4 Killed in Fiery Crash

LIVE WIRE—Ripped from the poles by wind, this live power line dangles down and across Telegraph Road after yesterday's windy rain storm. Traffic jammed as firemen routed cars around the dangerous wire for more than four hours.

Storm Is Blamed for Death of Couple From Waterford

Two persons died in Waterford Township traffic yesterday, as severe thunderstorms and high winds blew down trees and power lines in the Pontiac area during a six-hour tornado alert.

The traffic victims were William J. Miller, 69, of 235 Reymont St., Waterford Township and his wife, Isabella, 66.

The storms broke a heat wave. The tornado alert was in effect for several hours, but was rescinded by the U.S. Weather Bureau shortly before 8 p.m. when no serious storms developed.

Winds up to 50 miles an hour were recorded. Temperatures plunged 15 degrees in a half hour.

From 85 degrees at 2:45 p.m., the mercury dropped to 70 by 4:15 p.m. as the storms raked the area.

Major highways in Oakland County were jammed with motorists returning home after their Sunday outings were washed out.

The Oakland County Sheriff's Department reported several capsize boats caught on lakes in the rains, but all occupants safely reached shore.

Ballot on Con-Con Tuesday

A long list of 63 candidates will be trimmed to 12 tomorrow by Oakland County voters in the state constitutional convention primary, a first and only such election for most.

County voters will have 13 hours—between 7 a.m. and 8 p.m.—to CON-CON TIME TABLE

Tomorrow's "Nominate" 288 party nominees, Oakland County voters nominate 12.

Sept. 15—Elect 144 delegates, one from each House and Senate district. County voters elect seven.

Oct. 3—Convention opens in Lansing.

November 1962—Michigan voters decide on accepting the document drafted by delegates.

Two parties will pick nominees, but voters tomorrow can cast their ballot for only one candidate.

Police Officer, Wife, Their Son Among Victims

7 Killed on Oakland County Roads Over the Weekend

A fiery three-car collision in Ferndale last night took the lives of four persons, including a Detroit policeman, his wife and their young son.

The accident brought the weekend traffic toll in Oakland County to seven.

Burned to death in the crash were William E. Stewart, 29, his wife Sharon, 22, their three-year-old son Scott and Ronald McKenzie, 24, a passenger in one of the other cars.

The accident happened at 7:15 p.m. on East 8-Mile Road just east of Hiltion Street on the Ferndale-Detroit border.

Ferndale police said the accident occurred when Arthur McKenzie of 1628 E. Hayes St., Hazel Park, the uncle of Ronald McKenzie, of the same address, made a U-turn into the path of the car driven by Stewart, who was traveling east.

The impact carried the two cars into a third vehicle driven by Edward Zack, 26, of Detroit. All three cars burst into flames.

The four victims were trapped in the cars, according to Ferndale police.

TAKEN TO HOSPITAL

The senior McKenzie, Zack and his three passengers, Mrs. Delores Miller, 28, her son Dale, 7, and her brother Ronald, 10, all of Detroit, were taken to hospitals for observation. None was seriously injured.

McKenzie was taken to William Beaumont Hospital in Royal Oak and the rest were taken to St. Carmel Hospital.

A statement taken from McKenzie last night by Oakland County Asst. Prosecutor Robert Tempin Jr. conflicts with witnesses' accounts of the accident.

Tempin reported today that McKenzie said the Stewart car crossed the center line and smashed into his while he was waiting to make the U-turn.

The assistant prosecutor said no decision on prosecution in the accident would be made until more (Continued on Page 2, Col. 7)

BEAUTY AT THE BALL GAME—Lovely Beverly Ann Whitworth of Flint, who was crowned Michigan's Junior Miss in Pontiac early this year, will return for an appearance at the Detroit Lions' scrimmage game at Wabash Stadium the night of Aug. 5. Miss Michigan and other beauty queens also will be guests. Co-sponsored by the Pontiac Area Junior Chamber of Commerce and Community National Bank, the intra-squad game will come as a prelude to the 1961-62 National Football League season.

Con-Con, 4 Local Issues Face Waterford Voters

Con-con, a civil service program for policemen and a retirement system for police and firemen will occupy the attention of Waterford township voters tomorrow.

In the con-con primary, township voters are faced with 15 candidates running for either the Republican or Democratic nomination in Oakland County's 1st Legislative District, of which the township is a part.

Voters will be able to select one candidate among the 12 GOP hopefuls or one of the 3 Democratic aspirants.

Four local propositions are on the ballot.

The first would put the township's 16-member police force under the civil service program provided for in "Act 78" of the State Legislature.

Propositions 2, 3 and 4 are a package deal, creating a retirement program for firemen and policemen.

Firemen went under the civil service program last spring. Now the police have asked for it.

If a majority of voters approve, police will come under jurisdiction of a three-member civil service commission, probably the one already created for firemen.

The commission would set up examinations for job applicants, competitive examinations for promotions and have power to hear cases involving discipline or firing.

There is no similar job-security program for policemen at present. Both police and the 12 paid employees in the fire department have asked for the retirement program.

It would be administered by a pension board and financed through employer and employee contributions.

RETIREMENT PROGRAM

Proposition 2 would create the retirement program, establish a pension board and authorize payroll deductions for the pension fund.

Proposition 3 would increase the tax limitation by a maximum of one-half mill, or 30 cents on every $1,000 of taxable property, to provide monies for the township's contribution to the pension fund.

Proposition 4 is a supplement to proposition 3. It would allow the township to levy up to one-half mill for the fund.

Pilot Held at Gunpoint; U.S. Demands Return

MIAMI (UPI)—The pilot of an Eastern Air Lines plane carrying 37 persons on a routine Miami-Tampa run was forced at gunpoint today to fly to Havana where Fidel Castro is getting set for a national celebration.

The United States immediately demanded that Cuba release the plane, its passengers and crew. The request was relayed to Cuba through the Swiss government since the United States has broken off diplomatic relations with Castro.

Hammarskjold Arrives in Tunis

French Charged With Building Up Forces Near Bizerte

From Our News Wires
TUNIS, Tunisia—United Nations Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold arrived in Tunisia by air today on an urgent peace mission amid Tunisian charges that a French warship was unloading troop reinforcements near battle-scarred Bizerte.

Hammarskjold arrived in Tunis from Rome aboard a special Tunis air flight.

He had made a hurried trip from New York, at the invitation of Tunisian President Habib Bourguiba, to try to arrange peace between France and Tunisia before new fighting flares over the Bizerte naval base and the disputed Sahara.

A war of words swelled between the French and Tunisians in the wake of the battle. Each side charged the other was maneuvering for military advantage in defiance of the U. N. cease-fire order.

The French Admiralty declared Tunisian civilians were evacuating Bizerte's ancient Casbah to let troops and volunteers transform its narrow streets and stucco dwellings into an armed bastion.

Artillery emplaced there could fire on French ships docked in the 300-yard wide canal between the Mediterranean and Lake Bizerte.

Tunisia's Information Ministry said landing barges, debarked French troops at Cape Blanc, five miles north of Bizerte.

A Paris government spokesman commented that the Cape Blanc area lies within the French perimeter established during Bizerte fighting and that there may have been some movement of men within the perimeter.

Travelers from Bizerte said they appeared the French were enlarging their perimeter. Highway in the Bizerte area are controlled by French-manned roadblocks, some of them 15 miles inland.

Serious Crime Spurs in Nation

Bob Kennedy Reports 98 Pct. 10-Year Rise; City Rate Up, Down

Atty. Gen. Robert W. Kennedy today announced that the FBI's uniform crime reports for 1960, compiled under the direction of Director J. Edgar Hoover, reveals serious crime last year reached an all-time high. There was an astounding 98 per cent increase over 1950, yet the population increase was only 18 per cent.

Hoover's report shows that lawlessness continued its upward surge with 1,861,300 serious crimes of murder, forcible rape, robbery, aggravated assault, burglary, larceny of $50 and over and auto theft reported in 1960. This is 14 per cent higher than in 1959.

In Pontiac, the crime rate was up in some categories, but down in others.

The FBI report lists the following record of offenses in Pontiac for 1959-60:

Murder and nonnegligent manslaughter, 3 and 1; negligent manslaughter, 7 and 5; forcible rape, 8 and 3; robbery, 93 and 116; aggravated assault, 253 and 189; burglary and breaking and entering, 1,734 and 802; larceny over $50, 271 and 248; larceny under $50, 1,742 and 1,256; and auto theft, 129 and 179.
Nationally, during 1960 a serious crime was committed every 15 seconds. Crimes against property of $20 and over, and burglary was carried out every 30 (Continued on Page 2, Col. 8)

STOPS IN CANADA—Soviet spaceman Yuri Gagarin walks down the plane ramp on his arrival at Gander, Nfld., Sunday night on his first visit to Canada. He is followed by Soviet ambassador to Canada, Aroutounian (left). Gagarin made the overnight stop while en route to Cuba.

Cuba Readies Hello for Spaceman Yuri

HAVANA (AP)—Cuba prepared a hero's welcome today for Soviet spaceman Yuri Gagarin as he landed on the island after his historic flight around the earth, sent word of the eighth anniversary of Fidel Castro's revolution.

Havana airport was closed to all commercial traffic to clear the way for the 27-year-old cosmonaut flying here from Gander, Nfld., where he made an overnight stop on the trip from Moscow.

The youthful Soviet air force major is being given equal billing with Castro in the four-day celebration of the 26th of July Movement that sparked the revolution which ousted the Batista dictatorship Jan. 1, 1959.

The Soviet spaceman, who already has been exhibited in Britain, Finland and Communist bloc countries since his April 12 flight around the earth, sent word ahead that he was "very happy that my old and cherished dream is at last coming true—to visit heroic Cuba."

HEAVY FOLLOWUP

He told the Cuban people: "I closely follow the great deeds of your revolution which have earned you the sympathy of millions. The name of your island is a symbol of freedom and heroism."

The Cuban celebrations will reach a climax with a giant Havana rally on Wednesday, July 26, on which Castro launched his revolutionary movement in 1953 with an abortive raid on a Santiago army barracks.

Thousands of peasants and workers from outlying provinces have poured into Havana to cheer their bearded prime minister and the boyish-looking cosmonaut he has invited to share honors with him.

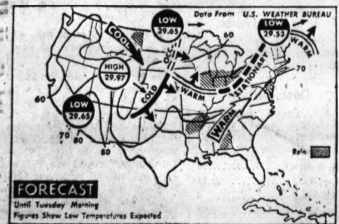

It is expected to announce the establishment of a one-party political system in Cuba along lines the self-employed.

Russians Spied on Gus, but Saw Nothing New

CAPE CANAVERAL, (UPI)—Russian travelers equipped with radar apparently had an electronic "eye" on the space flights of two American astronauts — but they may have been just wasting their rubles.

United Press International learned Sunday that at least one Soviet ship, heavily decked out with electronic gear, was on station near the target zones off Florida's East Coast for each shot.

The vessels were believed to have watched the desperate maneuvers of astronauts Alan B. Shepard Jr. May 5 and Virgil I. (Gus) Grissom last Friday.

LT. Col. John Powers, the astronauts' information officer, said today the Navy "observed a Russian ship in the vicinity of the recovery areas" during the mission.

He said the vessel "was a flight" — that is, it was not moving at the time.

Powers also said the Navy reported that "electronic gear" was apparent on the ship — radar and such.

But if the Russians had any idea of getting first-hand secret information about the shots, they might just as well have gone fishing.

Webb said the Russians "were probably there to see how they could about the project," but that any information they may have gained had already been made public.

On each occasion, U.S. aircraft helped in a systematic recovery operation reported spotting a Navy trawler in the target area, east-northeast of Grand Bahama Island, and a little more than 200 miles northeast of the launching point at Cape Canaveral.

The one following Grissom's flight was about 20 miles from where Liberty Bell 7 landed and sank. The capsule is at the bottom of the Atlantic more than three miles of water — apparently beyond recovery.

Scientists studied Grissom today to decide whether to send another man on a suborbital rocket ride.

If they decide "yes," the next American spaceflight will be John H. Glenn Jr., a 40-year-old Marine. The flight probably will come in late August or September.

If they decide "no," the nation's Project Mercury will shift its attention to sending one of its seven astronauts on a rocket flight into orbit early in 1962.

The emphasis is shifted 100 per cent on orbital flight, Grissom, Shepard and their five fellow astronauts all will be eligible to make the flight.

The Day in Birmingham To Recommend Signals at Maple-Bates Corner

BIRMINGHAM — Recommendations that a traffic signal be placed at Woodward Avenue and Hamilton and pedestrian signals be installed at the Eastern Star will hold a hearing tomorrow, the City Commission tonight.

Cost of the traffic signal installation is estimated at $2,150 and the pedestrian signal at $1,150, according to a report of Police Chief Ralph W. Moxley.

Since the Hamilton-Woodward intersection is only 225 feet north of the Maple-Woodward intersection and relatively close to the Woodward Avenue lights at the intersection, Moxley said it would be necessary to interconnect the proposed signal with the rest of the Woodward Avenue signal system.

Moxley said there are no signal indications for pedestrians facing the northern and southern corners at the Maple-Bates intersection forcing them to rely on the overhead traffic signals for a safe crossing.

He said it was his opinion that pedestrian traffic at the intersection would continue to increase and proper pedestrian signals should be installed.

Moxley said the cost of all the equipment has been anticipated and he has been provided for in the present budget.

He asked that the commission authorize him to take bids for the required equipment.

The new vice president of the board is Dr. Charles Bowers.

Also re-elected were William Buchanan, secretary, and Max Miller, treasurer.

Other board members are Earl Givens, Mrs. Jean Martz and Merrill O. Bates.

second, a larceny of $50 and over occurred every minute and a car was stolen every 4 minutes.

Robberies and burglaries were up 18 per cent over 1959. Larcenies over $50 rose 10 per cent, and auto thefts increased 9 per cent. Murders showed a 5 per cent rise, aggravated assaults were up 5 per cent, and forcible rapes occurred with 3 per cent greater frequency.

MORE CITY ARRESTS

Arrests occurring at almost 3 times the rate. Female arrests rose 10 per cent in rural areas while increasing only 3 per cent in city areas.

Arrests of juveniles have more than doubled since 1955, while the population of youths 10 to 17 years of age has increased 11 per cent.

Last year juvenile arrests occurred 9 and 8 per cent more frequently in city and rural areas. In 1960, juvenile arrests were up 2 per cent, with adult arrests registering only a 1 per cent increase while juvenile arrests jumped 9 per cent.

City youths, while comprising 14 per cent of all police arrests, were involved in 62 per cent of the crimes. In 1960, 51 per cent of the burglaries, 49 per cent of the larcenies, 28 per cent of the robberies and 20 per cent of the forcible rapes.

Crime, for the past five years, has been rising over four times faster than the population. Since 1950, crime rates have increased 100 per cent. In 1950, crime per capita reached a peak in November after a low in March.

Direct property losses average $256 for every robbery; burglary, $185; larceny, $14; and auto theft, $239. The 1960 total amounting to over $670 million.

Police work resulted in recovery of 32 per cent of this stolen property. Police in 1960 recovered 71 per cent more cars than in 1959. They charged them in 1960. Court convictions were up 42 per cent.

Director Hoover pointed out that law enforcement agencies handled 15 million violations of traffic and motor vehicle laws, and city police alone issued 31 million parking citations in 1960.

Eichmann Asks Judges to Believe His Version

JERUSALEM (AP) — Adolf Eichmann concluded 25 days of testimony today with a plea to his Israeli judges to accept his version of the trial.

He also denied documentary evidence that he was involved in the deportation to extermination camps.

Landsau forced Eichmann to admit he received and carried out instructions to omit from the minutes of the notorious Wannsee conference that it discussed ways in which the Jews were to be killed.

Landsau also forced Eichmann to acknowledge he was an avid reader of Nazi propaganda Minister Joseph Goebbels' violently anti-Semitic newspaper "Volkischer Beobachter."

"You have told the court that you took an oath as a soldier and could not break it," President Judge Moshe Landau said.

"Were you a soldier in the SS?"

"Yes, at least I had a duty and I felt that duty in my heart," Eichmann replied.

"Was the work in the head security office a soldier's work?" Landau demanded.

Eichmann replied: "Even if we did not use weapons, but I might say we used to drill every morning and hold parades."

Landsau quipped: "Your testimony is that you were never involved in the SS during the war."

"It is my impression that you remained in the SS because you knew there was no way of getting out," the judge said.

"But you, of your own free will, is that correct?"

"Yes, that is true, your honor. There is a contradiction here. I wanted to leave the SS, but I could not do so after the outbreak of war. To put it frankly, a person did not give it a thought."

Eichmann denied he ever made threatening speeches to Jews directed to a giant ghetto planned in Poland.

The decision on how to back up Kennedy's notice to Moscow that Berlin will be defended at all cost was hammered out last Wednesday at a meeting of the National Security Council.

Kennedy went to his summer home at Hyannis Port, Mass., for the weekend to work over his speech revealing that decision, but he got in some relaxation time.

In Pontiac, burglars took $20 and a portable radio from General Auto Parts, 545 S. Saginaw St.

Curtis Jenkins, 33, Prospect St., reported a watch, recent player and $75 in cash taken in a break-in of his home.

From the home of Edna Traynor, 23 McGraw St., Lake Orion, burglars made off with two shotguns, shells and $14.

JFK Finishing Work on Talk

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy, after another weekend on Cape Cod, returned today to the White House to the down details of the major address he will make to the nation Tuesday night.

The address is taking a lot of rewriting to whip it into shape, the White House said today.

It has quite a way to go, press secretary Pierre Salinger told reporters.

"I think to explain, he said, 'I asked this thing to go through several redrafts.'

That speech, to be broadcast nationally on television and radio at 9:30 p.m. (Pontiac time), will discuss what measures the nation believes are necessary for the threat to Berlin and world peace.

