RIGHT ON SCHEDULE — Work on the Howard C. Baldwin Memorial Pavilion on the Oakland University campus is proceeding on schedule. Within a week the roof arches should all be in place, according to James Hicks, manager of the Meadow Brook Music Festival. The 2,000-seat pavilion and the Lula B. Wilson Memorial Concert Shell will be completed for the opening concert, July 23.

OU Music Festival Building Called 'Right on Schedule'

"Right on schedule," is the answer to "How is the building coming for the Meadow Brook Music Festival?"

James Hicks, manager at Oakland University for the festival, says that nearly all the steel work is in place. Special cranes had to be brought in to raise the giant roof arches.

Enthusiasm for the performing arts program has infected the contractor, J. A. Fredman of J. A. Fredman, Inc., 735 South Paddock Street. As his contribution to the endeavor he waived his contractor's fee and obtained the cement for under the seats as a donation.

The opening concerts July 23-24 will feature violinist Gordon Staples and cellist Italo Babini playing the Brahms Double Concerto in A minor with the Detroit Symphony Orchestra.

Mary Costa will be heard in all three concerts the next week. Only July 30 and 31 she will sing Richard Strauss' "Four Last Songs" and Ravel's "Sheherazade."

DUAL ROLE

On Aug. 6-7 Sixten Ehrling will appear in the dual role of piano soloist and conductor in Hindemith's "The Four Temperaments."

Pianist Leonard Pennario will be the soloist Aug. 13-14, playing the Khatchaturian Concerto.

Season tickets are now on sale, priced at $10, $6 and $3. Reservations are being taken by committees throughout the area and at the University.

Sewer Study Cost OK'd by Waterford Board

The Waterford Township Board last night took a preliminary step toward the ultimate construction of a sanitary sewer system for the township.

The board authorized $18,000 as its share of a $40,000 engineering study by the county Department of Public Works.

The study would explore internal sewer system requirements of the four communities that would tie into a proposed extension of the Dequindre interceptor sewer line from 14 to 23½ Mile Road.

Detroit has indicated a willingness to extend its interceptor line on a revenue basis payable by communities which tie in to the service. It awaits approval of these municipalities.

Donald Ringler, DPW deputy director, last night outlined the proposed sewer program to board members.

★ ★ ★

Waterford, as the largest community to be served by the proposed extension, was assessed $18,000, or about 45 per cent of the total study cost.

PROPORTION PAY

Other communities who are potential customers would pay for the study in proportion to their populations.

Ringler pointed out that study expenditures would later be credited to the community when the sewer system is under way.

Any community which appropriates funds for the study but later decides to bypass the sewer system would forfeit this amount, Ringler said.

★ ★ ★

Construction of the Waterford sewer system could be under way in two years, Ringler said, and the system could be completed in one more year.

SCHEDULE PRESUMED

This assumes that plans for the interceptor and negotiations on laterals and arms with the four communities involved proceed on schedule.

The sewer system would cost individual users from $1,-

Rusk Urges NATO to Isolate Fidel

THE HAGUE, Netherlands (AP) — Secretary of State Dean Rusk urged the complete isolation of Communist Cuba today, warning the Western allies that the Cuban problem presents the danger of another world-shaking crisis.

In an address to the opening session of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO) Council, Rusk coupled a plea for action against Cuba with a call for the Allies to pitch in and help in South Viet Nam.

Rusk said manpower and military assistance are not needed from the other allies in Communist-threatened South Viet Nam.

He suggested industrial equipment, commodities, medical teams and teachers would help to give the people a psychological boost.

Speaking of East-West relations in general, Rusk declared that despite an easing of tension, there still was no sign of any basic historic change in the Soviet position.

Rusk said the United States is continuing to seek some avenues of agreement with the Soviet Union and other nations should do the same.

Heavily Guarded

McNamara in Viet Nam

Starts Series of Confabs on War Progress

Security Tightened After Discovery of Cong Murder Plot

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — U.S. Secretary of Defense Robert McNamara arrived in Saigon today for a 36-hour visit and plunged into a series of heavily guarded conferences on the progress of the war in Viet Nam.

McNamara raced from one conference to another in Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge's car, with flak jackets piled on the floor, on the seat and behind his back for protection against Communist terrorist bullets, hand grenades and mines.

He was accompanied everywhere by a motorcade of vehicles bristling with police and a truck loaded with special Forces soldiers, their guns at the ready.

U.S. and Vietnamese security were taking no chances since discovery of a plot on McNamara's life. Viet Cong agents were caught Saturday night trying to mine a bridge the secretary was to cross.

McNamara on his arrival conferred for two hours with Lodge. After a quick lunch at Lodge's residence, he began a series of conferences with top U.S. military officials.

SET TO CONFER

He is scheduled to confer with Maj. Gen. Nguyen Khanh, South Viet Nam's strongman premier, tomorrow afternoon and leave for Washington a few hours later.

There was some speculation that McNamara during his visit would announce a tougher U.S. stand in South Viet Nam, possibly including the evacuation of American dependents.

Communist terror attacks against Americans and Vietnamese in the streets of Saigon have increased lately, and all U.S. military establishments have been placed under heavy guard.

The secretary on his arrival made only a two-minute statement and answered no questions.

FIFTH VISIT

Here for his fifth visit since the U.S. military buildup in South Viet Nam began more than two years ago, McNamara promised the United States will provide "whatever is required for however long it is required."

Air Force police checked all arrivals before McNamara landed and inspected the VIP room where he stopped after getting off his plane.

Hoffa Lawyer: No Connection in Union Loans

Says Teamster Chief Innocent of Fraud in Pension Fund Case

CHICAGO (AP)—Counsel for James R. Hoffa contended today that the government brought together 14 disconnected loans to bolster its charge that the Teamsters leader conspired to defraud the union's pension fund of more than $20 million.

Maurice Walsh, Hoffa's lawyer in a mail fraud and conspiracy trial in U.S. District Court, told the jury of eight men and four women in his opening statement that Hoffa is innocent.

The government charged the Teamsters Union president and seven associates had engaged in a scheme to defraud the pension fund through fraudulently obtained loans and converted more than $1 million to their own uses.

"The defense of Hoffa is simple," Walsh told the jury. "He is not guilty of any crime to defraud the pension fund, and he did not engage in a conspiracy to do so.

★ ★ ★

"We will show that there was no connection between these loans obtained from the pension fund for building projects in widely separated areas that extended from Florida to California."

Walsh told the jury there was no fraud involved in the 14 loans cited in the government's indictment, and no loss resulted to the pension fund from these loans.

"The finished buildings are worth $3 for every $2 loaned," Walsh said.

George Callaghan, counsel for Zachary Strate Jr., New Orleans builder who headed Pelican States Hotel Corp., which borrowed $4.6 million from the fund in 1959, said the fund "never made a better investment."

★ ★ ★

The money was used to help finance construction of the Fontainebleau Motor Hotel in New Orleans.

Callaghan said the defense will show this loan was amply secured by the $5.8-million appraised value of the property. He said the borrower never defaulted on payments to the pension fund, and that the hotel was sold last year for $7.3 million.

The government alleged, however, that the eight defendants raided the pension fund to help Hoffa out of personal financial difficulties.

Violence Hits Town After Wallace Talk

CAMBRIDGE, Md. (AP)—An outburst of violence in the wake of a presidential campaign speech by Alabama Gov. George C. Wallace left this center of racial strife in the grip of new tensions today.

Two demonstrators and five National Guardsmen were injured in a melee touched off last night when about 200 singing, hand-clapping integrationists tried to march on the arena where Wallace had spoken.

They met a cordon of some of the 400 National Guardsmen hurried into this sensitive spot just to prevent such an act.

Wallace had already left the town of 12,600.

He had addressed about 1,500 supporters in his campaign in the May 19 Democratic primary and was applauded more than 40 times during a 45-minute speech attacking the civil rights bill pending in the Senate.

★ ★ ★

Balked by guardsmen wearing gas masks and holding rifles with fixed bayonets, the integrationists squatted in the street and sang "We Shall Not Be Moved."

TEAR GAS

Guardsmen used tear gas to disperse them, arrested 14 and slapped an 11 p.m. curfew on the city.

★ ★ ★

Cuban Exiles Hike War Talk

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Talk of impending military action against Fidel Castro gained momentum today in this Cuban exile capital, but plans, if any, were shrouded in secrecy.

★ ★ ★

Rogelio Cisneros, newly named chief in Exile of Revolutionary Junta—JURE—returned from a conference in Puerto Rico with Manuel Ray, who has promised to be fighting inside Cuba by May 20, Cuban independence day.

Another activist group, Revolutionary Recovery Movement—MMR—reported it is mailing out English translations of a speech by its head, Bay of Pigs leader Manuel Artime, predicting "a long, hard war full of blood and sacrifice."

He was quoted in his March 18 address to an exile group as comparing Castro's forces to Goliath and his to David.

Tractor Kills Woman in Accident

An Avon Township woman was accidentally crushed to death yesterday when she was run over by a small tractor operated by her 13-year-old daughter.

The victim, Mrs. Frederick J. Gaff, 51, of 3079 Eastwood, was dead on arrival at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital following the 5:10 p.m. accident.

Mrs. Gaff and her daughter, Mary K., were working in the back yard when the accident occurred.

Sheriff's deputies said Mrs. Gaff was cleaning weeds from the plow behind the tractor when the girl's foot slipped off the clutch, and the tractor lurched backwards and over the woman.

The youngster ran to the home of a neighbor, Donald Bennett, 3069 Eastwood, who called police and then went next door and turned off the tractor motor.

SERVICE SET

Service for Mrs. Gaff will be 1:30 p.m. Friday at the Donelson-Johns Funeral Home with burial in Oak Hill Cemetery.

Surviving besides her husband and daughter Mary are two other daughters, Mrs. Gene Underwood and Rowena D. Gaff, both of Petaluma, Calif.; a son, Frederick R. of Pontiac; parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert B. Dixon of Avon Township; nine brothers, two sisters and seven grandchildren.

End Filibuster, Senators Plead

Southerners Asked to Allow Jury Trial Vote

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate's Democratic leaders begged Southern senators today to drop their filibuster against the civil rights bill and permit the Senate to vote on pending jury trial amendments.

Sen. Mike Mansfield, D-Mont., the majority leader, said the country is witnessing "a travesty on the legislative process."

Speaking amid growing demands for an immediate attempt to invoke cloture to shut off further talk on that phase of the bill, Mansfield, in an emotion-choked voice, said the reason cloture has not been sought before is that "In all honesty, we did not have the votes."

"And, in my opinion," Mansfield added, "we do not have the votes now."

★ ★ ★

Mansfield said "The times call out for a change in the rules," including the cloture rule under which two-thirds of the senators present and voting are required to limit debate.

Mansfield had said earlier that Congress will stay in session all year, if necessary, to pass the civil rights bill and other priority items of President Johnson's program.

Mansfield's plea followed one by Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, D-Minn., assistant majority leader, and floor manager of the bill, appealing to the Southerners to at least permit the Senate to dispose of pending jury trial amendments.

Southern senators decided earlier at a strategy session not to permit any votes on the civil rights bill this week unless they can get enough support to write into the bill a pending jury trial amendment. (Earlier story, Page 5.)

Dean of the House Dies at Age 85

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Clarence Cannon, D-Mo., peppery guardian of the U. S. pocketbook for decades, died today. He was 85.

Dean of the House for years, he had been in Congress since 1922, a member of the Appropriations Committee, and chairman of the group since 1941 except for the periods 1946-48 and 1952-54 when the Republicans were in control.

In that period he had presided over appropriation of more than a trillion dollars — more than any man in history. But he was proudest of the billions he had helped chop out of requests. Rep. George Mahon, D-Tex., is in line to succeed Cannon as chairman of the powerful committee.

NEW DORM — Construction of a fourth dormitory at Oakland University is well under way on the north edge of the campus. To be named Hill House, the dormitory will give the university space for a total of 500 resident students when it opens in the fall. Three dormitories — Fitzgerald, Anibal and Pryale — now house about 288 students.

Tornado Dead Buried Today

MOUNT CLEMENS (AP)— Eight of the 10 victims of Friday's Anchor Bay area tornado were buried today as contributions poured in to help survivors rebuild their shattered homes.

The death toll climbed to 10 Monday, when Mrs. Gladys Sparwasser, 68, of Chesterfield Township died of injuries. She will be buried Thursday.

Service for Susan Ann Westfall, 7, of Chesterfield Township was held Monday. The girl's mother and three younger children were in the hospital with injuries.

Other residents were rebuilding, meanwhile.

GROUPS HELP

Carl Brandenberg, Chesterfield Township supervisor, said a team spent Monday night tabulating offers of help from organizations, labor groups and individuals.

He said a group of Mennonites from White Pigeon had offered to help clean up the disaster area if the township could provide housing for the workers.

* * *

The appalling loss was underscored meanwhile by indications damages will exceed the official estimate of $8 million dollars. It may go even higher, Gov. George W. Romney said.

A comprehensive report to Romney at Lansing said 180 homes were demolished and 1,200 persons made homeless.

LARGER FIGURES

These figures were larger than earlier estimates.

Emergency aid to the area was going into a $1 million relief fund, after Romney pleaded for public contributions.

One of the donations to the relief fund was $10,000 from the Detroit Edison Co.

The Anchor Bay Tornado Relief Fund is to be administered by a five-man board of trustees, with Brandenberg as chairman, and the American Red Cross.

Romney said the full extent of the damage and loss would be known in about 10 days when insurance company estimates are completed.

NO LOOTING

State Police Capt. Fred E. Davids said the area has been virtually free of looting, and honesty has been the rule.

"For instance, one person turned in a wallet with $197 and no identification except a photograph of a girl, he said. "It was later claimed by a woman who could describe the photograph."

* * *

In the only reported incident, seven youths stood mute at arraignment Monday on charges of causing a disturbance by trying to enter the disaster area in a car earlier in the day.

Davids said main roads through the area will be opened to traffic today.

Kenneth O'Connor, Red Cross director of emergency services, said the community now has an adequate supply of foodstuffs and used clothing.

Expect Return of Guard Unit

The last of some 375 Michigan National Guardsmen, including some from the Pontiac unit, were expected to be released from duty in the Anchor Bay tornado disaster area this afternoon.

All but 35 officers and men from Pontiac, Flint, Owosso and Lapeer were sent home at 6 p.m. yesterday. The guard units had been at the scene since dawn Saturday.

The battalion, commanded by Lt. Col. Mitchell B. Thomas of Davison, was called to duty at the direction of Gov. Romney to assist Macomb Sheriff Lester Almsteadt and state police in the recovery operations.

More than 100 men from the Pontiac Guard were at the scene.

* * *

Their primary mission was to patrol the stricken area and guard against looting. They also helped in the search for missing persons in the early phases of the recovery program.

Board Okays Cost of Study

$50 to $1,125 per Waterford resident, according to Ringler.

A breakdown of the total includes $330 for interceptor connection assessment, from $600 to $650 for the lateral line in the street and from $100 to $125 for the property connecting line.

* * *

Total cost of the Waterford system is estimated at $12 million.

OTHERS IN AREA

Other communities included in the service area of the proposed interceptor extension are Avon Township, Pontiac Township and Independence Township.

The DPW is acting as agent in negotiations with Detroit.

New Setup by Prosecutor

Divides Office in 3 Work Load Divisions

Broad organization changes within the Oakland County prosecutor's office have been set in motion by the man who has just over six months to see them work.

Richard P. Condit, who was appointed prosecutor April 1 to avoid a political hassle, yesterday announced the changes will take place immediately.

Displaying a new organization chart, Condit said the prosecutor's staff will now be divided into three main units: the new domestic relations division; trial division and South Oakland division.

Condit said the redefinition of staff duties is designed to meet the growing and increasingly complex work load of the office.

The domestic relations division, headed by assistant prosecutor Jack B. Baldwin, will now handle all waivers of minors from Circuit Court, paternity cases, reciprocal requests from other states and counties, nonsupport and dependent parent cases.

ONE DEPARTMENT

Much of this involves administrative paper work rather than courtroom appearances and is better grouped in one department, said Condit.

Formerly, trial prosecutors were alternately assigned such cases, "and we found out it wasn't working too well," said Condit.

Trial men disliked handling routine domestic cases, said Condit, and the continuous shift of assignments prevented specialization.

Baldwin of 1750 Hillwood, Bloomfield Hills, has been with the prosecutor's office since June 1963. Prior to that he was in an administrative position with Chrysler Corp.

ASSISTANT

Working with him in domestic relations will be G. Edson Hallock, an assistant prosecutor since 1958 who has had lengthy experience in this field.

Condit said establishing the division involves no increase in personnel, and a raise being sought for Baldwin will be the main cost item in the changeover.

Eight assistants in the trial division "will now spend more time on specific crimes, in addition to general trial work," said Condit.

* * *

He explained he is not appointing a head of this division, because the three senior assistants who are likely candidates are all running for election to the prosecutor's job this fall.

ALL REPUBLICANS

They are Robert L. Templin, Jerome K. Berry and William E. Lang, all Republicans.

Condit, appointed by Oakland County's seven Circuit Court judges, is interim prosecutor because of a threatened rift in county Republican ranks if one of the three had been named to fill the job vacated by former prosecutor George F. Taylor.

Condit said he consulted the three candidates about his organizational changes and said all agreed they were necessary and would not disrupt political plans.

Third unit under the new setup is only a name change with the South Oakland office in Royal Oak being called a division. William Lang remains in charge.

TRANSFER

Along with the reorganization, Condit said assistant prosecutors Daniel C. Devine would be transfered to the South Oakland division and Montague R. Hunt brought to the central county office.

He said the switch is being made to give both men broader experience.

In another staff change, assistant Robert L. Shipper has announced his resignation effective Friday. He has been on the prosecutor's staff since March 1962.

Condit said he had no plans to fill the vacancy.

Traffic Toll Hits 680

GOVERNOR AT OU — Gov. Romney is greeted at Oakland University by high school students Sue Turner of 234 Pioneer, Pontiac Central, and Jim LeFurgy of 2750 Colrain, Waterford Township High School. Romney was keynote speaker yesterday at the second annual Governor's Conference on Student Leadership.

City Commission to Hear Urban Renewal Measures

Urban renewal items will dominate the lengthy agenda for tonight's City Commission meeting at City Hall.

Action is slated on resolutions to vacate several streets and alleys in the urban renewal area, particularly those that lie in a land parcel bounded by Orchard Lake Avenue, South Saginaw and the Perimeter Road.

That land is the proposed site of an A&P Supermarket and shopping center.

Commissioners will also be asked to okay a contract with the legal firm of Travis, Warren and Nayer for services involving the acquisition of additional properties in the R20 urban renewal project area.

* * *

A resolution deeming it a necessity to acquire property at Jackson and Saginaw through condemnation will also be up for approval.

LEFT OFF LIST

The property had originally been tabbed for acquisition but was left off the condemnation list early in 1962 at the request of former mayor Robert A. Landry, after the city reached an understanding with owners that it would be purchased at a later date.

The commission is also expected to formally award a $40,341 contract for urban renewal site improvements to Anderson and Ruzzin Construction Co., of New Baltimore.

Up for public hearings and final approval are two ordinances to rezone to Residential-3, property at 456 Mount Clemens and a 15-acre parcel south of Bethune Elementary School.

* * *

Pontiac Osteopathic Hospital has proposed to build a 15-unit apartment building for interns and resident doctors on the Mount Clemens site.

HOUSING PROPOSED

Charles L. Langs, a major urban renewal developer in Pontiac, has proposed a 175-unit town house-type multiple housing development on the 15-acre parcel.

* * *

Commissioners are also slated to honor R. Clare Cummings, former supervisor, and John E. Linabury, former planning commission member. Both veterans recently stepped down after many years of service.

* * *

In other business, commissioners will get a half-dozen reports and zoning recommendations from the planning commission, conduct hearings on several proposed public improvement projects and receive deeds for several properties recently purchased by the city.

City Expected to Dissolve Mail Bureau

The City Commission is expected to officially dissolve the city's bureau of community relations tonight.

* * *

A resolution establishing the bureau was adopted May 7, 1963. The bureau had been proposed by former Mayor Robert A. Landry to handle mail and correspondence for commissioners.

On tonight's agenda is a resolution to repeal the original resolution of a year ago.

The move is being taken in an effort to cut expenses in the 1964 budget.

* * *

Mayor William H. Taylor Jr. had agreed to establishing the bureau on a 90-day trial basis last year, but often criticized it as a needless expense after the trial period was over.

* * *

The bureau officially went into operation June 1.

* * *

Community Relations Director Mrs. Patricia Kleindl has been reassigned to secretarial duties in another city department.

Governor Addresses Students

Gov. Romney spoke to more than 500 students and faculty advisers from 55 state high schools yesterday at Oakland University.

Students attending the second annual Governor's Conference on Student Leadership heard Romney declare that "the very essence of Americanism is the fact that we are children of a Creator."

Romney added, "The frontier is over and education today plays a much bigger role in the country than it once did."

Discussion groups were led by Clark E. DeHaven, instructor in the college of business and coordinator for organization management at Michigan State University; Charles S. Dittman, director of Conferences, Hillsdale College; Russell Elliott, director of professional development programs, Division of Continuing Education, Oakland University.

Also, James McMonagle, Wayne State University professor, and June Shada, family life director-consultant for the Archdiocese of Detroit.

Six area schools were among those coplanning the conference.

OU Library to Get Portrait of Kresge

A color portrait of Sebastian S. Kresge will be presented tonight to Oakland University by the Friends of the Kresge Library.

Former governor Murray D. VanWagoner will make the presentation at the annual dinner of the library group at 7:30 p.m.

Kresge is founder of the famous firm that bears his name and creator of the Kresge Foundation. The foundation contributed $1.5 million to OU for the library building.

During the 20-minute meeting, the commission was requested to consider helicopter rides as part of its centennial celebration.

* * *

LOUIS MILTON JR.

Rapist Given 9 to 20 Years

Was Found Guilty After Second Trial

A 9- to 20-year prison sentence was ordered this morning for 31-year-old Louis Milton Jr., of 404 Bagley, convicted of rape.

* * *

The sentence was handed down by Oakland County Circuit Court Judge James S. Thorburn, who presided over Milton's second trial which ended in a jury conviction April 14.

Milton was accused of raping a 19-year-old Bloomfield Township girl in April, 1963. He was remanded to Southern Michigan prison at Jackson.

His first trial, in February, ended in a hung jury. In both trials defense requests that Milton, a Negro, be tried by an all-Negro jury, were denied.

* * *

Milton still faces two other charges of rape, one involving a 31-year-old mother of two last September and the other a 51-year-old woman in 1962.

Board Sets Hearings on Mill Split

The Oakland County Tax Allocation Board will begin hearings tomorrow at the Courthouse Auditorium prior to splitting this year's 15-mill county tax levy among townships, school districts and county government.

The board will hear millage requests from school and governmental units.

The hearings will last for the next three days. The allocation board will reconvene Monday for a preliminary decision on the rates.

