Dispute Red Charges of Provocations in Himalayan Area

NEW DELHI (UPI) — Red China announced tonight that it would carry out its schedule withdrawal of its troops along the Indian border.

NEW DELHI (AP) — India denied today Red Chinese charges that it engaged in armed provocations by rushing troops to Himalayan borderlands as the deadline approached for a promised compromise withdrawal.

The Chinese said they were watching the situation closely but an authoritative source here said the Indian government had received indications the Communists planned to go through with their withdrawal tomorrow (Peking time) as they announced with their self-imposed cease fire nine days ago.

India has not yet accepted Red China's proposals for the withdrawal.

It has been sending reinforcements by land and air into the crucial northeast sector of the border since the cease fire went into effect.

India's hand has been strengthened, for the time being at least, by a lessening of pressure in its dispute with Pakistan over Kashmir.

AGREE TO NEGOTIATE
Prime Minister Nehru and President Mohammed Ayub Khan have agreed to negotiate their 15-year dispute but the going may be rough.

The agreement, however, will allow India to breathe easier as it pulls troops away from the Pakistan border to face the Red Chinese.

At Rawalpindi, Pakistan, an uproar broke out in the national assembly today over Ayub Khan's agreement to meet Nehru.

Opposition deputies charged Ayub Khan was pushed into the agreement by the United States and Britain and that the nation's legislature was bypassed.

Peking said it would withdraw its troops 12½ miles behind what it called the line of actual control in 1959.

India doesn't go along because it would leave the Red Chinese still on territory claimed by India.

Plans for Children's Village Brought Before Supervisors

Preliminary architectural plans for a proposed $2.6-million Children's Village were presented yesterday to the juvenile committee of the Oakland County Board of Supervisors.

The committee also recommended establishment of a building authority as the best method of financing construction of the village at the County Service Center.

Such an authority would raise the necessary building funds through revenue bonds. The bonds would be retired through rental fees paid by the county.

The usual arrangements with a building authority, which would own the village buildings in this case, provide that the buildings become county-owned property once all the bonds have been retired.

Usually no vote of the people is required to authorize a governing body to enter into an agreement with a building authority.

However, committee member Richard W. Marshall, supervisor from Madison Heights, proposed that voters be asked to approve one-tenth of a mill in annual taxes to pay for leasing of the buildings from the authority.

This would cost the average taxpayer 50 cents a year, Marshall said. It would raise an estimated $200,000 annually until the village is paid for.

"The county apparently has no money to appropriate for the village's construction otherwise," Marshall said.

Earlier he told the committee that the board's ways and means committee chairman, David Levinson of Birmingham, recommended a half mill at the polls in April in order to finance the village through regular, general obligation bonds.

"It would be two years before construction could begin under these circumstances, juvenile committee chairman Abraham Bricker of Oak Park said.

"This would hardly solve the present emergency situation," he pointed out.

The probate judges, who handle juvenile cases, have informed the committee that present overcrowding and intermingling of emotionally disturbed children

Police Investigating Fight Between Officer, Citizen

A fist fight between a Pontiac man and a police officer which put the man in the hospital for eight days is under police investigation today.

Chief Joseph Koren has identified the officer involved in the Nov. 10 fight as Lt. William K. Hanger, 37, a veteran of 16 years on the force.

His opponent was identified as James B. Walker, 27, of 393 Emerson Ave.

The fight took place at the police department as Walker was being booked on a reckless driving charge, Koren disclosed.

However, the chief did not substantiate reports that Hanger offered to take his gun and badge off and fight Walker in a room at the department when Walker and he were engaged in an argument.

Walker was admitted to Pontiac General Hospital with head injuries Nov. 10 that he claimed resulted from the fight with Hanger.

He was released from the hospital Nov. 16.
Wallace D. McLay, Pontiac attorney representing Walker in the reckless driving case, said he had no desire at present to file charges against the city in the incident.

Hanger reportedly suffered a broken nose and face cuts and bruises.

Koren said he would review the incident today with City Manager Robert A. Stierer and City Attorney William A. Ewart before reaching any decision to file charges against Hanger before the Police Trial Board.

"We did give Walker a lie detector test," Koren said. "The results indicated there was a fight."

The chief said he had not received written reports from all those involved, including other policemen who witnessed the incident.

However, Koren said reports

LT. WILLIAM HANGER

thus far indicate that Walker argued with officers and after being booked "he grabbed Hanger by the head and punched him" while being led down a hallway.

The chief added that Hanger retaliated and the fight apparently moved down the hall into a room. Details, he said, were not clear due to conflicting versions.

"I firmly believe that no incident of this nature should be covered up," Koren asserted.

"I absolutely will not tolerate police violence. Arrests should be made using as little force as possible."

The concept would have to be approved by the Board of Supervisors, which is meeting today to consider the county's juvenile problem.

The juvenile committee will meet beforehand with the board's buildings and grounds committee and ways and means committee in an effort to gain their support of the building program and proposed method of financing it.

The first meeting is scheduled for 10 a.m. Monday with the buildings and grounds committee at the County Office Building, 1 Lafayette St. A meeting with the ways and means committee has been set for Wednesday.

JFK, Mikoyan Locked on Issues

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States and Russia were reported today to have run into serious difficulty in efforts to work out terms for a final settlement of the Cuban crisis.

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy and Soviet First Deputy Premier Anastas Mikoyan have agreed that the United States and the Soviet Union will continue negotiations for a final settlement of the Cuban crisis.

But their lengthy White House conference failed to yield any evidence of progress toward agreement on other critical East-West issues.

The President and Mikoyan met for more than three hours late Thursday. U.S. officials had hoped the meeting would produce evidence of change in Soviet policies on arms control, or other global problems, in the wake of the crisis over Cuba.

In this hope, they were apparently disappointed.

White House sources said that from the U.S. point of view the meeting did not provide any surprises—that Mikoyan's discussion of Soviet policies produced nothing of a new or different character.

Mikoyan, who just spent three weeks in Cuba, told reporters as he left the President's office shortly before 8 o'clock Thursday night.

"We had an exchange of views with the President on questions of interest to both our countries, chiefly about Cuba."

"As a result of this conversation, we agreed to issue certain instructions to our representatives in New York—we to our negotiators, and the President will instruct his negotiators—to continue negotiations to finally settle the Cuban question."

Pierre Salinger, White House press secretary, said the two men had agreed "that, as a follow-up of this meeting, the conversations would continue in New York between Ambassador Stevenson, Mr. McCloy and Mr. Kuznetsov."

Ambassador Adlai E. Stevenson and John J. McCloy have been negotiating with Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Vasily V. Kuznetsov for several weeks on special problems involved in easing the U.S.-Soviet confrontation over the installation of Soviet offensive missiles in Cuba.

While no details of the conversation were made public, Kennedy presumably emphasized to Mikoyan two main points about the U.S. attitude toward Cuba.

1. That until some kind of on the spot inspection is provided, the United States will continue aerial surveillance over the island.

2. That even though Soviet missiles are still on territory claimed by India.

Pope John Winning Battle With Anemia

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Pope John XXIII, making a good recovery, with medical treatment "obtaining the hoped for results" in his battle against anemia, a Vatican communiqué said today.

The 61-year-old pontiff got out of his sick bed briefly again this morning and "occupied himself with some problems regarding the government of the church, giving the relative dispositions," the statement added.

It was the second time he had been able to get up since he was stricken Tuesday.

Vatican sources said the Pope's doctor was concerned, however, that he was rushing things in his determination to get back to work.

U.N. Unit OKs Thant for Top Post

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The U.N. Security Council recommended unanimously today that U Thant of Burma be chosen secretary general of the United Nations to serve until Nov. 3, 1966.

The General Assembly was expected to elect Thant this afternoon.

Today's action not only assured the extension of the 53-year-old Burmese diplomat's term for four years but also dropped the word "acting" which had preceded his title for the past year.

Teamster Boss Disagrees

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — James R. Hoffa's attorneys accused the federal government today of holding back its case against the Teamsters Union president until it felt the time was ripe for a conviction on a $1-million conspiracy charge.

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — Teamsters President James R. Hoffa and George S. Fitzgerald, his legal counsel and friend for 27 years, have parted bitterly in the midst of Hoffa's $1-million conspiracy trial.

As the prosecution rested its case yesterday — following six weeks of testimony by 29 witnesses and featuring 263 exhibits — the Detroit News said in a copyrighted article that Hoffa fired Fitzgerald, who is from Detroit.

Fitzgerald's firing, the News said, followed a heated exchange last Monday between the men outside the federal courtroom here.

Fitzgerald, under subpoena as a government witness in Hoffa's trial, told the jury on Monday he swapped his personal check for $15,000 to Hoffa in return for a dividend from Fleet, a trucking firm involved in the trial, made out to Hoffa's wife.

Fitzgerald testified the transaction was made at Hoffa's request and that the latter offered no explanation.

The News quoted Hoffa as telling Fitzgerald: "You're all through! Turn in your books and records. And you'd better start thinking about the $75,000 loan."

The News said the loan reportedly had been obtained by Fitzgerald from the Teamsters Central State Conference, of which Hoffa is president.

Fitzgerald, who has been a Teamsters attorney since 1955, is a former Michigan Democratic committeeman.

Hoffa said the Detroit paper was in error and told a newsmen: "We didn't fire him, he resigned."

Hoffa Fired Me—Lawyer

Fitzgerald, in a telephone interview from Detroit, told a newsmen for the Nashville Tennessee Thursday night that "there was no talk of resigning at any time," and adding: "It happened just like the paper (the Detroit News) said it happened."

As for turning over union books and records, as requested by Hoffa, Fitzgerald said he had neither books nor records.

Stierer Asking $604,636 Hike of Commission

Would Mean Tax Rate of $15.65 Per $1,000 Valuation if Adopted

By DICK SAUNDERS
City Manager Robert A. Stierer last night submitted to the City Commission a record budget proposal of $7,045,435 for 1963.

His proposal is $604,636 above the current city budget and would require an estimated tax rate increase of $1.79 per $1,000 of assessed valuation.

Commissioners got the budget proposal at an informal meeting. It includes a $300,000 capital improvement fund plus sewage treatment plant bond payments.

The proposed city budget is based on an estimated tax base of $238 million, almost $7 million above Pontiac's 1962 total assessed valuation of $231.2 million.

If adopted in its present form, the proposed budget figure would require a tax rate of $15.65 per $1,000 of assessed valuation (on the $238 million assumed tax base).

Significant differences in the proposed budget, as compared to the 1962 budget, are the addition of a new pension plan for police and firemen and financing of sewage plant bond commitments through a special tax levy.

BIGGEST SINGLE INCREASE
"The largest single increase is $108,589 in additional funds needed for the new police-fire pension system approved by vote of the people in April," Stierer said in his proposal.

He noted that the general city budget is up $223,154 due to the police-fire pension plan, increased payments to pension funds of other city employees, a Social Security increase effective Jan. 1, and other smaller items.

The sewage treatment plant, due to open soon, is financed by a 25-year, $3.2-million bond issue. The first bonds came due this year and were paid for from the capital improvement fund.

"Since that time," Stierer noted, "new capital improvement projects have been started and general city costs have increased."

"Since the new plant is being built under court order, it is legal... under the bond ordinance and... state law, to make an additional levy to cover the principal and interest payments."

The 1963 bond payment will be $244,626, requiring an added levy of 85 cents per $1,000 of assessed valuation which is included in the $15.65 estimate.

Stierer proposed that $4,264,446 be levied as property tax for all purposes excepting the treatment plant bond payment.

His estimate for income from sources other than taxes is $2,238,363 and that $300,000 be appropriated from the city's unappropriated surplus.

The proposed tax levy is $613,275 higher than the 1962 budget; "estimates" revenue from other sources is up $86,383.

Temperatures in downtown Pontiac broke a record of 90 years as the mercury soared to an unseasonal 63 degrees at 2 p.m. today.

The touch of Indian summer for the past week is expected to remain for the next five days, says the weatherman. Temperatures will average from 9 to 12 degrees above the normal high of 59 and low of 27.

Precipitation will total from three to five-tenths of an inch in showers about the first of the week.

Gentle and southerly is the wind story for the area today. Thirty-three was the lowest temperature in downtown Pontiac preceding 8 a.m.

When TV Snow Is Real, Then It's Time to Move

QUARNFORD, England (AP) — The Rev. Thomas Watson, 64, Anglican vicar, said today he would rather retire than spend another winter in his vicarage.

The 200-year-old house is so vulnerable that snow drifts pile up in front of his living room television set, he said.

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (UPI) — Police said saboteurs blew up two railway signal boxes today, tying up all electric train traffic on a main line to Johannesburg.

There were no reports of injuries. Police stopped all traffic on a road near the rail line for a time to search for the saboteurs.

Propose Village to Aid Children

By JIM DYGERT

To avoid a potential explosion from the overcrowding and mixing of emotionally disturbed with normal youngsters at the Oakland County Children's Center, Probate Judge Arthur E. Moore has proposed establishing a new Children's Village.

Such a village would house those needing psychological care in separate cottages, providing facilities for more effective control and treatment.

It would remove them from contact with delinquents whose mental and emotional condition is normal, and from neglected children who are wards of the county.

It would eliminate the present threat to the mental condition, development, rehabilitation and physical safety of the normal children.

It would provide facilities designed especially for the care of emotionally disturbed youngsters—facilities which the county does not now have.

The Children's Center building is not designed for care of the disturbed.

Judge Moore recommends that at least three cottages be built immediately. Two of these would be constructed to house the emotionally disturbed and to fit into the entire village planned for completion later.

The village would have two intake and temporary detention centers (now handled by the Children's Center), school buildings, administrative offices, a health unit, a dependent children's care unit and a nursery.

REHABILITATION COTTAGES
It also would contain three cottages for emotionally disturbed youngsters and rehabilitation cottages for delinquents, all of whom are now housed in the center.

It would increase total capacity of the county's child care facilities to 350.

The present capacity is 252 including 40 dependent and neglected children at Camp Oakland's Boys' Ranch and Girls' Ranch in Oxford Township, and 16 delinquents in the week-end education program at the Winter Camp there. The problem—as it so often is with public needs—is money. The first three cottages would cost from $300,000 to $400,000 and the entire village is estimated at more than $2 million.

A parcel of 36 acres has been purchased behind the Pontiac

State Police post on Telegraph Road across from the present center, but a total of 96 acres is needed.

The only way suggested so far to obtain the money is additional taxes approved by county voters, although a complete study of possible financing methods is yet to be made.

POPULATION GROWS

The reason for overcrowding is the county's rapidly growing child population. It has increased from some 59,000 to nearly 300,000 since the center was built in 1929.

County efforts to keep pace with the demands have been limited to temporary and emergency measures, according to Juvenile Court authorities.

These measures have not been able to provide a way to separate disturbed from normal children. In 1953, two cottages next to the center were built to house neglected and dependent youngsters, mostly preteen-agers who are not delinquents.

Capacity of 20 boys and 20 girls is never exceeded, which forces some neglected children to be housed at the Center with delinquents.

As much as possible is done to keep them separated, but the overcrowding leaves little room for maneuverability, according to Dea Keim, assistant director of the center.

In 1958, a wing of the county's tuberculosis sanatorium on Cooley Lake Road was converted to the Youth Home, where 35 boys and 20 girls "who have demonstrated they can get along in a more open program" are now housed. Capacity of 35 boys and 20 girls is never exceeded.

Use of the sanatorium wing solved an emergency situation in which beds and mattresses had been placed in the hallways of the center to meet the needs.

That emergency was overcome at the expense of spreading child care facilities far apart—and now the center is overcrowded again.

CROWDED CLASSROOMS

Youngsters at the Center attend school in the old contagious hospital building on the west side of Telegraph Road.

Classrooms are crowded, inadequate and do not allow separate instruction for the emotionally disturbed and mentally ill. A special education program is not possible.

Juvenile Court tries to tailor the handling of each case to the individual problems and needs, Judge Donald E. Adams says. But that goal is made unattainable by the mixed and overcrowded conditions.

As supervisors at the center point out, an emotionally disturbed youngster can explode into a tantrum without warning at any time, even in the presence of the supervisors.

Special facilities for smaller and separate groups will not change that fact, they say, but handling the explosions when they occur could be done more effectively. And they wouldn't affect the normal children.

Is Your "Wooden Nickel" Worth $5.00?

Greenfield's Birmingham Restaurant's 5th Anniversary: December 4th-December 8th

Today or any day through next Tuesday you can go to Greenfield's to get your free "wooden nickel" . . . commemorating our fifth or "wooden" anniversary in Birmingham. India's Troubles Grow but Brighter Side Seen

The problems of India, long a suffering country with a current population of 4.5 million, are complex and never-ending.

Premier Jawaharlal Nehru has at long last seen the light as regards communism versus democratic alignment, but is said still to cling hopelessly to the illusion that somehow the Soviet Union will get the Red Chinese off his back. Realistic observers, however, see Chinese aggression as a cross that will have to be borne for many years.

The present military campaign and the need for expanded defense capability will into the future have given the Indian economy, already under severe strain, a serious setback.

In the past year, India received $727 million in U.S. aid, bringing the over-all total to $4 billion. But even with this help and that from other sources, estimates are that it will be 10 years before the nation can become self-sufficient.

The economic-industrial pattern there is the familiar one of primitive governments and peoples struggling with advanced techniques for which they have had insufficient indoctrination and training.

New, expensive factories have run far below capacity because of shortages of electric power, railway cars and coal. Training of new managers and technicians has lagged behind the economic concept.

Analysts see, however, a brighter side for the long pull ahead, growing out of the present ominous difficulties.

The Indian population is united now as it has never been before. The struggle in which it is now engaged will relieve Nehru of heading the pleas of politicians for district pork-barrel waste of resources.

As for the Premier, he effected a climactic break with the past when he was forced to ask American military help. It was an admission that India could not defend itself alone and that the attempt to balance herself between the great powers had failed.

Income Tax Revision Off Again, On Again

Taxation touches every inhabitant of the United States, in one way or another. Thus, the enactment and administration of tax programs is of paramount interest and concern to all.

There has been much uncertainty, much backing and filling, in administration circles regarding income tax revision—in other words, a reduction for individuals and corporations.

Earlier in the year, when it appeared the Country's economy was headed into a decline, a tax cut seemed imminent. However, to the confusion of most economists and experts, things perked up, and the urgency of tax reduction as a spur to business was diminished.

But the long-range view is that if the Country's rate of industrial growth is to rise to a satisfactory level and unemployment reduced comparatively, tax revision is a primary step.

Administration plans, still in the talk stage but rapidly gaining solidity, indicate that a reduced tax package will be handed the new Congress when it convenes in January.

The over-all reductions are seen as running around $10 billion—one of the largest cuts in U.S. history.

Individuals in every tax bracket would receive the major share of the benefits. Corporations, however, would be given a break, their tax rate probably being reduced from the current 52 per cent to the pre-Korean War 47 per cent.

To avoid inflationary effect on the economy, one plan being discussed would make the total reductions in two steps, the bulk in 1963—retroactive to Jan. 1—and the balance a year later.

All this is what is currently being tipped in Washington. But, since there is many a slip between the cut and the tip, don't hold your breath until the program in its detailed entirety is enacted into the tax structure of the land.

A Dazzling Playing Star
Shines as Coaching Star

By HOWARD HELENBRAND
It's fun saying nice things about nice people. Having it, and doing it, the MAT reports that long-gone Pontiac resident Russ Oliver just had a fine year (7-1) as coach of Culver, (Ind.) Military Academy's football team. It was the best since 1958 and marked a quarter-century's tenure for the coach. In this day and age, a record in its own right!

In case you came in late, this charming fellow was a top athlete at Pontiac Central High and U. of M. before taking off for Culver upon graduation. A member of the Wolverines' National Championship team of the early '30s, he was the fifth of only eight in the university's history to qualify as a three-year, three-letter man.

A bow of profound admiration and respect to this outstanding athlete and his brilliant career, with all best wishes for an enjoyable and rewarding continuance of it.

A feature of the Exposition will be Arthur Godfrey's third appearance with his performing Palomino, "Goldie."

May our exhibitors return home not only well laden but with some "green" memento of the $130,000 cash prize fund.

At mid-month meeting of Pontiac Rotary Club, President

Howard L. Canfield shook up his constituency with the stunning announcement that he was quitting!

Actually, he is headed for Seoul, Korea on a most important two-to-three year assignment—with a layover in Washington until Dec. 1 for briefing, and presumably to learn the language.

Goodspeed and good luck to the former local manager—of Detroit Edison—who made a host of friends while in Pontiac and will be mightily missed.

Club Vice President Noyce W. Strail Jr. will carry on as head man for the remainder of the departed's term.

The column has been asked to make known that the MacDowell Male Chorus' Christmas program, originally scheduled for tomorrow evening in Northern High auditorium, has been postponed until Dec. 8. An added starter for that occasion will be the Pontiac High group of 50 Caribbeens, conducted by Jerry Libbey of 200 W. Princeton.

Do As I Say, Not As I Do!

David Lawrence Says:

Can Mikoyan's Word Be Trusted?

WASHINGTON — The name of Anastas I. Mikoyan, first deputy premier of the Soviet Union, is again in the headlines. He is received by President Kennedy with dignity and forbearance. But how much do the American people know or remember of the misdeeds and acts of treachery committed by Anastas Mikoyan in the crushing of the liberties of the Hungarian people just six years ago this month?

Mikoyan is an emissary of Premier Khrushchev, just as was Foreign Minister Gromyko when he visited the White House. Can anything Mikoyan says be believed?

As of today, the United States has no assurance that on-site inspection in Cuba by the United Nations will be approved by the Mikoyan-Castro-Khrushchev team.

Oddly enough, the details of the experiences with past deceptions seem to be swept aside as Deputy Premier Mikoyan is formally received at the White House as an accredited emissary of the Soviet Union.

Of course, the details of the experiences with past deceptions seem to be swept aside as Deputy Premier Mikoyan is formally received at the White House as an accredited emissary of the Soviet Union.

Walter Winchell calls Miss Shepard the "female Ernie Pyle." Ernie should have gotten around as much!

In the 10 years she has been in radio, TV and newspaper reporting Elaine has reported from 50 countries—sometimes un-CONSIDINE such harrowing conditions as prevailed during the worst of the Congo troubles—and has sat down with the likes of Presidents Eisenhower and Kennedy, Chou En-Lai, Nehru, Khrushchev, Castro, Ibn Saud, and Kuwait's Sheikh Abdullah Al-Salim Al-Sabah, which was pretty risky, to say the least.

But what happened? Not only were the troops retained in Hungary, but additional units of the Soviet army poured in from Romania and on Nov. 4 attacked the Hungarians.

The anti-Communist movement was wiped out by overwhelming Soviet forces. The Hungarian delegation "negotiating" with the Soviets on the "withdrawal of troops" was imprisoned, and its leader executed.

PREMIER ARRESTED
The new premier, Imre Nagy, was arrested, deported to Romania, and subsequently executed. Hungarian appeals to the United Nations were of no avail.

The U.N. Security Council had met on Nov. 2 to discuss the "critical situation in Hungary." Soviet delegate Arkady A. Sobolev blandly assured the council that reports of a Soviet march on Hungary were "utterly unfounded."

Immediately after news of the Soviet attack on Hungary was received, the Security Council met again on Nov. 4. A resolution was introduced by the United States condemning the Soviet attack and calling for an on-the-spot investigation by the U.N. of the situation in Hungary.

It was vetoed by the Soviet government, and one veto is enough to kill such a proposal. The measure was passed by the general assembly, but the Soviet government—which, by then, was in full control in Hungary—refused permission for any commission to enter the country. None had ever gone there.

