Torture Story of Human Torch May Be Hoax

Cleveland Police Doubt Horror Tale of Burned, Tree-Chained Youth

CLEVELAND (AP)—A frail 17-year-old boy's story of being made into a human torch by three youths who chained him to a tree may be a hoax, Detective David E. Kerr said today.

There were so many discrepancies in the boy's account that further investigation may show the three youths existed only in his imagination, said Kerr, who is head of the homicide bureau.

Earl R. Fryman, suffering second and third degree burns over about 85 per cent of his body, was in poor condition today in a hospital.

Naked, and with a tree branch chained to his waist, he lurched into Fairview Hospital last night through a kitchen door.

He said three youths had drenched him with turpentine and lighted it. He told of walking a mile to reach the hospital, through a heavily wooded valley in the Rocky River in Metropolitan Park.

He told police three strange youths about his own age picked him up yesterday morning as he was hitchhiking to St. Ignatius Parochial School, where he is a senior. Because the car had St. Ignatius stickers on the windshield, he said, he thought they attended the same school.

But instead of taking him to school, they held him captive and drove around Cleveland until dusk, he continued.

Then for some reason the three became "mad and disgusted," he said, and drove down into the river valley, where they chained him to the tree and secured the

Birthday Gloomy; Youngster's Dog Not a Celebrant

The best birthday present that anyone can give to 13-month-old David Speer, Jr. would be the return of his best friend—his minature French poodle pet.

David, son of Mr. and Mrs. David J. Speer, of 1531 Kessler, has been a constant companion of the dog, Amber, for about nine months and David is celebrating his 13-month birthday today—but his mother said he isn't very happy.

If someone has discovered the dog wandering the streets, Mrs. Speer warns them it will be expensive to keep Amber.

The poodle eats nothing but broiled T-bone steaks, medium rare, baby food.

Resigns Post Laborite Attlee Quits as Leader of British Party

CLEMENT ATTLEE

Three-Cornered Fight Seen for Head Position Within the Opposition

LONDON (AP)—Pipe-smoking Clement Attlee, the mild-mannered Socialist who directed creation of Britain's welfare state, resigned today as leader of the Labor Party.

A three-cornered fight for the top post in the British opposition party appeared shaping up among the deputy leader, Herbert Morrison, 67; 49-year-old Hugh Gaitskell; and Aneurin Bevan, 58, fiery Welsh leader of the party's left wing.

Bevan was given almost no chance, however, against Morrison or Gaitskell, both followers of Attlee's moderate policies. Morrison's age could count against him.

Characteristically, the 72-year-old Attlee almost tiptoed out of the party leadership he had held for 20 years—a record in modern British politics.

He handed in his resignation at a closed meeting of Labor members of Parliament which lasted less than half an hour. His colleagues saluted him with "For he's a jolly good fellow."

VISIBLY MOVED

Attlee was visibly moved. His lips quivered.

Age and ill health were responsible for his retirement from the minority leadership in the House of Commons. The man who served Britain's Prime Minister from 1945 to 1951 had found direction of the party's opposition to the Conservative government an increasing burden in recent months. Labor's defeat in the general election in May might have speeded his decision.

Last summer he suffered a slight stroke. He recovered, but found himself more and more

Store Is Swept by $200,000 Fire

Romeo Business Place Gutted; Nearby Shops Damaged by Smoke

Fire swept through a large Romeo department store last night, gutting the building and causing an estimated damage of $200,000 before it was brought under control by firemen from five communities.

The flames completely destroyed the interior of the D & C Store in the village's downtown area and sent clouds of thick smoke through a neighboring drug store, dress shop and post office. No one was injured.

Cause of the blaze has not yet been determined, according to Walter Werth, chief of the Romeo Fire Department.

Thousands of curious spectators flocked to the community after fire-fighters arrived on the scene in response to an 8:25 telephone call from Preston Coay, a postal employe, who reported seeing flames attacking a rear wall of the store.

The fire was fought for several hours before it was brought under control by firemen from Romeo, Utica, Almont, and Shelby and Sterling townships.

The building is owned by Edward A. Jacobs who reports that the loss is covered by insurance.

Fire Chief Werth, who directed the combined operations of the five departments, said firemen stayed at the scene of the blaze all night to guard against a possible renewed outbreak.

Romeo firemen were called from the fire at 1:30 a.m. to put out a fire which caused an estimated $5,000 in damage to the North avenue home of Mrs. Anna Sitek.

The latter blaze, which firemen fought for two hours, was caused by a faulty furnace.

Labor Policies Criticized

Audience Award Winners Picked

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — The late James Dean, emotion-torn hero of "East of Eden," and Jennifer Jones, Eurasian doctor of "Love Is a Many Splendored Thing," have been named the top movie performers of the year by the first Audience Awards poll.

An estimated 15 million fans also voted "Mister Roberts" the best picture and Peggy Lee ("Pete Kelly's Blues") and Tab Hunter ("Battle Cry" and "Track of the Cat") the outstanding new personalities.

FIRST MASS POLL

The first mass polling of moviegoers produced results that could have important bearings on the award of Oscars next March. Certainly Dean, and perhaps Miss Jones, loom as top contenders for Hollywood's premier honor, the Academy Award.

It was a touching moment when Grace Kelly announced the award for Dean to the glamorous crowd at the Beverly Hilton last night. There was stunned silence, then applause. The brilliant actor was killed at 24 in a highway crash two months ago.

After his costar, young Natalie Wood, accepted the award, emcee George Murphy asked the crowd to join in a tribute. The great names and lesser lights of Hollywood stood for a moment of silence and there were many wet cheeks among them.

Jennifer Jones, who won an Oscar for "Song of Bernadette" in 1942, made one of her rare public appearances to accept her award. "I think it's wonderful," she said as she clutched her golden statue nicknamed "Audy."

Movegoers voted for their favorites between Nov. 17-27 in theater lobbies. Theater managers made the nominations.

Lie Test Clears Killing Suspect

Owen Moser Released, Freed of Suspicion in Chicago Slayings

Holly Police Chief James Parker last night approved the release from jail of Owen Robert Moser, 23, of Fenton, after lie detector tests on Moser reportedly proved "inconclusive."

Moser was questioned in a two-hour session with the lie detector about his connection with the murders of three Chicago boys October 16.

Michigan State Police Sgt. Jack Pletske, who gave the test, said, "Every question the boy answered came out the same. He showed no emotion under any question."

Moser was arrested Saturday night for a traffic violation, and held for possession of an unregistered gun while Holly and State police questioned him about the murders of John Schuessler, 13; his brother Anton, 11; and Robert Peterson, 14.

Parker said Chicago police, when told of the lie detector results, agreed there was no reason for holding Moser further.

Red Bosses Return to India Leaving Trail of Untruths

RANGOON, Burma (AP)—Communist party boss Nikita S. Khrushchev and Soviet Premier Nikolai Bulganin headed back to India today on their South Asian tour.

During their seven-day visit in Burma, the Russian leaders used every opportunity to lambaste the West.

Bulganin and Burmese Premier U Nu signed a joint demand for turning Formosa over to Red China and for a ban on nuclear weapons. The views expressed were the same both countries have been plugging for some time.

1. Settling Indochina's political future in accordance with last year's Geneva conference ending the Indochina War. The armistice terms call for elections next July to unify pro-Western South Viet Nam with Communist-held North Viet Nam. The South Vietnamese do not favor rushing into these elections.

2. An unconditional ban on atomic and hydrogen weapons and fuurther experiments with them, plus a sharp reduction of conventional armaments.

3. Unification of anti-Communist South Korea and Communist North Korea.

4. An end to power blocs, which they said cause fear and distrust among nations.

BRISTLING ATTACK

Before the communique was issued, Khrushchev added a chapter to the bristling attack he has made on the West, particularly Britain, while in Indian and Burma. Speaking at a political rally here, he took a swipe at Britain's former Prime Minister Winston Churchill.

* * *

He referred to the "notorious directive" he said Churchill issued to Field Marshal Montgomery near the end of World War II to stack captured German arms for reissue to German prisoners against any continuing Russian advance into Western Europe.

Churchill disclosed the order in a speech last year. He said he could see no advantage in freeing Europe to fall into the grip of fanism "if we allowed so much of Eu ope to fall into the grip of another totalitarian regime from the East."

Personal Income Hits Record High

WASHINGTON (AP) — Another sharp increase in Americans' personal income during October raised the 10-month total to the rate of 301 billion dollars a year, the Commerce Department reported today.

That figure is 14 billions higher than the annual rate for the first 10 months of 1954.

For October, personal income reached a record high rate of 309½ billion dollars a year, more than 1½ billions higher than in September.

Two thirds of the rise was attributed to bigger wage and salary payments, reflecting both increases in wage rates and gains in employment. Wage increases were a major factor.

The other third of the increase represented a continuation of the year's rise in interest and dividend payments and the income of the proprietors of business.

Mom, Daughter, William Tedder Die in Smashes

Intersection Collisions With 2 Trucks Happen Within Two Miles

Three persons died in two accidents on M59 in Waterford Township within half an hour of each other this morning.

Peggy Joyce Verch, 19; her mother, Mrs. Leona Verch, 46; and William Tedder, 18, all of Drayton Plains, are dead.

The two women were killed when a semi-trailer driven by Igino Caviggiola, 30, of Traverse City, hit their car broadside at the intersection of M59 and Airport road at 9:55 a.m.

Witnesses said Caviggiola ran the red light going east on M59. The Verch car, which had already started on the green light, was headed south on Airport road.

The two were pronounced dead on arrival at Pontiac General Hospital at 10:30 a.m.

Waterford Township Police Chief Frank Van Atta said Caviggiola is being held in Oakland County Jail to make a statement to Prosecutor Frederick C. Ziem this afternoon.

Tedder died in Pontiac General Hospital ten minutes after his arrival at 10:40 a.m. The accident was at M59 and Pontiac Lake road when, according to Michigan State police, Tedder failed to stop at the stop sign.

His car was hit by a loaded automobile haulaway driven by Roy Fortman, 25, of 821 St. Clair St., who told police he couldn't stop in time to avoid the crash.

Tedder's car skidded and turned over at the side of the road, police said, tipping him out.

Department Store Swept by Flames at Night

CHARRED WRECKAGE — Seared merchandise and blackened timbers testify to the extent of a fire which roared through a large department store in Romeo's downtown area last night. The flames were battled by firefighters from five communities who fought to save a nearby post office and several business places from fire damage. The blaze was discovered at the store's rear by a postal employe who called firemen to the scene. Damage was estimated at about $200,000.

Turnpike Authority Members Inspect New York Thruway Operation Today

NEW YORK (AP)—Members of Michigan's Turnpike Authority and State Legislature were to inspect the New York Thruway today in winding up an Eastern trip taken to pave the way for construction of the first such toll road in their own state.

The group, headed by Authority Chairman George N. Higgins, also planned to talk over tollway problems with New York Thruway Authority members. Yesterday they toured toll facilities in New York and New Jersey and consulted with traffic and financial experts in New York City.

Besides turnpike commissioners, the delegation included members of the state Senate Highway Committee, headed by Sen. Haskell Nichols (R-Jackson) and the House Roads and Bridges Committee, with Emil Peltz (R-Rogers City) as chairman.

Financial advisers informed the group that cost estimates of the proposed Rockwood - to - Saginaw Turnpike must be brought up to date before bonds can be issued to finance construction.

Cost of the 113-mile expressway was estimated at 164 million dollars last April. Since then, however, various route changes have been proposed which would alter costs.

Higgins appointed Justin Whiting of Jackson and Carl Smith of Bay City, two Authority members, to handle financial negotiations for the turnpike.

The group yesterday toured toll facilities of the New York Port Authority, which has constructed more than 500 million dollars worth of toll bridges, tunnels and other transportation facilities. They also traveled over the 118-mile New Jersey Turnpike.

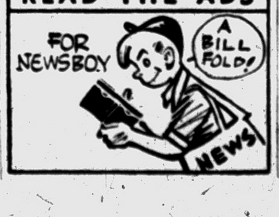

Higgins said he hoped to confer with State Highway Commissioner Charles Ziegler on his return concerning Ziegler's proposal to build a freeway paralleling the Michigan Turnpike.

The commissioner's plans for such a highway "will have a direct bearing" on financing turnpike construction, Higgins said, especially in determining interest rates on the bonds.

* * *

Higgins said he wants "to find out his (Ziegler's) attitude now that the State Supreme Court has ruled that the Authority has the legal right to build turnpikes."

Psychologist Wins $64,000

Pretty Doctor Answers Tough 10-Part Question on Boxing for Jackpot

NEW YORK (AP)—A pretty young psychologist who became interested in boxing through her husband answered a knotty question on the sport last night to pocket $64,000 in television winnings.

* * *

The contestant, Dr. Joyce Brothers, 28, of New York City, became the second person to win the top prize on the CBS show The $64,000 Question. The first was Marine Capt. Richard S. McCutchen, whose category was cooking.

* * *

Dr. Brothers, wife of a hospital interne, had as an assistant last night Eddie Eagan, ex-Olympic boxing champion and former New York State Boxing Commission chairman. The show allows an expert to help the $64,000 level.

Dr. Brothers told reporters she plans to use part of the money to outfit her husband's office when he begins practice. It also will finance a vacation for the two, and a new dress for herself.

* * *

Another contestant on the program, Stanley Skeens, a Danville, W. Va., coal miner, won $32,000 by answering a 10-part question on the story of David and Goliath. He will get a chance to try for $64,000 next week.

* * *

Dr. Brothers, mother of an infant daughter, just barely got in her answers before the program ended. CBS actually allowed it to run 30 seconds overtime.

She named Cestus as the special gloves gladiators wore in ancient Rome; Daniel Mendoza as the first of scientific boxers to become champion of England, in 1791; Gentleman John Jackson as the English champion who taught boxing to poet Alfred Lord Byron; William Hazlett as the essayist who wrote "The Fight" after seeing Bill Neat defeat Thomas Hickman in England in 1821 and "Hickman the Gasman" as the latter's nickname.

* * *

She also answered that John Sholto Douglas was the full name of the Marquis of Queensbury; Rome was the city and Paulino Uzcudun the opponent in Primo Carnera's heavyweight title defense in 1933, and that Jack Dempsey knocked down Luis Firpo nine times in their famous bout and that the fight lasted 3 minutes and 57 seconds.

* * *

Dr. Brothers said she knew all the answers herself, but she checked some with Eagan to make sure.

party's parliamentary battles, often through all-night sittings.

It was generally assumed Attlee would accept an earldom and move up to the House of Lords. He may become leader of the party in that more leisurely chamber.

REPLACED CHURCHILL

Attlee's retirement from Labor's top post came eight months after his political adversary and wartime leader in the coalition government, Sir Winston Churchill, quit the chieftainship of the Conservatives at the age of 80.

* * *

Attlee served as deputy prime minister to Churchill during World War II. Then he supplanted Churchill at No. 10 Downing St. when Labor swept to victory in the 1945 election. Attlee presided over a series of sweeping changes in Britain and the empire.

At home a socialized health system was established. The railways, coal mines and several other industries were nationalized. Taxation policies and social benefits reduced the difference between the status of the rich and poor. Labor announced it was giving "fair shares for all" but was plagued by a series of financial crises which, among other things, forced devaluation of the pound.

The Day in Birmingham

To Award Certificates to Five Area Policemen

BIRMINGHAM — Police Chiefs from Detroit, its suburbs and as far south as Monroe, will be present tomorrow noon when 82 policemen including five from this area receive certificates for 90 hours training.

The luncheon event will be at Devon Gables according to Police Chief Ralph Moxley who is chief of the southeastern Police Chief's Assn. which with the Federal Bureau of Investigation in Detroit sponsored the training sessions.

Receiving certificates will be Paul Theobald, Birmingham patrolman, Richard A. Hoffman, Bloomfield Township patrolman and from Troy, Chief of Police David E. Gratopp, patrolman Eugene Sackner and Williard H. Schwandt.

"Law Enforcement As a Profession" will be topic for the main speech of the event by Charles W. Brown, special agent in charge of the Detroit FBI office.

"The course makes a police officer much more efficient," says Chief Moxley, explaining that the high requirements for notebook formation and stiff examinations at the end of the three 30-hour sessions weed out one of every two enrolled in the course. Previous awards were made in May, 1954, and the system, which has been in force since 1951, has since been copied by the Saginaw Valley Police Chiefs.

Mrs. Alma Grimes of 227 W. Frank St. was granted permission to make her home into a two family dwelling Tuesday, when Oakland County Circuit Court ruled that she had made expenditures on improvements toward the use of a two-family home previous to the zoning ordinance amendment in 1950 and relying on existing zoning.

Mrs. Grimes is in the Leinbach Humphrey Subdivision where the zoning ruling is that for two families, lots must have 6,000 square feet instead of the previous 4,800 square feet. She had developed her home with larger furnace and other improvements from 1945 to 1954, planning to rent the upstairs as an apartment. Her writ of mandamus now permits her to proceed.

Detroit Paper Strike Enters Seventh Day

DETROIT (INS)—The Detroit newspaper strike today entered its seventh day and a mediator reported the parties were still "far apart."

* * *

Negotiations between the Detroit Newspaper Publishers Association, representing the Times, News and Free Press, and the striking AFL-Stereotypers Union, were to resume at 8 p.m. tonight.

Meanwhile, the publishers, who are negotiating contracts with eight unions, including the stereotypers, were to meet this morning with the Detroit Mailers Union No. 40-AFL. The Stereotypers Union is the only one of the eight on strike.

A union counter-proposal was rejected by the publishers yesterday on grounds it was "a minor revision" of previous demands and would not relieve "the extreme economic penalties" of the original proposal.

Fear Abduction of Missing Girl

Police Say Clues Hint Minister's Daughter Was Kidnaped

PUEBLO, Colo. (AP)—The 19-year-old daughter of a Methodist minister vanished last night and police fear she was abducted from the rear of the family home.

The search for Donna May Upton was spurred by the finding of a scarf believed to be hers on a prairie northeast of here.

• • •

Police Capt. R. L. Mayber said watch, its bracelet snapped as if in a struggle, was found near an ashpit in the rear of the family's east Pueblo home.

Mayber said there were indications that Donna May was abducted as she was driving her brother's car home from the post office.

• • •

Her disappearance was first noted about 9 p.m. when her brother took the car to a drive-in restaurant and a waitress spotted a set of keys in the door. Each member of the family has keys to the car.

• • •

The brother, Gabriel S. Upton Jr., returned home and learned his father had not seen Donna May since she left for the post office. They notified police.

Police said neither members of the Upton family nor neighbors heard any disturbance during the evening.

The missing girl, a student laboratory technician at the state mental hospital here, is 5 feet 4, weighs about 120 pounds, and has brown hair and blue eyes.

Her father, the Rev. Gabriel S. Upton, is pastor of the Bethel Methodist Church.

Tenement Landlord Acquitted in Deaths

CHICAGO (AP)—Lawrence B. Jackson, 55, a suspended high school teacher and owner of a tenement in which seven persons perished in a fire, was acquitted of manslaughter yesterday.

• • •

Judge Leslie E. Salter in Criminal Court directed the verdict. He referred to a statement by Marion Gregory, 11, who lived in the building, that he set the fire June 11, 1954, by tossing a lighted cigarette into rubbish.

• • •

A Board of Education trial committee is stydying Jackson's dismissal as a science teacher. During the investigation of the fire Jackson was found to have served a term in the Ohio State Reformatory for cashing worthless checks.

Adlai Crossed One-Man Picket, AFL Union Says

CHICAGO (AP)—An official of an AFL union on strike against United Air Lines says that Adlai E. Stevenson and two aides crossed a one-man picket line yesterday when they boarded a UAL plane for New York at Chicago's Midway Airport.

• • •

David Landry, an official of the striking union, the Flight Engineers International Assn., said a picket was in a hallway outside the UAL section of Midway terminal and "was close to Stevenson" when the Stevenson party entered the terminal.

Patricia Milligan, a Stevenson aide, said William McCormick Blair Jr., and Roger Tubby were with Stevenson at the airport. She said Stevenson and his two aides reported they had seen no pickets and were unaware there was a strike against UAL when they boarded the plane.

• • •

Stevenson, 1952 Democratic presidential nominee and a candidate for next year's nomination, is in New York to address the AFL-CIO unity convention tomorrow.

835 State Prisoners Can Walk to Freedom

BRIGHTON (AP) — Last week, three young men walked out of a state prison camp six miles southwest of Brighton, pulled a knife on a passing motorist and in the hands of the law, facing a prison sentence. They must realize now that they never had it so good.

• • •

Two days later the trio was back in the prison camp system, founded in 1948 on the well-proven theory that there is indeed honor among thieves and criminals.

Like the other nine prison camps scattered throughout Michigan, the Brighton camp has no wall, no fences, no guards. More effective than any of these, apparently, is the thought that if you walk away you are likely to trade your place in the sun for the shadow of a prison wall.

Just how effective this psychological barrier has been is indicated by the statistics of prison camp walkaways. Out of 1,000 men under the camp program in 1953, only 19 walked off, a loss of 1.9 per cent. Out of 1,800 men in the camps in 1954, there were only 40 walkaways, or 2.2 per cent.

"We're very satisfied with those figures," says S. J. Gilman, in charge of the Corrections Department of the prison camp program. "The walkaway percentage at the country's model minimum security institution at Chino, Calif., was 4.16 per cent during the first four years of operation."

A CLOSER LOOK

A look at the Brighton Camp reveals why few men bother to leave. No resort by any means, it nevertheless offers more freedom than you would find in the most up-to-date prisons.

The only officials on duty are the camp supervisor and an officer-counselor. They oversee 61 offenders whose ages range from 18 to 25 years.

The camp is a two-acre village in the middle of the Brighton recreation area. Inmates have their own store, laundry, dining hall, recreational facilities barracks and dining hall.

They work eight hours a day in the surrounding forest or at jobs around the camp. Evenings and weekends are free.

• • •

Gilman is proud of the record of Camp Brighton graduates. He says only eight men have violated their paroles after release. Since the camp was turned over to youthful prisoners, only 10 inmates have walked away.

20 YEARS IN SERVICE

Gilman, who has 20 years service in the Corrections Department, is especially proud of the camp's low cost.

"This camp cost $7,000, about $100 per person based on a capacity of 71. Compare this with the $12,000 it costs for a maximum security cell and $7,500 for a medium security institution cell," he said.

Michigan is expanding its prison camp system as fast as the Legislature and public sentiment will allow.

The last regular session of the Legislature authorized two new 100-man prison camps, one a probation recovery camp for youthful offenders to be built southwest of Traverse City and the second to be built when a site is selected.

• • •

Although many communities balk at the idea of having a prison camp in their lap, Gilman says the camps are eventually accepted and even welcomed.

"The people of Grayling have really taken the camp to heart," he says. "Every Christmas the high school puts on a play and the American Legion distributes cookies to the inmates."

The prison camps now have a population of 835 men, with a long waiting list of prison inmates who want to transfer outside the walls.

Why, then, if the camps are so popular among the men did the three youths walk away?

"They were just irresponsible youngsters who did not realize what they were doing," Gilman says. "They left a good thing without any idea of what they must return to now."

TODAY'S ASSIGNMENT FOR:

JUNIOR EDITORS

REMEMBER PEARL HARBOR

On the morning of Dec. 7, 1941, the Japanese made a surprise attack on Pearl Harbor, the American military base in Hawaii, and brought this country into World War II. President Franklin D. Roosevelt called it "a day that will live in infamy."

More than a hundred Japanese planes flew from carriers and bombed our barracks, air fields and naval vessels at anchor. About 4,000 American lives were lost and vast equipment destroyed.

The Navy suffered the greatest loss. The battleship Arizona was sunk and others like the Oklahoma, Nevada, California and West Virginia were severely damaged. All told 19 ships were sunk. The Arizona is now a memorial to the tragedy and Pearl Harbor Day is observed every Dec. 7 at the National Cemetery in Arlington, Va.

Here is a picture for you to cut out and color for your scrap book. Circled in a green wreath are the sinking and exploding ships. The explosions are multi-colored like fireworks. The soldier in front is blowing "taps" on his bugle.

Junior Editors pays $10 for any reader's idea that is used. Write your suggestion to "Junior Editors" in care of this newspaper; it cannot be acknowledged or returned and in case of duplication of ideas, the first submission shall be accepted.

Belgians Prepare Liquor Sale Laws for Night Clubs

BRUSSELS, Belgium (AP)—Belgium is preparing a cautious and tentative legalization of sale of hard liquor in bars, night clubs and cafes.

• • •

The measure expected to be approved by Parliament next year would allow liquor to be sold by the drink only during certain hours of the day.

If this legislation passes, Belgians will be able to buy whisky or brandy drinks without breaking or evading the law for the first time since 1919.

• • •

Enforcement has not been stringent. Many restaurants and cafes openly sell whisky and brandy by the drink and serve cocktails now.

Want to Cruise Around Moon?

Rocket Expert Thinks Man Will Attempt Flight After Satellite's Success

TROY, N. Y. (AP)—A rocket expert says man will attempt flights around the moon in the near future.

* * *

Dr. Wernher von Braun declared last night that earth satellites could be adapted to carry crews. He predicted the attempt would be made after the establishment of the first earth satellites, which are scheduled to be launched in the International Geophysical Year, 1957-58.

* * *

Von Braun, now chief of the guided missile development division at Redstone Arsenal, Huntsville, Ala., played an important part in Germany's World War II rocket program.

He told a joint meeting of the Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute Astrophysical Society and the Troy Astronomy Club that the first small satellites would be followed by larger ones with better equipment.

"Soon thereafter," Von Braun added, "man himself will attempt orbital flight. The task of projecting a crew into an orbit amounts essentially to replacing the relatively small rockets" with larger ones.

* * *

"It does not pose any fundamentally new problems," he asserted.

"Once manned orbital flight has been attained, a 10-day flight around the moon, not involving a landing thereon, poses a relatively simple problem."

Von Braun said the effects of many of the conditions to which crewmen would be subjected could be studied with the help of simulated techniques.

* * *

"Human centrifuges may be used to train rocket crews to function as a team under high accelerations," he suggested. "Weightlessness can be simulated in flights of presentday rocket aircraft through ballistic arcs. Survival in a completely enclosed pressurized cockpit can be studied in the laboratory."

* * *

He noted that the return of a manned orbital vehicle to the earth's surface would be more difficult. During the slowdown process through the upper atmosphere it would be subject to tremendous heating because of friction with the air, similar to that undergone by meteors.

One possible solution is the use of larger wings, Von Braun commented.

U.S. Still Shrouding Its Potsdam Papers

WASHINGTON (INS)—The State Department states that some of the papers of the 1945 Potsdam Conference still are classified as secret documents.

Spokesman Lincoln White made the statement in answer to questions about when the Potsdam record would be published.

It is the announced intention of the Eisenhower administration to publish the full record of all important World War II conferences with allied powers as soon as possible. Money for publication has been appropriated by Congress.

White said that some of the documents planned for inclusion in the Potsdam papers already have been sent to the British government for study. But he added that the State Department still does not have all the papers because some have not yet been cleared for publication.

The spokesman indicated that Britain has been given copies of all documents which have been cleared.

Reds Pay Back Tax on New York Estates

MINEOLA, N. Y. (AP) — The Russian government has paid, under protest, delinquent taxes on two Long Island estates used by its diplomatic staffs. The tax bill totaled $24,272.

* * *

With checks for this sum, the Russians on Monday, sent Nassau County Treasurer H. Bogart Seaman letters saying they would ask U. N. Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjold "to obtain from the appropriate authorities of the United States recognition that the property is exempt from taxation."

They should be exempt, the Russians claim, under terms of the U.N. charter and the headquarters agreement between the United States and the U. N.

* * *

Nassau County and the communities of Glen Cove and Upper Brookville, where the estates are located, have refused to recognize the Russian claims.

Taxes on some other Long Island properties occupied by the Russians are delinquent.

To Open Chaplain Study

ANN ARBOR (AP) — A training course for hospital chaplains, the only one of its kind in the country, will begin at the University of Michigan Hospital, Jan. 3. The Rev. Malcolm B. Ballinger, hospital chaplain, announced the 12-week course Monday.

FOR THE BIRDS—or for friends who like birds. You guessed it: it's a bird house—one room, no bath and ready for immediate occupancy. It hangs by a cord from a tree limb and seems very attractive to bluebirds.

Austria Given Big 4 Approval

Larger Nations Accept Perpetual Neutrality Law Passed in Vienna

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States, Britain, France and Russia has formally recognized Austria's "perpetual neutrality."

* * *

Secretary of State Dulles delivered a note stating this recognition to Austrian Ambassador Karl Gruber, and the State Department said identical notes were being delivered to the Austrian government by the other Big Four countries.

DULLES' NOTE

Dulles' brief note took cognizance of a law passed Oct. 26, by Austria's Parliament after the Big Four agreed to grant Austria its independence. This law pledged Austria to "perpetual neutrality" and vowed that Austria never would join any military alliance or permit foreign military bases on its territory.

* * *

The U.S. note is in response to an Austrian note of Nov. 5 which formally notified the U.S. government of the Austrian Parliament's action. Dulles wrote:

* * *

"The government of the United States has taken cognizance of this constitutional law and recognizes the perpetual neutrality of Austria as defined therein."

Private Eye Reports Luce Phone Tapping

NEW YORK (AP)—A private investigator has disclosed that the telephone of Mrs. Clare Boothe Luce was tapped shortly before she was appointed ambassador to Italy.

* * *

The investigator, John G. (Steve) Broady, who also is a lawyer, told of the tap yesterday in testifying in his own defense in his trial on 17 charges of illegal wiretapping and conspiracy.

Broady, 52, has denied that he ever tapped any telephones illegally. He said he was hired in January, 1953, to learn whether there was a tap on Mrs. Luce's telephone. He testified he established there was a tap, but that he was unable to find the location of the tap or the identity of the tapper.

Broady said he reported this to his client, who was not identified. He did not give the location of Mrs. Luce's telephone, and the testimony was not developed further.

Turnpike Route Follows Shortest Line Possible

Critics of the proposed Rockwood to Saginaw toll road have likened the route layout to a corkscrew twisting hither and yon in an effort to pick up enough traffic to make the project pay for itself.

The Press feels these statements do the Michigan Turnpike Authority an injustice. We need roads built where the traffic demand is—namely, within the Pontiac-Detroit metropolitan area.

It would be impossible to build a north-south superhighway on a straight line through this populous region without seriously disrupting many business and residential areas. This would hold true whether the road was toll or free.

The largest curve in the turnpike route is caused by necessity to bypass Pontiac in the comparatively open area to the east. If the road passed west of the city it would be shorter, but take out a prohibitive number of homes in Waterford Township.

The turnpike authority hired the J. E. Greiner Co., of Baltimore, a firm of consulting engineers with wide turnpike experience, to plan the route. The company was instructed to map a road which would do the least possible damage to property while still meeting traffic needs. The Press feels Greiner's plan does a good job of meeting these requirements.

No matter how it was financed, a superhighway through the general area spanned by the proposed turnpike would have to meet the same least-damage, most-traffic demands. And few will argue against need for a new multi-lane facility running north from Detroit past Pontiac.

The 113-mile turnpike route is only 23 miles longer than a straight-line road would be between Rockwood and Saginaw and could serve considerably more traffic.

★ ★ ★

The Turnpike Authority has shown a willingness to make route changes, if at all possible, which relieve legitimate local complaints. In the Press' opinion, the mapping is basically sound and should not be an issue in the freeway-toll road debate.

Pedestrians Who Glow

Anything that can create greater safety for pedestrians by making them glow at night not only deserves but is certain to get a lot of public attention.

The secret of this new product is a reflective yarn bearing the trade name "Flecton." Pedestrians wearing clothing made from this yarn should enjoy a far greater margin of nighttime safety than those not so protected.

As described in the Michigan Police Journal, flecton has been adapted for the manufacture of many varieties of outer clothing. Sportswear, rainwear, jackets, capes, socks and mittens are now available.

Flecton yarn is gray in color and fabric manufactured from it has the property of glowing a bright silver in artificial light. Tests have shown that this material can be seen for more than 800 feet away with a low beam and more than 1,200 feet away with high beam headlights.

★ ★ ★

It remains to be seen whether flecton proves to be the answer to pedestrians' nighttime safety problem. At any rate the Chiefs of Police and Michigan State Police treated it as safety news worthy of attention.

New Water System in Operation Today

Water has been and still is one of the chief topics of conversation in most municipalities in this area.

The City of Sylvan Lake deserves a word of praise for having taken action with a new City operated water supply opening today.

Through a bond issue the City has financed two wells which according to an engineering survey will more than meet the needs of the present populace. According to Mayor Anthony Kreps the new wells with a capacity of 1,000,000 gallons each will take care of all current needs, plus any future growth.

