Yule Fire Aftermath

Wife Won't Let Husband Keep His Blonde Doll

RACINE, Wis. (UPI)—Warren David got just what he wanted for Christmas. But he had to take it back, anyhow.

He jokingly told his wife he wanted a blonde doll for Christmas. She obligingly placed the order in a request container: at a department store.

Christmas Eve, David's package—a giant ribbon-adorned box—arrived. When he opened it, out stepped a blonde, five feet, two inches tall, measuring 38-24-36.

Mrs. David insisted he exchange the "doll" for another item.

Woman Suspect Arrested in City

Wanted for Questioning by Rochester Police in Robbery-Beating

A plump night club entertainer, sought by Rochester, N. Y., police in the robbery-beating of a salesman, was arrested yesterday in Pontiac.

Miss Eleanor Joann Wilson, 21, had been sought by police since early Tuesday when George Fisher, 43, of North Syracuse, N. Y., was found unconscious in a motel room in a Rochester suburb.

Fisher is in critical condition and has not regained consciousness at Miss Wilson Strong Memorial Hospital, Rochester. Doctors there doubt he will recover.

Rochester police said he had been slugged repeatedly on the head. His gold ring and $50 were gone.

Miss Wilson, who stands five feet eight and weighs 170 pounds, was picked up at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Randall Wilson, 73 Seminole Ave.

She denied to Pontiac and Detroit police officers that she beat or robbed Fisher.

She has been the target of a search since a cab driver told police he picked her up at the motel Tuesday morning and took her to the home of Joe Sobb, 20, of Rochester.

Sobb, who is being held by Rochester police on a vagrancy charge, said Miss Wilson told him she slugged and robbed Fisher.

Miss Wilson admitted being in the motel with Fisher. She says that when she left him Tuesday morning he was sleeping and uninjured.

On Miss Wilson police found some glass case holders manufactured by the optical firm for which Fisher works.

When she heard of the robbery and beating, Miss Wilson said she panicked and boarded a train for her parents' home.

A divorcee and the mother of two children, Miss Wilson indicated she would waive extradition.

She is being held in the woman's detention cell of Detroit police headquarters on a fugitive warrant charging her with grand larceny.

9 Traffic Deaths Mark Start of Holiday Span

Fires Claim 4 Lives, Bringing Michigan Toll to 13

From Our News Wires

Michigan's traffic death toll for the long holiday weekend stood at nine today with many of the fatal accidents blamed on Christmas Eve snowfall.

Christmas day fires claimed the lives of another three persons in Michigan, and a Montrose infant was fatally burned in his crib early today.

The baby, David William Hill, died at McLaren Hospital, Flint, today shortly after he was burned over 75 per cent of his body.

Police said a vaporizer placed in the infant's crib apparently touched off the blaze.

A Grand Blanc woman, apparently preoccupied with thoughts of a daughter she was going to drive to a hospital for birth of a child, became Michigan's ninth, traffic victim of the long Christmas weekend today when her car was hit broadside by a train.

The victim was Mrs. Philena M. O'Dell, 56. The accident happened about 3:25 a.m. at the East Maple road crossing in Flint's southeastern outskirts.

Mrs. O'Dell's daughter, expecting her first child, finally was driven to a Flint hospital from their farm home by her husband, who borrowed a neighbor's car.

One Christmas Eve fatality was not reported to State Police until today. William Oldenburg, 69, St. Clair Shores, died after he was struck by a car near his home.

Walter E. Stevens, 22, Lincoln Park, died Christmas night of injuries he suffered Christmas Eve when his car left a road in Detroit.

Christmas Tops for Auto Mishaps

There were more Oakland County traffic accidents reported from noon Wednesday to midnight Thursday than during either of the three-day holiday weekends last summer, which traditionally bring more cars out on highways than any other holidays.

The Sheriff's Department investigated 18 accidents from noon Wednesday to 2 p.m. Christmas afternoon.

The switchboard began lighting up at noon Wednesday and was almost constantly buzzing on Christmas eve and morning. From 4:30 p.m. Wednesday to shortly after 1 a.m. Thursday a total of 12 mishaps were reported, four of them involving injuries.

Over the holiday, Sheriff's deputies handled 12 wrecks involving property damage and six accidents in which one or more persons were injured.

Gifts Shower Bradley Victims' Families

Bereaved Not Forgotten

ROGERS CITY (AP)—Christmas for the families of the men lost aboard the freighter Carl D. Bradley was as happy yesterday as friends could make it.

"Nothing was lacking," said Mrs. Melville Orr, one of the women widowed when the Great Lakes vessel broke apart and sank in Lake Michigan last month. "Most of the youngsters probably had a bigger Christmas than they ever had in their lives."

Mayor Kenneth Vogelheim described the day as "unbelievable."

Not a child was forgotten. It took weeks of preparation to insure that everyone would be just right.

Toni Budnick, 2, got a toy chicken... Gary Orr, 10, played with a machinegun... Michael Kowalski, 6, crawled across a carpet pushing a toy army truck... Kathryn Krawczak, 4, fondled a new doll... there was everything in the way of toys that a child could ask.

"Christmas was wonderful under the circumstances," said John Blasky, president of the Presque Isle Bank and a member of a committee administering a disaster fund for the families.

"Gifts of toys came in by busloads and truckloads," Blasky said. "The children had two or three times as many gifts as they could carry and still some boxes had to be stored away for other parties."

New Post Office Building Proves Efficient in Rush

Pontiac's new $850,000 Post Office didn't fall behind once during this year's Christmas rush, although it handled more mail, acting Postmaster Robert C. Miller said today.

The more than 100 part-time workers hired to help handle the Christmas mail were laid off Monday, the earliest ever, Miller said.

With its added work space, modern postal equipment and mechanical letter facing table, the new building on West Huron street enabled the office to process three per cent more mail in less time than during last year, he said.

The Pontiac Post Office dispatched 3,856,000 pieces of mail during the two-week rush period this year, compared to the 3,728,000 items sent out in the 1957 period.

Miller attributed this year's smoother operation to the increased postal facilities in the new building and "the public's cooperation in mailing their cards and packages early."

He added that all of the extra mail cases used each year during the holidays had been put back into storage by the first of the week.

"All of us were amazed to find out we had handled more mail and yet we had not rushed this season," he said.

Miller said employees who had worked at the office for more than 20 years just could hardly believe the comparative figures.

He said they thought this year to be the most relaxing or quickest flowing mail season for all concerned in the department.

Fireplace Ritual Gets Too Hot to Handle

CLIFFSIDE PARK, N.J. (AP)—Mr. and Mrs. Edward Perry thought it would be nice to spend Christmas around a roaring fireplace in the living room of their new home.

Perry lit the wood, smoke filled the room, the Christmas tree wilted and the flames burned a big hole in the wall.

Perry told firemen he hadn't been informed the fireplace was only an ornament.

Sears to Spend Millions on Ads

Announces Budget of $48,000,000 for 1959 Newspaper Space

CHICAGO—In 1959, Sears, Roebuck & Co. expects to spend $48,000,000 for newspaper advertising, amounting to 275,000,000 lines in about 1,000 newspapers.

The figures were revealed at a press conference here.

Sears will invest approximately $50 million dollars in its 1959 program of expansion and improvement.

In 1945, Sears spent $15,097,000 for retail advertising. In 1958, total retail expenditures are expected to reach $68,500,000.

Newspapers have traditionally received the major share of Sears' retail ad dollar. Newspapers received $43,258,000 from 1946 through 1958.

"Those figures are living evidence of how we value the importance of newspaper advertising," said Charles B. Kellstadt, president.

He explained that circulars are used in those cities where newspaper circulation patterns do not meet Sears' retail store market requirements.

14 Ships Still Trapped in Montreal Harbor

MONTREAL (AP)—Ocean shipping from Montreal down the St. Lawrence River to Quebec City was immobilized over the Christmas holiday despite persistent efforts of ice-breakers to crack through ice that has trapped 14 overseas vessels in Montreal Harbor.

Comparatively mild temperatures had given hope that some of the ships might be freed by Christmas Day. Melting ice had raised the water level here to 54 feet, nine inches, close to spilling over the river's south shore banks.

At Richmond, Va., Horace A. Gray Jr., a business executive, his wife, two sons and a daughter, died in a fire which destroyed their $150,000 home early today.

In the one-day Christmas holiday last year, traffic deaths totaled 225. Twenty-seven other persons died in fires and 26 were killed in miscellaneous type accidents. A total of 278 violent accident deaths.