He will tell Congress on Wednesday what he believes these changes are, while they wait for him to take to carry out his decisions.

Other developments in the continuing controversy:

—A Tunisian government official estimated almost 1,000 Tunisians were killed in the battles of Bizerte and that many of the wounded were near death in Bizerte's regional hospital. The official warned of the danger of epidemics in Bizerte.

Ambassador Habib Bourguiba Jr. son of the Tunisian president, said in Washington the free world should act to settle the Bizerte conflict "before another world war is started."

Bourguiba made the statement following a 40-minute meeting with Secretary of State Dean Rusk.

Flint Girl Dies After 'Rescue'

Teen Pulled From Lake Is Apparently Revived, but Succumbs Later

Rescued from a Springfield Township lake Saturday afternoon, a 14-year-old Flint girl died hours later in Pontiac General Hospital.

The girl, Doris Potter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Potter, had apparently revived after two men had rescued her at Bridge Lake, according to Pontiac State Police.

Pulling her from the water at 3:35 p. m. were James Ellis, 22, of 1425 Lahar Road, Birmingham, and Albert Fennell, 27, of 700 Elizabeth Lake Road, Waterford Township.

Troopers said the girl floundered in water 6 feet deep about 3 yards offshore.

The two rescuers applied artificial respiration. State police arrived, using an inhaler, revived her.

She was taken to Pontiac General, but died while doctors were treating her.

NATO Council Okays JFK's Berlin Plan

PARIS (UPI) — The 15-nation NATO Permanent Council today informally approved President Kennedy's Berlin defense plan.

U.S. NATO Ambassador Thomas C. Flanigan went before the council and gave a 40-minute advance report on the measures Kennedy will unveil in his message Tuesday.

Flanigan told the American people that NATO sources refused to disclose any details of Kennedy's plans. But they said his message would not be solely concerned with military aspects of Berlin. It will embrace all aspects of the East-West struggle, including economic matters, the sources said.

Waterford Township Clerk James E. Seesterlin figured about 3,000 of the township's 22,364 registered voters will visit the township's 18 voting precincts.

Mrs. Barkeley said there had been 36 applications for absentee ballots by Saturday. Seesterlin said there were 90 applied for in the township.

In last fall's presidential election, 201 absentee voters turned out, there were 1,189 absentee ballots used in the city and 713 in Waterford Township.

Oakland County was one among only a few of the state's 23 counties where an April survey proved calling the convention on April 3 was a turnout of 128,000 voters, Murphy said.

Campaigning by the 22 Democrats and 31 Republicans on the primary ballots has picked up during the last week in an 11th-hour bid for votes and to create interest in the first July election since the end of World War II.

"It's a shame that voters haven't bothered to become more informed about the candidates," Murphy said. "If they remain to live in the state, there will be their most important election in a lifetime."

Oakland County had three delegates among the 96 delegates who convened between Oct. 22, 1957, and March 3, 1958 to frame the present constitution adopted by voters in 1959. It took effect Jan. 1, 1959.

The present 144 state delegates will have 7½ months at $1,000-per-month in which to do their important work. The financial limit of $7,500-per-delegate will be exhausted after that.

The legislature could conceivably appropriate additional funds if the state isn't completed within the 7½ months.

Beaten, Raped Teen Hovers Near Death

JOPKIN, Mo. (AP)—A teen age girl who was kidnapped, beaten and raped was near death in a Joplin hospital today.

Lisa Schin, 13, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. Russell Schin of Wichita, Kan., was seized in front of her grandmother's house in Joplin Sunday by a man with a gun.

An ex-convict, Claude Harvey, 29, was arrested within an hour. The girl's bloody clothing was found in a car, Police Capt. Walter Flenner said.

Senate Unit Okays JFK Foreign Aid Bill

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy's $4,325,500,000 foreign aid bill was approved formally today by a 12-4 vote of the senate foreign relations committee.

Some of those who voted to report the bill favorably—such as Sen. George D. Aiken, R-Vt.—did so with the reservation that they will oppose in the Senate Kennedy's proposal to finance long-range foreign economic development loans by treasury borrowings.

Meanwhile, House Speaker Sam Rayburn, D-Tex., forecast that Congress will approve Kennedy's new long-range aid program despite what he called "a terrible campaign against it by unthinking people."

In the Senate committee, those opposing the aid bill were Democrats. House Speaker Rayburn said the bill is modified sufficiently on the floor, he would vote for it.

Rayburn volunteered his optimistic remarks in telling reporters that he is not thinking about getting a school bill out now, but is concentrating on international assistance.

School legislation has been tabled by the House Rules Committee but moves are under way to bypass that committee.

Rain Ends Wade-In at Chicago Beach

CHICAGO (AP)—A light rain ended a brief "wade in" demonstration on a nearly empty south side beach traditionally used only by white bathers.

About 30 Negroes and white persons took part in the demonstration Sunday under the watchful eye of a 200-man police force assigned to the public beach. The demonstrators left after about 45 minutes when rain started to fall.

Previous demonstrations have been marked by shouting, jarring and sand kicking incidents.

Don't Sound Alarm, This Escape Is Legal

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—No alarm was sounded when 25 men climbed out a window of the combination police headquarters-city prison.

They were policemen, who had assembled in the roll call room before going off duty, when a new lock on the door stuck.

Farmer Slays 4 Children, Self

Wounded Girl Dashes 2 1/2 Miles in Mud to Tell Grisly Tale

MIDLAND, Tex. (AP)—A 35-year-old farm girl with a serious bullet wound in the stomach ran 2 1/2 miles in the mud to a neighbor's house before dawn today and cried out:

"Daddy has shot the boys!"

Officers rushed to the Fred Milton Kinsey home, 3 miles northwest of this West Texas oil center, and found Kinsey and three boys and a girl dead.

All had been shot to death. The children were in their pajamas while Kinsey was in khaki trousers and a green sports shirt.

Mrs. Kinsey was reported living in Fort Worth.

Officers said they found a note which read in part: "The kids have to go. They'll have a better home. Mother is coming."

The dead were J. D. Kinsey, 17; Johnny 13; Jay 8; and Lilly 7.

All the children, except Johnny, died from a single bullet wound in the chest. Johnny had five wounds in the heart.

Kinsey, 58, died of a pistol wound in the forehead.

The wounded girl is Louise Kinsey. Midland officers said she apparently escaped through a bathroom window and fled in her night clothes.

Police said the shooting apparently occurred around 2 a.m.

A report received here said Kinsey once was a mental patient.

Bodies of two of the children were found on a bed in a front room. Bodies of the other two children were sprawled in a back room of the modest frame home.

The wounded girl was brought to Midland Memorial Hospital where her condition was described as serious.

Stops Constipation Due to "Aging Colon"

New laxative discovery re-creates 3 essentials for normal regularity

As you grow older, the internal muscles of your colon wall also age, lose the strength that propels waste from the body. Stagnant bowel contents become so dry and shrunken that they fail to stimulate the urge to purge.

Relief, doctors say, lies in a new laxative principle. Old-style bulks and stimulants may create gas, take 3 or 4 days for relief. Old-style salts and drugs cramp and gripe the entire system. Of all laxatives, only new Colomax gives you its special 3-way relief that works only on the lower colon (area of constipation).

Rusk and Bowles See Berlin Crisis Going to U.N.

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Secretary of State Dean Rusk and Under-Secretary of State Chester Bowles suggested Sunday that the Berlin crisis eventually will come before the United Nations.

Rusk said in a television interview that if the Berlin issue "develops into a situation of very high tension, . . . you can be certain it will come before the United Nations in some form."

Bowles, appearing on another TV program, said he expected the United States to take the issue to the world organization. He said there was room for negotiation in Berlin, but the West must not bow to Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev's demands.

Why Do We Help Reds Trick Our Own People?

The United States faces many difficult problems in attempting to preserve the liberties of its own people and at the same time oppose the Communist dictatorship effectively. For Russia is constantly attempting to win over American minds to communism.

A recent news report from Washington pointed out that while 6 million packages of known Communist propaganda material came into the United States in 1959, the volume had increased to more than 14 million packages the following year.

And what happens to material carrying the story of the Western nations into Russia and its satellites? It doesn't get delivered. "We aren't that silly," say the Russians in effect. "Why should we try to beat ourselves?"

But we freedom loving people continue to risk our own liberty by permitting Russia to ship millions of papers, pamphlets and other forms of propaganda into our country. Not only can it come in, but our post office department continues to deliver it. It is delivered to our native born citizens. It is likewise delivered to millions of immigrants from Eastern Europe who have come to our country but whose minds may still be open to the wiles of Russian propaganda which reaches their homes in the guise of tabloid newspapers printed in their native tongue.

It is high time our Nation's leaders did some serious thinking about the cold war with Russia. The customs that were good enough in 1861 may no longer be safe for us to follow in 1961.

Loyal Americans are entitled to all the freedom we can give them. But why do we continue to give practically the same freedom to the admitted enemies within and without our borders who are seeking to take away our liberties? We do so at our own peril.

It has been suggested that the most simple way to draw the line is to say that all courtesies and all facilities exchanged between our country and any Communist country should be reciprocal.

In other words, if American tourists and diplomats are barred from visiting many portions of countries behind the Iron Curtain, then the movements of Russian tourists and diplomats would be similarly curtailed here.

If printed matter from our country is not delivered in Russia, then printed matter from Russia would not be delivered here.

Perhaps this is not the answer. But if not, it comes a whole lot closer to a sensible solution than the naive course our Nation is following today.

It is true that we do not like to curtail any of the liberties and privileges of anyone within our country, be he citizen or visitor. However, some liberties have to be curtailed in time of war, and Russia is at war with us today.

It is not a war of guns, but its goal is the same as any fighting war. KHRUSHCHEV has boasted that he will bury us. It is folly for us to continue to assist him in his avowed program by preserving all of our peacetime customs at such a time.

Defending One's Home Quite Often Overdone

The age-old instinct to defend one's home is a strong and natural one which persists even in today's culture.

Possibly because this defense is not required very often, when it is done, it is often overdone with tragic consequences. Examples of this recently have been the wounding of two youths by home owners after "prowlers."

"In defense" of their property, which they are not sure has been damaged, some home owners adopt the old maxim: "Shoot first, and ask questions afterward."

Many people believe they are within their rights to shoot someone attacking their property or themselves. This is not the case, says Oakland County Prosecutor GEORGE F. TAYLOR. The defense must fit the nature of the attack.

You cannot gun down a bare-handed stranger because he is standing in your rosebed and refuses to leave. Only when you fear for your personal safety is a defense of such magnitude excusable.

Morally, we consider this reckless shooting of unidentified persons a return to lawlessness and personal justice. We have police and sheriff's deputies to handle complaints of prowlers and destruction of property. Are either of these offenses worth taking someone's life?

It is one thing to shoot a person who has disregarded your warnings, and broken into your home to attack you. This may be a justifiable defense of the personal safety of your family.

To shoot an unidentified person merely because he is trespassing is manslaughter. Trigger-happy citizens should leave the lead slinging to the television screen and their hired civil servants, the police.

Commending Centennial Issue Completes Round

Oakland County: What makes Detroit worry about the next census.

Letters of praise for our Centennial issue continue to arrive, many from foreign nations. They've now been received from a globe circling circuit. The latest is from:

Dr. Tengis Altun and his wife Berin, of Istanbul, Turkey, and says: "It was a very nice occasion for us to refresh all of our wonderful memories about Pontiac, and the very nice people we met while we were there for three short years."

After learning that it always is an Oakland County man who can be depended upon to successfully run the big show, the Michigan State Fair Commission now appears ready to recommend Eldon Rosegar of Pontiac as its manager, to succeed Donald L. Swanson of our Southfield, who has resigned.

Proof that official names may be misleading is found in the fact that Lathrup Village is a city and Imlay City is a village.

Red Line Evident in Tunisian Battle

The tragedy of Tunisia is not just an episode in the relations of two countries. It is worldwide in its significance. For it means that passion and not reason still is the ruling motivation in international disputes.

Frenchmen and Tunisians lie dead today, their families in mourning, just because the president of Tunisia was impatient and couldn't wait to invoke the orderly process of the United Nations.

Instead, these men became the procedure of a blame to determine blame rather than a means of preventing bloodshed that has already occurred.

There is debate going on now as to where the responsibility for the attack on French troops shall be placed.

Each side will insist it had legal rights under international law. The French to protect a base granted by treaty, and the Tunisians to order a foreign contingent to evacuate its sovereign territory when negotiations to effect a change in an existing agreement had stalled.

But impatience to get an agreement signed is not a justification nowadays for any nation to start a bloody conflict.

World opinion has favored the use instead of the United Nations tribunals to bring about a settlement by peaceful means of all questions in dispute.

PAPER SPEAKS "Press opinion in Europe is cautious and restrained. For Tunisia has been a friend of the West. But, says the London Times:

"Does Mr. Bourguiba seek to show that, like the Algerian nationalists whose rivalry he fears, he can also employ force to get what he wants from Paris?"

"Is he attempting to cover up his designs on the Sahara — which run counter to both the French and the Algerian claims — with an exhibition of strength over Blaise? Or did events pass beyond his control?"

Back of all this is an unexplained mystery. Why does a friend of the West suddenly go berserk in diplomacy?

What influences are behind it? Certainly the stakes are high, as control of Saharan oil and pipelines to the Mediterranean comprise a valuable and important asset. Could it be that Mr. Bourguiba has decided, as have other African leaders, to play both ends against the middle?

Evidence of the Soviet infiltration in situations of this kind unfortunately is never made available by Moscow, but the circumstantial facts are indeed suspicious.

Someday there may even be a similar strategy pursued by Castro, instigated by the Communists, in a possible attack on the Guantanamo naval base which would force the issue into the United Nations.

For the Tunisian affair is not an isolated incident. It fits into a communist pattern. Already the Tunisians are being hailed as heroes by the Communist press and in some of the "neutralist" countries, too, the propaganda tirades have been turned on against the West.

LORD HOME SPEAKS "The man who seems to have the clearest vision in Europe of what it's all about and unambiguously speaks out on the whole Communist technique is Lord Home, the British Foreign secretary. In a speech Saturday night in London, he said:

"Nero fiddled while Rome burned. What are we doing while the Communists openly plot to bring us down? For it is the creed of the Communists, which they repeat and practice every hour of the day, that, kept under constant unremitting pressure, our way of life will collapse from within because it will lose inspiration and the will to survive."

The first necessity for our people is to awake to the nature of the challenge. It is by way of the cold war to attack.

"For instance, a notable victory for the Communists would be to turn our young generation into unilateralists. Russia and China would not shed a weapon but we should have shed any possibility of independent action."

Dr. William Brady Says:

It Takes Much Calcium to Supply Minimum Need

Of the 2½ pounds of calcium in the body of a healthy adult, 98 per cent is in the bones and teeth. The remaining one-third of an ounce is distributed to nerves, muscle, heart, glands, blood vessels, blood and glandular secretions.

The calcium in the bones and teeth is subject to metabolism gain or loss from day to day, precisely as is that in the other body tissues — bone and tooth is tissue, living tissue.

The healthy adult requires a daily ration or intake of not less than a gram (approximately 15 grains) of calcium to keep well.

Twenty-six pounds of lean meat, or 17 pounds of potatoes, or 7.5 pounds of white bread, or 3 to 4 pounds of green vegetables, or 5 to 20 pounds of fruit or 20 eggs or 1½ pints of milk (three glasses) will barely supply the minimum daily requirement of calcium.

Pasteurizing (parboiling) milk necessarily changes part of the calcium into insoluble forms.

Therefore if milk is the chief or sole source of calcium, raw milk is the best, provided, of course, that Grade A Raw from tuberculin tested herd. Certified raw or other raw milk approved by your own physician or health officer is available.

Instead of merely trying to prevent the various complaints which are the manifestations of calcium deficiency everyone, especially the growing child, youth or adult who has not yet reached his or her peak, should strive for better-than-average nutritional condition, which is what I call Vita. This calls for a quart of milk daily as an essential part of the diet. In other words, four glasses of milk every day instead of just three glasses.

The 90 per cent of the calcium in the body that is stored in the bones and teeth constitutes a reserve to be drawn upon whenever the daily intake of calcium is deficient. In prolonged states of deficiency or low calcium supply, the bones steadily atrophy (waste, become lighter, spongy, more fragile, weaker) and the sockets undergo the same, soot teeth, gums, jaw lines and teeth of degeneration.

A growing child, a pregnant woman or a mother nursing a baby requires more calcium than an ordinary adult. In the late months of pregnancy and during lactation, if the mother doesn't get more calcium than her husband requires to keep fit, the fetus or nursing baby will take it out of her bones and teeth.

An everyday complaint seldom properly interpreted is irritability of the nerves. In most instances this is a manifestation of calcium deficiency.

Signs of calcium deficiency are: aches and pains, nervousness, irritability, loss of appetite, constipation, self-defensive violence is sent in The Daily Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

Let Children Work for Allowance

Always try to see that plenty of pay chores are available. Then there will be "ceiling unlimited" regarding a child's spending allowance.

One swallow doesn't make a summer, but several can mean a fall.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

CASE J-448: Teddy R., age 12, is very hateful toward his parents. They don't give me enough allowance," he began.

"Other kids have a lot more money than I do so they are unfair. And that's why I talk up to my Mother and Dad."

Kids, wise up to the facts of life! Parents are not required to furnish you any spending money as a gift or parental "dole."

Instead, the proper and much sounder method is to let you kids earn what you need.

The goal of good parents is to train you to be self-reliant adults, able to stand on your own two feet and support yourselves.

Making you into "dole" recipients is, therefore, unwise at the grammar school period and productive of "dole" voters when you pass 21.

Parents, stop this unwise method of teaching children to expect something for nothing.

Prepare them to meet the problems of life. And life makes no allowance for anybody.

Whether you parents are a wealthy, average or poor, therefore, start assigning definite pay jobs to your youngsters. Start when they are of kindergarten age.