For all practical purposes the City of Sylvan Lake is in the best water position of any local community. With the new wells in operation they will double the water supply of present or anticipated water needs.

★ ★ ★

Paying of the bond issue is assured since about half the present residents have agreed to tie into the new system immediately. This will meet the obligations of the bond issue. The remaining residents have indicated they will subscribe to the new service in the spring or summer.

This is one local community without municipal water service that has taken action and solved the problem for their community.

Perhaps other areas should follow suit with more action and less talk.

Eight members of the group are from Detroit, two each from Grand Rapids and Muskegon, and one each from Flint, Kalamazoo, Port Huron, Ann Arbor and Bay City. Other of the state's larger cities, like Pontiac, Saginaw, Lansing, Dearborn, Jackson and Battle Creek, are not represented, most of the 44 coming from the smaller cities and villages or from rural sections.

Yeh, but Boy! Watch Out When That Gate Is Lifted

David Lawrence Says:

Democrats Showing Intense Interest in the 'Conflict of Interest' Problem

WASHINGTON—The Democrats are showing a deeper interest in morality and the ethics of the so-called "conflict of interest" problem in government than they did when they were in power. A sort of "holier than thou" atmosphere has recently been created by them, which is all to the good, and it will be helpful indeed, in the event of a Democratic victory in 1956, if they practice what they have been preaching.

For an examination of a typical bit of congressional testimony in 1946, when President Truman was in office, shows that he didn't object to the fact that one of his principal aides continued to receive a salary of $28,000 a year from a private company while doing a job as adviser at the White House.

Yet when Charles E. Wilson, up for confirmation as secretary of defense, proposed that he do the same thing, a loud protest went up from the Democrats, and Mr. Wilson had to sell all his holdings. Nor did this immunize him from attack. The

The purpose of the recent crusade to drive businessmen out of advisory positions and to keep them from taking appointive positions is clear. It is designed to eliminate businessmen and put the college professors of the "brain trust" variety, who ran the new deal and fair deal, back into the driver's seat in government.

WILL WORK BOTH WAYS

But it will work both ways. Labor leaders who come to government even in advisory positions will have to give up their business connections, too. No longer will it be possible to do what the late Martin Durkin did—accept a cabinet post while preserving his contract for re-employment with his former employer, the plumbers' union.

The "conflict of interest" case of George E. Allen presents what used to be Democratic custom, and one which ought to be continued under a Republican regime. Mr. Allen was a candid witness. He made no bones about his connections and insisted he could distinguish what was or was not ethical.

Here are some passages from the testimony given before the Senate Banking and Currency Committee at its hearing on Feb. 7, 1946, when Mr. Allen was up for confirmation as a member of the RFC board:

"Senator Taft: Did the President (Truman) ask you to make a study of liquidation of war agencies?

"Mr. Allen: Yes, sir. I then had a desk in the State Department . . .

"Senator Taft: Were you down at the White House every day with the President?

"Mr. Allen: I would say yes. No, not every day, but the majority of the time; yes, sir. . . .

"Senator Taft: Mr. Allen, during this period while you were in the White House advising the President, how much compensation were you receiving from the Home Life Insurance Company? . . .

"Mr. Allen: . . . I was receiving $28,000 from the Home Insurance Company . . .

"Senator Millikin: In view of the large interest that, let us say, most of these companies have in what goes on officially here at Washington the large interest that a number of these companies have in RFC or might have in RFC why do you retain any official relationship with any of them or take any compensation from any of them if—assuming you get this job?

"Mr. Allen: . . . Senator, the reason for that is that—and I want to—I want to assure you that, if necessary, I will give up everything. I very badly want to be confirmed by you gentlemen; there is no question about that. And to do that, if you find it necessary, I will give up every one of these.

"It has never been done in the past. You made the RFC act such—and when I—when the President asked me to accept this and go over there, I accepted it, and I thought that was the idea, that—I know all the other directors have always done it—that you wanted businessmen who had had experience with these companies to go over there, and you allowed them to file with the secretary everything they were interested in; and then if anything came up, they would immediately be disqualified. You see, there are five members of the RFC board that decide these questions.

"Senator Millikin: Yes.

"Mr. Allen: And it is for that reason, if there is any company in there that conflicts in any way—and, as I say, I think I know what is ethic, and I certainly would do what the secretary or the general counsel recommended on it. I would certainly give up anything that conflicts in any way.

"I don't think that I should be punished individually and singled out to be punished without we had everybody do that and made it a part of the law. Then that would be fine. But I think the intent of the law was that you do want men who had had—who had been accustomed to being in business."

Doctor Questions Brady's Statements About Rabies

By WILLIAM BRADY, M. D.

Had a courteous letter from a physician the other day — a physician who probably doesn't share my opinions about medical matters.

The good doctor said that I have made statements to the effect "that rabies does not exist and that you do not approve of the Pasteur treatment of victims of dog bite nor of vaccination of dogs against rabies."

In reply I assured the doctor that I have never said rabies does not exist. I have merely said that I don't know and I don't believe anybody knows that rabies occurs in man.

I suggested to the good doctor that if he or any other doctor thinks he knows that rabies occurs in man it is up to him to prove it scientifically.

"In the interest of truth," wrote the doctor, "we wish to be properly informed. Will you please quote references to scientific studies on which you base your opinion."

I'll cite one such reference presently, though it may not be what the doctor considers scientific.

NO PASTEUR WAY

First let me say I should not submit to so-called Pasteur treatment in any conceivable circumstance. The only advice I ever give about it is: Do as your own physician says.

I'd follow the veterinarian's advice in regard to vaccination of my dog.

Now I refer the good doctor to the conclusion reached by Drs. Denison and Dowling of the Jefferson County (Birmingham) health department from their vast experience in dealing with the rabies or rabiphobia question in the "rabies capital of North America":

"Rabies is primarily a veterinary problem. Regardless of its prevalence among dogs, it will probably never cause sufficient morbidity or mortality among human beings in this region to allow its classification as a public health problem of importance."

These public health authorities published the report of their experience in the Journal of the American Medical Association July 29, 1939.

As Drs. Denison and Dowling observed in their report:

"If rabies were as easily contracted by man as is commonly supposed, it would in Alabama become one of the leading causes of death. Instead, it continues to be a very rare disease."

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long, pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not to disease, diagnosis, or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

'Can Deed Be Recorded After Prolonged Period?'

Letters will be condensed when necessary because of lack of space. Full name, address and telephone number of the writer must accompany letters but these will not be published if the writer so requests unless the letter is critical in its nature.

I saw an article in your paper last week about a man in Kentucky recently recording a deed on the sale of a farm. This sale was made in 1903.

Our question is whether this is according to the law of this state, too? My husband and I had a deed on property transferred to us (by owners in a lawyer's presence) about eight years ago, but didn't record it.

Can we still do it without any extra strings attached at this late date?

Editor's Note: A deed may be recorded at any time so long as it is in good legal order with all necessary signatures, etc.

Mother of Servicemen Brings Proverb to Mind

As another December 7 comes and goes, it is good to remember just why we are at peace with the world in general. Stopping in at a little diner downtown, reading, of course, the Press and having a cup of coffee, I overheard a most interesting conversation between a kindly waitress and one of our Navy servicemen.

As the boy entered with his three companions, I noticed that the waitress suddenly seemed to be interested. Then their most encouraging statements and questions began.

The waitress stated that her three sons were also in the Navy and where they were stationed at present and the fact that they liked the service, all the while she smiled with admiration.

The boy said that he also was stationed there and likewise was pleased with the Naval branch of the service. It made me feel good to find on such a dismal day at least two people who in conversation were like mother and son.

After I left I thought of a Jewish proverb, "God could not be everywhere and therefore he made mothers."

Politics Casts Its Shadow on Question of Tax Cuts

By MERRYLE S. RUKEYSER
INS Economic Commentator

Bipartisan cynicism beclouds the question of possible federal tax cuts in 1956.

* * *

All too many solons appear to think that the fiscal problem should be resolved primarily on the basis of its contribution to the contenders for votes.

But even those who take a more mature view and insist on relating receipts to expenditures are somewhat limited in their outlook.

Even they are imprisoned by the late John Maynard Keynes' short-cut formula that in times of boom government should tax heavily and spend lightly, whereas in times of depression it should spend heavily and tax lightly. (Obviously, the Keynes approach was based on the assumption that booms and busts were inevitable.)

* * *

Much can be said for choosing in time of boom between tax cuts, on the one hand, and reduction of outstanding federal indebtedness, on the other.

LACK OF IMAGINATION

But even those who would put first emphasis on reducing the national debt too often show lack of imagination in reviewing the federal tax structure.

* * *

It seems to me that they are repeating the fallacy expressed during the 18th (Republican) Congress by Truman's Secretary of the Treasury John Snyder who said that, while comprehensive tax recodification and improvement were desirable, the time was not yet ripe for tackling the problem. Yet that was before the Korean War and the resultant tremendous increase in federal expenditures for armaments and related matters.

It seems to me that it is always opportune to correct inequities and disparities.

It is wrong for Congress to freeze injustices in the income tax setup on the ground that the government needs the revenue.

* * *

If indeed it does require the revenue, it is the duty of an alert Congress to explore whether there are alternate and superior means of achieving receipts.

While the total "take" of the federal government is now heavy, that is not the sole ground for criticism.

"SOAK THE RICH"

There is still an emotional spirit of vengeance—or desire to "soak the rich" or the "thrifty"—inherent in the graduated income tax, in which the rate on personal income goes up to 91 per cent.

Dr. Crane Describes Different Types of Heart Attacks, Outlines 'First Aid'

Claude asks about the three types of heart attacks. It can free your mind of undue anxiety if you study this case record closely. Your heart is a rugged organ and will do right by you if you reciprocate and treat it fairly. Everybody may have heart pain at times, so learn how to give "first aid" to your heart, even if you are all alone when an attack occurs.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case Q-315: Claude R., aged 55, is the heart victim described yesterday.

"Dr. Crane, are there different kinds of heart attacks?" he asked, "and does your 'deep breathing' strategy work on all of them?"

HEART FACTS

That "deep breathing" technique is an excellent aid in every case of sudden heart attack, regardless of its type. And there are three classical types, as outlined below.

First, there are anginal attacks, such as Claude reported yesterday, in which the coronary arteries are reduced in size because of spasms of the muscles surorunding them.

* * *

The two coronary arteries are not very large, anyway, yet they are the sole blood supply of the heart.

Anything which reduces their diameter, immediately hampers the heart and may cause severe pain from the oxygen hunger that results in the muscle fibers of the heart wall.

We give drugs, like nitroglycerine tablets, which help dilate these coronary arteries and thus increase the blood flow to the heart muscles.

A second type of heart attack is caused by thickening of the walls of the coronary arteries, as from tobacco or other toxins.

* * *

This may lead to complete blocking of a tiny blood vessel in the heart wall. We call this a coronary thrombosis.

The same symptoms can occur from a tiny floating blood clot which is called an embolus.

HELP YOUR HEART

If a vessel is suddenly blocked by a clot, your heart rate is disrupted and erratic. You may feel as if you are choking from lack of oxygen.

If you are conscious, then immediately force yourself to breathe deeply and rapidly to increase the oxygen supply to your blood and thence to the heart muscle fibers.

We medics give you a sedative and later administer oxygen from a bottle or in an oxygen tent, but your deep breathing may save your your life on the very scene of the attack.

If you remain conscious, then feel reassured, for a severe attack knocks you out. If you are aware of your surroundings and can thus force yourself to breathe deeply, the odds are in your favor, so don't get panicky.

Simply lie flat, relax, breathe deeply, and let God carry on!

If you are unconscious, you will not know what happens, anyway, so why worry about it in advance?

Even if you are unconscious, you may pull through with our modern medical aids and oxygen, but the odds are not as good as before.

HEART AILMENTS

In addition to these three types of sudden heart attacks, there are a few other heart conditions about which you should be informed in order to relieve your minds from undue worry.

Occasionally your heart will give an extra beat in between its regular rhythm. It may feel as if your heart turns a somersault. You can feel the sudden flop.

Don't worry! That means a little local irritation in the heart wall that initiates an unexpected beat, coupled with too much nervous tension from caffeine, tobacco, etc. It's usually not too serious in nature.

Another heart trouble shows up in dropsy or water-logged legs. This means your heart is beating too fast from irritation in the auricles, so the heart chambers don't have time to fill with blood between beats.

Digitalis is the usual drug used in such cases to slow down the rate to 80 or 90.

Remember, your heart is really a rugged organ, so it will last a long time if you treat it fairly, which means avoid tobacco and obesity.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 3c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

Bird Receives Blame, but Bus Company Sued

GREENVILLE, S. C. (AP)—A man says a bird gave him a cold.

He was a passenger on a bus whose windshield was broken when a guinea hen crashed through.

He said the glass or the hen struck him and caused "great pain and suffering." He also alleged he got a severe cold from drafts through the windshield.

He sued the bus company for $2,500.

Wild Lotus Still Standing

CAPE HENRY, Va. (AP)—America's largest stand of wild lotus withstood the hurricanes. The woman's club has received many inquiries. The water was high in Tabernacle Creek, but the high winds came at low tide and no salt water was forced sufficiently high up the stream to hurt the plants.

The Chase Manhattan Bank and First National City Bank of New York have become the first American banking institutions to operate in Lebanon, Beirut reports.

Proud Papa Carless

RICHMOND, Va. (AP) — Ruey C. Collins parked his car three parking meters from police headquarters at 4:30 a.m. and went into a hospital. Several hours later he emerged as the proud father of a baby girl but found his car missing. Overtime parking? Car towed away? Nope, the police said. They knew nothing about it.

The oldest Quaker Meeting House in America, dating from 1699, still stands in Newport, R.I. It is now used as a city community center for children.

Smile Voids 2nd Ticket

MOLINE, Ill. (AP)—Mrs. Richard Haegeman paid a $1 fine for illegally parking in any alley. She reappeared seven minutes later in the same cafeteria court with a second ticket which charged her with leaving her car overtime in a metered zone while she was paying the first fine. Traffic Lt. Ray Kinkead, voided the second ticket and returned Mrs. Haegeman's "thank you" with a smile.

Children's Book Not for Reading

You Can Listen to Them, Paint Them, Launder 'Em, but Not Read Them

You can do almost anything with new children's books—except read them.

• • •

You can listen to them. You can paint them. You can launder them. But you cannot read them.

Psychologists explain that this year's books ignore the printed word and still introduce the child to literature. They help the child develop interest in books as well as good reading habits.

The "Magic Talking Book" stands as the most revolutionary development in the world of children's books. This book tells a standard fairy tale within its jackets.

IN HIGH CHAIR

The covers, washable with safety corners, feature real phonograph records. A new dimension is added to the story through the use of music and a series of sound effects.

Members of the high-chair set are also being catered to by a new line of picture books made of muslin and color-fast dyes.

Here, the emphasis is on education. One page, complete with laces, teaches a child how to tie his shoes. Another page provides a balloon which the toddler learns to blow up. There is a chapter demonstrating the proper technique for the brushing of teeth and the blowing of noses.

Any child can feel socially secure after a day spent with a Peggy Cloth Book. These books have an added attraction: They can be washed or chewed with abandon if the child has no teeth.

Other books without words—crayon models or scary pop-ups—still rank high on the childhood best-seller lists. Sound effects play a prominent part in these books which are largely keyed to well-known television characters.

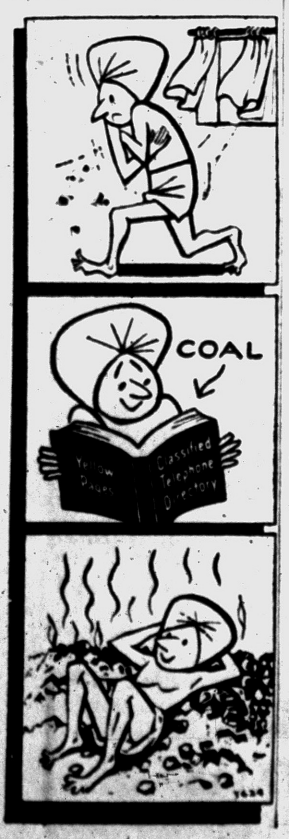

Indian Christmas

At Samastipure in India, before midnight Mass, the people sit in a circle on the ground around a bright gas lamp and eat rice and vegetables with special spices. The food is held on a banana leaf instead of a plate. Then a flare-lit procession escorts an image of the Christ Child to the church amid the beating of drums and the piping of a flute.

Cheating Gas Pumps

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP)—Arkansas Revenue Department agents started checking gasoline pumps at service stations which have state contracts after discovering that one station, involved in a price war, had set its pumps to register more fuel than was being delivered.

Bald and golden eagles are about the same size and except for the California Condor are the largest birds of prey in North America.

Get Labor of Love

ATLANTA (AP) — The late Judge William H. Black left Emory University $5,000 to be paid at the rate of $500 a year to the freshman at Emory or any college of the University System of Georgia who writes the best essay on this subject: "We Georgians Are Often Our Own Worst Enemies When We Intentionally Use Colloquialisms in Preference to Standard English."

Five U.S. Presidents married twice — Tyler, Fillmore, Benjamin Harrison, Theodore Roosevelt and Wilson.

Ready for Wrecks

GREENVILLE, S.C. (AP) — If you must have a wreck here, it would be a good idea to try to arrange it near the Sherwood Court apartments. Five doctors interning at Greenville General Hospital live in the apartment house. At almost any hour a doctor is readily available.

Aircraft propeller blades are usually made of hollow forgings of alloy steel containing one to two per cent nickel.

UM Enrollment Up

ANN ARBOR (AP)—The University of Michigan is asking for 99 million dollars over the next five years for new buildings and remodeling of old ones. It anticipates an enrollment of 30,000 within five years. It has 21,000 now; expects 22,300 next year.

Burglar Steals Kiss

CHULA VISTA, Calif. (UP) — A burglar stole a kiss. Miss Patricia de Vany, 26, awakened by the kiss, said the man also fled with some of her freshly laundered sheer garments which she had hung in the bedroom to dry.

She told police the intrusion and thefts were particularly embarrassing because she is engaged to be married.

GRAND HAVEN (UP)—A 2-year-old who hadn't learned to say "fire" woke his father in time for him to rescue members of the family from their burning home.

Douglas Boyer kept screaming "hotty" until he woke his father, Walter, 26. An overheated furnace had set the house afire.

Mock Auto Accident Sends Man Into Action

VARINA, Va. (UP)—The staged accident in front of the American Legion hall here was pretty realistic to George Elmore Whitman.

Two automobiles were placed in position. A dummy figure was splashed with catsup to simulate blood. Gasoline was poured into a hub cap and set afire. A man banged a fence with a shovel to indicate a crash. The Henroco Volunteer Rescue Squad and Varina Volunteer Fire Department trucks dashed up from their arranged position several hundred yards away.

I Was Framed!

CONWAY, Ark. (UP) — Youngsters who roam the streets of this Arkansas city after 11 p.m. are likely to get their parents in trouble. People under 18 years old must be off the streets by 11 o'clock. Parents of violators are subject to a fine of between $1 and $25 and a jail sentence of from one to 30 days.

Camera Buying Offers Challenge

A camera, a gift that will capture and hold the holiday spirit forever, will last for many Christmases.

• • •

Consideration should be given to pocketbook. The user—his skills and needs—should be examined.

For adults, one of the more popular models this Christmas is the new Stereo Graphic by Graflex. This camera, with only one large dial to set, is simply operated. It takes pictures that assume three dimensions when seen in a viewer.

Often it is wise to allow the expert to choose his own camera —especially if it is one of the more expensive models. Children will enjoy any one of the low cost cameras on the market. These generally feature a minimum of dials and unbreakable frames.

SELF PORTRAITS

Among the "extras" which any photography fan will be happy to receive is a delayed-action timer. This device, used with any cable-release socket, enables the subject to photograph himself. He merely pushes the button, runs around and joins the group before the shutter snaps.

Another present that all amateur cameramen can use is a 260-page book called "This Is Photography." Not an encyclopedia, this book discusses the fundamentals on a wide range of camera topics.

Those who enjoy at-home slide showings will want the Kodaslide Ready File. Styled in attractive beige colored material, this will neatly hold 200 slides.

• • •

There is a whole world of accessories from which to choose a camera-fan's present.

A random sampling at one camera supply store shows a developing tank, chemical trays, film clips, measuring cups and beakers, bottled chemicals, a thermometer, darkroom lights.

• • •

The list can go on as long as an inventory. But if you have a camera bug to shop for, you'll want to take a look at what your store offers.

The harbor staff of Yarmouth, Isle of Wight, will get an extra week's pay when they go on vacation. They handled record vacation crowds this year.

Pontiac City Affairs

City Attorney Gives Report on Ousted Police Officer

City Attorney William A. Ewart submitted a progress report on once-suspended Pontiac Patrolman James L. Ockerman at last night's City Commission meeting.

He told the commissioners that Oakland County Circuit Court Judge H. Russel Holland ruled that Ockerman be reinstated to the force and given back pay until a hearing.

Ockerman was suspended by Police Chief Herbert W. Straley Oct. 14 on charges of neglect of duty, under provisions of the City Charter.

But the officer, a World War II Navy veteran, invoked the State Veteran's Preference Act which allows war veterans to have their case heard by the City Commission.

Ewart said charges have never formally been presented to the City Commission but only under the Police Trial Board.

"It is necessary to file the charges before the Commission before further action can be taken and for the Commission to be the final arbitrator in the case," Ewart said.

In other action at the meeting, the lawmakers approved the appointment of Leon Hubbard to the Fair Employment Practices Commission upon the recommendation of City Manager Walter K. Willman.

The Commission also approved a package beer and wine license for Frank H. Millard and Wilson J. Vallie at 62 Jackson St. Commissioner Floyd P. Miles voted against the application.

Public hearings with confirmation deferred were held and approved for the following:

Special assessment roll for sanitary sewer and related work at Pearsall avenue, Franklin road to Motor.

Special assessment roll for curb, gutter and drainage and related work on Pearsall, Franklin to Motor.

Special assessment roll for water main in South Boulevard from Bradford to Meadow, Tex avenue from South Boulevard to end of existing main and Meadow avenue from South Boulevard to Michigan Airline Railroad.

Also heard at last night's session, was a communication requesting that the city plan a share of the capital improvement funds of the 1956 budget for an artificial ice rink for the city.

The communication was referred to the city manager for study.

Confirmation of special assessment rolls for the following were also read and approved last night:

For sanitary sewer on Howland avenue, Dellwood to Luther.

Replacing sidewalk and related work on east side of Marquette street from Nelson to Edison.

For pavement and related work on alley north of Huron street from Telegraph to Ogemaw.

For pavement and related work on East Boulevard from existing widened pavement north of Mt. Clemens to existing widened pavement south of North Perry.

Flint Voters Reject Six Bond Proposals

FLINT (AP)—Flint voters have rejected six separate bond issues totaling $10,029,000 in capital improvements.

The bond issues would have provided a bridge over the Flint River, sanitary and storm sewers, new streets and street improvements, five fire stations, additions to Hurley (City) Hospital and improved parks and recreational facilities.

Also turned down was a proposal to levy a special 1½ mill property tax to finance eight million dollars of the bonds.

Only property owners were eligible to vote in yesterday's special election. Rejection was by a 2 to 1 margin with a turnout of 11,000 of 91,000 registered voters.

'Gibraltar' Crumbles

RARDIN, Ill. (AP) — A friend of A. D. Boyd spoke confidently about the new window he had installed at the Boyd home. "Ain't nothing gonna jar it out," he said. A hailstorm 35 minutes later broke all the windows on the south side of the house—including the one installed "like Gibraltar."

He's Really Retired

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — Retired Marine Gen. H. M. (Howlin' Mad) Smith of World War II fame appeared in civilian clothes, instead of marine dress uniform as requested, at a military function. He explained he has given away all his uniforms to museums and such places.

Deodorized Gas Blamed in Blast

Fire Marshal Explains Phenomenon That Hurt Seven in Buchanan

BUCHANAN (AP) — Gas from a broken line, deodorized by filtration through soil, slowly filled a five-room frame house until a spark or flame touched off a violent explosion that injured seven persons.

• • •

Deputy State Fire Marshal Walter Burns last night described the chain of circumstances that led to the explosion Monday night in the home of Rodney Shaffer in this southwestern Michigan community.

The blast blew off the siding of the house but left the roof hanging on center supports like an umbrella.

Five of the injured were released after hospital treatment and two remained at Pawating Hospital in nearby Niles. The condition of one, Mrs. Bertha Krueger, 64, was reported as critical.

HIS REPORT

Burns, who was assigned to investigate the explosion, made this report:

A truck or some other heavy vehicle apparently broke a gas line leading to an unfinished house next to the Shaffers' home. Gas seeping from the break filtrated through the sandy soil to a parallel line leading to the Shaffer house, then coursed alongside the pipe 31 feet to the house, into which the family had recently moved.

There it seeped up through cracks in the floor and minute holes in the plaster, filling every room in the house. The Shaffers were unaware of the gas because the odorizing agent injected by the gas company had been filtered out in passing through the soil.

Burns said the blast possibly was set off by an oil heater.

When the explosion occurred four members of the William Krueger family were visiting at the Shaffer home.

• • •

Others injured, besides Mrs. Krueger, were Shaffer, 24, his wife, Jean, 22, their 6-month-old son, Kimberly; William Krueger, 30, his wife, Norma, 27, and their son, Fred, 6. All but Mrs. Shaffer, who suffered first and second degree burns, were treated at the hospital and released.

Nebraska Gives Elliott Backing

Administration Will Support Choice, Says Chancellor

LINCOLN, Neb. (AP)—If Oklahoma backfield coach Pete Elliott accepts the head football coaching assignment at the University of Nebraska, he'll have "the complete backing and support of the University administration and the board of regents," Chancellor Clifford Hardin said Tuesday.

Elliott was discoised Monday to have been offered the job. He's waiting until Oklahoma completes its current grid season in the Orange Bowl at Miami Jan. 2 before giving his answer but athletic director Bill Orwig said he has "reason to believe Elliott will give us the answer we are seeking."

In a statement Tuesday, Chancellor Hardin referred to Elliott as "an outstanding leader in intercollegiate athletics" and said Orwig "has shown in the past his ability to select real leaders for key positions in the athletic department."

"I am, of course, hopeful that Pete Elliott will accept the invitation extended to him," he added.

Sues Phone Company Over 'Popping' Noise

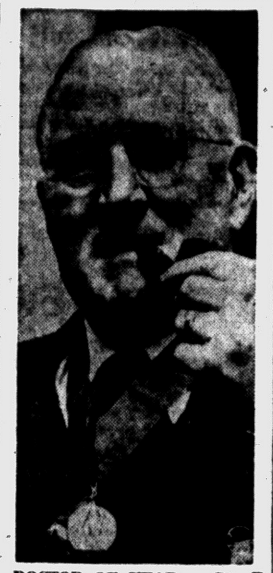

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—A 60-year old Oklahoma City piano teacher yesterday filed a $70,240 damage suit against Southwestern Bell Telephone Co., in U.S. District Court, contending a loud "popping" in her telephone caused a ruptured eardrum and injury to her spine.

Mrs. A. R. Bartley further charged in her petition that the alleged incident resulted in partial paralysis of her left arm and shoulder. She said she twice had to go to the hospital.

Tot, 4, Shoots Mother

MARYSVILLE, Calif. (AP)—Four-year-old Wesley Cisco pulled a 12-gauge shotgun from a closet while his mother Mrs. Cleo Cisco slept on a couch, officers said. As he dragged the gun toward her, it fired. The charge hit Mrs. Cisco from two-foot range. Wilford Cisco, the father, ran in from the back yard and rushed his wife to a hospital. She died there.

Infant illnesses that damage the brain often are causes of mental deficiency.

DOCTOR OF YEAR — Dr. E. Roger Samuel of Mt. Carmel, Pa., who is more fearful of wonder drugs than he is of smoking, was was named Family Doctor of the Year by the American Medical Association meeting in Boston. Dr. Samuel, an inveterate pipe smoker, said he would worry about smoking "after I'm past 80." He is 66.

LA Mother Goes to Leper Hospital

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A mother of two healthy children has gone voluntarily to the Marine leprosarium at Carville, La., for treatment, partly through the unfounded fear she might possibly infect her husband or children.

Dr. George M. Uhl, Los Angeles city health officer, said the woman "could not possibly transmit leprosy, since she is a biologically negative case."

"She has been under the supervision of the Health Department for years," said Dr. Uhl, "but the disease has not been arrested and she has become progressively crippled, with several numb areas on her body."

Dr. Uhl said her decision to submit to hospital care was inspired by the hope of obtaining a new treatment as well as by her fear.

Leaves $50,000 Estate

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — E. Charlotte Waddell, superintendent of Women's Hospital in Detroit for 23 years and a Grand Rapids resident since 1951, left an estate at upwards of $50,000, according to a Probate Court inventory filed Tuesday. Miss Waddell died Nov. 26.

Santa Becomes Cowboy in Argentina's Summer

BUENOS AIRES (AP)—Argentina's young folk can laugh at Thomas Miller's famed verse which ends: "Christmas comes but once a year." Down in this Latin land, the kids taste yuletide treats twice.

Rather than snow, Argentina's boys and girls romp in the hot sun at Christmas-time.

And although the youngsters ask Santa Claus for their gifts and goodies, they also expect the Three Wise Men to slide down the chimney with presents.

These are three of the customs which give the year-end celebrations in Argentina a strange twist for outsiders.

Argentina, almost exclusively a Roman Catholic country, observes Christmas but also marks with prominence the Epiphany the 6th of January. This is the day of the Wise Men, or the "Reyes Magos" (magician kings).

* * *

Many kids are treated on Dec. 25, and the older folk swap traditional gifts, and often flowers. They sing "Noche de Paz" (Night of Peace, or Silent Night). The family crowds around a Christmas tree and wishes one and all "felices fiestas" (happy fiestas).

The kids make their pleas to Santa Claus—or "Papa Noel" as the Argentine younger set calls him. Despite the boiling heat, Santa dons the familiar red robe, stocking cap and long white beard and listens patiently.

Irving Tow, boss of Latin America's biggest shoe-selling enterprise, says he sprang the surprise of Christmas snow on Argentina some 15 years ago and "it caught on fast." Tow, whose lavish window displays have won international awards, says his "White Christmas" themes sparked "a revolution in Argentine window dressing."

Santa is a Gaucho Down in Argentina

U. S. motion pictures helped smooth the way for sun-baked Argentines to accept the bizarre idea of snow flakes and reindeer sleds.

Tow created a popular new figure for the Yuletide season last year when a giant "Gaucho" Santa Claus, strumming a guitar, was propped up on the front of Tow's main store.

This unique Santa sports the floppy sombrero and boots of the Argentine version of the U. S. cowboy.

Robert Fulton's steamboat, "Clermont," began regular service in 1807.

Researchers Report Cancer Discovery

NEW YORK (AP) — One of the country's leading cancer research organizations reports "new and fundamental evidence" has been uncovered in the past two years on formation of cancer cells.

The Sloan-Kettering Institute for cancer research said yesterday that "there seems now to be good reason to believe that we have a rational approach to cancer control."

The report said one of the most important discoveries is that "every kind of cell has its own particular requirements for the buildup of its nucleic acid."

This information, the institute added, "should make it possible to narrow the research for chemicals that will destroy cancer cells in man."

Under laboratory conditions, it already is possible to kill some types of animal cancer cells without harming closely related, normal cells, the institute said.

Contractor Held to Bid Despite $100,000 Error

LOS ANGELES (AP) — It was a tough break for contractor Jerry Artukovich, but Los Angeles County is sorry it can't give him the $100,000 he forgot to list in his estimate on a flood control project.

Artukovich explained to the county supervisors yesterday that through an estimator's mistake equipment rental was listed at $20,000. It should have been $120,000, Artukovich explained.

But County Counsel Harold W. Kennedy told the supervisors that Artukovich's plea to change the total cost of $1,089,935 to $1,189,935 after the deal had been made "involves the very principle of competitive bidding."

Artukovich was held to his original bid, which was guaranteed by a $109,000 performance bond.

Search for Source of 37 Fever Cases

LANCASTER, Pa. (AP)—State and local health authorities continued their research today into 37 cases of paratyphoid fever in an effort to pin down the source of the outbreak.

The cases have been reported throughout the greater Lancaster area. Most of the victims were children. Three were reported in critical condition today.

Dr. Oscar Davis, county medical examiner, said the only common factor thus far in all cases is that the victims' milk originated at the same dairy. The owner has agreed to suspend bottling while the probe is made.

