative apportionment came in the U.S. Supreme Court recently when U.S. solicitor General Archibald Cox presented briefs in the Alabama case.

'STRONGEST SHOWING'

Cox argued, "It would take the strongest showing to justify a substantial departure from population in both houses" of a state legislature. But he did state that if one house had equal districts the other chamber might be able to stray from that standard.

Cox said, "I was not arguing for absolute majority rule. I said you could not stray too far from it."

In Michigan this statement met two reactions:

Atty. Gen. Frank J. Kelley, a strong advocate of the one man, one vote principle, said, "We were highly gratified by the brief filed by the solicitor general because we feel this brief gives strength and support to our position."

State Sen. John Fitzgerald, R-Grand Ledge, who joined with two other Republican Senators to fight for the frozen district lines, said, "This is not bad for our case at all — it goes along with it, in fact. I think either of our senatorial apportionments can be justified."

KELLEY'S COMMENTS

In analyzing the present situation Kelley said, "The very least we feel the court will come up with is a ruling that one house must be based strictly on population and that the other house should be based either strictly on population and some other factor which has a rational relationship to representation in a representative democracy."

Kelley wouldn't speculate on what other factor might be, "but one thing it won't be is mere area," he said.

"It is fruitless to try to predict what will happen, but one prediction can safely be made," Kelley said.

* * *

"It may be next year, or in three years or in five years but eventually the principle of representation democracy will be enforced at or very near the one man, one vote principle."

NOVELTY TOY — This boy is intrigued by his new little puppy. The novel toy dog catches a ball when it's rolled into his mouth. Then when his ear is tweaked, he gives it up and walks away.

An aircraft collision-warning device using infrared radiation from a plane in flight is being considered.

Make Cards to Send Out at Christmas

All you need to make your own distinctive Christmas cards, is a little artistic talent, lots of spare time, plenty of patience and some scraps of cloth!

If you have these things, then this article is for you.

The first step is to select the envelope. It's much easier to cut your cards to fit the envelopes than to have to make or try to find envelopes to fit your cards.

* * *

Start with a nice piece of cardweight paper, folded in half so your message can be written inside.

MARK DESIGN

Next, sketch or trace the design you like (keep it very simple) onto a piece of tracing paper. Then transfer the sketch to your card by means of carbon paper. Try to keep the pencil lines light.

Now you're ready to cut the pieces of fabric that you will paste into position on the card.

To do this, use the original design and trace the section you want on the back side of the fabric. Cut out and paste into place.

* * *

Small feathers, beads, braids, woven tapes, lace and doilies can be used, too. Just make sure that you use a good glue.

The practice of tattooing apparently began in the South Sea islands where the natives pricked their skin with a sharp bone dipped in soot and coconut oil.

Seek Advice When Shopping for Diamonds

Are you planning to give any diamonds this Christmas? If so, you'll want the best possible "buy."

Unless you're an expert on precious stones, your best place for the best buy in diamonds is your family jeweler's, or any reputable jeweler's.

A jeweler's knowledge of gems and his sound advice will assure that you get the best diamonds for your dollars.

★ ★ ★

Diamonds are highly individual, and so are their prices. Carat weight (size), color, clarity and cut go together to determine the price of a diamond, and each stone has a different combination of these Four-Cs.

ASK JEWELER

Look at as many diamonds as possible, and ask your jeweler to point out the Four-Cs of each.

Tell him how much money you want to spend, and he'll show you the different Four-C combinations — in diamonds — that you can buy for that amount.

Carat weight is the standard measure of size in diamonds.

A carat is so light that it takes 142 carats to make an ounce. It is divided into 100 points, like cents in a dollar.

CARAT DESIGNATION

When you see .47 on a tag, that means the diamond is three points under half a carat.

But remember that carats measure weight and not area.

Diamonds of different shapes may have the same carat weight but appear to be of different sizes because of their different areas.

★ ★ ★

Color, the second "C", affects price, too. The finest color in diamonds is no color — crystal clear.

LOWERS PRICE

Any tinge of yellow or brown lowers the price even though it may not affect the beauty of the stone.

Diamonds of strong color such as red, green, brown, pink and even lavender are higher priced than "white" diamonds because of their rarity.