These rates will be based on the county's recommended $2.3-billion equalized valuation, which is the amount on which the 15 mills will be levied if the figure is approved by State Board of Equalization May 25.

* * *

The allocation board will reconvene May 25 to set final rates.

AUDITORS SEEKING

Based on the county's recommended valuation, the County Board of Auditors will be seeking 5.91 of the 15 mills toward financing a proposed $18.4 million budget for county government next year.

Last year the allocation board gave county government 5.19 mills toward this year's $16-million budget.

The board last year alloted .10 mills to Oakland Schools, which is responsible for special education and other countywide educational services.

* * *

The remaining 9.71 mills was allocated to the 30 school districts in the county, less whatever amount was given to the various township governments.

Requesting townships got anywhere from 1 to 1.64 mills.

Tomorrow's meeting will begin at 9 a.m. and last until noon.

Plane Tragedies Claim 184

By The Associated Press

Plane tragedies in this country and abroad since last Thursday have killed 184 persons. Ten others are missing.

Many of the victims were American military personnel.

A U.S. military air transport jetliner with 83 persons aboard crashed short of a runway and burst into flame at Clark Air Force Base north of Manila yesterday.

Seventy-three persons died in the wreckage, and another two died in the base hospital.

* * *

In addition, the Air Force said, an American serviceman riding in a taxi was killed when the plane struck the vehicle.

NAVY PLANE

Ten crewmen are missing from a U.S. Navy long-range patrol plane that crashed at sea yesterday 20 miles off Cadiz, Spain. The plane, based at Jacksonville, Fla., was participating in maneuvers off the U.S. Polaris submarine base at Rota, Spain.

Two men were killed yesterday when a U.S. Air Force C119 carrying 43 student paratroopers to a jump zone made a crash landing in a field near Searle, Ala.

Also yesterday, four crewmen were killed in a crash in southern England of a British Vulcan bomber, one of a type that can carry Britain's H-bombs.

Last Saturday, the six-member crew died when a C124 military transport crashed and burned in a rainstorm near Cooperton, Okla. The plane apparently exploded in the air.

PRECISION FLYER

Also on Saturday, Capt. Eugene J. Devlin, 31, a member of the Air Force Thunderbird precision flying team, was killed when his F105 jet exploded before a scheduled landing at Hamilton Air Force Base, Calif.

The six-man team was returning from an air show at Seattle.

Last Friday, there were only three survivors among the 49 persons aboard an Argentine Air Force Courier plane which hit a high coastal sand dune while landing in a dense fog near Lima, Peru.

* * *

Forty-four persons died last Thursday in the crash of a Pacific Airlines plane near Concord, Calif. A gun was found in the wreckage and investigators have sought to determine whether the pilot was shot by a passenger.

Also on Thursday, five men were killed when a British Royal Air Force Valiant bomber crashed in Lincolnshire.

Greek Officers Shot

Killings Stir Cypriots

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP)—The killing of two Greek army officers and a Greek Cypriot youth leader by Turkish Cypriots heightened tension on Cyprus today.

The Greek government denounced as "cold-blooded Turkish murder" the shooting Monday in the old walled Turkish area of Famagusta, an east coast port.

A third Greek officer was wounded. He said they drove into the Turkish quarter by mistake in civilian clothes but in a Greek army car.

"We were on the way out when armed Turks stopped us and ordered us out of the car," said Capt. Panayiotis Tarsoullis, 38. "Three Turks in uniform and a civilian all armed with submachine guns opened fire at us without giving us a chance."

NOT ARMED

Tarsoullis said he was not armed.

However, U.N. headquarters said it believed all four men were armed and that evidence gathered by Irish troops indicated all had fired weapons, although it was not clear who had started the shooting.

A statement read over the Greek national radio by Greek Defense Minister Peter Garoufalias said the four men were shot after showing identity cards.

Turkish sources said that during the shooting an aged Turk drinking coffee in a shop near the gate was shot dead.

DEEP SORROW

Greek Premier George Papandreou issued a statement in Athens expressing "my deep sorrow for the tragic event."

In Nicosia, Vice President Fazil Kuchuk, head of the Turkish Cypriot community, called the incident "deplorable."

* * *

It was the first time the Greek army garrison on the island has suffered casualties in the communal fighting which has caused the death of hundreds of Greek and Turkish cypriots.

The incident touched off a wave of sniping fire in Famagusta. A Turkish Cypriot riding a scooter was wounded seriously. Greek Cypriots seized seven Turkish Cypriots.

The 600-man Irish U.N. contingent sealed off the main gates of the Turkish quarter after unconfirmed reports that the Greek Cypriot national guard had mobilized north of the walled city to attack.

Russians Cite Prosperity in Word War With China

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Communist Party expressed confidence today that it will win the word war with Red China because of prosperity achieved by the Soviet Union among other things.

An "upsurge of well-being of the working people" proves Moscow has the right line, the Communist Party newspaper Pravda claimed.

In the third and last of a series of editorials giving Kremlin views in the Chinese-Soviet conflict, Pravda reiterated that "Peking's theoretical concepts are designed to 'substantiate' and 'justify' the high-power nationalist line of the Chinese leaders, to promote their hegemonic aspirations, to split the worldwide liberation struggle, to attract to Peking's aegis definite circles both within and outside the Communist movement."

Pravda said the Chinese hope to achieve "the unconditional ideological surrender of all those who do not share their views that by means of blackmail, slander and threats . . ."

* * *

The Soviet Party said it has "assurance that unity of the Communist movement will be restored and strengthened" because the correct line is proven by ever new (Russian) successes in the construction of socialism and communism, prosperity of economy and culture of a new society, promotion of democracy and upsurge of well-being of the working people, growth of might and power of the world socialist system."

CALL ENDORSED

In Budapest, the Red bosses of Hungary and East Germany endorsed the Soviet call for a world conference of Communist parties for a showdown in the power struggle between Moscow and Peking.

East Germany's Walter Ulbricht, on a state visit to Hungary, joined Hungarian chief Janos Kadar yesterday in echoing the Kremlin's condemnation of Red China for splitting the world Communist movement.

Auto Sales Spur Talk of Records

DETROIT (AP) — Auto production and sales continued in high gear today, leading one trade publication to predict that U.S. auto plants would set an high production mark with its 964 models.

Ward's Automotive Reports forecast that the U.S. industry would turn out 7.9 million cars in the 1964 model run. The current mark of 7.34 million was set with the '63s.

* * *

Eight of the 45 U.S. auto assembly plants worked overtime last Saturday as demand continued strong. Ford plants in Dallas, Norfolk, St. Paul and Dearborn worked the extra day, as did Chevrolet plants in Los Angeles, Kansas City and Janesville, Wis. The Cadillac plant in Detroit also was on overtime.

U.S. auto makers turned out their 6 millionth passenger car of the 1964 model run last Friday. The week also saw them build the 3 millionth car of the 1964 calendar year.

Spurred by reports from dealers around the country that customer demand is running strong, auto makers have stepped up their production goals in recent days.

We drove 3,243 miles to make a point about our Super Turbine transmission

You can do it on the way to the grocery store

Would we drive a Buick with a Super Turbine transmission* all the way from Pasadena to New York City just to win Class C in the Mobil Economy Run?

Of course. And just in case anyone failed to get the message, we did it twice again. And won Class D and Class G. In all, Buick entered 4 classes, and won 3—more than any other make of car. (Remember when people used to think Buicks used a lot of gas?) Did we make our point about the Super Turbine transmission? You bet.

Obviously you aren't planning to drive 3,243 miles to prove your new Buick is economical. And you can't expect to get as many miles per gallon as the experts in the Economy Run. Still, it is nice to know you can win the economy run around town. And the good looks prize at the same time. See your Buick dealer about it. No doubt he'll think of a number of other reasons to drive a Buick.

Goldwater, Rockefeller Unopposed Today in Two Primaries

WASHINGTON (AP) — Light voter turnouts were expected today with New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller running unopposed in West Virginia's Republican presidential primary and Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona alone on the GOP presidential ballot in Nebraska.

In both states, Democratic delegates to be selected are expected to favor President Johnson.

Rockefeller has no opposition in West Virginia, and write-in votes are not counted.

Goldwater, the GOP front-runner in delegate strength, may run into write-in opposition in Nebraska from supporters of Henry Cabot Lodge, former Vice President Richard M. Nixon and Rockefeller.

LITTLE EFFECT

The expected Rockefeller and Goldwater victories in the two presidential primaries may have little effect on the GOP presidential race. Neither vote is binding on delegates to the Republican National Convention.

None of the candidates for the 14 spots on the West Virginia delegation are pledged to a candidate.

Most of the Nebraska delegate candidates favor Goldwater. Six district delegates are being picked today, and 10 at-large delegates are to be chosen June 1 at a state GOP convention.

Rhode Island Republicans are also picking their convention delegation—at two district and one statewide convention tonight. The state has no primary.

BARRY BACKERS

Gov. John Chafee says he hopes the delegation will be uncommitted. Supporters of Goldwater say they have four backers on a slate chosen by the GOP State Executive Committee and plan to fight for more.

★ ★ ★

Nebraska and West Virginia also have primary contests for governor and congressmen. Races for governor held chief attention in both states.

Rockefeller was busy campaigning today in Oregon where six GOP presidential contenders square off Friday in the week's most important political test.

Goldwater made his only primary appearance in Nebraska Monday night. Speaking to a statewide radio-television network, he attacked the Johnson administration's handling of the war in South Viet Nam and said a Republican president could bring peace to Southeast Asia.

Horse Player Laments: Can't Find a Bookie

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—Mayor Louie Welch told reporters Monday a citizen had telephoned him to complain that, thanks to him, she missed betting on the Kentucky Derby for the first time in 10 years.

Her bookie went out of business because of the mayor's recent police, vice and gambling investigation, she said.

Barry Appears Gaining for 1st Ballot Nomination

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Barry Goldwater appears to be piling up backlog support among publicly uncommitted delegates which could strengthen his bid for a first-ballot Republican presidential nomination.

If the Arizona senator wins the June 2 California primary and adds that state's 86 convention votes to his total, his strategists now believe he will come close to having 600 of the 655 needed for the nomination.

If the state-by-state roll call of the 1,308 delegates at the San Francisco convention indicates Goldwater is headed toward a figure only a few short of the magic total, his supporters believe there will be some quick shifts made in his direction.

They point to Wisconsin, far down the roll call line, as a likely source of Goldwater support in such circumstances. The state's 30 votes are pledged to Rep. Byrnes in a favorite son holding operation.

STATE PRIMARY

This served its principal purpose when it kept major contenders out of the state primary, in which Democrats could cross over. Goldwater delegates probably won't feel they have any further obligation to Byrnes if the Arizona senator needs them.

Kentucky also seems likely to offer Goldwater some additional votes if he moves up within striking distance of the nomination as the roll call proceeds.

Kentucky is expected to cast its 24 votes on the first call for Sen. Thruston B. Morton as a favorite son. But Morton said he will release immediately any delegate who might ask to change his vote. He said Goldwater had the support of about 15 Kentucky delegates.

If Colorado picks an uncommitted or favorite son delegation, Goldwater's backers believe they can count on several quick votes out of the state's 18.

CALIFORNIA PRIMARY

The calculations of the Goldwater strategists are all built on the assumption that their man will bowl over New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller in the California primary.

They already have written off Oregon's Friday primary as a loss, with the expectation that Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge will win that state's 18 votes.

★ ★ ★

The Goldwater strategists expect Lodge's backers then to appeal to the supporters of Lodge and other potential candidates to vote for Rockefeller in California in an effort to stop Goldwater.

Coalition moves of this nature haven't been very successful in other states and Goldwater's people are not worried on this score.

★ ★ ★

They are worried about the possibility that former President Dwight D. Eisenhower might be coaxed into making some statement that would damage Goldwater's chances in California. The weight of opinion is that Eisenhower won't take sides publicly at this point. But the Goldwater strategists can't be sure.

Bomb Hits Car of U.S. Employe

MADRID, Spain (AP) — A bomb damaged the parked automobile of a woman employe of the U.S. Embassy today near the embassy offices. It was the ninth bombing in Madrid in 48 hours.

Since some of the bombings appeared aimed at U.S. property, police sources expressed belief terrorists were trying to discourage foreign tourists from visiting Madrid for its annual San Isidro fair.

Officials said the explosion, clearly audible at the embassy, came 90 minutes before the staff would have left for lunch. A tire and other parts of the car were damaged.

Police sources had reported eight small noise bombs exploded in different parts of Madrid during the past 48 hours. Two persons were slightly injured and damage was minor.

★ ★ ★

The same sources said apparently some of the bombs were thrown from passing cars.

TOP HOTELS

Two of the bombs exploded in first-class hotels—Castellana Hilton and Fenix. One blew up against the commerce ministry and another in the area of the U.S. Embassy.

Two persons were injured last night when a bomb went off in front of the Hotel Gran Via. Some windows were broken.

Despite the bombings, the surge of tourists is so large that hotels and pensions are booked up for not less than three weeks.

Police are searching for the bombers but no arrests were immediately reported.

Wants Senators Quizzed in Baker Case

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Clifford P. Case, R-N.J., told the Senate Rules Committee today it has a responsibility to get to the bottom of the Bobby Baker case—and not treat senators as "a privileged class."

★ ★ ★

"No investigation of Bobby Baker can have any real meaning without an investigation of the relations of members of the Senate with Bobby Baker," he said.

★ ★ ★

Baker resigned under fire last Oct. 7 as secretary to the Senate's Democratic majority after questions were raised about his outside business and financial dealings, in which he acquired a claimed fortune of more than $2 million.

★ ★ ★

Case said the Rules Committee, in its investigation of Baker's affairs, had given the impression that it wanted to "put an end to an unpleasant episode, to close the door, to push the whole matter aside in the hope that it will soon be forgotten."

SORRY STATE

"I suggest it is intolerable that we leave the matter in this sorry state," he said in testimony prepared for a closed hearing of the committee.

★ ★ ★

Over a month ago Case requested an opportunity to be heard by the committee, now at work on a report of its findings and recommendations. An invitation to Case to appear in closed session was issued only last week.

Case protested at the outset of his statement against the failure to have a public hearing, saying that "what we are concerned with" is the integrity of the Senate and "the restoration of public confidence" in the Senate.

He urged, as he has before, that the committee ask each member of the Senate these questions:

QUESTIONS

● "Did you ever have any business or financial dealings with Bobby Baker, directly or indirectly? If so, what were they?"

★ ★ ★

● "Did Bobby Baker ever give you, get for you, offer you or offer to get for you: any campaign contributions; any help in making up campaign deficits by gifts, purchase of tickets or otherwise; any retainer or employment; any perferment in committee assignment or otherwise; anything of value?"

★ ★ ★

Case said this was a way for the committee to get information denied it by Baker when he invoked his Fifth Amendment protection against possible self-incrimination and refused to answer questions or produce documents.

"If other persons can be called to give information on the Bobby Baker episode, why not members of the Senate?" Case asked. "Why should senators be treated as a privileged class? Should the preservation of the privacy of senators outrank the preservation of the integrity of the Senate as an institution?"

Southerners Go in Huddle on Jury Trial Amendment

WASHINGTON (AP) — Southern senators huddle today on how to play their hand in a new attempt to write their own version of a jury trial amendment into the civil rights bill.

This one gives the defendant in a criminal contempt action bill a choice: a jury trial and the possibility of a stiffer penalty over a nonjury trial with lesser punishment guaranteed.

★ ★ ★

The Dixie bloc bypassed a bipartisan, limited jury trial proposal that had been pending business —calling up Monday night the proposal of Sen. George A. Smathers, D-Fla.

This gives the Southerners another crack at reversing a one-vote defeat last week on a jury trial amendment proposed by Sen. Thruston B. Morton, R-Ky.

NO VOTING

Just when a vote will come on the Smathers' proposal may be known after a meeting of the Southerners today, but Sen. Richard B. Russell, D-Ga., said he didn't think there would be any voting this week.

★ ★ ★

Administration supporters had predicted a vote Monday or today on limited jury trials.

This went by the boards, and Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, D-Minn., floor manager of the bill, gave the Senate a verbal spanking for the long debate over civil rights.

★ ★ ★

"It isn't the South that's delaying the civil rights bill," he said. "It's the 81 senators who do not live in the South."

Humphrey held the Senate for a late night session and indicated more of the same would be forthcoming.

★ ★ ★

Monday night's session lasted until a minute before midnight with nearly half of the final six hours spent on quorum calls.

Missing Tug Back in Port

PORT AUSTIN (AP) — The commercial fishing tug "Scotty," missing over Sunday night, arrived in harbor here Monday.

The tug owner, Don Brennan, 30, and his brother, Richard 33, of Port Huron, said they did not know they had been reported missing and were being sought.

The Brennans said they had decided against trying to get to harbor in the dark Sunday night and dropped anchor at Alabaster until daybreak.

Zimmerman, who had suffered from a heart ailment, retired as publisher last Dec. 31 but continued as vice president of the Plainfield Courier-News Co.

Ionia Stage Production Given Excess Ballyhoo

It is seldom that the action of one theatrical produces the plot for another. But this phenomenon of a by-product drama recently made headlines in Ionia.

★ ★ ★

The dramatis personae are, in order of appearance:

- A young miss playing a lead role in a high school presentation of the onetime Broadway hit "Damn Yankees."
- A local cleric who thought the 16-year-old star overexposed her characterization of the dancer "Lola," protested to the school board, and circulated his objection in the church bulletin.
- A couple who took exception to the censure aimed at her and voiced their feelings in a letter to the local newspaper.
- A group of the church hierarchy who will consider the pair's petition for reinstatement following excommunication for the public airing of their views.

The title of the real-life offering, the run of which will assuredly be limited to its initial performance? Tempest in a Teapot.

For that's what the goings-on across the State amount to. There is, however, one decided note of consequential seriousness about it: the not unlikely deleterious effect the publicity and implied rebuke will have on a sensitive and impressionable teen-ager who is the innocent victim of the charade.

Innocent, inasmuch as she was undoubtedly playing her stage part under direction of the school's dramatic department.

We believe that the zealous churchman would have better served Christianity, the community and the young lady had his criticism —if indeed it were justified—taken the form of a little private counseling with the principals involved.

Alien Space Visitors Get Down to Earth?

Those to whom flying saucers are a special dish will smack their lips over the latest reported sighting—in New Mexico—of one of the mysterious objects.

Real or fancied sightings of UFOs (Unidentifiable Flying Objects) have been aired since about 1947. So persistent were accounts lending credulity to the genuineness of the unearthly craft that the Air Force established a special arm to investigate reports of UFOs.

During 16 years, more than 8,000 reported sightings (380 last year) of unexplainable airborne vehicles were run to earth. All but 7.7 per cent were accounted for by known phenomena. The Air Force doesn't say that those unexplained necessarily indicate interplanetary significance—merely that the solution is still up in the air.

★ ★ ★

During the height of the flying saucer hoopdedoo, there was qualified speculation in high places as to the validity of the notion that our planet was indeed being visited by beings from outer space.

Many competent authorities granted it plausibility. One national-circulation magazine gave the subject feature treatment with a summation that didn't rule out the possibility of unannounced and unknown visitors.

Another gave it equal priority, but purportedly revealed that the objects seen were aircraft prototypes of our own—but of such advanced design and secret status that even our own Air Force was not in on it.

★ ★ ★

By now, saucers have pretty well been relegated to the mythological limbo reserved for supernatural manifestations that periodically claim national attention.

But those saucer diehards can cling to a last straw of hope in the knowledge that since our own planet is undeniably inhabited, other planets — now beyond our cosmic ken — logically are also peopled.

And as we are currently making feverish plans to begin a round of interstellar social calls, why might not some of our spatial contemporaries have had the same idea a bit ahead of us?

Court Legalized Negro Struggle

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON — For three centuries American Negroes had been waiting at the gate that kept them in the Jim Crow cellar of American life. Then on May 17, 1954, the Supreme Court unlocked it for them.

MARLOW

On that far-reaching day in May, the court said public school segregation because of a child's race was wrong, that it meant unequal treatment and was therefore unconstitutional. But the ruling really went far beyond schools.

For in effect the court said the very principle of segregation is wrong, which meant from then on Negroes could fight with confidence against all forms of segregation and discrimination in public places.

They have been fighting since. And many white people — including the clergy—who had sat idly by through the decades until 1954 have joined them in the struggle.

★ ★ ★

But prejudiced whites are an obstinate army who never really believed the Declaration of Independence which said all men are created equal and have tried to ignore or defy the court in preserving segregation and discrimination.

NO MONOPOLY IN SOUTH

Even some white Christian churches still refuse to let Negroes in. And Negroes are discovering, if they doubted it, that the South has no monopoly on prejudice. They have found it intensely against them in the North, too.

If it had not been for that court decision of 10 years ago, the American Negro might still be suffering discrimination in comparative silence for the law—or the court's interpretation of the law—was against him.

Police would probably have felt far freer to smash Negro protests because of a decision of the Supreme Court in 1896 which said segregation was constitutional.

It wasn't until 20 years later that Negroes were able to begin chipping away at that decision.

NAACP SET STRATEGY

The real march began in the 1930s when the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People decided on a strategy which was crowned with the final triumph of 1954.

This was the strategy: bit by bit, case by case, fight all the way up to the Supreme Court specific cases of discrimination, like segregation of Negroes on buses, trains, in graduate schools. They won case after case but never total victory.

In each specific case the court might say the segregation practiced was wrong without ruling out the principle of segregation. That finally came 10 years ago, thus wiping out completely the decision of 1896.

Negro agitation will increase this summer and even if Congress approves the kind of civil rights bill the Negroes want, it will still be, as their leadership has said, only a part of what they feel is their due.

David Lawrence Says:

Facts Show JFK Not Hate Victim

WASHINGTON — President Johnson made a strange speech a few days ago which surprised many people throughout the country.

He attributed the assassination of his predecessor to "hate" and fear and "bigotry."

This is something which is so much at variance with the facts published thus far concerning Lee Harvey Oswald, the accused assassin, that it has caused wonder whether Mr. Johnson's address was prompted by an overemotional speech writer or whether he himself has concluded that the assassination was produced by the alleged "hate" doctrines of some of the people who were opposed to Mr. Kennedy.

Speaking last Saturday at the dedication of the John F. Kennedy Cultural Center in New York, President Johnson said in part:

"John F. Kennedy was the victim of the hate that was a part of our country. It is a disease that occupies the minds of the few but brings danger to the many. . . .

★ ★ ★

"If we had more centers like this, if we had done our job a little better and we had feared a little less and our hatred had been minimized and our bigotry driven underground — John Fitzgerald Kennedy would be here with us today as our 35th President.

GAVE LIFE

"He gave his life for his country. He need not have given it except for those who hate and those who fear and those who frighten easily and those who feel insecure."

When the late president was assassinated, there were many people who attributed the murder to the "hate wave" in America.

But almost every piece of evidence that has been made public since indicates that Oswald had a deranged mind and that his aberration started in his youth.