Dr. Davis said at least two days investigation will be necessary before the source can be determined for certain. Samples of ice cream, milk and similar food products are undergoing analysis.

Astronomers of three observatories in California have reported a new age for the expanding universe — 5.4 billion years, give or take a billion.

Peace Reported in Middle East

America, Britain, U.N. Credited for Initiating Israeli-Egyptian Truce

WASHINGTON (AP)—Top officials believe the threat of war between Israel and Arab countries has eased.

They credit this to intensive diplomatic efforts by the United States, Britain and the United Nations.

Both Arabs and Israelis, despite their continuing dispute, they said, are now thinking in terms of negotiating a compromise peace settlement.

Two months ago many had considered an explosive war likely after Egypt's big arms deal with the Communist bloc.

Officials acknowledged the improving outlook might be only temporary. No formula has yet been found for peace talks.

* * *

British Prime Minister Eden is recognized as having played a big role in calming Arab countries by his proposal last month to mediate their quarrel with Israel. President Eisenhower's Nov. 9 statement appealing for talks is believed to have allayed Israeli fears considerably. Likewise, Maj. Gen. E. L. M. Burns, United Nations truce supervisor in the area, has played a big part in calming both sides.

A TRAINLOAD of goodies like this is easy to contrive by following the directions here and using cellulose tape.

Tots Can Build Toy Train From Shoe Box, Paper

Just the thing for a youngster's Christmas party is a little centerpiece the moppets can make themselves, perhaps with a small assist from Mom or Big Sis. A toy train made out of a shoe box and construction paper can hold little favors for the young revelers.

A charming Santa Claus may be made by the young uns too, perhaps one at each place setting and one to peek out of the train window. Though made of cotton and a styrene plastic base, he's just as pleasant and jolly looking as any department store Santa Claus, and easy to make too.

Here's how:

Cover shoe box and a strip of cardboard (about 5 in. by 16 in.) with green construction paper, holding in place with transparent tape. Edge box and covered cardboard with red gift tape. Place a strip of "Merry Christmas" tape along top edge of shoe box.

Cut out a square window on both sides of the cardboard strip about 4 inches from each end. Edge windows with red tape. Then curve cardboard and fasten to inside of shoe box with cellophane tape. Make a red circle for a chimney and trim it with "Merry Christmas" tape for the top of the train.

Wheels are made with 2 small cardboard circles at front and 2 larger circles at back. Thin strips of red tape are criss-crossed at the center of the wheels for added decoration.

COW CATCHER

The cow catcher is made of a 2 in. by 6 in. piece of green construction paper with red tape. A band of "Merry Christmas" tape is placed along the bottom edge. Then fold sides over diagonally and tape top edge to front of train. Headlights are circles of red paper.

Santa's Helper, peering out of the train window is a round lollipop covered with white crepe paper. A ruffle of decorette ribbon forms the collar. His hat is a triangular piece of red paper rolled into cone shape and held together with tape.

Fill the train with little gift surprises trimmed with sasheen ribbon and colored gift wrap tapes. It will make a perfect centerpiece for a children's Christmas party or it can be used as a mantel decoration.

* * *

Cover a 2-inch piece of cardboard tubing (wax paper roll) with red paper, edge it with a Merry Christmas tape. Make Santa's helper out of a lollipop like the one on the train. Cut a styrofoam ball in half and push the stick of lollipop through center. Fill a small nut cup with candy and place inside cardboard tubing.

Girl, 19, Confesses to Strangling Child

MANCHESTER, Ky. (AP)—Miss Faye Grubb, 19, yesterday demonstrated to state police detective Walter E. Woods how she strangled a grade school girl whose body was found in a well. She was charged with murder.

Woods said Miss Grubb admitted she strangled Jewell Smith, 10, with a piece of curtain and then threw her body in the well after binding the hands and feet.

* * *

Miss Grubb said she was "sorry," Woods reported. No motive had been established.

Miss Grubb, held here without bond, will be examined by two doctors to determine whether she should be sent to a mental institution for observation.

Ben Youssef Swears in Bekkai to Premier Post to Represent Morocco

RABAT, French Morocco (AP)—Sultan Mohammed Ben Youssef today swears in Morocco's first representative government with Mohammed Bekkai, as premier.

* * *

The No. 1 task for Bekkai's government will be to hammer out a new agreement with France replacing the 43-year-old treaty under which the French have held the territory under tight control.

The French have promised the Moroccans widely expanded self-government at home but plan to retain control of the northwest African country's defenses and biggest nationalist party, the Istiqlal (Independence), already has announced it wants complete independence.

* * *

Bekkai himself is an independent and a close adviser of the Sultan, whom the French ousted from his throne 2½ years ago because of his pronationalist leanings, then brought back from exile in October in an effort to bring peace.

Bekkai, is a 48-year-old French army veteran who lost a leg in the 1940 battle for France and retired as a lieutenant colonel. He was the Sultan's trusted personal representative in France during Ben Youssef's two years of exile in Madagascar and represented the ruler in the negotiations which resulted in his return.

* * *

The new Cabinet must work with the French in putting down continuing terrorism.

Bank Is Giving $1.05 for Every 100 Pennies

RUTLAND, Vt. (AP)—The Killington Bank and Trust Co. is giving $1.05 for every $1 brought in—and claims that's good business.

The bank inserted a newspaper advertisement yesterday calling attention to its bargain in money.

The only proviso is that the $1 brought in must be in pennies rolled in wrappers.

The reason for the bargain is a shortage of pennies.

The Federal Reserve Bank of Boston said the penny shortage is nationwide and not restricted to Vermont.

He Felt Unwelcome

EUREKA, Calif. (AP)—A. Welcome Guest of Eureka filed suit for divorce yesterday from his wife, Nora on grounds of extreme cruelty.

Gopher Turns Tables With Farmer's Bomb

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—Harassed by a pesky gopher, farmer Paul Thomas dropped a concussion bomb into the varmint's hole.

But, he said, the gopher pushed the bomb, with fuse burning, back out. Thomas quickly picked it up and hurled it away. The bomb exploded, igniting a hay pile.

Firemen saved the house and barn but 12 tons of hay was destroyed. Thomas claims the gopher still peers out the hole.

Time of H-Bomb Set

TOKYO (AP) — The Soviet Union presumably exploded its hydrogen bomb at 1 a.m., Eastern Standard Time, Nov. 22 near Lake Baikal, Siberia, the Central Meteorological Observatory announced today.

Japanese government weather experts based their presumption on "abnormal pressure waves" observed Nov. 22 at 30 observatories throughout Japan.

Study Fixtures

WASHINGTON (INS)—The National Association of Home Builders is launching a nationwide survey to determine the extent of "critical" shortages of building fixtures made from copper. To help alleviate the situation, NAHB is supporting efforts of the copper industry to obtain much-needed supplies of the metal from government stockpiles.

Worms Go for Swim

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—A flash flood put one merchant out of business, wiping out his entire stock.

Curley Burks appealed to the Red Cross for aid, and the agency tried to help him replace the lost merchandise.

Burks operates a worm ranch to supply fishermen with bait. He said the flood washed away 3,000 worms.

Jungle Bubble Test

EPERNAY, France (INS) — Twenty-four quarts of French champagne have completed a two-year in-the-bottle test in Africa's steaming jungles. The unusual experiment was conducted to test the bubbly wine so that the taste remains uniform regardless of transportational hazards or temperature extremes.

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Fellow on an oil well drilling rig felt pretty silly. He forgot to close a vital valve, and instead of pumping quick-setting cement down the well, he poured in a carload of fine table salt.

Cowboys of Timor

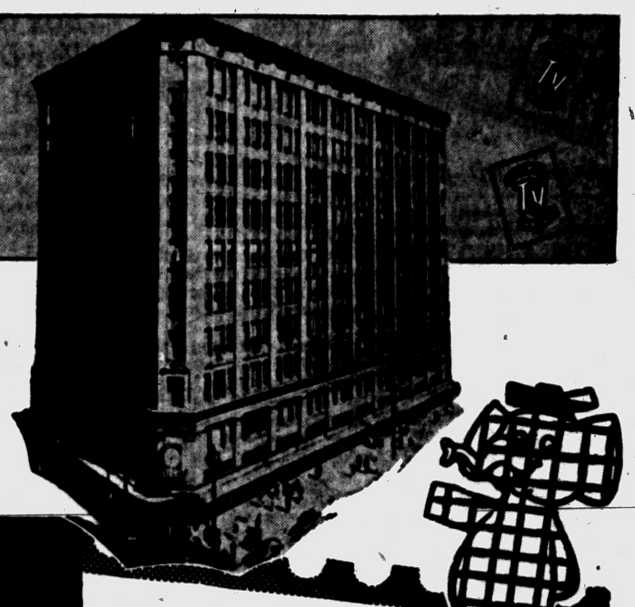

WASHINGTON (INS) — The island of Timor, shared by Portugal and Indonesia, boasts horsemen who rank with the American cowboy in skill, says the National Geographic Society. They hunt wild water buffaloes with muzzle-loading flintlock guns. On the upland savannas roam sturdy ponies and some of Indonesia's largest herds of cattle.

Texas Auto-Bomb Murder Hearing First to Be Televised Live to Public

WACO, Tex. (AP)—The husband of a wealthy auto bomb victim named his former son-in-law as her slayer in testifying yesterday before what probably is the first murder trial to be televised live.

* * *

Harry Weaver, 60, said Harry L. Washburn, 39, was the first suspect he named after "a terrible explosion" killed wealthy Mrs. Helen Harris Weaver, 51, at San Angelo, Tex., last Jan. 19.

"For two years I've been afraid of him," Weaver said.

CAMERA IN BALCONY

A TV camera in the balcony and microphones at the witness stand sent the proceedings over Waco station KWTX-TV.

The courtroom was only about half filled with spectators. It was packed during the opening session, which wasn't televised.

* * *

Weaver, a stocky, graying man, testified in a quavering voice about rushing from his mother-in-law's home and seeing "an immense cloud of smoke" hanging over the driveway. His "badly mutilated" wife was slumped in the family car's front seat.

NEATLY DRESSED

"I thought she was dead and I didn't touch her," he said. He was asked to repeat his answers so the microphones could pick them up. Washburn, a neatly dressed Houston businessman, looked up at the TV camera occasionally as his father-in-law testified.

Weaver said he named Washburn, former husband of Mrs. Weaver's daughter Helen, as the killer immediately after the explosion.

He testified that Washburn appeared at the Weaver ranch near San Angelo in 1951, waved two pistols, threatened to kill the couple and demanded $20,000.

Weaver said he talked Washburn into accepting a $5,000 check, explaining Weaver would be under suspicion if he tried to cash a $20,000 check after the couple's death.

Box of Apples Per Day Keeps Deer Happy

COOS BAY, Ore. (AP) — An apple a day may keep the doctor away, as the old adage says, but it takes a box of apples a day to keep the deer happy hereabouts.

A lumber company says it buys about a box of apples daily which its workers at nearby Eden Ridge logging camp pass out to the deer who flock there, particularly during the hunting season.

"They know they're safe here," Al Smith, logging superintendent, explains. "And it's as much as your life is worth to try to shoot one."

Pony Proves Expensive Item for Lou Costello

CAMDEN, N.J. (AP) — It cos' comedian Lou Costell o$900 extr plane fare to bring along Bold Ba zooka's pet stable pony from Cali fornia for The Garden State race. "And the pony only cost us $150 three years ago," explains Costello. He could have added that Bold Bazooka ran last in the 12-horse race.

Kefauver Maps Primary Plans

Estes Will Concentrate Anti-Stevenson Battles in Larger States

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Kefauver (D-Tenn) indicated today that if he runs for the 1956 Democratic presidential nomination he will concentrate on a limited number of showdown primary challenges to Adlai E. Stevenson.

* * *

He said in an interview he may delay until January his announcement. Stevenson has announced his candidacy.

Kefauver said he won't undertake the same sort of primary grind as in 1952 if he runs.

"I have a great deal of Senate work to do and I will not have time to campaign in a great many primaries, if I do make the race," he said.

* * *

He said that if he runs he may enter the March 20 Minnesota primary which Stevenson has accepted an invitation to enter.

The Minnesota party organization has endorsed Stevenson, largephrey (D-Minn).

ly through efforts of Sen. Hum-

Kefauver said the May 29 Florida and June 5 California primaries, which Stevenson may enter, owuld be given "consideration" if he runs.

* * *

Kefauver's change in strategy indicated he now feels it is more important to win a few crucial primary tests than to roll up early ballot votes as he did in 1952, when he led with 340 votes on the first convention ballot.

Lack of Funds Halts Some UM Medical Researches

ANN ARBOR (AP)—Dr. A. C. Furstenberg, dean of the University of Michigan Medical School, reported today that about 60 research projects have been stymied on the drawing board for lack of funds.

Dean Furstenberg said the medical school projects included work in Leukemia, heart disease, alcholism, high blood pressure and cancer.

Most of the work, Dr. Furstenberg said, has been stopped at the drawing stage because medical research is largely dependent on donations from wealthy sponsors which are unpredictable.

About $600,000 is needed annually, Dr. Furstenberg said, to support the research programs at the medical center above the amounts currently being contributed.

The cost of such research work is often misunderstood, Dr. Furstenberg said. One average project runs between $7,000 and $10,000 a year.

Although the university medical center has the personnel and plans for much research work, he said, they need funds. He cited one example in the pediatrics depastment.

For $3,000, researchers there could perform oxygen studies on children with congenial heart disease, to discover more of the nature of the disease and lay the groundwork for its cure.

Other projects hanging fire, Dr. Furstenberg said, include:

Investigation of why ACTH and cortisone work. Both drugs have far-reaching implications in arthritis.

Eye disturbances and sometimes blindness which occurs in the "goiter district" of Michigan.

The increase of cancer of the blood.

The connection of hormone deficiency with virus infections.

The incidence of infant diarrhea which continues to puzzle pediatricians.

Good Coffee Royal Tops Off Big Meal

If you want to serve a holiday dinner that people will long remember, from start to finish, wind up with Cafe Royale.

Place a lump or half a lump of sugar in a teaspoon, add some cognac brandy, then hold the spoon over a piping hot cup or demitasse of strong coffee until the cognac is warmed.

Light the cognac with a match and after the flame burns out stir the cognac and sugar into the coffee.

If anyone is still worrying about his diet after a holiday dinner, the cognac will still flame without the sugar.

'It's Good for You to Be Mad'

Opera Singer's Anger Pushes Her Career Forward

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK (INS)—Not only the best things—but frequently the belligerent people — come in small packages.

* * *

Like Elaine Malbin, TV and Broadway operatic soprano. Her voice and temper operate with an equally warm flame.

Elaine is lithe, little (5 feet) and, a great deal of the time, angry. That's when she's at her best, she says.

"The thing that happens is I get fighting mad at the world lots of times, and it's good for me. The more people who knock me, the more people who get in my way, the harder I strive to be the best singer in the world.

"I don't consider this noble, exactly—but if you're ambitious, it's good for you to be mad. It gives you that little extra zest you need to do a bigger job than they think you can do!"

Miss Malbin, born in Brooklyn 25 years ago, received plenty of criticism on the way up, and in the last two years she has hit stride and made a lot of her personal snipers eat their words. It's a great satisfaction. In fact, she would rather see someone else consume a word than to consume a steak herself.

'I'LL SHOW HIM'

"Like the first time I auditioned for a singing job," Elaine remembers, "I was 13 and short and fat. The producer said I had a nice voice but was strictly for opera. He meant, of course, that I was short and fat, and I said to myself—I'll show him."

A year later, Elaine was trimmed down to the shapely proportions she maintains today, and was on her way to other auditions. There other producers said she was cute and pretty, but her voice was not quite big enough for operatic-type roles.

Elaine said to herself she'd show them too and, with what she calls "my iron will," she proceeded to.

It took six years after that first audition, but finally she was hired at the age of 19 to sing Violetta in the CBS-TV production of "La Traviata." She worked up to it by singing on radio, and with the Detroit Civic Opera, in appearing in Carnegie Hall "pop" concerts, but "Traviata" was the official success signal.

"By that time," she explains, "I was so mad I could hardly miss."

BIGGEST TRIUMPHS

There have been many setbacks since, and Miss Malbin's biggest triumphs have come right on the heels of discouragement. Following a starring role in "My Darlin' Aida" three seasons ago on Broadway, she contracted pneumonia.

* * *

NBC called to ask if she could learn an operatic role for a TV show in one week to replace another diva who had become indisposed.

Elaine was angry because she hadn't been offered the role in the first place. So, being mad, she said "Of course I can!" and got up against her doctor's orders, learned the role, and performed it — fiercely and beautifully.

"It's the old principle, I suppose, of wanting things you can't have. If people say you can't do something—you know you've got to. And you do it the best, too."

* * *

Miss Malbin is still single, but she says she does not intend to remain that way much longer. If she says it, she means it, of course.

We only hope, for the sake of her career, that marriage will not make her too contented to sing superbly.

The unveiling of the portraits of the Rev. J. L. Linsenmeyer and the Rev. Richard Cunningham highlighted the Tuesday meeting of the Women's Guild of St. Benedict Church. Looking on as they were unveiled were James L. Brown of Vinewood avenue, Mrs. Earl McHugh of Sylvan Shores drive, Mrs. Noel Derocher of Myrtle avenue and Mrs. Russell Harris of Starr avenue.

Areme Chapter of OES Plans Party on Dec. 19

Mrs. Edward Pritchard, worthy matron, presided at the Monday meeting of the Areme Chapter 503, OES, held at the Roosevelt Temple.

Plans were made for a Christmas party to follow the special meeting Dec. 19. Instead of the usual exchange of gifts, a donation will be given for the teenage children at the Oakland County Children's Home.

Invitations were received by the chapter for the installations of Roosevelt Masonic Lodge Dec. 15 and Bethel 40, Job's Daughters, Dec. 29 at the temple.

Following the meeting, refreshments were served by Mrs. Eugene Williams, Mrs. Ralph Nixon, Mrs. William Gordon, Mrs. Ralph Woodside and Mrs. Sam Johnson.

Spruce Up Linens

Spruce up your finest tableware in plenty of time for the holiday groaning board. If your largest damask cloth has been folded away since last Christmas it may need a quick soap or detergent sudsing (in 140 degrees F water for whites, 120 degrees for colors) to be fresh and festive under the centerpiece.

Chapter Observes 'Friendship in AW'

Chapter AW of PEO observed "Friendship in AW" by giving a Christmas party for the home department at the Oakland County Hospital Monday evening.

Following the party, the group gathered at the home of Mrs. Charles L. Coppersmith on Woodland avenue, Sylvan Lake, for a business meeting.

The next meeting will be with Mrs. Everett Peterson of West Iroquois road.

The cashmere blazer now comes in heavier weight and longer length for wear with white shirts and well-cut slacks.

General Guild Has Party

The first Christmas party sponsored by the General Guild of St. Benedict Church was held Tuesday in the Parish Hall.

* * *

Highlight of the evening was the unveiling of the portraits of Rev. J. L. Linsenmeyer and the Rev. Richard Cunningham, organizers of the parish.

Also highlighting the evening was the program honoring six women who began the guilds which helped to defray organization expenses.

These women include Mrs. Russel V. Harris, Mrs. John Fromby, Mrs. Eugene Hunt, Mrs. Noel Derocher, Mrs. Henry St. Dennis and Mrs. LeMar.

They were presented with corsages by Mrs. James L. Brown.

Mrs. Earl McHugh, guild president, introduced master of ceremonies James L. Brown.

Mr. Brown told of the organization of the parish and said that the first Mass was held in September 1945 in Donelson School.

Then the women's guilds were organized to raise funds to help in the organization of the parish.

Officers assisting Mrs. McHugh this year are Mrs. Ralph Cotcher, vice president; Mrs. Paul Saghy, secretary; Mrs. Michael Glisky, treasurer, and Mrs. F. H. Grady, corresponding secretary.

Mrs. James R. Smith and Mrs. James Clark are on the board of directors, and Mrs. Edward Smith, Mrs. Eugene Hunt and Mrs. Homer Moran are officers of the Altar Society.

Whipped cream can be sweetened with honey instead of sugar, and will stay whipped and firm longer this way.

Damp Mop Ends Tile Problems

The holidays are sure to bring an influx of visitors. So start now to plan housecleaning schedules that will brighten up your decor for Yuletide inspection.

A damp cloth will remove finger smudges from painted surfaces. A quick run over with a damp mop will make rubber tile surfaces sparkle like new.

Annoying burns from carelessly thrown cigarettes can be removed from rubber tile by rubbing lightly with steel wool.

Zeta Eta Chapter Plans Yule Party

Mrs. William Doyon opened her home on Shaw drive to members of Zeta Eta Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi Monday evening.

Plans for the Christmas party Dec. 19 were made. Mrs. Mabel Roat of East Pike street will be hostess to the group.

The chapter will give a Christmas basket of food to a needy family and will also give presents to the family.

Girls Will Sparkle With Metallic Gowns

This Christmas the girls will glitter along with the Christmas trees, as fabulous new holiday dresses of gold, silver, bronze and gunmetal lame spark the nation's shops.

The simpler the more effective are these gleaming metallic gowns, says Mildred Orrick, designer of sophisticated, youthful styles priced to fit the junior budget.

In her holiday collection she shows two metallic sheaths. In gold or gunmetal, they will shine as bright as the angel on top of the Christmas tree.

Coming Events

Jennie E. Doyle Past Chiefs Club will meet Thursday at 8 p.m. with Mrs. Harry Winkley, 127 Seminole Ave., for an exchange of Christmas gifts.

The Huron Gardens Eagles Auxiliary will hold a special meeting tonight at 8 o'clock to make plans for the Christmas party at the Oakland County Convalescent Hospital.

Welcome Rebekah Lodge 246 will meet Thursday at 8 p.m. in the Malta Temple, 82 Perkins St., for election of officers.

Camp Nesbitt 11, Ladies National League, will hold a social meeting Thursday at 1 p.m. in the VFW Hall on South Saginaw St.

Royal Neighbors of America will meet Thursday at 8 p.m. in Grotto Hall on West Pike street for election of officers.

The Friends Prayer Meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Mattie Jackson, 27 Miller St., Thursday at 7:30 p.m.

The Pioneer Missionary Society of the Oakland Avenue United Presbyterian Church will gather Thursday at 1:30 p.m. in the church parlors for a meeting and Christmas program.

Sorority Plans to Pack Basket

Zeta Lambda Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi sorority met Monday evening at the home of Mrs. Richard Zumbrunnen on Murphy avenue. Mrs. Robert Lyon reported on the Thanksgiving project participated in by the group.

Plans were made to prepare a Christmas basket for a needy family. The next meeting will be a Christmas party at the home of Mrs. Edward Forsyth on St. Joseph avenue.

Suds Chrome Fittings

Chromium plating is a hard, non-tarnishing finish. That's why such plumbing fittings seldom require any care except washing with soap or detergent suds.

Frequent sudsing is a must for chromium-plated faucets and other fittings installed in seashore homes because salt air has a corrosive effect on chrome.

FACIAL MASSAGE?

Massaging the face and neck is the most controversial subject in beauty work. We will pound and beat, pinch and rub every other part of our body . . . but the face, oh no! The face is different. We take hot baths and cold showers, and exercise to our heart's content. These things are fine, we think, as long as we don't let any of them happen above the neck. Dire results are prophesied, if we do.

Where we gathered this impression, that the neck and head is entirely different that the rest of the body, we do not know. If exercise and massage are helpful in improving the muscle tone of other parts of the body, why not the neck and face? The face and neck should be exercised massaged vigorously enough to increase the circulation. Don't worry about the direction your fingers take, the muscles are fastioned securely on both ends. You can do them no harm. One very simple motion is to pick up a small piece of flesh between your thumb and finger and twist it in a circular motion. Do this over the entire face and neck until it glows. If this is done faithfully, it will clear the skin and improve the muscle tone.

Mary F. Likens Chooses Sister's Wedding Gown

Before an altar banked with palms, white carnations and bouquets of chrysanthemums, Mary Fern Likens became the bride of Arthur B. Lane.

* * *

The couple was married in a candlelight ceremony by the Rev. K. A. Hutchinson of the First Church of the Nazarene. They exchanged their nuptial vows Saturday in the presence of 350 guests.

Mr. and Mrs. Arvel D. Likens of Riviera Terrace are parents of the bride. His parents are Mr. and Mrs. Arthur W. Lane of Elizabeth Lake road.

For her wedding, Mary chose the white slipper satin gown worn by her sister for her marriage. The bridal gown featured a lace bertha embroidered with seed pearls framing her off-the-shoulder illusion neckline.

* * *

She carried a white Bible with carnations, pink camellias and rosebuds.

They all wore white feather headpieces and carried baskets of white baby pompons and tinted carnations.

Linette Likens was flower girl dressed in a white frock. She carried a basket of red rose petals.

* * *

Dallas Likens, brother of the bride, served as best man. Seating the guests were Delgert Likens, Aaron Wright, Bob Buchanan, Warren May and Rodger Manning. Danny Likens, brother of the bride, was ringbearer.

* * *

For their honeymoon in northern Michigan, Mrs. Lane changed to a charcoal gray suit with alligator purse and shoes. She wore the corsage from her bridal bouquet. The newlyweds will reside in Waterford Township on their return.

Small Leather Bags Make Good Presents

The abundance of small leather items will make choosing the appropriate gift pleasurable.

For those who like the chic, the Parisian influence is much in evidence in clutch purses, change purses and wallets of fine saddle calf with colorful beaded patterns. Hand-beaded designs are also featured on lovely leather compacts and eyeglass cases.

IF freckles or blotches

Spotted fur or fabric will emphasize freckles. Choose wisely in monotone fabrics and colors to play them down.

Youthful magic of color in furs by night, the pink, the yellow, the pale blue furs dyed to match up with or add a note of contrast to young formals, there's plenty to choose from to flatter your complexion, eyes and hair.

Rib-Knit Sweater Making Yule News

Probably the most popular single item of feminine American apparel, year in and year out, is the sweater.

* * *

Just when it seems the vogue must have reached its peak, and a slump in interest is due, the designers come up with a new idea and the perennial favorite is off and runnin' again.

This year the bulky rib-knit sweater, unexpectedly trimmed with jewels, is making news as a top item for Christmas giving and winter resort wear.

The bulky look in sweaters arrived in full force last season, with the vogue of the Italian look, and it is still going strong.

* * *

Women have found the casual look of a white rib-knit sweater in either brief bolero or longer coat style, just the right touch for either sports or dress-up clothes, especially for country or resort.

Now the bejeweled sweater styles look new and gay, adding a festive note to almost any costume.

* * *

Other favorites in the sweater lineup include plain or decorated cashmeres often dyed to match skirts and the new, easily washable and budget priced orlons, which look like cashmere at 10 paces.

Fashions, Show World Are Parallel

5 Designers Give Insight to Similar Talents Required

The parallel between the fashion business and show business is never more apparent than during "rehearsal time," in the few weeks before a major style collection opens to its "critics," the buyers from big stores throughout the country.

And like any other production, success or failure depends on a lot of talent. In fashion's case, the talents of accessory and fabric designers complete the costume effect of the dress designer's original idea.

Here is the all-star "cast of characters" whose work will be a background for dress stars Mollie Parnis, Adele Simpson, Ben Zuckerman, Claire McCardell, Harvey Berin and others:

Uncle Sam the Umbrella Man: An individualistic, independent little personality who started as an umbrella repair man and became enough of a force to be credited with reviving the fashion for parasols. Uncle Sam now designs sunshades for Norman Norell, Mollie Parnis, Lilly Dache, Harvey Berin and many others.

Hope Skillman: American cotton designer, the only woman designer in that vast field, and one of the few women textile manufacturers. She is an important behind-the-scenes influence through her designs worked out especially for Adele Simpson, Claire McCardell, Brigance, Helen Lee, Trigere, Ben Reig, Vera Maxwell, Bonnie Cashin and others.

Ben Somers of Capezio: This affable shoe expert who began by designing ballet slippers and now looms large in all American fashion shoe trends.

George Kaplan: The embroidery designer whose fabulous handwork on silks and satins, on linen and fine cottons, turns Karen Stark's and Ceil Chapman's evening clothes into poetry. He is also sometimes responsible for the intricate crosstucking and fanciful insertions which turn a simple fabric into a cobweb of shaded pattern.

Jacques Lesur: The famous French fabric designer whose color-flecked tweeds and "poodle cloth" made fashion history. M. Lesur, a dignified, dynamic man frequently flies over from Paris to see the key American collections. During these visits he goes into huddles with Pauline Trigere, Ben Zuckerman, or Jane Derby on textile "futures" destined to see the light a year later.

Then there are the designer's favorite hat-designers, Adolfo of Emme and Lilly Dache, whose silhouettes often spring from suit or dress shapes.

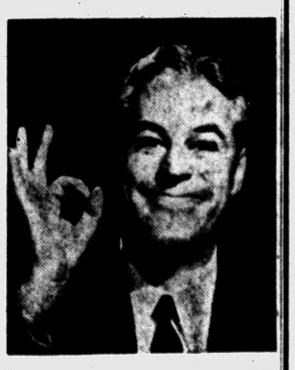

Employ Deodorant Before Dressing

Your dress is only as good as your deodorant. Remember to roll on an effective deodorant and antiperspirant before putting on your dress.

Get one that is guaranteed by the American Institute of Laundering, which does not stain even the most delicate of fabrics.

Leather trimming on jersey clothes will be new and smart for sports and campus wear. The leather trimming is used around the neck and on the pockets and worn with matching belts.

"My Sal knows her stuff!"

I have to hand it to my Sal. She's just a whizz at taking the work out of housework. For instance, most gals practically kill themselves scrubbing and waxing wood floors. But not my Sal! She cleans and waxes them in one easy operation with Bruce Cleaning Wax. The job's done in half the time and with a lot less work. And you should hear all the swell compliments about our beautiful wood floors! My Sal and her Bruce Cleaning Wax sure make simple work of a tough chore. And they make me mighty proud too!

P.S. For lighter waxing on linoleum and wood, Sal uses Bruce Floor Cleaner.

Don't Become 'Just a Secretary'

By ANNE HEYWOOD

There is a deplorable tendency in some circles to say "just a secretary," as if being a secretary was a dreary and unimportant task which anybody with half a brain could handle.

* * *

The reason for this is partly due to the fact that some idle dreamers pick up a sketchy brand of stenography and palm themselves off as secretaries.

CAN'T EVEN SPELL

Most of them can't even spell. They are usually girls who are convinced that they have a corner on creativeness and for a week or two, until the employer discovers that they should really be managing editor, top copywriter or vice president, they're willing to prostitute their talents and be "just a secretary."

Of course, real secretarial jobs can be tremendously important and stimulating for the right kind of girl, with the right kind of motive and goal.

The National Secretaries Association is an organization for girls who take their secretarial jobs seriously. The membership includes top secretaries who work for some of America's top ranking executives.

If you are a secretary, anxious to improve at your job and meet other girls like yourself, it is an excellent organization to join.

Among other things, the association began, five years ago, to give the rating of Certified Professional Secretary to anyone who could pass a comprehensive examination in all phases of secretarial work.

So far, nearly 800 girls have received the rating of CPS. In each case, the rating has been a benefit to the girl and to her firm.

'SO WHY TRY'

"But I don't want to be a secretary forever," girls will tell me, "so why try to be that good at it?"

* * *

There are several reasons. First of all, to do a good job wherever you are is the first step toward self-respect and self-confidence and, therefore, personal attractiveness. The shiftless worker in any field is usually an unattractive person.

Then, if you really give your present secretarial job all you've got, you'll either be promoted to an executive secretarial position, with the responsibility, prestige and financial reward that go with it, or you'll be taken seriously in your request to move into another area.

But if you do a half-hearted job as secretary, you'll really stay where you are the rest of your life!

Mr. and Mrs. Mark J. Cheney of Dwight avenue announce the engagement of their daughter, Grace Edith, to Harry A. Smith. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Russell L. Smith of Grand Rapids. Grace will graduate in June from the U. of M. and Harry will receive his master's degree at that time.

Modern Efforts Ease Women's Beauty Tortures

Well, the cartoons were true enough. Some of the tortures women went through to get beautiful were so horrible and unbeautiful as to amuse male cartoonists. Of course, what they don't understand is that if one has to look that way to get curly hair, one is going to do it, willy-nilly.

But fortunately, manufacturers have come to consider these discomforts unnecessary to eliminate them.

Permanents have made worlds of progress since the first permanent machine so amused the cartoonists. Getting rid of double chins now no longer involves being hung from the ceiling by the chin.

All Around Coat for All Occasions

Fashion designer Pierre Clarence proposes a Loden coat which a woman can wear in the woods, in a car and even in the city. Its shape is slightly flaring with both side-seams slit to the hips and buttoned down.