A diamond is labeled "blue-white" only if it shows no traces of color other than blue.

★ ★ ★

It is incorrect to use the term "blue-white" to describe a diamond which is actually white or tinged with other color.

FREE OF FLAWS

Clarity refers to freedom from flaws or imperfections; tiny "bubbles" or carbon spots which lower the price of the diamond, but they may not detract from the gem's beauty if they are too small to be seen by the naked eye.

What is a flawless diamond? when studied under a glass One which shows no flaws that magnifies ten times.

Cut has two meanings; it refers to the shape of the stone and also to the skill with which the tiny facets (planes) were ground on to the diamond for the maximum sparkle.

★ ★ ★

If angles between the facets are not accurately cut, the diamond will not handle light properly so that it produces a brilliant blaze of light.

SIX SHAPES

Diamonds for engagement rings comes in four basic shapes and two fancy shapes.

A round diamond, often called a brilliant-cut, is popular as a solitaire (single stone) ring.

An emerald-cut has straight sides and comes in oblong or square contours.

★ ★ ★

The pear-shape is wide at one end and tapers to a point at the other.

A marquise resembles a boat with a point on either end.

Heart-shape and oval diamonds are fancy cuts often set as center stones in engagement rings.

★ ★ ★

Baguettes are small diamonds in rectangular or tapered shapes and are generally set as side stones in rings holding large center diamonds.

If Freezer Is Your Gift, Give It Early

Any wife lucky enough to be getting a new electric refrigerator-freezer for Christmas will be extra lucky if it arrives a few weeks early.

It'll save her time, trouble, and the frustration of trying to find extra space for the holiday food.

One of the blessings of a new unit is the large zero-zone freezer section which can be stocked well before Christmas with home-made or commercially prepared foods such as pie, soups, sauces and vegetables, and even the Christmas turkey.

★ ★ ★

Fresh food sections of the new electric refrigerator-freezers not only hold more food, but keep it at top quality longer.

WEEKS AHEAD

This means that for fruit, vegetables, meat and other fresh foods, shopping can be done a week or more ahead of time, instead of during the last-minute rush.

There'll be no problem about fitting the new unit into the kitchen, since today's models provide far more storage space inside without taking up extra floor space. They also fit flush against walls, in corners, or between cabinets, giving a neat, built-in look.

★ ★ ★

Best of all, many of the new electric refrigerator-freezers never need to be defrosted, since frost never forms in either the refrigerator or the freezer section.

The world's oldest national anthem is thought to be the Netherlands' "Wilhelmus van Nassouwe."

FOR THAT MAN—Something nice under the Christmas tree is a new battery-powered electric shaver (left). Rechargeable, the shaver comes in two models, one for sensitive skin. Or give a contemporary wood slat bar stool that swivels 360 degrees, has tubular steel legs and doubles as seating for guests or at the homework bench.

Put Yourself in His Shoes

Here's Footloose Gift Idea

He'll jump for joy if you give him a pair of leather shoes this Christmas.

That's because this winter, leather casuals are constructed of new leathers which combine durability with softness.

The cold weather leather casual shoe gives him the ease and walking comfort of summer months—as well as the ruggedness he needs and wants during the winter.

For a holiday romp with children, he'll appreciate the suppleness and support of a brushed leather chukka boot.

Set on a substantial leather sole that absorbs punishment like a sponge, the leather chukka flexes, bends and stretches as he runs with the youngsters.

At the same time, the ankle-high boot keeps wind and weather outside the shoe, and his feet warm and dry inside.

Another leather casual that gives him a foothold on comfort during the cold months is the smooth or grained leather slip-on.

★ ★ ★

Usually rising high on the topline, this casual is light without sacrificing protection.

MOCCASINS

Leather moccasins make a welcome gift at any season—and for good reason.

Glove-soft but rugged leathers, roomy toes and foot-hugging toplines, make moccasins as easy afoot as slippers.

Slim leather soles add little weight, but offer protection and support on hardwood floors and concrete pavements.

★ ★ ★

For dress wear during the holiday season, he'll be in step with fashion in leather brogues with medium-weight leather soles that are built for support yet cropped for smart styling.