★ ★ ★

His erratic behavior was noticeable in the years immediately preceding the episode at Dallas.

LESS BIGOTRY

Could Oswald's action have been prevented if there had been less "bigotry" in the United States, and is it conceivable that, even if there were more centers like the John F. Kennedy Cultural Center, John Fitzgerald Kennedy would be here with us today?

Medical history shows that, irrespective of the ideology of any country, there are deranged minds which are responsible for the commission of crimes that are inexplicable on any rational or logical basis.

Until now it had been widely assumed that Oswald was insane and that his crime was that of a demented individual.

The theory that it could somehow be associated with hate or prejudices or "bigotry" in the land had been pretty well dispelled.

But President Johnson's remarks raise the question as to just why, after a lapse of several months, Mr. Johnson chose to revive the theory.

Could it be that the Warren Commission has divulged to the President some information that has not yet been made available to the public at large?

Authoritative sources deny this assumption.

The whole thing has an air of mystery, because on its face it just doesn't seem consistent with Mr. Johnson's approach in the past.

While he has condemned the action of the assassin and has also condemned "bigotry" and hatred and all similar emotions that are to be found in a vast population, he never before has attributed the crime directly to the inspiration of the "hate" groups or a "hate" psychology.

Bob Considine Says:

Nixon Has Nebraska Right in His Hip Pocket

OMAHA — If Richard Nixon ever declares formally for the GOP nomination he can enter the fray with Nebraska once again in his hip pocket.

It gave him his biggest single state edge over JFK in 1960, some 170,000 more votes, 62 per cent of the total, and CONSIDINE judging from his swing through this area the other day he could duplicate the feat.

Nixon has been employing a neat one-two-three punch technique during his orbit of the political arena.

He comes on business, stays to speak at a nonpolitical function, and leaves on a political note.

★ ★ ★

The business in this case was with his friend Don Kendall, president of Pepsi.

The speech followed, and the third stage was best described in Nathan Nielsen's interview in the Evening World-Herald, a staunch Nixon-for-President paper in 1960.

UNITE PARTY

"To win the presidency in November, the Republican National Convention in July must nominate a candidate who can unite the party (the former vice president said).

"Referring to himself as 'titular leader' of the GOP, Mr. Nixon said that 'one of the best roles I can play' between now and the convention 'is attempt to bring the Republican party together.'"

Asked whether Sen. Goldwater could unite the party as the presidential nominee, Mr. Nixon answered that this would be determined by how Mr. Goldwater conducts himself.

★ ★ ★

Nixon said he had differences with all the GOP candidates, but he will support the nominee.

CUBA EXILES

He urged recognition of a Cuban government in exile, tightening of the blockade, ground inspection of Cuban bases if the Russians threaten over further U2 flights, and carrying the war to Communists in North Viet Nam and Laos with Vietnamese troops.

He charged LBJ with being "more liberal and more federal-centered" than JFK, and predicted that Robert Kennedy will be LBJ's running mate.

He concluded, as he has elsewhere: "But I'm not campaigning here or anywhere."

★ ★ ★

Before Nixon left Omaha, three well-known Nebraskans announced they were supporting a statewide letter-writing campaign for Nixon under the caption of "Nebraskans for a Free Choice."

Aim is to persuade voters to write his name on the ballot in today's presidential preference primary.

GOP Having Serious Squabble?

By BRUCE BIOSSAT

SAN FRANCISCO (NEA) — The Republican party may be in the greatest internal trouble of its long life.

BIOSSAT

The gulf between its moderate - liberal wing and its right wing is widening to perilous dimensions.

The very serious concern felt on this score by many leading Republicans was underlined by a number of GOP governors who attended the recent Western Governors' Conference here.

They are back in their home territories now. But they left behind them in San Francisco, where the 1964 Republican presidential nominee will be chosen in two months, an atmosphere in which are mixed a shrugging resignation, resentment, bitterness and fear.

The only exceptions to this mood among western governors are Governors Paul Fannin of Arizona and Tim Babcock of Montana, who are, of course, for Arizona Sen. Barry Goldwater for the GOP nomination.

The growing belief that Goldwater may be very close to that prize if he wins the California primary June 2 is the matter which so deeply worries the other Western governors.

★ ★ ★

Let's be blunt about the elements of this concern:

1. They believe — and their view appears to be shared by all but one of the nine Republican governors outside the West—that to nominate Goldwater may be to pick the worst presidential loser since Alfred M. Landon of Kansas in 1936.

The non-Goldwater westerners were stunned that a candidate like Harold Stassen could collect 105,000 votes to Barry's 262,000 in conservative Indiana's presidential primary.

Says one western governor: "If we choose Barry in July, it looks to me as if we'll get our tails beat in November."

2. The non-Goldwater governors, a majority by 13 to 3, believe further that to nominate Goldwater would be to place the party in the hands of "unrealistic" arch-conservatives — here-and-there extremists — who would assure Republican defeats at presidential and governorship levels for the next two decades.

Another troubled governor speaks:

"It strikes me they (the arch-conservatives) may be less interested in winning an election than in possessing the wreckage."

3. These same leaders were severely annoyed at what they regard as harsh, rough-shod practices by Goldwater forces pressing for convention delegates in state after state.

Governors in San Francisco echoed a complaint heard often in many parts of the country — that "rule-or-ruin" tactics by Goldwater backers are forcing "good people" to wither out of the party or into inactivity.

Comments on Resignation of Volunteer Firemen

My husband belonged to the Walled Lake Volunteer Fire Fighters Assn. until May 5 when it resigned as a body. This resignation was accepted by council members who are tired of discussing this problem and by those who refuse to change a bad decision. Since when do council members cease to act in the people's interest?

★ ★ ★

The problem was passed around, tabled, delayed as long as the volunteers could understand. Their only alternative was to resign. Was this the wish of the few who hold the reins of Walled Lake, or the entire city?

★ ★ ★

These firemen were proud of their job and showed it at every call by responding the fastest way possible. They learned these techniques by meeting twice a month for drill and meetings. My husband works six days a week, yet he was willing to give up part of his only day off to help. We do not have a healthy community when men who offer their time and energy can be used as pawns in the race for power of a few men.

Write on Suit Against Waterford Twp.

The Lake Oakland Heights subdivision has sued the Waterford Township Board in order to prevent a water tank from being erected at the entrance to the subdivision. When the subdivision was built the township and builder signed a contract stating no tower could be built inside the boundaries. Now one is being built 50 feet outside.

Before last spring's election, officials pretended to cooperate in finding another location. After election, officials lowered the boom and the matter was closed. The lawsuit has exhausted the funds of the subdivision's residents. Their attorney has been in court every Monday since November, with the exception of three, for minor details.

I wonder if the amount paid to Paul Mandel, Waterford's attorney, for this one suit wouldn't have more than paid the additional cost of another location for the tank.

Curious

"Disgusted" stated that Lake Oakland Heights residents are disappointed in the outcome of the suit against Waterford Township. He should speak for himself.

When I have something to say, I'll say it and the only time I've felt it necessary to defend my rights has been against the board members of Lake Oakland Heights Association.

Remarks Continue on Past City Election

Pontiac's only newspaper used its position to great advantage in the citywide election of commissioners. The most militant segregationist couldn't have worked harder to suppress the voice of Pontiac's Negroes.

The Press should be commended for the effort to take the right to elect officials out of the hands of incompetents and give it to those better qualified and for the way it was camouflaged.

Now all we have to do is wait for steady and rapid progress. I am sure the Negroes can see just how much their vote meant. Perhaps there was no significance in the fact the two districts that supported losing candidates contain nearly all of Pontiac's Negro citizenry.

Fred L. Anthony
482 S. Edith

I see the ex-mayor is very unhappy saying that the write-in names are illegal. If he knew that it was illegal, why didn't he say so before election? No, he thought he had a 100 to 1 shot of being elected. But it backfired on him. I thought that the vote between Webb and Wellbaum would be split even and he would be sitting high, but found out Wellbaum had a few more friends than he had. Those pamphlets he had put on cars parked around Catholic churches Sunday morning didn't do him any good.

More power to our new mayor.

Dems Ironing Out Position

Votes Due on Antipoverty Bill Amendments

WASHINGTON (AP) — The crucial voting on amendments to President Johnson's antipoverty bill is expected to begin today in the House Education and Labor Committee.

★ ★ ★

Democratic members of the committee have been meeting in caucus for a week to iron out their position on a series of amendments. They are reported in full agreement on all but one.

★ ★ ★

The one area of discord centers on the role parochial schools and agencies should play in the local administration of the program.

Activities begin today with a meeting of the committee's special subcommittee on poverty. It is expected to approve the bill and send it to the full committee, which then will consider the series of amendments.

PROTEST MOVE

Republicans have complained loudly over the Democratic caucus meetings. They have cried "lockout" and "partisanship."

The committee's ranking Republican, Rep. Peter H. B. Frelinghuysen of New Jersey has expressed fears about an attempted steamroller by the Democrats.

★ ★ ★

"We hope we will not be faced with the proposition of making immediate decisions," Frelinghuysen said Monday and added: "We're still optimistic that our views will be received."

Frelinghuysen and other Republicans say they want the bill changed, first, to eliminate what they call a new federal agency of poverty, and, second, to allot funds to the states and let them administer the program.

These changes have been incorporated into a Republican bill introduced by Frelinghuysen.

Committee Republicans met for more than two hours Monday with Sargent Shriver, the man picked by President Johnson to administer the war on poverty.

Frelinghuysen later told newsmen that Shriver had not changed the minds of the Republicans "one iota."

PROGRAM VARIETY

Johnson's bill, which would provide $963 million in fiscal 1965 to fight poverty, would include a variety of programs:

1. A job corps, work-training programs, and work-study programs for youth.
2. Urban and rural community action programs.
3. Loans and grants to combat poverty in rural areas.
4. Loans to businesses to encourage employment and investment.
5. Funds to stimulate states for experimental programs to help unemployed fathers get jobs.

NY Crackdown on Parking Lots Near World Fair

NEW YORK (AP) — Makeshift parking lots on front lawns and empty lots near the World's Fair are the targets of a city crackdown.

City License Commissioner Joseph Dicarlo said yesterday about 100 unlicensed lots near the fair charge $2.50 to $3 a day. The fair's lots charge $1.50 but fines sometimes are long.

★

Dicarlo said licensed lots must file price schedules and if they charge more than the posted tariffs, the department can move against them.

★ ★

"I don't want people to get soaked," he said. "But at the same time I want to create as much parking as possible to make people more comfortable."

JANE PARKER WHITE BREAD

High Sugar Foods Cheat Your Health

By DR. WILLIAM BRADY

When children at home or in school are encouraged or permitted to take pop or chocolate malted for refreshment, instead of milk (or skim milk or buttermilk) or fruit juice, it is evident that their parents or teachers are not concerned about nutrition and health.

The objection to sugar, candy, sweetened beverages, cookies, cake, ice cream and other sweets, as a regular daily part of the child's diet, is not that sugar in any form is injurious to health or (in my opinion) even harmful to the teeth, but simply that it cheats the child (and so I call the items mentioned "cheat-food") because it quickly satisfies appetite and spoils or cloys normal appetite or desire for more essential foods.

The child can't get the biologically complete proteins or the vitamins and minerals he needs by sucking on candy or drinking a bottle of pop.

Besides the items mentioned, other cheat-foods, particularly sugary "breakfast foods" and things made of refined white flour (starch), satisfy appetite for a little while and yield quick energy to enable the child to exert himself in a spurt of play; but as soon as the calories yielded by starch or sugar are burned, the poor kid is out of gas — he tires and quits.

* * *

He prefers to sit and watch others play. On TV, at the movies, at the football game—it's the Yankee way. He becomes soft, namby - pamby, tired, lazy, peevish, lethargic.

INDULGE IN ALCOHOL

Should circumstances make him conscious of his inadequacy he can still blunt or suppress for a while that uneasy feeling by indulging in alcohol. This, too, is the American way.

One who has vite — better-than-average nutritional condition — feels just fine and dandy all the time, and one who feels fine and dandy would hardly need cocaine, heroin or alcohol at any time.

It is my belief that one with vite just naturally practices total abstinence, and one with nutritional deficiency (malnutrition) feels "the need for a stimulant" or vaguely wants to feel better — these are the reasons an alcoholic in a sober interval gave for drinking.

* * *

In my Little Lesson XVI, "The 7 Keys to Vite," you will find the corrective, protective, regeneration, rejuvenation, reduction, basic health diet — it is a pattern on which to build your own everyday diet to suit your individual requirements.

SUGGESTED DIET

The diet as given includes 4 glasses of milk a day, but no bread, cake, pie, pudding or cereal, and of course no dessert. To build your own everyday diet add plain wheat, in one form or another.

Area Realtors to Air Reports

Talks on Conditions at May 25 Meeting

Present and future conditions of real estate in Oakland County will be reported on by four area realtors at a meeting May 25 of leaders in industry, government and the real estate profession.

The event, to be held at the Bonnie Brook Golf Club, is sponsored by the Metropolitan Detroit Council of Real Estate Boards and will include real estate prospects in five counties.

More than 500 real estate brokers and salesmen representing the 12 Realtor Boards in Wayne, Oakland, Macomb, Monroe and Washtenaw counties are scheduled to attend, according to Harold A. Meininger, Council chairman.

Sixty-second reports on local opportunities will be presented by Fred E. Sheldon of Berridge and Morrison Realty, 702 N. Woodward, Royal Oak; attorney Philip E. Rowston, president of the Pontiac Board of Realtors; Everett J. Wilson of Wilson Realty, 545 N. Main, Milford; and Milton F. Weaver of Weaver Realty Co., and president of the Rochester Board of Realtors.

Road Tax Revenue Increases for County

The money is part of $48.7 million being paid to counties and municipalities throughout Michigan for road maintenance expenses, according to State Highway Commissioner John C. Mackie.

Red China's Chances for U.N. Acceptance Seen Unimproved

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—The U.S. delegation to the United Nations has concluded that Red China's chances of getting into the United Nations at the fall session of the General Assembly have not improved significantly.

Authoritative sources said U.S. officials believe France's recognition of the Peking regime will have little effect in the assembly.

U.S. sources indicated that France has made no effort to drum up support for Peking and many countries which formerly worked for Red China's cause are expected to give only token support.

One factor has been the Chinese attack on India. There is even more concern, the sources said, over China's belligerence in its split with the Soviet Union.

VOTE LAST FALL

The vote in the assembly last fall was 41 in favor of seating Peking, 57 against and 12 abstaining.

LONDON (AP) — The Financial Times reported today that Czechoslovakia has refused to renew a contract to supply food to Cuba.

Quoting usually reliable sources, the business daily reported that Czechoslovakia had contracted to deliver to Cuba by September 250,000 tons of frozen meat from Argentina and Brazil, 67,000 tons of canned meat, 450,000 tons of fertilizer, 1,600 tons of canned cereals and vegetables, 10,000 carloads of flour and 2,100 tons of canned fruit.

"The food under this contract," the paper said, "will be delivered but faced with a difficult food situation at home the Czech government seems unwilling to do much more."

CAMBRIDGE, England (AP) —Peter Reddaway, a British exchange student deported from the Soviet Union, today denied Soviet charges that he tried to persuade the wife of a Soviet defector to follow him to the West.

Reddaway said he saw the wife of Oleg Lenchevsky in Moscow twice "purely as an individual." Lenchevsky defected to the West in 1961.

★ ★ ★

"Both visits were short and I simply passed oral messages of greeting and affection from Oleg Lenchevsky to his wife," Reddaway said.

Murder Suspect's Death Ruled Suicide by Police

IONIA (AP)—State police Det. Edward Goss said today the death by drowning of accused axe murderer Kenneth Lee Maurer was a suicide.

Maurer's cement - weighted body was found Monday night in the reservoir at the State Hospital for the Criminally Insane. Two cement blocks were tied to the body with ropes at the waist and feet, Goss said.

★ ★ ★

"The autopsy showed no bruises," said Goss, "and all of the knots were tied loosely in front. From all indications he could have freed himself at any time."

The 32-year-old Maurer walked away from his post as a trusty at the hospital's fire department early Monday.

COMMITTED 1951

Maurer was 18 when committed to the hospital in the 1951 slaying of his mother, Daisy, 42, and his sister, Janet, 11. The murder weapons were a Boy Scout axe and a hunting knife.

The youth was captured in Florida in January of 1953, and sent to the hospital a month later.

During the two years as a fugitive, Maurer was on the FBI's list of "Ten Most-Wanted men."

The mutilated bodies of Mrs. Maurer and her daughter were found in their Detroit home on Nov. 26, 1961. The child's throat had been cut and her head smashed in. Mrs. Maurer had been struck with the axe and stabbed 34 times with the knife.

Maurer denied all knowledge of the crime but told authorities:

"I guess I must have done it although I don't remember anything. I had no reason to do a thing like that."

★ ★ ★

He was indicted for first degree murder in Detroit but never came to trial. He was declared insane by a panel of three psychiatrists.

State Property Valuation Shows Increase Over '63

LANSING (AP) — Figures showing the state equalized valuation of all property in Michigan has increased by $554.3 million since 1963 were released Monday by the State Tax Commission.

For purposes of local taxation in the state, the tax commission recommended county-by-county property value estimates totaling $26,351,877,400, compared to $25,797,495,100 in 1963. This is an increase of 2.15 per cent.

The increase was described as a commission spokesman as "about average." He attributed it almost entirely to new building and "general prosperity" in the state.

The State Tax Commission annually re-evaluates the value of property in Michigan and publishes county figures to be used in assessing and collecting local property taxes.

TO HOLD HEARING

The State Equalization Board will hold a hearing May 25 in Lansing. County and local tax officials may appear with inquiries and objections regarding the tax commission estimates.

The board is made up of the tax commission's three members plus four other persons appointed by the governor.

The tax commission spokesman said four counties—Arenac, Hillsdale, Osceola and Marquette—showed sharp increases as the result of equalization studies in the past year.

In several Upper Peninsula counties, the recommended state equalization valuation dropped as a result of a new method of assessing mining properties at the same rate as other kinds of property.

Sharp increases resulting from the building boom were shown in Michigan's more populous counties.

Among these were Berrien, $472.7 to $490.9 million; Eaton, $142.6 to $149.8 million; Genesee, $1,376,471,100 to $1,401,422,000; Ingham, $685.3 to $706 million; Macomb, 1,437,731,300 to $1,508,636,400; Midland, $279.0 to $2,308, 684,200; Saginaw, $658.8 to $675 million; Washtenaw $678.2 to $691.6 million.

Wayne County's state equalized valuation, as estimated by the tax commission, rose from $8,995,805,000 to $9,093,522,600.

In the four counties where equalization studies resulted in increases, the totals rose as follows:

Arenac, $27 to $34.8 million; Hillsdale, $80.6 to $94.2 million; Osceola, $34.7 to $40.9 million; Marquette, $114.3 to $121.4 million.

Junior Editors Quiz on SHIPS

QUESTION: Why are ships called "she"?

★ ★ ★

ANSWER: Old-time sailors always had a special affection and reverence for the ships which carried them over the dangerous sea. They looked on them almost as living things.

Eyes were painted on the bows of Egyptian and Greek craft (1) by which they were supposed to be able to spy their way.

Statues of goddesses were often placed in the bows of Greek and Roman craft — the famous "Winged Victory" (2) gives the feeling of this custom, even though this was not a real figure head but a statue set up to commemorate a naval victory.

Statues of the Goddess Athena were often used on Athenian ships and the custom became carried on in the use of later ships figureheads, a great many of which were female figures.

The old time sailor identified the figurehead with the ship and probably from this came the habit of calling the ship "she."

The old sailors lived a rough life, but they were romantic characters, looking forward longingly to the time when they would return to their wives and sweethearts.

"She's a sweet little packet," a sailor would say of his ship, at the same time probably thinking of his sweet little sweetheart at home.

★ ★ ★

Ex-Con Denies Killing Police

DETROIT (AP) — Ex-convict Bruce Walter Leikett denied Monday he was the killer of two slain Fredericksburg, Va., policemen and a North Brunswick, N.J. filling station attendant, police reported.

Assistant Wayne County Prosecutor John A. Mowatt said Leikett, 26, made the denial at Wayne County General Hospital where he is a police prisoner. Though Mowatt said Leikett admitted he was near Tuesday's slaying scene of the policemen.

★ ★ ★

Mowatt said Leikett told officers he and a man known to him only as "Dominic" were near the Fredericksburg shopping center where the officers were shot to death and that the two planned a break-in at one shopping center store.

★ ★ ★

THIRD ATTEMPT

The questioning of Leikett at the hospital Monday was the third attempt by police to talk to him.

Deputy police chief Richard Humphry of suburban Inkster said Leikett, under sedation from his critical injuries, was too incoherent for interrogation on both Saturday and Sunday.

Murder charges against Leikett in the policemen's slayings have been issued in Virginia. The officers were shot to death in their patrol car behind the shopping center early Tuesday.

Mowatt said as soon as Leikett has recovered sufficiently from his injuries he will be arraigned at the hospital.

Train Hits Automobile, 10 Are Killed

MESA, Ariz. (AP) — Ten occupants of a station wagon were killed yesterday when a Southern Pacific express train traveling an estimated 60 miles per hour smashed into the vehicle at a crossing.

★ ★ ★

Two sisters, one of them pregnant, and their eight children were the victims.

They were Mrs. Lola King, 26, of Phoenix and her two children, Shelley, 3, and Vicky, 4; and Mrs. Ina Lowe of Winkleman, Ariz., and her six children, Clifford, 10, Michell, 8, Linda, 7, Karen, 5, Mark 3, and Gregory, 1. Mrs. Lowe was pregnant.

The 14-car train, pulled by two diesel units, ripped the station wagon in half.

★ ★ ★

Investigators quoted Engineer W. W. Witt of Phoenix as saying he was on the wrong side of the cab to see the station wagon approaching.

CAR INTO PATH

An officer said the car ran right into the path of the train as though the driver didn't see it or the signal at the crossing three miles south of Mesa.

Johnson to OK Pesticide Curb

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson signs into law today a bill tightening Agriculture Department control over the sale of pesticides.

The bill, sponsored by Sen. Abraham A. Ribicoff, D-Conn., ends the system of "protest registration" for such products and, in effect, requires premarketing government clearance for them.

★ ★ ★

Under protest registration, a company can market a pesticide even if the department has disapproved it, or can continue to market it without restrictions even though the department finds after experience that its use should be limited.

The government's only recourse is to take the matter to court, a procedure described by Ribicoff as cumbersome and time-consuming.

Still Opposed to Medicare

WASHINGTON (AP)—In the news from Washington:

HEALTH CARE: The House Ways and Means Committee is believed to be still predominantly opposed to the administration's plan for health care for the aged, despite President Johnson's two appeals for it last week.

It is considered likely the committee will offer instead a revamping of the existing state-federal program of financing for health care for low-income elderly persons.