This is the sad story in which deputy premier Mikoyan played a principal part. He was then—as he is today—a tool in the game of the Soviet government.

He does what he is instructed to do, irrespective of whether it requires giving pledges that he will not keep or asserting facts that later prove to be false.

New Deputy Premier Mikoyan is under instructions from Premier Khrushchev, just as was Foreign Minister Gromyko when he visited the White House. Can anything Mikoyan says be believed?

'Scout Membership Drive Looks Most Encouraging'

A scout's salute to The Press for the editorial "Scouts' Current Goal—Increase Membership." It was very inspiring and I hope all scouts read it.

Our membership, since the "drive" opened has increased 100 per cent. We are sure others may have a higher percentage.

With the higher interest, the goal of 10,000 will be reached for the Clinton Valley Council area.

'Surely Our Area Has Enough Water'

Few want fluoridation and few want to pay the exorbitant rates for Detroit water. The system which furnishes Lake Huron water is not necessary. With all the springs and spring-fed lakes in this county it just doesn't sound reasonable that our water supply will run out. Our wells have never failed, and we have pure water with a good amount of natural fluorine. Old wells will stand us in good stead in case fallout becomes a threat. Open surface water sources are no longer safe.

The Almanac

By United Press International
Today is Friday, Nov. 30, the 334th day of 1962 with 31 to follow.

The moon is approaching its first quarter.
The morning stars are Mars and Venus.
The evening stars are Jupiter and Saturn.

On this day in history:
In 1782, preliminary peace articles ending the American-British Revolutionary War were signed in Paris.

In 1929, the Russo-Finnish War began after the Soviet Union failed to obtain territorial concessions from England.

In 1949, the Chinese Communists captured Chungking, China.

In 1954, the prime minister of South Africa, Daniel Malan, resigned and was succeeded by Johannes Strijdom, an extreme nationalist.

A thought for the day — the Spanish writer Cervantes said: "There is no sauce in the world like hunger."

In the Future

The following came in anonymously and we reproduce it for your amusement:

President Ted Kennedy, commenting on the Russian occupation of Long Island, the Panama Canal and the Southern tip of Florida, said "we are watching these developments carefully and have sent a stiff note to Moscow."

Congresswoman Caroline Kennedy (D-Mass.) held a lavish reception at her home in Hymus Port. Thirty-three of the guests were thrown into the swimming pool and all ended up in the hospital. It was later disclosed that United States Ambassador, Peter Lawford, had drained the pool the night before as a practical joke.

President Ted Kennedy said his brother, Jack, former President (1960-1968), will be named Secretary of State, replacing his wife, Jacqueline, who will be Secretary of Defense.

Presidential Press Secretary, Mrs. Joseph P. Kennedy, mother of the President, celebrated her 50th birthday and said she had not thought of retirement. She said talk about a "Kennedy Dynasty" in Washington was just Republican propaganda and a lot of rubbish.

When questioned on the "Meet the Press" TV program Secretary of the Treasury, Bobby Kennedy, said he did not think the President's nine hundred billion dollar budget was too large.

All this may end when the Wisconsin legislature digests a study now being made of oleo bootlegging — a study that cannot fail to show that not only is the tax being avoided with great energy but that it is also resented with equal energy.

While this may promise a lesser revenue for the state merchants who have supplied the merchandise, we cannot find it in our hearts to bleed over their plight. Senseless taxes have a way of staying with us forever; repeal of such a tax merits our approval.

'Abandoned Cat Spread Illness'

When the pleasant season started some cruel person let a sick cat out at our house. It had diarrhea and was half starved and my father had to dispose of it. My kittens got it and now they are in heaven as a result of that person's ruthless action. They could have taken it to the animal shelter instead of having my kittens get it, too. People like this should be fined or put in jail.

Secretary of Agriculture Billy Sol Estes, who was appointed in 1963 by President John F. Kennedy Sr., announced his retirement.

Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare Sonny Davis Jr., informed the Negro faculty of Mississippi University that unless Ross Barnett Jr., son of the ex-Governor Ross Barnett of Mississippi, was admitted he would send in the National Guard.

There is a strong possibility that in the near future the oleomargarine bootleggers who ply their trade across the Wisconsin state line may be out of business.

Wisconsin has long had a tax on colored margarine of 15 cents a pound, a tax supported by the powerful dairy lobby. To avoid such a tax a considerable trade in oleomargarine has sprung up along highways leading into Wisconsin. In some cases gasoline stations have sold a great deal more oleomargarine than gasoline.

All this may end when the Wisconsin legislature digests a study now being made of oleo bootlegging — a study that cannot fail to show that not only is the tax being avoided with great energy but that it is also resented with equal energy.

While this may promise a lesser revenue for the state merchants who have supplied the merchandise, we cannot find it in our hearts to bleed over their plight. Senseless taxes have a way of staying with us forever; repeal of such a tax merits our approval.

States Allotted Aid for Roads

WASHINGTON (AP) — An additional $227.5 million of federal aid was apportioned to the states yesterday for highway work in the fiscal year that begins next July 1.

The apportionment, announced by acting Secretary of Commerce Edward G. Cullen, completes the administrative chore of parceling out more than $3.5 billion of federal highway funds for the coming fiscal year.

Of the grand total, $2.8 billion will go toward the construction of interstate express roads. The federal government pays 90 per cent of the cost of these. The balance is for primary, secondary and urban roads and the interstate system. $13,241,895; $8,318,348; $10,755,393; $101,031,125.

Michigan's share of the $3.5 billion included: (Figures, in order, are for primary roads, secondary roads, urban roads and the interstate system) $13,241,895; $8,318,348; $10,755,393; $101,031,125.

Mafia Gangs Slay Over 500 in Sicily

ROME (AP) — A Sicilian member of the Italian Parliament reports that Mafia gangs have slain more than 500 people on the island since 1945.

Socialist Deputy Matteo Gaudioso gave the figure Thursday as the chamber of deputies debated a proposal for a parliamentary investigation of the secret organization.

Gaudioso said the Mafia murdered 153 people in Corleone, a town of 16,000 south of Palermo. All parties voiced support for the investigation. A vote is expected soon.

Many Italian governments have tried in vain to destroy the Mafia.

Icy Answer to This Plea

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo. (AP) — Postmaster William C. Blair has urged residents to clean snow and ice off their sidewalks, steps and porches for the comfort and safety of postmen.

Thursday he got some replies including: "If the postman can walk across our grass and flowers all summer long, why can't he walk across our snow in the winter?"

Named to JFK Team

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy has signed an executive order making the secretary of commerce a member of the recreation Advisory Council. The council includes several other cabinet members.

GEORGE HERRMANN

Named Head of Republican Citizens Unit

WASHINGTON (AP) — Formal announcement was made yesterday that George (Tim) Herrmann, 44, Chicago insurance executive, has accepted the chairmanship of the newly organized National Republican Citizens Committee.

The committee hopes to supplement rather than duplicate the work of the regular Republican National Committee, particularly in seeking to build up voter support for the GOP in the big cities and among independents and Democrats.

Herrmann is now president of the Republican Citizens League of Illinois, an organization which today's announcement said inspired the formation of the National Citizens Committee.

In accepting the unsalaried post, Herrmann said he would devote a major share of his time to formation of other urban organizations to aid the regular party organization in capturing a larger share of the vote in metropolitan centers.

The National Citizens Committee opened its offices here recently, the outgrowth of an all-Republican conference last summer at the Gettysburg, Pa., home of former President Dwight D. Eisenhower.

Eisenhower is honorary chairman of the new committee.

Nike-Zeus Missiles Labeled Satisfactory

POINT MUGU, Calif. (AP) — The Army says results of a test flight of its Nike-Zeus antimissile rocket were satisfactory.

Altitude reached by the rocket was not disclosed, but the Nike-Zeus is designed to operate at heights of more than 100 miles.

A spokesman said the solid-fuel rocket's third-stage motor, which is used to maneuver the warhead in space, functioned as expected. The test was made here, headquarters of the Pacific missile range.

Spiegel Case Galls Germans

By PHIL NEWSOM
UPI Foreign News Analyst
LONDON—Neither international nor internal pressures are new to "Der Alle," West Germany's aging Chancellor Konrad Adenauer.

For more than a year, members of his own party, the Christian Democrats, and his coalition partners, the Free Democrats of Erich Mende, had been demanding he set a date for his retirement and to name his successor.

But it is safe to say that not even the shrewd Adenauer anticipated the latest storm that almost blew his government out of office, nor the direction from which it would come.

This was the "Spiegel Case."

NEWSOM
In four visits to Germany since 1958, this correspondent never has seen the West German Republic torn by such a wave of national emotionalism.

Der Spiegel is a national news magazine whose hard-hitting columns frequently have irked both the chancellor and his controversial defense minister, Franz Josef Strauss.

EQUALLY CRITICAL

The attitude of "let the chips fall where they may" has at various times led the magazine to be critical of both East and West.

Law suits against the magazine had been brought by both Adenauer and Strauss, unsuccessfully.

Before his own part in the midnight arrests of Der Spiegel's editors became known, Strauss made no attempt to hide his pleasure that charges of suspicion of treason against them appeared likely finally to bring the publication to heel.

Then came the reaction.

German readers made no attempt to prejudge the case of treason. But they objected strenuously to the midnight knock-on-the-door manner in which the arrests were carried out.

Hamburg newspapers with no special reason to love Der Spiegel offered the magazine use of their printing presses and office space. Berlin editors, with the memory of Hitler's controlled press in their minds, joined the attack.

Adenauer's television explanation that the arrests were made on "urgent suspicion of a crime" failed to satisfy either readers or editors.

A Bonn govt urged this correspondent to give his regards to America "where there still is democracy."

A free press is comparatively new to Germany. Men primarily responsible for it were the American occupation commanders who took over right after the war.

Among them was Gen. Lucius Clay who recalls that he had to urge German reporters to ask questions.

Now that the Germans have it, their latest reaction shows they won't give it up easily.

Crime Rate Up 9 Pct. in State

Saginaw Jump Tops 9-Month Rise

WASHINGTON (AP)—Major crime rose an average of 9 per cent in principal Michigan cities during the first nine months this year compared with the same period of 1961, the FBI reported yesterday.

The 9 per cent general crime hike in Michigan outstripped the national trend of increase by an added 4 per cent. The FBI reported the over-all U.S. increase was only 5 per cent.

Serious crime at Saginaw was up an average of more than 23 per cent. Saginaw had the largest increase of any Michigan city in the FBI report.

Detroit's serious crime rose an average of 11 per cent. Crime increased during the nine months in all seven categories listed by the FBI.

Grand Rapids had the only reverse trend of the six Michigan cities named in the report.

Serious crime in Grand Rapids fell an average of more than 8 per cent lower than the January-September period in 1961.

Dearborn's crime rate declined a nearly negligible percentage—two fewer instances of serious crime than were reported in 1961.

Lansing's major crime hike averaged more than 11½ per cent. Serious crime at Flint increased more than 4½ per cent.

An explanation of the reverse trend at Grand Rapids was offered by Police Chief William Johnson.

"We just try to run a pretty tight ship up here," Johnson said. He also credited "good citizen support."

Child Asks Santa

Wants Daddy Back

AUSTIN, Minn. (AP)—Santa Claus had himself a dilemma here as result of this letter sent to him in care of the Austin Herald by a local child:

Dear Santa:

"I would like more than anything in the world to have my daddy back for Christmas. My mommie and daddy had a separation and now they are going to have a divorce.

"If they do, I will never speak to anyone again, except God. I love my mommie and daddy and you are the only one who understands me. Would you please write a letter to my parents?

"I give you all my money about $2.50 if you would get them back together."

Santa, handicapped by not having the age, sex or address of the writer, could only answer, through the newspaper:

"I will do what I can but sometimes old Santa can't fill every request on a child's list."

French Postage Stamps Will Get Liquor Flavor

Postal authorities said today their recent experiment with mint-flavored stamp glue was so successful they plan stamps tasting like Anisette, a flavoring used in wide drive to increase their small flock.

600 Southern Baptists to Join in Drive

Billy Graham to Lead Japanese Crusade Next Year

TOKYO (AP)—Japanese Baptists plan to bring evangelist Billy Graham and 600 Southern Baptists to Japan next year in a nationwide drive to increase their small flock.

The lay people will split into four-man teams, fanning out into 147 Japanese cities in what a top Graham aide called a crusade of unmatched scope and magnitude. Leaders of the 15,000-member Baptist Convention of Japan and the 135 American missionaries here stress the Japanese church itself is behind this "New Life Movement" and that Graham and the 600, most of them Texans, are merely coming to help.

The difference between running the show and helping out means much here.

Earlier this year Southern California evangelist Bob Pearce brought a crusade to Japan amid much criticism by Japanese Christian leaders. They contended Pearce's visit was not Japanese-oriented and had political motivations because Pearce once spoke of the need of "protecting Japan from communism."

The Rev. Shuichi Matsumura, a Tokyo-Baptist pastor and executive director of the New Life Movement, told newsmen he and his group feel that there will be no reaction to the 1963 effort because "factors are different."

"This movement is Japanese in origin and promotion," he said.

Graham is expected to arrive in Tokyo March 29 after holding crusades in Manila, Hong Kong and Formosa.

The 44-year-old evangelist is to speak in five major Japanese cities and meet with pastors and laymen's groups.

The teams, made up of an American pastor and three laymen, will be in the field from the northernmost island of Hokkaido to southernmost Kyushu.

Total cost of the effort is put at $300,000. Coleman D. Clark, secretary of evangelism in the Japan Baptist Convention, said the 80 Japanese churches would contribute probably 10 per cent of the cost with the Texas Baptist Convention pledged to pick up the difference.

The Christian population in Japan, a nation of 95 million, comes to 700,000, almost half of them Catholic. Of the balance, 250,000 belong to the United Church of Christ, a church which embraces Presbyterian, Methodist, Congregationalist and three other sects.

Matsumura said the crusade was necessary because "formalistic religions in this land are totally inadequate. Many religions here have much superstition. They do not meet the spiritual needs of the people."

Highest Court Must Decide Fate of Dog

WASHINGTON (AP)—The highest court in the land has been asked to overrule the conviction of Ricky, a German shepherd dog accused of killing sheep and condemned to death.

Ricky's owner, Jim Laing, of Pearisburg, Va., filed the appeal with the Supreme Court Thursday, and court aides believe it sets a precedent. They can't remember a similar appeal involving a dog in the court's long history.

In his appeal, Laing argued Virginia had denied him due process of the law in trying to deprive him of his property.

Ricky's case—including allegations he was spirited out of the state to avoid execution—has been running since February 1960.

He was found then near the carcass of a ewe in Giles County, Va., and shot. When Ricky recovered he was sentenced to death. State courts upheld the sentence.

Laing contends Ricky was trained to go guard duty and was just standing watch over a ewe killed by other dogs. A veterinarian's examination failed to find any wool in Ricky's teeth.

Lost Is Found Again.

NOTTINGHAM, England (UPI)—Nottingham Transport Corp. said today a man bought 12 umbrellas at its "lost property" shop and left them on a bus. They were forwarded to his home.

Defense Supply Unit to Stay in Detroit

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Defense Automotive Supply Center will remain in Detroit—at least through 1965, the Defense Department said yesterday.

Lt. Gen. Andrew McNamara, director of the defense supply agency, said there are no plans to change either the location or organization of the center during 1963 which, he said, "is as far ahead as plans are now firm."

They Make a Lot Out of a Little in San Marino

SAN MARINO (AP)—This oldest and tiniest republic has learned to make a lot out of a little.

There is no public debt or unemployment. There hasn't been a murder in over a century. With postage stamps and its fingernail polish, the 36 square mile country has no troubles that a good tourist season doesn't solve. Every year two million tourists come in to spend a little time and a lot of money among the 15,200 San Marinenses.

San Marino claims one further distinction. It is the only European country ever won back from communism. According to San Marino history, a persecuted Christian stone-mason fled here from Dalmatia and founded the republic 1,600 years ago. He later became St. Marinus and gave his name to the nation perched atop rocky Mt. Titano, 1,560 feet high and 12 miles inland from Rimini on Italy's Adriatic Coast.

LOOKS MEDIEVAL

The capital and sole city, San Marino, still looks medieval with its ancient walls, its three famous castles, and its cobbled streets too steep and too narrow for automobiles.

But San Marino bustles with modern ways. Tiny factories and souvenir shops provide so many jobs that 3,000 Italians commute to San Marino to bolster the working force.

Italy, which completely surrounds San Marino, pays the little country a million dollars a year because San Marino lets Italy collect its customs tax on imports.

San Marino does its own collecting on postage stamps, selling almost a million dollars' worth a year. Forty-five employees are kept busy in the post office selling them. The stamps are printed in Rome.

San Marino residents pay a 14 per cent tax on income. There is an additional tax of 5 to 8 per cent on direct profits from tourism.

San Marino's nail polish is exported all over the world. More than 1 1/4 million bottles are sold annually.

PROFIT FROM WINES

There also is handsome profit from the sale of wines—red San gloves, white Albano, and sweet San Marinense moscato. More wine is sold then can be grown in the cramped mountainside vineyards—some is imported from Italy's Asti region and bottled here.

San Marino has made a few demands for outside financial aid. In 1957 the United States provided $850,000 to help build an aqueduct. The British paid $24,000 to settle claims for World War II reparations. Their planes bombed San Marino by error June 24, 1944, killing 58 persons.

San Marino was neutral in the war and thousands of persons, many of them Jews, fled here for refuge.

After the war San Marino went Communist. The Communists lost the government in the strange revolution of 1957.

That started when Mother Superior Veronica Serri reopened a Catholic school at a convent which the Communist government had ordered closed.

DISPUTE GREW BITTER

The dispute over what to do about it grew bitter in the Grand Council, San Marino's ancient legislature. The Communist-Socialist alliance had 31 of 60 council seats, but two Socialists defected and joined the Christian Democrats.

Chief executives of San Marino are two joint captains-regent elected for six month terms by the council. The Communist and Socialist regents then in office, seeing their alliance jolted out of the majority, dissolved the council and ordered new national elections.

They called out San Marino's 83-man volunteer army with its blue and silver uniforms and World War I rifles. They called out the 74-man palace guard with its green trousers and scarlet jackets. They called out the 33-man police force with its blue and white berets and its Italian police uniforms.

The regents ordered them to keep the grand council closed. The Christian Democrats raised San Marino's blue and white flag over an abandoned iron foundry and declared themselves the legal government.

WELL CHOSEN

The iron foundry was well chosen. It stood only 100 yards from the frontier. Right across the border, Italy moved up a heavily armed force of police to stand guard. Italy also moved up light armored troops who cut off every road leading into San Marino. Italy called it "routine fall maneuvers."

The situation was explosive. There were fist fights in Freedom Square before the 15th century government building. Armed men from both camps marched the streets.

Then, after a week of nerve-racking strain, moustached Domenico Morganti, the Communist interior minister, ordered his militia to yield.

"We have no choice," he said bitterly. "We are under siege by an enormous force of foreign troops."

On that last day the only shots of the revolution were fired. As each Communist militiaman marched up to police to turn in his rifle, he fired one defiant shot into the air.

"That's just to prove we could have fought," a spokesman said. "We had bullets in our guns."

The police and the army didn't. "My men carry carbines," said Capt. Ettore Sozzi, highest officer of San Marino's little army. "But we never issue any bullets. My men have never had any firing practice. If they had ammunition they might only hurt themselves."

San Marino slipped peacefully back to its pleasant life and profitable tourist trade. The government has had an anti-Communist majority ever since.

English Firm to Equip Yugoslav Steel Works

LONDON (UPI)—The Davy and United Engineering Co., of Sheffield and the Wellman Smith Owen Engineering Co., of Belfast have signed a $78.4-million contract to equip a new steel works in Yugoslavia, it was announced yesterday.

More than half of the working force of 800 at Davy and United is on strike.

BACKGROUND OF THE NEWS

Deliverer Must Feel Like a Fuel

DEDHAM, Mass. (AP)—William H. Newman Jr., has all the fuel oil he will ever need to heat his home this winter — 203 gallons stored in his basement.

The only problem is the Newman home is heated with gas and there is no oil tank.

Newman, who has moved into a motel with his wife and six children, says that Tuesday afternoon he had just returned from a nearby grocery when he heard a knock at the back door.

A man in the uniform of a local oil delivery firm said, "I hope you don't mind, I ran over about three gallons. It reads 203 gallons. Would you mind signing the slip?"

"You mean, you're going to put in 203 gallons?" Newman asked.

"No, I've already put in 203 gallons," the oilman answered. "Well, it doesn't matter because there's no oil tank down there anyway," Newman said.

Newman and the oilman raced down the cellar stairs. The basement floor was covered with a 2-inch carpet of oil. The delivery slip showed the oil was intended for the house across the street.

Bad Absentee Votes Aid S. D. Candidate

SIoux FALLS, S.D. (AP)—Voided absentee ballots pushed Democrat George McGovern into a 481-vote lead over incumbent Republican U.S. Sen. Joe Bottum with 50 of the state's 67 counties last night completing recounts of ballots from the Nov. 6 election.

McGovern, former Food for Peace director, picked up 61 votes in the county embracing Rapid City, another 69 in Sioux Falls because of the voided ballots.

Officials voided them out because they said they had not been properly stamped by election boards. Bottum backers have indicated they would later contest that action in court.

Pentagon Reveals Near N-Accidents

WASHINGTON (U) — An Air Force sergeant's threat to commit suicide by shooting a pistol into a nuclear bomb helped bring about regulations to tighten control over the human element in the nuclear weapon safety system, the Pentagon disclosed today.

That incident was described along with several others which contributed to the decision to change rules, but the Pentagon said none of them could have produced a nuclear explosion.

In the case of the sergeant, a pistol shot might have set off some of the TNT in the trigger mechanism, but would not have detonated the nuclear charge, a spokesman said.

In other incidents, missiles involved had no nuclear warheads installed.

The Pentagon said that in 1959 the Air Force sergeant "threatened to fire a pistol at a bomb for the purpose of committing suicide."

He had access to the bomb because he was a maintenance man for special weapons. But the sergeant "did not complete his threatened action," the spokesman said.

Subsequently, it was found the sergeant had previously undergone two psychiatric tests.

However, doctors conducting the examinations were not told of the man's assignment, because regulations prohibited him from disclosing the classified nature of his work.

An intercontinental ballistic missile, without a warhead, was destroyed by fire and explosion at Vandenberg Air Force Base, Calif., because a nervous airman neglected to attach a ground wire in an electric circuit.

During an interview by a commanding officer of a weapons unit, the airman said he wanted to divorce his wife and explained that this and accompanying troubles had made him highly nervous.

He was transferred temporarily to another assignment until his family problems and advice from doctors and chaplains cleared up his troubles.

In another case, a member of an air police detail guarding a missile talked about an impulse to fire a pistol into a missile standing on a pad "to see what would happen."

The Air Force said all that would have happened would have been buckling and collapse of the missile because of leakage of air pressure used to retain the shape of the missile. The Air Force adopted a policy in 1960 under which all members of nuclear weapon units are given periodic interviews to detect any development of an emotional disturbance.

This is in addition to checks on their medical records both before acceptance for nuclear weapon duty and since they began duty.

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP)—An Atlanta got pinched, the Atlanta Journal reports, because of sartorial impeccability—and immobility.

He was standing in a crowded store when a woman shopper examined the texture of his sweater. The woman let out a squeal when he moved and she realized he was not a manikin.

Clay Descendant to Christen Sub Named for Kin

NEWPORT NEWS, Va. (AP)—The Polaris missile submarine Henry Clay will be christened today by a great-granddaughter of the American statesman.