244 Have Died; Count Began Christmas Eve

National Safety Council Fears Total May Top Estimate of 620

American motorists are speeding to an all-time record for killing themselves on the highways this weekend, safety experts warned today.

The long Christmas weekend has gotten off to a bad start and is well on the way to being the bloodiest ever, they said.

The National Safety Council said the traffic toll on Christmas Eve and Christmas Day showed an "alarming" increase and said "the all-time high will be exceeded unless drivers slam on the brakes."

The council laid the blame for the slaughter on the motorists themselves. Weather was an insignificant factor in causing highway mishaps, and traffic enforcement was the best "the nation has ever had over a holiday," the council noted.

California had the highest traffic toll among states with 26, followed by Texas with 23. New York had 16, North Carolina 15, Illinois 12, Massachusetts 11 and Michigan, Pennsylvania and Ohio 10 each.

The rate of fatalities was more than seven per hour since the count started at 6 p.m. local time Christmas Eve. It was far higher than the National Safety Council's pre-holiday estimate of 620 deaths during the 102-hour period which ends at midnight Sunday.

The count also was at a faster clip than for a comparable period during the 1956 four-day Christmas holiday period when the all-time record of 706 traffic deaths was recorded.

As the toll shot upward the council said: "It's up to the driver to pull down this toll in homeward bound travel. Christmas is traditionally the most dangerous period of the year because of heavy traffic and highball hilarity."

The council estimates 46 million cars will have been on the highways when the holiday period ends. It cautioned homeward driving conditions could be much worse than during the first part of the holiday.

Among the hundreds of accidents across the nation, three of them took the lives of 12 persons. Five were killed in a flaming two-car collision near Jackson, N. C. Four were members of a Danville, Va. family. In a second two-car collision near Coats, N. C. near Raleigh, three persons were killed.

Four persons lost their lives in a head-on crash of two autos near Michigan City, Ind. The dead were a Chicago couple and their 3-year-old son and a Crown Point, Ind., youth.

At Sacramento, Calif., a Greyhound bus loaded with 34 holiday travelers skidded into a crowd of people on a highway, killing a woman and injuring her husband.

Among those killed in fires this holiday period were three children who perished when fire swept through their home in Wilkes-Barre, Pa., Christmas morning. The fire broke out after their parents had finished decorating the Christmas tree. Fire officials said the fire apparently started in the tree.

At Richmond, Va., Horace A. Gray Jr., a business executive, his wife, two sons and a daughter, died in a fire which destroyed their $150,000 home early today.

In the one-day Christmas holiday last year, traffic deaths totaled 225. Twenty-seven other persons died in fires and 26 were killed in miscellaneous type accidents. A total of 278 violent accident deaths.

West Stay in Berlin Can Start War---Reds

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet Union Thursday warned that Western insistence on remaining in Berlin could kindle nuclear war that would reach America.

Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko continued the Kremlin's campaign to force the Western Allies out of West Berlin by predictions of nuclear war if they stay.

He boasted Russia is well armed for any trouble.

Gromyko spoke at the closing session of the winter meeting of Russia's parliament, the Supreme Soviet. He also urged a ban on nuclear weapon tests without controls which the West considers necessary.

Diplomats in Washington said they found nothing new in Gromyko's speech. There was no immediate comment from the State Department.

Dead was 14-month-old Wyatt Earp Bender, named after the legendary western marshal.

The baby's father, Jack, 29, wept while telling police how his cowboy ambitions killed his son.

Bender told Police Lt. John McNery he donned a 16-gallon hat Christmas Eve and began fast-drawing with a .22 caliber Buntline special pistol, while little Wyatt Earp played on the floor with his father's .33 caliber pistol.

Bender said he had clicked the trigger several times, thinking the gun was unloaded, when the pistol suddenly fired. Wyatt Earp, who had toddled into the line of fire, was struck in the abdomen.

Bender, a furnace installer and father of five, had a collection of 23 guns, police said. The apartment's walls were punctured with 75 bullet holes.

McNery said the sobbing father admitted drinking three or four quarts of beer before shooting Wyatt Earp.

Holiday Snow Melts as Mercury Climbs

The white of Christmas was fading fast from much of Michigan today with the warmest temperatures since the onset of a pre-winter, snow-filled cold wave that blew into the state of Thanksgiving weekend.

The U.S. Weather Bureau predicts a low of 30 tonight in the Pontiac area and a high of 38 tomorrow with a chance of rain or snow.

And, what is more, the Weather Bureau predicts that over the next five days temperatures throughout the state will average 5 to 8 degrees above normal compared to 12-15 below normal last month.

Saturday will be warm with high of 36 to 40 in the Lower Peninsula and 30 to 34 in the Upper Peninsula.

The five-day forecast is for intermittent rain or snow in the Pontiac area and snow in the north, mainly Tuesday or Wednesday.

The lowest recording in downtown Pontiac preceding 8 a.m. was 12 degrees. The reading at 1 p.m. was 34.

Believe AEC Set Off Lithium Weapon

Report New Low-Cost H-Bomb

By LEWIS GULICK

WASHINGTON (AP)—Top scientists gathered today to swap ideas and report developments that could have great significance as the world races into the space age.

One advance report indicated that U. S. weaponizers may have come up with a new type of H-bomb—a lithium bomb packing a hydrogen-explosion punch at lower cost.

The report stemmed from observation of a strange air glow over the antarctic. This glow and a man-made aurora, the first ever sighted, were believed linked to U.S. atomic blasts last summer in the South Pacific.

The observation came during the 18-month International Geophysical Year, now drawing to a close. IGY doings and other topics were among the 1,800 reports listed for presentation at the 125th meeting of the American Assn. for the Advancement of Science.

Top speakers included President Eisenhower's science adviser, Dr. James R. Killian; the association president, Dr. Wallace R. Brode; and the British biologist-writer Julian Huxley.

Hugh Odishaw, executive director of the U.S. National Committee of the IGY, told about the lithium discovery in reporting on IGY highlights in the journal "Science." The IGY is scheduled to end Dec. 31.

Odishaw said an eventide glow in the south polar skies had been spotted with sensitive instruments. The glow was attributed to lithium in the high atmosphere, not previously known to be there.

"A plain inference is that these new manifestations (the lithium glow) could be related to nuclear tests carried out during the same period as the IGY program," Odishaw said.

The United States conducted high altitude nuclear tests in the Pacific last August.

The Atomic Energy Commission declined to say whether it scientists theorized that the antarctic glow means the AEC has found a less expensive H-bomb.

Their thinking ran thus: Lithium, a lightweight metal could be placed in a bomb triggered by a conventional atomic bomb. Neutrons released by the A-bomb would change some of the lithium into tritium, a hydrogen explosive. Heat from the A-bomb blast would make the tritium fuse, causing the main hydrogen explosion—and all this in a fraction of a second.

The AEC has named tritium as a possible H-bomb material but has described only one process for making it. That is the more expensive, less handy method of manufacturing it beforehand through fusing atoms of deuterium, a form of heavy hydrogen.

Odishaw said the man-made aurora was seen by a New Zealand scientist over Apia, Samoa, last August. Odishaw said it evidently was related to the Pacific tests. The more than 5,000 scientists listed to attend the scientific convention looked for a possible report by Dr. James Van Allen of Iowa, University concerning the newly discovered radiation band that bears his name.

It was found at altitudes above 250 miles during the flight of one of the Explorer satellites and studied further by later space probes.

Ike to Draft Messages at Farm

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower heads for his Gettysburg, Pa., farm today to work on messages to the new Congress.

Eisenhower and Mrs. Eisenhower arranged to leave about midday on the 85-mile drive to their country home. They plan to stay through New Year's Day.

White House Press Secretary James C. Hagerty said last week the stay will not be a vacation. The President will use the time to work on his State of the Union message, budget message and economic report.

Hagerty said work also might be done on some special messages intended for Congress soon after it meets Jan. 7.

The Eisenhowers spent a quiet Christmas. The family dinner was attended by their son, Army Maj. John Eisenhower, their daughter-in-law and four grandchildren.

Canada to Buy U.S. Bomarcs

RCAF Also Reports First Flight of CF-105 Supersonic Plane

OTTAWA (UPI) — The Royal Canadian Air Force entered the missile age in 1958 with the government's decision to purchase the Bomarc ground-to-air guided missile from the United States.

The RCAF, in a year-end review, also noted "a milestone in the history of the Canadian aviation industry" with the first flight of the supersonic CF-105 Avro Arrow.

The statement included only 81 words of the craft urgently wanted by the RCAF, but undecided upon by the government. Prime Minister John Diefenbaker has promised a final decision on the arrow by March 31.