The committee discussed the possibilities of broadening it at a closed session Monday attended by Secretary of Welfare Anthony J. Celebrezze. He declined to say what was discussed, but told reporters that he still has hopes that the administration plan for health care, based on Social Security financing, will be enacted.

MARKETING: Legislation to establish a national commission on food marketing was approved Monday by the House Agriculture Committee.

The commission, recommended by President Johnson, would study price changes, marketing procedures and the relationship between farmers and food processors.

Before approving the bill by a voice vote the committee reduced to $1.5 million from $2.5 million the authorization of funds to carry out the inquiry.

Guests Should Not Have to Endure a Dog at Party

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: Why do so many nice people with dogs have so little regard for their guests' comfort?

ABBY

When we visit these people, their dog jumps up on us the moment the door is opened. As soon as we sit down, the dog jumps up on furniture right next to us.

When we sit at the dining room table, the dog is under the table, with his nose on our legs.

★ ★ ★

He even puts his paws up on the tablecloth, "begging" for food. (The master thinks nothing of feeding the animal with his hand, and then goes right on eating. Yich!)

★ ★ ★

We love dogs, Abby, and have always had one. But when we entertain, our dog is not included with the guests.

Do you agree with those who have the "Love us, love our dog" attitude? Or can you see our side of it?

Say the bride's parents are divorced and have both remarried, but the bride wants her real father to give her away. Where does the father go to sit after he has given the bride away?

★ ★ ★

Surely he doesn't go to sit with the bride's mother, who is sitting with her present husband! And if everyone is friendly, and the father's present wife is invited to the wedding, where does SHE sit?

★ ★

Should she be right up front with the relatives in the wedding party, and beside her husband at the head table at the wedding dinner?

NEEDS TO KNOW

★ ★ ★

DEAR NEEDS: The bride's mother and present family sit in the first pew.

The bride's father, after giving away his daughter in marriage, then goes to sit with his present wife and family in the second pew.

The father's present wife sits beside him at the wedding dinner.

DEAR ABBY: A young, rather pretty little married woman lives next door to me, and she is always telling me that a door-to-door salesman made a pass at her and she had to put him in his place.

She claims the mailman, milkman and grocery man have also made improper advances to her, and she had to tell them off.

★ ★ ★

Abby, I have the same mailman, milkman, grocery man, and the same salesmen calling on me, and I have never had one speck of trouble with any of them.

Do you think she is making all this up, or can it be true?

WONDERING

DEAR WONDERING: She's probably making it up. But if only a part of it is true, she should take a good look at herself in the mirror, and listen to herself talk.

DEAR ABBY: Re the man who accused his good and faithful wife of every dirty deed in the book:

I have been down that road myself, and I, too, was sick at heart at all my husband's accusations and suspicions until I learned that it all came from his own guilty conscience.

Everything he was accusing me of doing, HE was doing — the rat.

Shower Is for Those YOU Invite

By The Emily Post Institute

Q: I am going to give a shower for a friend. I called the bride-to-be's mother to tell her about it. A few days later she sent me a list of names of friends and relatives whom she thought should be invited.

I hadn't asked for this list and did not count on extra guests. Am I obliged to invite them?

★ ★ ★

A: The bride-to-be's mother had no right to send you a list of names without your having asked, and there is certainly no reason why you should be forced to invite the extra guests.

You can telephone your friend's mother and explain that you have to limit the number of guests you can invite to the shower, and that you are very sorry but you will not be able to invite those on the list.

Q: My husband and I have lived in this house for many years. We just recently had it completely remodeled. Would a housewarming be in order?

★ ★ ★

A: There is no reason why you may not give a party and invite your friends and neighbors in to see your remodeled house. I think they will be very interested to see what you have done to it.

Q: As is customary in this company, I am being given a dinner when I retire next month. I'd like to know what is correct when the guests rise to drink a toast to me. Should I rise too, or do I remain seated?

A: You remain seated while the toast is being drunk. After they sit down, you then rise and thank them.

How Much to Charge for Room, Board

By MARY FEELEY
Consultant in Money Management

Dear Miss Feeley:

We have a problem which my husband and I would like you to solve.

My brother has lived in our home for more than 20 years, having the use of everything in our home, as well as room and board.

MARY FEELEY

He has accumulated a tidy sum of $40,000 cash in the savings banks, stocks and bonds and mortgages of over $12,000, and $6,000 in government E bonds.

He is retired now with a pension of $218, a retirement income check of $137, and social security of $123—along with the income from cash savings in the banks, dividends from stocks and bonds, and interest from the mortgages and E bonds.

He has never given us more than $12 a week for his room and board. Up to about five years ago, it was $7 weekly.

* * *

My husband is retired now also, with a very small income in comparison to my brother's, and he says that if my brother does not pay at least $30 a week he must get out right away.

VERY CRUEL

I talked with my brother about it and he thought we were very cruel to ask $30 weekly and will NOT pay it.

We want to do what is right by him as we love him very dearly but feel that he can well afford to pay us more.

* * *

My husband talked with our attorney and he said, "You should have ordered the free-loader out years ago and do it at once."

We want your advice as to the amount he should pay as we want to still be friends.

Mr. and Mrs. M. E. S.,
Sodus, New York

* * *

Dear Mr. and Mrs. S.:

I can't help but wonder how you got hold of those figures regarding brother's financial situation. Is it possible he would be so brash as to drop a remark about his $40,000 in savings during the dinner table conversation?

Or to mention an income amounting to $468 a month—at a minimum — while he was handing you $12 for his weekly room and board?

* * *

If brother's no brighter than that, he shouldn't blame you for upping his ante. I think you can insist on one-fourth to one-third of his income, or $27 to $35 as his weekly payment for room and board and the privileges of your home.

You can love him just as dearly if he pays his own freight. And you don't need to worry that such cruel treatment on your part is going to wreck his health. Brother sounds tough as they come.

Dear Miss Feeley:

I have some E bonds that will soon be 20 years old. Should I cash them and renew them or just leave them stand as they are? Which will be best, to cash the 20-year-old bonds or cash the bonds that are now just 10 years old?

* * *

Where can I send to get an estimate on the interest due so that I can be sure that the bank that cashes them is not making a rake-off?

Mrs. L. E. T., Waterloo, Ind.

* * *

Dear Mrs. T.:

You're receiving the same amount of interest on all these bonds, so you'll receive the same percentage of yield. But of course you'll receive more money from your 20-year-old bonds since they have been accumulating interest for a longer period of time.

* * *

If they happen to be $18.75 bonds, each 20-year-old, if sold, will pay $34.43. The 10-year-old bonds will pay $25.52 each. There might be a few pennies difference depending on the month you purchased them.

As for anybody getting a rake-off on your profits, put your mind at ease. The value of each bond will be established by the paying agent right on the bond itself—and it will be checked for accuracy by the U. S. Treasury Department.

November vows are planned by Judith Ann Bellows, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Nile L. Bellows of Mechanic Street and Robert Eugene Hoffman, son of the Robert W. Hoffmans of South Bend, Ind.

* * *

Parents of the couple are the Clayton Albertsons and the Norman Grulkes, all of Keego Harbor.

* * *

White Chantilly lace over taffeta, touched with rhinestones, fashioned the bride's gown with three - tiered skirt. An overskirt formed the cathedral train.

PEARL TIARA

A high Swedish tiara of miniature cultured pearls topped her lace veil. Pink carnations centered her bouquet of cascading white carnations.

* * *

With Connie Sue Albertson, honor attendant, were bridesmaids Cheryl Grulke and Faye Langdon.

* * *

On the esquire side were best man, Walter Steward and ushers Robert Alderson and Michael Grulke.

The couple will reside on Cadillac Street after a wedding-trip to Niagara Falls.

A home on Chenlot Drive awaits the Albert Kenneth Grahams (Janet Marie Turnbull), presently on their honeymoon in Upper Michigan.

The Central Methodist Church was the setting for their recent vows spoken before Rev. William H. Brady, followed by a church reception.

* * *

The Alex Turnbulls of Seymour Lake and the Albert L. Grahams of Allen Street are parents of the newlyweds.

PEARLS AND LACE

Pearls and sequins highlighted Alencon lace motifs on the bride's gown of white organza over taffeta which swept into a chapel train. A pearl tiara cradled her bouffant veil of silk illusion.

Pink sweetheart roses centered her cascade bouquet of white carnations.

* * *

Mrs. James Thompson of Oxford attended her sister as honor matron and Mrs. Robert Turnbull served as bridesmaid.

Janet M. Lawrence and Charles Cooley were flower girl and ring-bearer at their uncle's wedding.

Dale M. Larvick assisted the bridegroom as best man and James Thompson was groomsman. Robert Turnbull of Oxford and Philip Swartz of Clarkston, seated some 300 guests.

Why Grow Old?
By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Here are some of the questions women who are following my 9-Day Reducing Diet ask.

Q. "Can I make any changes, add anything at all to your 9-Day Diet?"

* * *

A. The trouble with this idea is that if you begin making changes you may make too many. Actually, you could use two tablespoons of butter or margarine on your eggs, bread and vegetables, instead of the smaller amount I indicate in my 9-Day booklet without any great damage to your hopes and figure, if that's the only change you make.

* * *

I have found that most good cooks use seasoning generously and I am not talking now about herbs. If you are overweight you are probably a good cook or have one in the family.

Q. "Can I repeat your 9-Day Reducing Diet over and over again? I have a lot of weight to lose."

* * *

A. This diet was planned for a rapid and short reducing period. If you have many pounds to lose you should do so more slowly. Nine Day gives you an encouraging flying start. After nine days you should begin counting calories. Hold your daily intake to between 1200 and 1400 calories a day.

Here are the menus for Wednesday:

BREAKFAST
One-half grapefruit
One boiled egg
One thin dry slice of whole wheat toast
Black coffee

LUNCHEON
Chicken sandwich (no butter—thin slices of whole wheat bread)
Sliced tomatoes or canned tomatoes
One glass skimmed milk

DINNER
Minute steak or chops
Salad of shredded cabbage and carrots
One-half cup spinach-greens or broccoli
One-half grapefruit

* * *

If you would like to have the complete 9-Day Reducing Diet, which gives you substitute foods, send 10 cents and a stamped, self - addressed envelope with your request for it to Josephine Lowman in care of The Pontiac Press.

MRS. ROY EUBANK

MRS. G. NOVOTNEY

Newlyweds Take Honeymoon in South

Edith Juanita Bullard exchanged vows and rings with Roy Eubank in a recent ceremony in the Waterford Church of Christ.

Minister Boyd C. Glover of the Pontiac Church of Christ performed the candlelight ceremony which was followed by a church reception.

* * *

The William L. Lawsons of Davisburg are the bride's parents, and her husband is the son of Mrs. Thelma Eubank of Tubbs Road who is presently a missionary in Singapore.

SATIN GOWN

Ivory satin fashioned the bride's gown and chapel train embellished with Alencon lace motifs. A pearl tiara caught her illusion veil. White orchids centered her bouquet of white carnations.

* * *

USN Disbursement Clerk 2. C. Emily E. Bullard of Whiting Field, Milton, Fla., attended her sister as honor maid. Bridesmaids were Betty Obrien of Flint and Nancy Gonzalez.

On the esquire side were James Boal, best man, and ushers Andrew Eubank of Center Line and George Van-Leuven of Milford.

Seersucker Suits Are Coming Back

The black-and-white striped seersucker dinner jacket created what might be termed a fashion "ripple" last summer but, at Southern resorts this winter, it grew in importance and could be a highly-popular jacket.

Old Custom Brides Again

Beautiful June, beautiful brides. It's that time of the year again.

Today's modern weddings are filled with traditions from the past — the rings, ushers, the toasts with sparkling French Champagne, and even the honeymoon. And some of these origins might surprise you!

* * *

If you'd lived a few thousand years ago, your engagement ring would have been an anklet of woven grass from your caveman fiance. It later got switched onto the finger, as it was found to be too awkward on the ankle. (perhaps made it hard to run away from dinosaurs!)

* * *

Your handsome ushers might like to know that their predecessors were friends of the caveman "groom," who entered "enemy territory" with him to capture his bride.

VFW Unit Names New Members

White Suit Look Gains Male Favor

The "white look" in suits will be a big favorite this summer, predicts the American Institute of Men's and Boys' Wear. Some actual white suits—white linen, for example—will be available.

Many of the cords and oxford weaves have the distinct white look that will give a comparable effect. They're cool, comfortable—and nothing goes better, and is more flattering, with a suntan.

Bringing Up Baby.

HINTS COLLECTED BY MRS. DAN GERBER, MOTHER OF 5

One of the wonders of babyhood, is the development of manual dexterity. Busy fingers become aware of their usefulness at 3 or 4 months. Exciting to watch baby discover that fingers are fine for sucking, playing with and getting the feel of everything from nose to toes... toys to clothes. At 4 to 5 months he can grasp toys... at 6 to 7 hold his bottle securely. Eight or 9 months find those hands working together '... and oh magic moment, at 1 year, he can pick up and pinch-hold small objects with nimble thumb and forefinger.

P.S. If baby doesn't conform to the above "norms," don't worry. He'll do these things in his own sweet time, the best time of all.

*

Breakfast bonanza with a flavor bonus. How about a special cereal surprise for baby? Gerber Strained Oatmeal or Mixed Cereal with Applesauce and Bananas! There's a pale with a flair for brightening an appetite. Each cereal is cooked with fruit and ready to serve. Both boast a truly delightful flavor... and a wonderfully smooth, moist texture. As for nutrition, they're enriched with iron and B-vitamins.

*

Two sock stories. (1) If you've more than one tot in your house, why not initial sock bottoms with indelible ink? Saves sorting time ... prevents mismating. (2) Remember, socks should be checked for fit as often as shoes. Tight socks can cramp tender toes, too.

*

Vegetable viewpoint. Babies, like grownups, should have plenty of green and yellow vegetables because they have high vitamin-A value. (That's the vitamin needed to help maintain normal vision and healthy skin.) Gerber Carrots, Sweet Potatoes, Creamed Spinach, Mixed Vegetables and Garden Vegetables are especially high in vitamin-A value. Like all good-tasting Gerber Foods, they're specially processed to protect precious vitamins. As for meal-appeal, Gerber Vegetables have comehither colors and garden-true flavors. Small wonder so many babies love them and thrive on them. Gerber® Baby Foods, Box 72, Fremont, Michigan.

Rochester Mulls Lodge, OKs Budget

By ROGER SRIGLEY

ROCHESTER—Village Council last night recommended a major change in the Elks request for rezoning on Ludlow and adopted a 1964-65 budget of $470,700.

Following a heated open discussion of Elk plans to build a lodge next to 833 Ludlow, the council set June 8 as the date for a public hearing on the issue.

It also recommended to Robert Smitha, project architect, that the rezoning application be changed to a request for office zoning instead of commercial.

Kicking off discussion of the controversial issue, Village Clerk Maxine Ross read a petition signed by 47 Ludlow residents objecting to the proposed construction.

★ ★ ★

Council President John O'Donnell said he calculated about 68 per cent of the Ludlow residents disagreed with Elk plans.

"We didn't expect a controversy," Smitha, spokesman for the Elks, told the standing-room-only crowd in the council chambers.

Smitha objected to application of the word "commercial" to the Elk's proposed lodge.

"We are not a shopping center . . ." he said, "we are a fraternal club." Smitha also argued against other points made by the regional planning commission, which recommended against rezoning for the lodge.

★ ★ ★

He said Ludlow was already a secondary road, and that neighbors should accept the lodge because something worse could eventually be built on the site. "We'll use over one-third of the property for a park," he argued.

OPPOSING VIEW

Lewis B. Arscott, 517 Ludlow, represented Ludlow residents who were against the Elks' proposal.

Included in about 15 points he raised was the contention that a bowling alley and bar in the lodge would be too close to the Avon Township Park.

Arscott gave other reasons the lodge should be built elsewhere. He said it would add more traffic, be a spot-zoning precedent and take away potential residential property.

★ ★ ★

Arscott also challenged the voting eligibility of Elks on the council, John Boeberitz and Burdette Lewis. "Every man here will have to vote his conviction," Village President John O'Donnell countered.

"I'll vote for the good of Rochester," Boeberitz said.

HEARING SET

After Smith agreed to amend the rezoning application the June 8 public hearing date was set. "The decision will likely be made following this hearing," O'Donnell predicted.

Making slight additions to the funds for sidewalk repair, tree maintenance and sewer and water, the council okayed the new $470,700 budget. It was upped $3,500 from Village Manager Paul York's original proposal.

"It's a realistic budget," O'Donnell said, pointing out that the millage levy would remain at 18.5. He said the council was "mighty proud" of it and commended York for a "nice job."

★ ★ ★

The 1963-64 spending total is expected to reach $492,010. Significant reasons for the next fiscal year's budget cut include elimination of council members' salaries and the $32,500 bill paid this year for the new Department of Public Works garage and urban renewal work.

In other business last night, council authorized the contract for a second appraisal of property to be acquired in southeast Rochester, should the urban renewal plans be accepted.

Leslie R. Tripp, realtor and appraiser of Pontiac, was selected for the appraising job.

TO ASSUME DUTIES — A 17-year veteran of the Rochester Police Department, Sgt. Robert C. Werth, 43, will assume the duties of chief July 1. Appointed by Village Manager Paul York, he will succeed the present chief, Sam Howlett, whose resignation becomes effective on that date.

Petitions Filed for Area Posts

Deadlines Pass for Four School Districts

Candidates for election to four area school boards filed petitions before yesterday's deadlines.

★ ★ ★

Office-seekers in Holly, Walled Lake and Brandon school districts turned over their signature-listings by 4 p.m., while in Dryden applicants who will appear on the June 8 ballot were given two more hours to file.

A list of those who have filed petitions to fill vacancies and their respective school districts follows:

BRANDON — Two 4-year terms: incumbent Vice President Charles Pangus and incumbent Thomas Thompson; Dale J. Fortin, 270 Cedar, Ortonville; and Fred J. Fisher, 2390 Allen, Brandon Township.

★ ★ ★

One 2-year unexpired term: Russell L. Cullum, 335 Joslyn, Groveland Township; Mrs. Louise Weeks, 3411 Reese, Brandon Township. Former President Clarence Moore resigned last month creating the two-year unexpired term.

★ ★ ★

One 1-year unexpired term: Raymond Harris, 3001 Weidemann, Brandon Township. Former Treasurer Harold Webb is resigning creating the one-year unexpired term.

DRYDEN—Two 4-year terms: incumbents E. J. Milliken Jr. and Mrs. Donna Couzens.

WALLED LAKE — Two 4-year terms: incumbent President Dwight L. Wiseman, incumbent Trustee John C. Clark and Mrs. Columbia Lawrence, 4396 Cedar, West Bloomfield Township.

HOLLY — Two 4-year terms: incumbent Secretary R. William Fagan, incumbent Trustee Earl F. Farmer and Robert Varner, 506 Elm, Holly.

ENTERTAINS AMERICAN GUEST — Mr. Asano, played by Tom King, introduces his American visitor, Mrs. Jacoby, portrayed by Bonnie Stratton, to an Oriental way of life in a scene from the Avon Players forthcoming production of "Majority of One." Japanese servant girl, Betty Howe, awaits their pleasure. The comedy will be staged at 8:30 p.m. Friday and Saturday at West Junior High School, Rochester.

Urge Check on Car Safety

Farmington to Hold Inspection on Autos

FARMINGTON — The "circle of safety" is forming here and city officials are urging motorists to step right in.

Initiation could hardly be easier — simply drive your car to one of the three safety check points Friday or Saturday and let the experts give it the once-over.

"Even our best drivers are poor risks if they are driving cars with bad brakes, worn tires or other neglected items," Mayor Robert Lindhert said in announcing the program.

Check lanes for the free inspection will be set up at three Farmington shopping centers from noon to 8 p.m. Friday and 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. Saturday.

★ ★ ★

Locations are Farmington Road at Grand River, Farmington Road at 12 Mile and Grand River at Orchard Lake.

QUALIFIED INSPECTORS

The lanes will be operated by service managers from local car dealerships and qualified mechanics.

Motorists driving in the Farmington area during the program are urged to pull into one of the lanes.

"More than a half-million vehicles checked in the 1963 nationwide safety check needed immediate attention to one or more of the items affecting safe driving condition," Lindhert said.

★ ★ ★

To be checked are brakes, front and rear lights, steering, tires, exhaust system, glass, windshield wipers, rear-view mirror, horn and seat belts.

"Equally important in our safety check is the challenge to all drivers to check their conduct behind the wheel," Lindhert noted. "Both safe cars and safe drivers are needed to check accidents."

New Police Chief Named by Manager in Rochester

ROCHESTER — Robert C. Werth, 17-year veteran of the Rochester Police Department, last night was appointed by the village manager to replace retiring Chief Sam Howlett.

★ ★ ★

Werth, a 43-year-old Avon Township resident, has been with the force since 1947, the last 14 as a sergeant.

He will step into his new position July 1, the date Howlett's resignation is effective.

Howlett will become assistant chief of plant protection at National Twist Drill and Tool Co.

★ ★ ★

Since Werth joined the force he has seen it double to a staff of eight. For the past 14 years he has been working the 3-11 p.m. shift.

FATHER OF FOUR

A member of the Homer Wing Post No. 172, American Legion, Werth lives at 1024 Harding. He is married, and the father of three girls and a boy.

In addition to confirming Werth's appointment, the council also again probed the problem of parking facilities in the downtown area.

Council President John O'Donnell said the Rochester Area Chamber of Commerce is presently polling downtown merchants to see what they are willing to contribute toward a parking lot.

★ ★ ★

He said of those businessmen who have already answered the chamber's questionnaire, two-thirds are in favor of purchasing parking lot property.

LOOK OVER SITES

Council reviewed two sites on Walnut proposed as parking lots, and found the cost of each to be high, members said. Rough figuring showed the price on Walnut to be about $750 per front foot.

The subject was tabled until the chamber's poll is completed.

BETTY K. WELFARE

Mr. and Mrs. Erwin J. Welfare of 46841 Pontiac Trail, Novi, announce the engagement of their daughter Betty K. to Daniel W. Booth. The prospective bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. R. Starr Booth, 3230 Grindley, West Bloomfield Township. A fall wedding is planned.

Radio Society Plans Meeting

ROCHESTER — The program for the May 18 meeting of the Hills Amateur Radio Society will feature a demonstration of two meter communication using commercial FM transceivers.

★ ★ ★

Harry Bedard, W8RRE, will be guest speaker. With the help of Marion Stoner, W8VWY, of the Motor City Radio Club, Bedard has arranged to mount a base station at the library and have other mobiles in the Rochester area.

This will afford a first hand opportunity for everyone to witness the abilities and potentials of this type of communication.

After the "live" demonstration, Bedard will give a short rundown on the transceivers; such as types, where they are available, construction, and operation.

★ ★ ★

The coming meeting of the society will be held at the Avon Township Library. Anyone interested is welcome to attend.

Budget Is Approved for Milford Village

MILFORD — The village will get its vehicles, the police department its new man, the manager his raise and the children their ice skating rink - tennis court.