Mrs. Green B. Gibson of Lexington, Ky., will christen the submarine. Her sister, Miss Henrietta Clay, also of Lexington, will serve as maid of honor.

They are two of the 15 living direct descendants of Henry Clay.

A native of Virginia, Clay established his legal and political career in Lexington. He served as speaker of the House of Representatives for many years and won fame for his compromise designed to head off the Civil War.

How to travel in luxury without really flying

The exciting new '63 Chevrolet has captured the silence and effortless ease of jet flight and translated it to highway travel. Every new Chevrolet, whether it's a luxury Impala, a low-priced Bel Air or a Biscayne, now has self-adjusting brakes, a Delcotron generator to extend battery life, and the ingenious new flush-and-dry system that takes air and rain water from the cowl and rinses corrosive elements out of the rocker panels where rust usually begins. A test drive of a few miles over a variety of roads will amaze you. The suspension, with coil springs at all four wheels, treats back roads, car tracks, gravel as though they were billiard-table smooth. The engine whisks you away from traffic lights or steps safely out to pass slower cars without once intruding on your privacy. This '63 Chevrolet is a quality automobile, built to travel with the very best. When you're driving a Chevrolet, you don't take a back seat to anyone!

Oakland's High Schools Are Busy With Activities

Avondale High School

The annual College Night will be held by the Avondale High School Guidance Department beginning at 7:30 p.m. Monday.

Counselors Charles Miles and Mary Lavers today announced that 22 colleges, seminaries, institutes and other schools of higher education would be represented at the session.

In addition, all branches of the armed services are expected to send representatives.

The Future Teachers Association at Avondale High School is in full swing again this year, with much work being done toward coming events.

The students in the PTA have planned hakes sales and week-end visitations to colleges. Guest speakers, from various schools in the district, are to discuss methods of teaching in their various fields.

The high school will present, "Our Hearts Were Young and Gay," a three-act play from a book of the same name by Cornelius Otis Skinner and Emily Kimbrough.

The dates of its premiere showing will be announced in January.

Troy High School

By RICHARD SJOLANDER

Last Saturday, Troy High School's debate team, as well as other teams from throughout the state, met at Alma College to hold a legislative assembly.

The six delegates from Troy formed a mainstay in the assembly.

A resolution drawn up in the discussion group of one of Troy's legislators was chosen for debate in the assembly, amended and approved.

This policy called for the improvement of economic and social conditions in Latin America as well as stronger political ties uniting the Americas.

These goals were to be reached through the establishment of a common market among the nations of the Americas.

The Suburban Debate League recently held its first of four tournaments at Troy.

This league, again this year being organized by Mr. Lage, Troy's debate coach, is composed of schools from Troy, Pontiac, Southfield, Romeo, Madison, and Royal Oak.

The question for debate this year is, "Resolved: That the United States should join in forming a common market among the nations of the Western Hemisphere."

This topic is to be debated in four tournaments of three rounds each.

Clarkston High School

By SUE MUNSEE

In its first class meeting, Clarkston High School's freshman class elected officers for the 1963 school year.

The elected officers during the Nov. 21 session included Red Allen, president; Jane Thrift, vice president; Gale Getzen, secretary, and April Hetherington, treasurer.

The teachers chosen as class sponsors are: Mr. Casteel, Miss Terry, Mr. Jones.

The officers of the other classes are as follows.

Sophomore class — President Dave Coulter; Vice President Robyn Bates; Secretary Thel Pedigo; Treasurer Randy Armstrong.

Junior class — President Dan Craven; Vice President Punky Golembeski; Secretary Cheryl Cindner; Treasurer Linda Hallman.

Senior class — President Carl Wilberg; Vice President Joan Mansfield.

The YWCA has declared November as "World Fellowship Month."

The members of Y-Teens are collecting money on rolls of adhesive tape Nov. 25 through Dec. 3.

The money will be used for needy families, so that all may have a Merry Christmas.

Kingswood-Cranbrook

"The Mousetrap," an Agatha Christie whodunit, will be presented by the Cranbrook School Extension Dramatic Club, Dec. 7 and 8 at 8:15 p.m. in the Cranbrook School Auditorium.

Both performances are open to the public and tickets may be purchased at the door.

The play builds suspense until at the end the "mouse" is trapped.

The student director is Jim McQuaid and publicity manager is Dave Craig.

The entire production is under the direction of Templin Licklider, Cranbrook School faculty member.

Oxford High School

By SHARON K. MANN

Girls at Oxford High School were busy this week asking their 'avarice' beaux to the "Sadie Hawkins" dance to be given tonight.

The dance, sponsored by the junior class, starts at 8:30 p.m. and will end at 11:30 p.m.

The Student Center will be decorated in an informal style, and students can dress to fit the occasion.

The yearbook staff, under the direction of coeditors Bill Pearson and Gilbert Fujioaka, is also busy this week with the annual sale of yearbook subscriptions.

Tom Hardgrove, the circulation editor, is having subscriptions sold during homeroom and lunch periods.

The price of the subscription is $3.50, but students may pay $1.50 now and the balance when the yearbooks arrive in the spring.

Our Lady of the Lakes

By DENISE SPRINGER

A pre-Advent dance tomorrow night will honor the juniors of Our Lady of the Lakes High School who recently received their class rings.

The dance, called the "Holly Hop," is casual and will last from 8 to 11:30 p.m. Decorations portray a winter theme. Admission is 50 cents.

Students and cheerleaders are looking forward to a successful basketball season this year.

The same enthusiasm which helped the football team on to a successful season it is hoped will spur the basketball team on to victory.

Tonight, the team will play its first game of the season against Our Lady of Sorrows High School.

Lifesaving Taught in PNH Pool

By SUSAN KILLEN

A cry has been echoing through the pool at Pontiac Northern High School: "Help! I'm drowning!"

No, Northern isn't developing bad swimmers. It's just the prospective Senior Lifesavers' outcry as they practice rescues.

The practice should enable them to pass upcoming lifesaving tests.

The cry has been heard in junior girls' swimming classes during the past marking period. About 45 girls are engaged in the course being conducted by Miss Madeline McConnell and Miss Mary Lou Lackie, physical education instructors at PNH.

When the girls finish this course, they will be eligible to patrol any swimming area in the State of Michigan, as long as they are registered with the local Red Cross Chapter.

John Bilkie and Ernie Humphries have been named co-captains of Northern's 1962-63 swimming team.

The swimmers, coached by Edward Danow and Donald Bazarin, have their first meet Tuesday, in PNH's pool.

SCIENCE OFFICERS

Pontiac Northern's newly formed Science Club held its first meeting recently. New officers were elected. They are: Alan Mann, president; Cheryl Soule and Bill Deacon, vice presidents; and Pat Durfee, secretary.

At the first meeting, Edward O'Rourke, a sanitarian with the Oakland County Department of Health, gave a talk on "Safety and Foodstuffs from radioactivity."

He brought with him a sample of radioactive phosphorus-32 and a Geiger counter to illustrate his lecture.

The club is open to students with one year of science study and is under the guidance of the school science teachers.

Lectures sponsored by the club are open to the public.

The club will be in charge of the Pontiac Science Fair in the spring.

Next Tuesday night, in the Pontiac Northern Library, the Harold Fitzgerald Chapter of the Quill and Scroll Society of Pontiac Northern will hold its first, formal initiation of the season.

The members-elect will all come from the Polaris staff.

The junior members-to-be are: Linda Saranen, Susan Kilien, Bill Deacon, Maria Iliades, Carol Magner, Jim Stephens, Ethel Eugene, and Vera Ervin. Two seniors are also to be initiated. They are: Ben Schweitzer and Sue Simpson.

Letters Given at Emmanuel

By CAROL ARMBRUSTER

During the open house held recently at Emmanuel Christian School letters and awards were presented to a number of students.

Receiving letters were the varsity and junior varsity football squads and the varsity and junior varsity basketball squads.

Trophies were given to the following varsity football players: Ray Badgero, Rod Dufour, Larry Goldsworthy, Jack Gillespie, Darrell Hutto, Ron Jackson, Dick Lawson, Ron Longene, Tom Malone, Terry Martin, Mike Thomas and Ralph Wingate. Larry Goldsworthy, captain of the team, was given honorable mention on the Class D All-State Team.

The football team had a winning season and basketball got into full swing last Tuesday in the opener at St. Fred's.

Also receiving awards were the varsity and junior varsity cheerleaders and the band members.

Plan Hee-Haws at WTHS

By LIZ VENIE

Laughs aplenty are in store for spectators at the donkey basketball game 8 p.m. tomorrow in the Waterford Township High School gym.

Sponsored by the Varsity Club, the game pits members of the WTHS faculty against the Waterford Firefighters from the Township Hall.

Tickets, 50 cents for students and $1 for adults, may be purchased from any Varsity Club member or at the door.

Half-time activities include a whip-cracking exhibition and demonstrations by the Waterford wrestling squad and coach John Makowski, WTHS Latin and social studies instructor.

Donkey rides will be available for children during half time, while concessions are being sold in the cafeteria.

Faculty sponsor for the event.

At present Mary hasn't any definite plans, but hopes to study physical or occupational therapy.

On Thursday, Mary will receive a pin at a tea and later in March will vie for a state award in an American history test.

FAIR-OUT DANCE

Outer space has set the theme for the junior class dance, "Telstar," to be held tonight in the gym.

From 8 to 11 p.m., couples will dance to recorded music and be entertained by two combos. Punch and cookies will be served free.

Tickets for the dance are 50 cents per person.

School clothes are in order, and the guest policy will be in effect. Kettering students must have student identification cards in order to enter.

Nancy Shadrick is general chairman of the dance.

Central High Swims Into Winter Season

By JANE BIGLER

The winter sport season is in full swing at Pontiac Central High School this week with the start of both the basketball and swimming seasons.

The Chiefs, under the direction of instructors Arthur Van Ryzin and Fred Zittel, will be dribbling the ball down the court tomorrow night in their first basketball game of the season.

The game will be played against Grosse Pointe High School at 8 p.m. in Central's gymnasium.

The junior varsity team, under coach Ralph Grubb, will play its game at 6:30 p.m.

Leading the cheering section at Saturday's games will be six varsity and six junior varsity cheerleaders.

These girls are Gretchen Gensbach, captain; Gwen Harris, secretary; Sue Rogers, quartermaster; and Carole Graham, historian.

Under coaches Douglas Tremlis and Jerry Becker, Central's Natons are anticipating a good season.

Tomorrow night, the swimmers are traveling to Flint Northern High School to participate in the Flint invitational relays. Their first dual meet will be held in Central's pool Tuesday against Pontiac Northern High School.

The PCH wrestling team, under instructor Steve Szabo, is also preparing for a winning season.

SCHOLASTIC APTITUDE

Tomorrow morning 55 Pontiac Central seniors will be taking the Scholastic Aptitude Test (SAT) in Birmingham and Bloomfield Hills.

This test is the college board entrance exam required by several universities in the nation.

In this state, only the University of Michigan requires its applicants to take the exam.

Certain scholarship grants also are awarded on the basis of this test.

The exam consists of the complete SAT, achievement tests in numerous fields and a writing sample test.

Senior Dick Richards was recently named to the Pontiac Press All-County Football Team for 1962. This is an honor extended to only eleven Oakland County football players. Dick did an outstanding job this year as tackle for the Chiefs.

Seniors Wayne Lee and Charles Humphrey were named to the first team, and Raymond Sain and Bill Church were given honorable mention.

Senior Susan Pill was selected last Saturday to reign as Pontiac's Junior Miss for 1963. She will now compete with 30 other girls for the title of Michigan's Junior Miss.

GOOD COOKING

Senior Linda Pimlot has also brought recognition to her school.

On Nov. 17, she won third place in a preliminary baking contest in the Pyrofax Baking Contest. Her prize-winning recipe was for a stressed cookie cake which was judged on the basis of appearance, texture and appetite appeal.

Twenty-four students from area schools took part in this competition.

Highway Dept. Has Urban Aide

Former Assistant of Williams Hired

LANSING (U)—Marvin Tableman, 43, onetime administrative assistant to former Gov. G. Mennen Williams, was appointed urban affairs officer yesterday for the Michigan State Highway Department.

Highway Commissioner, John Mackie said Michigan is the first state in the nation to have a full-time urban affairs specialist in its highway department.

The position calls for a civil service salary scale ranging between $6,700 and $11,100. Tableman will start at about $10,000, a department spokesman said.

In the new position, Tableman will coordinate the highway department's activities with the new federal and local programs being started in Michigan cities.

Mackie said creation of the new post recognizes that Michigan's highway program has far-reaching effects on cities.

"It will strengthen our efforts to meet the challenges of providing highway service that will promote the sound development and growth of our urban areas," he added.

Tableman served as assistant to Williams from 1951 to 1964 and was director of the Michigan office of hospital survey and construction in 1955.

For the past two years, he has been a technical editor for the highway department.

Beauty Inspires Poetic Thief

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP)—Police said a man held up a beauty salon Thursday night, recited poetry for 15 minutes, and left with $1.35.

Three women customers and the women salon manager collected the $1.35 between them. "You've been so good about this," the intruder told them, "that I'm going to recite some poetry."

The women said it sounded like "beatnik blank verse." They said he still was reciting as he closed the door behind him. A dollar bill is 50 per cent cotton and 50 per cent linen.

Cuban Jumps Ship

LAS PALMAS, Canary Islands (UPI)—Raimundo Vilar Hernandez, 19, a Cuban merchant seaman, jumped ship yesterday and refused to return home, the Spanish News Agency Clira reported. The ship carried Cuban tobacco for Spain.

Victory Makes Nearly as Many Cowards as Defeat

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (U)—Jumping to conclusions: Those who have won success in their careers are more fearful of failure than those still on the way up. Victory makes almost as many cowards as does defeat. It is only when you realize you have something to lose that you become really frightened.

It is far more exhilarating to get a $5 a week raise when you're 21 than a $50 pay hike when you're 51.

The most annoying word in the vocabulary of the average child today is "stupid." But if BOYLE a parent lets his child call him that—and get away with it—one has to admit the child has used the word correctly. No husband ever hung a picture on the wall that his wife didn't straighten as soon as he left the room.

USE ROOSTERS

More folks got to work on time when they kept chickens in the backyard. The advantage of a rooster over an alarm clock is that you can't turn it off, roll over and go back to sleep.

The reason we have less fun now is that we're all so sophisticated nothing surprises us any more—and it's fun to be surprised.

Geography was easier to learn in the old days when everything that belonged to the British Empire was tinted pink on the map—and that took care of about half the globe.

Ulcers are no real measure of importance. Bowery bums come down with them as well as executives with a Park Avenue office. Few husbands carry an up-to-date photo of their wife in their wallet after she hits 40.

Charge accounts have ruined more men than blondes.

THREE TYPES

The three types of men who are least impressed with the whims of women are male hairdressers, house painters and plumbers. One of the great mysteries to most of us is, where do the stores keep during the rest of the year the stuff they put in their windows just before Christmas?

You can tell a fellow is middle-aged if he keeps on working his crossword puzzle after a pretty girl takes a bus seat across the aisle from him. The thing many grownups unconsciously miss most about their childhood is the taste of a stick of licorice. Youth has a licorice flavor.

A fat criminal is always likelier to get off with a lighter sentence if he is tried by a jury containing at least two fat men and one fat woman. There are lots of people who had no trouble giving up smoking, drinking and other bad habits. Any cemetery is full of them.

The most enjoyable way to see your dentist twice a year is to meet him in a neighborhood bar. Husbands who pride themselves on being good cooks almost invariably leave the dishes for their wives to do. There's always something in life to look forward to. As soon as you pay off the mortgage on your home, the roof is bound to start leaking.

Student Says He Won't Sell Place in Line

DAVENPORT, Iowa (AP)—Richard Widmer says he has changed his mind and will not sell his place in line to get Scott County's No. 1 auto license plate for 1963.

Widmer, 25, a student at Palmer College here, has been camping at the county courthouse since last Saturday. He said he had planned to sell his place in line to the highest bidder. New licenses go on sale Saturday.

Widmer said he has heard of some critical remarks about making money out of the deal.

He related that someone wanting the No. 1 license offered him $50 but he did not think it would compensate him for his 165-hour wait. He added that he will keep the license for his own car. Widmer's wife has been helping him maintain the place in line.

Dr. Wayne G. Brandstadt Says:

Seek Shelter at Once if Warning Is Heard

The two minutes it takes you to read this column may someday save your life.

If a genuine air raid signal is sounded and I hope it never will be — get to a basement shelter without delay if you are in a house or building. If you are outdoors and can't reach a shelter or building, lie flat on the ground, face down, and cover your head BRANDSTADT and neck with your arms.

If there is a bright flash of light do not under any circumstances look at it or in the direction of the source.

Even from a great distance the light of an atomic explosion fireball can blind you permanently.

Put a handkerchief over your nose and mouth to prevent the entry of radioactive dust.

The dust that settles on your clothes should be discarded as soon as you can get to a place where you can wash all the dust off of your body with soap and water.

If you are in a car at the warning signal, park at the curb and open the windows wide to equalize pressure and prevent glass breakage due to blast.

CLOSE WINDOWS

Crouch or lie down below the level of the windows. After the shock wave has passed, close the windows to keep out as much radioactive dust as possible.

Wherever you are seek the best shielding available at once. Get as low as possible and stay put until the attack subsides.

After you have taken shelter do not rush outside until you are officially advised that it is safe because, if you thus expose yourself to fallout contamination, you will not be able to help others but others will have to use valuable time and limited materials to take care of you.

It is essential that you obey instructions. Do not try to use your telephone.

If it is working, all lines will be needed by Civil Defense personnel for coordinating fire fighting and rescue work. Tune in your radio on frequencies 640 or 1240; these frequencies will be the only ones used in such an emergency.

If it is necessary to move to a safer place, do so only as directed by authorities. They will know when such a move will be safe. If the family is separated plan to meet later at a preselected place.

Because it is not likely to be a doctor available while you are in a fallout shelter, it is essential that one or more members of the family be trained in first aid.

Courses in first aid are available in most communities through the Red Cross.

Under very adverse circumstances it might be necessary to stay in a shelter for two weeks or more.

This would create many problems. For more details on how to prepare for such an emergency you should get in touch with your local Civil Defense authorities.

People have survived unexpected disasters of many kinds in the past. Even the people of Hiroshima and Nagasaki found ways to survive.

Being prepared increases your chance of survival. Above all, you are expected to keep a cool head and not to panic because the person who panics is a hindrance rather than a help at a time when every bit of help available will be sorely needed.

Hits U.S. Aid to India for Big Atomic Reactor

By RUTH MONTGOMERY
WASHINGTON — What-in-the-world-is-going-on department: Although the U.S. has received little but insults in return for $4 billion worth of foreign aid to India, we are reportedly preparing to wreck the International Atomic Energy Agency by agreeing to build India a tremendous atomic reactor.

It was our own government which set up IAEA, requiring multilateral control of such reactors to prevent the diversion of nuclear materials for weapons production.

India, which plausibly preached nonaggression but seized Portuguese Goa by force, refuses to permit multilateral inspection. Some of our administration do-gooders warn that unless we furnish the atomic power plant anyway, India might turn to Soviet Russia for the reactor.

It is to laugh! Russia has even reneged on the Mig fighter planes promised to India.

The Atomic Energy Commission does not deny the well-authenticated report, saying merely that the bilateral agreement is "under study." Must we always be like "the girl who can't say no," where ungrateful India is concerned?

Did you know that American taxpayers provided $150,000 in foreign economic aid to Saudi Arabia last year for port facilities and an airport.

This sounds like peanuts, unless you consider that according to Life Magazine, King Saud and his royal family have lavished two-thirds of Saudi Arabia's total oil income for the past 15 years on themselves — a staggering $2 billion.

Each of Saud's 60 sons reportedly received a royal allowance of $120,000 a year, and the king has a personal allowance of $40 million annually.

The U.S. Congress has voted no new money for Saudi Arabia, but we are still providing the finishing touches to the $46.6 million program previously authorized. Don't ask us why!

8 Airlines Ask OK of Mutual Aid Pact

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Eight major airlines yesterday asked the Civil Aeronautics Board (CAB) to approve an indefinite renewal of their agreement to give each other financial help during labor disputes.

The CAB is holding hearings on whether the airlines' mutual aid pact should be allowed to continue. Unions have charged that the agreement is illegal and violates the Railway Labor Act.

The eight carriers who are members of the pact are American, Braniff, Continental, Eastern, Northwest, Pan American, Trans World and United.

Disputes Editors' News Curb Claims

WASHINGTON (AP)—Arthur Sylvester, assistant secretary of defense for public affairs, contended yesterday that the Pentagon's record of the last 22 months does not support the view by an organization of editors that the release of legitimate news has been curtailed.

ON DUTY — Duke, a part-Pomeranian dog whose mistress, La Reina Schriber (right), is hospitalized, waits at his post outside Doctor's Hospital in East Los Angeles today. Duke began his vigil Wednesday when lease of legitimate news has been curtailed.

La Reina entered the hospital for a tonsilectomy and he's been there ever since. Duke sneaked inside a few times, but nurses put him out.

27. The association made the letter public today.

The NEA had sent Sylvester a copy of its resolution of Nov. 17 protesting the Pentagon's news policies and asking removal of a Sylvester directive of Oct. 27 requiring Pentagon officials to report to Sylvester's office all conversations with newsmen.

As for NEA's accusation about a "controlled press," Sylvester wrote:

"Without elaborating the point, I would simply say that there has been no 'giant step' or any midget step by anything we have done toward a controlled press. The only controls that I know of any segment of our press are exercised in the editorial offices of each individual component of the press. Let's keep it that way. One way to do it is to keep our facts straight."

Dem Peabody Gains in Mass. Recount

BOSTON (AP)—Democrat Endicott Peabody has regained a little lost ground as the recount of ballots in the Massachusetts gubernatorial race goes on.

With one-third of the state's 2,811 precincts recounted, Peabody today showed a net gain of more than 600 votes.

The unofficial recount totals for 671 precincts give Peabody a net gain of 689 votes on the basis of a 478-vote gain for the Democrat and a loss of 216 votes for Republican Gov. John A. Volpe.

Nations Should Share Cost of Space Work

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP)—Other nations should bear a larger share of space exploration efforts, says Frederick Seitz, president of the National Academy of Sciences.

This would solve "a big problem for us today—whether the attention being given to aerospace in America is draining too much manpower from the other sciences," he told newsmen at an academy meeting Thursday.

Week Honors Leader Dogs

LANSING (AP)—Gov. Swainson yesterday proclaimed the week of Dec. 2-8 as Leader Dog Week in Michigan.

He praised the Michigan United Fund, the Lions Club and other organizations for their support of the program to train leader dogs for blind persons.

Gov. Swainson said the leader dog school, located at Rochester, in Oakland County, has been able to meet an increasing demand for its product through "intelligent planning."

70-M.P.H. Winds Strike in Canada

VANCOUVER, B.C. (AP)—Snow-laden winds up to 70 miles an hour hit the lower mainland of British Columbia today. Two men died of heart attacks.

One hundred passengers rode out the storm on a ferry between the mainland and Vancouver Island. Waves toppled over a truck loaded with crates of chickens. About 1,400 birds escaped and roosted on the car deck. The ferry hove to, faced wind and maintained position for nine hours.

Air service also was disrupted. Wet snow totaled six inches in some areas. Falling trees and winds toppled power lines. One line fell into the bay here forcing temporary closure of part of the harbor.

Christmas Bazaar Scheduled

The Women's Fellowship of the First Congregational Church will hold their annual Christmas Bazaar, Dec. 7 at the church.

Mrs. Norman Feet, general chairman, announces that booths will be set up to sell Christmas decorations, linens, cards and calendars, baked goods, candy and aprons.