Twice this year the U.S. has declined to buy any of the planes which would be ready for combat action by 1961. Without outside orders to cut production costs, the Arrow would be a terrific burden on Canada's defense budget.

Two Bomarc missile bases will be built in Canada, one in northern Ontario and the other in northern Quebec, while others may come later, the statement said.

Head of College Said Missing

Missouri Educator Fails to Return Home After Church Services

MARSHALL, Mo. (AP) — Dr. M. Earle Collins, president of Missouri Valley College, has been missing since early Christmas Day.

His wife notified police when he failed to return from Christmas Eve church services.

But a son-in-law, Jamie Hogue, said "We are not worried about him." He said Dr. Collins, 55, had planned to leave Thursday for Orlando, Fla., where the school's football team plays East Texas State in the Tangerine Bowl Friday.

Hogue said Dr. Collins, at the last minute, apparently changed his plans to leave in the afternoon from Kansas City and caught an early morning train at Springfield, Mo., instead.

Dr. Collins' car was found near the railroad station in Springfield. A ticket agent, Doyle Jones, identified a picture of Dr. Collins as that of a man who produced a Frisco Railroad pass for travel to Birmingham. The agent said the man then purchased a ticket from Birmingham to Orlando, showing identification to obtain a ministerial discount. Missouri Valley is a Presbyterian college and Dr. Collins is a church elder.

Redcap Dillard Watson also recognized the picture and said the man had asked him where to find the Orlando car on the train. Conductor W. F. Wood and porter Ernest Goodwin who took the train to Memphis said they did not recognize the picture. Wood said he would remember anyone traveling on a pass.

A reporter and the station master at Birmingham, Ala., went through the train from Springfield when it stopped there Thursday night but did not find Dr. Collins.

Later, Hogue said the family believed the college president may have left the train at Memphis and continued his trip by air. But a search in Memphis for him was unsuccessful.

car ran off a Washtenaw County road near Ypsilanti.

Julius Konye, 41, Inkster, was killed in a four-car accident on Inkster road Thursday.

Robert Nagy, 36, Erie, was killed Wednesday night when his car ran off a road and overturned near Monroe.

Albert Burakowski, 72, Grand Rapids, was killed Christmas Eve when he was struck by a car near his home.

Mrs. Clarice Andrews, 25, of Columbusville, was killed Christmas Eve when the car in which she was riding collided with a truck about three miles west of Mount Pleasant.

Dr. P. Ralph Morehouse, 54, of Albion, was killed Wednesday night when he lost control of his car and struck a tree north of Albion.

Other fire victims were John Chlenko, 50, of Algonac, Edward Bowman, 29, of East Detroit and Mrs. Nevada Merriam, 79, of rural Mason County.

Chlenko perished when a blaze which firemen said was caused by defective wiring, swept his bungalow.

Mrs. Merriam suffocated in a fire at her home.

Bowman was killed in the explosion of a coal burning furnace at his home. Three of Bowman's six children were injured in the explosion.

A flash fire accompanied by an explosion at a Detroit apartment house chased about 100 dwellers into sub-freezing cold yesterday. None was killed. Five persons were treated for smoke inhalation, but no one was injured seriously.

A 10-year-old Grand Rapids boy suffered fatal injuries yesterday in a sledding accident on a street hill near his home.

Police said Kenneth Kaslander, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Kaslander, died at St. Mary's Hospital after he was thrown from his sled over the brow of the hill which drops sharply to a railroad track. The boy struck his head on the rails.

On the bench beginning Jan. 1, 1960, Hampton, 55, of 3631 Brookside Dr., Bloomfield Township, was president of the Oakland County Bar Assn. in 1956.

Others who have filed petitions for the county's 6th judicial circuit are:

Incumbent Judges H. Russel Holland, Clark J. Adams, William J. Beer, Milton F. Cooney, Pontiac attorney since 1930, Frederick C. Ziem, county prosecutor Theodore F. Hughes of Berkley, former state representative, Ralph F. Finley of Berkley, justice of the peace, James Renfrew, president of the County Judicial Assn., and Stanton G. Dondero and Maurice A. Merritt, Royal Oak attorneys.

With the filing deadline three days away, the list already represents one of the largest turnouts of candidates for the Circuit Court bench.

One reason for this is that new fourth and fifth judgeships have been added since the last judicial election in 1953. The fifth was approved by the Legislature and Gov. Williams this year.

Although the large number of candidates thus far indicates that a primary election might be held Feb. 16, Mrs. Mabel Child, election clerk for the county, said such a primary won't be officially known until after the deadline has passed for any candidates that might withdraw from the race. They have three days after the Dec. 29 deadline to do this.

On the April 6 general election ballot there will be seven positions at stake, five six-year terms commencing Jan. 1, 1960 and two short-term terms.

One short term will begin July 1, 1959, for the purpose of putting the fifth judge to work six months before his full term begins in hopes of lessening the case load of the most heavily burdened circuit judges in Michigan.

The other short term is to fill the unexpired term of the late Judge George B. Hartwick, which ends Dec. 31, 1959.

Judge Beer, who presently occupies Judge Hartwick's seat after his appointment to it by the governor, is the only candidate among the 13 who has filed petitions for this short term.

Cooney and Hughes are the only candidates to file for the short term of the fifth judgeship. All others are vying for one of the five full six-year terms.

The last judicial primary held in the county was in 1947. Prior to this one there was one back in 1935 when the balloting was on a partisan basis instead of today's non-partisan balloting.

Striking Pilots Consider Truce

Third of Airlines Fleet Remains Grounded as Federal Plan Studied

By United Press International

About one-third of the nation's air carrier fleet remained grounded today while striking pilots considered a federal truce proposal to end a walkout against American Airlines.

A spokesman for the Air Line Pilots Association said only that the proposal still was being studied.

The truce plan was offered Tuesday by Leverett Edwards, chairman of the National Mediation Board and promptly accepted by the president of American Airlines.

The pilots' strike against American began last Friday, shutting down the airline in advance of the Christmas holiday travel rush. A company spokesman said if the pilots accepted the truce plan, American could not resume full operations much before Sunday, although some flights could begin immediately.

Meanwhile, twin walkouts against Eastern Airlines ended their 33rd day and appeared destined to continue through the Christmas holiday.

Striking mechanics voted to accept a new contract offered by Eastern, but negotiations with flight engineers, also on strike against the airline, remained deadlocked.

George Brown, president of the Miami, Fla., local of the International Association of Machinists, said he doubted if machinists would cross the engineers' picket lines.

Convertibility might be ordered separately or with the other two moves. It probably would be limited to stocks and bond dealings on the Paris Stock Exchange.

Despite France's economic troubles, her top economic planner said Thursday night that "the 44 million Frenchmen of today have a standard of living one-half again higher than the 41 million of 20 years ago."

Etienne Hirsch warned, however, that partial unemployment is spreading and industrial orders are declining.

Exhaust Fumes Fatal to Pontiac Trucker

A 56-year-old Pontiac truck driver died accidentally yesterday of monoxide poisoning in Auburn, Ind.

The body of Harold Wesley Gearhart, 3 Edward Dr., was found in the cab of his truck at a truck stop at 2 a.m.

He was employed by the E. & L. Transport Co., Dearborn.

If all the rural highways and roads and city streets in the U.S. were connected end to end, the total length would be sufficient to circle the globe at the equator 135 times.

France Studies Plan to Reform Currency

PARIS (AP) — The French Cabinet meets today to consider currency reform. Speculation was that the franc would be devalued to enable French prices to compete in the European Common Market.

The Finance Ministry closed all French financial exchanges for the day "to avoid any inopportune reaction before the decisions which will be taken by the government."

Premier De Gaulle was believed to be considering three possible changes that might put continually shaky French finances on a solid basis:

1. Devaluation by 10 to 15 per cent from the present official rate of 420 francs to the dollar, a rate set in August 1957 by a 20 per cent devaluation.

2. Increasing the value of the franc 100 times by issuing 10-franc notes for present 1,000-franc notes.

3. Making the franc convertible into foreign currency within limits.

Devaluation would make the franc cheaper to buy for other members of the common market — West Germany, Italy, Belgium, the Netherlands and Luxembourg. This would lower the price of French goods, which generally are higher than those of the other five countries and therefore will be undersold in free trading within the market. The common market begins operation next Thursday.

Partially as a result of high French prices, the franc sells for less than the official rate. It has been at about 440 to a dollar but in anticipation of devaluation it dropped to 471 on Wednesday.