All were included in the proposed 1964-65 budget accepted by the Village Council after a 15 minute hearing last night.

A half-dozen residents were on hand to discuss the $251,750 budget, up some $1,350 from this year's estimate.

Among those slated for increased allocations is the police department, going up from $41,917 to $50,275.

The jump includes the cost of two new patrol cars and a new officer, to be hired at a $4,800 starting salary. The department will then have five full-time men and a part-time police woman.

Addition of an employe will guarantee the department two officers on duty during the day and a cut in working hours from 52 to 44 a week.

Also on the list of anticipated expenditures are purchase of a dump truck and roller for the Department of Public Works and installation of an ice skating rink - tennis court at the new village park.

Administrative costs, up from $18,177 to $19,650, include a $500 raise for the village manager and additional expenses for holding elections on proposed public improvement programs, an innovation with a charter amendment this year.

Other categories are fire, $5,205; public works, $121,750; building inspection, $1,960; building maintenance, $5,435; planning commission, $1,300; recreation, $1,650; civil defense, $55; and other expenses, $42,320.

LBJ Actions Dispel Some Latin America Doubts

WASHINGTON (AP) — With money and friendly persuasion, President Johnson has moved to dispel Latin Americans' doubts about his interest in their problems and in the Alliance for Progress.

"I felt he was sincere and warm," an Argentine diplomat said at the White House Monday night after hearing Johnson announce $40 million in fresh credits under the alliance to 13 Latin-American nations.

★ ★ ★

Johnson said the United States will double its assistance activities under the program and "there will be twice as much accomplished as in any previous year."

★ ★ ★

After addressing the Latin American ambassadors to Washington and the chiefs of missions to the Organization of American States Johnson signed 12 separate loan agreements covering 13 countries. Normally such agreements are announced by the State Department.

ACCOMPLISHMENTS

They will help fight malaria in Brazil, train farmers in Bolivia, for the first time establish three rural electric cooperatives serving 10,000 homes and farms in the Colombian countryside.

They also will bring credits and assistance to 21,000 small farms in the land reform and colonization program of Peru, help construct a new seaport in Chile, help Mexico establish a national agricultural center and provide Food for Peace commodities to Ecuador.

★ ★ ★

Although the $40 million was a comparatively modest amount by the standards of current aid projects, it was aimed for maximum effect.

Johnson spoke to the Latin diplomats in a persuasive tone, departing frequently from his prepared text.

GENUINE INTEREST

Ambassador Gonzalo Facio of Costa Rica said Johnson showed a "genuine interest in Latin America."

Doubts about the alliance's future rose not long after President John F. Kennedy announced it in 1961. After Kennedy's death, Johnson replaced Teodoro Moscoso, Puerto-Rican-born U.S. coordinator of the alliance, with career diplomat Thomas C. Mann, a fellow Texan.

★ ★ ★

Confusion was sparked anew last week when Moscoso quit the post to which he had been shifted, as U.S. delegate to the Inter-American Committee for the alliance.

The President dispelled some of the concern that the administration might be downgrading the program when he announced Monday night that Moscoso's replacement would be Walt W. Rostow, a key official who will continue as State Department policy planning counselor.

ECONOMIC LINK

The President went to the crux of Latin - American problems when he linked economic progress and representative democracy.

Without representative democracy, "and the freedom it nourishes," he said, material progress is an aimless enterprise destroying the dignity of spirit it is meant to liberate. We will continue to join you to encourage democracy until we build a hemisphere of free nations from Tierra del Fuego to the Arctic Circle."

After his speech Johnson invited the diplomats to join him in another room at the White House for a small talk. "After all we are all brothers," he said.

K Watches Fast Climb of Pyramid

CAIRO (AP) — Egypt's champion pyramid climber streaked to the top of the Great Cheops Pyramid a minute faster for Soviet Premier Khrushchev than he did for Red Chinese Premier Chou En-lai.

★ ★ ★

Chou gave him a fountain pen five months ago. Khrushchev gave him four kisses.

"A kiss is worth a thousand pounds," said the climber, Hefnawi Abdel Fayed. "Furthermore, I was happier to meet Khrushchev and I like him more."

STANDARD SHOW

Hefnawi's climb is a standard sideshow for visitors to the 481-foot monument.

★ ★ ★

As Khrushchev watched the 37-year-old Egyptian streak to the top in four minutes, he said to Field Marshal Abdel Hakim Amer: "Give me a week to train and I will race you."

★

"I would need two years to get ready for that," joked Amer, 41. "That's why I picked you," said the 70-year-old Khrushchev. "I always choose my competitors carefully."

PEPSI AND COLD DRINKS

New Center Named for Research Pioneer

Cottage, Statue to Mark Early TB Cure Site

EDITOR'S NOTE—Treatment of tuberculosis has progressed a long way from "Little Red" of the Adirondack Enterprise at Saranac Lake, N.Y., reviews those years.

By PETER COX

SARANAC LAKE, N.Y. (AP) —The moving of a huge statue and a tiny house signal a new era in this Adirondack Mountain health center.

The 40-ton statue is that of Dr. Edward Livingston Trudeau, first president of the National Tuberculosis Association. The house is "Little Red," pioneer tuberculosis cure cottage.

★ ★ ★

Dr. Trudeau came to Saranac Lake in 1873, doomed by consumption. When he died in 1915, he had given tuberculosis victims a chance to live.

★ ★ ★

Now, with wonder drugs and surgery subduing the disease, Trudeau's name will be assigned to the million-dollar Trudeau Research Laboratories to open in August. The laboratories will specialize in research of respiratory diseases.

OVERLOOKING LAKE

The statue of Dr. Trudeau will stand in front of the new laboratories overlooking lower Saranac Lake two miles from the old sanatorium.

The statue, a gift from "1,000 grateful patients," was dedicated in 1918.

★ ★ ★

Little Red, the beginning of the Trudeau Sanatorium, was built in 1884. Its first occupants were two working girls who paid $5 weekly for room, board and care. The cost was $7, but private contributions made up the difference.

As the sanatorium grew to 42 buildings, Little Red remained the symbol of its beginning—rest cure for tuberculosis.

CARED FOR BROTHER

Trudeau, born in New York City on Oct. 5, 1848, gave up an appointment to the U.S. Naval Academy to care for his brother who suffered from tuberculosis.

As a result of this experience, Trudeau decided to become a doctor. Soon after graduation from medical school he learned he had the disease.

★ ★ ★

Dr. Trudeau went to the Adirondacks. There he noticed that rest made him feel better and he studied the disease, read reports of rest cure in Europe and of Robert Koch's discovery of the tubercle bacillus.

★ ★ ★

Because residents, afraid of the disease, would not take patients into their homes, Trudeau built Little Red on Mt. Pisgah, the forerunner of the huge installation.

HOME TREATMENT

Successful treatment of the disease meant the end of the sanatorium. Many patients now are treated at home. On Dec. 1, 1954, the sanatorium closed.

The work of Trudeau was not halted. In 1953, the Trudeau Foundation — headed by Trudeau's grandson, Dr. Francis B. Trudeau Jr. — was combined with the Saranac Lake Laboratories where research on lung ailments continued. This work will be taken over by the new laboratories.

U.S. to Get Tough With Sukarno?

By PHIL NEWSOM
UP Foreign News Analyst

The United States, having tried the velvet glove in its dealings with Indonesian President Sukarno, now seems ready to wield the big stick.

The velvet glove approach came in Atty. Gen. Robert Kennedy's visit last winter to Southeast Asia in an attempt to soften the rambunctious Sukarno's announced determination to "crush" the new Federation of Malaysia.

It was part of a broader scale U.S. campaign to encourage Asian leaders to settle their disputes by peaceful means and it did result in a shaky cease-fire and a momentary lull in the verbal insults exchanged between the two disputants.

The calm lasted less than a month.

★ ★ ★

Early this month Sukarno, in a speech in his capital of Jakarta, issued an "action command" to "21 million volunteers" into the fight to crush Malaysia which Sukarno regards as an extension of British colonialism.

TYPICAL SPEECH

The speech was typical Sukarno.

Sukarno, whose father image retains an almost hypnotic control over the Indonesian people, is indifferent to the details of government and to the manner in which his "commands" are to be implemented. And so it was this time.

To observers in Jakarta it seemed to mean he planned to step up the guerrilla war in North Borneo where Indonesia is pledged to aid the "independence movement" against the Kuala Lumpur government of Malaysia.

★ ★ ★

Into this worsening situation stepped assistant U.S. Secretary of State for Far Eastern Affairs William P. Bunday. Bundy warned that further interference in North Borneo could result in a final cut-off of already reduced U.S. aid to Indonesia.

U.S. AID

U.S. economic aid to Indonesia has totaled around $1 billion. Last fall in the mounting Indonesian - Malaysian crisis, the United States withdrew from a plan which would have set up a $500-million credit for Indonesian long-term development and halted shipments of weapons and ammunition.

It continued technical assistance programs amounting to about $11 million and surplus food shipments of up to $35 million.

Sukarno's dreams of empire take little account of the sufferings of Indonesia's 65-million population, an estimated one-third of whom suffer from malnutrition.

To the Malaysian people who demand rice and detest a corn substitute, he says: "I say let us eat corn to crush Malaysia."

ABOUT AID

And to U.S. Ambassador Howard P. Jones, he already has said: "To Hell with your aid."

Last September, as part of his policy of confrontation against Malaysia, Sukarno cut off all economic relations with the new nation despite the fact it meant cutting off nearly half the markets for Indonesia's export trade and placing new burdens on an already staggering economy.

The United States has helped Sukarno in the past on the theory that only massive economic aid would enable him to stand against Indonesia's powerful communist party.

It now appears that the end of U.S. patience is nearing.

But on the basis of the record, Sukarno is not likely to change his course.

UP AND OVER A HILL IN A BUICK WILDCAT—ON THE DYNAMOMETER

ALL AROUND THE CLOCK
ALL AROUND THE CALENDAR
ALL AROUND THE COUNTRY
ALL AROUND THE CAR

A Buick Wildcat clips up a hill on our 4,011-acre Proving Ground at Milford, Michigan—on a "road inside the laboratory." The "road" is a chassis dynamometer with walls that are treated with 36 inches of glass fiber to absorb 99% of the sound. With a car positioned on it, it can re-create the speed, the load—practically all of the conditions of the open road.

Our engineers use this uncommon combination of room and machine to examine, evaluate, and eliminate car noises that shouldn't be there. Scientifically. Precisely. Under exacting conditions. It's one of the reasons why today's GM cars ride so smoothly and quietly, even though hundreds of moving parts are working fast and furiously inside. It's also part of what we mean when we say our cars are "proved all around": tested this way and that way to know how every part will work for you. In Michigan, at Pikes Peak, in the Arizona desert, on streets and highways coast to coast, we test our cars the long way, the hard way, the right way. On the world's truest proving grounds. Which is why a GM car is so likely to be worth more when you buy it, as you drive it, when you trade it in.

Reds Claim Violation

PANMUNJOM, Korea (AP) — Communist North Korea charged today that aircraft of the U. N. Command violated Communist air space twice in recent weeks.

The charge was made at a meeting of the joint military armistice commission secretariat. The U. N. Command said it would investigate.

"The air intrusions showed that your side has not take any lesson from the incident of May 17 last year," said North Korean Col. Han Joo-kyung.

On May 17 Capt. Ben W. Stutts, of Florence, Ala., and Capt. Charleton W. Voltz, of Frankfurt, Mich., were captured after Communist ground fire forced down their helicopter north of the Han River.

★ ★ ★

Col. Han did not mention the fate of the two officers, whose return the U. N. Command has repeatedly demanded.

Restored Battle Flags' Will Be Rededicated

LANSING (AP)—Nineteen restored battle flags carried by Michigan volunteers during the Civil War will be rededicated in ceremonies to be held in front of the State Capitol May 22 as part of the annual Michigan Week observance. The flags, housed for many years in the State Capitol Rotunda, became torn and worn and were sent out to be restored by the State Historical Commission.

The median age of all women workers in the United States is now 41 years, the National Consumer Finance Association reports.

Sellers, Wife File Countersuit Against Studio

LOS ANGELES (AP) —Actor Peter Sellers and his wife, Britt Eklund, have answered the $1.5-million suit against them by Twentieth Century-Fox by suing Fox for more than twice as much.

★ ★ ★

Fox sued Miss Eklund for alleged breach of contract and Sellers for allegedly inducing the breach. The studio complained that she refused to continue her role in the film, "Guns of Batasi."

★ ★ ★

Sellers and his wife filed a cross-complaint Monday asking for $2 million damages and an addition $2 million in punitive damages on the grounds that Fox's suit constituted malicious prosecution and abuse of legal process.

★ ★ ★

Sellers also said he suffered damage to his health and reputation as a result of Fox's suit.

Sellers suffered a heart attack more than a month ago and spent several weeks in a hospital.

Aviatrix Heads Across Pacific

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP)— Aviatrix Joan Merriam winged across the Pacific today toward Oakland and her much-delayed goal of circling the earth on the route originally charted by Amelia Earhart 27 years ago.

Miss Earhart vanished in the western Pacific, apparently without a trace.

The Long Beach pilot was scheduled to arrive at Oakland's International Airport at 8:26 a.m. P.D.T. (12:26 p.m. Pontiac time) 17 hours after taking off in her twin-engine Piper Apache from Honolulu 2,400 miles away.

Five hours after takeoff the Federal Aviation Agency reported she was 400 miles at sea and "going nicely."

★ ★ ★

On the Honolulu to Oakland flight, longest leg of her 27,500-mile globe-girdling journey, she received routine navigational aid from a weather ship stationed halfway between Hawaii and the mainland.

MANY PROBLEMS

Weather and mechanical problems have plagued the 27-year-old professional flier since she set off on her adventure in mid-March.

At the start, she hoped to become the first woman to circle the globe alone by air.

But Jerrie Mock, a Columbus, Ohio, flier accomplished that feat on April 17, after flying a more northerly route for a total of about 22,800 miles.

Bad weather knocked Miss Merriam off schedule in the early stages of the journey.

Then, when she reached Guam earlier this month, she was plagued by a series of mechanical problems that forced her to turn back several times. Bad weather forced her back to Midway Island en route to Honolulu.

On Sunday, engine trouble forced her back to Hawaii after she was some 200 miles out.

23 Women Continue Air Race

AUSTIN, Tex. (UPI) — Twenty-three light airplanes, all piloted by women, prepared to leave three Texas airports today in the International Women's Air Race.

The race began at 10 a. m. yesterday at Monterrey, Mexico, and will end when all planes arrive at Gainesville, Fla., by 5 p. m. Wednesday.

Six of the planes stayed overnight in McAllen, Tex., near the Mexican border, saying they would start the second leg of their race today if the weather clears.

Thunderstorm forecasts and rainy weather had caused the six to stay in McAllen.

Dotty Anderson of Bluffington, Ohio, was pilot of the first plane to land at McAllen and also was the first to depart for Austin.

Federal Aviation Agency (FAA) officials at Austin, in the center of the state, and at Tyler, in east Texas, reported some of the planes were spending the night at those cities.

It could not be determined how many of the racers were at each airport because the FAA does not distinguish between members of the race and other flights.

All entrants must at least fly over Austin and Tyler to be timed, but they do not have to land.

The next checkpoint in the race is Jackson, Miss.

Firm Installing Chairs

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — American Seating Co. here is installing 17,000 new red and gold chairs, valued at approximately $400,000, at the Seattle Center Coliseum. Company President James Vermeulen said they will be in place for a June 5 opening of the Pacific Northwest Shriners' convention.

Making 8th Film in 10 Years

Actress Puts Her Family First

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer

HOLLYWOOD — Stars who think they must keep grinding out products to maintain their status might take a lesson from Eva Marie Saint.

THOMAS

Ten years ago she won an Oscar as supporting actress in her first movie, "On the Waterfront." She's now making her eighth film, "36 Hours," and she still gets top money and star billing, with James Garner and Rod Taylor.

★ ★ ★

This is her first movie since "All Fall Down," two years ago, and the relaxed honey-blonde said she welcomed the return to work.

"I don't mind the lapse between pictures," she said, "but two years is a little too long."

8 FILMS

Why has she done only eight films in a decade?

"Because I've always considered that family matters come first," she said. "Many of the pictures I was offered were to be filmed in Europe, and that meant separating the family, which I don't believe in.

★ ★ ★

"We all went over to Cyprus and Israel for 'Exodus,' and it was too much. My husband — Director Jeffrey Hayden — was able to get away, and we took our two small children. My parents went along to take care of them, since my housekeeper wouldn't fly over the ocean.

"It got to be quite a production—and it was potentially dangerous, too. Cyprus was just having the beginnings of trouble, and there were shootings almost every day in Israel.

BACK TO HOLLYWOOD

"Now, I'm happy to say, there seems to be much more production in Hollywood again. And now that both my children are in school all day, I expect I'll be working more than I have in the past."

Eva's devotion to her family has probably cost her in excess of $2 million. One deal alone—for "El Cid" — would have brought her $350,000.

★ ★ ★

"The fortunate thing about having a working husband is that you don't have to worry about such matters," she said. "If I were an actor with a family to support, I couldn't afford to be so selective."

Eva's only other outing besides the eight features was a recent Bob Hope television comedy. An early veteran of live TV, she wanted to see if she would like the filmed variety. She didn't.

Baseball Form Holds in Two Area Leagues

Form held true Monday in Wayne-Oakland and Tri-County league baseball action.

Milford and Clarkston stayed one-two in the W-O with 10-1 and 3-1 victories over Brighton and Holly, respectively. Bloomfield Hills climbed into a third place tie with a 9-3 win over arch-rival West Bloomfield.

★ ★ ★

The other W-O contest saw Northville take advantage of 13 bases on balls by Clarenceville hurlers for an 11-5 win.

In the Tri-County League, Romeo blanked Lapeer, 4-0, behind Benny Payne and Oxford kept 'L'Anse Creuse winless with 9-8 victory in eight innings.

Other games saw St. Michael trim Detroit Country Day, 10-1, on Jerry Stanton's two-hitter, Utica topped South Lake, 5-2 behind Dave McIntosh, North Farmington fell to a no-hitter by Detroit Thurston's Arnie Helwig, 9-0, and Cranbrook got only two singles by Larry Wiley in losing to U-D High, 2-0.

★ ★ ★

Ed Sparkman fanned 16 batters for the third time this season in leading Milford past Brighton. Clarkston tallied three runs in the seventh to beat Holly.

Dave Todd won his first varsity start for Bloomfield Hills with a five-inning effort.

Romeo's Payne tossed a three-hitter and tripled home three first inning runs as the Bulldogs made their record 6-2. Oxford's Bob Roberts stole home in the eighth inning for the Wildcats' triumph.

Plan Class A Tryouts

Pontiac Business Institute will have tryouts for its Class A men's league team at 5 p.m. tomorrow and Saturday on the Jaycee Park No. 1 diamond.

Same Fate for Chiefs, Skippers

Pontiac Central and Waterford baseball teams had victories snatched away from them in the final inning yesterday, but Pontiac Northern kept its unbeaten streak going by downing Farmington, 5-2.

Central tried to rally in its half of the 9th but still lost a 4-3 decision to Saginaw in a league game while Southfield collected two runs in the last frame to defeat Waterford, 4-3.

★ ★ ★

The game between the Chiefs and Saginaw was tied at 1-1 going into the final frame when Jim Carling the winning pitcher tripled in two runs and then scored on Bo Minnich's single.

PCH had a chance to tie but failed. Glenn Sutt walked, Mike Doty tripled and Roberts singled with two outs but was left on base.

SKIPPERS GOOF

Waterford pitchers Killaine and McGuffy held Southfield to only two hits but a bad play in the final inning caused the defeat. With two out and runners on second and third, the ball was hit too short.

Instead of making the play to first, the ball was thrown to second, but there was no runner to be forced at second and thus both runs scored to give Southfield the win.

Roger Hayward struck out 13 batters and he hit a 5th inning homer while holding Farmington to two hits in the PNH triumph.

★ ★ ★

The two unearned runs by Farmington were the first runs scored on Hayward this season. He is 4-0 for the year.

Al Dark Says None Can Hit .400 Now

Conditions Not Good for Steady Effort; Mays Batting .471

HOUSTON (AP)—"Nobody is going to hit .400 under present conditions," says San Francisco Giants' Manager Alvin Dark.

"But if anybody can do it, Willie (Mays) can," Dark said.

Alvin repeated his estimate Monday night that "Mays is the greatest player in the game today," adding, "he's hitting the ball real good and carrying our club."

★ ★ ★ ★

But Dark declined to be carried away to the point of joining some optimists giving Willie a chance to hit .400 this season.

"The way the game is played on a night-and-day basis, the travel schedules and the pitching depth on all clubs are the main reasons I think no hitter can possibly hit .400 now," Dark said.

Dark's testimony that Willie is hitting the ball real well and carrying the Giants is borne out in Mays' .471 average through his first 21 games, his 11 homers, 30 RBI and 24 runs scored—totals that lead the majors and make for one of the greatest starts by any hitter.

STARTED AT .375

By comparison, Ted Williams, in 1941 when he was the majors' last .400 hitter with .406, had a .375 average through the first 20 games.

★ ★ ★

In 1948, Stan Musial carried a .400 average into June on his way to a batting title with a .376 average, the highest average in the National League since Arky Vaughan's .385 won the title in 1935.

But even such tremendous figures don't shake Dark's judgement about the .400.

The commission announced its intention to fine the champion Monday night.

It also said it would fine Ramos' trainer, Kid Rapidez, $120 for the same reason.

NAG SESSION — Hill Rise (center) pays a visit to Northern Dancer (left) and The Scoundrel in their stalls at Pimlico where all three are awaiting Saturday's Preakness. They needed no introduction as they met in the Kentucky Derby and ran 1-2-3 with Dancer first and Hill Rise second.

Surprise Seen for Pimlico

BALTIMORE (AP) — Mesh Tenney isn't making any rash predictions.

But there was a sneaking suspicion around ancient Pimlico today that the man with the white sombrero from California is readying a surprise for the 88th running of the $150,000-added Preakness Saturday.

★ ★ ★

Tenney won last year's Preakness with Candy Spots after the Rex Ellsworth colt had finished third in the Kentucky Derby.

He bids for the second jewel of the Triple Crown for 3-year-olds Saturday with Ellsworth's The Scoundrel, who was third back of Northern Dancer and Hill Rise in this year's Derby.

The veteran trainer, whose conditioning methods often are considered unorthodox by the standards of the majority of trainers, doesn't care to compare The Scoundrel, a big robust son of the little known Toulouse Lautrec, with Candy Spots. He just doesn't believe in making comparisons between horses.

MORE CONFIDENT

But there is no concealing the fact that Tenney is more confident that he was prior to the Derby, in which The Scoundrel was beaten by 3½ lengths for all of the money after holding the lead briefly at the one-mile mark.