Thought Trip Fund Was Only a Joke

I have just finished reading the article about the plan to honor Janice Antoma, and the drive to raise funds for her next trip to Italy. Previous to the article, Mr. Donaldson mentioned raising a fund for the trip at the annual picnic last year, but I thought it was only a joke.

I was under the impression she got paid for her job as city librarian, and teacher of English history, and I thought I was successful for the drive, but I am sorry for not being able to send a dollar. I need it much more.

I also wish some of us immigrants that left families behind in Europe and have not seen them for many years could find another Mr. Donaldson to raise funds for us to go back and see them.

'Bible States Exactly What Will Happen'

I, too, am glad I know of the coming of our Lord Jesus Christ for his true church.

If people would only read the precious Bible, they would not wonder at what is coming.

The Bible does state exactly what will happen. Those outside of Christ are afraid and uncertain.

Be not deceived by the false teachers of today, but read your Bible and know that you must be born again, before one may enter into the kingdom of heaven.

Public's Right to Know to Get Test in Con-Con

By GENE SCHROEDER

LANSING (U)—The people's right to know how public officials are handling public affairs is being tested for a unique test when 144 delegates gather in Lansing Oct. 3 for the constitutional convention.

Some observers feel that the success or failure of the convention might hinge on whether or not the delegates decide to conduct their business in full view of the voters, who sent them there in the first place.

Leaders of both political parties have pledged their support for completely open meetings, with no closed doors barring the press or public.

No delegate candidate has advocated secret general sessions, and none is expected to do so. But some have taken a stand that comes close to being a simultaneous "yes and no" answer to the question of whether they favor letting the public in on their deliberations.

These are the ones who say they feel that some committee sessions should be closed while the delegates are rewriting or revising the state's basic legal document.

In the legislature, observers note this point of view has found support among some lawmakers who fear that disclosure of planned property acquisition, for example, would cost the taxpayers millions of dollars in skyrocketed prices.

PRESSURE GROUPS
Another view as expressed by a veteran member of the House of Representatives.

"Some lawmakers are unable to resist pressure groups and against their better judgment would be unwilling to vote to cut spending proposals in open meetings."

Observers point out, however, that these arguments are completely invalid when applied to the constitutional convention. Delegates will not be dealing with the specifics of property acquisition but rather with the broad generalities of legal concepts.

If the sessions — and committee meetings — are not open, these observers say, then the public will not be well enough informed to make an intelligent decision when asked to vote on the results of the convention.

Secrecy in state government might be one of the subjects to come up among the convention delegates, but it does not appear likely that they would adopt anything but a general "freedom of the press" principle.

Michigan has a number of laws on the books requiring that local government groups hold open meetings, including school boards and unchartered townships.

Most state agencies hold public meetings at which final decisions are announced and the state administrative board — the governor's cabinet — also welcomes newsmen at its final-action meetings.

But many newsmen point out that these sessions are merely held for the purpose of rubber stamping decisions that have been made in executive sessions held before the doors are opened up.

State Campaign Will Underscore Industrial Plans

LANSING (AP)—Michigan's advantages as an industrial site will be underscored in a new campaign launched jointly by the state's newspapers and the state Economic Development Department.

Nearly 300 Michigan newspapers are printing advertisements as a public service to promote the state's industrial advantages.

The plan was outlined at a meeting of leaders of the Michigan Press Association and an advisory committee of the Michigan Economic Development Department.

The committee chairman, F. Granger Weil, president of the Port Huron Times Herald, said many individuals and companies reportedly have been clipping the advertisements and sending them to potential industrial prospects in other states.

Great Lakes Shipments Are Lighter This Year
CLEVELAND (U)—Shipments of iron ore, coal and grain over the Great Lakes this year to July 1 totaled 35,357,651 tons, compared with 36,427,516 tons in the corresponding period last year.

The Lake Carriers' Association reports ore shipments in the 1961 period fell to 4,236,760 gross tons, less than half the 30,200,583 tons shipped in the 1960 period.

Ore fleets did not start as early this year as last year, when there was a heavy demand from steel mills following a lengthy strike.

Indiana's coal reserves total about 17.6 billion tons.

U. S. Project Converts Seawater

Desalting May End World's Thirst

(Editor's Note: What President Kennedy said a great deal of mankind could come true if a U.S. project, now being developed, is successful. The sea can be made to give up fresh water. This country has the leading in first big-time test of desalting technique. Here is a special report on its meaning to a thirsty world.)

FREEPORT, Tex. (UPI)—Three-fifths of the earth's surface is water and yet much of mankind thirsts.

"Water, water everywhere, 'Nor any drop to drink." The "Rime of the Ancient Mariner" once was a riddle of the universe.

In 1959 Dutch engineers began converting sea water to fresh water on the island of Aruba in the Netherlands Antilles, 15 miles off the coast of Venezuela.

Now the island operates a $12 million plant that supplies water to all parts of the island—producing 2.8 million gallons a day at a cost of about $1.75 per 1,000 gallons.

Here in Freeport, a steamy industrial town on the shore of the Gulf of Mexico, in a building on an acre of land hard by a seawater canal, scientists and engineers have recently converted salt water into drinking water in the first operating plant of its kind in the United States.

Water gushes pure and sweet from a 2½-inch pipe. It is neither very hard nor very soft. It comes from the sea, a million gallons a day.

CONVERSION PLANT

It comes at the right time. In a world of spectacular population expansion and industrial development, the ancient cry for water has never been so loud and urgent.

This is the seawater conversion demonstration plant dedicated by President Kennedy last month with the flip of a bronze telephone key in Washington.

It is the first of five big plants that will be in operation by the end of 1962, demonstrating five desalting methods.

"I am sure that before this decade is out," said the President, "we will see more and more of man's ability at an economic rate to secure fresh water from salt water. And when that day comes we will literally see the desert bloom."

In the arid southwest of the United States, these are magical hopes.

So are they in the industrial centers of the nation where huge factories and plants suck in fresh water by the billions of gallons and where a city like New York only a few years ago began worrying that its vast water-sheds would not provide its needs for long.

Kennedy promised that the know-how of converting sea water to fresh would be available to "all people." In the bone-dry Middle East—in ancient times a fertile Eden—These are welcome words.

In thirsty Asia and hot North Africa, they were a benediction.

Yet the conversion of salt water to fresh still remains in the experimental stage. Water, like every commodity on earth, costs money. And converted water still is too expensive.

The average cost in the United States of fresh water for city and residential use is 35 cents per 1,000 gallons for fresh water. In some areas it is higher, even as much as 75 cents.

Water from the Freeport plant costs around $1 per 1,000 gallons to produce.

TOO EXPENSIVE

Plant manager Harold Singleton is not belittling the achievement at Freeport when he says, "We're not out of the woods yet." It is too expensive. It provides only a drop in the bucket in terms of what the United States alone needs, much less the rest of the world.

But new techniques are being mastered. The Westinghouse Company is working on new devices, new approaches to bring down the cost and increase the volume.

Relatively soon, there will be other big demonstration plants at San Diego, Calif., Wrightsville Beach, N.C., and in such inland places as Roswell, N.M., and Webster, S.D.

These plants, along with the one at Freeport, will cost around $4 million.

Those at Roswell and Webster will purify and sweeten brackish water. Those on the shore will use the sea, which has a much heavier salt concentration.

Different techniques and converters will be used. The basic process for three plants will be distillation.

A fourth plant will get pure water by freezing it—when water crystallizes it leaves the salt behind.

The fifth will use a method called electrodialysis, which uses an electric current to make the positive and negative particles of the salt drive themselves through porous membranes, leaving clean water.

HEAT USED

Just as heat from the sun can evaporate salt water to get pure water vapor and leave salt crystals, so heat performs the job of drawing off the pure water from the brine and minerals at this plant.

Intake ports in the flame, or seawater canal, draw in salt water. An hour later, after swirling through 12 vertical evaporators, it comes out of a 2½-inch pipe as sweet water. Each gallon of seawater provides ½ gallon of fresh water.

The other quarter gallon of brine, minerals, dirt and other impurities goes back in fluid form into the sea.

The firefly converts 35 per cent of its energy into light, wasting a negligible amount in heat. By contrast, the ordinary electric light bulb converts only 3 per cent of its energy into light.

Says Administration Goofed on Berlin

GRAND RAPIDS (P)—President Kennedy's administration made a mistake in not making a clear pronouncement on Berlin following the Vienna meeting with Soviet Premier Khrushchev, Rep. William E. Miller, R-New York, said Saturday.

In a speech to the annual Kent County GOP picnic, Miller said this nation's Berlin policy was confusing to our allies.

He added that Berlin "is only a manifestation of an area of weakness" in charging the administration also "bungled the handling of the Laotian and Cuban crises as well."

Ex-Calvin Prof Dead

GRAND RAPIDS (P)—Funeral service will be held today for former Calvin College Prof. B. K. Kuiper, the author of several books, died Saturday at Holland home here at age 84. A native of the Netherlands, Kuiper came to this country at age 13.

There was one patent issued in 1960 for every 4,273 persons in the United States.

Space, Subs Big in Toy Model Business

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst
NEW YORK — Space flights and nuclear subs have captured the fancy of the hobbyists as well as the general public. But interest in the old favorites — autos, trains, ships and the like — also is reported on the rise among the collectors or assemblers of models as a hobby.

CAR KITS POPULAR

One maker reports demand for new kits for fashioning small but close copies of cars—whether hot rods or vintage types—is up 20 per cent this year from last. They now represent 45 per cent of his total sales.

Boys under 18 show the greatest interest in hot rod models. Jack M. Benson, president of Monogram Models, Inc., Chicago, suspects they are boning up for the day they can own or operate a real one.

Models of military planes also are selling at a 20 per cent increase this year, Benson says, and make up 25 per cent of total sales.

RICKOVER UPSET

Authenticity of some of the models in the defense field drew fire recently from Vice Adm. Hyman G. Rickover. He said details of a $2.98 model of the Polaris sub was so exact that the Russians could get nuclear secrets from it.

Makers of model ships, submarines and planes were quick to assert they only copied unclassified information given them by the military services, or what they learned from photos and newspaper stories in the technical and popular press.

The Navy says it gives unclassified blueprints to model manufacturers, but gives away no secrets. Ideal Toy Corp. of Hollis, N.Y., notes that the military services often vie in getting models produced for use in recruiting drives or to encourage interest in youngsters.

DADS LIKE THEM

All manufacturers reported wide interest in such models among the nation's youth and fathers.

Revell of Venice, Calif., makes models of rocket planes and fighter planes, as well as the Polaris, advertises them as accurate to within one thousandth of an inch, but says they involve no secret data.

Renwal Products of Mineola, N.Y., says it asks the Navy for only such information as is available to the public. It also studies published photos based on artists' conceptions.

OIL RIGS TRUCKS

Various corporations not in the hobby business sponsor or distribute models of the implements of their trades—such as oil rigs, rail tank cars, trucks, all bearing the name of their products.

Part of the success of auto kits is credited to improvements within the model industry in recent years. Makers claim they are better at matching new models to the public's tastes. They cite advances in producing moving parts and in turning out realistic plastic parts for models. They say they now gear instructions to the understanding of specific age groups.

But the popularity of auto kits, in spite of public absorption in space vehicles, is credited by the makers to America's mass devotion to cars. And naturally they

Stolen Car Is Returned, but Something's Missing

TOPEKA, Kan. (P)—Don Callison got his car back — or at least part of it — the day after it was stolen.

Missing from the 1956 model vehicle were four wheels, back axle, differential, spare tire and wheel, hood, battery, carburetor, radio, door to the glove compartment and floor mats.

Driver, 4 Others Held

Oak Park Policeman
Kills Man in Chase

OAK PARK—An Oak Park policeman shot and killed a 23-year-old Detroit man in an 80-mile-per-hour chase through the streets of Oak Park and Ferndale early today.

Dead on arrival at William Beaumont Hospital, Royal Oak, was Arthur Himmel, one of five persons in an auto which was involved in the bullet-punctured pursuit by an Oak Park patrol car.

Two of the men in the car with Himmel have police records.

The chase ended on Eight Mile Road near Pinecrest Street in Ferndale after the fleeing auto collided with two police cars.

Injured was Stephen Maczynski, 21, also of Detroit, who was shot in the left arm. He was treated at William Beaumont Hospital and released in the custody of Oak Park police.

Being held with Maczynski at the Oak Park police station are Roy Sebon, 21, and Albert J. Lawrence, 19, both of Detroit, and Robert J. McFarlen, 23, the driver of the car which was being pursued by police.

Oak Park Patrolman Roland Hughes said he was cruising on Rensselaer Road near Nine Mile Road when he spotted a late-model convertible occupied by the five men.

Hughes said the convertible started off at a high rate of speed as his patrol car approached. The convertible went south on Rensselaer Road, east on Nine Mile Road and then into Ferndale with his car in pursuit, according to the patrolman.

RIPS OVER LAWNS

Hughes said he caught up with the fleeing auto at Troy and Pinecrest streets in Ferndale where it went over three lawns, glanced off a tree and tried to force his vehicle off the street.

After a second attempt was made to force him off the street, Hughes said he pulled his gun and started firing. The men in the convertible escaped going south on Pinecrest to Eight Mile Road.

Police from Detroit, Ferndale and Oak Park were called.

The patrolman said his vehicle hit the fleeing car broadside near Eight Mile Road and Pinecrest Street. The convertible then crashed into a Ferndale police car which had been dispatched to the scene.

McFarlen, the driver of the fleeing car, tried to escape following the collisions but he was arrested in a yard about 1½ blocks from the scene.

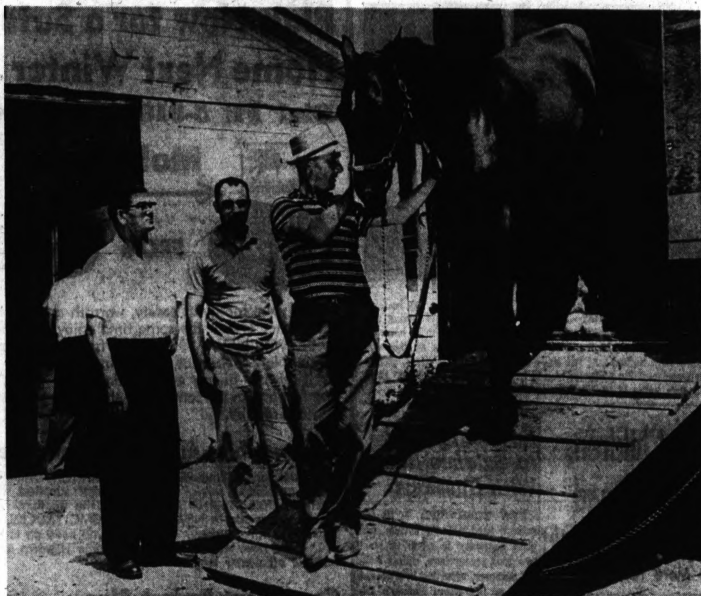

ON PAROLE

McFarlen was on parole after serving 3 years of a 1-to-5 year sentence for breaking and entering. Sebon was on parole for grand larceny and nonsupport.

The other occupants of the car told Oak Park police they tried in vain to get McFarlen to stop the car during the 18-minute chase which ended at 3:30 a.m.

The men with McFarlen said he told them he couldn't afford to be picked up. McFarlen gave a false address when questioned by police. He gave no indication why he was attempting to escape.

The four are being held on charges of felonious assault in Oak Park.

Prepare for Rodeo

SOUTHFIELD (UPI) — Four Michigan truck drivers today prepared for the annual "olympics" of the trucking industry — the National Truck Rodeo — after sweeping state titles here Sunday.

The state winners who won the right to compete for national prizes includes: Stanley Wojciechowski, Lincoln Park, winner in straight truck class; Fred Nafie, Taylor Township, champion in the three-axle tractor Semitrailer class; Alex Menapace, Saginaw, winner of the four-axle tractor class; and John Morton, Detroit, who won the five-axle class.

Expect Clarkson to Veto
Appointment of Eastlick

SOUTHFIELD—Mayor S. James Clarkson is expected to veto the appointment of City Assessor Gerald Eastlick as consulting assessor at today's 7:30 p. m. City Council meeting.

Eastlick was fired from his job as assessor, a position he held for nine years, by the mayor June 21. His firing was to become effective next Monday.

The mayor claimed at the time he was not satisfied with Eastlick's methods of assessment. A week later he named Myron Greenfield to the job. Council members tabled action on confirm-

Big Name Can't Help
Driver Avoid Arrest

EAST LANSING (UPI) — State police today reported John Kennedy was arrested during the weekend for drunken driving.

This John Kennedy lives in Easton Rapids, however, not the White House.

Applications filed with the Patent Office for trademarks in 1960 totaled 22,802, compared with 23,064 in 1959.

Eastern Michigan Fair
Starts 6-Day Run July 31

IMLAY CITY — A record crowd of 60,000 is expected at the 63rd annual Eastern Michigan Fair which opens here for a 6-day run starting July 31.

Although the deadline for entries in livestock judging and the fair's other competitive events was Saturday, applications are still pouring in, according to Al Pierce, fair secretary.

Pierce said the deadline for entries has been extended to this Saturday because of the large number expected this week.

Attendance last year was 55,000, according to the fair secretary.

Besides livestock judging and other regular events, there will be harness racing by Michigan horses from Tuesday through Friday of next week.

Other highlights include appearances by Dapper Dan Fleenor's Hurricane Hell Drivers and Minnie Pearl and her variety stage show.

The 1961 version of the Eastern Michigan Fair will open the gates at 10 a. m. Monday, July 31, when 4-H Club and Future Farmers of America entries will be judged. Midway rides will start at 6 p. m., followed by raffles of the colors at 7:45 p. m.

The stunt automobile drivers will be featured in a special show at 8 p. m. Admission will be free on Monday.