Made of moss-green weather-proof Loden, it reveals a stunning red velveteen lining.

The high collar is belted in red leather with a buckle fastening in front. This topper is knee-length and has two giant side-pockets, reaching down to the coat-hem to serve as game-bags.

It can be worn over trousers or over a skirt and looks very smart with a green, deep, waterproof cloche hat.

Color of Hair Determines Correct Leather Glove Buy

Leather gloves show up on most Christmas shopping lists—but the big question is "what color would she like?"

If you don't want to take the easy way out and settle for black or brown, here are a few tips from which recommends that you let the the Fashion Coordinators Institute color of the lady's hair be the deciding factor.

(1) If she's a bonde, either on the golden or ash-blonde side, select a pair of gloves in one of the new pale-gold yellows to co-star with the color of her hair. They'll add a sunny touch to this year's favorite basic costume of black or brown.

(2) Should she be a dark-eyed brunette, on the other hand, a pair of vibrant-toned oriental-red leather will heighten the sparkle in her eye. And she'll wear them with the new hats, bags or shoes in the same color.

(3) If she's a brunette, but if her eyes are a heavenly blue, you'll make the perfect choice in a pair of saphire-hued glace kid or suede leather gloves keyed to flatter and deepen the eye's natural color.

(4) For that flashing red-head on your list, you'll find tissue-sheer leathers in either avocado or almond-leaf green an enchanting foil for playing up the beauty of her hair. Or, if you prefer, you can color-match her locks with one of the new burnished-copper tones.

Lastly, and most important, if your favorite lady be your own silvery-topped mother, your most becoming gift would be a pair of fine, silky-surfaced leather gloves in a new tone of gray called silver-birch.

* * *

Not only will they serve as the perfect complement to the distinctive color of her hair, they'll be the ideal glove for her to wear on any occasion.

Give the girls on your Christmas list socks or stockings — but be sure you choose the right kind.

Cut Flower Life Grows Longer With New Idea

ATLANTA (INS)—The life of the cut flower is growing longer every day.

Mrs. Larry Lanier, president of the Atlanta Florists Association, says:

"One of the greatest advancements in the floral world this year is the development of cut flower preservatives."

Mrs. Lanier added that the florists have gone a step beyond the practice of putting a penny in the water to make flowers last longer.

The latest idea consists of making vases out of Egyptian copper. These vases, she says, add as much as a week to the life of cut flowers.

Religious Yule Cards Gaining Popularity

The sending of Christmas cards, once considered a passing fad, has now become a major factor in the celebration of Christmas. Fortunately, the more secular phases of Christmas card sending are giving way to wider recognition and greater use of truly reverent Christmas greetings.

In the past few years, the selection and sending of religious Christmas cards has more than tripled. Meeting this demand for beautiful conceptions of the true spirit of Christmas, the publishers have gone all out to provide a reverent and dignified means of "keeping Christ in Christmas" with cards of marked beauty and appeal.

Besides the classic black, dark gray and beige colors watch for dark, mossy greens, chestnut brown, the purplish color of plums and a dark yellow mustard shade as Parisian color this season.

Her Steady Keeps His Eye on All the Girls

By ELIZABETH WOODWARD

Going steady ought to calm a boy down. He ought to keep his mind on his work and his eyes on his girl.

After all, he chose her. He asked for it. He felt at the time he was getting into it that she was the only girl for him. He was quite blissful in the thought that she'd go out with him whenever he wanted to. He was content and comfortable in thinking that he could count on her company, her loyalty and her interest.

Yet, all of this isn't enough for some of boys. They can't help noticing all the other girls around and doing something about it. When they make a play for them in the presence of their best girls, it gets a bit rugged. More than some girls can take. As in this girl's case:

"Dear Miss Woodward: We go steady and I like him very much. But it seems that every girl that passes by arouses his interest. He just has to say something to them all.

"One night at a dance he was holding my hand and turned around to kiss another girl! Should I avoid saying anything about his behavior, or should I speak up and tell him I don't like it?"

Answer: It would help considerably if you could figure out why he puts on this performance. You have witnessed, apparently on many occasions, his preoccupation with girls — all girls. You've watched him do something about it.

Are his shenanigans limited to moments when he's with you? Are they all for your benefit? To get a rise out of you?

Or is he that way when you're not around? Does he crack wise at all the girls when he's out with the boys? Or when he's alone? You can find out from other boys whether his tricks are the usual thing.

If you find out that it goes on only when you're with him, you can bet it's just teasing. Showing off his masculinity for your benefit. Trying to make you jealous. And it would be silly for you to take it serious—because he isn't serious.

If this showing off is part of his everyday behavior, it's something else again. Though he may still consider it teasing, and may not take it seriously. If he can't resist making every girl in sight aware of his presence, it's time you questioned the validity of your going steady with him.

Instead of exploding at him, quietly set about asking him why he bothers to go steady with anybody. Pin him down to explaining why he chooses one girl to date when he so obviously adores all the girls in sight.

That will give you a chance to put details of his behavior on the line. It will let him know that you don't appreciate his goings-on. It will serve warning that it's either steady going or nothing. Quietly reasoning with him might make him calm down.

Taking Gifts to Godchild Is Problem

2 Other Children in Family Complicate the Situation

By EMILY POST

A reader tells me: "My husband and I were godparents the beginning of this year for the son of friends of ours. We have been invited to spend Christmas Day at their house.

"I had planned on taking a very nice present to our godchild. These friends, however, have two other young children and my husband thinks that presents should be taken to them as well.

"He says it would be very wrong to give a present to one and ignore the others. I would very much like to know if you think three present are necessary."

Answer: While not necessary to give three presents, I think one real present for your godchild and two trifling remembrances to the other children, to show that they have not been forgotten, would be best.

"Dear Mrs. Post: Our daughter announced her engagement to a young man two years ago. Several months later the engagement was broken by mutual consent. Now our daughter plans to become engaged again and I am wondering just how to announce this second engagement.

"We are having a small dinner party to celebrate the occasion. Shall we go ahead and announce it in the newspaper again? As we are long-time residents of this town the first engagement was given prominent notice. What is best taste in a situation of this kind?"

Answer: Avoid any mention of her previous engagement and merely announce it as though it were a first engagement—Mr. and Mrs. John Jones announce the engagement of their daughter, Mary, to . . . . . etc.

"Dear Mrs. Post: I would appreciate your help on a point of etiquette that has been bothering me for some time. What is the proper way to sign a club chit or a hotel chit if one is married. Should it be signed Mrs. John Smith or Mary Smith?"

Answer: A hotel chit should be signed Mrs. John Smith. A member of a club would sign Mary Smith or even M. Smith.

Substitute This Bread for Fruitcake

O'Connor Family Prefers Date Loaf to Traditional Kind

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

Some families just don't care for fruit cake. Mrs. William O'Connor, whose family falls in that category, makes a date-nut loaf that is a favorite substitute. She wraps it first in foil, then in a towel, and says it keeps fresh for three or four weeks.

Mrs. O'Connor has two boys now and expects to hang a third stocking on the mantel this Christmas. She's a member of the Junior Chamber of Commerce Auxiliary and of St. Gertrude's Unit of her church. She dabbles a bit in painting and just loves to cook.

FRUIT NUT LOAF
By Mrs. William O'Connor

In a large bowl put:
1 package (8 ounces) pitted dates, halved
1½ cups boiling water
1 tablespoon butter or margarine
When cool add:
1 cup sugar
1 beaten egg
Sift:
2¾ cups flour
1½ teaspoons baking powder
1 teaspoon baking soda
½ teaspoon salt
Add gradually to this:
1 teaspoon vanilla
1½ tablespoons dark molasses
1 cup chopped walnuts

Bake in a greased loaf tin for 1 hour in a 325-degree oven. Let stand 24 hours before cutting. Wrap in foil and a towel to keep for several weeks.

Mrs. Lula Sargent of Woodale road was elected president of the Sunset Club when members met at Wilson School Monday. Others elected to offices at the recent meetings were Mrs. Anna Bone, vice president; Mrs. Edith Beach, secretary, and Mrs. William Holthusen, treasurer.

Marion Miller was a guest of the group and plans were made for the Christmas party Dec. 15 at Wilson School.

To Aid Flowers, Crush the Stems

You'll enjoy cut flowers longer if you follow these tips of Alyn Wayne, official stylist for the Florist's Telegraph Delivery Association:

Crush the stems with a hammer or heavy rock; this procedurue allows the flowers to draw up more water, keeping them fresh.

Strip the stems of all foliage which will be below the water line; you'll avoid an unpleasant odor and your blooms will keep longer.

Change the water often (every other day will usually suffice), unless a commercial preservative is used.

Rub Off "Bloom"

Bloom is a term used to describe the cloudy look on wood furniture caused by dampness.

To remove it, wipe the surface with a sudsy cloth and rinse with a clean damp cloth. When dry, rewax or repolish the wood.

Santa May Give Eye-popping Bathing Wear

NEW YORK (INS) — If Santa Claus will find you in the sunny South at Christmas, tell him to bring you something snappy in bathing suits.

Like an iridescent sequin-studded lace suit

Or a velvet swim suit with beaded bosom.

Or a shiny swim sheath of gold lastex.

All these and a few more eye-popping bathing suits (there's also silver lastex and nude lace) are turned out in Miami.

This is the concern which first put lace bathing suits on the market and happily learned that women will spend $30, $50 or even $70 to outshine Esther Williams, at least on land.

Built-in bras, shirred fronts and other figure aids are added. However, the idea is not to camouflage a figure but to outline it.

In these suits you can be seen during moonlight swims even if there's no moon.

Dial for Sewing

A new sewing guide is a handy four-page album that lets you "dial" up-to-date information on important phases of dressmaking. It tells what thread, needle and stitches to use on over sixty different kinds of fabrics.

No matter how much a man criticizes his wife, he never questions her choice of a husband.

New Plastic Gives Quilt-Like Effect

The latest development in adhesive-backed plastic yardage is a quilt-like imprint which gives a raised effect.

It offers many possibilities for a like-magic redecorating of bedrooms, closets, nurseries, and other "service" rooms that give the best service when decorated for easy washability.

This plastic is especially suitable for covering bed headboards and canopies, and for lining closets and closet shelves. It comes in plenty of gay colors and assorted patterns to choose from—all, of course, can be sponged clean with soap or detergent suds.

Scrape to Protect

Before tackling "dirty" housework, scrape your fingertips over a bar of soap to fill up the space between the nail and skin.

Soil won't have a chance to mar your hands with an ugly brown nail line, and the hardened soap will wash away later as you wash your hands.

New Plastic Bathtub Ideal Gift for Baby

If you're buying a gift for a new baby, here's an appealing new item: a portable plastic bathtub, sized to fit the wee one but designed exactly like the good old-fashioned tub.

It's designed with pink or blue decorations, and can be easily stored when not in use.

Mom can place it where it's most convenient so she won't have to bend way down when bathing the baby—and it's so simple to suds out when bathtime is over.

Santa and the Dumdiddy

By Lucrece Hudgins Beale

AP Newsfeatures

SYNOPSIS: Two children, Beanie and Betsy, fuss all the time. Betsy makes a clay man called a Dumdiddy. It is a present for Santa. Beanie takes the Dumdiddy and runs away from home. He meets a stranger on the road and tells him he hates Christmas.

Chapter Three

BEANIE FALLS

"You must be the only boy in the world who doesn't like Christmas," said the strange, fat man. "Don't you like getting presents?"

"Oh, yes," said Beanie. "I like the getting but I don't like the giving. Besides, my sister always gets something that I want and sometimes she gets more than I do. Last year, for instance, I counted and she got 23 toys and I got only 21."

"Dear me," said the fat man. "Christmas must be an awful time at your house if you go around counting your gifts."

"It is awful," agreed Beanie. "That's why I like my birthday best. Then everything is for me."

"OH-OH — MY HEAD!"—As Beanie ran away from the stranger, he turned his head to stick his tongue out at the stranger. As he did so he tripped over a stone and fell crashing against a tree.

* * *

For a long while the fat man said nothing. He walked along pulling at his whiskers and now and then shaking his head sadly.

Presently Beanie said, "I bet even Santa Claus likes his birthday better than Christmas. I'll bet he likes to get things better than to give them."

The fat man looked at Beanie in astonishment, "Why, Santa Claus doesn't even have a birthday!" he declared.

"Gosh," said Beanie. "That must be awful! Imagine giving all that stuff and never getting anything."

"Beanie," said the stranger sadly. "I am afraid you are a very selfish little boy." He took his notebook from his pocket and began to write in it.

Beanie was furious. "There you go!" he exclaimed. "Picking on me just like everyone else."

"I'm going to leave you now, Beanie," said the stranger, "because I have a very long journey to make. But, if you'd like, I'll take you home before I leave."

"Oh no you won't," cried Beanie. "And you won't leave me because I'm leaving you and it's too bad for you because I was just going to give you some of my nuts and raisins. Now I won't!"

And with that Beanie filled his mouth with some of the goodies from his pocket and then turned his heel and ran as fast as he could off the road and into the woods.

But, unfortunately, as he ran he turned his head to stick out his tongue at the stranger. As he did so he tripped over a stone and fell crashing against a tree.

The fat man ran after Beanie. He found him lying unconscious on the ground. The boy was pale and there was a large lump on his forehead. The stranger rubbed the bump and covered the boy with leaves to keep him warm.

As he sat beside the boy the stranger thought, "Oh, dear, I must hurry on my journey but I can't leave this boy. He is going to get in terrible trouble and he has so much to learn before he goes home again. If only there were someone I could leave to watch over him!"

Just then he saw a funny little clay man on the ground. It was the Dumdiddy that Beanie had stolen from his sister. It had dropped out of his pocket when he fell.

The stranger picked it up and peered at it through his spectacles. The poor Dumdiddy was mashed a little from being in Beanie's pocket. His nose was lopsided.

But the stranger kept staring at it and running his fingers over it and whispering to it. Finally he said out loud, "Little fellow, I want you to stay with this boy and take care of him and keep him out of trouble as best you can. Will you do that?"

Well, the little Dumdiddy was a real live Dumdiddy now and he nodded his head vigorously although this was a very hard thing to do because he had no neck.

"Sure," he said in a clayey kind of voice. "I'll do my best. But who are you anyway and who is he?"

"I am Santa Claus," said the stranger. "And he is a poor boy who has an awful lesson to learn."

(Next: Santa Leaves)

This has been one of Britain's biggest years for bee swarms and jellyfish, naturalists say. Some bee swarms have numbered 40,000 to 50,000 bees, and extra-warm seas around the coast have brought in enormous shoals of jellyfish which stung bathers.

Here's Somebody Who Really Takes the Cake

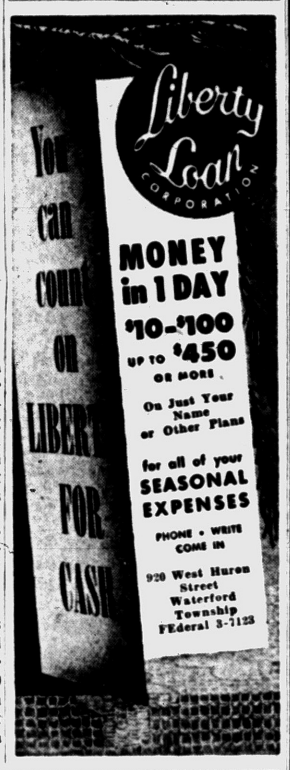

ATLANTA (AP)—An Atlanta office worker, Mrs. Ruth Johnson, was given a large slice of cake by a friend and decided to leave it beside her typewriter for consumption at the coffee break next morning.

When she came to work, the cake was gone and she was aggravated until she found this note of explanation from one of the night cleaning crew:

"i found a slice of cake on your dest. a roach wase going to to eat it but i beat him to it. Thank you mam."

Will 'Big Union' Live in Peace

New AFL-CIO Federation Leaders Deny 3rd Party

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—Leaders of the newly merged AFL-CIO pooh-pooh the idea they will try to form a labor party or capture one of the existing political parties. Nevertheless, that time may come.

Whether it happens—since the AFL and CIO, although now combined into the biggest labor organization in history, are just starting life under one tent—depends on future factors now unpredictable.

FIVE FACTORS

Among the factors are (1) whether they can stick together; (2) what changing times bring; (3) how influential they are in the political field as it now stands; (4) how well they increase their membership and can influence its political thinking; and (5) the possible personal ambitions of some of the leaders who now may have none.

* * *

Starting right away the combined AFL-CIO, claiming 15 to 16 million members, will be a far more powerful force in American politics than either separately.

Their new strength will get its first big test in the 1956 elections when and if they back one of the two candidates for president. But they will work in state and local politics too, and speak to Congress with one voice.

* * *

Some Republican politicians — particularly Sen. Goldwater of Arizona—seem to have misgivings about labor's support nextx year. The AFL and CIO backed Adlai Stevenson in 1952. Goldwater said Sunday the AFL-CIO "had no right" to endorse a presidential candidate in 1956.

WEAKEST SPOT

President Eisenhower, who beat Stevenson in 1952, said in saluting the AFL-CIO yesterday that labor organizations have a legitimate interest in politics. But he cautioned they should be sure they "accurately reflected" the thinking of "minorities holding differing social, economic and political views."

The weakest spot in labor's political front—from the standpoint of its ability to use its utmost strength—is that the union leaders cannot order their members how to vote.

But the AFL-CIO isn't going to spend all its energies directly in politics in the years immediately ahead.

It will try to organize millions of workers not now in unions. The bigger the AFL-CIO, the more potent its political weight.

Until they get a lot bigger than they are now—and test their power with the two present political powers—the leaders of the AFL-CIO are not likely to try for a labor party.

Franklin D. Roosevelt, with more than 12 years in office, had the longest presidential administration. William Henry Harrison, who served one month, had the shortest.

U.S. Couple Free From Red China

HONG KONG (AP) — Another American couple, Louis Henkel and his wife Louise arrived aboard the steamship Soudan from Communist China today. It was his 69th birthday.

Henkel and his 70-year-old wife are en route to join their son Victor at his home in Sandy Hook, Conn. The Henkels looked very fit on their arrival.

Henkel has been a trader in hides and skins in China since 1906. Mrs. Henkel is a native of Bremen, Ill.

The Red government granted the couple exit permits Oct. 12 but they waited to catch a ship. Henkel said he and his wife had been living comfortably in the Shanghai apartment they had occupied for 20 years.

Strike Grand Haven Firm

GRAND HAVEN (AP) — Nearly 200 members of AFL United Auto Workers Local 677 went on strike Monday over a new contract and grievances dispute at the Challenge Machinery Co. The firm manufactres equipment for the printing industry.

Iowa is the leading beef cattle state with an average of 82 head per square mile.

Seek Bond Issue Change to Increase Sales Chance

The City Commission heard the first reading last night of a proposed amendment to the adopted $600,000 municipal parking ordinance which, if passed, would move the redemption call-up date for the bonds to 1961.

On Nov. 22, the City Commission unanimously adopted the ordinance which placed a date of 1959 and a payment of $25 per thousand if the bonds were called to be redeemed.

Bond Attorney Claude H. Stevens suggested to the commissioners that a new date of January, 1961 and a payment of $50 per thousand be amended to the ordinance because of "the bond market being flooded with school bonds which would make bids on the parking bonds very doubtful."

City Manager Walter K. Willman said the proposed amendment would not interfere with the issue going to the State Municipal Finance Commission for possible approval.

"It will go in as amended if the commissioners give it the final approval at the next meeting," he said.

The City Commission is slated to hear the final reading on the amendment at their next meeting scheduled for Dec. 13.

On the same issue, City Clerk Ada R. Evans read a notice of intent to circulate referendum petitions bearing 171 signatures.

Late last week, a group of citizens began circulating petitions in opposition to the ordinance because of its financial "magnitude."

Undecided at that time whether they would submit the petitions requesting a public vote, the petitioners must if they decide to do so, sumbit the required signatures by Dec. 28.

Keaton Still Critical

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Comedian Buster Keaton, 60, remained in critical condition today with a rupture of the abdomen. He was stricken Saturday night. Officials at Wadsworth Veterans Administration Hospital said he came out of a coma for "several hours" yesterday.

Music Soothes the Savage Beast

Introducing Children to Instruments in Early Years Benefits All Concerned

Confucius called music "the key to harmonious living." Plato backed up a hundred per cent. Shakespeare backed them both up: "Music soothes the savage beasts."

* * *

If you have no savage beasts around, it also works wonders for kids. With this kind of an endorsement, most homeowners should at least give it a try.

The American Music Conference recommends musical instruments as a cure-all to personality problems. It claims:

1. A solo instrument, such as a violin, accordion or flute, will help a shy child gain self confidence. He can conquer bashfulness and gain poise by performing before others.

* * *

2. An unruly boy can also be helped through the gift of a musical instrument. A band instrument will start him along the road to learning and accepting discipline.

* * *

3. Even the lonely child can find aid and comfort from a musical "friend." The gift of an ensemble instrument such as a trumpet or clarinet will lead him into a social atmosphere requiring group interest and participation.

* * *

4. Listlessness can be overcome by inspiring interest in an instrument such as a guitar or a ukulele. Success with any instrument demands concentration.

* * *

Musicians warn that appropriate musical instruments depend largely on a child's age. A five-year-old, for example, can understand and play the simple melody or rhythm instruments.

WATCH OUT FOR WINDS

Wind instruments, however, should be put aside until the child's second teeth come in. Mouth formation might be harmed before then. A frail child should not be given an instrument such as the saxophone when he's young. Most wind instruments require a hearty physique.

THE MOST JOYFUL SPIRIT—Christmas is celebrated with music. This time it's a home organ — an instrument with orchestral effects built in. There are chimes, harps, bells. It's enough to make anyone want to take music lessons.

The "awkward age" — adolescence — can be made a lot less awkward if the teener can learn to play a guitar or a ukulele. Any teen-ager can be the life of the party — like all the ads say — once he's picked up a knowledge of an instrument.

Elderly persons can also enjoy music. A recorder or a banjo might be just the instrument to start an older pseron on an interesting hobby. Easy to play, these are relatively inexpensive.

PLAY AN ORGAN

All members of the family enjoy certain instruments such as the piano or an electronic home organ. One manufacturer, explains the home organ's popularity this way:

"For many people who show no great musical genius, this kind of organ covers up choppy playing. The notes continue to speak until the keys are released and the next note is depressed.

* * *

"It's lots of fun and hardly anybody can detect a beginner after a few lessons."

ASHDOWN, Ark. (AP) — L. C. Coffee, 16, was killed when he was hit by a truck, but an infant he was carrying in his arms escaped without a scratch. The impact jarred the baby from his arms.

Kavanagh Gives OK to Millington Election

LANSING (AP)—Atty. Gen. Thomas M. Kavanagh holds that the April 4 election in Millington Township, Tuscola County, was valid.

Kavanagh issued the opinion in answer to a question from Sec. of State James M. Hare. Hare said that the township failed to give proper notice of the Republican caucus preceding the election of township officers. He said it was announced simply as a "township caucus" without reference to the party.

The attorney general held that there is no provision in the general election laws which would have invalidated the election for such an error.

Kavanagh said he based his opinion primarily on the fact that the voters have spoken and there is no showing of any prejudice, fraud or error that would have misled them.

Reject Bond Issue

FRANKFORT (AP) — Property owners Monday defeated a proposed $75,000 bond issue to construct a library and civic center building by a vote of 241 to 84. Library facilities have been housed in makeshift quarters at city hall since the old library was razed several years ago.

Tax Cut Seen as Necessary

Economic Group Urges High and Middle Payers Should Be First

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Committee for Economic Development said today individual income tax rates should get "first priority" in any tax reduction permitted by a balanced federal budget.

* * *

While all income tax rates should be cut next year, the CED said in a tax policy report, "a relatively greater percentage reduction . . . should be made in the middle and upper brackets where extremely high rates are seriously interfering with the incentive to take risks and with the supply and mobility of investment funds."

NON-PROFIT UNIT

The CED is a nonprofit economic research and education organization with headquarters in New York.

If the federal budget situation permits, the CED said, there should be some reduction also in corporate income and excise or sales tax rates.

* * *

Predicating its tax suggestions on a balanced federal budget, the CED assumed that taxes can safely be cut by three to four billion dollars next year, "although the actual figure may turn out to be more or less than this."

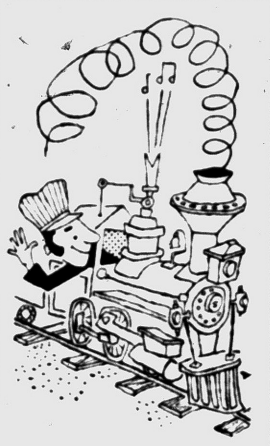

The Budget Bureau estimated last August there would be a $1,700,000,000 deficit in the current fiscal year which ends next June 30. But last month Budget Director Rowland Hughes said it looks now as though the budget can be balanced both in this and the next fiscal year. However, he declined to predict whether balancing the budget would mean a tax cut.

* * *

Even if a "relatively greater percentage reduction" in income tax is made in the middle and upper brackets, the CED said, "in absolute amounts the savings will go largely to taxpayers in the lower brackets because of the larger number of people affected."

Discussing Retarded

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — School officals of Kent, Ottawa, Newaygo, Oceana, Muskegon, Mecosta, Osceola and Lake Counties are scheduled to meet today in the Kent County school superintendent's office to discuss the care of mentally retarded children, certification of teachers, bus transportation and speed control in rural school zones.

The year 1843 saw the County's first railroad, the Detroit and Pontiac, reach Pontiac from Detroit, resolving a difficult transportation problem according to the Oakland County Planning Commission.

Paper Reveals Peron's Request to Enter Mexico

MEXICO CITY (INS)—A Mexico City newspaper has published what it said was a photographic copy of an application to enter Mexico made by ousted Argentine dictator Juan Peron.

The newspaper Novedades said Peron's application requested authorization to enter Mexico as a "tourist" for the purpose of visiting his "many friends".

The paper said the application was sent by Peron, now residing in Panama since his forced exile from Argentina, to Rafael Fuentes, the Mexican ambassador in Panama.

Lakes Steel Hauling Reaches New Record

CLEVELAND (AP) — With a few cargoes still to be hauled, the Great Lakes fleet already has established a peacetime record in water movement of iron ore, the Lake Superior Iron Ore Association reports.

The freighters have transported a total of 87,419,645 tons of the red dirt down the lakes for the nation's blast furnaces. That figure is about 4 million tons above the previous peacetime mark set in 1950 and compares with the all-time record of 96 million tons in the Korean War year of 1953.

Although hostilities in Korea started in mid-1950, the steel industry does not consider it a war year productionwise because it did not gear to a war pace until 1951.

The lake fleet last week, despite bad weather conditions, hauled 334,421 tons of ore from the upper lakes.

Admit Looting, Thefts

DON'T SUFFER FROM ARTHRITIS—

Read What O-Jib-Wa Bitters Did For Me, And Can Do For You

Mr. Glen B. Church
1404 S. 17th Avenue
Saginaw, Michigan

"I want to tell you my experience exactly like it happened. My arms and shoulders were so crippled up with arthritis and rheumatism that I couldn't take my coat off by myself. My left arm and side was even worse, as lifting my knife fork, or even Mr. G. Church holding the evening paper up to read, caused vicious plain. My feet would swell up when I walked too, and I had to take my shoes off for relief. Many times I thought I would have to quit working because of all this, but somehow, I managed to keep going. I took treatments, but they didn't seem to help any, so I was becoming quite discouraged. I often heard men at work tell how O-JIB-WA BITTERS had helped them, but I never got around to trying it myself, until one night, I read a testimonial in the newspaper that convinced me that I should give it a try. Right then and there, I decided to see if O-JIB-WA BITTERS would help me. I was half way through my second bottle, when I knew it was really bringing results. The pains stopped and the stiffness started to leave. It made me feel about 10 years younger. I am no longer bothered with arthritis in my neck, shoulders or arms, and my feet haven't swollen up since I began taking this great medicine. I have several friends that used to miss a day or two of work about every week, because of arthritis, but the ones who have taken O-JIB-WA BITTERS haven't been missing a day since. My son was laid up with arthritis in his legs. He took two bottles of your Bitters ,and before he had the first one finished, he was up, back to work, and hasn't complained since. My mother in laws used it also, with the same success. When I find something like this wonderful product, I like to tell other people about it. So, why suffer . . . Look at what O-JIB-WA BITTERS did for me. I'm sure it will help anyone who is willing to give it a fair trial."

New Lightweight Lathe Can Be Child-Operated

CINCINNATI (AP) — A lathe so light and safe a child can operate it has been developed here.

It weighs 16 pounds, is 27 inches long, nine inches high, seven inches wide, and has a one-thirty-fifth horse power electric motor which is encased inside the lathe.

It does not have gears or belts and can be stopped with the fingers without injury, according to the manufacturer. Yet it is said to possess sufficient "turning torque" to perform a good power job of cutting wood, plastics and aluminum.

In 1942 only 22 oil refineries were producing 100-octane gasoline or its components. Now there are more than 100 plants in the U.S. producing this fuel.

Bob Considine Says:

Where Were YOU on 7th of December, '41?

NEW YORK (INS)—People . . . places . . . things . . .

And where were YOU when the Japanese bombed Pearl Harbor 14 years ago?

• • •

We have since learned where the Japanese bombing pilots were before the strike. They were steaming south and east through generally fine weather the day before and they knew they had nothing to fear. They were listening to a football broadcast from Honolulu, where all obviously was blissful ignorance.

I was covering a football game at the Polo Grounds between the New York Giants and Ace Parker, a great player handicapped by a bad heel, and the rest of the Brooklyn Dodgers grid team. I sat next to Jack Singer. "Those Japs must be nuts," he said.

Singer of the Journal-American and INS was to become one of the first, if not the first, U. S. war correspondent killed in the Pacific. He went down with the torpedoed carrier USS Wasp a day or two after filing one of the war's most dramatic eye-witness stories.

His participation on a low level torpedo plane attack on a Jap carrier. His description of the sheet of flame that spewed from the side of the stricken Jap ship, as his torpedo struck, prompted him to write a line that was typical of his flair. Jack wrote:

"That's ONE fire LaGuardia won't attend!"

RIPLEY TRADITION

Douglas Storer, president of "Ripley's Believe It or Not," is carrying on in the lofty and imaginative tradition of the late great Robert L., whose ever-growing cartoon is read throughout the free world.

Storer's Christmas cards this year are being sent from Santa's home town—Demre, Turkey. There more than 1600 years ago, Saint Nicholas (which became San Neekolas, which became Sanne Klas, which became Santa Claus) was born and reared.

He became bishop of the ancient seaport of Myra and was known for his gifts, many of them made by his own hand. (He is also the patron saint of sailors, merchants (small wonder) and children (smaller wonder.)

The republic of Turkey, at Storer's request, has issued a special stamp for the occasion. But collectors who are not on Storer's mailing list will have to buy the stamp at the official post office, Antalya, Turkey.

Last year's Christmas card from Storer came from Cap Haitien, Haiti, where Columbus celebrated the first Christmas in the new world. The special Haitian stamp for that one featured a reproduction of an actual drawing by Chris of Ft. Navidad, built from the remains of the wrecked Santa Maria.

MUSCLES IN THE AIR

Any idea how the muscles of our air power have increased since World War II? One B52, flying at about the speed of sound, can now carry a bomb that has more destructive power than all the bombers of World War II were able to drop during the entire war!

• • •

When we went into the Korean War the production of military planes came to 215 a month, less than the 1940 rate. Congress made one of those agonized reappraisals and okayed a 58-wing air Force.

We're headed for 137 wings now, each plane of each of these wings being much more potent than whole wings and armadas only a few years back.

We thought we had reached the ultimate in engine perfection when at the end of World War II we produced a 3,000-horsepower job that weighed only 1½ pounds per horsepower. We now have jets which produce the equivalent of 25,000 horsepower at the rate of 1 horse per 4 ounces.

As for passenger travel, the Pearl Harbor era plane weighed 10 tons and carried 21 passengers at 170 miles an hour. Tomorrow jets will weigh 10 times that, speed close to 600 miles an hour, fly oceans easily, carry 100 passengers for less money.

The Saar—Cradle of Nazi Revival

Brownshirt Goon Squad Pressures Return

(This is the third of four articles reporting the results of an INS survey in the Saar territory, tiny European trouble spot where Nazism threatens to rise again.)

By PIERRE J. HUSS

(Copyright 1955 By INS)

SAARBRUECKEN, Saar (INS)—Anyone familiar with the secret "fixing" of Adolf Hitler's elections can draw a parallel today in the approach used by graduates of that Swastika era in the Saar parliamentary election campaign.