"I look for my horse to improve a little every race," said Tenney as he talked of The Scoundrel's fine workout Sunday when he stepped one-mile in 1:38 1-5. The time was only two-fifths of a second off the track record. "I don't think it was too fast. I would consider it just about right."

★ ★ ★

Tenney was especially pleased that The Scoundrel changed leads without breaking stride—something he has had difficulty doing in past races.

"He still races a little green but he is improving," said Tenney.

The Californian plans to give his charge a couple of long gallops and finish his training with a blow out Friday.

SHARP TURNS

One suggested that Pimlico's sharp turns in the 1 3-16-mile race might be a handicap for a horse with such long strides as The Scoundrel.

"I don't think so," said Tenney. "They are gentle curves. I believe he'll take them okay."

All of this could mean bad news for Northern Dancer and Hill Rise, who off their thrilling Derby duel figure to dominate the field of five or perhaps six.

Northern Dancer got in his final serious workout Monday with a mile in 1:42 3-5. Trainer Horatio Luro admitted he wanted the Derby winner to go a little faster but expressed satisfaction with the way the Canadian-owned son of Nearctic handled the track.

★ ★ ★

Hill Rise was dueto get in his final big work this morning, going one-mile.

Roman Brother and Quadrangle, the other two expected starters, who wound up fourth and fifth in the Derby, also got in their final licks Monday. Roman Brother went the one-mile in 1:41 1-5 and Quadrangle sharpened his speed with five-eighths of a mile in 1:01 1-5.

Pitcher Bloops Winning Hit

Oriole 'Dozes' as Nats Triumph, 6-4

By the Associated Press

Stu Miller has been hypnotizing batters for years, but he may have put his first base runner to sleep.

It happened Monday night at Washington, where the Orioles lost to the Senators 6-4, despite Miller's performance and an extra second baseman.

★ ★ ★

Miller, who seems to lull batters into submission with his slow stuff, got the call from the Oriole bullpen in the seventh inning with the score tied 3-3 and two Senators on base—Don Lock at third and Ken Hunt at first.

Miller proceeded to loft four of his pitches wide of the plate, intentionally walking Don Blasingame to load the bases. That forced Hunt over to second base where he apparently figured he could catch a few winks while Miller faced pitcher Bennie Daniels.

WHO'S ON SECOND?

At any rate, when Daniels blooped one of Miller's bloopers into shallow center and it fell in front of outfielder Jackie Brandt, Hunt never left second base.

Brandt quickly turned himself into a second baseman, stepped on the bag and recorded a rare putout for an outfielder by forcing Blasingame, who had become a man without a base.

★ ★ ★

Lock, however, hadn't been caught napping and raced home with the tie-breaking run. Don Zimmer, who previously had collected three singles, followed with a two-run triple and Hunt was left somewhat less red-faced.

Elsewhere in the American League, Albie Pearson slammed a two-run homer and a pair of doubles while leading the Los Angeles Angels to a 6-5 victory over Kansas City, and Fred Whitfield hit a grand slam homer and Larry Brown a three-run shot in Cleveland's 11-7 walloping of Boston.

The Chicago White Sox-Minnesota game was rained out. The New York Yankees and Detroit were not scheduled.

FAST START

Lock got the Senators off to a 3-0 lead in the first inning, hitting a homer after Zimmer and John Kennedy had singled. Boog Powell hit a two-run homer for Baltimore in the third.

The Orioles scored again in the eighth when Johnny Orsino doubled home a run, but that was all as their four-game winning streak ended.

Pearson homered in the second, doubled in the fifth and scored on a sacrifice fly by Jim Fregosi then came across with what turned out to be the decisive run when he doubled and scored on Billy Moran's single in the seventh. The A's, who lost their sixth in seven games, struck for three runs in the eighth before reliever Barry Latman cut off the rally.

★ ★ ★

Whitfield hit his grand slam in the fifth and Brown hit his three-run homer in a four-run eighth inning uprising that sent the Indians and rookie Tommy John into the ninth with an 11-1 lead. The Red Sox, however, bettled back, jamming in six runs after two were out in the ninth before Ted Abernathy put out the fire.

Mound Record 4-1

Houston Pitcher Stops Mays

By The Associated Press

Anytime a pitcher comes up with a 4-1 record for the Houston Colts, he has to have something going for him. Dick Farrell, however, has an even more impressive statistic: He limited Willie Mays to 1-for-4.

The Colt right-hander, a hulking, 220-pounder, won his fourth game Monday night, pitching his eighth-place mates to a 4-1 triumph over National League leading San Francisco.

★ ★ ★

He lowered his earned run average to a respectable 2.14, which is even more respectible when it is considered that all his decisions have been against the league's tougher clubs: two victories over St. Louis, including a four-hitter, and a win and loss to Los Angeles.

And against the Giants, he allowed streaking Willie a single his first time up, then retired him three times in a row, striking him out once with two men on base. This, of course, is quite an accomplishment.

Most hitters wouldn't be completely disappointed with 1-for-4. And the single did keep Mays' hitting streak alive at 18 games. But for Willie—off on one of the greatest starts in the game's history—it lopped 10 points off his average, reducing it to .471.

In fact, he hurts his average in any game he doesn't get two hits.

GIANTS ON RUN

Farrell, who was 14-13 with the ninth-place club last season, scattered 10 hits about as effectively as possible and got the benefit of some strange Giant base-running.

Jesus Alou, leading off the first, singled, but was thrown out trying to make third on brother Matty's single. Mays then singled, but Farrell pitched out of it.

★ ★ ★

And in the fifth, Jesus doubled with one out and held up at third on Matty's single. Mays struck out and Matty broke for second. The throw went to second and Matty stopped. But Nellie Fox made a quick throw to third and Jesus was picked off for a weird double play.

St. Louis edged Philadelphia 3-2 and Cincinnati rallied for a 7-6 victory over Pittsburgh in the only other games on the short National League schedule.

Bill O'Dell held Houston to one hit for five innings before the Colts broke through. Eddie Kasko singled and took second on an error. Mike White's single scored Kasko with the run that broke a 1-1 tie and Jim Wynn's single brought Bob Shaw in to replace O'Dell.

TWO MORE

Singles by Rusty Staub and Al Spangler drove in two more runs and the Colts had all they needed.

Pete Rose's three-run homer in the eighth inning provided the Reds with their victory at Pittsburgh, even though the Pirates rallied for two in their half of the inning.

Julian Javier's seventh inning homer drove in all the Cardinal runs and gave lefty Ray Sadecki just enough working room to make his six-hitter stand up.

Dressen Calls for More Use of Best Pitch

Bengal Batters Must Average Five Runs to Outdo Hurlers

DETROIT (UPI)—The Detroit Tigers pitching staff has a combined earned run average of 4.27, which means Detroit hitters must average five runs per game to beat the opposition.

In an attempt to remedy the above-mentioned situation, manager Charlie Dressen is trying to get his pitchers to think.

★ ★ ★

"It's not that our pitchers are ignorant," Dressen said. "But, sometimes when pitching they don't think and it hurts us."

DRESSEN EXPLAINS

Asked to elaborate further, he explained:

"Well, take Phil Regan for an example. One of his best pitches is an overhand curve. So, in his last start Thursday against Boston, he uses only 11 overhand curves in seven innings.

"Why? I don't know, but he should be throwing that pitch two, maybe three, times at each batter."

Dressen added that pitchers get rattled after a few hits and instead of relying on their best pitches — which may not be their most accurate — they throw straight balls."

"Look at Hank Aguirre in Saturday's game against Baltimore," he said. "Aguirre retires the first 14 guys to face him. He's pitching like he's Lefty Grove and everyone starts wondering if he can fire a no-hitter.

★ ★ ★

"Then, wham, Joe Gaines singles and Aguirre loses all his stuff. Dick Brown, a catcher who played here and can't hit anything below his waist, hits a home run on a high fast ball. Then, two more singles and you begin to wonder if Aguirre will last five innings.

"As soon as that guy singled, Aguirre lost his concentration. He started throwing the old straight ball with nothing on it because he was afraid to walk someone. Well, anyone in the major leagues can hit a straight ball . . . it's like taking batting practice."

Dressen pointed to Dave Wickersham as being "the smartest pitcher on the club with the least amount of natural talent."

The Tigers will open a three-game series against the New York Yankees tonight at Tiger Stadium with Mickey Lolich (2-1) facing Al Downing. Aguirre (0-0) will meet Ralph Terry in Wednesday night's contest and Wickersham (4-2) or Frank Lary (0-2) will face Whitey Ford Thursday afternoon.

★ ★ ★

The Yanks will take a five-game winning streak into tonight's contest, while the Tigers are hoping to break a five-game losing string.

Tickets Available for Tiger Contest

The sale of $866 worth of tickets to the Tigers-Cardinals benefit exhibition baseball game June 1 at Tiger Stadium is progressing smoothly.

Persons interested in supporting the city boys baseball program should move quickly to insure getting the tickets they desire.

More than 475 tickets ranging from $1 general admission to $3 box seats are available for the game which will see Stan Musial back in a St. Louis uniform.

"The Man," a sure bet for baseball's Hall of Fame, has agreed to put in a special plate appearance as the Cardinals return a favor for the Tigers' Busch Stadium visit last summer.

All proceeds from the ticket sales are retained by the local recreation departments doing the selling. Waterford Township, Bloomfield Hills and Birmingham are others participating in close proximity to Pontiac.

The city ticket sales are under way among Pontiac Optimist, Veterans of Foreign Wars and Auburn Heights Boys' Club members.

The ducats are also on sale over the counter at Osmun's Men's Store and the Baldwin Avenue Pharmacy, in addition to the Parks and Recreation Department at City Hall.

Arabs May Boycott Summer Olympics

CAIRO (AP)—Arab countries will boycott the Olympic Games in Tokyo if Indonesia is barred from taking part, the newspaper Al Gumhourriya said today.

So far Indonesia has not been invited to participate because of its earlier refusal to permit Israel to compete in the Asian Games held in Jakarta.

The newspaper said the Arab League Council was scheduling a special meeting next week to discuss the Arab stand on the Olympics and other questions.

Ex-NFL Mentor Owen in Life-Death Struggle

ONEIDA, N.Y. (AP)—Former New York Giants' football coach Steve Owen, veteran of many a gridiron battle, is fighting a serious illness in a hospital oxygen tent.

"Stout Steve," as he was known during his 23-year coaching career with the Giants, was admitted to Oneida City Hospital Saturday.

★ ★ ★

A hospital spokesman said today the 66-year-old Enid, Okwa., native was in critical condition and in an oxygen tent.

The nature of his illness was not disclosed.

Owen, who retired as the Giants' coach in 1953, suffered a heart attack two years ago but was said to have made a complete recovery.

His most recent football job was with the now-defunct Syracuse Stormers of the United Football League. Owen quit that post midway through the 1963 season. The reason he left the club was not explained.

MILD MANNER

Owen, a big ruddy-faced man with a mild manner that stood out in his violent trade, joined the Giants in 1926 as a tackle. He was elected team captain in 1927 and led his mates to the league title the same year.

He was an all-league tackle selection for four straight years and took over as head coach in 1931, winning eight Eastern Division titles and capturing league championships in 1934 and 1938.

Owen moved to an arm-chair job with a five-year contract and was replaced by Jim Lee Howell at the close of the 1953 season, a rough year for the Giants that was climaxed by a 62-14 licking by the Cleveland Browns.

That contract was the first he had with the Giants. He and the Maras—John, Tim and Wellington—father and son owners of the club, had closed all other negotiations with a handshake, nothing more.

Owen, criticized at times for lack of a colorful offense, nevertheless fostered several new wrinkles, including the "A" offensive pattern and the umbrella pass defense.

And he was one of the first to put basketball sneakers on his players when they were working on a frozen field. He sent his sneakered charges out for a second-half comeback 30-13 victory over the Chicago Bears in 1934.

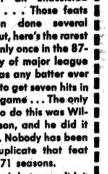
SPORTS FANS!



I BET YOU DIDN'T KNOW
By Bud Shelton

What's the rarest feat in baseball? . . . It is not pitching a perfect game or even pulling off an unassisted triple play . . . Those feats have been done several times . . . But, here's the rarest of all . . . Only once in the 87-year history of major league baseball has any batter ever been able to get seven hits in a 9-inning game . . . The only man ever to do this was Wilbert Robinson, and he did it in 1892 . . . Nobody has been able to duplicate that feat in the last 71 seasons.

Here's one I bet you didn't know . . . There was one season in baseball history when a pitcher had to throw more than three strikes to get a strike-out . . . Back in 1887, the rulesmakers decided to experiment . . . That season a batter was permitted FOUR strikes! . . . The rule lasted only one year.

One of the most fabulous baseball teams of all-time was the 1928 Philadelphia A's . . . SEVEN players on that team became members of the Hall of Fame! . . . They were Ty Cobb, Mickey Cochrane, Eddie Collins, Jimmy Foxx, Lefty Grove, Al Simmons and Tris Speaker . . . And, strangely enough, this team did not win the pennant!

I bet you didn't know . . . that the place to get the right deal on a new Pontiac or Buick (or a real good used car), is at Shelton's! See us soon.

Boxing Groups Uphold Sugar Ramos' Victory

ACCRA, Ghana (AP) — The world's two biggest boxing bodies said Sugar Ramos still is featherweight champion today, but angry words still swirled around the scene of his disputed battle with Floyd Robertson of Ghana.

★ ★ ★

Abe J. Greene, commissioner of the World Boxing Association, said chaos would rule if boxing authorities were allowed to overrule judges' decisions.

The British Boxing Board of Control said it would not recognize the move by the Ghana Boxing Authority to reverse the split decision for Ramos and give the title to Robertson.

★ ★ ★

The local press attacked the two judges who voted for Ramos, Ed Lassman of Miami, president of the WBA, and Ramon Velazquez, head of the Mexico Boxing Commission.

HE BUNGLED

It also attacked Ohone Djan, Ghana's sports director, for "bungling up Ghana's greatest sporting opportunity."

The Daily Graphic, a government-owned newspaper, called on the British group and the WBA to give the title to Robertson. "Bad decisions are not new in boxing," the newspaper said, "but surely this one by the two imperialist exploiters is something that hurts Africa."

★ ★ ★

Other newspapers called the two judges "corrupt capitalists."

Lassman and Velazquez voted 70-69 for the Puerto Rican-born champion, in the 15-round bout Saturday night. British judge Jack Hart voted for Robertson.

Lassman, who flew to London Monday, said he would give the same verdict again. So did Velazquez.

Spring Arbor in Tourney

MOUNT PLEASANT (UPI) — Tiny Spring Arbor College will represent Michigan next month at St. Joseph, Mo., in the NAIA Baseball Championships.

★ ★ ★

The Jackson County school defeated Hillsdale, 7-4, Monday to win the NAIA District 23 championship. Spring Arbor gained the finals earlier in the day by edging Ferris State, 4-3. Max Terman's two-run homer in the second inning of the second game paved the way for Spring Arbor's victory.

★ ★ ★

In other games Monday, Hillsdale defeated Central Michigan, 6-2, and Central belted Ferris, 11-2.

OLSM Nears League Title

Richards, Burton Take Track Honors

Bob Richards of Bloomfield Hills continued his unofficial assault on the state high school mile record yesterday.

The flying senior was clocked in 4:16.2 as the Barons lost to Royal Oak Dondero, 70-39, in a dual track meet.

Clawson's Brodie Burton was the individual star with four first places against Rochester. But the Trojans had little else and Rochester ran off with a 64-45 win.

Walled Lake took Kettering in stride, 64-45; Romeo downed Avondale, 61⅔-47⅓; and Orchard Lake St. Mary moved a step closer to the Catholic League's second division westside champion with a 72-37 win over St. Theresa.

Richard's time was the best in the mile by a state prep this spring. He also held the previous low, 4:16.7, set in his last try.

STATE MEET

State records can only be set in the state meet. If there is a dry track and the weather is warm, Richards or Redford's Art Link should lower the standard.

Burton won the broad jump, pole vault, 100 and 220 for Clawson. Junior John Pellerito of Rochester finally cracked the school record in the 880 with a 2:04.4.

Pellerito had been under the Rochester mark for the half mile two other times, but had finished second.

Fr. John Gabalski, coach at OLSM, will send the Eaglets after the league westside title tomorrow at Orchard Lake against Ecorse St. Francis Xavier.

Wrestlers Pack Crowds

SRO for Grooners

NEW YORK (AP)—Paint up those gold bricks. Dust off the Brooklyn Bridge. Polish up the shell game.

When P. T. Barnum said there was a sucker born every minute, he didn't take the population explosion into consideration. Or the wrestling matches at Madison Square Garden.

★ ★ ★

The rasslers are the biggest thing going these days at the big sports house on Eighth Avenue, despite the best efforts of almost everybody to ignore the act.

★ ★ ★

They came back to town Monday night—appropriately enough the day after the circus closed—and as usual the Garden was practically packed. There were 16,300 noisy fans, who paid $49,507.83.

Even so, it was the worst night of the year for the wrestlers, who have been averaging 18,000. Ten thousand were turned away last month.

NEVER MISSES

The fans came early this time. There was Frank Amato from Brooklyn. He said he finds wrestling "very exciting. I never miss a match."

Larry Dorfman also is from Brooklyn. He thinks wrestling is honest.

"I never heard any different" he said.

★ ★ ★

Joe Pacala from Manhattan said he never misses a show, "especially when the championship is at stake."

There was a young lady who said, "I like the excitement. One of my brother said sometimes it's fixed, but mostly I think it's honest."

These are serious people who obviously believe what they want to believe, even when the performance in the ring falls far short of credibility.

Some are among life's losers, but many are work-roughened fellows who look as if they wear a necktie only about three times a year. There are men with central European accents, Puerto Ricans, many Negroes, young girls who look as if they don't have many dates, little old ladies who can barely totter to their feet and scream for blood.

PLENTY OF NOISE

Almost all are noisy.

The fellow fighting the main event was introduced as "Gorrilla Monsoon from Manchuria." Actually, he is a studious fellow who wears horn-rimmed glasses as thick as milk bottle bottoms outside the ring, but is a villain between the ropes.

Monsoon fought this week's champion, Bruno Sammartino, who is billed as from Abruzzi, Italy, and obviously has never been near the place, either.

They slithered around the ring for more than an hour, until the 11 p.m. curfew called a halt. It was hot work, but not particularly dangerous. A couple of times the referee appeared to get his signals crossed and had to back up the count, like this:

"7-8-9-4-5-6-7-3-4. . . ."

On the way out, a fan yelled to Monsoon to "go back to Manchuria."

Casper Boosts PGA Earning

DUNEDIN, Fla. (AP) — Jack Nicklaus, until last Sunday the only double tournament winner this year, sat securely today at the head of the Professional Golfers Association's list of 10 top money winners with $46,925.

Nicklaus' double winner distinction was shattered Sunday with Bill Casper's $14,000 victory in the Colonial Open at Fort Worth, Tex. Casper's second win of the 1964 tour boosted him into third position with $30,981 for the season.

★ ★ ★

However, no crown is ever safe until the last tournament of the season when Arnold Palmer lurks in second position with earnings of $38,498.

Holding fourth position was Juan Rodriguez with $22,171 and Mason Rudolph was fifth with $22,032.

The bottom half of the top 10 consisted of Dave Marr, $21,544; Al Geiberger, $18,299; Julius Boros, $17,113; Gary Player, $17,000, and Tommy Jacobs, $16,920.

Maxwell Cut by Chisox

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (AP) —Waivers were asked on veteran outfielder Charlie Maxwell Monday as the Chicago White Sox cut their roster to 26 players, one over the limit to be reached by midnight tonight.

Wildcat Strikes Banned by Judge

Rail Unions Urged to Obey Injunction

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A rail union leader today called on his members to obey a federal court order banning wildcat strikes over terms of an arbitration award.

H. E. Gilbert, president of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen (BLFE), also urged railroads to refrain from taking job-cutting steps that the union is challenging before the arbitration board.

Gilbert said some carriers were taking steps that would disrupt seniority systems and force some firemen to move long distances to retain jobs. This is creating an "explosive" situation, he said.

"I know emotions are running high, but this is a court order and it must be obeyed," Gilbert said.

Railroad spokesmen warned that workers who refused to show up for work without a lawful excuse may be fired if the work stoppages continued.

Federal Judge Alexander Holtzoff granted a permanent injunction yesterday barring any walkouts over terms of the award.

He advised the union to take its complaints to the arbitration board for clarification and then come into court if it was not satisfied with the results.

Holtzoff said defiance of his order could result in contempt of court findings against union leaders who encouraged any walkouts.

★ ★ ★

Gilbert, who said the injunction was a "harsh" one, was busy trying to end a walkout against the Milwaukee road at Spokane, Wash.

MAIN COMPLAINT

The BLFE's main complaint appeared to be directed against actions taken by some railroads to require long-service firemen, whose jobs are protected for life under the award, to move long distances or take jobs away from home to stay on the payroll.

The union is not contesting the carriers' right to lay off more than 3,000 firemen with less than two years service, a union spokesman said. The award eventually may eliminate 33,000 firemen's jobs.

Opening lead—♥ 10

By OSWALD JACOBY

Here is another safety play from Ernie Rovere's new book "Modern Point Count Contract Bridge."

JACOBY

South finds himself in a rather comfortable six spade contract. If he is the least bit careless, he will lead the king of spades at trick two. West will show out and South will spend the rest of the day complaining about his tough luck.

If South is careful, he won't have to complain. He will lead a spade to dummy's ace at trick two. West will show out, but it won't embarrass South at all.

He will simply lead a trump from dummy and win the trick in his own hand as cheaply as possible. Then he will get back to dummy with a club or diamond and lead dummy's last spade.

It won't matter which card East plays. South will wind up with all the trump tricks. While he will have to lose a diamond, he will make his slam.

Was South's choice of a spade lead to dummy's ace just luck? Not at all! He couldn't handle jack-ten-six-two of spades in the West hand but he could if they were in the East hand.

If South had held the ten of spades instead of the eight, his lead of the king of spades at trick two would have been correct.

In that case, he would have had a simple finesse against the jack in either hand. But with the jack and ten both missing, he could only handle four spades in the East hand.

What do you do now?

A—Bid five no-trump. Your partner is trying for a slam. Let him place it.

TODAY'S QUESTION

Instead of bidding four hearts, your partner jumps to six no-trump over your three no-trump. What do you do now?

Good Gain Selected Issues Pace Market

NEW YORK (AP) — Steels, motors, savings - and - loans and selected issues paced the stock market to a good gain early this afternoon. Trading was moderately active.

The market was mixed at the start, then moved irregularly higher. While there were plenty of losers scattered throughout the list, the market level improved as the session wore on.

The newest sensation was Calumet & Hecla which soared more than half a dozen points before paring the rise to 6 points or so. A report that its already-known copper discovery in Michigan contained substantial supplies of high-grade ore triggered heavy buying. The stock opened on 25,000 shares and pushed ahead in active trading.

SHARP GAINS

Sharp gains were made by savings-and-loan holding companies in the wake of a published survey stating that the percentage of delinquent home loans from these institutions has been running consistently below the year-ago figures.