Admission for the rest of the week will be 50 cents for adults and 25 cents for youngsters from 12 to 16 years old. The entry fee is included in the price of a $1.50 season ticket for the fair. Tickets are for sale at most business places in the area.

BUILDINGS REMODELED

Persons visiting the fair grounds, near the southern limits of Imlay City, will find several buildings remodeled and redecorated for this year's event.

The grandstand has been repainted and the half-mile race track has been drained. All five horse barns and the pole barn have been reroofed and an aluminum blacksmith shop has been added across from the barn area. The fiscal hall also has been redecorated.

The harness racing will be presented under the lights nightly for purses totaling $21,000. If any trotting events are rained out, they will be held at 2 p. m. Saturday.

Jaycee Officers to Hold Meeting

WALLED LAKE Unit Will Host District 8 Heads at Orientation Program

WALLED LAKE—Junior Chamber of Commerce officers of District 8 will attend an orientation program here Wednesday at 8 p. m. in Adkins Hall.

The Walld Lake Jaycees will host all the newly elected officers of the nine other chapters comprising the district.

The chapters are in Berkley, Birmingham, Clawson, Farmington, Hazel Park, Madison Heights, Milford, Royal Oak and South Lyon.

The meeting will be conducted by Jim Jordan, Walld Lake Jaycee and district vice president; Robert Mulligan, national director; Al Hill, former national director; and Michael Sayre, past district vice president.

The purpose of the orientation program is to acquaint all of the officers and directors with the responsibilities of their posts as well as the goals and objectives of the district, state and national Jaycee functions.

About 80 Jaycee officers are expected to attend the meeting.

To Omit Proposal
Originally Slated
for Avon Ballot

AVON TOWNSHIP — A local issue originally scheduled to appear on the ballot here tomorrow will not be included in the election, according to Avon Township Supervisor Cyril E. Miller.

The proposal asked for the abolishment of the annual open township meeting, an issue which has been approved by voters in eight of Oakland County's 24 townships since last August.

The Township Board in April adopted a motion to have the proposition coincide with the constitutional convention primary. However, the board later voted to rescind its action.

Miller explained that board members decided there would not be enough time to publicize the issue if it were put to a vote this month.

The supervisor said there was no date set for the township meeting question.

Congress Will Consider Farm, Foreign Aid Bills

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP)—Congress concentrates this week on farm and foreign aid legislation. The administration hopes it will focus some attention, too, on education.

The Senate takes up a farm bill today from which its Agriculture Committee has slashed a key request by Secretary of Agriculture Orville Freeman to develop their own programs subject to a congressional veto.

Senate Democratic leader Mike Mansfield of Montana predicted passage of the committee version without substantial change.

Among other things it would provide for a minimum 10 per cent reduction in wheat acreage and a 20 per cent cut in corn, grain sorghum and barley acreage. Government payments would be made in cash or kind for retired acreage.

HOUSE MARKS TIME

The House, marking time with routine measures, takes up an $80-million military construction bill Tuesday.

Mansfield said he will bring before the Senate Friday Kennedy's $438,500,000 foreign aid bill Tuesday.

But, Mansfield said, votes on controversial provisions of the measure will be postponed until next week.

The Foreign Relations Committee is expected to stamp its final approval on the measure today while a House committee resumes hearings on the program.

Mansfield said there is a "little better than even" chance the Senate will approve a section of the bill meeting Kennedy's request for a five-year, $8.5-billion long-range development program for fledgling nations, financed through Treasury borrowing.

Sen. Styles Bridges of New Hampshire, chairman of the Senate Republican Policy Committee, said GOP leaders will chart their course on the bill Tuesday. He said Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois, who has been receiving hospital treatment for an ulcer, is expected to return to duty then.

Some fruits not related to the apple bear that name, among them the balsam, rose and pineapple.

END OF AN ERA?—Jane Mansfield says she is putting an end to "the sexpot bill" by letting her hair grow out to its natural chestnut hue and buying an "elegantly" wardrobe of 50 dresses, many high necked. At left she's shown in the wig she is going to wear until the platinum blonde tresses (right) disappear. Her poodle's name is Pierre Pope in case anyone cares.

Five Children, Mother Dead

Tenement Fire Might Have Claimed 6th; Dad 4 More Tots Safe

LOWELL, Mass. (AP)—A mother and five of her 10 children perished early today when fire broke out in a tenement building and destroyed the flimsy structure within minutes.

A sixth child was still missing hours later and was believed dead. The mother, Mattie Maryland, about 50, died when she raced back into the burning, three-story building and fell two floors into the rubble as a stairway collapsed.

Two older Maryland children were hospitalized with burns but were not considered in dangerous condition. The other two children in the family escaped unhurt. The father, John J. Maryland, was cut by glass but was released from a hospital after treatment.

Fire officials said the general alarm blaze started on the third floor and in "a matter of minutes" it was too late to save the victims. The dead all were trapped in a third-floor apartment.

Taiwan, the Chinese name for Formosa, means "Bay of Terraces." Portuguese explorers called it Ilha Formosa, "Beautiful Island."

Secretary Vital in Science Race With Russians

NEW YORK (UPI)—In the science race with the Soviets, one good secretary is worth at least two good researchers, claims Robert Sommer, reporting in a recent issue of the Worm Runner's Digest, an informal journal on the University of Michigan department of psychology's planaria (flatworm) research group.

"It is axiomatic that a lab can produce only as fast as its secretary can type," Sommer said. "The lab with one scientist and four secretaries is in a more favorable position than the lab with four scientists and one secretary."

His Roller Coaster Ride Cost a Total of $945

NEW YORK (AP)—A roller coaster ride at Coney Island cost Mario Lalli $945.

The Mount Vernon, N. Y., contractor had $4,100 in his shirt pocket when he went up Saturday night. The money was blown from his pocket and fluttered down about the boardwalk. Two attendants recovered about $3,150 and returned it to Lalli, who gave them $5.

U.S. 'Moon' Craft to Go Traveling

RANGER 1 TO MAKE ROW—This is the Ranger 1 spacecraft scheduled to be launched by the National Aeronautics and Space Administration on a million-mile roundtrip into space within the next few days. The spacecraft is the first version of a vehicle which later this year may land on the moon.

leaving a 50-pound instrument pack that could survive a lunar landing and send moonquake data back to earth.

The remaining two shots in the Ranger series would come next year.

Although the primary mission of Ranger 1 is to develop and test the equipment and technique for lunar and interplanetary research, the craft will carry a dazzling array of experiments of its own.

Among the eight scientific assemblies aboard will be devices to study the nature and activity of cosmic rays, magnetic fields, and radiation and dust particles in space.

The craft will try also to determine whether the earth, as viewed from a distance of 500,000 miles, is followed around the sun by a comet-like tail of hydrogen gas.

HEXAGON SHAPE

NASA said engineers at California Institute of Technology's jet propulsion laboratory, who developed Ranger, have decided that its hexagon shape will become standard for a whole generation of spacecraft, even though the missions of the various vehicles may differ greatly.

The engineers said this is part of its concept of attaining reliability by use of the same type of parts many times.

The basic hexagon to be used in many of the laboratory's spacecraft is the best because, essentially unchanged in form, it will be able to go to the moon or the planets with the specific instruments needed for each particular flight.

Ranger 1 was shipped from the Pasadena, Calif., laboratory, by truck to Cape Canaveral in May. It has been undergoing a long series of tests to make sure that its delicate instruments are in good operation.

Ford Grant to Support Teacher in Columbia

DETROIT (AP) — Wayne State University has received a $36,000 Ford Foundation grant to cover two full academic years of work by economist Luigi Laurenti of South America.

Laurenti, now an economist with Bechtel Corp., San Francisco, will join the Wayne faculty Nov. 1 and be assigned to the Universidad Del Valle in Cali, Colombia.

Forest Fire Raging Despite Work of 800

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — A stubborn forest fire in the Mt. Unsum and Loma Prieta Peak area continued burning out of control today despite the efforts of 800 fire fighters and their aerial support.

The fire, which has already destroyed 7,000 acres of brush, was bombed by borate tankers Sunday and today. The Hidden Falls Girl Scout Camp northeast of Santa Cruz was evacuated Saturday as a precautionary measure.

The mammoth fire in the Kings River area east of Fresno which was started July 13 by a careless cigarette smoker was subdued after charring 18,500 acres. The fire caused an estimated $2 million in destruction and firefighting expenses.

There are at least 300 different card games.

Summer Theater Plunging Into 20th Season

Students at Cranbrook Summer Theater are marking their 20th season with the presentation of 4 three-act plays.

The 20-year program has been under the consistent direction of Carl C. Womberger who heads the English department at Cranbrook School. Co-director is his wife Annette Bouton Womberger of Wayne State University.

A staff of some 20 adults, many of them alumnae of the classes, work with 85 students in small classes. Students range in age from 9 years through college age, although the bulk of the students enrolled are of high school and college age.

Classes in dance, speech, pantomime, dramatics, make-up and singing meet informally in the beautiful garden and wooded area surrounding the Greek Theater on Lone Pine Road.

SERIOUS STUDY

Accent is on the serious study of drama. "This is definitely a school, not a play camp," according to Margaret Russell of the Institute staff. The recreation period affords a welcome break, however.

Among area students enrolled are Betsy Agree, Lynda Lotner, Jim Briney, Elizabeth Buckner, Pat Lysinger and Paul Carl. The production staff includes Stuart Packard, Marcy Agree and Nancy Walker.

The first of the four productions is a children's fantasy, "The Twelve Dancing Princesses" which was written by Mr. Womberger. It will be given Wednesday and Thursday.

Older students will present "Kiss and Tell" Aug. 1 and 2 and Barrie's "Dear Brutus" on Aug. 4 and 5. A musical comedy "Stardust," with original score by Mr. Womberger will conclude the season Aug. 8 and 9.

Tickets for all productions are available at the gate at the Greek Theater or at Grinnell's Music Store, Birmingham.

The art of make-up is practiced by Marcy Agree of West Iroquois Road (at right) on John Baker of Navajo Drive. Both are active in the Cranbrook Summer Theater School which is observing its 20th season this summer.

Three young thespians run over their lines in preparation for Wednesday's opening performance at the outdoor Greek Theater on Lone Pine Road. The

Candlelight Vows Said at First Congregational

Rev. Malcolm K. Burton officiated at candlelight vows of Judith Nan Osworth of Watkins Lake to Peter R. Pittante of Flint, Saturday afternoon in the First Congregational Church.

Vows and rings were exchanged before an altar decked with white gladioli, snapdragons and chrysanthemums.

Daughter of the Alvah D. Osworths of South Shore Drive, Watkins Lake, the bride appeared in white Italian silk styled with lace bodice and Empire waistline over a hoop skirt. Her silk illusion veil, edged with lace, fell to fingertip length from a Juliet cap of lace. She held a cascade of white carnations and lilies of the valley.

Attending her Hurley Hospital School of Nursing roommate was Janet Peck of Flint, maid of honor. Kathleen Boyd of North Star was bridesmaid. Headbands of rosebuds complemented their frocks of pale green dotted Swiss, washed in deeper green, worn with sheer mitts. They held nosegays of white and yellow rosebuds.

The bridegroom, son of Mr. and Mrs. Pietro Pittante of Flint, had John Ferrell for his best man. Guests were seated by Richard and Carl Pittante and Richard Goss, all of Flint.

After the church reception, the newlyweds left for a honeymoon that will include Northern Michigan and Chicago.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Osworth chose a pink silk sheath dress and the mother of the bridegroom appeared in a powder blue silk ensemble. White cymbidium orchids rested on their clutch purses.

Some 65 members and guests of the Fellowship Bible Class of the First Baptist Church attended a cooperative picnic dinner Saturday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. McMillan in Rochester.

Rev. W. Howard Schoof, dean of the Detroit Bible College, gave devotions and led in a hymn sing. The Earl Campbells were chairmen of the picnic committee.

Fashion Show Committee Will Meet at Convent

The committee for the fifth annual fall fashion show, to be presented Sept. 27 at the Convent of the Sacred Heart in Bloomfield Hills, will meet at the convent Wednesday.

Costumes in the Civil War Centennial theme, being made by some mothers and alumnae, will be modeled by students of the day of the show. One will be shown to the committee at the summer meeting.

The fund-raising event will feature fall fashions, furs and tea table settings.

A Tip From Texas

"Religion, some soup and water, and an extra slice of banana cake is a good way to raise children." This advice comes from a real expert—a Houston, Texas, mother who reared four children of her own plus 41 foster children!

Sally Sharp Is United to Theodore M. Werner

A reception at the Forest Lake Country Club followed Saturday evening vows of Sally Kay Sharp to Theodore M. Werner in St. James Episcopal Church, Birmingham. Rev. Kenneth H. Gass performed the nuptial ceremony.

Parents of the bride couple are the Claude E. Sharps and the Theodore M. Werners, all of Birmingham.

Five attendants in powder blue organza sheath dresses with overskirts were veiled. Dior head bows and carried yellow daisies and delphiniums as they approached the chancel.

Mrs. Allen Wilson was matron of honor. Serving as bridesmaids were Mrs. Henry Bishop of Livonia, Marcia Wittmer of Royal Oak, Betsy Strickling of Cleveland and Winifred Wagner of Rapid City.

ALENCON LACE

A bodice and front panel of Alencon lace enhanced the bride's gown of white silk organza over silk taffeta. The large butterfly bow and back pannier cascaded into a chapel train. French silk illusion veiling was held by a Juliet cap of organza and seed pearls.

The bride carried white miniature rosebuds.

On the esquire side were best man Grant J. Grel of Grand Rapids, with ushers Alexander Wilson and Beverly Benson, both of Dearborn, Robert N. Andrews of Toledo and Albert L. Welsh of Birmingham.

Green cymbidium orchids rested on the purse carried by Mrs. Sharp who was attired in pale yellow organza, and wore a green velvet hat. A white orchid accented a powder blue lace sheath dress for the mother of the bridegroom.

The bride is a graduate of Michigan State University and her husband holds a master of business administration degree from Dartmouth College. Returning from a Northern Michigan honeymoon, they will live in Birmingham.

Woman Said Best at Standing Heat

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — A Florida State University scientist says women can take the heat better than men.

D. R. Kenshalo put both men and women through tests with tiny thermodes placed against their skin to measure the heat.

He said men were comfortable as long as their skin temperature did not rise above 97 degrees, but women could be comfortable with skin temperatures up to 102 or 104 degrees.

Kenshalo, making a study for the National Aeronautics and Space Administration, says women also could tolerate wide variations of temperature without discomfort.

Romeo No Bargain, Says Abby

'Putty' Must Be Nutty

ABIGAIL VAN BUREN
DEAR ABBY: All my friends tell me I should have my head examined. I am in love with a man who has been spoiled all his life by women:

He is so good-looking and loaded with charm, that no one can resist him — including myself. He is now being divorced for the 4th time (always the same grounds—infidelity), and is paying alimony to two wives and child support for three children.

He is an executive, and I work for him. He swears he is now ready to settle down, but he can't afford another marriage.

I am 26, never married, and would like to marry this man. I know I can prove to him that marriage with the right woman can work.

I love him, Abby, but I am putty in his hands. Should I stick with him?

PUTTY
DEAR PUTTY: Your Romeo, in my opinion, is not marriage material, and never will be.

A woman who is "putty" in the hands of a man today can expect to be dirt under his feet tomorrow.

DEAR ABBY. Do you think a girl who is in the sixth grade needs to have a girl who is in the seventh grade come and baby-sit with her?

My mother says that she calls the baby-sitter for my brother, who is 5. But the sister tells me what to do, too.

"RESPONSIBLE":
DEAR RESPONSIBLE:

Show your mother how "responsible" you are by offering to look after your little brother while she is home.

When you have proven your dependability and sincerity, your mother will probably let you have the job.

DEAR ABBY: I am a woman of 43. I have been married before and have a grown daughter. I am being married again, and would like to know if it is proper to wear a white dress with all white accessories.

I do not mean the traditional bridal gown, with veil. I expect to be married in church with a few close friends present.

I have discussed this with a friend, and she said she doesn't think I should be married in a white outfit because I've been married before. Is she correct?

SECOND TIME AROUND
DEAR SECOND: Your friend is in error. You may be married in white, provided it isn't the traditional wedding gown and veil.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "TRYING HARD": Nothing you say to your son is as effective as what you do. Imitation is natural.

What's bothering you? For a personal reply, write to Abby, The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Mich. Include a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

For Abby's booklet, "How to Have a Lovely Wedding," send 50 cents to Abby, The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Mich.

Club Talks on Flowers

A discussion of wild flowers followed a picnic luncheon Thursday at some 25 members of the Better Home and Garden Club Thursday in Bloomer State Park, Rochester.

Mrs. Louis B. Livingston presided as chairman in the absence of Mrs. Harry Winkley. Mrs. Walter Seaks and Mrs. Clyde Anderson were committee members.

The club will sponsor Peter G. Wilson, a teacher at Cranbrook School, to the annual Michigan Conservation School at Higgins Lake.

New member, Mrs. Walter Denomme was welcomed.

Challenge Legality of Prince Edward County Closing Classrooms

RICHMOND, Va. (AP) — Testimony begins here today in U.S. District Court on a petition challenging the legality of the closing of Prince Edward County Schools.

The suit is directed at forcing open the county's public schools, closed two years ago after a federal judge ordered its classrooms desegregated.

Virginia's tuition grant laws, keystone of the state's freedom of choice school program, are also under attack in what may be a crucial hearing.

The National Association for the Advancement of Colored People (NAACP) said it regards the Prince Edward case as pivotal in its battle to integrate schools in the South.

PUBLIC SCHOOLS

Negro attorneys will attempt to show that a system of private white schools opened after the public schools closed are in reality public schools because they are financed in part by state and county tuition grants.

Negro children have been without formal education since 1959, although the tuition grants were also available to them. Only a handful of Negroes accepted the grants.