There will be a "Trash and Treasures" booth, a fish pond booth. Silhouettes will be cut.

Mrs. James Absher is in charge of the food. Luncheon will be served cafeteria style from 11 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. Assisting Mrs. Absher at this time will be Mrs. Mason Rich and Mrs. Donald McIntosh.

Dinner will be served from 4:30 to 7:00 p.m. Mrs. Elwood Bigler and Mrs. George Gaches are dining room co-chairmen.

The bazaar is open to the public and dinner tickets are available from Mrs. Earl Ottavio.

Mrs. L. C. Barner, Hudson Street, always has been chairman of the apron booth at the Christmas Bazaar of the First Congregational Church. She holds up a cross-stitched sample to show Mrs. Norman Feet, Spokane Drive, chairman of the bazaar, and Linda Mann, Rosshire Court, one of the teen-age helpers.

Go to Party in Home of Friend

By The Emily Post Institute
Q: I have just received an invitation to a party that is given by two hostesses. One of them is a very close friend of mine but the other hostess I have not been on friendly terms with for some time. Under the circumstances, would it be proper for me to go to this party?

A: If the party is being given in the house of the hostess with whom you are not friendly, you should not go, but if it is in the house of the one with whom you are friendly, there is no reason why you may not go if you would like to.

Q: My own mother is not living and my father has recently remarried. I have been living with my aunt and uncle for the past 15 years and am very fond of them. I am going to be married soon and I feel that my aunt and uncle's names should appear on the invitations as they have looked after me since my mother's death and have been very good to me.

I have been told that to do this would be an insult to my father and that the invitations should be in my father's name since my mother's death and have been very good to me.

A: Under the circumstances you describe, it is unlikely that anyone could think it an insult to your father to have the invitations go out in the names of your aunt and uncle with whom you have been living these many years. You should, of course, have your father give you away.

Q: What is the accepted etiquette in regard to entertaining the members of a card club for whom one has substituted frequently? Is she obliged to entertain the group at her house?

A: She is under no obligation to entertain the group as she has actually done them the favor by substituting for the absent member.

Q: You find it difficult to eat spaghetti? The new Emily Post Institute booklet entitled, "Table Rules of Importance," describes how to eat spaghetti as well as other difficult foods. To obtain a copy, send 10 cents in coin and a self-addressed envelope to the Emily Post Institute, in care of The Pontiac Press.

Honor Women at Annual Tea

New members of the Women's Society of Christian Service, Central Methodist Church, will be honored during the annual Christmas tea next Thursday in the church parlor.

Dr. Thelma James of Wayne State University will present the program "Christmas Around the World." Ada Dahlgren, church members are in charge of the event. Sara English Circle is the hostess group.

Plus Girl Who 'Loves' Him

A Woman-Beater Is Sick

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN
DEAR ABBY: I have been going with this man (he is 26 and I am 22) for about a year. We love each other very much and have spoken of marriage.

ABBY

He has a terrible temper and when he gets provoked he hits me. He has blackened my eyes and left bruises on me several times. Afterwards he begs me to forgive him and promises he'll never do it again, but he always does. The last time he hit me he cracked two ribs and loosened three teeth.

I broke up with him and haven't seen him in two weeks. I now find that my love for him is even greater than before and I want to go back to him, but don't know if I should.

Can you help me?

NO GREATER LOVE
DEAR NO: Any man who would repeatedly strike a woman is sick. And any woman whose love is "greater than before" after such abuse is sicker than he is.

If you go back to him, you should use the rocks in your head to fill up the holes in his!

DEAR ABBY: I once read that Russians think we worship dogs. "Lies," I cried. Then I looked into the facts.

I learned that more is spent each year on dog and cat food than on baby food. That there are beauty parlors for dogs (at $10 a visit), mink coats for dogs and jeweled collars and leashes that cost thousands of dollars!

Dogs (and cats) have been named sole heirs to fortunes. And, Abby, there are even psychologists for dogs!

I think dogs make charming pets, but when there are so many undernourished and unloved children in the world, they should come first.

MOTHER OF TEN

DEAR MOTHER: Considering the millions of dog-owners in the country, you are focusing far too much attention on the few oddballs who lavish thousands of dollars on jeweled collars, mink coats and leave their fortunes to their dogs.

Dogs protect the blind, hunt down criminals, protect homes and provide companionship for many, so don't waste your energy worrying about what the Russians think.

DEAR ABBY: Please tell me how to kiss a boy. I am going to a party the first of December and will need the information by then. I thank you.

NEEDS TO KNOW
DEAR NEEDS: How old are you? Anyone who needs information on how to kiss is too young to use it.

DEAR ABBY: My son's

teacher kept the entire class after school for 30 minutes. She wouldn't allow anyone to telephone home to say they'd been detained.

I was one of the mothers who sat out in my car waiting. My son was late for his dental appointment, and another boy was late for his music lesson.

Please don't give me that song and dance about teachers being overworked and underpaid. They have shorter days and longer vacations than office workers, and if they don't like children they should find another job.

IRRITATED MOTHER

DEAR IRRITATED: An effective way to keep individuals in line is to punish the entire class and then let the culprit suffer at the hands of his classmates. But no child should be denied permission to call home.

Club Will Hear Editor

Amusement Editor of the Detroit News, John Finlayson, will speak on "Show Business, What Is It?" at the Monday meeting of the Wayne State University Alumnae Club of Birmingham.

Alumnae and their friends are welcome to attend this meeting at 8 p.m. in the Strike & Spare Bowling Lanes, West Maple at Telegraph.

Mrs. C. George Widdfield,

Mrs. Robert W. Hague will be refreshment chairman, with Mrs. Larned G. Goodrich, Mrs. Joseph Jasper, and Mrs. Kenneth Emerick, all of Birmingham, and Lulu McGregor of Pontiac serving.

Reservations are being taken by Mrs. Robert R. Woodman and Mrs. Clarence W. Cukor.

League Studies Taxes

Julia Dalzell was moderator for a discussion entitled "Statutory Aspects of Taxation" by the League of Women Voters of Pontiac, Wednesday evening in the Elsinore Drive home of Mrs. Claire J. Hinckley. Chatterboxes were Mrs. Grady Smith and Mrs. Mary Wagner.

Mrs. C. George Widdfield,

Elizabeth Halsey and Mrs. Robert W. Ankeny comprised the panel. Audience participation followed a review of the previous meeting which covered equity of the present Michigan tax structure and coordination of state-local relationships.

Hold Exhibit of Graphics at MSUO

A sale-exhibit of graphic art, "Theater, Ballet, Circus," is currently on display at Michigan State University Art Gallery through Dec. 12. Gallery hours are 12 to 5 p.m., Monday through Friday, in the North Foundation Hall, Room 150.

The next exhibit features oil and casein paintings by Sonia Chusit. They will be shown Dec. 18 to Jan. 16. A tea reception for the artist is set for 3 to 5:30 p.m., Dec. 18.

The current exhibit of some 40 graphic works was loaned to MSUO by the George J. Binet Collection. It represents artists from France, Italy, Mexico, Britain, Spain and Lithuania as well as the United States.

Club Plans Yule Dinner

Creative Homemakers Extension Club plans a Christmas cooperative dinner at the home of Mrs. David Norin of Norton Street Dec. 18. Members worked on Christmas gift projects during Wednesday's meeting.

Hostess for the meeting was Mrs. George Imhoff and Mrs. Nick Seosack served refreshments.

DAV Women Elect Officers

by Mrs. Merle M. Humphries. Miss Halsey briefed the group on several league publications.

The president, Lillian Davidson, asked for volunteers for a league speakers' bureau to educate the public on the proposed new constitution and to promote a "Yes" vote for the document on April 1, 1963.

GIVES RESUME

Laura Belz gave a resume of plans for a series of public meetings sponsored by the eight Leagues of Women Voters in the county and other groups promoting the new document. Miss Belz is state treasurer and member of the county planning group.

"It's Your Choice," a new state board publication which explains and promotes the proposed constitution was shown. It is available in quantity to all members and other organizations. Bonnie Davidson is in charge of calendar sales.

Mrs. Joseph L. Jenkins and Mrs. Ankeny were added to the membership roster, also Mrs. Francis J. McGinty who has transferred from the Grosse Pointe league.

Cheers were Mrs. Amy Carlson, Mrs. John Galloway, Mrs. Charles Hudson and Mrs. Dannie Stillman.

Birmingham Area News Notes

Sunday will be an important day for the Eugene Arthur Moore family of Birmingham. Their son Evan Arthur will be christened at the First Methodist Church in Royal Oak. The Moore family has worshipped at this church for several generations and the great-grandfather, the late Dr. Eugene Miles Moore, was minister there for many years.

Godparents of the child will be his aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Walter R. Denison. His christening dress was handed down from Mrs. Moore's grandmother.

Judge Arthur E. Moore and Mrs. Moore will entertain the family for dinner following the church service. Judge Moore's mother, Mrs. Eugene Miles Moore and Judge Moore's sister, Miss Eva Moore will be present.

First Xavier Michaux of Paris arrived.

Early this week Andrew Treasie left for his home in Grandparents Mr. and Mrs. Brewster Shaw and their son Brewster will come from Cass City. Their daughters Peggy and Susan, who are attending the University of Michigan also will join the family.

The infant's cousins Christina and Dirk Denison will be present.

On Monday a birthday party in the Denison home will celebrate Christina's 8th birthday.

Visitors from France.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Hopkins of Colby Lane have had several visitors from France this month. At the suggestion of a friend, Stephen Layman, from Casper, Wyo., some of his acquaintances at the University of Paris dropped in on the Hopkins.

First Xavier Michaux of Paris arrived.

Early this week Andrew Treasie left for his home in Perth, Australia after being the Hopkins' house guest for one week.

Mrs. Treasie had been studying at the University of Paris. His travels will take him through the East and to Vancouver, B.C., where he sails for his homeland on Christmas Eve.

For several years a group of Birmingham friends have gathered in their homes to enjoy a gourmet dinner typical of the country they at one time have visited.

Tonight Mr. and Mrs. George D. Miller Jr., of Far Hill Drive will serve a Spanish dinner. With them will be the James Dickersons: Robert Campbell, Richard Halstead and Ronald Kasperaka.

December bride-elect Carol Jayne Hashman of Bedford Drive has been honored at two recent showers.

During a recent visit to Evangel College, Springfield, Mo., her former dormitory sisters honored her at a surprise shower. On Tuesday evening, July Wallace and Mrs. Richard Fuller were co-hostesses at a shower in the parlors of the First Assembly of God Church.

The bride-elect is the daughter of Rev. and Mrs. Arnold Hashman, and her fiancé, Richard T. Johnson, is the son of the Ruben Johnsons of Santa Monica, Calif.

An evening ceremony is set for Dec. 29.

To 'Plant' Rose Garden for Country Club Dance

"Everything's Coming Up Roses" Dec. 8 for the Birmingham Junior League's dinner dance at Orchard Lake Country Club.

The theme of this year's dance will transform the clubhouse into a garden of roses.

Chairman of the dance committee is Mrs. Clayton Gordon. Assisting her with dance arrangements are cochairmen Mrs. J. A. Malcolmson, Mrs.

Merritt Hulburd, Mrs. David Raymond, Mrs. James Sheridan and Mrs. Robert Reynolds.

Members and their husbands hosting cocktail parties before the dance include Mr. and Mrs. John R. Hammill, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Planting, the H. Samuel Greenwalds Jr., Dr. and Mrs. James Ladd and the Bruce Craigs.

Others opening their homes before the affair are Mr. and Mrs. Donald Parsons, Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Erb, the John Emerys, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Den Uyl and the John Fauvers.

Yule Dinner Planned by Unit at Gathering

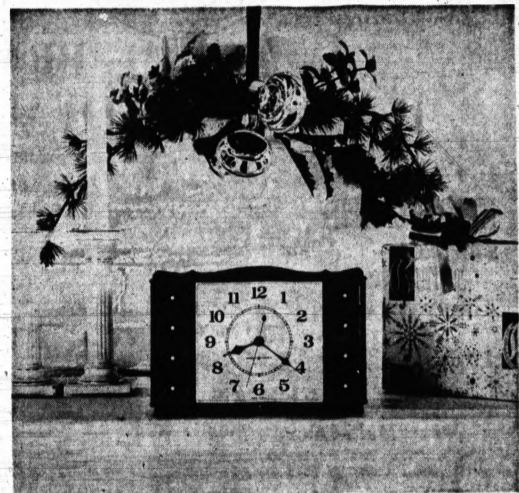

Inter-Lake Extension Group completed plans for its Dec. 28 Christmas dinner during Wednesday's meeting at the Lakewood Drive home of Mrs. Benjamin Wilton. Host and hostess for the holiday event are Mr. and Mrs. Robert Scharf of Pine Lake Road.

The group voted to give a donation to the visiting nurses as a community project. Following the luncheon, members made chenille hats under the direction of Mrs. William Hurlburt and Mrs. Wilbur Ott.

Musical Group Hears Talk on Theory Forms

Tuesday Musicals Workshop met at the home of Mrs. J. B. Nicolls of Blair House Ct. for its monthly meeting. Mrs. Howard V. Hildenbrand, chairman of the day, delivered a talk and demonstrated various theory forms.

Mrs. William Farling presented a piano solo. Assisting the hostesses were Mrs. Aubrey Roberts and Mrs. Walter Schmitz.

Authentic Early American styling lends an air of nostalgic charm to this country kitchen clock. Right in time for Christmas, it can be used either as a wall or shelf clock. Choose from a selection of finishes: antique brown, colonial white or antique black. The simulated spice drawers are exact in every detail, right down to the tiny drawer pulls. An arrestingly beautiful timepiece for kitchen, playroom or den. At most stores.

Mrs. Jacqueline Kennedy, wearing a three-strand pearl necklace, diamond earrings and with her hair in an upswept French twist, presented the camera studies Thursday evening. She attended the Washington portion of the fund-raising closed-circuit television program starting the drive for $30 million to build a National Cultural Center in the nation's capital.

Be in Tune With Nature

Enjoy Life's Little Things

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Every day is a surprise package. We do not know what it holds but it is ours and it is all we have.

It may contain hardships, fear, discouragements, frustration and even grief, but it may also bring us surprises in new opportunities, new friends and all of the wonderful small, rewarding, inspiring and amusing things which happen every day if we are aware of them.

Such things as a friendly telephone call, an unexpected compliment or thoughtfulness directed toward us, a note of appreciation or a humorous happening all add zest to daily living. Too often we are so preoccupied with our own thoughts that we miss the lift these pleasures could give us.

We should feel deeply grateful that we can enjoy the ever changing panorama and the varying moods of nature.

We should give thanks that we can react to the first snowfall of winter, to the first flower of spring, to sudden showers which refresh the atmosphere with subtle aromas, to a blood-red sunset to the buzz of bees on a lazy summer day, to the mountains, the sea, palm trees and evergreens. Life could never be dull if one is in tune with nature.

Really we should not ask for anything else if we have good health which adds zest to life just as herbs add flavor to a special dish. Good health is worth working for. Give thanks and protect yours.

Club Gives to Patients

The Friendship Club of former neighbors presented gifts to Pontiac State Hospital patients following a luncheon Wednesday in Ted's Restaurant at Pontiac Mall.

Cancer sewing will be resumed and gifts exchanged Dec. 20 in the home of Mrs. Raymond Ellsworth on Seneca Street.

Polly's Pointers

Don't Mix This Pair

By POLLY CRAMER

DEAR GIRLS — Some of our readers have wisely pointed out that mixing vinegar and bleach in water can have unpleasant effects.

You may recall that this combination was suggested here a few days ago to remove ballpoint ink stains from dresses.

Because of the possibility of too large a quantity of either item being used, thus producing an unpleasant odor and potentially unsafe gas, I recommend that you do NOT use any mixture of vinegar and bleach for household cleaning purposes.

I'd suggest that if you've saved this idea, just discard it now and we'll look for a safer and more effective method of removing ink stains.

DEAR POLLY—I use an old sock to replace torn-out coat pockets, especially in the children's coats. Just sew it in and it is probably stronger than the original one.

Also, I use snap clothes pins to hold folded-over tops of potato chip or bread bags. It works on anything kept in a plastic bag in the refrigerator, too.

My little daughter likes to color and then likes to have her work on display. One day she brought me a picture of the fat lady from her circus coloring book. Know where it went? Right on the refrigerator door! It reminds me of what too many snack breaks could do for me.

MRS. F. W. C.

Share your favorite homemaking ideas . . . send them to Polly in care of The Pontiac Press. You'll receive a bright, new silver dollar if Polly uses your ideas in Polly's Pointers.

Card Party Announced for March

Mrs. Robert Terry, president of Alpha Omega Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi, has announced an all-city chapter card party and fashion show March 20.

Members met Wednesday at the home of Mrs. Richard Paschke on Union Lake Road. Other reports were heard from Mrs. Russell Perkins and Mrs. Paschke on the Institute on Organizational Leadership held earlier this month at Michigan State University, Oakland.

Mrs. J. C. Pickering showed films of last year's Christmas party and summer picnic.

Pupils Hold Recital for Music Guild

Pupils of Pontiac Music Guild members held a recital followed by a business meeting at Grinnell's Music store Wednesday evening. President Charles Wilson of Grayton Street will be host for January's meeting.

A local bridegroom suspects wife no longer helps him do the that the honeymoon is over—his laundry. — Earl Wilson.

SHARON KAY MELER

Mr. and Mrs. Linza L. Meler of Hamilton Street announce the engagement of their daughter Sharon Kay to Pvt. Richard William Blower, son of the William Blowers of South Marshall Street. Her fiancé is enroute to South Viet Nam.

By GAY PAULEY
UPI Women's Editor
TOKYO — Born a Japanese and returning to Japan as the wife of the U.S. ambassador offered a challenge, says Mrs. Edwin O. Reischauer.

"Coming back to the country of my birth, I didn't know how the Japanese would feel..."

"Or, how the Americans would feel either. But she added, "It has been less difficult than I anticipated... everything has been most pleasant."

"Matter of fact," she continued in an interview at the embassy residence, "I was talking to the wife of another ambassador here. She said that when her country found the Americans had sent my husband and me here... they decided, well, the country of origin doesn't matter for the wife after all."

UNSPOKEN PROBLEM

What Mrs. Reischauer did not add was that many Japanese frowned on oriental-occidental marriages...

...this was an unspoken problem she faced.

The Reischauers have been in Tokyo eight months. This is their first experience as official representatives of the United States abroad — Reischauer is on leave from the Harvard faculty.

"Campus life is so informal," said the 47-year-old Mrs. Reischauer, a slim brunette. "We had to get used to a lot of protocol."

"Ambassadors usually have worked their way up the line in the state department. By the time you're an ambassador's wife, protocol is second nature. Fortunately, the wife of the deputy chief of missions took charge of me... she's been a tremendous help."

"I learned early," she said, "that the guest of honor takes precedence. No one can leave a function until he does. Also, that seniority — in how long you've been in a country — matters."

The whole diplomatic corps leaves by precedence. I just have to remember that we follow the Colombians... they arrived in Tokyo about five minutes ahead of us."

ENJOYS ROLE

Mrs. Reischauer said she did not want anyone to misunderstand her comments on problems of being an ambassador's wife — she's thoroughly enjoying the role. "Everything comes served on a platter," she said. "You meet interesting people, see interesting things."

"We want to be of some service to our country, that's why we're here..."

But she confessed there are times when "you wish you weren't anybody... that you weren't always on display."

Haru-Reischauer is one of six children of a Japanese businessman. Her grandfather was both prime minister and finance minister of Japan. She had worked as a secretary, then as Tokyo representative for the Saturday Evening Post before she met Reischauer, a widower. They have been married since 1956.

Reischauer's family had been missionaries in the Far East and when his first wife died, he returned to Japan with his children, two girls and a boy. Two of the children now are married, and the youngest, a daughter, is taking a year off from Oberlin College to spend it with them.

DAY STARTS EARLY

The wife of the ambassador said her day begins between 6:30 and 6:45 a.m., and she and her husband go through at least half a dozen newspapers as they breakfast.

By 8:30, she's at her desk in the embassy residence, checking with the embassy protocol office on the day's schedule — who's for lunch? Is there a dinner tonight? Then, she confers with her housekeeper and the rest of the staff on the day's plans.

"It seems as if I never stop," she said. "We do try to keep the weekends free, but that's not always possible."

"Ten thousand Americans visit Tokyo every month. "No," she added, "we couldn't possibly see them all."

Mistletoe's Dividends

To get extra dividends from your mistletoe, spray it with clear plastic or dip the stems ends in melted wax. This will keep the leaves from shriveling and the berries from falling.

LONA LEE JOHNSON

Mrs. Lee Johnson and J. Russell Johnson, both of Rochester, announce the engagement of their daughter Lona Lee to Ronald Bruce Nelson, son of the Arnold M. Nelsons of North Ardmore Street. Her fiancé received his bachelor of science degree in 1960 from Ferris Institute where he was affiliated with Sigma Alpha Delta Fraternity. A Jan. 12 wedding date is set.

Let Child Earn Money

'Allowance' Un-American

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

CASE 948: Norman K., aged 13, is a smart eighth grader.

"Dr. Crane," his mother protested, "you have urged us parents not to offer our children an allowance."

"But where can Norman earn his spending money? We live in a city apartment, so what jobs are available for him?"

DR. CRANE

PAY FOR WORK

The "allowance" method is un-American as a way for letting children obtain money.

For it encourages the European "something-for-nothing" idea that has already swept this nation far along the road to federal socialism.

Our republic evolved on the worthy psychological principle of pay for work.

Captain John Smith thus started the motto that those who don't work should not eat.

So if you want your child to become self-reliant and able to appreciate the fact that money stands for sweat and work, then let him earn his spending money.

Even in a city apartment, there are plenty of jobs that you can place in the "pay" category, such as doing the dishes, washing windows, washing or polishing the family automobile, shining shoes, or even giving his parents a scalp massage.

Another ideal way is to let your boy serve as a newspaper carrier, for that job gives him the very best training in all aspects of our American economic system.

For he must merchandise his papers and use salesmanship to add new customers.

The act of collecting each week and then keeping books, likewise teaches him the fact that gross income is not net profit.

Sometimes, too, a deadbeat will skip town, owing him a couple of weeks' bill, so he learns a lot of very practical psychology.

EVEN WEALTHY LEARN

Even if you are a millionaire parent, your child will not inherit any business ability, for that must be learned by each new generation.

So be sure your youngster acquires a wholesome respect for money by having to earn it.

Then he will not gripe or verbally knife you in the back for being a skinflint who refuses to raise his allowance.

For when a child earns his own money, he can blame nobody but himself if he has only $1 per week instead of $2.

Many college youth thus criticize their parents for not doubling their allowance when there is no law that says a parent must give his child ANY spending money at all.

Then those same "allowance" boys go into politics and thus demonstrate asinine knowledge of business methods at Washington, D.C.

Another splendid method for teaching a boy business judgment is to let him do the family grocery buying.

KEEP DIFFERENCE

Use the price scale of your neighborhood store as a standard. Then if he wishes to purchase at the chain store farther down the street, let him pocket the three cents per pound difference in price for butter or the seven cents for peanut butter.

This will teach your boy or girl to watch the Friday grocery ads and make a shrewd shopper of them. Then they'll be far more likely to live on a budget when they later grow up and marry.

Send for my booklet on "How to Earn Spending Money," enclosing a stamped return envelope, plus 20 cents.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan. Enclosing a long 6-cent stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20 cents to cover typing and printing costs when you send for this psychological charts and pamphlets.

Meeting Stated on Diabetics

An educational meeting for diabetics and their families will be held by the Oakland County Lay Society of the Michigan Diabetes Association.