PSYCHOLOGICAL ASPECTS

Increasing the value of the franc 100-fold would be primarily an internal psychological move to make the franc look good by making it worth almost 20 cents, at least for the time being.

But it might also be coupled with devaluation to give France a basic unit of exchange almost equal to the sound Deutschmark of West Germany, economically the strongest member of the market.

Convertibility might be ordered separately or with the other two moves. It probably would be limited to stocks and bond dealings on the Paris Stock Exchange.

Despite France's economic troubles, her top economic planner said Thursday night that "the 44 million Frenchmen of today have a standard of living one-half again higher than the 41 million of 20 years ago."

Etienne Hirsch warned, however, that partial unemployment is spreading and industrial orders are declining.

Silent Atlas Travels Over Holy Land

WASHINGTON (UPI) — America's Atlas satellite was silent Christmas day as it soared through space on a course that took it over the Holy Land.

But the 4½ ton satellite was expected to get back in the communications business again soon.

A Defense Department spokesman said the "Talking" space vehicle neither spoke nor wrote to its ground radio and teletype receivers at stations across the United States yesterday.

Officials have declined to say whether the Atlas might get a New Year's greeting from President Eisenhower to replace his Yuletide message.

The pentagon has cut communications tests with the missile to a "reduced schedule" until next Monday. It plans for a full program of voice and teletypewriter messages after then.

Minor Defects in Shell Don't Affect Egg Value

ITHACA, N. Y. (UPI) — A poultry scientist says minor defects in the appearance of eggs have been overemphasized to the public and this, according to J. C. Huttar, causes producers and marketers to lose money.

Huttar, speaking at a meeting of poultry scientists at Cornell University, advised shoppers to disregard small egg-shell cracks, tiny spots of dirt, a few rough spots or a pinpoint blood spot. He called them minor defects and said eggs with such characteristics can be "perfectly palatable and nutritious."

Radar Measures Rain

ANN ARBOR (UPI) — University of Michigan scientists hope to learn a lot about the whys and wherefores of rain with the most powerful weather radar station ever put on wheels. The equipment can detect and measure rain drops 50 to 100 miles up in the sky. It is packed in a van and used in mountains and on lake shores.

The Day in Birmingham Empty Bottles Offered in Exchange for Parcel

BIRMINGHAM — Postal employees in Birmingham feel they have earned a top rating for a comic situation. It happened during the Christmas rush.

Postmaster Roland Reese said that when a carrier was unable to make change for $1 on a 28-cent due postage parcel a housewife asked him if he would take 20 cents and three pop bottles.

On the serious side, Reese said that except for late-arriving mail, the local office is "all clear."

He said mail leaving Birmingham was heavier than last year, but there was a slight drop in incoming parcels and letters.

At Bloomfield Hills, operating its mounted routes for the first time, both incoming and outgoing mail had increased.

The five routes begun at the start of the Christmas rush smoothed out quickly, and experienced little trouble, according to Postmaster Wayne Mortimer.

Many patrons of the Hills post office praised the efficiency with which the staff swung into the new system.

Police and fire departments in the Birmingham, Bloomfield Township and Bloomfield Hills area enjoyed a quiet holiday. Only a few bump bumps were reported to break the calm, they said.

Birmingham Fire Dept. sent three trucks to Royal Oak Wednesday when a boiler exploded at the Royal Oak Wholesale Co. Fire Marshall George Scott said one truck was turned back before reaching the scene, however, since no fire developed.

The Birmingham Dept. of Public Works will start collecting Christmas trees along regular routes next Monday, it was announced by City Manager L. R. Gare. Tree pick ups will be discontinued Jan. 9, he added.

Charles Mortensen, Chamber of Commerce manager, said Jan. 3 is the final day for gift exchange in Birmingham stores.

Birmingham Junior League has named Mrs. Richard T. Denyes and Mrs. Robert T. Koch delegates to the Regional Conference of the Association of Junior Leagues of America. It will be held in Battle Creek Jan. 12-14.

John H. Hogshead, son of Mr.

and Mrs. B. K. Hogshead of 1519 Henrietta St., tied for third place in the annual Lewis Prize Contest for excellence in public speaking at Denison University, Granville, Ohio, where he is a senior. Title of his speech was "Time—An Asset or Liability?" He was awarded $15.

many) may start a new big war in which millions upon millions of people would find their death."

"The flame of war would inevitably spread to the American continent, for today's military techniques have virtually eliminated the difference between distant theaters of war and those close at hand," he asserted.

The foreign minister added that Russia "has no objection to hearing proposals if the West has any — if those proposals are directed toward solving the problem and are not rejections of our solution."

He again barred, however, unofficial Western suggestions that discussions of Berlin be linked with reunification of Germany.

Report Low Quit Rate for Detroit Employees

DETROIT (UPI)—When a man gets a job with the City of Detroit he apparently remains well satisfied.

Figures compiled by the Civil Service Commission show only 5.3 per cent of more than 22,000 employees resigned this year, a drop of 2.3 per cent over the previous year. For the third quarter of 1958, the quit rate was lower still, only 3.2 per cent.

Social Security and Retirement Plans

Railroad Workers Want 10 Pct. Raise

By RAY HENRY
Associated Press Writer

The railroad unions plan to press Congress hard for improvements in railroad retirement in 1959. And, they're optimistic about the chances of getting them.

Although the Assn. of American Railroads hasn't announced its stand on retirement improvements, it's almost a cinch to oppose them. The association has always opposed them in the past.

The main improvement the unions will ask is a 10 per cent increase in present payments to railway workers already retired. A similar increase was approved by Congress in 1956.

In 1958, the Senate passed a 10 per cent increase, but the raise failed in the House of Representatives just before Congress adjourned.

Probably the major case for the defeat in the House was a last ditch effort made by the railroad industry.

One railroad executive said the yearly tax increase necessary to make the improvements being considered would cost his company more than its net income in 1957.

Another said the higher taxes and scheduled wage boosts would be more than ten times the net income of its railroad during the first half of 1958.

Whether such pleas are likely to be effective in 1959, is strictly a guess.

Chairman Oren Harris (D-Ark.) of the House Interstate Commerce Committee has already predicted that the changes approved by the Senate in 1958 will be approved by Congress in 1959. Harris' committee usually must okay railroad retirement legislation before it goes to the House.

In addition to the increase in payments, the railroad unions plan to ask for a change in the retirement age of women workers, a raise in the amount of other income a person can receive and still collect railroad retirement and increases in the tax on both workers and the railroad companies.

Under the proposals, women railroad employees with less than 30 years of employment would be permitted to retire at 62 and collect reduced payments. This would put such employees on a basis similar to women workers covered by Social Security.

The unions also want retirees to be able to work and receive railroad retirement, with the earnings from the work not interfering with the payments until it reaches $1,200 a year. This also would be similar to present Social Security provisions.

The proposed changes would be financed by increasing the tax rates paid on a 50-50 basis by employers and employees. Exactly how the tax increases would come is not clear at the moment.

Presumably they would be similar to those approved in the bill which passed the Senate in 1958. Here's how they would have come:

On July 1, 1959, the tax rates would go up from the present 12½ per cent (6¼ per cent each for the employer and employee) to 15 per cent; in 1960 to 16 per cent; in 1970 to 17 per cent and in 1975 to 18 per cent.

The rates would be collected on all earnings up to $400 a month rather than the present basis of $350 a month.

The railroad unions hope to get all the changes in railroad retirement made effective Jan. 1, 1959, except the schedule of tax increases.

Atlas Speaks Back to Young Engineer

First Space Voice After Eisenhower's

CORONA, Calif. (AP) — The young engineer's voice crackled across the heavens:

"This is Prado Dam United States Army Signal Research and Development Laboratory, Corona, Calif. . . ."

Then Sam Findler read the President's now famous satellite Christmas message.

Tumbling through the dark void of space, the orbiting Atlas satellite picked up the transmission and broadcast it back to another tracking station at Ft. Sam Houston, Tex.

Thus, last Saturday, the voice of Findler, 34, became the first other than the President's to be broadcast from outer space.

The engineer from Neptune, N.J., told Thursday how it was done.

Early in November Findler headed an 11-man team that moved like a band of well equipped gypsies into the rolling foothills near Prado Dam, about 50 miles southwest of Los Angeles. Their job was secretary to set up a satellite tracking station and stand ready.

On a hillside a few hundred from a busy highway, Findler and his men set up the portable generator, radio direction finder, four large coil antennas and other material needed to track and talk to the satellite.

They managed to brush off questions by occasional passers-by. The team lived a few miles away in a Corona motel. They avoided the townspeople. There were many pinhole games in the motel room. Time dragged.