Twenty-four persons, most of them officials of the state, county and the Prince Edward School Foundation, have been subpoenaed as witnesses.

The Negro attorneys are expected to bring out in question to these witnesses that the county closed its public schools to resist a federal court desegregation order.

McNamara Delays His Trip From Paris

PARIS (UPI) — U. S. Defense Secretary Robert McNamara delayed his departure for London by several hours today to spend more time talking with NATO officials about Allied strategy in the face of Soviet threats to touch off a Berlin crisis.

McNamara and Gen. L. L. Lemaitre, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, spent most of Sunday in conference with NATO commander Gen. Lauris Norstad and NATO Secretary General Dirk Stikker.

Officials said they reviewed the present numerical strength of NATO and U. S. forces in Europe in the light of the Berlin situation.

Cadillac Navy Veteran Heads Michigan Legion

GRAND RAPIDS (UPI) — A Cadillac Navy veteran, Marshall (Mike) Taylor, is the new commander of the Michigan Department of the American Legion.

Taylor, 52, was chosen commander and Mrs. Minerva Gitzeu of Ishpeming named president of the Legion Auxiliary at Sunday's final session, which was attended by some 3,000 delegates.

Beauty Contestants to Meet the Stars

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP) — Contestants in the International Beauty Congress will visit Warner Bros. studio today to hobnob with stars who parlayed their good looks into film careers.

The 52 young women will compete Tuesday in the first round of judging, culminating Saturday in selection of Miss International Beauty.

Georgetown, now a section of northwest Washington, was once a thriving port with aspirations of surpassing New York.

Accuses U.S. of Space Spying

Red Army Paper Says Satellites Same as U2 Espionage Flights

MOSCOW (UPI) — The Soviet Army newspaper Red Star charged Sunday that the United States was using space satellites to spy on the Soviet Union.

The official newspaper said the flights of U.S. reconnaissance satellites over territory of other nations "is an act of aggression." It compared the satellite operations to the espionage flights of the U2 planes which led to the collapse of the Paris summit conference last summer.

Red Star said the new satellites showed that "the Pentagon has not given up earlier outlined plans of spy measures aimed against the socialist camp."

"No matter at what altitude the spies are flying," Red Star said, "they remain spies."

The two satellites, launched July 12, are Mikas III and Tiro III. Both periodically pass over Russia, with the 3,500-pound Mikas making passes over the Soviet rocket-launching area near the Aral Sea.

Balloons of a dozen species roam Africa south of the Sahara. Possessors of a brave appetite, they devour live acrobats, first tearing off the venomous stinger.

Defy Red Rulers to Attend Rally

10,000 East Berliners Swell Ranks at Church Meeting in West

BERLIN (UPI) — An estimated 10,000 East German Christians poured into West Berlin Sunday for a Protestant church rally in defiance of their Communist rulers. Many decided to stay.

The East Germans Christians joined 70,000 other West German faithful in a mass meeting ending a five-day Evangelical Church rally in West Berlin's giant Olympic Stadium.

Another section of the rally had been scheduled for East Berlin but the Communist regime there banned it and told Protestants not to try to join the meeting in West Berlin because church leaders supported "NATO and militarism."

Western officials estimated that 10,000 of them crossed over anyway. Most had to return to homes, jobs and families but many sought asylum in the West, they said.

In the 48-hour period up to noon Sunday, 1,740 more East Germans fled to freedom through the West Berlin "escape hatch."

This month alone, nearly 22,000 have sought refuge from the Red regime, fearful that the border will be sealed when Russia signs its "peace treaty" with East Germany.

A ham radio operator's basic rig can cost as little as $50.

Oxford-Type College Planned in Florida

NEW YORK (AP) — Plans for a college in the South to accent Oxford-type quality and freedom of intellectual inquiry have been announced by congregationalists and a private group.

The institution, to be called "New College," as is a famed college at Oxford University, England, will be situated on Florida's west coast just north of Sarasota. Classes are expected to begin in 1964.

"We are, above all, stressing excellence," said Philip H. Hiss of Sarasota, an architectural designer, former diplomat and chairman of the newly formed board of trustees of the college.

The college will be the first trilled liberal arts college to be established in the southeastern United States this century. It will be nonsectarian and open to all races.

Dr. George F. Baughman, vice president for business affairs and city, disclosed that he has resigned that post to take over immediately as president of the new college.

Marathon Gasolines STOP HOT-WEATHER STALLING

Nothing is more embarrassing! You stop for a red light. It changes to green. You step on the accelerator. And the engine stalls. You press the starter hard. It grinds away. The gas gauge shows half a tank. Horns begin to blow. A traffic cop walks over. You get out. Lift the hood. Wonder what's wrong. Trouble like this doesn't have to happen to you this summer.

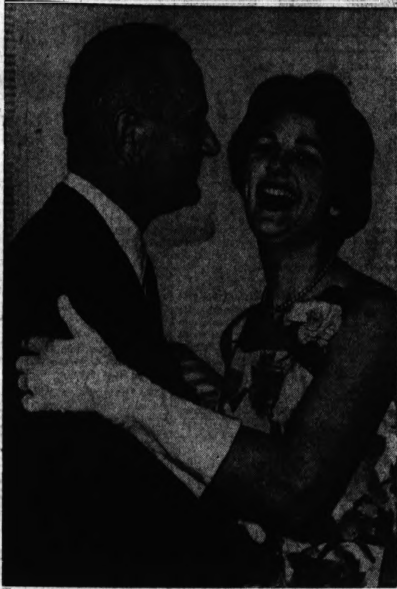

Marathon gasolines are power-processed for Midwest summers. Marathon SUPER-M® and MILE-maker® gasolines are power-processed to help end hot-weather stalling. Laboratory controls provide gasolines that guard your engine against choking and strangling caused by vapor lock.

These Marathon gasolines are also scientifically filtered to clean out engine-stalling bits of dirt that can clog fuel systems. This summer, make it Marathon, for gasolines that are all go 'til the last drop's gone.

Lynda Johnson: Washington's No. 1 Teener

It's a happy moment for both when Vice President Lyndon Johnson and his pretty daughter Lynda meet

LYNDA BIRD JOHNSON, the attractive 17-year-old daughter of the Vice President.

Lynda Bird Johnson is a teen-ager with the irrepressible good humor that would help any girl growing up in a national spotlight. And in the spotlight she is, this pretty 17-year-old brunette daughter of Vice President and Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson.

Fortunately, like her father and mother, she likes people.

She can show the poise that being Queen of the National Azalea Festival in Norfolk, Va., last April required. She can meet and talk with her parent's friends and associates with becoming naturalness.

And she can have a sparkling good time like any other teen-ager.

She has a record collection, not much rock 'n' roll, she says, but mostly quiet, dreamy, romantic music.

She writes a lot of letters like any teen-ager; she has a stuffed animal collection, and a white convertible car given to her by her parents last fall.

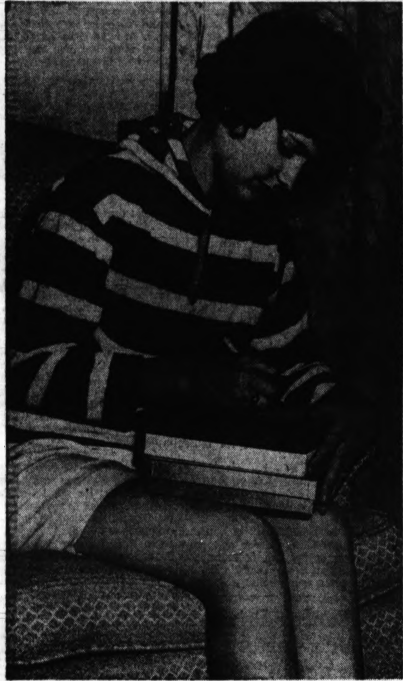

School is the National Cathedral School for Girls, a private Episcopal school in Washington, where Lynda will be a senior next year. She plans to go to the University of Texas and hasn't quite made up her mind about what she plans to study. "I love history," she says.

Lynda is tall — 5 feet, 10 inches, with brown eyes and a peaches and cream complexion.

The tallness presents some problems—"It seems all the short girls get all the tall boys," she says. But Lynda has no dearth of dates, and she follows her parents' orders about dates only on weekends during school.

Lynda, wearing shorts, catches up on her letter writing

Leaving school, Lynda and sister Lucy, 14, carry an average day's load of books for homework. "I love history," Lynda says.

Castro Puts Two-a-Day Limit on Plane Flights of Refugees

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—U. S. State Department plans to fly 20,000 Cuban refugees away from south Florida in three weeks, dampened with an edit by Fidel Castro's regime that only two flights a day would be permitted.

While ways were sought to keep the refugee flights moving as fast as possible, Florida Gov. F. Parris Bryant urged immediate action.

An estimated 100,000 Cuban refugees are in the greater Miami area and the U. S. Cuban Emergency Refugee Center here has been processing 1,500 arrivals each week.

The State Department had proposed 10 flights daily to Havana to airlift the many Cubans who have waited months to leave the island. But the Cuban government over the weekend issued an order limiting flights between Miami and Havana to two a day.

A Pan American spokesman said passengers will be loaded on a reservation basis "since we have no other method of determining priority." The air line has bookings through January 1962 for persons wanting to leave the island.

Bryant, who said Florida's volunteer and public assistance programs for refugees "are strained to the breaking point," suggested a local-state-federal conference to work out the problem.

Bids to Be Received on Courthouse Wing

Construction bids for the $13.3-million west administrative wing for the new courthouse will be received in Pontiac Aug. 16, a committee of the board of supervisors has decided.

The special county building committee approved final plans for the three-story, 283-by-34-foot building and decided to advertise for bids.

The wing will house the county offices presently quartered in the County Office Building on Lafayette St.

Hopes Woman Solon Will Quit Legislature

LANSING (AP)—Gov. Swainson indicated today that he believed Mrs. Young was accused of signing several names to the nomination petitions.

Mrs. Young was accused of signing names other than her own to election petitions, should resign her post in the legislature.

Although he declined to call outright for her resignation, the governor told newsmen he hoped Mrs. Young would "thoroughly examine her own conscience" in view of the findings of a one-man grand jury here last week.

Mrs. Young was accused in a grand jury indictment of having made admissions amounting to malfeasance and misfeasance in office. But the case was referred to the Wayne County prosecutor's office for action because of a lack of jurisdiction.

The indictment charged former Lt. Gov. Eugene Keyes with violation of state election laws in an alleged conspiracy to get his name on the ballot last summer.

Keyes, a one-time Republican, was seeking nomination for lieutenant governor as a Democrat.

Name New Governor of Bank of Canada

OTTAWA (AP)—Louis Rasmussen, 53, has been appointed governor of the Bank of Canada to succeed James E. Coyne, who resigned in a dispute with Prime Minister John Diefenbaker's government. The bank's board of governors announced the appointment today.

Coyne resigned July 13, after the Senate, dominated by Liberals, defeated 33-16 an effort of Diefenbaker's Conservative government to fire him.

The position as governor of the bank is comparable to the chairmanship of the U.S. Federal Reserve Board.

Find Officer in Distress Is Just Acting

Deputy Sheriff Roland Pless knows when a police officer is in trouble and he swings into action. Pless, in between road runs this morning, spotted a city police officer scuffling with a man in front of the Riker Building on West Huron street.

He took off across Huron street and was just about to help break up the "fight" when a man frantically waved him back.

The "fight" between Patrolman Karl Kilmer and an identified actor was only part of the movie "Jacktown" being filmed in the city, and director William Martin didn't want Pless or anybody else getting into the act.

Pless quietly returned across Huron street.

"I didn't see the camera," he said sheepishly.

British Honduras Lashed

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Hurricane winds lashed the British Honduras coast today and dangerous flash floods were forecast for a wide area.

Anna, the season's first hurricane, was about 20 miles east of Milgrove Creek, British Honduras, at 5 a.m. Its force was dwindling a little but the peril to Central America was far from ended.

All interests around the Gulf of Honduras and especially along the Guatemala and nearby coastal areas should continue precautions against tides of 10 feet and hurricane force winds, the Weather Bureau said.

"Heavy rains will cause dangerous flash floods in this same area and through all of British Honduras."

At the latest report, Anna's winds had dropped from 90 to 85 miles an hour.

French Troops Run Wild

METZ, France (AP)—At least nine persons were killed and 22 wounded Sunday night when French paratroopers, angered over the slaying of a comrade by Algerian gunmen, stormed through Metz attacking anyone who looked like an Algerian.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Undersecretary of State Chester Bowles left today on an 18-day mission to improve the American ambassadorial system abroad.

U.S. Accused of Planning Fight by Raul Castro

HAVANA (AP)—Raul Castro today denounced the United States and accused it of "preparing a new attack" against Cuba.

The younger brother of Prime Minister Fidel Castro, in a speech at a rally in Pinar del Rio Province, said "We hope they will not come, but if they do the gun-chewers should know we will beat them."

Valentine Davies Dies

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Valentine Davies, 55, president of the Academy of Motion Picture Arts and Sciences, died Sunday of an apparent heart attack. Davies, a former president of the Screen Writers Guild, won an Academy Award a number of years ago for his screen adaptation of "Miracle on 34th Street."

Ecuador Feels Tremors

QUITO, Ecuador (AP)—Earth tremors shook a wide area in Ecuador Sunday night but there were no reports of casualties or damage.

Amateur Day Featured by 4 Shutouts

Another successful Amateur Day baseball program was held Sunday afternoon although the feature game matching the Pontiac Merchants and the All Stars could not be held due to the late afternoon storm.

There were four shutouts during the day, Auburn Heights Boys Club blanketed Pontiac Boys Club in Class F 12-6 in 3 1/2 innings, the Auburn "D" team took Our Lady of Refuge 2-0 in three frames, Class F Pontiac Firefighters whitewashed Southwest Bears 5-0 and Pontiac Central edged Class D rival West Suburban Boys Club 2-0.

In "E" action, Westside Ki-wards downed Northside Old-timers 7-4 and Weinberger Homes whipped the Moose 7-1 in 1 1/2 innings, Perry Drugs defeated Hudson Hornets 4-1 in four innings.

Homers by Mike Meyer and Lynn Thorpe accounted for five of Auburn's 12 rallies. Lynn's brother Darryl tripled in the run for the Auburn nine and allowed only one single. Lynn and Reg Hayward, combined for a no-hitter.

The Firefighters coasted to victory after a four-run opening inning which was highlighted by Gary Biskner's two-run double. Frank Reid scattered three safeties.

Central put together two singles, an error and a sacrifice fly by Gene Luppine for a run in the fifth before the rains came. Ray Collins had homered earlier. West Suburban got its only hit and three walks of Bob Farms in its half of the final round but Bob Farms got a big strike-out to end it.

Westside clinched its triumph with five in the first. Northside failed to get a hit. Weinberger got its runs in the last.

Denny Grune no-hit Hudson and got the only save blow for Perry in the Class F tilt.

Tennis Master Bartzen Looks to Retirement

CHICAGO (AP) — Bernard Tut Bartzen, old master of the tennis circuit, may have made his last appearance in the National Clay Courts Tournament.

"I'm pretty sure this will be my last time in the tournament," said the 33-year-old Dallas left-hander after winning his fourth championship.

His comments came in an interview at the River Forest Tennis Club after his steady playing were down Don Dell of Bethesda, Md. 6-2, 2-6, 6-2, 6-0 in Sunday's finals.

Edda Bauling of Germany beat Karen Hantze in women's singles, Justina Bricks and Carol Hanks won doubles in a battle of Americans and Yanks. Chuck McKinley and Dennis Ralston took men's doubles in another all-U.S. final.

Kelso Wins Brooklyn

By The Associated Press
Kelso took a giant stride toward his second straight horse of the year title with a brilliant Brooklyn Handicap victory, and he may come back in Saturday's Man O'War on the Aqueduct grass course.

The Sea Sprites of Lansing finished 6th among the teams in the Senior Outdoor AAU Synchronized swim meet Saturday. A San Francisco group won. A team of eight individual champs was picked to start a tour of the Far East Aug. 5. Divers Bob Webster and Foa Jacco of Michigan were selected.

Partial Refund for Boatmen on Gasoline Taxes

Now is the time for boatmen to apply for a partial refund of the U. S. excise tax on gasoline.

Federal law provides for an excise tax refund of two cents a gallon for gasoline used for purposes other than operating a highway vehicle.

This means that for every gallon of gasoline used for boating, boat owners can apply for a two-cent refund on Internal Revenue Service Form 843. Claims should cover the year ending June 30, 1961. Deadline for filing claims is next September 30. Gasoline tax refunds are also made by 36 states in varying amounts.

Teen-Ager Sets Mark in 200-Meter Event

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — Becky Collins, 17-year-old Indianapolis swimmer, set an American record in the 200-meter butterfly for women with a time of 2:36.5 Sunday night in the final session of the three-day Cuyahoga Falls swimming meet.

Another Indianapolis swimmer, 16-year-old Bill Utley, set a National junior record of 4:35.1 in winning the 400-meter freestyle event for senior men.

Utley also won the 200-meter individual medley for boys 15 and 16 with a time of 2:28.4, for a pool and meet record.

Geiberger Takes Utah

SALT LAKE CITY (AP) — Al Geiberger of Los Angeles won the $14,000 Utah Open Sunday despite a strong 5-under-par final round by defending champion Bill Johnston of Scottsdale, Ariz.

Geiberger shot a 71 on the final round and finished with a 72-hole total of 279. Johnston had a 67 and finished with 281 at the Oakridge Country Club.

First place money was $1,275, second $500.

Birdie Helps Betsy Win Cosmopolitan

ROCKTON, Ill. (AP) — Betsy Rawls of Spartanburg, S.C., won her second straight Cosmopolitan Women's Golf Championship Sunday but she needed a birdie three on the final hole to edge out Barbara Romack of Sacramento, Calif.