The session with the topic, "Diabetic Emergencies and How to Handle Them," will be held at 8 p. m., Tuesday, in the auditorium of the Oakland County Department of Health, 1300 N. Telegraph Road, Waterford Township.

Dr. Donald G. Alberts of the Diabetes Association will discuss glucagon — a drug used to treat insulin shock.

He also will describe how to recognize diabetic emergencies and how to give first aid care to the diabetic.

Swims River to W. Berlin

BERLIN (AP) — A young East German swam the icy River Spree in downtown Berlin under gunfire before dawn today.

The 23-year-old man reached the West Berlin bank near the reichstag building and was taken to a hospital for treatment for exposure.

An East German police patrol boat fired 10 shots at the swimmer, West Berlin police reported. A patrol boat searched the water, and 20 policemen combed the river bank.

The East police were evidently looking for more refugees. Two other East Germans, 20 and 19, reached West Berlin during the night.

Huge Force Was Poised to Pulverize Cuba

BY FRED S. HOFFMAN
WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States might have been left with few readily maneuverable Army and Marine divisions to deal with other crises if it had launched an invasion of Cuba.

Perhaps for that reason, it is evident U.S. military chiefs counted on a swift, pulverizing stroke to knock out Fidel Castro's forces and Soviet-manned missile bases. The Defense Department disclosed Thursday that more than 100,000 troops in the Strategic Army Corps had been alerted for possible use against Cuba in the recent crisis.

This represented five of the eight divisions in STRAC, the force maintained by the Army in the United States as a reserve to be rushed overseas in event of emergencies.

Two of the five divisions earmarked for the Cuban operation were the only parachute outfits in the Army. The 82nd Airborne and the 101st Airborne Divisions normally would be the first to go in.

Quit Horsing Around, Judge Tells Drunk

PAGE, Ariz. (UPI) — Keesche Littleman, 30, learned that drunk riding is as illegal here as drunken driving.

Littleman yesterday was sentenced to 30 days in jail or a $150 fine for "operating a horse while under the influence of intoxicating liquor."

any hurry-up "fire brigade" operation.

Over-all, the Army has 16 divisions. In addition to the eight in the United States, five are pinned down in West Germany facing the Iron Curtain, two are in South Korea confronting the Communists in North Korea and one division is split between Hawaii and Okinawa.

12,000 MARINES

The Pentagon's roundup of military actions in the Cuban crisis indicated that about 12,000 Marines—nearly the equivalent of a full division—were committed to the Cuban operation.

They were sent in to reinforce the U.S. Naval Base at Guantanamo or were embarked with the Atlantic Fleet preparatory to landings at helicopter-borne attack on Cuba.

These Marines came from two of the corps' three divisions—2nd at Camp Lejeune, N.C., and the 1st based at Camp Pendleton, Calif.

More than 1,700 of the roughly 7,000 Marines now holding the Guantanamo perimeter in Cuba are expected to be pulled out soon and sent back to California.

The 3rd Marine Division is positioned on Okinawa, with an

1,000-man battalion landing team from that outfit aboard ships of the 7th Fleet cruising Far East waters.

A 10-page Pentagon summary showed that at least 213,000 Army, Navy, Marine and Air Force fighters or in position to strike at Cuba and defend the southeastern United States.

About 85,000 of these were aboard 183 Navy warships that blockaded Cuba and were set to man their missiles, guns and jets against Cuba if the order were given.

The 85,000-ton nuclear-powered carrier Enterprise and the 75,000-ton carrier Independence, with escorting ships, stood by ready to send off their more than 200 Navy and Marine planes in defense of Guantanamo.

Another 6,000 or so Air Force pilots and ground crewmen manned nearly 1,000 rocket-and-cannon armed jet fighters and 1,000 B-47 bombers were on their runways, primed to take off combat-loaded within 15 minutes after warnings.

The crews of 144 U.S. intercontinental ballistic missiles also were on special alert.

bombers and dive bombers were posted at crowded military airfields in Florida for the same purpose.

The Defense Department's report said the Air Force's Strategic Air Command mounted a "massive airborne alert" of many of its 600 B52 heavy jet bombers. The rest of the B52s and about 100 long-range nuclear bombers were on the ground before they could start for their enemy targets.

But it was disclosed for the first time that SAC bombers joined Navy patrol planes in keeping a watch on the 2,000 ships which were in the Atlantic during the U.S. arms blockade of Cuba.

About 126,000 air crewmen, missilemen, mechanics and others in SAC pitched in on this round-the-clock operation.

The main purpose of the SAC alert was to make certain any surprise missile strike against this country would not catch U.S. forces unready to fire and answer long-range nuclear bombers on the ground before they could start for their enemy targets.

But it was disclosed for the first time that SAC bombers joined Navy patrol planes in keeping a watch on the 2,000 ships which were in the Atlantic during the U.S. arms blockade of Cuba.

Crash Hospitalizes Pontiac Twp. Teen

A 16-year-old Pontiac Township boy was in satisfactory condition with severe tongue cuts in St. Joseph Mercy Hospital today after his car collided with another on Auburn Road near Opdyke Road at 5:25 p.m. yesterday.

The boy is Ronald P. Thomas of 3250 Auburn Road. He told sheriff's deputies he lost control of his car after a passenger pulled his hands off the steering wheel.

Thomas' car struck the rear of a car driven by Robert T. Barlow, 23, of 273 Robincreek St. Barlow was not injured.

Two passengers in Thomas' car also escaped injury. They were Tim Hobin, 14, of 140 N. Squirrel Road, and Gerry Retan, 16, of 2938 Churchill Road, both of Pontiac Township.

Petitions Hit Coed Editor at Ole Miss

OXFORD, Miss. (UPI)—Petitions were circulated on the University of Mississippi campus last night asking for the impeachment of the editor of the student newspaper for her editorial stance during the school's racial crisis.

Shortly before the petitions were brought into dormitories and fraternity houses, the student activities committee of the campus senate, a student government group, reprimanded the editor, Sidna Brower.

Miss Brower, a pretty, dark-haired journalism student from Memphis, said she was not disturbed by the actions.

"I feel like I had stood up for what is right," Miss Brower, 21, told UPI.

The committee's resolution said Miss Brower, who edits the Daily Mississippian, had failed "to counter the distortion by the national press of the image" of the university's student body.

The measure was adopted as a substitute for a censure resolution proposed by senior George Monroe of Newton, Miss., a member of the Patriotic American Youth Organization, a conservative group.

The resolution adopted was considered to be milder than the one offered by Monroe.

The resolution said Miss Brower failed to protest "the unnecessary firing of tear gas" by federal marshals and Army troops during rioting the night of Sept. 30 and morning of Oct. 1 when Negro James Meredith was brought onto the campus to be registered as a student.

The resolution will be recommended to the campus senate for final approval when it meets Tuesday night.

Ford's Oldest Retiree Dies in Detroit at 97

DETROIT (AP)—Capt. Harry Wilbert Judson, 97, oldest retiree of the Ford Motor Co., died yesterday in a Detroit hospital.

A native of Wallaceburg, Ont., Judson went to work at the age of 16 on a tugboat.

He retired from the Great Lakes in 1916 and went to work for the Ford Highland Park plant in the upholstery department, retiring there in 1950. Funeral service will be held Saturday.

Algerian's Negotiate in France

PARIS (UPI)—Algerian Premier Ahmed Ben Bella sent a high-level negotiating team to France today to seek badly needed financial help for his new nation.

Informal sources said the first objective of the team headed by Foreign Minister Mohammed Khemisti would be to clear up "misunderstandings" about the policies of Ben Bella's regime.

They viewed the premier's announcement yesterday outlawing the Communist party in Algeria as possibly timed to coincide with the negotiations.

Western observers said the move was no great surprise, however. It appeared to conform with Ben Bella's insistence on a one-party regime under his own National Liberation Front (FLN).

Today's meeting comes as Ben Bella is launching long-term plans to industrialize and "socialize" the Algerian economy.

FRANCE TOP SOURCE

France, the chief source of financial help for the new nation, has already allocated $20 million in immediate aid.

President Charles de Gaulle has agreed to continue such "cooperation" if Ben Bella lives up to the agreements which made Algerian independence possible.

The French have been disturbed by recent reports from Algeria of kidnapping of Europeans and Algerians formerly favorable to France, persecution of Algerian "Harkis" who served in the French army and apparent plans to expropriate property of Europeans who fled Algeria when independence was granted.

Khemisti's team was expected to explain some of these reports to former Algerian Affairs Minister Louis Joxe, French Foreign Minister Maurice Couve de Murville and probably Finance Minister Valéry Giscard d'Estaing.

Traffic Deaths Hit All-Time High: 33,430

CHICAGO (AP)—The nation's traffic death toll in the first 10 months this year—33,430—was a record high for any similar period.

The National Safety Council said the deaths, averaging 110 a day, compared to 30,720 for the first 10 months in 1961, an increase of 9 per cent. The previous record for the period was 32,357 highway deaths in 1957.

The council said yesterday the October death toll of 3,850 was up per cent from the 3,650 of October last year. Last month also was the 12th consecutive month to show an increase from the same month a year earlier, the council said. The previous high October toll was 3,918 in 1955.

Sportsman's Burial Set

DETROIT (AP)—Funeral services for Michael Darcy, 53, of Vanderbilt, a well-known sportsman in the Gaylor area, will be held Saturday at 2 p.m. Darcy died yesterday of injuries suffered in an auto accident. He is survived by his widow, Mary; three sons and a sister.

Lockheed Workers Back but Could Strike Again

BURBANK, Calif. (AP)—Lockheed Aircraft Corp. and its aerospace workers today went back to work—said back to the conference table—after a brief strike was ended at least temporarily.

Government intervention halted picketing after two days. But union leaders vow they'll strike again if demands for a union shop vote aren't met.

The company says it won't weaken its firm stand against the vote.

A special presidential committee set up under the Taft-Hartley law scheduled its first meeting today to look into the months-long contract squabble.

TO STUDY REPORTS

The committee planned first to study written reports it requested from both management and labor. Its chairman, Prof. Arthur M. Ross, of the University of California Industrial Relations Institute, said he also wants to hold oral hearings.

Picket lines from Honolulu to Cape Canaveral, Fla., quickly dissolved Thursday as strikers ended their walkout at the request of President Kennedy.

A day earlier he had invoked the Taft-Hartley law, clearing the way for a possible injunction against further immediate strikes. Lockheed claimed the strike was relatively ineffective. The union on the other hand said $7 per cent of 55,000 possible union and nonunion employees stayed out of work halting vital missile and plane projects.

Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz said in Los Angeles he was satisfied with the prompt action of the IAM in withdrawing pickets around the nation.

ORDERED TO WORK

The union ordered its members back to work, but left little doubt it expects continued trouble in negotiations over the central issue—the union shop proposal.

"We are reminding the government and Lockheed that the dispute is still very much unresolved," said E. R. White, general vice president of the union, "and that unrest will continue to plague work areas until a fair and equitable agreement is reached."

Another IAM spokesman said a second walkout is certain if union demands are not met. But, he added, a strike should not be expected until Taft-Hartley provisions have run out.

Lockheed, opposed to what it calls the compulsory unionism of a union shop, indicated it also plans to stand fast.

'Reds Fear Uprising in China'

WASHINGTON 479—A Communist Chinese security officer who defected to the West said yesterday the Peking government is worried about a revolt on the Chinese mainland.

Chao Fu, who defected from his Stockholm embassy post last August testified before the Senate subcommittee on Internal Security. He was believed to be the first Communist party member ever to defect to the West from an official Chinese installation.

Chao testified that prior to June 23, when the Peking regime issued a statement on the Formosa situation, it sent the embassy in Stockholm a warning by telegram that the document was coming.

"Outstanding in my memory," he said, "was the fear expressed that if Chiang Kai-shek troops attack at the same time as other enemies like India, the Chinese Communist would be in a very critical situation."

"These problems would be intensified if the people, because of economic difficulties resulting from adverse political conditions, would respond to the attack by the Chiang troops."

Reserve Revamping to Start Next Week

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Defense Department expects to launch next week the long-pending reorganization of the Army National Guard and the U.S. Army Reserve.

The plan calls for reducing four National Guard divisions and four Army reserve divisions to much smaller brigades, and for eliminating about 700 units of company size or smaller.

The department issued a statement saying that "contrary to a published report" there have been no major changes made in the plan which first was disclosed last spring.

UAW Loses in Attempt to Organize Plant

EAST JORDAN (U-A) United Auto Workers bid to represent workers at the East Jordan plant of the Mount Clemens Metal Products Co. was defeated by a vote of 108 to 67 in an election conducted here Thursday by the National Labor Relations Board.

NLRB agent Earl Bader made the announcement following voting in this Charlevoix County community.

Charges Parole Board Pressured on Gangster

LANSING (U-A) — The Michigan Parole Board may have been pressured into paying special attention to a bid for freedom by Philip Keywell, ex-Purple gangster serving life for murder, a former board member charged yesterday.

John A. MacLellan, who was fired from the parole board last December, suggested further that Keywell, 53, and another life-terminer were given "promises, if not assurances," of being freed even before their case came up.

Although it mentioned no names, the carefully worded telegram from MacLellan to the board left little doubt that it was linking Gov. Swainson to the second charge.

MacLellan demanded that the board withhold its findings on both cases until Swainson leaves office, Jan. 1, adding that failure to do this "may well . . . and should" lead to a legislative or grand jury probe.

The telegram arrived as the board was holding an emotion-

charged hearing on Keywell's application for commutation of the life sentence imposed on him in 1930 for the slaying of a 16-year-old Detroit youth, Arthur Mixon.

MacLellan charged that in the case of Keywell and Jack Budd, 57, a Detroit man sentenced to life for a holdup-slaying in 1936, "special pleaders" said "insidious influences" have played an active part.

This postponement, he said, "will provide adequate guarantees that they will be presented, considered and acted upon solely upon their merit," and "diminish the possibility of retaliation against any board member by any of the special pleaders."

Parole board records show Swainson, as a state senator in 1956, made an inquiry into the Keywell case.

In a statement yesterday, the governor acknowledged this but said he had not had any involvement in the case since then.

He was acting only as a senator, he said, having been asked to make the inquiry by a member of the Keywell family who lived in his district.

Swainson declined to comment directly on the telegram, saying he felt comment on any parole board matter before it reached his desk would be improper.

He challenged MacLellan to take whatever evidence he has of wrongdoing in the Keywell and Budd cases "to the proper authorities."

Strike Hits Cleveland's Newspapers

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — A surprise Teamsters Union strike against the city's two major daily newspapers today caused one of them—the Plain Dealer—to cease publication. The editor of the other—the Press and News—expressed optimism his paper would keep publishing.

Teamsters Local 473 began picketing the Plain Dealer and the Press and News in a contract dispute Thursday night. Stacks of newspaper bundles piled up on the morning Plain Dealer's loading dock as the pickets walked around. The papers were undelivered.

Thomas V. H. Vail, vice president of the Forest City Publishing Co., notified Plain Dealer employees that publication of the newspaper would be discontinued until the strike is settled.

Louis B. Seltzer, editor of the Press and News, said he was "going ahead on the assumption we will publish" today despite the Teamster picket line.

A Plain Dealer official said the strike came as a surprise after a day of quiet negotiations and expressed hope the strike would end as suddenly as it began.

RICHARD GOSSER

'Relieved' of UAW Activities

DETROIT (U-A)—Richard Gosser, a United Auto Workers vice president, stood relieved of his union duties today until federal courts dispose of a conspiracy indictment against him.

Gosser was accused Wednesday in a Toledo grand jury indictment of conspiracy to defraud the federal government. He was charged with paying an Internal Revenue Department employee $150 for confidential documents relating to an IRS investigation of his tax returns.

UAW President Walter Reuther and Secretary-Treasurer Emil Mazey conferred with Gosser yesterday at Solidarity House, the union's international headquarters in Detroit.

They then issued a statement saying: "At the suggestion of Mr. Gosser, was mutually agreed that interests of the UAW and the personal interests of Mr. Gosser could best be served by having the present responsibilities of Mr. Gosser assumed by other officers of the UAW."

"In accordance with established due process, the UAW is obligated to consider Mr. Gosser innocent until and unless proven guilty."

The Detroit meeting came just hours before Reuther departed for Chicago and the opening today of a three-day meeting of the UAW's skilled trades department.

Gosser has denied any intention of tampering with the confidential files of the IRS.

He was the first international officer in UAW history to be indicted.

School Integration Is Slow, With Only 'Token' Results

By The Associated Press
White schools in key Southern cities have admitted Negroes under court orders, but for the most part there is only token integration.

Involved in this token compliance are a tangle of local problems, prejudices, concerns and conflicting views about integration—how fast and how much.

Racial integration as envisioned by the U.S. Supreme Court's 1954 school decision is not a reality in each important testing grounds as Little Rock, Ark.; Clinton, Tenn.; Atlanta; Norfolk, Va.; New Orleans; Raleigh, N.C.; and Oxford, Miss.

Clinton, Tenn.—One of the first scenes of violence after the Supreme Court decision—has more than 1,100 pupils in its schools. Of that number, 38 are Negroes.

Tennessee and Texas have moved further toward integration than other states of the South.

Desegregation moves slowly, though peacefully, in Tennessee. In Nashville, 490 Negroes attend previously white schools through the first six grades under the grade-a-year plan. Twenty-two of the state's school districts are desegregated.

TEXAS COMPLETE

Texas has many school districts completely integrated with no Negro schools remaining. In metropolitan areas there are integrated schools, white schools and Negro schools. A few more districts are integrated each year.

In Little Rock, five years after rioting brought in federal troops, 68 Negroes are enrolled in eight formerly white schools.

"Integration here is tolerated but not accepted," said Amis Guthridge, president of the segregationist Capital Citizens Council in Little Rock.

"If the time comes that the rank-and-file Negro is forced into white schools, there will be constant trouble. Integration will fail just like prohibition failed."

Everett Tucker Jr., school board president, believes desegregation has been accomplished in Little Rock. But board member Ted Lamb said he considers it only token integration.

Attorney Wiley Branton, counsel for the original plaintiffs, agreed that integration is no more than token. He plans further court action.

VIRGINIA ACCEPTS

In Norfolk—One of three Virginia cities where schools were shut down by the governor in 1958 to prevent integration—the change has been accepted. Negroes, nevertheless, have shown little interest in transferring to former all white schools.

The net result is "tokenism." Norfolk has 115 Negro pupils attending integrated schools. Although about 1,500 Negro children live closer to formerly white schools than to Negro schools, relatively few have asked for transfers.

New Orleans, another trouble-spot when the change came, has entered its third year of school desegregation. In 50 desegregated schools with 98,790 pupils, there are only 107 Negroes.

ance with the court orders—no

intendent Perry Walker.

The Roman Catholic Church has ordered New Orleans archdiocesan schools integrated, but there are only 211 Negroes attending formerly segregated schools. At Buras, about 60 miles south of New Orleans, Our Lady of Good Hope School was forced to close when no pupils showed up after the school was ordered to admit Negroes.

TOKEN ATLANTA

Atlanta, peaceful in its initial desegregation last year, was described as an example of "tokenism at its best" by Vernon Jordan, field secretary for the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

In its second year of a grade-a-year plan, the Atlanta system now has 44 Negroes in 19 schools that once were for white pupils only.

"It's obviously token as far as numbers are concerned," said Superintendent John Letson. But he said there is a growing acceptance of Negroes by white pupils.

Jordan said he believed the Georgia capital was "growing more receptive to the idea—though unwillingly."

In Raleigh, N.C., one of the factors involved in the school situation was demonstrated when four Negro pupils transferred upon their own requests back to Negro schools.

Geographic assignment has put about 400 Negroes in formerly white North Carolina schools this term.

In Mississippi, James H. Meredith—kept in the University of Mississippi under federal guard—is the lone instance of desegregation.

AP Photo

NO PROBLEM HERE—These first grade boys are shown during a play period at one of Nashville's desegregated schools. Under its grade-a-year plan, Nashville now has desegregated the first six grades of its elementary schools. Other states, however, have achieved only "token" integration in a slow-moving process of reorientation of firmly-established Southern ideas.

ADVANTAGES
ELECTRIC HEAT to cost a lot more than it does!

ROOM-BY-ROOM CONTROL

Only electric heat lets you dial the exact warmth you want in the room you want. Keep it 72° in the baby's room, cooler in yours. There's no need to overheat the whole house to get extra warmth in one room. In rooms not in use, you can turn the heat down and thus lower heating costs.

QUIET

Most electric heating systems have no moving parts—they're so quiet, you never know they're on.

SAVES SPACE!

With electric heat you get full use of all floor space—there's none taken up for fuel storage, chimney.

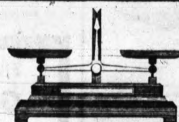

MODERATE INSTALLATION COST

In general, the original cost of an electric heating system is no more than—may even be less than—that of any other type of quality equipment. Actual installed cost will vary according to type of heating unit, home size, construction and location.

EASY ON THE BUDGET

With the Edison Equalized Billing Plan, your cost of operation can be spread over eleven months with an adjustment period in the twelfth month.

With electric heat, there are no cold spots or drafts, no blasts of hot air. Room temperatures need never vary more than a degree or so. Electric heat doesn't rob inside air of moisture, either.

100% EFFICIENT!

WITH ELECTRIC HEAT, ALL THE HEAT GENERATED IS USABLE HEAT WHEN AND WHERE YOU WANT IT—NONE GOES UP A FLUE.

Queen's Kin Is Engaged

LONDON (U)—The engagement of Princess Alexandra of Kent, first cousin of Queen Elizabeth II, to Angus Ogilvy, second son of the Earl and Countess Arlrie, was announced today.

The princess will be 26 Christmas day. She is 12th-in-line to the British throne. Her fiancé is 34. The two have known each other for eight years.

Most farm workers are non-migratory. Roughly nine-tenths of the 3.5 million farmworkers are local residents.

Set the thermostats, then forget them. Most electric heating systems have no moving parts. Little to wear out, nothing to rust out, no burners to replace.

Quick!

Turn a dial and the heat's on when you want it, where you want it. No waiting for the heat to build up somewhere else in your home before you feel its welcome warmth. No heat (or money) is wasted in other rooms.

CHOOSE FROM FIVE KINDS OF ELECTRIC HEATING UNITS:

Your choice will depend on whether you're building, remodeling or simply adding on or finishing off an extra room. Built-in electric heating systems may be baseboard units; forced air or radiant units set in walls; radiant cable embedded in floors or ceilings; electric furnaces that heat by forced air or hot water; an electric heat pump for one room or the entire home. A heat pump heats in winter and cools in summer.

Dems Plan Gala to Pay for Campaign

By DICK WEST

WASHINGTON (UPI)—When a political party stages a fund-raising affair it does not sell tickets. That it would be illegal.

But if a person wants to make a voluntary contribution, there's nothing wrong with sending him a complimentary ticket.

Everyone got that straight? Very well.

Anyone who happens to contribute $100 or more to the Democratic National Committee between now and Jan. 18 is in luck.

On the latter date, a group of big entertainers will assemble at the D.C. Army here for two hours of fun and games.

Any, by an odd coincidence, tickets to the show will be distributed to the party donors.

The event will be called an "Inaugural Anniversary Salute to President Kennedy," and the proceeds—or rather the contributions—will be applied against the campaign debt.

I learned all of this at a sort of a news conference held in the office of Democratic National Chairman John Bailey. I call it a "sort of a news conference" because songwriter Richard Adler, who is producing the show, candidly admitted he was holding something back.

Adler explained that he wanted to save some information for another news conference later. If this technique becomes widespread, I'm going to give up my salary and start working on space rates.