ALL STYLES

Smooth or grained leather brogues come in rounded, crescent or blunted-square toe styles, moccasin fronts or wing-tip-and-foxing.

On a winter vacation or just at home with the family, a pair of dressy slip-ons set a tone of ease and fashion.

Hand-stitched seams and deeply notched vamps contribute to the snap and style of the dress slip-on.

★ ★ ★

This year's darkened men's shoe colors contribute to the slimmer look of the foot. Most popular are the new burnished olive—a black with green—woody browns and glossy black leathers.

SUBTLE GRAIN

Subtle grained leather and smooth leather pick up the lighter textures of men's suits, while brushed leather complements heavier textured sports slacks.

If you're uncertain about his shoe size check his closet and jot down the numbers printed on the linings of his favorite shoes.

The clerk at your local shoe or department store will be able to select the proper size from this information.

If you'd rather have him choose his own style and color, a handsome, personalized shoe gift certificate is sure to delight him.

Tips on How to Purchase Pipes, Accompaniments

A most pleasurable solution to your gift-giving problems this Christmas will be found in the wide selection of pipes and smoking tobacco which will fill tobacconists' shelves this year.

Buying a pipe for the man, or men, on your list will not only prove a pleasant surprise for him come Christmas morn, but will give you an interesting and enjoyable shopping experience because of the great variety of shapes, sizes and colors that meet your eye and the attractively packaged smoking tobaccos to accompany them.

★ ★ ★

According to the Pipe and Tobacco Council, more than half of the pipes sold for gifts are purchased by women.

★ ★ ★

The council suggests that you give careful thought to your pipe purchase and consult with your local tobacconist to help you choose the most appropriate style for the man you are trying to please.

PIPE TIPS

Here are some tips from the council: If he's a tall man choose a long stemmed, large-bowled pipe. Shorter men look well with a small bowl.

Curved stems are popular with students who are heavy readers and sandblast bowls suit the outdoorsman.

In smoking tobaccos, there is a wide selection of aromatic and nonaromatic blends, all attractively packaged in materials which assure freshness.

★ ★ ★

A new smoker or a younger man will usually prefer the aromatic sweet-smelling tobacco, while the older, inveterate pipe smoker will welcome the heavier nonaromatic flavors.

BLENDING KITS

There are also blending kits available for those who like to experiment with their own mixtures.

If the man on your list is a pipe collector, there are many unusual shapes and specially carved bowls to please him.

There is also a large selection of enjoyable corn cobs and aluminum shanked briars.

★ ★ ★

In addition, buying him a pipe will lead to a variety of accessories to solve your gift problems for a long time to come.

ACCOMPANIMENTS

While pipe and tobacco hunting in your local shops, you will see many beautiful humidors, pipe racks, pouches and other pipe smoking accompaniments which any man will appreciate and value.

★ ★ ★

As you see the man of the house lighting up his new Christmas briar, the feeling of peaceful relaxation seems to epitomize the meaning of the Christmas season.

ALL DRESSED UP — Little boys like to get all dressed up for holiday outings. This one is wearing a suit of Italian wool, popular these days with big boys, too. The three-button jacket of blue and gray plaid tops a pair of gray trousers.

Jewelry Store Has Something for Everyone

For centuries the jewelry store has been traditional gift headquarters at Christmas, carrying the most exciting selection of memorable gifts to be cherished through the years.

This year, you will find an even greater assortment from which to make your selections.

When shopping for a watch, for instance, handsome styling and individuality are likely to be as important as accuracy to the wearer.

* * *

And so great is the variety in watches this Christmas that only the trained jeweler can point out the merits and suitability of each one.

OUTDOOR WEAR

Utility watches, for out-of-door wear and sports; pocket watches and chains for formal wear and wrist watches designed especially for professional business people are found to be in striking attractive styles.

Silver holloware — tea sets, bowls, dishes, trays — reflects the good taste of the giver as few gifts can.

Because today's silverware is the focal point of fashion in the home, the factor of style judgment in selection can make for the most happiness all around, regardless of intrinsic value or price alone.

A glance at the showcases in your jewelry store will show you that each age group has been studied by designers with an eye to fashion and appropriateness.