* * *

There is no "Nazi Party" and the surface trappings of those days are absent, along with the organized terror machine of the dark uniformed SS and brownshirt SA.

However, there is the hard core of ex-Nazi. And in many approaches of the coming election, the "brain trust" of this Nazi core has taken a leaf out of the strongarm methods used by the Hitler goon squads.

The strategy of the Nazi core is to make sure that the Saar people are going to elect pro-German deputies Dec 18—or else . . .

PHYSICAL THREATS

The three pro-German parties commonly bound together now as the "Heimat Bund" are spreading the word throughout the Saar that there will be "reckoning" and a shakeup or purge in all phases of government and life after Dec. 18.

Attendance of election rallies sponsored by any political parties expect those of the Nazi core is negligible. There is the justifiable fear that physical retribution will overtake anyone nowadays associating himself too openly with such "traitors" and "separationists.

A "whispering terror" is being pushed by the Nazi core commandos in schools, market places, business organizations, in family circles and in community gatherings.

'THE REICH'

Recruiting for this underground machine and its financing is the dark secret of the Nazi core leaders. Now the hard Nazi core is making "The Reich" its password and signal that one is a member of "the movement" favoring return to Germany.

In the last few days, the jackboot and black SS breaches have suddenly made their reappearance in Saarland streets. There is no law against it, although in the past years it has been tacitly the "verboten" thing to haul them out of the attic and walk down the avenue.

This is just another warning to Saarlanders that "victory" and the "reawakening" are coming Dec. 18.

Socialist Leader Richard Kirn received a letter signed "German Executive Committee" accusing him of having "betrayed the Fatherland" and that consequently he will be ejected forcefully from the Saar if he does not shortly leave of his own accord.

'YOU SWINE'

Anonymous phone calls to him go like this: "Der Dickie (the Nazi core label from former Premier Hoffmann) has been kicked out. You will be kicked out too, you swine."

The signature "Executive Committee" can mean in the German sense the "Execution Committee."

A butcher who had paid so much in forced contributions to the pro-German groups that his books were in the red, and then stubbornly refused further contributions, lost 50 per cent of his clientele in two weeks.

By the time Dec 18 rolls around, he will be out of business unless he has paid through the nose beforehand.

When the Nazi core newspaper "Dei Allgemeine Zeitung" started publication three months ago, solicitors went from door to door with copies. They gave these away but when told by housewives that other papers they subcribed to were sufficient, the solicitors gave this significant reply:

BROOKS NO DEFENSE

"Well, never mind the other subscription. We will leave this paper with you and you can send us your subscription in a few days."

The tone of that solicitor brooked no argument. The circluation of the new sheet paced upward and is still going up in view of the coming election.

"Marked" householders have found their pet cats poisoned.

It would be simpler and speedier for the Nazi core to come out into the open and send its commandos flying throughout the Saar in a public drive for votes. However this might give the French—who still have the authority—the pretext to crack down and intervene in the name of public law and order.

PARENTS BEATEN

In Saar mining villages, boys whose parents were known to have been sympathetic to Europeanization were attacked and beaten up. Children came home in tears from school after fingerpointing and shrieking of "treason child" at them.

Instances have also come to light where teachers read the riot act to children in front of the class because their parents were marked down as having voted for the European Statute.

But an important part of the Nazi core attack has been upon the French elements, particularly the lavish embassy in Saarbruecken.

Lately the French have discovered and warned visitors to the embassy building that the Nazi core group has posted at vantage points in the vicinity photographers equipped with powerful telephoto lenses. They photographed the Saarland visitors, and send the luckless victim a copy as a silent warning.

FORCED FIRING

Many French officals or businessmen-bankers, mining executives — living in Saarbruecken are easily identifiable by their French license plates. Open violence and vandalism against their cars is the order of the day.

A notorious Nazi method of dealing with the situation is evident in the summary firing of the general manager of the Saarbruecken Radio Corporation, Professor Helmuth Georgens. This man, who managed to survive persecution by Hitler consecutively in the Saar, Austria and Czechoslovakia, ran Saarbruecken radio impartially.

But the monment the referendum for a European Statute lost out, Gergens was fired by telephone and warned not even to come to the office to pick up his personal papers. He was besmeared as an anti-German and now has no choice but to leave the Saar.

(Tomorrow: The Saar Threat to Western Unity.)

Mail early. The earlier gifts and cards are mailed, the more the post office's work load is spread out, ensuring better delivery.

Hurt in Freak Mishap

WILMINGTON, Calif (AP)—Donald Troncosta, 15, found an unexploded .22-caliber cartridge, poked it into a tree trunk, backed away and started shooting at it with his air rifle. He hit it, but the bullet nicked him between the eyes. Doctors who closed the wound with two stitches observed that if it had been a fraction of an inch either way he might have been blinded in one eye.

FOR THE LADY — Lighters are a tradition at Yuletide. Part jewelry, part appliance, they combine beauty and utility. A monogram adds the personal touch. This one's blue enamel with white cherubs to point up the grace.

Things Really Buzz as Highway Gets Hives

CEDAR CITY, Utah (AP)—Things really buzzed on a highway north of here yesterday as U.S. 91 got the hives.

It all happened when a truck loaded with beehives — including the bees—struck a road divider and overturned during a snowstorm 35 miles from Cedar City. Truck driver Francis Griffith, 23, Belgrade, Mont., was not hurt and highway patrolman Gordon Farnsworth said nobody got stung.

Most Worry Warts Victims of 'Bruxism'

NEW YORK (AP) — Are you afflicted with bruxism?

A leading dental authority says most of us are. He described the affliction as an unconscious grinding and clenching of the teeth.

Dr. Thomas E. J. Shanahan, Brooklyn dentist, told the Greater New York dental meeting yesterday that nervous tension brings on bruxism. He said the affliction goes on to produce more worries, including loosening of the teeth and gum infections.

The dentist says the condition, which often is accompanied by teeth clicking sounds irritating to others, is on the increase. He blamed fatigue and inadequate recreation as factors contributing to tensions that produce bruxism.

Dr. Shanahan suggested "letting the lower jaw hang slack in repose, with lips closed, between meals, often helps the patient overcome the habit."

A Land of Plenty

IRVING, Tex. (AP)—Yeggs couldn't crack the safe at an automobile firm's office. So they stole one of the company's new trucks to haul it away. The truck and safe were recovered—but not the $5,000 in cash and checks the safe contained.

Westinghouse, Union to Meet

Negotiations for Settling Shutdowns at Firm's 30 Plants Resumed

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Westinghouse Electric Corp. and the AFL-CIO International Union of Electrical Workers decided to make another effort today to settle the union's 53-day strike at 30 Westinghouse plants across the nation.

Negotiations recessed yesterday with no report of progress toward settlement of the strike by 44,000 IUE members.

The company and union issued conflicting reports about the number of strikers returning to work at certain plants.

At a Columbus, Ohio, plant the company reported 918 of the 4,300 workers had gone back to their jobs but the union said only 150 had returned.

At a Baltimore, Md., plant the company said 62 of some 400 strikers returned to work but the union said there were only 25.

Meanwhile, Westinghouse took court action in two states to try to obtain orders against mass picketing.

The union wants a one-year contract with a 15-cent-an-hour wage increase. The company offered a five-year contract which it said provided an average 23½ cents an hour wage increase over the five-year period, but the union rejected it.

Workers now earn an average of $2.10 an hour.

Speed Limit Signs Discussed by City

The feasibility of installing middle-of-the road school zone speed limit signs in the city, was discussed at last night's City Commission meeting.

The recommendation was advanced by Commissioner Philip E. Rowston (District 2) who said he had noticed the effectiveness of these signs while in Miami attending the four-day American Municipal Congress.

He said he was more interested in the safety behind the signs rather than the economy of the purchase. "I noticed in some of the cities the signs were paid for by popular national products," he said.

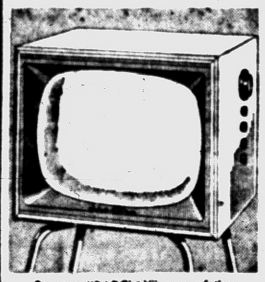

The matter was referred to the City Traffic Engineer for study.

Can You Recognize a Dope Addict?

Michigan -- Fourth Largest Narcotics User

By ROGER D. GREENE

WASHINGTON (AP)—Ancient clay tablets unearthed in the desert sands of Mesopotamia disclose that man was a victim of drugs, the insidious, habit-forming juice of the poppy, more than 7,000 years ago.

Ninety years ago, a survey turned up 116 addicts in the town of Adrian, Mich., or 1 in 100 of the town's population. Ten years later, a survey of the state of Michigan snowed that 1 in 166 residents was an addict.

Around the turn of the century, American mothers bought 750,000 bottles of opium-spiked soothing syrup a year to quiet their babies. One of every 400 Americans was an addict—four times as many women as men.

OVER THE COUNTER

Narcotics were sold over the counter as freely as lemon drops or epsom salts. Except for local ordinances, the use of drugs was entirely legal in this country throughout the 19th century.

It was not until 1909 that Congress finally took alarm at the ugly growth of drug addiction and passed a law banning the importation of morphine or coca leaves—the raw material for cocaine—except for medical purposes. When the more stringent Harrison Narcotics Act was passed in 1914, there were 200,000 addicts in the United States.

HOW MANY OW?

How many are there now?

No one knows, for sure. Federal and state authorities are far apart, with estimates ranging all the way from less than 100,000 to more than a million. Now men addicts outnumber women nearly 4-1. Roughly 25,000 persons are arrested every year for narcotics violation.

Commissioner Harry J. Anslinger of the Federal Narcotics Bureau says reports gathered by his agency in a continuing study put the nationwide total at about 60,000 addicts.

MICHIGAN IS FOURTH

But in 1951, the Mayor's Committee on Narcotics said there were 90,000 addicts in New York City alone. Ohio's attorney general, William O'Neill, says his state has 15,000. California's attorney general, Edmund C. Brown, puts the total there at 20,000. By contrast, the Federal Narcotics Bureau shows 2,350 addicts in California as of last April 30. Yet Los Angeles alone reported 12,461 narcotics arrests in 1953-54.

The government figures for early this year list the 10 "worst cities" for addiction as New York, Chicago, Los Angeles, Detroit, Cleveland, Washington, D. C., San Francisco, Cincinnati, St. Louis and San Antonio, Tex. The "worst States" are New York, Illinois, California, Michigan, District of Columbia, Ohio, Texas, Missouri, New Jersey and Pennsylvania.

ALL TIME HIGH

There is also conflict between the federal bureau and the states on juvenile addiction. Anslinger says it hit its peak in 1951 and has been declining, but "the fact that any at all exists is shocking."

New York's attorney general, Jacob K. Javits, countered in testimony before a Senate Narcotics subcommittee:

"Narcotics addiction among teen-age boys and girls is at an all-time high . . . From 1953 to 1954 arrests of persons under 21 jumped 30 per cent in New York City." He added that addiction throughout the United States has "spurted above the so-called epidemic year of 1951 and appears to be on a steady rise."

Anslinger says narcotics bureau figures put known addicts under 21 years old at 13.1 per cent of the national total.

"Some youngsters try drugs for a thrill," Anslinger says. "Despite all warnings, they believe they can take dope and then give it up when they please—only to discover too late that their curiosity has led them to utter ruin."

Anslinger has a staff of 253 field agents across the country—"about the size of the police force in Akron, Ohio." He calls it a "thin line of defense," but says that with twice that many "we could do a bang-up job."

Most big cities now have police narcotics squads, usually working closely with the federals. New York has 200 in its dope division, Chicago 94, Los Angeles 77.

Authorities know well that drug addiction and crime go hand in hand, as addicts steal to get money to buy drugs, or stage other crimes while hopped-up with false courage.

Anslinger pointed to an upsurge in addiction in Richmond, Va., which coincided with a 600 per cent increase in crime.

"After we cleaned out the drug peddlers, crime went down to normal," he said.

How can you spot a drug addict?

"For one thing," says Anslinger, "they have a peculiar shuffle when they walk. And their eyes have a frozen stare with a pinpoint pupil when they're on a jag. They freeze on whatever they're looking at, as though they were in a dream.

"They don't care about eating. When they do, they just eat sweets. They're never clean, always shabbily dressed. I've never seen a clean one yet. And—Lord knows why, but they always have a lot of old papers stuck in their pockets.

"My agents can spot 'em a mile off."

THEY GET HOOKED

How long does it take to get "hooked" by the narcotics habit? Three days to two weeks, according to experts. The Federal Narcotics Bureau, in a pamphlet entitled "The Truth About Drug Addiction," adds this warning:

"The idea that an addict takes dope just to feel good is a mistake. He takes it to head off, for a little while the horrible effects which he feels when he doesn't have the drug."

Similarly, the U.S. Army "Handbook on Narcotics," declares:

"There is no known cure for drug addiction. Death is the only sure release from the living hell into which an individual commits himself when, for a momentary thrill, he takes 'just one shot.'"

Gas Mileage goes up AGAIN

And so does the thrill - with Buick's new Variable Pitch Dynaflow!*

WITH ALL the big excitement of Buick's 1956 styling and power and ride and handling – it's easy to overlook this fact:

Gas mileage in the '56 Buicks takes a big step upward.

One reason, of course, is the new power plant itself.

Every new Buick cradles an advanced 322-cubic-inch V8 engine with the highest horsepowers, Series for Series, in all Buick history. Yet every engine delivers more efficiency, and more usable power to the rear wheels—because each one has a new double "Y" manifolding, and a new high in compression ratio.

But the major reason for the happy news in gas mileage—and for the new step-up in safety and thrills—is Buick's latest version of Variable Pitch Dynaflow.

In this airplane-principled transmission, you always had a gas-saving cruising range—and, at a switch of the pitch, a full-power getaway range.

Now Buick engineers have brought to this cruising range what they call "double regeneration." It simply means a new way to make flowing oil add to its own velocity to build up driving force.

So now, you merely nudge the pedal to part throttle and get new breakaway getaway. And since you get this quicker, safer response in your normal cruising range—where you don't use full power—you get plenty more miles from every tankful of gas.

But when you do need sudden safety-surge for emergencies, you just floor the pedal to switch the pitch. Instantly, you're at full-power acceleration—and it's the most thrilling safety measure in the land.

How about coming in to try the most modern transmission yet?

The absolute smoothness of this new Dynaflow is worth a visit in itself. So you can be sure you're in for a wealth of wonderful surprises—for that's just the start of the best Buick yet. Can you make it this week?

*New Advanced Variable Pitch Dynaflow is the only Dynaflow Buick builds today. It is standard on Roadmaster, Super and Century—optional at modest extra cost on the Special.

Get 4-Season Comfort in your new Buick with FRIGIDAIRE CONDITIONING —now at a new low price

Cub-Dodger Deal Has Rival Pilots Muttering

CHICAGO (AP) — Rival National League managers were chagrined and embittered over the trade between Chicago and Brooklyn that sent hard-hitting third baseman Ransom Jackson to the world champion Dodgers for reserve third sacker Don Hoak and spare outfielder Walter Moryn.

The transaction announced last night, caused eyebrow-raising among baseball people who were almost unanimous in the belief that the Dodgers got much the better of the deal. One NL manager, expressing surprise that the Cubs would consent to such a deal, growled:

* * *

"Those Dodgers were going to be tough enough to beat as it was. But who's going to stop them now? Last year they had seven men in the lineup who could hit the ball out of the park at any given time. Now they've got eight. And with Don Newcombe on the mound, they have nine."

It was the only major swap completed at the big league meetings which ended yesterday but several others are hanging fire and may be consummated before long.

* * *

The proposed 15-player deal between Washington and New York involving southpaw Mickey McDermott's transfer to New York hit a snag when General Manager George Weiss of the Yankees refused to include three of his prize youngsters—second baseman Bobby Richardson, shortstop Jerry Lumpe and outfielder Norm Sieburn. Bill DeWitt, assistant to Weiss, said the multiple deal was "left hanging," but Charlie Dressen, Senators' manager, insisted the trade was still "hot."

* * *

The big three-way deal among Chicago, Cleveland and Baltimore also reached an impasse when Manager Paul Richards refused to let the Indians have catcher Hal Smith. According to the report, the Orioles were to deal off Smith and pitcher Jim Wilson, the Indians were to contribute shortstop George Strickland and pitcher Art Houtteman and the White Sox were to throw six players into the pool, including first baseman Walter Dropo, outfielder Bob Nieman, catcher Earl Battey and pitcher Sandy Consuegra. The Sox were to get Wilson and Houtteman, Cleveland was to get Smith and Baltimore was to get Nieman and Dropo.

* * *

Negotiations between the Cardinals and New York Giants involving Red Schoendienst's transfer to the Giants were halted abruptly when Chuck Feeney, New York vice-president was forced to leave for New York because of illness in his family. General Manager Frank Lane of the Cards was still hopeful of swinging a deal with Philadelphia. He is seeking either outfielder Del Ennis or catcher-first baseman Stan Lopata.

* * *

In landing Jackson, the Dodgers obtained a strong right-handed hitter who is ideally suited for Ebbets Field. Jackson, since coming to Chicago late in 1950, has hit 87 home runs, including 21 last season. The 29-year-old former football, basketball and baseball star at the University of Texas, batted .265 in 1955 but he drove in 70 runs in 138 games and slammed 13 doubles and 7 triples besides his batch of four-baggers.

Bavasi summed up the pull hitter's talents by saying, "he'll hit some home runs for us, especially at Ebbets Field."

* * *

The Cubs obviously sacrificing power for speed, believe Hoak will provide the spark the Cubs have lacked for so many years. The hustling 27-year-old third baseman is the aggressive type who makes up for his lack of power with speed, a strong arm and a keen desire to excel. He batted only .240 in 94 games last season, hit 5 home runs and drove in a mere 19 runs but he scored 50 times and reached base often, either on bases on balls or base hits.

A Few Signs—as Winter Nears

By GRANTLAND RICE

There's a north wind faintly calling, as the first dead leaves are falling.
Of a stretch of wooded country and our camp smoke, thin and blue;
And it speaks of quiet places, league on league from pallid faces,
Where the underbrush is silent till the big moose crashes through.

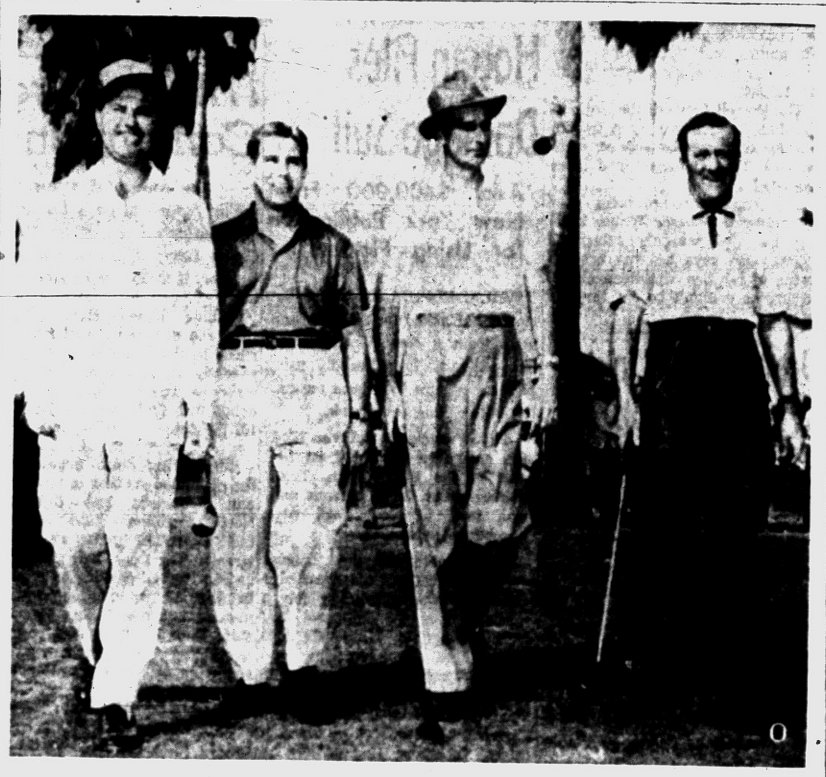

All my life gray fate has found me with the dizzy crowds around me,
Through the stadiums and subways ever wearily I tramp.
But when north winds come to woo me there's a call that whispers to me
Of a solitude that beckons to the glory of the camp.

And at times along the low bank, far beneath the mountain's snow bank,
There are trout scales from a breakfast that no chef might ever know;
With the scent of bacon frying and the first ducks southward flying
From the bitter snarl of winter to a softer land below.

And though desk and den may bind me, in my dreams at least you'll find me.
Where the far pines bend and whisper and the moss and lichen grow.

And perhaps I'll slip the tether, with a few good mates together,
Who will let the old world amble any way it wants to go.

Coaches Study Pictures While Players Work on Semester Exams

EAST LANSING (AP) — Light physical exercise and some heavy mental work is keeping the Michigan State football team busy this week.

The 44 players making the Rose Bowl trip have been issued workout clothes with orders to keep in shape until the 1st pre-bowl practice scheduled for next week.

Handball, basketball and track are some of the favorites for team members.

Meanwhile, the players are busy with fall term exams starting today. Even if a player should flunk the exams, he still would be eligible for the Rose Bowl game against UCLA.

The work would have to be made up, however, before he could come out for spring practice.

Coaches have been busy studying two UCLA movies — games with Stanford and Southern California—and have been mapping preliminary offensive and defensive strategy.

The 1st meeting of the traveling squad has been set for Friday. Plans for three home practices will be mapped at that time.

Meanwhile, it has been announced that State will wear its "home" uniform in the Rose Bowl game—white pants and green helmets and jerseys.

Student ticket sales, it was announced, have hit a new high for a Big Ten team in a Rose Bowl game with 4,452 undergrads buying tickets.

Some 2,600 students—another record—have signed up for special trains. Others will drive, fly or hitchhike to the coast.

Six trains have been lined up for the student trek. A seventh train will take the band, cheer leaders and football players not on the travelling squad.

Other special trains are planned with at least two being lined up to leave from Lansing.

Athletics Sever Class B Farm Tie

KANSAS CITY (AP)—The Kansas City Athletics now haven't a farm club to their name.

The A's severed their last ownership tie with minor league baseball clubs yesterday by relinquishing their franchise at Lancaster, Pa., of the Class B Piedmont League.

The move leaves the American League club with only working agreements with seven minor league clubs.

Dales Rally to Win

HILLSDALE (AP) — Hillsdale College rallied in the final six minutes and overcame an 11-point deficit to hand Kalamazoo College its 1st basketball loss of the season last night, 61-58.

Hillsdale guard Al Schaffer and Dave Moran, Kalamazoo forward, shared scoring honors in the MIAA battle, collecting 13 points each.

Better to Be Safe

Gridders Lean Toward Use of Safety Devices

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

"It's better to be safe than sorry" — especially where your teeth are concerned — seems to be the belief of 1955 football players.

* * *

More and more they are taking to wearing protective devices, ranging from simple curved bars to big transparent plastic affairs that almost cover the face, attached to their helmets. They may look like grotesque gargoyles instead of humans in photographs, but at least they can wear their own teeth when they go calling on the girl friend Saturday night.

A marked increase in the use of such devices was observed this year by 133 of 149 sports writers and broadcasters replying to The Associated Press post-season questionnaire. Only seven said there was no increase.

* * *

The face guards were the subject of considerable controversy among coaches, rules-makers and sports goods manufacturers a few years ago. Apparently they now have been improved, along with other protective equipment, so they don't interfere with vision or breathing and aren't likely to break and cause injuries.

But some observers still class them as dangerous weapons. "The players must wear them in self defense, since everybody else does, but they're wicked weapons," said one. Several others subscribed to the self defense theory and some maintained that they have become necessary because of an increase in rough play.

* * *

Many coaches now require their players to wear the devices, but from Ithaca, N.Y., Ken Van Sickle relayed vigorous objections from Cornell Coach Lefty James and Trainer Frank Kavanagh, who have made some careful studies of protective equipment.

"They are firm in the belief that plastic helmets and face masks are used as weapons and should be abolished," he said. "They are loading up shoulder pads with too much fiber. Soft material should be placed on the outside of all hard shell material to protect the other guy."

Independents, Phil's Victors

Down Louie's, Trojans in Class B City Cage Play at Jefferson

Class B basketball activity in Pontiac's city leagues started Tuesday night at Jefferson Junior High with victories being awarded to Phil's Inn and the Independents.

Phil's quintet established a 20-12 advantage at halftime, then staved off a 4th-period rally to defeat the Trojans, 44-39.

The losers' Williamson took scoring honors in the contest with 15 points while teammate Hurd added 10. King, center for Phil's, led his team on 12 points, followed by Douglas with 11.

Independents completely dominated their tilt with Louie's Tavern to hang up a lopsided 57-27 victory. The winners outscored the Tavern five in every quarter and held a 28-11 halftime lead.

Three Independents garnered double figures, Stafford collecting 15, Taulbee 14, and Ryan 10. Sandage led Louie's with eight points.

American League Class A squads go back to work tonight at Pontiac High School. The Lakeside Royals duel Stadium Inn at 7 o'clock and Stone Front faces Booth Homes in the 9 o'clock nightcap.

Baker After Title Shot

CLEVELAND (AP) — Pittsburgh's Bob Baker is an 8-5 favorite to beat Cuba's Nino Valdes in their 10-round bout at the Cleveland arena tonight and gain a shot at Rocky Marciano's heavyweight title next June.

Baker, winner of his last 13 fights and the second-ranked heavy weight contender, was a 2½ - 1 choice last week, but the third-ranked Valdes has looked sharp in his drills here.

* * *

Observers also remember the Cuban's three-round knockout of British heavyweight Don Cockell in London three months ago. Cockell went eight rounds against Marciano.

The Pittsburgh clouter won a decision over Valdes when they met in Huntington, W.Va., two years ago.

* * *

Their bout tonight, feature attraction on the Cleveland News' Toyshop Fund boxing card, will be televised at 10 p.m. (EST) on the ABC network.

Eduardo Lausse of Argentina, third-ranking middleweight contender, will meet John L. Sullivan, former British champion, in the 10-round semifinal. Lausse, winner of his last 30 bouts, has flattened 48 of his 68 rivals. Sullivan has knocked out 35 of 81 opponents.

Baker, who has weighed as high as 230 pounds for a fight in the past year, is expected to weigh in today at about 211. Valdes is expected to tip the scales at 297, nine pounds lighter than his maximum fighting weight.

The "three-knockdown rule" which automatically ends a fight if either contestant is floored three times in one round, has been waived by the Cleveland Boxing Commission for tonight's bout at the insistence of Dusty Bettor, manager of Baker, and Bobby Gleason, Valdes' manager.

The three-knockdown regulation is mandatory under National Boxing Assn. rules in any non-title bout, but tonight the referee will be the sole judge as to the fitness of either man to continue regardless of the number of knockdowns.

In local fights the referee and two judges keep score, with the winner of each round receiving 10 points and the loser 9 or less. The contestant with the highest score on the cards of at least two of the score keepers is given the decisio. The referee may declare a round forfeited because of a foul, thorized pledge.

Montreal's Nelson Wins IL Triple Title

NEW YORK (INS) — Glenn Nelson, southpaw swinger of the Montreal Royals, clouted the biggest triple of his life this season when he won the International League batting title, runs batted in and homerun championships.

Official statistics released today by the triple-A league showed that the 31-year-old veteran infielder won the batting crown with a hefty .364 average for 184 hits in 506 at-bats during 151 games. He drove in 130 runs, hit 37 homers.

Graham Nears Passing Title

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Otto Graham and Alan Ameche appear to have the passing and running titles respectively all wrapped up for delivery after next weekend's final regular season National Football League games.

Graham, who last Sunday completed a brilliant job of pitching the Cleveland Browns to their 6th straight divisional title, increased his lead over runnerup Eddie Brown of the Chicago Bears. Graham has amassed 1,480 yards and 12 touchdowns on 85 completions of 160 passes. He has averaged 9.25 yards per pass.

Brown has a slightly better percentage of completion, 53.5 to 53.1, but he has gained only 1,271 yards on 83 for 155 for an average of 8.20 per pass. Brown has tossed nine TD aerials. Bobby Thomason of Philadelphia ranks 3rd with a 7.82 average 88 completed of 171 for 1,337 yards and 10 TDs.

On the ground, Ameche, the Baltimore Colts star rookie fullback, now holds a 133 yard lead over Cleveland's Fred Morrison. The former Wisconsin ace leads the league in attempts with 197 on which he has gained 932 yards, an average of 4.7 per carry. Morrison gained 104 yards against Pittsburgh last Sunday to move from 3rd to 2nd place with 146 attempts for 799 yards. His average of 5.5 is tops in the league.

Howard Ferguson, Green Bay, dropped from 2nd to 3rd among the runners with 795 yards gained on 174 carries for an average of 4.6 per try.

Wing Scoring Combo Split

Howe-Lindsay Break Made by Skinner for Scoring Strength

DETROIT (AP) — The Gordie Howe-Ted Lindsay combination which for nine years powered the Detroit Red Wings' scoring drives is to be broken up.

Coach Jimmy Skinner said yesterday the move will be made in tomorrow night's game with the Boston Bruins.

Defenseman Red Kelly will take Lindsay's place on the 1st line along with Dutch Reibel and Howe. Lindsay will be teamed with Bill Dineen and Alex DelVecchio.

Skinner said the Wings hope to get a more varied attack by the shift. The way he figures it the Wings will get more scoring strength on two lines since Lindsay and Howe have accounted for 27 of the team's 57 goals this season.

Arbitration Asked

Court Issues Restraint of Little League Rival

LEWISBURG, Pa. (AP)—A temporary restraining order has been issued in federal court here against formation of a rival Little League baseball organization by the founder of the original group.

U.S. district judge Frederick V. Follmer, who issued the injunction yesterday, scheduled a hearing for tomorrow on a petition for a permanent order restraining Carl E. Stotz from setting up the original "Little League" in Williamsport, headquarters of the league.

Stotz was removed as commissioner of the league last month after alleging breach of contract and filing a $300,000 damage suit.

Before issuing the order, judge Follmer urged both sides to make every effort to effect an out-of-court settlement of their differences.

He said papers filed in the case indicated that great harm would be done to the movement to form baseball clubs for youngsters all over the nation if a rival group was founded.

"All I am interested in is saving Little League for the youth of America," he said:

"Nothing would thrill me more than to play a small part in settling this dispute."

But, he added, the courtroom was not the place to settle it. He suggested instead that arbitration board be set up to hear arguments by both sides and that leaders in the field of sports and especially major league baseball would probably agree to serve on such a board.

Daniel Knittle, counsel for Stotz, said his client would make no statement on the ruling.

Pancho Called World's Best When at Peak

Trabert May Discover Gonzales' Game More Than He Can Handle

By PAT ROBINSON

NEW YORK (INS) — When in condition and shooting the works, Pancho Gonzales is the best tennis player in the world.

The experts go a step further and say he might have beaten any player who ever lived. And who are we to quarrel with the experts?

We know of nobody who had a harder service than Pancho and that goes for Red McLaughlin, Bill Tilden and Don Budge. And those terrific shots may be more than young Tony Trabert can handle on the long pro tour which opens in Madison Square Garden Friday night.

Trabert, as you know, was our national amateur champion until he listened to the siren song of promoter Jack Kramer. Jack's irresistible lure was a snappy $100,000 a sum which no amateur could make in a year. Or even two or three years.

Tony has a big service compared with most of the pattycakers he met as an amateur, but he will find Pancho's shots quite different.

UCLA Fined $1,000 for 'Enticing' Athlete

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — UCLA was fined $1,000 yesterday by the Pacific Coast Conference for "enticing an athlete under false pretenses."

H. P. Everest, University of Washington faculty representative and PCC spokesman, said the Bruins athletic department offered an academic scholarship to a prospective athlete. The student enrolled but didn't get the scholarship, he said.

The conference athletic directors and faculty representatives ruled that UCLA had made an unau-

Big 10 Opens Winter Meeting With TV Issue

Bowl Pact Renewal Is Also the Main Topic of Discussion

CHICAGO (AP)—The Big 10 Conference will open its four - day winter athletic business meeting today and again football television is expected to get the once over.

Although the Western conference apparently favored the NCAA regional-national program presented this year, directors are expected to give some thought to the situation in the State of Iowa.

* * *

Under NCAA regulations, Iowa is not included in the fourth district, region of the rest of the Big 10.

As a result, regional telecasts of Big 10 football games were not available in Iowa on a state-wide basis. This resulted in one Iowa station making an unauthorized telecast of a game at Iowa City against Minnesota.

* * *

Also to be studied will be the future of television proceeds. Up to now, all TV proceeds have been equally divided among all conference members. A move is underway to reimburse the host team its actual expenses of a televised game.