Miss Romack finished the 54-hole tournament with rounds of 72-72-71 and a total of 214. Miss Rawls had 210 going into the final hole. She placed her second shot four feet from the pin and dropped the putt to win first prize of $1,200 in the $7,500 tournament with a total of 213 and a final round 72, matching the Macktown course par of 37-35.

Four finished in a tie for third at 215. They were Shirley Englehorn, Spokane; Marlene Bauer Hager, Pittsburgh; Mickey Wright, San Diego, and Mary Lena Faulk, Thomasville, Ga.

Giant Ice Pick To Probe Secrets of Polar Glaciers

CHICAGO (AP)—A Chicago engineering firm has designed and built the world's largest ice pick to probe the mysteries of polar glaciers.

The U.S. Army Corps of Engineers received orders to build a 25-foot-long thermal drill that will take its way into a solid glacier and brings up 10-foot ice cores for study.

It can probe 12,000 feet down, much farther than has ever penetrated ice before.

The drill is now being used in Greenland to obtain facts that will be useful for the construction of military outposts in polar regions.

Regains Cake Stand Following 25 Years

DES MOINES, Iowa (AP)—Twenty-five years ago Mrs. Lester Anderson of Des Moines baked a cake for a friend and presented it on a handsome crystal cake stand. Then she forgot about the stand.

Recently she chanced to see a collection of antique glassware and recalled her cake stand.

She checked with the friend and found that the stand had been in a china closet, untouched, for the 25 years. Now Mrs. Anderson has the stand back.

Cape Canaveral Count at 20,100; 850 Bunk in 1950

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—The booming missile business has made Brevard County, home of Cape Canaveral, the fastest growing county in the United States in the last decade.

The U.S. Census Bureau reported Brevard population rose 20 percent between 1940 and 1950—from 23,663 to 28,117. Bureau figures show only 13.5 percent of the growth due to natural increases.

The remainder resulted from the military and the missile industries' attraction.

In its first year of operation, 1950, Cape Canaveral had 850 workers. The most recent count showed 20,100.

Dogs Give Tip-Off on Future Weather

WICHITA, Kan. (AP)—A snow storm came as no surprise to Paul Arrington, acting sales assistant at the Wichita post office.

Arrington explains he knows from experience that dogs become friskier in unseasonably warm weather and just before a storm.

His weather tip-off came when five mail carriers reported being bitten or threatened by dogs a few days before the storm hit.

Must Kill Ants Before They Eat Good Insects

SAN DIEGO (AP)—The trouble with ants in avocado orchards is that they lack taste discrimination.

They eat the eggs of both beneficial and harmful insects.

Dr. D. Gustafson, University of California Agricultural Extension Service advisor.

The harmful insects being more numerous to start with, thus gain ascendancy as the beneficial ones, which normally keep them in check, are eliminated by the ants.

You can't control avocado pests under such conditions, Gustafson advises. You have to do away with the ants first.

Car Thief Returned for Second Helping

OAKLEY, Kan. (AP)—A car thief came back for seconds.

The thief stole a car from a garage, eluding night watchman Chancy Finch, but later wrecked it.

The thief awakened a nearby farmer who drove the man back to Oakley, not knowing he had stolen a car.

Early the next morning, a second car was stolen from the garage. Police believed it was taken by the same thief.

Old Buses Never Die,
They Join Air Force

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP)—What happens to old buses when they have outlived their usefulness as public transportation?

When the life goes on in the Peruvian Air Force.

Peruvian officials have bought 30 ten-year-old coaches from the National Frontier Transit Co. and will use them to carry air force personnel and families in the vicinity of several Peruvian bases.

This is the time of year when the neighbors come visiting, you wonder if it's their air conditioning or their TV that's quit working.

A motorist is someone who after seeing a bad weather drives carefully for several blocks.

As World Tension Mounts.

Focus Attention on CD Readiness

Editor's Note: As combat mounts over the Berlin crisis, the need for defense preparedness is more acute than ever. The following articles, written by four authors, discuss the need for defense preparedness and the role of the citizen in defense.

By STERLING F. GREEN

WASHINGTON (AP) — The possibility that the defense of Berlin — or some other local point of East-West tension — may bring nuclear disaster down on American homes, stores and factories has touched off a searching review of civil defense preparedness.

Already in motion, and shortly to be sent to Congress, is a major study of civil defense spending, planning and building. It is aimed at providing a nationwide shelter system designed to save whole city populations from the fallout hazard. Proposed outlays in the neighborhood of $300 million this year would triple the spending now budgeted.

It already has brought a jarring shakeup in civil defense administration. President Kennedy last week transferred a major share of authority and responsibility to the Pentagon from the Office of Civil and Defense Mobilization, effective Aug. 1.

ULTIMATE GOAL

The ultimate goal is 45 million shelters, provisioned and equipped to sustain life for days or weeks in the event of an attack, while radioactive dust settles and loses its lethal taint.

In the Defense Department, President Kennedy's call for a review of military readiness has prompted consideration of declaring a limited national emergency, enlarging draft calls and employing more forces overseas.

The same White House order sent OCDM to its files to review plans for home-front defense and mobilization. The two major operating plans are:

"Plan C" — For a limited war with U.S. forces in action overseas but an increasing threat of attack on the continental United States.

"Plan D-minus" — For use in event of a devastating direct attack on this country.

"Plan C" implies the minor government intervention exemplified in the Korean War—allocation of materials, stepped-up production, credit curbs, and the "voluntary" kind of manpower controls and price-wage stabilization.

"Plan D-minus" gives Americans the works. A price-wage freeze, rationing and censorship are provided for. It envisages a moratorium on private debts, emergency doles of money and food, the activation of emergency agencies to administer controls and a vast rescue, relief and refugee program.

UNHAPPY RESULTS

What do the planners find when they canvass the nation's resources to cope with the crisis and carry out such plans? Not enough to make them happy. Officially, the nation's defense readiness varies. Here are some privately expressed views on this:

"Our civil defense posture? 'Put on our backs.'"

"We've got plans and a good framework, that's about it."

"We're far better prepared than we were at the outbreak of World War II or Korea."

And President Kennedy gave Congress his view in a few words in May: "One major element of the national security program which this nation has never squarely faced up to is civil defense."

Officials agree there is still widespread public apathy and some skepticism, though it is evident from OCDM's mail that these grow less with every warlike speech and rocket-rattling gesture from the Kremlin.

Says Frank B. Ellis, the Louisiana lawyer and former football tackle who now heads OCDM:

"We've got to get over the idea of mass suicide. I think we're having a revival of survival."

A recent opinion poll showed that 71 per cent of Americans favor fallout shelters. Only a few years ago, a different survey showed that one-third of all Americans didn't know anything about radioactive fallout, and only 12 per cent had a real grasp of how it occurs and what it does.

"A deal is a deal."

Winds, Tornado Rip Indiana

East Steam Pressed While It Waits for the Heat to Go

By The Associated Press

High winds, hail and a tornado battered isolated sections of the country and the East sweltered for the fourth consecutive day under a blanket of hot, steamy temperatures.

Weather violence caused an estimated $200,000 damage and injured five persons in Indiana Sunday.

A windstorm reported as a tornado touched down on a summer resort trailer park near Warsaw, Ind., scattered a community of trailers and injured three persons. Damage was estimated at $30,000.

Trees were uprooted at a nearby summer camp where 200 youngsters were taken to shelter as the storm approached.

In Vincennes, in another part of the state, a wind and rain storm ripped roofs of three buildings. Two persons were hurt by flying debris.

A 900-foot-long structure at an industrial firm near Goshen, Ind., was lifted by winds and slammed to the ground a few feet away. Damage was estimated at $150,000.

Abdicated Princess Succumbs in Japan

TOKYO (UPI) — The former Princess Teruomiya, 35, who became a commoner by marrying a son of former Prince Naruhiko Higashikuni, died Saturday.

She had been suffering from a gastric dilation since last November when she became ill shortly after returning from a visit to Hong Kong and Singapore with her husband.

Farmers put about 400 man-hours into producing an acre of tobacco — more than for any other field crop.

Truck-Well Extension Is Planned by GMC

General Motors Truck & Coach Division has filed plans with the city for $20,518 in improvements to its delivery truck well.

In a building permit issued the company, the project was described as a 20-by-90-foot extension to the present facility.

U.S. Crime Soars, Pontiac Holds Line

Atty. Gen. Robert W. Kennedy today announced that the FBI's uniform crime reports for 1960, compiled under the direction of Director J. Edgar Hoover, reveals serious crime last year reached an all-time high. There was an astounding 98 per cent increase over 1950, yet the population increase was only 18 per cent.

Mr. Hoover's report shows that lawlessness continued its upward surge with 1,861,300 serious crimes of murder, forcible rape, robbery, aggravated assault, burglary, larceny of $50 and over and auto theft reported in 1960. This is 14 per cent higher than in 1959.

In Pontiac, the crime rate was up in some categories, but down in others.

The FBI report listed the following record of offenses in Pontiac for the years 1950 and 1959:

Murder and nonnegligent manslaughter, 3 and 1; negligent manslaughter, 7 and 6; forcible rape, 8 and 3; robbery, 33 and 116; aggravated assault, 233 and 189; burglary and breaking and entering, 734 and 587; larceny over $50, 371 and 548; larceny under $50, 1,742 and 1,226; and auto theft, 139 and 179.

Nationally, during 1960 a serious crime was committed every 15 seconds. Crimes against property were more frequent. A burglary was carried out every 39 seconds, a larceny of $50 and over occurred every minute and a car was stolen every 2 minutes.

Robberies and burglaries were each up 18 per cent over 1959. Larcenies over $50 rose 14 per cent, and auto thefts increased 9 per cent. Murders showed a 6 per cent rise, aggravated assaults, were up 5 per cent and forcible rapes occurred with 3 per cent greater frequency.

MORE CITY ARRESTS

City arrests occurred at almost 3 times the rural rate. Female arrests rose 10 per cent in rural areas while increasing only 3 per cent in city areas.

Arrests of juveniles have more than doubled since 1950, while the population of youths 10 to 17 increased by less than half. There was one reported arrest for every 38 young persons between 15 to 17 in 1950.

Last year juvenile arrests occurred 9 and 8 per cent more frequently in city and rural areas. In cities total arrests were up 2 per cent, with adult arrests increasing only a 1 per cent while juvenile arrests jumped 9 per cent.

FROM OUR NEWS WIRES

TUNIS, Tunisia—United Nations Secretary General Dag Hammarskjöld sped on a peace mission to Tunisia today amid reports that a French warship was unloading troop reinforcements near battle-scarred Bizerte.

Tunisian sources said that French reinforcements were being put ashore at Cape Blanc, three miles northwest of Bizerte. The report could not be confirmed immediately.

Hammarskjöld flew toward Tunis via Zurich and Rome to try to arrange a peace between Tunisia and France before new fighting can break out over the base and the Sahara.

A war of words swelled between the French and Tunisians in the wake of the battle. Each side charged the other was maneuvering for military advantage in defiance of the U. N. cease-fire order.

The French Admiralty declared Tunisian civilians were evacuating Bizerte's ancient Casbah to let troops and volunteers transform its narrow streets and stone dwellings into an armed bastion.

Artillery emplaced there could fire on French ships traversing the 300-yard wide canal between the Mediterranean and Lake Bizerte.

Tunisia's Information Ministry said landing barges departed French troops at Cape Blanc, five miles north of Bizerte.

A Paris government spokesman commented that the Cape Blanc area lies within the French perimeter established during the Bizerte fighting and that there may have been some movement of men within the perimeter.

Travelers from Bizerte said it appeared the French were enlarging their perimeter. Highways leading to the city are controlled by French-manipulated roadblocks some of them 15 miles inland.

Other developments in the continuing controversy:

—A Tunisian government official estimated about 1,000 Tunisians were killed in the battle of Bizerte and that many of the wounded were near death in Bizerte's regional hospital. The official warned of the danger of epidemics in Bizerte.

Two nominees will be selected from each state representative (118) districts and state senatorial districts (34).

Both parties will pick nominees, but voters tomorrow can cast their ballot for only one candidate.

There'll be no voting in the 12th Senatorial (Oakland County) District. Both candidates—George W.

Romney, Republican, and William A. O'Brien, Democrat—were opposed and their names will not be on tomorrow's ballots.

Ortonville Girl, 6, Is Oakland's 5th Highway Fatality of Weekend

A fiery three-car collision in Ferndale last night took the lives of four persons, including a Detroit policeman, his wife and their young son.

The accident brought the weekend traffic toll in Oakland County to seven.

Burned to death in the crash were William E. Stewart, 29, his wife Sharon, 22, their three-year-old son Scott and Ronald McKenzie, 24, a passenger in one of the other cars.

The accident happened at 7:15 p.m. on East 831st Road just east of Hilton Street on the Ferndale-Detroit border.

Ferndale police said the accident occurred when Arthur McKenzie of 1628 E. Hayes St., Hazel Park, the uncle of Ronald McKenzie, of the same address, made a U-turn into the path of the car driven by Stewart, who was traveling east.

The impact carried the two cars into a third vehicle driven by Edward Zack, 26, of Detroit. All three cars burst into flames.

The four victims were trapped in the cars, according to Ferndale police.

TAKEN TO HOSPITAL

The senior McKenzie, Zack and three passengers, Mrs. Dolores Miller, 28, her son Dale, 7, and her brother Ronald, 10, all of Detroit, were taken to hospitals for observation. None was seriously injured.

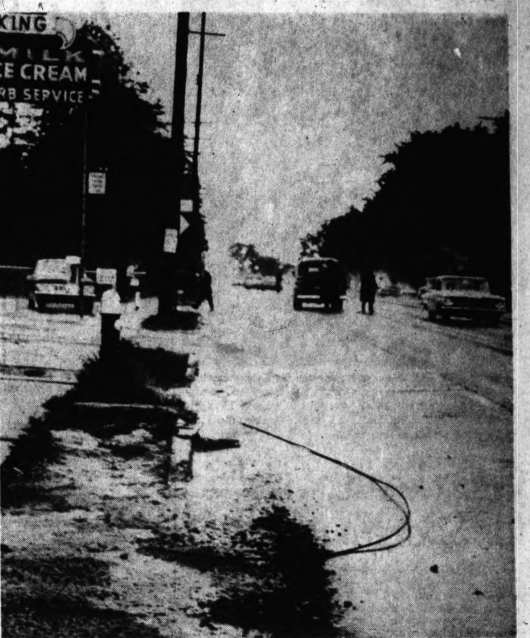

McKenzie was taken to William Beaumont Hospital in Royal Oak and the rest were taken to Mt. Carmel Hospital.

A statement taken from McKenzie last night by Oakland County Asst. Prosecutor Robert Templin Jr. conflicts with witnesses' accounts of the accident.

Templin reported today that McKenzie said the Stewart car crossed the center line and smashed into his while he was waiting to make the U-turn.

The assistant prosecutor said no accident occurred in the accident would be made until more witnesses are questioned later today. He expected a full report early tomorrow.

Both Ferndale police and the prosecutor's office said they believed the vehicles immediately burst into flames since the Stewart car was the only one left standing. (Continued on Page 2, Col. 7)

LIVE WIRE — Tipped from the poles by wind, this live power line dangles down and across Telegraph Road after yesterday's windy rain storm. Traffic jammed as firemen routed cars around the dangerous wire for more than four hours.

Waterford Pair Die on Highway in Alert

Two persons died in Waterford Township traffic yesterday as severe thunderstorms and high winds blew down trees and power lines in the Pontiac area during a six-hour tornado alert.

The traffic victims were William J. Miller, 69, of 233 Heymont St., Waterford Township and his wife, Isabella, 66.

The storm broke a heat wave. The tornado alert was in effect for several hours, but was rescinded by the U.S. Weather Bureau shortly before 8 p.m. when no serious storms developed.

WINDS HIT HIGH SPEED

Winds up to 55 miles an hour were recorded. Temperatures plunged 15 degrees in a half hour. From 88 degrees at 3:45 p.m., the mercury dropped to 73 by 4:15 p.m., as the storms raked the area.

Major highways in Oakland County were jammed with motorists returning home after their Sunday outings were washed out.

The Oakland County Sheriff's Department reported several capsize boats caught on lakes in the rains, but all occupants safely reached shore.

The Millers were fatally injured in an accident on Cooley Lake Road on a curve just west of Hiller Road about 4:20 p.m. at the height of the storm.

Heads west, their car plowed into the rear of a milk truck driven by Norman Bates, 53, of 211 Goring St., a milkman.

According to Patrolman Fred St. Souver of the Waterford Township Police Department, Bates said he had been going east on Cooley Lake Road when he applied his brakes at the curve.

Bates said that his brakes had apparently become wet in the rain. He said they "froze" on him, causing the truck to skid around backwards into the oncoming Miller car.

WIFE KILLED INSTANTLY

Mrs. Miller was killed instantly. Miller died about four hours later in Pontiac General Hospital. Bates, also injured in the crash, was reported in fair condition today at Pontiac Osteopathic Hospital.

Most of the property damage caused by the storm involved trees and utility lines.

The Pontiac Police Department switchboard was deluged with calls after the storm.

Live wires were reported down in several places.

Oliver Davis, 69 Hillside Drive, reported a tree falling on his car in front of his home. A tree was also down at Princeton and University avenues.

Approximately 50 phones were out of service, some 200 in Commerce Township.

Service to all areas was expected to be resumed today after correction of power line repairs, a spokesman for the Michigan Bell Telephone Co. said.

Tuesday Expected to Be a Bit Cooler

Pontiac area residents can expect clear skies tonight with a low of 66, according to the weatherman.

Tuesday will be fair and a little cooler, and not so humid, with a high of 82. Morning southerly winds at 4 miles per hour will become westerly and diminish tonight. Winds Tuesday will be westerly 8 to 15 miles an hour.

Rainfall recorded in downtown Pontiac from 10 a.m. Saturday until 10 a.m. today was 1.3 inches.