GIFTS FOR INFANTS

The jeweler offers gifts for infants such as: bent-handle spoons, silver rattles or teething rings with silver bells, brush and comb sets, pearls for starting a necklace, cups, bib holders, porringers and tiny gift rings.

For older boys, and men for that matter, the right tie tack, tip clip, cuff links, key chain or pen-knife are to be found at the jewelers.

A wide variety of gift suggestions for young girls includes a piece of sterling in her chosen pattern, her first piece of precious jewelry in the form of a pin, bracelet, locket or sterling picture frame.

* * *

Young women's gift choices are sure to include compacts, jeweled earrings and pins, clips and rings.

APPEAR YOUNGER

Gifts of jewelry make any woman seem prettier — and younger.

Santa is linked in the minds of many with the fashions of today. That means jewelry and more of it.

Again the jeweler can be helpful, for he makes it his business to know the fashion trends, whether it emphasizes longer waistlines, shorter sleeves, distinctive necklines, or whether the jewel accent is to be near the face, lapel, waist or elsewhere.

Sterling identification bracelets are worn early today by young men in their teens; their pen and pencil sets, leather wallets and desk accessories will tend to reflect personal tastes as well as future professions or occupations.

SMOKING ACCESSORIES

Smoking accessories take on importance, including lighters, cigarette cases and holders.

Rings may assume the importance of fraternal insignia, the dignity of initial or signet designs.

* * *

Perhaps the birthstone ring has become significant in the young man's life as a gift ring worth having and wearing for its symbolic meaning and proof of someone's lasting affection and regard.

Homes Light Way to Spirit of the Season

Festive lights beaming in and around many homes at Christmas joyfully express the spirit of the season.

It's a custom that dates back to earliest times, when the glow of a candle, the flame of a Yule log proclaimed holiday happiness.

While today's lighted decorations may be more elaborate, the same meaning remains.

* * *

Families decorate lawns and home exteriors so that they may share Yuletide joys not only with friends and neighbors but with every casual passerby.

TRADITIONAL PIECES

Most families have traditional decorative pieces they like to use from year to year, but in new ways.

And it's always fun to add something fresh, since the usual aim is to improve on last year in originality and effectiveness.

Stores are now displaying a variety of outdoor wiring and lights, illuminated Santas and stars, wreaths and other pieces, which can help Christmas decorators carry out their ideas.

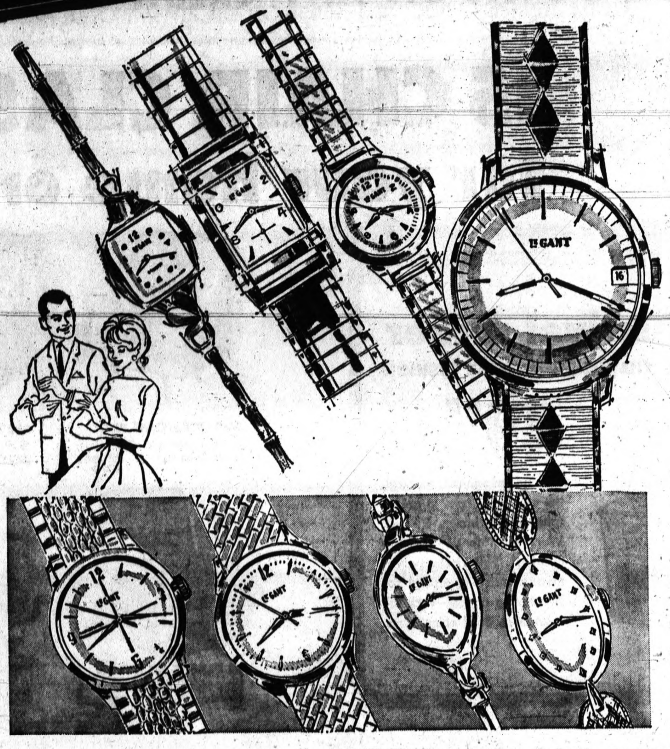

The Air Force has published the first of a series of charts of the moon's surface made to a scale of one inch to 16 miles.

Leather Coats Ideal Yule Gift

Even Mrs. Santa will be wearing a lovely leather coat this Christmas—and no wonder, for garments of suede or smooth leather, lined in shearling or silk, are ideal glamour gifts.