Then last week at Cape Canaveral, Fla., the Atlas blasted off with a fiery swoosh. The waiting for Findler and company had ended.

"The satellite arrived over Corona within two minutes of the predicted time and was within one half degree of predicted bearing," said Findler.

Since then Findler's team of Army and civilian engineers have kept an around the clock watch on the 4-ton satellite.

Man Kills Self Proving Pistol Wasn't Loaded

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A truck driver killed himself Thursday night while trying to prove his pistol wasn't loaded.

Police said Michael W. Buckley, 35, was showing his .32 automatic to his mother-in-law, Mrs. Manuel Baesa, when she begged him to put it away.

"Don't worry," he said. "This isn't loaded. See . . ."

He raised the gun to his right temple, squeezed the trigger and fired a bullet through his head.

Army to Fly Dying Mom Back Home

ST. LOUIS (AP)—A last look at her native England has been promised to a young mother, dying of blood cancer.

Mrs. June Walter, 22, got the news from her husband, Charley, 25, on Christmas Day. The Military Air Transport Service will fly her to England to fulfill her most fervent wish—to die on her native soil.

"I knew God would answer my prayers if I wanted long enough," said Mrs. Walter from her bed in a hospital ward.

Lt. Gen. William H. Tunner, commanding officer of MATS, said, "We'll take her any time she wants to go."

Her departure hasn't been set, but doctors say it will have to be soon. Ill for four and a half months, Mrs. Walter has lost 31 pounds. She weighs only 80 pounds and is plagued with high fever and an inability to eat solid food.

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia (UPI)—The Yugoslav National Assembly approved yesterday a 1959 federal budget calling for a $56,700,000 increase in defense spending.

Holiday in U.S. Marred by Scenes of Violence

By United Press International
Greed, drunkenness, lust and pride — together with other motives as varied as the true Christmas spirit is singular — today occupied police and families following a wave of holiday violence.

Murder and accidental death came as suddenly and tragically as at any time of year, but in some cases the fatal mechanism seemed to be tripped by seasonal anticipation and fatigue. Most pathetic were those instances in which children were involved.

In San Francisco, five-week-old Mark William Netherby died when his father William, 22, over his wife Rita's protests, muffled the boy's sobs with a pillow, the mother told police. The infant was dead when she went to pick him up this morning.

In Mobile, Ala., expectant mother, Mrs. Troy Bolt, 34, apparently made light of a giant carton her intoxicated husband brought home on Christmas Eve, police reported. A subsequent quarrel resulted in death by gunshot wound, said authorities. They held her husband in connection with Mrs. Bolt's shooting and also the death of their three-week premature infant, delivered by caesarian section following the shooting.

An apparent murder-suicide left a six-year-old girl homeless in Glendora, Calif. Police said her stepfather of four months, 62-year-old John Moll, apparently shot her mother, Mary, 38, early Christmas Eve. The girl discovered the bodies on Christmas morning.

Two children in Dayton, Ohio, first supported and later denied an account of their mother's suicide told by their father, Otis Fox, 39. Police continued interrogation of Fox, who denied shooting his wife Parine, 42, Christmas morning as the children watched.

In New York, a neighbor calling to wish a mother and her two small children a Merry Christmas found all three shot to death yesterday. Orlando Couret told police he found Mrs. Anna Figueroa, 22, sprawled on the floor of the one-room apartment and her children, Alfredo, 3, and Eugenia, 5, in bed. Police began a search for a former suitor of the woman who was said to have threatened her. Krete Glenda, 52, was in critical condition in a Gary, Ind., hospital today, the lone survivor of a Christmas Eve triple shooting. Police said 32-year-old Metro Planovich apparently went berserk with a .32 caliber pistol, killing Milard Tomasich, wounding Glenda and then shooting himself.

Apparently trivial issues were at stake in two murders:

A quarrel over Christmas dinner in Paramus, N.J., climaxed when Mrs. Therese Olin-sky, 31, plunged a 16-inch blade carving knife into her husband, Edward, 32, police said. Investigators revealed the couple had been drinking before the argument began.

A dollar debt started a Washington, Wis., fight which ended in the death of Adam Ahneman, 80, the sheriff's office said. Preliminary investigation, officers reported, showed 28-year-old Lauren Severson, and a friend, Bernard Moe, 40, were visiting the elderly bachelor when Moe claimed Severson owed him a dollar.

When Ahneman tried to call police to stop the fight, said investigators, Severson struck Ahneman twice on the head, killing him.

Police at Spartanburg, S.C., reported that Jimmy Lee Jones, about 38, hacked his wife and mother-in-law to death with an axe to climax a pre-dawn argument Christmas Day. Victims were identified as Helen Jones, 35, and her mother, Mrs. Minnie Rice. All three had been drinking, authorities said.

Battles Expected in Both Houses

Congress Gathers for 86th Session

By WILLIAM F. ARBOGAST

WASHINGTON (AP) — With Christmas over, Congress members will start arriving soon for the new session which may open with battles in both House and Senate.

The 86th Congress convenes Jan. 7 with much bigger Democratic majorities than the 85th Congress of 1957-58.

Normally a new Congress gets off to a slow start but this time things look different.

In the Senate, a lengthy fight is shaping up over a move by Northern Democrats and Republicans to curb filibusters. Southern Democrats in the past have used unlimited debate to block civil rights legislation.

Senate Republicans also are embroiled in a family quarrel. A group which views the present GOP command there are behind the times is pushing a rival slate for top leadership posts.

In the House, a bloc of self-styled liberals wants to limit the power of the Rules Committee to bottle up legislation. Under present House rules, that committee can keep most bills from the floor almost indefinitely.

Unless a compromise is reached ahead of time, this fight will be settled on opening day.

Another controversy confronting the House involves the disputed election of Dr. Dale Alford, a Little Rock segregation leader, to replace Rep. Brooks Hays (D-Ark), an avowed moderate on the segregation issue.

A special House committee recently conducted a preliminary probe of charges that irregularities figured in Alford's victory as a write-in candidate. The committee recommended Alford not be seated pending a fuller inquiry by a regular House committee.

Unless the case becomes an out-and-out civil rights issue, Alford probably will be permitted to take his seat on Jan. 7.

These controversies aside, it probably will be at least a month before any legislation of consequence reaches the floor of either branch.

The House must completely organize from scratch. The Senate, with two-thirds of its membership holdovers, has fewer organization problems.

Senate Republicans must select a new leader to replace William F. Knowland, who retired from the Senate to seek the governorship of California. He lost that race. Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas continues as Senate Democratic leader.

Rep. Sam Rayburn (D-Tex) is certain to be re-elected Speaker of the House — a post he has held 14 years, longer than any other man.

Rep. John W. McCormack of Massachusetts will be picked again as House Democratic leader.

er. Rep. Joseph W. Martin Jr., also of Massachusetts, will continue as Republican leader.

Parcelling out committee places in a new Congress always poses problems. But the greatly enlarged Democratic membership makes the job tougher than usual for the Democrats. They have more newcomers than choice committee assignments.

The new Congress will have 64 Democratic senators and 34 Republican senators, compared with 49 Democrats and 47 Republicans in the 85th. In the House, the new lineup will be 283 Democrats to 153 Republicans. This compared with 235 Democrats and 200 Republicans in the old.

BUDAPEST, Hungary (AP) — Hungary's official news agency carried these two items within a few hours:

1. The grape crop is so good there will be about 26 million gallons more wine in 1959.

2. A system of out-patient wards for alcoholics has proved so successful that two more will be opened in Budapest suburbs.

CUTTING UP THE NATION'S FINANCIAL PIE

COUNTRY OF CAPITALISTS — Nowhere in the world is the ownership of capital as widespread as in the United States. Preliminary figures show that in 1957 some 328.4 billion dollars in income (not including Social Security and pensions) was shared by Americans. As sketches above illustrate, bulk of this money went to employees or the self-employed. Added together, this was 286.9 billion, or 87.4 per cent of the total. Payment for the use of savings (interest, dividends or rent) amounted to 41.5 billion, or 12.6 per cent. This latter group was made up, in large part, of the same people in the working category.

Five Murdered in Bush Village

1 Woman, 4 Men Shot Christmas Morning in Remote Canadian Town

EAR FALLS, Ont. (AP) — Four men and the 17-year-old wife of one were shot to death early Christmas morning in this remote Canadian bush country village. Police said the woman might have been raped. The son of one of the dead men was to be charged with murder today. Inspector Tom Corsie of the Ontario provincial police said. One of those killed was police constable Calvin Russell Fulford, 28, who was called away from his wife and three small children to break up a brawl in a one-room log cabin. Corsie said police still were trying to find out what provoked the shooting. But the clothing of the dead woman, Mrs. James Gordon, had been torn and she was bruised indicating she might have been raped.