Rails also moved ahead solidly, with most gains fractional, although Soo Line spurted about 3 points.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up .7 at 307.5 with industrials up 1.0, rails up .4 and utilities up .3.

Prices were irregularly higher in moderate trading on the New York Stock Exchange.

Corporate bonds were mixed. U.S. Government bonds edged higher.

Teachers Vote for AFL-CIO

Pick Bargaining Unit at Detroit Edison

DETROIT (AP) — Detroit's public school teachers chose an AFL-CIO union group Monday to represent them in bargaining with the board of education and school administration.

The city's 10,000 public school teachers voted 5,729 to 3,848 for the Detroit Federation of Teachers (DFT).

★ ★ ★

The election was the climax to a power struggle between the DFT and its rival teacher organization, the Detroit Education Association (DEA).

The DFT is a relatively new organization in education. The long-established DEA is a professional group affiliated with the giant National Education Association.

OTHER CLASHES

The two organizations have clashed in similar disputes in New York, Milwaukee, Minneapolis, Cleveland, Chicago and other cities.

In winning the Detroit election, the DFT gained rights as sole bargaining agent for the teachers in areas of salary, status, teaching conditions and personal welfare.

It will appoint an 11-member Teacher Representative Committee to discuss problems with the school superintendent and administrators. Any agreements reached will be sent to the Board of Education which retains authority to make final decisions.

★ ★ ★

If a deadlock ensues in negotiations between the DFT-dominated Teacher Representative Committee and the superintendent, a conference committee made up of board members, teacher representatives and the superintendent will be appointed.

If there is still no agreement, a special mediation committee would be appointed.

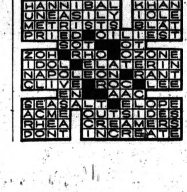
Answer to Previous Puzzle



1 Township Votes to Be City; 1 Not

DETROIT (AP) — One western Wayne County township decided to become a city Monday. Another rejected the same idea.

★ ★ ★

Nankin Township voters approved incorporation 8,086 to 2,237. Taylor Township disapproved by an approximate 3 to 1 margin.

★ ★ ★

Nankin will adopt the name of "Westland" if nine persons elected to a charter commission form an acceptable charter. The township has a population of 70,000 and 20.9 square miles of land area.

Presidential Campaigning—No. 2

Parties to Spend $200 Million in '64

(EDITOR'S NOTE — This is the second of five dispatches by the national reporter of United Press International on the techniques of presidential campaigning.)

By HARRY FERGUSON

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The best guess is that members of both major parties will spend more than $200 million on this year's elections, national, state and local.

★ ★ ★

It can be nothing more than a guess because the area of political funds is a dark, dank jungle from which explorers return with nothing more than a bag full of generalities.

There are laws governing how much money national committees can spend ($3 million) and how much a person can contribute to one committee ($5,000). But these are Swiss cheese laws — full of holes.

A political party can have as many national committees as it chooses and a person can give $5,000 to 100 different committees if he feels inclined.

★ ★ ★

John F. Kennedy spent $912,000 to win the Democratic nomination in 1960 and the Kennedy family supplied $150,000 of it.

PERSONAL EXPENDITURE

Kennedy personally put up $60,000.

The family also purchased an airplane for $385,000 and leased it to Kennedy at $1.75 a mile.

A man with that kind of family money obviously has a long advantage against a poor man in preconvention fight as Sen. Hubert Humphrey of Minnesota found out in 1960 when he was locked in battle with Kennedy for the nomination.

★ ★ ★

Kennedy destroyed Humphrey's presidential hopes in the West Virginia primary and Theodore H. White tells a poignant story about it in his book "The Making of the President":

FINAL SATURDAY

"I remember the final Saturday morning after it was revealed that Kennedy's TV expenditures alone across the state had mounted to $34,000.

"Humphrey had had but four hours sleep . . . and one of his assistants informed him that the TV stations that had booked him for a Sunday night half hour were threatening to cancel unless they were paid that day, cash in advance.

"'Pay it,' snarled Humphrey. 'Pay it! I don't care how.'

"Then, realizing that his crestfallen aide was, like himself, destitute, Hubert pulled out his checkbook at the breakfast table and said: 'All right, I'll pay it myself.'

SCRIBBLES CHECK

He scribbled a personal check.

"Mrs. Humphrey watched him do so with dark, sad eyes and one had the feeling that the check was money from the family grocery fund or the money earmarked to pay for the wedding of their daughter who was to be married the week following the primary."

Humphrey lost the primary and withdrew as a candidate.

★

The man who knows most about the collecting and spending of political funds is Dr. Alexander Heard of the University of North Carolina.

He was chairman of President Kennedy's commission on campaign costs and is the author of a massive study on the subject called "The Costs of Democracy."

Some of his findings:

● Republicans almost always have more money than the Democrats. The estimate for the 1960 national committees' expenditures was: Republicans, $10.1 million; Democrats, $9.8 million.

★ ★ ★

● Unlike a man-to-man battle, the party with the most money loses oftener than it wins. Franklin D. Roosevelt was outspent by his opponents four times and Harry Truman's campaign chest was empty at one stage of the 1948 election.

CORPORATE CONTRIBUTIONS

● Corporations are heavy contributors, usually to the Republicans. In 1952 Dwight D. Eisenhower came out in favor of the Tidelands Oil Bill and officers and directors of the 22 largest oil companies donated $300,000 to his campaign and $6,000 to the Democrats.

● Labor leaders and labor organizations largely give their money to the Democrats and it is a sizable contribution (a total of $2.2 million in 1960 at all election levels but not necessarily that full amount to the Democrats).

● Many persons contribute to both parties and justify their action by saying they favor the two-party system and want the fullest possible debate on the issues. Cynics lean to the belief that they merely are working both sides of the street and want to be able to do business with whichever party wins.

★ ★ ★

● Big individual contributors can be reasonably sure of a reward. Maxwell H. Gluck, owner of a dress shop chain, contributed $26,500 to Eisenhower's 1956 campaign and was named ambassador to Ceylon. It would have passed unnoticed except that when Gluck appeared at hearings on his qualifications it developed he didn't know the names of the prime ministers of Ceylon and India.

FAILED TO DELIVER

● The underworld contributes heavily to political candidates, but only on a municipal and state level. Charles Binaggio, leader of the First Ward Democratic Club in Kansas City, Mo., was murdered in 1950. The most prevalent theory is that he was killed because he had failed to deliver the political influence his underworld associates thought they were buying. One estimate is that underworld political contributions in 1952 amounted to $16 million.

How are political funds spent? Here is Heard's breakdown on the Republicans and the Democrats in 1956, essentially the same for both:

General expenses, salaries, transportation, rent etc. — 48 per cent. Television time — 20 per cent. Printing, purchasing and distribution of literature — 14 per cent. Newspaper and periodical advertising — 9 per cent. Radio time — 6 per cent. Outdoor billboards — 3 per cent.

★ ★ ★

Interesting incidental items that have appeared over the years in reports from both parties: For liquor in St. Louis — $66.30. Corsage for Mamie Eisenhower — $30. Corsage for Margaret Truman—$15. To pay a traffic ticket in Maryland — $5.25.

Broadway Again Awake After Rip van Winkle Act

By EARL WILSON

Is it possible that New York, the celebrated Stay-Up City, is going to start staying up again . . . after a sleepy 20 years when it went shamelessly to bed at a decent hour?

WILSON

I hopped out of a cab at the Copacabana around 2 a.m. to find myself slicing through a long sidewalk line of white-jacketed and evening-gowned prom youngsters there to catch Sammy Davis Jr. in his "third show."

"Those without reservations, right this way . . . those without reservations, right this way," a chap who was sort of a traffic cop for the crowd said.

They filed in, circled the bar and went down a separate stairway to their tables.

It's a sort of "live late, late show" right on the streets of NY. The "third show" has been outmoded for years in NY until Copacabana Boss Jules Podell decided that Sammy, the World's Fair tourists and other factors, might make it work now.

"Yes, our crowds are staying later," Jerry Berns at 21 Club said . . . David Niven and Sen. Javits appeared in no hurry to leave. Niven is off to Finland to do a movie with Kim Novak, "Honey for the Bears."

Carol Channing was at Sardi's quite convincingly denying a rumor that she'd missed a "Hello, Dolly!" show. The Latin Quarter said it had tables jammed up against the kitchen.

Oscar Winner Sidney Poitier came to the Copa to cheer Sammy Davis who, in his first week of the third-show policy, broke all attendance and cash receipts records.

★ ★ ★

There was "late action," all over town. Was the "Go-to-bed early" trend dead? It came about during World War II when a dim-out curfew closed bars at midnight. Suddenly, now, again, there was a feeling that "There's (night) life in the old girl yet."

★ ★ ★

THE MIDNIGHT EARL . . .

Paul Anka will be Steve Lawrence's replacement in "What Makes Sammy Run?" when Steve takes a week-long vacation . . . Aren't Tammy Grimes and Harve Presnell planning the wedding "as soon as possible"? Abbe Lane tells TV interviewers in advance she doesn't want to be asked about Cugat.

When George Burns was casting the "Mr. Ed" TV series, he turned down one actor who'd applied for the lead, and the actor's agent asked for an explanation. Burns answered: "He's just not the kind of guy a horse would want to be seen talking to."

★ ★ ★

REMEMBERED QUOTE: "Conscience is what makes you tell your wife, before somebody else does."

EARL'S PEARLS: The experienced baby-sitter is one who puts the baby in front of the TV set, so she can watch them both at the same time.

Bobby Morse tells of the hammy actor named Beamish, who fell into a lake. Each time he came up he shouted, "Help! Walter Beamish is drowning!" That's earl, brother.

Sabin Announces Finding of Possible Cancer Virus

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Dr. Albert B. Sabin, developer of live virus oral polio vaccine, said last night he has discovered a virus he hopes to prove can cause cancer in humans.

★ ★ ★

"It would be too good to be true, but it could be true," the famed virus specialist told a meeting of physicians and scientists at Mt. Zion Hospital.

"No human cancer has yet been proved to be caused by a virus," Dr. Sabin said. But he and his colleagues, he said, have isolated a virus from the thymus gland of an 18-year-old Cincinnati youth suffering from chest cancer.

Tumor cells were extracted from the gland, he said. The cells lived and reproduced under laboratory conditions.

★ ★ ★

At first, he said, no virus was evident, then, after 20 days of culturing a virus began to appear in large numbers.

STRANGE TO HIM

The virus from the youth's tumor, he said, "was unlike any other virus that has been described or encountered," in human cancer.

He added that his report represents only circumstantial evidence — "a little bit of light coming from the darkness."

"I'm always prepared — I'm a veteran by now — to fall flat on my face," said the Russian-born medical pioneer.

★ ★ ★

"What could be true is that this virus has a causal relationship to certain kinds of cancer," he said.

The isolated virus seems to be biochemically related to a class of viruses that cause tumors in rabbits and a certain type of African monkey, Dr. Sabin said.

The virus also moves from cows to man, causing a nonmalignant tumor known as "milker's nudles," he added.

Paper Goes Back to Work

Labor Dispute Settled at Washington Star

WASHINGTON (AP)—A labor dispute that halted publication of the Washington Star was settled early today, federal mediators announced.

★ ★ ★

Representatives of printers and the Washington publishers association accepted a proposal by William E. Simkin, director of the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service.

★ ★ ★

It calls for reinstatement of chapel chairman Paige Dozier—but without back pay.

Printers at the Star walked out early last Friday. The Star published abbreviated editions Friday, Saturday and Sunday but pressmen joined the walkout Monday, forcing the newspaper to halt all publication.

RESUME WORK

The agreement called for resumption today of publication by the Star, an afternoon and Sunday paper.

★ ★ ★

In proposing terms, Simkin warned that unless agreement was reached, "the present dispute may lead to a more widespread curtailment of news media in the nation's capital."

★ ★ ★

The agreement calls for discussions between the printers and publishers of "appropriate procedures for paste-up proofs," using established grievance procedures and discussion of the types of notices that can be posted by chapel chairmen.

Dozier was fired last Wednesday after the Star said he posted an illegal notice.

★ ★ ★

Simkin's proposal — accepted by the two sides — urged that Dozier "be returned to work with other employes without loss of rights, benefits or privileges but under the circumstances of this case, with no back pay for any period prior to return to work."

Grass Fires Hike Waterford Total

A rash of grass fires pushed the number of alarms handled during April by the Waterford Township Fire Department to 213, just 82 more than in April 1963.

Grass fires last month accounted for 156 alarms compared to just 64 during the same month a year ago.

* * *

Alarms for the first four months this year total 399 compared to 326 for the January through April period last year.

Fire damage so far this year, however, is well under that for the same period of 1963. The four - month totals are $63,365 and $196,305 respectively.

Bum Memory

Hoboes--Vanishing Breed

By JERRY BUCK

RICHMOND, Va. (AP) — What ever happened to the hoboes I used to know as a kid?

I haven't seen an honest-to-goodness hobo in years. Apparently in this age of prosperity they have been squeezed into employment.

* * ⅞

But to a kid in those first post-depression years they were everywhere. The railroad tracks were only a few blocks away and every freight train brought more of them to the Louisiana bayou country where I grew up.

Looking back, I suppose most of them were derelicts, bewildered and abandoned, but in those days they seemed like soldiers of fortune.

GLAMOROUS LIFE

In old felt hats, knee-length coats and open-toed shoes, they had an aura of glamor. They came and went like the wind and every meal was a picnic around a camp fire.

* * *

We had no sidewalk in front of our house on which to scrawl a sign, but the hoboes all seemed to know my mother was an easy mark. She was always good for a plate of scrambled eggs, bread and a cup or two of coffee. Sometimes I would sit beside one on the back steps and watch him wolf down the food.

* * *

Dad had a brick yard along the tracks, and for a time it was a hobo Hilton. There wasn't much demand for bricks, and for months at a time its kilns stood empty. We used to play there, up the chimneys, down through the tunnels, and out again, yelling just to hear our echoes.

The hoboes turned the kilns into harbors from the wet and the cold — and perhaps too from the world. A knapsack tossed into a corner and a blanket on the floor and it was home until the wail of a train whistle called them on again.

HOBO MEAL

A few bricks made an excellent hearth on which to set a battered pot. I pooled my nickels with the hoboes for a sack of beans and salt pork. Its odors filled our cavern, and nothing ever tasted better. We sat around the fire while the rain dripped outside and I heard embroidered tales of places that seemed to me like the Arabian Nights.

Once, I remember, I brought over my horde of comic books and we sat by the fire reading.

* * *

I was especially envious of one ingenious fellow who fashioned a home out of an abandoned auto. It sat under a weeping willow beside a brick pond filled with junk.

* * *

It was a shell. The motor and wheels, even the fenders, were gone. He stripped it bare inside, then plastered the walls and chinked the holes with newspapers to ward off the chill. From the junk heap he salvaged an old car seat and it was chair and bed. An upturned crate was a table.

HOME WRECKED

Later, long afterward, a gang of us braced ourselves against the willow and shoved the car into the pond. A little sadly, I watched it settle into the murk.

They are gone now, and no hoot of a diesel will ever bring them back. Like our childhood, they are gone.

Desk Is Eyed for JFK Library

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The desk the late President John F. Kennedy used during his last term as a U.S. Senator would be donated to the Kennedy Memorial Library under a resolution sponsored by Sens. Pat McNamara and Philip A. Hart, D-Mich.

The two senators introduced the resolution yesterday. They said that Kennedy bought the chair he had occupied in the Senate chamber as a remembrance of his eight Senate years. The chair will be in the library.

"It occurred to me it would be very appropriate for the Senate to complete his tableau by providing also the desk in the Senate chamber last used by the late President as a senator," McNamara said.

RIGHT ON SCHEDULE — Work on the Howard C. Baldwin Memorial Pavilion on the Oakland University campus is preceding on schedule. Within a week the roof arches should all be in place, according to James Hicks, manager of the Meadow Brook Music Festival. The 2,000-seat pavilion and the Lula B. Wilson Memorial Concert Shell will be completed for the opening concert, July 23.

OU Music Festival Building Called 'Right on Schedule'

"Right on schedule," is the answer to "How is the building coming for the Meadow Brook Music Festival?"

James Hicks, manager at Oakland University for the festival, says that nearly all the steel work is in place. Special cranes had to be brought in to raise the giant roof arches.

Euthusiasm for the performing arts program has infected the contractor, J. A. Fredman of J. A. Fredman, Inc., 735 South Paddock Street. As his contribution to the endeavor he waived his contractor's fee and obtained the cement for under the seats as a donation.

The opening concerts July 23-24 will feature violinist Gordon Staples and cellist Italo Babini playing the Brahms Double Concerto in A minor with the Detroit Symphony Orchestra.

Mary Costa will be heard in all three concerts the next week. Only July 30 and 31 she will sing Richard Strauss' "Four Last Songs" and Ravel's "Sheherazade."

DUAL ROLE

On Aug. 6-7 Sixten Ehrling will appear in the dual role of piano soloist and conductor in Hindemith's "The Four Temperaments."

Pianist Leonard Pennario will be the soloist Aug. 13-14, playing the Khatchaturian Concerto.

Season tickets are now on sale, priced at $10, $6 and $3. Reservations are being taken by committees throughout the area and at the University.

Sewer Study Cost OK'd by Waterford Board

The Waterford Township Board last night took a preliminary step toward the ultimate construction of a sanitary sewer system for the township.

The board authorized $18,000 as its share of a $40,000 engineering study by the county Department of Public Works.

The study would explore internal sewer system requirements of the four communities that would tie into a proposed extension of the Dequindre interceptor sewer line from 14 to 23½ Mile Road.

Detroit has indicated a willingness to extend its interceptor line on a revenue basis payable by communities which tie in to the service. It awaits approval of these municipalities.

Donald Ringler, DPW deputy director, last night outlined the proposed sewer program to board members.

★ ★ ★

Waterford, as the largest community to be served by the proposed extension, was assessed $18,000, or about 45 per cent of the total study cost.

PROPORTION PAY

Other communities who are potential customers would pay for the study in proportion to their populations.

Ringler pointed out that study expenditures would later be credited to the community when the sewer system is under way.

Any community which appropriates funds for the study but later decides to bypass the sewer system would forfeit this amount, Ringler said.

★ ★ ★

Construction of the Waterford sewer system could be under way in two years, Ringler said, and the system could be completed in one more year.

SCHEDULE PRESUMED

This assumes that plans for the interceptor and negotiations on laterals and arms with the four communities involved proceed on schedule.

The sewer system would cost individual users from $1,

Rusk Urges NATO to Isolate Fidel

THE HAGUE, Netherlands (AP) — Secretary of State Dean Rusk urged the complete isolation of Communist Cuba today, warning the Western allies that the Cuban problem presents the danger of another world-shaking crisis.

In an address to the opening session of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO) Council, Rusk coupled a plea for action against Cuba with a call for the Allies to pitch in and help in South Viet Nam.

Rusk said manpower and military assistance are not needed from the other allies in Communist - threatened South Viet Nam.

He suggested industrial equipment, commodities, medical teams and teachers would help to give the people a psychological boost.

Speaking of East-West relations in general, Rusk declared that despite an easing of tension, there still was no sign of any basic historic change in the Soviet position.

Rusk said the United States is continuing to seek some avenues of agreement with the Soviet Union and other nations should do the same.

Heavily Guarded
McNamara in Saigon

AP Photofax

IN SAIGON — U.S. Secretary of Defense Robert McNamara (dark suit, center) walks with U.S. Ambasador Henry Cabot Lodge after leaving plane at Saigon Airport. At right is Vietnamese Defense Minister Maj. Gen Tran Thiem Khiem.

Starts Series of Confabs on War Progress

Security Tightened After Discovery of Cong Murder Plot

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — U.S. Secretary of Defense Robert McNamara arrived in Saigon today for a 36-hour visit and plunged into a series of heavily guarded conferences on the progress of the war in Viet Nam.

McNamara raced from one conference to another in Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge's car, with flak jackets piled on the floor, on the seat and behind his back for protection against Communist terrorist bullets, hand grenades and mines.

He was accompanied every where by a motorcade of vehicles bristling with police and a truck loaded with special Forces soldiers, their guns at the ready.

U.S. and Vietnamese security were taking no chances since discovery of a plot on McNamara's life. Viet Cong agents were caught Saturday night trying to mine a bridge the secretary was to cross.

★ ★ ★

McNamara on his arrival conferred for two hours with Lodge. After a quick lunch at Lodge's residence, he began a series of conferences with top U.S. military officials.

SET TO CONFER

He is scheduled to confer with Maj. Gen. Nugyen Khanh, South Viet Nam's strongman premier, tomorrow afternoon and leave for Washington a few hours later.

There was some speculation that MacNamara during his visit would announce a tougher U.S. stand in South Viet Nam, possibly including the evacuation of American dependents.

Communist terror attacks against Americans and Vietnamese in the streets of Saigon have increased lately, and all U.S. military establishments have been placed under heavy guard.

★ ★ ★

The secretary on his arrival made only a two-minute statement and answered no questions.

FIFTH VISIT

Here for his fifth visit since the U.S. military buildup in South Viet Nam began more than two years ago, McNamara promised the United States will provide "whatever is required for however long it is required."

Air Force police checked all arrivals before McNamara landed and inspected the VIP room where he stopped after getting off his plane.

Charge Hoffa, Others Raided Teamster Fund

Legal Costs Probed as Trial Continues in U. S. District Court

CHICAGO (AP) — James R. Hoffa, president of the Teamsters Union, and seven codefendants raided a Teamsters pension fund in order to help Hoffa out of personal financial difficulties, the federal government charged Monday in U. S. District Court.

In his opening statement of the mail fraud and conspiracy trial of the eight defendants, Charles Z. Smith, special assistant U.S. attorney, said the government would prove that they fraudulently arranged $25 million in loans from the pension fund over a 4½ year period.

Meanwhile the Labor Department prepared today to dig into Teamsters Union financial records to find out how much the union has paid in legal expenses for its oft-indicted president, James R. Hoffa.

"We are going into the various cases involved," said a spokesman for Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz, who announced the unprecedented investigation Monday.

Assistant Secretary of Labor James J. Reynolds said the investigation may take at least six weeks because of a maze of financial dealings between Hoffa and his various lawyers in a number of states.

★ ★ ★

While the Labor Department has conducted thousands of investigations into the alleged improper use of union funds, a source said the Hoffa case is the first involving the question of legal fees.

COST ESTIMATE

The amount of Hoffa's legal expenses has been estimated by labor sources from hundreds of thousands of dollars up to $1 million.

Although the Labor Department can only investigate and make public the amount of union funds paid to defend Hoffa, the probe might open the way for individual Teamsters to sue union officers to recover the funds.

In Chicago, Smith told a jury of eight men and four women that $1 million of that $25 million was diverted to Hoffa's own use.

Smith said the loans were part of a scheme to help extricate Hoffa from personal financial difficulties stemming from his involvement in a housing project for retired persons in Brevard County, Fla., called Sun Valley Inc.