From suburban homemaker to city secretary, every woman will appreciate the comfort, mobility and good looks of a leather coat in one of the new fashion colors such as cranberry or hunter green. For wear in cold weather, the coats come with zip-in linings of shearling.

Gifted on the social scene are evening coats and capes in cabretta or suede, touched with the softness of fur or the sparkle of jewels.

Thoroughly sportive and great for giving are smartly tailored leather jackets.

In the United States last year enough shirts were laundered by professional laundries to provide one for every human being on earth — 2,852,000 of them.

Try Making Tiny Trees for Home

Tiny, whimsical Christmas trees that you make yourself can do a great deal to dress up your home during the holidays.

The greatest fun in making these miniature trees is in dreaming up the ideas for them yourself. But, here are a few ideas for trees to get you started.

Christmas tree balls in graduated sizes can be stacked one on the other by attaching the balls, Christmas seals, tinsel, picture handing wire.

Special Stamp Marks '63 Yule

Again this season, holiday cards, letters and parcels can be stamped with the Christmas spirit.

The U.S. Government is issuing literally billions of special Christmas stamps, anticipating a demand that may surpass last year, when the first special Christmas issue was a billion-seller.

The new stamp is a five-center in standard vertical size.

★ ★ ★

Printed in blue, green and red, it carries the message, "Christmas 1963."

Pictured on the stamp are the National Christmas tree in Washington, D.C. and, in the background, the White House.

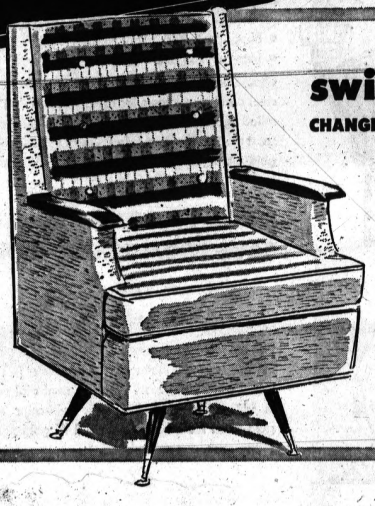

An estimated 1,500,000 farmers are injured each year.

'S' WONDERFUL — Crisp, but light and bubbly, — this peanut brittle will melt in the mouths of friends and family of all ages.

Ready for the Best Peanut Brittle?

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

Here, in our opinion, is the best peanut brittle in the world.

We came on this recipe in the magazine, "Scouting," in an article called "Brittle Budget."

The article reports that three-quarters of the mothers of the boy scouts in College Station, Texas are engaged in Operation Peanut Brittle! In groups of two or three, they make the candy (to be sold) using the cooking pans, cookie sheets, measuring equipment and thermometers, and ingredients bought by the troop.

Here, according to the troopmaster, is how it works.

"All mothers who participate must attend an instruction session before being issued any ingredients. We begin with one session for a few mothers who will repeat it for groups of others. Even novices find they can make perfect brittle after this instruction.

"The makers of the best peanut brittle you ever tasted' also have to attend a session every year, just to assure uniform results. Last year out of 340 batches only two were failures.

★ ★ ★

"The candy is stored in air-tight tin containers until stapled in plastic bags in 1-pound packages. Several dads do the packaging a few hours. A couple of nights at the job burdens no one, and the men enjoy working together.

"The cost of ingredients varies. A batch of brittle has run us about 50 cents and netted us a profit of a little more than $1.00 a batch. The Scouts sell about 20 per cent of the supply and the dads the rest. No one ever has reported selling all he could, and many say they could sell more. We are out just to meet our needs, so we quit when we have our budget made."

The College Station recipe in "Scouting" is given in succinct form. So here is our more detailed rule for your home kitchen; our recipe - testing helper followed it beautifully on her first try. The only change in ingredients: the original recipe specifies raw Spanish peanuts and adds a teaspoon of salt and a tablespoon of butter or margarine at the same time the baking soda is stirred in.

★ ★ ★

Our helper says she likes this brittle because although it is crisp, it's not so hard as other varieties. I relish this brittle for its great flavor and its bubbly texture. Other eaters at our house don't bother analyzing the candy's merits, they just gobble it up.