The others killed were Gordon, 26; Albert Young, 47; and George Williams, 47. Young's son Tom, 27, was being held. Police from nearby towns hunted today for clues and sought witnesses. A Toronto police pathologist was to perform autopsies in Kenora, 75 miles south of Ear Falls. This community of about 500 persons gathered around a hydro-electric dam is 200 miles northeast of Winnipeg.

Baby Saved by Father's Quick Run

FLINT, Mich. — A Christmas tragedy was averted yesterday when quick thinking saved the life of a 14-month-old Flint girl. Credit as lifesavers went to Roy Berry, father of tiny Mary Elizabeth Berry, and fireman Daniel Hayes. Berry raced barefooted down a frozen street with his daughter to Point's Northside Fire Station after she lapsed into unconsciousness. Hayes revived the infant with mouth-to-mouth respiration. Mary Elizabeth was breathing again by the time a fire resuscitator arrived from another station. The Northside Station is less than a block away from the Berry home. Fireman said Mary Elizabeth became unconscious, when mucus formed in her throat. She was treated at a hospital and released.

Hunt Jobs So They Can Repair Boat
3 Students Shipwrecked

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. (AP) — Wanted: Jobs for three shipwrecked California college students. Purpose: Earn enough money to repair their 40-year-old sloop so that they may continue their trip to the warm Caribbean. If you see an ad like that in your newspaper, it'll be signed by Thor Rasmussen, 26, Monterey, Calif.; Charles Lowell, 26, and Christopher G. Williams, 25, both of Carmel, Calif., ex-servicemen and juniors at San Jose, Calif., State College. The trio decided on a sightseeing trip a year ago. They worked during the spring and summer, pooled their resources, bought an old station wagon and left California for Maine, Aug.

19. There they purchased a 13-horsepower boat, the "Wendell," for $650 and set off for Florida and the tropics. The first leg of the journey ended here — on a sandbar — two weeks ago. The sailors got their boat back Wednesday, with the aid of a marine salvage firm. And now they need money to take care of repairs.

Leonard Youth Makes Honor Roll at Kemper

LEONARD — Jim Hopkins, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Hopkins, 3671 Hagerman Rd., has been named to the scholastic honor roll at Kemper Military School, Boonville, Mo. where he attends. It was announced by Col. F. J. Marston, dean. Hopkins is home on furlough for the Christmas holidays, until Jan. 4.

3 Die on Trestle After Ignoring Yell

ALEXANDER CITY, Ala. (AP) — "I kept yelling to them to jump. Why didn't they do what I told them? I kept yelling at them." The plaintive words were spoken by Warner Grimsley, 19, who leaped 20 feet into the Tallapoosa River to escape a train that killed three hunting companions on a railroad trestle Christmas Day. Grimsley was treated for shock at a hospital in this central Alabama city. He said the train appeared as he was walking along the trestle with Jean Huggins and Sara Thomas, both 16, and Dwayne Hodge, 19, a college student. The victims' parents are prominent in Alexander City. An oil tanker with a capacity of 145,000 barrels of fuel oil carries the equivalent of 36,260 tons of coal.

Part of Queen's Speech Drowned by Anthem

LONDON (UPI) — The British Broadcasting Corp. drowned out the first eight words of Queen Elizabeth's Christmas Day broadcast yesterday with the final bars of the national anthem. It admitted the son, "God Save the Queen" still was being played when the queen began her speech. A spokesman called the incident "unfortunate" and said an investigation was under way.

Present Groom in Line

By EMILY POST

"Dear Mrs. Post: Since my fiancé is from another state he does not know many of my relatives and friends, and will not have the opportunity of meeting them before the wedding. Should I introduce him to the guests while standing in the receiving line, and if so how do I go about this? Or do you think it would be better to wait until later when mingling with the guests to introduce him?"

Answer: You introduce him to the guests as they come up to you in the receiving line, saying, "John, this is Aunt Mary," to an acquaintance. "Mrs. Jones, this is John" or very formally, "Mrs. Smith, may I present my husband?"

"Dear Mrs. Post: A group of friends were discussing the sending of birth announcements to friends who had been invited to a stork shower. Some of them said it was perfectly proper to send them, but others said it was a bid for another present and that it was not proper to send them to those who already gave presents at the shower. I would appreciate knowing what is correct in this situation."

Answer: You send birth announcements to all who you think will be interested, whether or not they were at the shower. Those who have already given a present are certainly not expected to give another.

"Dear Mrs. Post: Within the next two weeks my employer's wife is going to have a baby. My problem is this—Should I, or should I not, send a baby gift? I have worked for my employer almost two years. I have talked to his wife several times on the telephone but I have never met her. I want to do what is proper. Can you help me?"

Answer: Congratulate your employer when the baby is born but do not send a gift when you do not know the mother well.

Dear Abby...

These Neighbors Live Cheap on Groceries They Borrow

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

"Dear Abby: Although I am a mother and grandmother I still can't figure out a way to solve my problem. We have a neighbor and she has three children. She works steady and so does her husband, but every day, they send one of the children over to borrow something. It's either eggs, bacon, bread, butter, sugar or flour. Even matches and cigarettes. They never return a thing. Once she did return two carrots because she was ashamed to ask for a quart of milk without returning something. I have offered to make her up a grocery list when I make mine up so she won't be caught without some item, but she says, 'Don't trouble yourself.' What can I do? I haven't the nerve to tell her off."

ABBY

Dear No: As long as you are short on nerve, you'll never be long on groceries. Simply tell the borrowers you are "out" and after a while they'll catch on and realize they too are "out" (of luck, that is.)

"Dear Abby: I've got my type man all picked out, but I can't find him. I want a Western type man and he has got to be slim and tall. I can't stand a man who has a big stomach and wears a tight belt. And also I wouldn't mind taking orders from a man if he had a deep voice. He can be anywhere from 40 to 55. I own a nice little cattle ranch, all by myself, so I don't need no more income to mess up my taxes. Where is he?"

"BABE."

Dear Babe: He's probably looking for YOU!

"Dear Abby: I am 23 and have liked this man who is 27 for almost two years now. We work in the same place. He calls me almost every night and we talk on the phone sometimes two or three hours. He talks sweet words and love talk on the phone, but he never asks me out. He makes good money and lives at home so I know he isn't hard up. He says the sound of my voice on the phone gives him a thrill. How can I get him to ask me out?

TELEPHONE SWEETHEART

Dear Tel: As long as he can get a "thrill" for a dime, he is not going to ask you out. Don't trip on his line—next time he calls give him the "busy" signal.

"Dear Abby: My first husband passed away and I remarried. The parents of my first husband have kept in touch with me and still treat me like a daughter. The parents of my second husband resent this. They say my deceased husband's parents belong in the past and I should forget them.

"My present in-laws do not conceal their displeasure when I have a family party and include my first in-laws. I want to stay on the right side of my present in-laws, but don't know how to handle it."

OVER IN-LAWED.

Dear Over: Your present in-laws are wrong to resent your continued friendship with your deceased husband's parents. Don't rattle them by inviting them to the same parties, but make it clear that out of respect to the memory of your first husband you will not drop them.

Married Christmas Day at a home wedding were

Dorothy Jeanne Irwin

and William A. Seabright.

Parents of the couple are

Mr. and Mrs. John K. Irwin

and Mr. and Mrs. Edward Seabright.

MRS. WILLIAM A. SEABRIGHT

Wed in Christmas Rite

Dorothy Jeanne Irwin and William A. Seabright were married Christmas day in the bride's home. Dr. William H. Marbach of First Presbyterian Church, officiated at the double-ring ceremony.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. John K. Irwin of Dellrose drive and Mr. and Mrs. Edward Seabright of Flourentown, Pa.

The bride wore a peacock-blue raw silk dress with an Empire waistline, boat neck and three-quarter-length sleeves. She carried a colonial bouquet of white camellias and holly.

Mrs. Robert Nelson of Ann Arbor was her only attendant. Best man was Gaiskill Barr of Franklin.

The newlyweds are graduates of the University of Michigan College of Architecture and Design. The bride is affiliated with Sigma Kappa Sorority. They will live in Northville.

She Puts Religion Into TV

NEW YORK (UPI) — Many of us "get religion" only at Christmas and Easter, but for Miss Doris Ann, religion is a year-round thing.