* * *

Another main item will be setting up machinery for possible renewal of the Big 10-Pacific Coast Rose Bowl pact which expires Jan. 1, 1957. However, the Big 10 must first receive an invitation for renewal from the PCC.

The highest priced mutuel payoff at Hialeah race track was not a winner. It was the $971.10 paid to place by Baal who ran second on Feb. 4, 1932.

Birmingham Quintet Drops Opener to Royal Oak; Skippers Edge Clarkston in County Prep Action

Birmingham found the going rugged in its 1955-56 basketball season opener, but Waterford posted victory No. 2 as Oakland County's area prep teams swung into their 1st full week of action Tuesday night.

A tall Birmingham quintet was unable to control the backboards against a shorter Royal Oak team and succumbed, 56-45, in the curtain-raiser for both schools last night at Royal Oak.

The game was a rough and tumble affair marred by 51 personal fouls, 26 called on the winning Acorns. Each team lost two players via the foul route, Dave Rickey and Art Bromley for Royal Oak and Don Picmann and George Huffman for the Maples.

Maples blew a three-point halftime advantage. Center Bob Isbell meshed three markers late in the 2nd period to give Birmingham a 29-26 edge at intermission, but Acorns rebounded to outscore the visitors, 14-8, in the 3rd quarter to win going away.

Birmingham was unable to take advantage of its free throw opportunities netting only five in 18 attempts during the 1st half.

Two Acorns reached double figures, led by forward Evans Webb with 17 points. Guard Dave Richey contributed 14 more. Isbell garnered 10 points to head the Birmingham attack.

Waterford, making a habit of winning close battles so far this season, racked up its 2nd squeaker last night at Clarkston by slipping past the Wolves, 41-37. Waterford nosed out Milford in its opener last Friday, 52-51.

Skippers were down at the end of the 1st quarter, 14-12, but came back to grab a 17-16 margin at halftime. They never again lost the advantage.

Chuck Gillis sparked the winners with 14 points, but Wolves' Leroy Parks tallied 15 points for scoring honors.

Southfield's Blue Jays suffered their 2nd setback in as many starts last night, bowing to visiting Livonia Bentley, 62-51. Bulldogs, paced by Bob English and John Alex who scored 17 points each, rolled to a 25-19 halftime lead and were never headed.

Three Jays hit double figures. Ken Moser had 17, Bob Evans 12 and Steve Klamik 11. Southfield netted 19 field goals out of 81 shots.

Walled Lake met adversity in its 2nd encounter after beating Cranbrook in its opener last Friday. The Vikings fell before Redford Union, 53-43, in a Tuesday tilt at Redford despite a 21-point scoring spree by center Larry Hughes. The count was knotted at halftime, 27-27, but Redford's 2nd-half onslaught put the game out of reach.

Troy Colts, who advanced to the semi-finals of the state tournament last season, got off to a bad start last night at Royal Oak. Tom Geil hit 17 points to lead the Knights of Shrine to a 45-52 decision over Troy.

Holly overcame a 25-18 halftime deficit to trounce Hartland, 62-49, in its inaugural Tuesday at Hartland. Four Holly cagers recorded double figures, headed by Bill Horton's 15 points.

Larry Dorow, nephew of Al of MSU football fame, poured in 27 points to lead Imlay City to an easy 65-44 victory over Capac. Tom Wilson matched Dorow's feat in Lapeer's 59-53 conquest of Flint Beecher.

Suburban Catholic Leaguer St. James of Ferndale turned in last night's highest-scoring team effort, crushing Oak Park in a non-loop tiff on the latter's court, 79-42. Ray Rieti and Tom Ortbals sparked the Dales with 23 and 21 points respectively.

Center Owen Fett meshed 20 points and teammate Pete Bedford netted 15 as Cranbrook trounced Kennedy Collegiate last night in Windsor, 61-40. It was the Cranes' 1st win in two starts.

In other area games Tuesday Dearborn Fordson defeated Berkley, 44-40; Brighton downed South Lyon, 52-48; and South Lake bested Harper Woods, 48-44.

Toronto Paper Says Football Team Out Cash

Telegram Reports Pro Argonauts Lost Money and Now Face Suits

TORONTO (AP)—The Toronto Telegram says the Toronto Argonauts of the Big Four pro football league lost $50,000 this season and that three lawsuits to be heard this month may increase the loss to $100,000.

The newspaper reported losses during the regular season amounted to $75,000, but earnings in playoff games and the team's share in the Grey Cup gate reduced this by $25,000.

The Detroit Lions of the National Football League are suing the Argos for damages for signing quarterback Tom Dublinski and lineman Gil Mains.

The Argos also are being sued by halfback Whizzer White, seeking his full season's salary of $9,500. He says he was cut because of injuries, despite a clause saying he couldn't be cut for that reason.

Drayton Wins in Waterford Loop

Drayton Drugs opened its season Tuesday night in the Waterford Recreation Basketball League by defeating Philgas 77-55 behind the scoring of Picketts with 27 points. Tex Clark was high pointer with 22 for Philgas.

In the second game Isaac Crary School Poole Lumber defeated Faculty 54-42 with Phil Bradley pacing the winners with 23 points. Phil Runkel got 15 for Faculty.

This was the first week of play in the league. Games are played each Monday and Tuesday nights at Isaac Crary School in Waterford.

Southpaw pitcher Johnny Oldham, who will be getting a spring trial with the Cincinnati Redlegs, played four years of baseball at San Jose State College.

Valley Loop Title Race Opens Friday

By H. GUY MOATS

Saginaw Valley Conference basketball title race swings into full-scale action Friday night, with the entire roster involved in league battles.

Focal point, however, is Pontiac-Arthur Hill setto here.

Lumberjacks are the defending champions. They also have won their 1st encounter. Their latest effort was the 59-57 loss against a strong Lansing Sexton club, on Sexton's home floor, last night.

Chiefs gave a well-rounded exhibition against a good Catholic Central (Detroit) club in their only test, 50-40. And they will have the psychological edge that playing on a home floor affords.

Other Valley contests Friday sent Flint Northern (generally rated the most "loaded" and therefore the "team to beat") against bitter foes, Saginaw high, and Bay City's Wolves against Flint Central's Indians. Vikings will be at Saginaw, Wolves at Flint.

PHS head coach Art Van Ryzin and aide Fred Zittel took a good look at the Jacks last night, against Sexton.

"The Hills is a good ball club," Van Ryzin reported. "It has a veteran squad, with the typical good ball handling of Arthur Hill teams. Four, who last year gave Chiefs plenty of trouble went practically the entire distance, last night. PHS coaches said. "Jim Alexander, Russ Knipple, Bert Dygert and Jim Kanary stayed in there most of the game."

Other Jacks who looked good, Van Ryzin said, included Gary Lee, fast guard; Jerry Rifenberg, younger brother of the Jacks former all-stater, and U. of M. player, Dick Rifenberg, and Dick Goodman.

"We'll have to be real good, if we stop this outfit, Friday night," Van Ryzin added.

Pontiac will probably open Friday with the same crew that did so well at Catholic Central: Willie Dewalt and Rod Treais at forwards; easy-going Hud Ray at the pivot; accurate-shooting Dave Diehm and speedy Larry Peet at guards.

In other Valley games last night SVC teams took shellackings. Bay City Handy dumped Flint Central 36-34 and Lansing Eastern handed Saginaw a 65-42 beating. None were league encounters, however.

Hogan Files Damage Suit

Asks $400,000 From New York Publication for Using Pictures

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Golfer Ben Hogan has asked for $400,000 damages from a New York publishing company for allegedly using pictures of him in a book on golf ing without his permission.

Atty. Francis W. Sullivan filed the suit here yesterday on behalf of the Fort Worth, Tex., golfing great. A. S. Barnes and Co., Inc., of New York was named as defendant.

Hogan contended the pictures were taken without his knowledge while he was practicing for a tournament at the Baltusrol Golf Club, Springfield, N. J. He also alleged that the advertising and the book jacket are "designed to deceive the public into believing that the book was written and proved by the persons to whom it refers, including Hogan."

Red McMorris of the National Golf Foundation says 108 new golf courses were opened in the United States during 1955. California set the pace with 21.

Beat Butler 107-75

Illini Pegged for Big Ten Basketball Contention After Impressive Victory

The Associated Press

This figures to be a hectic college basketball season for Illinois Coach Harry Combes, the great worrier. It looks like he has a winner.

Nothing leaves Harry limper than one of those rip-snortin' title races in the Big 10 and that's apparently right where he's headed after the way his Illini made their debut last night with a whoming 107-75 victory over Butler.

* * *

Illinois' big noise drowned out the continued success of top-ranked San Francisco and third-rated North Carolina State as each tacked another game to iwnning streaks. The Dons, iwth All-America Bill Russell packing in 20 points in the 22 minutes he played, mauled outclassed San Francisco State 72-47 for their 29th consecutive victory. The Dons now put the string on the shelf until meeting Marquette Dec. 16.

* * *

N.C. State, meanwhile, bagged No. 15 in a row as Vic Molodet canned 26 in a 90-81 decision over Wake Forest. It was the Wolfpack's first Atlantic Coast Conference game of the season, but their third straight triumph of the new schedule.

Illinois, ranked eighth in the Associated Press poll, was a preseason pick for the Big 10 title scrap along with defending champ Iowa and Indiana. But probably no one figured the Illini to break upon the scene with such a show of offensive punch. Capt. Paul Judson and Harv Smith each scored 22 points as the Illini rang up their highest one-game total ever.

* * *

It was 20-5 after 5 minutes of play and 33-17 before Combes let the reserves into the game. Butler got rolling against the reserves and the momentum carried to a mere 58-54 deficit after the starters returned for Illinois. Then the Illini wrapped it up, spurting for 29 points while Butler scored 5.

The Butlers annual early season test for Big 10 teams, previously knocked off Wisconsin but were beaten 73-51 by Ohio State.

No other teams among the top 10 in the poll were active last night.

The Southern Conference got going en masse, with defending champ West Virginia spilling Furman 85-71. Washington & Lee's Generals tagged Richmond 78-76 in a battle of contenders and George Washington, another "favorite", smacked William & Mary 81-75.

* * *

Elsewhere, Kansas State of the Big 7 made its debut with an 89-70 decision over Texas Tech as 6-9 Jack Parr scored 22, and Southern Methodist warmed up for its three-game invasion of the Big 10 (Iowa, Minnesota and Wisconsin) with a 65-42 victory over Texas Wesleyan. Ronnie Morris shackled Wesleyan ace Don Bice with just 5 points while hitting 12 of 12 free throws and topping the scoring for the Southwest Conference champs with 24 points.

Lafayette scored 6 consecutive points in the last 3 minutes to hand Princeton's Ivy League champs a second defeat 85-83 as both clubs hit better than 50 per cent of their shots.

Golfer Marlene Bauer Weds Her Sister's Ex

Marlene Bauer and her sister Alice's former husband were married last Thursday.

Marlene, 21, and Robert Hagge, 28, were wed at Beneva, where Hagge is employed in the off season by a supermarket chain. He is a professional golfer too.

They said last night that Hagge and Alice, 28, had been divorced "sometime this year." They declined to discuss reasons for the divorce.

TOO MUCH SWING—A Philadelphian writes: "I changed from a short backswing to a long one to get more speed, but now I've lost control. I drop the ball too often. How do I reduce the backswing?"

Push-away of the ball regulates the backswing. Push-away, as I have emphasized earlier, is the key to a constant, grooved swing. Too much backswing, as sketch shows, is as bad as too little. Getting the ball too high results from holding it too high to begin with—chest high. In the downswing it pulls the body down too far with a jerk, and timing is lost.

Shoulder level is the best swinging length for control. To get it, you hold the ball in the palm of the left hand at approximately waist level. Push the ball away, toward the pins, in unison with the first, short step. Let the ball swing back of its own weight, freely, so that the arm remains straight at the elbow. Be relaxed.

If you still feel the swing is too long, and you persist in dropping the ball, shorten the push-away by holding the ball lower—a little below waist level. Practice determines just exactly where to position the ball at the start — for comfortable swinging action and pay-off ball speed.

Minors Offered TV Funds

CHICAGO (AP) — The National League held out a glimmer of hope to the minors in the form of revenue from a proposed television "Game of the Week" broadcast today but the majors turned thumbs down on such player requests as a $7,200 minimum pay, unlimited winter ball and an inside role on negotiating a new World Series TV contract.

The National went out of its way to label as "very important" its decision to ask Walter O'Malley, Brooklyn president, to continue his efforts to work out plans to use income from a proposed "Game of the Week" TV broadcast of major league games on Saturday afternoons to aid the minors.

* * *

The minors, through the presidents of their Class B, C and D leagues, have asked the majors to help work out a plan for "immediate relief of the damaging effects of TV broadcasts into minor league territory." Although this request was not acted upon by the American League and was rejected by the National because of its "intemperate" language, the National voted to lend a hand.

* * *

Commissioner Ford Frick revealed Monday that he had been rebuffed by the Justice Department in Washington in an attempt to set up a test case on the right of baseball to regulate radio and TV broadcasts of its games. The minors blame radio and TV for a large share of their attendance decline in recent years.

A "Game of the Week" TV show has been in operation in recent years. Only three clubs participated in the original plan but many others joined last season. It was learned that the entire 16 major league clubs were considering participation in 1956.

The majors also turned down the minors' proposal to change the law on returning servicemen, making them count on the player limit after 30 days instead of one year.

On the player demands, the majors refused to go along with the increase from $6,000 to $7,200 in minimum pay. They also rejected a proposal to let the players negotiate on their own with winter league teams and refused to keep the players informed on the new World Series TV contract. The old series pact expires after the 1956 games.

PHS Tankers Try to Make Up Time, Use Pool Again

Back in the splashing business again, after a layoff occasioned by a breakdown in the school's pool, PHS tankers are trying to make up for lost time.

"We started working in the pool again last Friday," says Coach Des Boyce. "But it takes a lot of work to get back in shape, so we even swam on Saturday and Sunday afternoons. We just had to stay in the water to get anything done." ✦

Boyce said it will require even more work to make a showing against the Ypsilanti High squad, Dec. 15 here. This is a night meet, starting at 7 o'clock.

The Chief mentor now figures that by the time the squad gets around to the postponed Flint Central meet (Dec. 22), it will have considerable poise and finesse. "By that time," Des says, "I think we'll do all right." The Central dual is an afternoon affair, starting at 4 o'clock.

State's 3 Grid Teams Listed in NCAA Marks

Three of Michigan's major football teams finished among the football statistic leaders in the recent figures released by the NCAA. On passing offense Michigan State was the 10th best aerial team in the country with 28 completions of 52 attempts for 1124 yards and an average of 124.9 per game.

* * *

The Wolverines were 4th, permitting only 44.7 yards per game through the air, and the Titans were 7th allowing but 52.7 yards passing for each game.

Snead Back in Running for Miami Open Golf Title

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Sam Snead, the old slammer who was forced out of the running last year, will try for another Miami Open Golf Tournament victory beginning in tomorrow's opening round.

Snead's recurrent back ailment began bothering him after one round in 1954 and young Bob Rosburg of San Francisco went on to win the 72-hole tournament with 285.

This year Snead, seeking his sixth Miami Open title, will be a sentimental favorite in a strong field of contenders.

Putting well and obviously feeling good, Snead fired a six-under-par 65 yesterday to win top money on the one-day pro-member tournament at Lagorce Country Club on Miami Beach. He had a 31-34 round for a prize of $500.

Ed Furgol of Creve Coeur, Mo., and Walker Inman Jr. of Augusta, Ga., tied for second place with 68s.

Seventy-six top pros were exempt from qualifying rounds that lesser golfing lights shot Monday and Tuesday to get into the $12,500 Miami open tournament.

High Gun Chosen Champ 4-Year-Old

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (INS) — King Ranch's High Gun was named champion older horse of 1955 today by the Thoroughbred Racing Associations.

The four-year-old, which enters stud service at King Ranch's Lexington farm in 1956, won the TRA's three-year-old championship in 1954.

High Gun won the Metropolitan and Brooklyn Handicaps this year and beat Jet Action, Helioscope and Belair Stud's champion three-year-old colt, Nashua, in the Sysonby Stakes at Belmont.

DETROIT (AP) — Lawrence Tech rolled to its 4th straight basketball victory last night, defeating winless Selfridge Air Force Base 68-61. Forward Stan Sylvester of Tech led the scoring with 22 points.

Brigham Young Surprises

Intra-State Cage Battle for Skyline Conference Title Prevails in Utah

SALT LAKE CITY (AP) — Hardly anybody lives in Utah—hardly anybody but red hot basketball players. Those who don't play go to the games.

Exaggeration?

Well, with a population of only about 700,000—less than a lot of big cities—Utah alone among the 48 states this week has two teams in the nation's top 10.

The game is so popular that last week the University of Utah turned customers away from its 6,000-seat fieldhouse here. What was the great event? A freshman-varsity game.

* * *

The University of Utah wound up No. 5 and Brigham Young University at Provo ranked No. 10 in the first Associated Press basketball poll of the season. Both are members of the Skyline Conference.

* * *

Utah kids play basketball from the time they're big enough to see the net. It looks as if every other garage has a hoop nailed to it. The Latter-Day Saints (Mormon) Church and other denominations annually draw thousands of youngsters into church leagues, and their parents flock out to watch.

Utah won its high early season ranking because of last year's fine team and on the strength of a 73-51 victory over University of Wichita last Saturday. BYU beat favored UCLA last weekend, 75-58, and 67-65.

* * *

Utah already is sold out of reserve seats for the season.

BYU, which can seat 11,000 in its fieldhouse, isn't sold out yet. But ticket men expect to fill the aisles when they entertain Utah and Wyoming.

The nation will know by the first of January how the two ranked Utah teams compare. Both Utah and BYU will be on the road for Eastern games and tournaments during the holiday season.

Utah will play in the Kentucky Tournament at Lexington Dec. 20 and 21 and the Sugar Bowl Invitational at New Orleans Dec. 29 and 30.

BYU tangles with North Carolina State at Raleigh Dec. 21, Wake Forest Dec. 22, plays in the Motor City Tournament in Detroit Dec. 27, and plays Michigan at Ann Arbor Dec. 30.

Warriors Continue Rapid NBA Pace

Philadelphia Warriors, eastern division leaders of the National Basketball Association, chalked up their 11th victory in 15 starts this season with a 116-103 victory last night over Minneapolis.

New York beat Rochester almost by the same score, 116-105, in the 2nd game of the doubleheader at Madison Square Garden.

Fort Wayne downed Syracuse, 90-88, and Boston routed St. Louis, 122-99.

Studies Before Davis Cup, Trabert Tells Net Rookie

NEW YORK (AP)—Tony Trabert who dropped out of college to follow the tennis circuit, doesn't think the Davis Cup is important enough to interfere with Sam Giammalva's education.

* * *

Trabert, who makes his professional debut against Pancho Gonzales Friday, tabbed Giammalva as the most promising young candidate for the 1956 U.S. Davis Cup team. Sammy, a husky, bow-legged power hitter who attends the University of Texas, showed great promise last summer.

Asked whether it would help Giammalva's development if he were sent to Australia for the major tournaments there this winter, Trabert agreed. Then he quickly added, "But I wouldn't send him if it entails taking Sammy out of school. There are a lot more important things. He has to look ahead to making a living when he's through playing tennis."

Trabert, a University of Cincinnati student before his Navy service, re-entered the college in February, 1954 and played briefly on the basketball team. But he soon dropped out again to concentrate on tennis. He's taking leave from his job with a company headed by Bill Talbert, American Davis Cup team captain, in order to pick up $80,000 or more on the pro tour points.

Although he concedes that Australia's Lew Hoad and Ken Rosewall are the world's top amateur players, Tony won't admit that the United States doesn't have a chance of regaining the Davis Cup in December, 1956.

Veteran Ref Gets Rose Bowl Assignment

CHICAGO (INS) — Ross Dean, veteran football referee from Whitefish Bay, Wis., heads the officials named today to handle the Jan. 2 Rose Bowl game between UCLA and Michigan State at Pasadena, Calif.

Other officials announced by the Pacific Coast and Big Ten conference commissioners follow: Umpire, Melvin Nickerson, Orinda, Calif.; head linesman, Carlisle Dollings, Columbus, Ohio; field judge, Mike Layden, Evansville, Ind.; back judge, William Simas, Hermosa Beach, Calif.

Hope Beats Olivet

OLIVET (AP) — Towering Paul Benes, 6-foot-8 freshman, dumped in 25 points to spearhead Hope College's 72-57 victory over Olivet in an MIAA basketball game last night. Benes collected 11 field goals and three free throws. Norm Schultz topped Olivet with 14.

PGA Pledges Anti-Gambling

Plan Opposition to 'Calcutta Pools' in All Tourneys

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (INS) — The Professional Golfers Association has renewed its pledge to "check and destroy any gambling influences" in the sport.

Harry L. Moffit of Toledo, PGA president, pledged continued opposition to gambling in golf yesterday after Joseph C. Dey, Jr., executive director of the U. S. Golf Association, told the annual convention of the PGA that "there still is a good deal" of gambling in golf today.

As an example, he pointed to "Calcutta pools" — the auctioning of golfers to the highest bidder the night before a tournament and the buyer of the winning golfer receiving 40 per cent of the pool.

The USGA has barred Calcutta pools in all tournaments under its jurisdiction.

Going Sheep Hunting

New Game Considered for American Hunter

ROY, N. M. (AP)—Scientists delved today into the biological secrets of an African animal—the Barbary Sheep—to see whether a new kind of game can be made available to American sportsmen.

But it will be many months before the whole story will be known says Rex Allen, a U. S. Agriculture Department Parasitologist stationed at New Mexico A&M College.

"We've run into a few parasites in preliminary studies here," he said, "but they are nothing out of the ordinary. You would probably find them in cattle, domestic sheep and deer."

Allen and Bob Stewart, state game department biologist, were busy examining the organs and blood of the Barbary Sheep, a native of the Atlas Mountains of North Africa.

The animals were being taken in a closely-supervised hunt, the first of this continent. Special $20 permits were issued to 15 persons from the general New Mexico public and 10 land owners whose property borders a 35-mile stretch of the rugged Canadian River canyon to the west. A herd of about 200 is in the area.

This herd is the only collection of the animals running wild in North America. The first group of eight was planted here in 1848 by rancher Joe McKnight who obtained them from Balboa Park Zoo at San Diego, Calif. Then, about 1950, the State Game Department obtained 60 more from Balboa Park.

The department wants to find out if the animals carry any "bugs," which might be injurious to other wild game or livestock, and it wants to know whether the animals are faring well on their "strange" American diet.

Morrall Among NCAA Leaders

NEW YORK (AP)—George Welsh, who served as Navy's air-arm, is the individual total offense champion of major college football, but only by a scant 35 yards over Arizona's Art Luppino, who made all his gains by running and romped off with his second straight rushing title.

* * *

Welsh, the individual passing king as well, topped the Arizona junior in the final game of the season by picking up 185 yards against Army. Luppino was checked at 68 yards by Arizona State for his lowest one-game output of the season.

That gave Welsh a season total of 1,348 yards in 9 games, according to final NCAA Service Bureau figures released today, while Luppino collared 1,313 in 10 games.

* * *

Luppino, first ever to win the rushing crown in two consecutive seasons, also is the first to finish as high as second in the total offense race on rushing alone. With one season remaining, he's just 168 yards short of the all-time college career record of 3,212 yards set by Wisconsin's Alan Ameche.

* * *

Welsh won his offense crown with just 203 plays, tying the all-time low by a champion set by Oklahoma A&M's Bob Fenimore in 1945.

* * *

All-America Earl Morrall of Michigan State had the top average gain for rushing-passing plays with 9.1 yards, third best in history for a minimum total gain of 1,000 yards. Notre Dame's Paul Hornung had the single-game running-passing high, gaining 354 yards against Southern California in the finale.

* * *

All-America Howard (Hopalong) Cassady of Ohio State was the workhorse, figuring in more rushing-passing plays than anyone else with a total of 249—one more than John Majors of Tennessee.

Only Luppino (131.3), All-America Jim Swink of Texas Christian (128.3) and Cassady (106.3) averaged 100 or more yards a game among the rushers. Luppino averaged 6.28 yards a rush, second only to the 6.39 rung up by San Francisco's Ollie Matson in 1954 for 200 or more rushes.

Nashua Placed on Public Sale

NEW YORK (AP)—Nashua, 3-year-old champion and leading money winner of 1955 whose earning power still is estimated at more than $500,000, no longer will run under the familiar white - and-red dotted colors of the Belair Stud.

The first step in the dissolution of the famous stable, rumored since the death of William Woodward Jr., Oct. 30, was taken yesterday when executors of Woodward's estate placed Nashua and 61 other thoroughbreds up for public sale.

Second on the list of world money-winners, Nashua is topped only by Citation, who won $1,085,760. Nashua has earned a total of $945,415 as a 2-year-old and 3-year-old. He won $752,550 this year.

Actually, the thoroughbred holdings of the Belair Stud were priced in four categories for bidding. No. 1 was Nashua. The second category was other Belair race horses plus 12 yearlings who will become 2-year-olds Jan. 1 and ready to race next year. No. 3 includes 24 broodmares and 16 weanlings, foals of 1955. The fourth group will be a package deal for all of the other three categories—the entire Belair racing stable.

Big League Bowling Gains Spot in American Parlors

CHICAGO (AP)—Big league bowlers have crashed the television sports scene.

Fellows like Buzz Fazio, Steve Nagy, Ned Day, Buddy Bomar, Junie McMahon, Andy Varipapa and Don Carter, who are familiar with 200 averages, are stars on 147 stations this season.

Pete DeMet of Chicago and Coral Gables, Fla., backed a $30,000 tournament at Paramus, N.J., and put the games on film.

The name of the winner of the top prize of $8,000 will not be known until the end of the season. Another of the 25 competitors pocketed $6,000.

About the only thing De Met will say is that Stan Gifford of Portland, Ore., bowled a 300 game.

The winners of the tournament will not be announced until the TV program reveals it.

Meanwhile, name keglers are finding themselves in a bowling bonanza. Fazio says he has earned more money this year than in any of his previous 20 years of maple splitting, and Day says if he cares to teach the game regularly he is booked for two years.

Penn's Reagan Runs Wild

The most points scored in one game by a player in Ivy League grid competition was 31 by Frank Reagan of Pennsylvania in 1940. The Red and Blue defeated the Tigers 46-28.

Policeman Catches Drum in Absentia

OCEAN DRIVE BEACH, S.C. (AP) — Police Chief Merlin Bellamy caught a two-pound drum on his fishing line even when he wasn't around.

He decided to fish while off duty but got word of some trouble to investigate. He set his buzz brake on the reel and placed the rod against a fishing pier rail.

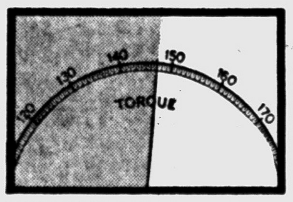

When he returned, someone had taken the drum off the line and put it in his fish bucket.

Bird, Newkirk, Walker Win 'Derby'

After a careful study of the many fine entries in the rack and head divisions of the Pontiac Press annual 3-way deer contest, winners were determined today. There was no question about the weight, or "big deer" division champ. Each will receive a $100 U.S. Savings bond within a short time.

Here are the winners:

Heaviest deer (dressed-out weight) was a 260 pounder, brought in by Wilfred A. Bird, 5633 Oster Drive, Pontiac.

Best set of antlers was adjudged those entered by Clair O. Newkirk, 4480 Sedum Glen, Pontiac.

Head and rack submitted by Nelson Walker, 77 Euclid avenue, Pontiac, was determined best in this division.

Because of the many entries in the rack and head divisions it was no easy task to decide upon the best. However, the final decisions were clear-cut in each case.

Bird's hefty buck was taken near Rudyard in Mackinaw County, early in the regular season. This year also was a good one for other game, for the avid Pontiac sportsman. He bagged a moose, deer and bear during a hunting trip in Canada.

Newkirk's prize-winning buck was taken in northern Michigan opening day. The rack had 10 points, almost perfectly balanced and was well proportioned in relation to head. It was about as perfect as any rack entered in this contest over many years. The hunter got the buck in the same spot where he took two others in the last three years.

Walker's head entry was the 1st in this division, and it stood up all the way against some very good competition. The buck was taken in Montmorency County, Nov. 16, and was a 10-pointer. Proportions of the rack in relation to the head, and the measurements of the head itself were close to ideal figures.

Entries by Mac Rogers, 773 West Huron; Mrs. Beverly Baumgras, 2269 Mann road, Pontiac; Floyd Blanzey, 4024 Ledgestone, Waterford; Leo Boncher, 7735 Fish Lake road, Holly; Lewis Grimm, 76 Willard, Pontiac, and Russell Zubrick, 6400 Elizabeth Lake road were all unusually good, and complicated the final decisions.

Farm Clubs in Georgia

The majority of the Milwaukee Braves' farm clubs will do their spring training at Waycross, Ga., under the supervision of farm director John Mullen and camp director Hugh Wise.

The Duke University football team of 1938 was not scored against in regular season play. But the Blue Devils lost the Rose Bowl game to the University of Southern California, 7-3 on a pass in the final 40 seconds.

Tips for Sportsmen's Gifts

By JACK PATTERSON

Friday winds up the local water fowl season and with that out of the way maybe we can get on with Christmas shopping. Rabbits, of course, remain on the open list but while they provide entertainment for young boys and old dogs, they have long since lost their glitter for aging outdoor writers. First sparrows with a BB gun, then rabbits, then onward and upward to better things, if you know what we mean.

PATTERSON

* * *

To get back to Christmas shopping and particularly shopping for outdoorsmen, there are certain pitfalls which well-meaning wives and other primary buyers should make an effort to avoid.

In the 1st place, basic sporting gear such as guns and fishing rods, comes in an almost infinite variety of shapes, sizes, and actions.

For some of this variety there is excellent reason. The rest of it is twaddle, dreamed up by manufacturers and abetted by other agencies in an attempt to take advantage of the gullibility of the American shopper, principally female.

* * *

Be that as it may, the hunter in your family probably has a very definite preference as to what make, model, gauge and grade of a shotgun he wants, for example, and is going to take a dim view of any substitutions.

* * *

Now it's well known that most women are pretty dull studies when it comes to an appreciation or understanding of sporting gear.

So girls, rather than stuff your pretty little heads with a lot of facts and figures which won't mean anything to you, and which you'll soon forget anyway, consider this rather simple alternative. Ask the "old man" what he wants, in detail, then get it.

The surprise element is lacking, of course, but that isn't all bad. Imagine the surprise of the lad who has his heart set on a two-ounce bamboo flyrod, has dropped plenty of hints about it and winds up on Christmas morning with a glass surf rod.

And girls, one further plea. If you are going to buy that "duck-marsh tramp" that leaves his muddy boots in your boudoir something in the way of wearing apparel, please, please find out what size he wears.

A guy that stands five-four and weighs 135 does NOT wear extra large sizes, although you'll find few wives who believe it.

And the last-minute-get-something - to - put - under - the - tree-no - matter - what - size - it - is - we - can - exchange - it - later modus operandi, so beloved of female shoppers, is the cruelest blow of all to harassed sales personnel of our sporting goods fraternity.

HUSKY TROPHY — Here's Bill Vance, Oakland County (3256 Dixie Highway, Pontiac) deer and recently a bear hunter, with a husky trophy. Bill downed the 325 pound black bear on the Boyd camp property near Hubbard Lake, but didn't get his buck. There's going to be a lot of bear steaks on the Vance menu, for some time to come, says Mrs. Vance. Bill bagged the bruin with one shot—(now up Hubbard Lake way they're calling him "One-Shot-Bill") — from a distance of 80 feet. Others in his party had fired at the bear, but didn't hit it.

No Cares 'Til Spring

Season of Year Arrives for Bears to Hibernate

By MORT NEFF

With the coming of Michigan's deep snows and sub-zero temperatures—maybe a bit early this year—a choice clan of our Michigan animals go through the winter the easy way. They hibernate! That's right—nothing to worry about from now 'til springtime . . . just curl up deep down under a big stump and let leaves and snow keep out the cold north winds while they sleep, sleep, sleep! Some perfer a hollow tree high above the ground, but, of course, Mr. Bear, giant of our hibernating mammals, would find it hard indeed to squeeze into a tree trunk, so he clears out a great hollow underneath a mammoth stump for his winter siesta.

NEFF

While it is a popular belief that gray, black and fox squirrels hibernate, such is not the case.

These squirrels, classified as game animals, forage for food throughout the winter months. In the late fall you may see them carefully collecting acrons and nuts, their cheeks puffing with their cargo, hurrying to some secret burial spot to horde the food against a long, cold winter. Alas! Come a time of hunger and they forget where their cache is buried!