Best Peanut Brittle

3 cups sugar
1 cup light corn syrup
½ cup water
3 cups salted peanuts
2 teaspoons baking soda

In a heavy saucepan stir together the sugar, corn syrup and water. Cook over medium heat, stirring constantly, until sugar is dissolved and mixture comes to a boil.

Continue cooking, without stirring until temperature reaches 280 degrees on a candy thermometer or until a small amount of mixture dropped into very cold water separates into threads that are hard but not brittle (soft crack stage).

★ ★ ★

Stir in peanuts gradually, so mixture continues to boil. Cook, stirring often and watching closely, until temperature reaches 300 degrees or until a small amount of mixture dropped into very cold water separates into threads which are hard and brittle (hard crack stage).

Remove from heat. Add baking soda; stir in gently but quickly. At once pour candy onto 2 greased large cookie sheets without spreading it with a tool. Cool.

Break into pieces. Makes about 2½ pounds.

Garnish Goes Inside Burgers

Everyone has a favorite combination of hamburger toppings. When you make Surprise 'Burgers, a choice of fillings is available, too.

★ ★ ★

Made by sandwiching together thin ground beef patties, the 'Burgers can be filled with a baked bean mixture or a combination of onion and tomato slices. You will probably be able to create other unusual fillings, too — sliced olives, blue cheese, you name it!

SURPRISE 'BURGERS

2 cups corn flakes or
½ cup packaged corn flake crumbs
2-3 cup (6-oz. can) evaporated milk
1½ pounds ground beef
¼ teaspoon pepper
1½ teaspoons salt
2 tablespoons prepared mustard.

If using corn flakes, crush into fine crumbs. Combine all ingredients thoroughly in large mixing bowl. Shape into 12 thin patties about 4½ inches in diameter.

On 6 patties, place one of the fillings suggested below; top with second patty; press edges together. Place on rack in shallow baking pan. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees) about 25 minutes. Yield: 6 'Burgers.

Beanburgers

½ cup finely chopped onions
1 tablespoon butter
1½ cups baked beans, slightly mashed
2 teaspoons molasses

Saute onions in butter. Combine onions, beans and molasses. Spoon 2 tablespoons mixture on each of 6 patties.

Tomatoburgers:

Top 6 of the patties with a tomato slice and a thin onion slice.

Citrus Fruit Helps Diets

Delicious desserts take the dreariness out of diets. Fresh Florida grapefruit provide a maximum of nutrients and a minimum of calories and come to the table in a variety of wonderful ways.

★ ★ ★

Mound a grapefruit half with ¼ cup yogurt topped with an orange section (86 calories per half grapefruit), or spoon 1 tablespoon frozen orange juice concentrate in the center (76 calories).

★ ★ ★

Flaked coconut, baked until crisp, and fresh orange sections topped with a maraschino cherry make a golden - brown, provides a crisp topping for grapefruit (72 calories per half (96 calories) add a vivid note of color.

Tenderizing on the Hoof

WASHINGTON, D.C. (AP) — A process enabling meat packers to tenderize all sections of an animal shortly before slaughter has been approved by the U.S. Department of Agriculture.

★ ★ ★

The process, which cost $6 million to develop, consists of injecting a harmless vegetable protein into the blood of the animal so that it flows throughout the body.

★ ★ ★

After slaughter, during the cooking process, the protein becomes active and tenderizes the meat.

SURPRISE BURGERS — Serve hamburgers at your next informal get-together, but give your guests a choice of fillings to put between the meat patties. Maybe you or they can invent some new fillings too.

Pork Tenderloin Is Used Whole or Sliced

Pork tenderloin may be purchased either in the whole piece or cut into patties, reports the American Meat Institute. Whole pieces usually weigh between three-fourths to one and one-half pounds each. Allow about one-third pound per serving.

★ ★ ★

To prepare patties, cut slices two inches thick and then flatten them with a meat pounder. Cook with a little pineapple juice to brighten a meal.

Warm Gingerbread Is Nostalgic Treat

Once in a while, in some homey little restaurant, one still finds warm squares of gingerbread in the basket of rolls served with dinner. But for the most part, gingerbread comes at the meal's end, accompanied by a pot of fresh coffee. Or it appears at mid-afternoon when the neighborhood clan gathers for a kaffeeklatsch.