Tractor Kills Area Woman

Girl, 13, Accidentally Runs Over Mother

An Avon Township woman was accidentally crushed to death yesterday when she was run over by a small tractor operated by her 13-year-old daughter.

★ ★ ★

The victim, Mrs. Frederick J. Gaff, 51, of 3079 Eastwood, was dead on arrival at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital following the 5:10 p.m. accident.

Mrs. Gaff and her daughter, Mary K., were working in the back yard when the accident occurred.

Sheriff's deputies said Mrs. Gaff was cleaning weeds from the plow behind the tractor when the girl's foot slipped off the clutch, and the tractor lurched backwards and over the woman.

★ ★ ★

The youngster ran to the home of a neighbor, Donald Bennett, 3069 Eastwood, who called police and then went next door and turned off the tractor motor.

SERVICE SET

Service for Mrs. Gaff will be 1:30 p.m. Friday at the Donelson-Johns Funeral Home with burial in Oak Hill Cemetery.

★ ★ ★

Surviving besides her husband and daughter Mary and two other daughters, Mrs. Gene Underwood and Rowena D. Gaff, both of Petalume, Calif.; a son, Frederick R. of Pontiac; parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert B. Dixon of Avon Township; nine brothers; and two sisters.

Violence Hits Town After Wallace Talk

CAMBRIDGE, Md. (AP)—An outburst of violence in the wake of a presidential campaign speech by Alabama Gov. George C. Wallace left this center of racial strife in the grip of new tensions today.

Two demonstrators and five National Guardsmen were injured in a melee touched off last night when about 200 singing, hand-clapping integrationists tried to march on the arena where Wallace had spoken.

They met a cordon of some of the 400 National Guardsmen hurried into this sensitive spot just to prevent such an act.

Wallace had already left the town of 12,600.

He had addressed about 1,500 supporters in his campaign in the May 19 Democratic primary and was applauded more than 40 times during a 45-minute speech attacking the civil rights bill pending in the Senate.

★ ★ ★

Balked by guardsmen wearing gas masks and holding rifles with fixed bayonets, the integrationists squatted in the street and sang "We Shall Not Be Moved."

TEAR GAS

Guardsmen used tear gas to disperse them, arrested 14 and slapped an 11 p.m. curfew on the city.

State officials met into early morning on the disposition of the arrested.

Two were treated at Cambridge hospital, one for a cut and the other for the effects of tear gas, then were returned to the National Guard armory. Two others were then sent to the hospital for treatment of minor injuries.

★ ★ ★

Deputy Atty. Gen. Robert Murphy said charges to be filed against some of those arrested still were under study.

ARREST LEADER

Gloria Richardson, leader of the 2-year-old integration movement in Cambridge, was among those arrested. Those not hospitalized were transferred to National Guard headquarters in Pikesville, across Chesapeake Bay and north of Baltimore.

★ ★ ★

The guardsmen ordered into Cambridge before Wallace's appearance at the invitation of the Dorchester Business and Citizens Association included units which were called out at the height of similar violence in Cambridge last summer.

Cuban Exiles Hike War Talk

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Talk of impending military action against Fidel Castro gained momentum today in this Cuban exile capital, but plans, if any, were shrouded in secrecy.

★ ★ ★

Rogelio Cisneros, newly named chief in Exile of Revolutionary Junta—JURE—returned from a conference in Puerto Rico with Manuel Ray, who has promised to be fighting inside Cuba by May 20, Cuban independence day.

Another activist group, Revolutionary Recovery Movement—MMR—reported it is mailing out English translations of a speech by its head, Bay of Pigs leader Manuel Artime, predicting "a long, hard war full of blood and sacrifice."

He was quoted in his March 18 address to an exile group as comparing Castro's forces to Goliath and his to David.

Dean of the House Dies at Age 85

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Clarence Cannon, D-Mo., peppery guardian of the U. S. pocketbook for decades, died today. He was 85.

Dean of the House for years, he had been in Congress since 1922, a member of the Appropriations Committee, and chairman of the group since 1941 except for the periods 1946-48 and 1952-54 when the Republicans were in control.

In that period he had presided over appropriation of more than a trillion dollars — more than any man in history. But he was proudest of the billions he had helped chop out of requests. Rep. George Mahon, D-Tex., is in line to succeed Cannon as chairman of the powerful committee.

NEW DORM — Construction of a fourth dormitory at Oakland University is well under way on the north edge of the campus. To be named Hill House, the dormitory will give the university space for a total of 500 resident students when it opens in the fall. Three dormitories — Fitzgerald, Anibal and Pryale — now house about 288 students.

Tornado Dead Buried Today

MOUNT CLEMENS (AP)—Eight of the 10 victims of Friday's Anchor Bay area tornado were buried today as contributions poured in to help survivors rebuild their shattered homes.

The death toll climbed to 10 Monday, when Mrs. Gladys Sparwasser, 68, of Chesterfield Township died of injuries. She will be buried Thursday.

Service for Susan Ann Westfall, 7, of Chesterfield Township was held Monday. The girl's mother and three younger children were in the hospital with injuries.

Other residents were rebuilding, meanwhile.

GROUPS HELP

Carl Brandenberg, Chesterfield Township supervisor, said a team spent Monday night tabulating offers of help from organizations, labor groups and individuals.

He said a group of Mennonites from White Pigeon had offered to help clean up the disaster area if the township could provide housing for the workers.

* * *

The appalling loss was underscored meanwhile by indications damages will exceed the official estimate of $8 million dollars. It may go even higher, Gov. George W. Romney said.

A comprehensive report to Romney at Lansing said 180 homes were demolished and 1,200 persons made homeless.

LARGER FIGURES

These figures were larger than earlier estimates.

Emergency aid to the area was going into a $1 million relief fund, after Romney pleaded for public contributions.

One of the donations to the relief fund was $10,000 from the Detroit Edison Co.

The Anchor Bay Tornado Relief Fund is to be administered by a five-man board of trustees, with Brandenberg as chairman, and the American Red Cross.

Romney said the full extent of the damage and loss would be known in about 10 days when insurance company estimates are completed.

NO LOOTING

State Police Capt. Fred E. Davids said the area has been virtually free of looting, and honesty has been the rule.

"For instance, one person turned in a wallet with $197 and no identification except a photograph of a girl, he said. "It was later claimed by a woman who could describe the photograph."

* * *

In the only reported incident, seven youths stood mute at arraignment Monday on charges of causing a disturbance by trying to enter the disaster area in a car earlier in the day.

Davids said main roads through the area will be opened to traffic today.

Kenneth O'Connor, Red Cross director of emergency services, said the community now has an adequate supply of foodstuffs and used clothing.

Expect Return of Guard Unit

The last of some 375 Michigan National Guardsmen, including some from the Pontiac unit, were expected to be released from duty in the Anchor Bay tornado disaster area this afternoon.

All but 35 officers and men from Pontiac, Flint, Owosso and Lapeer were sent home at 6 p.m. yesterday. The guard units had been at the scene since dawn Saturday.

The battalion, commanded by Lt. Col. Mitchell B. Thomas of Davison, was called to duty at the direction of Gov. Romney to assist Macomb Sheriff Lester Almstead and state police in the recovery operations.

More than 100 men from the Pontiac Guard were at the scene.

* * *

Their primary mission was to patrol the stricken area and guard against looting. They also helped in the search for missing persons in the early phases of the recovery program.

Board Okays Cost of Study

$50 to $1,125 per Waterford resident, according to Ringler.

A breakdown of the total includes $350 for interceptor connection assessment, from $600 to $650 for the lateral line in the street and from $100 to $125 for the property connecting line.

Total cost of the Waterford system is estimated at $12 million.

OTHERS IN AREA

Other communities included in the service area of the proposed interceptor extension are Avon Township, Pontiac Township and Independence Township.

The DPW is acting as agent in negotiations with Detroit.

New Setup by Prosecutor

Divides Office in 3 Work Load Divisions

Board organization changed within the Oakland County prosecutor's office have been set in motion by the man who has just over six months to see them work.

Richard P. Condit, who was appointed prosecutor April 1 to avoid a political hassle, yesterday announced the changes will take place immediately.

Displaying a new organization chart, Condit said the prosecutors staff will now be divided into three main units: the new domestic relations division; trial division and South Oakland division.

Condit said the redefinition of staff duties is designed to meet the growing and increasingly complex work load of the office.

The domestic relations division, headed by assistant prosecutor Jack B. Baldwin, will now handle all waivers of minors from Circuit Court, paternity cases, reciprocal requests from other states and counties, nonsupport and dependent parent cases.

ONE DEPARTMENT

Much of this involves administrative paper work rather than courtroom appearances and is better grouped in one department, said Condit.

Formerly, trail prosecutors were alternately assigned such cases, "and we found out it wasn't working out to well," said Condit.

Trial men disliked handling routine domestic cases, said Condit, and the continuious shift of assignments prevented specialization.

Baldwin of 1750 Hillwood, Bloomfield Township, has been with the prosecutor's office since June 1963. Prior to that he was in an administrative position with Chrysler Corp.

ASSISTANT

Working with him in domestic relations will be G. Edson Hallock, an assistant prosecutor since 1958 who has had lengthy experience in this field.

Condit said establishing the division involves no increase in personnel, and a raise being sought for Baldwin will be the main cost item in the changeover.

Eight assistants in the trial division "will now spend more time on specific crimes, in addition to general trial work," said Condit.

* * *

He explained he is not appointing a head of this division, because the three senior assistants who are likely candidates are all running for election to the prosecutor's job this fall.

ALL REPUBLICANS

They are Robert L. Templin, Jerome K. Berry and William E. Lang, all Republicans.

Condit, appointed by Oakland County's seven Circuit Court judges, is interim prosecutor because of a threatened rift in county Republican ranks if one of the three had been named to fill the job vacated by former prosecutor George F. Taylor.

Condit said he consulted the three candidates about his organizational changes and said all agreed they were necessary and would not disrupt political plans.

Third unit under the new setup is only a name change with the South Oakland office in Royal Oak being called a division. William Lang remains in charge.

TRANSFER

Along with the reorganization, Condit said assistant prosecutors Daniel C. Devine would be transfered to the South Oakland division and Montague R. Hunt brought to the central county office.

He said the switch is being made to give both men broader experience.

In another staff change, assistant Robert L. Shipper has announced his resignation effective Friday. He has been on the prosecutor's staff since March 1962.

Condit said he had no plans to fill the vacancy.

City Commission to Hear Urban Renewal Measures

Urban renewal items will dominate the lengthy agenda for tonight's City Commission meeting at City Hall.

Action is slated on resolutions to vacate several streets and alleys in the urban renewal area, particularly those that lie in a land parcel bounded by Orchard Lake Avenue, South Saginaw and the Perimeter Road.

That land is the proposed site of an A&P Supermarket and shopping center.

Commissioners will also be asked to okay a contract with the legal firm of Travis, Warren and Nayer for services involving the acquisition of additional properties in the R20 urban renewal project area.

* * *

A resolution deeming it a necessity to acquire property at Jackson and Saginaw through condemnation will also be up for approval.

LEFT OFF LIST

The property had originally been tabbed for acquisition but was left off the condemnation list early in 1962 at the request of former mayor Robert A. Landry, after the city reached an understanding with owners that it would be purchased at a later date.

The commission is also expected to formally award a $40,341 contract for urban renewal site improvements to Anderson and Ruzzin Construction Co., of New Baltimore.

Up for public hearings and final approval are two ordinances to rezone to Residential-3, property at 456 Mount Clemens and a 15-acre parcel south of Bethune Elementary School.

* * *

HOUSING PROPOSED

Charles L. Langs, a major urban renewal developer in Pontiac, has proposed a 175-unit town house-type multiple housing development on the 15-acre parcel.

* * *

Commissioners are also slated to honor R. Clare Cummings, former supervisor, and John E. Linabery, former planning commission member. Both veterans recently stepped down after many years of service.

* * *

In other business, commissioners will get a half-dozen reports and zoning recommendations from the planning commission, conduct hearings on several proposed public improvement projects and receive deeds for several properties recently purchased by the city.

City Expected to Dissolve Mail Bureau

The City Commission is expected to officially dissolve the city's bureau of community relations tonight.

* * *

A resolution establishing the bureau was adopted May 7, 1963. The bureau had been proposed by former Mayor Robert A. Landry to handle mail and correspondence for commissioners.

On tonight's agenda is a resolution to repeal the original resolution of a year ago.

The move is being taken in an effort to cut expenses in the 1964 budget.

* * *

Mayor William H. Taylor Jr. had agreed to establishing the bureau on a 90-day trial basis last year, but often criticized it as a needless expense after the trial period was over.

* *

The bureau officially went into operation June 1.

* *

Community Relations Director Mrs. Patricia Kleindl has been reassigned to secretarial duties in another city department.

Governor Addresses Students

Gov. Romney spoke to more than 500 students and faculty advisors from 55 state high schools yesterday at Oakland University.

Students attending the second annual Governor's Conference on Student Leadership heard Romney declare that "the very essence of Americanism is the fact that we are children of a Creator."

Romney added, "The frontier is over and education today plays a much bigger role in the country than it once did."

Discussion groups were led by Clark E. DeHaven, instructor in the college of business and coordinator for organization management at Michigan State University; Charles S. Dittman, director of Conferences, Hillsdale College; Russell Elliott, director of professional development programs, Division of Continuing Education, Oakland University.

Also, James McMonagle, Wayne State University professor, and June Shada, family life director-consultant for the Archdiocese of Detroit.

Six area schools were among those coplanning the conference.

OU Library to Get Portrait of Kresge

A color portrait of Sebastian S. Kresge will be presented tonight to Oakland University by the Friends of the Kresge Library.

Former governor Murray D. VanWagoner will make the presentation at the annual dinner of the library group at 7:30 p.m.

Kresge is founder of the famous firm that bears his name and creator of the Kresge Foundation. The foundation contributed $1.5 million to OU for the library building.

Plane Tragedies Claim 184

By The Associated Press

Plane tragedies in this country and abroad since last Thursday have killed 184 persons. Ten others are missing.

Many of the victims were American military personnel.

A U.S. military air transport jetliner with 83 persons aboard crashed short of a runway and burst into flame at Clark Air Force Base north of Manila yesterday.

Seventy-three persons died in the wreckage and another two died in the base hospital.

* * *

In addition, the Air Force said, an American serviceman riding in a taxi was killed when the plane struck the vehicle.

NAVY PLANE

Ten crewmen are missing from a U.S. Navy long-range patrol plane that crashed at sea yesterday 20 miles off Cadiz, Spain. The plane, based at Jacksonville, Fla., was participating in maneuvers off the U.S. Polaris submarine base at Rota, Spain.

Two men were killed yesterday when a U.S. Air Force C119 carrying 43 student paratroopers to a jump zone made a crash landing in a field near Searle, Ala.

Also yesterday, four crewmen were killed in a crash in southern England of a British Vulcan bomber, one of a type that can carry Britain's H-bombs.

Last Saturday, the six-member crew died when a C124 military transport crashed and burned in a rainstorm near Cooperton, Okla. The plane apparently exploded in the air.

PRECISION FLYER

Also on Saturday, Capt. Eugene J. Devlin, 31, a member of the Air Force Thunderbird precision flying team, was killed when his F105 jet exploded before a scheduled landing at Hamilton Air Force Base, Calif.

The six-man team was returning from an air show at Seattle.

Last Friday, there were only three survivors among the 49 persons aboard an Argentine Air Force Courier plane which hit a high coastal sand dune while landing in a dense fog near Lima, Peru.

* * *

Forty-four persons died last Thursday in the crash of a Pacific Airlines plane near Concord, Calif. A gun was found in the wreckage and investigators have sought to determine whether the pilot was shot by a passenger.

Also on Thursday, five men were killed when a British Royal Air Force Valiant bomber crashed in Lincolnshire.

LOUIS MILTON JR.

Rapist Given 9 to 20 Years

Was Found Guilty After Second Trial

A 9- to 20-year prison sentence was ordered this morning for 31-year-old Louis Milton Jr., of 404 Bagley, convicted of rape.

The sentence was handed down by Oakland County Circuit Court Judge James S. Thorburn, who presided over Milton's second trial which ended in a jury conviction April 14.

Milton was accused of raping a 19-year-old Bloomfield Township girl in April, 1963. He was remanded to Southern Michigan prison at Jackson.

His first trial, in February, ended in a hung jury. In both trials defense requests that Milton, a Negro, be tried by an all-Negro jury, were denied.

* * *

Milton still faces two other charges of rape, one involving a 31-year-old mother of two last September and the other a 51-year-old woman in 1962.

Board Sets Hearings on Mill Split

The Oakland County Tax Allocation Board will begin hearings tomorrow at the Courthouse Auditorium prior to splitting this year's 15-mill county tax levy among townships, school districts and county government.

The board will hear millage requests from school and governmental units.

The hearings will last for the next three days. The allocation board will reconvene Monday for a preliminary decision on the rates.

These rates will be based on the county's recommended $2.3-billion equalized valuation, which is the amount on which the 15 mills will be levied if the figure is approved by State Board of Equalization May 25.

* * *

The allocation board will reconvene May 25 to set final rates.

AUDITORS SEEKING

Based on the county's recommended valuation, the County Board of Auditors will be seeking 5.91 of the 15 mills toward financing a proposed $18.4 million budget for county government next year.

Last year the allocation board gave county government 5.19 mills toward this year's $16-million budget.

The board last year alloted .10 mills to Oakland Schools, which is responsible for special education and other countywide educational services.

* * *

The remaining 9.71 mills was allocated to the 30 school districts in the county, less whatever amount was given to the various township governments.

Requesting townships got anywhere from 1 to 1.64 mills.

Tomorrow's meeting will begin at 9 a.m. and last until Noon.

Junior Editors Quiz on SHIPS

QUESTION: Why are ships called "she"?

★ ★ ★

ANSWER: Old-time sailors always had a special affection and reverence for the ships which carried them over the dangerous sea. They looked on them almost as living things.

Eyes were painted on the bows of Egyptian and Greek craft (1) by which they were supposed to be able to spy their way.

Statues of goddesses were often placed in the bows of Greek and Roman craft — the famous "Winged Victory" (2) gives the feeling of this custom, even though this was not a real figure head but a statue set up to commemorate a naval victory.

Statues of the Goddess Athena were often used on Athenian ships and the custom became carried on in the use of later ships figureheads, a great many of which were female figures.

The old time sailor identified the figurehead with the ship and probably from this came the habit of calling the ship "she."

The old sailors lived a rough life, but they were romantic characters, looking forward longingly to the time when they would return to their wives and sweethearts.

"She's a sweet little packet," a sailor would say of his ship, at the same time probably thinking of his sweet little sweetheart at home.

Ex-Con Denies Killing Police

DETROIT (AP) — Ex-convict Bruce Walter Leikett denied Monday he was the killer of two slain Fredericksburg, Va., policemen and a North Brunswick, N.J. filling station attendant, police reported.

Assistant Wayne County Prosecutor John A. Mowatt said Leikett, 26, made the denial at Wayne County General Hospital where he is a police prisoner. Though Mowatt said Leikett admitted he was near Tuesday's slaying scene of the policemen.

★ ★ ★

Mowatt said Leikett told officers he and a man known to him only as "Dominic" were near the Fredericksburg shopping center where the officers were shot to death and that the two planned a break-in at one shopping center store.

★ ★ ★

THIRD ATTEMPT

The questioning of Leikett at the hospital Monday was the third attempt by police to talk to him.

Deputy police chief Richard Humphry of suburban Inkster said Leikett, under sedation from his critical injuries, was too incoherent for interrogation on both Saturday and Sunday.

Murder charges against Leikett in the policemen's slayings have been issued in Virginia. The officers were shot to death in their patrol car behind the shopping center early Tuesday.

Mowatt said as soon as Leikett has recovered sufficiently from his injuries he will be arraigned at the hospital.

Train Hits Automobile, 10 Are Killed

MESA, Ariz. (AP) — Ten occupants of a station wagon were killed yesterday when a Southern Pacific express train traveling an estimated 60 miles per hour smashed into the vehicle at a crossing.

★ ★ ★

Two sisters, one of them pregnant, and their eight children were the victims.

They were Mrs. Lola King, 26, of Phoenix and her two children, Shelley, 3, and Vicky, 4; and Mrs. Ina Lowe of Winkleman, Ariz., and her six children, Clifford, 10, Michell, 8, Linda, 7, Karen, 5, Mark 3, and Gregory, 1. Mrs. Lowe was pregnant.

The 14-car train, pulled by two diesel units, ripped the station wagon in half.

★ ★ ★

Investigators quoted Engineer W. W. Witt of Phoenix as saying he was on the wrong side of the cab to see the station wagon approaching.

An officer said the car ran right into the path of the train as though the driver didn't see it or the signal at the crossing three miles south of Mesa.

Johnson to OK Pesticide Curb

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson signs into law today a bill tightening Agriculture Department control over the sale of pesticides.

The bill, sponsored by Sen. Abraham A. Ribicoff, D-Conn., ends the system of "protest registration" for such products and, in effect, requires premarketing government clearance for them.

★ ★ ★

Under protest registration, a company can market a pesticide even if the department has disapproved it, or can continue to market it without restrictions even though the department finds after experience that its use should be limited.

The government's only recourse is to take the matter to court, a procedure described by Ribicoff as cumbersome and time-consuming.

Still Opposed to Medicare

WASHINGTON (AP)—In the news from Washington:

HEALTH CARE: The House Ways and Means Committee is believed to be still predominantly opposed to the administration's plan for health care for the aged, despite President Johnson's two appeals for it last week.

It is considered likely the committee will offer instead a revamping of the existing state-federal program of financing for health care for low-income elderly persons.

The committee discussed the possibilities of broadening it at a closed session Monday attended by Secretary of Welfare Anthony J. Celebrezze. He declined to say what was discussed, but told reporters that he still has hopes that the administration plan for health care, based on Social Security financing, will be enacted.

MARKETING: Legislation to establish a national commission on food marketing was approved Monday by the House Agriculture Committee.

The commission, recommended by President Johnson, would study price changes, marketing procedures and the relationship between farmers and food processors.

Before approving the bill by a voice vote the committee reduced to $1.5 million from $2.5 million the authorization of funds to carry out the inquiry.

Early Trading Moderate

Market Posts Mild Advance

NEW YORK (AP) — Steels, motors and a scattering of other industrials posted small gains in an irregularly higher stock market today. Trading was moderately active.

Rails also moved ahead mildly. Utilities were up on balance.

Meanwhile profit taking hit some of the speculative favorites which have dominated trading. Texas Gulf Sulphur slipped about 2 points and Curtis Publishing lost a fraction.

SALES SLIPPING

Although retail sales slipped a bit in April for the second straight month, Sears, Roebuck came back more than a point. Woolworth lost a fraction.

All the Big Three motors posted fractional gains. So did U.S. Steel and Jones & Laughlin. Other top steelmakers showed scant change.