As the only woman "full producer" in television, she specializes in religious programs. In addition, she produces programs about political conventions, medicine, child care and special public service shows.

"It's every producer's responsibility to bring into the American home, programs that are rewarding and stimulating to the American way of life," Miss Ann said in an interview.

A tall (5 feet, 8 inches), glamorous blonde, Miss Ann (real name, Doris Ann Scharfberg) first worked as a personnel director in the needles trades industry. She began her network career in 1944 as a personnel interviewer. In 1951, she was named director of television religious programs for her NBC network.

"My first show was a mobile unit program, because I was sure people would be there," she said. One memorable program was a film on the late Pope Pius XII. Miss Ann spent 25 minutes in private audience with the Pope, talking about the film. During his final illness, she was on call seven days a week, often working until 3 a.m.

She also films pictures in other countries and recently went to Israel.

"We spent eight weeks, but I didn't see a sight. We worked six days a week, so on my one day off, I did paper work. It cost us $3,000 a day to film, so we couldn't waste time," she said.

"On our return trip, we arrived in New York at 7 a.m. on a Sunday. By 10 a.m., I was in the editing room."

"But," she added, "working in another country is more rewarding than regular traveling. We aren't tourists. We work with foreign crews and go into their homes."

For such trips, Miss Ann must know foreign banking exchanges and a smidgin of the language.

Plays Santa at YWCA Yule Parties

Daniel Kinney, staff member of YWCA, was "official" Santa Claus for the Christmas parties held by groups at the Pontiac YWCA.

Christmas readings were given at both Golden Age group parties by Mrs. Robert C. Anderson. Mrs. Ben Zannoth of Detroit played Christmas music at the first party and Amy Hogle played at the second.

Corsages for the oldest birthday celebrants went to Mrs. Ione Bartholomew and Mrs. Merle Hubbard. Others celebrating birthdays were Mrs. Bessie Royce, Mrs. Bonnie Hyde and Mrs. Rose Donig. Mrs. Priscilla Elwell was guest.

Mrs. Marcus Scott was refreshment chairman, assisted by Mrs. Merle McManus, Mrs. Ray Gustafson, Mrs. August Johnson, Ora Hallenbeck and Mrs. Joseph L. Bennett.

Mrs. Fred Stimpert, president of the Pontiac YWCA, presided at both meetings.

Reveal Engagement

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Brennan of St. Johns, Newfoundland, announce the engagement of their daughter Rosemary, to Airman James E. Rodgers, son of former Pontiac residents Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Rodgers of Pekin, Ill.

At Methodist Church Sunday

To Honor Students

A holiday social will highlight the afternoon Sunday at First Methodist Church, when the second annual Students Recognition Day is observed. Youths home from the armed services and college students will meet with high school students around the punch bowl and participate in games and singing.

General chairman for the program is Mrs. Carl H. Theorin, secretary of student work. Mrs. Paul Hart is in charge of the Sunday School's special program, and Mrs. Oliver Dunstan is holiday social chairman. Handling refreshments

GLENDALAPE

MARIAN LAPE

The engagements of Glenda Christine and Marian Ida Lape are announced by their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Lape of Meadowlawn drive. Glenda, a University of Michigan junior, will marry Joseph Martin Flora, son of the Wesley G. Neumanns of Saginaw, a U. of M. graduate. Marian's fiancé is Eddie Cleveland Winchester, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Winchester of Ypsilanti avenue. A member of Kappa Phi Alpha Fraternity, he is a graduate of Eastern Michigan College where Miss Lape is a freshman. Late January weddings are planned.

Members of the "18 Plus Class" at First Methodist, outlining final preparations for the afternoon holiday social are Nancy Smith, standing, and Judy Gutzke. This will be the second year the young people's program will be held.

Students' Recognition Day will be observed at First Methodist Church Sunday. The church's high school students, and servicemen and college students home for the holidays, will gather for a special program in the

Twisting Does It

Keep Hula Hooping to Slim Waist

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN
(The Friday Question Box)

Q. "Could you tell in the paper how the hula hoops help you lose in measurements and what measurement it would affect?"

A. The gyrations used in twirling the hula hoop about your body are waist-slimming.

Q. "Would you mention in your column sometime how a wife should dress if her husband is shorter than she?"

A. I do not think she should think of it one way or another except in the matter of heels. If your husband does not like to have you appear taller than he, or if you do not like it, then I think you would be wise to avoid high heels. There are many attractive low heels in the stores today. Men and women differ in their feeling about this. To some the height question is of no importance at all.

Q. "Could you please tell me if melon is bad for teen-age skin?"

A. I have never heard of such a thing. It and all other fresh fruit should be fine for the complexion. Perhaps you have this idea because melons are sweet. I think they will be good for you.

Q. "Am I overweight for my height and age, and what about my proportions?" I am 15 years old, 5 feet 9½ inches tall and weigh 145 pounds. My bust measures 35 inches, waist 26 and hips 39."

A. You are not very much overweight for your height. In fact if you have a large frame, you are probably not overweight at all. You might lose about five pounds. There is too much difference between your bust and hip measurements. Take hip-slimming exercises for a loss of two inches in that measurement.

Q. "I have little capillaries nine months ago my fingers have been swollen. I cannot wear my old gloves and my wedding ring is uncomfortable. Is this serious and what can I do for it?"

A. You should report this to your doctor. Any swelling is abnormal. Of course it may be that you have just gained weight. See your physician about it.

Q. "I have little capillaries breaking all over my legs. Is there anything I can do about the ones

Beautiful Skin Hinges on Good Circulation, Gals

Beauty of both skin and hair depends on that all-important thing: circulation.

Poor circulation means lifeless hair and drab, aging skin.

Scalp massage will bring life back to your hair and facial massage will make your skin glow.

Better have these done professionally at least once in order to find out exactly how they should be done at home. Don't be afraid to ask questions as you go along. Most beauty experts will be glad to put you on the right track.

Child Can't Gift-Wrap Excuses Easily

By MURIEL LAWRENCE
At his office Howard's father often endures many frustrations. His new secretary will offend an important client — and he has to take the responsibility for her action. At a sales conference his boss will claim credit for an idea of his — and Howard's father has to make careful balances between the advantage of blowing up and the advantage of retaining his promising job.

At 5:30 he'll discover that the boss has promised a layout he never scheduled — and Howard's father has to swallow his anger; and work late to produce them.

So when he gets home, he's not always in the mood for family cooperation. Asked to repair a broken light plug, he'll say,

"Why don't you phone the electrician tomorrow?" For though he's not feeling cooperative, Howard's father is a grownup, and has learned how to make his rejection of family demands sound reasonable and interested.

But at 10 years of age Howard has not developed this skill.

Thus, after a frustrating day at school he says "Aw, nuts" when asked to take the garbage out to the yard incinerator.

Though he's had to swallow his anger at a teacher who appropriated his cap pistol and rebuked him for whispering done by another boy, nobody credits him with endurance of a frustrating day.

His father roars, "Do as you're told," and his mother says, "He got up on the wrong side of the bed today."

Because Howard hasn't learned the grownup art of making resistance sound reasonable and interested, he gets told off for it instead of being asked, "Wouldn't you like to see this new magazine, dear?"

KIDS ARE FRANK

We adults are so used to gift-wrapping our resistance to other people's demands in excuses that we get thrown by a child's direct, more honest "Aw nuts."

So if you think that Joan is going to the dogs when she says "Leave me alone" to your request to clear the table, you might consider how often you say it in gift-wrapped language.

How many times do you say "Later" to her request to shorten her skirt? How often do you say "Not between meals" to Billy's demand for the whereabouts of the ginger snaps? Frequently, I bet. If you're honest, you'll start knowing that these excuses are disguises for the same resistance to family cooperation expressed by your child — and begin to figure that he may be as tired of conforming as you are.

Miniatures Are Flattering New Fad in Jewelry

A new jewelry fad is on the way, reports a fashion institute.

Tiny miniatures, such as hearts, drops, free-form designs, geometric shapes, and religious symbols are fastened to fine gold chains.

They nestle in the hollow of the throat and make the neck appear slender and delicate.

The miniatures are worn alone or with other necklaces and are made of carved amethyst, crystal, and gold.

Trying to Save Dog

FLINT — An attempt to save a pet dog, feared trapped in a house fire, ended in burns for his young master and the boy's mother yesterday.

Donald Hoshield, 9, tore away from his parents and returned into the burning one-story frame house in Flint to search for his dog, his mother, Ardell, 40, raced after him.