★ ★ ★

Old-Fashioned Gingerbread like this is so easy to bake, we wonder why it's not on more tables more often. It also happens to be a dessert favorite among men, so it's a fine way to end a special dinner-for-two.

Serve it plain or with apple sauce spooned over, but always with the kind of rich, fresh coffee that does you proud.

Old-Fashioned Gingerbread

5 tablespoons shortening
⅓ cup sugar
1 egg, well beaten
⅓ cup molasses
1¾ cups sifted all-purpose flour
1 teaspoon ginger
1 teaspoon cinnamon
¼ teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon baking soda
½ cup buttermilk

Cream shortening. Add sugar gradually while continuing to cream. Add egg. Add molasses. Mix well. Mix and sift flour, ginger, cinnamon and salt. Dissolve baking soda in buttermilk. Add alternately with dry ingredients to creamed mixture. Pour into greased 8-inch square cake pan. Bake at 350° degrees 45 minutes or until done. Cut in squares.

Deviled Apples

Top one-inch thick apple rings with a layer of deviled ham sprinkled with brown sugar. Toast under your broiler for a tasty, late-evening snack.

Luncheon Salad

Any leftover boiled potatoes? Cut them up and team them with cooked snap beans and French dressing for a good luncheon salad.

Age Relived Through Music

Museum Becomes Monastery for Event

Christmas in a medieval monastery almost comes to life as one sits in the Cuxa gallery at The Cloisters museum on Manhattan and listens to a special program of Christmas music from the Middle Ages.

The setting, a long gallery with carved stone columns surrounding an open garden, brings to mind monks slowly proceeding to prayers.

Voices singing Gregorian and Ambrosian chants and music by 13th to early 16th Century composers are piped into this cloister and Langon Chapel.

★ ★ ★

The 45-minute recorded concert is held every afternoon during Christmas week. About 25,000 people paid The Cloisters a holiday visit last year.

PLANT DISPLAY

In the Saint Guilhen Cloister, there is a decorative display of plants.

The altarpiece of the Annunciation with St. Joseph and Donnors, a world - famous early Flemish painting by Robert Campin, also draws many visitors.

The collections include stained - glass windows, sculptured doorways, painted statues, frescoed walls, carved and painted altarpieces, chalices, reliquaries and other metalwork of the Middle Ages.

★ ★ ★

The Cloisters, a branch of the Metropolitan Museum of Art, was opened in 1938.

It contains in one structure sections from medieval buildings, such as a 12th Century chapter house, parts of five cloisters from monasteries, a Romanesque chapel and a 12th Century Spanish apse.

Courage of St. Lucia Is Honored

A blonde, blue-eyed Swedish-American girl, wearing a long white dress and red sash, slowly walks down an aisle, carrying a tray of coffee and cakes and balancing on her head a crown of lighted candles.

That same morning, the oldest daughter in each family had awakened the family before dawn, to serve coffee.

It is Dec. 13 and Swedish-Americans all over the country are beginning their celebration of Christmas with observances remembering the generosity and courage of St. Lucia.

★ ★ ★

Various stories are told about Lucia and how she became a saint.

SICILIAN GIRL

In one, she lived in Syracuse, Sicily, during the Roman Empire.

She gave her dowry to some Christians who had been persecuted for their faith, after which her angry fiance told authorities that Lucia was a Christian.

She was condemned to be burned but the fire did not burn her.

★ ★ ★

She died when thrust through by a sword.

BLINDED BY ROMANS

In another version, Lucia refused to give up her Christian faith to marry a pagan soldier. Blinded by Roman authorities, Lucia became a symbol of light to early Christians.

★ ★ ★

Lucia became popular in Sweden when the Roman Empire later extended to Scandinavia.

In Italian, her name is pronounced Luchia. In Swedish, the c is sounded as an s.

Surface Entry Ways With Decorative Tile

More and more home builders are finding that entry-ways that combine attractiveness and durability are opening the door to increased sales.

For example, an entry surfaced with quarry tile is both decorative and practical. In addition to coming in a variety of colors, quarry tile is waterproof, slip-proof and stain-proof.