In Chairman Bailey's chair sat Danny Kaye, who will be one of the stars of the show. Next to him sat Carol Burnett, who will be a costar.

Miss Burnett said she planned to do a comedy sketch. "Of Jacqueline Kennedy?" someone asked.

"No," she replied. "Of Macaroni."

Kaye said he didn't plan to do anything funny.

"I travel with a symphony orchestra nowadays," he said. "I do classical music and Biblical readings."

One of the more penetrating reporters among us wanted to know if Kaye and Miss Burnett were Democrats.

"Is the Pope Catholic?" replied Miss Burnett.

Adler, who wrote the music for "Pajama Game" and a couple of other hit shows, staged a similar political production in New York last year and raised about a million dollars.

Will Honor Meredith for 'Courage, Fortitude'

BOSTON (UPI)—University of Mississippi student James Meredith will be honored for "courage and fortitude" Dec. 8 at the Golden Anniversary Banquet of the Boston branch of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People (NAACP).

Meredith will be presented an award for his action during the recent integration crisis when he enrolled at the State University in Oxford, Miss.

Peaceful Atom Use U. N. Parley Subject

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (UPI)—The General Assembly approved without opposition yesterday a plan to hold a third international conference on the peaceful uses of atomic energy in the fall of 1964.

The vote was 85-0 on a resolution sponsored by 12 nations, including both the United States and the Soviet Union. The conference would be held in Geneva over a 10-day span.

Aristide Briand, premier of France at the time, was awarded the Nobel Peace Prize in 1929.

Honor 'Dairy Farmer of Year'

PRESENTS TROPHY — Oakland County's "Dairyman of the Year" was honored and other top dairymen cited at a banquet last night in Davidsburg. Pontiac Press reporter Don Fermoyle (left) presented the trophy to Keith Middleton of 2610 Stoney Creek Road, Orion Township. More than 100 owners and operators of dairy farms in the county attended the event.

DAVIDSBURG — An Oakland Township man who proudly watched his children win dozens of 4-H Club awards in past years was honored for his own contribution to farming here last night.

Keith Middleton, father of five, member of the Lake Orion Board of Education and an enthusiastic 4-H Club leader, was named Oakland County's "Dairy Farmer of the Year."

The Pontiac Press trophy awarded annually to the county's top dairyman was presented to Middleton at the Oakland County Dairy Banquet.

Don Fermoyle of The Press staff presented the award to Middleton before a crowd of more than 100 members of area Dairy Herd Improvement associations and their guests.

It was held at the Davidsburg Masonic Hall.

Middleton's 360-acre farm, located at 2610 Stoney Creek Road, was chosen as the best in the area by a panel of judges from each of the county's three dairy herd improvement associations.

His herd of 57 Holstein cows produced an average of 12,584 pounds of milk and 443 pounds of butterfat per cow during the past year.

Middleton, after accepting the award, credited his 23-year-old son Bill with much of the herd's success.

Middleton said his son, with whom he operates the farm, has been in charge of the herd.

The modest father explained that his children, ranging in age from 12 to 23, were a great help on the farm. Most of them have won ribbons and trophies in several of the county's 4-H Fairs.

Middleton has served as president of the County 4-H Council, treasurer of the Soil Conservation District and in several other volunteer positions devoted to youth work and improvement of farming.

LOCAL AWARD
Manfred Seabrook of 2305 Seabrook Road, Orion Township, received the local award from Dairy Herd Improvement Association No. 2 and Norman Balko of 5270 W. Eight Mile Road, Lyon Township, won the 1962 Black and White 4-H award.

Troy Sixth Grader to Get AAA Award

TROY — A 12-year-old boy was to be cited for valor here today by the Automobile Club of Michigan.

He was to receive the association's life-saving medal and learn he had won a free trip to the National AAA Safety Patrol Rally in Washington, D. C.

Eugene Caulk, a sixth-grade student at Big Beaver Elementary school, was to be given the award at a special assembly.

It was to be presented in recognition of Eugene's fast and heroic action while on duty Oct. 25 when he pulled two young school children from the path of an oncoming speeding car.

Eugene, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Caulk, 883 Troy Road, St. Clair, is a school bus patrol safety boy. The bus he rides with was stopped at the southeast corner of Rochester Road and Harris Street after school, when the incident occurred.

Allen Wade, 8, and his sister Dianne, 4, children of Mr. and Mrs. James Updegraff, 915 Harris St., had just been discharged from the school bus and walked in front of it to cross the street.

Eugene, also standing in front of the bus, watched the two children start to cross. Then he spotted a speeding car coming in the opposite direction, directly towards the children, which was not slowing down even though the bus "stop" flashers were signaling.

Immediately recognizing the danger, Eugene dashed into the street, grabbed the children by their coat collars and pulled them out of the car's path back onto the shoulder of the road.

The speed of the automobile, which failed to stop until it was well past the back of the bus, was estimated at 55-60 miles per hour when it crossed the intersection.

With true modesty, Eugene said nothing to anyone about the incident. School authorities knew nothing about it until the bus driver, Virginia Kriebel, 1750 Abbottsford, reported it to the school principal, Clyde Peterson.

Hunting Companion Fights for Life

Area Man Admits Shooting, Police Say

WALLED LAKE — State police today said a local man they picked up here has admitted shooting a hunting companion from Walled Lake in a Montmorency County cabin yesterday.

The shooting victim, Lance Whittemore, 41, of 147 Coalmont St., Walled Lake, was fighting for his life today in Alpena General Hospital.

He had been shot once through the chest with a .25-caliber pistol, police said.

Officers from the Pontiac and Detroit state police posts apprehended two men about 8 p.m. yesterday at the Coalmont Street address, which also is the residence of the wounded man's brother Frank.

Police identified the suspects as Lawrence L. LaLone, 28, of 5524 Stanhope St., West Bloomfield Township, and Lewis Nomsson, 70, of 147 Coalmont St., Walled Lake.

Both men were to be returned to Montmorency County this afternoon for questioning in the case.

Although Nomsson has admitted wounding Whittemore, police said the reasons for the shooting are not clear.

Alpena state police reported that

AREA NEWS

Whittemore was shot sometime between midnight and 2 a.m. yesterday in the cabin about eight miles northwest of Hillman in the northern Lower Peninsula.

The two men left the cabin immediately after the shooting.

Whittemore, left alone all night, staggered to a nearby road and hailed a passing motorist about 8:30 a.m., and police were notified of the incident.

Officers said Nomsson and LaLone were returning Frank Whittemore's car, which they had used on the hunting trip, when they were picked up by police here last night.

Alpena state police said this morning that hospital authorities reported the wounded man is in serious condition.

ROTARY CLUB

AIR PATROL AWARD — Inter-Lakes Group 6310, Civil Patrol, has presented a certificate of appreciation to the Walled Lake Rotary Club for the service club's active support of the volunteer Air Force Auxiliary. R. M. Thibideau (left) is shown receiving the certificate from 1st Lt. William Egan. The CAP observes its 21st anniversary tomorrow.

Book Fair Stated by Wixom PTA Unit

WIXOM — A book fair will be held Monday and Tuesday at Wixom Elementary School under the sponsorship of the school's parent-teacher association.

The books on sale will be for children from kindergarten through the fifth grade.

Books also will be the topic of Tuesday's 7:30 p. m. PTA meeting at the school.

Detroit Firm Wins Minuteman Subcontract

DETROIT (AP) — American Metal Products Co., yesterday announced it won a $1.7 million subcontract connected with production of the Air Force's Minuteman missiles.

It said the contract was awarded by Thiokol Chemical Corp. for manufacture of blast tube inserts for the intercontinental missile.

Commerce Department Sees Orders Increase

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Commerce Department yesterday presented a mixed picture of manufacturing activity in October. It said new orders, an important clue to future production, rose 3 percent to a seasonally adjusted monthly record of $33.4 billion.

Sales dropped about 1 percent from a record level reached in September.

Recall Likelihood Uncertain

Avondale School Hassle Up in Air

What's the next move in the hassle between the Avondale School District Improvement Association and the four school board members it is attempting to oust?

No one appears to know. Representatives of the ASDIA submitted recall petitions 30 days ago on board members Floyd L. Cobb Jr., president; David W. Hackett, vice president; Raymond N. Baker, secretary; and Mrs. Genevieve Porter, treasurer.

School Supt. George E. Shackelford is legally bound to announce today whether enough valid signatures were submitted to put the recall issue on the ballot, according to state law.

But he can't. Shackelford must find out if the ASDIA has submitted signatures equal to 25 percent of the registered tax-paying voters in the Avondale School District.

In order to do this he must know the number of voters in the four municipalities which have areas within the boundaries of the Avondale School District.

He has received the necessary figures from Bloomfield and Avon Townships and an uncertified figure from Pontiac Township.

TROY WANTS TO CHARGE
However, the city of Troy wants to charge the school district $5 per hour for work involved in determining the number with a maximum of $125.

A special meeting of the board was called by Cobb to decide whether or not to pay Troy. The council voted not to pay.

Board member George Granger placed the motion on the floor. It was seconded by R. Grant Graham.

They voted "yes" on the motion. Hackett abstained and Cobb chose not to vote. Baker, Mrs. Porter and James Laughlin voted "no."

In a second attempt to solve the problem Hackett again placed a motion on the floor, similar to the first.

The motion failed due to lack of a second.

DISCUSSES TRIP
Shackelford then reported on his recent journey to Lansing at the meeting. He took the trip to discuss previous charges made by Hackett that the school district illegally received approximately $550 through the National Defense Education Act for counseling fees.

The money was allegedly obtained under the jurisdiction of former School Supt. LeRoy R. Watt and former board president Graham.

Shackelford said he was told of the probability of the issue coming before the state attorney general and the superintendent of public instruction in a hearing.

Thomas B. Rucker, president of the ASDIA, said he was confident that the group had submitted enough signatures for a recall

"I hope the issue can be put on the Feb. 18 primary election ballot," Rucker said, "so that money won't have to be spent for a special election."

MUST VALIDATE
But, before the recall issue can be put on a ballot, the validity of the signatures on petitions must be determined.

The ASDIA has charged the four board members with forcing former School Supt. LeRoy R. Watt to resign.

The association has also charged that these officers are not sufficiently dedicated to providing the best administration of education without regard to political or personal ambitions.

A "deal" between the ASDIA and the former superintendent has been a rebuttal of the board members.

Each of the opposing factions has charged the other with misrepresentation and distortion of facts.

Pure Pat's New Film Failed Censor Test

By VERNON SCOTT
UPI Hollywood Correspondent
HOLLYWOOD — Pat Boone, symbol of clean-living young America, received news this week that his latest movie has been denied a seal of approval.

This is roughly akin to discovering there is no Santa Claus.

When the handsome young singer first came to Hollywood he didn't even allow himself to kiss the leading lady. But in his new Seven Arts picture, "The Main Attraction," Pat is a changed man.

In this one he smokes, brawls in a barroom, spends a night with a girl and generally plays anything but a pillar of the community.

and U.S. Graded
CHOICE STEAKS

Opposite St. Joseph's

But that is not why his picture failed to pass muster at the censor's office of the Association of Motion Picture Producers. A spokesman for that office said:

"The picture was returned to Seven Arts because it appears to be a justification for premarital relations. Additional scenes are required to show that such a situation is morally wrong."

ADULT FILM
The character involved in this premarital relationship is played by, of course, Boone. The girl in the story is Nancy Kwan.

Says a Seven Arts executive: "The picture was primarily conceived as adult family entertainment. In the past the words 'adult' and 'family' never seemed to go together, but today I believe teen-agers, who represent the bulk of movie audiences, have matured and expect more sophisticated film fare."

"We felt Pat Boone was a virile, good looking guy, but had always been 'square' in his white Boone booties (Pat's white buckskin shoes). In 'The Main Attraction' we don't believe he is emulating James Dean or other actor lab types."

"He has emerged as an effective dramatic actor, a virile, regular guy in this picture."

Boone was out of town, according to his business associate, Jack Spina, at Pat's Cooga-Mooga Productions.

But Spina did say: "Pat does not seem to be a picture of a sensational nature to shock the public. He plays a morally bankrupt young man who is reformed by the love and understanding of a decent young woman."

Be that as it may, the picture still does not have a seal. Many movies fail in their first attempt to pass Sherlock scrutiny, but when a Boone film is sent back, that's news.

CELULOID PURITY
Boone's celluloid purity became an issue back in 1957 when he was widely printed that he refused the sale of white buckskin shoes?

Junior Editors Quiz on INDIANS

ANSWER: Before the white men came, North American Indians had their special religious beliefs, around which their rituals and ceremonies were built. As the white men took over the country, the Indians became isolated in special areas or reservations. In them they could go on with their own way of living to a certain extent, or they could adopt the white man's civilization.

Efforts have been made by the United States Government to help the Indians. The largest Indian tribe, the Navajos, now has schools and hospitals; many Navajos have irrigated farms and steady jobs in the oil and uranium industries.

In spite of such developments and conversions to Christianity, many Indian tribes still carry out ceremonies and dances on occasion.

In Florida, for example, toward the end of June, the Seminole hold the important Green Corn Dance, a kind of tribal meeting where matters are taken up according to ancient custom.

The Zuni Shalako ceremony, held in November or December, is attended by many friends of the Southwest Indians; the Snake Dance of the Hopis is also famous. We illustrate the Apache Fire Dance, a spectacular event held each August in Gallup, New Mexico.

FOR YOU TO DO: Try an Indian dance. Get some friends and line up in a row. Indians don't twist around or jump; they dance with knees slightly bent, lifting their feet up and down. Grunt in rhythm as you try it: "Hoo, hoo-hoo-hoo..."

JFK May Take Brazilian Trip

WASHINGTON (U) — President Kennedy may make his twice postponed visit to Brazil in April or May, Gov.-elect Ademar De Barros of the Brazilian state of Sao Paulo said yesterday.

De Barros told this in a newsman after a half hour visit with Kennedy at the White House.

Explaining why April appeared to be a likely time for Kennedy's trip, De Barros said that after a January plebiscite in which Brazilians will decide whether to go back to a presidential system of government, Brazil will be undergoing some turbulent months.

Then, De Barros said, the summer in Brazil will be very hot and the weather should improve in the Fall.

The fall season there coincides with spring in North America. "It is very nice in Brazil in April," he said.

Washington, Tennessee and New York are the leading states in the production of finished aluminum.

Lew Wasserman Knows Entertainment

Few Recognize His Name, but He Runs an Empire

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer
HOLLYWOOD—The list of film near Eric Johnston's honors and achievements runs 31 lines in the encyclopedia Motion Picture Almanac.

This contrasts with another entry, reprinted in its entirety: "Wasserman, Lew: President, Music Corporation of America headquarters, Beverly Hills, Calif."

An agent's mania for anonymity remains, with Wasserman though he has shifted from heading show business' largest talent agency to command of a vast entertainment empire with its base in Universal City. He is never seen at big parties. He declines to be photographed. His public pronouncements are rare.

He is a rangy man with a well-combed shock of graying black hair. A prodigious worker, he begins his day at 6 a.m., talking on the telephone to New York. How much time does he spend at his office?

TOO MUCH OR TOO LITTLE?

"My associates say too little," my wife says to much," Wasserman answered, with a grin. His mania to 10-12 hours, and the paper work goes home with him. Weekends are often spent in Palm Springs looking at movies

"You can never see all the film you need to in this business," Wasserman is 49. He worked his way up through the rough and tumble business of peddling talent and at 33 was handed the reins of MCA by founder Jules Stein. Wasserman led the firm into television filming, then helped MCA run through anti-trust obstacles to the goal of merger with Universal Pictures-Decca Records.

The new combine is viewed by many, including Hollywood unions, as the great hope for restoring the American film industry to its previous eminence.

EXPANSION PLANS
Wasserman's office indicates that hope is well-placed. It is filled with photos and models—he calls it "my erector set"—of expansion plans for the studio. Among the projects: a 14-story office building, new commissary and wardrobe buildings, four new stages to add to the present 23.

"We now have 450 acres, having acquired a driving range from Bob Hope on the other side of the studio," he said. "We intend to develop 200 acres. That will still leave us with the biggest studio in the world."

MCA has announced that it will back Broadway shows to help provide film properties. Wasserman disclosed that the company will also seek out talent at universities and in little theaters.

As a talent agency, MCA was long assailed for supposedly charging excessive fees for top stars. Now Wasserman is on the buying, not the selling end. I asked him if he thought stars were overpaid.

PAID WORTH

"I don't think there's such a thing as overpaying talent—as long as they earn what they get," he said. "That goes for actors, writers, directors—and agents. MCA had the smallest turnover of any agency. Why? Because I believe in paying our agents what they were worth, either in salaries, stock, insurance benefits or other means."

"Actors should also get what they are worth. But I do think there might be a change in the kind of payment. Some stars who are worth more make only their flat salary of $200,000 or $300,000."

Colt Coach Warns Lions to Forget 57-0 Score by Bears

In the first game this year, a 45-yard "quarterback sneak" by Milt Plum broke a 20-17 Colt lead and helped the Lions to a 29-20 victory.

Grey Cup Game on Television

The game will be telecast (ABC-TV), throughout the United States on a delayed basis. The telecast will begin at 4 p.m.

Steve Owen, long-time New York Giants coach and 1962 Canadian Coach of The Year, will help the regular television crew explain the many differences in Canadian and American brand of football.

12 PLAYERS Canadian professionals, for example, use a 12-man team and have only three downs to make 10 yards. They play on a field measuring 110 yards by 65 yards.

A major scoring difference comes in the punting game. In Canada, a punt through the end zone or into the end zone and not run out is scored as one point (single or rouge) for the kicking team, instead of a touchdown for a team, instead of a touchdown in the U.S.

The game is the first Canadian title clash to be telecast nationally in the U.S. since 1954, when

Wings Have Shooting Edge, but Rangers Win Game

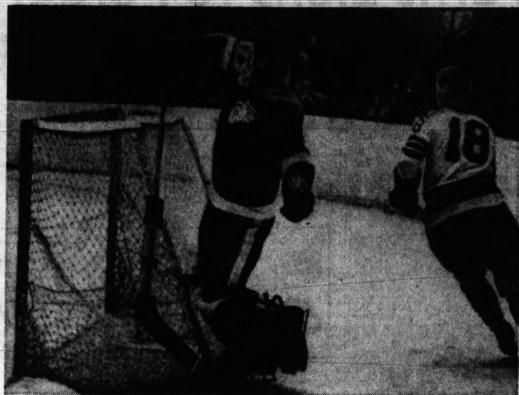

Top Rated Trojans Trod Shaky Ground

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Shooting back into nationwide prominence for their first perfect season of football in 30 years, Southern California's Trojans are a rather shaky one touchdown favorite to defeat Notre Dame Saturday.

Upward of 65,000 fans are expected in Memorial Coliseum for the 1:30 p.m., PST (4:30 p.m. EST) kickoff and what could be a dramatic finale for both squads. It will be the 34th meeting of the schools, dating back to 1928.

Victory would be the 10th straight for the Rose Bowl-bound Trojans, and just about cinch their claim to the mythical national championship. They're rated No. 1 already.

Defensive Lapses Open

Scoring Plays

DETROIT (AP)—The Red Wings had most of the good chances — and the New York Rangers scored all the goals.

This capsuled the Wings' latest ineffective performance. The Rangers licked them 5-0 last night in a game in which Detroit had a wide shooting advantage.

Thus, the Red Wings again relinquished sole possession of first place in the National Hockey League. The Chicago Black Hawks pulled into a tie for the second in a week by beating the Boston Bruins, 5-4.

Detroit poured 35 shots at Gump Worsley. The ranger goalie, flopping frequently to the ice for acrobatic saves, stopped all of them.

Worsley's teammates took 30 shots, many of them weak and easy to stop. But five whizzed past Terry Sawchuk, who was victim of a defensive collapse in front of him.

Four of the ranger goals were direct contributions of defensive lapses.

"Bing, bing, a long pass and away they'd go and score," moaned coach Sid Abel. "Every break they got they put the puck in the net."

NO EXCUSE

"We had the good shots and we couldn't. A week ago when Montreal beat us it was because of Thanksgiving. Some of the boys ate too much. I don't know what I can blame this one on."

It was only the Red Wings' second loss against seven victories at Olympia Stadium.

The Wings, who took command in the NHL race by going unbeaten through their first 10 games, lost five and tied two of their last 10.

The Rangers, in fifth place, pulled eight points behind Detroit by winning.

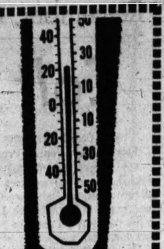

Camille Henry, bothered by a bad back and a touch of the flu, scored two Ranger goals. Both times he worked behind the defense to score easily.

He was in alone on Sawchuk for the first tally in the opening period. In the second period, the Rangers fired four goals in 5 1/2 minutes.

Andy Bathgate was alone at center ice when Henry set him up and he scored on a breakaway.

Jean Ratelle was unaccounted by the defense when Sawchuk left the cage unguarded and couldn't get back and the lanky ranger scored into the open net. And Heberton finished off the rout by jabbing at the puck three times before he beat Sawchuk while a Wing was penalized.

$4,000 Changed Hands Describes Cage Fix Role

RALEIGH, N. C. (AP)—The mechanics of alleged college basketball game-fixing were under study here today in Superior Court, where two men are on trial on numerous charges of bribery and conspiracy.

Defendants are Dave Goldberg and Steve Kelometros, both of St. Louis. Mo. Testimony has pictured Goldberg as a financial backer of game-dumping efforts, and Kelometros as his chief lieutenant.

Aaron Wagman, a New York gambler who has pleaded guilty to charges growing out of the basketball scandals, told yesterday of a devious payoff method for a Jan. 7, 1961, game between North Carolina State College and Duke.

Wagman said he approached Goldberg before the game for $2,000. Two N. C. state players were involved in the fix, he said.

TWO CHECKS

Wagman related that the $2,000 came to a Manhattan Western Union office for Jake Israel, who turned the money over to Wagman.

Another $2,000 came to Israel by registered letter, according to Wagman. After the game, Wagman said, he placed $2,500 inside a sports car's back seat and mailed it to Stan Niewierowski in Raleigh.

Earlier testimony was that Niewierowski received $2,000, and Anton (Dutch) Muehlbauer got $1,250. Both were State College players.

The remaining $750, said Wagman, was payoff money for him and Israel.

Michigan Skaters Look for Breaks

ANN ARBOR (U) — Michigan's hockey team tonight, which plays Michigan State tonight, needs a good shuffle and the right breaks to be a contender this season, says Coach Al Renfrew.

Renfrew already has done the shuffling—and it looked good in the Wolverines' first two games, he said. They defeated the Chatham Juniors at Chatham, Ont., 6-1, and the University of Toronto, 7-2.

But the competition wasn't stiff enough to tell how the team will stack up in Western College Hockey Association play. Michigan "looked a lot better than I thought we would, but I think we still have a long way to go," the coach said.

"This is the toughest amateur hockey league in the country; we'll get a good test against Michigan State here this weekend," he said.

Michigan plays MSU at U-M tonight and tomorrow.

FIVE MISSING
Renfrew lost five forwards from last year's lineup — "And you just don't get that many new forwards in one year," he said.

He brought up only four sophomores this season—two of them have not played a great deal of hockey in recent years. Defenseman Dave Newman, in fact, hasn't played at all in the past two years, he said.

"Two of the sophomores turned into valuable assets in the Wolverines' first two games, he said. Gary Butler slammed in four goals and contributed two assists against Chatham and scored twice and made one assist against Toronto.

Jack Cole scored once against Chatham and twice against Toronto, also coming up with an assist.