Donald was burned slightly and released from Flint's Hurley Hospital after treatment. Mrs. Hoshield was burned on the face, arms and shoulders. She was admitted to the hospital.

The dog turned up unharmed later.

Detroit Police Hunt Gun Slayer of Youth

DETROIT (UPI)—Police were still looking today for a man who shot and killed a 19-year-old youth as the boy was walking with his brother.

Police said Charles Conley and his brother, Arthur, 16, were walking on an east side street when a man, apparently intoxicated, began shouting at them. Arthur said the man fired one shot and struck Charles in the head.

Arthur said he ran down an alley and the man pursued him, firing several more shots. The boy was not hurt. Charles was dead on arrival at Receiving Hospital.

1959 UP

THE 1959 COST OF LIVING: Economists predict food prices will be lower than 1958, apparel and appliances about the same, medical bills and rent higher.

Good News for Housewife

Food Prices to Go Down

By RAY CROMLEY

WASHINGTON (NEA) There's good news ahead for the housewife — and the man of the house, too — in 1959.

Despite signs of growing inflation, food prices will be down. Even coffee should hold around its present low figure.

There'll be a number of new easier-to-cook foods on the market. For one: potato flakes that Mrs. Consumer will just pour in a pan, stir, heat — and, presto, mashed potatoes.

Fruits, vegetables, poultry, eggs, turkeys, ham and pork should be more plentiful.

The cost of suits, socks, dresses and stockings should go up only a little. So should prices of washers, dryers, vacuum cleaners and other household gadgets for the weary wife.

Only files in the oilmarket: medical bills and house rents probably will continue steadily upward. Shoes will cost more in 1959.

These are the combined views of several scores of economists scattered throughout the nation. They have brought or sent in reports to the Departments of Labor, Commerce and Agriculture in the past few weeks in an attempt to piece together what's in line for John Q. Consumer in 1959.

NEA Service met and talked with a dozen of these men and women in order to give housewives and husbands this rundown on what's in the price cards for next year.

The price of ham and pork is expected to drop sharply early in 1959. Poultry, fresh vegetables and eggs should be cheaper. Beef prices may be about the same as this year, but there should be a larger supply of the better grades.

Milk and other dairy products will continue plentiful; prices are likely to be about the same as in 1958.

There'll be an even larger supply of potatoes. They'll be cheap.

After January 1, there will be more fresh oranges and grapefruit, the way things look now.

Prices should be considerably lower than they've been since last winter's Florida cold spell cut down citrus output sharply.

Increasing costs of marketing and processing will force cereal food products a little higher next year.

Despite increased labor costs, there are no signs of appreciable 1959 increases in women's clothing prices. Experts say the increased simplicity in women's fashions makes this hold-the-price-line possible. But prices could jump if 1959 styles should turn more elaborate. And who can foretell that now?

Sweaters and knitwear will cost a little more next year. Underwear prices will remain about the same.

Men will fare as well as their wives. There's a light push toward lower prices in the offering for men's wool suits. Wholesale prices are down a little. There's no telling, of course, whether these mild savings will be passed on to the consumer.

There'll be a lot more men's, women's, and children's wash and wear in the stores in 1959. It will be of better quality. It will look better after washing without ironing.

Heavy demand will tend to push these wash and wear prices up, but strong competition between manufacturers is expected to keep these price rises small.

Rebels Claim Capture of City

Cuban Radio Reports Sancti Spiritus Seized on Christmas Eve

HAVANA (UPI)—The rebel radio claimed yesterday that Fidel Castro's forces have seized the ancient city of Sancti Spiritus in the heart of the tobacco-raising area of central Cuba.

It said the rebels entered the city Christmas Eve following a two day siege, another rebel column entered the town of Encrucijada, also in Las Villas Province, Christmas Day, the broadcast said.

The radio report made no mention of casualties or fighting in either incident.

Sancti Spiritus (Holy Ghost) was founded in 1514 and has a population of 125,000. Its seizure was the latest in a series of rebel claims, none of which have been confirmed by the government.

The rebels previously said they occupied half a dozen towns and villages along the main highway central Cuba.

Cuba spent one of the most subdued Christmases in its history yesterday with few public demonstrations.

Merchants reported one of their busiest seasons following the granting of 45 million dollars in holiday bonuses. However, the holidays were spoiled for thousands of Cuban families by casualties during the year in Cuba's rebellion. President and Mrs. Fulgencio Batista had 150,000 Christmas food and gift packages sent to the poor.

Youth in Reformatory Escapes From Fire

IONIA (UPI)—Authorities were looking for an inmate from the Michigan Reformatory who apparently escaped yesterday while a fire was raging in a metal storage tank.

Chester Wysocki, 19, Detroit, was working in the dairy barn when the fire started, but he was not seen afterwards. The blaze destroyed a large amount of baled straw in the storage tank.

Disc Data and Chatter

Music in the Round

FIVE ACES: David Seville and friends are going out in a blaze of glory as far as 1958 is concerned. They've scored a third straight clean sweep, taking first place by storm in Pontiac area record sales.

Second spot goes to "The Little Drummer Boy" by the Harry Simeone Choral, a hot seller since it was issued early last week. In third place is "Smoke Gets in Your Eyes" by The Platters.

Fourth place is taken by "Whole Lot of Loving" by Fats Domino, just edging out "Lovers Question" by Clyde McPhatter and "I Got Stung" by Elvis, both tied for fifth spot.

THE JAZZ NEST: For the last nest of the year we have two current releases by World Pacific that make record buying such a pleasant task for jazz fans.

For those who are pure of heart, "Pretty Groovy" (WP-1249) is a fine piecing together of some tasty bits of Chet Baker from past performances.

Baker is both slow and relaxed, and hard driving in this LP. I can't say it's the best of Chet, but it does swing for all it's worth and is certainly worth the loot.

A "stringy" LP is "I'll Take Romance" (WP-1251) by Bud Shank with the Len Mercer Strings. My use of adjective naturally doesn't apply to the music quality; just the instrumentation. Shank's alto and flute work here is solid and meaty.

POP ALBUMS: Another World Pacific gem is "Let's Face the Music and Dance" (WP-1250), which brings David Allen back to the scene with more terrific vocals backed by the big Bill Holman Orchestra.

Allen is one of the year's finest male vocalists, with a swinging delivery that adapts beautifully to both jazz and pop idioms.

NEXT WEEK: A look back at the high spots of 1958 via our rear view telescope for backward boys and girls.

St. Louis Murder Remains Riddle

Police Find No Clues in the Killing of Young Bridegroom-Student

ST. LOUIS (AP)—After nine days, the murder of James S. Bullock remains a riddle.

Police have checked a multitude of tips, anonymous telephone calls and unsigned notes. But apparently officers still are without a solid lead in St. Louis' most publicized mystery in recent years.

Bullock was shot to death Dec. 17, shortly after dark. His killer pumped three .22 caliber bullets into him near the city art museum in Forest Park.

Dt. Sgt. Frank O'Neill of the homicide squad has promised anonymity to anyone who offers new information.

Bullock, a bridegroom of six months, was a $400-a-month clerk at an electric company and a night student at St. Louis University. He was found dying about 30 minutes after leaving home for classes.

O'Neill said questioning of fellow workers and classmates of the 27-year-old Bullock revealed that he had no known enemies.

His widow, pretty Edna Ruth Bullock, a 23-year-old kindergarten teacher, testified at a coroner's inquest that she knew of no reason why anyone would kill her husband.

Hollywood Headlines

Quality of '58 Films Good, but Not Good Enough

By BOB THOMAS

AP Movie-TV Writer
HOLLYWOOD (AP)—The movie industry is ending another rocky year with its battle to win back its lost audience still unresolved.

The producers were trying harder than ever in 1958, and they had some success. The general quality of films was good, but still not good enough to assure a happy future for the movie business.

Our annual assessment of the year's product uncovers no standout film, as in the last two years with "Around the World in 80 Days" and "The Bridge on the River Kwai." Several films won hearty approval from critics and audiences, but few had that magic hats-in-the-air quality.

Here's how Hollywood's work appeared to this movie goer:

Best actress: Susan Hayward, "I Want to Live"; Ingrid Bergman, "Inn of the Sixth Happiness"; Elizabeth Taylor, "Cat on a Hot Tin Roof"; Jean Simmons, "Home Before Dark"; Rosalind Russell, "Auntie Mame."

Best actor: Spencer Tracy, "The Last Hurrah"; Paul Newman, "Cat on a Hot Tin Roof"; David Niven, "Separate Tables"; Marlon Brando, "The Young Lion"; Cary Grant "Indiscreet."