Temperatures for the next five days will average near or a little above the normal high of 81-86 and normal low of 59-65. Wednesday will be warmer.

Temperatures will be cooler late Friday and Saturday.

Precipitation will average three-quarters of an inch in frequent periods of showers and thunder showers mainly Thursday through Saturday.

The lowest temperature preceding 8 a.m. in downtown Pontiac was 66. At 1 p.m. the thermometer stood at 82.

Considering that the primary falls when many voters are away on vacation, County Clerk-Register Dandel T. Murphy Jr. was cautious, but slightly more optimistic than state election officials.

He forecast that only 80,000 out of the county's 334,453 registered voters would bother to visit the polls.

Some party leaders were guessing much lower due to the general apathy shown so far in the historic election.

ABOVE STATE ESTIMATE

Murphy's estimate of 23 per cent voting is above the 15 per cent or 600,000—predicted for the state by State Elections Director Robert M. Montgomery.

Cuba Readies Hello for Spaceman Yuri

HAVANA (AP)—Cuba prepared a hero's welcome today for Soviet spaceman Yuri Gagarin to kick off the giant celebration of the eighth anniversary of Fidel Castro's revolution.

Gagarin was closed to all commercial traffic to clear the way for the 27-year-old cosmonaut flying here from Gander, Nfld., where he made an overnight stop on the trip from Moscow.

The youthful Soviet air force major is being given equal billing with Castro in the four-day celebration of the 28th of July Movement that sparked the revolution which ousted the Batista dictatorship Jan. 1, 1959.

"The Soviet spaceman, who already has been exhibited in Britain, Finland and Communist bloc countries since his April 12 flight around the earth, sent word ahead that he was 'very happy' that his old and cherished dream is at last coming true to visit the Cuban people."

Ribicoff at Bat for Care of Aged

He's First Witness on Attempt at Health Plan Under Social Security

WASHINGTON—Secretary of Welfare Abraham A. Ribicoff, armed with the statistics on health problems of the aged, opened the administration's fight today to bring hospital and nursing care to elderly persons under social security.

"This was the first witness in hearings by the House Ways and Means Committee to prepare the way for congressional action on the health plan next year. The hearings are at last two weeks off."

Ribicoff's presentation, including two volumes of statistics and huge charts, showed that the administration feels Americans over 65 are not getting the health care they need and that private insurance programs and charity can't solve the problem.

"The alternatives to health insurance that have been suggested are not adequate, not fair to the elderly who need the care and not fair to the public who pays for it," Ribicoff declared.

The administration plan would finance hospital and nursing care for 14.5 million elderly persons through an increase in social security taxes of one quarter of 1 percent for each of employers and employees and 1 percent for the self-employed.

Russians Spied on Gags, but Saw Nothing New

CAPE CANAVERAL (UPI)—Russian trawlers equipped with radar apparently kept an electronic "eye" on the space flights of two American astronauts — but they may have been just wasting their rubber.

United Press International learned Sunday that at least one Soviet ship, heavily decked out with electronic gear, was on station near the target zones off Florida's East Coast for each shot.

The vessels were believed to have watched the descent of astronaut Alan B. Shepard Jr. May 8 and Virgil I. (Gus) Grissom last Friday.

LT. Col. John Powers, the astronauts' information officer, said today the Navy "observed a Russian ship in the vicinity of the recovery area" during the Grissom flight. He said the vessel was "static" — that is, it was not moving at the time.

Powers also said the Navy reported told "electronic gear apparent on the ship — radar and such."

Eichmann Asks Judges to Believe His Version

JERUSALEM (AP) — Adolf Eichmann concluded 25 days of testimony today with a plea to his Israeli judges to accept his version of the events leading to his capture. He said he was never an anti-Semite but only a low-ranking person "who had to keep my nose in the card index files."

The former Gestapo official, on trial for his life and charged with criminal responsibility in the Nazi slaughter of six million Jews, looked tired and anxious as he wound up his long testimony.

His final remarks from the stand were in answer to questions put to him by the presiding judge of the tribunal which will decide if he hangs.

"You have told the court that you took an oath as a soldier and you could not break it," presiding Justice Moshe Landau said. "Were you a soldier in the SS?"

"Yes, at least I had a duty and I felt that duty in my heart," Eichmann replied.

"Was the work in the head security office a soldier's work?" Landau demanded.

"That's what we were told. We did not use weapons, but I might say we used to drill every morning and hold parades."

New Health Unit Urged for State

Would Fight Duplicated Care Facilities; Cross-Share Merger Asked

ANN ARBOR (AP) — A state department of hospital and medical facilities is needed to guard against needless duplication of care in health care facilities, a University of Michigan research team recommended Saturday.

The team, headed by Prof. Walter J. McNeerney, reported to the Governor's Commission on pre-paid Hospital Care on the last three portions of a three-year study of Michigan medical care facilities, authorized by the W. K. Kellogg Foundation.

McNeerney has accepted the presidency of the National Blue Cross Association.

The study also recommended that Blue Cross, a prepaid hospital care plan, and Blue Shield, its counterpart for medical care, be merged into one unit.

The team said trustees for the plan should be selected from among highly qualified individuals in the medical and health professions to strengthen the public's control over its own interests.

One-half mill, or 30 cents on every $1,000 of taxable property, to provide monies for the township's construction of a new fire station and a new fire engine. The township is to be financed through less than a full one-half mill levy, probably by just one-fourth mill.

It was estimated that the initial cost of the township's share in the program — $22,000 a year — could be financed through less than a full one-half mill levy, probably by just one-fourth mill.

The report said "local prices, politics, competition among hospitals and a host of similar factors" have caused excessive and needless duplication of health facilities.

The department of hospital and medical facilities would approve and administer a state franchise (not now required by law) for any construction of health care facilities worth over $25,000.

Its duties also would include developing a streamlined statewide program for construction and licensing of all types of hospitals and medical facilities.

All current departments dealing with health and medicine would be brought under the new department.

As Dire Rumors Fly

LAGOS, Nigeria (UPI)—Asst. Secretary of State for African Affairs G. Mennen Williams will not make any controversial statements during his tour of Africa to avoid upsetting "sensitive" parts of the continent, a spokesman said today.

Williams touched off a furor in Britain, South Africa, Kenya and other African areas on his first visit earlier this year by saying he supported an "Africa for the Africans" stand. The storm persisted in spite of his later explanation that he meant Africans of all races.

The former governor of Michigan was meeting with U.S. chiefs of mission in Africa in a first step toward establishing U.S. policy on Africa on the basis of on-the-spot reports from the diplomats.

The Day in Birmingham

To Recommend Signals at Maple-Bates Corner

BIRMINGHAM — Recommendations that a traffic signal be placed at Woodward Avenue and Hamilton and pedestrian signals be installed at the Maple-Bates intersection will be presented to the City Commission tonight.

Cost of the traffic signal installation is estimated at $3,210 and the pedestrian signal at $1,185, according to a report of Police Chief Ralph W. Moxley.

Since the Hamilton-Woodward intersection is only 235 feet north of the Maple-Woodward intersection and the Woodward Avenue lights to obtain maximum operating efficiency.

Moxley said there are no signal indications for pedestrians facing the intersection to increase and proper pedestrian signals should be installed.

Moxley said the cost of all the equipment has been anticipated and has been provided for in the present budget.

He asked that the commission authorize him to take bids for the required equipment.

Farmer Slays 4 Children, Self Wounded Girl Dashes 2 1/2 Miles in Mud to Tell Grisly Tale

MIDLAND, Tex., (AP) — A 15-year-old farm girl with a knife wound in the stomach ran 2 1/2 miles in the mud to a neighbor's house before dawn today and cried out:

"Daddy has shot the boys!"

Officers rushed to the Fred Milkin Kinsey home, 3 miles north of Midland, and found a girl and a girl dead.

All had been shot to death. The children were in their pajamas while Kinsey was in a kitchen, and a green sports shirt.

Mrs. Kinsey was reported living in Fort Worth.

Officers said they found a note which read in part: "The kids have to go. They have a better home. Mother is coming."

The dead were J. D. Kinsey, 17; John 13; Jay 8; and Lilly 7.

All the children except John died from a single bullet wound in the chest. John had five wounds in the heart.

Kinsey, 58, died of a pistol wound in the forehead.

The wounded girl was Louise Kinsey. Midland officers said she apparently escaped through a bedroom window and fled in her night clothes.

Police said the shooting apparently occurred around 2 a.m.

A report received here said Kinsey once was a mental patient.

Bodies of two of the children were found on a bed in a front room. Bodies of the other two children were sprawled in a back room of the modest frame home.

The wounded girl was brought to Midland Memorial Hospital where her condition was described as serious.

A Ferndale policeman with 25 years in the department said the quadruple tragedy was the worst in his memory in the city.

The fifth traffic fatality in the county was a 6-year-old Orville girl, killed Saturday night when the car her father was driving missed a curve in Grove Road and rolled over.

Killed was Susan Steinman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William E. Steinman of 3843 Groveland Road.

State Police from the Flint Post said the little girl was thrown out of the car when it rolled over four times. She was dead on arrival at St. Joseph Hospital in Flint.

Steinman, 30, his wife Nancy, 25, and their son David, 5, suffered bruises and abrasions.

The accident occurred about 9:30 p.m. on Grange Hall Road near Trip Road.

Steinman told police he was traveling 50 miles an hour and didn't see the curve in time to slow down.

The other two deaths over the weekend involved a Waterford Township couple. (See story on page 1.)

Beaten, Raped Teen Hovers Near Death

JOPKIN, Mo. (AP)—A teenage girl who was kidnapped, beaten and raped was near death in a Joplin hospital today.

Lisa Schuh, 13, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. Russell Schuh of Wichita, Kan., was seized in front of her grandmother's house in Joplin Sunday by a man with a gun.

An ex-convict, Claude Harvey

Odom, 28, was arrested within an hour. The girl's bloody clothing, a blood-stained rock and a pistol were in Odom's car, Police Capt. Walter Fienner said.

Sears, Roebuck Co.'s Story All Started With a Mistake

CHICAGO (UPI)—It all started with nothing more than a mistaken shipment of watches, but in 75 years Sears, Roebuck & Co. has grown to the world's largest general merchandising firm.

The story of Sears, whose mail order catalogues have been household fixtures in many homes for three-quarters of a century, parallels to a large extent the retail and social history of the United States.

When Richard W. Sears was working as a railroad station agent in Redwood, Minn., the America of 1886 had only 25 states. About 60 per cent of the 50 million population lived in rural areas.

The company was born almost by accident. A jeweler in Redwood refused to accept a shipment of watches from a Chicago jewelry firm.

ENVOY — Edmund A. Gullion, now deputy director of the U.S. Disarmament Administration, was named by President Kennedy Sunday as ambassador to the Republic of the Congo. Gullion, 48, has had diplomatic posts in France, Greece, Finland, England, Algeria, Sweden and India.

Says Hard Core of Joblessness Will Persist

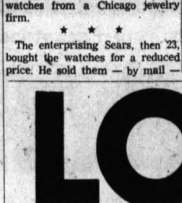

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. John D. Dingell, D-Mich., said Sunday that measures to stimulate the economy generally will be of little use in solving the nation's hard core of unemployment.

The core, he said, is made up mainly of workers older than 45, workers between 18 and 24, and nonwhites.

In the first quarter of 1961, Dingell said, these groups constituted almost half of the "long term full-time unemployed, those unfortunate who have been unemployed for 15 weeks or more."

Dingell said he would bring the problem to the attention of Congress in a House speech today.

Three main causes of unemployment, he said, are the increase in the labor supply due to the wave of postwar babies now coming into the labor market, relative drop in demand for labor due to technology and increase of imports from newly developing nations.

AP Photo
This began one of the most famous business associations in the world. The firm became Sears, Roebuck & Co. in 1893.

The enterprising Sears, then 23, bought the watches for a reduced price. He sold them — by mail —

OWN BUSINESS

Within a few months, Sears was in business for himself as the R. W. Sears Watch Co., Minneapolis. The mail order trade grew so rapidly that he moved the operation to Chicago the following year.

There he hired an Indiana farm-boy, Alvah C. Roebuck, to repair watches. Roebuck had worked as a watchmaker in Hammond, Ind., for 12-15 a week and room and board.

At the end of 1893, the company had 11 mail order plants, 734 retail stores and 913 catalogue outlets in the United States, 49 stores and eight sales offices in Latin America, and four mail order facilities.

37 retail outlets and 319 catalogue sales offices in Canada.

While the earliest catalogues featured only watches, the firm by 1895 turned out a 307-page book offering such items as shoes, suits, women's garments, wagons, fishing tackle, stoves, furniture, and dies, buggies and dishes.

The firm built one plant after another around the country to handle its steadily rising sales.

Sears entered the retail business in 1925. Gen. Robert E. Wood, then a vice president of the company and former quartermaster general in World War I, opened an experimental retail store in a corner of the Chicago mail order house.

It was an immediate success.

Today, 75 per cent of the company's $4 billion in sales comes from retail store sales.

At the end of 1959, the company had 11 mail order plants, 734 retail stores and 913 catalogue outlets in the United States, 49 stores and eight sales offices in Latin America, and four mail order facilities.

Stops Constipation Due to "Aging Colon"

New laxative discovery re-creates 3 essentials for normal regularity

As you grow older, the internal muscles of your colon wall also age, lose the strength that propels waste from the body. Stagnant bowel contents become so dry and shrunken that they fail to stimulate the urge to purge.

Relief, doctors say, lies in a new laxative principle. Old-style salts and drugs cramp and gripe the entire system. Of all laxatives, only new COLONAX gives you its special 3-way relief that works only on the lower colon (area of constipation).

(1) COLONAX moisturizes dry, hardened waste for easy passage without pain or strain. (2) COLONAX's unequalled rebulking action helps restore flabby colon muscles. (3) And COLONAX acts gently on the nerve reflexes that stimulate the vital "mass movement" of your lower colon.

COLONAX relieves even chronic constipation overnight; is so gentle it was hospital proved safe even for expectant mothers. And COLONAX won't interfere with absorption of vitamins or other food nutrients. Get COLONAX today! INTRODUCTORY SIZE 43¢

CHICAGO (AP)—A light rain ended a brief "wade in" demonstration on a nearly empty south side beach traditionally used only by white bathers.

About 30 Negroes and white persons took part in the demonstration Sunday under the watchful eye of a 200-man police force assigned to the public beach. The demonstrators left after about 45 minutes when rain started to fall.

Previous demonstrations have been marked by shouting, jeering and sand kicking incidents.

Rusk and Bowles See Berlin Crisis Going to U.N.

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Secretary of State Dean Rusk and Undersecretary of State Chester Bowles suggested Sunday that the Berlin crisis eventually will come before the United Nations.

Rusk said in a television interview that if the Berlin issue "develops into a situation of very high tension, ... you can be certain it will come before the United Nations in some form."

Bowles, appearing on another TV program, said he expected the United States to take the issue to the world organization. He said there was room for negotiation on Berlin, but the West must not bow to Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev's demands.

Don't Sound Alarm, This Escape Is Legal

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—No alarm was sounded when 25 men climbed out a window of the combination police headquarters-city prison.

They were policemen, who had assembled in the roll call room before going off duty, when a new lock on the door stuck.

Five Children, Mother Dead

Tenement Fire Might Have Claimed 6th; Dad 4 More Tots Safe

LOWELL, Mass. (AP) — A mother and five of her 10 children perished early today when fire broke out in a tenement building and destroyed the flimsy structure within minutes.

A sixth child was still missing hours later and was believed dead.

The mother, Mattie Maryland, about 50, died when she raced back into the burning, three-story building and fell two floors into the rubble as a stairway collapsed.

Two older Maryland children were hospitalized with burns but were not considered in dangerous condition. The other two children in the family escaped unhurt.

The father, John J. Maryland, was cut by glass but was released from a hospital after treatment.

Fire officials said the general alarm blaze started on the third floor and in "a matter of minutes" it was too late to save the victims. The dead all were trapped in a third-floor apartment.

Secretary Vital in Science Race With Russians

NEW YORK (UPI) — In the science race with the Soviets, one good secretary is worth at least two good researchers, claims Robert Sommer, reporting in a recent issue of the Worm Runner's Digest, an informal journal on the University of Michigan department of psychology's planaria (flatworm) research group.

"It is axiomatic that a lab can produce only as fast as its secretary can type," Sommer said.

"The lab with one scientist and four secretaries is in a more favorable position than the lab with four scientists and one secretary."

His Roller Coaster Ride Cost a Total of $945

NEW YORK (AP)—A roller coaster ride at Coney Island cost Mario Lalli $945.

The Mount Vernon, N. Y., contractor had $4,100 in his shirt pocket when he went up Saturday night. The money was blown from his pocket and fluttered down about the boardwalk.

Two attendants recovered about $1,150 and returned it to Lalli, who gave them $5.

U.S. 'Moon' Craft to Go Traveling

AP Photo/... RANGER I TO MAKE BOW—This is the Ranger I spacecraft scheduled to be launched by the National Aeronautics and Space Administration on a million-mile roundtrip into space within the next few days. The spacecraft is the first version of a vehicle which later this year may land on the moon.

By VERN HAUGLAND
WASHINGTON (AP) — A Ranger I spacecraft — first version of a vehicle that later this year may land on the moon — will be launched on a million-mile roundtrip journey into space within the next few days.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration described in detail today its newest and most complicated experiment in lunar and planetary exploration. But NASA declined to give the exact date the launch attempt will be made at Cape Canaveral, Fla.

NASA said the 675-pound Ranger will be fired first into a brief "parking orbit" 115 miles above the earth. For about 15 minutes Ranger I will zoom along at 15,000 miles an hour, high above the Atlantic Ocean, as though it were a regulation earth satellite.

Then its Agena-B second stage rocket will fire up for a second time to accelerate Ranger I to a velocity of 23,800 miles an hour and start it on a trajectory 685,000 miles out into space.