Some of the squirrel family such as the woodchuck and chipmunk actually do hibernate, and the destructive and mischevious red squirrel seems to follow no set rule. Some hibernate, others doze off for a few days, then scurry through the pine trees, picking up pine cones here and there which fit into their diet very nicely.

About Thanksgiving time the woodchuck, now fabulously fat and roly-poly, takes a deep breath, crawls into a burrow and literally pulls the burrow in after him by caving in the walls as he goes deeper and deeper.

Activity then ceases completely as he curls up and doesn't move a muscle until March.

30 new places where GM and GM dealers are working together to deliver better service everywhere

AT THE 30 spots on the map here there are fresh new buildings known as General Motors Training Centers.

They have special rooms marked off with the names of the five General Motors cars which GM dealers sell, plus Fisher Body and GMC Truck.

Any General Motors dealer is free to send his mechanics here for special training in the car the dealer sells – and these postgraduate schools of service training are so popular with dealers that thousands of their mechanics have already taken the courses.

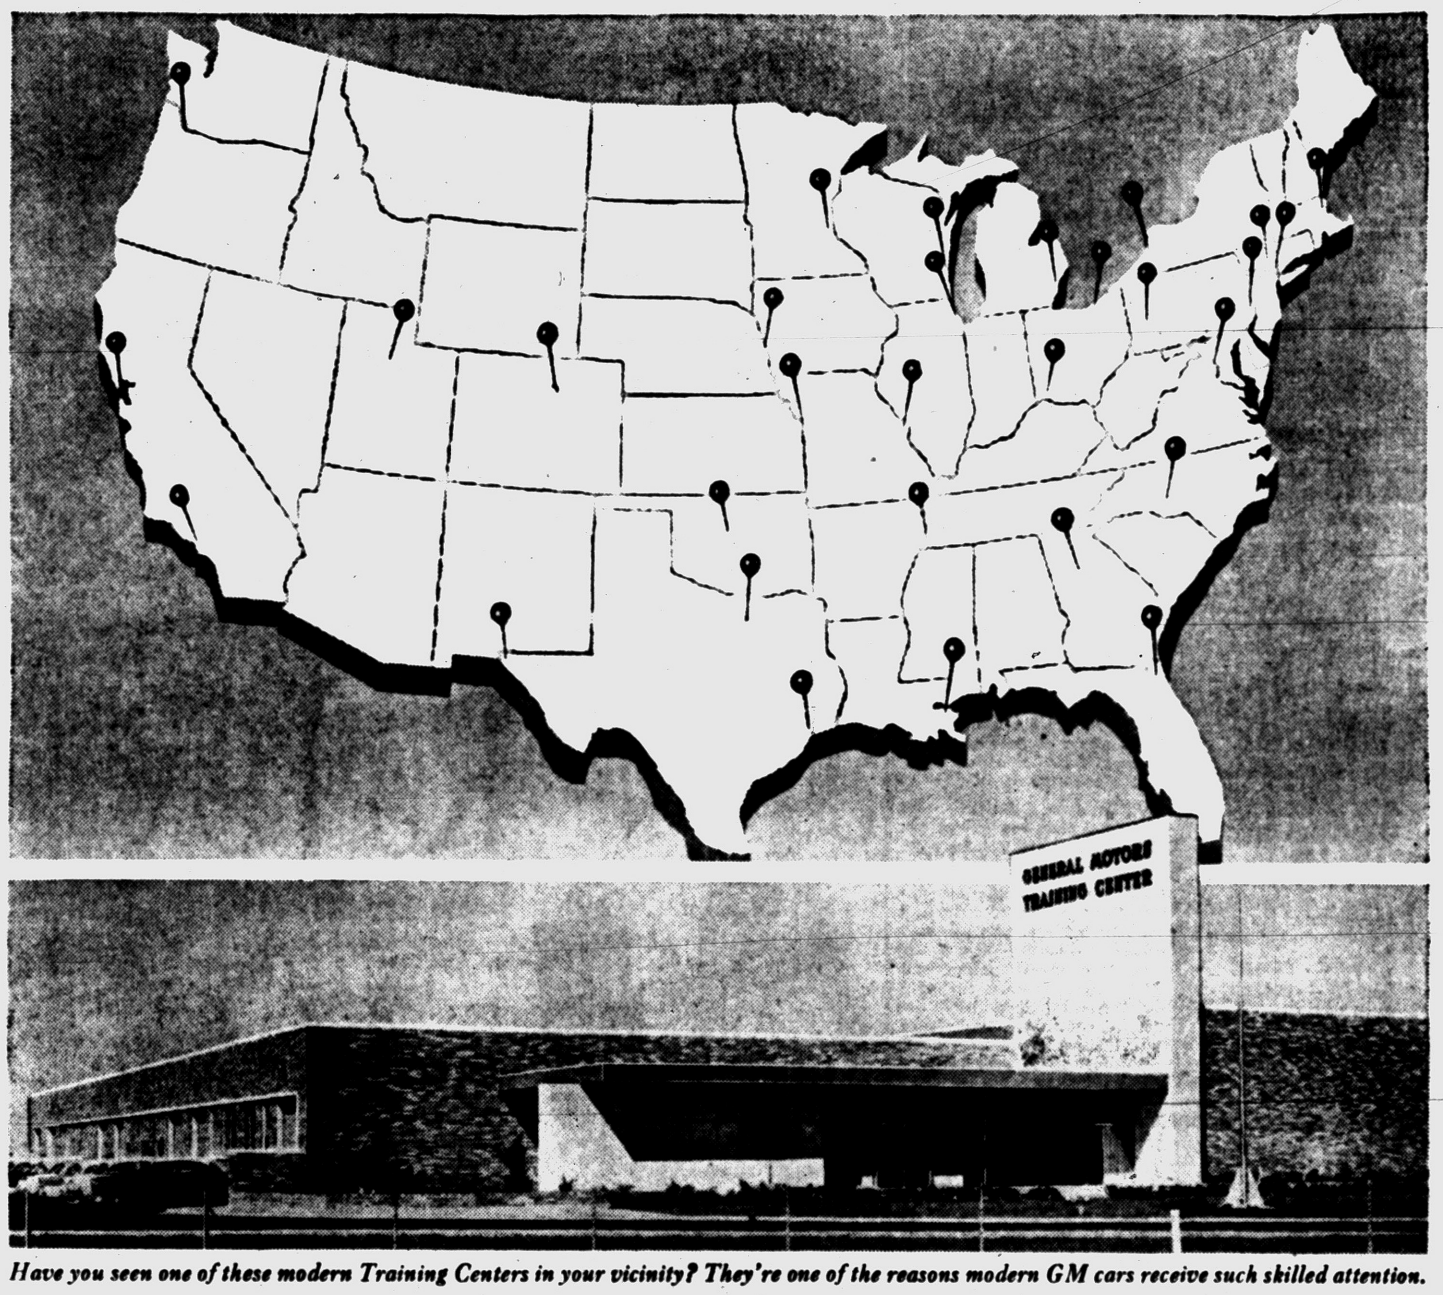

This, we believe, is an excellent example of thinking a responsibility through.

Our engineers are busily developing a steady flow of new engineering improvements, unknown a few years ago.

They had to develop special tools and machines to build them.

So a dealer's mechanics need special tools and machines and skills to give them the care they deserve.

Even an expert mechanic needs to know the engineering principles of a new GM automatic transmission – or a new high-compression V8 engine – power steering, power brakes, and all the new features which make GM cars so desirable. And when it comes to air conditioning – that opens up a whole new field to the man who, up to this time, has been a master at fixing automobiles.

Have you seen one of these modern Training Centers in your vicinity? They're one of the reasons modern GM cars receive such skilled attention.

The new tools in GM factories call for new tools for GM dealer service mechanics. Their use is a part of the nationwide training program attended by thousands.

We're glad – but not surprised – to say that General Motors car dealers have been quick to take advantage of these new facilities.

They and we have accomplished a lot together in recent years.

And if we're going to keep on leading the parade, the surest way to deserve success is to take good care of the millions who buy our cars each year.

GOP May Agree to Fund Probe

State Republican Heads Accede to Investigation if Dems Also Consent

LANSING (AP)—State Republican leaders said today they have no objection to a senatorial investigation of Republican party finances in Michigan provided a similar investigation of Democratic party finances is held.

John Feikens, Republican state chairman, wrote Sen. Thomas C. Hennings (D-Mo) a letter outlining Republican attitude toward the proposed investigation. Hennings is chairman of the Senate Elections subcommittee investigating campaign spending.

Feikens said all the recrods of Republican party financing in Michigan are "readily accessible, are accurate and scrupulously follow the provisions of federal and state law."

"But you will also find a great deal of difficulty in getting an accurate and true picture of Democrat party financing because the political leadership of the large labor organizations which contribute money and manpower to the Democrat party make no filing of their contributions and expenditures as required by federal and state laws," Feikens said.

Feikens accused Democratic party leaders of operating in "total disregard of the law" and in disregard of the thinking of most of their members.

Feikens' letter followed closely a request from Zneil Staebler, Democratic state chairman, that vestigate Republican spending in Michigan.

World Population Up

CHICAGO (INS) — The world's population is now estaimted at 2,620,000,000 people in the centennial edition of the Rand McNally Cosmopolitan World Atlas, the figure represents an estimated increase of 120,000,000 since 1950 and 380,000,000 since 1939.

Hal Boyle Says:

Yes, Indeed, This Tale Does Have a Moral

NEW YORK (AP)—A fable:

Once upon a time there was a horribly rich old man. He stacked money in towers and spread it around in wistful trees.

When the leaves had fallen, he replaced them with $1,000 bills.

This horribly rich old man was an heredity prince, whose father had been a king who had had his head lopped off by the common people.

Well, naturally, as the horribly rich prince survived and grew older and older he distrusted the common people more and more.

So he withdrew into a castle on a hilltop where he could enjoy his money trees undisturbed. But he had a daughter, the beauteous princess, Alva. She became lonely and wept, and the echo of her weeping floated down and in time disturbed the common people, so that they cried sternly:

"Our princess must have a husband."

* * *

The horribly rich old prince, remembering the guillotine fate of his father, figured it was time to throw a fig to popular demand.

He surrounded his mountain citadel with mirror glass, then announced that any man who climbed it would have his daughter's hand.

Well, knights and princes from far lands came and tried to surmount the hill of glass. But one after the other they only climbed until they were tired, paused to admire their reflection in the mirrored glass, then lost their strength and slid down hill to defeat.

* * *

They strove and departed year after year.

And year after year Otis, the local milkman, came to the bottom of the hill and sent his wares to the top of the hill in a lowered silver bucket, and never tried to climb the hill at all. And after many years, when all the princes had failed, he looked up and saw the fair face of Alva, the golden princess, smiling down at him. She was a princess, but she was lonely, and the milkman was there to see.

* * *

One day Otis slipped a note among his milk bottles in the silver bucket, and the note said:

"I love you, dear princess. Slide down the hill to me tomorrow night and we will elope."

The message went up the hill in the silver bucket. There is some doubt about what happened afterward. Some say the princess slid voluntarily down the hill of glass to her waiting lover. Others say her father pushed her.

* * *

But they all lived happily ever after. Otis put Alva to work and quickly built the country's largest dairy with his slogan — "Princess-delivered milk." And the horribly rich old prince stayed solitary on the top of the hill, content to tend his money trees alone.

Moral: Happiness has its ups and downs.

Dairyman Elected State AAA President

DETROIT (AP)—Charles L. Wilson, who as a youth helped build the world's first mile of concrete highway, is the new president of the Automobile Club of Michigan.

Wilson, a Detroit dairy operator, was elected by the club's board of directors last night to succeed Clarence E. Otter.

Otter reported that the auto club, a branch of the American Automobile Assn. (AAA), now has 450,000 members, more than any other state branch. The club now has 43 offices in Michigan cities, he said.

Wilson's interest in roads began in 1908 when at 17 he drove a team of horses grading roadbed for a concrete highway on Woodward Avenue between Six and Seven Mile Roads in Detroit. It was the world's first such highway.

Dies of Crash Injury

FLINT (AP)—Raymond C. Gross, 54, of Saginaw died Tuesday night of injuries suffered earlier in the day when his car collided with one driven by Robert E. Hansen, 29, of Ferndale on U.S. 10-23 about 15 miles northwest of Flint. Hansen was held by the Saginaw County sheriff's office for failure to stop within a prescribed distance.

Middle East Borderline Causes Plowing Greed

JERUSALEM (AP)—On the world's strangest battlefront, it's winter plowing time, and the plowman carries a gun.

* * *

On both sides of the touchy Israeli-Jordan frontier through the Samarian and Judean hills, plowmen are cutting their furrows right up to the border line.

* * *

On hill crests and in valleys behind them are soldiers in jeeps, with automatic arms and mortars.

When a plowman steps across the line, firing often starts.

On both sides plowmen have given their lives for a few more feet of soil. Some of the soldiers have died too. Much the same thing is happening along Israel's frontiers with Egypt and with Syria.

* * *

This is the fragile truce in the Middle East war where six years of armistice have not brought peace.

* * *

Despite repeated pleas from United Nations truce supervisors, both sides insist on planting their fields to the last inch of the armistice demarcation line. Each side feels this puts a clincher on their claims to the land, against any future negotiation or compromise.

Rochester Christmas Parade to Greet Santa Claus

Village Is Ready for Holiday Season

ROCHESTER — This will be a gala town Saturday, when the annual Christmas parade will again take place, welcoming Santa Claus for his two-week stay in town.

* * *

The parade will form on North Main Street in Rochester and start moving promptly at 2:00 p.m., according to Parade Marshall, Frank Firnschild.

Five bands will fill the air with marching music, as the Rochester High School Band, Lake Orion High School Band, Avondale High School Band, Troy High School Band, and a new Clown Band will be interspersed among the many other entries in the line of march.

Lafayette Maynard, parade chairman, states that already 21 floats as well as 24 other entries have announced their participation. Additional entries are welcome and arrangements can be made by calling Maynard at OL 2-3791 in Rochester.

Santa Claus will arrive as the highlight of the parade and move into his headquarters in the Wright Floor Covering Store, 408 Main St., to greet the kiddies until Christmas Eve.

* * *

The streets of Rochester are decorated for the Christmas season, and music will again be heard along Main Street from parade day until Christmas Eve., according to Hudson G. Hill, Christmas Decorating Chairman.

JOINT EFFORT

This Christmas program in Rochester is made possible through a joint community effort. The Rochester Lions Club sponsors and directs the activities. Financial support is contributed by business, professional, and industrial people. The Rochester Department of Public Works handles the erection of the downtown decorations, under the direction of Village Manager, Robert Slone.

The electrical hookup of the overhead Christmas lights is provided by Clarence Kremer and Francis Voll, both of the Rochester Lions Club. The Detroit Edison arranges for use of its utility poles for decorating purposes and supplies its big Calliope for the parade.

Lion Angus Dahlman of Rochester Greenhouses arranges for the hundreds of yards of evergreen roping.

Bad Weather Hampers Sale

MR. AND MRS. JAMES LEES

The Whole Thing Began With a Few Little Seeds

ROCHESTER—An 11 - year - old girl in Rochester was surprised speechless last Friday afternoon. Margaret Wiggins, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. S. Wiggins, of 322 East St., received a letter and the news it contained was what caused this phenomena.

* * *

Last spring Margaret's mother purchased a couple of bottles of laundry starch. Attached to the bottles were a packet of zinnias and one of marigold seeds. Margaret planted these seeds in her 4-H garden and exhibited the flowers at the Oakland County 4-H Fair.

Later at the Fall Flower Show of the Rochester branch of the Woman's National Farm and Garden Association she entered an arrangement under Class 13 for children 10-16—an arrangement suitable for a Girl Scout tea-table. She used a brass-bound wooden bucket her great-grandfather had made by hand and filled it with the marigolds in shades of gold. She won a blue ribbon. The Garden Club sponsors the Rochester Variety 4-H Club.

Margaret had noticed that on the back of the seed packets was the announcement of a very simple contest that awarded three prizes. All that was necessary was to send any blue ribbons you had won at a county fair or a flower show together with a 25 word statement of why you liked the manufacturer's product. Margaret did this and was awarded third prize.

* * *

This is just another honor to come to this busy youngster, who is president of her 4-H Project Club, the "Stitch and Chatter Club"; writes a weekly column, "The Rochester 4-H Club News," sings in the Junior Choir of St. Philip's Episcopal Church, is a member of Girl Scout Troop 351.

She is a 6th grader in the Harrison-Central School where she is a member of the Service Squad and also plays the clarinet. In her "spare time," Margaret likes to attend concerts, make her own clothes, raise rabbits and chickends, and bake cookies and cakes.

Farmington Water Drive Approaching Last Stage

FARMINGTON TOWNSHIP — About 350 persons attended a mass meeting at the Junior High School Auditorium last night to hear Dr. J. J. Gadbaw, chairman of the Water Development Committee tell them that the preliminary work of obtaining a water system is in its final stages.

Petitions and questionnaires are now ready to be circulated in all 38 subdivisions in the proposed water district. Six subdivisions already canvassed, report as high as 92 per cent of residents have signed.

In order to become a special assessment district, it will be necessary for 65 per cent of the residents in each subdivision to sign the petitions Dr. Gadbaw emphasized that if a subdivision does not go 65 per cent, it will be excluded.

"There is no reason why this entire area should suffer because a few who have good wells are unwilling to cooperate with their neighbors," Gadbaw said.

One resident asked for an explanation of one question on the questionnaire which reads, "Would you be willing to pay into the township treasury up to $50 per home as a good faith advance on your special assessment?" Dr. Gadbaw pointed out that this is a question, not a promise to pay. An affirmative answer would only serve to indicate to a bonding company the sincerity of the signer and would help to make the bonds more saleable, he added.

SEND SAMPLES

He also pointed out that many wells now in satisfactory operation can become contaminated and urged everyone to have their wells tested. He said that bottles may be obtained from the office of any physician and samples of water should be sent to the Oakland County Board of Health, Pontiac.

"Don't think that just because you now have a well your water problems are solved," he said.

The committee had stated that residents could sign petitions at the meeting however, since petitions were received only minutes before the meeting began, the committee had no opportunity to set up the system by subdivisions.

All residents will be able to sign the petitions.

Then precincts would be broken up into blocks, with a party worker made responsible for each. "In blocks, with a party worker made responsible for each. "In all, we'll need about 4,000 active workers where we currently have about 300," said Ritchie.

The committee will meet here at 3 p.m. in the Hotel Pontiac.

Pictures for Family Make Presents That Brim With Pleasant Memories

Going to a portrait photographer has long been one of the dreaded events in the average male's life.

* * *

Along with visiting the dentist, taking the children to a Saturday afternoon cartoon festival and cleaning the basement on Sunday morning — birdie-looking was something to be avoided at all costs.

Like modern dentists, however, today's photographers make this process as painless as possible. And a portrait is a gift that the average female will treasure forever.

When going to the photographers there are several things to keep in mind.

1. Don't wear your best bib and tucker. That kind of thing went out with buggy whips.

* * *

2. Don't get a fresh haircut. If the little woman has lived with a cave man for thirty years, she will be used to it all by now.

* * *

3. Think of her when getting the picture made. Wear the tie she knit, the suit she likes best. Wear a shirt that fits—not pinches—your neck.

4. Relax. Smile. The photographer will do the rest.

* * *

Once the picture is taken, then the real brain work comes in. A frame must be selected. There are many handsome frames on the market. But there is only one right one for the right woman.

PORTRAITS MAKE A personal and sentimental gift. If the family is scattered, here's a way to bring back memories. Mother might like a dresser-size double frame of Dad and her daughter. Purse-size multiple frames can include the whole family.

Nearly all frames are hinged to stand easily. If she travels frequently, she might like a small portable photo holder. One new frame holds several photos but folds up into a unit no larger than a compact.

Portraits may also be combined with jewelry to make an attractive and lasting gift. Teenagers enjoy identification bracelets with hidden compartments for pictures. The older set may prefer the new line of photo charm bracelets and necklaces.

Redwood Library, built in 1747 in Newport, R.I., is the oldest continuously used library building in America. It is open daily.

Reduced Charge Sought for Dye

Fenton Man's Attorney Submits Petition Asking Less Severe Count

Oakland County Circuit Judge H. Russel Holland has taken under advisement a petition to reduce the severity of an assault charge against a former Fenton village attorney, Prosecutor Frederick C. Ziem revealed today.

Clifford Dye, 53, is now charged with assault with intent to murder in the non-fatal shooting Aug. 26, of Fenton tenant farmer, William C. Clark, 27, who leased three farms owned by Dye's sister. Police said the shooting followed an argument between the two.

Dye's attorney, Clarence L. Smith, has filed a petition to have the charge reduced to felonious assault, Ziem explained. His office opposes the reduction, he added.

The current charge against Dye could bring any number of years in prison up to life. Felonious assault carries a four-year maximum.

Dye's trial has been set for Feb. 14, said Ziem. The accused is free on bond.

Armed Trio Ransacks Redford Twp. Home

DETROIT (AP) — Three armed men, posing as policemen, forced their way into a suburban Redford Township home last night and held a man and two women prisoners for nearly an hour while they ransacked the house.

The fled with $140 when a roomer drove into the driveway.

A year-old child in the house was not harmed.

Police said the trio invaded the home of Fred Rodinsky. They rang the doorbell and with drawn revolvers pushed past the 61-year-old Rodinsky when he answered the door.

They bound Rodinsky with a cord and threw him on a couch. Then they brought Rodinsky's wife, and a roomer, Mrs. Leonora Salani, 22, from their upstairs rooms. Mrs. Salani had her daughter, Elisa, with her.

The two women were forced at gunpoint to sit near Rodinsky. Two of the men ransacked the house while the third guarded Rodinsky and the women.

The three ran from the house and escaped in a car when Mrs. Salani's husband, Joseph, drove up.

Hollywood Headlines:

Teenagers Pull Surprise by Honoring Older Stars

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS

HOLLYWOOD (INS) — There are some surprises among the winners of the seventh annual Bobby-soxers of America national poll as voted by 34,783 youngsters from coast to coast.

For instance, the bobbysoxers have voted Olivia de Havilland in "Not as a Stranger" as their favorite actress of the year! The favorite actor of the kids is John Wayne.

This certainly leaves many of the younger stars, whom you might expect to win the acclaim of this very young group, out in the cold.

Their favorite "comedy-dancer" comes up Gene Nelson because of his fine hoofing in "Oklahoma!" Winning male singer is Perry Como because "he is a perfect dreamboat." Peggy Lee is the chosen femme singer. Janis Paige wins favorite comedienne honors.

Okay, bring on your polls—there will be dozens of them before the season ends.

CAN SHE TAKE IT?

Can Marilyn Monroe take a satire on herself? Well, if 20th buys "Will Success Spoil Rock Hunter?" a thinly disguised story featuring Marilyn and other Hollywood characters, and if Marilyn plays herself, I'd say she can take it.

Hollywood agent Irving Lazar is just back from New York, and he tells me when Marilyn returns 20th for "Bus Stop" she is willing to play in "Will Success Spoil Rock Hunter?" because she likes the author, George Axelrod.

She was in heaven with her last picture, "Seven-Year Itch," also by Axelrod.

Very smart maneuver on the part of William Goetz, who tied up the rights to the hit song, "Autumn Leaves," and is now changing Joan Crawford's picture, "The Way We Are," to the title of the song, "Autumn Leaves" will be the recurring theme throughout the picture.

There's quite a story about this tune. It was recorded more than 20 times during the past five years, but nothing sensational happened until pianist Roger Williams waxed it and it became an almost overnight hit.

Very true that Kim Novak will be joined by Mack Krim at Christmas at the home of her family in Chicago, but Kim says there will be no marriage at holiday time.

Kim, now in New York, long-distanced me to day, "I am not in love with Frank Sinatra. He was very kind to me in the first picture I made away from the studio, but I love Mack.

"He has telephoned me every day and sent flowers. I'll marry him someday, but not at Christmas."

Kim said she has been posing for the cover of Look. She wins an award and Milton Greene, Marilyn Monroe's photographer, is making the picture.

STORK EXPECTED

Snapshots of Hollywood collected at random: The David Mays (he's the May Co. heir) expect their second child the middle of June. Rita, who is the daughter of Mrs. Mervyn Le Roy, has been ordered by her doctor to spend as much time in bed as possible. She lost a baby in May.

Joan Benny Baker leaves for Reno right after New Year's Day to obtain a divorce from Seth Baker. Will Joan marry Buddy Rudolph when she's free? That seems to be the general opinion.

Vivian Blaine will file for a California divorce against Manny Frank after the first of the year.

Eleanor Parker and Paul Clemens leave for New York this week to be gone through the holidays.

A very nice small dinner party was the one David Hearst gave celebrating his and his twin, Randolph Hearst's natal day.

Phil Silvers' brother and manager, Harry, is having a serious romance with Sylvia Weiner, the Arthur Murray dance teacher.

Pontiac Lake Youth Confesses Breakins

A 17-year-old Pontiac Lake youth arrested in Standish for breaking into two hunting cabins there has confessed to three Pontiac area breakins, Oakland County Sheriff's deputies disclosed today.

William McMasters, who told police his address is 2609 Tackels Rd., reportedly confessed to the two Standish breakins and to three more in this area. They were the Dixie Bait Shop, 6547 Dixie Highway, Carl G. Pulvermacher's machine shop, 6687 Dixie Highway, and from a log cabin on Gale Road owned by Vern A. Knack.

Sheriff's deputies here cooperated with Arenac County Sheriff's deputies and State Police of the East Tawas post to obtain McMaster's confession.

Vetoes Oppose 'Member Plan'

Debate End Expected Tonight for Admitting 18 Nations to U.N.

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—The U.N.'s Political Committee headed for a vote today on a proposal to admit 18 applicants for U.N. membership. But the key test will come in the Security Council, where the plan faces two veto threats.

* * *

Determined to reach a decision today, committee chairman Prince Wan Waithayakon of Thailand scheduled morning, afternoon and night sessions to wind up debate.

CHIANG WILL VETO

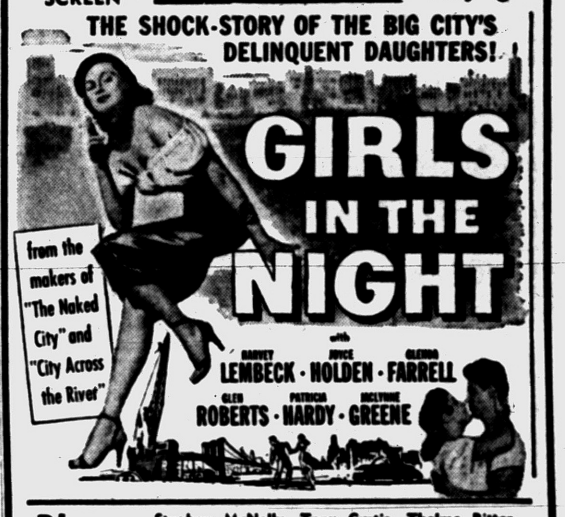

Nationalist China has served notice she will veto Red Outer Mongolia if need be to make sure that Asian state does not get Council approval. Russia in turn has promised to blackball all 13 non-Communist candidates if the five Red applicants fail to make the grade.

Diplomats appealed to China to refrain from the veto, warning that it might cost her vital support the next time the Russians bring up their perennial demand to seat Red China.

Legal experts have been trying to find some way of bypassing the veto which has kept all new members out of the U.N. for the past five years.

War Is Hell—and Expensive

Military Budget Exceeds Pre-Pearl Harbor Totals

By ELTON C. FAY

WASHINGTON (AP) — Fourteen years after Pearl Harbor the United States is still faced with the necessity of spending more than 35 billion dollars annually for defense—more than five times the amount for the year just preceding the Japanese attack.

On this anniversary of American entry into World War II, Pentagon fiscal officials were putting into final shape a budget estimate for the next fiscal year which Secretary of Defense Charles E. Wilson says will show no "major" change from the current year's spending figure.

PRETTY TOUGH

Wilson, emerging from a conference at Gettysburg with President Eisenhower yesterday, said he thought military spending in the fiscal year beginning next July 1 could be held at about 34½ billions—but it would be "pretty tough" to do.

* * *

The fiscal year in which Pearl Harbor occurred, including six months of the war, saw a defense expenditure of $23,572,000,000. Even before that, the budget had begun to climb as the nation built up its armaments. If had mounted from $1,559,900,000 in the year ended June 30, 1940, to $6,071,000,000 the following year.

MAY LEVEL OFF

Wilson has indicated that he expects Pentagon spending to level off, if no major changes occur in the international situation, at about the current rate for the next several years.

The estimates of defense spending that appear in the Pentagon budget are not all the money that goes to armament.

* * *

There is in addition a sizable sum, perhaps as much as two billion dollars, for atomic weapons. For reasons of security, the precise annual cost of nuclear weapon production is never made public but about $1,910,000,000 of items labled as "major national security" are tabulated in this year's atomic budget totals.

Emphasis for the last three years has been on new weapons, particularly air-atomic power. Indications are that this will be even greater in the forthcoming budget.

As new weapons begin to accumulate, Pentagon planners hope to reduce the annual outlay for the older, more conventional equipment.

Historians Revising Tale of John Smith?

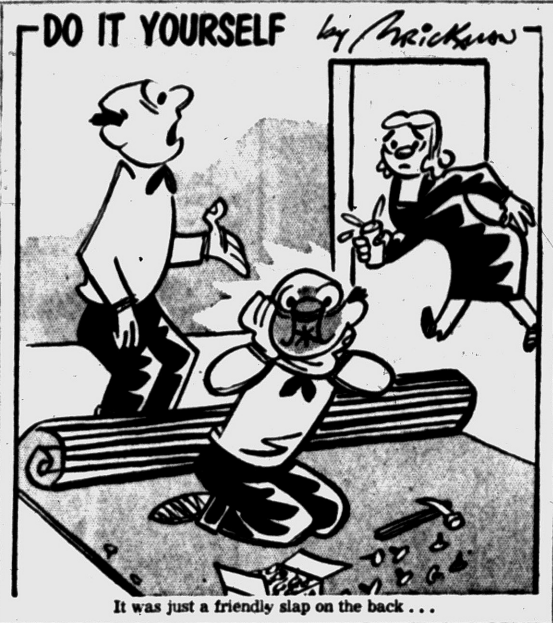

RICHMOND, Va. (AP) — Captain John Smith of Virginia's Jamestown Colony was saved from the Indians by Pocahontas but nobody saved him from the historians.

And more's the pity, says Dr. Jay B. Hubbell, professor emeritus of American literature at Duke University, a man who thinks a good story is a fine thing for the nation to have around.

A really good story, he said in a lecture at the University of Richmond, would have had the Indian princess marrying the doughty captain. Then, he added, they might have been the forebearers of a great American line that would have included George Washington, Patrick Henry and Robert E. Lee. But historians just won't have it so and America doesn't have anything akin to Virgil's Aeneid.

Benson Rumor Boosts Wheat

CHICAGO (AP)—A report Agriculture Secretary Benson was considering restoring 90 per cent of parity price supports for "top quality" products, particularly wheat, sent July and September wheat futures up more than two cents at times on the Board of Trade today.

Action of these 1956 wheat crop months had a firming influence on the old crop deliveries, although gains there were mostly limited to fractions. After an irregular opening most other cereals eased but dealings proceeded at a relatively slow pace.

Wheat near the end of the first hour was ⅜ to 2¼ higher, December $2.07¼; corn ¼ lower to ½ higher, December $1.26⅝; oats ⅛ to ¼ lower, December 63⅜; rye ¼ to ½ higher, December $1.13; soybeans ¼ to 1 cent lower, January $2.36, and lard unchanged to 2 cents a hundred pounds lower, December $10.50.

Frankfurt Blast Kills 26 People

Gas Explosion Destroys German City Apartment —7 Children Die

FRANKFURT, Germany (AP)—A terrific gas explosion destroyed a new apartment building in mid-town Frankfurt before dawn today. Twenty-six Germans, including seven children, were believed killed.

The blast smashed the five-story building like a blockbuster bomb. The roof and all the walls crashed with a roar heard two miles away.

* * *

Five persons in night clothes, including a small girl, were rescued and rushed to hospitals. Two bodies were found.

Police said five hours after the blast they believed 25 persons were still buried in the wreckage. They held only scant hope that any were still alive.

A U. S. Army Engineer unit rushed heavy bulldozers to help police and firemen who began the frantic clearing operation under floodlights. American soldiers joined in carting off mortar and bricks.

It was the worst disaster of its kind in postwar Germany. In 1954 a four-story building in Cologne exploded, killing four persons and injuring eight.