Wilt Scores, Team Doesn't

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Wilt keeps scoring and the Warriors lost their seventh straight, 128-121 to St. Louis.

Syracuse romped over Chicago 112-85 in the only other game on the schedule.

A third-quarter scoring burst, some good defensive work by rookie Zelma Beatty and Bob Pettit's scoring and leadership were the big factors in the St. Louis victory, which pulled the Hawks to within half a game of Western Division leader Los Angeles.

WILT CHECKED

Beatty, a rookie from Prairie View, Tex., who played only in the last half, held Chamberlain to eight points in the third quarter as St. Louis broke from a 58-57 halftime margin to an 11-point advantage going into the final quarter.

Chicago pulled the burst with 14 of his 45 points in that quarter. Chicago pulled to within three points of Syracuse 38-35 in the third period, but the Nate' Lee Shaffer struck for nine straight points and Syracuse was out of danger.

AAU, NCAA Pot Boiling Over Again

DETROIT (AP)—The seething struggle between the AAU and NCAA for track control in the United States had boiled over into a new war of words today—two weeks after it seemed peace was in sight.

The NCAA, through its coaches united in the U.S. Track and Field Federation, charged the AAU with reneging on an agreement made in New York Nov. 13. The AAU replied there was a misunderstanding on details in the agreement.

The Federation's charges came Thursday night, hours after the AAU's 35-man executive committee unanimously endorsed a track and field coalition which was formed at the New York truce meeting. That meeting, called by Atty. General Robert F. Kennedy, had been designed to end the 24-year squabble and help toward insuring a strong U.S. team for the 1964 Olympics.

The coaches agree with the principle of a coalition. At issue is just what the coalition will do, particularly in international track competition. The AAU insists it will continue to control U.S. participation in international meets. The NCAA argues the coalition—made up of several groups including the two warring bodies—eventually should have international control.

PLAN REJECTED

Soon after the endorsement, federation leaders held an urgent telephone pow-wow and agreed the AAU plan was unsatisfactory. Sitting in on the conference phone call were Bill Russell, federation president and a district director of athletics in California; Chick Werner, Penn State coach and a federation executive director; and Don Canham, Michigan coach and a federation executive vice president.

"We agreed the New York coalition was based on five points," Canham said, "and any changing and eliminating now changes the whole concept of the agreement."

"What the AAU presents has only one feature of the original agreement."

The biggest stumbling block appeared to be what body will do the selecting of athletes for international meets—and when.

Canham said the New York agreement stated in one of its points:

"In 1964, the new coalition would seek with the AAU's at 70.

blessing to have the International Amateur Athletic Federation recognize the new coalition as the governing body of track and field in the U.S."

The IAAF, world governing body for track, currently recognizes the AAU.

DISAPPROVED

The AAU's executive committee voted to disapprove any suggestions "at this time" that would make the coalition the U.S. governing body to the IAAF.

"This is a misinterpretation because we are talking about this time," said Col. Don Hull, AAU executive director and its chief negotiator at the New York meeting.

The AAU admitted, however, if all parties involved in the coalition agreed, it is possible the coalition may be able to become the U.S. governing body after 1964.

"I think there will be a solution," said Hull. "There is misunderstanding in detail. If the NCAA people will unite efforts on a coalition committee with the AAU and other interested organizations, we can do the job the attorney general asks us to do."

Others listed

Hull listed among the other organizations that would join in the coalition as the small-college NAIA, the Armed Forces, the Catholic Youth Organization, the YMCA, the high schools and the junior colleges.

Canham said another point in the original agreement was that a coalition track meet would be held for the purpose of determining national teams for international meets.

"This is not true at all," Hull said. "We agreed the national championships would be run as always with the NCAA and AAU holding their own. And if there was a coalition meet it would be for fundraising."

The AAU's track and field committee meetings were scheduled for today. Canham said he and Werner would attend along with the Wilson, president of the U.S. Olympic Committee.

"The federation is putting up for ratification the original agreement within the next week," said Canham, "and we're absolutely willing to go along with the original agreement."

'Red' Kress, Former Tiger, Dies in LA

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Ralph (Red) Kress, who spent more than 25 years in the major leagues as a player and coach, is dead of a heart attack.

Kress, 55, was on the coaching staff of the New York Mets last season. His manager, Casey Stengel, said he was "the hardest working coach I ever saw" and "a great inspiration."

Kress died late Wednesday night at his home in suburban Canoga Park.

Kress played in the majors a dozen years, first with the old St. Louis Browns in 1927 and later with the Chicago White Sox, Washington Senators, Detroit Tigers and New York Giants. He appeared in 1,391 games, mostly as a shortstop, and had a career batting average of .306.

Starting With 1963-64 Season

Add Cage Game for Preps

LANSING (U) — Michigan high schools will be allowed one more basketball game a year, jumping the present quota from 16 to 17, starting with the 1963-64 season.

The decision was made at the annual meeting of the Michigan

Association of Secondary School Principals. The group represents the state's high school and junior high school principals.

The present maximum is 16 basketball games or nine football games with a total of 24. The new plan will allow 17 basketball or nine football games with a 25-game limit.

The vote, by the athletic division of the group, was about two to one. Principals or superintendents led the voting, depending on which controlled the athletic policies.

The coaches led the drive for the added game. Saying it would improve scheduling and mean increased revenues. Opponents argued there was too much emphasis on sports now and the added game would increase the pressure on the students.

Dark Horses Top West Palm Beach Golf Tournament

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla. (U) — Two dark horses—Rod Funseth of Spokane, Wash., and Butch Baird of Galveston, Tex.—held the lead going into today's second round of the 72-hole, $20,000 West Palm Beach Open golf tournament.

Funseth heated up the chilly West Palm Beach Country Club links with a 34-34-68 and Baird was even hotter going out, 32-36-68, on the par 35-72 layout of 6,800 yards.

Their first rounds yesterday were any-weather examples of good or better golf. Funseth, who has three strokes out of first place in the recent Ontario Open, putted 20 feet on one hole, and canned putts of 15 and two feet also in snaring four birdies. Baird eagled No. 2 for a 4-under-par 32 on the front nine holes.

Seven players double-bogged at 69. Another seven were knotted at 70.

The 11th Frame

With the Press Bowlerama's initial qualifying trials only two days away the men in Oakland County have been putting the final touches on their form—and keeping the results quiet.

The junior and women bowlers in the county, however, have kept at it and are registering some excellent scores.

The junior league at North Hill Lanes posted a 213 game last Saturday for Alan Kohl. A 208 score was noted for Bob Mills while Tom Tadaewski and Ken Mathew both rolled 202's.

Rick McCotter couldn't get over the 200-pin mark in any game but he did post the high series, a 547. McCotter and Pete Amacher each managed to convert the 6-7-10 split.

Russ Adams' 487 series topped the action in the Montclair Junior Bowling League.

STRIKING LADIES

BACKUP BALL

"Point Thumb to 10 or 11"

Many women use what we call a backup ball.

It starts down the lane and veers to the right—into the 1-2 pocket, creating Brooklyn strikes. This type of delivery is caused by pointing the thumb to the right instead of the left at release.

It is very difficult to control and spells inconsistent scoring.

To correct this, the bowler should point her thumb to 10 or 11 o'clock during the forward armswing and ever so slightly turn the hand downward at release.

Bowlerama's Opening Times Posted

The first qualifying trials for the 1962 Pontiac Press Bowlerama will start Sunday at the times listed below.

Bowlers who will attempt to reach the December 23 finals this Sunday at either How's Lanes or Nor-West Lanes should report to the main counter at the respective houses to register for their alley and pairings at least 15 minutes prior to the scheduled starting time.

Should an entrant for a legitimate reason not be able to bowl at his appointed time, he must report this fact an hour in advance to the house. Any entrant not ready to bowl at his appointed time will forfeit his entry fee and position, if he hasn't notified a Bowlerama official of his pending absence.

If two entrants tie for the high qualifying score, a three-game rolloff will determine the trophy winner.

If Son Needs Tutor, Choose One Wisely

By LESLIE J. NASON
Professor of Education,
University of Southern California

When their youngsters' grades begin falling in school, many parents think about hiring an outside tutor. Is it wise? The problem is bothering this parent:

Dear Dr. Nason: Our son is having trouble with intermediate algebra in his 11th grade class. He had difficulties in each of his first two semesters of algebra in the ninth grade, but finally made good grades with the help of a tutor.

Would you advise hiring a tutor again?

B. S., Oakland, Calif.

Tutors help students pass courses but sometimes they leave them weaker rather than stronger as students. They help solve the immediate problem of passing the course, but too often this consists of help in solving specific problems and cramming for tests.

If his tutor in ninth grade algebra straightened out his learning procedures your son certainly would not be in trouble again in the same subject.

Try to choose a tutor this time who can help him learn HOW to study mathematics.

Dear Dr. Nason: Our daughter is engaged to a man (25) who quit school after only two years of high school. She is a junior at college. How can we help him? Where would we start to close the gap?

B. J., Marshall, Mich.

Successful marriages are not easily achieved with such a difference in education. I suggest that the young man enter a junior college, complete high school and make plans for closing the educational gap between him and your daughter before they marry.

A college counselor will be glad to help him plan such a program.

Adults can complete high school graduation requirements in less time by taking courses at the college level. These courses also form an excellent foundation for additional college work.

Dear Dr. Nason: Our junior high school daughter started school this year with great enthusiasm. Now she seems to be losing interest. She spends little time at home. We ask her what she is supposed to be doing, but get evasive answers.

Whether it is reading, writing, or some other skill that needs attention often can be determined. Sometimes it is merely a lack of planning HOW the study should be done.

(Dr. Nason will welcome your question addressed to him in care of The Pontiac Press. Those of most general interest will be answered in his column.)

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

By OSWALD JACOBY

Sometimes it pays to be an average good player rather than a great expert. Thus, at the Tucson regionals every South player landed at four spades after North opened with one club and raised South's spade response to two.

West had an automatic queen JACOBY of diamonds opening and invariably dummy's king would lose to East's ace.

The average Easts would lead back a heart, whereupon West would take two hearts and the jack of diamonds to set South one trick.

A couple of less than average Easts returned their partner's diamond lead. West would be in with the jack of diamonds, but would be unable to set the contract because a heart lead would establish South's king and if he led anything else, South would draw trumps and eventually discard one of his hearts on dummy's long club.

At one table East was a ranking expert. He won the ace of diamonds and naturally knew better than to lead back a diamond and establish dummy's ten. So he decided upon a club return. This led to the same result the less than average players achieved. South was home free.

Complains IRS Won't Take Him to Court

CLEVELAND (AP) — The last thing the Internal Revenue Office here expected to happen was to receive a complaint from a citizen that he wasn't being brought to justice.

But Sam Gatzke, a 75-year-old retired machinist, sat in county jail today in lieu of $5,000 bond.

He is accused of punching an IRS examiner in the eye, all because, as Gatzke told U.S. Commissioner H. A. Horn at a hearing, he "couldn't get information as to why I wasn't called into court" for failure to file tax returns. Gatzke said he never has filed an income tax return.

Gatzke said he had read in the newspapers about persons being taken to court by the IRS, and "I wanted to know why I wasn't taken to court."

Anthony Juske, who was punched, said there was nothing in the IRS records concerning Gatzke and that no charges had been filed because there was nothing to show Gatzke had not filed tax returns.

Bernard J. Stupinski, chief assistant U.S. attorney, indicated the government will seek a psychiatrist examination for Gatzke.

Oak Park Man Held in Slaying of Partner

OAK PARK (AP) — Manuel Barris, 45, of 24069 Condon Ave., Oak Park, was held for investigation of murder today following the fatal shooting of his partner in a laundry machine business.

Leo Broadsky, 46, also of 24531 Seneca Ave., Oak Park, was shot in the head yesterday in the Oak Park office of Paul Baker, a certified public accountant.

Baker told police that the two men were trying to agree on a price at which one could buy out the other's interest in their business, the Hughes Laundry Machine Co. of Dearborn.

Barris refused to make a statement about the shooting police said.

Swainson Appoints His Ex-Law Partner

LANSING (AP) — Gov. Swainson today announced the appointment of Joseph J. Pernick of Detroit, his former law partner, to fill a vacancy on Detroit's Common Pleas Court.

Pernick is a member of the Detroit law firm of Pernick, Dingell and Zimmell. Swainson and Pernick formed the law partnership in 1956, to which Allen Zimmell was admitted in 1958. Swainson resigned from the partnership in December of 1960, just before taking office as governor, and Congressman John D. Dingell joined the firm in 1961.

Pernick fills the seat left vacant by the recent death of the late Judge Thomas A. Kenney.

Gas Tanks Missing

Mrs. Harry Chitts, 6499 Saline Drive, Waterford Township, told police yesterday that two propane gas storage tanks behind her house were detached and stolen. Value of the tanks has not been determined.

Stolen From Blind?

MUSCATINE, Iowa (AP) — A 17-year-old boy faced larceny charges today for "admittedly" stealing $100 during seven visits he made to a small grocery operated by Albert J. Flattery, a blind man.

Hijackers Bam-booz(e)led

By CHARLES MAHER
ALHAMBRA, Calif. (AP) — Truck driver Wallace L. Reinsmith, overpowered by hijackers and locked in the back of his truck with 628 cases of whisky, seemed to have two alternatives: He could start thinking or start drinking.

Reinsmith, 33, solved the dilemma brilliantly by tossing off a couple of cases of Scotch with out actually drinking a drop.

STARTED AT HARBOR
His adventure started yesterday at Los Angeles Harbor, where his rig was loaded with $50,000 worth of Scotch destined for a warehouse.

As Reinsmith climbed into his cab, a man with a revolver jumped in the other door and ordered him to drive off. They stopped a short distance away and were joined by a second hijacker, in a station wagon.

The hijackers put Reinsmith in the back of the truck. Then one drove away in the truck and the other followed in the station wagon.

3-Alarm Fire Destroys Plant

WARREN (AP) — A hundred firemen of Detroit area suburbs fought a three-alarm blaze that destroyed a metal-treating shop here last night.

The mobilization of firemen, including a fire-fighting unit of the Detroit Tank Arsenal, was one of the largest in years in the metropolitan area.

The blaze swept the plant of engineer Fred Treat, Inc., two workmen in the building escaped. Two firemen were treated at a hospital for inhalation of ammonia.

A series of explosions shook the burning building. Firemen said they apparently were from ammonia storage vats.

The cause of the fire was not determined. Owners of the firm, Anthony Raphael and Phillip Philibosian, gave no estimate of loss. Assisting Warren firemen were others from St. Clair Shores, Roseville, East Detroit, Sterling Township, Centerline, and Fraser.

Chose Chairman for '62 Democrat Inaugural Plans

LANSING (AP) — Deputy Auditor General William A. Burgett has been named general chairman of the Democratic party's 1962 inaugural program.

State Chairman John (Joe) Collins said Burgett, who was campaign manager for the party's administrative board candidates, will coordinate Democratic functions and furnish liaison with the Republican party on all official inaugural activities.

Sens. Philip Hart, D-Mich., and Patrick McNamara, D-Mich., will serve as honorary chairmen, Collins said.

Set Date to Certify Hemingway's Will

PETOSKEY (AP) — A new date of Jan. 11 has been set for certifying probate of the will of Nobel Prize-winning author Ernest Hemingway at Petoskey which provided a locale for his early stories.

Emmet County Probate Judge John T. Murphy said the hearing, originally scheduled for today, was postponed to permit completion of legal notification of survivors.

He said the will is the same as that admitted for probate in New York a year ago. The Petoskey action merely certifies that its photostatic copy is the same as the original handwritten document, the judge said.

Heart Attack Claims Organist at Funeral

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — A woman playing the organ at the funeral of a friend collapsed and died last night.

Mrs. Elsie McNama, 83, was playing while her daughter, Mrs. Shirley Heil, sang at the funeral at a Pasadena mortuary chapel. When Mrs. McNama slumped over the keyboard, Mrs. Heil collapsed from shock.

Thant Aide Off to Turn Screws on Tshombe

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Acting Secretary General U. Thant sends his chief military adviser to the Congo today to lighten pressure on Katanga President Moise Tshombe and try to end the secession of the province.

Thant ordered Brig. I. J. Rikhye to relay to the U. N. Congo Command his new tough policy against Thant and to bolster the U. N.'s military position in the rebellious province. Rikhye was to consult with U. N. field commanders on deployment of new planes, antiaircraft units and ground troops that U. N. members have offered to help beef up the U. N. military force in the Congo. Italy is sending four jet fighter planes to the Congo. Sweden has offered four fighters and two reconnaissance planes.

Rikhye, an Indian, also planned to go to New Delhi to seek retention of some 5,500 Indian troops, the largest contingent in the U. N. force of 18,000 men. India has said they may have to be pulled out to help in the fight against Communist China.

PROPOSES BLOCKADE
Thant made clear he is embarking on a tougher policy toward Tshombe in a lengthy report to the Security Council. It called for such measures as a U. N. boycott of Katanga's copper and cobalt exports, a transport blockade and suspension of mail and wire communications.

Robert K. A. Gardiner, Thant's Congo chief, stressed in the report that new emphasis would be placed on more drastic measures. Gardiner, who has been consulting here with Thant and other U. N. officials, charged that mercenaries in Tshombe's employ were continuing to carry out guerrilla actions. He called on Tshombe to show good faith and send his top officers to Leopoldville to swear allegiance to the central government.

Thant's report was issued in the wake of moves by the United States and Belgium to strengthen his hand in dealing with the provincial leader. The two nations affirmed that severe economic pressures will be exerted against Tshombe if he continues to balk at Thant's plan.

FURTHER DEMANDS
The report also demanded that Tshombe announce steps to comply with Thant's proposal for sharing tax revenues of the huge European-owned Union Miniere with the Leopoldville government. The mining company has refused to let the central treasury siphon off any of its $40-million-a-year tax payments without Tshombe's approval. The company contends its huge installations in Katanga are at the mercy of Tshombe's planned army. "About three weeks," a Navy spokesman told her, then explained why.

When the Navy sent patrol planes to take part in the Cuban blockade, some of the airlines for one reason or another didn't have time to contact their families.

At the first Jacksonville Naval Air Station news conference since the crisis began last month, the story was told yesterday about a Navy wife who called the station to find out why her husband was late for supper and how late he would be.

Mr. Valko died at his home Wednesday after a brief illness. The Rosary will be recited at 8 p.m.

Agree on Site of School Office

Pontiac city commissioners and Pontiac Board of Education members appear in agreement on placing the board's new administration building on a site just south of City Hall.

The two governmental units met in an informal dinner session at Madison Junior High School last night.

Because of the informal character of the joint session no official decisions were made.

Both units met in separate executive sessions following their joint gathering.

The board must move from its present offices at 40 Patterson St. because the area will be razed under urban renewal.

Board members had agreed they wanted a site on an equal level with City Hall and overlooking the planned perimeter road which will run north-south with the Civic Center on its eastern border.

Board members and commissioners agreed to let their architects work together to develop an exact site of the board building.

Another joint session is to be held after such plans are created.

The board aims at making a package deal with the city which will include location of the administration building, location of a new service center and the sale price of the current administration building space plus zoning and Patterson Street.

Warming Spell Toasts Nation

High Pressure Area Makes It Pleasant

By United Press International
Rain doused scattered areas of both coasts today while dry mild weather continued over most of the nation. Georgia and Carolina residents braced for an encore from a punishing Atlantic storm which started moving westward again.

The weather bureau said winds could increase along the southeast coast above Florida. It warned residents to resume precautions against high tides and beach erosion.

Rain washed the Florida-Georgia border. Showers dotted southern California and splashed over the Southern Rockies.

Unseasonal temperatures warmed the greater part of the nation yesterday.

The source, a huge pressure mound straddling the Midwest and East, showed reading to mid 80s and 90s. Record highs for the date were set at Rochester, Minn., where the mercury reached 93 and Buffalo, N.Y., 83.

A Sad Boy's Letter to the President

Slayer of Family Calm, Cool
Before Death on the Gallows

LANSING, Kan. (AP)—Lowell Lee was the 11th man to die since Andrews, the "model boy" who Kansas resumed capital punishment said greed led him to murder his family four years ago, died on the gallows today. If he repented his crime, he didn't show it.

Calm and composed, even a bit aloof, Andrews stood silently on the gallows trap, lighted by the glare of a single overhead bulb.

Warden Sherman H. Crouse asked if he had any last words. "No, I don't believe so," replied the 22-year-old killer, smiling slightly.

The warden repeated the question. "No," Andrews said flatly.

The Protestant chaplain of the state penitentiary, the Rev. James Post, removed Andrews' glasses. Guards slipped the noose around his neck; the death mask over his face.

At 12:21 a.m., the trap covering a hole in the concrete floor of the execution chamber—a corner of a rambling prison warehouse—was sprung. Eighteen minutes later, Andrews was pronounced dead by the prison physician. He

WASHINGTON (AP)—Not very long ago practically every boy had his "canyon"—a magical place that in a twinkling became battlefield or jungle.

Scott Peter Turner, 7, of San Diego, Calif., had just such a place where he hunted lizards, where he could play games or just be a boy.

But like thousands of other canyons, Scott's was gobbled up by a housing project when his back was turned.

It was a sad discovery and Scott hurried home and taking pencil in hand printed this letter to President Kennedy:

"Dear Mr. President, We have no place to go out in the canyon because there are going to build houses so could you set aside some land where we could play? Thank you four listening love Scott."

FATHER'S ADDITION

Scott's father added an accompanying note to emphasize the honest motivation which drove him (Scott) to seek help from the highest power of the land.

His son, he wrote, had gone off to some previously open land to hunt lizards, only to find one area had been pre-empted by a field restricted to organized play and beyond that other "canyons."

Chafee won the election with the aid of a heavy vote of such lizards, cast by residents of his home city, Warwick.

The complete unofficial totals were:

Notte 163,544.

Chafee 163,552.

After all 6,168 absentee ballots had been counted, Chafee held an unofficial lead of 398 votes.

HAMPERED BY LAW

The delay in counting absentee ballots was caused by a state law prohibiting opening of service men's ballots before Nov. 21.

There were also frequent challenges of absentee ballots as they were opened.

Notte, seeking a second two-year term was the only Democratic general officer or congressional representative who did not win easy re-election.

Rhode Island generally has been Democratic for the past 30 years.

Notte, in his first months in office, proposed a state income tax, but dropped it in face of legislative opposition.

Then he worked hard to adopt an alternative tax program but when it was adopted turned around and vetoed it. The move never was explained.

Chafee made that one of the major campaign issues, contending it was indicative of a general lack of leadership qualities.

Waterford Township's board of education last night accepted a low bid of 1.49 per cent per annum in interest on a loan of $425,000 against state aid.

Community National Bank was the successful bidder.

The interest rate on the $425,000, needed by the district to cover operating costs, compares with a rate of 1.4 per cent on the school system's last loan.

Payment of the borrowed funds is due Sept. 1, 1963.

In other business at the special meeting, board members approved an expenditure of approximately $5,000 to acquire additional books for the Waterford Kettering High School library.

The action was taken on the recommendation of Dr. Chando Reid, assistant to the superintendent, who felt an upgrading of present facilities was necessary if the school is to be accredited by the North Carolina Association.

School Board President Robert F. Rosegart and members Eldon C. Rosegart and Norman L. Chae will represent the school district at Tuesday's meeting of the Oakland County School Board Association meeting in Clawson.

Rosegart was designated to represent the board in the countywide study committee being formed to explore the problem of school drop-outs. Probate Court Judge Arthur Moore heads the committee.

Charge Russ Hoologans

Prefer Jail to Freedom

MOSCOW (UPI)—The newspaper Moskovskaya Pravda complained today that some Russians called for two weeks ago "hoologans" find life inside so pleasant they request two-week extensions of their sentences.