It deliberately will not be aimed at the moon.

The craft is expected to reach the perigee, or closest point to earth, of its eccentric orbit in September at an altitude of 37,500 miles — some 38 days after launching.

The spacecraft may be unable to regain orbital course, however, and may plunge into the earth's atmosphere and be destroyed by fire.

NASA said there also is a slight possibility the craft may reach earth-escape velocity. In that event, it would join two U.S. probes — Pioneer IV and Pioneer V — and two Soviet probes in orbit around the sun.

WORKING PARTS

Designed to test an enormously complicated spacecraft system, Ranger I has 19,250 working electronic parts.

It is a forerunner of vehicles that will rough-land instrumented packages on the moon. With further refinements, it eventually is expected to make soft landings there and on the planets. Later craft — of the Surveyor, Prospector and Voyager series — are being designed to achieve ultimately manned occupation of the moon.

Ranger II, a similar test shot, is planned for next autumn. Ranger III is on NASA's program for late this year. It is designed to take television pictures of the moon and to crash into the moon shortly after releasing a 50-pound instrument pack that could survive a lunar landing and send moonquake data back to earth.

The remaining two shots in the Ranger series would come next year.

Although the primary mission of Ranger I is to develop and test the equipment and technique for lunar and interplanetary research, the craft will carry a dazzling array of experiments of its own.

Among the eight scientific assemblies aboard will be devices to study the nature and activity of cosmic rays, magnetic fields, and radiation and dust particles in space.

The craft will try also to determine whether the earth, as viewed from a distance of 500,000 miles, is followed around the sun by a comet-like tail of hydrogen gas.

HEXAGON SHAPE

NASA said engineers at California Institute of Technology's jet propulsion laboratory, who developed Ranger, have decided that its hexagon shape will become standard for a whole generation of spacecraft, even though the missions of the various vehicles may differ greatly.

The engineers said this is part of its concept of attaining reliability by use of the same type of parts many times.

The basic hexagon to be used in many of the laboratory's spacecraft is the best because, essentially unchanged in form, it will be able to go to the moon or the planets with the specific instruments needed for each particular flight.

Ranger I was shipped from the Pasadena, Calif., laboratory, by truck to Cape Canaveral in May. It has been undergoing a long series of tests to make sure that its delicate instruments are in good operation.

Ford Grant to Support Teacher in Columbia

DETROIT (AP) — Wayne State University has received a $36,000 Ford Foundation grant to cover two full academic years of work by economist Luigi Laurenti of South America.

Laurenti, now an economist with Bechtel Corp., San Francisco, will join the Wayne faculty Nov. 1 and be assigned to the Universidad Del Valle in Cali, Colombia.

Grants U. of M. $43,100

ANN ARBOR (AP) — The Ford Foundation has granted $43,100 to the University of Michigan to finance a faculty training program next summer on the application of mathematics techniques to problems of business administration.

Forest Fire Raging Despite Work of 800

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — A stubborn forest fire in the Mt. Unsumum and Loma Prieta Peak area continued burning out of control today despite the efforts of 800 fire fighters and their aerial support.

The fire, which has already destroyed 7,000 acres of brush, was bombed by borate tankers Sunday and today. The Hidden Falls Girl Scout Camp north-east of Santa Cruz was evacuated Saturday as a precautionary measure.

The mammoth fire in the Kings River area east of Fresno which was started July 13 by a careless cigarette smoker was subdued after charring 18,300 acres. The fire caused an estimated $2 million in destruction and fire-fighting expenses.

There are at least 300 different card games.

Summer Theater Plunging Into 20th Season

Students at Cranbrook Summer Theater are marking their 20th season with the presentation of 4 three-act plays.

The 20-year program has been under the consistent direction of Carl C. Wonnberger who heads the English department at Cranbrook School. Colleague is his wife Annette Boston Wonnberger of Wayne State University.

A staff of some 30 adults, many of them alumnae of the classes, work with 85 students in small classes. Students range in age from 9 years through college age, although the bulk of the students enrolled are of high school and college age.

SERIOUS STUDY

of the Institute staff. The recreation period affords a welcome break, however.

Among area students enrolled are Betsy Agree, Lynda Lotner, Jim Briney, Elizabeth Buckner, Pat Lysinger and Paul Carl. The production staff includes Stuart Packard, Mary Agree and Nancy Walker.

The first of the four productions is a children's fantasy, "The Twelve Dancing Princesses" which was written by Mr. Wonnberger. It will be given Wednesday and Thursday.

Older students will present "Kiss and Tell" Aug. 1 and 2 and Barrie's "Dear Brutus" on Aug. 4 and 5. A musical comedy "Stardust" with original score by Mr. Wonnberger will conclude the season Aug. 8 and 9.

Tickets for all productions are available at the gate at the Greek Theater or at Grinnell's Music Store, Birmingham.

The art of make-up is practiced by Marcy Agree of West Iroquois Road (at right) on John Baker of Navajo Drive. Both are active in the Cranbrook Summer Theater School which is observing its 20th season this summer.

Candlelight Vows Said at First Congregational

Rev. Malcolm K. Burton officiated at candlelight vows of Judith Nan Osworth of Watkins Lake to Peter R. Fittante of Flint, Saturday afternoon in the First Congregational Church.

Vows and rings were exchanged before an altar decked with white gladioli, snapdragons and chrysanthemums.

Daughter of the Alvin D. Osworths of South Shore Drive, Watkins Lake, the bride appeared in white Italian silk styled with lace bodice and Empire waistline over a hoop skirt. Her silk illusion veil, edged with lace, fell to fingertip length from a Juliet cap of lace. She held a cascade of white carnations and lilies of the valley.

Attending her Hurley Hospital School of Nursing roommate was Janet Peck of Flint, maid of honor. Kathleen Boyd of North Star was bridesmaid.

Headbands of rosebuds complemented their frocks of pale green dotted Swiss, sashed in deep green, worn with sheer mitts. They held nosegays of white and yellow rosebuds.

The bridegroom, son of Mr. and Mrs. Pietro Fittante of Flint, had John Ferrell for his best man. Guests were seated by Richard and Carl Fittante and Richard Goss, all of Flint.

After the church reception, the newlyweds left for a honeymoon that will include Northern Michigan and Chicago.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Osworth chose a pink silk sheath dress and the mother of bridegroom appeared in a powder blue silk ensemble. White cymbidium orchids rested on their clutch purses.

Fashion Show Committee Will Meet at Convent

The committee for the fifth annual fall fashion show, to be presented Sept. 27 at the Convent of the Sacred Heart in Bloomfield Hills, will meet at the convent Wednesday.

Costumes in the Civil War Centennial theme, being made by some mothers and alumnae, will be modeled by students of the show. One will be shown to the committee at the summer meeting.

The fund-raising event will feature fall fashions, furs and tea table settings.

Bible Class Has a Picnic Dinner

Some 65 members and guests of the Fellowship Bible Class of the First Baptist Church attended a cooperative picnic dinner Saturday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. McMillan in Rochester.

Rev. W. Howard Schoof, dean of the Detroit Bible College, gave devotions and led in a hymn sing.

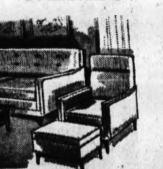

The Earl Campbells were chairman of the picnic committee.

Sally Sharp Is United to Theodore M. Werner

A reception at the Forest Lake Country Club followed Saturday evening vows of Sally Sharp to Theodore M. Werner in St. James Episcopal Church, Birmingham.

Parents of the bride couple are the Claude E. Sharps and the Theodore M. Werners, all of Birmingham.

Five attendants in powder blue organza sheath dresses with overskirts were veiled. Dior head boxes and carried yellow daisies and delphiniums as they approached the chancel.

Mrs. Allen Wilson was matron of honor. Serving as bridesmaids were Mrs. Henry Bishop of Livonia, Marcia Wittmer of Royal Oak, Betsy Strickland of Cleveland and Winifred Wagner of Rapid City.

ALCONEN LACE

The bride carried white mini-ature rosebuds.

On the square side were best man Grant J. Gruel of Grand Rapids, with ushers Alexander Wilson and Beverly Jensen, both of Dearborn, Robert N. Andrews of Toledo and Albert L. Welsh of Birmingham.

Green cymbidium orchids rested on the purse carried by Mrs. Sharp who was attired in pale yellow organza and wore a green velvet hat. A white orchid accented a powder blue lace sheath dress for the mother of the bridegroom.

The bride is a graduate of Michigan State University and her husband holds a master of business administration degree from Dartmouth College. Returning from a Northern Michigan honeymoon, they will live in Birmingham.

Woman Said Best at Standing Heat

TALLAHASSEE (UPI)—A Florida State University scientist says women can take the heat better than men.

D. R. Kenshalo put both men and women through tests with tiny thermodes placed against their skin to measure the heat.

He said men were comfortable as long as their skin temperature did not rise above 97 degrees, but women could be comfortable with skin temperatures up to 102 or 104 degrees.

Kenshalo, making a study for the National Aeronautics and Space Administration says women also could tolerate wider variations of temperature without discomfort.

Victory Famine Ends for Cincinnati Nine

By The Associated Press
It's either feast or famine for the Cincinnati Reds who had that contented look again today after devouring two big victories over the San Francisco Giants. The double sweep, 6-5 and 11-2, over the Giants at Cincinnati Sunday ended a six-game losing run for the Reds and indicated Freddie Hutchinson's steady crew is on the warpath once more.

There apparently is no in-between pattern for the Reds. They blow hot and cold like an air conditioner gone berserk. Either they win in bunches or they lose the same way.

The twin triumphs, engineered by 13 extra base hits including five homers, boosted the Reds' lead to 14½ games over the pressings Los Angeles Dodgers. The Dodgers, spurred by Ron Fairly's doubles, edged the Cards at St. Louis.

The Milwaukee Braves, sizzling in the heat, whipped the Pirates at Pittsburgh 11-4 and 5-4, for a four-game sweep of the series. This moved the surging Braves past the Pirates into fourth place, only a half game behind the third place Giants. The Chicago Cubs snapped a seven-game losing streak by beating four homers, including two by Don Zimmerman, for a 11-5 wallop of the Phillies at Philadelphia.

Hutchinson used an idea of how long this streak is headed tonight when his club takes on the Braves at Milwaukee in the only game. Joe Jay (13-5) faces Milwaukee's Bobby Hendley (3-2). The Dodgers play the Baltimore Orioles in the Hall of Fame game at Cooperstown, N.Y.

The 6-5 opener for Bob Purkey (12-5) and pinned the defeat on reliever Sam Jones (7-4). The Reds also got homers from Frank Robinson and Leo Cardenas. Ed Bailey, a former Red, delivered two homers and Orlando Cepeda one for the Giants.

Robinson's second homer of the day—his 28th of the season—and

The Detroit Lions list of unsigned players is now down to 13 with the addition of Hopalong Cassidy, Bob Grotzau, Willie McCung and Dick LeBeau. The players report to Cranbrook in preparation for training practice sessions tomorrow.

Feaches Barlow of Hamtramck goes after National Junior tennis honors today after taking 13-and-under honors for the 2nd straight in the Kentucky Invitational.

George Fouda, a member of the Pittsburgh Penn Hill Striders, outlasted 57 other steel-tunged runners and won the National Amateur 15 kilometer marathon Sunday. Fouda finished in 48:39.3. Fifteen yards back in second place was Ger Williams of the University of Chicago Track Club.

Jackson Boy Sweeps Water Ski Titles

Sweep of Boys' Events Is Made by Vermuelen
Pontiac Skiers Named to Overall Titles of State Tourney

A 16-year old swim star from Jackson High School stole the show at Loom Lake when he won the boys' 5th annual Michigan Water Ski Championships were held.

Lynn Vermuelen didn't let the heavy downpour stop him from making a clean sweep of the three boys' events. He won the jump title on Saturday with leaps of 83 and 84 feet. Yesterday morning he ran 34 straight jumps to win the slalom crown and during the rain he pulled up 2,321 points to win the slalom title. This is the first time in history of the state meet that anyone ever swept his division.

It is interesting to note that Vermuelen accumulated more points in tricks than any of the men and he can row more than most of the state meeters. Billie, of Whitmore Lake, won his third straight state slalom crown and 4th in five years. Dave Panks of Pontiac was second. Another Whitmore Lake skier, Roy Fullerton successfully defended his jumping title with jumps of 94 and 95 feet. Tony Mitchell with jumps of 83 and 84 feet was third.

The longest jump of the day went to Jerry Brace of Oxford, Me. He 71 and 97 feet for 5th place in slalom.

Veteran skier Paul Boel of Cass Lake tied the world record for senior men by jumping 93 feet.

Two Pontiac skiers walked off the overall winners in the slalom and slalom events. Mike was 4th in jumping, 8th in slalom and 3rd in tricks was men's overall winner. Alvin Showell of Pontiac took the women's title.

Nancy Messler of Pontiac lost her slalom crown to Sandra Goldman of Whitmore Lake. Miss Messler was runnerup in slalom and also in tricks.

MAKE FRIDAY'S Business and Finance

Wheat Futures Go Against the Grain

CHICAGO (U) — Wheat futures were steady to firm, but other grains and soybeans turned weak in moderately active early dealings today on the board of trade.

Ford, GM to Get Down to Issues

Chrysler Won't Answer UAW Until Tuesday, Rejection Expected

DETROIT (AP)—Ford Motor Co. and General Motors Corp. were expected to get down to bargaining on specific new contract proposals today, but the spotlight was on Chrysler Corp., which is waiting until Tuesday to answer United Auto Workers demands.

Last Friday, Chrysler became the last of the big three to receive a UAW package described by all three as potentially the costliest ever.

Indications were Chrysler will reject the package.

"It is unreasonable to ask Chrysler Corp. to accept any such inflationary proposals and demands," said John D. Leary, Chrysler vice president for personnel.

The union package includes an unspecified wage increase, salaries for hourly workers, reduced work time such as a shorter work week, elimination of overtime in periods of unemployment and expanded fringe benefits.

The UAW seeks at least part of its wage hike in the form of an increase in the wage formula included in the present contracts which expire Aug. 31.

This gives auto workers an annual wage increase of six cents an hour and adjusts the formula to the government's cost of living index.

Britain to Steer Austerity Path to Check Inflation

LONDON (AP)—Britain's Cabinet today approved an austerity program designed to check inflation and protect the pound sterling.

The move also clears the way for this island nation to open negotiations for membership in the European Common Market.

The ministers met at the office of Prime Minister Harold Macmillan.

The program is expected to slash off up to 20 million dollars—$500 million a year in shopkeepers' spending power.

There are more than 40 million non-professional carmen in the U.S. who spend more than $500 million each year for shoes and equipment.

STEELS HIGHER, AIRCRAFTS SLIP

NEW YORK (U)—Steels were mostly higher while aircrafts edged off in a mixed stock market early today. Trading was quiet.

Changes of most key stocks were fractional. A good many were unchanged.

Wall Street remained cautious pending President Kennedy's statements this week on the nation's needs in view of the Communist threat.

Advances speculation, however, was that he would not request a step-up in the bomber program, Boeing, Douglas Aircraft and United Aircraft lost fractions.

Republic Steel, up a fraction, still had some momentum left from its favorable report of last week.

Steel and Bethlehem, which report on second-quarter results this week, gained fractions.

Anacosta and Kennecott each dropped close to a point following reports of proposed copper legislation in Chile affecting both of these companies' major copper producers in that country.

DuPont recovered a point. National Theatre rose 1/4 to 5/8 on an opening block of 10,000 shares. Goodyear was about a point lower.

Tobacco and airlines edged lower. Ralls showed hardly any change. Utilities and electronics were irregular.

Pelphs Dodge, International Paper, Consolidated Natural Gas and International Paper made moderate gains.

Ford continued to advance, adding about a point, while other motor stocks showed little change, if any.

American Stock Exchange prices were irregular. Losers included Barnes Engineering, Halligan and Victor Instruments. On the up-side were Loral Electronics, Aero-General and Leeson.

LIGE IN AN IRON CANNERY—An interesting sight in Iran's burgeoning canning industry was the designing of the workers' uniforms. Technicians designing these for women made them conform to both religious practices and sanitation regulations. The country's modern food-processing industry, using equipment furnished through U.S. government aid, is one step being taken to modernize the underdeveloped land of the Middle East.

He Makes His Living by Giving

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — If a man named Herb Saxton comes walking up to your house, don't slam the door in his face. He may simply want to give you $50,000.

That's what Saxton makes his living, and a good living it is—just telling unsuspecting persons they have had a large piece of money dropped into their laps and all they have to do is reach down and pick it up.

Saxton, who has spent 49 years in the investigation business, began his full-time career of searching out persons who were heirs to unclaimed estates in 1933.

"I do a lot of traveling," said Saxton. "At every place I stop I go to the court house and check on unclaimed estates. There are always many, but I never touch one less than $10,000."

He said that in many cases where a person dies without a will and his estate is handled by the public administrator, this administrator does not have the funds available or is too overworked to run an extensive search for heirs.

Once he has closed the case and it has been approved by the court, Saxton can step in.

"There always is a time element to find heirs to an estate," he said. "This varies in different ways."

City May Move on Wells Today

OK Will Be Asked on Pact for Engineering to Revamp Water System

City Commissioners tonight will be asked to take the first step toward revamping of Pontiac's municipal well system with water pumped here from Detroit.

City Manager Walter K. Willman said he would ask approval of a contract for engineering to revamp the backbone of the city's water distribution system to handle Detroit water.

The proposed contract is with Jones, Henry & Williams of Toledo, the consulting firm which warned Pontiac about its dropping water table and estimated that it would cost about $3 million to install new big mains to take Detroit water to all parts of town.

When engineering is finished, the commission will be called upon to issue revenue bonds to finance the main.

During the 18-month construction period, Detroit will be extending a 34-inch pipeline to the vicinity of Auburn Avenue and Oakley Road at the southeastern city limits.