The new building was occupied by 12 families who had moved in only two weeks ago. Though some persons were away at the time, the rest were trapped in pajamas and nightgowns when the blast shattered the building at 5:40 p.m.

"It looked as if a big bomb hit the building," one eyewitness said.

Taylor Twp. Women Watch From Walk

DETROIT (AP)—A group of women in suburban Taylor Township failed today in an attempt to renew their blockade at a Telegraph Road (U.S. 24) intersection.

Crusading for a traffic light, the women held up traffic yesterday by lying prone on the pavement.

Police of the sheriff's road patrol kept the women off the pavement today. The women watched from the roadside as officers briefly halted cars and trucks to permit school buses to make turns at the intersection.

The women insist that a traffic light is needed at the Telegraph-Cypress Road intersection to protect school children who cross the road by bus and on foot.

The state highway department, in registering a request for the signal, suggested that school buses be re-routed.

Garden of Eden for Birds

KUSHIRO, Japan (AP) — Japan's white, scarlet-crested Sacred Cranes are going to live henceforth in plush surroundings on this northernmost island of Hokkaido. City fathers are building what they call "a well guarded and well organized palatial abode" complete with gardens, bathing pools and nursery grounds for the Sacred Cranes. So far as is known, the breed exists nowhere else in Japan.

Retail Stores Report

Chicago—Since 1948 the number of American retail food stores with 100 per cent self-service meat departments has climbed from 178 to 11,500.

Of the nine billion dollars spent for meat in the nation's retail stores last year, about 40 per cent was handled by self-service departments.

Any Weird Book Marks? Here's a Strange List

HARRISBURG, Pa. (AP) — Some people use very peculiar book markers. Just ask Dan Healey, director of the Harrisburg Public Library.

Among items taken from returned books are:

A 100-year-old marriage license, a social security card, an unopened letter, pads of paper and a picture of a curly-haired girl under a Christmas tree.

Real Explosion Dream

SYLCACAUGA, Ala. (AP) — L. H. Dillard dreamed he was on a river bank discharging dynamite. Boom! Boom! Boom!

The third boom knocked him out of bed and he picked himself up in the wrecked bedroom of his combination home and store which had been smashed by an automobile.

State Patrolman Bill Summerlin said William J. Goodwin went to sleep while driving down a steep hill. The car went down an embankment, hurdled a ditch and crashed into the Dillard house at a point about 200 yards from the highway.

Divergent Trend Seen in Market

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market was mixed today in early dealings.

There not only was a mixture of prices, but there also was a divergent trend among major divisions.

The range of change was somewhat narrow for most stocks, but some pushed gains or losses to around 3 points at the outside.

The steels and aircrafts, both enjoying top business in their fields, were higher while the rails and motors were lower. Oils and chemicals were mixed.

Among rising stocks were Bethlehem Steel, Boeing, United Aircraft, RCA, and Texas Co.

Lower were General Motors, Du Pont, Westinghouse Electric, American Can, Baltimore & Ohio, and Seaboard Railroad.

Open Hearings on Gas Pipeline

Commission to Confer With Detroit Concern on Marketing Plans

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Federal Power Commission hearing was called today on natural gas marketing plans of the American Louisiana Pipe Line Co.

The Detroit concern, a subsidiary of the American Natural Gas Co., is building a 130-million-dollar, 1,172-mile pipeline from Louisiana to Detroit.

Before the commission was American Louisiana's plan for distributing the 300 million cubic feet of gas the new line will supply each day.

Two thirds of the gas would go to Michigan Consolidated Gas Co., Detroit utility firm, and one third to the Michigan Wisconsin Pipe Line Co. Both are affiliates of American-Louisiana.

American-Louisiana also seeks approval for construction of 117 miles of pipeline from a point on its system near Payne, Ohio, to a junction with the Michigan-Wisconsin pipeline near Bridgman, Mich.

The hearing, in addition, will consider proposals of the two affiliates to build facilities necessary to pipe the gas from American Louisiana.

At the same time, the commission is considering the applications of two utility companies which seek supplies of gas from Michigan Wisconsin and American Louisiana.

The companies are the Illinois Power Co., which wants to serve Cambridge, Ill., and Lincoln Natural Gas Co., Inc., which wants to serve Rockport, Ind.

The Panhandle Eastern Pipe Line Co., competitor of the American Natural system in the Detroit area market, has intervened in the proceeding.

Seeking permission to intervene is the Midwestern Gas Transmission Co., which has applied for authority to distribute Canadian Gas in Minnesota and Wisconsin.

Claim Steel Output Sold Until Mid-1956

NEW YORK (INS)—The magazine Iron Age reported today that steel mill production is sold out for the first six months of 1956.

Simultaneously, the publication revealed that the steel scrap market is running wild, with prices jumping $2.50 a ton to an all-time high of 49.50. This compares with the previous peak of $64.15, reached in 1951.

As a result of the steady rise in steel production costs, exemplified by the hike in scrap prices, Iron Age predicted that it is only a matter of time before price boosts are announced on all major products.

In the meantime, the publication noted that base prices and extras are steadily going up, and with the steel companies in need of funds to finance expansion, high prices appeared to be the most direct way to get it.

Iron Age pointed out that with consumers grasping for every pound of steel they can get, this appeared as good a time as any to revise the price structure.

Report Sales Increase

CHICAGO (INS) — International Harvester Co. today reported sales of $260,000,000 for the fourth quarter ended Oct. 31, an increase of approximately 13 per cent over the corresponding August-through-October period of 1954.

GM Training Center Opens in Pittsburgh

The last of 30 training centers for mechanics employed by General Motors car and truck dealerships was formally opened in Pittsburgh Tuesday. The new center is expected to bring to 150,000 the number of employes who can be trained annually.

Students at the centers include, besides dealership personnel, mechanics from independent repair garages and firms owning General Motors vehicle fleets.

First of the centers, and the largest, was opened for classes in 1953. According to President Harlow H. Curtice, GM is the first company to train mechanics on a comparable scale.

Organized as dual-purpose plants, the centers can be used in case of a national emergency for instruction in the maintenance and repair of GM defense products, Curtice said.

Weekly Steel Output to Approach Capacity

NEW YORK (AP) — The nation's steel mills will operate at 98.8 per cent of capacity this week and produce 2,384,000 tons of ingots and steel for castings, the American Iron & Steel Institute said today.

The institute reported that production last week amounted to 2,356,000 tons which was 97.6 per cent of capacity.

A month ago, mills ran at 99.6 per cent of capacity and output totaled 2,404,000 tons. A year ago operations were at 82.1 per cent and production came to 1,958,000 tons.

London's History Always Relived

Old-World Areas Give Tourists and Englishmen Glimpse Into Past

LONDON — Storybook images come to life in this city of David Copperfield and Peter Pan. At every turn, across the town from Hampstead Heath to the Tower, London captures the imagination.

A prime attraction in London is the changing of the guard at Buckingham Palace each morning at 10:30. This bit of pomp and pageantry, which dates back across the centuries, is shared by five guard regiments.

Nearby is St. James Park. Here are the King's birds including two pelicans named Peter and Paul. From Ft. James you can climb the Duke of York Steps, where, according to the nursery rhyme, the old Duke marched his ten thousand men up and down again.

Another open air favorite is Kensington Gardens. Here stands a statue of Peter Pan, its pedestal peopled with fairies and tiny animals. Nearby small boys and retired admirals sail their model yachts in the famous Round Pond. A boatman is on hand to rescue the little ships which fail to make the crossing.

Kensington Gardens and Hyde Park combine to form one great open patch of greenery in the heart of the bustling city. Since the time of Henry VIII when royal hunters followed the chase over these fields, the Park has been one of London's most fashionable open-air resorts.

On a sunny afternoon, one can lie on the grass and watch the kites soar overhead, row on the Serpentine, sit beneath the trees at an outdoor cafe or catch a glimpse of the horsemanship on Rotten Row.

The Londoner's favorite playground is Hampstead Heath, a short ride from Central London by bus or subway. Here children follow the hurdy-gurdy man and ride on "roundabouts", as they call the merry-go-round.

GM Official Urges Schools to Aid Paper

EAST LANSING (AP)—Newspapers can make friends for the schools just as they have for industry, a General Motors executive told a state-wide school board conference at Michigan State University.

* * *

G. Patrick O'Connell, GM's assistant director of industrial relations, said newspapers accused of giving only one side of a story usually get cooperation only from one side.

He advised school administrators to work closely with editors and reporters so their story can be told in clear language that will be easily understood.

O'Connell told how General Motors recently called in reporters to explain the closing of a non-paying plant in a small town. This way, he said, the corporation avoided criticism through misunderstanding.

* * *

O'Connell said industry had only recently started to recognize its responsibility to the community. Schools, he said, should learn the same lesson.

One acre out of every 10 planted in the United States still is lost to insect damage.

Missing Wyoming Wife Encased in Cement Tomb

CASPER, Wyo. (AP)—A woman's skeleton, chipped by police hammers from a concrete tomb in the home of a respected family of seven, has started a bizarre investigation.

The grisly find solved the disappearance 29 months ago of Mrs. Barbara Alexander, 27. But in turn it led to new and macabre puzzles.

Mrs. Alexander's body, the hands clutching a rude cross at the chest, was found in the basement of the east Casper home of her husband James, 48, a former schoolteacher here.

"The body was pointed out to us by the person who buried it," said Natrona County Atty. Ray Whittaker. "That person was Mrs. Rose Alexander."

FIRST WIFE

Rose Alexander is James' first and also his present wife. Married some years ago, they had two children and later were divorced. Whittaker said. Alexander then married Barbara Alexander, who had two children by a previous marriage and one by Alexander. All the children lived at the Alexanders' home here.

* * *

Rose Alexander, in a statement to officers, said Barbara's death was accidental. No charges have been filed.

Barbara Alexander vanished in July 1953, but, for reasons not explained, her disappearance was not reported by Alexander until "about nine months later," the county attorney said.

DEATH RETOLD

Asked by the missing woman's parents at Hardin, Mont., to continue an investigation, police questioned the present Mrs. Alexander. On Monday, Police Chief C. J. Carter said, Mrs. Rose Alexander signed a statement relating these details:

* * *

She went to the Alexander home in 1953, Barbara came to the door and stumbled against a pile of bricks. The bricks toppled, killing her. Rose, shocked and frightened, dragged the body into the house and returned several days later to bury it in the basement.

Alexander was building the home, and the basement was unfinished. Carter said the body apparently was placed in dry cement, then was wet down and covered with dirt and a concrete floor.

WHERE WAS HE?

Where was Alexander at the time his wife was killed? Where were the five children? Police say they do not know.

Sometime after the incident, Rose Alexander returned to live with her former husband.

* * *

Alexander resigned as a shop instructor at Casper High School last spring, and in August he and his family moved to Worland, Wyo., where he works as a machinist. The home here was left unoccupied.

BEGAN DRILLING

Acting on Mrs. Rose Alexander's statement and at her direction, police began drilling in the basement Monday night. At first they were unsuccessful. Then the Alexanders' pet dog, a St. Bernard, came to the basement and whimpered over a spot in another corner.

Officers dug there, and within minutes unearthed the body.

Alexander identified a wedding ring on the hand of the dead woman as one he had given Barbara.

Police permitted Alexander and his wife to return to their home overnight.

GM Is Praised for Cooperation

O'Mahoney Lauds Act Taken by Company to Aid Retail Dealers

WASHINGTON (AP) — Top officials of General Motors got some praise from Sen. O'Mahoney (D-Wyo) today plus a request for their ideas on solving other problems of the auto industry.

O'Mahoney told reporters he hopes that Ford and Chrysler will follow the surprise move of General Motors in extending its one-year retail dealer contracts to five years.

GM President Harlow H. Curtice announced the longer-term agreements at the start of yesterday's public hearing by O'Mahoney's Senate Antitrust and Monopoly subcommittee.

"We are very much indebted to GM for the frank way in which they have met issues as they were presented," O'Mahoney said as he asked additional testimony before the subcommittee.

He termed the extended contract "at least one step—a short step" in improving the lot of the retail auto dealer.

The subcommittee has been conducting what O'Mahoney calls a study of GM as the largest industry in the nation and the world.

Army Gives Cadillac $23 Million Gun Job

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Army has announced award of a 23½ million dollar contract to the Cadillac Division of General Motors for production of the M42 twin 40-mm. self-propelled gun.

The guns will be produced at the Cleveland, Ohio, tank plant of Cadillac, starting next May. The Army said that employment at the Cleveland plant "will remain at approximately the present level."

The twin mount gun is installed on a tank chassis. It is a dual-purpose weapon, for close-in air defense and for ground troops.

11th Firm Boosts Newsprint Prices

MONTREAL (AP) — Consolidated Paper Corp. Ltd. today became the eleventh Canadian company to increase its newsprint price when it gave notice of a $4-a-ton boost, effective Jan. 1.

The new price will be $130 a ton delivered in New York, a spokesman said.

The increases have brought widespread protest and a threat by Premier Maurice Duplessis to impose price controls unless Quebec newspapers get "price conditions that take into account their status as co-owners of the forests."

Colleges Urged to End Bickering

UM Education Session Told Joint Effort Will Serve Public Best

ANN ARBOR (UP) — Educators from over the U.S. and Michigan study problems of private and public colleges and universities today in the second session of the conference on higher education.

* * *

Several speakers presented their views yesterday at the University of Michigan where the ninth annual conference is being held.

Arthur G. Coons, president of Occidental College, Los Angeles, said that public and private institutions would have to find a way to live together and quit their petty bickering.

"There are fanatics on both sides of the fence," he said, "and these should be curbed at whatever cost or it will be impossible to promote further the friendly partnership of public and private education."

The American system is one of dual higher education, he said. Both private and public colleges "are expected to serve public ends, not purely private ends," he added.

University of Michigan President Harlan Hatcher told the 225 presidents and deans of 42 Michigan private and state supported colleges that methods of working more closely together must be found.

"All of our joint efforts will be taxed to fulfill our mission," he said.

People in the United States will eat four more pounds of meat per person in 1955 than they did in 1954.

Local Bus System Use Urged to Cut Congestion

City Commissioner John E. Carry (District 6) suggested to the City Commission last night that the Chamber of Commerce and local merchants encourage citizens to use local transit systems in order to eliminate traffic congestion within the city.

Just recently returned from a four-day American Municipal Congress in Miami, Commissioner Carry said he noticed that the "traffic problem not only affected towns of Pontiac size but those larger and those smaller."

He added that he believed that the merchants should establish a delivery system to aid shoppers that would use the public bus lines.

Commissioner Roy V. Cooley (District 1) sided with Carry on the matter. "Traffic congestion involves pedestrians, automobiles, on and off-street parking, the flow of the traffic, the widening of streets, but I believe a lot of these can be lessened by use of other means of transportation," Cooley said.

"It was discovered at the meeting in Florida that the cheapest way to solve congestion problems was use of public transit system," Carry added.

"With a little bit of cooperation between the Chamber of Commerce and merchants and the public, we can relieve this situation."

City Manager Walter K. Willman noted the decrease in use of public transportation by stating that in November 1954, 323,000 persons employed city buses while last month only 303,000 rode the buses.

No Criminal Trials in December Term

No criminal jury trials will be held during the December term of Oakland County Circuit Court which began Monday and runs through January, according to Prosecutor Frederick C. Ziem.

The three circuit judges decided they would have to concentrate on reducing the heavy load of civil cases, said Ziem, and not call a criminal jury until the February court term.

More than 100 criminal cases will be ready for trial in February, he added.

Policeman Injured in 2-Car Collision

A Pontiac policeman is hospitalized and another driver jailed after a head-on collision on Perry St. last night.

The officer, Sgt. Carl P. Colando, 37, of 150 S. Edith St., is in good condition in Pontiac General Hospital, suffering fractured ribs and multiple lacerations.

Calvin T. White, 27, of 314 E. Pike St., was treated for bruises before being charged with driving under the influence of liquor.

Witnesses said that White was going south at a high rate of speed on the wrong side of the street when he smashed into Colando's car just south of Huron St.

Another driver identified White by his license number as the man who sideswiped his car a few minutes earlier on E. Walton Blvd. Gerald Reamer, 16, of 2133 Walnut Rd., said he chased the car down Perry St. to get the license number.

Favor Committee to Assist Johnsons

The City Commission will recommend to Mayor William W. Donaldson tomorrow that he appoint a committee to aid the stricken Johnson family.

The Johnsons lost three children when their home caught fire last month. Their other two children are recovering from the fire in the hospital.

The recommendation was suggested by Commissioner Floyd P. Miles after last night's City Commission session. "It will aid the family in handling the hundreds of dollars being donated by citizens of Pontiac," he said.

Pearl Harbor—Navy Remember Her Valiant Dead

PEARL HARBOR (UP) — Fourteen years after the Japanese attack on Pearl Harbor, Navy clubs today dedicate a memorial to the dead in a ceremony on a platform on the sunken battleship Arizona. The actual unveiling takes place later on nearby Ford Island.

Killed in the attack were 3,303 military personnel, of whom 3,077 were Navy men. Of the latter, 1,102 — from an admiral to apprentice seamen — still are entombed in the Arizona.

Installation Planned for Clark J. Adams

The Oakland County Bar Assn. is planning an installation ceremony for Clark J. Adams, who takes office as the county's fourth circuit judge next month.

The proceedings are slated for Jan. 3 at 11 a.m. in the county courthouse.

The bar association committee planning the event consists of attorneys John W. Bell, William H. Wilmot and C. Bryan Kinney.

State Administrators Delay Approval of New Kalkaska Air Base Land Lease

LANSING (UP) — The State Administrative Board today continued to delay approval of a lease between the state and the Army for the 8,000-acre site of the new Kalkaska Air Force Base.

* * *

The lease has already been approved by the Conservation Commission. It is now before the building committee of the State Administrative Board.

Aud. Gen. Victor Targonski, chairman of the committee, said the lease was tabled at a Nov. 30 meeting of the committee and left on the table during yesterday's meeting of the Administrative Board.

"We hope to act on it by the next meeting of the administrative board," Targonski said. "In the meantime, we'll have to get together with the Army people and iron out some of the wrinkles."

"Apparently no one read the thing before they approve it," Targonski said. "The Department of Administration approved a tentative draft but never saw the final version."

TAX SNARL

The document provides that the state will lease some 8,000 acres of state-owned land in the Au Sable National Forest to the Army for $1 a year. The land lies about two miles west of Kalkaska.

Targonski said one of the committee's principal objections to the present form of the lease was that it requires the state to pay the 10-cent an acre tax the state pays to counties in lieu of taxes on state-owned land.

"We don't feel the state should get $1 a year from the army and pay out some $80 a year," Targonski said.

He said the committee also objected to the wording of a clause dealing with return of the land to the state after expiration of the lease.

CLAUSE OBJECTION

"The lease provides that the Army will remove installations only to one foot below the surface of the ground," Targonski said. "It might be very expensive to excavate below that if the state wanted to reclaim the land."

The committee also objects to the wording of a clause reserving mineral rights for the state, Targonski said.

"As the agreement is now drawn up," Targonski said, "the state reserves mineral rights but can't remove any minerals unless it gets written permission of the base commanding officer."

PRIVATE RESERVE

This might lead to a situation where private interests would drill for oil on neighboring land, drain off oil from the state land while the state was blocked from drilling wells on the base.

Targonski said the committee is also unhappy about a provision that prohibits fishing on two lakes and a river in the reservation except for military personnel and "their guests."

"We envision a private military fishing reserve at the expense of the people of the state," the Auditor General said.

About a mile and a half of the south branch of the Boardman River lies within the air base site. The reservation also includes 160-acre Island Lake and half of Smith Lake.

Under the lease approved by the Conservation Commission, hunting would be prohibited to servicemen and civilians inside the reservation.

Milan Remembers Its GIs With Christmas Presents

MILAN (UP) — Operation Every-Citizen-a-Santa-Claus is winding up after several weeks work to insure that every Milan serviceman is remembered by his home town at Christmas.

* * *

Milan, believed to be one of the few communities in the country with such a project, sends a box of candy, cookies and personal needs to every one of its 104 men and women in the Armed Forces.

The whole community of 3,500 pitches in to help. Tradespeople contribute wares for the packages. Women bake cookies and make candy; the men do the packing job.

Money for the project has been raised by everything from a fish fry to a hog raffle. The boxes contain fruit cake, hard candies, nuts, razor blades, playing cards, stationery and stamps.

The program started back in 1950 when Ted Woodruff, a World War I veteran, recalled the loneliness of his first Christmas away from home. With a few other men helping, he borrowed enough money to send $5 to each of 55 Milan servicemen in Korea.

Raffles, bake sales and individual contributions returned enough money to repay the loan. The following year the project was expanded to include those in the states as well as overseas.

Corresponding secretary of the project is Mrs. Melvin Flower, who has the big job of keeping all records of addresses, birthdays and discharges so that packages don't go astray.

Name Chad Ritchie to GOP Committee

Oakland County Republican Chairman Chad M. Ritchie of Bloomfield Township, has been named to the state GOP Top Strategy Committee for the 1956 campaign.

Ritchie was informed of his appointment by State GOP Chairman John Feikens. The committee has 44 members throughout Michigan including state Republicans in the U.S. Congress and State Legislature.

All segments of the party are represented, Ritchie explained. The committee will plan campaign strategy on the national, state and local levels.

In Memoriam 2

IN PRECIOUS MEMORY OF OUR dear son and brother Cpl. Billy C. Pike, who was killed in action in France, Dec. 2 1944.
Though death may part us for a while,
It never can erase
The memory of a loved one's smile,
Or of a dear one's face.
Sadly missed by Mom, Dad, and sister Laurine.

IN LOVING MEMORY OF ANNA Harbin, who passed away Dec. 7, 1953.
You're not forgotten, mother dear,
Nor ever shall you be.
As long as life and memory last,
I shall remember thee.
Your loving daughter Florence and grandchildren.

Betty and Jean Kean Comedy Should Be Seen

By EARL WILSON

AMERICA LAUGHS! . . .

NEW YORK—"Lincoln was pre-eminently a laughing man and he used to say that a good story was medicine"—Carl Sandburg in an Ed Murrow TV interview.

★ ★ ★ ★

Maybe you don't like lady comedians. But Betty and Jane Kean are so hilarious in the new Copacabana show, they deserve their own big TV program.

BETTY

JANE

Introducing Betty, who's smoking a cigar, Jane says, "She's been to the four corners of the earth, which is why she's such a square." Betty then claims to have won $32,000 on the $64,000 Question, but says she's got to get a job so she can take care of her boy.

"Who's your boy?" asks Jane. "Rubirosa!" says Betty.

★ ★ ★ ★

Handsome movie star Howard Keel, the rich-voiced headliner at the Copa, was christened Harry Clifford Keel out in Gillespie, Ill.—and I asked how he changed it.

"One day Hedda Hopper made a mistake and called me Howard," he said, "and I thought that was a lot better."

★ ★ ★ ★

Bob ("Droop Snoot") Hope, here on the way to Europe, has an old but still good reply for people asking about his ski-slide schnozz. "As a boy in Cleveland I became a fighter to keep in shape," he says. "I kept in shape but my nose didn't."

TAFFY

Betty Ford, the lady bullfighter from McKeesport, Pa., met Bobby Bragan, newly-appointed mgr. of the Pittsburgh Pirates, and Bragan asked her:

"Don't you think you live dangerously, lady?"

"You won't know what living dangerously is till you've managed the Pirates!" the matadora retorted.

Taffy Tuttle says: "Darn! Every time I meet a handsome man, either he's married, or I am" . . . Taffy says an efficiency expert's somebody who, if a wife did it, they'd call it nagging . . . Today's Philosophy: "Love Your Enemies. It will drive them nuts."

★ ★ ★ ★

Chairman George C. McConnaughey of the Federal Communications Commission reports that all members of the commission boarded a plane recently. "What would happen if this plane went down?" asked one member. Another one answered: "Television would be advanced 25 years!"

CONNIE

THE MIDNIGHT EARL . . .

Rob't Q. Lewis is TV's latest casualty; a built-it-yourself chair collapsed and he tore a ligament . . . Thornton Wilder wants to take "Our Town" to Russia . . . Connie Towers, the pretty singer from Whitefish, Mont., is in her second engagement at the St. Regis Maisonette.

Haven't Stan Kenton and Ann Richards been wed for a month? . . . Sidney Poitier got the lead in the film, "A Man Is Ten Feet Tall"; he won a Sylvania Award for his job on the TV show.

★ ★ ★ ★

EARL'S PEARLS . . .

Las Vegas losers prove again—where there's a wheel, there's a wail.—Ted Steele.

WISH I'D SAID THAT: If women really dressed to please their husbands, they'd wear last year's clothes.

Ex-boxing champ Bob Olin recalled his toughest fight: "It's a very sentimental memory. Whenever I think of it it brings a lump to my head." That's earl, brother.

His Personality Shines on Video

Fabulous Frenchman Retains Youthful Gaiety and Appeal at 67

By JACK O'BRIAN

NEW YORK (INS)—The impact of Maurice Chevalier totally ignores his age, which is 67, and his recent appearance as star of a Max Liebman spectacular was amazing.

We've always maintained a performer cannot sustain on pure personality, or not for long, but Chevalier's Gallic carbonation disproves that generality in a large, economy-sized bottle of bright and bubbly whatever-it-is that makes him permanently attractive, oddly enough, both to men and women in his audiences.

His cheery charm did not avoid discouraging antiquity. He poked almost youthful fun at it. He analyzed the attitudes of folks who remembered him from 'way back and concluded by their arithmetic that he must be about 87.

He was, he suspected, in fine shape for 87, and he was indeed in fine shape for 47, or 37, with the intangibles that make him able virtually to hold himself at arm's length to escape the inroads of time.

His talents are considerable, all of them elusive. His voice is pleasant, but not remarkable if separated from his personality.

His dancing is rudimentary, but his joy of living and that exploding smile and sunny satisfaction with life—not patronizing or smug, but a sort of suggestion that he never expected to be greeted with such warm enthusiasm—took a critic's analytical eye off his shuffling.

POPULAR RELIGION

Advertising bites into one-quarter to one-fifth of TV time; religious shows rate sixth in popularity; 60 per cent of TV homes tune in to some religious show regularly.

These findings are set down in "The Television-Radio Audience and Religion," published by Harper's, covering a study made by the National Council of Churches of Christ at the behest of the Yale Divinity School.

The book reflects a cross-section study of 5 per cent of the population of New Haven, Conn.

Among other findings of the study: Though sixth in audience popularity, religious programs total but 1 per cent on TV time.

George Gobel's reluctance to sign Jeff Donnell this season cost him money: When the fans demanded Jeff, she held out for more money. She'll do 14 more Gobelcasts this season . . .

Bob Hope has been getting a thunder of silence from the Soviet on his plans to film part of a TV show in Moscow. Bob's puzzled, because he already has both the U.S. and Russian Embassy okays.

Bob does a show for our military in Iceland Christmas Eve, which will be filmed, rushed back to New York for editing and inclusion on Bob's Dec. 27 telecast . . . He'll do a satire of "The Big Knife" called "The Little Fork."

The Dec. 12 NBC Matinee Theater with Leo Durocher has an unique tale (by Rod Serling) to uncurtain: It's about a Russian Embassy worker—"O'Toole from Moscow"—who winds up playing ball for the Cincinnati Reds, meaning starting at the bottom.

NBC's Rose Bowl coverage Jan. 2 (because Jan. 1 is a Sunday) will feature a CBS personality, Richard (Sgt. Preston of the Yukon) Simmons, because Sgt. Preston's sponsor also is hoisting the TV tab for the Rose Parade . . .

Debbie got MGM's okay to appear Dec. 17 with Eddie on "I Hear America Singing," a Ford spectacular . . .

Billboard reports Julius La Rosa gets 50 per cent of all profits piled up by Archie Bleyer's Cadence records as long as Julius stays with that waxworks . . .

Perry Como tried to hire the "singing dogs" on the new "Oh Susannah" novelty record. He learned there is no such thing as singing dogs. Some patient fellow simply taped the barks and yowls of hundreds of dogs, spliced together a series of vaguely melodic canine sounds, one at a time . . .

Como lost seven pounds to virus last week . . .

CIRCUS MOVING

Chicago's "Super Circus" wanted to move to New York a year ago but star Mary Hartline's contract said the show stayed where she wanted, which was Chi. Mary's contract ends Dec 31, so the show moves to New York Jan. 1—without Miss Hartline.

"Aunt Jenny," the venerable CBS soap opera which sank in its suds last year after 18 seasons of profitable sadness, returns Jan. 2 for more suds in your ears.

Its list of grads includes Orson Welles, Paul Douglas, Richard Widmark, Agnes Moorehead, Frank Lovejoy, Mercedes McCambridge, Dane Clark.

CBS brass are making bets how long the rating of NBC's spectacular of Sadler's Wells Ballet Dec. 12 will be opposite "Lucy," Burns & Allen etc. . . .

The bald eagle changes mates only when one of the pair dies. The golden eagle, however, frequently changes mates.

Group at YMCA Planning Swim, Sock Hop Friday

The Swim and Sing Club of Pontiac YMCA will hold a sock hop and co-ed swim session from 9 to 12 Friday night at the Y building, sponsored by the Swim and Swing Council.

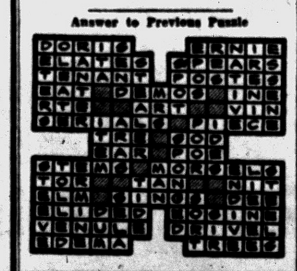

Russ Garcia and his orchestra will provide music, and all shoes will be checked during the dance, according to Morrie Tubergen, YMCA youth director. Decorations for the affair will be made of crepe paper argyle socks, in local school colors.

Membership in the club now totals 275. Teenagers attending the sock hop have the option of dancing for the entire evening, or taking time out for a swim from 9:30 to 10:30.

Latin Prof Will Speak

ANN ARBOR (AP) — Prof. Francisco Ayala of the University of Puerto Rico will discuss "Unity and Diversity in Latin America" Friday at the University of Michigan. Prof. Ayala, currently a visiting professor at Princeton University, will speak to a public audience.

Answer to Previous Puzzle

Michigan Eyes Its Farm Business

LANSING (AP)—The State of Michigan is taking a critical look at its million-dollar-a-year farming business.

A six-man interim legislative study committee was due to complete this week a tour of the 15 state institutions where mental patients and convicts help grow their own food.

When the tour is completed, the committee will start drafting a report which it will hand over to the Legislature in January. The report is expected to recommend important changes in the institutional set-up.

"It's too early to say now just what we will recommend," said Rep. Ben E. Lohman (R-Hamilton), chairman of the joint committee, "but we plan to cut down operations, including some dairy herds. We definitely won't expand."

PATIENTS FROM CITY

Why, after decades of successful farming, of cutting institutional food costs, is the state uncertain about its role as a farmer?

Mainly because farmers are relatively hard to come by in this age of mechanics. Time was when most of the inmates at the prisons and the mental hospitals were from rural areas. Now they come from cities.

Faced with a shortage of farm labor, many of the institutional farm supervisors have to hire outside help at the prevailing wage rates.

"These people have to work under Civil Service regulations," Lohman explains. "You just can't operate a farm successfully on the 40-hour week."

The value of the farms is most seriously challenged in mental hospitals which grow some of their own food. Many of the patients are sent home at irregular intervals, thus preventing assignment to farm work forces.

Prison farms at the State Prison of Southern Michigan in Jackson have no labor problem at all, officials say. More important than the shortage of farm labor is the question of whether the farms are being profitably operated.

"This is a terrifically complicated problem," says Frank M. Landers, in charge of the Department of Administration Budget Division.

"Depending on what figures you use, you can show a profit or loss," he says. Involved are the questions of how much produce should be valued, how much value to assign farm labor, what expenses to deduct.

SHOWED A LOSS

The prison farms at the Southern Michigan Prison showed a loss of $182,165 during the fiscal year 1954-1955, Landers said. This was based on production valued at $521,306.

On the other hand, accountants came up with a $20,727 profit at the Ionia State Hospital. This was computed on an output of $87,453 in crops.

At the present, the state institutions have about 11,000 acres of land under cultivation. They have a dairy herd of 2,200 registered purebred Holsteins—the largest in the world, state officials say.

Institution farms produced crops valued conservatively at $1,734,549 during fiscal year 1954-55. They turned out 1,041,303 pounds of pork, a million pounds of fruit, eight million pounds of garden produce, 14 million pounds of dairy products and 32 million pounds of field crops.

"That was not a good year, either," says C. J. Smith, institutional farm superintendent. "In fiscal year 1953-54, the output of the farms was valued at $1,919,350. Our production was down this year because of an extremely wet spring."