Some prisoners even gained weight in jail, the newspaper said in an article entitled "Hoologans on Vacation." It said others' friends told their terms without having done any hard labor.

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The United States and West Germany signed an agreement yesterday for the world's first nuclear-powered merchant ship, the Savannah, to visit West German ports next spring.

"In complete defeat, anger and frustration he ran home, demanded paper and pencil and put a determined hand to his letter of protest," the father wrote.

"In building our progressive world of supervised play and sterilized playthings we seem to have forgotten that a youth needs trees and frogs and earth with ants in it—and time for uninterrupted observations of this path he treads."

"Isn't it nostalgically sad when, in an era of seemingly intellectual advancement and highly civilized progress, a little boy can't find a place to play?"

UDALL REPLIES

Secretary of Interior Stewart L. Udall was assigned the job of replying to Scott. He made public the exchange Thursday.

"The President sent your letter to me to answer because the feelings you expressed so well in your letter are his feelings too, and I am the man he has appointed to try to correct the conditions which are making you unhappy."

"President Kennedy and I have a great awareness of the needs you feel—the need to be able to hunt lizards and follow ants and maybe just lie in the sun on your back and watch the changing shapes of clouds—all alone."

Udall pointed out that the last Congress had established three new national seashores, including Point Reyes in California which has "wide sand beaches, wind-swept cañons, forests and lots of room for a wide-eyed boy."

"I am more sorry than I can say that you lost your canyon playground," Udall concluded. "I hope you will be able to find another one not too far away."

Scott was pleased with the reply.

"Good," he told a newsman. "Now we're getting somewhere."

And how did the whole business start? Explained Scott: "This gang of mine, we were going to catch a lizard to scare a girl."

IRON SUCCEUMBS

to Protest of

Vote for Women

TEHRAN, Iran (AP)—The government yielded yesterday to Moslem religious leaders protesting women's voting rights.

The cabinet at a hastily called session suspended its women-suffrage decree to avert a demonstration called by the religious leaders to protest what they called an illegal government step. But some 15,000 Moslems gathered anyway in a downtown mosque.

They heard preacher Mohammad-Thaghi Falsafi read a letter from Premier Asadullah Khan promising a review of the controversial law.

The law, published last Oct. 8, would have permitted women to run for city council posts for the first time and would have given about 2 million women the right to vote.

Virginia Must Reapportion

ALEXANDRIA, Va. (AP) — A special three-judge federal court ruled yesterday that Virginia must reapportion its general assembly to give populous urban and suburban areas more representation.

The tribunal set Jan. 31 as the deadline for action by the legislature and said it will issue its own order if that is not done.

A special session would be required to meet the court's terms.

Specifically the court held that the redistricting plan enacted by the legislature earlier this year is unconstitutional because of "invidious discrimination adverse to Arlington, Fairfax and Norfolk."

Arlington and Fairfax are heavily populated areas just across the Potomac River from Washington. Four legislators from that northern Virginia area brought suit against the apportionment formula and were backed by interests in the coastal city of Norfolk.

The decision was a split one. Judges Albert V. Bryan and Oren E. Lewis concurred in it. Judge Walter E. Hoffman Dissented.

Commission Gets Record Budget Proposal

$604,636 More
Is Sought to Run City in '63

Would Mean Tax Rate of $15.65 Per $1,000
Valuation if Adopted

By DICK SAUNDERS
City Manager Robert A. Stierer last night submitted to the City Commission a record-budget proposal of $7,045,435 for 1963.

His proposal is $604,636 above the current city budget and would require an estimated tax rate increase of $1.79 per $1,000 of assessed valuation.

Commissioners got the budget proposal at an informal meeting. It includes a $30,064 capital improvement fund plus sewage treatment plant bond payments.

The proposed city budget is based on an estimated tax base of $288 million, almost $7 million above Pontiac's 1962 total assessed valuation of $281.2 million.

If adopted in its present form, the proposed budget figure would require a tax rate of $15.65 per $1,000 of assessed valuation on the $288 million assumed tax base.

Significant differences in the proposed budget, as compared to the 1962 budget, are the addition of a new pension plan for police and firemen and financing of sewage plant bond commitments through a special tax levy.

BIGGEST SINGLE INCREASE

"The largest single increase is $108,599 in additional funds needed for the new police fire pension system approved by vote of the people in April," Stierer said in his proposal.

He noted that the general city budget is up $232,154 due to the police fire pension plan, increased payments to pension funds of other city employees, a Social Security increase effective Jan. 1, and other smaller items.

The sewage treatment plant, due to open soon, is financed by a 25-year, $3.2-million bond issue. The first bonds came due this year and were paid for from the capital improvement fund.

"Since that time," Stierer noted, "new capital improvement projects have been started and general city costs have increased."

"Since the new plant is being built under court order, it is legal . . . under the bond ordinance and . . . state law, to make an additional levy to cover the principal and interest payments."

The 1963 bond payment will be $244,626, requiring an added levy of 55 cents per $1,000 of assessed valuation which is included in the $15.65 estimate. Stierer proposed that $1,264,446 be levied as property tax for all (Continued on Page 2, Col. 3)

Chiefs Agree on More Cuba Talks

Plans for Children's Village Brought Before Supervisors

Preliminary architectural plans for a proposed $2.6-million Children's Village were presented yesterday to the juvenile committee of the Oakland County Board of Supervisors.

The committee also recommended establishment of a building authority as the best method of financing construction of the village at the County Service Center.

Such an authority would raise the necessary building funds through revenue bonds. The bonds would be retired through rental fees paid by the county.

The usual arrangements with a building authority, which would own the village buildings in this case, provide that the buildings become county-owned property once all the bonds have been retired.

Usually no vote of the people is required to authorize a governing body to enter into an agreement with a building authority. However, committee member

JFK-Mikoyan Huddle Mulls Missile Crisis

Report No Progress on Other Cold War Issues as Hoped

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy and Soviet First Deputy Premier Anastas I. Mikoyan have agreed that the United States and the Soviet Union will continue negotiations for a final settlement of the Cuban crisis.

But their lengthy White House conference failed to yield any evidence of progress toward agreement on other critical East-West issues.

The President and Mikoyan met for more than three hours late Thursday. U.S. officials had hoped the meeting would produce evidence of change in Soviet policies on arms control, or other global problems, in the wake of the crisis over Cuba.

I think those, they were apparently disappointed.

White House sources said that from the U.S. point of view the meeting did not provide any surprises that Mikoyan's discussion of Soviet policies produced nothing of a new or different character.

Mikoyan, who just spent three weeks in Cuba, told reporters as

Police Investigating Fight Between Officer, Citizen

A fist fight between a Pontiac man and a police officer which put the man in the hospital for eight days is under police investigation today.

Chief Joseph Koren has identified the officer involved in the Nov. 10 fight as Lt. William K. Hanger, 37, a veteran of 16 years on the force.

His opponent was identified as James B. Walker, 27, of 383 Emerson Ave.

The fight took place at the police department as Walker was being booked on a reckless driving charge, Koren disclosed.

However, the chief did not substantiate reports that Hanger offered to take his gun and badge off and fight Walker in a room at the department when Walker and he were engaged in an argument.

Walker was admitted to Pontiac General Hospital with internal injuries Nov. 10 that he claimed resulted from the fight with Hanger.

He was released from the hospital Nov. 18. Wallace D. McWay, Pontiac attorney representing Walker in the reckless driving case, said he had no desire at present to file charges against the city in the incident.

Hanger reportedly suffered a broken nose and face cuts and bruises.

Koren said he would review the incident today with City Manager Robert A. Stierer and City Atty. William A. Ewart before reaching any decision to file charges against Hanger before the Police Trial Board.

"We did give Walker a lie detector test," Koren said. "The results indicated there was a fight."

The chief said he had not received written reports from all those involved, including other policemen who witnessed the incident.

However, Koren said reports thus far indicate that Walker argued with officers and after being booked "he grabbed Hanger by the head and punched him" while being led down a hallway.

The chief added that Hanger retaliated and the fight apparently moved down the hall into a room. Details, he said, were not clear due to conflicting versions.

"I firmly believe that no incident of this nature should be covered up," Koren asserted.

"I absolutely will not tolerate police violence. Arrests should be made using as little force as possible."

Hammarjok was killed the previous Sept. 17 in a plane crash near Ndola, Northern Rhodesia. Thant, then Burma's chief U.N. delegate, was named to serve the rest of Hammarjok's second five-year term, until April 10, 1963.

Earlier he told the committee that the board's ways and means committee chairman, David Levinson of Birmingham, recommended seeking a half mill at the polls in April in order to finance the village through regular, general obligation bonds.

"It would be two years before construction could begin under these circumstances," juvenile committee chairman Abraham Bricker of Oak Park said.

"This would hardly solve the present emergency situation," he pointed out.

The probate judges, who handle juvenile cases have informed the committee that a present overcrowding and intermingling of emotionally disturbed children with other normal county wards at the Children's Center requires prompt action.

SEPARATE COTTAGE
Juvenile authorities have recommended immediate construction of three cottages in the future village complex to relieve the present situation. These would include a separate cottage for emotionally disturbed youngsters placed in the county's care by the judges.

Pontiac architect Harry M. Denyes Jr. said these initial units would cost approximately $315,800.

A building authority would enable construction of the three cottages to begin almost immediately.

The concept would have to be approved by the Board of Supervisors. (Continued on Page 2, Col. 7)

Teamster Boss Disagrees

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — Teamsters President James R. Hoffa and George S. Fitzgerald, his legal counsel and friend for 27 years, have parted bitterly in the midst of Hoffa's $1-million conspiracy trial.

As the prosecution rested its case yesterday — following six weeks of testimony by 29 witnesses and featuring 263 exhibits — the Detroit News said in a copyrighted article that Hoffa fired Fitzgerald, who is from Detroit.

Fitzgerald's firing, the News said, followed a heated exchange last Monday between the men outside the federal courtroom here.

Fitzgerald, under subpoena as a government witness in Hoffa's trial, told the jury on Monday he swapped his personal check for $15,000 to Hoffa in return for a dividend from Test Fleet, a trucking firm involved in the trial, made out to Hoffa's wife.

'No Armed Provocations'

India Denies Red Charge

NEW DELHI (AP) — India denied today Red Chinese charges that it engaged in armed provocations by rushing troops to Himalayan borderlands as the deadline approached for a promised Communist withdrawal.

The Chinese said they were watching the situation closely but an authoritative source here said the Indian government had received indications the Communists planned to go through with their withdrawal tomorrow (Peking time) as they announced with their self-imposed cease fire nine days ago.

India has not yet accepted Red China's proposals for the withdrawal.

It has been sending reinforcements by land and air into the crucial northeast sector of the battlefront since the cease fire went into effect.

India's hand has been strengthened, for the time being at least, by a lessening of pressure in its dispute with Pakistan over Kashmir.

AGREE TO NEGOTIATE
Prime Minister Nehru and President Mohammed Ayub Khan have agreed to negotiate their 15-year dispute but the going may be rough.

The agreement, however, will allow India to breathe easier as it pulls troops away from the Pakistan border to face the Red Chinese.

At Rawalpindi, Pakistan, an uproar broke out in the national assembly today over Ayub Khan's agreement to meet Nehru.

Opposition deputies charged Ayub Khan was pushed into the agreement by the United States and Britain and that the nation's legislature was bypassed.

Peking said it would withdraw its troops 12 miles behind what it called the line of actual control in 1959.

India doesn't go along because it would leave the Red Chinese still on territory claimed by India.

SECOND NOTE
It has sent off a second note to Peking seeking further clarification of the Chinese proposals. Its first request brought what an Indian foreign ministry spokesman called a vague reply.

The spokesman said India wants restoration of the positions both armies held last Sept. 8, before the Chinese swept into northeast India and threatened its rich and fertile state of Assam.

Nehru said Ayub Khan are expected eventually to get together on the Kashmir issue but first lesser officials are to lay the groundwork.

Nehru indicated he was prepared to retreat little if any from his position.

Hoffa, Fitzgerald said he had neither books nor records.

"I talked with him (Hoffa) twice after that," Fitzgerald said and he repeated it (the firing). Hoffa said the union had "made certain requests of Mr. Fitzgerald and that 'rather than comply he severed his relations with the union.'"

As for Hoffa's statements about him resigning, Fitzgerald told the Detroit Free Press last night, they were "strictly a fabrication—garbage."

Hoffa said he had told all union lawyers—not just Fitzgerald—that they would have to drop some of their clients and if necessary spend their full time with the union. He said (Continued on Page 2, Col. 4) he left the President's office shortly before 8 o'clock Thursday night.

"We had an exchange of views with the President on questions of interest to both our countries, chiefly about Cuba."

"As a result of this conversation, we agreed to issue certain instructions to our representatives in New York—we to the negotiators, and the President will instruct their negotiators—to continue negotiations to finally settle the Cuban question."

Pierre Salinger, White House press secretary, said the two men (Continued on Page 2, Col. 6)

Pope John Winning Battle With Anemia

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Pope John XXIII is making a good recovery, with medical treatment "obtaining the hoped for results" in his battle against anemia, a Vatican communique said today.

The 81-year-old pontiff got out of his sick bed briefly again this morning and "occupied himself with some problems regarding the government of the church, giving the relative dispositions," the statement added.

It was the second time he had been able to get up since he was stricken Tuesday.

Vatican sources said the Pope's doctor was concerned, however, that he was rushing things in his determination to get back to work.

On 88th Birthday

Winnie Has Egg, Champagne

LONDON (AP) — Sir Winston Churchill launched his 88th birthday celebration today with a soft-boiled egg and a glass of champagne.

A lifetime late riser, Britain's great wartime leader spent the morning in bed and read the newspaper while the front door bell of his London house kept ringing and ringing.

MANY GREETINGS

Messengers brought stacks of telegrams from all over the world and postmen staggered in with pouches stuffed with anniversary greetings. Well-wishers called to sign the visitors' book.

Extra policemen directed the heavy traffic in and out of the quiet dead-end street in which the statesman has his home.

Among the first congratulations to arrive was a message from Queen Elizabeth II. Sir Winston's retired cook, a Mrs. Landemur, sent him a bunch of flowers.

'VERY WELL'

A member of Churchill's staff said they did not expect the old warrior to go out today "but he is very well."

It is just over three months since Sir Winston came home to complete his convalescence from a broken thigh suffered in a fall in a Monte Carlo hotel room.

Said the Daily Mail in a birthday tribute:

"There were few—we can now say it—who thought he would recover from his broken thigh and live to see his birthday."

"But we must have forgotten who it was we were talking about. It was Churchill."

LET REST

After a quiet luncheon with Lady Churchill, Sir Winston was to rest this afternoon in preparation for a family party tonight.

Spiegel Case Calls Germans

By PHIL NEWSOM

UPI Foreign News Analyst
LONDON — Neither international nor internal pressures are new to "Der Alte." West Germany's aging Chancellor Konrad Adenauer.

For more than a year, members of his own party, the Christian Democrats, and his coalition partners, the Free Democrats of Erich Mende, had been demanding he set a date for his retirement and to name his successor.

But it is safe to say that not even the shrewd Adenauer anticipated the latest storm that almost blew his government out of office, nor the direction from which it would come.

This was the "Spiegel Case."

Der Spiegel is a national news magazine whose hard-hitting columns frequently have irked both the chancellor and his controversial defense minister, Franz Josef Strauss.

Equally critical. The attitude of "let the chips fall where they may" has at various times led the magazine to be critical of both East and West.

Law suits against the magazine had been brought by both Adenauer and Strauss, unsuccessfully.

Before his own part in the midnight arrests of Der Spiegel's editors became known, Strauss made no attempt to hide his pleasure that charges of suspicion of treason against them appeared likely finally to bring the publication to heel.

Then came the reaction.

German readers made no attempt to prejudice the case of treason. But they objected strenuously to the midnight knock-on-the-door manner in which the arrests were carried out.

Hamburg newspapers with no special reason to love Der Spiegel offered the magazine use of their printing presses and office space. Berlin editors, with the memory of Hitler's controlled press in their minds, joined the attack.

Adenauer's television explanation that the arrests were made on "urgent suspicion of a crime" failed to satisfy either readers or editors.

A Bonn gorger urged this correspondent to give his regards to America "where there still is democracy."

A free press is comparatively new to Germany. Men primarily responsible for it were the American occupation commanders who took over right after the war.

Among them was Gen. Lucius Clay who recalls that he had to urge German reporters to ask questions.

Now that the Germans have it, their latest reaction shows they won't give it up easily.

Crime Rate Up 9 Pct. in State

Saginaw Jump Tops 9-Month Rise

WASHINGTON (AP) — Major crime rose an average of 9 per cent in principal Michigan cities during the first nine months this year compared with the same period of 1961, the FBI reported yesterday.

The 9 per cent general crime hike in Michigan outstripped the national trend of increase by an added 4 per cent. The FBI reported the over-all U.S. increase was only 5 per cent.

Saginaw had the largest increase of any Michigan city in the FBI report.

Detroit's serious crime rose an average of 11 per cent. Crime increased during the nine months in all seven categories listed by the FBI.

Grand Rapids had the only reverse trend of the six Michigan cities named in the report.

Serious crime in Grand Rapids fell an average of more than 8 per cent lower than the January-September period in 1961.

Dearborn's crime rate declined a nearly negligible percentage—two fewer instances of serious crime than were reported in 1961.

Lansing's major crime hike averaged more than 11½ per cent. Serious crime at Flint increased more than 4½ per cent.

An explanation of the reverse trend at Grand Rapids was offered by Police Chief William Johnson.

Child Asks Santa Wants Daddy Back

AUSTIN, Minn. (AP)—Santa Claus had himself a dilemma here as result of this letter sent to him in care of the Austin Herald by a local child.

Dear Santa:

"I would like more than anything in the world to have my daddy back for Christmas. My mommie and daddy had a separation and now they are going to have a divorce.

"If they do, I will never speak to anyone again, except God. I love my mommie and daddy and you are the only one who understands me. Would you please write a letter to my parents?

"I give you all my money about $2.50 if you would get them back together."

Santa, handicapped by not having the age, sex or address of the writer, could only answer, through the newspaper:

"I will do what I can but sometimes old Santa can't fill every request on a child's list."

Reserve Revamping to Start Next Week

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Defense Department expects to launch next week the long-pending reorganization of the Army National Guard and the U.S. Army Reserve.

The plan calls for reducing four National Guard divisions and four Army reserve divisions to much smaller brigades, and for eliminating about 700 units of company size or smaller.

The department issued a statement saying that "contrary to a published report" there have been no major changes made in the plan which first was disclosed last spring.

UAW Loses in Attempt to Organize Plant

EAST JORDAN (AP) — A United Auto Workers bid to represent workers at the East Jordan plant of the Mount Clemens Metal Products Co. was defeated by a vote of 108 to 87 in an election conducted here Thursday by the National Labor Relations Board. NLRB agent Earl Bader made the announcement following voting in this Charlevoix County community.

Charges Parole Board Pressured Purple Gangster

LANSING (AP) — The Michigan Parole Board may have been pressured into paying special attention to a bid for freedom by Philip Keywell, ex-Purple gangster serving life for murder, a former board member charged yesterday.

John A. MacLellan, who was fired from the parole board last December, suggested further that Keywell, 53, and another life-terminer were given "promises, if not assurances," of being freed even before their case came up.

Although it mentioned no names, the carefully worded telegram from MacLellan to the board left little doubt that it was linking Gov. Swainson to the second charge.

MacLellan demanded that the board withhold its findings on both cases until Swainson leaves office, Jan. 1, adding that failure to do this "may well... and should lead to a legislative or grand jury probe."

The telegram arrived as the board was holding an emotion-

charged hearing on Keywell's application for commutation of the life sentence imposed on him in 1930 for the slaying of a 16-year-old Detroit youth, Arthur Mixon. MacLellan charged that in the case of Keywell and Jack Budd, 57, a Detroit man sentenced to life for a backup-slaying in 1936, "special pleaders" said "insidious influences" have played an active part.

In response, he said, "provide adequate guarantees that they will be presented, considered and acted upon solely upon their merit," and "diminish the possibility of retaliation against any board member by any of the special pleaders."

Parole board records show Swainson, as a state senator in 1956, made an inquiry into the Keywell case.

In a statement yesterday, the governor acknowledged this but said he had not had any involvement in the case since then.

He was acting only as a senator, he said, having been asked to make the inquiry by a member of the Keywell family who lived in his district.

Swainson declined to comment directly on the telegram, saying he felt common to any parole board matter before it reached his desk would be improper.

He challenged MacLellan to take whatever evidence he has of wrongdoing in the Keywell and Budd cases "to the proper authorities."

Strike Hits Cleveland's Newspapers

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — A surprise Teamsters Union strike against the city's two major daily newspapers today caused one of them—the Plain Dealer—to cease publication. The editor of the other—the Press and News—expressed optimism his paper would keep publishing.

Teamsters Local 473 began picketing the Plain Dealer and the Press and News in a contract dispute Thursday night. Stacks of newspaper bundles piled up on the morning Plain Dealer's loading dock as the pickets walked around. The papers were undelivered.

Thomas V. H. Vail, vice president of the Forest City Publishing Co., notified Plain Dealer employees that publication of the newspaper would be discontinued until the strike is settled.

Louis B. Seltzer, editor of the Press and News, said he was "going ahead on the assumption we will publish" today despite the Teamster picket line.

A Plain Dealer official said the strike came as a surprise after a day of quiet negotiations and expressed hope the strike would end as suddenly as it began.

RICHARD GOSSER

'Relieved' of UAW Activities

DETROIT (AP)—Richard Gosser, a United Auto Workers vice president, stood relieved of his own duties today until federal courts dispose of a conspiracy indictment against him. Gosser was accused Wednesday in a Toledo grand jury indictment of conspiracy to defraud the federal government. He was charged with paying an Internal Revenue Department employee $150 for confidential documents relating to an IRS investigation of his tax returns.

UAW President Walter Reuther and Secretary-Treasurer Emil Mazey conferred with Gosser yesterday at Solidarity House, the union's international headquarters in Detroit.

They then issued a statement saying: "At the suggestion of Mr. Gosser, it was mutually agreed that interests of the UAW and the personal interests of Mr. Gosser could best be served by having the present responsibilities of Mr. Gosser assumed by other officers of the UAW."

"President Reuther will personally assume directorship of the skilled trades department and Mazey will assume responsibilities for Gosser's other assignments."

"In accordance with established due process, the UAW is obligated to consider Mr. Gosser innocent until and unless proven guilty."

The Detroit meeting came just hours before Reuther departed for Chicago and the opening today of a three-day meeting of the UAW's skilled-trades department.

Gosser has denied any intention of tampering with the confidential files of the IRS.

He was the first international officer in UAW history to be indicted.

Virginia Must Reapportion

ALEXANDRIA, Va. (AP) — A special three-judge federal court ruled yesterday that Virginia must reapportion its general assembly to give populous urban and suburban areas more representation.

The tribunal set Jan. 31 as the deadline for action by the legislature and said it will issue its own order if that is not done. A special session would be required to meet the court's terms.

Specifically the court held that the redistricting plan enacted by the legislature earlier this year is unconstitutional because of "invidious discrimination adverse to Arlington, Fairfax and Norfolk."

Arlington and Fairfax are heavily populated areas just across the Potomac River from Washington. Four legislators from that northern Virginia area brought suit against the apportionment formula and were backed by interests in the coastal city of Norfolk.

The decision was a split one. Judges Albert V. Bryan and Oren E. Lewis concurred in it. Judge Walter E. Hoffman Dissented.
